Bulganin Sends Ike Proposal for World Peace

Area Growth Poses Problem

Post Office Faces Expansion Need

By BURDETT STODDARD

Editor's Note: The Pontiac Press will publish a series illustrating congested conditions in our city post office, public opinion on need for a new structure, steps necessary to get the federal government to supply a new building and containing comment from government officials in a position to expedite the project.

Things certainly grow fast in Oakland County.

Drive down a one-farm house country road one day, return a month later and find 500 homes plus a citizens' committee starting an incorporation movement.

This same condition is reflected throughout our entire area with prodigious growth constantly threatening to overtax and snow under public institutions and facilities.

Pontiac has a graphic case in point within its own boundaries. It has to do with a service which city residents use or benefit from almost every day and would be lost without — the post office.

'NEED BUILDING'

"We desperately need a new building," says Postmaster Leslie H. Dean. "We won't be able to get through this year without more facilities." And after he explains why it's almost impossible to disagree.

Public officials and business leaders in describing Oakland County's current situation point out that business and industry are prospering, employment is high and living standards excellent.

More and more people are engaging in more and more activities.

But they're quick to add that a danger is inherent in all this. County residents can't now and won't be able to forget for some time the need to expand road, drainage, water, school, hospital, fire-prevention, police and many other facilities. These vital services must grow along with population.

THINGS LOOKING UP

Over the past few years things generally have been looking up in Pontiac.

We have a new city hall, upcoming hospital expansion, and ambitious street and sewer program, a design for increased municipal parking, planned new police and fire facilities, an awareness of need to secure a long-range water supply and other public-service projects in the mill.

Countywise, the State Highway Department has more new-construction money than ever before and alleges it will speed up its program in Oakland.

The Supervisors have a definite plan for erection of a new courthouse-office building and after extensive wrangling the state has launched a program for solving the problem of housing mentally retarded children.

But many feel the picture of progress in Pontiac must include government approval of a new post office followed by steps to see it built.

Post office facilities are a vital cog in any community's public-service organization and "our facilities here are definitely below the standards required for a city this size," Postmaster Dean asserts.

CRAMPED QUARTERS—Mail-handlers worked almost elbow to elbow yesterday afternoon in Pontiac's main post office, E. Huron and N. Perry Sts., to get out a large batch of periodicals. The same crowded conditions for both workers and the public exist throughout the building which was designed to handle less than half the mail it is now required to process.

The Prince Is Visiting

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Grace Kelly's handsome fiance, Prince Rainier of Monaco is in Hollywood today visiting the film beauty. He arrived in town yesterday from Phoeniz, Ariz. He immediately went to Miss Kelly's home and remained there until it was time for her to report to her studio.

Mamie Willing to Let Ike Seek Second Term

President Says That He Hasn't Discussed Nixon's Position

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower said today no member of his family objects to his running for a second term.

The President thus scotched reports that the First Lady does not want him to run for re-election and would insist on his retiring at the end of his present term.

Eisenhower also told his news conference that he has never discussed with Vice President Richard M. Nixon whether Nixon again would be his running mate if he decides to seek another term.

He indicated that he thinks Earl Warren should resign as chief justice if he should decide to make a bid for the Republican presidential nomination.

The President gave the impression that he might have given some thought to the question of Warren as his successor, though he said nothing to indicate this directly.

Eisenhower made these other points at his weekly news conference:

1. He does not want the administration school construction program to get bogged down in a congressional fight over segregation. He made it clear he would rather not have an amendment tacked on the school bill barring federal aid to states with segregated schools.

2. The broad principles of foreign policy should be kept clear of election year politics, but methods and personalities are legitimate subjects of criticism.

3. He will fight to the end for the principle of long-term foreign aid, but doesn't expect Congress to agree to specific commitments.

4. It now looks as if his final medical examination will be a few days before Feb. 15.

5. He is planning a Southern trip some time around mid-February.

Petroff Takes Reins

Pontiac's Future Bright

Earnings Show Increase for Middle-Income Group

By HARRY REED
Pontiac Press City Editor

The changing American market shows a decided increase in the middle income group which earns more and has more to spend, Life magazine executive Warren A. King told an audience of Pontiac business and professional men last night.

He spoke at the annual membership dinner of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce in the Elks Temple.

New officers for the year were inducted when Dr. George N. Petroff assumed presidency of the chamber, succeeding Ralph T. Norvell.

Discussing the business outlook for the coming year, King said that although a slight dip in the spiraling rise of business has been predicted for 1956, there is plenty of money being earned, and people are willing to spend it.

A veteran of a selling career during the past 20 years with a number of firms, King, a flying enthusiast and part time official in the National Football League, is the Aviation, Automotive and Marine merchandising manager for Life.

MARKET OF FUTURE

"As population rapidly expands, the market of the future is the growing middle income group, with its tremendous spending power," King emphasized.

He described this group as those earning between $4,000 and $7,000 annually, and added that $6,500 was average for the Pontiac area.

Remarking that the auto industry, which so vitally concerns the Pontiac area, is a bellwether of national prosperity, King added that auto purchases led the way in spending by middle income families.

As indications of the continued expansion of the area, and consequent higher standards of living and higher spending, King pointed to steady increase in industrial

Envoy Zaroubin Delivers Letter to White House

Soviet Premier's Ideas Are Not Disclosed by Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (INS)—Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin today made a personal proposal to President Eisenhower for "promoting world peace."

The nature of the appeal to Eisenhower, other than that it involved suggestions for the promotion of peace, was not detailed by the White House.

The White House said the message was an extension of exchanges on proposals for world peace that have been going on between the President and Bulganin since the Geneva "summit" meeting last July.

The Bulganin message was described as "a friendly letter containing certain ideas which the Premier has asked the President to study further in the interest of promoting world peace."

The White House would give no further details, and would not answer specific questions on whether or the proposal concerned disarmament formulas previously advanced by Eisenhower.

The message was brought to the White House by Soviet Ambassador Georgi N. Zaroubin and read to the President and the Secretary of State John Foster Dulles in Russian by Zaroubin at once.

It then was translated into English by a State Department interpreter, who was present in Eisenhower's office.

[illegible] STATEMENT

Presidential News Secretary James C. Hagerty later called reporters to his office and said he had a "very short statement to make."

He then read this statement:

"Intermittently, since the Geneva Conference, the President and Premier Bulganin have been exchanging correspondence.

"The Soviet ambassador this morning brought in a friendly letter containing certain ideas which the Premier has asked the President to study further in the interest of promoting world peace."

Hagerty said the message was personally signed by Bulganin.

Asked if it concerned disarmament proposals, Hagerty replied: "I'm not going to say anything more at this time."

Hagerty said he did not know now whether the message would be made public later. He said that would have to be determined.

Social Security Hearings Begin

Democrats Predict Bill Will Be Passed; Others Express Doubts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Finance Committee opens hearings today on a bill to liberalize certain social security benefits, with several members expressing doubts about key provisions.

Most of the questions about the House-passed measure were raised by Republicans, who are in a minority on the committee.

Democratic sources said they remained confident a social security bill would be passed this year.

EXTEND COVERAGE

The House bill would lower from 65 to 62 the age at which women may draw social security benefits and would make persons totally disabled after 50 eligible for payments.

* * *

The measure also would extend coverage to about 250,000 additional persons. These would be mainly self-employed professional groups including lawyers, dentists, osteopaths, chiropractors, veterinarians, naturopaths and optometrists.

The additional benefits would be financed by raising the social security tax one half of 1 per cent on both employer and employe. The levy on each now is 2 per cent of the first $4,200 of annual earnings.

Eden Departs for U.S. Talks

British Prime Minister to Arrive Monday for Middle East Discussions

LONDON (INS)—Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden sailed for the U.S. today for talks on a joint Anglo-American policy in the Middle East with "my old friend" President Eisenhower.

Smiling and looking fit, the British premier boarded the liner Queen Elizabeth at Southampton last night with his recently named foreign secretary, Selwyn Lloyd.

The ship will dock in New York on Monday, and the British party will fly to Washington and begin the four-day conference with the President and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Eden said the discussions would provide "an opportunity for serious work between our two countries, adding: "It is in that spirit we shall do it."

Among the items believed to be on the agenda are:

1. The Arab-Israeli dispute.

2. British troubles with Saudi Arabia over the oil-rich Buraimi Oasis, a dispute in which the U.S. might be forced to take the Arabian side.

3. Soviet economic and military aid in the Middle East, and Moscow's espousal of the "anti-colonialism" cause.

The prime minister and Lloyd left London after a heated debate in the House of Commons, during which Labor party leader Hugh Gaitskell launched a severe attack on British policy in the Middle East.

Flurries, Warmer, Pontiac Prediction

The weatherman predicts low evening temperatures for the next few days but tomorrow will be cloudy and slightly warmer. Scattered snow flurries are predicted for the area today through tomorrow.

A low of 10-14 is forecast for tonight with a high tomorrow of 29-32 degrees.

The coldest spot in Michigan last night was Flint where the mercury dipped to one degree above zero. Pontiac's low temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 10 degrees. The thermometer registered 24 at 2 p.m.

Rail Wreck in State

MILLINGTON (AP) — Fifteen cars of a 64-car New York Central freight train were knocked off the the tracks today when the train apparently hit a broken rail.

School Construction Bids Too High, Board Decides

Confronted by an unexpected increase in cost per square foot above the last three local schools built, the Pontiac Board of Education yesterday rejected bids for the Walton Boulevard Elementary School.

The school will be redesigned and bids taken a second time.

The structure, to be on Dexter Road north of Walton, was estimated to cost about $377,000 for the building plus $62,000 for utilities and site improvement.

The bids, received last week, totaled $471,970. After conferences with firms which made the bids, Architect Ray Ward said the total could be pared to about $10,000 above the original estimate by replanning.

Although the total cost of the new school would only be $10,000 more than the estimated figure because of a $32,000 drop in site improvements and utility installation, actual building costs jumped from the expected $377,000 to $436,969.

"We have been guiding schools for $15 a square foot," said Superintendent of Schools Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, "and this would cost $18 a square foot."

Architect Ward said higher construction costs resulted from higher cost of material, and the fact that builders have an abundance of work on hand.

The move will delay the school's opening previously planned for next September.

"But we should have the pupils in by the second semester next year," said Board Member Monroe D. Osmun.

"I think the delay is justified," said L. H. Schimmel, board president, "in allowing us to make sure we can't get lower construction costs."

Order Railroad to Install Gates

State Says Barriers Must Be Constructed at Saginaw Crossing

The Michigan Public Service Commission has ordered Grand Trunk Western Railroad to install safety gates at the Saginaw-Wilson crossing.

The ruling developed from a meeting yesterday between Grand Trunk officials, Donald Hughes, inspection engineer of the Michigan Public Service Commission, and Theodore M. Vanderstempel, city traffic engineer, and Lewis M. Wrenn, city engineer.

The order was based upon an American Railway Engineer Association requirement that calls for gates at all crossings where there are two or more tracks.

Grand Trunk will also construct barriers at the Franklin street crossing to prevent cars from accidents that occurred here two years ago, Vanderstempel said.

Vanderstempel said today the Saginaw crossing was chosen as the first of the major crossings to get gates because approximately 15,000 cars cross these tracks in a 12-hour period.

He predicted that eventually all major crossings would get similar gates and secondary crossings would have both flashing lights and signals.

Lincoln Tunnel Flooded

NEW YORK (INS) — A breakthrough of water into the Lincoln Tunnel's third tube, now being constructed under the Hudson River between New York and New Jersey, flooded the new tube today but no one was reported injured.

Solon to Seek Passage of State Water Aid Bill

Oakland County's State Sen. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak), who has made previous efforts to get state aid for developing local water supplies, planned to launch an ambitious program again today.

Broomfield plans to introduce a Senate bill which if passed, would set up a $200 million revolving fund which cities or counties could borrow from to finance water programs.

Meanwhile, Pontiac City Manager Walter K. Willman said Pontiac would need at least $28,000,000 to solve its water problem.

Broomfield's measure is similar to one the lawmaker introduced last year in cooperation with Pontiac School Board President Louis H. Schimmel which established a $100,000,000 fund to aid distressed school districts.

"The main difference," said Broomfield, "is that this would be a continuing fund which communities could borrow lump sums from and then pay back the money over a period of years to be borrowed in turn by other units. I think the amount would be adequate for the whole state."

WILLMAN BACKS PLAN

The idea is backed by Willman, said Broomfield. Willman has pointed out continually that the only long-range solution of Pontiac's water problem is a pipeline to one of the Great Lakes.

"It would cost the city alone at least $28,000,000 to get a pipeline to Lake St. Clair which could supply enough water-sale revenue to pay back a loan over the present number of years allowed to repay such a debt," Willman explained.

Broomfield said he also may try to increase the number of years allowed to repay a bond-issue debt.

Aerotrain on Display

Record Crowds See Motorama in First 6 Days

General Motors Motorama of 1956 closed its New York showing last night with a record attendance of more than 275,000 for its six-day stay at the Hotel Waldorf-Astoria.

GM President Harlow H. Curtice declared the Motorama attendance confirmed his opinion that this would be the second largest year in automotive history.

The admission-free exhibit will be at Miami Feb. 4 to 12, in Los Angeles March 3 to 11, San Francisco March 24 to April 1, and Boston April 19 to 29.

Pontiac Man Dies in Truck Collision

A Pontiac man, trapped 45 minutes in the wreckage of a two-truck collision near Portage, Ohio, died this morning shortly after he was freed by rescue workers.

Ohio State Highway Patrol officers said Earl Cauley, 35, of 120 Henry Clay Ave., a driver for Contract Cartage Co. of 333 Madison Ave., was driving south on U.S. 25 when his truck hit the rear of another truck driven by John Cogley, 38, of Drayton Plains.

Cogley, a driver for the same company, was uninjured in the crash.

More Accurate, Faster, Less Costly

Value of Voting Machines Stressed by New Study

Voting machines offer a more efficient and more accurate method of conducting elections, a survey recently completed in New Jersey indicates. The study was made by the League of Women Voters of New Jersey and the results have been made available locally by the Pontiac League of Women Voters.

The problem of voting machines for Pontiac city areas is again of current interest because state election laws dictate that the city either must adopt machines or again divide its overcrowded voting precincts.

Most Oakland County areas have been using voting machines for some time.

The advantages listed are divided into four sections: the vote, the count, the recount and greater ease in securing qualified people to serve on district boards.

No spoiled ballots will result with use of voting machines, the article says, because the voter can change his mind without spoiling his ballot.

It is a quicker method of voting, assuring greater protection to the voter because his vote is mechanically added to the count by the voter himself.

The machines afford quicker returns by eliminating time consumed in reading and tallying the vote.

The article goes on to say that mechanical means of voting assure an accurate count where the district board need only check the transcription of totals with the totals on the machine.

This eliminates the opportunity for fraud in handling of ballots and physical fatigue and human error in reading and tallying the vote on each ballot.

Voting machines permit no void, partially void, defective or doubtful ballots while approximately 1,000 paper ballots are rejected in each general election, the New Jersey group found.

Recounting eliminates the rehandling of every ballot and the possibility of lost ballots employing machines. Machine recounting is done by checking the totals on the machine against the elections officer's returns.

Machine recounts are less expensive, the article states. It costs $2 per machine while it would cost $35 per district using paper ballots, the New Jersey League figures.

In conclusion, the article says the use of voting machines makes it easier to secure qualified people to serve on district boards by eliminating long hours of work.

Claims Teacher Slapped Girl, 8

Mom Says Classmates Were Invited to Join in Punishment

DETROIT (AP) — Policewomen said today they would investigate the complaint of a parent that a public school teacher slapped an 8-year-old first grade pupil and then instructed other pupils to slap and shove the child.

* * *

The teacher is Mrs. Patricia Ling of Priest School. The child disciplined is Barbara Marzack. Her mother, Mrs. Jennie Marzack, asked a warrant yesterday against Mrs. Ling.

She said the teacher slapped Barbara and invited other pupils who had been shoved or hit by the girl to retaliate.

Ormand D. Moore, school principal, confirmed the incident. He said he has apologized to the parents and Mrs. Ling has been told she was wrong. Mrs. Ling said, "I may have made a mistake."

Moore said no further disiplinary action is planned.

* * *

He said Barbara had been a problem ever since she entered the school after the Christmas vacation. She hit and tripped other children, Moore said.

A LITTLE SLAP

"Mrs. Ling tried to straighten Barbara out by talking to her but Barbara paid no attention," the principal said. "Then Mrs. Ling told Barbara to quit pushing and shoving and emphasized her words by giving Barbara a little slap — but not hard. Barbara screamed and cried and went home.

* * *

"Two days later she came back. Mrs. Ling, still thinking of Barbara's future, told all the boys who had been pushed or shoved or struck to come up and slap her.

"They did, and there were quite a few of them. This little girl threw her weight around."

Moore said Barbara's parents refused to accept his apologies for the incident.

* * *

Barbara is two years too old for her grade because she entered school late, her mother said. Mrs. Marzack said she kept her daughter out when she became of school age because the family lived where the child would have had to cross a busy street.

Mrs. Ling said that about eight children took part in the mass punishment Friday. Some refused, she added.

"Neither I nor any of the children hurt her," Mrs. Ling said.

Republicans Oppose Ike's Controls Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's surprise proposal for restoration of standby government controls over consumer credit ran into opposition from Congress members of his own party today.

Some key Republicans recalled Congress refused to give former President Truman standby economic controls, and voiced belief that it would also refuse them to Eisenhower under circumstances short of a war emergency.

In his economic message to Congress yesterday, Eisenhower said it would be "desirable" and "a useful adjunct" to other anti-inflationary measures to provide authority for regulating terms for installment purchase of appliances, autos and other consumer items. He added "present conditions do not call for the use of such authority."

More Indians Flock to Hear Billy Graham

MADRAS, India (AP)—Billy Graham's crowds are mounting steadily in India. About 40,000 including some caste Hindus, jammed the Madras convention grounds last night for the American evangelist's second service in the big southeast Indian port.

Graham's first night service in Madras drew a crowd of 30,000. He also addressed a gathering of some 10,000 pastors.

Cold Air Follows Warmth Seekers in Florida Area

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A fresh batch of cold air moved into the Southeast today as far south as northern Florida. The chilly weather followed the season's worst snowstorm in some areas.

* * *

Temperatures dropped into the 40s in northern Florida and to the low 60s in the southeastern section. However, Key West reported a mild 71 compared with 61 at Miami.

The snowstorm earlier this week swept over areas from Arkansas to Virginia, with falls ranging up to a foot in parts of Tennessee, North Carolina and Virginia.

* * *

Today's new snow extended in a belt from the Eastern Plains into Minnesota and southward into Iowa, Missouri and southern Illinois. Falls in most places were light, under an inch.

Wilson Recalled for Questioning

'Verbal Bout' Surmised by Cannon's Comment on 'More Cooperation'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Wilson was recalled for more questioning by a House Appropriations subcommittee today, with Rep. Cannon (D-Mo) voicing the hope "he will be more cooperative."

The subcommittee is considering the 35½-billion-dollar defense budget for the coming fiscal year, beginning July 1.

Yesterday's closed-door session reportedly was marked by a verbal bout between Wilson and Cannon over what Cannon described as "Mr. Wilson's uncooperative attitude."

DODGED QUESTIONS

Cannon is chairman of the full Appropriations Committee. He is sitting in with the Defense Funds subcommittee headed by Rep. Mahon (D-Tex).

* * *

After the meeting broke up, Cannon told newsmen Wilson "dodged and squirmed and didn't answer," adding:

"He was most uncooperative. I had to apologize to the committee for taking up most of the morning session in an attempt to get information which we need vitally if we are to be able to pass on a 35-billion-dollar budget for the Defense Department."

The questions to which he sought answers, Cannon said, dealt with Russian production and the comparative strength of Soviet and United States armies, navies and air forces.

"The information I sought certainly should be known to Mr. Wilson," Cannon said. "I imagine everybody in the Pentagon knows it."

* * *

Cannon told newsmen that recent criticism of defense policies by Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, retired Army chief of staff, was discussed "only in passing."

Ike's Economic Troubles Topic of Lecture Here

The Jewish Welfare Federation and Council will present Dr. Otto Nathan, economist, author and lecturer, in an 8 p.m. Saturday program at Temple Beth Jacob.

This is the second program of a cultural series presented by the Federation as part of an educational program.

Formerly economic adviser to President Hoover's Emergency Committee on Employment, Dr. Nathan was also an adviser to President Roosevelt's Council on National Defense, chief economic analyst to the U.S. Treasury Department, and consultant on economic literature to the Library of Congress.

* * *

His topic will be "Economic Headaches of the Eisenhower Administration. "Tickets will be available at the door.

Other speakers in the series will be humorist Herchel Bernardi, television's Syd Skolsky, and Simon Messing, anthropologist.

Lauds Advantages of Turnpike System

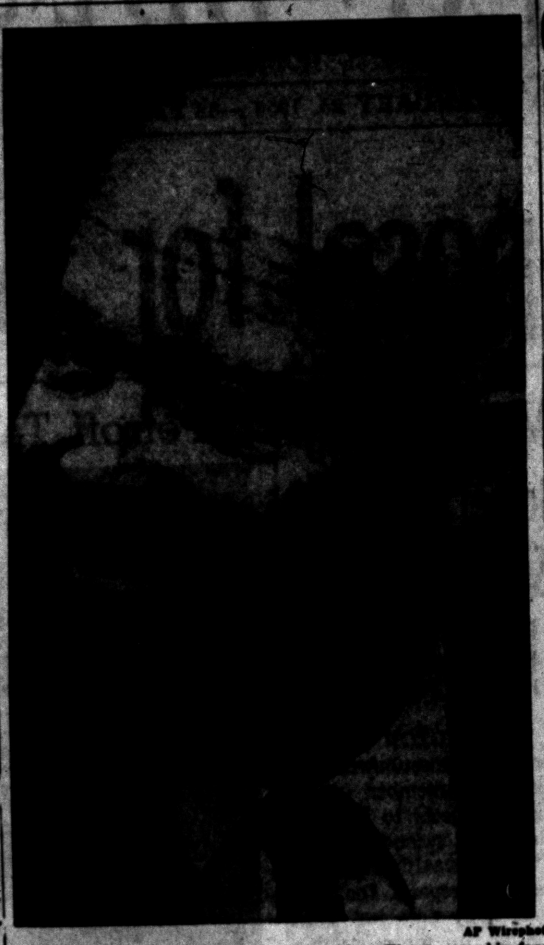

Michigan Turnrpike Authority chairman George N. Higgins of Ferndale stressed the safety, economic and rapid construction benefits of turnpikes to the Michigan State Association of County Supervisors yesterday.

Addressing the group at its annual convention, Higgins said bills have been introduced in the State Legislature to place all potential turnpikes into one project.

The Ferndale legislator emphasized that new and safe highways must be built along limited access nature, with new rights-of-way.

AT&T Settles Antitrust Case

Expect Electronic Growth From 'Freed' Patent Bank

WASHINGTON (INS) — Federal officials today forecast a broad-scale advance in electronics and possible lower telephone rates as a result of an "unprecedented" anti-trust settlement.

The judgment provides cost-free access to the "patent bank" of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company—world's largest public utility—and Western Electric, its manufacturing arm.

Officials said settlement of the seven-year-old case opens up free use of 8,600 key telephone and electronics patents and also requires licensing at "reasonable" rates of numerous other invention rights.

They said this would include the "fundamentals" of the transistor, the miracle of the electronics field which permits "tubeless" radio. Also included will be the solar battery which draws power from ordinary light as well as a host of radio-TV-communications developments.

Speaking of the AT&T agreement, Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr., declared:

"The decree makes available to any citizen all inventions and know-how of the Bell System. Thus, there is a sound basis for the expectation that the judgment will lead to a further expansion of the electronics art, and that new enterprises will be encouraged to enter that field."

Some officials also expressed belief the agreement may pave the way for lower telephone costs in the future.

employment in the area over recent years.

Although people are finding themselves with more to spend, they are saving more, even while finding more ways to spend their money, the speaker pointed out.

Local bank deposits have more than doubled in the 1945-55 period, from $52,000,000 to $100,000,000, he added.

"Spending power has increased 12 per cent in six years," he added, commenting that such increases demonstrate that workers are faring better, and, of course, so are the merchants who supply their wants.

Milo J. Cross, past president of the chamber, presented the retiring president with a silver tea service in appreciation of his accomplishments while in office.

Assuming offices in the chamber for the year, with Dr. Petroff were Howard O. Powers and H. Wayne Gabert, vice presidents; Irving Steinman, secretary; and John A. Riley, treasurer.

Directors of the chamber for the current year were introduced. They are Floyd H. Baker, B. W. Crandell, D. B. Eames, B. R. Eastridge, Henry R. Gotham, Homer C. Jackson, W. K. Knudsen, Frank S. Lyndall, John E. Madole, Edward A. Maier, R. J. Nicholas, John P. Niggeman, Edward J. Novak, Petroff, Riley and Norvell.

* * *

Robert J. St. Clair, manager of the chamber introduced his staff and commented on the work of the organization during the past year. A comprehensive printed report on the year's work was given each person who attended the dinner.

Glenn H. Griffin was toastmaster for the dinner and the Rev. George C. Widdifield gave the invocation.

$97 Million Tax Bill Staggers Meat Dealer

CHICAGO (INS) — A Chicago meat retailer is recovering from a case of "figures"—not from any meat prices but a nearly $100 million income tax bill against him.

George Bergeron thought he owed $33.19 on his income tax, but the bill showed $97,000,934.19.

But the bill was all a mistake and the Internal Revenue Service settled for the $33.19.

D. J. Luippold, district director of Internal revenue, said it was a "machine error." He added: "Until someone invents a perfect machine these things will happen."

3 Escape Death as Auto Plunges 40 Feet Into Lake

BEULAH (AP)—Three men from this northwestern Michigan village set out by automobile on a five-mile drive across ice-covered Crystal Lake yesterday. They returned on foot, soaked to the skin but thankful to be alive.

A mile and a half from the far shore of the lake the ice suddenly broke. The car plunged through and sank in 40 feet of water.

One door opened when the car landed on the lake bottom and the driver, Raymond Coon, 30, of Otter, crawled out. He swam to the surface and climbed through the hole made by the car.

Water rushing into the car forced open another door enabling Everett Carrier, 32, of Otter, and Joseph Deering, 40, of Bendon, to make an exit.

MRA Gets Additional Two Days of Racing

DETROIT (AP) — The Michigan Racing Assn., which operates the Detroit Race Course in suburban Livonia, indicated today it will not go to court to obtain equality in racing dates with Hazel Park in 1956.

Racing commissioner James H. Inglis yesterday revised slightly MRA's dates, giving the track two more days than originally allocated.

The Detroit Race Course now has 58 dates but still is two short of Hazel Park's 60.

Hazel Park will run May 21-July 28 and MRA Aug. 6-Oct. 6.

George Troost Dies in Hospital

Chrysler Corporation Finance Vice President Succumbs

DETROIT (AP) — George W. Troost, 53, Chrysler Corp. vice president in charge of finance, died last night in Grace Hospital after an operation for removal of a brain tumor.

TROOST

Troost was elected a vice president of Chrysler in 1949 and a director two years later. He joined the firm in 1935 as assistant comptroller after working as a certified public accountant.

A native of Canaan, Vt. he was a graduate of Niles High School and the University of Michigan.

He leaves his widow, Louise, two children, George Richard and Mrs. Harold R. Shadle, both of suburban Birmingham, and three grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Nab Area Driver on Hit-Run Count

A 26-year-old Royal Oak man, Eugene Cheatham, surrendered to police today after the car police say he was driving was involved in a hit-run accident yesterday in Detroit.

The accident sent Mrs. Geneva Perry, of Detroit to the hospital where she was reported in critical condition with a spinal injury. Mrs. Perry was riding in a car driven by her husband, Clarence, 36, when the auto was struck from behind twice by a vehicle reportedly driven by Cheatham.

Cheatham, who had been traced through his license number but had not gone home last night, identified a campanion, Max Graham, 22, of East Detroit, as being with him at the time of the accident.

Mamie Not Stalling Plans for 2nd Term

While he didn't say so, it is expected that he will go to his favorite golfing retreat at Augusta, Ga.

6. He still is firmly against any tax cut at this time, but thinks the long-run health of the economy depends on reducing taxes as much as possible.

EMPHATIC "NO"

When asked whether any member of his family objects to his running for another term, the President replied with an emphatic "no."

He then dealt deftly with a dozen other efforts to draw him out on his future plans, but shed no new light on waht his second term decision may be.

Eisenhower said one of the things he must consider is whether he would be able to attack vital problems of state with the zip and zest of the past.

He said he wouldn't be bored on his Gettysburg farm, where there are a thousand things to do, if he should decide to retire.

Asked if he has decided how he will make his announcement on a second term, the President replied with a broad smile that it would be in as dramatic a way as possible.

PARRIES QUESTION

The President smilingly parried a question on whether he would try to pick his successor in the White House. He said this question would be answered after he makes his decision on running again.

Eisenhower said his administrative respect and deep affection for Nixon are well known. He said there has never been a vice president so well versed in the activities of government.

He told a questioner, however, that he has never talked with Nixon about his future or whether he wants to run for vice president again.

Quota for Navy Company Reduced to 35 Volunteers

A shortage of volunteers for proposed civic-sponsored Navy companies in Pontiac, Flint and Saginaw has reduced Pontiac's quota to 35 men for the newly planned three-city company, recruiters said yesterday.

Junior Chamber of Commerce president Mel Eller said today only six vacancies remain in Pontiac's share of the new company.

Local recruiter Chief John Borer said yesterday his office had received 62 applications since the drive began Jan. 2, but not all of them were from men who would be acceptable in the proposed Pontiac company.

Applications from ex-servicemen who would not be required to go to basic training camp numbered 3, he said. Another 30 men applied who failed to meet minimum standards or withdrew their applications.

Pontiac, with a quota of 35, will provide more than half the recruits for the 65-man company. Volunteers will remain together as a unit through basic training at Great Lakes Training Camp in Illinois.

GM Donates $25,000 for Flood Area Relief

A contribution by General Motors of $25,000 for the relief of flood victims in Oregon and California was announced today by President Harlow H. Curtice. The sum was given to the American Red Cross.

* * *

Commenting on the donation, Curtice said, "All America should give help to the residents of the West Coast flood disaster area, many of whom suffered great property losses."

Pontiac Deaths

Clarence Dills

Clarence Dills, 55, of 841½ Baldwin Ave. died last night in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. He had been ill since September.

He was born in Clay County, Ky. May 7, 1900, the son of John and Ellen Dills.

Mr. Dills came to Pontiac from Harrisburg, Ill., three years ago, and was employed at the Fisher Body Division.

Besides his wife, the former Dolly Flemings, six children survive, Mrs. Betty Sharp of Edderville, Ill., Mrs. Marjie Pyle, Mrs. Ellen Pankey, Mrs. Dorothy Shaw, Geneva Dills and Dolores Dills, all of Pontiac and ten grandchildren.

Other survivors include two sisters, Mrs. Bess Morse of Harrisburg and Mrs. Lou Long of Eldorado, Ill.; two brothers, Bertie of Harrisburg and Dorie Dills of Kentucky.

Mr. Dills is being sent by the Huntoon Funeral Home to the Gaskins Funeral Home, Harrisburg, for service and burial.

Edward L. Lyons

Edward L. Lyons, 55, of 27 Clarence St. died Monday after several months illness.

He was born here Jan. 12, 1901, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Lyons and married Jean Anderson in Munising.

A member of St. Michaels Catholic Church, he attended St. Frederick's Catholic School and had lived in Pontiac all his life.

Mr. Lyons was an employe of Fisher Body Division and a member of St. Michael's Ushers Club and Holy Name Society.

He leaves his wife, his mother and seven children, Lawrence, James, Jerome, Michael, Patrick, Susan and Mary, all at home.

Other survivors are four brothers, Arthur of Albuquerque, N. M., Lester Maurice and Emmett, all of Pontiac; eight sisters, Mrs. Helen Schepperly of Buffalo, N.Y., Mrs. Katherine Carey of Los Angeles, Calif., Mrs. Edith Henderson, Mrs. Leora Goulet, Mrs. Margaret Jacobson, Mrs. Cecilia Rule, Mrs. Marian Hoover and Mrs. Elizabeth Belisle, all of Pontiac.

The Holy Name Society and members of St. Michael's Parish will recite the Rosary Thursday at 8:30 p.m. in the Brace-Smith Funeral Home.

The Knights of Columbus will say the Rosary at 9 p.m. Thursday in the funeral home.

Service will be at 10 o'clock Friday morning in St. Michael's Catholic Church with burial in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

Fred E. Parsons

Fred E. Parsons, 55, of 716 Barkell St., was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital Monday. He died suddenly from a heart attack while at work at the Joda Industries, 66 S. Parke St.

Born in Greenfield, S. C. May 19, 1900, he was the son of Thomas and Minnie Calhoun Parsons. On Dec. 18, 1936, he was married to Meta M. Fritz in Angola, Ind.

Mr. Parsons had lived here 34 years, coming to Pontiac from Detroit. He had formerly been a superintendent at Daniels Manufacturing Co. at Keego Harbor.

Surviving are his wife, and two sons, Frederick L. Parsons at home and Daniel R. Lewis of the U.S. Navy, stationed in New London, Conn. A sister, Mrs. Allen Lawrence of Oriallia, Ottawa, Canada, also survives.

Service will be at 2 p.m. Thursday in the Pursley Funeral Home with Dr. Milton H. Bank, pastor of the Central Methodist Church officiating. Burial will follow in Perry Mt. Park Cemetery.

Peter Papazian

Peter Papazian, 72, of 290 Midway, died at his home early this morning after an illness of three years.

Born in Turkey in 1884, he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Papasian and married Elizabeth Cherkian here in 1929.

Mr. Papazian has lived in Pontiac 50 years, coming here from Rhode Island. He was a member of the Armenian Church of Detroit and was last employed at Wilson Foundry.

Surviving are his wife and son, Armen M. Papazian, at home.

The body will be at the Huntoon Funeral Home until Friday noon. It will then be taken to the home for service Saturday at 1:30 p.m. Mr. Papazian's pastor from Detroit will officiate. Burial will be in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Fire Hits Storeroom of Ionia Reformatory

IONIA (AP)—Fire today broke out in the Ionia Reformatory and prison officials asked the Ionia Fire Department to help fight the flames.

The blaze reportedly was in the reformatory storeroom inside the walls of the prison one mile west of Ionia.

Officials said there was no immediate disturbance among the prisoners.

The State Police Post in Ionia reported that a general alarm was sent to surrounding posts for assignment of troopers to the prison area.

The Day in Birmingham

Cranbrook-West Maple Stores Open for Business

BIRMINGHAM—A Danish immigrant in a Danish pastry shop and a television personality in a record shop are but two of the appropriate owners of the small new stores grouped in the recently completed building at the southwest corner of Cranbrook and West Maple.

With most open for business the group includes a beauty salon, drug store, cleaning establishment and realty office, all making the second or third locations for their firms in the Birmingham area.

Warren Michael Kelley who has done TV for four years since he did disc jockeying for a Detroit radio station is using his music know-how to operate Marty's Record Shop. Aiming at complete coverage, he estimates 30 labels available, including imports, mood music and pops. Victory sealed German Archive records are in stock. Kelley is on hand in the store except during his afternoon show.

Palle Schierup, who came here from Denmark in 1948, has with his wife, opened the pastry shop that is specializing in kringle coffee cake. Blue walls, Copenhagen wall-plates and the hanging golden kringle, pretzel shaped symbol of a Danish bakery, are decor. Schierup has worked in a Royal Oak bakery since he came to this country.

Kingsley Purton is managing the Johnstone and Johnstone Realty Office along with the other Birmingham branch of the Detroit firm. James Sheridan is manager of the third Weslee Drug Store to open here.

Thomas Walker, a graduate of the Dry Cleaning Institute is managing the Birmingham Cleaners as well as the downtown store. The new branch has its own dry cleaning plant but laundry will be taken to the other store which has both operations.

Albert Hairstylist, a beauty salon, with two male hairstylists and three other operators as well as two manicurists is being operated by Albert Welch, who owns a similar salon on Grand River in Rosedale Park.

Town Hall is featuring Richard Gump, president of the fabulous Gumps in San Francisco, where an emerald collection ranges from $25 to $100,000 pieces and where oriental paintings, sculpture and bronzes are sold.

Author of "Good Taste Costs No More," his merchandising stresses good design used in homes with tasteful care. His talk will probably range from the store's coverage to his other lines as composer, artist, designer and architect.

He is third in the Gump line to guide the business's development. Talks on Thursday and Friday are at 11 a.m. at Birmingham Theater with luncheons following at the Birmingham Country Club.

Reports Papers Made Gains in Circulation

CHICAGO (INS) — A Chicago advertising executive reports that newspapers have made good gains in circulation and advertising linage despite the competition of television.

* * *

Vincent R. Bliss, president of Earl Ludgin & Company, Chicago advertising agency, told the annual meeting of the Newspaper Advertising Executive Assn. at Chicago yesterday that newspapers have withstood the inroads of television better than other media.

Bliss said that newspapers fit today's need for an advertising campaign to "get action in the market place" and have shown a "very healthy linage performance."

Karl T. Finn of the Cincinnati Times-Star was elected president of the association at the meeting, succeeding Wilson W. Condit of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Other officers chosen are Gilbert P. Swanson of the Spokane Spokesman-Review and Daily Chronicle, first vice president, and Charles P. Lord of Indianapolis Star and News, second vice president.

Elect Detroit Doctor to Cranbrook Board

Cranbrook School Headmaster D. Hoey recently announced the election of Dr. Warren B. Cooksey, a Detroit specialist, to the Board of Directors of the school.

Dr. Cooksey fills the vacancy left by Charles Hawley.

Dems Balk at Idea to Shun Policy Talk

WASHINGTON (AP)—A number of Senate Democrats signaled unwillingness today to label specific foreign policy issues out of bounds for political campaign discussion.

* * *

Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said there must be room for "constructive criticism" of Eisenhower administration actions. He added both parties are in basic agreement on the objective of preserving peace.

* * *

Secretary of State Dulles told a news conference yesterday he has talked to Democratic leaders about the possibility of keeping one or two foreign problems out of campaign debate. He said constructive criticism is appropriate, but didn't define what is constructive. Nor did he name the issues he had in mind.

Hal Boyle Says:

Bit of Everything Turns Up in the Mailbox

NEW YORK (AP)—Some things a columnist might never know if he didn't read his mail:

• • •

That there are more than 1,500,000 people named Smith in the United States, and the number increases by about 110 every day. This doesn't include the Smythe, Smythes, Schmitts, Schmidts or Psmiths.

MORE ORGANISMS

That if you pick up a handful of good soil you hold more living organisms in your fist than there are human beings in the entire world.

• • •

That American industry in the next 10 years will spend 56½ billion dollars on research and development, more than 1½ times the total expended since the birth of the nation.

• • •

That in 1941 only about a million American families owned two or more cars, but now 4½ million do. But do they fit in a 1941 garage?

That in autopsies performed on 193 cats killed in highway accidents not one was found to have consumed a wild bird. The stomach contents consisted mostly of mice, young rabbits and rats.

• • •

That perhaps the most crime-free community in the world is Karakelic, a Turkish village with a population of 450. In the last 99 years not one of its inhabitants has been arrested.

• • •

That you may not be able to teach an old dog new tricks, but Joseph W. Lippincott, a Philadelphia bird authority, found old crows learned to speak more readily than younger ones.

• • •

That the coffee percolator was invented by James H. Nason of Franklin, Mass., in 1865.

YOUNG VICTIMS

That 50 per cent of the nation's annual 1,200 to 1,400 poison deaths in the home aside from fatal gases occur among children 4 years of age or less.

That 60 per cent of the successful parlor games now popular in America were invented by amateurs. But please don't send your ideas for new games to me; all I play is "Post Office."

• • •

That physicians for Cesare Borgia, Italian Renaissance prince, treated him for malaria by sewing him up for two days inside the carcass of a disemboweled mule. He survived, too, and emerged feeling better. Or so the doctors claimed.

SAFER IN THE CITY

That it is safer to drive in the city than in the country. Of the 36,000 fatal car accidents in 1954, some 27,000 occurred in rural areas, only 9,000 in urban centers.

• • •

That woman's place is now in the business office as well as in the home. In 1890 men clerical workers outnumbered women eight to one, but today women hold a three-to-one edge.

That a "whinnyburger" is a hamburger made from horsemeat.

• • •

That a survey made during a heat wave in Chicago showed stenographic errors increased 1,000 per cent when the office temperature rose from 78 to 96 degrees.

JUST ONE-HALF INCH

That a well-dressed man permits his shirt cuff to extend exactly one-half inch beyond his coat sleeve. Our motto: "Every day another lifelong problem solved."

• • •

That four of 10 American men now smoke cigars, either regularly or occasionally.

That the half billion common colds caught in America each year cost five billion dollars—an average of $10 a cold—in lost wages, lost production and medical expenses. Can virus "X" match this record?

• • •

That some scientists believe the world's climate is getting warmer because of a gradual increase of carbon dioxide in the atmosphere. Now, if everybody will just start breathing faster, maybe we can get rid of this cold wave.

• • •

That TV actress Betty White of "Life with Elizabeth" says, "Men are bigger dreamers, better storytellers and finer cooks than women." Well, thank you, Betty.

'Copter Blades Blow Frost Off Telephone Lines

EDMONTON, Alta. (AP)—A helicopter blew the frost from a 60-mile stretch of south Alberta's telephone lines Tuesday in an effort to restore connections between Edmonton, Calgary, and other points.

• • •

Flying about 20 feet above the wires, the craft blew frost off lines and poles with the downdraft from its rotar blades.

But an Alberta government telephone official said results of the experiment were not clear. By the time it got under way the sun also was melting some of the frost.

• • •

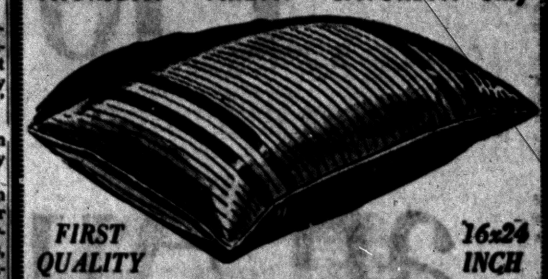

Heavy frosts had piled up almost an inch thick on the lines in recent days, causing short circuits and leakage of power. Only five circuits — about 10 per cent of the normal number — were operating early yesterday. After the helicopter experiment some 15 were operating.

There are about 1,917 heart attacks among American citizens in an average day.

How would you service an Automatic Transmission?

That's a sensible question. And here's a sensible answer.

The best source of information about new automatic transmissions—or any other advanced engineering feature—is the men who designed and built them.

But obvious as this may seem, no one except General Motors and the dealers who sell GM cars and trucks ever thought to go all out in putting this answer to work.

It's not just automatic transmissions—important though they have been in winning people to Chevrolets, Pontiacs, Oldsmobiles, Buicks and Cadillacs.

It's such new safety features as power brakes and power steering.

It's new ventilation systems and automobile air conditioning.

It's a host of automatic controls that do such things as open and close windows, adjust seats to comfortable positions—and, in total, they have made General Motors cars more popular than they have ever been in history.

It takes a whole new list of skills—and also new tools—to service these efficiently.

Even the best of mechanics need a lot more than instinct to handle the job.

So we came up with a brand-new idea—a series of modern Training Centers, specially designed, specially built, specially equipped and specially staffed with expert instructors—to give our dealers' mechanics a graduate course in what makes our new engineering advances tick.

And did our dealers get on this band wagon? They certainly did. You see, they're good businessmen. They have been expanding their facilities, just as we have expanded ours, to handle an ever-growing volume of business.

So it was no surprise that they sent their service mechanics, by the thousands, each month, to keep abreast of the changing times—and to give their customers the kind of service that will, we hope and believe, keep the cars they sell the most popular group of cars in the world.

Democrats See Trend in Pittsburgh Results

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Democrats claimed a bright 1956 omen today from their party's 3-1 victory in the first congressional election of the year. Republicans, however, saw no such significance in it.

• • •

State Sen. Elmer J. Holland, elected to succeed the late Rep. Vera Buchanan (D-Pa), told reporters the special election result "points out very clearly that the Democratic party is on the march back to the presidency."

And State Sen. Joseph M. Barr, Democratic state chairman, said in a statement at Harrisburg: "The great victory of Rep.-elect Holland, a staunch supporter of Adlai Stevenson, is a significant indication of Pennsylvania's preeminence in an important presidential election year."

Holland's Republican opponent, David J. Smith, McKeesport confectionery store operator, commented after the votes were counted that "Republican leaders refused to enter this contest."

"The vote is the result of their fear or timidity," Smith added.

Allegheny County GOP Chairman Edward Flaherty said the result was "a personal victory for Holland."

Complete unofficial returns from the 30th Pennsylvania District, a heavily industrial area including five Pittsburgh wards and adjoining sections of Allegheny County, showed:

Holland 36,019.
Smith 11,781.

Democrats hold a 2-1 lead in registration — 128,493 to 63,436—and have represented the district in Congress continuously since the present boundaries were defined in 1942.

Yesterday's election was concerned only with the unexpired congressional term. No other office was on the ballot. Holland and Smith were the only candidates.

• • •

Closest parallel in the district came in 1951, at a special election held in connection with a regular primary when nominations were made for other offices. Mrs. Buchanan won then, 36,886 to 23,474, approximately a 3-2 margin. In 1954, when Pennsylvania elected a Democratic governor, Mrs. Buchanan was elected by 99,218 to 44,157 for Smith.

Holland, a member of the United Steelworkers, had the backing of the powerful Allegheny County Democratic organization and was endorsed by every major union in the area.

Mollet Hinted as Next French Premier

PARIS (AP)—President Rene Coty canvassed top political leaders today for their advice on the choice of France's new Premier. There was belief he would announce a nomination by Friday, and that Socialist leader Guy Mollet would be the man.

• • •

Even if Coty has already made up his mind, custom requires him to interview the leaders of the major political factions before he announces his decision. But Mollet has been the leading contender since soon after the results of the Jan. 2 parliamentary election became known.

The President had his first talk with Andre le Troquer, newly elected president (speaker) of the National Assembly and also a Socialist.

HINT FRIDAY NAMING

"I think on Friday he may call the first man capable of forming the next cabinet," Le Troquer told reporters as he left Coty's office.

In winning the Assembly presidency, Le Troquer drew on Communist votes as well as those of his own Socialists and the allied Radical Moderate party followers of ex-Premier Pierre Mendes-France. He defeated outgoing Assembly President Pierre Schneiter of the Catholic MRP (Popular Republican Movement) 280-205.

It was believed Mollet too could count on Red support although he is offering the Communists no Cabinet posts in exchange. With the Socialist-Radical Republican Front holding only about 150 of the 596 seats in the chamber and the right-of-center coalition of outgoing Premier Edgar Faure opposing him or uncommitted, Mollet needs the 151 Communist votes to ensure confirmation by the Assembly.

• • •

Any cabinet Mollet forms is likely to have an important job in it for Mendes-France. The two had a long talk yesterday on division of the ministries between their factions.

Faure, whose Cabinet had continued in office after he dissolved the Assembly Nov. 30, submitted his resignation to Coty after Le Troquer's election.

One Viewpoint—but Judge Sees Mother's Claim

CHICAGO (AP)—A mother told a judge she could stand her husband beating her but the sight of their 9-year-old son pouring himself a shot of whisky was "just too much."

• • •

Mrs. Kathryn Wdowiak's testimony in Superior Court yesterday won her $25 a week support money for the boy, Edward, and a court order barring her husband Matt, 45, a bus driver, from their home.

• • •

The mother, 45, told Judge Harry G. Hershenson that when she asked her drinking son what he was doing, he asked her for "a wash." She said the boy told her, "Daddy says it's (whisky) good for me. It'll make a man of me."

Unlike George, Adlai Isn't Opposed to Fib

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Adlai Stevenson is trying to get into the office once held by George Washington, but unlike the first president he doesn't claim to be above telling a little fib. Here for six days of work and relaxation, Stevenson was asked by a reporter if he was optimistic about winning the Democratic presidential nomination. His reply was that "I am, sir, and even if I wasn't, I'd say I was."

Unionist Meets CD Unit

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—James R. Hoffa, vice president of the International Teamsters Union, will confer today with National Civil Defense officials on the trucking industry's role in civil defense. Hoffa is in town for a speech tonight at the Chamber of Commerce membership meeting.

No New Taxes Needed for Huge State Budget

To The Press, the big story in Governor Williams' 1956-1957 budget is not its record size.

It's big all right—biggest in State history. It's bigger by almost $61,000,000 than the current budget. Yet, as the Governor previously hinted, he now reports the $339,369,674 operating total can be financed without resort to any new taxes.

★ ★ ★

For example, he anticipates a $25,391,539 operating surplus this year. He also expects revenues of $315,003,450 next year, or $27,503,450 more than this year. These two figures, the Governor says, will leave a 1956-57 operating surplus of $1,025,315.

Fresh dollar and cents proof of Michigan's continued rapid growth appears in the largest item in the budget, $96,900,000 for higher education. This is $25,000,000 or 34.8 per cent more than was asked last year and is required, the Governor says, to meet ever increasing enrollments. Included is $3,200,000 for down payment on the purchase of Wayne University.

One item in the budget the lawmakers should examine carefully is the Governor's request for funds permitting the addition of 2,100 to the State payrolls. Of these 415 are asked for State Police and security agencies and 907 for State mental hospitals.

★ ★ ★

In studying the budget message, taxpayers should note how large a percentage of State revenue goes back to local governments. The total for the current fiscal year is $453,600,000 out of a grand total of $757,800,000. In addition $52,000,000 went for construction, mostly highways, and about $252,000,000 for ordinary operating expenses.

That helps explain why the budget in a growing State like ours increases from year to year.

Engineer Takes Blame for Wreck Killing 29

Railway and local officials undoubtedly will probe every aspect of the worst train wreck in Southern California's history.

Meanwhile the anguished engineer, Frank Parrish, 61, a Sante Fe employe for 37 years, has admitted the wreck costing 29 lives and injuring 150, was entirely his fault. He says he remembers seeing the 35 mile an hour signal, but that he "blacked out" and did not recover until the train was on its side, four miles from Los Angeles Union Station.

Automatic tape recording supplied by Sante Fe officials showed the train was doing 71 miles an hour as it approached a 15 mile an hour curve where the wreck occurred.

The jet age requires alert fast thinking and spontaneous reactions. Speeds of 110 miles an hour such as the Sante Fe traveled much of the time should be in the hands of younger men. The airlines, fast speed boats and racing cars have long ago limited such speeds to younger men in top physical condition.

Railroads go to great lengths with periodic tests and examinations to insure the health and efficiency of their operating personnel. Yet, the fact that Engineer Parrish, still more than three years away from the obligatory retirement age of 65, could "black out," suggests a double line of inquiry.

★ ★ ★

That is whether Parrish was in good physical condition at the time and whether railroads should re-examine the question of allowing men of his age to drive trains.

Certainly, everybody will be interested in any steps which might be taken to prevent a similar tragedy.

American Thrift

For some years during and immediately after World War II the impression got abroad that we are a highly extravagant people.

In recent years, however, Treasury reports of Savings Bonds sales have tended to erase this mistaken judgment. Actually, E and H bond sales and the total of matured bonds still held by purchasers show that a lot of Americans are systematic savers.

★ ★ ★

For example, the total of E and H Bonds now outstanding exceeds $40 billion. An even more significant indication of American thrift is the fact that although $19.9 billion of these bonds matured last year, a total of $13.9 billion still is held by the purchasers. Counting the interest thus earned, these bonds have a face value of $14.6 billion.

★ ★ ★

The grand total of all E and H Savings Bonds sold last year reached $5.368 billion. This should convince anybody that a lot of the people of this country are preparing for a rainy day.

The Man About Town

Watch Weather

And They Tell Us Not to Expect Winter to Be Mild

Modern times: When we must run fast to remain where we are.

A check with a dozen Pontiac weather watchers proves that we must not get too enthusiastic about what a winter might do that has been so well behaved in its early weeks. These people have kept tab on the thing for periods ranging from 20 to 55 years. They have found that winters that start out like this one usually have a February that brings us plenty of the snow and zero temperatures that we thought we might escape.

General Ridgway—Retired?

David Lawrence Asks:

Why Is the United Nations Inconsistent When It Decides to Censure Countries?

WASHINGTON — Why does the United Nations jump all over a little country like Israel and refrain from condemning the big fellows — Red China and Soviet Russia?

• • •

Israel probably suffered extreme provocations which led to the border raids over which censure now has been given by the U.N. But there are instances of more flagrant sins by Red China in Korea. A solemn agreement specifies the terms of the armistice signed at Panmunjom. American military men report Red Chinese have built up air fields and brought jet planes to North Korea in disregard of the armistice agreement.

The U.N. is supposed to see that armistice terms are honored. It isn't even allowed freedom to inspect in North Korea. Not a word of censure, however, comes from the U.N. itself which evidently feels courageous enough to pick on Israel, but loses courage when it comes to the Red Chinese.

The Soviet enthusiastically joins in the voting to censure Israel, but the U.N. chooses to forget that Moscow confessed it supplied arms and ammunition to Red Chinese and North Korean armies.

DID ISRAEL ERR?

Transgressions by the Soviet and Red China are conspicuous on the records of the last few years. Yet, there is a surprising amount of talk in the U.N. about voting Red China into the Security Council.

Maybe Israel will think it should have taken a sympathetic position toward Russia and played ball with the Communists instead of the West. Soviet Russia sees to it that nobody on her side in the cold war gets spanked by the U.N. or anybody else.

Unlike Egypt, Israel has not hesitated to show itself on the side of the West and seeks only to develop resources and build a strong government able to protect itself against Communist machinations in the Middle East which seem to be aimed at building up Arab states at the expense of Israel.

STRANGE INCONSISTENCY

The latest news—that Marshal Tito is cooperating with Egypt in letting arms and ammunition pass from Czechoslovakia through Yugoslavian to Egypt—is a sign of how Moscow is making headway against the West.

Did the U.N. resolution encouraging this strange inconsistency have anything to do with the Soviet's decision to withdraw its veto power in the Security Council? Or was it because Russia wants to get into the Middle East and is willing to pay any price to do so?

Why, moreover, did the U.N. Assembly, which has been so quick to act in the Israeli case, refuse to act a year ago this? The rebuke to Israel will not of itself bring a climate of peace. As it is, the impression fostered in the Middle East that the entire world is against Israel, is bound to be discouraging to the people of Israel.

If a commission had been appointed to make a report placing the blame on those responsible for the border raids, this would have been sufficient. At Geneva there's a conference where the Red Chinese are trying to blackmail the U. S. and the U.N., too.

This, for some strange reason, doesn't become the subject of any censure resolutions in the U.N. It's a strange inconsistency.

Doctor Blasts Brushing as Tooth Decay Reducer

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

A slogan invented by a master huckster of the nineteenth century has probably sold more goods—trick brushes and glorified soap—and persuaded more people they could get along without services—the services of dentists—than any other one factor.

You know the slogan. Probably your dentist doesn't sing it any more, but the chances are he manages to imply that if you don't you're a dirty bird.

I achieved this distinction among the mincing men of the profession many years ago when I announced that I intended to waste no more time or money on brushes or dentifrices.

The slogan was so silly that intelligent dentists today would like to forget it: A clean tooth never decays.

I'm afraid I haven't saved anything except my teeth by doing without these affectations.

NEVER BETTER

However, I am glad to say that my teeth were never in better condition than they are now—thanks, of course, to the services of my dentist.

These services comprise four essentials which inspire my admiration for the profession:

(1) Rigid surgical cleanliness.
(2) Gentleness.
(3) Painlessness, through the use of local anesthetics.
(4) Skill in preparing and installing fillings, inlays or dentures.

One anticipates a visit to such a dentist without anxiety.

Americans are probably the tooth-brushingest people in the world. The people of Tristan da Cunha have, or had prior to eight years ago, as little use of toothbrushes and dentifrices as any other group of people in the world.

Americans have the poorest teeth in the world, with the possible exception of the British people. The people of Tristan da Cunha have, or had prior to 1948 the finest teeth in the world. The freest from decay.

It was in 1948-49 that a Capetown-London company began to build a plant on Tristan for canning choice crayfish and the project made a "store" necessary.

VISITED ISLE

When we visited the Lonely Isle in the winter of 1950 the natives informed us they could buy white flour, white sugar, candy and other "refined" foods at the company store.

We knew that meant the beginning of the end of the good nutrition and the good teeth of the people of Tristan da Cunha.

This is the inevitable consequence of bringing the blessings (?) of civilization to peoples leading natural lives, as Price shows beautifully in Nutrition and Physical Degeneration—a book hard to find, for the cheat-food interests feel that what you don't know won't hurt their business.

Signed letters, not more than one page of 150 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Diversified Interests Keep Busy Wife Too Preoccupied for Self-Indulgence

Betty's case shows the value of having many diversified interests. A lot of pampered city wives who fish for undue sympathy because they are going to have a baby, need to widen their horizons. Pain is greater when you have nothing to divert your attention, so many chores are often better than pain-killing drugs.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case Q-357: Betty L., aged 30, is a farmer's wife, living near Appleton, Wisconsin. She used to be one of my secretaries in Chicago.

At present she is the mother of a little boy and is expecting a second baby in another six months.

• • •

Please note carefully how her interests are extroverted by household duties and farm chores, plus the care of her firstborn son.

She doesn't fret about polio nor does she require sleeping pills to make her drift off into quick slumber at night.

The letter quoted below reached Mrs. Crane and me in the summer.

"Hope I get this letter finished, for I started it two days ago," Betty began.

"Have been so busy with our strawberries that I don't know whether I am coming or going. I have 14 quarts frozen and 11 jars of jam. I want to make at least one more batch of jam.

"I sold one case of strawberries since we had more than we could use. Henry didn't have the time, so I helped pick them.

"And our two cherry trees are just loaded. That means next week I'll be picking and canning them. May put some into the freezer.

"The red raspberries are also starting to turn, so I'll have my hands full with canning for several weeks. Life here on the farm is just one thing after another, and sometimes two at a time.

• • •

"I got quite disgusted with the peas and parsnips. They didn't come up very well in the spring.

I planted my parsnips three times, and still have none. So guess I shall give up on the parsnips.

"We planted our potatoes in May. Henry decided they had rotted and we were about to plow them up, when they finally came through the ground.

"Our apple crop looks very promising for fall, but I have so many cans of applesauce and spiced crabapples from last year that I don't need a fresh supply.

"Today is Henry's birthday. I started out to have 15 here for dinner but the men are making hay and working late so I guess there will be only 6 or 8 for my dinner party.

"Joey was exposed to measles a week ago, so he'll probably be down with them about next week.

"He has been fussing with his new teeth, too. He is trying to walk everywhere, so I must keep my eyes on him all the time. He likes to have his Daddy take him up on the tractor seat and give him a ride.

"Have had good luck with our baby chickens. Have about 300 of them. Have put Joey's pet rabbit in with them and they get along fine.

"Am a little late in doing my washing today. All of my neighbors are ahead of me. But mine is now hanging on the line and almost dry. I wash three times a week now.

"I should be hoeing my garden but the sun is too hot so I'll wait till later. The bugs took my first cucumbers, but I have re-planted.

• • •

"My tomatoes look fine and so do my cauliflower plants. Even have some hot peppers. Well, must close and do my dishes, for I let them go this morning when I was getting out the laundry."

NO SELF PITY

Betty is so extroverted with a wide variety of daily chores that she shows no self pity.

Although she has modern conveniences, she still puts in a long day of work. And she attends church on Sunday.

You will note that she said nothing about polio. Nor did she intimate that she was abused to be working so hard when a second baby was on the way.

I offer her case to show that victims of insomnia and self pity need to widen their horizons.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3¢ stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10¢ to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Berkley Principal Praises Waterford Sportsmanship

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the latter is critical in its nature.

It seems that the press, radio and television find so many occasions to publish accounts of teenage strife, conflict and delinquency that I would certainly like to take this opportunitiy to call to your attention a positive contribution toward good relationships as displayed last Friday night by a group of high school youth from Waterford High School.

As has already been noted in your paper, the Berkley High School cheerleaders squad was involved in an accident on the way to the Berkley-Waterford game. The Berkley cheerleaders sustained many and varied injuries, fortunately none was serious. This not only delayed them in reaching the game, but also left them in such a condition that they were unable to lead cheers.

Waterford High School is certainly to be commended for its fine display of sportsmanship. Their reserve cheerleading squad took over for the injured Berkley girls and acted in their behalf as Berkley cheerleaders.

It is worthy of note that they were so sincere in their efforts to do a good job that they even refrained from cheering when their own team made baskets.

We feel that such an outstanding example of good sportsmanship should not go unnoticed. We heartily congratulate Waterford High School student body and faculty, and especially the cheerleaders for this generous and unselfish act.

We in Berkley are proud to be associated with such a school. Indeed it is characteristic of the fine relationships which exist in Inter-Lakes League to which we are also proud to belong.

Hugh E. Earles, Principal
Berkley High School

'License, Vaccinate Dogs Only Every Two Years'

Recently I noticed an article in which two doctors of this area claimed vaccination has destroyed rabies down to a zero point.

If this is true, what about the many dogs in the same area during the same period of time which escaped vaccination? No rabies was found among them, either.

What about the city of Pontiac, where no vaccination is required? No cases there, either?

I also noticed they claim vaccination is good for two years. Why, then, cause dog owners in the townships to vaccinate yearly? Why not vaccinate every two years and issue licenses every two years. The fee could be doubled, and it would help both dog owner and county. The dog owner would be saved one vaccination fee and the county one yearly issue of license.

During the period mentioned in the article, it is not quite certain that no epidemic of rabies existed, or it would have shown up in the unvaccinated dogs and especially in Pontiac.

For Clean, Honest Government

Curtice Refuses to Limit GM Share of Car Sales

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

The General Motors management, despite the recent inquiry of a Senate subcommittee into its bigness, dissents from any suggestion that it should freeze its ratio of sales to those of the total automobile industry at any arbitrary level.

• • •

In view of the impact of the Senate inquiry and in light of the attempts of critics to link the Eisenhower administration with big business, this writer asked Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors, about the alleged monopoly issue. My question was phrased as follows:

"You said that General Motors cars were going to give exceptional value this year, the largest value they ever gave. You also said that that was true of the industry as a whole.

"Now, my question is: What if the public likes your cars somewhat better than those of competitors so that you increase your ratio of total sales of the industry as a whole? That will lead to a conflict with the view expressed by some senators who looked into your situation.

"Are you going to ration the public as to what ratio of General Motors cars to those of the industry as a whole they can buy?"

NO RATIONING

With characteristic forthrightness, Curtice replied:

"I could not subscribe to the idea of rationing the production of General Motors cars. I think our position in the industry has been earned through providing attractive merchandise representing a value for the dollar easily recognized by the very astute public.

• • •

"If they see fit to buy more and we are able to produce more and it adds up to a bigger percentage of the market, it just comes about naturally. That may be at variance with some of the views of the people you referred to, but there is not much that I can do about that, nor do I want to.

"On the other hand, I shall do everything possible to encourage our people to continue to make our products so outstanding in every respect that they will be accorded a very favorable reaction by that most important person, the customer.

"After all, if I understand the laws of the land, they are there for the, purpose of protecting that very important person, the customer.

• • •

"In our competitive system, the people do not necessarily beat a path to the better mouse trap, but they are amenable to reason if they reach it. And we shall continue to try to make it just as easy as possible for them to get the car of their choice and we hope it will have a General Motors label on it."

Frantic Mother Errs

PRATTVILLE, Ala (AP)—A Negro mother, half-asleep and frantic with anxiety over the safety of her baby, grabbed a small bundle from a bed and rushed from her burning home yesterday. Outside, she discovered she had picked up a pillow instead of the child. The baby, Otis Roper Jr., perished in the flames.

Guided Missile Project Proved

But Air Force Heads Warn Against Growth of 'Complacency'

NEW YORK (AP)—The Air Force has made public some inw information on its guided missiles and said the missile development program has been "very successful—but there is no room for complacency."

Two officers associated with the missile program at headquarters of the Air Research and Development Command in Baltimore told the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences that one of the smallest missiles now in production, the Hughes Falcon, also is one of the most satisfactory, while tests of another, the Boeing Bomarc, have been "very encouraging."

The two officers, Maj. Ralph L. Hicks and Capt. Robert W. Dillion, of the Air Force unmanned missile branch, confined their prepared paper for the most part to these two missiles.

They declared one long range guided missile could "carry an explosive force greater than that of all the bombs dropped during World War II."

* * *

They said that the size of atomic warheads on missiles permits a reduction in pinpoint accuracy requirements and allows the specifications for the guidance systems to be relaxed somewhat.

They added that the air force intends to "make full use of high yield atomic warheads which in addition to other advantages will permit the earlier availability of operational missiles."

The two officers said the 100-pound Falcon, an air-to-air missile, is "one which the public probably knows the least about yet best symbolizes the ingenuity and real achievements of the Air Force missile program."

They said that tests have proved conclusively that with the Falcon "virtually every hit is a sure kill."

* * *

Falcons have destroyed four-engine QB17 target bombers and single-engine F80 jet drones which were maneuvering to simulate evasive action by enemy aircraft.

They said the Falcon, a supersonic missile, carries a warhead "that can destroy any enemy bomber in the world."

The missile is launched from interceptor planes miles from — and usually out of sight of — the target. The launching airplanes are guided to their proper firing positions by electronic control systems which lock onto the enemy plane by radar and fire the Falcons automatically with split-second timing.

* * *

The two officers said the Falcon gives the crews of interceptor planes a better chance in combat than they ever had before.

"The Falcon represents an achievement in scientific research, invention and production almost without parallel," the paper said.

* * *

The officers also briefly discussed the Bell Rascal, an air-to-ground strategic missile, and the Martin Matador, a small pilotless airplane, in addition to the Bomarc which is a long range pilotless interceptor.

She's Up in the Air —So's the House

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A widow's nine-room house partly resembles a castle in the air and she isn't happy about it. Because of landslides and erosion, the home of Mrs. Edith Taylor now hangs 18 feet over Portero Canyon, 300 feet deep.

* * *

Municipal Judge Ben Koenig yesterday ordered her not to occupy the house in nearby Pacific Palisades because he ruled it a "menace to life, limb, health, and the public welfare."

When the $78,000 house was built 18 years ago it was 70 feet from the precipice. Now the back door is in the wild blue yonder and the kitchen floor has fallen out, dumping a washing machine, steamer trunk and other possessions into the canyon.

* * *

Mrs. Taylor claimed that the city is responsible for any trouble, saying the erosion was "an act of God." The judge denied her claim.

Austria's tourist housing capacity, cut by the war, now is back to prewar levels.

Eye Tests Doubtful

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Just because you can read the bottom line (or can you?) of the eye chart doesn't necessarily mean your eyes are good enough for automobile driving. UCLA researchers reported yesterday that numerous tests have demonstrated that a person's visual effectiveness with a static target doesn't carry over to moving objects.

Fund Gets $250,000

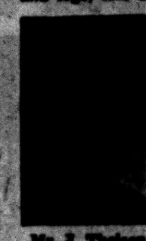

DETROIT (AP) — The Chrysler Fund, sponsored by Chrysler Corp., states an additional gift of $250,000 has been made to the Metropolitan Detroit Building Fund. The gift raises the total Chrysler grant to the building fund to $2,500,000.

IF YOU WANT GOOD HEALTH USE O-JIB-WA BITTERS

"This wonderful medicine not only helped me, but my brother and many neighbors, so I think it will help you too," says Mr. Joseph Theisen, R No. 2, Gaylord.

"I suffered a long time with pains and stiffness in my back and legs, and as I grew older, it got worse, especially my back. I am a farmer, working 14 or 15 hours a day, and my appetite was terrible. I didn't eat enough to keep a bird alive. I was always thinking that I should do something to correct the cause of the pains, as there was something definitely wrong in my system. My younger brother suffered with about the same thing, and after trying many medicines, he finally found results with your O-JIB-WA BITTERS. I thought that if it helped him, it would likely help me too, so I gave it a trial last July. In about ten days, I was eating well, and the soreness began to leave my back. Soon after, I was all better. My back and legs are all well again, and I eat and sleep fine, and have lots of pep. I want to tell you about one of my neighbors too, who could hardly raise his arms when he started on O-JIB-WA, but now has improved a lot. I hope that others will be helped by reading my story, as O-JIB-WA BITTERS is sure a fine medicine for anyone suffering from ailments such as these."

BEHAVING PURR-FECTLY — 'Rusty' (background), Sir Winston Churchill's lion cub, used to snarl at all comers when first introduced to polite society. But, like the elder statesman, he has mellowed a bit with the passing of time. Now, a little over a year old, 'Rusty' has become the angelic type and he hospitably shares his London Zoo diggings with 'Keno.' Keepers say that the playmate, of the same age, has had a quieting influence on Churchill's 'cat.'

19-Year-Old Chicago Youth Stabbed; Dies

CHICAGO (AP) — A 19-year-old youth was stabbed to death last night in the city's second apparently unprovoked teen-age gang violence in three days.

Witnesses told police that the victim, William J. McNeff, and a companion were attacked by a gang of four boys after they stepped from a car on the Southwest Side.

• • •

One pulled a switchblade knife and stabbed McNeff in the heart. McNeff's companion John Gabler, 20, escaped injury. He said he recognized the slayer but knew of no reason for the attack.

• • •

A gang of teen-age hoodlums seriously beat Donald Stevens, 18, with an auto jack handle on the South Side Sunday night. One of the four youths reportedly named in grand jury true bills charging assault to kill was quoted as saying the gang "had nothing to do and thought we'd get us a few kicks."

The real purpose of intelligent conservation is simply to guard against willful waste so that future generations need not be handicapped by woeful want.

Bills Seek Faster Work on Construction of Roads

(Editor's Note: This is the tenth in a series on the highway situation condensed from the booklet, "Wagon Roads to Expressways," to be published by the Oakland County Plan Commission.

Several bills aimed at speeding up highway construction have been submitted for consideration by the U.S. Congress.

None were passed during the last session, but are slated to come up again this year. All are designed to make more money available and change the federal aid matching system.

The matching ration would be changed from the present 50-50 on interstate routes to between 75-25 and 90-10. That is, the federal government would pay from 570 to 900 out of each $100 spent on interstate routes, with the rest supplied by the states.

Most bills call for about $3 billion extra federal expenditure per year. Provisions would allow for bond issues to further mobilize the program. Increased highway-user taxes are seen as paying for the construction.

At present, such taxes yield about $2½ billion each year, but only $800 million is spent on highways. If the entire sum was used in road building, many contend that no extra user taxes would be necessary.

Federal gas and excise taxes paid in Michigan during 1953 is estimated at $126,085,000 by the Bureau of Public Roads. The state received back only $14,709,000 in federal aid for highways, or 11.7 per cent.

'I'm Still Pretty Tough,' Aged Man Tells Medics

LOS ANGELES (AP)—He's 100 years old and Jonathan D. Voris, retired mining engineer, continues to confound medical men by his ability to survive pneumonia. Voris was discharged from Queen of Angels Hospital yesterday after winning his third bout with pneumonia in two years.

"I'm still pretty tough," said Voris as he took his grip and left for the home of Mrs. Blanche Rigney, his daughter. "Being around young people keeps me young."

THE LITTLE DOG SHOW — 3
The French Poodle

Here is Fifi with her French poodle Chevalier Pierre de Paris but Fifi calls him Muffy. A good show dog, the French poodle is obedient and graceful. The funny way his hair is trimmed makes people look at him and smile. But the poodle seems to like it.

French poodles originated in France in the 15th century. Sometimes they are black and sometimes white. Often they are dark grey.

For the Little Dog Show Fifi has brought one of Muffy's medals.

Paste this picture down on thin cardboard and color it with paints or crayons. Fifi's dress, hair ribbon and socks are yellow. Muffy has a red collar. The gold medal in the blue box can be colored yellow.

Cut out this picture carefully. Fold the dog and girl forward. The name panel should be folded forward as shown in the small sketch so it can stand up. If you fold the other panels correctly the group will stand up.

Hotel Will Unveil Rivera Murals— After 8 Years

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Controversial mural by Diego Rivera, curtained for eight years, will be shown publicly soon—minus its quotation denying God's existence.

• • •

The painting is in the Hotel del Prado. It depicts Alameda Park in the heart of the city, with famed Mexicans of past and recent years strolling through it. A onetime liberal called El Nigromante is shown carrying a banner bearing the title of a famous speech he made: "Dios no existe" —God does not exist.

Rivera has authorized deletion of this lettering, his long-time friend, Carols Pellicer, told the National Institute of Fine Arts recently.

• • •

Religious elements had threatened to boycott the hotel if the picture were shown unaltered.

The anti-Red Nationalist party of Mexico in a statement said Rivera — a Communist now in Moscow — may have been ordered to act as he did. The party said:

"Communism, convinced of the unquestionable strength of religion, is trying to . . . neutralize the angered opposition with the purpose of strengthening itself to attack the Western world."

Wilson Refutes Ridgway's Blast

'I'm Not a Politician,' Answers Secretary to General's Charges

WASHINGTON (INS) — Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson has denied Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's charges that administration policies have endangered the nation's military position.

The cabinet member also said he was "a bit surprised" at Ridgway's contention that domestic political considerations have influenced vital decisions on defense matters.

Wilson said his surprise was the more acute because "if anything, I'm not a politician."

He added that he was sorry if Ridgway's charges, made in magazine articles based on the General's experience as Army chief of staff from 1953 until last year, had "caused any confusion in the minds of the American people."

The defense secretary indicated that in his opinion Ridgway was temperamentally unsuited for the dual role demanded of him as Army leader and member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

HAD TROUBLE

Wilson remarked: "Ridgway had trouble wearing the Joint Chiefs of Staff hat."

The secretary's comments were made in a chat with newsmen after he testified at a closed-door session of a House military appropriations subcommittee.

Wilson said he would have a comprehensive answer to all of Ridgway's charges when the general's story, being serialized in the Saturday Evening Post, has been completed. Two installments of the six-part series have appeared so far.

A reporter, citing Ridgway's assertion that the Eisenhower administration has played politics with national defense, asked if the U.S. military position was precarious in any way.

Wilson replied: "It certainly is not, and especially not in the field where Ridgway made his charges."

The retired four-star general, a combat hero of World War II and a one-time commander-in-chief in Korea, has complained that despite his vigorous objections he was ordered to reduce the strength of overseas divisions and to inactivate or cut other units.

Ridgway cited this in support of his charge that "civilian secretaries making military decisions on a basis of political expediency constitutes a danger to this country."

In this week's installment of his story, Ridgway also maintained that Wilson was always willing to "exercise full authority" but was not equally willing to "assume full responsibility for actions taken."

Wilson insisted that he has "no quarrel" with Ridgway and said that he regards the general as "an honorable man."

Bob Considine Says:

Gen. MacArthur Finds No Peace of Mind

(This is the first of two articles on Gen. Douglas MacArthur by INS writer Bob Considine. The general celebrates his 76th birthday Thursday.)

Douglas MacArthur, the nation's most famous but least consulted authority on Far Eastern matters, will be 76 years old Thursday. In quiet but determined opposition to the policies of the last two administrations, the former supreme commander has not yet found that peace of mind he sought upon announcing that he planned to "fade away."

• • •

MacArthur, one of the most remarkable figures in modern world history, has become virtually a recluse. But it is a splendid isolation he has imposed upon himself.

He lives with his vivacious wife and their studious 17-year-old son, Arthur (who would like to make music his profession), in a magnificent apartment high in the Waldorf Towers in New York City. He is seen less and less outside its memento-filled and orientally decorated confines.

Contact with MacArthur is not readily made. The bulk of his still heavy mail, which features stacks of requests for autographed pictures, is forwarded to the office which the Army maintains for him at 90 Church St. in deference to his permanent "on duty" status as a five-star general.

Other mail is sent to the occasionally visited office which is set aside for him in the executive mansion of the Sperry Rand Corp. headquarters near Norwalk, Conn. MacArthur serves as the corporation's board chairman at $60,000 a year.

CALLS DETOURED

Phone calls to MacArthur seldom penetrate the Waldorf switchboard and ascend to Apartment 37-A. Most calls are referred to 90 Church, where Col. Sid Huff is in charge of evasive answers.

The calls that do get through are from visiting dignitaries (MacArthur recently received the President-elect of Brazil) and from old colleagues in arms, trusted friends and an occasional member of Congress.

But the calls seldom, if ever, are answered by MacArthur. Conrad Hilton, MacArthur's landlord, complained to a friend not long ago that he had been trying to get his famed tenant on the phone for weeks.

The caller whose call gets closest to MacArthur personally finds himself talking to Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, MacArthur's close aide, friend and business associate, whose new book, "MacArthur: His Rendezvous With History," probably is the ultimately intimate assessment of the hero.

It is not believed that MacArthur will write his autobiography. Gen. Whitney mainly decides who will see MacArthur and who will not.

Though he is impeccable in his respect for the office of the presidency, and has in the past spoken highly of Harry S. Truman and Dwight D. Eisenhower, MacArthur is still gripped with a cold indignation over the manner in which he was relieved of his command by Truman and is hurt by the indifference of the administration headed by his one-time aide Eisenhower.

He has not forgotten, of course, the galling final military campaigns of a fabled military life when restrictions the old soldier will never be able to comprehend were imposed upon him by the Truman administration and the United Nations. He was not permitted to attack the area in which the enemy was supporting its entire campaign.

• • •

To close friends, including Gen. Whitney, who outlined it in his book, MacArthur has since revealed what he would have done in Korea if given his head. He would have augmented his American and U. N. forces with 30,000 troops from Chiang Kai-shek's army and made big amphibious landings, simultaneously, at the northeast and northwest tips of Korea.

• • •

Each would have been assigned to drive inland along the southern side of the Yalu and join in north central Korea, closing off the supply lines from across the river.

RADIOACTIVE BELT

When these were disposed of, MacArthur would have proposed that a belt of radioactive material be spread across the waistline of Korea over which no future invader could move his men and supplies.

The creator of this mighty dream and the major architect of victory in two great world wars hears the din of battle only in thoughtful restrospect today.

• • •

He frets over "the way things are being run down there," meaning Washington, and recently told a friend he wouldn't be surprised if Adlai Stevenson and a depression arrive at the White House simultaneously, after which the people will install a conservative Republican administration.

RIDING THE WAVES — Oarsmen battle to keep their craft upright on a big wave during a surf carnival near Sydney, Australia. They were successful and finished second in race.

Stanley R. Allen Will Lead Drive

Heads State Chapter of Nephrosis Foundation Fighting Disease

Stanley R. Allen, of 80 Collier, has been appointed captain of a Pontiac drive to raise funds for the Michigan Chapter of the National Nephrosis Foundation, Inc.

The drive is scheduled to begin March 1 when cannisters will be placed in numerous business places and a door-to-door campaign will be undertaken in the city.

Last September, a group of people who have children afflicted with nephrosis organized the Michigan chapter of the national organization.

Nephrosis is a little-known childhood disease of the kidneys which kills one-half of its young victims. It is a chronic affliction characterized by swelling and loss of blood and body protiens.

Allen has a four-year-old son Dennis suffering from this disease since he contacted it on Halloween of 1954.

The objectives of the group, which has a membership of more than 200, is to channel funds into local research work on kidney diseases and body metabolism. Secondly, it is to provide financial assistance to families unable to afford long periods of hospitalization and necessary treatment.

Hirohito Addresses Diet

TOKYO (AP) — Emperor Hirohito opened the 24th session of the postwar Diet (parliament) today with a brief address. He told the lawmakers he shared their joy over Japan's expanding relations with other nations but said "I think more efforts are needed to win more trust by all foreign nations."

Bond-Buying Peak Hit

DETROIT (AP)—Michiganders invested $325,653,335 in series E and H United States savings bonds during 1955, a peacetime record, Noble T. Travis, state chairman of the Treasury Department's Savings Bonds Division, reported. December investments of $25,961,901 boosted total sales $3,853,335 above the state's 1955 quota. Michigan's previous peacetime high was $302,790,351 in 1954.

Conservation seeks to insure to society the maximum benefit from the use of our national resources.

Guard Wants Land

KALAMAZOO (AP)—The city commission has been asked to make available land for a new $325,000 National Guard armory provided in the 1957-58 military budget. The request came from Maj. Robert T. Williams, 1st Battalion commander of the 126th Infantry Regiment. It was turned over to the city planning commission for study.

Soil conservation includes any and all measures that will increase the productivity of the land and cause it to keep on producing satisfactorily.

College Fund Growing

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP)—A fund to defray hospital expenses for Don Wheeler, Central Michigan College senior from Flushing, has reached $1,233. Students at the college have asked public support toward a goal of $3,000. Wheeler has been unconscious since he was injured in an auto accident last October.

More electric power is used by the Oak Ridge installation of the Atomic Energy Commission than by the highly industrialized city of Detroit, Mich.

Mock Convention Ready

KALAMAZOO (AP)—A mock political convention with area high school students as delegates will be staged April 28 at Kalamazoo College. The mock meeting is sponsored every four years by the college student senate and political science department.

Wealthy Widow Succumbs at 85

Mrs. S. Penrose Dies at Colorado Springs; Was El Polmar Head

DETROIT (AP)—Widow of a copper baron and daughter of a Detroit mayor, Mrs. Spencer Penrose, 85, died Monday night in Glockner-Penrose Hospital at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Mrs. Penrose was president of the El Pomar Foundation, established by her husband's will after his death in 1939. It gave millions of dollars to hospitals and other institutions.

Mrs. Penrose was a daughter of Alexander Lewis, onetime Detroit police commissioner who was elected mayor in 1876 and later was president of the Detroit Gas Light Co.

The former Julia Lewis was married in 1890 to James H. McMillan, son of U.S. Senator James McMillan. McMillan died in 1902 and his widow married Spencer Penrose in 1904.

Penrose was among the first claimholders in the rich gold lode of Cripple Creek in Colorado. He bought copper mines and founded the Utah Copper Co. He built the luxurious Broadmoor Hotel at Colorado Springs and financed the road to the summit of Pike's Peak.

Tire Air Pump Saves Life of 'Dead' Autoist

TERRACE, B. C. (AP)—An automobile tire pump was credited with saving the life of a motorist who had been left for dead in his car.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police reported a passerby thought Graham Whatman, 34, of Prince Rupert, and Mrs. Ann Ezilda, 36, were both dead of carbon monoxide fumes when they found the couple in a car stalled in a snowbank Monday. They hurried to notify authorities here and Mr. and Mrs. William McRae, who lived near the scene.

The McRaes revived Whatman by forcing air into his lungs with a tire pump. His woman companion, however, was dead.

Threatens Munchers

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—A jury deliberated three hours and failed to agree on a verdict in the case of a nearby San Gabriel man charged with using a gun to threaten three noisy popcorn munchers in a theater Dec. 11. Judge Joseph R. Sprankle Jr. dismissed the charge yesterday after David M. Gordon, 42, agreed to surrender his gun permit and not apply for a new one for the next three years.

Lone Vote Costs $58

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The voting was pretty expensive at yesterday's special election in the Sixteenth Precinct of Kansas City's Second Ward. Only one vote was cast in the precinct among 530 persons registered. Bad weather held down the vote on issuance of bonds for city and state improvements but the proposals were approved. It was estimated the lone vote cost $58 in precinct election expenses.

Very Good Idea

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP)—Police are giving baby sitters under 16 free rides home at night. The service went into effect after the Town Council passed a law imposing a 9 p.m. curfew on children under 16.

PITCHING WOO? — It's a long time until spring, but even in winter Paris is a romantic place. Love is definitely in bloom at the local zoo, where these two camels are certainly pitching woo. And from the enraptured look on the young lady at right, it's easy to see that this is the real thing.

Kefauver Sees Farm Disaster

Says GOP Is Leading Agriculture to 'Brink of Bankruptcy'

LA CROSSE, Wis. (AP)—Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) said last night that the Republican administration "is leading the American farmer to the brink of bankruptcy."

The only immediate relief, he said, is the reinstatement of 90 per cent price supports for agricultural products.

* * *

The Tennessee senator, who captured the entire Wisconsin delegation to the 1952 Democratic National Convention, started his campaign for the state's 28 delegate votes this year with an address to about 300 Democrats.

STAY IN PRIMARY

The speech, first of five he plans in three days, was devoted entirely to farm problems and what he contended was the administration's failure to do anything about them.

* * *

Earlier, at a news conference, he said emphatically that he had no intention of withdrawing from the April 3 Wisconsin primary race in the event Adlai Stevenson decides to enter it.

He also said he was considering entering the Minnesota primary March 20, even though he had been advised by Sen. Humphrey, Democrat of that state, not to run there.

Hospital Staff Heads Quit UM Psychiatric Positions

ANN ARBOR (INS) — Resignations of Dr. Ralph W. Rabinovitch and his wife, Dr. Sara Dubo, staff heads of the recently opened Children's Psychiatric Hospital in Ann Arbor, were disclosed yesterday.

University of Michigan Vice President Marvin L. Niehuss said departure of the nationally known team will leave the university in a difficult spot. He called their work outstanding and said "extraordinary efforts" had been made to persuade them to remain.

Niehuss said:

"The situation appears to be one involving personal and temperamental incompatibilities, aggravated by relatively minor incidents which assumed large proportions in their minds."

Dr. Rabinovitch said:

"Vice President Niehuss, Dr. Raymond Waggoner, director of the Neuropsychiatric Institute, and other university officials have indicated a desire to re-examine existing policies but unfortunately, the total situation is such that we do not feel we can maintain our tenure."

Niehuss acknowledged that the $2.2 million children's hospital which opened last December is largely the concept of Dr. Rabinovitch and Dr. Dubo.

The doctor and his wife expressed regret at leaving and called the new hospital "the realization of a dream." They said they will remain in public service and are considering positions in seven other states.

Rejects Chance to Get Halfway to Cleveland

CATLETTSBURG, Ky. (AP) — A would-be bandit turned down a chance to get halfway to Cleveland yesterday.

He entered the Virginia Restaurant, picked up some candy and cigarettes, handed the cashier 50 cents and, when she opened the cash register, drew a gun and said, "This is a holdup—I need $20 to get to Cleveland."

The cashier replied, "There's only about $10 here—you can come around and look for yourself if you want to." The man then ran out the door and jumped into a car which sped away.

Prisoners' Menu Cut

SPARKS, Nev. (AP)—Ham and egg breakfasts are out at the Sparks City Jail. City officials said that is more than they get at home. "We get mush at our house," observed Councilman A. H. Osborn as he voted to cut the jail menu. City Manager C. B. Kinnison added that he gets oatmeal at home.

Red China, U.S. Talks Sought

Commies Claim Confabs by Dulles and Chou Can End Formosa Row

GENEVA (AP)—Communist China said Tuesday the dispute over Formosa could be settled only at a meeting between Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Chinese Foreign Minister Chou En-lai.

* * *

Red Chinese Ambassador Wang Ping-nan, in another press statement concerning his five-month-old negotiations with U. S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson, charged the United States with deliberately dragging out the talks. He declared:

"The Chinese-American ambassadorial talks have proved to be incapable of settling such a major substantive question as the relaxation and elimination of tension in the Taiwan (Formosa) area. The Chinese side holds that a Chinese-American conference of the foreign ministers must be held, as this is the practical and feasible means for settling this question."

* * *

Wang repeated his claim that Formosa is a part of China, that the mutual assistance treaty between the United States and Nationalist China was illegal, and that relations between Communist and Nationalist China were entirely China's internal affair.

Psychiatric Exam Set for Train Engineer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The engineer whose train overturned Sunday, killing 29 persons, will be given a psychiatric examination today, Dist. Atty. S. Ernest Roll announced.

Roll said he wanted to get an explanation of Santa Fe engineer Frank Parrish's statement that he thought he saw an orange grove before the two-car train jumped the rils on a curve in Los Angeles. There is no such orange grove in vicinity.

* * *

Roll said Parrish, 61, took full responsibility for the accident, saying: "I blacked out. I didn't know we were going that fast (nearly 70 miles an hour)." Roll also said Parrish had rejected the story of fireman Homer Smith, who said he urged Parrish to use the emergency brake and that Parrish did so, "but nothing happened."

* * *

Investigators so far have not reported any findings of mechanical failure.

The last of the victims was identified yesterday as Mrs. Ann Laffler of San Diego. She was 64 and a widow.

Kiwanis Marks 41st

DETROIT (AP)—The 41st birthday of Kiwanis International was celebrated yesterday by Kiwanis Club No. 1 of Detroit. International President J. A. Raney, an Indianapolis educator, addressed the noon meeting.

Children Name 60-Foot Street for Bus Driver

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Children who named a street in honor of their school bus driver will see it made official.

The City Commission has voted to put up regulation signs naming "Eddie's Lane," a 60-foot stretch of pavement honoring Bus Driver Eddie Powless of Otsego.

The city will replace a cardboard sign lettered by pupils of State Elementary School. The sign stands at a 60-foot semi-circular turnoff from U.S. 112, a half block from the school.

Commenting on the commission action, Commissioner Willis Dunbar said, "There must be streets in Kalamazoo named for less worthy people."

Ship's Captain Cited for Trial

Coast Guard Demands Action on Wreck Where 14 Lost Lives at Sea

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Justice Department has been asked by the Coat Guard to prosecute the captain of the pleasure schooner Levin J. Marvel, which broke up in Chesapeake Bay with a loss of 14 lives.

The skipper was John H. Meckling of Annapolis, Md.

* * *

Meckling said last night he would have no comment on the Coast Guard investigation board's findings until he had examined them.

The slender, sandy-haired Meckling, a onetime Coast Guard enlisted man, was one of 13 survivors when the 64-year-old Marvel rolled over in the rough seas which preceded Hurricane Connie last Aug. 14. The vessel was pounded to pieces off North Beach, Md.

* * *

Adm. A. C. Richmond, Coast Guard commandant, yesterday made public the board's report. He said the inquiry turned up evidence of probable violation of maritime laws by Meckling.

He listed these as:

"Sending an unseaworthy vessel to sea, thereby endangering life.

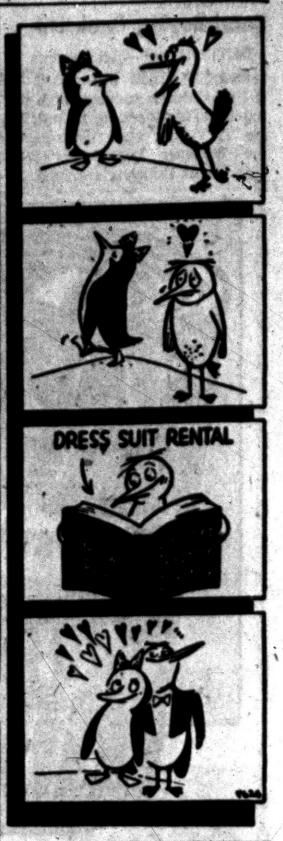

"Neglect of duty in taking an unseaworthy vessel to sea in the face of known displayed storm warnings.

* * *

"Negligent and-or reckless operation of (the) vessel so as to endanger life, limb, or property.

"Destruction of life through negligence, inattention to duty, and misconduct."

Education in conservation should begin in grade school, as many of our early impressions are the guideposts for our actions in mature years.

PIN-WORMS MAY BE A FAMILY AFFAIR
Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.
To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do ...and here's how they do it:
First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.
Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge... the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

Tilden, Pontiac, both aged six, were given a preview of the more than 200 trophies and medals to be awarded to winners at Oakland County's first big time twirling contest, to be held in the Community Activities Building in Waterford Feb. 19. Both girls are working very hard under the direction of Jackie Rae Voorhees, herself a winner in some of the best contests. The contest will bring together champions from many states and Canada.

Land in Family Over 100 Years Sold for Subdivision

By MARTHA LEWIS
Ortonville Correspondent

ORTONVILLE — An eighty-acre tract of land, seven miles south of here, located on Sashabaw road, and including the southern end of Seymour Lake in Brandon Township, has been purchased by Samuel A. Miller of the S. A. Miller Building Co., Detroit.

* * *

The property, prior to its sale, was owned by Gladys Sherwood, who with her mother, the late Mrs. Belle Sherwood, had held ownership since 1925.

Miller stated today that the land will be subdivided into lots measuring 100 by 180 feet. He said 144 homes are planned for completion in two years, with the work to start this spring.

Tentative plans call for homes of brick construction, with three bedrooms, which he estimates will sell for $13,500. All will have individual wells and septic tanks. Home owners will have lake privileges, with beach and parking space.

SECOND LARGEST

Seymour Lake, which has been called the second largest lake in Brandon Township, covers 100 acres. The proposed subdivision has access to three fourths of this area.

Miller plans to name the future home site "The Gladys Sherwood Subdivision."

Interesting history surrounds this old farm, as it boasts of being the birthplace of the first white child in Brandon Township. Here, Eliza Ann Seymour, daughter of John B. Seymour, formerly of New York was born. Seymour settled in a log cabin, which in that day had "palatial lines" and was considered an unusually fine home.

LANDMARKS STAND

It was located on the south side of Seymour Lake where two stalwart maple trees still stand as original landmarks. The log cabin burned in 1922 and the present bungalow was built the same year.

In early days all church services were held in the various homes until the first church was built in 1837. The present church was constructed in 1854.

The Sherwoods have owned this home for over a hundred years and four generations have farmed the land. At one time, besides general farming, peppermint was raised and distilled.

Browsing in this house with so much history, one can see much of the furniture of yesterday. There are ladder-back caned chairs and horse hair chairs of carved walnut which belonged to Miss Sherwood's grandfather. Her mother, Mrs. Belle Sherwood, died March 6, 1955, at the age of 92.

Those who knew Mrs. Sherwood best think she would have appreciated the proposed building program.

The home site itself will be retained by its owner, who has a companion to aid her. Miss Sherwood has been confined to a wheelchair from the age of 13.

During the past 40 years, she has taught music and more recently has been interested in newspaper work.

Former Oxford Pastor Retiring; to Be Writer

The Rev. H. B. Johnson, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Belding, has announced his resignation.

Formerly pastor of the Immanuel Congregational Church, Oxford, he moved to Belding five years ago to temporarily fill a vacancy.

His resignation will become effective July 1. In former years he served as director of Progress for the Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias. Rev. Johnson and his wife plan to retire to Lakeview, where he will write feature stories from their home there.

Furnace Explosion Burns Mother, Child

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Mrs. Jane Dunning, 40, and her daughter, Sandra Lee, 3, sufetred critical burns early today in an explosion that wrecked their home in Kalamazooo.

Firemen said the explosion apparently was caused by leaking gas.

* * *

Mrs. Dunning took the little girl with her when she went to the basement to check the coal furnace and an explosion occurred when she opened the furnace door, firemen said.

Her husband, Harold M. Dunning, 40, who was upstairs in a bedroom heard the explosion and ran to the basement to investigate. Flames prevented him from getting into the basement.

Neighbors, who were awakened by the explosion, rescued Mrs. Dunning and the little girl by pulling them out through a hole in the basement wall.

* * *

Three other children, who were upstairs, escaped injury. They were Beatrice, 18, Patrick 2, and a 2-weeks-old baby, Douglas Allen. The father was treated for shock.

MSU Prof Returning From Viet Nam Team

EAST LANSING (AP)—Dr. Edward W. Weidner, head of the Michigan State University Vietnam advisory team, will return to the East Lansing campus from Saigon, Thursday.

He will resume his position as head of the MSU political science department and will serve as coordinator of the Vietnam project. Dr. Wesley R. Fishel, a member of the political science department and special advisor to the project, will take his place as chief advisor.

Michigan State has been providing technical advice and assistance to the South Vietnam government since the spring of 1955 through an agreement with the State Department. The MSU team now numbers 27 persons.

Issue Goes to County Board

Boundaries Committee Delays Approval on Incorporation

ROCHESTER — A group of Rochester progress committee members met Monday morning with the Committee on Boundaries of cities and villages of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

The purpose of the meeting was to advise the boundary committee on questions regarding possible incorporation of Rochester in order that the request for an election might be presented to the Board of Supervisors at their meeting Jan. 30.

Attorney Everett Hays, representing the group opposing city incorporation, questioned the legality of the incorporation petitions. The progress committee members pointed out that the second petitions were filed to correct an error in boundaries.

The quorum present at the Boundaries committee meeting voted to delay its approval until Attorney Hays could prepare a case.

Warren Port Up to Jury

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP)—A Circuit Court jury was to visit Warren airport today to decide whether the 74-acre airfield should be expanded into Detroit's major northeast airline terminal. Later the jury will hear arguments on whether the land should be condemned by the township for recreational purposes. If the jury decides against condemnation by the township, then the city of Detroit, which owns the site, will proceed with condemnation to expand it into a major terminal.

A Considerate Judge

DETROIT (AP) — Attempting to make the punishment as painless as possible, Traffic Judge John D. Watts yesterday proposed a free "quickie parking lot" for the convenience of traffic violators paying fines. The lot would be situated across the street from the old Wayne County building. Parking would be limited to 15 minutes.

Ziegler Accuses Williams of Fostering Political Aims

LANSING (AP) — State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler has accused Gov. Williams of reaching "down to the bottom of the barrel" in criticizing Ziegler's 1956-57 highway program.

* * *

The Governor, in a special message to the legislature, said Ziegler's plan to build 455 miles of multilane divided highways in the next two years was inadequate.

Williams said the 1955 Highway Act should be amended to allow construction of 855 miles of superhighways.

In a speech to the State Association of Superiors, the highway commissioner said his program is more than twice as big as any Michigan has ever undertaken before and one of the most ambitious programs in the nation.

RECALLS VETO

"The only answer the Governor could give to it to further his own political ambitions was to say 'let's double it'," Ziegler said.

In 1951, Ziegler asserted, Gov. Williams vetoed a one-and-one half cent increase in the state's gasoline tax, although the tax then was only three cents a gallon and one of the lowest in the country.

Ziegler said Williams' plan to liberalize bonding provisions of the law was "not in the best interests of the people."

He suggested that if the state were to allow more highway revenue bonds it would have to pay higher interest rates on them than it has in the past because there would be less security behind them.

INCOME MAY FALL

During the next 20 years or so, highway revenues might fall off and the state would find itself without enough money to retire the bonds, he said. In addition, Ziegler said, only highway funds not tied up in bonds can be matched by federal highway aid.

Later, at his press conference, Williams accused Ziegler of giving him a "misleading" map showing the 445-mile program Ziegler had announced.

Williams, who had asked Ziegler for a report on his plans, conceded the commissioner sent him and made public an accurate listing of the mileage to be built in the next two years. But he said the accompanying map included 275 miles of construction not listed in the 455-mile program.

* * *

"Such careless handling of public information, I must say, hardly comports with the standards of accuracy and honesty that the public expects from its officials," Williams said.

Hint Early Vote on Gas Proposal

Final Speech by Douglas Gives Good Indication of Senate Balloting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Proponents said today they are hopeful voting will start early next week on a bill to exempt natural gas producers from direct control by the Federal Power Commission (FPC).

They voiced this hope as Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) prepared to wind up his senate speech against the bill—a speech he has been delivering, with some interruptions, since last week.

Douglas is sponsoring a substitute bill to exempt from federal regulations producers whose sales of natural gas in interstate commerce aggregate less than 2 billion cubic feet a year.

This, he said, still would require the regulation of 197 producing companies selling 89 per cent of all gas marketed across state lines.

The measure before the Senate differs only in minor details from a similar one which the House last year approved by a narrow margin.

The Senate vote is expected to be close, too, with present signs indicating probable passage.

Sen. Carlson (R-Kan) spoke for the bill yesterday, saying it is "clearly in the public interest." He said it would assure consumers of "much more gas at much less cost."

Douglas contended the pending bill would "gouge" consumers of added charges totaling 600 to 900 million dollars a year.

Holiday Filing Is Legal

BAD AXE (AP)—Nominating petitions filed on a legal holiday are valid under a ruling by Circuit Judge Arthur M. Bach of Huron County. Bach denied a petition in Port Austin to ban the village ticket from the ballot in the March 12 election. The village ticket was filed on Jan. 2, a legal holiday and the deadline for filing.

Adult Education Term to Open

Walled Lake Residents to Enroll for Classes in Advance

WALLED LAKE—Adult education classes will get under way for the spring term at the Walled Lake Senior High School next week.

Those who expect to enrol. for the ten week term should register in advance with Mrs. Ota Duncan by calling the office of the Superintendent of Schools in Walled Lake.

Unless there have been sufficient advance registrations, no class will be scheduled according to C. G. Scott, director of the program.

Courses for which an instructor is available are: bookkeeping, contemporary literature, contract bridge, cake decorating, choral music, china painting, ceramics, and driver education.

Others which may be selected are interior decorating, landscaping, millinery, piano, sewing, shorthand, office machines, square dancing, typing, woodshop, and upholstery.

Fees may be paid in advance or at the first meeting of the class.

Additional courses may be offered if enough people are interested in a particular subject and register.

Class nights will be determined by the time which the instructors have available and the convenience of the members.

Fire Destroys Barn; Estimate Loss $9,000

LAPEER — Damage to a barn was estimated at a little over $9,000 by Lapeer County Sheriff's office.

The barn, located at 2022 Klam Rd., on a farm occupied by Rex Farrand, was entirely destroyed by fire yesterday morning. Lost in the blaze was the structure, a tractor, hay baler, and family dog.

The Detroit Edison Co. says the fire was caused by defective wiring.

Goodwill Club to Meet

WATERFORD — The Goodwill Club will meet at 1 p.m. Thursday at the home of Mrs. Henry Mehlberg, 5938 Andersonville Rd.

Carol Hall Chooses Satin for Saturday Ceremony

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — A candlelight service at Sunny Vale Chapel Saturday evening united in marriage Carol Jean Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn D. Hall, 6701 Northview, Clarkston and Kenneth L. Motsinger, of Airway Drive and son of Mrs. Albert North of Redding, Ia.

Approximately 100 guests were present as Carol walked down the aisle wearing a gown of bridal satin. The fitted bodice featured an illusion neckline. The bouffant skirt was ornamented with lace paneling that blended into the cathedral train.

A tiara of seed pearls and sequins held the illusion finger tip veil. The bride carried a white orchid on a white Bible with streamers of stephanotis and ivy.

Betty Hall, the bride's sister, was her maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Donna Lou McCallum and Jeannette Frick. Flower girl was Deborah Hall.

* * *

Delbert Wilhelm was the best man and seating the guests were A. C. Evans, Cecile Shaffer and Don Skinnel. Edsel Hall was ring bearer.

A reception was held in the church parlors.

Incorporation Group Planned by Jaycees

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Plans for a Community Committee to take over the incorporation-annexation project were outlined when the Jaycees Board of Directors met Monday evening.

* * *

It will be composed of representatives from the Jaycees and the Business and Professional Women's group plus representatives of all township area.

Those interested in working on the committee may call Charles Pappas at OR 3-8081.

Jaycees calendar of events includes their next meeting Feb. 6 at Decker's Cafeteria; the Fishing Derby at Pontiac Lake, Feb. 12; and the Builder's Show to be staged March 23, 24, and 25 at the CAI Building.

Report Bulganin Suffering Effects of Asian Tour

NEW DELHI (AP)—Soviet Premier Bulganin is suffering from the after effects of his strenuous Asian tour, informed sources said here today. But they declined to say exactly what his trouble is.

Indications were it might be fatigue, heart strain or jaundice.

Sources close to the Russian Embassy here said it had been informed by Moscow only that Bulganin is "resting" after the tour, which had "strained" him physically. Moscow reports say he has not been seen in public since Jan. 3.

These sources said Bulganin, during his monthlong tour, complained of what appeared to be some heart discomfort. The sources refused to elaborate or say specifically that he had a heart ailment.

New World's Record

MELBOURNE (INS) — Australia's Dave Stephens set a new world's record of 27 minutes, 54 seconds for the six-mile run today.

The down under track star shaved a little more than five seconds off the 27:59.2 mark set by Czechoslovakia's Emil Zalopek in June, 1954.

U.S. to Boycott Australia for TV Price Tag

CORTINA, D'AMPEZZO, Italy (AP)—Should Olympic hosts be permitted to sell television rights commercially?

The International Olympic Committee (IOC) tackled that tricky question today and ailed to reach a decision. The subject comes up again tomorrow but odds are a decision is months, perhaps years away.

Australia reportedly is putting a $500,000 price tag on North American rights for the 1956 summer games at Melbourne.

American television networks hinted they will boycott the coverage unless the Aussies reconsider. The networks did that in the London games in 1948.

Board Appoints 3 at Southfield Meeting

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP—The Township Board last night appointed Don Swanson to the board to replace Eugene Swem, now supervisor.

Swanson is a former Charter member, has been a resident of Southfield for five years and been active in civic affairs during that time.

Edward R. Arbiter and Hurn J. Burnett were appointed by the board to the Zoning Board for the township.

Hunt Four Who Robbed Supermarket in Coloma

COLOMA (AP) — Four apparently unarmed men who robbed a Coloma supermarket of $90 were the objects of a southwestern Michigan manhunt today.

Berrien County sheriff's deputies said two of the men entered Reinhardt's IGA foodliner Monday and grabbed a roll of bills from a cash register when the cashier's head was turned.

Walter Reinhardt, co-owner of the store, attempted to grab one man as the pair fled. They both fell out the front door in a tussle, but the robber jumped up and fled with his companions, who were waiting in a car.

Deputies said there appeared to be no connection between the holdup and a $5,000 safe cracking at the store Jan. 9.

Psychiatrist to Address Michigan Legislature

LANSING (AP)—Dr. William Menninger, famous psychiatrist and head of the Menninger Foundation at Topeka, Kans., will address a joint session of the Legislature at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow.

The Legislature last year invited Menninger to speak on problems of mental health and their solution.

Red Chinese Talks Continue in Deadlock

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — Ambassadors of the United States and Communist China held another of their apparently fruitless negotiation sessions today. It was the 34th meeting in six months of U. S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson and Peiping Ambassador Wang Ping-nan.

* * *

As usual there was no indication of any break in their stalemate over release of 13 Americans held in Chinese jails, a U. S.-proposed agreement to renounce force in the settlement of the Formosa dispute, and a Chinese-desired meeting between U. S. Secretary of State Dulles and Peiping's Premier - Foreign Minister Chou En-lai.

Instead the envoys announced only they would meet again Feb.3, taking their talks into the seventh month.

* * *

The continuing deadlock was emphasized by another Chinese statement yesterday charging the United States with insincerity and with deliberately prolonging the talks as part of a "brink of war policy."

Milwaukee Presbytery OKs Women Ministers

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Milwaukee Presbytery voted yesterday to open the ministry to women by concurring in a proposed change in the constitution of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.

Clergy and lay delegates from 40 churches in the Milwaukee region voted, 38-18, in a secret ballot to approve the constitutional change which would permit the church to ordain women to the ministry.

The proposal was introduced by the Rev. Dalton McDonald, of Delafield, who offered the measure without recommendation.

Approve Bond Issue

DETROIT (AP)—Voters in Grosse Pointe School district approved a $3,475,000 bond issue, 3,974 to 3,008. The money will finance construction of a new junior high school, swimming pools in two junior high schools and renovation of the heating system in Grosse Pointe High School. The district embraces the five Grosse Pointe communities and a small area in adjacent Harper Woods.

National Guard Officer Retires After 35 Years

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP — Retiring this month from the Michigan National Guard after 35 years of active service is Col. Robert D. Cameron, Northwestern Highway.

* * *

A member of Lansing and Detroit headquarters, Col. Cameron has served in four Michigan artillery organizations beginning his service as a private in the 31st Michigan Infantry in Detroit upon enlistment in 1917.

He began his climb through commissioned ranks in 1928 and steadily progressed to the rank of colonel.

As a civilian he has conducted a landscaping business for over 25 years and has been awarded several prize ribbons for his winning floral exhibits.

Cameron is also president of the newly organized Northwestern Civic Assn., composed of property owners between Eight Mile and Inkster on Northwestern.

Science Develops New Tablet:

Relieves Painful Monthly Cramps For 3 out of 4 Women Tested! Gives Greater Relief Than Aspirin!

Boston, Mass. (Special)—New promise of relief for women who suffer tortures of monthly cramps and nervous tension is found in an amazing new tablet . . . developed especially to relieve this female discomfort. It offers greater relief than aspirin during that distressing period each month!

Doctors report remarkable results. For 3 out of 4 women tested, pain and cramps were stopped or strikingly relieved. Even on the first day, many had no nagging headaches, no backaches or other functionally-caused distress . . . were also less jittery the trying week before their period!

The new tablet contains not just one or two ingredients but a unique combination of special medicines. That's why this new discovery offers more relief than plain aspirin! Unlike such "general-purpose" remedies, it acts on the cause of distress. Has amazing power to calm uterine contractions, also works through a woman's sympathetic nervous system.

Called "Lydia Pinkham's Tablets," the formula was developed by the world's largest manufacturer devoted exclusively to relief of women's ailments! Easy-to-take new Pinkham's Tablets are now available at all drug stores without a prescription.

So don't suffer needlessly. Take Pinkham's Tablets yourself. See if you don't feel worlds better this very month. See if you don't escape much of the irritability and discomfort—both before and during those "difficult days." (For liquid form . . . ask for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.)

Mothers to Ask for Polio Funds

Door-to-Door Campaign Tomorrow Night to End Dimes Drive

An "army" of mothers will converge on homes in Pontiac and most of Oakland County communities tomorrow night as the Mothers' March on polio climaxes the March of Dimes fund campaign.

Residents wishing to donate have been asked to turn on their porch lights between 7 and 8 p.m. as a signal to the mothers and their helpers.

Funds collected will be used to aid 62,000 polio patients and thousands more who will be struck down with the crippling disease in 1956, as well as in research for vaccines to prevent polio.

The women collectors will have police protection, Mrs. Stanley Watson, general chairman in Pontiac, said. National guardsmen and Junior Chamber of Commerce members will patrol dark areas and help with the collection.

Following the march, guardsmen will collect the money from captains of some 30 Pontiac districts and take it directly to a local bank.

Similar provisions to safeguard collections have been arranged throughout the county.

In South Lyon, the march will be held a day later, from 7-8 p.m. Friday.

DO-IT-YOURSELF MOTOR SLED — This motorized sled is the pride of Joe Zagony and his nine-year-old son, Stevie. Zagony, of suburban Cleveland, Ohio, rigged up the contraption after two years of experimenting for "something that would be fun for Stevie and me in the winter." It's an eight-foot sled propelled by a motor-driven rear wheel. The sled will whiz along at 30 m. p. h. Zagony says the finished project cost him $200.

Hollywood Headlines:

Barbara Stanwyck Stars in 2 Forthcoming Movies

By LUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — There's one actress in this town who never has to worry five minutes about where her next acting job is coming from. She's got offers piled mountains high. I'm speaking of Barbara Stanwyck, who prefers work to anything in the world.

She will no more than finish "All Our Yesterdays" with Jimmy Cagney at MGM when she reports to Bob Goldstein to star in "Love Story," a United Artists release.

The 20 million fans of George Reeves, who has been "Superman" on TV for the past five years, will be pleased to hear he's coming back to the motion pictures.

George was sunning himself at Palm Springs when producer Bill Walsh learned that an important actor had to beg out of "Westward Ho, the Wagons" because of a previous commitment.

Walsh happened to run into George and signed him for this important role of the captain of the wagon train.

This will be Reeves' first movie since he played in "From Here to Eternity"

IN DAD'S FOOTSTEPS

My young neighbor, Bob Young's 10-year-old daughter Kathy, turned pro by making her acting debut in one of Bob's "Father Knows Best" TV show for Screen Gems.

Bob says he's afraid Kathy's debut will spark another career in the family. When his 12-year-old daughter Betty Lou saw Kathy's check for $20 she cracked, 'Hmmm, I may try this racket myself."

If 20th could get Rock Hudson, to play opposite Marilyn Monroe in "Bus Stop" everyone at the studio would be happy. But IU won't lend their golden boy. They claim they need him at their own studio. He's money at the boxoffice.

Of course, it won't hurt Rock any to co-star with Marilyn. Might even enhance his value.

Maybe UI will relent and make a trade. A definite offer has been made for Rock, who is in Mexico with his bride.

NEW YORK BOUND

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Pilar Palette Wayne has talked her doctor into allowing her to meet Duke in New York when he arrives from Europe Feb. 4. The baby is due the first week in April.

June Allyson nearly choked to death on a fishbone caught in her throat at the Oyster House. After a pounding on the back by Dick Powell and many crusts of bread, she finally coughed it up.

Brad Dexter has been cutting in on Charles Simonelli's time by dating Cleo Moore.

Errol Flynn has a reservation at the plush remodeled Garden of Allah, where he'll live when he comes back here.

Jean Louis, Columbia designer, has made Kim Novak six snazzy new outfits which go with her on her personal appearance tour.

Robert Dix, son of the late actor, Richard Dix, goes to New York for six months to study at the Actors Studio. Very sensible.

Grace Kelly's black French poodle, called the Black Prince, makes his screen debut in "High Society" with her.

Former child actress Daria Massey marries David N. Carr, of the General Petroleum legal department, Feb. 11. She was in "The Miracle of Fatima" and on the Stu Erwin-June Collyer telecasts.

Jean Kerr, coauthor of "King of Hearts," has been called in by Brisson, Griffith and Prince to adapt Cleveland Amory's original story, "The Last Resorts."

Took Only the Best

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Drilling through the walls of an adjacent rest room, burglars yesterday looted the Plaza Jewelers of an estimated $100,000 in gems and watches. The thieves took only the best gems, clips, ear rings and gem-studded watches from the display trays. They also worked the safe combination to remove $2,500 in cash.

Bill Is Strictly Kosher

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) —A bill introduced to the State Legislature yesterday by Rep. Morris Weintraub (D-Newport) would make it illegal for merchants to label as kosher any meat or other food not meeting Orthodox Jewish standards. Kosher is the word designating foods prepared according to Jewish religious specifications.

Juvenile Judge Defends Modern-Day Youngsters

LOS ANGELES (AP) — There is nothing wrong with most kids today that a little more stable home life can't cure, says a judge who has handled more than 100,000 children in the last five years.

• • •

Two thirds of all the children who have come before him were from homes where there was only one parent, Superior Judge William B. McKesson found.

NO SINGLE CURE

While admitting that "there's no single cause and no single cure" for delinquency, Judge McKesson said one of the lines he has heard most frequently from children is: "I never see my mother and father together."

• • •

If there is an attitude of solidarity in the home, especially around the dinner table, the chances are stronger, McKesson believes, that children will be more likely to develop a sense of responsibility and not join a gang of kids out hunting excitement—and occasionally trouble.

NO WORSE THAN

"The kids of 1956 are no worse than those of 1906 or 1856," the judge said in an interview. "They just have more machinery for getting into trouble today."

Judge McKesson, who is shifting to the civil bench after his long period in Juvenile Court, feels the situation has improved in Los Angeles.

• • •

"We're holding our own," he said. "We show an increase in juvenile arrests, but percentagewise we are well off because the juvenile population has increased much more."

Israel, Egypt Accept Plan

3-Point Peace Proposal of Hammarskjold to Be Followed by Nations

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel and Egypt have accepted a three-point U. N. peace plan for the disputed El Auja demilitarized zone.

The U. N. Palestine truce supervision organization announced the agreement after Secretary Dag Hammarskjold conferred here and in Cairo with leaders of both nations.

• • •

Hammarskjold had proposed the plan originally last Nov. 3, after Israeli and Egyptian forces clashed in the Negev Desert area along the Israeli-Egyptian border.

Under the plan (1) Egypt will let the truce group put demarcation lines wherever the U. N. men think necessary, (2) Egypt will withdraw any "minor encroachments which might still remain in the zone, and (3) Israel will remove all her military forces, obstacles and mines from the zone.

Hammarskjold's proposals were worked out after talks with the Western Big Three and Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns of Canada, the chief truce supervisor.

Hammarskjold, who is making a world tour, told a news conference here yesterday he still believes a general Palestine settlement can be reached.

The El Auja zone is about 95 square miles and stretches for about 20 miles. Both sides have made strong territorial claims within the area.

Takes Top Billing

NEW YORK (AP) — Susan Strasberg, 17, is Broadway's newest and youngest star. Because of the acclaim she has received in the title role of "The Diary of Anne Frank," producer Kermit Bloomgarden yesterday gave her billing above the title of the play.

'Hat Passing' Outlawed

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—The Lincoln school board today clamped down on "passing the hat" by school children and teachers. The board said it "feared undesirable conditions" among youngsters. It ruled collecting money for gifts for school personnel either in or out of school is taboo. Exceptions may be made in cases of serious illness, misfortune or special honor.

Africa—The Awakening Continent

Americans Should Help Natives to Help Themselves

How does the average African view America? Rep. Frances P. Bolton outlines her views in this last of three articles based on her recent 30,000-mile official congressional survey tour.

By REP. F. P. BOLTON (R-Ohio)

In Nigeria, the most popular motion pictures are the films of President Eisenhower's news conferences.

• • •

I learned people come for miles to marvel at a film where "the king of the United States answers questions from anybody."

To them, this is indeed a miracle, a demonstration of democracy. It is probably one of the reasons for the friendliness toward Americans that I encountered everywhere on my three-months trip throughout this vast dark continent.

Africans everywhere were curious to know what an American woman looked like, and what an American member of Congress looked like.

CAMERA STOLEN

It was news, of course, that some light-fingered fellow made off with my precious movie camera in the Kivu and that we were charged by an angry bull elephant in the Congo. But the real drama of my trip was the human contacts I had with an extraordinarily friendly people.

What do they expect from us? Just about everything — and that is where we could make a terrible mistake. I am not particularly keen on overdoing what we call "Foreign Aid." For one thing, it is very much misunderstood. We should never pauperize anybody; rather we should make it possible for people to help themselves.

It will not be easy for Africans to adapt to the ways of modern civilization, although they may want to. Everywhere one finds ancient customs and superstitions, acute problems of disease and the lethargy of the tropics, appalling illiteracy and the most primitive standards of bare existence. But one also finds smiles and gaiety.

All of these factors make it all the more important that whatever we Americans do we must be positive, be constructive. Of course, we shall want to give assistance, wherever it is wanted, and try to increase trade and help in development programs — particularly in the fields of education, health and welfare. But even these are not easy to give.

LONG TERM HELP

It is true educational efforts sponsored by Americans present some difficulties in Africa because the French, British, Portuguese and Belgians have their own programs with which one cannot and should not interfere.

But there are many possibilities for some of our big foundations as well as industries, and even the government could help some of these nations with long-term, low interest loans. Whenever possible, these programs should be joint efforts to help the people help themselves.

In many places, a 50-bed hospital could do a tremendous amount of good. In Khartoum, capital of the Sudan, I found hospital morale had been lifted immeasurably when the staff obtained materials to plug up rat-holes and paint part of the building. Paint itself is a good morale builder, and many of these natives are following such examples and are starting to clean up.

KNOW THE CUSTOMS

The traditional rivalry between the various tribal groups has been turned into a good, healthy competition for increased production — and the more a worker produces, the higher his pay and the higher his standard of living.

No one should go out to Africa for any purpose without thorough and careful instruction and training. He must realize the need for understanding customs and conditions in Africa, and get extensive training before going out on the job.

By and large, our foreign service people are as dedicated a group as you can find anywhere. Some of them are living under terribly difficult conditions. They never once forget that they represent the U. S., difficult as conditions may get.

MOVIES DO GOOD JOB

In some places our information program is extremely good. Our information people have learned that they get nowhere showing these people the unattainable — such things as cars or all-modern bathrooms. The African wants to know what makes us tick — how the American looks, how things grow in America.

Motion pictures seem to be the best means of communication with these still-illiterate but alert people. The various European countries use different methods in their efforts to bring the natives into today's world. The Belgian effort is to give education to the masses — before they give them political responsibility.

They begin by teaching such fundamentals as the importance of nutrition, how to buy food, how to cook meals. This is of great importance in this continent of malnutrition.

I was told by some authorities that it is a mistake to bring too many students from Africa for education in the United States. Too many of them, once out of their own environment, do not want to return home, and so their training is lost to the others they might have taught.

It is important, of course, to bring medical students to the U. S. for advanced technical training. But even in this field I was told that training in England is preferred to that in America because of our emphasis on specialized training in our big, modern hospitals. What the African doctor needs is the country-doctor approach.

The African will not need to experience all the stages through which we others have come to reach the era of jet planes and fission, but today he stands at the crossroads, facing the danger of having lost his past life without having reached a safe road to a better future.

• • •

Surely some assistance and understanding is his due.

YAM CHAMP — Meet "His Majesty" Cliff Saverance, world's champion yam grower. The 15-year-old Lamar, S.C., farm boy grew 398 bushels of sweet potatoes on a single acre, at a profit of $1000.72. He was crowned in New York City after winning a better-farming, better-food contest sponsored by a food-store chain. He and nine other winners were treated to a four-day tour of Washington, D.C., and New York City.

Prepare Yourself for Retirement

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"Our firm retires everybody at 60," a career woman writes, "and yet they do nothing about helping us prepare for the change.

"They just give us a big dinner and a present and then there we are. It hasn't happened to me yet, I'm now 54, but it happened to one of my best friends a month ago.

"She used to be so peppy and young-looking, even if she was 60. But now she looks old and unhappy. Her pension and other things give her enough to live on—I must say, the company is good that way—but she has nothing to live for, so what's the use?

When do you think companies will come to their senses and realize it's partly their responsibility to help employes prepare for retirement?"

* * *

That's a big question, but there are several things to remember.

A NEW THING

It's a relatively new thing, this increased health and longevity. Not so many years ago, 60 was pretty old.

Most people of that age didn't want to work or hadn't the health and energy to do so. Some companies are doing more about it than others, but none of them has had much time to get organized and know what to do.

Then, too, most people are not like this woman.. Most people refuse to think about retirement until it's practically on top of them.

I know one wonderful small company which decided to start a five-year plan in preparation for retirement.

* * *

They installed a good counselor, mapping out vocational tests and counsel, receiving recommendations for courses they could take and volunteer work they could begin now, while they still had time.

OFFER NEGLECTED

This service was available to all people 55 or older; the firm retired people at 60. Only 3 per cent of the people took advantage of the offer!

They wouldn't be bothered giving any thought to retirement until after it happened.

This woman and people like her had better realize that there's a great deal they can do, themselves, to prepare for retirement.

Their local universities and civic groups most likely are doing something now and they can join in.

Sometimes I think we're too dependent on our employers, too anxious to have them "take care" of us in every area. A little independent thought and action is, I think, indicated!

Republican Women Hear Speech by Committeeman

Clifford O'Sullivan, national committeeman from Michigan, addressed members of the Pontiac Republican Women's Club gathering at the YWCA.

The speaker based his talk on the fact that no matter how big or small your rank might be, you still have a job to do. He praised President Eisenhower for his outstanding work and commended the people working with the President.

Mr. Sullivan reminded his listeners that they should not let their minds be imbedded with fear, but should seek the truth first. "The wage earner is the chief benefactor in free enterprise," he remarked.

In closing, the speaker stated, "Only what you sow today will you reap tomorrow — seeds and deeds of kindness go a long way."

Mrs. Bert Norton of Rochester introduced the speaker and his daughter, Sheila, who accompanied him from Port Huron. Devotions were given by Mrs. Emma Pelican, and Mrs. Duncan McVean led the group in the pledge to the Flag.

Guests of the group were Mrs. Albert S. Keese of Grand Rapids, state president; Mrs. Peter Gibson of Monroe, past president, and Mrs. Rae Hooker of Mount Pleasant, national committeewoman.

Mrs. Kenneth Nichols and Mrs. Maude Place presided at the silver tea which followed the Monday meeting. Arranging the affair were Mrs. Pelican, Mrs. Clarence Senger, Mrs. William Kreklow and Mrs. Roy Fosbender.

Margaret Goes Almost Barefoot to 'Plain, Fancy'

LONDON (AP)—Onlookers gasped when Princess Margaret stepped from her car at the theater, but the Queen's pretty young sister hadn't quite come out in her stocking feet.

* * *

Margaret was shod in sandal soles, each held on by a string of pearls. The princess also wore a royal blue velvet dress with an ermine cape.

The occasion was a by-invitation-only preview last night of the American musical comedy "Plain and Fancy" at the Drury Lane Theater.

During the intermission the princess chatted with the stars, including visiting Americans Shirl Conway and Richard Derr.

There are four pages in today's Women's Section

Sorority Meets at Anable Home

Mrs. Wayne Anable was hostess to members of Omega Mu Sigma sorority in her home on First avenue Tuesday evening. Mrs. Donald Nelson assisted the hostess.

The group completed plans for a theater party to be held in February and a contribution was made to the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis.

Refreshments were served from the buffet table centered with a spring floral arrangement and matching tapers.

Group Hears Talk by Social Worker

Berner Hansen, psychiatric social worker at Pontiac State Hospital, spoke to members of the VFW 1008 Auxiliary when they met at the American Legion Home Monday.

Mr. Hansen talked on the children's program at the hospital. He told of its beginning, how it has grown and the benefits received by children treated there.

Mrs. Paul Boelter was hostess to the group.

Patient in Hospital

Philip L. Lake of Arcadia court is a patient at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Southland Lures Chilled Area Folk

Among the Pontiac area residents already enjoying a midwinter vacation in the sunny Southland are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kinsey of Wards Point who are spending some time on Treasure Island at Nokomis, Fla.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Royal of Motorway drive are spending the balance of the winter months at their winter home in Nokomis. Later, Mr. and Mrs. John Meddaugh of Motorway drive will join them on a Caribbean cruise.

* * *

Mrs. Vedal Pasher of Birmingham has been in Venice, Fla., at her winter home for several weeks. Her sister, Mrs. Frances Palmer, has been her guest this month, and on Sunday Mr. Pasher arrived.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn E. Tripp of Voorheis road are en route to Las Vegas, Nev. where they will spend a week before traveling to Arcadia, Calif. While there they will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Gill, former Pontiac residents. Before returning home they plan to tour southern California.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kimball and children, Margaret and Ralph, are leaving this weekend for Arizona. They will visit Mrs. Kimball's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Lovrien, in Temple, Ariz., and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Menzies and family of Scottsdale, Ariz.

* * *

A three-week vacation in St. Petersburg, Fla., was enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stack of Briscoe boulevard. They returned to their home over the weekend.

* * *

John LaMonte, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles LaMonte of West Iroquois road, was recently elected sergeant-at-arms of the Century Forum Society at Kalamazoo College. The Century Forum is one of the three men's societies on the Kalamazoo campus.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. William Avenall (nee Doris Allen) of Orchid drive are parents of a son, William Dean, born Jan. 20 at Pontiac General Hospital.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Allen of Metamora and Mr. and Mrs. William Avenall of Oxford.

Firm Sponsoring Sewing Competition

A sewing contest is now being offered by the Singer Sewing Machine Co. Prizes include cash and merchandise. In addition, the winner from each of the 23 regions will travel to New York for the final judging.

An essay contest is also being offered, with cash and merchandise prizes. Contest particulars can be obtained by contacting the local Singer Sewing Center.

Mary E. Jones Becomes Mrs. Louis M. Graham

Mary Ellen Jones, daughter of Mrs. Ethel H. Jones of Monroe street, and Louis H. Graham, son of Mrs. Gladys Forbes of Airway drive, exchanged nuptial vows Saturday.

• • •

The Rev. Norman E. Thomas performed the 4 o'clock ceremony in the presence of the immediate families in St. Michael Church rectory.

For her wedding the bride chose a white satin brocade tailored dress with a matching hat and black accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Jeannine Samson attended the bride. Her costume was of beige jersey with matching accessories and she also wore a corsage of carnations.

Edward Graham served his brother as best man.

A wedding dinner was served at Devon Gables following the ceremony. The newlyweds are making their home on Airway drive.

Cottons are Fashion Keynote for British

LONDON (INS) — Britain's top dress designers and manufacturers have already decided what milady will be wearing next summer —cottons, gay and striped.

• • •

Tunics will still be tops for town wear and the sheath dress and skirt that swirls from the hips will again be popular.

Necklines are rounded or draped into deep V's and sleeves are practically nonexistent.

• • •

Spring suits and coats, say the experts, go casual with unaccented shoulders and very little front fastenings.

Textured, golden jewelry gets the added lure of fake topazes, rubies, emeralds sapphires, amethysts this fall. Makes for a mysterious, Far Eastern look.

Dry Those Tears, Start Accepting Dates

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: When I first met him, I didn't like him. But I found out he had said I was cute, and from then on I liked him terribly.

"A month ago I found out that he didn't like me any more. He's going into the service and I'd like to write to him, but I'm scared to tell him so.

"All I do is cry over him, and all my friends tell me to forget him—but that's easier said than done. He said I'm too young for him (he's 18 and I'm 16), but I don't believe it.

"Lots of other boys want me to go out with them on dates, but I refuse because of him. Please tell me what to do."

Answer: A girl can get herself into a peck of trouble if she falls headlong for every boy who thinks she's cute. It's taking very seriously a very pleasant but idle remark. How idle you should know all too well.

The remark obviously had no followup. It didn't lead to dates, nor to the establishing of any real relationship between you. He has said you were too young for him. And that explains why nothing more than a terrific crush has happened to you.

It's really not worth crying over. It's not worth passing up other dates, either. It's not worth straining a point and trying to pursue him into the service with letters that won't mean a thing to him.

A very tough talk to yourself may convince you that you got your hopes confused with facts. And will help you to smile at yourself, shrug it off, and get busy going out with boys who think you're just what the doctor ordered.

"Dear Miss Woodward: A couple of weeks ago we had a big dance, and, though I went stag with a few girls, my boy friend was there.

"He had said he wouldn't dance with anyone but me, but as it turned out he danced with every girl he knew though he did dance with me a lot. Should I be jealous?

"When the last dance came, he danced with me and held me very close, but when he saw his friends he hailed them very loud (I thought).

"It embarrassed me in a way. I'd like to tell him so, but I'm afraid he'd be ashamed or get mad at me. Shoul dI tell him, or let it ride?"

Answer: A smart girl keeps her hurts, her jealousies and her embarrassments to herself. Letting them explode into words just makes a scene, and causes more awkwardness and hurt.

It's all over and done with now, anyway. It's too late to be jealous. Too late to tell him he made you feel conspicuous.

Raking it all over now would just make matters worse. Skip it. It's not worth getting into a stew about.

Orange Loaf With Raisins Keeps Well

Mrs. Fox Glazes Warm Baked Cake with Sugar Mixture

By JANET ODELL

Raisins and oranges in a cake make it taste delicious and keep very well. Mrs. A. H. Fox shares her recipe for this unusual cake, sure that anyone who tries it will like it.

Mrs. Fox is a homebody, she says, and is happy with cooking and sewing to fill her days. In the summer she does some gardening and takes her turn with the lawn mower.

ORANGE CAKE

Mrs A. H. Fox

½ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ cup sugar
1 cup raisins
1 cup sour milk
2 eggs
2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 orange
1 teaspoon soda

Cream shortening and 1 cup sugar. Add eggs and beat well. Sift dry ingredients except soda together. Add juice of the orange to the half cup of sugar, stir well and set aside.

Grind rind and pulp of orange with raisins. Add sifted dry ingredients to creamed mixture alternately with sour milk to which soda has been added. Add orange and raisins.

Pour into a greased tube pan. Bake 1¼ hours in a 300-degree oven. Remove from oven and while still warm pour over orange juice and sugar mixture. This cake keeps well.

Avoid Dry Skin by Warm Bath

Cold weather is responsible for considerably more than the shivers. It makes skin dry and dry skin is inclined to itch, so many of us itch as well as shiver. Unfortunately, adding layers of sweaters, even red woolies, will warm you up but won't relieve the urge to scratch. Many believe that a bath helps.

• • •

This remedy is only half right. Doctors prescribe a warm tub, but they suggest you add a half-pound of baking soda and that you simply lie in the tub, relax and forget about rubbing and scrubbing until the weather turns warmer.

Soda is also a mild alkali, and you'll be getting a treatment right in your own tub similar to those afforded by the world-famous spas. When you step out of your bath, don't rub yourself dry with a towel . . . pat gently, and don't powder yourself as powder has a drying effect.

Patricia Ann Humphreys and Richard F. McLeod were married Saturday in St. Vincent de Paul Church. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis W. Humphreys of Whittemore street, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil E. McLeod of Whittemore street.

MR. and MRS. RICHARD McLEOD

Patricia Ann Humphreys Wears Lace, Tulle Gown

A gown of Chantilly lace over tulle was worn by Patricia Ann Humphreys when she became the bride of Richard F. McLeod.

The couple was married Saturday in a 10 o'clock ceremony in St. Vincent de Paul Church. The Rev. Maurice Veryser celebrated the Nuptial Mass in the presence of 200 guests.

The bride's floor-length gown featured a fitted bodice of Chantilly lace with a portrait neckline and a skirt of bridal satin. Her veil of imported hand-rolled illusion was secured by a double crown of seed pearls and iridescent sequins.

The bridal bouquet of orchids and carnations was on a white pearl prayerbook, a gift of the bridegroom.

Beverly Humphreys was her sister's maid of honor. Her gown was of blue crystallette with a portrait neckline and cap sleeves. The skirt was accented by back pleating. She carried a cascade arrangement of pink carnations.

OTHER ATTENDANTS

Mariene Daly and Merle Federico served as bridemaids wearing dresses similar to the maid of honor's in a pink shade. Their flowers were blue carnations. Susan Marie Humphreys, niece of the bride, wore pink crystallette for her duties as flower girl.

• • •

Lawrence McLeod was his brother's best man. Richard Humphreys and Albert Ellcey were ushers.

A wedding breakfast was served at Hotel Waldron for members of the wedding party and the immediate families.

For the afternoon reception held at the League of Catholic Women, Mrs Humphreys wore a dusty mauve sheath dress with black accessories. Mrs. McLeod wore a pink lace dress with matching accessories. Their flowers were white carnations and pink roses.

• • •

The new Mrs. McLeod changed to a beige suit with brown accessories and wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet when the newlyweds left on their honeymoon trip to northern Michigan. On their return they will reside on Tasmania avenue.

Wise Decoration Plan Offered for Apartments

MIAMI (INS)—Decorator Henry End, member of the American Institute of Decorators, suggests the following for women decorating their own apartments:

(1) Draw a room floor plan, indicating doors, windows, etc.

(2) Make scaled-down paper cutouts to represent furniture—one color for old furniture, a second for new pieces.

(3) Use as few colors as possible—if room is small, blend walls with carpet, tie in draperies with color scheme.

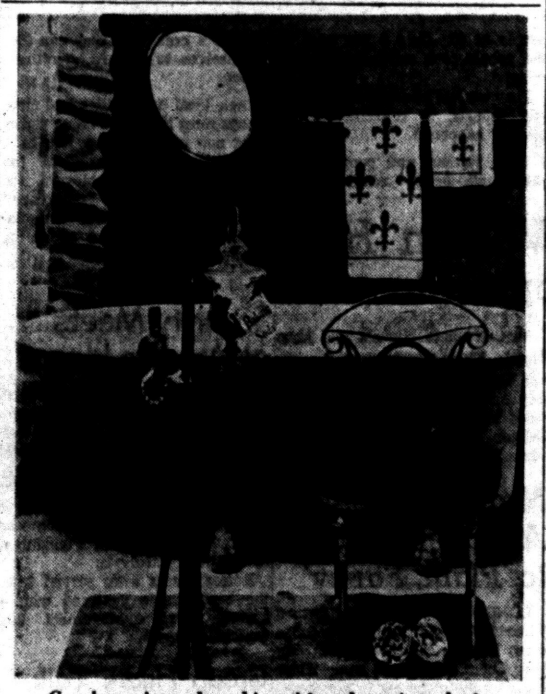

(4) Vertical lines, vertically linear wallpaper, striped draperies or a tall, narrow mirror over a bedroom dresser will heighten a low ceiling.

(5) Small rooms look larger by the use of horizontal lines—wall to wall carpeting, draperies that extend past the windows and perhaps wall to wall, long seating units, such as sectionals that cover the entire wall, or else turn a corner.

A Versatile Woman Can Discover Answer

LONDON (INS) — How can a girl dress properly for a cocktail party if her escort calls for her on a motor scooter?

In London, where this sometimes happens, a designer has come up with a "scooter skirt." It has zippers in front and at the back which convert it quickly from a divided skirt for scooter riding into a skirt elegant enough to wear to a party.

Combat winter-dry skin with a luxurious bath . . . a tubful of warm water plus a half-pound of baking soda. Since the soda is a mild detergent, you come fresh and clean without rubbing and scrubbing, which only irritates already tender skin.

Guest Irked at Receiving Special Dish

Feels Whole Meal Should Have Been Salt Free

By EMILY POST

Today's first letter tells me: "The other evening my husband and I were invited to a relative's house for dinner. This relative knows that I am on a salt-free diet but in spite of this all the food was brought to the table seasoned.

"I was handed a plate already prepared with two slices of meat and two vegetables on it and was told that it was prepared specially for me without salt. There were other guests at table and I was made to feel very conspicuous by being served a special plate.

"Wouldn't it have been better to leave all the food unsalted and let each guest salt his (or her) own food to taste, under the circumstances?"

Answer: I am sorry to have to tell you that your hostess was correct. After all, you must realize that food cooked without salt does not taste its best when the salt is added at the table.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My fiance's parents are divorced and both have remarried. Since the divorce quite a few years ago my fiance has been living with his mother and stepfather, although he is very close to his father and sees him often.

"At our wedding, who should stand in the receiving line: His mother and stepfather, or should his own father be in the receiving line? What about the stepparents? Where do they stand?"

Answer: It will be most correct to have his mother alone receive with your mother. Your mother stands just inside the door and his mother next to her.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Our family has had a discussion about jewelry for small children, and we would appreicate your telling us whether or not it is in good taste to put jewelry (rings, bracelets, lockets) on young children."

Answer: A little locket on a simple chain is entirely correct. But any jewelry other than this should be avoided.

Parental 'No' Necessary to Child

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

At about 2½, John, tucked into bed after a hard day, will drowsily accept your goodnight kiss.

murmuring, "Now, John go sleep."

• • •

By this statement, he conveys more than a taste for slumber. By it, he also tells us that his own identity is still pretty vague to him. It's still so intermingled with ours that he gives himself the name we call him instead of presenting himself as "I."

Difference between him and the Mommy who have been so closely one is still unclear and blurred.

That is why Mommy's "No" of difference from him is so necessary to him — just as necessary as the "Yes" that conforms with him.

Just as John must have a "Yes" to unify us with him, so he must also have the good "No" that turns us into separate, different people.

By giving our kind but definite "No" to his wish to play with our sewing basket, we tell him that human beings are not identical. Thus, our "No" serves, the all-important function of preparing John to accept difference between himself and others — the attitude which protects all that we hold most precious in Western civilization.

FALSE PROPHETS

The "No" must be restored to parents. For their "Yes" of conformity sold them by false prophets of child training is producing children whose only concern is to lose themselves in conformity with the "crowd" — the "gang" — the "group."

If we parents don't recover from the terror of differing from children, we won't need any outside enemy to take us over.

Thank God, some genuine leaders in the field of child guidance have begun to warn us. One is Dr. Hilde Bruch, child psychiatrist and author of the book, "Don't Be Afraid of Your Child."

"If correctly understood," she writes, "there is no difference between discipline and love. Some kind of training, some kind of restraint is necessary for human development.

• • •

"It has often been misstated that if we only prevent children from feeling anxious or insecure at any time, they would be happy forever after. If it were possible to carry this demand into practice, one would raise creatures without awareness of human consideration and without the ability to control impulses.

"The trouble is that parents have been made afraid to use authority and discipline. What is needed is a father or mother who can say 'No' without going through an elaborate song and dance."

In other words, a father or mother who can differ from his child cheerfully and definitely because he knows that difference is his right.

To reside in Royal Oak are Mr. and Mrs. James Love. She is the former Jean B. Case, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Case of Belmont avenue. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Burl Tucker of Royal Oak.

MR. and MRS. JAMES LOVE

Jean Case Speaks Vows in Central Methodist Rite

Before an altar banked with baskets of white gladioli and palms, Jean Bernice Case became the bride of James Gaylord Love.

• • •

The ceremony was performed by Dr. Milton Bank in Central Methodist Church in the presence of 150 guests Saturday afternoon.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Case of Belmont avenue, and James is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Burl Tucker of Royal Oak.

As she approached the altar the bride was wearing a gown of slipper satin featuring a front paneling of Chantilly lace. The bouffant skirt ended in a cathedral train.

Her fingertip veil was secured by a crown of rhinestones and seed pearls, and her only jewelry was a set of pearl earrings. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and yellow roses.

ATTEND BRIDE

Beverly C. Silk, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Frances Case and Peggy Case, nieces of the bride and Mrs. Edward A. Case, were the other attendants. Jill Case served as flower girl.

• • •

They were gowned alike in orchid taffeta gowns fashioned with lavender cumberbunds. Their shoulder-length veils of lavender net were secured by bands of taffeta that matched their gowns. Each attendant carried a bouquet of orchid and white carnations.

Robert Leach performed the duties of best man. Seating the guests were Royal Olson Jr. and Max LaValley.

George Putnam sang the bridal recital accompanied by Mrs. W. H. Sink.

• • •

When Mrs. Case received her guests at the reception held in the church parlors immediately following the ceremony she was wearing a gown of rose lace over taffeta with navy blue accessories. Her corsage was of Talisman roses.

GOWNED IN BLUE

Mrs. Tucker chose a gown of light blue satin with which she wore black accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses.

• • •

Following a honeymoon trip in Canada, the newlyweds will make their home in Royal Oak.

Collarless, back swishing furs rather than forward movement seem to pull shoulders back and lengthen short neckline for those who have a "dowager's hump."

Jutting out front collar adds to stoop look but new back-buttoned or low swung back furs give shoulders sort of back pull. Dinner jackets, empire jackets and stoles make color coordinate with resort clothes.

Glittery Look Returning to 'Dress-Up' Fashions

The glittery look, often reserved for holidays only, is everywhere this year. Gold and silver shine on dresses, shoes, hats and gloves.

• • •

The Oriental influence, including woven metallic threads for the "cloth of gold" look, is a vibrant influence on dress-up fashions.

Fortunately, the golden touch is more practical than it used to be. Such fashions used to mean "wear 'em until they're dirty," then throw them out.

Some, notably the metallic threads of the '20s or thereabout, developed an awful odor with wear. Now, fabric makers have conquered these difficulties and the gold look is odorless and, best of all, much of it is washable.

Naturally, these fabrics that are marked washable don't go into the machine. They should be dipped in and out of suds, not rubbed, wrung or twisted.

• • •

They should be hung to drip dry. When dry, they should be pressed with a cool iron, with a sheet of clean tissue paper in between as a pressing cloth.

It is more essential than ever to save the washing instructions that come with these clothes. If, by chance, these tags are missing from some of the garments when you're buying, be sure to pick one that has a tag.

Many of the gold-touched cottons, cotton-acetates, nylons and other blends can be washed in the same manner as the unadorned fabric.

• • •

But gold-woven scarves, hostess aprons, over-skirts, blouses and dresses of the more fragile fabrics need the gentlest of washing.

One rule that applies to all glittery fashions is to wash quickly when they get soiled or the dirt will become ingrained.

Installation Conducted by Sorority

Mrs. Albert Kohn opened her home on Garland avenue to members of Alpha Sigma Nu sorority Monday evening.

Mrs. Andrew Mitchell, Eleana Bajari, Clarabelle Amidon and Mrs. Howard Looney assisted the hostess.

Mrs. J. K. Helvey presided at the installation of the newly elected officers. Installed were Margaret Waters, president; Mrs. Arthur Dahl, vice president; Mrs. Looney, secretary; Mrs. T. Price Robertson, treasurer, and Miss Bajari, historian.

Committee members announced by the president are Mrs. B. H. Ogden, Eva Baylis and Mrs. Fred Ellicott, social service; Mrs. William Looney, Mrs. Russell Evans and Mrs. Park Smith, membership; Mrs. Daniel Hackett and Mrs. H. L. MacLaughlin, telephone.

Serving on the publicity committee are Mrs. Guy Donnell and Mrs. W. T. Huntley. Mrs. Albert Kohn and Miss Bajari will serve on the ways and means committee and Miss Amidon, flowers and gifts committee.

Mrs. Ogden was appointed to represent the sorority at the Pontiac Foundation's annual meeting.

Peel Cane Furniture From Orient Shown

CHICAGO (INS)—Peacock chairs and other fancy peel cane furniture pieces from the Orient are being dressed up in decorator colors for modern homes.

For the first time this furniture was shown at the recent Furniture Market in Chicago in more than the natural shade.

Chairs, cocktail tables and even headboards for beds were being offered in white, turquoise, salmon and pink.

These colors, lacquered on the lacy filigree patterns, generally cost about 10 per cent more than the natural.

Teenage Wear Will Be Brighter

NEW YORK (INS)—Young fashion will be a pinwheel of bright color next spring. Color, according to Betty Carol, who designs for the young set, will high-light the new excitement of the figure-molding dress with its high bosom and long narrow waist.

Miss Carol predicts we will still see full skirts, but they will not be demure or girlish.

Young wardrobes will contain only costumes, from the minimum one to four or five. Miss Carol also says the dress and coat will lead in popularity and the slenderized dress will have its little "extra"—a capelet, a jacket, or a coat.

More About Hair Color
This spring you can really let your fancies turn to a lovely new shade for your hair. For this spring there are lovely shades for all. In the past, hair coloring has been an unlovely daughter in the cosmetic family, but now she is claiming her rightful place of prominence. In attractive hair, color is no more artificial than a permanent wave and can improve the appearance as much, if not more, than the fully accepted permanent curl. One reason for the unpopularity of artificial hair color has been the limited results obtainable, but science is now making important strides and many new beautiful hair shades have been developed. In the not too distant future we predict that women will choose their hair color like they do their hair curl, that is, the one that is the most attractive on them.

Asked to Create Wedding Gown

Designer Plans 'Full Treatment' for Grace

By EMILY BELSER

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Grace Kelly has asked film designer Helen Rose to create the fabulous gown she will wear when she weds Prince Rainier III of Monaco, but Miss Rose said today she doesn't have any idea what the gown will be like.

• • •

"Grace just asked me about it yesterday and we're both so busy working on her new film that we haven't had time to discuss the details."

The famed designer, who has created real-life wedding gowns for Debbie Reynolds, Arlene Dahl, Jane Powell, Ann Blyth, Pier Angeli and other screen beauties, says she hopes she'll be able to give Grace's gown "the full treatment."

"Grace wears clothes just like a dream," she enthused, "I know she'll look beautiful."

• • •

Helen said she always "warns" her feminine stars that she won't design more than two wedding gowns for them.

"Two is my limit," she laughed. "I tell them they'd better hold on to the second husband because if they don't they'll never get another wedding dress from me!"

NOT FOR GRACE

Helen added that she didn't think it will be necessary to hand out this type of advice to the beautiful, blonde Grace.

• • •

"I think this marriage is for keeps," she said. "Grace is the kind of girl who makes up her mind and sticks to it."

The dark-haired designer said the most elaborate gown she ever created was for Miss Blyth and the most elegant was for Miss Angeli.

Grace will wear another wedding gown designed by Miss Rose, but it will be a short one for the film, "High Society."

• • •

She'll don the dress—a white organza, short skirted, embroidered creation—when she "marries" Bing Crosby, one of her co-stars in the film.

NO TRAIN, VEIL

The gown will have neither a train nor a veil—extremely unlike the elaborate outfit she'll wear when she weds the prince.

• • •

Miss Kelly is scheduled to finish shooting "High Society" (the story of a rich Philadelphia family) on March 7. She will then return to Philadelphia to get ready for her marriage to Prince Rainier in Monaco "sometime in April."

AP Wirephoto

Actress Grace Kelly (right) and MGM designer Helen Rose are pictured checking a sketch for one of the star's costumes in the movie, "High Society." Miss Kelly has chosen Miss Rose, one of Hollywood's foremost designers, to create the wedding gown for her wedding to Prince Rainier III of Monaco. Miss Rose also designed the clothes the actress wears in "The Swan."

MR. and MRS. ROBERT BELL

Barbara Ellen Davis became the bride of Robert Bell Saturday evening in Oakland Park Methodist Church. She is the daughter of Mrs. Chester Skiba of East Montcalm street and William G. Davis of Oxbow Lake. He is the son of the Herman Bells of Beachland avenue.

Barbara Davis Becomes Bride in Methodist Rite

At a ceremony performed Saturday evening in Oakland Park Methodist Church, Barbara Ellen Davis became the bride of Robert Deland Bell. The Rev. James Deeg read the 7 o'clock ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Chester Skiba of East Montcalm street and William G. Davis of Oxbow Lake. Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bell of Beechland avenue.

A waist-length gown of chantilly lace fashioned in princess lines was worn by the bride. A half crown of lace secured her fingertip veil of illusion. She carried an arrangement of white chrysanthemums and shattered carnations.

Kay Bell, sister of the bridegroom, was the bride's only attendant. Her gown was of beige lace with which she wore fuchsia accessories. She carried an arrangement of fuchsia chrysanthemums and carnations.

Mrs. Skiba chose a cocoa brown silk dress and beige accessories for her daughter's wedding. Her corsage was of orange Hibbard roses.

Mrs. Bell wore a navy crepe dress with pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

A buffet supper was served at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony.

The newlyweds will make their home on Whittemore street following a honeymoon in northern Michigan.

Women Are Particular About Gloves

Some women now grown who were brought up in a more formal age would just as soon go out of the house without their dresses as go gloveless.

But what gloves! There seems to be a tendency among women who observe the letter, rather than the spirit, of the nicety, to consider any piece of rumpled rag that was once a glove as being better than nothing.

It's not. Better bare hands than the gardening gloves some women frantically seek out before opening the front door. At least the hands are clean.

Gloves should be stored and maintained with care if they are going to speak of their owners as ladies. They should be washed, cleaned or replaced, if necessary.

If they're white, they should be really white. Fingernails should not be poking through the ends of the fingers.

Dress gloves shouldn't be used for driving the car and vice versa, for the black palms and clenched fingers that the grip of a steering wheel produces are nothing anyone wants to shake.

Leather gloves should be stored flat in plastic or otherwise non-oil-absorbing cases. All gloves should be cleaned, washed or thrown into the housecleaning bin before the fingers take on a curl of their own.

Mrs. Parshall Presents Polio Film for BPW Club

Mrs. Ruth W. Parshall, executive secretary of the Oakland County Chapter of National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, presented a movie, "Remember Me," at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Pontiac Business and Professional Women's Club.

• • •

In speaking of the activities of the National Foundation, Mrs. Parshall stated that even though Salk vaccine is effective, there are 68,000 people in the United States who receive treatment provided by the foundation.

Arranging the program for the dinner meeting held in Hotel Waldron were members of the health and safety committee, Frances King, Dr. Joyce Carrow, Mrs. Kenneth Cavender and Grace Mills.

Final plans were announced by Nora Day for the district meeting to be held at Hillcrest Golf and Country Club in Mount Clemens on Feb. 5.

• • •

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Hazel McGirr, Mrs. Harry Randall, Mary Paull, Mrs. Ella Sheffield and Mrs. Ross Boyd.

Mrs. Frank Coad, Mrs. Harry Whittaker and Mrs. Evelyn Copeland were guests of the group.

Fur Sun Suits Feature Italian Fashion Show

ROME (INS) — Fur sun suits, hemp pants and beach sandals with heels as thin as soda straws topped the sensational designs shown today by Italian boutique accessory makers.

The collective showing featured one entire sports line made of sheared, pastel-dyed baby lamb. The fur clothes, by Bertoletti, had bikini sunsuits, shorts and even smocks of lamb.

Designer Umberto tried hemp instead of fur. Vests and tapered pants in heavy hemp were crusted with embroidery. Umberto also showed cowled monks robes and jackets cut like a coat of mail.

The Fontana sisters put accessory emphasis on the feet, with fantastic new heels fully five inches high which were no thicker than soda straws. The sandals atop these heels stayed on thanks to straps the size of a shoetring. The effect was that of a heeled foot with wings—because the Fontana sisters added little mercury-like wings to toe and heel.

Really Reversible

One of the most popular sweaters is the versatile reversible, incorporating the new bold colors which are gaining high fashion prominence. A typical example is the reversible sweater with a deep solid shade on one side, and one of the new bright colors (such as flame red, rust, yellow, sky blue) on the other. This style is particularly valuable to the male air traveler whose amount of baggage is strictly limited.

Says Untidy Hair-Do Means Little Brains

LONDON (INS)—A British expert warns that a woman's brains may be judged by the appearance of her hair.

Frank Grein, Master of the Incorporated Guild of Hairdressers, Wigmakers and Perfumers, gave this tip at the annual conference of the Guild.

Grein said:

"In my works I find that the hardest and most efficient workers have the tidiest hair and the tidiest clothes. Untidy hair is a sign of an unintelligent woman."

Scoop Chairs Now Aluminum

CHICAGO (INS) — Someday you may have modern scoop chairs and chaises molded from aluminum instead of plastic.

• • •

A manufacturer of lawn furniture showed two such models at the recent Summer Furniture Market in Chicago.

However, both were experimental—in other words they won't be on sale for the time being.

A spokesman explained that the process of molding the sheet aluminum into sitting and lounging shapes still must be "ironed out."

The chair the firm exhibited looked like a metal version of the famed Charles Eames chair in plastic.

• • •

Both the chair and the chaise were covered with orange colored plastic slipcovers, padded with foam rubber.

Wool Sweater Able

One of the reasons for the wool sweater's enduring success is its ability to absorb quickly the outside influences and trends that continue to stimulate interest in men's clothes. The Continental look and the trend toward lighter, brighter colors are two of the most important of these influences.

Shamrocks Down Rival Rams, 44-39

THAT'S MY BALL — Dick Doyon (7) of St. Freds grabs a rebound amidst four St. Mike players in their crosstown rivalry played last night at Pontiac High School. Behind Doyon is Mike's Bill Hall, with Chuck Brown (11) and John Keller (4) both of St. Mikes on the right. In background is Mike Malloy (8) of Freds. The Shamrocks won the game 44-39.

Mid-semester layoff is taking its toll at many of the high schools in the area. Avondale loses junior Fred Hyten from its basketball team because of scholastic difficulties. At Madison, injuries and mid-term graduation will hurt the Eagles.

Captain Paul Jesswein, who was not permitted to play football for fear of injury, is lost to Madison for the season with a broken shoulder he suffered while tobogganing up north. Jim Myers, a regular, will also play his last game for Madison Friday against Lake Orion.

Art Bromley at Royal Oak played his last game against Fordson last Friday.

Washington Junior High School's basketball team is compiling a tremendous record on the hardwoods.

Em Ghianni's Braves have won 41 games while losing only three over the past five seasons and they presently own a 13-game winning streak. They have captured the Junior High League crown three of the last four years.

The Braves' football achievement is equally impressive. The Washington gridders have chalked up 19 straight victories during a span of four seasons, totaling 369 points to the opposition's 54. They held four straight league titles.

That's something to shoot at!

Sources Doubt Religion Will Condemn Boxing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Roman Catholic sources said today they doubt that the Pope would issue a statement condemning professional boxing but they did not rule out the possibility.

This was the reaction from officials at the National Catholic Welfare Conference to a news dispatch — Reuters — from Rome quoting unofficial Catholic sources as saying such a condemnation may be forthcoming.

"Theologians have been studying the problem for a long time," an NCWC source said. "It may be that this story from Rome indicates a straw in the wind."

Robinson Ready for Hard Fight

Jackie Not Conceding 3rd Base to Jackson; Agrees to Salary Cut

BROOKLYN (AP)—Jackie Robinson, who yesterday swallowed his pride and agreed to a $4,500 slash in salary, served notice today he was prepared to make "the fight of my life" to retain his regular third base job with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

• • •

"This will by my last year," he said, "and I intend to make it one of my best."

The veteran infielder, now in the twilight of a brilliant nine-year major league career, said in a telephone interview he was already preparing himself for the "big battle" and that his weight was now down to a respectable 210 pounds.

"I know everybody, and maybe that includes the Brooklyn front office too, has already conceded the third base job to Randy Jackson," he said. "But, as far as I'm concerned, he's got to take it away from me. And that's not going to be easy because I have no intention of sitting on the bench. If I didn't think I could play regularly, I wouldn't have signed for another year. I'd have quit."

• • •

The 37-year-old Robinson hastened to add this wasn't meant to cast any reflection upon the Jackson, who came to the Dodgers last December in a trade involving Don Hoak, Russ Meyer and others.

Ram Draft Choice

MSU Followers Puzzled by Selection of Frosh

EAST LANSING (AP) — Most football followers were puzzled when a gent named Sammy Williams of Michigan State was selected by the Los Angeles Rams in the 24th round of the recent National Football League draft.

The name wasn't familiar, and no wonder. Williams is only a freshman at Michigan State.

The Rams are hunting for ends, of course — they're trying to lure former Michigan State star Bob Carey back from the coaching ranks — but there's more to the story than that.

Williams, a 1949 graduate of Dansville (Mich.) high school, is 25 years old and married. He attended MSU for six weeks during the fall of 1949 and then went into service, playing four years of Navy ball at the Pensacola, Fla., naval base.

He developed into a real good end in service play and made several all-service teams. So he came to the attention of the pros as well as colleges who sought to lure him away from Michigan State.

But Williams returned to MSU and was a member of the Spartan freshman team last fall.

Williams was eligible for the NFL draft since his original college class of 1949 had graduated.

At 6-5 and 230 pounds, he's a husky package of football player. "He has a good pair of hands and fine speed for his weight," says freshman coach Bill Yoeman. "He's a fine blocker, too, and is rough on defense."

Despite the bid from the Rams, Williams plans to stick with Michigan State for a while to play some college ball.

Pitching's the Key

Mantle Sees NY Champs if Youngsters Pay Off

NEW YORK (AP)— Mickey Mantle, now the 2nd highest salaried player on the New York Yankees, believes the American League champions will repeat in 1956 if the young pitchers come through.

The star centerfielder, fully recovered from the thigh injury that limited his World Series action to just two games, made no predictions concerning his own work for next season but indicated he was due for his greatest year.

After signing a contract at a reported $30,000 figure, which represents a $5,000 increase over his 1955 salary, Mantle stated he had been given a clean bill of health by the Yankee club physician for the first time since he injured his right knee in the 1951 World Series.

"The doc said the knee is stronger now than at any time since the injury," he said. "For the first time I can run as hard as I wish without feeing any twinge of pain. Except for a slight weakness which the doctors say is only natural following a tonsilectomy, I'm in perfect health. I plan to leave for Florida about a week before the regular squad arrives and get in playing shape as early as possible."

Mantle was rewarded for his fine work last year when he batted .306, drove in 97 runs and led the American League with 37 home runs. He said he had no specific aims for next year except to cut down on his strikeout total. Last year he fanned 97 times, an improvement over his 107 total of the previous year.

GETS BOOST—Mickey Mantle, 24-year-old outfielder of the New York Yankees smiles over the $5,000 boost he received when he signed his contract for an estimated $30,000 yesterday. He led the American League in home runs with 37 last season.

In 13 seasons as Notre Dame's football coach, the Irish under Knute Rockne won 105, lost 12, tied five.

St. Mike Stays in Thick of League Race

Doyon Hits 23 Points in Losing Effort for St. Freds at PHS

By BILL CORNWELL

St. Michael's Shamrocks kept in the thick of the Suburban Catholic League basketball race last night at the Pontiac High School gymnasium by turning back St. Frederick in the renewal of their traditional cross-town rivalry. The score was 44-39.

In a hotly-contested struggle the defending SCL champions fought off a determined upset bid by Gene Wright's inspired cagers to chalk up their 5th loop victory in six games. The Mikes are tied with Orchard Lake St. Mary and St. Benedict for 1st place. St. Fred's league record now stands, even at 3-3.

• • •

Bob Mineweaser's Mikes took a 7-5 lead in a slow 1st quarter, then hung on tenaciously in the 2nd period as Dick Doyon sparked a St. Fred surge which netted 13 points, 11 of them by Doyon. The Mikes held a slim 19-18 advantage at intermission.

The Shamrocks wrapped up the decision in the 3rd quarter. They tallied 13 points while limiting the Rams to seven to increase their edge to 33-25 entering the last period. The margin was too much for the Rams to overcome.

Doyon was brilliant in defeat for the Rams. The rangy scoring ace dumped in eight field goals and seven free throws for 23 points.

• • •

St. Michael's Dan Dropps, whose scoring had sagged to six points in the previous two games, revived to grab his team's honors before fouling out with a minute and a half remaining. Dropps collected 18 points.

Two other Shamrocks posted double figures. Star forward John Keller was held to 11 points, his lowest output of the season. Center Bill Hall notched 10 points.

St. Mike outshot the Rams from the floor, 19 field goals to 14, but the losers netted 11 charity tosses in 18 attempts while the Shamrocks were missing 15 out of 21.

• • •

St. Michael's Junior Varsity came from behind to trip St. Fred's reserves in the preliminary, 45-40. The winners trailed at halftime, 26-19. Bob Mineweaser led the Shamrocks with 21 points and Tom Derocher was high for the Rams with 16.

The four-way deadlock for top spot in the Suburban Catholic League was short-lived when Orchard Lake St. Mary defeated Royal Oak St. Mary, 44-39, in a battle of leaders last night at Royal Oak.

• • •

Orchard Lake's victory reduces the title chase to a three-team standoff. The Eaglets are tied with St. Michael and St. Benedict, all having 5-1 marks.

• • •

Royal Oak's Irish gave the Eaglets a stiff fight before surrendering. The visitors moved into a four-point edge at halftime and the lead stood up.

Ted Kopacki with 14 points, Len Mallat 11 and Pete Madelans 10 were high for the Eaglets. John Nutt topped the Irish with a dozen points.

• • •

St. Benedict's Ravens walloped helpless St. Clement, 66-14, at Highland Park. Three Bens scored in double figures, headed by Larry Gacki with 20 points. The cellar-dwelling Clements made only five field goals.

• • •

St. James chalked up its 1st league win in six tries, trimming St. Rita, 54-44, at Ferndale. The triumph moved the Dales into a tie for 7th place with their victim. Ray Rieti dumped in 25 points and Tom Ortbals added 18 to pace the Dales. Mike Young and Tom Pranger were high for the Vikings with 13 and 12 respectively.

Brooks' Jersey 'Home' Tilts Major Shift in NL Schedule

CINCINNATI (AP) — The National League made public its 1956 schedule today and, of course, the major innovation will be the previously announced decision by the world champion Brooklyn Dodgers to play seven of their "home" games in Jersey City.

• • •

The Dodgers won't waste any time trying out the Jersey City hospitality. Their second game of the season, against Philadelphia on April 19, will be played in Jersey City.

• • •

The remainder of the Dodger schedule in Jersey City will be: Against St. Louis, May 16; Chicago, June 25; Cincinnati, July 25; Milwaukee, July 31; Pittsburgh, Aug. 7, and New York, Aug. 15.

As is the case in alternating years, all National League clubs are scheduled to open the season on the same day—April 17—with Philadelphia at Brooklyn, New York at Pittsburgh, St. Louis at Cincinnati and Chicago at Milwaukee.

The second "Opening Day" on April 20 will have New York at Philadelphia, Brooklyn at Pittsburgh, Cincinnati at Chicago and Milwaukee at St. Louis.

In alternating years the Cincinnati Redlegs and their opponent always open the season a day ahead of other clubs since it is traditional for Cincinnati always to open at home.

• • •

Dave Grote, the National League service director, said the senior league clubs have scheduled 250 night games, the same number as last year.

Play under the lights will get started early with New York at Philadelphia and Milwaukee at St. Louis meeting in the first night games on April 20.

Pittsburgh will play its first home night game against New York on April 23. Brooklyn will be at New York and Cincinnati at Milwaukee for the first night contests in those cities on April 25.

Brooklyn's first home night game will be April 27 against Pittsburgh and Cincinnati will begin its home night schedule the same night against Chicago.

The Chicago Cubs do not play night games at home.

The season will end Sept. 30.

Griff's Keeps Lead, Oliver Gains It

Griff's Grill swamped Louie's Tavern, 66-46, in an adult city league basketball game Tuesday night at Jefferson Junior High to stay on top of the National loop standings.

John Bridgewater and Chuck Franklin scored 15 and 13 points respectively to lead Griff's to its 5th victory in six starts. Ron Sandage topped the Tavern quintet with 13 points.

The Independents bowed to the Trojans in a surprise outcome, 48-39. The setback knocked the Independents out of 2nd place. Merl Taulbee and Mike Tierney each scored 16 points for the losers while George Pope and Mel Karrigan netted 13 apiece for the Trojans.

In Class D action at Eastern Junior High, Oliver Buick dumped the Boys' Club, 58-52, in their battle for the American division lead. Perry Williams sparked Oliver's into 1st place with 24 points while Chuck McIlrath made 19 points to top the Boy's Clubbers, who dropped their 2nd straight decision.

The Spartans defeated the Wolverines in an American division game, 34-26. Gil Hernandez paced the winners with 11 points.

National loop activitity saw the league-leading Meteors win their 6th straight game, downing Slaybaugh's, 39-19. Dean Nolf topped the Meteors with 11 points. Slaybaugh's Don Wilson grabbed scoring honors with 16.

• • •

Central Christian headed the Blue Devils their 6th consecutive loss, 34-25. Don Mountain and Jerry Wood led Central with 10 points each. Earl Neeb scored the same number for the losers.

Tonight's schedule:

Adult leagues at Pontiac High—GMC vs. Keego Merchants, 7 p.m.; Shaw's Jewelers vs. Sun Life, 8:30 p.m. (American League games).

Class D leagues at Lincoln Junior High—Hot Shots vs. Aces, 7 p.m. (National); Lakers vs. Police Association, 8:30 p.m. (American).

Red Wings Tied in Grand Rapids

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Grand Rapids Goalie Lou Crowdis stopped 61 shots at the net and the Rockets gained a 6-6 tie with the Detroit Red Wings in an exhibition hockey game before 4,100 fans at Grand Rapids stadium last night.

The Rockets, currently in third place in the International Hockey League, led most of the way, taking a 1-0 lead in the first period on a goal by right winger Rick Hogg. The score was tied 5-5 at the end of the second stanza.

Glenn Hall made nine saves for the Wings. He was relieved halfway through the game by Lefty Wilson, who made seven stops.

Runkel Collects 28 but Merchants Lose

Despite Phil Runkel's 28 points, Waterford Merchants were handed a 68-56 defeat by Mannys in the second game of Waterford Recreation league action last night.

Dick DeWitt led Mannys with 27 points. Runkel is now the league's leading scorer with a 25.5 average.

In the game scheduled between Philgas and Poole, Philgas was awarded a 2-0 forfeit as the opponents failed to show up.

Lapeer Quintet Wins 9th Game

It looks like nobody's going to stop Lapeer High School's basketball team—at least not yet.

The Panthers had to stave off a 4th-quarter rally Tuesday night, but they succeeded in wrapping up their 9th straight decision by besting invading Davison, 61-53.

Lapeer's undefeated cagers held a 47-34 advantage entering the last period. Then Davison came within two points of tying the count before the Panthers settled down and reinforced the lead.

Tom Wilson and Bob Breckenridge each scored 17 points to lead Lapeer's attack. Bill Drake topped Davison with 13 points.

Houston's 7-Foot Cager Surpasses 2,000 Mark

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Houston's 7-foot Don Boldebuck has surpassed the 2,000-point scoring mark, attained by only 10 other players in major college annals—but he's still looking for his first Missouri Valley scoring championship.

The one-time Nebraska Wesleyan standout is out in front by a narrow margin—24.3 to 23.0—over Detroit's Bill Ebben after seven valley games, with five to go.

Close behind are sophomore Center Barney Cable of Bradley (22.5) and Grady Smith, St. Louis guard (21.0), but both have played just four conference games.

Boldebuck averaged 20.9 last season in valley games, but that was not better than 4th behind blond Bob Patterson of Tulsa, who set an all-time conference record with 30.5, Guy Sparrow of Detroit with 22.4, and Cleo Littleton of Wichita, the only other 2,000-point man in Valley history, with 21.0.

The Houston Giant brought his career total to 2,013 with 21 points against Tulsa. He scored 1,103 points in two years at Nebraska Wesleyan.

Title's No Worry!

Combes' Big Problem Mid-Year Layoff

CHICAGO (AP) — Harry Combes, Illinois' highly successful basketball coach, is nervous and fidgety these days, something like an expectant father.

• • •

With fifth-ranked Illinois on top in the Big 10, Combes is pulling for his fourth title since he took over at Champaign in 1948. But his immediate problem is not any championship.

• • •

He's worried about the mid-semester layoff. Illinois played its last game against Purdue Jan. 16 and gets back into action Saturday against DePaul before going to Minnesota to resume Big 10 play Monday.

The Illini are noted for cooling off during the examination period as past records show and Combes is aware of it.

Combes made no bones about Illinois' strength.

• • •

"This figured to be a good team," he said. "We had our starting lineup back and some good sophomore material. I'll admit, the sophs haven't produced as I had hoped but our seniors have been doing a wonderful job."

• • •

Bill Ridley and Paul Judson are the seniors who are carrying the load along with junior center George Bonsalle for whom Combes had special praise.

Combes felt his team reached its peak in its last two games. The Illini knocked off Indiana 96-72 and then smacked Purdue 92-76, to run their string to nine straight and a 4-0 mark in the Big 10. Illinois' overall record is 10-1, losing to Missouri 74-73 in the second game of the season.

In eight seasons at Illinois, Combes' teams have won three titles and have never finished lower than third in the Big 10.

Title Hopes on Tonight's Scrap

Giambra Figures Win Over Andrews Is Key to Situation

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Joey Giambra's hopes for a quick shot at the world middleweight championship rest on the outcome of his battle with confident Al Andrews tonight in the Norfolk arena.

Giambra and Andrews, both 24, square off in a nationally televised 10-rounder.

"This is an important fight for me," said Giambra, the challenger from Buffalo, N. Y. "In fact, it will be my first fight since last Aug. 26 when I fought Bobo Olson.

Giambra lost the over-the-weight match with Olson by one point.

He said he believed a victory over the veteran from Superior, Wis., would help him get a quick crack at the title. He was set for a title shot at Olson until Bobo lost his crown to Sugar Ray Robinson Dec. 9, the day Giambra was discharged from the Army.

Jim Simer, Madison's 6 foot forward, stayed on top of the scoring race in the cage leagues invoving Oakland area schools.

The senior sharpshooter who bucketed a record 53 points two weeks ago was held to only 12 points, his lowest output of the season, by Troy a week ago. Last year the Eagle cager pushed through a total of 254 points for the season. To date he has 220 in eight games for a booming 27.5 average.

* * *

Still in runnerup spot with 182 points in seven games is last year's Oakland area scoring champ Jim Davidson of Milford.

The 6-3 senior forward of the Redskins had his poorest game in the season opener against Waterford when he got 10 points, but since then he has not been held to less than 23 points a game. He is averaging 26.0 thus far.

West Bloomfield's Frank Rogers, Davidson's rival in the Wayne-Oakland league is carrying a 24.7 mark for seven games and Tom Wilson of unbeaten Lapeer is close behind with 24.1 for eight games.

Newcomers to the top 10 of players scoring over 20 points per game are Darrell Ridling of Clarenceville and Bill Schmidt of Romeo.

Steadily moving up in the race are Larry Hughes, Walled Lake's 6-3 center who is now hitting at a 19.5 clip, and Pat Patterson who has played in only four games for Northville.

Patterson has tallied 76 points since joining the Mustang lineup four games ago.

Here is the complete list of all the leading pointmakers from the leagues involving Oakland area schools. Totals include players from the Inter-Lakes, Eastern Michigan, Wayne-Oakland, Oakland-B, Southern Thumb, South Central leagues and independents.

Scorers listed are those with beter than 12 point agerage.

Hockey Coach Has Doubt

CORTINA, D'AMPEZZO, Italy (AP)—Johnny Mariucci, the old Roman of professional hockey, is in Italy for the first time and the former Chicago Black Hawk, whose parents were born in Italy, is worried about the chances of the U.S. team here.

On leave from his role as coach of the University of Minnesota hockey team to direct the Olympic squad, John thought "spirit and determination" would be the biggest asset the U. S. team had in facing the superior ability and conditioning of Canada, Czechoslovakia and Russia.

* * *

"But now we're even failing to hustle," he said."

The Yankees team checked into Cortina yesterday with a 21-0 record in exhibition games. But Mariucci called them "empty victories. The competition wasn't very good."

"The Matchiefts line is the only one with any zip," said John. "And if it weren't for good goal-tending, I don't know what we'd do."

Booklet Boosts Squaw Valley for Olympics

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An elaborate two-language brochure explaining and illustrating planned facilities for the 1956 Winter Olympics was in the hands of International Olympic Committee members today at Cortina d'Ampezzo, Italy.

The IOC was to decide whether the games four winters hence would be held at Squaw Valley, Calif., as awarded originally, or be transferred to some more-established European winter sports area.

* * *

The brochures, written in English and French, tell the story of what is planned for visitors, officials and athletes in the Sierra Nevada Valley some 200 miles northeast of San Francisco. They show futuristic grandstands, "snowflake pavilions," modernistic housing for all hands.

The brochure makes no mention of financing, a key point in the discussion at Cortina. However, another report presented to the delegates stated that total capital outlay needed was $4,-900,000.

Broken down, this report listed $655,000 for site development; $2,130,000 for buildings; $1,437,000 for sports facilities; $307,000 in architect-engineer fees and $453,-000 as a contingency fund.

* * *

Squaw Valley has been assured of $1,000,000 by state legislative grant. The word is that an additional $4,000,000 is "certain" to be appropriated by the 1956 legislature when it convenes in March at Sacramento.

Utica Beats Lakeview

Oxford Tripped 57-36; Vikings Win

Troy's easy victory over Oxford and Walled Lake's win over Redford Union highlighted Tuesday night's light prep action in the Oakland County area.

The Colts outscored Oxford in every quarter except the last to trounce the host Wildcats, 57-36. Troy grabbed a 13-4 1st-period lead and was never threatened. Jean Harkness' cagers made only three of 30 shot attempts in the 1st half.

Sim Acton and George Catto each scored 13 points to pace the Colts. Big Jim Maurer was limited to eight. Dave Sweeney of Oxford took scoring honors with 19 points.

Walled Lake avenged an earlier 53-43 loss to Redford by upending the invading Union quintet, 47-45.

The Vikings led all the way and were never threatened until the last quarter when Redford staged a belated rally. It was Walled Lake's 6th triumph in eight games.

* * *

Three Viking cagers recorded two figures with Larry Hughes showing the way on 16 points. Jim Rantanen netted 15 to lead Union.

Larry Bielat tallied 17 points to spark Center Line's Bees to a 56-52 victory over Warren in a Bi-County League scrap at Center Line. Bob Schaffer was tops for Warren's Orioles with 17 points. It was the Bees' 4th loop win in five games.

Utica's Chieftains thrashed Lakeview, 74-50, in another Bi-County tilt at Lakeview.

In other Bi-County games South Lake edged Roseville Eastland, 56-53, and Lake Shore drubbed Harper Woods, 67-39.

3 Michigan Prep Gridders on AA

NEW YORK (AP) — Michigan landed three players on the 1955 All American high school football team chosen by Scholastic magazine.

The three are quarterback Larry Bielat of Center line, halfback Fred Julian of Detroit Pershing high school and tackle Thelvius Wieniecke of Saginaw Arthur Hill.

Eighty football stars from 37 states and Hawaii are represented on the magazine's fifth annual All-America team.

Redskin Pilot Sets MSU Trip

Washington Coach to Talk With Draft List Grid Choices

WASHINGTON (AP) — Coach Joe Kuharich of the Washington Redskins says he is planning a trip to East Lansing, Mich., shortly to talk with Gerry Planutis and Gary Lowe, a pair of backs for Michigan State who were on the Redskin draft list.

Both are reported to be eyeing offers from Canadian teams.

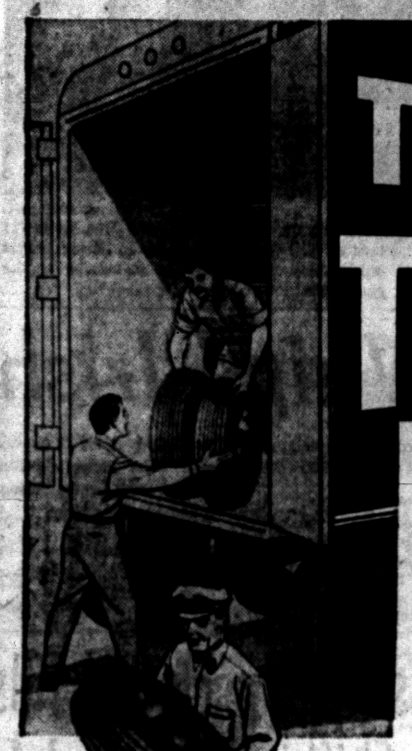

"They're both good boys," Kuharich said yesterday.

Planutis, along with Ed Vereb of Maryland, the Skins No. 1 draft choice, is being considered as a replacement for Billy Wells and Bert Zagers at right halfback.

Wells played the spot for Washington in 1954 and Zagers in 1955. Both are former MSU standouts and now are in military service.

NOW BOTH are DETERGENT GASOLINES

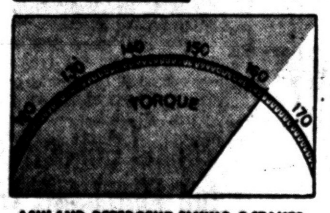

PREMIUM USERS

Buy detergent Ashland Ethyl, a must for all late model cars. Reason: today's high compression engines demand an Ethyl gasoline. Ashland Ethyl is not only detergent, it's compounded with ICA* POWER TONIC to stop spark plug fouling, pre-ignition and knock. You'll find that Ashland Ethyl is detergent . . . plus!

REGULAR USERS

If your car can use regular, buy only Ashland Flying Octanes—it is the regular that's different, it's detergent! It restores pep, power and performance tankful after tankful.

BOTH drive out engine dirt!

ASHLAND DETERGENT FLYING OCTANES
Proved power gain measured on the Dynamometer, the nationally accepted scientific measurement for engine power. Thanks to detergent Flying Octanes, harmful engine dirt is driven out while you drive. Result: increased power, smoother performance, a better engine.

NON-DETERGENT REGULAR
Here's proved power loss measured on the same Dynamometer when harmful engine dirt from non-detergent gasolines builds up as you drive, robs you of engine power mile by mile. This actual power loss was measured with the engine developing maximum power, operating at a constant speed.

Olympics Set but Lacking Snow

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy (AP) —The plushiest Winter Olympics yet opens tomorrow in the shadow of an injury jinx and a surprising threat from a Russian powerhouse.

There's also a disturbing lack of snow.

Eight gold medal winners from the 1952 games at Oslo will be among the 1,100 athletes representing 32 countries in the opening parade.

* * *

Returning champions include Mrs. Andrea Mead Lawrence of Parshall Colo., a double winner on skis, and Norway's Hjalmar Andersen, a triple winner on speed skates.

Shortly after the parade, the rink will be cleared and the first actual competition begins with Austria meeting Italy and Canada playing Germany in ice hockey.

* * *

Missing from the opening parade will be many of the 30 who have suffered practice injuries. Five were added to the casualty list yesterday, including Serge Giacchini of France, whose two-man bobsled shot off the icy, mile-long course at a mile-a-minute clip for the second time in a week.

Seven of the injured definitely will miss the competition, including Katy Rodolph of Reno, Nev., who fractured a neck vertebra in a ski spill.

* * *

Most of the casualties are skiers and most of the accidents have been caused by the lack of snow. There hasn't been a snowfall in two weeks and the light covering scattered over the ski runs each night hasn't kept the slopes from becoming too icy—and dangerous.

Keen competition also has contributed to the injury list.

On the eve of the games, the outlook was like this:

* * *

The Russians, entering their first winter games, will clean up in speed skating and will do well in cross-country skiing. They'll also challenge in hockey.

Norway, entering the seventh Winter Olympics with one of its strongest teams, probably will squeak out a team victory in the unofficial point standings.

* * *

The United States, with Mrs. Lawrence below par, will be content to win two gold medals—in the women's figure skating with Tenley Albright of Newton Center, Mass., despite her gashed leg, and in the men's figure event with Hayes Allen Jenkins of Colorado Springs, Colo.

Italy will take the two-man and four-man bobs, unless the U. S. team—or possibly the Germans or Swiss—can crowd in.

* * *

Canada will win the hockey, pressed by Russia. Czechoslovakia and—as a long shot—the United States.

Still, this is international amateur competition at its most intense pitch, and upsets are almost certain.

Honolulu Welter Kayos Idaho's Mickey Rhodes

Harrington weighed 146, Rhodes 152¼.

Italian Bobsledders Best

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy (AP) —Italians took a stronger grip on the pre-Olympic bobsled monopoly today, registering the best two times in the two-man sled trials and setting a new course record in the four-man.

* * *

Eugenio Monti, pint-sized speedster from the Dolomite Mountains, whipped down the 1700-meter Olympic run in 1:22.45 for the fastest time of the day in small sleds. Dino de Marin guided his four-man sled down in the record time of 1:18.77, breaking his own mark of 1:19.62. It was the fourth time in four days the highly favored Italians broke the course record.

* * *

As he has done for the past week, America's Bud Washbond showed he is virtually the only threat to the Italians in the two-man event. He racked up third fastest time—1:23.46.

Of the 16 National League pitchers who worked in 200 or more innings in 1955, Don Newcombe of the Dodgers had the best control. He walked only 38 batters.

St. Nick's Sullivan Is Left to Face Ring Probe Alone

NEW YORK (AP)—Tex Sullivan, co-promoter of the St. Nicholas Arena fights, stood alone before New York State Athletic Commissioner Julius Helfand today as the latter delved further into the methods used to obtain fighters for the club shows.

* * *

Sullivan's partner in the venture, the formal name is the London Sporting Club, Willie Gilzenberg, resigned yesterday, surrendering his license as corporation secretary and selling his interest in the club to Sullivan.

* * *

Helfand, however, refused to accept the resignation, pending an inquiry into the circumstances surrounding it.

Meanwhile, he tied in fight managers Charley Johnston, Bill Daly and Jack Kearns with the TV promotions. He drew from Robert Dreyer, general counsel for the DuMont network which carries the Monday night fights, the admission that he also dealt with the three managers in arranging the St. Nick's contract. This Daly promptly denied.

* * *

During yesterday's questioning, Helfand did not attempt to bring out how the three managers were involved in the negotiations.

* * *

He also drew fire from former New York Police Commissioner Francis Adams, who has been representing Gilzenberg and Sullivan. Adams questioned Helfand's legal right to refuse to accept Gilzenberg's resignation.

ARCHERY, FAMILY STYLE — Waterford Recreation Department has set up two unusual archery groups, tied in with the general program at the area's Community Center. These are family-style groups, such as that above, with instructor Bill Carland showing Kirk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clair Johnson, Drayton Plains, (L and R) how to handle a bow.

Entire Families in New Archery Groups

Entire families are taking to the fun of learning how to handle a bow and arrow, in new classes set up first of the year by the Waterford Recreation department.

Waterford's Tom Bolton says two classes are meeting each Tuesday night in the Community Center (at 6 and 7 p.m.) Average attendance is about 25 persons of all ages.

Interested family groups may enroll now, at the center, for the 6 o'clock class only. Later group is filled. Instructors are Bill Carland for the late class and ex-college archery instructor, Nicholas Carnes for the early one.

State Fish, Game Areas Expanded

Add 2 Angling Sites, Enlarge Lapeer Area by 76 Acres

LANSING — Two more fishng sites and 734 additional acres of hunting land will be made available to the people of Michigan, following a recent action by the conservation commission.

The commission approved purchase of fishing sites on Sheffer Lake, Allegan county and Wilson Lake, Antrim county.

Commission approval also was given to the purchase of 360 acres of land for addition to Chippewa River state forest in Midland County. Another 374 acres will be added to four state game areas under the Pittman-Robertson program.

The P-R acquisitions include addition of 160 acres to Crand Pond game area, 80 acres to Middleville game area, 76 acres to Lapeer game area and 58 acres to Gratiot-Saginaw game area.

A fishing site access problem at Fletcher Floodwaters was resolved by the commission through a land exchange.

The commission formally accepted a deed that conveys hunting rights on 10,600 acres of wild land in Crawford county to the people of Michigan under the terms of the will of the late George W. Mason.

Harvard has played 58 football games with Dartmouth, 54 with Brown.

Rifle and Pistol Groups Elect Officers for 1956

At least three Oakland County rifle and pistol clubs have set up official families for 1956. All are affiliated with the National Rifle Association, the Michigan Rifle and Pistol Association and the SE Michigan Rifle and Pistol Association. They do most of their shooting on the three Oakland County Sportsmen's Club ranges. They are also OCSC members.

OCSC Club — president, John Treeful; vice president, Frank Stephens; secretary-treasurer, Merrick Guy and instructor, Robert Gubbins.

D. R. Wilson Club — president, Fay Magner; vice president, Milton LaPorte; secretary-treasurer, Fred Mayer; executive officer, Eugene Thompson and instructor, Emmett Teefey.

Pontiac Rifle & Pistol Club — president, Fred Mayer; vice president, Robert Waggoner; secretary-treasurer, Fay Magner; executive officer, Seely Dart and instructor, George Forstrum.

These groups also have named a coordinating rifle committee as follows: chairman, Robert Gubbins; secretary, Milton LaPorte; public relations, Cash Bond.

Trapping Rules Set Up in State

LANSING—Michigan's 1956 beaver and otter trapping regulations, approved recently by the conservation commission, are essentially the same as last year's laws.

In the Upper Peninsula, an April 1-19 season was established in western counties and in the northern part of eastern areas. An April 1-13 season will be in effect in the remainder of the U. P.

Lower peninsula trappers will have a March 25-April 7 season in northeastern counties and a March 26-31 season in other parts of the peninsula open to trapping.

Season bag limits of six beaver and three otter again were set for the Upper Peninsula, with Lower Peninsula season limits of four beaver and three otter.

The state has been divided into areas with different seasons to fit weather conditions and beaver populations. Saginaw, Gratiot, Wexford and Manistee counties will be closed to trapping, plus areas already closed by Commission orders.

Last season, 16,700 beaver and 609 otter were bagged in the state by some 4700 trappers.

Woodward Sale of 'Bluebloods' Winds Up Today

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Sale of the late William Woodward Jr.'s thoroughbred racing stock will be completed at Hialeah Park today. Twenty-two head will be offered at public auction.

• • •

They include the entire active stable of the millionaire sportsman except for Nashua and two yearling fillies.

• • •

J. S. Kroese, New York City businessman, acquired the collection on a sealed bid of $205,000 from executors of the Woodward Estate. He plans to keep the two fillies for breeding purposes.

Nashua, first of the Woodward property to be sold, went for $1,251,200 to a syndicate headed by Leslie Combs II of Lexington, Ky.

Santee in Fast Field for Boston AA Meet

BOSTON (AP)—A glittering field, headed by Wes Santee in the mile, is down to start in the 67th Boston AA track meet Saturday night at the Boston Garden.

• • •

Santee, the nation's top miler hobbled by a leg injury since Dec. 30, will make his first start of the indoor season in the Hunter Mile—the event in which he lowered the world record last year.

• • •

Other late entries came from Ernie Shelton, the Southern California high jumper, and Charlie Capozzoli of Georgetown, the last 2-miler to upset Olympic steeplechase champion Horace Ashenfelter in Boston.

Bill Haughton of Massapequa, N. Y., led the nation's harness drivers in 1955 with 168 victories and $599,445 in money won. It was the third year in a row he led in races and money won.

Ice-Fishing Remains Good; Rabbit Season Nears Close

By JACK PATTERSON

Ice fishing conditions in the Pontiac area are about as close to perfect as they're apt to get. There's plenty of ice and it looks as though the all-important snow covering is here to stay. Recent extra-cold weather doesn't bother the fish a whit and, with all the thermo-insul-protecto gear available today, it doesn't bother the fisherman either.

Bluegills and perch particularly seem to realize that conditions are good and are co-operating fully. Which gives rise to a problem: What to do with the fish.

Of course you can give them to friends and neighbors, thereby running the risk of having every door in town closed to you. Or you can put them back — a radical but rather satisfactory solution. If you feel that you MUST bestow a few on the unsuspecting character across the street, clean them first, we beg of you.

PATTERSON

Wildfowl expert and sometime fisherman George K. Zimmerman proposes that a dunking stool be erected at Dawson's Mill Pond for the exclusive use of people who make gifts of undressed fish and fowl. We'll be glad to pull the cord, or whatever it is, that actuates the mechanism.

Personally we haven't been troubled much with fish the last few days. All our spare time and most of the rest of it has gone toward the construction of a skating rink, a fool's project if ever there was one.

Trouble is that the lazy man's way—flooding and letting her freeze—just doesn't work. Success demands a laborious and repetitious business of spraying on layer after layer, allowing plenty of freezing time in between.

Bone-chilling work isn't the only problem, either. Livestock, human and otherwise, complicates the situation.

If you've any notion to get in on this latest do-it-yourself fad here's some pointers: (1) Get somebody else to do it. (2) Buy a place on a lake. (3) Go to Florida for rest of the winter.

What has been a pretty good rabbit season is rapidly running its course. Six more days will do it and if you haven't been out and are so inclined, conditions are good. There's enough snow for tracking and background contrast and there is still many a local bunny as yet unbagged.

Tyro Officers Get Six Months Training Course

LANSING—A six-month training program for 41 conservation officer candidates is scheduled to get under way in May at the Conservation Department's Higgins Lake training school.

Recruits will be selected from the more than 800 men who have applied for the positions. Selection will be based on written and oral examinations after preliminary qualifications have been satisfied.

Trainees will receive classroom and field training in various law enforcement techniques before being assigned to posts throughout the state. The recruits will boost the conservation officer force to 200.

OCSC Shooters Among Winners in State Test

Take 2 of 4 Awards in Smallbore Event; Drop Dual Match

Two of four major awards in the recent state small bore gallery rifle championships at OCSC's indoor range were won by the host club. State open champion was Jarvis Ten Haar of Jackson (975).

Roberta Gubbins of Birmingham is the women's champion (969). Don Rose, Ferndale the junior titlist (485). Ford No. 1 team of Dearborn is the team champion (1152).

Ter Haar won three events; grand aggregate (975); offhand, any sights (193); any sight aggregate (486).

Other winners were: Tao Yuan Wu (exchange student), iron sights, prone (200-18x); Jerry Ouelette, Detroit, iron sight, prone, kneel, offhand (292) and iron sight aggregate (492); William Schmidt, Detroit, iron sight-prone, sit, offhand (295); team match, Ford No. 1; OCSC No. 2, Class B.

Other OCSC place winners:

Miss Gubbins, 2nd in masters (aggregate); Nancy Newman 2nd in expert; 16-year-old Rose 2nd in sharpshooter (aggregate); Miss Newman 1st expert (iron sights 200x16); Bert Beam, 1st sharpshooter (iron sights, 200x16); Newman 1st expert (3-position match, 278); Rose 1st sharpshooter (286) and in same match 1st junior (286; John Treasful, 1st expert (any sight 3-position) (291; Newman, 1st expert, 1st sharpshooter and 1st junoor in iron sight aggregate.

In a dual match with Multi-Lakes, OCSC marksmen dropped both ends of a smallbore league match, 949-935 and 1022-1005 (handicap). OCSC was leading the SE Michigan Rifle & Pistol league at the time, and it was its 1st loss.

The scores: Multi-Lakes — Clayton Adams 203, J. Armstrong 203, E. Teefey 204, H. West 203 and D. Wilson 208, total 1022 for handicap; (actual) Armstrong 186, L. Bush 191, Teefey 194, West 186, Wilson 193, total 949. OCSC—Ted Vitasinski 204, Nancy Newman 197, Frank Brusha 204, Merrick Guy 199, Milton LePorte 201, total 1005 for handicap; Newman 186, Kell Danielson 185, Howard Collins 186, Brusha 191, LaPorte 187, total 935 (actual).

14 Million Young Pines Will Be Sold by State

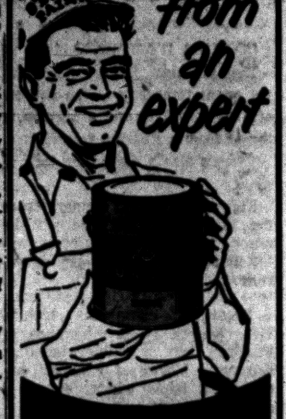

LANSING — The conservation department placed 14,000,000 young trees on sale last week and orders for the spring shipping season are now being accepted.

Pine seedlings and transplants are sold for reforestration and Christmas tree production only, not for ornamental plantings.

Red, white, jack and Scotch pine are included. Scotch pines are limited to 5,000 per order.

A post card to the department's forestry division at Lansing will bring order blanks and full details.

Dodgers, Tribe Meet in Annual Amateur Benefit

CLEVELAND (AP) — The world champion Brooklyn Dodgers will play the Cleveland Indians here July 23 in the annual Amateur Day exhibition game to raise funds for the Cleveland Baseball Federation and other sandlot groups in northern Ohio.

The Cleveland-Brooklyn game here will be the second exhibition of the summer between the two clubs. They will meet in Jersey City April 30.

Tennis star Gussie Moran, famous for her lace panties, at Wimbledon, is now a radio commentator on baseball.

Bloomfield Chalks Up 1st Victory of Season

Bloomfield Hills won its 1st basketball game of the season Tuesday after seven losing efforts. Fraser's Junior Varsity was the victim, 49-42.

Dave Drury scored 12 points and Harvey Pranian made 10 for Bloomfield Hills. Wilson tallied 16 points for visiting Fraser.

Bloomfield's preserves also triumphed, 50-35.

Chisox 'Farmhands' Agree to '56 Terms

CHICAGO (AP) — Catcher Earl Battey, 21, and outfielder Ed White, 29, a pair of Chicago White Sox farmhands who are given a good chance to stick with the club, have joined the ranks of satisfied players for 1956. The Sox now have 28 players under contract with 14 more yet to sign.

Bowling Clinic

By BILLY SIXTY

THE INWARD STEP — In the preceding article I explained the importance of holding the stride in line all the way; how the least little zag to the right will cause you to miss the desired "spot" or fail to roll the ball over the "target" board.

Stoky bowlers especially are inclined to waiver to the right in stride because, doing so, they manage to clear the right hip out of the way of the backswing.

Andy Varipapa, twice world match champion, short and squatty built, has the answer for clearing the hip. He holds the ball slightly below waistline, as sketch shows. What happens is this: Pushing the ball away, from its position in the palm of the left hand, he drops into a crouch, but as he does so, he steps slightly to the left with the first step.

Get the picture? The ball then swings backward in a low arc, approximately between the knee and the ankle, so that the hip is no object at all. The arm, swinging low, is in perfect line for an accurate ball release controlled by a long, reaching follow-through. And the left foot, started slightly inward with the first step, keeps the stride in line.

So Says Stoneham's Assistant

Schumacher Calls Giant Rookies 'Best I've Seen'

This is the 6th of a series of articles by Associated Press baseball expert Joe Reichler telling of the rookie prospects of Major League teams. Today he runs the New York Giants.

NEW YORK (AP)—Garry Schumacher, personable assistant to New York Giants President Horace Stoneham, is of the opinion that the current Giant crop of rookies "is the best I have ever seen."

Schumacher, normally a conservative individual, should know. There are few more competent judges of players than "The Governor" who, in his baseball writing days, was regarded as one of the most analytical and most informed newspapermen. Garry was one of the first to beat the drums for Willie Mays.

• • •

There is no Willie Mays on the current freshman list, to be sure. Even Schumacher admits that. Among the hopefuls, however, are the No. 1 percentage pitcher of the American Assn.; the Texas League's strikeout king and the loop's Most Valuable Player; a couple of 30-plus home run clouters and a youngster Manager Bill Rigney is touting as the regular second baseman "if his knees hold up."

• • •

Of the seven new pitchers, Allen (Red) Worthington, a righthander, and Pete Burnside, a southpaw, appear to have the best chance to stick. Worthington is the young man who broke in so sensationally three years ago when he hurled shutouts in his first two major league starts. Wildness, however, prompted his return to the minors. He's supposed to have sharpened his control, however. This past season, he won 13 games for Minneapolis, and worked in 10 of 15 playoff games, the Millers winning them all. At the latest reading, he had a 9-1 record in the Winter League.

• • •

The roster lists four new catchers. Ray Murray, 37-year-old former American Leaguer, figures to stick. He had a fine year at Dallas where he batted .329 in 110 games slammed 25 homers and was named the circuit's Most Valuable Player. Len Jackson, 21, his understudy at Dallas, batted .245. Ellburn Jenkins, 26, was .293 in 131 games at Sioux City and Ray Schmidt was .265 in 130 games at Danville.

The only question concerning Foster Castleman is whether his knees are sound again. Everyone thinks the 25-year-old second baseman has all the tools, otherwise. Injuries handicapped him in two previous trials with the Giants. He was hitting .302 in 43 games at Minneapolis last year when his knees buckled under him again. A second operation during the winter is supposed to have mended the injured member. Ed Bressoud, a 23-year-old defensive standout at shortstop from Minneapolis, is the only other new infielder.

• • •

Bob Lennon, who was the big noise last spring because of his 64 home runs in Nashville, is back. This time the fanfare is not so loud. Despite a shoulder separation that sidelined the big outfielder for six weeks, he managed to register 31 home runs at Minneapolis and drive in 104 runs on a .280 batting average at Minneapolis. George Wilson, up with the Giants before, also hit 31 homers at Minneapolis on a .307 average. Billy Wells, 25, was .287 at Memphis.

Brooklyn's Clem Labine Named 'Athlete of Year'

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Clem Labine, right-handed relief ace for the world champion Brooklyn Dodgers, was named Rhode Island's Athlete of the Year today by Words Unlimited, the state's association of sportswriters and sportscasters.

Heavyweight boxing champion Rocky Marciano says he intends to take piano lessons.

Banquet Headliner

Lions' Star, Creekmur, Chief Speaker for St. Benedicts' Athletic Benefit

Pontiac will be one of the first stops on Lou Creekmur's banquet circuit since his return from the West Coast where he played in the professional football East - West game.

Slated to be the main speaker at the St. Benedict's athletic banquet, the Detroit Lion star, lineman and all-pro selection, will headline the program for the benefit affair to be held at the parish hall, Monday evening, Feb. 13.

Other sports notables have been invited along with coaches from other Pontiac schools to take part in the event making the entrance of the city's third parochial school into the field of sports.

The banquet is sponsored by the Men's Club to provide athletic equipment and uniforms for the school's entry into the grade school football arena next fall.

St. Benedict's seventh graders are currently playing an abbreviated basketball schedule, but when the school adds the eight grade to its curriculum next year, the Green and Gold "Bears" will institute a full athletic program, according to Fr. John J. Shaw, sports-minded assistant pastor at the West side institution.

Joseph Zelesnik is general chairman for the banquet and is assisted by the following committeemen: Ed Latendresse, Larry Roettger, Wayne Miller, Don Raymond, Dar Simpson, Tony Matyniak, Dick Smith, A. Moloney, and J. B. Parle.

About 765 craft will be on display at the Chicago Boat Show Feb. 3-12.

Imlay City, North Branch, Ortonville Easy Winners

Imlay City and North Branch warmed up for their approaching South Central League showdown with easy victories over non-loop foes Tuesday night.

Larry Dorow meshed 24 points and Ike Ferrier notched 15 as Imlay City's Spartans routed Capac of the Southern Thumb circuit, 70-42. It was Imlay's 9th win in 10 starts.

• • •

The Spartans trailed by a 19-17 margin going into the 2nd quarter, but they turned on the heat during the next two stanzas to win in a breeze. Bob Elston was high for the host Chiefs with 19 points.

North Branch racked up its 6th consecutive win with a 58-51 verdict over Mayville on the latter's court.

The unbeaten Broncos held a narrow 32-31 lead at halftime, but a 22-point 3rd-quarter buried the Wildcats.

• • •

John Ribner, a transfer student from New York City who just became eligible, sparked North Branch with 18 points. Mayville's Bob Robinson captured scoring laurels with 19 points.

Ortonville, another South Central member, overcame a 1st-period deficit to down Goodrich, 68-60, at Ortonville.

The invaders led entering the 2nd quarter, 11-7, but the Blackhawks forged into a 28-21 halftime advantage and were never headed.

Three Ortonville cagers posted double figures, led by Bob Hutchings with 16 points. Ed Wiesmer topped Goodrich with 12 markers.

Postpones Hearing on Bowie Nomination

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee has postponed until next Tuesday a scheduled hearing on the controversial nomination of Robert R. Bowie as an assistant secretary of state.

The closed hearing on Bowie, whose appointment is opposed by several ranking GOP senators, was postponed for the convenience of committee members.

Senate GOP Leader William F. Knowland (R-Calif), who is understood to be one of those in opposition to the appointment, had to be in New York yesterday to keep a speaking engagement.

Senate GOP Policy Chairman Styles Bridges (R-NH) also is opposed to Bowie's promotion.

Bridges said after a meeting of congressional leaders at the White House that there was no discussion of the Bowie nomination.

Stocks Continue Upward March

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market advanced today in a continuation of its recovery movement launched with considerable strength yesterday. Gains today ran to between 1 and 2 points, somewhat less than the range of gain yesterday.

The rise was well distributed throughout the list, and major divisions advancing included steels, motors, aircrafts, coppers, chemicals, railroads and oils.

Ford motor over the counter was steady at 65 bid 65¼ asked. It was 64⅝-65⅛ in late dealings yesterday.

Superior Oil of California shot ahead 76 points at 1,120 points in a series of trades. It is the highest priced issue on the big board.

Among higher stocks were U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Caterpillar Tractor, Boeing, Bendix, Consolidated Natural Gas, American Smelting, Du Pont, Gamble Skogmo, Aluminum Co. of America, Southern Railway, and Texas Co.

Power Reactor Firm Formed in Michigan

DETROIT (AP)—Formation of the Power Reactor Development Co. was announced today.

The company is a non-profit Michigan corporation organized to establish the design for a developmental fast-neutron breeder reactor and to build and operate the reactor.

The company was organized to consolidate the efforts of a number of power companies interested in the development of the breeder type of reactor.

Business Notes

Voydanoff's Shell Service, 68 Auburn Ave., has been named one of 40 finalists in the gasoline service station category of the current 1955 "Brand Name Retailer-of-the-Year" competition, contest officials said yesterday.

The station is owned by Christopher Voydanoff, of 888 Hollywood St.

Voydanoff will be invited to submit to the judges a detailed account of the business' 1955 advertising and other sales promotion activities. Winners of top awards in 24 retailing categories will receive national recognition at a banquet in New York City on April 18.

C. F. Durrant, general agent for the Columbus Mutual Life Insurance Co., and a member of the company's board has returned from Columbus, O., where he attended the annual meeting. He reports the company in 1955 had the most successful year in its 30-year history.

Man, Wife Injured as Car Hits Train

A Rochester man and wife were hospitalized after their pick-up truck collided with a Grand Trunk Railroad diesel engine yesterday.

George P. Terrill and Ida Terrill, both 63, suffered possible head injuries, authorities in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital said.

Terrill, who was driving, told police he didn't see train signals flashing when the accident occurred at the railroad crossing on Oakland Ave.

Struck by the train, the truck bounced into a car owned by Ray Stauffer, 40, of Waterford, who was uninjured, police said.

Consumers Power Head Gets Corporation Post

Dan E. Karn, president of Consumers Power Company, has been elected vice president of the Power Reactor Development company, it was announced today.

Power Reactor Development company is a non-profit Michigan Corporation organized to construct and operate a developmental fast neutron breeder reactor in Southeastern Michigan. The company is dedicated to research and development in the use of nuclear fuels, according to Mr. Karn, and the results of its efforts will be made available to the Atomic Energy Commission and to others as directed by the Commission.

Bloody Rioting Surrounds Graham's India Crusade

By GEORGE BURNHAM
Chattanooga News-Free Press Staff Writer

BOMBAY, India—Billy Graham, who flew 8,000 miles to India as a representative of the Prince of Peace, was welcomed with a bloody orgy of mob violence described as the blackest days in the history of ancient Bombay.

The surging street battles between howling mobs and rifle-firing police, with death tolls climbing and hundreds injured, forced cancellation of Billy's Friday meeting here.

The rally, which would have been the largest Protestant religious meeting ever held here, would have been the first on the 25,000-mile around-the-world tour.

Two persons were killed outside the stadium where the meeting was scheduled to be held. A mob of rock - throwing hooligans attacked the police station only a few minutes after Christian leaders of Bombay had conferred with the police commissioner about the danger of holding the meeting.

Five officers were killed during the day as police clamped a tight dusk-to-dawn curfew on the city and ordered cancellation of all public meetings and sports events. Authorities agreed it would be inviting a major disaster to hold the large open air religious meeting with such tension mounting.

CAUSE OF VIOLENCE

A civil disturbance over the party that would rule Bombay, not the visit of Billy, was given as the cause of the violence but most officials agreed that the uprising was Communist inspired. Rioting has now spread to Madras.

Billy went to troubled areas of Bombay where trams were stoned and cars burned. He saw young men beating an old shopkeeper for keeping his store open. Human hate was rampant. A policeman was stoned to death at his post. Acid bombs were thrown into faces of people.

Billy has said on many occasions that "Our skins may be different but the human heart, whether American or Indian, is the same. An intellectual pilot will fly through the skies and drop an atom bomb on human beings. A jungle savage will creep along the trail and plunge a spear into a man.

During his travels around Bombay Billy saw many things strange to an American. He saw a mongoose kill a cobra; took off his shoes and walked through a Hindu temple where people worshipped some of their 25,000 gods; saw scores of mothers, fathers and children sleeping on streets and saw them tie their few possessions on branches of trees. During the day he talked with educated men who would never kill a cow or an ant or any living thing for fear they would be killing an ancestor.

When Billy returned to his hotel room he fell on his knees and prayed, "Oh God, help us to love these people. Help us to put our arms around them and love them as Christ would have done."

The masses didn't get to hear Billy in Bombay, but a large indoor meeting was held for ministers and Christian workers. They rejoiced over the fact that God could use mob violence to make Bombay the most prayed-for city in history.

Billy told them he was not discouraged. Hate and death had marred the beginning, he said, but added that Christians around the world were praying that God would use the weakness of fighting men to spotlight the promises of Christ for people everywhere.

Most Grains Run Up Losses

CHICAGO (AP) — A minor downward trend caused most grains to run up losses extending to less than a cent on the Board of Trade today.

At the start trading was very slow. It became slightly more active later but still remained well under the volume of a couple of weeks ago. Wheat and corn suffered widest losses while soybeans, responding to further gains in soybean oil, held steady.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅛ to ½ lower, March $2.09⅝; corn ⅛ to ⅝ lower, March $1.29⅝; oats ⅛ lower to ¼ higher, March 65⅛; rye unchanged to ¼ lower, March $1.21; soybeans ½ lower to ¼ higher, March $2.46, and lard 2 to 8 cents a hundred pounds higher, March $11.80.

While most of the points reporting to local houses from the winter wheat belt did not mention any additional moisture overnight, traders felt the outlook for the crop had improved considerably as a result of this week's snow and rain. That fact discouraged buying.

Ad to Cure Baldness Is Challenged by FTC

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) accused Leo O. Johnson, of New Orleans today of falsely advertising he has a cure for baldness and dandruff.

* * *

The complaint involved advertisements by the Johnson Hair and Scalp Clinic for a do-it-yourself kit, and clinic treatments.

The FTC said Johnson has branches at Detroit, Erie, Pa., Youngstown and Canton, Ohio.

The complaint alleges Johnson "contrary to fact" has represented his method and treatment will permanently eliminate dandruff and itchy or irritated scalp, prevent and overcome baldness, and grow new hair.

The FTC said answers to its complaints may be filed within 30 days, and scheduled a hearing for March 26 at New Orleans.

Detroit Boxer Dies After Workout Bout

DETROIT (INS) — Twenty-four-year-old Detroit heavyweight boxer Eddie Lee Walker, died last night in Receiving Hospital after collapsing last Friday during a workout at the Motor City gym.

Walker was working out with another Detroit heavyweight, Johnny Summerlin. When he went to his corner at the end of a round, Walker complained of a pain in one arm and then collapsed.

He was taken to Receiving when handlers were unable to revive him.

Takes Hospital Post

DETROIT (AP)—Mrs. Gerard R. Slattery, daughter-in-law of the late U.S. Sen. James Couzens and long active in Detroit civic activities, was elected president of the Children's Hospital of Michigan yesterday. Sen. Couzens served as president of the hospital in the 1920s.

Propose Revival of Credit Curbs

War Regulation Would Enable Reserve Board to Invoke Old Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal controls on consumer credit, when they expired May 7, 1952, required a one-third down payment on automobiles and full payment within 18 months.

If adopted by Congress, President Eisenhower's suggestion yesterday that standby control authority be restored would reinstate the power of the Federal Reserve Board to invoke—when and if necessary—the old "Regulation W."

Used in World War II and revived in the Korean War, Regulation W specified down payments of not less than 15 per cent and installment payments running not longer than 18 months for furniture, floor coverings, and major appliances like refrigerators and washing machines.

These were the terms in the final eight months of the regulation. They had been altered from time to time earlier.

At one point auto buyers were allowed only 15 months to pay, and purchasers of home appliances were obliged to make 25 per cent down payments.

Regulation W also originally demanded a 10 per cent down payment and 30-month installment period for more improvement and repair and articles and services such as plumbing and heating, but this was eliminated by Congress in March, 1952.

Congress showed impatience with the controls as 1952 advanced. In April, it exempted articles costing less than $100 from the regulation. In May the Federal Reserve decided to remove all the restraints and on June 30, 1952, the legal authority expired.

Earnings

RACINE, Wis. (INS)—J. I. Case Co., farm machinery maker, reports net income for the fiscal year ended Oct. 31 of $902,830, equal to 11 cents a common share. This compared with a net loss of $549,252 in the preceding year. Sales increased to $94,848,841 from $92,350,901 the year previous. John T. Brown, president, said the profit was due to "improvement in sales and accumulated benefits of efforts to increase efficiency and reduce expenses."

NEW YORK (INS) — Georgia-Pacific Plywood Co. has announced net income for the year ended Dec. 31 of $6,202,747, equal to $5.06 a common share. This compared with $1,794,514, or $1.54 a common share, in the preceding year. Sales increased to $91,203,602 from $68,873,786 in 1954. Owen P. Cheatham, president, indicated a three-month long strike in the plywood industry in 1954, was an important factor in 1955's better showing.

Small Carmakers Step Up Efforts to Boost Sales

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP) — The position and prospects of the smaller auto companies are attracting increasing interest in trade quarters as another of the car industry's most competitive years gets under way.

The smaller companies —American Motors (Hudson and Nash) and Studebaker-Packard — currently are moving faster than they did in the like 1955 period. The larger companies, meanwhile, have eased their production pace.

Before World War II the smaller companies accounted for close to 10 per cent of the industry's over-all production and sales. Last year they got 4.40 per cent of the output total. This included a less than one-tenth of one percentage share that went to Kaiser Motors (Kaiser and Willys).

Kaiser Motors has been out of the passenger car production program for nearly 10 months. There is no present indication the company, now concentrating on manufacture of trucks and utility vehicles, intends to resume passenger car output.

Studebaker-Packard and American Motors have substantially restyled and broadened their 1956 model cars. Both expect to increase their penetration of the over-all passenger car market. James J. Nance, president of Studebaker-Packard, stresses the fact his company has a car in every price field and more favorable prospects in its labor relations.

This is particularly true, he says, of the Studebaker Division, where heretofore high manufacturing costs hampered successful competition.

George Romney, American Motors' president, visualizes a steadily-increasing demand for a smaller car like the 108-inch wheelbase Rambler in various body styles. His company, too, has been consolidating.

Whether the two companies can boost last year's 4.4 per cent of the industry production to anywhere near the pre-war 10 per cent is anybody's guess.

If you wanted to be just plain realistic you would consider that whatever gain is made by American Motors and Studebaker-Packard has to come from such giants as General Motors, Ford and Chrysler, and the job will not be an easy one.

It was the dwindling of their market that brought about the merging of Kaiser and Willys, Hudson and Nash, and Packard and Studebaker. It is no secret that for some of them mergers offered the only hope for survival.

A merger of American Motors and Studebaker-Packard is one of the things many industry analysts expected would come in 1955. Whether it will develop this year undoubtedly depends upon how successful the two companies are in their drive to get more of the car market.

Of last year's 7,942,107 car assemblies, American Motors accounted for 161,792 or 2.04 per cent. Studebaker-Packard built 182,033 or 2.29 per cent. An increase of only one per cent by each company in a seven million car market could hold substantial profit possibilities.

Ford Payroll Passes $1 Billion for Year

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co.'s annual payroll climbed above the billion-dollar mark in 1955 for the first time in its 53-year history.

Ford's payroll for an average of 181,616 employes last year was $1,117,563,905, John S. Bugas, vice president for industrial relations, reported yesterday. He said this was 129 million dollars more than the company's previous record in 1953.

Average wages for hourly employes were $106.68 a week, another record for the company, Bugas said. The average work week was 44.2 hours.

Ford said its employes' average hourly earnings were about $30 more per week than the $76.63 estimated average, including overtime, for all manufacturing industries, based on figures from the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics.

9-Year-Old Editor Finishes Story as Career Ends

BOSTON (AP) — The newspaper, "The Boston Rocket," was out of existence today. Its editor, 9-year-old Robert Decker who had hoped to be a real newspaperman some day, died yesterday of cirrhosis of the liver.

• • •

Bobby put out his pencilled news sheet from his bed in the Massachusetts Memorial Hospital. He wrote of other patients, the nurses and doctors — and seven weeks ago he noted: "Only 17 days to Christmas ... Santa will be here soon."

• • •

One of the highlights of Bobby's short life came recently when an Associated Press reporter interviewed him and an Associated Press photographer took his picture. The sheaves of clippings about himself, sent by news clipping services, brightened his life for days.

But this is the end of Robert Decker's brave story — "30," in the journalistic tradition.

Ford Continental Plant Work Hit by Walkout

DETROIT (AP) — A walkout of 60 workers halted production at the Ford Continental plant yesterday.

The workers blamed a "speed-up" in the trim and final assembly departments. The company declined comment.

The division employs some 300. Workers are represented by the United Auto Workers Union. No negotiations were scheduled.

One acre of 10 in the U.S. planted to crops is lost to insect damage.

FOR SALE

Sealed proposals will be received by the Board of Trustees of the Pontiac General Hospital, 461 West Huron Street, Pontiac, Michigan up to 3 p.m. Eastern Standard Time, February 6, 1956 for the sale of four (4) houses located at 10, 35 and 39 Seminole and 23 South Johnson Avenue, Pontiac, Michigan.

Proposals will be accepted for individual houses or any combination of houses.

Successful bidder or bidders will be required to secure necessary wrecking and/or removal permits from the Building Inspector, and post the required deposits; also to comply with all applicable laws, ordinances, rules and regulations. Further Surety Bond guaranteeing removal within sixty (60) days from the date of sale.

Buildings to be removed completely from the premises, including the removal of foundation walls even with existing grades. All materials, debris, etc., are to be removed from the premises. Any damage to pavings, curbs, fences or adjoining property to be paid for by the purchaser.

Purchaser to contact utility companies to cut off or remove electric or gas services.

Each bid shall be accompanied by a certified check or a Bid Bond to the extent of 10% of the bid.

Buildings must be completely removed and premises cleaned up on or before April 16, 1956.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

Notice is hereby given of a public hearing to be held by the White Lake Township Zoning Board at the Township Hall on January 30, 1956 at 8:00 p.m. to consider the following changes in the Zoning Ordinance and Zoning Map.

Ordinance No. 1

Of the Township of White Lake, Oakland County, Michigan

An ordinance to amend White Lake Township Rural Zoning Ordinance by amending:

Article IX—Section 6.1—Health, Sanitary, Safety and Protective Measures

Article V—Section 5.1—Districts

Article VI—Section 6.1—Residence 1 District

Article VIII—Section 8.1—Commercial 1 District

Article IX—Section 9.2—Manufacturing 1 District

Article IV—Health, Sanitary Safety and Protective Measures—Section 4.1

Add: subsection (C) to read as follows: (C) Basement rooms hereinafter created shall not be considered dwellings nor shall any habitable room be located in a basement unless such room shall have one half (½) of its heighth from floor to ceiling above the ground elevation (finished surface) in the proximity of the windows of the room. All habitable rooms in basements shall have sufficient light and ventilation as required for rooms of similar use above grade and shall be sufficiently well-drained to remain dry.

Article V—Districts: Section 5.1 shall be amended to read as follows:

Add: Trailer Coach Park District

Article VI—Residence 1 District—Section 6.1, subsection 1 shall be amended to read as follows:

Dwelling—1 Family
Dwelling—2 Family

Article VIII—Commercial 1 District—Section 8.1, subsection H (as amended) is hereby revoked.

Article VIII—Commercial 1 District, Section 8.1, a new subsection (H) is added to read as follows (H) Multiple Dwellings.

Article IX—Manufacturing 1 District—Section 9.2 (as amended) Building Requirements—Delete: "Except heighth limitations shall not apply to buildings in a Manufacturing District."

Add: Section 9.2 to read as follows:

Section 9.2 Heighth—

No portion of a building shall exceed a height of two and one-half (2½) stories or thirty-five (35) feet, except that towers, chimneys and similar structures may be erected to a greater height when permitted by the Board of Appeals.

TRAILER COACH PARK DISTRICT

16.1 In a district designed as "Trailer Coach Park," land may be used for the purpose of operation of a trailer coach park as defined and regulated by Act 143 of the Public Acts of 1939, as amended, except that same shall conform to the following requirements:

(a) No Trailer Coach Park shall be located in a site so that it shall have a front yard of less than twenty-five (25) feet, a side yard of less than ten (10) feet and rear yard of less than fifteen (15) feet. All such yards shall be free and clear of all obstructions.

(b) Plot plan for proposed Trailer Coach Park shall provide a space with a minimum width of not less than fifty (50) feet and an area of not less than five thousand (5000) square feet for each trailer.

(c) Plot plan shall provide that appurtenances and utilities, such as sewer, water and electricity hookups shall be placed on the plot so that the trailer when located on the plot will not occupy the rear fifteen (15) feet of plot.

(d) Sidewalks, private roads and easements shall not be counted as a part of the required five thousand (5000) square feet.

(e) Each Trailer Coach Park shall provide an electric distribution system that conforms with the requirements of the local electric utility and shall make available for each trailer space a 3 wire 120-240 volt electric service.

16.2 A land use permit shall be granted the applicant upon the furnishing of plans and specifications showing compliance with the above requirements and payment of a fee of twenty-five ($25.00) dollars. Such land use permit shall be revocable for noncompliance with the space requirements of this Section. Unless revoked, such land use permits shall be valid for a period of five (5) years.

To consider the following changes in the Zoning Map.

From Commercial 1 District to Trailer Coach Park 1 District:

Town 3 N, Range 9 E, Section 14, part of the SW ¼ beginning at the S ¼ corner thence W 1,502.11 feet; thence N 522.04 feet; thence E 537.09 feet; thence S 100.00 feet; thence E 973.25 feet; thence S 7°00' E 470.00 feet; thence E 100.27 feet; thence S 35 feet to beginning. Also S 33 feet of W 35 feet of the SE ¼. 12.77 A.

The above stated amendments are hereby declared to be immediately necessary for the preservation of the public health, peace and safety and are hereby ordered to take effect thirty (30) days after publication.

Signed: PERCY STOWE, Chairman
White Lake Township Zoning Board

Senate Ready to Debate Bills

Chemical Drunk Tests for Motorists Lead List of '56 Legislations

LANSING (AP) — Two weeks after it convened for the 1956 legislative session, the Senate was ready today to debate its first bills—including one legalizing the use of chemical tests to detect drunkeness.

The Senate Judiciary Committee released with insignificant changes the Vander Werp bill which would permit court use of tests made on persons accused of drunkeness, largely drunk drivers.

Under the proposal, a person determined to have less than 0.5 per cent of alcohol by weight in his bloodstream would be declared sober, one with between 0.5 per cent and 1.5 per cent would be considered a borderline case subject to other evidence and one with more than 1.5 per cent would be considered intoxicated.

TESTS VOLUNTARY

The tests would be voluntary on the part of the accused.

The measure is a watered-down version of an earlier bill which would have required every motorist when he got his driver's license to agree to take the test at any time a police officer demanded it.

Sen. Owen M. Brown (D-Detroit) filed a bill to broaden the Diggs law which forbids hotels and public eating places to reject patrons because of their color. Her bill would include motels and tourist homes in the law and would stiffen penalties.

Bills introduced in the House would:

Require licensing of motor boats, the licenses to cost $1 apiece.

Require annual physical examinations of school bus drivers.

Allow counties of less than 20,000 population to abolish the office of drain commissioner.

Allow commercial fishermen to start taking perch in Saginaw Bay on May 10, instead of May 20.

Require police to impound for from 15 to 30 days cars in which minors are caught transporting liquor.

Auto Official Warns of Union's Monopoly

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — George Romney, president of American Motors Corp., says "One of the great challenges to our future is the monopoly power of organized labor."

But he added in a speech last night before the Utah Manufacturers Assn. that "In my book up to this point the good results of collective bargaining outweigh the bad."

The monopoly power of great corporations, he said "is not the only monopoly we have to fear.

"A single union such as the teamsters has virtually absolute control over the transportation of goods and has in it the power to paralyse the national economy..

"The change in unions in the past decade from relatively free associations of individuals to compulsory membership through union security provisions in management-union contracts is another development that places increasing power in the hands of union leadership."

American Motors makes Nash and Hudson autos and Kelvinator refrigerators.

World Bank Leader En Route to Egypt

LONDON (AP) — Eugene Black, president of the World Bank, arrived today from Washington en route to Egypt for discussions on the Aswan dam project.

• • •

Black told newsmen he will spend two days in London to meet with British treasury and Bank of England officials before going on to Cairo for discussions with Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser.

The United States and Britain have been reported willing to lend Egypt some 130 million dollars for construction of the huge dam on the Upper Nile as a step to counter Soviet economic penetration of the Middle East.

• • •

The World Bank also is ready to help finance building the dam but the Egyptians have balked at certain assurances the bank is asking.

Thief Visits Car Lot Drives Away in Loot

A thief broke into a used car lot office at 235 W. Montcalm St. Tuesday night and escaped in one of the cars from the lot, Pontiac Police were told.

Owner of the lot, Harry Hutt, 1082 Meadowlawn St., reported $168 in cash and property missing. The culprit broke in through a rear window, he said.

The stolen car is owned by Peter Lorenz, of Clarkston, who had parked it there, police were told.

RITA

Was it Rita Hayworth's Egyptian beau, Raymond Hakim, who caused the bustup of her plans to go back to Columbia Pictures? Rita sailed for Paris — alone — after Columbia suddenly and quite mysteriously got cold to the idea of her returning to work.

The studio told her she'd have to accept second billing to Kirk Douglas in "Pal Joey" — whereupon she left Hollywood and booked passage for Paris.

Thus ended the truce in their lawsuit which courts must now rule on. Hakim was constantly with Rita, and maybe the studio felt Hakim was going to be taking over her business as well as romantic affairs, as Dick Haymes did, and that it would be swapping an old headache for a new one. Anyway, the lovely peace plan is dead.

Deadline Cited in Fluoride Plan

Parents of Willis Pupils Must Turn in Consents by Tomorrow

Mothers of second and fifth graders in Willis School have until tomorrow morning to return consent slips allowing their children to participate in a fluoride dental program starting there tomorrow.

The fluoride treatment consists of cleansing the teeth and giving four applications of sodium fluoride. The service, at a fee of $4 to cover costs, is available to second and fifth graders only because at these ages children usually have new teeth.

Fluoride applications, which reduced tooth decay by 40 per cent in group tests on children, is most effective when applied soon after the new teeth have grown out, program leaders point out. It is advisable also for eighth graders, but lack of facilities has prevented the schools from including this age group in the program.

Next on the schedule for fluoride treatments are grades two and five of Longfellow School. Josephine Seeley, coordinator of health services for Pontiac schools, said a deadline of Feb. 3 has been set for parents to register their children for the Longfellow program which will begin the week of Feb. 6.

Plans also are being formulated to coordinate the same program in Hawthorne and Wever schools when Wever completes its transfer from a junior high to an elementary school.

Army Seeks Recruits for Infantry Division

Local Army Recruiting Sgt. Thomas L. Murphy announced today that his office has named February "8th Infantry Division Month."

This division, Sgt. Murphy explained, is slated to move to Europe this summer for a three-year tour of duty.

Men interested in volunteering to serve with the 8th Infantry Division, Sgt. Murphy said, may obtain information and literature about the division from local recruiters stationed in the courthouse, or from his office.

Court to Decide on Bail Freedom for Otto John

KARLSRUHE, Germany (INS)—The West German Federal Court will decide next week whether Dr. Otto John should be freed on bail.

The turnabout former security chief, who returned last month after 17 months behind the Iron Curtain, is in prison in Mannheim. He was arrested on charges of "suspicion of treason."

John's attorney, Helmut Dix of Cologne, asked the court either to withdraw the arrest warrant or set John free on bail.

The court said today it would decide on Dix's petition in closed session next week.

Court officials said the "preliminary" investigation of John's activities and his account of his stay in East Germany probably would last for several more months.

6 Children Burned to Death in Home Fire

BRIDGETON, N. J. (AP)—Six children were burned to death in a fire that destroyed their home on a rural road three miles outside this southeastern New Jersey community early today.

• • •

The blaze, believed to have started in a defective oil stove, destroyed the two-story frame home occupied by Austin Pitts and Hazel Pierce, whom police said was his common-law wife. Both are Negroes.

MADE HELPLESS

The two adults and the youngest child were on the first floor when the blaze broke out about 1 a.m. Pitts grabbed the child, Andrew Pitts, 4 months, and brought him to safety.

He tried re-entering the home to save the others but suffered severe burns to his hands and was forced to stand by helplessly listening to the screams of the other six children, all of whom had been asleep upstairs.

• • •

Those killed were Margaret, 16; Thomas, 11; Perry, 10; Sheila, 5; Harvey, 3; and Paula 1½.

Pitts and his wife were both reported in a state of shock.

Senator Warns Home Builders

Broadening of Low Cost Housing Market Urged by Sparkman

CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala) called upon home builders today to broaden the housing market by building more low cost housing.

"In 1954," Sparkman said in a prepared address, "about half the new starts were under $12,000; in 1955, only 35 per cent."

The senator, who is chairman of the Senate subcommittee on housing, told the National Assn. of Home Builders' convention that "This trend perturbs me."

"First, it means that fewer homes are being built for middle and lower income families. Second, it means that some of you may be pricing yourselves out of the market."

The senator said he has felt "for some time that the housing industry could build and the economy could absorb a minumum of 1½ million new starts each year, but to achieve it we must tap a market that has not yet been reached."

The association has estimated that 1,320,000 homes were built in 1955, and predicts 100,000 will be added to that figure in 1956.

Sparkman, who was the Democratic party's vice presidential nominee in 1952, said the "tight money market" which "has been one of your primary difficulties over the past six months may continue well into 1956."

Flint Resident Pleads Guilty on Two Counts

Melvin Glass, 39, of Flint, appeared yesterday before Springfield Township Justice Emmett J. Leib on two traffic counts. He pleaded guilty to driving with an invalid license and to reckless driving.

For driving with an invalid license, Glass was fined $75 with $25 costs and sentenced to jail for 15 days. For reckless driving, he was fined $100 with $25 costs.

Cyril Ritchard to Lend Support

'Stage Show' Backers Balk at Shift-Around of Saturday Programs

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — Hallmark Playhouse lured Julie Harris to TV for "The Good Fairy" Feb. 5 with scads of cash and the fact that Helen Hayes did it in the 1931 Broadway original . . .

Her supporting cast will be a dinger: Cyril Ritchard, fresh from his "Peter Pan" TV triumph; Walter Slezak of "Fanny" fame; Roddy McDowell of "No Time for Sergeants;" Harry Ellerbe of Shirley Booth's "Desk Set;" Temple Texas, named after her native Temple, Tex., presently of Broadway's "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter," and Paul Lynde of TV and the supper clubs . . .

CBS has okayed the shift of Gleason's "Honeymooners" from 8:30 to 9 p.m. (EST) but the sponsors of "Stage Show" are balking at the 9 p.m. time (CBS) wants Herb Shriner to switch to 8:30) because they want the kids in the audience and don't wish to bank the ABC-TV Lawrence Welk musicals, which quietly has forged into the smash hit category . . .

Nothing much this year or generation was duller than the latest Max Liebman spectacular, though it contained lively and talented performers like Dan Dailey and Helen Gallagher.

It was one long Parisian cliche, written and produced as if by someone who's never been closer to France than a 1925 Irene Bordoni musical . . .

ROSEMARY TO STAR

Rosemary Clooney signed to star in 39 half-hour TV films for syndication . . .

Nelson Riddle's band, the Hi Lo's and a weekly guest star will romp with Rosie . . . Producer is Joe Shribman, Rosie's manager.

Dozens of Hollywood stars on "Inside Beverly Hills" Sunday better look out for a real scene-stealer: A $25,000 French poodle.

Leo Durocher, benched by NBC after going hitless in two Comedy Hours, was told to warm up for coverage of the baseball players' golf tournament Feb. 19 on "Wide, Wide World."

He'll also co-star with Laraine Day Durocher (and the $25,000 poodle) on "Inside Beverly Hills" and Feb 1 on Screen Directors' Playhouse.

"Dragnet" has made the big change: Jack Webb now has his people talking like people instead of dull robots . . .

Webb's brand new "Dragnet" set caught fire and the ladder laddies caught up on their autographs after dousing the blaze, ma'm.

'POISON TO POISON'

It was "Poison to Poison" for Dick Kollmar. While he was home rehearsing his Murrow klatch (with frau Dorothy Kilgallen and kiddies) two guys robbed his Broadway show, "Plain and Fancy," of $7,000 payroll cash . . .

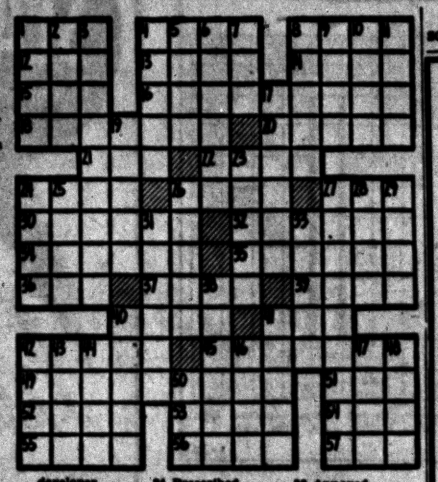

Gen. David Sarnoff, RCA board chairman receives the James Forrestal Memorial Award Thursday. President Eisenhower accepted it last year.

It's given annually to "a distinguished American whose leadership has promoted significant understanding and cooperation between industry and government in the interest of national security."

The Sarnoff speech will be carried 9:30 to 10:15 p.m. (EST) from the dinner of the National Security Assn. in Washington's Sheraton-Park Hotel. A magnificently earned honor.

OKs Women Ministers

DETROIT (AP)—The presbytery of Detroit last night joined 58 other presbyteries across the country in approving a proposal to allow ordination of women as ministers in the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America. Fourteen other presbyteries have voted against the proposal and a large number still are to be heard from. The general assembly of the church had asked for an opinion on women ministers, a proposal defeated in 1929 and 1946.

Egypt Fever Grips Hungarian Workers

VIENNA (AP) — Communist-ruled Hungary is gripped by "Egypt fever," complains the Budapest press. It seems nearly everybody wants to go to Egypt, perhaps seeing therein a chance of escaping the homeland.

• • •

This fever started several weeks ago when the Hungarian government announced it had contracted to build several bridges across the Nile and was sending a mission of engineers and technicians to carry out the project in Egypt.

"This news spread like wildfire," reports the newspaper Dunantuli Naplo. "The 'Egyptian fever' spread like a disease which broke out with symptoms of hasty planning and whispering propaganda.

"People dashed to their lawyers demanding a divorce because they had heard only unmarried men were being accepted for the Egyptian mission.

"It is almost as difficult as treating an epidemic to handle this problem."

Wins $100 Street Car; Costs $100 to Move It

DALLAS (AP)—Bobby Sliger, 20-year-old bank messenger, is now the owner of a 48-foot streetcar but has no place to put it. He won it in a drawing held by the Dallas Transit Co. which gave the streetcar away when it converted to buses this month.

But Sliger, who has 10 days to move the trolley off the transit company's property, can't say he wasn't warned. In announcing the drawing the transit firm said it would cost at least $100 to move the aged streetcar which is worth about $100.

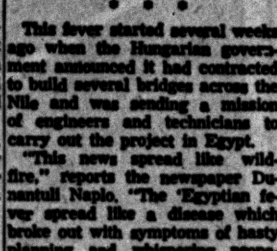

Crime Writer, Maybe

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — When arrested yesterday, Jonathan Farris Parks, Fresno, Calif., told police he was a writer carrying the tools of his trade. Police charged Parks, 31, with stealing a typewriter and phonograph from Radio Station WKYW.

First Day Experience

DALLAS (AP)—Det. Lt. J. C. Wilson went into a restaurant last night to dine during his first day's duty with the Police Burglary-and-theft Bureau. While he was dining a thief stole his hat.

Answer to Today's Puzzle

He Means Business

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Gov. A. B. Chandler meant business when he said recently state-owned vehicles were to be used for business only. Yesterday he ordered State Police to stop any state-owned vehicles they see on the highways at night and on Sunday. Drivers of the vehicles — presumably state employes — would be asked to explain to their superiors why the vehicles were in use.

"A painful strain almost ruined my vacation!"

Victoria Lamb of Westmont, Ill., says, "I was about to board a train when I suffered a nasty fall, straining my back so painfully that I was scarcely able to walk. With assistance, I managed to get on the train, wondering what I could do about the dreadful pain. Then I remembered I had a tube of Ben-Gay in my bag. I thought it was worth a try, and it certainly was! After an application of Ben-Gay, I made myself as comfortable as possible. The next day, I found the pain had eased amazingly. I was able to walk without pain and arrived home feeling relieved and ever grateful to Ben-Gay."

Thousands of people, like Miss Lamb, have found Ben-Gay to be amazingly effective in relieving the pains of muscle strain. Here's why: Ben-Gay contains up to two and a half times more of two famous pain-relieving agents than five other widely offered rub-ins! Ben-Gay acts two ways. First, extra blood is brought coursing to the painful area. Second, a pain-deadening action starts at once. The painful muscle strain starts to ease up almost instantly. So keep Ben-Gay on hand always for fast relief from muscle aches and pains. Ben-Gay acts fast where you hurt!

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plates dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

'Phantom Freight on Cars Must Stop,' — Monroney

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Monroney (D-Okla) says the auto buyer is "getting socked" because of what he termed favoritism that permits Detroit auto dealers to engage in elaborate "bootlegging" of new cars.

Monroney, chairman of a Senate commerce subcommittee looking into auto marketing practices, made this statement this week after hearing testimony from the National Automobile Dealers Assn. urging that the charging of "phantom freight" by auto manufacturers be stopped.

"Phantom freight" is the difference which dealers must pay manufacturers between the actual cost of transporting autos from assembly plants and the higher fixed rail rate from Detroit which is tacked onto the buyer's bill.

Paul E. Herzog, manager of the association's research division, estimated—a conservative figure he called it—that 214 million dollars in such charges were paid in 1954.

'FAVORITISM'

Under Monroney's questioning, Herzog said dealers in the Detroit area are not charged phantom freight but pay only a token delivery charge of about $5.

Monroney called this "favoritism" and "free loading." He said it has led to elaborate auto bootlegging and the auto buyer "getting socked."

Citing statistics, Monroney said there are twice as many cars registered in California as in Michigan but the same number of cars are delivered to Michigan dealers as to California dealers.

DRIVE-ONE, TOW-ONE

For example, he said, bootleg operators might hire five youths to go to Detroit in a jalopy, sell the jalopy and buy 10 new cars from Detroit bootleg dealers and drive them back to California on a "drive one, tow one" basis.

Monroney said the bootleg dealers make $50 or so on the operation and the out-of-town operator then pockets big profits at the expense of the consumer.

Herzog said it was "misleading and deceptive" to charge a customer an imaginary, nonexistent transportation charge. He gave the senators figures showing dealers around the country paid an average of at least $50 per car in phantom freight charges.

OUTSIDE DETROIT AREA

When motorists buy cars, Herzog said, part of the charge is the cost of shipping from Detroit. This, he said, is a fixed charge which is the same even if the cars are assembled at places closer to where the autos are purchased.

Herzog said "more than 60 per cent of the automobile production in the United States takes place outside of the Detroit area." He cited figures indicating a cost of $40.83 per ton to ship autos from Detroit and only $26.67 per ton to ship parts to the outlying assembly factories.

"We believe the customer is entitled to an honest statement of the charges involved in the transaction," Herzog said.

* * *

He said the phantom freight system also means that car makers with assembly plants spread throughout the country are able to get bigger profits than the smaller manufacturers who have no such plants.

Consolidated Edison Co. of New York, serving America's largest metropolis, and Detroit Edison Co., which serves the nation's automobile capital, Detroit, each use nearly 5,000,000 tons of coals year to produce electric power.
