Nation's Roads Attract Millions of Travelers

Is It Cool or Is It Not?

Weatherman on the Spot, His 'Proof' Isn't So Hot

In the past week, The Press carried two stories from W. W. Oak, head of the U.S. Weather Bureau for this area, proving this is a "normal" and "usual" summer.

He cites statistics up to the first of August, definitely proving both.

Today The Press receives a story from International News Service in which U. S. Weather Bureau officials in Washington say the summer of 1956 was the "coolest in recent years for a large part of the U. S. including the Great Lakes region."

Boys, you better go into a huddle and talk this whole thing over. When you reach an agreement, issue us a Master Statement that everyone including Joe Smith can understand.

Here is the INS story:

The weatherman will soon make official what many Americans knew—and enjoyed—during the last three months.

The summer of 1956, now coming to its unofficial Labor Day holiday end, was one of the coolest in recent years for large parts of the United States.

West Gets Heavy Snow

DENVER (AP)—Higher elevations in Colorado and Wyoming received light to heavy snow early today.

The State Highway Patrol said light snow fell at Estes Park and in northern Colorado near the Wyoming line.

On Trail Ridge road, the world's loftiest continuous highway through Rocky Mountain National Park west of Estes Park, the fall was heavy.

Official U. S. Weather Bureau charts are now being prepared comparing this summer with past summers but weather bureau climatologist Robert Schloemer took time out today to give International News Service this preview:

—This summer has been "consistently cooler" for the Northeastern U. S. and the Great Lakes region.

—Even the South Atlantic and Southern states enjoyed "cooler than usual, but not unusually cool, summer weather."

—The Plains states had warmer weather than usual since they did not share in the cooling mass of Canadian air that benefited Northern and Eastern U.S.

Schloemer also cited these weather highlights of the last three months:

—In June, several stations recorded the lowest June temperatures in 69 years. Green Bay, Wis., for example, reported a June recording of 33 degrees.

—Aug. 3 was a day of record lows in the mid-40s for Buffalo, Rochester and Albany, N. Y.

—Aug. 22 was another day of record lows for states east of the Mississippi river, with Pittsburgh recording a low of 46 degrees, the coldest Aug. 22 since 1876 when the recordings began.

—On the same day, Philadelphia's weather bureau recorded a low of 53 degrees, the coldest Aug. 22 in 92 years of recorded data.

Pending final checks, Schloemer said summertime 1956 may stack up as the coolest in five years.

And why all the cool weather? Schloemer attributes it to a shift in prevailing upper winds which brought cool Canadian air down across the U.S.

Prize Climbs to $700

Readers Try 4,906 Times, Fail to Solve Gold Puzzle

Sherlock Holmes would have shivered in delight.

Our weekly word game episode had all the elements of a super mystery: clues galore, a list of over 30 "suspects," a deadly chase and 4,906 Private Eyes, each bent on collecting a reward of $625.

But the "Eyes" didn't have it—and so, for lack of a Pot-O-Gold winner, the prize for a successful solution next week climbs to $700—plus a $25 bonus for being a regular Press subscriber.

Besides its other obvious attractions, the $700 pot has a lucky heritage. It was when our venerable container was just that full that the first Pot-O-Gold winner collected her prize—for half an hour's work!

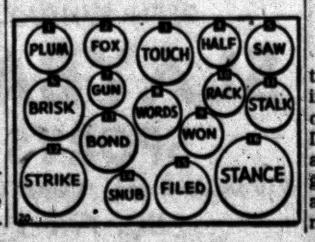

The perpetrator of last week's mystery has delved into the lineup of suspects and come up with the 16 culprits who did the deed—their "names" and the reasons for their apprehension are on Page 40.

And don't be soured on word games if last week's maze of clues left you gasping—by all means turn to Page 5 where the last edition of Puzzle No. 13 appears.

Solve it and you'll be the area's richest word detective.

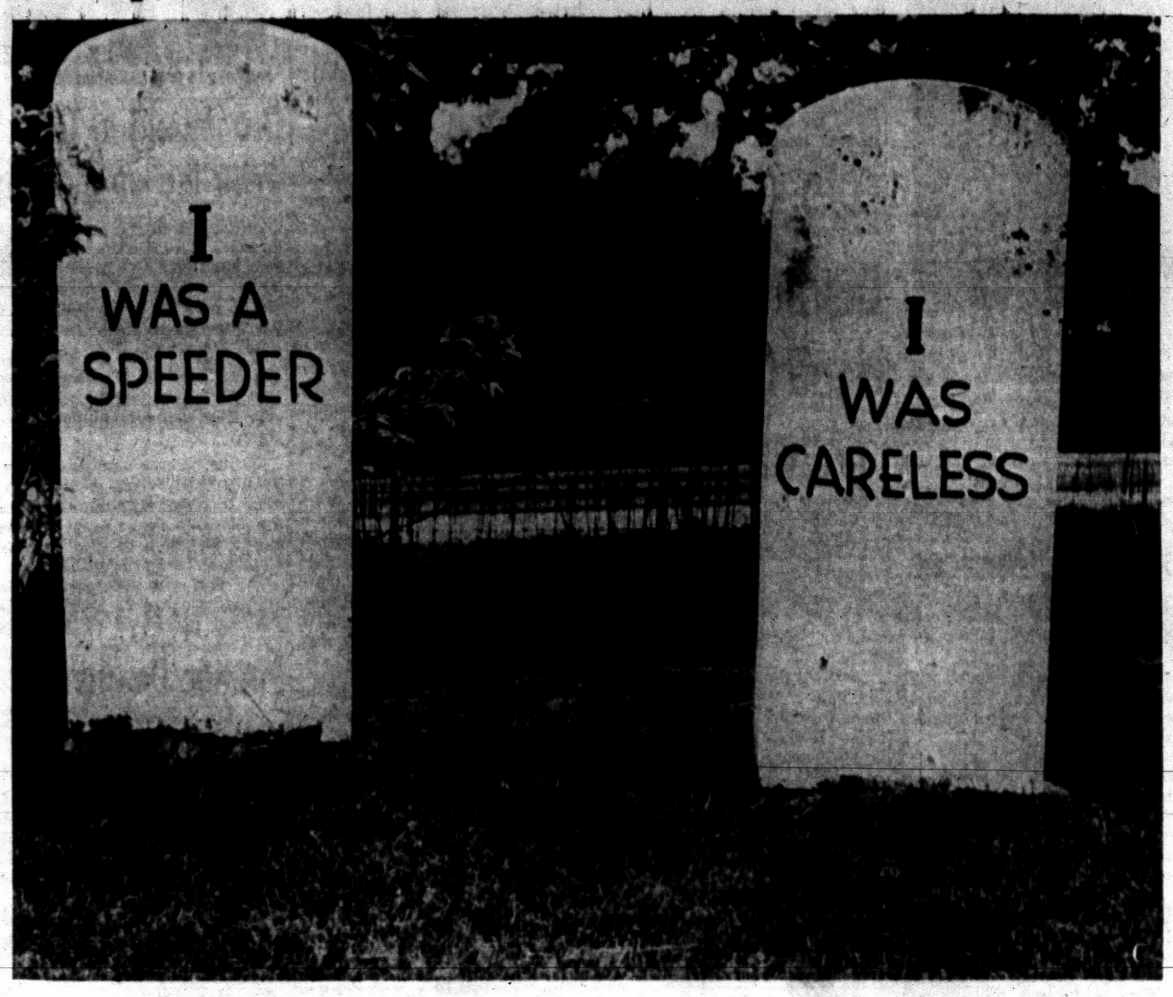

Just one word of advice: Don't make the tactical errors of putting your entries in envelopes (12 did it last week), or of missing the deadline, like 70 more did.

As Holmes might say: "Elementary, my dear readers—save your mistakes for the tough parts."

Because of a typographical error, the word possibilities FUEL and MOODY were omitted from the list of choices for Pot-O-Gold Puzzle No. 13 in Monday's Press. In the same list, the word "kahn" should have been spelled "KHAN.

Symbolic Markers of Two Holiday Drivers

There's Always Room for One More

Car Death Always Messy

NEW YORK (AP)—Death takes no chances in most fatal automobile accidents.

For when people are killed, they usually suffer two or three injuries each serious enough to cause death.

This is one finding from the automotive crash injury research project of Cornell University Medical School.

More than two-thirds of persons killed in highway accidents have fatal-type injuries in at least two different body areas, says John O. Moore, directing the research.

"Seldom is there a single injury to one single area, such as the head, chest or abdomen, which could be said to have caused death beyond anything else," he reports.

"More likely there are multiple injuries even to one single area, such as the head or chest.

"Besides badly crushed skulls, the victims may have ribs driven into the heart, ruptured aortas or hearts, ruptured livers or spleens. They suffered a generalized crushing. People in these accidents seem to get hurt all over. We are dealing with gigantic forces, beyond body stress limits."

Americans have been dying in highway accidents at the rate of 30 to 40 thousand annually for 25 years, with a million more plus injured each year.

Speed, poor roads, incompetent drivers, drink, bad weather, automobile design and other things all have been blamed as factors contributing to the ghastly toll. Remedies proposed range from putting speed governors on cars, stricter law enforcement and licensing, engineering better highways, changes in auto design to reduce death or injuries if accidents do occur.

The auto research, begun a few years ago, now has been greatly expanded with research funds coming from the Army, U. S. Public Health Service, and two automotive firms, Ford and Chrysler.

State police and physicians in 11 states are cooperating, filling in detailed report forms. The speed of cars, angle of impact, time of day or night, number of occupants and where seated, whether doors opened, type of road, and other data are gathered on each accident.

These statistics formed the factual grounds for changes such as new designs of locks to keep doors shut, padded or recessed instrument panels and knobs, recessed steering wheels, installation of seat belts.

'No Time for Sergeants' Leads Off Adventure List

The hilarious encounters of a Georgia farm boy who has "No Time for Sergeants" will comprise the first "adventure" for the 100 travelers who will leave Pontiac a week from Monday for a week's trip to New York City aboard The Pontiac Press Theater Special.

The Broadway comedy hit is scheduled to be the first of five shows that the travelers will see during their visit.

Adapted from a best-selling novel, the show stars Andy Griffith as a good-natured Air Force recruit who plunges bewilderedly into the regimentation of service life after a happy existence on his father's farm.

The story traces his brief career through an episode of hazing by more worldly draftees to a series of scrapes with a hard-boiled sergeant who tries bravely to adapt him to life in the armed forces.

New York reviews say that since its opening last October, "No Time for Sergeants" has "played to no less than the full quota of standees." Other reviewers have classed it as "the funniest show on Broadway," "superb" and the "most lunatic comedy that has turned up in a blue moon."

Appearing currently at the Alvin Theater, the show has just one woman in its whole cast.

It's just one of the many events and sights Theater Special travelers will see during their six-day trip away from the Pontiac area.

But it'll be the pace-setter during a play-schedule that will also include "The Most Happy Fella," "Damn Yankees," "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?," and "New Faces of 1956."

Friend Found Child Tied to Bed

Wyatt Neighbor Tells How She Discovered Injured Youngster

Mrs. Raymond Pace, 19, a Keego Harbor neighbor of the William Wyatt family, told assistant prosecutor Walter Denison yesterday from a hospital bed how she found seven-year-old Sherry Wilkinson tied to a bed in an upstairs room of the Wyatt house Aug. 17.

Sherry, daughter of Mrs. Wyatt by a previous marriage, now is in Pontiac General Hospital where doctors are attempting to restore use of her badly burned right hand.

Mrs. Pace, whose baby boy was born Wednesday, told Denison she and her sister-in-law, 13-year-old Marion Pace, found Sherry dressed in "old, dirty" pajamas, lying on her back with both wrists fastened to the sides of her crib.

AT LEAST 95 DEGREES

Blinds of the room were drawn, Mrs. Pace said, and the temperature was "at least 95 degrees." Sherry's hair was matted, Mrs. Pace stated, and the "badly infected" burn on her hand was draining.

When she and Marion untied the child and helped her dress, Mrs. Pace said, they saw "huge, raw burns" on her right hip and several scars on her arms, neck and legs.

Mrs. Pace, a neighbor, had been asked by Mrs. Wyatt to "keep an eye on the kids" while Mrs. Wyatt

Royal Oak Boy Electrocuted

Dale Ulrich, 12, Flips on Wet Mattress, Hits Connected Sweeper

A playful tumble onto a wet mattress resulted in the instant death of a 12-year-old Royal Oak boy when he struck a connected vacuum cleaner and was electrocuted near his parents' summer cottage in Orion Township last night.

Dale A. Ulrich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ulrich, of 1008 Batavia St., reportedly made the fatal somersault while cleaning the family car with an older brother in front of the home of a neighbor at 433 Hoag Road in the Bunny Run subdivision. The Ulrich cottage is at 427 Hoag Rd.

Investigating Oakland County Sheriff's deputies reported the Ulrich brothers had used the vacuum to clean the inside of the car and it had been tossed onto the rain-soaked mattress. Dale, wearing only swimming trunks, somersaulted along the mattress and landed right on the cleaner, according to the deputies.

Course Record by Finsterwald at Motor City

Dow Finsterwald of Bedford Heights, Ohio turned in the best competitive round of the Sixth Motor City Open Golf Championships today when he equalled the Western Golf course record with a hot 67.

He carded a best front nine score of 32 to go with his home nine mark of 35. The round was five under par. The 67 gave Finsterwald a 36-hole total of 140, four under par for the distance.

Several other good cards were turned in at noon today. They included a 144 by Gary Kesselring of Toronto. At 148 were John Dalrymple, former Keego Harbor athlete, Dick Turner, of San Angelo, Tex., who had a 73 today, and George Bernardin, of Connmassett, Mass.

Nixon Racing Death to Bedside of Ailing Father

WASHINGTON (INS) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon was to fly to California this afternoon to be at the bedside of his critically ill father, 77-year-old Frank A. Nixon, at La Habra.

Nixon was to leave Washington on a flight which will bring him into Los Angeles at 7:30 p.m. Pontiac time.

The family physician, Dr. I. N. Kraushaar, said the elder Nixon cannot live for more than a day or two.

Reports from La Habra held out no hope for recovery of the vice president's aging father, who is suffering from a ruptured abdominal artery and other ailments.

Nixon drove here last night with his wife and their two daughters from Mantoloking, a beach resort on the north New Jersey coast, where they had planned to spend the Labor Day weekend.

Pontiac Names Chief Engineer

Semon E. Knudsen Appoints E. M. Estes to Division Post

The promotion of E. M. Estes to chief engineer of the Pontiac Motor Division was announced today by General Manager Semon E. Knudsen, General Motors vice president.

He succeeds George A. Delaney who will serve on Knudsen's staff and handle special assignments.

Prior to his appointment, Estes served with the Oldsmobile Division as assistant chief engineer in charge of body design, chassis design and standards engineering groups. He joined the division in 1946 after seven years with the GM Research Laboratories.

The 40-year-old executive graduated from the University of Cincinnati with a degree in mechanical engineering. He had earlier studied for four years at the General Motors Institute.

Delaney joined Pontiac in 1934 as an electrical engineer and was appointed chief engineer in 1946. He is currently serving as national president of the Society of Automotive Engineers, and is a director of the American Standards Assn.

Estes, who presently lives in the Lansing area, is married and the father of three sons.

Safety Council Says 480 Won't Make It Home

Light Travel in County 'Lull Before the Storm,' Police Warn

While millions of motorists prepared to take to state and national highways for the Labor Day weekend, traffic officials marshalled their forces today to head off what may reach a record death toll.

Local police officers reported traffic "about normal" shortly before noon, but viewed the inactivity on area highways as "a lull before the storm."

Although no fatalities occurred in Oakland County last Labor Day, the National Safety Council predicts that some 480 drivers and passengers will die between 6 p.m. tonight and midnight, Monday.

Twenty-five were killed throughout the state for the same period in 1955.

78-HOUR GRIND

Pontiac State Police were the first on duty in preparation for the 78-hour grind as their entire force swings into action at noon, aided by National Guardsmen.

Officers of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department and the Pontiac Police Department were scheduled to be out in full force a few hours later.

The Red Cross Highway Holiday Patrol will be on duty from 4 to 10 p.m. today and Monday.

All will concentrate on the busiest traffic arteries in hopes of keeping the cars moving and accidents at a mininum.

Many other states and communities are taking special precautions to reduce the toll of deaths and injuries since a recent Associated Press survey disclosed that 366 persons died in accidents on the Aug. 17-20 non-holiday weekend.

Another grim reason for the extra precaution was provided by the Safety Council in its report that the 3,570 traffic deaths in the nation for July were the highest total for any July in history.

GOP Gathering to Fill Ticket

Seek to Make Choices Without Destroying Unity of Party

Michigan Republicans, convening today and tomorrow in Grand Rapids, are facing an uphill run to pick their state ticket for November without destroying party unity.

The professed neutrality of Detroit Mayor Albert E. Cobo, GOP nominee for governor, may disintegrate in the center of a knock-down, drag-out fight between the old and the newer elements of the party.

Cobo has insisted he will not dictate the choice of a ticket, but has made it clear he will reserve veto power.

Oakland County's candidate for attorney general, retiring State Representative Richard C. Van Dusen of Birmingham, is conceded an "even chance" by county Republicans.

Van Dusen will be handicapped in tonight's bargaining sessions by the party's need to get an even geographical spread among its candidates.

Detroit area hopefuls face the disheartening fact that Cobo and Clarence Reid, GOP nominee for lieutenant governor, live in Detroit.

Hope Plummets for Suez Peace

CAIRO (INS) — Egyptian relations with the West plummeted to a new low today.

Latest developments promised a tense cold war atmosphere for the opening of talks Monday between President Gamal Abdel Nasser and the Menzies Suez Canal Committee.

One veteran diplomat from the West gloomily expressed the opinion that the situation could not deteriorate much more "without a major explosion."

Whispered talk of a hot war swept Cairo cafes and was heard in diplomatic corridors as French troops joined British forces on Cyprus; Cairo and London threw new diplomatic punches, and Nasser raised his voice against President Eisenhower.

Even the outward optimism of India's roving ambassador V. K. Krishna Menon and his repeated references to "peaceful settlement" of the Suez dispute failed to ease the tension or hide these ominous facts:

RAPS IKE STATEMENT

1. For the first time since the canal crisis erupted, Nasser has personally taken a polite poke at President Eisenhower for referring to the canal on Wednesday as an internationalized waterway. Nasser protested and said he "regretted" the statement. The Egyptian ambassador to the U. S. also carried the same complaint to Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

2. Britain yesterday evicted two Egyptian diplomats from London in retaliation for Egypt's ousting of two British first secretaries who allegedly masterminded a spy ring aiming at overthrowing Nasser.

3. Egyptians raged against the new Anglo-French threats, charging London and Paris with duplicity for supposedly supporting the Menzies Mission while actually plotting military action from Cyprus.

The five-nation Menzies committee, headed by Australian Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies, is scheduled to meet with Nasser in Cairo to present the London Conference proposal for placing the canal under international control.

Although Nasser has agreed to study the plan, observers believe he still is determined to turn down any proposal to internationalize the canal.

Nevertheless, it was felt the Menzies Committee might be able to lay the groundwork for negotiating a peaceful settlement of the problem.

The dispute will come to the attention of the Atlantic Pact Council at a meeting in Paris next Wednesday.

The ultimate size of the French forces on Cyprus is clouded in secrecy but there is no doubt about their mission—to protect French interests in the troubled Suez Canal Zone.

Ike Tells of New Red H-Test

Blast Stronger Than Last Week

President Says U.S. to Seek Suez Answer Peacefully

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower announced today at a news conference the Russians have touched off still another atomic explosion. He said this one was more powerful than the test a week ago which had the force of almost one million tons of TNT.

Reds Announce Tests

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Russia announced today it had held nuclear weapon test Aug. 24 and 30 "to evolve new types suitable for the arming of different kinds of troop formation."

The President also said the United States fully recognizes the sovereignty of Egypt but is committed to a peaceful solution of the Suez Canal crisis guaranteeing continued international use.

Today the President said the Russians have engaged in what he termed another large test in the accustomed place. That would be in southwest Siberia, as reported for the first time officially in Eisenhower's announcement last Sunday.

Responding to another question, Eisenhower said the latest Soviet nuclear tests will not bring any change in U. S. national defense plans.

Eisenhower said Soviet diplomats talk of abolishing atomic weapons but go right ahead testing them without prior announcement and in secrecy.

Other subjects covered at the conference:

POLITICS—He intends to stick to his February announcement that he will do no barnstorming or "whistle-stop" campaigning.

Eisenhower declined to speculate on what influence the labor union leaders may have in swinging the rank and file vote of their unions.

SUEZ—He again expressed confidence the Suez Canal crisis will be settled peacefully.

CIVIL RIGHTS—Asked whether he is satisfied with the Republican plank on civil rights as related to the school desegregation issue, Eisenhower replied he did not care to go into that matter in great detail.

HEALTH—A reporter noted the White House said earlier this week Eisenhower's physicians feel his convalescence from major abdominal surgery last June 9 is at an end. The newsmen asked whether Eisenhower feels as good now as he did before he was stricken with an intestinal ailment.

The President replied yes, he does.

Eisenhower went on to say that if you people—the reporters—think he is healthy, then they can say so.

If the reporters don't think so, he added, they also can say that.

Eisenhower's complexion today seemed to this reporter to be as ruddy as ever. He handled replies to questions with a bit more snap than he did earlier this month when he met with newsmen for the first time since his operation.

Stevenson Whistles 'Dixie' After Solid-South Pledge

CHICAGO (AP)—Elated by an enthusiastic reception in the South, Adlai E. Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver today wind up here a five-day series of regional strategy huddles with Democratic leaders from 34 states.

* * *

The Democratic presidential and vice presidential nominees returned last night from Knoxville, Tenn., where they were told the South will line up solidly in the Democratic column in the Nov. 6 election.

In the last of their current round of conferences today they are to discuss campaign issues and plans with party leaders from Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Missouri and Ohio.

After this, Stevenson's aides said, he will hold a "full-fledged, no-holds barred news conference."

At the Knoxville meeting, attended by senators, governors and other party leaders from 10 southern states, reports relayed to newsmen indicated there was no discussion of the controversial civil rights issue.

* * *

Instead, unity was the keynote. Clayton Fritchey, Stevenson's press secretary, told reporters during one interlude that "this meeting is turning into a rally for the Stevenson-Kefauver ticket."

At the end of the meeting, Stevenson disclosed that he had received a telegram from Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia pledging "my earnest support in what I expect to be a successful campaign."

Russell, a leader of Dixie forces in the Senate, and himself a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1952, said that there were some planks in the party platform to which he could not "in good conscience subscribe."

* * *

However, he added that "the Democratic party is the only party which holds any hope for the farmer, the small businessman and the average American and is our one hope of eliminating special privilege."

State to Study Causes of Brief Intestinal Flu

LANSING (AP)—The state health department has embarked on a five-year study of one-day intestinal flu.

The department said today it received a federal grant of $20,596 to finance the first year of the study.

Health department officials said the disease which usually lasts less than 48 hours, often reaches epidemic proportions.

A three-man health department research team will attempt to find the virus which causes the disease.

Some of the basic research has already been done by scientists in Cleveland and New York, who proved some cases of diarrhea are caused by viruses.

Detroit Dairies Head Off Strike

1 Major Firm Unsigned; Hike Homogenized Milk Penny a Quart

DETROIT (AP)—Threats of a milk strike in the Detroit area virtually ended today. All but one of the city's major dairies came to terms with the Michigan Milk Producers Assn.

Borden's Detroit Creamery and the Wilson Dairy reached agreement with the MMPA today. The Detroit Pure Milk Co. is the only major dairy unsigned. A spokesman for Detroit Pure Milk said it probably would sign very shortly.

All dairies which signed today also announced an increase of a cent a quart, bringing the price of homogenized milk in Detroit to 25 cents a quart.

Borden Co. said in a statement to MMPA:

"We are not in sympathy with your adopted procedure of using the federal milk marketing order merely as a springboard from which to somersault prices at will. However, with the havoc created last spring by some within your ranks still too free in our minds to risk having an insufficient supply of milk for our valued customers, we have no alternative."

The Borden statement referred to a milk strike in Detroit last spring.

Williams Offers Plan for Housing

State-Backed Project for Old Folks Follows One Used in East

LANSING (AP) — A state-backed chain of housing projects for old people patterned after programs now operated in the East was proposed today by Gov. Williams.

The governor announced he will meet with groups Sept. 7 to discuss the proposal.

Then, without mentioning the possibility of defeat in the Nov. 5 election, he said he will present the proposal to the 1957 Legislature.

The plan is modeled after housing programs in Massachusetts and Connecticut, Williams said.

* * *

The apartments would cost about $8,000 apiece and be financed by bonds. They would be 97½ per cent liquidating, iwth the balance paid by the state, the governor said.

Williams did not estimate the cost of the program or offer details.

"As medical science increases the life span, we will have a growing number of older people in our population," he said. "One of the great problems of these people is to find decent places to live, under their means and in the neighborhoods to which they are accustomed."

Each housing unit, Williams said, would consist of perhaps 20 apartments, designed especially for old people and located in their home neighborhoods.

The apartments would be offered at rent which oldsters could pay. They would not be restricted to persons on assistance roles.

Williams said he intends to explore details of the plan, with special attention to its constitutionality.

"I doubt that a constitutional amendment would be necessary to permit state participation in the financing, but that phase of the program remains to be explored," he said.

Mrs. McKeon was brought last night to the hospital by her husband, court-martialed earlier this summer in the drowning of six Marine recruits during a night march he led.

McKeon was convicted of negligent homicide and drinking while on duty. His sentence is under review by the secretary of the Navy.

George, former Georgia senator and now President Eisenhower's personal representative to NATO, gets a kiss from Joanne Carlton, 4, as he boards a train in Washington yesterday morning with Mrs. George for the start of the trip to the NATO meetings in Europe. Joanne is the daughter of George's administrative assistant, John Carlton, of Atlanta.

WILLIAM S. BROOMFIELD

Broomfield to Talk With Ike on Monday

William S. Broomfield, Oakland County's Congressional candidate, said yesterday he will go to Washington Monday to discuss with President Eisenhower problems of the 18th Congressional District.

Broomfield said the President invited him to Washington for the discussion and to pose with the President for campaign pictures.

Broomfield was nominated to run on the GOP ticket in November after a close primary race with former State Sen. George N. Higgins, chairman of the dormant Michigan Turnpike Authority.

The seat was vacated this year by Rep. George A. Dondero, Republican incumbent of 24 years.

Nab Teenagers Posting Ike Signs at Adlai Office

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—All may be fair in love and war, but Detective Frank Repetti informed five teenagers they had carried things too far.

Repetti caught the youths pasting Eisenhower and Nixon posters on the Stevenson-for-President headquarters here yesterday.

"Take 'em off," he ordered.

They came off a lot harder than they went on, but they came off.

The Day in Birmingham

City Golf Course Draws More Women Than Men

BIRMINGHAM — "There are more women golfing at Springdale Park than men, but together they have numbered 10,640 thus far this year," says Dale Rolphs, superintendent of the city golf area on Big Beaver road.

The greens are in good shape and current rains do not resemble those which closed the park for several weeks and twice took out all the course's bridges last spring, he says.

Five women's leagues play weekly, holding the female average up during daytimes, but the evenings and weekend play is mainly male, he says. Leagues play days on Tuesday through Friday and Thursday evening.

The course has a weekly fee of one dollar, and a fifty-cent twilight fee after 6 p.m., which boosts attendance. Weekend fee is $1.50.

A 30, four under par, was the course record for men set this summer by Bob Gent.

Rolphs expects the course, which is for Birmingham residents and their guests, to remain open until the first of November, barring bad weather.

Then, he'll look towards the opening of the Eton Park skating rink, where he will for the second year be manager.

Dana Whitman's departure was a day earlier than expected, but was with a new briefcase presented to him by city employes.

Whitman, who resigned the assistant city manager's job here to take a managership in Newton, N. J., missed a coffee-hour party for him planned by employes at the municipal buildings, but returned later in the day, when the presentation was made.

A native of Bangor, Me., he had been with the city a year this time, and before he was recalled to military service for the Korean conflict in 1950, had served here about a year.

He left the day early to miss driving through heavy Labor Day traffic.

Birmingham, along with Detroit, Battle Creek and Mt. Clemens, was cited yesterday by the National Safety Council for its traffic record for the first seven months of this year.

Detroit had lowest number of fatalities for cities of more than a million population, while the other cities had no fatalities at all.

Two Rob Bank; Lock 8 in Vault

McBain Branch Holdup Today Nets $5,000 for Thieves; None Hurt

McBAIN (AP)—Two bandits robbed the McBain branch of the Lake City State Bank today, emptying its cash drawers and vault and locking eight employes and customers in the vault.

The robbers dropped some money on the floor as they fled to the automobile in which they escaped.

No one was shot or injured and the three employes and five customers locked in the vault managed to escape shortly after the bandits fled.

Mrs. Duane Baker, a teller, said a man stepped to her window and she asked: "Anything I can do for you, please."

She said he replied: "There sure is lady; this is a stickup."

With that, she said, he flashed his gun and jumped over a nearby counter into the working section of the bank. He covered the employes and customers, forcing them to line up against a wall.

* * *

A younger confederate stood at the door and forced others entering to face the wall.

Only one robber produced a gun.

Mrs. Baker explained that while cash drawers and vault were rifled, the robbers "didn't get all the money in the bank."

She said it was customary to take a certain amount of cash from the vault at the beginning of each day "and hide it somewhere else," with employes "using out of it, so we won't have to be going back into the vault every half hour or so."

"They didn't find that," she said.

SCOOP UP CASH

After scooping cash from cage drawers, the gunman forced cashier Stuart McGregor to open the vault, which they emptied into money sacks.

The employes and customers then were forced into the vault and its steel-rod door slammed. The big outer steel door was not closed. McGregor, by reaching through the bars was able to open the gate.

Mrs. Baker fixed the time of the holdup as 10:40 a.m., "because I looked at my watch when they turned us against the wall."

Mrs. Baker said the gunman appeared to be 35 to 40 years of age, was wearing a wide belt and, she thought, an old trench coat. The younger bandit, she said, appeared no more than 21 and was wearing a white T-shirt and blue jeans.

She told Denison she had never seen Sherry, although the Wyatt family have lived in the neighborhood nearly a year. Mrs. Wyatt recently had mentioned the girl as a friend's child whom she was boarding for $25 a week, she said.

Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt, arraigned Tuesday on charges of cruelty to their children, are free on $1,000 personal bond awaiting examination of the evidence against them.

Mrs. Pace said she protested to Wyatt when he returned from work. When he refused to obtain medical treatment for Sherry, she said, she called police.

Wagner in Race for Senate Seat

ROBERT F. WAGNER

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert F. Wagner, New York City's Democratic mayor, has made a bid for the U.S. Senate seat of retiring Herbert H. Lehman (D-NY). His nomination by the State Democratic Convention appears certain.

* * *

Overcoming his previous reluctance to run for the spot once occupied by his father, the late New Deal Sen. Robert F. Wagner, the mayor told a news conference yesterday:

"We decided I could best serve . . . by actively campaigning as a member of the ticket with the hope that the people of the State of New York will not only help elect Adlai Stevenson but will also have confidence in my record and policy to send me to Washington to support me in that capacity."

"If the Democratic convention at Albany — Sept. 10 — sees fit to select me, I will accept."

Democratic leaders hailed his deision.

* * *

Said Stevenson:

"I could not be more pleased. Bob Wagner has been a splendid mayor of New York City. He stands at the very top among the fine, liberal younger leaders of the Democratic party in our nation."

Sen. George Smathers of Florida, chairman of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee, said Wagner's announcement "is great news."

And James A. Finnegan, Stevenson's campaign manager, said Wagner "will make a worthy successor to one of the greatest Senators New York ever had, Sen. Lehman."

Wagner's four-year term as mayor has two years to run. He will not have to resign to campaign for the Senate.

His present salary of $40,000 a year is considerably more than the $22,500 he would receive as a senator.

City Selling Islands, but Can't Find Them

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Three James River islands that city officials haven't been able to find for years will be offered for sale to the highest bidder here Sept. 10.

Maps showing the location of the islands were lost or destroyed years ago, and the owners can't be found. But the city has gone on listing them on the tax rolls since the 1940's.

City tax collector Thomas C. Armstrong says he intends to uphold the law, which says property on which taxes are delinquent must be sold.

It will be up to the purchasers to find their property, says Armstrong. "All we're interested in is collecting the taxes."

Federal Civilian Payrolls Rising

Cost of Government Employment Now Over $10½ Billion Mark

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Byrd (D-Va) said today the cost of government civilian employment shot past the 10½ billion dollar mark to history's highest level in the year just ended.

* * *

Byrd heads the Senate - House committee on reduction of nonessential federal expenditures. He had protested last week that the government was on a "spending spree" endangering prospects for a tax cut in 1957, and that Congress had "accelerated" the spending rates.

He said in a statement the payroll figures were compiled by his committee from reports certified as correct by the various executive agencies. They listed payroll expenditures totaling $10,526,000,000 in fiscal 1956 which ended June 30. This, Byrd said, eclipsed the previous peak of $9,863,000,000 recorded in 1953 and was nearly a billion dollars above the fiscal 1955 total of $9,621,000,000.

* * *

Higher pay scales voted by Congress over the years account for much of the rise, Byrd said.

Lead, zinc, and copper production continued at record or near-record levels during 1955. The three minerals accounted for a third of Australia's total mineral output and two thirds of her mineral exports.

ROCHESTER — A forget-me-not sale by the Disabled Veterans of America on Sept. 14 and 15 has been approved by village council, as well as a tag day for the Woman's Relief Corps on Sept. 21.

Bond Goal Exceeded

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan citizens purchased $196,073,000 in United States savings bonds during the January-July period this year. That was 2.3 per cent above the $191,600,000 goal, the Treasury Department said, and more than 59 per cent of the annual quota of $330,900,000.

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — William S. Kanager of New York City spent only a few hours in Oklahoma but he left his mark.

Gene Hines, manager of a Tulsa car renting firm, said Kanager obtained a car yesterday and drove to Bartlesville, 50 miles north of here.

However, when Kanager completed his business at Bartlesville he drove back here in an auto he mistook for his rented car. It took police of both cities to unravel stolen car reports. Kanager was long gone by air when the mix-up was noted.

Electrocute Slayer of Brother's Wife

OSSINING, N.Y. (AP)—A prayer on his lips, 27-year-old Joseph L. Reade died last night in Sing Sing prison's electric chair for the rape slaying of his brother's wife and the strangling of her infant daughter.

* * *

Reade was convicted of killing Mrs. Beverly Reade, 26, and her 19-month-old daughter Cheryl Lynn in a Jamestown, N.Y., apartment July 11, 1955. Reade's brother Francis, 24, found his wife and child dead upon returning home from a night shift job.

The former taxi driver entered the death chamber at 11:04 p.m. accompanied by the Rev. Luther K. Hannum, the prison's Protestant chaplain.

His lips moved in prayer as he was strapped into the chair. Three minutes later he was pronounced dead.

* * *

Reade's wife, Carol; and his mother, now Mrs. Theodora Kline of Jamestown, refused his pleas to visit him.

Fewer than 44,450,000 Americans voted in the Congressional elections of 1954, less than 52 per cent of those eligible.

Press Gold Pot Grows Heavier; Winner Sought

The summer wanes, but not the excitement in the Press word game POT-O-GOLD. The clues are just as demanding and the words as hard to track down—and with fall fast approaching, the dollar bills (at least 100 of them everytime we have a winner) are getting even crisper. Readers can share in them all by reading the rules carefully, analyzing the clues below and sending in their solutions before the Tuesday deadline next week. Good luck!

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conforms to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

AF Pressing for Guided Missile Base in Far East Despite Diplomatic Strain

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Air Force has conceded a decision must be reached on its fourth 'Matador' guided missile squadron to be stationed in the Far East despite diplomatic opposition.

The squadron, organized a year ago, is nearing completion of its training at Orlando, Fla. Top air strategists believe that to "make military sense" the outfit must be stationed overseas.

* * *

While the possibility of sending the squadron to Europe is also considered, there are already three U.S. Matador units in Germany with a total of 75 of the pilotless missiles "zeroed in" on Communist targets they could reach from the western German border.

GOOD COVERAGE

In the words of one Air Force expert, the three squadrons provide "pretty good coverage" for initial stages of any European conflict, He said this makes the Far East—specifically Formosa—the logical place for deploring the new squadron.

The Air Force stressed that this is the military point of view, and that the command is also taking into consideration political aspects such as popular opposition in the Far East to stationing the missiles in that area. The Matadors can carry either conventional or nuclear explosives.

* * *

A strong factor in the decision will be the Air Force's belief that the Matadors, with their range up to 500 or 600 miles, would not ordinary be the best way of hitting a target from short distances.

HAS ADVANTAGE

Over such comparatively short ranges, the Air Force said a manned fighter plane could deliver a larger quantity of explosives with greater accuracy in less than an hour.

The advantage and use seen for the Matadors is this: They could be touched off instantly at the outbreak of a war, to destroy airfields, hit road and rail junctions, damage communications and create confusion in advance of a heavier attack with manned aircraft.

This strategy explains the expert's statement that 75 Matadors provide "pretty good coverage" for central Europe. As their use is envisioned, the missiles would play a limited role after the early stages of a conflict.

The squadrons in West Germany are at Bitburg, Sembach and Hahn. They are equipped with an early version of the Metador, whereas the new squadron at Orlando has been given an improved missile which is longer, and has a larger nose section and a new type of guiding system.

The Matadors, which are launched by a rocket "booster" and then are jet-propelled, weigh about the same as a fighter plane. The older version was 39.6 feet long and had a wing span of 28.7 feet. The improved missile has not been described in detail.

Jets Blast Off, Cause Stir in Oklahoma City

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Sonic booms pealed across the Oklahoma City sky yesterday setting off scores of telephone calls to police and newspapers.

One mother, before she learned the blasts were caused by jets apparently rehearsing for the National Air Show here, followed advice in her civil defense manual. She covered her children with a sheet to reduce "radiation."

4 Hungarian Youths Shoot Free of Reds

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Four young Hungarians armed with pistols shot their way past Communist border guards early today in a daring dash to free Austria.

* * *

They turned in their weapons and requested asylum, Austrian police said.

The refugees crashed a heavy truck through the Hungarian border barrier, but the vehicle broke down while still inside Hungary and Communist guards opened fire.

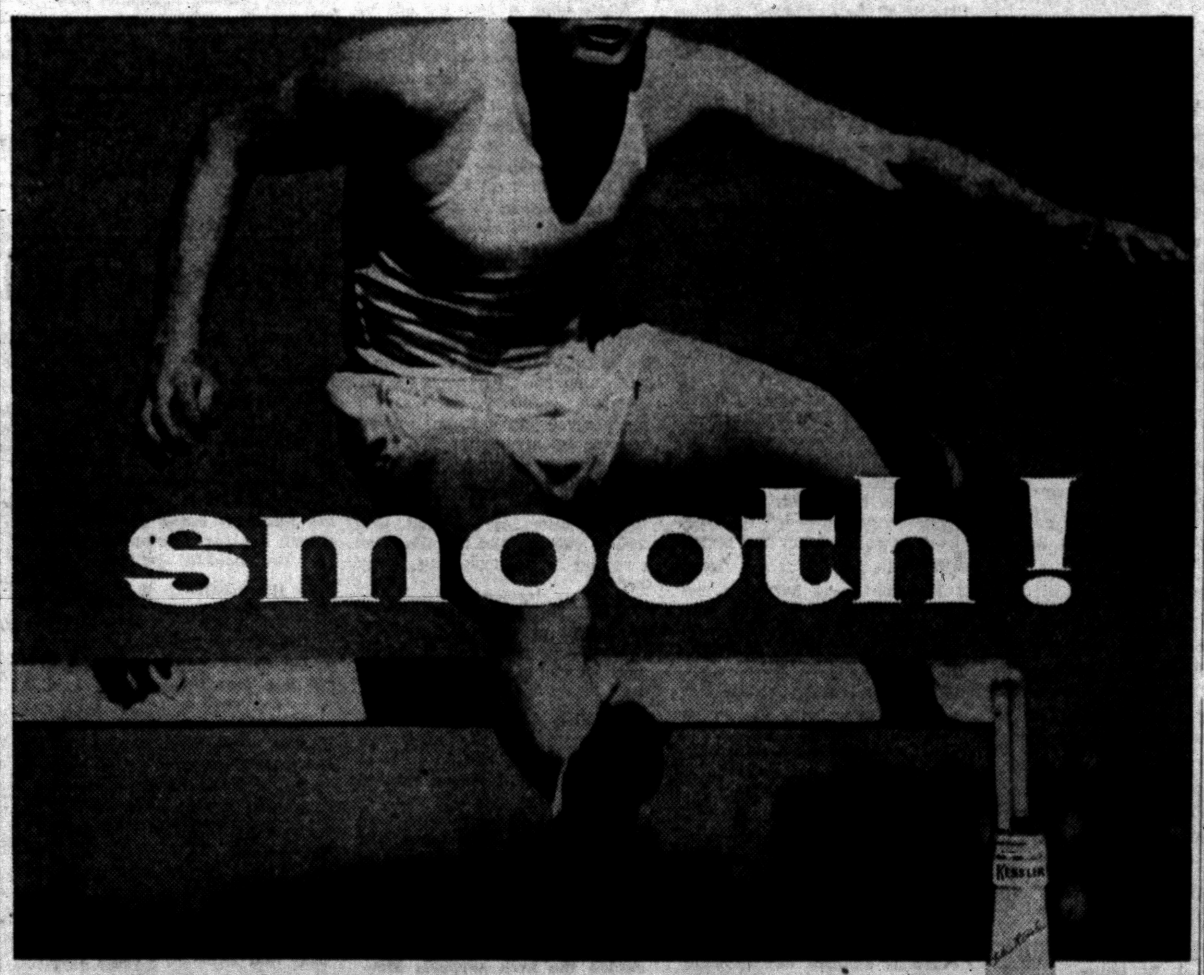

* * *

The fugitives, ranging in age from 18 to 20, shot back and forced the border guards to take cover. The young men then sprinted over the frontier.

Our Textbooks

In view of the natural tendency of youthful minds to accept as gospel truth what they are told or read in school, material contained in the textbooks used in our public schools should be watched with great care.

This is a matter normally left to each school staff, but the ultimate responsibility, as with other school affairs, rests with the Board of Education.

★ ★ ★

Unfortunately, some writers of textbooks are not objective. They do not tell both sides of a story. They are propagandists, seeking to win over the minds of young people to ideas and ideals which sometimes are far different from the ideas held by their parents.

★ ★ ★

One example is in the social sciences. It is common knowledge that one group of social science writers, long faculty members at Teachers College in Columbia University, set out deliberately to sell socialism in America.

Their books "sell" the idea of government ownership of industry and business. They devote pages to discussions of government ownership. Their discussions are favorable. Nothing, or perhaps a single sentence, is said on the other side of the question.

Another instance where care should be exercised to see that our children are not misled in our schools is in history. Many history books imply, if they do not expressly say, that the French and American revolutions were similar in their ideology and aims. This is untrue.

The French revolution aimed at a democracy. Our revolution set up a republic. Since there was no chance for a pure democracy to work, the natural result of the French revolution was the dictatorship of Napoleon.

★ ★ ★

These are but two examples which serve to illustrate the point that great care should be exercised in the selection of our textbooks. This is a subject which the PTA groups might well consider as a legitimate part of their activity. It certainly is one which deserves the earnest consideration of boards of education everywhere.

Taking Advantage of Our Privileges

Perhaps everybody living in Pontiac or its environs does not appreciate what joy, satisfaction and contentment awaits them in their home area, if they only would explore it.

★ ★ ★

A drive in the country, especially at this season, will unfold sights and scenes to make you feel sorry for the millions in larger cities who do not have such alluring possibilities within their easy reach.

Always remember that it is on the so-called back roads where an unbridled nature puts on its biggest unspoiled and most soul sitrring show.

The corn fields, whether in checkerboard pattern or in a one-way symphony, are outdoing everything else in growth, and seem determined to maintain the claim that corn is king.

And this claim to regal honors is true right here in Oakland County almost as much as in our midwestern states. Where would we be without corn? Where would we get our bacon, pork chops and other succulent hog products?

Potatoes are just beginning to put on their blossoms, which means that there's big underground doings in prospect. Modern potatoes are making a color change in their blossoms, from the traditional white to a light blue.

★ ★ ★

Other members of the vegetable family also have a beautiful way of showing their growth. They seem happy in their roles of helping the wheat, corn, oats and potatoes supply accessories to a well balanced diet, supplementing the bread and other baked goods, the breakfast cereals and the waist-extending tubers that are the foundation of our livelihood.

The fruit trees are beginning to lower their branches under their heavy burdens, and their watchful owners are getting out their limb props.

No landscape can be more absorbingly beautiful than one dotted with a dairy herd. Such a sight cannot do otherwise than increase your longing for the world's best drink.

Another herd will give you a satisfaction with your butcher. Perhaps he isn't overcharging you after all. When you see it on the hoof it looks even more appetite whetting than when on his block.

The cry of the quail, the drumming of the partridge, the raucous crow, the blue jay with the chip on his shoulder, the soaring hawk, the busy robin, the wild flowers, including the queen's lace and sweet clover right at your car's window, all will fill you with memories.

★ ★ ★

Yes, a drive in the country at this season is an unforgettable joy, a contentment and health builder, and a panacea for most of our ills.

Get out and commune with nature at its best.

The Man About Town

Corn Still King

Bumper Crop in Making on Farms in Pontiac Area

Helping hand: Assistance, the best of which usually is found at the end of your own arm.

A drive into the country will show you that the corn crop in the Pontiac area promises to break all records. Profiting by the frequent rains and hot weather, the fields show a remarkable growth and now are that deep luxuriant green that means big production. Many of the stalks have two or three ears. It gives evidence that Oakland still is a big agricultural county.

famed inventive genius of General Motors. I notice that Oakland County's Charles E. Wilson,

David Lawrence Says:

Ike's Absences Target for Dems

WASHINGTON—The Democrats say openly they are going to make a campaign issue of their charge that President Eisenhower is a "part-time president." Their idea is that, even before his illness, the chief executive was not giving full attention to his duties.

This is an issue which the Republicans ought to welcome for debate. For it goes to the very core of personal integrity and devotion to duty. It means that the Democrats will try to portray Dwight Eisenhower to the country as the kind of man who neglects his duty. It implies that, when he was commander-in-chief of the largest army in history ever commanded by a single man, he must have had the same disregard of duty. It means that, after being elected to the highest office in the gift of his fellow citizens, he has not served concientiously but has purposely and wilfully turned away from the functions of his job.

Will the American people believe any such accusation? Will this kind of personal attack get across on the stump? If there's one thing about Dwight Eisenhower which has made an indelible impression on the electorate, due to his utter frankness and candor in his press conferences whenever questions have been asked of him about his work or his health, it is his unswerving honesty. People may disagree with his views but they think he is honest. Democrats will be trying to convince the voters Eisenhower isn't honest about his work and lets it slide while he plays.

RECREATION OVERPLAYED

From the very beginning of the Eisenhower administration, the reporters have written news stories about the President's recreation. This has resulted in an undue emphasis on his absences from the White House, though the record shows that FDR often went to Hyde Park and Warm Springs, and was away from the White House far more than Ike has been. Indeed, because it was wartime, the press was asked not to report many of FDR's movements. Recently the White House records were searched and the facts made known, which revealed that other presidents have taken recreation frequently and have left the White House more than has the present incumbent.

But the press here has not always emphasized what happens when a president departs temporarily from the White House. The story of the elaborate arrangements for instant communication with the President, no matter where he happens to be, is not often told. Nor can the reporters, even when the President is in the White House, know about the dozens of telephone conversations or private conferences he has with high officials on current problems. Anyone who thinks a president of the United States can be off the job for as much as an hour day or night without being subject to call doesn't know the White House routine.

The public will soon tire of the so-called "health" or "part-time" issue. For the fact is that no human being can guarantee that Eisenhower and Nixon or Stevenson and Kefauver will live out their terms if elected. The American people are not likely to accept the thesis that, because a president might possibly fail to live out his term, it's a good reason for voting for another candidate who represents a totally opposite point of view on the main issues of the campaign.

The Republicans will be answering by asking another question:

"Which would the American people prefer—a 'full time' president who devotes all his time to destructive policies or a president who, when he is at his desk, spends all his time developing constructive policies?"

It doesn't take long to think up ways to spend money instead of cutting out waste. It doesn't take many minutes to make a decision that can increase the military draft calls and send American boys into foreign wars. It doesn't require many hours to take measures that bring on inflation or to approve spending programs that unbalance the budget and drive the purchasing power of the dollar down to half its present value.

What really counts in the long run is not the quantity of hours spent by some presidents in their recreations, such as playing bridge or poker with cronies, but the quality of the work done by a conscientious president of the United States.

Patient Wants Quiet Zone Around General Hospital

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I am at present a patient at Pontiac General Hospital and would like to ask why a zone of quiet has not been established on Huron Street around the hospital.

At night, especially between 9:00 and 2:30 a.m., motorists seem to take a delight in squealing their tires on stopping for the signal light at Huron and Johnson. Then they jockey for the take-off at the light change and squeal their tires in getting away.

This condition is very annoying and nerve wracking to patients trying to get some rest and sleep. I am confined in a room on the Huron Street side and can't sleep very well without sedation and this noise is very aggravating. Can't our police do something about it?

Mr. Oak's Report Is Contradicted

I am sure the stores that sell electric fans will agree that the sale this year has been just a fraction of the usual number. We haven't needed fans. It hasn't been warm enough. How does the Weather Bureau explain this?

Curious

I see by the Press that Mr. Oak, head of the weather department, says this is a normal summer. Nuts. Usually by this time I'm black from the sun. This year I'm barely brown. How does this wise man explain this?

'Mantle Might Get 58, but Never 60'

I get a laugh out of you newspapers. You keep harping about Mickey Mantle and Babe Ruth's home run record. Of course, he won't tie or break Ruth's record. That's a cinch.

Better boys than he ever will be have failed for a quarter of a century. Fifty-five for Mantle? Maybe. Fifty-eight for Mantle? Yes, he might tie Hank Greenberg, but he probably won't. Sixty for Mantle? Never.

Sometimes good fortune smiles on us . . . As it was kind today . . . When we had trouble with our car . . . And could not drive away . . . I tried to start the motor, but . . . The battery was dead . . . And then there were those hasty words . . . I never should have said . . . It seemed a sort of tragedy . . . Until I calmed a bit . . . And realized it was not a blow . . . But quite a benefit . . . It might have happened miles away . . . Upon a lonely plain . . . Or on a distant mountain in . . . The midst of snow or rain . . . Instead, our car was parked at home . . . And we were in no hurry . . . A phone call fixed the auto, and . . . Eliminated worry.

Peace Promoter Nehru Resorts to War at Home

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

A little-known war is raging deep in northeastern India, home of the former head-hunting Naga tribesmen.

Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, a self-avowed peace advocate on many fronts outside his own land, including along the Suez Canal, has rejected a general amnesty in this war.

Independent and opposition members in the Indian Parliament have demanded a general amnesty and new political approach to the problem to prevent widespread casualties.

Nehru in reply has said that his troops will continue their determined effort to wipe out the rebel Naga tribesmen — who demand independence of the Indian government.

The battleground is the so-called Naga Hills district which is part of Assam province, and a mountainous borderland lying between the Brahmaputra River valley and upper Burma.

FORMER SAVAGES

In this wild expanse of forest, mountain and stream are the Nagas, former bloodthirsty savages with a passion for head-hunting until pacified and to some extent civilized by the British in punitive expeditions that began a century ago and lasted until 1880.

Now the Nagas are hunting down Indian troops.

They are led by one Zapu Phizo, and opposition deputies have warned Nehru that this rebel leader is the only man who commands a real following among the various groups making up the Naga People.

Meishing Rishang, a Socialist and the only Naga member of the Indian Parliament, accused the Indian army of rivaling the rebels in atrocities.

He said 2,000 Nagas, whose villages were burned by the troops, now were starving in the forests, and that at least 500 more were imprisoned by the troops.

FRIENDSHIP URGED

Another Parliament member, who said he had no sympathy with the Naga claim to independence, nevertheless said that Nehru never could subdue these people by force. He urged the Prime Minister to go personally to the revolt-torn area and offer friendship.

* * *

Nehru said that the rebels themselves had burned down more villages than the Indian army, in reprisal for tribesmen expressing loyalty to the Indian government.

He said if the troops were withdrawn at this stage many natives would be liquidated by the rebels.

He added that he had met Zapu Phizo and other rebel leaders a half-dozen times in the past without denting the rebel drive for independence, hence force will be his answer.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

For I delight in the law of God after the inward man:—Romans 7:22.

* * *

The law sends us to Christ to be justified, and Christ sends us to the law to be regulated.—John Flavel.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Main Factor to Sore Feet Is Lack of Calcium and D

"Up to the age of fifty I loved to walk. Always walked home from work, a distance of three miles," says a reader.

That's quite a feat for one of any age these days. A prime reason why Americans, children and adults, are soft and steadily getting softer, inferior to Europeans physically, is that Americans ride and Europeans walk.

"Then," continues the reader, "all of a sudden my feet began to give me trouble. It got so bad that I could not stand on them."

"I consulted a relative who is a physician. He said I had become flat-footed and needed mechanical supports."

"I suggested to him that according to Dr. Brady I lack calcium." Oh, oh, here we go again! Couldn't you merely ask casually whether you lack calcium, without bringing up my name? If I were your relative, I'd advise you where to go, and advise you to take Dr. Brady with you.

"The doctor agreed and prescribed calcium and vitamin D as a regular daily supplement to my diet."

What! He didn't hit the ceiling? The man must have extraordinary patience and tolerance as well as professional ability.

"I did so for over a year, but continued to wear the arch supports. Thought I had to.

"Then I paid a second visit to the doctor. He informed me my arches were absolutely normal now, and he prescribed walking without the supports—first a short walk twice a day, and gradually increasing distances day by day as my feet became accustomed to it.

"After several weeks I discarded the arch supports altogether, and now I'm back on my long hikes again."

"Needless to say I still supplement my diet with calcium and vitamin D."

(Signed) . . .

Another remarkable statement in the reader's letter indicates that he, as well as his doctor, is a cut above the general run in savvy. He continues eating extra calcium and D. Fatheads usually resume the deficiency diet as soon as they think they are "cured." This popular numskullery seems to be a heritage from our almanac educated forebears.

I say that the underlying consituation factor in a great many cases of foot trouble—notably pain, aching, tiring, sweating, weakness ir feet, ankles or legs—it nutrional deficiency, especially insufficient daily intake of calcium, vitamin D etc.

This applies especially to the development of such foot trouble in young persons. In another piece, I'll try to explain why a man fifty who enjoys walking might be subject to such trouble.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Insure Child's School Success

Mothers, note Billy's miracle. His mother may have changed the entire family pattern for her future grandchildren. For she has made Billy fond of school when he wanted to drop out. A high school diploma brings $49,000 more in lifetime earnings and a college diploma adds an extra $103,000, so figure out for yourselves. Send for the booklet below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case S-353: Billy T., aged 13, is in the seventh grade.

"Dr. Crane, Billy was about to fail last year," his mother said.

* * *

"For he couldn't spell and his English was terrible. He was almost at the bottom of his class.

"He grew so discouraged that he wanted to quit school and get a job, but I told him he was too young.

"Since I never went beyond the first year of high school, I couldn't be much help to him, but I used to cry at night and pray that somehow I could keep him interested in school.

"Well, the very next week you had a column on how to tutor a child at home. I ordered your booklet through our Miami paper.

"And it got me interested in English grammar and reading, too. So I told Billy we'd test each other every night for 15 minutes.

* * *

"Later, I got his Daddy to join in. And it proved a lot of fun. But what was far more valuable to me, was the fact that Billy's grades began to get better.

"It wasn't six weeks before he was making average marks. And before the year was over, he was in the upper 25 per cent of his class.

"Meanwhile, I had improved in my English. We also bought an old typewriter from the office where my husband works. It cost us $25.

"But it encouraged Billy and me to learn to type. I got a wall chart to show which fingers should be used on the keys.

"Then we would take turns practicing. Billy can now type about 25 words per minute by the touch system and I can do even better than that.

"But having to watch words more carefully, led to his better spelling and reading. And I earned an extra dividend myself.

CONTEST PRIZES

"For I finally got enough self-confidence to enter some prize contests, now that we had a typewriter.

* * *

"And I was thrilled to death when I finally won a $10 cash award. Later I won an electric toaster, too.

"But the best reward of all is the fact that Billy is now interested in school and looking forward eagerly to going on to college.

"That's what I hoped and prayed for, but he never would have done it except for this miracle.

"So tell all mothers not to give up hope. Have them use that booklet and make a game out of their 15-minutes of home study together.

"It will benefit the mothers, and change the children's entire outlook on life. I know from my own experience."

BILLY'S MIRACLE

And that is quite true. I could cite thousands of similar cases.

You mothers can make or break your children as regards their school success.

* * *

If you can tactfully boost your child's morale by helping him raise his school marks, then his dislike of school will change to fondness.

For we like that in which we excell and dislike that which labels us as a dummy.

By changing your child's outlook, you indirectly place a much surer financial foundation under his future home and guarantee him and his family a more cultured life.

For a high school graduate averages $49,000 more in later lifetime earnings than a grammar school grad. And every year of college is worth an extra $25,000. So look far ahead and insure your children's happiness.

Send for my booklet, "How to Raise Your Child's School Marks," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

* * *

Billy's mother may have added $150,000 to his future earnings by that simple 20c investment.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Answers to Pot-O-Gold No. 12

16 Words: They Puzzled 4,906 Readers

EDITOR'S NOTE — Following are the words that comprise the solution to Puzzle No. 12 in The Press' current word game POT-O-GOLD.

1. PLUM is right. A Lump is too indefinite a term to fit well here. The size of a lump covers so many different things that it must be obvious it is not safe to make such a specific statement. A lump can be of coal, wood, a clod, anything at all, many without any form of significance. A PLUM, political reward or worker's bonus, depends completely on its size.

2. FOX is right. A Fix, if it is to be given that name at all, must mean that a crooked deal has been done. To outsmart a crooked deal before it is accomplished would be to outsmart an attempted fix. It is a FOX, or unusually crafty person, who can be outsmarted and a prizefighter who does this can be proud of himself.

3. TOUCH is right. If a Torch is an actual fiery torch, it must generate considerable heat. If it is an electric torch, or flashlight, it would generate very little heat. A TOUCH making things very light in a situation or a job involving people, where it is possible to generate heat (friction or bitter feelings) by a heavy-handed approach, suits very well. A light TOUCH if required in such a situation, shouldn't (not as much as the wrong TOUCH) generate much heat, as care will be taken to avoid hurt feelings.

4. HALF is right. The words "a bit expensive" point to HALF leather as the choice. If bound in Calf (which means full calf leather) books will undeniably cost much more than if bound in only HALF leather.

5. SAW is right. The Laws, especially an old law, cannot be expected to be within evgryone's province, even that of experienced people. The wisest of men need the special interpretation of lawyers and the courts to help in their understanding of a law, old or new. A SAW, wise saying or maxim, readily carries greater meaning to experienced people who have had occasion to appreciate the pertinent wisdom of such sayings.

6. BRISK is right. A BRISK person, one who is alert and businesslike, may very well be a success because he has the qualities necessary for getting on in the world. A Brick is a first-rate or admirable fellow in the sense of his treatment of other people. This means that he not only does not take advantage of others, but often goes out of his way to help them, even at his own personal expense. This is fine, of course, but hardly conducive to being a success in a competitive world.

7. GUN is right. A Guy may be a fellow, not even a gunman, and to challenge a dangerous guy may be painful, but not necessarily fatal. He may be challenged in a business way, to a fist fight or as a rival in love. But a GUN, in the parlance of the West, is a gunfighter, a deadly man with a GUN. So that is the better choice here.

8. WORDS is right. Since the Worms of stills (alcoholic stills) are vital parts of the works, these spiral condensing tubes can't be dispensed with. The Works would include all working parts, so you can't choose that, either. This should lead you to examine the word stills in another meaning. A still is a photo or movie slide used to advertise a coming attraction, or used as part of a series of travel stills, etc. These may or may not have captions, explanatory reading material. This suits exactly. When the WORDS are necessary, they are used. But many stills are pictures without WORDS.

9. WON is right. If the battle is WON, it may not matter how it raged earlier. But how the battle is Now makes it very important how it raged earlier, for the early stages determine the strength that is left for winning. It is better to win even a pyrrhic (disastrous) victory, than to lose such a battle. This would be how the battle is WON, perhaps dangerously, perhaps not.

10. RACK is right. Cares that RACK a mother torment her continually and age her before her time. Cares that Rock a mother may stun her by their unexpectedness or even by their incongruity. But you can see that such cares can only rock temporarily. Anyone who is rocked must spring back or cope with the situation. To be racked is more serious, since racking cares cannot be considered merely temporary.

11. STALK is right. A single STALK of wheat could hardly be a good sign whereby to judge a whole crop. A Stack has much more evidence to offer. A single STALK may be puny, extra fine, or just average, due to peculiar circumstances of growth. But a whole stack would have many STALKS and thus give a more reliable picture of what to expect. Seeing a stack in the fields gives an idea of extent and value. Seeing a STALK need not take place in the field.

12. STRIKE is right. Unless Stripe is specified as to color or use, it cannot positively identify a contestant according to our clue. A Stride is used in too many sports to be specific, in running, horse-racing, and all sports involving walking or running. A STRIKE, as in baseball, would not serve too well here, as a single STRIKE would not identify with any particular ball team. But a STRIKE, a single STRIKE, has significance in bowling, as it is all ten pins down at one throw, and this would mark the contestant as a member of a bowling team.

13. BOND is better than Bind. To BOND bricks is to lay them in a distinct pattern. The architect can very well specify this BOND, as it affects the outward appearance of the structure. To bind bricks could mean to make them stick with a certain kind of mortar. This need not be in the architect's hands at all. It is more likely in the contractor's hands.

14. SNUB is right. A SNUB is the cold shoulder, or cruel indifference from someone who has the power to hurt by snubbing. This someone, then, was formerly either friendly or available, and the present SNUB hurts just because of that and lingers in the memory. If a person is a Snob (a social climber), there is no proof that damage is being done to anyone but the snob himself. If you know someone is a snob, then he cannot hurt you, as you are prepared for this snobbery and may even prefer to be ignored by such a person.

15. FILED is better. If ballplayers, which means more than one, have just Filed out (hit easily caught flies), they know to a better degree how the game is progressing and what's going to happen than players who have just FILED out (just marched out) on the field. In the latter case, the game has not yet begun and anything can happen. With two or more ballplayers having flied out, the issue may still be in doubt, but it is less in doubt than at the very beginning, before these outs have been made.

16. STANCE is better. The holding of a Seance (spiritualistic session) cannot be said to be based on genuine confidence or assurance. It may be a matter of genuine hope, but certainly not confidence. A STANCE, or position held in golf, baseball, etc., should be one of genuine confidence and can most logically be so.

Engine Failure Downs Plane With Shigemitsu

NEW YORK (AP)—A United Airlines plane carrying Mamoru Shigemitsu, Japanese foreign minister, returned to Idlewild Airport today with one engine out of order an hour after it left for San Francisco.

* * *

The plane made a normal landing with three engines, as fire engines stood by.

The plane carried 53 passengers and a crew of five.

Shigemitsu was en route home, via San Francisco, after conferences in Moscow and London. As he boarded the plane he said "Relations between the United States and Japan never will be shaken."

Sale of Town to Settle Taxes Is Called Off

IRON MOUNTAIN (AP)—Plans to sell the abandoned town of Fayette and a Manistique motel to settle tax claims against a Detroit nurse have been cancelled, the Internal Revenue Bureau announced.

John Fugere of Iron Mountain, Upper Peninsula internal revenue supervisor, said yesterday the sale had been called off. But he said he had no immediate explanation why the property will not go on the block this month as originally scheduled.

The 40-acre Fayette town site and Cabins-by-the-Sea motel at Manistique were bought by Gladys Edwards of Detroit several years ago.

The Fayette location, a thriving iron producing center during the Civil War, was up for public sale Sept. 11. The motel was to be sold Sept. 13.

Monkey Business Legal

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — It looked like monkey business to a friend when he found Oklahoma County Deputy Sheriff Jim Farris staring at the apes in their zoo cage.

Faris had an explanation—he plays clown for the Shrine here and uses an ape costume. "I like to watch the apes to make my act realistic," he said.

A new mountain range with peaks up to 13,000 feet has been discovered by Australia's Antarctic Expedition based at Mawson.

Friends and relatives of a native woman in Zeerust, South Africa, hearing of her death, walked 15 miles to attend her funeral—but found her attending a beer drinking party.

Hal Boyle Asks:

What's in a Name? More Than You Think!

What's in a name— Boynle than often meets the ear.

NEW YORK (AP)—What's in a name?

Well, it turns out, a lot more

The name of Vice President Richard M. Nixon, for example, holds a meaning unwelcome to the Democrats in an election year. Nixon means "Nick's son," and Nick is a pet form of Nicholas, which means "people's victory."

* * *

Democrats may get some consolation, however, from the fact that Adlai Stevenson's last name stands for "son of Stephen" and Stephen is derived from "crown or garland."

President Dwight Eisenhower, and Estes Kefauver, the Democratic vice presidential candidate, have names that hold a lot of history.

* * *

Dwight means light-complexioned, and it also means a descendant of Diot, possibly a pet form for Dionysus, the Greek god of wine. Eisenhower means iron miner or a man who made eisenhauers, a German saber blade strong enough to shear through iron nails.

Estes is derived from gracious, and also "son of the East." Kefauver is German for one who made and sold vats.

* * *

These are tidbits turned up by Elsdon C. Smith, a New York attorney who, after 20 years of research, has written a book, "The Dictionary of American Family Names." He gives 10,000 examples, ranging from Aagaard, dweller in the yard by the river, to Zylstra, dweller near a drainage sluice.

Family names are one thing the Russians never got around to inventing first. The Chines did—more than 2,000 years ago.

* * *

Here are the original meanings of some of the names that may be familiar in your neighborhood:

Smith—A metal worker.

Jones—son of John, "gracious gift of Jehovah."

Johnson, Johnsen, Johanson, etc.—ditto Jones.

Miller—one who grinds grain.

* * *

Mickelson, Mikkelsen—the son of Michael, "who is like God."

Brown—one with a dark complexion.

Cohen—the priest.

Kelly—grandson of contention.

Kilroy—son of the red-haired man.

* * *

Derivation of the names of some famous people seems oddly appropriate or strangely quaint.

Such as Calvin ("Bald") Coolidge—"dweller near a pool of cold water." Or Warren ("Keeper of a game preserve") Harding—"firm, friend." Or Woodrow ("one who came from a row of trees) Wilson—"resolution."

* * *

Republicans, of course, have known all along that Roosevelt meant "one who lives at or near a rose farm." But probably even those who objected the loudest to the late F.D.R. never knew that his first name, Franklin, stands for "a freeholder who held substantial land for which he paid only a small rent and who rendered little or no service to the Lord."

Sometimes it isn't too cheering to look up the origin of your family name. A Mulvaney is "the grandson of a fussy person overly concerned with minor details." A Monroe is one who dwells "near a red swamp." Anybody named Muscarello may brood over the fact his ancestors were thought to possess the characteristics of a gnat.

* * *

"Why don't you look up your own name, Rover?" suggested my wife, Frances.

So I flipped the page to Boyle, and learned it stood for "grandson of Baolgheall, one who made vain pledges."

"They certainly picked the right one for you," murmured Frances. Searching for a quick comeback I looked up her maiden name—"Young." The book said it meant "one younger than another with whom he was associated."

A married man never wins.

SYMBOL OF UNITY — The Netherlands will be the first of six nations of the European Coal and Steel Community to issue the "Europe Stamp," as a symbol of the closer cooperation in the field of postal activities among the member nations.

Registration Push Pleases Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, concerned over a drop in voter registrations, was described today as "very happy" about a nationwide Republican women's campaign to register qualified voters.

* * *

Miss Bertha Adkins, assistant chairman of the Republican National Committee for women's activities, told Eisenhower at the White House that 3,000 women of the party organization will push a "Republican registration round-up" until November.

Miss Adkins wore her much-publicized "I Like Ike" stockings to the interview. The words are embroidered on each stocking.

Reporters asked if the President admired them. She replied, "I don't think he looked at my stockings. But he noticed my pin," she was wearing a gold elephant on her dress.

* * *

As cameramen and reporters entered the President's office at the close of their conference, the President and Miss Adkins were chatting about other matters—the former Democratic director of women's activities, Mrs. India Edwards.

The president was saying: "I thought that India—what's her name, India Edwards—was the big wheel."

"She's out now; she was for Harriman," Miss Adkins replied. "Katie Louchheim is the big wheel now."

Smoke Bugs Dangerous

CHICAGO (AP) — Fire prevention engineers with an insurance company say smoke bugs are more dangerous than firebugs. Insurance specialists say damage caused by careless smokers last year totaled about 65 million dollars while fires of incendiary and suspecious origin caused damage of some 25 million dollars.

Smog Solution in LA Reported

GM Researchers Claim Mixture of Air Fuel in Cars One Source

LOS ANGELES (INS)—A discovery which may lead to solution of the problem of the contributions to smog by the 2,500,000 vehicles in Los Angeles county has been reported by General Motors research engineers.

The engineers said they found out where the unburned fuel (hydrocarbons) comes from in motor vehicle engines by peering through a quartz "window."

The air fuel mixture, ignited by a spark plug, they found, flames across the combustion chamber until it almost touches the relatively cool chamber walls.

But next to the walls, there is a "thin skin" of fuel which does not burn—it shoots out of the exhaust.

Now under study is the next step in applying this discovery of the "thin skin" of unburned fuel to the Los Angeles smog problem.

Wayne A. Daniel, the GM research staff member who reported the discovery, would say only that further studies are needed to find out how the "thin skin" develops in all phases of a motor vehicle's operations.

Women Pledge Fund for Hospital Aid

METAMORA—Lapeer county Farm Bureau Women's committee have pledged $100 for the dumb waiter for the Lapeer County Convalescent Hospital.

Small additions are expected from local units.

Members will attend the state convention of the FB women in East Lansing Nov. 7, possibly with bus transportation.

Next meeting is Sept. 14 at Mrs. Kenneth Jenkens' home on Five Lake road.

How to Prepare Johnny for School

In a few days more than 2,000 children will enter school for the first time.

Much confusion and worry can be avoided if their parents heed advice offered by Gerald E. White, co-ordinator of elementary education, and Pontiac elementary school teachers. It's all in a booklet, "Off to Kindergarten."

When parents enroll their children next Thursday and Friday, they must bring his birth certificate. To enter a child must be five years old before Dec. 1.

Also helpful are shot record and a complete physical and dental examination for the child.

A child entering kindergarten should know his full name, address and telephone number, and be able to help himself with his physical needs.

Mrs. Jeanette Hillebrand, kindergarten teacher at the new Cora Bailey School, says one of the biggest problems for teachers is keeping track of lost boots, mittens and scarves which have not been properly marked. Also recommended is that parents buy boots large enough for children to get on and off easily.

Another big help to teachers is a child who knows how to tie his shoelaces. Mrs. Hillebrand also says children should know how to use a handkerchief and be well supplied with them.

Occasionally children find it hard to adjust. Unknowingly, parents may have filled the child with fear of school and teacher. Remarks such as "wait until you go to school, your teacher will take care of you for doing that," do not help children get off on the right foot.

Parents should teach their children respect for others and respect for authority. This cannot be done entirely in school—it must have a foundation in the home, authorities say.

* * *

School will be a child's home away from home. The booklet advises parents to talk with their children and help him understand his responsibilities to his teachers and his playmates.

Kindergarten classes will begin Sept. 10, four days later than the other schools.

Days Extended at Milford High

MILFORD — High School students reporting for orientation yesterday were put on an "extended day" program to make room for the additional elementary students in the old Milford elementary building, where high school formerly was held.

The new Milford High School, now under construction, should be completed sometime in late 1957, when an all-day schedule for high schoolers will again be put into effect, says Supt. Harold Hansen.

Thermometer Tells Lot

CHICAGO — Now there's a do-it-yourself thermometer, which an electronics hobbyist can make, that lets a person see, simultaneously, the temperatures at a half-dozen points—usually in a number of rooms or parts of a house.

Ford Predicts Good Car Year

Join Other Automobile Officials in Foreseeing Better Sales

DETROIT (INS) — Henry Ford II, president of Ford Motor Co., predicted yesterday that 1957 will be an exceptionally good year for automobile manufacturers and dealers, joining other car executives who previously made optimistic statements about next year.

* * *

"We interpret all standard economic indices," Ford stated, "as showing an extremely favorable upward trend in new car sales."

The auto executive said sales thus far in 1956 have not met early expectations, but added that, in turn, 1955 sales far exceeded "our most optimistic hopes."

General Motors president Harlow H. Curtice was reported as also being "optimistic" about next year.

L. L. Colbert, Chrysler president, recently told dealers "it looks very possible that we're going to have economic conditions for this business next year as good as or better than in 1955."

American Motors head George Romney has stated he expects his company to show substantial sales improvement in 1957.

Harold E. Church III, president of Studebaker-Packard, is on record as saying he has "full confidence" in a market which "appears to be strengthening as we approach the new model period."

Police Hunt Woman in Bad Check Case

The Pontiac State Bank told police yesterday a middle-aged woman has cashed four phony checks worth $327 in the past two weeks.

Police said the woman, identified as Edith Gorman, of 18 Williams St., opened a checking account Aug. 18 with a deposit of $10. At that time she cashed an $83 check, bank officials say, and has cashed checks for $104, $63 and $77 since.

All the checks bounced, police said.

Detectives are seeking the woman for investigation of uttering and publishing.

Expect Action on Land Fill and Pool Law

ROCHESTER—A swimming pool ordinance is among legal measures in process for the village council.

The ordinance has been put on first reading.

Council members are awaiting official communication from the Avon township board before action on the proposed sanitary land fill.

The village attorney, Roscoe Martic, has been authorized to take options on the five parcels of land discussed for use for off-street parking.

Luxury Liner Rocked by Blast; None Hurt

LONDON (AP) — An unexplained explosion killed one crew member and injured several others aboard the 28,000-ton luxury liner Himalaya as it entered the Mediterranean, the Peninsular & Oriental line offices here said today.

None of the 1,000 passengers aboard the liner were hurt. The Himalaya left England Monday on its regular run to Australia.

A company spokesman said the explosion occurred near a storeroom, but did not affect operation of the ship.

Capt. H. P. Mallet commands the liner, which has accommodations for 762 first-class and 401 tourist-class passengers. It has a crew of more than 600.

Waterford Resident Injured in Crash

A Waterford Township man escaped with minor injuries when his car was struck by another vehicle in front of 9241 Elizabeth Lake Rd., Waterford Township, last night.

Carl C. Shelford, 51, of 9164 Elizabeth Lake Rd., was treated and released at Pontiac General Hospital for two fractured ribs and minor injuries of the right shoulder and chest.

The other car involved was operated by Robert W. Merwine, 35, of 3875 Florman St., Clarkston.

Merwine told investigating Oakland County deputies the Shelford car made a left turn in front of him and he could not avoid the collision. Shelford said he did not see the other vehicle coming in time to stop as he started turning into a driveway at 9241 Elizabeth Lake.

Fourth Well Clears Future

City to Discuss Opening of Badder Street Along Clawson Border

TROY — A fourth well was added yesterday to the city's water supply, and hopes were expressed this morning that the proposed leasing of a well from Birmingham will be unnecessary.

"It looks like this new, strong well in Wendover subdivision will be enough to let us ignore the other well," City Clerk Lawson Lockhart said this morning.

The well, being driven and equipped by George Glover, developer of both Wendover and Thornwood subdivisions, will be sold to the city according to a previous agreement.

The areas are north and west of the Big Beaver - Adams intersection.

The city's system when the city took kit over from the township recently consisted of three wells. Equipment for the third well, in the Glenmore subdivision, north and west of 19 Mile and Livernois roads, was contracted for recently.

Lockhart expressed hope that a leasing agreement that would make a continual drain on city funds would be unnecessary. The well that had been considered is within Troy, but owned and unused by Birmingham.

CONSIDER DRAINAGE

Drainage problems in the subdivisions, of which 53 homes are occupied in Thornwood and many are under construction in Wendover, are being worked out by Glover.

Objections of the residents recently caused discussion with city and county officials, but a new plan is being tried.

City commissioners on Tuesday night, when the meeting has been scheduled because of Labor Day, will consider a new road's opening for through traffic.

Opening of Badder street is needed for a fire and police car route, Lockhart says, and because several individuals and subdividers plan building there.

Bids will be opened Tuesday for equipment needed to clean out the city's dirt clogged ditches. The vehicles which include drag-liners and ditchers are part of an extensive clean-up program for the City.

Hare Tears Hair Bucking Bumpers With Wild Truck

DETROIT (AP)—Secretary of State James M. Hare says he fears his horn-tooting, door-open, arm-flinging drive down U. S. 16 between Novi and Farmington last night might cost him some votes of irate motorists—unless he explains.

* * *

Hare, Democratic nominee for re-election, explains thus:

Just as he topped a hill between Novi and Farmington, a 10-ton truck eased in to the highway alongside him. As it began to crowd, Hare turned for an angry look at the driver. There wasn't one.

He shot his state-owned Buick out front, slowed and braked as the truck nudged him. But he found an automobile's brakes weren't meant to hold a 10-ton truck on a downhill grade. To save his smoking, screaming tires he released the brakes, and drove wildly ahead of the careening truck, tooting his horn and flinging a free arm out an open door.

RUNS OFF ROAD

Several motorists took to the ditches to avoid Hare — and the truck. Another lost a left rear fender when the truck hit his car. Finally the truck went into a ditch on the left of the highway, more than 400 yards from its take-off point.

Ten minutes later an irate Theodore Black of Detroit, showed up, demanding to know: "Who stole my truck?"

Black explained he parked his big truck atop the hill at a fruit farm to make a purchase. When he returned it was gone.

* * *

Jokingly, Hare said he likely lost some votes in his wild ride, and added not so jokingly: "I know one thing I lost with that big baby on my tail—five years of my life."

Graduating Saturday

METAMORA—Donne Jean Bice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bice of Lapeer, formerly of Metamora, is a member of the graduating class of 1956 at the Henry Ford Hospital School of Nursing.

Graduating exercises and reception are to be held tomorrow afternoon, at the Education Building on Bethune avenue, Detroit.

Waterford Slates Session on Tuesday

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—The weekly meeting of the Waterford Township Board will be Wednesday at 3 p.m., instead of Monday, due to the holiday.

Rezoning to commercial of lots 295 and 296 in Huron Gardens was denied by the township board this week and was referred to the township board of appeals.

Township board recommended the lots remain residential with non-conforming use, provided proper drainage and fencing is arranged.

Plat for Cherokee Hills subdivision No. x2 was approved, subject to blacktopping and water installation.

The board authorized the DAV to conduct its annual forget-me-not sale in the area Sept. 14 and 15.

Grange Sets Event

METAMORA—An afternoon and evening district meeting of the Grange is slated for Sept. 20 at the Hunters Creek hall, with the local Grange members as hosts.

What's Your Lactobacillus Count?

Lose Weight the UM Dental Way

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Looking for a new excuse to dietttttttttttttttttt new excuse to diet?

The University of Michigan's School of Dentistry has one, but they aren't looking for on-again-off-again weight loses.

* * *

Some 3,500 state dentists and the state health department are rounding up patients to prove it is possible to reduce and even prevent tooth decay by strict adherence to a special diet.

Dr. Philip Jay, chief of Michigan's dental cares research laboratory and head of the study, says: "Much of our information now is bacteriological.

"Through this project, the practicing dentist will have an opportunity to test the use of this method clinically, using selected patients. Through this study we hope to determine what percentage of dental patients in Michigan will be cooperative in a difficult dietary regime."

REDUCE SUGAR

Dentists will select one of several patients with severe tooth decay. Helen Benson, a University nutrition expert, will give each patient thorough preliminary instructions and then supervise them closely on their low sugar diet.

Dr. Jay said it has been found that the amount of sugar in the diet can be reduced if it is properly done.

* * *

The patients will be counseled during regular visits to the university's extension centers at Flint, Grand Rapids, Escanaba, Saginaw and Traverse City.

The diet's purpose is to reduce a germ called lactobacillus in the mouth.

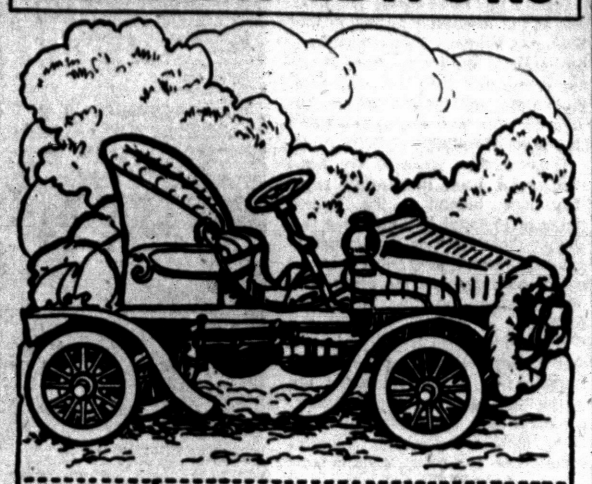

The germ is found in great quantity wherever tooth decay appears. University experiments have shown that the germ is directly associated with decay.

* * *

But Dr. Jay says a patient will only be eligible for the diet if he has a lactobacillus count in his mouth of 10,000—and that's a lot.

CROSSING THE COUNTRY — 5
By Car

Europeans began building "horseless carriages," propelled by combustion engines, in the middle of the last century, and soon a few young Americans began to experiment with them.

The first American car was built by two such experimenters, the Duryea brothers, in 1893. Two years later a model built by them won the first automobile race in the United States, in Chicago. In 1900 many of the cars were driven by electricity or steam, but within a few years all models ran on gasoline.

It took H. Nelson Jackson 63 days to drive from San Francisco to New York in one of these early cars in 1903.

There was great hostility to the new contraptions among farmers and country people and sometimes they would put tacks on the road to stop them.

With your crayons color this picture of an early car. Paste it down on cardboard and cut it out along the outline. Fold the center panel under and fold the two side panels forward on the dotted lines so the picture will stand.

(The Junior Editors $10 award goes to Janet Cline, Grand Ledge, Mich., for being the first to suggest this. Perhaps you have an idea, if so send it in care of this newspaper. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures.)

Truant Officer Given OK to Carry Gun for Safety

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — When can a truant officer carry a gun?

Only if he can prove he has a right to carry concealed a deadly weapon for protection in the line of duty, the state attorney general's office decided.

Ruben Watts of the Letcher County Board of Education had asked if truant officers could carry weapons. Asst. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Matthews replied the right "would depend on a particular set of facts and a particular situation.".

Cain Calls Union Red Front Group

Asks Board to Order Organization in Seattle to Register

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harry P. Cain ruled today against the Washington Pension Union in a case in which both the government and the union had alternately challenged and defended his impartiality.

* * *

As a member of the Subversive Acitivities Control Board, Cain recommended that the board order the pension union to register as a Communist-front organization.

Cain said the pension union "has been and is managed, directed and supervised by leaders the large majority of whom are functionaries and representatives of the Communist party."

His finding came after he had conducted hearings which once were interrupted when the government made the unusual move of suggesting that the SACB reopen its consideration of a pension union complaint against Cain. The union then supported Cain. The hearings were held in Seattle, Wash., and Washington, D.C.

Be on Lookout for Poison Ivy

Large Crop Promised of 3-Clustered Leaf White-Berry Plant

"Leaflets three, let them be," is a handy saying to remember if you want to increase your summer fun. Poison ivy is enjoying a bountiful growing season, probably due to the abundant rains and cool weather.

This plant thrives just about everywhere, and very few people are immune to it. Should you handle it, wash your hands and face with gasoline or a strong laundry soap. The non-volatile oil, the cause of poisoning, is killed after being washed.

To distinguish poison ivy, look for a plant with leaves occurring in threes with white fruits. The harmless ivy has black or red berries, and the leaves occur in clusters of fives.

The berries of the three-leaved ivy are intensely poisonous, and children may become very ill from eating them.

Control of the plant varies. Frequent cultivation will keep poison ivy under control. Where valuable trees or shrubs are growing close to poison ivy, grubbing must be resorted to.

Where injury to other plants need not be considered, chemical sprays are the best control. This method reduces any contact with the plant. Ammonim sulfamate (sold under the trade name of Ammate), one pound to each gallon of water, will give safe and active control. The solution is sprayed on the foliage, but several applications may be needed because of the persistency of the vine.

Still one other way to control the plant is to paint as many leaves and woody stems as possible with a new weed killer listed as 245-T.

CORN IN MANHATTAN — Against the maze of Manhattan skyscrapers a different kind of maize grows in a rather uncommon spot. This green stalk of corn grows completely uninhibited in its place in the sun in a churchyard at Broadway and Fulton Street. The stubborn stalk is believed to have grown from seed thrown to pigeons.

Help Patients With Flowers

Horticulture Therapy Proves Successful in Recovery

By MYRENE TAYLOR
Rochester Correspondent

One of the most active committees of the Rochester branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Assn. is the Horticulture-Therapy committee. Members volunteer their time and efforts each week to work with patients at the Pontiac State Hospital.

Their weekly visits to the hospital have been interesting and, they hope, helpful to the 20 patients of Hospital B Ward. One result of their visits is that patients have taken an interest in the making of corsages and the arranging of bouquets for the individual rooms.

The group takes baskets of garden flowers, greens and ribbons. Usually two of the members go to the individual rooms with their container and materials while the other members work at a large table in the day room, making corsages in front of the patients.

Hospital supervisor Inez Reese said recently that the patients seem to look forward to the visits each Friday morning. More interest is created as the colors of flowers and ribbons are formed into the little corsages.

Pleasant talk and cheery greetings go along with the flower arranging.

When the Rochester group first took up this project they worked during the spring with teen-age boys in garden projects. At the present time, their interest is centered in helping several young gardeners who live at a hospital annex on Walton boulevard near Rochester.

Throughout the year, plans are made for the special days of the year. Local church groups furnish the committee with cards, stamps and fruits, and ribbons and greens. Others paint bottles and containers.

The committee often attends all-day Horto-therapy council meetings at Ann Arbor, Pontiac and Northville in order to keep well informed on new projects which may interest shut-ins.

Members of the committee who have been functioning for over a year are Mrs. John Plassey, Mrs. J. Arcure, Mrs. Mason A. Case, Mrs. B. J. Murray and Mrs. C. H. Whitlock.

BEFLOWERED FLAGPOLE — Entwining morning glories have been coaxed up this sparkling white flagpole at the Ted Koella home, 1845 Woodland, Sylvan Lake. Charles Jenks, shown here, and Mrs. Koella, his daughter, have watched the blue blooms and urged them up to their nearly ten-foot pinnacle, making a brilliant landmark in the stretch of green lawns not far from Orchard Lake avenue.

Quizzing the Gardener

Q—Will clippings left after mowing be good or bad for the lawn?

A—Most helpful if the lawn is mowed regularly. Grass should be cut when it is 2 to 2½ inches long and with the mower set to cut about 1½ inches.

If grass is too long and thick the clippings may mat down and injure the grass below. Short clippings dry out in a day or two and add considerable organic matter to the soil.

Q—How often should one cultivate the vegetable garden?

A—Do not cultivate much in hot weather. Just enough to keep the rows weed-free. An inch is deep enough, otherwise you may injure vegetable roots.

* * *

Q—Is it necessary to lime the soil around established lilacs?

A—Lilacs show their need for lime by not growing well in an acid soil. If you have plants that are several years old and have shown poor growth and sparse blooms, it is probably due to the lack of lime.

Several trowelfuls of agricultural lime cultivated and watered well into the soil about the plants may be the means of revitalizing ailing plants.

A good dose of superphosphate applied with the lime would be appreciated.

Q—How far north will apricots grow?

A — Apricot trees will grow wherever the peach will grow, but since the apricot blooms earlier than the peach, satisfactory crops will not set where later spring frosts are common.

Today's Grapes Larger, Juicier

Big strides have been made in the hybridization of grapes in the ast decade. Today they are larger, sweeter and juicier, thanks to our plant scientists.

The ideal location for a grape vine is on a slope where there is good air as well as soil drainage, but they can be grown practically everywhere except in a swamp.

Black, red, purple, white, golden, blue are some of the colors of grapes that can be grown by any home owner.

Grapes can be grown on a wide variety of soils, gravelly loam or clay. They'll bear the second or at least the third year after planting. Grapes must be pruned to bear well.

One of the widely-used systems of pruning is to train to a single stem wth four canes or branches at right angles to the main trunk.

There are a number of grape varieties for each climate. Consult with your nurseryman for his advice.

Tree Transplant Requires Late Summer Care

The tree transplant that lives through August and September is well on its way to healthy adulthood.

Too frequently, even the most ardent gardeners are so intent upon getting off on vacation, they forget young trees may need watering while they are gone.

Struggling trees seem to respond best if well soaked at stated intervals, rather than given daily sprinkling. This means a regular weekly watering. The limited root systems of transplants require a handy moisture supply. As trees become better established, their roots can reach farther afield for a needed drink.

Since regular watering tends to leach out some of the soil nutrients, a light feeding with fertilizer high in nitrogen content will be helpful at this time.

Lush Shade Trees Need More Water

In districts where spring rainfall was above normal, shade trees are now providing the heaviest shade in years—but an ironical twist of fate is making them more susceptible than ever to serious "sun burning."

* * *

Unusually lush foliage requires an extra supply of water and nutrients. In the heat and height of summer, nutritional and water deficiencies are reflected as leaf scorch.

One of the most important elements to tree dietetics is nitrogen, which is water soluble.

The immediate control for leaf scorch, a browning of leaf tissue brought on by searing heat and dry weather, is to deep water the soil and to feed the entire root area.

A maple leaf first shows scorching along the margins, since this is the part of the leaf farthest from the water supply. Oaks usually show drouth injury as irregular brown spots appearing at or near leaf margins.

Deciduous Trees Require Water Through Autumn

As long as it retains its foliage, a deciduous tree is thirsty. And that spells trouble to many thousands of landscape pets across the nation.

Few home owners are aware of the tremendous water requirements of plant life. To make matters worse, they are inclined to hang up the garden hose for the winter long before they really should.

Trees well supplied with moisture are less subject to winter injury. A tree dehydrated because of drought suffers dried out twigs and branches as well as leaves.

Move Houseplants In

Starting now moving houseplants slowly back indoors. First take them to a shaded spot like a porch or patio, then put then back on an open window sill. After a time, take them indoors.

Still Time to Plant Seeds for Next Year

There is still time to sow seed of biennials and perennials for bloom next year.

Prepare seed beds carefully and try to provide some shade—from trees or by cheesecloth shades—to protect tender young seedlings from hot sun.

Watering, Pest Control Still Needed

As we approach September, there is a likelihood of more hot days and meager rainfall.

Watering and pest control, therefore, are important.

Where water is limited, the gardener must remember that potted plants and plants in porch and window boxes dry out faster than those in the ground.

Your lawn and garden will suffer much from lack of water but it is doubtful if plants, other than annuals, tuberous begonias and other water-demanding plants, will die.

The first real rain should revive the lawn.

When you can water, make much use of the type of plastic hose with many small holes that send out a fine, gentle spray along its entire length. But make sure the water is absorbed by the soil instead of running off onto the drive.

It seems that aphids, slugs, red spider mite and ants are ever-present in the garden. Being easy to see or identify, they can be kept under control because of the several available, effective insecticides.

It's surprising, too, what help handpicking of slugs is. Washing off aphids and red spider mite with a forceful stream of water also is an effective method.

And keep after the aphids and black spot with a general rose dust or spray. If possible, do the job on a windless morning.

Tuberous begonias should be at their best now—but many are not. Some have just struggled along, producing few worthwhile blooms and showing signs of mildew and leaf spotting.

Spraying with captan is the best means of controlling mildew and leaf spot disease.

Since fertilizer is of no value until it is in solution, the old gardener suggests using either a water soluble, concentrated fertilizer or stirring in a half cup of instant Vigoro or similar fertilizer to a gallon of water.

Inquiry concerning the yellowing and premature dropping of fruit tree foliage stumped the old gardener until the anxious home gardener admitted failure to fertilize the trees for several years. A lack of nitrogen in the soil undoubtedly is to blame.

Average, mature peach trees, for example, require 3 to 5 pounds of nitrate of soda, or 6 to 8 pounds of a 10-6-4 fertilizer annually.

Spreading this amount won't help this year but try an early application next spring, 2 to 4 weeks before the buds break.

Make Late Planting

If the cold frame isn't in use, use it for a very late planting of radishes and lettuce. They can be protected against an early killing frost.

Nasser Gambling With 80 Million Arabs for Stakes

Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser surprised the world when he nationalized the Suez Canal. What prompted this startling move? What does it mean in relation to Nasser's long-term goals? Here is the full, inside story from the chief INS correspondent in the Middle East.)

CAIRO (INS)—Ever since he began plotting revolution, Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser always viewed a showdown with the West as "inevitable."

But he did not expect it this soon. Nor did he expect it to erupt specifically over the Suez Canal.

Highly responsible sources both inside and outside Nasser's regime report Anglo-American withdrawal of the Aswan Dam offer took the Egyptian high command completely by surprise.

It necessitated a quick, face-saving switch in the Egyptian president's long-range blueprint to unite the Arab world.

THE INSIDE STORY

This is the authentic story, revealed for the first time.

Nasser's technique and trademark always has been to bolster his position by playing off one side against the other.

He deposed Maj. Gen. Mohammed Naguib by enlisting the help of the Moslem Brotherhood, then he quickly smashed the fantical brotherhood.

* * *

Once Nasser's position as strongman was firmly established on the homefront, he began applying the same technique in the international sphere. His eventual aim is consolidation of all Arab states from Morocco to the Persian Gulf. But Nasser knows it will take time—and outside help.

He needed arms to build up his army for what Egyptians believe is a possibility—an attack by Isreal.

When Washington refused to sell on his terms, the door was opened for Nasser turned to Moscow.

MORE CALCULATING

There also was the question of Egypt's dire poverty. He seized on the idea that Aswan would help solve that. He figured that after the arms deal with the Communists the West would be interested in providing aid to keep from losing strategic Egypt to the Russians.

Strangely, the idea of the West financing the Aswan Dam appealed both to Nasser and Moscow. Russia's Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov in June urged Nasser to conclude the Aswan deal with the West. At the same time, he promised huge Russian aid in other industrial projects.

From the Soviet view, moving in too quickly on Egypt could backfire in other Arab states which distrust the Communists. Moscow was confident time was on the Communist side for winning the whole Middle East. So why jeopardize a sure thing?

* * *

Nasser also favored a go-slow policy, with Moscow. He was keenly aware communism had no appeal to the rulers of neighboring Saudi Arabia and Jordan, and even less to Iraq's King Feisal. These nations Nasser hopes eventually to weld into a new Arab Federation, 80,000,000 strong, with Cairo as its capital and himself as leader.

His grand concept is a great international Arab force independent of both East and West. Such a force naturally would mean an inevitable clash with big Western business interests in the Mideast, particularly over oil.

The eventual Arab plan would take over all oil—two-thirds of the world's known supplies—and sell it to the West, instead of letting the West run the oil fields on a 50-50 basis, such as the deal Aramco has with Saudi Arabia, or the 70-30 split the British have with Kuwait and other Persian Gulf sheikdoms.

AMBASSADOR GOES FISHING

Meanwhile, it would be expedient to let the West help build the Aswan Dam. So after six months of backing and filling, Nasser sent Ambassador Ahmed Hussein flying to Washington to wrap up the deal.

The bombshell came July 20 when Secretary of State John Foster Dulles told Hussein the American offer had been withdrawn. British officials quickly followed suit.

The development set off a frenzied five-day series of conferences by the Egyptian high command resulting in the Suez Canal nationalization.

* * *

Some Egyptians now are convinced Dulles' strategy was to force Nasser to accept the Russian Aswan deal, figuring this would commit him completely to Moscow and thus set in motion his eventual isolation from the Arab states.

But if that was the trap Nasser eluded it.

He played his trump card, Suez which kept him out of the Russian clutches and threw him head-on against the West yet made him a hero throughout the Arab world. It even brought support from Iraq, Nasser's old adversary and pivot of the Western-sponsored Baghdad pact.

So far, Nasser has proved to be an artful dodger and master of the quick switch. But for how long?

NASSER CONFIDENT

Now that the initial London-Paris storm has blown over and Moscow and New Delhi have rushed to his side, Nasser is confident Egypt will keep the canal and eventually negotiate some sort of international convention guaranteeing freedom of passage.

If he can keep the West at bay over Suez, Nasser can be expected to devote his immediate energies to consolidating his newly won gains and stepping up his campaign among his Arab neighbors for the cherished dream of a united Arab world.

The master blueprint has been moved from the bottom desk drawer to the top.

Detroiter Asks Port Equality

Says Great Lakes Cities Should Get More Time to Unload Ships

CHICAGO (AP) — The chairman of the Port of Detroit Commission has appealed for equality between Great Lakes and other U.S. ports before a Senate subcommittee studying the St. Lawrence Seaway.

* * *

Henry J. Sullivan joined other seaway officials yesterday in asking for more time to unload cargo for export from railroad cars onto ships in Great Lakes ports.

Service order No. 914 of the Interstate Commerce Commission now allows two days free time for loading export cargo.

Sullivan requested the Senate group intervene with the ICC for "extended free time."

Other port authorities asked for six days' time which the ICC permits at U.S. ocean and gulf ports.

Railroads charge a demurrage fee for the detention of railroad cars beyond a specified time after a car is placed for unloading or loading. But the charges are reviewed by the ICC, port officials said.

Sullivan also advocated keeping tolls low "so that ships of the world will not be deterred from seaway use.

"Without low tolls, we are defeating the primary purpose for the construction of the enlarged seaway," he added.

Culinary Triumph!

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Mrs. Ed Daniel tells this story of minor domestic incident:

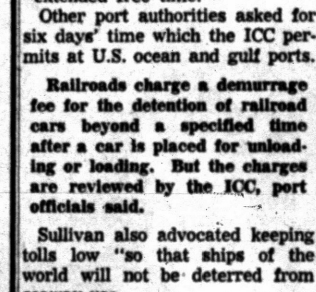

In a huff she used prepared shaving lather from a pressurized can, instead of whipped cream, to top her husband's favorite chocolate dessert.

When he picked up his spoon, she turned her back and waited for the explosion. Nothing happened. He ate every bit of the soaped up dessert.

Festoon your throat with crystals. For crystalline beads have new fashion stature in 1956. Cued to the 1912 look of fall are multi-stranded necklaces, their faceted beads a-twinkle in all the pale Edwardian colors. Mix them, match them, blend them, but wear them in masses to fill in the deep-dipped decolletages for after-five. Sparkling on the ears are matching beaded buttons, their colorful center rimmed in clear prism-like crystal.

Even Music Is Pigeonholed

Classified Labels Banish All Shopping Guesswork

By DOROTHY ROE,
Associated Press Women's Editor

Today's women never had it so good.

The age of science, electronics and automation has relieved them of most physical labor. And now the era of specialization has been developed to such a point that they hardly have to think.

Classified labels simplify shopping. Nowadays a customer can walk into a shop and say: "I want to buy a toy for a little boy two years old, with red hair and a mania for breaking things." At once the prescribed 'toy is produced — perhaps a sledge hammer and a supply of breakaway plastic furniture.

* * *

If she wants to make a cake, she can select it from a variety of ready-mixed ingredients, complete with frosting and full directions as to how to stir, bake and serve.

If she wants to take a trip, a travel agency will have an assortment already planned — for a single girl who wants to meet a man, for a married woman who wants to get away from her husband and children, for a couple who want to have a second honeymoon, and so on.

* * *

If she wants to read a book, she can look over the classified book store list: Light summer fiction, escape literature, whodunits, inspirational books, travel books, books for young women who want to be glamorous, books for older women who want to be ditto, books on how to live longer, books on how to retire, books on how to do it yourself — ad infinitum.

Now the trend has extended even to music. Latest product of the age of specialization is a long-playing record entitled "music for expectant mothers." Included is an assortment of selections chosen for their soothing qualities, such as "My Shining Hour," "For You," "There Is No Greater Love," "Exactly Like "You," "Soon" and "My Baby's Comin' Home."

The idea is said to have been inspired by a leading obstetrician who recommends that his patients put aside household routine and spend an hour or so every day listening to anti-depressive music.

There's no limit to where this idea may go. There could be a record, for instance, entitled "for greeting a husband coming in late from a poker game." Or — "for replying to a bill collector." Or — "for when the boss comes to dinner and you don't know what to say."

* * *

There could be a breakfast record — "for husbands who are grouchy in the mornings." Or a seasonal series: "cheerful selections for income tax time," "cool numbers for hot days" and "hot numbers for cold days."

* * *

Soon, probably, records will adopt the now fully developed greeting classifications: "birthday record for a second cousin named Louise," "anniversary record for your great uncle Fud" and "suitable musical remarks to fling after a faithless beau."

Will-O-Way Is Accepting Applications

Scholarship Open for Fall Classes in Theater Arts

The Will-O-Way Apprentice Theater is now accepting applications for the Treesa Merrill Scholarship for fall theater classes.

Persons interested in applying for the scholarship must be sponsored by a club affiliated with the Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs.

Applications may be made at the theater or by contacting Mrs. Celia Merrill Turner, director of the theater.

Preliminary tryouts, for young women over 16 years of age, are scheduled for Sunday, Sept. 9, beginning at 2 p.m. Applications are being accepted through Sept. 16 and classes begin on Sept. 17, continuing for 18 weeks.

The Apprentice Theater offers year-around certificate courses in all phases of theater, acting, stage design, lighting, production and stage managing. Theater experience is not necessary.

The fall schedule offers one-hour classes twice a week. Younger children will meet in the morning, high school students in the afternoon and adults in the evening.

"Intermezzo" is the name of this set of contoured golden twigs that mold symmetrically to the neck and wrist. Flexible link bracelets, softly fitting necklace and button earrings are available in the city.

Just Suffer if Guests Won't Leave

No 'Out' for Hostess if Afternoon Party Goes On and On

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: "Will you please tell me how a hostess can get guests to leave an afternoon party. I have given two afternoon parties within the past few months and even though the invitations stated three to six o'clock, many of the guests stayed on into the evening.

"I am very reluctant to give any more afternoon parties unless you can offer a solution to this problem."

Answer: You must be a very good hostess and your guests must be having a very good time. You cannot possibly ask them to go, so all I can suggest is that you never make any plans for the evening following a party.

Dear Mrs. Post: "Having been entertained in a neighbor's house, would it be unfriendly, or unneighborly, not to extend an invitation to them to our house.

"My husband thinks not, but I disagree with him. Will you please let me hear from you on this matter."

Answer: You should certainly return an invitation if you can, especially if you have enjoyed their hospitality.

Dear Mrs. Post: "Are place mats proper at a formal dinner? I am of the opinion that a tablecloth should be used at a formal dinner and that place mats are proper only for lunch and informal dinners.

"A friend disagrees and says that place mats are proper at all times. Will you please set us straight on this?"

Answer: Only a tablecloth is correct for a really formal dinner.

Dear Mrs. Post: "Are the children in a wedding party—the flower girl and the ring bearer—supposed to be given presents for taking part in the wedding the way the older attendants are?"

Answer: A present for each is very important because the children care much more than the adults.

Rally Day Scheduled for Sept. 26

Mrs. Arthur O'Hara and Mrs. William J. Tiberg were cohostesses at the former's home on Farnsworth avenue Thursday afternoon to group chairmen of the Pontiac District of Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service.

* * *

Plans were made for Rally Day to be held Sept. 26 at Stevens Hall. Registration for the day will be handled by the Drayton Plains group, and members of the Dublin Community Extension Group will serve as hostesses.

* * *

Music for the day is being arranged by the Promising Few Demonstration Group and flowers will be furnished by members of the Interlakes Extension Group. Luncheon reservations are being handled by Mrs. Tiberg.

College Girl's Flat Shoes Go More Places

The college girl's leather flat used to be as much a badge of identification as her sorority pin. Now, however, she wears her flat shoes long after her pin has worked its way down among the unstrung beads and the broken earrings.

And as the flat goes more places, designers give it more attention.

Almost every trim applied to daytime shoes — and some heretofore used only on late-day and evening shoes — is now applied to flats. They boast spectator-type perforations, vari-colored underlays and overlays, straps, buttons and buckles — even drapes and tucks.

* * *

One smart moccasin-toed flat has a vamp strap with a tailored gold button just below the top of the rounded-off tongue.

* * *

They will all have neat, tailored leather soles and their toes, like those of all other shoes, will be longer and more tapered. They will be found in bright and light shades as well as the traditional tan. The flat has won a high place in fashion.

Pearls plus — that's the exciting story of one collection. Beautiful cultured-look pearls are combined with gleaming iridescent crystal beads in a gala new evening effect. The longer strands are combined with a shorter two-strand necklace.

Mink Trim Glamorizes Negligees

NEW YORK (INS)—Girls are wearing fur everywhere this year, even in the boudoir.

Mink-trimmed negligees with all the sex appeal of Salome's seven veils are the newest contribution to home glamor. Designer Tina Leser features them in her first negligee collection.

She makes one out of full-length yellow jersey dotted in silver flowers, and collars it in silver mink to keep out the chill. Another robe, in gold and silver brocade, also has a silver mink collar.

The noted play clothes designer doesn't stick to mink. She puts blue fox cuffs to the three-quarter sleeves of a triple-skirted blue silk organza negligee.

Miss Leser's sense of humor replaces the fur trim on other lounging outfits. If a girl doesn't like drifting skirts, she can try "at home" overalls in lush fabrics—like ice blue satin with an embroidered matching stole, or white and silver lame with its own white silk overskirt.

Simple Eye Care for Office Worker

Work in an office? Here are some tips that will help you fight that mid-afternoon letdown that seems to attack everyone:

Give your eyes a break by improving your lighting. Rest your eyes for a few seconds every hour or so (just close them and massage gently with your finger tips).

Try a drop of two of eye lotion and don't force your eyes to do more than they can take. Chances are these simple remedies will give you the lift you need to finish out the day at top ifficiency.

Rose Craze Hits Home Decorations

NEW YORK (INS) — Late authoress Gertrude Stein would be thrilled to a rose petal if she could get a gander at the latest craze in floral motifs.

It's the rose, naturally, and a rose is really a rose the way it has never been since the days of Queen Victoria.

The American homemaker will be seeing long-stemmed roses, short-stemmed roses, medium-stemmed roses and roses of varied hues in everything from frying pans to wallpaper.

The rose rave has even spread to kitchen mops!

Guy Monypenny, a New York decorating director, says the rose is issuing a "new era of gracious living."

IT'S A REVOLT

"The housewife," he added, "is in revolt against a post-war way of life symbolized by blue jeans and barbecues. And the delicate rose motif is the answer to this style rebellion."

Few Modern Day Women Marry to Get Meal Ticket

Men Who Think So Are Behind Times; Most Brides Work to Help Husband

By RUTH MILLETT

"Let's face it. All most women marry for is a meal ticket," says one of my more cynical male correspondents.

Let's face it—that man is at least 25 years behind the times.

Just a glance at statistics will show him that more than half of the women who are working today are married women.

They are earning their own meal tickets. And on top of that, they're cooking the meals.

* * *

A great many of the young girls who are marrying today are getting excellent meal tickets for the future simply because they are ambitious enough to put their husbands through college, or are holding down a job while their husbands are taking the first slow steps up the ladder of success.

BUSY HELPING

Still others are busy helping their husbands build up small businesses.

* * *

If, in the future, they have a good meal ticket for life it is because they worked hard for a husband's advancement and success.

Not many young women today have to marry in order to have a meal ticket. It's too easy for a woman to get a job these days and bring home her own bacon.

So women today aren't marrying for meal tickets, but for love, companionship and the hope of a family.

* * *

But some of my women readers do claim that a lot of young men today aren't marrying any woman who isn't willing to help provide a meal ticket by holding down a job after marriage.

Non-Allergenic Soap Best for Teenager

For the teenager with simple skin problems such as dry or oily skin or occasional blemishes, the solution lies in non-allergenic soaps and any of the excellent medicated creams or cosmetics.

Plenty of fresh fruits, vegetables and milk, plus over eight hours rest a night is essential . . . and, caution the experts, it is most important not to "nag!"

* * *

Visits to a beauty shop for a simple flattering, easy to keep hair-do are great morale builders. But remember if your daughter has a serious weight or skin problem, don't delay, take her to the family doctor at once for a thorough check up.

Mrs. Huston Holds Academy Meeting

Mrs. Ferman Huston of Montcalm street was hostess to members of the Academy of Friendship of Pontiac Chapter 360, Women of the Moose.

Twelve members of the group enjoyed a cooperative dinner and social evening on Wednesday. Mrs. Howard McCandless reported on the friendship session which she recently attended in Chicago in connection with the national convention.

MRS. WILLIAM E. HOWLETT

Virginia Grodske, daughter of Mrs. Walter J. Grodske of Los Angeles became the bride of William E. Howlett at Carmel-by-the-Sea, Calif., on Aug. 18. He is the son of Lucius E. Howlett of James K boulevard and Mrs. Helene K. Boedeker of Los Angeles.

William Howletts to Make Home in Hollywood

The Chapel of the Wayfarer in Carmel-by-the-Sea, Calif., was the setting for the marriage of Virginia Grodske and William E. Howlett on Aug. 18.

Virginia is the daughter of Mrs. Walter J. Grodske of Los Angeles and the late Mr. Grodske. William's parents are Lucius E. Howlett of James K boulevard and Mrs. Helene K. Boedeker of Los Angeles.

For her marriage the bride chose a gown of Dresden blue shantung fashioned with a full skirt and fitted bodice. She wore navy blue accessories and a corsage of white cymbidium orchids and stephanotis.

Following the reception held at the Hotel LaPlaza, the newlyweds left for a honeymoon trip to Palm Springs. They will make their home in Hollywood.

Skid-Proof Glass

To make a child's drinking glass skid-proof, place a strip of adhesive tape around the drinking glass, near the top. The adhesive tape will keep it from slipping out of small hands.

New shipping containers for plums, made of fiberboard, are now in commercial use. Resulting from research by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the new containers are cheaper and provide better protection for fruit.

The belted overblouse is flattering to tall, thin figures. Avoid straight pullovers, hanging from thin shoulders.

Straight pullovers sagging from skinny shoulders look hopelessly lost on tall, too thin figures. You minimize height and give curves by bloused bodices, peplums and skirt ease. Sleeves look bloused, too.

Help Tots Be Neat

To get children to learn where their clothes are, paste pictures of underwear, socks, etc. on the outside of the drawers where the clothing items are. In that way they will immediately know where to look for their different clothes.

Help Teenager to Control Weight

A few suggestions from the experts on the easy-does-it approach to teenage weight control include:

1. Providing her with an accurate scale, possibly one of the new feather-weights in a pretty pastel shade to blend in with the decor of her bedroom or bathroom. From a psychological point of view it seems to be extremely important that the scale be in her room and not in the family bathroom, where shyness or self-consciousness could keep her from using it.

2. A full-length mirror is suggested as an essential device for developing teenage interest in better figure, posture, and dressing habits.

* * *

3. A junior cook book geared to the development of better eating habits with simple recipes teenagers can tackle themselves, with information on proteins, vitamins, and calorie counting is recommended.

Keeps Matches Dry

When going on a picnic, to keep your matches from getting wet, coat them with a layer of clear nail polish.

Buying Linens? Watch Out for Heavy Sizing

During fall white sales, watch those bargain bed linens for heavy sizing, advise textile and laundering authorities at American Institute of Laundering, research and educational center for the professional laundry industry.

Sizing is the term given a filler material that is used in producing less expensive items. Less yarn is used and the holes in the weave are filled with such things as resins, starches or clay.

Heavily sized items, especially in sheets and pillow cases, have a good appearance when new. However, after laundering, the sizing is gone and the item becomes very limp and "sleezy" in appearance.

AIL authorities hint that the amount of sizing can be checked by rubbing the fabric together over a dark surface. If a small amount of powder falls out on the dark surface, you can expect a different appearing item after laundering. The rubbing causes the sizing to fall out of the holes in the weave. This leaves a coarse fabric that sometimes can be detected by the eye.

Also, rubbing will tend to break the surface of the sizing, causing tiny cracks along the surface of the fabric.

Trust Ability to Land Job for You

By ANNE HEYWOOD

The person looking for a job tends to cultivate a charming manner and to concentrate on creating a certain effect.

In the last analysis, of course, nobody is fooled. Employers hire people because they like them and feel that they can do the job, not because a person made this particular bright bit of dialogue or that eloquent gesture.

In short, when you are applying for a job, you have to enter the interview with the honest conviction that you would like to work in that job and for that company.

If this is the case, you can relax and the dialogue will come out easily and you will get the job. If this is not the case, all your planned effects will be wasted.

SIMPLE AND OBVIOUS

It seems simple and obvious and yet my mail is full of questions from people who do not see it.

* * *

They will ask, "What is the best way for me to start the interview?" or "Is it a good idea to compliment the interviewer on the office or her dress?"

"What kind of tie is appropriate?" "How can I convince him I am the person for the job?" "What do I say if he says so and so?"

Concern over all of these superficial trimmings is putting the cart before the horse.

There is no right way or wrong way. It's useless to anticipate because the great man may have his own ideas about the way the conversation should go and it will be taken out of your hands.

In this business, I see many people who land the dream job in spite of inadequacies in their background and others, better qualified, who often don't get the job.

I know that the intangible that makes the difference between success and failure in the job interview is the sincerity of the applican's desire for that job."

As Emerson said, "What you feel is speaking so loudly I can scarce hear what you say."

* * *

If you are having problems in your job interviews, write me about your experiences to date and I will try to help you get to the root of the problem. Of you might like to have my pamphlet, "How to Get a Job without Contacts." I'll be glad to send it to you if you will send me a selfaddressed stamped envelope.

Shopping for Child Calls for Time, Care

The shocking discovery that awaits most homemakers this month is how much the children have grown since last year.

Shopping lists for the children's back-to-school clothes lengthen as the little dears add inches and pounds.

And the woman who regards such shopping as a tedious expedition to be hurried through as rapidly as she can snatch up the needed garments is courting trouble.

In the long run, shopping as painstakingly for the children's clothing as she does for her own new fall ensemble pays off in greater satisfaction for everyone.

Blooms Keep Fresh

When taking a flower arrangement in a car, instead of getting yourself and the car all wet, stick the stems in a large white potato, with a slice cut off the bottom so it can stand. The moisture from the potato will keep the flowers garden fresh.

Exercise Will Improve Figure, but Not Husband

Perfect Form Won't Reform Mate

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "I need your help very badly. Will you try your best to answer my question in question box? You see, I was married when I was very young. I am still what you call young but I look and feel older.

"About a week after our second child was born my husband left me for another girl. They say she is very pretty. After I had my children my husband made fun of my bust.

"Do not mention the name of this town please. But please tell me if there is any place near here where I can get shots to increase the size of my bust and if it would cost over $75."

A. Don't waste your tears or your money on your husband. He evidently has no character and is a most cruel person. No matter how big you got your bust, there would always be someone with a larger one.

Get in touch with the nearest branch of the Family Service Association of America. They will help you repair your marriage if it is possible or desirable to do so and also will give you any other guidance you need. There probably is a branch in a nearby larger city.

HOW LONG TO EXERCISE

Q. "How long must a woman exercise each day in order to improve her figure?"

A. Even 20 minutes of exercise done correctly and regularly each day will make a big difference. A half hour is perfect.

Q. "My family is inclined to be fat, I am 14 years old, five feet, three inches tall and weigh 122 pounds. My bust measures 33, waist 26½ and hips 36 inches. What is wrong with my figure?"

A. Your proportions are normal for a girl of your age. You are a little overweight. I imagine you have a large frame. Leave off some of the extra and in-between meal snacks which are calorie high for a loss of from 5 to 10 pounds.

* * *

Q. "I am 14 years old. My problem is that my fingernails are just like rubber. They are long now but often fray and they are thin at the ends."

A. Try keeping them a little shorter. Be sure that you get enough milk and vitamin D and that your diet is a well balanced one generally.

Q. "I am 40 years old, 5 feet six and weigh 136 pounds. My bust measures 37, waist 29 and hips 39 inches. I feel that I am out of proportion somewhere.

"Please tell me what is wrong with my figure."

A. Your measurements are in perfect proportion. You are certainly not overweight. You probably have a fairly large build which accounts for the measurements being larger than usual for your weight. I imagine you have a lovely figure.

* * *

Q. "What is the cause for large whiteheads, or lumps under the eyes? The oculist says they are not caused by eye strain."

A. I do not believe anyone knows what causes these but they can be removed.

Dior Tricks to Form Magnet Line

PARIS (INS)—Want to be an "M. P." this year? Not a member of parliament, but an eye-catching, tantalizing, Dior - ish "Magnetic Personality?"

Christian Dior's "magnet line" has a half-dozen tricks to help you do it. Here are some of them:

A suit worn with a blouse in jersey or chiffon in the exact matching color. Black suits are exceptions. To be "magnetic" they should be worn with white chiffon or white kid-leather blouses.

A red outfit. Dior says red has magnetic power on men. A deep raspberry red or an outright scarlet shade "magnetize" the most. A red tweed suit for day and a red chiffon or satin gown for after dark are Dior's suggestions.

DECOLLETTE NECKLINE

A magnetic neckline. The latest Dior decollette is a very widespread V, revealing as much as possible of the feminine anatomy.

Magnetic jewelry. Five or six rows of crystal cut jet-beads or as many rows of grey pearls are considered by Dior as fashionable for next season.

Very pointed shoes in a magnet-grey color. Since trim female legs and feet have always been a special attraction, Dior suggests delicate, sophisticated looking footwear.

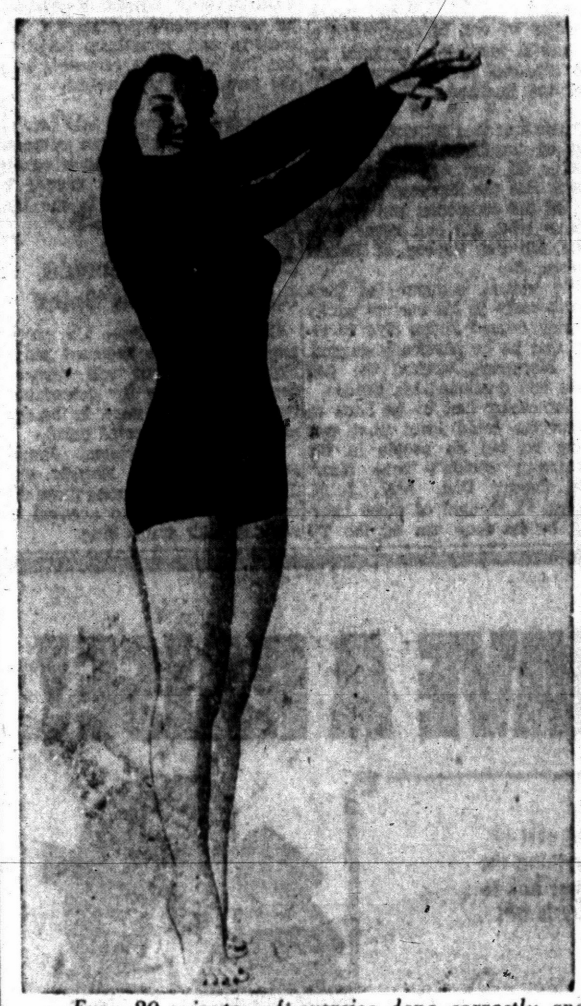

A shapely, well-found digure. Foundation garments which curve the hips and lift the bosom are basic, indispensable requirements for any woman who wants to be permanently magnetic.

Rice Muffins Offer Texture Contrast

Rice muffins are unusual because of the color and texture contrast provided by the white rice in the yellow batter. If you have a little left-over cooked rice, here's a good quick bread.

For 6 or 7 muffins the ingredients are: 1 cup flour; 2 tablespoons sugar; 2½ teaspoons baking powder; ½ teaspoon salt; 1 egg, beaten; ¼ cup milk; 1½ tablespoons melted shortening; and 2-3 cup cooked rice.

Sift dry ingredients; mix egg, milk, shortening and rice. Add to flour mixture and stir only enough to moisten. Fill muffin tins and bake at 375 degrees for 20-25 minutes.

Even 20 minutes of exercise done correctly and regularly each day will make a big difference. A half hour is perfect. For a loss of from five to ten pounds, leave off some of the extra and in-between meal snacks which are calorie high.

Eye Lotions Date to 16th Century

Your eyes can give you away—and since they can, beauty-minded women have been concentrating on the attractiveness of their eyes for lo these many years.

For example, the idea of eye lotion to soothe overworked orbs is not a new idea. Records show that women of the 16th century had already discovered this quick and pleasant solution to an ageless problem.

Cut Washing Cycle

Drip-dry, man-made fibers and blends do cut ironing time, but for the best wrinkle-free results, dresses and shirts made from them must be removed from the machine before mechanical extraction of the water and this isn't always convenient.

Some crease - resistant finishes can take the whole laundry cycle in stride and others require special handling.

Peronistas Jailed to Stave Off Riots

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Government security forces were reported to have carried out mass arrests before dawn today to forestall possible strikes and disorders by Peronista labor leaders.

Today was the first anniversary of the last big rally by the exiled dictator, Juan Peron, before he was overthrown. Locked in a struggle with the Roman Catholic Church and faced by growing dissenion in the army, Peron threatened in a speech to labor leaders a year ago that five of his foes would die for each Peronista killed. He was ousted shortly after.

Want Some Buffalo? See Your Government

WASHINGTON (AP)—Do you prefer your buffalo live or dead? The government has them for sale either way.

The Interior Department announced yesterday it will sell about 500 Buffalo, along with 76 elk, 110 mule deer and 151 longhorns, all of which are surplus to the range capacity of its big-game preserves in Nebraska, North Dakota, Montana and Oklahoma.

Italians Seeking Posts as Canal Pilots on Suez

ROME, Italy (AP)—Italian applications for pilot duty on the Suez Canal are being relayed to Cairo, an Egyptian embassy spokesman said here today.

The spokesman declined to say how many applications had been received.

Trial Proceeds While Man Shouts in Isolation Booth

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A scowling, muttering man sits shackled hand and foot in a glaringly lighted isolation booth.

* * *

His thick shoulders strain against the straps binding him to a high-backed steel chair. His head rolls from side to side, up and down.

Across the room, watching him through double plate glass windows, sit six men and six women.

They are the jurors who earlier saw James Merkouris, 40, hit the prosecutor in the face, and heard him curse and scream obscenities in the courtroom of Superior Court Judge Clement P. Nye.

They will determine whether Merkouris is sane or insane, whether he will be committed to a mental institution or tried for the murders of his former wife and her husband.

* * *

Merkouris was convicted a year ago of murdering Mrs. Despine Forbes, 35, and was sentenced to death. But the Supreme Court reversed the conviction and ordered a new trial. He has never been tried for the slaying of Robert Forbes, 48.

The violent outbursts of Merkouris early in his current sanity hearing caused Judge Nye to order that he be physically gagged. But Merkouris worked the gag loose and continued his tirades.

"Something had to be done so Merkouris could hear what was going on but so people in the courtroom couldn't hear him," said deputy Dist. Atty. J. M. Leavy. "I thought of those isolation booths they use on the TV quiz programs. Why couldn't we put him in one of them?"

* * *

Leavy telephoned a network and tried to borrow a booth but none was available. So he had one built, sound-proof and air-conditioned. A loud speaker carries courtroom voices into the booth. A telephone line enables Merkouris and his attorney to converse.

The first time Merkouris was strapped to a wooden chair in the booth he broke loose and shattered the chair to kindling. Leavy ordered a steel chair, bolted to the floor and high enough to lift its struggling prisoner's feet from the floor.

Merkouris sits there now, flanked by two sheriff's deputies, as the proceedings drone on. He mutters and sometimes screams but the judge, the attorneys and the jurors are undisturbed.

* * *

"As far as I know," said Leavy, "this is the first time an isolation booth has been used in a courtroom to restrain and silence a prisoner. I believe it is the humane and just thing to do."

Why Dairy Farmers MUST HAVE A RAISE!

THE price the dairy farmer receives for his milk is DOWN! Now he has been asked to take a Further Cut!

The cost of everything the farmer has to buy is UP! Costs of living, costs of farm implements, shop labor and parts for implement repair, even the costs of gasoline and the money he must borrow, are up.

The dairy farmer is the low man on the economic totem pole. Actually, when his costs are figured, he gets a sub-standard wage of 68 cents an hour for his labor, and he works 12 to 14 hours a day.

Here Are The Incontrovertible Facts:

4-Year Decline

Four years ago the dairy farmer received 10.6¢ a quart for all raw milk. For Class I (drinking) milk he received 11.2¢. His net per quart of milk at the farm was 10¢.

Today the farmer receives 9 cents a quart for raw milk and pays over 1¢ a quart hauling and marketing charges. His Class I price is 10.2¢. His net per quart is less than 8¢. Now, he has been asked to take another cut.

Below Production Cost

After September 1, the dairies planned to pay him ½¢ a quart less for the highest quality milk he has ever produced—Class I, Detroit inspected milk used for bottling purposes

This would bring his net per quart at the farm to a little over 7¢. That is below the average farmer's cost of production.

Milk and Tractors

While the price of his milk has declined, the cost of a standard 35-HP farm tractor has gone up from $2,000 to $2,800. Where it used to take 20,000 quarts of milk to buy a tractor, now it takes over 35,000. The same is true with every other piece of equipment he needs. And, with industrial wages and steel prices going up, he will pay more.

Repair Costs

Since he can't afford to buy a new tractor, he faces costs of service and repair of the old one. These have increased 75 to 100 per cent.

Farm Pickup Trucks

Four years ago he paid $1,407 for a farm pickup truck. Today his truck costs him $1,634, an increase in this must item of 16 per cent.

Interest Rates

Even the money he borrows to do business costs more. His interest rates on short term loans have been upped about 40 per cent.

Operation Costs

The fuel he burns in his tractor has increased 29 per cent. The tank price on tractor gas was 13.4¢ a gallon in 1952. Now it's 17.3¢, not including taxes.

Milk's a Bargain

The price tags on a loaf of bread, a dozen doughnuts, or your daily newspaper, all reflect today's increased production costs. On a comparable basis, milk would retail at 32¢. Yet, even at this price, milk would be a food bargain. The same nutrition could not be purchased in other foods for less than 43¢!

● The dairy farmer members of the Michigan Milk Producers Association have demanded of the dairies a reasonable price for their milk. As yet, all dairies handling Detroit market requirements have not agreed to that price.

Where agreement has not been reached, the farmers have refused to sell their milk at the reduced price, and will withhold it.

The dairy farmer is not a "striker". He is an individual businessman with a large investment and a product to sell. He believes he has the right to set a fair price for his product in terms of his cost of production.

And he believes he has the obligation to supply pure, wholesome milk for public consumption in quantities where and when needed. He cannot carry out that obligation if the price he receives for his milk slowly drives him into bankruptcy.

Constitution Suspended for East Pakistan Nation

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — President Iskander Mirza today suspended the constitution of restless East Pakistan and personnaly took over the reins of government.

Many of East Pakistan's troubles stem from severe floods a year ago which caused a food crisis.

Bob Considine Says:

Air-Age Wonders Fail to Impress Children

IN FLIGHT TO HONOLULU (INS) — United's flight No. 79 spreads a burgundy carpet to its door at San Francisco's magnificent new airport.

Its people have assembled in the airline's Aloha Room in advance, for fruit, coffee and tiny hot Danish pastry. The morning sun makes the big DC7 gleam like buffed silver.

* * *

In time, and on time, the hostess in the Aloha Room smiles and says it's time to go. You walk up the rug to the steps, and no matter how many times you've done it before it's a bona fide thrill.

This time, my wife and I are seeing travel through new eyes. Some of the children are along on this post-convention trip. They have thoroughly explored the craft from stem to stern, know how the exhault gasses of the 18-cylinder Wright engines are strained through turbines for additional power, are now playing in the lounge at 18,000 feet and 340 m.p.h.

Though they find it a tame game, they are playing blackjack. They lost one of the dice, to their despair. A couple of years ago my wife went off someplace—Mars, if memory serves—and as she departed said "Be sure to play games with the children."

* * *

So I taught them the only two games I know, and since then they have gained a proficiency which makes one morosely wish for the return of the Mississippi River boats of Gaylord Ravenal's time.

NOT IMPRESSED

It is not a simple task to bring a blush of delighted surprise to the cheeks of children born more or less at the dawn of the squirted jet and fissioned atom and reared on Walt Disney's televised adventures in outer space.

* * *

"Slow," one kid remarked as we looked thousands of feet down on a MATS C54 and left it in our wake. The C54 was doing a paltry 250 m.p.h., flying the greatest stretch of open water on the face of the earth, compressing to less than half a day a trip which once required weeks.

"Good," a little girl born in the rocket age said of a magnificent meal prepared by United's great chef Frank Hurliman, who served his apprenticeship in resort hotels around the Lake of Lucerne.

At 18,000 feet we had champagne or cocktails, Italienne salad, filet mignon saute, demi-glace, potatoes fondant, green beans, crisp French rolls, and . . .

* * *

"I'll have some grape juice, too, please," this little girl said, her rosy jaws slightly bellied out with food and her seatbelt beginning to give her a little trouble.

"Maybe you'd better stick with your milk," the smiling stewardess said, passing along with the bottle of excellent burgundy from the Saratoga, Calif., vineyards of Paul Masson.

A boy looked soberly at the astonishing array of instruments in the cockpit, the wonders of radar, an instrument which kept tabs on every sparkplug in all 72 cylinders, gauges that insured the people back in the cabin of a proper amount of pressurization and oxygen, spurs and reins for the plane's 7,200 horses (cruising), buttons that regulated the pitch of the huge propellors, needles that flicked information about gas, oil, temperatures, and the strange black box of magic which permitted the man in the pilot's seat to bury himself in Cosmopolitan as the plane flew unswervingly toward Oahu.

But the boy's eyes didn't bug out as would, let us say, those of Jules Verne, Shakespeare, Marlowe, Napoleon, Washington, Julius Caesar, Genghis Khan, or the Wright brothers, Santos Du-Mont, Richtofen, Wiley Post . . .

"When do you get the DC8?" he asked. He knew that when United and the others receive the four-jet Douglas the time between California and Hawaii, and all other points, will be halved, and that these incredible marvels of today will be regarded by some as archaic as the free ballon.

It's a fast age, which suits me. Anything that draws Hawaii closer to the mainland should be encouraged.

We're grateful that this dear, safe, old-fashioned, $2,000,000, six-mile-a-minute DC7 is transporting us to that island paradise even if it does take 7½ hours.

Foreigners can get oil concessions in the Dominican Republic, under a new law.

This Auto Collision Was Really on the Ball

OHBBS, N.M. (AP)—This worked, but it's not recommended as general practive.

Three-year-old Ray Cox was being rushed by his mother to the hospital to have a small rubber ball removed from his throat.

Their car and another collided. The impact apparently did the trick. Examination turned up no ball. Doctors theorized the impact bounced it out.

SHAME, SHAME — Blackie, a talking mynah bird at Detroit's Children's Zoo, has been sentenced to the back room of the bird house for naughty language. Burkemo, Fairfield Leaders With 69s

By H. GUY MOATS
Pontiac Press Special Writer

After resisting all assaults upon its par figures for most of yesterday's early round, Western Golf and Country Club's tight fairways and tricky greens cracked at noon, to give up a pair of sizzling 69's, and nearly a score of other par or subpar cards. And the pressure was just beginning.

BURKEMO

First underpar total for the opening 18-hole round was fired by former PGA champion, and Franklin Hills pro, Wally Burkemo. The blonde belter fashioned his 3-under mark with 36-33—69. Sharing the lead at start of today's 18-hole test is Don Fairfield of Casey Ill. Don compiled a 2-under 34 and a 1-under 35 in opening rounds of the 6th Motor City Open golf championship.

Wally birdied the 1st hole, but lost his edge on the 5th with a bogey, to make the turn all even. On the back nine Burkemo bagged birds on No. 3-5-6 and 7, bogied No. 4 for a 33.

Fairfield shot four birdies, took a bogie on No. 5 for a 2-under 34. He added a 1-under 35 for his 69.

Leaders' cards:

Par out	443	454	453	36
Burkemo out	343	554	453	36
Fairfield out	343	464	343	34
Par in	443	445	444	36	72
Burkemo in	442	534	344	33	69
Fairfield in	443	444	444	35	69

Among those in the 70 group were Marty and Ed Furgol (no relation), Dick Mayer of St. Pete Fla., big Mike Souchak of Grossingers, N. Y., and Bob Rosburg of San Francisco.

Pete Cooper, Knollwood, was in the 71 list, along with top-flight national figures, Dave Douglas of Newark, Del., Freddie Haas of New Orleans and Jerry Kesselring of Toronto, Ont., Mike Dietz of Indianwood, and others.

Orchard Lake's Tommy Shannon, Bo Wininger of Odessa Tex., Frank (Muscles) Stranahan of Toledo, were at par 72, with many others.

Three Kocsis boys (Chuck, Sam and Al) carded scores in the 70's. Others among the more than a score in the one-over 73 group were the terrific belter from Cincinnati George Bayer, and Lou Powers of Detroit.

Larry Pintuik, former PHS star, one-time Washtenaw CC pro, still a pro, expressed what many of the opening day contenders felt about the way the course played. "It was tough going out there this morning. You have to be straight and putt well."

Horton Smith, DGC veteran, also said the narrow fairways on the "stringbean" layout and position of the pins made the field really work. "The pins weren't unfair," said Smith, "but they provided tough tests of stroking ability."

Biggest galleries of the day were those that trailed Burkemo, Cooper and Bud Holscher; once-terrible Tommy Bolt (who didn't toss any clubs but did a lot of talking to himself), slight Bob Toski of Holyoke, Mass, and Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex.. All three had 72's.

Scores ranged all the way down to 83.

After today the field will be cut to low 90 and ties. Another cut Saturday will halve that total for the windup Sunday.

Attendance, held down apparently by threat of rain (which didn't arrive until after the last players were in) was estimated at between 3,200 and 3,500.

Experts Figure Hoad Top Man

Will Be Amazed if Any Other Wins National Net Title

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—The National Tennis Championships opened a 10-day run at the plush West Side Tennis Club today and if anyone but Lew Hoad, the hulking Australian, wins the experts will be aghast.

* * *

Likewise, in the women's division, they've all but awarded the title to Althea Gibson, who cut a wide swath through Europe on her recently completed tour.

Althea, the National Negro champion, is seeded second behind Shirley Fry of Akron, Ohio.

* * *

As for the men's division, Hoad has not had a wonderful year, having won the Australian, French and Wimbledon. In the process, he's licked his little Davis Cup mate, Ken Rosewall, three times.

* * *

This is the big one for him. If he can make it good, he'll be the first player since Don Budge turned the trick in 1938, to win all four of the world's top crowns.

Rosewall is No. 2 in the seedings. If they both go all the way, they'll meet in the finish.

Lions Set for Eagle Aerial Game Tonight

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Detroit Lions and Philadelphia Eagles demonstrate their professional football wares tonight in an exhibition expected to attract 30,000 fans to the Orange Bowl.

Detroit has the advantage of four days drill in Florida summer temperatures. The Eagles arrived only yesterday. They are banking on two passers and a receiver, all with impressive records, for an edge in aerial operations.

Adrian Burk has thrown 27 successful passes out of 53 and Bobby Thompson's 20 heaves have produced 11 completions. Bob Walston ex-Georgia star has caught 14 passes for 207 yards in exhibitions.

Eagles coach Hugh Devore was expected to start Burk at quarterback, Dick Bielski of Maryland fame at fullback, Notre Dame All-America Don Schaefer at right half and either Ken Keller, a North Carolina alumnus, or Ted Wegert, who never played college football, at left.

Lions coach Buddy Parker, who has stressed a running attack built around ball carriers Howard (Hopalong) Cassady and Don McIlhenny, planned to set up a four-man defense line with seven players free to run down Eagle pass receivers.

Game time for the South Florida Elks Charities, Inc., sponsored contest is 8:15 p. m. (EST).

Joe Taggart Seriously Injured

Gold Cup Officials at Odds

DETROIT (AP)—Gold Cup officials were at odds today on whether the high-speed smash-up of Slo-Mo-Shun IV and similar speedboat accidents should be blamed at times on official race patrol craft.

Joe Taggart, pilot of the once all-powerful Slo-Mo, lay seriously injured as a bitter exchange swirled.

The controversy arose when Lou Fageol, chairman of the Gold Cup safety commission, charged that yesterday's spectacular accident resulted from "the senseless operation of patrol craft on the Detroit River."

The Seattle boat, holder of the world hydroplane record at 178.497 M.P.H. cracked up going about 140 M.H.P. the 47-year-old Taggart was hurled 50 feet. He suffered fractures of both legs, a broken left arm and possible broken ribs and internal injuries.

Fageol, himself a veteran driver who retired from competitive racing after an accident in last year's Gold Cup race at Seattle, said the wake of a patrol boat caused the accident.

"Four years, patrol craft on the Detroit River have raced up and down, causing swells and endangering the life of ever racer running at the time," Fageol said.

The Coast Guard and the Detroit harbormaster's bureau, which provides the patrol craft, denied responsibility.

Coast Guard Cmdr. Robert D. Brodie, patrol commander for Saturday's Gold Cup race, said no advance notice was given to patrol officials that Slo-Mo had begun her trial run. He said her crewmen were supposed to telephone the judges' stand before the craft took to the river.

Since he had no knowledge racing craft were on the course, Brodie said, he had ordered a harbormaster boat to move up river to discharge coast guardsmen going off duty. Observers said swells from the harbormaster boat caused the speeding Slo-Mo to skid crazily and plunge to the river bottom.

Slo-Mo IV, owned by Stanley Sayers first won the Gold Cup in 1950 and reparted in 1952 and 53. Slo-Moshun V, another Sayers' boat, took the Gold Cup in 1951 and 1954.

Sayers, who gave blood to Taggart at the hospital yesterday, said his boat was "through with racing." The shattered hull of the once mighty Slo-Mo was raised from the bottom after the accident.

Record Number in Cycle Test

LANSING (AP)—A record number of riders will compete this weekend in the 30th annual jackpine run, endurance grind for motorcycle enthusiasts.

* * *

The motorcycle riders will spend their Labor Day weekend jolting over country roads and along trails in Central Michigan's jackpine country.

There are 429 entries to date, topping the previous high of 390 riders last year.

Only about 100 are expected to finish the grind, however.

Contestants will leave Lansing at 5:30 a.m., Sunday morning. The noon check point is at Evart and they will spend the night at West Branch.

* * *

Noon check point on the return trip Monday is Standish. The first finishers are expected to be back in Lansing early Monday evening.

The race is not a speed contest as reliability and ability to maintain a schedule are stressed in the judging. Winners generally are announced Tuesday morning.

Four former champions are among those competing. They include Sol Scribe of Meredith, Conn., the winner last year; Bert Cummings, Flint, the 1949 champion; Jerry McGovern, Grand Rapids, winner in 1950, and Joe Gee, Columbus, the 1951 winner.

Middle Strength Will Aid Dodger Race for Title

CHICAGO (AP) — Manager Stan Hack, whose last-place Chicago Cubs split a four-game series with Brooklyn, thinks the Dodgers' strength down the middle will carry them to the National League pennant.

* * *

"I think Brooklyn is strongest down the middle and that's where the pennant will be won," said Hack. "The Dodgers have three very important doubleheaders coming up over the weekend and it's quite possible their pitching will wear out. If they get over those games, everything is in their favor. They play most of their remaining games at home."

Wiffi Ousts Sally Sharp From WDGA on 20th Hole

Sally Sharp fired one of her best games of the year yesterday but it wasn't enough to beat Wiffi Smith in the semifinals of the Women's District Golf Championship.

Miss Sharp, the 1955 Michigan State Champion, shot a 1-under par 76, but lost in match play to Miss Smith on the 20th hole.

Miss Smith, who is the British and French Women's Amateur Champion, shot an 18-hole total of 74, but in the match she birdied the 20th hole with a nine-foot putt to clinch the victory over her long-time rival.

Last year Sally and Wiffi met in the finals of the State and District championships and each time the red-haired St. Clair golfer was victorious.

Sally won the state title this year with the absence of Wiffi from the tourney, but in yesterday's meeting at the Country Club of Detroit the pair was forced to meet in the semifinals.

In the other semifinal match Mrs. Harold Marquardt turned back Helen Grinnell on the first hole of a sudden-death playoff.

Mrs. Marquardt will now meet Wiffi is the WDGA finals.

NL's Labor Day Scramble Points Up 3-Way Battle

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's time to get the kids off the street in the National League pennant scramble, and the long, long Labor Day weekend, strictly a weekend of labor for Milwaukee, Brooklyn and Cincinnati, could do it.

* * *

Nobody's safe. Milwaukee and Brooklyn each play eight games in the next six days. And the second-place Dodgers face three doubleheaders in three days while the front-running Braves meet first the pesty St. Louis Cardinals, then the persistent third-place Redlegs in a pair of four-game sets.

* * *

The Braves take a two-game lead into the big weekend, gaining a half game while being held to a 1-1 eight-inning tie by Pittsburgh and rain yesterday after the last-place Chicago Cubs had beat the Dodgers 4-3 in 11 innings.

* * *

Those were the only games scheduled in the majors.

* * *

Milwaukee and Brooklyn now played the same number of games (125) but the Braves have lost two less. The Redlegs, three games behind, have played 127 games, and have lost four more than Milwaukee.

* * *

The Braves open their weekend home stand with a twi-night doubleheader against the fourth-place Cards tonight with only an 8-7 edge over St. Louis this season. Cincinnati opens its last visit to Milwaukee with a Labor Day doubleheader in County Stadium.

* * *

Brooklyn starts its long haul with five games against the seventh-place New York Giants at the Polo Grounds. After a single game tonight, the two play a day-night twinbill tomorrow and a Sunday doubeheader. Then the Brooks go home to Ebbets Field for a Labor Day pair that opens a four-game series with sixth-place Pittsburgh. Brooklyn is 8-5 vs. New York, 7-5 vs. the Bucs.

It was the Pirates incidentally, who shopped Brooklyn out of the 1954 pennant picture by sweeping a Labor Day pair.

Pirates Nip Two at Home

Twin Killing Leaves Bragan Speechless

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 31 (AP)—Doubleplays come and go, but the one the Pittsburgh Pirates uncorked against the first-place Milwaukee Braves yesterday left even Pirate Manager Bobby Bragan without words.

* * *

It started with an error and before the throwing around the infield was over the Pirates had nipped two sliding Braves at the plate.

The play, in the eighth, shut off the last Milwaukee scoring threat as the Braves and Pirates played to a no decision, 1-1, tie. The game was called because of a downpour with the Pirates at bat in the top of the ninth. It will be replayed from the start at a date still to be set.

* * *

Eddie Mathews opened the Braves' eighth with a single and reached second on Wes Covington's grounder off Bill Mazeroski's glove. Bill Bruton drove a grounder toward first and it bounced off Dale Long's glove for an error, and the big play was underway.

As the ball rolled toward Dick Groat at second, Mathews rounded third and headed for the plate. Groat picked up the ball with his bare hand and rifled a throw to catcher Jack Shepard. It was a perfect peg and Mathews was out.

Bruton sped for second and Shepard threw to Mazeroski who was unable to tag the speedy Milwaukee outfielder. Mazeroski, in a sitting position, saw Covington dashing for home and he threw another perfect strike to Shepard who tagged Wes for the out that retired the side.

The Braves acknowledged that "the throws had to be perfect and in just the right spot."

Third-base Coach Johnny Riddle said, "I'd send them in again if the same sort of situation developed. You've got to take chances. You don't win ball games if you don't gamble."

Groat, who had started the thing, said "it was one of the luckiest plays I've ever made. And I threw without looking at home plate. Believe me, I was awfully lucky."

Solid Understudy

Morrall Wins 49ers' OK

MORAGA, Calif. (AP)—San Francisco's 49ers grabbed Earl Morrall as their No. 1 choice in the 1955 football draft and they aren't a bit sorry.

* * *

Not that the All-America quarterback from Michigan State will oust the veteran Y. A. Tittle from the regular signal - calling post, but he's solidly entrenched as the understudy, thus providing needed insurance.

"We'd still take him first if we had it to do all over again," declares coach Frankie Albert. "He hasn't played too much yet, but he hasn't made a mistake."

Proof of the faith the 49ers place in Morrall can be read in the release of two other quarterback candidates, the veteran Maury Duncan and rookie Jerry Gustafson.

Earl held the helm for touchdown drives in each of the two opening exhibition victories scored by the 49ers and more will be seen of him at San Francisco's Kezar Stadium on Sunday afternoon against the Chicago Cardinals.

Three weeks ago in Chicago Clifford Ann became the Western champion by beating Jo Anne in the final, 3 and 2. In last year's Junior Girls tournament at Florence, S.C., they met in the quarter-finals and Joe Anne won, 1-up.

Hatchery Truck Followers Add Woes to State

LANSING (UP)—Ever see an eager angler drive bumper-to-bumper behind a hatchery truck to get first crack at a batch of newly-planted fish?

That peculiar brand of sportsman is only one of the problems plaguing Mark J. DeBoer, who runs Michigan's $500,000-a-year hatchery system.

DeBoer who oversees the state's 10 hatcheries and five rearing stations from the state conservation department's Lansing headquarters, is subject to pressures from every direction from fishermen who demand more fish in their frying pans.

"We're in the center of all sorts of jealousies," says DeBoer. "One county will complain that we plant too many fish in a neighboring county. The people on the Manistee River watch like a hawk to see how many fish we plant in the Au Sable."

Despite pressures and counter-pressures, DeBoer supervised the planting of more than three million fish in Michigan lakes and streams last year—and kept fishermen reasonably happy.

* * *

Much of the pressure comes from trout fishermen — and it's that part of the program that the department emphasizes.

In 1955, the fish division planted some 2,500,000 trout, more than 1,800,000 of them legal-sized.

By comparison, the state planted only about 1,500,000 warm water fish—blue gills, walleyes, bass and muskies.

* * *

"We used to plant a lot more warm water fish than we do," DeBoer says. "but research revealed that after a warm water fish is established in given waters there is no value in further plantings."

With this in mind, the department has built its warm-water planting program around extending the range of those species. Every year, it plants warm water species in lakes which don't have them.

The trout program is a constant battle to keep the supply somewhere close to the ever-increasing demand.

"We were able to cut food costs at hatcheries by $60,000 a year and increase the weight of trout produced by 100,000 pounds," DeBoer says.

DeBoer thinks the department has now established a balance between brook, rainbow and brown trout plantings that's fairly acceptable to most of the state's fishermen.

Last year, 34 per cent of the legal sized plantings were brooks, 15 per cent browns and 51 per cent rainbows.

Hurler in Starring Role for Selfridge

RANTOUL, Ill. (AP) — Pitcher Agnes Shroyer steered Selfridge Air Force Base, Mich., to two victories yesterday in the Women's Air Force softball tournament.

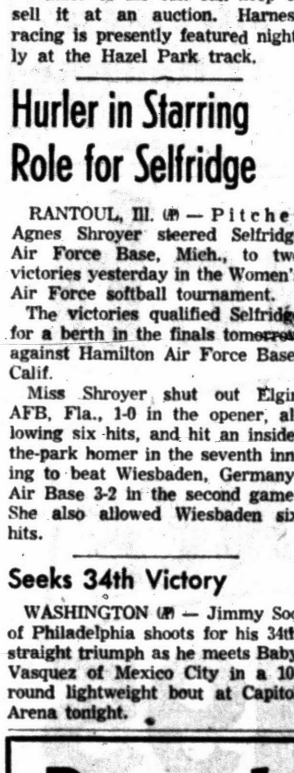

The victories qualified Selfridge for a berth in the finals tomorrow against Hamilton Air Force Base, Calif.

Miss Shroyer shut out Elgin AFB, Fla., 1-0 in the opener, allowing six hits, and hit an inside-the-park homer in the seventh inning to beat Wiesbaden, Germany, Air Base 3-2 in the second game. She also allowed Wiesbaden six hits.

Seeks 34th Victory

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jimmy Soo of Philadelphia shoots for his 34th straight triumph as he meets Baby Vasquez of Mexico City in a 10-round lightweight bout at Capitol Arena tonight.

No Labor Day Rest for Area Prep Gridders

It will be Labor Day in the strict sense of the word Monday for almost all area high school football teams and coaches as prep gridders move into their second week of pre-season drills.

Most coaches will hold Labor Day workouts to one session, except at Cranbrook where coach Fred Campbell welcomes his squad of 45 for the first time.

* * *

The Cranes will go twice-daily until September 17th when classes start.

Pontiac, Birmingham, Southfield and Waterford will devote their lone holiday morning session to heavy scrimmages before simmering down to once-daily practices.

Coach Ed Graybiel has a scrimmage session planned for tomorrow as does Dave Freeman at Waterford.

* * *

The rise in temperatures affected some of the prep gridders but nothing serious was reported as the salt pills were brought out of storage.

The first injury reported came from Rochester where tackle Dave Thompson suffered a slight fracture of the wrist in dummy tackling.

Gene Konley has changed his afternoon practice to 5:00 p. m. to avoid the heat.

* * *

At Romeo, where new head coach Ted Engdahl takes the helm, the Bulldogs welcomed 18 lettermen and at Royal Oak, coach Jim Manila sees better balance this year with 14 returnees as a nucleous.

Oxford, Clawson, Dryden and Bloomfield Hills gridders will get a Labor Day reprieve with initial contact work planned for today and Saturday.

Coach Don Hoff at the Hills school has 9 regulars back on his small squad. The Barons are new members of the Wayne-Oakland Conference, but do not begin competition until spring.

Scrimmage sessions have been light throughout the county area in most cases, although Avondale provides a notable exception. Coach Frank Crowell sent his charges through head-bumping drills on opening day, despite the absence of about 40 boys who are expected to report when school begins next Thursday.

Ed Hintz conducted his 1st scrimmage at Clarkston yesterday without the presence of Jerry Urick, and backs Dave Swayne and George Lang, all key performers for the Wolves. Three line stalwarts, Lou Holser, Ken See and Jim Jensen, have dropped out of school to leave a harmful gap in the forward wall.

New head coach Dave Smith is hoping for better days this fall at Walled Lake. A veteran backfield headed by fullback John Walker is one of the reasons for the Viking mentor's pleased expression. A dozen returning lettermen furnish another.

Returning letter winners are sparse at Lake Orion where coach Ted Sela has been restricting his practices to dummy work and light signal-calling drills. Speedy halfback Alvin DuBois and two beefy linemen, Rolf Gordhamer and Bob Bradley, are the keys to Dale Nelson's hopes for better things at West Bloomfield.

Only three members of last year's starting lineup returned to coach Dick Yeager at Milford, where dummy exercises have been stressed. Pat Kelly, Jerry Hackett and Lou Grantham, transfer students, are expected to aid the Redskins.

Tigers Meet A's

Foytack Pitches Tonight

DETROIT (AP) — The 1956 season is sure to be a success, attendance-wise at least, for the 5th place Detroit Tigers.

The Bengals need to attract only about 7,500 fans for each of the remaining appearances at Briggs Stadium to reach the goal of one million attendance at home games. The figure now stands at 871,934.

Paul Foytack (10-11) has drawn the starting assignment tonight when the Tigers open up with the Kansas City Athletics for a three-game home stand.

Returning from a moderately successful tour, the Tigers got a rare day off in Detroit yesterday.

* * *

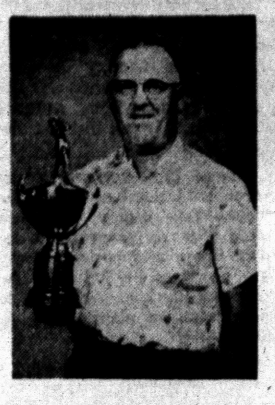

Manager Bucky Harris says Frank Lary (14-13) will take the hill against Kansas City in the second game Saturday and Billy Hoeft (15-12) will face the A's Sunday.

That agenda will throw the Tigers' top strikeout trio against Kansas City. Foytack has fanned 142, Hoeft 131 and Lary 128.

Baker's Record Run Target for Drivers

DARLINGTON, S.C. (AP) — Five veteran drivers strove to beat record shattering performances here today in qualifying runs for the Labor Day Southern 500-mile stock car race.

Today's hopefuls included the Flock brothers, Fonty and Tim, both of Atlanta; Curtis Turner, Roanoke, Va., and Joe Weatherly, Norfolk, Va., all aiming at the new mark of 119.659 m.p.h. set yesterday by Buck Baker of Charlotte, N.C.

CHAMPION — Michigan Senior Barbers Golf Association settled its 1956 championship argument when Everette Arthurs, Cranbrook, fired a 6-over-par 78 at Glen Oaks course Wednesday, to win the event. Arthurs, above, displays the fine trophy he won for his title-winning play.

Bucs' Bragan Proposes to Fight Fine by Giles

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Pittsburgh Pirates manager Bobby Bragan said last night he will fight a $100 fine imposed upon him by National League president Warren Giles.

The fine followed a disturbance in Wednesday night's Milwaukee-Pittsburgh game that began with protest over the kind of pitches that Milwaukee righthander Lew Burdette was throwing. Bragan and two of his players were ejected from the game by the umpires.

Fullmer, Jensen Pilot 'Fed Up' With NBC

WEST JORDAN, Utah (AP) — A "fed up" fight manager says Sugar Ray Robinson and the International Boxing Club "can forget about Gene Fullmer and Marv Jenson . . . and get somebody else" if they don't settle soon on details of a Fullmer-Robinson middleweight title bout.

Jenson, Fullmer's manager, accused the IBC and middleweight champion Robinson of "stalling" on final arrangements for the bout, in a telephone call to The Associated Press last night.

Doctoring Your Golf Game

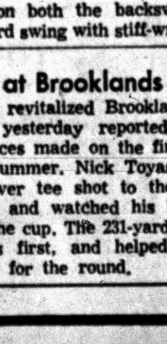

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: Stabbing putts

DIAGNOSIS: Swing too upright

TREATMENT: The putting styles and methods of my fellow pros on the tournament trail give undisputable proof that getting the ball into the cup, not how you do it, is all that counts.

Some use an open stance, others closed. Some stand upright, others crouch. Some stroke the ball slowly and smoothly, and some hit it quickly, in a jabbish way.

Putting form is so varied that it's strictly up to each player to determine, in practice, what method is best.

Generally, though, the payoff putt is the one that's stroked with a low, smooth backswing as opposed to the upright, club lifting procedure shown in the sketch. With the upright swing the hit is downward, more of less of a jab, and if the club face is square at contact the results are naturally good.

May I suggest though that you adopt the straight-back-from-the-ball Page No. 2, Fri., Aug. 31, 1956 Doctoring Your Golf method. It works most consistently. Stand well over the ball, feet either close together or spread comfortably, whichever you prefer. Keep the back of the left hand facing the hole on both the backswing and forward swing with stiff-wristed action. No break in the wrist, especially on putts eight feet and under.

Concentrate on smoothness—slow on the backswing, slow to and through the ball. Follow through low, which you'll do quite easily if you don't move your head at any time.

Ace at Brooklands

The revitalized Brooklands Golf Club yesterday reported one of few aces made on the fine layout this summer. Nick Toyas blasted a driver tee shot to the No. 10 green and watched his ball skip into the cup. The 231-yard ace was Nick's first, and helped him to an 87 for the round.

Big 10 Ready to Go

CHICAGO (AP) — More than 600 football players, including 186 lettermen and a horde of sophomores, will have picture-taking pageants today before pulling up their sleeves for the official opening of Big Ten practices tomorrow.

First games for the Big Ten are on Sept. 29, with California at Illinois, Iowa at Indiana, UCLA at Michigan, Michigan State at Stanford, Minnesota at Washington, Iowa State at Northwestern, Nebraska at Ohio State, Missouri at Purdue and Marquette at Wisconsin.

Notre Dame and Marquette, following the same practice schedule as the Big Ten, play their opening games a week earlier. Notre Dame is at Southern Methodist for a night engagement Sept. 22, and Marquette is at the University of Detroit the same date.

Three new head coaches will be making their bows in the Big Ten.

Ara Parseghian, up from a great record at Miami of Ohio, will try to give Northwestern a winning team. Wildcats haven't won a conference game in three seasons.

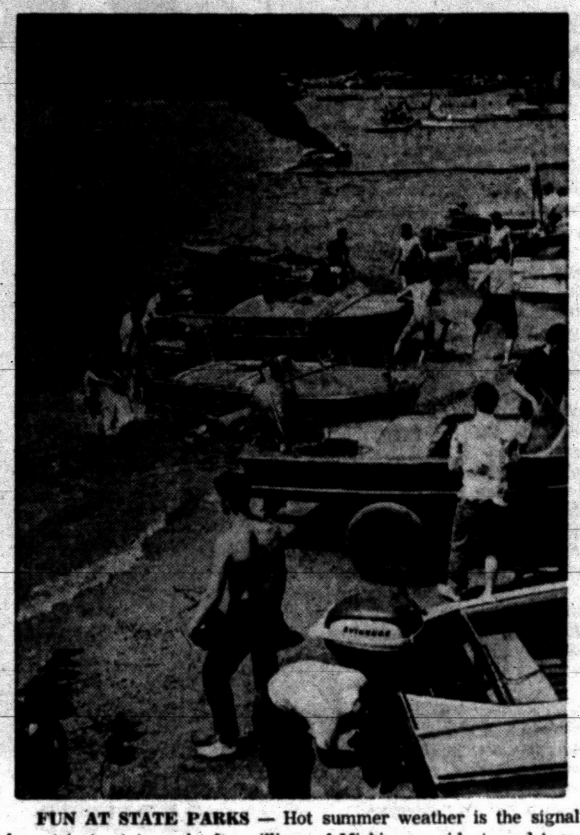

Guiding Purdue will be Jack Molenkopf, advanced from the assistant ranks where he served under Stu Holcomb. Holcomb became Northwestern's athletic director.

When Ivy Williamson was named athletic director at Wisconsin, his assistant, Milt Bruhn, former Minnesota guard, moved up as head coach.

Michigan State, with 25 lettermen back and a school record crop of 51 sophomores, is a slight early-season favorite to take the Big Ten title. Ohio State figures the strongest contender at the moment and will be aiming for an unprecedented 3rd straight crown.

Neither is eligible for the Rose Bowl, Michigan State having made the trip with a victory over UCLA last season and Ohio State ruled out by being on probation.

Third place, which may provide the Rose Bowl representative, figures to be a struggle among Michigan, Purdue and Illinois. Most observers agree that Northwestern, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota and Indiana will be in the 2nd division.

FUN AT STATE PARKS — Hot summer weather is the signal for a trip to state parks for millions of Michigan residents and tourists. These boaters and swimmers find welcome relief from the heat at Dodge 4 state park near Pontiac. Some 18,000,000 visitors are expected at state park beaches, picnic areas and campgrounds this year.

Enos Slaughter of the Athletics believes he is the first big leaguer to have worn a protective helmet. He experimented with one during spring training in 1939, but claims he didn't wear one in a regular game until 1946.

2 Boat Races at Lake Orion

LAKE ORION — Two sailboat races are scheduled for the weekend at Lake Orion with the Dancer Trophy Race going into the final heat on Sunday at 10:00 a. m.

* * *

George Smith took the honors in the first two heats and will be favored to win the 3rd and final run.

A championship race is slated for Labor Day with open entries for all boats. Starting line near Squaw Island is at 10:00 a. m. Monday with the Lake Orion Boat Club donating the trophy for the race.

Lane Scores TKO in Hometown Bout

MUSKEGON (AP) — Sixth-ranked lightweight Kenny Lane of Muskegon scored a technical knockout last night over Chicago's Ralph Capone before 4,500 hometown fans.

Referee Charlie Zagaroli stopped the fight in the 5th round of a scheduled 10-rounder. Lane carried the fight from the outset. Capone was cut and bleeding when the fight was halted.

* * *

Rudy Ellis, 157, South Haven, Mich., scored a TKO over Eddie Ford, 156, Chicago, in the fourth round of a four-round match. Tom Johnson, 142, Muskegon Heights, unanimously decisioned Jimmy Adams, 143, Chicago, in four rounds.

THAT MAN'S BACK — Stanley Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals has captured the National League batting championship six times and gives every indication that it is about time he tied Rogers Hornsby by making it seven. Stan The Man grips the bat near the end, uncoils from an individualistic and unorthodox stance to blast the ball savagely and on a line. The best ballplayer of the last decade loses no time getting away from the plate and around the bases.

Gus Suhr Jr., son of the former Pittsburgh Pirate first baseman, belongs to the Yankees and is in their farm system.

Hartack, 'Shoe' Hot, but Polite Rivals

CHICAGO (AP) — There are two little guys riding horses at Washington Park these days who would really mean it if they told each other: "Here's mud in your eye, Willie."

• • •

Willie Hartack, who'd rather be called "Bill," and Willie Shoemaker, are hooked up in a rousing duel for 1956 national riding honors, with Hartack currently leading by only two winners, 265-263.

Both will ride out the Washington Park meeting which ends Monday and then will compete at Atlantic City whose season closes Oct. 6.

• • •

Hartack and Shoemaker are polite, if intense rivals in their daily showdown at Washington Park where Shoemaker holds a big margin in the waning session, 63 winners to 46.

How do they feel about the daily pressure of riding against each other?"

Said the 23-year-old Hartack: "Naturally, you know your rival is in the race. But you just can't spend all your time concentrating on him. There are some other pretty good jockeys around here, too."

• • •

Commented Shoemaker, 25, who did his earlier riding this year on the West Coast: "I try not to think about it. I believe you do your best riding when you're not too tight and the pressure's not on you."

Hartack and Shoemaker are quite different in temperament. Hartack likes to bounce into an early lead. Shoemaker is much more patient on the pace.

Shoemaker also dislikes to lose, but he doesn't wear his feelings as much on his sleeve. A steel-ribbed lad of 98 pounds, has been riding seven years.

Hartack, 112-pound Pennsylvanian who has been competing for four years, is the defending national riding champion with 417 winners in 1955.

• • •

Shoemaker was the 1953 champion with a record of 485 winners and repeated in 1954 with 380. He also deadlocked with Joe Culmone at 388 each in 1950, the only time such a tie ever developed.

The next big Shoemaker vs. Hartack duel comes in the $142,260 Washington Park Futurity Saturday. Shoemaker rides Rex C. Ellsworth's California Kid, a stablemate of Swaps'. Hartack is astride Fred W. Hooper's Greek Game.

Legislative Group Gives OK for Special Season

LANSING (AP)—The legislature's joint committee on administrative rules gave its blessing to special deer licenses to be held early in December in 22 areas of the state.

The committee, with veto power over rules for the season, failed to turn down any of the seasons during which hunters can kill a limited number of does and fawns.

Only one objection was voiced to the proposals by the legislators. It came from Rep. James M. Goulette (R-Iron Mountain), who asked the committee to throw out a special season for Dickinson.

The committee turned down his request by a 4-1 vote.

A former chairman of the state conservation committee, appearing before the committee, said that the special seasons proposed are, if anything, too conservative.

All-Brother 9 Aim of Family

Current Saginaw Team Includes 7 Boys of Wenzel Family

SAGINAW, Mich. (INS) — Could you picture a baseball team that consisted of nine brothers? Impossible?

Well, the odds are that it's going to happen in a year or two in the Saginaw, Mich., Amateur Federattion and Gratiot County League.

At the present time, the Wenzel Park entry has seven brothers — named Wenzel — in the starting lineup.

The current team includes the seven Wenzel brothers: Warren, 35, centerfielder; Ken, 33, the manager who alternates between first and second base; Dale, 29, shortstop; Richard, 27, catcher; Daniel, 23, third base; David, 19, outfielder; and Gerald, 18, first base.

Uncle Sam has an option on the Wenzels' pitcher, Archie, 21, who is hurling for an army team in Germany.

The "baby" of the family is 14-year-old Ben, who expects to join his brothers within a couple of years.

The brothers monopolize the Wenzel Park lineup as much as the Wenzels have a stronghold in the community which bears their name.

Sport Briefs

DETROIT — Part of a rookie player's indoctrination in the Detroit Lions camp is to stand on a chair, with hand over heart, and sing his school song. After one such performance by Bob Lusk of William and Mary, one veteran commented, "He'd better be able to play football than he sings or he's a dead duck."

• • •

DETROIT—Howard "Hopalong" Cassady of the Detroit Lions was named for the Heisman Trophy, the Maxwell Award, the United Press "Player of the Year," and the Associated Press "Man of the Year" award in 1955 at Ohio State.

Favorite Is Winner

DETROIT (AP) — Irish, a heavy favorite, came from behind in the stretch to take the $10,000 Detroit Pacing Derby at Hazel Park last night in 2:02 3-5. The victory was worth $3.40. A crowd of 5,585 wagered $305,333 during the night.

2 Lieutenants Pace 2nd Round of Links Test

EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP)—Two Air Force lieutenants, one the defending champion, led the way into the third round of the Inter-Service Golf Tournament today.

Ray Terry of Patrick AFB, Fla., last year's title winner, toured the 6,350-yard course with a hot three-under-par 69 for a leading halfway total of 143. Terry is from Jacksonville, Fla.

Two points behind was Larry Parker, Chanute AFB, Ill., with a 73-72—145. The Charlotte, N.C., golfer turned in the first eagle of the meet on the ninth hole.

The Cincinnati Redlegs have renewed their working agreement with Seattle in the Pacific Coast League.

Dick McGuire of the Knickerbockers in the National Basketball Assn. has led his team in assists for seven consecutive years.

U.S. Rockets Expected to Rise Over 150 Miles

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eight test rockets, expected to rise 150 miles or more, will be fired this fall from a new launching site in northern Canada.

The Army announced the plans yesterday in disclosing that the site has been completed by Army engineers near Ft. Churchill on Hudson Bay.

Life-insurance statistics indicate that the death rate from pregnancy and childbirth dropped one-third in 1955 to four-tenths per 100,000.

Professor Promotes the Best in Abuse

Why Be Trite? Use Insults With Originality

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—There is a crying need in these hot, irritating days for a more imaginative way of abusing one's hot, irritating friends.

* * *

There is too much mild, unrealistic cursing going on.

Too many folks are exploding with such weak phrases as "nuts to you" or "scram, bum," when they might be far more effective if they just stopped to think and be accurately abusive.

With thought, you might come out with an epithet like "fie, you boondoggling maw-worm," and leave your opponent gaping and a-fuddle.

* * *

Wouldn't that be better, in the long run, than attempting to stab him with cliches?

BETTER BERATORS

Dr. Clyde Crobaugh of the University of Tennessee thinks so. He has come out with a book titled "Abusive Words," which is written with the intent of making all of us better berators.

* * *

It is disgraceful, says Corbaugh, that the American man "settles for old, monotonous, humdrum and shopworn words" in profaning his intolerable neighbor.

The philosophic prof has spent years collecting data for this book and he now has nearly 1,300 appropriate insulting terms to choose from—many of them so subtle that if you call a man a dirty name, "he does not realize it till two hours later."

"Under my system," he says, "the profanity hits a man like a sloe gin." It does not sock him immediately; it creeps up much later and the memory makes him madder than a wet hen.

* * *

This is infinitely more powerful—and less combustible — than the tired, but established Americanism of slapping a man in the face with a flabby wet-fish of an abuse, such as the old favorites "dog," "louse" and about 15 other pictorial profanities. (Dr. Crobaugh says there are only 17 basic words comprising the U.S. "abuse vocabulary.")

ILL-FITTED TO OCCASION

Besides being cliches, all these much-used terms have lost their efficacy by being ill-fitted to the occasion. A man is not a "bum," actually because he stands you up on a date; he is more a "bad Brummel."

And a girl is not a "bat" because she talks behind your back; she is a "gossip glutton."

If you use the correct, hard-hitting term that adequately describes what you think about a person, Dr. Crobaugh believes, you will really cinch your argument.

Whereas an opponent can get temporarily angry at a cliche word, he can get permanently angry with a well-planned and proper use of the abusive term.

For instance, when Winston Churchill spoke of Mussolini during World War II, he would have been considered a weak-willed enemy indeed had he called Il Duce a "no-good so-and-so."

However, when Churchill spoke, he did it with full knowledge of semantics. He called Mussolini "a utensil!"

That, to Dr. Crobaugh, was a masterpiece of precision abusiveness.

MASTERFUL ABUSE

So we must all watch this profanity business, and not be sluggish and commonplace in our language. To use the name of the Lord in vain is not only sacrilegious, it is commonplace and inappropriate.

To describe what you think of someone you are feuding with, use the term that fits . . . like flagitious facinorous gowk, or peculating ronion, or gibble-gabbling slubberdegullion.

And if you don't know what that means, either look it up or accept the fact that you are a void vocabularian of the worst kind!

2 Still Missing in Alaska Crash

6 Survivors, 13 Bodies Returning to Vancouver; Mother, Daughter Lost

KODIAK, Alaska (AP)—Six of the seven survivors and 13 bodies of the 15 persons who died or disappeared when a burning Canadian airliner crashlanded at Cold Bay late Wednesday night, were headed back to Vancouver, B.C., today.

* * *

Left behind, possibly in the wreckage or the frigid waters which lap the tidelands of this desolate emergency landing place, were Mrs. Margaret Lem, Toronto, Ont., and her daughter, Judy, eight months old. Both are presumed to have perished.

Capt. Thornton A. Tweed, the 32-year-old pilot of the ill-fated Canadian Pacific Airlines DC6B and one of the seven survivors, was flown to Kodiak Naval Station by U.S. Navy fliers yesterday.

The others who lived through the crash included three of the eight-member crew and three passengers.

* * *

Two Canadian Catholic priests and a woman attached to the Japanese embassy office at the U.N. were among those who died when the big four-engine craft struck the mud flats.

The priests were the Rev. James MacIntosh, St. Andrews, N. S., and the Rev. Vincent McGough, Toronto. The embassy attache was Miss Toshiko Ymane, 35, who was returning to Tokyo for reassignment.

* * *

The accident occurred about seven hours after the plane had left Vancouver on the nonstop hop to the Orient.

Italian Beauty Busts Show With Brains

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Curvaceous Maria Luisa Garoppo reappeared on Italy's big TV quiz show last night thereby proving she hadn't been ruled off the airwaves because of her bustaciousness.

* * *

But this time the 27-year-old brunette wore a modest black dress, and the camera closeups showed her only from the neck up.

Her initial appearance on double-or-nothing two weeks ago caused a national debate. Il Popolo of Milan said her close-fitting red dress "outlined some details so excessive as to appear indecent." Another paper defended her, saying she was guilty only of having an "exuberant body."

* * *

She did all right last night, with a quick answer to the 640,000-lire question — $1,024. After hearing a few lines read by master of ceremonies Mike Bongiorno of New York, Maria correctly placed them in Prometheus Bound. Presumably she'll be back next week for the 1,280,000 lire question.

Maria did a lot better than the girls in the national beauty contest at Rimini, whose promoters tried to put some culture into the show. The girls stumbled over such questions as:

Who were Remus and Romulus? Name some kind of cheese.

* * *

Remus and Romulus, legendary founders of Rome, were identified as "Greek twins," and the girl who was asked about cheese said "my mama takes care of the kitchen."

Brown-eyed Nives Zegna, 20 years old and 5 foot 3, won the contest.

Youths Learn Lesson in Middle of Their Sleep

QUINCY, Mass. (AP)—Police said today they are certain at least three youths have learned the hard way not to spill the contents of trash barrels onto public ways.

Police routed them from bed yesterday to clean up the contents of 52 trash barrels which had been dumped over 26 streets. The job took three hours.

Want New Bathroom? Here's Hollywood Way

By EARL WILSON

HOLLYWOOD—Here in "Pilltown, USA" I found everybody living the life I would if I could afford it. Grouch Marx's wife wanted a new bathroom. So he's building her a new house to go with it.

★ ★ ★

Vera-Ellen's husband, Vic Rothschild, cabled from London to make a haircut appointment with Lou Care, the barber at the Beverly Hilton. For himself, not for Vera-Ellen.

That's the dashing way I'd like to do things but I'm too shy and retiring. I even blushed when a prominent eastern society lady begged me to arrange for her to kiss William Holden . . . "On the lips," the society lady said.

"It can be arranged," Charlie O'Curran, Patti Page's guy and a friend of Holden, said.

★ ★ ★

"Have her call him up. Bill is very accommodating about things like that," Charlie said. I guess they were both kidding this dumb country boy.

Jerry Lewis kindly stopped by our table at Dave Chasen's, picked up a beer stein and shouted down into it as though it were a speaking tube.

"Olving, send up two cornbeefs to go," he yelled.

"Today," Jerry said, "is my 25th anniversary in show business.

"I was five years old. I went on at Swan Lake in the Catskills with my mother and dad and sang 'Brother, Can You Spare a Dime?' Until I was five years old I never made a quarter."

★ ★ ★

And with that, he grabbed a serving wagon and pushed it away, pretending it was a hospital cart. "Doctor," he said to a waiter, "where do we perform the tonsillectomy?"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN N. Y. . . .

Rocky Marciano bet two friends $1,000 each that he'll never fight again. (He just took the corset off his ailing back for the first time in weeks) . . . What's with Bess (ex-Miss America) Myerson and her husband? . . . Frank Sinatra broke up the "Mr. Wonderful" cast — wandered onstage and asked Jack Carter, "How do I get out of Spain, mister?"

The Tommy Dorseys are reported talking divorce, but a pal says, "Oh, that's just this year's fight" . . . The B'way play being set for the stricken Ezio Pinza will go on with another actor . . . Marilyn Monroe's Actors Studio classmates were invited to her "Bus Stop" premiere.

Gant Gaither offered Mary Martin a B'way show; she wired from Brazil, "I'm too happy here to think of leaving" . . . Richard Ney, Greer Garson's ex-husband, is divorcing his second . . . Young Patty McCormick got $2,500 a week for her very first movie, "The Bad Seed" . . . The "Li'l Abner" cast is learning hillbilly accents from "The Manual of American Dialects" . . .

Van Johnson asked his co-star, French Martine Carol, what kind of a bouquet she wanted. "Dollar bills," she said, "—bundles of them" . . . Rocky Graziano, trying a disk jockey stint on WABC, announces, "the temperature and humility."

Earl's Pearls . . .

Often a Washington "expert" is like the bottom half of a doubleboiler — he generates plenty of steam but doesn't really know what's cooking.—Atchison (Kans.) Globe.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Horse racing is called "the sport of kings." Maybe that's why there are so few kings in business these days.—Charles Ruffing.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Vincent Lopez, hearing his new TV show might go on opposite the 64G quiz, said, "We ought to call ours 'Money Isn't Everything'."

CALLED FOR TRIAL—Dr. Otto John, former chief of West Germany's counterspy organization has been charged with high treason in Karlsruhe, West Germany. John created a sensation when he defected to communism, fleeing to East Germany in 1954. In December, 1955, he re-defected to the West and has been under investigation ever since.

Nab Escaped Convict on Harsens Island

PORT HURON (AP) — Robert C. Sellers, 23, who escaped from a southern Michigan prison farm near Jackson June 7, was captured on Harsens Island last night.

State Troopers from the St. Clair post made the capture in a field into which Sellers fled when they confronted him coming out of a grocery store. The Idle Hour Cafe had called earlier to report a man flashing both money and a pistol was there.

Troopers said they found a .22 caliber pistol in the glove compartment of a truck parked in front of the grocery and took two shots at Sellers as he fled. He wasn't hit.

Trilck Testifies 2 Hours for Ecorse Graft Jury

DETROIT (INS) — Gambling Czar Russell Trilck spent two hours yesterday before the one-man grand jury investigating reported graft in Ecorse and Taylor Township.

Trilck was ordered to reappear Sept. 17.

Taylor Township Supervisor Harold Rippe also went to court but did not testify. He was ordered to return Wednesday.

Mike Hungo, Taylor Township building inspector, testified for the second straight day.

Driver Picks Up Bypassed Purse, Collects Reward

DES MOINES (AP)—For 30 minutes yesterday, a black leather purse lay on the gravel alongside busy Highway 64, 20 miles northeast of here.

* * *

Then Ray Kiernan, 50, Dubuque, en route to the Iowa State Fair here saw it. He drove past but returned.

In the purse were $1,066.78 in cash, a wrist watch, two bus tokens, and personal papers of Mrs. Flora Scherer, 64, of Des Moines.

* * *

Kiernan reported his find to police and the overjoyed owner paid him $100 as a reward. She said she had evidently lost her purse when she got out of her car to look at a road map.

HIGH CORN — Gazing at a corn stalk that stands 13 feet high is Elmer Othick, who raised the corn on his farm three miles south of Winchester, Kan. About 25 acres of corn topped the 12-foot mark, with many stalks reaching up an extra foot. The plants were not fertilized, so "more than adequate" moisture is the explanation for the tall crop.

CLINTON, Tenn. (AP) — In less than a week, court-ordered integration of the local high school has changed this peaceful town into a place of racial tenseness and hatred.

* * *

Last Monday, Clinton High became the first state - supported high school in Tennessee to mix the races when it admitted 12 Negro students along with about 750 whites.

The town's leaders agree that most of the trouble was stirred up by a fiery segregationist from Washington, D.C., who never saw this town of 4,000 persons until last Sunday.

* * *

"Everything had been quiet until he arrived," said Sheriff Joe Owen, "now we've got a pretty ugly situation on our hands."

He was talking of John Kasper, 26, executive secretary of Seaboard White Citizens' Council of Washington.

Texans to Use Guns to Block Integration

MANSFIELD, Tex. (AP) — Additional law enforcements officers have been requested to "assure that law and order will be maintained" at Mansfield High School where a dozen Negro students were expected to enroll today.

* * *

Yesterday, a sullen, angry mob of 250 men and boys milled around the school, threatening to use guns to keep the Negroes from enrolling in the previous all-white school after Federal Judge Joe Ewing Estes refused to sign an order which would delay integration of white and Negro students in the Tarrant County School.

* * *

The threatened violence was the first in Texas in connection with desegregation of public schools in compliance with the U.S. Supreme Court ruling. Approximately 70 Texas school districts, including those in San Antonio, Austin, and Corpus Christi, have integrated without any incidents.

For two days this week, minor incidents of violence involving Negroes and whites have erupted. Most of those involved were non-students.

Banana Crop Gains

QUITO, Ecuador — Ecuador's increased banana production has created an oversupply in the world market. Independent planters have brought into production an additional 150,000 acres and have increased production from 11,000,000 stems in 1951 to 27,000,000 in 1955.

Hollywood Headlines

Vanderbilt Making Deal for Film Rights to Serial

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Back from a year in South Africa, Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr. is in Hollywood to make a deal for the film rights to his serial "The Vanderbilt Feud," recently published in a national magazine.

He tells me that the book will be called "Queen of the Golden Age" when McGraw-Hill brings it out in October. It will be published simultaneously in Paris and London.

In Africa, the wandering scion of the Vanderbilts shot 100,000 feet of film which he will make into a motion picture or a travelogue.

The offer made by Sam Goldwyn of one million dollars for "My Fair Lady" brought a smile from Alan Jay Lerner, who wrote the book and music.

He also smiled when Arthur Freed, with whom he was conferring on the screen version of "Gigi," said, "One million dollars for 'My Fair Lady?' I'd offer $3,500,000!"

No wonder Alan laughed and said that the musical is not for sale at any price; CBS owns the rights and they plan to make the picture themselves.

So succesful has been William Paley's investment that CBS is planning to finance other stage musicals then use portions of them on TV and sell the movie rights.

Until Gary Cooper started work on "Love in the Afternoon," he flew to London from Paris every weekend. He told me he was sitting in the Millroy nightclub at the Les Ambassadeurs. when he saw Sharman Douglas with her father former Ambassador Lewis Douglas.

"I was about to throw a piece of bread at Sharman to attract her attention," said Gary, "when she nodded her head for me to look at the table next to me.

"There sat Princess Margaret and I stared like any tourists and thought she was even prettier than her pictures. She was having a good time dancing."

Olivia de Havilland and Pierre Galante postcarded from Burgenstock, Switzerland, to say they were finishing their vacation in Montecatina.

Livy left Paris the very day "The Ambassador's Daughter" opened, because she hadn't yet recovered her strength from the birth of Gisele, so Pierre insisted she go away and rest.

When they return they will take Gisele to Nice and have her baptized in the church where Pierre was baptized.

His parents live there and since this is their first grandchild, they are eagerly awaiting the arrival of the young lady. She was only 3 weeks old when I saw her.

ROLE FOR DOROTHY?

Although Dorothy Collins flew to New York to start preparations for her TV show, "The Hit Parade," there's a big chance that she'll return to test for "The Joker Is Wild" opposite Frank Sinatra.

Her agent, Jerry Rosen, had clips from Dorothy's TV show flown out here for director Charles Vidor to see. Dorothy is a talented singer and pretty enough to play the role of Martha Stewart, the former wife of Joe E. Lewis.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Two efficient new employes at Columbia are John and Harry Cohn Jr., who are on their dad's personal payroll.

The widow of harmonica player Borrah Minevitch, who owns a restaurant in Paris, and Artie Shaw are a combination.

Diana Dors was barred from dining at the Trader's in shorts, so the Luau sent word that she could dine there wearing anything. Result: Diana and her ever lovin' spouse were there for dinner.

So glad that Judy Garland had such a terrific sucess in Las Vegas. She opens Sept. 26 at the Palace Theater where she hit the comeback trail five years ago.

Helen Rose is hostessing a baby shower for Debbie Reynolds on Sept. 9. Good that Debbie is feeling so well again.

May Relax Court Photo, Radio-TV Ban

DALLAS (AP)—The American Bar Assn., may relax its longtime stand against picture taking and radio-TV broadcasting in courtrooms, an official of the ABA said yesterday.

Richard P. Tinkham, chairman of the association's public relations committee, said in an interview that a special committee on canons of ethics of the American Bar Foundation is studying the problem and is expected to issue a report at the next annual meeting o the ABA.

Tinkham is a delegate to the association's annual meeting which ends today.

BARK IS WORSE THAN THEIR BITE—Cycling members of West Berlin's police force are putting on the dog. Specially constructed pillion seats on bicycles make a fine perch for the canine cops, as they ride out to take part in training exercises. Cops put on their annual show in the Olympic stadium to impress Berliners with their skill, efficiency and discipline.

America's first help-wanted ad appeared in London in 1609. It called for brewers for service in Virginia. Two Frenchmen responded and, records show, proved satisfactory.

Subdivision Plans Whole Weekend of Doing Nothing

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Remember the fellow who advocated a national "Do Nothing Week"?

* * *

Well, the residents of one of Covington's subdivisions have come up with a Labor Day weekend contest that calls for absolute relaxation.

And the man who relaxes the most will get the title of "Mr. Lazy."

Each contest entry will have his blood pressure taken when he gets home from work today. It will be taken again at a community picnic Monday, and the man with the lowest pressure had a good chance of cinching the title.

* * *

Chores for the weekend will include lounging in lawn chairs or hammocks and making an occasional trip to a swimming pool.

As for the ladies? They'll compete for prizes in an outdoor cooking contest.

Badge Remains Active

CHICAGO (AP) — Police Officer Frank J. Fitzgerald, 59, retired today, but his badge and badge number remained active and in the family. Fitzgeald's son, Albert, a 12-year-old veteran on the force, received the badge and number.

Italy now supplies film equipment to towns without good cinema facilities.

Grains Erratic, but Selling Fast

CHICAGO (AP)—An erratic trend prevailed in grains with dealings at a pretty fast pace on the Board of Trade today.

* * *

Corn and soybeans were under a little liquidating pressure but gave up ground grudgingly. What started out with small gains had difficulty trying to maintain them. Oats and rye held firm.

A large part of the activity was traced to local traders who were evening up their positions prior to the three-day holiday. The market will be closed Monday, Labor Day.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ¼ to ½ lower, September $2.19¼; corn ⅛ to ½ lower, September $1.46⅜; oats unchanged to ⅜ higher, September 72⅝; rye unchanged to ½ higher, September $1.44; soybeans ¾ to 1¾ lower, September $2.36, and lard 5 cents lower to 5 cents a hundred pounds higher, September $10.75.

Police Arrest Boy, 13, Breaking Into Office

Two boys, both 13, were caught breaking into an office at 30 Brush St, last night, Pontiac Police said today.

Officers A. R. Martinez and Earl Skrobeck said they found the boys carrying fuse flares they had stolen a few minutes before from a nearby Grand Trunk Railroad shanty.

Says Auto Accidents Less Per Travel Mile

DETROIT (AP) — The sheer volume of motor travel in the U. S. tends to obscure a steady reduction in accidents per vehicle mile, a congressional subcommittee was told yesterday.

"The people in America travel so many millions of miles that, no matter how low the accident rate, the death toll still adds up to a big total at the end of a year," said Chrysler Corp. President L. L. Colbert.

The five House members came to Detroit last Monday as part of a nationwide investigation into highway safety problems.

Chrysler safety engineers said the public is apathetic towards most safety devices. Comparatively few motorists will buy such proven lifesavers as safety belts, the congressmen were told, and most of those who do won't use them.

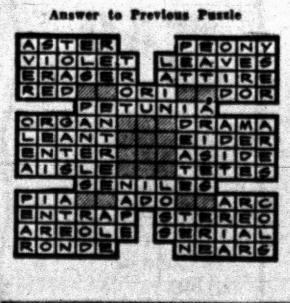

• • •

The congressmen, chairmaned by Rep. Kenneth A. Roberts (D-Ala), sought the opinion of Chrysler officials on a highway tax based on an automobile's horsepower.

Executive engineer Alan G. Loofbourrow said he wasn't qualified to give an opinion on that subject, but he said no "appreciable" increase in speeds has resulted from cars of increasingly higher horsepower.

Higher horsepower for higher speed is not the objective of anyone in the industry, Loofbourrow said, but powerful cars can be made to operate easier and are therefore safer.

Patti to Emcee Sullivan Show

Sinatra Gets $40,000 for Three Numbers on Dinah's Program

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — The 1960 national conventions are already in the planning stage and networks next time may more than simply pool their technical resources . . .

They may share expenses but have only one network a day put the politics on TV . . .

They'd draw lots, the "loser" to get the politics, the "winners" going right ahead collecting money from their customary assembly line of sponsored entertainment . . .

Patti Page cuts short a Syracuse nightclub date to emcee Ed Sullivan's show Sunday.

Frank Sinatra gets $40,000 for singing three songs Oct. 5 on Dinah Shore's first Chevy show, explaining why he doesn't sing on shows he visits sans fee (Sullivan, Allen, ABC'S Famous Film Festival) . . .

NO PERKY PEGGY?

Peggy King's out of this year's George Gobel Show unless everyone changes his mind again . . . Meanwhile Peggy has signed to play the girl lead in "Jack and the Beanstalk" Oct. 5 . . .

Deborah Kerr finally advised Producer's Showcase she can't find time to star in "The Letter" on TV this season . . .

Strange trend—obsolete nighttime film series are chasing live comedians out of daytime TV—latest being Johnny Carson, fleeing as CBS-TV flings old Eve Arden "Miss Brooks" blintzes into the breach . . .

Jayne Mansfield wrote us a chummy note promising she'll be a nicer, more decorous extrovert from now on, but her promise to cover up was written on stationery bearing an ink sketch of Jayne with the plungingest bosom we've ever encountered in a letter.

Aside to John Broderick, retired Broadway cop: A TV syndicate wants to turn your wallopingly exciting life into a TV series . . .

JOINS RANGER

Buddy Baer joins "The Lone Ranger" cast . . .

Whatever happened to Suzie Miller? Georgiana Carhart? . . .

NBC has hired the comedy team of Rowan and Martin under a five-year pact. At the end of the second year NBC must come up with a regular show of their own, or release them for opportunities elsewhere.

Look out, Dinah — Eva Gabor's taking singing lessons . . .

Paul Hartman sees so many British films on CBS, he calls it "the English channel" . . .

Gale Storm's thoroughly unlikely but windy name is not the McCoy original, which was Josephine Owaissa Cottle before Hollywood hung a double hurricane on her.

Full Night Schedule for WCAR Set Tonight

Radio station WCAR will carry its first full night schedule of programing tonight.

The Federal Communications Commission this week approved WCAR's request for new seven-day-week night-time operations at 10,000 watts on 1130 KC.

The station formerly signed off at sundown.

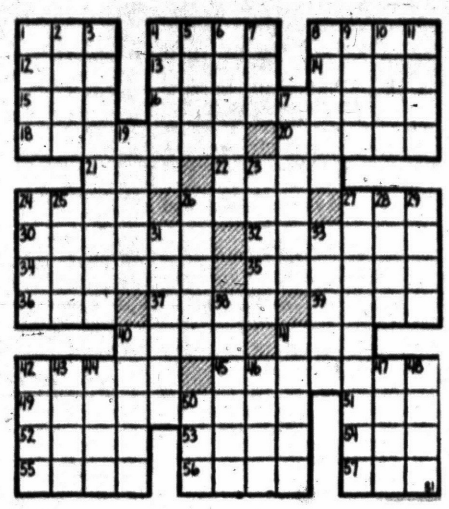

Venezuela has its first plate and flat glass factories, Caracas reports.

Mackinaw Asks State for Docks

Offers to Pay $1,800 for $2 Million Setup and Road Repairs

LANSING (AP)—Mackinaw City officials today pressed their claim that the State Highway Department Ferry Dock there should revert to the city.

• • •

The city's case was outlined in a letter from Neil Downing, president of the Village Council, to George N. Foster, deputy state highway commissioner.

The highway department is abandoning certain sections of U.S. 27 and U.S. 31 and allowing them to revert to Mackinaw City.

A contract has been let for $45,000 job of patching and repairing the highway sections before they revert to the city.

MODIFY RESOLUTION

With a check for $1,800, the city's share of the repair bill, local officials sent a resolution allowing the highways and the ferry docks to revert.

Foster says the docks represent a two-million dollar investment and cannot be included.

The letter declared the matter has been hanging for three months and asked why it has not been placed before the State Administrative Board. The letter also said the city might "seek immediate redress in the state courts."

It ended by inviting Foster to discuss the matter with village officials saying "what we lack in size we make up in hospitality."

Paint Test Provided

AUKLAND — Since people are so often tempted to touch newly painted surfaces on which a "Wet Paint" sign is placed, a New Zealand business concern in Palmerston North took no chances when it had its premises painted recently. Beneath the warning "Wet Paint" placards were placed large daubs of paint with the invitation, "Try here."

The diamond yield of Tanganyika's mines consist of 80 per cent gem-quality stones.

Strikers Picketing South Lyon Plant

A dispute over local grievances has idled some 380 workers at the Michigan Seamless Tube Co. in South Lyon, a union spokesman said this morning.

Harry O'Dell, president of Local 1900 of the United Steel Workers of America, said pickets were stationed at the plant at midnight when a 30-day contract extension period expired without settlement of local issues.

He said these concerned seniority rights, vacation and holiday clauses and recognition of union stewards.

R. A. Armstrong, executive vice president of the firm, said the company offered workers "all the benefits of the larger steel companies and additional benefits" two weeks ago which were refused.

Reds Blame Burmese Headhunters

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY
Associated Press
Foreign News Analyst

Burma reports in two separate districts of her remote backwoods are entrenched 4,500 regular Red Chinese soldiers.

The Burmese say it amounts to an invasion.

The Chinese deny they have crossed their own border.

The truth of the matter seems to be that the Communists have pushed into parts of Burma in a military action primarily directed against a tough breed of fighters who rarely make international headlines in this atomic age—headhunters.

The invasion so far has not visibly altered Burma's relations with Red China. Burma maintains a policy of neutralism in the Cold War. Premier U Ba Swe said early this month he believes the border dispute can be settled through negotiations.

INDIA BELITTLES RAID

Indian Foreign Minister Krishma Menon has belittled the importance of activities in the border area, saying that both Burma and his own country have unsruveyed boundaries with China and that as a result unintentional border violations occasionally occur.

It seems probable that the problem will ultimately be solved by negotiations between Burma and Red China without causing an international crisis. However, the facts make it seem questionable that the Chinese Communists got into Burma unintentionally.

In the first place, the Red Chinese troops took control over large areas — an estimated 1,000 square miles.

In the second place, the Red Chinese advanced about the same time not in one area but in two different districts, as shown on the accompanying map.

In the third place, the Chinese regulars have already begun to build themselves barracks as though it were their intention to stay.

RED PLAN FAILS

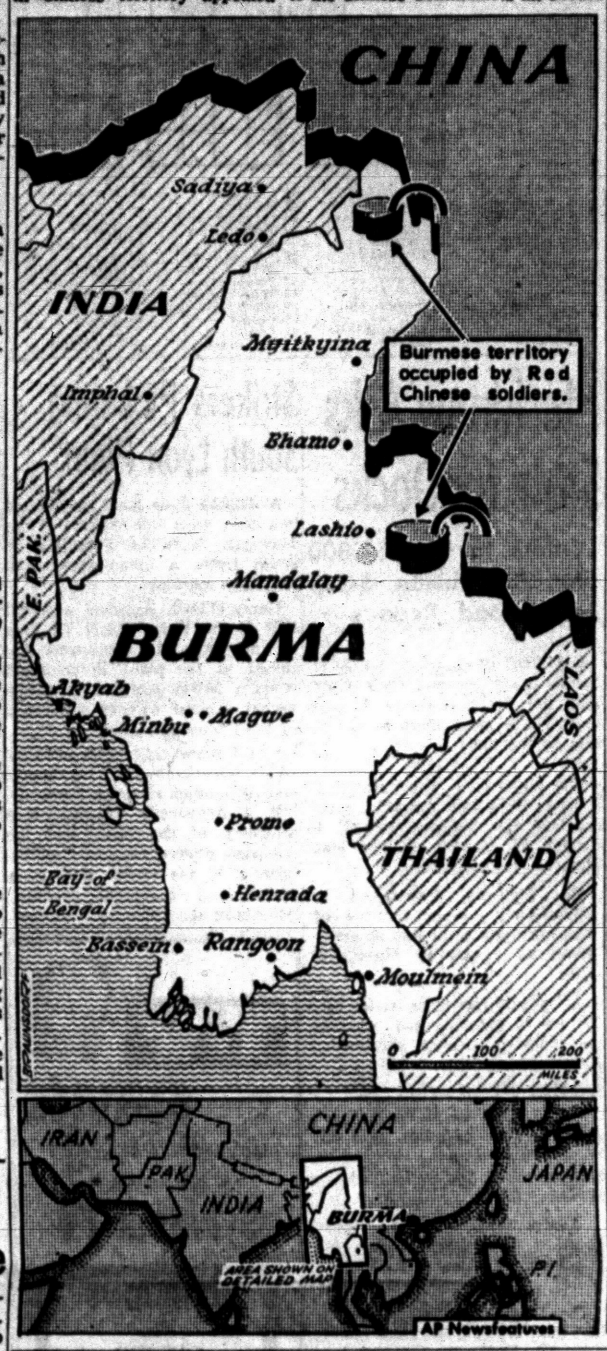

The truth appears to be that the Chinese Communist incursion into Burma represents an effort by the Chinese to bring under their exclusive and undisputed control some 300,000 primitive headhunting Wa tribesmen who live in areas astride the Burma-Chinese border. These tribesmen have caused the Chinese Communists a great deal of trouble.

In 1953 the Chinese Communists entered the Wa territory on their own side of the frontier and took the sons of Wa chieftains as hostages to Peiping, hoping thus to keep the tribes submissive. But the Was are a proud and warlike race. They revolted and killed Chinese Communists on a wholesale scale. Early this year the Was added some 80 heads to their collections in a massacre of Chinese Communist political organizers. They then attacked Red Chinese troops and inflicted heavy casualties.

At this point the Chinese Communists launched a major campaign against the Was. The Wa chieftains in Chinese territory appealed to their cousins across the border in Burma for assistance but the Burmese government prohibited it.

Meanwhile the Chinese Communists had been doing everything to prevent the rise of Burmese influence among the Was. They threatened death to any Wa who took Burmese help. But one result of this campaign was to drive many of the Was into Burma. Now the Chinese Communists in their efforts to get at these people, have invaded Burma.

The fact tha tthe border in this area is not well defined has given the Chinese Communists an excuse for their invasion which they will make full use of when eventually negotiating a settlement with Burma.

Unions Win in Steel Lake Shipping Strike

CLEVELAND (AP) — Two maritime unions on strike against U.S. Steel Corp.'s Pittsburgh Steamship Division are reported to have won bargaining rights on the division's 58 ore freighters.

Pittsburgh's vessels have been idled since mid-July. The steel strike sent them to their berths then, and the maritime unions picked up where the steel strike left off.

The unions have struck several other operators of lake ships in similar demands for representation. The Pittsburgh settlement, however, probably will set the pattern for all major ships on the lakes.
