FOURTH OF JULY 1962

Instead of the tricorn of a ragged Revolutionary soldier the American hero of today wears a space helmet. And the original flag has almost quadrupled in stars. But even if a flintlock or quill and scroll seem like antiquated museum pieces the spirit of 1776 lives as a vibrant inspiration in our modern times. This inviolate spirit is simply that of freedom—a concept of the basic rights of mankind. It is an unquenchable flame that burns more brightly today in far-off corners of the world and shall someday light the skies in the still mysterious reaches of outer space. On the Fourth of July 1962 we salute American patriots from the Minute Men to the Missile Men—all of whom have guarded our nation's sacred beacon and kept it glowing brightly.

Seeking to Add Syrup to Senate's Sugar Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has passed a sugar extension bill and sent it to President Kennedy for signing. But the administration hurriedly sought to modify it to soothe several outraged Latin-American nations who feel they were being short-changed.

The Senate completed congressional action on the compromise measure Monday night, voting 54-12 approval after lengthy debate.

Immediately Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana moved to alter the protested provisions by offering an amendment to a minor bill already passed by the House.

The amendment would provide an additional allotment of premium-price sugar for Western Hemisphere nations.

COMPLAINTS ARISE

Several of them—notably Argentina and the Dominican Republic—have complained they were badly treated under the extension legislation. They feared the bill would sharply reduce the amount of sugar they could export to the United States at premium prices.

TO VOTE THURSDAY

Mansfield was not able to get an immediate vote on his proposal, however, because some senators wanted to make other changes. He finally decided to put the vote over to Thursday since many members were to be absent today.

The subject likely will be brought up when Secretary of State Dean Rusk appears before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in a closed session.

The amendment—offered to a bill restricting importation of honey bees—would set aside allotments for 75,000 extra tons for Western Hemisphere countries this year and 150,000 tons each in 1963 and 1964.

★ ★ ★

This sugar would be bought at the same premium price as the quotas allocated to 23 other countries in the extension law. The full premium is the same as the domestic support price which is $56 a ton above world prices.

The extension bill provided for 80 per cent of the premium price to quota nations in 1962, 80 per cent next year and 70 per cent in 1964. The Mansfield amendment carries the same formula.

Several senators said they hoped Argentina would get out of this new allotment the 20,000 tons awarded her in the House version of the extension bill but cut out in the conference with the Senate.

★ ★ ★

The Dominican Republic was allocated 190,000 tons in the compromise bill, but complained that this was much less than she had been selling to the United States on a temporary basis.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., said the proposed additional allotments were intended to take care of Argentina, the Dominican Republic and possibly Peru.

However, Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., suggested that the extra 150,000 tons be obtained by proportionate cuts in the 1.2 million tons awarded the 23 quota countries in the extension measure.

★ ★ ★

Mansfield said he would oppose this, but agreed to postpone the vote to Thursday.

STRIKE VICTIM — A patient is transferred to an emergency treatment center in Regina, Sask., yesterday after his hospital at Fillmore, Sask., was closed by the doctors' strike against compulsory medical care. Thomas Stokes, 75, reported in serious condition with pernicious anemia, was unable to obtain care except where the doctors had set up emergency treatment centers. (See story on Page 1). AP Photofax

Rain in North, Dry in South; No Heat Wave

By The Associated Press

Light rain and showers dampened areas in the northern and east central part of the nation today but dry weather prevailed in most other sections.

A rain and fog belt extended from the northern plains southeastward into the Ohio Valley. Showers sprinkled areas in the warm air of the northern and central plains and in the middle Mississippi Valley.

★ ★ ★

Fairly heavy rain fell Monday in sections of the Midwest and Ohio Valley. More than three inches of rain drenched Chicago, causing flooding of basements and disrupting traffic.

★ ★ ★

Temperatures generally were near seasonal levels.

One of the cool spots near midnight was Burlington, Vt., with a reading of 42, the lowest July mark for the city. In contrast, it was 95 in Needles, Calif., and 97 in Yuma, Ariz., in the Southwest desert.

Guerrilla Unit Lands in Cuba

Small Party Ashore to Spark Rebellion, Says Leader in Miami

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—An anti-Castro unit leader says 20 of his men are fanning new fires of rebellion in Cuba after a successful landing in restless Matanzas Province.

★ ★ ★

Frank Fiorini, an American, said the all-Cuban group got ashore from a boat Monday. He called the men specially trained guerrillas who are members of the International anti-Communist brigade.

★ ★ ★

"We expect to hear from them," the Norfolk, Va., native and World War II Marine Corps veteran said without elaboration.

★ ★ ★

Fiorini identified himself as commander of the brigade and said its members have been training for months for action against Fidel Castro's regime in Cuba.

The mission of the 20 guerrillas, he said, is to support and extend uprisings in the Matanzas area east of Havana.

★ ★ ★

Cuban exiles say sharp fights have occurred recently in Matanzas Province.

★ ★ ★

June Rains Make Lush July Posies

June—the month of weddings—performed like a weepy bride herself.

Last month's total of 3.69 inches of rainfall was more than twice as much as the meager 1.82 inches in April and considerably more than May's 2.27 inches.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. Weather Bureau at Detroit Metropolitan Airport reported that the total rainfall recorded there was 2.83 inches above average for June.

It was a lush month for gardeners, though. Flowers and vegetables, warmed by the sunny months of April and May, sprouted earlier than usual, thanks to the extra rainfall.

June had her sunny side, too. Sixteen of the month's 50 days were sunny. Three days were cloudy. Seven were rainy. The four others were divided, partly sunny and partly rainy or cloudy.

Although there was plenty of rain, June produced none of the violent thunderstorms such as those which erupted on the last days of April and May.

Highest temperature of the month was a 92-degree reading on June 17. The lowest was a 42 on June 3.

Average high temperature for the month was a moderate 79.1 degrees. Average low was 59.03.

The Weather Bureau reported that temperatures averaged only one-tenth of a degree below the normal figure for June.

Suburbs Planning Taxes in Wake of Court Ruling

DETROIT (AP) — In the wake of a court decision upholding the legality of Detroit's one per cent income tax, Dearborn, Hamtramck and Warren yesterday indicated they would enact their own income taxes.

★ ★ ★

They were expected to wait, however, for a possible appeal of yesterday's Wayne County Circuit Court ruling by Judge Neal E. Fitzgerald.

The vigilance tax committee plans to meet in nearby Pleasant Ridge Saturday to decide whether to take its suit to the State Supreme Court.

Detroit attorney Thomas L. Poindexter, who with his wife also brought suit to nullify the Detroit tax, said Fitzgerald's ruling conflicted with another given in a Saginaw income tax case and said he planned an appeal.

Hamtramck and Warren both have tax ordinances drafted and Dearborn, said Mayor Orville L. Hubbard, has prepared forms for its own tax and "is ready to roll."

"If the Detroit tax is legal, Dearborn will be compelled to follow in the footsteps of the mother city to protect its citizens," Hubbard said.

He declared Dearborn would come out ahead because of the many Detroit residents who work in Ford Motor Co. plants there and would pay taxes to Dearborn.

One suburban mayor, Eugene J. Ellison of St. Clair Shores, said his city will not enact an income tax.

Boy, 6, Fished Out of Lake by Heroine, Age 10

A 10-year-old Troy girl is credited with saving a little boy from drowning yesterday by keeping him afloat in 12 feet of water with a fishing pole at Bald Eagle Lake in Brandon Township.

The boy, Toby Pudwill, 6, got excited yesterday when Julie Ann Kerazulis caught a fish off the dock at the Bald Eagle Lake Resort, according to Pontiac state police trooper George Plummer.

Toby grabbed a net and tried to land it.

In the excitement, he fell off the dock.

The girl, whose father, Patrick Kerazulis, is a Wayne County Sheriff's deputy, shoved the end of her fishing pole to the boy after he had gone under twice.

The boy grabbed the pole and the girl held on until a lifeguard pulled the boy out of the water, Plummer said.

Toby's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Pudwill, live near the resort at 2697 Seymour Lake Road, Brandon Township.

City Sets Action on Clinton River

Commissioners to Vote on Proposed Project at Meeting Tonight

Action on a new proposed Clinton River improvement project tops the agenda for tonight's City Commission meeting.

★ ★ ★

A decision also may be made on a request from National Business Brokers of Pontiac for rezoning 37 acres of residential and cemetery property at N. Perry and Arlene streets to commercial, clearing the way for development of a major shopping center on the site.

Action on the river project was deferred last week.

★ ★ ★

The original project approved by the previous commission at an estimated cost of about $4 million was withdrawn and rescinded by the new commission two months ago.

★ ★ ★

It is to be replaced by a plan of less scope and cost.

The rezoning proposal also came before the previous commission and was defeated by a 4-3 vote after planning commissioners and staff members recommended that the request be denied.

★ ★ ★

Developers of the proposed shopping center, to be called Perry Plaza, asked the new commission to reconsider the former request after the April municipal election.

★ ★ ★

Three of the four commissioners who voted against the original request are no longer on the Commission.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business, tonight's agenda calls for approval of the low bid of Community National Bank for the city's fourth urban renewal loan and action on bids for fleet and workmen's compensation insurance.

★ ★ ★

Commissioners also are slated to appoint three county supervisors and fill three vacancies on the Pontiac General Hospital board of trustees.

He Wanted to Show Off but Fell Flat Doing It

NEW YORK (AP) — John Rigney, 25, explained to police that he ascended to the top of a 200-foot construction crane because he wanted to demonstrate that high places could be climbed without falling.

★ ★ ★

His explanation came after he plunged from the crane into the Harlem River Monday night and had to be rescued by two patrolmen. The Bronx steelworker was taken to the psychiatric ward of Bellevue Hospital.

School Board Re-Elects Officers for New Term

BIRMINGHAM — All officers of the Birmingham Board of Education were re-elected last night. A new vice president was named, however, to fill a vacancy.

★ ★ ★

Continuing as board president is Mrs. Kathryn Loomis, who was elected to her fifth consecutive term.

George W. Coombe was elected vice president, succeeding Malcolm Lovell who resigned recently because he was moving out of the district.

Named to his second term as secretary was Richard B. Barnard. Bennett W. Root is treasurer.

In another action, the board awarded a $77,000 contract to the N. B. Hummon Co. of Farmington to develop the site of the proposed junior high school on 14 Mile Road and Bellevine Trail.

The firm's bid was the lowest of 10 submitted. Construction contracts for the school are still to be awarded.

---

Stephen M. Velkoff, a science teacher in the Bloomfield Hills High School, has been awarded a Fulbright Scholarship to teach in England this fall.

Velkoff, 2356 Cheltingham Ave., Sylvan Lake, will exchange positions with Maurice E. Cooper, an instructor at Rothwell Grammer School, Lofthouse, Wakefield, England.

Velkoff has been a teacher in the Bloomfield Hills School District for 12 years.

His award is one of 450 presented to teachers this year.

Birmingham Chapter 220, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold a bazaar planning meeting July 11 at the home of Mrs. Richard Walden, 6405 Telegraph Road.

A 6 p.m. pot luck dinner is scheduled.

Mrs. Charles G. Blashfield

Mrs. Charles (Maude G.) Blashfield, 76, of 1375 Webster St., died today following a heart attack at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac.

Surviving are a son, Charles of Birmingham; a sister, Mrs. Glen Church of Pontiac; and two brothers, Fred L. Shields of Pontiac and Frank H. Shields of New Briton, Conn.

Her body is at the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home, Pontiac.

Mrs. John L. Mettler

A private service for Mrs. John L. (Ada) Mettler, 89, of 1266 Maryland Blvd., will be held Thursday at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will be in Oakview Cemetery, Royal Oak.

Mrs. Mettler died today.

She was a member of the First Methodist Church of Royal Oak.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Arthur W. Gillespie of Birmingham; a sister, one grandchild and four great-grandchildren.

The family request that any memorial tributes be sent to the First Methodist Church of Birmingham.

'JFK to Assist Dems in State'

Local Auto Men Seem Cool to Paying $1,000 to Lunch With Kennedy

From Our News Wires

In Hershey, Pa., Gov. Swainson said yesterday President Kennedy will come to Michigan in October to help state Democrats campaign.

Swainson spoke to a news conference at the 54th annual Governors' Conference here, where almost all Democratic governors are seeking the President's campaign services.

"President Kennedy enjoys great popularity in Michigan," said the governor, being challenged for re-election this fall by Republican George Romney.

★ ★ ★

While in Detroit it is reported that some top auto industry executives are cool to the idea of paying $1,000 to have brunch with President Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

Invitations were extended last week to major industry executives, including John F. Gordon, president of General Motors Corp.

The Gordon request was referred to Anthony G. Delorenzo, vice president in charge of public relations. Delorenzo was noncommittal.

A Chrysler spokesman said his firm had been asked to send a representative, but had done nothing about the request yet.

A Ford spokesman said no invitations were extended to that firm.

★ ★ ★

However, it was reported that those in charge of the fund-raising affair had asked Henry Ford II, board chairman, and John Bugas, vice president-international group, to attend, but neither has accepted.

Named to Head Air Committee

Charles B. Edwards Jr. Succeeds Rowston in County Post

Madison Heights Supervisor Charles B. Edwards Jr. was appointed chairman of the aviation committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday by Delos Hamlin, board chairman.

Edwards, 50, of 1834 Greig St., Madison Heights was first appointed to the committee in 1960, shortly after it was formed.

He has been a supervisor for four years.

Edwards succeeds Pontiac's former mayor Philip E. Rowston to the committee's chairmanship.

Rowston's appointment to a third year on the board of supervisors was rescinded in May by the City Commission.

The aviation committee is scheduled to meet July 17 to discuss the future of the county's proposed major jet airport since plans have been rejected by the Federal Aviation Agency for lack of sufficient air space.

Edwards said today he was of the opinion that the county still will operate an airport on the Orion and Pontiac townships site even if not as a major terminal.

As for the possibility of the county joining the city in future development of Pontiac Municipal Airport, Edwards said "It is something to be surveyed and considered."

Man, Woman Named to Serve County GOP Unit

An ex-assistant state attorney general and a former local newswoman have been officially appointed to positions on the Republican Committee of Oakland County.

Frederick Colombo, 45, of 1115 Country Club Drive, Bloomfield Hills, who served on the attorney general's staff from 1941 through 1943, was named general solicitations chairman.

Colombo, a Detroit attorney, will be responsible for the organization and direction of fund raising activities throughout the county.

Mrs. Dore' H. King, 380 Winry Drive, Rochester, former editor of a Rochester weekly, has taken over full-time duties as public relations director for the committee.

Mrs. King has served part-time in the same position since January.

Gen. Clay Visiting in W. Berlin Again

BERLIN (AP) — Gen. Lucius D. Clay arrived today with a message from President Kennedy assuring the city of his "continuing interest and high regard" for the people of Berlin.

Clay, formerly the President's special ambassador in this divided city is now a consultant to him on Berlin.

He was greeted by Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin and Maj. Gen. Albert Watson II, the U.S. commandant in the city.

Clay said he had come in fulfillment of his promise to return to Berlin from time to time and see how things were getting on.

Clay will attend an Independence Day parade staged by the U.S. Army garrison in Berlin tomorrow.

New African Leader 'Best Royal Twister'

USUMBURA, Burundi (AP) — An African king who reckons he is one of the best royal twisters in the world is coming to the United States this summer to meet President Kennedy and see the White House.

Mwambutsa, the mwami, or king, of the new nation of Burundi, met foreign newsmen Monday and told them he will leave his pocket-size country next door to the Congo at the end of the month.

He will tour the United States, Britain, Belgium, Switzerland, the Netherlands and France.

Burundi is half of the former trust territory of Ruanda-Urundi. Belgium's troops are due to quit the country by the end of July.

Their departure could open the way to trouble from the mwami's political foes, but the ebullient, 56-year-old monarch said he didn't think there would be any trouble.

Mwambutsa has held his throne for 43 years, since he was 13. Since the assassination of Crown Prince Louis Rwagasore last year, his heir has been 17-year-old Prince Charles, now studying in Switzerland.

The mwami is a regular visitor to night clubs and sometimes sits in on the drums. Hating formality, on his last visit to Belgium he was constantly trying to elude his bodyguards. Once he climbed out of his bedroom window, hailed a cab and danced in a night club until the early hours.

His proficiency at the twist comes naturally, he explained.

"As an African," he said, "of course I find it easier to do than whites. We have got the natural swing needed. Come down and watch me some night at one of the night clubs."

Mwambutsa is popular with his people and drives about Usumbura in a yellow American convertible, waving to everyone he sees. He has a chauffeur but prefers to drive himself.

★ ★ ★

Polishing off his whisky and soda, he jumped behind the wheel of his convertible and told the newsmen as he roared away: "I think I have a game of dice now."

Opening of Bids Set for Airport

Pontiac City Terminal Will Widen Its Runways With $384,000

Bids for the construction of an estimated $384,000 in improvements at Pontiac Municipal Airport will be opened in Lansing at 10 a.m. July 17, according to James D. Ramsey, director of the Michigan Department of Aeronautics.

Ramsey said today that work on the 1962 improvements should begin Aug. 6.

The department's schedule calls for all work to be completed by early November.

The state department will tabulate bids and forward recommendations to the City Commission, which must approve and award all contracts for airport construction.

The projects up for contract are as follows:

Widen the east-west runway to 150 feet. It is now 100 feet wide.

Widen the parallel and terminal apron taxiways to 75 feet. They are now 40 feet wide.

Construct a 200-by-400-ft. holding apron at the west end of the runway.

Install high intensity lighting on the east-west runway and modify taxiway lighting.

The improvements are being financed by federal, state and local funds. The Federal Aviation Agency allocated some $203,000 for improvements last January, and another $91,375 has been allocated by the state.

Ramsey said the present construction schedule calls for all taxiway work to be done first, followed by the runways.

"We don't want to interrupt service," he explained. "The taxiways will be used as runways when we start runway construction."

The taxiway work will also necessitate reconstruction of turnoff taxiways, and lighting will necessitate relocation of some fencing, officials said.

National Guard Readies Biggest Summer Session

LANSING (AP) — The largest encampment of the Michigan National Guard's summer field training season will get under way at Camp Grayling Saturday when some 8,500 troops of the 46th Infantry Division and attached units will start a 15-day training period.

The training will be at the platoon-battery level and will be aimed at preparing the units for participation in combat operations in a minimum time after mobilization.

Units will conduct live fire exercises and will spend four consecutive days and nights in the field.

★ ★ ★

Traditional events scheduled will include the annual division review and military ball July 14, with Gov. Swainson the guest of honor, and the memorial service Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Maj. Gen. Cecil L. Simmons of Grand Rapids will have the entire 46th Division assembled at one point for the first time since he took command last March.

1,868 Plane Hoaxes Probed Since '56

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The FBI said today it has investigated 1,868 cases of bomb hoaxes aboard airliners since Congress passed the antihoax law in 1956.

Of the investigations, the FBI said in a report for the Air Transport Association, it identified 460 suspects and prosecuted 94 of them.

Of the 94 prosecuted, 47 were convicted of making phony bomb calls. Seventeen of those convicted went to prison, generally for between six months to a year.

The longest sentence imposed was two years. Seven one-year sentences have been handed down. The maximum prison penalty is five years.

Documents Reveal Intensive Trujillo Sugar Lobby

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times reported today that secret documents of the Trujillo dictatorship tell a story of intensive Dominican lobbying in the U.S. Congress in an effort to increase Dominican sugar profits.

★ ★ ★

A Times Washington dispatch said information about the lobbying was contained in documents obtained by the newspaper in Santa Domingo from the secret archives of the late dictator, Generalissimo Rafael Leonidas Trujillo Molina.

The Times story gave this account:

In pursuing their lobbying efforts, the Trujillo representatives were seeking to frustrate the sugar policies of the Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations.

While sugar was the focus of the lobbying, United States foreign policy and domestic politics were involved.

Rep. Harold D. Cooley, D-N.C., was mentioned again and again in the reports of the Trujillo agents.

Cooley is chairman of the Agriculture Committee of the House of Representatives and the most influential man in Congress on sugar legislation.

DENIES IMPLICATION

Cooley was informed of the documents and apprised of their contents. He rejected any implication that his conduct had been improper in any way.

It was pointed out that the documents present only the Dominican side of the picture. There was no evidence to support any charge of specific wrongdoing.

While Cooley's name was mentioned most frequently in the Dominican documents, there were references to other members of the House Agriculture Committee, including Rep. W. R. Poage, D-Tex.

★ ★ ★

The names of several Agriculture Department officials dealing with sugar matters, including Lawrence Myers, Robert Case and J. Murphy, also were mentioned. So were those of former Undersecretary of State Chester Bowles and Adolf A. Berle Jr., a special consultant to the secretary of state.

Myers heads the sugar office in the Agriculture Department. J. Murphy apparently is an erroneous reference to Tom Murphy, deputy to Myers, and Robert Case apparently is an erroneous reference to William Case, an official in the department's sugar division.

ASSURED BY SOLON

The reports cover conversations and meetings in recent years in which, the Times quoted the Dominican informants, Cooley assured them he would firmly support Dominican sugar interests, gave them advice on how to go about their lobbying and informed them of his efforts to favor Dominican sugar in the United States market.

★ ★ ★

Cooley said he had never given Dominican representatives any advice "other than when I said they should get rid of Trujillo" if they wished better treatment for their sugar in the United States.

He denied he had ever received fees or contributions of any kind. There had been some conversations at his office with Dominican diplomats, he said, but only because they had no Washington lawyers at the time.

"But I told them I could give them no special advice," he said. "I cannot be responsible for what they wrote about me."

Rocky, N.H. Governor Clash at Conference

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Wesley Powell of New Hampshire traded sharp-tongued jibes today in a governors' conference discussion of transportation.

With Democratic Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown of California egging them on, the two Republican governors squared off over the issue of whether there should be a federal department of transportation.

Their clash came as reports circulated that the conference resolutions committee was having difficulty agreeing on any position on civil rights and medical care for the elderly.

Republicans previously had agreed at a caucus to attempt to force a floor vote later in the day on a strong civil rights statement.

They might agree on this, but Powell, the conference chairman and Rockefeller had trouble coming to terms on the transportation question.

It all started with Rockefeller's recommendation at a panel session that the governors go on record for formation of a federal department of transportation. Powell who has indicated he may oppose the New York governor for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination, objected.

The argument started when Powell snapped at Rockefeller: "Why don't you make your point and let me make my own?"

"Please give me the courtesy of letting me finish my statement," Rockefeller fired back.

Brown came in with the observation that "I hate to see the two candidates for the Republican nomination at issue on this matter."

Turning to him, Powell asked: "How does Dick feel about this?" This was a reference to former Vice President Richard M. Nixon who is opposing Brown's bid for a second term as governor.

"He knows more about centralized government in Washington than he would about California," Brown retorted.

Brown plugged for a department of urbin affairs, with a transportation division, a proposal rejected by Congress.

Rockefeller said such a department would be a Frankenstein creation into which one third of the federal government would be poured. He said transportation programs ought to be handled through a staff set up in the White House, if there were objections to establishing a department.

When Rockefeller read a proposed resolution calling for bringing all federal action under one central control, Powell broke in to say:

"By golly, there are days when I think you are a lawyer. You're drawing it a little fine."

CREDITS JFK

Powell said he wanted to credit President Kennedy for taking some steps to solve congested urban transportation problems in his recommendations to Congress. Rockefeller immediately wanted to know, "What steps did he take and what has it done for your state?"

Powell replied that anything that helps the United States helps New Hampshire.

At this point Brown cut in to say: "I wish these two would caucus in another room."

School Official Resigns Position

Superintendent Quits in Waterford to Take Wayne County Post

William A. Shunck resigned last night as superintendent of Waterford Township schools to become superintendent of Wayne County schools.

★ ★ ★

His resignation announced at the organization meeting of the Waterford Township Board of Education, was accepted by the board effective August 18.

Shunck will assume his duties with the Wayne County system August 20.

Head of the Waterford Township school system for the past 17 years, Shunck said he had been considering a prospective offer from Wayne County for more than a month.

The offer came late yesterday afternoon.

★ ★ ★

Members of the local school board, aware that the superintendent had been considering a move, acted on the resignation request with little discussion and moved on to the next regular item on the agenda.

COMMENTS ON MOVE

Shunck's resignation was presented to the board following the election of officers for the coming year.

In commenting on his acceptance of the Wayne County offer, Shunck said, "I feel highly complimented to have been offered this position by the Wayne County Board of Education. It will be a real privilege and an opportunity to be of service to the schools of Wayne County."

The Waterford Township school board took initial steps to seek a replacement in the top administrative post.

Newly elected board president Robert Field named a committee of three for this task.

They are former board president, Eldon C. Rosegart, who will be chairman; Duane Lemaux, board treasurer; and Norman L. Cheal.

Shunck said he would cooperate fully with the committee but declined to have any involvement in the actual selection of his successor.

President of the Michigan Association of School Administrators and a member of the advisory council of the American Association of School Administrators, Shunck served as superintendent of Bloomfield Hills schools for nine years before coming to Waterford Township.

He served with the Navy from 1942 to 1945 and saw action in the Pacific.

Shunck will succeed Dr. Charles E. Brake in the Wayne County post.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Brake retired July 1. The duties of the superintendent are currently being handled by deputy superintendent Delmo Della-Dora.

Laotian Talks Will Continue on Quiet Level

Delegates Decide on Private Sessions After Red China-U. S. Row

GENEVA (AP)—The 14-nation Laotian conference decided to thresh out its few remaining differences in private after the United States and Red China clashed over U.S. troops in Thailand at Monday's opening session.

Delegates agreed unanimously to leave the remaining issues to the conference cochairmen, Britain's Malcolm MacDonald and the Soviet Union's Georgi Pushkin, to avert any more open squabbles that could jar the precarious Laos peace accords.

The Western powers are hopeful that if things go smoothly, the delegates can complete a treaty in two or three weeks to guarantee the neutrality and independence of the Southeast Asian kingdom.

Red China and North Viet Nam touched off Monday's exchange during a three-hour session of speeches welcoming the formation of a coalition Laotian government.

ATTACKS U.S. MOVE

Red Chinese delegate Chang Han Fu accused the United States of heightening tensions in Southeast Asia by sending troops to Thailand and by "armed intervention" in South Viet Nam and the Formosa Strait.

North Vietnamese delegates Hoang Nguyen charged that the success of the conference was "seriously threatened by the presence of U.S. troops in Thailand."

W. Averell Harriman, U.S. Assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs, protested that the Communists had broken conference rules by bringing up issues not involving Laos.

In Bangkok, Thailand, transport planes and helicopters flew U.S. Marines from Thailand today to land bases and sea units in the Pacific in a move cutting 1,000 men from the U.S. task force in the Southeast Asian kingdom.

Informants said some of the leathernecks were being flown directly to land bases in the Philippines, Okinawa and Guam. Others were being shuttled by helicopter to units of the U.S. 7th Fleet standing off Thailand.

The Marines, part of a 2,200-man force sent here six weeks ago to counter a Communist threat in neighboring Laos, began pulling out Monday because of "general lessening of tension" along the Laotian frontier.

Another 1,200 Marines and 3,000 Army troops are remaining in Thailand, but the U.S. Defense Department said more Marines might be pulled out soon.

As Doctors' 'Holiday' Ends

Awaiting Strike Impact

REGINA, Sask. (AP)—The full impact of a doctors' strike against a new compulsory medical care plan is expected to hit this province of 928,000 people today with the end of a three-day holiday weekend.

Saskatchewan residents waited to learn just what medical services were available. Many doctors struck Sunday to protest against the start of the plan. But customary closing of clinics and offices for the Dominion Day holiday weekend had made it difficult to determine how many of the province's 700 doctors walked out.

★ ★ ★

During the holiday period, hospitals reported no major problems in handling patients.

The striking doctors claim that the plan — first of its type in North America — gives the government control of the medical profession.

Volunteer doctors provided free emergency service at 34 designated hospitals, but by Monday night the number available slipped to 231 from the 240 who had volunteered earlier.

SEES DIFFICULTY

Dr. Sam Landa of Saskatoon, coordinator of the emergency service, predicted difficulty in providing the service for a long period.

The holiday ended amid new charges and retorts.

Dr. H. D. Daigleish, president of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, rejected possibility of any further negotiations without repeal of the medical care insurance law.

He said the Socialist government must bear the "complete responsibility for introducing a plan which has driven a free profession into this stand and for the tragic consequences to the citizens of the province."

He demanded repeal of the law "while there are still enough doctors available to Saskatchewan and uncommitted to leave."

Premier Woodrow Lloyd, in a radio broadcast, described the doctors' stand as "further evidence of a callousel disregard for the welfare of the people and the right of the people to govern themselves."

Lloyd said the government is still willing to negotiate. He recommended that a third party be named as a conciliator.

While battle lines drew tighter, a 10-month-old baby whose death was linked to the dispute was buried in Kamsack, Sask.

Peter Derhousoff of Usherville, who drove 85 miles to Yorkton with his sick son, said he would like to ask the premier: "How we are to be compensated for a thing like this."

Pontiac Motor Output Shows 63-Per-Cent Hike

Pontiac Motor Division today reported a booming 63-per-cent increase in cars produced in first six months of this year over the same period last year.

The hike makes the division a leader in an industry-wide push which placed over-all U.S. car production one-third ahead of last year's six-month count.

Last year between Jan. 1 and June 30 Pontiac and Tempest production stood at 183,297. This year it stands at 298,291.

For Pontiacs, the figure is up to 218,297 from 120,133 last year. For Tempests, the total is 79,994 contrasted with 63,164 by June of last year.

In the entire industry, there were 3,620,996 automobiles built in the first six months. Last year at this time, the total was 2,726,804.

General Motors led the "Big Three" carmarkers with an increase of 45 per cent. Ford Motor Co. followed with 16 per cent and Chrysler with eight.

BIGGEST INCREASE

Studebaker, the smallest of the five domestic car manufacturers, showed the biggest percentage increase. Its output of 45,666 cars was 55 per cent ahead of the 29,527 built this time a year ago.

American Motors Corp. placed between GM and Ford in percentage gains, with 41 per cent.

Six-month production as reported by the companies stood as follows:

| | 1961 | 1962 |
|---|---|---|
| GM | 1,398,944 | 2,053,277 |
| Ford | 831,276 | 967,146 |
| Chrysler | 296,287 | 321,749 |
| AMC | 180,770 | 253,158 |
| Studebaker | 29,527 | 45,666 |

For June alone, the manufacturers barely passed the 1961 figures.

For the total industry, the June production figure stood at 564,007 cars against 559,559 in June, 1961.

The figure was whittled down by a Ford stamping plant strike which trimmed Ford production from 169,899 in June 1961 to 102,115 cars this June.

Thundershowers May Put Damper on the Holiday

Pontiac area residents may have to picnic in the recreation room or the attic tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

The weatherman forecasts considerable cloudiness with scattered thundershowers and a little warmer for Wednesday, the high near 82.

Tonight will be cloudy and mild, the low dropping to 63.

Showers are expected to end tomorrow night. Fair and mild is Thursday's prediction.

During the afternoon and through the night .35 of an inch in rain fell on the downtown area.

The low temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 61 degrees. The thermometer reading at 2 p.m. was 70.

Pontiac Boy, 9, Dies in Mishap

Youth Struck by Car Despite Shouts of Warning by Brother

Despite warning shouts by his brother and two playmates, a 9-year-old Pontiac boy was struck by a car and fatally injured yesterday on Auburn Avenue near Opdyke Road.

Last Year To Date 43

Frank Beam, who would have entered the third grade next September at Wilson Elementary School, died at 5:25 p. m. yesterday in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Beam, 214 Prospect St., died of head injuries about 4½ hours after the accident.

★ ★ ★

Just before the mishap, Frank, his 12-year-old brother David and their two friends, Elmer and Ronald Ivey of 278 Midway St., had been swimming in a pond on the south side of Auburn. The other boys saw the car approach.

"I yelled for Frank to come back," said David, "but I guess he didn't hear me."

★ ★ ★

The driver, Ernest P. McDaniel, 17, of 86 Cottage Ave., told police he didn't see the boy until he was in the path of his car.

★ ★ ★

McDaniel said he couldn't stop in time to avoid the boy. Police estimating that McDaniel was driving about 45 miles an hour, did not hold him.

★ ★ ★

Frank was among the youngest of eight children in the Beam family. His body is at the Voorhees-Siple Funeral Home.

Leader Arrives From His Exile to Meet Trouble

Ben Khedda Learns of 4,500 Fighting Moslems Led by Radical

ALGIERS (AP)—French President Charles de Gaulle proclaimed Algerian independence today and Nationalist Premier Ben Youseff Ben Khedda arrived with his ministers to assert their rule over a new nation threatened with civil war.

The triumphant return of the former rebel fighter was darkened by the threat of a military uprising by 4,500 mutinous Moslem guerrillas who want to put radical Vice Premier Ahmed Ben Bella in power.

Ben Bella opposes Ben Khedda's policy of cooperation with France.

Ben Khedda flew in from Tunis, his headquarters while he directed the exile regime in its campaign to throw off 132 years of French rule. He was the first to leave the plane.

★ ★ ★

In Washington, President Kennedy welcomed Algeria to the family of nations today in a statement calling the achievement of Algerian independence an "important step toward fuller realization of the dignity of man."

★ ★ ★

Algeria's independence became effective at 10:30 a.m.—4:30 a.m. EST—as the result of a statement issued by De Gaulle following a special meeting of the French Cabinet.

★ ★ ★

"By the self-determination vote of July 1, 1962," the statement said, "the Algerian people called for independence of Algeria, cooperating with France.

★ ★ ★

"In consequence, the relations between France and Algeria being henceforth founded on the conditions defined by the governmental declarations of March 19, 1962 (the Evian peace agreement), the president of the French republic declares that France solemnly recognizes the independence of Algeria."

OVER 100 YEARS

France's last colonial administrator of Algeria, High Commissioner Christian Fouchet, conveyed De Gaulle's declaration to President Abderrahmane Fares of the Algerian Provisional Executive and transferred to the provisional government the sovereignty France had held for more than a century over Algeria.

★ ★ ★

The green and white nationalist flag was hoisted over the administrative capital of Rocher Noir, outside Algiers, as several hundred Moslems cheered.

★ ★ ★

The Evian agreements call for the provisional executive to rule Algeria until a Constituent Assembly is elected later this month and a parliamentary government takes over. It was believed Ben Khedda's Cabinet from Tunis would be merged with the provisional executive, and Ben Khedda would become president of the new combined executive.

UTICA—Jack Harvey elected to seventh term as president; Marvin Prieks re-elected vice president; Howard Dinger, secretary; Walter Flickinger re-elected treasurer. A second meeting every month will be added beginning in September. It was scheduled for the fourth Thursday of the month in addition to the current meeting on the second Monday. Meetings are at 7 p.m. at school board offices, 8344 Hall Road.

NEWS OF THE AREA

The Governor, O'Hara Will Lead Parade

UTICA — Thousands are expected to line Cass Avenue and Auburn Road to watch Gov. John B. Swainson and U.S. Congressman James G. O'Hara, D-Utica, lead some 65 floats, marching units and other entries in a gala Fourth of July parade here tomorrow.

Main attraction in the 16th annual homecoming celebration, the parade will start from Cass Avenue and Chapoton Street after Gov. Swainson places the Miss Utica of 1962 crown on the head of Irene Heydens, 11070 18-Mile Road, Sterling Township, at 10 a.m.

Gov. Swainson also will act as parade marshall in his third consecutive appearance at Fourth of July festivities in Utica.

With Miss Utica during the crowning ceremony will be her maids of honor, Jessie Mackay, 8125 Mackay Court, and Cynthia Wales, 8361 Canal Road. All three girls are 17 years old.

★ ★ ★

At the head of the parade will be a color guard from the Victor Rieck Post No. 351, American Legion. Other marching units will include the Mount Clemens Arnvets, Vanguards of the Bruce Post and the Port Huron Hamtramondaires.

Five high school bands will provide the marching rhythms. They are from Utica, Romeo, Roseville, New Haven and Anchor Bay schools.

The parade, sponsored by the Utica Lions Club, will move on Cass Avenue to Auburn Road, then turn west to Ramona Park, passing a reviewing stand on Auburn Road across from city hall.

TO AWARD PRIZES

At the conclusion of the parade, the judges' stand will be moved to the park for awarding of prizes in several categories about noon.

Floats by other cities, organizations and business firms will compete for honors as "most beautiful," "most patriotic," "most comical," "best service club" and "best religious" floats.

There also will be prizes for the most beautiful pleasure car, the best marching group, and, for the youngsters, the best decorated bicycle, the best decorated doll buggy and the most unusual pet.

★ ★ ★

An afternoon of games and booths, dancing and a children's program will follow the parade at 1 p.m. at the park.

Dancing will continue through the evening, which will be climaxed by a fireworks display at 10 p.m. and presentation of a 1962 automobile by the Lions Club at 11 p.m.

Lake Charlevoix in Michigan's Charlevoix County has one of the state's longest inland shorelines. It extends 56 miles.

Salvation Army Plans Sun Days

New Leaders to Direct Lakeville Lake Camp for Needy Young, Old

ADDISON TOWNSHIP — With an entirely new group of leaders, the Salvation Army camp on the north shore of Lakeville Lake has begun another summer of "days in the sun" for both young and old who would not otherwise get a vacation.

Mrs. Lt. Col. T. Raymond Gabrielsen of Detroit is the new director of the camp. She succeeds Mrs. Lt. Col. J. Clyde Cox, who left the camp after it closed last August to accompany her husband on a new assignment in Chicago.

Mrs. Cox had been director during five of the ten years she was associated with the camp.

Mrs. Gabrielson's husband, also a lieutenant colonel in the Salvation Army, is commander of the Eastern Michigan Division with headquarters in Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Major and Mrs. Hugh Turner are assistant directors at the camp, which provides week-long vacations in the country air for mothers and children, youth groups and senior citizens from hot, crowded cities.

Recreation program directors are Cadet and Mrs. Henry Woodard of Joliet, Ill., first year students at the Salvation Army School for Officers' Training in Chicago who were assigned to the camp for practical field experience.

Woddard, 28, and his wife, 24, recently completed 10 months of training in welfare and religious work at the school, combining classroom studies with weekly field assignments at several Salvation Army Corps units in Chicago.

★ ★ ★

The Woodards will return to the school after the camp closes Aug. 26.

The camp has been in operation for some 45 years.

DREAMS OF ANOTHER — Now that she has won the Miss Orion title, Mary Jane Berger, 17, starts dreaming about the other crown she will be competing for early in August. It is the Romeo Peach Queen crown which will be sought by some 11 area title holders. The winner will reign over the annual Peach Festival in Romeo over Labor Day weekend.

Her Name's Mary Jane Berger

Miss Orion's a Sparkler

LAKE ORION — Mary Jane Berger, a sparkling 17-year-old brunette with a ready smile, last night won the title of Miss Orion of 1962.

A June graduate of Lake Orion Community High School, the new queen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clare L. Berger, 248 Lapeer St.

She was selected from a field of seven attractive candidates for the crown in the annual contest held in the showroom of Al Hanoute, Inc., 209 N. Park Blvd.

As Miss Orion, Mary Jane will ride with her two attendants in a convertible in tomorrow's Small Fry Days parade at 10 a.m.

Her first maid of honor is Judith Favre, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Favre, 533 Bagley Drive. Second maid is 18-year-old Jean Hood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Hood, 3320 Paint Creek Road, Orion Township.

The parade is slated to form at the junior high school and proceed to Atwater Park. Baseball games are planned there for 1 and 6 p.m. and a record hop from 8 to 11 p.m. Thursday at the Hanoute showroom.

The Small Fry Days program Friday will feature a ball game at 6 p.m. in which the Lake Orion Men's Softball League will be challenged by the Pontiac Elks.

There will be an outdoor square dance from 8 to 11 p.m. on North Broadway Street and ball games are planned for 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. Saturday at Atwater Park. From 2 to 4 p.m. horseshoe matches will take place at the Orion Community Center, corner of Orion and Kern roads.

Modern dancing is slated for 9:30 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the Hanoute showroom to climax the day's activities.

The four-day celebration will conclude Sunday, which has been designated as "Family Day." Ball players, both large and small, will don their uniforms and attend church.

In addition to presiding over Small Fry Days, the new Miss Orion will represent her community in the annual Romeo Peach Queen contest early in August.

The three judges last night rated the girls on poise, personality, appearance and voice as they were interviewed individually, first in street dress then in formal attire by master of ceremonies Wallace Crane.

The other four contestants were Joanna Waltman, Wendy Schaar, Sally Beatty and Sharron Olson. Judging were Mrs. Jack Valentine and Jim Sherman, both of Oxford, and Lee Winborn, area news editor of The Pontiac Press.

Clarkston to Fete the 4th With Parade, Fireworks

CLARKSTON — A colorful parade, games, a street dance and a gigantic fireworks display will highlight the fun-packed Independence Day program here tomorrow.

The newly formed Junior Chamber of Commerce has joined forces with local merchants and the Independence Township Firefighters Association in planning the festivities.

A featured attraction in the 10 a.m. parade will be Michigan's Junior Miss of 1962, Mary Ellen Pike of Traverse City. An attractive brunette, Mary Ellen will ride in a convertible provided by the Jaycees.

The parade will begin at Miller Road and M15 and continue through town.

★ ★ ★

In addition to the floats sponsored by subdivisions, the Firefighters Association will parade its equipment and the Jaycee float will be occupied by a bevy of local beauties.

A Civil Air Patrol plane is scheduled to land near the parade route and take its place in the procession.

Immediately after the parade an art display, sponsored by the Village Friends of Art, will be held at Washington and Main streets. Works of children instructed by Mrs. Kate McLean and Mrs. Hazel Nauman will be exhibited.

GAMES FOR ALL

Various games, for young and old alike, will be conducted during the afternoon by recreation program instructors. Refreshments will be available throughout the day.

In the evening, starting at 7:30 there will be a band concert at the high school to be followed by the fireworks display after dark, approximately 9 p.m. on the school grounds.

There still will be plenty of activity after the fireworks. A gala, street dance is planned at the high school tennis courts for all age groups and at the same time a movie for teens will be shown on the school bus garage wall.

Officials planning the state of activities emphasize that the events are not restricted to Clarkston area residents. Everyone is invited to view and participate in the program.

Royal Oak Township Area to Undergo Facelifting Job

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP (AP) — This ramshackle community virtually is tearing itself down, but only so it can rebuild itself into a model community.

★ ★ ★

Every unit of housing either will be torn down or rehabilitated. Rebuilding of a motley row of what now serves as a commercial district is planned for the future. Most of the money will be advanced by the federal government's Urban Renewal Administration.

AREA LACKS MONEY

Royal Oak Township doesn't have much money. Its government's income for a year is only about $150,000. Total valuation of property within its totals is only $2,856,398.

But it anticipates more than $10 million will go into its urban renewal projects, and more than $3 million of it already bears federal approval.

Nibbled away by surrounding cities over the years, the township barely covers more than half a square mile, and its population is almost entirely Negro.

At its peak it had more than 14,000 people squeezed into its housing, much of it wooden barracks type built for workers imported in World War II.

HOUSING SOLD

In 1953, the run-down federal housing was declared surplus and sold to the township on a five-year mortgage for $180,000.

Township Supervisor Elwood Dickens and his board kept renting the housing until the mortgage was paid off. They they applied for an Urban Renewal Administration project, pledging the land to guarantee their one-third cost.

As the now-cleared 345 acres on which once stood 874 dwelling units is sold off, the money goes into a special fund to guarantee payment.

Those who were displaced by the tearing down automatically qualify for a no-down-payment, 40-year Federal Housing Administration loan of $13,500 with monthly payments of $87. The same will be true for 372 families in old war-time two-story buildings along the northern boundary.

Owners of some 800 private homes are eligible for FHA loans to rehabilitate or rebuild. To date 89 have.

Most of Royal Oak Township lies along Eight Mile Road, with Detroit to the south and Oak Park and Ferndale around it to the north, east and west.

This 6-10ths of a mile is separated by Oak Park from the rest of the township, a 90-acre plot to the north now being developed into an apartment area by private builders.

HAS NO INDUSTRY

Neither township segment has any industry, although the urban renewal plan includes an industrial zone. Most residents travel miles to their jobs. A good many have no work.

From its peak, the township's population had slipped to 8,145 by the 1960 census and is even lower today, probably fewer than 7,000.

But some who were forced out as the old barracks came down are now moving back to be on hand when new homes, not so humble as those of the past, become available.

HARRY GARLING

Clarkston Area Man on Fair Committee

CLARKSTON — Michigan State Fair commissioner Harry Garling, 2220 Clarkston Rd., has been appointed to the Premium Exhibits committee for this year's 113th annual event.

This committee controls all agricultural and livestock activities, the junior show, women's activities and farm machinery exhibits.

The fair will open Aug. 24, a week earlier than in the past, and will close Labor Day.

School Election Is Called Off

Huron Valley Board Cancels Millage Vote Slated for August 7

MILFORD — There will be no Aug. 7 school vote on a two mill tax increase proposal in the Huron Valley School District.

★ ★ ★

The board of education last night canceled the election in view of increased state aid it will receive during the 1962-63 fiscal year.

While the additional state revenue will not equal the total that would have been provided if the proposal was approved, the school board said it believed it could get by if it followed an austere program.

The state assistance will add about $55,000 to the school system's operating budget. The millage would have provided about $75,000.

Under the new state program, a school system will receive $19 more for each student, from $295 to $324.

The school board had scheduled the election on June 14, only three days after an identical proposal was defeated by four votes.

★ ★

A major portion of the funds had been intended to be used to hire additional teachers to staff new elementary classrooms that are expected to be ready in the fall.

Ingol Burtons to Mark Their Golden Wedding

ORTONVILLE — Mr. and Mrs. Ingol Burton, 155 James St., will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary at an open house from 1 to 6 p.m. tomorrow in the Veterans' Hall here.

Married July 3, 1912 in Niles, the Burtons have six daughters, Mrs. Eugene Hall and Mrs. Milo Revior of Flint, and Mrs. Don Broecker, Mrs. Gerald Marsh, Mrs. Glenn Marsh and Mrs. Curtis Carroll of Ortonville and three sons, Russell and Jesse of Davis and Edward of Ortonville.

They also have 34 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Robert E. Field to Head Board

Waterford Twp. School Officials Also Choose Secretary, Treasurer

Robert E. Field, 147 S. Avery Rd., Waterford Township, was elected president of the Waterford Township Board of Education at the group's organization meeting last night.

Mrs. Dorothy Barningham, 2856 W. Huron St., Waterford Township, was named to her third term as secretary, and Duane M. Lemaux, 488 Shore View Dr., Waterford Township, was elected treasurer.

By virtue of his office Lemaux automatically became a member of the Waterford Township Recreation Board. Norman L. Cheal, newly elected member of the school board, was named the other school board representative on the recreation board.

Following the election of officers the school board accepted the resignation of Supt. William A. Shunck who will become superintendent of Wayne County schools Aug. 20.

Shunck will continue in his present capacity until Aug. 18.

* * *

In other business last night the school board voted to retain attorney Marshall E. Smith as legal counselor for the school district for the 1962-63 school year.

The board also accepted a request from Donald Arsen, principal of Waterford Village School, that he be released from his principal's contract and placed on teaching status.

City Girls Unit 1st in International Drill Contest

International honors have been accorded Pontiac's all-girl drill team and color guard, the Rae-Vens.

Competing in Detroit in Freedom Festival activities, the Rae-Vens took the first place international trophy in the drill team contest, scoring 92 out of a possible 100 points.

In addition, the team won a trophy for entering the largest squad in the competition—39 girls.

On June 23, the Rae-Vens won the state drill championship for the third straight year.

Boy, 14, Nabbed Again in Arson

Pontiac Dry Cleaner and Private Homes Are Victimized

A 14-year-old Pontiac boy who has admitted setting fires in a dry-cleaners shop and a private home today was turned over by police to Oakland County Juvenile authorities.

Police said the boy was the same one who was apprehended last summer for starting a fire at the Orchard Furniture Co., 164 Orchard Lake Ave.

His name was withheld.

He had been released from the Oakland County Juvenile Home in January.

The boy was picked up after an arson attempt was discovered yesterday morning at the Buettner Drive-In Cleaners, 198 Orchard Lake Ave.

Police said newspapers had been set on fire and thrown through a cardboard-covered window.

The fire burned out before any damage could be done, police said.

About $20 damage resulted from another fire which the boy admitted setting in a home at 9 Exchange St. over the weekend, according to firemen.

Sen. Byrd Battling Any Income Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, today denounced the U.S. Chamber of Commerce's call for a substantial income tax cut.

Byrd said the reduction would be inflationary and would mean a $15-billion federal deficit.

* * *

Byrd thus joined the committee's senior Republican, Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., in assailing the chamber's proposal.

* * *

Williams told the Senate Monday that "while it may be politically popular at the time, the long-range inflationary results for Americans would be disastrous."

He declared that "I refuse to have any part of such irresponsible action as to endorse a tax cut in the face of our present deficit."

* * *

Byrd told a reporter he would have a detailed statement on the chamber's recommendation later.

BEARS EXPERTS

But he said that congressional tax experts already had advised him that the proposal would chop tax revenues by $9.5 billion a year instead of the maximum $7.5 billion estimated by chamber officials.

Byrd said he was convinced that even without a tax reduction there would be a federal deficit of $6 billion in the fiscal year which began Sunday.

* * *

Thus, Byrd said, the chamber's tax proposal would lead to a deficit of more than $15 billion.

* * *

Williams aimed a broadside at Govs. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, a Republican, and Michael V. DiSalle of Ohio, and Edmund G. Brown of California, Democrats. He said he had noted they had joined "in the parade calling for an immediate tax reduction."

MORE FEDERAL HELP

"Significantly, last week at the governors' conference we find that the governors were calling for more and more federal aid from Washington," Williams said.

* * *

"These governors, as well as the President and the United States Chamber of Commerce, know full well that a tax cut in the face of a continuous rise in government spending would lead to a staggering deficit. A deliberately planned deficit of such proportions at this time would be the most inflationary action this administration could take."

Group Pushing Quick Action

ADA Wants Big Slash in Levy Paid by Those Getting Small Pay

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Americans for Democratic Action (ADA), criticizing the Kennedy administration's "conservative economic policies," today urged immediate and heavy tax cuts in the lower brackets.

* * *

The liberal organization suggested beginning "with a cut from 20 per cent to 10 per cent" in the tax rate paid by the lowest income group.

* * *

John P. Roche, chairman of Ada, said the administration's policies have "already gone too far toward appeasing business complaints by tax concessions.

"It is becoming increasingly clear," he said in a statement, that the economic recovery is aborative and the rate of economic growth intolerably slow. It is clear also that the lag is primarily . . . in purchasing power, not in productive capacity."

Warning against "more sops to business to encourage more investment," Roche said, "it is time now to strengthen the purchasing power of lower income tax groups."

He suggested cutting off the first $1,000 of taxable income in the lowest tax group.

"It is outrageously unjust," he said, "to take nearly $200 in income tax from a married worker earning the minimum wage of $46 per week."

Roche said that "justification of tax rate reduction in the high brackets should wait, as the administration has proposed, for the closing of tax loopholes through which high - bracket taxpayers avoid billions of taxes every year."

O'Hara Asks U.S. Tax Relief

Michigan Congressman Wants Deductions for Local Levy Payers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Legislation to permit taxpayers to deduct state and local income taxes from the amount they pay the federal government was introduced yesterday by Rep. James G. O'Hara, D-Mich.

O'Hara said his proposed amendment to the internal revenue code would provide relief for the taxpayer and at the same time allow other units of government to seek additional tax resources.

He estimated it would result in an aggregate tax reduction of $750 million a year.

* * *

"The harassed local taxpayer is beset on every side by taxes of nearly every description," O'Hara said. "The price of civilization is getting higher."

The Unitea Democrat said one major restriction in his bill would protect federal revenues "and avoid encouraging the enactment of unreasonably high state and local income tax levies."

But this provision, he said, "does not adequately recognize either the needs of hard pressed local units of government or the financial pressure on the local taxpayer."

* * *

O'Hara urged that any tax reduction enacted by Congress include the principles of his bill.

While Michigan does not impose an income tax, O'Hara noted, both gubernatorial candidates indicate they favor adoption of such a tax.

Area Candidate Outlines Issues

George Fulkerson, in Race for Congress, Tells List of 5

Five major issues in the Oakland County congressional campaign were outlined last night by Democratic candidate George J. Fulkerson.

Speaking at an organizational meeting of the Fulkerson for Congress Committee, the Birmingham attorney said the issues are:

1—An educational aid program at all levels.

2—A proper farm program to get the government out of the surplus storage business.

3—A medical care program for the elderly.

4—A program to deal with 3 million unemployed persons each year, including young people coming into the labor force and workers replaced by automation.

5—Passage of stand-by powers to give the President authority to act quickly in an economic emergency.

Fulkerson, opposing Royal Oak's George Lennox for the Democratic nomination in the 18th Congressional District, also expressed disappointment at the defeat of President Kennedy's farm bill.

"It is unfortunate," he said, "that a coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats prevented this country from saving a billion dollars a year in storage fees."

The southern mockingbird, sometimes seen in Quebec and Ontario, mimics songs of other species but also has its own tuneful song.

Mr. Barnard had owned and operated a meat market for many years in Drayton Plains and later founded and operated a 5 & 10 variety store there.

He was a member of the Rotary Club of Drayton Plains and a member of Central Methodist Church.

Mr. Barnard died unexpectedly at his residence yesterday.

Surviving is his wife, Mary Margaret.

VERNON T. BOVEE

The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Groves & Co. Funeral Home, Garland and Third Streets, Flint for Vernon T. Bovee at 3110 Sterling Ave. The funeral service will be at 11 a.m. Thursday in the funeral home. His body will be taken to West Branch for burial in the Brookside Cemetery.

Mr. Bovee, 50, was an employe of Pontiac Motor Division and a member of Amvets Post No. 113.

Surviving besides his wife, Iris, are four sisters, Mrs. Mae Ireland of Owosso, Mrs. Edna Goff, Mrs. Matilda Ursey and Mrs. Nellie Doble, all of Flint; and a brother.

MRS. ALVA W. VanALSTINE

KEEGO HARBOR — Mrs. Alva W. (Clarice L.) VanAlstine, 54, of 2485 S. Willow Beach St., died early this morning at St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, after a long illness.

Mrs. VanAlstine's body is at C. J. Godhardt Funeral Home.

Surviving besides her husband are three sons, Allen H. of Oxford and Roger L. and Lynn L., both at home; a daughter, Mrs. Leo E. Thurston of Morley; six grandchildren; and a brother, Wayne Lance of Drayton Plains.

Falling Piano Hurts 8-Month-Old Child

TROY — Eight-month-old Danny Harkness was reported in satisfactory condition today in St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, where he was rushed last night after an upright piano fell on him.

Danny, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harkness, 4751 Livernois Road, suffered multiple fractures including skull fractures in the mishap.

Mrs. Harkness said the piano fell on the boy while she was moving it. She suffered a bruised leg trying to stop it from falling.

Dismissed Major Trying to Be Reinstated in Army

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Maj. Arch E. Roberts, dismissed from active duty for making an unauthorized speech, has asked a federal court to make the Army return him to active duty.

Roberts was removed from active duty after an April 19 speech before the Daughters of the American Revolution. In the speech, Roberts, once an aide to former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, said the mayor of Los Angeles had a Communist background.

In a suit filed in federal court yesterday, Roberts claimed the action was illegal and said the court should order him restored to his position.

The dismissal, he said, violated his constitutional rights and caused him "irreparable injury."

TO LOSE BENEFITS

He said he stood to lose about $50,000 in retirement benefits as well as many other allowances. Roberts, a Reserve officer who said he had more than 18 years of active duty, now lives in Fort Collins, Colo.

He spoke off-the-cuff to the DAR after the Army withheld approval of the speech he had planned to make.

In addition to accusing Los Angeles Mayor Sam Yorty of having a Communist background, he said Assistant Secretary of State G. Mennen Williams had "leftist leanings."

The Army dismissed him on the ground that his statements were improper and violated standards of conduct for an officer.

Roberts said his length of service made it illegal for him to be removed from active duty except for specific reasons and after action by either a court martial or a board of officers.

The Army claimed it could dismiss Roberts without legal procedures despite his years of service.

The Reserve officer's suit said.

Wreckers Hard at Work on Pontiac Landmarks

Clouds of dust are floating over Pontiac as three major landmarks fall beneath the wreckers' ball and hammer.

First to go was the Chapman Hotel, with the razing as part of the urban renewal plan, aided by high winds of an early summer storm.

Wreckers were still hauling away the remains of the historic old place, formerly known as the Hodges House, when the protective fence went up around the old fire station on Pike Street.

★ ★ ★

Although some local wags maintained for years that a backfire from a fire engine or unscrewing of the reinforcing bolts would bring the structure down, it took a bit of pounding to dispatch this former city hall.

Now the courthouse is getting the treatment, and the bang of the wreckers' tools echoes the judges' gavels of the past. Who knows the future of the tired lady of justice perched atop the dome, whose scales have long since disappeared?

What was so carefully constructed years ago will be pried apart, smashed into workable pieces and hauled away. Except for the pigeons.

Besides these three buildings, many other structures give way to urban renewal.

★ ★ ★

The dust of these projects rises to add its part to a pall over the downtown area. But it is a pall of progress, and signifies not the death of downtown but the rebirth of a section which is belatedly growing with the times.

Downtown Pontiac has refused to roll over and play dead.

★ ★ ★

There are great days ahead for this section that some have written off as through, and tearing down these landmarks is part of the cure for some of the ills from which the area has been suffering.

Royalty Might Reverse Losing Trend in Spain

Monarchies which have long been losing numerical ground to dictatorships may soon reverse the trend and reclaim a crown lost to General Franco in Spain's bloody Civil War of 1931 that saw the downfall and exile of the Royal family of Alfonse XIII.

For astute observers think it not unlikely that within six months the 69-year-old dictator will step down in an unprecedented peaceful and orderly transition from totalitarian government to the limited democracy of a monarchy.

★ ★ ★

Such an eventuality has been in the making since Spain was declared a monarchy in Franco's 1947 Law of Succession, though the decree has never been implemented and the strategy of the leader apparently has been to leave the succession question dangling.

Adverse forces, increasing in gravity, supporting the portent of governmental change are:

Franco's admittedly bad health,

Serious unrest among the hitherto docile lower class (the recent strike of 160,000 was the first such under the dictatorship and strong indication of weakening control),

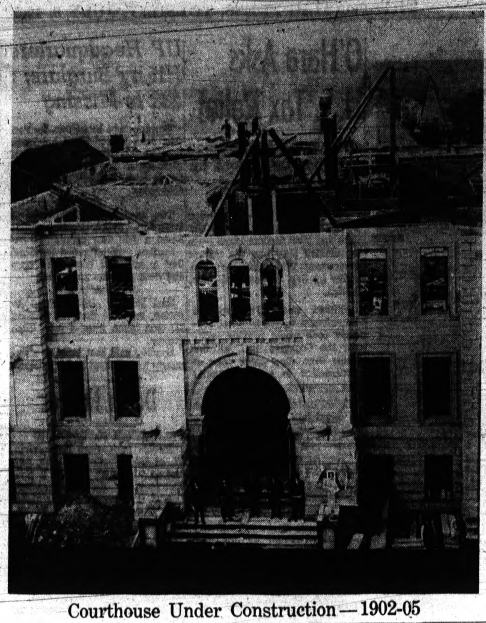

The chronic economic plight of the country that only infusion of U.S. capital in establishing and maintaining military bases has kept from becoming disastrous,

Growing dissatisfaction among the hierarchy of the Catholic Church—though Franco still seems to have a strong hold on the military.

Best bet to succeed the General is the 49-year-old Pretender to the Spanish throne, Don Juan de Borbon y Battenburg, with his son running a poor second—particularly since he has disavowed royal ambitions during his father's lifetime.

Don Juan, though nominally in exile in Estoril (Portugal), is by no means persona non grata in his mother country. Theoretically, he can return anytime he wants to, but has scrupulously avoided outliving his welcome and has in fact maintained a quasi friendship with the dictator.

Until now, the concept of dictatorship has not encompassed change in governmental direction, but ahead may lie the first exemplification of it.

Mad About Tigers

Lady Fan Reflects Ball Club's Fate

By Howard V. Heldenbrand

The MAT has discovered right in his own neighborhood what is beyond doubt the most rabid Tiger fan of either sex north of the equator. As time approaches for the selection of new officers for the 1962-63 Hot Stove League, Women's Division, it is strongly urged that of 305 S. Tilden St., be named president by acclamation and a unanimous ballot cast for her election.

She is so closely attuned to the fortunes of the Tigers that the outcome of a game can be told by nothing more than her demeanor. Not only that, but with close familiarity with the subtleties of her mute reactions, it is possible to interpret the running score of a game in progress!

When the Tigers lose, she is wont to be affected by the vapors; and when—horror of horrors! — the cataclysmic loss of a doubleheader last occurred, she went incommunicado for days.

And another thing. She is still seething over the rank injustice suffered last year by Tiger pitcher Frank Lary when official scorers gave Yankee Whitey Ford a won-lost percentage topping his. Since Whitey had to be relieved in nearly half the games he was credited with winning by his ever-ready alter ego, Louis Arroyo (Lary finished a much higher percentage of his victories), our fan maintains that Ford should not have been box-scored as a lone hurler but as a two-unit mound entry!

David Lawrence Writes on Taxes

Small Firms Find Risk Too Great

The word "incentive" is frequently used to describe the impulse that makes the private-enterprise system work more effectively than does any form of state socialism or communism.

LAWRENCE

Most people who talk glibly about "big business" or even "little business" as somehow greedy, selfish, and inconsiderate of their employes do not realize how much of a risk the creators of a business enterprise run.

They are discouraged sometimes from even starting a business because the risk isn't worth the small return that is likely to be obtained these days.

Perhaps the most striking example of what is meant by "incentive" — or lack of it — is given in an illustration recently developed by some economists to show how a businessman can build a successful enterprise only to find that the bulk of his earnings is going to the government.

The basic assumptions are that a man starts a small company which develops annual sales of $2 million, and that the corporation pays him a salary of $50,000 a year and pays to 100 other employes a total of $500,000 a year in wages.

But what does government take from this corporation?

FIRST OF ALL

First of all, $30,000 in state and local levies, excises and other taxes have to be paid.

Second, the government takes $15,000 in Social Security taxes, and this is assumed to leave the company with approximately $100,000 profit before federal income taxes.

Third, the government takes $46,500 out of the profits for federal corporate income taxes. This brings the net profit down to $53,500.

★ ★ ★

And it is assumed that the sole owner of the corporation puts 20 per cent of this — or $10,700 — into new equipment and takes the remaining 80 per cent —or $42,800 — as dividends for himself.

Fourth, the government then takes $28,500 from the owner in the form of personal taxes on his total income of $67,800 in salary and dividends.

Fifth, the government takes from the employes of the corporation $57,000 in personal taxes on their pay.

ADD IT UP

When all this is added up, it is found that the corporation owner has realized $39,300 in net income, while government in all its forms has realized $177,000.

To put it another way, for every dollar that this businessman gets in income, government — federal, state and local — gets more than $4.50.

Now, in the above illustration, it happens that one man is the owner of the company. But it is unlikely that a single individual would always be able to supply the money to build a corporation that would have annual sales of $2 million.

The chances are that the promoter of the enterprise would have to get other people to share the financing with him, and they would naturally become part owners.

In that case, of course, the entire $42,800 of dividends would not be paid to him, but perhaps only a small part of it.

What it amounts to, in the end, is that the individual has to make up his mind whether he will take a job that pays him $25,000 or more in some other enterprise — perhaps one of those "big business" corporations — or whether he will go out on his own.

That would mean investing personal funds and money borrowed from others willing to help him, and taking the big risks that are involved in the actual operation of a business.

In the final analysis, the risk is considerable. There is competition to be met plus the danger of unlooked-for conditions which could wipe out the business or render it unable to make a substantial profit.

The Country Parson

"One of the finest things God can do for a man is not to answer all his prayers."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Alcoholics Anonymous Will Aid the Loneliness

From long experience, I have learned to look first at the signature of a letter. If the signature does not seem right, I give the letter little attention. If there is no signature I drop the letter into the chucker. I don't cotton to the character who purports to be a doctor but gives no degree with signature or in stationery.

DR. BRADY

But this one, somehow, stayed in my hand:

"Dear Doc,

"I am writing to you and hope with all my heart you will put it in your column.

"I drank heavy for five years I quit during lent and I only had two or three rough days.

"Now I'm trying hard to quit but I get this choking and lonely feeling and it keeps up for four or five hours. It's one of the awful feelings so the only thing that will help is another drink.

"I went to one doctor and he called me an alcoholic and laughed. So I won't dare to go to another one. But I need help bad.

"Please what can I do so the lonely feeling will go away.

"Please help me!"

(Unsigned)

Very likely the doctor who called the patient an alcoholic and laughed about it is himself or herself a victim of the narcotic habit, requiring a certain number of cocktails or highballs every day.

★ ★ ★

The best suggestion I can give any drinker who gets that choking and lonely feeling which he or she thinks only more alcohol will relieve is this:

Look in the telephone book for the address of Alcoholics Anonymous in or near your community and telephone for information, bearing in mind that neither your name nor the name of the group member who gives you information need be mentioned.

If you will find out when and where the group meets and attend a meeting or two it may be the very thing you need to free you of that choking and lonely feeling.

Bear in mind that everyone at the meeting is or has been addicted as much as you are and that everyone attending the meeting is there to help himself or herself and to help other drinkers who need help.

★ ★ ★

No matter whether you are or are not an alcoholic your belief that the only thing that will help is another drink doesn't make me laugh, sir or madam. When I think about it too much it makes me cry.

You see, I have had to deal close up with the misery and shame, the remorse and unhappiness, the disease and death that drinking brings to it victims, innocent and guilty alike.

For the help you need, go to Alcoholics Anonymous, and may God go with you.

★ ★ ★

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not classed diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

'Prayer' Ruling Misunderstood

By Peter Edson

WASHINGTON (NEA) — When the United States Supreme Court goes into session, the clerk cries out: "Oyez, Oyez! (Hear Ye, Hear Ye!) The Supreme Court of the United States is now in session. God save the United States and this honorable court."

EDSON

This is considered a prayer. It is not prescribed by law. But it is by custom, which is expected to endure.

This is something to remember in connection with the Supreme Court's decision at the closing session of the term, declaring that the recitation of a prayer prescribed by New York's state board of regents for use in public schools violates the U.S. Constitution.

First popular reaction to this decision has been shock and a storm of protest, based on an apparent belief that the Supreme Court is trying to abolish prayer and perhaps destroy religion.

Constitutional lawyers in Washington point out that this is a misunderstanding of the decision.

Their contention is that the Supreme Court has acted in this case in an extremely narrow field. It is not a broad, sweeping decision. It is limited only to a finding that a prescribed prayer violates constitutional guarantees of religious freedom.

As hypothetical cases of religious freedom not covered by the court's decision, these examples are cited in admittedly unofficial but authoritative interpretations:

The decision will have no effect on prayers offered in parochial or private schools.

If a teacher in a public school asks her pupils to bow their heads while the teacher offers a prayer of her own, that will violate no law or court decision.

If the parents of some of the pupils object to any specific prayers the teacher may offer, that is a local problem for settlement between them and the teacher or her superiors. That's the way it always has been.

Or, if a teacher in a public school asks her class to stand for a moment of silent prayer, each pupil reciting his own or none at all, there is certainly nothing the law can do to enforce the Supreme Court's latest decision.

★ ★ ★

The argument made here is that this is not an enforceable decision. No U.S. marshals are going to come around and arrest teachers for offering prayers, for reading a psalm or a chapter from the Bible.

What concerns constitutional lawyers most is the broad interpretation many people have put upon the really narrow New York school prayer decision is that it will react unfavorably against the Supreme Court itself.

The Supreme Court is already under attack because of its school integration, reapportionment and some of its civil liberties case decisions. A new attack, based on misunderstanding or misinterpretation of the court's decision may make it more unpopular and weaken its prestige.

★ ★ ★

The supreme court has not struck a blow against all religion or religious education in this decision, it is maintained. Lawyers who have practiced before the court for years and know the justices intimately testify they are all religious men, active in their respective churches.

They are not atheists trying to destroy religion. They realize that law in America is based on religion.

As Charles S. Rhyne, former president of the American Bar Assn. and a leader in the "World Rule Through Law" movement brought out in a "Law and Religion" address on Law Day last year — which happened to fall on a Sunday — the entire history of the United States is based on belief in God.

Queen Elizabeth's Charter to Sir Walter Raleigh to found the Jamestown colony in 1606 was given "By Grace of God" and the Mayflower Compact of 1620 was for "The Glory of God." The Declaration of Independence closes with a statement of "firm reliance on the Protection of Divine Providence." The Founding Fathers of the country opened their daily deliberations with prayer.

The Constitution itself, while specifying that "Congress shall make no law respecting establishment of religion," and that "no religious test shall ever be required as a qualification to any office or public trust under the United States," still guarantees in the First Amendment that there shall be no "prohibiting the free exercise" of religion. This is indestructible.

Tells of Time Being Wasted at State Employment Office

After a stop at the Michigan Employment Security office in Pontiac I learned where some of my tax dollars are going.

★ ★

Why should it take two hours to register for a job? Why should a dozen job-seekers be kept waiting while two dozen interviewers sit at desks doing nothing except visiting with one another? Why did I have to go to one desk to have the date stamped on my card, did I have to go to one desk to have the date stamped on my card, to a second to have a sales occupation code written and to a third to have a clerical classification code put on the same card? Is there a union so strong that a date-stamper can't also be a code-stamper? What about the girl I watched for over an hour who had the long phone call, which was interrupted only by her coffee break?

★ ★ ★

They mislaid my application while I was still there. It was likely filed in the nearest wastebasket after I left. Can't we streamline some of these systems for more efficiency and economy?

Give Different Views on Court's Ruling

After reading about how unconstitutional it is to say a prayer to the Almighty, I wonder how much our money is worth. It states in God We Trust."

"We can condone all the atheists in this country but the children can't even pay a little respect to the Almighty. This is not a matter for any court to decide. This is what our country was founded upon.

Robert E. Dodt

I only wonder how the six justices will feel when they are called to face the Supreme Court of Almighty God.

Vincent Newman

As a Christian nation we should realize the importance of prayer in our daily lives. Instead of banning it we should encourage it.

God in his Holy Word has told us to pray without ceasing. Are we doing this? No. Instead we're ceasing prayer. Praying is our only way of talking to our Heavenly Father.

★ ★ ★

Has our world reached an impeccable Utopia? No. We still need divine guidance and as a nation we must turn to God. Abraham Lincoln said, "I have been driven many times to my knees by the overwhelming conviction that I had nowhere else to go."

June Lacey

Many do not choose to have children indoctrinated in the Christian religion. Schools are set up to equip children with the skills for discovering and enriching their own philosophies, not to convert them to an unyielding doctrine they had no part in developing.

This is respect for the individual; this is true freedom. Why do many parents want their children taught Christianity in the public schools? The home is best fitted to inspire a belief. Could it be that these parents no longer feel adequately inspired themselves?

Let's unfold our own innermost feelings to our own children. It can't be legislated.

Writer Is Against Fluoride in Water

If there are people who want fluoridation, let them buy tablets. The profluoridators never mention that even naturally fluoridated water has difficulties like discoloration and mottling of teeth, and changing the structure of the teeth so fillings are not held satisfactorily. In naturally fluoridated areas, some of the people have hard, brittle teeth or wear dentures after the age of 25.

★ ★ ★

Only 1½ quarts of water are used for drinking purposes out of every 700 quarts leaving the water works. This is 2 per cent; since children who may benefit are but 10 per cent of the total. Then only ¼ of one per cent of the total water is consumed by these children. If $15,000 is spent on fluoridation only $30 is used for these children. If kids continue eating ice cream, candy, pop, and sweets after the age of 12, tooth decay will catch up at a normal pace.

★ ★ ★

Do not let fluoridation sway you with the amount they wish to put into your drinking water.

Michigan Supreme Court Has Busy Day

LANSING (AP) — The State Supreme Court says an Upper Peninsula mine worker is ineligible for workmen's compensation even though he was injured in a mine explosion.

The bizzare circumstances surrounding the case of Emil Kaarto were outlined by the court yesterday as it reluctantly reversed a decision by the Workmen's Compensation Appeal Board awarding him $36 weekly benefits.

★ ★ ★

The court also cleared the way for a $119,000 rebate to Detroit Edison Co., upheld a $15,000 award to a woman knocked unconscious by a head of cabbage, and ruled against a Dearborn hospital's fight to keep unions out.

Kaarto suffered burns on his hands and face in an explosion at the Caledonia Mine near Ontonagon Aug. 27, 1956. Calumet & Hecla, Inc., his employer, paid him compensation for seven months while he recovered.

Kaarto, who operated a rock drilling machine, went back to work for 14 months. When the mine shut down, he tried working as a laborer for the County Road Commission, then as a wood cutter.

His mine injuries prevented him from holding either job, although he was still physically able to run a drilling machine.

The appeal board awarded him benefits, but the State Supreme Court cited a state law preventing an employe from collecting workmen's compensation if he is able to work at the job on which the injury occurred.

Justice Theodore Souris said the situation has led to "absurd results" but indicated the remedy lies with the legislature, not the court.

The court set Detroit Edison up for a $119,000 rebate by affirming a ruling by Circuit Judge Timothy Quinn of Lapeer, sitting as a court of claims.

The court, ruling against the State Corporation and Securities Commission, decided that the utility's reserve fund set aside for deferred federal income tax purposes cannot be considered as surplus in computing its corporation franchise fee. Detroit Edison paid the fee under protest in 1958.

ARRESTED—Max Young, 33, was booked on suspicion of attempted murder Sunday in La Puente, Calif., after sheriff's deputies said he tried to kill his wife, Larue Young, 28, by holding an open jar of poisonous Black Widow spiders against her back.

An employe of Lipson Super Market in Detroit hurled a four-pound cabbage at another employe Aug. 26, 1958, but his Mrs. John Lindsay, a customer, on the head. It knocked her out.

The court gave her and Mr. Lindsay $15,000 damages. The market said the lower court made a mistake by not permitting defense attorneys to question a physician who helped Lindsay's attorneys prepare his case.

The Supreme Court ruled that it was a private client-attorney relationship.

RULING ON HOSPITAL

Justice Thomas M. Kavanagh rapped Oakwood Hospital Corp. of Dearborn for "arbitrary and unreasonable refusal to bargain collectively" with employes.

Since February 1959, Local 1044 of the AFL-CIO American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes has tried to bargain for the workers, who had instructed the union to represent them at bargaining sessions.

The hospital contended that it had no duty to bargain on wages and other matters so long as it refused to recognize the union.

The Supreme Court upheld a Wayne County Circuit Court order restraining the hospital from refusing to bargain.

In another decision the court remanded to Genesee Circuit Court for entry of a judgment a jury's $39,000 award to Gerald Barnebee, who was injured Sept. 25, 1959, when a 32-foot extension ladder fell on him at Flint Osteopathic Hospital. The ladder was owned by Spance Brothers, general contractor in charge of building the hospital.

Circuit Judge Louis O. McGregor threw out the jury's verdict, saying there was no actionable negligence. The Supreme Court overruled him.

ON COOPER SLAYING

The court upheld Recorder's Judge George Murphy's admission of a confession by Edward McCager in connection with the slaying of Mary Cooper in Detroit 2½ years ago. She was found dead with a cloth gag stuffed into her mouth.

McGregor claimed he was held four days without a warrant and that the confession was obtained illegally.

The court, ruling against him, held McCager was not held by police during that period, but merely in a judge's custody under a writ of habeas corpus.

★ ★ ★

McCager has yet to be tried in the slaying.

McNamara Aide Quits Defense Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Carlisle P. Runge resigned yesterday as assistant secretary of defense for manpower. Norman S. Paul was appointed to succeed him.

Runge said in his letter of resignation to President Kennedy that he wanted to return to professional life in Wisconsin. He is a former law professor at the University of Wisconsin.

Paul currently is assistant to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Michigan Congressman Slams Planner Rostow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. James Harvey, R-Mich., joined a group of House Republicans yesterday in attacking State Department policy planner Walt Whitman Rostow and calling his ideas dangerous to the nation.

Harvey said if the Rostow papers submitted to the National Security Council are as mistaken as his earlier theories and predictions, then he "will have done as much to confuse, divide and complicate the economic and military energies of the United States as has any of its enemies in the history of the republic."

Rock Hudson Hits Back at Critics of the Star System

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "I'm incensed!" exclaimed Rock Hudson.

Rock, one of the world's film box office favorites, was angry at recent critics — most of them who have predicted the Hollywood star system is through.

BOYLE

Their reasons are it is too expensive and places too much power in the hands of capricious actors and actresses.

Hudson, one of the first stars to fight back publicly, spoke his mind ad lib at a recent luncheon at a theatrical haunt here. He expressed particular annoyance at criticism blaming stars for running up costs on two of history's most expensive movies — "Mutiny on the Bounty," and "Cleopatra."

"It's nothing but sensationalism —the way Marlon Brando and Elizabeth Taylor have been abused as persons," he fumed.

'STUDIO ERRORS'

"The salary of a star isn't the prohibitive factor. It's studio errors that usually run up the bills. Then someone wants to put the blame on the star.

"Well, there are a lot of people who are against the star system —but most of them are not stars. I don't see anything against the star system.

"In any case, it is the public that makes the system. The people pick their own favorites."

With that blast out of his system, the big, good-natured ex-letter carrier from Winnetka, Ill., relaxed and pitched into his steak.

★ ★ ★

Rock, who now lets other postmen deliver his money to the bank, reminisced about some of the other jobs he had held before he soured to success as a movie actor. He was a short order cook, soda jerk, piano mover, railway expressman, butcher and grocery clerk.

"I think I had most fun biting a short order cook," he said. "I still enjoy cooking at home—when I can show off.

★ ★ ★

"Every job has its pros and cons. The main pro about film acting for me is that, if I have to work, it's the only work I love to do.

"But I'd rather lie on a beach. I could spend all my life on a beach.

"The main con trouble with acting? There isn't enough anonymity.

RESTRICTIONS

"Therefore you have to restrict yourself about where you go and what you do. Sometimes, in some places, you can't even get out and go for a walk.

★ ★ ★

"And being in the public eye forces you to be too conscious about yourself. You have to worry about a lot of small concerns that shouldn't really matter — such as whether your tie is straight."

★ ★ ★

Rock, says his goal is "never to stop enjoying life. I like to get interested in new projects, exhaust them, then go on to new projects. I've tried sailing, skin diving, water skiing and golf.

"Right now I'm interested in flying and learning to be a ham radio operator. Sometime, however, I'd like to pick something cheap for a change. You can spend $100,000 on radio equipment."

★ ★ ★

What bores him?

"People who are rude, people who feel equipped to give advice but aren't, amateur psychologists.

"I feel my inner life is my own business. You have a right to your own feelings. If I want anyone to probe, I'll pay him for it."

But he did volunteer this was the biggest fault he found in himself as a person:

★ ★ ★

"It's my feeling that I'm sometimes unprepared, not always on top of a situation, more insecure than I should be."

His philosophy: "The pursuit of happiness."

Crack Down on Fireworks

Close Stands in Ohio County; Some Peddlers Cross Into Michigan

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Fireworks peddlers, who usually do a brisk business in Lucas County at this time of year, are getting hard to find as the result of a crackdown by local authorities.

A campaign by Harry Friberg, Lucas County prosecutor, has resulted in the closing of many fireworks stands. One alleged source of fireworks, the Banner Fireworks Co., has been padlocked. A similar action is pending against the Miller Fireworks & Novelty Co., Friberg said.

The Lucas County crackdown caused some peddlers to move across the state line into Michigan over the weekend. Monroe County deputies promptly arrested three men on charges of illegal sales and confiscated an estimated $2,000 in fireworks.

★ ★ ★

In the Toledo area, two men were arrested by agents of the prosecutor's office.

The drive has cut deeply into the fireworks trade, which in past hit its peak on the weekend before the Fourth of July.

For many years, Ohio and Michigan residents seeking fireworks have been able to purchase them in Lucas County. The retail sale of fireworks is illegal in both states, but Ohio peddlers have skirted the law by representing themselves as wholesalers. However, almost anyone could purchase fireworks in this area.

The drive by Lucas County authorities was centered in the area along the Michigan border, where most peddlers set up shanties to sell their supplies of firecrackers, cherry bombs, Roman candles, rockets and the like.

JFK ACCEPTS GIFT — President and Mrs. Kennedy formally accepted the duplicate of a historic carved mantelpiece for the state dining room in a ceremony yesterday at the White House. Between them is Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, daughter of the late Theodore Roosevelt who was president when the original mantelpiece was installed in 1902. At rear are John J. Power of the Marble Industry Board of New York and Edwin B. Olson (right), whose firm fashioned the gift.

Klan, NAACP Vie in Atlanta

KKK Plans to Counter Demanstrations by the Negro Delegates

ATLANTA (AP)—Any pickeling of Atlanta hotels by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People faces possible counter demonstrations by the Ku Klux Klan.

★ ★ ★

The NAACP, holding its national convention in this Deep South city, voted Monday to emphasize its fight for equal rights by picketing hotels which have refused to register Negro delegates.

KLAN MEETING

Earlier, the Klan, long a white supremacy organization, had announced any integration demonstration staged by the NAACP would be countered by white-robed Klansmen. Calvin Craig, a Klan grand dragon, did not elaborate on his announcement. The Klan also is in session here.

★ ★ ★

Delegates to the NAACP convention are being housed mostly in college dormitories. Hotels and motels are jammed with about 6,000 delegates to the national convention of the Loyal Order of Moose.

NAZI PICKET

The resolution calling for picketing of Atlanta hotels was passed after Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the NAACP, told of incidents in which hotels refused to accept Negroes as guests.

★ ★ ★

While the NAACP acted on its hotel picketing resolution, two white men wearing swastika symbols of the Nazi party picketed the municipal auditorium where the NAACP convention is meeting.

The Canadian National Railways had 2,134 diesel locomotives in service in 1961.

Copy of 1902 Mantel Given to White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has accepted a white marble mantelpiece, inscribed with a prayer written by President John Adams, for the state dining room. He called it "the most notable improvement in the White House."

Mrs. Kennedy, who has restored many of the historic rooms in the executive mansion, was among the onlookers Monday as Kennedy accepted the mantel, a duplicate of one installed in the state dining room 60 years ago.

ORIGINAL IN 1902

The President called it a beautiful and appropriate reminder of President Theodore Roosevelt, who had the original mantel installed in 1902.

The original now is in the Truman Library at Independence, Mo. It was removed when the White House was repaired during the administration of former President Harry S. Truman. The years had yellowed and tarnished the marble, and the mantel was deemed unsuitable for its prominent place in the state dining room.

This prayer is inscribed on a center tablet of the Vermont marble mantelpiece:

"I pray heaven to bestow the best of blessings on this house and on all those that shall hereafter inhabit it. May none but honest and wise men ever rule under this roof."

★ ★ ★

The prayer was in the first letter Adams sent his wife from the White House.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt had Adams' words inscribed on the mantel.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy was not completely satisfied with the appearance of the inscription on the duplicate mantelpiece. He had the lettering darkened a little with graphite, so the words would stand out against the white background.

The duplicate mantel was a gift from the marble industry of New York and the New York architectural firm of Steinmann, Cain & White.

43 Educators Will Tour GM's Proving Ground

Some 43 college faculty members from 20 states and Ontario will visit the General Motors Corp. proving ground at Milford next week as part of the 11th GM Conference for Engineering and Science Educators July 8-20.

With the GM Technical Center in Warren as headquarters for the conference, educators will also visit the GM Institute in Flint and Cadillac Motor Car Division.

GM vice presidents acting as hosts are Louis G. Seaton, Philip J. Monaghan, Charles A. Chayne, Dr. Lawrence A. Hafstad, William L. Mitchell, Anthony G. De Lorenzo and Harold G. Warner.

Conference speakers will include Louis G. Lundstrom, director of GM proving grounds; William M. Collins, executive committee secretary; Harry D. Hall, director of manufacturing development; and Dr. Harold P. Rodes, president of the GM Institute.

Rockefeller Boy to Aid Shriver

John D. IV Will Work as Special Assistant to Peace Corps Chief

NEW YORK (AP) — John D. Rockefeller IV, 25, has taken a summer job as special assistant to Peace Corps chief Sargent Shriver.

★ ★ ★

A Peace Corps spokesman in Washington said young Rockefeller, great-grandson of the oil dynasty founder, would work without pay for the summer only.

TO AID SHRIVER

He will aid Shriver in recruitment, liaison with field training in Puerto Rico, and orientation for corps members, the spokesman said.

★ ★ ★

Rockefeller, known as "Jay," is the son of John D. Rockefeller III, chairman of the Rockefeller Foundation and the Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts. He is a nephew of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

★ ★ ★

Young Rockefeller attended the International Christian University in Tokyo three years ago, living on a budget of $27 a month. A 1961 Harvard graduate, he has been studying at the Yale Institute on Far Eastern Languages.

Units Aid 'Bring 'Em Back Alive' Drive

DETROIT (AP)—The Automobile Club of Michigan is getting its Fourth of July "Bring 'Em Back Alive" message to motorists with the aid of nearly 250 groups distributing bumper stickers and posters.

* * *

The Auto Club said the majority of the Michigan's 600 daily and weekly newspapers are carrying stories and safe driving tips in connection with the summer travel season campaign.

* * *

Michigan radio stations are playing "Bring 'Em Back Alive" jingles.

* * *

State Police Commissioner Joseph Childs credited the program with helping to cut Michigan highway fatalities in 1961, the year it started.

Fire Station Gets Moved in Bits 'n' Pieces

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—The darndest thing happened while Rocky Ridge firemen were moving their fire station.

It fell to pieces.

* * *

Volunteer firemen in suburban Rocky Ridge raised the station from its foundation and got it onto a flat bed trailer.

* * *

Fire station and truck had just started moving when the building collapsed.

* * *

The firemen are now moving their station piece by piece to the new site where it will be rebuilt.

HOW INMATES BROKE OUT — Six convicted killers awaiting execution in San Quentin prison sawed their way out of their cells yesterday, and held two guards hostages before a barrage of tear gas forced them to give up three hours later. The guards were badly beaten. At left, guard Lieut. W. R. Stevenson shows the hole the convicts used to get into the gun rail and overpower the guards. At right, Dale Fredy, associate warden, displays bars sawed out of the cell in front of him.

U.S. OKs Grant to Study Monroe's 'Potential'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Area Redevelopment Administration (ARA) has approved a $19,800 federal grant for a study at Monroe, Mich., of what types of industry are most likely to benefit the area.

* * *

Monroe's port facility has a potential for industrial development, ARA said. The demand for deep water sites along the Great Lakes, from western Lake Erie to southern Lake Huron, will be investigated.

Jeanette MacDonald Still Tops

Singer's Fans Span Miles

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Old movie fans never die, not if they are Jeanette MacDonald's.

* * *

Forty of the singing star's fans gathered here this week, coming from as far away as Australia. The double occasion: the 25th wedding anniversary of Miss MacDonald and Gene Raymond. "It was all very spontaneous on their part. It's really quite amazing. You don't see that kind of loyalty very often."

THOMAS

You surely don't. Miss MacDonald's major film career ended with "Cairo" in 1942. Except for a brief return for two films in 1948, she has been absent from the movie stages since then. Yet her fan clubs remain among the most active.

The 40 far-flung clubs remain among the most active.

LOOKING FOR EXCUSE

"The one from Australia flabbergasted me," the singer remarked. "He said he was looking for an excuse to come to America, and this was it. One girl came from Mexico City, and there are some from Canada. Also from Florida, Boston, Washington, Texas—all over."

* * *

The festivities for the celebration included a dinner at the Lausu Restaurant, given by the Raymonds. The fans were treated to a visit to MGM studios, where Jeanette and Nelson Eddy reigned as the sweethearts of song in the 1930s. The group took a vote for which film they would most like to see. Winner was "Smilin' Through," appropriate since it also starred Gene Raymond. Due to a legal complication with the authors, it is the only one of Miss MacDonald's films that has not appeared on television.

SAW OLDIES

The fans saw "Smilin' Through," plus the "This Is Your Life" television show that starred Miss MacDonald. Today they are visiting the Bel-Air mansion which Jeanette and Gene have shared during their married life.

She is at a loss to account for the continuing loyalty of her fans. Far from waning, they are even growing in number, she reported.

"We're getting a new influx because of television," she said. "A lot of young people are joining."

* * *

The 25-year-old fan club is only one of hers. Another highly organized club dates back to when she starred with Maurice Chevalier in 1934.

Naturally the fans are always plugging for a comeback. When producer Ross Hunter mentioned that he was considering Miss MacDonald for a Doris Day film, he was flooded with enthusiastic letters. "That makes me feel good," said the singer, who would welcome a return.

Battle Creek Mayor Lauds Detroit Tax

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—Battle Creek Mayor Millard Vanderhoort yesterday hailed a Circuit Court decision upholding Detroit's 1 per cent income tax.

* * *

Mayor Vanderhoort told newsmen the favorable decision greatly enhanced "the possibility of providing for this city's capital and operating needs by a flat income tax."

He said such an income tax would enable Battle Creek overa long range to offer property owners relief from millage increases on property taxes.

1961 Lenin Peace Prize Presented to Nkruman

ACCRA, Ghana (AP)—The Lenin Peace prize for 1961, awarded to President Kwame Nkrumah in April, was presented to him here yesterday as part of functions marking the second anniversary of Ghana's independence.

The chairman of the International Lenin Peace Prize Committee, Dmitri V. Skobeltsyn made the presentation in the state house. Of the Lenin medal, Nkrumah said: "This medal . . . represents a moral force generated by the burning desire of all nations for peace."

Wed Saturday in St. Paul's Lutheran Church were Delores Helen Kasten and Donald L. Mann. Parents of the newlyweds are the Lester C. Kastens of Oliver Street and the Walter E. Manns of Third Avenue.

MRS. DONOLD L. MANN

Delores H. Kasten Weds Donald Mann

Delores Helen Kasten and Donald L. Mann exchanged vows Saturday before Pastor Maurice G. Shackell in St. Pauls Lutheran Church, Joslyn Street.

★ ★ ★

Following the ceremony, the reception was held at Fisher Body Union Hall. Three hundred guests were present. The guests were entertained by the MSUO Octet of which the bridegroom is a member.

Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. Lester C. Kasten of Oliver Street, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Mann of Third Avenue.

ATTENDED SISTER

The bride wore a floor length gown with a chapel train made from silk organza and Chantilly lace. A crystal and pearl crown held the bouffant illusion elbow veil in place.

★ ★ ★

Matron of honor was Mrs. Todd Brackett, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Ronald Rose of Bloomfield Hills, and Paula Webster, Carol Kasten, sister of the bride, and Susan Carpenter, cousin of the bride, of St. Clair Shores, were junior bridesmaids. The matron of honor and bridesmaids were gowned alike in aqua floor length silk organza and carried shaded aqua carnations. The junior bridesmaids wore pink gowns with pink carnations.

Best man was Lee Stark. Assisting with the seating were ushers Douglas Sacto; Ronald Bunch; and twin brothers of the bridegroom, Bruce and Allen Mann.

★ ★ ★

The couple is honeymooning in Northern Michigan and will reside in Auburn Heights Mobile Village. The new bride chose a beige linen suit with brown accessories for her trip.

★ ★ ★

The mother of the bride wore an aqua organza gown with a corsage of white carnations. The bridegroom's mother's choice was a lavender flower print chiffon dress and corsage of white carnations

'Fairway' Unit Plays 9 Holes; Has Luncheon

Fairway League Golfers played nine holes of golf at Pontiac Country Club Saturday. Luncheon at the 300 Lounge followed.

Mrs. Jack Harned called 26 members to order for a short business meeting.

★ ★ ★

Kicker golf was the play for the event and first flight prizes were awarded to Mrs. Lee Lysunger and Mrs. John Wilson.

Awards for the championship flight went to Mrs. Louise Wright and Mrs. Philip Sauer.

Fun prizes were presented to Mrs. Delmar Hammett, Mrs Jack White and Mrs. Sauer.

★ ★ ★

Social chairman for the month of June was Mrs. Sauer. She was assisted by Mrs. Hammett, Mrs. Charles Barker, Mrs. George Watters, Mrs. John Benner and Mrs. Robert W. Melkle.

Carry Cleaning Agents in Purse

Stow a bar of soap, a washcloth, and a strip of plastic in your purse or make-up case while traveling.

★ ★ ★

When you stop for a meal or a rest, tuck the plastic into the neckline of your dress or blouse to protect it from moisture. Then lather up your face and neck, rinse off, apply fresh make-up—and you will feel like a "new" woman!

On Your Vacation

Treat Feet to Easy Shoes

During vacations people often walk more in two or three weeks than they usually do in several months. No wonder aching feet and blisters sometimes detract from the enjoyment of a trip or time in the country.

If you go on a trip you may walk miles and miles while sight-seeing. If you go to a lodge or camp out, you most likely will do some hiking to which your poor feet are unaccustomed.

Not getting your feet "readied" for your vacation may be one of those silly little factors which spoil your fun. You cannot really enjoy looking at the Eiffel Tower, the Alps, or even a bear in a national park, if your feet just plain hurt.

FEET SWELL

Extra walking, especially in hot weather, makes the feet swell. If this is to be your fate, you might be wise to buy shoes a little wider or longer than usual. Also, if you are an habitual high heel gal, you may be more comfortable in a shoe which has a one-and-a-half inch heel with a fairly broad base than you would be in flats.

A leather shoe gives you essential support and is cooling to your feet. Don't leave home without a pair of leather walking shoes.

Of course, the wrong stockings and socks can make your feet as uncomfortable as the wrong kind of shoe. Be sure that you have plenty of room. Your stockings should be a half-inch longer than your big toe.

Many women find socks unattractive, but cannot walk as comfortably in sheer hose. For these women sheer hose which have mercerized cotton soles are a boon. They now are available.

EXERCISE

If you are going to wear lower-heeled shoes than usual for your walking, you might stretch your back leg muscles a bit with the following exercise.

Sit in a straight backed chair. Lift the leg up as far as you can with a stiff knee. As you do, pull your left toe back toward you. Lower leg. Do the same thing with the right leg and right toe and continue, alternating left and right.

MR. AND MRS. EDGAR PARDEN

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Parden of West Ypsilanti Avenue will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday with a 2 to 5 p. m. open house at the Woodlow Street, Waterford Township, home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Voydanoff. The Pardens also have seven other children, 22 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Bride-Elect Is Honored

A bridal shower and buffet dinner was given Ann Lawson by Mrs. Rodney M. Lockwood Friday in Mrs. Lockwood's Haverhill Road home in Bloomfield Hills.

Thirty guests attended the party to honor Ann who will marry Rolf Gordhamer, son of the W. T. Gordhamers of Orchard Lake, Aug. 25 at Christ Church Cranbrook.

The honoree is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Lawson of Orchard Lake. She and her fiance are students at Michigan State University and will return to their studies in the fall.

Local Baptists Invited

Baraca Philatheans of the First Baptist Church were entertained by the Messiah Baptist Church at Grand Rapids.

Some 40 members were present from Albion, Pontiac and Grand Rapids.

★ ★ ★

Those from the Pontiac Baptist Church who attended were Mrs. I. O. Wideman, state president; Audrey Brady, Mrs. Pearl Hudson and Mrs. A. B. Baldwin.

Others included Mrs. Marie Davis and Mrs. Ida McCullough.

Mrs. Sara Glover, vice president was program chairman. Also taking part were Mrs. Frank Phomis, Mrs. Wideman and Rev. Homer Cross. Rev. Albert Keith closed the session with benediction.

For Bride or Graduate

Watch---an Ideal Gift

Whether she's a mother with little or no time on her hands, or a bride who wants to remember forever the happiest time of her life, she'll agree a good watch makes an ideal gift for her.

★ ★ ★

ALL-PURPOSE

For Mom—get her a good, all-purpose watch in place of her old one or, if she already has a good watch for daily use get her a dressy model, perhaps with diamonds.

For the bride — consider either a dressy model, perhaps with diamonds to match her rings, or a good all-purpose jeweled watch in a long-lasting gold case to remind her of her wedding day when she looks at it many times every day.

Stick to tried and proven shapes — square or round — in a good gold case in either white or yellow and pay a bit more ($25 and up) for a watch whose movement is protected for long life by tiny jewels inside.

GET ADVICE

Get help and advice from a reliable jeweler who carries well-known brands and will stand behind them with guarantees and service.

Have him engrave the date and occasion on the watch for sentimental reasons and carefully note the serial number and other information to help recover the watch if it is lost.

Movie-Going PJs for Tots

(UPI) — Movie-going pajamas for the lollipop set are styled to look like play clothes but cut generously for comfortable sleeping.

★ ★ ★

The novelty PJs solve the problem faced by many mothers bound for an evening at the local drive-in—what will the well-dressed child wear to the movies?

★ ★ ★

Ordinary pajamas and nightgowns have been the answer until now. But when the children hopped out of the car and headed for the refreshment stand they had that sleep-walking look. The drive-in sleep-ins are styled for boys and girls in the two to eight year old bracket.

Guest List Vital Key to Success

NEW YORK — Perle Mesta, society's famous "hostess with the mostes'," says that the people invited to a party matter more than how much it costs.

Mrs. Mesta revealed her simple secret in her new monthly column on "exciting parties and interesting people," which began in a recent issue of a national woman's magazine.

In the column entitled, "Perle Mesta's Party Notebook," she cited these "Perle's Pearls on Entertaining:"

1. Like the people you invite.

2. It's more important to have good food than an overabundance of food. Make sure the hot food is hot, and the cold food cold.

3. Have music, even if it's recorded. It can harmonize even Republicans and Democrats.

4. Make your guests feel wanted. Watch for "standbys" who need urging aboard.

5. Relax. A hostess who enjoys her own parties is a better hostess. Parties are better, too.

6. Don't fret if you left someone off your guest list. Just start planning another party!

College Personals

Clemens Street, pharmacy.

Wayne Somerville, Drayton Plains, commerce; Martha Spark, Parkway Avenue, general education; Duane Steward, Drayton Plains, commerce; and Timothy Underwood, Drayton Plains, collegiate technical division concludes the list.

At Methodist Church

Funck-Watson Nuptials Are Held

Carol Ann Watson and Monie J. Funck spoke their vows Saturday at a candlelight ceremony before Rev. Henry Powell at Elmwood Methodist Church in Flint. A reception immediately followed at the bride's home with 200 guests present.

Parents of the couple are the L. G. Watsons of East Hamlin Road, Rochester, and the George P. Funcks of Greenwood Street.

The new Mrs. Funck wore a floor length gown of white nylon tulle styled with bodice and skirt panels of Chantilly lace, long tapered sleeves, and a sweeping tier train. Bouffant silk illusion veiling was secured by a looped crown of iridescent crystals and seed pearls. The bride carried a white orchid over a white prayer book.

* * *

Matron of honor was Mrs. Charles E. Vaughn of Columbia, Tennessee, sister of the bride, wearing a gown of mint with bouffant skirt, and carrying mint green and yellow carnations.

Bridesmaid, Mrs. Jimmy L. Powell of Grant Street wore a pale yellow organdy over taffeta gown. She also held yellow and mint green carnations.

* * *

Brother of the bride, Charles C. Watson, of Rochester was best man. Assisting with the seating were Glen and Donald Funck, both brothers of the bridegroom.

The newlyweds left for Gatlinburg, Tenn., in the Smoky Mountains and upon returning will reside on Harding Road, Rochester. Mrs. Funck chose a toast colored outfit with matching veiled pillbox hat, and a white orchid corsage.

The mother of the bride wore a champagne lace sheath over taffeta and corsage of brown cymbidium orchids. The bridegroom's mother appeared in a dress of beige lace over mint green taffeta with matching accessories and a mint green cymbidium orchid.

Carol Ann Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Watson of East Hamlin Road, Rochester, exchanged vows with Monie J. Funck, son of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Funck of Greenwood Street Saturday at the Elmwood Methodist Church in Flint.

Federal Waste Blasted

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE M-456: Bert L., aged 45, is a professor.

* * *

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I spent a few weeks in an Eskimo village last year, doing scientific research.

"My assistant and I were the only white men there, for all the others were Eskimos.

"We had a DR. CRANE very interesting time and enjoyed the natives. But before we left, a helicopter flew into the village with one of our government agents.

* * *

"He sat down and had interviews with all the heads of families, asking them 'How did you make out with your fishing this season?'

"Most of the natives had been very successful for the salmon run had been extra good.

HADN'T TRIED

"But occasionally this government agent would encounter a finan who said he hadn't caught any fish.

"Then the agent would ask such an Eskimo how much he and his family needed per week to carry them through the winter and then he marked down that amount to be released to such families.

* * *

"That may not seem so unfair until you realize, Dr. Crane, that these Eskimos who had caught no fish, hadn't even tried to fish!

LAZY LOAFERS

"No, their fellow countrymen informed me, in some anger, that these lazy loafers hadn't even gone fishing or done any hard work.

"Instead, they had used their previous government dole from U. S. taxpayers to buy flour and sugar at the trading post.

* * *

"Then they used these to make sourdough whisky. They were simply tricking Uncle Sam (and us taxpayers) out of a good weekly support check, while they meanwhile conducted a moonshine liquor business.

DECEIVED U. S.

"Thus, they deceived Uncle Sam and operated an illicit still, after which they also sold their bootleg whisky without even paying the federal tax.

"This trickery is very widespread, as the honest fishermen among the Eskimos informed me. And it naturally irks the hard workers to see their lazy neighbors gouging Uncle Sam and getting rich at the taxpayer's expense."

* * *

This professor was also incensed at this flagrant misuse of our taxes.

"Is it any wonder," he protested, "that taxes keep getting higher and higher and our federal budget goes farther into the red with each year?"

This lack of "horse sense" in Washington is not a reflection on any one political party, for both the Republicans and Democrats have been zooming our debt every year.

NEED HOUSECLEANING

So it is time we did a complete "housecleaning," after the fashion of good American housewives.

We voters send only 539 office holders to Washington. They are the 437 U. S. representatives, plus 100 senators, plus one president and one vice president.

* * *

Yet there are now almost 2,400,000 bureaucrats on our backs who freely dispense our taxes for boondoggling and often stupid purposes, like this subsidizing of Eskimo bootleggers.

So send for my frank booklet "How to Save Our Republic," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Gardeners to Meet

"Flower Arrangements for the Home," by John Moss, will comprise the program for Bloomfield Hills Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association's Monday meeting at the Lone Pine Road home of Mrs. Clement Richard.

* * *

Each member has been asked to bring her most beautiful rose in a foil wrapped juice can, for use in the horticultural program at Pontiac State Hospital.

* * *

The Bloomfield Hills branch of WNF&G has won the orchid award from the Michigan division of the association.

* * *

Abby Says: Have Fun

'Brush' Fires Will Burn Out but Your Love's Here to Stay

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband is letting his beard grow because our town is going to celebrate its centennial.

Just because this town is 100 years old doesn't mean HE has to look it. It's disgusting. It is like living with an Airedale. And it's not at all attractive. There are patches where no hair grows and parts of his beard are red!

ABBY

Do you think it is fair to the wives when these men grow beards to show civic spirit? I'm ready to lock him out.

SPEAKING FOR MANY

DEAR SPEAKING: He's getting a big kick out of it, so why not go along with the gag? Don't "lock him out." The hair on his chinny-chin-chin is only temporary. Your love is here to stay.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am only 14 but after reading the letter from HAD MY FILL, the woman who regretted having to take care of her 80-year-old father-in-law, I had to speak my piece.

I wish I were old enough to take him into my home and care for him myself. He doesn't have much longer to live so why not make his last years happy ones?

SOFT-HEARTED

DEAR SOFT: It's not possible for a 14-year-old to "adopt" an 80-year-old, but I congratulate you on your kindness of heart. Don't anyone tell ME our teen-agers are all a selfish, thoughtless lot.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am being married next month and want to ask your advice on a problem that has come up. I am marrying a farmer. We are both 23.

We had planned to live with his parents, who have a very nice, modern, 10-room home on their farm. It's about 12 miles from the city. His people are the nicest in the world and I don't see why we couldn't get along fine living with them, but all my friends tell me it would be a big mistake.

They say no two families can share one house and that I would hate it after awhile and be trapped. Should I listen to my friends? I am so upset I don't know which way to turn.

UPSET AND TROUBLED

DEAR UPSET: Your friends are mistaken. Many young couples live with their parents and get along fine. Don't let their sour outlooks curdle your plans. Move in. If it doesn't work out, you can move out.

* * *

How's the world treating you? For a personal, unpublished reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of The Pontiac Press.

Bonnie Louise Brookbank, daughter of the Glen E. Brookbanks of Rochester and David L. Mackley of Salmer Street, son of the Jacob Mackleys, Rochester, were wed Saturday in St. Paul Lutheran Church, Rochester.

MRS. DAVID L. MACKLEY

Bride Wears Heirloom

Vows Exchanged

Heirloom cultured pearls brought from England by her late maternal grandmother were worn by Bonnie Louise Brookbank, who exchanged wedding vows with David L. Mackley of Salmer Street Saturday in St. Paul Lutheran Church, Rochester.

Daughter of the Glen E. Brookbanks of Rochester, the bride chose white satin with Chantilly lace forming the bodice and bordering a long tulle overskirt. Her short veil of French silk illusion was secured by a pearl tiara. White roses, ivy and Stephanotis comprised her bouquet.

Former Rochester resident, Mrs. Neil Randall of Grandie City, Ill., was matron of honor. Rosemary Mitchell was bridesmaid and Janie Brookbank, her sister's junior attendant. They wore ice-blue silk organza over taffeta and carried blue and white carnations.

Ushers list for the bridegroom, son of the Jacob Mackleys, Rochester, included Arnold Sell and David Phelps of Rochester, Dudley Moore Jr. of Auburn Heights and Garry Crake, Ronald Bentley, Rochester, was best man.

Assisting at the church reception were the bride's aunts, Mrs. Howard Eakin of Milwaukee, Wis., and Mrs. John Mitchell, also her former college roommates Diane Brock of Royal Oak and Laura Converse of Kalamazoo, Mrs. Marilyn Mitchell and Mrs. Gordon Lampinen, Rochester, and Joan Fisher, Dearborn.

After a honeymoon at Gatlinburg, Tenn., the newlyweds will reside in Rochester. The bride holds a secretarial science certificate from Western Michigan University, and Mr. Mackley is a graduate of General Motors Institute.

Yellow tea roses complemented Mrs. Brookbank's pale gold silk linen sheath dress, and the mother of the bridegroom, wearing aquamarine linen, chose a corsage of white roses.

Shower Held for Bride-Elect

Gail Bartine Pearce was honored at a bridal shower in the Lake Orion home of Mrs. Walter Petty, with Mrs. Homer Hendrix, cohostess.

Attending her daughter's party was Mrs. Roy W. Pearce of Weronah Drive and Mrs. Arnold Leach, Lake Orion, mother of the future bridegroom, Lawrence T. Leach.

Other guests were Mrs. Robert Burnett, Mrs. Ora Baker, Mrs. Edward Graves and daughter Sandra, Mrs. Keith Baker and Mrs. Bert Hillock.

From Lake Orion were Mrs. Edward Leach, Mrs. Donald Roberts, Mrs. Perry Schmidt, Mrs. Joe Mendoza, Mrs. Richard Hunter, Mrs. Carl Lafayette, Mrs. Paul Keckonen, Mrs. Clarence Braidwood and Mrs. Finley Kennedy.

The list concludes with Mrs. Harold Roberts, Keego Harbor, Mrs. Fredrick Leach and Mrs. Thomas Leach, Farmington, and Mrs. William Scribner, Clarkston.

Ruth Ann Davis Being Honored at Showers

Ruth Ann Davis, bride-elect of David H. Nelson of Clarkston, was honored Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Claude Andreas in Auburn Heights. Mrs. Donald Shaw assisted her mother with shower arrangements.

Other shower hostesses were Mrs. LeRoy Davis, Clarkston, Mrs. Donald Cole of Kettering Avenue; and Mrs. Francis Reaume, Gale Road, Waterford Township.

Parents of the bride-elect are the Alburn Davises, Auburn Heights. Her fiance is the son of Mrs. Edith Cline, Gale Road, and Arnold P. Nelson of Clarkston. July 7 vows in the United Presbyterian Church, Auburn Heights, are planned.

Golden Agers Plan Business Session

Golden Age Club of Waterford will hold its regular business meeting Friday evening at the Waterford Community Center.

Cards and a social hour will follow the meeting.

The group also plans a picnic July 11 at the same site and featuring games and dancing.

MRS. PAUL E. HINE

Hine-Johnson Nuptials

Married by Uncle

Rev. Weldon E. Davis of Galesburg, Ill., officiated at the Saturday marriage of his niece, Linda Louise Johnson, to Paul E. Hine in the First Open Bible Church of Pontiac.

The pastor, Rev. Arthur Maglott, assisted.

Daughter of the Marvin L. Johnsons of Briggs Street, Drayton Plains, the bride chose white Chantilly lace and nylon over taffeta with a chapel train. Veil of silk illusion was fitted to a crown of lace and seed pearls. Atop her white Bible rested a white orchid, carnations and lilies of the valley.

Barbara Ann Johnson, maid of honor, wore white lace over pink taffeta and matching Dior bow headpieces. Jeanne Hine, bridesmaid, wore white lace over yellow taffeta. Accenting their bouquets of white carnations were rosebuds in their dress shades. They are sisters of the bridal couple.

David Hine of Davisburg was his brother's best man, assisted by Louis Cole of Pontiac. Serving as ushers were Rodney Johnson, Drayton Plains and Dennis Hine, Davisburg, brothers of the couple. The bridegroom's parents are the Charles R. Hines of Davisburg.

Returning from a Niagara Falls honeymoon, the couple will live in Drayton Plains.

* * *

For the reception in Pontiac Township Hall which followed the ceremony, Mrs. Johnson chose a champagne silk dress with lace jacket. The mother of the bridegroom wore a printed brown silk jersey. Their corsages were white carnations and yellow rosebuds.

Make Him Promise to Behave

By the Emily Post Institute

Q: My boy friend and I were invited to a party at a friend's house last Saturday night. I have been going out with this young man for several months and he has always been well mannered and a perfect gentleman.

However, the other night at the party he did a complete about-face. He apparently had too much to drink and became very obnoxious. I was mortified by his behavior and after awhile I asked one of the other young men at the party (whom I know very well) to please drive me home.

The next day my boy friend called and apologized for his behavior but reprimanded me for having walked out on him and said that I had embarrassed him in front of everyone. I would very much like to have your opinion as to whether I was right or wrong in walking out on him?

A: Most certainly you were right. In addition to his apology you should have his promise never to repeat his disgraceful behavior before going out with him again.

* *

Q: Is it necessary to explain the reason for having to refuse an invitation?

A: To a very intimate friend you would naturally say, "I'm sorry, but I am lunching with Jane" or, "we are going to the theater," or whatever the reason.

To someone you know only slightly, you say regretfully, "I'm so sorry, I have an engagement for that day."

* * *

Q: I am going to be married soon and have a problem in regard to seating at the wedding reception. I know that ordinarily the bridegroom's mother and father are seated at the same table, but my fiance's mother and father are divorced and I don't know whether it would be proper to seat them both at the family table. Neither of them has remarried. Will you please advise me?

A: Even if they have remained on friendly terms, it would be in bad taste to seat the bridegroom's divorced parents at the same table.

* *

Does the bride's mother wear a long or a short dress? For information on the clothes of the bride and groom's parents as well as those of the wedding guests, send for the new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Correct Clothes for a Wedding Reception." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Emily Post Institute, care of The Pontiac Press.

Educator Tells Convention Delegates

Teachers' Strike 'Unprofessional'

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Public school teachers were advised today "you can't go out on an illegal strike one day and expect to go back to your classroom and teach good citizenship the next."

Arthur F. Corey, executive secretary of the California Teachers Association said, "The strike as a weapon for teachers is inappropriate, unprofessional, illegal, outmoded and ineffective."

★ ★ ★

Corey's remarks at the 100th annual convention of the National Education Association continued an NEA barrage against teacher unions.

In an interview elaborating on a speech to be given later today, Corey said teachers cannot be expected to remain forever silent in the face of intolerable working conditions.

'APPLY SANCTIONS'

If professional negotiations with the school boards fail, he said teachers should work through their professional organizations to apply sanctions against the school district involved.

When sanctions are applied, Corey said, "We advise the public through newspapers, radio and television that, in the opinion of the California Teachers Association, conditions in the district are not conducive to professional work by teachers."

★ ★ ★

"We refuse the district the use of our teacher placement service, and we notify every teacher placement office in the United States of our stand.

"This brings the full force of public opinion to bear on the district. Public opinion carries a lot of weight where the schools are concerned."

WHEN OTHERS FAIL

Sanctions are never applied until all other means have failed, Corey said.

"But let me emphasize—this is not a strike," Corey said. "The teachers do not walk out on the youngsters. We leave open every avenue for correcting the bad conditions."

★ ★ ★

Corey acknowledged that sanctions involve pressure tactics, and in some quarters "they will be no more popular than the strike. But teachers must have some method of bringing their case before the public, and this is the best, the professional way."

"Teachers cannot hope to gain professional ends by using children as their pawns in the struggle," he said.

COULD DESTROY NEA

William G. Carr, executive secretary of the NEA, told a general convention session Monday night that for the first time in its history, "forces of significant scope and power are considering measures which could destroy the association."

Carr said organized labor is spending heavily to unionize public school teachers.

Teen-Ager's Fast Action Prevents Bus Mishap

LEXINGTON, Va. (AP)—Dorothy Southers, 15, and Ronald Humphreys, 14, were two of 60 school children aboard a bus when the driver suffered a fatal heart attack. Dorothy reached over the driver's body and steered while Ronald cut off the ignition and applied the brakes. They stopped it within 250 feet. R. M. Hook, the school principal, said they prevented it from overturning.

Outdoor telephone booths in the United States now number about 158,000, twice as many as in 1956.

Urban Renewal Chief Quits Jackson Post

JACKSON (UPI) — Edward Belyea, 38, director of urban renewal planning for Jackson, resigned yesterday to take a similar post at Binghamton, N.Y.

Belyea, who came here in 1955 as planning director and later became head of urban renewal, said his resignation would be effective July 27.

He said he was leaving his job here because Binghamton offered a "great challenge" and because the salary offered, $13,000 a year, was higher than the $10,337 he now makes.

★ ★ ★

Belyea said Binghamton has an 80 million urban renewal program, compared to $9 million for Jackson.

Andonian Finally 'Got Mad'

By BILL CORNWELL

"I got mad at myself on the 15th hole," Mike Andonian commented Sunday afternoon after winning the 51st Michigan Amateur golf tourney at Jackson's Arbor Hills Country Club.

The 15th was Mike's worst in his championship match with Melvin (Bud) Stevens of Detroit and it was the primary force in motivating his rally on the 18th which led to his 1-up triumph on the 19th hole.

The Pontiac Central math teacher did very little right at No. 15 as Stevens won his 4th straight hole to erase Mike's three-hole margin and go 1 up.

* * *

His tee shot strayed behind a tree to the right of the green. He hit the tree with his 2nd shot and needed three to get home. Then he made his poorest putt of the entire day and took a bogey five.

"Right then and there I vowed to get hold of myself and not make another bad putt the rest of the day," Andonian said.

He didn't, either.

He putted well on the 16th and 17th to earn halves, dropping a tricky three-footer on the latter green to stay alive. Then came the dramatic 18th where Andonian sank his tying birdie putt, followed by his winning par-four putt on the first extra hole.

VEHICLES BOTHER

Andonian seemed to play more consistently on the front nine than he did on the back side throughout the tournament.

Asked to explain this, Andonian replied:

"As you know, the highway runs near the greens and tees on a few of the holes on the back nine. Cars and trucks constantly passing bothered me a lot. I allowed myself to listen to them too much."

Stevens, the long-hitting belter from Western C.C. who won the 1959 State Amateur crown at Port Huron's Black River course, outdrove Andonian on virtually every hole, but Mike was one stroke better at the finish.

It was no easy road to the throne room for Andonian. In Saturday's quarter-final round, he eliminated 23-year-old Mike Hill in the Jackson youth's back yard.

* * *

Hill, brother of touring pro Dave Hill, was qualifying medalist.

Sunday Andonian had to travel 39 holes to annex the title. Mike needed 20 holes to defeat Farmington's Bill Curtis in the semifinals before tackling Stevens.

He was three - over - par against Curtis and even par against Stevens. Par at Arbor Hills is 36-36—72.

Andonian becomes the 6th public links golfer to win the Michigan Amateur.

He was preceded by Pontiac's Lloyd Syron (1957), Fred Turner of Flint (1952), Ed Ervasti of Dearborn (1947), Sam Kocsis of Bloomfield Hills (1941), and Detroit's Ziggy Zawadski (1940).

* * *

Andonian's title is well-deserved. While he was working long and hard to beat Curtis, Stevens was resting in the clubhouse after an easy 5-3 rout of Ypsilanti's Bob Reynolds, a private club foe from Washtenaw.

FAMILY AFFAIR

The Andonian clan was well represented at Jackson during the final two rounds and followed Mike around the Arbor Hills layout from start to finish.

Mike's wife Alice, who is expecting her 4th child in early October, was there from the beginning of qualifying last Wednesday and faithfully walked the entire 39 holes Sunday, along with Michael, their 8-year-old son.

Joining her Sunday were Mike's two brothers, Valrich of Pontiac and Joe, a Kalamazoo attorney; Ange, Valrich's wife; Laura, Joe's daughter; and Alice's sister Beverly.

Mike's two daughters, Sandra, 14, and Diana, 11, did not attend. Also among the missing were two other brothers of the new champion, Jake of Troy and Ed, who's in the navy.

Couple of Surprises on NL All-Star Team

CINCINNATI (AP) — Manager Fred Hutchinson of the Cincinnati Reds named 17 players today to complete the roster of the National League All-Stars for the first of two All-Star games against the American League and he had a few surprises.

* * *

He named a seven-man pitching staff that included only one left hander. That was Sandy Koufax, of Los Angeles, who had an 11-4 record through Sunday and pitched a no-hitter Saturday night.

He went right along with the selection of players and named all of the second choices in player balloting which had determined the eight starters, excluding pitchers.

In doing that and the selection of two utility outfielders, he bypassed his own Frank Robinson, the National League's most valuable player of 1961 and one of the hottest hitters in the loop in the last month or so.

* * *

After naming the second-choice outfielders — Stan Musial of St. Louis, Hank Aaron of Milwaukee and Felipe Alou of San Francisco —Hutchinson picked veteran Richie Ashburn of the New York Mets and Johnny Callison of Philadelphia.

AT WASHINGTON

In addition to Koufax, Hutchinson named these pitchers to the squad for the first game, to be played at Washington on July 10 (records through Sunday in parenthesis):

Don Drysdale of Los Angeles (14-4); Dick Farrell of Houston (5-8); Bob Gibson of St. Louis (9-6); Juan Marichal of San Francisco (11-5); Bob Purkey of Cincinnati (13-1) and Bob Shaw of Milwaukee (9-4).

The second of the All-Star games will be played in Chicago July 30 and Hutchinson can name three additional players for that tilt. Hutchinson, as manager of the 1961 National League champions, will manage the National Leaguers.

This is the last season with two all-star games. The major leagues plan to go back to one All-Star contest each year in 1963.

* * *

The starting players, except for the pitcher, all of whom must play at least three innings except for injury or illness, were selected by players.

They will be Del Crandall of Milwaukee, catcher; Orlando Cepeda of San Francisco, first base; Bill Mazeroski of Pittsburgh, second base; Dick Groat of Pittsburgh, shortstop; Ken Boyer of St. Louis, third base; Tommy Davis of Los Angeles, left field; Willie Mays of San Francisco, center field, and Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh, right field.

Hutchinson named John Roseboro of Los Angeles to back up Crandall. For the rest of his infield reserves he named Ernie Banks of Chicago, first base; Frank Bolling of Milwaukee, second base; Maury Wills of Los Angeles, shortstop, and Jim Davenport of San Francisco, third base.

* * *

The National League lineup will offer another oddity. Casey Stengel, who piloted so many American League All-Star teams when he was manager of the New York Yankees, will be on hand as one of Hutchinson's two National League coaches. Stengel now manages the New York Mets. The other coach will be manager Johnny Keane of the St. Louis Cardinals.

* * *

The selection of Musial was the 19th time he has been picked on an all-star squad. He holds the All-Star records for number of games played — 22; at bats — 60; hits — 19; home runs — 6 and total bases — 39.

Pros Start Prelims for Buick Tourney

It's time for the preliminaries at Warwick Hills Country Club as the professional golf cavalcade begins a two-week tour of Michigan.

The rich Buick Open golf tournament opens a four-day stand at the sprawling Warwick Hills course Thursday to inaugurate the state's annual welcome mat for the country's leading pros.

Qualifying is on the docket today at Warwick, followed by a pro-amateur event on the Fourth of July.

* * *

Then competition for the $9,000 first prize starts in earnest on Thursday as all but seven of the nation's finest players bid for the title won last year by Jack Burke Jr.

After the Buick issue has been settled, the PGA delegation will go to Knollwood Country Club to compete in the Motor City Classic, which also will be preceded by an 18-hole qualifying round and a pro-am event.

Nine berths in the 5th annual Buick event are at stake today in 18 holes of qualifying over the monstrous 7,280-yard course which has a par of 36-36—72.

Entered in the trials were 11 non PGA pros, bidding for three spots, and 13 amateurs who were vying for six places. Starting time was 9 a.m.

* * *

A total of $3,750 was at stake in the pro-am tourney tomorrow, $2,500 for the pros and $1,250 in merchandise awards for the amateurs.

The total purse in the 5th annual Buick outing is $52,000 plus fringe benefits to the champion.

There will be 160 golfers on the firing line Thursday morning, 150 professionals and 10 amateurs.

* * *

All of them are slated to compete in the British Open July 9-13 at Troon, Scotland. Palmer is defending champion.

Attention is focused upon Billy Casper, winner of the inaugural Buick affair in 1958, and 1960 champ Mike Souchak, who has been having a miserable year on the PGA circuit.

Although he's been playing badly, Souchak always has performed well at Warwick and some think he's just about due to end his victory famine.

Hard-luck Art Wall defeated Dow Finsterwald to win the 1959 crown and Burke downed Casper and Johnny Pott a year ago to claim his first title in more than two years.

Souchak ran away from the field to win the last Motor City Open at Meadowbrook in 1959. The 1962 Motor City event at Knollwood C. C. is scheduled July 12-15.

Al Luplow, former Michigan State athlete now an outfielder with the Cleveland Indians, suffered only a knee bruise when he crashed into the fence Sunday while chasing a long fly.

Gordon Potter, trainer for Crimson Satan, was suspended indefinitely Monday by Delaware Park stewarts who have been investigating administration of a medication to the 2-year-old Detroit owned horse.

"I want a referee who can count further than eight," Sonny Liston said yesterday when he signed for his Sept. 25 title fight with heavyweight champ Floyd Patterson, "and not stop somewhere along the way."

Bob Farrington of Richwood, Ohio, the 1961 national driving champion, brought in three winners at Northville Downs last night: Emil Jay in the second race, Leonid in the fourth and Indian Grattan in the eighth.

Pistons Must Wait Before Using Reggie

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Pistons have won their fight to retain 7-foot Reggie Harding but they won't be able to use him in National Basketball Association games until 1963-1964.

The Pistons named Harding as their fourth draft choice last March. Several other NBA clubs disputed the choice, saying he wasn't eligible to be drafted at that time.

NBA rules state a player who does not plan to attend college is not eligible for the draft until one year after his high school class graduates.

Harding's class at Detroit Eastern high school was graduated in January 1962, two months before he was drafted.

Fred Zollner, Piston owner, said yesterday the NBA board of governors had ruled Detroit's intent in drafting Harding was good and allowed him to remain Piston's property.

But under league rules, Zollner said, the Pistons cannot play him in league games until the season after next.

Harding will work in the Pistons' front office and play in exhibition games until he is eligible for league competition.

Southpaw Can't Go Route

Podres Is Nine-Inning Mystery

By The Associated Press

What's with Johnny Podres, the shrewd southpaw who can tie a modern major league record by striking out eight consecutive batters and can hurl perfect ball for 6 2-3 innings, but is unable to pitch a full nine inning?

* * *

That was the puzzling problem confronting the Los Angeles Dodgers today after they regained first place in the National League Monday night by whipping Philadelphia 5-1 and 4-0 behind the sparkling pitching efforts turned in by Podres and Stan Williams.

Podres, whose medical history starts with a mysterious back ailment and runs through appendicitis, rib injury, pulled tendon and auto accident, tied the strikeout record set by Milwaukee's Max Surkont in 1953, and had a perfect game until two were out in the seventh.

SENT TO SHOWER

An inning later he was standing under a shower.

The 29-year-old left-hander's inability to go the distance now extends through 12 straight games and has become a matter of chief concern. Off his 18-5 record last year, this figured to be his biggest season, but last night's triumph was only his fourth in 10 decisions.

Williams, on the other hand, did an about face and came through with a seven-hitter and his first complete game since April 30.

* * *

The twin triumphs, coupled with San Francisco's 8-5 loss to the New York Mets, put the Dodgers back on top again by a full game over the Giants.

Elsewhere, Pittsburgh used a two-run single by Bob Skinner that touched off a heated dispute to beat Houston 4-2, Eddie Mathews hit a grand slam homer that led Milwaukee to a 7-3 triumph over St. Louis and Chicago and Cincinnati split. The Cubs won 6-5 but the Reds came back 4-3.

* * *

Podres started his strikeout string in the fourth, getting Ted Savage, Roy Sievers, Don Demeter, Tony Gonzalez, Bob Oldis, Bob Wine, pitcher Jack Hamilton and Mel Roach before John Callison grounded out. Savage then followed with a single to center, the first Phils' hit. Four more hits and a run in the eighth chased Podres and brought on Larry Sherry to finish up. Willie Davis' grand slam homer off Hamilton (5-6) in the third made it easy for the Dodgers.

FIRST HOMER

Williams (7-4) hit his first homer in the third to get the Dodgers started against rookie Billy Smith (1-2) in the night cap.

Willie Mays' 22nd homer put the Giants into a temporary 5-4 lead in the seventh inning, but the Mets came back with four unearned runs in the eighth to put it away. A bases-loaded walk to Felix Mantilla tied it before Gene Woodling cleared the bases with a double and gave the Mets their first victory over the team that last represented New York in the NL. The victory went to Ken MacKenzie (3-3), with Stu Miller (4-4) taking the loss.

* * *

Shut out on three hits for six innings by Colts' starter Hal Woodeshick (2-6), the Pirates broke it open with three runs in the seventh. Don Hoak's double drove in one run and Skinner's single knocked in the others. Skinner was ruled out after his hit because of interference by Pittsburgh coach Ron Northey, but the hit and runs were allowed to stand. That made Bob Friend (8-8) a winner.

* * *

Mathews' grand slam in the fifth inning off Ray Sadecki (5-5) paved the way for Lew Burdette (7-4) to record his seventh consecutive triumph with two-hit relief by Clayde Raymond over the final 2 2-3 innings. Raymond got the call when Charley James hit a three-run homer in the seventh after Burdette had blanked the Cards on four hits—retiring 14 in a row at one stretch.

Bald Mountain Ties for First in MPGA Loop

Bald Mountain's sharp-shooting squad and Idyl Wyld tied Rochester's idle No. 1 team for first place in the Red Division of the Michigan Publinx Golf League with impressive weekend victories.

A 69 by Tom Balliet, Ed Wasik's 70 and 72s by Stan Savage and Ed Flowers highlighted Bald Mountain's 28-0 rout of Lilac Brothers. Idyl Wyld upset defending champion Sunnybrook, 12½-9½.

Rochester No. 2 stayed unbeaten in the White Division with a 12-10 win over Sylvan Glen. Romeo No. 2 was trounced by Rammler, 17½-4½; Romeo No. 1 took an 18½-3½ drubbing from Morey's No. 1; and Glenhurst walloped Clarkston, 21-1, to complete the slate.

Glen Harding and Jim McLaughlin each shot 73 and Charlie Barker had 76 to pace Morey's win. Harry MacDonald posted 73 in Clarkston's loss.

GETTING READY — Tiger outfielder Al Kaline, out of action with a fractured collarbone since May 26, began working out again today.

Al Puts Harness Aside, Scheffing Is Overjoyed

DETROIT (AP) — "I'm ready to start running," Al Kaline said last night — and Bob Scheffing couldn't have asked for better news.

* * *

All during Kaline's recuperation Scheffing has been saying if the Tigers can stay close while he's sidelined, they can win the pennant.

Kaline, the harness removed from his right shoulder planned to put on his uniform today for the first time since he broke his collarbone May 26.

Scheffing is overjoyed. The Tigers were three games off the pace the day his star was hurt—and with their current surge, they haven't lost any ground during Kaline's absence.

"I don't even want to hazard a guess as to when we'll get him back in the lineup," said Scheffing. "It'll be some time yet. That original estimate of two months looks pretty close, so maybe around July 26."

CHARLIE BLANKED

Charlie Maxwell came back to Tiger Stadium last night looking strange in the foreign uniform of the Chicago White Sox. The traded favorite of the Detroit fans drew a tremendous ovation when his name was announced before the game. Maxwell went hitless in four at bats, striking out twice in first game against the Tigers in nine seasons.

Hank Aguirre has arrived — as a hitter. The Tiger pitcher with the .042 batting average has received his own bat with his name on it — just like Norm Cash, Rocky Colavito and his other teammates.

"But the bat company sent me only one," said Aguirre, who drew a standing ovation when he snapped a two-year slump last month. "They must have figured I'd never break my bat."

Mike Joyce, the strapping Royal Oak youth the White Sox signed off the Michigan campus for $35,000 last year, made his big league debut last night. Fresh in from Savannah, Joyce pitched hitless ball for one inning against the Tigers. He walked one and didn't allow a ball to leave the infield.

Jones Fans 10 as Bengals Nip White Sox, 2-1

Cash Gets 21st Homer; Foytack Slated to Face Chicago Today

DETROIT (AP) — It's a strange formula the Tigers have found to push back into the thick of the pennat race — powderpuff hitting backed by powerful pitching.

* * *

It was supposed to have been the other way around.

"This is a funny game — we've been playing badly and moving up," said manager Bob Scheffing while rain delayed the start of last night's game with the Chicago White Sox. "The whole key has been while we haven't been hitting much, our hitting has been timely and our pitching has been strong enough to get us by."

When the rain let up enough, Scheffing's pre - game words seemed to have occult powers. The Tigers got only six hits, but three of them figured in a 2-1 victory. And the pitching again was brilliant as Sam Jones held the White Sox to six hits and struck out 10.

The victory was Detroit's third in a row and sixth in eight games. The Tigers stayed three games behind the first-place Yankees—and Scheffing is openly thinking about overtaking the league leaders.

NEED STREAK

"Now if we can put together a little longer winning streak — say six straight, we can go into the All Star break next week in better shape that we did last year," said Scheffing.

* * *

The Tigers had a slim grasp on first place at the time of the first 1961 classic.

"We've got too many good hitters to keep hitting the way we have," Scheffing continued. "Here we are ninth in hitting and 10th in fielding. We may stay 10th in fielding, but we don't figure to finish ninth in hitting. After all, our hitting was was the best in the league last year and what we needed was better pitching from our second line."

This year the second line pitcher has joined Paul Foytack and Hank Aguirre in giving Scheffing's mound corps a needed boost.

The 36-year-old National League castoff turned in his second impressive performance as he picked up his first victory as a Tiger. He didn't yield a run until one out in the ninth when Al Smith homered.

* * *

The Tigers gave him a 2-0 lead and, according to the new formula, it was just enough. Jake Wood's single in the third scored Chico Fernandez, who had doubled. Norm Cash's 21st homer in the sixth turned out to be the deciding run.

Jones' big pitch was a sharp-breaking curve. It enabled him to best Frank Baumann in a pitcher's battle.

Foytack was slated to pitch today against Dom Zanni in the finale of the two-game Chicago series.

Busy Season for 'Cats

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — The most basketball games Kentucky ever played in a single season was 39 in 1947-48.

Only 92 Pitches Thrown

Donovan Has to Face Only 27 in Two-Hitter

CLEVELAND (AP)—Dick Donovan turned in a pitching feat Monday night for Cleveland that is rarer than a no-hitter. Over nine innings he faced only 27 Baltimore batters.

"There have been three no-hitters pitched this season," said Donovan's boss, Gabe Paul, general manager of the Indians. "This is the first time a pitcher has faced only 27 men."

A search of the record books showed Harvey Haddix was the last major league hurler to match the accomplishment. He pitched 12 perfect innings for Pittsburgh against Milwaukee on May 26, 1959, but lost the game in the 13th.

ORIOLE VILLAIN

Donovan stopped Baltimore on a two-hitter for a 2-0 victory. The only blemishes were singles by Whitey Herzog in the fourth and seventh. Herzog was erased in the fourth when Brooks Robinson hit into a double play. A pitchout nailed Herzog in an attempted steal in the seventh.

"I've had three one-hitters in the majors, but I really haven't any great desire for a no-hit game," said Donovan after he posted his 12th triumph in 15 decisions.

"Yes, I was conscious of retiring the first 10 men, but that's happened before. A lot of pitchers have done it. The second time around sometimes can be a lot tougher."

Donovan threw 92 pitches and only 76 during the first eight frames.

CHANGE WORKING

"I had good control (he came close to walking only one batter) and my change of pace was working," Donovan recalled. "So was the fast ball and curve. You get a night when everything is clicking."

Manager Mel McGaha, whose Indians had lost five in a row and eight out of 10, smiled for the first time in a long while.

"We're over the worst of it," McGaha said. "I don't think there is any doubt about that. We only got two runs, but we hit the ball pretty hard. We looked a lot better all around."

McGaha showed no surprise over Donovan's sandy performance.

"He's been our stopper all year," the skipper said. "It figured he'd be the fellow to give us a lift when we needed it most."

The shutout was Donovan's third of the season as he lowered his earned run average to 2.71. His 2.40 ERA last season with Washington was the lowest in the league. Two of his losses were against shutouts by opposing pitchers.

ALMOST PERFECT—Dick Donovan (right) of the Cleveland Indians faced only 27 Baltimore players yesterday. He allowed only two hits — by Whitey Herzog. Outfielder Willie Tasby helps the ace hurler wring out his wet shirt after the 2-0 victory.

Donovan Brilliant for Tribe

Indians Stay Close in American League

By The Associated Press

Subtract Dick Donovan from Cleveland and the Indians very well could be floundering around in the middle of the second division.

As it is, the hopeful Indians are just a half game off the American League pace being set by the New York Yankees and Los Angeles Angels. And they may be back on the right track—principally because of Donovan.

* * *

The Indians, in the throes of a five-game losing string that had knocked them out of first place, called on Donovan to be the stopper Monday night.

FIRED 2-HITTER

The tall right-hander, acquired in the off-season in the trade that sent fiery Jim Piersall to Washington, responded with a brilliant two-hit, 2-0 triumph over Baltimore in which he faced the minimum 27 batters.

The victory pushed his record to 12-3, which, subtracted from the Indians 42-34 season mark, would put Cleveland below .500 and in seventh place.

New York and Los Angeles remained a half-game up on the Indians, the Yankees beating Kansas City 8-4 and the A's edging Washington 2-1. It left the Yankees with a .004 hold on first place. Minnesota lost to Boston 4-3 and went 1½ games off the pace, while Detroit edged Chicago 2-1.

Donovan struck out six and didn't walk any in his masterpiece against the Orioles. He allowed only Whitey Herzoh to reach base and twice, Herzog was cut down as Donovan faced only 27 men in his third shutout of the season. His 12th victory put him in a tie with Minnesota's Camilo Pascual as the American League's winningest pitcher.

DOUBLE KILLING

Herzog singled to deep short in the fourth, but Donovan got Brooks Robinson to hit into a double play. Herzog singled through the middle in the seventh, but was cut down trying to steal.

* * *

Willie Tasby's eighth inning home run broke up a scoreless duel with Baltimore's Steve Barber (6-6), who allowed only three hits in the 7 2-3 innings he worked.

* * *

New York blew a 4-0 lead, fashioned on home runs by Roger Maris, Hector Lopez and Mickey Mantle, then rallied for four runs in the eighth against Kansas City. A sacrifice fly by Bill Skowron and Phil Linz' single each accounted for one run and Tom Tresh drove in two more with a single in the Yanks' winning rally.

A lead-off homer by George Alusik triggered a four-run Kansas City seventh inning that tied it up and chased Yank starter Bill Stafford. Luis Arroyo got the victory in relief, his first against two losses this season.

BILKO'S HOMER

The Angels were out-hit 6-4, but half of them were homers, solo jobs by Steve Bilko in the fifth and Bob Rodgers' tie-breaker in the ninth. Tom Morgan (2-2), the third Los Angeles pitcher, got credit for the victory.

* * *

Two straight force outs at the plate helped Boston out of an eighth inning jam and dropped Minnesota a full game back of Cleveland. With the bases loaded and none out in the eight, the Red Sox' Mike Fornieles got Bob Allison to bounce back to the mound and Earl Battey to ground to third. Bernie Allen then flied to center to end the threat. Ed Bressoud drove in three runs, including two on a single in the sixth that put Boston ahead to stay.

Leading Huron 9 Batters CIO

The rains came down but that didn't crimp the heavy schedule in the city baseball leagues yesterday.

In class A action, league leading Huron-Airways battered two CIO pitchers for 15 hits and 13 runs to score a 13-6 victory on a rain-soaked field.

Jim Wagner's four hits, and Jim Ray's 3-hit pitching paced the Huron victory after CIO scored three runs in the opening frame.

Two runs behind, Huron pushed eight runs acros in the second inning and three more in the third inning to push the contest out of reach.

Ray gave up three hits, struck out 11 but walked seven, including the first three batters of the game. A couple wild pitches and an error gave CIO three runs without a hit.

In the big second frame, Huron knocked starter Les Stone out of the box with five hits, four walks, three wild pitches for eight tallies.

Al Barkeley blasted his third homer of the year in the third inning, 340 foot sock over left-center, to score two runners ahead of him. Bob Rabaja, John Fleser, Barkeley and Ray all contributed two hits to the victory.

In junior play, the Junior Optimists of Pontiac Boys Club behind the hitting of Mike Dunlop and pitching of Al Arellando defeated St. Mikes, 9-3. St. Mike held a 3-0 lead after four innings and Mike Backes was riding a one-hitter after five frames. In the 6th, Boys Club got two runs on three hits and they tied it in the 7th on a hit and two errors. In the 8th, the winners collected six runs on five hits and two errors. Arellando scattered five hits for Boys Club and struck out seven.

CLASS D ACTION

In class D play, Cranbrook scored an 8-3 victory over Pontiac Northern, while in class E, Auburn Heights Boys Club won over Moose, 6-3 and 300 Bowl lost to Perry Drugs, 5-3. Arnold Drugs and Pontiac Optimist were rained Out.

John Billeadon set a current season class D mark by striking out 13 batters for Cranbrook which scored six runs in the first two innings off Larry Howard.

Each team managed only five hits and no player got more than one hit.

Mike Burklow got three hits and drove in three runs in the Auburn Boys Club victory over Moose. It was a tight game until the seventh, when Auburn erupted for four runs, aided by three walks and a key hit by Burklow. Moose got two in bottom half, but winning pitcher Roger Hayward ended the game by getting his 10th strike out.

Perry Drugs started with four runs in the first inning, taking advantage of two walks and a key hit by Reed. Winning pitcher Reed struck out the first four batters he faced and he had nine for the game. He also had a triple and two rbi's.

Pfleuger, who relieved Osler in the first inning, struck out 8 batters.

Mixed Two-Ball Event Saturday

Entries are now being accepted for the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department's annual Mixed Two-Ball Foursome golf tourney, which will be played over an 18-hole route this Saturday at Municipal golf course.

Pairings and tee-off times will be posted only for those teams registering before 6 p.m. Thursday. The tournament will start at 12 o'clock noon.

There are currently 17 teams entered, including Mrs. Ross (Zadah) DeBolt and Stan Savage. Mrs. DeBolt, five-time Women's City Medal Play champ, and Savage have won the Scotch Foursome event three times and finished second once.

Competition is conducted on an alternate-shot basis. Prizes will be awarded through the first three places. The entry fee is $6 per team and post entries will be taken.

Trap Shoot Scheduled

A trap shoot, open to the public, will be held Wednesday by the Auburn Heights Sportsmen's Club from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The range is located on the edge of Auburn Heights.

Mrs. Koss Collects 6th Metro Victory

Bonnie Brook's greens were lightning quick Monday, but that didn't stop Mrs. Joseph Koss from posting her 6th victory of the 1962 season in the weekly Women's Metropolitan Golf Association tournament.

Mrs. Koss putted 31 times and bagged nine pars and two birdies while shooting a five-over-par 33-35—68 to win the event by three strokes. Eighty-four players competed yesterday.

The next WMGA tourney is scheduled July 11 at Sylvan Glen.

U-M Tops, 6-1, in Hawaii Game; Kerr Gets Win

HONOLULU (AP) — John Kerr of Royal Oak fanned 10 and pitched a six-hitter last night as the University of Michigan baseball team registered its fifth straight victory here, defeating Pearl Harbor of the Hawaii Interservice League 6-1.

Kerr issued five base on balls walking in the lone Pearl Harbor run in the fifth.

NCAA champ Michigan stole nine bases. Dick Honig and Ed Hood led the batting attack going 3-4 and 2-4 respectively.

Michigan took a 2-0 lead in the first on a single by Honig, Harvey Chapman's double and an error.

Rally Helps 300 Lounge; First Presbyterian Wins

A three-run rally in the top of the seventh and final inning carried 300 Lounge to a 7-6 National League softball victory over Auburn Bar last night at Northside Park.

* * *

First Presbyterian downed Bud & Lou's Bar 4-1 in the other National encounter called at the end of six innings because of rain.

Ted Wharry's homer with one on proved to be the winning run for Lounge. His blast came after a walk and Bob Crandell's single, coupled with an outfield error, had scored two runs to put Lounge in front 7-5.

Auburn rallied for a run in its half of the seventh on a walk, Frank Spokawski's single and an error before Wharry, the winning pitcher, retired the side.

Crandell and Bob Weiss each had two hits for the winners while Bud Mayo and Spokawski collected two each for Auburn.

Presbyterian's Dwight Butler threw a four-hitter at B&L. The losers finally scored in the last inning on a triple by Mike Fields and a ground out.

Tiger Attendance Leads AL Decrease

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite the closeness of the American league pennant race, junior circuit attendance is down 5.6 per cent from last season.

Through Sunday's game, the AL attendance for 1962 was 4,480,483 compared to 4,748,251 in as many 1961 home dates.

Seven of the 10 American League teams show decreased. The Detroit Tigers have the largest deficit, 150,215. Then come the Kansas City Athletics (106,795), Boston (80,011), Baltimore (69,210), Chicago White Sox (58,380), Minnesota (44,167) and New York Yankees (6,778).

The Los Angeles Angels, Washington and Cleveland are the only clubs with increases. The Angels are up 119,958, the Indians 64,952 and the Senators 63,761.

Pontiac Tennis Club to Meet on Thursday

A meeting of the newly organized Pontiac Tennis Club will be held Thursday at Oakland Park at 8:00 p.m.

The club, organized last year with 12 members, has plans for scheduling matches with clubs of other cities. Clubs in Livonia, East Detroit and Port Huron have indicated interest in arranging.

Anyone interested in joining the PTC is invited to attend the Thursday meeting.

Canada Golfers Beaten

TORONTO (AP)—Bob Gardner, 41-year-old amateur from Essex Fells, N.J., sank a 20-foot putt for a birdie 3 on the first sudden death hole Monday to give the United States victory over Canada in the sixth annual pro-amateur golf tournament.

The two teams, composed of four professionals and four amateurs from each country, ended regular play tied 6-6 in points in the best ball competition.

Girls Only U.S. Wimbledon Hope

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Billie Jean Moffitt, the giant-killer of Wimbledon, faced a tough quarterfinals match against Britain's Ann Haydon today after two restful days free from tennis.

"I guess I needed the lay-off," said the girl from Long Beach, Calif., who sensationally knocked out the top seed, Australian star Margaret Smith.

"Last week was a pretty hectic time for me—just about the most exciting week in my life. I need relaxation more than practice at the moment."

3 U.S. HOPEFULS

With two other Americans, Billie Jean carries the sole remaining singles hopes of the United States. The men's field is reduced to four Australians.

* * *

Darlene Hard of Long Beach, Calif., faces Mrs. Vera Sukova of Czechoslovakia today, and Mrs. Karen Hantze Susman of Chula Vista, Calif., plays Renee Schuurman of South Africa.

* * *

In the fourth quarter-final, Maria Bueno of Brazil is matched against Lesley Turner of Australia. The Brazilian star, stricken with jaundice and out of tennis for most of last year, is bidding to regain the crown she won in 1959 and 1960.

Billie Jean defeated Miss Haydon in the United States' 6-1 Wightman Cup triumph over Britain in Chicago last month.

TOUGH OPPONENT

"But Ann is a fine player, and she will be a more difficult proposition at Wimbledon," Billie Jean said. "Naturally, all the fans will be wanting her to win.

"This time last week I started out in the tournament thinking that I couldn't have picked a tougher opponent than Margaret Smith.

"Now, somehow, I think this match may be even tougher. I guess I'll just go out there and start playing and hope for the best."

* * *

Miss Haydon, a hard-hitting and dedicated left-hander, defeated Mrs. Susman in this year's Wightman Cup match at Wimbledon.

In the men's singles Sunday, Rafael Osuna of Mexico, a student at the University of Southern California—and the last hope of the new world—bowed out to Neale Fraser of Australia.

* * *

Osuna went out fighting after staging a thrilling recovery before an enthralled sell-out crowd of 14,000 on Wimbledon's center court. He lost the first two sets, won the next two, but eventually lost 3-6, 1-6, 6-4, 6-4, 2-6.

* * *

Fraser, champion two years ago, was joined in the semifinals by his young brother, John, who is playing at Wimbledon for the first time. It's the first time since the 1890s that two brothers have reached the last four together.

The men's semifinals are scheduled for Tuesday. Neale Fraser will face Rod Laver, the defending champion. John Fraser is matched against Martin Mulligan.

Win Second Place Best Ball Playoff

Butler Cooper and Harold Daniels won the second place playoff of the Parks and Recreation Department's annual City Best Ball Golf tournament yesterday at Pontiac Municipal Golf Course.

Daniels and Cooper, in a 66 tie with Ray Fender and Norm Thompson after Sunday's match won the playoff by a four-stroke margin, 32 to 36.

Reds Work in Berlin Rain Extending Concrete 'Wall'

BERLIN (AP)—Working behind a screen of smoke and tear gas, the Communists began building a wall along West Berlin's border with East Germany Monday night. There was some suspicion they planned to surround West Berlin with concrete and steel barriers.

The Communists have virtually completed the barricade they began last August along the 26-mile border between East and West Berlin. Until Monday night, the 69-mile rough arc marking West Berlin's boundary with East Germany had been fenced off only with barbed wire.

FROM FALKENSEE

West Berlin police said the extension work began at Falkensee Chaussee, a broad street leading from the East German village of Falkensee into the northwest corner of the divided city. Trucks unloaded concrete slabs there and at Seegefelder Weg, a parallel street about 1,000 yards to the south.

★ ★ ★

East German police threw tear gas and smoke bombs at the West to screen the activity, but West Berlin police could see the workmen laboring under floodlights in a cold rain to replace the barbed wire with masonry.

★ ★ ★

The work ended after dark and did not immediately resume this morning.

★ ★ ★

The Reds also drove a series of concrete piles into the unused Teltow Canal where it crosses from East Germany into the southwest part of West Berlin.

★ ★ ★

The extent of the Communist plans to extend the wall could not be determined immediately. The work began only a day after East German Interior Minister Karl Maron called on his police to make the "protective wall even more impenetrable."

★ ★ ★

Since work began on the original wall last August, an estimated 4,000 to 5,000 East Germans have managed to elude Communist patrols and gunfire and escape to West Berlin.

W. Reich Expels Convicted Spy; Seen as 'Trade'

BONN, Germany (AP) — A Soviet engineer convicted in West Germany of espionage was released today and expelled after serving only six months of a four-year prison sentence.

Valentin Alexandrovich Pripoltsev, 43, was freed, apparently in exchange for Soviet agreement to release two West German students imprisoned in the Soviet Union as U.S. spies.

★ ★ ★

Foreign office sources said the Russians indicated they would release the students, Peter Sonnlag and Walter Naumann, "in the next weeks or months." They were sentenced earlier this year to three years in prison.

Judge, U. of M. Dean to Take Part in Seminar

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Judge James R. Breakey Jr., of the Washtenaw County Circuit Court, and Charles J. Joiner, associate dean of the University of Michigan Law School, will take part in a Pacific Northwest seminar for trial judges next week in Seattle.

★ ★ ★

Breakey, whose court is linked by closed-circuit television to the U. of M. law school, will speak on the use of television between the courtroom and the classroom. Joiner served as an adviser to Michigan's constitutional convention this year.

Waterford Area Girl Tries for State Title

Mary Robertoy, 18, of 2529 Hallman St., Waterford Township, will be in Muskegon today through Thursday competing in the annual Miss Michigan pageant.

Named Miss Waterford last March 18 at the Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsored Home and Sports Show, Miss Hallman automatically qualified for the Miss Michigan contest.

Accompanying her on the trip to Muskegon are John Radenbaugh, public relations chairman of the Waterford Township Jaycees, and Mrs. Radenbaugh.

Belgium Is Off Council as Trusteeship Link Ends

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Belgium retired from the U.N. Trusteeship Council yesterday, its trusteeship link with the United Nations ended by Sunday's Independence Day ceremonies for Ruanda and Burundi, the new African nations.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Marthe Tenzer, Belgian representative and the only woman on the council, in a farewell statement praised the work of the trusteeship council in aiding to bring such territories throughout the world to freedom. Council members, in turn, lauded her work on the council, now reduced to nine members, including the United States.

Opening lead—♠5

BY OSWALD JACOBY

Today's hand is similar to yesterday's. It is exactly the same contract, same dummy and same opening lead. The East and West cards have been changed a trifle and instead of holding ace-eight-four of spades, South has ace-ten-four.

With this combination of cards, South should play second hand low. Once he plays second hand low, he is assured of his contract because there is no way for the defense to keep him from taking two spade tricks. Thus, if West holds the jack and plays it, South wins with the ace. Later the king will pick up dummy's queen, but the ten spot will become the top spade.

If South plays the queen from dummy and holds the trick, he will also have two spade tricks, but the hand has been set up with East holding the king and West the jack. East will play the king on the queen and South will have a choice of losing plays.

If he ducks, East will return a spade. South's ten of spades will be trapped by West's jack and South will make only one spade trick.

If South takes the trick, he will have to go after clubs. East will get the lead with the ace and a spade lead will give West four tricks.

♥♣CARD Sense♠♦

Q—The bidding has been:

| South | West | North | East |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1♠ | Pass | 2♥ | Pass |
| 4♥ | Pass | 5♦ | Pass |

You, South, hold:
♠KJ1065 ♥AQ32 ♦54 ♣K6
What do you do?

A—Bid five hearts. Not only is your hand minimum in high card strength, but you are looking at two probable diamond losers.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding five clubs your partner bids four no-trump. You have shown one ace and he has bid five no-trump. What do you do now?

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR

For Wednesday

"The wise man controls his destiny." Astrology points the way.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Relax today. If you try hard to please others, you may be slapped with RESENTMENT. Pleasing yourself is best course. Be natural. Dislike COMMON SENSE RULES.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): On this day, for you as individual, independence comes when you face facts squarely. Until then you delay freedom. Analyze what MUST be accomplished. Think out your plans.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): One you trust sneaks out. But the responsibility, the "debts" fall on your shoulders. Learn to distinguish between "rags" and real thing. It's time to GROW UP.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21): Yes, romance is fine . . . so are picnics, relaxation, compliments. But one plane to you requires something more SOLID. Stop feeling sorry for yourself, and GIVE!

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): You can no longer permit problems to "hang." Face situation as it exists. Sing no more satisfying lullabies. Let harsh tones ring out. Then "mute" them through direct action.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Trying to "sneak" through clouds gives you only partial view. Strive for direct, clear truth. Let chips fall where they may. Thus, you gain respect from others, and from YOURSELF.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): A feeling of restriction should not be regarded as symbol of discouragement. Rather, it's a tip to watch budget, entertainment, to tie up loose ends professionally . . . and emotionally.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Day could prove hectic, festering possible arguments with "favorite" person. But later there are apologies, expressions of gratitude. Be patient and understanding!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Favorable lunar aspect today continues to indicate you have tremendous capacity to PERCEIVE future possibilities. Trust your own judgment. So-called experts may be wrong.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): What you say may have much to do with what others think. Realize this before making careless statements. Remember others have pride.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Independence is spotlighted. But just how you go about obtaining freedom of action is very important. Don't be foolish. Control yourself, let OTHERS make first move.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Strive to show others you love ones that you desire to return favors, past considerations. Do so by demonstration of generosity, and by some sign of self-sacrifice.

★ ★ ★

IF WEDNESDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are combination of emotional and practical. By October of this year OPPORTUNITY is highlighted. This month attend to details. New, major move is upcoming.

★ ★ ★

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Nothing halfway today. Persons born in AUGUST and FEBRUARY age to luck, honor and money, have basic emotional buried into spotlight of public attention.

Ex-Cell-O Reports Sales, Earnings Up in 6 Months

DETROIT (AP) — Ex-Cell-O Corp., Detroit toolmaker, reported yesterday a sharp gain in sales and earnings in the six months ended May 31.

Profits totaled $5,632,884, equal to $1.78 a share, compared with $4,495,719, or $1.21 a share, a year earlier. Sales rose to $81,078,975 from $69,966,683.

Named New Director

FINDLAY, Ohio (UPI) — M. M. Fisher, president of Aurora Gasoline Co., Detroit, yesterday was named to the board of directors of the Ohio Oil Co. He succeeds P. L. Henderson, who retired.

Leaders Gone for Holiday

4th Takes Punch Out of Mart

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market rally began trailing off early this afternoon with trading slack in advance of the Independence Day holiday.

Gains of fractions to about a point among key stocks outnumbered losers but not by much. No particular leadership to the upside appeared in the list.

Ordinary preholiday caution was heightened by the fact that the market has just finished a string of three straight sessions in which a majority of stocks gained ground. Yesterday was also the fourth straight session in which the popular averages gained ground but in the mixed June 27 session these indicators rose despite a plurality of losers in the over-all list.

International Business Machines after rising a point or so, then showing a net loss of about 2, traded about unchanged.

Others in the "growth" category showed minor gains and losses.

American Telephone, which sparked yesterday's rally on news of record earnings, pushed ahead fractionally at the start, then held about steady.

North American Aviation, spurred yesterday by a $289 million order for rocket engines, nudged ahead slightly in an irregularly higher aerospace group.

* * *

The tobaccos continued to make somewhat limited progress. Liggett & Myers showed a 1-point gain. Others added fractions.

Motors were scrambled, with General Motors a fractional gainer, Ford and Chrysler losing a trifle, American Motors and Studebaker holding firm.

* * *

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange in moderate trading. Gains of around 2 points were made by Carnation, National Rubber Machinery, and Gulton Industries. Standard Brands Paint added about a point. Losses of a point or so were taken by Syntex and Electronic Communications. Among fractional losers were Arkansas Louisiana Gas, Kratter "A" and Hecla.

Bonds Mixed to Lower

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. Treasury and corporate bonds were mixed to slightly lower at the opening today.

An over-the-counter dealer in governments said some distant and intermediate maturities were 1/32 to 2/32s lower at the start. Treasury bills were described as a little easier.

Trading in governments was fairly quiet.

In corporate trading on the New York Stock Exchange, some interest in railroad bonds pushed them into the plus column.

* * *

Utility bonds and industrials were down slightly.

* * *

The only loss of a point or more at the start was suffered by Texas Corp. 3s of 1965, which fell 1 at 98.

ICC Will Probe Piggy-Back Use

Shippers and Carriers Are Asked to Submit Their Views

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission has decided to take a thorough look at the growing use of "piggy-back" freight transportation.

This involves the movement of loaded highway trailers aboard railroad cars and certain water carriers.

* * *

In ordering a hearing yesterday, the commission invited carriers, shippers and other interested parties to submit their views by Sept. 5 and set a pre-hearing conference before two commissioners for Oct. 9.

The investigation will include a study of "the desirability, feasibility and lawfulness" of five major types of procedure which have led to an increasing number of disputes involving labor unions, carriers, and shippers over jurisdiction and charges.

In one plan, the shipper pays the trucking firm and the trucker pays the railroad for the "piggy-back" ride.

In some instances the railroad owns its own tractor-trailers and performs the entire door-to-door service for the shipper.

The shipper owns his own trucks in other cases and pays for the rail transportation.

* * *

Under another procedure, the shipper owns or leases both truck and flatcar and pays the railroad for a towing service.

A fifth major plan involves a joint rate proposition to the shipper, with the trucking firm and railroad dividing the freight charges.

Grain Futures Mart Firms Up; Gains Tiny

CHICAGO (AP) — After an irregular opening the grain futures market turned generally toward firmness during the first several minutes of activity today on the board of trade.

* * *

Gains were small, however, and appeared to be largely on short covering with some scattered commercial demands and investment buying. Brokers noted that a processing firm again had accepted delivery of a large quantity of corn on tenders.

* * *

A good deal of trade talk included opinion that the immediate outlook for wheat appeared to be weighted towards firmness in view of the light volume of hedging from the new crop.

Summer Doldrums

Business, Workers Relax

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — The summer doldrums this year may be a bit more relaxed than usual. Part of this is due to the fatigue showing up in many industrial lines after months of expansion. Part is due to new labor patterns calling for longer vacations.

Together these add up to more plant shutdowns and longer ones in many communities.

* * *

And on the management side there is a tendency to wait and see what Congress will do about a number of issues hanging fire that could affect future business planning.

* * *

Some management planning may take shape after the Treasury announces at the end of the week its new rules for tax allowances for wear and tear.

Business will welcome whatever relaxation is granted. But many feel that the Treasury hasn't the power to go as far in setting new rules for depreciation allowances as industry feels it needs. This would require congressional action.

TAX CUT ISSUE

Also hanging fire is the tax cut issue. And business is inclined to wait and see in this instance, too.

Involved is timing—tax cuts now or in the next session of Congress. Also at stake is the kind of tax cut. Business naturally prefers a cut in corporate income tax rates, and a sharp reduction in the upper brackets of individual incomes, where business thinks it gets its funds for rick investments.

* * *

Labor naturally is advocating cuts in the lower personal brackets. It holds that this will increase consumer purchasing power at a time when it is needed.

* * *

While these issues are hanging fire, business planning may mark time. But just as much a deterrent is the current uncertainty as to whether a slackening recovery is foretelling a coming recession—and whether the jitters in the stock market mean a readjustment of prices to earnings potentials or reflect a blow to public confidence in the health of the economy.

* * *

All of these things add to the usual slowdown in business at this time of year. But the slowdown probably would have been more noticeable this year in any event.

* * *

Industry vacations have been increasing for several years. This time they have the impetus of a number of new labor contracts that stress such fringe benefits. Last summer's one week shutdown may become two weeks this year, or longer.

But if more plants are idle for more days, there are other lines of business to reap a benefit from it.

* * *

More leisure time can mean more spending for recreation—boating, fishing, travel.

The industrial production index may drop this summer. But a number of service industries should report nice gains. Personal income totals are high. Americans have a huge total of savings on which to draw.

If business relaxes a bit more than usual this summer, maybe a lot of Americans will be relaxing, too.

Survey Shows Consumer to Keep Spending High

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The American buyer — "soberly optimistic" — regards this as a good time to buy and will continue his springtime high level of spending.

The University of Michigan Survey Research Center so reported today — though declaring also that any impetus for faster economic growth for the nation is not likely to come soon from the consumer.

"It is evident," the report said, "that the consumer is not in an exuberant frame of mind. There are no indications that people are disposed to upgrade their standard of living more rapidly in the period ahead than they did during the past few years."

"Thus," said the researchers, "the impetus to faster economic growth, sought by government and business, is not likely to come from the consumer sector in the near future unless new stimuli alter the prospects seen by consumers."

OUTLOOK BETTER

At the same time the report said the outlook for sales of major consumer goods is better than a year ago.

The outlook is particularly favorable for the automobile market, the report said.

Analyzing its nationwide cross-section survey of 1,300 adults, the report said:

"Favorable changes in personal finances seem to be reinforced by price stability, or more precisely, by absence of the feeling that rising prices are reducing real income.

"Fewer people indicate that they have worries of an economic kind. The proportion of people who expect to be better off in another year has not been higher at any time in the past 10 years."

Consumer attitude shows a satisfaction with prices of durable goods and prices of housing, the report said.

The survey was conducted between April 23 and May 29, including the period when the stock market had begun its decline. Early losses on the market did not cause serious consumer concern, the report said.

It added, however, that if the downward trend persisted it might have a stronger impact on consumer confidence.

Weary Convict Leaves Tower

Last Pittsburgh Holdout Taken to Hospital but Seems Okay

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The water tower rebellion that began more than a week ago at Western Correctional Institution ended in the rain early today when the last holdout convict descended from his perch on an 80-foot high catwalk.

Life-termer Charles Cannen Miller, 32, climbed wearily down from the water tank at 5:55 a.m. EDT. He was the last of 13 original convict rebels who protested alleged cruel and "inhuman" treatment inside the nearly century old prison in the city's Woods Run section.

A prison spokesman said Miller, who is serving life for murder, called it quits shortly after daybreak of a bleak, rain day.

It was noteworthy that the rebellion ended in the rain because thirst had been one of the main tormentors of the demonstrating convicts. Last Wednesday, authorities cut off the water supply of those on the tower catwalk by draining the water tank.

The spokesman said Miller was "a little thirsty, that's all" but did appear to be suffering from hunger, fatigue and exposure as well.

Miller was taken to the prison hospital for a physical checkup.

In holding out until today, Miller had appeared intent on proving he was a "better man" than his 12 fellow demonstrators, principally convict Robert Payne, 29, who instigated the tower-climbing on his own a week ago yesterday.

Payne and inmate James Reed, 24, gave up the demonstration yesterday.

News in Brief

State Fair Commissioner Eldon C. Rosegart, 2983 Shawnee Lane, Drayton Plains, has been elected chairman of the space allocations committee and named to the entertainment committee. This year's fair will open Aug. 24.

A box of fishing tackle valued at $250 was taken from the home of Victor Collom, 5471 Crescent Blvd., Waterford Township yesterday.

Award Contract to Milford Unit

Civil Defense Bureau Places $115,000 Order for Home Alarms

A Milford electronics firm has been awarded a $115,000 contract by the U.S. Office of Civil Defense to produce an emergency alarm system for the home that would be used in the event of an enemy attack.

Robert Voigt, president of American Standard Electronics, 122 W. Liberty St., said his firm will make 20,000 of the small units known as the National Emergency Alarm Repeater (NEAR).

He said the receiver, which can be plugged into any wall outlet, emits a buzzer-like sound when activated by a central Civil Defense office.

Built into it is a delaying system that will prevent false alarms, particularly from a lightning bolt hitting a power line.

The device was first tested, according to Voigt, in Charlotte in October, 1959.

* * *

Voigt said his firm is preparing for production now but it probably will be three or four months before operations can begin.

Initially, the alarm produced by American Standard will be used for further testing and evaluation by the government, added Voigt, and eventually it probably will be sold on the market for under $10.

More Steel Mills Are Closing for Fourth of July

NEW YORK (AP) — More than the usual number of steel companies are shutting down whole plants this year for several-day periods around Independence Day, the Iron Age said today.

The metalworking weekly said the closedowns are in line with a trend away from maintaining partial operations.

The magazine said two factors reinforcing the trend are the present order slump and provisions of the new wage contract effective last Sunday.

Under the latest contract with the United Steel Workers Union, steel companies must pay any man who reports for work wages equal to minumum pay for 32 hours.

Convertibles, Bucket Seats the Vogue

Auto Makers Zoom Into Luxury Field

DETROIT (UPI) — The word is luxury.

Americans want it in their cars. Manufacturers are only too willing to give them more.

When new cars for 1963 are introduced this fall, you'll see more convertibles and more cars with bucket seats. You'll also see the newest thing in luxury automobiles — the Buick Riviera.

The Riviera is General Motors' answer to the Ford Thunderbird. Ford calls the T-Bird a personal prestige car and sold more than 87,000 of them last year.

GM wants a slice of that market. The Riviera should provide it. The car looks long, low and powerful. It has four seats, is luxurious inside and comes equipped with a big engine.

* * *

The two-door, four-seat car will be built on a 117-inch wheelbase and will be about 209 inches long—making it about four inches bigger than the T-Bird in both wheelbase and over-all length.

Stylewise, it has a Cadillac-inspired grille with twin headlights inserted in the grille. Parking lights and turn signals are located in the front fenders behind another small grille.

The rear end is clean and without chrome. On the side, two simulated air scoops are located in front of each rear fender well. The interior is plush and the automatic transmission is located on the console between the bucket seats, not on the steering column.

HOPPED-UP VERSION

The powerplant is a hopped-up version of Buick's big 401-cubic inch, 325-horsepower engine. The Riviera engine measures 425 inches and checks out with 340 horsepower.

One official who drove it said the car "rides beautifully" and should do about 110 miles an hour. That's as good or better than the T-Bird but it's still not in the same class with another 1963 luxury car — the Studebaker Avanti.

The new Avanti, introduced a couple of months ago, has been clocked at more than 170 miles an hour. The Avanti also is a two-door, four-seat car like the T-Bird and Riviera.

* * *

The T-Bird and Riviera are made of steel, but the Avanti follows the Chevrolet Corvette pattern and has a fiberglass body. The Corvette, though, is a sports car while the other three are luxury touring models.

Ford likely has been watching the Buick development work very closely. The Riviera represents the biggest threat in years to the T-Bird, already suffering a sales slump.

While most of the industry has enjoyed improved sales this year, the T-Bird is down 7,000 units. Through the early part of June, the firm sold 32,484 T-Birds this year, compared with 39,388 a year ago.

Some of the T-Bird decline has been caused by the increasing popularity of bucket seat models of standard passenger cars. Ford will try to reverse the slumping trend with a new grille and side panel sculpturing on the '63 Bird.

Then it will have to stand off the Riviera.

Please take notice that the Township Board of the Township of Bloomfield has tentatively declared its intention to make the following improvements:

Construction of sanitary sewer and appurtenances as follows:

A twelve (12) inch lateral sanitary sewer beginning at terminus manhole of the Evergreen Extension No. 1 at the intersection of Telegraph Road and Mystic Valley Drive and extending therefrom Southerly in the Westerly side of Telegraph Road approximately 671 feet; thence an 8 inch lateral sanitary sewer continuing in said Southerly direction in Telegraph Road under and across Long Lake Road to the Southwesterly corner of the intersection of Telegraph Road and Long Lake Road a distance of approximately 380 feet, thence Westerly in the Southerly side of Long Lake Road approximately 300 feet to a point approximately opposite the rear lot line of Lot 15, Devon Hills Estates Subdivision; thence Southerly in the rear lot lines of Lots 7 thru 15 inclusive of Devon Hills Estates Subdivision and extending therefrom in the rear lot line of Lot 6 of said subdivision, for a distance of approximately 480 feet.

An eight (8) inch lateral sanitary sewer commencing at a point in the rear lot line between Lots 11 and 12 of Devon Hills Estates Subdivision and extending therefrom along the rear lot lines of Lot 16 thru 21 inclusive, of said subdivision and into the rear lot line of Lot 22 of said Devon Hills Estates Subdivision for a distance of approximately 300 feet.

and has tentatively designated the special assessment district against which the cost of said improvements is to be assessed as consisting of all the lots and parcels of lands set forth above.

Plans and estimates have been prepared and are on file with the Township Clerk for public examination.

Take further notice that the Township Board will meet on July 16, 1962, at 8:00 o'clock p.m., at the Bloomfield Township Hall, 4200 Telegraph Road, in the Township of Bloomfield for the purpose of hearing any objections to the petition, to the improvements and to the special assessment district therefor.

Card of Thanks 1

WE WANT TO THANK ALL OUR friends and neighbors for all their kind words and sympathy in the loss of our son, Specialist Fourth Class, David E. Taylor. For the beautiful flowers, the Rev. Gilpatric, also Winis Funeral Home, Mr. and Mrs. Paddy B. Donofrio and James E. Taylor.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF EDmund J. Vanderworp who passed away July 3, 1961.
God took him home, it was his will
But in my heart I love him still,
His memory is as dear today
As in the hour he passed away
What would I give to clasp his hand
His happy face to see
To hear his voice and see his smile
That meant so much to me.
Sadly missed by wife and family.

'NATO's Cyprus Site for Training, Not War'

KHANIA, Crete (UPI) — Greek Premier Constantine Caramanlis said yesterday that a NATO (North Atlantic Treaty Organization) missile center now being built on this Mediterranean island near here will be used "strictly for training and not for war purposes."

* * *

Although officials have made no secret of work on the center, Caramanlis' comment was his first public mention of the installation. Its construction has aroused controversy in Greece. Caramanlis talked about the center while answering newsmen's questions as he wound up a three-day tour of Crete.

FIRE CAUSES HOLE — A fire which has been burning in a railroad tunnel which runs under San Francisco's Protrero Hill district since Saturday caused Missouri Street to cave in yesterday and threaten these new homes with destruction. The tunnel runs under them. Occupants have been evacuated along with those of at least 25 other homes built on top of the tunnel.

First Gal in Sub Tank Would Live Underwater

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — How'd you like to have a cute little apartment underwater?

Your address might be "36 Hudson Riverbed." You'd skindive down to your little flat on the riverbottom after the work.

WILSON

"When scientists get around to thinking about man's capability of living under water, I'd like to be the first girl to try it for a month," says Judy Joye, the shapely New York skin-diver and frog woman.

Judy insists its's not ridiculous—she's just become the first female the U. S. Naval Submarine School at New London, Conn., permitted to train to make a "buoyant accent" from a sub's escape tank.

"Some of the Naval men get embarrassed," says Judy. "They'd never handled a girl before . . . underwater."

* * *

It took Judy weeks to persuade the Pentagon that a girl mixing with the men underwater was O.K. . . . providing she could pass the Navy physical.

"I passed—I guess they left out some things," Judy says.

First day she went into the recompression chamber at a simulated 112 feet depth—"due to the pressure, I couldn't whistle."

"At 300 feet you can make an airball and bit somebody in the face with an airball."

Then into the locker and out into the tank to start her ascent from 50 feet—and bang—the safety men grabbed her—twice. (By her feet, see?) She was blowing out less air than she should. They unceremoniously tossed her back into the locker for a fresh start.

* * *

"I wear contact lenses and when I surfaced, my eyes looked fussy. They thought I might have had an embolism and were about to throw me back into the recompression chamber to spend a weekend—the usual treatment."

Judy's got her certificate now and the Navy's got some bobbypins at the bottom of the tank.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

David Merrick and Dawn Nickerson (his pretty blonde singing protegee whom he sponsors on "Talent Scouts" July 10) could be marrying in October, so they're saying . . . I asked Syros Skouras after re resigned how he felt about Liz and Dickie. "Don't ask me that," he said, "but they had nothing to do with my resigning. My doctor told me to take it easy."

Ava Gardner demanded—and got—the right to OK her stills in "55 Days at Peking" . . . Princess Grace hopes to have Abe Burrows' films, "Janus," shot in Monaco, to boost tourist biz.

Famed Hollywood composer Dimitri Tiomkin talks of writing a Broadway musical, his first . . . Arthur Murray celebrates his 50th year in the business next month. (He taught dancing to the Kennedys in Bermuda in '32).

EARL'S PEARLS: "If life had a second edition, how I would correct the proofs"—John Clare.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Henny Youngman told Jerry Lewis on "Tonight": "I make a good living now smuggling Bibles into public schools."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Regarding marriage, "let there be spaces in your togetherness"—Kahlil Gibram.

There's one thing you can get today for a penny—says Merv Griffin—your incorrect weight . . . That's earl, brother.

Will Introduce Food Ordinance

Waterford Twp. Board Slates Public Hearing on Motion Aug. 13

The Waterford Township Board last night voted to introduce a proposed township food ordinance at a public hearing August 13.

* * *

The action came following a report on how well the county has been helping in the enforcement of such ordinances now in effect in other Oakland County communities.

Adoption of a food ordinance had been urged by the Greater Waterford Community Council to better regulate the operation of food establishments in the area.

Some board members expressed doubt that the county would enforce the ordinance so a meeting with county health department officials was scheduled for last week.

UBGED STUDY

The GWCC had requested the township ordinance after a study of the existing ordinance which comes under the jurisdiction of the State Agricultural Department.

The organization found that investigations were presently not made unless by formal complaint. Now the county will make periodic checks on food establishments.

The county health department presently has jurisdiction over 70 per cent of the eating places in the county.

* * *

Board members also voted to have the police department make a survey of traffic and road conditions on Sender and VanZandt Streets and report their findings to the board.

Raul Castro Visiting Moscow as Guest

MOSCOW (UPI)—Cuban Armed Forces Minister Raul Castro, brother of Premier Fidel Castro, arrived in Moscow yesterday as the guest of the Soviet defense ministry, the official Soviet news agency Tass reported.

Tass said Castro was accompanied by "prominent military leaders" of Cuba.

It said the party was welcomed by Soviet Defense Minister Marshal Rodion Malinovsky and other "top-ranking Soviet military leaders."

Kept Off Ballot, to Appeal Ruling

Ex-Hamtramck Mayor to Ask High Court to OK Lt. Gov. Candidacy

LANSING (UPI)—Joseph A. Lewandowski of Hamtramck says he will go to the State Supreme Court to try and upset a ruling by the State Board of Canvassers keeping him off the ballot as a Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor.

The board held yesterday Lewandowski did not collect enough valid signatures on his nominating petitions.

Lewandowski, an attorney and former Hamtramck mayor and municipal judge, said he would ask the high court to issue a writ of mandamus to force the board to accept his petitions.

Unless the board decision is overruled, Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski will be the unopposed Democratic candidate for the office.

The board held Lewandowski did not meet the requirement of submission of 100 or more signatures from each of at least 20 counties. The board ruled he had sufficient valid signatures from only 18 counties.

"Less than 50 signatures would do it," mourned Lewandowski, who personally appeared before the board to argue his case.

As instances, he said, in Tuscola County only 14 more valid signatures are needed to be certified, in Lapeer County, 30 to 35 signatures and in Clinton County 32 signatures.

Churchill Fine, Says His Wife This Morning

LONDON (UPI) — Sir Winston Churchill, now recovered enough to sit up out of bed, was visited by his wife this morning in Middlesex Hospital.

"He is looking very well," Lady Churchill told reporters. "He is getting on very nicely."

She said there is not yet any indication when Sir Winston's fractured thigh will be sufficiently repaired to let him out of hospital.

Moonwatch Team Spots Reds' Cosmos

KANSAS CITY (UPI) — Members of the Kansas City Moonwatch team said they sighted the Russian Cosmos VI satellite Sunday night and again last night.

They used three five-inch refractor telescopes to get a good view of the satellite, which was launched Saturday. They said it could be seen with the naked eye.

Steve Harrell, 20, said the Sunday night sighting was reported to the North American Defense Command at Colorado Springs, Colo., and "they told us ours was the first optical fix they had received." Plotting the satellite's course, the Moonwatchers figured it passed over Spokane, Wash., Joplin, Mo., and Miami, Fla.

Once formed, the number of scales on a fish never varies. Instead the scales get bigger at the fish grows.

Roadrunners Lay an Egg as Bluejays Fly

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI) — The Ridgecrest Roadrunners, a team of 9-year-olds in a YMCA baseball league, didn't do much running yesterday in their game with the Sooner Bluejays. The Bluejays, on the other hand, ran and ran.

* * *

The game was called after 1½ innings because of darkness with the Bluejays leading 68-0.

Said a dazed Roadrunner: "I thought I was going to rot out there."

Mayor Cavanagh's Son Released From Hospital

DETROIT (UPI) — Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh's 2½-year-old son Christopher, who nearly was strangled Sunday when an automobile power window closed on his neck, was released yesterday from Mt. Carmel Mercy Hospital.

* * *

A neighbor, Ted Stacey, revived the boy after 10 minutes of mouth-to-mouth artificial respiration Sunday.

HE'S SEWED TOGETHER — Dr. J. Vernon Luck (right) tells newsmen in Los Angeles yesterday how the left arm of Robert Orona was saved after it had been severed in an accident on a construction job last August. Orona's arm was crushed and torn off by a road-tamping roller. The doctors sewed the main arteries together, made skin grafts from the man's thigh but delayed the splicing of the severed nerves until a future date. Today Orona has feeling in his arm and can use his fingers.

Supreme Court Hands Down Two Landmark Decisions

WASHINGTON (AP)— The Supreme Court hung up its judicial robes for three months last Monday and left behind searing controversy over two landmark decisions:

★ ★ ★

(1.) Teachers cannot lead their pupils in an "official prayer even if it is short and nondenominational and the pupils may keep silent if they desire.

(2.) Both federal and state courts may consider and rule on arguments that urban voters are discriminated against by legislative reapportionment which gives the rural voters' ballots more weight.

The term just ended was a rough one in point of thorny decisions to be made because the biggest volume of litigation in history was dumped on the justices' desks.

And the task was hampered by lack of a full court in the final months, with seven instead of nine justices handing down a host of rulings.

16 HELD OVER

Presumably because of a close vote on some argued cases, an unusual total, 16, were ordered reargued next fall when the court expects to be at full strength. The biggest of these is the 40-year-old dispute among California, Arizona and Nevada over distribution of the Colorado River water.

The retirement on April 1 of Justice Charles A. Whittaker because of ill health gave President Kennedy his first appointment to the high tribunal.

He picked All-America halfback and Rhodes scholar Byron R. White who just this month turned 45.

White was sworn in April 14 so he got to participate in only a few cases. He did write three majority opinions and one dissent, but they offered few clues to his judicial philosophy.

★ ★ ★

His dissent was notable in its chiding the other justices for, as he saw it, departing from the wise rule of not deciding constitutional questions where unnecessary.

Justice Felix Frankfurter suffered a temporary stoppage of blood flow to his brain and has not been on the bench since April 5. Court aides report he is improving and expects to be back in action in October.

The prayer ban by the court, 8 to 1—knocking down a prayer authorized by New York State for its schools — brought the term to a jolting end.

The public reaction was loud and furious from coast to coast, most of it criticism. In Congress, there was a move to amend the Constitution to overrule the court's decrees.

STATES DIXIE VIEW

The viewpoint of Southern members, who have previously berated the court for its numerous ruling on Negro rights, was summed up by Rep. George Andrews, D-Ala.:

"They put the Negroes in the school and now they've driven God out."

Criticism was aimed mostly at 76-year-old Justice Hugo Black, who in Monday's last session of court heard warm words of praise for his work in 25 terms as a jurist. He authored the majority opinion.

He said such prayer violated the Constitution's First Amendment cause which says "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion."

Court aides were overwhelmed by demands for copies of the opinion. Within a couple hours all available copies had been given out.

Letters and telegrams began arriving and reached a record volume within three days. An 18-inch stack of telegrams accumulated during one night was delivered at building-opening time.

The court regards letters and telegrams as private matters and their contents are not made public. Thus there was no opportunity to learn the proportion of favorable and unfavorable comment, or even if any of those who spoke publicly in favor of the decision went to the trouble to report their views to the court.

While Black wrote the majority opinion, the five justices who agreed with him shared responsibility for the decision. They are Chief Justice Earl Warren and Justices Tom C. Clark, John M. Harlan, William J. Brennan and William O. Douglas. Lone dissenter was Justice Potter Stewart.

One thing seemed certain in the midst of the message deluge. Few, if any, of the telegrams and letters will get answers.

Most of the justices planned quick starts on vacation trips for a change from the pressures of a difficult nine-month term.

Exactly 2,585 appeals went on the dockets, an increase of 272 over the 1960-61 term. The court acted finally on 2,157 cases in the last term, leaving 428 as a starter for the new term.

★ ★ ★

The total number of cases on the dockets in the last term was almost double what it was 20 years ago. The number of judges, of course, was the same.

Brazil Deputies Select Premier

Young Conservative Auro Andrade Elected, Ending Week of Crisis

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP) — The Chamber of Deputies today approved Senate President Auro Soares de Moura Andrade to be Brazil's premier, ending a week's government crisis.

★ ★ ★

Andrade, 46, a conservative and one of Brazil's youngest senators, was approved by a 222-51 vote after a six-hour session.

VOWS BATTLE

Andrade told the chamber he would make the battle against inflation the first order of business for his government. He also vowed to work for agrarian, banking and tax reforms but said Congress would have to pass the necessary laws.

★ ★ ★

He said he would retain the foreign policy of the last government headed by Premier Tancredo Neves and would maintain all of Brazil's international commitments.

CABINET RESIGNED

Neves' Cabinet resigned June 26 so some of its members could qualify as candidates in the October congressional election.

The Chamber of Deputies last Thursday rejected President Joao Goulart's first nominee, controversial Foreign Minister Francisco San Tiago Dantas, who was accused of following a soft policy toward the Castro regime in Cuba.

Soblen Will Stay in the Hospital for Several Days

LONDON (AP) — Dr. Robert Soblen probably will not be well enough to travel to the United States "for at least another two or three days," a hospital spokesman announced today.

★ ★ ★

The fugitive spy who tried to commit suicide to escape a life sentence in the United States spent a fairly comfortable night and the improvement in his condition was maintained, the spokesman said.

★ ★ ★

Soblen, convicted of spying for the Soviet Union, forfeited $100,000 bail and fled to Israel last week. He slashed his wrists and stabbed himself in the stomach Sunday as an airplane returning him from Tel Aviv was winging over the English Channel.

Search Called Off for Missing Fliers

MARQUETTE (AP) — The Air Force yesterday called off its sea and air search on Lake Superior for two fliers lost in the crash of their jet plane last Thursday.

The two, Lt. Col., Sam C. Wilkerson, 40, and Lt. John Felbinger, 28, both of Wurtsmith Air Force Base, crashed in their F101 Voodoo jet while on a defense test exercise of the North American Air Defense Command.

★ ★ ★

A search covered 600 square miles of Lake Superior. Parts of the plane had been found at an oil slick on the lake.

Named Aide to Head of Budget for U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Roger W. Jones, who recently resigned as deputy undersecretary of state for administration, has been named a special consultant to Budget Director David E. Bell, the White House announced yesterday.

Jones served for 20 years in the Budget Bureau before his appointment in 1959 as chairman of the Civil Service Commission. He became deputy undersecretary of state in 1961.

Jones, a Republican, will receive $75 a day when actually employed.

Seeking to Add Syrup to Senate's Sugar Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has passed a sugar extension bill and sent it to President Kennedy for signing. But the administration hurriedly sought to modify it to soothe several outraged Latin-American nations who feel they were being short-changed.

* * *

The Senate completed congressional action on the compromise measure Monday night, voting 54-12 approval after lengthy debate.

Immediately Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana moved to alter the protested provisions by offering an amendment to a minor bill already passed by the House.

The amendment would provide an additional allotment of premium-price sugar for Western Hemisphere nations.

COMPLAINTS ARISE

Several of them—notably Argentina and the Dominican Republic—have complained they were badly treated under the extension legislation. They feared the bill would sharply reduce the amount of sugar they could export to the United States at premium prices.

TO VOTE THURSDAY

Mansfield was not able to get an immediate vote on his proposal, however, because some senators wanted to make other changes. He finally decided to put the vote over to Thursday since many members were to be absent today.

The subject likely will be brought up when Secretary of State Dean Rusk appears before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in a closed session.

The amendment—offered to a bill restricting importation of honey bees—would set aside allotments for 75,000 extra tons for Western Hemisphere countries this year and 150,000 tons each in 1963 and 1964.

* * *

This sugar would be bought at the same premium price as the quotas allocated to 23 other countries in the extension law. The full premium is the same as the domestic support price which is $56 a ton above world prices.

The extension bill provided for 90 percent of the premium price to quota nations in 1962, 80 percent next year and 70 percent in 1964. The Mansfield amendment carries the same formula.

Several senators said they hoped Argentina would get out of this new allotment the 20,000 tons awarded her in the House version of the extension bill but cut out in the conference with the Senate.

* * *

The Dominican Republic was allocated 190,000 tons in the compromise bill, but complained that this was much less than she had been selling to the United States on a temporary basis.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., said the proposed additional allotments were intended to take care of Argentina, the Dominican Republic and possibly Peru.

However, Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., suggested that the extra 150,000 tons be obtained by proportionate cuts in the 1.2 million tons awarded the 23 quota countries in the extension measure.

Mansfield said he would oppose this, but agreed to postpone the vote to Thursday.

Rain in North, Dry in South; No Heat Wave

By The Associated Press

Light rain and showers dampened areas in the northern and east central part of the nation today but dry weather prevailed in most other sections.

A rain and fog belt extended from the northern plains southeastward into the Ohio Valley. Showers sprinkled areas in the warm air of the northern and central plains and in the middle Mississippi Valley.

* * *

Fairly heavy rain fell Monday in sections of the Midwest and Ohio Valley. More than three inches of rain drenched Chicago, causing flooding of basements and disrupting traffic.

* * *

Temperatures generally were near seasonal levels.

One of the cool spots near midnight was Burlington, Vt., with a reading of 42, the lowest July mark for the city. In contrast, it was 95 in Needles, Calif., and 97 in Yuma, Ariz., in the Southwest desert.

Southfield Eyes PO Substation

Clerk Told to Forward Petition to Washington for New Facility

SOUTHFIELD—City Council last night voted to ask the federal government for a new post office substation to serve Southfield's rapidly expanding business and residential population.

City Clerk Patrick G. Flannery was instructed to forward a petition to Postmaster General J. Edward Day, regional director Donald Swanson, Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., Sen. Patrick V. McNamara, D-Mich., and U.S. Congressman William S. Broomfield, R-Oakland County.

Councilmen are requesting a substation in the vicinity of Nine Mile and Southfield Roads to serve the southeast section of the city where increased business development is expected in the immediate future.

The petition will point out that present postal facilities, including the main post office on Telegraph Road and a substation at Northland Center, are taxed to capacity.

In other action, Council confirmed appointment of Herbert E. Fries, 21851 Carleton Road, to a three-year term on the city's planning commission to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Leo Walton, a charter member of the planning group.

Walton will continue to serve on the Civic Center Committee.

Fries is resigning as president of the Southfield Federation of Homeowners Associations to accept appointment to the planning commission.

STRIKE VICTIM — A patient is transferred to an emergency treatment center in Regina, Sask., yesterday after his hospital at Fillmore, Sask., was closed by the doctors' strike against compulsory medical care. ## June Rains Make Lush July Posies

June—the month of weddings—performed like a weepy bride herself.

Last month's total of 3.69 inches of rainfall was more than twice as much as the meager 1.82 inches in April and considerably more than May's 2.27 inches.

* * *

The U.S. Weather Bureau at Detroit Metropolitan Airport reported that the total rainfall recorded there was 2.83 inches above average for June.

It was a lush month for gardeners, though. Flowers and vegetables, warmed by the sunny months of April and May, sprouted earlier than usual, thanks to the extra rainfall.

June had her sunny side, too.

Sixteen of the month's 30 days were sunny. Three days were cloudy. Seven were rainy. The four others were divided, partly sunny and partly rainy or cloudy.

Although there was plenty of rain, June produced none of the violent thunderstorms such as those which erupted on the last days of April and May.

Highest temperature of the month was a 92-degree reading on June 17. The lowest was a 42 on June 3.

* * *

Average high temperature for the month was a moderate 79.1 degrees. Average low was 59.03.

The Weather Bureau reported that temperatures averaged only one-tenth of a degree within the normal figure for June.

Named to Head Air Committee

Charles B. Edwards Jr. Succeeds Rowston in County Post

Madison Heights Supervisor Charles B. Edwards Jr. was appointed chairman of the aviation committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday by Delos Hamlin, board chairman.

Edwards, 50, of 1834 Greig St., Madison Heights was first appointed to the committee in 1960, shortly after it was formed.

He had been a supervisor for four years.

He succeeds Pontiac's former mayor Philip E. Rowston to the committee's chairmanship.

Rowston's appointment to a third year on the board of supervisors was rescinded in May by the City Commission.

The aviation committee is scheduled to meet July 17 to discuss the future of the county's proposed major jet airport since plans have been rejected by the Federal Aviation Agency for lack of sufficient air space.

Edwards said today he was of the opinion that the county still will operate an airport on the Orion and Pontiac townships site even if not as a major terminal.

As for the possibility of the county joining the city in future development of Pontiac Municipal Airport, Edwards said "It is something to be surveyed and considered."

Suburbs Planning Taxes in Wake of Court Ruling

DETROIT (AP) — In the wake of a court decision upholding the legality of Detroit's one per cent income tax, Dearborn, Hamtramck and Warren yesterday indicated they would enact their own income taxes.

* * *

They were expected to wait, however, for a possible appeal of yesterday's Wayne County Circuit Court ruling by Judge Neal E. Fitzgerald.

* * *

The vigilance tax committee plans to meet in nearby Pleasant Ridge Saturday to decide whether to take its suit to the State Supreme Court.

Detroit attorney Thomas L. Poindexter, who with his wife also brought suit to nullify the Detroit tax, said Fitzgerald's ruling conflicted with another given in a Saginaw income tax case and said he planned an appeal.

Hamtramck and Warren both have tax ordinances drafted and Dearborn, said Mayor Orville L. Hubbard, has prepared forms for its own tax and "is ready to roll."

SEES DEARBORN EDGE

"If the Detroit tax is legal, Dearborn will be compelled to follow in the footsteps of the mother city to protect its citizens," Hubbard said.

He declared Dearborn would come out ahead because of the many Detroit residents who work in Ford Motor Co. plants there and would pay taxes to Dearborn.

One suburban mayor, Eugene J. Ellison of St. Clair Shores, said his city will not enact an income tax.

'JFK to Assist Dems in State'

Swainson Says Race to Get Boost With Visit in October

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — Gov. Swainson said yesterday President Kennedy will come to Michigan in October to help state Democrats campaign.

Swainson spoke to a news conference at the 54th annual Governors' Conference here, where almost all Democratic governors are seeking the President's campaign services.

"President Kennedy enjoys great popularity in Michigan," said the governor, being challenged for reelection this fall by Republican George Romney.

* * *

Swainson said he found in Michigan none of the business uncertainty that Republicans say has followed Kennedy's actions in the steel price cutback and the subsequent stock market decline.

He added he found no "defeatist attitude" on the part of any Democratic governor.

Referring to Defense Secretary Robert S. McNarmara's call for a cut both in total manpower and in the number of national guard units, Swainson said Michigan would be "more gently treated" than some other states in Guard reductions.

* * *

He added, however, he doesn't believe sufficient consideration has been given to the Guard's mission in its home state in McNamara's new plan.

Gen. Clay Visiting in W. Berlin Again

BERLIN (AP) — Gen. Lucius D. Clay arrived today with a message from President Kennedy assuring the city of his "continuing interest and high regard" for the people of Berlin.

Clay, formerly the President's special ambassador in this divided city is now a consultant to him on Berlin.

He was greeted by Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin and Maj. Gen. Albert Watson II, the U.S. commandant in the city.

Clay said he had come in fulfillment of his promise to return to Berlin from time to time and see how things were getting on.

Clay will attend an Independence Day parade staged by the U.S. Army garrison in Berlin tomorrow.

City Sets Action on Clinton River

Commissioners to Vote on Proposed Project at Meeting Tonight

Action on a new proposed Clinton River improvement project tops the agenda for tonight's City Commission meeting.

A decision also may be made on a request from National Business Brokers of Pontiac for rezoning 37 acres of residential and cemetery property at N. Perry and Arlene streets to commercial, clearing the way for development of a major shopping center on the site.

Action on the river project was deferred last week.

The original project approved by the previous commission at an estimated cost of about $4 million was withdrawn and rescinded by the new commission two months ago.

It is to be replaced by a plan of less scope and cost.

The rezoning proposal also came before the previous commission and was defeated by a 4-3 vote after planning commissioners and staff members recommended that the request be denied.

Developers of the proposed shopping center, to be called Perry Plaza, asked the new commission to reconsider the former request after the April municipal election.

Three of the four commissioners who voted against the original request are no longer on the Commission.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business, tonight's agenda calls for approval of the low bid of Community National Bank for the city's fourth urban renewal loan and action on bids for fleet and workmen's compensation insurance.

Commissioners also are slated to appoint three county supervisors and fill three vacancies on the Pontiac General Hospital board of trustees.

Alcatraz to Shut Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Bureau of Prisons will begin closing Alcatraz next year by transferring prisoners to other penal institutions, Bureau Director Jame sV. Bennett said today. The transfers will begin upon completion of the new federal prison at Marion, Ill., scheduled to open next year.

To Teach in S. Viet Nam

They are participating in a program conducted by International Voluntary Services and financed by the Agency for International Development.

New African Leader 'Best Royal Twister'

USUMBURA, Burundi (AP) — An African king who reckons he is one of the best royal twisters in the world is coming to the United States this summer to meet President Kennedy and see the Whit House.

Mwambutsa, the mwami, or king, of the new nation of Burundi, met foreign newsmen Monday and told them he will leave his pocket-size country next door to the Congo at the end of the month.

He will tour the United States, Britain, Belgium, Switzerland, the Netherlands and France.

Burundi is half of the former trust territory of Ruanda-Urundi. Belgium's troops are due to quit the country by the end of July.

* * *

Their departure could open the way to trouble from the mwami's political foes, but the ebullient, 56-year-old monarch said he didn't think there would be any trouble

Mwambutsa has held his throne for 43 years, since he was 13. Since the assassination of Crown Prince Louis Rwagasore last year, his heir has been 17-year-old Prince Charles, now studying in Switzerland.

The mwami is a regular visitor to night clubs and sometimes sits in on the drums. Hating formality, on his last visit to Belgium he was constantly trying to elude his bodyguards. Once he climbed out of his bedroom window, hailed a cab and danced in a night club until the early hours.

His proficiency at the twist comes naturally, he explained.

"As an African," he said, "of course I find it easier to do than whites. We have got the natural swing needed. Come down and watch me some night at one of the night clubs."

Mwambutsa is popular with his people and drives about Usumbura in a yellow American convertible, waving to everyone he sees. He has a chauffeur but prefers to drive himself.

* * *

Polishing off his whisky and soda, he jumped behind the wheel of his convertible and told the newsmen as he roared away: "I think I have a game of dice now."

The Day in Birmingham

School Board Re-Elects Officers for New Term

BIRMINGHAM — All officers of the Birmingham Board of Education were re-elected last night. A new vice president was named, however, to fill a vacancy.

* * *

Continuing as board president is Mrs. Kathryn Loomis, who was elected to her fifth consecutive term.

George W. Coombe was elected vice president, succeeding recently because he was moving out of the district.

Names to his second term as secretary was Richard B. Barnard. Bennett W. Root is treasurer.

In another action, the board awarded a $77,000 contract to the N. B. Hummon Co. of Farmington to develop the site of the proposed junior high school on 14 Mile Road and Bellevine Trail.

The firm's bid was the lowest of 10 submitted. Construction contracts for the school are still to be awarded.

---

Stephen M. Velkoff, a science teacher in the Bloomfield Hills High School, has been awarded a Fulbright Scholarship to teach in England this fall.

Velkoff, 2355 Cheltingham Ave., Sylvan Lake, will exchange positions with Maurice E. Cooper, an instructor at Rothwell Grammer School, Lofthouse, Wakefield, England.

Velkoff has been a teacher in the Bloomfield Hills School District for 12 years.

His award is one of 450 presented to teachers this year.

---

Birmingham Chapter 220, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold a bazaar planning meeting July 11 at the home of Mrs. Richard Walden, 6405 Telegraph Road.

A 6 p.m. pot luck dinner is scheduled.

Mrs. Charles G. Blashfield

Mrs. Charles (Maude G.) Blashfield, 76, of 1375 Webster St., died today following a heart attack at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac.

Surviving are a son, Charles of Birmingham; a sister, Mrs. Glen Church of Pontiac; and two brothers, Fred L. Shields of Pontiac and Frank H. Shields of New Briton, Conn.

Her body is at the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home, Pontiac.

Mrs. John L. Mettler

A private service for Mrs. John L. (Ada) Mettler, 89, of 1906 Maryland Blvd., will be held Thursday at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will be in Oakview Cemetery, Royal Oak.

Mrs. Mettler died today.

She was a member of the First Methodist Church of Royal Oak.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Arthur W. Gillespie of Birmingham; a sister, one grandchild and four great-grandchildren.

The family request that any memorial tributes be sent to the First Methodist Church of Birmingham.

Opening of Bids Set for Airport

Pontiac City Terminal Will Widen Its Runways With $384,000

Bids for the construction of an estimated $384,000 in improvements at Pontiac Municipal Airport will be opened in Lansing at 10 a.m. July 17, according to James D. Ramsey, director of the Michigan Department of Aeronautics.

Ramsey said today that work on the 1962 improvements should begin Aug. 6.

The department's schedule calls for all work to be completed by early November.

* * *

The state department will tabulate bids and forward recommendations to the City Commission, which must approve and award all contracts for airport construction.

The projects up for contract are as follows:

Widen the east-west runway to 150 feet. It is now 100 feet wide.

Widen the parallel and terminal apron taxiways to 75 feet. They are now 40 feet wide.

Construct a 200-by-400-ft. holding apron at the west end of the runway.

Install high intensity lighting on the east-west runway and modify taxiway lighting.

The improvements are being financed by federal, state and local funds. The Federal Aviation Agency allocated some $203,000 for improvements last January, and another $91,375 has been allocated by the state.

Ramsey said the present construction schedule calls for all taxiway work to be done first, followed by the runways.

"We don't want to interrupt service," he explained. "The taxiways will be used as runways when we start runway construction."

The taxiway work will also necessitate reconstruction of turnoff taxiways, and lighting will necessitate relocation of some fencing, officials said.

New Zealand to Take 30 More Hong Kong Tots

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP)—Prime Minister Keith J. Holyoake announced today that New Zealand will take 30 more Chinese orphans from Hong Kong. The little island country already had agreed to take 20.

Holyoake said New Zealand isn't big enough to resettle large groups of Chinese refugees, "but children are particularly worthy of any assistance that can be offered."

1,868 Plane Hoaxes Probed Since '56

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The FBI said today it has investigated 1,868 cases of bomb hoaxes aboard airliners since Congress passed the antihoax law in 1956.

Of the investigations, the FBI said in a report for the Air Transport Association, it identified 400 suspects and prosecuted 94 of them.

Of the 94 prosecuted, 47 were convicted of making phony bomb calls. Seventeen of those convicted went to prison, generally for between six months to a year.

The longest sentence imposed was two years. Seven one-year sentences have been handed down. The maximum prison penalty is five years.

He Wanted to Show Off but Fell Flat Doing It

NEW YORK (AP) — John Rigney, 25, explained to police that he ascended to the top of a 200-foot construction crane because he wanted to demonstrate that high places could be climbed without falling.

His explanation came after he plunged from the crane into the Harlem River Monday night and had to be rescued by two patrolmen. The Bronx steelworker was taken to the psychiatric ward of Bellevue Hospital.

National Guard Readies Biggest Summer Session

LANSING (AP) — The largest encampment of the Michigan National Guard's summer field training season will get under way at Camp Grayling Saturday when some 8,500 troops of the 46th Infantry Division and attached units will start a 15-day training period.

The training will be at the platoon-battery level and will be aimed at preparing the units for participation in combat operations in a minimum time after mobilization.

Units will conduct live fire exercises and will spend four consecutive days and nights in the field.

Traditional events scheduled will include the annual division review and military ball July 14, with Gov. Swainson the guest of honor, and the memorial service Sunday.

* * *

Maj. Gen. Cecil L. Simmons of Grand Rapids will have the entire 46th Division assembled at one point for the first time since he took command last March.

NATIONAL WEATHER — It will be generally warmer tonight in the eastern half of the nation and on the West Coast while temperatures in the rest of the country will remain unchanged. Isolated showers are forecast for the central and southern Plateau, the northern and central Plains, the western Gulf Coast, the Great Lakes area, the central Atlantic Coast and the Ohio and Tennessee valleys.

Mekong River Rising 7 Feet Above Normal

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Mekong River, which inundated much of South Viet Nam's delta region last fall, already is nearly seven feet higher than normal for this time of year.

Flooding in the delta last fall left hundreds of thousands homeless and wiped out South Viet Nam's rice surplus. Aid is still being distributed from the relief fund established then.

'Cuties' to Back Romney

DETROIT (AP) — George Romney is going in for glamour to help him in his campaign for governor of Michigan. A force of "Romney Girls" from all Michigan's 83 counties is to be organized, the Republican candidate's campaign headquarters announced today.

Report Involves Farm Committee Chairman

Documents Reveal Intensive Trujillo Sugar Lobby

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times reported today that secret documents of the Trujillo dictatorship tell a story of intensive Dominican lobbying in the U.S. Congress in an effort to increase Dominican sugar profits.

* * *

A Times Washington dispatch said information about the lobbying was contained in documents obtained by the newspaper in Santa Domingo from the secret archives of the late dictator, Generalissimo Rafael Leonidas Trujillo Molina.

The Times story gave this account:

In pursuing their lobbying efforts, the Trujillo representatives were seeking to frustrate the sugar policies of the Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations.

While sugar was the focus of the lobbying, United States foreign policy and domestic politics were involved.

Rep. Harold D. Cooley, D-N.C., was mentioned again and again in the reports of the Trujillo agents.

Cooley is chairman of the Agriculture Committee of the House of Representatives and the most influential man in Congress on sugar legislation.

DENIES IMPLICATION

Cooley was informed of the documents and apprised of their contents. He rejected any implication that his conduct had been improper in any way.

It was pointed out that the documents present only the Dominican side of the picture. There was no evidence to support any charge of specific wrongdoing.

While Cooley's name was mentioned most frequently in the Dominican documents, there were references to other members of the House Agriculture Committee, including Rep. W. R. Poage, D-Tex.

* * *

The names of several Agriculture Department officials dealing with sugar matters, including Lawrence Myers, Robert Case and a J. Murphy, also were mentioned. So were those of former Undersecretary of State Chester Bowles and Adolf A. Berle Jr., a special consultant to the secretary of state.

Myers heads the sugar office in the Agriculture Department. J. Murphy apparently is an erroneous reference to Tom Murphy, deputy to Myers, and Robert Case apparently is an erroneous reference to William Case, an official in the department's sugar division.

ASSURED BY SOLON

The reports cover conversations and meetings in recent years in which, the Times quoted the Dominican informants, Cooley assured them he would firmly support Dominican sugar interests, gave them advice on how to go about their lobbying and informed them of his efforts to favor Dominican sugar in the United States market.

* * *

Cooley said he had never given Dominican representatives any advice "other than when I said they should get rid of Trujillo" if they wished better treatment for their sugar in the United States.

He denied he had ever received fees or contributions of any kind. There had been some conversations at his office with Dominican diplomats, he said, but only because they had no Washington lawyers at the time.

"But I told them I could give them no special advice," he said. "I cannot be responsible for what they wrote about me."

De Gaulle Proclaims Algeria Free

GOP Governors Aim at Civil Rights Vote

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—Caucusing Republicans agreed today to try to force a showdown governors' conference vote on a strong civil rights resolution.

With the resolutions committee still trying to produce a compromise proposal in this and the field of health care for the elderly, Republican governors decided to carry their fight to the floor if that is necessary to get a "meaningful" civil rights declaration.

But the Republicans were split over the issue of financing health care through Social Security taxes. Democrats, who outnumbered them 34-16, seemed likely to produce a majority for endorsement of this program.

The conference, which closes with a visit to Philadelphia tomorrow where President Kennedy will speak, got a series of invitations for forthcoming sessions.

Gov. Farris Bryant of Florida put in a bid for Miami in 1965, promising the governors they would get a look at a Canaveral space shot. His invitation seemed likely to be accepted later in the year by the conference executive committee.

Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey asked the governors to meet in Atlantic City in 1964, promising they could also visit the New York World's Fair on the same trip.

'HOW ABOUT N.Y.?'

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said he thinks the meeting ought to be held in New York but will cooperate with New Jersey.

★ ★ ★

Not to be outdone, Rockefeller, also seeking re-election, said that if the governors come to New York in 1964, "I'll be there to greet you."

The conference heard another report from Gov. S. Ernest Vandiver of Georgia promising continued opposition to the Kennedy administration's plan to moderate and trim the size of the National Guard.

In a later session, Gov. Albert D. Rosellini of Washington was expected to be elected the new chairman, to succeed Gov. Wesley Powell of New Hampshire.

READY FOR VISIT

In Philadelphia, city officials today made final preparations for President Kennedy's visit here tomorrow to address the National Governors Conference.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy will make the trip from Washington by helicopter. He will land near Independence Hall. After his address at Independence Hall he will fly to Camp David, the presidential retreat in the Catoctin Mountains, where he will join Mrs. Kennedy and the couple's two children.

The governors are meeting in Hershey, Pa., but will visit Philadelphia on July 4 to hear the President. The governors will make the 100-mile trip in a 189-car motorcade.

School Official Resigns Position

Superintendent Quits in Waterford to Take Wayne County Post

William A. Shunck resigned last night as superintendent of Waterford Township schools to become superintendent of Wayne County schools.

★ ★ ★

His resignation announced at the organization meeting of the Waterford Township Board of Education, was accepted by the board effective August 18.

Shunck will assume his duties with the Wayne County system August 20.

Head of the Waterford Township school system for the past 17 years, Shunck said he had been considering a prospective offer from Wayne County for more than a month.

The offer came late yesterday afternoon.

Members of the local school board, aware that the superintendent had been considering a move, acted on the resignation request with little discussion and moved on to the next regular item on the agenda.

COMMENTS ON MOVE

Shunck's resignation was presented to the board following the election of officers for the coming year.

In commenting on his acceptance of the Wayne County offer, Shunck said, "I feel highly complimented to have been offered this position by the Wayne County Board of Education. It will be a real privilege and an opportunity to be of service to the schools of Wayne County."

The Waterford Township school board took initial steps to seek a replacement to the top administrative post.

Newly elected board president Robert Field named a committee of three for this task.

They are former board president, Eldon C. Rosegart, who will be chairman; Duane Lemaux, board treasurer; and Norman L. Cheal.

Shunck said he would cooperate fully with the committee but declined to have any involvement in the actual selection of his successor.

President of the Michigan Association of School Administrators and a member of the advisory council of the American Association of School Administrators, Shunck served as superintendent of Bloomfield Hills schools for nine years before coming to Waterford Township.

He served with the Navy from 1942 to 1945 and saw action in the Pacific.

Shunck will succeed Dr. Charles E. Brake in the Wayne County post.

Dr. Brake retired July 1. The duties of the superintendent are currently being handled by deputy superintendent Delmo Della-Dora.

Laotian Talks Will Continue on Quiet Level

Delegates Decide on Private Sessions After Red China-U. S. Row

GENEVA (AP)—The 14-nation Laotian conference decided to thresh out its few remaining differences in private after the United States and Red China clashed over U.S. troops in Thailand at Monday's opening session.

Delegates agreed unanimously to leave the remaining issues to the conference cochairmen, Britain's Malcolm MacDonald and the Soviet Union's Georgi Pushkin, to avert any more open squabbles that could jar the precarious Laos peace accords.

The Western powers are hopeful that if things go smoothly, the delegates can complete a treaty in two or three weeks to guarantee the neutrality and independence of the Southeast Asian kingdom.

Red China and North Viet Nam touched off Monday's exchange during a three-hour session of speeches welcoming the formation of a coalition Laotian government.

ATTACKS U.S. MOVE

Red Chinese delegate Chang Han Fu accused the United States of heightening tensions in Southeast Asia by sending troops to Thailand and by "armed intervention" in South Viet Nam and the Formosa Strait.

North Vietnamese delegates Hoang Nguyen charged that the success of the conference was "seriously threatened by the presence of U.S. troops in Thailand."

W. Averell Harriman, U.S. Assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs, protested that the Communists had broken conference rules by bringing up issues not involving Laos.

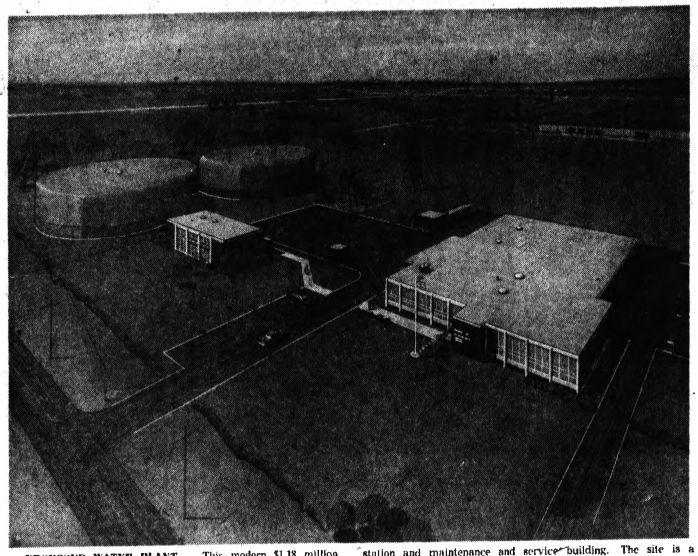

In Bangkok, Thailand, transport planes and helicopters flew U.S. Marines from Thailand today to land bases and sea units in the Pacific in a move cutting 1,000 men from the U.S. task force in the Southeast Asian kingdom.

Informants said some of the leathernecks were being flown directly to land bases in the Philippines, Okinawa and Guam. Others were being shuttled by helicopter to units of the U.S. 7th Fleet standing off Thailand.

The Marines, part of a 2,200-man force sent here six weeks ago to counter a Communist threat in neighboring Laos, began pulling out Monday because of "general lessening of tension" along the Laotian frontier.

Another 1,200 Marines and 3,000 Army troops are remaining in Thailand, but the U.S. Defense Department said more Marines might be pulled out soon.

As Doctors' 'Holiday' Ends

Awaiting Strike Impact

REGINA, Sask. (AP)—The full impact of a doctors' strike against a new compulsory medical care plan is expected to hit this province of 928,000 people today with the end of a three-day holiday weekend.

Saskatchewan residents waited to learn just what medical services were available. Many doctors struck Sunday to protest against the start of the plan. But customary closing of clinics and offices for the Dominion Day holiday weekend had made it difficult to determine how many of the province's 700 doctors walked out.

★ ★ ★

During the holiday period, hospitals reported no major problems in handling patients.

The striking doctors claim that the plan — first of its type in North America — gives the government control of the medical profession.

Volunteer doctors provided free emergency service at 34 designated hospitals, but by Monday night the number available slipped to 231 from the 240 who had volunteered earlier.

SEES DIFFICULTY

Dr. Sam Landa of Saskatoon, coordinator of the emergency service, predicted difficulty in providing the service for a long period.

The holiday ended amid new charges and retorts.

Dr. H. D. Dalgleish, president of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, rejected possibility of any further negotiations without repeal of the medical care insurance law.

He said the Socialist government must bear the "complete responsibility for introducing a plan which has driven a free profession into this stand and for the tragic consequences to the citizens of the province."

He demanded repeal of the law "while there are still enough doctors available to Saskatchewan and uncommitted to leave."

Premier Woodrow Lloyd, in a radio broadcast, described the doctors' stand as "further evidence of a callousest disregard for the welfare of the people and the right of the people to govern themselves."

Lloyd said the government is still willing to negotiate. He recommended that a third party be named as a conciliator.

While battle lines drew tighter, a 10-month-old baby whose death was linked to the dispute was buried in Kamsack, Sask.

Peter Derhousoff of Usherville, who drove 85 miles to Yorkton with his sick son, said he would like to ask the premier: "How would he like to be compensated for a thing like this."

Pontiac Motor Output Shows 63-Per-Cent Hike

Pontiac Motor Division today reported a booming 63-per-cent increase in cars produced in first six months of this year over the same period last year.

The hike makes the division a leader in an industry-wide push which placed overall U.S. car production one-third ahead of last year's six-month count.

Last year between Jan. 1 and June 30 Pontiac and Tempest production stood at 183,297. This year it stands at 298,291.

For Pontiacs, the figure is up to 210,297 from 120,133 last year. For Tempests, the total is 79,994 contrasted with 63,164 by June of last year.

In the entire industry, there were 3,820,996 automobiles built in the first six months. Last year at this time, the total was 2,726,994.

General Motors led the "Big Three" carmarkers with an increase of 45 per cent. Ford Motor Co. followed with 16 per cent and Chrysler with eight.

BIGGEST INCREASE

Studebaker, the smallest of the five domestic car manufacturers, showed the biggest percentage increase. Its output of 45,666 cars was 55 per cent ahead of the 29,527 built this time a year ago.

American Motors Corp. placed between GM and Ford in percentage gains, with 41 per cent.

Six-month production as reported by the companies stood as follows:

| | 1961 | 1962 |
|---|---|---|
| GM | 1,398,944 | 2,033,277 |
| Ford | 831,276 | 967,146 |
| Chrysler | 296,287 | 324,749 |
| AMC | 180,770 | 253,158 |
| Studebaker | 29,527 | 45,666 |

For June alone, the manufacturers barely passed the 1961 figures.

For the total industry, the June production figure stood at 564,007 cars against 559,559 in June, 1961.

Pontiac Boy, 9, Dies in Mishap

Youth Struck by Car Despite Shouts of Warning by Brother

Despite warning shouts by his brother and two playmates, a 9-year-old Pontiac boy was struck by a car and fatally injured yesterday on Auburn Avenue near Opdyke Road.

Frank Beam, who would have entered the third grade next September at Wilson Elementary School, died at 5:25 p. m. yesterday in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Beam, 214 Prospect St., died of head injuries about 4½ hours after the accident.

★ ★ ★

Just before the mishap, Frank, his 12-year-old brother David and their two friends, Elmer and Ronald Ivey of 278 Midway St., had been swimming in a pond on the south side of Auburn. The other boys saw the car approach.

"I yelled for Frank to come back," said David, "but I guess he didn't hear me."

★ ★ ★

The driver, Ernest P. McDaniel, 17, of 86 Cottage Ave., told police he didn't see the boy until he was in the path of his car.

★ ★ ★

McDaniel said he couldn't stop in time to avoid the boy. Police estimating that McDaniel was driving about 45 miles an hour, did not hold him.

Nation Jubilant After 132 Years Under France

But Country Faces New Threat of Civil War by Guerrilla Troops

ALGIERS (AP)—French President Charles de Gaulle today proclaimed Algeria independent after 132 years of French rule.

But even as the edict was issued, Africa's newest nation faced the threat of a new civil war from guerrilla troops seeking to put radical Vice Premier Ahmed Ben Bella into power.

As 4,500 mutinous nationalist guerrillas massed southwest of Algiers, the capital's jubilant Moslems readied a roaring welcome for Premier Youssef Ben Khedda and his nationalist government.

★ ★ ★

The moderate leaders were flying from their Tunisian exile to try to stifle the guerrilla revolt and assert their rule over Algeria.

In Washington, President Kennedy welcomed Algeria to the family of nations today in a statement calling the achievement of Algerian independence an "important step toward fuller realization of the dignity of man."

★ ★ ★

Algeria's independence became effective at 10:30 a.m.—4:30 a.m. EST—as the result of a statement issued by De Gaulle following a special meeting of the French Cabinet.

★ ★ ★

"By the self-determination vote of July 1, 1962," the statement said, "the Algerian people called for independence of Algeria, cooperating with France.

★ ★ ★

"In consequence, the relations between France and Algeria being henceforth founded on the conditions defined by the governmental declarations of March 19, 1962 (the Evian peace agreement), the president of the French republic declares that France solemnly recognizes the independence of Algeria."

OVER 100 YEARS

France's last colonial administrator of Algeria, High Commissioner Christian Fouchet, conveyed De Gaulle's declaration to President Abderrahmane Fares of the Algerian Provisional Executive and transferred to the provisional government the sovereignty France had held for more than a century over Algeria.

★ ★ ★

The green and white nationalist flag was hoisted over the administrative capital of Rocher Noir, outside Algiers, as several hundred Moslems cheered.

★ ★ ★

The Evian agreements call for the provisional executive to rule Algeria until a Constituent Assembly is elected later this month and a parliamentary government takes over. It was believed Ben Khedda's Cabinet from Tunis would be merged with the provisional executive, and Ben Khedda would become president of the new combined executive.

Wreckers Hard at Work on Pontiac Landmarks

Clouds of dust are floating over Pontiac as three major landmarks fall beneath the wreckers' ball and hammer.

First to go was the Chapman Hotel, with the razing as part of the urban renewal plan, aided by high winds of an early summer storm.

Wreckers were still hauling away the remains of the historic old place, formerly known as the Hodges House, when the protective fence went up around the old fire station on Pike Street.

Although some local wags maintained for years that a backfire from a fire engine or unscrewing of the reinforcing bolts would bring the structure down, it took a bit of pounding to dispatch this former city hall.

Now the courthouse is getting the treatment, and the bang of the wreckers' tools echoes the judges' gavels of the past. Who knows the future of the tired lady of justice perched atop the dome, whose scales have long since disappeared?

What was so carefully constructed years ago will be pried apart, smashed into workable pieces and hauled away. Except for the pigeons.

Besides these three buildings, many other structures give way to urban renewal.

★ ★ ★

The dust of these projects rises to add its part to a pall over the downtown area. But it is a pall of progress, and signifies not the death of downtown but the rebirth of a section which is belatedly growing with the times.

Downtown Pontiac has refused to roll over and play dead.

★ ★ ★

There are great days ahead for this section that some have written off as through, and tearing down these landmarks is part of the cure for some of the ills from which the area has been suffering.

Royalty Might Reverse Losing Trend in Spain

Monarchies which have long been losing numerical ground to dictatorships may soon reverse the trend and reclaim a crown lost to General FRANCO in Spain's bloody Civil War of 1931 that saw the downfall and exile of the Royal family of ALFONSE XIII.

For astute observers think it not unlikely that within six months the 69-year-old dictator will step down in an unprecedented peaceful and orderly transition from totalitarian government to the limited democracy of a monarchy.

★ ★ ★

Such an eventuality has been in the making since Spain was declared a monarchy in FRANCO's 1947 Law of Succession, though the decree has never been implemented and the strategy of the leader apparently has been to leave the succession question dangling.

Adverse forces, increasing in gravity, supporting the portent of governmental change are:

FRANCO's admittedly bad health,

Serious unrest among the hitherto docile lower class (the recent strike of 160,000 was the first such under the dictatorship and strong indication of weakening control),

The chronic economic plight of the country that only infusion of U.S. capital in establishing and maintaining military bases has kept from becoming disastrous,

Growing dissatisfaction among the hierarchy of the Catholic Church—though FRANCO still seems to have a strong hold on the military.

Best bet to succeed the General is the 49-year-old Pretender to the Spanish throne, DON JUAN DE BORBON Y BATTENBURG, with his son running a poor second—particularly since he has disavowed royal ambitions during his father's lifetime.

Don Juan, though nominally in exile in Estoril (Portugal), is by no means persona non grata in his mother country. Theoretically, he can return anytime he wants to, but has scrupulously avoided outliving his welcome and has in fact maintained a quasi friendship with the dictator.

Until now, the concept of dictatorship has not encompassed change in governmental direction, but ahead may lie the first exemplification of it.

David Lawrence Writes on Taxes

Small Firms Find Risk Too Great

The word "incentive" is frequently used to describe the impulse that makes the private-enterprise system work more effectively than does any form of state socialism or communism.

LAWRENCE

Most people who talk glibly about "big business" or even "little business" as somehow greedy, selfish, and inconsiderate of their employes do not realize how much of a risk the creators of a business enterprise run.

They are discouraged sometimes from even starting a business because the risk isn't worth the small return that is likely to be obtained these days.

Perhaps the most striking example of what is meant by "incentive" — or lack of it — is given in an illustration recently developed by some economists to show how a businessman can build a successful enterprise only to find that the bulk of his earnings is going to the government.

The basic assumptions are that a man starts a small company which develops annual sales of $2 million, and that the corporation pays him a salary of $25,000 a year and pays to 100 other employes a total of $500,000 a year in wages.

But what does government take from this corporation?

FIRST OF ALL

First of all, $30,000 in state and local levies, excises and other taxes have to be paid.

Second, the government takes $15,000 in Social Security taxes, and this is assumed to leave the company with approximately $100,000 profit before federal income taxes.

Third, the government takes $46,500 out of the profits for federal corporate income taxes. This brings the net profit down to $53,500.

★ ★ ★

And it is assumed that the sole owner of the corporation puts 20 per cent of this — or $10,700 — into new equipment and takes the remaining 80 per cent —or $42,800 — as dividends for himself.

Fourth, the government then takes $28,500 from the owner in the form of personal taxes on his total income of $67,800 in salary and dividends.

Fifth, the government takes from the employes of the corporation $57,000 in personal taxes on their pay.

ADD IT UP

When all this is added up, it is found that the corporation owner has realized $39,300 in net income, while government in all its forms has realized $177,000.

To put it another way, for every dollar that this businessman gets in income, government — federal, state and local — gets more than $4.50.

Now, in the above illustration, it happens that one man is the owner of the company. But it is unlikely that a single individual would always be able to supply the money to build a corporation that would have annual sales of $2 million.

The chances are that the promoter of the enterprise would have to get other people to share the financing with him, and they would naturally become part owners.

In that case, of course, the entire $42,800 of dividends would not be paid to him, but perhaps only a small part of it.

What it amounts to, in the end, is that the individual has to make up his mind whether he will take a job that pays him $25,000 or more in some other enterprise — perhaps one of those "big business" corporations — or whether he will go out on his own.

That would mean investing personal funds and money borrowed from others willing to help him, and taking the big risks that are involved in the actual operation of a business.

In the final analysis, the risk is considerable. There is competition to be met plus the danger of unlooked-for conditions which could wipe out the business or render it unable to make a substantial profit.

The Country Parson

"One of the finest things God can do for a man is not to answer all his prayers."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Alcoholics Anonymous Will Aid the Loneliness

From long experience, I have learned to look first at the signature of a letter. If the signature does not seem right, I give the letter little attention. If there is no signature I drop the letter into the chucker. I don't cotton to the character who purports to be a doctor but gives no degree with signature or in stationery.

DR. BRADY

But this one, somehow, stayed in my hand:

"Dear Doc,

"I am writing to you and hope with all my heart you will put it in your column.

"I drank heavy for five years I quit during last and I only had two or three rough days.

"Now I'm trying hard to quit but I get this choking and lonely feeling and it keeps up for four or five hours. It's one of the awful feelings so the only thing that will help is another drink.

"I went to one doctor and he called me an alcoholic and laughed. So I won't dare to go to another one. But I need help bad.

"Please what can I do so the lonely feeling will go away.

"Please help me!"

(Unsigned)

Very likely the doctor who called the patient an alcoholic and laughed about it is himself or herself a victim of the narcotic habit, requiring a certain number of cocktails or highballs every day.

★ ★ ★

The best suggestion I can give any drinker who gets that choking and lonely feeling which he or she thinks only more alcohol will relieve is this:

Look in the telephone book for the address of Alcoholics Anonymous in or near your community and telephone for information, bearing in mind that neither your name nor the name of the group member who gives you information need be mentioned.

If you will find out when and where the group meets and attend a meeting or two it may be the very thing you need to free you! of that choking and lonely feeling.

Bear in mind that everyone at the meeting is or has been addicted as much as you are and that everyone attending the meeting is there to help himself or herself and to help other drinkers who need help.

★ ★ ★

No matter whether you are or are not an alcoholic your belief that the only thing that will help is another drink doesn't make me laugh, sir or madam. When I think about it too much it makes me cry.

You see, I have had to deal close up with the misery and shame, the remorse and unhappiness, the disease and death that drinking brings to it victims, innocent and guilty alike.

For the help you need, go to Alcoholics Anonymous, and may God go with you.

★ ★ ★

Signed letters, not more than one page or 300 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to be sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

The Man About Town

Mad About Tigers

Lady Fan Reflects Ball Club's Fate

By HOWARD V. HELDENBRAND

The MAT has discovered right in his own neighborhood what is beyond doubt the most rabid Tiger fan of either sex north of the equator. As time approaches for the selection of new officers for the 1962-63 Hot Stove League, Women's Division, it is strongly urged that of 305 S. Tilden St., be named president by acclamation and a unanimous ballot cast for her election.

Helen S. Tolgen

She is so closely attuned to the fortunes of the Tigers that the outcome of a game can be told by nothing more than her demeanor. Not only that, but with close familiarity with the subtleties of her mate reactions, it is possible to interpret the running score of a game in progress!

When the Tigers lose, she is wont to be affected by the vapors; and when—horror of horrors! — the cataclysmic loss of a doubleheader last occurred, she went incommunicado for days.

And another thing. She is still seething over the rank injustice suffered last year by Tiger pitcher Frank Lary when official scorers gave Yankee Whitey Ford a won-lost percentage topping his. Since Whitey had to be relieved in nearly half the games he was credited with winning by his ever-ready alter ego, Louis Arroyo (Lary finished a much higher percentage of his victories), our fan maintains that Ford should not have been box-scored as a lone hurler but as a two-unit mound entry!

After a stop at the Michigan Employment Security office in Pontiac I learned where some of my tax dollars are going.

Why should it take two hours to register for a job? Why should a dozen job-seekers be kept waiting while two dozen interviewers sit at desks doing nothing except visiting with one another? Why did I have to go to one desk to have the date stamped on my card, to a second to have a sales occupation code written and to a third to have a clerical classification code put on the same card? Is there a union so strong that a date-stamper can't also be a code-stamper? ## Give Different Views on Court's Ruling

After reading about how unconstitutional it is to say a prayer to the Almighty, I wonder how much our money is worth. It states in God We Trust."

We can condone all the athiests in this country but the children can't even pay a little respect to the Almighty. This is not a matter for any court to decide. This is what our country was founded upon.

Vincent Newman

As a Christian nation we should realize the importance of prayer in our daily lives. Instead of banning it we should encourage it.

God in his Holy Word has told us to pray without ceasing. Are we doing this? No, instead we're ceasing prayer. Praying is our only way of talking to our Heavenly Father.

Many do not choose to have children indoctrinated in the Christian religion. Schools are set up to equip children with the skills for discovering and enriching their own philosophies, not to convert them to an unyielding doctrine they had no part in developing.

This is respect for the individual; this is true freedom. Why do many parents want their children taught Christianity in the public schools? The home is best fitted to inspire a belief. Could it be that these parents no longer feel adequately inspired themselves?

Let's unfold our own innermost feelings to our own children. It can't be legislated.

Writer Is Against Fluoride in Water

If there are people who want fluoridation, let them buy tablets. The profluoridators never mention that even naturally fluoridated water has difficulties like discoloration and mottling of teeth, and changing the structure of the teeth so fillings are not held satisfactorily. In naturally fluoridated areas, some of the people have hard, brittle teeth or wear dentures after the age of 25.

★ ★ ★

Only 1½ quarts of water are used for drinking purposes out of every 700 quarts leaving the water works. This is 2 per centsince children who may benefit are but 10 per cent of the total. Then only ½ of one per cent of the total water is consumed by these children. If $15,000 to spent on fluoridation only $30 is used for these children. If kids continue eating ice cream, candy, pop, and sweets after the age of 12, teeth decay will catch up at a normal pace.

★ ★ ★

Do not let fluoridation sway you with the amount they wish to put into your drinking water.

'Prayer' Ruling Misunderstood

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — When the United States Supreme Court goes into session, the clerk cries out: "Oyez, Oyez! (Hear Ye, Hear Ye!) The Supreme Court of the United States is now in session. God save the United States and this honorable court."

EDSON

This is considered a prayer. It is not prescribed by law. But it is by custom, which is expected to endure.

This is something to remember in connection with the Supreme Court's decision at the closing session of the term, declaring that the recitation of a prayer prescribed by New York's state board of regents for use in public schools violates the U.S. Constitution.

First popular reaction to this decision has been shock and a storm of protest, based on an apparent belief that the Supreme Court is trying to abolish prayer and perhaps destroy religion.

★

Constitutional lawyers in Washington point out that this is a misunderstanding of the decision.

Their contention is that the Supreme Court has acted in this case in an extremely narrow field. It is not a broad, sweeping decision. It is limited only to a finding that a prescribed prayer violates constitutional guarantees of religious freedom.

As hypothetical cases of religious freedom not covered by the court's decision, these examples are cited in admittedly unofficial but authoritative interpretations:

The decision will have no effect on prayers offered in parochial or private schools.

If a teacher in a public school asks her pupils to bow their heads while the teacher offers a prayer of her own, that will violate no law or court decision.

If the parents of some of the pupils object to any specific prayers the teacher may offer, that is a local problem for settlement between them and the teacher and her superiors. That's the way it always has been.

Or, if a teacher in a public school asks her class to stand for a moment of silent prayer, each pupil reciting his own or none at all, there is certainly nothing the law can do to enforce the Supreme Court's latest decision.

★ ★ ★

The argument made here is that this is not an enforceable decision. No U.S. marshals are going to come around and arrest teachers for offering prayers, for reading a psalm or a chapter from the Bible.

What concerns constitutional lawyers most is the broad interpretation many people have put upon the really narrow New York school prayer decision is that it will react unfavorably against the Supreme Court itself.

The Supreme Court is already under attack because of its school integration, reapportionment and some of its civil liberties case decisions. A new attack, based on misunderstanding or misinterpretation of the court's decision may make it more unpopular and weaken its prestige.

★ ★ ★

The supreme court has not struck a blow against all religion or religious education in this decision, it is maintained. Lawyers who have practiced before the court for years and know the justices intimately testify they are all religious men, active in their respective churches.

They are not atheists trying to destroy religion. They realize that law in America is based on religion.

As Charles S. Rhyne, former president of the American Bar Assn. and a leader in the "World Rule Through Law" movement brought out in a "Law and Religion" address on Law Day last year — which happened to fall on a Sunday — the entire history of the United States is based on belief in God.

Queen Elizabeth's Charter to Sir Walter Raleigh to found the Jamestown colony in 1606 was given "By Grace of God" and the Mayflower Compact of 1620 was for "The Glory of God." The Declaration of Independence closes with a statement of "firm reliance on the Protection of Divine Providence." The Founding Fathers of the country opened their daily deliberations with prayer.

The Constitution itself, while specifying that "Congress shall make no law respecting establishment of religion," and that "no religious test shall ever be required as a qualification to any office or public trust under the United States," still guarantees in the First Amendment that there shall be no "prohibiting the free exercise" of religion. This is indestructible.

Guest List Vital Key to Success

NEW YORK — Perle Mesta, society's famous "hostess with the mostes'," says that the people invited to a party matter more than how much it costs.

Mrs. Mesta revealed her simple secret in her new monthly column on "exciting parties and interesting people," which began in a recent issue of a national woman's magazine.

In the column entitled, "Perle Mesta's Party Notebook," she cited these "Perle's Pearls on Entertaining:"

1. Like the people you invite.

2. It's more important to have good food than an overabundance of food. Make sure the hot food is hot, and the cold food cold.

3. Have music, even if it's recorded. It can harmonize even Republicans and Democrats.

4. Make your guests feel wanted. Watch for "standbys" who need urging aboard.

5. Relax. A hostess who enjoys her own parties is a better hostess. Parties are better, too.

6. Don't fret if you left someone off your guest list. Just start planning another party!

Funck-Watson Nuptials Are Held

Carol Ann Watson and Monie J. Funck spoke their vows Saturday at a candlelight ceremony before Rev. Henry Powell at Elmwood Methodist Church in Flint. A reception immediately followed at the bride's home with 200 guests present.

Parents of the couple are the L. G. Watsons of East Hamlin Road, Rochester, and the George P. Funcks of Greenwood Street.

The new Mrs. Funck wore a floor length gown of white nylon tulle styled with bodice and skirt panels of Chantilly lace, long tapered sleeves, and a sweeping tier train. Bouffant silk illusion veiling was secured by a looped crown of iridescent crystals and seed pearls. The bride carried a white orchid over a white prayer book.

★ ★ ★

Matron of honor was Mrs. Charles E. Vaughn of Columbia, Tennessee, sister of the bride, wearing a gown of mint with bouffant skirt, and carrying mint green and yellow carnations.

Bridesmaid, Mrs. Jimmy L. Powell of Grant Street wore a pale yellow organdy over taffeta gown. She also held yellow and mint green carnations.

★ ★ ★

Brother of the bride, Charles C. Watson, of Rochester was best man. Assisting with the seating were Glen and Donald Funck, both brothers of the bridegroom.

The newlyweds left for Gatlinburg, Tenn., in the Smoky Mountains and upon returning will reside on Harding Road, Rochester. Mrs. Funck chose a toast colored outfit with matching veiled pillbox hat, and a white orchid corsage.

The mother of the bride wore a champagne lace sheath over taffeta and corsage of brown cymbidium orchids. The bridegroom's mother appeared in a dress of beige lace over mint green taffeta with matching accessories and a mint green cymbidium orchid.

Make Him Promise to Behave

By the Emily Post Institute

Q: My boy friend and I were invited to a party at a friend's house last Saturday night. I have been going out with this young man for several months and he has always been well mannered and a perfect gentleman.

However, the other night at the party he did a complete about-face. He apparently had too much to drink and became very obnoxious. I was mortified by his behavior and after awhile I asked one of the other young men at the party (whom I know very well) to please drive me home.

The next day my boy friend called and apologized for his behavior but reprimanded me for having walked out on him and said that I had embarrassed him in front of everyone. I would very much like to have your opinion as to whether I was right or wrong in walking out on him?

A: Most certainly you were right. In addition to his apology you should have his promise never to repeat his disgraceful behavior before going out with him again.

★ ★ ★

Q: Is it necessary to explain the reason for having to refuse an invitation?

A: To a very intimate friend you would naturally say, "I'm sorry, but I am lunching with Jane" or, "we are going to the theater," or whatever the reason.

To someone you know only slightly, you say regretfully, "I'm so sorry, I have an engagement for that day."

★ ★ ★

Q: I am going to be married soon and have a problem in regard to seating at the wedding reception. I know that ordinarily the bridegroom's mother and father are seated at the same table, but my fiance's mother and father are divorced and I don't know whether it would be proper to seat them both at the family table. Neither of them has remarried. Will you please advise me?

A: Even if they have remained on friendly terms, it would be in bad taste to seat the bridegroom's divorced parents at the same table.

'Brush' Fires Will Burn Out but Your Love's Here to Stay

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband is letting his beard grow because our town is going to celebrate its centennial.

Just because this town is 100 years old doesn't mean HE has to look it. It's disgusting. It is like living with an Airedale. And it's not at all attractive. There are patches where no hair grows and parts of his beard are red!

ABBY

Do you think it is fair to the wives when these men grow beards to show civic spirit? I'm ready to lock him out.

SPEAKING FOR MANY

DEAR SPEAKING: He's getting a big kick out of it, so why not go along with the gag? Don't "lock him out." The hair on his chinny-chin-chin is only temporary. Your love is here to stay.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am only 14 but after reading the letter from HAD NOT FILL, the woman who regretted having to take care of her 80-year-old father-in-law, I had to speak my piece.

I wish I were old enough to take him into my home and care for him myself. He doesn't have much longer to live so why not make his last years happy ones?

SOFT-HEARTED

DEAR SOFT: It's not possible for a 14-year-old to "adopt" an 80-year-old, but I congratulate you on your kindness of heart. Don't anyone tell ME our teen-agers are all a selfish, thoughtless lot.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am being married next month and want to ask your advice on a problem that has come up. I am marrying a farmer. We are both 23.

We had planned to live with his parents, who have a very nice, modern, 10-room home on their farm. It's about 12 miles from the city. His people are the nicest in the world and I don't see why we couldn't get along fine living with them, but all my friends tell me it would be a big mistake.

They say no two families can share one house and that I would hate it after awhile and be trapped. Should I listen to my friends? I am so upset I don't know which way to turn.

UPSET AND TROUBLED

DEAR UPSET: Your friends are mistaken. Many young couples live with their parents and get along fine. Don't let their sour outlooks curdle your plans. Move in. If it doesn't work out, you can move out.

★ ★ ★

How's the world treating you? For a personal, unpublished reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of The Pontiac Press.

Housecleaning Needed

Federal Waste Blasted

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE M-456: Bert L., aged 45, is a professor.

★ ★ ★

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I spent a few weeks in an Eskimo village last year, doing scientific research.

DR. CRANE

"My assistant and I were the only white men there, for all the others were Eskimos.

"We had a very interesting time and enjoyed the natives. But before we left, a helicopter flew into the village with one of our government agents.

★ ★ ★

"He sat down and had interviews with all the heads of families, asking them 'How did you make out with your fishing this season?'

"Most of the natives had been very successful for the salmon run had been extra good.

HADN'T TRIED

"But occasionally this government agent would encounter a man who said he hadn't caught any fish.

"Then the agent would ask such an Eskimo how much he and his family needed per week to carry them through the winter and then he marked down that amount to be released to such families.

★ ★ ★

"That may not seem so unfair until you realize, Dr. Crane, that these Eskimos who had caught no fish, hadn't even tried to fish!

LAZY LOAFERS

"No, their fellow countrymen informed me, in some anger, that these lazy loafers hadn't even gone fishing or done any hard work.

"Instead, they had used their previous government dole from U. S. taxpayers to buy flour and sugar at the trading post.

★ ★ ★

"Then they used these to make sourdough whisky. They were simply tricking Uncle Sam (and us taxpayers) out of a good weekly support check, while they meanwhile conducted a moonshine liquor business.

DECEIVED U. S.

"Thus, they deceived Uncle Sam and operated an illicit still, after which they also sold their bootleg whisky without even paying the federal tax.

"This trickery is very widespread, as the honest fishermen among the Eskimos informed me. And it naturally irks the hard workers to see their lazy neighbors gouging Uncle Sam and getting rich at the taxpayer's expense."

★ ★ ★

This professor was also incensed at this flagrant misuse of our taxes.

"Is it any wonder," he protested, "that taxes keep getting higher and higher and our federal budget goes farther into the red with each year?"

This lack of "horse sense" in Washington is not a reflection on any one political party, for both the Republicans and Democrats have been zooming our debt every year.

NEED HOUSECLEANING

So it is time we did a complete "housecleaning," after the fashion of good American housewives.

We voters send only 539 office holders to Washington. They are the 437 U. S. representatives, plus 100 senators, plus one president and one vice president.

★ ★ ★

Yet there are now almost 2,400,000 bureaucrats on our backs who freely dispense our taxes for boondoggling and often stupid purposes, like this subsidizing of Eskimo bootleggers.

So send for my frank booklet "How to Save Our Republic," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

★ ★ ★

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Gardeners to Meet

"Flower Arrangements for the Home," by John Moss, will comprise the program for Bloomfield Hills Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association's Monday meeting at the Lone Pine Road home of Mrs. Clement Richard.

★ ★ ★

Each member has been asked to bring her most beautiful rose in a foil wrapped juice can, for use in the horticultural program at Pontiac State Hospital.

★ ★ ★

The Bloomfield Hills branch of WNF&G has won the orchid award from the Michigan division of the association.

Gardening, coupled with civic pride, are major interests of the members between meetings. The plantings of miniature flowering crab trees, dwarf yews and ground covering of myrtle in front of the Barden Road entrance to Vaughan School have been completed in memory of founders of the Bloomfield Hills branch.

Bonnie Louise Brookbank, daughter of the Glen E. Brookbanks of Rochester and David L. Mackley of Salmer Street, son of the Jacob Mackleys, Rochester, were wed Saturday in St. Paul Lutheran Church, Rochester.

MRS. DAVID L. MACKLEY

Bride Wears Heirloom

Vows Exchanged

Heirloom cultured pearls brought from England by her late maternal grandmother were worn by Bonnie Louise Brookbank, who exchanged wedding vows with David L. Mackley of Salmer Street Saturday in St. Paul Lutheran Church, Rochester.

Daughter of the Glen E. Brookbanks of Rochester, the bride chose white satin with Chantilly lace forming the bodice and bordering a long tulle overskirt. Her short veil of French silk illusion was secured by a pearl tiara. White roses, ivy and Stephanotis comprised her bouquet.

Former Rochester resident, Mrs. Neil Randall of Granite City, Ill., was matron of honor. Rosemary Mitchell was bridesmaid and Janie Brookbank, her sister's junior attendant. They wore ice-blue silk organza over taffeta and carried blue and white carnations.

Usher list for the bridegroom, son of the Jacob Mackleys, Rochester, included Arnold Sell and David Phelps of Rochester, Dudley Moore Jr. of Auburn Heights and Garry Crake, Ronald Bentley, Rochester, was best man.

Assisting at the church reception were the bride's aunts, Mrs. Howard Eakin of Milwaukee, Wis., and Mrs. John Mitchell, also her former college roommates Diane Brock of Royal Oak and Laura Converse of Kalamazoo, Mrs. Marilyn Mitchell and Mrs. Gordon Lampinen, Rochester, and Joan Fisher, Dearborn.

After a honeymoon at Gatlinburg, Tenn., the newlyweds will reside in Rochester. The bride holds a secretarial science certificate from Western Michigan University, and Mr. Mackley is a graduate of General Motors Institute.

Yellow tea roses complemented Mrs. Brookbank's pale gold silk linen sheath dress, and the mother of the bridegroom, wearing aquamarine linen, chose a corsage of white roses.

Shower Held for Bride-Elect

Gail Bartine Pearce was honored at a bridal shower in the Lake Orion home of Mrs. Walter Petty, with Mrs. Homer Hendrix, cohostess.

Attending her daughter's party was Mrs. Roy W. Pearce of Wenonah Drive and Mrs. Arnold Leach, Lake Orion, mother of the future bridegroom, Lawrence T. Leach.

Other guests were Mrs. Robert Burnett, Mrs. Ora Baker, Mrs. Edward Graves and daughter Sandra, Mrs. Keith Baker and Mrs. Bert Hillock.

From Lake Orion were Mrs. Edward Leach, Mrs. Donald Roberts, Mrs. Perry Schmidt, Mrs. Joe Mendoza, Mrs. Richard Hunter, Mrs. Carl Lafayette, Mrs. Paul Kieckonen, Mrs. Clarence Braidwood and Mrs. Finley Kennedy.

The list concludes with Mrs. Harold Roberts, Keego Harbor, Mrs. Fredrick Leach and Mrs. Thomas Leach, Farmington, and Mrs. William Scribner, Clarkston.

Married in First Open Bible Church Saturday were Linda Louise Johnson and Paul E. Hine. Parents of the newlyweds are the Marvin L. Johnsons of Briggs Street, Drayton Plains, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Hine of Davisburg.

MRS. PAUL E. HINE

Married by Uncle

Rev. Weldon E. Davis of Galesburg, Ill., officiated at the Saturday marriage of his niece, Linda Louise Johnson, to Paul E. Hine in the First Open Bible Church of Pontiac.

The pastor, Rev. Arthur Magiott, assisted.

Daughter of the Marvin L. Johnsons of Briggs Street, Drayton Plains, the bride chose white Chantilly lace and nylon over taffeta with a chapel train. Veil of silk illusion was fitted to a crown of lace and seed pearls. Atop her white Bible rested a white orchid, carnations and lilies of the valley.

Barbara Ann Johnson, maid of honor, wore white lace over pink taffeta and matching Dior bow headpieces. Jeanne Hine, bridesmaid, wore white lace over yellow taffeta. Accenting their bouquets of white carnations were rosebuds in their dress shades. They are sisters of the bridal couple.

David Hine of Davisburg was his brother's best man, assisted by Louis Cole of Pontiac. Serving as ushers were Rodney Johnson, Drayton Plains and Dennis Hine, Davisburg, brothers of the couple. The bridegroom's parents are the Charles R. Hines of Davisburg.

Returning from a Niagara Falls honeymoon, the couple will live in Drayton Plains.

★ ★ ★

For the reception in Pontiac Township Hall which followed the ceremony, Mrs. Johnson chose a champagne silk dress with lace jacket. The mother of the bridegroom wore a printed brown silk jersey. Their corsages were white carnations and yellow rosebuds.

Mart Advances in Active Trade

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved generally higher in active trading early today.

Gains of fractions to a point or more among key stocks outnumbered losers. The latter constituted a sizable minority and quite a few stocks were unchanged.

The list took off from a series of three straight sessions in which a majority of traded stocks gained ground. Yesterday was the fourth straight session in which popular market averages have advanced but in the mixed session of June 27 these indicators rose despite a preponderance of losers in the over-all list.

Today's continued rise showed little solid leadership and it was evident that traders were taking profits.

* * *

American Telephone, up a fraction, continued to respond to higher earnings and North American Aviation, still bolstered by news of a big contract, also added a fraction.

The tobaccos, which have been recommended in some quarters, showed plus signs, a 1-point gain by Liggett & Myers being about the best.

International Business Machines backed away from a 1-point gain at the opening and showed a net loss of around a point.

* * *

Gains exceeding a point were made by Jones & Laughlin and Du Pont. International Telephone added about a point.

Motors and steels were unchanged to narrowly mixed. Aerospace issues showed slight change, General Dynamics recovering a fraction of yesterday's sharp loss. Oils tended to drift off on balance. Rails leaned to the upside.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange. Gainers included Tampa Electric, Cubic Corp., Simca, Molybdenum and General Plywood. Among losers were Aerojet-General, Mead Johnson, Western Equities, Syntex and Kawecki Chemical.

Bonds Mixed to Lower

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. Treasury and corporate bonds were mixed to slightly lower at the opening today.

An over-the-counter dealer in governments said some distant and intermediate maturities were 1/32 to 2/32s lower at the start. Treasury bills were described as a little easier.

Trading in governments was fairly quiet.

In corporate trading on the New York Stock Exchange, some interest in railroad bonds pushed them into the plus column.

* * *

Utility bonds and industrials were down slightly.

* * *

The only loss of a point or more at the start was suffered by Texas Corp. 3s of 1965, which fell 1 at 98.

ICC Will Probe Piggy-Back Use

Shippers and Carriers Are Asked to Submit Their Views

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission has decided to take a thorough look at the growing use of "piggy-back" freight transportation.

This involves the movement of loaded highway trailers aboard railroad cars and certain water carriers.

* * *

In ordering a hearing yesterday, the commission invited carriers, shippers and other interested parties to submit their views by Sept. 5 and set a pre-hearing conference bedore two commissioners for Oct. 9.

The investigation will include a study of "the desirability, feasibility and lawfulness" of five major types of procedure which have led to an increasing number of disputes involving labor unions, carriers, and shippers over jurisdiction and charges.

In one plan, the shipper pays the trucking firm and the trucker pays the railroad for the "piggy-back" ride.

In some instances the railroad owns its own tractor-trailers and performs the entire door-to-door service for the shipper.

The shipper owns his own trucks in other cases and pays for the rail transportation.

* * *

Under another procedure, the shipper owns or leases both truck and flatcar and pays the railroad for a towing service.

A fifth major plan involves a joint rate proposition to the shipper, with the trucking firm and railroad dividing the dreight charges.

Man, Woman Named to Serve County GOP Unit

An ex-assistant state attorney general and a former local newswoman have been officially appointed to positions on the Republican Committee of Oakland County.

Frederick Colombo, 45, of 1115 Country Club Drive, Bloomfield Hills, who served on the attorney general's staff from 1941 through 1943, was named general solicitations chairman.

Colombo, a Detroit attorney, will be responsible for the organization and direction of fund raising activities throughout the county.

Summer Doldrums

Business, Workers Relax

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — The summer doldrums this year may be a bit more relaxed than usual. Part of this is due to the fatigue showing up in many industrial lines after months of expansion. Part is due to new labor patterns calling for longer vacations.

Together these add up to more plant shutdowns and longer ones in many communities.

* * *

And on the management side there is a tendency to wait and see what Congress will do about a number of issues hanging fire that could affect future business planning.

* * *

Some management planning may take shape after the Treasury announces at the end of the week its new rules for tax allowances for wear and tear.

Business will welcome whatever relaxation is granted. But many feel that the Treasury hasn't the power to go as far in setting new rules for depreciation allowances as industry feels it needs. This would require congressional action.

TAX CUT ISSUE

Also hanging fire is the tax cut issue. And business is inclined to wait and see in this instance, too.

Involved is timing—tax cuts now or in the next session of Congress. Also at stake is the kind of tax cut. Business naturally prefers a cut in corporate income tax rates, and a sharp reduction in the upper brackets of individual incomes, where business thinks it gets its funds for rick investments.

* * *

Labor naturally is advocating cuts in the lower personal brackets. It holds that this will increase consumer purchasing power at a time when it is needed.

* * *

While these issues are hanging fire, business planning may mark time. But just as much a deterrent is the current uncertainty as to whether a slackening recovery is foretelling a coming recession—and whether the jitters in the stock market mean a readjustment of prices to earnings potentials or reflect a blow to public confidence in the health of the economy.

* * *

All of these things add to the usual slowdown in business at this time of year. But the slowdown probably would have been more noticeable this year in any event.

* * *

Industry vacations have been increasing for several years. This time they have the impetus of a number of new labor contracts that stress such fringe benefits. Last summer's one week shutdown may become two weeks this year, or longer.

But if more plants are idle for more days, there are other lines of business to reap a benefit from it.

* * *

More leisure time can mean more spending for recreation—boating, fishing, travel.

The industrial production index may drop this summer. But a number of service industries should report nice gains. Personal income totals are high. Americans have a huge total of savings on which to draw.

If business relaxes a bit more than usuaal this summer, maybe a lot of Americans will be relaxing, too.

Survey Shows Consumer to Keep Spending High

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The American buyer — "soberly optimistic" —regards this as a good time to buy and will continue his springtime high level of spending.

* * *

The University of Michigan Survey Research Center so reported today — though declaring also that any impetus for faster economic growth for the nation is not likely to come soon from the consumer.

"It is evident," the report said, "that the consumer is not in an exuberant frame of mind. There are no indications that people are disposed to upgrade their standard of living more rapidly in the period ahead than they did during the past few years."

"Thus," said the researchers, "the impetus to faster economic growth, sought by government and business, is not likely to come from the consumer sector in the near future unless new stimuli alter the prospects seen by consumers."

OUTLOOK BETTER

At the same time the report said the outlook for sales of major consumer goods is better than a year ago.

The outlook is particularly favorable for the automobile market, the report said.

Analyzing its nationwide cross-section survey of 1,300 adults, the report said:

"Favorable changes in personal finances seem to be reinforced by price stability, or more precisely, by absence of the feeling that rising prices are reducing real income.

"Fewer people indicate that they have worries of an economic kind. The proportion of people who expect to be better off in another year has not been higher at any time in the past 10 years."

* * *

Consumer attitude shows a satisfaction with prices of durable goods and prices of housing, the report said.

The survey was conducted between April 23 and May 29, including the period when the stock market had begun its decline. Early losses on the market did not cause serious consumer concern, the report said.

* * *

It added, however, that if the downward trend persisted it might have a stronger impact on consumer confidence.

Award Contract to Milford Unit

Civil Defense Bureau Places $115,000 Order for Home Alarms

A Milford electronics firm has been awarded a $115,000 contract by the U.S. Office of Civil Defense to produce an emergency alarm system for the home that would be used in the event of an enemy attack.

Robert Voight, president of American Standard Electronics, 122 W. Liberty St., said his firm will make 20,000 of the small units known as the National Emergency Alarm Repeater (NEAR).

He said the receiver, which can be plugged into any wall outlet, emits a buzzer-like sound when activated by a central Civil Defense office.

Built into it is a delaying system that will prevent false alarms, particularly from a lightning bolt hitting a power line.

The device was first tested, according to Voight, in Charlotte in October, 1959.

* * *

Voight said his firm is preparing for production now but it probably will be three or four months before operations can begin.

Initially, the alarm produced by American Standard will be used for further testing and evaluation by the government, added Voigt, and eventually it probably will be sold on the market for under $10.

Named New Director

FINDLAY, Ohio (UPI) — M. M. Fisher, president of Aurora Gasoline Co., Detroit, yesterday was named to the board of directors of the Ohio Oil Co. He succeeds P. L. Henderson, who retired.

More Steel Mills Are Closing for Fourth of July

NEW YORK (AP) — More than the usual number of steel companies are shutting down whole plants this year for several-day periods around Independence Day, the Iron Age said today.

* * *

The metalworking weekly said the closedowns are in line with a trend away from maintaining partial operations.

The magazine said two factors reinforcing the trend are the present order slump and provisions of the new wage contract effective last Sunday.

Under the latest contract with the United Steel Workers Union, steel companies must pay any man who reports for work wages equal to minumum pay for 32 hours.

Ex-Cell-O Reports Sales, Earnings Up in 6 Months

DETROIT (AP) — Ex-Cell-O Corp., Detroit toolmaker, reported yesterday a sharp gain in sales and earnings in the six months ended May 31.

Profits totaled $6,632,884, equal to $1.78 a share, compared with $4,495,719, or $1.21 a share, a year earlier. Sales rose to $81,078,975 from $69,966,683.

Guerrilla Unit Lands in Cuba

Small Party Ashore to Spark Rebellion, Says Leader in Miami

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—An anti-Castro unit leader says 20 of his men are fanning new fires of rebellion in Cuba after a successful landing in restless Matanzas Province.

* * *

Frank Florini, an American, said the all-Cuban group got ashore from a boat Monday. He called the men specially trained guerrillas who are members of the International anti-Communist brigade.

"We expect to hear from them," the Norfolk, Va., native and World War II Marine Corps veteran said without elaboration.

* * *

Florini identified himself as commander of the brigade and said its members have been training for months for action against Fidel Castro's regime in Cuba.

The mission of the 20 guerrillas, he said, is to support and extend uprisings in the Matanzas area east of Havana.

* * *

Cuban exiles say sharp fights have occurred recently in Matanzas Province.

* * *

News in Brief

State Fair Commissioner Eldon C. Rosegart, 2983 Shawnee Lane, Drayton Plains, has been elected chairman of the space allocations committee and named to the entertainment committee. This year's fair will open Aug. 24.

A box of fishing tackle valued at $250 was taken from the home of Victor Collom, 5471 Crescent Blvd., Waterford Township yesterday.

Five flags, those of France, Spain, England, the Confederacy and the U.S., have flown over Mississippi.

8 Build Fewer, 3 Still in Infancy

16 Auto Makers Hiked Output This Year

DETROIT (AP)—Production figures for the first half of 1962 show that 16 automotive makes built more cars this year than last.

Eight built fewer and three were in their first year of production.

In total volume Chevrolet was the biggest gainer—160,000 more cars—and Falcon the biggest loser—52,000 less. The biggest percentage gainer was the Buick Special which just missed doubling its 1961 record and ended 98 per cent ahead. Falcon was the biggest percentage loser at 21 per cent.

* * *

Compared with a year ago there were the others with improved totals: Pontiac, up 82 per cent; Oldsmobile, up 62 per cent; olds F85 up 59 per cent; Studebaker, up 55 per cent; Buick, up 51 per cent; Imperial, up 44 per cent.

Also Rambler, up 41 per cent; Dodge Lancer, up 35 per cent; Checker, up 31 per cent; Chrysler, up 30 per cent; Pontiac Tempest, up 27 per cent; Valiant, up 26 per cent; Chevrolet, up 24 per cent; Cadillac, up 3 per cent, and Dodge, up 1 per cent.

In the losers' column the Thunderbird was off 19 per cent, Plymouth 17 per cent, Mercury Comet 16 per cent, Lincoln 13 per cent, Corvair 11 per cent, Ford Galaxie 6 per cent and Mercury Monterey 4 per cent. Galaxie and Monterey ran ahead of last year consistently until assembly lines were closed by a strike in June.

CHEVY II AHEAD

The Ford strike also allowed Chevy II to outbuild the Ford Fairlane by about 200 units in the new car sweepstakes. Both were just short of the 200,000 mark.

After six months here are the calendar year production standings of the 27 makes with last year's standing in parentheses: 1. Chevrolet (1); 2. Ford Galaxie (2); 3. Rambler (5); 4. Pontiac (7); 5. Falcon (3); 6. Oldsmobile (6); 7. Chevy II (new); 8. Ford Fairlane (new); 9. Corvair (4); 10. Buick (8); 11. Cadillac (11); 12. Buick Special (18).

13. Pontiac Tempest (13); 14. Valiant (14); 15. Comet (9); 16. Plymouth (10); 17. Dodge (12); 18. Chrysler (17); 19. Olds F85 (19); 20. Mercury Monterey (15); 21. Lark (20); 22. Mercury Meteor (new); 23. Thunderbird (16); 24. Dodge Lancer (21); 25. Lincoln (22); 26. Imperial (23); 27. Checker (24).
