Gemini Astronauts Splash Down in Atlantic

CAPE KENNEDY (AP) — America's two record-setting astronauts splashed down in the Atlantic approximately 700 miles southeast of here today marking an end to their four-day mission and the Gemini space flight program.

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —Munching dry food and wrestling with spaceship problems, the Gemini 12 astronauts headed today toward an afternoon landing in the Atlantic and a blazing climax to America's Gemini program.

Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr., and Air Force Maj. Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. planned to trigger their braking rockets above the Pacific at 1:47 p.m. EST to start a fiery dive back through the atmosphere.

Gemini 12 is to parachute into the Atlantic 707 miles southeast of Cape Kennedy at 2:22 p.m. after circling the globe 59 times in four days and traveling more than 1.6 million miles.

Ships, planes and helicopters, headed by the aircraft carrier Wasp, were stationed in the planned landing area, where weather conditions were reported satisfactory.

The final few hours were busy ones for Lovell and Aldrin, who are bringing at least four new space records home with them.

TOO RUSHED

At times they told ground controllers that they were too rushed to do everything they were being told to do.

They monitored a number of problems, none serious, which plagued the record-shattering mission.

The difficulties involved four of 16 maneuvering thrusters and power-producing fuel cells, which required frequent purges of hydrogen and oxygen to prevent pressure buildup.

★ ★ ★

The voltage in the electrical system also dipped and the astronauts were told to turn off certain equipment.

WATER GUN FAILS

Another problem cropped up at breakfast today with the failure of a water gun used to moisten dehydrated food.

"We get water out of there, but it comes out very slowly," Lovell reported. "So it's strictly dry food and drinking water."

Even so, the astronauts had trouble eating because of their duties.

U.S. Cargo Jet Crashes in Red Territory; 3 Die

Plane Flying Mail to W. Berlin Goes Down in East Germany

BERLIN (AP) — A Pan American cargo jet flying mail to West Berlin crashed in Communist territory outside West Berlin in predawn darkness today and the East German news agency ADN reported its three crewmen were killed.

The crash was reported to U.S. officials here by Soviet authorities.

The original report gave no account of the plane's pilot, copilot and navigator.

The three-jet Boeing 727, flying from Frankfurt through the East German air corridors, came down about eight miles from its destination in this Communist-surrounded city.

A Berlin postal official said it carried 7.1 tons of mail in unsealed bags.

The terse ADN dispatch from East Berlin said: "The commission investigating the crash reported that the crew of the crashed plane was killed. Three bodies were recovered."

Pan American in Berlin said it was withholding identification of the airmen pending notification of next of kin.

A U.S. spokesman said that at the time the plane lost contact with West Berlin, a light snow was falling in the area, the ceiling was 500 feet and that visibility was three-eighths of a mile.

The plane was headed for Tegel Field in the French sector of West Berlin.

A spokesman at Tegel said the weather conditions at Tegel were "above the established minimums" for that airport.

The crash was the first of a Western commercial plane in East Germany on a regular flight through the air corridors.

A U.S. Air Force crash crew was standing by in West Berlin awaiting further instructions.

The jets were brought into West Berlin service by Pan American only this year, replacing four-engine propeller DC6Bs.

An air of mystery surrounded the crash after a U.S. Air Force spokesman first confirmed that the plane was missing and believed down in East Germany just short of its West Berlin destination.

The Pan Am jets were using Tegel instead of their normal field at Tempelhof because of runway repairs begun yesterday at the midcity terminus.

Computerized Car Prototype Is Unveiled

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Researchers at Ohio State University have taken the wraps off an experimental automobile which utilizes a dashboard - mounted control stick for steering, accelerating, and braking.

They call the auto the first step in development of a fully automatic computer - controlled vehicle.

Dr. Robert L. Cosgriff, director of Ohio State's communications and control systems laboratory, developed the stick which controls the vehicle when moved forward, backward or sideways.

He and other engineers have been testing the auto on a four-mile strip of rural highway near Ashville, Ohio.

★ ★ ★

Built into the trunk of the 1955 automobile is a small digital computer which will be programmed to control acceleration and deceleration.

CONTROLLED BY STICK

Cosgriff said researchers now control movements with the stick. However, in future tests the computer will start the car off and stop it at its command.

★ ★ ★

The OSU researchers said their work is aimed at future freeways which will permit high density traffic to operate at speeds in the plus 100 miles per hour range.

Auto Industry Sets Record for 1967 Model Production

DETROIT (AP) — The U.S. auto industry set another record yesterday when it builit the two-millionth car of the 1967 model run, four days earlier than the old record set Nov. 18 last year.

Industry spokesmen said the rapid building of its '67 models was a good portent for the entire model year.

The nine-millionth vehicle of calendar 1966 also was due to be built this week, either today or tomorrow. This would be about three weeks behind the date the nine-million mark was reached last year.

Auto production was expected to perk up this week following settlement of a strike at General Motors South Gate, Calif., plant Sunday. The strike which began Nov. 1 had cost GM about 650 cars a day from its planned production schedules.

★ ★ ★

The industry made liberal use of overtime work last Saturday with 14 plants on premium pay operations, one more than was used in the previous weekend. GM had six plants on overtime, Ford had five and Chrysler used three. American Motors worked a five-day week.

★ ★ ★

For the calendar year to date, car assemblies reached 7,383,334 as of last weekend, compared with 7,998,941 for the like period of 1965.

The industry still had its sights on a 900,000 auto output for November and indications were that it would come close to that mark.

LBJ to Enter the Hospital Late Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, at times an impatient patient, enters Bethesda Naval Hospital today to prepare for the dual operation he faces tomorrow morning.

If past performance is any guide, Johnson may be on the move until the last minute.

Johnson said he will enter the skyscraper hospital in the Maryland suburbs late today, and undergo throat and abdominal surgery early in the morning.

It was Johnson's second date with the surgeons in little more than a year. On Oct. 8, 1965, he underwent 2 hours and 15 minutes of surgery for removal of his gallbladder and a kidney stone.

One of his current problems — an incision hernia on the right side of his abdomen — stems from that operation.

DUAL OPERATAION

Surgeons will correct that condition and remove a growth from his throat, near his right vocal cord.

Johnson has termed the operations minor, and said they should take less than an hour. "Within an hour, we will be out from under the influence of the anesthetic," he said Sunday.

While Johnson is on the operating table, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey will be acting president.

Romney, Ike Confer but Not About 1968

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Michigan's Gov. Romney after a closed-door meeting with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower yesterday, said they discussed Democrats and Republicans but nothing about 1968.

Romney came to historic Gettysburg to pay what he termed a "periodic social visit" on Eisenhower.

The Republican governor, mentioned high in the speculation over potential GOP presidential candidates for 1968, spent about two hours chatting with Eisenhower in a closed door meeting at the former President's Gettysburg office.

After the talk, Romney met alone with newsmen. Eisenhower remained in his office.

"We spent a lot of time discussing things in Michigan and the election last Tuesday," Romney said. "I have found it helpful to sit down and talk things over with Gen. Eisenhower periodically."

★ ★ ★

He said the visit had been arranged before the election, and possible 1968 GOP presidential candidates were not discussed.

'GOOD EXCHANGE'

"We did not talk about 1968," Romney said. "We discussed the abundance of leadership in the Republican party and the meaning of some of the problems facing the nation. We had a good exchange."

He did not specify any names or problems.

Asked if Viet Nam had entered the talks, Romney said: "We talked of Viet Nam in a limited way."

He did not elaborate. However, he added that he has not taken a specific position on Viet Nam and has made no specific proposals.

Shower Possibility Seen for Tomorrow

Today's sunshine will usher in warmer temperatures tonight with a low of 28 to 34.

The weatherman predicts the high will move into the 40s again tomorrow and there's a chance of brief showers late tomorrow.

Showers may dampen the area Thursday with temperatures continuing mild.

Variable morning winds at 8 to 15 miles per hour will become south to southeasterly at 6 to 12 miles tonight.

A crisp 27 was the low prior to 8 a.m. today in downtown Pontiac. The 2 p.m. reading was 43.

BISHOPS STORTFORD, England (AP)—Harry Maurice Roberts, last of the three men wanted for the slaying of three London policemen, was arrested today.

2 Men Found Shot to Death

Gangland Slayings Occur in S. Boston

BOSTON (AP) — Two more men were killed by gangland bullets in Boston today, their bodies left in a parked sedan on a South Boston street.

Detective Edward Walsh said police believe the victims were Arthur C. Bratsos 32, of Medford, and Thomas de Prisco Jr., 24, of Boston.

The bodies were found in the blood spattered back seat of Bratsos' 1964 gray Cadillac sedan. Both had been shot in the head, police said.

They were the 34th and 35th men cut down in gangland slayings in greater Boston over the past two and one-half years.

A truck driver found the bodies shortly before 7:30 a.m. near 27 A Street. Police said the men apparently had been shot elsewhere and the car driven there.

Bratsos was one of four men arrested at gunpoint in downtown Boston Oct. 4 and later indicted on charges of illegal possession of firearms.

Arrested with Bratsos at that time were Joseph Baron, 34, of Swampscott, also known as Joseph Barboza;; Nicholas V. Femia, 27, of Boston and Patrick F. Fabiano, 24, also of Boston.

At the request of Dist. Atty. Garrett H. Byrne, Superior Court Chief Justice G. Joseph Tauro set bail for Baron and Femia at $100,000 double surety.

Ward's Addition Begins

Waterford Township and Pontiac civic leaders joined S. D. Ward, district general manager of Montgomery Ward and Co., and other company officials yesterday when ground was broken for the store's 60,000-square-foot Pontiac Mall addition.

Also participating in the ceremony were William Gershenson, Eugene Arnfeld and James Wineman, owners of the Mall.

Construction of the large addition, estimated to cost $600,000, began immediately. General contractors, Bundy Construction, Inc., of Pontiac expect the project to be completed by late next summer.

Company officials said when the expansion program is completed, Ward's Pontiac Mall store will be the firm's largest facility in Michigan.

Ward also announced the firm's expanded automotive center will open Thursday.

WELL-EQUIPPED

The automotive center is equipped to provide motor tune-ups, brake service, front-end alignment, lubrication, rebuilt motor service and general automotive maintenance.

The addition will be built on the front (facing Telegraph) of the existing building. It will give Ward's complete department store facilities.

Enlarged modern-design fashion departments will offer New York's and Europe's finest style and imports for girls and women, Ward said.

Men's and boys' new styles and innovations also will be available at the expanded store, according to Ward.

Furniture displays will be complete, contends Ward, with modern, Danish, contemporary, French and Italian styling.

Bedding, household, paints, radio, television and other departments will be expanded to offer this area's most complete department store facilities, said Ward.

Outside lighting will illuminate the entire shopping center, according to Ward, who said a beauty salon and a buffeteria also are included in the plans.

Romania Says No

Soviets Back Unity Confab

SOFIA, Bulgaria (AP)—The Soviet Union threw its weight today behind a move to read Red China out of the world Communist movement, but Romania objected.

Soviet Communist leader Leonid I. Brezhnev endorsed a Bulgarian proposal for a meeting of the world's Communist parties to establish unity along pro-Soviet lines. But Secretary-General Nicolae Ceausescu of the Romanian Communist party urged that nothing be done that "could deepen disagreement and increase the danger of a split."

Ceausescu also made a harsher attack on U.S. actions in Viet Nam than either Bulgarian Premier Todor Zhivkov or Brezhnev. The Romanian returned to the stiff line that had been absent recently in the Soviet bloc, presumably because the bloc was seeking to arrange peace in Viet Nam.

Employing some of the strongest terms he has yet used against Peking's leaders, Brezhnev accused them of following "narrow nationalistic aims" and ignoring the interests of world communism.

Opening the congress yesterday, Zhivkov said he "believes that conditions are ripe" for a world Communist conference. This was the first direct call from a major Communist party for a meeting.

Brezhnev said today that "it is not by accident that a number of fraternal parties have lately been voicing the opinion that conditions are getting ever more ripe for a conference."

★ ★ ★

His careful phrasing that conditions are getting ripe indicated some Soviet caution about chances of organizing a conference. It would force Communist parties to be counted for or against Peking, and the parties in North Viet Nam, North Korea, Romania and others have been unwilling to be forced into this position.

Brezhnev attacked the Chinese refusal to cooperate on aid to North Viet Nam.

UNITY OF ACTION

"By rejecting violently the very idea of unity of action, by striving to foment in the Chinese people a feeling of hatred for Socialist countries and by continuing stubbornly their dissident activities within the international Communist movement, the leaders of the Chinese People's Republic have ever more been subjecting their party and state policy to narrow nationalistic aims, ignoring the common interests of the Socialist community and of the whole revolutionary movement," Brezhnev said.

This distinction between the current leadership in China and the people indicated to observers that Brezhnev was leaving room for the Soviet Union to do business with any new leaders who might emerge from the current turmoil in China.

★ ★ ★

His speech did not contain the abuse of the United States which used to be standard. There has been a recent moderation in remarks by Soviet leaders which has encouraged speculation that they are more interested in a negotiated settlement in Viet Nam.

Bond Is Set in Gun Death of City Girl

A Pontiac man is held at the Oakland County Jail in $30,000 bond following his arraignment in the shooting death of a city girl last weekend.

★ ★ ★

Paul A. (Tony) Gonzales, 21, of 44½ Seneca was scheduled by Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum for preliminary examination Nov. 23 on a charge of manslaughter.

BARBARA NOELL

Victim of the shooting was Barbara A. Noell, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Noell of 205 W. Princeton.

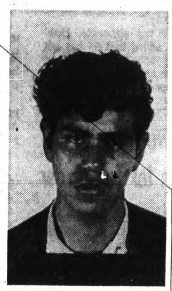
Detective Robert A. Emery said Gonzales surrendered to Pontiac police Saturday afternoon about 1, some 30 minutes after the Noell girl was shot once with a 22-caliber rifle.

★ ★ ★

Emery said Gonzales told investigators he was "fooling around" with the loaded gun before a planned deer-hunting trip with two brothers-in-law.

HOLDING GUN

Witnesses said Gonzales, holding the gun, had his back to the girl in the living room at the Seneca address when she jokingly told him, "I hope you shoot yourself."



PAUL A. GONZALES

Gonzales then spun around, Emery said, and the rifle went off, striking the girl in the left shoulder.

She got up from a chair where she had been sitting, staggered toward Gonzales, and fell on some stairs.

★ ★ ★

Gonzales, on parole for a burglary conviction, then "went crazy," witnesses said, urging them not to call police "because they'll hang me."

At the urging of a brother-in-law, police were called and the girl was taken to Pontiac General Hospital, where she was dead on arrival.

An autopsy showed the rifle slug struck the victim in the left shoulder, deflected downward off a rib and passed through her chest.

Dr. Sam's Trial Over; Jury Is Deliberating

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Common Pleas Judge Francis J. Talty turned down a renewed motion for a directed verdict of innocent in Samuel H. Sheppard's second-degree murder trial today, and ordered the case to go to a jury of seven men and five women.

Defense attorney F. Lee Bailey argued of the state's case against the 42-year-old defendant that "the overwhelming weight of the evidence is entirely inconsistent with guilt."

★ ★ ★

"There is no case against the defendant," Bailey argued, citing a minority opinion in 1956 when the Ohio State Supreme Court refused Sheppard a new trial. Sheppard later won a retrial from the U.S. Supreme Court.

"The court believes," Judge Talty told Bailey in overruling his motion, "that this is not the Sheppard case of 1954; this is the Sheppard case of 1966, a new case."

MOTIONS DENIED

Talty also turned down three motions by Bailey to strike state testimony from the record of the retrial.

★ ★ ★

The defense asked that mention of Susan Hayes as "the mystery woman or paramour or what-have-you" be erased from the record. She testified at the first trial of an illicit love affair with Sheppard which the state cited at that time as a motive in the July 4, 1954, slaying of the defendant's wife, Marilyn.

★ ★ ★

Also turned down was a defense motion to erase testimony that Dr. Richard Sheppard, brother of the defendant, asked Samuel Sheppard if he had anything to do with his wife's murder, and got a negative reply. Bailey cited this an inference to the jury that his brother thought Sam Sheppard capable of the slaying.

★ ★ ★

The other defense motion overruled was to strike Cleveland detective Robert Schottke's accusation on the afternoon of the murder that he considered Sheppard guilty. Testimony concluded Monday, without Sheppard testifying.

Pontiac Airport Future Studied

A closed-door meeting yesterday of Oakland County officials studying the possible acquisition of Pontiac Municipal Airport provoked speculation that the county's previous offer for the airport may be upgraded.

The special committee of the County Board of Supervisors ended a series of study meetings on the airport acquisition 14 months ago with a decision to offer the City of Pontiac $1 for the airport facility.

A private audit ordered by the committee indicated that the airport would operate at a deficit of $172,000 in the next five years if present facilities are not improved.

The token offer was based on the projected deficit and it was rejected by the city.

★ ★ ★

Yesterday's session reportedly was called by committee chairman David Levinson to review the previous offer and consider further action on the airport acquisition.

ANSWER UNKNOWN

A long unanswered question is whether the county will buy and develop the city airport, develop the Allen Airport in Orion Township which it owns or eventually utilize both airport facilities.

ROBERT STEVENSON

State Chairman of Fund Named

Robert Stevenson, executive vice president of Ford Motor Co., has been appointed Michigan chairman of the Radio Free Europe Fund, it was announced today.

Stevenson, who lives at 740 Kennebec Court, Bloomfield Hills, will serve a two-year term.

With Ford since 1934, Stevenson is also a member of the Society of Automotive Engineers and the Engineering Society of Detroit.

Radio Free Europe Fund is the fund-raising arm of Radio Free Europe, a private organization based in Munich, Germany which broadcasts to the Communist-ruled people of East Europe.

The 531 hours of programs broadcast weekly are to assist the East European people to achieve personal freedom and national independence by peaceful means.

Dem's Gain Not Enough in Waterford

Waterford Township Treasurer James F. Schell gained 100 votes in the board of canvassers' official tally in his Nov. 8 election race against Republican Mrs. L. Catherine Wolters.

But it's of small consolation to the 40-year-old Democrat who, despite the boost, still fell 948 votes shy of the total amassed by victorious Mrs. Wolters.

Mrs. Wolters, 45, of 4248 Woodstock, who will take over the $8,000-a-year treasurer's post April 10, polled 8,056 votes compared with Schell's 7,108 total.

The error resulted when the clerk's office recorded Schell with 225 votes in Precinct 18 instead of his actual 325 total.

★ ★ ★

It was the only change made by the board of canvassers from the original count which saw all five Democratic incumbents and a proposed fire department 1-mill levy defeated.

OTHER RACES

In the race for supervisor, Elmer Johnson defeated Dorothy Olson, 8,677 to 6,702. Clerk Elmer Fangboner was ousted, 8,378 to 6,943, by Arthur Salley.

Victorious GOP trustee-elects Ted McCullough Jr. and Herbert Cooley outpolled incumbents William Dean Jr. and Rudy Mansfield.

McCullough led with 8,722 votes, folowed by Cooley, 8,369; Dean, 6,733; and Mansfield, 6,443.

The fire department millage question went down to defeat, 6,260 to 4,780.

Youth Confesses to Rifle Slaying of 3 in Family

WINDSOR, N.C. (UPI) — It may not have been a classic case, but Sheriff Ed Daniels was "pretty satisfied" it was murder and suicide.

He had a witness — 14-year-old Rogert Bernard Lee — who told of seeing his father wrestle a rifle from his mother, shoot her several times and then fire at him as he fled the house.

Shortly after the May 28 shooting, authorities found the bodies of Willie McCoy Lee, 51; his wife Essie Mae, 41, and their daughter, Carolyn Ann, 4, Marvin Lee, 1, lay in his crib with a hip wound.

The bloody rifle was under Lee. The official ruling was murder and suicide.

But Sunday, Roger Bernard Lee tearfully confessed that he killed his father, his mother and his sister.

GRIM COUPLE — Samuel H. Sheppard and his second wife, Ariane, are shown leaving the courthouse in Cleveland yesterday after the last witnesses were heard in his second-degree murder trial which began Oct. 24. Attorneys make closing arguments today and the jury is expected to get the case tonight or tomorrow morning, the judge said.

Firm Will Correlate Planning

BIRMINGHAM — To insure against the city's future development progressing in a hodge-podge fashion, the City Commission last night hired an Ann Arbor consulting firm to correlate all planning proposals.

The firm, Johnson, Johnson & Roy, Inc., will serve as urban designers, assisting the commission in defining objectives and definite design concepts for the entire city.

These would serve as basis for controls and regulations to guide architects as they design specific buildings.

The urban designers also will review all proposed improvements for public areas—walks, streets, parking lots, open spaces and parks — so that they play a proper and effective role in the total design concept.

★ ★ ★

The firm is under contract with the city in designing a new surface treatment for Shain Park and the adjacent civic center area.

ADMENDMENT

The commission, in other business, directed the administration to prepare an amendment to the rules and regulations of garbage and rubbish collection that would permit the use of plastic or paper bags for trash.

The change will allow either type of bag to be used in addition to the regulation containers. The bags can be purchased at local hardware stores, according to Thomas C. Brien, superintendent of public works.

Brien, in recommending the revision, said that the use of the bags reduce the cost of collection to the city by about 20 per cent when they are used exclusively.

He noted, however, that the use of paper bags by all residents would increase their costs by about $100,000, and that plastic bags would cost about $50,000.

Two-hour parking restrictions Vinewood, between Woodward and Woodlawn, will remain in force though a number of residents requested a return to all-day parking.

A motion to lift the restrictions failed on a 3-3 vote of commissioners.

Santa Gets an Assist From Christmas Clubs

Santa's generous impulses will be backed this year by some $1,392,537 coming from 13,629 Christmas Club checks.

The last mailing of this year's checks from Pontiac's three major financial institutions should have reached club members by today.

Pontiac State Bank mailed out 5,200 Christmas Club checks totaling $521,000; Community National Bank 7,274 checks totaling $749,606; and First Federal Savings of Oakland 1,055 checks totaling $121,931.50.

Christmas Clubs are noninterest bearing savings programs of weekly or biweekly deposits of a minimum 50 cents. The entire account is sent to the depositor about six weeks before Christmas.

"Christmas Clubs not only supply people with money for their gift purchases, but they are also a substantial shot-in-the-arm for area merchants," commented Edward E. Barker Jr., president of Pontiac State Bank.

Split Ticket Big Factor in U.S. Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — So many voters split tickets in the Nov. 8 election that it's impossible to categorize them strictly as Democratic or Republican.

In 10 of the 22 states which elected both a governor and a senator last week, a Republican won one race and a Democrat the other.

The 10 were Alaska, unless a recount retains the democratic governor; Arkansas, Maine, Minnesota, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Tennessee and Texas.

In Nevada, a Republican was elected governor while the state's lone House member, a Democrat, was returned to office by a 2-1 ratio.

BOTH REELECTED

In Rhode Island, for example, Gov. John H. Chafee, a Republican, and Sen. Claiborne Pell, a Democrat, each won reelection by slightly under and slightly more than 2-to-1 respectively. This means at least 105,000, or 32 per cent, of the 323,000 persons who voted split their ticket.

The minimum crossover was less than 10 per cent in Minnesota, but that was more than enough to split the results.

Head Start Plans for '66 Being Drafted

Pontiac school administrators and representatives of the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity (OCCEO) yesterday began drafting plans to provide a Head Start program in the district yet this year.

★ ★ ★

"We reviewed in considerable detail the problems that have been a source of our difficulties," Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer said. "We're now in the process of following through on those plans."

The two main complaints leveled by the OCCEO against Pontiac's proposed $248,832 winter Head Start program were that classes would not be racially integrated and that no parents' advisory council was included.

The board of education has agreed to bus pupils in order to integrate each class.

★ ★ ★

Whitmer said plans for a permanent parents' council are being formulated and that a temporary group will be organized this year.

TO GET REACTIONS

"We're going to call together a group of the parents whose children will be in the program and review the program with them to get their reactions and suggestions before it is resubmitted," Whitmer said.

★ ★ ★

Before this can be done, there are several administrative problems to be ironed out.

"For example, we don't have enough busing equipment. We're trying to line it up on a lease basis now," Whitmer said. "Also, because of our large enrollment increase this year, we don't have enough rooms and we're trying to find space."

Oakland County's three new Circuit Court Judges will take office Jan. 1, but it may be another two years before they join up with the six other members of the bench.

★ ★ ★

That's how long some county officials believe it will take before new courtroom facilities will be available in the courthouse.

During that time courts will be set up in downtown Pontiac in the county's old office building at 1 Lafayette.

No decision has yet been made on where the county's new third probate judge will be housed when he takes office the first of the year.

The four judges were elected in last Tuesday's election.

NEW JURISTS

The new circuit judges are William R. Beasley, a Ferndale attorney; Farrell E. Roberts, presently serving as state senator from the 14th District; and Robert L. Templin, a former senior assistant prosecuting attorney.

Birmingham attorney Eugene A. Moore was elected probate judge.

The problem of inadequate space at the courthouse will be eased with the completion of a new wing, now under construction, and the remodeling of the first floor of the tower section to accommodate the three new circuit judges. The entire project may take 20 to 24 months to complete.

★ ★ ★

The first floor is now used by the probate division, which will be transferred into the new east wing, where the three probate courts will be located.

TENTATIVE PLANS

C. Richard Smith, circuit court administrator, said tentative plans make use of the third and fourth floor at 1 Lafayette for courts.

One court will be on the third floor in facilities now used by Judge Philip Pratt in conducting his one-man grand jury. It's not known if Pratt will have completed his investigation by Jan. 1, or where he will be relocated if it isn't completed by that time.

The other two courts will be on the fourth floor, one of them in offices now serving Pratt, the other in the former supervisor's auditorium.

★ ★ ★

The yet undetermined winner of a short term on the circuit bench will probably use Judge Pratt's court in the courthouse during his month-long term which expires Jan. 1.

Ward's Mall Addition Starts

the brand new automotive service center, will be a dominant factor in the Pontiac Mall shopping center, offering the buying public of this large area complete department store facilities," said Ward.

NEW CONCEPTS

"Plans for this new addition to the present two-story building include new concepts in customer-flow from department to department with wider main aisles which will create an at-home atmosphere," he added.

"The entire Pontiac Mall shopping center will be, with the Montgomery Ward expansion, a completely new American dream of future service geared to serve the new, young America," Ward concluded.

When the new addition is completed, the store will consist of more than 200,000 square feet of floor space.

Reds Down Three Copters; 80 Cong Slain

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Communist gunners shot down three U.S. Army helicopters in Tay Ninh Province today a few hours after B52 bombers pounded the hideout stronghold there of the Viet Cong 9th Division.

A U.S. military spokesman said he had no reports yet of casualties nor any word whether new ground action had erupted in the Communist C Zone where the largest U.S. ground force of the war is pursuing the Viet Cong. Earlier only light contact had been reported.

The helicopter losses in Tay Ninh brought the reported toll of such aircraft in South Viet Nam to at least 223.

South Vietnamese headquarters claimed 80 Viet Cong killed in a clash between a company of militiamen and a company of Viet Cong 40 miles west of Saigon. Moderate government casualties were reported.

ACTION LULL

Elsewhere across South Viet Nam, ground action continued in a lull, and bad weather over North Viet Nam reduced American air strikes sharply Monday for the fourth straight day.

Today was the sixth straight day on which the high-flying B52 bombers from Guam pounded the long-time Viet Cong stronghold along the Cambodian border 60 miles northwest of Saigon.

Lake-Level Well Gains Backing

WOLVERINE LAKE — Village council members last night won suppprt for a proposed well to raise the water level of the lake.

Area News

Concern for the future of the lake was evident as an estimated 125 to 150 persons crowded into Commerce Township Fire Hall, site of the public hearing on the well proposal.

The specific business for last night's hearing was to hear objections on the estimated $15,000 cost of the well, which is slated to be in operation in 60 to 90 days.

As detailed by Councilwoman Mrs. Clara Miler, the well project is to cost lake front property owners 30 cents a running foot or about $30 for a 100-foot lot.

Meanwhile, backlot property owners are to pay $2.20 to $2.75 for an average lot. The cost based on a figure of $5.50 per $1,000 valuation of the land only.

COST DIVIDED

Mrs. Miller said the project's cost was being divided two-third to the shoreline owners and one-third to backlot owners.

To be constructed at 350 Wolverine Drive, the well is now scheduled to operate for eight months. Mrs. Miller said the water level should rise about two inches per month.

The well project is a one-time-only assessment, said the lone councilwoman on the seven-member council. Final approval of the well project is to follow a written engineer's report.

★ ★ ★

A converted swamp, Wolverine Lake in the past has been the object of unsuccessful efforts to invoke the state's inland water statutes for lake rehabilitation.

FURTHER EFFORT

Edward Thompson, head of the Wolverine Lake Rehabilitation Association, Inc., said his group's four-year effort to have the sprawling lake renovated would get rolling again soon.

Thompson, a lake front property owner, said the citizens group had sought the re cent state legislation which simplifies procedures leading to lake rehabilitation.

State law now provides that a village can set up a "lake board" to study and initiate the renovation of an inland lake.

★ ★ ★

Thompson hoped such a board would be under way by Jan. 1.

Several questions were put to council members last night about the lake and the proposed sinking of a well.

After the costs were explained, residents appeared most concerned that existing wells might eventually be adversely affected by the 135-foot deep well for the lake.

Dale R. Dunbar, president of Dunbar Drilling, Inc., of Toledo, Ohio, who has already sunk a test well, assured those attending the meeting that existing wells would not be affected.

In other business last night, the council was besieged by complaints of unusually high water bills from residents of the Laguna Vista Subdivisions, south of Glengary.

LARGE BILL

Lawrence Jenks, 2635 Los Angeles, said he had reecived a bill for $75, which covered a nine-month period. Jenks claimed it was the first time he had seen a meter reader in nearly a year's tenure in the subdivision.

Newly appointed water commissioner Robert Parsons said there were many ramification to the water rate problem in the subdivisions.

He said he had found two different types of meters in use, homes with no meters, homes paying a metered rate and homes paying the flat $8-a-quarter-year minimum.

After lengthy discussion, including a comment from a former water meter reader in the subdivision, the council approved a motion to set up a study committee.

ESTIMATED COST

The ex-meter reader claimed an estimated $5,600 a month was going to the village toward the cost of water. He asked how much the system cost to operate per month.

Offered by Councilman Fred Stricker, the study group is to include Parsons, representatives from the affected subdivisions and a qualified engineer.

While the study group is figuring out the cost of the community-type well system, Laguna Vista Subdivision home owners are to pay the minimum rate for water.

Board Nixes Airport Bid

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — A request for a private airport at Grass Lake and McKeachie roads was turned down by the board of appeals last night.

★ ★ ★

The unanimous decision by the three-man board came at the end of a public hearing at which numerous area residents voiced objections to the proposed airport.

Charles Harris, chairman of the board of appeals, said that "due to the number of requests and information received," board members felt that "this is hardly the time or place for an airport."

Geoffrey Holmwood, 2984 McKeachie, a farmer, had requested permission to establish a private airport on 15 acres of his land for the convenience of local farmers who own planes but who can't afford radio-equipped planes required at public airports.

★ ★ ★

Holmwood's neighbor, James Brendel Jr., 1885 Hill, said that it costs $5,000 to $10,000 to buy a radio-equipped plane as opposed to $1,500 for a plane without a radio.

SAFETY HAZARD

The lack of radio equipment was one of the main objections posed by residents and township officials. They felt it created a safety hazard.

George F. Heine, 5461 Grass Lake, who said he has 87 hours of solo flight time, felt that bypassing radio control required at all airports "sets aviation back 25 years."

He also pointed out that the contour of the land makes it unsuitable for flying and that an airport would lower the value of surrounding property and affect the further attractiveness of the area for residential development.

★ ★ ★

The White Lake Citizen's League objected to the proposal because of the close proximity to residential areas.

NEAR AIRPORT

Other protests were voiced by Clifford Scherer, administrative assistant for the Huron Valley schools. He said location of the airport, about a mile from the Lee Brooks Elementary School, would constitute a sound nuisance and safety hazard.

Several persons attending the hearing complained that planes taking off and landing at the proposed airport would interfere with the flight plan of nearby Pontiac Municipal Airport.

Original opposition to the airport came from township board members in an informal poll taken two weeks ago.

★ ★ ★

Only treasurer Ronald C. Voorheis said he felt the airport would serve residents of the area who have pilot licenses.

Storyteller Set at Avon Library

AVON TOWNSHIP — Mrs. Dave Ohman will be storyteller for Saturday's story hour at the Avon Township Library. She will read animal stories and do some finger plays about Thanksgiving.

Question Confuses Troy Airfield Issue

TROY — The question of exactly what is an "aeronautical objection" stymied the Troy City Commission last night in the face of expressed unhappiness by about 100 home owners.

Problem at hand was the request of the J. M. Robbins Co. Airport to convert from private to public use.

Home owners in the area had already been strongly opposed to use of the airfield for private jet planes.

A letter from the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) informed the commission it would listen to only "aeronautical objections," and those to be stated before a deadline of Dec. 7.

Mayor Vincent McAvoy was instructed to wire the FAA for an extension in time and to ask a representative of the Michigan Aeronautical Commission to be present at the city's next meeting Nov. 28 for clarification of the problem.

FROM 'PANHANDLE'

Most of the objecting home owners were from the "Panhandle" section of Troy off 14 Mile Road, west of Stephenson.

Besides objecting to a public airport, fears regarding future control of the operation were stated by home owners. Should the airport go public, its control would pass from Troy hands to that of the FAA and residents reportedly expect an expansion program would follow.

In other business last night the commission awarded the contract for construction of water lines to Charnwood Hills No. 3 Subdivision and others to Frank Bedient for $98,644.25.

★ ★ ★

Residents of that subdivision had complained earlier this year of having to ferry drinking water into their plus — $30,000 homes and of having to take the laundry out, because of lack of water.

FINAL APPROVAL

Final plat approval was given the Piedmont Industrial Park Subdivision east of Stephenson Highway. A payment of $2,527.50 was accepted on deposit for construction of lateral sewers.

★ ★ ★

The city hired Robert Scott, head librarian of the city of Clawson, to serve as consultant librarian at a fee of $200 a month. He will spend 10 to 15 hours a week working for Troy setting up a professionally organized library.

Bruce Drain Woes Topic for Meeting

BRUCE TOWNSHIP — A meeting to work out plans for the solution of drainage problems in Bruce Township has been set for 9 a.m. tomorrow at the Macomb County Drain office.

The township was recently cited by the State Water Resources Commission for pollution and a Dec. 15 deadline has been set on plans to end the problem.

Township Supervisor Jerome E. Schoof said today, "I think we can work out something. The County Drain Commission may advise construction of a lagoon-type system."

There is as yet no deadline for completion of the pollution control project.

Affected area is the Mellen-Kaeding area north of the village of Romeo.

Township Sues on Tap-In Fees

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — The Township Board is seeking an injunction restraining the city of Farmington from tying into sewer and water lines of its newly annexed section without paying tap-in fees.

The voters last week approved annexation of 457 acres of the township to the city. The township wants to make sure that the city pays tap-in fees for the Taribussi sewer arm and water line, according to Township Clerk Floyd Cairns.

In other action last night, the board adopted an ordinance confining livestock to the premises of the owner.

Failure to confine the horses, cows or other animals will be punishable by $100 fine or 90 days in jail.

Township Clerk Floyd Cairns said there has been quite a bit of trouble lately with animals running loose.

PUBLIC HEARING

The board set Dec. 5 for a public hearing on a special assessment for a sewer on Orchard Lake Road between Bond and Burbank streets.

Last year 121,312,000 visits were made to national parks. The forecast for 1966 is 137 million visits, according to George B. Herzog Jr., director of the National Park Service.

Board Refuses to Pay Extra

FARMINGTON—The board of education last night refused to grant overtime pay to custodians if they have not worked longer than their eight-hour day.

The custodians, represented by Local 1456 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, filed a grievance last month claiming that the board broke their contract when it did not pay overtime for keeping the buildings open after normal school hours.

Schools Supt. Gerald V. Harrison said the board feels it did not break the contract because the custodians did not work overtime.

He said students or outside help is often used to supervise the buildings after normal school hours.

He said the administration contends that even if the buildings are open after normal school hours, overtime is not required if a person works eight hours within a day or 40 hours within a week.

OTHER ACTION

In other action, the board appointed Leslie Tinson as supervisor of buildings and grounds. Tinson has been with the district for seven years, the last three as assistant supervisor of buildings and grounds.

Kindness Softens Children's Grief

Even the darkest cloud has a silver lining, as two Troy children joyfully discovered over the weekend.

Broken-hearted over the bestial killing of their pet pony, Timber, by Halloween hoodlums, the spirits of the JURKIEWICZ children soared when a pony, Frisky by name, provided through the generosity of the J. L. Hudson Co. Westland store, arrived at the nearby AYERS home—pony boardinghouse.

★ ★ ★

Not only that, but another pony, this one called Cooney, appeared unexpectedly at the same address to be the companion of the Ayers children. Cooney, from Meadow Brook Farm stable, bore the figurative brand of Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson's compassion.

Although the hurt caused the young owners by the wanton cruelty to their pet has been alleviated by the solicitude shown, the savagery of the fiends who killed the defenseless animal has in no degree been expunged.

An aroused community has posted a reward of over $800 for the apprehension of those who committed the inhuman crime, and will not rest content until they are brought to justice.

Nature's Phenomena Points Eyes Skyward

A multitude of Brazilians and Peruvians swelled by scientists from many nations—300 Americans alone—witnessed the total eclipse of the sun last Saturday. And by way of icing on nature's celestial cake, the Leonid meteors made their annual appearance last night—an appearance expected to extend through Thursday.

A total solar eclipse is one of the rarest of astronomical phenomena. The sun is totally obscured by the moon for an average of only four hours and 50 minutes each century. Moreover, the best viewing points may happen to be in mid-ocean or on a rugged mountain top.

★ ★ ★

Scientists consider the benefits of eclipse-watching well worth the trouble involved. Photographs made by a National Geographic Society research team during a 1952 solar eclipse confirmed the theory that starlight can be bent by gravity.

The Leonid meteors make their appearance every year in the middle of November. The meteor shower of Nov. 12, 1833, was unusually spectacular. According to National Geographic, "Inhabitants of the Americas cringed as the sky lighted up with thousands of shooting stars. Sinners fell to their knees, repenting. Prayers were said. Bells tolled. Trembling in terror, men and women awaited the end of the world."

★ ★ ★

The Leonids reappeared in 1866 with the same intensity. Before their next rendezvous with earth, however, both Jupiter and Saturn interfered with the meteors' orbit, with the result that our planet now passes through only the fringes of the Leonid swarm. Still, astronomers expect this year's shower to be heavier than most.

Experience Proves Medicare 'Fears' Unfounded

The introduction of Medicare has not resulted in serious overcrowding of hospitals, as many foresaw. Nationwide, general hospital occupancy ranged from 70 to 90 per cent during the first month after Medicare went into effect. Local hospitals report that the Federal hospitalization plan has presented no occupancy problem of consequence.

That overcrowding has not occurred is largely due to the cooperative efforts of the medical profession and government that began many years ago with the passage of the Hill-Burton Act enacted following World War II to stimulate state planning and construction of hospitals with Federal assistance. The American Medical Association endorsed the legislation.

★ ★ ★

That was more than 20 years ago. Since then, the program has done much to stimulate the construction of hospital facilities. As of March, 1966, U. S. Public Health Service reports showed that a total of 8,139 projects providing over 346,000 beds had been approved under the Hill-Burton law.

Since its inception, the program has been broadened to include grants for nursing homes, chronic disease hospitals, diagnostic and treatment centers, rehabilitation facilities, modernization and replacement of obsolete hospitals and other health centers.

★ ★ ★

In the words of the AMA News, expansion of hospitals and related facilities under Hill-Burton "has been a prime example of coordinated effort among agencies of Federal, state and local governments, working with medical and other professional organizations, voluntary health agencies, and hospitals."

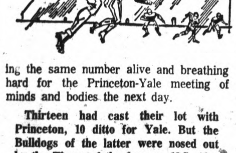
It takes a lot more than oratory and good intentions to maintain high medical standards and adequate health care for the American people.

Press Grid Contest in Crucial Stage

Well, let's see, where were we? Oh, yes—The Press Annual Football Contest that involves a winner's award of a $500 U.S. Savings Bond.

Up for discussion, as if you didn't know, are the back-to-back games of last Friday night and Saturday afternoon.

In the moonlight exercise, Kettering's Captains scuttled Waterford's Skippers 20-6. They also scuttled 23 contestants, leaving the same number alive and breathing hard for the Princeton-Yale meeting of minds and bodies the next day.



Thirteen had cast their lot with Princeton, 10 ditto for Yale. But the Bulldogs of the latter were nosed out by the Tigers of the former, 13-7. Also nosed out were 10 more contestants.

We turn now to the 12th and 13th games of the contest schedule, bracketed like the last two over a weekend.

Friday evening, Pontiac's two high schools stage their annual grid grapple, and Saturday sees UCLA's Uclans working like Trojans against the Trojans of Southern California.

The vital statistics show eight pulling for the Chiefs of Pontiac Central to scalp Northern's Huskies, four are hopeful that said Huskies will rout the Indians, while a lone entrant crystal-balled a tie.

So much for No. 12. Let's look at No. 13—one that will indubitably prove unlucky for some. If Northern High wins, its four supporters split three for the Uclans and one for Southern Cal. The eight who camped with the Chiefs line up six for UCLA, two for the Trojans.

★ ★ ★

Since no tie is predicted, in the event of a standoff the game would be scrubbed, with the survivors left gnawing their nails until the following Thursday — when the Lions and the 49ers engage in a Thanksgiving Day tussle.

The day could well be one of thanksgiving for a lucky contestant.

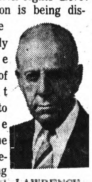
Heil!

David Lawrence Says:

Voters Opposed Rights Methods

WASHINGTON — What impact will the recent elections have on the civil rights drive?

This question is being discussed here not merely from the standpoint of politics but with respect to the future trend of the whole movement dealing with racial discrimination in America.



LAWRENCE

Perhaps one of the most significant statements on the subject has just been made by Dr. Sterling W. Brown, president of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

In a speech here this week he declared that the civil rights movement seems to be faltering because it has put its faith in naked power and has neglected "the techniques of brotherhood."

While many people will agree with Dr. Brown's statement, there is no gainsaying the fact that the civil rights movement has been reflecting a deep feeling of resentment and, indeed, the agonizing sadness of those Negroes who, after having obtained a good education, believe that they have not been given fair treatment in the business or professional world.

But in every public question on which grievances and injustices have accumulated over the years, there is always the more important issue — how corrective measures or remedies can be applied.

The Negro leaders have taken it for granted that demonstrations — even though some of them lead to violence — are worthwhile as a means of publicizing their inability to get equality of treatment.

These same leaders, however, have not anticipated the reactions of an electorate which recognizes a good objective but sees a wrong way being used in trying to attain it.

The recent election undoubtedly reflected a wave of protest by voters who did not disapprove of the purposes of the civil rights movement but who seriously questioned the methods used. Many Negroes themselves are unhappy about the demonstrations that have led to violence.

As population in America grows, the problem of race relations will become even more pressing. But solutions will not be found merely through legislation or protest demonstrations.

Indeed, the wisest thing the Negro leaders could do would be to declare a moratorium on demonstrations of all kinds for at least a year or two, while community efforts to establish better relations between whites and Negroes are given an opportunity to develop the kind of cooperation that will eventually break down the barriers of racial friction and substitute human understanding.

Bob Considine Says:

A Top Churchman Urges Race Relations Education

NEW YORK — One of our more enlightened men of God, Dr. Sterling W. Brown, president of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, made the main talk when former President Dwight Eisenhower received the conference's Charles Evans Hughes award.

CONSIDINE

He spoke about education. He was for it.

He was for it in a field where it has been having heavy going. Dr. Brown feels it is high time that the NCCJ pitched in and did more about education in race relations.

No one questions the strides the organization has made in bettering religious relations since it was set up by Hughes, Newton D. Baker, S. Parkes Cadman, Roger W. Straus, Charlton J. H. Hayes and other men of good heart nearly 40 years ago. But much has been left undone in the racial field.

"All the attention has been placed on laws, marches and demonstrations," he said before taking off for Washington for the Eisenhower dinner.

"We need more education to get the races together, as we still need more education to attain brotherhood and understanding among the religions.

"The NCCJ must concern ourselves with this racial problem. We're not barging in uninvited. We're fulfilling the basic destiny outlined for us by our founding fathers.

"They set up this organization to develop friendship, amity and cooperation among Protestants, Catholics and Jews.

"They hoped we'd 'ameliorate and finally eliminate all intergroup strife.' What's racial disorder except 'intergroup strife?'

"We need education on both sides in the racial matter, education among the whites, education among the Negroes.

"A lot of whites know only trouble-making Negroes. The most responsible Negroes in many communities in the nation are not known. They need identification."

Dr. Brown believes the nation is in serious trouble with its peculiar kind of apartheid. But he saw a couple of lights at the end of the tunnel in the wake of the recent elections.

"I think we saw two historical breakthroughs in that election," he said.

"Edward W. Brooke, a Negro who had more support from Massachusetts whites than Negroes, was elected to the U.S. Senate—first Negro to make it since reconstruction days."

"Winthrop Rockefeller won in Arkansas over an opponent worse than almost any racist rabblerouser you could name. He split the rural hard-core vote and won, going away."

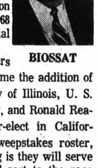
Romney, Nixon Top 1968 Bets

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA) — A quick telephone check of a few key Republican leaders around the country indicates that, in the glowing aftermath of GOP victories, it is still Michigan's Gov. George Romney and Richard Nixon for the 1968 presidential nomination.



BIOSSAT

The leaders warmly welcome the addition of Charles Percy of Illinois, U. S. Senate winner, and Ronald Reagan, governor-elect in California, to the sweepstakes roster, but the feeling is they will serve mostly to add zest to the race and give it a surface look of flexibility and openness.

Romney would have been a serious 1968 prospect even if he had done no more than win big for himself, which he did this time by 570,000 votes, but he also met the conditions set partly by his detractors and partly by cold professionals. He helped pull in Sen. Robert Griffin and five congressmen.

Nixon gets a healthy rub-off of credit for the fact that the GOP picked up 47 U. S. House seats, since he concentrated his campaign efforts in many of the winners' districts. He is still a strong southern favorite, and his stock was not hurt when President Johnson attacked him at the end as if he were Mr. Republican.

Riding on a 400,000-vote margin, the attractive young Percy is seen by party figures as sure to be a steady attention-getter in Washington. But, with respect to 1968 presidential chances, one leader says:

"That would be an improbable thing." Another, in the Midwest, adds: "The way I understand it, even his own people (in Illinois) are not quite ready for that yet."

Though the "not yet" sentiment seems widespread, one seasoned political organizer thinks Percy could crank up quickly even with what will be his limited experience in public office. Anti-Romney moderates — and there are some — surely will be drawn to him.

Reagan, like Percy, is seen as a man who needs time in office to prove himself before going for the big job. Says the same veteran organizer: "If I were advising Reagan, I'd tell him to sit in Sacramento and learn how to be one hell of a topflight governor."

★ ★ ★

Both Reagan and Percy swiftly indicated intent to serve out their full terms, but this may prove tougher for Reagan, the new hero of his party's strong conservatives.

★ ★ ★

Professionals believe these ardent folks will be busily forming Reagan clubs from here on and that his disavowals of interest will be ignored. His hand could be forced.

Nixon, for all his high status with many party regulars, suffers from the drain of the conservative interest toward Reagan. More and more, too, professionals are arguing that he must go the 1968 primary route to have any chance. Says one:

"People are likely to say to Nixon: 'Show us you're a winner.' "

Some of Nixon's friends think the primaries could prove bloody and costly for him. Yet he has to lick the "loser's image."

Romney likewise has his problems. The biggest is the nagging notion, expressed by one midwestern leader, that the governor still has not proved his grasp of major foreign and domestic affairs.

★ ★ ★

Romney, moreover, is believed to be in serious need of more staff people knowledgeable in national politics, who can get him and his moderate supporters some early momentum before any opposition can crystallize as Goldwater forces did in 1964.

Problems notwithstanding, Romney and Nixon nevertheless remain the big choices in a field made wider and more exciting by newcomers Reagan and Percy.

Russian Interest in Telepathy Is Liked

LONDON (UPI) — Russia's intense interest in telepathy — the apparent transmission of thought from one mind to another — is particularly gratifying to the Society for Psychical Research (SPR) whose members have been absorbed in the same study for nearly 90 years.

Like space scientists before the first Russian Sputnik went into orbit, the members of the SPR are accustomed to having their findings rather lightly regarded by fellow researchers.

Those who did not scoff outright often wondered aloud what the SPR was trying to prove.

The question now is what are the Russians trying to prove?

★ ★ ★

And one answer is that they accept the existence of telepathy as proven and are experimenting to see whether this extraordinary faculty, which appears to annihilate distance, can be controlled and put to some practical use.

RECENT EXPERIMENTS

The most recent experiments reported from Russia duplicate those pioneered by the SPR which coined the word "telepathy."

According to Komsomoskaya Pravda, the organ of the Young Communist League, a scientist in Novosibirks guessed nearly 50 per cent of the cards studied by another scientist in Moscow, 2,000 miles away.

He also "recognized" about 25 per cent of the objects placed before the Moscow scientist.

★ ★ ★

The Society of Psychical Research, whose membership includes and has included many eminent scientists, conducted similar experiments for many years.

NOT CONVINCED

Some of its members are still not convinced that the alleged telepathic results might not have been the result of chance.

Others believe the studies by SPR members have revealed telepathy to be a latent power of the human mind.

In Russia one of the leading researchers is Dr. L. L. Vasiliev, author of "Experiments in Mental Suggestion."

He once had a subject in Sevastapol put to sleep by a hypnotist in Leningrad, some 1,200 miles away.

The work of the SPR in the field of extrasensory perception is purely scientific.

NO SUGGESTION

There has never been any suggestion that its work might lead to anything more than better understanding of the human mind. But a recent study the Rand Corp. suggested that a crash program might produce a technique of mind reading in the next century.

Asked about this a member of the SPR, laughed and said:

"If you mean someone in the Kremlin reading the mind of the President as he scans secret papers in the White House — I don't think that will ever happen.

★ ★ ★

"At the moment only rare and gifted persons achieve hopeful telepathic results — but that's been the case for decades and there's no sign of any change, at least in Britain."

Flint Mayor Is a Negro

FLINT (UPI) — For the first time in the city's history, Flint residents have a Negro mayor.

Floyd J. McCree was named to the post on a 5-4 vote by the Flint City Commission yesterday.

McCree, the only Negro on the nine-man commission, is a production worker at an auto factory.

Junior Editors Quiz on LAUGHTER

QUESTION: Why do we laugh?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Although scientists cannot tell us exactly why we laugh, they agree with the rest of us that laughter and smiles are the expression of happy or pleasurable feelings.

Experts often sort out our emotions into two main groups. The feelings of anger, fear and hate speed up bodily processes. The heart beats faster, sending more blood into the veins, giving extra energy in case we have to take some extreme action.

The other, more pleasant group is the one containing joy, happiness, love. Laughter is said to be connected with this group. If we are very happy, the bodily processes speed up too, but there is usually not much physical activity which needs to be accomplished.

It may be that we instinctively "work off" this extra energy by exercising our facial and other muscles with smiles or laughter or perhaps by waving our arms and jumping around, as the happy young folks are doing in our picture. Funny things also make us laugh.

Jokes generally show familiar things in unexpected, ridiculous new situations, such as the rain coming from the clown's umbrella (small picture).

★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Learn to laugh a lot! It will make you feel better.

Northeast Thailand Is Ripe for Reds

(EDITOR'S NOTE: A Washington policy decision to limit U. S. military involvement in Thailand has focused fresh attention on the Communist-led insurgency in the northeast sector of the country. This is the first of two dispatches on the situation.)

By RAY CROMLEY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEAR NAKHON PHANOM, NORTHEAST THAILAND — (NEA) — Our car cannot move fast because the dirt road is rutted and the wooden bridges have twisted and missing planks.

* * *

Several local militiamen at a checkpoint wave us on. My Thai friend says the station's militia chief is a local teacher.

Three Thais and this reporter are going into a part of the northeast where the Communist underground has been expanding and insurgency is rife.

This trip through the craggy mountain ranges is not dangerous at midday. Night is another matter.

The woods by the roadside don't look appreciably different from the California woodlands I camped in as a boy — but in these hills Communist guerrillas hide.

This 987-mile auto trip is the only way to understand the differences between the troubled areas of the northeast where terrorism is on the increase and the rest of Thailand.

After we cross the range, the rice plants are shorter, the grains on the plants fewer, the water scarcer than in the rich farmlands of the south. The poverty is evident.

The ramshackle houses look as if they are tacked together with odds and ends. The roofs leak. the siding is broken in many dwellings and walls are pocked with holes.

There is a feeling of desolation and despair. Many people move slowly, a look of grim resignation in their faces. But the real problem in northeast Thailand is not economic.

FEELING OF ISOLATION

Worse than the poverty is the feeling of isolation. The people believe they are alone and ignored.

Villagers think about the police as some Americans in Kentucky once thought about the revenuers. It is this despair, fear and isolation which makes the northeast ripe for Communist subversion.

Eradication of these problems would make it virtually impossible for Communists to gain a stronger hold. Little, however, is being done.

Meanwhile, Communists continue to operate with the apparent knowledge of Thai police officials. A number of these Communists happen to be North Vietnamese, since 40,000 of them are residents of northeast Thailand.

A Thai policeman took me to meet the North Vietnamese Communist leader in one of the villages in the area. The officer, whose specialty is checking Communist subversion, advised me to act unconcerned.

The policeman acted as if he didn't know his pal was a Communist. The Vietnamese pretended that the cop didn't know.

"I leave him alone," the policeman said as we walked away. "That way I can keep check on whom he's meeting. If I arrest him, then I don't know who to watch."

This Vietnamese operates under the guise of a civic-charity organization. Thus, he can hold meetings at his home without arising undue suspicion.

The attitude of the 40,000 Vietnamese here may be a clue to the attraction Hanoi holds for some non-Communists in South Viet Nam.

* * *

Go to a Vietnamese home here and you'll probably see a picture of Ho Chi Minh prominently displayed. This doesn't necessarily mean that the householder is a Communist or even that he favors the north. It means he is a hationalist.

To him, Ho is the man who led the war of liberation against the French. And the south has produced no hero equal to Ho.

Journalism Meeting

Uticans to Visit

By SUE OWEN

Utica High School's newspaper staff will attend a workshop at Michigan State University Thursday.

Sponsored by the journalism department at Michigan State, the meeting will provide a place to exchange high school newspaper and yearbook ideas.

There will be a display of various school newspapers.

Staff members who are attending are Donna Aberlich, James Beck, Janice Coldwell, Janice Day, Charlene Cates, Diane Hudgens, Marianne Loncarski, James Longtine, Susan Owen, Michael Walsh, and the Arrow sponsor, Valerie Barnes.

Spanish Club plans to hold a Christmas party, adopt a Spanish-speaking orphan, take a trip to a Spanish restaurant and see the "Ballet Folklorico" (Folk Dances).

The Writers' Club's first meeting was held Wednesday.

Officers chosen were Gay Chrostek, president; Mark Craft, treasurer; Karyn Shimkus, vice president; Diane Birstol, secretary and Gail Phillips, editor.

"Think Snow" is the motto for the UHS Ski Club. Its sponsors are Judith Isaacson, James Thomas, and James King.

★ ★ ★

Plans were discussed for a skiing weekend and the weekly meets at its first meeting held Wednesday.

Last year the club, with 190 members, was the largest at UHS.

The club will ski weekly at Mt. Holly. Equipment is available at the resort at a minimum fee.

German Club will hold its third meeting tonight in the UHS cafeteria at 7 p.m.

Future Homemakers' Association is sponsoring a bake sale in the cafeteria Friday.

Dec. 15 the club will take a field trip to Consumers Power Co.

The Chess Club meets Thursdays at 7 p.m. in Room 155. Sponsors this year are James Gossett and Florine Zanardelli.

Officers are James Beck, president; Ronald Cooley, secretary; Thomas Bilich, treasurer, and Richard Sherba, publicity chairman.

Fencing Club will "duel" against Mt. Clemens this Friday.

Seaholm Holds Mock Election

By HOLLY ALFS

Seaholm High School held a mock election last week. Every Republican candidate won by a large margin except George Washington.

The proposal concerning lowering the voting age to 18 was opposed by about two-thirds of the faculty, while the students were divided, 916 for and 860 against.

Each year, months prior to the Christmas rush, Mrs. Joan Marks begins a 10-hour holiday training program for all students interested in jobs.

Working with the Birmingham merchants, Mrs. Marks trains her students in five of six factors necessary for the jobs offered.

★ ★ ★

These range from operating a cash register and making out refunds, to greeting a customer.

The annual Thanksgiving Dance, sponsored by American Field Service-Youth for Understanding is well under way.

This year's theme will be "The Open Heart," with the cafeteria decorated to resemble the inside of a hunting lodge.

Funds will go toward the expenses for next year's exchange students.

The final acts for Funs-A-Poppin', Seaholm's all-school variety show, have been chosen.

In keeping with tradition, the school band will open and close the show.

A folk dance by all of the AFS-YFU foreign exchange students will add to the talent variety.

The Public Is Invited Saturday Evening

By CHRIS BLAKENEY

It's time for Pontiac Central's annual children's play.

This year under the direction of Central's new dramatic teacher, Arnold Bernstein, the students will do seven performances of "Aladdin and the Wonderful Lamp."

Aladdin, an Arabian youth who gains possession of a magic lamp, falls in love with the Emperor's daughter, Princess Adora, and triumphs over the evil magician.

Portraying lead roles are Pete Miller (Aladdin), Diane Nicholl (Adora) and Victor Adams (the magician).

★ ★ ★

Matinee performances began last Friday at 3 p.m. in the auditorium, and will continue through this Friday.

PRE-SCHOOLERS INVITED

Tickets are being sold at the various elementary schools and, for preschoolers, at the door.

The public is invited to the evening performance on Saturday at 8. Tickets for this performance will be on sale at the door.

For groups of more than 20 people, the price will be reduced.

Variety Show Friday at NFHS

By KATHY KOURTJIAN

The All-School Variety Show will be the highlight of the week when it is presented at North Farmington High School Friday evening at 8.

Of the many selections which were considered, the number has been narrowed down to 10 finalists.

Four bands performing include the Corsairs, the Little by Littles, the Moques, and the Radicals.

The Countrymen, a folks singing group, wil add its talent.

★ ★ ★

Solo pianists are Nancy Green, Laura Kahn and Don Peterson.

TWO TO SING

Mary Kay Burr and Kathy Kubit will display their voices in vocal numbers.

Profits from the show go to the junior class, earmarked for college scholarships.

The annual Open House was held last Wednesday. It was a program to familiarize parents with the school, its policies, and the students' daily routine.

★ ★ ★

Response by the parents was higher than in previous years.

LOOKING AHEAD

Looking ahead on the calendar, the Student Council Exchange Day has been scheduled with Oak Park High.

Our council members will visit there tomorrow and their members will be at NFHS next Thursday.

Yearbooks have gone on sale this week.

★ ★ ★

Students may have their name engraved in gold on their yearbook for a small additional fee. Orders will be taken until early December.

Sadie Hawkins Event Friday at Rochester

By KARIN HEADLEE

Rochester High School's annual Sadie Hawkins Dance, sponsored by the Conservation Club, will be held Friday from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. in the cafeteria.

Entertainment will be furnished by the Whereabouts.

A fine of 50 cents over the nominal admittance will be charged all people who don't appear dressed in Dogpatch style.

Brother Rice Seniors Hear Debate Teams

By GARRY MILLER

During the second period yesterday seniors of Brother Rice High School heard a debate between the debate teams of Pennsylvania State University and the University of Illinois.

This was held in conjunction with the Detroit Debate Day Program sponsored by Oakland University.

The topic was "Resolved: That the United States Should Substantially Reduce Foreign Policy Commitments."

The debate centered around the United States' involvement in the Union of South Africa.

Pennsylvania State took the affirmative and the University of Illinois took the negative.

Before the debate started, polls of opinion ballots were passed out.

Students were asked to give their opinion on the topic.

After the discussion, they were asked about their opinion again. Most had a definite shift of opinion.

St. Lawrence Student Council Discusses Plans

By JAMES PAKLEDINAZ

The Student Council at Utica's St. Lawrence High School is having open meetings on Monday and Friday of this week.

To be discussed are the Thanksgiving dance and the idea of a foreign-exchange student.

There will be parent-teacher meetings on Tuesday and Thursday of this week.

The underclassmen are having their individual pictures taken on Monday and Wednesday.

On Thursday, the photographer for the yearbook will be here.

He is going to be taking candid photographs for this year's Jewel.

The actors and actresses of the senior play are polishing their parts in nervous anticipation of the opening curtain.

The play, "Best Foot Forward," will be presented on Nov. 20 and 21 at 8:15 in the evening.

Kingswood Student Panel Promotes Religious Life

By CINDY GRISSOM

Next week the Student Cabinet at Kingswood School will be busy providing opportunities for reflection and service.

The Cabinet, composed of six girls and six Cranbrook boys, promotes the religious life of the schools and provides opportunities for service.

The first special event will be held Friday through Sunday when several junior and senior girls and a faculty adviser will go to the Aurora Inn in Aurora, Ohio, to attend the Lake Erie Religious Conference.

This meeting of students to discuss pertinent religious and moral issues is nondenominational. It has been held previously at Oberlin, Ohio.

★ ★ ★

The topic will be "Christianity and Conformity."

The speaker will be the chaplain of Smith College, the Rev. Ben Anderson.

The second event is the annual Chapel Pledge Drive. Kingswood raises money through these pledges and through other projects for charity.

Among these charities is the support of three foster children. Another is the aid to Children's Hospital in Detroit.

★ ★ ★

This year, a new project was started. Under the Peace Corps program we will build a school for an underdeveloped area.

Last year students from both schools tutored elementary pupils from Detroit Inner City at Cranbrook.

This year the volunteers are ready, but so far no bus can be found to transport the children.

Kingswood members of this active committee are Candy Angel, Ann Brand, Margaret Christiansen, Patricia Dwyer, Mary Duryea, and Billy Pivnick.

Model U.N. Will Convene

By PATRICIA POLMEAR

Marian High School's Model United Nations (MUN) will convene Saturday in the school gym.

Initiated five years ago, 43 Marian and seven Brother Rice delegations will participate in the annual two-day session.

In September, a second general meeting was held to acquaint the students with the procedure, which will follow the exact method used in the United Nations in New York.

Western, Eastern, and neutral bloc heads have called caucus meetings in an effort to incorporate solutions satisfactory to all countries involved into their proposals.

Committee chairman for the question of Viet Nam is senior Maureen Savage.

Nuclear Disarmament Committee head is Kathryn Kolasa, senior.

The third problem, "How to cope with the unprecedented growth of population," is headed by Mary Beth Snyder, senior.

Members of the Secretariat, which is the presiding body of the U. N. includes President Deborah Uetz, Secretary-General Maureen Savage, and Silent Secretary Susan Slavin.

Faculty moderator is Sister Veronita, history department chairman.

Each delegation will have at least one member each day of the session in a costume depicting its country.

On the first day, delegates will receive country fact sheets drawn up by a member of the delegation, stating basic facts concerning population, land area, occupations, and foreign policy.

Displays made by the participating students will be exhibited throughout the school.

A film, "The Hat," with a discussion following, is scheduled for Saturday.

Traditionally, the "white paper" presentation will be determined by the Secretariat. The white paper is a problem given to each delegation without previous announcement.

During the time allotted, each delegation or bloc attempts to find some solution.

Awards will be presented to the top delegation and ten best individual speakers.

Freshmen history students, under the direction of Sr. Kenneth Marie, social studies teacher, will act as U. N. pages.

Plastic Tubing Is Approved for Water Line Use

An amendment to the Waterford Township water supply system ordinance, allowing the use of polyethylene plastic tubing for connections from water mains to households and buildings, was adopted by the Township Board last night.

Introduced at the board's Sept. 26 meeting, the amendment won 6-0 approval at last night's meeting.

Hitherto, copper piping has been used to hook up buildings to water mains.

One of the main advantages in using plastic tubing is that it is considerably less expensive than copper.

Township Utilities Manager Kenneth Squiers estimates that plastic tubing can be purchased for about one-third less than copper.

Copper piping also is more scarce, according to Squiers.

Use of polyethylene plastic tubing in communities was given the green light last June by the state health department and the state plumbing board.

Waterford News

Squiers estimates the township will use 15,000 to 20,000 feet of plastic tubing next year.

In other business last night, the board set next Monday night as the public hearing date for the proposed 1967 water department budget.

WATER REVENUE

The department's anticipated revenue next year is $453,805, including $275,000 from the metered sale of water.

Estimated expenditures total $294,789. The balance of $159,015 would be available for debt retirement in 1968 to defray revenue bond costs for the township water supply system.

Proposed in the budget is the hiring of three men, classified Laborer II, to compensate for an increased work load. Also, a repairman would be hired to fill a vacancy due to a retirement next March.

The department's revenue for the current year is estimated at $344,400.

TRAFFIC STUDY

A request for traffic regulations at Oakland Community College's Highland Lakes Campus district was tabled until further information is received.

New Trial OK'd in Corvair Suit

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Attorneys for General Motors yesterday won a motion for a new trial in a $66,000 damage suit resulting from an accident involving GM's rear-engine Corvair.

Superior Judge Laurence J. Rittenband, in a 15-page written opinion, granted a new trial on grounds of insufficient evidence presented at the trial by witnesses in behalf of the plaintiff.

A Superior Court jury had ruled 9-3 on Sept. 2 in favor of Mrs. Rosemary Cantos of Torrance, Calif., and her daughter, Loann, who were injured in an accident in San Fernando, Calif. in September of 1960.

The accident occurred as Joe Cantos, her husband, was driving a new Corvair from a Chevrolet dealer in San Fernando to his dealer-employer in Bakersfield, Calif.

* * *

The jury, which started hearing the case July 28, granted Mrs. Cantos $65,000 and her daughter, $1,000.

ONLY SETBACK

According to a GM spokesman, it was the only setback in a series of lawsuits involving the design of the Corvair. However, one case involved a $1 settlement.

Judge Rittenband chastised the testimony of witnesses for Mrs. Cantos as "perhaps the most incomprehensive gibberish that this court has ever heard.

"The jury clearly should have reached a contrary verdict," he said in view of the "unintelligible testimony" that was "singularly deficient in any familiarity with many of the scientific principles applicable in automotive engineering."

High Court Crosses Threshold on Rights Protests

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has crossed a threshold in civil rights protest cases.

Whether it has broken sharply with its past holdings is subject to interpretation. Justice Hugo L. Black says the court has not. Justice William O. Douglas says it has.

But however little or much the court may have veered, Monday's 5-4 ruling in a Tallahassee, Fla., case enhances state power to declare certain kinds of government property off limits for even peaceful protest.

Specifically off limits because they were at issue in the Tallahassee case are the driveways and premises of jail houses.

NOT FORBIDDEN

Black, in writing the court's decision, did not give other instances of government property which could be declared off limits. But he, and the court majority, undoubtedly mean to encompass more than just county jail houses, for he concluded with this general statement:

"The United States Constitution does not forbid a state to control the use of its own property for its own lawful nondiscriminatory purpose."

* * *

And he likened government authority in this field to the right of a private person to guard his back yard against trespassing, for he also said:

"The state, no less than a private owner of property, has power to preserve the property under its control for the use to which it is lawfully dedicated."

NOT VERY SURPRISING

The decision was not very surprising. In several recent cases various members of the court have demonstrated increasing impatience with civil rights protests.

Just last February, when the court reversed the conviction of five Louisiana Negroes who refused to leave a public library, Black thundered from the bench: "It is time to sit up and take notice and think where we are going."

Dissenting from that 5-4 decision, Black, an avid defender of free speech, said that while "the right of protest should be kept sacred, I shall never agree to any opinion or holding that people may go anyplace and insist on staying in that place to exercise their right to talk."

Monday, it was Douglas' turn to dissent vigorously and issue a warning. After the decision was announced, he — like Black, a free speech advocate — said from the bench:

"We now have set into the record a great and wonderful police state doctrine."

N.Y. Officials on Offense in Topless War

NEW YORK (AP) — City and state authorities have begun a crackdown on topless waitresses in an apparent effort to keep the West Coast craze from gaining a foothold in New York.

Police arrested two topless waitresses on a charge of indecent exposure Monday night, and took them into custody for the first time since they began working last week at an East Side Manhattan supper club.

★ ★ ★

As the waitresses, Ruby Diamond, 28, and Florence R. Mayer, 27, left the Crystal Room supper club fully clothed, several patrons cheered. Others booed.

Also arrested was the club's manager, Chester Von Savage, 51, charged with permitting indecent exposure.

MADE DEBUT

Miss Diamond has been working at the Crystal Room since last Wednesday night, when topless waitresses made their debut in New York City. Before Monday night, police had issued nightly summonses on charges of offending public decency and the girls continued working.

★ ★ ★

Earlier Monday, last week's charges against Miss Diamond and Mary Rooney, 25, were changed to indecent exposure, a more serious charge. A hearing for this case was set for Dec. 7 by Criminal Court Judge Julius Archibald.

Eddie Fisher Is Suing Liz

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Singer Eddie Fisher has filed a divorce suit against Elizabeth Taylor, saying her 1964 Mexican divorce from him is invalid. He said he was not represented when her decree was granted.

★ ★ ★

The 34-year-old actress is now married to British actor Richard Burton. Before marrying Fisher she was married to hotelman Nicky Hilton, actor Michael Wilding and producer Mike Todd.

Fisher, 38, once the husband of actress Debbie Reynolds, asked in the suit filed Monday that the court rule his marriage to Miss Taylor valid, then grant him a divorce, divide community property and determine who should have custody of Liza Todd Fisher, Miss Taylor's daughter by Todd.

★ ★ ★

Fisher said he adopted the girl in 1961, and asked for visitation rights if he does not receive custody. The suit alleges Miss Taylor deserted Fisher in 1962.

A Digest of Innovations

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newsfeatures

After a visit to Photokina 1966, one has to digest the mass of information and impressions received from people and products which inundated a spectator at the scene at the time.

★ ★ ★

Recall that this "World's Fair of Photography," usually held at two-year intervals in Cologne, Germany, had 597 exhibitors, about half of them representing photographic firms outside Germany; and that 196,000 people attended the nine-day sessions, more than 25,000 of them being foreign visitors.

A general look at the direction in which technicians of the photographic industry have been heading for years reveals the search for simplification of photography through:

- Easier-to-handle cameras and accessory equipment;
- Automatic operations to replace complicated settings;
- Elimination of the error factor, thereby increasing the number of satisfactory photos and, simultaneously, satisfied photographers.

★ ★ ★

New cameras and equipment aim at these objectives through various new gadgets. Here's a broad summary of how the new products try to achieve maximum operating simplicity:

★ ★ ★

In cameras, the simplified drop-in loading of Kodapak cartridges, Rapid cassettes and other new quick-loading systems for 35mm films is the basis for many new models.

Kodapak cartridges and Rapid cassettes have automatic built-in film speed settings and do not require the film to be rewound. This saves time and trouble on occasions of extended shooting.

Many new models also feature automatic film transport by built-in motor, automatic exposure control for flash as well as for artificial light or daylight or have some form of semiautomatic control for those who wish to exercise artistic control.

★ ★ ★

There is automatic setting of shutter speed and exposure control by insertng a flashcube and automatic flash synchronization by accessory shoe contact.

There is also automatic allowance for filter factors by through-the-lens light meters on single-lens reflex cameras.

In movie cameras, there is simplified loading with Super 8 and Single 8 film cartridges which automatically set film speed. There is automatic exposure control, in some cases by through-the-lens exposure meters.

Built-in filters require only one type of film to be used and there is automatic conversion to artificial light when a movie light is attached to the camera.

★ ★ ★

Slide projectors now feature automatic focusing, remote or wireless control of slide changing or automatic slide changing by electronic timing unit or tape recorder impulse.

VOLUME CONTROL

Movie projectors switch easily from regular 8 to Super 8, have automatic threading onto the take-up spool and automatic volume control on sound projectors.

Electronic flash units have automatic switching off or reduction of the current on reaching operating voltage of the capacitor, thereby saving current consumption and giving more flashes per charge.

There is also automatic exposure control by electronic measurement of the amount of light reaching the subject.

★ ★ ★

undoubtedly, great advances in the electronic field, as applied to photography, account for simplification of picture taking effort.

But electronics and automation have yet to replace human judgment in selecting subject matter, camera angle and instant of shooting.

Reuther Is Missing Foreign Policy Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther reportedly is boycotting an AFL-CIO foreign policy conference which he demanded several months ago.

"He feels the whole thing is stacked against him," said a source close to Reuther, who sent word to AFL-CIO President George Meany that he was too busy to come here for sessions which began Monday.

★ ★ ★

The Reuther-Meany foreign policy fight erupted last summer when Reuther charged that Meany's firm position against dealing with Communist satellite nations was undermining President Johnson's efforts to "build bridges" to the Communist world.

While Reuther's telegram said he is remaining in Detroit because of a meeting of the UAW executive board, a Reuther confidant said:

"He just feels there is nothing to be gained by being here."

AWKWARD ABSENCE

This source conceded that Reuther's absence is awkward because "he was the one who was asking for this thing."

The UAW International Executive Board issued a statement late Monday saying:

★ ★ ★

"The UAW International Executive Board, meeting in Detroit this week, is dealing with collective bargaining questions and other matters that directly relate to the interests and welfare of UAW members and their families, and these matters of necessity have priority on the time of UAW leadership."

Reuther and his brother, Victor, who heads UAW international affairs, outraged Meany last June by asserting the AFL-CIO was acting as a front for the Central Intelligence Agency and undermining Johnson's foreign policy.

★ ★ ★

One of the issues was the walkout of the AFL-CIO delegation from the International Labor Organization in Geneva when it elected Leon Chajn of Communist Poland as president.

'DAMNABLE LIE'

Walter Reuther reportedly later withdrew the allegation that the AFL-CIO was allowing some of its operations to be used as a front by the CIA as charged by Victor Reuther.

Meany called the charge slanderous, and said also that it was "a damnable lie" that the ILO walkout had been planned a week in advance.

★ ★ ★

A majority of the 29-member AFL-CIO Executive Council is almost certain to reaffirm foreign policy decisions of Meany in a rebuff to Reuther.

But at least one member of the council reportedly is considering advocating that the AFL-CIO recommend recognizing Communist China, a stand in direct opposition to Meany.

★ ★ ★

At the opposite pole, another member of the AFL-CIO Executive Council said he would advocate pulling out of the International Labor Organization, an arm of the United Nations.

Despite the brief walkout when Chajn was elected president of the ILO, Meany had said the AFL-CIO would continue to work in the ILO to save it from Communist take-over.

Couple Asks Where Does It Stop?

By ELIZABETH L. POST

The following letter has been chosen as the prize-winning one for this week. A copy of Emily Post's "Etiquette" has been sent to Mrs. Frank DeBellis, of Pelham, N.Y.

Dear Mrs. Post: A few months ago, a personal friend, who is running for political office, sent us a letter requesting our participation in a campaign fund-raising social affair.

Although we did not care to attend, we sent a check for the full amount requested. Today, I received another letter requesting our attendance and contribution to a dinner-dance for the same purpose. I never received an acknowledgment or thank-you note for the first contribution.

Do you think that personal friends should be asked to make several contributions during the same campaign? How should this second request be answered.

Dear Mrs. DeBellis: An excellent letter! I fully realize that political campaigns as well as many charities and other organizations are dependent on contributions, but the lengths to which some of them go to extract money from supporters, including personal friends, is inexcusable.

Since you received no acknowledgment of your first contribution, I would inquire to make sure it was received. Then, if it was, I wouldn't hesitate to call and tell your friend that you have already contributed all that you can and that you would appreciate his telling his staff that you are temporarily off the list.

Politicians should realize that they lose a vote as well as a contribution when they impose in this way.

INTRODUCTIONS

Dear Mrs. Post: My son is star of his football team and soon they will have parents' night. I'm divorced from his father and have remarried.

How should my son introduce us without causing embarrassment? He is very close to his father and his stepfather. — O. M.H.

Dear Mrs. H.: Your son should introduce you as "My mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. ." To say "my mother and father" would be unfair to his own father and would not explain the difference in names.

Better Make It Your Business to Find Out What Her Line Is

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband sells on the road. Lately he seems to be spending a lot of time in a small town he used to pass through. I've wondered why because in the past he's never gotten enough business out of that town to justify spending the night there.

ABBY

Yesterday someone told me that my husband was seen in this little town having dinner with a rather attractive young woman. They appeared to be very much interested in each other.

When I asked my husband about it he admitted being with a woman there, but he said it was for strictly business reasons. Do you think he is seeing her for "business reasons"?

SUSPICIOUS

DEAR SUSPICIOUS: I don't know. What's her business?

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a hard working electrician. Occasionally he'll do little jobs after hours as a favor to a friend or relative. But so many people think it is his "hobby" and that he enjoys doing these jobs after his regular work day! And here's another question: WHO should he charge, and WHO shouldn't he charge?

How can he charge his sister-in-law's father when he has never charged his sister? Also, he wired a lamp for his neighbor for free, then her daughter, who my husband didn't even know, sent her waffle iron over to be repaired.

Should he send her a bill? I'd appreciate an answer to this question. And so would lots of other electricians' wives.

ONE WIFE

DEAR WIFE: I doubt if this will come as a shock to any electrician, but here's the only solution: Figure the labor by the hour and add cost of material. If the electrician WANTS to do the friend or relative that big a favor, he sends no bill. Otherwise, he presents the bill with the repaired item.

Mrs. Di Chiera Talks to Group on Musicians

The Women's Association to the Pontiac Symphony was entertained Monday at the home of Mrs. T. R. Schroeder of Silverside Drive.

Guest speaker, Mrs. David DiChiera, introduced by Mrs. E. L. Windeler, gave a resume on the Nov. 29 concert. Performed during that program will be the "Overture to Colar Brugnon" by Kabalevsky, Symphony No. 35 "Hoffner" by Mozart; and B Flat Major Piano Concerto by Brahms.

Guest pianist will be Paul Schoenfield.

Mrs. DiChiera also spoke to the group on seldom-heard incidents in the lives of Mozart and Brahms.

Assisting the hostess were Mrs. R. C. Irwin, Mrs. G. D. Maxwell, Mrs. L. L. Blagg, Mrs. R. C. Anderson and Mrs. N. K. Hunter.

Should Nuns Change Garb?

Habits Unsettle Emotions

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Ecumenical Council more than a year ago directed a modernization of dress worn by Catholic religious orders.

Already some orders of Catholic sisters have made changes in habit in line with the Oct. 1965, directive.

SLOW PROCESS

But two home economists, one of them a sister, see over-all modification of traditional religious garb a slow process because of deeply ingrained tradition and call changes potentially more dramatic than next season's Paris showings."

The two sampled attitudes towards nuns' habits among lay personnel and students and among sisters at a Catholic hospital.

Specifically, 22 sisters and 76 laymen, either student nurses or regular hospital personnel, were asked — "is the religious dress of sisters liked? Why is it worn? Should it be changed?"

Forty three per cent of the lay respondents like the traditional garb, although 63 per cent would approve of a change, and 24 per cent disliked it. Sixty-five per cent of the sisters preferred change.

★ ★ ★

Making the study was Sister Mary Claudelle Miller, a graduate student in home economics education at the University of Wisconsin under guidance of Dr. Mary Allen Roach, associate professor of textiles and clothing at the university.

★ ★ ★

They reported their findings in the current edition of Journal of Home Economics, the publication of the American Home Economic Association (AHEA).

Those questioned who liked the traditional dress cited its symbolism of religious dedication, for its inspiring of respect, and for the security it suggested because of its familiarity.

★ ★ ★

In negative or undecided replies, those questioned mentioned lack of comfort, the "medieval" look, and the unhygienic aspects of long skirts. It is interesting that religious affiliation influenced likes or dislikes. More than one half the Catholic laymen liked present religious dress, but less than one fourth of the Protestants did.

★ ★ ★

The 1965 directive prescribed that "the religious habit, an outward mark of consecreation to God, should be simple and modest, poor and at the same time becoming. In addition, it must meet the requirements of health and be suited to the circumstances of time and place and to the needs of the ministry involved . . ."

SOME COMMENTS

Some comments of the sisters to the questionnaire: "Yes, the religious habit should be in keeping with the needs of the times . . . Habits that lack simplicity often repel rather than attract others to their ideas."

★ ★ ★

Comments of lay persons included, "Yes, the sister's work in many orders is far removed from a cloistered convent life. The traditional long, full-skirted habit and long veil appear confining and even dangerous in some jobs."

★ ★ ★

Or, "No, they would be just another civilian if out of their present clothing." Many of the lay respondents were concerned about "the fringe benefits of personal respect that they felt a sister derived from the religious symbolism of her traditional dress," Sister Mary Claudelle found.

She wrote that "change cannot be made abruptly, especially in the sacred areas of society."

★ ★ ★

But whatever the ultimate change, she added, "it seems evident . . . that the religious symbolism of the traditional garb is so deeply ingrained in the consciousness of people who identify religious persons with their special clothing that during the transition period a modern adaptation . . . which will still convey the sense of a consecrated religious woman will be necessary."

Fashion, Art Are Joined at the Mall

A new idea developed by Betty Baldwin, director of the Artist's Showplace Agency, and Jackie Crampton, noted fashion coordinator, took hold in the form of color at The Pontiac Mall Monday.

The two combined colors in fashion and art with each ensemble deliberately teamed with an art work.

★ ★ ★

"Mountain Scene" an oil, soft in lavendar and white was the perfect backdrop for a separate outfit in the same color tones.

New stove pipe pants in rich plum with ribbed "Poor Boy" top in stripes of pink, orange and plum complemented another painting, "Quebec Farm."

Texture played its part too with dimension, both in fabric and art.

★ ★ ★

The event, which runs through Saturday, will feature the art work on display from 9 a.m. until 9 p.m. and fashion shows daily at 4 and 7 p.m.

Pontiac Press Photo

Another "first" at The Pontiac Mall took place Monday as the Merchants Association and area artists combined talents to produce "Artistry in Color." Coordinated fashions took the spotlight next to paintings whose color tones matched or contrasted. Above is Judi March of Dearborn (left) in a vivid Kelly green pants suit. Her outfit is linked with the "Spanish Girl" oil done by artist, Jo Griffing of Livonia, at the right.

BPW Meets

The Waterford-Clarkston Business and Professional Women's Club met recently for dinner at the Howes Lanes in Clarkston.

Mrs. John Landon showed slides to the group of her trip to Europe this past summer.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

I think that we all have to check on our mental and emotional outlook periodically, to see whether we are taking a dim view of life or a vibrant one. Our approach to living is much more important that what happens to us.

What one person may consider a hardship, another may find a challenge. What one person may feel to be a dreary day, another may find delightful, with rain pattering on the roof.

* * *

What one person may find irritating, another may find humorous, and so it goes.

It seems to me that we become as "set" in our mental approach to life and in our emotional responses as we do in our posture, and that the former are much more difficult habits to break because they slip up on us.

If we have round shoulders or a protruding abdomen, there are plenty of mirrors around to remind us. But, we do not have a mirror in which we can look to discover, to our amazement, that our minds are closed to new ideas, that our patterns of thought are like cement, that we have lost our sense of humor, that we react emotionally in a frozen unperceptive way.

BACK OFF

Unless we back off from life and ourselves once in a while to get an objective opinion of both, and maybe a new viewpoint or two, this is almost sure to happen. We must work on our inner values and on our personality as we do on our figure or makeup.

Our happiness is certainly much more dependent on our approach to life than on the way we look.

However, there is a funny backlash here. The way a woman feels about life is often reflected in the way she looks. If she finds it dull and unexciting, she is likely to take little interest in her appearance.

Self-respect shows itself in good grooming as well as in more important ways.

* * *

If you would like to have my leaflet "Eight Weeks to Popularity" with which to grade yourself send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorin McNulty of South Lyon announce the engagement of their daughter, Susan Kay, to Dallas Lee Pennell, son of the Henry Pennells of Hamilton Drive. Vows are planned for Jan. 28.

Parents Tell of Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Pieronek of Fox River Drive announce the recent marriage of their daughter, Peggy, to Lee Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oren Rogers of Keego Harbor.

Attending the bride at the ceremony in Incarnate Word Lutheran Church were Rosemary Pieronek, Beverly Surbeck and Kathy Muldoon.

On the esquire side were Glenn Rogers, William Campbell and Keith Murphy.

Technical Mind Lands Her Job

NEW YORK (AP)—Jane Anne Betts has invaded what has been an all-male world for nearly 50 years, becoming the New York Telephone Co.'s first female frameman since World War I.

Her work, which takes her into huge metal frames where wires from customers' phones are laced into the company's central office equipment, includes soldering and cutting wires.

"I've always been interested in technical fields," says the petite brunette, "and when I saw an ad for technically-minded people, I applied. The ad didn't specify male or female."

She was graduated second in her class from the plant training school.

Keep Skin Clean

To help keep skin blemish-free, put a fresh cosmetic puff in your compact each day, to further guard against dirt grinding into the skin.

Natural Looks on Way Back

Will the real girl stand up and be counted? She's on the way "in" in the fashion world, reports the National Shoe Retailers Association (NSRA) which keeps tabs on all styles.

The "brash, synthetic, hard exaggerated ways" of dress are on the way out, reports NSRA. "The incoming trend is a more wholesome, fresh, unaffected way of dress of hair and makeup of eyes and lips.

The new girl is themed as "romantic" or the "real" item.

Prolong Use

To preserve bittersweet branches for longer enjoyment of your dried autumn arrangements, the Society of American Florists recommends spraying the branches with lacquer — or painting them with shellac — to retain the form and color of the beautiful berries.

THE DUCHESS OF WINDSOR PATTERN

Strike a regal pose and enchant the other guests. The Duchess of Windsor admired a dress similar to this one on a friend and suggested the design to us. Its free flowing back has a low yoke seam that swoops down toward the middle and shapes the silhouette.

A wide self belt, that fits slightly above the natural waistline, contains the front in some soft gathers and seems to emphasize the cape-like sleeves. Flattering to many figures, this dress will garner rave notices at dinner and the theatre and might even upstage the bride at a wedding.

Spadea's exclusive ready-to-wear sizes produce a better fit. See chart for size best for you.

Sizes	Bust	Waist	Hips	*Length
Small 8-10	33-34	23-24	34-35	16¼-16½
Medium 12-14	35-36½	25-26½	36-37½	16¾-17
Large 16-18	38-40	28-30	39-41	17¼-17½

*From Nape of Neck to Waist

Misses size Medium (12-14) requires 3 yards of 42" fabric for Cape Dress. To order pattern No. 67, state size; send $2.00 plus 10 cents for sales tax and postage.

Pattern Books No. 28, No. 29, No. 30 and Booklet A Sewing Tips by world famous designers are available for 50 cents per book plus 10 cents postage per book. Duchess of Windsor Pattern Book is available for $1.00. Include your name, address and zip code number and mail to SPADEA, Box 323, Milford, New Jersey 08848.

Lost Language

In the language of gloves, a woman means "I am shocked" when she strikes her hand with a glove, fashion historians report.

House Plant Helper

Going away? Stand your potted plants on bricks covered with water in the bathtub. The bricks absorb moisture. By so doing, they will help keep the plants moist.

Avoid Over-Wax

Never overwax your floors. A thin coat of wax is best. Too much wax not only is dangerous and doesn't look as well, but is a waste of wax.

Over half the women in Pontiac wear the wrong bra.

Do you?

You do if you can feel the shoulder straps. If your bra gaps out at the cleavage. If the back hikes up. If your bra is too tight or too loose. If you feel it at all—it's the wrong bra. That's why we ask you to spend five minutes in our fitting room with one of our expert fitters and several Bell bras. Five minutes in our fitting room will give you a better figure for life!

Bringing Up Baby®

Hints Collected by Mrs. Dan Gerber, Mother of Five

THE A-B-C's OF APPETITE

Sure it's exasper...ing when your baby balks at eating. But babies' appetites have their ups and downs. And the reasons for the downs are understandable if you know what to look for. To wit: these are the times when your baby's appetite may wane a bit: (A) When he (or she) starts on solids. (B) During early teething stages. (C) At the year-end mark, when growth rate slows down.

If you take these basic causes into consideration...avoid forcing or fussing...serve favorite foods...chances are that a little appetite will cheer up on its own.

Appetite delights. Lots to be said for this trio: Gerber Strained Oatmeal, Rice Cereal and Mixed Cereal—all with Applesauce and Bananas. Each cereal is cooked with the fruit for flavor supreme and a nicely moist texture that little tongues take to. Nourishing? Indeed! They're enriched with important B-vitamins to aid appetite and growth.

Precious...that's the word for protein...one of the most important "insurance agents" for your baby's growth. And meat protein is complete protein, providing each of the essential amino acids that help build and rebuild body tissues.

And away we growl Gerber Strained and Junior Meats are high in protein; low in fat and easy-as-1-2-3 to digest. Made from selected cuts, they're specially processed to "lock-in" savory flavors and preserve natural nourishment to a high degree. Nine strained and seven junior varieties.

Baked Potato Special
(For toddlers, and others)
1 potato for each serving
Butter or margarine
Gerber Junior Beef, Veal, Chicken or Pork
Salt to taste.

Bake potatoes. Cut in half lengthwise. Remove inside and mash with butter and salt. Add half as much meat as potato. Refill the potato shells and bake in hot oven (400°) until brown. Gerber® Baby Products, Box 33, Fremont, Michigan.

Lace Gown Is Worn by the Bride

Mary Louise Coronado wore a floor length lace gown and train when she became the bride of Michael Morrison on Saturday. The evening ceremony took place in Auburn Heights United Presbyterian Church.

She is the foster daughter of Mrs. Flora H. Byers of Auburn Avenue, Pontiac Township. Her husband's parents are the Merritt Morrisons of Orchard Lake.

The bride's shoulder length veil fell from a pearl tiara. She carried feather chrysanthemums and rosebuds.

Karen Norberg was maid of honor with Donna Patrick of Auburn Heights, bridesmaid, and Debbie Morrison, junior maid.

Best man was Daniel Depzinski. John Barnhart and David Oliver were groomsmen; Neil Ashley and Donald LaBarge ushered.

A reception was held in the church parlors.

Wearing of Fur Returns to Men

Without a report from "Gentlemen's Quarterly," we'd never know this: in medieval times, the wearing of fur was largely restricted to the male. A man's social importance or office often was designated by the fur he was permitted to wear. Judges, for example, wore ermine.

In this century, fur coats mainly are a woman's wrap, but males are taking bold steps. First they put fur linings in coats.

And now, for daring males, Gentlemen's Quarterly shows a double-breasted coat of silver hair seal; a brown pony skin coat; a leather-piped coat that looks like astrakhan but actually is an orlon adaptation.

Plaques and wall accessories like those shown in the corner setting above are now available in kit form. All material and supplies are included. Finished primitives are also available in individual gift boxes. Combining modern furnishings with Early American artistry, Paul Krauss, AID, creates a sophisticated setting. A white pedestal chair with bright blue cushion serves the wall hung desk and shelves. Kits are sold in leading department stores.

Bob Evans Farms Old-Fashioned Sausage Stuffing Recipe

Now the traditional turkey comes in a broad breasted small bird, why not make two and stuff each with a different stuffing. Baking time is cut in half and the whole family can choose which stuffing they prefer and also there will be twice as many drumsticks.

Bob Evans Farms Saisage is becoming a tradition for tasty, delicious meals any time of the day. Here is a delicious recipe for stuffing.

Old-Fashioned Sausage Stuffing

- 1 lb bag of Bob Evans Farms Sausage
- 4 large tart apples
- ½ cup chopped celery
- 2 teaspoons salt
- ½ cup milk
- 8 cups (dried or toasted) bread cubes (or prepared seasoned mix)
- 1 small minced onion (optional)

Brown sausage bits in a skillet until it is cooked. (Lightly browned.) Core and chop apples into ½ inch pieces. Combine all the ingredients (including sausage drippings) and mix together to blend thoroughly. Stuff fowl loosely.

Variations: Prepared seasoned stuffing mix may be used in place of bread cubes; use amount according to package and size of bird — adding browned sausage and other ingredients.

Or

Use 4 cups cooked rice in place of bread cubes. (Be sure rice is not overcooked.) Add ½ cup finely chopped pecans and ¼ cup finely chopped mushrooms.

Please remember: there is a big difference in sausage — in the way it is made and how it tastes!

Only by using Bob Evans Farms Sausage can you be sure of all the old-fashioned country goodness because all styles include hams and tenderloins.

Tuck Under Pillow

DEAR POLLY — Each homemaker usually has certain sheets and pillowcases she uses for guest beds. I wrap these fresh "ensembles" in plastic and place them underneath the pillows of the bed they are to be used on. This practice relieves overcrowded storage closets, aids other members of the family if I happen to be away when the beds are made up.

It also supplies the right linens for the guests who might want to help. Polly's Pointers are a "must" for me. Good luck to you — EDITH

DEAR POLLY — I want to suggest that Elizabeth put some sort of cream on her feet and ankles before putting on her support hose. I find this makes the hose stick firmly. — BARBARA

DEAR POLLY — I keep a clean cellulose sponge in the vegetable bin of my refrigerator to absorb excess moisture.

We use broken pieces of hollow tile as a bed in our outdoor grill. Hhe unevenness of the tile pieces leaves air space for a good draft and they are easier and simpler to handle when cleaning the grill than are other things.—MILDRED

DEAR POLLY — Spoons make a different, yet inexpensive, gift for a daughter, niece or favorite young friend. They can often be ordered from advertisements and can cost as little or as much as you want depending on whether or not they are plated, sterling or the novelty type.

They may be sent singly and after a few birthdays and Christmases she will have a good start on a collection. For a more impressive gift a spoon rack might be included. I find girls love this type of gift which they treasure all their lives. — MRS. W.K.

DEAR GIRLS — Please forgive me if you have written a personal letter asking for advice by direct mail or the repeat of a Pointer previously printed and have received no answer. I am sorry that it is impossible to answer all such requests. Perhaps your one request would take little time, but multiply that by hundreds and you see why this is impossible.

No one regrets this more than I as I would so like to have time to write each and every one of you dear friends. — POLLY.

Anyone submitting a Polly's Problem, a solution to a problem or a favorite homemaking idea will receive a dollar if Polly uses the item in Polly's Pointers.

New Popularity for Sectionals

Sectionals are becoming popular once again. Actually, the sectional is one of the best ways to seat a large number of people. Conversation is easier than on a very long, straight sofa because people can look at one another.

★ ★ ★

Often the new sectionals are two - toned. They will have solid color latex foam seat cushions, and loose back cushions covered in a different color printed or woven fabric.

Need Not Iron

If you're in the habit of ironing bras, stop. Now you can get a perma press bra and, says Patricia Peterman, of the Chemstrand fashion office, same is finding good consumer response.

The daily consumption of water in the U.S. exceeds 380,000 million gallons.

3 Minutemen Guilty of Gun Violations

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — "I think the weapons impressed us more than anything else," said Darold D. Holmes, foreman of a federal court jury which Monday convicted Robert B. DePugh and two other members of the Minutemen of violating the National Firearms Act.

The jurors had seen the prosecution display a 50-caliber machine gun and four smaller machine guns which had been hidden underground.

DePugh, 43, founder of the secret organization, and Walter Peyson, 24, both of Norborne, Mo., could be sentenced to 15 years imprisonment. The other defendant, Troy Houghton, '33, San Diego, Calif., could get five years. They were given 30 days in which to file for a new trial. All remained free under bond.

SENTENCE IN 3 WEEKS

Judge Elmo B. Hunter said he expected to sentence the men in about three weeks.

DePugh, who urged Minutemen to take guerrilla training to resist communism, left the courtroom with a big smile.

"I have been told by my attorney to make no statement and I will make none," he said.

Members of the jury said there never was any question in their minds about the defendants' guilt after deliberations started.

★ ★ ★

"I think everyone was influenced by the testimony given by Mr. Husted," said Holmes.

Raithby Roosevelt Husted, 23-year-old ex-Marine, testified that he helped Peyson bury the 50-caliber machine gun under a Missouri farmhouse, and bury the other machine guns and ammunition near a cemetery. He later led FBI agents to the caches.

DePugh and Peyson were convicted of having automatic weapons or silencers without registering them and of not paying the $200 transfer fee on each weapon. All three defendants were convicted of conspiracy.

'TAX CASE'

A defense attorney, William J. Gilwee, told the jury in his closing argument that the six-day trial was nothing more than an $800 tax case on the weapons.

Russell Millin, U.S. attorney, told the jurors, "Freedom is what this case is all about. Freedom doesn't come cheap and it carries responsibilities with it. Freedom is not to cry fire in the theater and cause a stampede."

★ ★ ★

Nineteen alleged Minutemen recently were rounded up in New York, along with a huge supply of ammunition and weapons. Nat H. Hentel, Queens County district attorney, said the raids were linked with DePugh and DePugh would be asked to appear before a Queens County grand jury.

After his trial, DePugh said he wasn't going to New York, and that the 19 men were not dues-paying Minutemen.

Navy Captain to Retire as Result of Court-Martial

TREASURE ISLAND, Calif. (AP) — Capt. Archie Kuntze plans to retire from the Navy following his conviction by a court-martial on three counts of misconduct involving a young Chinese beauty in Viet Nam.

The board that found him guilty Monday cleared him of three other general and 15 specific charges. He headed the $60-million Saigon supply depot before the Army took it over last May.

The board sentenced Kuntze to a reprimand and a loss of 100 numbers on the promotion priority list for captains. He could have received 32 months hard labor, dismissal from the service and loss of pay and allowances.

PLANS TO RETIRE

A decorated veteran of 24 years service, Kuntze said at a news conference that he will retire before the end of the year after surgery for an old leg injury. He is eligible for a $700 monthly pension.

The board of three admirals and six captains found him guilty of a general charge of conduct unbecoming an officer and specific charges that he lived with Jannie Suen, 26, in his official quarters, allowed her to use a government vehicle and imported 250 yards of cloth by government plane for personal use. She has vanished.

The board dismissed three charges against the Naval Academy graduate of violating an official order, intentional deception and false testimony to a naval board of investigation.

The prosecutor, Capt. Joseph R. Ross, did not make a recommendation of sentence.

Kuntze said, "I would rather go through another bombing in Saigon than through this again," but declined specific comment on the outcome.

"This case was tried in the courtroom and that's where it should stay," he said.

Key Topics Face Action by Prelates

WASHINGTON (AP) — The question of meat on Friday for the nation's Roman Catholics comes up today at an extraordinary conference of bishops.

The 219 American prelates turn their attention to this issue after:

★ ★ ★

— Accusing the Johnson administration of coercing the poor to practice birth control.

— Using a computing machine to conduct the first election in their history. Archbishop John F. Dearden of Detroit was chosen president of the episcopal conference, granted new powers by Pope Paul VI and the Ecumenical Council at Rome.

OTHER PENANCE?

One of the issues up to the bishops, archbishops and cardinals is whether American Catholics must continue to abstain from meat on Friday, or whether some other form of penance, such as prayer and good works, may be substituted.

An influential body of opinion in the American hierarchy has argued for virtual abolition of the no meat-on-Friday rule, as obsolete. It already has been abandoned in some countries, including Canada, Italy and France.

The ears of the composer Mozart had openings twice the size of normal ears.

Impossible? Army Does It

BATTLE CREEK (UPI)—Reserve Lieutenant Richard T. Schofield will have a new serial number soon—because the Army discovered Richard T. Schofield, Reserve Major, has the same one.

★ ★ ★

The Army admitted yesterday the impossible — two men with the same serial number had occurred.

Both men are currently undergoing training at the Federal Center here, and the mix-up came to light when Sgt. Major Raymond F. Belden in the Finance and Accounting Department noted the identical names and identical serial numbers.

Lieutenant Schofield, a salesman in civilian life, said the Army has promised him a separate serial number.

★ ★ ★

"There was no mix-up in reserve duty checks or mail and it was an amazing coincidence that both of us were assigned to duty at the Federal Center in Battle Creek where the duplication was discovered," Lieutenant Schofield said.

LOST NUMBER

"I was a 1st lieutenant in the regular Army in Germany and when I returned in 1964 I gave up my regular commission and serial number after I resigned and went into the reserves."

Capitol Post

DETROIT (AP) — John W. Hushen, 31, former Detroit News reporter Monday was named press secretary of U.S. Sen. Robert P. Griffin's Washington staff. Hushen, who served as Griffin's aide during the senator's successful election campaign, is a graduate of Wayne State University. He worked briefly at the Flint Journal before spending eight years on the News staff.

Probe Delayed on Border Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — An off-and-on effort to mend splintered U.S.-Cambodian relations is off again, at least temporarily, as the Viet Nam war lashes at Cambodia's jungle border.

Cambodia has asked that a four-man Senate delegation postpone until next year a long delayed fact-finding trip to the Southeast Asian country of Prince Norodom Sihanouk, sources said today.

Early this year Cambodia's National Assembly issued the invitation for a delegation of senators to see for themselves whether there was any basis for charges Cambodia was serving as a refuge for Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops.

It was considered an ice-breaking overture from the Cambodians who had severed relations with the United States after leaning toward Peking.

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY

In their own special heaven, declarers will never be set. Finesses will always work and suits will always break. In this mundane sphere it pays to take out insurance just in case there may be bad breaks.

JACOBY

North had quite a problem at his second turn to bid. He hated to raise his partner's second suit with only three trumps but he didn't like to rebid his five-card diamond suit; he could not bid no-trump with no spade stopper and he felt that he was too strong to pass. So, he wound up giving that three-trump raise.

South carried on to five hearts after East and West pushed him. Spades were opened and continued. South ruffed the second spade and rather wished that he had gone to a slam. Then he looked around to see what problems he could have at five and noted that only a 5-0 break in clubs or hearts could hurt him.

A trump to dummy's ace disclosed the fact that trumps weren't 5-0.

Then South took out the best insurance he could against a 5-0 club break. He led a club from dummy. East made his best play, which was to discard a spade.

South won and led a second high club. East ruffed and forced South with another spade but it did him no good. South's insurance had paid off. He ruffed that spade, ruffed a low club with dummy's queen of trumps, drew trumps and ran off the rest of his clubs.

This series of plays would not have worked if East had held all the clubs and West the four trumps but no line of play would have succeeded against that combination of cards.

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
3 ♠	Dble	Pass	4 ♥
Pass	4 ♠	Pass	?

You, South, hold: ♠ 4 3 2 ♥ K J 7 6 ♦ Q 9 8 7 5 ♣ J 2

What do you do now?

A—Bid six diamonds. Your partner has forced you to bid and then cue bid your opponents' suit. He must have a tremendous hand and you should bid more than a minimum.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Your partner continues to six hearts. What do you do now?

Request Denied for Warrant in Rep. Diggs Case

DETROIT (AP) — Assistant Wayne County Prosecutor William J. Hathaway Monday denied a request for a warrant charging U. S. Rep. Charles Diggs, D-Mich., with illegal entry of an apartment building.

The warrant was requested by Russell Y. Harrison, 46, owner of an apartment on Detroit's West Side.

★ ★ ★

Harrison charged that Diggs broke a lock to a utility room in the basement of the building and that electricity and gas were turned on against his orlers.

Harrison said he had turned off the utilities in the building while attempting to evict tenants so he could undertake remodeling.

★ ★ ★

Diggs denied at a meeting with Hathaway Monday that he had broken the lock. He said he had posed for news photographs as though he were breaking the lock "to dramatize the situation."

EASY ACCESS — Youngsters outside a storage area for U.S. aid goods check to see what the truck is carrying. The incident serves to illustrate easy access to aid goods by anyone in Viet Nam. Officials estimate up to 25 per cent of the aid material never reaches the people, but is siphoned off by pilferage, graft and the Viet Cong.

NOTHING TO IT — The hole is in a wall surrounding an area used for storing U.S. aid goods and material destined for PX outlets in Viet Nam. The youngsters sneak through, run out and dash down a road with their loot, which this time amounts to only four cans of beer. However, the take is usually greater, and most of it winds up on South Viet Nam's lucrative black market.

MAIN STREET GOODS — A neatly organized stand that could be anywhere in the U.S. by the looks of the goods on sale is actually a black market stall in Viet Nam. The goods, siphoned out of the U.S. aid stream in any one of several ways, are for sale to anyone with enough piastres to purchase them.

The largest amphibian in nature is the giant salamander of Japan, attaining a length of five feet.

The Case of the Disappearing Aid—2

Crackdown on Black Marketers Temporary at Best

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — On a recent muggy morning, Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge took a short stroll around the corner from his U.S. Embassy down a narrow, stall-lined street with the quaint name of "PX Alley."

What he saw caused him to blow his considerable diplomatic cool.

Post Exchange luxury items in gay profusion glittered on every stand and shelf — vintage champagnes, scotch and bonded bourbon, transistor radios and tape recorders, expensive cameras and other photographic wares; a full line of GI shirts, socks and underwear, and enough cans of ham and lima beans — the C-ration item that GIs most detest — to cater a summer of picnics.

The ambassador got the Navy on the phone and demanded that something be done. The Navy called the Vietnamese Economic Ministry and suggested that something be done. The ministry called the police and ordered a crackdown.

FINES PAID

The sirens wailed; the contraband was confiscated. Culprits sullenly paid their fines, which amounted to 100 per cent of the value of the goods — and then arranged for the appropriate under-the-table payoff to get the goods back in circulation.

Next day the black marketeers were in business again, bored as Mississippi bootleggers with this tiresome, token exercise of power. Everything was the same except the prices, which had risen to meet the new emergency.

Actually, the ambassador's stroll had taken him to only one of Saigon's four black markets.

The main one, which deals exclusively in military wares—ponchos, knapsacks, combat boots and similar government issue items ranging in size all the way up to gasoline generators and air-conditioning units—is located across from the 2nd Precinct police headquarters in fully pay rent to the city.

SHABBY STALLS

Inscrutable women in conical hats and baggy pajamas operate shabby, crowded stalls and can produce a Jeep clutch assembly or an icemaking machine from beneath a pile of rat-gnawed blankets. They dutifuly pay rent to the city.

Then there is the food market across from the Redemptorist church. It offers a wide selection of tinned bacon, milk, soups, detergents, fruit juices, vegetables, etc., all stolen from the docks, made available by love-smitten mess sergeants or diverted by means foul or fair from the Agency for International Development goods provided under the commercial import program.

★ ★ ★

Finally, there is the long line of sidewalk stalls along the wide boulevard leading to JUSPAO-Joint U.S. Public Affairs Office-headquarters, where cigarettes and candy, soap, U.S. magazines, toothpaste, combs and similar sundries are openly hawked just a few blocks from the downtown PX, a main source of supply.

The black market is just one phase of a widespread system of pilferage, bribery, smuggling, and diversion of aid uncovered in a months-long study by Associated Press reporters. The combined losses to the United States are likely to run at least half a million dollars a day, perhaps much more.

UNDER PRESSURE

Just now the black market is under some pressure. Saigon officials have given vendors along "PX Alley" until Nov. 18 to sell out.

Government banners were strung over streets in downtown Saigon saying: "If sidewalk stalls are not cleared by Nov. 18, violators will be fined 5 million piasters — about $42,000 — and — or given five years in prison."

★ ★ ★

Even if the ultimatum works, skeptics say the action will remove only one of the most visible facets of the black market. The side street operations probably will continue, and even the black market sellers dispossessed from the avenues are likely to get back into business elsewhere.

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Where there's a war, there's usually a black market. And in South Viet Nam, the black market is large, flourishing and—in terms of U.S. taxpayers' money—costly.)

Nor is the phenomenon limited to Saigon. The black market operates in infinite variety and bustling excitement wherever U.S. troops are stationed. Da Nang, with 50,000 Marines in the area, has a shop dealing exclusively in C-rations under a sign that graciously reads:

"We thank the American government for the precious support."

IN EVERY BAR

The delta city of Sa Dek is too far from Saigon for television reception, but practically every bar on the main street boasts a television receiver on the bamboo counter, thanks to a truckload of PX supplies that went astray.

The U.S 1st Infantry Division waited in vain for a consignment of metal badges bearing the Big Red One emblem in embossed enamel and silver. They never got to the division PX tents, but appeared one day in the shops of Ben Cat.

★ ★ ★

The American genius for logistics and supply pumps $12 million worth of PX goods into Viet Nam a month, an average, according to Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, of 9½ pounds per day per man. The Asian genius for intrigue sees to it that some of the wealth is distributed.

PX commodities represent a major portion of diverted items. But U.S. aid commodities, especially rice and medicines, construction tools and supplies, military clothing, foodstuffs and equipment all help to swell the glut of contraband available openly on the nationwide black market.

IN HANDS OF CONG

Inevitably some goods, particularly the drugs and the rice, and, to a lesser extent, such items as ponchos and mosquito nets, wind up in the hands of the Viet Cong.

So the question arises repeatedly: why don't the police crack down?

★ ★ ★

"We could easily," admitted a Saigon police official. "All we'd have to do would be to ask to see their import license, their customs slip, their sales tax receipt — so many papers that none of them could produce.

"In a recent crackdown, we took five truckloads of stuff off the street and carted it down to customs. The people paid their fines and were all back in business again.

VERY DIFFICULT

"It is very difficult to get a conviction. There is no jail sentence for first offenders, only the 100 per cent fine. After that, you can get up to five years at hard labor, but such sentences are rare.

"Three months ago we arrested the chief of the harbor police and 30 of his people on charges dealing with looting on the docks. All were acquitted."

★ ★ ★

As elsewhere in Asia, bribery and payoffs are part of everyday life. Low-paid public officials expect a rakeoff or an under-the- table payoff as part of the fruits of holding office.

Since the big American troop buildup, a shoeshine boy on the streets of Saigon can make more than 1,000 piasters a day, almost as much as a Cabinet minister's salary.

NO ONE CARES

No one really shudders in righteous rage if the cop on the beat, making 2,800 piasters a month, compensates for the rising cost of living by shaking down the sidewalk black marketeer and the mama-san at the thriving "boom-boom" parlor.

The art of smuggling also has reached a pinnacle of refinement that would tax the detection powers of a dozen Scotland Yards. It, too, is considered a tolerable crime, depending on the whim of the customs office.

★ ★ ★

When a victorious football or volleyball team returns to Viet Nam from abroad the idolized athletes are never searched. If they lose, it is a different matter.

"The football team lost in South America," sighed the police source. "When they arrived at Tan Son Nhut Airport each was found to possess two kilos — 4½ pounds — of gold. It was very foolish of them."

2,000 WATCHES

Two other examples shed some light on smuggling Vietnamese style: The Vietnamese navy has been accused of smuggling in diamonds from Cambodia and gold from Laos. And the government recently rewarded industrious public servants who distinguished themselves in conducting the national elections by distributing 2,000 watches — that had been confiscated from smugglers.

One theory offered to explain the lackadaisical government attitude is that the black market, in its own nefarious way, gets more goods to more people cheaper, faster and in better condition than if they had to pass through the hands of a number of inept or corrupt provincial officials.

At the moment, iron rods and power tools, stolen from construction sites, are the hottest items on the black market. After them come cigarettes, soap, candy and other PX items; food stolen or illicitly purchased from military stores; drugs, rice, clothing and cement provided under AID's commercial import program.

There is no doubt that GIs support, sustain and supply the black market. Almost any day, you can see soldiers selling cigarettes, swapping cases of beer and Coke, disposing of PX liquor and other items falling below the $10 limit that regulations permit them to give to the Vietnamese people as "gifts." AP photographers recorded a number of such transactions.

MAJOR ROLE

The police, both military and Vietnamese, know that some GI bigtime operators play a major role in the looting on the docks and in the diversion of foodstuffs from warehouses and mess halls.

The Saigon police further blame some charitable agencies for flooding Viet Nam with butter, dried milk, cooking oil and a number of other Western items that "people don't really want, and dispose of on the black market."

★ ★ ★

The government of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky has pledged to lean harder on war profiteers and black marketeers, and the American military already has put certain PX reforms into operation.

The liquor ration has been cut, new PX cards issued and the great "hair spray affair" has been solved.

MAIN CURRENCY

For a time, hair spray threatened to replace cigarettes and chocolate bars as the main currency of amorous exchanges. The Saigon-Cholon post - exchange manager, who subsequently was fired, was accused of stockpiling 600,000 cans of hair spray in a country where there were only 700 females authorized to buy it. The Navy insisted the issue was "overplayed." Eventually an inventory turned up 67,000 cans — a 16-year-supply per authorized girl. Most of the cans have since been removed to Guam and Okinawa.

★ ★ ★

Some critics wonder why such an elaborate PX, dealing in tennis racquets, golf bags, vacuum cleaners, hand carved furniture, dietetic soft drinks, cat food and hundreds of other improbable items, is needed to cater essentially to the needs of rear echelon troops who will spend only a year in the country. Combat areas have no such elaborate facilities.

★ ★ ★

There are signs, however, that the crackdown on PX goods is bringing results. Already fake GI commodities are showing up on the black market, including whisky bottles gathered up by sidewalk scavengers and ingeniously refilled in Hong Kong.

The black market may have suffered a setback, but it is hardly out of business.

Medical Lag by Russia Seen

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Russian doctors and nurses are in good supply, but the Communist system's lack of incentive has put the Soviets 20 years behind the United States in the practice of medicine, a Michigan osteopath said yesterday.

Dr. George Elanjian of Dearborn, who toured Russian hospitals in 1964, said doctors and nurses in the Soviet Union are well-trained, but besides the lack of incentive, the Russian standard of medical practice is much lower than ours, mainly because they lack facilities and up-to-date instruments and equipment," he said.

He said he went to Russia to acquaint himself with the type of practice in the U.S.S.R. and made similar trips to Turkey, Austria and West Germany.

Science Awaits New Congress

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — Many of the faces will be new but the science and technology problems facing the 90th Congress will be the same old ones, ranging from air and water pollution to stimulating transportation innovations to protecting the national health and supporting basic research.

But the approaches may change. The key House Committee on Science and Astronautics, for instance, should have five new members.

Appropriations, Government Operations and other science-affecting committees will also change.

The oldest problem — it has been around since the days of Thomas Jefferson—is adoption of the metric system. This is a "bread-and-butter" issue affecting the taxes paid by every citizen and billions of dollars in foreign trade.

★ ★ ★

It would mean making measurements in meters, liters, grams and degrees centigrade instead of feet, quarts, pounds and degrees F.

OUT OF STEP

Since the United States is already far out of step with the rest of the world in using the metric system, it is considered crucial that the new Congress authorize a three-year study of the effects of switching to metric on all facets of the economy.

One automobile manufacturer, Ford, is sufficiently concerned about the problems involved in a changeover that it has launched its own study.

A bill authorizing the government's three-year study ha dalready passed the Senate, but the companion bill was blocked from reaching the House by Rules Committee Chairman Howard W. Smith (D-Va.).

★ ★ ★

Since "Judge" Smith was defeated in the primaries, the chances are good that the same bill, on which hearings have already been held, will be introduced again by Rep. George P. Miller (D-Calif.), chairman of the House Committee on Science and Astronautics and passed handily.

HOPE HELD OUT

The hope is that the bill will be reported out of this committee without hearings, since so many have been held during previous years.

Another crucial problem facing the 90th Congress is defining what the next U.S. goal in space should be. Two contradictory answers are being given to the question, "Where do we go from here?"

One is to place major emphasis on manned missions near earth, leaving establishment of lunar bases and manned exploration of nearby planets until the late 1970s.

★ ★ ★

The other is to give high priority to exploring the planets and to the search for life beyond earth, with Mars as the first target.

CRITICAL MOVE

Making a decision between these two goals is critical because of the lag time required to build the rockets and other "hardware" to make the flights.

The U.S. now does not have any firm plans for space exploration after the Apollo program is completed, probably in late 1968 or early 1969.

Since weather, navigation and communications satellites have already brought substantial economic, scientific and prestige payoffs, many Senators and Congressmen believe the U.S. emphasis should be on exploiting further the advantages such satellites offer, not racing to land man on Mars.

★ ★ ★

They note that certain technical problems, such as how long exposure to zero gravity affects man and how serious is the calcium loss when experienced for many months, must be solved before can can make lengthy voyages to Mars or Venus.

The Congress is still expected to rubber stamp an expected request for money to design a proposed 200-billion-electron-volt particle accelerator for high energy physics. Ultimate cost will pass $300 million.

The illumination in a 75-watt bulb is equivalent to patting a cat 9,200,000,000 times on a cold day.

Pentagon Kills Chef's Plan

U.S. Cooks for Viet Yule Nixed

WAYLAND (AP) — American troops in Viet Nam will have to make do with "cookies or something," for a Christmas treat instead of Robert Doublestein's glazed turkey and giblet gravy.

But Doublestein thinks cookies from home are not enough to help a soldier at war enjoy the spirit of Christmas.

★ ★ ★

Doublestein, a 43-year-old chef, wanted to gather a company of the nation's leading chefs to cook Christmas dinner for the troops.

But the Defense Department said it thinks the idea is too dangerous.

Doublestein, a father of three, lives in this West Michigan town of about 2,000 and commutes to his job at a Grand Rapids restaurant.

"I remember when I was in the service, the Christmas season was always the toughest, the time when morale sank a bit and we were a little depressed," he said.

★ ★ ★

But the Defense Department said that the chefs' trip would be "contrary to policy" and dangerous.

A spokesman for the Secretary of Defense's Directorate of Community Relations said that the trip would be impossible in view of recent "increased troop strength and the heavy logistical requirements" of transporting the chefs into the war zone.

"It all started out as a wild dream," Doublestein recalls, but U. S. Rep. Gerald R. Ford, R-Mich., the House Republican leader, liked the idea.

Ford assigned one of his aides to the project.

★ ★ ★

The aide began ironing out the wrinkles in red tape. A sponsor was needed.

So Doublestein pecked out a tidy, single-spaced typewritten plea for sponsorship to the National Restaurant Association, based in Chicago.

"It sounded like a great idea," said Donald Greenaway, NRA executive vice president. "So we investigated it."

Retired Adm. Ira Nun, of the NRA's Washington council, tried to clear the trip with the Pentagon. It didn't work.

Doublestein, who worked his way up to chief commissary steward in the Coast Guard in World War II, said that most military cooks are draftees and know nothing about the culinary arts.

"We'd go over the menu with each mess sergeant. We'd carve, serve, and do anything to make the holiday chowline a Christmas gift from home," he said.

BETTER FLAVOR

Doublestein pointed out as an example the manner a turkey is glazed makes a difference in its flavor; a certain herb can give giblet gravy or sage dressing a special tang; mashed potatoes can be made a little creamier with the right touch.

Informed of the decision to drop the project, 'Doublestein said only that he would have to "give it some thinking."

A spokesman for the NRA said Doublestein was "a very sweet guy with a grand idea," and that he hoped the chef could "make some cookies or something" for the troops.

No One Looking Past Notre Dame

Duffy's Worries Diminish for Michigan State Football Finale

EAST LANSING (AP) — For the game of the year, Michigan State Coach Duffy Daugherty came up with the understatement of the year:

"At least this week we don't have the danger of losing by one game.

"And we don't have the problem of anyone saying, "How much are you going to beat them by?" the coach of the nation's No. 2 ranked team said Monday five days before MSU plays the nation's No. 1 team — Notre Dame.

"I assume we'll be the underdog," he added.

He called the game a great opportunity.

"I can't remember once in the history of the polls that the No. 1 and 2 teams met in the final game of the season," he said.

Daugherty was worried about stopping Notre Dame's running because, he noted, they can always pass. And he was worried about the Irish passing because, he added, they disguise their pass plays by faking runs.

Michigan State should be in good health for the battle for the national championship, Daugherty said.

Fullback Bob Apisa, who missed two games with a knee sprain, is expected to be ready to play, even if he doesn't start. Defensive linemen Phil Hoag and Nick Jordan are expected to recover from minor injuries suffered Saturday in MSU's 37-19 victory over Indiana.

★ ★ ★

Duffy isn't too worried about the squad's mental condition either.

"I don't think there are any limits to desire and exuberance," he said. "I don't think you run out of this."

★ ★ ★

Daugherty indicated his squad probably would go behind closed gates for the serious part of their daily workouts.

"I want to have concentration," he said. "I want them prepared to play the best game they can possibly play. All we can do is hope that's good enough."

SPACE FILLED

East Lansing may not be the perfect place for concentration. MSU's press box chiefs say a record 211 sports writers have signed up for space, and large numbers of writers already were arriving Monday.

Has this game received the biggest build-up ever?

"People have been asking me about it since last year," Daugherty said. But, concentrating on the Big Ten race, he refused to comment about it before Saturday.

A light plane was circling the campus three days before the season started, towing a banner saying: Go Irish, Beat State.

At the time, Daugherty said only: "I can see overlooking one opponent, but eight?"

After Indiana's Frank Stavroff set a Big Ten record by passing for 316 yards against MSU Saturday, the talk turned to the Spartans' pass defense.

Daugherty pointed out that first stringers were out of the game for much of the second half, when Stavroff picked up two-thirds of his passing yardage.

★ ★ ★

The slippery field favored the pass receivers, he said, and also was a dangerous field for injuries. So he pulled standout linebackers George Webster and Charles Thornhill out of the lineup for the last 20 minutes and "they mean a great deal to our pass defense."

"There was nothing wrong with our pass defense in the first half," Daugherty said.

"And you'd have to say our passing game was more effective than Stavroff's," he added.

Spartan quarterback Jimmy Raye completed seven of nine passes for 171 yards and three touchdowns.

"Our pass receivers were sometimes open by 10 yards," Daugherty said.

LAUDS SEYMOUR

Notre Dame's star receiver, 6-foot-4, 205-pound Jim Seymour, is an outstanding player, Daugherty said.

"He has height and such quick moves, the same sure hand as (MSU end) Al Brenner and outstanding speed," he said.

★ ★ ★

Daugherty said there wouldn't be any special defensive plan for Seymour.

"You can't change your pass defense going into the 10th game," he said. "We'll just have to do everything better."

Daugherty gave the scouting report on Notre Dame to his first stringers in practice Monday, and the players did some running, but no heavy work.

Assistant coaches Ed Rutherford and Al Dorow scouted the Irish for MSU.

★ ★ ★

"Both were very impressed," Daugherty said. "They said this is a team that has everything — size, speed, good coaching and a happy blend of running and passing.

"One of their greatest strengths is their defense, he added, "and they have broken games open with their punt returns, kickoff returns and blocked punts."

Last year, when MSU was ranked No. 1 and Notre Dame No. 4, the Spartans scored a 12-3 victory and held the Irish to minus 12 yards rushing and just 25 yards passing.

But Notre Dame is better this year, said Daugherty, because "now they've got passing plus the same running."

The Top Ten, with first place votes in parenthesis, season season records and total points on 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

1. Notre Dame (35)	8-0	420
2. Michigan State (6)	9-0	392
3. Alabama (1)	8-0	327
4. Nebraska	9-0	282
5. Georgia Tech	9-0	241
6. Arkansas (1)	8-1	206
7. Southern California	8-1	172
8. UCLA	8-1	136
9. Georgia	8-1	102
10. Purdue	6-2	37

Other teams receiving votes, listed alphabetically: Colorado State, Florida, Houston, Miami, Fla., Mississippi, Oregon State, Syracuse, Wyoming.

HOUSTON (AP) — After battering Cleveland Williams from a big cat into a puny mouse in a little more than two rounds, heavyweight champion Cassius Clay turned to Ernie Terrell and shouted, "You're next."

★ ★ ★

"I'm ready," said Terrell the 6-foot-6, 27-year-old Chicagoan who is recognized as champion by the World Boxing Association.

They are expected to meet on Feb. 6, at Houston, Chicago, New York, Las Vegas or Toronto.

HOUSTON HAS EDGE

Houston has the edge now after drawing an indoor record crowd of 35,460 to the magnificent Astrodome. The gross gate was $461,290.

The undefeated, 24-year-old Clay floored the 33-year-old Big Cat from Houston three times in the second round and once more in the third round before referee Harry Kessler of St. Louis ended the slaughter with the blood-smeared Williams wobbling on rubbery legs. The time was announced at 1:08 of the third.

★ ★ ★

"Terrell is next," shouted Clay in his dressing room. "He says he's a fighter and a singer. I'm a better singer as well as a better fighter. My main objective was to hit and not be hit. I was able to do that. I think they could have stopped the fight earlier.

★ ★ ★

"I made one big mistake," said Williams, a 5-1 underdog. "I dropped my left hand and he nailed me. I don't know why I did it."

Clay, strong and fast at 212¾ pounds, shot his right hand over and decked the 210½-pound challenger for the first time in the second round. Williams was up at two and took the mandatory eight count.

BARRAGE

A barrage of blows unleashed by Clay with the speed of machinegun fire, felled the dazed challenger again for two. The third knockdown came on another flashing volley and Williams went flat on his back.

★ ★ ★

The bell sounded at five and saved Williams from a knockout. In New York, some other states and in some other parts of the world the count is continued when a round ends. Williams also was saved by the waiving of the three-knockdowns in one round and you're out rule.
knockouts.

Williams did not use a mouthpiece and suffered cuts inside and outside of his mouth. His mouth was bruised and bleeding.

"My plan for the fight was to punch — and you saw it," said Clay, obviously determined to show up to critics who say he can't punch.

★ ★ ★

His punching didn't impress Terrell.

"If that had been me in the ring you would have seen Clay on the floor instead of Williams," he said. "You were looking at a Williams 34 or 35 years old, a man who was wounded and once weighed 159 pounds.

★ ★ ★

"It is not the same Williams that I fought. A man is stupid if he thinks he can come back after what he went through."

RIGHT ON THE 'BUTTON' — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay smashes a right to the head of Cleveland Williams, snapping back the challenger's head (top) and sending him to the canvas (left) for the third time in the second round of their title bout last night at the Astrodome in Houston. Williams was down (lower left) when the bell ended at the count of five. Clay knocked him down again in the following round and a technical knockout verdict was awarded the champion.

Karl Sweetan Gets 'Corset'

Rookie quarterback Karl Sweetan of the Detroit Lions will be ready to play when the Lions take aim at the league-leading Baltimore Colts at Tiger Stadium Sunday, a team physician said Monday.

★ ★ ★

Dr. ..nard A Thompson said Sweetan would play Sunday with a specially built fiberglass corset to protect his injured ribs.

"We took several X rays Monday and they showed Sweetan had suffered severe bruises but no fractures," said Thompson.

Sweetan guided the Lions to a come-from-behind 32-31 victory over the Minnesota Vikings Sunday.

★ ★ ★

He said he had injured his ribs a week earlier in the game with the Chicago Bears and that he had reinjured them Sunday when he was tackled in the first period.

AWAIT COLTS

"If Sweetan is ready, we'll beat the Colts Sunday," said Aldo Forte, chief scout of the Lions.

"Baltimore is ripe to be taken. They're ready for a fall."

Forte watched Baltimore beat Atlanta 19-7 last Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Sweetan had been selected to kick off the Michigan Kidney Foundation's campaign by pledging himself as the first donor to a "walking kidney bank."

After the announcement of his rib injuries, however, the foundation selected Lion kicker Garo Yepremian, who signed the first card allowing his kidneys to be transplanted to a kidney disease victim upon donor's death.

Big Payday for 'Cat' in Short Fight

By Associated Press

Cleveland 'Cat' Williams the ring-scarred veteran of 16-years of pro fighting had the consolation of a payday of about $250,000. Clay's share of the gate receipts and the closed circuit television radio, films and other ancillary rights, may hit about $750,000.

★ ★ ★

The crowd, paying from $5 to $50, topped the mark of 23,306 lured by Henry Armstrong and Fritzie Zivic at Madison Square Garden, Jan. 17, 1941 although the gross receipts were not a record.

★ ★ ★

The indoor live gate record of $511,010 was racked up for the third heavyweight title fight between Floyd Patterson and Ingemar Johansson at Miami Beach's Convention Hall March 13, 1961.

Attendance—35,460.
Gross gate receipts—$461,290.
Clay's share of live gate (50 per cent) $230,645.
Williams' share of live gate (20 per cent) $92,256.
Astrodome's share of live gate (17½ per cent) $80,725.
Promoter's share of live gate (12½ per cent) 57,664.
Radio receipts—$100,000.
Closed circuit receipts—unavailable.
Clay gets 50 per cent of ancillary rights, Williams 14, and remainder divided among Astrodome, promoter and Main Bout, Inc. the closed circuit TV promoters.

Ford Denies Report of Pressure to Sell

DETROIT (UPI) — Detroit Lion owner William Clay Ford has vehemently denied a report he has come under family pressure to sell the club.

Roger Stanton, publisher of the weekly Football News, said in the issue published Monday that Ford had been urged to sell the team because of the bad publicity it has received this season.

★ ★ ★

Ford denied the reports, however, and said he enjoys the club and has no intention of selling it.

★ ★ ★

A Lions spokesman said the article was wrong and that all current Lions players are under signed contracts. Stanton had said some Lions veterans reportedly had not renewed their contracts for this season and were playing out their options.

Papa Halas Scoffs at Retirement Talk

CHICAGO (AP) — George Halas, 71, in his 47th season as owner and 39th as coach of the Chicago Bears, was asked Monday if he had retirement plans.

"When I can't see I'm doing darn good, I'll be the first to know it," he said with a laugh.

Halas was main speaker at the Chicago's American Quarterback Club. He commented on various topics:

Officiating: "Officials are prone to mistakes just like the players. They are human. But if an official hears no comments or caustic remarks he thinks he is doing all right and may become complacent.

In my own modest way, I try to raise the quality of their work and prevent them from becoming complacement.

The Bears have the wherewithal to lose games on their own merit without help from officials."

Quarterback Rudy Bukich who has said he will retire: "His announcement may be a bit premature. I am an expert on retirement, having done so twice myself as coach."

Evaluation of Bears: "We haven't played as well as we hoped or as some people predicted, but we haven't played as badly as some people think.

Nothing has happened to cause me not to think we have the nucleus of a fine team. And we have able replacements for some veterans who may move along."

Quarterback Larry Rakestraw, former Georgia star who is in his third year on the Bears' taxi squad: "He is coming along very nicely and I think he will be in the game later in the season."

'Them Bones' May Stir Anew

CHARLOTTE, N.C. — Horace (Bones) McKinney, former Wake Forest College basketball coach, has admitted conferring last weekend with officials of the Baltimore Bullets of the National Basketball Association.

McKinney told The Charlotte News he might possibly return to coaching in the NBA, but indicated the job at Baltimore had not definitely been offered to him.

★ ★ ★

Baltimore, last in the league with 13 losses in 15 games, recently fired Coach Mike Farmer and replaced him with Buddy Jeannette who also serves as Bullet general manager.

Rough Ranger Boosts Points

NEW YORK (AP) — Rugged Reg Fleming is throwing his weight around the National Hockey League again and his New York Ranger teammates are muscling their way into the individual scoring race.

Fleming, the NHL's penalty king last season, was tagged with 37 penalty minutes last week for a league-leading total of 47, according to weekly figures released today.

Between brawls, however, Fleming scored three goals and added four assists to jump from a 77th place tie in scoring to a share of 16th place.

Pistons Again Fall to San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Rick Barry's sophomore jinx seems only to have hexed the other clubs in the National Basketball Association.

The slender blond forward was the NBA Rookie-of-the-Year last season for the San Francisco Warriors.

This season, the Miami graduate is the leading scorer in the league. His 44 points Monday night helped both his average and the Warriors, who defeated the Detroit Pistons 115-104 for their fifth straight victory in the only NBA game of the night.

Barry hit 17 of 30 from the floor and all 10 of his free throw attempts. He also took 11 rebounds and led both teams with six assists. On Sunday, he hit 19 of 26 from the field and seven of eight from the line against Detroit.

What Barry hasn't done this campaign to get the Warriors into first place in the Western Divison, center Nate Thurmond has.

Thurmond scored 20 points and pulled down 30 rebounds. More importantly, he kept the Pistons outside by blocking 15 of their close-in shots.

The Warriors moved ahead to stay after the first five minutes of the game and were seriously challenged only once more. The Pistons moved to 85-81 three minutes into the fourth quarter.

But Barry scored six and Thurmond smashed through a dunk shot for eight points without an answer as the Warriors rolled to their sixth without a loss this season at home.

Junior Paces Record Race by Villanova

NEW YORK (AP) — Charlie Messenger, a 20-year-old junior from Baltimore, set a meet record in the IC4A Cross country championship Monday and led Villanova to the team title with a record point total.

Messenger, the runner-up to Georgetown's Eamon O'Reilley last year, raced overthe five-mile Van Cortland Park course in 24:15.6, breaking the record set at 24:24.2 last year by O'Reilley.

Messenger won by 50 yards over Richard Sharkey of Michigan State taking the lead at Cemetery Hill with one mile to go and pulling away from the Spartan.

Tom Donnelly of Villanova was third in 24:30.0, followed by teammate Frank Murphy in 25:00.0.

Tight Contests Disturb Hayes

Ohio State Must Top 'M' to Finish 5-4

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State Football Coach Woody Hayes would like a little more breathing room.

"We've been sure winning close," Hayes told his Monday press luncheon reflecting on the Bucks' 14-10 victory last Saturday over last-place Iowa.

★ ★ ★

"We would like to win bigger but we're doing the best we can. We have trouble getting the team up on the road."

The eminent Mr. Hayes should have no trouble getting his Buckeyes up for this week's opponent—arch-rival Michigan.

And he undoubtedly would settle for any kind of decision over the Wolverines, close or not.

Woody never even mentioned Michigan today, an old Hayes' gimmick of avoiding references to the upcoming foe.

NEEDS WIN

Hayes needs a victory Saturday to lock up his 15th winning campaign in 16 seasons. Die-hard Buckeye backers could be yelling for Woody's scalp if the Bucks, 4-4, lost.

★ ★ ★

Michigan, as usual, is heavily equipped with players from Ohio—17 by count.

And Ohioans on the Michigan team have accounted for 183 of the Wolverines' 219 points this season.

"They're saying in Michigan," scout Esco Sarkkinen reported, "that this is the best 5-4 team in the country." The Wolves have lost to North Carolina, Michigan State, Purdue and Illinois.

★ ★ ★

Ohio's losses have come at the hands of Washington, Illinois Michigan State and Minnesota.

"Michigan has scored at least 21 points a game in its last five outings so you can see the offense has been improving in the stretch drive," Sarkkinen noted.

A good comparative score is the Minnesota game. The Wolves clawed the Gophers 49-0 the week before Minnesota downed Ohio 17-7.

Sarkkinen heaped praise on Michigan's passing combo of junior quarterback Dick Vidmer and senior end Jack Clancy.

"Clancy has to be the best split end the Big Ten has turned out," Sark said.

★ ★ ★

Neither Clancy nor Vidmer a from Ohio but the three other offensive backs come from the Buckeye state, Jim Detwiler, Carl Ward and Dave Fisher.

Ohio won a thriller last year, 9-7, but trails in the ancient series, 22-36-4.

Bing Devine in Met Post

George Weiss Retires in New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Bing Devine took over as president of the New York Mets Monday, but as he graciously said:

"This is George's day."

★ ★ ★

For standing next to Devine was George Weiss, who had just ended one of the most successful executive careers in baseball history.

★ ★ ★

Weiss served as general manager of the New York Yankees from 1948 through 1960, winning 10 pennants. He started Casey Stengel on his successful career as a manager by hiring him to manage the Yankees in 1949.

★ ★ ★

And Weiss struggled for five years with the New York Mets, who completed their best season in 1966, finishing ninth and drawing 1,932,693 spectators, a New York National League record.

★ ★ ★

"This culminates a lifetime of the happiest kind of work I could ever indulge in," Weiss said.

Oakland CC Quintets to Debut in Tourney

Oakland Community College's Highland Lakes and Auburn Hills campuses don't begin their regular basketball schedules until after Thanksgiving but they will have a "preview showing" this week.

Both are entered in the first Schoolcraft Community College Invitational Tournament at the Northville Community Center Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The six-team tourney will have a doubleheader the opening night, a tripleheader Friday and conclude with another twinbill.

Tipping off the competition with Auburn and Western Ontario Tech at 7 p.m. Their game will be followed by the 8:30 p.m. Monroe-Schoolcraft encounter.

The two Thursday losers will clash at 6:30 p.m. Friday. Lorain (Ohio) CC will meet the Auburn-Western Ontario winner in the 8 p.m. Friday semifinal.

Highland Lakes will engage the Monroe - Schoolcraft survivor in the 9:30 p.m. nightcap.

The third-place consolation will be 7 p.m. Saturday and the championship game will follow at 8:30 p.m. The Northville Community Center is located in the former high school building in downtown Northville.

★ ★ ★

This is the first season of collegiate athletic competition for the Oakland campuses. Each entered a team last winter in the Pontiac recreation department's men's program.

LA Dodgers Drop 3rd Game in Row

NAGOYA, Japan (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers, lacking the power and color that helped them win the 1966 National League pennant, suffered their third straight setback by losing to the Yomiuri Giants-Chunichi Dragons All-Stars 4-1 Tuesday.

The loss also was the Dodgers' seventh against nine wins and one tie in their 18-game goodwill tour of Japan, the most suffered by an American major league team against the Japanese.

Chargers' Star Cracks Top 10

NEW YORK (AP) — Paul Lowe of the San Diego Chargers going through a disappointing season, has finally dented a defensive line and broke into the rushing statistics of the American Football League.

★ ★ ★

The veteran halfback, who broke the league rushing record last season, was stopped until Sunday. Although the Chargers, another disappointment, lost again, Lowe carried 10 times for 125 yards to grab eighth place in this week's statistics.

Successful Season Ends

Arrows Now Point to '67

With two MFL championships in as many years during their stay in the city, the Pontiac Arrows are looking ahead to 1967.

The Pontiac Football Company Inc., which has promoted the Arrows into the most successful club in the league for two years, will hold its annual meeting next week.

Among the big items on the agenda will be the election of officers and the contract of general manager and coach Lyle Wells.

Wells had a two-year contract with the Football Company. The contract expires December 1st and there has been a reported disagreement as to its renewal.

The coach operated a franchise in Mount Clemens for several years in the league. When the MFL was reorganized in 1964 with Flint and Pontiac becoming member cities, the Pontiac Football Company contracted Wells as coach and general manager of the Pontiac entry.

BOARD MEETING

Paul Parks, president of the Football Company, who is expected to be reelected to the position by the 12-member board next week said, "We hope to have a meeting with Wells as soon as possible to discuss the contract."

"There is some question among board members as to whether the Football Company would meet his demands."

* * *

Meanwhile, Parks noted that "The style of football of the Midwest Football League has generated tremendous enthusiasm among Pontiac area fans indicated by the fact that many people have already ordered season tickets for next year."

"We will have a Christmas gift certificate available for those who wish to give season tickets as gifts," said Parks, "but of course we can't know anything about schedules or games until early spring."

The Arrows boosted their average gate to 3,300 compared to 2,800 in 1965. Six home games were on the schedule each year.

* * *

There are reports that possibly two more teams would be in the league next year, one of which will be Grand Rapids. Interest has also come from Bay City-Saginaw, Battle Creek and Muskegon.

The Arrows ended the season Sunday by taking a 30-12 defeat at the hands of the talented MFL All-Stars at Wisner. Lone blemish in regular season was the 6-6 tie with Flint.

* * *

Team awards went to Tony Odneal, back and end, as the Most Valuable Player on offense and to Don Quinn, defensive end, as the MVP on defense.

The league MVP award went to Dayton's Pistol Pete Mikolajewski, who this week has entered the camp of the Detroit Lions as reserve quarterback behind former Arrows Karl Sweetan and Tommy Myers.

Poll Championships Settled

By The Associated Press

Battle Creek Central Saginaw Buena Vista and Galesburg-Augusta won mythical state high school football championships in the final Associated Press poll.

Mighty Battle Creek Central took top spot in Class A in the poll of sports writers and sportscasters across the state. Central, 9-0, had held down first place nearly all fall.

Saginaw Buena Vista grabbed the top position in Class B by a narrow margin over Frankenmuth. Both undefeated teams climbed after Buchanan, longtime leader, lost to Dowagiac 14-7 Friday.

Galesburg-Augusta nipped Detroit St. Ambrose for the mythical Class C-D championship. Middleville fell out of the top position with a 31-7 loss to Comstock Park.

Among the Oakland County Class A schools, Royal Oak Dondero tumbled to fifth place after tying arch-rival RO Kimball (who was 30th) last Friday.

Unbeaten Bloomfield Hills climbed to 12th in the final poll, once-tied Kettering finished 16th — one place ahead of twice-beaten Birmingham Brother Rice.

Shrine added luster to the Royal Oak grid picture by placing 12th in "B".

Battle Creek Central crushed Battle Creek Lakeview 21-7 Friday to complete its undefeated season. Saginaw Buena Vista finished the year with a 40-0 thrashing of Tawas Area. Galesburg-Augusta had finished its season the week before.

Youth Hostels to Start Series Tomorrow Night

The annual American Youth Hostels film series welcoming the snow skiing season will begin at 8:20 p. m. Wednesday at Detroit's Ford Auditorium with a personal appearance by Dick Barrymore.

* * *

Barrymore, probably the best known ski film maker, will narrate his new color film "A Cool Breath of Fresh Air," much of which was taken at the 28th world championships in Chile last summer.

The Hostels' Adventures in Skiing series will feature another well-known "ski photographer, Warren Miller, who will show his "Ski on the Wild Side" movie Nov. 23 at Ford Auditorium.

Ticket information is available at the hostels' office, 273-8560.

Surgery Slated for MVP Oriole

BALTIMORE (AP) — Frank Robinson the American League's Most Valuable Player, in 1966 is to undergo surgery on the cartilege in his right knee.

A spokesman for the Baltimore Orioles said the 31-year-old outfielder would undergo the surgery at an undetermined date in either Baltimore or Los Angeles.

Land Speed Try by Art Arfons Likely Today

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP) — Art Arfons of Akron, Ohio, made two successful test runs on the salt flats of western Utah yesterday and announced he would try for the world land speed record later today.

* * *

Arfons said the weather was ideal and his jet auto, "The Green Monster," handled "like a dream."

* * *

He said he would try to go through the measured mile twice at about 610 miles per hour—just enough to break the record of 600.601 held by Graig Breedlove of Los Angeles.

Breedlove set the record one year ago Tuesday.

Caution Over LBJ Surgery

Steels Help Mart Cut Losses

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market cut losses early this afternoon as steels advanced. Republic Steel raised its dividend. Trading was moderate.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 1.12 at 812.63.

The over-all market continued to decline as Wall Street showed renewed caution in the faced of President Johnson's surgery scheduled for tomorrow.

Declining auto sales, the climbing deficit in the U.S. balance of payments and the spreading strike at Westinghouse Electric were other factors dampening the list, analysts said.

Losses of key stocks ranged mostly from fractions to more than a point, but selling pressure was light. Many stocks showed trifling declines, traded unchanged or bucked the downtrend.

STEADIER SHOWING

A steadier showing was made by electronics, aerospace issues and airlines as the session continued.

Electrical equipments were soft.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was down 1.2 at 297.1 with industrials off 2.4, rails off .3 and utilities off .4.

Prices were irregularly higher on the American Stock Exchange. Trading was moderate. Williams Brothers spurted 4 points. Gains of about a point or more were made by Audio Devices, Computer Sciences, Eckerd Drug, Flying Tiger, GCA Corp., Jervis Corp., O'Okiep Copper and Supermarket General. Syntex fell more than 2 points. Off a point were Louisiana Land, National Video and Simmonds Precision.

Bodies of Five to Be Viewed

Inquest in Arizona's Mass Slayings Set

MESA, Ariz. (AP) — An all-male coroner's jury convenes today to view the bodies of four women and an infant girl, allegedly slaughtered by a laughing 18-year-old gunman as they lay on a beauty shop floor.

While Robert Benjamin Smith, a Mesa High School senior, lounged alone in a four-man jail cell, an inquest into Saturday's slayings of which he is charged was scheduled for Mesa Justice Court.

★ ★ ★

Bonita Sue Harris, 18, the only adult survivor of the shooting, remained under treatment in Southside District Hospital. The student beautician suffered head and arm wounds and was expected to be hospitalized several more days.

EXPRESS GRIEF

Smith's parents issued a statement through their attorney expressing grief over "the terrible tragedy wrought upon mankind by their disturbed boy."

Rod Wood, the lawyer who has arranged psychiatric treatment for young Smith, said Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Smith "extend their heart-felt sympathy to relatives and friends of the victims.

★ ★ ★

"They are interested in conferring with authorities in the near future in an effort to help parents the world over to detect such latent mental illness in a child and thus, if possible, to prevent any more of these insane homicides from occurring."

WAITED FOR ARRIVALS

Police said young Smith told them he waited for student hairdressers of the Rose-Mar College of Beauty to arrive for work, then forced the first arrivals to lie in a circle and killed them to "get known. . .get myself a name."

Dead are Mary Margaret Olsen, 18, Glenda Carter, 18, and Carol Farmer, 19, all students; Joyce Sellers, 27, the only customer in the shop, and Mrs. Sellers' 3-year-old daughter, Debra.

Bloomfield Twp. Exec Will Head WSU Fund Board

Robert W. Hague of 58 Manor, Bloomfield Township has been named president of the Wayne State Fund Board of Directors.

A 1949 Wayne State University graduate, Hague is comptroller for the Federal-Mogul Corp. of Southfield.

★ ★ ★

Among other area residents named to offices on the board were Mrs. Olga G. Dworkin, 31401 W. Stonewood, Farmington Township, first vice president, and David A. Goldman, 28682 Millbrook, Farmington Township, a general vice president.

Others elected to six-year terms as directors are Raymond E. Hayes, 1160 S. Lake Angelus Shores, Lake Angelus; Leonard Rolston, 27561 California, Lathrup Village; and Calvin D. Bogart, 17580 Dorset, Southfield.

'66 Mart Byword

Two-Sided Selectivity

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — The word "selective" got a strenuous workout in Wall Street this year. It was the all-around catcall.

CUNNIFF

The word was borrowed from another part of the market-place, having been in popular usage by companies which wished to contrast their "selective" price increases with across-the-board types that had fallen into disfavor.

★ ★ ★

Its usage on Wall Street grew this year as stock prices deteriorated. Superficially, it meant that greater care was to be exercised in stock purchases. But adviser and buyer often interpreted it differently.

A typical use was this: "With prices declining, selectivity is the key to successful investing in this year's stock market." The sentence suits its purpose. It cannot be challenged. But who could be anything but a selective buyer?

THE OBVIOUS

Analyzed, any encouragement to be selective is merely to advise someone about the obvious — to select only good buys. An investor must, of necessity, seek good buys for he cannot buy the whole market.

Some of the mystery surrounding the word arises from its intent. It is a sales word more than a cautionary word, as it would appear. It has been used to encourage trading rather than to discourage it, for commissions are made on trades.

★ ★ ★

The odds this year were against realizing any short-term gains through selectivity. The decline was one of the worst since the great depression. It was steep and broad. It took away 25 per cent of paper values.

A drop of this size has been exceeded only three times in modern market history — in 1929, when it fell 89 per cent; in 1937, when 42 per cent of the market disappeared; and in 1962, when the decline was 26 per cent.

LIST DECLINES

Nearly all mutual funds, pension funds and institutional investors reported declines this year, even though all were selective. Gains, of course, still may and will be made over a longer term.

Asked what his opinion of the stock market was, J. P. Morgan once replied: "It'll fluctuate." This was a safe forecast. The market always had fluctuated. And in the future, if it didn't fluctuate it wouldn't be a market.

★ ★ ★

Selectivity is similar. Buyers must always be selective. They cannot be anything less than that.

'Huge Troop Force Needed to Win War'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Pentagon's new guerrilla warfare research director belives it could take "anywhere from half a million to two million" U.S. troops to win the Viet Nam war in as little as five years.

According to Seymour J. Dietchman, casulaties would compare with those in the Korean war, during which 33,629 American servicemen were killed.

From Jan. 1, 1961, through last Nov. 5, a total of 5,823 U.S. servicemen have been killed. At present there are about 350,000 U.S. troops of all services in Viet Nam.

Dietchman, a staff member of the Institute for Defense Anaylsis (IDA), was named yesterday to be director for remote areas conflict in the Pentagon's advanced research projects agency.

★ ★ ★

IDA is a private organization working primarily for the Defense Department. While there, the 43-year-old Dietchman did studies on countering insurgency warfare such as that in Viet Nam.

NEW DUTIES

In his new job, he will head research on such wars, including "communications, mobility, systems analysis and behavioral studies."

He set forth his gloomy, if realistic, view of the war in an article — "Impossible Choices in Asia" — for the Washington Post last May. He told a reporter today he had no reason to change his conclusions now.

Two of his main conclusions dealt with the alternatives of continuing the war at the intensity prevailing when he wrote his article or greatly expanding the U.S. troop commitments.

★ ★ ★

The latter seems to be the course the government has followed.

20-YEAR WAR

Dietchman felt that the war could last for 20 years, with American casualties on the Korean war scale, if it were fought at levels prevailing last spring. At that time there were 235,000 U.S. troops and 75,000 Communists.

★ ★ ★

Alternatively, he said that an American commitment greatly increased over that level would bring requirements that were "virtually open-ended."

Disqualification Petition Denied in Bank Case

DETROIT (UPI) — Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Nathan J. Kaufman yesterday denied a petition to disqualify Circuit Judge Benjamin Burdick from presiding over hearings in the controversial Public Bank merger case.

Burdick voluntarily withdrew from the case last week because of personal ties with some of the individuals in the merger.

★ ★ ★

Kaufman, however, ruled that, under court laws, a judge cannot withdraw from a case.

He said the presiding judge of the court could reassign the case to another circuit judge and turned over the question of Burdick's removal request to presiding Judge Thomas Murphy for a formal hearing.

Base Opens Ahead of Time

TUY HOA, South Viet Nam (AP)—This $50-million U.S. Air Force base began combat operations today 45 days ahead of schedule.

Gen. Hunter Harris, commander of the U.S. Air Force in the Pacific, said the new base will permit quicker air strikes in support of ground operations in the midsection of South Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

Lt. Gen. William M. Momyer, chief of the 7th Air Force, said Tuy Hoa will "play a role in our increased flexibility in close support of ground forces" [illegible] 2nd and 3rd Corps [illegible] have seen some of [illegible] hardest fighting in the war.

LANDING WITNESSED

Harris, Momyer and other Air Force and Vietnamese officials witnessed the landing of the first F100 Super Sabre Jet fighter bombers on the 3,470-foot runway.

★ ★ ★

A 10,000-foot runway—capable of handling the nation's heaviest bombers—will be completed by May along with the rest of the base.

Leading his squadron in was Lt. Col. Alan Wockerfuss of Webster, S.D. He has been in Viet Nam for seven months.

Air Firm's Runs Increased; Add Sunday Flights

Standard Airways, Inc., has virtually doubled its weekday schedule and begun a Sunday setup from Pontiac City Airport to Metropolitan Airport and back, President Allen Tucker announced today.

Weekday flights leaving Pontiac will depart at 6:30, 7 and 8:30 a. m.; 1, 2:27 and 4 p. m.

Weekday flights returning to Pontiac leave Metropolitan at 8 and 10 a.m.; 12:30, 1:30, 4:30 and 8:30 p. m.

Sunday flights leave Pontiac at 1:30 and 3:25 p. m. They leave Metropolitan at 3 and 5 p. m.

★ ★ ★

Reservations for the 20-minute flight can be made at the Pontiac City Airport or through either the American Airlines counter or Gate 19 in the South Terminal at Metropolitan. Fare is $7.

"The company will confirm major airline reservations for any Standard Airways passenger so he can walk off our plane and right onto another," Tucker said.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "Since I'm retired and receive Social Security, I am undecided about holding 100 Interstate Bakeries purchased at 35. Do you think it will recover later?" G. L.

A) So many varying factors affect the future action of a baking company stock that I cannot give a specific answer. Companies like Interstate are hurt by rising wholesale prices of flour, milk, shortening and other ingredients. Added to these problems are greater expenses in packaging and in meeting higher wage scales.

Even though sales for Interstate Bakeries may reach another new peak this year, earnings may only approximate the results for 1965. The reasons are twofold: rising costs and the squeeze inflicted by competitive pricing. A look at the company's earnings back to 1956 shows an irregular pattern but one that has always covered the dividend adequately.

In your position, I would hold the stock for its good, dependable income. If product prices can be raised and if efforts to tighten cost controls are effective, profits — and ultimately share prices—should improve.

★ ★ ★

Q) "I'm saving money to go into business sometime but it's slow. A friend advised me to buy Cenco Instruments for quick profit. I bought a block and it went down. Would you advise me to keep it?" J. G.

A) It is very hard for me to impress on my readers the fact that the stock market, except under roaring bull market conditions, is a difficult place to make a fast dollar. In many instances, otherwise sensible people put into stocks substantial sums which they would dream of investing in any other form of property without thorough and painstaking investigation. I think you've been fortunate. Although rather volatile, Cenco is a sound stock. I would keep my shares and count myself lucky this time.

Pontiac Police Quiz Juvenile on Break-Ins

Apprehension yesterday by Pontiac police of a 14-year-old juvenile quickly solved one burglary and may clear several others, investigators believe.

* * *

Patrolmen Richard L. Adams and Eldon B. Mudge took the youth into custody after tracing to him possession of a stolen shotgun.

The gun, valued at $100, had been reported missing from the home of James Bruce, 44 Bellevue, along with a clock radio worth $25 and a television set worth $100.

The clock radio and television were recovered by police from the juvenile, who admitted entering the Bruce home and also several other residences.

Other juveniles may be involved, police said.

Demand Ban Lifting 'M' Students Rap Ruling

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The student government council voted today to break off relations with the University of Michigan unless a ban on sit-in demonstrations is rescinded by Thursday.

The action was taken on a 13-2 vote following several hours of discussion of a new rule issued by Richard Cutler, vice president for student affairs.

* * *

Cutler banned sit-in demonstrations on the campus if they interfered with the orderly processes of the university.

Two such protests were staged in the offices of vice presidents recently to protest the release of organizational membership lists to the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

The student government council said Cutler's order was not an isolated instance.

"Rather, it is indicative of the basic problems faced by students and faculty at this university," the council said in a resolution.

* * *

It added:

"Those who presently hold top offices in this system apparently do not believe that students and faculty have any right even to consultation in the making of major decisions."

SANCTIONED BOARD

The student government council is an all-campus body sanctioned by the U. of M. Board of Regents. It has advisory powers only, except in the area of student rule making.

In its resolution, the council said there have been several major decisions recently where it should have been consulted but was not. These included:

* * *

—Rejection by the regents of a student proposal to set up a university-operated bookstore.

—Establishment of a highway safety research institute.

—Compilation and release of class rankings to draft boards without a referendum on the issue.

—Granting to Cutler of "absolute authority over student behavior."

"It is now clear that the administration's statements bear little or no relation to its actual behavior in this area and that its promises at this point are unreliable," the council stated.

Twin Pines Is Testing Stretched Out Deliveries

What might turn out to be one long weekend for customers of metropolitan milk routes began this week as Twin Pines Farm Dairy launched an experimental milk delivery program.

They'll deliver every third day — leaving the same time lapse between deliveries that has been experienced over the weekend.

J. A. Meiser, president, said the program was being tried in several selected route groups.

A letter delivered to Twin Pine customers recently said, "If you're wondering why we decided to adopt the new plan, we could give you a dozen reasons, but the most important one is today's labor shortage.

* * *

"You just can't get help these days, specially if a man has to work a six-day week!"

The letter continues, "With our new plan, we'll be working a five-day week, which is the normal workweek."

Twin Pines contends its new, modern processing helps the dairy products stay fresh far longer and that today's larger, more efficient refrigerators keep dairy products fresh much longer in the home.

A spokesman for the Borden Co. said today that some of its distributors are trying the new program, but since all routes are independently owned it will be up to the individual routeman.

* * *

A Sealtest Dairy spokesman said, "Our home service distributors own their own routes. We assume they will be studying the new delivery program with interest."

'WORKS JUST FINE'

The Twin Pines letter says that the plan has been tried and proven in many cities throughout the country, and customers find that it works just fine.

* * *

James Nye, president of the Nye Dairy, of Pontiac, said his company is not contemplating a change in delivery at the present time. However, his distrbutors are independent and are free to operate the routes to their advantage, he said.

W. German Chancellorship Rivals Confer

BONN, Germany (AP) — The two rivals for the West German chancellorship, Willy Brandt and Kurt Georg Kiesinger, met today for the first talks in an attempt to form a "grand coalition" of their Socialist and Christian Democratic parties.

Brandt, 52-year-old mayor of West Berlin, is chairman of the Socialist party. Kiesinger, 62-year-old ex-Nazi, is the Christian Democratic choice to succeed Chancellor Ludwig Erhard.

* * *

The Socialists have been the chief opposition party since the West German government was formed in 1949, and were in opposition for nearly 20 years before that. In recent years many leading politicians have come around to the idea that the country needs a coalition of the two major parties to solve some of the country's basic problems. Together they would have an overwhelming majority in Parliament.

Brandt wanted to improve his chances of becoming chancellor by getting the United States, Britain and France to permit the 22 West Berlin members of the Bundestag to vote at its meetings in Bonn. He pointed out that West Berlin delegates had been allowed to vote in the election of President Heinrich Luebke in July 1964.

The U.S. Embassy commented that Luebke was chosen by the National Assembly, made up of members of the Bundestag and representatives of the state governments and not by the Bundestag itself. Since the West German Federal Republic was formed in 1949 Berliners have had a voice but no vote in the Bundestag. The Soviets, who officially consider West Berlin an independent political unit, oppose West German attempts to treat the former capital as part of West Germany.

If the West Berliners could vote, a coalition of Socialists and West Germany's third party, the Free Democrats, could command 265 votes in the Bundestag to the Christian Democrats' 251. This would give a workable majority, and a Socialist-Free Democrat coalition would probably be easier to form than a Socialist-Christian Democrat alliance.

However on Saturday the U.S. Embassy, speaking for the British and French as well, said the position had not changed since 1949 — the Western allies are still masters in West Berlin and its Bundestag delegates have no vote. Washington wants no trouble with Moscow over Berlin when it is trying to get Soviet help to end the war in Viet Nam and to write a treaty to halt the spread of nuclear weapons.

Brandt in reply warned allied spokesmen against interfering in German politics. He said the ban on the Berliners' voting had eased over the years and the allies should be above the suspicion of party prejudice.

Slides Claim Lives in Ceylon

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — Men, women and children have been buried in a series of landslides in tea-growing mountain districts about 120 miles from Ceylon.

Rescue teams have recovered the bodies of nine victims so far. More are expected to be found.

* * *

At Beragala, a British tea plantation, an earthslide following a heavy monsoon rain buried a group of workers' homes.

Twenty miles from Beragala another slide buried a grocery store with all who were in it.

Weather experts alerted the central hill country population that more landslides could be expected because heavy rains were continuing.

The earliest recorded windmills are those used for grinding corn in Persia in the 7th century A. D.

Detroit Detective

DETROIT (AP) — Police Detective Anthony P. Gallow, 41, remained in critical condition today at Detroit General Hospital. He suffered a gunshot wound in the stomach while breaking up a holdup at a North Side drive-in restaurant Sunday. The alleged bandit, Thomas Kelof, 22, of East Detroit, was wounded twice in the gun battle with Gallow. He was listed in serious condition at the same hospital.

School May Reopen on Wednesday

Waterford Township school officials are hopeful classes will resume tomorrow at Lambert School, 3576 Cass-Elizabeth, which has been closed the past two days because of a malfunctioning water pump.

According to school officials, workers lack a part to repair the pump and restore the school's water supply.

* * *

The disorder began late last week at the school which has an enrollment of 229 pupils.

School officials said they probably won't know until late today whether the school will be open tomorrow.

3 goals to consider before you buy stocks... free investment guide

It's estimated that more than 20 million people own shares in American business. Possibly you are one of them. Or perhaps you are just beginning to see yourself in the role of investor and are considering putting some of your funds to work in the market.

* * *

Right now, you may be puzzling the question of what your investment goal should be. Your answer may be in the following:

* * *

GROWTH: Your goal may be to benefit from your investment in later years—perhaps to help finance a college education, to cushion your retirement years, even to treat your family to some long-talked-about luxury.

* * *

So you consider common stocks of companies which strike you as having good prospects of growing. Although the past doesn't guarantee the future, many common stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange have grown impressively through the years.

* * *

(Healthy growth is one thing; the dazzle of the "high flyers" may be another. The one sure thing is that stock prices ebb and flow for many reasons, so there is risk in any investment.)

* * *

INCOME: If your ambition is to spice your regular income with dividends, your interest may focus on a stock's dividend record and prospects. Possibly preferred stocks or bonds.

* * *

Some 500 stocks listed on the Exchange have paid quarterly dividends for 20 years or more without a miss.

* * *

SAFETY: If your circumstances suggest a more conservative tack, then you would weigh the relative safety of principal combined with a good yield, that high-grade preferred stocks or bonds might offer.

* * *

Settling your mind on a realistic goal is just one of four guidelines that wise investors usually follow.

* * *

A second is to consider investing only money you don't expect to need in the foreseeable future, for living expenses and emergencies.

* * *

A third is to ask your broker for facts and advice in appraising a company's business picture before applying your judgment.

* * *

The fourth guideline is to use the services of a registered representative in a member firm of the Exchange. He's not infallible—who is?—but his knowledge of investing can often help light your way.

Card of Thanks 1

I WOULD LIKE TO THANK ALL the voters who elected me as their constable of Independence Twp. Earl R. King

WE, THE FAMILY, WISH TO thank everyone for the wonderful gift given to us during our recent bereavement in the passing of Joseph Leal Sr.

WE WISH TO EXPRESS OUR deepest thanks and appreciation to our many friends and relatives with special thanks to Father Ellis and Father Burke, The Elton-Black Funeral Home, VFW-Oxbow Post, and Oakland County Sheriffs Dept. for their kindness and sympathy shown us at the loss of our son — brother, and grandson. The family of Jim Lange.

In Memoriam 2

IN MEMORY OF MICHAEL A. Elkins, killed Nov. 15, 1965. Sadly missed by father, sister and friends.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR mother and grandmother Dorothy M. Hopkin, who passed away Nov. 15, 1965.
Gone is the face we loved so dear
Silent is the voice we loved to hear
Too far away for sight or speech
But not too far for thought to reach.
Sadly missed by 2 sons, 4 daughters, 1 daughter-in-law, 3 sons-in-law and 19 grandchildren.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR dear mother, Sophia Omelian, who passed away 8 years ago today, November 15, 1958.
You left this world of sorrow,
And are free from pain and harm,
And now rest in peace and comfort
In the Blessed Saviour's arms.
Sadly missed by loving daughters, Helen Nurenberg and Elizabeth Francisco.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF PHEBE Henderson Tinson, who was so needlessly killed in a car crash on Nov. 15, 1963.
When we see a precious blossom
We had tended with such care,
So rudely taken from our bosom,
How our aching hearts despair.
Sadly missed by loving mother, son, brothers and sisters.

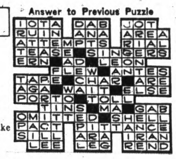
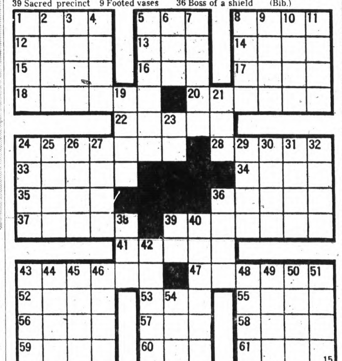
Answer to Previous Puzzle





Jakarta Coup Said Important

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The overthrow of communist power in Indonesia by Indonesian students and the Indonesian Army may be the most important development of the decade in Asia, a veteran Associated press correspondent said today.

Stanley M. Swinton, assistant general manager and director of world services for the Associated Press, spoke to an audience of 300 at the first University of Michigan Journalism Department 1966-67 lecture.

Swinton, a native of Charlevoix, had been honored by the University Saturday when President Harlan Hatcher presented him with the University's Outstanding Achievement award.

Swinton, who has written AP dispatches from more than 100 countries, said that the destruction of the Communist apparatus in Indonesia had freed the fifth largest nation in the world from the threat of a Red takeover.

Might Reagan's Next Role Be Played in White House?

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — For 10 years, Hollywood told its favorite Ronald Reagan story.

His ex-wife Jane Wyman in analyzing his character said, "He's the kind of man, if you ask him what time it is, he tells you how the watch was made."

WILSON

That was considered a knock by some of Reagan's friends. Now that he's Governor-elect, they say it's an indication of thoroughness which could sweep him to the White House.

Stripteaser Mary Rooney, one of two topless waitresses at the Crystal Room who got a summons, said a couple of hours after she started, that tips were bad. "Not a cent so far," she said. "Nobody's leaving!" . . . Mary, seeking a stripper job, got hired as a waitress. "Trouble is, I know nothing about being a waitress," she complained . . . Her fan club members said, "Nobody'll notice THAT!"

Mary and topless waitress Ruby Diamond took attention away from singer Betty Barnes (a real talent) whose lovely voice nobody looked at when they could look at the topless waitresses. New York's getting to be something when a customer turns away from the star to drool over the waitress.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Jacqueline Susann's "Valley of the Dolls"—just published in England—sold 26,500 in 4 days. Shakespeare didn't do that well with "Hamlet," even when he put it out in paperback . . . A certain ex-movie mogul here's such a big man, he can't even get the elevator operator to ride him express. "Would have six months ago," the elevator chap said.

Broadway personality Ken (The Stomach) MacSarin is on Bellevue's critical list after a heart attack . . . The rumor's around again that Mayor Lindsay's aide Bob Price will take a leave of absence to master-mind a Romney-Javits ticket for '68 . . . Ringsiding at Peggy Lee's Copa show: FDR Jr. . . . Gary Crosby and wife Barbara confirmed the reconciliation reports, hand-holding at Enrico & Paglieri's.

★ ★ ★

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A Broadway character went to a psychiatrist to end his egomania, and reported back, "I'm straightened out—in fact, now I'm the nicest guy in the world."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: A woman complained about the theater: "There's nothing worth hearing on stage—or even during intermission!"

EARL'S PEARLS: An office buuilding's being planned for Manhattan so tall the elevators will feature in-flight movies.

Some people discussed Jackie Mason, allegedly shot at in Las Vegas. "Remember the old days," someone asked, "when, if they did like your act they just booed?" That's earl, brother.

Hare Warns on Filing of Vote Funds

LANSING (AP) — If the amount spent in the governorship race between Republican George Romney and challenger Zolton Ferency didn't set a record "I'll miss my guess," says Secretary of State James Hare.

Hare, the man in charge of conducting last week's general election, also warned both winners and losers they are required to file complete accountings of their campaign expenses by Nov. 28.

★ ★ ★

If they don't Hare noted, state law prohibits him from certifying the winners as elected.

Hare added Michigan's current election law is "better than nothing at all," but said he plans to seek a more meaningful one next year.

★ ★ ★

For one thing, he said, the law requires political committees to file statements with the county in which the committee treasurer lives. In some cases, he added, a treasurer may not be a resident of Michigan.

Chrysler Sued

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A Pittsburgh automobile dealer sued Chrysler Corp. Monday for $1.3 million over the firm's discontinuance of its DeSoto line of cars in 1960. Forbes Field Auto Sales Inc., of the city's Oakland section, charged Chrysler's reason for discontinuing the line was to "remove DeSoto dealers from the business and to concentrate the sale of Chrysler products . . . in Chrysler and Dodge dealers."

Eastern Firm Buys Marshall Company

NEW YORK (AP) — Republic Industrial Corp. said Monday it had purchased all of the assets of Stanco Electrical Products of Marshall, Mich., for an undisclosed amount of cash.

Included in the purchase were Stanco's wholly owned subsidiaries, Norwood Tool & Machine Co. of Three Rivers, Mich., and Riverton Industries of New Carlisle, Ind.

Stanco manufactures electric harnesses, molded connectors and assemblies primarily for the automotive electrical equipment field.

4 State Soldiers Killed in Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four Michigan men were identified by the Pentagon Monday as killed in action in the Viet Nam war. They were:

Army Pfc. Jerry L. Ruiter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald P. Ruiter of Nunica; Marine Cpl. Cpl. Gerald R. Burns, son of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Stanton of Detroit; Marine Lance Cpl. Gerald R. Burns, son ofm Mr. and Mrs. David L. Burns of Caseville; and Marine Lance Cp. Charles E. Meek, son of Gerald Meek of Southfield.

Boxer Offers Real Lesson

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A thief who stole boxing gloves and a punching bag from a car trunk has a free offer to learn how to use them.

"I'd like to teach him the manly art of self-defense," said Carmine Iacobucci, a bantamweight boxer since 1947 and a veteran of 90 professional bouts.

Iacobucci, 39, reported the theft from his car Monday.

Station Closed

CHARLEVOIX (AP) — The Coast Guard station at Beaver Island was closed and secured for the winter Monday. A 40 foot utility boat stationed at the island has been taken to Sault Saint Marie for extensive overhaul. Weather permitting, the station will reopen May 1.

Plan Complaint

WHITEHALL (AP) — The White Lake Improvement Association said it will file a complaint Thursday with the State Water Resources Commission and the State Health Department, on pollution of White Lake. The association wants the state to check the efficiency of the lagoon system of treating Whitehall sewage. The association claims the system is inadequate.

Injunction Aired

DETROIT (AP) — Circuit Judge Joseph G. Rashid today heard arguments on a petition asking an injunction to halt a strike by nonprofessional workers that has curtailed services at the 70-bed Woodward General Hospital in suburban Highland Park. Hospital officials also asked for $100,000 damages from the striking Clerical, Technical and Professional Union.

Dem Loser to Push State Income Tax

LANSING (UPI) — State Rep. H. James Starr, D-Lansing, defeated in last week's Republican landslide election, said yesterday he would push to get a state income tax through the legislature next month.

The legislature is scheduled to meet Dec. 7-9 to wind up its 1966 session.

Starr said that unless the Democratically controlled Legislature acts now on tax reform, Republicans who took over the Senate and managed a 55-55 tie in the House would not pass badly needed fiscal reform legislation.

"I'm going to try to get all the forces to work. I believe that if it's a reasonable program, the governor will cooperate. If we don't get fiscal reform by Jan. 1, we're not going to get it," Starr said.

Gov. George Romney and Democratic leaders in the state have declared a new tax structure is necessary to protect the state against deficit spending by the next fiscal year, July 1, 1968.

New Senate Majority leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, said last week that unless the state changes its tax program, Michigan could find itself $65 million in the red by the next fiscal year.

Democrats have previously supported changing the state Constitution and creating a graduated income tax program.

Starr said he would try to combine the graduated income tax theme with a flat-rate income tax plan proposed by Republicans.

Starr said he would go to Gus Scholle, Michigan AFL-CIO president, and ask his support of the fiscal reform program.

Starr also said he would meet with House Speaker Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, in an attempt to get legislative action on his proposal.

Starr was defeated by Thomas L. Brown of Lansing.

Guardsman Can Appeal State Ouster

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Supreme Court gave Maj. Gen. Ronald D. McDonald a "go-ahead" Monday in his appeal of his ouster as state adjutant general.

The high court granted McDonald leave to appeal an unfavorable Court of Appeals ruling on his challenge of Gov. George Romney's right to dismiss him from the state military post and the right of Maj. Gen. Clarence Schnipke to serve in McDonald's place.

★ ★ ★

The Supreme Court order was signed by Chief Justice Thomas Kavanagh, while Justice Theodore Souris dissented and Justices Paul Adams and John Dethmers did not participate.

McDonald, working for a Lansing lithograph firm, continues as an unassigned major general in the Michigan National Guard.

His appeal requires Schnipke to show by what right he now holds the adjutant general's post and asks for a writ declaring the ousted officer "the lawful and right adjutant that . . . in all respects entitled to hold and occupy that office."

★ ★ ★

It asks the court to find Schnipke's appointment "void and of no effect . . . and ousting and excluding the defendant from that office."

Schnipke was appointed to fill the adjutant's post July 22, 1965. Romney had removed McDonald May 20, 1965, after a 93-hour hearing into reported irregularities in the Michigan military establishment.

After the hearing, Romney found McDonald guilty of malfeasance, misfeasance and gross neglect of duty. The charges involved land transactions at Camp Grayling and the use of local armory funds.

The Appeals Court said the governor acted within his rights in removing McDonald.

The State Constitution did not distinguish between military and civilian appointed officers, the court said in answer to McDonald's contention that as a military officer he should have been granted a military courtmartial.

★ ★ ★

A second suit, challenging Romney's findings and the conduct of the hearing is pending before the Appeals Court.

Pentagon Cuts Use of Lie Detector Tests

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon, often accused of being less than truthful about some things, is cutting back on the use of lie detector tests.

And Congress, sometimes the accuser, is happy about it.

When a House Committee on Government Operations said federal agencies were too liberal in the use of polygraph — lie detector — examinations, the Defense Department was the first to change its ways.

The Pentagon went out with an order regulating how polygraph fests were to be conducted and stating how its examiners, now numbering over 400, were to be selected, trained and supervised.

"The directive represented the first step taken by any agency to curtail the widespread use of the so-called lie detector test," the committee reported just before adjournment of the 89th Congress. Its report was made public a few days ago.

The committee said the Pentagon conducted 14,978 polygraph tests in the year ending June 30, 1963, the year Congress first really began looking into lie detector usage by the government.

In response to queries, the Pentagon said the number was lopped to less than half that — 6,294 — in fiscal 1966 which ended last June 30.

Further, Defense Department figures showed a decline in recent years in the number of lie detector exams. There were 14,222 in 1964 and 11,634 in 1965. Slightly more than 800 have been given the past four months, the first quarter of fiscal 1967.

The Pentagon attributed the reduction to tighter controls placed on the use of polygraph exams by a directive issued in July 1965, three months after the House committee issued its first findings.

Basically, Pentagon components can use lie detector tests only in security and criminal investigations, under current rules.

"For criminal matters," the order states, "polygraphs are to be used only when the crime under investigation is punishable by death or by imprisonment for one year or more."

"Polygraphs," it says further, "will be used in security investigations only when the matter involves security clearance higher than the 'confidential' level or if employment is clearly consistent with the interest of national security."

The House committee wasn't completely satisfied with the way the Pentagon phrased its directive.

The Pentagon, the committee noted, "still permits the every day use of polygraphs for preemployment screening — an area which hardly can be characterized as falling within the definition of 'the most serious national security cases.'"

AT THE DOCTOR'S COMMAND

A quarter-century ago, the average doctor saw about 21 people a day. He spent a lot of time with each patient, but there was little he could do except hope that nature would cure the ailment. Today, the doctor sees about 26 people a day. He spends less time with each patient — but he does a lot more than he was able to do 25 years ago. Chief reason: Today's doctor can command a vast array of potent new drugs to help him in his job of curing disease. That's why we say . . .
