

K Snails After Reds Down U.S. 'Air Aggressor'

Vote on Charter Upheld by Ziem, Appeal Planned

Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem today upheld the public vote which lets the city manager fire or demote Police Chief Herbert W. Straley.

Judge Ziem ruled that both charter amendments adopted April 16 were legal and that there was no reason to believe the voters were "fooled" into voting for them.

He ordered dismissal of the controversial suit brought by City Commissioners Milton R. Henry and Robert A. Landry against the rest of the 1958-1960 City Commission.

But Judge Ziem granted a stay of execution in the order until May 15 to give the two commissioners time to try an appeal to the State Supreme Court.

Attorney Henry, who is handling his own case, immediately announced intentions to appeal. With luck, he said, the case could be before the high court as early as Monday.

Judge Ziem said he would not restrain the city beyond May 15 from filing certification of the vote with the County Clerk and the Secretary of State.

It is this suit has prevented the city from doing so far. State law requires the filing within 30 days of the election. In Pontiac's case, the deadline is May 18.

EWART JUBILANT—City Attorney William A. Ewart, who drew up the two amendments, was jubilant at Judge Ziem's decision.

"I am confident the city could win an appeal to the Supreme Court," he said.

Judge Ziem upheld the city on a contested point.

In elaborating his decision to Ewart and Henry this morning, the judge repeatedly used the phrase "very, very serious" in describing the key issues in the case.

He said he had worked on the case until the small hours last night in order to fulfill his promise of a speedy decision.

He said he wanted the stay of execution in his job until the Supreme Court has had the opportunity to look at the case.

Straley reportedly is under fire at City Hall for allegedly campaigning in the City Commission election April 18, contrary to prohibition of such practices in the city's personnel rules.

Both charter amendments were contained in the suit filed by the Board and, at the same time, removed Straley from its protection.

Students Rough Up Turkey's Premier

ANKARA, Turkey (U)—A crowd of 4,000 students today heckled and jostled Premier Adnan Menderes as he sought personally to placate an angry demonstration. The 61-year-old Premier was uninjured.

Menderes was drenched out by hostile shouts as he attempted to disperse the milling, shouting students.

He stepped out of his limousine to address the students who booed and shouted "Resign! Resign!"

Friends pulled the disheveled Premier back into the limousine, which moved slowly down the main avenue of Ankara through more excited students.

Will Meg's Tony Be Titled? Populace Likes Plain Mister

LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret's wedding eve and the big question today was whether she would marry a commoner.

Or will Queen Elizabeth II elevate bridegroom-to-be Antony Armstrong-Jones to the peerage?

If Armstrong-Jones goes to the altar Friday in Westminster Abbey without a title, Margaret will be the first English princess in 40 years to marry a plain mister.

Brions today were debating whether such a break with tradition would be good or bad.

"Title for Tony? What nonsense!" exclaimed a banner headed on the front page of the tabloid Daily Mirror. The paper declared:

"Does young Tony want a title? No. Does he deserve a title? No. Maybe he will deserve a title later on. Maybe we all will. But on what grounds does he rate a title now?"

"Mr. Jones fell in love with a princess and a princess fell in love with him. All good luck to H. R. H. Princess Margaret and happiness to the young couple."

"But Lord Antony? 'Ye ancient Armstrong? 'Earl Jones? 'O No, Please no!"

Friends of the groom still figured he would be made an Earl. Final preparations went ahead for the big event, which has drawn thousands of tourists from the United States and Europe three weeks before the start of the usual tourist season.

By tonight the stage will be set, the route from Buckingham Palace to the Abbey bright with flowers, and the first spectators will be taking up places for an overnight wait on the sidewalk.

The crowds are expected to be the greatest since Elizabeth's coronation. Thousands of extra police were called into the city to control them.

U.S. Says Pilot May've Been Unconscious

Suspects Reds Shot Unarmed Plane Having Oxygen Trouble

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department said today Soviet forces may have shot down an unarmed U.S. research plane with an unconscious pilot rather than a "military craft" as Premier Nikita Khrushchev claimed.

Under instruction from President Eisenhower, the department and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration issued reports of their inquiry into the assertion by Khrushchev that an American plane was shot down over the Soviet Union early Sunday.

The State Department report said a single-engine, high altitude jet used in weather research took off from Adana, Turkey, that day with a civilian pilot and has been missing since.

The disappearance of the plane was announced Tuesday.

"During the flight of this plane," the report said, "the pilot reported difficulty with his oxygen equipment."

"Mr. Khrushchev has announced that a United States plane has been shot down over the U.S.S.R. on that day. It may be that this was the missing plane."

"It is entirely possible that having a failure in the oxygen equipment which could result in the pilot losing consciousness, the plane continued on automatic pilot for a considerable distance and accidentally violated Soviet airspace."

ANSKS FILE DETAILS

State Department Press Officer Lincoln White, making the statement, announced that U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson at Moscow is being instructed to ask the Soviet government for full information on the fate of the pilot.

The pilot's name was not immediately given out.

Congress members reacted angrily today to Khrushchev's announcement.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate Democratic leader, speculated that Khrushchev may be "simply using this as an incident to apply leverage for the coming summit meeting."

Other comment at the Capitol ranged up to suggestions that Khrushchev's announcement, and the truculent tone of other parts of his speech, make it inadvisable for President Eisenhower to go to the summit at all.

At the other end of the scale were criticism of State, Col. 1.

Detroit's Council Proposes 1 Pct. Tax on Income

DETROIT (U)—Detroit's Common Council proposed yesterday a 1 per cent income tax on all persons working or living in the city.

The tax was expected to be in a program to be passed before July 1. It was referred for study to the Detroit Corporation Council, Nathan Goldstick and Council Controller Henry P. Dowling.

John H. Witherspoon, assistant corporation counsel, said the tax would be legal unless the state passes a Michigan income tax.

It was estimated the income tax would yield more than $7 million dollars a year.

Mayor Louis Michienzi said he has not decided whether he will veto the proposal. He has opposed such a program in the past.

Summit Attitude Stiffens After Plane Incident

Premier Raps Nixon at Paris Meetings

MOSCOW (U)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev told cheering delegates of the Supreme Soviet today that an American plane was shot down over the Soviet Union at 5:36 a.m. May 1—9:36 p.m. (Pontiac time).

As applause echoed from the Kremlin rafters, Khrushchev said the outlook for the forthcoming summit conference is gloomy because of what he called aggressive actions and speeches by American leaders.

He cited the entry of the American plane into Soviet airspace as one of those aggressive acts and said the Soviet Union is going to complain to the United Nations Security Council.

The Premier also issued a blunt warning that the Soviet Union would retaliate with rockets if American bombers continued to come over Soviet territory.

Khrushchev said that for President Eisenhower to send Vice President Richard M. Nixon to sit in for him at the summit conference would be "like sending a goat to take care of the cabbage."

Eisenhower had said that if his presence were required back in Washington on domestic matters while the conference was continuing, he would send Nixon as his representative.

The plane, a U2 is assumed to have come down near Lake Van, not far from the Soviet Armenia border. It is a single-engine jet.

NEAR EARLIER CRASH

The area is close to the point where a U.S. C130 turboprop transport wandered over the border and was downed by the Soviets Sept. 2, 1958. The Soviets have accounted for only 6 of the 17 men lost in that incident.

The Premier expressed regret that Eisenhower could devote only seven days to the summit talks. The length of the meeting, he said, should be determined by the necessity of achieving results, and there should be other aims than prevention of war.

Khrushchev told delegates to a presumptive meeting of the Supreme Soviet that Eisenhower had written him saying that Nixon might have to substitute temporarily for him.

The Eisenhower time limit, he said, "seemed to show that there had been no real change in the Eisenhower's freedom of movement."

Khrushchev went on to say that he had met Nixon several times. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Housewife Cites Matching Funds Calls School Tax Bargain

Disturbed by those who "can't see the forest for the trees," Mrs. Ralph T. Norvell, 46 Wenonah Rd., says the Board of Education's request for additional taxes is a bargain.

"Any homemaker can tell a good bargain when she sees one," says the mother of three Pontiac school children.

"The Board of Education is asking us to approve a 2.8 mill increase in the voted tax rate on Monday. It needs it first of all just to keep giving us a good school system because of loss of income and increase in enrollment and cost of living."

"The bargain part of it is the National Defense Education Act. The federal government provides 47 cents to each $3 cents that Pontiac invests in the program. So if we spend $100,000 to improve the quality of the curriculum in math, science and foreign languages, then something like $170,000 in additional funds is available to our schools from federal aid."

"Now this is a bargain. It would be ridiculous not to take advantage of it. Educated brains constitute America's most needed resource. I believe that we should board."

Pontiac Twp. Businessmen Object

Debate School Tax Hike

William S. Downes, Pontiac Township industrialist and long-time student of school problems, last night charged that "the Pontiac Board of Education will get enough money to cover anticipated costs without an increase in the voted tax rate."

Downes and Roy L. Hardy, president of the Pontiac Township Businessmen's Assn., made their stand against the Board's proposal for a 2.8-mill increase in the voted tax rate for operation of the school system, at a public meeting at the Pontiac Township Hall.

Representing the Board was Vern L. Schiller, treasurer.

"State tax officials have suggested a 15 per cent hike in county equalization across the state," argued Downes.

WOULD COVER COSTS

"Figuring only a 6 per cent rise in equalization for Oakland County, the school system would get an additional $23,000 from the city next year and such an increase would cover increased costs in operation without a millage increase," he said.

Downes also argued that "expansion in the township will bring more tax income and if state aid is boosted, the Board would get an additional $100,000."

Both businessmen charged that "the Board made its plea for additional millage on the assumption that state equalization would drop again."

"In fact, we all thought it would, but now it looks like it will go up instead."

"We are not denying the Board will need more money to operate with. We merely say they will get it without the 2.8-mill tax rate increase," asserted Hardy.

Schiller explained, "We are basing all of our figures on a five-year projection of operating costs. We have now reached our millage limit for operating."

"In the face of increases in costs in the next five years, we must have the millage rate hike to maintain our present level of operation in the school system."

both here and in the United States, and it was difficult for him not to have the impression that Nixon was the last person to think of stopping the cold war or of ending the arms race.

Thruschewsky said that on April 9, an American plane crossed into Soviet territory from the Afghan border. This order was fulfilled and the plane was shot down.

"It appeared that the plane was American, although the markings were painted out."

At this point delegates interrupted the Premier with shouts of "Down with the aggressor" and "It is direct hostility."

"A commission of experts is studying the data and it has been established that the plane came from either Turkey, Iran or Pakistan," Khrushchev said.

"A strict protest will be made and we will inform them that we have the right to deny any measure necessary for the defense of our country."

"He said also that the Soviet Union will give serious warnings to those countries which make their territory available to the United States for 'such aggressive actions.'"

Khrushchev did not disclose the type of plane, the number aboard or fate of the fliers.

He said the Soviet Union considers the May 1 incident an aggressive action by the United States and wants to deny attention of all the nations of the world to it.

Khrushchev rhetorically asked the delegates what the American reaction would be if a Soviet plane were shot down over New York or China, and that they have A- and H-bombers on duty and ready to retaliate.

If a Soviet plane were near American territory, he asserted, that would be the beginning of war.

FROM AN EXPERT — Advice from a master is received by Roxie Weston (left) of 5655 Forman Dr., Birmingham. Actor Basil Rathbone is the master. He delivered personal critiques for two evenings at Will-O-Way Theater.

Apprentices in Will-O-Way Theater's advanced acting group basked in the warmth of Basil Rathbone's charm Tuesday and Wednesday evening when the celebrated man of stage and screen stepped briefly into the role of faculty member at the playhouse.

It is difficult to realize the youthful appearing man of wiry build made his debut almost 50 years ago as Hortensio in "Taming of the Shrew." His most recent stage role in "J.B." in Detroit was seen by many area people.

Brought to Will-O-Way by Kenneth Turner and his wife Celia Merrill Turner, Rathbone viewed more than a score of scenes from plays ranging from Shakespeare to Saroyan in the two evenings he was here.

Actors received individual suggestions from the master.

His most frequently given suggestion?

"Improve your sloppy diction. Shakespeare and Shaw particularly must be freed of regional flavor in delivering their classic lines."

The intimate audience included stardom youngsters who were greeted kindly by the zesty Rathbone when they requested the inevitable autograph.

Most of them, too young to have seen his wonderful "Hound of the Baskervilles," remarked they were seeing him now on late, late television in the "Son of Frankenstein."

In a dinner table conversation he asked that his remarks be accepted "not as criticisms, but rather as opinions," citing examples of how often critics are wrong.

His favorite role? Romeo, which he said he played "until you're 30, and then you're too old!"

"The attorney for the group around Lower Long Lake that wants motorboats banned says it can be done."

"We sought a legal opinion from the attorney general of the matter but all we were told was that the township could regulate boats as long as the regulations are not contrary to state law."

He said Blakeslee will look into the matter further when he returns next week from a California vacation.

Teacher Asks for It . . . and She Gets It

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI) — David Reed, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Reed of Baytown, was taking an aptitude test at Robert E. Lee High School.

Mrs. Dorothy Willis, who was administering the test, told him "now recite the numbers 'six-two-three' backwards." Without a moment's hesitation, David turned his back on Mrs. Willis and recited, "Six, two, three."

He said Blakeslee will look into the matter further when he returns next week from a California vacation.

Apprentices in Will-O-Way Theater's advanced acting group basked in the warmth of Basil Rathbone's charm Tuesday and Wednesday evening when the celebrated man of stage and screen stepped briefly into the role of faculty member at the playhouse.

It is difficult to realize the youthful appearing man of wiry build made his debut almost 50 years ago as Hortensio in "Taming of the Shrew." His most recent stage role in "J.B." in Detroit was seen by many area people.

Brought to Will-O-Way by Kenneth Turner and his wife Celia Merrill Turner, Rathbone viewed more than a score of scenes from plays ranging from Shakespeare to Saroyan in the two evenings he was here.

Actors received individual suggestions from the master.

His most frequently given suggestion?

"Improve your sloppy diction. Shakespeare and Shaw particularly must be freed of regional flavor in delivering their classic lines."

The intimate audience included stardom youngsters who were greeted kindly by the zesty Rathbone when they requested the inevitable autograph.

Most of them, too young to have seen his wonderful "Hound of the Baskervilles," remarked they were seeing him now on late, late television in the "Son of Frankenstein."

In a dinner table conversation he asked that his remarks be accepted "not as criticisms, but rather as opinions," citing examples of how often critics are wrong.

His favorite role? Romeo, which he said he played "until you're 30, and then you're too old!"

"The attorney for the group around Lower Long Lake that wants motorboats banned says it can be done."

"We sought a legal opinion from the attorney general of the matter but all we were told was that the township could regulate boats as long as the regulations are not contrary to state law."

He said Blakeslee will look into the matter further when he returns next week from a California vacation.

Psychiatry and Hypnosis Used 1,000 Years Ago

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Ancient Aztec probably used psychiatry and hypnosis a thousand years ago, reports Dr. Nathan Blackman of the Malcolm Bliss Mental Health Center at St. Louis, Mo.

Blackman told the Pan-American Medical Assn. Congress that studies of figures found in Aztec ruins indicated highly developed knowledge of both techniques.

NASA Promises Chrysler Future Saturn Chances

WASHINGTON (U)—Rep. James G. O'Hara (D-Macomb County) says he has been assured Chrysler Corp. is not out of the running for future work on the Saturn space missile program.

Members of Michigan's congressional delegation met yesterday with Dr. T. Keith Glennan, director of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, for an explanation of Chrysler's failure to get a $6-million-dollar contract awarded by NASA last week to Douglas Aircraft Corp. for work on the Saturn space missile.

Glennan told them Chrysler's proposals were not technically equal to others.

Congressmen told reporters after the secret meeting that Glennan promised them a written report of NASA's views on the value and future of Chrysler's missile production facilities at Sterling Township. Chrysler sources in Detroit said Chrysler's bid was about 30 million dollars under Douglas' for work on the second stage of the missile. O'Hara said no specific figures were discussed.

"We did get assurances that this does not put Chrysler out of the running for future work on the Saturn program," O'Hara said. "There are two stages of the Saturn still to be worked on."

He also said he did not believe the failure to get the contract reflects on Chrysler's technical ability, adding, "This has been established by Chrysler's work on the Jupiter and Redstone missiles."

The Sterling Township facility to 500.

For Faltering Executives

Firing Gate Opens Wider

NEW YORK (UPI)—This decade may be good for business but it's going to be rough on high-priced executives, management consultants agreed today.

Executives will find the 1960s putting greater demands on their skills and judgment and there will be fewer job openings for them in big corporations.

Directors and stockholders also are getting a bit sensitive to charges by union leaders and economists that there is too much "executive featherbedding" in big business.

One management consultant firm, Executive Manpower Corp., surveyed 2,000 firms in the 100-million dollar sales bracket that specializes in $10,000 to $50,000-a-year jobs and found openings in their top positions averaged 2.3 per company this year compared to 3.2 per company at the same time last year.

The firing gate is being opened wider for faltering executives. Automation, technological advances and complex theoretical training as a base for experience is forcing many firms to "get rid of dead wood," management consultants found.

The consulting firms agreed that the most dangerous period for executives is when they reach their late 30s and 40s.

"If they falter then, they just get pushed out in one way or another. Men who fail to keep up when they are in their forties are more likely to be tactfully demoted or retired prematurely on pension. But those who are demoted often make a complete readjustment and again do good work," they said.

Firing executives has become

Helicopter Snatches 2 From Jungle

NEIVA, Colombia (UPI)—Mr. and Mrs. Mark "Cortrell" St. Louis have been rescued by an Air Force helicopter from the jungles of southeastern Colombia, where they had been stranded for more than a month.

Reports from the river village of Puerto Rico said the Cantrells were nervous and near exhaustion but seemed otherwise in good physical shape when the helicopter dropped them here yesterday.

Authorities said the Missouri couple probably will be flown here for medical examination and treatment if necessary after they have spent a short time in Puerto Rico, resting up from their ordeal.

The Cantrells were members of a party of 32, mostly Colombian guides and bearers, who entered the jungle in mid-March to survey possible routes for roads.

They dropped out and set up a rude wayside camp when the expedition got lost and they were unable to continue with it because of poor health.

a delicate art in many business circles. A favorite tactic, the management consultants said, is the "special project" where the executive is given a job to handle by himself which is really meaningless. Or to give the executive a resounding title but transfer him to a distant, unimportant branch.

There are some instances where an executive is summarily fired, the consultants said, but the usual method is to try to save his face and give him time to look for another job.

In the coming years there will be more executive openings in the engineering, sales and production fields than in marketing, advertising and finance.

The consultants also said the trend for a big company to train its own executives is growing but probably is near saturation. Many companies are getting fearful of "stagnation by inbreeding," one consultant said, "they feel the need of blood transfusions."

Chessman Receives Sympathy While Victims Are Forgotten

This CHESSMAN mess cost the United States plenty.

Our judicial system creaked and tottered and probably reached one of its all time lows in the opinion of the average citizen — here and in other nations.

The dilly-dallying, shilly-shallying and the monumental indecision combined to heap additional calamity on a branch of service that can't afford it. Farical delays, inexplicable reversals and the frequency with which courts have let seemingly guilty men go free have brought an increasing disrespect for "law and order" as it's currently constituted.

CHESSMAN is a symbol of a new decadence that is profoundly disturbing to the average man in the street. We are so determined to let every convict, thug, murderer, butcher and highway robber stand innocent until he is proven guilty half a dozen times that we're forgetting the rights of society. Don't the 180 million people who obey the law and who expect the protection of our legal system have rights that are just as important? Sometimes it looks as though they were swallowed up and forgotten in our frenzied zeal and fervor to give the guilty the benefit of all the misspelled words, the misplaced commas and the technical loopholes.

Here are the successive postponements of the punishment allotted CHESSMAN by due process of what passes for "law and order."

Spring Officially Arrives With Ban on Bermudas

Sure sign that not only spring, but summer, is almost here comes from the halls of New York's Barnard College. On one of our warm days the gals spread the word that skirts would be worn in class—no shorts or slacks.

Result: the defiant girls, "and we love 'em," bared knees that had never been bared in classrooms before. The furor was terrific. One sophomore said, "You can be just as big a slob in a skirt as you can in Bermudas." We agree with this young lady.

The girls even distributed broadsides declaring "It is not just a controversy over pants, but we're treated as adolescents."

Needless to say, the school held its ground. Said Millicent C. McIntosh, Barnard president, "If we could be sure about the length of the shorts, or if we could regulate the size of the girls who wear them, it might be a different thing."

It seems to us that Miss McIntosh is trying to regulate something the good Lord established and is out of her providence.

insane asylum where CHESSMAN's bestiality sent her. (And she wasn't his first victim). The courts don't seem concerned about her.

When will normal justice return?

When will we worry about the people killed instead of the killers? When will we grow more concerned over demanding the penalty a crime deserves than we are over effecting an escape for the evildoer?

And just to prove that we aren't holding ourselves blameless, The Press is castigating newspapers for the inordinate amount of space devoted to the CHESSMAN deal. The whole thing was strung out far beyond the importance of the man or the defense. The beefed up melodrama was largely our own shameful doing. We should face up to our responsibilities and concede that we've whetted the public appetite for the gory details and the nauseating plethora of gruesome incidents.

Modern court procedures provide the opportunity.

Man: Who as a rule is a fool: when it's hot he wants it cool; when it's cool he wants it hot; always wanting what is not.

The winner of the $250 in U.S. bonds in our baseball contest will be determined by the manner in which the leading batters in the American League wield their clubs in today's games. It probably will not be settled until the last man is out tonight.

With all Detroit players eliminated several days ago, the list of the top men is well distributed among the other teams, the leading hitter having changed a number of times.

The list published in this column tomorrow will settle the contest. Following Wednesday's games, the standings of the leading batters were:

superintendent, had a larger attendance last year than any other outside state park. Dave tells me that the 1960 state indicates another record breaker. Most of these people come from Detroit.

Quite the unusual in pets is reported by Berkley Andrus of Waterford, in a pair of harmless garter snakes that catch vermin around the yard. His principal fear is that he may step on them or kill them with his lawn mower.

A phone call from Bradley Stier of Lake Orion claims that this area leads the U.S.A. for the shortest time between snowshovels and lawn mowers.

While we were recording the hottest spring days in Pontiac's history.

Elmer Caronson of Birmingham phoned that about 20 years ago the Detroit mercury climbed to 80 on an April day. He adds, "And I presume it was just as hot in Pontiac."

David Lawrence Says:

Friendship Deeper Than Color Line

WASHINGTON — The day of a Washington correspondent is not always the same. It requires no event of national or international significance to teach a lesson.

For, as Thomas Gray wrote in his famous elegy, truth is often to be found "far from the madding crowd's ignoble strife."

It took the greater part of the day to get there and back to a little church in the hills of Virginia where we gathered the family and friends of Jim Taylor, a Negro who died last Friday at the age of 74.

Until retirement two years ago, he had worked for 35 years on the farm where this writer lives in Virginia. To the outside world this fine man may be like millions of others—a good Christian whose kindness of nature and simple ways earned him the respect and esteem of all who knew him.

As the obituary was spoken by the two Baptist preachers, who took turns explaining to the anguished wife and children what the passing meant, there came to mind a contrast.

Only the day before, a useless man was put to death in a gas chamber in California. Around the world the editorials denounced America and our system of justice. British newspapers particularly complained with a scathing bitterness that America had been inhumane.

There came to mind, too, the "inhuman penalty" paid over the past 12 years by the 17-year-old girl sexually assaulted by Carl Chessman. She still is in a mental institution and may spend the rest of her life there.

The simple words of the preachers in the Virginia church expressed nobly the facts of life and death as they concerned a good man, a useful man, a conscientious and honest worker. But the Jim Taylors never make the headlines.

What impressed this writer was the kindness and sincerity of the service. Messages of sympathy from friends were read aloud. Spiritual hymns were sung.

Readings from the Scriptures were explained with interpolations that everyone could understand. It was more than an hour of intimate and informal contact between the pulpit and the mourners — something this writer had never before witnessed.

There were perhaps 40 persons in the little church. I asked a southern senator in Capitol Hill whether in the South attendance by white persons at such services was frequent.

He said it often happened and that there was a deeper feeling of friendship for individual Negroes than might be generally supposed from reading the emotional outbursts in the North in recent months about the segregation controversy.

HE DOES CARE

What really is this friendly feeling for the Negro? As one reads the temperate comments about "racism," there comes the disheartening feeling that many things are said in anger that are regrettable.

For the true Southerner does care about the Negro. Talking with many people from the South, one finds that they have throughout their lives felt closer to individual Negroes than is generally believed. It is true that this is sometimes covered as a "master-and-servant" relationship.

But the deep-seated feeling, the willingness to help when sickness and trouble come, the benevolence that reaches out long after the worker has gone to another city or to another task—this could hardly be predicated alone on a "master-and-servant" concept.

The epitaph of Jim Taylor in this country churchyard, as Gray wrote, may "imply the passing tribute of a sigh," and could be inscribed in these words:

"Here rests his head upon the lap of earth
A man to fortune and to fame
Unknown, and here his end he hath Fair science from't not on his humble birth,
And friendship marked him to his grave,
He gave to misery all he had,
A tear,
He gained from heav'n ('twas

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

For you remember our labor and 'till, brethren: we worked night and day, that we might not burden any of you, while we preached to you the gospel of God—I Thes. 2:9.

Take away God and religion, and then live to no purpose, without proposing any worthy end of life to themselves.—John Tillotson.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Name 'Mononucleosis' Worst Part of Disease

An acute infectious disease, characterized by swelling of the "glands" in the neck (doctors call 'em cervical lymph nodes), fever, chills, headache, backache, pain and stiffness in the neck, sweat, coughing, sneezing or running at the nose, sore mouth, sore throat — an interesting assortment of symptoms which any Yankee wisecracker immediately would call "flu," "grip," or "virus."

"But, if that glandular fever, when I started practice, this latter-day name for it, infectious mononucleosis, is perhaps the most alarming feature of the disease. At any rate, most readers who query me about it seem to be alarmed."

I am not facetious about it, but I do believe the disease has been oversold.

To clinch the diagnosis, there must be leucocytosis (increased number of white corpuscles in the blood), particularly the lymphoid leucocytes.

The illness lasts from a few days to a few weeks.

No specific cure or treatment is known.

The patient is usually an infant, child, or youth, rarely a mature adult.

Recovery is spontaneous in a few weeks, but the kernels in the neck remain tender and swollen for several weeks and the patient feels weak and listless for a month.

Let the patient wear a flannel collar, several layers thick, if it gives any comfort, but that's enough. Do not add turpentine, kerosene, salt pork or goose oil, just to appease Salty Gump.

Rest is also necessary.

The flannel collar, traditional symbol of sore throat, at least gives innocent bystanders a suggestion that the disease may be catching.

Frequent use of a mouthwash or gargle of a solution of a teaspoonful of boracic acid or a teaspoonful of sodium perborate in a glass of water is all the medicine the patient needs, as a rule. No internal medicine should be used without approval by the physician.

Signed letters, not more than one page, and not more than 100 words, personal health and hygiene, not student discounts or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if space permits, in this column.

Sex Worry Causes Imagined Ills

Lorraine's abnormal complex about TB is really a classical example of modern Psychosomatic Medicine. Basically, Lorraine had a sex problem which she had never confessed to her husband. She put over her dilemma when she used the non-profit sex booklet mentioned below. Keep it on file.

Case E-432: Lorraine S., aged 36, has been married for three years.

"Dr. Crane," her husband began, "Lorraine seems to think she has tuberculosis."

"But she does not have a cough and her weight has not gone down, so I thought she imagined it."

"A very way, I took her to our family doctor. He checked her very thoroughly and said she did not have TB. But Lorraine still insisted she felt she was tubercular, so to set her mind at rest, I finally took her to a chest specialist."

"Again, he positively told her she does NOT have TB. But a few weeks ago, she again decided she does have tuberculosis. What is wrong with her? Is she a hypochondriac?"

DISGUISED SEX WORRIES

Lorraine is not the usual type of hypochondriac who worries about one idea of ailment after another, and keeps the medicine cabinet full of various pills and potions.

But she is a sexual hypochondriac. After a lengthy personal interview with Lorraine, I found that she was worried about her marriage.

Suggests New Plan to Pay for Houses

Isn't real estate and home building companies overlooking an idea to benefit themselves and buyers?

Monthly payments are always based on the balance after down payment. Why couldn't it be levered with each $1,000 applied on the principal? It wouldn't be compulsory to pay the lesser amount, but this could be optional. Thus he could apply accumulated savings on his home toward a time when his wage-earning power is lessened or stopped with the happy idea of making very small payments in his later years.

I don't know where Mr. Downes got his figures, but figures are meaningless without proper interpretation and Mr. Downes hasn't had it or has ignored it.

He's questioning the honesty, integrity and intelligence of Pontiac Board of Education members. These members give hours of their time and energy to benefit children in Pontiac public schools and don't receive one cent for this service.

If, after long, arduous consideration of financial needs, the Board of Education finds an additional $1.5 million is required to provide the quality of education our society demands, I believe them and will vote "yes" on this proposal May 9, and urge others to do the same.

Dick Clark is already number one on the teen list and is loved by teens all over the U.S. He's probably one of the very few honest ones in this business and many people feel this same way.

BRIDES seem to feel that they will be just as ardent and erotic as their husbands, which isn't true.

After the honeymoon and a year or so of matrimony, their marriage levels off at a moderate, staid plane but they don't obtain the wild, ecstatic thrill they have imagined all wives should reach.

Unless such young couples truly study the facts, as in the sex booklet named below, the wives may grow neurotic.

Kennedy Tells Humphrey:

Combine Helping YOU

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) said Wednesday night that if Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) defeats him in next Tuesday's West Virginia primary, a coalition of presidential hopefuls feels he's eliminated as a presidential nominee.

Kennedy made the reference to the combine he consistently has contended is opposing him for the nomination in the only genuine exchange he and Humphrey had during the celebrated face-to-face debate.

"I'll just say if I may, sir," Kennedy said, "that there are other candidates, there are other supporters who are supporting Sen. Humphrey in this state not supporting me."

"They must make a judgment. If Kennedy wins, it eliminates me. But, Sen. Humphrey does not serve as a major threat to them. Otherwise I don't see why every candidate who is opposing me for the nomination—that their supporters in the state are supporting Sen. Humphrey."

Humphrey emphatically denied he was fronting for others.

"Now, senator—Jack—I haven't had any endorsement from Lyndon (Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, Texas) or Stu (Sen. Stuart Symington, Maryland), gesturing.

"As a matter of fact, their neutrality has been so conspicuous that it's almost been icy."

"Now I must say, however, that I have seen in other areas of the country where there was considerable support for you. I know that in Wisconsin, for example, a number of Republicans were very strong for you."

A moment later, Kennedy said:

"There were congressmen—Democrats—supporting Sen. Humphrey and some supporting me, in the Wisconsin primary. Earlier during the hour-long televised debate, Humphrey said he 'disagreed most sharply' with a persistent Kennedy campaign."

Swainson Foe of Con-Con

Says Confusion Exists Partly Because His Wife Inks Favorable Petition

DETROIT (AP)—Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson says he is against a constitutional convention.

"There has been considerable confusion about my position," Swainson said yesterday. Part of it may have come from the fact that his wife Alice signed a petition to put the constitutional convention issue on the ballot.

Swainson is one of four candidates for the Democratic nomination for governor.

"In common with many others, and particularly because of the office I now hold, I agree that there are parts of the constitution which need revision," he said.

"I think the proper approach is to submit a series of amendments to voters to revise those parts of the constitution that need to be changed, not to try to write and submit a whole new constitution," he said.

Local Police Going to Illinois for Suspect

An ex-convict held for Pontiac police in Illinois Monday has been headed back to Pontiac today.

Local detectives are en route to Herrin, Ill., today to pick up Frank M. Zietek, 38, who is charged with passing some $2,000 in bogus checks in Pontiac last summer.

"Zietek said Monday he would fight extradition, but today he changed his mind," said Lt. Raymond E. Meggitt, head of the detective bureau.

A warrant charging Zietek with uttering and publishing and forgery was issued last July.

4-Ton Elephant Mashies Handler Against Wall

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—An elephant handler was critically injured today when he was pinned against a trailer wall by a four-ton elephant.

Albert Boyette, 31, an animal handler for the Christian Brothers circus, was hospitalized with broken ribs, a fractured right arm, plus head, back and internal injuries.

A second elephant in the trailer stepped on his trunk, against the trapped Boyette and tossed him out of the trailer.

The circus opens a four-day stay in Newark today. Boyette returned the huge trailer, in which four elephants had been transported, to take one outside for publicity pictures. As he unfastened the huge animal, the elephant's body shifted, crushing the handler against the trailer wall.

American Flier Plans to Appeal

Sentenced to Death in Indonesia, Allan Pope Decides to Fight

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—American flier Allan Lawrence Pope today said he will appeal the death sentence imposed on him by an Indonesian military court for fighting with antigovernment rebels.

"At his conviction last Friday, the 31-year-old Pope was given a week to appeal to a higher court."

Had he accepted the verdict, the sentencing judge, Lt. Col. Sardjono, might have asked Pope to serve a prison term.

Court officials said, however, Pope can file a personal request for a pardon if he withdraws the appeal before the higher court can take action on it. The court is expected to convene within six weeks.

Sardjono convicted Pope of killing 17 members of Indonesia's armed forces in bombing and strafing raids and of carrying arms for antigovernment forces in the unsuccessful 1958 rebellion.

Pope, from Miami, Fla., denied killing any Indonesians. He admitted flying for the rebels but maintained he carried out only one attack mission.

Pope's trial began last December, 19 months after his World War II B-29 bomber was shot down near the government-held port of Ambon. He bailed out, broke his right leg in landing and was captured.

To Know of Stock Split Can Prove Profitable

NEW YORK (UPI)—No doubt stock split candidates rather than about 10-advance knowledge of stock splits which have just announced their impending split status.

Most packing, long regarded as a "feast or famine" industry, has also revised its basic operations that it is much less subject to extreme cyclical changes than in the past, stocks. On the average, this rise amounted to about 15 per cent and normally the stocks outperformed the market by about 10 per cent. The study found that unless the split surprises the market (and it does), a sell-off usually occurs after the formal announcement has been made.

Two months after their splits were revealed, nearly half of all the New York Stock Exchange stock splits in 1959 were selling at lower prices. Moreover, at the 94 examples failed to perform as well as the market. The moral: The best way to profit from stock splits is to buy Profits of the major fire-casualty organizations in 1959 continued their recovery from the extremely adverse 1957 year and this improvement promises to carry over into 1960 at least, a survey of the industry by E. F. Hutton & Co. says. Higher cash dividends and stock disbursements also are a definite prospect.

SURVIVES PRIMARY—Doyle E. Carleton Jr. was one of two candidates chosen to take part in a runoff for the Democratic nomination for governor in Florida. He was elected along with Farris Bryant from 10 hopefuls in Thursday's primary and will vie with him May 24 for the Dem spot on the November ballot.

Steel Output to Fall, Trade Organ Says

NEW YORK (UPI)—Iron Age magazine forecasts that steel operations will average, at best, 75 per cent in the second quarter and 70 per cent in the third quarter.

But the metalworking weekly said steel operations averaging 70 per cent of capacity would mean the mill operating rate will drop "well below" that point before turning upward. Scattered pickups in new orders and new buying by automakers have injected some regional optimism, Iron Age said, but the overall rate of new orders is considerably below current shipments. For some major mills, the trade publication said, the rate of incoming May orders is less than 50 per cent of capacity. Mills are living on their backlogs, rather than new business.

Bulk of India's Guests Comes From the U.S.

NEW DELHI (UPI)—More Americans received visas for India in 1959 than citizens of any other country.

According to the Home Ministry, Indian visas were given to 13,863 Americans last year. The number represented a 3,000 increase over 1958. Following the Americans were Germans who received 2,377 visas and French with 1,983. Russian nationals were given 1,365 visas.

Easter Travel Hikes Straits Bridge Intake

ST. IGNACE (UPI)—Easter travel helped boost traffic and revenue for the Mackinac Bridge in April, the bridge authority reports. The fact that Easter fell in April this year, instead of March as last year, helped produce a 16.2 per cent increase in bridge traffic for April, compared with April 1959. Total traffic for April was 41,478 vehicles, compared with 35,591 for April, 1959. April revenues totaled $172,838, compared with $137,840. Traffic for the first four months of 1960 is 7.5 per cent ahead of last year and revenue is up 6 per cent.

British Mother Unmoved

Coldly Gives Away Baby Son

BRIGHTON, England (AP)—Francis after Mrs. Simon's husband, dry-eyed and unmoved, handed over her unwanted 11-day-old son to the American wife who hopes to adopt him.

"I know you will look after him and love him more than I ever could," she told 38-year-old Gladys Simon of New York, who flew here to collect the baby.

British-born Mrs. Simon will stay six months in this country to complete the legal process of adoption.

The baby will be christened Mrs. Moore took a final peek at her son and sighed: "I don't know why it is but I no more feel his mother than any woman in the street."

"I never want to see him again—the farther he goes the better it will be. To me he would just be 24 hours work a day," Mrs. Moore, 39, and married 20 years, claims she's too old now to start a family. Her husband, a bus driver, quit his job because of the neighbors' criticism of their desire to get rid of the baby, and the couple have kept their present residence a secret.

Shattered Window Fatal to Commuter

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—An object, believed to be a stone, shattered the window of a commuter train Wednesday and apparently sent a glass splinter into a woman's neck, killing her.

Detective William Judge said Bridget Lydon, 60, was struck on the right side of the neck just under the jawline apparently by a glass splinter, causing internal bleeding. She was dead on arrival at Germantown Hospital.

The coroner's office reported Mrs. Lydon died of a severed thorax artery in the neck.

Police quoted trainmen of the Reading Co. as saying they had seen four boys standing near the tracks throwing stones at trains before the accident. Officers questioned several boys who were rounded up.

School Borrowing Up to $63 Million

LANSING (AP)—School district borrowings for the fiscal year have soared to $63,016,000, the State Department of Public Instruction has reported.

A breakdown revealed $38,155,000 has been borrowed in anticipation of taxes; $27,084,000 in anticipation of state aid; and $7,777,000 in primary notes.

GE Man Eyes Private Space Launching Pad

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A privately owned launching service which would put objects into space for the peaceful purposes of government, industry and education is the idea of a General Electric official.

Ralph J. Cordier, advanced his proposal yesterday as a means of providing a bigger part for industry in the field of space exploration.

Continued government control, he said, presents the hazard of nationalization.

"When the space frontier has been explored and is ready for economic development," he said, "no right find the area pre-empted by the government."

Cordier was a lecturer in the UCLA series on "peacetime uses of space." He said a commercially operated launching service might be able to provide "some of the disciplines of profit and loss to assure efficiency."

U.S. to Pay $8.02 on 1959 Cranberries

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department Wednesday announced it will make payments up to $8.02 a barrel on the 1959 crop of cranberries.

The payment was authorized March 30 by the White House to indemnify growers who suffered losses due to last fall's cranberry scare.

The Food and Drug Administration halted cranberry sales last fall pending a check to determine whether they were free of a chemical weedkiller which FDA said could cause cancer in rats.

A small percentage of berries were found to be contaminated.

The cranberry payments are expected to total about 10 million dollars.

The crop is grown principally in Massachusetts, New Jersey, Wisconsin and Oregon.

The payments to cranberry growers will be computed by paying the difference between what the growers already has received or will receive for his 1959 crop and the price of $10.34 a barrel for sound, wholesome berries.

2 GOP Representatives Offer Farm Program
WASHINGTON (AP)—Legislation to cut production of corn, soybeans, flax and other feed grains and increase the price support levels on them has been proposed by Reps. H. Carl Anderson (R-Minn.) and Ben Jensen (R-Iowa).

The authors call it the Green Acres program. Under it, farmers producing those crops would have to put 20 per cent of their cropland in grass, hay or pasture.

Atlantic City had 338 conventions in one year.

Anyway, It's Art That Counts

Film Costs Exaggerated?

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It's time to come to grips with this matter of movie costs.

Remember the days when big movies used to be advertised as million-dollar productions? Such films would be considered quickie novelties—or so the publicity would have us believe.

The current product is filled with movies that are supposed to have cost 4, 5, 6 or 7 million dollars. Others are touted as high as 9 "Spartacus" and 15 "Ben Hur." But do they run that high?

When I visited "The Alamo" location at Brackettville, Tex., producer-director-star John Wayne told me the film would cost 3½ millions to shoot. His salary and other deferments would bring the total to 7 millions, he said, and advertising, distribution and other charges would bring the total to 11 million.

SEEMS HIGH
Wayne is too big and tough a guy to argue with, but that seemed like a lot of money to me. An associate who worked on the project until he traded with Wayne now declares "The Alamo" actually cost 2 million.

"Caneen" is advertised as a 5-million-dollar extravaganza. Could it really be that extravagant? There is only one big exterior—a standing set at 20th Century-Fox. The musical numbers are staged in one cafe set.

The cast is reasonably priced, except for Frank Sinatra. And he may have done the film at a smaller than usual fee to pay off for when he walked out of the studio's "Carousel."

Another production figure that would seem inflated is "Porgy and Bess." It also is billed as costing 6 million.

"Porgy and Bess" was shot with a Negro cast on one big sound stage, except for one brief location at Stockton. This does not seem to add up to 6 million.

OH, COME NOW
Now we come to "Ben Hur." Could it really have cost 15 million? It's big, all right. But it would seem a prodigious feat for any studio to spend that much on four hours of entertainment, chariot race or no chariot race. Remember that it was made in Italy, where costs are far lower than Hollywood's. A star who has worked on an Italian-made spectacle told me "Hercules" cost less than $200,000.

As a matter of cold fact, what does a film's cost matter to the public? Epics like "Alexander the Great" and "Helen of Troy" can nose dive while quickies like "Marty" and "Room at the Top" can make millions.

South Haven Thinks About Loop Shopping

SOUTH HAVEN (UPI) — Merton Jones, chairman of the South Haven Planning Commission, says that group will propose to the city a plan for a loop-type shopping center in South Haven.

Plans would include erection of a new section of Williams street, construction of varied parking lots that would encompass some local residences, and redirection of traffic in what is now the downtown area.

"If we don't do something to improve our downtown area," Jones said, "I predict that we'll have a shopping center elsewhere in the area that will make obsolete the present shopping district."

A city's suburbs may be 20 degrees cooler than its downtown business center, says the National Geographic Society, because business buildings store solar energy.

MEA Points Out Unique Gibraltar Teacher Scale

LANSING (AP) — School teachers with bachelor's degrees can reach a salary of $8,000 a year after four years at Gibraltar, the Michigan Education Assn. reported.

A unique feature of the salary schedule is the Wayne County community is that teachers receiving a superior rating can reach the maximum salary in a short period instead of waiting 10 years, as under the old system, the MEA reported.

Teachers with master's degrees can earn up to $8,500 and those with doctorates $9,500.

The teachers are rated after serving a training period under an experienced educator in the school system already at the top pay level.

English Village Basks in History

Lichfield Famous for Cathedral and Favorite Son, Samuel Johnson

WASHINGTON—Lichfield, England, basks in the fame of its old cathedral and that of its most famous son — Samuel Johnson. This year it is celebrating the 250th anniversary of the author's birth.

A properly massive statue of Dr. Johnson in the main square faces the neat, thin, three-storied house where he grew to manhood. The house is now a museum.

Founded in Saxon times, Lichfield stands beside a stream in a pleasant green valley, the National Geographic Society says. The town has remained a tranquil oasis in the heart of the industrial Midlands, though it was discovered in 1949 that Lichfield itself rests atop a rich coal field.

Even today the population numbers only 11,000; and new industries do not disturb the atmosphere of antique shops, bookstores and old inns.

Dr. Johnson never lost an exaggerated affection for the town where he was born the son of a poor bookseller on Sept. 15, 1709. He once wrote that Lichfield folk were the "most sober, decent people in England, the gentlest in proportion to their wealth."

When James Boswell disparaged the lack of industry, during a visit to Lichfield with Johnson in 1776, the latter replied sharply, "Sir, we are a city of philosophers; we work with our heads, and make the boobies of Birmingham work for us with their hands."

His was no idle retort, for Lichfield has a strong literary tradition, its grammar school, founded in 1466, numbered among its pupils the literary giant Johnson, the essayist Joseph Addison, and the great actor David Garrick. All are buried in Westminster Abbey.

Lichfield's Anna Seward presided over a golden age of poets. Her work is little known now, but she was praised by Romney, and Scott wrote the lines on her tomb. Miss Seward died, Dr. Johnson.

Erasmus Darwin, grandfather of Charles Darwin, lived in Lichfield for 25 years. The dramatist George Farquhar knew the town; he made his classic innkeeper, Boniface, a Lichfield man.

The city's origin is obscure. An unsupported tradition holds that a thousand Christians were martyred there in the Roman persecutions of about 286, thus the name "Lichfield" signifying "Field of the Dead."

New Mexico has about 20 million acres of forest land.

Fish Commission Died as New Species Arrived

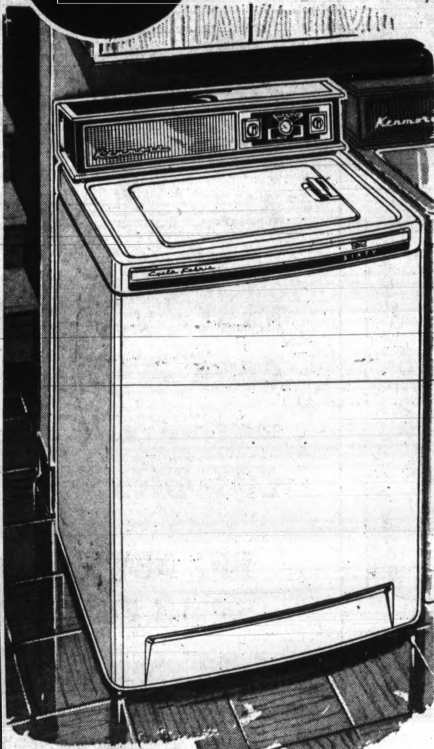

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — The Texas Game and Fish Commission is understandably cautious about introducing new fish into the state's inland waters. When the commission of 1885 introduced European carp, the fish proved so undesirable that the commission was abolished in 1907. A new commission was not formed until 1960.

Polls a Real Gasser

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — It must have been a real gasser. The police blotter shows a 16-year-old girl was arrested for using "propane language."

It said differences in rules and interpretations conceivably could require nationally distributed foods to be packaged to conform with 50 different sets of requirements.

Compacts Responsible for Dip

Auto Profit Margin Cut

AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT—In recent years the auto companies have been telling their dealers to discount prices and make up the difference in volume. Now the companies are getting a taste of their own medicine.

The companies generally are selling more cars than last year, but a lot of the increase is coming from low price lines and compact models.

Chrysler complained publicly about the profit squeeze when it reported modest first quarter earnings. L. E. (Tex) Culbert, Chrysler's new board chairman, said the switch in customer preference to compacts and economy models of standard size cars severely cut into profit margins.

During the 1959 model year when only Rambler and Lark were selling compacts, 70.9 per cent of all domestic cars carried factory suggested price tags of $2,300 or more before allowing for any optional equipment.

But a survey by Ward's Automotive Reports of the first six months of the 1960 model year showed only 38.1 per cent devoted to models in the $2,300 and up price class. And this percentage is dropping as the year progresses.

FIELD WAS ABANDONED.

The arrival of Falcon, Corvair,

Valiant and Comet has brought a big change in the $2,000 and under field—an area which the Big Three abandoned entirely in 1959. Only 3.4 per cent of the industry's 1959 models fell in this class. So far this year 17.2 per cent of the new cars have factory list prices under $2,000.

Ward's says at least 70 per cent of Falcon, Corvair and Valiant buyers have purchased the deluxe or most expensive series. But even then their cash outlay is considerably less than for option-loaded deluxe models of standard size cars.

Arnold Bernhard & Co., New York investment advisers who publish the Value Line investment survey, noted the profit trend this week in a review of the auto industry in which they commented:

"The introduction of the new compacts, a form of price-cutting, has brought with it additional expenses: break-even points have been raised by $60,000-124,000 units for each new compact model, and the fact that the compacts use less material, require less optional equipment and carry less powerful engines means, in essence, that the profit per car sold is smaller."

Value Line said every time a Ford dealer sells a Falcon instead of a standard Ford it cost Ford "more than $100 in net profit. The situation at Chrysler is even more extreme."

"GM MAY SUFFER"

And it suggested that General Motors "may be vulnerable to a narrowing (profit) margin next year when it adds yet one, but three, new compacts to its line."

Value Line, incidentally, took back to its original $1 million estimate for 1960 calendar year domestic auto production after moving up to 4,000,000 in January. It noted an expected buying wave following the steel settlement failed to materialize.

While the 6½ million estimate is not far off current Detroit guesses, the investment firm sees a much bleaker picture for 1961 than any industry prophet has suggested yet.

While Detroit hopes for an even upward production and sales curve, Value Line suggests next year will bring a drop in domestic output to about 5,600,000 units. Imports are calculated at 300,000 this year, 400,000 next.

Persistence Pays Off

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Harry Ross Jr., and other children in the Ross household were getting the blame for watering artificial flowers until the maid piped up "Mrs. Ross, I've been watering those flowers... they've put out new leaves."

He Wanted Out Badly and Proved It to All

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—Police officer Hugh J. McGovern got tired of working inside. So he took a cut in pay so he could work outside.

McGovern resigned his job as assistant chief of communications to become a platoon lieutenant. He was earning $5,800 annually.

but the new post will pay him $330 a year less.

Work Force to Rise

NEW YORK (UPI)—Some 26 million new young workers will enter the U.S. labor force during the '60's—and some 7,500,000 of them will not have completed high school, according to the U.S. Department of Labor.

Who Gets the Refund?

WEST HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI)—The West Hartford town council didn't get around to authorizing restrictions at a municipal parking lot until eight years after the town began collecting fines for parking thought to be illegal. The fines, estimated at more than $7,000, were found to be illegal instead.

Quick Snack Is Better Than Nothing at All

BURLINGTON, Vt. (UPI)—"Eating on the run is not recommended," according to Susan Morrow, associate nutritionist at the University of Vermont.

She added, "However, a well-chosen snack is better than nothing and will help prevent excessive wear and tear on our bodies and provide them with something to keep us going."

Oil Tree Old, Say Brazilians

Many Oil-trees Are Over 100 Years, 90
Feet in Height

WASHINGTON — A patriarch in northeastern Brazil is not as old as the hills. He is "as old as an oil tree."

"Oil" is the popular name for the oil-bearing oil tree, which flourishes in the states of Ceara, Rio Grande do Norte, Piaui, Paraiba and Pernambuco, the National Geographic Society says.

Many existing trees have lived 100 years or more. One researcher traveled over Ceara asking the oldest inhabitants the age of large oil-trees in their neighborhoods. They invariably replied, "We only know that they are older than we."

The oil tree may grow as tall as 90 feet with a spread of dense foliage almost as broad as it is high. It produces a remarkable number of peanut-shaped nuts. Some large trees yield as much as two tons of seeds annually.

Though bountiful, oil-trees are erratic in bearing. The trees may produce a bumper crop one year, then few or no nuts at all the next.

The substance of the kernels contains from 55 to 63 per cent oil — and therein lies the principal value of oil-trees. The oil, when refined, is an excellent drying agent for paints and varnishes. It helps these coatings to set quickly and resist water. Oil-trees often are used as a substitute for tung oil.

Dr. Henry A. Gardner of Chevy Chase, Md., former director of the scientific section of the National Forest, Varian and Lacquer Assn., discovered the value of oil tree for protective coatings.

Dr. Gardner's findings, published in 1954, created a sudden demand for the oil in the United States. Between 1934 and 1937, twenty oil extraction mills with a capacity of 80,000 tons of seed a year were built in northeastern Brazil. Local real estate jumped in value, and workers flocked to the area to take advantage of the oil-trees boom.

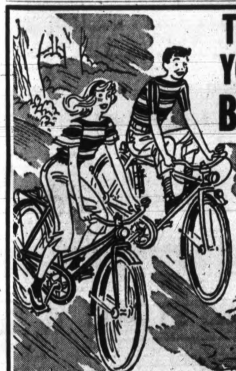

Vehicle Registrations Lower in Michigan

LANSING (UPI)—Motor vehicle registrations this year are falling below 1959 figures but revenue is increasing, Secretary of State James M. Hare said Wednesday.

So far this year, there have been 2,977,132 registrations for a total license income of $55,170,379, compared with 2,908,886 and $52,961,511 Hare said.

"Although the 1,754 fewer registrations is not large, the fact that less people own and drive cars registered in Michigan this year than last is startling and may be worth analyzing for its economic and social significance," Hare said.

Pastor Corrects Error on Bulletin Board

DREW, Miss (UPI) — Mrs. L. H. Enson, who lives across the street from the Baptist Church, witnessed some last sign changing.

First, the secretary posted the pastor's Sunday sermon on the out-of-doors bulletin board, "Fruit Without Follage."

Minutes later, the pastor came by, changed it to "Follage Without Fruit."

Bahl Finding 400 Sheep Easy as Seeing Red

AUSTIN, Tex., (UPI) — Dave H. Anderson wasn't kidding when he asked the sheriff's office to find 400 striped sheep for him.

Anderson told officers he was rounding up more than 1,000 sheep for shearing when he discovered 400 head missing.

"They weren't branded, he said, but would be easy to identify. Each had a smear of red paint across its back to mark for shearing."

Joins Marine Corps in Family Mutiny

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C. (UPI) — Pfc. James J. Vaughan Jr. said he enlisted in the Marine Corps "because of the high prestige the Marine Corps shares with no other military service of any country." His father is Rear Admiral James J. Vaughan Sr., USN-retired, of Newport, R.I. Vaughan's mother said, "It came as no surprise when our son chose the Marine Corps over the Navy."

Many Oakland Mothers Find Zip to Handle Outstanding Extra Jobs

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

The glorious aspect of being a mother becomes doubly important when she devotes time and energy to worthy community projects, assists others needing help, and still maintains her own smooth-running household.

Oakland County has many such women.

Some work for the sheer joy of accomplishing a worthy project. Others employ their talents by teaching, organizing and enriching the lives of others. All learn much about human nature, and its stimulating effect is reflected in both their appearance and disposition.

One such woman, Mrs. Wendell Green, has done a great deal to make school more interesting for Pontiac children.

Her new book, "About AP-PLIES From Orchard to Market," has been one of the most sought-after editions in the Pontiac school system since its publication last month.

Primarily a book written in simple form for fourth, fifth and sixth grade pupils, its information narration has made the book a "must" in upper grades as well.

A mother of three boys, George, 16, James, 14, and Robert, 10, her life has been full of work on a 160-acre apple orchard farm west of Pontiac. More than 20,000 bushels of every variety of apples are harvested annually. "And that's no applesauce," she said.

For the last 16 years, Mrs. Green has been in the Pontiac school system in one way or another, and at the present time she is a Teacher Helper.

That means new teachers coming from other areas or colleges learn about the City of Pontiac, its citizens and advantages as well as its school system. She graduated from Eastern Michigan University.

At home, this lovely mother does her own redecorating work in her 60-year-old farm house, makes her own clothes, then pastel paints for relaxation.

Another attractive mother is Mrs. Donald Adams of Waterford Township whose son, David, 15, is proud that his mom has the honor of being listed in the "Who's Who of American Women."

For the last nine years Mrs. Adams has served as a member of the Michigan Historical Commission, having been appointed by Gov. Murray Van Wagner and reappointed by Govs. Sigler and Williams.

During the war years she was appointed to serve out her husband's unexpired term as Waterford Township justice of the peace while he served as a naval officer. She was later elected to the position.

A true mother in every sense of the word is Mrs. Kenneth Rosebush, whose nine-year-old quadruplets and four other children keep her hopping.

The rambling Rosebush house in Oakwood northeast of Pontiac is filled with activity from morning to night, but in spite of all the usual household projects Mrs. Rosebush still finds time to be a Brownie leader.

"When my older girls grew up, I was a Girl Scout leader. Now that I have younger girls, I have gone back to being a Brownie leader — sort of like a cycle," she said.

Her famous quads include, Krystal, Kristine, Keith and Kenneth, who are now old enough to help with the gardening work in preparation for canning season that keeps all busy.

Swimming every week for the last 36 years with the world's oldest woman's swim club, has kept Mrs. George A. Dean of 433 Windate Dr. in tip-top condition. She is the mother of two boys, and is "into everything" as far as Oakland County community projects are concerned.

At the present time, Mrs. Dean is chairman of the Queen's Contest for the annual Community Center fair scheduled for mid-June.

These, like thousands of mothers all over Oakland County, will be honored at home, church and school Sunday—Mother's Day.

EXPERT SWIMMER — Besides keeping fit as a member of the world's oldest woman's swimming club in Detroit, Mrs. George A. Dean has raised two boys, and has her "finger in every pie" in Oakland County. She is presently Waterford Township CAI Beauty Queen contest chairman.

RIGHT AT HOME — Apple blossoms are a pleasant and familiar scene with Mrs. Wendell Green, a Pontiac school teacher for more than 16 years. The mother of three teen-age boys who help run a 160-acre apple orchard farm west of Pontiac, she has written a book on apples that is being used in the school system.

Bartlett Favors School Mergers

State Official Okays Annexation Plan for 10 Port Huron Districts

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's school chief has endorsed a proposal for annexation of up to 10 school districts to the Port Huron school system.

"I'm all for such programs," said Lynn M. Bartlett, superintendent of public instruction. "If the people favor annexations, we encourage them."

The Port Huron plan, presented by an area committee after a 15-month study, calls for creation of a school district serving some 14,000 pupils in a 100-square-mile area.

The reorganized district would offer kindergarten through junior college education. It would be made of up to eight to 10 existing districts.

Bartlett has already granted two districts — Port Gratiot and Port Huron Township — permission to hold annexation elections.

"The reorganization plan is entirely in line with our concept that eventually every pupil in the state should be located in a district with a high school," Bartlett said.

MOTHER OF QUADS — When a mother has eight growing children—including quadruplets—she really needs a coffee break. Mrs. Kenneth Rosebush of Oakwood is also an enthusiastic Brownie leader—besides running a 12-room house and keeping the family happy.

STATE HISTORIAN — A mother, historian, secretary, and adviser is Mrs. Donald Adams of Waterford Township. She has served as justice of the peace and as a member of the Michigan Historical Commission.

Security Shift for Ike Part of Civil Test Alert

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower shifted a session of the National Security Council to a secret place outside of Washington today without advance notice even to the top-level national strategy planners themselves.

The move was part of the Operation Alert practice exercise for any future emergency.

Eisenhower himself flew out by helicopter from the White House grounds at 7:30 a.m.

The other members of the council were following, also by helicopter. The White House said they got their first word of the shift by telephone about 7 a.m. A regular weekly session of the group had been scheduled for 9 a.m.

Newspapers to Explore Use as Textbooks

EAST LANSING (AP)—The role of newspapers as current events textbooks will be explored by some 40 circulation managers of Michigan newspapers at a conference at Michigan State University May 18.

Dean Malotte, promotion manager of the Kalamazoo Gazette, will outline how newspapers can present current events to students.

Meg's Wedding Costly, but Some Run $5.80

LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret's wedding Friday will cost about $70,000.

But it is possible to get married in Britain for as little as $1.50. Plus a minimum of $4.30 for a ring. You don't even need a license if you give 21 days notice.

GOP Health Bill Political: Soapy

Claims Many States Fail to Assume Their Share of Cost

LANSING (UPI)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams today termed the Republican-fostered health program for the aged a "politically inspired reaction" to the Democratic For and Bill.

Williams said the plan, which calls for joint sponsorship of health insurance for the aged by the states and the federal government, "is irresponsible in imposing major obligation upon the states."

He said many states will be unable or unwilling to assume responsibility.

The Republican proposal would require states to pay from one-third to two-thirds of the cost of the program, with the average state participation about 50 percent. The cost of the entire program for one year has been estimated at $1.2 billion.

"Michigan Republican legislators have for years refused to match fully rehabilitation funds and it is questionable they would assume their full obligation here," Williams said.

"Furthermore," he said, "the Republican program demeans the aged by setting up a means test. The only fair way to operate the program is through the Social Security setup."

Note Great Challenge to Soil Conservation

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Conservation leaders marking the 25th anniversary of the Soil Conservation Service were told last night that they face a "magnificent challenge" to improve the nation's soil so it can feed a growing population.

Chairman Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) of the Senate Agriculture Committee said that in the past 25 years farmers and conservation leaders had repaired the damage done to farmlands during the past two centuries.

"During the next 25 years . . . we must begin making our land and water resources better than they were when the first settlers came," Ellender said.

He warned that unless soils were improved as the population increased, the United States could join the ranks of food-short countries like India and China.

He Dodged MPs 30 Years Longer Than Necessary

NEW YORK (AP)—After 37 years, Stanley Sabers decided to turn himself in as AWOL from the Army.

Saber, 62, showed up at Army headquarters Wednesday, telling a sergeant on duty: "I'm getting old and tired of ducking every time I see an MP. My heart's not to good and I thought even if I went to jail for desertion I would get good care."

Saber served overseas in World War I and stayed in service until 1923, when he skipped out.

The Army told a crestfallen Saber that the statute of limitations on desertion is seven years, so he was not eligible for arrest.

Radiation Still Found Perilous

Highest Science Body Warns Against Adding to Atomic Hazards

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Academy of Sciences has made it clear that its concern about potential radiation hazards has not lessened in the past four years.

In a report issued Wednesday night, the nation's top scientific organization cautioned that the expanded use of nuclear energy means increased radiation hazards.

The need for conservative management of all radiation sources is obvious, it said, since "radiation exposure can adversely affect many future generations."

The scientists' views were described as an updating of their initial report on the biological effects of radiation made almost four years ago.

The report said that in some respects the estimation of human genetic hazards from radiation is more difficult than it appeared to be in 1956.

Findings listed in the new report included:

- (1) No completely satisfactory treatment has been developed for radiation injury treatment.
- (2) No new evidence has appeared to show that nuclear tests have affected the weather.

(3) Disposal of radioactive wastes has not resulted in any significant hazards and present indications are that limited amounts of radioactive materials can be safely released in the oceans.

AF to Initiate Worldwide Teletype Net

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A five-million-mile system of automatic teletype communications will go into operation Monday to link major U.S. Air Force bases throughout the world.

Deputy Defense Sec. James H. Douglas, by transatlantic telephone from Washington, will press a golden teletype key to send the initial impulse over the system which has its headquarters at Siegelbach, Germany.

The system, under construction since 1956, includes five centers overseas, each built at a cost of approximately $3,100,000.

The centers are at Hickam Air Force Base, Hawaii; Fuchu, Japan; Croughton, England; San Pablo, Spain; and Siegelbach.

LEASES 6 IN U.S.

The Air Force has leased five centers in the United States at the following bases: Andrews, in Maryland outside Washington; McClellan in California; Warner-Robbins in Georgia; Wright-Patterson in Ohio; and Carswell in New Mexico.

The Air Force said messages will be transmitted between centers at a rate of 100 words per minute.

Between points within the area of the same switching center, messages will be transmitted at 200 words a minute.

FEET FEAT — Benny L. Tice of Roanoke, Va., came out on top in a car dealer's promotion in more ways than one. He answered an ad that promised a 1961 automobile for only 36 cents to the person who could lumber into his showroom with the biggest feet. Tice's size 15s won walking away. He had a surprise in store for him after he wheeled the bargain home — he found 74 cents under the seat.

FCC Finds No Direct Payola-Rock, Roll Link

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Communications Commission reported today that it has been unable to find a direct link between rock 'n' roll music and payola.

Rep. Thomas P. O'Neill Jr. (D-Mass.) published a letter to that effect in the Congressional Record from Frederick W. Ford, chairman of the federal agency which regulates broadcasting.

O'Neill had linked rock 'n' roll's popularity with payola in a letter to Ford complaining about the "very serious moral consequences" growing out of payola.

"The trash which has been played on radio by some unscrupulous disc jockeys in return for under-the-table payments by some equally unscrupulous record manufacturers and distributors can have but a singularly disgusting effect on a captured audience," he said.

In reply, Ford said the FCC has no information "which would enable it to determine with any degree of certainty whether any relationship whatsoever exists" between rock 'n' roll's popularity and payola.

At O'Neill's request, Ford furnished figures showing the Federal Trade Commission so far has advised the FCC that employees of 110 radio and television stations received cash payments from record manufacturers and distributors. This list was compiled by FTC field investigators.

Wisconsin Breaks Own Tree Record

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Wisconsin which already is credited with having the nation's biggest white pine tree, may have broken its own record.

A Conservation Department employee has found a jack pine in the northern part of the state that measures 62 feet in circumference, is 67 feet high and has an average crown spread of 27 feet.

The tree that holds the American record is on the Menominee Indian Reservation. It has a circumference of 5 feet 10 1/2 inches, is 67 feet high and has a crown spread of 42.2 feet.

Pontiac PTA Backs Tax Hike Unanimously

The Pontiac PTA Council, representing 8,366 members of 35 school PTAs, last night unanimously pledged support to the Board of Education's request for a 2.3 mill increase to the vote tax rate.

All registered voters in the school district may cast their ballots on the proposal Monday.

By endorsing the request, PTA members, in effect, have obligated themselves as an advisory group, according to Mrs. William Wright, 184 Chippewa St., program chairman of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers.

"By this I mean that local PTA units should arrange for transportation and baby sitting where needed in their area so that everyone can get out and vote," she said.

Labor Won't End Ship Picketing

Spurns Government in Move Against Arabs; Meany Seeks Solution

WASHINGTON (AP)—Labor's top command has turned down government requests that it help end union picketing of an Arab ship in New York harbor.

But shortly after the AFL-CIO Council adopted a resolution Wednesday supporting the boycott, AFL-CIO President George Meany told reporters he was still going to try to see if he couldn't work out some solution to the problem.

The United Arab Republic ship Cleopatra has been picketed by the Seafarers International Union since April 13. The action is in protest to the closing of Arab ports to U.S. ships which call at Israeli harbors. The New York boycott has touched off counter picketing of U.S. shipping in Arab ports.

The U.S. Courts of Appeals in New York, upholding a U.S. District Court ruling, has refused to grant an injunction to halt the picketing.

Dies on Smelt Trip

MANISTEE (AP)—Roland Wiseman, 44, Manistee furniture and appliance dealer, died Tuesday after a heart attack while on a smelt dipping trip in nearby N.C.

Benzie County Coroner George Bennett ruled on the cause of death.

A Pontiac Township gas station owner who admitted to sheriff's detectives Tuesday that his story of being robbed of some $1,100 was a hoax pleaded guilty yesterday to a charge of making a false report.

Edwin Jostick, 27, of 875 Keith Rd., Oxford, was arraigned before Orion Township Justice Helmar G. Stanback.

Stanback placed him on one year's probation. Jostick paid $50 costs and was released.

Owner of Perry & Walton Service Station, 2005 E. Walton Blvd., Pontiac Township, he told deputies Monday that he had been robbed of $1,128 while en route to the bank and then bound and gagged in his car near Bald Mountain Recreation Area.

Following a lie test Tuesday, he admitted the story was untrue.

Eggs Especially Good for Fever Protection

NEW YORK (UPI)—In the opinion of a distinguished rheumatologist, eggs protect children from rheumatic fever which in times past killed more of them than all other diseases combined.

Eggs in the diet, of course, specifically, the yolks of eggs, and even more specifically, a chemical substance of egg yolk which has been identified and synthesized.

If so, medical science has the know-how to eradicate a disease which has been a scourge of the race, especially its poorly nourished segments. Dr. Alvin F. Coburn acknowledged the evidence is all circumstantial.

But it has to be. There is no laboratory animal in which human rheumatic fever can be studied. And the accumulation of circumstantial evidence now is mounting and substantially free of contradictions.

Medical scientists have been gathering it for decades, including Coburn who was one of the first to implicate respiratory infection by a particular variety of streptococcus bacteria as one factor in rheumatic fever.

Coburn also had a big part in identifying a second factor which is the one of inherited susceptibility, probably a defect in body chemistry. He now is pointing toward a third and final factor (a missing link, as it were).

That is the chemical ethanamine palmitamide, and perhaps other substances contained in it—Coburn's thesis is that it (or they) supplies the body chemical lack which permits streptococcal infection to combine with inherited susceptibility into rheumatic fever.

He summarized the circumstantial evidence as follows:

Rheumatic fever children almost always come from poor, badly nourished families and the paucity of eggs is a conspicuous feature of their inadequate diets.

When these families "escape from poverty," they consume more eggs and there is a decrease in rheumatic fever among their children.

When the diets of rheumatic fever children are supplemented either with egg yolks or with fractions of egg yolks containing ethanamine palmitamide, their susceptibility to recurrences of rheumatic fever decreases dramatically.

Gas Leak Halts NY Excavation

Mysterious Flow of Auto Fuel Into Diggings Puzzles Everyone

NEW YORK (AP)—A mysterious underground flow of gasoline—going on for the past 15 days at the rate of 500 gallons daily—may halt work on a big Manhattan project. To make it more mysterious, no one has reported losing the volatile liquid.

The gasoline pours into two 18-foot-deep excavations on West 40th street near Ninth avenue at the site of the $13,000,000 addition to the Port of New York Authority Bus Terminal. The excavations, part of the foundation, eventually must reach 30 feet.

"We're stymied if this continues," Francis G. Carey, the terminal's resident engineer, said Wednesday. "We can't sink the foundation any deeper with gasoline still underground. It's much too dangerous."

The automotive-type fuel sometimes is pure and at other times is brownish in color or mixed with water. Geologists, technicians and engineers are puzzling over the source.

"I've never seen anything like it in the construction business," says William Bannister, the project manager.

One geologist said the source could be miles away and coming in via an underground stream. It might be coming from a sewer leak. Gasoline stations in the area report no loss from their tanks.

The fire hazard is acute. Firemen have been posted on duty around the clock. An eight-foot high fence has been erected to prevent anyone flipping a lit cigarette. Workmen use spark-proof shovels made of wood and bronze.

Just getting rid of the gas is a headache. It must be pumped into trucks and carted to a remote area near Idlewild Airport and burned.

'Air Attack Kills' Quarter of State

LANSING — More than one million citizens theoretically died in Tuesday's mock air attack, state civil defense officials reported today.

They were killed by nuclear bombs, radioactive fall-out and panic.

Metropolitan Detroit, target of four of the eight mythical bombs that fell on Michigan during the nationwide civil defense exercise, was hardest hit. It reported about two million of the 2,135,486 deaths.

The bombing killed 902,762 persons outright.

Many of the 425,000 initially injured died yesterday, dropping the injured toll to 309,000, civil defense authorities report.

Winds sweeping deadly fall-out across Lake Michigan from bombed-out areas in Chicago and Milwaukee claimed 100,000 lives in southwestern Michigan.

A giant traffic jam bounded in Ann Arbor residents supposedly fleeing to more sparsely populated areas outside. Auto crashes and other accidents took 606 lives and injured 1,208 other persons.

A bomb aimed at the vital Soo Locks at Sault Ste. Marie killed 21,800 persons.

Flint got off relatively easy with 10,000 casualties. Most of its citizens were evacuated.

Other targets included areas around Selfridge, Kincheloe and Wurtsmith air bases.

For all practical purposes, the seventh annual Operation Alert ended yesterday. State and federal officials will appraise the test and the nation's readiness to meet a real attack over the next 10 days.

OIL BOSS — Maurice Jackson Rathbone, president of Standard Oil of New Jersey, has been named chief executive officer and chairman of the executive committee. He also continues as president.

An atmosphere too thin to transmit sound waves adequately is believed found at a height of approximately 1,000 miles above the earth's surface.

Kennedy Votes Add Up, Nixon Moves Way Ahead

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy picked up 98 national convention votes in Tuesday's Indiana and Ohio primaries and pushed his unofficial total for the Democratic presidential nomination to 210 1/2 out of 761 needed.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon picked up 96 delegates in the same states and the District of Columbia. This increased his Republican National Convention total to 424, nearly two-thirds of the necessary 666 majority for his party's presidential nomination.

The only other candidate to gain Tuesday was Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey who picked up the District of Columbia's 8-vote Democratic delegation, under the unit rule, by his victory in the local primary.

Preferences of Alabama's 20-vote Democratic delegation; only other delegates elected Tuesday, remain to be learned.

The Democrats have now named delegates with 627 votes in their 1,331-vote convention. Republicans have picked 586 of their 1,331 delegates.

Here are the unofficial standings in the Democratic race based on primary results, convention actions and first ballot preferences obtained in Associated Press polls:

Sen. Kennedy, of Massachusetts, 210 1/2, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas 66 1/2, Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri 47, Sen. Humphrey of Missouri 34 1/2, Adlai E. Stevenson 3 1/2, others 84, uncommitted 201—total 627.

The unofficial Republican delegation shows: Nixon 424, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona 29, uncommitted 133—total 586.

Meg Marriage Is on the House—No Fee for Cleric

LONDON (AP)—The bridegroom won't pay the preacher Friday when Princess Margaret marries Antony Armstrong-Jones.

The ceremony will be performed by the Most Rev. Geoffrey Fisher, archbishop of Canterbury and Anglican primate of all England. An official at the Church of England offices told an inquiring reporter:

"You can say that the question of a fee has not been raised—and you can be sure that the archbishop will not be paid."

Smokes-Cancer Verdict Balked

Judge Directs Jurors to Free Tobacco Firm of Negligence Charge

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Attorneys are appealing a directed verdict that denied a Pittsburgh carpenter damages on grounds he contracted lung cancer from smoking cigarettes.

U.S. District Judge John L. Miller Wednesday instructed the jury to return a directed verdict of acquittal for the Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Otto Pritchard, 61, claimed he contracted lung cancer from smoking for more than 20 years. His cancerous right lung was removed in 1953. He sought $125,000 on it.

After the judge's ruling, Atty. James P. McArdle, counsel for Pritchard, said: "In almost three decades of trial work, this is the most surprising and unexpected decision I have listened to. Of course, I have no doubts this obvious error will be corrected by the Third Circuit Court of Appeals in which we have already appealed." The appellate court is in Philadelphia.

In his instructions to the jury, Judge Miller said that "no substantial evidence has been offered to support a verdict against the defendant on any theory of negligence, and that fair-minded men could not differ as to the conclusions of the fact to be drawn from the evidence."

Hearings Due on Blue Shield

Dates and Locations of Rate-Hike Debate Will Be Set Within Week

LANSING (AP)—A series of hearings will be scheduled on a rate increase sought by the Michigan Medical Service (Blue Shield), State Insurance Commissioner Frank Blackford reported.

Blue Shield filed for a 19 1/2 per cent rate increase for its some 1,500,000 subscribers. If granted, rate hikes would range from 45 cents to $1.55 a month.

"In view of the public interest, hearings on this application are clearly called for, although not required by law," Blackford said. He said dates and locations will be set within the next week. It is tentatively planned to hold hearings in Detroit, Grand Rapids and the Saginaw-Bay area, he added.

Blackford noted he is empowered by state law to determine if Blue Shield rates and benefits are fair and reasonable.

Blue Shield is the prepaid medical insurance plan covering doctor bills. Blue Cross, a companion plan covering hospital bills, is not asking for an increase at this time.

Learns Golfing Lesson From Driving His Car

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (UPI)—Fred Armstrong of Cheyenne, a motorist, now knows what every golfer already knew — don't drive on the greens.

Armstrong was fined $25 in police court after officers said his car lurched onto a city golf course, scattering Sunday golfers, and ran over the 11th green.

HE PROVED HIS POINT — A 200-pound man stands in a hole in the wooden plank of a bridge at Lincoln, R. I., to demonstrate the unsafe condition of the span. John T. Russell, a local photographer, said he tried for weeks to get town officials to order repair of the bridge.

Finally, he posed for this picture and sent it to the local newspaper, the Pawtucket Times. The photo was printed on Page One, and the bridge was repaired the same day. A photo like this is considered worth 10,000 words.

Passes Bill to Ease Medical Deductions

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has passed a bill to remove the limit on medical expenses that a taxpayer may deduct for his mother and father and his wife's mother and father.

The present income tax law permits a taxpayer to deduct only medical expenses which exceed 3 per cent of his gross income.

until he reaches 65 when the limit is removed. The bill would take the limit off for all medical outlays for dependent parents who have reached age 65.

The measure, passed Wednesday, now goes to the House.

NORMAN, Okla. (UPI) — A high school girl went to the University of Oklahoma library to get some information on mercy killing or euthanasia.

Parents Start Suit Over Initiation Death

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A $750,000 damage suit was filed by parents of a University of Southern California student who choked to death on a piece of liver during a fraternity initiation.

Dr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Swanson brought the action against the University, the Kappa Sigma fraternity, city ambulancemen, police and firemen.

Their complaint Wednesday charged that Richard Swanson, 21, choked Sept. 17, 1956, when given the raw liver as part of the initiation. An inquest held there was no criminal violation by students or city crews.

Divorce Suit Entered Against Doug McClure

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Doug McClure, gun-slinging co-star of the "Overland Trail" TV series, has been sued for divorce, Faye McClure, 21, charged mental cruelty in the suit filed Wednesday. She and McClure, 25, were married in Hawaii in 1957 and separated a week ago.

Repair Work on Ships 'Should Be Done in U.S.'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate passed Wednesday a bill to require that rebuilding work on domestic vessels be done entirely in U.S. shipyards.

The measure, which now goes to the House, applies to any vessel of more than 500 gross tons which engages in the coastwise trade.

The first friction matches made in the late 1700s cost about $2 for 50.

Union's Aim: 30-Hour Week

To Seek Progressive
Reduction in Early '61
Bargaining Talks

WINDSOR, Ont. (U.P.) — The United Auto Workers Union says it will find its own cure for "creeping" unemployment. In its next round of contract demands, due early in 1961, it will seek to reduce "progressively" the present 40-hour work week.

Resolutions to this effect were endorsed by Local 200 of the union at Ford of Canada yesterday.

Harbert Kelly, Local 200 president, said the entire union's international wage policy will be geared to the new demand.

The Windsor resolution declares that unemployment is the union's most important, unresolved problem. It points to steadily increasing automated processes, accelerated production schedules and changes of locations by firms, as major causes.

The target is a 30-hour week without reduction in take-home pay.

Tornadoes Slash Texas, Oklahoma

By The Associated Press
Violent weather ripped across areas in south central sections of the country Wednesday night and today, causing extensive property damage and injuring more than 20 persons.

Tornado winds, heavy rain and hail pounded areas in Oklahoma, Texas, Missouri and Kansas. Heaviest damage and highest injury toll appeared to be in north central Texas and the southern half of Oklahoma.

Hurricane hit in Oklahoma were Oil Center, a town of about 100 near Ada, and Soper, a community of about 300 in the south central part of the state. More than a score of homes were destroyed or damaged in the two towns. Wind gusts up to 85 m.p.h. hammered Oklahoma City while a twister injured three persons at major causes.

The target is a 30-hour week without reduction in take-home pay.

which hit Lake Worth, north of Fort Worth, Tex.

Other twisters struck rural areas near Urbana, Mo., and New City in Western Kansas. No injuries were reported.

Thunderstorms rumbled across areas from the northwest corner of Kansas southeastward to the mouth of the Mississippi River. Heaviest rain was nearly six inches in Burrwood, La., most of which fell in about two hours.

The wet belt extended over a widespread area from western Kansas westward into Utah and northwestward into the northern Rockies. Included were Missouri and parts of the upper Mississippi Valley.

Fairly mild weather was the rule in most areas.

This Man Is Restless

WAUKESHA, Wis. (U.P.) — Police Sgt. Harry L. Johnson of 1823 East Street has announced he is resigning to take a better job.

Plummeting Jet Sets Chain Reaction

MOUNT CLEMENS (U.P.) — Maj. Lewis W. Lagro set off a chain reaction when he tried to land his powerless jet fighter north of here yesterday.

The Delta Dagger F102 clipped a treetop, then knocked the tops off two utility poles, snapping high tension wires. The plane skidded into a wheat field, tearing a 500-foot furrow.

Lagro, 35, of White Pigeon, suffered a wrenched back.

One of the sizzling high tension lines fell across the roof of a grocery store, starting a small fire.

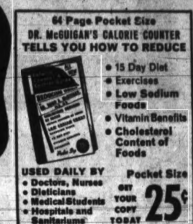

Another threatened passersby and spectators. Electric service was cut off in Chesterfield Township, north of the crash scene.

Lagro said he was coming in to land at Selfridge Air Force Base when control officers told him he was too low.

"I started to put on power," he said, "and found the engine had flamed out."

About 44 hours is required to freeze a 300-pound block of ice.

Chessman Remained Silent 'to Protect His Daughter, 17'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Caryl Chessman was executed Monday. To the last he maintained his innocence, but steadfastly refused to name the man he said he knew committed the 1948 kidnap-robbery-sex abuse crimes in the real red light bandit.

George T. Davis said Wednesday Chessman feared "underworld reprisals" against the girl, his sole survivor.

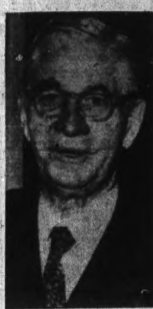

"He said if he knew he would get a real hearing then he would trust himself to protect his family. But he was afraid that if he was brushed off then his daughter would be in danger and he wouldn't be in any better position himself."

The attorney said Chessman was married in 1940 and the couple had a daughter before being divorced. Chessman subsequently remarried and divorced again.

As far as is known, the existence of his first wife and a daughter never was revealed publicly before.

Davis refused to identify either the girl or her mother, who he said had remarried. Chessman's second wife also has remarried and is living at Victorville, Calif.

Davis requested authorities to check Charles Terrenova who is wanted as a parole violator. Los Angeles police said they had eliminated Terrenova earlier as a suspect.

WON'T RUN—Sen. James E. Murray (D-Mont.), 65-year-old chairman of the Senate Interior Committee, says he will not seek a sixth term. He would have had two House members opposing him. Murray has been in the Senate since 1934, longer than all but three present members.

Reiterates Rhee's Stand

Huh Demands Japan Stop Repatriations to N. Korea

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—Acting President Huh Chung-to day repudiated a key plank in ex-President Syngman Rhee's tough policy toward Japan.

Rhee's successor told a news conference that before any other issues between the two Far Eastern allies of the United States can be solved, Japan must abandon the repatriation of Koreans to Communist North Korea.

Huh made one gesture toward Japan, offering to discuss Japanese-Korean relations with Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi or any other high-level Japanese officials if the Japanese would come to Seoul.

In Tokyo, Kishi said he would have to study Huh's statement closely before saying anything. But a spokesman for the Japanese foreign office said the Korean seemed to have taken relations "a step backward again."

About 127,000 of the 600,000 Koreans in Japan have applied to be sent to Communist North Korea, which has promised them jobs and a better life than the poverty and destitution in which most of them live in Japan. Nearly 20,000 of the applicants have been repatriated.

Japan and South Korea have had no formal diplomatic relations since World War II. South Korea broke off negotiations for normalization of relations after the Japanese agreed to the repatriation scheme but resumed the talks in Tokyo last month.

Huh also told his news conference that martial law will be lifted as soon as "peace and order is completely restored through self-restraint of the people."

This apparently referred to demonstrations in the port of Pusan this week, where students are demanding election of a new National Assembly. Demonstrations have stopped in Seoul.

'Ex-Trujillo Official' Shot Down in Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Jose Almolina Mateos, who claims to have been a secretary to Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo, was shot Wednesday by gunmen he charged were hired by the Dominican Republic's dictator.

Almolina, 57, said a car ran him down as he was on his way to work and a gunman climbed out and pumped five bullets into him. Then the gunman drove away. Almolina was in a critical condition, with a broken leg as well as bullet wounds.

Almolina came to Mexico in 1947 and wrote a book titled "I Used to be Trujillo's Secretary." His wife said he received an anonymous letter a few days ago which said only: "We have not forgotten you."

"RE'S A SLOB!" — Actress Anna Kashfi is flaming mad as she refuses a Santa Monica, Calif., court clerk's plea to return to the courtroom where she burst into a husband diatribe at her ex-husband Marion Brando, ending it with a very audible "You slob!" Brando took the tongue-lashing quietly and with an air of disdain. He is seeking additional visits to their son to make up for those he missed while he was out of town and, as he charges, those when Miss Kashfi failed to deliver the child to him. Anna was finally persuaded by her attorney, a balliff and the court clerk to return to the hearing.

Health Plan for Low-Income Aged Far From Ideal; Will Aid but Few

WASHINGTON (AP) — Most of the people over 65 would have to pay out a big chunk of their income before they could get any benefits under the Eisenhower administration's medical care program for the aged.

As a program, it's a lot less than ideal, probably because there was a lot of disagreement within the administration on what to propose, if anything.

About 3½ million of the 16 million people over 65 would not be covered at all. They are people with income of at least $2,500 for a single person, $3,800 for a couple. Those with that much income are excluded.

For the rest who might be eligible—and no one would have to join who didn't want to—the federal government and the states would share the medical costs above a certain figure which he himself would have to pay.

FOR EXAMPLE:

An eligible person who joined up would have to pay a fee of $24 a year, whether or not he got sick. Then, if he did get sick, he'd have to pay the first $250 of his medical bills if single ($400 for a married couple) before he'd get federal-state help.

But, on top of that, he'd have to pay 20 per cent of whatever the cost was above $250.

Since not all states might want to take part in the program, people living in the ones which didn't wouldn't get under the program at all.

Full coverage at no cost would be provided for those 2½ million people who have to depend on public assistance for their living.

So when you eliminate the 3½ million excluded by the size of their income and the 2½ million on public assistance and getting the program benefits for free, you wind up with about 10 million people eligible to choose whether they will participate or will stay out of the program.

Most of them are on the Social Security rolls now. A government survey of such people in 1957 showed the average retired couple had a total income of about $1,140. The average aged widow had a total income of $880.

Let's take the widow with $880 who pay up a medical bill of $400 and see how much she'd have to pay out of her own pocket if she decided to get under the program. This would be it:

First, $24 for the enrollment fee. Then the first $250 of the $400. Then 20 per cent of the difference between $250 and $400, which would be 20 per cent of $150, or $30.

Total cost to her then on a $400 medical bill would be $304. The federal-state payment would be $86.

But that same 1957 study showed the average medical expense for people over 65 was $177.

So, under the Eisenhower program, many people, besides paying the $24 to the state, would have to pay their entire medical bill of $177, since the program wouldn't come into operation for them until their cost was over $250.

The ones who would benefit most under the program would be those who were laid up in a hospital a long time or whose medical bills ran well up above $250.

Vote to Continue TV Writers' Strike

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—East and West members of the Writers Guild of America are agreed that the television film writers' strike shall continue.

Western members last Thursday rejected a contract offer from the alliance of TV film producers. Eastern members, the day before, had voted to accept it.

But now East and West councils have voted 291 "to sustain the majority voice" and continue the strike, a Guild spokesman said Wednesday.

A proposed TV-film contract with the networks also was voted down.

Since Jan. 15 about 3,000 members have been on strike against both theatrical and television producers. The key point at issue is a Guild demand for a percentage of proceeds from foreign sales.

After the French engineer De Gannard had the idea for a tunnel beneath the English Channel in 1807, he spent so much of his personal fortune on the project that his daughter had to ask for charity.

Trigger-Happy Whitney Sought in Other States Even if Freed in Florida

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A mercy recommendation in the trial of a confessed multiple slayer may have boosted his chances of dodging Florida's electric chair.

But even if trigger-happy Dennis Whitney goes scot-free in Florida, Arizona and California authorities want him for four other murders he has confessed.

An all-male jury Wednesday convicted the 37-year-old California drifter of first degree murder in the shooting of Virginia Selby. The verdict carried a recommendation of mercy, which means a mandatory sentence of life imprisonment.

WILL CONFER

Dade County (Miami) has a hold order on Whitney for two killing station holdup slayings. But State Attorney Richard E. Gerstein of Dade County said he would confer with Palm Beach County Prosecutor Phil O'Connell before deciding whether to call the pimply-faced defendant to trial in Miami.

"I feel he has been tried for the most brutal killing of all," Gerstein said. He indicated that if O'Connell thinks Whitney might get a death sentence for his Miami crimes, the youth will be tried for them.

Sweet Nothings or Sour? Carole, Finch Won't Say

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Carole Tregott and her lover, Dr. R. Bernard Finch, held an hour-long rendezvous in an attorneys' visiting room in the county jail.

The physician and his former receptionist, accused of murdering the doctor's wife, had terse "no comments" Wednesday when reporters asked what they talked about.

Carole is free on bail and Finch remains in jail. A re-trial of their murder trial is set for May 23. The first trial ended in a deadlocked jury.

They are accused of the ambush slaying of Barbara Jean Finch last summer to prevent her from getting a large divorce settlement.

What Do You Know! Maurice Can Sing

NEW YORK (AP) — Stage star and director Maurice Evans isn't entirely confined to his classical Shakespearean roles and to his recent revolution of the serious Bernard Shaw drama, "Heartbreak House."

Now he is pondering playing—and singing — the role of the clergyman in the Broadway musical version of "Tenderloin," the recently published book by the late Samuel Hopkins Adams.

Before devoting himself mostly to Shakespeare and Shaw, Evans did sing in one or two British stage musicals.

Cheryl Ordered Back to School

Neither Mother Lana Nor Dad Steve Crane at Hearing

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A judge Wednesday ordered Lana Turner's troubled 16-year-old daughter and her two companion runaways returned to the county-operated girls' school from which they escaped Friday.

It's what the three girls wanted.

The actress' daughter, Cheryl Crane, appeared in Juvenile Court with Donna Wilson, 15, and Cheryl Zumbur, 14, with whom she scaled a 14-foot wall and vanished from the El Retiro School for Girls in suburban Sylmar.

Neither Miss Turner nor the second of her four husbands, restaurateur Steve Crane, Cheryl's father, attended the closed hearing before Superior Judge Charles Loring.

Mrs. Dorothy Kirby, the school's director, said the parents were notified in advance of what the court's action would be and that it was not necessary for them to be present. Miss Turner was reportedly resting at Palm Springs.

The judge could have sent the girls indefinitely to Juvenile Hall in downtown Los Angeles, where security precautions are stronger than at El Retiro.

Cheryl fatally stabbed Miss Turner's hoodlum lover, Johnny Stompanato, two years ago in the actress' bedroom. A coroner's jury ruled the slaying was justifiable homicide after the actress testified Stompanato had threatened her, her mother and Cheryl.

Cheryl was sent to El Retiro six weeks ago for psychiatric therapy.

After three days' freedom Cheryl telephoned Crane Monday night and he picked up the three girls about a mile from the school.

"I'm sorry I ran away," she told him. "We're all ready to go back to school. You can't run away forever."

NOW LOOK WHAT CORVAIR'S GONE AND DONE!

The same Corvair that tallied a whopping 27.03 miles per gallon* in the Mobilgas Economy Run... went right on to climb Pikes Peak earlier in the spring than any car has ever tried!

We wanted to show you what the fabulous traction of Corvair's rear-engine design and the sure-footedness of four-wheel independent suspension really mean. So the identical Economy Run car went right on to 14,110-foot Pikes Peak—and right up to the top of that savage mountain, on April 15, still deep in winter's snow and ice. No other car—ever specially equipped—had ever been able to conquer that nightmare alpine road so early in the spring. But Corvair (with United States Auto Club officials aboard to certify that not one nut or bolt was changed) purred right to the summit without chains or even snow tires! That just underscores the fact that Corvair is totally unique. But you'll find that out the first five minutes you're at the wheel!

American Firms Making Money but Costs Cut Deep Into Profits

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Two out of three American corporations managed to make more money in the first three months of this year than in the first quarter of 1959.

But a slowdown in the year to year gain—5.5 per cent this time—was noticeable. A year ago they were doing 54 per cent better than in depressed 1958.

Total profits were well below last year's high in the second quarter. And many companies may be doing well to break even in the current quarter with last year's figures.

Dividends are following much the same pattern. Cash payments in this year's first quarter were reported 7 per cent ahead of a year ago by the Department of Commerce but a slowdown in the advance was indicated in April in figures by Standard & Poor's Corp.

The statistical firm reports that for the first time since November 1954 the number of dividend increases failed to rise. This April, 38 companies raised their dividends, compared with 106 in March and 70 in April 1959.

Caution over the slower rate of profit improvements is believed by the firm to have caused the go-slow attitude of many corporate boards.

SALES AHEAD BUT . . .

The earning figures for the first quarter also show a decline in profit margins from a year ago. While many companies show sales ahead of last year, the ratio of profits to sales slipped. Reasons given include higher operating costs and increased competition here and abroad.

The U.S. Treasury also is watching the profit prospects this year closely, since much of the hope for a Treasury surplus depends upon a substantial increase in corporate earnings this year to provide larger income tax collections.

Groups declining this year included aircraft, containers, rail equipment, mining and metalworking, rubber and railroads. The airlines as a group showed a net loss this year compared with a modest profit a year ago.

On the upside—often helped by comparisons with bad performances in 1959—were farm equipment, textiles, machinery and tools, and communications, in particular.

The steel industry as a whole pulled ahead of last year by 9 per cent, although its second quarter prospects are far less bright. The motors industry staged a 7 per cent advance, with second quarter performances also in some doubt.

Food and beverage suppliers advanced by 9 per cent, the drug group by an equal amount. The tobacco industry gained 7 per cent. Paper and paper products' profits were up 5 per cent. The chemical companies as a group were ahead by 4 per cent. The oil industry managed a 3 per cent advance. Utilities scored a 6 per cent gain over the previous year.

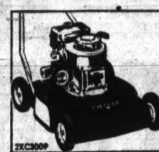

Industrials as a whole ran 5.8 per cent ahead of a year ago, and 12 per cent ahead of the final three months of 1959 when many were still suffering from the steel strike.

Much of this year's advance is credited to the big gains in production and sales in the first weeks of 1960 during the catchup period after the steel settlement. The slowdown in the final weeks of the quarter cut into these gains but failed to wipe them out.

Pork and Produce Buys Offer Best Food Bargains

Fryers and several fresh pork cuts are the outstanding buys in most markets this week.

Arrivals of fresh fruits and vegetables have shown an increase this week as more southern products have been offered. Add bananas, avocados, strawberries and oranges—carrots, asparagus, green beans and celery to your market list.

POULTRY: Fryer prices are still holding at the bargain point of a week ago. Both whole birds and fryer parts may be found in many markets at attractive price levels.

PORK: Hog arrivals increased 20 per cent from a week ago to bring all pork prices down. Exceptional values are available in loin roasts and center-cut chops. Boston butt roasts, roll sausage and a variety of luncheon meats. Bacon has continued to increase slightly in price.

BEEF: The best buy is in ground beef, though some stores are featuring sirloin steaks, and a few special prices are available in standing rib roasts and in chuck roasts.

EGGS AND DAIRY: Following last week's steady reduction at the wholesale level, retail egg prices are showing indications of fractional decreases. With only 2-4 cents difference between the large and medium sizes, the large Grade A eggs are by far the better buys. Milk output this year is expected year earlier levels and there is an abundance of all kinds of dairy products. Cottage cheese, cream cheese and the six ounce packages of cheese slices are being featured in a number of markets this week.

FRUITS: Banana imports are still high and competition with strawberries is helping to hold prices down at exceptional levels. Avocados also result at the same low prices of a week ago. The weather conditions in Louisiana have been ideal for the maturation of strawberries and production has been at a peak. California supplies are also increasing.

The orange market remains generally unchanged although more of the California Valencia oranges are now in the markets. The Castro situation has delayed shipments of Cuban pineapple but more good buys are in the stores this week.

VEGETABLES: Much general improvement has been noted in the growing conditions in Florida in the past few weeks. The spring harvest of green beans is nearer volume and the pascal celery crop is in good condition and is continuing in good supply. Prices are higher because California pascal is scarce and Florida must supply so much of the market. Hot house tomatoes may be the better value in price and quality.

OTHER: The grocery counters offer a number of economy buys this week. Heavy inventories of canned freestone peaches are resulting in a number of special prices. Wholesale prices on vegetable fats and oils are still about 1 penny a pound lower than a year earlier and this is causing a number of features on the 3 pound cans.

Other featured items for spring baking are sugar, flour, instant cake mixes and frostings. Fruit cocktail, canned corn and green beans, citrus juice and beef steers are also special values in many markets.

Pineapple Shell a Salad Server

Serve fruit salad next time in the most glamorous of all shells—the pineapple, with spicy cubes of deviled ham to add savory, substantial goodness. This Hawaiian-style dish will make a summer luncheon or supper very special and it's so easy to prepare. You'll love the refreshing, cool, mellow taste and texture of deviled ham, cubed, added to this glamorous salad for its color and savor is outstanding.

Motivate a luncheon, if you like, with leis, flowers and exotic beverages (float lemon or pineapple sherbet in tall, frosty glasses of ginger ale); be sure to include sesame crackers or crisp, hard rolls with the individual servings to round out this spectacular luncheon or supper dish.

Spicy Fruit Salad, Hawaiian-Style
2 4½-ounce cans deviled ham
1 fresh pineapple
2 oranges
1 lime
½ cup French dressing

Place deviled ham in freezer section of refrigerator for 2 hours before serving. Split pineapple lengthwise in half and remove core. Cut pineapple pulp into small chunks.

Peel and slice oranges; peel and slice avocado. Put fruit into pineapple shells.

Remove ham from can by opening both ends and pushing ham out with top of can. Cut ham into small chunks and add to fruit in pineapple. Serve very cold with lemon French dressing. Makes 6-8 salads.

Triple Threat Sandwich Is Toasted, Baked

There are never enough sandwich ideas for the mother of teenagers, but this combination will win acclaim in the home where it's served. The sandwich could be described as a close relative to French toast. Canned or leftover cooked ham or canned luncheon meat makes an equally good filling.

Baked Ham-Cheese-Tomato Sandwich
12 slices white bread
1 egg
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 slice (12 ounces each) cheddar cheese
6 slices (12 ounces each) cooked ham
18 tomato slices, not ½ inch thick

Toast 6 slices of bread on one side only. Combine egg, salt, milk and Worcestershire sauce. Dip the untoasted side of bread in egg mixture and place untoasted side down on a heavily greased cooky sheet.

Place a slice of cheese, then a slice of ham and 2 slices of tomato on each toasted bread slice. Top each with a piece of bread that has been dipped in the egg mixture, placing dipped side up. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for 20 to 25 minutes or until lightly browned on the top. 6 sandwiches.

Deviled French Toast

Breakfasts should be hearty—especially if you can linger over them. Next time you make French toast why not add lively flavored deviled ham between the slices of bread?

Tropical Rice

Here's a delicately different, easy-to-prepare rice. Blend together ½ cup drained crushed pineapple, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, one-third cup sugar and ½ teaspoon salt. Gently fold in 1 cup of whipped cream and add 2 cups chilled, cooked rice and ¼ cup shredded coconut. Chill before serving. Serves 5 to 6.

Baked apples may be kept in the freezer for four months, applesauce for as long as a year.

Four Kinds of Crab

There are many different kinds of crabs found in our waters and along our shores. But, according to the National Fisheries Institute, there are only four kinds caught in sufficient numbers to support fisheries: the blue crab of the Atlantic Coast and Gulf of Mexico; New England's rock crab; the Dungeness crab found on the Pacific Coast; and Alaska's king crab.

Well-cured, mature onions are dry enough for the skin to crackle.

Kids May Eat Liver in Sandwich Spread

For an extra-good sandwich spread, combine liver and bacon. To make it, chop four slices of bacon and cook until crisp. Remove bacon from the pan and place in the drippings 1 pound mayonnaise. Mix well.

(thinly) sliced beef or pork liver. Cook for 5 minutes, turning occasionally.

Put liver through food chopper. Combine bacon and liver with ¼ cup chopped celery, 1 teaspoon minced onion, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon pickle relish and ½ cup mayonnaise. Mix well.

GREEN PEPPER RING — Be the first to bring a touch of spring into the menu for a Church gathering. Squares of jellied salad and desserts always popular fare when there's a crowd to feed, are easier than ever to prepare with the new economical family size package of fruit-flavored gelatin.

Spring Salad Is Molded

When you are serving a large crowd, a gelatin salad that can be made ahead of time is always a good idea. But make a salad that is different. This Green Pepper Ring and Almond Salad has a look of spring about it—all green and yellow. Use the new handy family-size package of gelatin.

Green Pepper Ring and Almond Salad
1 large package (6 ounces) lemon-flavored gelatin
2 cups boiling water
Jules from fruits and water to make 2 cups
3 green peppers, sliced in rings
2 cups blanched almonds
2 grapefruits, freed from membrane and seeded
1 cup canned crushed pineapple, drained

Dissolve gelatin and salt in boiling water. Add fruit juices and water. Chill until slightly thickened. Arrange rings of green pepper in 13x5x2-inch pan. Fill centers of rings with part of the whole almonds. Then fold grapefruit, pineapple, and remaining almonds into slightly thickened gelatin. Spoon into pan.

Chill until firm. Unmold. Garnish with chives. Serve with mayonnaise, if desired. Makes 12 to 16 servings.

Pineapple Petals Grace Top of Cooked Meat Loaf

A nice change when serving meat loaf is to make it this way. Make your meat loaf mixture in muffin cups instead of a loaf pan. Arrange 4 or 5 canned pineapple tidbits in a petal design in the bottom of each muffin cup. Fill tops with meat loaf mixture and bake for 25 minutes at 375 degrees.

To remove fan-pan, run a knife around each loaf to loosen. Then invert pan over a serving platter and shake gently. Arrange meat loaves top side up in center of platter and surround with vegetables (carrots and green beans would be colorful).

Home Economics Training Has Much to Offer Girls

Home economics as a basic subject is being rapidly classified along with heart-dancing and driver-training as a course we should discard in order to restore quality and depth to American education. A good look at this subject is in order this week, National Home Demonstration Week.

High schools often term home economics classes as family living or homemaking classes. Many people do not really know what home economics is. Is it a science? Is it an art? Is it just "cooking and sewing"? Is it for women only? Home economics is the study of the science and art of homemaking. It applies the basic principles from the sciences, the arts and the humanities which focus on the home, the family and the individual. Its aim is to develop well informed men and women, better able to meet the demands of living in today's changing world.

Home economics subject matter includes family economics, home management, clothing, textiles, nutrition, foods, housing, home furnishings, house hold equipment, child development, and family relations.

To study home economics means a great deal more than learning how to make a smooth cream sauce or how to make an apron, though food preparation and sewing are two important parts of a homemaker's training. To study home economics means to study every aspect of family living from the efficient use of the family income to the relation of the family to the community.

MANY CAREERS
A girl with a college degree in home economics can choose among scores of satisfying positions in teaching, extension work, radio, television, business, writing for newspapers and magazines, dietetics, research, and homemaking. A homemaker trained in home economics finds that her education serves her equally well in her home as in her profession. And going back to a full time job after the children are in school is easy for the home economist because her preparation doesn't grow stale in homemaking.

Over five hundred colleges now offer a four year course in home economics leading to a bachelor's degree. Anyone wishing further information about a career in home economics should contact the counselor in her local high school or the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service, 1280 West Blvd., in Pontiac.

Make Friday Meal of Spanish Rice Dish

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dinner can be ready in half an hour when it's a one-dish meal of Spanish rice with shrimp.

Drain and measure the liquid from one 6-ounce can of peas, reserving the peas. Add 1 cup of dry white wine and enough water to make 2 1/2 cups of liquid. Bring to boil in saucepan and add 1 pound of shelled, deveined raw shrimp. Bring to a simmer, cook 5 minutes or until the shrimp are done (overcooking toughens them).

Add one 6-ounce can of stewed tomatoes and drained peas. Bring to a boil, remove from heat and add one 6-ounce package of Spanish rice mix. Stir to mix thoroughly, cover and let set for 20 minutes. Serves 4 to 6.

Tasty Meat Roll Can Be Budget Stretcher

One pound of beef to serve a company dinner for six sounds like a fantasy. But a filled, rolled meat loaf recipe does just that. It provides an economical entrée with a festive air. It is aptly named Penny Saver Meat Roll.

The easy-to-make roll combines one pound of ground round beef and a tasty mushroom sauce made with economical instant non-fat dry milk. For adding extra protein at lowered cost, non-fat dry milk is without equal.

It is made from fresh whole milk. Only water and butterfat are removed from it. The important proteins, minerals and B complex vitamins remain. Its use is making the Penny Saver Meat Roll therefore adds proteins provides so necessary to daily diets. Calories are concentrated too when non-fat dry milk is used.

Serve the meat roll with a tasty mushroom sauce made from non-fat dry milk. Round out the menu with tender baby carrots, pea filled mushrooms caps and a crisp salad. Instant coffee made in a pot and served with a simple dessert like fresh fruit, completes a company dinner which is nutritious, savory and penny saving.

Penny Saver-Meat Roll
1 pound ground round beef
1/2 cup instant dry milk
1 egg, slightly beaten
1/2 cup finely chopped onion
1/4 cup grated parmesan
1 tablespoon finely chopped parsley

1 teaspoon salt
Dash of freshly ground pepper
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1/2 cup liquid nonfat milk
Combine meat and dry milk. Blend until milk powder is no longer visible. Mix in egg, vegetables and seasonings. Place meat mixture on a large piece of wax paper. Flatten and form into rectangle 8 1/2 x 3 1/2 inches.

Mix together the bread stuffing, 2 eggs and liquid Starline. Spread stuffing evenly over meat. Gently roll meat and stuff together jelly-roll fashion. Place in a large buttered baking dish. Cover.

Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 30 minutes; remove cover and continue to bake for 30 minutes. Remove from oven. Slice meat roll. Serve with Mushroom Sauce.

Mushroom Sauce
2 cups liquid nonfat milk
2 beef bouillon cubes
1 tablespoon flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup sliced fresh mushrooms (one 4 oz. can mushrooms, drained, may be substituted for fresh mushrooms and butter)

3 tablespoons butter (with fresh mushrooms, use 1/2 cup butter)
Pour nonfat milk into top of double boiler; add bouillon cubes. Cook over hot water until bouillon cubes have melted. Sprinkle flour and seasonings over surface of milk; beat with rotary beater until blended. Continue cooking, stirring constantly, until mixture has thickened.

Saute mushrooms in butter until slightly browned. Add to sauce. Serve hot over Meat Roll slices.

Grill Freshly Caught Fish, Serve With Butter Sauce

Freshly caught fish need little flattery with garnishes, but this buttery-good sauce makes a whole of a complementary touch. For 3-4 servings: blend 1/2 cup (1 stick) softened butter with 2 tablespoons instant minced onion, 1 tablespoon prepared mustard, 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg and 1/4 teaspoon garlic salt. Spread generously over 1 to 1 1/2 pounds of broiled fish.

Wrap individual servings in heavy duty aluminum foil, sealing edges tightly. Place on grill over hot coals for 10-15 minutes. Open foil packages and brush melted butter onto frankfurter buns. Toast quickly on grill. Serve fish inside buttered toasted buns.

Never freeze broiler chickens in the frozen food compartment of a refrigerator. The compartment reaches only about 15 or 20 degrees — not cold enough to quickly freeze the broilers.

Stalls Committee Move on IDA Membership

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt.) has forced another postponement in committee action on legislation to authorize United States membership in the proposed International Development Assn.

At his request, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee put off further consideration of IDA for another two weeks.

Modern Ireland has a population of about three million.

It Makes a Difference

BURLINGTON, Vt. (UPI)—Lt. Gov. Robert S. Babcock declined an invitation to attend the 125th anniversary of Vermont's independence, pleading "Vermont part-time money and thrift." But he accepted when town officials said they would pay his way.

Negro Catholics Increasing Fast

Percentage Was Low Decade Ago but Now There Are 620,000

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A generation ago, Protestantism had a virtually unchallenged claim on the religious allegiance of America's Negroes. A Negro Catholic was a rarity.

A recent nationwide survey showed that the number of Negro Catholics has increased about 45 per cent in the past decade—from 280,000 in 1950 to 620,000 this year.

The survey was made by the Commission for Catholic Missions among Colored People and Indians, headed by Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York.

The commission reported that the Catholic apostolate among Negroes is being "conducted with zeal" and is continuing to "yield fruits that are impressive."

During the past 10 years, it said, nearly 100 new Catholic missions and 40 new Catholic schools have been established in predominantly Negro communities, mostly in the South.

Of the 240,000 Negroes added to Catholic rolls since 1950, 100,000 were converts. The rest were children of Catholic parents.

Despite the Catholic gains of recent years, the overwhelming majority of America's 17,500,000 Negroes still are Protestants.

The largest number belong to Baptist or Methodist churches. There also is a substantial and growing number of Negro Episcopalians.

A relatively small number of American Negroes — mainly in New York, Detroit and Philadelphia — have embraced the Moslem faith.

One factor in the growing appeal which the Catholic Church appears to have for Negroes may be the outpouring of aid it has taken against segregation.

If You Have Weak Nails, Drink Gelatin
(NEA) — Whether you file your nails at home or have a professional manicure, make very sure that they are not filed straight down at the sides. Rather, they should be filed at a gentle slope at either side. If the nail is not to be weakened.

Most beauty salons use an emery board and so should you. A nail file is good for emergencies only.

In applying nail polish, use a nail base and two coats of polish. If you want your manicure to last a full week, and allow plenty of time for polish to dry whether you are in a salon or at home.

For strong, beautiful nails, drink two envelopes of gelatin in water or orange juice each day. Splitting, peeling and breaking are always sure signs of weak nails. When this happens, it's time for the gelatin treatment. It's also time for a check on your rest, diet and water intake.

Complete with kilig lights, mobile TV and red carpet, the event is expected to provide one of the most glamorous social evenings of the year for localites.

Prospect of the "black tie" affair which is set for 8:30 will benefit the Building Fund of Camp Oakland.

Star Eddie Hodges, who plays Huck, will be on-hand with his family, Mr. and Mrs. John Hodges of Long Island and his teenage sister, Diane. In addition to lending color to the preview, they will be dinner guests of the children of Camp Oakland on Monday evening.

Mrs. Ben D. Mills of Bloomfield Hills is chairman of the festivities. Assisting her are Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Leo Beaudette, Harold L. Ward, Dr. and Mrs. Clifford T. Edmund, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Young, Mr. and Mrs. Mac T. Whitfield, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Whitfield, the Harold Eulers and the Basil E. Browns.

thur E. Moore, Mrs. Russell W. Nowels, Mrs. Gehlke, Mrs. Schmidt, Mrs. Chambers, Mrs. St. Clair and Mrs. Shenfield.

Camp Oakland which is located on the old 330 acre Later estate near Oxford provides a home for the neglected children of Oakland County. The children come from broken homes and are assigned to the camp through probate court.

In addition to supervising the camp's operation, the court is the link for financial support from the county. This combined with the support of private donors makes Camp Oakland unique in the country among organizations of its kind.

There are four units to the camp: a farm home for boys which is called 'Boys' Ranch'; its counterpart for girls, 'Girls' Ranch'; a summer camp; and a winter work-educational camp for older boys.

A fellow finds he can solve a lot of problems at the right end of a fishing pole. Camp Oakland provides the pole and the setting for these Boys

Nothing Wrong—Abby

Is There Really a Scandal or Did Your Mind Create It?

By ANIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I know a man, about 50 and a woman, 50, who have gone together for 10 years.

Neither has married. He always told her he could not marry her because his mother didn't approve. His mother has been dead three years and the situation is still the same.

That man practically lives at her apartment. He picks her up every evening after work and they go marketing together. Then she fixes him supper in her apartment and they watch TV together.

He bought her a dog and they call it her "baby." She sees as much of him as I see of my husband—only he, goes home nights. Don't you think someone should step in and put a stop to this scandalous way of living?

JUST ASKING
DEAR ASKING: What's so scandalous about it?

DEAR ABBY: I am a 19-year-old girl with a problem. I know that girls are not supposed to "catch" boys, if we don't run after them; how are we supposed to catch them?

DEAR JAN: Girls are not supposed to "catch" boys. Nothing makes a boy run faster than being chased. When you see a boy you like, ignore him. He'll soon wonder what's wrong with him and he'll start chasing you just to prove to himself that he can catch you. Then—you've "caught" him.

DEAR ABBY: I say when a married couple goes out (in a car) with another married couple, each wife should sit with her own husband.

My co-worker says this is definitely MIDDLE-CLASS. She says it is HIGH-CLASS for the wife of one couple to sit with the husband of the other. Also, she says if two women sit together in the front seat, that is LOW-CLASS. Is there anything to what she says, or am I correct?

DEAR J.F.: When two married couples go out together, it is always correct for the husband to sit with his own wife. It is never correct for a man to sit with his friend's wife. In cases where the wives are very friendly and the husbands a great deal in common, it is permissible for the wives to sit in the back and the husbands in the front.

CONFIDENTIAL TO D. S.: Your friend is right. If you have an 1856 penny with the "flying eagle," it is worth between $40 and $120 to a collector of rare coins.

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's pamphlet, "What Teen-agers Want To Know," send 25c and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope in care of this paper.

Times Change

NEW YORK (UPI)—Pewter is precious material to many collectors today. But at one time the metal was used widely for pipes, sinks, clatters and for other plumbing, report antique experts.

Pretty residents of Girls' Ranch, Camp Oakland, pause to "pretty up" in anticipation of Tuesday's movie premiere. It would be gilding the lily girls!

Meg's Big Moment Tomorrow

Much to Do on Royal Wedding Day

Editor's Note: The last few hours before the start of the royal wedding are the most hectic for any bride. In this special preview, we'll tell you what to expect and how to prepare for the big day.

By MARGARET GAVILLE
LONDON (UPI)—At about 7 tomorrow morning, Princess Margaret's wedding day, a gray-haired little Scotsman will slip quietly into the Princess's pink-walled bedroom at Clarence House, cross the room and pull back the heavy silk curtains to let in the morning light.

"Baby"—Mrs. Robina Gordon, wife of a Buckingham Palace footman—has been Princess Margaret's personal maid since the Princess was an infant, and in later years her confidante and loyal friend. There will be no killing about in bed on this morning even though Ruby's entrance is an hour earlier than usual. So the tray with a pot of tea and a plain biscuit will be brought immediately to the bedside table. A few quick sips and a nibble and the Princess will be hustled to her bath.

In just four hours the Princess will set forth in the royal glass coach for Westminster Abbey, so she'll have no time to waste. After the bath and preliminary makeup, the Princess will don a dressing gown and go down to the next floor for breakfast with the Queen Mother as she has always done on special occasions. By this time a waiting of bagpipes will be coming up from the garden as a piper marches back and forth along the gravel path below the bedroom window.

While the Princess and her mother are breakfasting, it will be about time for the arrival of Margaret's hair-dresser, French-born Rene Moulard. He has created a special wedding coiffure, to best set off the glittering tiara the bride will wear, and to carry the veil.

When the coiffure is complete it will be time for makeup. Special care will be taken to provide makeup that will stand the closest scrutiny both in and out of doors. The Princess always makes up her face herself, with Ruby's help.

WEDDING DRESS
Then it will be time for the wedding dress from Norman Hartnell, the designer. Arriving to help the Princess at this crucial point will be Hartnell's chief fitters, Madame Isabel and Madame Emmeline.

Once the dress is on, Hartnell himself will be on hand to give the bride a final inspection. When he is satisfied that it is sitting just right, the next thing will be the jewelry and, finally, the tiara and the veil. Now, in all likelihood, the Queen Mother will give the Princess a last inspection. She herself will be dressed and must leave within a few moments for Buckingham Palace, from where she will ride to the abbey with her elder daughter, Queen Elizabeth.

There will be gay words of admiration, smiles and encouragement from the Queen Mother. She always acts thus in moments of tension and she is a master at soothing her highly strung daughter.

During this time things will have been stirring, too, over in Buckingham Palace. Bridegroom Anthony Armstrong-Jones will have breakfasted with his best man, Dr. Roger Gilliat. His morning moves no complicated dressing; his slim, slight frame presents no fitting problems.

BRIDESMAIDS
Elsewhere in the palace eight little girls, Princess Anne and the seven other bridesmaids, will have gathered at about 9 to don their dresses, also designed by Hartnell. There'll be flowered tiaras for each of them.

The Queen will be dressed and ready when her mother arrives. They must be in their coach for an 11:03 departure for the abbey. Prince Philip, the Queen's husband and the man who will escort the bride, will have left 15 minutes earlier for Clarence House. The bridesmaids will have gone in their own two cars some 10 minutes before.

A moment after the bridesmaids have ridden out of the palace, a single car will follow, carrying the groom and best man. This will be driven to the dean's yard of the abbey, from there, Armstrong-Jones and Gilliat will go to St. Faith's Chapel where they will wait until it is time to enter the abbey and stand at the sanctuary steps until the bride enters from the west door.

Back at Clarence House, Prince Philip and his private secretary, James Orr, arrive at 10:50. A few moments later the bride will descend by elevator from her second-floor suite. With her will be her ladies in waiting, Jan, Iris Peake and Lady Elizabeth Cavendish.

The bride and her attendants will sweep in their finery into the drawing room for the admiring inspection of Prince Philip. Then the bridal bouquet will be brought in.

All the hurried, worried preparations of the morning behind her, Princess Margaret now will be ready to start for the altar.

Outside the window there will come the clatter of horses' hooves, drawing the glass coach with its escort of household cavalry. Prince Philip will extend his arm and the bride will enter her shining coach for the most memorable journey of her life.

Be Tactful

of Money

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: The father of one of our office workers has just died. We know the family could use money and someone suggested taking up a collection and instead of sending flowers to send the money either to her or to her mother, who is a stranger.

Would money be permissible and to whom should we send it?

Answer: The giving of money is a rather delicate question. But under these circumstances, I would suggest that you take the contribution to the daughter and say that the sum was intended for flowers or any other purpose that she might prefer.

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband would like to ask a certain couple who were very nice to him while I was away to our house some evening to play bridge. I have never met them but my husband wants me to call and invite them.

I think, under the circumstances, it would be better for him to call and ask them to come over. But he says it is my place to do the inviting. If it is my place, how do I go about inviting a stranger to my house?

Answer: You should telephone the wife and say, "John has spoken so warmly of you that I want very much to meet you. Will you and your husband come to dinner next Thursday and play bridge afterwards?"

Teeners All For Ike's Journey to Russia

By EUGENE GILBERT

Whether it's for peace-making or sightseeing, American teenagers think it's a good idea for President Eisenhower to visit the Soviet Union.

Not long ago we found that our young people would like to see Russia themselves. So this time we polled 539 teeners to find out whether they approve of the coming presidential journey behind the Iron Curtain.

An overwhelming majority—91 per cent—do favor the trip. The boys (87 per cent) are considerably more optimistic than the girls (93 per cent) in believing something worthwhile will come out of face-to-face meetings between Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Only one out of 10 boys—compared with one out of four girls—feels the trip will be in vain.

Explaining why he favors the visit, Jim Schabel, 17, of San Antonio, Tex., says, "I think it will help bring an end to the Cold War."

This appears to be the view of many—that the visit will aid the cause of peace and international cooperation.

"The best way to destroy enemies is to make them friends," says Douglas Bruce Hostawser, 17, of South Bend, Ind. "And one doesn't make friends sitting at home."

But Gladys Allen, 18, of Jackson, Miss., opposes the visit, saying, "It will not help the situation because the Soviet Union will never be at peace with anyone."

As to just what is likely to come out of the trip, most of the teeners we questioned think there will be a general improvement in relations between the two nations.

Others spoke of disarmament and cultural exchange.

Kessaly Ann Good, 16, of Knoxville, Tenn., says, "Tension will relax to a certain extent because the people of Russia will see Americans more as a nation of people and personalities than as a myth of power."

Steffi Braunwell, 16, of Jamaica, N.Y., thinks "possibly the ridiculous competition for space will end."

Alan Rockaway, 17, of Miami Beach, Fla., adds, "We can see by the Russians' good will toward Ike how peace-loving the people are, and learn how we should receive USSR guests in the future."

More than a fifth of the teeners feel the President will be in danger while he is in Russia.

"There is always the little man who wants to make himself known by perhaps assassinating someone famous or powerful," notes Vera M. Qihart, of Faid, Okla.

However, most teeners agree with Judy Bundy, 17, of Louisville, who says, "It would be too risky where world relations are concerned for the Russians to harm Eisenhower."

We found a definite difference of opinion between boys and girls when we asked: do you think the President will be given fair press coverage and a chance to speak to the Russian people?

Fifty-two per cent of the boys said yes and 33 per cent said no. The girls were more pessimistic, with 53 per cent saying no and only 35 per cent saying yes.

We asked about the make-up of the President's traveling party and got this response: Mamie should go. Ike's grandchildren shouldn't.

Sixty-nine per cent of the teeners feel it isn't necessary for the President's grandchildren to go along. But 86 per cent say Mrs. Eisenhower should accompany her husband.

Opinions were fairly evenly divided on whether the trip should be bipartisan. Speaking for having Democrats in the party, Frederick M. Hill, 17, of St. Paul, says, "It will show that we are united, even though we have two parties."

But 49 per cent of the teeners do not believe such a gesture is needed. Their viewpoint was expressed by Jim Schabel of San Antonio, who says:

"I think the President should represent the United States and not the Republican Party."

Smeared Glasses Never an Asset

(NEA) — In this time of attractive eyeglasses, it's surprising how many women fail to keep them clean. Smeary-looking glasses were never an aid in making a beauty of any woman. Your glasses should be polished clean with a slightly damp cloth each morning. Don't neglect the temple pieces and the bridge, either. These are the spots where powder and rouge collect, adding their bit to the film.

Don't Cheat Now, No Knee Bending

One of the simplest of all exercises is the toe-touching one. And one of the most beneficial. What does it do? Keeps the leg muscles limbered up, the stomach flat and you looking lithe.

But you can't do it with bent knees. Keep the legs straight and do the exercise for twenty-five counts each morning.

Fall Out Fears

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Young women whose hair suddenly begins to fall out shouldn't worry about becoming bald, report Drs. William B. Guy and Walter

F. Edmundson of Pittsburgh. The doctors call the malady "diffuse cyclic hair loss." When it happens, they reported in the Archives of Dermatology, a significant part of hairs enter the resting phase simultaneously.

Out-of-Doors Calling! but Finish Job First

By RUTH MILLET

It's hard to stick at an indoor job, like sitting at a desk writing a column, on a day when the sky is blue and cloudless, the air is fragrant with spring, and birds are sitting in the highest tree branches singing their heads off. The out-of-doors calls so persuasively that you keep getting up and going to the window to watch the birds taking a "break" at the bird feeder—the cardinals eating at the table and the trim doves feeding on the ground, content with whatever the other birds scatter for them to scratch for.

It reminds you of how your mind used to wander when you were a kid in grade school and spring outside made sitting at a desk seem almost unbearable.

You sat in your seat but stared out the window, with your mind on skipping rope, and "playing out" at dusk with all the kids in the neighborhood.

Run, sheep, run and hide-and-go-seek were always spring favorites in those days and bedtime always came too early.

Then you sat at a desk and thought about getting out-of-doors to play. Now you keep thinking of all the things you could be doing in the yard, watering the frail little plants set out yesterday, clipping unruly shrubs, cutting branches from a flowering shrub to bring into the house.

So you promise yourself that as soon as you finish your column—and not before—you'll go out and see if the red bud in the back yard is as pretty as it was yesterday, if any juncos have opened during the night, if there is enough water in the bird bath.

Mascara Tricks

Eyes Federal Help for Downtown Renewal

Farmington to Ask U.S. Aid

FARMINGTON—Federal Government through the urban renewal program.

The City Council has retained a planning firm to make a study of the downtown needs as a preliminary step toward seeking federal aid.

The survey, expected to begin immediately, will be made by Geer and Associates Planning Consultants, Inc., of Bloomfield Hills. NOT OVER $2,500.

Cost of the survey is not to exceed $2,500, the council stipulated.

The planning firm is expected to come up with a workable program and survey, necessary in preparing a planning application for an urban renewal project.

The federal government's urban renewal program is designed to help communities with rundown areas, with substandard housing and other buildings make necessary improvements.

Should the city's request for aid be approved, the federal government would pay two-thirds of the cost. The city would pay the rest.

Communities throughout the country have found it possible to make improvements through the program in recent years.

One city that has received urban renewal assistance, Wayne in Wayne County is being studied closely by the Farmington Council and its planners.

Because of the Federal assistance, Wayne has been able to complete a $5 million improvement project recently, and is seeking further aid for another redevelopment project.

Several community projects undertaken by Farmington recently or that are going to undertake may reduce the city's cost for any urban renewal project approved by the government.

The City Council hopes that a portion of the money allocated for off-street parking, water lines and other improvements might be applied as part of the city's one-third cost in a renewal project.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT — Grandpa Vanderhof, played by Dave Keena, left, interrupts a love scene in the Avon Players' forthcoming production of "You Can't Take It With You." Sherri Everett of Pontiac is cast in the role of Alice, and her fiancé is portrayed by Tom Lusk of Rochester. The play will be presented May 12, 13 and 14 at Rochester Junior High School.

Bid on Schools in Lake Orion

Avon Players Set Stage Production

Board Ponders Figures for Carpenter, Webber Addition Contracts

LAKE ORION—Bids for construction of additions to Carpenter and Webber schools were opened by the Lake Orion Board of Education last night.

They were taken under advisement with awarding of contracts slated May 13.

In the meantime, the State Municipal Finance Commission approved the local district's borrowing of $147,350 in tax anticipation notes for capital improvements.

Voters in the Lake Orion district approved an extra millage program March 21.

The money raised was earmarked for school operation and an improved salary schedule for teachers, plus construction and expansion of present school facilities.

Officials plan to add five classrooms and a multipurpose room at Carpenter School in need present and anticipated growth in Judah Lake Estates.

The other building project will be the addition of four rooms at Webber School.

This will enable the superintendent to remove the fifth grade from the junior high, thereby leaving more space there for the upper grades.

Over $200,000 is earmarked for the construction program, School Supt. A. Reed said today.

ROCHESTER — Income tax doesn't bother the leading character in the Avon Players' forthcoming production — he just refuses to pay it.

Grandpa Vanderhof reasons, "You Can't Take It With You." That's the title of the zany comedy coming to the stage of Rochester Junior High School for three performances beginning May 12.

Grandpa, played by Dave Keena, Players president, is one of a string of "used" characters written into the play by its co-authors, George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart.

In charge of this spring production are Jim Coyle and Mary Chapman, as director and assistant. Rosemary Jackson is the producer.

A large cast from the ranks of the community theater group will be playing some of the most unpredictable characters ever seen on a stage, including Bonnie Stratton, Stewart Wolff and Beth Lucas.

Paul will be played by Don Weston, and Jim Sharp will portray the part of Ed, a witless printer of propaganda when he isn't playing the xylophone.

Sherri Everett will play Alice, and cast as her personable fiancé is Tom Lusk. Other important roles will be taken by Joy and Joe Ferro, Dorothy Notheller, Lou DeShantz, Mary Peterson, Jay Shustary and Jim Jackson.

"You Can't Take It With You" played 87 performances on Broadway, won the Pulitzer Prize and later was given an Academy Award as a motion picture.

Tickets for the three performances of the play are on sale at Purdy's Drug Store. They also will be available at the door all three nights.

VFW, Auxiliary Make Carnations for Hospital

WALLED LAKE—Members of L. A. Sims VFW Post 382 and its auxiliary are making 400 paper carnations as table favors for the Ann Arbor Veterans Hospital for Mother's Day May 8. Included with the flowers will be a gift ball-point pen for each veteran at the hospital.

Tuesday at the regular business meeting, Mrs. Alice Roche, department president for the VFW auxiliary locally, will be present to give the new officers their charges.

There also will be an election of a Fifth District delegate and a trustee.

The Oakland County banquet for past commander and presidents will be held Saturday at 8 p.m. in the post home at Walled Lake.

W. Bloomfield Twp. UF Chairmen Named

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Chairmen of three West Bloomfield United Fund committees have recently been appointed.

4 Education Seats at Stake in Clarkston

CLARKSTON — Two additional seats on the Board of Education here will be filled at the annual school election June 13.

Also up for re-election at this time will be Ronald Weber and R. E. Spohn. Both have indicated they will seek a return to office.

Weber has served as treasurer of the school board for the past 12 years. Spohn is completing his ninth year as trustee.

Candidates for the four seats have until May 24 to file petitions at the Board of Education office on Walton road. The forums are available now at the office.

Recent state legislation compels all fourth class school districts to increase the number of school board members from five to seven.

The two new terms are for four years. The other two open at this time are for three years.

Church Women at Troy Luncheon Party

TROY — The Women's Assn. of the First Presbyterian Church of Troy is sponsoring a luncheon card party at 11 a.m. Tuesday in the social hall of the church, 4230 Livernois Rd.

Immediately following the luncheon, guests at each table may play whatever card game they choose. Prizes will be given.

Clarkston CES Plans Smorgasbord Friday

CLARKSTON — Members of the Joseph C. Bird Chapter Order of the Eastern Star, will hold a public smorgasbord at the Clarkston Masonic Temple from 5 to 7:30 p.m. Friday.

The group also will sponsor a dance at the Clarkston Community Building May 21, according to Harold Fitch, associate patron.

Mrs. W. R. McKee has been elected to receive the degrees of the order to be conferred at a special meeting of the chapter May 16.

Relax. Have fun. Enjoy your vacation or week-end and just water the plants and feed the house! How? It's easy. Have our bonded and fully insured private police keep a specially trained eye on it. We'll keep a constant check on doors and windows and pick up the papers that usually collect on the front porch—the first signal that no one is home. And if you wish, leave us a key and we'll water the plants and feed the bird. Costly service? Not at all! Give us a call and see how easy it is to have competent, secure property protection day or night. Phone MI 7-1777, P. O. Box 497, Pontiac, Michigan.

St. Basil Open House Sunday

Will Dedicate Novitiate

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — The new home of St. Basil's Novitiate, a striking example of modern religious architecture, will be open to the public Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m.

Located on the crest of a hill at Giddings and Lake Angelus roads, the new three-winged structure overlooks the City of Pontiac, six miles away.

The site was chosen by the Basilian Fathers and their architect, Charles D. Hamann, AIA, of Farmington, because it is one of the highest points in Oakland County.

It also was found to be ideal in location, beauty and suitability for the spiritual life and physical health of the novices studying to be Basilian fathers.

OFFERS SOLITUDE
Moved from Rochester, N. Y., the new novitiate offers the solitude and freedom from distraction so essential in all stages of religious formation, according to the Rev. Fr. Francis J. Grescovick, superior and master of novices.

The Catholic Church prescribes that a candidate for religious life spend at least one year in a novitiate before professing his vows of chastity, poverty and obedience.

Jaycees to Hold Charter Night

Ortonville Area Body, Organized Last Month, Will Banquet Saturday

ORTONVILLE — The newly organized Ortonville Area Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold its Charter Night banquet Saturday at 7 p.m. at Brandon High School.

The group was organized a month ago, and officers were elected a short time later. Holly was the extending chapter.

First president is Kenneth Jensen. Serving with him are Richard Wilcox, first vice president; Bob Fickel, second vice president; Louis Williams, secretary; and Richard Maple, treasurer.

Named to the Board of Directors were Don Carter, James Ware and Larry Q. Wood.

Like other Jaycees, the Ortonville young men are interested in civic improvement and local community betterment projects.

Fred Werner of Sandusky, state president of the Jaycees, will be the principal Charter Night speaker.

Other dignitaries to be present include M. L. Benton of Owosso, who will present the national charter; International director Al Nemeth of Grosse Ile, who will present the international charter; and Robert McKee of Kalamazoo, who will give the club's membership scroll.

Master of ceremonies will be Brandon Schools Supt. Burt A. Glendening.

Construction of the building started in June 1958, and was completed a year later. The residence wing has private rooms for 40 novices and six priests, plus a small gymnasium. There are 27 young men living there now.

Focal point of the Y-shaped structure is the chapel unit, which is centrally located. It contains the library, classrooms for student use and parlors for visitors.

Newlyweds Head South After Rochester Rites

MRS. MERLE L. WHITTAKER

ROCHESTER — Newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Merle L. Whittaker are honeymooning in Kentucky and Tennessee following their wedding in St. Paul Methodist Church here.

The bride is the former Alta Faye Barker of 450 Lehigh St. and the daughter of Kean Barker of Jackson, Ky., and the late Mrs. Barker. The bridegroom's parents are Mrs. Harvey C. Dumas, 2100 Rose Center, Holly; and Lloyd Whittaker of Hartline road, Avon Township.

For her wedding the bride wore a waist-length gown of white chantilly lace over satin. Her waist-length veil was secured by a pearl crown, and she wore a string of pearls given to her by the bridegroom.

Attending the bride were Mrs. Charles James of Rochester and Pat Kaminski of Troy.

The bridegroom's brother, Milton of Holly, served as best man. Ushers were Ron Wilcox of Troy and Robert Howell and Carl Barker, both of Pontiac.

TONI RAE HAMMER

A May 27 wedding is planned by Toni Rae Hammer and Richard A. Tewa. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland A. Hammer of 1132 Lakeview St., Walled Lake. Her fiancé's parents are Dr. and Mrs. Albert Tewa of 806 Clinton River Rd., Utica.

Buffalo, N. Y., was built under the name of New Amsterdam. It was destroyed by the British in the War of 1812. It was rebuilt with the name of Buffalo.

Locate 7 Believed Heirs of Ex-Lapeer Resident

News stories from Washington, D.C., have resulted in the location of seven persons believed to be cousins of an 80-year-old woman who died there 10 days ago leaving an estate valued at $121,000. One is from Lapeer.

The body of Mrs. Blanch E. Bowers, who was born in Lapeer, had lain unclaimed in a morgue since her death in a modest Washington hotel.

George J. Charles, attorney for the hotel, told police that Mrs. Bowers was a retired government worker and that records listed a "Mrs. Burdick" of Flint as a cousin.

Police were unable to locate Mrs. Burdick.

The story ran in area newspapers and several readers called to report they believed Mrs. Burdick was Mrs. Lela Belle Burdick who died at Flint April 2, 1947, at the age of 72.

She was remembered for having willed tenants of 10 Flint homes the houses in which they lived.

She also left Flint Junior College $50,000 for scholarships in a trust fund, but left nothing to her cousins, her only survivors.

Seven of these cousins, who may be heirs to Mrs. Bowers' estate, are reported still living. One of these is believed to be Mrs. Beattie Howland of Sunrest Convalescent Home at Lapeer.

Students Stage Popular Comedy

WALLED LAKE — Members of the Clifford Smart Junior High School's dramatic club will stage "Life With Father" Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m. at the school.

The cast headed by Dick Strait as father, Susan Gervais as mother, David Eicher, Scott Galbraith, Ricky Helms and Phillip Jackson portray the sons.

Proceeds from the play will be used to pay for the permanent stage lighting recently installed at the school. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Lake Superior has an area of 31,820 square miles and it is believed to be the largest body of fresh water to be found anywhere.

Leland Hayward Wed to Pamela Churchill

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — Broadway producer Leland Hayward and Pamela Churchill, former daughter-in-law of Sir Winston Churchill, are honeymooning today following their wedding here.

more performed by Chief Justice Frank McNamee of the State Supreme Court.

The wedding was in Justice McNamee's chambers, just a few hours after the 37-year-old Hayward was divorced in Las Vegas by Nancy Gross Hayward, his wife of 11 years.

The bride is the ex-wife of Randolph Churchill.

Desi 'a Jekyll-Hyde,' She Sobs

Lucy's Divorce Ends 3-Year Nightmare

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Lucille Ball, in tears, divorced Desi Arnaz Wednesday with testimony that he was a Jekyll and Hyde who made their marriage "a nightmare for the last three years."

The orange-haired comedy star of the "I Love Lucy" TV series for nine years appeared in a tragic scene in Santa Monica Superior Court.

From the moment she took the stand, her usual jaunty air vanished and she began gulping to hold back the tears. The couple had been married 20 years.

"My husband would frequently have fits of temper in front of everyone, including the children," Miss Ball testified.

HAPPENED EVERYWHERE

"It got to be so bad that I thought it would be better for us not to be together. Those tantrums would happen everywhere. They happened at home, they happened at work, it could be anything that set him off."

"It was a Jekyll and Hyde thing..."

"He would do it in front of friends and relatives. We could have no social life for the last three to four years."

Attorney Mickey Rudin asked if she tried to calm the Cuban band leader-turned-producer.

"Yes, many times," she said. "But there was no discussing anything with him. He doesn't discuss things very well."

Asked to be specific, she declared:

"One night the pipes burst in our house. He made himself sick for two days over it. He blamed everybody and everything."

They met when Desi was a bongo-beating Latin singer and Lucille a starlet. Their marriage survived war-years separation, but was marked by periodic fits.

She was a divorcee in 1944, saying arguments made her a "nervous wreck." But they made up and she never obtained her final decree.

The smashing success of "Lucy" seemed to bring peace to the match. The spats ceased, at least as far as the public knew. Their wealth grew. Desi became production boss.

Ultimately, they bought RKO studio and made it a TV production center, with Desi boss.

But arguments resumed and in recent months they were estranged. She filed her suit last March.

A bulky property settlement presented as evidence to Superior Judge Orlando H. Rhodes. The only specifics mentioned in testimony were $450 monthly payments for support of their children.

SISTER TESTIFIES

Her sister Mrs. Cleo Morgan took the stand to confirm Miss Ball's description of Arnaz' temper. She said:

"There were many times when such outbursts occurred. She was subject to completely irrational behavior. At such times everyone is blamed, the elements are blamed, things that are not tangible are blamed."

Lion Traded; 'For the Birds,' Says Loyal 'Fan'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Fed up with its hungry lions, San Francisco's zoo has traded one of them away—for a pair of blue macaws guaranteed to eat like birds.

"If there's anyone else who wants a lion, we'll be glad to trade. We have a surplus and they're eating up our budget," said Raymond Kimball, recreation and parks superintendent.

The macaws were offered by Arthur Flanders of San Jose, who said he'll give his lion to the San Jose Park. The birds are worth $100 a pair, about the price of a lion.

2 Big 'Is' Jog Synthetics' Promise

Work to Doom Periodic Auto Lubrication

MIDLAND (UPI) — Motorists may be able to avoid taking their cars to service stations periodically for lubrication if the auto and chemical industries are able to overcome two big problems.

Robert H. Hansen, head of the automotive chemical laboratories of Dow Chemical Co., told a group of automotive editors that synthetic lubricants hold that promise.

But Hansen quickly added that there were two big "ifs" connected with the promise.

First the cost of the synthetic lubricants, now about three times that of natural petroleum lubricants, must be reduced, Hansen said.

MUST SEAL SYSTEM

And second, the auto industry has to find some way of sealing a car's lubricating system from external contamination.

"The day will come when auto engines will rely on synthetic lubricants because they provide better lubrication over a wider temperature range, they don't form deposits and they won't lose their lubricating power," Hansen said.

"But I can't say how far away that day is."

And even when synthetic lubricants are used, they will have to be changed periodically, although not as often as natural petroleum lubricants, because no way has been found yet to keep dirt from filtering into the lubricating system.

Because these lubricants allow higher engine temperatures, they also permit the design engineer to use higher compression ratios which would allow a car to operate more efficiently, Hansen said.

Synthetic lubricants also hold a promise of development of a central hydraulic system which would operate all of the accessories on a car.

BOIL WATER TO COOL

Among other projects under development by Dow engineers was a cooling system for cars which operates by boiling water.

This system, called ebullient cooling, allows the engine heat to boil the water in the cooling system.

The boiling water turns to steam and rises to a radiator above the engine. Here the steam is condensed to water again and returned to the engine to cool it.

The system eliminates the water pump, the thermostat and the need for antifreezes.

Stephen V. T. Marshall, automotive coordinator for plastics technical service of Dow, said a new group of plastics will more than double the use of plastics in cars by 1965.

Marshall said cars now use about six pounds of plastic in each vehicle but that figure would climb to about 15 pounds per car by 1965.

ON NEXT BIG CHANGE

The big rise, he said, would 1989.

come when the automakers replace their next big model change.

Acrylics, celluloses and vinyl plastics, which now make up the bulk of automotive applications, will remain at about their present levels, Marshall said.

But the new group of plastics just coming out will replace automotive parts now made of zinc and aluminum die-castings, stamped sheet metal and composite parts.

The parts most likely to be made of plastic in the future include heater ducts, inner door panels, steering wheels and instrument panels, he said.

Car bodies made of plastic are not likely in the foreseeable future because plastics lack the rigidity of steel, Marshall said.

It would be much less expensive and more practical to use a steel body covered by a good coating of plastic paints to protect the steel against corrosion, he said.

ALTAR SOLACE — This is a glimpse of the latest in correctional institutions. The state of Ohio is just completing it at Lebanon. Costing 12 million dollars, it has such innovations as

C'mon, You Turkeys, Lay When They Say

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI) — Scientists are trying to convince turkeys they should lay their eggs the year around, not just in the spring.

As things now stand, turkeys do their mating and egg-laying in the spring, which means most turkeys grow up after hatching to reach marketing size in late summer or fall.

This is fine for the Thanksgiving rush. But farmers would like to have more turkeys for sale the year around and spread out the profits a little.

Scientists at the University of Minnesota have tackled the problem. They believe the amount of light that shines on a turkey may have something to do with its mating habits.

Experimenters R. H. Shoffner, Elton Johnson and R. E. Burger are experimenting with all sorts of light intensities and lengths of exposure to see what will happen.

Pictures of a man in the act of sneezing were used in the first successful demonstration of motion pictures at West Orange, N.J., in 1895.

Sea Otter Saved From Extinction

West Coast Group Now Counts 30,000; Other Colonies Reported

WASHINGTON—The sea otter, whose lustrous fur was prized by car and mandarin, is struggling back from a brush with extinction. The United States Fish and Wildlife Service reported recently that the sea otter population has increased to about 30,000 along the coasts of the Aleutian Islands, Alaska and California. Other colonies live off the Kurile and Pribilof Islands.

The sea otter's downfall began in 1792 when Russian adventurers started to explore and exploit the rich but forbidding waters around the Pribilof, the National Geographic Society says.

The first sea otter skins sent back to Russia set off a stampede by fur hunters. Sable, hitherto favored by czars and noblemen, was becoming scarce, and the velvety, soft, dense fur of the otter was a superior substitute.

Choice skins sold for as much as $1,500 each; one cargo of the pelts was valued at more than one million dollars.

The meek marine mammals were hunted relentlessly. In one year, more than 50,000 pelts were taken. The Russians moved southward to California in search of the dwindling otters.

The mission outposts shipped thousands of otter pelts to China, where mandarins valued the fur as trimming for their opulent robes.

The lure of the rich trade attracted ships of many nations to California in a frantic rivalry that involved mutinies and murders.

The remorseless hunting ended only when the otters had practically vanished. The survivors finally came under the protection of an

Continental, Class D
Loop Working Together

KINGS MOUNTAIN, N.C. (AP) — John Moss, president of the Class D Western Carolina League, announced Wednesday night that the Continental League had approved standard full working agreements between members of the two baseball circuits.

The plan is subject to final approval of Ford Frick, baseball commissioner. Moss said Frick previously had outlined an agreement setup similar to the one adopted and he expected the commissioner's okay would be forthcoming Thursday.

Justice Boys Stepping In Dallas of NFL May

Not Start Play in '60

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Lamar Hunt, a director of the American Football League, said Wednesday that the Justice Department may keep the Dallas Cowboys from playing football this season.

Hunt is owner of the Dallas Texans, rivals of the National Football League Cowboys. Both teams expect to start operations in Dallas this fall.

"I have been told that the anti-trust division of the Justice Department has recommended that the attorney general ask for an injunction which would have the effect of keeping the Cowboys from playing," said Hunt.

"I understand it is now up to the attorney general."

He told newsmen, "I don't know what will happen but I have heard that in 88 per cent of the cases where a suit is actually filed by the Justice Department, the defendants stop whatever they are doing immediately."

Hunt and some other AFL officials contend that the NFL granted a franchise to Dallas simply to put the AFL out of business.

AFL Commissioner Joe Foss said in March that the department is studying his charges that the NFL expansion into Dallas was done for the purpose of stopping competition from the new league.

Hunt also said that Atlanta is expected to obtain an AFL franchise for play in 1962. He said Edson Chadley, a Carrollton, Ga. auto dealer and the husband of movie actress Susan Hayward, has the Atlanta franchise.

Hunt added, "There is very little question we'll have a team in Chicago in the future. But that doesn't mean Chicago will necessarily be one of our next two cities. We haven't given anyone in Chicago a franchise."

In Chicago, President Bill Veeck of the Chicago White Sox said he has no intention of getting into the football business.

Veeck disclaimed any interest in the AFL. Veeck Tuesday was named as possible head of a Chicago franchise group.

"The only interest I might have in the new league," said Veeck, "would concern a tenant for Comiskey Park. We'd love to have a football team playing there as a source of revenue.

"As for owning a football franchise, I've got enough troubles of my own in baseball. I don't think you can operate two different businesses. You have to love one or the other."

Another Chicagoan reportedly interested in an AFL franchise, Tom King Jr., public relations executive, said his group has only discussed the possibility of joining the new league.

One Singles Change in ABC Tournament

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Eugene (Red) Elkins produced the only major standings change in the American Bowling Congress tournament — Wednesday, grabbing fourth place in the singles with a 714 series.

The slender San Mateo, Calif., bowling supply salesman opened the first game with a spare, strung nine strikes and then converted a six-pin spare for 276. He followed with 222 and 218. He won the 1954 ABC Masters title.

Elkins and the members of his Bel Mateo Masters team claimed second place in the team all-events division after the quiet piled up a 45-game aggregate of 9083.

Buddy Simon Signs of Cleveland continues to lead the prestige category, for which there are no cash prizes, on a $238 total.

The Acorn Room of Los Angeles led scoring in the open division Wednesday with 266, while Smith's Sports Shop, Battle Creek, Mich., paced booster action with 261.

The weekly standings released Wednesday by the Professional Golfers Assn. showed Palmer, who plays out of Ligonier, Pa., winning five of the tournaments and placing in the top five in nine others.

Dow Finsterwald of Topeka was second with $23,500 from nine events.

SPEARHEAD — Spearheading the PCI track team on its invasion of Arthur Hill's field at Saginaw, Friday, for the SVC championships, are the husky athletes above. From left they are Jerry Rush, unbeaten Mansfield and CMU indoor champion Bredeff (Bill) Pritchett, and Charley Brown. The three are rated the state's best prep shotputters. All are capable of 55 feet or better. They combined a year ago to set a U. of Detroit relay record. Chiefs defend their UD title on Saturday.

WINGS ON WATER — Harold Walker of Lake Sherwood gives his own designed outboard racer a trial run in preparation for Sunday's races at Columbia. The 12-foot mahogany boat can push 70 miles per hour. It weighs 130 pounds and has 40 horsepower. Walker built the boat at home and calls it "The Driftwood." His three daughters serve as the "pit crew" when he races.

Builder Debuts His Boat and Crew

Racer Put Afloat After Long Winter's Work

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

When racing champion, Harold Walker of Lake Sherwood enters competition at the opening stock outboard races at Columbia Sunday, he will be the envy of other racers on two counts.

Walker designed and built his own speedy little boat—and his three pretty daughters Sharron 13, Jeanie 17, and Pamela 15 will be their dad's "pit crew."

All winter long, Walker spent his spare time working on plans for a boat that would "hog the water" and ride on air. A 12-foot channel had to be installed down through the middle of the bottom of the boat to trap air, thereby eliminating the possibility of slipping in choppy waters.

According to Walker's wife Elaine, Harold has flip-flopped in every direction, sideways, backward, and end over end—and it looks as if the Sunday race will be in for plenty of stiff Walker family competition.

The 12-foot mahogany one-seater only weighs 130 pounds, and it has 40-horsepower motor can push up to 70 miles an hour, according to Walker who has made tests on the lake in front of his home at 4536 Driftwood drive.

Walker figures in construction there are 150 man hours, 2,000 brass screws, 5 pounds of glue and 3 cents of varnish with sandpaper in between, in his little craft.

During the seven years that the tiny Walker has been a member of the American Power-boat Association, he has averaged about ten races a season, and has collected more than 35 trophies. In 1957, he was the number two man of the entire nation in Class B stockboat racing (second highest).

As for his pretty daughters—they'll help unload the boat from the specially-made trailer, help set the engine, tote gasoline cans around, and be ready for any emergency.

During the race Sunday, Mrs. Walker will sit quietly on the river bank with her hands over her eyes, and when the last boat roars over the finish line, she will peek through her fingers and ask, "How did he do?"

Simplifies Installation

New Gadget Aids Inboards

The growing trend toward inboard power boats has been given a tremendous boost with the introduction of a revolutionary portable outdrive unit.

The new product, Seapower outdrive, simplifies the installation of inboard engines, either standard marine power plants or an automobile salvage job.

While Seapower provides the stability and added maneuverability of the traditional inboard boat, it retains the detachability and portability of the outboard.

Single Lever Control Made for Outboards

A new single-lever automatic remote control for outboard motors, combining throttle and gearshift, was described as comparable to the automatic transmission control of an automobile at its introduction today in New York City.

The device, the Whitney Automatic Control, permits the operator to go forward or reverse and accelerate or decelerate by movement of one lever.

The inventor and president of Lake Controls, C. W. Budde, compared it to an automobile gearshift lever since it permits the outboard skipper to keep one hand constantly on the wheel while securing a desired change in speed or direction. Eyes remain straight ahead and the single lever is immediately at hand.

The usual outboard remote control has two levers—one for throttle and one for gearshift.

Coast Guard Sets Boat Exam Program

Boaters Urged to Have Craft Safety Checked

Inspectors Will Issue Seal Upon Examination of Equipment

"The Coast Guard Auxiliary's 1960 courtesy motorboat examination program is now under way in the greater Pontiac area," announced August A. Behrens, Division Captain.

Through this program specially trained inspector-examiners will, on invitation by pleasure boat operators, examine their boats to see that they are properly equipped with the safety equipment required by Federal regulations and recommendations by the Auxiliary.

Boats that meet these requirements are issued a seal of safety, the Auxiliary Courtesy Examination Decal. Russell LeFevre, Division Inspection Officer, will supervise the program in this area.

Mr. LeFevre stated that boats displaying this decal will not normally be boarded by Coast Guard boarding parties, unless there is an apparent violation of law.

Mr. LeFevre further stated that inspection teams will be stationed at Marinas and boat launching ramps on weekends, effective this weekend, to conduct these examinations, which are free.

He urges that boat owners watch the boating section of this newspaper to learn where Auxiliaries will be stationed.

The examiner will advise of any deficiencies found during the examination, no record is retained, nor is any report made.

Fungus of Plant Life Causes Rot in Boats

The common expression "dry rot" is actually meaningless. Wood rot is actually a fungus, a simple form of plant life which sends hairlike strands into solid wood to feed on its cellulose.

Mercury outboard authorities point out that rot is caused by fungus, a simple form of plant life which sends hairlike strands into solid wood to feed on its cellulose.

Fungus plants reproduce by exulting spores — primitive seed — from their fruiting bodies, they include mushrooms, puffballs and the leathery growths on trees. There are countless numbers of them in the atmosphere and they settle everywhere. As with other seeds, they require moderate dampness and mild temperature to grow. Rot is inactive in cold weather; it does not take place in dry wood or in oxygenous waterlogged wood. It must have fresh water; salt water actually kills fungus plants.

Big boats often have rot problems because the many deck joints, thick timbers, cabin linings, compartments and bulkheads tend to leakage and slow drying. Outboard hulls are usually well ventilated, have few seams, and when soaked soon dry out. Repeated wetting followed by prompt drying will not cause rot. Rot is seldom found in outboards and when it appears, it is usually localized.

The bottom planking is about the last place to look for rot. Look for cracks, open seams, screw holes and similar openings in decks, windshields, cabin roofs, cockpit floors, and other places where rain and dew seep in and remain. Rot spreads fast with the grain, slowly across it.

There is no "magic cure" for rotted wood; it has been infected and must be removed. Most outboard parts are light and easily replaced; remove sound wood for several inches to each side of bad spots as insurance against reinfection.

To keep an outboard rot-free, see that topside joints are not open. With an oil can, squirt wood preservative.

YACHT AND MOTORBOAT INSURANCE

Even though a yacht or motorboat is as safe as it is humanly possible to make it, there are times when the unexpected happens. Boat insurance covers the possibility of loss or damage to the owner's boat or his legal liability for property damage, bodily injury and loss of life. These and other risks are covered when the owner of a pleasure craft purchases complete yacht and motorboat insurance.

Field of 14 Entered in Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Tompson, champion of California, and Bally Ache, best to come out of Florida, head a field of 14 three-year-old horses named today for Saturday's 8th running of the $125,000 added Kentucky Derby.

The only mild surprise as the names of the colts were dropped into the entry box was the failure of Calumet Farm, winner of seven of these runs for the roses, to name two horses.

Trainer Jimmy Jones said Hillsborough would be the lone bearer of the famous Calumet devil-red silks.

If all parade postward for the 4:30 p.m. EST start, the 1 1/4-mile trip around Churchill Downs will have a gross value of $160,200 with a net of $116,100 going to the winner.

It cost $250 to drop a horse's name in the entry box today. And it'll take another $1,250 to get him in the starting lineup. Horses can be scratched anytime until 45 minutes before post time.

Except for Tompkins and Bally Ache the only others given any kind of consideration were Venezuelan-born Isaac Blumberg's Sunny Bee Farm and Victoria Park, E. P. Taylor's flashy Canadian hope.

Rounding out the field for America's glimmer race, which will be broadcast and telecast by CBS from 4:15-4:45 p.m. EST, are Henriksen, Spring Broker, Bourbon Prince, Divine Comedy, Lurullah, Tony Graff, Yomolka, Currier Relief and Fighting Hodge.

Top Women Advance at Southern Amateur

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Words of advice often come from foreign sources, and a 19-year-old golfer had a warning for veteran Polly Riley to be on her guard today in the quarter-finals of the women's Southern Amateur tournament.

The advice concerned Mary Crawford of America, Ga., Miss Riley's opponent today. And the warning came from Barbara Fay White of Shreveport, La., who was Miss Crawford's second round victim.

Not judging from what has gone before, Miss Riley and defending champion Judy Eller of Old Hickory, Tenn., seem near the peak of their games.

He is a large, large executive hunter. His mission in life: To seek out super executives for the nation's top businesses.

At the moment, Howell and his eight associates have orders from U.S. companies to fill about 80 high-salaried positions.

OVER 30,000 APPLICANTS
But before rushing up to his sprawling Manhattan office, credentials and ambition in hand, he is advised that Howell already has more than 30,000 applications from qualified executives on file, that he sometimes screens as many as 1,000 men for one job, and that the qualifications in this higher echelon hunt are tough.

"Most companies insist on leadership ability in a man, no matter what job he's to fill," says Howell, "and all of them want, at the same time, a great personality."

"Honesty, integrity and a wide technical background in industry are assumed."

"Excellent health is another basic requirement—a man's got to be damn healthy to be an executive—and more and more, it's becoming important for a business leader to have a graduate school degree.

"Everybody's been to college these days, but a Ph.D. helps a man earn the respect of a man working under him. That's what degrees are for today... earning respect."

There are other, less tangible requirements. "Some companies," Howell says, "won't hire an executive with big teeth."

WORK A HOMBURG
"One of my long searches for a top executive failed because the man I found for a Midwest company was a homburg—the president of the company didn't like that."

"Another board of directors doesn't trust a man with a moustache."

The talent search for top management officials is big business. Eight years ago, when Howell took his first order (to find a top cost accountant) there were only five firms in the U.S. in this super-high wage employment service.

Now there are 55 in New York City alone. Howell is one of the two largest.

Like his competitors, he is employed by the company seeking a man, rather than by the man seeking a job.

His firm makes more than a million dollars in billings a year by charging 20 per cent of the biggest executive's first-year salary, plus $150 a day during the search.

On rare occasions, he finds "just the right man" within a few days; sometimes it takes more than a year; the average length of an executive-hunt is three months.

Since top flight executives must have proved themselves, Howell rarely considers men under 35, never takes on a job that will pay an executive less than $50,000.

A potential management official must have made at least $25,000 annually before he's 35, $18,000 before 40, $25,000 before 45.

"Otherwise," he says, "we probably can't place them."

In the high-bush quest for talent (an executive, of course, never wants his present employer to know he's looking), Howell not only screens the man thoroughly, he also pays particular heed to the woman behind him.

A man's wife can often be just as important a part of his "executive makeup" as his leadership ability, his record, his technical skill.

Howell's advice to would-be executives:

"It doesn't matter what job you take on, initially, if you're smart enough to move around in the job and learn every facet of the company you work for."

"If you work at a gas station, know all sides of the operation."

"Specialization is all very well, but if you specialize in a small area of big business, you're no good for management."

And management, a brilliant one, is where the big money is.

'Wise Old Owl' Is Quite Stupid

He Has Knowing Look but Small Brain and Is Hard to Teach

WASHINGTON — The not-so-wise owl is in a living example that intelligence is not necessarily the key to success.

Despite its knowing look, the creature has a notably small "bird" brain. Even in the feathered world, its perch is low on the IQ totem pole.

Biologists studying the behavior of owls agree that the slow life capacity to learn. Time and again they crash into the same objects while flying about the laboratory. If blocked from taking the easy way around a barrier, they lack initiative to try the other side.

Yet in coping with their natural environment, owls have achieved remarkable success, the National Geographic Society says.

COVER THE EARTH

More than 120 owl species are scattered over the world's continents and islands. Members of the order Strigiformes, they thrive in deserts and rain forests, in high mountain valleys and below sea level, in deep tropics and on the Arctic tundra.

An apparently dead owl, found frozen stiff on a Massachusetts road in 1950, was delivered to a wildlife sanctuary for mounting. Put in a freezer with smaller defunct birds, it was later discovered alive, bright eyed, and well nourished by the convenient food supply.

Owls range in size from the six-inch-tall Pygmy and Elf to the Eagle and Great Gray species that stand two or more feet and have a five-foot wingspread. Their diets — also significantly varied — include small mammals and birds, snakes, lizards, fish, worms, and insects.

Though certain species, such as the Short-eared and Hawk Owls, hunt by day, the outstanding characteristic of the bird is its nocturnal skill. No other winged predator of the dark is so efficient in taking prey.

The secret of the owl's success lies in its remarkable physical adaptations. Great staring eyes are sensitive to the faintest light on a moonless night. Set facing forward, like man's, they give binocular, three-dimensional vision seldom found among birds. Owls also have developed large, complex ears that pinpoint squeaks and footfalls of potential victims.

Together, eyes and ears enable the hunter to pounce with uncanny accuracy on a mouse running through a grassy field in darkness.

Uphold Verner Land Sale Order

Appeal 'Not Perfected'—Estate Has $230,000 Indebtedness

Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams today upheld the order of sale of the 78-acre Bloomfield Township James Verner estate to satisfy $230,000 in debts.

Judge Adams said an appeal of the February Probate Court order was "not perfected in accordance with the law."

It was not immediately known whether the appellant, Mrs. Shirley C. Verner, widow of the late James J. Verner III of the ginger ale fortune, would appeal the ruling to the State Supreme Court.

She could ask for a rehearing in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Forfeited Arthur E. Moore on Feb. 4 ordered the sale of the property at 787 W. Long Lake Rd. to the Humer Corp., a Detroit land developing company, for $274,467.

Sale of the heavily wooded, rolling land was recommended in court action initiated by the Hon. Rev. trust company, a family stock holding trust set up by the late James Verner Sr.

The company said there was an outstanding $124,000 mortgage and $230,000 accrued interest on it.

Besides, the company said in its suit, other claims against the estate included federal estate and state inheritance taxes.

The executor moved for the sale on the grounds that the property was the only tangible asset left in the estate.

About 55 million acres of U.S. farm land have been released for food crops because of the wide-spread shift to tractors instead of horses.

U.S. House OKs Renewal, Pushes Bill Toward Veto

WASHINGTON (AP) — House passage moved a 231 million dollar area redevelopment bill back to the Senate today and put it a step closer to an expected veto.

Its fate could become a major political issue in the presidential campaign.

Designed to give an economic lift to urban and rural areas depressed by chronic unemployment and loss of industry, the bill provides for 18 million dollars more than President Eisenhower had proposed. Its total is only slightly less than was provided in a similar bill vetoed by the President at two costly two years ago.

9 HOURS OF HAGGLING

The decisive House vote came after nine hours of argument and maneuvering during which the bill's opponents resorted to various maneuvers to block consideration. Less than three hours of the session was used for actual debate on the bill's merits.

The House passed the bill 201-184 over the opposition of most Republicans and Southern Democrats.

AREA SOLONS SPLIT

Voting for the measure were 178 Democrats and 23 Republicans. Against it were 85 Democrats and 115 Republicans.

(Rep. James O'Hara, D-Macon County, voted for the bill, and Rep. William Broomfield (R-Oakland County) against it.)

The final vote was far short of the two-thirds necessary to override a veto which GOP Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana hinted broadly would be forthcoming.

One of the bill's principal supporters, Rep. Wright Patman (D-Tex.), predicted that the Senate would accept the House version rather than run the risk of sending the measure to a conference committee.

His Latest 5-Year Plan

Nikita to Abolish Most Income Tax

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev today announced a program to abolish almost all income taxes in the Soviet Union by the end of 1965 and thus raise the take-home pay of Soviet workers by 74 billion rubles (7.4 billion dollars) a year.

The Soviet Premier told a joint session of the Supreme Soviet, the Parliament of the Soviet Union, that in the five-year period workers would be progressively exempted from the income tax until it was abolished for all factory and office workers making up to 2,000 rubles ($200) a month.

Taxes also will be abolished for workers making more, but their wages will be reduced accordingly.

Income taxes also will be abolished for single persons and those with small families, regardless of the size of their wages, the Premier said.

Khrushchev said that as a result of the tax program the cash wages of 39,400,000 persons would be increased by the entire amount of their present tax; the wages of several million will increase by an average of half their tax and only the wages of "an insignificant number of workers will remain unchanged."

Khrushchev first promised abolition of the income tax during his visit to the United States in September. U.S. government experts said this would mean comparatively little since the income tax according to the current Soviet budget, will produce only 57 billion rubles, or about one-seventh of the anticipated revenue.

The bulk of the Soviet government revenue comes from the turnover, or sales, tax and the profit tax, which are budgeted at 320 billion rubles.

As he has time and again, Khrushchev told the applauding deputies that the Soviet Union would outstrip the United States in industrial expansion and that Soviet success in producing more than the quotas assigned for 1960 showed the victory in peaceful competition with the United States would go to the "country of socialism."

While calling for even greater effort from his people, Khrushchev promised that by 1964 a start will be made on gradually transferring factory and office workers to the shortest working day in the world — 5 or 6 hours — with no cut in wages.

Khrushchev also announced a revaluation of the ruble to become effective in October. He said the gold value of the Soviet unit of currency will be raised 10 times and new currency will be issued, for which old rubles will be exchanged 10 to 1.

In effect, this will put the ruble on a par with the U.S. dollar. The ruble is still officially valued at 25 cents, but the rate of 10 to the dollar—given visitors from the United States is considered a true index.

Khrushchev said that the ruble is being revalued because Soviet industrial output and trade turnover now run into hundreds of billions of rubles. Such enormous figures are unwieldy to calculate and also result in a fantastic volume of paper money in circulation.

National Tea Co. Sets Record Sales Pace

The National Tea Co. (National Food Stores) today announced a record in sales with an increase of more than 8 million dollars to date this year, according to H. V. McNamara, president.

Sales to date total $256,405,370 compared with $248,051,592 for the corresponding period of 1959. This gives the National Tea Co. an increase of $8,353,780 for the year to date, said McNamara. This is 3.7 per cent ahead of sales at this time a year ago.

Margaret's Chin Is Up Despite Public Doubts

By EARL WILSON

LONDON — Princess Margaret, "little sister of the Queen," posed swiftly and courageously ahead today with plans for her royal wedding Friday which informed Britons believe must be a social flop.

The streets of London town are colorfully and expensively decorated and pictures of Margaret and Antony Armstrong-Jones look at you in heart-shaped frames from the windows of banks and shoe stores.

WILSON

But under the surface there's an uneasiness. There's a hope that Margaret, always the rebel, will not allow herself to be hurt by the social snubbing and press hounding for choosing a husband who not long ago was a photographer who wore blue jeans, rode a motorcycle and had a Bohemian set of chums.

"Margaret looks wonderful — she must be very happy," claim her friends.

"Or maybe she's just doing a good job of acting," they add, doubtfully.

That male wedding guests at Westminster Abbey will be permitted to wear ordinary lounge suits—about the same as saying "come as you are"—is as shocking to the socially correct as the fact there'll be only a sprinkling of royalty attending.

Margaret's chin-up attitude about all her problems since she announced her engagement to her Bohemian suitor has won her some new admiration.

Every move that she and Tony make is analyzed by the British press which, while noted for its own handling of American film and TV stars, can treat its own the same way.

For choosing a bridegroom of Tony's background, Margaret has been accused of a step that "will undermine the monarchy."

It's argued that too much democracy in even Britain's type of monarchy will weaken the jolly old crown.

EARI'S FEARS: It's wise to apologize to a man if you're wrong—and to a woman if you're right.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: There'd be a great many more brunettes in this country if so many of them hadn't dyed young... That's earl, brother.

U.S. Will Sell Surplus of Rubber, at a Profit

WASHINGTON (AP)—An end to the rubber shortage in World War II seemed in the Senate Tuesday it approved the sale of 470,000 long tons of natural rubber from the government stockpile.

The rubber cost the government an estimated 363 million dollars and will be sold over a nine-year period to avoid disruption of domestic and world markets—for an estimated 390 million dollars.

Eggs packed with the small end down are said to keep better that way.

Works to Avoid Political Blame

Nixon Unhooks Self if Rocky Says No

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon appears to be laying the groundwork to avoid any political blame if Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller rejects second place on the GOP ticket.

Nixon's statement, Wednesday, that the New York governor has "remained supportive" among Republicans for national office was interpreted in some quarters as part of a campaign to display the vice president's regard for Rockefeller's abilities.

The statement appeared to be aimed at mollifying Republicans who feel that Rockefeller was forced out of the presidential nomination race by leaders who didn't want any challenge to the security of their party positions under Nixon.

Nixon told a later news conference that a majority of Republican leaders favor Rockefeller for the vice presidential nomination. It is likely they "will still feel this way" at convention time, he added.

RETAINS STAND

Both comments were made in New York, where Nixon appeared at the opening of the U.S. World Trade Fair.

But in Albany, Rockefeller said he would refuse the vice presidency "no matter who might ask me."

By taking the opportunity to pat the New York governor on the back, Nixon left the impression that he would like to have Rockefeller on the ticket with him.

But he avoided committing himself irrevocably. To a direct inquiry as to whether the New York governor should be the No. 2 nominee, he replied that the question should be put to the governor.

His demonstration of good will seemed calculated to make it more difficult for anyone to lay at the vice president's door any responsibility for a Rockefeller decision not to accept the second place nomination.

Nixon now agrees with most Republicans that a Nixon-Rockefeller ticket would be the strongest the Republicans could put in the field. But there are some mental reservations.

FEAR ATTACK ON POLICY

The fear exists among the vice president's followers that within the next couple of months Rockefeller may attack some Eisenhower administration policies with which he has obvious disagreements.

Nixon knows he is tied to the administration's record. He can expand on it, but he doesn't feel he can be put in the position of openly repudiating parts of it. This attitude has contributed to his difficulties in attempting to draft a new farm program that won't be seized upon as a complete reversal of the policies of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson.

Any sharp criticism of the Eisenhower policies by Rockefeller would draw the curtain on him as a vice presidential nominee, so far as Nixon is concerned. And in the end, Nixon is going to name his running mate.

Says Castro Rigged 'Intervention' Flight

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A federal grand jury charges that a flight by two American pilots to Cuba March 21—called by the Cuban press at the time as "another example of American intervention"—was arranged by the Fidel Castro government.

An indictment made public Wednesday accused the fliers, William J. Shergalis of Hollywood, Fla., and Howard L. Runquist, of San Rafael, Calif., of having departed from the United States for Cuba without filing a flight plan required under Federal Aviation regulations.

Shergalis, 33, and Runquist, 35, are understood to be in custody of the Cuban government, the Justice Department said in Washington. It said it had "no immediate plans for seeking to extradite them back to the United States."

Cuba complained in March that a light plane flown by Shergalis and Runquist flew from Miami to Cuba to pick up political foes of Castro and fly them to the United States.

'SURPRISED BY SOLDIERS'

Press reports out of Cuba the day of the flight said they landed their rented plane near Matanzas and were surprised by Cuban soldiers who fired on them and brought them down as they attempted a takeoff. The report was that Runquist was wounded slightly in the foot.

The grand jury charges followed published charges in this country that the flight was arranged by the Castro government for anti-American propaganda purposes.

Another indictment returned by the grand jury charged that Shergalis and a Miami man acted as Castro government agents without registering under the foreign agents registration law. The other man, Hector Garcia Solo, was identified as a representative of the Cuban air force in Miami.
