Don't let the sunshine fool you. It's cold and it's going to remain that way.

Plunging to a low of 2 below zero at 6 a.m. today in the city, the mercury didn't begin to climb appreciably until 10 a.m. By 1 p.m. it was 15 above.

Today, tonight and tomorrow will be continued cold with mostly fair skies. The predicted high today is 16, with a low of about 5 tonight. Tomorrow's high may reach 20.

Winds will be westerly at 10-15 m.p.h. The cold snap will continue with little change in temperature through Sunday.

The U. S. Weather Bureau 5-day outlook calls for precipitation through Wednesday totaling less than one-tenth of an inch, but temperatures averaging eight degrees below the normal high of 35 and low of 20.

Teamster Beck Is Convicted of Tax Cheating

Millionaire Labor Chief Shaken Up When Put in Jail 1st Time in Life

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — Convicted of cheating on his income tax, millionaire labor leader Dave Beck Sr., 64, spent time behind bars for the first time in his life Thursday night.

The former president of the huge Teamsters Union was found guilty on all four counts of income tax evasion — covering $240,067 for the years 1950-53—and two counts of filing false returns.

★ ★ ★

He could receive up to a five-year sentence and a $10,000 fine on each count.

U. S. Dist. Judge George Boldt, who set sentencing for Feb. 27, was to hold an appeal bond hearing in Seattle today.

Beck's lawyers said the verdict would be appealed "all the way."

The one-time laundry truck driver, who prided himself on not smoking or drinking, appeared more shaken at having to spend the night in jail than by the verdict.

★ ★ ★

The portly Beck, nattily clad in a blue suit and polka-dot tie, gripped the edge of a table but showed little emotion as the clerk drawled "guilty" six times Thursday afternoon. Later he was heard to remark to a friend he just couldn't understand why he had to remain in jail.

When found guilty, his $25,000 bail was revoked.

His quarters in the federal section of the city jail were a world apart from his lavish home in the so-called "Beck Compound" on the shores of Lake Washington in Seattle.

★ ★ ★

Just three years ago he was a respected millionaire businessman, international president of the Teamsters Union—considered the largest in the country—and a vice president of the AFL-CIO. The self-made man who had left high school before graduation had even served as president of the

Prolonged Fight Ends Against Crime Leader

Government Says His Naturalization Gained Through Fraud

NEW YORK (AP) — The citizenship of Frank Costello was revoked today by U.S. Dist. Judge Archie O. Dawson.

Costello, 68, currently is serving a five-year sentence for federal income tax evasion.

The government has waged a long legal battle to strip from Costello the U.S. citizenship it claimed he obtained through fraud and misrepresentation in 1925.

Judge Dawson's action paved the way for what is expected to be the government's next move—to deport Costello to his native Italy.

The government had tried once before to take away his citizenship. The case was thrown out by a federal court in 1956 on the ground that the government evidence was "permeated with the fruit of illegal wiretaps."

The government then set out again to achieve its goal employing evidence it said was not obtained by wiretaps.

★ ★ ★

Costello long has been regarded as one of the topmost men in the underworld, and at one time was tabbed its "prime minister."

His croaky voice — but not his face — became familiar to many millions of Americans a few years ago during the nationally televised New York hearings on crime conducted by the U.S. Senate Committee headed by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn).

DEMANDED FACE BLACKOUT

Only Costello's voice was heard during his witness chair appearances because of his demand that his face not be shown.

Viewers now and then caught a glimpse of his hands as he dueled verbally with the metallic-voiced Rudolph Halley, chief counsel of the committee.

The government charged that Costello obtained his citizenship through fraud in denying that he had violated the national prohibition law, failed to pay federal and state income taxes, conspired to bribe Coast Guard and prohibition agents, engaged in large-scale gambling operations, and had been convicted in 1915 of carrying a concealed weapon.

He has been accused, at one time or another in recent years, of having a hand in virtually every major racket in this country.

Costello's troubles have not always been from the government and investigating agencies. On May 2, 1957, somebody took a shot at him as he entered the lobby of his swank Manhattan apartment house. Costello suffered only a slight scalp wound.

Vincent (The Chin) Gigante, described by an assistant district attorney as a young punk commissioned by persons unknown to kill Costello, was tried for the shooting but was acquitted.

★ ★ ★

At the time, Costello was out of prison for various court moves in an effort to avoid his income tax sentence. He was returned to his cell later.

Costello had been convicted of failing to pay $28,332 in taxes for the years 1948 and 1949.

Judge Dawson revoked Costello's citizenship in a 35-page opinion in which he upheld all the government's contentions and ruled that none of the evidence was obtained by wiretaping.

The judge said that Costello could not have qualified for citizenship had the true facts of his background been known at the time.

Author of Report Ready to Testify

Chapman of PAS Firm Will Appear at Hearing on Straley Ouster

The author of a report containing blistering criticism of the Pontiac Police Dept. is in town, ready to take the stand when the Civil Service Commission resumes its hearing tonight into ouster charges against suspended Police Chief Herbert W. Straley.

Samuel Chapman of the Public Administration Service of Chicago prepared the PAS report after a four-month study of the city's police force. His report found the department riddled with inefficiency, low in morale and public prestige.

The report, although not mentioning Straley by name, was critical of his seven-year reign as chief.

Straley has attacked the PAS report as unfair and referred to Chapman as "a 28-year-old man with four years experience out West as a patrolman."

Before Chapman can testify, however, the Civil Service Commission must rule on a motion by Straley's attorney, Clarence L. Smith, to dismiss charges on the grounds that Eastman, who brought them against the chief, was never legally public safety director.

Smith has also objected to the Commission that Walter K. Willman's order suspending Straley on Feb. 9 was not proper. Only the Commission can suspend Straley, he asserts.

The hearing will resume at 7:30 p.m. in the City Commission chambers.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Capital Airlines plane reported another near miss with an Air Force plane today. A spokesman for Capital here said the pilot of one of its Constellations—on an Atlantic-bound flight—reported it had to take evasive action to avoid an Air Force C123 cargo plane over Tennessee. The incident—the fourth of its kind this week—reportedly occurred in the vicinity of Knoxville, the airline said.

County Plans Quick Action on Building Courthouse

After more than two years of having their plans for a modern courthouse held up by court action, Oakland County officials today planned to take immediate action to construct the new building.

The track was cleared of legal barriers yesterday when the Michigan Supreme Court ruled the county had lawfully accumulated and now could use nontax miscellaneous funds to finance the proposed $4,500,000 building on Telegraph road.

Further court action to block its construction today appeared remote.

"I would be hesitant to advise any further legal action," said Glenn C. Gillespie, attorney for the apparently defunct Oakland County Taxpayers' League.

It was the League which back in November of 1956 tossed up the first roadblock to the building when it filed suit here claiming the county Board of Supervisors had padded annual budgets and transferred surpluses from them to accrue the building fund.

This was all in violation of a state law which limits counties from assessing in any one year, for the purchase of land or the construction of public buildings, more than one-tenth of one mill, the League contended.

Fluorescent Lamps for Saginaw, Huron Get Favorable Reception

A move to "brighten up downtown" with new, modern street-lighting was in the works today.

An offer by Consumers Power Co. to install brighter fluorescent lights on downtown Saginaw and Huron streets was favorably received by city commissioners at an informal meeting last night.

The lights under consideration are the same as those installed several months ago for testing purposes at the corner of Saginaw and Oakland avenue, said Edward Karkau, Consumers manager.

They're almost twice as bright as similar ones situated along widened Perry street and at City Hall.

"It is our feeling that the light will be welcomed by the downtown merchants and improve the appearance of the downtown area," Karkau said.

★ ★ ★

City Manager Walter K. Willman was authorized to work on plans with the power company.

Commissioners decided the lights should line Saginaw from Lafayette street to Auburn avenue and Huron from Cass avenue to Mill street.

It was estimated this will mean about 65 new lights, costing the city about $5,000 more a year in its light bill.

Karkau said Consumers could install the lighting on its existing poles. The fluorescent lights are installed by means of extension arm that places them higher and more directly above the street than the present, standard lights, he said.

★ ★ ★

Consumers has in mind installing lights that measure 35,000 lumens in brightness, Karkau said. By contrast, the Perry street lights measure 20,000 lumens in brightness.

Ike Prepares to End Mexico Visit Today

ACAPULCO, Mexico (AP) — Refreshed by a few practice golf shots on a short hotel fairway, President Eisenhower turned today to the final round of his informal exchange of views with President Adolfo Lopez Mateos of Mexico. The U.S. President was host at luncheon.

He planned to fly overnight to Augusta, Ga., for a weekend of golf, or direct to Washington if the Augusta weather is bad.

Eisenhower and Lopez Mateos exchanged pledges of international friendship when the U.S. President arrived Thursday. Then they talked informally aboard the Mexican chief executive's yacht, the Soltavento, during a four-hour cruise.

When they came ashore late in the day, spokesmen announced they had discussed the proposed Diablo Dam, a 100-million-dollar structure which would be built and financed by the two governments on the Rio Grande border about 12 miles from Del Rio, Tex.; Mexico's coffee industry, its production of lead and zinc and Mexican concern about competition between its cotton crop and that of the United States.

Neither White House press secretary James C. Hagerty nor the Mexican spokesman would provide any detail on the discussions.

They indicated there might be a formal statement after further talks at Eisenhower's hotel late today.

As for the Diablo Dam, Eisenhower is understood to have told Lopez Mateos that his administration—after years of considering whether to go ahead—now has decided to ask Congress for the funds needed to join Mexico in the project.

Eisenhower got a rousing welcome on his arrival at Acapulco and another enthusiastic reception when he motored through the heart of the city to board the yacht. He drew more cheers when he was the dinner guest of the Mexican president at the Mirador Hotel.

Among the guests at the presidential table was former British Prime Minister Anthony Eden, who retired in January 1957 because of ill health. It was his first public appearance since coming to Acapulco last Dec. 17 to convalesce and work on his memoirs. He and Eisenhower have been friends since World War II days.

Overcomes Big Handicap to Bring Faith to Blind

By FRIEDA M. TARDY
Boulder, Colorado

I first met Rebecca Gooding when she came to my door on a gray day, the last day of the old year—a year that had not been kind, holding more of bitter than sweet.

FRIEDA

"This must be a beautiful place in spring and summer," she said. "That great old tree and your lilac hedge—and there'll be many tulips, I'll wager."

Then, introducing herself as the Home Teacher for the Blind in Northern Colorado, she came into the house.

Rebecca was tall and stately, a woman of timeless age. She could have been 45—or perhaps, 60. Her skin was clear and soft, her hair gray, her eyes deep and understanding.

But what was she saying? Would I like to come to her house for my Braille lesson? Braille — the hated word!

While I was still battling with myself, Rebecca rose quickly and was gone. Only then did I remember that she had asked me nothing about myself, and had given me no opportunity for feeling sorry for myself.

Since the doctors had told me that I would be blind within a year's time, self-pity stood always on the threshold — blotting out the inner vision of faith.

Rebecca returned the next week, and I went with her for my first lesson. As time went by, my slow fingers began to pick out the tiny embossed dots of the Braille alphabet. Quite often, rebellious tears would rush into my eyes; but I began to love those afternoons when I went to Rebecca's little white frame house.

In May, I could feel the lessening of rebellion. One day Rebecca took my arm and led me through the back door to a rambling barn. There, in the storehouse, stood

Macomb Judge Asks State Tribunal Probe of Public 'Disgrace'

LANSING (UPI)—Macomb Probate Judge Joseph V. Trombly wants the State Supreme Court to start an immediate investigation of the "disgrace" brought on his court by public criticism.

Trombly, in a petition filed before the court yesterday, said an investigation "under the guise" of the Macomb County Board of Supervisors has brought "disgrace upon the courts, upon my wife and children and myself and has almost destroyed my health."

"I have not the authority to correct, and eliminate the abuse and interference without the help of the Supreme Court," Trombly said.

Trombly, who has been on the Macomb bench since Jan. 1, 1941, recently submitted and then withdrew a petition for retirement before the State Judges Retirement Board.

Convict Dave Beck of Cheating on Taxes

University of Washington Board of Regents.

Today he is under the shadow of two convictions. Beck was sentenced to not more than 15 years in prison after a 1957 conviction for grand larceny in the embezzlement of $1,900 from the sale of a union-owned Cadillac. The State Supreme Court is scheduled to hear his appeal next March.

Beck's big trouble began when he appeared before the Senate Labor-Management Committee in 1957 and invoked the Fifth Amendment more than 150 times. He said then he could probably clear everything up with a few minutes in the court of law.

But the balding Beck didn't take the stand here. After the long government case in the three-month trial, the defense rested after calling only one witness—an accountant. His lawyers said Beck wanted to take the stand but was advised against it by his counsel who didn't think the government had a case.

The jury of eight men and four women returned their verdict a day after receiving the case.

Foreman Warren Hale said only 10 ballots were taken. The first vote came out eight for conviction, three for acquittal and one blank.

Beck, who finished a sandwich at his hotel before returning to court to hear the verdict, said en route to jail, "I feel good." He said he was worried, though, about the illness of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Denied access to Beck's documents, the government worked from bank records, hotel ledgers, account books and a dozen other sources. It based its case on Beck's alleged pocketing of expense money and misuse of union funds. It presented 115 witnesses.

The defense held that any money Beck received from the union was in the form of loans and, therefore, not taxable.

Beck had consolation of a sort. The Teamsters Union said his $50,000 a year pension was from a trust fund, unaffected by any court decision.

Oppose Hospital Use for Mental Patients

Use of the former Oakland County Contagious Hospital entirely for the mentally ill will be advised against, despite 28 resolutions urging it.

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors next Tuesday will hear a resolution from a special committee of five supervisors assigned the task of finding the most beneficial and economic use of the vacant facility.

It will oppose the exclusive use of the 80-bed hospital on Telegraph road as a psychiatric short-term, diagnostic hospital and clinic for the mentally ill.

The county has received letters from 28 civic organizations and municipalities urging that the hospital be used for this purpose. Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore has also been a leader in this move.

TO GIVE REASONS

The special committee, headed by Royal Oak Supervisor Fred W. Smith, is expected to point out three reasons for opposing this suggestion. They are:

1. The state has the responsibility under its Mental Health Commission to provide diagnostic services and treatment for the mentally ill.

2. The county has been advised by a state official—"closely connected and well versed in mental health problems"—that such a facility for the mentally ill should be operated in connection with a general hospital and not as a separate unit.

3. It would cost the county an estimated $438,000 annually to operate the hospital exclusively for the mentally ill.

FAVOR POLIO CENTER

Smith's committee still favors a proposal put forth by the Elizabeth Kenny Foundation for using the hospital as a rehabilitation and treatment center for polio and other allied diseases.

* * *

"It is the considered opinion of your committee that such an arrangement might provide the best use of this facility," supervisors have been told in an advance letter to their Tuesday meeting.

Representatives of the foundation have indicated to the committee that it might be possible to incorporate a portion of the hospital for the treatment of a limited number of mentally ill emergency-care patients.

However, officials of that group are still seeking ways to finance its suggested center.

As yet, the Kenny Foundation has not been given a definite go-ahead by the county.

* * *

The committee earlier had given a firm "no" to Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital, which wanted to lease the vacant building for 10 years.

The two-story edifice, located at 1075 N. Telegraph Rd., has been empty since Pontiac General Hospital turned it back to the county in August after using it as an annex.

Flint Bus Riders Walk 2nd Day

City Manager Meeting With Citizens; Hopes to Settle Strike

FLINT (AP)—Some 20,000 daily bus riders were without public transportation again today as a strike against Flint city coach lines went into its second day.

Robert A. Carter, city manager, was to meet with his Citizens Advisory Committee on bus transportation today to discuss the situation.

The 125 driver and mechanic members of the Transports Workers Union struck the bus company yesterday because of a wage dispute.

Negotiations on a new contract broke down Wednesday when the union insisted on a firm offer and the company proposed a wage increase contingent on city approval for a hike in the 25-cent passenger fare.

The strike is Flint's second such in three months. Members of the union struck for five days in December. The union called off that strike after agreeing to continue negotiations for 60 days under a truce.

The latest strike followed a 24-hour postponement of the original strike deadline as the negotiators made last hour efforts to reach a settlement.

Carros Appointed to Post as Assistant

Appointment of Donald H. Carros as assistant to the administrator at Pontiac General Hospital was announced last night.

Carros' appointment was made by Hospital Administrator Harold B. Euler.

Carros will continue as personnel director, said Euler, a post he has held since coming to the hospital in May, 1957.

With his new job, Carros' salary will be boosted from $7,500 to $8,000 a year.

Under the promotion, Carros will relinquish his secondary duties as public relations director, Euler said. These duties will be taken up by Fay Stewart, former administrative assistant in charge of operations at the hospital's annex.

Miss Stewart's new salary was set at $6,500 a year. She has been a hospital employe ten years.

Leaves for Spain Soon

Debbie Busy at Work Following Her Divorce

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Debbie Reynolds, 26, the film colony's latest divorcee, was swept up in the activities of a busy career today.

The ex-Mrs. Eddie Fisher surprised friends on the 20th Century-Fox lot by showing up immediately after the divorce was granted Thursday although she'd been given the day off.

Debbie explained she's anxious to finish the picture, "Say One For Me," as soon as possible. Plans call for her to leave next week for Spain on location for another movie.

* * *

Critics have predicted that 1959 will be the biggest year of her career for the petite actress.

Fisher, meantime, has been busy denying reports that he intends to marry Elizabeth Taylor very shortly in Mexico, presumably after the singer obtained a quickie Mexican divorce.

Fisher and Miss Taylor, admittedly very much in love with each other, both branded the reports "ridiculous."

Miss Taylor added: "It should be obvious to all that Eddie and I are in love with each other, but we have no immediate plans. After all, he was just divorced yesterday."

Fisher said: "The reports are absolutely untrue. I have no plans to be married in Mexico now or later."

Under California law, the decree entered in Los Angeles will not be final for a year. Should Fisher wed again before that time, the marriage would not be recognized in this state.

Miss Reynolds wore a black silk suit with a velvet collar and black high-heeled shoes for her brief court appearance. At her throat was a heart-shaped diamond and on her finger she wore an emerald ring where a wedding band might have been.

"Are any of these pieces from Eddie?" she was asked as she left the courtroom.

"I would rather not say," she replied.

She said she knew nothing about Fisher's plans and when asked if she knew his whereabouts, she answered: "I would rather not talk about him."

Miss Taylor was not mentioned by name in the five-minute hearing, although Debbie testified in support of her cruelty charge: "My husband became interested in another woman."

Fisher, 30, was not present for the proceedings that will cost him a million dollars in 10 years. Other sources figured it at $750,000.

an array of looms. She handed me a basket filled with skeins of soft wool and spread before me a soft haze of creamy warp threads. I touched them lightly. I felt the vibration of music in my fingers as truly as if I had put them on the keys of a piano.

RELAXING RHYTHM

"Now let's try it," she coaxed.

Gently, she guided me until my first, slow uneven beat built up into a rhythm of beam and pedal, right hand, right foot, boom. Left hand, left foot, boom. As the rhythm became more even, it brought relaxation to my entire body. As I swayed forward and backward, I forgot myself.

I wove steadily for hours. When my folks came for me that evening, I had a 30-inch rug. But it was more than a rug. It was a symbol of answered prayer, for on that day, faith again began to live inside me.

At home we called it a prayer rug and I vowed that thereafter I would not sit idly in dark desolation, but that I would use my hands and my will to work.

All that spring, summer, and fall, others came for weekly visits to learn Braille, and I learned there were many like myself, all blind. Rebecca's greatest joy was teaching these people to help themselves.

* * *

One by one, she brought her pupils to the weaving room. This was not a part of her stipulated welfare work as a paid employe of Colorado. This was her own labor of love — reclaiming souls lost in a darkness which could never again be dispelled. Old and young learned her Colonial craft and her philosophy.

One by one, they walked the path to the barn — hesitant, dreading, mistrustful. One by one, they sat at the looms — sometimes silent and always unwilling. But each one was caught up in the wonder of the rhythm as I had been.

As they relaxed, they became interested, and as their interest increased, they were filled with hope. They learned to talk with one another and, when laughter rang in the old barn, I knew the battle had been won.

Several years after my first lesson, Rebecca became seriously ill. There was little hope for her recovery. They came, her blind, to her door. Some were led. Some came tapping white canes lightly as they walked to the vine-covered porch.

All day, every day, and at all hours of the evening they came. Some brought flowers or small gifts of food. Others brought gifts of costliness and beauty as they attempted to express their love and admiration.

Right up to the time of her death, Rebecca was still striving to give to her blind that spark which burned within herself. We, who have been led through the valley of night, can never forget her supreme and patient effort.

You see, Rebecca had traveled the lonely road, too. The music of the looms, the laughter which rang out when tensions had been erased, these she never knew, although she could read the words that came from our lips. Few of us ever knew it, but — Rebecca was totally deaf.

Warmer in Alaska Than Kentucky

Cold Grips Eastern U. S.

By The Associated Press

Winter poured on its worst elements today across the eastern half of the country.

Cold, snow, sleet and freezing rain were the chief climatic ingredients that made the end of winter—a month away—seem a long time ahead.

* * *

It was warmer in sections of Alaska than in parts of the South.

The Weather Bureau said the temperature of 24 at Anchorage compared to 13 at Lexington, Ky., 17 at Louisville and 22 at Nashville, Tenn. It was close to Chattanooga's 25. And residents in Atlanta didn't feel much warmer in the chilly 29 above readings.

The icy mass held the freezing line through the Gulf states and some of the chilly air drifted into northern sections of Florida.

But for bone-tingling cold, Pellston, Mich., was the place to find it. It was a snappy, breath-taking 34 degrees below zero this morning in the northern Lower Michigan community. In Wisconsin, Lone Rock was not exactly a hot spot with a mark of -22.

The below zero belt extended from eastern Montana eastward into the Great Lakes region. Chicago had its first zero reading in two weeks and more readings were below zero in the suburban areas.

The fairly mild winter weather in the Northeast disappeared quickly as blustery northerly winds carried the frigid air across the Great Lakes region into the mountains from West Virginia and northward into New England. Snow accompanied the cold air and wind gusts of 40 to 50 m.p.h. raked the middle and north Atlantic states. Boston's 6 above compared with 35 Thursday morning.

* * *

New York City shivered in 9 above, one of the city's lowest marks this season.

Temperatures dropped below zero in northern New York and squalls in the Lake Ontario region cut visibility at times to 1-8 mile.

The chilly winds blew snow into extreme northern parts of Texas and Louisiana, with falls in some Texas areas ranging from one to two inches. Freezing rain and sleet also fell in the area while rain fell in other parts of Texas and Louisiana.

County to Act Fast After Courthouse OK

hibition preventing the Legislature from allowing the Board of Supervisors to use surpluses accumulated from miscellaneous receipts," the Supreme Court stated in a 4-3 opinion Thursday.

It also said the county could select a new site for the new building — to be on a 357-acre County Service Center property — and could dispose of the old downtown building and property.

HITS LAND ANNEXATION

In the only adverse ruling against Oakland County, the high court said annexation of a parcel of land from Waterford Township, to attach as part of the Service Center, was done unlawfully.

However, county officials see little chance that this ruling would slow their building plans.

Charles A. Davis, assistant corporation counsel, said the property, although shown on county maps as belonging to Pontiac, could legally become a section of the city by joint affirmative action of the Township Board and the City Commission.

* * *

First, Davis said, the county would ask residents of the questionable land to sign petitions agreeing to become part of Pontiac. Most of these residents, Davis said, are county employes working in county buildings already in the Service Center.

Meanwhile, David Levinson, chairman of the Supervisors' Special Courthouse Committee, said he hoped his group would be given the go-ahead when supervisors assemble Tuesday for their meeting.

If they do, he said his committee probably will meet Wednesday to sit down with architects who have already started pulling the new courthouse plans out of mothballs.

* * *

Levinson said he was hopeful that no appreciable increase—"the price may even be lower"—would result from the two-year lapse when the original estimate was given more than two years ago.

Theodore V. Bacon, architect with the designing firm of O'Dell, Hewlett & Luckenbach Associates of Birmingham, said he did not anticipate any jump in costs before May when construction costs normally increase.

Letting of contracts possibly could come in early April, Levinson said, barring any unforeseen interferences.

Only a slight alteration of original plans will be made. This is necessary as the offices of the county clerk and register have been merged since plans were drawn up.

Monies now in the building fund for the courthouse total $1,666,407.18, according to Charles A. Sparks, county treasurer. This has grown from the $1,392,427 when the suit was filed.

Levinson said the needed money to finance the six-story courthouse would come from the alloted one-tenth of one mill accrued each year, sale of the old courthouse and land and sale of surplus county properties.

* * *

The Birmingham supervisor said these added monies should be sufficient so as to construct the long-awaited building without any tax burden to county residents.

"We have from the start planned it on a pay-as-you-go basis and still do," he said.

One county official said he had heard several years ago of a bid of $900,000 for the courthouse property stretching from Saginaw to Wayne street, and bounded on the north by West Huron street.

The current building fund can be expected to grow by some $225,000 a year, Sparks said.

Helping to swell the fund is the investment of revenues from it in four local banks paying yearly interest, Sparks said.

Although county officials have had to borrow from other funds to meet a mammoth welfare relief burden the past year, Sparks said the courthouse building fund "has been untouched."

The League's lawsuit was up before the Supreme Court because visiting Circuit Judge Herman C. Dehnke, of Harrisville, said following a four-day trial in the summer of 1957 that the supervisors had built up their fund illegally in violation of the millage limitation.

Yesterday's opinion reversed Judge Dehnke on this major question.

Writing the 18-page majority opinion was Justice Harry J. Kelly. Joining him were Justices John Dethmers, Leland Carr and George Edwards.

The minority opinion was written by Justice Eugene F. Black. With him were Justices John D. Voelker and Talbot Smith.

Justice Thomas M. Kavanagh, Michigan attorney general when the League's suit was filed, did not participate in the opinion.

Ask Enforcement of Retirement Age, 66, in City

City commissioners have been asked to back mandatory retirement of city employes at age 66.

The support is sought by the Pension Board, which has decided to crack down on repeated extensions of retirement dates, said Charles Harmon, board chairman.

Commissioners last night informally decided to favor a Pension Board plan whereby employes will be granted only two six-months extensions after the usual deadline at age 65.

"The repeated granting of extensions at present seems to be defeating the purpose of the pension system," Harmon informed commissioners.

The Pension Board can act without City Commission approval, but prefers to have it, said City Manager Walter K. Willman.

If the plan is put into effect, employes who have already had two or more extensions face mandatory retirement at the end of the year, or the age of 70, whichever date comes sooner.

The Day in Birmingham

Chamber of Commerce to Run Halloween Party

BIRMINGHAM—The Chamber of Commerce has taken over the Community Halloween parties of the future, Paul Kurth, president, announced today.

Begun more than 20 years ago, the party originated with a group of businessmen who sought to curb malicious mischievousness here. Of late, the party has been guided by representatives of the City Recreation Board, school district and civic clubs.

The entire group resigned several weeks ago, saying they felt that persons more closely connected with the businessmen who finance the party should take charge.

Postmaster Roland Reese who has been chairman of the party for many years will work with the chamber as advisor.

* * *

The event will closely follow the established pattern of a parade, refreshments and entertainment.

Charles Mortensen, C. of C. secretary, said this morning that while some schools may continue to hold their own parties because they are in the outer areas of the Birmingham school district every effort will be made to keep the main event centralized.

An old-fashioned square dance is being held at the Baldwin School at 8 tonight for PTA members and friends. Music will be furnished by Merritt Olsen with Mark Smith calling.

Tickets for the concert to be presented Feb. 26 by the State Singers of Michigan State University are obtainable at Grinnell's music store or from members of the sponsoring Birmingham Musicale.

The program will be held at 8:30 p.m. in the Derby Junior High School auditorium.

The Altrusa Club of Greater Birmingham will meet Monday at 7 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Russell Barnes, 788 Randall Ct.

Simeon R. Janes

Service for Simeon R. Janes, 20, of 345 Arlington Rd. will be held at 11 a.m. Monday in the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co.

He died at his home yesterday after a brief illness.

A member of the First Methodist Church, he also was the communications officer of the Birmingham Civil Air Patrol Wing.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Simeon Janes and a brother, Carson, at the same address; and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Richard Jacobson of Detroit.

Set Later Hours for Last-Minute Sale of Plates

With only a week to go until deadline, the Pontiac branch of the Secretary of State's office will be open later tonight and tomorrow to speed the sale of 1959 license plates.

The Pontiac office at 96 E. Huron St. will remain open until 7 p.m. tonight, said Willis Brewer, branch manager.

Both the Pontiac office and the temporary sales office in the Waterford Township Hall will be open for business tomorrow from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., he said.

"I urge drivers to purchase their new plates as soon as possible to avoid the last minute rushes next week," said Brewer, reminding drivers to have their certificates of title with them when they buy plates.

Deadline for driving with 1958 plates is midnight Feb. 28.

Name City Postmaster to Association Post

Robert C. Miller, Pontiac's acting postmaster, has been appointed to the legislative committee of the Michigan Chapter of the National Association of Postmasters.

H. Wayne Parker, Grand Rapids postmaster and president of the chapter, announced the appointment today. Roland Reese, Birmingham postmaster, is chairman of the committee.

Too Bad for These 2: Fortune Half Right

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Two men who said they could tell fortunes approached a woman Thursday and offered to predict the future for her.

★ ★ ★

They should have taken a better look at their forecast. She was a lady cop.

"I can tell you are a very nice type of person," one of them told Mrs. Helen Mason. "But I wouldn't want to get into an argument with you. I know I would lose."

★ ★ ★

Bullseye that time. Mrs. Mason had Irving Feldman, 44, of Linden, and George Martz, 59, of Long Beach, Calif., arrested and charged with fortune telling.

Use Drug Darts to Save Animals in Path of Lake

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (AP) — Game wardens are planning to shoot wild animals with drug darts to rescue them from the rising waters of Lake Kariba.

Covering 2,000 square miles, the lake will be the world's largest artificial body of water when a Zambesi River project is completed. Lions, leopards, antelope, buffalo and other animals are taking refuge on islands being formed as the water spreads.

Lands Minister A.R.W. Stumbles explained that the darts would be tipped with tranquilizing drugs and the doped animals ferried to safety.

Economists say that three out of every four cars in the world are in the U.S. — and two of them will get to the parking space before you do . . . It often takes a young man weeks to get up the nerve to pop the question to the girl who'd had the answer ready for months. —Earl Wilson.

Economic Progress Fosters Bike Boom

Mexicans Trade Burros for Bicycles

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The bicycle is beating out the burro as the favorite means of transportation for Mexico's lower middle class.

★ ★ ★

You see them everywhere, and they're a traffic hazard in congested city streets and on remote highways and byways.

Burros don't mind. They're still around by the thousands. They're even being exported to the United States for children's pets.

★ ★ ★

But there is definitely a boom in bicycles, due to improved incomes, the instalment plan for paying, development of new farm areas, and better highways.

Some of the cycles are used for delivering milk, laundry, bread, even furniture. Among the younger set, bicycle racing is a major sport. A cycling champion is a national hero.

Up to 1953 all bicycles were imported, mainly from Britain. Then the government offered tax exemptions and other lures to increase their manufacture in Mexico.

Factories appeared almost overnight, using British standards. Even now 99 out of every 100 bicycles look British, even carry British names. But there is not a single British manufacturer in the country. They are mainly German, Italian, Spanish or Austrian.

Practically all parts, no matter who makes them, are interchangeable. This is useful to the hundreds of dealers and repair shops all over the country.

Bicycles are changing the scene in Mexico, but not altogether.

A recent cartoon by Abel Quezada is entitled "The March of Time."

The first picture shows a peon in a big sombrero riding a burro. Behind him trots his wife, sweating heavily and carrying a baby and a package.

The second picture shows the same peon, this time riding a bicycle. Behind him trots his wife, sweating heavily, carrying a baby and a package.

Canada to Build Ship to Study Arctic Waters

OTTAWA (AP) — The Canadian government is going to build a seven-million-dollar hydrographic research ship to penetrate far into arctic waters.

The 4,200-ton vessel will carry a crew of 80 to 85 and a scientific staff of 15 to 20. Target date for completion is spring of 1961.

Dr. W. E. van Steenburgh, scientific director for the Technical Surveys Department, said it will be one of the finest and most modern research vessels afloat.

New Civil Rights Bill Now Before Congress

The new Civil Rights Bill proposed by President EISENHOWER has been attacked by Southerners as going too far and by some Northerners as not going far enough. This measure of its moderation indicates that there is a chance for some necessary civil rights legislation being passed this session.

★ ★ ★

Proposals in the bill are far from drastic. The FBI would be given additional investigative powers in the bombings of churches and schools; the Attorney General would have subpoena powers in voting rights cases; the life of the Civil Rights Commission would be extended two years and provision made for educating children of military personnel in areas where integration trouble closed schools.

★ ★ ★

President EISENHOWER was politically astute in consulting two important Southern liberals, Democrats LYNDON JOHNSON and SAM RAYBURN of Texas, before sending his legislative suggestions to the House and Senate. These gentlemen, wise in the ways of Congress, may be able to swing Southern support for the moderate bill—the only kind that has any chance of being enacted.

There will be attempted amendments, substitute bills and perhaps filibusters by both North and South. But few can argue the need for better civil rights legislation.

REA Interest Rate Should Be Increased

When Congress set up the Rural Electrification Andministration loan program in 1935, only 11 per cent of those living in rural areas had electric light and power. Today the percentage is 95 as a direct result of Government loans.

The rate of interest established was two per cent but for the past 15 years the Government has had to pay more than that on money borrowed to pass on to REA. The Administration again has proposed that the interest be increased and borrowing shifted where possible from Government loans to private loans insured by the Government. This would eliminate the need for annual appropriations.

★ ★ ★

It also is suggested that REA loan repayments, about $105 million a year, be put into a revolving fund to finance new loans. There now are nearly 1,000 REA co-ops with over 4 million members doing a $450 million annual business.

REA co-ops were established in the first place because private capital was not interested in rural electrification. Since then they have become big business and even have extended their lines to many small cities. The commercial load is now 10 per cent bigger than their farm load so they are competing with private power.

★ ★ ★

Opponents to any changes contend that it would be difficult to get large sums from private sources and that REA has advanced the country's economy in creating a huge market for appliances and equipment.

That is true. But why should taxpayers have to foot the bill for the difference in interest on money borrowed and then loaned at a lower rate to a prosperous and expanding REA?

Hospital Ship Project Gets Private Backing

In response to a plea from President EISENHOWER for more private participation in international cooperation programs, the People to People Health Foundation Inc. has come up with an imaginative idea.

★ ★ ★

Sponsored by a group of doctors, the plan is to send the Navy Hospital Ship Consolation on a goodwill mission to Southeast Asia. This World War II vessel, now in mothballs on the Pacific Coast, will be released ready for service as soon as sufficient money can be procured to assure success of the project. The Foundation is raising $3.5 million from private sources to run the hospital for one year.

★ ★ ★

American President Lines will put a crew aboard to operate the ship and about 200 doctors and as many nurses will staff the 800 bed hospital for a year's tour. The Consolation will visit wherever the local medical profession invites it and will serve as a combination school and hospital. Local doctors will be welcomed on board to exchange information and to learn of the newest in medical treatments.

★ ★ ★

Anchored off some populous and disease ridden Far Eastern port, this floating hospital should convey in a practical and humanitarian way the concern felt by Americans in the welfare of underprivileged peoples.

The Man About Town

Our Early Roads

Properly Called 'Corduroy;' Plank Roads Came Next

Hades: What, if you go there, you won't be able to tell others where to go.

Here in Pontiac, for nearly a century one of the world's principal manufacturing centers of means of transportation, the history of our early roads is fraught with interest.

The successor to the Indian trails was the "corduroy" road. It was the white man's first means of improving those trails across the low and swampy ground.

It was made by laying round logs close together, crossways of the highway. They were rough and difficult for the horses to get a good footing, hence the speed on them never was more than two or three miles per hour.

When the sawmills were introduced, the plank roads followed. They were made of two inch planks, about ten feet long, and laid crossways on logs laid lengthwise of the road. They speeded up travel to six or seven miles per hour.

At one time a good part of the present Dixie Highway between Detroit and Saginaw was planked, with Pontiac and Flint as the overnight stops. It carried most of the white settlers going to points further north. Early hotels and feeding points for both man and beast were also located at many intermediate points, for the emigrants and stage coaches.

Plank roads also extended from Pontiac in many other directions. They often were constructed with private capital and operated as toll roads. At one time there were six toll road entrances to our city.

As the timber grew scarcer and the planks rotted away, they were not renewed and were generally succeeded by dirt roads. The system of charging toll on some of them was continued until after the turn of the century, the entrance on Orchard Lake Ave. being the last to succumb.

"If I Can't Wear These Chutes—Find Yourself Another Fighter Pilot"

David Lawrence Says:

Red Envoy Should Be Recalled

WASHINGTON — Stanislav Menshikov, the Soviet ambassador to the United States, has violated diplomatic rules by a bold intervention in American politics. Heretofore, throughout American history, such an offense has meant sending the meddling ambassador home.

LAWRENCE

In this instance, Senator James William Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, should be among the first to demand that Menshikov be expelled from this country. For the Soviet envoy has violated the confidence of the Arkansas senator by publishing in a recent issue of "New Times" a report of alleged conversations with Mr. Fulbright dealing with American politics.

In the artcile, Menshikov says he was told, in effect, by Senator Fulbright that if the Democrats win in 1960, the Soviets will have a better chance to get their way in world affairs.

No such intimation probably was given by the Arkansas senator. The very fact that Ambassador Menshikov wrote for the government-controlled "New Times"—which is printed by the Soviet government in eight languages besides Russian and is distributed widely throughout the world—any article purporting to give his conversations with a United States Senator, is a sign that he either doesn't know the rules of diplomatic relations or chooses to disregard them. Ambassador Menshikov writes:

"In the Senator's opinion one splendid way to promote mutual understanding is through personal contacts and cultural ties. He said that the country was heading for a Republican defeat in the 1960 elections and a change in the government. The State Department would be obliged to some extent to reckon with the new trends in the country and in Congress. But, he added, the President and the members of his cabinet cannot be compelled to do anything they did not want to do, and hence, he, Fulbright, did not believe there would be any serious change in U.S. foreign policy in the next two years. He did, however, believe that if the Democratic Party were to be sufficiently active in this period it could prepare the ground for such changes by the time the new elections came around."

Within the last few days, Premier Khrushchev made a speech in which he praised Senator Mike Mansfield, Democrat of Montana, another member of the Foreign Relations Committee, for suggesting that the problem of Berlin be settled by direct negotiations between East and West Germany rather than by the Big Four powers.

There is no doubt that the Communists are taking every advantage of the practice which has grown up here in recent years whereby Senators give the impression, perhaps unwittingly, that they speak for the people of the United States on foreign policy. The Constitution makes the President alone the spokesman of the government in foreign affairs. But, with a divided government in Washington, the world now can't be sure who speaks for America.

As for the Soviets, they are brazenly disregarding all the amenities of diplomatic intercourse and meddling in American politics. There was a time when foreign ambassadors thought it indiscreet even to call on a member of Congress in his office and, instead, confined their contacts to social calls in the evening. But the Menshikov article shows that no such rules are being obeyed today, and hence it would be proper now, and in accord with many precedents, for the Department of State to ask Moscow to recall Stanislav Menshikov as "persona non grata" to the United States Government."

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

But Jesus perceived their wickedness, and said, Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites? —Matthew 22:18.

★ ★ ★

Whoever is a hypocrite in his religion mocks God, presenting to Him the outside and reserving the inward for his enemy.—Jeremy Taylor.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Wheat Right From Farm Is What America Needs

Plain wheat, as it comes from the thresher, is good chewing, provided you are not a dental cripple. Wheat is the best food source of vitamin B complex. One of the little known and unappreciated functions of vitamin B complex—that is vitamin B1 (thiamin), vitamin B2 (riboflavin), pyridoxine, niacin, calcium pantothenate, and other vitamins—is, in a sense, insulin-like, for it aids the metabolism or utilization of carbohydrate (starch and sugar).

DR. BRADY

It is for this reason that I have often called vitamin B "poor man's insulin."

★ ★ ★

I know of no authority on diabetes who advises potential or actual diabetics to be sure to get an optimal daily ration of vitamin B—but I don't know why they play the idea down.

If I have learned anything from my study of nutrition it is that most Americans suffer from one or more nutritional deficiencies, particularly vitamin B, calcium, iodin, and vitamin D deficiencies.

Many recognized nutrition authorities, if not authorities on diabetes, seem to agree—and I should say I agree with them—that the almost exclusive use of refined white flour in place of the whole wheat flour our ancestors brought home from the gristmill, is one large factor in the causation of diabetes.

An equally important factor is the enormous per capita consumption of refined white sugar in America.

SHORT ON VITAMINS

These items which furnish most of the calories in the everyday diet of millions of Americans, young and old, not only contain no vitamins or minerals to speak of—but such refined carbohydrate (starch and sugar) raises the body's requirement of vitamin B.

Thus what little vitamin B the diet supplies is pre-empted by the excess of carbohydrate, and the vitamin B deficiency becomes steadily worse.

★ ★ ★

In earlier pieces I have described some of the common manifestations of vitamin B deficiency. So, let's keep this day symptomless.

★ ★ ★

Many readers tell me when they put their first measure of plain wheat through the hand or power mill for a batch of wheat cakes or muffins or breakfast cereal or waffles, it proved a red letter day. They enjoyed a new experience in good eating and a considerable gain in health.

★ ★ ★

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Two Question and Another Explains VA Aid Operation

I'm in complete accord with a letter signed Mother of Four. How many children must a person have to qualify for VA Fund help? I have nine and wasn't given a chance to apply but was told I could expect no help.

★ ★ ★

Six months ago we were left with no income or prospect of it. Thanks to the Welfare we ate and the children had milk to drink. The Crippled Children's Society paid for a necessary operation and hospitalization, and the local Community Chest very generously aided with school supplies, clothing and other pressing needs. Friends and neighbors watched over our needs and bolstered our spirits with kindness and support.

★ ★ ★

But what must a person do for help from VA? Let's find out how the VA Fund is handled in our community. Should one man be able to dictate who should or shouldn't be helped? This fund could be used not only to help the needy, but to relieve the burden carried by other agencies.

Mother of Nine

Concerning the letter regarding the Trust Fund, no doubt this person's application was turned down, but I question that it was rejected because it wasn't a matter of life or death. More likely it was turned down because of lack of funds.

★ ★ ★

We don't have 50 million to pass out, but only 1.2 million which is the interest derived from investment in Government bonds. This 1.2 million is distributed to 83 counties based on Veteran population as of 1950. This has more than doubled since then and we're forced to service twice as many vets with half as much money. If all vets shared equally in a yearly allotment, it would be about 54 cents.

★ ★ ★

Don't blame the Trust Fund, lady. Blame those responsible for this economic setback we're now facing in Michigan.

Don Dodman
18th District Commander
American Legion and Member of the Trust Fund Committee

I'm a disabled veteran's widow with three children. I've been looking forward to my social security raise and was delighted at the amount I received, until I learned I would lose my veteran's pension.

I now draw more from Social Security than the VA allows. VA has the same allowance for a widow with one child as for one with three children. What dentist or doctor will care for three children for the price of one?

It boils down to the fact that I now get $24 less a month than before my Social Security raise. That's quite a cut when it was hard to get by before. Social Security might as well send my raise to the VA, as they're getting all of it and more, too. My husband spent five years in service. I think we have a right to expect a little help from the VA. I thought that was its aim.

Let us all who've ever benefited from Dr. Brady's pioneering preachments now rise to his defense. Imagine anyone in the demoralizing liquor business having the brazen effrontery to challenge Dr. Brady's social manners.

'Welfare Aid Cut Will Hike Crime'

The latest decision to take welfare benefits away from single persons is for the birds. What about the single person who hasn't any relatives or whose pride will not allow him to "sponge" off his relatives?

This will lead to a rise in crime. A hungry person must resort to something, even stealing. Is this what Michigan's financial status will lead us to?

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Don't Let Child Become 'Leaner'

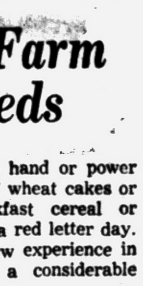

Which of the four coeds mentioned below was the best child psychologist? Don't unwittingly make your child a "leaner" on mama or papa. Teach the youngster how to win praise in its own right. And paste Thomas Overbury's quotation on your child's bathroom mirror for a daily motto.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case A-459: When our daughter Judy was 4½ years old, she and I strolled across the campus at Northwestern University.

Several of my coed students met us, and made the various comments below:

"Oh, isn't she sweet!" exclaimed the first student.

DR. CRANE

"Oh, isn't she cute!" said the second coed.

"What a lovely dress you are wearing," added the third.

"See the picture I made," Judy replied, holding up her crude drawing.

"It is very good," the fourth coed exclaimed, "but you didn't put an eye in the man's face."

Well, if I were to employ one of those coeds to look after the children, which do you readers think I'd select?

And which girl would probably make the best school teacher?

SPEECH DETECTIVES

It is surprising how expert a detective you can become just by studying a few words uttered by people around you.

★ ★ ★

Their language reveals far more than they imagine. For example, the first two coeds were gushing and probably just trying to win my favor by complimenting my daughter.

That is commendable behavior on their part, but it was not original nor did their remarks encourage Judy in any constructive efforts on her own part.

If anything, they would have made Judy conceited.

Even the third coed's comment about Judy's dress did not rate a top score. For a child should be complimented on what she does rather than what she is or wears!

★ ★ ★

Many Americans try to get by on the record of their ancestors. They dig up commendable items about their forefathers, yet those accomplishments are not hereditary.

This cultivates a snobbish pride in surnames and the boasting about being from the "best families," or the "Mayflower," etc.

"The man," said Thomas Overbury, "who has nothing to boast of but his illustrious ancestors is like a potato . . . the only good belonging to him is underground."

Judy was not responsible for her looks. She inherited those, and her mother had combed her hair and tied a ribbon thereon.

★ ★ ★

Furthermore, Judy had not made the dress she was wearing.

But she had sketched the face of the man! That fourth coed thus used the best psychology in dealing with a youngster.

She mixed praise for past accomplishment but then inserted a helpful hint so that Judy could improve her drawing by adding an eye to the man's head.

EARN YOUR PRAISE

Many gushing parishioners will likewise exclaim over the children of the clergyman, chiefly to win favor with the minister.

★ ★ ★

This is bad psychology for it tends to make the child a grandstander. It teaches the youngster to crave attention just because of its father's importance.

Children should be taught to earn their own compliments, as well as their own spending money, too.

Don't encourage your child in thinking it can live on papa's bounty, as by dad's allowances and remittance checks. Instead, teach the youngster to stand on its own feet by earning its way in life.

Boasting is then legitimate, if the child brags about its own accomplishments. But don't let it ritz its pals by papa's new car or papa's Country Club membership.

Hal Boyle Says:

Best-Dressed Men? Business Executives

NEW YORK (AP)—America's best-dressed men today aren't its movie stars or television idols—but its business executives.

The tired businessman got this surprise pat on his well-attired back from Pat Caruso, a tailor.

"The business executive today is highly style-aware," said Caruso. "Years ago he would wear anything. Now he knows exactly what he wants. Some even draw sketches of the styles they prefer."

★ ★ ★

Professional athletes also are more clothes-conscious, and the best-dressed among them are the jockeys, who also rate as the wealthiest of athletes. The reason: Most jockeys have to wear custom garments or buy children's wear.

"But very few people in public life dress well," said Caruso. He added: "What can you do with a politician?

"However, President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon are exceptions."

"What about Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller?"

A look of sorrow crossed Caruso's face but he maintained a discreet silence. It is an open secret among custom tailors that New York's multimillionaire chief executive patronizes a store featuring ready-made clothing.

The custom industry now suffers more from a shortage of fine tailors than customers, Caruso says.

"It takes 10 to 15 years to become a good tailor," said Caruso. "I first picked up the needle at the age of 9 in my father's shop in Italy. In this country nobody wants to work that young. You can't go to college and then start to be a tailor.

"We have to import our tailors."

★ ★ ★

When Caruso first came to the United States in the 1920s, gangsters, gamblers and bootleggers were big mainstays of the custom tailoring industry. Not any more, he says.

While the hoods used to buy a lot of clothes, they also had a habit of running up big charge accounts. And when all you carry is a needle it is hard to make a man who packs a gun pay his bill.

Here are a few other observations he made:

"In Europe they laugh at the Ivy League look. They say it looks like it was sprayed on.

★ ★ ★

"A man can be well-dressed with a wardrobe of a dozen suits. But he has to buy three or four a year to keep it up.

"The things a man needs most to look well in clothes are a good tailor and a flat belly.

"The British used to be the world's best-dressed men. But most Englishmen today aren't well-dressed. They have fine fabrics but not enough good tailors.

"The best-dressed men in the world now are probably wealthy South Americans. They are the male peacocks today.

★ ★ ★

"Most doctors don't dress well. Their cars look better than their clothes."

Ex-Convict Indicted in Birdland Murder

NEW YORK (AP)—A Manhattan grand jury has indicted ex-convict Lee Schlesinger on second-degree murder charges in the slaying of the assistant manager of Birdland, a Broadway Jazz center.

★ ★ ★

The indictment was handed up Thursday to General Sessions Judge Mitchell D. Schweitzer.

The victim, Zachariah (Irving) Levy, 36, was stabbed to death Jan. 26 while a 15-piece band was playing. The slayer fled the club with a woman.

★ ★ ★

Schlesinger, 43, and his wife Betty, 34, were arrested four days later. Mrs. Schlesinger has been held in $50,000 bail as a material witness.

BARGAIN buys from the SALVATION ARMY?

In many cases, the answer is yes. There are 560 such stores throughout the country, offering a variety of used articles at remarkably low prices. These stores aid in rehabilitating down-and-out and handicapped men who repair articles donated for sale and supplement the regular sales staff.

What's for sale in a particular store varies with the area, since all items are donated by the community. In a big-city store, you can usually find men's, women's, and children's clothing, furniture of all types, pots and pans, dishes, bric-a-brac, costume jewelry, books and records, electrical appliances, toys, rugs, draperies, and many other items. In a small town, the range may be more limited.

Prices, too, vary regionally and with the quality and condition of the goods offered. In most cases, they are lower than those in commercial secondhand stores. Examples: men's suits, $3 to $10, women's dresses, $1 to $2 (occasionally an exceptionally good dress may be priced at $5 to $10); television sets, $5 to $100. (The cheaper TV sets are old models with 10- or 12-inch screens and have not been serviced prior to sale.) Other prices: 9-by-12-foot rugs, $5 (very worn but still usable) to $150 (for a Persian in good condition); baby's cribs, $7.50 to $15; toys, 5 to 50 cents; books, 5 cents to $2; bicycles, $3 to $8; pots and pans, 15 to 25 cents; armchairs, $10 to $15.

Stores are alerted to watch for antiques that may have unusual value. In some cases, these are set aside and offered in an antiques corner, at prices appropriating those a dealer might pay for them. Very occasionally, the sorters miss a valuable piece. One couple recognized the elaborate lines of the Victorian period in a badly tarnished tea service, priced at $20. When they took it to a silversmith for resilvering, he offered them $300 for it. This sort of thing doesn't happen often, but it does add to the zest of browsing.

You will find these stores listed in your phone book under the "Salvation Army" heading. (If there isn't a store in your community, try the nearest big city.) They are usually open all day during the week and half a day on Saturday. A good time to scout them is shortly after a Salvation Army collection in your community, when the stock is usually at its height. Guarantees are rarely given. But the goods are all out where you can inspect them, and you are free to buy them or not, as you choose.

Massachusetts Now Withholding State Income Tax

BOSTON (AP)— Beginning this week virtually everybody in Massachusetts with a job will collect a smaller pay check.

That's because a newly enacted state law withholding personal income taxes went into effect Feb. 15.

But it will affect more than those who work for wages and salaries.

Each quarter, it will reach into the pockets of the self-employed and those living on unearned incomes. Such persons are faced with the knotty problem of estimating how much they will earn, or whether the stock they own will pay any dividends in the year ahead — and how much. If they guess too high, it will be many months before they can get the money back.

Adjustments on overpayments must come after income tax returns for 1959 are filed next year.

Meantime, there are other complications.

That's not all. On April 15, income taxpayers must plank down their Massachusetts income tax for last year.

If the taxpayer works in Massachusetts but lives in an adjoining state, he still has to pay. Considerable numbers of Massachusetts workers have homes in Rhode Island, Connecticut, New Hampshire or Vermont.

A spot check showed some taxpayers thought the withholding principle would be a relief in solving the annual problem of finding the money for the state income tax.

The withholding provision is retroactive to Jan. 1. Therefore, there will be double withholding deductions each pay day until the taxes in arrears are made up.

But many other taxpayers were openly indignant. Some objected to the fact that within one calendar year they would have to turn over to the state two years' tax money. Some were suspicious that withholding would be a prelude to increased income taxation, as it was with Federal taxes. Some felt that retroactive taxation was illegal.

Employers are permitted to deduct part of what they collect to cover their clerical and bookkeeping expenses.

The state gets about 112 million dollars a year from the personal income tax. It expects two dividends from withholding — one by rounding up tax evaders, and the other by adding a windfall to this year's collections — thus helping solve a deficit problem.

The 2.4 per cent tax, for a taxpayer with two exemptions, would cost the $75-a-week worker 54 cents a week, the $100-a-week earner $1.12 weekly, the $125 earner $1.75, and the 150 earner 2.33.

All these deductions will be doubled until retroactive collections back to the first of the year are completed.

Cyprus Near Independence With Uncertainty in Minds

NICOSIA (AP) — Cypriots approached the threshold of independence today with some cheers, many wait-and-see doubts and a demonstration by Turkish teenagers opposing the peace agreement.

There was more general enthusiasm among the British at the prospect of shedding the ancient Mediterranean island than among the people they have ruled for 81 years.

★ ★ ★

Boisterous celebrations broke out in some towns on hearing the news that the blueprint for making Cyprus a republic had been initialed by Britain, Greece and Turkey. Thousands jammed the Greek Orthodox cathedral in Paphos for a thanksgiving service.

But in the capital for hours there was a restrained — almost ominous—feeling broken only this morning by a demonstration of young Turkish Cypriot students shouting the Turkish community's old cry for "partition or death."

★ ★ ★

The orderly crowd of 2,000 teenagers paraded around Ataturk Square in the Turkish sector carrying placards reading "We will not accept a murderer for our president."

The slogans were an obvious reference to Archbishop Makarios, leader of the 400,000 Greek Cypriots who has often been denounced by the 100,000 Turkish minority on the island. Makarios appears certain to be the first president when the republic comes into being.

All Turkish schools in the capital were closed.

In the west coast port of Paphos more than 1,000 students stayed away from classes to celebrate.

Most of the newspapers in Nicosia carried the news that the pact drafted in Zurich had been approved at the London conference without editorial comment. But the left-wing Haravgi was sharply critical, saying "under choking pressure of threats and ultimatums Makarios was forced to initial Zurich agreement." The Communists were angry that Britain would keep her military bases on the island.

Many businessmen were apprehensive that Cyprus' economy would suffer when the island is out of the British empire. Cyprus imported more than 126 million dollars worth of goods last year; its exports were worth only 47 million dollars.

In London, British political leaders of both parties welcomed the settlement. Prime Minister Harold Macmillan hailed the accord as a "victory for reason and cooperation." Labor party leader Hugh Gaitskell expressed "great satisfaction and relief."

★ ★ ★

Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express, unflinching champion of the empire, groaned, however: "Weakness and blundering have prevailed where vision should be."

Details of the Cyprus independence agreement wil be published Monday.

U.N. Has Puzzle in West Africa

Two Territories Due for Independence Pose Major Problems

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly meets today to tackle a complex puzzle created by the impending birth of two new nations in West Africa.

The questions to be decided are these:

1. Will the U.N. give its blessing to the projected plan to establish an independent government in the French Cameroons next Jan. 1?

* * *

2. What shall be the future of the British Cameroons after Oct. 1, 1960, when neighboring Nigeria attains independence?

The two parts of the former German colony are under U.N. trusteeship and cannot change their status without approval of the world organization.

The French Cameroons, with more than three million people in an area the size of Texas, is certain to get the go-ahead before the Assembly ends its session in two or three weeks. The Soviet Union and some African countries are expected to contend that new elections are necessary, but a substantial majority is lined up in favor of independence on schedule. The 14-nation Trusteeship Council has recommended creation of the new sovereign nation Jan. 1.

* * *

The British Cameroons have more than a million people and an area the size of Indiana. The northern region wants to become a part of the new country of Nigeria; the southern part is undecided.

The British now administer the Trust Territory along with Nigeria. Some other provision must be made for the Cameroons before Nigeria attains independence.

One proposal is to divide the British Cameroons, with the northern region joining Nigeria. The future of the southern region may have to be decided by a plebiscite.

There is some sentiment for uniting with the French Cameroons, some for federating with Nigeria as a self-governing area and some for remaining under at least a limited U.N. trusteeship for the present.

The Trusteeship Council tossed the whole issue of the British Cameroons to the Assembly without recommendation.

Big Feet Seen as Reason for Crane's Trouble

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The big feet of the whooping crane may be one reason they are nearly extinct.

Josephine and Crip, the famed whooper couple at Audubon Park zoo here, have trampled both eggs in their recent clutch.

* * *

Zoo attendants found the last of the eggs broken Thursday when papa Crip got up after his sitting session. The other egg was trampled Saturday soon after the clutch was completed by Josephine.

* * *

The brace of whoopers are among six in captivity and some three score known to exist. They are the first to reproduce in captivity. Two chicks hatched from their eggs two years ago and one last year are thriving.

Keebird Goes 70 M. P. H.

Army Shows Vehicles Engineered for Snow Use

HOUGHTON (AP)—Everyone knows an army travels on its stomach, but did you know it can go a lot faster on a Keebird—especially in snow?

For the past two days Army engineers from the Keweenaw Field Station near here have been demonstrating latest snow vehicles before top brass, newsmen and the public.

The Keebird was unveiled as a vehicle which can travel at speeds up to 70 m.p.h. on ice or snow.

But the Army has more to travel on than its stomach and the Keebird.

Also demonstrated were the Marsh Buggy, a vehicle which has large inflated tires and can roll over snow without getting stuck and can maintain stability when moving across marshes; the Snowpacker, a machine developed to build roads and runways over snow; and the Polecat, a vehicle which pulls its cargo by a traction device.

★ ★ ★

The demonstration was billed by Army engineers as the "U. S. Army snow, ice and permafrost research establishment."

The area on the Keweenaw Peninsula jutting from northwest Upper Michigan into Lake Superior was chosen because it has the heaviest snowfall east of the Mississippi River. So far this winter it has had 212 inches of snow.

The research station has been in operation since 1954. But the Army started its snow, ice and permafrost research project in 1949 after World War II experience indicated the need of equipment to conduct northern operations with effectiveness.

★ ★ ★

Also displayed here was a hemispherical dome that forms a huge igloo. Aluminum latticework is covered with a plastic material and covered with snow. After the snow hardens, the latticework is removed and covered with snow, leaving an artificial igloo 30 feet in diameter.

It was three above zero as the demonstrations were carried out. But the Army had issued heavy winter clothing, and the snow was hard enough for the visitors to walk on. Where the snow was not hard enough to walk on, the Army used Weasels (a fast, lightweight snowmobile) to transport its visitors.

East Berlin Press Hits Dim Lighting

BERLIN (AP) — The Communists took official notice today of the contrast between brightly lighted West Berlin and dreary, dim East Berlin.

Neues Deutschland, official organ of East Germany's ruling Communists, criticized state-run shops for not lighting their display windows.

Said the paper: "Either light up the displays or equip the customers with flashlights."

About 76 per cent of all the nation's dope addicts are found in four states: New York, Illinois, California, and Michigan.

We think Living Plan is one of the most exciting design groups we have ever seen. Come see all the pieces, (there are more than 30) . . . you'll enjoy the textural contrast of the polished woods with imported Philippine grass cloth and the wink of the antique brass hardware against the warm brown walnut tones. These beauties are durable, too, every top is tough, high-pressure Melamine plastic—with a natural wood look—that shrugs off household wear and stays beautiful. Puerto Rico Has Warm Way With Tourists

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

SAN JUAN, P. R.—I am never completely at home in a gambling casino, and don't personally know any woman who is. Even the ones who were born in the chips.

The thick pile of the carpets makes me feel relatively impoverished, and the lights on the spinning wheels put me in mind of the third degree, and even the ladies' rooms have an expensive, funereal decor that says double (the usual tip)-or-nothing.

Mostly, though, it's the faces of the dour dealers—grim stickmen, the compassionless croupiers. They have eyes that can pierce into the very depths of your soul—at least your handbag—and calculate your worth.

If I am going to lose money, I'd sooner drop it on the nose of a sweet-faced horse.

★ ★ ★

This was the way I felt, that is, before making the rounds of the casinos at San Juan.

Here, the operations are so strictly controlled by the dynamic government of Luis Munoz Marin that the sucker not only gets an even break, he gets an occasional sympathetic smile from the man who spins his fate.

I even found a blackjack dealer who winked happily whenever I won a hand, and shook his head apologetically as I lost.

"We are on your side," he explained gently, "because the odds, they are not."

This consistent kindliness—of the people and of the weather—has made San Juan the most alluring wintering watering spot in the Caribbean this year.

Hotel rooms are almost as scarce as snow flurries in Puerto Rico today, and throughout airlines offices and travel agencies the warning has spread: Either have a solid hotel confirmation or prepare to pick your palm tree for shade against the starlight.

BOOM IS ON

The reasons for this influx of a quarter-million tourists in one boom season are many:

The weather at other, more established resorts has been disappointing. San Juan's is idyllic.

During the past few years, more than 600 plants have been built by U. S. firms, employing more than a half-million workers. They all have executives, friends and families who want to visit.

For the first time in a decade, there are now months in which more native Puerto Ricans return to their island than choose to leave it.

The round-trip plane fare to San Juan, because of beneficient competition among the carriers is lower than to Miami—only $90, thrift class.

FOREIGN FLAVOR

Besides its beauties and its charm and its kindly-faced casino operators, Puerto Rico offers all the fascination (linguistically and architecturally) of a foreign country. With none of a foreign land's inconveniences.

Its water is pure—and that is the real treasure of a tropic island.

There has been such a constant rise in social and economic development that the local statisticians' pencils are worn to stubble, keeping up.

The life expectancy on the island has increased from 46 to 68 years, in less than two decades; the annual per capita income has quadrupled since 1940; the death rate has dropped sharply and the school enrollment has tripled.

All this and fresh coconuts, too.

Small Car Price Tag Under $2,000—Ford

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Ford Motor Co. will mass produce a small Ford to sell for less than $2,000 in the fall, it was reported today.

In addition, it was said, the company will produce a second, slightly larger compact car under the Edsel name in 1960.

The New York Times, which reported the plans, said:

"Ford's decision to enter the small-car field marks the first break in the ranks of the industry's Big Three. They have been reluctant to make a final commitment, although they have been studying the situation for 18 months.

"General Motors and Chrysler are now expected to announce their own small-car plans quickly. . ."

The new Ford will be a six-passenger model. A complete description of the new car was withheld, but informed sources said it would be similar to the English-built Ford Zepher, with slightly more rear-end overhang for additional trunk space.

Pontiac General Shows Profit

Occupancy Rate Climbs to 97 Per Cent, Says Administrator Euler

The Pontiac General Hospital financial crisis appeared to be a thing of the past today as a substantial monthly profit was reported for the first time in nearly a year.

The operating profit last month was $25,211, thanks to economy measures put into effect during the past six months, the Board of Trustees was told.

Another favorable factor was an occupancy figure above anticipation — 97 per cent, said Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator.

Tightening of the hospital's financial operation resulted in lowering the per-patient day costs to $37.32 last month, he said, compared with last year's average of $42.39.

★ ★ ★

At one point last year, the per-patient day costs were up almost to $50. Total losses last year, including many bad debts which the hospital wrote off as virtually uncollectable, reached a record $195,402.

Last month's profit was figured after reserves had been taken into account, said Euler. The $25,211 did not reflect, however, the fact that the hospital is losing about $11,000 a month in normal depreciation on its equipment, he emphasized.

Main reason for the financial crisis was failure to complete the expansion program, due to the need for unexpected repairs to heating, plumbing and electrical installations in the hospital's east wing.

City Commissioners and Trustees met last night in an effort to decide how to finance the repairs, but came to no conclusion. They'll meet again within two weeks.

Until a decision is reached, City Manager Walter K. Willman said, the expansion program will remain at a standstill. He said local contractors are ready to get the work going again as soon as the city is able to make a financial commitment.

A BIG ONE — Another giant of the Great Lakes ore fleet was launched yesterday afternoon. The 689-foot ore carrier Herbert C. Jackson was initiated at the Great Lakes Engineering works in River Rouge. The ship is virtually complete down to boilers, engines, pilothouse and masts. Its first sailing will be in May. The giant ship, named after the vice president and director of Interlake Steamship Co., will carry 24,000 long tons of iron ore.

Mrs. E. C. Kinsel Dies at Age 81

Former Lake Angelus Resident Built Up Chain of Drugstores

Mrs. Edward C. (Hattie) Kinsel, 81, widow of the founder of Kinsel Drug Co., died Thursday night at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Arthur R. Hoffman of 1001 Covington, Detroit. She had suffered a heart attack.

A semi-invalid for several years, she retired as head of the drug company last year.

For a number of years the Kinsels made their home at Lake Angelus.

Mrs. Kinsel came to Detroit as a child from her native Denmark. After her husband's death in 1928 she became interested in the business. For more than 50 years she was president and director of the stores.

BUILT CHAIN

In expanding the firm, she built the chain to 23 stores, the most famous located diagonally northwest from old Detroit City Hall, known as "Kinsel Corner."

Until the merging with the Cunningham Drug Stores last year, the stores had remained in the family for 70 years.

Mrs. Kinsel leaves another daughter, Mrs. William Downey of Birmingham; four grandchildren, and nine great-grandchildren.

Service will be held at 2:30 p.m. Monday from the William R. Hamilton Co. Chapel, 3975 Cass Ave., Detroit. Burial will be in Roseland Park Mausoleum, Royal Oak.

8,132 Residents Take Advantage of Polio Clinics

A total of 8,132 county residents participated in the four polio clinics sponsored this week by the Pontiac Council of PTAs.

Yesterday 2,872 persons were given Salk vaccine shots at Owen Elementary School. This was the highest number recorded during the four-day campaign, according to Josephine Seeley, codirector of the project.

The second series of polio clinics, to be held at the same four locations — Madison Junior High, Wilson Bethune and Owen Elementary schools — will be held during the week of March 16.

Took Work Seriously

WARSAW (UPI) — Authorities have caught up with some railroad workers who have been taking home their work. They arrested 11 railroad employes who allegedly carted off three miles of the trackage, which they sold to the local state-owned scrap enterprise.

Fear, Silence Mark Probe

Witness Mum When Quizzed on Threats in Vending Business

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate probers waited for an answer after asking a witness:

★ ★ ★

Had he been told he would be dropped in the river with concrete blocks tied to his feet unless the man then sitting next to him were taken into his vending machine business as a partner?

The witness, Ralph Kelly of Elgin, Ill., hesitated. The husky man sitting next to him, Rocco Pranno, glared at him.

★ ★ ★

Kelly replied: "I decline to answer because my answer might tend to incriminate me."

Committee Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) thundered: "Are you going to let this fellow keep you under a state of fear for the rest of your life?"

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy waited, then said: "This man is too frightened to talk."

The exchange came Thursday after James C. Young, a South Elgin tavern owner, said Kelly had taken in Pranno as a partner out of fear of his life. Young testified in the committee's investigation into jukebox and vending machine operations in the Chicago area.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy contends — and witnesses have testified — that Chicago mobsters, particularly the young ones, are trying to establish a stranglehold on the jukebox and pinball-machine business in Chicago suburbs.

★ ★ ★

As testimony in the hearings has developed so far, the syndicate's hoodlums threaten violence — death or crippling—on an operator unless he takes them in, free, as "partners." Then, if he refuses, they smash his machines and terrorize him and his family.

★ ★ ★

Barney Poss, an Aurora, Ill., jukebox operator, told the committee he stood up to threatening mobsters and lived to stay in business.

Herrington Cub Pack Has Awards Banquet

"Carnival" was the theme of the first blue and gold banquet of Cub Scout Pack 50 last night at Herrington School.

Robert Herkimer acted as emcee and Thomas Williams gave a review of last year's activities. Dens 1 and 3 each presented skits for the evening's entertainment.

Den flags were made by Mrs. Martin Lock, Mrs. Howard Tolbert and Mrs. Leo McCaw. Awards were presented by Cubmaster William Geeck, assisted by Paul Vaughn, to Brett R. Lloyd, bobcat; Earl Rode, bear; and Kenneth Parker, lion.

Detroit Waitress Robbed at Work, Kidnaped, Raped

DETROIT (UPI)—A hamburger shop employe was robbed at knifepoint, kidnaped and raped early today by a man who stopped for a cup of coffee.

★ ★ ★

The woman told police she was working alone at the hamburger shop at Schaefer and W. Chicago when a man about 30 years old walked in and ordered a cup of coffee.

She said he then drew a knife and forced her to lay on the floor while he emptied the cash register.

The assailant made the woman crawl to the back door of the shop and get into the back seat of his car.

★ ★ ★

He drove to a rural area where he assaulted her.

The woman was then driven to a vacant house in Dearborn Township where she was released.

April Vote Registration Deadline Is March 9

Deadline for registration for the April 6 biennial spring election is 8 p.m. March 9, said City Clerk Ada R. Evans.

Persons who have turned age 21 or have been residents of the state for six months and the city for one month are eligible to register to vote in the election, she said.

Detroit to New York Jet Service to Start

DETROIT (AP) — American Airlines will start its new prop jet Electra airplane service tomorrow between Detroit and New York.

A jet powered Electra flagship will make the nonstop flight in one hour and a half, cutting 30 minutes off the present fastest time, the company said.

Two nonstop flights will be started tomorrow, one leaving at 11:45 a.m. and the other at 5 p.m. On March 1 the airline will add three more nonstop flights to provide five flights daily each way.

The planes will fly between Detroit's Metropolitan Airport and LaGuardia Field in New York.

The prop jet Electra is manufactured by Lockheed Aircraft Corp. Two Jackson, Mich., firms are among the parts suppliers. Aeroquip Corp. makes hydraulic hose and Mechanical Producers Corp. makes circuit breakers for the plane.

Experiments indicate that the moon may be useful as a reflector for intercontinental telephone messages.

Legislator Van Peursem Quits Politics

Rising GOP Star Goes Out in Lansing

LANSING (AP)—Little more than a year ago, former House Speaker George M. Van Peursem was a rising star on the Republican political horizon. Admirers thought he was destined for the governor's chair.

Today, at 46, the handsome, vigorous Zeelander—by his own choice—was a private citizen, his hands apparently washed of politics for good.

Van Peursem, elected to a fifth two-year term last November, yesterday resigned his House seat to give full time to a promising new business career as general counsel for Holland Furnace Co.

"I feel like a great weight has been lifted from my shoulders," he said in an interview.

★ ★ ★

"My mind has been heavy with this problem since the first of the year.

"How could I do justice to the people of Ottawa County who elected me and the Republican Party on the one hand and my business career and my family on the other?"

As speaker in 1957 and 1958, Van Peursem's time was increasingly taken up with legislative and party work. His law business was neglected, cutting into his income.

★ ★ ★

Two years ago, friends in the Legislature raised a kitty of more than $10,000 to put him on the road between sessions as a spokesman for the Republican cause. Some saw him as the likely 1958 GOP candidate for governor.

"But I continued to go into debt. I have a wife and three children to think about and I thought 'I'm not getting any younger,'" he recalled.

A throat ailment, aggravated by the heavy speaking schedule, sent him to the hospital in December, 1957 for the first of two operations. Hospital and doctor bills piled up more debt.

Van Peursem said he would have quit in early January but for the history-making 55-55 division in the House and the prospect that his resignation would have tipped the balance of power to Democrats.

"That was unthinkable after what my Republican friends have done for me here. I couldn't have done a think like that in 100 years," he said.

★ ★ ★

The Republicans organized the House, aided by the illness of a Democratic lawmaker. Another Democratic house member died.

Then, Van Peursem saw a way out, provided Democratic Gov. Williams would order a special election to fill the vacant Republican seat his resignation would leave.

Williams promised to call the special election April 6—to coincide with on to fill the vacant Democratic seat in Detroit.

And so, George Van Peursem turned in his political uniform.

Tasty Trapping Set Up for Elk in Yellowstone

YELLOWSTONE PARK, Mont. (AP)—Hay used to trap elk in Yellowstone National Park is being flavored with molasses, licorice and spices.

★ ★ ★

Supt. Lemuel A. Garrison said today that not one elk was lured into traps last winer with plain hay. So far this year 175 elk have succumbed to the sweetened hay.

★ ★ ★

The traps are used to keep the Yellowstone elk herd at about 5,000, all the winter range will support.

Prehistoric Bone of Elephant Fresh

WASHINGTON (AP) — A fragment of glacier-preserved bone from a giant prehistoric elephant has been found to be in remarkably fresh condition at least 3,000 years after the mammoth died.

This was reported to the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science today by two physiologists of the University of California, Berkeley.

★ ★ ★

They are researchers H. C. Ezra and S. F. Cook. They said they studied the specimen as part of a comparison of fresh and fossilized bones. Their report was published in the technical journal "Science."

★ ★ ★

New York's American Museum of Natural History provided the preserved specimen, a chunk of leg bone from a skeleton of a mammoth discovered in 1907 at Elephant Point, in Eschscholtz Bay, Alaska.

The skeleton had been unearthed from frozen silt, distributed between ice-layers in the ice cliffs of that area.

Piggy Bank Robbers Strike for 3rd Time

CHESHIRE, Conn. (AP) — Police are looking for the culprits in three bank robberies in two weeks.

They admit they are short on clues. The latest of the robberies in this small town took place in a piggy bank, same as the others. Eight dollars were reported missing from the home of Peter Zavorskas.

Is This a Bargain?

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — If the operators of an Indianapolis restaurant wonder why business is slack, they might check their outdoor sign — the one that reads "Fried Chicken $150, All You Can Eat."

A Printer Gives His Client Extra (Illegal) Lines

ENID, Okla. (AP)—Warren Garner hasn't sold any liquor in constitutionally dry Oklahoma but he's been advertising it just the same.

His package store for the sale of 3.2 beer and soft drinks is listed in the city directory as "Warren's Package Store, liquor and wines, retail."

★ ★ ★

The directory was printed in Dallas in 1957 and the only explanation is that the printer figured that anyone with a package store was in the liquor business and added the extra lines. Texas is a wet state.

Oklahoma may legalize liquor at a special election April 7 and should Garner decide to turn his beverage store into a package liquor store he possibly still would be violating a law.

The proposed law bans all types of liquor advertising.

Pontiac Central Girls in Basketball Tournament

By BARBARA GRIFFIN

Several Pontiac Central High School girls will be concentrating their after-school activities on dribbling, passing, guarding and shooting until March 12, when the Girls Recreation Association's basketball tournament will end.

Three teams, the Dribblettes, the Jokers and the Floor Trotters, are participating. They are captained by Ella Irwin, Kiki Sekles and Gretchen Donaldson, respectively. The tournament started this week.

The GRA, under the sponsorship of Catherine Craig, has set up a new program for admitting members. To be eligible, a girl must earn 100 points by participating in after-school activities. Then, a letter of recommendation must be submitted to the sponsor or officers.

This semester 12 girls have been added to the association. They are Joyce Abcumby, Marlene Beale, Joan Davis, Gretchen Donaldson, Jeanne Glisky, Juanita Graham, Jackie Mullen, Linda Olds, Jessica Ramsey, Edwint Skelley, Joan Ward, and Carlotta Whittaker.

The 10 regular members have earned letters after gaining 400 points. If a girl earns 1,000 points she is then awarded a G.R.A. pin and guard. Letters were awarded to Ruth Bell, Carol Boutin, Linda Crain, Judy Fink, Jean Gordon, Ella Irwin, Georgette Lefnear, Cornelia Riggs, Alice Rives, and Kiki Sekles this week.

SECOND IN DEBATE

The PCH varsity debate team of Clark Davis, Pat DeKay, Stan Walker and Douglas Spurlock reached the finals of the regional tournament held at the University of Michigan and placed second this week.

★ ★ ★

The 10 schools with outstanding debate teams in this area who have won 75 per cent of their season's competition participated. They came from Battle Creek, Lansing, Ionia, Jackson, Berkley, Melvindale, Waterford Township, Farmington, Grand Rapids and Pontiac Central.

The PCH debaters first defeated Melvindale, then Berkley and Waterford Township. They were defeated by Jackson, the 1958 champs, in the final round.

Several weeks ago, PCH won the Saginaw Valley championship for the second consecutive year as well as the Detroit Free Press award for excellence in debate.

Alpha Cribros Hi-Y initiated new members this week. The eight boys were Jim Baker, Dick Doerr, Jim Cousens, John Blamy, Brian Woolcock, Dick Reynolds, Kurt Hardenburg and Jim Tuttle.

PLAN WATER SHOW

"Music Through the Ages" is the theme Dolphins have selected for their annual spring water show, May 8-9 at the new Pontiac Northern High School pool.

Working with the 34 members to perfect routines is the sponsor Nelma Wood, assisted by Madeline McConnell of Northern and Marjorie Jackson of Central.

The Safe-Teen Club, reorganized by George Stewart and his third hour Driver Education class, met yesterday morning in school in the auditorium. The purpose of this club is to promote safety and cut down on the highway death toll.

Stewart spoke about the many aspects of this program and the importance of safe driving. Among the many projects suggested were an all-night safety program on the night of the prom and presenting an assembly for the student body on safe driving.

Members of the Quill and Scroll met to elect officers and new members this week. The new officers are as follows: Dick Reynolds, president; Sherry Fink, vice president; Santhy Annas, recording secretary, Marjorie Crowder, corresponding secretary, and Linda Cousens, treasurer.

It is an honor to become a member of the national society for students doing outstanding work in school publications. One must be at least of junior standing, in the upper third of hisc lass, approved by the executive secretary, recommended by the advisor or committee concerning publications, and have done superior work in some phase of journalism or creative endeavor.

Vicki Annas, Nancy Donaldson, Dianne Flicker, Gail Gibson, Ken Freer, Sue Koprince, Tom Nichols, Dick Parr, Dick Rogers, Kiki Sekles, Barbara Shadley, Sue Sommerville, Sue Steinbaugh, Judy Ward and Jerry Willis are the 15 students who were excepted for membership in this organization this week.

INSTALL OFFICERS

The new semester for the Future Teachers Club brought about a change in officers. A candlelight ceremony was held to install the following new officers: Donna Gravel, president; Carolyn Goines, vice president; Linda Stickney, secretary, and Don Hunt, treasurer.

The American Field Service Student Committee and all the A F S. exchange students and their American brothers and sisters in the Oakland County area toured Lansing yesterday and Michigan State University. They met Gov. Williams and Sen. L. Harvey Lodge.

Students from Pontiac Central who went were Sherry Fink, Jackie Earon, Sue Koprince, Sue Smith, Barbara Shadley, Renate Walterskerschin, and Greg Uligan.

Begin Plays Ticket Sales Next Week at Northern

By COLLEEN ADAMS

Tickets are going on sale next week for the "Lowland Sea" and "Cumberland Fair" at Pontiac Northern High School, two operettas to be held March 5, 6, and 7.

The senior class has been refused their plan to erect a statue of a Husky dog in the front of the school. The plan was sent to the architects for approval, but it was turned down because the design of the statue didn't coincide with the architectural design of the school.

Therefore, new plans are being made to use the money collected by the seniors in another way.

Two ideas have been suggested: place lawn furniture on the patio outside of the cafeteria for all seniors to use during their lunch hours and free periods or place a plaque from the first graduating class in one of the halls.

The seniors are planning a sock-hop after the Northern-Cranbrook game tonight.

Northern's bowling league is getting well under way. The sponsor, Karen Violetta, is in charge of the seven teams. There are four members to each team.

Officers recently elected are: Donna Mapley, president; Sandi Tinson, secretary; and Dathleen Weitz, treasurer. Members of the various teams include: The "Gutter Dusters"—Donna Mapley, Corranne Craig, Nancy Weaver, Darlene Marcom. The "Marks" are George Leach, Bob Dean, Larry Watkins and Gary Schrubba.

The "Foxie Four" are Kay Twitchel, Sally McClellan, Margo Sayre, and Joan Golden. The "Sharpshooters" include Sherry Gremore, Rita Graves, Kathleen Weitz, and Karen Gorkie. Dick Delano, Cynthia Sach, Eddie Murray, and Marilyn Kelly are the "Lucky Strike's."

The "Pin Choppers" are Diane Swansey, Carolyn McBurney, Sandi Tinson, and Lenore Hoganson and the "Fire Balls" are Sharon Bratt, Linda Hogg, Janet Suchow, and Camelia Scott.

The seniors challenged the faculty to a basketball game this week and it was played with a lot of laughs, thrills and spills.

★ ★ ★

The score was 30-28 in favor of the faculty. The senior boys are planning on challenging the Varsity team next.

Council Turns Off Love Song by Mistake

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The singing voice of Frank Sinatra echoed through the City Council chambers as the councilmen took their seats.

★ ★ ★

"Can't we get that jukebox turned off?" asked Councilman Harold Henry.

A moment later Henry, as presiding officer, banged his gavel and said:

"The chair apologizes. The chair understands the authors of the song just played are in the council chamber to be honored this morning. Put the record back on."

That was how song writers Sammy Cahn and Jimmy Van Heusen received a City Council resolution honoring their current hit song, "To Love And Be Loved."

Their Concern Is for Sharks, Not Skin Divers

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Would the Aquarium people permit underwater swimmers to enter the tank and feed the shark?

That was the question asked by the Young Women's Christian Assn. It wanted to show off skin diving techniques to get publicity for its adult classes.

Heck no, the Aquarium people replied. They said the shark, not used to swimming around with people, would get so frightened he'd dash toward the glass and bash his brains out.

Disc Data and Chatter

Music in the Round

by Dick Saunders

SAUNDERS

FIVE ACES: Don't look now, but we cashed in all but one of last week's winning hand and came up with four wild cards.

Tops in the Pontiac area is a hot seller, "Venus" (Frankie Avalon), way out in front of the bunch. Sneaking into second spot is "I've Had It" (The Bell Notes).

The last title must describe how Lloyd Price feels since his disc of "Stagger Lee" is slipping and just manages to grab third place this week. Fourth, and climbing is "Charlie Brown" (The Coasters). Last among the top five is another comer, "It's Just A Matter Of Time" (Brook Benton).

The jazz world buried the last of its greatest brother combination this week.

Last Saturday, in Chicago, the body of a slight 64-year-old Negro was found in the bedroom of his boarding house where he lived alone.

His name was Warren "Baby" Dodds, "kid brother" of the legendary Johnny Dodds, who died in 1940 and who is looked upon by many jazz authorities and musicians as the greatest New Orleans clarinetist who ever lived.

★ ★ ★

Likewise, "Baby" Dodds is considered the greatest of pioneer jazz drummers. He played with the best bands in New Orleans and on the Mississippi riverboats until he moved to Chicago.

That was in 1921, when he joined his brother at the famed Lincoln Gardens, becoming an important part of the King Oliver Creole Jazz Band, generally looked upon as the greatest traditional jazz band of all time.

He played with bands led by such greats as Louis Armstrong, Freddy Keppard, Jelly Roll Morton, Sidney Bechet, Jimmie Noone, Bunk Johnson, and in 1946 he recorded a set of extraordinary drum solos. "Baby" was also an accomplished washboard player, which has become a lost art.

★ ★ ★

The jazz world, to which he devoted his life, will miss the little man who carried a big stick.

Mother, 3 Children Rescued From Fire

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP)—A mother and her three young children were rescued from their rooftop as fire raced through a frame house in LaSalle yesterday.

★ ★ ★

The home, occupied by two families, was destroyed.

Mrs. Girard Sauve said she was in bed when her oldest boy, Gary, 5, came running and told of a downstairs fire.

★ ★ ★

"It was impossible to go downstairs so I grabbed my three children, Gary, Bradley, 3, and William, 15 months, and crawled out the bedroom window and onto the roof of the back kitchen," she said.

A neighbor rushed over with a ladder and aided in the rescue.

She Breaks Hip, Crawls on Ice to Find Help

CLINTON (AP) — A 55-year-old woman who crawled for nearly four hours in near-zero cold with a broken hip and wrist was reported in satisfactory condition today.

Mrs. Elizabeth Cook, who lives alone, fell on the ice near her rural Clinton home yesterday.

She was unable to get back up on her feet and decided to try to crawl to the home of her nearest neighbor—about a mile and a half away.

Mrs. Cook was about 150 feet from the neighbor's home when she was seen and taken to a hospital.

Wife Has Cause for Jitters—Abby

Bluebeard Also Had Room He Kept Locked--Remember?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: My wife thinks she's on the verge of a nervous breakdown and is seeing a doctor. He claims I am the cause of her trouble because I have a room in the house which I keep locked up. It contains my business records, personal correspondence, magazines, tools, etc. If she ever wants anything from this room, she has only to ask for it when I'm around.

ABBY

"I spent most of my evenings in this room because I'm tired after a hard day's work and don't want to be disturbed. If I don't keep this room locked she'd be snooping around and would mislay things trying to clean up. I don't think this is anything for her to get upset about. Am I or am I not entitled to my privacy?"

WRONGED

DEAR WRONGED: This is more than "privacy"—its secrecy. A man does not need a room in which to lock up his "business records, personal correspondence, magazines, tools, etc." unless he has something to hide. Have you?

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: Please give me your honest opinion of my mother's actions. On New Year's Eve I had a date with a fellow I had dated a few times before. When he came for me, my mother said he looked feverish so, Abby, she went and got the thermometer and took his temperature!

"He is a 17-year-old boy, Abby, (I am 16) and I wanted to crawl into a hole and die. He didn't have any temperature, fortunately, so she let us go. But I would like to know your opinion of a mother like that."

EMBARRASSED

DEAR EMBARRASSED: I think she's wonderful.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: My husband has been 'losing' handkerchiefs at the rate of four a week. I have been finding lipstick on his collar lately so I put two and two together. He comes home right after work so he must be fooling around on his lunch hour. Is there any way I can catch him, or should I tell him I am wise? I have no children to keep our home together for."

NOBODY'S FOOL

DEAR NOBODY'S: Lay all your cards on the table, and ask him to do likewise. At least he'll know that he's married to an intelligent woman.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I read that letter from the girl who said she was "TOO DECENT" and it could have been me a year ago. But not any more. I thought if I gave him his way and showed him how much I loved him I would never lose him. Well, I was wrong.

'After I gave in to him, the very next night he came over and took me for a ride. I told him I was through with that kind of stuff and he told me to get out of the car. I asked him how I was going to get home (we were miles from home) and he said, 'It won't be hard for a girl like you to get a ride.' I thought my heart would break. Please, Abby, print this. Boys will take what they want and call you a dirty name the next day."

NOT DECENT ANY MORE

Big Crowd Turns Out for Concert

Junior High Vocal Music Festival Is Well Received

The citywide Junior High Music Festival was presented Wednesday evening to a large and appreciative audience. Nearly a thousand teenagers and their parents assembled for this concert.

The opening chorus "Music Alone Shall Live" seemed to be the guiding point throughout an evening of varied and interesting music.

★ ★ ★

Many of the songs were especially fitting for the spirit of the Lenten season. "Were You There," and "O Rest In The Lord" seemed to capture the true spiritual meaning of the composers.

ADDED SPARK

The Tanden Riders, Leroy Franklin and Charlotte Miller from Eastern Junior High and the Scottish dancers, Beverly Benson, Barbara Payne, Claudia Edwards and Susy McGeen from Lincoln, gave an added spark to the massed numbers. The Calypso players and dancers from Jefferson were enthusiastically received by the large audience.

A brass quartet from Washington Junior High School composed of Paul Aldo, William Cunningham, John DePauw and James Forman gave an excellent performance, adding the necessary brilliance and color to the patriotic "Hail to Our Country."

★ ★ ★

Special musical organizations representing each school proved very entertaining and showed a great deal of preparation on the part of the individual directors.

Altogether it was an inspirational as well as educational evening.

Calling Custom Disappears

Phone His Mother Before Going to Visit Her

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I'd always been brought up to imagine that calling on newcomers in the neighborhood, or church, was as automatic as a man's tipping his hat to a lady. But now I live in a big city in a large apartment house.

"We have new neighbors on our floor. Somehow I can't bring myself to ring their front door bell and say, 'I'm your neighbor in 9-B.' Does this rule apply when living in a large apartment house?"

Answer: In our very large cities where new tenants are almost continuously moving into the other apartments in one's building, the old courtesy of calling on new neighbors is not followed in a communal dwelling.

"Dear Mrs. Post: A boy friend left for another state to work. I never met his mother but she is a shut-in and he asked me to go to see her while he was away. Would it be proper for me to go? Should I telephone first or just go?"

Answer: It would be entirely proper to go to see her, but it would be best to talk with her over the telephone first. Tell her who you are and that John has asked you to go to see her while he is away. She will undoubtedly invite you to come—and then you go at the time she suggests.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Our son will be christened soon. At the date of the christening he will be six months old. I would like to know if it would be proper to dress him in a long christening dress.

"The reason I ask is because I have been told that a long christening dress is not suitable for a child this age and that it is only worn by one- or two-month-old babies. Will you advise me?"

Answer: A boy of six months is not too old to be christened in a long dress.

Men Enjoy It

Perfume Not Magic--but It Helps

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "Will you settle an awful argument between two women? Is it true that there is a perfume which draws men to women? If so, what is the name of it? I have a friend whose husband is just crazy about her and she uses a certain perfume and says that is the reason. I bought a small bottle and my husband kissed me goodnight for the first time in weeks. Can you give me the name of the best kind?"

A. So far as I know there is no one magic perfume which will guarantee undying love. However I think most men do enjoy having their women use perfume. You seem to be doing just fine with the one you are using. Don't change brands!

Q. "Ever since taking some pills which my doctor gave me for reducing, my hair has been falling out. Could this be the cause? I am only 26 and getting bald."

A. I do not imagine that anything your doctor gave you would have this effect. I suggest that you ask him about it. If this trouble continues and he cannot help you, see a skin specialist.

Q. "If a person goes to bed and gets eight hours sleep and then feels as tired when she awakens as if she had no sleep, is this emotional fatigue? Should one be rested from physical work after a good night's sleep? Please explain this because I am so tired in the morning."

A. A person should feel rested after a good night's sleep. If you awaken every morning feeling tired, there is something wrong and you should have a physical check-up. Your fatigue could come from such an emotional state as boredom. Pehaps, unconsciously, you do not want to get up and face the day.

Q. "Which do men prefer—fat knees or very skinny knees?"

A. Well, I do not know, but if the fat knees have dimples, perhaps they prefer these.

Q. "Not long ago you had some exercises for the face in the paper and you said always to apply cold cream before taking them. Why? I like to do them during spare moments, hardly ever have time at night, and can't use cream in the daytime."

A. I ask you to apply cream before taking the exercises because this lubricates the skin so that it does not crease or line permanently because of facial gymnastics. Try to find time to do it this way.

HIGH ABOVE MT. HOLLY — Looking down over the peaks of the Holly Recreation area, this aerial view shows the scenic Mt. Holly Ski Club located on Dixie Highway just 18 miles north of Pontiac. Mt. Holly has 8 electrically operated tows and a snow-making machine which makes skiing available when there is an absence of natural snow. The slopes are lighted for night skiing and from the lodge, in the middle foreground, a scenic picture-window view of the slopes is used by spectators and skiers.

MSU Treasury Almost Empty

Can Just Meet Feb. 26 Payroll but Will Need More Funds Soon

EAST LANSING (UPI)—Michigan State University's governing body got a bleak report yesterday on the condition of the University's treasury.

Controller Philip May told the State Board of Agriculture the school will just barely be able to make its Feb. 27 payroll of just under two million dollars.

But he said MSU will need more than its normal $2,100,000 payment in March to keep in operation.

The state is three months behind in its appropriations to both MSU and the University of Michigan because of the state's cash crisis. The schools borrowed for a while from banks but banks cut off further credit last month.

"We've been looking this ghost in the face ever since November," said Assistant MSU Treasurer Merrill Pierson.

Student fees collected in January already have been spent.

Asia—Free World's Stake in the Future

Red China Casts Its Shadow on Southeast

Dr. Lin Yutang presents here the last of his reports on free China, based on a tour of our side of Red China's Bamboo Curtain. A summary and conclusions which challenge America to greater "Asia-mindedness" will appear tomorrow.

By LIN YUTANG

Written for NEA Service

NEW YORK—The shadow of Red China lies heavily across Southeast Asia, a cluster of quaint and contradictory nations, some old, mostly new, but the battle of minds may still be won for freedom.

At the heart of this area lies Bangkok. This is the capital of ancient Thailand.

It is also and rightly the headquarters for SEATO, for the defense of Southeast Asia, and ECAFE, for economic assistance by the United Nations.

Here, in the city of the Buddhas, monks clad in bright orange robes walk placidly along the canal, alms bowl in hand, shaven heads bowed in thought.

Every Siamese man, even the King, assumes for a time the orange robe and lives in the temple.

This is the past, and the omnipresent orange catches the traveler's eyes as do the many antiquities and objects of art.

WHAT LIES BELOW?

But what lies below? Nationalism, totalitarianism, propaganda and infiltration.

In Thailand as in all of this area—Viet Nam, Cambodia, Burma, Ceylon, Malaya, Singapore and Indonesia—the desire to modernize struggles with the drag of tradition. Totalitarianism wars with democracy.

The tug of ideologies is real and immediate. Red China concentrates here its campaign of infiltration, striving to enlist as its agents the large resident population of "overseas Chinese," who are in most cases the merchants and bankers.

These are the countries of the so-called Colombo Plan, which aims at a slow, methodical raising of the standard of living.

Aside from this there is a curious lack of ideas on how to meet the challenge of Marxist ideas to the minds of young Asian radicals.

I was astonished during my tour of free Asia to witness a gigantic demonstration for "Free China" and against communism by the overseas Chinese of Thailand.

With an orchestra and 2,000 government guests, they overflowed the Central Park which is dominated by a statue of the fifth King of Siam.

Chinese friends told me this was the biggest Chinese nationalist celebration in 10 years. They admitted that a year before they would not have dared shout "Down with Communism," which I heard everywhere.

What had happened? I have talked with responsible Chinese and American officials and a few Thai ministers and ex-premiers and one royal prince.

The picture is complex. The Siamese are a lovely, childlike people and many leaders are modern-minded, but their struggle to be a democracy sharply reminds me of that in many Latin American republics.

FAMILIAR SITUATION

It is easily a situation which resolves itself into government by a military junta, which has happened in Thailand and which has been repeated in Iraq, Pakistan, Sudan and elsewhere in Asia.

This is, I am afraid, a constant factor, forgotten by those who think too lightly of founding a western-style democracy and it must be borne in mind in any consideration of Asiatic policy.

The one clear fact is that these leaders are first of all nationalists and patriots, with varying degrees of capacity and facades of democarcy.

If we get one leader with a keen social consciousness like Ataturk of Turkey, we are lucky.

I also believe Communist China and Russia are more hated and distrusted by the national leaders of Asia than we allow them credit for.

Some of these, like Egypt's Nasser, are playing Russia for what they can get.

All propaganda to the contrary, essentially the naked territorial ambitions and expansion of spheres of interest of the Russian Empire are taken by sober men for what they are.

Everywhere it is the youth who are taken in. Anywhere you see abnormal activity of student organizations like harmonica clubs, glee clubs, theatrical clubs, you can be almost sure that foreign agents are active in school circles.

What seems to have turned the tide in most of the countries of Southeast Asia is the commercial dumping policy, conceived by Nikita Khrushchev and carried out by Russia and Red China.

Khrushchev has threatened a commercial war with the capitalist countries. The first few shots at least, have misfired.

COUNT ON UNREST

By dumping is meant selling of goods below the world market price and below cost. Probably Khrushchev and Mao Tse-tung had counted on the economic unrest created by such large-scale dumping.

Any state capitalist country, which is Russia and which is Red China, can afford to sell below cost for political purposes.

Consequently, Chinese rice was dumped at approximately one-third less than Siamese rice, the latter's principal export, and it hurt Siam.

Russian tin was dumped on the world markets and it hurt Malaya.

* * *

In consequence, both Malaya and Singapore forced the Bank of China, the principal infiltration center of Red China, to close down, besides banning Red Chinese publications, following Thailand's example.

In retaliation, Red China is causing a great slump in rubber in Singapore and Malaya by buying rubber only from Indonesia and Ceylon.

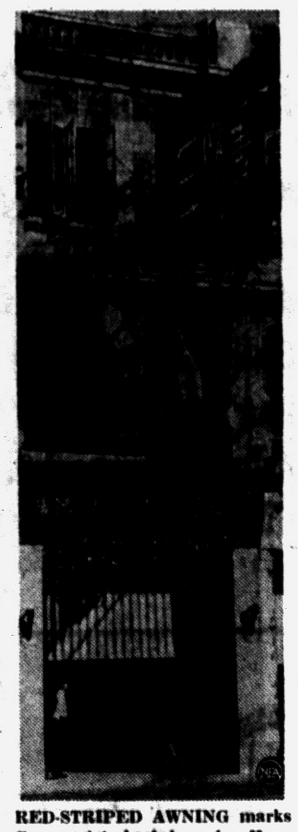

The Indonesian government of Sukarno has been obliging enough to compel the over one million overseas Chinese in its territory to "register" at the Communist Chinese embassy.

From any angle, from rampant corruption and inefficiency to collaboration with the Communists, Sukarno's government easily is the worst in Asia.

Hong Kong, the British Crown colony, is secure for a few years, at least. It has bought that security by becoming Red China's most important prop for her foreign exchange.

GOOD BUSINESS

Of course, it is good business for Great Britain, but even better business for Red China, for the Communist exports exceed their imports by four to one and not all their imports are from Great Britain, the firms acting as middlemen.

RED-STRIPED AWNING marks Communist bookshop in Hong Kong, where all stores are flooded with cut-rate Commie merchandise of all kinds.

Communist Chinese exports via Hong Kong, according to Hong Kong Government Gazette of Sept. 13, 1958, totaled 831.45 million Hong Kong dollars for the first eight months of the year. This would amount to about 180 to 190 million U. S. dollars a year.

The extent and the nature of the Communist dumping at Hong Kong are staggering. Shantung peanuts, Tientsin prawns, Yangcheng-hu crabs.

And most incredible of all, the famous melons of Hami, across the Gobi desert, which few people in China ever tasted, are now sold in the ordinary markets of Hong Kong.

Hong Kong department stores overflow with Communist books, cotton goods, thermos bottles, sheets, towels, porcelain, all sold at cut prices.

Sewing machines are sold at one-fifth less than the price of Japanese machines and two-fifths less than that of American.

This is the commercail competition that Khrushchev promises.

State capitalists, not having to pay for labor and with complete ownership of the produced goods, can do us much harm in this line.

A big Japanese textile firm was hurt to the tune of one million U. S. dollars last year. Eventually only the concerted action of governments can prevent this kind of dumping.

Unless the Communists realize in time that trade war is a two-edged sword and begin to feel the cutting edge against their own necks.

Crowd Defies Panama Prexy

Takes Over City Hall, Installs 11 Councilmen for Capital

PANAMA (AP) — An orderly crowd of thousands early today defied President Ernesto de La Guardia Jr. and installed 11 new city councilmen for the Panamanian capital.

The crowd seized control of City Hall Wednesday after the blackjacking of a radio commentator who accused the council of mishandling city funds. The council refused to resign, and the president said he had no legal power to remove it since the councilmen's elected four-year terms do not end until next year.

De La Guardia has appealed for the people to wait until an investigation could be made of the financial charges.

Leaders of the popular movement announced a general strike would be called if necessary to put the new council in full control.

The march on the municipal building Wednesday came after office hours and there was no violence. Leaders of the demonstration constituted themselves as a "Revolutionary Municipal Junta" and said they would run the city until the council was replaced.

Thursday the crowd around city hall alternately diminished and grew but remained orderly. All municipal offices except the courts stayed shut.

Getting Cat Off Axle Proves to Be Difficult Job

Driving around town with a cat on your axle is a bit wearing on the nerves, admits Mrs. Louise M. Stamenoff of Rochester. The same thing can probably be said for the cat's nerves, too.

Mrs. Stamenoff, who lives at 204 Greegs St. in Rochester, was on her way home from work in Detroit when she heard meows. They persisted. She stopped her car at the Conner Police Station at the corner of Gratiot avenue and Conners road. "It's annoying," she told officers, "People are stopping and staring at me. It's all because of that cat under my car."

Lt. Eugene Ziolkowski and patrolman Edward Mikus had a look. There was Axel the cat all right — pearched out of reach on the rear axle and showing no tendency to leave.

The officers employed various forms of persuasion, but to no avail. Axel remained a cool cat and would not be intimidated.

The officers still had an ace up their sleeves. Out came the hoses. Cool cat or no, Axel took unkindly to the shivering blast of frigid water.

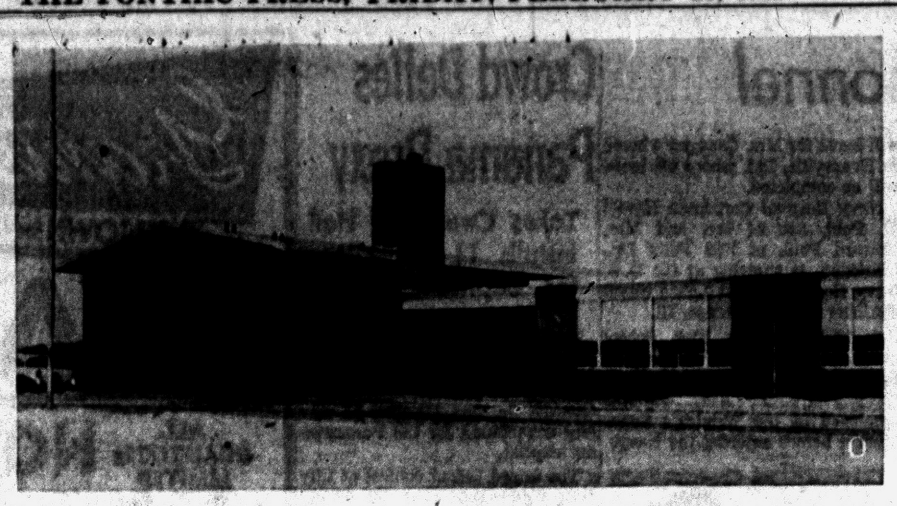

★ ★ ★

He darted from his perch and leaped onto the axle of a nearby police ambulance. Mrs. Stamenoff left.

Problems, problems. It was too much for the policemen. They called the dogcatcher.

A few slashes from Axel the cat fell harmlessly on the dogcatcher's heavy leather gloves and the feline was removed. He is being held, however.

The men say Axel will be taken away for observation later, "after all, this is a different kind of cat," they said. "Probably the Motor City got to be too much for him."

AVON TOWNSHIP — The Johnny Castor benefit performance of "Abie's Irish Rose" here realized $266 for care of the 5-year-old leukemia victim, Mrs. Clarence Norman, chairman of the charity fund, reported today.

★ ★ ★

The money will go toward paying doctors' bills for the stricken youngster who must undergo either blood transfusions or tests every other day, she said.

Altogether, approximately $450 has been donated to keep the boy alive since his blood malady was discovered at Christmas time. Other contributions were placed in canisters at the schools or mailed in to the Johnny Castor Fund.

The $266 taken in by the play was clear profit as all expenses were covered by special contributions intended for that purpose, Mrs. Norman said.

The play was presented a week ago by members of the Curtain Call Theater Troupe, who freely donated their time for Johnny's cause. Two hundred persons attended the performance in the Avondale High School in spite of the sleet and icy road conditions.

The Johnny Castor Fund Committee is composed of one member each from the Avondale Metropolitan Club, the local Veterans of Foreign Wars, Auburn Heights Lions Club, Auburn Heights Civic Council and the Avondale School System.

★ ★ ★

Further donations can be mailed to the Johnny Castor Fund in care of Lloyd Carlton, 2137 Auburn Rd., Pontiac, committee representative of the Avondale Metropolitan Club, Mrs. Norman said.

Gets Last Wish: Ashes Scattered Over Bataan

CHICAGO (AP) — An American GI who saw many of his buddies die in the defense of the Bataan Peninsula against the Japanese in 1942 will get his last request — that his ashes be scattered over Bataan.

★ ★ ★

Emmett F. Gibson, a lieutenant in the 192nd Tank Battalion, was wounded in the battle. Many men in the unit were from his home town of Maywood, a Chicago suburb.

★ ★ ★

"Some of the fellows he grew up with are buried there," said George Dravo, a wartime buddy. "They were killed in the fighting or died during the death march."

Gibson died last July.

Sofronic Abrera, Philippine consul-general in Chicago, said he will ask President Carlos P. Garcia to arrange the ceremony.

Sorry, Fellows, but Your Story Is ALL Wrong

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Here's what a pair of vivid imaginations can do to a set of facts.

Two 10-year-old boys rushed to police in suburban Darby. They said they saw four men beat a man in a white apron, throw him in the trunk of a car and drive off.

★ ★ ★

A little police checking brought out the facts. First, there were only two men, Angelo De Natale, 23, a mechanic, and his shop foreman, John Romanchick, 33. Second, they hadn't tossed a fist in anger.

★ ★ ★

Third, they were road-testing a customer's car and De Natale crawled into the trunk to check for noises.

Three Men Face Robbery Charge

Accused in Holdup of Rose Township Victim at His Home

ROSE TOWNSHIP — Robbery warrants were issued against three men yesterday by the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office in Pontiac.

Two of the suspects, Charles Bradley, 22, of 1740 Orchid St., and Richard C. Lance, 24, of 1248 Parkway Dr., both of Waterford Township, were charged with armed robbery of William Andrews, 85, of 3466 S. Holly Rd., here Monday night.

The accused assailants are both ex-convicts on parole, said sheriff's detectives. They were scheduled for arraignment before Springfield Township Justice Emmett J. Leib sometime today.

The third party, Billy J. Gray, 25, of 13571 Davisburg Rd., Davisburg, was charged with robbery unarmed and is being held for further questioning before being arraigned. Detectives said Gray drove the car and had no past police record.

★ ★ ★

The men are accused of robbing Andrews of $34 at his home Monday, and then tying him to a bed in the house. It took Andrews more than an hour to free himself.

Children Go Back Into Inferno—Perish

LEESBURG, Fla. (AP) — Two children, taken to safety once when their one-room frame house caught fire today, wandered back into the flaming dwelling and burned to death.

Their mother was burned seriously in getting three other children outside before the roof collapsed.

★ ★ ★

The dead children were Edward Norton, 11, and Donald, 5, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Arzo Norton.

Mrs. Norton was hospitalized.

The husband, a truck driver at Ocala, was not at home when the fire broke out about 4 a.m.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Norton reportedly put Edward and Donald out a window first, then went to save her other children. For some unexplained reason, the children wandered back into the burning house and were not missed.

CONVICTS WITH CONVICTIONS — Miss Carol Sharpe (left) and Mrs. Chloeann Beck, dressed as convicts, picket near the Capitol in Washington in a demonstration for restoration of voting rights for District of Columbia citizens. The demonstration, sponsored by the Washington Home Rule Committee, coincided with the introduction in Congress of a home rule bill for voteless District of Columbia.

Bob Considine Says:

Gastronomic Discrimination Is a Shame

NEW YORK—People . . . places . . . things . . .

Anarchy has emerged from lesser indignities than one that has been heaped on my friend Benny Tosti. Don't know Benny Tosti, eh? Well, Benny's one of the pioneers who changed the East Forties of Manhattan into Steakville, U.S.A.

Benny's under orders to lay off the garlic in the salad. It says so in Benny's lease. It says, right there in black and white, that the neighbors object to the aroma of garlic and that if Benny gets gay with the heady stuff, out he goes like a bum.

It's sadism, that's what it is.

Here's what happened to the 3,968 students locked out of Little Rock's four senior high schools by Gov. Faubus' decree: 2,873 transferred to other schools; 1,029 are attending the city's three largest private schools (all segregated); 405 are taking courses by mail; 1,100 enrolled in public schools in other parts of the state; 339 left the state; 825 are getting no formal education.

The campaign to make a fitting war memorial out of the sunken remains of the USS Arizona, resting on the mud of Pearl Harbor with hundreds of bodies entombed, is picking up momentum as a result of television shows featuring Jerry Lewis and Ralph Edwards. There is more than $200,000 now in hand.

It has come in fat checks from corporations and the tinkling pennies from children's piggy banks. And from Jimmy Carden, engineman first class, USN, who lives at Coulee Dam, Wash. Jimmy sent the money not to the commission in charge but to the old ship herself:

"I'm sending $1 to your memorial fund," Carden wrote as to an old friend. I was one of your crew—April 1917 to July 1920. Do you remember? Remember Brest, and President Wilson? England, and the fog and those kindly people? Smyrna, and the battle between the Turks and Greeks and those 300 women and children we took aboard, crying?

"They will never understand the emotions of an old man, but I'll never forget you."

Capt. Eugene Guild, USA (ret.), head of Fighting Homefolks of Fighting Men, has written the President as follows:

"This is to confirm our telegrams to you dated Feb. 6 and 7 urging you to accept the Khrushchev invitation and to go to the U.S.S.R. with the express purpose of visiting the places where the State Department reports some of our missing soldiers are being held.

More than 95 per cent of all the mail received by NBC in the wake of its month-long Image Russia radio series commended the network for its attempt to bring about a little clearer understanding of the Soviet Union.

The scripts of the show are being sought by several New York book publishers. There will be a long-playing album. Many universities, libraries, high schools and clubs have asked for the tapes.

One correspondent may have summed up the whole reception of the series when he wrote, "It is more important to understand these people than to beat them to the moon."

Federal Agency Probes 3 Mid-Air Near Collisions

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—The Federal Aviation Agency has launched an investigation into three near collisions between military and civilian craft this week.

★ ★ ★

Two of the incidents were reported Thursday. A total of 74 passengers were involved in all three.

Meanwhile, the Air Force called for "more reliable facilities" for all aircraft traffic control.

★ ★ ★

A Capital Airlines pilot reported Thursday his plane dived to avoid a B47 jet bomber 30 miles northeast of here.

On the same day an American Airlines plane reported narrowly missing a Navy trainer near Indianapolis.

Last Tuesday, Eastern Air Lines reported one of its planes had to evade a B47 near Chattanooga, Tenn. Three of its 17 passengers were hospitalized.

★ ★ ★

Capital pilot Robert Spink said he was flying at 19,000 feet under ground traffic guidance. The B47, commanded by Maj. George R. Erks, was on a training mission from Homestead Air Force Base, Fla.

The Air Force said the B47 was under visual flight rules and that civilian air controllers had been notified of the bombers in the Charlotte area.

Capital Airlines said its planes had been notified of the training maneuver.

Under air traffic regulations, planes flying under visual flight rule are responsible to be alert for planes under ground control.

Spink said some of the 34 passengers were shaken up when he plunged the airliner 600 feet to avoid the six-jet bomber.

Erks said his B47 was climbing as it passed within 300 feet of the airliner. Its communications were with a ground radar unit.

Twenty-three passengers were aboard the American Airlines plane, which executed a tight bank to avoid a Navy plane at 7,000 feet near Indianapolis, the airline pilot said.

In the Eastern airliner incident, the Miami-bound plane was flying at 23,000 feet on an instrument flight plan. The pilot said he hadn't been informed of military craft in his vicinity.

Orbit Schedule Computer Vital to Space Man

WASHINGTON (AP) — The future man in space may some day get an answer to the important question "Where am I?" from the computing system now cranking out orbit schedules for America's new weather satellite.

★ ★ ★

The answer will be vital. For a space voyager must know how high he is and how fast he is traveling in order to plan his return.

The prediction that the Vanguard computing center here will be able to provide the answer came today from Dr. Evelyn Boyd and Chester Raker, two of the mathematician programmers.

The new Vanguard continued to slice through space today sending back weather information from its orbit.

★ ★ ★

Although the orbit of Vanguard II was not announced until a couple of hours after it was launched, Raker said today the center was sure of an orbit within 15 to 30 minutes after launching.

Immediately after the launching Tuesday at Cape Canaveral, Fla., a new computer at the launching ste — fed by radar sightings — started pouring out predictions at the rate of 10 a second.

★ ★ ★

These forecast for Canaveral's range safety officer the place where the rocket would fall if its power failed.

Asks National Park

CHARLOTTETOWN, Canada (AP) — The Prince Edward Island Historical Society wants to turn Fort Amherst, overlooking the harbor here, into a national historic park. The old fort was settled by the French early in the 18th Century.

Seminar to Review Kierdorf Arson Case

One of the most baffling arson cases in Michigan—the one which police say took Frank Kierdorf's life last August—will be discussed March 2-4 at the University of Michigan's second annual arson control seminar.

Among those scheduled to speak is George F. Taylor, chief assistant Oakland County prosecutor who assisted in the investigation of the "human torch" case.

Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore also is scheduled to talk before the estimated 200 firemen, policemen and private investigators expected to attend the meeting.

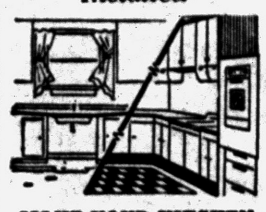

The conference is sponsored by the Fire Marshal Division of Michigan State Police, which also worked on the Kierdorf case, and the university's Extension Service.

The seminar will give particular attention to legal aspects of arson detection and proof, and the use of arson by juveniles in teenage gang wars in many major cities.

Shirley MacLaine to Do 'Career' for Hal Wallis

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD—Out of the blue (after months and months of battlin') Hal Wallis gave Shirley MacLaine a whopping bonus check. This happy event did not take place until Shirley said she would co-star in "Career" with Dean Martin. But the redhead is so delighted that Hal can count on her to fulfill, without a grumble, the two remaining commitments she has with him.

Shirley looks like a new woman these days in her short (newly blonde) eggbeater haircut given her by stylist Nellis Anley for her role in the Wallis picture.

★ ★ ★

Here's something to look for—Edward G. Robinson Sr., and Eddie G. Robinson Jr., emote for the first time together on the Zane Grey Theater TV show, "Loyalty," beaming on April 2.

It was Dick Powell's bright idea to unite the Sr. and Jr. Robinsons in one of his Zane Grey dramas. Can't remember when the cigar smoking Eddie Sr. has made a Western and he told me, "I can't either."

"Loyalty" is a good title for the joint appearance of the Robinsons. Eddie Sr. has been a most devoted father to young Ed.

★ ★ ★

You could say without a feeling of contradiction that Brigitte Bardot is going from one extreme to another, after all her semi-nude portrayals, she'll be seen as a French parachutist with the resistance movement in "Brigitte Goes to War," in full uniform throughout the picture, and is completely clothed.

Now her fans can make up their minds whether it's Brigitte's unorthodox costumes, or her tousled hair that they like about the little lady.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Flying in Saturday from Montreal is Steve Crane, who has been in Canada for months opening another Luau restaurant. He plans to marry Helen Redding Demaree very soon.

Good news. Audrey Hepburn walked into her dining room to have dinner with Mel Ferrer, and has been given permission by her doctor to fly back to Durango on the 28th instead of a week later.

At the Villa Capri, Lindsay Crosby was with Molly Bee, one of the very nicest girls in this town.

Same place, Gary Crosby was buying spaghetti for Rita Moreno.

Anna Maria Alberghetti has received her engagement ring from Buddy Bregman, and she hasn't worn a glove since.

Wowie! Ernie Borgnine looks like a juvenile! He came back from Australia 30 pounds lighter. Katy Jurado met him at the plane at 6:30 a.m., and he spent most of the day on the set of "One-Eyed Jacks" with her.

The singing McGuire sisters have something to sing about. They are in town filming commercials for a soft drink company, and for this they are being paid $250,000. They open at the Desert Inn in Las Vegas Feb. 24.

Jay Paley is better this morning than he has been in four years.

Judy Garland did eight encores at the Fountainbleu in Miami. She sang "I Can't Give You Anything But Love" twice, and dedicated a song to Joe E. Lewis, who was planning in Miami and came to embrace our girl.

At Nelson Eddy's opening at the Cocoanut Grove Saturday night, RCA-Victor will present him with a gold record for "Indian Love Call."

Williams Rigid on Sales Tax

Governor Rules Out Any Horse Trading on GOP Increase Plan

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams has taken a flat-footed stand against horse trading on the Republican sales tax increase plan. His position seemed to extinguish its last slim chance to go on the April 6 ballot.

★ ★ ★

After the Legislature quit for the week, Williams was asked yesterday if he would "compromise" his opposition to a sales tax hike in exchange for Republican help on lifting the state's debt ceiling.

The governor said meeting the state's cash emergency was one thing, a long range revenue program another.

"We've got to raise ready cash," he said. "I see no connection between this and the tax problem.

★ ★ ★

"The Legislature's got to do this or plunge the state into a situation that is completely intolerable.

"The Legislature has a clear and unalterable duty to meet our cash crisis. There are only two alternatives—borrowing or mortgaging the Veterans Trust Fund.

"What you are asking about is not a compromise, it's a pure horse trade."

★ ★ ★

A newsman asked if he would rule out a horse trade.

"In this area, certainly," the governor replied. "It should be beneath the dignity of the Legislature to blackjack somebody into doing their bounden duty."

Moreover, he said, he hasn't been approached.

The Legislature will convene again 8 p.m. Monday.

2 Are Bound Over in Waterford Holdup

Two Pontiac men, charged with the armed robbery of a Waterford Township tavern, were bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court by Waterford Township Justice Donald E. Adams Thursday.

Robert L. Tate, 26, of 450 Druin St., and Richard K. Allen, 25, of 7 Short St., were returned to the Oakland County Jail to await arraignment in the higher court Feb. 24.

Their bonds were continued at $5,000 each. Neither furnished bond.

Tate and Allen are charged with holding up Mike's Bar, 4800 Dixie Hwy., and taking $180 while holding the bartender and a dozen patrons at gunpoint last Jan. 18.

Williams to Pick Group to Study Jobless Setup

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams said today he will appoint a citizens committee to study the question of jobless pay benefits for workers idled by a strike in another plant of the same company.

The governor acknowledged that legislation might be needed to prevent "collusive action" by unions to finance a labor dispute by unemployment compensation insurance payments.

If needed, he said, the same law should protect the rights of workers idled by a strike in a supply plant of the same firm.

Cost of Living Up 10th of 1 Pct.

Rising Food Prices Offset Decline in Rest of Index

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cost of living edged up one-tenth of one per cent in January. It was still slightly below the November 1958 record high.

★ ★ ★

The Labor Department reported today that rising food prices more than offset a slight decline in the rest of its consumer price index.

The index stood at 123.8 per cent of the 1947-49 average. This was one-tenth of one per cent below the all-time peak.

★ ★ ★

Ewan Clague, commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said the nine months since April, 1958 have been the longest period of comparative price stability since the index was established on its present basis in 1940.

It has fluctuated within a range of four-tenths of a point on the index scale.

Bus Service Bad—Gone

Can't Complain Anymore

KANKAKEE, Ill. (AP) — Some 40,000 persons in the Kankakee area, most of whom have been complaining about their bus service, have quit beefing. There isn't any service now.

The disappearance of Victor E. Curtis, owner of the Kankakee Motor Coach Company; his wife, their two children, and three of the company's buses was discovered Thursday.

★ ★ ★

There was no notice the bus company planned to discontinue operations. However, Curtis, who has operated the utility since Jan. 1, 1958, had been in financial difficulties and in controversy with the Illinois Commerce Commission. Riders in this northern Illinois city long have complained of poor service and faulty equipment.

Hundreds of persons voiced their complaints Thursday as they waited impatiently in near zero weather for buses to take them to work.

Police said they had no trace of the whereabouts of the Curtis family or the buses.

A Kankakee bank promptly foreclosed on a $17,000 chattel mortgage it held on the bus company's equipment. A deputy sheriff went to the company's offices to serve the judgment notice but found no one with whom to leave it.

New York Museum Gets FDR's 1932 Packard

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — A 1932 Packard auto used by Franklin D. Roosevelt when he was governor of New York will be turned over to the State Museum.

★ ★ ★

The state recently tried to sell the car to the Roosevelt Memorial Library at Hyde Park for $1. It was refused for lack of space.

★ ★ ★

Since then, thousands of individuals and organizations had sought to buy the machine.

The museum is maintained by the State Education Department.

2 Pontiac Troopers Rush to Willow Run

Pontiac Post state troopers William Dreger and Charles Hendershot were among 15 troopers in southeastern Michigan dispatched to Willow Run Airport yesterday afternoon when an airliner ran into landing gear trouble.

A Braniff International Airways Constellation circled the landing field for about an hour with a frozen nose wheel. The huge four-engine airliner had 50 persons aboard.

Troopers were dispatched from Pontiac, Redford, Flat Rock, Clinton and Ypsilanti posts. Airport crash trucks were also alerted.

★ ★ ★

The plane finally got the wheel down and made a safe landing at about 4:25. Authorities blamed a malfunction in the hydraulic system for the temporary failure.

Gen. Marshall Better in Today's Report

FT. BRAGG, N. C. (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall was reported "slightly improved" this morning. The retired soldier-statesman is suffering from a stroke complicated by mild pneumonia.

Womack General Hospital here issued only the brief report on Marshall.

The last full report, late Thursday contained a faint not of optimism—but only a note. Col. George B. Powell, the general's physician, cautioned that Marshall's "condition still is considered serious and the prognosis still is guarded."

In reply to a question, Col. Powell said he had told Mrs. Marshall that the general "appeared to be a little better, but I cautioned her against over-optimism."

Marshall, 78, entered the Army hospital here after his first stroke Jan. 15. The second stroke came Tuesday night along with the pneumonia.

Former South African Official Leaves Estate

CAPETOWN, South Africa (AP)—Former Prime Minister Daniel F. Malan left an estate of 54,512 pounds—$142,633.

The inventory was made public Thursday. Among bequests were 2,500 pounds—$7,000—each to his National party organization in Cape Province and to Stellenbosch University.

Dr. Malan was the father of the South African Nationalists' stern racial policy and was prime minister from 1948 until he retired in 1954. He died Feb. 7 at 84 after a stroke.

Barr Undecided Over Offer to Join U.M. Staff

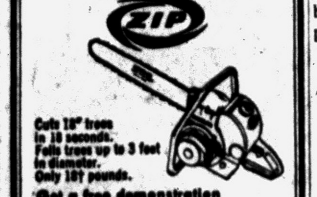

Detroit Lion halfback Terry Barr still is undecided about accepting an offer to become assistant backfield coach at the University of Michigan but probably will continue his pro football career. The Grand Rapids Herald quoted Barr, of Grand Rapids, as saying he "must make a decision on the U. of M. offer in the next few days" but that Barr's close associates say he will stay with the Lions. Barr now lives in Birmingham and is a manufacturer's agent during off-season.

Objects to 'Restraining' Conditions

Ford Doubts He'll Sign Despite $3,000 Boost

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Holdout Whitey Ford said today he is satisfied with the latest salary terms offered by the New York Yankees but doubts he will sign the contract.

★ ★ ★

The star left hander objects to a set of conditions imposed by the front office, relating to his health, behavior and ability to keep his pitching arm in shape.

Ford conferred with asst. general manager Roy Hamey for an hour yesterday but left the pro-offered $35,000 contract unsigned when Hamey insisted on a behavior clause.

The offer represented a $3,000 raise over last year. The Yankees' original offer was $27,000.

★ ★ ★

"It's not the money," Whitey said. "It's just that I don't think they ought to lay down any conditions. I feel I should be treated the same as any other player on the club.

"They (Yankee officials) claim I didn't take care of myself last year and that's why my health suffered," said Ford. "They say they want to guard against my getting a sore arm again.

★ ★ ★

"All I know is I'm in better shape now than I was last spring."

Both Ford and Mickey Mantle were censured by Yankee manager Casey Stengel last season for alleged off-field activities.

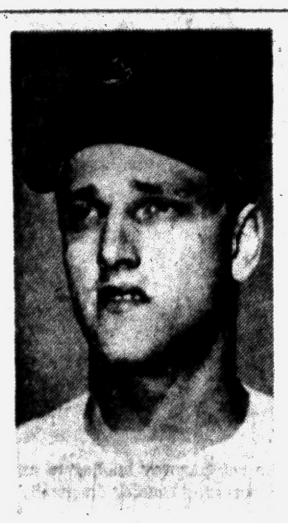

★ ★ ★

Mantle, who was paid $72,000 in 1958, presumably has been offered the same pay hike as Ford and under the same conditions. However, both feel if they accept their new contracts they indirectly will admit they were guilty of flaunting training rules last summer.

Relief ace Ryne Duren of the Yankees just got under the wire yesterday when he signed for $12,000 — a $4,000 raise over his 1958 salary.

★ ★ ★

Other signings by clubs: Bob Porterfield of the Pirates, Norm Cash of the White Sox, Mike Baxes of the Athletics, Al Pilarcik and Ron Hansen of the Orioles, and Larry Jackson of the Cardinals.

TIGERS WANT HIM — Big trade interest of the Detroit Tigers presently is Roger Maris, Kansas City outfielder, who had his best hitting days last year at Briggs Stadium. Detroit, Cleveland and Kansas City are talking of a 3-way deal.

Bonin, Goyette Spark Victory Over Detroiters

Plante Easily Scores 8th Shutout as Mates Tally in Each Period

MONTREAL (UPI) — The pennant-bound Montreal Canadiens, scoring in every period, routed the Detroit Red Wings, 7-0, Thursday night to register their fifth straight victory.

★ ★ ★

Marcel Bonin and Phil Goyette sparked the Canadiens scoring spree as they each beat goalie Terry Sawchuk twice while Andrew Pronovost, Dickie Moore and Ralph Backstrom each counted singles.

★ ★ ★

The Canadiens, who increased their first place bulge over Chicago to 15 points, have now beaten the fifth place Red Wings eight times this year in all. The Habs have won eight, tied three and lost only once against Detroit.

★ ★ ★

The shutout was Jacques Plante's eighth of the season and third against the Wings.

Montreal scored twice in the opening frame, once in the second and then poured four more goals through Sawchuk in the final period. At one point in the third frame, the Canadiens counted three times in a span of 2:10.

North American Meet Saturday

Skiers in Qualifying Show for Olympics; Weather to Improve

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—The weather man came up with a king size promise of blue skies for tomorrow's start of the North American Ski Championships, all important Olympic dress rehearsal in the initial qualifying show for U.S. Olympic hopefuls.

★ ★ ★

Competitors from 14 nations took full advantage of yesterday's sunshine to ski the mountains, skate on the new quarter-mile speed oval and jump off the mammoth 80 meter (262 foot) jumping hill.

★ ★ ★

The climate was such that Willy Schaeffler, director of Olympic Ski events, planned to take another look today at the men's downhill course off 1,100-foot Squaw Peak to see if that long course can be put in shape.

★ ★ ★

The heavy snow — 104 inches in 11 days — has forced the men's downhill to be switched to the giant slalom mountain.

3 Local Wrestling Teams Gain Wins

The wrestling teams of Pontiac Central and Waterford closed their regular seasons on a winning note while Walled Lake also posted a victory in its next to last outing.

Paced by an early pin by Del Sanborn, who had been pinned five straight times, the Chiefs trounced Melvindale 35-13 to finish with a 4-9 record.

Waterford wound up 2-7 by walloping Wayne 35-15 featuring four pins. Walled Lake, which kept coming from behind all the way, nipped Detroit Catholic Central 26-21 on heavyweight Jim Teddy's pin. The Vikings gained their 2nd triumph despite the absence of three regulars and losses by forfeits in two classes.

FLINT — Pontiac Central's title-minded basketball squad will be facing more than just a talented Flint Northern team with the same championship ambitions when the two schools clash here tonight in the state's top prep attraction.

★ ★ ★

The Chiefs will be fighting against Northern's winning tradition at home which has seen the Vikings win their last 12 starts in the friendly atmosphere of Wildanger Fieldhouse.

In addition, the Chiefs are meeting a school which has made it a habit to gobble up all or part of Saginaw Valley Conference basketball crowns in recent years.

Northern has won outright or shared the Saginaw Valley title four times in the last seven seasons.

Pontiac Central shared 1st place with Hamtramck in this week's state Class A poll. Flint Northern was rated 4th.

Although their high rankings are on the line, the issue of utmost importance for both schools is the Valley championship. The winner this evening will clinch a tie for the crown. Their SVC records are even at 7-1 and each club has one league game left after tonight.

★ ★ ★

The two teams are about as evenly matched as one can imagine. Each team has good scoring punch and is strong on the backboards.

Northern has scored an average of 61.2 points a contest while allowing the opposition 53.9. PCH has clicked at a 61.8 per game clip while permitting the enemy an average of 49.8.

To get to Wildanger fieldhouse, follow Saginaw street straight through downtown Flint, turning right on McClellan street, which is about six lights past the Durant Hotel.

Flint officials however said the 2,000 seats at Wildanger would be gone long before game time.

Brawl Marks Nats' Win

By The Associated Press

National Basketball Assn. President Maurice Podoloff has that old bugaboo, deportment of fans, officials and players, to contend with again today.

The latest incident of brawling and bickering occurred last night in Syracuse, N.Y. where the Syracuse Nats knocked off the high-flying Boston Celts, 113-105.

★ ★ ★

Many times this season, Podoloff and the league have been taken to task for the lack of supervision and support given game officials in keeping the play within order. Many reforms have been offered, the most common being stronger officiating and putting some teeth into the rules which govern the game.

Last night's brawling occurred in the fourth quarter. First, referee Sid Borgia, one of the loop's senior officials, became embroiled early in the period after remarks from a spectator. Ushers and police intervened after a brief exchange.

★ ★ ★

With five minutes to go, Syracuse's George Dempsey and Boston's Bill Russell began swinging and Frank Ramsey also took up with Dempsey.

Three minutes later, the roof fell in when the Nats' Tom Heinsohn and Syracuse's Dolph Schayes began a slugging match after jockeying for position on the foul line. Syracuse Coach Paul Seymour tried to break it up, and got embroiled with Heinsohn.

★ ★ ★

That invited everyone and it took police five minutes to restore order. The Nats' fans didn't forget and moved against Boston as it went toward its dressing room after the game. But there were no further incidents.

Schayes led Syracuse with 33 points and Heinsohn had 24 for Boston which needs two more wins or two New York losses to get the Eastern title.

Eaglets Play All-Saints

Orchard Lake St. Mary basketball club goes to Detroit tonight to meet All-Saints in the consolation series of the All-Catholic playoffs.

Seventh place in the city tourney will be at stake in the game, set for Holy Redeemer gymnasium at 8 p. m. Eaglets have dropped two games in the series to the current finalist, St. Florian, and to Ann Arbor St. Thomas.

Two Pontiacs Strong Stock Car Hopefuls

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Bill France's "dream track," a 2½-mile asphalt-veneered creation dedicated to speed, gets its first test under race conditions today with two 100-mile events featuring the top stock car drivers of the nation.

★ ★ ★

A crowd of 15,000 is expected to watch the convertible and hardtop competition. A 200-mile race for modified stock cars tomorrow and a 500-mile $68,500 sweepstakes Sunday round out the weekend program.

★ ★ ★

Fireball Roberts of Daytona Beach, in a 1959 Pontiac, won the pole position in the hardtop group by making two laps at an average speed of 140.58, best of opening qualifying day. Top qualifying speed of 143.19 was turned in the last day by Cotton Owens of Spartanburg, S.C., in a 1958 Pontiac. He starts in 27th place.

T&C Cagers Bolster Lead

A narrow victory by Towne & Country coupled with Oliver Buick's defeat has enabled the T&C Cagers to bolster their lead in the Class C division of the City Basketball League.

T&C's 43-41 win over the Vikings last night at Pontiac Central followed by Oliver's 51-40 loss to Winglemire's dropped the runnerup Buick quintet 1½ games behind.

Winglemire's jumped off to a 16-6 1st period edge and Oliver never caught up. Amos Bradsher made 14 points for Winglemire's while Jack Johnson paced the losers with 12.

Ellis 5-Under in Texas Open

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Young Wesley Ellis Jr. showed off for his home town yesterday—he shot a 5-under-par 66 for the first round lead in the $20,000 Texas Open.

Stars like Gene Littler, Marty Furgol and Jimmy Demaret found Brackenridge Park's 6,490-yard layout difficult to handle and so did most of the others trying for the $2,800 first money. Only five players managed to better par compared to 15 on opening day last year.

Capt.-Sponsor Event Saturday

42 Elks Teams Roll in Final Local Bid for State Honors

The annual Captain-Sponsor tournament and banquet and a big Pontiac invasion of the Michigan Elks event at Ann Arbor headline a busy weekend for local bowlers.

Participants in the fun-packed Captain-Sponsor will start rolling tomorrow morning at East Highland Recreation near Highland and conclude early in the evening.

All prizes, and there will be a long list of them, will be awarded immediately following the bowling at a banquet for all contestants at the Old Mill Tavern in Waterford.

Mark Baldwin, manager of the Detroit branch of the Brunswick-Balke Co., and Larry Parker, the local representative, will be among the guests. Others will be Highland Township supervisor Louis Oldenberg, Jerry Cronin, representing AMF, and Clark Balch, who recently organized a 700 Club chapter in Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

The Pontiac Elks Club will have 42 teams competing at Ann Arbor during the weekend—36 of them Saturday.

There will be 79 doubles units and 158 in singles from the city lodge in action during the two days in hopes of crashing into some of the top positions. Pontiac's last championship was won in 1957 when Dickie's Service took both team titles here.

This will be the final chance for Pontiac entries to bid for some of the $14,722 in prize money plus trophies although the tourneys run through March 15.

43-Point Night Did the Trick

Stott Tops Scoring Again

Prep basketball fans around Oakland County are still talking about the 43-point night Doug Stott had in a losing cause for Oxford at Lake Orion Tuesday night.

It not only was the high single showing of the season but it also served to vault him from 4th place back into the county individual scoring lead just ahead of steady-scoring George McDaniel of Holly.

The blond transfer now has a 23.5 average to 23.2 for McDaniel who leads in total points with 325 in two more games.

Another boy making a good move in the past week was Pontiac Central sharpshooter John Bandy. Sparked by 31 at Royal Oak, he advanced from 10th to 7th at 18.8.

Wallace Taber ALIVE AND IN COLOR IS COMING TO OUR TOWN!!

"G" is for Giraffe. And the one above should be small "g". For the little tyke is just a few hours old. Nevertheless, he manages to steal the show with his last minute appearance in Wallace Taber's colorful African epic — SAFARI SAGA. Along with a myriad form of wildlife and a Kodachrome of Africa's native life, this seven-foot-at-birth baby constitutes the stars in Taber's triumphs.

Note the plural on 'Triumphs". For when Wallace Taber appears in person, he will publicly screen his latest pair of African features.

In addition to SAFARI SAGA the audience will see the first fishing film ever documented on the Dark Continent.

"SAMAKI" is the story of Taber's talented tackle travels in the headwaters of the mighty Nile river where a rifle is a lot more useful than a landing net.

Don't hire a baby sitter, bring the whole family to the program. For it is wholesome whole-family entertainment seldom equalled.

FLINT—There's nothing like having lots of rousing support when you're trying to win a basketball game in hostile surroundings and Pontiac Central will get plenty of it here tonight.

The PCH student body is really going all out to support the Chiefs in their Saginaw Valley Conference title struggle with Flint Northern at Northern's Wildanger Fieldhouse.

Five busloads of Central students are invading this industrial city tonight to cheer themselves hoarse in the Chiefs' behalf. There was a strong possibility that a 6th bus would have to be chartered to meet the demand.

It's a safe bet that Northern fans will turn out en masse to bolster the Vikings. But the Viking delegation can be certain of one thing—there will be considerable noise from Pontiac followers on the opposite side of the gym.

ODDS AND ENDS

Both Central and Northern lost starters through mid-year graduation. The Chiefs lost the services of guard Charlie Barge while the Flint quintet said goodby to Jesse Johnson, also a guard.

Each boy was in the lineup on Jan. 16 when the two teams held their 1st meeting at Pontiac with the Chiefs winning, 57-49. Barge scored 29 points that evening compared to Johnson's 8.

Pontiac's Amos Bailey and little Monk Collins of Northern became regulars at the start of the 2nd semester and PCH has had the better of the deal from both a height and scoring standpoint.

Bailey stands 6-foot-1 while Collins is 5-6. Amos has accounted for 90 points, Collins only 21. Bailey did not play against Northern in the 1st match.

★ ★ ★

Forwards John Bandy of PCH and Northern's John Gillian lead their teams in point production.

Bandy, who missed the Detroit Catholic Central game due to illness, has tallied 225 points in 12 contests for an 18.8 average. Gillian is averaging 17.4 per contest with 209 points in the same number of games.

★ ★ ★

Although tonight's winner will clinch a Valley co-title, there will still be one barrier to a clear-cut crown. Central plays at Saginaw High and Northern goes to Bay City, both on Friday, Feb. 27, to conclude the regular season schedule.

★ ★ ★

PCH won Valley honors two seasons ago when the Chiefs went through the 10-game league slate unbeaten, the only school in SVC history to accomplish this feat. Defending champion Flint Central currently holds 3rd place and is out of the running.

Northern Hosts Cranes Tonight in Local Duel

Several Important Loop Games Highlight Big Schedule

An upset-minded band of Oxford Wildcats take to their new home court tonight determined to dump Imlay City from its ranking as the state Class C leader.

The home quintet figures the high-riding South Central champions will be ripe for a beating after being surprised by Kingston Tuesday following 42 successive regular season wins.

All but one Oxford cager turned in a dismal showing the same night at Lake Orion. But that one fellow could make the difference tonight. He is Doug Stott, who hit 42 per cent of his shots in scoring 43 points to boost his average to 23.5. Imlay can counter with Jim Ward at 19.8.

Oxford will not only be seeking revenge for a 10-point loss to the better balanced Spartans but also a chance to beat out Millington for the runnerup slot in the league.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Northern will be another school in a revenge mood as the Huskies host Cranbrook in the local feature seeking their 5th triumph. The Cranes are fresh from a win over Walled Lake.

Otherwise, league play will highlight another big Friday slate all around the area.

Romeo can clinch the Tri-County crown by whipping Lapeer at home. Rochester entertains L'Anse Creuse hoping to finish in a three-way tie. Troy can wrap up the Oakland B flag by dropping Clawson. Lake Orion and Fitzgerald meet in a 2nd place feud and Madison is at Avondale.

★ ★ ★

Host Birmingham attempts to hurt Ferndale's title chances in the Eastern Michigan feature. A full Inter-Lakes slate has Walled Lake at Berkley, Waterford host to Van Dyke and Farmington at Southfield.

St. Frederick is home against St. Bernard and St. Michael goes to Visitation in pre-tourney warm-ups.

Full schedules could help settle pennant chases in the Wayne-Oakland and Southern Thumb. Keego at Holly, Brighton at Clarenceville and Almont vs Anchor Bay are the big games. Ortonville plays North Branch in the other South Central tilt.

Royal Oak Dondero at Fordson, South Lyon vs Dexter, Utica at home to meet Lakeview, Lamphere at Harper Woods and Frankenmuth at Millington round out the slate.

Cage Tilt at Clarkston

The Clarkston Recreation All-Stars will meet the Pontiac K. of C. quintet at 7:00 p.m. Saturday night in the Clarkston High gym for the benefit of the Clarkston Recreation League in that community.

Another game will be played between the faculties of Ortonville and Clarkston High Schools.

3-Way Trade Interests Tigers

Cleveland May Join A's, Detroit in Talent Swap

Bengals Like Maris and Doby; Deny Kuenn Offered to KC

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers said today there is a possibility of a three-way player deal that would involve the Kansas City Athletics and the Cleveland Indians.

Acting Gen. Mgr. Rick Ferrell said in a telephone interview with the Associated Press from the Tiger training base in Lakeland, Fla., that "a three-way deal is one of the things that interests us."

However, Ferrell said there is no truth to a published report that the Detroit club has offered outfielder Harvey Kuenn, pitcher Bill Hoeft and third baseman Eddie Yost to Kansas City for outfielder Roger Maris and infielder Hector Lopez.

"Someone is just pulling names out of the hat," said Ferrell.

★ ★ ★

But he readily stated that Maris, a young left-handed slugger, is the player the Tigers would like most to get. He also would like to land Larry Doby from Cleveland.

Ferrell said Frank Lane, general manager of the Indians, has expressed interest in Hoeft, who has been one of the Detroit club's major disappointments over the past two years. Since the Indians have Minnie Minoso, Jim Piersall and Rocky Colavito in line for the three outfield positions, Ferrell believes the Cleveland club would be anxious to part with the veteran Doby.

Asked about a possible straight deal with Kansas City, Ferrell said:

"We are not anxious to trade Kuenn, and we're not especially interested in Lopez, after all, we think we have a pretty good third baseman in Yost. We would like to get some long-ball help and a reserve infielder."

Ferrell indicated the Tigers are prepared to offer outfielder Charlie Maxwell in most any transaction.

MSU Host to Purdue Saturday

State Can Clinch Tie

By The Associated Press

Michigan State's bid for its first undisputed Big Ten basketball crown will get a big lift Saturday if the Spartans defeat the Hot Purdue Boilermakers.

The game in East Lansing tops a full round of conference action.

Purdue, winner of five of its last six starts after a miserable beginning in the Big Ten race, is one of three teams rating a chance to catch MSU.

The Spartans, beaten by Purdue 85-81 Feb. 7, are 8-2 in the standings and lead the chase by two games with four yet to play. Purdue and Indiana share second place with 6-4 records and Michigan is fourth with 5-4.

Indiana is at Illinois (5-5) for a Saturday afternoon date and Minnesota (4-5) is at Wisconsin (1-8) the same time for a regionally televised game. Wisconsin's only victory was over Purdue.

In other night attractions, Michigan is at Northwestern (4-6) and Ohio State (4-5) at Iowa (5-5).

MSU could cinch at least a tie for the title if it defeats Purdue and if Illinois downs Indiana and Northwestern takes Michigan. Illinois upset Indiana earlier on the Hoosiers' floor 89-83 and Northwestern did the same to Michigan 83-78.

In Purdue's victory over MSU two weeks ago, the Spartans' John Green fouled out in the last 10 minutes after accumulating 25 points and 18 rebounds. Green currently is the Big Ten's 6th leading scorer with a 20.2 average while his teammate, Bob Anderegg, is 11th with 18.8.

LaBelle France Feels Economic Pinch

De Gaulle's 'Bride' Grows Restless

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Editor

The honeymoon isn't over yet for Gen. Charles De Gaulle and La Belle France but the marriage is showing signs of strain.

The bride is growing restive under De Gaulle's edict that the couple must live within its income, and they're also having trouble with the relatives in Algeria.

★ ★ ★

France was on the verge of civil war last May 15 when De Gaulle announced he was ready to come out of retirement and take over the government of France.

Committees of public safety in Algeria were in outright revolt against the weak Paris government of Premier Pierre Pflimlin.

And so, whatever regrets or misgivings the professional politicians had, it was in an atmosphere of general rejoicing that De Gaulle first took over emergency powers and then on Jan. 8 of this year emerged as the first president of the French fifth republic.

★ ★ ★

De Gaulle, backed by new powers which placed him in a position similar to that of the president of the United States and by an overwhelming majority in the French assembly, announced three main objectives. They were:

To restore France to its place among the great nations.

To place the nation on a pay-as-you-go basis, removing her from the list of Europe's sick nations.

To end the uprising in Algeria.

Before he could attain his first objective, it was necessary for him to be successful in the other two.

At home, his austerity campaign already is meeting widespread opposition.

The cause is twofold: First the De Gaulle austerity campaign which virtually decreed a halt to pay increases while at the same time increasing taxes; and, France's entry into the European common market which lowered French tariffs and forced French manufacturers to convert to more efficient methods in order to compete in the common market.

Opposition to De Gaulle policies also has neared the violent stage in Algeria, not from the political left but from the extreme right. It is made up of French settlers, who, outnumbered almost 10 to one by the Moslems, see total integration with France as their only salvation.

De Gaulle has refused to meet their demands, insisting that while Algeria must remain French, its political tie with France will be determined after peace is restored.

Those are only two of De Gaulle's pressing problems. In addition, of course, he is beset by all the others hanging over nations today.

There must be many a night when the bridegroom wonders why he married.

Soviets Chilly to Proposal

Foreign Ministers' Plan to Meet Over Berlin Called Unconstructive

Soviet-Macmillan bjt

LONDON (AP)—The Soviets today gave a chilly reception to Western proposals for a Big Four foreign ministers conference on Germany but still left the door open to direct negotiations.

★ ★ ★

An English-language commentator on Moscow radio said the Western notes handed the Kremlin Monday, "do not contain a single more or less constructive suggestion capable of facilitating settlement of questions either of Berlin or of Germany. It all boils down to the same invariable 'no' the West has been giving us all the time," the broadcaster said.

★ ★ ★

The belief grew in the West that Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev would press for Big Four summit talks—rather than a foreign ministers meeting—when he receives British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan this weekend.

★ ★ ★

With U.S. Secretary of State Dulles ailing, the suave, British premier appeared emerging as the coordinator of Allied poicy in dealing with the Soviets. He told the House of Commons Thursday night that after his talks with the Soviet leaders, he would visit Bonn and Paris and "perhaps Washington with a view to formation of the Western allied policy."

★ ★ ★

Macmillan leaves for Moscow Saturday to spend 10 days sounding out Soviet leaders on possible grounds for a compromise in the cold war. He is especially anxious to find out what Western concessions the Kremlin is really angling for—without making any commitments on behalf of the Allies.

"We must be firm but flexible," he told Commons.

Macmillan emphasized that any proposal by Khrushchev for disbandment of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization was out of the question.

Pair Richer; He's Poorer After Gun Inspection

DENVER (AP) — Two customers approached clerk Fritz Kahn at a pawn shop and asked to inspect a .32-caliber automatic.

Kahn offered the weapon. One of the men took two bullets from his pocket and loaded it.

Then they robbed Kahn of $500 in cash.

Grains Level Off After Busy Day

CHICAGO (AP)—The grain futures market appeared in early dealings today to have leveled off from yesterday's activity in which several contracts suffered their steepest setbacks of the year.

★ ★ ★

Most fluctuations were in minor fractions with no trend indicated either way. Dealings were very slow in contrast to the fast trade of the previous session.

Yugoslavia, the only export buyer of any consequence this week, was back in the market after an absence of two days. It took 462,000 bushels of red wheat for April-May shipment.

★ ★ ★

After about an hour, wheat was ⅜ cent a bushel higher to ½ lower, March $1.98⅛; corn unchanged to ¼ lower, March old type contract $1.15⅛; oats unchanged to ¼ lower, March 64½; rye unchanged to ⅝ higher, March $.137½; soybeans ¼ lower to ⅝ higher, March $2.19¼.

Sift White Lake Election Mixup

Hampton's Extra Votes Due to Error in Clearing Ballot Machine

It's now up to the Oakland County Board of Canvassers to say how many votes Circuit Court Judge nominee Verne C. Hampton received in one voting precinct in White Lake Township.

Alleged "irregularities" involving returns for Hampton from this precinct from Monday's primary election were dismissed as an error in not clearing the voting machine properly from the November election, according to Daniel T. Murphy Jr., county clerk-register.

Some 20 election workers and township officials were questioned this morning before the Board of Canvassers.

The question came up after a Democratic election challenger, Jack Gillow, asked how Hampton could have received 114 votes in the precinct when only 89 persons voted there.

Murphy said he believes some votes for a November candidate had not been erased entirely. Therefore, what Hampton received was automatically tallied to the remaining November vote.

Canvassers, after they confer with county legal officials, will have to decide how many votes Hampton will be given.

Whatever their decision, Murphy said it is not expected to alter the 10 candidates nominated, including Hampton, for five Circuit Court positions to be voted on April 6.

Car, Truck Output Up Again This Week

DETROIT (AP)—The auto industry will build 122,150 cars and 24,921 trucks this week, Automotive News states.

The total, enhanced by six-day operations in Rambler, Studebaker and five Ford Division plants, compares with last week's 115,491 cars and 24,899 trucks. In the week ended Feb. 22 last year, the industry made 89,977 cars and 17,430 trucks.

The trade paper said Canadian factories will build 9,362 cars and trucks this week against 9,621 last week and 7,470 in the comparable 1958 week.

Company, Union Meets to Settle Ohio Strike

CINCINNATI (AP) — Company and union officials make another attempt today to end a wildcat strike at the Fisher Body Co. plant in suburban Norwood. The strike has caused a shutdown of operations at the Fisher plant and at the nearby Chevrolet plant.

The Chevrolet plant was forced to close down because of a lack of automobile bodies provided by Fisher.

The strike among a group of Fisher employes started Wednesday over the firing of their union bargaining committee chairman. About 3,200 workers at the two plants have been idled as a result of the strike.

In its 100 years, the nation's petroleum industry has produced more than 104 trillion dollars' worth of crude oil.

Du Pont Stock Lag Linked to Courtroom

CHICAGO (AP) — A government witness testified yesterday that E. I. Du Pont de Nemours & Co. stock prices may be lagging in the stock market because of the current court case involving Du Pont's stock interest in General Motors Corp.

Schroeder Boulton, a partner in the securities investment firm of Baker, Weeks & Co., said Du Pont stock prices lagged in the recession recovery compared to other major chemical corporations.

He said he thought Du Pont stock should be selling at $230 to $240 a share instead of its current $210 a share.

Boulton testified in a U. S. District Court hearing in which Judge Walter J. La Buy seeks to determine how Du Pont and its two holding companies can divest themselves of 63 million shares of GM stock.

The U. S. Supreme Court has ruled Du Pont's 23 per cent ownership of GM is a violation of anti-trust laws.

Ford Appeals Again on Jobless Pay Issue

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. says it will ask the U. S. Supreme Court to overthrow a Michigan State Supreme Court ruling awarding about one million dollars in jobless pay benefits to Ford employes in the Detroit area.

Ford announced it would appeal to the high court yesterday after the state court refused to review its January decision, affecting about 11,000 auto workers.

The court ordered unemployment compensation for Detroit area Ford employes idled by a 1953 strike at the Ford Forging plant in Canton, Ohio.

Ford objected that the ruling, in effect, forced it to finance strikes against itself through its contributions to the state unemployment compensation fund. Jobless pay benefits, it said, should not be paid to workers idled by strikes in another state.

Rejects Bell Contract

DETROIT (AP)—The Communication Workers of America (CWA) today rejected the second contract proposal made by Michigan Bell Telephone Co. The contract between CWA and Michigan Bell runs out at midnight Sunday.

Stocks Higher Early Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Motors, chemicals and aircrafts made gains as the stock market worked generally higher in active early trading today.

Leading issues rose from fractions to a point or more. A number of stocks was unchanged and there were scattered losers.

The market was following through from yesterday's vigorous rally but the advance seemed to be losing some steam.

American Motors was active and down about a point in continued response to the news from Detroit about plans of the big three automotive companies to put out a small car. Studebaker-Packard eased.

Trading was active in General Motors, which was firm, as well as Ford and Chrysler which posted fractional gains.

U. S. Steel added a point and Bethlehem a fraction while other leading steels did little.

Chemicals made some good gains, including 2 points for Du Pont and around a point or more for Allied Chemical and Thiokol. Eastman Kodak rose close to a point.

★ ★ ★

Anaconda was a fraction higher but General Electric eased on the news of earnings gains in the 1958 final quarter for both.

United Aircraft, General Dynamics and Pfizer were more than a point ahead.

Candidate for Education Post Pledges Savings

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Hugh H. Holloway says he will push for a statewide school maintenance survey "to save taxpayers millions of dollars in the next decade" if he is elected state superintendent of public instruction.

Holloway, the Republican candidate for the state's top education job, said yesterday "the schools of the state cannot afford the luxury of excessive gingerbread and frosting" in construction.

Holloway will oppose incumbent Democrat Lynn Bartlett in the April 6 election.

NEWEST EXPERIMENTAL CAR — General Motors' newest experiment in advanced styling and engineering is the Cadillac Cyclone. GM's Styling Division developed the futuristic car in cooperation with Cadillac and other GM divisions. The Cyclone makes its first public appearance tomorrow at Daytona Beach, Fla. This is the 38th experimental car built by GM.

GM Comes Out With Radar Car

Newest Experimental Model Warns Drivers of Road Objects Ahead

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors has a new experimental automobile. It is the 38th in a long line of such vehicles.

★ ★ ★

The car, called the Cadillac Cyclone, has a clear plastic top which folds backwards beneath the surface of the trunk deck. An engineering feature is a radar locating device which scans the highway and warns the driver electronically of objects in his path.

The new vehicle has an overall length of 196.9 inches and a wheelbase of 104 inches. Its overall height is 44 inches at the top of the passenger canopy. The body is steel.

GM's styling staff cooperated with Cadillac in developing the car. It has the traditional Cadillac tail fins. It is powered with a standard Cadillac 325 horsepower engine positioned in the nose.

★ ★ ★

Muffler and exhaust system are located in the front engine compartment with exhaust outlets just ahead of the front wheels.

Large twin nose cones in the front of the car contain the radar device. This alerts the driver with both an audible signal and a warning light of any automobile or other object which he is approaching.

The pitch of the signal, a "beep" sound, increases as he draws closer to the object.

The cyclone will be used as a rolling laboratory to test its new features. It will make its first public appearance tomorrow at Daytona Beach, Fla.

Baling Plant Burns Down

Barn, Used by Paper Handling Firm Near Milford, Destroyed

A barn at 2825 Buno Rd., near Milford, used to house a paper baling plant, burned to the ground late yesterday as firemen took turns battling the nine-hour blaze.

Owner Michael Hudick, who lives on the property, estimated loss to the barn and equipment at $25,000.

The company disassembles corrugated cardboard boxes from the Lincoln Motor plant in Wixom.

An employe, Mel McNeil, discovered smoke in the front part of the barn as he was delivering boxes from the factory. He called Milford firemen, but by the time they arrived the blaze was out of control.

Hudick's century-old brick house was only 50 feet from the barn, and firemen began spraying water on the west side of it to prevent sparks from igniting the structure.

Firehose, which had been laid a quarter of a mile east on Buno road, to Norton's drain, became plugged with freezing ice, hampering firemen in efforts to put water on the flaming building.

Cause of the fire has not been determined.

Upjohn Profits Rise 15.5 Pct. Last Year

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Upjohn Co. reports a 15.5 per cent increase in profits in 1958 over 1957.

The drug company attributed much of the increase to widespread medical acceptance of Orinase, a drug taken orally in treating diabetes. It was developed in Germany and Upjohn was licensed to produce it in this country.

Upjohn yesterday reported net earning of $20,043,000 for 1958 compared with $17,359,000 for 1957. This amounted to $1.43 per share of common stock in 1958 as against $1.23 in 1957.

Net sales for 1958 were $146,136,000, compared with $128,083,000 for 1957.

Requests Boys Institute as Site

MSU Wants Medical School

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State University has taken the first step in what it hopes will lead to establishment of the state's third medical school.

The university's governing body — the State Board of Agriculture — yesterday asked the Legislature for the Lansing property now occupied by the Boys Vocational School. The board would like the land and buildings for use as a possible site for a medical school, or for some other purpose as an adjunct to the University.

"Michigan State has long felt when a third medical school comes, it should be here," MSU president Dr. John A. Hannah told the board yesterday.

"The point we're making is the Boys Vocational School will be vacated. If we're going to have it, it ought to be made known now that we want it."

The state is planning to move the vocational school to Whitmore Lake, near Ann Arbor.

Michigan's only two medical schools are at the University of Michigan and Wayne State University.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Hannah cited the John Dale Russell report on higher education in Michigan. The report recommended a survey between 1963 and 1966 on the establishment of another medical school in the state.

House Labor Hearings Start Battle Next Month

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Labor Committee raises the curtain next month on labor law hearings which shape up as the forerunner of an all-sessions battle.

The committee today scheduled hearings to start March 4 with Secretary of Labor Mitchell as the lead-off witness.

Even before the hearings were formally announced, future prospects favored final committee approval and House passage of a bill like that sponsored by Sens. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) and Sam Ervin (D-NC) — already approved by a Senate labor subcommittee.

This was the consensus of House labor experts, who contend the votes are for the middle-of-the-road approach taken by the Kennedy-Ervin bill.

Here is the lineup of labor legislation proposed so far this session:

Kennedy-Ervin: Key sections would require detailed financial accounting reports of union transactions, secret ballot elections and limited terms for officials, limited duration of trusteeships by international unions over locals and banning of ex-convicts from holding union offices.

President Eisenhower: The administration proposal follows the lines of the Kennedy-Ervin measure, but also would ban secondary boycotts and blackmail picketing.

Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark): The bill introduced yesterday by the chairman of the Senate Rackets Committee is similar in many ways to the one he introduced last year. A key provision would require unions to maintain a minimum standard of protection for members' rights.

It would strip offending unions of tax exemptions and collective bargaining status. The bill does not include revisions in the Taft-Hartley labor relations law, as the Kennedy-Ervin and administration bills do.

Rep. Graham A. Barden (D-NC): The chairman of the House Labor Committee has introduced his own measure to curb union racketeering and to establish a constitutional bill of rights for labor. His proposal would vest more power in state courts dealing with labor cases. He introduced Taft-Hartley revisions in a separate measure.

No Action on Route 6 by Southfield, State

SOUTHFIELD — No action was taken last night by the Southfield City Council and the Michigan State Highway Commission at a meeting on the proposed Interstate Route 6 expressway.

This east-west thoroughfare would parallel Gratiot and Grand River avenues. The Highway Department proposes to have route 6 approximately at 11½-Mile road.

City Clerk Patrick Flannery said that this route would cut through valuable property in Southfield.

The council prefers to have the expressway along the 14-Mile road, which would border Birmingham and Southfield. They also voiced their concern over a proposed bridge on the planned Southfield highway between 8- and 9-Mile roads. They fear that this might route the heavy Northland Shopping Center traffic through residential areas.

The council asked for more details about the proposed bridge.

Earns $8.6 Million in '58

DETROIT (AP) — Federal-Mogul-Bower Bearings, Inc., makers of sleeve, ball and roller bearings and oil seals, reported yesterday earnings for 1958 were $8,628,000, equal to $3.54 per share. Earnings for 1957 were a record $9,190,000 or $3.77 a share.

Shelby Hearing Held Up a Week

Race Track Trial Delayed

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — The pretrial hearing in the case of local homeowners who are trying to block construction of an automobile race track on the Curtiss-Wright property here was adjourned for a week today.

★ ★ ★

The hearing had been set for 9:30 a.m. before Judge Howard R. Carroll in Macomb County Circuit Court, Mount Clemens.

Reason given for the postponement was that Miss Dee Edwards, one of the attorneys for the homeowners, is working on a Federal Court case in Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Judge Carroll said that a Federal Court case takes precedence over one scheduled in Circuit Court. Consequently, he set a new pretrial hearing date for 9:30 a.m. next Friday.

★ ★ ★

The plaintiffs charge that the amended ordinance permitting the track is invalid because of several alleged violations of the Township Rural Zoning Act.

Defendents in the case are Shelby Township and Curtiss-Wright Corp. which petitioned the court to make it a party-defendent at the show cause hearing Feb. 5.

The Curtiss-Wright property, the former Packard Proving Grounds, covers 675 acres within the boundaries of Van Dyke, Mound, 22 and 23 Mile roads.

★ ★ ★

There is an existing two-and-a-half-mile track on the property which the corporation plans to develop for races of Indianapolis type cars. The company has announced plans for construction of bleachers.

Homeowners who live near the proposed track have stated in their charges that it would create a nuisance because of traffic, litter, noise and other similar factors which they say would depreciate their property valuation.

State to Get Speed Control

School Zone Limit Sign Can Be Reduced When Necessary

LANSING (AP) — A new special school zone speed limit sign has been developed and received the blessing of State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie.

The sign will enable school officials to control speeds near schools. The sign uses an internally illuminated speed legend and flashers and can be turned on and off when children go or leave school.

Mackie said the department has the responsibility of allowing at safe speeds without posting unrealistic speed zones in the area. But he added the department is obligated to provide special controls during designated hours.

"This sign will enable us to accomplish this objective in a most efficient manner," said Mackie.

The sign under consideration contains a red internally lighted speed legend plus yellow flashers above and below the speed indicator. Speeds lower than that regularly posted can be set, but the speed legend and flashers function only when turned on by school officials.

It wa designed for use in school areas especially on state trunkline highways where the ordinary speed is much higher.

Expect Space Breakthrough on West Coast

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The West Coast's new missile base, now preparing its first satellite shot, may be the spot from which man will break through into outer space.

This possibility was advanced by a space scientist searching for ways to reach nature's escape hatches in the deadly radiation bands that encircle the earth.

★ ★ ★

"The radiation apparently is less intense above the north and south poles," the scientist, Dr. Manfred Eimer of California Institute of Technology's jet propulsion laboratory, said in an interview.

"If this is true, all we need is a site from which to launch toward one of the poles, and we already have that at Vandenberg," he said.

Vandenberg Air Force Base, 170 miles to the north, was chosen as the site for several Project Discoverer launchings this year because it can hurl satellites southward into polar orbit. No other known missile base can do this without endangering populated areas. Only the Pacific lies between the base and the South Pole.

Dearborn Marine Released by Italians

GENOA (AP) — Italian authorities have released U.S. Marine Sgt. Arthur P. Durkie, 23, Dearborn, Mich., after he spent 55 days in jail.

Durkie, a member of the Marine detachment on the LST (Land Ship, Tanks) York County with the Sixth Fleet, was arrested Jan. 27, 1958 and charged with causing serious injury to an Italian woman.

Italian police said the woman was hospitalized suffering from shock, loss of several teeth, and a skull fracture following a beating by Durkie.

★ ★ ★

She has since recovered.

Durkie was turned over to U.S. authorities pending a decision by the Italian Justice Ministry whether he will be tried by Italian courts or by an American court martial.

He will return to his ship in the meantime.

'Do Not Push Any Buttons; Just Salute'

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The big recording machine looms impressively in the dispatch room of the local safety builing.

It is treated with the respect due an electronic brain, as witness this roughly-penned sign one police officer taped to the top:

"Do not push any buttons.
"Do not turn off any switch.
"Do not turn tape by hand.
"Do not breathe on machine.
"Salute as you pass by."

Havana Casinos Lively Last Night

HAVANA (AP)—The action was lively at eight Havana casinos which were allowed to reopen Thursday night.

The tables in six luxury hotels and two nightclubs were given 30-day permits by Fidel Castro's revolutionar regime. The rebels closed down all gambling when they took over.

Casinos which catered to small-change players are to remain closed. Authorities say they don't want poorer Cubans losing their money gambling.

America's philanthropic public now gives more than $800,000,000 a year to health fund drives.

Wed 75 Years and Yet to Have First Argument

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Crafton celebrated their 75th wedding anniversary Thursday and almost had their first argument.

Crafton, 93, is a retired railroad man. Mrs. Crafton is 89.

A reporter asked, "Have you ever had an argument?"

"Nope," he said.

"Not even a little one?"

"Nope."

"Who is boss in the family?" the reporter asked.

"He is," she said.

"She is," he said.

With an argument looking them in the face, Crafton quickly smoothed it over.

"We both are," he said.

Peace returned.

Predicts Rockets Large as Ships

Chrysler Official Tells Engineers of Concepts for Space Travel

DETROIT (AP)—The space rockets of the future are going to resemble flying office buildings or ocean liners, a Chrysler Corp. official predicts.

B. J. Meldrum, an official of Chrysler's Missile Division, told the Society of Body Engineers last night that "We will witness the construction of larger and larger chemically-fueled engines carrying propellants at higher and higher altitudes."

The huge engines should be able to put huge payloads weighing tens of tons into orbit, he said.

"The vehicles transporting these payloads," Meldrum said, "will be awe-inspiring indeed, dwarfing our present concepts and resembling ocean liners or office buildings lifting vertically into the heavens."

Meldrum also predicted man will go into space and return successfully "within our lifetime or perhaps even within this decade."

Admits Murdering Hoodooing Aunt, 60

LAUREL, Miss. (AP) — "My stomach boiled all the time. There were lizards in my stomach. I decided to put a stop to it," Jack Sanders, 31, said after he shot his aunt to death.

★ ★ ★

Sanders, a Negro, said his aunt, Susan Arrington, 60, had caused all his trouble by hoodooing him.

The woman's body, a pistol wound near her heart and flowers in her hands, was found in a country lane, 14 miles north of here in Jasper County.

Sanders walked into the jail here Wednesday and told officers, "I shot a woman."

★ ★ ★

Sheriff W. P. Tally, who came here for Sanders, quoted Sanders as saying much of the hoodoo pain has left him since the shooting.

Tally said Sanders also blamed his aunt for hoodooing his mother, Elzenia Sanders, 52, who died this month.

A drydock that can handle ships up to 11,000 tons is expected to be completed in Havana by January 1960. It will cost $30,000,000.

Man Calls Long Distance to Praise Playhouse 90

By WILIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI)—Immediately after CBS-TV's Playhouse 90 last night, a complete stranger (come to think of it, have you ever run into a partial stranger?) called me up long distance:

"Did you see that Playhouse 90?" he said. "One of the greatest things I've ever seen."

"Who are you?" I said.

"You don't know me," he said, "but I read you every day. I just wanted to say it was one of the greatest things I've ever seen."

"Where are you?" I said.

"Indiana," he said. "Absolutely one of the greatest."

"Where in Indiana?" I said.

"Columbus, Indiana," he said. "It was so real. Really great. You know, I've never done anything like this, but I had to tell you."

Anyway to get on with it, Loring Mandel's "The Raider," the Playhouse 90 entry, was an engrossing drama about a corporation proxy fight, acted with some fire and directed with skill. But I'm afraid I'll have to disagree a bit with my friend in Indiana because its ending was a cheat which spoiled it a good deal.

"The Raider" posed an absorbing problem, but it never came to grips with that problem: Whether loyalty to an organization should override every other loyalty, be it loyalty to friends or to a personal code.

The actual mechanics of the play, as I said, were quite good with Paul Douglas, Frank Lovejoy, Donald Crisp and Rod Taylor the principal players. Okay, Indiana—still friends?

One note on the magic of television: CBS-TV's Yancy Derringer plunged into the swirling Mississippi River last night and emerged with his hat on.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: The CBS film division will videotape a jazz show on April 3 that'll feature the Miles Davis and Charlie Mingus groups and Billie Holiday for its upcoming series, "Theater for a Story." The new series—produced by Robert Herridge—also will offer a ballet show, a comic dance show, Eugene O'Neill's "In the Zone," Guy de Maupassant's "Piece of String," a dramatization of the death of Socrates and three Lee J. Pogostin stories about the Hudson street section of Manhattan.

Clare Booth Luce is narrator of the test film for another proposed CBS film adventure series, "The Diplomat," which has the okay of the State Department . . . Sloan Simpson, former wife of New York's former mayor, William O'Dwyer has signed in for an upcoming ABC-TV Naked City, "Nothing but the Truth."

Mary Martin's Tour of 45 Cities Winds Up

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Five and a half months ago, bouyant Mary Martin started out on a tour to sing the songs she helped make famous on Broadway.

Thursday night she wound it up with a performance here. She had traveled 40,000 miles and performed in 45 cities.

"I wouldn't trade it for anything," she said. "It was a wonderful experience."

We Can't Have Ladies Going Around Dirty

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Extra! "The Battle of the Bathtubs" has been won by the Americans at the Nile Hilton in Cairo.

Welton Becket, the Los Angeles and New York architect, who built the hotel, tells me that Hollywood celebrities flying to Egypt for the opening this weekend can be assured of American baths amid the camels and the pyramids—if they have time.

WILSON

"The first 150 tubs were cracked when ship's crews dropped them on the decks in Naples," he said. "The second shipment was busted when workmen in Alexandria weren't too careful about those 'Handle With Care' signs."

Knowing that it wouldn't be nice to have Jane Russell, Jeanne Crain, Linda Cristal, Ann Miller, Virginia Warren and gals like that bathing in tubs with gasping holes in them—because chunks of girl might be sticking out of the tub—the Hilton organization persevered. The third shipment arrived unscathed and uncracked. But a company which insured the first two shipments had 300 cracked American bathtubs on hand. It has been selling them since, cleaning up in—and cleaning up—Cairo.

Singer Tony Bennett, the Bergerac of Brooklyn, is probably going to get his nose straightened after he works at the Copa (starting Feb. 26.) Tony's always resisted "a nose job"—but a film offer's at stake. Danny Thomas and Jimmy Durante will remain the only big-schnozzes who wouldn't give in. As Danny has always preached, "If you're gonna have a nose, HAVE ONE!"

LINDA

WHO'S FEUDIN' NOW?: As an admirer of both Jack Paar and Peter Lind Hayes, I'm going to encourage them NOT to get into a feud. I happen to know they respect each other's work. Anyway, Hayes says in answer to Jack's challenge to a fight or wrestling match, "I refuse—I never fight with children." And Jack said concerning Henry Morgan's flip remarks: "I only hope this fellow is as funny as he thinks he is." Feudists wind up bitter at the world and I'm urging them to make peace.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Jayne Meadows flew to L.A. with an interior decorator, worked on her new home, flew back next day . . . Jack Paar's gag man, Jack Douglas, titled his new book, "My Brother Is An Only Child" . . . Jan Murray wants to take flying lessons but his wife and sponsor say Nope.

EARL'S PEARLS: The Pentagon in Washington has five sides—on every issue.—Quote.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: The little boy who used to tell the other kids there was no Santa Claus has grown up to be a commentator on world news . . . That's earl, brother.

Study Stress Factors

They Help Modern Man to 'Hold That Tiger!'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The door opens, and into the board room stalks a saber-toothed tiger.

Does the vice preident know how to cope with this situation?

Probably not. But his body would. It would start priming him for violent physical activity.

His psychological response would be the same as that of his caveman ancestors: blood rushes to the face, hair on the back of the neck stands up, adrenalin—making possible extraordinary physical effort—flows into the blood stream.

The saber-tooth won't walk into the board room. But put in his place the vice president's arch office rival, the man who perhaps is out for his job.

The reaction? The same: rush of blood, hair on end, adrenalin.

"His primitive response," says an expert, "is to hit his rival over the head with a chair. But he can't. He has to just sit and take it."

Man hasn't changed much, physiologically, since caveman days. Finding ways to help him cope with modern stresses is the goal of the Human Performance Laboratory at UCLA. There Dr. Laurence E. Morehouse and aides study reactions to crisis situations and try to work out solutions.

"Sometimes," says Dr. Morehouse, "civilization forces us to act opposite to what experience has taught our bodies."

Take a jet pilot. When something goes wrong and he's faced with danger he, like the vice president, is primed for violence. Yet violence would ruin him. For his machine requires the most delicate guidance.

You can't change the pilot, so what do you do? "His problem," says Dr. Morehouse, "must go to a design engineer for solution. We are trying to learn how many tasks the pilot can do—and what must be done for him, automatically."

Another common crisis reaction is that of an athlete before action. Says Dr. Morehouse: "His heart is pounding and he feels sick to his stomach. He should realize his body is preparing him for action. As soon as he starts performing, all his energies will be utilized."

For everyday pressures, he advises:

"Play for time. Give these stress feelings time to peter out. Ask questions to stall for time until you can think clearly and act calmly.

"Then, later, use up these stresses with some sort of physical workout — handball, bowling, perhaps a steam bath. Otherwise, things tend to pile up."

Atlas Explodes Over Atlantic

3-Minute Flight Ends in Burst of White Light; Cause Unknown

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A burst of white light high in the sky early today marked the explosive ending of an Atlas ICBM after a three minute flight.

★ ★ ★

The powerful war rocket shattered to bits in a spectacular fireworks display over the Atlantic when an undetermined malfunction occurred, the Air Force announced.

★ ★ ★

The 80-foot missile was blazing at full steam on the start of what reportedly was a 4,900-mile flight test when it burst apart.

The surprise blowup broke an impressive string of seven successful launchings in the last five months for the huge missile that carries U.S. hopes of catching the Soviets in the space race in the near future.

Atlas No. 21 rose precariously with a brilliant flash at 12:38 a.m. and appeared to be performing smoothly as it looped over and darted toward the southeast.

★ ★ ★

Debris rained in all directions as the rocket exploded shortly after the 300,000 pound thrust twin booster rockets burned out and dropped away. The main sustainer engine still was burning brightly.

The cause of the failure was not known immediately. No announcement was expected because of the security aspects of the military shoot.

Since the last explosion Sept. 18, the "Big A" scored a series of triumphs highlighted by the first 6,325-statute mile intercontinental range shot Nov. 28 and the satellite success of Dec. 18.

★ ★ ★

The abortive flight of Sept. 18 was the first "hot rod" — the missileman's term for an Atlas being fired full range.

Until today, the Atlas program had been considered to be six months ahead of the original schedule, project officials said.

The 120-ton rocket already has been selected to provide the booster for sending a satellite to the planet Venus this June, informed sources say. Atlas also will lift the first U.S. manned space capsule skyward when the so-called "Project Mercury" program is ready.

Radiation Treatment Set Today for Dulles

WASHINGTON (AP) — Doctors plan to begin radiation treatment today for Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' cancer.

The recurrence of Dulles' intestinal cancer was discovered last week when the secretary underwent a hernia operation.

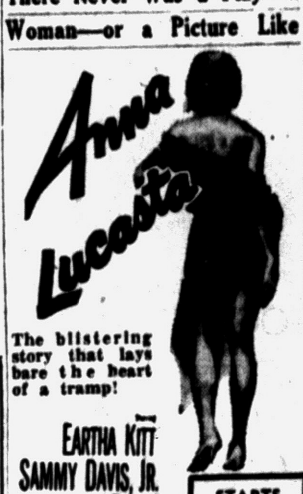

The State Department said Dulles rested well Thursday.

Opposes Special Rates to Federal Corps at Sea

WASHINGTON (AP) — Free or cut-rate ocean cruises should be prohibited for anyone on the federal payroll, including members of Congress, says Sen. John J. Williams (R-Del).

Williams, in introducing a bill to this effect Thursday, noted that U.S. railroads and airlines already are barred by law from giving special rates to public officials. The same thing should apply to U.S. shipping companies, he said.

Be Careful If You Buy a Vacant Lot in Florida

By JOE HAAS

FORT MYERS, Fla. — Are you one of the untold millions of northerners who hanker for a home in Florida? If not, then you're a rare exception.

Such a home of course requires a building lot on which to place it. It is with such a vacant lot that most people plan to make the start toward that home. Very few at first buy a completed house.

HAAS

It is in the sale of vacant lots that the most of the Florida real estate agents revel. They've already sold enough so that if a home was built on each of them, and each housed an average family, Florida would have the largest population of any state in the union.

These lots have largely been sold on the installment plan—most of them at $10 down and $10 a month, and it is hardly probable that the buyers ever will erect a home on them. This is for one of three reasons.

First, the buyer was in a speculative mood. He had been assured that he could resell the lot at a good profit, which many have done.

Second, he had that rather common feeling among northerners that he'd like to brag to his friends that he owned property in Florida.

Third, (and there are too many in this class), a home cannot be built on the lot until it is raised out of the water and put in shape to support a habitation, which in most cases would cost several times the original price that he is paying for the lot.

But Florida is doing a good job at cutting down its top source of employment. While more of the state's residents still make their living by selling real estate than in any other line of endeavor, rigid state and local regulations are weeding out the guys who prey on northern suckers.

In order to peddle building lots, a person now must have some qualifications other than a glib tongue, pen point pencil and a dotted line.

He must have established a residence, passed an examination that's above politics, proved that he has a savory past, and that he can deliver the goods he claims to handle.

★ ★ ★

The old gag of "no taxes for 10 years" cannot be used unless an amount is placed in escrow to cover any unforeseen taxes that might arise in that period. If the property is mortgaged before the lot is sold the buyer must be appraised of that fact, and it cannot be further mortgaged without the lot buyer's consent after a reasonable number of payments have been made.

Northerners are warned against buying "mail order" lots unsight and unseen, and are offered services to give an unbiased opinion on whether or not any property is being properly subdivided and of a value comparable to its representation.

Down this gulf coast are many subdivisions, one of which claims to be the largest in the world, covering several hundred square miles. On it hundreds of homes already are under construction.

This is true over a stretch of over 150 miles, in many cases extending for several miles inland. In this largest case a city almost as large as Pontiac is being built, with all of the business enterprises incidental to such a community.

★ ★ ★

While this housing is largely for northerners, there is a development in other ways to make it attractive the year round. Summer temperatures and other year round features here seem to conform quite well to the plan to make Florida a 12-month residence state.

Real estate values have soared so that the cost of the lot in the better locations is a far greater part of the total cost of the home than in the average northern residential community.

But with cheaper building material, cheaper labor and absence of the necessity of building for the winter, the cost of a home is little more than half of what a similar construction can be made in the north.

In spite of any so-called recession up there where it is cold, the "vacancy" signs are almost unknown on the motels after you get south of the Tampa-St. Petersburg area.

Arthur Couldn't Save Pepper This Time

SMITHFIELD, R.I. (AP) — Ten days ago, Arthur Laprade, 11, risked his life plunging into an ice-encrusted lake to rescue his mongrel dog, Pepper.

Arthur had to be rescued by a neighbor who smashed though ice for 15 feet.

Thursday a speeding car struck and killed the dog.

New Teller Robbed by Man With a Note

NEW YORK (AP)—Johnny Gallagher, 23, last Monday moved up from clerk to teller at the Chemical Corn Exchange bank at Seventh avenue and 33rd street.

★ ★ ★

Thursday a well-dressed man appeared in front of Gallagher's cage, shoved four dollars' worth of rolled pennies and nickles at him, along with a note demanding $5,000.

Gallagher scooped up a wad of bills and handed them to the man, who strolled away and disappeared in the afternoon crowds.

The loot amounted to $2,984—a $2,980 profit for the thief.

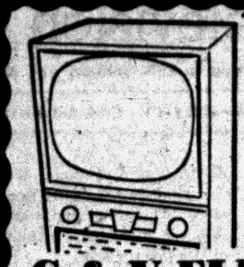

★ ★ ★

Gallagher said he wasn't sure if the man had a gun, but decided to do the next best thing.

"I figured he would be satisfied with anything I gave him," Gallagher said.
