U.S. Launches Program to Furnish Oil for Europe

Move Indicates Canal Invaders Are Getting Out

Continent Will Receive Up to 1,100,000 Barrels of Petroleum Daily

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government today ordered into effect its emergency program to supply Western Europe with up to 1,100,000 barrels of oil daily.

Mobilization Director Arthur S. Flemming asked Secretary of Interior Seaton to activate the industry's Middle East Emergency Committee.

This committee, representing 15 oil companies, has standby plans to pool production, distribution and tanker facilities for an effort to ease the European petroleum crisis resulting from blockage of the Suez Canal.

Most European countries already have gone under voluntary or compulsory gasoline rationing while this government withheld action — thereby exerting pressure on Britain and France to withdraw their troops from Egypt.

Flemming's action implied, but did not state, that the United States has obtained what it considers sufficient assurances from the French and British governments that their forces will be withdrawn, leaving the United Nations a free hand to stabilize conditions in Egypt.

Even with the U. S. effort, there still will be a petroleum deficit of about 20 per cent in Western Europe this winter, officials said unless the canal and disrupted pipelines to the Mediterranean are restored in good time.

In spite of the heavy drain on Western Hemisphere oil supplies, Office of Defense Mobilization officials have said there will be no necessity for rationing in this country.

Flemming said he acted after consultation with Secretary of State Dulles and Acting Secretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr. "and with the approval of the President."

The question of how the European countries would finance Western Hemisphere oil purchase was not immediately answered.

Jan. 15 Public Hearing Slated

$5,381,779 Budget Studied

Pontiac City commissioners last night took their first look at the proposed 1957 city budget which calls for an increase of $245,500 over the current budget, but shows promises that the present $13.70 tax rate may be continued.

Presented by City Manager Walter K. Willman, the proposed budget totals $5,381,779.

It is proposed that a $3,424,990 be levied as property tax, while $1,616,217 is estimated as income from sources other than taxes.

HEARING SET JAN. 15

Commissioners, under the City Charter, have until the end of January to approve the budget. A public hearing for Jan. 15 on the budget was scheduled.

"The budget as proposed and submitted is based on an estimated assessed value of the city for 1957 that will very possibly permit the continuation of $13.70 per thousand tax rate," Willman said.

An estimate of the 1957 tax valuation of the city would be $250 million, Willman said, compared to $239 million for the current year.

TO MEET GROWTH PROGRAM

"The budget was designed to finance a continuing program of public service and municipal construction," he added, "and is within the city's fiscal limits and should meet many of the needs of a growing community."

Willman listed these reasons for the hike over the present budget; (1) higher costs of construction supplies, (2) increased pension costs because of the adoption of Social Security for city employes, (3) adjustments in compensation to keep in line with the rising cost of living and the rates paid by industry and other cities.

Adding personnel in various departments, such as firemen to man the new fire station at West Huron and Genesee, was another reason mentioned by Willman.

* * *

The proposal includes continuation of the voter-approved 3½ mills or $875,000 for capital improvement, and one-half mills or $125,000 toward the retirement of the 1954 Pontiac General Hospital bond issue.

Commissioners are expected to delve into the allocations of the capital improvement schedule at a Dec. 7 informal session. This must be approved before approval of the budget.

Provisions have been made in the budget ($200,000) for the Public Safety Building, the completion of the fire station ($25,000), and the completion of the Orchard Lake - Telegraph road grade separation.

Included also is $170,000 or the first payment of the half-million dollar allocation of the city to aid in the construction of the new city hospital addition.

The annual provisions for the continuation of the city's paving, sewer, and sidewalk projects has a place in the budget.

TO WIDEN PERRY

The city's share of the widening and reconstruction of Perry street from Huron to the city limits, is another provision of the proposal.

"The water department budget for 1957 provides for the operation and maintenance of the water system and a certain amount of exploratory drilling pending a decision as to the city's final water supply," the manager pointed out.

He added that he hoped a decision on this would be forthcoming by early next year "so that the city may be assured of an unlimited supply of soft, potable water by 1959."

$800 Pot-O-Gold —Enough to Pay Christmas Bills!

That money in Pot-O-Gold is really mounting again. After the judges failed to find a winner from among 8,892 qualified entries, another $100 was added to the pot, and the total now is $800.

If you would be interested in counting that into your own pocket, turn to page 30 and begin work on Puzzle No. 26. You still have until Tuesday to get it in on time.

After repeated warnings, we're finally finding fewer entries sent in envelopes, but 79 still missed the deadline and couldn't qualify. Remember, this is a busy season, so it might be a good idea to mail your entries a little earlier than you previously did. And don't feel that because you put your entry into a neighborhood mail box it will be postmarked on time.

The postmark that is put on your entry after it reaches the post office is the date that determines whether it's late or not. Allow plenty of time for it to get from the mail box to the post office.

200 Civilians Attack Cuba Police Posts

SANTIAGO DE CUBA (AP)—About 200 armed civilians attacked two police stations here today in an attempt to spark a revolt against President Fulgencio Batista. The government claimed the rebellion was crushed in less than two hours.

Three rebels were reported killed.

Gen. Francisco Tabernilla, chief of the armed forces, said the situation was under control and that the army had rounded up small groups of dispersed rebels.

Straits Bridge to Sport MSU-U. of M. Colors

LANSING (AP) — The Mackinac Straits Bridge will be green and white by day and blue and gold at night.

Lawrence Rubin, authority secretary, said engineers recommended forest green for the side of the span and white for the towers.

At night, the bridge will be lighted by golden lights strung along the overhead cables and blue mercury vapor lights along the sides of the bridge.

This means the bridge will bear Michigan State University's colors by day and the University of Michigan's at night, Rubin noted.

57 Units Ready for Traditional Yuletide March

Christmas - on - Wheels Set to Begin at 9:30 at Saginaw, Turk

Santa Claus and that Yuletide spirit will be ushered in tomorrow with all the color and splendor young and old could ask for, as the ninth annual "Christmas - on - Wheels" parade marches through the heart of Pontiac.

Promptly at 9:30 at the Saginaw and Turk formation area, Pontiac police motorcyclists will kick over their machine starters, echoing the beginning of a stream of 57 units up Saginaw.

The Weatherman warns parents and children alike to bundle warmly as temperatures will hover around the freezing mark with cloudy skies above.

Parade Marshal Capt. A. J. Largent and Gerard A. Poehlman, executive director of the Retail Merchants Assn. sponsored event, estimated that with good weather, some 50,000 will line Saginaw and Oakland to watch the spectacle.

Parade officials stressed that the units will move regardless of the weather. Last year, 30,000 braved a chilly downpour to witness the event.

Highlighting the parade will be 19 floats entered by Pontiac churches, depicting religious themes. These will be within the first 33 units of the parade line.

The second section of the march will include gaily decorated floats

Parade Closes Streets

Lt. Joseph Koren, chief of the police traffic and safety bureau, warned motorists that the following streets would be closed to traffic beginning at 9 a. m. Saturday due to the Christmas parade:

Saginaw from Wilson to Oakland, Oakland from Saginaw to Sanderson, and Sanderson from Oakland to Cass. He said east and westbound traffic would not be effected south of Wilson or north of Johnson.

Cass, Bagley, Perry, and Paddock will remain open to north and southbound traffic.

Named State Jaycee Safety Director

Haskill Wants New Laws

Newly appointed to a state safety position, Clyle R. Haskill, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Safety Committee, said today he will ask three pieces of legislation for highway safety.

Haskill was named state chairman of safety for the Michigan Junior Chamber of Commerce. He is on the board of directors of the junior chamber here.

He said he will ask the statewide organization to petition legislators for laws which will:

Legalize chemical testing devices which are used in trials of drunk drivers;

Give the state a uniform traffic code to help eliminate confusion on the part of out - of - state drivers;

And call for a mandatory annual check of all autos for mechanical fitness.

Haskill said the mounting accident and traffic death rate demands action on the part of the legislature.

In Michigan last year, he pointed out, there were 2,004 killed on highways and 62,234 injured in 196,812 reported accidents.

The three recommendations, Haskill said, have been proposed by the Chamber of Comerce Safety Committee.

Pontiac State Representative, Leslie Hudson, has agreed to introduce a bill for legalization of chemical testing in the next session, Haskill said.

Devices to test for alcohol in the body are used throughout the state.

Justice Ponders His Resignation

Fine Charles Williams $90 for Registering False Name at Motel

Madison Heights associate justice Charles O. Williams, accused of making indecent proposals to an 18-year-old Ferndale girl, said this morning he will meet with his attorney today to decide whether to resign before removal proceedings are brought against him.

But neither Williams nor the attorney, Andrew J. Hollis, would give any indication whether the embattled justice will haul down his flag.

Yesterday, Williams was fined $90 and $10 costs for registering at a Bloomfield Township motel under a false name, Waterford Township Justice Willis D. Lefurgy sentenced Williams after he pleaded guilty.

Williams paid the fine. His alternative was a 90 day jail sentence.

Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor said yesterday Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart has agreed to preside over removal proceedings against Williams if he does not resign. No time or place has been set.

Accusing Williams, Patricia Dawn Slate told Taylor Tuesday she went to the justice's house Monday night to ask him to reduce her boy friend's jail sentence.

While she was there, she said, Williams offered to give her $15 a night if she would spend two hours on each of six nights at a motel with him.

After notifying Madison Heights police, she said, she agreed. Police followed the pair to the motel, where Williams registered under the false name, and Miss Slate slipped out of his car.

A lie detector test Tuesday confirmed the girl's story, Taylor said, and he began readying documents for removal proceedings.

Madison Heights' city council voted Wednesday night to ask the Governor's office to bring the ouster proceedings, and ordered police to take no more cases to Williams' court.

Fatigue Called Biggest Hazard to Useful Life

SEATTLE (AP) — Fatigue is the greatest obstacle to a happy, useful life for oldsters and its best antidote is physical activity, even when one feels tired, a specialist in the treatment of the aging asserted today.

It takes a lot of will power to get going when one feels the need of rest, but rest usually is not the best medicine, said Dr. Theodore G. Klumpp of New York City.

Dr. Klumpp, who talked to a reporter previously participated in a panel of aging at a clinical session of the American Medical Assn., here.

The activity should be something a person likes, such as golf, swimming, hiking, gardening or tennis, Dr. Klumpp added, and should not be overdone.

"Too much exercise, as well as too much rest, can defeat its own purpose," the physician said.

Huddle Beside Fire —Cold Will Continue

The U.S. Weather Bureau's forecast for Pontiac and vicinity is mostly cloudy and continued cold tonight, with a low near 25.

Tomorrow will remain cold, with the chance of occasional light snow flurries, high near 32.

The weatherman has reported that the outlook for Sunday is snow and continued cold.

Twenty degrees was the lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m.

At 2 p.m. the temperature read 26.

Shorn Romeo Student Readmitted

By LEE WINBORN
Press Romeo Correspondent

The doors of Romeo High School opened yesterday for 16-year-old Robert Phernetton who had visited a barbershop and had his "Elvis Presley" locks shorn.

Reluctantly submitting to his parents' decision that his education came first, he maintained he still preferred his previous upswept hair style.

"I'm not happy," he said, "my parents told me to have my hair cut."

Mrs. Alice Phernetton continued to stress that she and her husband "still feel it is a parental right to see how a child has his hair cut."

She added that their primary concern now—after her son had missed 24 days of school—was to get Robert back into the classroom.

After the haircut, the boy and his mother applied for his readmission to School Supt. T. C. Filppula. Filppula agreed to instruct Robert's teachers to help him make up work he had missed since he was denied admittance for failure to conform with school policy on grooming and dress.

Two weeks ago, Macomb County Circuit Judge Alton H. Noe ruled that the Romeo school board and administrators were within their rights in setting such standards. He advised Robert to have his hair cut and return to school. During the ensuing period the Phernettons had been debating whether or not to carry their case to a higher court.

Police Check Two Holdups

Grocer and Trucker in South Oakland Robbed of $360

Two holdups, which netted thieves a total of $360, occurred in southern Oakland County last night. Police have descriptions but no suspects in the robberies.

Leroy Williams, a Flint trucker, was held up and robbed of $190 at the intersection of Telegraph and Golf Drive in Bloomfield Township, just south of the Pontiac city limits, shortly before midnight.

Early in the evening, Charles Partee, owner of the Franklin Knolls Market at 32418 Northwestern, Farmington Township, was struck on the head with a gun and forced to hand over $170.

Investigators have not linked the crimes together. Bloomfield police reported a man believed to be about 27 years old held up Williams while he was working on his truck engine alongside the road. They said the bandit drove up in a Ford Thunderbird with a companion who never got out of the car. He asked Williams if he was having trouble and then pulled a gun on him and demanded money.

Partee, who suffered no ill effects from the blow on the head, told State Police two youths about 18 held him up after stating they wanted to buy some cookies for a party. He said he was slugged as he bent over to show them his display.

The grocer said both men got away in a car after taking his wallet and holding him at gunpoint while he put the money from his cash register into a bag.

According to police, the thugs had earlier inquired about a battery at a radio shop next door to the grocery. The battery is being checked for fingerprints today as it was handled by both men.

Mother and 3 Tots Perish in Flames

FRUITPORT (AP) — A young mother and three of her small children died early today in a fire which destroyed their Fruitport Township home, near this West Michigan Community in Muskegon County.

State police said the father, Patrick Reagan, 22, escaped the flames with an infant son, Michael, 8 months old.

They identified the victims as Mrs. Patricia Reagan, 22, and her children, Denise, 4; Donna, 3, and Patrick Jr., 23 months old.

The three children were trapped in the northwest bedroom of the one-story frame and tarpaper home, a former government housing project unit which had been moved from Muskegon and reconditioned.

Mrs. Reagan's body was found in the second bedroom of the four-room dwelling.

Muskegon county deputies said Reagan ran to the home of neighbor Carl Denison, shortly before 5 a.m., carrying the infant and shouting:

"My house is on fire."

Reagan left the baby at the neighbor's and attempted to return to the flaming home. The roof collapsed into the burning building, preventing his entry, deputies said.

Bartender's Tip Leads to Arrest of Bandit

DETROIT (AP) — A bartender's long memory, said detective Irvin Hanneman, has led to the arrest of a bandit who held up six bars in the past month with an 1857 cap-and-ball pistol.

Robert Loturco, 20, of Detroit, a baby-faced young man was arrested yesterday and charged with robbery.

One bartender who asked him for identification to see if he was old enough to be served, remembered the name on the identification card, Hanneman said. Tracing through another youth, detectives found Loturco.

Peeping Tom Picks House of Ex-Boxer

A Milford youth picked the wrong house for his window-peeping, police said today.

It was the West Bloomfield Township home of Chuck Davey, former Michigan State University and professional boxer.

Sheriff's detectives Don Francis and Jack Davis said today 18-year-old David Thebo was seen by Davey as he peered into the window Tuesday night.

Davey, running out of the house, tried to stop Thebo's getaway but was bruised on the hip by the fender of the escaping car, they said.

But the boxer noted the car's license number, and detectives tracked Thebo down. Assistant prosecutor Edward Shigley said today Thebo admitted the window peeping in a statement this morning, and is scheduled for arraignment this afternoon before West Bloomfield Township Justice Elmer C. Dieterle.

Mayor Checked by City Ruling

Seeks to Again Bring Up Auto Parts Question, Runs Into Opposition

A commission-imposed rule prevented Mayor William W. Donaldson last night of bringing back a proposed used auto parts ordinance which was defeated last week by a 4 to 3 vote.

Donaldson moved that commissioners reconsider the proposal, but this met with opposition by Commissioner Floyd P. Miles who said it was not in accord with Rule 15 of Commission Rules.

* * *

It states, as read by City Attorney William A. Ewart, that only those commissioners voting in the affirmative could put the matter back on the table.

This would leave it up to Commissioners Miles, Philip Rowston, and Gilbert Long.

The mayor explained that he desired its reconsideration so that a commission committee might have "another opportunity to present the case."

The matter was referred to a Dec. 7 informal meeting, before which time Ewart was instructed to study revision of the Commission Rules.

The ordinance would have prohibited the sale of new and used auto parts on Sundays.

Police Question Two in Golf Club Robbery

Over $500 in cash and an undetermined amount of liquor, food, and cigarettes was taken from a West Bloomfield Township golf club in a breakin Thursday morning, Oakland County Sheriff's detectives said today.

Charles Richardson, manager of the looted Twin Beach Club, discovered the burglary several hours after closing at 2:30 a.m. He said the cash was taken from the cash register, a hiding place in under the register and from cigarette and shuffleboard machines.

Investigators traced tracks in the snow leading away from the club at 7625 Glascat Rd. They reported having two suspects in the breakin.

Examination Waived on Uttering Charge

A Jackson man waived examination and was bound over to the Oakland County Circuit Court on an uttering and publishing charge Thursday.

Jack B. Kirchmeyer, 34, was remanded to the county jail under $3,500 bond to await further action on the charge.

The Day in Birmingham

Lodge May Abandon Plan for Maple-Arlington Site

BIRMINGHAM — "We were denied and Masonry being what it is we probably won't, fight," Raymond Cecil said today, of the rejection by City Planning Board Wednesday night of his Masonic Building committee's zoning request.

"We wouldn't want to create any ill feelings in the community," Cecil told the Pontiac Press. His group had asked that the Maple-Arlington corner be rezoned for a site for a new Masonic Temple.

"But the owner may contact legal counsel to have relief on his taxes," Cecil surmised. "He can't sell it as a home because of heavy traffic on Maple, and he pays a high rate for a vacant lot."

At the Wednesday planning session, Cecil appeared and explained his group's case, but board members reiterated their turndown voted the week previously. The topic was discussed at the second meeting bcause Cecil mistakenly had not been notified of the first session.

The board's action has yet to have commission approval before becoming final.

Shoppers' funds are the goal of numerous charity and church sales, as well as merchants as this community swings into its Christmas Season.

Among church events on the agenda is the Yule Bake sale set at Redeemer Lutheran church for Dec. 13, with the Ladies Society as sponsors.

A newspaper sale to benefit crippled children is set for Dec. 21 by the Birmingham Rotary Club, as approved recently by the city commission.

A roast beef dinner, complete with singing waiters is set for tonight at 6:45 at the First Congregational church, with the music committee in charge of the meal and its entertainment.

Another today event is the Christmas bazaar at Our Shepherd Lutheran Church, with sales on from noon until 8:30 p.m. in the youth building of the parish. Giftwares, baked goods, and books will be featured.

Men's night, set for Monday from 7 to 10 will officially open the merchants' season, although some are already observing evening hours.

Others are starting evening sales that week, and others on Dec. 10.

Tomorrow morning at 9 a.m., Lot 3-A will open for shoppers and downtown workers' use, with meters registering up to 12 hours, at a nickel per two hours. There are two-hour meters as well as the long term ones.

Lot H-H won't be opening until next Spring, because of cold weather cutting out construction work earlier than expected. City officials had hoped to use the space even though blacktopped.

U.S. Pressing Hard for Budapest Team

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States began mustering support today for a move to tighten General Assembly pressure on Hungary's Communist leaders to let in U.N. observers.

U.N. officials announced that Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold would issue his long-awaited report this morning on the result of his negotiations with Budapest over the observers.

There was no indication that the Hungarian regime had modified its refusal to admit U.N. personnel or Hammarskjold.

Sources close to the U.S. delegation said American officials were sounding out fellow diplomats on a resolution which would spell out, in tougher terms than the Assembly has yet used, indignaton over the brushoff given the U.N. proposals to make an on-the-spot check.

School Principal's Opinion

Doubts Boy Set Forest Fire

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A teenage Indian boy, held on suspicion of starting the Cleveland National Forest fire, was described by his high school principal as "a sad little character."

The school principal added that he doubted if the boy, Gilbert Paipa, set the fire.

* * *

Elwood Stone, investigator for the U. S. Forest Service, said Paipa told him yesterday: "I just got a cracy idea to throw a match in the grass to see if it would burn."

The fire, which broke out Saturday, flared with terrific fury over 44,000 acres and burned 11 firefighters to death.

It is still smouldering today and foresters were on watch against a possible new outbreak as dry northeast winds increased and humidity remained low.

* * *

A flareup three miles north of El Capitan Reservoir along highway 78 was checked at 1:30 a.m.

The Indian boy was in juvenile custody while Federal and state officials conferred on disposition of the case.

Dist. Atty. Don Keller said he was held as a juvenile but could be prosecuted, if circumstances warrant, in adult court.

Keller said the account of his alleged confession indicated possibility of persecution on charges of arson or manslaughter.

The boy, dressed in denim trousers and leather jacket, had little to say himself.

Ray Redding, his principal at Julian Union high school, said Gilbert could have been persuaded by some older person to take responsibility for the fire.

He said the youth, in first year of high school through a "social promotion," had a low IQ and could barely read and write.

The principal said he was failing in every subject except physical education.

Toys Must Fit Age

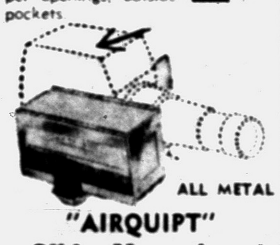

Don't buy Christmas toys for any child without giving thought to age suitability. Do remember that a principal factor in the safety of a toy lies in having it fit the child's capabilities.

New Ordinance Aids Builders

Streets and Sidewalks Must Meet Approved Levels in City

A new city ordinance establishing a policy of providing acceptable levels of streets and sidewalks to aid potential builders in Pontiac was written into record last night by the City Commission.

It calls for the city engineering department to establish such grades to be approved by the city manager, when requested by the city building inspector.

No building permits will be issued until builders comply with these grades, the ordinance outlines.

The adoption of the law was sparked by Commissioner John A. Dugan (District 5) who in July heard a resident of his district complain that he had to build up his driveway to pass over a new sidewalk.

Violation of the ordinance would result in a $100 fine, 90 days in jail, or both.

The new law becomes effective Dec. 8.

Churchill Celebrates 82nd Birthday Today

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill celebrates his 82nd birthday today with two parties, both strictly family affairs.

The first, a luncheon at his London home, put the emphasis on the former prime minister's younger grandchildren. They include the four children of Mrs. Christopher Soames, Churchill's youngest daughter, and Arabella, 7, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Churchill.

After the luncheon, Churchill was to drive to Chartwell, his country home 30 miles from London, to meet two older grandchildren. They are Julian, 20, and Edwina, 17, the children of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Sandys.

Parents Must Sign Writ to Alter Minor's Name

LANSING (AP)—Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh held yesterday probate courts may not change the name of a minor without the written consent of both parents.

In a letter to Clarence M. Russell, Jackson County probate judge, Kavanagh held that a minor's name could be changed only if the petition for a change were signed by both parents.

The petition must be signed by the father, he said, even if the father is not contributing to the support of the child.

If the father's whereabouts is unknown, the child's name could not be changed, he added.

He also held that the name change must be published in all cases and the requirement cannot be waived.

Arizona gained 23.8 per cent in population between 1950 and 1954. In the same period the population gain for Florida was about 19.1 per cent.

Versatile Bunch These Teachers— in Class and Out

OMAHA (INS) — The habits and hobbies of college professors might surprise you.

A study of Creighton University faculty members revealed that:

A professor who teaches "philosophy of being" also drives one of those pint-size foreign cars, and another who leads students into "the enjoyment of literature" rolls his own cigarettes.

There is an expert radio and TV repairman in the department of foreign languages and an embryo song writer in the speech department.

Among the Jesuit teachers there are a number of amateur chefs, amateur photographers and several skilled musicians. One is a highly rated softball pitcher and several are formidable competitors in golf and handball.

Still another faculty member — not identified — is an expert on the laws of chance and can tell in a moment what the odds are in filling out any poker hand.

Earle Sande was 54 when he rode his last horse race.

Wife Takes Stand for Alleged Kidnaper

MINEOLA, N.Y. (AP) — Angelo John LaMarca's 31-year-old wife, Donna, was on hand as today's first witness at his trial on kidnaping and murder charges.

Called by the defense, she was expected to testify in support of LaMarca's contention that he was temporarily insane because of financial woes and other worries when he kidnaped 32-day-old Peter Weinberger.

* * *

LaMarca kept saying "I don't know" or "I don't remember" yesterday as Dist. Atty. Frank A. Gulotta cross-examined him.

The defendant, a 31-year-old Long Island mechanic and taxi driver, could be sentenced to the electric chair if convicted.

* * *

He has confessed he kidnaped the baby from the Westbury, N.Y., home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Weinberger, and the same day abandoned him in a roadside honeysuckle thicket where he suffocated. LaMarca sought $2,000 ransom.

Law Enforcing Bodies Are to Be Commended

Oakland County law enforcement has faced some shocking offenses this fall. We shall not enumerate them here. The list is sufficiently well known.

★ ★ ★

Rather, we prefer to make the point that we believe these sordid affairs have been handled expeditiously, fairly and yet with a certainty that suggests this area is not a good one for illegal activities.

★ ★ ★

Many communities have recently been the subject of grand juries and investigations. The breath of scandal and irregularities leaves us untouched. Oakland County's law enforcing agencies and the courts seem to be on an especially high plane.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps this is a good place to call "time" and say a word of commendation and appreciation for those who have made this possible. All of us stand in their debt. They are serving this community and humanity valiantly.

Oklahoma Back on Top in Associated Press Poll

Whew!

What a relief!

The current Associated Press poll puts the Oklahoma football team back on top. Perhaps they deserve to be there. Perhaps they don't. They certainly played a minor league schedule by Big Ten standards.

★ ★ ★

Anyway, up here in Michigan we feel a sense of relief at seeing the Sooners top the nation again. You see, a week before, they were nosed out of the top spot by Tennessee.

Consternation broke loose.

The home office of the A.P. was the target of irate Oklahoma fans who berated the great press association with devastating sarcasm, jibes, jabs, broadsides and an occasional H-bomb. Chief of Bureau Wilbur Martin wrote from Oklahoma City:

"You can steal an Oklahoman's liquor or wife, but don't pick on the 'Big Red' team."

Now the shooting's over.

They emerge on top again.

Of course the A. P. doesn't do the picking. That's done by the sports writers and the A. P. merely chronicles the results. But the innocent press association bore the brunt and fury of the Oklahoma attack.

★ ★ ★

Personally, we think either Michigan or Michigan State could run Oklahoma right out of their own stadium and a large segment of the nation goes along with us.

★ ★ ★

Our Dec. 17 Election

The Nation's voters on November 6 did not elect a President and Vice-President.

But they did vote for 531 members of the Electoral College who will meet on December 17 in the various state capitals to go through the ritual of electing the next President and Vice-President.

The framers of the Constitution intended the electors to be guided only by their conscience. In theory, they will vote as they please. In recent years, Congressional Quarterly reminds us, the only elector to oppose his party's choice for President was the 1948 Tennessee Democrat. He cast his ballot for State Rights nominee J. Strom Thurmond instead of Harry S. Truman.

Most electors are party workers chosen as a reward for their labors. They are selected by party conventions or committees in all but five states. In four of these states they are chosen in primary elections. Pennsylvania, however, requires the Presidential nominee of each party to name his own electors.

When the electors meet they vote by ballot for President and Vice-President, sign six certificates of all the votes given by them and seal the certificates. Two of these go to the state's secretary of state, another to the judge of the nearest Federal district court and a fourth will be mailed to the President of the Senate, Richard M. Nixon.

★ ★ ★

The two remaining copies will be sent to the General Services Administrator in Washington. He will forward them to the examinations and review branch of the National Archives and Records Service of GSA.

Once their votes are cast, the work of the electors will be over officially. But some of them will be seen in Washington come January 21 for the inauguration ceremonies.

Resort Business in Area Far Above State Average

Experience: A valuable asset which we get when looking for something else.

During the tourist and resort season of 1956, those affiliated with that line of business in the Pontiac area fared much better than the average throughout the state. The many attractions in Oakland County all had a tendency to make it a profitable season, and few complaints are heard. In spite of many adverse weather conditions, the number patronizing the resorts in the Pontiac area ran into the millions. However, according to

of the Michigan Tourist Council, the overall reports from the entire state are not good. Too much rain when we didn't need it and too much sunshine that came too late did the trick. It rained 39 days during July and August which usually are the best tourist months, and during their 62 days this year it usually was too wet to fish and too cold to swim. The late warm weather came after most people had "endured" a vacation at their usual time, and brought little business.

Expected to be the state's stellar tourist attraction this year, the Mackinaw bridge was a flop. In fact, it was a deterrent, because thousands of people from the far corners of our nation, who are planning to have our state on their itinerary at some time, are putting that visit off until they can see and use the completed bridge, which will not be until after the close of the 1957 tourist season.

We like those little red houses protecting the Salvation Army gals in their Yuletide solicitation on Pontiac's street corners.

David Lawrence Says:

Deny U.N. Recognition of Russia

WASHINGTON—The United Nations has been humiliated by the Soviet government, on whose orders the puppet government in Budapest has been refusing U.N. observers any access to Hungary.

If the territory of a member country cannot be visited by United Nations representatives, it means that a cloak of secrecy has been imposed to blind the eyes of the world organization and keep it from knowing the truth.

The "Iron Curtain" now has become a wall of defiance by the Soviet government which everybody knows has absolute control of what the alleged government at Budapest says.

How can the United Nations permit the Moscow government or its puppet in Budapest to remain members of that organization? The charter does not contain a specific provision stipulating how expulsion shall be carried out, but certainly under any procedures known to established governments or tribunals there is such a thing as recognition and non-recognition of the credentials of members.

Thus it would be practicable to keep the name of Russia on the membership roll of the U.N., but to ask the representatives of the present government to depart from the U.N. premises because the U.N. no longer recognizes their presence as official.

★ ★ ★

Representative John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, Democratic leader of the U.S. House of Representatives, is rightly aroused over the indignity of the Communists in refusing permission to the secretary general of the U.N. to investigate conditions in that country. Mr. McCormack thinks U.N. planes should not wait for permission but go in anyhow. He says that if the planes are stopped and the personnel arrested it will be proof of the incapacity of the present Hungarian government to discharge its responsibilities to the United Nations.

Senator Knowland, Republican leader of the Senate, a few days ago called for the expulsion of Soviet Russia from the U.N. because of what has happened in Hungary.

The secretary general has been waiting patiently for two weeks to get an answer to the request he made after the General Assembly instructed him by resolution to proceed to Hungary and make a first-hand study of conditions there. It is apparent that the U.N. now will have to consider all the evasive replies and excuses given by the puppet government at Budapest.

A case can now be made for the withdrawal of recognition of the existing Hungarian government. A simple resolution is all that's needed, declaring the seat of Hungary to be vacant and adding that representatives from Hungary will be accepted whenever a free government arises.

The United Nations has recently received a new lease of life. Persons who have been discouraged because of the failure of the U.N. to assert itself have in the last few weeks taken on new hope. Will the U.N. assembly rise to the occasion and show the whole world that it will not tolerate defiance and indignity?

The United Nations has an opportunity, moreover, to achieve a constructive advance in its influence in world affairs. The satellite countries are supposed to be independent. But when they are continuously occupied by the Soviet troops and a ruling government is removed at any moment by orders from Moscow, it is clear that there is a violation of the pledge inherent in the charter which, in effect, says the territorial integrity and political independence of member countries must be preserved.

LI'L ONES

"Is this really as high as you go, Mister?"

Dr. William Brady Says:

Cars Turning America Into Nation of Weaklings

Most European schoolboys can chin themselves.

Most American schoolboys cannot.

So the physical education experts purpose to omit this stunt from the standard tests to determine whether a boy is physically capable—say to qualify for a commission in the Army, Navy or Air Force.

After all, it seems pretty silly to build our national defense with material selected on such a basis.

Even if a boy can't chin himself, he may still be able to press a button as well as the next fellow if our foreign aid programs should ever run dry and some disgruntled have-nots start shooting.

The experts who would eliminate the chinning test did not explain, but one of them suggested why European schoolboys make American schoolbys look like nambypambies in actual performance.

WALKING DOES IT

In Europe they walk or run to and from school, and often for considerable distances. In America they ride.

It is not the youngsters' fault that they are weak and steadily getting weaker. It is, I think the fault of education. I mean to say their education is being sadly neglected. The physical part of it, that is.

Never heard of physical education when I was a boy on Chapel Street in Canandaigua, though some teachers regularly led their classes in calisthenics.

However, I'm sure we kids and probably the youngsters in the rest of the village received a better physical education than school children in village or city get today. We walked to and from school, and we played after school and in vacation time.

On Chapel Street and on most of the streets youngsters played without restriction whenever they wished. Vehicles used the street occasionally but nobody infringed on our right to play ball on the street in the summer time or coast and bobsled there in the winter.

NO PLACE TO PLAY

Automobile traffic has virtually deprived youngsters in villages and in cities of the right to play. Playgrounds? Even getting to and from the playground involves hazard. Playgrounds clutter up the community, and they are noisy.

The most elaborately equipped and staffed playground can scarcely compare with the street where you live and-or your own yard, neither of which is available today, except for the few kids lucky enough to live in a small village.

Dogs and kids brought up in villages or small towns lead the life of Riley—or maybe I should say they did so before everybody got a license to own a deadly weapon, the automobile.

Because such freedom to play has been lost, along with other freedoms we formerly enjoyed in Yankeeland, we parents and grandparents are morally bound to see to it that school children receive a course of physical training under competent teachers.

All school children, except those disabled by disease or defect, should be required to DO certain things to qualify for graduation—such as chin themselves, swim ten yards, turn a handspring or cartwheel or do six pushups.

As so-called physical education is administered in most schools, there seems to be no definite course, no particular goal to aim for, and no specific examination or test at the end of the term to show whether the student has gotten anything worthwhile. This is scandalous—not just because it is wasteful but because it is unfair to the future citizens of America.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

America, Guard Against Decadence

Erosion of the soul is a far greater threat to the integrity of this Republic than even the tragic soil erosion. And this soul-erosion takes place by gradual degrees. The secularization of Sunday and commercialism of Christmas and Easter show the deft technique used by the camel which soon ousted the Arab from his tent!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case T-335: Mrs. Crane often goes through my mail to weed out the advertising material and mark the things she thinks I should read.

"Here's a three-day Seminar on Hypnosis," she told me, as she showed me the program folder.

"Outstanding authorities from all over the U.S.A. are to be in Chicago for the three-day series. The fee is $100, and doctors, as well as special psychology students may attend."

"I can't go," I added. "Don't you remember I have a speech in the South at that time? But maybe George and Philip would like to attend."

So I looked over the program more closely. Then I said:

"No, I'll throw the folder in the wastebasket. For this three-day seminar is scheduled to run Friday, Saturday and all day Sunday, starting Sunday at 9 a.m. and lasting till 4 p.m. Sunday afternoon.

I am opposed to medical conventions, sales meetings and all such workaday projects being scheduled on Sunday.

And I don't even like the secularization of the Sabbath by holding political elections on Sunday, as is done in Europe.

Mrs. Crane heartily agreed with my decision. I have often mentioned the erosion of the soul that is occurring in modern America.

★ ★ ★

Slowly we are being forced into aping decadent European practices. As a young, virile Republic, America was supposed to set a new standard in world history, and not meekly kowtow to Europe.

But we have gradually seen a modified socialism spread over the U.S.A. And European drinking habits have begun to usurp our splendid American beverages.

America is noted especially for milk and fruit juices, plus soda pop and cola beverages.

Scotch and Irish whisky, British ale, German beer, plus French and Italian wines, have demoralized those home nations and now are trying to do the same in this country.

When delirium tremens became so apparent among French children and even babies that it caused a national scandal, the former leader of France urged that they imitate America and use milk for their youngsters.

He was then defeated for re-election, chiefly because the liquor interests were more concerned with dividends than with the lives of their own French youngsters!

FACE THE MOBS

"Always look a mob in the face," was the advice of John Wesley.

In this daily column I try to do that, especially so your children can see the true facts and be adequately warned of evils.

★ ★ ★

The descration of the Sabbath is as dangerous to our spiritual health as would be the contamination of a city water supply to our physical health.

It is time that patriotic Americans spoke out against all trends that are placing our Republic on the toboggan.

So when you are members of business or professional associations, speak out against the invasion of the Sabbath by your annual conventions.

This includes editorial, medical, dental, business and many other state or national meetings.

If your convention is worthwhile, then schedule it on week days but don't violate the Ten Commandments by haggling over convention items on Sunday.

Christ indicted the money changers in the Temple, and I feel sure He would oppose the crass secularization of Sunday with modern business and professional conventions on that day.

Remember the Arab and his camel, which got into the tent by slow degrees? That's how erosion of the soul can cost a nation its vigor and liberties.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Explain Prosecutor's Help With Pot-O-Gold Puzzles

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Oakland County pays the prosecuting attorney thousands of dollars for his service each year. What does the Pontiac Press pay him for looking over 6,000 puzzle cards? There were so many last week he had to take an extra day to look them over.

Taxpayer

(Editor's Note: The prosecuting attorney does not look over the puzzles. That is done by Pontiac Press staff members. Puzzle answers are sent to the prosecuting attorney's office and are put into the safe until after the deadline date to turn in puzzles. This is to avoid any chance of someone getting the answer and turning it in. That is the only connection the prosecuting attorney has with the Pot-O-Gold puzzle.)

Haircut Opinions Still Pouring In

It seems to be the opinion of some people that the school board "kicked out a teenager for his haircut." This isn't true. The fact is that the school asked the boy to get his hair cut in the shorter standard style, which he refused to do. A number of other boys who were asked to do the same did so. It is the school's duty to expel people who refuse to comply with the rules.

Another point that has been brought up is that George Washington, Abraham Lincoln and other great men have had long haircuts. My friends, this is 1956. In George Washington's time the standard haircut was a long one. I'm positive if that were so today, this boy's haircut wouldn't have been questioned.

The question is asked how a haircut can contribute to delinquency? If you could take a look at all the teenagers today, you would find that the kids with hoody haircuts, cars with duals, loud clothes and loud talk are the ones who are in trouble almost every time. I'm not saying these things are wrong, but you just watch and see. They lead to smoking and drinking, which lead to trouble, a police record and an unhappy life.

Someone mentioned that the act was not Christian. Believe me no real Bible believing Christian would want to make an undue spectacle of himself, nor would he want to imitate Elvis Presley.

Cindy Johnson
High School Teenager

May I comment on these haircuts? Since the school is going that far to decide on a boy's haircut (and we know a lot of crazy ones have been started) I think it's worse for the girls to get their hair cut like a boy. Lots of times you don't know if they are boys or girls, until you look for a skirt. If they have on jeans and a boyish coat they look like a boy.

Mother and Grandmother of 18

I have just read some of the disgusting tripe concerning the latest fad in haircuts or lack of them. The "Mom Who Loves Teenagers" certainly has the right idea. Anybody who doubts this should read the personal interview of Elvis Presley conducted by Julius Archer.

Mr. Archer put the same questions to Elvis that some of the people are wondering about, such as "Do these long haircuts contribute to delinquency?" The reply was something that should make little minds stop and think. Presley in turn asked, "Wasn't there any delinquency before I came along with my haircut?"

Seems to me that Rudolph Valentino had sideburns, and the teenagers of that day lived to a ripe old age without all turning to delinquency.

It's just a fad and will die of old age just like they all do. Why not let the kids alone?

S. Neighbors

Come on, Pontiac. Open your school doors to the kid who can't go to school in Romeo. Show the school board in Romeo we're not as narrow-minded as they are.

It's too bad a kid can't have an education because of his hair cut.

Muriel White
Eastern Junior High

This business of people crying "Dictatorship" about a boy's haircut is ridiculous. Our state legislature decreed that we drive safely and sanely too. Does that make our state government a dictatorship?

To observe the dictum of our elected governing bodies is an integral part of everyday life. If we are good citizens, and to learn to observe such rules begins in the schools and our homes. If parents are going to condone law breaking in schools, they certainly are not helping their youngsters to steer a straight course toward right living in adulthood.

For the most part we may be very proud of our intelligent, realistic, fun-loving teenagers. They are learning in their homes to follow the rules in a healthy good-sportsmanlike manner. They are being taught by parents who are aware of the conventional life they must face as adults, and who are preparing their youngsters for what may come.

It isn't the haircut in the Romeo rules. I also have two teenagers fracas, it's the disregard of the and they'd better observe the school rulings or I'll "skin 'em alive."

Man, 105, Going Strong: Active in 2 Businesses

GREENFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Sylvester Melvin, still active in the insurance company he helped organize in 1900, observed his 105th birthday anniversary yesterday.

In addition to his insurance business, Melvin is a partner with two grandsons in a 364-acre angus breeding farm and is believed to be the oldest breeder of angus cattle in the country. His eldest son died this year at 71. He has two daughters, 11 grandsons and 17 great-grandsons.

TV Star Meets Real-Life Counterpart

Law Catches Up With 'Sheriff of Cochise'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Wal, sir, it was bound to happen in this here electronic age: The real sheriff of Cochise County, Arizona, has come to Hollywood.

Square-jawed and gimlet-eyed, just like he should be, Jack Howard ambled in from his huge patch of mountain and desert yesterday to look over another tough-looking hombre, John Bromfield, who holds the office of "Sheriff of Cochise" on a television show of the same name.

* * *

Things being what they are these days, Sheriff Howard has a little time on his hands after subduing the bad guys, and Sheriff Bromfield has a press agent — so it was only natural they'd get together.

* * *

The show folk on the TV set allowed there were certain similarities between Bromfield and Howard besides their firm jaws: Both have good contracts. Howard is serving as sheriff for the third time; he just got re-elected by a vote of 8,700.

"Other fellow got 31," Howard observed. He's kind of taciturn.

Watching a scene from the TV series being filmed, Howard heard the dialog go like this:

Sheriff: What made your husband think something might happen to him, ma'am?

Widow: Well, sheriff, we all got to die sometime.

Sheriff: Yes, ma'am.

Sheriff Howard showed no visible emotion as he listened.

Later, in Bromfield's dressing room, he conceded Cochise County isn't as tough today as it was in the era Bromfield's show represents. Tombstone then was a one-way street to the graveyard. Today Howard has 26 deputies. They keep the county pretty orderly.

* * *

Howard says he gets a lot of mail from kids who watch the TV show. One little boy in Indiana, he said, wrote him: "Sheriff, you always get your man and prove that crime doesn't pay."

Now, not even a real-life sheriff is going to deny that.

The gun Bromfield wears in the show is notched like a washboard. When he showed it to the sheriff, Howard confessed:

"To tell you the truth, I only pulled mine twice. And no notches."

Then he asked Bromfield: "Son, how old are you?"

"Thirty-one, sheriff," John answered.

"Thirty-one!" echoed the 50-year-old law man. "Son, I'd give a hundred dollars to be thirty-one!"

Then he hitched up his pants, flipped the brim of his Stetson and rode off into the Hollywood sunset.

Nuptial Delay 'Forced'

DALLAS (AP)—The bride was left waiting at the altar but Prince Samuel Crowningburg-Amalu last night said, "I love her and I'm going to marry her."

Mrs. Jane Tomberlin, who did the waiting at Denver Wednesday, expressed similar thoughts. "He loves me and he'll be back," she said.

The 37-year-old Prince arrived in Dallas last night and said he had been "kidnapped" by relatives to prevent his marriage.

The Prince describes himself as a member of the traditional ruling family of the Hawaiian Islands.

North Oakland Boy Scouts to Present Show of Skills

North Oakland County Boy Scouts will give a public demonstration of their skills from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. Dec. 8 in the Waterford Township High School.

The occasion will be the Manito District Scouting Show, which leaders hope will become an annual affair.

Scouts hope to gain public recognition for their mushrooming program north and west of Pontiac.

Leaders hope that adults will be impressed by the display to join the program as troop committeemen and adult leaders.

Scouts, explorers and cubs will participate. An hour-long variety show will follow demonstration of skills leading to merit badges.

Static displays will be presented by the various troops and posts.

Profits from the 25 cent admission price for adults will be used to purchase troop camping equipment.

Harry Walters, district committee member, is chairman of the show.

Police Given Order Against Liquid Gifts

DETROIT (INS)—Detroit policemen are under orders not to accept any liquid gifts from bar owners during the holidays.

However, Commissioner Edward S. Piggins said officers could take small presents if they imply "sincere friendship" or "sheer joy of giving."

He warned members of the force against approaching anyone with an outstretched hand.

"Under no circumstances," he added, "are gifts to be accepted from individuals whose business activities are subject to supervision by the police department."

Woman Killed by Train

DETROIT (AP)—Miss Alice Cummings, a 53-year-old dressmaker, was killed Thursday when struck by a Detroit to Fontiac Grand Trunk commuter train.

Oregon originated state gasoline taxes in 1919, but within about 10 years all the states had similar tax laws.

MSU Awards 10 Scholarships for Hungarians

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State University is setting aside 10 scholarships for eligible rfugees from the Communist domination of Hungary, Thomas H. Hamilton, MSU Vice President, announced today.

Hamilton said notice of the offer has been sent to the World University Service, which is coordinating efforts to place Hungarian students in American universities.

The Hungarian students will present some unusual problems, Hamilton said, because few will speak better than broken English and may lack formal academic credits.

But he said that Michigan State has a strong program for intensive instruction in English for foreign students.

"Michigan State University, as an institution, can certainly do no less than its students and faculty members have done as individuals to help these unfortunate people," Hamilton said.

Meanwhile, the MSU student government reported two tons of clothing and $1,430 in cash has been donated by students to help displaced Hungarian students.

Auto Fume Deaths Increase in Winter

LANSING (AP) — This is the time of the year when carbon monoxide becomes a killer, the State Health Department warned today.

The department said that accidental deaths from carbon monoxide poisoning always show a sharp increase soon after the weather turns cold.

One of the leading causes of death from carbon monoxide poisoning is the habit some motorists have of warming up their cars inside the garage with the doors closed.

The carbon monoxide gas from the exhaust is odorless and tasteless and can kill within a few minutes, the department advised.

* * *

Leaky furnaces or gas heaters also can cause death from carbon monoxide poisoning, the department warned. Precautions advised were providing plenty of ventilation and checking heaters and furnaces for leaks and poor fittings.

State GOP to Gather February 9 in Detroit

LANSING (AP) — Michigan Republicans will hold their Spring nominating convention Feb. 9 in Detroit, Republican headquarters announced today.

County conventions and the six district conventions in Wayne County will be held Jan. 30.

John Feikens, Republican state chairman, said final plans for the Spring convention will be made by the state central committee executive committee next week.

Feikens said the committee will consider a new method of apportioning delegates based on the number of votes cast for secretary of state in the November election.

Under the present apportionment method, one delegate is named for every 650 Republican votes cast per county, with a minimum of three delegates per county.

Feikens said the committee will consider changing the system because of the extremely heavy vote Nov. 6.

Suffers Rib Fracture in Two-Car Accident

Mrs. Brownie Mellinger, 46, of 65 Blaine Ave. suffered a fractured rib and bruises, she told police, in a two-car accident early today at S. Saginaw Street and South Boulevard.

Mrs. Mellinger, treated by a private physician, was making a left turn when the accident occurred with a car driven by Alex Sirekis, of 2080 Orphington St., Troy, police said.

A small, new, attractive hotel is reported near completion in Nazareth, Israel.

Pontiac City Affairs

Approve Hillsmont Sewer at Regular $3-a-Foot Rate

Hearing a plea from a Detroit attorney, the City Commission last night offered as a public necessity a sanitary sewer in Hillsmont avenue from Earlmoor to the end of the existing sewer on Hillsmont.

Allen A. Saltz, attorney and president of the Pontiac Home Builders, Inc., urged that the sewer be approved to serve six residents of the area that presently use septic tanks.

* * *

Willman recommended to the commissioners the acceptance of the request as City Sanitarian Charles Cohen approved it, "while Lewis Wrenn (city engineer) said it could be done."

The 400 feet of sewer will cost residents $3 a foot, the regular charge, Willman explained.

Also approved at last night's commission session was the installation of a 107-foot extension of sanitary sewer to Lakeview avenue, as requested by Sylvan Lake.

Willman assured commissioners that the extension was under a present agreement with the fringe area of Sylvan, and that it would not jeopardize the unwritten policy of no municipal services to outlying areas.

To clarify a July 3 land agreement between the city and Detroit Edison Co., commissioners last evening approved a resolution submitted by the firm putting the transaction on record.

The city was granted an easement to the company in exchange for a parcel of land needed to round out Murphy Park.

An agreement between the city and the Barbers Flying Service at the city airport, permitting the construction of a new hanger by the organization, was approved.

After several objections were heard last week, a public hearing on a special assessment roll to finance storm drains in the Dixieland Subdivision was continued without further objections.

* * *

Wrenn explained that the two gentlemen that objected earlier had conferred with him and "were satisfied."

Two other rolls were confirmed with payments set for public improvement work completed in the city.

J. L. Van Wagoner, Pontiac insurance man, appeared before the commission as a visitor and praised the commissioners and city officials "for the wonderful job being performed for Pontiac people."

Just a year ago, Van Wagoner, on behalf of the Pontiac Assn. of Insurance Agents, presented the city its first official flag since its inception in 1861. It stands behind the commission table in the chambers.

Mined Waters Seen as Egyptian Hoax

ROME (AP)—The U.S. Fleet which evacuated 1,200 civilian men, women and children from Alexandria, Egypt, earlier this month moved through waters which Navy men thought might have been mined. Authoritative American sources now believe these fears stemmed from a deliberate Egyptian effort to mislead.

A triumphant later message from the fleet — "safely at sea" — ended the worry over mines.

The Navy went ahead with the evacuation because of the urgent need to get the refugees, most of them American, out of the battle area. Two Egyptian minesweepers finally sailed ahead of the ships after U.S. authorities insisted.

Oxford Man Injured When Car Leaves Road

Thomas Maguire, of 15 Hudson St., Oxford, was treated by a doctor for cuts of the forehead after the car he was riding in went off the road and struck a tree in Addison Township yesterday.

Robert L. Jidas, 19, of 3117 Indianwood Rd., Lake Orion, driver of the car, blamed icy conditions for the accident. He said he lost control of the vehicle and went off the right side of Lakeville road.

Hal Boyle Says:

Britons Loyally Protect Their Cozy Pubs

NEW YORK (AP)—In mid-Manhattan a number of fine old bars are being ruthlessly torn down to make way for another 60-story skyscraper—a mere office building.

* * *

The displaced bar patrons have submitted tamely. Not one has erected a barricade or led a protest march against city hall in an attempt to save his favorite saloon.

In Merrie Olde Englande, a civilized country, such a thing—the replacement of a decent tavern by a mere commercial structure—could hardly happen, at least without a great public outcry.

"Our inns and pubs are national institutions," said Fred Esgen who, with his wife Kathreen, operates the Sussex Tavern in jolly ol' London. "They can't tear a pub down, or build a new one, without government permission."

* * *

In a month-long tour of this country Fred and the missus have noted a number of similarities—and many differences—between tavern life here and in their homeland.

MARRIED TEAMS

To begin with, most pubs in England are run by husband and wife teams, and the bartenders they hire are rosy-cheeked and wear dresses.

"A man likes to be served by a pretty girl," said Mrs. Esgen. "It's only natural."

The owner of a pub is called a publican. (Presumably if he gets out of the business, and gets back in again he is then known as a republican.)

Licenses are hard to come by, and aren't available to bachelors or single ladies. Explaining the reason for the husband and wife teams, Mrs. Esgen said:

"It's quite practical. The husband can listen to the troubles of the feminine customers. The wife can listen to the troubles of the men customers."

CAREFULLY PICKED

Britian picks her pubkeepers with more care than America does its college presidents.

* * *

"You can't have a criminal conviction on your record," said Esgen. "You must produce your marriage certificate, and you must have endorsements from a justice of the peace, a solicitor (lawyer), and a doctor who have known you at least seven years. They check you back almost to your birth."

The Esgens said they saw less signs of public drinking here than in England but were surprised at the number of people who drink alone.

"Your bars are more cold and impersonal," said Esgen. "Our pubs have a warmer and more clublike atmosphere. The whole family comes together — father, mother, son and daughter. We also have more games, such as darts, shove ha'penny, and skittles."

* * *

Beer is still the national drink, and price-wise at least it's delicious—10 ounces for a shilling, or 14 cents.

The international vogue for vodka has been resisted. Most Englishmen stick to Scotch and gin. And no ice, despite the invasion of millions of Americans during the war and postwar years.

"The Englishman doesn't like his Scotch messed about," said Fred, "with anything more than a splash of soda, or a drop of water."

The Esgens agreed that British pub patrons talked generally about sports, questions of national policy, and the weather, but disagreed as to whether they ever dwelt on the subject of sex.

"No!" said Fred firmly.

"Yes," said Kathleen. "The women like to talk about their troubles, or their daughter's troubles—but they never say a word against their sons."

Bishop Sheen Sees End of Communism

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (INS) — Bishop Fulton J. Sheen of New York City says communism will be forgotten in 15 years.

"Communism will be over with — forgotten — in 15 years," the Catholic prelate said. "Evil is by itself disintegrating."

Bishop Sheen's statement was made in Springfield, Mo., where he attended the installation of the Most Rev. Charles H. Helmsing as bishop of the New Springfield-Cape Girardeau Catholic Diocese.

Bishop Sheen said that "rebelling youth" will lead the forces working against communism.

Christmas Warning

Writing in the Fourth Century, Gregory Nazianzen, archbishop and poet, warned against celebrating Christmas "with excess" and protested against dancing, and decorations of evergreens and boughs which he described as a "heathen practice."

The governors of every state in the Union except Louisiana take office in January. In Louisiana the state administrations inaugurate their regimes in the month of May.

Giving and Helping

Christmas is an annual occasion for giving and helping on a grand scale. Local welfare agencies, churches, the Red Cross, Salvation Army, service clubs, Tuberculosis Assn., American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, newspapers and many other organizations collect funds for charity in advance of Christmas.

Walled Lake Teens Seek Funds for New Clubhouse

Area students agree that the busiest time of all with class and extra curricular activities is the time between Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Busiest of all, perhaps are the students at Walled Lake who are trying to promote a teen club.

AT WALLED LAKE

The first money making project to raise funds for a teen club in the Walled Lake area will be held tomorrow night in the gymnasium of the senior high.

Teens and their friends will dance to records played by Joe Van, Detroit disc jockey. The PTA is sponsoring the affair which will begin at 8 p.m.

A steering committee of teens and adults has been formed to get a teen club underway. The teens hope to raise enough money for a clubhouse which they can decorate and maintain. They will also plan the activities so as to provide something for teens to do when there are no school events scheduled.

Dec. 9 is the red letter day for many of Walled Lake High School's student drivers. On that date they will participate in the Mobilgas-Safety Economy run for high school drivers.

At the annual J-Hop held in the Walled Lake high school gym Sharleen Moore was named the queen. Her attendants were Francine De Sormier and Sharon Fields.

AT CLARKSTON

Clarkston High School Hi-Y Club will conduct a clothing drive Saturday. The clothing will be turned over to the Boy's Club in Pontiac who will then send the clothing to some needy family around Pontiac.

There was a football banquet Monday evening. It was attended by the cheerleaders and players only. They enjoyed clips from some of the Lion games and a talk by Les Bingamen.

Co-captains for next year were chosen. They will be Dennis Alexander, Kent See, and Leroy Parks.

Racket Squad met Monday. New members were voted on and plans for initiation were made.

The Clarkston cheerleaders got new blouses for the game against Ortonville. The game is tonight at Clarkston.

The sophomore class of Clarkston High School will sponsor a dance after the game.

AT AVONDALE

The annual Sadie Hawkins dance will be presented tonight at Avondale High School by the junior class. Square and round dancing will be held from 8 to 11 in the gym.

Judy Ward and Glenna Dyes are in charge of decorations; faculty member Gladys Posey is in charge of refreshments.

The dance is based on the comic strip, Lil' Abner, by Al Capp. As is the custom in Dogpatch on Sadie Hawkins day, the girls chase the boys for this affair. Everybody is invited to dress up as Lil' Abner characters and participate in a contest with prizes for the best costume.

The freshman class had a box social Tuesday night in the gym. The girls brought box lunches and the boys bid on them.

Advance sale of the school's yearbook started Monday. Orders for the book, which will be published in the spring, are "pouring in" according to journalism advisor William Lyle.

The boy's basketball team is getting ready for the opening game of this year's 15-game schedule. The debut tilt will take place Dec. 12 with Fitzgerald invading the home floor.

Report cards for the second marking period were handed out yesterday.

AT WEST BLOOMFIELD

The West Bloomfield High School seniors presented their annual play production Tuesday. "Bells on Their Toes," the three act comedy by and about the famous Gilbreth family was the presentation.

In the cast were Carolyn Rabel, Ruth Alix, Eleanor Arno, Pat Dunaway, Roger Wolfe, Lorraine Thompson, Lee Peters, Montie Alkire, Jack Parmenter, Paul Steenson, Gene Neely, Don Gibbs, Betty McPeake, Larry Anderson, Bruce Johnson, David Nicholson and Ray LaPratt.

The audience was receptive to the amusing incidents portrayed by the young thespians.

The eighth graders are sponsoring a dance tonight.

AT LAKE ORION

A Lake Orion sophomore will be awarded for his winning design of a seal for the Oakland County B League handbook.

The executive board of the league met Monday and chose the drawing of Charles Crawford.

The Lake Orion High School band will participate in the Christmas Parade in Pontiac tomorrow.

The Hi-Y has organized a basketball team to compete in the Pontiac YMCA League this winter. Basketball practice is in session in the school. The first game will be Dec. 7 with Roseville there.

WTHS Faculty, Alums Basketball Opponents

By SANDY WHITE

Waterford Township High School students dreaded today when the second marking period came to a close.

Even though pencils will be gripped tighter and books will receive a few extra glances, in case of poor grades, studies will be laid aside tonight when the senior class presents the "very first" Alumni vs. Faculty basketball game.

A dance will follow the game for any student and their guest wishing to attend.

Finishing touches were added to Waterford High's float, "Night Before Christmas," that will appear in the Christmas parade Saturday morning.

Also representing the school will be the "Waterford Marching Band", under the direction of Bruce Orr.

Next Tuesday is the date of the first varsity basketball game of the season when the Skippers meet Clarkston at home.

Basketball season also means extra hard practices for the varsity cheerleaders, who will lead the chants and cheers for a season of hopeful victories.

To be held Saturday, is the annual winter meeting of the Michigan Assn. of School Librarians. The meeting will be an all day affair attended by classroom teachers and school administrators.

Presiding over the meeting will be Mrs. Charlotte Coye, librarian at the Cooley High School of Detroit and president of the association. Thad Carr, principal of WTHS, will welcome members and guests.

Christmas concert preparations are undergoing a final polish by the choir and director, Martha Smith. The annual concert to be presented Wednesday, Dec. 12 at 8 p.m. will include sacred numbers, Christmas carols and a special feature put on by the dramatics club and choir combined. The Girls' Glee Club will also be featured.

Seniors have chosen the theme "Crystal Fantasy" for the annual dance to be held Dec. 22.

St. Mike Girls Help at Hospital

By JUDY NIEDJELSKI

The high school sodality at St. Michaels takes the spotlight this week.

A new organization consisting of volunteers from the sodality, under the name "Peppermint Stick Girls" has offered help at St. Joseph Hospital every Saturday.

In alternating shifts they are: Carole De Jaeger, Judy Schlicht, Jean Vanover, Virginia Elmy, Catherine McCormick, Loretta Heitjan, Madonna Stark, Nancy Budwit, Jean Cassaban, Bartha Fox, and Jane Bentham.

The sodality is also sponsoring a dance this evening from 8 til 11.

The Krazy Krowd Klub held its second meeting Wednesday at the home of Eileen Scott. Christmas projects for the less fortunate were discussed and refreshments and dancing followed.

Something new in the line of sports apparel for the students are St. Michael sweatshirts. Cheerleading captain, Mary Raymond has been busy determining sizes for those who order them.

On the Nativity Float in the parade tomorrow, Mary Ann and Margaret Hartley, Beverly Elmy, and Natalie Rofe will portray the angels around the Holy Family.

The economics class enjoyed seeing the movie "What Makes Us Tick" on Monday.

Junior High Elects

Walled Lake Junior High School elected new class officers in spirited campaigning recently. Presidents of the various classes are Jerry Walker, seventh grade; Marsha MacKenzie, eighth grade and Dennis Garrels, ninth grade.

Junior High Floats Ready for Parade

Junior High Schools are entering floats in tomorrow's Chamber of Commerce sponsored Christmas parade. Final work on the floats was wrapped up today.

AT LINCOLN

The ninth grade speech class at Lincoln under the direction of Mrs. Theodore Wiersema finished work on their float. The class has done all the work from designing, staging, costuming to constructing the float. Twenty-four students have participated.

An exhibition of ping pong will be presented at two assemblies this week as the club determines its winners in championship matches.

Jerry Smith, Sue Eckley, and Julius Middledorf are sending all school choruses through their paces in preparation for the Christmas cantata to be presented Dec. 15 an 16. Pageantry, solos, ensembles, and choruses will make up the hour-long musical.

Special art students are making an elaborate setting for the Christmas program under the direction of Margaret Burrette, art instructor. A full length scenic background in a complete Christmas setting will be prepared for the stage.

AT EASTERN

Teachers and students are preparing Eastern's float for the Christmas parade tomorrow. The float will be a cut-away showing Santa's workshop with the shoemakers and elves busily at work.

Students at Eastern returned from the Thanksgiving holiday to a week of reviews and tests. Today ended the second grading period of the semester and next week report cards will go out to parents.

AT MADISON

Madison students are winding up work on their float for the Christmas parade tomorrow. Over 30 clowns portrayed by students will serve to further the circus theme of the float.

AT WASHINGTON

Monday, while the students were vacationing, the teachers were at work discussing school problems. Their training program was set up to help teachers overcome some of their instructional problems.

Wednesday night was the second of nine dances scheduled for this year. It was a square dance under the supervision of Don Kelly and some of the student's parents.

To end the week the students saw a film at Washington, "Our Mister Sun," put out by the Bell Telephone Co., was enjoyed by all students expecially those interested in science.

AT JEFFERSON

Five couples of the PTA gave up a weekend date to sponsor another Teen-Age Mixer in the school gym. Over 200 young people of the community danced to popular records, high - lighted by several prize dances.

The championship Warriors, football team of Jefferson, will be feted on Dec. 4, at a banquet served by the cooking classes and sponsored by the Rema club. Speakers will include Dr. Dana Whitmer, Ed Grebiel, and Tom Dobson of the Pontiac City schools.

Christmas music fills the halls as all the music classes rehearse numbers for the Christmas pageant, to be presented to the public later in December. Eleanor Pyles, music instructor, is making many special arrangements for the student assembly and the public performance.

AT ROCHESTER

Student council officers elected Monday include Chuck Crissman, president; Bill Hagen, vice president; Nancy Ebbert, secretary and Bonnie Young, treasurer.

PTA members attended regular school classes like their children do in a meeting this week.

AT AVONDALE

The annual Fall Festival at Avondale Junior High School is on the agenda for tonight. A variety of booths will greet visitors at the festival.

A king and queen will be crowned. Funds collected from the sale of votes for the royalty will go to buy drapes for the stage.

PHS Playcrafters, Band to Perform Next Week

By JACK HENDRICKSON

After weeks of deliberation, the Pontiac High School Playcrafters are tightening the strings of their practice sessions under the direction of Mary Parrish. Getting closer, every session to the way they will present "Dino" next week Dec. 5 and 7. Curtain goes up at 8:15 p.m.

"Dino" is a play in three acts by Kristin Sergel. This production was adapted from the television show by Reginald Rose.

Dino Falcaro is a 17-year-old boy just out of reform school. He will be portrayed by Don North and Constantine Sousanis, who will alternate in the presentations.

Mr. Sheridan, a psychotherapist will be played by Bob Skinner; Shirley Wallace, a shy teen-age office worker will be Donna Chilvers and Rosalie Lake; Jackie, the receptionist at the settlement house played by Elizabeth Gregory; Miss Haines, settlement house director, Judy Baker; Mr. Mandel, Dino's parole officer, Carl Code; Tony Falcaro, Dino's younger brother, Bob Thompson; Mrs. Falcaro, Judy Levine; Mr. Falcaro, Tom Holler; and Mrs. Mikula, an old lady, Clarice Graves.

Teen-agers, members of the settlement house include portrayals by Dick Dors, Dick Mann, Judy Lauckner, Toby Gilbert, Leah Bery and Carol Venner.

Others in the cast Ann Hamilton, Jo Ann Dearing, Nancy Ohaneslan, Sandra Sommerville, Sophia Skinner, Susie VanTassel, Sharon Boyce, Sherry Everett, Marilyn McLintock, Charles Williams, Tom Crandall, Bill Kath, Don Lucas, Bill Hansen, Barbara Wolfe and Janet Eilender.

The PHS Band will participate with three other city schools bands in a concert Dec. 6. It will be staged in the high school auditorium, by the all-city elementary school band, the all-city junior high school band, and the all-city junior high school orchestra.

The selections of the PHS Band are: "March - The Southerner," "The Fantasy—Scenes from Sierras," "The Palisades," and "The First Noel."

The Senior Girls Ensemble will be busy in the months of December.

They will sing for the Oakland County Dental Assn. at Devon Gables on the 11th. Then the next day they will perform with the A Capella Choir at the Pontiac State Hospital and the USO cosponsorsd Army-Air Force Show in West Acres.

Dec. 13 will find them again with the Choir before the Rotary Club. After a little rest they will sing for the High-12 Club Dec. 17.

Y-Teens are signing up this week to serve at their banquets coming next month. Elizabeth Rodgers is the faculty advisor.

Their programs include a faculty banquet on Dec. 18. Next week, Dec. 5, the club will participate in the "Hanging of the Greens," at the YWCA.

The Retailing and Office Club held its meeting last week. At this meeting a Christmas party was planned for Dec. 15. Club members named their delegates to the State Delegates Convention on Jan. 4-5.

The American Problems classes of Mrs. Edna Forman have some of their projects in the display cases in the main hall this month.

St. Fred Group Meets

By MARGARET DRAKE

Future Social Workers Club of St. Frederick High School met today at the school.

Guest speaker was Ted A. Panaretos, psychiatric social worker at Pontiac State Hospital. Members of the club learned about the social worker's assistance in helping teenagers and their parents to live a happier life.

A question period followed the movie "Family Affair" shown by Panaretos.

The annual Novena for the feast of the Immaculate Conception began yesterday morning at 8 o'clock. The Novena will culminate in solemn ceremonies for the senior class on Friday, Dec. 7 when they don caps and gowns for the first time for the blessing and holy hour.

* * *

The senior class will hold solemn services Tuesday evening at 7:30 in St. Vincent Church when the class rings will be blessed.

Impromptu toboggan parties by the classes and individual groups has been going on since the Thanksgiving holidays.

Choral group is putting the finishing touches on the Christmas concert which is under the direction of Dominic Kline.

Here in a settlement house scene from the play are (left to right) Toby Gilbert, Rosalie Lake, Judy Lauckner and Leah Berg. The play is directed by Mary Parrish and will be presented Dec. 5 and 7.

Spain Seeking Technical Help

Exchange Would Speed Growth of Industry, Visitor Says

NEW YORK (INS) — A leading Spanish industrialist said a stepped-up exchange of workers, technicians and businessmen between the U. S. and Spain could help his nation succeed in its industrialization program.

Jose Solis, president of the National Federation of Syndicates, an organization embracing both industry and labor, said he hopes to bring such an exchange into reality during his current two-weeks' visit to the U. S.

Sollis added, during an interview:

"Spain is not asking for gifts — just for work. With this work we can improve our economic conditions.

"The best way to help us is for the United States to have a real knowledge of Spain. We are a country with our own personality."

NO EXCHANGE

Noting that there presently is no extensive exchange of engineers and technicians between the two nations, Solis said:

"We are sure that through this visit we may achieve an exchange . . . with the U. S. We are just asking for the presence of industrial people."

Solis singled out increased electric power output and modernization of agriculture as Spain's biggest needs and its prime goals.

He described Spain's industrial and agricultural potential as 'good' and cited the nation's advantages in geographical location, unity of the populace and the presence of as yet untapped resources.

• • •

Spain is tackling the problem of modernizing its industry and agriculture, Solis said, and its hopes lie in expanding in already established fields such as iron, cork and cement production, and in developing new industries.

"One of the things we lack is electric power," he said, "and we have an ambitious plan of industrialization."

He noted that Spain is pushing its hydro-electric development, while trying to meet its power needs with steam-generating facilities.

• • •

In the rapidly expanding field of atomic power generation, Solis said "if Spain could get facilities from other countries, she can improve her lot quickly."

Memories Shed Light on Presley's Followers

Dorsey's Death Recalls Glory of Teenage

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—The death of Tommy Dorsey—he of the peppery personality and the sleepy, slurpy trombone that made lovers quiver—has brought back memories almost too ridiculous to contemplate.

• • •

Those nights spent feverishly huddled around a radio speaker (one person can huddle all by herself, if she's truly inspired) to hear that unbearably sweet wind instrument . . .

The night that Tommy Dorsey came to Dayton and all the kids flocked to the ballroom three hours early so they could wedge themselves around the bandstand —and stand and stand and stand, right there, until midnight. Just listening. Not giving up an inch of position for the sake of a dance.

The Saturday afternoons we spent sponging off the kindly proprietor of the record shop. Four hours, all to ourselves in a phonograph booth, listening to the music of Mr. Dorsey and his fellow dream-prodders.

We were young but, after 15 replays of "You Taught Me to Love Again," we were ready. For anything — love, marriage, even purchase of the record. Which cost, as I recall, a fabulous 40 cents plus 2 cents tax.

WONDROUS DAY

Then came that wondrous day when the parents took me to New York and, atop the Astor roof, I beheld for the first time a well-dressed skeleton obviously in need of mothering named Frank Sinatra.

He was irritably playful, even then, and at one high point in the evening he charged back to drummer Buddy Rich, grabbed the sticks out of his hands and broke them over a knobby knee.

How fun. How cute. What an enchanting young man.

Everything about Dorsey's orchestra was the best, to me and my swing and sentiment-happy age group, and when the record, "I'll Never Smile Again," dripped onto the radio waves there was not one of us with a dry eye. One suffers so terribly in her teens.

It was hard on the nerves when Tommy's fracas with actor Jon Hall hit the headlines. Not to be disillusioned by what was obviously bad propaganda spread by evil Hollywood gossips, however, we wrote a collective note to the musician, bestowing our sympathy.

• • •

He replied. Something to the effect that it was all a tempest in a teapot and he loved us for remaining loyal. Wow! We were ready to forgive him even his second divorce.

THEN, ADULTHOOD

It was in college that, faced suddenly with such mature worldly problems as final exams and the theories of Freud and how to smoke cigarettes, that we began to grow up. Quite suddenly, it seems, the trombone of Tommy Dorsey became just another artistically handled instrument.

• • •

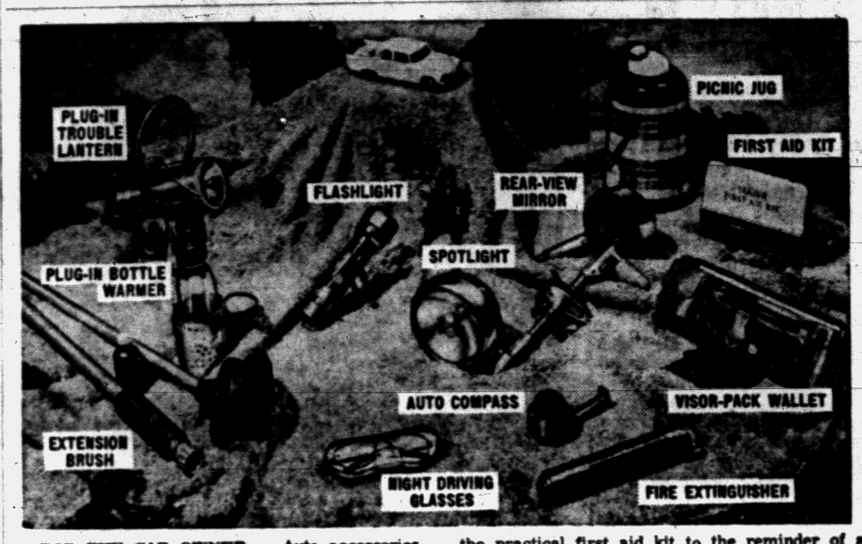

The appreciation still was there, but the hypnotism was gone.

Dance music has never seemed quite as sweet since we moved from Dorsey's dreamland into the cold world of adulthood.

But when you think back to your adolescent turmoils—remembering how close you were to utter inanity, if not insanity — you understand suddenly what it is about Elvis Presley. To have your imagination captured by a slippery trombone, or by a frenzied voice, is one of the sheer joys of youth.

• • •

So long—longer than my late hero Mr. Dorsey—live the hero of teenagers '56!

'Other Woman' Due for Surprise in Support Suit

LOS ANGELES (UP)—The other woman in the Bushere separate maintenance case is due for a surprise.

Superior Judge Elmer D. Doyle continued the hearing of Mrs Barbara Bushere Wednesday after her lawyer, S. S. Hahn, told the court: "Her husband, (Frank Bushere, bar manager) has been staying out late at night. All she wants is for him to come home. She doesn't want to be a part-time wife. He's been going around with another woman. She has been using his car."

Said the judge: "I want that woman subpoenaed and brought into court, along with the husband. Meanwhile, I'll order him to pay $100 weekly for his wife and three children. I'm going to see to it that little children are protected from home wreckers."

The other woman wasn't named in Mrs. Bushere's suit.

Movie Camera Sets Itself Automatically

NEW YORK — A new 16-mm. movie camera has been developed that automatically adjusts the lens opening for all lighting conditions, even for shots of an object moving from light into shadow.

The camera has a photoelectric cell mounted next to the lens and a battery-operated motor.

The intensity of light activates the cell, and the electric impulses it generates control the motor.

State Water Board to Distribute Funds

LANSING (UP)—A public hearing will be held Dec. 5 on the State Water Resources Commission plan to distribute $1,389,000 in Federal Pollution Control funds.

The Commission said it has mailed applications for the federal aid to officials of 60 Michigan cities.

In addition, it has set up a point system to determine the priority for allocating the funds.

The meeting will be held at 2 p.m. in the Senate Chamber.

Lincoln Club Expects Nixon at Banquet

Meeting tonight in the County Office Building, 1 Lafayette St., members of Oakland County's Lincoln Republican club will discuss plans for their annual banquet Feb. 11, president George F. Taylor said today.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon is expected to attend the dinner, Taylor said.

Dems Keep Sense of Humor Up to Par

LINCOLN, Neb. (UP) — A young man in search of a gathering of an organization of former mental patients walked into a meeting room at the YMCA here last night and asked: "Is this 'Recovery Incorporated?"

"No, but come in —we're trying," said one of the members at the meeting of Lancaster County Young Democrats.

constructed by 14 school groups, with themes from a "Toyland Section."

FLOATS ARE READY

Hundreds of workers have been burning the midnight oil to put the finishing touches on their floats.

Sprinkled throughout the line of march will be seven school bands to provide the traditional Christmas music for the extravaganza. Bands from Pontiac High, Waterford Township, Lake Orion, Avondale, Walled Lake, Oxford; and a group of 250 junior high musicians will participate.

And last but never least, will come Santa Claus, in town from the North Pole. St. Nick will be atop the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce float prepared by students from Wever and Hawthorne Schools.

Preceding each of the bands will be an official band car announcing the name of the contingent to follow.

And since everybody would agree that a parade is not a parade without a queen, 16-year-old Judy Crawford, Miss 1956 4-H Queen, will be the reigning beauty for the day. She will be seated in a Pontiac car toward the rear of the march.

Capt. William A. Crisp, in charge of police functions, said the parade will march north on Saginaw, turn onto Oakland up to Sanderson, where units will disband.

Because of the efforts of a committee headed by David R. Ewalt and the generosity of downtown merchants, physically-handicapped children will be seated in second-floor vantage points in merchants' shops.

Following the police pace car and motorcycle escort, will be a color guard from the Michigan National Guard.

Officials of the parade promise residents that this will be "one of the best in Pontiac's history."

Members of Boy Scout Troop No. 244 will follow the car bearing Miss Crawford. The familiar Detroit Edison Co.'s calliope will add a touch of music during the march.

Strutting high will be 48 girls ranging in age from six to 18 years and members of the "Land-O-Lakes Dancing Majorettes."

The following churches have entered floats in the parade: First Church of God, "The Prophecy;" First Church of odist Church, "The Annunciation," First Church of the Nazarene, "Angels and Shepherds"; First United Missionary Church, "Manger Scene"; First Mexican Baptist Church, "Star of Bethlehem"; Central Methodist Church, "Three Wise Men."

Trinity Baptist Church, "Angel Scene"; Baldwin Evangelical United Brethren Church, "Christmas Through the Ages"; First Christian Church, "Church Scene"; First Baptist Church, "Joy to the World"; Bethany Baptist Church, "Christmas on the Plains"; Galloway Lake Methodist Church, "Star of Bethlehem"; Latter Day Saints, "Wise Men of Old & Today"; First Presbyterian Church, "Church Scene"; First Methodist Church, "Faith, Hope and Love"; St. Trinity Lutheran Church, "Manger Scene"; Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church, "Christmas in The Home"; All Saints Episcopal Church, "The Greatest Gift"; Emmanuel Baptist Church, "Season's Greetings"; Catholic Parish, "The Holy Family."

The YMCA has entered a float depicting the "Christmas Carols" scene.

The following schools have entered floats: LeBaron, "Storybook Land"; Eastern Junior High, "Shoemaker and the Elves"; Webster, "Snow White and the Dwarfs"; Fairlawn, "Wassail Carolers"; Lincoln Junior High, "Old Woman in The Shoe"; Pontiac Senior High, "Sleeping Beauty"; Mark Twain, "Robin hood"; Emerson, "Hansel and Gretel"; Madison Junior High, "Circus Theme"; Waterford Township, "Night Before Christmas."

The Boy's Club of Pontiac has entered a float named "Space Ship" while Baldwin School has entered their "Frosty The Snowman" float.

Farmer Is Convicted of Threatening 3 Men

CHARLOTTE (UP) — Convicted of threatening a law officer, an attorney and an auctioneer off his farm with a deer rifle, Homer Crandall, 51, will be sentenced in about two weeks.

Crandall was convicted by a jury yesterday. Circuit Judge Archie D. McDonald continued $5,000 bond.

Deputy Sheriff Paul Stultz, attorney Richard Shaull and auctioneer Glen Archer said they came to the Crandall farm to collect a debt which Archer claimed was owed him by Crandall.

City Officials Drop Threat

Accepted Agreement Reached Concerning Post Office Issue

The threatened abandonment of building the new Post Office on West Huron was averted last night when city commissioners reached a new agreement acceptable to Post Office Dept. officials.

Upon the insistence of City Engineer Lewis M. Wrenn, the city was asking for a 20-foot easement for an alley along the eastern boundary of the proposed lot.

Wrenn told commissioners last night that "we have never accepted a 10-foot alley before."

Harold W. Loch, postal inspector, said the department would grant the 10 feet, but was "not willing to grant the extra clearing."

"Unless the agreement is acceptable to the commission, they (the department) will probably abandon any buildings on this specific site or possibly try to build under the existing agreement now applicable to this piece of property," Loch said.

Under the agreement accepted, the owners of the lot would also grant a 50-foot reservation at the rear of the 637 by 261-foot lot for the possible extension of Miami street.

Commissioners would attempt to secure the additional 10-foot alley easement from abutting property owners.

Potential Fire Bomb Thrown at House

A small bottle, which was reportedly thrown against an Avon Township home last night, is being checked thoroughly today by Oakland County Sheriff Department identification experts as a possible "fire bomb."

Deputies Bruce Welsh and James Rohm will also seek fingerprints on the white bottle which was turned over to them last night by Walter Keusch, of 1040 E. Avon Rd.

He said he found the object, with the inside apparently burned out, on his porch when he ran outside after hearing something hit the house. A car sped away from the house just after the incident, Keusch told investigators.

He said the same thing had happened last Nov. 17 and expressed the fear that someone was trying to burn his house down.

Feikens to Quit Post

DETROIT (UP)—Republican State Chairman John Feikens said today that he will not be a candidate for re-election as head of the Michigan Republican Party.

Royalty Aids Relief Station for Refugees

VIENNA (INS) — A Princess washed the feet of a poor little boy. An archduchess sliced bread. A Prince kept the kitchen stove stoked.

This was the scene today in a farmhouse near the Hungarian border.

Princes, Princesses, Counts, Dukes and other members of the ancient Austrian, German and Italian nobility have established a unique refugee relief station to care for the hundreds of Hungarians pouring across the frontier every hour.

Only members of the order of the Knights of Malta are permitted to work at the farm. They have kept its location secret for fear the Russians will seal off the nearest border crossing point.

About 100 refugees a day have reached the farm since the mass exodus from Hungary began. A total of 109 arrived last night and early today.

Each received royal treatment from the titled workers at the Knights of Malta refugee station.

Safety Head Urges New Highway Laws

Haskill said, but he believed "they are not as widely accepted as evidence in court as they should be."

In Pontiac, blood tests are used by city police and are admissible, as a rule, only if the subject has volunteered for the test.

Other devices test breath — the drunkometer—and urine.

Haskill admitted such evidence may, in effect, be forcing a subject to testify against himself, but argued that the public has a right to safeguard itself when someone drinking places lives in jeopardy.

Haskill maintained the present Michigan traffic code is "poor and needs revision." He said there is a "strong move" towards a uniform code in other states.

Under such a code, if adopted in all 48 states, traffic laws would be the same throughout the nation.

He urged adoption of one of several codes suggested by national safety organizations, mentioning in particular the code drawn up by the National Police Chiefs Association.

Haskill showed figures which indicate there are many vehicles in Pontiac today which are mechanically unfit to be on the road.

An auto check, sponsored by the Safety Committee this spring, showed 32 per cent of cars checked in Rochester as having faulty equipment. The check in Rochester, Haskill said, was mandatory, and drivers were required to make repairs.

In Pontiac, where the same check was voluntary, only two per cent of the cars were found faulty, meaning, Haskill said, that drivers with unsafe cars dodged the check and are still driving with faulty equipment.

* * *

A mandatory check every year of safety features, such as brakes, lights, horn, windshield wiper and stop light, would cut down on accidents, Haskill believed.

"It is a fact that in 20 out of every 100 accidents in the state last year," he said, "mechanical defects played an important or contributory part."

Train Strikes Car, Driver Is Unharmed

A driver stalled on Waterford Township railroad tracks escaped unharmed this morning as a freight-train braked almost to a halt before striking his car.

Floyd E. Mahoney, 58, of Clarkston told township police he didn't see the train coming when he first glanced at the crossing on Windiate Drive.

* * *

Partially on the tracks, he said, he saw the engine looming to his right. Mahoney said he stopped and tried to back off the tracks but his car stalled.

Mahoney did not have time to jump out before the train rammed into the right front of his car.

Although the car had to be towed away, police said Mahoney emerged without a scratch.

The train continued its run after it was learned Mahoney was not injured, police said.

Avon Township Boys Damage Big Shovels

Five Avon Township youths ranging in ages from eight to 11 are expected to face a Juvenile Court hearing for the recent malicious destruction to three steam shovels parked near their homes.

The juveniles, two of them brothers, admitted the vandalism Wednesday when questioned by Oakland County detectives.

Owner Otto Jenkins has not set an estimate of his damages.

2 Hurt in Collision on Pontiac Trail

Two persons were injured and another shaken up in a two-car collision in Lyon Township Thursday afternoon.

Hospitalized with chest and rib injuries and lip cuts is Mrs. Laverne Dunk, 34, of 1832 Allendale Avenue., West Bloomfield Township, one of the drivers. Her son, David, 7, was released after treatment at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for cuts of the chin.

The other driver, Warren W. Westervelt, of 52800 Pontiac Trail, Wixom, was treated by a family doctor.

* * *

Investigating Brighton State police ticketed Mrs. Dunk for operating a motor vehicle to the left of the center of the roadway and also for driving without an operator's license on her person.

Troopers said the woman apparently crossed the center line and struck the left front of the oncoming Westervelt car on Pontiac Trail near Milford road.

Missing Detroit Boy Found in Virginia

DETROIT (UP) — A 16-year-old Detroit boy who is a member of wealthy and socially prominent family has been found by police in Virginia. He walked away from a private Connecticut school Tuesday and had been missing since.

The youth, Henry B. Joy, III, heir to a real estate fortune and grandson of a former President of the Packard Motor Car Co., was picked up by police in Arlington, Va.

Wednesday, his father, Henry B. Joy Jr. of suburban Grosse Pointe Farms had turned in a missing report in Detroit. The boy had disappeared from his school, the Cheshire, Conn. Academy.

No reason was given for his departure from the school.

No Rest for President

AUGUSTA, Ga. (INS) — White House News Secretary James C. Hagerty, commenting on the President's vacation: "I wouldn't call it a vacation—he's at work in his office each morning at 8:30."

Greenland has an area of 827,300 square miles.

In October 1956 employment in this country was about 67 million. Nationwide unemployment was slightly less than 3 million.

Educators Meet With Truck Personnel

Business-Industry-Education Day on a more concentrated scale was initiated in a program yesterday at General Motors Truck and Coach Co.

Approximately 20 administrators and department heads in the Pontiac schools attended an all-day meeting with industry personnel from GM Truck.

As the annual BIE Day in the spring, this first of several like events during the year was sponsored by the education committee of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce, to bring a closer relationship between the schools and places of business and industry.

The morning meetings yesterday divided industry heads and educators into small groups and spread them through the various departments of the company.

* * *

Purpose of the whole day's discussion was to discover the future needs of industry.

High on the discussion lists of the participants was the future of the high school student who becomes associated with industry.

Another top subject of discussion was the value of a community junior college and how it could serve to provide the additional training necessary to give high school graduates a knowledge for available skilled jobs.

The educators met in the early afternoon among themselves to form questions and discuss the morning program.

Industry personnel joined the group at 2:30 in a general meeting to further discuss the practical problems the two factions will face in the next few years.

In charge of arrangements for the day were Elmer Rosenberg, of GM Truck and Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools.

According to John Hirlinger, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, another meeting is being tentatively planned in mid-December with plans for educators to visit utility companies.

Astronomer Notes Restrictions in Russia

By HARVEY ZUCKERBERG

DR. ORREN MOHLER

Dr. Orren Mohler, assistant director of the Lake Angelus Observatory, was impressed with the number of "can'ts and don'ts" in the Russian way of life when he recently returned from a 16-day tour of Soviet observatories.

According to Dr. Mohler: The Russian people don't, or can't, practice religion openly. They can't have a "liberal education," as we understand the term. They don't, or can't, recognize the word "incentive."

"Religious services are not held in the big churches of Russia anymore," said Dr. Mohler. "They have all been converted into museums showing the history of religion. The exhibits are cleverly contrived to blame the church as an instrument of war.

"Crowds of Russians walk through these churches with no idea that they are in a holy place of worship. They display no sign of reverence and gaze about them as if they hadn't seen the inside of a church in their lives.

* * *

"Whatever religious meetings there are must be held privately. But the fervor associated with religion is directed toward the government. All the evidence seems to show that the government is the religion of the people."

NO LITERATURE SCHOOLS

Dr. Mohler found that there were no literature schools or liberal arts colleges in the Soviet as we have them here.

"You can't graduate with a bachelor or arts degree in Russia," said Dr. Mohler. "All the schools are technical in nature. The place is full of institutes for specialization in a field. What's more, once a person has graduated from a certain institute he must remain in the field he has chosen.

"After he has committed himself and has been trained at the expense of the government he cannot change his mind. It isn't like America where a law school graduate can go into the insurance business."

In Russia, Dr. Mohler said, an entrance examination must be taken to enter an institute, much the same as in our country. Once the student is admitted, the government pays the student's expenses. These include tuition, books, room and board, clothing and transportation.

* * *

Graduates from these institutions become recognized as members of the very select professional class.

"There is much incentive to be a member of this professional class," said Dr. Mohler, "although the Russians don't acknowledge the word incentive. Russia has a highly stratified caste system. When the professional people speak of the workers there is real contempt in their voices."

REWARDS IN KIND

Dr. Mohler explained that the professionals are rewarded in kind and not in the form of monetary exchange.

"The professional man receives more privileges instead of receiving more pay," he said. "While they don't get any extra money, they get more of what money can buy. Luxuries cannot be purchased in Russia. They are allotted by the government.

"And there are always higher plateaus that these men can strive for. Usually they are in the form of medals that are awarded for special accomplishments. The Stalin medal is one of the highest.

* * *

"Each plateau awards the man more. He may be allowed to move into a better neighborhood, own a car, then be furnished with a servant, a larger clothes allotment, etc. However, the clothes of the Russian professional man are just ordinary by our standards."

GOVERNMENT OK'S VACATIONS

Dr. Mohler was told that a person must make application to the government to take a vacation, as the government is everyone's boss. The applicant states where he wants to go and what he will need for the trip. The application goes through hundreds of government clerks and channels to check if the applicant is entitled to his request.

"If Americans think they have red tape here," said Dr. Mohler, "they should see the amount of red tape in Russia. They have a tremendous bureaucracy there to keep tabs on everyone."

The very top of the caste system is the Presidium, or the Supreme Societ Council. According to Dr. Mohler, there is nothing that a member of the Presidium can't have. It is comprised of representatives from the 17 Soviet Socialist Republics.

* * *

"These men are elected," said Dr. Mohler, "but only technically speaking. The main thing is to get on the ballot, and no one seems to know how to do that. The Russian people speak of the members of the Presidium with the awe that one regards a saint.

WOMEN SWING PICKS

"At the other extreme of the caste system are the menial workers. Many of them are women who work in road gangs swinging picks and axes. Moscow has hundreds of women who actually sweep the streets all day long with brooms and dust pans. The streets are simply full of these women.

"It certainly wasn't like Brooklyn. I couldn't see a piece of trash paper anywhere."

Dr. Mohler said that the Russian director of the Crimean Astrophysical Observatory, professor A. B. Severny, had visited the McMath-Hulbert Observatory at Lake Angelus in 1946.

"He was a perfect host to me when I arrived in Russia," said Dr. Mohler. "He showed me everything I wanted to see."

* * *

With a broad smile, Dr. Mohler explained that he experienced no feeling of hostility during his stay. "I suppose it's the common bond of scientists," said Dr. Mohler. "But there are no war secrets in our science anyway."

He said when he wrote to the Russian Academy of Science asking permission for the visit, Severny replied: "Come on over any time. Just give me a little notice in advance. You know how our government is over here."

Dr. Mohler also lectures at the University of Michigan twice a week. He lives at 536 Southfield Rd., Birmingham.

Fooling With Pistol Costs Man His Life

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — Jimmy Rike, 30, salesman, had relatives Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wright and Travis Fox over for dinner Wednesday.

As the group stood around talking, Rike displayed a pistol.

He pointed it into the air and snapped the trigger twice, then placed it against his wife and pulled it twice more.

Frightened, Mrs. Rike asked if he was sure the pistol wasn't loaded.

He said it wasn't, put it to his temple and pulled the trigger again.

Justice of the Peace H. M. Newman returned a verdict of death from accidental discharge of a pistol.

Clerk Cleans Desk, Finds Bookie Sheet

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — A clerk cleaned out a desk in the Superior Court Clerk's Office yesterday and found $29.35 and a bookie's scratch sheet dated 1942.

The clerk said the money had been seized with the forms, possibly in a police raid, and put in the Superior Clerk's Office for the trial.

The money was turned over to the State Treasury and the bookie form was thrown away.

Clarify Correct Puzzle Answers

The following are explanations for correct answers to Pot-O-Gold puzzle No. 25, which appeared in last week's Pontiac Press.

1. A HYMN familiar to our childhood will always be likely to remain in our memory. Even if the words do not fully come to mind for those who do not attend church regularly, the melody lingers on. A Myth or fable is usually less intimately connected with childhood memories.

2. A TUB, in its sense of a bath, for the restless man would be just that—a bath, to be taken as quickly as possible, and none of this lolling back in hot water for relaxation. The energetic man might rather like staying in a Rut, with no ambition, if this allowed him time for physical activities such as fishing or golf, etc.

3. The WORDY man at a party will bore the other guests. He's the type who tells long-winded stories, frequently without much point. A Rowdy may be loud and vulgar, but he may be the life of the party as well.

4. A neglected LAWN is very probably in a run-down estate, and a great deal of time and money are needed to get it back in shape again. A front Walk or Wall would be less conspicuous; the walk is not hard to fix, in some fashion, and the wall would not be important.

5. A SOFA, in his private office, is one of the real privileges of a big executive; he can lie down and relax after lunch if he likes. Though he might have his own Safe, the company safe would serve the purpose just as well.

6. The stress of the phrase "special meeting" points to ALOHA, the Hawaiian word for "love," used as a greeting or a farewell. Alpha has a more matter-of-fact meaning as a Greek letter or a beginning.

7. WAN, or pale, is suggested by the clue "looked more dramatic." Some girls feel that a white skin—against very dark hair, for example — is a striking contrast, and even use white make-up to achieve a pallid look. A Tan is a good, healthy look, but as a rule, dramatic is not the word to describe it.

8. Nearly everyone who has fine CHINA — and children—keeps it either on high shelves or in a locked cabinet. An heirloom Chain presumably would be less fragile.

9. A FINE day—superior in quality—brings out all the cars on the road. A Nice day is really a colloquial expression, to mean pleasant or agreeable, but that is not the major definition of nice, which means delicately sensitive, or fastidious.

10. The TIES, or emotional bonds, to a childhood home bring out sentiment in many people, if their childhood has been a happy one with a close family relationship. The Site of one's old home — the actual spot on which it was built—may have undergone complete change. The old house itself, might stir up emotions, but the site, as such, is less likely to.

11. WORLD rights to royalties on her husband's books would be a logical demand by his widow, though the royalty istuation is too complicated to be settled that easily. She might "perhaps" demand them, if hers was the sole claim; but the rights of other heirs, would come into the picture. Dower rights she would certainly be inclined to demand—the inheritance of such part of her husband's estate that the law provides—different in different countries, or even states.

12. CHAIRS fit the situation here. A Chaise is a kind of carriage, and is not to be confused with the kind of sofa called a chaise longue.

13. A BORED outlook on life is the frequent result of having seen and done so many things that there is no novelty left, and applies well to a traveling job routine. A Broad outlook is more a matter of temperament; a liberal, tolerant point of viey is rarely acquired by anyone who is basically narrow and self-centered, no matter how much he travels.

14. A SWIG of liquor, a quick, deep drink, is likely to thaw out a man who is shy and self-conscious. Baldheaded men are so commonplace that Wigs are a matter of choice; no one needs to be self-conscious because of being bald.

15. Things are needed DAILY in a large family; every day it's something! It's the little things, one after the other, that would make Mom "fret," not the larger things that are needed Badly, or Sadly.

16. You don't often meet a NUDIST, because there are relatively few people who sincerely believe we were not intended to wear clothes. You often meet people who tell you they are Stupid; some of them realize quite well that they really are, but usually the person who tells you he is stupid is apologizing for something he has done which turns out to have been a silly blunder.

Syria's Link With Russia Scares Neighbor Nations

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Another acute danger point in the explosive Middle East is Syria, where Russian arms and technicians are reported arriving.

* * *

It is generally accepted in London that the Syrian army now controls the civilian government. And the army is pro-Soviet and a firm ally of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

The strong nationalist directing Syrian maneuvers is Col. Abdul Hamid Sarraj, known as the "Syrian Nasser" because of his strong ties with the Egyptian leader.

Twenty of the Russian-made Ilyushin 11-28 jet bombers that were flown out of Egypt at the start of the Anglo-French operations now are reported in Syria.

* * *

There also is an undetermined quantity of Russian MIG 15 and 17 jet fighters. Reports tell of the arrival of more Soviet-made arms through the Syrian port of Latakia, below the Turkish coast.

ALARMED NEIGHBORS.

The prospect of Syria under control of an army which is tightly linked with Russia is bound to throw alarm into Syria's neighbors.

* * *

Turkey makes no secret of its anxiety as Russia gets a strong foothold at its back door. It already has a long northern frontier with the Soviet Union.

Little Lebanon has plenty to worry about, being surrounded by hostile territory. And Syrian propagandists are making threatening noises against Iraq, the headquarters of the Baghdad anti-Communist pact which both Russia and Egypt want to smash.

The Iraqis accuse the Syrians of fomenting disorders in Baghdad in an effort to overthrow President Nuri Es-Said, a strong anti-Communist leader despised by Nasser and his Syrian helpers.

* * *

PIPELINE SEVERED

Syrians already have deliberately cut the pipeline from Kirkuk to the Mediterranean.

* * *

The pipeline severance was a hard blow at Britain, France and other Western European countries. But it is a disaster for Iraqi economic life.

A recent Baghdad broadcast said that the Syrian army's action in cutting the pipeline cost Iraq a total of $700,000 daily in oil royalties.

By itself the Syrian army is not believed to be a big menace. But with expanding Soviet training and influence, and the establishment of a Soviet base in Syria, there is a definite threat to Syria's anti-Communist neighbors.

CARLSBAD, N. M. (AP) — President Eisenhower has sent a note of appreciation to 86-year-old Mrs. Anna H. Coffin, who left her hospital bed in an ambulance Nov. 6 to vote for him.

Mrs. Coffin, recovering from a broken hip, says the note "is a great compliment."

"One of your good friends," the note says, "tells of the difficulties you overcame in order to vote. This is to express my warm appreciation of the high compliment to me."

Three Executed in Penitentiary

State of Kentucky Puts Men to Death for Separate Crimes

EDDYVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Three Louisville men were put to death in the electric chair at Eddyville State Penitentiary early today for three separate crimes.

Warden M. W. Thomas said all three went to their death "very gracefully."

Put to death were:

Robert Lee Sheckles, 21, convicted of raping a 28-year-old physical therapist in Louisville Dec. 16, 1954.

Charles C. DeBerry, 20, executed for the Jan. 2, 1955, slaying of Richard V. Eddins, a nightwatchman at a Louisville country club.

James Franklin Bowman, 46, executed for the rape-murder of Mrs. Robert Busby, 72, in her apartment Aug. 28, 1954.

Warden Thomas said "I think they all were prepared with their maker."

Late yesterday, acting Gov. Harry Lee Watrfield, refused to intervene in Sheckles' conviction.

Harry Davis, executive secretary to Gov. A. B. Chandler, said "the governor has listened to pleas and reviewed the case. After due consideration, he will allow the execution order to stand."

Thomas said Bowman died at 12:13 a.m., DeBerry at 12:37 a.m. and Sheckles at 12:39 a.m.

Many Other Events Crowd the Holiday Calendar

YWCA Will Hold Hanging of Greens Wednesday

Christmas comes to the YWCA Wednesday. The traditional Hanging of the Greens, when everyone decorates the building, inside and out, will be held at 7:30 p.m., following a box social for the benefit of the World Fellowship Fund.

• • •

After the trees are trimmed, the bells, bows, branches and boughs all in place, there will be a Christmas candlelighting service and group singing of carols.

Mrs. Robert Anderson is chairman for the evening. Mrs. Joseph L. Bennett will play the carols.

Also listed on the agenda for a busy two weeks at the YW are the following activities:

On Dec. 9 at 5 p.m., the USO Hostess Corps, which is recruited and trained by the YWCA, will have a buffet supper and Christmas party at the YWCA.

Highlight of the evening will be the presentation of pins to the hostesses who have served throughout the first year of the Pontiac USO Committee's activities.

Women members of the area-wide USO Committee have been asked as special guests. An informal training session for the new recruits in the corps will be conducted by Suzanne Houghton, chairman.

On Dec. 12, members of the Ladies Day Out group will have a cooperative luncheon and party following the last session of classes in the fall term. At the same time, Santa will visit the children in the LDO nursery.

• • •

The YWCA staff will hold its annual Christmas luncheon party at noon Dec. 14.

On Dec. 18, the Golden Age Group will have its Christmas party following the monthly dessert luncheon, and on Dec. 20, the board of directors will meet.

Interspersed among the above events, and the many committee meetings which continue throughout the holiday season, will be the numerous parties, showers and receptions given by individuals in the YWCA on Franklin boulevard.

Other organizations meeting at the YWCA during the season will include Carol Brooks Section of the Needlework Guild and the Girl Scouts, both on Dec. 6; United Church Women on Dec. 10; Michigan Bell Telephone Girls Club, Dec. 11; Loyal Star Auxiliary, Dec. 13; Better Home and Garden Club, Dec. 20.

Waterford High Y-Teens will have a pajama party at the YWCA the night of Dec. 27.

• • •

Mrs. Ann Galbraith, principal, announced that the school Christmas program will be held the week of Dec. 17. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Giroux.

Leather Has Masculine Gift Appeal

Whether your man occupies the executive suite or paints in a garret—drives a jalopy or is driven in a limousine—you're bound to find a leather gift made just for him. For leather gives added appeal to the typically masculine things that men like.

Belts and wallets are standard for men. You can make your selection a personal one by choosing one of each in a leather that's just right for a new or favorite suit.

There is a fine black pinseal for evening wear; ostrich or calf (either hand-rubbed or dull-finished) for fine-textured woolens; and pigskin, alligator, sharkskin and buffalo calf for tweeds and bulky woolens—to name but a few of the possibilities.

Some wallets hold up to 40 items—identification cards, passes, licenses, etc. And some have metal-tabbed pulls which lift out sections devoted to cards and papers.

Some billfolds contain coin purses, key rings, pads and pencils and have a watch on the outside. Others hold nothing but money. Some of these, for Atlantic commuters, have special compartments for dollars, francs and pounds.

Fashion Hint

A good Christmas gift for the theater goer is a smart pair of theater glasses in a plastic case that is lightweight, attractive and sturdy.

Ladies Aid Elects Mrs. Guy Caswell

Mrs. Guy Caswell was re-elected president of Ladies Aid Society of Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church Thursday when the group met in Fellowship Hall.

• • •

Elected to serve with Mrs. Caswell was Mrs. Ralph Osborne, vice president. Mrs. Foster Berdan and Mrs. Clarence Failing were re-elected recording and corresponding secretary, respectively.

Following the sewing of cancer pads, a cooperative luncheon was served, with Mrs. Elmer Stockwell and Mrs. Joseph Schledorn as hostesses.

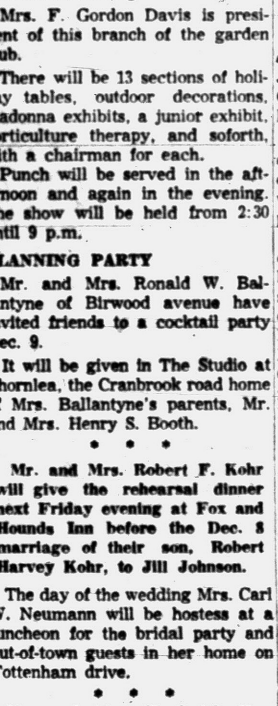

Mrs. Charles Harrand of Pontiac Rescue Mission gave the devotions.

Designer Tries Manufacturing

Tina Leser, the indefatigable designer of "fun time" elegance, has now formed her own bathing suit company.

Although such Leser swim suits as the ballerina, the shirred and the embroidered have made fashion history, this will be the designer's first venture in the production end of the business.

Instantaneous success came at her first showing to buyers—some stores ordered as many as 75 of a single design for one department.

JANE A. MILLARD

Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Millard of South Edith street announce the engagement of their daughter, Jane A, and Glyn R. Stone. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glyn D. Stone of South Sanford street. A summer wedding is planned.

Broadway Hails Comedy Starring Judy Holliday

Sydney Chaplin Also Wins Acclaim for Role in 'Bells Are Ringing'

By LEE BELSER

NEW YORK (INS)—"The Bells Are Ringing" up and down Broadway for Judy Holliday, queen of the telephone-answering services.

• • •

"Bells," the riotous show by Betty Comden and Adoph Green, brought Miss Holliday back to the New York stage last night as a kindly switchboard operator who keeps getting her telephone numbers mixed up with her heartstrings.

And the way she does it is enough to panic the Pentagon. "Bells" is a smash hit, one-woman show with punch, zing, zowie and Sydney Chaplin.

Chaplin, son of the comedian Charlie, makes his local stage debut as Jeff Moss, a handsome, bottle-bedeviled writer and client of the Susananswerphone answering service.

• • •

Judy, who made her real life "theatrical" debut as a switchboard operator at Orson Welles' Mercury Theater, takes his problems to heart and falls in love with the guy even though she's never met him.

In a riotous sequence of events involving bookie joints, singing dentists and the "mu-cha-cha," Judy gets her man and they both live happily on Broadway ever after.

The comedienne also sings and dances with a nice romantic assist from Chaplin.

• • •

New York's four morning newspaper critics bestowed a bevy of kudos on Miss Holiday and Chaplin but one aisle-sitter withheld his okay on the plot.

Dissenter Brooks Atkinson of the Times found Judy "carries on her shoulders one of the most antiquated plots of the season" but he admired her for mustering up enough "gusto" to triumph.

He placed "'Bells Are Ringing' on the level of a routine vaudeville show."

The Herald Tribune's Walter Kerr, declaring "it's Machiavelli with a heart of gold," said of Miss Holliday, "she's wonderful."

Asking "what matter" about the plot, Kerr decided "you've got—in a cozy, old-fashioned, warm-hearted way—a sweetheart of a show."

John Chapman of the Daily News thought the musical "best when people are singing and dancing," and concluded it is a "bright and generally satisfying show."

The Daily Mirror's Robert Coleman called the show "a prize for Santa Claus to leave in anyone's stocking." He said of Miss Holliday "she's sheer delight for the eyes and ears," and concluded the offering "bongs the golden gong. It strikes a happy Holliday note!"

Weigh Yourself Before Breakfast

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

(Friday's Question Box)

Q. "I fluctuate regularly between 142 and 146 pounds. Is this normal or should I stay at the same weight?"

A. Many factors could cause this much difference. For instance, if you weigh right after eating a large meal, that will make a few pounds difference. It is best to weigh in the morning after going to the bathroom and before dressing or breakfast.

You may also have eaten more and gained for that reason. Then when you noticed this gain you may have unconscidusly watched your diet a bit.

* * *

Q. "I am 30 years of age and my eyes are getting so-called 'bags' under them. My friends kid me and I am self-conscious about them. I have gone to an eye doctor and been fitted for glasses, and a doctor who treats my kidney condition says these bags are not caused by this. Have you any ideas?"

A. You already have covered two possible causes. I judge that your doctor feels that there is no organic or systemic reason for this swelling. I suggest that you take a brisk walk each day and also get plenty of sleep. There is also another possibility—allergies. You might investigate this.

* * *

Q. "I have a couple of problems I would like help with. I am in my middle 20s and considered attractive but I have broken veins in my legs. Is there anything to do about these? Also my hair is turning gray very rapidly. Is there any way to stop it?"

A. The little capillaries can be removed. See a dermatologist. I know of no sure way to stop graying. Hair specialists believe that regular scalp massage may help and vitamin B complex has been associated with this problem. Ask your doctor how much to take daily.

It is best to weigh in the morning after going to the bathroom and before dressing or breakfast.

* * *

Q. "I gained weight and as a result the insides of my legs rubbed together. This summer the skin became very irritated and red. The redness has gone but the skin remains brown. What can I do for this?"

A. I think it will fade out in time, and since you are losing your overweight you will not have this trouble again.

* * *

Q. "I am 5 feet 10 inches tall. I weigh about 145 pounds. I am heavy boned. Should I weigh more or less?"

A. You are just about right. You are certainly not overweight. If your frame is large, you probably should even weigh a bit more.

* * *

Q. "I am 17 years old, 5 feet and 4 inches tall and weigh 129 pounds. My measurements are bust 35, waist 24½ and hips 35 inches. My friends tell me that I am just right but my family says I am too fat. They are always after me to reduce. What is your opinion?"

A. According to usual standards you are about 10 or 12 pounds overweight. However your measurements deny this. I imagine that you have a large bone structure. If so, you should weigh this much.

Home Accessories Are Studied by Club

Members of Westside Extension Club held a cooperative luncheon and meeting Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Ward Newman on Liberty street.

* * *

Mrs. Leon Grogg conducted the business meeting and gave the lesson on "Accessories for the Home." Five points, which Mrs. Grogg said should be considered when arranging accessories in the home, are harmony, proportion balance, rhythm and emphasis.

* * *

A Christmas party and cooperative luncheon will be held on Dec. 19 at the Grogg residence on Carnell street. Members will also exchange gifts.

Monogrammed napkins, matches or coasters are good gift suggestions for that person on your shopping list that has everything.

The broadcloth shirt takes its place on the hearth for at-home holiday wear. Here, it's in beige with dyed-to-match pearl buttons and cufflinks. Pin-tucking and hemstitching are used for the front of the blouse and the collar. It is teamed with informal Capri pants in velvet with embroidery.

Typical Teenager Feels Everything Is Important

By RUTH MILLETT

She's a fairly typical teenager if—

She can call up a friend with whom she has just parted company and talk for an hour on the telephone, provided, of course, she can lie down while she talks.

She either loves or hates. She rarely shifts into neutral about anything or anybody.

She is convinced that her parents are stricter than anyone else's, even though each of her friends claims the same disgusting distinction.

She doesn't believe in keeping a boy waiting when she has a date. Her mother may have thought it was good technique to keep a young man cooling his heels until she made a grand entrance. But today's daughters are ready in time to open the door to their dates.

Having a date with a "new" boy is fun but it's hard for an adult to tell which is more important about the date, having it or talking about it afterward to all of her friends.

She has her record player going most of the time. She studies by it, turns it on for "background" when she has a chattering group of friends in her room, even goes to sleep with it turned low.

She finds out what at least 15 girls are going to wear to a party before she dares make the big decision of what to wear herself.

She has more irons in the fire than the rest of the family put together—or maybe it just seems so because everything is so very IMPORTANT.

She is probably more like you were at her age than you admit. And since you lived through this age once, it's a cinch you'll be able to live through it again.

And most mothers find it is just as bewildering to live through a daughter's adolescence as it was through their own.

YOU CAN SAY IT Better... Smarter... more Endearingly...

Parents Don't Seal Child's Destiny

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

It was late afternoon, and John, 4, became suddenly quite discouraged by his life. For one thing, the motor inside his Auto Jet-Racer had just whirred with the familiar, ominous sound of breakdown, its key spinning around on nothingness.

For another thing, baby Jeanne had sniffles. And Mommy had been so busy all day pouring orange juice down her that she'd only said things like, "Can't you be quiet for a minute? You've waked her up again. How do I know where your red crayon is?"

Now, adults in John's state of mind often turn to drinking, smoking, sex conquest, ocean voyages and other activities by which they hope to overcome loneliness.

To John, however, none of those was available. So he turned to the one that was. Up against the human problem of aloneness, he put his thumb in his mouth and began to suck it.

* * *

Unfortunately, his mother has a neighbor who recently took some psychology courses. Noting John's innocent solution to the old human problem, she said to his mother, "He must have more love. Thumb sucking means that you have rejected him. In older children, it is often a symptom of nervous breakdown."

As a result of this sensational information, John's mother finds it impossible to bear with his thumb sucking. When she found him doing it, she snatched his thumb from his mouth impatiently saying "Goodness, must you do that the minute I can't amuse you?"

* * *

Her impatience is quite understandable in view of her fear that she may have doomed John to a nervous breakdown. How can she possibly "love" the child whose action she sees as a direct accusation of her?

She can't. And one of the reasons we find it so hard to love children freely and spontaneously today is psychology's insistence that we make their fates.

We dare make no mistake with them lest it mean eternal damnation for them. The panic this inflexible doctrine has created among parents has done considerable damage.

* * *

While it is true that we influence children's lives, we do not create their destinies. Only very young and inexperienced psychology claims such egotistical powers for us.

Meatless Casserole Is Sharp

Mrs. Ott Combines Sour Cream Mix With Boiled Noodles

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Here's an interesting meatless main dish. There's plenty of cheese in it to give you an adequate amount of protein in the meal. Today's cook is Mrs. Robert Ott of Rochester.

Mrs. Ott is a member of the new Junior Women's Club and of the Republican Women. She is also active in the guild of her church. Her favorite leisure time occupation is working with children.

NOODLE CASSEROLE
By Mrs. Robert Ott

8 ounces noodles, cooked
1 onion, grated
1 clove garlic, minced
1 cup sour cream
1 cup cottage cheese
1 tablespoon tabasco sauce
Salt and pepper
Grated cheese

Combine sour cream, cottage cheese and tabasco sauce. Toss lightly with noodles, onion and garlic. Sprinkle with grated cheese. Bake 30 minutes in a 350-degree oven. Makes 6 servings.

Hangnails are caused by close cutting of the cuticle. They are painful and unpleasant to see. If you gently push back the cuticle each day, they can be prevented.

Young Girl Might Like Gift of Hose

Any prospective Santa with girls on his list and problems on his mind can find a simple solution to the gift dilemma: Give 'em all nylons.

Those belles of junior high who run around all day in Bermuda shorts and knee-high socks are among the country's heaviest buyers of sheer stockings, a recent survey shows. For when these young hoydens get dressed up for dates, off come the shorts and socks and on go the fluffiest dresses and the sheerest stockings they can find.

The survey further revealed that 95 per cent of schoolgirls over 12 buy two pairs of nylons a month and own a wardrobe of six pairs.

For school, hikes and other casual daytime activities, socks are the thing. But for dances and dates, nylons are a must. Girls who like the bare-legged look in summer, even with dance slippers, find in winter that when their tan fades legs look better veiled in nylon.

* * *

Hosiery manufacturers, catering to the younger generation, are making more sheer stretch stockings this winter.

They're also turning out more sheer knee-high stockings in both plain nylon and stretch varieties. There are for younger girls who don't wear garter belts or girdles.

The girls prefer seamless stockings, as sheer as possible, with little or no toe and heel reinforcements. These give them a bare-legged look with more glamor.

* * *

Gift buyers who aren't fully informed on sizes will do well to buy the stretch stockings which come in only three sizes—small, medium and large. They fit all leg lengths and proportions and make gift purchases a breeze.

A brisk walk of at least 30 minutes in the fresh air will do as much for your health and beauty as the traditional apple a day.

The ideal holiday gift is the elaborate and feminine handbag to highlight the simple sheath. The supremacy of black makes the all-black look dramatic or if you prefer color, adding bright jewel-toned handbag is feminine.

Bride Wants Traditional Gown, Veil

Must Short-Lived Girlhood Marriage Be Considered?

By EMILY POST

A letter tells me: "When I was 15 years old I ran away and married a boy whom I had known a very short while. After a month I returned home and my parents had the marriage annulled. I am now 21 and am planning to marry a man of whom my family approves.

"My fiance knows about my first marriage but his family does not. In fact, no one outside of my own family knows about this first marriage. My fiance would like me to wear a wedding dress and veil, and I would like to very much but would this be proper under the circumstances?"

Answer: Although I sympathize with your situation, I cannot advise you to begin your married life on a false basis. I think it very important for your future security and peace of mind that your previous marriage be not kept a secret from your fiance's family.

You could then perfectly well wear a white bridal dress and hat or head covering but not a veil.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When I give a lunch party in a public dining room, what is the proper procedure for having my guests go to the table? Should they be asked to go into the dining room and find their places as they arrive, or what?"

Answer: You, as hostess, receive near the entrance to the dining room. As your guests arrive they join you and stand about until all have arrived.

You then lead the way to the table and tell each guest where to sit, but if you have placecards and each of your guests can easily find her own place, you let your guests follow the headwaiter and you come in last.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My fiance was christened John, but he has been called Jack ever since he was a baby. He insists that I use this name on our wedding invitations. I disagree and think that the name John should be used on these forms. Will you please settle this?"

Answer: Very definitely you are right. The nickname Jack would be very out of place for such formal engraving.

Steer Clear of Shopping Service

By ANNE HEYWOOD

This is the time of year when my mail is heavy with letters from people who just adore shopping.

They do it awfully well, are always being asked to shop for their friends, have handled entire Christmas lists for people and are sure they should begin the new year by setting up a personal shopping service.

However, a personal shopping service is almost always a losing proposition.

The only person I know who ever succeeded at it is a woman who used to live in South America where she made dozens and dozens of rich Argentinian friends.

When she settled in New York, they commissioned her to buy everything from mink stoles to automobile parts and paid her an enormous fee per hour.

MONEY TO BURN

Unless you have a flock of rich friends who live out of the country, have lavish taste and money to burn, you'd better not entertain the idea.

I've known at least 11 people who disregarded my advice, started personal shopping services and lost all their capital.

What do you do, then, if you love picking things out for people?

One girl I know made a nice compromise.

She was always wonderful at helping low-salaried business girls find attractive costumes that cost pennies. She herself worked in an advertising agency for years, where actual advancement depended to some degree on looking like a million dollars.

She knew just where to find bargains and always looked as if she had a fortune. That's when her friends and co-workers began getting her help.

WOULDN'T PAY

Of course, she contemplated opening a personal shopping service for low-budget career girls. But she found, after studying and analyzing, that it wouldn't pay.

* * *

Instead, she got a Saturday job at one of those really good second-hand thrift shops. The owner was happy to have her, since Saturday was a busy day.

Moreover, the shop had hitherto had mostly medium-income wives and dowagers for customers and the owner envisioned a new market in the career girl, which our friend could attract.

After three years of doing this on Saturdays and an occasional evening, Maryanne had salted enough away to enable her to open a modest career-girl thrift shop.

* * *

She buys up good second-hand clothes suitable for career girls. She has first-hand knowledge of their needs. They like her, and she gives them good dressing advice along with each purchase.

She is a success—but she never would have been if she had started a plain shopping service!

(Copyright 1956)

Start Small Girls on Good Grooming

You can start your small daughter out on good grooming by giving her a bedroom mirror placed sufficiently low so that she can see herself with ease.

She should have her own chest of drawers and her own "cosmetics" of the type designed especially for children.

Non-Cling Process

Dry cleaners now have an added gimmich—a new lint-free, cling-free process that will keep clothes from sticking to lingerie. The new rinse works particularly well on synthetic fabrics and silks.

Birthday Party Held for Norman Mallory

A surprise party was held Wednesday evening for Norman Mallory on his 18th birthday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. King Stetler of West Cornell avenue. Norman was presented with the badge of office and book signifying his rise to assistant adviser of Explorer Scouts.

Members of Franklin MacAllister Post 66, Explorer Scouts, were present for the occasion. Also guests were William DeGrace, committeeman, and Mrs. DeGrace who showed movies of their recent trip to Cuba, Jamaica, Haiti and Florida.

Old Clocks Take Place in Limelight

NEW YORK (INS) — In late years, grandfathers' clocks have been relegated to a dim spot on a staircase landing or stashed away in an attic.

But they're on their way back to the best spots in the house — including the living room.

* * *

One such clock dominates a large living room in a New York store display where it sets the stage for a variated theme of new and old objects.

The clock present a grandiose picture in the corner of the room flanked on either side by comfortable contemporary chairs. To the right is a gilt-edged mirror; on a nearby stand is an ancient book that opens into a box and a modern edition of the old-time waxed fruit in a bowl.

Old-time barometers also are finding their way back into favor and can create an impressive effect when hung from a library wall or in the foyer of a modern apartment.

Be Sure Hands Are Soft If You Hand It to Hubby

We're all faced with tasks that plunge our hands into hot water, caustic soaps and bleaches. Personal cleanliness and a spotless home are sufficient proof of our hygienic endeavors. But hands roughened by housework are not badges of merit. They're simply unattractive and unnecessary.

Rubber gloves are helpful when strong soaps and very hot water must be used. But if they are to be worn for a long period of time, a pair of thin cotton gloves should be slipped on first to absorb perspiration which can irritate the skin.

The use of a handled brush for dish washing can aid in avoiding the red, rough look of "dishpan hands." But there are times when our hands and nails must take a beating. Then it's up to us to make use of the many available products that help keep hands young and pretty.

Hand care is simple—even relaxing. After your evening bath, you can prop yourself up in bed and get to work. A nightly massage with a new hand cream that the makers say contains the natural oils found in the skin, can protect the hands from the roughening effect of harsh detergents.

If your nails are brittle, there is a nail cream which, according to the manufacturer, will restore the natural oils when massaged into the base of the nail.

When you manicure your nails at home, be sure to remove all the old polish before filing. Always file from side to center with a swooping motion and finish by beveling the nail edge with an emery board. This prevents splitting.

Remove dead cuticle with an orangewood stick, tipped with cotton and dipped in oily polish remover. An additional aid is a nail polish base, claimed by its makers to add extra days of wear to your polish.

Italian Consul Carloni Speaks at Citizenship Dinner

The 18th annual citizenship dinner sponsored by the New Citizens League was held Thursday in Pontiac High School. Guest speaker was Dr. Antonio Carloni, Italian consul in Michigan. He is photographed with (left to right) Mayor William W. Donaldson, retiring Congressman George A. Dondero and Janice Antona, president of the league.

Club Hears High School Counselor

Mrs. Harold Wert opened her home on Liberty street Wednesday evening to members and guests of Parent Guidance Club. Mrs. Robert Dorman assisted the hostess.

* * *

Elma Waterman, girl's counselor at Pontiac High School, was the guest speaker.

Her topic, "The Role of the High School Counselor," enlightened the members on the importance of counselors in helping high school students with their curriculum and also in guiding them in their future vocations.

Mrs. U. H. Barnett invited the group to her home on Norton avenue for the Dec. 12 meeting. A gift exchange will be held at that time.

El Salvador is about to get its first paint and varnish plant, San Salvador learns.

A German firm has started to produce 7,000 "prefab" houses a year in Colombia.

League Holds 18th Gathering at PHS

Dr. Antonio Carloni, consul of Italy, was guest speaker at the 18th annual citizenship dinner held by the New Citizens League of Pontiac Thursday.

The political, economic and cultural and historical background of Italy was outlined for the 140 attending the event held at Pontiac High School.

Dr. Carloni said that the country has been rebuilt since World War II and that ship building and the merchant marine are greater than before. Much of Italy's progress, he stated, is due to American aid.

Communism is on the decline as Italy is a strong Catholic country, the speaker said, and he pointed out that it is second in prominence in the film industry.

Guests introduced by Janice Antona, president of the league, were retiring Congressman George A. Dondero, County Clerk Lynn D. Allen, Court Examiner Sydney Freed, Judge H. Russel Holland, Mrs. William Todd, Americanism chairman of the DAR; Mrs. Lee Hill and Mrs. Harry King.

Others were Mrs. Joseph Phillips of the American Legion Auxiliary, Donna Carloni, Mrs. Dondero, Mrs. Allen, Mrs. Freed, Mrs. Donaldson, Sharon Holland and Richard Fell.

Ethel Butler showed colored pictures of Miss Antona's class trip to Washington last summer. Vocal selections were presented by Mr. and Mrs. Victor Lindquist, accompanied by Mrs. Addison K. Oakley.

* * *

The invocation was given by Mrs. Todd, and the Pledge to the Flag was led by Nikolai Ivanov. Jose Vega gave the American's Creed.

Countries represented at the dinner were Hungary, Greece, England, Switzerland, Germany, Italy, Yugoslavia, Poland, Holland, Russia, Mexico, Norway, Austria, Spain and Canada.

Forecast of Color Tones Given for Next Spring

The "clinging-vine mood" in colors as well as fabrics will dominate next Spring and Summer fashion, according to a forecast of The Color Association of the United States.

Estelle M. Tennis, The Color Association executive director, foresees the American woman's 1957 wardrobe as a "pretty picture in sweet and lighthearted colors."

The classic gray or navy Spring suit is more apt to find a rival next year in a sand or string beige," said Miss Tennis.

"Beige, luminous or pale blue, pinks with soft blush or coral overtones and clear flower reds are the strong color trends indicated for the coming season. The pastel palette for summer will favor dulcet watercolors.

"The dramatic new color note is violet. High fashion designers on both sides of the Atlantic will emphasize purplish tones from pale mauve to ultra violet, and in all types of outdoor sport clothes to ball gowns."

The Color Association, representing all branches of industry and fashion, is the national authority which centralizes and forecasts color trends in order to formulate a correct and popular color palette in textiles, accessories, paints, plastics, carpets, automobiles and other objects which surround the American family.

Feminine Look Now High Style

NEW YORK (NEA) — The very feminine look of clothes this winter takes in tweed suits and daytime sheaths as well as late day and dinner dresses.

This means that there are lace and chiffon blouses for tweed suits, yokes of imported lace over neutral chiffon on crepe and satin dresses, and wool lace used as topping for wool jersey or crepe sheaths.

Chiffon is used for the top of tweed ensembles and repeated in the jacket lining.

Lace and chiffon are fragile, show-through fabrics that focus attention above the waist. But they're demanding, too. They make a good strapless bra essential.

Homemakers Meet for Yule Workshop

Modern Homemakers Club gathered at the home of Mrs. Daniel Peterson on McCormick avenue for the Christmas workshop. Mrs. Kenneth Anderson and Mrs. Peterson conducted the lesson at the recent meeting.

A discussion on accessories for the home was led by Mrs. Myles Werner and Mrs. Anderson. Mrs. Howard Fox was welcomed as a new member. Plans were made for the Christmas party Dec. 11.

Synthetic Starch Should be Used for Petticoats

To bring bouffant petticoats back to their former glory, one authority, after testing, recommends the following way to treat these important accessories to milady's wardrobe.

Use the new plastic starches, rather than the ordinary starch. Wash crinoline and allow to dry almost completely. Dip garment in a solution of undiluted synthetic starch and squeeze thoroughly. Let it soak up all it will hold. Do not wring, but just squeeze out enough starch so that it will not drip.

Hang from waistband to drip dry. Dampen lightly before ironing. Do not dampen at all, if using a steam iron. You may launder the petticoat about eight times before it will need a new starching bath.

Don't expect the garment to feel stiff until the ironing, for it is the heat of the iron which sets it. The left-over starch may be poured back into the bottle and used again.

Treatment for Feet

After bathing you can do your feet a good turn by smoothing down the rough spots with pumice. The softening effect of the bath makes this the best time for the pedicure, too.

A modern internal gas combustion engine burns about 13 pounds of air to every pound of fuel consumed.

Pontiac Press Papers to Net Funds for Needy and Finance Parties

Area Goodfellows currently are making last arrangements to conduct their annual Pontiac Press newspaper sales which each year help to brighten the lives of the unfortunate, as well as to provide Yule parties for children of the community.

Sales slated for the coming week beginning tomorrow include those of Waterford Township, Rochester, Brooklands and Avondale, Addison and White Lake Township.

At Waterford the sale will take place tomorrow, beginning in the early morning and lasting until evening.

Goodfellows, headed by Fire Capt. Clayton Soncrainte, will attempt to raise $2,000 with the sale of about 6,000 papers.

Funds will go toward baskets and fuel for the needy, plus emergency carry over funds for the year.

Rochester

"Goodfellows from Rochester, Brooklands and Avondale are today completing plans for the annual Goodfellow paper sale to be held Dec. 8-9 in this area.

"The Goodfellow Fund" was originally founded by the late Ben Jones some thirty years ago when Ben, "Rochester's Old Newsboy," sold papers to provide a Christmas party for many children. He carried on the sale each season with little help but eventually he was aided by local police and firemen, and post-office employees now known as the Methopolitan Club.

This year's goal is $2500, which will provide a party for nearly 300 children and replenish funds which have been used for charity throughout the year.

Addison Township

In Addison Township, the Goodfellow sale will be conducted Friday evening, Dec. 7, and all day Saturday, Dec. 8. Sale sites will be Campbells Corners, Lakeville and Leonard.

The sale funds will provide a children's party on Dec. 22, also baskets and fuel for needy families.

Goodfellow sales here have been conducted since 1949, when the fire department was organized. Dave Ferguson is in charge of this year's Pontiac Press sale.

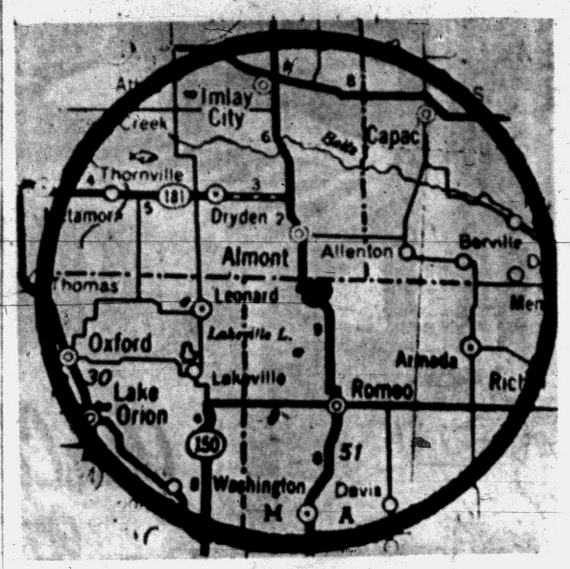

* * *

White Lake Township

Dec 8 has been set as the date for the annual Goodfellows Paper Sale, Andrew Plano, White Lake Township Chief of Police and chairman of the sale announced today.

Fireman, policemen and local businessmen will sell papers on corners throughout the Township beginning at 9 in the morning. Proceeds from the Sale are used for Christmas baskets given to the needy.

Robert Larson, township Fire Chief, joined Plano in an appeal for serviceable toys, especially dolls. "Every little girl should get a doll at Christmas", Larson said, "and it is hard to take a basket with only one in it to a home where more than one little girl is waiting for a dolly."

COMMUNITY HOSPITAL AREA

Community Hospital Progress

Plans Ready for Final OK

ROMEO—Architectural plans for the new 32-bed Community Hospital to be built on M53 two miles south of Almont near final acceptance this week.

The building and finance committees have approved them, and the board of directors, meeting Wednesday night, authorized the next step. Board members told hospital consultant George Fleigh to show the plans to nurses and doctors in the 12 communities within a radius of 13-15 miles of the proposed facility. This is the area to be served by the new hospital. It covers adjacent portions of Oakland, Macomb, St. Clair and Lapeer counties.

After the medical survey the sketches—drawn by the architectural firm of Smith, Hinchman and Grylls—will be resubmitted to the building committee and board for final approval at a meeting Dec. 10.

The site for the new one-story hospital is on the southeast corner of Bordman road and Van Dyke. The land was the gift of W. Ross Lawrence of Almont.

"We plan to start immediately to put in wells and septic tank," Fleigh said. "Our recent study of water on the site was very favorable."

Fleigh credited committeemen E. E. Anderson, director of design for American Motors, and James Hough, facilities superintendent of Ford Proving Ground, with assistance given architects in saving space by planning double-purpose areas.

Major features of the new hospital are visitors lounge and lobby which will double as a solarium after visiting hours, one major and one minor operating room. The nursery, labor and delivery rooms will be air conditioned, Fleigh said.

All patients' rooms may be converted from double- to single-bed usage, he said. Each room will be thermostatically controlled. Stainless steel equipment will be used throughout.

The structure itself will be expandable to 80 beds, according to Fleigh. It will cost $25,000 to add four beds, he said. The $400,000 raised in pledges last year necessitated starting with a building to meet the minimum need for 32 beds. The hospital is designed with an eye to expansion as money becomes available.

Excise Tax on Autos Discriminates: Potter

WASHINGTON (INS)—Sen Charles Potter (R-Mich) today attempted to erase the excise tax on automobiles to stimulate production and employment in his home state.

Potter told a house ways and means study committee the tax is "discriminatory and unrealistic" and urged its immediate suspension on a six months' trial basis.

The Michigan Republican explained that the move would "relieve the average family of a portion of the great tax burden it carries and stimulate autombile employment in Michigan."

Car Skids Into Tree, Two Badly Injured

A driver and his passenger were seriously injured, hospital authorities said, when their car skidded sidewise through 130 feet of fencing into a tree late last night in Waterford Township.

Both the driver, Clarence C. Sherman, 34, of 110 S. Hospital Rd., and Alonzo A. Maxon, 38, of 140 N. Telegraph Rd. were listed in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

Sherman suffered a fractured right leg and facial cuts. Maxon has broken ribs and cuts.

Study Evidence in Riesel Case

Admission of Testimony by Miranti Snags Trial in Acid Attack

NEW YORK (AP)—The judge in the case involving the acid attack on Victor Riesel will hold a hearing today on admissibility of grand jury testimony by Gondolfo Miranti, one of the three defendants.

Federal Judge William B. Herlands yesterday dismissed until Monday the jury hearing the trial of Miranti, Domenico Bando and Leo Telvi.

The prosecution wants to put in evidence 42 typewritten pages of testimony purported to be statements by Miranti made before a grand jury last Sept. 6.

The defense claims such testimony was not voluntary.

* * *

Over earlier defense objections, two hand-written statements—assertedly made by Miranti but not signed—were read to the jury yesterday. FBI Agent John R. Anderson read from 44 pages of statements he said Miranti wrote while in the Nassau County Jail Aug. 26-28.

Anderson testified he told Miranti the acid-blinding of the labor columnist "was a very horrible crime."

Miranti broke down and cried, Anderson said, and a confession followed.

Riesel was blinded with acid by an assailant near a Broadway restaurant the morning of April 5. His alleged attacker, Abe Telvi, brother of Leo, later was found shot to death on a lower East Side Street.

British and French Ready to Withdraw From Egypt

LONDON (AP)—Britain and France appeared set today to write off their Egyptian invasion by working out a prompt and coordinated "phased" withdrawal of their forces with few or no conditions.

Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd arranged emergency talks here with French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau for a final run-down of policy.

British politicians and newspapers of differing political views agreed that a pullout was imminent.

Signs mounted that the two governments were anxious to get their troops out of Egypt with all the speed political expediency will permit.

It was not clear what conditions, if any, France and Britain will demand, or how long the withdrawal will take. There were some predictions it can be completed by Christmas.

In Egypt, last-minute Egyptian objections today halted a march by units of the U. N. police force to positions on both sides of the no man's land between Egyptian and British-French forces.

Just as Danish infantry in the blue helmets of the new U. N. force prepared to take over front-line positions on both sides of the cease-fire line, the Egyptian commander informed U. N. liaison officers he would need to have more details worked out.

The U. N. officer placed a quick radio call to Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, commander of the U. N. army, in Cairo asking him to take up the new hitch with top Egyptian officials.

Britain's Conservative government still has to sugarcoat the bitter pill of evacuation if it wishes to avoid the wrath of many Conservative party members.

Although the government still walks a tight rope, it appears that not enough of the party's right-wingers would press a revolt to the point where they would bring the government down. But the future of Prime Minister Eden, now convalescing in Jamaica from "overstrain," remains clouded.

Meanwhile, in Washington, the United States is giving evidence of extending every possible support to the anti-Communist Baghdad Pact in the Middle East short of actually becoming a member.

A reaffirmation of American backing for the four Mideast countries in the alliance, issued late yesterday, was attributed to a desire to reassure the hardpressed government of Iraq and to warn Russia anew of American concern for the pact members.

The alliance is composed of Pakistan, Iraq, Turkey, Iran and Britain. But Iraq has refused to participate in council meetings with Britain since the British attack on Egypt. As a result, the Baghdad group has been denied the active association of its most powerful state.

Won't Return Refugees

VIENNA (INS) — Austrian Foreign Minister Leopold Figl, on a Communist demand that Hungarian refugees be returned: "We will never send back any refugees against their wishes."

Your PTA Is Planning:

MSU Man to Talk Monday at Blanche Sims School

LAKE ORION — Dr. Ellis Davis of Michigan State University will be the special guest for the 8 p.m. PTA meeting at Blanche Sims School Monday.

Dr. Davis, author and authority on elementary grades, will talk on "Understanding Your Child."

* * *

All interested persons are invited to attend the meeting, to be held in the multipurpose room of the school.

Stiles

Stiles PTA will hold its annual Christmas party at Avondale High School Thursday evening at 8.

There will be community singing as well as Christmas Carols by the students under the leadership of Mrs. David Hackett.

The fourth grade Tonettes will entertain with several musical selections, after which Santa Claus will appear.

Marlette

A panel discussion by Marlette high school students on the problems confronting them will be main feature of the evening when the High School PTA meets at the school Monday at 8:30 p.m.

The discussion will be unrehearsed, and parents will be given an opportunity to ask questions. Moderating the discussion will be Helen Decker, new to the faculty this year and teacher of English and sociology.

* * *

Music will be furnished by the school, and refreshments will be served.

North Branch

The monthly PTA meeting, to be held at the school gym Thursday evening at 8, will highlight a program to be presented by the school art department.

This feature will be directed by school art instructor, Philip Daubert, who will display films to illustrate the methods of teaching art in the schools and colleges.

The singing of Christmas carols and a buffet lunch will supplement the evening's activities.

Holiday Decor to Key Session

Waterford Garden Unit Slates Guest Day Talk at CAI Building

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Mrs. Hazel P. Dunlop will talk about "Holiday Decorations" when the Waterford Township Branch of the National Farm and Garden Association holds its annual guest day meeting at 1 p.m. Thursday in the CAI Building.

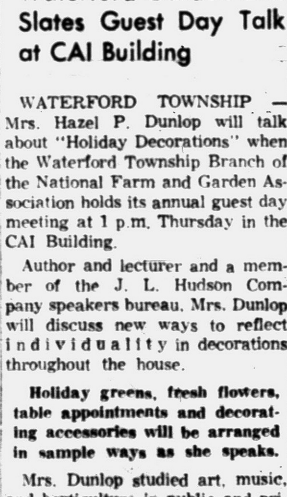

Author and lecturer and a member of the J. L. Hudson Company speakers bureau, Mrs. Dunlop will discuss new ways to reflect individuality in decorations throughout the house.

Holiday greens, fresh flowers, table appointments and decorating accessories will be arranged in sample ways as she speaks.

Mrs. Dunlop studied art, music, and horticulture in public and private schools in her home state of Indiana. For the past twenty-five years she has lived in Detroit where her name is wellknown in garden club circles. Author of the book, "Let's Arrange Flowers," she has written numerous magazine articles. She has staged special flower shows and gives lectures on antique silver, table settings, floral arrangements and gardening.

Several Christmas selections will be sung by Mrs. Rebecca Gould, a branch member.

Hostesses for the event will be Mrs. George Dean, Mrs. Mark Stewart, Mrs. Garrett Prible, Mrs. Fred Bohlman and Mrs. James Green.

WILLIAM P. ADDIS

His appointment as acting postmaster at Holly has been recommended by Congressman George A. Dondero. He succeeds Burton E. Jones, who died Sunday.

Adult Classes to Start Jan. 22

Waterford Township Is Publicizing Sessions to Enable Big Enrollment

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Bulletins regarding adult education courses for the second semester are being circulated throughout the township here. According to Wayne McMeans, director of adult education, the program is being publicized at this time to enable more people to enroll in a wider variety of courses.

* * *

These will include many phases of art, arts and crafts, and fine arts appreciation. Homemakers may be interested in the home decoration, home landscaping and planting, beginning sewing, advanced sewing, and knitting courses offered.

Those with an eye for business may take beginning typing, advanced typing, shorthand, bookkeeping and instruction in office machines. Auto mechanics and blueprint reading will also be offered.

Public speaking, current world affairs, political science, conversational French and Spanish and reading imporvement complete the courses listed. Other suggestions will be welcomed but McMeans pointed out that class enrollments must total eighteen persons each in order to be carried.

* * *

Classes are scheduled to begin Jan. 22. These will be conducted from 7 to 9:30 p.m. on Tuesdays, unless circumstances make another evening necessary. Registration fee will be $5.

For information or to register the public is asked to call Isaac E. Crary Junior High School office.

BEVERLY JEAN HEWETT

Mrs. Arvilla Todd of Auburn Heights and William R. Hewett of Grand Blanc announce the engagement of their daughter, Beverly Jean, to Thomas W. Vaughn, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Vaughn of Elizabeth Lake. An April wedding is planned.

Set Prayer Day Dinner at Christ Lutheran

WATERFORD — The WMS of Christ Lutheran Church here is planning the annual prayer day program Sunday, at the church.

* * *

A potluck supper will be served by the missionary group at 6 p.m. and all members and friends of the congregation are invited.

Could Admit Refugees

WASHINGTON (INS) — A co-author of the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act declared today that Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr., has legal authority to permit unlimited admission of Hungarian refugees to the U. S.

Help for Santa Seen at Roosevelt Fair

KEEGO HARBOR — Santa's toy shop will be transported, dolls, toys and all to the Roosevelt High School here tomorrow, for the school's PTA Fair.

* * *

The fair will be on from 4 to 8 p.m., with dozens of other booths as well as the toy section having been planned for weeks by room mothers and teachers.

Costime dolls that have been dressed by several of the mothers, and doll clothes, will be available for gift giving.

Homade baked goods and candy are important items in the food line.

The cherry tree will provide surprises for folks of all ages, along with the grab bag and mystery apron.

One of the room-mother groups is planning a half-hour movie.

For eating at the fair, there will be barbecues, hot dogs, ice cream and pop corn, along with coffee and gingerale.

A cake and pie walk will be a feature. Other booths will star jewelry, cotton candy, white elephants, balloons, brownies, comics and children's books and silhouettes. A room has also been provided for various games.

Proceeds from the fair will be used by the PTA to purchase school equipment. Last year a backstop for the playground was acquired and new books were bought for the school library.

Chairmen for the affair are Mrs. William Sanderson and Bruce Welch, and Mrs. William Yates.

Study Fluorides at Waterford

PTA Committee Starts Drive for Direct Use on Children's Teeth

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — A topical fluoridation committee has been organized by three PTAs here to make the direct application of sodium fluoride to children's teeth available to every child in their areas.

* * *

PTAs of Jayno Adams, Waterford Villege and Williams Lake Schools are combining efforts to handle the program, with members from each health committee on the new committee. Coordinator is Dr. B. W. Ross, a Waterford dentist.

The program, advocated by the American Dental Assn. which cites proof that such treatment cuts tooth decay by at least 40 per cent when tested on large groups of children, is being suggested especially for children at ages of three, seven, ten and thirteen years.

* * *

New teeth formations have just been concluded at those ages.

Loan of needed equipment has been promised by the state health department, of which Dr. Donald Stone talked at a recent committee eeting.

CAI building facilities have been donated, as well at PTA workers, to cut costs, he pointed out.

* * *

Hopes that the program will not be limited to the three township schools have been expressed by committee members.

Parents will be asked, by letter, to indicate their interest next week. Added information may be obtained from the health chairman of each school, Mrs. Clare Novess of Jayno Adams, Mrs. John Hoke of Waterford Village, and Mrs. Robert Brown of Williams Lake.

Public Health Plans Disclosed by Hart

LANSING (AP)—Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart said Wednesday Gov. William's legislative program will include far-reaching proposals in the field of public health.

• • •

In a speech to a committee of the YWCA, Hart said the program will include preliminary planning for a state chronic disease hospital, state aid to local communities in the construction of medical care centers and state aid for 10 medical service centers in rural areas.

Hart said the program will also include a $100,000 grant to the University of Michigan for special research in chronic diseases such as rheumatic fever.

"Gov. Williams is much concerned that a start be made immediately on this chronic disease problem," Hart said.

• • •

"People who are seriously or acutely ill can get medical and hospital care anywhere in Michigan now. But those with chronic ailments—particularly old people—are still in need of help."

Manufacturing gained 1,693 per cent between 1869 and 1939 while at the same time the population of the U.S. was increased by 43 per cent.

THE BLONDE DIED DANCING

by KELLEY ROOS

Chapter 31

"You mean," Steve said, "you can't write to Frank Stubbs? Your letters to him might give away . . . his whereabouts?"

"He couldn't even tell me where he was going," said Harriet. "You know, it was so urgent that he hadn't time to even say good-by. Oh, Frank Stubbs . . . when duty called, he was not found wanting. No, no, not Frank Stubbs."

Harriet was pouring beer from the second container.

"Formosa," she said, "Burma, India . . wherever you are, Frank Stubbs, I drink to you!" She did, a whole glass of beer, and belched ever so daintily. "Drink to you, my love, and am with you . . ."

• • •

Suddenly her eyes were streaming tears. She rose and ran quickly into the bathroom, closing the door behind her. Clara beckoned to us, indicating that she wanted to speak to us in the hallway outside. We followed her.

She looked at us for a moment, then spoke in an oddly cold voice.

"I don't know why you want to see Frank Stubbs, and I couldn't care less. You can see what he did to that poor thing. I humor her, let her have her drunken dreams. The only true thing she said is that he ran out on her without a word . . . after he used up the little savings she had. And he's not coming back.

"I haven't told Harriet and I never will. A friend of mine in Boston read about Frank in the paper and wrote me about it. Frank's dead, he shot himself."

"When?" Steve said. "How long ago?"

"A couple of months."

"Could I see the paper?" Steve asked.

"I haven't got it. My friend didn't send it, just wrote me about it . . ."

• • •

She broke off as the door swung in. Harriet, smiling wildly, extended her arms to us. "Come back! You mustn't go, must you, really?"

"I'm afraid so," Steve said. "We're late now."

"It's been so pleasant," Harriet said, "and when Frank comes home we must all get together, mustn't we?"

"Yes," we said. "Good-by."

Steve and I headed for Ninth Avenue to find a cab.

I said, "Do you believe her, Steve? Is Frank Stubbs really dead? Is he a suicide case?"

"I'll check it," Steve said. "We've got to know for sure."

"How can you check it?"

"At the office. The out of town paper files. I'll do it now."

"All right."

"I'll drop you at the school first."

He whistled at an empty cab. He gave the driver directions, then lighted us cigarettes. I didn't look at him; I didn't want to see the worry I knew was in his face. I hoped he wasn't looking at me, either. It was Steve who finally spoke.

"We're not doing so well," he said. "We've just wasted one of our six hours."

"We found out about Frank Stubbs . . ."

"Connie, if Clara's right, if he died a couple of months ago, he couldn't have murdered Anita."

"Well, then at least we've eliminated him."

"That's the trouble," Steve said. "We're getting too good at eliminating people. We haven't found anyone with a real reason to murder Anita. Stubbs had one, but if he's dead, he's out. And Wendell Kipp is out, so far as we know. Anita couldn't very well blackmail a bachelor for infidelity. Bob Spencer . . ."

"He didn't even care enough for Anita to murder her. Leone Webb . . ."

"She wasn't being blackmailed by Anita. And neither was Oliver Bell, if we're to believe Leone. So who does that leave us?"

"Jack Walston and Dottie Harris," I said.

• • •

"Yes. Anita could have busted up their dream of having a night club of their own. Do people commit murder because they want a night club?"

"I'm afraid Jack and Dottie aren't the people who would."

"So who killed Anita Farrell? Me?"

"Oh, Steve, we mustn't give up . . ."

"We won't." The cab pulled up in front of the school. "Listen, Connie, after I find out about Stubbs, I'll go home. So you know where to reach me. Yes?"

"Yes. So long, Steve."

"Take care."

"You, too. We're all we've got."

"Sweetheart, stop looking at me as if you'll never see me again."

"Steve . . ."

"Scamper, get moving. I shouldn't hang around this neighborhood. Remember who I am?"

"Good-by, Steve."

In front of the elevator bank, Wendell Kipp was standing, obviously waiting for someone, probably someone named Hester Frost. Quickly I turned and stepped through the lobby door of a drug store. I was pretty sure that Kipp had not seen me.

The Crescent School of Dancing was going to have to get along without one of its instructors for a while. This was no time for me to get involved with Wendell Kipp. This was the time for me to stay free to help Steve. With any luck he would complete his chore at the office in half an hour, then head for home. I decided to get there first.

• • •

When the phone rang I nearly screamed. I had been listening for Steve's step on the stairs, the sound of his key in our lock. I had been waiting for our living room door to open and for Steve to walk in. When the phone shrilled through my concentration it was too much for me. My hello was slightly hysterical.

"Connie, what's wrong?"

"Oh, Steve . . . where are you?"

"The paper store down the block."

"Why? What's . . ."

"Kipp, He's across the street from the apartment. If I try to get in, he'll see me."

I groaned. "He was waiting for me at the school. That's why I came home, but I thought I'd shaken him. Oh, Steve, I'm sorry."

"It's all right."

"What about Frank Stubbs?"

"He's dead. Suicide. Two months ago in Boston."

"Oh, Steve!"

"Yeah, he probably couldn't raise the money to pay off Anita and keep her quiet, so he killed himself."

"He killed himself . . . he didn't kill Anita."

"That's right, Connie. We've got to forget about him as a suspect. Listen, the reason I called . . . I want you to play one of those tapes into the phone for me."

"Sure. Which one do you want to hear?"

"The one with Frank . . ."

"But you just said we . . . forget about him as a possibility . . ."

"Connie, put it on. There isn't much time . . ."

Steve leaves Connie stranded on a roof top tomorrow, as a murder suspect closes in. Read Chapter 32 of "The Blonde Died Dancing."

It's OK, Sailors —You're Allowed Inside Wisconsin

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Gov. Walter Kohler, himself a former sailor, last night promised a quick pardon for any Navy men arrested in Wisconsin for violating an old law which bans the wearing of the Navy uniform in the state.

"Therefore," the governor continued, "let all Navy men come in and continue to enjoy our cheese, milk and the malt beverages that have made our state famous."

• • •

Kohler served 3½ years in the Navy in World War II and was discharged as a lieutenant commander. He added that he was "as guilty as any Navy man of wearing a uniform in Wisconsin."

• • •

It was discovered several weeks ago that a 1909 statute, because of a couple of missing words, makes it illegal to wear the Navy blue in the Badger State.

Rear Adm. E. P. Forrestel, commander of the 9th Navy District, wrote Kohler inquiring unofficially and with tongue-in-cheek whether the law would mean the state would have to be declared "out of bounds" to the men in bell-bottom trousers.

If you remember to call a woman a pearl, you can soon have a whole string of em . . . Home's the place where you can trust the dog, the gin, the hash and a compliment. —Earl Wilson

Gun Gifts Set Stage for Tragedy

Boy Kills Brother in Double Shooting

MULLENS, W.Va. (AP) — A 15-year-old boy was killed and his 11-year-old brother wounded last Wednesday in what appeared to be an accidental double shooting with a pair of rifles received as early Christmas presents.

Tommy Fields died in the hospital next door to his apartment home.

His younger brother, Larry, was shot in the left arm and was reported in not serious condition.

Police said they were given this account by the mother, Mrs. Addie Fields:

After supper Wednesday, she sat down on a bed between her two sons and discussed Christmas plans. Her husband, Edgar Fields, a coal miner, was not at home.

She told the boys they were to get watches for Christmas, in addition to the guns they already had received.

* * *

Tommy had received a combination .22 caliber rifle and .410 gauge shotgun, and Larry a .22 rifle.

Mrs. Fields stepped into the living room to change a television program. She heard a shot.

Tommy came out of the bedroom and cried: "Lord have mercy, I shot Larry."

While Mrs. Fields rushed to Larry's side, Tommy slumped to the floor. Unaware that Tommy also had been shot, she assumed he had fainted.

After Larry recovered, Mrs. Fields sent him next door to the hospital and knelt at Tommy's side. It then occurred to her that Tommy, who had suffered from a rheumatic condition for three years, might have been stricken by a heart attack. Mrs. Fields went to the hospital for help.

Troopers Wiley Hersman and James Fairchild and Mullens Police Chief Wendell Cook said each gun had a discharged shell in the chamber.

* * *

The officers quoted Larry that there was no argument. He told them after their mother left the room Tommy obtained two cartridges from a shelf above the bed. Larry said Tommy tossed him one and kept the other.

Exactly what happened after that was not clear. Mrs. Fields and neighbors said they heard only one shot, leading the officers to believe the rifles might have been fired simultaneously.

* * *

Later while police questioned him as his own wound was being treated, Larry said:

"I wish we had not got the guns. If I shot him, I don't see how I could."

There are two other Fields children, a son in the Navy and a married daughter.

A-Shelter Cost: Several Billions

Officials Eye New Ideas for Mass Protection From Fallout

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration is reported considering a mass shelter building program for Civil Defense which ultimately might cost billions of dollars.

Officials in a position to know said today that several different proposals are under study which contemplate asking Congress for upwards of 200 million dollars to launch the program next year.

* * *

These officials said the proposals are designed to complement the program for evacuation of critical target areas.

It was pointed out that Val Peterson, federal Civil Defense administrator, said in a speech Oct. 11 that his agency is vitally interested in shelter proposals but that there is no single solution.

* * *

He said there should be a balance between evacuation and shelter, reiterating that shelters would not protect from the full force of thermonuclear explosions.

The officials said nobody knows what the total cost of a shelter program designed to protect residents of major cities would be. They recalled that Peterson has said it might be anywhere from 15 to 35 billion dollars.

* * *

The primary purpose of a mass shelter program would be to protect against fallout, the officials said.

They explained that a system of scattered shelters probably would mean that deaths from blast could be reduced somewhat and that shelters outside the main impact area would protect against the deadly fallout.

Peterson proposed in October that steps be taken to provide shelters in such places as schools and public buildings.

City Finds Warmth in Numbers

Lack of Fuel Chills Paris

PARIS (INS)—Oil-hungry Paris has turned to the movies, theaters and concert halls for distraction and warmth.

Box-office tills are jingling merrily as gasoline-rationed motorists have sharply cut down on their pleasure driving and apartment-house janitors have turned miserly in feeding oil-burning furnaces.

The places of entertainment are not as well heated as in previous winters but Frenchmen know from wartime experience that "in numbers there is warmth."

Safety authorities, however, are getting some left-handed satisfaction out of an otherwise unpleasant situation. Road accidents and resulting casualities have dropped off gratifyingly. It also is possible to find a parking place in downtown Paris for the first time in many years.

HEAT UNDER CONTROL

Oil heating of homes, hotels, factories, and places of entertainment is already under government control. At the Cite Universitaire, Paris' great student settlement, there is hot water on tap only twice a week. School-rooms and hospitals have not felt the pinch yet but the outlook is for austerity even there.

Personal convenience and discomfort are the least of the problems facing France if the oil emergency continues. The very life-blood of French industry is Middle-East oil.

The big automotive industry, occupying the same position in French economy as its American counterpart, is in the most vulnerable position. Not only does the manufacturing of automobiles depend mostly upon power supplied by petroleum but the products themselves will find no market if there is no gasoline for their use.

Perhaps the unhappiest victim of this situation is an American in Paris. A young man who had started out to be a "left bank" Bohemian and had just about had his fill, he wanted work to earn his passage home. After months of searching without success, he finally got a job last week.

Asked where he was working he replied, glumly, "at the 'Happy Motor Sales' on the Champs Elysees. Anyone want to buy a car?"

Horse Group Continues

RUSH LAKE, Wis. (AP)—The Nepueskun Horsemen's Assn., founded in 1860 to frustrate overactive horse thieves, is still active. Members are sons and grandsons of the charter members. Since the machine age, the group has confined its meetings largely to electing officers and hearty banquets.

Just Step in Kitten's Life

ROANOKE, Va. (AP)—C. A. Payne finished pouring the concrete for his steps at 8 a. m. on Saturday. He finished tearing up the steps at 11 p. m. Sunday. The Payne's tiny kitten was in some rocks under the steps. They could hear him but couldn't locate him. He walked out when the steps were destroyed.

Games Reflect Larger Family Units

The larger American family unit is having major impact on the kind of games that head the best seller lists this Christmas.

The recent increase in families with three and four children—up 40 per cent since the war—has created a major demand for games which different age levels can play together.

Typical of the flexible trend in family game fun this season is Rack-O, a new card game that focuses play on completing or breaking numerical sequences begun by two or four players. The object of this new Milton Bradley game is to replace the cards in the rack by draw until ten racked up cards read progressively from low to high.

* * *

Many new twists on old favorites have been developed to cater to the play abilities of the kindergarten - primary grade crowd who want to compete with grownups. Tic - Tac - Aroo, for example, streamlines the classic tic-tac-toe and provides the base for two entirely different competitions.

Bingo is enjoying a surge of popularity with a variety of new game versions pitched to improve reading and geography performance. Candyland plays depend on the matching of colors, so that kindergartners can join in the fun.

* * *

Pirate and Traveler, basing action on adventures throughout the world, gives parents, as well as junior and his sister, a chance to brush up on geography and to enjoy the thrills of adventure.

A fascinating new way to help junior get rid of aggressive impulses is "Knockout," by Northwestern Products, an ingenious new game which gives players the opportunity to realistically maneuver the punches of two boxers on a miniature prize fight ring.

Electronically operated, "Knockout" has a bell to score knockouts and a buzzer to call fouls.

A new combination of double header sports games is "Baseball and Football," by Milton Bradley. Players throw feathered rubber suction darts at a 3D target that whirls when struck. The outcome of each play is registered on a scoring board beneath the target which determines progress on the playing boards. After each play is registered, teams on the playing board shift to a new position. The board has a baseball diamond on one side and a football field on the other. There's an extra bull's eye target, too.

FOR FAMILY FUN — Toys can be educational for the whole family — and should be bought with the adults in mind, too. Shown above is Pirate and Traveler that combines competitive fun with geography. It's based on a world-wide treasure hunt.

Ontario Asked to Aid Project

Canadians Request Help in Building Toll Bridge at Sault Ste. Marie

TORONTO (AP)—The Ontario government has been asked to help finance a toll bridge across the St. Mary's River between Sault Ste Marie, Ont., and Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

A delegation from the Ontario city outlined the plan to Premier Frost and Highways Minister Allan, who said it would be taken under consideration.

The plan was drawn up by the St. Mary's River Bridge Company, whose nine stockholders live in Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., and the International Bridge Authority, comprising three men from the Michigan city appointed by the state.

J. S. Foulds, company president, said the bridge would cost about $10,650,000. Other costs, including rights-of-way and interest, would increase it to $15,400,000.

* * *

Ontario's financial help was needed because the American financial group which was suggested as a backer could not underwrite more than $12,500,000.

He said the Michigan authority has asked the state for financial help and study is being given to the request.

The two cities had each advanced $12,500 for preliminary traffic studies to determine potential bridge use.

* * *

Foulds said the situation is similar to that of the Blue Water Bridge between Sarnia, Ont., and Port Huron, Mich. Ontario and Michigan had helped finance that bridge.

Old Wives' Tale Pays for Energetic Scouts

ALMA, Neb. (INS) — The Alma community was growing desperate for a little rain, and the school band and the Boy Scout troop were short of funds.

Scouts and band members decided to put to a test the complaint that the surest way to make it rain is to wash your car.

Sure enough, they washed cars on Main Street for 50 cents each, and the rain followed right behind the first in more than a month.

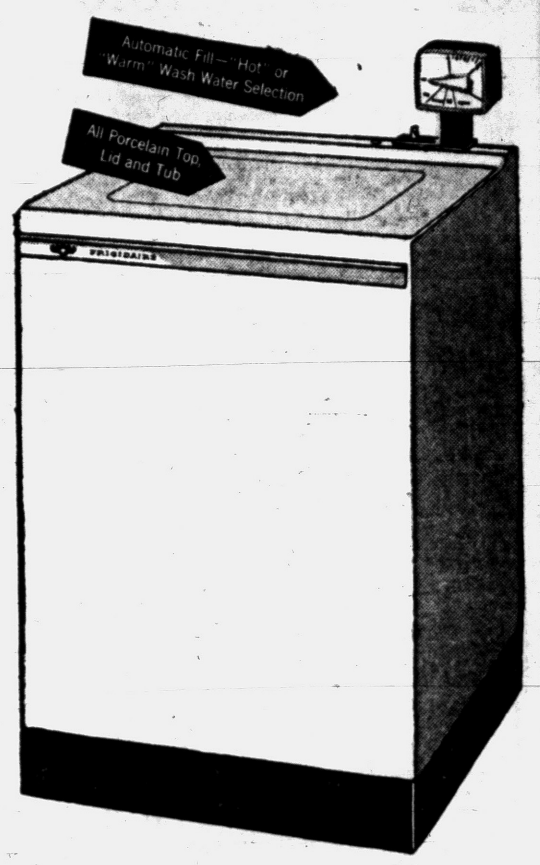

The scouts and band members split $150 and Alma's dried-out farmers got some moisture.

$800 Awaiting Lucky Winner of Pot-O-Gold

Here's a new puzzle for you fans, and with each new puzzle an additional $100 is added to Pot-O-Gold. If the judges find no winner for last week's puzzle, this one will be worth $800. How's that for a little extra spending money? It may be yours, so check below and send us your results.

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below.

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conforms to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

1. Anyone is eligible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employes or their immediate families.

2. A contestant may submit as many entries as he or she wishes but they must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.

3. To submit an entry the contestant must print his answer words in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securely to a 2-cent postcard. No entries will be accepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No. 26 must bear a Tuesday, Dec. 4, postmark (or before). No entries received after that time, whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.

4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest cannot be answered or acknowledged.

5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner, no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries become the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

Congress Must Figure Out Ceiling for Campaign Gifts

By ED CREAGH
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Money, or the love of it, has been called the root of all evil.

It's also the life blood of a political campaign.

So, for the umpteenth time, Congress is trying to figure out how campaigns can be financed without monetary evil.

This is one of the tougher problems a democracy faces. And if Senate committees looking into the question can come up with an answer, they will deserve a national vote of thanks.

* * *

On the one hand you have the question: If I believe in a candidate or his party, why shouldn't I be allowed to contribute anything I can afford to the cause?

And on the other hand: Should anybody be allowed to help "buy" an election? What favors do big contributors expect when they kick in to a campaign fund, and are they going to get them?

President Eisenhower dug into this question at a news conference last February and admitted he didn't know the answer.

A big contribution by a wealthy man "could be a very large one for me or for you," the President said, even though it might be small potatoes for the man making it. The President went on to say there must be constant study of this problem.

This is far from a new problem. Huge contributions were routine in the past. It's a matter of record that Dupont people chipped in a million dollars to Alfred E. Smith's campaign for President in 1928, even though the family has not been cordial toward the Democrats in late years.

Well, in 1940 Congress decided to act, but it accomplished little so far as doing anything about the situation was concerned.

The 1940 law says no individual may contribute more than $5,000 to a campaign, and no party organization may spend more than three million dollars on a campaign.

This law has proved to be as full of holes as a rusty screen door.

If a rich man wants to endow a candidate, all he has to do is make a flock of $5,000 contributions in the name of as many different persons — his wife, his grandmother and even his infant children.

To get around the three million dollar limit, you just set up separate organizations — Citizens for Blivitz, or Volunteers for Whoosis. Set up as many as you like.

This is why the special committee headed by Sen. John L. McClellan of Arkansas and the regular Senate Elections subcommittee of Sen. Albert Gore of Tennessee are looking into the matter. One or both may come up with some recommendations for rewriting the law.

Basketball moves into the spotlight on the high school and collegiate scene this weekend.

Yesterday afternoon, however, the roundball sport received an official tipoff when writers, sportscasters, coaches and officials gathered in Detroit to initiate an organization designed to promote the game in Michigan.

The organization was conceived to the likes of the Football Writers Association. There is a National Basketball Writers Association, but nothing has ever been organized on the state level in Michigan like the baseball and football groups.

Basketball in Michigan has been on the upgrade over the last few years.

Last year all of the state's colleges reported great increases in attendance, as did most of the prep schools.

On the national level the total home atendance for college home games was 10,626,134, and nearly 100,000,000 fans attended games on the high school level.

Indiana, called the hot-bed of basketball, drew 1,499,678 during tournament competition alone.

This is the time of year known as "March Madness." Michigan reported its greatest turnout during the tournaments last year with 425,000 spectators.

INTEREST AT HIGHEST PEAKS

At the basketball session yesterday, U. of M. cage coach Bill Perigo told the large group that for a long time the sport was hurting from the lack of facilities in Michigan.

"This is one reason why it was often said that the caliber of basketball in Michigan was not as good as that of other states," said Perigo.

"We have a long way to go to catch up with Indiana and Illinois and the rest of the midwest," he added, "but today's concern over facilities by many school districts has started basketball on the march in Michigan.

Perigo pointed out that on his team he has a home-grown array of stars. "Four of our starting five will be from the state of Michigan," he continued.

Perigo looks for Illinois in the Big Ten this year with Indiana and Northwestern breathing close behind, not to exclude the Wolverines who will have balanced overall height.

GOOD SEASONS EXPECTED

Coach Joel Mason of Wayne, whose Tartars were knocked out of NCAA Tourney by powerful Kentucky last year, sees another good year for Wayne State.

Assistant coach Brendan McNamara of the U. of D. said the Titans will be deeper, but then there's Louisville, the country's chosen top team, right off the bat next Thursday night in Detroit.

Michigan State will have plenty of speed, but Julius McCoy is gone—and so, away we go into another hectic season.

Moore-Patterson Battle for Heavyweight Title

CHICAGO (AP) — For the third time in modern ring history, a vacated world heavyweight title is up for grabs at the Chicago Stadium tonight in a showdown between two unique contenders, Archie Moore 39, and Floyd Patterson, 21.

They battle for Rocky Marciano's abdicated crown.

* * *

Latest odds were 6 to 5, pick 'em, in this 15-round bout which will be broadcast and televised by NBC with a telecast blackout of the Chicago area at 10 p.m. EST. A gross gate of $250,000 with 18,000 attendance is indicated.

A new age record for a heavyweight champ is certain because Moore, reigning light heavyweight champion, can become the oldest to win boxing's biggest title or Patterson can become the youngest. To date, Jersey Joe Walcott was the oldest winner at 37 and Joe Louis the youngest at 23.

* * *

This bout was in the making since Marciano retired as heavyweight king last April 27, but delayed when Paterson, former Olympic champion, broke his right hand winning a 12-round elimination match from Hurricane Jackson last June.

It was some seven years ago when the heavyweight crown last was pulled out of a vacuum. That was June 22, 1949 when Ezzard Charles won a 15-round decision over Walcott at Chicago's Comiskey Park to capture the title vacated by Joe Louis March 1, 1949.

Before that, in 1930, Germany's Max Schmeling won on a foul over Jack Sharkey in a bout to determine the successor to Gene Tunney, who abdicated in 1928.

* * *

This is the venerable Moore's second shot at the heavyweight crown in little more than a year. A 4-1 underdog, Archie was bludgeoned into a ninth-round knockout by Marciano Sept. 21, 1955. That was the last fight for Marciano, who was floored in the second round by Moore, but got up to slug out his sixth successful title defense.

Moore is even a more remarkable ring specimen than Walcott, who was a purported 37 when he knocked ot Charles to win the heavyweight title July 18, 1951. Archie has had 156 professional fights over a 20-year span for a 131-20-5 record.

* * *

It was not until a comparatively few years ago that any rival manager would allow his fighter to tangle with the crouching, cruel-punching Moore, who conducted a bizarre personal publicity campaign to get to the top.

Now, the big question is did Moore reach the top after he was over the hill? Did Marciano pummel the real class out of him, even though Archie since has won 11 bouts against a nondescript array of foes?

True one of these victims was Yolande Pompey, whom Moore stopped in the 10th round to retain his light-heavy title after one of his amazing reducing binges.

* * *

The expert consensus is that Moore must nail Patterson early or his aging legs will fail him against Patterson's fast pace in the late rounds.

The contracts call for each fighter to get 30 per cent of the gate and $200,000 TV-radio rights, a potential melon of nearly $450,000.

The bout will be scored with a referee and two judges, to be named at fight time, using the new "five-point-must" system for the first time in a championship fight. The system calls for a round winner to get five points and the loser any lesser number. If a round is even, each fighter gets five points.

COACHES A'WAY — Navy's head football coach Eddie Erdelatz (in water) is joined by assistant Ernie Jorge during the traditional dunking of the coaching staff by the football team after the last practice before the Army-Navy game. The Middies had their last workout yesterday in preparation for the Army in Philadelphia tomorrow.

Army and Navy Elevens Collide for 57th Time

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Defense Department's unification program gets its annual 60-minute recess tomorrow. Army meets Navy.

The service schools land their football forces in Philadelphia today for their 57th go at each other and some hefty pots of change to see them through the winter.

An advance sellout of 102,000 for Municipal Stadium makes for one predictable item about the result. Each school can withdraw with more than $250,000 from ticket sales and another $100,000 from television and radio. The money is needed to keep the rest of the West Point and Annapolis athletic programs going.

Which about covers the prediction department, although Navy is rated a slight favorite on its performance this year and naturally is still unhappy about the 14-6 Army victory a year ago.

The Middies record shows six wins and a 21-6 loss to Tulane and a 7-7 tie with Duke in the deficit column. The Cadets lost three in eight.

Navy has the depth. It can field three capable quarterbacks—Tom Forrestal, Pat Flood and Gus Prahalis, plus good outside running by Ned Oldham.

* * *

Stiff competition among the Cadets has put Army captain Ed Szvetecz of Bethlehem, Pa., on the second team. Jim Kernan has beaten him out as center for the starting lineup. The 20-year-old junior was a big man in the Army line last year and took over from Szvetecz after the Michigan game.

This kind of shifting gives some idea of the way Coach Earl Blaik is facing his 16th clash with the Middies. A game that will bring members of the cabinet, the Supreme Court and general and admirals to the stadium.

Bears Add End for Big Clash Against Lions

Veteran Jim Dooley Rejoins Team After Service Stay

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions will have veteran end Jim Dooley added to their worries when they meet the Chicago Bears in a crucial National Football League game here Sunday.

The 6-foot-4 Dooley has rejoined the Bears after two years in the Armed forces. The Bears say he'll be available against the Lions.

Dooley caught 53 passes for 841 yards in his last season with the bears.

Chicago also will have 215-pound halfback Bobby Watkins and John Hoffman, another running back, ready for the Lions.

Watkins saw only limited action against the Giants last week. Chicago coaches say he's ready again.

The only serious Lion casualty is right guard Jim Salsbury. Salsbury has been running during morning workouts but Stan Campbell probably will get the starting spot in the line-up.

Detroit coach Buddy Parker indicated yesterday Gene Gedman and Don McIlhenny will split the right halfback posts.

Americans Finish 1-2

U.S. Pair Tops Decathlon

MELBOURNE (AP) — American handymen Milt Campbell and Rafer Johnson rang up 15 United States' points with a one-two finish in the gruelling decathlon today to partially offset a strong female-inspired Russian advance in the Olympic team standings.

* * *

Campbell, a former Indiana fullback from Plainfield, N.J., cracked Bob Mathias' Olympic record in winning the two-day, 10-event test of track and field versatility with 7,937 points. Only a poor performance in the pole vault kept him from breaking the world record as well.

* * *

Johnson, holder of the world mark of 7,985 points but hampered by a bad leg, was second with 7,587.

* * *

The gold medal for Campbell was the 20th of the Games for the U.S. squad and the 15th for Coach Jim Kelly's track and field squad. And combined with Johnson's five points, it couldn't have come at a more timely moment.

For this was the day that Russia's husky track molls chose to flex their muscles and the result was 18 points in the women's shot put alone, with both the winner, 220-pound Tamara Tychkevitch, and the runnerup, defending champion Galina Zybina, shattering the Olympic and listed world record.

Other Soviet athletes picked up the cue and scored heavily in secondary events so that with all but two swimming events completed on the ninth day's program, the U.S. lead had dwindled to 68 points in the two-nation battle for the unofficial team championship.

The U.S. had 341 points, Russia 273.

Campbell, who as a 17-year-old schoolboy finished second to California's Mathias in the 1952 decathlon at Helsinki, left no doubt about his superiority this time.

Picking up where he left off yesterday after winning three of the first five events, he won the 110-meter hurdles in 14 seconds flat and fired the discus 147 feet, 6¾ inches to all but clinch the gold medal with the pole vault, javelin and 1,500 meter run still to come.

* * *

His javelin, 187-3¼, and 1,500, 4 minutes, 50.5 seconds showings were among the best of his career and spectacular for a non-specialist but he tripped over the pole vault.

His best was 11 feet, 2 inches and, although his lead wasn't in jeopardy, that cost him a chance to surpass the world mark.

Johnson, a UCLA student from Kingsburg, Calif., surpassed Campbell only in the pole vault, where he did 12-9½, and in the javelin, where his toss was 197-8⅞.

The U.S.'s third decathlon entry, pole vault champion Bob Richards of La Verne, Calif., dropped out after the ninth event and placed 12th.

Zinaida Doinikova finished fourth to help give Russia its big point boost in the women's eight-pound shot put. Both Miss Tychkevitch and Miss Zybina traded record throws durfing the semifinals and finals until the bulky Tamara won with a man-sized 54 feet, 5 inches to 54-2 for Miss Zybina.

Well shattered was the old Olympic mark of 50-1½ set by Miss Zybina at the Helsinki Games as well as her listed world mark of 53-5¼. She has up for approval a toss of close to 55 feet.

The best U.S. performance in the event was a sixth place for Mrs. Earlene Brown, the hefty Los Angeles housewife who earlier was fourth in the women's discus. She got off the best throw of her career—49-7⅛.

New 'Twin-Tow' for Skiing Area

Pontiac Ski Club's Runs at Highland Are Being Improved

Along with other winter sports areas in Michigan, Highland Recreation area's skiing slopes will soon be ready for full operation.

Pontiac Ski club, which operates the popular winter activity on the state park lands west of Pontiac, has been working hard the last two weeks on improvements, says vice-president Arthur Kollin.

"We have done extensive work on tree removal on the north hill. A diesel-driven double-tow is being installed this week to service the north slopes. This work has been under way for 10 days," Kollin says.

Kollin said the slopes, generally, are all opened up, and are in good condition. However, it may be another week before the area is fully ready to go.

Some skiers have been trying out the snow-covered slopes but there is no general usage proper until current work is completed.

Michigan Race Dates Listed

Thoroughbreds Get Six Added Days, 7 Sliced From Harness Card

DETROIT (AP)—James H. Inglis, state racing commissioner, added six days to the thoroughbred racing season and sliced seven nights off the harness schedule in suggesting 1957 dates for Michigan's six Racing Associations yesterday.

Inglis proposed 124 days for the runners, divided equally between Hazel Park and the Detroit Race Course. The thoroughbred tracks had applied for 63 day each.

In keeping with the change he instituted last spring Inglis listed Hazel Park for the early dates of May 24 to Aug. 3. He proposed Aug. 9 to Oct. 19 for DRC.

Inglis suggested the harness tracks juggle 146 nights with northville getting 38 from April 19 to June 1; Wolverine 42 from June 3 to July 30; Jackson 24 from July 22 to Aug. 17, and Hazel Park 42 from Aug. 19 to Oct. 5.

If Inglis follows his proposals, Michigan harness racing will have its earliest start in history next year and the thoroughbreds will have their latest finish.

A further hearing was scheduled for mid-January.

Burke Jumps TV Earnings

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Jackie Burke, a $4,500 winner in the last two days, was in line for a shot at his third straight victory in a $39,000 television golf series today.

* * *

Burke, this year's PGA and Masters' tournament champion, was matched today against Arnold Palmer in the ninth of 13 matches being filmed in Arizona for release as a TV feature by a Chicago firm.

Burke shot a four-under-par 68 to defeat Dutch Harrison by 5 strokes in yesterday's match. Jackie had beaten Jimmy Demaret the day before. He collected $2,000 for each victory and picked up another $500 yesterday for carding an eagle on the 10th hole at Tucson Country Club.

Burke fired 34s on both nines of the par 36-36—72 course in the Thursday match. Harrison pulled ahead with a birdie on the third hole, but lost the lead on the fourth and finished the first nine in 36. He went one-over-par on the way back.

Six Bowl Berths Still Undecided

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Navy and Baylor will try to oblige bowl scouts tomorrow while Texas A&M fans mourn the plight of the best Aggie team since 1939.

For the third year in a row, it appears Navy will be playing for a bowl invitation against Army in their traditional battle before an expected 100,000 in Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium.

The Midshipmen went on to the Sugar Bowl to whack Mississippi 21-0 two years ago but lost a chance at the Cotton Bowl last year when the Cadets posted a 14-6 upset.

Cotton Bowl officials have their eyes on Navy again this time according to reliable reports.

The host team in Dallas will be Texas Christian because Texas A&M, which completed an unbeaten season by thumping Texas 34-21 yesterday, is ineligible for postseason competition under an NCAA ban for recruiting.

Baylor is a popular choice to meet Tennessee in the Sugar Bowl though neither have been selected officially. The Baylor Bears play Rice tomorrow. Tennessee risks an unbeaten, untied season and the Southeastern Conference championship against Vanderbilt.

Tennessee is sure to be invited to one bowl.

Of 10 positions in the five major bowls, six are still open.

Here's the setup:

Rose—Iowa vs. Oregon State.

Orange: Colorado vs. Clemson. Duke or South Carolina. The Atlantic Coast Conference will choose its representative Sunday after ACC champion Clemson plays Furman. The ACC doesn't have to pick the titlist and the Tigers didn't win any Orange Bowl friends in its recent 21-0 loss to Miami's Hurricanes.

Sugar: Both unnamed. Probably Tennessee vs. Baylor with Georgia Tech and Houston also under consideration.

Cotton: Texas Christian vs. Navy, Syracuse, Georgia Tech or, possibly, Tennessee.

Gator: Georgia Tech, or Mississippi vs. Navy, Baylor, Pitt, Syracuse or Wyoming.

It is evident plenty rides on tomorrow's encounters.

In addition to the Tennessee, Navy, Baylor and Clemson games, Georgia Tech meets Georgia, Mississippi faces Mississippi State and Houston runs into weak Detroit.

Syracuse and Wyoming have completed their seasons while idle Pitt winds up against Miami Dec. 8.

CANADIAN TROPHY — Frank Slaybaugh (left) and Jerry Wooliever, Pontiac moose hunters got their big bull the hard way, on a recent trip to the Batchewana Bay section north of the Soo. Jerry downed the moose Nov. 10, but it was not taken out of the bush until Nov. 16. Blizzards were the big obstacles.

Hunting Trials!

Pontiac Men Bag Moose; Lose Way, Fight Storms

By HOWARD SHELLEY

Take their word for it, Jerry Wooliever and Frank Slaybaugh will long remember their recent moose hunt in the Batchewana Bay bush country, 75 miles north of the Canadian Soo.

Back home after a rather harrowing experience, with a fine bull, they wondered if it was worth the trials and difficulties. Fighting blizzards, losing their way, making four 15-mile treks into and out of rough bush country added up to some high adventure and a lot of difficulty.

The hunters made one trip to the same area in October when Slaybaugh got a spikehorn bull. Wooliever wanted a moose so they returned Nov. 7. On the 10th their guide, Earl Digby, reported moose tracks. By mid-afternoon Jerry had his trophy. "He looked so big through the scope" Wooliever reported, "that he appeared to be a big black giraffe."

* * *

The bull was dressed out.

Then came trouble. They were lost. Compasses were off because of uranium deposits. They finally reached a logging camp six miles away. Two days later they went back with a team to drag the bull out, but couldn't find it because of a blizzard. Second trip, again facing a blizzard, was fruitful. They found the moose, got it out and arrived back in Pontiac just in time to be on hand for important appointments set for Nov. 17.

Pistons Beat Hex and Syracuse, Too

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

One of the strangest hexes in sports was at and end today as the Fort Wayne Pistons continued their drive upward in the National Basketball Assn. standings.

Last night, for the first time since 1948, the Pistons won a game in Syracuse. They beat the slumping Nationals 92-87 to move within half a game of the St. Louis Hawks, Western Division leaders.

The Pistons had dropped 26 straight to the Nats on their home court plus the opener of a Syracuse doubleheader to New York.

DECATHLON CHAMPION — Milt Campbell of Plainfield, N. J., hits the tape to win the 100-meter dash at Melbourne in one part of the decathlon which he won with 7,937 points, for a new Olympic record. Only a poor performance in pole vault kept him from breaking the world record.

Slim Cage Card in Area Tonight

Although the 1956-57 basketball season doesn't get under way until next week for most high schools in the Oakland County area, a few scattered games of local interest are on hand tonight.

The top attractions are Hazel Park St. Rita at St. Frederick, Detroit St. Stanislaus at Orchard Lake St. Mary, Cranbrook at Walled Lake, Farmington at Livonia Bentley and Ortonville at Clarkston.

St. Fred opens its Suburban Catholic League campaign against the visiting Vikings. Walled Lake, pre-season Inter-Lakes Conference favorite, and SCL member Orchard Lake take on non-league foes as does I-L member Farmington and Wayne-Oakland member Clarkston.

Three Southern Thumb League games are scheduled. Almont invades Brown City, Capac visits Armada and New Haven entertains Dryden.

Tonight's schedule:

St. Rita at St. Frederick
St. Stanislaus at OL St. Mary
Cranbrook at Walled Lake
Farmington at Livonia Bentley
Ortonville at Clarkston
Almont at Brown City
Capac at Armada
Dryden at New Haven
Oak Park at Clarenceville
Plymouth at Northville
Yale at Marlette

Walled Lake Team to Beat in I-L

No matter how you look at it, the pre-season favorite for the 1956-57 Inter-Lakes Conference basketball championship is Walled Lake.

Bill Ullenbruch has taken over the coaching reins at Walled Lake, replacing Niles Freeland, and the Vikings' mentor's chances for a successful debut are glowing.

* * *

It was Ullenbruch who guided St. Clair to the Class B state quarterfinals last March with Walled Lake among the list of tournament victims.

* * *

Ullenbruch is blessed with the return of four starters from the 1955-56 squad which finished 2nd in the Inter-Lakes race.

Heading the list of returnees are Larry Hughes and John Walker, the Vikings' 1-2 scoring punch last season. Also back in harness are Dean Hess and Larry Dion, the latter not yet available due to a football injury. Newcomers Tom Willwerth and Larry Vandervelde are expected to see heavy duty.

The picture is not so bright at Berkley and Southfield where graduation has taken its toll.

* * *

Defending champion Berkley has lost All-County ace Bruce Gentile and Sean Whalen, last season's top point-makers for the Bears, and this year's edition will be built around Ed Spaeth, Gary Price and Ray Tallman.

Southfield, which wound up 3rd last season, suffered the loss of All-County star Ken Moser and has Leonard Lamb and Jerry Londal as its only returning letter winners.

Despite the fact that Chuck Gillis is the lone returning starter, coach Don Beedle thinks Waterford could be a better club than last season. Gillis, who stands 6-4, chalked up 218 points for the Skippers as a center a year ago and will operate as a forward this season.

* * *

Lettermen Clayton Roth and Ron Seets, along with Jim Devine and John Herrington from the reserves, will complete the Waterford unit.

* * *

Farmington, aided by the return of starters Bud Jones, Dave Warriner and Don MacDonald, could be the "dark horse." Lettermen are scarce at Van Dyke with Tom Thrope and Ben Lentz the only experienced hands available.

A two-way race for honors between East Detroit and Port Huron looms in the Eastern Michigan League with Ferndale in the "dark horse" role.

Gary Ballman and Ron Emerick plus five other lettermen are on hand for the Shamrocks while high-scoring Dick Robins is back in uniform for Port Huron. Earl McNeal, Jerry Fry and Larry Granzow, all good shots, boost title hopes at Ferndale.

Birmingham, Hazel Park and Mt. Clemens seem destined to battle for the EML's 2nd division. Bob Isbell, 6-4 forward, is the only returning regular for the Maples.

Green Bay Plans to Use Kramer as Right Halfback

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Ron Kramer will finally get his chance to play rigfht halfback—but as a professional football player next season with the Green Bay Packers.

So says Jack Vainisi, assistant general manager of the Packers, who was in town yesterday for preliminary talks with the big Michigan end.

Kramer won't be signed to a contract until next spring as he plays basketball and track for the Wolverines in the remainder of his final collegiate year.

"He'll be Green Bay's right halfback or the slot-back as we call it—to make use of his pass-catching, blocking, and ball-carrying ability," Vainisi said.

* * *

Green Bay already has two fine pass receivers, ends Billy Howton, and Gary Knafelc.

The Packers claimed Kramer Monday in the first round of the National Football League draft. His college coach, Bennie Oosterbaan, tried him in the backfield last spring and planned to use him there in an event of an emergency that never came. But the proposed transfer received much publicity before the season began.

* * *

Vainisi also revealed that the Packers' bonus choice, Quarterback Paul Hornung of Notre Dame will be switched to left halfback as a pro.

Boston Sextet Still Winning

Bruins Show No Sign of Faltering in NHL Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Detroit Red Wings and Montreal Canadiens, titans of the National Hockey League the past few years, still were playing second fiddle to the surprising Boston Bruins today.

All three won last night. The Red Wings beat the New York Rangers 4-1. The Canucks whipped the Toronto Maple Leaf's 4-2 and the Bruins shut out Chicago's Chicago's Black Hawks 2-0.

The results left Boston two points in front of the Wings, who in turn, are four points ahead of third-place Montreal.

The Bruins, in picking up their 10th victory in their last 13 games, got a fine netminding job from Terry Sawchuk who turned back 30 Chicago shots. Real Chevrefils and Fernie Flaman scored Boston's goals.

Second-period goals by Dickie Moore and Bert Olmstead carried Montreal to its triumph over the Maple Leafs.

Top Threat in EML

Maples Swimmers in Action Today

By H. GUY MOATS

With practically every Class A prep swimming squad in the area in the process of rebuilding, few have as yet demonstrated what can be expected during the 1956-57 season.

However, Birmingham's Maple natators may possess the most promising outlook, both in Eastern Michigan League and dual encounters with non-loop opponents. They are the defending titlists with a 7-3-1 mark, 6-0 in duals.

Jay Myers' crew was set for its first test this afternoon, at Highland Park, against the Polar Bears. The meet is also the opening gun in the tank campaign for the area.

Pontiac's Chief tankers, with only two letterman back, one of whom is a mid-termer, are busy on a rebuilding job. Bob Boyce's team still has a week to prepare for its first test, with the Saginaw Valley's No. 1 threat, Arthur Hill.

* * *

Two new coaches will be on the job in the area. At Hazel Park, 1955-56 coach Bob Knorr was reported in Florida where he is ostensibly seeking a connection. Southfield's Milton Hurd has no team at present, but will assume his duties when the school's new pool is completed in late March or April. A full schedule is hoped for next winter. Richard Mosley has replaced Knorr.

Tom McGregor at Ferndale, Art Solow at Royal Oak are prepping for the season near at hand. Solow in particular, hopes to have another good club (2nd in the state last year), 3rd behind Fordson in the Border Cities loop.

He has a top breast-stroke swimmer in Ralph Nuter, most of his fine medley relay team that hung up what he says is the 2nd best prep time in the nation or the 200 yard event at 1:50.3. Nutter, Jim Line, freestyler are back, with Charles Ashton replacing Bob Leach and Dave Gillenders replacing Andy Morrow on the team.

Myers' starters today included:

Pete Sinta, FC McGinnis 50 free style Tom Hogan and Dave Rider 100-yard butterfly Tom Bechtel Dave Cook 200 free style Dave Smith John De Haan, backstroke Sinta, John Overgarde 100 free style Klaus Parsch, new orthodox breast stroke (100 yards); breast stroke Lynn Birchard divers Fred Wickham, Paul Camp indiv medley Bechtel Cook Pete Palmer back Parsch (breast Hogan (butterfly) Les Marber (free style medley relay McGinnis Bill Buick Rider Overgarde, free style relay

Dons' 55-Victory Record at Stake

CHICO, Calif. (AP)—The University of San Francisco Dons, NCAA basketball champs the past two seasons, take a record 55-game winning streak onto the floor tonight in opening their 1956-57 campaign against Chico State College.

* * *

The San Francisco forces have not been defeated since Dec. 11, 1954, when UCLA turned the trick, 47-40. But during the record victory march, the Dons had All-America center Bill Russell and star teammates K.C. Jones and Hal Perry.

Leahy Criticizes Irish Spirit

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Will Frank Leahy come out of coaching retirement to restore Notre Dame to football greatness

A source close to the athletic picture at the South Bend school said today the famed coach is "more than willing to return to Notre Dame in a supervisory capacity, possibly to direct spring practice."

That "assurance," the source said, will be a principal topic on the agenda of a meeting of those who control the athletic policy at Notre Dame.

* * *

The meeting will be held on the campus, the source added, after the season — most disastrous in Notre Dame history—is ended.

"This," said the informant," is due to the obvious reluctance of the faculty and alumni to interfere during the regular season. The meeting will be held to find out what caused the collapse of Notre Dame and what can be done about it."

Leahy, ranked with Knute Rockne as the greatest of the Irish mentors, is more than upset at Notre Dame's dismal record of seven losses and two wins.

In an exclusive interview yesterday, Leahy accused the Irish gridders of laying down and, in effect, dubbed them the "unfighting Irish."

* * *

"I watched the Iowa game on television last week and saw something that was unbelievable to me and I'm sure to every Notre Dame man," Leahy said. "With Notre Dame behind 40 points, they were running conservative line bucks just hoping they wouldn't get beaten by 60 points. There was no fight, no will to win.

"It's not the losses that upset me; it's that attitude. What has happened to the old Notre Dame spirit? Those great fourth-quarter finishes? That old try right down to the final whistle even if there were no chance of winning?"

* * *

Leahy, who commutes here weekly from Indiana for a stint on the Ray Anthony TV show, said greenness is no excuse for the Irish performance this year.

"You don't stay green forever and these same boys, as freshmen, were rated among the greatest prospects ever at Notre Dame."

He denied that the priests of the Holy Cross congregation have de-emphasized football, adding that all of the de-emphasis has been done by the team itself.

Insisting that Terry Brennan is "a great coach," Leahy, however, said that the staff is unfamiliar with the split-T offense. This unfamiliarity, he added, is transmitted to the players.

* * *

Brennan, appraised of Leahy's statements, said he could not understand the criticism at all.

"We've had our lumps this year and things haven't gone the way we wanted them to, but nobody could say the boys have stopped fighting," Brennan said.

The first major league team to train outside the United States was the New York Yankees who performed their spring chores in Bermuda in 1911.

Wrestling Gives 'Little Guy' a Break

By H. GUY MOATS

Bill (William) Willson, former Wheaton college (Ill.) matman and amateur wrestler and coach has taken over one of the most interesting coaching jobs in the Pontiac school system.

Willson is the mentor for the newest PHS varsity sport, wrestling, which this winter has been provided with a full schedule of dual matches, topped off by a MHSAA regional on March 9.

Willson's squad, now comprising some 20 extremely enthusiastic youngsters in a large number of weight classifications has been training for the last week in preparation for the opening test on Dec. 5 against a Bay City squad, on the Wolves' mats.

Just about as enthusiastic over his coaching job, as the young matmen are for the sport itself, Willson points out that "one of the finest things about it that I like, is the opportunity it gives the little guy a chance to win a varsity letter. With 10 weight divisions in which to try out there is a wide chance for any youngster, whatever his size."

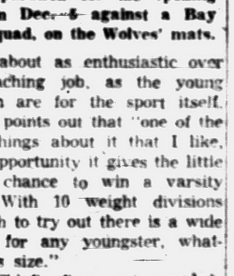

The Chief's first mat squad is making use of the visiting football team quarters beneath the East stand at Wisner Memorial Stadium. It is the only present available space, where a squad of its size has room to operate.

Basic holds, proper techniques are being taught or will be as soon as conditioning has reached the necessary stage.

Selection of a team will be a matter for determination just prior to the opening match at Bay City, if was expected.

Willson plans a tryout for starting places a few days before the opener.

Extra Cage Dates Scuttled by Council

LANSING (AP) — A campaign for additional basketball dates for the state's high schools ran smack into opposition from school administrators and was scuttled Thursday.

The representative council, governing body of the state High School Athletic Association, rejected the proposal by a 9-2 vote with one member absent and another not voting.

The vote went contrary to a poll which showed a slight majority of the state's high schools favored adding one or two games to the present 18-game quota.

At present, high schools are allowed a total of 24 football and basketball games in a season with no more than 18 basketball games or nine football games.

High school athletic directors and coaches generally have favored the extra game proposal. Principals and superintendents of schools generally have opposed it.

The 9-2 vote came after the athletic council received a strongly worded resolution from the Michigan Association of Secondary Schools, composed of school principals, opposing the idea.

The resolution declared there was too much emphasis on sports now in the state's schools. It declared any extra games would require more mid-week scheduling to take players and students away from their studies.

A questionnaire seeking sentiment on the proposal was sent to 730 Michigan high schools by the State Athletic Association.

The returns showed that 295 schools favored extra games and 273 were opposed. The questionnaires were not returned by 162 schools and 19 were incorrect or incomplete.

The questionnaires asked that superintendents and principals confer with athletic directors and coaches before returning the ballot.

* * *

The school administrators objected to this joint consultation, contending that they—not the athletic officials—had the right to set policy.

Of those favoring additional games, 239 voted for two more games and 56 wanted one more game.

Class A schools, which have more varied sports competition, voted against extra games 39-31. Class B schools favored extra games 74-67 and Class C schools by a 113-89 vote. Class D schools voted for the present setup 73-70. Class E schools voted 7-6 for extra games.

Roy J. McMurray, director of physical education for Saginaw schools, was the council spokesman for those favoring additional games. McMurray said he thought the council should be guided in its thinking by the results of the poll.

"What's the use of taking such a poll if you're going to ignore it completely?" he demanded.

A compromise proposal was suggested but never came up for a vote.

This was a suggestion that county, league or invitational tournaments should not count as two games on the schedule as at present.

This would permit schools entering such tournaments to play up to 20 games.

* * *

It was estimated that about 20 to 25 such tournaments are in the planning stage now around the state. Tournament competition is limited to eight teams.

This would have allowed about 200 high schools to play extra games.

Theodore F. Sundquist, principal of Trenton High, said the council should not be influenced in its vote by any "pressure groups."

In other actions, the council voted to:

* * *

Study a proposal to create a legislative committee to screen matters coming before the council.

Set the date for the start of football practice next year as Sept. 3.

Suspend the admission charge for the state class A swimming meet next year at Michigan State University.

Change the date when a high school may play its last basketball game, to permit the Detroit Public School Athletic League to hold its annual tournament at a later date than usual.

Aggies Blast Texas, 34-21

AUSTIN, Tex. (INS)—The thrill of going through the season undefeated and winning the Southwest Conference was tempered for Texas A.&M. by the fact that the Aggies are ruled out of the Cotton Bowl.

The Aggies completed their perfect season yesterday with a smashing 34 to 21 victory over hapless Texas before 62,000 fans at Memorial Stadium.

But A&M was ruled ineligible for the Cotton Bowl by the National Collegiate Athletic Association for illegal recruiting, and must sit on the sidelines on New Year's Day while some lesser team basks in the glory.

By winning yesterday, the Aggies wrapped up their first Southwest Conference championship since 1941 and scored their first victory over Texas in the Longhorn's stadium since it was built in 1924.

Olympic Swim Brings Plaudits

MELBOURNE (AP)—Bill Yorzyk's world-record swim in the 200-meter butterfly today brought high praise from American Olympic swim coach Bob Muir and some quiet satisfaction to his college coach from Springfield, Mass., Charles (Red) Silvia.

Yorzyk splashed away from the field, including his one-time home roommate, Australian free-style champion John Marshall in a record shattering 2 minutes 18.6 seconds in the preliminary heat.

"I never saw Bill swim any smoother or better than he did today," said Muir. "We were aiming to get both of our boys, Jack Nelson and Yorzyk, into the finals, and that's what we did."

Sebo's Effigy on Penn Campus

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Steve Sebo, University of Pennsylvania football coach, was hanged in effigy last night by a few students.

A dummy was hoisted to a tree limb near the center of the campus along with a sign reading "Heave Steve." The students dispersed quickly when they heard a police car approaching.

Wings Whip New York but Still Trail Bruins

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings kept up the burning pace set by the National Hockey League's leading Boston Bruins last night, with power to spare.

But the Wings stayed in second place, two points behind.

The Wings defeated a tired New York Rangers Club, 4-1, after the Rangers had spent most of the day trying to get to Detroit for the game. Boston blanked the Chicago Black Hawks, 2-0, at Chicago.

Gordie Howe netted two of the Detroit goals, hitting in the second and third periods for his 11th and 12th goals of the season. His first came off his own rebound. His second was a deflection of Ted Lindsay's shot.

The other Detroit tallies came from the sticks of Marcel Pronovost and Red Kelly, both defensemen. New York's only tally came while the Rangers were a man short. Andy Bathgate blasted it home. Kelly's goal was the only Detroit counter to come when the Wings had a manpower advantage.

They had come halfway to Detroit by train and the other half by a seven-hour bus trip from Buffalo, N. Y. The reason was a failure to make bus connections.

32 Fives to Fight for New NCAA Title

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Thirty-two teams will compete next March for the first college division basketball championship of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA).

Walter Byers, executive director of NCAA, said the association's tournament committee has decided 15 of the 32 teams will be conference champions. The remainder will be at-large entries.

All-Star Bowling Gets Under Way

16th Annual Tourney for National Titles Is Starting Tonight

CHICAGO (AP)—A "parade of all-stars" in two-game team competition tonight opens the 16th annual all-star bowling tournament with a field of the nation's top 160 men and 64 women keglers competing.

Competition for national match game titles officially begins tomorrow with the starters representing survivors of nearly 5,000 bowlers who entered sectional qualifying tests.

Bill Lillard of Chicago is the defending men's champion and Anita Cantaline of Detroit is the women's titleholder.

From Saturday through Wednesday, the men will roll 36 games with the top 14 scorers joining Lillard and ex-champion Steve Nagy of Detroit in the match game finals. The finalists bowl 64 games in 16 head-to-head matches in the final four days, with the champion to be crowned Sunday, Dec. 9.

Twenty-four qualifying rounds and 32 in the match game finals face the women. Miss Cantaline and ex-champion Sylvia Wene of Philadelphia will meet in a special match while the rest of the field is qualifying. Lillard and Nagy will be doing the same over a 36-game route.

Miller of Dryden on All-State 'D' 11

By DAVE DILES
Michigan AP Sports Editor

Versatility—a quality that turns an ordinary player into a star—is the highlight of the Associated Press Class D All-State team for 1956.

The club announced today, is the first Class D team ever selected by the AP in cooperation with more than 300 high school coaches and sports writers from all sectors of Michigan.

Previously, Class C and D were combined into a single unit. But this Class D outfit is loaded with scholastic stars who have earned all-state honors by an outstanding show of individual brilliance.

Fred Miller of Dryden and Tom Kellerman of Bay City St. Mary nailed down the end positions; Jim Barta of Deerfield and Jim Milligan of Parma are the tackles; Steve Latchaw of Bloomingdale and Andy Burkhard of St. Joseph Catholic the guards; Duane Blatt of Peck the center, and Roger Hughey of Mendon, Max Sherman of Akron, Tim Ryan of Mt. Morris St. Mary and Phil Masson of Arenac Eastern in the backfield.

Miller, a 205-pounder, played tackle on defense and occasionally moved into the fullback spot when his Dryden club needed crucial yardage. His coach, Fred Bernat, said he often removed Miller from the lineup because "he hit so hard."

Kellerman is Bay City St. Mary's punter, kickoff man and ace linebacker, and exceptionally strong passer, too.

The other tackle, Barta, is a 180-pound junior and his coach, Don Ditsler, calls him "one of the most aggressive tackles I've ever seen in high school ball."

Center Duane Blatt is one of the biggest men on the honor squad, and he was named to the Little Seven League team by unanimous acclaim for two consecutive seasons.

Vic OK's Project

Mt. Clemens Youngster Starts Wertz Fan Club

MT. CLEMENS (AP)—A Vic Wertz Fan Club is budding in Mt. Clemens, and three energetic youngsters are going to see that it blossoms "into something real nice."

The Cleveland Indian first baseman, who has a home and a business in Mt. Clemens in the offseason, has given his blessing to start the fan club.

* * *

Little Bob MacDonald, a 14-year-old high school sophomore, can tell you anything you want to know about the big slugger. Bob began collecting pictures and data on Wertz in 1949, and he rattles off batting averages, runs-batted-in, home runs and total bases for Vic's entire baseball career without consulting the big scrap book that he lugs around with him much of the time.

Bob is president of the Vic Wertz Fan Club. It has only three members at the moment, and all three youngsters are officers. In addition to Bob, there's his brother Bill and his cousin, Pat Lorway. Bill and Pat are vice presidents.

The three of them hung around Vic's office for several evenings, waiting to consult the big guy about the club. Vic was happy to OK the project, and promised the kids some help.

* * *

"I'll be glad to come over to one of your meetings and see if we can't get it off to a good start," said the likeable former Detroit Tiger player.

NEW YORK (AP)—Horses can earn money quicker than humans—some horses, that is. This year, for example, it is possible for a top notch thoroughbred to win $100,000 or the greater part of it on any of 26 occasions.

* * *

Some 100,000 races yet to be run are the United Nations Handicap at Atlantic City on Sept. 15. The Garden State on Oct. 27 and the Washington D. C. at Laurel on Nov. 12.

Kramer, Parker Repeat

All-Big Ten Team Picked

CHICAGO (AP) — Guard Jim Parker of Ohio State and Michigan's Ron Kramer, end, were the only repeaters on the 1956 all-Big Ten football team named today by The Associated Press.

Iowa, conference Rose Bowl representative and winner of its first clear-cut title since 1921, landed three men on the No. 1 team selected by AP sports writers in the Big Ten area.

Michigan, Iowa's only conqueror, placed two, and one position each was awarded Ohio State, Michigan State, Minnesota, Northwestern, Illinois and Purdue.

Parker and Kramer, along with Purdue fullback Mel Dillard, were unanimous choices in the poll. Tackle Alex Karras of Iowa missed only one first team vote.

Teamed with Dillard, the Big Ten rushing champion, in the No. 1 backfield are quarterback Ken Ploen of Iowa, and halfbacks Abe Woodson of Illinois and Bob McKeiver of Northwestern.

Although weighing only 165 pounds, McKeiver was the most versatile back in the Big Ten as he led Northwestern to its best showing (3-3-1) in six years.

Woodson collected the most votes among the halfbacks although injury handicapped him in Illinois' final three games and probably cost him the rushing title.

Paired with Kramer at end is Iowa's Frank Gilliam.

Michigan State's aggressive John Matsko won the center job from Iowa's Don Suchy.

Season on Deer Closes Today; Contest Ends

Today marks the close of the Michigan regular gun season for deer. It also is the final day on which bucks may be taken for entry in The Pontiac Press "big deer derby" for 1956. However, Oakland County hunters now in the Upper Peninsula have until Tuesday noon to file their entries. Deer taken in any special season are not eligible.

* * *

Current leaders in the $300 jackpot event are Rogers H. Davis of Pontiac with a 207-pound entry for the heaviest deer and Leland (Lee) Walz of Davisburg with a 22-inch-wide rack, for the widest antler division. Each division winner will receive $150 in U.S. Savings Bonds. Entries are restricted to full-time residents of Oakland County.

In these days of big football players it is interesting to note that Tulane left halfback Willie Hof weighs a mere 144 pounds.

Will Beef Up U. S. 6th Fleet in Mediterranean

By STAN SWINTON
AP Bureau Chief in Rome

WITH THE U. S. 6TH FLEET OFF SARDINIA (AP)—Uncle Sam's Mediterranean Fleet, already the most powerful in the world, soon will be beefed up more.

The fleet's commander, Vice Adm. Charles R. "Cat" Brown, told a news conference aboard his flagship, the heavy cruiser Salem, that:

The 6th Fleet already is armed with Regulus guided missiles, which can give atomic antiaircraft protection against enemy planes as far as 30 miles.

America's most modern aircraft carriers, the Forrestal and the modernized Franklin D. Roosevelt will join the fleet in January as replacements for the less hard-hitting Coral Sea and Randolph.

There are plans to equip the reinforced Marine battalion which travels with the fleet with "Honest John" rockets, which can carry an atomic warhead.

"I am sitting on top of a volcano. Tomorrow could be my Pearl Harbor. I have to watch it all the time," Brown said.

He expressed the belief that the presence of the 6th Fleet in the tense Mediterranean is a strong deterrent force for peace.

Brown also disclosed that after the threat of the Egyptian crisis to the Western Alliance, Allied cooperation is beginning to owrk more smoothly again and there has been a renewal of NATO sea exercises.

Brown said that the 6th fleet gave the United States flexible power in the Mediterranean which could be used with control to the degree needed in a local situation.

"If I had to, I could set up a perimeter and send in armed (land) convoys to evacuate American civilians," he said.

Protection of American civilians in the Mediterranean area is a 6th Fleet responsibility. Fleet personnel from the Gaza Strip in Palestine. At the last minute the local Egyptian commander agreed to allow the civilians to depart. Israeli troops captured Gaza and the area around it soon after.

* * *

The 6th Fleet is completely self-supporting and has no land base.

When the Forrestal and Franklin D. Roosevelt arrive, the fleet's air arm will be able to strike 1,400 miles from its carrier bases. At present the maximum range is 1,000 miles.

The fleet has been reinforced since the Egyptian fighting by the carrier Antietam and six destroyers — a hunter-killer force specializing in submarine destruction.

U. S. Navy leaders have made clear they believe submarines and mines constitute the greatest Russian naval threat.

The 6th Fleet already has increased its minesweeping potential.

Australia Popular

CANBERRA — Net migration to Australia during 1955 increased by nearly 40 per cent over the previous year, adding 95,317 persons to the population. It was the biggest gain since 1952. Of the immigrant total, 43.7 per cent were British.

Butter Use Rises

LONDON — Great Britain's per capita consumption of margarine amounted to about 18 pounds in 1955, about the same as in the previous two years, but per capita consumption of butter rose sharply, from 10.9 pounds in 1954 to 14.7 pounds, reflecting larger world export supplies.

Young and Old Like Hobby Kits

Dads, Sons Team Up After Holiday Season to Make Things

Hobby kits again will be popular with young and old this Christmas.

The trend this year is to make-it-yourself kits which are easy to assemble. Instead of complicated blueprints and designs, the instructions are written simply so that even a 10-year old can do the job without difficulty.

* * *

Most of these kits are inexpensive, too.

One arts and crafts kit provides materials for a mosaic end table and sells for only $4.95. A metal enameling kit has a kiln, enamels and copper findings to make cufflinks, tiepins and earrings.

CAN USE SHELLS, TOO

Women will like a shellcraft set which makes pins, earrings and brooches. This set comes with hundreds of colorful beads. Another set for the ladies makes a large leather shopping bag.

A beginner leather kit for youngsters has materials for making wallets, key cases and purses.

* * *

There's a liquid plastic kit which is clean and easy to use. The hobbyist merely pours the liquid into a measuring beaker, adds a few drops of catalyst, stirs, pours into a mold and allows to jell. When cool the crystal clear molded plastic retains its shape permanently.

Other inexpensive hobby kits can create hamburger picnic baskets, wrought iron magazine stands, molded plywood plates and trays.

FOR MODEL MAKERS

Akin to the arts and crafts field is the model building hobby material for such items as autos, ships, planes and trains.

* * *

These are usually divided into two groups. The beginner sets are for people with no experience. (Most of the material is pre-fabricated and easy to assemble.) The other group is for experienced builders who take the component parts and construct more compli-

Defendant in Crash Judged Incompetent

DETROIT (AP)—Ruled mentally incompetent, a Detroit man will not have to answer manslaughter charges arising from an auto crash that brought brain injury to himself and killed another. He has been committed to a mental institution.

* * *

Edward Jackson, 27, was ordered transferred Wednesday from Wayne County Jail to the Ionia State Hospital by Traffic Judge John D. Watts.

Watts, in what is believed to be the first sort of acton of this kind, gave the order yesterday when a sanity commission ruled Jackson unable to stand trial.

Jackson was the driver of a car that ran off the Edsel Ford expressway in Detroit June 17, striking two utility poles.

* * *

He was injured and Miss Nellie Richardson, 22, a companion, was killed. Unconscious for more than 60 days after the accident, Jackson was charged with manslaughter in Miss Richardson's death.

Bob Considine Says:

Babe Didrikson Lives as Olympic Legend

MELBOURNE (INS) — Each of these past three days at the Olympics, on the program pages devoted to such women's activities as the 80-meter hurdles and the javelin throw, the name "M. Didrikson, U. S. A." has appeared in that portion of the page devoted to naming previous Olympic winners.

* * *

Already a treasured legend in sports, though she has been dead only a handful of weeks, Babe Didrikson won the 1932 Olympic girls' hurdles and javelin pitch, and missed winning the high jump because her type of leap was considered illegal, although it long since has been adopted.

She probably would have won every other track and field event for women if she had been permitted to enter them all.

Her records of 24 years ago have been broken and those that replaced them have in turn been broken. Such is the swift, sure course of athletics. But Babe remains vibrantly alive today in the closets of sports people's minds. And I suspect she always will.

For here was one who passed our way, who left her imprint indelibly, the good-humored, stout-hearted gal who might have inspired Irving Berlin's "Anything You Can Do, I Can Do Better." She could.

TIME FOR TRIBUTE

One wishes that 'midst all the bustling and efficiency of the Olympics a time might be spared so that those who care to give public testimony to the memory of a departed great like Babe might have the opportunity.

* * *

At home, big league baseball is inclined to milk these matters of sentiment a bit too harrowingly. But in the Olympics there is no vestige of this honoring of the bygone. A pity. I would like to have stood up for Babe.

The question of records being ever bettered has bemused sports buffs for generations. Is the species being steadily improved? Are tracks faster and equipment better? Are athletes trained better? Do they live cleaner? Could Dempsey beat Louis?

Take the pole vault for example. It was won in the 1896 Olympics by W. W. Hoyt, U. S. A., with an assisted jump of 10 feet 9¾ inches. No winner jumped 13 feet until F. K Ross, U. S. A., managed it at Antwerp in 1920.

Fourteen feet was not cleared until W. W. Miller, U. S. A., did it at the Los Angeles games in 1932. Cornelius Warmerdam jumped 15 feet 7¾ inches, but not in the Olympics.

Bob Richards, the present champion, has jumped 15 feet and better more times than anyone else, although his Olympic record still is half an inch shy.

JAVELIN RECORDS

In winning javenlin toss at the 1908 London Olympics was 179 feet 10½ inches. The other day here a Norwegian named Egil Danielsen threw a spear 281 feet 2¼ inches. Dames now throw that splinter farther than the men champions of old.

* * *

The tremendous 1:47.7 turned in by Tom Courtney in winning the 800 meters here compares to 2:11 which won at Athens in 1896.

The 110 meters hurdles' time has been whittled down from the winning time of 17.6 seconds by T. P. Curtis at Athens to the 13.5 of Lee Quincy Calhoun here Wednesday. A full minute has been shaved off the 5,000-meter run through the years. And so it goes.

Juvenile Home Death Is Ruled a Suicide

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The death of a 14-year-old inmate at the Washtenaw County Juvenile Home has been ruled suicide by hanging. The decision ended five weeks of controversy.

James R. Lillard died at the home Oct 22, touching off a public argument in which County Supervisor John G. Sterling of Dexter questioned whether the boy had hanged himself.

A six-member coroner's jury brought the official verdict on the death Wednesday after hearing testimony from police, inmates, home officials, court officials and the boy's mother, Mrs. Charlotte N. Lillard.

But one wonders if there is any absolute — ever? For countless years man tried to run a mile in four minutes and failed in every instance.

* * *

Then, a couple of years ago, Roger Bannister of England did it, but John Landy of Australia lowered it a few weeks later, and now eight others have run it.

Permit us to add to a growing list of appallingly useless sports endeavors the javelin.

The only hope we see of putting javelin throwing to use is if the United Nations agrees to destroy all H-bombs, A-bombs, guns, powder, bows and arrows, catapults, burning oil, battering rams and confine future arsenals to spears.

As for the shot put, words fail.

The Lambs' lambie-pies may now drink and dine in this hallowed actors' club from * to 10 p. m.—and Dagmar and her husband, Danny Dayton, invited me over to see the damage.

Victor Herbert, Ring Lardner, John McGraw and John Barrymore kept the club safely stag—but men can't get loose from their wives so easy now . . . besides, the wives now have their palms on the pocketbooks.

"Get rid of these tablecloths, honey," she advised.

Gaxton was sort of proud of the tablecloths—till then.

Playwright Anita Loos said long ago when she was married to late actor John Emerson, she waited outside in the car for long stretches while he met convivial friends inside. Fancy a doll doing that now. She'd be getting stoned in the corner tavern.

Dock Slowdown Disrupts Work

Longshoremen Reduce Activity 50 Per Cent Without Orders

NEW YORK (AP) — A wave of slowdowns by longshoremen is disrupting work on many New York piers — five days after a federal court injunction ended an Atlantic and Gulf Coast waterfront strike.

* * *

The slowdowns, which developed yesterday, cut pier activity to 50 or 60 per cent of normal in certain areas. Many of the men reportedly took four times the usual time to perform routine tasks. There also were many refusals to work through the noon hour and at night, at overtime rates.

An employer spokesman said the slowdowns have reached "serious proportions" and are "the equivalent of a partial strike."

* * *

The International Longshoremen's Assn., said the men had no orders to slow down. A union spokesman said the longshoremen are disgrunteled over two court injunctions issued against the ILA.

The American export liner Constitution was delayed 4½ hours in sailing. The Cunard liner Britannic was held up more than seven hours. A number of freighters were threatened with delays of a day or more in clearing the port.

The U. S. liner United States, which sailed on schedule, had to leave about 6,000 bags of mail. Much of it was said to be Christmas messages for U. S. servicemen overseas.

* * *

The New York Shipping Assn., said it was "gathering evidence" to be presented today at a previously scheduled federal court hearing on two issues.

The ILA's 60,000 members on the Atlantic and Gulf wcoasts struck Nov. 15 in a deadlock with the employer group over terms for a new work contract.

President Eisenhower invoked the national emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act, and last Saturday the government obtained a court order ending the strike for an initial 10-day "cooling off' period. The men went back to work and started clearing a huge backlog of cargo.

Holdup Shrieks Scare Off Bandit

DENVER (AP) — "This is a holdup," read the large yellow card handed Mrs. Jessie Ulibarri, a cashier at the Denver Motor Vehicle Department yesterday.

"It's a holdup! screamed Mrs. Ulibarri, slamming shut her cash drawer and running out of the cashier's cage.

The would-be bandit, who had pulled his card out of a briefcase in which he carried a revolver he showed to Mrs. Ulibarri, turned and fled.

"I was so scared I didn't know what to do," said Mrs. Ulibarri.

Indian Plenty Fast— Police Plenty Faster

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — An Indian man called Running-After-Arrow ran away from an Oklahoma City police court judge and a drunkenness charge yesterday.

But Officers S. D. Orr and R.L. Forge said they were faster runners. They nabbed the fugitive and returned him to court to face fines totaling $32.

Plane Landed Safely After Nine Bail Out

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—A U.S. Air Force pilot brought a C119 Flying Boxcar in safely today after scraping a tree in the Taunus mountains and ordering his nine-man crew to bail out.

All nine crewmen were found unhurt by ground rescue teams which started searching the snow-covered mountains after the pilot landed the big plane at Frankfurt's Rhine main air base.

* * *

The pilot and crewmen were not immediately identified.

The plane was preparing to land at Wiesbaden, headquarters of the U.S. Air Force in Europe, when it struck the tree.

The pilot kept the plane in the air and after gaining altitude, ordered the men to bail out.

He then flew to Frankfurt, approximately 20 miles away, where he landed.

Museum Sued for Punching 'Gen. Sherman'

DENVER (AP)—The Denver Art Museum turned "general Sherman's Party" into a wild affair, a suit filed yesterday by a New York art collector asserts.

Victor D. Spark, the plaintiff, contends his 89-year-old painting ad a hole punched in it while on loan to the museum last year.

The hole was so large as "to completely destroy (the paintings) prior value as a work of American historic art," the suit states. It asks $18,000 damages from the museum.

Royal B. Hassrick, museum curator, had no immediate comment.

Denial of Cash for Foreign Aid Called 'Folly'

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce says the refusal of Congress to appropriate more money for the foreign service was "folly to the point of national suicide."

* * *

The retiring ambassador to Italy added:

"When you think of the billions that we have spent abroad to prevent our own atomic annihilation, it seems folly to deny a comparatively small sum to the very service which is working hardest to prevent it."

Mrs. Luce expressed her views last night in addressing the annual dinner of the Advertising Council.

* * *

In Rome, Mrs. Luce said, she had no electric typewriter and only one dictating machine—the latter her personal property. She said staff members had to do a large part of their own typing.

Mrs. Luce mentioned that the "representation allowances" for entertainment of foreign officials were sometimes attacked as "the whisky fund." Actually, she said, it was an "operational fund" spent in "the very market place of diplomacy."

The Defense department's Pentagon building contains a cubic volume of 90,746,000 feet, occupies a square mile of space, and is threaded by about 16½ miles of corridors.

Toy Designers Heed Children

New Ideas of Value Often are Suggested by Small Patrons

Who designs toys? Why, the kids, of course.

Walk into the plush office of a modern toy manufacturing executive, ask him where he gets his ideas for new toys and the answer will almost always be—from children.

Seldom does a day pass that a toy manufacturer doesn't receive a letter from a parent—or a child—asking, "Why don't you make a waterproof widget to go with your gizmobob?" Perhaps they've seen a real "widget" in action, and would like a toy version of it.

Quite often a toy maker sees an idea possibility himself and exploits it successfully.

Fred and Charlie Doepke, Ohio toy manufacturers, did just that when they decided to manufacture "do-it-yourself" sports car kits for children.

The Doepke brothers introduced sports car kits modeled after the British MG and Jaguar autos. It takes a skilled child to build these kits, but the kids love the challenge—and the sleek-finished product.

Last year their firm also hit the jack-pot with a small, backyard railroad which the small fry could crank around the track themselves.

* * *

Toy designers have taken to heart the space hunger that afflicts the average home. This Christmas, Santa's pack will carry a record number of new toys and junior furniture designed for multi-purpose use.

Toy selections, toy packaging, too, is frequently designed to have double usefulness as permanent storage units to help keep toys in order.

Triple Play, a new concept of the doll stroller by Playtime Products, provides three complete changes of activity for the doll family in one compact unit. The lift-out seat quickly converts into a doll swing or a doll car seat. There's a detachable shopping bag and canopy, too.

* * *

Another triple play value slanted to young artists is Stix O' Paint, by Milton Bradley, which combines the medium of finger painting with water coloring and crayon art, all in one compact stick.

Used dry, it's a crayon; dipped in water, it's water color, and rubbed on wet paper, the versatile stick produces brilliantly hued finger paint.

Multi-purpose game boards are in vogue, too. A favorite double duty version is the San Loo combination of Chinese checkers and checker board which includes a locking device to keep the easy-to-lose marbles safe when not in use.

New in the convertible class is a bicycle by A. M. F., which becomes either a boy's model or a girl's model by quick manipulation of a snap-down cross bar that requires no tools.

Ford Biographer Dies From Heart Ailment

DETROIT (AP) — William C. (Bill) Richards, longtime newsman who wrote a biography of Henry Ford, "The Last Billionaire," died yesterday of a heart ailment.

Richards, 69, whose Ford story became a best seller, worked on newspapers in Rochester, Syracuse and Buffalo in New York, before beginning 15 years as reporter and columnist for the Detroit Free Press.

* * *

Resigning from the Free Press in 1933, he was appointed Michigan director of the Office of Government Reports in 1940.

Richards, one of the few newsmen to gain Ford's confidence, was working on a biography of the late James Couzens, one of the founders of the Ford Motor Co.

Richards with four other staff reporters of the Detroit Free Press won a Pulitzer prize for reporting in 1932. The pize was given for coverage of the big American Legion parade in Detroit in 1931.

Believes 'Bad Seed' for Adult Viewing Only

Jerry Miller, announcing the opening of the film "The Bad Seed," at the Strand Theater here, believes that the public should be advised that the emotional impact of its story is such as to deem the picture unsuitable for youngsters. It will be advertised as an "adults only" film, he said.

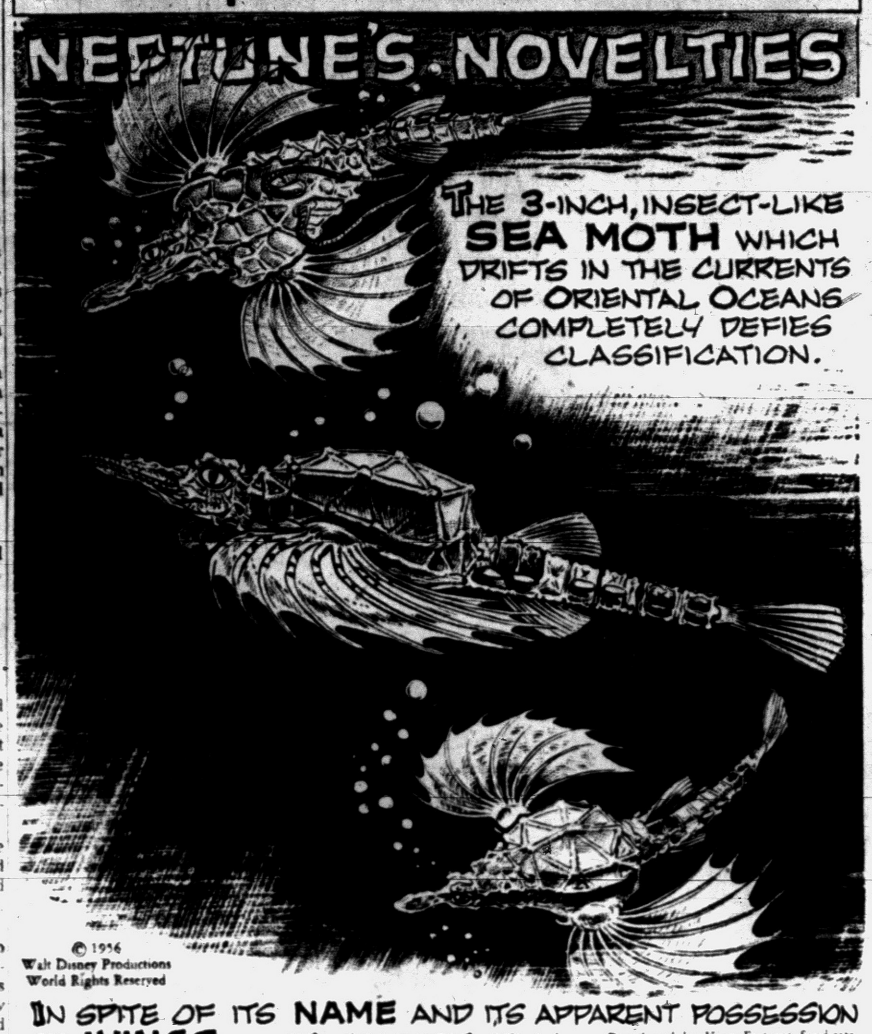

Relocated M60 Sections Open to Traffic Saturday

LANSING (AP) — Two sections of relocated M60 in Cass and Berrien counties will be opened to traffic tomorrow, the state highway department announced today.

A 2.9 mile stretch of the four-land highway will be opened from U.S. 112 east to U.S. 31. A 5.5mile section will also be opened from U.S. 31 east to the junction with the present M60 and northeasterly to Barron Lake.

Total contract price of the projects was $1,898,472.

Ann Blyth Walks Away With Helen Morgan Role

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — You can all relax now—all you actresses who wanted to play Helen Morgan, the most sought after role since Scarlett O'Hara in "Gone With the Wind." Ann Blyth gets the plum and will report the first of the year.

Thirty young actresses were interviewed and at least 15 tested. Michael Curtiz, the director, Richard Whorf, the producer, and Jack Warner, the boss, all agreed on Ann.

It might seem to be off-beat casting, but remember Ann did a terrific job in "Mildred Pierce," which Mike also directed.

The luncheon Esther Williams had at Romanoff's with Jerry Wald was not just for the pleasure of eating with him. She discussed with Jerry making a picture based on a short one-act play, "The Long Goodbye," by Tennessee Williams.

This story has none of the usual Williams dirt and is about an ex-beauty contest winner and a devoted brother.

Esther told me she goes to Italy in April to make "The Islander" with Jeff Chandler, for Universal-International. Sounds like a gory tale with Jeff trying to drown Esther — but now who could ever drown Esther? She takes her ever-loving husband, Ben Gage, and the children with her.

CO-STAR FOR BING

No more guessing about who will be Bing Crosby's leading lady in "Man on Fire." It's lovely Broadway actress Mary Fickett who replaced Deborah Kerr in "Tea and Sympathy."

Miss Fickett flew out to make her screen test at MGM and now she'll await the arrival of Bing from Florida and the start of the picture on Dec. 20.

Sol Siegel, the producer, and director Ranald MacDougall, who have been searching for new faces and new talents all over New York, tell me that Bing will be the only "familiar face" in the cast.

A delighted Francis X. Bushman, richer by the $30,000 he picked up on "The Big Surprise" TV show, flew back to Hollywood Wednesday morning accompanied by his charming bride.

It's really wonderful all these nice things coming the way of the former matinee idol after he had had it pretty bleak for several years.

At an age when most men are thinking of "old rockin' chair," he's found love again—and all that money! To top it off, he's been offered the role of Moses in "The Story of Mankind" at Warners.

I had such a nice letter from the Bushmans from New York telling me of their happiness.

COPY SANTA CLAUS

Just like Santa Claus, Audrey Hepburn and Mel Ferrer are flying over the pole (via Scandinavian Airlines) to spend Christmas with Mel's two children, Mark and Pepa. I hope Audrey and Mel enjoy the holiday relaxation—because after New Year's they won't have a spare moment.

First, the Ferrers co-star in NBC's spectacular "Meyerling." Then they're off to Broadway where Mel directs Cecil Beaton's play, "The Gainsborough Girls," based on the life of famed portrait painter Thomas Gainsborough.

This is Ferrer's first directorial work on Broadway since he megged Joe Ferrer's stage revival of "Cyrano de Bergerac."

Joan Crawford writes that she won't be home for Christmas but will spend it in Switzerland. She is interested in doing the life story of Cissy Patterson, of the greatest woman newspaper publishers.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: French actress Nicole Maurey, who played opposite Bing Crosby in "Little Boy Lost," and her husband, Jacques Gallo, have come to the end of their marital rope. The girl he likes best is Valerie French. Columbia star in "Garment Center."

The big surprise tomorrow night at the Free Hungary Benefit will be singer Gloria Krieger, who has been kept under wraps at Columbia for four years.

Ginger Rogers, who is attending parties alone because Jacques Bergerac is rehearsing for a Playhouse 90 TV show, has had all kinds of offers to dance with Don Loper.

National Holiday

All states in the United States celebrate Christmas Day, Dec. 25, as a legal holiday. Alabama was the first to acknowledge it formally in 1836.

In 1870 Congress established Dec. 25 as a special day for the District of Columbia.

For Hungarian Relief

Special Red Cross Drive Has Goal of $5 Million

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—The American Red Cross today launched an emergency drive for five million dollars for Hungarian relief, and President Eisenhower appealed for generous contributions.

* * *

The decision to conduct the special drive was announced at the President's vacation headquarters after Eisenhower received word of the plan from E. Roland Harriman, the Red Cross chairman.

* * *

"I urge all Americans generously to support the special Red Cross disaster appeal for five million dollars to aid in emergency relief both in Hungary and to Hungarian refugees in Austria," the President said in a statement.

"The conditions of disaster and privation which require this emergency relief have been accurately described from day to day publicly by our news-reporting media. Amidst all their trials, the courage of the Hungarian people has been an inspiration to all freedom-loving peoples the world over.

"By contributing to the Red Cross emergency campaign, each of us individually can express our sympathy and admiration for the brave Hungarian people."

In a telegram to the President, Harriman said more than 85,000 refugees have crossed into Austria from Soviet-oppressed Hungary.

* * *

"Thousands are still arriving daily," Harriman added. He said the International Red Cross is regularly moving convoys into Hungary containing hundreds of tons of supplies, and that the agency has started "a feeding program for approximately 150,000 daily."

* * *

Harriman also noted Red Cross activities at the refugee reception center at Camp Kilmer, N. J. He said "so far we have done everything possible with limited resources available," but that additional funds now must be obtained.

Telephone Workers May End Dispute

NEW YORK (AP) — Negotiations resume today between the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. and the Communications Workers of America to resolve a contract dispute involving 27,000 long distance telephone workers in 40 states and the District of Columbia.

A company spokesman yesterday expressed hope of "working out an agreement in the next 24 to 48 hours."

The Union had threatened to strike at midnight Wednesday, which was the expiration of its current contract. However, an improved but undisclosed wage offer by the company sent both sides back to the bargaining table.

A. T. & T. said yesterday its long lines operations were normal throughout the country.

A previous company proposal offered pay hikes ranging from $2 to $5.50 a week in the New York area. The CWA has not specified its wage demands.

Brazilians Start World's Highest Concrete Building

SAO PAULO, Brazil — The world's tallest concrete building is rising in Sao Paulo. When completed in 1960 it will tower 45 stories above Sao Paulo's busiest downtown intersection.

At 443 feet it will be four stories higher than a recently completed Buenos Aires structure, the present record holder.

The Sao Paulo skyscraper, to be called the Italia Building, is shaped like an ocean liner's stack, and to take advantage of its airfoil shape, it will face into prevailing winds. It is 184 feet long and only 76 feet wide at its widest.

* * *

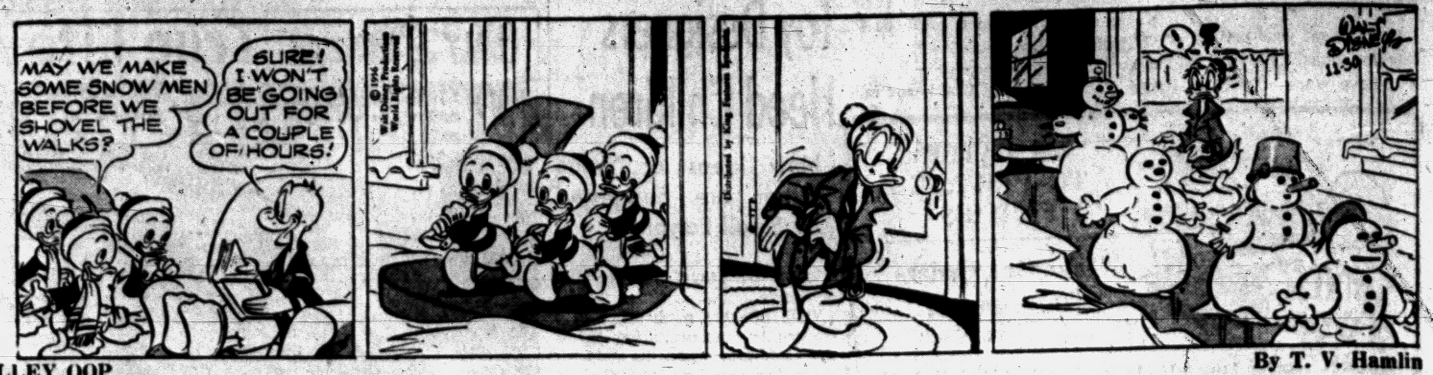

A club will occupy the first five floors; the others will be for offices. Since the $40,000,000 structure has no fixed interior wall design, renters may arrange their space any way they wish.

BURNING FOR PROGRESS — The last of three farm houses to be burned by the Lincoln Division of the Ford Motor company, yesterday. The present site being cleared will become a convoy parking lot, of the National headquarters of Lincoln on Wixom road. Construction work on the plant began last November, and will be in operation by early in August, according to General Plant Manager, William Singleton.

Burn House to Advance Novi Plant

A 50-mile an hour wind yesterday helped Novi Township firemen burn an old farm house on Wixom road, clearing the area for a convoy parking lot at the new Lincoln Assembly plant yesterday.

As company officials and news photographers watched, a training crew of the fire department demonstrated the effectiveness of a new type "fog nozzle."

Fire Chief Fred Loynes said that less than ten gallons of water was used in extinguishing the flames with the new nozzle, which takes all the oxygen out of the water as it is sprayed on the flames.

The Novi training crew lighted the fire and extinguished it three times in a demonstration for firefighters of the Lincoln plant.

William D. Singleton, General Manufacturing Manager of Lincoln Division, officially lighted the oil-soaked building the last time.

After the building was burned to the ground, company officials conducted a tour through the buildings, where over 2,000 employes are making necessary installations.

Just one year ago this month, ground was broken on the 235 acre site, for the National Lincoln Assembly headquarters and since that time, the plant has mushroomed until there is now 1,800,000 square feet of floor space under cover.

Plant operations should begin the early part of next August, according to Singleton.

Two deep-wells, pumping 2,000 gallons of water per minute will supply the two ground-level storage tanks for fire protection. Another 250,000 gallon elevated tank will also help in case of a fire.

There is an industrial waste disposal system large enough to supply a city of 5,000 people, according to Luther O'Dell, resident engineer. The company is now in the process of hiring 5,000 employes he added.

The main administration building on the west side of Wixom road is scheduled for completion by mid-summer and will house more than 1,000 offices, Singleton said.

Utica Lions Cite Club Anniversary

UTICA — Utica Lions will mark their tenth anniversary at a charter night program on Dec. 8, with a banquet to which the public is invited.

The event will start at 7 p.m. in the Utica High School dining rooms, with Lions past international president S. A. Dodge as guest speaker.

When the club here formed, 25 members joined Now membership is at 55.

First president, Dr. E. O. Hensel, is still active and living in the Utica Area, while William Murphy is the club's president as it enters its eleventh year.

Plan Sno-Ball Event

AVON TOWNSHIP — Stiles Square Dance Club will hold their annual Sno-Ball dance Saturday evening, December 1, at Avon Community Hall on Auburn Road near Crooks Road. Dancing will start at 9 to the music of Ralph Monroe's Orchestra. Refreshments are available. The public is invited to attend.

Business Briefs

The promotion of Warren E. Henderson, 16156 Lauderdale St., Birmingham, to assistant sales manager of Sherman Products, Inc. has been announced by Vice President W. F. Beckman.

HENDERSON

Prior to the appointment, Henderson was a zone manager for the Royal Oak firm. He formerly was associated with the Dodge Division and the Chevrolet Division in various executive capacities.

He will direct advertising and sales promotion activities in his new post.

Helping Hands Aiding Fire Destitute Russells

ROCHESTER—The two Russell families who were left destitute from a distrous home fire early Wednesday morning at 2661 West Utica Rd. are receiving help from the area communities. Clothing, shoes and their immediate needs are being provided by the local Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs, Brooklands women and two local businessmen.

At present the families are housed with relatives in Pontiac and Royal Oak. Spokesmen said more articles of clothing could be used and anyone desiring to help is asked to call OL 1-9111.

Market Scores Vigorous Gains

NEW YORK (AP)—Vigorous gains were made in early trading in the stock market today.

* * *

Pivotal stocks advanced from fractions to around 2 points. Trading was active.

The high-speed ticker tape fell behind one minute in reporting transactions under the opening rush but was clear within five minutes. As turnover slackened somewhat, prices settled back a bit as profit-taking took over.

* * *

It was a half hour after the opening before Bethlehem Steel, which announced a 4-for-1 stock split proposal, opened at 175½ on a huge block of 25,000 shares, up 3⅝ from yesterday's close on the New York Stock Exchange. On Pacific Coast exchanges after the New York close yesterday it soared to 178¾ before closing at 177, up 5⅛.

* * *

Brokers expressed encouragement at the market's behavior, noting that after yesterday's sharp break at mid-session it recovered a lot of ground for technical reasons alone, without any boost from the news.

Royal Dutch and Youngstown were up around 2 and Lukens Steel, a fast-running specialty, climbed over 3.

After its initial trade Bethlehem stretched its gain to around 5.

Gains of around a point or so were made by U. S. Steel, Goodrich, Boeing, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, Kennecott, International Nickel, Dow Chemical, New York Central, Baltimore & Ohio and American Cyanamid.

* * *

Texas Co. and Gulf Oil were up more than a point.

Opening blocks included Youngstown up 2¼ at 109¾ on 3,200 shares. Royal Dutch up 2⅛ at 91⅝ on 2,500 and Du Pont up 3¾ at 180 on 1,700 shares.

Hare May Have to Make Up Branch Office Deficit

LANSING (AP) — The disappearance of a secretary of state branch office manager with $75,000 in state funds last Spring may cost the man who gave her the job $15,000 to $18,000 of his own money.

Secretary of State James M. Hare said he has come to the conclusion that he must make up the state's deficit out of his own pocket, but state lawyers say this may not be necessary.

The loss occurred when Mrs. Anne V. Thorpe, manager of the St. Clair Shores branch office, disappeared with $75,166 in state auto license money.

* * *

She, her husband, Floyd and daughter, Kay, 9, were traced to Mexico, but have not been found. The FBI suspects they may have met with foul play there or fled to another country.

"I am now of the opinion that I am personally responsible for whatever amount the state can't recover," Hare said. "That appears to be about $15,000 to $18,000."

Said Hare:

"I don't know where I will get that kind of money. I may have to ask the Democratic party to bail me out."

"I don't think there is any relief for me in this. My oath of office holds me responsible for such deficits.

"I could let the thing slide for a couple of years, but an accounting has to be made sometime. It might as well be made here and now."

* * *

The state collected $50,000 of the loss from Mrs. Thorpe's bonding company. Hare said it will get another $3,900 from a personal bank account left untouched.

The state has also seized the Thorpe's house, but legal difficulties will make its sale difficult. The Thorpe's equity in it is only about $4,000 anyway, Hare said.

* * *

"The difference between the $58,000 and $75,166 will have to come out of my own $25,000 bond," Hare said.

The secretary of state, a Democrat, said he talked with bond company representatives who said they would honor his bond, but immediately seize his own assets—bank account, safe deposits, house or any other property.

* * *

"They will make me pay the money back to them," he said.

Hare is buying a home in Lansing on a mortgage. The Hares also own a cottage.

Hare appeared convinced that he is financially responsible, but state attorneys say the matter has not yet been settled.

Grains Slacken After Upswing

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains opened firm, but then had difficulty in maintaining gains on the Board of Trade today. In some cases the gains were not maintained.

A rush of commission house buying got the market off to a good start. Soybeans were strongest in sympathy with an upturn in soybean oil. Dealings were active.

As the session wore on the buying power faded and trading slackened.

Churches Asked to Hail Refugees by Bell Ringing

All Pontiac churches are asked to ring their bells for three minutes at noon Monday to welcome refugees from Hungary to Pontiac.

Sponsored by the Hungarian Refugee Relief of Detroit, 120 refugee families will arrive from Austria Sunday or Monday morning in Detroit.

* * *

At the Five Points Community Church, 3411 E. Walton Blvd. Monday noon, women of the community will provide a dinner for merchants, business men and area residents.

Dr. Istvan Szemerei who had been a prisoner of the Communists three times and worked constantly for 72 hours in a Budapest Hospital before fleeing, will be the speaker. He took an English car, forged his papers, went through the siege line of secret police and escaped into Austria.

The Rev. Gordon C. Lindsay, pastor of the Five Points Church and Roy L. Hardy are local representatives.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams has proclaimed Saturday "Help Free Hungary Day."

County Lincoln Club Sets Banquet Date

Planning their annual banquet, set for Feb. 11, members of the Oakland County Lincoln Republican Club last night appointed 16 committees to make final arrangements.

According to president George F. Taylor, U.S. Vice President Richard M. Nixon is expected to be the main speaker.

Heading the executive committee for the affair will be Raymond E. Addis, Mrs. William J. Randall and Mrs. Myrl Neff are in charge of decorations, and Mrs. Frederick C. Ziem and Mrs. William E. Donner head the invitations committee.

At last night's meeting, Mrs. Robert Tedcastle resigned as the club's vice president. Taylor appointed Robert C. Miller to replace her.

Sale Pending of Reo to White Motor Co.

DETROIT (AP) — Negotiations are underway for the sale of Reo Motors, Inc., a Lansing, Mich., truck manufacturing company, to White Motor Co.

A Reo official who asked that he not be quoted by name said Bohn Aluminum and Brass Co. of Detroit, which controls Reo, has entered negotiations with White "but there is nothing definite yet."

He said White made an offer two years ago to buy only the Reo engine plant. The proposal was turned down, he added, and now White has apparently decided that the only way to get the engine plant is to "make an offer for the whole business."

A Bohn spokesman said "any comment at this time would be premature."

Reo Motors, which showed a net profit of $549,623 for the first 10 months of last year, has reported a net loss of $120,701 over the first nine months of 1956.

Expect 500 at Youth Rally at Avon School

AUBURN HEIGHTS—About 500 high school students from this area and Canada are expected at the Avondale High School tomorrow to hear District Governor of Rotarians G. C. Nichols keynote a program on a test of daily living.

Guest speaker will be Herb Taylor, a district Rotary official, and president of the sponsoring Rotary Club here, Stanley Slowik, will welcome guests.

The rally will be from 2 to 4:30 p.m. The test, which will be explained in skits and talks in an international Rotary effort, asks four questions of each action in daily life:

Is it the truth?
Is it fair to all concerned?
Will it build good will and better friendship?
Will it be beneficial to all concerned?

Murrow Will Present Films of Comic's Work With U.N. Agency

BY JOAN HANAUER

HOLLYWOOD (I N S) — Danny Kaye has been lured into television, but the bait was strictly non-financial.

On Sunday he and Edward R. Murrow will present a CBS-TV "See It Now" program called "The Secret Life of Danny Kaye," based on the 200,000 feet of film shot as Kaye traveled 32,000 miles in the real-life role of song-and-dance ambassador at large for the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund.

What the red-haired comedian with the double-jointed tongue wanted to do was inform the people of the U. S. of the magnificent job being done for children throughout the world by UNICEF.

He recided television was the best medium, so he broke his own taboo against appearing on the small screen.

"For this kinnd of information," he explained quite seriously, "we can get the single greatest coverage for the message we want to give. This will be the first time in the history of television that a program will be simultaneously shown in every country in the world where they have TV.

"This is a special broadcast and will last 90 minutes. That's tough to do in a theater.

This is not a pure documentary," Danny said—something to relieve the minds of those who want to see the lighter side of Kaye.

"It's not an hour-and-a-half of starving, sick children, nor is it a spectacular with costumes and girls and production numbers.

"There's a tremendous amount of entertainment that comes of working with children, plus a tremendous amount of information on what UNICEF does."

Kaye is a firm believer in the international language of comedy, and his proof is the fact that children all over the world understood his comedy and laughed at his antics. As far as using material intended to amuse children for adult entertainment, Kaye said simply:

"Adults make the best children. There's a little bit of child in every adult."

CHILDREN'S FRIENDS—Edward R. Murrow and comedian Danny Kaye discuss the aims and accomplishments of the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund (UNICEF) in the U. N. Security Council chambers, New York, in a scene from "The Secret Life of Danny Kaye." The 90-minute program will be a "See It Now" presentation Sunday on CBS-TV, beginning at 5 p. m.

Eden Reported Well

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP) — Rest and Jaica's sun are reported agreeing with British Prime Minister Eden.

Eden's only visitor since his arrival Saturday, Gov. Sir Hugh Foot, said the British government leader's health is responding to rest and he already is getting a suntan. He and Lady Eden are in seclusion at the villa.

Eden came here for a three-week rest ordered by his doctors because of overstrain.

Keeps Tab on World, U.S. Affairs While at Georgia Retreat

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower is "getting a great deal of good" out of his stay at this favorite Southland retreat while keeping an anxious eye on the international situation.

And Mamie, his wife, is enjoying herself but is concerned about whether the President is getting as much relaxation as he usually does on his visits to Augusta.

* * *

That is the way friends of the President and the first lady sum it up on this fifth day since they flew here from Washington for at least a partial respite from their official duties.

* * *

The President, says White House press secretary James C. Hagerty "seems to be enjoying himself" even though he has had to spend more time than on other trips keeping tab on the world's trouble spots particularly the Middle East.

Eisenhower arrived from the capital Monday and has been keeping to a daily routine. He spends a good part of each morning in his small office above the pro shop at the Augusta National Golf Club.

There he handles whatever government business has accumulated overnight, talks by telephone to Acting Secretary of State Hoover in Washington for discussion of the latest international developments, and then gets a more detailed briefing on the world picture from a national security aide, Col. Andrew Goodpaster.

When his work is done, the President walks a few yards to the first tee of the Augusta National course and plays nine holes of golf before lunch. After a light noon meal he gets in the rest prescribed by his physicians, and then plays another nine-hole round.

Eisenhower came here on the advice of the White House doctor, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, who figured the chief executive needed some relaxation after his re-election campaign and the added burden he had to assume when Secretary of State Dulles was stricken ill.

Dulles, who was operated on Nov. 3 for intestinal cancer, plans to review the international picture with the President here Sunday.

The Animals' Christmas

There are surprises galore, not only for a lot of fascinating animals, but for readers, too, especially youngsters, in Artist Walt Scott's Christmas story strip. The scene is in the Valley of the Small Ones where there's much excitement leading up to a community Yuletide celebration. A real highlight comes in the effect it all has on Scrooge-like Wilmot Weasel.

Airmen Rushed by Melting Ice

Rapidly Breaking Floes Move Toward Air Strip at Antarctic Base

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP)—U.S. airmen flying missions from McMurdo Sound in Antarctica are racing to complete their operations before their ice runway melts.

Capt. Douglas L. Cordiner, U.S. Navy squadron commander, reported the 6,000-foot runway now is only 25 miles from the edge of the fast-breaking bay ice. Last January the distance was 50 miles.

Engineers flown from the United States to repair an Air Force Globemaster damaged in a landing also have to get their job done quickly to prevent the three-million-dollar craft from slithering into the water among acres of approaching ice floes.

The Globemasters are scheduled to complete by Dec. 12 their drops of about 500 tons of supplies to the base being established at the South Pole. They also are to drop 250 tons of oil at a base to be built at Marie Byrd Land, 900 miles east of McMurdo.

The bases are being set up as part of the International Geophysical Year program.

Says U.S. Must Lead

LONDON (INS) — British minister of transport Harold Watkinson states the U. S. must assume the "duty of continuous leadership" as part of the "responsibility of being the most powerful nation in the world." If America does not lead, Watkinson told a Rotary Club luncheon, she might be hurt "as much as anyone" by world crises.

Gymnastics Enjoyed by Chinese Premier

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Red Chinese Premier Chou En - lai, laughing as he stood on a flower-decked platform with Prime Minister Nehru and the Dalai Lama of Tibet, saw an open air gymnastic program today by 3,500 Indian school children.

Chou arrived yesterday for a 12-day visit. He will leave Dec. 10 for Burma, later going to Pakistan, Afghanistan, and Nepal.

Chou obviously enjoyed today's demonstration by the brightly uniformed youngsters.

Birth rate of the U. S. is 24.7 annually. The death rate is 9.6.

Crash Kills Motorists

FREMONT (AP)—Lloyd Brummell, 26, of Fremont was killed Wednesday night when his car collided head-on with a truck trailer on M20, one mile west of Fremont. The driver of the truck, Peter K. Dane, 24, of Grant was reported in fair condition at Fremont Hospital. Police said Brummell's car apparently entered the wrong lane.

Austrian students, in a series of folk programs, will visit India and Japan.
