AFTER FOUR YEARS — Chheng Guan Lim, 28-year-old former University of Michigan student from Singapore, who hid under the Methodist Church roof loft in Ann Arbor for four solitary years to 'save face' for academic failure, is shown at a press conference this morning in Ann Arbor City Hall. The university has said Chheng could return to classes.

Chinese Student Found in Church Attic

'Recluse' May Return to School

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — A young Chinese University student who spent nearly four years in self-imposed solitary confinement in a church attic because he was ashamed of flunking his studies, may get a chance to redeem himself and return to college.

Roadblocks began falling away today for 28-year-old Chheng Guan Lim, of Singapore, who chose to become a "living dead man" in a church attic just off the University campus rather than face friends and relatives with his failures and risk return in shame to his homeland.

Immigration officials, called in yesterday when Chheng was found hiding in the attic of the Ann Arbor First Methodist Church, said they would not stand in the way of Chheng's return to U. of M.

"If his story is true, we are disposed to permit him to return to school, if the University of Michigan will allow him to enter," said Earnest McFadden, deputy district director of the immigration department in Detroit.

Walter Rea, dean of men at U. of M., said "the university would like to have him back."

Rev. Eugene A. Ransom, pastor of the Church where Chheng had hidden out for four years, announced that the Wesleyan Group, of which he is a director, has discussed sponsoring him as its international student for the year 1959-60. The group sponsors one student a year.

Rev. Ransom had one sad duty to perform at the Washtenaw County Jail where Chheng was being held pending disposition of his case.

He had to break the news to the young Chinese student that his father, a Singapore school teacher, died last March of cancer.

Extra One-Cent Sales Tax Likely to Face Court Test

School Aid Hike Has Drawback for Dr. Whitmer

City School Chief Blasts Increase in Deductible Millage Provision

Pontiac will be getting more state school aid but Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, Superintendent of Schools, isn't entirely happy about it.

The $205 - a - pupil school aid program adopted by the Legislature this weekend will net the Pontiac school district about $5 more per pupil during the coming school year, or around $100,000, Whitmer said.

The increase will add some extra funds to the school budget, which was drawn up on the assumption that the aid formula would remain at $190-a-pupil for the second straight year.

Pontiac's aid never reached $190-a-pupil last year, though, nor will it hit $205-a-pupil under the new aid program.

Therein lies Whitmer's objections to the aid program — it's a "matter of principle," he said.

Last year's deductible millage rate was 2¾ mills while this year it has been upped to 3¼ mills, Whitmer noted.

Under the formula, Pontiac was getting $147-a-pupil last year and will be getting only $152 this year, Whitmer said.

OBJECTS TO HIKE

"I object, on principle, to the Legislature upping the deductible millage every time it increases the school aid," he said.

"The larger school districts—such as Pontiac's—are suffering at the expense of the smaller school districts. The school aid distribution is becoming disproportionate.

"Although Pontiac is getting more money from the state, the state is sharing a proportionately smaller portion of our budget."

Ten years ago, Whitmer noted, state funds accounted for more than two - thirds of the Pontiac school budget. The percentage has dropped to about one - third now, he said.

The school aid deadlock was broken Saturday when Lansing Democrats retreated from demands for $210 per student.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams said he considerd the new formula a "good settlement" but he warned

Britishers 'Like Ike'

LONDONERS CHEER — The crowd cheers President Eisenhower who waves from open car as he rides through Fleet street in London to St. Paul's Cathedral. Behind Ike is the motorcade which accompanied him and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan from the latter's country residence, Chequers, where they spent the weekend.

Report Strategy Resolve of President, Macmillan

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

LONDON — President Eisenhower returned to London amid cheers today from weekend talks with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan that brought broad agreement on the strategy of future cold war negotiations.

Qualified informants outlined results of the conference of the two leaders at Chequers, the Prime Minister's country estate.

They said Eisenhower and Macmillan displayed a resolve to do all they can to bring French President Charles de Gaulle back into full cooperation in the North Atlantic Alliance.

Eisenhower's coming exchange of visits with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev was said to have been the most important single topic covered in the American-British exchanges.

In Paris, De Gaulle returned from a four-day tour of Algeria last night and today began making last-minute arrangements for his meeting with Eisenhower.

It was certain the Algerian issue would consume the lion's share of De Gaulle's 10 hours of scheduled talks with Eisenhower between Wednesday and Friday.

Foreign Minister Fernando Castiella of Spain opened talks with Eisenhower today in London and delivered a letter from Generalissimo Franco.

Castiella appealed to Eisenhower for an increase in U.S. military and economic aid for Spain.

Macmillan's backing, coupled with a previous vote of confidence from West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, places Eisenhower in a strong position for his talks with Italian and French leaders when he goes to Paris Wednesday.

As Eisenhower and Macmillan rolled through suburban villages, groups of townspeople gathered in clusters to wave and shout greetings.

Collection Due Tuesday; Other Levies in Package

LANSING (AP)—A new $128,500,000 tax program started debt-ridden Michigan on the way to recovery from a colossal financial mess today.

Gov. Williams was to sign the three-bill tax package into law in time for retailers to start collecting a higher use (sales) tax tomorrow.

What amounts to a penny increase in the three-cent sales tax was the key feature of a tax program adopted by the Legislature Saturday night in a dramatic climax to a seven and a half month battle over taxes.

Michigan thus became the third state to adopt a four-cent sales tax. Washington and Pennsylvania both raised their sales levies to the same level this year.

The increase, which includes removal of present exemptions on hotels, motels, and materials used in federal construction, will net the state about $120,000,000 a year.

Business was hit for another $8,500,000 in taxes retroactive to July 1. Most of the increase will come from a higher Business Activities Tax. The package was designed to balance the record $411,000,000 budget and trim a $114,000,00 deficit.

Lawmakers will return to Lansing Sept. 16, mostly to deal with secondary matters and close out the longest legislative session in state history.

Two major questions, however, are still unsettled.

First, legislators must decide whether to pump quick cash into the state treasury by liquidating all or part of the 50-million dollar Veterans Trust Fund.

Second, they may be confronted by a court suit testing the constitutionality of the new use tax law.

Democrats, who fought a losing fight for a personal and corporate income tax, have asserted the tax violates the three-cent limit the state Constitution sets on the sales tax.

Williams, in giving reluctant endorsement to the new tax program, indicated he would not encourage a court test. But a merchant or consumer might do so.

Should the State Supreme Court throw out the new tax, Michigan would find itself once more in a state of financial chaos.

The governor warned that the Trust Fund, actually worth a little over $40,000,000 on the bond market, must be utilized without delay to meet pressing cash needs.

The state owes public schools alone $40,000,000 in state aid, he said. The total cash shortage is climbing toward $100,000,000.

Passage of a record $326,000,000 school aid bill Saturday eased the financial troubles of the schools. The measure cleared the way for them to borrow against anticipated state support.

"But that certainly does not give them the cash they need so badly," said the governor.

Senate Republicans months ago refused to utilize the Trust Fund until a use tax bill cleared the Legislature. And, Sen. Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo), top GOP tax strategist, let it be known yesterday they might try to keep it intact.

LANSING (UPI) — Doubts about legality of the Legislature's tax cure for Michigan's cash crisis were raised officially today even before it was signed into law.

Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams announced he would hold an extrordinary 8 p. m. press conference.

Adams said only "the subject of the conference will be the new use tax legislation."

Oakland Solons Split on Tax Law

Now that the long, tedious political war over how to get Michigan out of its money doldrums is supposedly over, Oakland County Sen. L. Harvey Lodge and five of the county's six state representatives were home breathing a sigh of relief.

They held mixed opinions, however, on what the over-all effect will be of the $128,500,000 tax package finally rammed through the eight-months stalemated Legislature Saturday night.

Pontiac's Democratic Rep. Arthur J. Law said he doesn't believe the battle is over because he said he believes the State Supreme Court will find the one cent increase in the use (sales) tax unconstitutional.

"Then we'll have to be called back into session and come up with a more realistic answer," Law said.

Because of a business engagement Saturday night, he was not in his seat when the long-awaited votes of agreement were taken. He said had he been there he would have voted against the use tax hike.

FAVORS INCOME TAX

"I've held from the very beginning," he said, "that this increase was unconstiutional because the people approved the three cents once and that was the ceiling." He said he favored the defeated piggyback income tax proposal instead.

Republican Lodge looked upon passage of the three-part package as "a victory for the people" in that he and his fellow Republican senators held firm against any form of income tax originally advocated by Gov. Williams.

He said by Williams terming the Area Residents Hit Sales Tax

Interviews in Pontiac Reveal Mixed Reaction; Most Oppose Law

Pontiac area people expressed mixed reactions today to the new four-cent sales tax — mostly they were against it.

No one at the corner of Huron and Saginaw streets had any enthusiasm for new taxes, but a few saw the financial necessity in view of the state's cash shortage.

M. A. Kelley, 3053 Longview St., Avon Township had the latter outlook.

"The state obviously needs more money and we have to raise it somehow. I personally prefer paying a higher sales tax than, for instance, a personal income tax.

"They've got to have more money in Lansing, that's certain."

Mrs. Elizabeth Spear, 2586 Lance St., Orion Township held the same opinion, but for a different reason.

Mrs. Spear, a housewife, felt there is a possibility the new tax might be dropped when the fiscal crisis is relieved.

"But you'd never be able to get rid of an income tax if one were adopted," she believed.

"I don't mind paying more taxes as long as they don't take County Promises Money to Guidance Clinic, but...

The Oakland County Child Guidance Clinic was promised financial aid from the county today, but with some strings attached.

Meeting in special session, the Ways and Means Committee of the Board of Supervisors agreed to recommend a $32,500 appropriation for the clinic next year, the same figure as this year.

The clinic had asked for $35,000 last spring, then this month found itself pleading for funds as county officers set about trimming more than $1,000,000 from next year's budget proposals.

The clinic appropriation will be included in the final budget which supervisors will be asked to pass on next month, said David Levinson, a committee member from Birmingham.

The committee made two stipulations aimed at giving the county greater control over the clinic's activities.

First, the $32,500 won't be given the clinic in one chunk, but will be doled out periodically by the Board of Auditors on specific request from the clinic.

Second, the clinic will have to use the county purchasing agent's office for any purchase it wants to make with county funds.

The committee also went on record favoring stronger control over the clinic's activities by its administration. If said the clinic's board should review fee schedules and revamp its program to give more service to children held as wards of the county.

The clinic has branches in Pontiac, Birmingham and Royal Oak. To operate, it gets funds from the state, matching whatever monies are forthcoming from the county.

GMC's Tractor Is V-6 Diesel

New Truck Features Lightweight Engine, Can Carry More

An entirely new GMC lightweight highway tractor with the long-awaited V-6 Diesel engine goes into production this month, it was announced by Philip J. Monaghan, vice president of General Motors and general manager of GMC Truck & Coach Division.

"The cab, chassis and engine represent a major mechanical development that will enable highway haulers to realize maximum operating economy and efficiency," Monaghan said. "The diesel engine alone represents a breakthrough in engineering design in that it is a V-6, long a technician's dream.

"In this new GMC the V-6 offers more power per pound, far better accessibility for servicing, greater smoothness of operation due to better balance, and increased rigidity," Monaghan said.

While the V-6 Diesel alone weighs 200 lbs. less than the in-line unit of the same displacement, this is only one of the many weight-saving features of the new GMC model, the DFR-8,000. Equally important is the new 696 lb. aluminum tilt-cab. With its dimension of 48 inches from bumper to back of cab, it actually provides the driver with more useable space than some 72 and 90-inch dimension cabs.

With these weight savings, a new fabricated frame 300 lbs. lighter than previous designs, a newly-designed air suspension system, and elimination of the front axle through the use of independent front wheel suspension, the trucker using this highway tractor can load on an extra ton of cargo and still be within the 61,000 lbs. gross combination weight rating.

The new DFR-8,000 has a companion model, the DLR-8,000. The DFR-8,000 has a front axle position of 28 inches from front bumper to front axle, while the DLR-8,000 has the front axle set back 50 inches from front bumper. These two units offer complete flexibility in the inter-state systems where there are many varied weight and length regulations.

Unpleasant Memories Revived

Berlin Still Bears Scars of War

(Editor's Note: This is the last of a series of articles on Russia, Germany and Poland.)

By HAROLD A. FITZGERALD
Publisher, Pontiac Press

The city of Berlin suddenly revives unpleasant memories and leaves you a little breathless.

We all knew Berlin was bombed—badly bombed—but time erases distant horrors especially when we're not confronted daily with the haunting reminders. And so, the ravages of war are slowly forgotten by those untouched.

But Berlin is different.

She still bears the scars.

They're very real and they're still present. The country has done a wonderful job of restoration and her rebuilding so far is an achievement. I shudder to think what that proud and magnificent citadel must have looked like when the little German jerk gave up; married his girl friend and went over the hill. Those final bombings must have been horrible nightmares as well as devastating.

Although Berlin has plowed bravely ahead, it still comes as a shock to confront suddenly the ugly scars that remain from those blockbusters. London shows some mute and graphic wear and tear of war, but London received the German attack when this horrible bombing business was in its infancy.

After the U.S. got in and established air supremacy, Hitler had to abandon the attacks on London and in their place came those days and nights of power bombing in the opposite direction.

A German expressed some guarded indignation to me over the extent of these attacks but an American can't sympathize, even at this late date.

Who started the bloody business?
Germany asked for what she got.
She begged for it.

The average German is more or less prepared to admit this. He senses now that Hitler was the false gods' false god. And rather to my surprise, those I saw were inclined to forgive the Kaiser for the misery he brought in World War I. I don't think he's a very big cut above Hitler when you evaluate objectives. But the German people think differently. Well, that's their business and Berlin is still a well bombed and somewhat devastated city.

It's a grand town and they have made great progress in eradicating the signs of defeat, but too many remain. The present generation accepts them with a shrug of the shoulders. The attitude seems to be: "There they are. So what?"

We visited East Berlin. I'm prejudiced, but the morale, the spirit, the physical properties and things in East Berlin are definitely below the West side. There's

County Gambling Raid Nets 36 at Farmhouse

Oakland County Sheriff's deputies and detectives led by Sheriff Frank W. Irons arrested 36 persons in a Sunday morning raid of a Groveland Township farmhouse.

House, his wife, Marguerite, 47, and Porter Anderson, 64, of Muskegon Heights, pleaded innocent to charges of maintaining and operating an illegal gambling place today before Independence Township Justice William H. Stamp.

They were freed on $500 bonds and their trial was set for Sept. 3.

"We have had our eye on the place for several years," said Sheriff Irons, "and were waiting for the right time." The raid took place at 4:30 a.m.

The owners were running the restaurant and selling liquor without licenses, according to Irons. Officers watched as customers began arriving at about 2:30 a.m.

"They kept coming after the raid was executed," Irons said. "We possibly could have arrested 100 or more had we waited several hours longer."

Nine women and 24 men were charged with loitering in an illegal gambling place.

All pleaded guilty before Stamp and then all but three changed their plea, appealing a $40 fine plus $10 costs to Oakland County Circuit Court.

Other Flint residents arrested were: Myrtis R. Henry, 33; Helen L. Jones, 28; Beverly A Simpson, 21; Olla M. Young, 21; Harold R. Hayden, 32; Will Henry Jr., 34; Wicks Attyberry, 39; Charles Hughes, 38; Adam Parks, 34; and Marzzulles H. Wilson, 46.

Also from Flint were: Thomas E. King, 21; Walter J. Waters, 21; Richard E. Allen, 38, and Willie M. Pea, 54.

Detroiters arrested were: Walter Owens, 26, of 4570 Seebaldt; William L. Weston, 41, of 2009 LaSalle, and Craig B. Morris, 22, of 12616 Payton.

Others arrested were: John Fisher, 54, of 6522 Larry Rd., Holly Township; Willis L. Taylor, 45, and Chappell Herring, 59, both of Gary, Ind.; James C. Edwards, 37, of Chicago, Ill.; Maggie Spears, 40, of East Chicago, Ind.; Leroy Butler, 26, of Muskegon, and Joseph Donwell, 47, of Belleville.

Pea, Morris, and Owens each paid their fine and costs.

New State Tax Law Gets Mixed Reaction

"This package actually did more than I wanted to go for," Lodge said. "I feel that there isn't any need for an additional tax on business in Michigan. If will be a further detriment to what business and jobs we have now, and certainly not be much of an attraction for new businesses."

PLAN 'ADEQUATE'

He termed the compromise plan "most adequate" to help the state erase its deficit. Besides doing this, the past months of bickering in Lansing has created in the public an increased interest in government and taxation, Lodge said.

"Which party won isn't important," Lodge said. "The question is, what was the principle involved. What did we accomplish? Sure it's a victory for the Republicans, in that we stopped the onrush of Williams' wild spending and showed him in his true light."

He said he voted for the use tax increase, the business activities tax (BAT), and the hike in the intangibles tax.

Rep. Farrell E. Roberts, Republican representing the county's Third District, said he would have favored a tax plan to provide more money "in order to erase the deficit faster and at the same time start building up a general fund revenue." He said he voted for all three provisions.

Roberts, an attorney in Keego Harbor, was reluctant to predict what the Supreme Court might say about the use tax boost if it is put to the test.

'BI-PARTISAN PACKAGE'

Rather than being either a Republican or Democratic victory, Roberts said it was a bi-partisan package which came out of the six-man conference committee.

Another fellow Republican representative from Oakland—Lloyd L. Anderson of Waterford Township—said the package provides a little more money than what the state really needs.

"It's our victory because we upheld our position for the sales tax increase as opposed to any form of income tax," Anderson said.

He said he believes the sales tax hike would have been sufficient.

Anderson said in Friday's voting he voted against the BAT, but Saturday voted for it "because it was the only compromising way we could settle this tax picture once and for all."

'VOTED FOR 3'

Republican William Hayward, in his first year in the House of Representatives, said although he voted yes for all three provisions he doesn't believe the plan is "100 per cent perfect" in that an added burden will be placed on large families and those in the medium income groups by the sales tax increase.

"But that's what the people wanted," Hayward, of Royal Oak said. "My mail ran 20 to 1 in favor of the tax as against an income tax."

"What we will do if they (the Supreme Court justices) declare it unconstitutional is anybody's guess," he said. He predicted the next alternative might be the flat rate income tax.

Another freshman representative — John C. Hitchcock, Hazel Park Democrat — was fast to pin a Republican tag on the tax program, as the governor has.

"It's Republican and sure not a Democrat victory," Hitchcock said.

He said he finds fault with the measure in that he doesn't believe it will raise enough money to help the state out of its fiscal fiasco.

"Although I voted for all three sections I don't think this is the answer," Hitchcock remarked.

Rep. James Clarkson, Democrat from the county's Fourth District, and a strong critic of his party's drive for an income tax, is on vacation in Canada and wasn't in Lansing Saturday or available for comment today.

New GMC Tractor Features V-6 Engine

these new highway tractors is the revolutionary engineering approach to elimination of useless weight which was made possible by designers starting with a clean sheet of paper and building units that are all new from the ground up.

The radically new fabricated frame is only half as heavy as previous types based on channel units, yet is much stronger and more durable.

Air suspension has been adopted not only for its many engineering advantages but also for its contribution to the safety and stability of the vehicle and its cargo.

Eliminated is the hard ride generally encountered when riding empty, because high frequency vibrations do not occur. This is not only a source of comfort for the driver but also a material factor in the increased life of the entire vehicle.

A highlight in the completely new functional design of the new tractor is the front suspension. This suspension permits the use of a lightweight cab, which is one of the features that results in an increase in payload capacity of as much as 2,000 lbs.

Development of the suspension required an entirely new design in which the new rigid frame is an important factor. The front end is independently sprung, giving the desired roll resistance, low steering effort and good recovery.

The engine in the DFR-8,000 has many features which contribute to long life, economical maintenance and low-cost operation. It is a GM 6V-71 diesel, direct injection, 2-cycle unit with 4¼-inch bore and 5-inch stroke with a compression ratio of 17 to 1 and rated at 189 gross horsepower at 1,800 rpm. Displacement is 425.6 cubic inches.

Its 138 lb. crankshaft, 63½ degree V-block angle provide a short, rigid compact powerplant balanced to operate with vibrationless smoothness. Main bearings are 4½ inches in diameter, an inch more than the in-line six.

Berlin is beginning to speak English surprisingly well and we're becoming the world's "second language." The home tongue is first, but English is a comfortable second. Once French was the accepted international language of diplomacy, but we've taken over that niche without a murmur—except from France. In Germany, notices in the airplanes are in German and English. In Russia, you find English translations everywhere. This is true in Poland. The French resent it, but they can't do anything about it. I said to a lovely young woman operating an elevator in the Berlin-Hilton: "Did you learn your English in school?"

"Partly," she answered, "but the hotel taught me the rest."

There's a beautiful park in Berlin that the Russians forced the Germans to build in their "honor." It's to commemorate "the liberation of Berlin," which is international mockery on the top level.

We had lunch, dinner and meetings with representatives of the Associated Press, United Press International, Reuters, Tass and independent newspaper correspondents now in Berlin and Warsaw. These men are international linguists and very interesting. We were shown through Berlin's biggest newspaper by the editor and we found their mechanical equipment an approximation of our own. The Morgen Post averages 18 pages a day—compared with four in Moscow.

Warsaw, capital of a conquered Poland, is an interesting city. This is the land of consonants and I quote you four consecutive towns as we neared the Polish border. Krosniewice, Leczga, Wyszogord and Zakoczyn. They sound like four of the late Knute Rockne's best linesmen at Notre Dame. And if you really want a Polish phrase that raises a doubt in your mind, try this:

"Chrzszagzcz brzmi w trzcinie."

Maybe a smart and well educated Pole was taking me for a ride, but he swears it means:

"The insect buzzes in the shrubs."

A rather distinguished and elderly man carried our bags to the hotel room and Maxwell said: "Maybe a former Baron. Who knows?"

The German and Polish roads are excellent but again I suppose they're "that way" for military reasons and not for the comfort of the citizens.

Warszawa (Warsaw) means "the city of wars" and it's aptly named. The Poles have a secret resentment against the Russians and the Germans. Remember, it was the Germans who had them evacuate their great city, after which they did a systematic job of spot bombing that pock-parked the Capitol. You can't forget these indignities when they're so cruel and unnecessary. Mention of the Germans in Poland justly brings a deadly and chilly silence.

Every day, hundreds and hundreds are deserting East Berlin for the West. The main trunks are patrolled, but between these points are miles that can't be guarded. East Berlin admits these defections uneasily, but says "a lot of them come back."

Wanna bet?

And also, they say there are defections the other way that go unmentioned. Well, the main reason they're "unmentioned" is because there are so few. In fact, as I understand it, you can leave West Berlin for East Berlin any time you want—if you want to. The facts are — you just don't want to.

Don Maxwell had a birthday in Warsaw and it may not have been his greatest natal occasion but it was one of the most protracted celebrations, starting modestly when the newspaper boys dropped in for breakfast. And it concluded about midnight. Have your birthdays in Oakland County, m'friends.

There's a universal language in this world that is too often unspoken, but which is very real. At one time in Poland, I was standing near a beautiful young mother who had a youngster in her arms. On an impulse I brushed the tip of the youngster's nose and offered a little heartfelt Michigan baby talk. The baby didn't recognize English—or me—or Polish—but it did respond to affection and attention. It gurgled in Polish, kicked two little feet and held up tiny hands. I shook a weeney mitt very gravely and then looked at the mother. She was all smiles and spoke rapidly in Polish. I shook an ancient noggin, smiled my U.S. best and said: "You're both wonderful" and hurried on to an impatient Maxwell who hadn't seen the girl's face—or we'd have been late for dinner.

The language of an inarticulate infant is pretty wonderful and pretty individual—let's say "worldwide." We all pay homage to babyhood. How can people who agree on this ever plot to kill each other?

We saw several hundred little children going to a huge Berlin park. They were laughing, friendly and waved. I saw several hundred aged Russians on their knees before an altar in Moscow and their faces reflected the Glory of the Lord and universal peace. I've talked with servitors and with the heads of departments and businesses. Two ten-year-old Russian boys tried for ten minutes to talk to me in Moscow. They were delightful companions even though we never understood a single word. I watched little children play along the highways as their mothers handled the threshing of the wheat. They greeted us with friendly waves and the buoyancy of irrepressible childhood. Youngsters waved at our car over a 1,200 mile drive. And we were strangers.

It seems to me "the whole world's in tune." War clouds don't scare me as much as they did. THE PEOPLE DON'T WANT WAR. You can write that against the horizon with letters of fire a mile high. And I doubt whether ambitious overlords or madmen can put us at each other's throats again.

We don't hate each other.
This world is friendly.
It's lovely.

City, County People Lambaste Sales Tax

Mrs. Elizabeth Fulcher, a secretary, of 2919 Virginia Ct., Keego Harbor, wished the Legislature had forgotten about a sales tax increase and adopted, instead, Gov. Williams' plan for a personal income tax.

'CAN'T AFFORD IT'

"People in my income bracket will pay more in sales taxes than we would have in income taxes, and we can't afford it," she said.

Mrs. Douglas Shebby, 433 Sparks Lane, Walled Lake has been too busy rearing five children, aged three to eight, to pay much attention to the tax battle in Lansing.

"Holy cow!" was her reaction on learning that later this week she'll be paying four cents tax on a dollar purchase, instead of three.

'EVERY PENNY COUNTS'

"My husband's a factory worker and, with five kids, every penny counts with us.

"Now when we buy two or three items the sales tax on them will almost amount to the price of another purchase."

Figuring quickly, she discovered that the sales tax on a $5 purchase would buy a quart of milk.

A retired factory worker, he noted that prices and taxes go up while his retirement funds stay the same.

"It'll be hard on me. Working people shouldn't have to pay it. They should have ended the sales tax after World War II, and cut the federal taxes, too."

Alex Spears, 334 Wessen St., a factory worker, accepted the new tax with misgivings.

TO ASK FOR MORE?

"If it will help remedy the situation in Lansing, I don't mind paying it. But I wonder how long it will be before they come back and ask for more taxes."

Spears recalled adoption of the three-cent sales tax in the 30s. "They said then that it was only temporary. Later they said they would have to keep the sales tax on the books but they wouldn't need any more. Now they want more."

A California businessman, who preferred not to give his name, expressed sympathy for Michigan residents in their tax troubles.

Here's How Tax Setup Will Work

LANSING (AP)—Here is where the money will come from to pay for Michigan's new tax program (estimates based on a twelve month period):

GAINS:

One-cent increase in the use (sales) tax . . . $110,000,000.

Removal of sales tax exemptions on hotel and motel rooms and materials used on federal construction projects . . $10,000,000.

Increase of 1¼ mills in the 6½ mill business activities tax . . . $12,500,000.

One-half mill increase in the one and ½ mill BAT on utilities . . . $500,000.

Intangibles tax increase of ten cents on each $1,000 of bank deposits . . . $1,500,000.

Gross gain — $134,500,000.

LOSSES:

Raise basic exemption on the BAT from $10,000 to $12,500. $1,500,000.

Up to 25 per cent tax credit on the BAT to firms showing little or no profit. $4,500,000.

Net gain: $128,500,000.

State School Aid Hike Has Its Drawback

hard-pressed school districts may have to wait until the Senate agrees to cash in the 50-million-dollar veterans trust fund.

Tax money won't come in fast enough to make up the school aid fund deficit before schools open next month, Williams warned.

But trust fund money will not be available until at least Sept. 16 — the day the Legislature returns from a recess.

Report Appointment in 9th Naval District

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Navy today announced the appointment of Rear Adm. John M. Higgins as new commandant of the Ninth Naval District.

The Ninth Naval District is the largest in the nation and includes the states of Wyoming, Colorado North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri, Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana and Michigan.

The Day in Birmingham

Blames Plane Crackup on Wet Runway Grass

BIRMINGHAM — Wet grass on a runway at Algonac was blamed by Norman J. Magill of Bloomfield Hills as the cause of his cracking up his airplane while landing there Sunday.

"The wheels couldn't get any traction," he said, and the two-engine Cessna aircraft overshot the end of the sodded airstrip. It then nose-dived into a two-foot irrigation ditch.

Neither Magill, 33, of 7130 Orchard Lane nor any of his three passengers were injured on the pleasure trip as the plane had slowed to 10 miles per hour when it crashed.

The plane's landing gear collapsed when it hit the ditch. Damage to the craft was estimated at $2,500.

The Birmingham Unitarian Church plans to hold its first regular services in new buildings now nearing completion on Sept. 13, Peter Loomis, building chairman, has announced.

The buildings, designed by Minoru Yamasaki, noted Birmingham architect, are located at Lone Pine road and Woodward avenue. They consist of a social hall and three church school buildings with administrative offices.

The structures are grouped around an open courtyard with enough space remaining on the four-acre plot for another building to be added in the future.

"Work on the new buildings is progressing very satisfactorily," Loomis reports, "And, although landscaping will not be completed immediately, the buildings will be ready for our Sept. 13 opening."

The Rev. Lester Mondale, newly appointed pastor of the church, will conduct the opening service.

Construction of an addition to the Christian Science First Church at 191 Chester St. in Birmingham is presently under way. It is being made at the rear of the present building.

Gala Parade Starts '60 UF

Chairman Sets Oct. 1 for Procession to Push Fund Raising

A gala parade through downtown Pontiac Oct. 1 will officially inaugurate the 1959 Pontiac Area United Fund campaign, it was announced today by Robert R. Eldred, campaign chairman.

The colorful procession, tentatively scheduled to get under way between 6 and 8 p.m., will feature the participation of all local United Fund agencies. The accent will be on youth, according to Eldred, with more than 500 children traveling the newly-lighted Saginaw street parade route in agency floats, trucks and cars.

Additional highlights include: Eight bands, many clowns, military marching units, a 1960 Oakland automobile, and a representative selection of the new 1960 Pontiac.

Eldred has appointed David Ewalt, director of parks and recreation, as parade marshal. Parade committee members include: Leonard Buzz, assistant director of parks and recreation — special entertainment chairman; Leslie W. Langford, Pontiac Press — military and armament chairman; Van Braidwood, Clinton Valley Boy Scouts — in charge of UF agency participation; William Aho, Parks and Recreation Dept. — special parade details, and Larry Stuart, Pontiac Motor Public Relations Dept. — director of parade publicity.

TOUGH YOUNG GUY — Although a large hook is imbedded in his thigh, not a whimper is evident from five-year-old Robert Harvey of Boston. The boy's mother Jean, who is carrying him to an ambulance, expresses greater concern. Robert was sliding down a steel bulkhead door when the hook became imbedded in his leg. Firemen freed the hook from the door.

American Jews Seek Meeting With Nikita

NEW YORK (AP)—Jewish leaders in the United States are trying to arrange a talk with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to discuss reports of anti-Semitic actions behind the Iron Curtain.

A special conference representing the three religious divisions of American Jewry—Orthodox, Conservative and Reform — was organized last week to seek a meeting with Khrushchev when he comes here next month.

'A Fellow Has Rights'

BRADFORD, England (UPI) Clifford Thompson, 34, arrested on a breach of peace charge after walking along behind two teenage girls stood up for his rights yesterday: "If looking at girls is a crime then I am guilty," he told the local magistrate. He was bound over for trial.

It takes more air than minerals to make a ton of pig iron. The proportions normally used in a blast furnace are almost two tons of iron ore, nearly one ton of coke, a half-ton of limestone, and four tons of air.

Oklahomans Will See 1st 'Wet' Day Tomorrow

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Oklahomans today prepared to come off the wagon legally for the first time in 52 years.

It is the last full day of a prohibition era which began at statehood Nov. 16, 1907. Legal sales over the counter will begin at 10 a.m. Tuesday at an estimated 500 package stores.

Retailers rushed to get stocks on the shelves as state officials cleared the way for the new industry.

Gov. J. Howard Edmondson has called for an era of temperance. Elizabeth House, of Stillwater, president of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, has asked Oklahomans to pray for protection "from this terrible holocaust of liquor."

The clock began running out on prohibition last April 7 when Oklahoma voted for repeal. Nearly three months later the Legislature finished a control bill. Since then the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board has been busily setting up regulations and issuing licenses.

Whisky and other liquors have been shipped into the state steadily in recent days. Supplies will still be incomplete on opening day, however, because of slow delivery of state tax stamps.

Puts Doctors on Their Guard

UCLA Official Warns World Parley Against Government Curbs

CHICAGO (AP) — A doctor today advised physicians around the world to guard their independence against any government restrictions.

The counsel came from Dr. Raymond B. Allen, who once practiced medicine in North Dakota and now is chancellor of the University of California at Los Angeles.

He spoke to educators from 61 countries at the opening session of the second World Conference on Medical Education.

Dr. Allen, president of the conference, said that governments everywhere are taking wider views of their responsibilities to their people.

So, he added, the medical profession and the individual physician "must be constantly alert lest the independence of the practicing physician or health officer be restricted in his relationship with his patients."

Dr. Allen urged the 1,500 participants in the week-long meeting to join in a "great crusade for the health and welfare of every living soul on this planet."

Someone Steals Pin From Body in Coffin

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Hundreds of visitors viewed the body of Jasper Wurring, 71, prominent restaurateur, between his death and funeral last week—and one of them may have departed with a $3,500 diamond stickpin from his necktie.

Police said Sunday they had no clues or suspects in the casket-raiding. The gold pin with diamond setting was missed shortly before the services.

Mayor Stingy With Talk, Governor Ups It to $27

WARWICK, R.I. (AP)—It cost Republican Gov. Christopher del Sesto $27 to make a speech Sunday.

The fee for speaking publicly at a Republican fund-raising picnic was $1 a minute.

The only other speaker was Mayor Raymond E. Stone. He spoke $1 worth.

Ah, Paree! Ze City of ze Seine!

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

PARIS—Ah, Paree! Ze city of candlelight and ze Seine. Ze city of love and romance. Ze city of nekked girls and existentsi (ze word I can never spell). Ze city that always inspired me to sit back in my $30-a-day hotel room, plus service charges, and wonder:

What's the matter with me? I just can't get with it.

Here I am, in a city noted for romance, and I keep sensing a sneaky feeling that nobody here loves me.

Probably just a lack of understanding between me and the Parisian French. They seem to feel that I am loaded with money, and I seem to feel that they are out to take it from me. I probably am wrong. They certainly are wrong.

But this impasse—this mutual distrust between Frenchman and American tourist—has gone on for many decades and I am not convinced it ever can be otherwise.

I have never been one to stand up for the great American tourist in foreign lands, because I believe too often he lives up to his reputation as being a touch too swaggery, demanding and oafish with peoples of other countries.

As a guest of the countries he visits, he too often treats his hosts like servants—counting on his dollars to pay off the citizens for his impoliteness.

The "nice" American tourists, however, are many. They are the ones who make an honest attempt to speak, in halting Bertitz, the language of their hosts; who earnestly try to understand a foreign country, and get the country to understand us.

In Paris, the ungentle and the gentlemen Americans are treated alike. Here, the tourist who "tries" to speak the language is not greeted with delighted laughter as in other European countries; he is greeted with grunts of despair.

As a woman, I am usually treated with tolerance. But I have seen men (as recently as last night) treated with the most insulting disdain for some infraction of tourist etiquette—like leaving only a 10 per cent tip to the waiter after being automatically charged at 15 per cent service charge on his enormous dinner bill.

The party who pulls this ungallant boo-boo—which in any other European country would be considered the height of generosity—is frequently lucky enough not to notice the nasty looks.

IN STATE OF SHOCK

This is because he often, at the end of a meal, is in a state of shock at receiving one of the highest priced tabs for fine food in the world.

At the nightclubs and bistros, an American will find that anything can happen to his bankroll—none of it good, with most clubs having a cover charge and a minimum of about four crisp dollars per drink. But this doesn't bother me.

Unless one is smart enough to look for the little share-a-bath hotels and is willing to stroll the Seine by moonlight and forget the tourist maps, he is going to spend his year's savings in Paris and should be reconciled to that fact.

It is the attitude of the people of Paris which always depresses me. They are not only anti-American, they appear to be anti-everyone—and they're not so sure they like themselves.

Still, it is true that no amount of frittered francs and cold glances can change the fact that Paris is the most beautiful city in all the world. With the most exciting food, brilliant museums, elegant fashions, a partridge in every pot and a bidet in every bathroom.

I will always leave Paris feeling that I have been absurdly "taken." But I will always return, with a fresh bankroll, forgetting the spiritual coolness and remembering only a strangely warm glow of excitement that is found nowhere else on earth.

Cavalry Rides Again in New Adaptation

IRONIA, N.J. (AP)—The colorful blue and gold uniform that marked the U.S. cavalry of the 1870s is once again being worn by a group of horsemen.

Eight men, who call themselves the Morris Troopers, appear in parades carrying the guidon of the 7th Cavalry, Custer's regiment which was wiped out at the Battle of Little Big Horn in 1876.

The troopers, including carpenters, painters, mechanics and a banker, own their own horses and have made their own uniforms. They are completely and authentically equipped, from their McClelland Army saddles to their sabres.

Cleveland Group to Aid Harmony of Two Races

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—The Cleveland Foundation has dedicated itself and $7,500 to preserving a prosperous suburban neighborhood where Negroes and whites live in harmony.

The neighborhood, including parts of Cleveland and suburban Shaker Heights, is one in which 80 or 90 Negro families live alongside 500 white families in homes of the 20 to 50-thousand-dollar class

The Cleveland Foundation made the grant to the Ludlow Community Association, a group representing both whites and Negroes, to "create a workable plan for democratic living" between the two races.

The association will sponsor an educational and promotional campaign to prevent a repetition of what has happened elsewhere — a mass exodus of white families when Negroes move in.

Cuba's Ex-Dictator at Home in Portugal

Officials of our State Department who refused an American visa to Gen. BATISTA must be breathing easier now. The former Cuban dictator has taken up residence on the Portuguese Island of Madeira.

The general left the Dominican Republic where he had been living in exile because he was an acute embarrassment, although a major source of income, to Dictator TRUJILLO. Ex-dictator PERON of Argentina is still his guest and we ourselves are harboring another former dictator, Gen. JIMENEZ of Venezuela.

Batista is strongly suspected of having used the republic as a base of plotting against the Castro Government. In any case his nearness to Cuba was a constant threat, as recent events have shown.

It was logical that BATISTA should be welcomed in Portugal, another dictatorship but of a gentler kind in contrast to the tyranny, graft and bloodshed of the former Cuban government. But there is the same repression, controlled economy, unrest and scorn of democratic ways in Dictator SALAZAR's "unitary and corporative republic."

Granting of asylum by Portugal has eased our Latin-American relations which would have been badly strained had Gen. Batista been allowed to join his family and supporters in Florida.

Our State Department was under heavy pressure from misguided and self-seeking quarters to admit the former dictator. Fortunately, good sense and firmness prevailed.

U.S. Reading Matter Tempting to Russians

It's good news that our bookmobile at the American exhibit in Moscow has reopened with a new supply of 2,000 volumes flown from New York. The project to refill the shelves was sparked by JOHN C. BULLITT, a Princeton, N.J. lawyer.

Our display was so popular and tempting to book-starved Russians that pilfering had depleted the supply. We can't get indignant over the case of the vanishing books.

If the basically honest Russian people are so anxious to learn about us that they can't resist the temptations inherent in a shelf of books, our State Department should seize this unexpected opportunity and put worthwhile American books and magazines in their hands.

The citizens of this country would be delighted to donate thousands of books from their own overflowing shelves.

Better Working Terms Due Migratory Labor

The spotlight is being turned on American Migratory Farm Labor. The AFL-CIO's executive committee is currently discussing plans for organizing the nation's farm workers.

Secretary of Labor Mitchell announces he will hold public hearings on certain amendments to prevent the use of tax supported facilities in undercutting prevailing wages, working conditions and transportation practices in areas where farmers recruit workers from out of state sources.

Probably the lowest group in earnings, the American Migratory Farm Labor Force is between 400,000 and 500,000, over 20 per cent above 1952. Average income totals $892 from farm and non-farm sources. Working and living conditions often are appalling.

A special Senate Labor Subcommittee on American migratory labor held hearings on August 7 on proposed legislation covering crew registration, minimum age and minimum wage. At present agricultural workers are not covered by such social legislation as minimum wage, unemployment insurance, labor-management relations or, in most states, workmen's compensation. Recently they have been included in Social Security coverage.

Chief Naturalist of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, wishes that more Oakland County people would visit their own new Nature Center. It is located at Kent Lake Park, near Milford.

In addition to displays of most everything of a fauna or floral nature found in our county, recently added have been specimens of the insect eating plants from our tamarack bogs, also wild bird eggs, ranging from those of the humming bird to the bald eagle.

The new center building is open from ten to four o'clock every day, Monday through Friday, and from ten to five o'clock on Saturday and Sunday. An hour's browsing among the exhibits will give you a better appreciation for what we have right here at home.

David Lawrence Says:

Dem Party Must Act . . . and Soon

WASHINGTON — In a few days there will be several important tests which will tell the American people whether the Democratc Party majority in Congress elected last autumn has proved responsible or irresponsible.

LAWRENCE

First, a bill calling for more than $1 billion in public works projects which are not provided for in the President's budget, but which selfish interests in various congressional districts have promoted, will be up for decision as to whether President Eisenhower's veto shall be sustained or overridden.

Second, the labor-reform bill which the nation demands and which was passed overwhelmingly by the House of Representatives has run into a deadlock in the joint conference committee of both houses.

Now the Senate must vote whether to follow or ignore the public sentiment that favors an end to racketeering and the "blackmail" picketing that injures innocent third parties.

Third, the House leadership of the Democratic Party has bottled up a bill that calls for higher interest rates on government bonds. The issue has not been permitted to be voted on in clear-cut fashion by the Democratic leaders of the House. Failure to act could mean a crisis for the dollar and produce more inflation.

SAYS SEN. BYRD

The best exposition of the case for the bill that would give the Treasury power to go beyond the present limit of 4¼ per cent on bonds that mature after five years has been given by Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia, Democrat, who is chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. He says:

"'The distinguished speaker of the House of Representatives, my good friend, Mr. Sam Rayburn, is quoted in the newspapers as saying that the House will not consider federal interest rate ceiling legislation at this session, as requested by the President, because, said Mr. Rayburn, 'there is not the slightest chance the Senate will do anything this year.'

"It seems to me to be somewhat inconsistent for the House to alibi itself around this very important matter when it has allowed the Senate no opportunity to act. Under the Constitution and custom the House originates legislation relating to taxation, debt, interest, etc. As the House, after weeks of consideration, has passed no interest rate bill the Senate has had no opportunity to act. . . .

"As chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, I want to say to the distinguished speaker that should the House pass such legislation, I will immediatey call a meeting of the finance committee for action on it. I do not pretend to speak for what either the Senate Finance Committee or the Senate will do, but I regard some legislation as vital in the fiscal crisis involving the sale of federal bonds which now confronts us.

"We must be realistic. We know interest rates on nearly all non-government issues of securities have increased, and the government must meet the prevailing interest rates. I deplore this, but such is the case. . . .

"Within the next 12 months the government must borrow at least $85 billion, and, under present legislation, this enormous sum must be sold in short term securities. . . .

"There is not a single treasury bond selling at par, and some are selling as low as 81, meaning that the purchaser of that particular issue of bonds at par has had a loss of 19 per cent on his principal. . . .

"I personally am convinced that it is imperative that this Congress act before it adjourns, to increase the rate on Series E and H Savings Bonds which are held by small investors. Holders of these savings bonds are now paid an interest rate of 3 per cent for the first 3 years and 3¼ per cent if held 8 years and 11 months to maturity, while the large owners of treasury bonds, at present quotations, can earn as much as 4.67 per cent. This is not only a great injustice to the 40 million citizens who own $42 billion in Series E and H, but we cannot overlook the fact that the owners of savings bonds have the right to cash them in, after 60 days. And, should they do so, a crisis of first magnitude will confront the United States Treasury. . . .

"It would be calamitous if we tried to solve this problem by forcing the Federal Reserve System purchase of more government bonds. This would mean printing money. Unquestionably it would lead to disastrous inflation."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Respiratory Infections Keeping Doctors Busy

From a survey in numerous urban and rural communities the U. S. Public Health Service concluded that about three-fourths of the everyday work of doctors everywhere is the diagnosis and treatment of respiratory infections and their sequels or consequences.

DR. BRADY

The respiratory infections are so called because the infection enters the body through the lining of nose, throat or breathing passages. They are common respiratory infections (CRI for short, pronounced kree) in that they are spread via cough, sneeze or conversation spray (droplet infection) and in early hours of their course they may be, and too frequently are considered to be "just a cold."

Here are the common respiratory infections: Mumps, whooping cough, measles, scarlet fever, German measles (rubella), diphtheria, influenza, poliomyelitis (infantile paralysis), meningitis, pneumonia, chickenpox and smallpox.

If you think you know better than I do about these infections I won't argue with you. Instead, let me quote what Boyd (Preventive Medicine) says about smallpox:

"Entrance of infective agent into the body — probably through the nose.

"Exit of infective agent—in the secretions of the mouth and nose (possibly the feces and urine) and discharges from the lesions. The disease is probably most infective in the early stage, when lesions are present in the mouth, nose and throat."

MANY OTHERS

Besides the 12 specific respiratory infections mentioned, there are many other acute respiratory infections, such as coryza, pharyngitis (sore throat), tonsillitis, quinsy, laryngitis, otitis media, mastoiditis, sinusitis, bronchitis, broncho-pneumonia, the germs of any of which may cause any of the other troubles in another person.

Some of the complications, sequels or consequences of the respiratory infections that call for surgery are sinusitis, mastoiditis, middle ear infection, enlarged or infected tonsils, adenoids, empyema (collection of pus in pleural or chest cavity), pleurisy with effusion (collection of serum in pleural or chest cavity), lung abscess, pneumococcus appendicts.

So you see, when you prevent the CRI you not only save a lot of money, but you deprive the doctor of most of his bread and butter — or anyway the butter.

It is not that this will materially reduce indiscriminate spread of the CRI, but I do believe that when we remind people of the facts set forth here a fair proportion of readers become more conscientious and more careful about the spread of the CRI.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Psychology Pays Off With Public

Notice Dr. Andrew's confession, for it should apply to all doctors and clergymen, lawyers and "front" men or women who face the public. Scrapbook this case and send for the booklet below, for it can literally zoom your earnings even before 1960 arrives.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

He has a big "Cat & Dog" hospital and is one of the most famous veterinarians in America.

DR. CRANE

"Dr. Crane," he began as we lunched together recently, "do you know why I have succeeded much better than many of my colleagues who were just as scientifically trained?"

Naturally, I nodded my head for my specialty is Applied Psychology.

"Well, I learned that people with pet cats or dogs, parakeets or even gold fish, regard those pets much as if they were children.

"The owners subconsciously assume the role of parents. So I decided it would be smart to memorize the names of the pets who were my patients.

MEMORY COURSE

"In fact, I even paid $75 tuition for a quick course in memory improvement.

"Then I made a special point of listing the pet's name on my filing card.

"Suppose a woman named Mrs. Brown had a cat called Fluff. When Mrs. Brown entered my reception room, my receptionist would instantly call via our intercom phone and notify me.

"Then I'd ask my nurse to look in the files quickly and lift out Mrs. Brown's card. I'd glance at it and note that the cat's name was Fluff.

"As soon as Mrs. Brown was ushered into my consulting office, I'd greet her with a smile and then ask: 'And what's the matter with Fluff?'

"Well, Mrs. Brown would beam in delight and express surprise that I should remember her pet from the thousands which I had treated during the year or two since I had seen Fluff last.

"But I'd modestly wave aside her compliment by saying Fluff was such a pretty cat with such glossy fur.

REMEMBER NAMES

"Well, Dr. Crane, I actually can name over 1,000 pet dogs, cats and parakeets in my area, not counting those others which I recall from my filing cards in the manner just mentioned.

"If I am at a social gathering, I ask people about Fluff, their cat, or Pete, their canary, or Ginger, their parakeet, etc.

"And by this simple use of psychology, I have zoomed my practice till now I probably have twice the income of any veterinarian in my entire area.

"And it isn't because I can do better surgery or diagnose pets in superior fashion, but just that people like me for showing an interest in their pets.

"Isn't it a shame that professional schools stress introvertive items like chemistry and physics so excessively that they fail to teach doctors a memory course on names and faces?"

'Mankind's greatest hunger is for ego inflation! We all bear the tattoo:

"I Want to Feel Important."

It not only may be worth $5,000 more per year to a physician or dentist, veterinary surgeon or lawyer, to remember names, but it is also a great boon to clergymen, too.

And all businessmen who "front" before the public, find it spells dollars and cents to remember names and faces.

So send for my booklet "How to Improve Memory and Study More Efficiently," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (nonprofit).

It can zoom your income remarkably even before 1960 arrives!

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

Quality of Administration at MSUO Impresses Her

Do we realize how fortunate we are to have a branch of Michigan State? Judging from recent Press articles, we're doubly fortunate in the caliber of men chosen to administer the branch University.

In remarks to incoming students, Dean Robert Hoopes advised them to make a critical examination and discard many of the notions and prejudices they'd acquired. What an excellent challenge for all of us to help us meet the challenging and changing ideas of this age.

Dr. Ekelund's point about degrees wasn't revolutionary, but he challenges those seeking degrees as to the meaning of degrees. He rightly says no level of our formal schooling can adequately educate a person for the whole of life in our complex society. No degree should mark the end of one's education but rather the beginning.

A sheepskin in itself holds no magic. We all know individuals without college training whose alert minds make them assets to the community and a pleasure to know. This is humbling to those of us with degrees, but it makes us realize we must study and learn as long as we live, think critically, meet dissenting opinions with fairminded scrutiny and watch for fallacies, especially those in our own conclusions.

If this University and others will make each student feel he's on the threshold of a thrilling lifetime of learning, he can live fully and contribute greatly to society. Then indeed will the future of public education be assured, and the graduates of our universities and colleges be proofs of the credit due our alma maters.

India Finds Co-Existence With Red China Difficult

By The Associated Press

India is finding it increasingly difficult to live with Red China in peaceful coexistence — a policy loudly proclaimed by both New Delhi and Peiping a few years ago.

Red China incursions from Tibet into northeast India and India's section of Kashmir are but the latest of a long series of incidents along India's northern frontier.

The mountainous and remote border regions have been in dispute for years, long before the Red Chinese Army marched into Tibet and seized control of that mountain land of the Lamas in 1951.

In the days when the Chinese Nationalists exercised nominal control over Tibet, their maps often showed sections of northeast India within the boundaries they had laid out for Tibet.

Reports out of Tibet that Chinese Communist officials were laying claim to parts of India's wild northeast have caused concern in New Delhi. So have reports of sporadic border crossings by Chinese Red troops.

Prime Minister Nehru, striving to get along with his big, tough neighbor, was inclined to shrug off or ignore the incidents and reports.

It was not until earlier this month that his government made inquiries through diplomatic channels about reports that Chinese Red officials in Tibet were talking as if parts of northeast India belonged to Tibet.

It was not until the end of July that Nehru sent a reconnaissance force to check on reports that Chinese troops had occupied part of the northeast's Kamong district, although the first Red troops had entered in October of 1957.

The revolt in Tibet, bloodily suppressed by Red Chinese soldiers in February and March, forced New Delhi to take a new look at its relations with Peiping.

Subsequently, the Nehru government accused the Chinese of violating financial agreements in Tibet, obstructing traditional trade over the Himalayas and denying the rights of Indian citizens in Tibet.

He said hundreds of Chinese troops crossed into India's northeast frontier area three times this month and drove back Indian border patrols.

He also said the Chinese have set up a camp in an uninhabited area of the Ladakh area of Kashmir, more than 1,000 miles west of the crossings on the northeast frontier. The Communists are building a road across the section of Kashmir, blocking off several hundred miles of Indian territory, Nehru said.

This area is as rugged and remote as the northeast region where the Red Chinese are operating.

India's northeast district is a wild, mountainous region of 35,000 square miles. Much of it is unexplored. Red Chinese maps claim nearly half of district as part of Tibet.

Flopping Hose, Sea Lion Trouble 3 in Motorboat

SAUSALITO, Calif. (AP)—Their 18-foot motorboat was sinking under three San Franciscans, so they abandoned ship in the bay.

Then Jerry Anolik, Fred Manley and Gunnard Mahl climbed right back in when they decided a black creature circling them was a shark.

But the shark barked like a sea lion, so they jumped overboard again and waited an hour for a passing yachtsman to pick them up.

They spent Sunday raising their craft and found a loose hose behind the engine responsible for the leak.

The Missouri River is 2,700 miles long.

Runs Quarter of Mile With Snake Biting

OWASSO, Okla. (AP) — A 27-year-old farm laborer ran a quarter of a mile Sunday with a water moccasin biting into his leg.

Jesse Crippen said the poisonous snake struck him while he was fishing at a farm pond. Unable to get it loose, he ran to the home of relatives who pulled it off.

He was reported in good condition at a Tulsa hospital.

Jordan Seeks Arab Aid

AMMAN, Jordan (UPI) — Jordan will appeal to the Arab states next month to support its bid for membership in the United Nations Security Council, a spokesman said today.

No New Era, Warns Nixon

Communist Aggression Puts Damper on Hopes for Cold War Thaw

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon, last night warned the nation not to expect a new era of sweetness and light to result from President Eisenhower's exchange of visits with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

"Ike will have his guard up in the conversations with Khrushchev," said Nixon. "They can't talk one way in one part of the world and have the Communist forces act another was (as in India) in another part of the world.

"It is a warning to us that you can't count too highly on this being a new era of sweetness and light, the Communists are still on their aggressive course."

Nixon made his remarks at a press conference on his arrival here last night to address the 60th national convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. He said he believed Eisenhower's tremendous reception during his current European tour would give him a psychological edge when he meets with Khrushchev.

"The President's tour has exceeded expectations. It indicates so far that his prestige and the prestige of the U.S. is higher than at any time since the war. It has demonstrated the unity and will of the free nations."

National Commander John W. Mahan said one of the proposals to be made at the convention was the formation of a new American "Indian Ocean Fleet" by taking some ships out of moth balls.

Mahan, of Helena, Mont., said: "There is a tremendous power vacuum in India and southeast Asia. It is obvious by recent events that the Comunist world now intends to start agitating in this area."

Mahan urged that the U.S. "immediately make up a fleet to be known as the Indian Ocean fleet, from ships presently in moth balls."

Shawneetown Was Planned by Government

SHAWNEETOWN, Ill. (AP)—The city of Shawneetown, which is preparing for its sesquicentennial next year, shares with Washington, D.C. the distinction of being a city planned by the federal government.

Congress established Shawneetown in 1810 when it authorized a survey to establish a distributing post office for the raw frontier territory. The town is located on the Ohio River about 35 miles southwest of Evansville, Ind.

For the next 20 years, Shawneetown was the main cross roads of the frontier territory which later became the states of Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee and Missouri.

Profs to Wield Brooms, Replace Striking Workers

FULTON, Mo. (AP) — Twenty-seven members of Westminster College's faculty today drop their textbooks in favor of work clothes and brooms.

They'll replace 10 maintenance men, on strike in an attempt to win recognition of Teamsters Union Local 774 as bargaining agent.

With school scheduled to open Sept. 12 and the campus looking more seedy than tweedy, college President Robert L. D. Davidson sent out a call for volunteers. The 27 hardy professors, instructors and staffers stepped forward.

Quits Legion Over Color Line

Negro Lawmaker Hits Barrier to His Joining 40 & 8 Society

NEW YORK (AP)—Another Negro legislator has resigned from the American Legion in protest over the Legion's refusal to drop the color bar in its funmaking society—the 40 & 8. The Legion itself has no such membership clause.

U.S. Rep. Charles C Diggs Jr. (D-Mich) resigned Friday over what he termed "a shocking demonstration of intolerance." He referred to the action of the Legion's national convention in Minneapolis, which last Wednesday voted down a poposal to permit voluntary racial integration in local units of the 40 & 8.

Watson resigned in a letter to the Legion's new commander, Martin B. McKneally, of Newburgh, N.Y., in which he wrote that Legion members were "turning their backs on heroes of the past wars."

"As a three-time Purple Heart winner with the 92d Infantry Division in Italy during World War II," said Watson, "I feel this affects me personally, and I can no longer support the organization."

Another Legion member, U.S. Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY), who is white, said he will remain in the Legion and fight from the inside what he termed the funmaking society's policy of racial intolerance.

"This is no time to turn and run from a fight," said Javits, a strong supporter of civil rights legislation.

Pope Praises American Aid After WW II

CASTELGANDOLFO, Italy (UPI) — Pope John XXIII praised Americans yesterday for aiding stricken countries since the end of World War II.

The Pope also praised "the strong state of American Catholics" and said they made good, charitable use of their money, Vatican sources said.

4 Are Critical After Auto Turns Into Path of Other in Minnesota

GRAND RAPIDS, Minn. (UPI)—Fifteen persons were injured last night in a two-car crash on Highway 2 near here. Four of the injured remained in critical condition today.

Highway patrolman James Erickson said a car driven by Irvin Stuckslager of Grand Rapids, Minn., made a left turn in front of an oncoming car driven by Gerald Le Croix of Lavack, Ont. The two cars crashed.

With Le Croix was his wife and their five children. Nine persons were in the other car: Stuckslager, his wife, and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Schedin of Grand Rapids and their five children.

Erickson said he would talk to the Cass County prosecuting attorney's office about bringing charges against Stuckslager.

Mrs. Le Croix and her son, Rajen, 8, were critically injured. Le Croix, first placed on the critical list, was later reported in fair condition. The other Le Croix children, ranging in age from 6 months to 6 years, were also injured.

Schedin and his son, Thomas, 5, suffered critical head injuries. Schedin's daughter, Susan, 14, was the only occupant of the Stuckslager car not hospitalized.

Seek Parents Who Teach Kids to Steal

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—Police today said they were seeking a father and mother who supported themselves by teaching their seven children to steal.

Kenneth Myers, 39-year-old former Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., guard, and his wife, Dolores, 41, were wanted on charges of burglary, receiving stolen property and contributing to the delinquency of minors.

The Fagin-like couple was believed traveling in a house trailer with four of their children whom they have trained as professional pick pockets, shoplifters, auto thieves and burglars, according to police.

Activities of the Myers family were revealed to juvenile bureau detective Simon Bolger Saturday when the couple's 14-year-old son was arrested attempting to steal a small machine tool in a store.

The youth told Bolger that his father spent a year schooling the seven children in the ways of crime.

He estimated the family made about $6,000 this year and was responsible for about 600 minor thefts since moving to the San Diego area last Christmas.

The youth said his elder brother and sister refused to take part in the family theft scheme and subsequently were "expelled" from the family. He didn't know where they now were, he said.

STUTTGART, West Germany (UPI) — Troops and planes participated today in West Germany's biggest military maneuvers of the year.

Who? Why, State Legislatures

Caught With Their Budgets Down

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Caught with their budgets down, state legislatures have made more major tax changes this year than in any since the war. With few exceptions the changes were to get more dough.

The fiscal picture for most of them changed from rosy to dark between 1957 and 1959, the Tax Foundation reports today.

"Two years ago," says the private research organization," the future appeared bright to most states. They had larger general fund balances than they had anticipated. Tax revenues were productive beyond expectation."

Then the recession pinched tax collections. At the same time there were more demands due to rising populations and higher costs.

When new budgets came up this year many states had deficits. Others feared deficits soon.

Even so, total tax collections by the states set a record in fiscal 1959 of 15¾ billion dollars, up about a billion in a year, the Commerce Department reports.

The Tax Foundation has reviewed legislation in 38 states where the lawmakers have adjourned. Eight other legislatures are still in session. And there were no sessions in the remaining states. It reports 111 major tax changes, compared with the previous peak of 101 in 1955.

Of this year's major changes 87 involve tax increases, 12 are new taxes, and 5 are reductions. One state repealed a tax. Six started general withholding of personal income taxes.

The Foundation feels sure the legislatures still in session will add to the final total of major tax changes.

Counting in all the minor changes, including technical amendments, the Foundation looks for a grand total of 2,000 this year.

Among major tax increases approved to date are 8 on individual incomes, 8 on corporate incomes, 12 on sales, 4 on gasoline, 17 on tobacco and 12 on alcoholic beverages.

Fifteen governors submitted budgets asking for new revenue sources. They planned a balance by use of cash on hand, increased collections from existing taxes or by borrowing. However, three of their legislatures increased taxes anyway.

The one repeal was in Kansas where the oil and gas severance tax (based on depletion of natural resources) was withdrawn after having been declared unconstitutional.

Relatives, Friends Wait . . .

Quake's Toll Unknown

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP)—It has been a harrowing two weeks for relatives and friends of those still missing in the Montana earthquake of Aug. 17-18.

Mrs. Rex Miller of Idaho Falls is one. Her brother, Robert J. Williams, his wife and three children were in Virginia City, Mont., several hours before the quake struck.

Virginia City is not far from southwestern Montana's Hebgen Dam where the earth shook hardest that Monday night and Tuesday morning.

"They may get back," Mrs. Miller told a reporter who phoned her early today. "He's not due back at work until today."

Sheriff Donald J. Skerritt of Gallatin County in Montana says his staff is checking with relatives and friends of the 13. "We want to determine how many we can presume dead," he says.

The Williamses were traced to a museum at Virginia City where they signed the registry Aug. 17. They were on a vacation trip with plans to camp out. The Hebgen Dam area was a popular camping spot.

Search officials have reported no further trace of the family.

Socialite Is Off on Honeymoon After Quiet Rites

SHORT HILLS, N.J. (AP)—Socialite Jacqueline Gay Hart, who became Mrs. Stanley N. Gaines over the weekend, is off on a "three or four-year honeymoon," says Ralph A. Hart, her father.

The ceremony was a far cry from the impressive one that had been planned for the 21-year-old blonde, who touched off a nationwide search last month when bridal jitters sent her running to Chicago.

Miss Hart at first claimed she had been kidnaped, then admitted she had taken a bus from New York. The reason, she said, was the strain of elaborate wedding preparations.

Soviet Paper Accuses Tel Aviv of Stupidity

MOSCOW (UPI) — Izvestia accused Israel's government yesterday of "dragging the country into a military conflagration."

"By its irresponsible actions, Tel Aviv is making itself look more and more like Bonn," the Soviet government newspaper said. Izvestia specifically complained about Israel's arms deal with West Germany.

'Chicken' Game on Bicycles Injures Boy, 9

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) — Two boys raced their bikes at each other Sunday from opposite ends of a street in suburban Maplewood. Neither swerved and the bicycles collided.

James Stewart, 11, thrown to the pavement in the collision, was reported in critical condition today. His skull was fractured.

The other boy in the test of nerves, known among the younger set as the game of "chicken," is Dennis Wilson, 9. He was not seriously hurt.

State School Funds Won't Deluge Out

LANSING (UPI)—There will be no sudden, silvery shower of cash for the school districts despite weekend agreement by the Legislature on a record high support level of $205 per pupil.

State officials warn the money will dribble out of the treasury — unless lawmakers agree to cash in the $50-million veterans trust fund to help support the schools over some lean months ahead.

Many districts still will be forced to borrow to open schools on schedule. But at least they now will be able to borrow against the pledged state aid — estimated at a whooping $326,000,000 for the current fiscal year.

The bill includes a 3¼ mills deductible millage formula which provides for channeling more money to the less prosperous districts. It was approvd.

Skin Diver Has Whale of a Tale to Tell of Ride

WELLFLEET, Mass. (UPI)—Philip Amero of East Dennis thinks he may be the only person ever to go riding on a whale.

The rugged skin diving instructor had a group of pupils in a boat a quarter mile outside Wellfleet Harbor when he saw four whales swimming past.

He jumped overboard with the hope of driving them into shallow water where he could photograph them with an underwater camera.

But the whales didn't frighten. So Amero swam right up and grabbed one by the dorsal fin, securing his hold by plunging a short knife into the whale's blubber, but not deep enough to hurt the big mammal.

Not until one of the students started up the boat's motor did the whale streak for the open ocean. Amero estimates he traveled 50 feet before he was washed overboard.

Mao Opposition Found in Party

China Admits Violent Criticism Against Red Party Leader

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China today admitted Mao Tze-tung's domestic policies — including the peasant communes—have encountered violent and widespread opposition. There were indications the revolt against Mao was on the highest levels within the party.

The announcement said party workers were among the "rightist opportunists" who attacked Mao's 1959 line. However, it did not say whether any of his top-ranking associates were involved.

The campaign follows last week's confession that the nation's production figures were exaggerated and this year's goals unattainable.

The announcement of the campaign to silence Mao's critics was carried in Red Flag, biweekly organ of the party Central Committee.

Troy Crash Kills Man, Injures Four

A 71-year-old Troy man was killed and four others injured in a two-car collision at John R. and Big Beaver roads, in Troy, Saturday.

Dead on arrival at William Beaumont Hospital was Harry Rinker of 305 E. Maple St., one of the drivers. He suffered a fractured skull and crushed chest.

Injured in the Rinker car were Dean Jines, 20, and his wife Vonnie, 21, both of Wabash, Ind.

All were taken to William Beaumont Hospital for treatment.

LISBON, Portugal (UPI) — Two 10,000-ton arches collapsed at a construction site near Lisbon today, killing at least seven workers and injuring about 50. The workers were excavating for a new steel plant at Paio Pires, across the river Tagus from this city.

Laborite to Meet Nikita

MOSCOW (UPI) — British Labor Party leader Hugh Gaitskell and Chief Lieutenant Aneurin Bevan will meet with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in Moscow Friday, it was announced here today.

Newspapers in Britain Hit Hagerty

LONDON (UPI) — Britain liked Ike today but White House Press Secretary James Hagerty got a terrible press.

Not even London's Communist Daily Worker had a bad word for President Eisenhower.

However, Britain's nationally circulated newspapers heaped abuse on Hagerty, the man responsible for the President's press relations.

The Times of London devoted more than half its Eisenhower coverage — two columns — to detailing anti-Hagerty complaints and then supported him.

But other newspapers were frankly critical.

The Daily Herald accused Hagerty of playing "Ike's visit for laughs" in its main editorial. The Daily Sketch reported newsmen left a Hagerty briefing "disgusted and bewildered."

The Daily Express spoke of "fantastic secrecy" surrounding news about the President.

The Daily Worker headlined: "We're Only Told What Ike Ate."

The British newspapers complained Hagerty failed to provide "real news" about what Eisenhower did. A London (Daily Herald) reporter yesterday interrupted a Hagerty briefing to shout his displeasure at Hagerty.

2 Youths to Face Charges in Brutal Knife Murders

NEW YORK (UPI) — Police said today two youths were being held in custody and would be charged with homicide in the fatal stabbing of two 16-year-old boys—the latest victims of New York City street violence.

At least 10 other youths were also in police custody. They will be held as material witnesses or charged with unlawful assembly, according to the chief of detectives, James B. Leggett.

The victims were stabbed to death Saturday night. A gang of youths armed with knives attacked eight teen-agers sitting in a playground.

The leader of the attacking group, police were told, wore a black cloak, carried a cane and had large buckles on his shoes. Police said they recovered a black cloak and buckle shoes from one of the youths held.

Leggett said the fatal stabbings apparently did not represent organized gang action, but were a personal matter, growing out of an individual grievance. He did not explain further.

The deaths brought to four the number of young people killed in teen-age violence in a week. The city's toll so far this year is eight dead.

A third boy was stabbed in the stomach in Sunday's violence, a bottle was broken over another boy's head, and two other boys and a girl were roughed up.

Six boys and two girls were sitting in a darkened playground on Manhattan's West Side when they were set upon.

One of the boys who was roughed up, Jimmy Orphanos, 15, said the gang leader wore a black cape, "like the kind Dracula wears in the movies," and carried a cane.

Cancels 'Truth' for Ike

LONDON (UPI) — In order to broadcast today's television appearance by President Eisenhower and prime minister Harold Macmillan, Britain's independent television authority cancelled a program called "Tell The Truth."

2-Car Crash Kills 2

PORT HURON (UPI) — The St. Clair County sheriff's office reported two persons killed and at least two others injured today in a two-car crash near Emmett, 18 miles west of here. The injured were taken to Yale Hospital in Yale.

New Sales Tax List

Here's What You'll Pay

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan merchants and others will start collecting what amounts to a four-cents sales tax from their customers tomorrow.

Technically, tax payers will pay a three-cent sales and a one cent use tax on their purchases. But merchants are expected to overlook the fine print in the new use tax law and treat them as a single tax.

The Michigan Retailers Assn. and the Detroit Retail Merchants Assn. jointly worked out a brackets system as a guide for merchants collecting a four-cent tax. Letters outlining the recommended system were sent yesterday to members of both groups and to some 400 chambers of commerce across the state.

Here's what, you, the tax payer, likely will pay on a purchase of:

one to 16 cents	No tax
17 to 37 cents	one cent
38 to 51 cents	two cents
52 to 77 cents	three cents
78 cents to $1.12	four cents
$1.13 to $1.37	five cents
$1.38 to $1.62	six cents
$1.63 to $1.87	seven cents
$1.98 to $2.12	eight cents

Couple Bound by Rail Ties

They Share Careers as Signal Operators for Pennsylvania Road

BEAVER, Pa. (UPI)—William Freed is one husband you'll never hear complain about being "railroaded" into marriage.

As far as he and his wife Jane are concerned, railroad ties are the ties that bind.

Not only their minds but their careers have been running on the same track even before their marriage 12 years ago. Both come from railroad families. They met while working on the Pennsylvania Railroad. Now, they are both signal tower operators on the day shift.

Their 45-foot trailer home in Racine, not far from here, exudes enthusiasm for railroad life. A large oil painting of a Pennsylvania piggyback train decorates one wall; a model railroad section is displayed on their small spinet organ. Railroad magazines and timetables are their favorite literature.

On vacations, the Freeds like to camp out — choosing sites near railroad tracks "to see and hear the trains."

Grand Rapids Bishop to Resign for Health

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — Rt. Rev. Dudley Barr McNeil has resigned as bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Western Michigan, effective Sept. 1, because of ill health and the need for less strenuous work.

Battle of the Grape

'Educate' America to Like Wine

By WARD CANNEL

SARATOGA, Calif. (NEA) — And then, suddenly, this quiet little valley town was filled with Important Persons — the kind who know what's what and how much it pays quarterly.

The Governor from Sacramento; an under-secretary of Commerce from Washington; seven millionaires; a whole file of Internal Revenue Men—and all for a 45-minute dedication ceremony of a champagne winery.

For America has, it appears to the smart money and their tax assessors, developed a national appetite for premium champagne. And this is no small thing, either for California or the rest of the country.

And so a venerable vineyard in this San Jose Valley town is banking on a $3,000,000 winery to expand the necessary—but slow—means of production to pay off this fantastic change in American taste.

This vineyard's competitors tell me they will have to follow the same tack or get stranded in the port and sauterne. Distributors and retailers are already well along in their studies of champagne preference and etiquette. Food trades schools are beginning to require that student-waiters learn champagne service and suggestion.

Now, this new American taste and its burgeoning industry is hardly an accident—like hoola hoops or automobile styling.

"We taught people to drink champagne," purrs executive director Otto Meyer of Saratoga's Paul Masson Vineyards. "The whole wine industry got together and taught them, right up the scale; champagne drinking was inevitable."

After World War II, the industry assayed itself and us and began a program to explain that wine was inexpensive, pleasurable, versatile—and above all democratic.

"Only snobs talk about color, grape, origin—and in French at that," a wine industry spokesman told me 10 years ago. "The wine you like is the wine for you."

In those 10 years the anti-snob approach has paid off so well that hardly anybody talks about "domestic wines" anymore, except to buy them.

Today, not surprisingly:

1. Wine sales of all kinds have climbed to a high of well over a half-billion domestic dollars.

2. Almost all of that money goes to American producers. The grape has become California's second richest crop.

3. Champagne consumption alone has leaped by an average of 12 per cent each year since 1950.

4. And the wheel has gone full circle. Paul Masson, for example, now prints its labels part in English and part in French—identifying color, grape, style and origin.

"In some strange way," one of the millionaires at the dedication told me, "it is the triumph of Main Street over Park Avenue."

It is also the triumph of California over France.

But strangest of all, it is the triumph of Saturday afternoon over Saturday night. For if champagne has stood for anything in America it is the pomp and circumstance of high leisure; the celebration of magnificent fortune; the slake of unearned thirst.

It was not a reward of having eaten your spinach. It was a dividend to be drunk before the spinach—by people who didn't have to eat their spinach if they didn't want to.

What would Cotton Mather have said? Or Jonathan Edwards or John Winthrop or Sam Adams or Thomas Paine? What would they have said?

It is the triumph of Twentieth Century, fringe-benefited, over-taxed, status-ridden, movie-educated America over Plymouth Rock.

And if our Puritan fathers were alive to see it, as somebody must have said, they would be spinning in their graves.

Believed Outnumbered Over 5-1

India No Match for China

By The Association Press

India, with about 360 million people, and Red China with 600 million are the two biggest nations in the world. But their military power is not so well matched.

India's armed forces number about 500,000, with 400,000 in the army and most of the rest in the air force, according to military estimates.

Red China's army, U.S. military men believe, is between 2,600,000 and 3,000,000.

The Indians are reported to have a good but small air force, mostly equipped with British planes.

In 1956 Red China was reported to have about 3,000 jet fighters, and 500 to 700 light jet bombers, plus older propeller-driven planes. The jets were made by Russia. Presumably the air force has received more modern planes since 1956. Nationalist Chinese believe some of them are Russia's newest MIG17s.

The Indian and Red Chinese navies consist of small coastal vessels.

Neither country has atomic weapons.

Ford to Disclose Falcon Details

2-Way Closed Circuit and News Conference Set for Wednesday

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. is going to be the first of the Big Three auto manufacturers to give the public full details of its small car, the Falcon.

The company will use a two-way closed circuit telecast to 21 cities on Wednesday to describe the smaller car and show it in action. Information given in the telecast and a following news conference will be for immediate public release.

Ford said it expects to disclose all details about the Falcon during the conference.

Chrysler recently held a news briefing on its small car, the Valiant, but disclosed no details or specifications for publication.

The Chevrolet Corvair, so far the only one of the three cars in production, still is running under wraps. Chevrolet has scheduled a new conference about this car on Sept. 10.

Discriminating Thief Knows Rare Coins

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Police today sought a discriminating thief who stole rare gold coins valued up to $11,000 from a jewelry collection at the UCLA library.

Mrs. Catherine Hearst, wife of newspaper executive Randolph Hearst, was owner of all but two of the 14 to 16 coins stolen. Among the valuable coins taken were 2,500-year-old Greek and Roman money pieces, a Spanish doubloon and a pre-Columbian coin.

"He skillfully picked the coins to steal which are hardest to identify and most valuable," said a university official.

Sit-Down Strike First Staged by Convicts

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—The first sit-down strike in America took place in 1886 at Coal Hill, according to the Arkansas Publicity and Parks Commission.

During the early days of the Arkansas penitentiary system, convicts were leased to private contractors in agriculture and industry.

The convicts had to work long hours without pay and were treated harshly. The sit-down strike occurred when a number of them working for a contractor in a coal mine sat down in the tunnels and refused to leave.

The sit-downers erected barricades, killed the car mules for food and fashioned a crude cannon from iron pipe. They loaded the cannon with scrap metal and blasting powder and dared any-

After 18 days, the various demands of the sit-down-strikers for better treatment were met, and a subsequent investigation brought the abolishment of the system of leasing prisoners.

Mr. Harold Fitzgerald
The Pontiac Press
48 West Huron
Pontiac, Michigan

Dear Sir,

This letter could have been written after my first year in Pontiac; but now, after 27 months as a Pontiac resident and as a daily reader of The Pontiac Press, I am quite certain of my views of your newspaper. I have lived in several cities, both in the East and the South, with populations approximating that of Pontiac, and I can say without qualification that The Pontiac Press is far and away the best newspaper in all respects that I have ever read week in and week out. It is a rare thing to find such a strong and independent and completely competent newsaper and staff in a city of this size and so near a metropolitan center.

The most praise-worthy feature of your newspaper, in my opinion, is its tone. The editorials are consistently sane and sound, informative, accurate, and thought provoking. No false ring, no irrational viewpoints. Your syndicated columns and materials are excellent, just the right seasoning and emphasis. There is a "refinement" about the total production that is not obtrusive nor self-conscious, but completely wholesome and natural; inspiring health of mind and rational opinion.

As a churchman I have been keenly appreciative of your coverage of religious items, particularly of a local nature. In this difficult field you have shown the rare genius of generosity and impartiallity. Mrs. Anglemier is the most cooperative and religiously literate Church Editor of my many years experience.

Speaking as a citizen, this City is greatly honored and blessed to have such a man as you at the head of its most important communications media. Certainly the vast majority of your readers will agree.

Most sincerely,

Harry B. Schlosser

Will Reconsider Police Bonding

Waterford Area Board Also May Change Rule Requiring Deputizing

One of the main items slated on tonight's agenda of the Waterford Township board meeting will be action on police department operation, according to supervisor Elmer E. Johnson.

A request for local officers to be released from being deputized by the Oakland County sheriff in order to perform their duties has been presented by Police Chief Millard J. Pender.

At the present time, every Waterford Township police officer must be deputized and bonded by the county sheriff's department. The local officers are also bonded for $5,000 by the township.

By operating independently of the sheriff's department, policemen will be bonded only once. Both departments will still work together, but as separate units, Pender said.

In other business it is expected that a group of residents in the Telegraph road-Dixie highway area, headed by D. P. McLain, will be present to protest the issuance of an amusement park license to David Senter. Senter has opened a midget blacktop racetrack in the area.

Bids on the sale of $32,000 for special assessment paving bonds for Lansdowne, Camley and Marion streets will be opened. Bids on a one-half ton pickup truck and also bids on a tractor-digger for the township water department will also be opened.

In the first of a series of township ordinance revisions, attorney Paul Mandel is expected to present his recommendations on a speed track ordinance. He has been authorized by the board to review and make revision recommendations on all of the township's ordinances.

Following the regular meeting, the township board of health, made up of the township board members, will meet and review an ordinance pertaining to health improvement and restriction licenses.

Under the boundary waters treaty of 1909 between the United States and Canada, both countries have free and equal navigation rights on the waters of the Great lakes.

Over 800 Million Cans Made Here Since Invention

Since the first "canister" was patented in England in 1810, more than 800 billion cans have been made in the United States alone. American Can Co., which figured out these statistics, says that if these cans were stacked end on end they would stretch beyond the planet Mercury, which is 40 million miles from earth.

There are more than 600 different sizes, shapes and styles of cans made. Americans open about 42 billion cans a year, an average of 940 per family. And, as a statistical clincher, Canco reports that American can openers travel more than half a million miles a year opening cans.

Expert Predicts Atomic Powered Tractors Soon

NEW YORK (AP)—Atomic power may reach the farm soon.

Dr. Finn J. Larsen, research director of Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Co., says fusion atomic energy for farm equipment tractors and the like — is on its way.

He distinguishes between fusion and fission atomic energy thusly: fusion results from the combining of lighter elements rather than the breaking up of heavy atoms as in the fission process.

Fusion atomic energy's greatest advantage, he says, is that it does not require shielding because it is not radioactive.

More Beef Cattle Will Be Needed in the Future

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — "There is more room for expansion in beef cattle between now and 1975 than for any other class of livestock," according to Hal Routhe, University of Minnesota economist.

Routhe said that by 1975 Americans will need 50 per cent more beef annually than they are now eating because of the expected growth in population.

In actual numbers, he said, there will need to be about 108 million head of beef cattle on U.S. farms in 1965 and 127 million in 1975. Right now there are about 97 million.

Routhe noted that the nation also will need much more pork and dairy products in 1975, but he said improved technology can supply much of the increase without an addition in animal numbers. He said the same holds true for poultry.

The economist said farmers should keep this in mind when planning future operations.

Special Case Calls for Tipping

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: "I have a tipping problem and hope you can help me. I would like to know if I should tip the electrologist who is removing facial hair for me. This is a process which (in my case) has required regular quarter-hour appointments every two weeks for the past six months and will probably continue for another six months.

"The young woman who is doing the work is one of two qualified electrogolists who are located in the beauty salon of a local department store. While not, strictly speaking, the manager of this service, she is the one who started the service for a national firm who owns and services the machines that she and the other woman operate. This firm pays her wages.

"It had never occurred to me to tip her as I've always looked upon these treatments as more medical than anything else, and I'd certainly never dream of tipping my physician or my dentist. However, since her conversation with me regarding her salary, she is surrounded by beauty and in view of the fact that shop personnel, maybe she does expect a tip. Is there any established rule on this subject?"

Answer: This is a rather unusual situation, but I think you should tip the young woman who has been giving you the treatments about twelve or fifteen per cent of your bill.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married the week after Labor Day and the men in the wedding party would like to wear white coats with their tuexdo trousers. Would this be proper, or does Labor Day officially end the summer season?"

Answer: Here in the North it will be too late for white coats. In our Southerns states they would be proper even in winter.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it not the correct thing to send a corsage or a small gift to a young girl's "coming out" party on receiving an invitation to it?"

Answer: Only if you are an intimate friend of the girl's parents, a relative or a special boy friend of hers.

Try These Cures for Snoring Mates

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband used to snore so loud it almost broke up our marriage. A neighbor of mine told me she had the same trouble with her husband and this is how she solved her problem: She took a plain ordinary gauze bandage (about three inches wide) and she tied his mouth shut. As long as a person's mouth is closed he can't snore. I have been doing this for about four years now and it works very well. I can't sign my name because I promised my husband I wouldn't tell anybody, so if you use this letter, just sign it—

ABBY

"FIVE FOOT TWO"

DEAR ABBY: In reference to the wife whose husband's snoring annoyed her: Tell her to sew a large empty spool on the back of his pajama tops. Sew it right in the middle of the back, between the shoulder blades. If he happens to turn over on his back, this spool will remind him to turn over on his side. When he turns on his side, he will quit snoring. Thank you. EVA

DEAR ABBY: I am a woman who used to snore so loud that nobody could believe it! Before I was married it caused me a lot of embarrassment because everywhere I'd go — in hotels or on overnight train trips, everyone thought I had a man in there with me.

I even went to a doctor to see if something could be done. I got no help. Finally, someone told me that snoring was caused by sleeping with the mouth open. That gave me an idea.

I bought some adhesive tape, and taped my mouth closed one night. My husband, who had been sleeping in another room, promised to stay with me all night to see if it worked. He said it was a miracle! I didn't make a sound. Since then, I've been taping my mouth closed every night, and I haven't snored since.

PROBLEM SOLVED

DEAR ABBY: I don't care what anybody says. There is NO cure for snoring.

I married a man who can win a prize as the world's loudest snorer. He can snore in ANY position—on his back, on either side, or on his face.

I simply made up my mind that I wasn't going to let it bother me. When he starts to snore I just pretend that he is "singing" to me and I go right to sleep.

Now if I don't hear him snoring, I can't go to sleep because I know that he is worried about something or he isn't feeling well.

Sincerely yours,

CLINT'S WIFE

DEAR ABBY: What's all this jazz about a wife complaining because her husband snores at night? At least she knows where he is.

STUCK WITH THE KIDS

DEAR ABBY: I hope you will pass this sure-cure recipe for snoring on so that woman whose husband snored so bad. Before retiring, fix him a "snack" of yogurt (one cup) mixed with one raw egg and a heaping teaspoon of wheat germ (you can buy it in any health food store). Add a pinch of dry mustard and about half a cup of finely chopped raw fish (any kind of fish will do, but remove the bones first). It is delicious and is guaranteed to cure snoring. I have tried it and it works!

MRS. R. M. B.

DEAR MRS. B.: It is no wonder your husband does not snore. After this "snack," Who could sleep?

Headaches Are a Mystery

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Headaches are not a new discomfort. Some skulls from prehistoric times have been found to have openings from which disks of bone had been removed. Archeologists guess that this was done to relieve such miseries as headaches, epilepsy, or evil spirits held captive in the skull. Evidently many sufferers survived since many had several holes in their heads.

So far as I know there never have been any surveys to discover what percentage of mankind and womankind have headaches, but well-informed physicians estimate that about 70 per cent of the population have them at one time or another. Of course there are millions of mild headaches which are self-treated with one of the painkillers which can be purchased at the corner drugstore.

SEVERE KIND

Then there are the headaches which are so severe that they force the victim to see a physician. Dr. Harold G. Wolff of New York Hospital — Cornell Medical Center, who has made studies of the mechanics of this difficulty, estimates that 10 to 12 per cent of adults seek medical help for headache alone.

It is interesting to know which classifications of humans have the most headaches. While individual susceptibility cannot be predicted it does seem that the distribution of this malady is somewhat subject to occupation, age, sex and marital state.

Dr. Henry Ogden of the Louisiana University School of Medicine has made some interesting surveys along this line. He studied a sample population of 5,000 people to obtain information concerning recurring headaches. It seems that unmarried women under the age of 20 have the greatest number. As to occupation, business executives and professional persons head the list and housewives are third.

I must admit that it gave me a complex when I read that 80 per cent of medical students complain of recurring headaches while patients in mental institutions almost never have a pain in the head. This gave me a complex because I NEVER have a headache; the two exceptions being once when I played badminton in 100 degree temperature and once when I had a sinus infection.

DON'T draw your own conclusions. I hope that the statistics are misleading or that I am the exception which proves the rule!

Nightly Care Aids Oily Skin

Squeezing blackheads is a dandy way to get a skin infection. Besides, it's ineffectual.

The best way to dislodge those oily deposits is to use a medicated cream intended for this purpose. There are a number of good ones on the market. After you remove the cream, apply an astringent.

You may have to repeat the treatment every night for several weeks before you see results. But the treatment takes only 15 minutes.

Lack of Self-Trust Often Leads to Fear

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

She's divorced, the working mother of two small boys. They share her parents' apartment. Her problem is the neighbors. They want quiet. But noise is often the consequence of saying "no" to to healthy youngsters.

She writes: "My kids won't listen to me because they know I don't dare start anything that might disturb the neighbors. Yet my mother is always at me to make them do as they're told. ?."

Maybe, dear reader, it's not your neighbors who want the quiet. Maybe it's your mother who wants it; and asks you to consider the neighbors lest she appears to be unhelpful and want consideration for herself.

Have you ever thought of living alone with your boys?

Let's assume you've just told me all the reasons why you can't. You need someone to supervise the boys while you work. You can't find a place, etc., etc., etc.

Now let's look at what may be the real one.

A marriage failure can leave us with a fear of failing as mothers as we've failed as wives. It can be such a deep fear that we don't want to know about it. So it can manipulate us without our being aware of it.

With this secret fear driving us, we will return to our parents' homes, not for any of the reasons we think we do but because we don't trust ourselves as mothers. The mother we trust is our own mother, and just as we used to run to her to zip up the dress we thought we couldn't zip ourselves, we now run to her to train the children we think we can't train ourselves.

Does what I've said frighten you? If so, just let things rest as they are.

But while they're resting as they are, think occasionally about the meaning of what you've written to me.

You want your boys to "listen" to you. Well, you couldn't want that without some conviction that you're worth listening to. Let's let the conviction grow. As you become surer that what you have to say to your boys rates their attention, you'll find yourself able to consider the idea of becoming their only mother.

The day respect for your own homemaking competence equals your respect for your mother's competence, you'll be able to walk out of her house and find the one that belongs to you.

Carol Dorris Young and Wayne Larue Pyke were married Saturday evening at All Saints Episcopal Church in the presence of 200 guests.

MRS. WAYNE LARUE PYKE

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was held by a crown of seed pearls and sequins and she carried a semi-cascade of Album lilies, stephanotis and variegated baby ivy.

Mrs. John Devine of Drayton Plains was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. David Grover, Barbara Magnus of Bloomfield Hills and Sally Cook of Owosso.

They wore identical street length dresses of Jewel rose silk organza with portrait necklines and bands of ivy and stephanotis in their hair. The matron of honor carried a semi-cascade of ivy, stephanotis and white gladioli florettes and the bridesmaids carried semi-cascades of ivy and stephanotis.

For her going away outfit, the bride wore a crushed cotton sheath of black, brown and gold print with black patent accessories. Her corsage was the Album lilies from her bridal bouquet. They will live on Miami road.

Both are graduates of Michigan State University. The bride was affiliated with Pi Beta Phi sorority and Kappa Delta Pi Honorary society. The bridegroom is studying at Detroit College of Law.

Mrs. Young wore a moss green moire taffeta sheath dress with matching accessories and a gold cymbidium orchid corsage. Mrs. Pyke was dressed in gray lace over pink taffeta with matching accessories and a pink cymbidium orchid on her purse.

Leather's the Thing for Men

NEW YORK—The leather industry is in a lather. That's because more and more men seem to be buying leather jackets, and more and more companies are getting into the leather and suede act.

Designer's drawing boards are crammed with new coats, short jackets, sports jackets and other outerwear garments made of leather. And this isn't merely leather for winter, but for spring and fall, too.

A leather suburban coat, in a variety of colors, with a knit insert on the collar and sides, and multiple stitching trim on the cuffs. It's the short length, and has a new kind of closing, without buttons or tracked closure.

What generated this revived enthusiasm for leather is mostly the new treatment of the fabric, which now makes it easy to clean and keep neat. There never was any question of its attractiveness and masculine appeal (feminine, too), but it used to be a hard fabric to keep in decent shape. No more.

Clean piano keys with a cloth moistened in denatured alcohol. Water can turn the keys yellow and cause them to become unglued.

Make Up Crisp Pickles by Short Easy Recipe

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Pickle time has arrived. When we went to market on Saturday we saw several stalls offering pickle-sized cucumbers. Try Mrs. James Muir's family recipe for Bread and Butter Pickles.

During the school year Mrs. Muir has a full-time job. In her leisure hours she likes to paint and to embroider. She has three grandchildren to enjoy.

BREAD AND BUTTER PICKLES

By Mrs. James Muir

1 gallon sliced medium cucumbers
2 cups sliced white onions (small)
½ cup non-iodized salt
3 pints cider vinegar
2 tablespoons white mustard seed
½ teaspoon celery seed
1 teaspoon turmeric
3 cups light brown sugar

Stir salt into cucumbers and onions. Let stand 2 hours. Drain in a colander. Mix rest of ingredients and boil for 20 minutes. Add cucumbers and onions and seal in sterilized jars while hot. Makes 6 pints.

Eliminate Puckers

Synthetic fabrics may pucker along seam lines when stitched on the sewing machine. Clothing specialists suggest longer stitches and a looser tension may help eliminate puckers.

It's Parents' Job to Halt Marriages

By RUTH MILLETT

High school marriages are on the increase all over the country. In some cities the school boards are trying to figure out ways of discouraging teenage marriages.

Actually the only people who can put the brake on high school marriages are parents. But if they are to do it they will have to start on their campaign before their children even hit senior high.

The first thing parents can do is stop encouraging their children to start dating when they are still just kids. Make no mistake about it, it's the parents—not the kids—who start planning dances for youngsters in the sixth grade.

It's Mama who can't wait for her little girl to have her first evening dress, and who thinks it's just too cute that another mother is chauffering her son and the little girl on an afternoon movie date.

Then parents will have to quit saying they "don't really approve of steady dating for 14, 15 and 16-year-olds, but what can we do about it?" They simply must say, "I don't care what the custom is—you aren't going steady."

Parents can also keep their kids on foot longer. The sooner a boy or girl has a car, the sooner he is out from under parental supervision.

Still another reason why so many high school kids marry without any thought to the future is because their parents have been so indulgent all along that they figure their parents wouldn't dream of not pitching in and helping to support the teenage marriage. A little less indulgence would keep the kids from being quite so heedless.

And there is still one other thing. If parents reserve the right to tell their kids whom they can and whom they can't date—a lot of unsuitable romances never would be started in the first place.

Parents shouldn't look to the school to discourage their children from high school marriages. They ought to look to themselves for that.

Water Needs Rise; Foresee Problems

NEW YORK (UPI) — The problem of providing enough water for growing industrial and home use is becoming more critical, according to the experts.

They predict that by 1957 some 227 million Americans will need 50 per cent more water than is available today, and that meeting this need ranks as the nation's number one civic problem.

Lovers' Lane Owner Dislikes Loud Kisses

But, he added, some of them are loud kissers. They awaken his dogs, which bark and awaken his family.

New First Aid Methods Are Not Widely Known

WASHINGTON (AP) — Today, a week or maybe a year from now you may have only seconds to save a life. But if you are like most Americans, you're not well trained to take action.

The crisis would require instant, correct first aid.

You may have had the training long ago. But now it's outmoded. This is especially true if you're one of the 15 million living veterans of World War II or one of the millions of women who took the training as a patriotic wartime duty.

Since the war, four major first aid techniques — control of bleeding, artificial respiration, cold injuries and transportation methods — have been reversed. What was formerly the thing to do is now the dangerous thing to do.

A host of other minor treatments have been changed and some new techniques initiated.

But the public's knowledge has not kept pace.

"The majority of people have some first aid knowledge, but while some of it is good, some of it is bad," says Earl H. Breon, director of first aid service for the National Red Cross.

"What the first aider does can make the difference between whether the accident victim lives or dies . . . or whether he lies in a hospital for months or soon goes home to his family," Breon says.

The skills of first aid are most needed at home, he adds. "Every parent needs it, mothers especially."

Accidents killed almost three times as many children in 1957 as any disease and are the leading cause of death among persons aged 1 to 36. By far the greatest number of injuries were in the home — 4,200,000 — and the second highest number of deaths — 28,000.

CONTROL OF BLEEDING

In case of severe bleeding, apply direct pressure over wound area with a clean cloth or, for quick action, with your hand. A major loss of blood can cause death within less than a minute. Bandage cloth over wound. Do not remove it.

Tourniquets should be used rarely, only when severe bleeding involves an extremity in which large arteries are severed or in cases of partial or complete severance of a body part.

A tourniquet — put it near the wound — should not be released. Former advice was to release it every 15 minutes, Get victims to hospital quickly.

ARTIFICIAL RESPIRATION

Most persons will die within six minutes or less if breathing stops completely. Artificial respiration should be started at once . . . death may be seconds away.

The back pressure - arm lift method is recommended for general use.

COLD INJURIES

Firm pressure with the warm hand against frostbitten area is helpful. Rubbing it with the hand or snow is definitely harmful.

Cover frozen part with woolen material and provide extra clothing or blankets. Bring victim indoors, give him a warm drink.

Quickly warm the injured area if still cold and numb by immersing in water at body temperature (90 to 100 degrees F.) but not hot water, or by wrapping in warm blankets. Handle frozen part with greatest care. Avoid excessive heat.

MISCELLANEOUS TIPS

Burns: Cover all burns, no matter what degree, with dry sterile dressings. If victim suffers shock, do not apply heat but keep him warm.

Poisoning: Where cause of poisoning is unknown, administer antidote of two parts of crumbled burnt toast, one part of strong tea and one part milk of magnesia. Do not use this when the victim is in coma or has symptoms of convulsions or exhaustion.

Tetanus: Danger from lockjaw is now associated with all wounds — not merely with cuts from rusty nails, etc. Wounds should receive medical attention and possible immunization against tetanus.

Breon says there are "thousands of cases where people have done things that called for first aid skills . . . skills they read or heard about or saw on television." But he says by far the best way to prepare for an emergency is to take a first aid course.

Find Turnip Greens Canned Near Home

BALTIMORE (AP) — Capt. and Mrs. Reese Layton scoured the city and its environs for canned turnip greens because the fresh variety was out of season.

None could be found. Then, on a trip through the South, they found a case of turnip greens in a South Carolina country store and snapped up the whole case.

They were canned, of course, in Baltimore.

Stations Filling Up

NEW YORK (UPI) — The number of service stations in the United States has soared from 15,000 in 1920 to more than 181,000 doing an annual volume of business in excess of $15 billion, according to oil industry statistics.

Spend More Money on Pets Than Books

NEW YORK (UPI) — Animal lovers spend more on pet foods from bird seed to dog biscuits than the nation's school system spends on textbooks, latest statistics show.

Money poured into pet foods last year totaled $447 million, against a textbook outlay of $280 million, or less than 1 per cent of the national school budget.

Weekend Rain Misses Event

Record Crowd Jams Armada Fair

ARMADA — Crowds which jammed the carnival midway and packed the stands for special events Saturday and Sunday topped attendance records set in previous years at the 87th Armada Fair, according to Secretary Ervin Klusendorf.

Rain which fell in outlying areas missed the Armada celebration over the weekend and all activities were held on schedule.

Judging of all 800 4-H exhibits took place on Friday beginning at 9 a.m. and ending with presentation of Demonstration Contest winners at 2 p.m.

Displays had been set up by youngsters from all over Macomb County. In addition to vegetables and fruits, cattle, sheep and swine were judged for trophies and ribbons.

The largest number of prizes in the jersey cattle division were won by Susan and David Mendham of 73807 McFaddan Rd., Romeo.

A "Share-the-Fun" 4-H Talent Show was staged on the grandstand Friday evening. Highlight of the program was the coronation of the 4-H king and queen. They were Ava Parker of Armada and Jack Ferguson of Romeo.

LITTLE LEAGUE PLAYS

Other events of the fair were tractor pulling contests Friday, Saturday and Sunday afternoons and Little League baseball games all three days.

Highlights of Saturday's program were horse judging and the Black and White cattle show.

A grand revue of 4-H livestock was paraded before the grandstands Sunday, after which tractor-pulling contests and the final Little League baseball games were held.

Special guest at the fair Sunday afternoon was Romeo Peach Queen Lorelie Hoxie, 18, of Armada. She and her second maid of honor Carole Bird, 19, of Rochester, were intorduced to the crowd and tossed peaches to the spectators.

Lorelei is the second girl from Armada to win the Peach Queen title in the past four years. She will reign over the 27th annual Peach Festival which opens Friday in Romeo.

UP BUT NOT OVER — Young farmer Joe Kitiuk, 17, of Richmond, tried his darndest to win the tractor pulling contest at the Armada Fair yesterday. The tractor had to pull a four by 6-foot flat-bottomed stone boat filled with pig iron. He failed to move the huge weight even with a barrel filled with rocks and sand that he had on the back of his tractor for ballast.

See No Hike in Steel Prices

GOP Senators Feel Public Won't Stand for Another Raise

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Republican senators think the steel strike can be settled without an increase in steel prices.

"Indeed," said Sens. George D. Aiken (R-Vt) and Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) in a statement Sunday, "there is a strong opinion that in the highest public interest what should result from the strike is a price decrease in steel."

They said "we are convinced the public will not stand for a price increase in steel." Steel companies are opposing any increase in labor costs on the ground that it would spur inflation.

"We urge the public to demand a negotiated settlement most insistently at this time," Aiken and Javits said.

The strike which started July 15 has shut down 90 per cent of the nation's steel production. In a weekend report, the Labor Department said its economic effect was slight up to mid-August, but the pinch is getting steadily worse.

The report said up to mid-August 126,000 workers had been idled in addition to the 500,000 steel strikers. Most areas report adequate steel supplies at least until mid-September, the report added.

A recess was called last Thursday in the steel talks. When they resume Wednesday, the strike will be 50 days old. There has been no indication of progress in the negotiations.

The Steelworkers Union is seeking a "substantial" wage increase. Wages of steelworkers before the strike averaged $3.11 an hour.

Bar Will Ask Study of Radiation Laws

LANSING (AP)—A recommendation for a study of the adequacy of the Michigan Workmen's Compensation Act in injuries stemming from radiation exposures will be considered at the state bar's Sept. 24 meeting in Detroit, President Raymond H. Dresser reported.

The bar's committee on atomic energy law expressed concern that the latent danger from radiation exposures might mean "legal remedies may expire under unrealistic statutory limitations before manifestation of an injury."

The committee on International and Comparative Law will recommend that the bar push legislation to establish a commission to study the problem of the organization of world peace through law.

This committee will also suggest serious study of setting up a system of federal district courts of international justice with jurisdiction of suits between citizens of different nations. These courts would sit at stated periods in various areas of the world.

A special committee on space law will urge that the bar express to the President and Congress its concern over the need for adoption of precise, positive policies on space exploration and utilization.

Houses Shuffle Labor-Curb Bill

Senators Feel Deadlock May Be Broken Today; Some Dems Doubtful

WASHINGTON (AP) — Another Republican senator, Winston Prouty of Vermont, thinks the House-Senate conferees still may agree on a labor bill when they meet today — or at least make some progress.

But if the meeting gets nowhere, the dispute goes back to the Senate this afternoon under resolutions now pending.

Senate Republican Leader Everett Dirksen of Illinois said over the weekend he felt that there was a possibility the deadlock would be broken.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) and others among the 14 conferees, however, feel the meeting will accomplish little or nothing, with the resolutions hanging over it to refer the fight back to the Senate floor.

Dirksen filed the first resolution Friday, after reporting his belief the conference had reached an impasse. Then Kennedy filed a rival resolution.

Dirksen's resolution calls for the Senate to instruct its conferees to accept the tough wording of the House Landrum-Griffin labor bill on the three issues remaining—no man's land disputes, organizational picketing and secondary boycotts.

Kennedy's resolution contains certain provisos which he wants added to the Landrum-Griffin provisions to protect what Kennedy feels are labor's legitimate rights.

Landlocked Tiny Laos in Southeast Asia

It's a Tough Place to Keep Out Reds

(Here's a closeup on the remote trouble spot of Laos by one of the few foreign correspondents who has traveled its rivers and jugles up to the Red China border. Edward R. Kennedy was a frequent visitor to Laos when he was based at Bangkok, Siam, covering Southeast Asia. Now back in this country, he reveals little known details about the kingdom.)

By EDWARD R. KENNEDY

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Tiny Laos, flickering with the threat of a new brush fire war in Southeast Asia, looms as one of the most difficult spots on earth for America and the West to assist in resistance to Communist aggressions.

Our air striking force and the 7th Fleet, poised in the Pacific, could do little to aid landlocked Laos, which cuts a rugged, curving path through tropical southeastern Asia.

Efficient carrier - based air operations seem unlikely. The nearest land bases are several hundred miles from the fighting scene.

Nuclear weapons could find no targets. The fighting in Laos' mountainous north is between lightly armed 100 and 200 man patrols which lash out at each other and then fade into the jungles.

When I was in Laos I found the 25,000-man Laotian army a tough little corps, mostly paratroopers, skilled in small unit operations, highly pro-American. But its 35 battalions are spread thin hunting down the Red infiltrators.

WASTE AND CORRUPTION

The counry's frail economy, whose chief support is opium, can't finance the defense effort. American aid — $50 million annually since 1955—pays the army's bills. On top of that, we supply military advisers and technicians.

Even this effort is undercut. My first-hand look at Laos disclosed waste and corruption that makes the recently exposed situation in South Viet Nam appear almost efficient by contrast.

This slender country, now in fresh peril, embarked upon shaky independence after the 1954 Geneva settlements that divided Viet Nam and took the French out of Indochina.

At that moment, it had one engineer, one trained doctor. No soldier had risen beyond the rank of corporal in the French Infantrie Coloniale. Most Laotians farm the mountain slopes, raising rice, maize and tobacco.

Internal roads lead just a few miles north and south of Vientiane, the capital on the western border. In tropical rain they are impassable. There is no rail network.

The country's chief links with the world are rail-truck routes through neighboring Thailand from Bangkok to Vientiane, and the Mekong river, over which barge shipments move on a months-long journey to inland areas.

The nearly three million Laotians are largely illiterate. They have no understanding of problems beyond the village level.

While American aid has sustained the army, it has had little or no effect on poverty. Our program has in fact been such a flop from that viewpoint that Communists turn it to their advantage. Say the Reds: "The Americans make the rich richer and the poor people poorer."

In 1954 Communist guerrilla units grabbed control of two northern Laotian provinces. The rugged terrain was ideal for their depredations. But in 1958 I saw these zones handed over to the central government in a deal between two half brothers.

Prince Souvanaphuma, head of the Red-controlled Pathet Laos movement in the north, gained a cabinet post under his half brother, Prince Soupanavong, then Prime Minister. The latter promptly allowed elections which the Reds won in a sweep.

Thereafter came a series of coups which brought the half brothers' ouster. The Red leader was jailed. Prince Sananikone, another member of the Grand Families, took over the reins with America's blessing. Since then Laos officially has had strong pro-Western leanings.

Sananikone ordered the royal army to integrate Red troops within their ranks, an arrangement originally planned in the half brothers' deal before their ouster. A battalion of Pathet Laos troops, some 600 strong, fled into the hills to escape the order.

These soldiers form the nucleus of the guerrilla forces now pressing southward in harassing raids toward Luang Prabang, the royal capital, and Vintiane, the administrative center.

Laos' internal turmoil and its strategic position have made it a natural probing spot for the Communists.

Today it's a slender buffer between the Reds in China and North Viet Nam and both Thailand and South Viet Nam, pro-Western. It also blocks off the Reds from neutral Cambodia, another small land once part of Indochina. Neutral Burma likewise has a small border with Laos.

Not far to the south and west is the long peninsula of newly independent Malaya, stepping stone to shaky Indonesia.

Communist conquest of Laos would thus open up a vast range of new pressure points to aggressive Red designs.

While we and the West ponder how to keep those points blocked off, Laos' fate seems to hang on those tough little paratroopers whose weekly wages we Americans pay. Asian freedom is at a critical test.

'60 Express Slows in New Hampshire

Rockefeller Hits Snag

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York talks with Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH) about the New Hampshire presidential primary. Bridges then joins in publicizing a poll calculated to discourage a Rockefeller bid in New Hampshire.

For a short period of two weeks in early August, it was understood that Rockefeller would decide this fall on the basis of public opinion polls whether to run for the GOP presidential nomination. Now he says he will not be guided by the polls alone.

While in Washington Aug. 18, Rockefeller called on Bridges for purposes never made very clear. They reported that their conversation included some casual talk about the New Hampshire primary next March, when the state contests over national convention delegates begin.

Bridges joined Sen. Norris Cotton (R-NH) in spreading the results of a New Hampshire poll over two pages of the Congressional Record last week. Though uncommitted, Bridges is counted a supporter of Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the 1960 Republican nomination.

The poll was made by the Opinion Research Corp. of Princeton, N. J., and published in the Boston Herald. It showed Nixon stronger than Rockefeller on all tests conducted.

One which might be of particular interest to Rockefeller showed him trailing Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, now the pacesetter among potential Democratic candidates by a 42-58 margin. At the same time, Nixon led Kennedy in another trial heat by the same margin.

Whatever weight Rockefeller attaches to the polls, it is a safe bet that they will weigh heavily in the decision of the Republican national convention when it chooses a candidate next year.

The polls helped to put a "can't win" label on the late Sen. Robert A. Taft in 1952 when he lost the nomination to Dwight D. Eisenhower.

As was expected after his tour of Russia and Poland, recent polls have indicated an upsurge in Nixon's vote-pulling power. The big question now is whether this new strength will stand up. If President Eisenhower's new approach to Russia should turn sour, Nixon presumably would suffer.

It was the New Hahmpshire primary in 1952 which gave the Eisenhower camapign its first big push. Although he was still in Europe as NATO commander, Eisenhower won all the New Hampshire delegates and defeated Taft in a contest in which Harold E. Stassen ran a weak third.

Boys Stage Breakout in Reform School

CARLTON, England (UPI) — Eighty-one teenage reform schoolboys staged a mass breakout last night while police stood by helplessly.

Police said the inmates smashed, looted and fled the government reformatory after Gov. Stephen Stacey banned police from the walled-in grounds.

Only 14 inmates did not escape.

Early today all but 10 of the boys had been captured. Some had fled 30 miles from the school which is located 40 miles north of London and 40 miles northeast of Chequers, Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's estate, where President Eisenhower spent last night.

National Teacher Shortage Rises

Expect Record School Enrollment

WASHINGTON (AP)—A record 46,480,000 students will enroll in the nation's schools and colleges during the 1959-60 school year and even higher enrollments are still to come, the office of education reports.

An increase of 1,750,000 in school enrollment, to 42,700,000 from 40,950,000 in 1958-59, will mean an even worse teacher shortage than last year.

The deficit of qualified teachers for the coming year is estimated at 195,000, compared with a shortage of 182,000 in 1958-59.

Lawrence Derthick, commissioner of education, said 1959-60 will be the 15th consecutive year in which enrollment has increased. He added this trend, with attendant problems such as the teacher shortage, is likely to continue for many years.

Earlier this month the office made public estimates that there will be a shortage of at least 130,000 public school classrooms when the schools open.

Derthick cited statistics estimating the school-age population, made up of children aged 5 through 17, at 43,347,000 in 1959 for the continental United States, excluding Alaska, and at 48,815,000 by 1963.

He did not estimate anticipated enrollment in schools and colleges four years from now but a spokesman said it is 52,769,000 for the 1963-64 school year.

There has been a steady increase in the proportion of children aged 14 through 17 who attend schools, accounting for some of the enrollment increase. Last October 89.2 per cent of the boys and girls in that age group were in schools and colleges. Ten years ago, 81.8 per cent were enrolled.

The 1959-60 enrollment figure of 46,480,000 is 1,940,000 higher than last year's 44,540,000. By comparison, the 1929-30 total was 29,653,000; in 1939-40 it was 29,751,000; and in 1949-50 it was 31,319,000.

Derthick estimated that 1,563,000 teachers will be needed in public and nonpublic schools during the coming year, with only 1,368,000 qualified teachers presently available.

A part of the shortage will be met by former instructors returning to service, Derthick said in a statement, but the number cannot be determined.

"The deficit of teachers will mean, in many communities, overlarge classes or the employment of teachers without adequate training, or both," Derthick said. "In many instances, it will also mean curtailing the number of subjects offered."

One factor intensifying the scarcity of teachers is a turnover rate of 10.9 per cent. Derthick said recent studies indicate that is about the proportion of teachers who leave the profession each year. Previously the turnover rate had been figured at about 7.5 per cent.

Public school systems are expecting 35,990,000 pupils, nonpublic schools 6,450,000 and special schools 260,000.

Russia Moving In on Afghanistan

(The following dispatch discloses for the first time that Soviet Russia has all but subjugated the strategic kingdom of Afghanistan, invasion gateway to Southeast Asia. The dispatch is particularly timely in view of Communist China's probing of India's Himalayan defenses and threats to the U. S.-backed kingdom of Laos.)

By STEWART HENSLEY

WASHINGTON (UPI) — While Chinese Communists probe the Himalayan defenses of India, a few hundred miles to the west Russia is tightening its stranglehold on the strategic kingdom of Afghanistan.

This was reported today by American officials who said the Soviet Union now has virtual control of Afghanistan's 50,000-man army and small jet air force and also is moving rapidly toward complete domination of the country's economy.

State Deparment officials cited Afghanistan as a dramatic, little publicized, example of one of communism's greatest successes in all of its probing operations along the Red periphery from Turkey to Laos.

The landlocked kingdom, lying athwart the historic invasion route to India and Southeast Asia, is getting the all-out Soviet political and economic treatment in a big way, they added.

American officials versed in political and economic warfare are studying what they consider an alarming new intelligence summary which discloses, among other things, that:

RUSSIA MOVES IN

—Almost 50 per cent of Afghanistan's foreign trade now is with Russia under long-term barter deals, compared with 10 per cent in 1950 and about 18 per cent in 1955.

—The Afghan army, armed with 70 million dollars of Russian military equipment, is being trained by Soviet officers, some of them generals.

—The Russians have provided Afghanistan with a jet air force consisting of 60 fighters and 12 bombers. Russian pilots are flying the bombers.

—Soviet engineers and construction workers are proceeding on a "crash" basis with the building of a paved highway from the Afghan-Russian border which slashes 475 miles southeastward across the country almost to the Pakistan border. The road will link the Soviet railhead at Lushkest post with the southeast Afghan city of Kandahar, which already is connected by a good American-built highway with the Pakistan railway at the border.

GIFT OF $80 MILLION

This 80-million-dollar project, on which work was begun within 10 days after it was announced last May, is an outright gift to Afghanistan.

It marked the first time the Kremlin had donated a major project to any country instead of placing it on a loan basis.

In view of American and British officials, it emphasizes the importance Russia places on Afghanistan and Pakistan as the logical route for her drive toward economic and political dominance in southeast Asia and Africa.

Soviet economic aid to Afghanistan during the past four years, two-thirds of it in loans, is estimated at about 240 million dollars. In addition, military aid is estimated at about 70 million dollars.

The aid program has provided Afghanistan with hydro-electric facilities, oil storage installations, airfields, highways and a modern machine and metal-working plant.

The Russians have put 15 million dollars into oil exploration and 5 million into agricultural development and have established a radio-telephone circuit linking the Afghan capital, Kabuln, with Moscow.

In addition to aid from Russia, Afghanistan has received from Communist Czechoslovakia a cement plant, canning factory and coal production machinery valued at 7 million dollars.

American officials declare that this has had a considerable impact on a country of 13 million people with an average per capita income of $95.

U. S. officials acknowledge that the Soviet Union's effort has overwhelmed the relatively modest American air program in Afghanistan. U. S. technical and development assistance to Afghanistan during 1958 amounted to about 20 million dollars.

Officials said the Russians are leaving no angle unexploited in their effort to make Afghanistan an economic dependency of the Soviet Union.

Pirates Could Be Opponent If Surge Continues

Chisox Can Just About Look for Series Foe

Chicago Holds Widest Margin Over Indians

High-Riding Buccos Move Within 4 Games of NL Leaders

By United Press International

Those go-go White Sox can go ahead and print their world Series tickets but they'd better leave a blank space for the name of their opponents because it could easily be the supposedly long-gone Pirates.

The inspired White Sox really did a job on the Indians in all but wrapping up their first American League pennant since 1919.

Al Lopez' speedy crew took a doubleheader from the tribe Sunday, 6-3 and 9-4, before 66,586 at Cleveland to sweep a four-game "show down series" and lengthen their lead to 5½ games — longest of the season.

The White Sox never had it so good. If they win only 13 of their remaining 25 games, the second-place Indians still would have to win 19 of their 24 to overtake them.

The Pirates aren't in such good shape, of course, but they aren't exactly complaining. They made it nine out of their last 10 by sweeping a twin-bill from the Phillies, 2-1 and 7-6 in 10 innings, with little Roy Face fashioning his 17th victory of the season without a defeat in the nightcap.

By taking two from the Phils, the Pirates climbed to within four games of the first-place Giants, who dropped a 7-6 decision to the Dodgers. The Cubs beat the Braves, 6-2, and the Reds defeated the Cardinals, 6-4.

Among the "also rans" in the A.L., the Tigers took over third place with a 4-0 victory over the Athletics; the Senators topped the Yankees, 3-1, and the Red Sox blanked the Orioles, 3-0.

The White Sox won their opener from the Indians with a five-run sixth-inning rally that Early Wynn launched with a home run. Wynn, who needed Gerry Staley's help in the eighth, won his 17th of the season and 266th of his career, tying him with Bob Feller and Eppa Rixey for total major league victories.

Barry Latman won his eighth game in the nightcap although he gave way to Turk Lown in the sixth. The White Sox jumped to an early 5-0 lead off loser Gary Bell. Highlight of a three-run White Sox rally in the second inning was two runs scoring on a long sacrifice fly by Latman. John Romano scored from third on the play and Al Smith, never hesitating, came all the way in from second as Rocky Colavito threw to third. Smith also hit a two-run homer in the sixth.

Before departing, Latman yielded Colavito's 39th homer with two on and Woodie Held's 26th homer with the bases empty. Held also homered in the opener to give loser Cal McLish temporary lead.

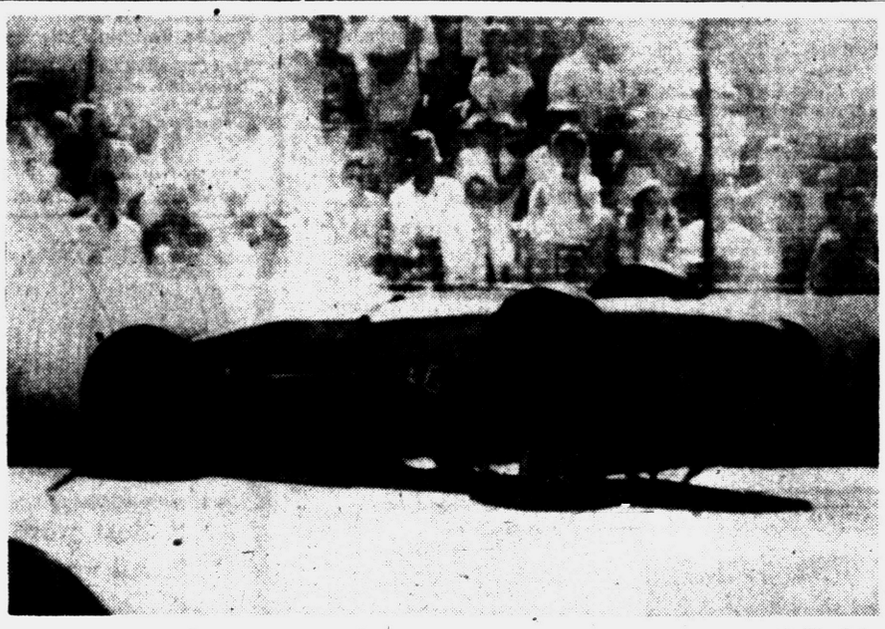

Face, who now has won 22 straight over two seasons, got away a bit lucky in Pittsburgh's second game win over Philadelphia. Ed Bouchee homered off Face in the top of the 10th to put the Phils ahead, 6-5 but Dick Stuart doubled home two home runs off Dick Farrell in the bottom of the 10th. Stuart also hit a pinch homer, his 21st, in the ninth.

Bob Skinner's fourth hit of the game, a two-cut single in the ninth, won the opener for the Pirates. Lefty Harvey Haddix gave up only six hits, including Gene Freese's 19th homer, in notching his 11th triumph. Humberto Robinson yielded seven hits and was the loser.

An error by third baseman Jackie Brandt paved the way for two unearned runs in the ninth that gave the Dodgers their victory over the Giants.

This Is 'Hatchet Day' for Lions

Wilson Upset by Saturday's Sorry Showing

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

After Saturday night's lusterless exhibiton won by the New York Giants, 38-0, in Briggs Stadium, coach George Wilson decided he had better chop about five players today and let the veterans know they will have to do a little more work.

"Part of our trouble is that the veterans know they have to play only part of the game because we are giving all our rookies a chance. After a cut, maybe the veterans will know they will have more work ahead of them," said Wilson.

Wilson's two adjectives of worth after Saturday's sorry exhibition were, "lousy and terrible."

The Giants scored as fast as they shifted quarterbacks. George Shaw started, then came Frank Gifford, George Conerly and rookie Lee Grosscup.

Gifford accounted for one touchdown march, and he scored twice from the halfback slot on passes from Conerly.

The pair scored with a 25-yard pass in the third period and got together for a 31-yard TD in the final quarter.

Wilson got a little satisfaction out of alternating his three quarterbacks and thus decided the time may have come to make a move on which will be the number one man.

Earl Morrall started, and Tobin Rote and Jerry Reichow followed. The trio completed only eight of 23 passes as the Lions got into Giant territory only twice as they picked up only 44 yards rushing and 95 in the air.

In deciding on the quarterback slot, it appears that Reichow may go back to end.

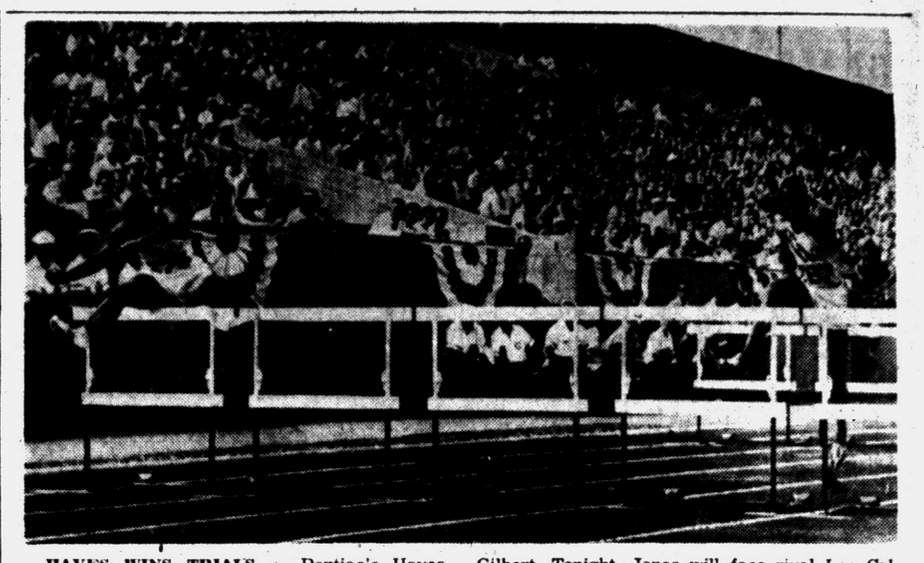

The Giants moved to a 10-0 lead in the first half, with the first touchdown in the first period when halfback Danny Lewis fumbled on the 13 and the Giants recovered. In four plays Alex Webster went over from the two.

Pat Summerall added a 47-yard field goal in the second quarter. Conerly took over at quarterback and Gifford went to halfback in the third quarter and they clicked on the 31-yard TD play.

In the final stanza, after Conerly's second TD pass to Gifford, Lindon Crow went 75 yards on an interception and in the final minute Gorrscup hit halfback Joe Morrison on a 55-yard TD pass, as 28,679 filed out of the stands.

Bears Slam Steelers, Cleveland Loses Again

By The Associated Press

The Chicago Bears have an explosive three-pronged air attack built around the B-Boys waiting for Johnny Unitas and the National Football League champion Baltimore Colts.

Favored to retain their title with the aerial accuracy of Unitas pacing an easy path, the Colts will be hard pressed by the Bears' quarterbacking trio of Ed Brown, Rudy Bukich and Zeke Bratkowski.

The Bears, runnersup to the Colts in the Western Division last year, romped to their third consecutive exhibition victory over the weekend, overwhelming the Pittsburgh Steelers 54-17.

Bratkowski, who had tossed touchdown passes in the first two wins, sat out most of the game to get Coach George Halas get a further look at Bukich and Brown.

Brown connected on TD strikes of 42 and 38 yards to Willard Dewveall and Bill McColl and scored once himself. Bukich threw a seven-yarder to Dewveall for one score and plunged for another.

In other games during the weekend, San Francisco handed Cleveland its third straight setback 17-14; Green Bay defeated Philadelphia 45-28, and Los Angeles knocked off Chicago's Cardinals 34-21.

Interceptions by tackles Fred Williams and Joe Robb keyed the Bears to a three-TD first quarter lead which they never relinquished. Williams went 77 yards for a score with a Bobby Layne pitch and Robb rambled 24 yards to the Steeler 7 with another.

Y. A. Tittle passed 48 yards to Hugh McElhenny and eight yards to Billy Wilson for first quarter scores, but the 49ers' margin of victory was a 23-yard fourth period field goal by rookie Tom Davis. Jimmy Brown scored both Cleveland touchdowns on runs of 70 and two yards.

'Hot' Tigers Move in Tuesday

Watch Out, Chicago

KANSAS CITY (UP) — The Detroit Tigers, occupants of a lofty third place in the American League standings, rested today before taking on the front-running Chicago White Sox in Chicago tomorrow night.

Don Mossi pitched and batted the Tigers to a 4-0 victory over the Kansas City Athletics yesterday as Detroit swept a three-game series and won their fourth game in a row.

Mossi, who had been pounded hard in four straight defeats, gave up only three hits and held the A's hitless after the fourth inning.

He fanned eight and walked two in capturing his 12th victory against nine defeats.

Mossi singled and scored Detroit's first run in the seventh on a pinch hit by Gus Zernial. And he hit his first Major League home run over the right field fence in the ninth, after Tom Sturdivant had relieved starter Bud Daley.

Detroit scored its other runs off Daley on a two-run homer by Red Wilson in the eighth. Wilson had returned to action after a 15-day absence with a back injury.

Kansas City hit Mossi in the first inning with a single by Wayne Terwilliger, a single in the second by Ray Jablonski and a double by Bob Cerv in the fourth.

The only time the Athletics threatened was in the second when Jablonski reached third after his single, a walk by Roger Maris and an infield out.

The Tigers' victory cinched a split with Kansas City in the season series, with five games still to be played in Detroit next month.

Final Set Today

Cup Rests With MacKay

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (UPI) — Big Barry MacKay, former University of Michigan ace, goes out today looking for "the biggest birthday present I could give myself."

It also could, if managed, give the United States the coveted Davis Cup and make the towering young man from Dayton, Ohio, the nation's newest tennis hero.

The six foot, three and one-half inch airman third class is 24 years old today. He'll celebrate by finishing the deciding Davis Cup singles match against Australia's Neale Fraser. When they knocked it off at dark last night, Barry had bounced back from losing the first set, 8-6, to win the second set, 6-3.

This was the first time in the history of the Challenge Round that the deciding battle has been forced into an extra day, according to tennis historians.

Alex Olmedo had put the U.S. back in the running for the Cup with a 9-7, 4-6, 10-8, 12-10 victory in the opening singles match.

"The delay doesn't mean a thing to me," said MacKay.

"Couldn't mean less," observed Fraser.

"We'll win it," chirped U.S. captain, 71-year-old Perry Jones, an incurable optimist. He never can see his team losing a match.

"I don't think it will make any difference to either of the boys," he agreed. "But I'll tell you one thing—MacKay won't be missing those high volleys today."

Barry was having trouble with Fraser's volleys and only the fact that he knocked Neale back on his haunches with his cannonball service enabled him to win the second set.

Bald Mt. Golfers Finally Win One

After five failures, Bald Mountain finally hit the jackpot in the Michigan Publinx Golf League. With long-hitting Dick Robertson leading the way on a 69, Bald Mountain scored a 12½-9½ victory over the River Bank team Sunday for its 1st win of the season. Joe Burgdorf further aided the cause with a 71.

Fritz Leffingwell of Miami Shores, Fla., the leader from the beginning, staggered to a 75 Saturday, but held on to win the Jaycee crown with a score of 290. Qualifying medalist Ronnie Gerringer of Newport News, Va., took 2nd place with 292 after shooting 74 Saturday.

Elisian in Fatal Crash

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UP) — Speedway bad boy Ed Elisian, suspended last year as the trigger man in the most spectacular fatal crash at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, died screaming Sunday in the flames of his green racing car.

Elisian, 32, from Oakland, Calif. returned to the tracks only last June 7, making his first start in a 100-mile big car race at the Wisconsin fair grounds, scene of Sunday's wreck.

Elisian's car, traveling at an estimated 130 miles an hour, skidded on an oil slick, crashed into the wall, overturned and burst into flames. The car rode the retaining wall 200 feet, then flipped upside down on the one-mile paved track.

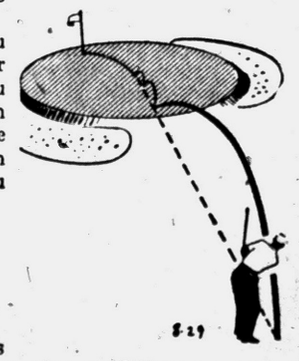

Elisian waved his arms and screamed as he tried to free himself from his burning car, No. 25, owned by Ernie Ruiz of Modesto, Calif. Elisian had been racing for nine years.

The wreck came on the 28th lap of the 200-mile national championship race won by Rodger Ward of Indianapolis. The race was the feature of the final day of the 1959 Wisconsin State Fair and drew 21,856 spectators.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: Sloppy iron play.
DIAGNOSIS: Fuzzy plan of action.
TREATMENT: After you line up an iron shot and choose an iron to play it with, the results you get will depend on the firmness and exactness of the plan you formed before hitting the shot.

By that I mean that you should determine in your mind the type of shot you MEAN to play — the path it will take through the air, the place on the green you will hit, the roll you will get, etc.

Mind you, I'm not saying that even the best golfers can make the ball follow the plan exactly.

What I am saying is that if you do form a firm plan you'll be more likely to at least come close to following it than if you go into the shot with some vague and wishy-washy idea about the thing.

Similarly, when you pick the club for the shot, forget about all other clubs. Never try to hit the ball with one club when you have a notion that some other club might be better for the shot.

Myles, Stevens Take Pro-Am

Reggie Myles Jr. and long-hitting Bud Stevens, both representing Western Golf Club, combined for 13 birdies and two eagles Sunday at Farmington Country Club to win the 1959 Michigan Pro-Am golf championship by four strokes.

Stevens, this year's State Amateur and Detroit District champ, was the big gun as they compiled a 36-hole best ball total of 129 on rounds of 65-64 over the par 37-35—72 Farmington course.

The beefy Stevens fired the best individual scores of the day. He shot 67 and 68 on the rain-soaked layout, collected nine birdies and posted both eagles as he reached the 510-yard 7th hole in two blows each time around. Myles carded six birdies and had 71 and 70 with his own ball.

Tom Sullivan and Tom Draper of Red Run and the Blythefield team of John Barnum and Hermie Miller Jr. tied for 2nd place, each with a 68-65—133 scorecard. Orchard Lake's tandem of Tommy Shannon and Pete Green equalled Myles and Stevens on the 1st round with a 65, but slipped to a 72 in the afternoon.

Dense fog delayed the start of the Pro-Am for 45 minutes and heavy rain held up play for 15 minutes later in the day. Myles pocketed $300 as the winning pro while Barnum and Sullivan picked up $225 apiece. The total purse was $2,000 with $590 in merchandise prizes going to the amateurs. Sixty teams competed.

U.S. Making Rout of Pan-Am Games

18 Gold Medals of 21 Are Won by Americans

Hayes Jones to Run in Hurdles Tonight Against Calhoun

CHICAGO (AP) — The third Pan-American games competition today picked up two new sports, swimming and boxing, but that just meant a bigger stampede for gold medals by the U.S.A.'s juggernaut forces.

After yesterday's third day of Pan-Am cavorting, this country had amassed 18 gold medals, 12 of them coming in track and field.

The track rout is destined to continue in Soldier Field tonight, with the U.S.A. favored in finals of the 200 meter dash, discus throw and 110-meter hurdles for men and the shot put for women.

Ten Pan-Am records already have tumbled and no end of the onslaught is in sight.

Only preliminaries are involved in the opening swimming and boxing sessions. Uncle Sam's squads are expected to make a walkaway of the aquatic competition and win perhaps half of the 10 ring titles.

The U.S.A.'s fierce honing up for the 1960 Olympic Games has been awfully tough on the Pan-American invaders, who have taken only three gold medals to date, one each by Argentina, Cuba and Chile.

Yesterday, the U.S.A.'s Bill Dellinger won the 5,000 meter run, Tom Murphy took the 800 meter run, and Dave Edstrom captured the decathlon—all with record-smashing performances. In addition, Mrs. Earlene Brown of Los Angeles won the women's discus in record style, and Lucinda Williams of Nashville, Tenn., won the feminine 100 meter dash.

Tonight, the U.S.A.'s gold medal grabbers are expected to be Lee Calhoun or Hayes Jones in the 110 meter hurdles; Ray Norton, adding the 200 meter sprint title to the 100 meter crown he won Saturday; and Al Oerter or Parry O'Brien in the discus.

Other gold medal winners yesterday were Nelson Lincoln of Medford, Ore., who paced the U.S. to the team title in free pistol shooting, and Hal Goldsmith of New York City in the individual foil fencing.

Putter Burns, Littler Wins

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Gene Littler, a veteran of six years on pro golf's tournament grind, had another big prize check for his banker today because of a red-hot putter.

"It's the best putting I've ever done for four straight days in a tournament," the 29-year-old Californian said yesterday after picking up $5,300 by winning the $35,000 Milwaukee Open.

Littler entered the final 18 holes three strokes off the pace despite fine rounds of 68, 66 and 64 on the 6,355 - yard Tripoli Golf Club course, but didn't let the deficit bother him.

He blazed home in a pressure-paced windup with a 67 and 72-hole total of 265, one stroke better than Bob Rosburg, Bo Wininger and Ted Kroll, who had to settle for a tie for second.

Port Huron, Flint Softball Champs

Cadillac Hotel of Port Huron in Class A and Thompson's of Flint in Class C won regional softball championships here last night at Beaudette and Northside parks.

Port Huron went 12 innings Sunday at Beaudette for a 7-4 conquest of Herrlich's of Flint to win the "A" crown, following the Flint team's 1-0 elimination of Ernie Grissom's of Mt. Clemens on Saturday night.

The Flint Thompson squad was forced into a doubleheader yesterday at Northside to win the "C" title after the Mt. Clemens Merchants eliminated Snover's of Port Huron, 5-0, on Saturday evening.

Mt. Clemens shut out Flint, 2-0, in last night's opening game to push the double elimination event to the limit. Then Flint scored four runs in the 6th inning of the nightcap for a 4-3 victory to win the title.

2 Sons of Tom Fool Capture Rich Races

Two sons of Tom Fool did all right by their old man Saturday when they won rich races in which the famous Greentree Stable thoroughbred either failed or didn't get a chance at the big money.

C. V. Whitney's Tompion and Dunce from A. B. Hancock's Claiborne Farm were the offspring of Tom Fool who brought back memories. Tompion soundly whipped eight other 2-year olds in the $114,475 Hopeful Stakes as Saratoga closed its four - week meeting.

'Hogwash' Says Carmen to Rumor He Is Quitting

The rugged 32-year-old, ex-onion farmer from Chittenango, N. Y., said yesterday that reports he was ready to hang up his gloves were hogwash.

"I'll fight Gene anywhere but in San Francisco," he told a reporter. "I'm not satisfied with the figures after they were talking about a $300,000 gate. We could have done better elsewhere."

He Preaches in Wheelchair

Lutheran Minister Is Polio Victim; Travels Through Country

The Rev. Allen V. Lee, 50, confined to a wheelchair for nearly 20 years, explains it this way: "You're unable to minister to the disabled unless you have experienced what they are experiencing."

Two years later, the Rev. Mr. Lee married his nurse, Helen Carlson of Halstad, Minn. They now live on a farm near here with their two children, Jimmy, 11, and Rebecca, 8.

As a guest minister who must travel around the country, the evangelist drives a car that is equipped with special controls, since he can use only his hands and forearms effectively.

Doctors say there is no hope that he will regain the use of his legs.

Last spring, the Rev. Mr. Lee was ordained into the ministry of the 1,100,000-member Evangelical Lutheran Church.

When he meets people with infirmities, the Rev. Mr. Lee often cites Biblical passages. "There is nothing that we can offer as far as physical improvement is concerned," he said. "But Christians have a hope which Peter speaks of in First Epistle. And that hope is heaven — and there the infirmity is not going to trouble us."

Note Monkey Business Booming, Expensive

NEW YORK (UPI) — Monkey business is booming.

Some 25,000 monkeys pour in monthly from the Philippines and India, at $40 a head, to meet the need of U.S. drug houses, trade sources note.

Most species of spiders have eight single-lens eyes, symmetrically spaced, enabling them to see in eight directions at once, the National Geographic Magazine says. Though the spider is sensitive to movement and light, it is nearsighted.

The world's longest cog-railway tunnel is in Switzerland. The two-mile tunnel took more than 4½ years to make.

British and Danish scientists have proved that sea anemone and other life exist seven miles beneath the surface of the ocean.

The number of persons in the United States covered by health insurance has grown from 61 million in 1948 to 123 million in 1956.

It was Oscar Wilde who said "Nowadays people know the price of everything and the value of nothing."

Italians, They Should Hep Get to Lingo

Most of the English notices and advertising in Italy are written by Italians who think they know the language and are easily believed by bosses who do not know it at all.

Some painfully dated grammar books and dictionaries for which time stopped in the Victorian era may be partly to blame.

"Make sure," says another, "that the external side doors fitted with lock are closed. The handle in the interior should occupy the position indicated in the diagram . . ."

From the publicity of a leading Rome restaurant:

"Being every piston exactly fitted to its own cylinder avoid pistons being changed one another."

A recent edition of a leading Italian-English dictionary carefully records such English words as "lansquenet" and "porteullis" but fails to give any clue to the English terms for radar, isotope, air-conditioned, neon lights or sky-scraper.

That modern flying thing is called "aeroplane" or "areo," and only a later edition tentatively mentions "plane" as an alternative. There is no trace of "jet plane," and a bomber is a "tri-motored bombing machine."

But in fairness, Italians could point out that the written Italian of some Americans is just as bad. The Allied Military Government during the war issued identity cards for civilians with an Italian notice, which, translated back into English, would be roughly:

Shot Shows Lincoln Wearing Spectacles

Last Man First on Joker List

Gets 'Sympathetic' Calls at All Hours Because of Phone Book Placing

CUMBERLAND, R. I. (UPI)—Francis W. Zyons has a "last man" problem. His name is listed last in the current Providence and Vicinity telephone directory.

"And it's no joke, either," he says. "Especially when creepy guys call me at 2 a. m. just to find out what the last guy in the book sounds like. What am I—a freak or something?"

Zyons, who is a paper-slitter in a paper plant, allows as how there's just one advantage to being the last name listed: "That's whenever I meet someone who needs my number, and all I have to do is tell them to look at the end of the book. That's me."

He averages two calls a week from strangers. And a lot of them are from "shaky-guys in bars who tell me they picked my name out of the book because it was the last one—just so they could talk to me. They usually say, 'Hi, Buddy. Come down and have a drink. Muss me tough to be the lass man in the phone book.'

"I tell 'em to have one on me, and I hang up."

Zyons says he's complained to the telephone company, but they've told him there's nothing they can do except to get an unlisted number. "And that's a bit too expensive right now, so I sweat it out."

Zyons can't always be sure when he is being kidded. There was one time: "A fella said he was calling me from a Providence radio station.

"Told me to name the mystery song. I was on the verge of tracing the call so I could go down and let him have it. But my wife just happened to turn on the station and could hear this guy talking to me. I won a buck."

NEW ORDER PASSETH—Blouse, slacks and loafers make up the typically American garb of this Turkish miss in Istanbul. She strolls by women who are wearing traditional black ensembles. Many Turkish women are adopting U. S. styles.

Engaged Couple Saves Pennies—for License

Composer Martinu Dies

LIESTAL, Switzerland (AP) — Czech composer Bohuslav Martinu, 68, died Friday. Martinu, who acquired fame as one of Europe's modern composers before World War II, wrote several operas, ballets and symphonies, but was particularly well known for his chamber music. He went to the United States after the war but soon returned.

Association Offers Tips to Vacationers

BOSTON (UPI)—The Automobile Legal Association offers these tips for sensible planning of your vacation trip:

Don't aim too high for daily mileage; always reserve a few days at vacation's end for rest and relaxation; use 40 p.p.h., not 50, as average speed in planning advance reservations for overnight stops.

If you expect to use ferries, obtain the latest schedules and time your dock arrival accordingly; allow for toll costs, which may be higher than you think; get a complete set of current maps; start early and stop early each day; and have a complete car checkup before starting out.

Typhoon Joan Hits Red China Mainland

The Communist New China News Agency said it was the "worst typhoon attack of the year."

The storm smashed into Formosa's east coast Saturday, packing 144-miles-an-hour winds. It caused 11 deaths, all Chinese.

Officials said the casualties were far less than feared when the storm raced toward the Island. Its strength was blunted when the north-south mountain range split the typhoon in two.

Horseplay Causes Death

MONROE (AP)—Judith Diana Howard, 18, of Livonia drowned in Twin Lakes seven miles northwest of here Sunday when a raft she was riding overturned 80 feet from shore. She and seven other girls were sitting on the raft when four boys jumped on it and it flipped over.

Never Forget Communism Keeps Nipping

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASSINGTON (AP) — Every once in a while, as if Communists were punching a time clock, this country gets a jolt, a reminder that communism is a revolutionary movement which intends taking over the world.

The United States is getting two jolts now: Communist guerrillas are attacking little, almost defenseless Laos. Red Chinese have shot their way across the Indian frontier, after savagely devouring Tibet.

Last year the Red Chinese banged away at Formosa. They had tried to help the North Korean Reds take South Korea. They succeeded in helping the Communists of Indochina take over half that country.

It seems incredible to this writer, judging from the nature of comunism and the performance of Red China, that it will ever cease trying to take over every country of Asia, the soft touches first, the bigger ones later.

Red China has moved so far mostly by direct, or indirect, military aggression. But it doesn't have to shoot its way in every time. It can use infiltration, internal subversion, economic pressure, threats.

The Soviet Union has been more exposed than Red China to immediate atomic attack if it got too brazen. So it has been less crude, less daring.

After the Soviet Union seized Czechoslovakia in 1948 through internal subversion and frightened the West into forming its North Atlantic Treaty Alliance, it has tried to move by pressure, infiltration, threats and economic penetration.

Because communism up to now has nipped at its neighbors a bite at a time and then sat back, waiting for the noise to dwindle, it is easy for the Western world, so long as it lives on hope, to think things may settle down.

They never have and it is questionable they will—for a long time.

The West does not seem unduly excited by Premier Nikita Khurshchev's warning that communism will bury the non-Communist world, even though he suggests the funeral services will be conducted by economics.

Time is the greatest narcotic communism has for trying to stupefy the West into hope and even relaxation. Communism, convinced it will win the world, is willing to take its time at the gambling table. Khrushchev has said so.

The whole Western world will hope, but keep its fingers crossed, when President Eisenhower and Khrushchev sit down together in mid-September to talk peace. Maybe they will even reach some peaceful understandings. It is doubtful whatever they achieve will be more than a temporary peace.

By the same token, of course, the West with its military alliances and its economic help is doing much, if not its utmost, to keep the rest of the world non-Communist.

Talks with Khrushchev will hardly change that. So the most it seems reasonable to expect is a truce.

Out of all this perhaps the only comfort the West can find is that Khrushchev may be deeply worried about the growing strength and ambitions of his ally, Red China. There was a time, before the Communists took over China and showed their own strong will, that the Soviet Union may have hoped to rule the world. Not now. In the end, Red China may become the Soviet Union's greatest enemy.

The world hasn't reached the stage yet where the spirit of communism in any country is greater than the spirit of nationalism. Until it does, there can be no peace even for Communists in a Communist world.

One reminder of the reality of communism—of the long struggle ahead — came over the weekend from the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee which released a report from one of the private research groups it has hired to study the various aspects and problems of American foreign policy.

This group warned: "The fundamental face which dominates our foreign policy problems is the determined, relentless intention of the Soviet Union to control the world. It is important the United States realize this is not an idle threat."

Earl's Youth Revisited in Nostalgic Daydream

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—It is vacation time and I have been thinking of places I'd like to go back to . . .

I'd like to go back to the first grade at the Rockford, Ohio, Public School which I entered about 1914—but I can't, for that school has been torn down, though the first-grade teacher, Clara Penn, still stands . . .

WILSON

I'd like to go back to Graduation Night at Rockford High and to all the "kids," now a little gray, whom I drove around with afterward, in a car called "the Whippet." . . .

And to the ATO fraternity house at Columbus the night they gave me my pin (I wonder where it is now?) after initiating hell out of me . . . to my first plane ride, Akron-to-N.Y., hoping for a job on a N.Y. newspaper . . . to the city room of the N.Y. Post a (whole year later) when I first read my by-line on a N.Y. paper, on a story about Maxwell Bodenheim . . . to the old Onyx Room on 52nd St. on New Year's Eve, 1936, when Mike Riley and Ed Farley played "The Music Goes 'Round and 'Round" and Rosemary Lyons and I decided to get married . . .

I'd like to go back to my Greenwich Village apartment, the night the postman brought me a special delivery letter with a check for $250 for my first magazine article . . .

ELEANOR HOLM

To a newsstand at 54th St. and Seventh Ave. the morning I bought a Saturday Evening Post and discovered my name on the cover . . . to a table at 21 when Morris Ernst witnessed a contract which made me a syndicated columnist . . . to the old Club 18 across the street where Jackie Gleason used to be an unknown comedian . . .

I had meant this column to be different, but sometimes my brain or its reasonable facsimile drives my fingers where I hadn't intended them to go.

I was going to say I'd like to go back to the 1939 World's Fair to see Eleanor Holm swim in the Aquacade and to talk to Mike Todd at Gay New Orleans . . . or back to Leon & Eddie's Sunday Celebrity Nights . . .

Or back to L.A. to Lucy's where Jane Russell introduced me to the Moscow Mule, the start of the vodka surge . . .

Or to sitting at Doney's in Rome eating jelly doughnuts or standing at Siegi's bar in London, or to a hundred other places . . . but if you have some "I'd like to go back to's" yourself, you know that you'd principally like go back to your youth and that your youth may be interesting principally to you.

Age is only good in whisky.

EARL'S PEARLS: Some folks don't have many faults—but they sure make the most of those they've got.—P-K Sidliner.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: The way prices are now, you're lucky if you can make one end meet. That's earl, brother.

Europeans See Ike, Macmillan TV Broadcast

LONDON (UPI)—Residents of seven European countries got the opportunity today to see an historic "live" television broadcast of President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan making an informal report on their cold war talks.

Television industry experts figured it to be the most-watched television program in Europe since the corpnation of Queen Elizabeth six years ago.

Hunt Thief With Taste for Art, Gabor Women

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Police are hunting a burglar with a taste for art—and women. But what will he do with framed oil portraits of Zsa Zsa, Eva and Magda Gabor?

The pictures were stolen Sunday from the home of their mother, Jolie Gabor. Other items taken: a television set and two pink-striped bedsheets.

St. Louis Will Be Going to the Dogs to Obtain Better Law Enforcement

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) — In the morning, the German shepherd lolled contentedly on his side, tail wagging, as the little boy climbed over him and playfully pulled his ears.

That night the same dog, a snarling, 80-pound bundle of fury, helped scatter a threatening mob of 1,000 persons and sniffed out a burglar hiding in a dark warehouse.

The dog is one of 19 that went through an intensive 14-week training course based on Scotland yard principles which changed them from household pets to alert, obedient police dogs in the St. Louis canine corps.

If Maj. Andrew T. Aylward, corps commander, and Police Chief Jeremiah O'Connell have their way, there will soon be 40 or 50 such dogs acting as a deterrent to crime in St. Louis.

STARTED IN '56

A four-paragraph section of the Metropolitan London (England) Police Department Annual reported the project started in 1956.

After reading it, department officials sent O'Connell, Aylward and Dr. Victor Brannon, director of the St. Louis Governmental Research Institute, to London.

The three - man investigating group returned to St. Louis, enthusiastic over what they had seen.

In the spring of 1958, five St. Louis policemen went to London for a 14-week training session.

Each of the men returned with a trained German shepherd. The group became the nucleus of a canine police corps which has attracted visitors from all over the United States, particularly East Coast, as other police departments look into the advantages of the dogs.

Members of the St. Louis underworld also developed a keen awareness of the four-footed police rookies. Dozens of burglars, thieves, vandals and holdup men were sniffed out by the dogs.

GOOD PSYCHOLOGY

"They have a big psychological effect, too," Aylward said. "Recently two patrolmen were trying to flush a burglar they knew was hidden in a warehouse. All the dogs were off duty but one of the men was inspired enough to call 'Let's turn the dogs loose.' "

Fifteen men armed with riot guns failed to quell the milling crowd and the call went out for Rebel, Duke I and Duke II.

'BEST OF BUDDIES'

One of the handlers, Joseph Beil Sr., said "My boy Joe, 18 months, plays with Rebel all the time and they are the best of buddies."

Biel was a little jealous of Mrs. Beil's high regard for Rebel, however.

Recently, he said, Rebel fell into a pit while on duty and strained his back. Beil almost fell in with him.

* * *

"My wife worried and worried about Rebel during the three or four weeks he was limping," Beil said. "She wasn't a bit upset over my narrow escape."

Weather Forecasts to Save $4 Billion

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—A government science consultant says savings of four billion dollars a year, chiefly in agriculture, can be expected in the next 10 to 15 years as a result of improved weather forecasting.

Dr. Charles Sheldon II, technical representative of the House of Representatives Committee on Science and Astronautics, said in an interview that the new forecasting know-how will come from experiments with satellites.

Pencil Bad on Checks

NEW YORK — Bank checks written in pencil are generally accepted but are not popular because figures can be erased. Checks written on Sundays are usually valid.

Red Newspaper Slams 'Lolita' as Czarist Plot

MOSCOW (UPI)—A Soviet literary newspaper suggests that Russian emigre author Vladimir Nabokov must have gotten his idea for his best-selling American novel "Lolita" from Rasputin, the woman-chaser of the last Czarist court.

The newspaper, "Literature and Life," rapped as "scandalous" the story of a man's attraction for a 12-year-old girl.

"And where do (the publishers) find this Vladimir Nabokov?" demanded the article. "Before becoming the spiritual father of American youth the White Guard (anti-Revolutionist) Nabokov invented anti-Soviet hash appearing on the notorious 'Voice of America.'

"At the time Nabokov was advertised as an Russian aristocrat close to the court of Emperor Nikolai Romanoff. Perhaps mingling in this court Nabokov took over something from Rasputin."

Nehru Seeks China Parley

Prefers Negotiations to War; Report Invasion of Bhutan

From Our News Wires

NEW DELHI, India—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru today said India would try to solve its border problems with Communist China by negotiations rather than war.

Nehru told Parliament his plan was two fold: To reinforce Indian border forces while at the same time talking the situation over with the Peiping government.

But even as he spoke Indian newspapers published reports that the Chinese had entered the tiny Himalayan country of Bhutan from Tibet and had clashed again with Indian border guards in the northeastern frontier agency.

Nehru's speech to Parliament, however, was designed to reduce some of the tension that has been building up. He said war was not the way to settle disputes.

He said the difficulty is that Indians claim certain northern territories on their maps and the Chinese Communists claim the same soil on their charts. He said he hoped conferences and talks could work out the disputes.

In London, President Eisenhower will meet Madame Lakshmi Pandit, India's ambassador to London, tomorrow. This indicated presidential concern over the Chinese Communist attacks on India.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said, however, that the call was a social one. He said Eisenhower invited Madame Pandit to tea.

However, diplomatic observers believe Madame Pandit, sister of Nehru, will bring up the Chinese Communist intrusions into northern India.

Dog Has Last Laugh

PARIS (UPI) — Pierre Gomez, 34, fell in the Seine River and drowned while trying to drown his dog, police said today.

Stocks Higher in Quiet Trade

The market was quite active at the start with the tape late very briefly as opening blocks were cleared away. Then the pace settled down.

As the steel strike entered its 48th day it looked as if it might spread to the metal fabricating industry. Meanwhile, new layoffs were announced by some railroads affected by the steel strike.

Plus signs were shown by Ford, Chrysler and American Motors while General Motors took a trifling loss.

Shoots Wife by Mistake

DETROIT (AP) — A housewife was shot and wounded by her husband last night in the belief she was a prowler. Vivian Wright, 38, fired a shotgun from his bed as his wife, Darlene, 36, entered the house shortly after 11 p.m. She had been visiting neighbors.

Ireland now has a railway locomotive which burns peat instead of coal. Peat is low-grade coal, but it has so much water and vegetable matter that, usually, it cannot compete with more compact coal.

House Cheers, Senate Sighs

Solons Wilt; Perk Up to Pass Tax Bill

LANSING (AP) — There were songs and cheers in the House of Representatives and sighs and a few tears in the Senate when Michigan's tax compromise finally was reached Saturday night.

Tension had mounted at the Capitol as lawmakers worked through the day in sweltering 90-plus heat. Veteran legislative observers felt the end might be near—but they had been fooled many times before.

The first break came in the Hoise. T. John Lesinski, Detroit Democrat, and House spokesman for the tax bargaining committee, beamed as he announced the compromise. Lesinski had his three-year-old son, Kevin, in two.

"My boy pointed a rocket gun at Morris. That might have done it," Lesinski said, referring to Sen. Carlton H. Morris, of Kalamazoo, chief GOP tax strategist.

Members broke into cheers and applause. Only half a dozen spectators were in the galleries.

Perking up despite the collar-wilting heat, a group of diehard members tried to push through the bill to jump their pay from $4,000 to $7,500. It was rejected 42-35 but kept alive for possible later consideration.

VOTING IS FAST

House votes on acceptance of the two-bill tax compromise were swift and overwhelming.

Members then became involved in an acrimonious dispute on another subject.

Rep. Harry Phillips (R-Port Huron) grabbed the microphone to object to a $450,000 item for sanitary improvements for state parks and recreation areas.

Phillips dissented because Gov. Williams had vetoed a parks admission fee bill. The governor was in the rear of the chamber at the time, huddled with House leaders. Phillips challenged him to a debate on the subject but Williams refused to be sidetracked from the tax problem.

The governor, who had called on the Legislature to stay through the night if necessary, canceled a speaking date at the AMVETS convention at Grand Rapids to keep on top of rapidly changing developments.

Aides shuttled between the legislative chambers and the governor's front office and the shirt-sleeved Williams remained until the final vote nailed down the compromise.

The scene shifted to the Senate after dinner. The Capitol was ablaze with lights—an unusual sight for a Saturday night.

Word spread swiftly of the pending settlement. About 100 spectators were in the Senate gallery when the upper chamber convened.

But before they made the surrender official, the GOP senators rocked the chamber with one last flourish of oratory. Most of them bitterly denounced the necessity of taxing business. "I know a lot of Republicans dislike this," said Morris. "But no one dislikes it more than I do."

"This tax on business smells," said Sen. Lynn O. Francis (R-Midland) more pointedly.

"This is a night of sorrow, not of glory," intoned Sen. L. Harvey Lodge (R-Drayton Plains). "May the Lord forgive us for we know not what we do."

"This is where we separate the men from the boys," boomed Sen. Charles R. Feenstra (R-Grand Rapids), in urging rejection of the settlement. "Let's show the courage of our forefathers—those signers of the Declaration of Independence!" Feenstra shouted.

The speechmaking continued for nearly an hour. Newsmen, waiting to relay word of official agreement, fidgeted impatiently.

Morris finally was told that if any more senators made speeches the news would break too late for the Sunday papers. Morris asked for an end to the oratory and the vote was taken.

The House, in a jubilant mood, was still in session. Rep. Reimer Van Til (R-Holland) took over the piano and Rep. Hans C. Rasmussen (R-Ludington) led members in singing "I've been working on the railroad."

"We'll be back again just as soon as they find that use tax unconstitutional," he predicted gloomily.

The House was the last to adjourn—at 10:33 p.m.—and a woman had the last word. Rep. Charline White (D-Detroit) made the adjournment motion.

"And we sure are glad it's over," she said for all.

Control Blaze in Oil Refinery

End Emergency State in Sarnia After Tanks Declared Safe

From Our News Wires

SARNIA, Ont. — A state of emergency was called off today after a fire in the refinery at Sun Oil Co., 1½ miles south of here was brought under control. Fuel tanks surrounding the refinery were no longer in danger.

Two to five big storage tanks were aflame. So was an underground gasoline storage pit.

The blaze was believed to have started from a pilot light near the storage pit.

Ontario provincial police halted traffic on highway 40 south of Sarnia and the entire Sarnia Fire department was rushed to the scene, to aid the company's fire fighting equipment.

State House Control Wavers in Election

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — Control of the state House of Representatives was at stake today in a special election in Kent County's third district.

Voters in the third district went to the polls to fill a vacancy in the Legislature created by the death of Rep. Glenn A. Hunsburger (R-Grand Rapids).

Hunsburger's death broke a deadlock in the House and gave Democrats a 55-54 edge. The GOP hopes to even the count with a victory in today's election while Democrats could take a two-vote 56-54 edge if their candidate wins.

Spacemen Guzzle for 5 Days; Fortified Liquids Prove Okay

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Air Force scientists have established to their own satisfaction that spacemen of the future will be able to get along fine on a diet of nutritious cold drinks.

It has long been theorized that under conditions of weightlessness in the void the best way to eat would be to squirt liquid food down the gullet with squeeze bottles.

But can man live by drink alone, however fortified with vitamins and proteins? In a just published report, the aero medical people at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio, say yes, he can.

Substituting straws for squeeze bottles, the Air Force tested liquid menus at Wright-Patterson on military and civilian volunteers, 15 men ranging in age from 21 to 29.

NO SNEAKING!

The men drank their meals three times a day—with liquid snacks as desired in mid-morning, mid-afternoon, and mid-evening — for five days while going about their usual work in the aero medical laboratory. Each pledged in advance to do no "outside eating."

Some of the men found that liquid meals can be lacking in excitement—the sort, say, you get out of finding pearls in oysters or sausage in a sausage pizza.

But none of them registered any violent objections (except to that beet soup) and some of them, at the end, even contended that they liked dining through straws.

The Air Force served the men alternating daily menus, known as menu A and menu B. Each day's meals provided about 2,600 calories and a quarter of a pound of protein—enough, the scientists said, to sustain people like space pilots who do their work sitting down.

Menu A consisted of tomato juice and "coffee drink" (with protein added) for breakfast, apple juice for mid-morning snack, chicken drink and chocolate milk for lunch, apricot nectar for mid-afternoon snack, beef drink, lemon drink, and coffee drink for dinners, and chocolate milk for mid-evening snack.

APRICOT NECTAR

Menu B offered canned orange juice for breakfast, but this was changed by popular demand to apricot nectar. The men didn't like the "canned flavor" of the orange juice. For mid-morning snack, menu B offered pineapple juice, with chicken bisque and chocolate milk for lunch, apple juice for mid-afternoon snack, beet soup (swiftly exchanged for vegetable soup), lemon drink and coffee drink for dinner, and chocolate milk again for mid-evening snack.

Six of the anonymous volunteers gained and nine lost weight during the five-day experiment. The greatest gain was 5.5 pounds, the greatest loss 2.7 pounds.

Some of the men thought they got a little touchy and weary as a result of the liquid diet, but generally "the morale of the group was good."

The scientific conclusion was that "a high-protein liquid diet will be acceptable for crews flying high-altitude, high-performance vehicles for extended periods of time."

If, that is, the diet excludes protein-added beet soup. This soup was "intensely disliked" by 13 of the 15 men. As the scientists said, it possessed a high degree of unacceptability."

Humphrey Asks Fallout Shelters

America Not Protected Against Nuclear Attack, Report Claims

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) proposed today that the government start making grants to states and communities to finance a "realistic" program of fallout shelters against nuclear attack.

His statement prepared for Senate delivery followed release of a congressional subcommittee's report describing the American people as being in a state of "total unreadiness" to survive an atomic war.

The subcommittee published expert testimony that a shelter system costing 20 billion dollars could save some 46 million American lives if nuclear war should come.

The special atomic energy subcommittee said the lack of preparedness threatens to undermine the nation's ability to resist "possible Soviet 'nuclear blackmail.'"

Humphrey said America never will have adequate protection against atomic attack if the government "is content with a voluntary, do-it-yourself shelter-building program."

He said individuals could not be expected to take the program seriously when the federal government does not require shelters in its own buildings.

"Even a limited to intermediate-range nuclear attack on the United States would now result in deaths of at least 50 million Americans—most of them radiation casualties," Humphrey declared. The potential death toll would be cut by millions with adequate shelters, he said.

School Case Goes to Court

Dollarway, Ark., Board Appeals Integration to U.S. District Bench

By the Associated Press

A federal court will consider the potentially explosive Dollarway, Ark., school case today as thousands of youngsters prepare to answer school bells in the integration-tense South.

The Dollarway School Board has asked the Eighth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis to stay U. S. Dist. Judge Axel J. Beck's order to admit three Negroes to the school.

Classes are to start Sept. 8 at the rural Dollarway school near Pine Bluff, about 40 miles south of Little Rock where two high schools reopened with token integration Aug. 12.

Arkansas Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett filed a friend of the court brief with the court in St. Louis.

"My interests in this case are in averting trouble at Dollarway and in keeping the Arkansas pupil placement laws from being torpedoed," he told a news conference at Little Rock.

Bennett said Beck ignored pupil placement provisions in ordering the three Negroes into the all-white school. Beck upheld the placement laws but said the Dollarway School Board was misusing them. The placement laws allow school boards to assign pupils to schools for various reasons not including race.

Segregationist resistance was reported mounting steadily at Dollarway. Opponents of integration appealed to Gov. Orval E. Faubus to use all his forces to keep the three Negroes out. Faubus said he was watching the situation closely and would not shirk his responsibilities to put down any disorders.

Correctional Association Begins 6-Day Confab

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — The American Correctional Association begins a six-day convention today with the 1,200 delegates considering the prime topic of how to improve correctional conditions for the nation's 180,000 prisoners.

Informal workshops on penal psychology, juvenile delinquency, prison industry and crime prevention are among the items on the agenda.

Couple Marks 100th Birthdays; Wed 79 Years

SPRUCE PINE, N.C. (AP) — "Uncle Will" Ledford and his wife Laura, hardly finished marking their 100th birthdays, are preparing for another celebration Sept. 8. It will be their 79th wedding anniversary.

"I'm so choked up with happiness that I can't talk," Uncle Will said Sunday as 150 relatives and friends met at his plain, five-room home in western North Carolina's Mitchell County. The party included many of their five children, 36 grandchildren, and 54 great-grandchildren and a great-great-grandchild.

Except when Uncle Will was off mining or chopping trees the Ledfords have worked together gathering roots and herbs and, until recently, raising their own food.

State Jobs Up 153,300 in Year

Nonmanufacturing Rolls Dip 11,200 in Same Period MESC Reports

DETROIT (AP)—The Michigan Employment Security Commission reported today that Michigan employment gained 153,300 in the fiscal year ended June 30, when its records showed 2,283,100 on payrolls.

Manufacturing employment, which slumped to a low of 776,600 in the October 1958 automotive model changeover period, had shot up to 971,600 by the end of last June.

But MESC said nonmanufacturing employment, which went down slower in recession 1958, was slower to rise and showed a loss of 11,200 jobs during the fiscal year. Nonmanufacturing jobs totaled 980,000 as of last June 30.

Claims for unemployment compensation sank from 1,250,000 in July 1958 to only 292,000 in June 1959.

But in mid-August a year ago Michigan had a record 485,000 out of jobs, and paid out a record $43,845,000 in unemployment benefits that month. Unemployment totaled 16.1 per cent of the labor force then, but had dwindled to 7.9 by last June.

The commission's unemployment trust fund shrank to an all-time low of $131,466,903 in August 1958, but bounded up to $235,000,000 by the end of last July.

Senator Sees Russia Refusing N-Test Ban

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) says Russia never will agree to a workable ban on all nuclear tests.

Hickenlooper, a key member of the House-Senate committee on atomic energy, said, however, he saw some possibility of a ban on tests within the earth's atmosphere.

He said the United States should exercise "all reasonable patience" in trying to find a "reliable" solution to the test ban problem."

The United States is expected to turn down Russia's latest proposal for an immediate and permanent ban on nuclear weapons tests on grounds it does not meet U.S. and British demands for an effective control system.

Goldie Lulls Crimester Into Sound Sleep

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Police say a purring cat brought an end to Richard Savoy's aspirations to a life of crime.

They said Savoy climbed into James A. Bentley's car in Los Angeles Saturday night and forced him at knifepoint to drive 55 miles to Oxnard and back. Bentley, 47, a Low Angeles engineer, said Savoy told him he was holding him hostage until he could get a deputy sheriff's gun with which to start a life of crime.

Also kidnaped was Bentley's cat, Goldie. En route back from Oxnard Goldie crawled into Savoy's lap and began to purr—and then went to sleep. Savoy relaxed. Soon he went to sleep, too.

Bentley spotted a police patrol car and flagged down the officers. They booked the 31-year-old Savoy on suspicion of kidnaping.

To Aid Portugal's Fleet

LISBON (UPI) — The government has authorized loans totalling more than $50,000,000 for the modernization of Portugal's merchant fleet and fishing industry, spokesmen for the national development plan said today.

Congress Deep in Bills but Considering Recess

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George Smathers (D-Fla) has proposed that Congress take a six-week recess starting next Friday.

Smathers, in a weekend letter to Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex), pointed to unfinished business—the stalemate over labor legislation, President Eisenhower's veto of the water bill, and a snarl over the Chicago lake diversion bill.

Smatchers noted Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's visit starts Sept. 15 and said "I think it would be the most suitable thing for all of us to be at home visiting with our constituents at that time."

A recess, he said, "seems not only wise under the circumstances but appears to be almost a necessity."

Johnson has said time and again that Congress should stay on the job until it passes major legislation including a controversial civil rights bill.

On this matter, Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) said Sunday he would like Khrushchev to witness "a good hot civil rights debate" while he is here and "show him that we don't send our minorities to Siberia."

Javits said he was not at all concerned about Congress being in session while the Soviet premier visits Washington.

Child Survives Rape, 'Prison'

Six-Year-Old Stuffed Into Refrigerator After Attack in Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI)—A 6-year-old girl who was raped and crammed into a refrigerator for 12 hours was reported in "good condition" today in general hospital.

Charles Crawford, 21, was arrested as her alleged attacker and was to be charged later today with assault to kill and rape of a child under 12.

Police said Crawford had a long record of sex offenses.

The girl, Debbie Tucker, was found in the refrigerator in the apartment next to that of her parents early yesterday by her stepfather, Kenneth Spangler, after a frantic all-night search.

Debbie told police she was playing outside her parents' apartment when a strange young man came up and grabbed her. After she was assaulted, the attacker crammed the child into the refrigerator.

Debbie said she could hear her mother and others calling to her while she was shut in the refrigerator, but she was jammed in so tightly she could neither move nor call out.

The child was reported missing Saturday evening and an intensive all-night search began.

"I was just about to give up," her mother said, "when I went past the apartment next door and heard someone moaning." This was about 5:30 Sunday morning.

"I was afraid to go in so I got my husband and he found Debbie."

Doctors at the hospital said the child escaped suffocation because a leaky gasket around the refrigerator door allowed air to seep in.

Hollywood Headlines

Dick Clark Offers His Observations, Not Advice

By JOE FINNIGAN

"I don't give them advice though," Dick insisted. "Let's say I give my observations.

"The minute I claimed to give advice, people would be up in arms asking me what right I have to do so."

Clark has been receiving the red carpet treatment at Columbia Studios where he's allowed to use Joan Crawford's old dressing room that's been locked up tight for years.

Even though he's exposed to many of the nation's youngsters, Clark hasn't tossed in the towel on the kids like some parents have.

"Information on various subjects is more readily available to them than it was to youngsters of other generations," Dick claimed. "That's probably true because of television. Despite all the knocks TV gets, it's a great medium of information."

As for teen-age problems, Clark says junior is no different from mom and pop in that regard.

"The teenager's main concern is his or her personal problems," Clark said. "The same is true of everybody else in the world."

With one show airing from Philadelphia and another originating in New York, Clark spends his time "commuting between the two cities" and plans to complicate things further by taking on another program and more films.

"I'll appear in one more picture next year," he said. "And, then my production company will make three others, one in London, England. But I won't appear in them."

His newest TV plans include a discussion type program for entertainers.

"It'll be called 'World of Talent' and we'll feature professional performers," Dick said. "As far as the general public is concerned, many of them will be new.

"It's always been my experience that show business people hold lively discussions. Now, all I have to do is come up with the right subjects for them to bat around."

Girl, 15, Finally Dies of Unusual Disease

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — A rare degenerative disease of the central nervous system has ended in death of a girl who had been in a coma for more than three years.

Gloria Miller, 15, of Chambersburg, Pa., died Sunday in Harrisburg State Hospital. Doctors said there is no present cure for the disease.

The Formosa Strait, which separates Communist and Nationalist China, is only 75 miles wide at its narrowest, the National Geographic Magazine says.

New GM Engine Light, Saves Gas

Experimental Turbine 'Giant Stride' in Study of Advanced Technique

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors today reported important gains for its Turbo-Titan II, an experimental truck adapting gas turbine power.

GM's Chevrolet Division, which is developing the truck with GM Research Laboratories, said the new engine is lighter and smaller than Turbo-Titan I but gives 12½ per cent more power and uses 25 per cent less fuel.

The Turbo-Titan project combines a Chevrolet heavy-duty tandem axle tractor chasses with a 225 - Horsepower Whirlfire gas turbine engine, a version of the engine used in the experimental passenger car Firebird III.

Harry F. Barr, chief engineer for Chevrolet, said the performance level of the new Turbo-Titan is a "giant stride" in vehicular gas turbine development.

Edison Head Back Home After Tour

"I climbed ladders, went down in salt mines and coal mines and inspected machines," he said of his 11,000-mile swing behind the Iron Curtain.

"We went into parts of the Soviet Union where people had never seen Americans and we were looked upon in friendly fashion," he told a news conference. "We were greeted warmly, enthusiastically by thousands of people."

Cisler headed a group of 10 American industrialists who visited Soviet industrial installations as part of an exchange program. He made a similar tour last year.

Wife of Councilman Files Suit for Divorce

Mrs. Zigmund J. Niparko today filed suit in Oakland County Circuit Court seeking a divorce from her husband, former mayor and now councilman for the city of Hazel Park.

Mrs. Anne Niparko, mother of two children, ages 7 and 4½ years, charges her husband since 1945 with extreme mental and physical cruelty. She said she "has had to sleep in the car to avoid his wrath."

A hearing for temporary custody of the two children has been set for Sept. 8. Niparko, a former Democratic candidate for state senator, is currently a teacher at the Ferndale High School and a parttime car salesman.

Start Baptist School With Estate of Jew

WASHINGTON, Ga. (UPI)—Capt. Abraham Simons, a wealthy Georgian who fought in the Revolutionary War, was buried six miles east of this town in a standing position with his rifle beside him "to fight the Devil."

Shortly after his death, his widow was married to the Rev. Jesse Mercer, who used Simons' large estate to found Mercer University in Macon.
