Re-Elect Two County Officials for 3rd Terms

Vote Hamlin, Thatcher Back Into Positions; Set Rochester Vote

The Board of Supervisors today paid an unprecedented tribute to its two top officers.

The board also after one roll call vote was snarled by a parliamentary debate, approved an Aug. 5 election date for the proposed incorporation of Rochester as a city.

Chairman Delos Hamlin, of Farmington and chairman pro-tem Hiland M. Thatcher, of West Bloomfield Township were unanimously re-elected to third terms in office.

Both supervisors were hailed for their roles in the important steps forward which Oakland County government has taken during the past two years, during which they have held office.

Normally at this time of year, Hamlin would have stepped down, Thatcher would have been elected chairman and a new chairman pro-tem would have been elected who, according to the supervisors' custom, would have taken over as chairman a year from now.

Hamlin and Thatcher, however, today acceded to popular demand that their administration continue in effect another year.

After their names were put forward for re-election, the nominations were closed and unanimous ballots cast for them.

Hamlin, 53, has represented his city 28 years, either as mayor, councilman or supervisor. He is a bowling alley proprietor.

Thatcher, 67, has been West Bloomfield Township supervisor since 1948.

Despite expected opposition by Avon Township Supervisor Cyril E. Miller, supervisors voted 46 to 22 for the August Rochester election, which had been slowed several years by legal battles. Declining to vote was Robert R. Boyer, of Pontiac.

5 FAIL TO VOTE

In the first roll call vote, Boyer and four other Pontiac supervisors didn't vote, claiming they didn't know enough about the proposal. This eventually brought a later shift in other votes. A second roll call then was requested.

Miller objected, saying "people on the outside not wanting to incorporate will be outvoted by those in the village wanting to become a city." He said he also disagreed with the proposed boundaries.

The proposed incorporation would make Rochester a city of more than four square miles, compared to the 1.6 square mile area of the village.

Income Tax Paid?

WASHINGTON (AP) — A reminder — midnight tonight is the deadline to file your income tax return.

If your return isn't postmarked by then, the government can charge you a penalty at the rate of 6 per cent per year added to your tax.

Months and Years of Research Behind Every Missile Launching

Behind every missile or satellite successfully launched at Cape Canaveral lie, unseen by the public, months and years of intensive research. The picture above shows you one aspect of that research, which goes on unceasingly.

At the National Advisory Committee for Aviation's research station on Wallop's Island, Va., more than 3,000 research models have been fired since the station was established in 1945.

This data is, of course, vital for the perfection of a missile nose cone that can, after a space flight, return to earth without burning up from friction.

This three-stage grouping consisted of two solid-propellant Nike booster rocket motors, teamed in-tandem with a solid-propellant Deacon rocket motor.

The Deacon (at upper end) was 6¾ inches in diameter and 107 inches long. It attained a speed of about 4,800 mph—more than seven times the speed of sound at high altitudes. During flight, instruments in the cone-shaped tip telemetered to ground stations 14 different measurements on aerodynamic heating and other characteristics of hypersonic flight vehicles. NACA, which does basic research, analyzes data obtained and turns it over to the military services, the aircraft industry and other interested organizations.

Tigers Opening at Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — The Detroit Tigers began another baseball season today, meeting the White Sox at Chicago as both major leagues got rolling in full swing.

Despite finishing last in the Grapefruit League, Tighe is confident his team is stronger than last summer because of added pitching and bench strength. The Tigers were fourth in 1957.

The Tiger roster was reduced to 28 late today when infielder Inman Veal was optioned to Buffalo.

For Bettering Community Relations

Urban League Honors C. of C.

The Pontiac Chamber of Commerce last night received the eighth annual Urban League award presented each year to the person or organization contributing most to racial and religious understanding in the community.

John I. Williams, retiring board member, in presenting the award to Howard Powers, 1957 president of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce, said: "We are happy to present this award to the chamber for its leadership in bringing together Pontiac merchants and Negro leaders for the purpose of discussing employment opportunities for Negro boys and girls."

Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, Supt. of Public Instruction for the State of Michigan, spoke on the subject of "Education".

Bartlett told the group that in an age where there is the threat of total destruction in the atomic race between the United States and Russia; and where there is the complex problem of men getting along with each other; the only solution to these problems is education.

"The reason for the Russians' scientific progress in the field of science can be attributed to their attitude toward education", Bartlett said.

"They believe education is the key to success, it is their tool and weapon—they have dared to educate everyone. They have no shortages of teachers because teachers hold a position of respect and are well paid."

Bartlett stressed, however, that our goals are not the goals of the Soviet Union. "American education is to serve the needs of the people," Bartlett added. "Our education system embodies conscience and stresses the democratic way of life."

Board members whose terms expired were; Mrs. Malissa M. Brice, Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart, Otis Lawrence, James Corwin, and Mrs. John D. Monroe.

An "Outstanding Community Service Award" was presented to Everett C. Spurlock, executive director of the Urban league by Charles M. Tucker Jr., president of the Oakland County branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

C. E. Wilson Enters Freighter Business

DETROIT (INS) — Charles Wilson, former Secretary of Defense, revealed today his new position as director of a fleet of 60 ocean freighters.

Wilson said, "The purchase of this fleet of freighters is merely an investment with friends who believe there is a boom in shipping, especially after the completion of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

The General Motors director added, "Outside of government service, I have had only two jobs in my life—first with Westinghouse Electric and then making automobiles in Michigan."

Wilson, 67, is an organizer of the Oswego Shipping Corp. and owns 75 per cent of the stock.

Oswego is the holding company which purchased the Marine Transport Company and the Marine Navigation Company. The latter firms owned the 60 ships, many of them oil carriers.

LONDON (AP) — "As Lancashire goes, so goes the nation," runs a political maxim in Britain. Today Lancashire went labor.

Fifth County Circuit Judge Approved by Gov. Williams

Gov. Williams yesterday approved a fifth circuit judge for Oakland County.

The governor signed a bill to place the fifth jurist on the Oakland bench, which has for several years now faced the largest case load per judge of any judicial circuit in Michigan.

Williams' approval of the bill was a complete turnabout from last May when he vetoed a similar measure. But a united effort of the four Republican and two Democratic Oakland legislators in sponsoring the bill helped win the governor's stamp of approval.

The bill will place the fifth judge on the bench July 1 of next year. He will be elected for this short, six-months term at an April election.

At the same time, voters will decide on a regular normal six years term beginning Jan. 1, 1960. Candidates would have to file separately for both terms.

The short term provision is supposedly what won Williams' favor. He desired the judge be put on the bench immediately.

The bill passed the house in February by a vote of 89 to 6. With Sen. L. Harvey Lodge (R-Oakland County) pushing for its passage in the Senate, it won by a unanimous vote of 30 to 0.

Seeing the possibility that the county might get this new position, county supervisors allocated $12,313 in the proposed 1959 budget.

Not long after Gov. Williams had signed the bill, a candidate for both terms tossed his hat in the ring.

Nepal Pronouncement Is Woe to Shangri-La

KATHMANDU, Nepal (INS) — Those dreaded words "income tax" were officially pronounced for the first time today in Nepal, a Himalayan Shangri-La isolated from the modern world until recent years.

The state treasury said in its estimates for the 1959 fiscal year budget that a tax on individual incomes was necessary to make up for expected deficit of 13,000,000 rupees.

Ike Dissatisfied With Sections of 2 Measures

Knowland to Poll Senate on Possible Revisions in Case of Rejection

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower today vetoed as "defective" the one billion 700 million dollar rivers and harbors authorization bill. He said he was sorry to do so because it includes authorization "of over 800 million dollars for 14 previously authorized river basin plans" which he considers sound. He urged Congress to "act quickly" to allow this money to be spent by enacting another bill which Army Sec. Wilber M. Brucker sent to Congress last January to cover those 14 projects.

WASHINGTON (INS) — Republican congressional leaders said after a meeting with President Eisenhower today that two bills — the big rivers and harbors, and the highway bills — are "in jeopardy" of being vetoed.

Senate GOP Leader William F. Knowland told newsmen that a decision on the rivers and harbors bill still is "an open question at the present time" because even though Eisenhower favors many projects involved he is "concerned" about others.

As for the 1 billion, 800 million dollar highway bill, Knowland said

Body of Boy, 8, Found in Creek

Cap on Bank Provides Clue for Searchers in Lincoln Park

LINCOLN PARK (INS) — The body of eight-year-old Danny Cassette was found today in a dredged section of Ecorse Creek about a mile south of Goodard road and a mile and a half from his Lincoln Park home.

The discovery of the body brought an end to a search by police, firemen and civilians after the child was reported missing from his home early last night.

River-dragging operations were started late this morning when Danny's maroon baseball cap was found on the bank of the creek.

A boat crew that included patrolman John McKeever of Allen Park recovered Danny's body in five feet of water.

Police said there was no indication of foul play and they assumed that Danny may have slipped into the deep water while walking along the bank.

Danny was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Cassette. His father is a bakery worker.

Police said the boy was last seen by a playmate at about 4:30 p.m. walking away from his home toward the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks.

His mother, Mrs. Lee Cassette, said Dan, who attends the Christ and Good Shepherd School, came home at 3 p.m. and left to play 15 minutes later. She had not seen him since.

The boy's parents reported him missing to Lincoln Park police at 6:45 p.m. when he failed to come home to dinner.

BY EARL WILSON

BRUSSELS — I flew over here to sneak-preview the Brussels World's Fair and smuggled myself into the closed Russian Pavilion which one American described as "a big house of glass with very little class."

Don't believe those stories that the Russians'll make us look like bums in front of 50,000,000 fair-goers!

What we do lack is Hollywood's Big Name stars — Sinatra Crosby, Hope, Durante, Brando and Kaye — to appear in the beautiful 1100-seat American Theater so that the U.S. can have the swingin'est spot at the "expo."

Surrounded by intrigue, the Russian Pavilion'll be a great lure. One Russian worker was mysteriously shot inside it.

RUSSIAN PAVILION—This severely classical, almost Parthenon-like pavilion 492 feet long and 236 feet wide will house Russia's exhibits at the World's Fair in Brussels. Russians are reportedly spending about $90 million on their buildings and exhibits. Fifty nations will participate in the event, opening Thursday and continuing through Oct. 19.

I put on a Belgian-type beret, entered the pavilion via a workers' door and wandered around gaping until a real worker — in a beret—caught me snapping pictures.

One rumor was that there'd be free vodka and caviar for all visitors . . . Before I got booted out, Vladimir Nikolaev, the restaurant boss, roared with laughter and shouted:

"Da da (yes, yes) we give caviar and vodka—for money!"

I saw acres of statistics showing Russia's improved since '17 . . . an enormous statue of Lenin . . . one of a man without a head (Gorky, whose head hadn't been taken out of its crate yet) . . . models of the Sputniks . . . heavy machinery . . . all rather dull.

"Are they really going to put a dog up on that little platform?" a woman asked me, echoing the latest rumor.

District 2 Decides Monday Between Two Attorneys

Voters of District 2, located in the southwest corner of the city, will be asked Monday to decide between two attorneys to represent them on the City Commission the next two years.

Incumbent Philip E. Rowston and challenger H. Malcolm Kahn were automatically nominated because there wasn't a third candidate in their district for a primary run-off.

Rowston, 36, of 532 W. Iroquois Rd. has been practicing law privately in Pontiac since 1953, where he joined the bar.

A Pontiac native, he was appointed to the commission in 1955 to fill a vacancy and went on to win the District 2 seat in the 1956 election.

Rowston was graduated from Olivet College and Detroit College of Law.: He served in the Army, 1943-1945.

A member of the Oakland County Tax Allocation Board, Rowston is on the board of deacons of First Congregational Church, is an Amvet, an Elk and a member of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

He is married and has two children.

A native Detroiter, District 2 candidate H. Malcolm Kahn is an attorney who has been in private practice in Pontiac since 1949.

He is a 1940 graduate of Wayne State University Law School and once was a title attorney and an agent for the U. S. Internal Revenue Service.

Kahn, 40, of 305 Pioneer St., is active in the Oakland County Republican party and served as a Pontiac precinct delegate in 1952 and 1954.

Married with two children, he is vice president of the Pontiac Breakfast Optimist Club and a member of the Elks Lodge.

Statements submitted to The Press by the candidates follow:

H. MALCOLM KAHN

"I stand for efficient administration of government. By efficiency, I mean the careful consideration of the needs of the residents of District 2, as well as those of all the citizens.

"In these trying times, particularly, I believe we must get our money's worth when spending tax dollars. The City Commission must be fully informed before taking any action and must be qualified to act on tax problems, social problems and police regulations.

"We must hold the line on all future special assessments except those proved to be vital to the health, safety and welfare of the property owners affected.

"Knowing well that the most valuable homes in the city are located within District 2, I pledge myself to oppose any rezoning to a lower classification which would have a detrimental effect on property values within my district."

PHILIP E. ROWSTON

"A sound fiscal structure is the bulwark of a healthy community. The City Commission has the responsibility of maintaining a reasonable tax rate which will provide the best municipal services available within our budget.

"It must remain alert to the changing needs of our city and insist that every tax dollar yields the fullest return. Experience dictates that this policy should be continued when planning the Main Library and Central Fire Station.

"We are on the threshold of an urban renewal program which will beautify our city and provide rehabilitation of an area which we may be justifiably proud of as a civic center.

"If re-elected, I shall continue to support a fiscal policy based upon a reasonable tax structure, which will provide futher improvements and expanded recreational, cultural and social facilities."

2 in Area Given New Ford Jobs

Birmingham, Bloomfield Township Men Involved in Firm Shuffle

The shift includes a rearrangement of plants into six manufacturing divisions, which in turn will be part of two new groups, the power-train group and the body group.

Company Vice President Irving A. Duffy, of 85 Manor Rd., Birmingham, will head the body group, which includes the metal stamping, hardware and accessories, steel and glass divisions.

Duffy will also be responsible for the tractor and implement division.

He formerly was vice president in charge of the transmission and axle group and aircraft-engine division.

Vertical Airliner Takes Off Like Huge Helicopter

LONDON (AP) — A British company claimed today that the world's first vertical takeoff airliner — it goes straight up, then straight ahead — soon will be hauling 40 or more passengers from the heart of one city to the center of another.

The Fairey Aviation Co. announced its Fairey Rotodyne makes the 220-mile flight from central London to the heart of Paris in 100 minutes instead of the present 4½ hours required — the long bus trips to and from the airports taking so much time.

Fairey built the 40-passenger, 150-mile-an-hour craft for British European Airways. The company said the plane had made 71 highly satisfactory flights since it first took to the air last Nov. 6.

A more advanced model, now on its way to completion, will accommodate 48 passengers or 4½ tons of freight, will cruise at 185 miles an hour and will have a range of up to 400 miles.

Pressure jets and a large rotor blade lift the Rotodyne straight up, thus saving runway space in restricted areas. Then two turboprop engines on the wings take over and the plane flies forward. When it is ready to land, the plane swaps back to the rotor blades again and comes straight down.

Mail 52 Years Late

FLINT — The U. S. mail doesn't always go through. Sometimes it comes back, even though it may take awhile. A letter, mailed 87 miles away at Jackson, was returned last week to the Buick purchasing department. Accompanying it was a post office routing slip stating it had been found in the lock-box section at Chicago. The postmark was Aug. 9, 1906, three years after Buick was founded and two years before it became part of General Motors, currently celebrating its 50th anniversary.

'Dead' Man in Court Reads Own Obituary

For awhile yesterday it appeared as though the Oakland County prosecutor's office was prosecuting a dead man.

This developed when a Pontiac merchant phoned the office and said that a Bernard Bluestein, being arraigned on a bad check charge in Circuit Court, was reported killed by a Miami Beach policeman last Thursday.

The merchant had Miami newspapers to prove it. Pushed into immediate action was Anthony F. Stiel, the prosecutor's chief investigator.

He rushed to Judge H. Russel Holland's courtroom where Bluestein was being arraigned for issuing bad checks while working for a downtown clothing store last fall.

"He broke out in the most unbelievable grin," said Stiel explaining how Bluestein reacted to the newspaper stories about his "death."

WEIRD TALE

Bluestein said Conaghan stole his wallet containing his identification, $200 in cash and a camera and left him stranded in Philadelphia. Bluestein was apprehended later and returned to Pontiac.

The man shot last week in Miami Beach was found with Bluestein's identification on him. "How he got it is still the big mystery," Stiel said.

The police there identified the dead man as Bluestein. A picture made of him in Miami Beach when arrested several years back for vagrancy was turned over to the papers. Hence, the pictures which the real Bluestein was confronted with Monday.

FINGERPRINTS PROVE IT

A medical examiner's fingerprint check with the FBI later showed Miami Beach police they had the wrong man dead. He actually was a long-time convict from Massachusetts, Bernard Blankerberg, who had served time for robbery.

Stiel found this out when he phoned Det. Lt. Robert Thompson of the Miami Beach police department yesterday.

So the real Bernard Bluestein lives on. He stood mute yesterday and will later face trial on the check charge. He was returned to the county jail under an unposted $10,000 bond.

B47 Explodes Over Florida

Stricken Plane Crashes Near Superhighway in Tampa Bay

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—B47 bomber from MacDill Air Force Base exploded in the air today in an electrical storm and barely missed crashing into Sunshine Skyway in Tampa Bay.

Wreckage from the bomber was scattered over the skyway. A plane engine was near the main span, connecting St. Petersburg and Palmetto.

Helmets worn by Air Force fliers were scattered along the causeway and bodies were sighted near the bridge.

A severe thunderstorm was in progress over the Tampa Bay area at the time. Hailstones an inch in diameter and winds of 50 m.p.h. were reported.

Officials at MacDill disclosed no information about the crash or crew members. They did say a convoy was on its way to the crash scene. A B47 normally carries three or four airmen.

184 Red Subs Sighted Off East Coast in 1957

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP)—Rep. Carl Durham (D-NC) says Soviet submarine activity off U. S. Coasts has increased recently and that 184 sightings were made off the U.S. Atlantic coast alone in 1957.

His statement last night at Greensboro College was the first to specify the number of sightings, though detections had been made for some time.

The chairman of the Joint House Senate Atomic Energy Committee said some of the Soviet craft were as close as seven miles offshore.

All Accused in Slaying of Polio-Crippled Boy; Death Penalty Possible

NEW YORK (INS) — As their loved ones prayed, seven outwardly unconcerned teenagers awaited today a jury decision on their trial for the ambush murder of a polio-crippled victim.

An all-male panel was to resume its second day of deliberations on the fate of the inter-racial street gang accused of knifing and clubbing to death 15-year-old Michael Farmer last July 30.

Two of the seven smiling and winking defendants, members of the "Egyptian Dragons," gave no sign that they faced a possible maximum death penalty.

Five other members of the gang, ranging in age from 15 to 19, escaped from the shadow of the electric chair when the judge instructed the jury to consider a possible maximum penalty of manslaughter, which could mean up to 20 years.

Anxious friends and relatives of the seven — two Negros, two Puerto Ricans, two whites and one Dominican—sat in the courtroom throughout Monday night awaiting a verdict after the three-month trial.

The blue-ribbon jury quit for the night at 12:25 a.m. (EST)—six hours after receiving the case, the largest mass murder trial in New York criminal history.

Roads, Water Bills in Danger of Veto

the President favors many many major aspects of the legislation but is "concerned about" a provision to change the federal-state contribution on primary, secondary and urban roads from the current 50-50 ratio to two-to-one.

TO ASK OPINION

Knowland said he also would ask his colleagues whether they would enact a revised highway bill should Eisenhower reject the present measure.

Regardless of whether the President signs or vetoes either bill, Knowland said he believes there will be both highway legislation and public works legislation enacted at this session of Congress.

Knowland reported that the chief executive also discussed with the Republican leaders the Defense Department reorganization plan he has submitted to Capitol Hill.

He said Eisenhower explained that he is seeking only a limited authority for the secretary of defense to transfer funds and not overall control of military money under the proposed plan.

SUPPORT SEEN

Knowland added: "On that basis, I believe there will be widespread support in Congress and throughout the country for this plan."

The Senate leader explained: "As the matter was outlined today, there was substantial support for it . . . generally, members of Congress that I have talked to will not be averse to limited transferability . . .

"I'm sure that there will be no effort to strip from Congress the control it has over appropriations."

Knowland said that legislation to implement the plan probably will be submitted to Congress this week and that there might be "slight modifications" before it is finalized.

A billion - dollar public works bill, sidetracked by a Republican led move before the 10-day Easter recess, comes up for renewed Senate debate today.

However, signs of mounting opposition brought forecasts that several days of debate are likely before the Senate reaches the voting stage.

There were indications the bill, described by backers as an anti-recession measure, faces strong GOP opposition on grounds it conflicts with President Eisenhower's program for fighting the business slump.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S. Court of Appeals by 2-1 vote today reversed the contempt of Congress conviction of Frank Brewster, Western boss of the Teamsters Union. HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Estelle Taylor, former silent screen star and onetime wife of ex-heavyweight boxing champion Jack Dempsey, died today at her Hollywood home. She had been suffering from cancer. She became the bride of Jack Dempsey in a romance that captured the fancy of the theatrical and sports world alike. She was Dempsey's wife when he lost the championship to Gene Tunney in Philadelphia in 1926.

The Day in Birmingham

Ingraham Elected Mayor to Succeed Roberts

BIRMINGHAM — Carl F. Ingraham, a city commissioner since 1956, last night was elected mayor of Birmingham at the City Commission's organization meeting. He succeeds Mayor William E. Roberts.

Harry M. Denyes Jr. was named mayor pro tem. He and John J. O'Gorman were sworn in as commissioners, having been elected April 7.

Ingraham, along with Mrs. Hope Lewis, David Levinson and Luther Hescock, was reappointed to the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

O'Gorman was named to succeed Charles Delbridge as commission representative to the Birmingham Recreation Board.

No action was taken on the installation of access drives on N. Woodward avenue. City Manager L. R. Gare was asked to prepare further plans on the necessary sewer lines and the retaining walls at the south end of the drives.

The request of the Junior Chamber of Commerce for installation of club signs at the north and south ends of the city was referred to the city manager. There is a question as to whether the signs would meet the requirements of sign ordinance and whether the selected sites would be contrary to State Highway Dept. regulations.

Birmingham Police again have expressed their concern over the growing number of tire and wheel thefts. Detective Lt. Merlin Holmquist said nine were taken from parked cars over the weekend.

He asks that citizens cooperate with the police by making sure car trunks are locked. Holmquist said that a tire and wheel could be sold for $35 to $40, and few questions asked as to where it came from.

City Considers Highway Plans

State Seeks to Repave, Widen Opdyke Road to Relieve Unemployment

City Commissioners tonight will be asked to pass on State Highway Department plans for repaving and widening of Opdyke road as a measure to relieve unemployment.

It is estimated that the city's share of the $160,000 project would be about $22,000, with $21,696 coming from special assessments and $303 from city funds.

Besides being repaved from Square Lake road to Walton boulevard, the road would be widened four feet, also.

Seven public hearings are scheduled tonight. One is on intention to construct a sanitary sewer on the southeast side of Montcalm avenue from Corwin northeast about 740 feet toward Summit.

Two others are on intention to construct curbing and gutters on Adelaide avenue, Oakland to west of Baldwin and S. Jessie street, Raeburn to E. Wilson.

Icebreaker Convoys More Freighters

PORT HURON (INS) — The Coast Guard icebreaker Mackinaw has began the job of convoying a second group of freighters through the Lake Huron ice jam.

Three ships were scheduled to follow the Mackinaw today in a fight to get up Lake Huron. Captain Ever Kerr, of the Mackinaw, said he will attempt to escort two southbound ships through the ice later today if the northbound trip is completed in a reasonable time.

A large field of ice collapsed yesterday near the mouth of the lake, and ice started flowing down the St. Clair River in huge chunks. Three other Coast Guard ships worked through the night to prevent ice jams from forming in the river.

One Wet Area, but Most of U.S. Enjoys Spring

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rain fell in the Far Northeast today but pleasant spring weather was indicated in other parts of the country.

It looked like clear skies and warming temperatures for the opening of the major league baseball season in eight cities.

The major wet belt yesterday was in the lower and mid Mississippi valleys and eastward into the southeast and south Atlantic states. The rains were expected to spread through the south and mid Atlantic coasts this afternoon and northward into the upper Ohio Valley.

Heaviest rainfall yesterday was in Louisiana, with more than 3 inches at Lafayette and more than 2 inches at Burrwood. Heavy falls were reported last night at Memphis, Tenn., and Pensacola, Fla.

Earl Wilson Invades Soviet Fair Pavilion

When the fair opens April 17, the U.S. Pavilion . . . with its "cityscapes," streetscapes," 1903 Ford, radar range, and color TV . . . will show vast imagination—particularly the modern art.

"What the hell is that?" is going to be asked in 20 languages concerning "a fountain piece" of steel and aluminum by Alexander Calder. All curves and twists, and rotated by a motor, it stands out formidably in the big American pool.

It does but it ain't. It's nothing. It's modern art.

Artist Saul Steinberg (the brilliant New Yorker contributor) was fashioning figures out of brown paper which he picked off the floor as I talked to him in our pavilion. He scotch-taped them onto one of his eight panels of American life . . . "a cocktail party" . . . "Las Vegas" . . . "a trip through the country."

Inside there was also an 85-ton redwood trunk.

"We should have brought a big one," said a Californian.

I predict a thrilling fair—but between Benny Goodman's one-week stand starting May 25 and Harry Belafonte's Sept. 5-6-7 engagement, it's nearly all long hair: Menotti, Menuhin, Blanche Thebom, Eleanor Steber, William Warfield.

Great stuff—but very little for us slobs.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Are the summer days (and spring, too) longer in the northern part of the United States than they are in the South?

Yes, summer and spring days are longer in the north, and winter and fall days are longer in the southland. When the sun crosses the equator (it did this on March 20th this year) the days in the northern latitudes begin to get longer than in the southerly states.

By the end of March the difference already amounted to about ten minutes, and this differential will increase steadily until at the time of the summer solstice (June 21st) the days in Boston, for example, will be an hour longer than the days in Charleston.

The difference between Maine and Miami will be even greater. The sun returns to a more southerly position, recrossing the equator in September, and then the days in the South begin to get longer.

Over a Year Ago

Retail Sales Up 7 Per Cent

NEW YORK (AP) — Sales for the first three months of 1958 are almost 7 per cent ahead of a year ago. . .

That's the cheerful report today of a group of retail stores singled out by the Brand Names Foundation Inc. for their hard-hitting promotion of nationally advertised brands.

Representatives of the prize-winning stores are in New York to receive "Retailer-of-the-Year" awards for 1958.

A poll of award-winning stores produced a bit of good news. First-quarter sales of the group as a whole were up nearly 7 per cent from the first three months of 1957.

Retailers selling food, drugstore items, liquor and gasoline racked up the biggest gains. Prize-winning department stores also did better than last year.

Furniture, apparel and auto retailers reported declines. But the brand name award winners in these three categories did better than the nationwide average for their groups.

New Bill Would Include Health Insurance

By RAY HENRY

The American Medical Assn. has told its members to get ready to fight a proposal to add a health insurance program to Social Security.

The proposal is in a bill now before Congress and has the strong backing of the AFL-CIO. Whether the bill has a chance of being passed by Congress this year is strictly a guess.

The AMA's warning about the bill went out to its 190,000 doctors last week in a private letter from President David B. Allman.

"Every physician," Allman said, "must be prepared to oppose this bill vigorously and be ready to make his views known to Congress should that become necessary."

Besides this alert, the letter attacked the bill as ill-conceived, bad legislation and not in the public interest.

'NO ALTERNATIVE'

Commenting on the letter, Rep. Forand (D-RI) — who put the bill before Congress — said:

"I find, as usual, that the AMA is opposing health legislation, but offering nothing as an alternative to solve the medical problems of older people. If Dr. Allman and his group have any constructive criticism, I hope they'll give it to Congress."

A hint, however, that the AMA may be planning an alternative was contained in Allman's letter. He told the doctors:

"Some of the most important and respected organizations in the health field are preparing a program which will lead toward solution of the problems of health care for the aged. Announcement of this constructive plan will be made soon."

No doubt the AMA's letter is designed to set the stage for bringing the pressure of the country's doctors on the Ways and Means Committee of the House. The committee is expected early next month to start considering changes in Social Security, including the health insurance proposal.

And, the letter is no doubt designed to try to offset the pressure of the AFL-CIO to get the bill passed.

ATTACKS SPECIFICS

In attacking the specifics of Forand's bill, Allman said—among other things — that the bill, if passed, would "eventually destroy private health insurance", "could bankrupt the entire Social Security program", "would bring the aged under government controlled and supervised health care" and "would mean higher taxes and less take-home pay for all wage earners for the benefit of a minority."

In general, Forand's health insurance proposal would:

1. Provide health insurance to cover certain hospital, nursing home and surgical needs of persons collecting Social Security. The coverage would go to persons now on the Social Security rolls as well as those who start collecting Social Security in the future. It would also cover persons still working who, if they stopped working, could start collecting Social Security immediately.

2. Tax a worker and his boss an additional ½ per cent each on all the worker's yearly earnings up to $6,000. The present tax for each is 2½ per cent on all the worker's yearly earnings up to $4,200. A self-employed worker would have to pay an additional ¾ per cent of his net yearly earnings up to $6,000. He now pays 3⅜ per cent of his net yearly earnings up to $4,200.

(Questions on Social Security problems may be addressed to "Social Security," care of The Pontiac Press. Questions will be answered by mail from the Pontiac office of the Social Security Administration. There is no charge for this service. You may obtain Ray Henry's new social security handbook by sending 35 cents in coin to this newspaper and requesting "Security for You" booklet.)

37 Lakes Ore Vessels to Start Runs May 12

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — Pittsburgh Steamship Division of U.S. Steel will open its shipping season May 12 with 37 ore vessels scheduled to get under way from Great Lakes ports.

The firm said more ships may be put into service later this summer, depending on steel requirements, but added the ore fleet will be cut to a maximum of 37 ships because of a decline in steel demand.

The division commissioned 55 vessels a year ago for the start of the 1958 season. This year's opening is one of the latest in years.

Portland, Ore., will celebrate the 50th Anniversary of its famed Rose Festival in June. In the "Grand Floral Parade" will be fifty flower-covered floats, each depicting one year from the last half-century.

Elvis to Wiggle for Army Only, Officer Declares

WASHINGTON (INS) — Soldier number 53310761 — better known as Elvis Presley — isn't available for command performances these days. Not even at the command of a congressman.

Rep. A. S. Herlong Jr. (D-Fla.) thought it would be real cool if he could get the famous private to perform at an Armed Forces Day celebration sponsored by the Deland, Fla., Chamber of Commerce.

But Maj. William J. Merlo, legislative liaison officer whose job it is to keep congressmen happy, bravely put the country's welfare ahead of his job. He wrote the lawmaker:

"Private Presley is currently undergoing his initial cycle of training, which is vital in preparing him for further Army service. He is one of a group of recruits comprising a packet operating on a rigid and accelerated training schedule which all must complete together.

"It is contrary to Department of the Army policy to interrupt this important phase of his training except for compassionate or emergency reasons. I regret that this soldier cannot be made available for participation in any civic project at this time."

Herlong is looking for a replacement.

Steals Dummy Ham

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A thief dashed into a market, grabbed a large, cloth wrapped ham hanging from a hook and escaped in a waiting car. Store owner Stanley Lee said the thief is in for a mighty big disappointment. The ham was a dummy, made of plaster, and strictly for display.

Winnie Favors Summit Meet

Also, He Discredits Arms Race in Nuclear Weapons, Missiles

NEW YORK (INS) — Winston Churchill said today that good opportunities for an informal summit conference "must not be neglected."

The former British prime minister, last of the big three of World War II, also declared that an arms race in nuclear weapons and guided missiles would bring "no security or even peace of mind to the great powers."

Churchill's remarks were made in an article about events since the end of World War II, "the cold 'peace' and our future," in a late issue of a national magazine.

He commented on a number of statesmen, and said of President Harry S. Truman, who decided to intervene with armed forces in Korea:

"His celerity, wisdom and courage in this crisis make him worthy, in my estimation, to be numbered among the greatest of American Presidents."

Churchill said he was not making a plea for disarmament. "Disarmament," he wrote, "is a consequence and a manifestation of free intercourse between free peoples. It is the mind which controls the weapons, and it is to the minds of the peoples of Russia and her associates that the free nations should address themselves."

He suggested the Soviet leaders must not be judged too harshly," and explained, "Three times in the space of just over a century Russia has been invaded by Europe."

Discussing hopeful features in the present situation, Churchill wrote that "no one can believe" Russia's isolation will last forever. He said the Communist doctrine is "slowly being separated from the Russian military machine."

Review United Fund Requests

Group From This Area on Special Committee at East Lansing Meeting

Pontiac Area United Fund representatives attending the budgetary sessions of the Michigan United Fund yesterday and today in East Lansing are participating in the review of requests for 33 state and national agencies serving health and welfare needs of state communities.

Five Pontiac residents are among the seven in Oakland County who are serving on the Admissions and Budget Committee of the Michigan United Fund. They include: David B. Eames, Robert S. Nelson, Owen O'Neill, Andrew J. Wilson and Robert M. Glenn.

Mrs. Palmer G. Bundy, of Davisburg and Adolph F. Klein, of Royal Oak, are also representing the county on the committee. Some 240 civic leaders from every major community in the state are attending the two-day meeting.

Last year the committee allocated $3,033,000 to cover the needs of these community services and agencies.

In addressing the committee at the opening session yesterday Joseph H. Carey, chairman, said, "Your final budget allocations for the necessary services of these agencies must continue to reflect the realistic thinking inherent in United Giving, both in terms of present health programs and community; but more than any other year, we must consider the economic climate in which the money to fulfill these needs must be raised."

4 Cartons Found in Warehouse

Stompanato's Effects Seized

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — A new shadow of mystery was cast today over the complex personality of slain Johnny Stompanato, the handsome underworld figure who courted movie queen Lana Turner but failed to touch the inner circle of Hollywood society.

Four cardboard cartons of Stompanato's personal effects were found yesterday by Beverly Hills police in a warehouse of a storage company.

Beverly Hills Police Chief Clinton Anderson said the boxes were confiscated to "learn everything we can about Stompanato that may be of assistance to the courts in deciding the future of Miss Turner's daughter, Cheryl."

Stompanato, a husky ex-Marine, was killed with a single thrust of a butcher knife by the 14-year-old schoolgirl last April 4.

Anderson said the cartons contained a jumble of personal effects which revealed that the 32-year-old Stompanato may have had a secret marriage to a fourth wife.

Three bank books for joint accounts held by Stompanato and a Rosemary Trimble and a gold wedding ring bearing the inscription, "From Here to Eternity — Rosemary and John," were in the cartons.

Also found was a good luck charm which bore the words, "To my friend, my buddy, my sweetheart, my husband, from your loving wife. — 7-10-55."

Stompanato was divorced by his first wife in 1949. He was then married and divorced by actresses Helen Gilbert and Helene Stanley, who ended their marriage in February 1955.

At the time of his marriage to Miss Stanley, the Stompanatos were friendly with Mrs. Rosemary Trimble, and her physician husband, Dr. David Trimble, of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Trimble said last night:

"We used to play cards together. The Rosemary named in the ring is definitely not me. I've been married to my husband for 15 years."

Anderson said one of the joint accounts for a brief period in 1955 had a balance of $25,000. However, the balance was soon wiped out by a check that Stompanato made out to himself for $25,000.

Anderson said the cache also included a number of promissory notes made out to women from whom Stompanato had borrowed money.

While the police continued to probe into possible reasons for the slaying, preparations were made for the April 24 Juvenile Court hearing which will decide the future of Miss Turner's daughter.

At that time, the court will decide whether Miss Turner will retain custody or whether the girl should be turned over to the care of someone else, possibly her father, restaurant man Steve Crane.

King Again for a Day

Truman Quips Through Hearing

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
INS Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (INS) — Ex-President Harry S. Truman, probably the scrappiest, cockiest witness ever to appear before a Congressional committee, had 'em all but rolling in the aisles at yesterday's House Banking Committee hearing on the recession.

Told by Democratic Rep. Wright Patman that he is the only former president ever to appear before a Congressional committee, historian Truman quipped:

"I remember one who asked to appear before a committee while president, but he got insulted and never went back. His name was George Washington."

(Both, apparently, forgot about Herbert Hoover's not-infrequent congressional appearances.)

The standing-room-only audience which overflowed the big committee room was obviously partisan to Truman. Frequent outbursts of applause wreathed the past President in smiles. The man from Independence was king again for a day, and more than a match for occasional GOP stilettos.

A committee member who tried to ask Truman about a comment allegedly made on unemployment while President during an exclusive interview with newsman Arthur Krock, couldn't even finish the question.

"May I say to you that that exclusive interview didn't happen," Truman snapped. "It came out of thin air."

Grinning the inquisitor shrugged: "In this era of outer space, many miracles occur."

Asked for comment on Truman's assertion, Krock dictated this statement:

"President Truman proposed the interview. It duly took place. By arrangement with him I submitted to him the article before publication. Through his press secretary, the late Charles G. Ross, it was returned to me approved with a few changes in pencil but none in the passage about unemployment. The interview was published Feb. 15. At his Feb. 16 press conference the following colloquy occurred:

("A reporter — 'Was the interview authorized in that form?'

("The President — 'It was.'")

Chairman Brent Spence (D-Ky), operating under the five-minute rule, occasionally had to call time on his colleagues' questioning. Once, when a congressman who had been trying to needle Truman about his previous statements on unemployment expressed regret that he had no more time, Truman squelched: "I'm sorry too. I'd like very much to listen to you." The rebuke was aimed less at the needling than at the long questions which sometimes prevented the fiery ex-President from having his say.

Truman figuratively boxed President Eisenhower's ears at some points, but once defended him. For instance, he firmly blamed all of our current recession woes on Ike's former treasury secretary, George Humphrey, for raising the interest rates on government bonds.

A few minutes later, however, when youthful Rep. Merwin Coad (D-Iowa), sought to gain Truman's sympathy by complaining that he has fruitlessly tried for a year to secure an interview with Eisenhower, Ike's predecessor withered him with this lecture.

"The Presidency is a six-man job. You must be as considerate as you can of him. My sympathy is always with the President."

Crowded Hong Kong Seeks Aid for Refugees

HONG KONG (AP) — Crowded Hong Kong is seeking relief aid for more than 1,500 fishermen who have fled here from Red China's south coast in the past three weeks to avoid being forced into Communist cooperatives.

More refugees are arriving in small boats each day, claiming they were being drafted into cooperatives which take over their boats and gear and confiscate 70 per cent of their catch.

The Hong Kong government has been issuing the refugees permits to fish in local waters.

Meany Comes Out for Tax Reduction

Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, made the statement last night in giving his support to a five-billion-dollar income tax cut proposed by former President Harry Truman.

"Truman is absolutely right; a tax cut should be given to low and middle income people who would spend it to give the economy a shot in the arm," Meany said. He also called for closing up income tax loopholes.

He was interviewed upon his arrival here for a series of meetings with California labor leaders.

His Is 1,601,000 Miles Without an Accident!

Harold E. West, shown with his wife, Helen, and 18-year old son, Raymond, is Michigan's 1957 Driver of the Year.

In his 27 years as a truck driver for the Geo. F. Alger Company, Detroit, he has driven over 1,600,000 miles without an accident. That's an average of nearly 5,000 miles a month!

Like the 11 other truck drivers listed here who were finalists with him in the annual competition (and the drivers of the thousands of trucks which keep Michigan's homes and factories and shops and farms supplied with the things they need), West makes a professional career of safe driving.

Congratulations, Harold West! Keep up the good work — and may your example be an inspiration to Michigan's vast motoring public!

Yes, trucks deliver the goods — and safely!

The Most Powerful, Yet Safe Reducing Drug Ever Released For Public Use!

Federal Health Authorities Approve P.P.A.® As Safe Without Prescription. This Remarkable Drug For Reducing Is So Incredibly Effective It Limits The Ability Of Your Body To Produce Sensations Of Hunger! Helps You Lose Weight Fast Without Special Diets, "Plans," Exercise or Feeling Of Self-Denial Because It Appeases Your Appetite At The Same Time!

It's New — Entirely different! Revolutionary!

Not a bulk-filler, reducing candy or wafer. HUNGREX WITH P.P.A. is the first and only type of non-prescription product that includes these words on the label:

in the treatment of obesity obtainable now for first time without a doctor's prescription!

At Last! After many years of research comes the release—direct to the public—of the most powerful yet safe proprietary drug for reducing now known to medical science. This means that a revolutionary reducing aid has arrived that really works . . . that tends to limit the ability of your body to produce sensations of hunger! And thus you can now lose excess weight fast without special diets or "plans" formerly found in other types of reducing products!

The Name Of This Newly-Released Drug is P.P.A.®

It is so effective that it helps satisfy your appetite within minutes after you take it. It is so effective that once it starts to work in your body, you are as virtually protected against gnawing hunger sensations and a "runaway appetite" as it is reasonably possible to be. And because you won't normally feel hungry you will no longer be tempted to overeat! Thus for the first time you can really lose excess weight fast without special diets of any kind whatsoever!

How Could Anything Be Easier Than This?

You simply take a tablet that's much tinier than an aspirin tablet before each meal . . . and that's all you do.

P.P.A.'s Automatic Control Of The Appetite And Hunger-Producing Centers In Your Body Lets You Enjoy What You Eat — But You Simply Want To Eat Less!

Why? Because when federal health officials recently released P.P.A. to the public as safe, it marked the first time in medical history that a drug powerful and safe enough to help overcome the relentless craving of hunger could be released for your use without a doctor's prescription! The first time in history that any non-prescription weight-reducing product states on the label: IN THE TREATMENT OF OBESITY.

Thousands Now Lose Weight Who Never Thought They Could!

Imagine the thrill of overweight men and women who write day after day, some reporting remarkable weight losses up to 5 lbs. the very first week . . . 9½ pounds in 2 weeks . . . up to 18½ lbs. the very first month with P.P.A. . . . and even recording weight losses of 35 to 41 lbs. without doing anything difficult, dangerous or unpleasant!

Control Of Your Hunger And Appetite Is Automatic—So You Don't Even Have To Count Up Your Calorie Intake With A Pencil

Best of all, you'll still enjoy your food, still eat luscious steaks, chops, roasts, stews and other favorites, and still your weight will come down. Because P.P.A. drastically cuts down your craving for food and caloric intake, without affecting your enjoyment of food.

Unlike every other old-style reducing product you've ever tried or heard of, we give you no thinly-disguised "plans" or diets of any kind to follow, because the daily recommended dose of Hungrex with P.P.A. helps appease your appetite and is designed to protect you from overeating all through the day. If you're a normally healthy person, and you're like thousands upon thousands of other overweight folks who have successfully tried this new wonder product, you won't normally crave food between meals. You won't suffer the usual hunger pangs, or have that "empty" gnawing feeling. You'll enjoy what you eat, but you simply won't feel inclined to overeat, because you're just not hungry! And when this happens, when you cut down your caloric intake, off comes your excess fat. It's simply burned up by your body in the form of a glorious, new release of energy for you . . . while you grow slimmer and more attractive-looking each day!

Nothing Like It Ever Available Before For Quick Reducing Without A Prescription!

As plainly as we can state it, so that there is no possibility of confusion in your mind between Hungrex and any other product: You will not find a "plan" or diet of any kind when you open your Hungrex package, as you're used to finding in other types of non-prescription reducing products! Because only Hungrex with approved-strength P.P.A. has shown it is powerful enough to help overcome the most powerful craving a human being can long endure—HUNGER! And Hungrex with P.P.A. is the only such powerful type of reducing aid that your government has ever released as safe without prescription! No other kind of reducing product can make this statement to you.

Hungrex With P.P.A. Works As We Say — Or Your Money Back

Naturally, individuals vary. So we say try Hungrex for 1 day, 5 days, 10 days — the full 21 days if you like. Check your weight losses as you go along. See the wonderful change in your body that takes place almost daily. Then either we've fulfilled our promise to you—either you're delighted with the way you've lost weight—either you look and feel better—you've found the secret to a safe, pleasant way to get your weight down and help keep it that way—or merely return unused portion for your money back.

Eleanor Continues Giving Free Advice

Mrs. ELEANOR ROOSEVELT has delivered a rather devastating blow to Senator JOHN KENNEDY's presidential aspirations by thumbing him down in open meeting. This may not prove to be fatal, but it certainly won't enhance his position in his party.

Mrs. Roosevelt has been very voluble in her discussions of Democratic party politics. Surely this is her right. It's her privilege just as much as it was her privilege to tell Americans how to raise children when her own were traipsing through the divorce courts.

Perhaps it would be even more fitting for Mrs. ROOSEVELT to expatiate upon her late husband's defections at Yalta when he was hoodwinked and outthought. Also, this country might like to listen to her discussion of FRANKLIN'S recognition of Red Russia when he was bowing and scraping before foreign powers.

Someone should refresh Mrs. Roosevelt's mind on the ancient quip about glass houses and the serious business of throwing stones. The self-appointed role of elderly stateswoman may have worn thin. Perhaps she should pull the blanket around her shoulders and sit comfortably on the side lines while more active Democrats run with the ball.

Hoover for Moratorium on Wage Price Increases

One of our elder statesmen, former President HOOVER, comes up with one of the most challenging suggestions yet noted for checking the depression.

He favors a huge slash in all government spending that isn't for defense. These sentiments will receive a rousing "aye" vote clear across the country. By doing this, he believes we would reduce costs sufficiently to justify a tax reduction and yet preserve a balanced budget.

Further, he wants both labor and capital to take a realistic hand in the problem by declaring a moratorium on wage and price increases.

Well, what's wrong with that?

Why shouldn't both help?

If all prices were maintained at the current levels and if all wages were kept where they are, the business of coming out of this setback would be boosted appreciably.

Will they do this?

If they won't which one will prove to be too selfish? Will labor say: "you hold the line and we'll advance."

Or will the manufacturers of the nation say: "hold wages still and we'll advance prices."

If both of them listen to ex-President Hoover, this nation will be on the way to recovery. All of his admonitions are sound.

Who disagrees?

Who does?

Suggest More Control for Defense Secretary

President EISENHOWER has suggested reorganizing the Defense Department with greater powers concentrated in the hands of Secretary NEIL MCELROY.

As one might suspect, a hue and cry of sorts has arisen. Of course, the branches of the armed services are not in accord and many members of Congress are partly in opposition. Specifically, the President suggests that one year hence, the appropriation be placed under the authority of the Secretary who makes such allocations as he sees fit.

Obviously, this places more power in the hands of the Secretary and less in the three branches themselves. Many people think there has been too much inter-service rivalry, already. They feel the three should move along more evenly as one team, instead of competing directly. This dissipates certain energies and accomplishments.

One of the most interesting features of the current idea, lies in the fact the proposal for lessening the authority of the military comes straight from the greatest military man of them all: Dwight D. Eisenhower.

This fact alone should lend a certain amount of strength to the President's suggestion. From his current vantage point, he has decided more will be accomplished with the top authority possessing greater discretionary powers. And basically, this means a military man is nodding in the direction of a civilian, which shows that President EISENHOWER is tremendously sincere.

The Man About Town

Teenage Group Making Efforts All Round Success

Promptness: What may mean $250 to you in our baseball contest.

who for over two years have been doing a top job in my home town. In fact, their manner of doing things has been studied by a number of surrounding towns who now are starting projects along the same line.

Besides paying big dividends in manhood, they're also a financial success. They're a going business concern, and already have accumulated a substantial sum toward building a new clubhouse.

The attendance at their parties crowds the 400 mark, and for next Saturday night they have booked the Regal-aires Dance Band and the Dappers Singing Group.

It has been brought to my attention that was employed in a Pontiac plant as a gear polisher when a young man. He then lived at Lapeer.

Flying to Caracas the other day was in response to a cable from the Venezuelan government, where he is to look after the installation of a multi-million dollar composter plant.

Your entry in our baseball contest must be received in The Pontiac Press office by Friday noon of this week in order to qualify for that $250. Better attend to that matter before you forget it.

My business is boosting the Pontiac area, so I hasten to inform the world that Michigan's Secretary of State, is one of us. His summer cottage is at one of our Long Lakes.

James M. Hare

"Why It's Simple—You Put It in the Ban k and I'll Take it Out"

David Lawrence Says:

Truman Starring in Political Circus

WASHINGTON — The Democrats have apparently decided to make political capital out of the recession. They are putting on hearings which are more concerned with making political propaganda than with helping to put America's economic house in order.

LAWRENCE

The spectacle of taking testimony from Harry Truman, whose administration has been accused of gross indifference to unemployment in the 1949 recession, is a kind of political circus which awakens memories of similar tactics in the 1930s.

PAYING PENALTY

For the people of the United States are again paying the penalty today of a divided government. With the Democrats in control of the House from December 1930, through February 1933, the political warfare against the Republican president in the White House grew so intense that the latter once remarked it was tragic to find his opponents preferring to "play politics with human misery."

For almost four years now the Democratic Party has had the major responsibility in Congress, while the White House has been occupied by a Republican president. When recessions come and national unity is so essential to economic recovery, why is it so important for the partisans to play politics?

Thus President Eisenhower has just pleaded with Congress to pass legislation, which he recommended on March 25 of this year, to provide a temporary continuation of unemployment compensation benefits for workers who have exhausted their benefits under state and federal laws. The President declared on Sunday:

"I said at the time that prompt action was necessary to give these workers and their families 'a greater measure of security.' This is not a matter of statistics or economic theory. It concerns people—human beings—who need, and should have, the assistance of their government.

MOVE SWIFTLY

"I hope that the members of the Congress will move as swiftly as possible on this vital problem when they return to Washington. All of us in government have a special responsibility to act to alleviate the hardships which are being suffered, through no fault of their own, by these workers and their families."

But what is Congress doing? It started out this week with a show in which former President Truman was invited to air his political views. Truman has been making sarcastic comments about President Eisenhower, one of which was that if he were president: "I would be doing something. I wouldn't be sitting still or playing golf."

"In 1949, a serious economic recession began in the spring and unemployment grew through the summer and into the winter. President Truman and the nation were told in November that unemployment in the previous month had mounted to 3,823,000 or 6.1 per cent of the smaller working force of that time.

LEFT WASHINGTON

"On Nov. 26, President Truman left Washington for Key West, Fla., where he spent 24 days. He returned to Washington on Dec. 21 and two days later left on a holiday trip of a week to Independence, Mo.

"The recession meanwhile deepened through the winter and into 1950. A peak was reached in February when 4,828,000 or 7.5 per cent of the working force was out of work—slightly more than the 7.7 per cent who were unemployed in March 1958.

"That figure was announced in the first part of March 1950. On March 13, President Truman again left Washington for Key West where he spent 29 days. The latter trip was taken shortly after Truman said in an interview that up to 5,000,000 unemployed was 'supportable' and it was 'healthy for the economic body' if job-seeking went on at all times."

The Federal Reserve Board has just announced that industrial production in March of this year was 28 per cent above the 1947-1949 average. This was during the Truman recession.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Father Has Duty to Share in Miracle of Childbirth

I have heard young people explain what "going steady" means and what wearing a "boy friend's" fraternity pin means, but I'm afraid I don't quite grasp the psychological distinction of such relationship from a marriage engagement.

DR. BRADY

Call me sourpuss, but it seems to me these frank acknowledgments of the willingness to bill and coo or dally without responsibility are moronic. Here are college men and women with eighth grade behavior, training for divorce or desertion.

In America the divorce rate is the highest in the world. And annually, 200,000 rats desert their wives just before the course of, or shortly after the birth of a baby.

From professional experience, in hospital and in private practice, and from long observation, I believe the ungodly separation of husband from wife at the moment of the birth of their baby is a common predisposing factor of divorce and desertion here in Yankeeland.

The excuse lying-in institutions give for excluding the husband from the delivery room — that he might bring infection into the environment — is hokum. Another excuse — that they can't be bothered taking care of fainting husbands — is an insult to any one except a real sissy-boy.

BANG GOES MARRIAGE

The man who permits an attendant to shoo him into the monkey cage to await the announcement that he is a father makes a sickening spectacle — a milk-toast character. If he chooses to sweat it out down at the corner bar, the marriage is probably on the rocks. That has been my observation.

A man who loves his wife will study with her everything she studies; accompany her, when possible, on every visit to the doctor; and see that the doctor's instructions are followed. Preparing for baby's arrival is a partnership and not just the expectant mother's business.

To help expectant parents, I have a little handbook, "Preparing for Maternity." For copy send 35 cents and stamped, return envelope to Dr. Wm. Brady, 265 El Camino, Beverly Hills, California.

The birth of a baby is always an awe-inspiring event. But the birth of your own baby — that's a miracle, and I say it is wicked to keep a couple from sharing it fifty-fifty.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

The Country Parson

"We ought to work a little harder at finding the right way to do things—and not quite so hard at finding the easy way."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Low E.Q. Is as Bad as Low I.Q.

Andy is flunking out of college. But his parents caused his failure 18 years ago by stunting Andy in his "Emotional Quotient." It is almost as tragic for a child to have a low E.Q. as a low I.Q. Many modern mothers worry solely about a baby's medical health, failing to develop its spiritual and emotional growth. So discuss this case in PTA meetings.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"Andy never stays on the campus over the weekends. He leaves for home on Friday afternoon and even cuts classes to get away early.

DR. CRANE

"Then he may remain at home over Sunday night and try to drive back on Monday morning. But that often makes him late.

"Dr. Crane, his homesickness for his parents and familiar surroundings is the reason why he is failing, for he has a brilliant mind.

SHIFT SCENES

Suppose we go back to Andy's childhood. His parents were educated Americans but failed to look ahead.

So when normal parents would hire a baby sitter and attend a movie, Andy's parents stayed home because Andy would scream and cry so pathetically that they couldn't bear to leave him.

Sixteen years ago Mrs. Crane and I had been at parties when Andy's parents would show up at 10 p.m.

They would apologize for their late arrival by saying they had to wait till Andy was sound asleep before they dared leave the house, even though they had a competent baby sitter on hand, too.

Thus, they allowed Andy to become a tyrant in the family. And they meanwhile failed to prepare him emotionally for standing on his own feet when it came time for him to go to college.

Andy couldn't even go to Boy Scout camp in summer or attend a Church Camp for a week, because he couldn't stay away from Papa and Mama.

EMOTIONAL X. QUOTIENT

His doting parents thus were giving him a low Emotional Quotient!

Most parents will move heaven and earth to raise their child's I.Q. or Intelligence Quotient.

Then many of them will turn right around and deliberately pull down their youngster's Emotional Quotient by babying the child unduly and letting him rule the roost.

Being a good parent requires a certain hardness of heart. Naturally, a parent doesn't relish seeing his child shed tears.

But tears are a part of the price by which children MUST learn to develop an adult Emotional Quotient.

Start training your youngsters to feel at home with other persons than his parents, and do this early.

Husband and wife should go out on a minimum of one date per week, even the second week after the baby arrives.

Hire a competent baby sitter. And if your child is old enough to talk, then calmly inform him of what is to happen.

But be sure you have a familiar baby sitter whom the child knows and loves. Then tell him you are going out for a little while but will soon be back.

Meanwhile, remind him that the baby sitter will be with him. This will prevent the tragedy facing Andy, now 19, who is flunking out of college.

EMOTIONAL CALORIES

You mothers, too, should show as much concern for the spiritual "feeding" of your baby as for his orange juice, vitamins and other medical aids.

Healthy bodies aren't enough. Children should have alert minds and self-sufficient emotional ballast to carry them through life.

So teach your children how to make friends and live apart from Mama and Papa, at least for brief intervals.

Give your first child a baby brother or sister within two years. And send for my 200-point "Tests for Good Parents," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents (non - profit).

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Thinks Senator Potter Is Talking Through Cap

Senator Potter's charges against the UAW and Walter Reuther at a Birmingham press conference indicate he's either talking through his cap or he stands along side Senator Goldwater of Arizona as a political hypocrite.

I can understand Potter's fears of UAW political activities, because he may find himself unemployed come November. He was subtle in his reflections on Reuther and UAW by reference to the McClellan Committee disclosures on rackets. He made no distinction as to which unions were guilty.

Mr. Potter knows the UAW was given a clean bill in this respect by the Committee. Perhaps these facts mean nothing to the Senator when such political expedience he used becomes a means to an end.

Can't Understand Valuation Raise

The City Commission has seen fit to reduce taxes by 43 cents per thousand valuation. That's fine, but have you checked your assessed valuation lately?

I'm wondering where the city assessor finds fairness in his present method of assessing. In district four we have a new railroad yard, a city dump and the assessor raises the valuation of our property. No improvements have been made on my property, yet I had a raise of $200 in valuation recently. It's about time we elected a commission that will go into the assessor's office and find out what's going on.

With the increase in assessed valuation, the 43-cent decrease per thousand has turned out to be a political pig in a poke. Go to the polls and vote April 21.

'Will Crackdown Apply to All?'

I agree young people must either live by the rules or take what's coming to them. There should be a crackdown on delinquents, but only if it's fair. The trouble is the poor kid from the wrong side of the tracks may feel the crackdown while the well-dressed hoodlum has it easy because "he's from a good family." And they'll blame the poor kid's parents, but the one whose father is well-known and well-liked around town, "you can't blame the parents in this case, because they're grand folks."

Successful people have less excuse for bad children than poor folks, because their kids don't come into contact with so many undesirables and they don't have to spend all their time and energy just making ends meet. I'm glad to see anyone get a break, rich or poor, but if it works for one, it should be the same for all.

Junior Editors Quiz on ANIMALS

QUESTION: Do animals have a sense of humor?

ANSWER: Animals often like to play with each other and with toys. Even the savage jungle creatures—lions, tigers and leopards—play with their cubs just as a cat plays with her kittens. A cub will often pull its mother's tail fearlessly. When the mother gets tired, she often ends the game with a good solid slap.

Dogs too like fun. They will run after a ball or stick and carry it back almost endlessly. Seals also play a great deal. Monkeys have a well-developed sense of fun, but they are quite mischievous in their play. Many healthy young animals — puppies, kittens, colts, calves, lambs and kids—romp and play. So, while animals may not be smart enough to have a sense of humor, many of them do have fun.

FOR YOU TO DO: Watch your pets or those in the neighborhood and see if you can tell when they are playing. If there is a zoo nearby, visit it and see how much fun the animals have. The monkeys and seals are especially playful.

'Can You Do Nothing at All for 4 Hours?'

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — "Can you," inquired the Hindu of the modern American male, "Do nothing at all for four hours?"

But of course, said the modern American. What's to ado about nothing?

"I mean really do nothing — no eating, no drinking, no smoking, no talking, no listening to or looking at anything? Just sit still and think."

Sure thing, said the sure one. And the next four hours he could spring loose from his wife, his office and his TV screen, he sat down to prove to himself that, like the Hindus, he could practice the ancient art of contemplation without chewing his nails to the wrist.

It's the toughest thing in the world. I know, because after reading the above challenge in a magazine article called "The Pause That Inspires," I gave it a fling myself. The Hindu had said, "For us, contemplation is a stepping-stone to happiness," and we could all use a few rocks in that direction.

The first thing to do, when you're contemplating a four-hour contemplation, is find a comfortable chair. After two hours, even foam rubber digs in like the old Indian nail bed, so start off easy.

Next, have yourself a last cigarette, put out your family and all ticking clocks, dim the lights and begin . . .

The first 20 minutes, you worry. About this time you're wasting, and about letters you didn't write, and about how you must relax and not worry.

The next 10 minutes, you wonder how you can go three and a half more hours without a cigarette. You wish you had taken off your girdle.

A half-hour later, your mind has romped lightly over all your problems and you can honestly say — if you could talk — that none of them is your responsibility. You are the victim of circumstance and careless or crafty people. You have constructed for yourself a hate list and an ignore list among your friends — ex friends.

The contemplation moves well into the second hour and, perhaps out of boredom as much as anything, you analyze the motives of the people who have done you in. Gradually, your heart softens as your derriere hardens. All these people were innocent children once . . . and how innocent were you?

This opens a whole new field of self-analysis, and you do not appear like such a hot tomato after all. You begin to feel pure and purged, almost like a devout Hindu except that you still want a cigarette.

The subject of money comes up. You try to knock it down, and almost succeed. For the first time in your adult life, you think calmly of the Department of Internal Revenue and how they really do need their share.

The thought occurs that you may be going out of your mind.

At the end of four hours, you are a new person. Happy, bland and lazy.

You realize you'd better not contemplate too often — or all those wonderful friends of yours could do you out of your chance to come to the aid of the kindly old tax commission.

Pain-Killer Tested in Labs

Drug 100 Times Stronger Than Morphine Produced

By RENNIE TAYLOR
AP Science Reporter

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A drug 100 times stronger than morphine in pain-killing ability has been produced in the laboratory and is being tested on humans and animals.

It offers chemists an opening to develop a new line of better as well as stronger pain killers, says Bill Elpern, drug researcher at Cutter Laboratories, Berkeley, Calif. Elpern described the product today before the American Chemical Society.

Basically the drug is an alkaloid called piperidine, but it has to go through several chemical changes. Elpern made several kinds for testing.

The strongest of these was not only 100 times the strength of morphine but 785 times as potent as meperidine or demerol, one of the most widely used synthetic pain killers, Elpern said.

However, it was also about 10 times as poisonous as demerol and slightly more poisonous than morphine.

But since its effectiveness as a pain killer increases much faster than its toxicity, it could become the foundation of a new group of agents against pain, the researcher said.

A group of scientists from Los Alamos, N.M., cradle of the atom bomb, told how the contamination of growing plants from radioactive fallout might be reduced. This report was presented to the meeting by Dr. Eric B. Fowler, who headed the test project.

The addition of lime to calcium-deficient soil sharply reduces the amount of strontium-90 in plants such as alfalfa and lettuce. These two crop varieties and grass were used because they represent crops eaten by humans and animals.

Strontium-90 taken into the body as food settles mainly in the bones, where it can cause tumors and otherwise destroy tissues by the kind of radiation it gives off.

Chemically, calcium and strontium are much alike. When soil in which plants are growing is deficient in calcium the plants will pick up any strontium they can reach because it is their best substitute for calcium.

The Truth About Russia's Schools

Soviet Rural Pupils Seeing Red All Over

(This is the second of four articles in which a top American educator who has recently visited Russia provides a first-hand, frank and authoritative analysis of Russian schools.)

By WILLIAM W. BRICKMAN
Professor of Education, New York University

(Copyright, 1958, by INS)

To learn what Soviet education is really like, we must look at country schools as well as those in the big cities. I therefore visited School No. 16, on the main highway to Minsk some 12 miles from Moscow.

The lady principal greeted me warmly. She was a member of the Communist Party and wore her sports medals proudly. I communicated with her at first through my Intourist chauffeur, who spoke a combination of halting French and broken German. When this system threatened to break down, I switched to my basic Russian.

School No. 16 is a four-year institution for the children of the countryside. It operates on a double session: four classes meet from 8:30 a.m. to 12:10 p.m., while four others take place from 1:30 p.m. to 5:10 p.m. The school has three hundred children and ten teachers.

The visitor comes into a central hall which leads into the four classrooms. Between periods the hall is used for short breaks during which the boys and girls sing and dance to the tunes played on the piano by the music teacher. I noticed on the walls the pictures of Lenin, Stalin, Marx, Voroshilov, and other notables of significance to the Soviet people.

A bust of Lenin was prominently displayed. I also saw health charts and exhibits of writing done by the children.

The outer room of the principal's office contained teaching charts for arithmetic and for the Russian language, and samples of the pupil's handicraft work. On a table were files of "Pravda," the official newspaper of the Communist Party, and of special junior editions of this organ.

In the second grade, there were 37 neatly uniformed eight-year-old boys and girls all being taught how to read. Some pupils read from the textbook, while others recited portions from memory. They stood stiffly at attention when called upon to read or to recite.

The teacher asked questions about the reading and the pupils volunteered answers. Whenever a child wishes to reply, he rests his elbow at right angles to the desk and points his straight palm upwards. The very eager ones raise their elbows a few inches. The teacher's attitude is firm and friendly. Everything is strictly formal. There are no problems of discipline.

All the children are members of the "Oktobrist Group," an organization sponsored by the Communist Party for youngsters below ten years of age. At ten, of course, they become Pioneers. A few wear Red stripes on their right sleeves. These moppets are Communist leaders in the making. Almost all of the pupils over ten wear the Pioneer neckerchiefs.

The classroom walls do not have many decorations — only a Red hammer-and-sickle poster, portraits of Khrushchev and Voroshilov, and a picture of the famous novelist Turgeniev.

An arithmetic lesson was soon under way. The teacher summoned a boy (let's call him Nikolai) and a girl (Nina) to the front of the room.

Nikolai picked up from the teacher's desk five small Red flags and Nina took two. The teacher then asked the boy to give two flags to Nina and asked a series of questions: How many flags did Nikolai have at first? How many does he have now? How many did Nina have? How many does she have now? Another child wrote down the subtraction on the blackboard.

What was interesting about the Red flags was that they represented the Kremlin, the hammer-and-sickle, the Soviet Revolution, and Picasso's dove of peace with its slogan of "Peace to the world."

In this way, the teacher used Communist visual symbols and colors to teach arithmetic.

The children, we can well understand, are too young to make sense out of political ideology, but they can be made at home with the symbols which represent the principles of communism.

They are thus conditioned for their future acceptance of this political faith. The pupils "see Red," in the literal sense of the term, all about them.

Employment Gets Better in Colorado

DENVER (AP)—James Noonan, deputy director of the State Department of Employment, reports the first major break in unemployment in Colorado.

He estimated that 35,000 Coloradoans still are seeking jobs, but added that the figure represents a decrease of nerly 3,700 in a single week.

"The first downward trend of any sizable amount since last September was reflected in the week ending last Thursday," he said, when $443,315 was paid to 14,463 claimants. During the previous week ending April 3, he said, claims totaled 15,311.

Army Pursues Rebels in Cuba

Fifty Insurgents Land on Coast in Attempt to Open Second Front

HAVANA (AP) — Army forces today pursued a yachtload of Cuban rebels from Mexico who landed on Cuba's southwest coast in an attempt to open a new front for insurgent leader Fidel Castro.

Military authorities said the band, unofficially estimated at 50 in number, had landed during the weekend at a Colomba Beach in lower Pinar del Rio province and scattered in the hills.

The army claimed it had seized the yacht — El Coraje (Courage) — and quantities of arms and munitions the invaders cached in a farm house.

If the new group keeps out of army hands, it will be in a position to open up a third front in Castro's guerrilla war against President Fulgencio Batista. The eastern province of Oriente, where Castro landed from Mexico with 81 men in December 1956, is the focal point of the revolt. A second front is operating in central Cuba's La Villas province.

The main rebel force in Oriente struck at several points around Guantanamo, site of the U.S. Navy's base in Cuba. Army headquarters said the insurgents suffered heavy losses.

The rebels shot up Caimanera, a sugar mill town north of the base. There were no casualty reports on that foray, but the army said four rebels were slain in an attack on Jamaica, a town six miles north of Guantanamo, and 26 were killed in the town of Lima near the base.

Three rebels were gunned down in an attack on the American-owned Soledad sugar mill seven miles northeast of Guantanamo. The insurgents burned the mill warehouse, destroying 1,000 bags of sugar.

Sixteen Die in Air Crash Off Coast of Spain

MADRID (INS) — Sixteen persons died today when a Spanish airliner crashed into the Mediterranean Sea in a flight from Bilbao to Barcelona.

The plane, carrying 14 passengers and a crew of two, radioed the Barcelona airport it was coming in for a landing just before it crashed six miles from the coast.

Plan to Increase Birth Control in Pakistan

This year's national budget allotted 500,000 rupees ($105,000) to birth control, far more than previous years.

Pakistan has a population of about 80 million, which will increase about 1,200,000 this year. The country produces less than half the food grains it needs and must import food, using either its own money or extensive foreign aid.

The government is setting up a National Council on Family Planning. The main attack on the population problem will be through publicity and education, but clinics also will give free contraceptives.

The government also is attacking the food problem.

"Agricultural production, instead of keeping pace with the increase in population, has in recent years been lagging behind," Finance Minister Amjad Ali told Parliament.

Pakistan has been forced to import food grains in 7 of the 10 years of its existence. The country spent almost 95 million dollars in foreign exchange during the last three years. Foreign aid—notably from the United States—provided 136 million dollars of food grains during this period.

Pakistan's five-year plan calls for irrigating 1½ million new acres of land by 1960.

Distribute Surplus Food to U.S. First—Dingell

WASHINGTON (AP) — Proposal that Congress order the Agriculture Department to distribute surplus food to needy Americans before disposing of any abroad has been made by Rep. Dingell (D-Mich).

The lawmaker said yesterday his suggestion "Will not stop foreign disposal of surplus commodities but will simply make sure that our own hungry, unemployed and persons in the lower income brackets will have first crack at the foods that our people are taxed to buy and store."

Four Men Trudge Out of Snowbound Sierras

Mack Sturgill, 24, and his nephew Larry Sturgill, 21, both of Sacramento, came out Sunday along with two Hamilton Air Force Base paramedics, I. M. Vaigare and Richard B. Sherlin, who went in after them last Wednesday.

Jack Sturgill, 63, Mack's father, and Bill Rubindahl, McMinnville, Ore., a bulldozer operator, will remain at the placer gold mine until some of the snow melts. The men went to the mine March 18 to begin spring operations.

When heavy snows grounded their vehicles, family concern prompted the Air Force to drop the paramedics to see if everyone was all right. They were. But then the medics couldn't get out until the weather began to clear.

You can make that life happier and more secure by protecting and improving neighborhood conditions. Start where neighborhood decay and blight so often begin. Check your own home.

Are floors and foundations firm? Are bath and kitchen facilities adequate? Is your roof secure, wiring safe, heating supply sufficient? Do your grounds set a good example?

These are some of the small flaws upon which blight feeds and spreads. Keep the simple things from becoming serious. Keep up your home, join your neighbors in community-improvement groups. Bob Considine Says:

Nuclear Subs to Replace Costly Carriers

ABOARD U. S. S. SEAWOLF (INS)—Even a short ride on this atomic submarine convinces me that the underseas nuclear vessel will supplant the fantastically costly aircraft carrier just as surely as the carrier rendered obsolete the one-time backbone of the U. S. Navy, the battleship.

With detection instruments improving almost hourly, it would now be suicidal to send even the redoubtable U. S. S. Missouri into battle against a submarine equipped to throw an atom-headed rocket over any distance beyond the 20-mile range of Missouri's historic guns.

The same thing must soon be true, if it is not already true, of the great floating airdromes of the Forrestal class, as well as the 8-reactor atomic-powered carriers the Navy plans to build. The same money, put into the atomic submarine program, would buy us infinitely more protection, be much more of a deterrent force.

Men with three and four rows of ribbons, including the Navy Cross, have been talking submarines with the reporters aboard this rare vessel (the only submarine in history with a pipe organ) and their talk — when stripped of natural bias—makes sense.

The role of the submarine in World War II was one of attrition. It was built to sink, first, merchant ships and then, if it could, warships. That mission has been changed by two things: The release of atomic energy and the development of the solid fuel missile.

We are building a type of submarine which will carry, upright, as many as 16 Polaris rockets, each armed with an atomic and eventually a hydrogen bomb, each able to be shot from great depths and capable of flying 1,500 miles to a chosen target. The Navy plans, if necessaary, to rim the Soviet Union with such craft.

It says that such a deterrent force could hit any major Russian target, but unlike the bases of the Air Force's Strategic Air Command, (or the atom-packed carriers) would risk very little chance of retaliation.

Another mission of the atomic submarine of today is to hurt other submarines, virtually unheard of in World War II. We were given a word picture of underwater dogfights of the future. "Like two men in a dark room, fighting with 6-shooters on a thick rug," Comdr. R. B. Laning, skipper of the Seawolf, said. "The first one who makes a mistake, gets it."

Seawolf has engaged in many mock battles with Nautilus, the first and most successful of our uranium-fueled subs. Though the Seawolf is slower and has been handicapped by troubles within its sodium-cooled power plant, she has kept abreast of the faster boat by dint of magnificent underwaterseamanship.

Fantastic stealth is involved, when one atomic sub is on the prowl for another. "Sometimes I wish we had rubber coffee spoons," Laning said, speaking of the way in which noise travels under water. We were permitted to go into the darkened sonar room of the Seawolf, and, while submerged below the Atlantic, listened to five ships in the general area.

The boys at the controls knew what kind they were from the sounds they made. They also told us they frequently listen to fish. Whales and porpoise whistle, shrimp crackle, croakers croak, drums drum.

The atomic sub is here to stay, and the one-time "Silent Service" will soon be giving the orders to the rest of the Navy in a firm, fissionable voice.

Kidney Transplant May Mark Historic Moment in Medicine

BOSTON (INS)—A battle against death by a Franklin, Ohio woman continues at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital with a victory a possible mark in one of the greatest advances in the history of medicine.

It could result in successful transplanting of the heart or any other vital organ from one human to another, surgeons said.

They also said it could also mean an end to childlessness for men or women organically incapable of having children.

"It is a wholly new technique in the transplant of human organs, and cannot be divulged at this time," said a hospital spokesman. "It may mark the greatest advance in the history of medicine."

The woman is Mrs. Gladys Lowman, 31, mother of two sons.

In the muscles of the forepart of her right thigh just below the groin, surgeons on April 7 implanted a kidney.

Mrs. Lowman does not know the girl. The girl does not know the Ohio mother.

Successful kidney transplants have been performed before, but in each case the donor and the recipient have been identical twins.

Transplants between unrelated persons or between relatives other than identical twins have consistently failed and the recipients have died.

Now for the first time, a kidney transplant between two totally unrelated persons may work.

If it does, it was stated at the hospital, it will be due to a theory involving bone marrow.

Bone marrow is liquid that looks like blood. Actually, it manufactures blood.

Medical men at the hospital decided that transplants between unrelated persons failed because the blood recognized the presence of a "foreign" substance in the body and sent out agents called enzymes to destroy it.

The enzymes are similar to antibodies in the blood. But where antibodies destroy garme, enzymes will, if so assigned by the blood "digest" a foreign substance.

The theory, as explained at the hospital, now is that if all the bone marrow in an individual is replaced with bone marrow from a number of donors, a transplant will be successful because the "new" bone marrow will be unable to recognize any "foreigners."

The theory was tried on Mrs. Lowman. She still lives and surgeons said that this is somewhat of a triumph in itself.

She was an emergency case. This is the way the emergency arose.

On the morning of March 14 she was in great pain as her abdomen suddenly swelled grotesquely. Her husband, John, 38, a roofer, took her to a Franklin doctor.

At a hospital in Ohio, a surgeon found a kidney swollen with blood.

He removed the kidney. She "died" on the operating table. The Ohio surgeon massaged her heart back to life.

Later, it became known that Mrs. Lowman had been born with only one kidney.

When his patient did not improve, the Ohio surgeon decided Mrs. Lowman had to be flown to Boston.

Three of her brothers—Jay, 33; Fred, 27, and Roy Dalton, 22,—put the case up to their boss, the manager of the Armco Steel Corp. plant in Middletown, Ohio, six miles from Franklin. He volunteered the company's DC3 plane.

For three weeks one laboratory in the hospital was engaged exclusively in the preparation and analysis of tests. During that time—and since the operation—she was periodically placed on an artificial kidney to wash the poison from her blood stream.

So far Mrs. Lowman, who was kept under close sterile confinement, has been unable to keep down any food but is fed a five per cent glucose solution intravenously.

Her husband is visiting her often but has to wear a white cap, gown and mouth mask. He has kept some distance from her for fear that he may unwittingly transmit germs.

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, former NATO commander, says he is "very strong for a summit meeting, but the preparations must be made carefully."

Meat Output Hits Top

Fallout . . . What Is It?

Radioactive Rain From Nuclear Bombs Frightens, Confuses Millions in World

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

A bit is falling now. Some fell yesterday; more will come tomorrow.

You cannot see it, feel it, hear it, nor taste it.

It is radioactive, mysterious.

This is fallout, the radioactive rain from tests of A-bombs and H-bombs.

The United States has collected more of it than most any other country — we are the "hottest" nation, says Dr. Willard F. Libby, an atomic energy commissioner.

But he and others quickly add that this doesn't mean much — that fallout is adding only a tiny bit to the radioactivity which your grandmother and her grandfather — all your ancestors — have always lived with.

Fallout is at the heart of one of the great urgent issues of our day — whether to continue testing these awful weapons. It involves military, scientific, emotional, political, humanitarian questions and arguments.

Is fallout dooming thousands of millions of future babies to monstrous deformity, death or illness Is it — right now — giving some of us cancer, or stealing away days or years of our lives?

The questions nag. Experts disagree. Their answers add to our puzzlement.

But there are some points, some perspectives, to help in understanding the problems and the issues of fallout.

One is that fallout is a very old thing, indeed. Nature has always been sprinkling us with a radioactive rain. That rain made you and all your ancestors radioactive.

Every minute some 500,000 radioactive atoms explode inside your body, giving off beta rays (electrons). And there's absolutely nothing you could ever do about it.

Atomic bullets known as cosmic rays hurtle in from space. About 1,000 smash and rip through you every minute.

These cosmic rays also create radioactive carbon high up in our atmosphere. The radio-carbon drifts down, and becomes part of the carbon chemicals in wheat and corn and pigs and people — all living things.

More than 2,000 radio-carbon atoms disintegrate in your body every second. So do some 5,400 atoms of radioactive potassium, which was formed when the earth began and since then became part of food and people.

In one pound of steak, 2,000 radioactive atoms of carbon and potassium explode every minute.

In the ground you walk on, some 100,000 atoms of radium, uranium and thorium flash off rays every minute in the average square foot of soil. They give off X-rays traveling hundreds of feet. These rays hit you. They account for 30 to 60 per cent of all the natural radiation hitting your body.

Plants take up some of these "hot" atoms, and we eat them.

They get mixed up into concrete and bricks. Live in a brick house, or work in a cement building, and you get a good deal more X-ray radiation than if you lived or worked in a wooden building.

All this is normal or background radiation.

Don't panic. It's really quite small. It all amounts to only about 4½ roentgens in 30 years of living. That's equal to about 100 chest X-rays taken by a very efficient X-ray machine, or equal to one X-ray for study of the spine, an AEC scientist estimates.

Does this radiation hurt you? Does it doom some unborn babies?

Beyond any doubt, yes, it does, say most or all geneticists.

Any radiation can cause harmful changes in human genes, the carriers of hereditary traits, they believe.

This normal radiation also probably makes us age faster than if there were no radiation at all. It may cause some cancers or other illness.

But we've been living with this natural radiation all our lives without any fear about it. Partly because we didn't know much about it until recently. Partly because we can't do anything to stop it, anyhow.

New Vanguard Firing Expected Next Week

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A rocket designed to carry a basketball-sized satellite into space will be fired next week, if the usual pattern of preparations is followed at the Air Force missile test center here.

A Vanguard rocket was given a static test Saturday to check the performance of its components. Usually a shoot follows a static test by about 10 days.

The 20½-inch satellite which is next to be launched is more than three times the size of that borne aloft by the first Vanguard.

Voisine Freed as Trial Ends

11 Acquitted; Jury Fails to Agree on Ex-Mayor of Ecorse, Inspector

DETROIT (AP) — Two former suburban Ecorse officials, freed when the jury failed to reach a verdict in a graft conspiracy trial, today awaited possible further action by state attorneys in the case.

William M. Voisine, former Ecorse mayor, and Inspector Alvin G. Gillman, his onetime police chief, went free after the jury deadlocked at 7-5 after nearly 20 hours of deliberation.

Eleven others, including 10 present and former officials of the downriver community, were found innocent of charges that they and Voisine and Gillman conspired to accept bribes permitting gamblers to operate in Ecorse.

Jury Foreman Douglas McIlroy declined to say whether the vote on Voisine and Gillman was for or against conviction.

John W. Gilmore, assistant attorney general in charge of the state's case, said he would confer with his superiors in Lansing about seeking a retrial of the two defendants.

The jury was discharged by Circuit Judge Thomas J. Murphy after its failure to reach a verdict.

The 13 defendants were indicted with 18 others in September 1956 after an investigation by one - man grand juror Circuit Judge Theodore R. Bohn.

Those acquitted by the jury included one present and one former councilman, the city assessor, two police officials and five present or former members of the city's police and fire commission.

Japan Airlines, Inc. got a $16,500,000 American credit to help it buy four DC-8 jets.

Sharp Quakes Rock Port in Ecuador

QUITO, Ecuador (AP) — A series of sharp quakes rocked Ecuador's northern port of Esmeraldas last night, killing one person, injuring 12 and toppling several houses.

Communication lines between Esmeraldas and the rest of Ecuador were down, but radio reports from the stricken area said at least a dozen tremors hit the port city, crumbling walls and sending the 15,000 residents fleeing to the streets in panic. Huge waves were stirred up in the Pacific off the city.

The strongest shocks were felt also in Quito and Ibarra.

Elizabeth Taylor Returns to Work, 8 Pounds Thinner

The actress reported yesterday on the set of "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" for the first time since March 22, when Todd and three others died in a New Mexico plane crash.

Shortly before Todd's death Miss Taylor said she planned to retire after two more pictures. Now it appears she will continue her career.

Asks Tax Writeoffs to Whip Recession

ST. LOUIS (UP) — Immediate tax writeoffs which would encourage industry to replace obsolete equipment are needed to whip the recession, says editor George F. Sullivan of Iron Age Magazine.

Sullivan told the 40th annual convention of the American Zinc Institute, "The current recession began in the durable goods industry and that is the industry which must bring the nation back to prosperity."

Ralph C. Miller Jr., of the sheet Mill Products Division of Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp., said January shipments of galvanized steel were higher than in December 1957, and are expected to pick up in the last half of this year. He urged producers to take a more aggressive attitude toward advertising their products.

Annual Art Show Held by Convicts at U.S. Prison

LEAVENWORTH, Kan. (UP)—Men who have more time than anything else are displaying paintings they created to speed the dragging hours.

It's the annual art show at the federal penitentiary. Warden C. H. Looney says 75 of the 400 painters among the 2,500 inmates are displaying their work.

Thomas Hart Benton, Kansas City artist judged the 150 pictures. Fancy needlework and knitting also are on display.

"Many of our inmates have been nothing but failures all their lives," said Robert J. Kaiser, associate warden. "So if they can do something constructive here — be it a doily or a hook rug — it's a form of success. We encourage it."

Weather Finally to Let Weatherman Speak

ANN ARBOR (UP) — Spring weather finally will permit the chairman of President Eisenhower's advisory committee on weather control to deliver a speech at the University of Michigan April 25.

Retired Navy Capt. Howard T. Orville was scheduled to speak here on weather March 21. But a surprise blizzard kept him snowbound in Washington.

Big Deer Jumps Through Window Into Her Home

WILLIAMSTOWN, W.Va. (UP) — Mrs. Milton McMillin still isn't sure whether she or the deer was more frightened.

They stood there in the McMillin breezeway, staring at each other. The big doe was still dripping glass slivers from the window it had just jumped through. Then they both headed for the nearest exit.

Mrs. McMillin made it to the kitchen. The doe, unaccustomed to waxed floors, collapsed in a heap. By the time Mrs. McMillin slammed the door and looked out the window, she got only a glimpse of the deer scampering back home.

Gets Free Lodgings Longer Than Expected

DAYTON, Ohio (UP) — Harry B. Hill Jr., 40-year-old unemployed foundry worker, probably will be in jail a lot longer than he expected as the result of his efforts to get a few night of cost-free lodging.

Municipal Judge Emmett J. Jackson gave him the usual 30-day sentence—plus a 1500 fine and costs. Hill, who says he has no money, is working it off at $3 a day.

Urge Presidential OK of Emergency Road Bill

LANSING (UP) — Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie and Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart are urging presidential approval of the emergency federal highway legislation awaiting executive action.

Hart, in a telegram to President Eisenhower, called it an important antirecession measure that would pump nearly 14 million dollars in federal money into Michigan highway building.

Mackie directed his plea to Sen. Potter and members of the state's Republican congressional delegation, asking them to intervene with the President in behalf of approval.

Mackie said that unless the pending bill is enacted the state by July 1 will have no federal funds to program against, since 1959 allocations payable on that date, will be entirely obligated.

Exchange Documents Ratifying Peace Treaty

TOKYO (UP) — Japan and Indonesia today exchanged documents ratifying the Japanese-Indonesian World War II peace treaty and a $223,080,000 reparations agreement.

The reparations will be paid in goods and services over 12 years. Japan also agreed to extend Indonesia 400 million dollars in long-term loans and investments, from both the government and private firms, and to waive a postwar Indonesian trade debt of nearly 177 million dollars.

Regain Your Girlish Look Now

Summer Exposes Figure Faults

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

So far as I know they have not yet designed sack bathing suits. What turmoil that would cause among the men of the land, who are already raising their voices in bitter protest over sack dresses.

Even before the current fashions were foisted upon us winter clothes always were kinder to the overweight woman than summer garments. Suits, jackets and darker materials hide a multitude of figure faults which blossom forth to view, come late spring and summer.

SHED 5-10 POUNDS

This week I am running my Nine-Day Reducing Diet for those of you who would like to lose from 5 to 10 pounds in nine days' time—and that includes a lot of us, including me!

Why not settle down for this short time to regain your girlish figure? Why let just a few pounds make you feel self-conscious? Why give up play clothes and swimming and be limited in your selection of clothes this summer?

MENUS FOR WEDNESDAY

Breakfast

One-half grapefruit
One thin dry piece of whole wheat toast
Black coffee

Mid-Morning

Glass of skimmed milk or buttermilk

Luncheon

One poached egg
One thin dry piece of whole wheat toast
One-half cup broccoli

Dinner

Two crisp raw carrots
Baked fish (medium portion)
One-half cup green peas
Shredded lettuce salad, lemon dressing
Fresh fruit cup (don't eat canned fruit)

LIKE SCISSORS

The swings should be continuous, smooth and vigorous. After a while turn onto your right side, place your left hand on the floor and swing your legs like scissors.

If you would like to lose from 5 to 10 pounds in nine days and would like to have the complete diet in booklet form, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for the booklet. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Tomorrow: "You can Substitute on Diet—but Be Careful!"

Today's exercise, to do while you're dieting, will reduce the hips. Swing the legs back and forth like scissors. If you would like the diet in booklet form, send 10 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Call Off Your Vice Squad

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: I would like to reply to 'THE WIFE WHO KNOWS' who suggests you send the vice squad to the offices to clean up the dirt. I will make a deal with her. If SHE doesn't send the vice squad to the office, I won't send it to the home.

ABBY

"I needn't cite Kinsey statistics on the shenanigans that take place on the home front. Ask any mailman, milkman or TV repair man who carries his services into the home. And to the executive, whose wife is suspicious of what goes on between him and his secretary I say, 'Be patient with her. She must be sick.'"

A SECRETARY WHO REALLY KNOWS

"DEAR ABBY: My husband is the quiet type but last night he blew his top. He has been eating my rhubarb pie for 20 years and never said a word. It happens to be my favorite

"All of a sudden he started to yell all over the place that he never cared for rhubarb pie and why did I make them all the time? He hurt my feelings and I cried all night. Do you think I was in the wrong or was he?"

RHUBARB PIE MAKER

DEAR R. P. M.: If a man doesn't like something, he should mention it early in the marriage. A wife is no mind reader. Let him eat cake!

"DEAR ABBY: Our son is getting married and between her side and our side there will be 230 guests. The bride and groom wanted to put "No Children" on the invitations but we didn't think it would look right. Anyway, both sides have made it plain we didn't want children because if we had them it would mean about 60 more.

"It's got back to us that if the children can't come the parents won't come either. It seems to me if the parents were invited for a night out they'd pay for a baby sitter and go. Why can't they do it for our wedding?"

GROOM'S MOTHER

DEAR MOM: Those who want to attend the wedding will hire a sitter. Don't worry about the others.

"DEAR ABBY: For my birthday my boy friend gave me a hope chest. His aunt told me she never heard of a boy giving a girl a hope chest and if anybody gave it to a girl it should be her parents. Then she said, 'Besides, nobody has hope chests anymore—they are old fashioned.' Is she right or isn't she?"

KITTY

DEAR KITTY: I have heard from hundreds of girls who received hope chests from their boy friends as gifts, and I certainly would not call it "old fashioned."

MRS. WILLIAM F. BURNS

Francille K. Schymik, daughter of the Frank J. Schymiks, and William F. Burns, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Burns, were married Saturday morning in Christ the King Catholic Church, Evansville, Ind.

Francille K. Schymik Wed to William Francis Burns

Christ the King Catholic Church, Evansville, Ind., was the setting for the Saturday morning wedding of Francille Kellnor Schymik of Bloomfield Terrace and William Francis Burns of Mark Avenue. The Rev. Maurice Egloff performed the Nuptial Mass before an altar banked with white carnations and gladioli.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank J Schymik of Evansville, Ind. are the bride's parents, and the bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Burns of Royal Oak.

A Juliette cap of white satin with lace and seed-pearls held her finger-length veil. The bridal bouquet was of white orchids with stephanotis in a short cascade arrangement.

Mrs. James Whelan of Evansville was matron of honor and Mrs. William Frederick of Evansville and Mrs. Marvin Cullom of Nashville, Tenn. were the bridesmaids. All were gowned in Siam blue satin gowns, waltz-length, featuring round necklines ending in a V in back. The dresses had princess lines with fullness draped in back. Their petal hats were made of matching Siam blue satin. Each carried a colonial bouquet of yellow tea roses.

Th bride wore a nylon organdy gown flecked with velvet featuring cap sleeves and a scoop neckline. A tiara of seed pearls held her shoulder-length veil, and she carried a bouquet of red carnations.

Elizabeth Ballard, sister of the bridegroom, as maid of honor, wore a dress of pink nylon organdy over satin. She carried pink carnations. A sister of the bridegroom, Mary Anne Ballard, served as flower girl.

Best man was John Haroutunian.

To receive 100 guests at Auburn Heights Community Hall Mrs. Hewitt chose a navy suit dress with a pink carnation corsage. The bridegroom's mother also wore a navy suit dress, with a corsage of pink carnations.

County Children's Aid Unit Changes Policy

New Plan to Permit More Child Adoptions

Officers of the Oakland County Branch of the Michigan Children's Aid Society have approved a new policy regarding adoptive parents.

The officers, Mrs. R. W. Steere Jr., president; Dr. Richard R. Galpin, vice president; Mrs. Syver K. Thingstad, secretary; Mrs. Harry Henderson, assistant secretary, and Milo J. Cross, treasurer, voiced approval of the policy at the annual meeting of the board.

The program offers increased service to children in the area needing homes, who otherwise would have to remain in foster care because the agency does not have a sufficient number of approved homes.

There is not a problem in finding a home for the blue-eyed curly haired baby, but the problem is to find parents for the little one with a minor handicap or mixed racial background, officials said. The agency indicated there are parents on the waiting list for all these children if prospective parents could be interviewed quickly enough.

In order to help solve this problem, the Oakland County Branch has decided to follow the policy adopted by the state board of trustees of Michigan Children's Aid Society and other branches in the state. This would establish a fee to prospective parents for services rendered directly to them in preparing their homes for the possible placement of a child.

The fee, which is a small part of the actual cost, will not exceed $250, and any or all of it may be waived when circumstances warrant.

NOT A FACTOR

Oriel Endelman, executive secretary of the agency emphasizes that, "In no case will the ability of adoptive parents to pay be a determining factor in choosing the home best suited for the child. The child's welfare always will be paramount."

In other words, she states, "The best home for a particular child will be chosen regardless of the ability of the couple to pay a fee."

During the year 242 prospective applicants were interviewed in group meetings. These people are waiting for their homes to be evaluated to see if they will qualify as parents.

As Alfred Lowman of Tangent drive, one of the adoptive fathers said when the plan was discussed with him, "Frankly, I'm surprised that this has not been done before when you consider the agency has to depend so much on private income."

He spoke for other adoptive parents who hesitate to accept charity and want to pay for part of the service, thus leaving the agency's voluntary funds to be used for the care of children.

I'M FOR IT

"And," Mr. Lowman said, "It costs money to have your own. I don't see how anyone would object to that amount. I am for it 100 per cent."

Mrs. Robert Runkle of Clarkston, an adoptive mother said, "Our baby would seem more really ours if we shared in the expense. Mr. Runkle added, "Fees would never have stopped us." Both agreed that if the agency charges a fee, more babies will be given in adoption and more people made happy.

Mrs. Patricia Bailey, supervisor of adoptive placements, hears repeatedly from the parents, "Here we are getting free the thing that we want more than anything in the world." So these adoptive parents want to help others find the child they've been waiting for.

Although He Has Never Won

Castro Continues to Rebel

By JOSEPH R. MARSHALL
INS Staff Writer

Fidel Castro has been a rebel all his adult life, and although he has never won a rebellion he has never quit rebelling, either.

He has had everything—wealth, education, admiration of his fellows, a lovely wife and son. With these he could have lived a full life of conventional achievement.

CAME BACK

Instead, the six-foot 31-year-old rebel has become known throughout Cuba as the "man who came back and survived," leader of a tough guerrilla war against Fulgencio Batista and hero of Cuba's youth.

Eleven years ago, when Castro was 20, he joined the young men planning to invade the Dominican Republic from the little island of "Cayo Confites." They were going to overthrow Rafael Leonidas Trujillo.

The invasion was smashed by the Cuban navy but Castro escaped.

The next year, in 1948, he was a member of the Cuban delegation to the first International Latin American Students Congress at Bogota, Columbia. Riots broke out in Bogota. Some people said Castro took part. He and his companions took refuge in the Cuban Embassy.

LED COUP

Four years later, in May 1952, General Fulgencio Batista led a military coup to take back power from President Carlos Prio Socarras. Just a year after Batista took office, Castro led a wild commando attack on Moncada Barracks in Santiago de Cuba, chief city of Oriente Province, where he was born and lived.

A hundred solders and students were killed in the three-hour battle. Castro was captured.

By that time he had married his beautiful wife, Mirta, a green-eyed blonde. She helped pull the strings that let Castro out of prison on a presidential amnesty in November 1954. The rebel went abroad, immediately beginning to organize his "26th of July" movement.

Castro comes of sturdy stock. His father was a Spaniard from Galicia, who immigrated to Cuba and began his life in the new world as a laborer and died a rich sugar planter.

Fidel Castro was educated in a Jesuit school and then at the Belen High School in Santiago de Cuba, where he was voted the "best all-around athlete."

His leadership qualities were evident by the time he went to Havana University to study law. During his sophomore year, he was elected president of the law school.

When he left Cuba, militant anti-Batista youth naturally looked to him for leadership. He traveled to Mexico, and there began training a small rebel band and planning his return.

More than two years ago, his wife divorced him. Some say the separation was friendly, but Fidel Castro was too dedicated to give up his rebellion to save his marriage. By the fall of 1956, Castro had arms, and 81 trained followers, youths in their teens or twenties.

On Nov. 26, 1956, with storm warnings keeping patrol craft inside, he and his followers set out on the old yacht Gamma from Tuxpan.

The storm covered them all the way to the coast of Cuba but as the Gamma approached the coast, it was spotted by a Cuban corvette and a patrol plane. The Cuban army moved to meet the "invasion."

Castro and the survivors of the shore battle fled into the mangrove jungle. There, he showed his genius for survival and organizing as his band grew from some 20 survivors of the "invasion" to somewhere up to 5,000 men.

By fighting and surviving despite all Batista's army could do, with bombings, fires, derailing of trains, cutting electric power, Castro has shown his determination. He has become the idol of Cuban youth, declaring he wants no part in the government that will be set up if he succeeds in toppling Batista.

At the present moment, he appears to have lost the fight, but it may be only temporary.

AP Facsimile

LOSING HIS WAR? — Rebel leader Fidel Castro, bearded and smoking a cigar in this recent picture, has declared a state of "total, implacable war between the people of Cuba and the tyranny of Batista." Castro wears a curly rabbinical beard and horn-rimmed glasses, lounges as he talks and puffs on a cigar stub. His athletic body seems always relaxed while his mind is working at top speed. In the tradition of Latin "liberators," he leads his men himself, and perhaps he, as much as his movement, attracts new followers. "I would rather be here," one of his men said recently, his gun under his arm, "fighting for Fidel, than anywhere else in the world."

In Murder of Infant on Okinawa

Expect Ruling Tomorrow on Woman Standing Trial

NAHA, Okinawa (AP) — A ruling is expected tomorrow on a murder warrant ordering a young Livonia, Mich., woman to stand trial in the slaying of her 6-week-old son.

Mrs. Madelyn E. Hitt, wife of an Air Force employe, said in a statement yesterday that she had been intimate with another man before joining her husband at Okinawa.

Mrs. Hitt, 26, said she felt unclean and guilty, and said she told her husband of the affair after the baby, Brady Dean Hitt, was delivered in the Ryukyus Army Hospital.

A U. S. Air Force investigator read the statement in U.S. Civil Administration Court which is scheduled to rule on a murder warrant requiring Mrs. Hitt to stand trial in Washington, D.C.

Mrs. Hitt has admitted smothering the baby in his crib March 16, burying him in the garden and setting the stage to look like a kidnaping.

Her husband, Terrence, an electronics technician attached to the Air Force, sat with his head in his hands as the story was read, and rushed to her side as the court recessed.

The statement, read after Mrs. Hitt refused to speak in front of a woman court reporter, told of her looking at the sleeping child and deciding to smother it.

The young mother said she dug a grave in the back yard, pried a screen off the bedroom window with a screwdriver, clambered through the window and killed the baby.

Mrs. Hitt's attorney, Paul Kannare of Chicago, argued that an American court had no jurisdiction over the case, and that the confession statement was inadmissable.

The session, a removal hearing, was to establish that Mrs. Hitt was technically a fugitive from jurisdiction of the Washington court.

Kannare objected that Mrs. Hitt was not warned of her rights under the Uniform Code of Military Justice.

Maj. George K. Woods, special investigator from Kadena Air Base who read the statement, said Mrs. Hitt was informed of her rights under Article 5 of the U. S. Constitution, which gave a more comprehensive outline of the rights of prisoners than did the uniform code.

Auto Excise Tax Cut Sought by Potter

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Potter (R-Mich) says he will seek President Eisenhower's support this week on an immediate cut in the 10 per cent auto excise tax. He called the proposed move the surest way to halt the recession.

Back from a round of pre-campaign speech-making in his home state, Potter said the recession in unemployment - plagued Michigan has not slackened and predicted it will not ease up in May.

The lawmaker said he will report his findings to the President if he can get a White House appointment this week. Eisenhower has been cool toward a cut in auto excise taxes independent of a general tax reduction.

Rescued in Home Fire, Woman Dies of Burns

DETROIT (AP) — Despite rescue from her home by a heroic 63-year-old neighbor, Mrs. Elizabeth Freeman, 47, of Detroit, died today of smoke inhalation and burns.

Mrs. Freeman's 73-year-old invalid mother, Mrs. Monica Steen, was hospitalized in serious condition from smoke inhalation.

The women were rescued by Delayney Patterson, an unemployed neighbor, who broke down a rear door last night when he saw smoke coming from a window in the Freeman home. Heavy smoke forced him to abandon Mrs. Freeman once on a stairway.

Police said Mrs. Freeman told them she had been smoking in bed.

Play Ball! Tigers, 15 Other Teams Hear Old Cry

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The talented corps of race car drivers in the Pontiac area and racing fans mourn the death of Charles "Rusty" Kelly.

Every racing season such names as Joy Fair, Chuck Partello, Joe Doyle, Mickey Katlin and Kelly, all from this area, would sweep the honors on the speedways in the Midwest.

This was only "spring training" for Kelly. This is usually the time of year when the drivers prep for the summer season by racing in the south and at early tracks in Ohio.

Just a few weeks ago, Kelly received NASCAR honors for going 127 miles an hour in Daytona Beach. He became a member of the coveted Century Club at the Florida track.

But the half-mile dirt and asphalt oval did not appreciate his loyalty. Sunday's horrible accident was the third since 1953 for Kelly.

Back in September 1956 in this column, Rusty was quoted as saying, "I guess I'll stick to racing until old age creeps up on me, or something happens to stop me."

Old age did not creep up on him — not at 30. Speed was in his blood and he died doing what he loved most — racing.

TWO PREVIOUS BROKEN NECKS

In 1953 at the Pontiac Speedway he suffered a broken neck. "But I had no desire to quit," he said afterward.

In 1954 he jested about the "altitude" record he set when his car rolled over four times in mid-air. He was back in the hospital with another broken neck.

For a guy who had his greatest moments when the speedometer went into three figures, Kelly had a personal objection to the speeders on streets and highways.

"They call these people hot rods," Kelly once said, "but they're not hot rods, they are maniacs."

Kelly believed that a hot rod was a name which should be confined strictly to those people whose first love was tinkering with cars and putting their speed to use on the speedways or drag strips.

But even while using the speed in the proper place, Kelly lost his race with death. He once called these April races "spring training." He will now be missed on "opening day."

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

Frank Wilson, who is Frank Syron's pro shop aide at Pontiac Country Club, recalls that Arnold Palmer, recent Masters' champion, was an entry in the Hearst Junior Golf Tournament the same year he made the trip to the West Coast with the Michigan team.

Other names in the tourney in 1946 were Billy Maxwell and Bob Rosburg. "Rosburg was whipping everyone that year," Wilson commented.

Majors Become Truly National in Scope Today

Eight Contests Stretch From Coast to Coast as Everybody Plays

NEW YORK (INS) — Major League baseball, given its traditional sendoff for 1958 yesterday by President Eisenhower, assumed true national stature today with eight openers stretching all the way from Boston's hallowed halls to San Francisco's Golden Gate.

Today's openers were in Boston, Baltimore, Cleveland, Chicago, Cincinnati, Milwaukee, St. Louis and San Francisco.

Some 225,000 fans are expected to turn out at the parks to see the games and many millions more will be there via the facilities of television and radio.

While history of a coast - to-coast nature is made at San Francisco, history is expected to repeat itself in the two pennant races.

Milwaukee's World Champion Braves are 8-to-5 favorites to win in the National League and the New York Yankees are 2-to-5 choices to capture the American League flag as usual.

The center of attraction today will be Seals Stadium in San Francisco, where the first official major league game ever played on the Pacific Coast will be held.

Commissioner of baseball Ford Frick, other dignitaries and some 23,750 fans are expected to turn out under clear and sunny skies to see the San Francisco Giants and the Los Angeles Dodgers clash in the West Coast version of their ancient New York fued.

The biggest crowd of the day is predicted for Milwaukee's County Stadium, with Warren Spahn (21-11) going against Pittsburgh's Bob Friend (14-18) before an estimated 46,000 fans. Fair weather is anticipated.

Los Angeles has announced young Don Drysdale (17-9) as its starter and San Francisco will reply with veteran Ruben Gomez (15-13).

Detroit's Jim Bunning Goes to Mound Against Pierce at Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — A pair of veteran lineups bolstered by the American League's only 20-game winners will kick off the 1958 baseball season in Chicago today when the White Sox tangle with the Detroit Tigers.

On the mound for Detroit will be right-hander Jim Bunning (20-8) who was 3-0 against the Sox last year. Chicago will bank on Billy Pierce (20-12) who has a 14-16 lifetime mark against the Tigers and was 3-2 in 1957.

Not a single rookie will be in either lineup although each team will have its share of new faces.

The Sox lineup will be graced by three newcomers. Billy Goodman and Tito Francona, traded off by Baltimore, will open at third base and right field, respectively. Al Smith, picked up from Cleveland, will play left field despite a leg injury.

Sox manager Al Lopez changed his mind yesterday and announced Earl Torgeson will open at first base instead of Ron Jackson.

The Tigers, who finished fourth last year, 20 games behind the pennant-winning New York Yankees, hope they bettered themselves in their two major off-season trades.

In Martin they got a holler-guy that long has been considered a need of the Tigers. However, Martin is playing his first major league shortstop. In his tours of duty with the Yankees and with the Kansas City Athletics, he played second base or third base.

Reports from spring training camp indicate Martin — with the help of veteran Johnny Pesky — picked up the shortstop duties with little trouble. Manager Jack Tighe has said repeatedly he is pleased with Martin's work at shortstop.

Kuenn's move to the outfield presents the unusual shift of an All-Star infielder to the outfield. Kuenn was on the American League All-Star team as a shortstop five times — 1953-57 — but he went to the outfield because Tighe felt he was too slow afoot to handle the job. Before he went to the outfield there was brief talk of making a third baseman of him.

Probable lineups:

DETROIT	CHICAGO
F. Bolling, 2b	Aparicio, ss

Boone, 1b	Francona, rf

'League Leaders' Trim Bosox, 5-2

Look Here ... Nats Lead AL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington had Pedro Ramos, the Red Sox did not have Ted Williams — and so there the Senators are, leading the American League.

Washington's tenancy in first place may be brief. The other clubs start playing today. But for a team that has finished in the cellar twice in three years, it's intoxicating while it lasts.

The Senators got that good feeling by trimming Boston 5-2 yesterday in the opening game of 1958, attended by pitcher Dwight D. Eisenhower and a large collection of government dignitaries.

The President was delighted at the outcome. He always roots for the home team. And Ramos' brilliant five-hit pitching — after Eisenhower had his turn throwing out the first ball, of course — evened the chief executive's record.

Boston suffered through without Williams, who now has missed four Red Sox openers in six years. The 39-year-old outfielder came down with a severe attack of food poisoning which left him stretched out on a clubhouse table at Griffith Stadium.

Williams didn't even try to make batting practice. He had been ready to start, after recovering from an ankle injury and pulled side muscle that already had made this a miserable spring.

Ramos demonstrated he hasn't lost his mastery of the Red Sox, whom he has beaten in 12 of 17 decisions since the Senators brought him up to the majors in 1955.

Jackie Jensen socked the 22-year-old Cuban rightie for a two-run homer in the third. A spectacular diving catch by Eddie Yost of Jensen's bases-full liner in the first saved Ramos two or three runs. Otherwise Pedro controlled the contest.

Jim Lemon slammed a solo homer for the Senators, but inept fielding cost Frank Sullivan the game. The 6-foot, 7-inch Boston right-hander yielded all five Washington runs in the six innings he pitched, but the last three were unearned.

They came in the sixth, when errors by shortstop Don Buddin, his first of two, and Gene Stephens, Williams' sub, fitted in with a walk and singles by Ramos and Yost. Ramos personally knocked in the run that provided his winning margin.

Washington hops over to Baltimore this afternoon, where Camilo Pascual 8-17 last year faces the Orioles' Connie Johnson 14-11 on opening day for the rest of the league.

Romeo, Oxford Also Triumph

Chief Nine Gains 1st Win

Pontiac broke into the win column for the 1st time following two setbacks, Romeo improved its slate to 2-0 and Oxford won its opener in area baseball action yesterday.

Bob Garrett hurled a 4-hit, 5-2 triumph over Saginaw Arthur Hill at Wisner Stadium to get the Chiefs off to a good start in the Saginaw Valley League.

Pontiac garnered all its runs in the 5th inning on hits by Garrett, Jim Skinner, Bo Robaja, Dan Kimmell and Isaac Jones plus a walk and error. Kimmell, Robaja and Dave Kimball had two singles apiece in the 9-hit attack.

Romeo was held to one homer, a 1st inning grand slam by Bob Galan, but the Bulldogs romped to a 15-4 verdict over Lake Shore.

Warren Cahoon pitched all the way. Three hits and four runs batted in for Ron Schmidt paced the offensive.

Oxford had little trouble tripping Lake Orion following a five - run 2nd frame. The final tally was 9-1.

Death of Son Keeps Jones From Opener

Jones' son, Timothy died Sunday in the family's home in a Philadelphia suburb. He had been ill from pneumonia. Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon.

Russian Weight Lifters Set World Mark Twice

LONDON (AP) — Soviet weight lifters Monday smashed the same world record within minutes of each other.

Moscow Radio reported Vladimir Timoshenko recorded 299 pounds in the Soviet Union's middleweight two-hand press division—one pound better than Fyodor Bodganovsky's record set at the 1956 Olympic Games.

Mayor Approves Olympic Project

DETROIT (INS) — A proposal that could put Detroit in the front among cities bidding for the 1964 Olympic Games has been tentatively approved by Mayor Louis Miriani.

The mayor ordered city lawyers to determine whether an ordinance can be drafted to create a seven-member authority that would sell bonds for a $15 million Olympic Stadium at the State Fair Grounds.

Miriani's action followed urging by Frederick C. Matthaei, chairman of the Detroit Olympic Committee who has sought for 22 years to bring the games to Detroit.

In a letter to the mayor, Matthaei said it appeared Detroit has "an excellent chance" of landing the 1964 games.

Trotters Defeat Stars, 69 to 59

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—The Harlem Globetrotters took the lead for keeps early in the third period Monday night and defeated the College All-Stars 69-59 in an exhibition basketball game.

It was the Trotters' 12th victory against four losses in the two teams' cross-country tour.

The Trotters' Andy Johnson led all scorers with 27 points. The University of Cincinnati's 6-9 Connie Dierking led the Collegians with 25 points.

Toledo Pair Takes ABC Doubles Lead

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — John Powell Jr., and Emil Joseph of Toledo, in the most significant advance in the American Bowling Congress championships, stood at the top of the doubles standings today with a combined effort of 1,323.

Powell spearheaded the drive with a 675 series and got a substantial 648 pins' worth of assistance from Joseph.

The St. Louis Falstaffs, who snatched the lead in three major categories last week, thus saw one of their chances for a championship evaporate. Falstaffers Billy Welu and Woody Hulsey were shuttled into second place with their 1,313 by the Toledo duo's move.

Williams Ill, May Not Start Home Opener

BOSTON (AP)—Boston's fabulous Ted Williams was listed as a doubtful starter today for the Red Sox' American League home opener against the perennial champion New York Yankees.

Williams, rounding into form after a spring training slowed by a foot injury and a pulled side muscle, suffered food poisoning and missed yesterday's 5-2 loss to Washington in the Nation's capitol.

The 39-year-old slugger, who topped the major leagues with a .388 average last year, still was ill when he arrived in Boston and Manager Mike Higgins said it was doubtful Ted would be able to play.

1st Triple-Double Meet!

Orion, Troy, Clawson Win

Fitzgerald High's Paul Smarks has come up with what appears to be an unusually successful, and profitable, idea for handling track meets for the Oakland-B prep league.

For the first time in Michigan, it is believed, and certainly for the first time in this area, a triple-double track meet has been held on one field. How well it went over, is explained by Smarks: "There were 350 spectators, and we took in more money than in all our five previous seasons combined."

The three dual meets started at 6 p.m. Monday with field events, running at the same time for all three, without difficulty. Meet was concluded under the lights. This program was postponed from last week.

Outstanding performers included Lake Orion's Jim Drake who won the 100, pole vault and ran a relay leg in the LO-Fitzgerald dual, won by Orion 87-22. Clawson's John Volk, son of the school principal, won both hurdles and anchored the relay as his team defeated Madison 92-17. Troy defeated Avondale in the 3rd dual, 78½-30½.

Hereafter these triple-doubles will take place Wednesdays, Smarks said today. Tomorrow's opponents will be Fitzgerald vs. Avondale, Clawson vs. Lake Orion and Troy vs. Madison.

Short End of Purse Looms for Basilio

NEW YORK (AP)—If Carmen Basilio wants a third title fight with Sugar Ray Robinson, he'll have to take the short end of the purse again.

Robinson, reigning over the middleweight division for the fifth time, made that plain shortly after he had masterminded sparmate Otis Woodard to an upset 10-round decision over Eddie Andrews, a 3-1 choice, at St. Nicholas Arena last night. Rocky Graziano, an old ring foe of Sugar Ray's, handled Andrews, of Lowell, Mass.

Only ten days ago Basilio had said he would have to split equally with Robinson if they fought again.

First, on the question of whether he intended to fight again, Robinson replied: "when you got something somebody wants, you're in business. My business is boxing."

On Basilio's demand for an even share—if he decides to fight again — Sugar Ray smiled and said:

"Doesn't Basilio know the law says the champion has to get more. I know Carmen doesn't want to break the law."

Robinson collected 45 per cent and Basilio 20 per cent when Carmen won the first fight on Sept. 23, 1957. They each received 30 per cent for the return, when Basilio lost in Chicago last March 25. The International Boxing Club disclosed last month that Robinson had given it an option for his next fight. In return Ray was to collect 42½ per cent of the sugar.

"I've done nothing but rest since the Basilio fight, and man, I'm still tired," said Ray.

It's Unanimous Verdict for Giambra on Coast

Making his first appearance since a beating at the hands of Rory Calhoun last August, Giambra outboxed Mayfield all the way and floored him for a count of nine in the fourth round.

211th Win for Pep

U.S., Soviet Matmen Battle for 3rd Time

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Two wrestling teams whose American and Russian members are fast becoming friends—off the mat—battle for the third time in Oklahoma tonight.

The Soviet all stars have had the upper hand in the previous two matches, winning 12 of 16 from the Americans while losing two. Two ended in a draw.

'M' Opens Spring Practice Wednesday

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

Patient's Complaint: Chronic Hook.
Diagnosis: A Case of "Rolling" Hands.

Treatment: The chronic and troublesome hook happens when you let the right hand overpower the left. This causes the hands to roll over before the club contacts the ball, which shuts the clubface too soon.

Don't forget that you've got to hit through the ball with the left hand as well as the right — and just as hard.

This closing of the clubface before the ball is met won't happen if you hit on through the ball with both hands. Just remember that the back of the left hand should be facing the target at the instant the ball is hit.

The golf swing is a two-handed operation throughout. If you're having trouble hitting through with both hands, shift your point of concentration to the forearms. Make sure that both forearms move on past the ball on the downswing. This will keep you from allowing your right hand to over-dominate the left, which it must not do if you want to hit the ball straight.

LET'S GO MEN — Jack Tighe had a last minute look at his lineup before sending his men out to do battle with the White Sox in the season opener at Chicago today. Impressive list of reserves should enable him to make more moves this year.

Prep Front

By CHUCK ABAIR

If wrestling doesn't become one of this area's most popular sports, it won't be the fault of Pontiac Central coaches Bill Willson and Steve Szabo.

This pair has worked hard since the mat game was started at PCH last year and the Chief's impressive showing during the past season certainly speaks well for their efforts.

They now plan to try to build up wrestling on the junior high level. Madison has been the only school with an actual mat club as was indicated when the MJHS lads won the 1st city tournament Saturday.

The unusual part of the story on the Willson-Szabo combination is that the likable pair may turn up as rival coaches in the near future.

Nothing has been settled yet on what will happen now that Pontiac Northern will enter the sports scene next season. Either PCH man could be switched to keep the staff within the system.

Big advantages of the Northern post would be better facilities and the fact that the new school will get the majority of the Madison athletes already pretty well schooled in the rough and tumble sport.

Willson has had little to say about a possible move but it is likely he might not be too happy to leave his veterans behind after bringing them along for two years. Can't blame him for that.

Defense to Get Stress in Early Gridiron Drills

Wolverines Will Stick to Routine Procedure; Oosterbaan Says

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Emphasis on defense will keynote Michigan's spring football practice which opens Wednesday.

Bennie Oosterbaan, who is entering his 11th campaign as head coach, said the Wolverines' drills will stick to routine for the most part.

"We'll go through the regular fundamentals and try to find out who can play what," Oosterbaan said.

"Jim Byers will be tried at center and there might be a few other shifts I don't know about right now. We plan to stress our defensive alignments a little more than we usually do in the spring."

Byers was a second string fullback last season. Oosterbaan lost 17 lettermen, including eight starters, from last year's club.

Michigan will have 20 sessions spread out over more than the usual four weeks. Oosterbaan figures he'll be able to devote five Saturday's to all-out scrimmages by giving the players an occasional weekday off.

The annual spring intra-squad game is set for May 17.

West Defeats East in First All-Star Game

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—The West All-Stars grabbed the opening game of the National Basketball Assn. All-Star tour last night 108-105 from the East All-Stars as Clyde Lovellette, who used to thrill Nebraska fans as a Kansas University star led the winners.

Lovellette, a member of the Cincinnati club, hit eight field goals and one of two free throws for 17 points and led the West in rebounding.

Cork Early Leader in Howe's Tourney

Pontiac Press Bowlerama champion Dick Cork of Drayton Plains has taken a lead which could very well bring him another title in the 7th annual Howe's Lanes singles tournament at Clarkston.

Cork rolled the top actual series of 855 to give him a 923 handicap total which is expected to be hard to beat during the final two weekends.

Frank Perna and C. B. DeRousha are tied for 2nd at 898. Curtis Neal has the high actual and handicap games 256 and 258. All three are from Pontiac.

Other handicap leaders:

Jack Davidson, Davisburg	870

FIRST HOMER — Jim Piersall, Boston outfielder, climbed to the top of the bleacher in the 4th inning but to no avail as Jim Lemon's hit dropped into the crowd for the first home run of 1958 in the Major Leagues in the opener at Washington yesterday. The blow helped the home team to victory before 26,601 fans.

Plans 35-Game European Cage Tour

SEATTLE (AP) — A cast that reads like a Who's Who of college basketball, including four All-America stars, has been lined up by a Seattle psychologist for a 35-game tour of Europe this summer—if he can hitch a ride.

Dr. Sam Mossafer's wonder team includes Wilt Chamberlain of Kansas, Elgin Baylor of Seattle, Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati and Don Hennon of Pitt, all from the 1958 All-America quintet.

And among the dozen who have agreed to play if Doc can swing the deal are Bob Boozer of Kansas State, second team All-America; Tom Kearns of North Carolina and Mike Farmer of San Francisco, third team choices.

The other aces in his deck are Charlie Brown, Seattle; Alex "Boo" Ellis, Niagara; Gene Brown, San Francisco; Dave Gambee, Oregon State, and Barney Cable, Bradley. He calls them the "All-World All-Stars."

John Castellani, who piloted Seattle U. to second place in the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. (NCAA) tourney this year, has agreed to coach the squad.

"I got the idea," he says, "when I heard a television commentator say how impossible it would be to assemble such a dream team. I thought: 'Why not?' That was about the first of March and here it is the middle of April—and look what's happened."

The Doc has acceptances in writing from seven players and the verbal okay of five. Only six of the dozen are seniors.

"All the boys were agreeable and enthusiastic," he reports. "The NCAA has assured me the assembling of such a team does not violate any of its rules. No individual conference rules are being violated."

His plan would send the team to Europe about June 18 for about 70 days. Sam sought assistance from the State Department but learned it was backing the AAU all-stars' visit to Russia and would not underwrite a second hoop tour.

"People tell me my chances of finding a backer are pretty slim," says Doc Sam. "But they told me my chances of lining up the team were impossible. I'm working on it."

Key Eliminates Western Amateur Defending King

DELRAY BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A new Western Amateur golf champion was assured Monday as quiet, steady-shooting James "Billy" Key of Columbus, Ga., eliminated defending title-holder, Dr. Edgar Updegraff of Tucson, Ariz., 4 and 3 in a 36 hole quarter-final of the tournament over the Country Club of Florida course.

The 27-year-old Georgia bank vice president led all the way. He held a two-hole advantage at the end of the morning round, which he negotiated in a one-under-par 71 as the fading champion carded a 73.

Irish Open Up Grid Game

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Notre Dame is going all out for wide open football next fall, Coach Terry Brennan indicated yesterday as he welcomed 104 candidates, including 25 lettermen — largest turnout in five years—at the opening of spring drills.

"Basically, we'll use what you call the multiple T," said Brennan, entering his fifth campaign as head Irish coach. "We'll use such stuff as slots, flankers, split ends, and split T and we'll be doing a lot of trapping, double teaming and tossing out to the halfback. We'll open up a lot."

The pattern for offense is expected to be even more dazzling than last year when Brennan used much of this same multiple T attack for a 7-3 record after a disastrous 1956 mark of 2-8, poorest in the university's history.

"We need the most help this year at center, guards and halfbacks," he said. "We still are looking for over-all team speed, and may pick some of our freshmen. If any of them show the type of speed we seek, they will be reckoned with for varsity spots.

"Our main problem," he continued, "is finding depth for a truly dependable second unit."

Eight of the top 10 Irish ground gainers return: Fullbacks Nick Pietrosante, the team leader with a 5-yard average in 90 carries, and Ron Toth; regular quarterback Bob Williams; and halfbacks Dick Selcer, Frank Reynolds, Jim Just, Pat Doyle and Jim Crotty.

Auerbach Thinks Celts Were Tops

BOSTON (AP)—Boston Coach Red Auerbach thinks his Celtics this year were the greatest team in history despite loss of their National Basketball Assn. championship to the St. Louis Hawks.

"This was the greatest club by far I've ever seen—and I've been around 20 years," Auerbach said at the Celtics' annual breakup dinner last night. "It makes me feel very humble."

Auerbach said early in the season he thought that with a team such as the Celtics "I wouldn't have to worry about my job for a long time."

"I was so wrong," Red added. "It was all due to injuries. No one can say whether we would have won again, but I would have appreciated having the team in its entirety."

Spring baseball practice got under way with a rush, yesterday, for three Boys' Club teams, at the club field. Directors of the diamond program said today that 120 players took part in the opening workout. The playing season will start latter part of May.

Club entries in the City Recreation League will be in Classes D and F and in the Midget circuit. There will also be two intramural loops comprised of boys 12 years and under, and for those 13 and 14 years of age. These leagues will again be sponsored by the Pontiac Federal Savings Assn., and will bear that name.

Coaches include the club's professional staff members for the Varsity and varsity players will coach the intramurals. Next two week's practice sessions start at 5:30 p.m. at Eastern Junior High field. Regular games during the season will be played evenings and on Saturdays.

Montreal Favored in 4th Test

Bruins Facing 'Stay-Alive Job' in Cup Series

Schmidt Tells Club 'Pull Up Socks, Go to Work,' Tonight

BOSTON (AP)—Boston's underdog Bruins hope to bounce back with a "must victory over the Montreal Canadiens tonight in the fourth game of their best of seven Stanley Cup hockey championship series.

"There's no way to go — we've just got to pull up our socks and go to work to stay alive," said Boston Coach Milt Schmidt.

The confident Canadiens zoomed to the role of heavy favorite to win their fourth straight Stanley Cup after blanking the Bruins 3-0 Sunday for a 2-1 advantage in the rugged series.

The Montreal players figured the victory put them over the hump, but aren't taking the Bruins lightly. All agree they are in a tough series with Boston, which finished fourth during the regular National Hockey League campaign.

Schmidt warned his Bruins they must play aggressive hockey, shoot more often and "stop taking stupid penalties."

"Those stupid penalties we picked up in the first period played a big part in the loss Sunday," Schmidt said. "Our penalty killers couldn't recover from all that extra work. The Canadiens made the same mistake in the second game (won by Boston), then we turned around and did the same."

Montreal Coach Toe Blake was forced to make a couple of changes as Floyd "Busher" Curry, a standout penalty killer, was hospitalized with a foot infection.

Blake said that veteran Bert Olmstead, benched because of a cranky knee in the third game, would be used in spots. Ab McDonald, who replaced Olmstead Sunday, probably will take a regular turn on a line with Jean Beliveau and Bernie "Boom Boom" Goeffrion.

BRONCO

Horvath, a 30-goal scorer in the regular season, suffered a painful foot puncture, but promised to be ready. Doug Mohns nursed a severe charley horse, while other Bruins had minor ailments.

After tonight's fourth game, the two teams will leave immediately for Montreal where the fifth contest will be played Thursday night. A sixth, if necessary, will be back in Boston Sunday.

Moore Says He's No. 1 Contender

LOS ANGELES (INS)—Ancient Archie Moore nominated himself today as the No. 1 heavyweight challenger for Floyd Patterson's heavyweight title.

The light-heavyweight champion, who is in his middle 40s, give or take a year, appeared at the weekly luncheon of the Los Angeles Boxing Writers Association and declared his willingness to meet both Eddie Machen and Zora Folley, who boxed to an ill-received draw in San Francisco last week.

Moore said:

"I think I'm the No. 1 challenger for the heavyweight title. Folley and Machen just about eliminated each other.

"I believe I should fight Folley in Los Angeles, then meet Machen in San Francisco, and take on Patterson for the championship in Los Angeles."

Matchmaker George Parnassus bent an interested ear and conferred with Moore in secret after the light-heavyweight champ unburdened himself.

ROYAL WELCOME — This was the scene in San Francisco's financial district yesterday when officials and members of the Giants participated in a gigantic welcoming parade in the city. The new Coast team made history today meeting the Los Angeles Dodgers in the 1st Major League game ever played on the west coast at Seals Stadium.

Happy San Franciscans Welcome Their Giants

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — There were some in San Francisco today who seriously suspected that the coming of the Giants and major league baseball might rate, well, a bit below the advent of the atomic age.

But there was no doubt that thousands upon thousands of San Franciscans were happy to welcome the ex-New York Giants and wish them well in the unsophisticated West.

Seals Stadium today could have been sold out double or triple its capacity of about 23,400 seats as the Giants made their debut against a new but very old foe, the onetime Bums of Brooklyn, now the Darling Dodgers of Los Angeles.

"Giants Win S.F. Hearts."

This followed the tumultuous reception tendered Willie Mays, Johnny Antonelli and the other Giants in yesterday's great parade.

Some 1,100 persons jammed into a hote banquet room for the official welcoming luncheon. The paying guests were introduced to 75 or maybe even 100 dignitaries, mostly local and none of whom seemed to need an introduction.

And the mayor, George Christopher, concluding a rather lengthy address, declared:

"Your are Giants, regardless, and we love you."

The "regardless" apparently meant the city would stick by the Giants even if they don't quite reach the level of one placard spotted along the parade route. It read:

"1958 World Series . . . Giants vs. ?."

Amateur Limits Set Up by ILTF

Tennis Body to Give Report Showing How to Avoid Pro Status

LONDON (AP)—The world's lawn tennis bosses have drawn up a charter aimed at showing the game's amateurs just how far they can go without being disqualified for professionalism.

The International Lawn Tennis Federation set up a special committee to thrash out the whole business. Now its report is ready for players and the public.

"The report will be issued Wednesday afternoon." Basil Reay an official of the ILTF, said Monday. "We're giving no details about it until the official publication date."

The lawn tennis report comes at a time when so-called "shamateurism" is under attack in nearly every sport.

The International Ski Federation (FIS), for instance, is due to meet next month to discuss the Toni Sailer controversy.

Rochester Approves Budget of $332,290

No Raise Seen in Tax Levy

Total $22,423 Higher Than Last Year, Allows Pay Hike for Employes

ROCHESTER — A budget of $332,290 for the 1958-59 fiscal year, which included a 5 per cent increase in pay for all village employes, last night was accepted by the Rochester Village Council.

Presented by Village Manager Paul A. York, it also included appropriations for new equipment in all village departments.

The tax levy will remain at 17 mills for each $1,000 of assessed property valuation.

The capital improvement program for next year will consist mainly of street resurfacings, for which $30,000 was budgeted.

"The proposed budget is an adequate one," York said. "It provides for some needed improvements as well as enough money to carry on a good operation and maintenance program in each department."

In other business, Clifton Nunn was re-awarded a three-year contract for garbage collection in the village.

He will be paid $10,080 a year under the new contract, an increase of $1,900 a year over his last contract. Nunn has handled the collection for 18 years.

Nine bids for sidewalk construction in the village this summer were received and turned over to the village manager for study.

Three thousand dollars was spent last year for new sidewalk construction and repairs, it was reported.

'Guest in the House' at Civic Center

Romeo Troupe to Stage Horror Drama

By LEE WINBORN
Romeo Correspondent

ROMEO — The Romeo Players will present their first production in the new Romeo Community Youth and Civic Center Saturday at 8 p.m. The play will be the taut horror drama, "Guest in the House," by Hugar Wilde and Dale Emerson.

Dale D. Parkinson of Utica directs the play which is about a suburban couple who give housecroom to a pretty female guest and then live to wring their hands in anguish.

The treacherous "guest" will be portrayed by Mrs. Robert C. Smith. Other members of the cast include Mrs. Philip M. Stone, Mrs. Andrew Downey, Mrs. Richard W. Covert, Georgeann Burns, Eugene Zajko, Richard and J. Gerald McLean, Mr. and Mrs. Coleman L. Davidson and Mr. and Mrs. Lester W. Poosch.

Mrs. G. A. Corzine is acting as production manager and directing the behind-the-scenes activities of other veteran members of the Players and several newcomers. Lending their talents to a Players' production for the first time are Norman Louis Scheck and Gale Clark, who have charge of the stage setting and large properties.

Mrs. McLean is responsible for make-up; Miss Ann Nutzhorn, hand properties; Mrs Fidellia Bowen, publicity, and Stephen Burns, lighting.

Since the Players' group was organized in the early 1940's, local playgoers have attended its spring and fall productions in the Romeo High School auditorium. There were certain limitations, however, such as having to schedule rehearsals somewhere else until a night or two before the play because of the crowded calendar at the high school.

This will be the first time the major portion of rehearsals have been held on the state where the production is finally given.

AMC Meeting With Auto Union

Profit-Sharing Sought by Workers as Firm Goes in the Black

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union today opened contract negotiations—including a profit-sharing proposal — with American Motors Corp., which hasn't shown a profit in its brief history.

AMC, one of the auto industry's "little two" along with Studebaker-Packard, was formed in 1954 with the merger of Nash-Kelvinator and Hudson.

The firm's 10,000 UAW members in Michigan and Wisconsin plants have voted to present the union's profit-sharing plan along with demands for increases in basic wages and fringe benefits. Under the union's plan, workers would get 25 per cent of profits before taxes above 10 per cent of net capital.

AMC's automotive operations were in the red a year ago but the company's Rambler sales are running ahead of last year and it is now in the black. It is problematical whether the company will reach 10 per cent profit, the point where the union wants to start taking a slice for workers.

American Motors disclosed its bargaining goals two weeks ago. It suggested that the union agree to a two-year freeze on wages, claiming that its average wage rate was higher than at General Motors, Ford and Chrysler. The union rejected the proposal.

Mr. and Mrs. ROBERT KIMBLE

Marjean Monetta Weds in Calvary Church, Holly

HOLLY — Flickering candles, pink and white gladioli, and palms banked the altar of the Calvary Methodist Church in Holly for the Saturday evening marriage of Marjean Mary Monetta and Robert L. Kimble Jr. The Rev. Lewis C. Sutton performed the double-ring rite.

The bride is the daughter, of Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Monetta of 501 Morrison Rd. Parents of the bridegroom are the Robert Kimbles of Lawrenceburg, Tenn.

As the bride approached the altar on the arm of her father, she was wearing a floor length gown of Italian silk taffeta with long pointed sleeves featuring a square neckline accented by a band of lace.

A tiara of pearl and seedpearls held her fingertip veil of pure silk French illusion. The only jewelry she wore was a pair of pearl button earrings, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried white orchids, stepanotis and ivy on her grandmother's white prayer book.

Mrs. Richard Barrett of Dearborn served her cousin as matron of honor. Bridesmaid was Miss Betta Sheldon of Rochester, and Jolene Kruckenburg, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl.

Best man was William Monetta, brother of the bride. Charles Kelly of Drayton Plains and Herbert Pinner of Pontiac were ushers. Lonnie Stockard, and bridegroom's nephew, carried the rings.

Child Protective Group Being Activated in Troy

TROY — With the appointment of committees and the election of the executive group, Troy is well on the way toward the activation of its Child Protective Committee.

Sponsored by Judge Arthur E. Moore of the Oakland County Juvenile Court, the committee has been formed to work with children, authorities and families on a "pre-juvenile delinquent" basis.

Mayor Frank Costello, who selected the committee members for Judge Moore's approval, told them their job is to prevent a mildly disturbed youngster from crossing the thin line and becoming a court case. He asked that they work closely with educators, law enforcement authorities, religious leaders and parents to protect rather than prosecute.

The group named to study resources and needs for recreational and other services includes Grover DeWolfe, Vern Bauer and Miss Elizabeth Gould.

Police Chief David Grattop heads the group which will work with youth clubs and underprivileged children. Serving with him is Mrs. Bertha Trost. Payton Goodman and Boyd Larson will head the parent training section to promote better care for children.

Publicity for the several committees will be handled by Postmaster Sherwood Shaver, the Rev. Ralph Janka and Mrs. Grover DeWolfe.

It was decided that the 1,200 students in the junior and senior high schools would be given the chance to draw up their own "Code of Behavior." The adult committee preparing questionnaires and acting in an advisory capacity includes Larson, the Rev. Reginald Hocking and Goodman.

The executive committee is made up of Police Sgt. William Schwandt, Larson, Mrs. Ada Campbell, Policewoman Norrine Ballantine and the Revs. Emil Dussia and Hocking.

Monthly meetings of the group are scheduled, with the next to be held May 15 in the Troy City Hall. All are open to the public.

Avondale Band Boosters Slate Meeting Tonight

AVONDALE — Tonight at 7:30, the Avondale Band Boosters Club will meet in the school gymnasium to make plans for a program to be presented there by the Central Michigan College Concert Band April 24.

The purpose of the group, composed of parents and friends of students in the instrumental department from the elementary level through high school, is to support projects which will aid in obtaining more uniforms and instruments.

The program tonight will consist of selections from the high school and the combined fourth and fifth grade bands, under the direction of John Neztek.

Council at Sylvan Lake Slates Budget Meeting

SYLVAN LAKE — The Sylvan Lake City Council will hold a public meeting at 7:30 Thursday evening to discuss the budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The meeting also will cover estimated expenditures for the balance of this fiscal year and the receipts needed to meet them.

All residents interested in the type and amount of services rendered by the city have been urged to attend.

TV Industry to Hand Out Emmy Awards Tonight

Unlike the movie Oscars, the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences has no clear-cut award for best actor.

One category lists "best continuing performance in a leading role of a dramatic or comedy series. Another is for a best series performance by a "comedian, singer, host, dancer, emcee, announcer, narrator, panelist or any person who essentially plays himself."

The awards will be telecast nationally.

Free World Leaders Set Summit Rules

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Big Three are expected to lay before the Kremlin today or tomorrow the free world's idea of how a summit conference must be prepared.

The formula put together by the United States, Britain and France was approved yesterday by the 12 other Atlantic Pact nations at Paris.

Briefly stated, it was understood to go along with the Soviet proposal that the Big Four ambassadors start talking things over in Moscow Thursday. But it was described as dead set against the conditions laid down by the Soviet Union.

These conditions are that the ambassadors and the Big Four foreign ministers, if they do get together, must discuss only technical details—not the world-dividing issues themselves.

Trade in Virginia's "sweet-scented" tobacco grew so profitable by 1617 that settlers were planting it in the streets and market places.

Moon Scientist Urges Action

Von Braun Tells House Committee Nation Must Move Fast to Catch Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army missileman Wernher von Braun called today for "vigorous action . . . to overcome as quickly as possible the obvious lead which the Russians now enjoy."

Von Braun, head of the scientific team which developed the Jupiter missile and America's first satellite-launching rocket, was the lead-off witness as the House Space Committee opened hearings on what America should do about the vast regions beyond the earth's atmosphere.

Up for committee action is President Eisenhower's proposal to create a civilian agency to handle space matters.

Eisenhower's proposal got off to a not-unfriendly start when Rep. McCormack (D - Mass), House majority leader and chairman of the special Space Committee, introduced the Eisenhower bill with the comment that it "is undoubtedly a step in the right direction."

Von Braun, a German-born scientist who worked on Hitler's V2 missiles until the Army brought him here after World War II, did not comment specifically on the Eisenhower plan in his prepared statement.

Von Braun made these points:

1. Although military missiles work is related to that done for satellites and space travel, the exploration of outer space is so vast an undertaking that it cannot be left as a by-product of another program.

"We can meet this challenge only if we appreciate and respect the magnitude of this task and discontinue our unfortunate practice of supporting only such research and development that serves immediate military objectary objectives, he said.

2. The research needs ahead are so great that there is no fear of scientific teams having enough to do. He said some team competition and overlapping may be helpful.

3. The Soviets have shown clearly that they recognize the importance of rocketry leading to space control. They also have shown an understanding of the relation between scientific and military programs in this field.

Group Protests Cement Plant

Township Board Tables Issue; Attorney Advises No Court Action

A delegation from the Concrete Manufacturers' Assn. was presented at last night's Waterford Township board meeting protesting the installation of a portable cement mix plant in the Coleman-Friedman Subdivision on Cass Lake road.

The group requested that the township board initiate court action against the plant, contending that the area is zoned residential and that the rural zoning ordinance is being violated by the manufacturing of cement in the subdivision.

Township attorney Paul Mandel told the group that as long as the company was not selling the concrete to other contractors, he could not advise board members to institute court action against the company.

The matter was tabled until next week's meeting due to the absence of Supervisor Elmer Johnson who was excused during the meeting because of illness.

In other business, a discussion regarding drainage problems for residents living in the Doyon Subdivision on Elizabeth Lake road was also tabled for further study.

The board approved the purchase of a new $530 calculating machine and between $500 and $600 was authorized for the repair of the township truck.

Police chief Millard Pender presented a monthly report stating that there were 501 calls answered; 38 accidents reported; 25 arrests made and patrolmen drove 10,916 miles.

More than 65,000 prisoners of war and civilian deportees in World War II have been repatriated during the past six years.

Jaynes Bound Over on Blast Charge

Lloyd D. Jaynes, who has admitted throwing dynamite at an Avon Township home last month, was bound over to the Oakland County Circuit Court after examination today.

Jaynes, 17, of Warren, had been remanded back to Orion Township Justice Court April 7, by Circuit Court Judge George B. Hartrick, for examination.

Jaynes was returned to the Oakland County Jail after failing to post a $3,000 bond, with arraignment set for Monday.

Jaynes has admitted tossing sticks of dynamite at the home of Ronald MacDonald, 3389 Eastwood St., because he "wanted to scare" the owners. He is charged with assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than murder.

Give Originality to Walls With Boards and Battens

Walls offer the widest range of possibilities for variety in design and for charming originality. Walls dominate the enclosed area of a home, forming the permanent background for your entire decor.

Some of the most strikingly original home designs revolve around the indoor-outdoor theme. Bringing the outdoors right into your living room has become a national pastime.

It isn't done with mirrors, nor with trick lighting. In many cases it is achieved by using the exterior siding style of the home for the living room wall paneling, and having liberal expanses of glass walls to accentuate the illusion of one living area.

One of the most novel and unusual living rooms features horizontal boards-and-battens of well textured Douglas fir. The living room walls are identical with the exterior siding, even to the soft-toned sandstone stain which gives a warmth to the room, but does not hide the lovely grain and texture of this wood.

The boards are a full twelve inches wide and the battens have been purposely kept narrow, only two inches wide, in order to avoid a heaviness in the wall.

Such a wall is breath-taking in its beauty and remarkable uniqueness. It is the perfect foil for virtually any decorative scheme the housewife may desire. Its bland, neutral tones will complement soft pastel shades, as well as the brightest color in fabrics, draperies or rugs.

Twice a day the world's highest tides funnel into Nova Scotia's Minas Basin, the eastern branch of the Bay of Fundy. The waters may rise 53 feet. Neighboring creeks are swollen by the flow into broad rivers. When the tide runs out, the channels become fingers of red mud.

Remodeling May Be Wise

Make Careful Checklist Before Contracting With Home Workmen

Remodeling may be the answer for families who can't or don't want to buy or build a brand-new dream house. With luck, a lot of searching and careful planning, it's possible to get the bargain of a lifetime.

The first step on such a project is to determine the condition of the house and the extent of remodeling needed. A ramshackle home's lack of beauty may be only skin deep.

GET EXPERT ADVICE

If the basic structure is sound, and if the room layout is such that a minimum of structural changes are needed, prospects may be good.

But before going ahead, get expert advice from an architect, a contractor or a lending institution. Obtain estimates on all work. Perhaps you can do some yourself. Then find out if you can finance the work.

For extensive remodeling, be prepared to spend several thousand dollars. A. B. Campen, remodeling editor of Practical Builder, found that on more than 100 houses, the average remodeling cost was about $8,000. In every case, Campen said, the owner saved money. Campen found these 10 major remodeling needs:

1. All of the houses needed better wiring for modern electrical appliances.

2. All needed new kitchens. Today's housewife, unable to find or afford domestic help, wants such appliances as a dishwasher, garbage disposal unit, clothes washer and dryer, large refrigerator and deep freezer — and ample work surfaces and cabinet space.

3. All needed more storage space. In any remodeling job, try to include a storage wall.

4. All needed painting and decorating.

5. Nine out of 10 of the houses needed new roofs.

FULL INSULATION

6. Seven out of 10 houses needed heating systems. A new heating unit is a major expense but not prohibitive.

7. Eight out of 10 houses needed complete insulation. Thirty years ago, home insulation was virtually unknown. A fully insulated house means at least a four to six-inch thickness of mineral wool in the ceilings, at least three inches in the walls and two inches over a crawl space.

8. Seven out of 10 houses needed new bathrooms. Most families need at least one upstairs and a lavatory downstairs.

9. Seven out of 10 houses needed new windows.

10. Five out of 10 houses needed new siding. Narrow, 3½-inch clapboard dates a house.

What to Do

QUESTION: The exterior of our one-story ranch house, 5 years old, is stucco, with portions of the lower half clapboard. The interior has plastered walls. The heating unit is oil with a blower system. Our problem is damp walls in clothes closets, in cupboards and behind large pieces of furniture placed next to outside walls. How can we correct this condition?

ANSWER: First, see if your heating unit has a humidifier attached to it. If so, have it disconnected. When using any appliances which let off steam or humidity, open a window while they are being operated. If none of this works, you will have to install small ventilating louvers (about the size of a half dollar) in 3 or 4 of the affected areas.

All this advice is on the assumption that the dampness is not coming from the outside, such as during rainy periods, in which case you will have to find the source of the entry of water.

Tile Mfrs. Optimistic About Building Field

Today's housewife isn't singing the "Recession Blues."

Her note is an optimistic one. Take the subject of home remodeling. According to the Tile Council of America, the average housewife still prefers quality materials for home repair and remodeling.

Ceramic wall and floor tile, for instance, is being sold and installed just as fast now for home remodeling as it was during the height of the boom. And real tile is traditionally a quality material.

This is one of those sure signs of underlying confidence in our economy which often go unnoticed, says the Tile Council. The trade group feels it's pretty significant that, by and large, housewives are not swarming to embrace cheaper substitute materials when it comes to such things as home modernizing.

And, says the Tile Council, when the woman of the house (whose intuition is usually reliable, especially in these matters) unconsciously expresses this confidence, there certainly must be an economic reality to which she is responding.

The ceramic tile industry is optimistic. It has geared itself for a doubling of demand in the next several years and an important upturn this year over last, reports the Tile Council.

Says Richard B. Alexander, president of the trade group whose members produce over 90 per cent of the tile made in this country:

"Every economist has his pet indicator of business trends. We have one, too, and it's the housewife. For us, she's not only the true home economist but also a good home-building economist. Our research shows she's just as quality-conscious as ever.

"This is a good sign. Because, for the most part, the fact that she still tends to buy the best means she believes the family can afford the best. Some might have postponed remodeling plans a few months ago, but they have no doubt they'll take them up soon.

Give Hardware Antique Finish

It's a simple job, requiring only a screw driver, a couple of ordinary nails and hammer, an easy-to-apply tube of plastic aluminum — and some flat black paint.

Squeeze a generous layer of plastic aluminum on the exposed areas of the hardware.

Now, before the aluminum hardens, pock mark the exposed areas with the head of a nail and hammer to achieve an effect somewhat resembling hammer marks.

The result is close to the real wrought iron wanted by many homeowners for basement playrooms and recreation rooms.

You'd have to use a chisel on the pieces to tell the difference from real wrought iron — and it's much less expensive than buying new wrought iron hardware.

International Film Maker Happy He Quit as Actor

By BOB THOMAS

This was George Breakston, whom I last remembered as the star of "Great Expectations" (the 1934 one) and Mickey Rooney's pal in the Andy Hardy series. Now he's 39, mustached and a worldwide film maker. But he still has a boyish attitude toward the movies.

It's an exciting business for him—and no wonder! His bases of operation range from Nairobi to Tokyo to London to Hollywood. "I'm working for the airlines," he confesses. "In the past year, I've spent at least $15,000 on plane tickets."

Born in Paris of a French mother and American father, George came to this country in 1927, started in radio in 1929. Hollywood discovered him as a boy actor of unusual sensitivity, later neglected him.

"I quit acting in 1940," he recalled. "Why? I liked to eat. I was 20 and I couldn't see spending my life waiting for an agent to call about a job. I decided to get into the production end."

He was just getting started when Uncle Sam sounded his familiar call. But that proved a blessing. He was assigned to an Army photographic unit and got invaluable training.

"It was the best school in the world—unlimited amounts of film to shoot and the opportunity to make whatever mistakes you wanted," he said.

Instead of returning to the studios, he decided to strike out on his own, internationally. His first venture was making "Urubu" in Brazil. Then came "Jungle Stampede" in Africa and "Tokyo File 212" in Japan.

George has just returned from Africa, where he filmed 39 films for the Gross-Krasne TV series, "African Patrol," 13 for another series, "Adventures of a Jungle Boy." All this plus two features, "Mad Man of the Jungle" and "Woman and the Hunter."

He takes off shortly for Japan to film a couple of pilots with Oriental backgrounds. He has his own distribution company in Japan, having gotten into the field early.

He has homes in Tokyo and Nairobi, where his wife is now. They have a daughter who attends school in Switzerland.

Two American History Experts Flunk Quiz

WASHINGTON (AP)—A couple of experts on Congress and American history — Harry S. Truman and Rep. Patman (D-Tex)—forgot some recent history today. By overlooking it, they agreed that Truman probably was the first ex-president ever to testify before a congressional committee.

In point of fact, Herbert Hoover has several times given his views to congressional committees.

Patman told Truman, who was seated in the witness chair at a House Banking Committee hearing on unemployment, that the Library of Congress had informed him that Truman's appearance was the first such by a former president. Patman asked Truman whether he could confirm that.

Truman, who prides himself as a student of American history, recalled George Washington's unhappy appearance before a Senate committee. But he noted that was while Washington was still president.

Truman also said that when Gen. Taylor was coming into office four or five former presidents were organizing a move to help prevent war. He said he did not know whether the ex - presidents actually did go before a congressional committee.

Cabins Made of Poles

CLEVELAND — Utility poles ordinarily sent to the scrap heap were sent last summer to a nearby children's camp by a Cleveland utility company. Hundreds of the discards were turned into log-cabin structures and utility buildings at the campsite, adding a rustic touch.

'Other Woman' Had No Piano; Divorce Granted

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Testimony that her husband spent too much time in another woman's apartment won a divorce for TV actress Nina Bara.

Miss Bara, 34, told the court that pianist Dick Winslow Johnson, 43, "wanted to be married but acted like a single man." She charged cruelty.

Superior Judge Burnett Wolfson asked, regarding Johnson's visits to the other woman's apartment: "Are you sure he wasn't practicing the piano at her place?"

"This woman didn't have a piano," Nina replied.

Defense Reorganization Hearing Delayed 1 Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — At the request of Secretary of Defense McElroy, the House Armed Services Committee is postponing for a week hearings on President Eisenhower's controversial proposal for defense reorganization.

Committee Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) said McElroy wants to be the first witness but will be in Paris this week for a meeting of North Atlantic Pact defense ministers.

Senators Call Forty in Teamsters Query

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Rackets Committee lined up 40 witnesses today for the start of hearings on alleged goon squad violence and corrupt practices in Philadelphia Teamsters unions.

Robert F. Kennedy, the committee counsel, said the committee had decided to go ahead despite the death last week of on key witness and the continued absence of another.

Kennedy said Samuel Kirsch of Philadelphia, formerly associated with a magazine known as the Pennsylvania Federationist, died last week.

Kennedy said Benjamin Lapensohn, a onetime Teamster official and former head of the magazine, went off on a tour abroad more than a year ago when the committee sought to subpoena him.

I GOT $10,000 BY WORKING SMARTER

By a Wall Street Journal Subscriber

"Don't work so hard," said my boss. "Put your feet up on your desk and think of some new ways for the company to earn money."

That was a turning point in my life. One thing I did right away was to start reading The Wall Street Journal. In the pages of The Journal I found some of the most helpful articles I ever read. I found ideas that were immediately useful to our business. I found suggestions for cutting overhead costs and increasing our sales. The Journal was helpful to me personally too. Last year my income was increased to $10,000.

This story is typical. If you think The Wall Street Journal is just for millionaires, you are WRONG! The Journal is a wonderful aid to salaried men making $7,000 to $20,000 a year. It is valuable to owners of small businesses. It can be of priceless benefit to ambitious young men who want to earn more money.

The Wall Street Journal is the complete business DAILY. Has largest staff of writers on business and finance. The only business paper served by all four big press associations. It costs $20 a year, but you can get a Trial Subscription for three months for $6. Just tear out this ad and attach check for $6 and mail. Or tell us to bill you.

Published daily right in the Midwest to bring you vital business and Washington news immediately. Address: The Wall Street Journal, 711 W. Monroe St., Chicago 6, Ill.

CHICAGO (AP) — Corn futures prices were firm again today in early dealings on the Board of Trade but soybeans and all other grains were about steady to weak.

Traders, watching the Washington scene closely for fate of the government price extension measure, heard a report that the Democrats might now abandon efforts to override President Eisenhower's veto. The report said the Democrats had admitted they could not muster the necessary two-thirds Senate majority.

Yugoslavia was reported to have bought about 350,000 bushels of wheat overnight but other commercial export business was at a standstill.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was ¼ to ⅞ cent a bushel lower, May $2.21; corn ¼ to 1 cent higher, May to ⅛ lower, May 65¼; rye ¼ higher to ¼ lower, May ¼ to ⅝ higher, May $2.31⅞; lard 3 to 8 cents a hundred lbs. higher, May 12.82.

The total anticipated revenue from township and state taxes, licenses and fines will be $353,200. At the present time the township cash balance in the general fund is $94,545.

A special board meeting has been scheduled for 6:45 p.m. Friday, when final action on the budget is anticipated.

City Unable to Halt Trucks, Street Rallies

City Commission candidate Milton R. Henry today won the right to use sound trucks and street rallies in his District 1 campaign from now through Saturday, two days before the election.

At a hearing today before Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick the city was unable to show cause why a restraining order should be lifted. Henry got the court order Friday preventing the city from prohibiting sound trucks and street rallies in his campaign.

He had been denied a permit by Police Chief Herbert W. Straley.

Stock Market Moves Slightly

Changes of most key stocks were fractional. Moves of as much as a point were scarce.

Oils and rails had more plus than minus signs but their edge to the upside was thin. Chrysler and General Motors were active and up a bit. Steels, chemicals and aircrafts were mixed.

The recession was emphasized by the federal reserve board report that industrial production slumped to the lowest level since November 1954. Sales of new cars were reported down sharply for Chrysler and General Motors. A rise in farmers' net income was a brighter note.

After easing at the start Chrysler showed a fractional net gain. GM gathered speed after an indifferent opening and was up ⅛ at 36 on successive blocks of 3,000 and 5,000 shares.

U.S. Steel eased and Bethlehem was off a fraction. Boeing and United Aircraft were firm.

Union Carbide and Sinclair were among small gainers. New York Central, Standard Oil (New Jersey) and General Electric were steady.

Pontiac Notes Newest Record

More Than 625 Cars on Loan for Training Drivers Nationwide

Pontiac dealer support of high school driver education programs reached a new peak during the 1956-57 school term with the loan of more than 625 automobiles to driver training departments throughout the United States, according to S. E. Knudsen, general manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

Knudsen pointed out that his Company and its dealers have been strong backers of driver training programs since their founding in 1936 by Pontiac and the American Automobile Association. "An estimated 500,000 students have been trained in Pontiacs," he declared.

"We consider it a privilege to participate in these truly worthwhile programs," Knudsen continued. "Their far - reaching benefits are borne out by surveys which clearly indicate that properly trained teenage drivers are involved in less than half as many traffic accidents and violations as the non-trained.

"Moreover, with a steady yearly increase in the number of cars on the highways, it is vitally important that we impart good driving habits to the young men and women who will be behind the steering wheels tomorrow."

Home Construction Down Less in March

WASHINGTON (INS) — The government reported today that home construction dropped again in March but at a slower rate than the February decline.

The Labor Department announced there were 79,000 nonfarm dwelling units started in March compared with an unusually low February volume of 65,000. Bad weather hindered outdoor work in both months.

Despite the numerical increase, the seasonally adjusted annual rate of housing starts declines from 890,000 to 880,000, lowest since the early months of 1949.

In January the rate was 1,030,000.

The report noted that about one-third of the March increase over February was due to FHA-insured units. It said "sizable" advances in FHA and GI home loan applications should boost future construction.

Big 3 Cutbacks Now Idle 60,000

Temporary Shutdowns Meant to Reduce Car Stocks on Market

DETROIT (AP)—Production cutbacks by the Big Three—Ford, Chrysler and General Motors—at 24 auto plants across the country idled an estimated 60,000 workers this week.

The three auto firms reported temporary shutdowns in various divisions to reduce car stocks in the face of curtailed demand.

Spokesmen declined to give figures on the number of workers idled by the closings or to give comparable figures for employment at this time last year.

GM said Chevrolet manufacturing plants are closed at Bay City and Flint, Mich., Buffalo, Cleveland, Toledo and Tonawanda, N.Y. Other Chevrolet plants are scheduled to close down April 21 for one week at Janesville, Wis., Van Nuys and Oakland, Calif., Kansas City, St. Louis, Tarryton, N.Y., Atlanta, Ga., Baltimore and Flint.

Ford assembly plants closed are located at Chicago, Dearborn, Mich., Kansas City, Long Beach, Calif., Memphis, Tenn., and Norfolk, Va. A Ford plant at Mahwah, N.J., is expected to close soon.

Ford said Mercury plants at Wayne, Mich., Los Angeles, St. Louis and Metuchen, N.J., were shut down.

Chrysler and DeSoto plants in Detroit and the Chrysler assembly plant in Los Angeles are shut down for the week.

The April 21 closings at Chevrolet plants will halt all division assembly operations with the exception of plants at Norwood, Ohio, and Bloomfield, N.J.

Asks Workers for Strike Solution

Firm May Quit Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — An auto parts firm appealed to its 1,500 seniority employes today for ideas on how to settle a strike which it says threatens permanent loss of their jobs to competitors in states where wages are lower.

Ainsworth-Precision Castings Co. mailed the appeal to each employe yesterday after negotiations failed to settle a strike called March 25 by the United Auto Workers Union at three Detroit area plants.

The firm's executive vice president, J. F. McDonnell Jr., told employes, "Maybe you have some ideas, either for us or for the union. We would welcome them."

UAW Local 155 struck two plants in Detroit and one in Marysville, Mich., in a dispute over the transfer of 112 jobs to a new plant being built in Springfield, Tenn., by Harsco, Corp. Ainsworth-Precision is a division of Harsco.

The union insisted on transferring Detroit employes to the new plant. The company said this couldn't be done because Harsco obtained a free site and other concessions in Springfield in return for agreeing to employ Springfield residents.

McDonnell told a news conference the strike has resulted in customer-owned tools being pulled out under court order and turned over to suppliers in other states. He said 3,000 jobs could be saved here if the strike is ended by Thursday.

Otherwise, he said, all Ainsworth jobs in this area will be lost permanently without hope of re-employing any seniority workers when business picks up.

McDonnell said Harsco located a new plant in Tennessee to remain competitive in bidding on contracts for parts for the auto makers. He said Ainsworth's average wage rate here is $2.50 an hour plus fringe benefits of 50 and 60 cents as against $2 an hour, including fringes in Tennessee.

Russell Leach, president of Local 155, said the union objected to the company's proposal that laid off workers here get severance pay out of the pension fund. He said the company asked Detroit workers to take a 10 per cent wage cut. The company said it suggested the wage cut so it could remain competitive in bidding on contracts.

Leach said, "If we could get Mr. McDonnell to the bargaining table instead of the press conference table we might get somewhere."

No date has been set for resumption of negotiations.

McDonnell said there is no hope of re-opening the Marysville plant unless the strike is settled by tonight. The plant has been idle because of a business slump.

He said the Marysville plant had been scheduled for closing within the next two months and Detroit jobs cut to 300 by next fall even if there had been no strike. He added plans called for holding the Marysville plant for one year to await an upsurge in business.

Emmy Awards on TV Tonight

West Coast Programs Have Big Edge Over New York Shows

Award ceremonies from both Hollywood and New York are being telecast by NBC from 10 to 11:30. Winners have been chosen by members of the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences.

Competing for the best female and male personalities were old favorites Dinah Shore, Gracie Allen, Lucille Ball, Loretta Young, Sid Caesar, Steve Allen, Jack Benny and Perry Como. They had competition, however, from the star of the Tonight show, Jack Paar, and his former Girl Friday, Dody Goodman, newcomers to the list.

Playhouse 90 led the field for the most nominations — 12 — including one for the best TV series of the year. Two of its productions, "The Comedian" and "The Helen Morgan Story," were among the nominees for the best individual show of the year.

Others: The Edsel Show, the General Motors Anniversary Show and Hall of Fame's "Green Pastures."

ACTING NOMINEES

Mickey Rooney, who starred in "The Comedian," was nominated for the best individual acting award with Peter Ustinov, David Wayne, Lee J. Cobb and Ed Wynn.

Top actress nominees were Polly Bergen; Helen Hayes, who won in 1952; Piper Laurie, Julie Andrews and Teresa Wright.

Three Westerns — Gunsmoke, Maverick and Wagon Train — were among nominess for the best dramatic series. The others: Lassie and Perry Mason.

James Arness, who plays Marshal Dillon on Gunsmoke, and his sidekick Dennis Weaver, who portrays his crippled deputy Chester, were among those nominated for best leading and supporting actor in a series. Arness' competition: Bob Cummings, Phil Silvers, Danny Thomas and Robert Young.

COMEDY CONTESTANTS

Best comedy series contestants are the Bob Cummings Show, Caesar's Hour—which went off the air last June and returned as Caesar Presents this January over another network, the Jack Benny Show, Father Knows Best and the Phil Silvers Show.

Competing for the best dramatic anthology series—a new category—were Alfred Hitchcock Presents, Climax, Hallmark Hall of Fame, Playhouse 90 and Studio One.

The best musical, variety or audience participation show nominees are Dinah Shore, Ed Sullivan, Perry Como, Steve Allen and the Jack Paar Show.

Salesman James Lloyd brought 10-year-old Cynthia Stevenson to court, claiming her dog bit him last June 17. He asked $2,000 damages. Cynthia contended Lloyd provoked Pal by kicking him in the face after he had excited Lloyd's chihuahua.

"I am not sure this dog bit anybody," said Municipal Judge Joseph Marchetti. "He does not look vicious to me, and I find for the defendant in this case."

Happy People Live in Thailand

Natives Decide to Let Trouble Take Care of Its Own Worrying

WASHINGTON — The happiest people on earth may be living in Thailand.

No one can say for sure, because science cannot measure happiness. But the joy of the Thai people has been repeatedly mentioned in reports reaching the National Geographic Society. The smiling Thais seem to have unlocked the secret door that leads to happiness.

PROBLEMS PLENTIFUL

Thailand — formerly known as Siam — has plenty of problems. But Thais decided long ago to let trouble do its own worrying.

When disaster strikes, a Thai says: "Mai pen arai" (It hardly matters). He picks himself up, and soon is smiling again.

Thais are among the gentlest people in the world. They can even have a revolution without anybody getting hurt. Many literally refuse to kill flies. Thais have welcomed foreigners with such kindness that missionaries sometimes mistook courtesy for inmminent conversion. Yet Trailand has never fallen under western domination.

FAR HAPPIER

"Our people in Thailand are far happier than yours," said a Thai on a visit to America. "We turn to you for technical help, but not in the search for happiness. We would like to teach you the art of being happy."

The Thai formula seems to be: "Don't worry about what hasn't happened. If trouble comes, wait and it will soon depart."

An American correspondent wrote from Bangkok that he had never seen a Thai lose his temper or show the slightest irritation. Not surprisingly, this worried the American.

SO RELAXED

"Thais seem so relaxed that it sometimes frightens," he reported.

Thais seem convinced that all their enemies will eventually disappear. Yet this feeling has not kept them from building up their defenses in the meantime.

Thais are devout followers of the Buddha. Thousands of temples signify their faith in the "Enlightened One," who is believed to have performed countless miracles during his earthly existence.

Almost every Thai man — from the king down to the lowest peasant — spends at least a few weeks of his life in a Buddhist monastery. He wears a saffron yellow robe, and he goes into the streets with a bowl to beg for food. His bowl is soon full, for Thais are generous.

"To give all one's goods to feed the poor is common in this country," observed King Mongkut, the hero of "Anna and the King of Siam."

Layoffs in Prospect for State Police

LANSING (AP)—Joseph A. Childs, state police commissioner, said last night he will have to lay off 100 men unless the department's 1958-59 operating allowance is boosted above $11,300,000.

Most will be enlisted personnel, he said. The force has about 1,150 men in this category after a substantial buildup in the last three years.

Childs was interviewed after a meeting of House-Senate conferees on the public health and safety appropriation bill broke up without agreement.

On that day, safety and defense conferees will make a second attempt to agree on spending authorizations for State Police, the Office of Civil Defense and related agencies.

Oh, for Convent Life!

SANTA CRUZ DE TENERIFFE, Spain (INS) — After 50 years in the cloistered convent at Santa Clara, two nuns went to Seville for a meeting of their community. When they saw the street traffic of a modern, big city, Sister Francisca Cabrera told Sister Josefina Castaneda: "People must be crazy with so much noise. I can't wait to get back to the convent."

Revenue Service, Hedy Lamarr Settle

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Hedy Lamarr and the tax collectors have come to terms.

The Internal Revenue Service had a $147,000 tax claim against the actress. But a stipulation permitting settlement of the claim for $60,000 was filed in Tax Court yesterday.

The claim resulted from a deduction Miss Lamarr listed on her 1950 tax return, claiming loss of jewelry by theft. The government disallowed the deduction on grounds that the value she placed on the jewelry had not been proved and that the jewelry could have been lost instead of stolen.

Russian Dance Troupe Triumphs in New York

NEW YORK (AP)—The Moiseyev dance company from Moscow, the first dance troupe to reach the United States under a new American-Soviet cultural exchange agreement, scored a resounding triumph at the Metropolitan Opera House last night.

The Russians, in turn, particularly the girls, applauded the American hosts, waved and smiled.

The American and Soviet flags draped two center boxes. Mikhail Menshikov, Soviet ambassador to Washington, and Arkady Sobolev, ambassador to the United Nations, were the ranking diplomats.

W. G. Rogers, Associated Press arts editor, said in his review: "This isn't ballet, it isn't really dance, it is pure rollicking fun. . . .

"The dancers moved across the stage in great irresistible rushes, they stamped, thumped, skipped, ran, hopped, galloped and trotted, they did the most extraordinary pirouettes, they clowned, burlesqued and ridiculed, and they, too, had a hilarious time."

Doolittle's Son Killed Himself

Justice of Peace Says Investigation Revealed No Homicide, Accident

AUSTIN, Tex. (UP)—Maj. James H. Doolittle Jr., whose famous father led the nation's first air strike on Japan's mainland in World War II, committed suicide, an investigation report shows.

"I wrote on the death certificate that it was suicide," said Justice of the Peace J. H. Watson. "It was not homicide or accidental."

Doolittle, 38, was found dead last Wednesday in his office a Bergstrom Air Force Base near here. He had been shot in the right temple with a .38 caliber revolver found on the floor by his body.

Lt. Gen. Doolittle returned here from a government mission in Puerto Rico, but like others in the major's family said he knew no reason for his death.

Memorial services were held at the base chapel last Friday and his body will be cremated in San Antonio, Tex. Final burial services will be held later in St. Louis, the home of the widow.

Marks 4th Anniversary and 104th Birthday

Beaird, who worked until he was 100, married his wife Mertie, 73, on the same day he celebrated the century mark. His first wife died in the 1920s.

Beaird said he has more than 100 descendants, including 12 great-great-grandchildren.

An employe of the city's sanitation department until he was 98, Beaird said at that age he could do as much work as any of his fellow workers. After leaving that job, he worked on floodwall construction for two years.

Reds Officially Announce End of Sputnik II

MOSCOW (UP) — More than five months and masses of scientific data after they launched Sputnik II with its dog passenger, Soviet scientists have officially proclaimed its end.

A Tass statement last night said, "The second Soviet artificial earth satellite, which was launched into its orbit Nov. 3, 1957, entered the dense layers of the atmosphere this morning, broke up and terminated its existence."

The end of Sputnik II leaves only American satellites circling the earth. Three have been launched successfully and one is in two separate parts, making four U.S. moons now in orbit. Sputnik I burned up in January after three months in orbit.

The dog in Sputnik II died one week after the satellite went up. The moon completed about 2,370 trips around the earth, covering a distance of 62,136,000 miles, Tass reported.
