Relief for Hungary Awaits Red Answer

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold awaited word from Communist Hungarian authorities today whether he will be permitted to lead a U. N. relief mission into the revolt-torn satellite.

Hammarskjold confirmed last night that he had approached Hungarian Foreign Minister Imre Horvath on the question.

Hammarskjold delayed his departure for the Middle East to work on arrangements for the relief to Hungary. A spokesman said he would leave this afternoon.

A veteran welfare worker in London looked at the small mountain of Hungarian relief supplies blocking the Red Cross office and shook her head in wonder.

"It has been a long time since England saw anything like this."

Throughout Western Europe, welfare workers are telling the same story.

The free world, they say, is sending the shirt off its back and the ring off its finger to help Hungarian refugees and other victims of last week's Russian repression.

More than 10 million dollars in money has been given or pledged in voluntary contributions, and the amount is rising by the hour.

There have been reports that up to 50,000 Soviet volunteers were ready to move into the Middle East if Moscow should give the word.

The President added that he was not going to say the United States would make a unilateral determination—that is a decision by itself—about how to handle such intervention.

Eisenhower said this country certainly would lend support to any U.N. action. It was at this point that he added that the action need not be restricted to adoption of resolutions.

The President expressed hope and confidence that the current crisis in the Middle East and in Hungary can be settled through the U.N.

He also said he believes that once those situations have been resolved, U.S. relations with Britain and France will be stronger than ever.

On politics and the four years of his second term, Eisenhower had this to say:

Election of another Democratic-controlled Congress means to him, the President said, that the American people are not yet convinced that modern Republicanism is going to be the guiding philosophy of the Republican party.

Asked how he intends to go about trying to put across his program of modern Republicanism with a Democratic-run Congress, Eisenhower replied that he plans to work for such concepts industriously and incessantly.

Ruling Awaited on Land Issue

Ewart Believes Court May Nullify Petition of Oakland County

The controversial 1954 annexation of 104 acres by Pontiac from Waterford Township apparently will remain unsettled as the city awaits a court ruling on a recent amendment of the State Home Rule Act.

Pontiac City Attorney William A. Ewart told the City Commission last night that it is questionable whether a new petition from Oakland County for re-annexation of this land parcel, complies with the state statute.

Hanging in the balance because of Ewart's opinion is the county-requested relocation of West Boulevard so that the present road will not interfere with the proposed new courthouse and Service Center.

Both matters are slated for further discussion at the commission's next informal meeting.

Ewart opinioned that the 17 persons who signed the petition "do not hold any of the record legal title to the land in the area to be annexed." They had signed the petition, along with county officials.

The statute requires that for annexation a petition must be signed "by persons, firms, corporations, the United States government, or the state or any of its subdivisions who collectively hold legal title to more than one-half of the area of the land in the territory to be annexed."

"The absence of collective ownership of this land by all of the petitioners involved is a sufficient legal infirmity to challenge the validity of the petition," Ewart ruled.

The county asked the repeat of the annexation "so as to eliminate the question that has existed as to the validity of the previous annexation."

Ewart said this annexation "was not in proper form because of the residence of qualified electors in the area."

Under the state law at that time, annexation would have taken the vote of the residents of Waterford and Pontiac.

No Troops Yet in Egypt

'Operation Peace Force' Working (?) in Confusion

CAIRO (INS)—Confusion and uncertainty surrounded "Operation Peace Force" for a second straight day today with no one in Cairo apparently knowing when or where the first U. N. troops will arrive.

Even the U. N. truce observers who arrived in Egypt yesterday confessed they "have been told nothing" so far.

Responsible Egyptian sources speculated the delays were caused by a need for more time for the advance units to get organized at bombed-out Abu Suweir Airfield near Ismailia.

They insisted the hold-up was only organizational and that there was no indication of any policy switch on Egyptian agreement to allow the U. N. troops to enter.

(Reports from other captals, however, speculated that Britain, France and Israel are objecting to the terms set by Egypt before she agreed to allow the U.N. truce force into the country.)

The Egyptian agreement, as made public by the Middle East News Agency, calls for the U. N. force to leave the Suez Canal Zone immediately after the withdrawal of British and French troops and to take up stations along the Israeli-Egyptian armistice lines.

The international force also would have to leave Egypt anytime the Egyptian government asked it to.

The U. N. officially took over the no-man's-land between the Anglo-French and Egyptian lines along the Suez Canal yesterday.

A Norwegian and an American colonel coming from Cairo met nine U. N. observer colleagues from Port Said on the roadside just north of the canal town of Kantara.

Ike Says U.S. to Oppose Soviet Troops in Egypt

Tells Press He'll Back U.N. 'Action' if Reds Send in Volunteers

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the United States would oppose — probably through the United Nations —any intervention in Egypt by Soviet or Chinese Communist volunteers.

The President left up in the air just what form such opposition might take.

He told a news conference, his first since re-election, that the nature of such opposition would depend upon the specific circumstances of any intervention.

Argues Against Rail Yard Proposal

MAKES FINAL PLEA — Appearing before the City Commission last night, Pontiac's representative in the Legislature, Leslie H. Hudson, repeated his plea to keep the Grand Trunk industrial support yard out of the north end. Hudson has acted as spokesman for the Wever-Owen-Hawthorne Community Club, which several months ago, petitioned the commission protesting the construction of the $700,000 yard in their backyards. The commission voted 4 to 3 in favor of the project after a two-hour debate.

Commissioners Grant Approval by 4-3 Margin

City Will Negotiate to Sell Three Acres Needed for Project

Grand Trunk Western Railroad will build its industrial support yard in Pontiac's north end.

By a vote of 4 to 3 last night, the City Commission handed down the long-awaited decision which has followed five months of discussion by the city, railroad, and industry officials.

Casting "yes" votes were Commissioners Roy V. Cooley, Philip E. Rowston, William W. Donaldson, and John A. Dugan.

Voicing "no" votes were Commissioners Floyd P. Miles (in whose district the yard is slated), Gilbert W. Long, and John E. Carry.

The favorable vote was to instruct City Manager Walter K. Willman to negotiate with the railroad for the sale of a three-acre parcel of land needed by the railroad to construct its $700,000 yard.

Commissioners further stipulated that a written agreement listing city-desired features of the yard must be agreed upon and returned to the commission, along with the sale agreement, for final approval.

Some 115 residents, mostly from the north end, packed the chambers to hear the climactic vote of a debate that began in June.

Leslie H. Hudson, Pontiac's state representative, speaking for the north side residents, pleaded again for the commission to keep the yard from the northside.

"I would be fighting as hard to keep it out of the east, south, or west side if they wanted to put it there," Hudson said. "I believe what the railroad is asking you to do is wrong."

SEEK GREEN BELT

Planting of a "green belt" of shrubbery around the 3,000 by 300-foot yard, and a pedestrian bridge over Hollywood street, are two things sought by the city. Both have previously been agreed upon by the railroad.

During his long speech, Hudson criticized industry for not taking a part in civic betterment. The Press for its coverage of the railroad matter, and the city for lack of long-term planning.

Only 2 Days Remain

Time Running Out on Lagging UF Drive

A big $81,000 looms as the difference between success and failure for this year's Pontiac Area United Fund campaign.

Campaign chairman Walter K. Willman announced today volunteers are that far short of their $612,202 goal with only two days to go.

Biggest shortages are in the Industrial Division with its $415,000 goal and in the Commercial Division, Willman said.

The Industrial Division stands at the 86 per cent mark with $356,902 already pledged by Pontiac industrial employes and their firms.

However, reports from Chairman Earl Maxwell indicate that well over 86 per cent of all industrial employes have been contacted by United Fund workers.

According to campaign leaders it seems doubtful that the completion of industrial solicitation will put Maxwell's division over its $414,000 quota.

The quota reflects almost no increase over what was raised by industry in 1955's successful Pontiac Area United Fund drive, however, the total industrial work force is smaller this year than last.

James Nye's Commercial Division workers are still $32,000, or 20 per cent short of their $158,086 quota, Willman said.

Nye again today issued an appeal for all his solicitors to turn in their United Fund collections immediately to Campaign headquarters at 20½ East Lawrence.

The Geographic Division under Mrs. Ralph G. Bump is less than $2,000 short of its $19,000 quota and will probably go over the 100 per cent mark within the next two days.

"Thousands of volunteer women workers have waged the most vigorous United Fund solicitation in Pontiac history," Willman said.

Mentalist Correct in Vote Prediction

LOS ANGELES (INS) — It was impossible, of course. Utterly ridiculous. No one would believe it.

How could Jack Swimmer, a mentalist, predict with 100 per cent accuracy the number of votes cast for President Eisenhower in national, California state and Los Angeles county local elections Nov. 6?

Especially since he wrote his predictions on a slip of paper last Oct. 10 and had the guesses locked in the Los Angeles county safe in the board of supervisors' quarters.

Swimmer's predictions were right on the nose: A national vote for Mr. Eisenhower of 33,974,241; a state vote of 2,875,637 and a county vote of 1,218,462. His forecast was that newspapers would carry those unofficial counts on Nov. 9—and they did.

The supervisors and a score of newspapermen who followed the whole operation from beginning to end swore that Swimmer had done the impossible, that there was no trickery involved in his amazing predictions.

Record Crowds View Pontiacs

Knudsen Lauds Outlook for '57 Sales as Buyers Flood Showrooms

An enthusiastic appraisal of public response to the 1957 Pontiac was made yesterday by Semon E. Knudsen, division general manager and vice president of General Motors.

Knudsen reported that the new models attracted 3,300,000 visitors to dealer showrooms over the weekend. The 1957 line made its debut last Friday.

Pontiac dealers delivered over 5,400 cars and took customer orders for 15,000 others in the two days, the general manager said. The deliveries represented 50 per cent of the total available stock for 1957, he stated.

The Pontiac Retail Store, local sales outlet for the cars, reports that orders since introduction are currently "equal or better" than 1955's like period.

"It looks like Pontiac is back on the map and we're going to 'go' again," Manager Henry Gotham said in pointing out also that sales since Nov. 9 are about three times what they were during the same time span last year.

In announcing response figures, Knudsen repeated his October prediction that 1957 will be a record sales year for the division and its dealers.

Predict Showers in Pontiac Area Late Tonight

Thursday will be colder with rain changing to snow flurries. Tomorrow's high will be around 46-50. The mercury will hit a low of 25 degrees tomorrow night.

The lowest temperature reading preceding 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 40 degrees. The thermometer registered 64 at 2 p.m.

County Nimrods to Compete

Contest Opens With Deer Season

By H. GUY MOATS
Outdoor Editor, Pontiac Press

Michigan's biggest single outdoors event of the year swings into action tomorrow morning over a major portion of the Upper Peninsula and much of the Lower Peninsula. More than 400,000 deer hunters will hit the trails by daylight to open the gun season on deer and bear.

Several thousands will invade Oakland County's state lands where hunting is permitted. Season's start also signals the beginning of The Pontiac Press two-way deer contest for Oakland County nimrods.

State game experts estimate a total bag of 70,000 deer, a decrease from 1955 figures. They also point to figures for hunting accidents and deaths as having an estimated 10 killed and 40 injured. Hunters have been urged to use every care to prevent such accidents.

Windy and much colder weather, with some snow tonight, mixed with rain and snow flurries in the morning in the eastern section is forecast. Not enough snow was expected, however, for tracking.

Prospects, generally, are good for successful hunting, says Harry Ruhl, head of the state game division.

A mid-morning check of the deer traffic situation showed no jams, or indications of a tieup, anywhere along the north-bound highways or at the Straits of Mackinac itself.

Cliff Ketchum of the Conservation Department said State Police reported no lineup and "no indications of one so far."

State Police, Lansing headquarters, called the Mackinac post by radio, Ketchum said. "They were told there had been no tieups at any time today, none yesterday. While no one can foresee what will happen today, there has been none of the usual preliminaries that would promise a jam.

"Maybe it's because the Straits ferries have been operating on a 'wild' schedule, thus moving them faster."

Grocer Slugged, Fires at Bandits

Isadore Mintz Shoots, Hits Getaway Car After Home Service Holdup

A Pontiac grocer last night fired three shots at the getaway car of two bandits who slugged him with a beer bottle and escaped with approximately $100 cash.

Isadore Mintz, 46, of 1145 James K. Blvd. told Pontiac police he recovered from the blow on his head and grabbed his own .38 caliber revolver seconds after the thugs left his store, The Home Service Grocery, 43 Orchard Lake Ave.

He believed all three shots struck their 1947 or 1948 Kaiser automobile as it sped out of a side parking lot.

Mintz was released from Pontiac General Hospital after observation showed he suffered only superficial injuries.

The pair entered his store about 1 a.m., he told police. They ordered six bottles of beer.

When he returned with the order, one of the men had drawn a rifle from under his coat. The armed man forced Mintz into the back room, Mintz said, while the other looted the cash register.

As they were about to leave, he said, the armed man smashed the bottle over his head.

Mintz described both men as between 25 and 30 years old and slightly over six feet tall.

A FULL HOUSE — When the City Commission convened last night, they were met by a crowd of some 115 persons anxious to hear the vote on the long-awaited decision on the Grand Trunk Western Railroad industrial support yard. Many of the citizens urged commissioners once again to vote against the construction of the $700,000 project in the north end. A public address system and an additional 50 chairs were set up in anticipation of the jammed chambers. The commission voted 4 to 3 in favor of the yard.

Accuses Police in Cruelty Case

Waterford Twp. Man Claims Release Offered for Statement

Arthur D. Martin, 27, of Waterford Township, accused two Waterford Township detectives of lying on the witness stand as his trial for cruelty to a child resumed in Oakland County Circuit Court this afternoon.

Capt. Millard Pender and Det. Donald Gravlin both had denied they told Martin he would be released if he made a statement to Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem that he intentionally burned the child.

Martin, who took the stand as sole defense witness, drew gasps from the crowded courtroom as he pointed dramatically to Pender and Gravlin.

Defense attorney Donald A. Brown of Royal Oak, had asked him which police officers had promised him he would be released.

Martin said he returned from work about midnight Oct. 11 to find his children, Dennis, 4, and Terry, 2, in bed. A fuse was blown, he said, and the furnace fire was out.

While trying to start the fire, he said, a section of chimney fell down, filling the house with smoke. While trying to clear the smoke from the house, Martin said, he first saw Dennis and Terry were out of bed and playing at the lighted kitchen stove.

He denied he intentionally burned Dennis to punish him. While holding Dennis on his arm beside the stove, Martin said, Dennis apparently touched a heated coffeepot on one of the burners.

Fisher Workers Vote to Strike

98 Pct. Give Approval, Cite Speedups, Poor Working Conditions

A vote completed today at Fisher Body Division showed 98 per cent of the workers voting favored to strike because of local grievances.

Harold A. Grant, president of Local 596 UAW, said the union would seek permission from the International UAW to strike the plant.

He said this process usually takes 30 days.

The union members argue that they are faced with faster production schedules and "unsuitable working conditions at the plant."

No workers have walked off the job because of the vote and grievances, Grant said.

Late shift employes of the Fisher Body plant in St. Louis were reported off their jobs in a "wildcat strike."

A spokesman for management of the local plant said he had "no comment to make at this time."

show us that they would get out and help us?" Hudson asked.

The primary objective of the yard is to provide for increased shipping services for both Pontiac Motor and Fisher Body Divisions.

MILES HITS RAILROAD

Commissioner Miles continued his criticism of the railroad. "Grand Trunk has given no consideration to anybody except their own selfish interests," Miles charged. "There is no reason why people should suffer to benefit Grand Trunk."

Dugan, whose vote was considered to have carried the issue, turned about-face from his previous stand of opposing the project. "If I had the slightest idea it could be built elsewhere, I would vote otherwise."

The railroad rejected five alternate proposed sites for the yard for reasons of excessive grade, additional help, extra expense, and increased distance from both plants.

The yard will be constructed south of Walton boulevard, north of the railroad's belt line, and between Baldwin and Stanley avenues.

The city fathers hesitated in approving this proposed site of the railroad, as they said it would block the extension of Stanley, a two-year-old city project.

First to cast an affirmative vote, Dr. Cooley said: "This commission should show some understanding of what industry's problems are and someday they will show some understanding of ours."

The Chamber of Commerce fought for an early decision on the matter, as members termed the delay "the turning point of industry in Pontiac."

"The City Commission has very little to offer in opposition to this yard," Cooley continued. "I don't think the people will suffer as much as they think they will."

Residents of the area said the yard would lower their property values, be a hazard to school children, and a hindrance to future building in the neighborhood.

Donaldson rebuked Hudson's charge that industry had not contributed financially to the city. He mentioned the $75,000 General Motors bus donated last Saturday and several other gifts.

Seek Extension of Stanley Street

City Manager Willman Continues His Fight for Right of Way

The city isn't through in its determination to extend Stanley avenue through to Walton boulevard.

After the City Commission voted last night to let Grand Trunk Western Railroad install their planned support yard in the north end, several city commissioners were ready to drop the extension of Stanley avenue off the 10-point agenda.

City Manager Walter K. Willman intercepted the move and asked that the city continue its negotiations with Oakland County to secure the right of way of the street.

"I'm not so sure you can't put a road over 21 tracks," Willman said.

The road project would be impossible if the railroad constructed its yard south of Walton boulevard and north of its belt line, city officials pointed out.

It was for this reason that commissioners were reluctant in approving the railroad's request. The extension of Stanley was needed to relieve traffic congestion on Baldwin avenue, they said.

PROJECT DELAYED

The city must secure the right of way to a portion of the street after Pontiac City Attorney William A. Ewart recently uncovered papers to show that through some error the county picked up this right of way through a state tax sale.

"If we own this right of way, I'm in a better position to negotiate with the railroad as to what we can do with Stanley," Willman said.

Son's Hot Rod Used as Example of Police Laxity

A Pontiac father used his 18-year-old son as an example as he complained to the City Commission last night that the city was lax in its enforcement of an excessive noise ordinance against "hot rod" mufflers.

Louis L. Smith, 81 E. Ann Arbor Ave., said his son Richard's car continues to sport a loud muffler even after being examined at the city police garage after a ticket was issued.

"These kids are up to many tricks to hide these noises during inspections, which the city apparently isn't aware of," Smith said.

"And the city is contributing to juvenile delinquency by letting this go on," he charged.

Pontiac Police Chief Herbert W. Straley criticized Smith, "I think this man is very negligent in letting his own son do this," Straley said.

"We ticket dozens of cars every day for this same thing," the chief added.

S-P Shareholder Vote Questioned

Studebaker - Packard Group Charges Fraud, Coercion in Merger

DETROIT (AP)—A group of Studebaker-Packard Corp. stockholders asked Chief Federal Judge Arthur F. Lederle yesterday to impound the ballots in the recent S-P shareholder vote on a proposed working agreement with Curtiss-Wright Corp.

And in an amendment to a previously filed stockholder suit, the group charged that the Studebaker-Packard management gave false information to persuade stockholders to vote for the management program. Proxies also were obtained improperly, the amended suit charged.

Judge Lederle instructed Attorney Frank Rosenbaum, representing Sol A. Dann, one of the plaintiffs, to put his request that the ballots be impounded in a written motion.

The new actions delayed for at least three weeks a hearing on a plea for a temporary injunction restraining Studebaker-Packard from signing an agreement with Curtiss-Wright. The hearing had been scheduled for yesterday.

The amended complaint charged that the Studebaker-Packard management solicited proxies for the special stockholder meeting Oct. 31 through letters and long distance telephone calls and oral statements "that persuaded and coerced many stockholders to vote their stock in favor of the management's proposals."

Rosenbaum charged that in advance of the vote, stockholders were misled by being told that the agreement with Curtiss - Wright would bring to Studebaker-Packard "hundreds of millions of dollars in defense contracts" and more working capital for automotive production.

Rosenbaum said the Studebaker-Packard management program has caused and will continue to cause stockholders irreparable damage in a sum exceeding 35 million dollars."

Lawmakers Raise Rates for Water, Eton Skating

BIRMINGHAM—Rates for water consumption in the city and ice skating at Eton Park were raised at last night's commission meeting.

Water will cost residents 30 instead of 20 cents per 1,000 gallons, the new scale decrees.

At Eton Park, skaters 16 and under will pay 25 cents and those over 16 will pay 50 cents, bringing city receipts up about $1,000.

Last year all under 19 paid 15 cents for nights and weekends, while older skaters paid 50 cents.

Twining property rezoning was put off until Dec. 3, after discussion with leaders of the objecting residents.

"Another department would not help with drain problems," commissioners voted, rejecting a suggested resolution upholding the idea of a department of public works on a county-wide scale.

They agreed coordination was needed, but pointed out that the Wayne Road Commission handles such problems adequately in that county.

Proposed changes in city budgeting were referred to the city finance director for study, and a parking ordinance revision was given to the city attorney for his opinion.

Police Arrest 3, Recover Loot

8-Man Ring Broken, Officers Say, With Breakins Solved

Arrest of three youths has led to smashing of an eight-man burglary ring operating here the past month and a half, Pontiac police said today.

As a result, over 40 breakins involving cleaning establishments, gas stations and small business have been cleared up and over $2,000 worth of loot recovered, Det. Sgt. John DePauw said.

Held under $1,000 bonds each are Rayford D. Bushbee, 17, of 351 Howard McNeil St.; Richard H. Russell, 18, of 36 Clovese St.; and Willie J. Shaw, 17, of 55 Lake St.

Another youth, implicated after questioning by Dets. James Bale and Raymond Meggitt, was turned over to Oakland County Sheriff's Department, DePauw said.

He is Michael Hardiman, 18, of 373 Howard McNeil St. The youths also named two other partners in the ring, neither of whom have been apprehended, DePauw said, and two juvenile boys who are held by juvenile authorities.

The three were picked up for investigation Friday when Dets. Richard Emery and Orvile Johnson spotted them loitering at a tavern entrance on Orchard Lake avenue and Lake street.

The detectives said they carried money gained from breakins of two gas stations earlier that night.

Russell waived examination before Pontiac Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum and was bound over for arraignment in Circuit Court Monday. Bushbee and Shaw will be examined before McCallum next Wednesday.

Runs Into Truck— Seven-Year-Old Bruised

Truck driver Raymond T. Forbush, of 53125 Van Dyke Ave., Utica, told Oakland County deputies the boy ran into the side of his vehicle while attempting to cross the road.

Terry said he was running to catch a bus and did not see the truck coming.

Old Campaigner Adds 1,000 Kisses to Costs

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — State treasurer Joseph B. Grant, Democrat re-elected to a second term, lists his campaign expenses as $735.46.

But, said Grant, he found these hazards of the campaign trail:

"Two thousand headaches—six weeks loss of sleep — loss of voice —one cold — six dust storms— kissing 1,000 babies and no adults —six hours tongue stuck due to sticking stamps on envelopes.

The driver told police he was passing another car when he saw the boy too late to avoid hitting him. Thomas said he was riding his bike on the shoulder of the road without lights when he was hit by the oncoming car.

The incident occurred on M59, ¼ mile east of Woodstock road, according to Waterford Township police. Frank W. Mulholland, 29, of 567 Richdale Ave., was the driver of the car.

Flint Holds Local Man in Alleged Car Theft

Harold Barnard, 19, of 205 Raeburn St., was held today in Flint for possession, Pontiac police said, of a 1956 car stolen here yesterday.

Barnard was arrested about 1 a.m. by State Police of the Flint post, they said. The car had been reported stolen from Ruby Elliott, of 49 Putnam street between 8 p.m. and midnight.

The woman said the car had been parked on Auburn avenue near S. Parke street, police added.

New Treatment for Sniffles--Dehydrate

WASHINGTON (AP)—A "dehydration" method of treating the common cold—described as "a complete reversal of the standard procedure of forcing fluids"—was reported today by a Mississippi doctor.

Dr. Guy T. Vise of Meridian said "good or excellent results" had been achieved in more than 90 per cent of patients treated over a five-year period.

The technique includes, among other things, wrapping the patient in a sheet and two or more blankets—so that even the face and head are covered.

This "hot sweat pack" is applied for two hours daily in conjunction with hot water bottles or an electric pad. All water is denied, and foods and fluids are limited to one cup of soup, fruit juice, vegetable juice, tea, coffee or fruit every three hours while the patient is awake.

MEDICATION GIVEN

Dr. Vise told the 50th anniversary meeting of the Southern Medical Assn. that a laxative and sometimes other drugs are also given as a further aid to removing water from the patient's body.

Antibiotics, aspirin, codeine and antihistamines also are employed in conjunction with the "dehydration" method.

The physician said the "standard" method of treating a common cold—that is, "forcing fluids" into the body—contributes to increasing the collection of fluids in, and congestion and obstruction of the upper respiratory passageways.

He said the "dehydration" method tends to relieve this condition, and to allow antibiotics and other drugs to promote rapid healing of infected areas.

Serves With 8 Sheriffs

Undersheriff Marks Twenty Years

A fellow who has worked on area crime under eight different sheriffs and seen some 70,000 to 100,000 prisoners go through the county jail began his second 20 years as member of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department this week.

Elmer L. "Mac" McQuern, 63 present Undersheriff, completed the first 20 Sunday looking fit despite his average 72-hour week as assistant to Sheriff Frank W. Irons.

He is giving no thoughts to retiring from the type of work he has ayways loved. "This present job is the busiest I have ever had but I like it and have no regrets. If I had it to do all over, I think I would do things the same way."

"Mac" actually has been aiding county police officials for much longer than 20 years since he served as a special deputy in Walled Lake for many years before joining the force full time in 1936. "I was the only police officer they had out there then and I handled everything from bootleggers to drunks," he recalled.

As deputy and later a detective, he worked on several well-known murder cases including the Kenneth Lund slaying of 1948. "Mac" also doubled as a juvenile officer keeping the youngsters in tow. He had had some experience along these lines when he was employed by the Walled Lake Schools as a truant officer for over three years.

A native of Indiana and a long-time resident of Ohio, the undersheriff came to Michigan in 1916. He worked as a motorman on a Northville to Detroit trolley run before taking on the combined jobs of handling an oil business and being a special deputy.

The veteran police officer was appointed to his present position by Irons in January, 1955.

He can look around him and see many improvements that have occurred over the years such as the installment of a safety program, the addition of a license bureau and radio cars, a much greater increase in personnel and equipment and others.

ELMER McQUERN

"We had about 14 men and all worked 12-hour shifts when I started and there was no day off," pointed out McQuern.

Reminiscing, he told how the officers used to drive their own cars and had to contact the office by telephone in the old days. "We often had to transport the injured to hospitals in our cars due to a lack of ambulances.

"We didn't have uniforms and only wore a badge and had exhaust whistles instead of sirens then," "Mac" added.

Although never shot at or threatened with a gun or knife, he said he had been involved in "many a good fight" over the years in the line of duty.

Jeering Pickets Storm U.S.-Soviet Friendship Rally in New York

Negro singer Paul Robeson and controversial Brooklyn rector William Howard Melish were special targets of the pickets.

About 200 demonstrators, most of them Hungarians and Hungarian-Americans, banded together outside the Pythian Temple, where the rally was held.

They shouted "Freedom for Hungary!" and "America will never be friends with murderers!" as hundreds of persons entered the building.

More than 250 patrolmen, mounted police and detectives kept the placard-waving demonstrators in check.

Policemen flanked Robeson when he arrived. A bottle of ammonia was flung toward him but splattered harmlessly on the pavement close by.

Robeson, who sang and made a speech at the rally, was booed as he left.

The rally was called to mark the 39th anniversary of the founding of the Soviet Union and the 23rd anniversary of the establishment of diplomatic relations between the United States and Russia.

LeBaron Displays Foreign Crafts

An international display of articles collected in Europe will greet parents of LeBaron School sixth graders when they visit classes during American Education Week this week.

Mrs. Eskil Carlson, teacher of the class, said the display is an outgrowth of a study of Europe by the class and contains many articles from two children in the class born in the Netherlands and France of children's parents who were born in other countries.

Heading the list of unusual articles, Mrs. Carlson said, are an Irish flute made of wood, a pair of Dutch skates and Scandinavian dictionary and religious books.

Sheriff Irons Launches Safety Program

Oakland County Sheriff Frank Irons has inaugurated a three-point safety program for the Sheriff's Department aimed at decreasing the mounting rise of deaths and injuries on county highways.

The major projects of the program are:

1—To establish a more effective means of regulating the heavy flow of traffic.

2—To develop an educational safety program to be presented to schools, PTA groups, fraternal and other organizations interested in helping safety.

3—To promote and encourage legislation which will provide for better and safer highways.

Deputy Stephen Navarre and other officers have already done considerable work around the area showing films and giving talks on safety.

This work will be considerably stepped up in 1957 with the formation of a Division of Safety in the department, according to Irons.

The Sheriff's safety unit will work in conjunction with the Oakland County Safety Council which is now still in the formation stages.

County deputies have been alternating daily patroling school areas to cut down on drivers passing school buses. Navarre has also been conducting instruction classes for school bus drivers in an effort to eliminate school bus accidents.

The Sheriff's Department is seeking the aid and cooperation of all motorists in helping develop a greater sense of road responsibility.

Urge Door Emphasis

ST. LOUIS — Since many houses are being built around flagstone patios and terraces, it is often difficult for a caller to locate the front door. Home decoration experts recommend painting the door a bright, eye-pleasing color to supply the needed emphasis to identify it.

Escaped Into Jail

Pay-As-You-Go for Education?

School Head Suggests New Installment Plan to Ease Lump Tax Bite

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (AP)—An installment plan for school taxation is proposed by the Soo's school superintendent. He says it would make paying for education "a pleasure and a privilege."

School superintendent Hugh H. Holloway said today his plan would permit local property taxation on a "pay-as-you-go" basis to "take the pain out of supporting schools."

The present system of tax collection for school purposes is to have the entire annual amount on the December tax bill.

"Such a system is outmoded and not the least in style," said Holloway, writing in the Sault public schools' "Weekly Bulletin."

He cited payroll deductions for income taxes, social security, hospitalization insurance and United Fund campaigns as "the painless way of pay as you go."

"Why must schools remain with an outmoded system of collection for one of the most important of all social needs—education?" Holloway said.

He said he planned to "push" local property taxation by conferring with the necessary officials.

No Charge, Really

ALBANY, Ore. (INS)—Mailing a letter was a shocking affair at one Albany mailbox. Postmaster Tom Palmer found that a short circuit in a traffic signal had sent an electric charge down the pole to which the metal box was fastened.

THE BLONDE DIED DANCING

by KELLEY ROOS

Chapter 17

The lights were on in our living room when I got home. As I went through the vestibule, I played "shave-and-a-haircut" on our bell. When I got to our landing, Steve was standing in the doorway. There was a look of warning on his face. He took me in his arms and gave me the least satisfactory kiss of our career.

"Bolling," he whispered. "Inside."

He stepped back from me and said loudly, heartily, "How's your cousin Marie?"

"Improving," I said. "The swelling's gone down."

We walked into our living room. Detective Lieutenant Bolling put a beer down on our coffee table, rose and greeted me. I was disappointed in the way he looked. He looked fine, not the least bit worried. Apparently this was a policeman without any pressing worries at all, including the capture of the Waltzer.

"The swelling's gone down?" he said to me.

"What? Oh, Cousin Marie. Yes, perceptibly. Thank you."

"Steve says she has anemia. I didn't know there was ever any swelling involved in anemia."

"You're quite right, there isn't. Cousin Marie got in a fight with her doctor and he belted her one in the eye."

"You're kidding," Bolling said.

"Yes, stop kidding, Connie," Steve said. "Bolling was in the neighborhood and he just dropped in."

"Thanks."

"Any news about the Waltzer?"

"He was seen tonight in a joint in the Village, the Feather Club."

"No!" I said. "Really?"

"Yeah. We got a description of him from a Crescent pupil who was there, name of Kipp, Wendell Kipp. The bartender saw him, too, and a waiter and a couple of other people."

"What was he doing, the Waltzer?"

"Annoying some blonde."

"Any blonde," I said, "who would frequent the Feather Club could hardly be annoyed." I had to ask the question and I did bravely. "What does the Waltzer look like?"

"Well, this Kipp didn't give much of a description. He didn't impress me as the type that ever noticed very accurately what a man looked like. Then he was still pretty upset by the slugging the Waltzer handed him. His description didn't tally very well with the other people's descriptions."

"What," I asked, "was his description?"

"He said he was a big man, powerfully built."

Steve smiled, rather proudly, pleased.

"Almost ape-like," Bolling said.

"Ape-like?" There was a trace of indignation in Steve's voice which, fortunately, Bolling missed. "You can't believe this Kipp. He's probably sore about the Waltzer knocking him down."

"Yeah. Well, Kipp said he had a low forehead and very long arms."

Steve's indignation was boiling into anger. I spoke quickly. "What did the other people say about him?"

"The bartender said he was an ordinary guy, dark, maybe six feet."

Steve was somewhat mollified.

"A waitress said he was good looking."

Steve was smiling again.

"Well, anyway," Bolling said, "the description doesn't help us much. But that doesn't bother me. When we round up the last of Anita Farrell's pupils, then I'll be able to name the Waltzer."

The telephone rang; Steve answered it. It was for Bolling.

The detective's back was toward me and his voice was muffled. It was too difficult to eavesdrop and I soon gave it up. But I did gather that the call was coming from Bolling's partner, Hankins, at the Crescent School of Dancing. There was some problem about who should take over somebody else's assignment.

When Bolling had got things straightened out, he turned back to us. "As I was saying, I'll be able to name the Waltzer when we round up the last of Miss Farrell's pupils."

"Yes," I said. "Of course you will, won't you?"

"Only one guy we haven't located yet. A Ralph Tolley."

Silently, I asked Heaven to be kind to Ralph Tolley; he was one of nature's noblemen.

Aloud I said, "But you'll find him soon, I'm sure."

"We're getting close. And when we get hold of this Tolley, then we'll know. We got every one of Anita Farrell's lessons accounted for except seven o'clock Wednesday. . . . the Waltzer's time. Now, like I told you before, if this Tolley is the Waltzer he won't say he was seven o'clock Wednesday. He'll pick some other time, for instance, Steve's time . . . three o'clock Saturday. Then if Tolley isn't the Waltzer, Steve is."

"Yes," I said. "I understand the system."

"Oh, we got the Waltzer all right. Practically, I mean. Well, I better get moving."

And Bolling was gone.

When I started to tell Steve about my trip to Kew Gardens, he interrupted me.

"Connie, didn't you hear Bolling on the phone?"

"Not all of it."

"He sent the cop on duty down at Anita's apartment to follow a lead they got on Ralph Tolley."

"Oh, Steve!"

"Yes, but don't waste time worrying about that. Don't you see what we can do now?"

"Of course!" I said. "The coast is clear."

We wasted no time; we set out immediately for Greenwich Village. With luck we might learn at last what it was about Anita Farrell's apartment that was so interesting to certain people connected with the Crescent School of Dancing.

Not only to Jack Walston and Dottie Harris. There was also the man with the bedroom eyes, Wendell Kipp.

In the glimmer of the four lamps that lighted Rhinebeck Place, we could see that the short street was deserted. Cautiously, we moved into number 11 and up its first flight of stairs. Anita's apartment was still temporarily without any police surveillance. Now our only problem was to get behind the locked doors of Apartment 2-B. Steve undertook to solve that single-handed.

"You stay here," he whispered. "I'll try to climb in through a window in the back. I'll open a door for you from the inside."

"That would be nice of you," I whispered back.

But almost the moment he was gone I changed my mind about his chivalry. It wasn't nice being alone in a gloomy corridor outside the apartment of a murdered young woman. I hoped none of her neighbors would find me lurking here.

I tiptoed quietly to the door of the front apartment. I listened for voices and was delighted to hear none.

Nevertheless, I stayed on tiptoes as I returned to the back of the hall. I was growing more nervous every minute of what already seemed hours.

I wondered what could be taking Steve so long. Even if he had had to go all the way around the block to get through a building into the backyard of number 11, he should have got here by now.

Soviet Union Equips Egypt With Many Arms

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

President Nasser announced in September 1955 that Egypt was receiving arms from the Communists.

Just how much has poured into Egypt since then remains a military secret, but it appears to have been considerable.

Last June Nasser put on a military display celebrating final British evacuation from Egypt. There were Ilyushin bombers, MIG jets, Stalin tanks, Soviet anti-tank guns and six-wheel troop carriers. Western arms were also displayed.

A British source said Sunday the Soviet Union put 420 million dollars worth of arms into Egypt before the British-French invasion. He listed 100 fighters, 300 tanks, 2 destroyers, 4 minesweepers, at least 1 submarine and some rocket launchers.

The Israelis have claimed seizure of 50 million dollars worth of Egyptian equipment in the Sinai campaign, much of it of Soviet or Communist satellite origin.

City's Voting Machines Saved $3,000 on Nov. 6

Voting machines are a complete success in Pontiac.

If any doubt previously had existed on that point, it was eliminated by a statement from City Clerk Ada R. Evans.

Mrs. Evans revealed that compared to the 1952 Presidential election, the cost of last Tuesday's voting with machines was nearly $3,000 less. In all 295 election workers spent an average of 16 hours each in handling the vote. Four years ago 329 workers averaged 24.5 hours counting paper ballots.

Besides lower expense, there was a noteworthy saving of time in reporting results. The first of the City's 44 precincts reported at 9:19 Tuesday night and the last came in at 12:56 a. m. Wednesday. In 1952 the first returns came in around midnight and the last precinct reported late the following day. Besides the time and money saved with the machines, their third great advantage is accuracy.

It will be remembered that the 80 voting machines were being given a year's trial on a rental basis with the rent to be applied on the purchase price of $1,355 each.

On the basis of results to date, the City Commission should have an easy decision when the time comes to determine whether the machines should be purchased. Two elections already have proved the paper ballot system too slow and expensive.

Paper ballots are a luxury we no longer can afford.

Many Who Didn't Vote Barred by States' Laws

Despite the record vote in last Tuesday's election, the fact remains that no more than 75 per cent of the Nation's citizens of voting age went to the polls.

But this doesn't mean that 25 per cent of those eligible to register and vote neglected those duties. Many millions of voting age were ineligible for various reasons.

One of these is the extreme mobility of our population. About one in every five families changes residence during the year. Most States require one year's residence for voting, (two years in four States, six months in 11). Almost half require residence in the county of at least 90 days (six months in 11 States). Almost one-third requires 60 days in the precinct.

Another reason, according to the Census Bureau, is that some 2,500,000 of voting age are not citizens. Also, only about one in every four Negroes of voting age was registered for the 1956 election in 11 Southern States. This is attributed partly to apathy, intimidation, discrimination and fear.

Most States bar from voting those persons in penal or mental institutions. Several bar those on relief. Others impose literacy tests of some kind. In most States the laws on absentee voting make it impracticable for persons unexpectedly ill or away from home on Election Day.

Many States disqualify from voting any person once convicted of a major crime. Thus, when last Tuesday's election totals showed 25 per cent of our eligibles didn't vote, that was not an accurate picture.

All of this, it seems to us, strongly suggests that in their concern over non-voters, the several States haven't given enough attention to the need for re-examination of their voting requirements. Nor does there seem to be sufficient recognition of the need for greater uniformity of election laws, especially with regard to residence requirements.

The Navy's New Ranger

The Navy's recently launched 60,000 ton super aircraft carrier U.S.S. Ranger is its eighth ship to bear that name.

The first Ranger was a small wooden frigate. It was chosen by Capt. John Paul Jones to be his flagship when he was promoted from Lieutenant to command of a squadron and was the first American warship to receive a salute from a foreign power.

This occurred in 1778 when the ship was in Quiberon Bay, France. That Ranger also is believed to be our first naval craft to fly the new American flag.

According to Admiral Arleigh A. Burke speaking at the launching ceremonies, the latest Ranger carries more destructive power than "all the Rangers of the past two centuries."

The Ranger which was launched in January, 1933, was the Navy's first ship built specifically as an aircraft carrier. Its displacement was 14,500 tons compared to the 60,000 of the new supercarrier.

The Man About Town

Still Going Strong

Colder Weather Does Not Stop Big Growth of 1956

Human race: What needs more horse sense and less nonsense.

Although our November weather is beginning to run in a seasonal channel, reports of 1956 double or otherwise extraordinary production in the Pontiac area continue to be received. With a little overnight cover up, many things still have escaped the frost.

Feasting on their fourth 1956 crop of lettuce from the same ground are

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Effinger

of Waterford, while the fifth 1956 cutting of alfalfa hay is being made by

on a Pontiac Township farm.

Both apple and pear blossoms on the same tree in November are reported by

of Lake Orion. A few years ago he grafted a pear branch on an apple tree, and both now bear good fruit, even attempting a second 1956 crop.

Frogs croaking in the autumn in the same tenor as they do in the spring are reported by of 2559 North Perry St. Pioneer frog watchers, like myself, never before have heard them in a fall chorus in that key.

are building their houses with walls much thicker than usual, which he avers means we are to have a hard winter.

A flowering quince in the yard of

at 10444 Elizabeth Lake Road that bloomed at the usual time last spring again is in full blossom.

Since the stalks were killed by the frost, the corn in the field of

of Clarkston, as further proof of this 1956 double production.

Irresistible Force and Immovable Object

David Lawrence Says:

Leaders 'Inherit' Chairmanships

WASHINGTON—How many of the people who voted last week to give the Democratic Party control of Congress knew that by so doing they were giving the chairmanship of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to a man 89 years old?

It happens that the prospective chairman—Democratic Sen. Theodore F. Green of Rhode Island—is healthy and vigorous and possesses as keen a mind as many a man 50 years his junior. But, under the "seniority" system, any senator irrespective of his age or ability would have to be chosen chairman.

For the "seniority system" means that the chairmen of committees in Congress are automatically chosen on the basis of their length of service in Congress irrespective of ability.

It's a system that President Wilson, Democrat, assailed back in 1913, but the pressure of both Republican and Democratic veterans in Congress at the time was too powerful for him.

BIGGEST DEFECT

But today the seniority system is still perhaps the most important single defect in Congressional government. For the committee chairman can sometimes withhold legislation from being acted on, or he can maneuver hearings and meetings in such a way as to carry out his objectives or those of a majority pressure group.

The alternative method is to let each of the parties in a conference of its own elect by secret ballot the chairman of a committee or the ranking member who is at times a sort of deputy chairman. A secret ballot would be essential to prevent reprisals or personal animosities from arising.

Discussion already has arisen, for example, with respect to two chairmanships in the Senate. Had the Republicans been given control by the people last week, there are two Republicans in the Senate now who announced beforehand to their constituencies that, if elected, they would not vote to elect Senator McCarthy to the chairmanship of the senate committee for permanent investigations—a position to which, by reason of length of service, he would be entitled.

Similarly, there are Democrats in the northern states who would naturally be pressured by their constituencies to vote against the selection of Senator Eastland of Mississippi, Democrat, who now is in line to become chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee. This is the committee which handles civil rights legislation and the confirmation of the nominations of federal judges.

Yet, while there are many Republicans and Democrats who would like to vote to select someone else for the chairmanships above mentioned, they would not do so because, if the seniority system were abandoned, they themselves would have nothing to which to look forward. A committee chairmanship often means considerable opportunity for publicity and prestige back home—and this is a big factor in a campaign for re-election.

Either Senator-elect Lausche of Ohio, or the new senator to be elected soon in Texas—if the issue is persuasively made in that campaign—can give control of the Senate to the Republicans, and bestow the chairmanship of the Forein Relations Committee on Senator Wiley of Wisconsin, a staunch supporter of President Eisenhower's foreign policies.

That's the only way now to avoid one of the handicaps of "divided government," as Senator Fulbright of Arkansas, Democrat, has so aptly described the result of last week's election of a Democratic Congress and a Republican president.

LI'L ONES

"Hello, Jackie. Okay, I can go to the movies with you after all."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Take Cod Liver Oil Daily for Chronic Joint Pains

As the Bulletin on Rheumatic Diseases (published by the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, May 11, '54) pointed out, "the quest for a foolproof drug that could be given to most if not all arthritics with the least possible side-effects is likely to be in vain.

It should now be recognized that treatment with the various drugs available today has not been shown to alter the natural course of the disease in a significant manner."

The manufacturers of expensive "miracle" medicines and the doctors subsidized to report that the new medicines give "great promise," are not going to like this acknowledgement of the inefficiency of the new medicines for "arthritis."

If I had insidiously developed joint disability, I'd want to use any remedy, medicine, treatment, diet, physical, or mental therapy that would give me comfort or relief without doing any harm.

EVEN RED FLANNEL

If red flannel underwear or a flannel bandage on the lame joint or joints added to my comfort, my physical comfort, I'd wear it regardless of climate, season, or weather.

But if or when I get the rheumatiz, I do hope I won't confuse mental with physical comfort. But who knows? Right now a lot of stiffs think it is absurd for a person of my age to roll somersaults every morning.. ('I call 'em somersaults —young Bill's physical education instructor tells him they are just forward rolls.)

Anyway, if you are intrigued, send stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for pamphlet on Somersaults.

Of course a cripple can't use this remedy, and anyway it is merely prophylactic, not curative. Why do you think I've been doing six rolls before breakfast every morning for 40 years?

POPULAR AIDS

One with insidious chronic joint disability by whatever name it may be called may get some comfort from any of the remedial measures other than drugs, such as rubbing alcohol; oil; liniment; massage; manipulation; plaster; splint; crutch; elastic bandage; baking; mud bath; mineral or salt water baths; avoiding "acid" foods or consuming gallons of citrus fruit juices; excluding "red" meat; carrying a horse chestnut; taking hot air, cabinet or sweat baths; drinking only distilled water; or wearing pieces of copper and zinc on the soles to "draw acid out of the system."

Among the popular remedies for insidious chronic joint disability just one deserves commendation, in my opinion, and that one is all but forgotten in the present scramble for a magic cure for "arthritis." The remedy is plain cod liver oil — a tablespoonful (half ounce) daily for a child, two tablespoonfuls (one ounce) daily for an adult, throughout the year, except perhaps for a few weeks in the period of extremely warm weather.

Long ago European fishwives (what am I saying? Of course, I mean wives of fishermen) learned that it kept their fishermen from getting laid up.

Some therapeutics authorities today still seem to think cod liver oil is a good remedy for "rheumatoid arthritis" at any rate.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Mrs. Bruce Brede Wants Change in Proposed Dump

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

As a resident of Waterford Township I would like to explain some of the reasons why I personally object to the site which the Township officials propose to use for a dump. It does not seem reasonable to put a dump in a highly developed residential area and in addition so close to our beautiful Waterford High School and just a stone's throw from the Town Hall.

I have seen the past township dumps and I would urge every Waterford resident to visit them and then decide if he would like such an eyesore and health hazard to be placed so near these public buildings and homes.

With several hundred small children in the immediate vicinity it may be impossible always to keep all the curious children away from the rusty rubbish, tin cans, broken glass and filthy debris of a dump. This would hardly contribute to the safety of these children. In addition to the foul odor and smoke, it would attract rats and insects which could do great harm in a school and residential area.

In a township with as many lakes, swamps, and low areas as Waterford Township, there must be a more suitable location in an outlying area for a dump. If, however, this is the best available site, as the Waterford officials seem to claim, then each Waterford resident should be alarmed, because a vacant lot in any residential area could be the next township rubbish dump.

English and French Fail to Unseat Enemy Nasser

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

The Anglo-French military adventure in Egypt is adjudged a failure because their old foe, Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser, still is in power.

The Laborite opposition in Britain probably will claim credit for the government's decision to withdraw its forces in favor of a U. N. police force.

But several factors were responsible for the decision to cease fire and eventually withdraw. A big one was the Soviet threat, including the possibility that Moscow will try to further the Anglo-French fight with Egyptians bolstered by "volunteers" from Russia.

The United States, main ally in the Western NATO coalition, also had denounced the Anglo-French action and so had the United Nations.

The Anglo-French stand in support of the military invasion is indicated in what Peter Thorneycroft, the conservative Board of Trade president, told Parliament.

ARMED TO THE TEETH

"Our intervention," he said, "disclosed that Egypt had been armed to the teeth by Russia. We intervened to stop a war. And we perhaps stopped it in the nick of time, before the Egyptian air force, organized by Russia, ran amok in the Middle East.

"If we stopped the war prematurely, we make no apology either to Russia or the opposition. We did it with a minimum of casualties."

In what was interpreted mainly for American ears, Thorneycroft said that Britain asked for only one thing "from our friends and neighbors in the world — for God's sake face the facts and realities."

Some French spokesmen have said that the Suez Canal no longer is under the sole control of Nasser and that it would be handed over to the U. N. international force.

But there is an uneasy feeling among both British and French, after the setback votes they suffered in the U. N., that the U. N. eventually will return the canal to exclusive Nasser control.

NASSER REMAINS

Moreover, the French had hoped to topple Nasser or at least destroy his prestige in the Arab world because of France's own troubles with Moslem nationalism in North African territories.

The feeling now is that although Nasser may have been defeated militarily he has been able to hide its extent from his own people and he can pose as a martyr to whose side much of the nation rallied.

In addition, it is argued that the Soviet government now is to be acclaimed by all the Arab states as the savior of peace and the friend of Islam.

What's happening in Hungary at the hands of the Soviet military? The Arabs do not seem to care much.

Accustom Child to Others Early

Notice how Roger avoids going to school. He even develops imaginary illness to get his fond mother to let him stay at home with her. So she should use the methods outlined below to raise the motivating charm of school. This process should begin years before the child is old enough for kindergarten. Don't wait till Labor Day.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case T-321: Roger W., aged eight, is a shy youngster.

"Dr. Crane, Roger doesn't like to go to school," his mother began. "He gets sick in the morning, chiefly to stall off the dreaded act of leaving home.

"Sometimes he cries pathetically and begs me to let him stay at home with me.

"What can I do to make him get over his fear of school?"

CHILD STRATEGY

First, you wives should set your goal at having your babies in pairs, spaced about two years apart.

Then they'd become more socialized in their play and thus less inclined to be tied to mamma's apron strings.

Roger is an "only" child. So he has monopolized 100 per cent of the adult attention in his home.

If he had received a baby brother or sister by the time he was a toddler, he'd have learned to exist on but 50 per cent of the adult attention.

The shock of going to school where a child in a class of 25 pupils gets but 4 per cent of his teacher's attention, is obviously greater if he receives 100 per cent at home.

On the other hand, if he has received but 50 per cent at home, the gap is not as great when he drops from that 50 per cent down to 4 per cent.

And children of larger families get used to even less. With our five Crane children, the average has been only 20 per cent at home, so their drop was only from 20 per cent to 4 per cent when they entered kindergarten.

OLDEST, ONLY CHILDREN

The firstborn tends to be more shy than the second, as witness the Prodigal Son and his shy older brother.

So parents should anticipate the big day when their firstborn enters kindergarten.

Get them accustomed to other children long in advance by seeing that he is in a Sunday school every week.

If possible, send him to a nursery school from Monday through Friday, for the sooner he gets used to playing with his own age group, the less homesickness he will feel when he enters kindergarten.

Many 18-year-olds are still so tied to mamma's apron strings and the familiar family surroundings that they actually get sick when they go to college.

Thousands of university students thus drop out before Christmas just because they can't stand the gaff. They are emotionally toddlers, although grown men and women in I.Q. and physical stature.

COMBAT NOSTALGIA

When a child wants to stay at home, it simply means home is more pleasant to him than school.

So, mothers, your job is to raise the attractiveness of the school situation until it competes more nearly with the enticements of home. But how?

Well, long before kindergarten age, keep placing prestige on the gala day when he will be a "big boy" and able to go to school. Teach him that school is a sign of adulthood. Make it a desired and positive goal.

Meanwhile, help get your child acquainted with neighboring kids of his age. Hold parties on any flimsy excuse to get him incorporated in the play group of your area.

Then he will have pals with whom to walk to school so he will then not feel as lonely.

And if he doesn't want you to accompany him, fine. That means he is more self-reliant, so be grateful, instead of heartbroken at his "jilting" you mothers.

If he plays sick, let him stay at home but give him a dose of castor oil and put him to bed. Mrs. Crane used that a couple of times on some of our youngsters, and they never were sick again when it was time to go to school!

But the more positive method is to add greater motivation to school itself.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Agriculture Situation Predicted by Aiken

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Aiken (R-Vt) said today, "We have sufficient laws on the books now to guarantee a prosperous agriculture."

Predicting there would be no major farm bill in the 1957 congressional session, Aiken told a reporter, "It's now up to the administration of the laws— and I say that even though I'm a Republican."

MOVING DAY — This two-story home slowed traffic awhile in downtown Pontiac yesterday but it finally reached its destination of 227 Rapid St. Moved by the Clayton Francher Co. of Royal Oak from 108 Williams St., the slow process took about four hours. City police patrolled the route while members of the city's electrical department lifted wires over the building. This traffic light at West Huron and Cass had to be swung out of the way. The roof of the house had to be removed because of the number of trees on Williams street.

Heir to Throne May Start School

LONDON (AP) — Prince Charles was 8 today — and there was a renewal of discussion about his bringing-up.

One London newspaper, the Daily Express, said he will soon be enrolled in a private day school in the chic Knightsbridge district near Buckingham Palace.

If the heir to the British throne enters school, it will mean that the Duke of Edinburgh has prevailed over his wife Queen Elizabeth II. He is said to feel that the prince should go to a preparatory school and then enroll at Eton while the Queen apparently has favored private tutoring.

Reported the Daily Express "The Queen has now compromised on morning and afternoon classes two days a week at the private school."

Charles' engagement book was so full of things to do today that his birthday party was held a day early. His 6-year-old sister Princess Anne and about 10 young friends joined him at a tea party, complete with cake with eight candles.

Burns Has Resigned

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Arthur F. Burns is leaving Dec. 1 his post as chairman of President Eisenhower's Council of Economic Advisers. Burns cited "personal factors" in a letter of resignation made public by the White House, which said Dr. Raymond J. Saulnier, now one of the council's three members, will be designated chairman.

Christmas Seals Ready for 90,000 County Families

Letters selling Christmas seals will go to 90,000 families in Oakland County, A. R. Mussen, executive secretary of the Oakland County Tuberculosis Assn. announced today.

The sale of seals this year, which begins next week, Mussen says, is the 50th anniversary of the drive for funds to fight tuberculosis.

Funds collected through this Christmas seal sale, pay for such things as the local cost of the X-ray units which have toured and are touring Oakland County areas giving free X-rays; an extensive education program for adults and school children and general health education materials, Mussen said.

"In the past," Mussen said, "the tuberculosis funds have paid for a rehabilitation program for TB patients. We are planning to re-establish this procedure on an outpatient level, where we would aid people not in the tuberculosis sanatorium.

SANATORIUM CROWDED

"An interesting thing about our local sanatorium," Mussen continued, is that it is full right now and there is a waiting list. Many things account for this capacity of patients.

"There is no increase in TB per hundred thousand residents in the county. The rise in population and more consciousness brought about by the X-ray surveys are reasons."

Cabinet Member Fired in Hawaii

By JOSEPH GRANT

HONOLULU (AP) — Gov. Samuel King ousted the most important member of his Cabinet, his attorney general, only a few weeks before a congressional committee is to arrive for Communist hearings in Hawaii.

Edward N. Sylva, appointed by the Republican governor March 4, 1953, was fired yesterday for attending a testimonial dinner Saturday night in honor of Jack W. Hall, regional director of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union.

Clothes Dryer Burns— So Does Housewife

GAYLORD, Mich. (AP)—"Where's the fire?" asked Mrs. Ray Hunt as she stood on the street corner watching the village firemen answer the emergency siren.

"At your house," said one of the volunteer fire fighters as he swung onto the fire truck.

Boy Picks Up Whispers

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Stricken by polio last summer, 15-year-old William Parent has become the city's first student to attend school by telephone. Describing the two-way hookup with Kalamazoo Central High, William said, "I can hear every word the teacher says, all the comments by the students and I even pick up a few whispers from the back of the room now and then."

Daily Train Stops

ADRIAN (AP)—Monday, Nov. 19, has been set for the last passenger service between Toledo and Elkhart, Ind., for the New York Central Railroad. The Michigan Public Service Commission last summer granted permission for discontinuance of the railroad's daily passenger train between the two cities.

Area of the East Indies is three times that of Texas.

Kilowatts Hit Record

JACKSON (AP)—A record load of 1,495,000 kilowatts was set Monday on the Consumers Power Co. Network, exceeding by 2½ per cent kilowatts hit last Dec. 19. The company said the figures "reflect strong industrial activity in outstate Michigan." Consumers services 61 outstate counties.

Hal Boyle Says:

Retirement Should Bring Contented Years

NEW YORK (AP) — Curbstone comments of a pavement Plato:

Twenty years ago a middle-aged man had the hope that if he could just keep his ulcer quiet until he was 65 he could retire and live happily ever after.

Today the idea seems to be spreading around that it is work that keeps a fellow young, and retirement that causes him ulcers.

Ever since man first climbed down out of the trees he has dreamed of a day when he could gnaw a twilight bone in peace without having to do battle with a saber-toothed tiger.

He finally has the answer—the old age pension. But many today seem to view retirement as a life-shortening curse instead of a blessing. All they mention about a pension is the tension it supposedly brings—the unhappy lost feeling of uselessness when there is no longer any duty to walk the treadmill of the daily job.

It has taken two centuries of argument, strikes, occasional head-thumpings and the growth of social responsibility to win pensions in our machine age. Yet now some corporations are denounced as "heartless" because they do retire their employes at 65.

You get a mental picture of thousands upon thousands of faithful old employes dying of heartbreak because they no longer have the joyous privilege of keeping their noses to the grindstone until they keel over dead.

Somehow this picture doesn't square with the facts of the situation as I run across them.

The theory of retirement is like the practice of sex. It may be subject to certain justified criticisms, but nothing will ever make it downright unpopular with the masses.

Quitting at 65 a job held for many years is a sad blow to many men, and it is a major readjustment in living for any man. But the biggest holler made by most codgers on "R" for retirement day isn't made because they yearn to go on endlessly laboring. Their real squawk, often justified, is, "My pension check isn't big enough for me to live the way I want to."

Most men in any period of history have been willing—if they could do so without starving—to quit paddling their own canoe at 65 and float quietly along for the rest of their journey, enjoying the view.

Most men still are. A man who doesn't have enough imagination or memories to live gracefully in retirement probably isn't much of a fireball at his job either, and you can't blame an employer for wanting to turn him out to pasture and replacing him with a younger man.

Only a dull or basically selfish man is bored to actual death by retirement. If he's still an eager beaver at 65, being pensioned at 65 won't kill him. There are a thousand ways in which he can still make himself useful to the community and to himself. No man with an outgiving heart or hand has any reason to feel useless in this world, unless his real desire is to indulge in self-pity.

Most of the men I know who retired—including a couple who practically cried with regret at the time—have found a new way of life and a greater freedom from worry.

One wrote me recently:

"The first few weeks I thought I'd go crazy. Now I'm happier than I've ever been. It's true I don't have as big a paycheck, but when you quit trying to outdo the Joneses you don't need as much.

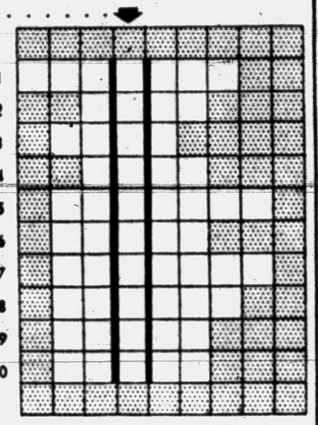

"I even find myself agreeing with my wife more. The other day she told me, 'you were crazy not to retire five years sooner.' She couldn't have been righter. Take a tip from me, quit while you're ahead—while you're alive."

Not One in 280 College Boys Sells Magazines

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—That magazine salesman working his way through college appears to be a thing of the past, Indiana University indicated today.

I. U. asked 280 freshmen what jobs they had held and not a one of them said he sold magazines.

Working in retail stores was the most popular way of finding tuition money with 65 of them reporting that activity. Dishwashing and waiting tables attracted 28.

Only one student admitted baby-sitting. Also included were a chemist, an organist and a reader for the blind.

One freshman was a minister. And another prepared for higher education by tending bar.

Turn turkey into a next-day wonder

Turkey Salad Tropical—Really new way to two-time the holiday bird. Now turkey salad arrives spiced with pineapple and served piping hot! The trick? A double boiler to pre-heat meat and pineapple chunks before folding in the mayonnaise. Then heap into a bowl garnished with greens. Tangy salad and the great taste of Coca-Cola—this meal makes for compliments!

Turkey 'Burgers—Such a good-time way to serve left-overs. Broiled turkey 'burgers, sitting on a slice of cranberry jelly right inside a 'burger bun! Make 'em as you would a meat-loaf—with beaten egg, breadcrumbs, seasoning. Then shape into generous patties. Know how the zest of Coke peps up a hamburger? Well, just wait 'till you try that great taste with turkey!

Tomato-Turkey Pie—Creamed turkey yes—but what a difference in looks and flavor! It's the tomato-gay pie-shell that does it . . . and the great taste of Coke that goes along with it. Prepare ½ package pie mix, add 2 tablespoons undiluted tomato soup. Bake, then ladle in creamed turkey. This dish is holiday-bright, just right with ice-cold Coca-Cola!

Femininity Stars in Sportwear

By JUDITH L. CLEMENCE
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

LOS ANGELES — Yesterday we promised you exciting news from the makers of California sportswear. The story is exciting in both design and fabric.

Sportswear never looked so feminine—you know the trend—"My Fair Lady" everywhere. A compromise has been made between the mannish-type of a few years past, and the overdone and frilly fashions which hounded fashion-conscious women.

Femininity and wearability are woven into California labels with a clean, uncluttered look. There's color, to be sure, for California is the land of color, but designers keep simplicity of line.

Mrs. Clemence

Here you're dealing with high fashion on a completely popular price level.

Several of the separates, for which Junior Miss is famous, are made of Spinaway, a combination of cotton, silk and viscose. Although washable, it has the elegant silken look.

A cotton knit hooded blouse, ankle-length cotton or canvas knit pants and a tunic-length coat topped off with "goony" figures complete the grouping. They're sure to win favor with resorters and beach-happy gals.

Another famous sportswear firm out here is Ardee. Two traveling salesmen worked up this partnership and recently acquired Jane Ford, daughter-in-law of motion picture director John Ford, as chief designer of playclothes.

A NEW COLOR

California Sand is the new color used repeatedly in this collection. It's a little lighter and somewhat softer than beige—in fact it looks just like California sand.

In our part of the country we have motoramas, travelamas and coloramas. We attach "amas" to about everything, but out here they have smog.

They can't do much about it, so they capitalize on it and toss it in as an added color and fabric. Manufacturers call it natural, but it looks like sand beige to us.

Ardee dresses up denim like you've never seen it before. We never expected to see rhinestones on denim, but they're here.

Koret of California makes more and more use of knits in resort and cruise wear, and the San Francisco designer has come up with a new length for shorts—approximately 2 inches shorter than Bermudas.

SOFTER LINE

Ivan-Fredericks predicted a softer line for his famous shirtwaist collection and has carried it out so that you will feel very dressed up.

Emerging from its masculine stereotype, the shirtwaist might have embroidery, buttons and railroad stitching for back interest. One poplin shirtwaist has a front yoke with hand-painted rosebuds softening the severity.

Alex Colman's coverall, designed to wear over your bathing suit when returning to the clubhouse, is an eye catcher in white terrycloth, quilted with gold lurex.

Sir James introduces a new fabric for his collection. It is broadcloth made of pima cotton and silk for use in blouses, separates and dresses. Color runs the gamut and holiday dresses have the luxurious look in brocade, lace and ribbed wool.

Tabakand Zolot are manufacturers who use the best blends of fabrics, choose the finest colors and are dependable for good design in sportwear.

YOUR OWN TENT

A portable cabana (or overseas dressing room) is what Phil Rose calls a blouson which reaches below the knees so that you can change your wet swimsuit under it. So take your tent and be in high fashion.

First to take the prosaic stole and convert it into a jeweled masterpiece was Lee Herman. Now, she has turned her talent to sweaters.

Rhinestones and embroidery, the new aurora borealis stones and baroque pearls adorn many bulky knits. The same stones and elegant embroidery are used on cashmere sweaters.

Capes in all styles had the same dramatic detailing, and for a modest price, women can look to these to glamorize them instead of that mink.

Tomorrow we'll sit through showings of California dresses for spring and summer.

This three-piece rustic silk suit, with a slim Dutch skirt, has a sailor collar edged in striped rib-knit trim. Colors are white and jade green; white and Scarlet Pimpernel; white and cornflower blue, and navy with red and white trim.

For the romanticist, a floral masque print in everglaze cotton is just the thing. A bit of moonbeam beauty also is in the bateau neckline and the matte jersey cummerbund. The full, swishy skirt is Pellon lined.

A picture of styles to come is offered by California designer Lee Herman in this three-quarter sleeve, bulky knit sweater called "Adam's Rib." It is outlined with imported heavy Venice lace over pastel organdy, jeweled delicately with the new Aurora Borealis stones and pearls.

A circle full of stripes makes the skirt of this breezy duo, fashioned in a cool California manner by Junior Miss. The skirt, surrounding the waist with unpressed pleats, is separated from its matching blouse by stripes which take another direction in a self-fabric belt.

Here's another shining example of a typically Tabak sheath. The fabric is ribbon knit, fully taffeta lined. Whether you're under the stars or under the sun, the delicate colors of pink ice, sky blue, sage green or lemon drop cast a beautiful spell.

A striped Oxford shirting changes its accent with the addition of the contrasting cording that rushes up the sleeve and over the back to form a sharply accented shirred backyoke. Pocket trim and buttons make the transition complete for any Fair Lady.

Mamie Observes 60th Birthday With Family

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mamie Eisenhower turned 60 today and a family dinner was planned at the White House to celebrate the occasion.

Otherwise, the First Lady's birthday shaped up as a quiet one, although she had a date to pose for pictures with representatives of the National Citizens for Eisenhower-Nixon.

The citizens group arranged to present Mrs. Eisenhower with a life-size portrait of herself in the pink Inaugural Ball gown she wore in 1952.

Maj. John Eisenhower, the only son of the President and the First Lady, was expected to attend the birthday dinner, along with his wife Barbara and their four children.

Children's Party Planned

Plans for the annual children's Christmas party were discussed Monday afternoon when members of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Auxiliary gathered in the nurses' home for their November meeting.

Mrs. E. F. Glasgow, who has assumed the chairmanship of the party for several years, will again take charge of this year's party to be held Dec. 14. Mrs. Peter Davidson will assist with arrangements.

A final report on the auxiliary's "Denim Dance" was presented by Mrs. James G. Goudie and Mrs. John A. Reid.

Tentative plans were made for a money-making project to be held in the spring and for the Membership Tea.

Mrs. Walter Williams, auxiliary president, asked for volunteers from the group to help in the United Fund drive and with the hospital's expansion program.

A Touch of Rouge Adds Highlights

Almost any woman looks better for a touch of rouge, used sparingly and placed high on the cheekbones.

Very few women have sufficiently rosy coloring to enable them to do without rouge entirely. Lipstick and powder are the essentials; rouge adds the necessary sparkle.

BPW Club Supporting Airline Plan

Twenty-three members were present for the Tuesday evening dinner meeting of Pontiac Business and Professional Women's Club held at Hotel Waldron.

Support of the proposal to obtain airline service at the Pontiac Municipal Airport was approved by the group.

Jane Danton and Eva Dyer reported on the second annual Pontiac White House Conference on Education held Monday evening. Problems of the Pontiac schools were discussed at the conference.

In response to a request from the Pontiac City Federation of Women's Clubs, the group voted its approval of the "Meet Your Neighbor" money-making project sponsored by the federation.

Letters were read from Dr. Bertha Oxenius of Hawaii, a former member of the Pontiac club, and from Mrs. Melvin McPherson, former president of the Pontiac BPW, now residing in Grand Rapids.

Hostesses for the evening meeting were Mrs. Charles Barrett, Mrs. Carl Genske, Anny Koellner, Mrs. Ella Sheffield, Rosamond Haeberle and Mrs. William McRath.

Auxiliary Arranges Dec. 11 Yule Party

Plans were completed for the cooperative dinner and Christmas party to be held by the Auxiliary to Metropolitan Club Spirit Six when the group met recently in the American Legion Home.

The next meeting of the group will be held Nov. 20 at the American Legion Home.

Bridge Club Plays

Mercy League of County Sponsors Dinner Tonight

About 200 are expected at tonight's dinner party of the Mercy League of Oakland County, which is seeking funds for the league's child welfare fund. The dinner is set for 7:30 at Orchard Lake Country Club.

Chairman is Mrs. Carson C. Bingham of Birmingham, and her aides are Mrs. Harry B. Stillman and Mrs. Charles E. Baer, also of Birmingham.

Among those expected to attend are directors of the Catholic Family Center in Pontiac, with whom the league members work in transporting infants to and from the agency, foster homes and hospitals, and in arranging interviews for adoptive parents.

In the directors' group expected are Mr. and Mrs. Stephan J. Cloonan, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Dean, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dunlay, Dr. and Mrs. Zachary Endres Betty Gaukler, Dr. and Mrs. Theodore Pauli and Dr. and Mrs. William Shook.

Guest speaker for the event will be the Most Rev. Charles Leo Nelligan, bishop of Windsor, Ont., who was a chief chaplain in Canada during the war.

Previous to the dinner, cocktail parties are planned for small groups by the Binghams, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hymann and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Bolton, at their Birmingham homes, and Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Richards at their Franklin road home in Bloomfield Township.

Shopkeeper Requires Sixth Sense

By ANNE HEYWOOD

There are many rules for running a successful shop. You must have enough capital, the right location, good purchasing skills, a knowledge of merchandise, advertising and accounting.

More than all this, it seems to me, successful shopkeepers also have a sixth sense about customers.

It's a kind of empathy, an understanding of how the customer feels, why he wants what he wants.

Whenever people ask my advice about opening a shop, I try my level best to determine whether or not they have this quality. I consider it the most important one of all.

Take, for example, Mr. and Mrs. N., a couple in their early 60s, who have a flourishing paint shop.

MATCHING SAMPLES

Their specialty is making colors to match any sample in the world. Customers include not only homeowners and do-it-yourself fans but professional painters, decorators and architects.

Mrs. N. does the actual mixing of paints, while Mr. N. does the managing, customer contact, purchasing and accounting.

It all began because I was such a fusspot," Mrs. N. told me. "Or at least, my husband thought so.

"His work took us all over the country, so we were constantly moving to new apartments or houses. I always knew just what I wanted—"

"She sure did!" Mr. N. grinned. "She was death on painters. She would stand over them and make them mix another batch and try another sample on the walls.

"One day I came home and she was in tears because the stair rail was the wrong shade of black. Shade of black!"

"There are many shades of black!" Mrs. N. said firmly. "Anyway, in desperation I finally began to learn something about paint myself. I began mixing and experimenting, and I must say I did a lot better than any painter I ever knew.

"I have a good sense of color, and endless patience. Most of all, I think people should have the exact shade they want. I don't think they're being unreasonable or 'fusspots.' "

"So," her husband went on, "when I decided to retire, we had always dreamed of a little business of our own. It seemed logical to go into the paint business.

"Our town didn't have a really good paint shop. I knew ours would be one. After all, no matter how persnickety a customer got, my wife would be on his side all the way, would see that he got what he wanted!"

Yes, behind most successful shops is a real sympathy for the customer!

Jack Horner Host to Senior League

Jack Horner was host to members of the Senior League, a junior group of the Pontiac Tuesday Musicale, at his home in Keego Harbor on Sunday.

A brief outline of the club's program for the balance of the year was presented by Lynn Benter, program chairman.

Piano solos were given by Carol Young, Mona Richie and Marilynn Keasey. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Gloria Faye McClintock and Hugh R. Beeman were married Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. K. R. McClintock of Kettering street are Gloria's parents. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Beeman of Lonaconing, Md.

MR. and MRS. HUGH R. BEEMAN

Gloria Faye McClintock Speaks Marriage Vows

First Assembly of God Church was the setting Saturday evening for the marriage of Gloria Faye McClintock and Hugh R. Beeman. The 7 o'clock ceremony was performed by the Rev. Wesley Wibley.

Gloria, of South Astor street, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. R. McClintock of Kettering street. Hugh, of South Anderson street, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Beeman of Lonaconing, Md.

A gown of lace and tulle over satin was worn by the bride. The fitted bodice featured a high neckline and long sleeves tapering to points over the wrists. Her only jewelry was a necklace, a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Donald Crawford was matron of honor. She wore a blue ballerina-length dress with three-quarter-length sleeves. Her flowers were a cascade arrangement of butterscotch chrysanthemums.

GOWNED ALIKE

Bridesmaids were Dixie Rollison and Aletha Lane, who were gowned like the matron of honor. They carried bouquets of yellow carnations in a cascade arrangement.

For the reception held in the parlors at the YWCA, Mrs. McClintock wore a beige dress with matching accessories. Mrs. Beeman wore a blue dress with matching accessories.

Following their honeymoon in northern Michigan, the couple will reside on Homestead drive.

Standish Group Meets Friday With Mrs. Losee

Mrs. Charles Andrews was elected to serve as president of the Standish group of first Congregational Church at the Friday luncheon-meeting. Mrs. Howard H. Losee of North Perry street opened her home to the group.

Others serving with Mrs. Andrews will be Mrs. Harry Manus, vice president; Mrs. E. C. Durphy, recording secretary; Mrs. Frank Dohner, treasurer and Mrs. August Shier, corresponding secretary.

Devotions were given by Mrs. R. S. Falk on the theme, "Thanksgiving" and annual reports were heard. Mrs. Elwood Bigler, president of the Women's Fellowship, was a guest.

Plans were made for the Nov. 30 Christmas bazaar being held at the church.

Coming Events

Frances C. Butterfield Tent 9, Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War will hold a potluck supper Thursday at 6:30 p.m., 138 W. Pike St. Social eve to follow.

Michigan Temple Youth Will Convene in Pontiac

200 to Attend the Fall Conclave Here From Friday Through Sunday

Two hundred members of Michigan State Temple Youth will arrive in Pontiac on Friday for the fall conclave of the organization being held Friday through Sunday.

Temple Beth Jacob Youth Group, with Rhoda Goldberg, president, serving as general chairman, will be host for the conclave. All sessions will be held at Temple Beth Jacob, with the guests staying in homes of members of the congregation.

Theme of the conclave, "Social Justice," will be studied in workshops conducted by rabbis from throughout the state.

Among the workshop subjects are housing, schools, families, minority groups, religious liberties, economic system, immigration laws and world relations.

Committees that those attending will serve on include religious, project, newspaper, chair and social.

Dorothy Katchka, Joel Thome and Marilyn Ketchel, members of the decorations committee, are using Chief Pontiac as the decorative theme.

Following registration and dinner on Friday evening, Ronald Bassey, president of Michigan State Temple Youth, will deliver the sermon at a service written and conducted by the young people.

A cantata by Temple Beth Jacob Youth, "What Is Torah?" will conclude the Friday program.

On Saturday evening a skit, "Fanny Get Your Fun," will be presented at the close of Havdalah services. A house party at Rotunda Inn will climax a dance being held at the temple from 9 p.m. to midnight.

The conclave will conclude with a brunch on Sunday followed by an evalution meeting.

America's Leading Gals to Get Own 'Who's Who'

New Reference Book Will Be Devoted Exclusively to Feminine Notables

A "Who's Who" for women only will be published in 1958 by the same people who put out the regular "Who's Who."

"Our last edition of 'Who's Who in America' produced four times as many new listings for women than we've had in the past 50 years," publisher Wheeler Sammons Jr. explained today.

"So, we're going to put out a distaff volume — a 'Who's Who of American Women.' "

AGE OPTIONAL

"No woman will have to give her real age," he grinned. "We're making the date of birth an optional question.

* * *

"However, I don't think women will object to give us such information. Plenty of men refuse to give their birth dates, too."

Otherwise, qualifications for making the women's "Who's Who" will be pretty much the same as for men. This requires a person listed to be "of national interest because of outstanding achievement in some reputable field or because of high official position."

The only change is that women will have to qualify as "outstanding as women."

Sammons expects to have 50,000 names to choose from on recommendations from women's organizations and individuals. The final $25 volume will include 15,000 to 20,000 names, selected by a committee of three women and two men and in cooperation with Radcliffe College.

NOT FOR HOUSEWIVES

Sammons, who will be one of the two final male judges of a "Who's Who" rating, admits that housewives probably won't make a listing unless they're nationally known as clubwomen or political leaders.

"My own wife won't make it," he explained. "The gal who stays home and just raises children frankly doesn't stand a chance.

"Neither does the man who has a good job and takes good care of his family make 'Who's Who.' It's got to be a person who is of national interest and who has a lasting reputation."

Ava Gardner Plays Dangerous Game With Romance

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE
International News Service

None of her friends ever talks much about Ava Gardner, the woman millions of men swear by—and a select few have sworn at.

Her ex-husbands have been unfailingly her protectors in the fact of gossip or criticism, and though her friends admit that she is "emotionally mixed up" at times, they consistently are either tight-lipped or complimentary.

When the beauteous Ava was seeing tall, torrid Mario Cabre in Spain during her courtship with Frank Sinatra, the crooner refused to express shock or despair.

Back in the States, where he was stewing out a divorce so he could marry Ava, he said only: "She's terrific."

When Ava finally pulled herself away from Mario to marry Frankie, the Spanish bullfighter would not berate her. Instead he wrote tortured verse . . .

"In my breast you will still remain

"With a throbbing that recalls you . . ."

MIXED-UP LIFE

Miss Gardner, now nearly 35, has had a fast moving, mixed-up life, constantly circled with men and frequently darkened by drawing room whispers.

Miss Gardner has admitted she's neurotic. But her attitude was: Isn't everybody? Few women are as frank, blunt, and easy to swear with and love—say the men she knows—as Ava.

Now, as she roves around Europe between marriage and divorce, the beautiful screen star certainly is being a party girl with intensity and the intent to live life to the hilt.

Scandal no longer hurts her, she says, and yet she refuses to see most newspapermen. Asked if she is antagonistic toward them, she answered "It all depends on their discretion and behavior."

Apparently trusting neither, she refuses to admit them to her plush estate outside Madrid (a few reporters have been physically ejected from her doorstep) or to see them in the capitals of Europe where she has been traveling during the filming of her latest movie, "The Little Hut."

A PARTY KICK

By contrast to a recent quiet sojourn in London, Ava last January was on a party kick in the British capital and held one shindig which lasted until 7 a.m.

At the parties, she had a habit of pinning her hair atop her head, tossing off her shoes, and dancing tempestuously—illustrating to whoever would watch (and whoever wouldn't?)—the Flamenco dances from Spain.

After parties, she'd drive to the Covent Garden flower and vegetable market at 5 or 6 a.m., the only place in London where bars are open at that hour, and, livening up the local trade no end, would kick off her sandals again, pull her white fur coat off, and dance daintily along the sidewalks.

Stuffy Londoners were both alarmed and amused by Miss Gardner's sense of drama. Especially the night when she strode onto a thick glass-plate nightclub floor, lit from below by multi-colored lights, and danced a flamenco for half an hour.

Her latest behavior is in direct contrast to the days when she first came to Hollywood from North Carolina and sometimes went for six weeks without a date, because "if you even show up at a drive-in with a boy, right away the columnists say you are going to be married."

DOESN'T CARE

Today, Ava Gardner doesn't appear to care what the columnists say — just so she doesn't have to talk to them personally; she has the greatest waiting list of "boys" she seems to be laughing at them to date in her personal history; and all.

Or, perhaps, she's laughing at herself.

Ava is considered by the average man with an eye for beauty to be the most irresistible female on the screen. She appears to look upon many men the same way.

Never particularly interested in a career, she has always said: "Acting bores me. This movie thing is not the end. I have no need for money. This isn't what I really want.

"I like the simple life."

Her life in Europe is far from simple, but it is dictated by Ava and Ava alone. Her credo is "do what you want to do, whenever you feel like doing it, with whoever appeals to you most."

The philosophy has gotten her involved with many males, mostly romantic Spanish types, who are allowed to take control of Miss Gardner's life—but only for their moment in the moonlight.

She has raced from one fancy to the next and, so far at least, has managed to stay at least one jump away from explosion.

"But it can go on just so long," predicts one observer, "and something's bound to break. The bullfight is a thrilling, dangerous game. No more so than Ava's. . ."

(Next: What makes Ava flit from romance to romance?)

Champagne Goes to Head in Latest Color Scheme

This was a bedroom done in tan and beige with a champagne-colored coverlet against a pale tan rug, tan drapes, tan lampshades and base, with even a beige statuette on the dresser.

The pale tones suit a living room just as well, and another display offered a combination living room, dining room and library accented by a beige wool rug, tan sofa and chairs in a checkerboard design and a tan lamp.

Only color in the room emanated from the books in a floor-to-ceiling bookcase and a decorative painting of a pair of brown and white horses in a reddish antique frame.

Champagne is not only being consumed in the kitchen, it is being used there as a color as well. It goes handsomely with white porcelain and gives an elegant effect that is often lacking in the vari-colored walls usually found in kitchens.

A beige color scheme may also be accented (in living or dining room) by a black decoration such as a pair of black lamps or a black china peacock.

Hunters, Yellow Togs Are Much Better Than Red

With California fashions taking the spotlight on the women's pages across the country, there's one field that should interest the men in the family more than just "pocketbook-wise," and that's deer hunting season.

And the word is that hunting requires a certain wardrobe. Many avid hunters have already left for the northwoods and have their hunting wardrobe all set. For those who will leave this weekend, here are some clothes tips from a sports editor of a metropolitan newspaper.

If you think red offers the best protection to the hunter in the woods, or that the deer is color-blind to this bright hue, you can learn much from Ray Trullinger, one of the country's top rod and gun editors.

"A smart old buck can see red as far as you can see the moon," says Trullinger. "And there's nothing smarter than a smart deer, especially when rifles begin to crack at this time of year."

Color tests made recently under government auspices showed that yellow is a better protective color than red in the woods and on water, he reports.

"That's why the Navy and Coast Guard specify yellow for all rescue equipment."

Much is said about self-protection in the woods, Trullinger says, and it's a pertinent subject with the deer season getting underway this month in 20 states. But there's another form of protection which deserves greater attention, and which is overlooked by thousands or nimrods each year. That's the protection afforded by the proper hunting clothes.

Trullinger calls for a happy medium between the dauntless deerslayer who piles on all the clothes he can wear, then roams around in an uncomfortable sweat, and the "fellow who goes to opposite extreme and barely escapes freezing."

THE UNION SUIT

Pneumonia insurance begins with dressing right for the woods, he declares. And it begins, too, with what you wear right next to the skin. Nothing can beat the union suit, for warmth and for ability to absorb body moisture, he contends.

It's the safest, surest protection a hunter can have for his days in the woods, he adds. The best type of union suit, he says, is the pure wool one, rather than the type which is "a mixture of wool and peach fuzz."

The same type of absorptive protection is essential for the hunter's feet and ankles, Trullinger cautions. One or two pairs of soft wool socks and fleece-lined boots, 8 to 10 inches in height, are the best bet, he says.

Three types of hunting wear are regarded as "abominations" by Trullinger. First, there are the popular hunting britches, which end at the knees and bind the wearer like "a straight-jacket".

Loosely fitting trousers "stagged off" just below the knees are far more comfortable, Trullinger says, and if they're of the "zouave" or bloomer variety, there are no cuffs to pick up loose snow or mud.

MORE PRACTICAL

"Sew-on" buttons are another of Trullinger's peeves in hunting attire. Snap-on "bachelor buttons" are far more practical for the woods, he says, advising purchasers of hunting clothes to replace threaded buttons before taking to the woods.

A last source of irritation to this veteran hunting authority are what he calls "canvas" hunting clothes—harsh surfaced togs which telegraph the hunter's approach to keen-eared quarry miles away.

Soft wool hunting pants and shirts are not only more practical and comfortable, but also less noisy in the brush, he says. Trullinger regrets, though, that wool hunting shirts traditionally have button fronts. A pull-over wool shirt, which flaps down snugly across the chest, would give far more protection against the wind, he says.

"A man who goes out on his own and bags a 10-point trophy buck all by himself without a squad of guides and gun carriers is happier than the old sport who goes to Africa and shoots an elephant," Trullinger concludes.

"One man I know came back from a recent safari with the sad complaint that his kerosene refrigerator broke down and they didn't have ice cubes for three days."

Mrs. Galloway Entertains June Group

Mrs. Charles Galloway of Pemberton road was hostess to the June group of First Presbyterian Church. Mrs. J. M. Markley and Mrs. L. M. Ashley were cohostesses at the recent meeting.

The prayer was given by Mrs. Galen Hershey and Mrs. Asa Drury opened the meeting with a lesson entitled "I Will Give," telling of God's giving in daily life. Also speaking were Mrs. Leo Donaldson and Mrs. Robert Heitsch.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. C. M. Sanders. Thursday, Mrs. John Maginnis will serve as chairman for the sewing session being held at the church from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. The Women's Association Christmas dinner will be held Dec. 7. Mrs. Ericson Lewis announced the Christmas party, to be held at the home of Mrs. M. A. Benson.

"Social Education and Action" was the topic chosen by Mrs. Howard Marsh. She also read a prayer dedicated to the President. Guests for the day were Mrs. Hershey and Mrs. A B Leddick.

Now Texans' Heads Are Getting Bigger

Children's heads are getting bigger, says a Texas designer of headwear who has been making children's hats for the past 15 years.

He bases his averages on 10,000,000 hats sold since 1941 and attributes the increase in head and hat size to the fact that boys and girls are healthier, taller and bigger.

Wives Want to Get News Straight From Husbands

Resent Learning About Mates' Plans From Outside Informants

By RUTH MILLETT

An Arkansas candidate who failed to tell his wife that he was going to run for a public office not only lost the election—he lost his wife.

In her suit for divorce, the wife claimed that she was "embarrassed and humiliated" when newsmen inquired about her husband's candidacy and she had to admit she didn't know anything about it.

Husbands, take warning.

When you fail to keep your wife informed about your doings, your plans and your decisions, you hurt her in a most vulnerable spot, her pride.

No wife on earth likes to learn things about her husband from outsiders.

She doesn't want to find out from anyone but him that he has made an investment, received a raise, been dickering for a new automobile, planned a fishing trip or even been elected to an office in his lodge.

RIGHTFUL RESENTMENT

Most wives don't consider it grounds for divorce to have a husband hold out information.

But they resent it just the same.

And with perfect right. After all, a wife is supposed to be a husband's partner. Partners are supposed to keep each other informed.

On top of that, a woman just naturally assumes that if her husband loves her he'll want to share his life with her.

So when he neglects to tell her something she considers important, she figures her husband has let her down.

Just thought you men ought to know—in case there's something you should tell your own wives, before someone else does.

George Gobel Says Comedian Needs More Than Trademark

By JOAN HANAUER

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Comedians often turn their physical drawbacks into laugh-getting assets.

Jimmy Durante has a "schnozz," Bob Hope a ski-jump, Joe E. Brown and Martha Raye boast face-splitting mouths and fat Jack Leonard and Jackie Gleason add to the popular myth that fat men make jolly comedians.

Another of this group is 5 foot 5 George Gobel, who can get a solid laugh just by looking up, deadpan, at 6 foot 4 Jimmy Stewart.

"It's one of the things that gets comedians started, "Gobel explained. "There are very few comedians who are real normal looking.

"They start out by having some sort of thing they have a complex about. Rather than be a bad guy about it, they make it a joke. Years ago it used to be all fat men comics and tall, skinny guys.

"But I don't think you have to have a funny look to be a funny man. Fat Jack Leonard or Jimmy Durante or any of those people would have been successful comedians anyway.

Rebekah Lodge Meets at Temple

Mrs. Richard James, vice-grand, gave a report of a district meeting at the recent meeing of Welcome Rebekah Lodge held in Malta Temple. Mrs. Randall Wilson presided.

Plans were made for a card party and bazaar to be held Nov. 20 at Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan building and a contribution for Thanksgiving and Christmas was made to the Odd Fellow and Rebekah Home in Jackson.

Mrs. Richard Brownell was in charge of the social hour assisted by Mrs. Irving Quackenbush and Mrs. Richard Rohr.

"You can include a physical characteristic joke in your routine three or four times, but you can't make a whole act out of one."

Gobel is quick to point out, in his droll, dry manner, that not all comedians look like their own caricatures.

"Take Jack Benny," said Gobel, who stars in his own program Saturday nights on NBC-TV. "'You can't figure anything different about him. He's an ordinary, nice-looking man who is neither extremely handsome nor extremely unhandsome.

"He gets laughs with his timing and ability to deliver a joke. I've always thought Bob Hope was a nice looking man. But there are a lot who have some distinguishing mark.

"There are things like the crew cuts. Lots of people in show business had them, but they didn't make a big deal like with Garry Moore and me. With us we were always described as 'the crew-cutted young so-and-so' or 'the feather-headed so-and-so.' "

Pick Elaine Malone to Head Church Unit

Elaine Malone was elected chairman of the September-October Group of First Presbyterian Church at its recent meeting, held in the church parlors.

Serving with Miss Malone are Mrs. Charles Allen, vice chairman; Mrs. H. M. Learned, secretary; Mrs. Agnes Hall, treasurer and Mrs. R. H. Fraser, missions chairman.

Gobel, who hopes to make another movie next year after completing "I Married a Woman" with Diana Dors this year, has just weathered a domestic crisis.

He was scared witless about telling his 11-year-old son that a child actor was to take his place on the Gobel show because of the number and importance of lines involved.

"It was real easy," Gobel said. "He didn't want to have to go through with the tutor bit.

"He's very clear about wanting to be an actor when he grows up—he doesn't want any part of it. But now he likes the money."

Partygoers Undaunted by Injuries

Broken Bones Fail to Slow the Whirl in Washington

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — The capital's party whirl has never been more brilliant than this season, nor more international in flavor, with most the big doings hosted by well-heeled diplomats of Embassy Row.

Many of the town's best-known hostesses, including Perle Mesta and the elegant Mrs. Merriweather Post, have been conspicuously absent during the pre-election months, as have many of the town's top social lions. Also the lights have not gone up yet at the White House.

Oddly, the localites haven't been missed, and I wonder if they could have gotten a party in edgewise if they had been around.

Local partygoers never say die and they're relishing the frenzied, the opulent, sophisticated, exotic gaiety offered by the envoys from abroad, dashing around to as many as four and five shindigs in a single evening.

Not even broken bones keep them home. At at least three parties I've seen as many persons limping down the receiving line, an injured, or mending tootsie in a bedroom slipper!

A broken wing, fashionably swatched in a silken sling, was mostly a subject for conversation for Mrs. Robert Guggenheim, wife of the former United States ambassador to Portugal, and a noted hostess herself.

Nationality of Woman Disparaged

Hostess Wonders About Apologizing to Insulted Guest

By EMILY POST

"The other evening I had several friends in to dinner. After dinner, we sat around talking. One of the men in the group recently married, and his wife is of a different nationality than the rest of us.

"During the course of the evening, one of the men present made a very disparaging remark about this woman's nationality. He did not know of course that she belonged to this particular race. I was mortified and tried to get his eye to keep him from saying anything further, but to no avail.

"I'm sure my guest was very much upset over this but she didn't say a word. Will you please tell me what I, as hostess, should have done about this? Should I apologize to her for my guest's behavior?"

Answer: I would apologize to her and say, "I'm very sorry but if I had said anything to him it would have made matters worse."

"Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is being married very quietly in another city. She and her husband will come here about a month after the wedding for a visit. I would like to give a reception for them at that time.

"Would it be proper to enclose the invitation to the reception with the wedding announcements, and how should the invitation be worded?"

Answer: It is unusual but there is no impropriety in it. They could read: "Welcome home reception for Mr. and Mrs. John Smith Jr. on such and such a day at such and such a time, and place."

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it, or is it not, correct to address a card to a child of 3 as Miss? A friend tells me that Miss should not be used until she is in her teens and that she should be addressed simply as Jane Smith."

Answer: It is not necessary to include it but neither is it wrong. A little girl may be addressed as Miss as soon as she is born, and this title continued until she marries.

SHAMPOO

Just about the most important part of hair dressing is the shampoo. Many times the cause of dry, dull, bushy hair can be found in the shampoo procedure.

But . . . the first step in hair care is something that should be done daily. I'm talking about brushing. This does much to polish the hair shaft and keep the scalp clean and stimulated. Next comes a good shampoo. Here, I must advise you against detergents. They are usually too harsh and cause the dry, bushy hair we are trying to avoid. A mild shampoo and vinegar rinse is still best and it may be used often. Frequent shampooing is not harmful to most hair when the right products are used.

Cranberries Give Color to Bread

Mrs. Leggett's Loaf Uses Chopped Nuts Also an Orange

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Cranberries glow richly red in the markets these days. The next time you buy a pound of them, save one cup to make Mrs. Earl Leggett's Cranberry Bread. It makes delicious tea sandwiches.

Mrs. Leggett is the young mother of four youngsters, three of whom are in school. She's a member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Auxiliary and the PTA. Her favorite leisure-time activities are bowling and knitting.

CRANBERRY NUT BREAD
By Mrs. Earl Leggett

2 cups sifted flour
1 cup sugar
1½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
Juice and rind of 1 orange
2 tablespoons shortening
1 egg, well beaten
1 cup chopped nuts
1 cup raw cranberries, cut in half

Sift flour, sugar, baking powder, soda and salt. Combine juice and rind of orange, shortening and enough boiling water to make ¾ cup. Add egg.

How to Select Right Type of Bra

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

One of the greatest of women's problems is getting the right bra and cup size. Busts are varied and many elements enter into the type brassiere which is best.

The bone structure as well as the size of the bust itself must be taken into consideration. The width between the breasts is also a factor. Therefore, today, I am going to give you some rules to help you determine your size. These come from the Corset and Brassiere Council.

Measure around the body, over your brassiere, just under the bust, holding the tape snug but not tight. If the result is an odd number, add 5 inches to determine brassiere size; if an even number, add 6 inches, up to the measurement of 38, when you add only 3 or 4 inches to the tape reading.

Cups are designated by letter, from AAA to D. To determine cup size measure around the body where the bust is fullest. If this measurement is identical to your brassiere size, you take an A cup; if 1 inch more than your bra size, a cup B; 2 inches, C cup; 3 inches, D cup.

A brassiere should support the bust in its natural position. This varies with individuals. As a general rule the center of the bust should be on line with the halfway mark between the shoulder and the elbow.

MANY STYLES

Today there are many styles which will please the woman who has widely separated busts. These should not be jammed together. This type is usually an attractive bust. The youthful, high breasts are usually this way.

There are many bras with the cups completely separate, except for a connecting wire or narrow strip of material.

If you would like to have my leaflet No. 7 which gives you exercises for increasing your bust measurement, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Tomorrow: "Exercise to Reduce Flabby Upper Arms."

Here's how to determine your brassiere size. Measure around the body, over your brassiere, just under your bust. If the result is an odd number, add 5 inches to determine size; if an even number, add 6 inches — up to measurement of 38 when you add only 3 or 4 inches.

For flabbiness under the chin, try this exercise: Place the tongue along the roof of the mouth as far as you can. Watch the skin under the chin tighten. Relax and repeat.

Don't Ask Praise for Punishment

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

One day as usual Peter left the taps on in the bathroom wash basin. As he ran downstairs, his washcloth fell into it, plugging the outlet. Twenty minutes later, his mother found the floor flooded.

She was wringing out the sodden bathmat when Peter came back upstairs. She cried, "Do you see this—do you see what you've done? I'll teach you to turn taps off after this!"

Then, dropping the mat, she grabbed Peter, pushing him into his room where she spanked him as hard as she could.

Later, she began to wonder if she'd been right. Having rid herself of anger at Peter, she began to feel soft toward him. She thought of the charm with which he grunted when she checked his covers at night; of the look of rapture on his face when he bit into cake.

Overwhelmed by these memories of his innocence, she became fearful that spanking had been the wrong, too severe punishment.

SEEKS APPROVAL

So she went upstairs to get Peter to tell her that it had been the right one. She said: "Peter, aren't you going to tell Mommy how sorry you are you left the taps running?"

Only occasionally can we afford to demand this kind of reassurance from punished children. If we cannot spank Peter without needing his confirmation that we've punished successfully, we shouldn't spank him.

As adults, we have no right to ask punished children to support what we have done.

If we make a habit of asking such support, children sense the uncertainty in us. In our overeagerness for their admission of wrongdoing, they read our anxiety to be told we've done right.

This can be harder on them than the punishment, suggesting as it does that the world is such a chaotic place even parents can't be trusted to know how to behave in it.

Writes psychiatrist Dr. Hilde Bruch, "If a child is to grow up with confidence, he needs the conviction that his parents are strong and dependable, even though he may fight them and feel unhappy about their methods."

So if we truly believe that we have punished too severely, the thing to do is admit it directly and honestly. We are just evading such admission when we try to make Peter admit that he's "sorry."

From such evasiveness, children inevitably learn to falsify their real feelings after punishment. Their dishonest "I'm sorry" is the result of our dishonest bid for reassurance.

Feminine architecture must be taken into consideration when choosing fabric. The large boned figure must avoid being a pale imitation of the dainty figurine. Therefore brocade suits her personality better than chiffon.

Schools Tackle Students' Reading Problem

By JANICE HAYHOW

A national emphasis on the reading problems American youth faces today has been taken to heart by Pontiac educators, who are constantly seeking new methods to help poor readers become more proficient in this chief avenue of learning.

To improve poor reading habits, the Pontiac Schools have drafted reading improvement classes in four junior high schools and Pontiac High School.

Tests given in the junior and senior high schools in Pontiac showed educators that students' reading habits were regressing after regular daily instruction was finished in the final year of elementary school.

Although, of normal intelligence, there are many students who did not begin to measure up to the national standards in reading and were, therefore, suffering in their study habits in the secondary classes.

Another reason for this definite lack of normal reading, says Dr. Russell Curtis, coordinator of the secondary schools in Pontiac, was that some students, a bit slower than others, failed to grasp the reading fundamentals to guide them.

Many types of learning go into the classes. Robert Beauchamp, English instructor at Pontiac High School, uses several different methods to help his students better their reading and he varies these methods constantly.

A tachistoscope that flashes words on a screen at different rates of speed from 1/25 of a second to 1/100 of a second teaches eyes to more quickly see and grasp a word.

Tests for comprehension, special reading matter with high interest value and low reading difficulty, a reading accelerator which increases rate of speed, and individual attention are some of the techniques Beauchamp employs.

Although some 25 students are registered in the high school reading improvement class, the standard number for the session is 15 per every nine-week course.

The class members keep checking their own improvement and continual tests are given to examine this rate of improvement.

Mrs. Theodore Wiersema, English and speech instructor at Lincoln Junior high school, uses even more of a variety of materials and methods to help her students in the reading improvement class.

The class, limited to eight, has a continual waiting line of students who wish to volunteer.

Mrs. Wiersema, who has been working with such a class for three or four years, the longest of any of the improvement programs, makes up word tests, uses a series of word games in addition to special reading matter.

Each day a student has to "read to me, read to himself, take a reading test and read something for pleasure," Mrs. Wiersema said.

"We encourage use of the library and I keep several books on my shelves from the library for my students," she added.

Curtis, Beauchamp and Mrs. Wiersema all stressed the need for instructors in other classes to teach reading improvement, too.

"Reading is the chief means of learning," Dr. Curtis said. "It therefore follows, if a student learns to improve his reading, he will improve his study habits and basic ability to learn."

Other reading improvement teachers in the junior high schools are Ruth Dennis at Washington; Mrs. Edna Roush at Madison and Mrs. Neva Hartwig at Eastern. The Jefferson program is a specialized one instead of improvement.

PIN-WORMS MAY BE A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do ... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge... the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

JAYNE'S P-W for PIN-WORMS

He's in Different Position, Now

Ike May Alter Policies and Personality

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The political personality of President Eisenhower may undergo a change as he tries these next four years to get things done.

If a politician can be judged on his ability to stay in office by satisfying a majority of the people, Eisenhower must be considered one of the best after the enormous endorsement he got last Tuesday.

Since he also won by a landslide in 1952, it may be assumed he would just go on being his same self. That doesn't follow, for he's in a different position now from 1952, politically and personally.

He was a political amateur in 1952. He isn't now. His knowledge of government and of how to get his programs through Congress was meager in 1952. It isn't now.

Between 1952 and 1956 he could always think that perhaps the huge vote in 1952 was due partly to public desire for a change after 20 years of the Democrats and partly to public hope, rather than confidence, he would make as good a president as he did a general.

He doesn't have to worry about that now. Last Tuesday's vote was an outpouring of approval for his first four years' performance. He owes far less to the Republican party than the party owes him.

The voters supported him overwhelmingly while not even entrusting his party with control of Congress. He has said he wants to shape a new Republican party. He couldn't do it in his first four years. He has only four more left, since the Constitution limits him to two terms.

He was mild, friendly and uncritical with everyone in the party in his first term even though there were many in it who disagreed with him and even voted against him.

He can hardly hope to change the party by the same tactics between now and 1960. For that reason — and since he owes his reelection far more to himself than to the party—he may decide to be tough where he was lenient with Republicans who go contrary to him and his programs.

So long as it was possible Eisenhower might run and win in 1956, carrying them back into their jobs on his coattails, those Republicans who disagreed with him had a good, self-interested reason to soft-pedal their opposition.

They have no such incentive now. Further, there are would-be presidents among the Republicans. To be considered for the White House, they will somehow have to build themselves up into national stature.

They won't make headlines by being yesmen, either. Yet, they have a dilemma: if they oppose Eisenhower too much they may antagonize, instead of attracting, public support which has been so favorable to Eisenhower's viewpoint.

The traditional politician — former President Truman and the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio are recent examples — is a man who makes plenty of enemies, even within his own party, by vigorously attacking those he thinks are trying to undercut him.

If Eisenhower is to achieve his goals in the next four years, he may feel it necessary to become more like the traditional politician.

Metallic Joint for Injured Hip

Modeled After Car Unit Ball and Socket Device; Proves Medical Boon

By EDWIN DIAMOND
INS Science Writer

WASHINGTON (INS) — A completely metallic hip joint, patterned after the universal joint of automobiles and designed for persons with hip injuries and bone ailments, has been unveiled.

The device consists of a ball and socket with a retaining rim which permits movement without dislocation of the parts—just as the mechanism of an automobile allows the rear wheels to stay in line with engine speed.

The hip joint, made with the chromium-cobalt alloy stellite was described to International News Service by one of its developers, U.S. Air Force Dr. Harry A. Gorman.

Dr. Gorman fitted injured dogs with the hip joint and reports they were "walking the next day."

Since all movement within the joint is between two insensitive, non-organic structures, Dr. Gorman says "pain is not possible."

Pain and dislocation were common among users of an earlier device for hip-injured persons consisting of a metal cup between the femur and pelvic bones.

Perhaps the most famous case of such a device was the one fitted in radio-television personality Arthur Godfrey. Godfrey's hip was injured in an automobile accident.

DISLOCATIONS COMMON

Dr. Gorman said injuries to the hip are among the most common and most difficult ailments to treat.

He said the new hip joint could also have applications in children born with hip dislocations and in adults suffering from fractures, bone arthritis and recurring dislocations.

The latter two are particular problems of older people.

In a paper prepared for delivery at the annual meeting of the Association for Military Surgeons, Dr. Gorman reported on complete hip joint installations in 53 dogs. One of them has had the metal joint for over two years "with no adverse symptoms," Dr. Gorman reported.

Sheriff Loses Jail —After 112 Years

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP)—For the first time in 112 years, the Camden County sheriff isn't in charge of the jail. Sheriff Martin Segal, a Republican sworn into office yesterday, lost control of the jail through a recommendation by his Democratic predecessor, J. James Hainsworth Jr.

No Monkeyshines!

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—A fence will be built to shade the glass enclosed monkey house at Lincoln Park Zoo. Zoo officials said when the sun hits the house, the customers can see only their own reflection in the glass. And the monkeys presumably have a hard time seeing the people.

Soviet, Pole Tension Rises

LONDON (INS) — A showdown between Russia and Poland appears imminent today.

The tragedy of Hungary has pushed the Polish situation into the background but radical political changes still are going on there.

Western observers consider it something of a miracle the fact that the Poles despite Soviet repression in Hungary are continuing to stand up to Moscow.

While there are no signs the new Warsaw government has any intention of going as far as the Imre Nagy government in Hungary which attempted to secede from the Soviet bloc, the Polish government continues to move spiritedly towards Polish independence.

Now, according to a Warsaw announcement, the first secretary of the Polish Communist Party Wladyslaw Gomulka, Premier Joseph Cyrankiewicz and former party chief Edward Ochab are going to Moscow this week for official talks with the Russian government.

Simultaneously with this announcement have come ominous reports of Russian troop concentrations not only on the eastern borders of Poland but around her other borders as well.

A remarkable fact in the views of Western observers is that there are no signs that Soviet repression in Hungary and Russian troop concentrations around Poland have frightened the Poles.

WALK TIGHT ROPE

The Polish government has, to date, managed to keep the country balanced on the razor's edge of national communism and is understandably guarded in what it says and does.

The leaders also have managed to keep the feelings of the people sufficiently in check to prevent an internal explosion.

An example of how carefully the government and party leaders are treading was shown today in an announcement by the party's political bureau which said it would move at the next meeting of the central committee to drop Wiktor Klosiewicz from the leadership group.

Klosiewicz demanded in parliament Friday that the government dispel rumors spread by a foreign radio station that he had been associated with an alleged coup d'etat directed against Gomulka during the recent central committee meeting. The political bureau characterized Klosiewicz' statements as irresponsible words that could bring harm to the party.

Leader Tells Story

WASHINGTON (AP) — A witness described as a leader of "the student group which sparked the first uprising in Budapest" tells his story under an assumed name at the Senate International Security subcommittee.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

FAMOUS BOOK FRIENDS — 3
Alice in Wonderland

One afternoon in 1826 a young mathematics professor at Oxford, England, Charles L. Dodgson, began to tell three little girls a story. He told how one of the girls, Alice, dreamed she followed a rabbit down a rabbit hole, and of the strange adventures she had there. That story became world-famous as Alice in Wonderland under the professor's pen name of Lewis Carroll.

Here is Alice with some of the characters she met. In her arms she holds the Duchess' baby, which she rescued from a kitchen full of pepper. Then the baby suddenly turned into a pig, which trotted away when she put it down. In the tree is the Cheshire cat, which followed her around, grinning broadly.

Lifelong Scout Training Aided by UF

There's hardly a Boy Scout of years gone by who can't recall those solemn, childhood words:

"On my honor, I will do my best . . ."

Scout leaders say this is because the lesson of the scout training is meant to be lifelong.

The words of the Scout Oath, " . . . to do my duty to God and my country . . . " these are meant to stick with a boy through manhood.

" . . . and to obey the Scout Laws." Allegiance to this creed has meant the difference between delinquency and good citizenship for many a boy.

The Pontiac Area United Fund contribution helps keep scout program building better futures for boys here—for your boy and for your neighbor's boy.

The Clinton Valley Council, which serves Pontiac, North Oakland County and part of Macomb County, relies on local help for over half its funds.

The Council next year hopes to operate on a $58,600 budget, with $33,400 coming from the Pontiac Community Chest through the United Fund.

Other funds come from individual scouts, from troop money-raising drives and from national headquarters.

Council Executive Edward H. Leland says the money will go to meet the needs of a rapidly expanding program.

The Clinton Valley Council has grown to the eighth largest in Michigan, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin. It is the third most rapidly growing council in the region.

In 1949, when united fund-raising drives first started in Pontiac, the council had a membership of 4,000 boys.

Council leaders think they are giving good service at low cost.

For every boy, the Council last year spent $4.04. The average cost per boy for 82 other councils in the region was about $9.

The scout aim is simple: provide opportunity for boys, build their characters, prepare them for citizenship, give them the direct influence of the community's best men and women.

Scoutmasters, committee members, advisers, cubmasters, den mothers, all serve voluntarily because they believe in the Scouting movement.

"Our Scouters are a cross-section of the most successful community leaders," Leland says. "They enjoy their Scouting and its broad fellowship. Volunteers, all of them, their pay may be the deep satisfaction of seeing just one boy successfully meet his problem, or the growing conviction that their work directly insures a better tomorrow."

Boy Scouting is one of 54 community activities and services supported by your Pontiac Area United Fund contribution.

Auto Kills Man, 72

CALUMET, Mich. (AP) — Ovila Rivest, 72, of nearby Hubbell was fatally injured Monday when he was struck by a car while crossing a street. The driver, Peter Ormsby, 21, of Calumet, was not held.

France never has been ruled by a queen.

Make Natural Rubber Outside Living Plants

EAST LANSING (AP) — Natural rubber has been made outside a living plant for the first time, Michigan State University states.

The rubber was produced by Dr. Robert S. Bandurski, MSU plant pathologist, and Dr. Howard J. Teas of the University of Florida.

The experimenters, working at a federal research station in Puerto Rico, made the rubber by using the same enzymes found in the living plants.

"The tests showed that rubber is made from acetic acid and we have been able to isolate all enzymes which make rubber from that acid," Dr. Bandurski said.

The experiments were backed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, which is seeking to increase the yield of rubber trees and was interested in finding a way to predict the yield of seedling plants.

Freak Crash Injures Harbor Beach Youths

HARBOR BEACH, Mich. (AP) — Five Harbor Beach young people were injured yesterday when their car crashed through a deadend road, skimmed 60 feet over a 30-foot deep ravine, struck a large boulder and plowed another 60 feet into a field.

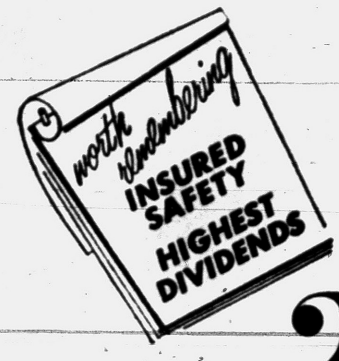

The victims, including two boys and three girls, were reported in fair condition at a Harbor Beach hospital.

The driver, Glen Forftner, 23, was quoted by police as saying he could not tell in the dark that he was approaching a deadend. The accident occurred on a rural road about 2 a.m. four miles south of Port Hope in Huron County.

World corn production for 1955-56 is estimated at a record 6,195,000,000 bushels compared with the record 6,000,000 bushels in 1948 and 620,000,000 bushels above the 1955 harvest.

New Here!
New There!
New Everywhere!

Newest Buick Yet

We've introduced a lot of new Buicks to the local scene—but never before one as new as this.

Inside and outside, top to toe, end to end—this is the newest Buick yet.

And it's not just new for newness itself—but new in ways that make driving more comfortable, safer and more fun.

You'll see what we mean when you study these gorgeous new Buicks close up.

They bring a wide-eyed new visibility of the road ahead with a rakish windshield that adds hundreds more square inches of glass area.

They're new in ride, with a new contour frame chassis that "nests" your going—giving new roadability with a lower center of gravity—yet road clearance is unchanged.

They're new in handling with a new Buick-developed ball-joint suspension that makes steering and cornering easier while it levelizes braking.

But above and beyond all else—these 1957 Buicks are brand new in performance:

—with a V8 engine that's completely new from the crankshaft up, to give you the highest horsepower and compression ratios in all Buick annals.

—with an advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflow* that brings you such instant response, such smoothness, such a full range of fluid motion in "Drive" that the need for "Low" is all but eliminated.

All this covers only the big advances in the 1957 Buick.

There are other wonderful new things to see—the new safety instrument panel—the new dip-center steering wheel—the lavish new color-mate interiors—the new counterbalanced brake pedals—well over a hundred and fifty new features in all.

As your Buick dealer, we're ready and eager to tell you the full story of these newest Buicks yet—and how easy you'll find it to call one your own. Stop in and see us this week.

Bible Unravels Message Sent by Escapee

NEW YORK (INS)—The invasion of Egypt caught, among other Americans there, six families of Trans World Airlines employes assigned to the company's Cairo headquarters.

Getting them safely out of the danger zone was the ticklish job of Gordon Gilmore, TWA's vice president in charge of advertising and public relations.

The last man out, Emmett Riordan, press relations chief for that stretch of the company's routes, cabled Gilmore yesterday from Rome. All the cable said was, "Reference Exodus 16:6."

Gilmore, whipping out his hand vest-pocket Old Testament, read: "Then ye shall know that the Lord hath brought you out from the land of Egypt."

The ailing John Foster Dulles is the 52nd secretary of state since the department was established by an act of Congress on July 27, 1789.

Six of his predecessors—Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, John Quincy Adams, Van Buren and Buchanan — attained the presidency. Seven others missed by a whisker or more: Clay, Webster, Calhoun, Seward, Blaine, Bryan and Hughes.

James Gillespie Blaine served twice, under Garfield and Benjamin Harrison. He was followed by Dulles' grandfather, John W. Foster, who served only a year but left an influence which has never faded.

The Old Farmer's Almanac is out, by cracky. Its goldenrod cover, suggesting a land of rutted roads and wood stoves, still bears the likeness of Robert B. Thomas, its great editor who went wherever editors go just 110 years ago.

Mr. Thomas might have trouble if he returned and was asked to read copy on this item:

"From July 1957 through December 1958, the scientists of 40 nations, including the Soviet Union, will conduct the most comprehensive study ever undertaken upon the earth.

"Fields to be explored include meteorology, latitude and longitude, geomagnetism, gravity, solar activity, cosmic rays, oceanology and rocket study.

"One of America's contributions will be the $20,000,000 Project Vanguard. This consists in the launching of 10 or 12 21-inch diameter 100-pound satellites for an individual existence of a few hours in an orbit approximately 300 miles from the earth."

He'd find the jokes familiar, however. And the poetry:

(The reply of a farmer to the question how many kernels he put in a hill)

One for the blackbird
One for the crow,
One for the cutworm
And two to grow.

The world stands with head bare as the last Hungarian patriots fall in that battered nation's courageous war against the Soviet Union. The survivors of rebellion win acclaim as they emerge from behind the Iron Curtain.

Of them, and the dead, we might say, as Daniel Webster said to Hungarian patriot Louis Kossuth 105 years ago, "We shall rejoice to see our American model upon the lower Danube and on the mountains of Hungary . . .

"I limit my aspirations for Hungary to that single and simple point: Hungarian independence, Hungarian self-government, Hungarian control of Hungarian destinies."

Trouble in Soviet Satellites May Lead to Kremlin Purge

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
INS Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (INS)—Secret intelligence dispatches reaching foreign diplomats in Washington predict that Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin is slated for removal as top kingpin of the Soviet Union.

Indications are, however, that despite the disastrous loss of face in the satellite nations, Nikita Khrushchev will be able to retain control as boss of the Communist Party.

Khruschchev, long considered the real power behind the Kremlin throne, is expected to survive the possible new purge of Russian leadership because agriculture—his particular "baby"—has just enjoyed its greatest year in history.

This naturally boosts Khrushchev's popularity with the Russian people, who are almost totally unaware of their government's debacle in the satellite nations. Removal of the hard-drinking, loquacious Khrushchev would probably, therefore, be too difficult to explain to the Russians, unless they were also informed of the embarrassing developments abroad.

CENSORSHIP RIGID

Intelligence sources disclose that censorship within the Soviet Union, despite some improved internal conditions in other fields, is still so rigid that the Russian people heard only of a "little trouble" in Hungary. They know nothing of the details.

Within the Kremlin hierarchy, however, the leaders reportedly blame Bulganin for the "sweetness of light" policy which backfired so disastrously in Hungary and Poland.

Such a serious blooper cannot go unpunished, and the obvious fall-guy is Bulganin. It was he who gambled that communism was so well established in the satellite nations that the old Stalinist reign of terror could be relaxed.

The biggest mistake of Bulganin and Khrushchev was to eat crow by welcoming Yugoslav Premier Josip Broz Tito back to good party standing.

This was all the encouragement that the freedom-loving Poles and Hungarians neded to begin plotting their own national Communist governments free of Kremlin control. The move succeeded in Poland, and would probably also have done so in Hungary if the aroused populace had been content to let it go at that.

Their passion for freedom and their hatred of Russia, however, fired them to continue the revolt far beyond the mere establishment of a new Communist regime favorable to the Soviets. The rest of the sad picture is well known. The continued rioting gave Russia the excuse to move in "to restore order," and then ruthlessly to quench the almost regained freedom from communism itself.

Intelligence reports indicate that the situation in Hungary is now hopeless—at least for some time to come. Some scattered rebel fighting still exists, but in the face of the overpowering force of the Russian army, it cannot succeed.

The only hope now lies in the aroused world opinion against Russia. The Kremlin bosses have painfully returned to the ruthless oppression of dictator Stalin, and Bulganin cannot survive such an abrupt change of policy.

In order to save any remaining face, and also to insure that the Stalinist policies will continue, Bulganin must go.

The naked truth remains, however, that the Communist parties of the entire world now know that it is not love, or even admiration, which binds the satellite nations to Russia—but brute force.

A member of President Eisenhower's official cabinet told this correspondent that he believes the British-French move into Egypt was "the blackest move in the past 100 years of their history."

Pointing out that until the British and French forces began bombing Egypt, Russia was promising to withdraw all remaining troops from Hungary, he declared:

"Ie believe this action gave the Kremlin the excuse it needed to rush reinforcements to Hungary and put down the revolution. The Soviets apparently decided that if the British and French could use brute force to solve a dilemma, they could also ignore world opinion."

Nearly Sightless Woman Launches Crusade

She Works in Dark to Prevent Blindness

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Mildred Weisenfeld, a frank woman who doesn't like to deal in sentimental banalities, is going blind and knows it.

She's known it for nearly 20 years, has faced the inevitable with as much good humor as can be expected of one who is only human, and never has been known to curse Old Lady Nature for shoving her toward the dark world of the sightless.

"But I've never been a Pollyanna about it either," she says matter-of-factly. "I know that you can't read your morning paper in Braille, and that a seeing-eye dog for all his lovableness can't give you back the color in the sky."

Mildred once had 20-20 vision, and now sees only dark shadows behind her dark glasses. She went on: "I'm not bitter, but nobody who's blind and honest can say it's great either.

"Those who can see often say that the blind are often endowed with greater talent to compensate for their lack of sight, but that's the Pollyanna approach again. I don't think I have more talent because I'm nearly blind; frankly, I think I'd have more talent if I could see."

SHOCK TREATMENT

This, from Miss Weisenfeld, was the shock treatment.

As founder, fighter-for and executive director of the "National Council to Combat Blindness," she has taken over the job of jolting Americans into the realization that it is not sufficient for us merely to sympathize with and financially aid and morally care for the 314,000 already-blind citizens of the U. S.

It is much more important to insist upon medical research to prevent blindness.

"Do you know that 120 million dollars a year are being spent on therapy and comfort for the blind," she says, "and that less than 1 per cent of that total is spent on research to stop blindness?" Miss Wiesenberg paused, to control a pot of annoyance in her voice.

"That's like saving the family funds when the child is sick so you can afford the wheelchair he might need the rest of his life."

BECAME CLUMSY

It was at the age of 15 that she began to bump into things on the street. "After my father had told me over and over, 'Watch where you're going,' it suddenly came to him that I was watching—and that it didn't help," she remembers.

At a New York hospital, they advised her she had eye disease "X" (Mildred prefers not to name it, because some children who suffer from it are not aware that it leads to eventual blindness).

Medicine had no cure to offer for "X" then, and it has none now. Little by little, her sight grew cloudier, until now she has only 2 per cent vision.

In 1946, after talking to dozens of doctors, all of whom were crying for money to conduct more research into the fight against blindness, she organized the national council.

It is just now starting to get its message across authoritatively, although "the great mass of the public still has a misconception. They believe that most blindness is either hereditary or caused by accident.

"Actually," says Miss W., "84 per cent of blindness is caused by disease—disease that can be attacked medically just like any other illness. blindness is not inevitable.

"That's why I get a little sick when we send out a brochure and we get back a sweet answer which shows that people still do not understand.

"They write in, 'This is a wonderful cause—I'd love to help the blind!' We are not out to help the blind. There are many powerful organizations to do that . . .

"In the United States, one person goes blind every 20 minutes. What we want to do is erase that statistic for all time."

Rebel Suspects Shot on Island of Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Cyprus authorities today announced the killing of two Greek Cypriots, one a suspected rebel shot as he tried to escape and the other by unknown gunmen.

The rebel suspect had been seized during a recent British drive on the EOKA underground in the Troodos Mountains. He was being held at a police mobile reserve camp at Xeros, on the island's north coast.

The other victim was Andreas Papapavlou, a 34-year-old grocer who was shot down by two gunmen in a market area on the outskirts of Nicosia.

DOOMED TO A WHEELCHAIR BY ARTHRITIS

"I thought for a long time that I would spend the rest of my days in a wheelchair. Then I discovered O-Jib-Wa Bitters, and now I'm on the road to good health again," says Mrs. Gertie Newcomb, 823 Wayne St., Jackson, Michigan.

"If you ever get rheumatism or arthritis in your legs with such pain that you are unable to walk, then and only then, will you realize how much pain and suffering I went through. My right knee and hips pained so severely that it kept me in bed for 2 or 3 days at a time. My knee would swell and ached terribly everytime I tried to move it. It's an awful feeling not being able to walk, and to think of spending the rest of your life as a cripple. My husband had to do the cooking and take care of the house. I would get up and try to do some housework, but this usually ended up having him carry me back to bed. Leaving the house even to go to church was impossible. Finally an ad for O-JIB-WA BITTERS in our newspaper convinced me I should try it, as I had tried about everything else. I was truly elated at the results, because in about two weeks, the pain and swelling began to go, and soon I was up walking around again. O-JIB-WA did more for me than any of the treatments previously taken. O-JIB-WA helped me so much that I sent a bottle to my husband's brother, who was crippled with arthritis and had to walk with a cane. Already he has discarded the cane and feels fine. I'm glad to have this opportunity to recommend O-JIB-WA BITTERS, and always praise it anytime and anyplace."

Polish Leader Goes to Moscow

Gomulka to Negotiate for More Independence From Russia

BERLIN (AP)—Poland's new Communist party boss, Wladyslaw Gomulka, left for Moscow today to negotiate for more Polish independence from Soviet control.

The departure was announced by the official East German news agency ADN, which quoted the Polish news agency PAP. It said he headed a delegation representing the Central Committee of the Polish Communist party and the Polish government.

The visit had been scheduled for last month, shortly after Gomulka returned to power and placed Poland on a "nationalist" course. But the departure was delayed by the crisis in Hungary.

As a prelude to Gomulka's departure, the Warsaw government announced a widespread cabinet shakeup, including the "resignation" of the Soviet proconsul for Poland, Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky. He had been deputy premier and defense minister.

More changes in the government were expected after Gomulka's return from the Soviet capital.

Rokossovsky's resignation was announced in a widespread shakeup of Cabinet ministers. Other changes are expected to follow.

Rokossovsky, born in Warsaw but long regarded as the Kremlin's top representative in the Polish Communist leadership, was removed from the Polish Communist party Politburo Oct. 21. He was a chief target of demonstrations during the October unrest that resulted in the election of Wladislaw Gomulka as head of Poland's Communist party.

Since being booted from the Politburo, Rokossovsky had officially been "on leave" from his defense minister and deputy premier posts. His removal had been expected.

Other changes were announced in the ministries of agriculture, building, health, education and shipping, all the focus of much criticism for Poland's grave economic situation.

The bride said after the ceremony in her daughter's home:

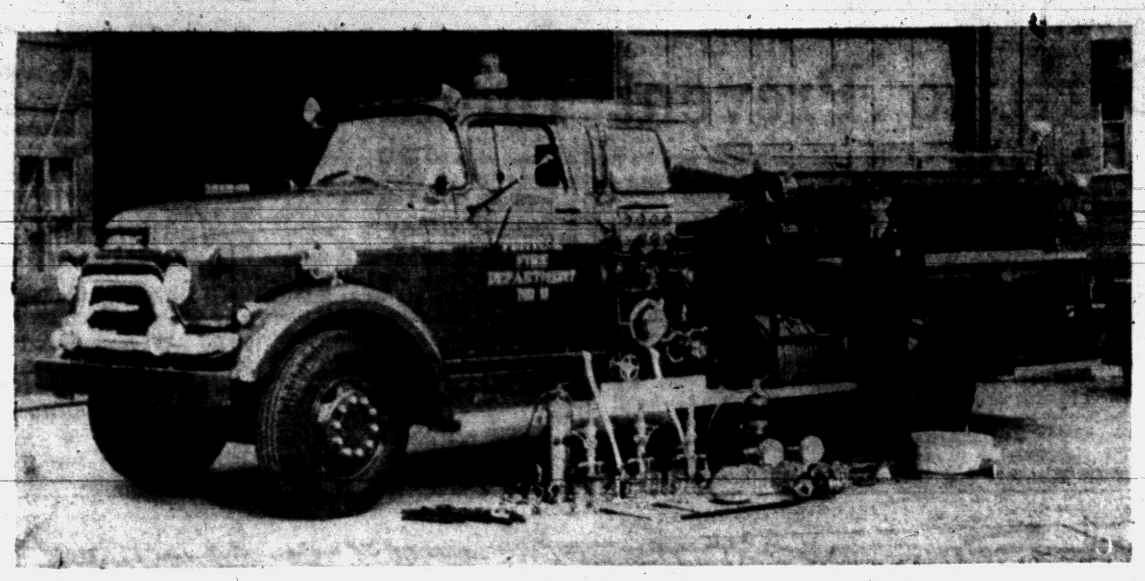

"I suppose folks will say it's foolish for a woman my age to get married again. But I don't mind what they say. A person needs companionship. And the older a person gets the lonesomer they are if they have to live alone."

Leprosy Victims Given New Hope

Drug Similar to Sulfa Cures Some Forms, Authority Claims

CHICAGO (INS)—There's new hope for curing leprosy.

Dr. Robert G. Cochrane of London, internationally known authority on the disease, said in Chicago Monday that a new "near-miracle" drug now effects complete recovery from some forms of leprosy.

Speaking before the 50th anniversary dinner of the American Leprosy Missions, he said the illness now is somewhat in the category of cancer and tuberculosis.

He added that in certain phases leprosy can be cured "and many of its victims restored to normal, productive living."

Dr. Cochrane, who identified the new drug as diamino diphenylsulfone, which has a relationship to the familiar sulfa preparations, continued:

"In many cases it frees the patient from all outward signs of the disease."

He also put the lie to some of the old wives' tales associated with leprosy by stating that far from being highly contagious, it is "relatively noncontagious and, in some cases, not at all contagious."

Dr. Cochrane also said leprosy is not hereditary and pointed out it is spread by a germ through skin contact and its incidence is higher in areas where malnutrition and unsanitary conditions prevail.

There are nearly 10 million leprosy victims in the world today, mostly in tropical regions, and from 1,000 to 5,000 in the United States, mostly in Louisiana, Texas, Florida and Southern California.

Investigate CARE Milk Following Child's Death

COLOMBO (AP)—Ceylon's education minister today ordered an inquiry into milk distributed in Ceylon by CARE, the American welfare organization, after hearing that an 11-year-old schoolgirl died after drinking a glass of milk.

The minister, W. Dahanayake, said he had received reports from all over Ceylon of children being taken ill immediately after drinking CARE milk.

Trenton Chemical Co. Buys Kish Industries

LANSING (AP)—Kish Industries, Inc., manufacturer of plastic tooling and fabricated parts, has announced purchase of the Trenton Chemical Co. of Trenton, producer of industrial alcohol and gluten products.

Steven P. Kish, president of the Lansing firm, said the transaction involved a stock exchange approved by Kish directors and stockholders of Trenton Chemical.

Dr. Sheppard Loses Review

Supreme Court Denies Retrial of Murder for Osteopath

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, Cleveland osteopath, has lost his fight for a Supreme Court review of his trial and conviction for the bludgeon slaying of his wife, Marilyn.

Sheppard, now serving a 10-year-to-life sentence in the Ohio Penitentiary, contended he was denied a fair trial because of adverse publicity.

"The press, radio and television not only attempted to influence the judge and jury before and during trial but they did influence them. The conduct of these mediums of public information is of the kind that has been condemned by the courts of England and in the United States by judges, lawyers, bar associations, professors of law and writers on legal subjects, and by responsible newspaper editors . . .

"We believe this case brings squarely before the Supreme Court the widely debated question of 'fair trial and free press'."

Sheppard was convicted of slaying his 30-year-old wife in their Bay Village, Ohio, home July 4, 1954. He contended his wife was killed during a sex attack by an intruder. The Ohio Supreme Court upheld the conviction last May 31.

Justice Frankfurter issued a memorandum reiterating the statement he occasionally makes, that denial of a review "in no-wise implies that this court approves the decision" of the lower courts.

He Just Can't Win

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Charles F. Perham, 37, a school teacher, has been charged with driving too fast and not fast enough on the same street. He was arrested Oct. 17 for speeding 10 miles an hour. Now he has been charged with impeding traffic by driving 6 miles an hour. He said he was looking for the home of a former pupil.

Polio Could Be Erased, Says Salk

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Few if any Americans would be paralyzed by polio in 1957 if most of us up to 50 took polio shots, Dr. Jonas E. Salk predicted today.

The Pittsburgh scientist made the guarded forecast on the basis of latest findings about the effectiveness of his polio vaccine.

He also announced a discovery which may eliminate the need to import thousands of monkeys each year from India in order to make and test Salk vaccine.

In a speech prepared for the American Public Health Assn., Salk summed up evidence that the vaccine shots, properly made and spaced, can produce long-lasting immunity.

Polio hits adults as well as children, he said. One-fourth of cases now occur in adults aged 30 to 50. To best prevent the chain of infection and paralysis, adults should also take the three shots, he said.

Salk said the evidence all indicated "there need be little, if any, paralytic polio in the United States in 1957 if all who are potentially susceptible are treated with vaccine that is now available."

One great new promise is that vaccine may be produced without having to import thousands of monkeys, Salk said.

Monkey kidneys are used as the cells on which to grow and harvest crops of living virus for the vaccine. These viruses then are carefully killed to make the safe vaccine.

But Miss Elsie Ward of Salk's laboratory has discovered a new strain of cells first grown from monkey heart cells. These cells keep growing indefinitely.

Salk said these heart cells apparently could supply enough cells to create the harvests of virus to make millions of shots of vaccine, and also supply test cells to make sure the vaccine is safe.

This would eliminate or reduce the need to import thousands of monkeys annually. This is not only expensive, but also has been done only with permission of the Indian government. Many Indian people have religious objections to exporting monkeys to be sacrificed this way.

Student Handicap Questioned by Dean

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Pennsylvania educator said today that huge enrollments foreseen for the nation's colleges may not prove to be such a handicap to the student after all.

Already, said Dean Harold K. Schilling of Pennsylvania State University, mass education "has set in with a vengeance" at the graduate school level of some universities.

"But I doubt very much that the quality of graduate work at these mass-producing institutions has suffered one bit," he said. "The young Ph.D. today is at least as able and as well prepared as his predecessor of 25 or 50 years ago."

Carpenter Backed 'Joe Smith'
Nebraska Man Reflects

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (INS)— Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, the delegate who nominated "Joe Smith" at the Republican National Convention, has some post election comments to make.

Carpenter, himself a winner in the Nebraska election—he captured a legislative seat as a non-partisan candidate—claimed a war scare "neutralized" the effectiveness of "Joe Smith."

Referring to the Democratic Party's effort to turn the mythical candidate into a symbol at the polls, the Nebraskan said:

"The effectiveness of 'Joe Smith' was neutralized in the campaign by the apprehension of the American people of a war situation.

"This was proven by the fact that even with a 10-million majority for the President, the people showed they generally prefer the philosophy of the Democratic Party to that of the Republican Party."

Carpenter said the main issue in the Cornhusker state was "that the Democratic Party was called the war party."

He said:

"I do not think the President meant to convey—to the extent the people accepted it—that he could keep the nation out of any conflict, but the people did accept that he could."

Carpenter added:

"The American people did not think there was any comparison between the knowledge of Eisenhower and Stevenson on the issue of war and peace."

Carpenter rated the farm issue a major phase of the presidential election campaign, although "in certain areas the farm issue entered into the election of congressmen."

Stern Edicts Issued for 6 Schools by NCAA

DETROIT (AP) — No post-season bowl games for Texas A&M and the University of Miami football powers.

Probation periods ranging from nine months to four years for North Carolina State, Ohio State, Southern California and the University of California.

Such was the stern edict issued against the six schools by the Council of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. yesterday as it concluded a lengthy investigation into reported athletic irregularities at member schools.

The Council, powerful policy directing body of the NCAA, turned down requests by Texas A&M and Miami to suspend probations that prevent them from accepting bids to bowl games on New Year's Day. Both probations carry into 1957, Miami's by only 10 days.

The Texas Aggies, the nation's fifth-ranked football team on the strength of seven victories and a tie, have all but clinched the Southwest Conference title and were expected to perform as host team in the Cotton Bowl.

Eighth-ranked Miami, an independent, was considered a top prospect for an invitation to the Sugar Bowl or Gator Bowl.

Walter Byers, NCAA executive secretary and a member of the infractions committee which conducted the investigation, said it was "general policy" of the council to let probations run their full course. In addition, he said, a new violation had been reported at Texas A&M and the Council wanted to give the Southwest Conference "an opportunity to investigate this latest alleged infraction before making a ruling."

The four schools placed on probation join 11 other collegiate "bad boys" currently serving out NCAA penalties. All were accused of offering or extending illegal aid to athletes.

North Carolina State, which only last year ended a one-year probation that kept it out of the 1955 NCAA basketball championships, drew the longest penalty ever handed out by the council — four years.

The school is forbidden to take part in any of the 14 annual NCAA sponsored events or 25 cooperating events, which include all bowl games, while the probation is in effect. The Council also denied it representation on any NCAA committee and the right to vote on any question before the association.

Southern California's probation runs until July 1, 1958; California's to next Nov. 13 and Ohio State's to next Aug. 21. Only California may take part in NCAA events during the probation, but the participation ban against USC runs only until next Nov. 13.

USC and N.C. State also were declared ineligible to participate in the national television series administered by the NCAA after their current commitments run out.

N.C. State's penalty drew strong protest from William C. Friday, president of the Consolidated University of North Carolina. Friday said he and other university officials "cannot understand the probation decision," but he added:

"We are determined to get all the evidence in the case and will take whatever action it warrants."

Comments on Edict

Miami Coach Is Stunned

MIAMI, Fla. (INS) — University of Miami football coach Andy Gustafson said he was "stunned and disappointed" by the refusal of the National Collegiate Athletic Association to lift its ban against the school.

He pointed out that the Hurricanes have been on probation for three years already, which has cost them two bowl assignments. Sugar Bowl officials indicated earlier this week that they were considering the Hurricanes for bowl competition.

The Hurricanes — ranked eighth in the nation — play Clemson Friday night in the Orange Bowl. Gustafson said he is "concerned" over the possible effect of the NCAA decision on his players.

California Has No Beef

BERKELEY, Calif. (INS) — Top officials of the University of California had "no complaints" today about an NCAA ruling, placing the school on a year's probation.

Chancellor Clark Kerr said, in commenting on the NCAA decision yesterday in Detroit:

"We have no complaints. It means that nothing happens to us beyond the action already taken by the Pacific Coast Conference. I feel that the University has been very cooperative in supplying information to the NCAA and let me say that it didn't do any harm."

"Nobody likes to be penalized but we're not crying," he added.

Only One New Goalie

TORONTO (AP) — The only rookie goal tender in the National League is Ed Chadwick of the Toronto Maple Leafs. Chadwick, born in Fergus, Ont., had two shutouts in five games with Toronto last season after starring for the Winnipeg Warriors.

TUESDAY'S FIGHTS

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — Ray Rojas, 132, Fort Worth, outpointed Jackie Blair, 132, Dallas, 12.

SAN JOSE, Calif. — Willie Morton, 143, San Jose, outpointed Chief Archie Whitewater, 145½, San Francisco, 10.

THE POWERHOUSE

By JIMMY POWERS

Jack Lavalle, the humorist, is secretly a spy. Each Sunday afternoon Jack tucks his 300-pound girth into a hidden corner of the enemy stadium and looks for offensive or defensive weaknesses.

His scouting reports have been responsible for dozens of victories for the football Giants down through the years.

As official scout of the Giants he knows their strengths and weaknesses as well as anyone. Here's Lavalle's report of Giant personnel.

"Hard to say who is key man for our Giants, Conerly at quarterback or Gifford and Webster at the halves. They complement each other so perfectly it's difficult to tell.

"Conerly is a great long passer. Whatever weakness he may have, missing the receiver in the open is not one of them. He has thrown more touchdown passes than any active quarterback."

Only Baugh and Luckman in the NFL have thrown more, and they played longer.

As Jim Lee Howell said last week, Conerly also excels at passing with tacklers hanging on him. In the past he had plenty of practice at that.

"Last year Webster was the Giants' most dangerous runner. This year I'd have to say Gifford is," he said. "Webster runs harder, but the defense must play Gifford loose because of the threat that he may pass. This opens them up to long runs. Gifford also runs lower, throwing himself into what is almost a crawl, to pick up extra yards.

"Webster runs as hard as any fullback and is possibly the best broken field runner in football. He and Gifford are top receivers also. Gifford is faster."

TRIPLETT HARDEST RUNNER SINCE NAGURSKI

"Mel Triplett at fullback has been called the hardest straight ahead runner since Nagurski. This may be an exaggeration, but not by much. Mel hits them pretty good as a blocker, too.

"At left end Kyle Rote is probably the toughest pass receiver to stop in football. The best defenders come into the dressing room muttering to themselves after trying to cover Rote. I notice that most teams put two men on him lately, which limits his catches somewhat but opens the defense to Gifford and Webster as receivers. Rote is a clever blocker on running plays.

"Ken MacAfee at right end is the fastest Giant on offense. He has good moves and is a pretty good blocker too, but his greatest asset is speed."

2nd Place in Poll

Vikings Miss Top Bid

By DAVE DILES
Michigan AP Sports Editor

East Lansing's all-winning Trojans withstood strong challenges from Walled Lake and Sault Ste. Marie and plucked the top prize in Class B high school football circles today.

The powerful Trojans took the mythical state Class B diadem in the heaviest balloting of the season to determine the top 10 teams. Associated Press sports writers and broadcasters awarded the Trojans 125 points, a dozen more than runnerup Walled Lake and 13 more than Sault Ste. Marie.

Inactivity in the final weeks of the season and an all-victorious season by Walled Lake produced a change in the top rankings. Sault St. Marie, despite its perfect season, dropped from second place to third and Walled Lake—also unbeaten and untied—climbed to second place in the final voting.

There was a general shake-up in the rankings, with only top-rated East Lansing holding its position of a week ago. Every other team moved up or down in the rankings, and a newcomer was added to the ranks.

The voters finally boosted Grand Haven into the "top ten." The Grand Haven club, which plays six of its nine games against Class A foes, moved into the 9th spot and Romeo, whipped for the first time 27-0 by Utica in the season finale, was ousted from the ratings.

Grand Blanc's unbeaten team used a 27-14 win over Davison to climb from 6th to 4th as Saginaw St. Andrew slipped a notch to 5th.

All the state's Class B schools have completed their 1956 activity. Twenty-two teams were mentioned in the voting, but the East Lansing victory was a decisive one.

Here's the way the state's sports writers and broadcasters voted for the "top ten" in the final poll of the season, with team records in parentheses:

| TEAM, RECORD | POLL PTS |
|---|---|
| East Lansing (8-0) | 125 |
| Walled Lake (8-0) | 113 |
| Sault Ste. Marie (9-0) | 112 |
| Grand Blanc (9-0) | 85 |
| Saginaw St. Andrew (8-0) | 77 |
| Ionia (8-0-1) | 60 |
| East Grand Rapids (7-1) | 47 |
| Albion (7-1) | 41 |
| Grand Haven (5-2-2) | 39 |
| St. Joseph (7-2) | 36 |

Others: Romeo 35, Rochester 29, Kalamazoo State 23, Flushing 15, Clawson 14, Lapeer 12, Portage 11, Charlotte 10, Northville 8, Kingsford 4, Lake Shore 2, Flint Tech 1.

War Admiral, winner of the First Pimlico Special in 1937, has sired 36 stakes winners.

Gophers Also Need Victory

Win for MSU Would Aid 'M'

EAST LANSING (AP) — The shoe is on the other foot when the Michigan State football team plays Minnesota Saturday.

It would be more accurate to say, perhaps, that the axe is in the other hand.

Last year, Michigan State also played Minnesota the next to last game of the season.

The Spartans had to beat Minnesota to keep their Rose Bowl football hopes alive in a situation almost as full of ifs as this year's complicated Big Ten championship situation.

State won that one in good style with a 42-14 victory. Ohio State, ineligible for the bowl as it is this year, again had the final say.

The Buckeyes and Hopalong Cassidy whipped Michigan in the final game of the season to let MSU back into the bowl — the second Spartan Pasadena trip in three years.

While Michigan and Ohio State were deciding things at Ann Arbor, State was playing Marquette in its final game of the season.

The 33-0 game was a weird one to watch and listen to. Crowd noises from the stands had nothing to do with the action of the field because every other fan had a portable radio tuned to the decider at Ann Arbor.

At one point, a penalty was being marched off against the Spartans. And the fans were cheering madly. It wasn't that they were against the home team—Hopalong had just scored against Michigan.

Michigan State is barred from a repeat trip to the Rose Bowl this year by conference rules.

Minnesota still has an outside chance. Minnesota could get the trip if Ohio State beats Iowa and if the Gophers take both Michigan State and Wisconsin.

Iowa would be in with a victory over Ohio State while Michigan's only hope is to have both Iowa and Minnesota lose a game and to whip both Ohio State and Indiana.

The Michigan State-Minnesota football rivalry dates back only to 1950 but the relationship between the two schools is one of the friendliest in the conference.

This is mostly due to the Minnesota background of MSU athletic director Biggie Munn, a former player and assistant coach for the Gophers and a native of Minneapolis.

As one way of showing his respect for his old school, Munn has never recruited a player from Minnesota. That's still the rule at Michigan State.

From The PRESS BOX

Jack Burke Jr., Masters and PGA champion, was named "Professional Golfer of the Year" Tuesday by the Professional Golfers Association of America. Dr. Cary Middlecoff was runner-up in the voting.

The illness to goalie Jacques Plante of the Montreal Canadiens has been diagnosed as a severe attack of bronchial asthma. Plante became ill a week ago during a road trip.

Grady Hatton, a 3rd baseman in the Major Leagues for many years, has signed with the San Francisco Seals of the Pacific Coast League. Hatton came to the Seals as a free agent.

Because of the stage show at the Detroit Olympia, the Red Wings worked out yesterday and again today at the University of Michigan arena. The Wings were on the ice at Ann Arbor at 8:30 a.m.

Comiskey Park in Chicago will get a new press box at the cost of $100,000 to replace the one recently destroyed by fire.

Wayne University, which lost only three basketball games last year including losses to Kentucky and Louisville, is looking ahead for another banner year. However, scoring star Clarence Straughn did not return to school this year.

Navy's Defense Will Be Tested

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — The best team rushing defense and one of the top individual ground gainers will be matched in the Navy-Virginia football game Saturday in Baltimore's Memorial Stadium.

Navy's average yield of 104.4 yards to seven opponents rushing the ball is the tops in the country.

In eight games, Virginia's fullback Jim Bakhtiar has gained 744 yards for the fifth highest individual total in the nation.

Cincinnati set a new attendence mark in 1956 when the Redlegs drew 1,125,928 fans.

Coach Says U.S. Team Nearing Record Form

MELBOURNE (AP) — American track and field athletes have recovered from numerous ills and injuries and are approaching their record-breaking form at the Olympic Trials of last June.

This was the reassuring word of Coach James Kelly today as his squad put on one of its best workouts in preparation for the Games of the sixteenth Olympiad starting Nov. 22.

Kelly was especially pleased with the good form shown by sprinter Bobby Morrow and half-miler Arnie Sowell, two of Uncle Sam's erstwhile "cripples." Morrow, who has been thought to have a good chance of scoring a double in the sprints, had been ill with a virus infection but now appears fully recovered and Kelly expressed confidence that Bobby was near his peak after watching the Texas sprinter work out.

The prevailing belief is that Morrow has a good chance to win both the 100 and 200-meter dashes, particularly the 100.

"I'm feeling pretty good now," Morrow said, adding he had gained back some of the 10 pounds the virus had cost him. The tall youngster from Abilene Christian College said he was getting stronger every day.

It has not been generally known that Sowell had been laid up for a time last summer. The University of Pittsburgh track star, who is counted on, with Tom Courtney, to lead the procession in the 800-meter run, was on crutches in August. He sprained his ankle playing three-man basketball.

Sowell's mishap cut his weight seven pounds, a serious thing for a young man whose 5 foot 10 inch frame normally carries only 135 pounds.

The Pitt star said he was feeling "real good" now and Kelly noted he seemed to have his old bounce back.

Another recuperating athlete was Jim Lea, 400-meter runner, formerly from the University of Southern California. Lea, slowed with an ailing Achilles tendon, was held out of several of the final practice meets but ran in the last one at Los Angeles with spectacular success.

Pettit Scores 49 for Hawks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks is to be shorn of his pro basketball scoring crown, it looks like Neil Johnston of the Philadelphia Warriors will have to be the man to do it.

Last night Pettit scored 49 points as the first-place Hawks blasted their closest pursuer in the Western Division race, Rochester, 118-105. Johnston is the only active performer in the National Basketball Assn., who has scored more points than Pettit in a single game.

The big Warrior pivotman poured in 50 points Feb. 16, 1954 against Syracuse. The all-time league record for one game is held by Philadelphia's Joe Fulks, the NBA's first scoring champ, who tallied 63 against the old Indianapolis Olympians on Feb. 10, 1949.

Pettit's outburst gave him a current total of 194 points for seven games and carried him past Johnston who had been leading with 154 in six games. Johnston, the league scoring leader in 1953-54 and '54-55, lost his title to Pettit last year.

Relatora Is Winner

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP)—Relatora won the $5,000 Sea Wolf Purse yesterday at Bay Meadows in the first victory for any of the 10 Argentine horses imported for the meeting. Two others had failed.

Relatora, ridden by Omar Chamorro, ran the six furlongs in 1:11 and returned $43.40.

Rebuilding Begins

Cubs Get Jablonski From Redlegs

CHICAGO (AP) — The new regime of the Chicago Cubs made its first rebuilding move yesterday in getting third baseman Ray Jablonski in a five-player deal with Cincinnati. But as far as the club is concerned it's only "a start in the right direction."

Under newly-named General Manager John Holland and Manager Bob Scheffing, the last-place Cubs acquired the slugging Jablonski and pitcher Elmer Singleton from Cincinnati for pitcher Warren Hacker, infielder Don Hoak and outfielder Pete Whisenant.

Jablonski is the key man for the Cubs although Scheffing already has said Singleton, a 36-year-old righthander who has failed in the majors previously, will be worked in as a starting pitcher.

As for Cincinnati, the Redlegs apparently are banking on Hacker, 32-year-old righthander, who had a 3-13 mark last season, but won 15 games for the Cubs in 1952. Two other Cub castoffs, John Klippstein and Hal Jeffcoat, made good with the Redleg pitching staff.

Jablonski, 30-year-old Chicagoan, was the National League All-Star third baseman in 1954 but batted .254 with Cincinnati last year, slamming 15 home runs and knocking in 65 runs.

Singleton, who previously failed with the Boston Braves, Pittsburgh Pirates and Washington, had an 18-8 mark last season with Seattle in the Pacific Coast League and led the circuit with an earned run average of 2.55.

Hoak, 28, was obtained in a deal with Brooklyn last year which sent third baseman Randy Jackson to the Dodgers. He was pegged as a "holler guy" by former Director of Player Personnel Wid Matthews. He had a .215 batting average with the Cubs.

Whisenant, 26, was acquired in a trade last year for veteran outfielder Hank Sauer. He played part-time for the Cubs and finished with a .236 average.

Scheffing said he thought the deal "definitely will help us . . . it won't make us a pennant contender but it's a start in the right direction."

Scheffing said Jablonski is an established major league third baseman and that Singleton is a good pitcher, "the kind of pitcher who never beats himself."

At Nashua, N. H., Cincinnati Manager Birdie Tebbetts said he is hopeful Hacker and Hoak will come "into their own" with the Redlegs.

"We need pitching and Hacker should be a big help to us," said Tebbetts.

NFL Steelers to Stay

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Speculation that the Pittsburgh Steelers might take their National Football League franchise to another city just about ended today.

Art Rooney, president of the Steelers, indicated strongly last night the club will stay here and continue to play its games at Forbes Field, home of the National Baseball League's Pittsburgh Pirates.

Rooney was optimistic after a conference with Tom Johnson, vice president of the Pirates. So was Johnson, who left today for a week's vacation in Florida.

Johnson will take up the Steelers problem with the Pirate board of directors after his return and said there should be no difficulty working out a new rental agreement with Rooney.

The Steelers' 10-year rental lease expired at the end of last season and the club has been playing on a game to game basis. Rooney wants his rent reduced, claiming other NFL clubs using major league baseball parks don't pay as much as he does. He pays 15 per cent of the net gate as rent.

"We fully understand Rooney's problem," said Johnson. "He's not being unreasonable. . ."

Recently the Steelers have received directly, or through the NFL commissioner's office, bids to move their franchise to Louisville, Denver, Minneapolis and Buffalo.

Wertz to Have Physical Check

DETROIT (AP) — Cleveland first baseman Vic Wertz, voted last week as having made the American League comeback-of-the-year in 1956, is back in a hospital here for a complete physical checkup.

"I haven't been feeling too well lately," Wertz explained today. "So my doctor thought I'd better have a complete series of tests."

Wertz entered the Detroit Osteopathic Hospital last Saturday. He expects to be released Friday or Saturday.

A victim of polio in 1955, Wertz' 32 home runs and general performance at the plate this past season earned him a majority of the votes for the American League comeback-of-the-year title in the annual Associated Press poll of members of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America.

Top 10 Happenings in 1956

Prep Grid Highlights Named

What were the outstanding highlights during the 1956 season as far as high school football in the Oakland County area was concerned?

Each gridiron campaign always furnishes a series of startling happenings and significant developments that thrill the fans and stick in their memories.

This year was certainly no exception to the rule.

The sports department of The Pontiac Press has made an attempt to name the 10 top highlights of the past season. No attempt has been made to list them in order of importance.

In the opinion of The Press sports staff, the following occurrences were tops for 1956.

2 — The sensational catch of Dion's pass by end Larry Hughes, which set up Walled Lake's game-deciding TD against Waterford.

3—Pontiac's last-second 13-12 victory over Lansing Sexton, Jim Shorter pitched a touchdown aerial to Freeman Watkins with only three seconds remaining and Dick Whitmer scored the all-important extra point.

4—Romeo's last-second win over Lapeer. The Bulldogs hit pay-dirt as the final gun sounded to beat the upstate Panthers, 26-19.

5—Stan Jones' 98-yard touchdown gallop against Lapeer, which led to a 20-13 victory for Waterford. The Skippers had just halted a Lapeer drive and Jones' run was the turning point of the game.

7—Highland Park St. Benedict's upset of Orchard Lake St. Mary on Nov. 4. The Ravens blanked the Eaglets, 13-0, to snap a 19-game winning streak.

8—Tom Wilson's 25-point scoring spree against Rochester. The brilliant Panther halfback ran wild as Lapeer dealt the Falcons their 1st loss, 25-13, on Oct. 19.

9—St. Frederick's 3rd consecutive season without victory. The Rams' last win was Sept. 20, 1953. Their winless string has now been extended to 34 games.

10 — The strong comebacks of Walled Lake, Troy and Bloomfield Hills after losing seasons in 1955. Walled Lake won three games a year ago while the Barons gained only one decision. Troy had not been in the victory column since 1953.

There you have it. There are undoubtedly others, such as Clawson's surprising 37-6 runaway over Avondale and Southfield's collapse after its 40-18 loss to Walled Lake. But those are the 10 highlights that stick with the Press.

Too Many Injuries

Closer Check on Fouls Needed in Sports Events

CHICAGO (AP) — Closer attention to rules by officials is needed to prevent sports injuries from many fouls or rule infractions which now go unnoticed", an article in the journal of the American Medical Assn. said today.

The article was written by Dr. Augustus Thorndike, chief surgeon of Harvard University's athletic department. He said many sports injuries could be prevented by better medical supervision of practices and events.

He believes the true incidence of injuries is too high, adding that only a few scattered figures are available and those are of deaths.

Thorndike recommended that a preventive program be developed by sports organizations and that a method of recording injuries on a national scale be devised, preferably through the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.

"Closer attention to rules by officials is needed to prevent injuries from many fouls or rule infractions which now go unnoticed," he said "Perhaps the fault lies in the rules, but perhaps it is the laxity in officiating."

He said the rate of injuries could be reduced "through changes in athletic rules and regulations, better enforcement of existing rules and better medical supervision, especially in high school and sandlot playground competition."

AP BACK — Johnny Majors, 165 pound tailback of the University of Tennessee's single wing attack, was named the Associated Press Back of the Week after his showing in the Vols' 6-0 win over Georgia Tech last week.

Seven of the eight members of Michigan's football coaching staff attended the university.

Lansing Schools Will Have 9th Grade Football

LANSING (AP) — The Lansing Board of Education has approved ninth grade football for the city's four junior high schools next fall.

The program was approved by a 4-3 vote with John Anas, board president, casting the deciding vote to break a tie.

It was proposed to have two squads, varsity and reserve, at each junior high school with each squad not to exceed 25 players. It was estimated it will cost about $50.00 to get the sports program underway.

Joe Beyers, city athletic director said it would be better for boys of the ninth grade level to play under coaching supervision than on sand lots.

Oklahoma Tops in Offense

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There's some that say a good defense is the best offense, and others will have you believe it's the other way around. Take your choice, but whatever you do don't go posing the question around Tempe, Ariz., home of the Arizona State football team that lost its first football game last Saturday.

The Sun Devils would probably just as well confine the conversation to clear cut matters such as total points scored. Against Texas Western they rolled for 404 yards and climbed from fourth to second in the nation in total offense, according to major college statistics released today by the NCAA Service Bureau. Texas Western picked up a paltry 288 yards, but won the ball game — and the Border Conference title.

Ahead of Arizona State, which has gained 3,085 yards in eight games for a 385.6 average, is Oklahoma with 2,950 yards in seven games for a 421.4 average. Army, Navy and Princeton follow in that order.

Aussies Watch Breen in Practice Session

MELBOURNE (AP) — George Breen, American swimming hope in the Olympic 1500-meters race went straight into a long, serious practice session in the Olympic pool this morning after arriving Tuesday.

A large crowd of Australians were in the stands, curious to see him since there is much interest in the forthcoming race with Australia's Murray Rose.

In the popular mind here this shapes up as the single most interesting men's swimming duel in the coming Olympics. There is much speculation as to the outcome. Many officials and coaches of other nations watched Breen with interest. He confined himself mainly to work with a flutterboard and swimming with a rubber band around his legs.

Ex-NHL Player Dies

Vol Tailback Johnny Majors Named AP Back

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Johnny Majors, a tremendous Tennessee tailback in the tradition of George Cafego and Hank Lauricella, today was named Associated Press Back of the Week, the top of the National Hockey League.

The 5-foot-10, 162-pound senior had few opportunities to display his offensive ability in a tight defensive battle with Georgia Tech last Saturday, but he came up with a clutch showing in a few short moments in the third period and that was all the Vols needed for a 6-0 victory.

Tennessee, the nation's No. 1 team in the Associated Press poll, moved for its score in four plays covering 65 yards. On the second play of the series Majors hit end Buddy Cruze with a 16-yard pass and before Tech recovered he came back on the next play to connect with Cruze again on a play that covered 45 yards, ending on the Tech one. Fullback Tommy Bronson took it over.

No Longer Soft Touch

Bruins Lead Amazed NHL

BOSTON (AP) — The surprising Bruins have mixed a simple formula of aggressiveness with plenty of hard work to surge to the top of the National Hockey League.

Seeking their first Stanley Cup championship in 15 years, the Bruins have taken over first place in hockey's "big league" with six straight victories — a feat unmatched by a Boston club for many seasons.

The season has a long way to go but the Bruins have surprised opponents, fans and even club officials by winning eight and tying three in 14 starts.

Trailing in the standings are such powerhouses as the Detroit Red Wings, the Montreal Canadiens and the Toronto Maple Leafs. All realize Boston no longer is a soft touch.

Boston does not have any individual star such as Montreal's Jean Beliveau or Detroit's Ted Lindsay. But the Bruins do have fight. They lead the NHL in penalties with a total of 217 minutes. Every Boston player must go all out on the ice or face the wrath of Coach Milt Schmidt, an all-time great who retired to the bench last season after many brilliant years with the Bruins.

"Last year I was just out of the player ranks and I wanted to be a good guy and apparently went too easy," Schmidt said. "This year it is different.

"There's hard work, and plenty of it, even when we are winning. And if I hear any of my players complaining . . . ."

The hard conditioning workouts have paid off. The Bruins have not suffered any series of severe injuries such as a year ago.

General Manager Lynn Patrick credits several things for the team's fine showing: Schmidt; the players' fine condition; lack of any great number of injuries; acquisition of four new players, and the successful conversion of Doug Mohns from forward to defense.

Two other reasons for the Boston success are the brilliant play of goalie Terry Sawchuk and the team's fine defensive work in killing off penalties.

Lane Favored in TV Fight

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Kenny Lane and Frank Ryff, ranked lightweights who are trying for higher standings, fight tonight.

Lane, a left-hander from Muskegon, Mich., is rated a 2-1 favorite. He has beaten the only two men who defeated Ryff and is currently rated in fifth place among 135-pounders. A victory might do much to win him a title fight with the champion, Joe Brown.

Ryff, a New York fighter, is ranked ninth by the National Boxing Assn. and is trying to climb back to the higher ratings he once held.

Boardman and Ralph Dupas are the two fighters who whipped Ryff and each has been defeated by Lane.

Ringneck Champions

Bedard, McKay Win Top Awards

By H. GUY MOATS

Last entry for the 1956 Pontiac Press pheasant contest and one listed midway in the annual ringneck "derby" today were acclaimed winners. Hunters who took them will soon receive U.S. Savings Bonds as their rewards.

New champions are:

Heavyweight division—Mrs. Ruth (Ira) Bedard, with 4-pound-8½-ounce entry. Mrs. Bedard will receive a $50 U.S. bond.

Longest bird division—Jerry McKay, whose 39⅞ inch bird won in a close contest. Jerry will receive a $25 bond.

The long-bird division, a new contest this year, attracted a lot of attention and produced some exceptional entries. One had a much longer tailfeather than the champion, but its body was chunkier and shorter.

Mrs. Bedard's winning entry was one of the heaviest in the long history of the contest. Apparently an old bird, it became a real delicacy after the expert culinary work of the huntress.

Mrs. Bedard is an expert shot. She credits her husband, who does some fine inlay work on gun stocks and grips, with her success. "We do a lot of target shooting. I'm better with the rifle, than shotgun," (she needed only one shot for her prize-winner.)

LONGEST — Here's the 1956 champion "longest" bird for The Pontiac Press pheasant contest. It measured 39 and ⅞ inches long, was entered by Jerry McKay of Pontiac (above).

Trout Fishing Booming

LANSING — Trout fishing — probably the most exciting angling in Michigan—continues to grow more popular each year.

License sales reports through October indicate an increase of more than five per cent over last year in the number of trout fishermen in the state. This increase reflects the trend which has added about 10,000 persons to the trout fishermen ranks each year since 1952.

Five years ago, Michigan had approximately 186,000 licensed trout anglers. Sales of trout stamps this year indicate the total will be about 238,000.

Two factors generally are given credit for this trout fishing boom. Widespread introduction of spinning tackle, and Michigan's extensive trout management program.

Easily as important in Michigan is the state's expanded trout management program. The over-all program has resulted in several advancements in research, trout breeding, habitat improvement, hatchery feeding and trout plantings.

Two Possibilities in Trout Experiment

LANSING — Early returns from Michigan's program of planting "steelhead trout" at the mouths of Great Lakes streams indicate at least two possibilities: one, that rainbow trout in the Great Lakes gain weight and size rapidly before spawning up inland streams and, two, that instead of all these fish returning to the stream where planted, many migrate long distances and choose different stream for their spawning runs.

Played on 1,040 Courses

COOPERSTOWN, N. Y. (AP) — John B. Ryerson has played 1,040 golf courses during the last 36 years, but has no hopes to match Ralph Kennedy's mark. Kennedy has played 3,162 courses.

Ryerson, who operates the Otsego Golf Club, has played 966 courses in the United States, 37 in Canada and 37 in Hawaii, Mexico, Great Britain, France, China, India, Siam and Malaya. His best scores over each of the various courses are mounted in six leather-bound books.

Rich Turfman Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Clifford Mooers, 67-year-old millionaire turfman, fell dead at LaGuardia Field last night of a heart attack.

He apparently was enroute to Pawtucket, R. I. where his race horse, Traffic Judge, was entered in today's Narragansett Special.

Police said Mooers had $4,000 cash in his pockets. The body was taken to the Queens County Hospital morgue.

$300 Hunting Jackpot

2-Way Press Deer Contest Gets Under Way Thursday

Oakland county deer hunters will be shooting for two big prizes in the new Pontiac Press contest starting Thursday. With the opening of the state's general gun deer season, the annual fall contest also goes into action.

In other years Pontiac area hunters had a three-way "tourney" in which to test their hunting skill and luck with a total reward of $300. The new contest also offers $300 in U.S. Bonds, but is tied up in two divisions. Winner of each receives $150.

Heaviest deer division is retained. And it isn't certain that the hunter (or huntress) that goes into the traditionally "big deer" section of the Upper Peninsula will bag the heaviest buck. One of the largest in this contest was taken right at home in Oakland County.

New division is that for the widest rack. In this case the heaviest antlers, or the one with most points may not even be the winner. Rack with the widest spread will take down the $150 U.S. Savings Bond.

Only full-time county residents are eligible. Bucks entered, however, may be taken anywhere in Michigan where such hunting is legal. Heavy deer entries must be dressed out before weighing. Rack entries must not be detached from the heads.

Entries may be filed between 8 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. each day, except that none will be taken after noon Saturday and none on Sundays. Dec. 4 at noon is the final entry date. Entries should be made at The Pontiac Press for checking and photographing.

Graham With Mates in Olympic Village

MELBOURNE, Nov. 14 (AP) — Youthful Jim Graham, Oklahoma A&M pole vaulter, who voluntarily withdrew from the U. S. Olympic team, is back with his mates.

He is an unofficial member of the party but thanks to the Australian Olympic committee, he is living with the American team in the Olympic Village and is very happy about it.

Graham, hampered in tuneup meets in California by a leg injury, and unable to match his 14-feet 8½ qualifying vault, withdrew in favor of alternate Bob Gutowski of Occidental College at Los Angeles.

Grateful Occidental students and Jim's hometown folks of Tulsa raised funds to send him to Melbourne.

LANSING—Hunters killing buck deer near Pontiac or elsewhere in southern Michigan are urged to phone Conservation Department District Headquarters at Imlay City.

Pontiac area hunters can call this Michigan Conservation Department office collect at Imlay City 345. A game biologist will go to the hunter's residence, weigh the deer, measure its antlers, and determine its age by the amount of wear on the teeth.

If the deer has already been taken to a frozen food locker for processing, the biologist will examine it there. Even if only the head remains, he can still obtain valuable information.

"We need to determine the age and weight of over 300 southern Michigan buck deer this fall," states Thomas Osmer, district game supervisor. "Only by examining an adequate number of well-fed deer from southern Michigan farmland deer range can we fully appreciate the inroads that deficient winter food supply have made in much of our northern Michigan herd."

"Weights and antler measurements from southern deer will be compared with the much larger volume of data obtained from northern deer at roadside checking stations and in extensive locker plant checks," says District Game Supervisor Osmer. "Annual inventories of this type will contribute much toward determining the effects of special deer seasons such as are again authorized this fall."

Usually southern Michigan bucks are larger and develop better antlers than most northern deer of the same age. Southern yearling deer normally develop six point racks and dress out at 130 pounds. Most northern bucks at a year and a half are spike-horns or three or four pointers and weigh about 100 pounds.

Wives Should Know Where Hunters Go

LANSING (INS) — Michigan State Police have asked wives of deer hunters to see that their husbands are not hard to find in the field should an emergency arise back home.

Inspector James Dunleavy of the general service bureau suggested that the wives have on hand the license number, model and style of their husbands' automobiles and also know the name of the area where the husband intends to hunt.

It was explained that if this is done, it will make searching for the hunter an easier job in case he is wanted at home for an emergency. This information is also needed in case the hunter himself becomes lost or is wounded.

Gun Safety for Hunters

WASHINGTON (INS) — National Rifle Association lists these 10 general rules for gun safety:

1—Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded weapon.

2—Always unload guns carried into camp or home and when not in use take down the action or break the gun open.

3—Always be sure the barrel and action are clear of obstructions.

4—Always carry the gun to permit control of the muzzle, even if you should fall. Keep the safety on until you are ready to fire.

5—Be sure of your target.

6—Never point a gun at anything you don't want to kill and avoid horseplay while handling a gun.

7—Unattended guns should always be unloaded. Guns and ammunition should be stored separately and beyond the reach of children and careless adults.

8—Never climb a tree or fence, or jump a ditch with a loaded gun. Never pull a gun toward you by the muzzle.

Check Weapons Hunters Advised

LANSING (INS)—The Conservation Department has suggested that deer hunters closely inspect their guns before entering the woods Thursday to hunt.

Many accidents have occurred when gun barrels, plugged from cleaning patches, exploded. Snow, mud or even a spider's web in a dusty barrel can cause the action to smash the hunter's face.

To prevent such gun accidents, the department urges all nimrods to inspect guns before loading for the hunt even though careful attention was given the weapon "back home."

'Deer Widow' Queries

Why Men Go Hunting, Early

BY JACK PATTERSON

CURRAN, MICH.—Because this is mid-November this column must in all conscience be about deer hunting. Because it is the 14th, the last possible day that northbound hunters can pull stakes and still make tomorrow's opening we suspect that there are not enough hunters left around home to make an effort in their behalf, on our part, worthwhile. Therefore this column is dedicated more or less solemnly to the gals they left behind.

PATTERSON

You "deer widows" have lots of questions about deer hunting and the part your menfolk play in it. Two questions, however, take precedence in your busy minds. (1) Why go deer hunting anyway? (2) Why, if the hunting season opens on Thursday, does my husband have to leave the Friday before?

Hmmmmm, well, lets see. Offhand we can't think of a good straightforward answer to either question, so we'll try an oblique approach. This is not weaseling, girls, it's just giving us a little time to think. Men have been trying to answer these questions since the first one went hunting but women can be mighty obtuse sometimes.

Why go deer hunting, you ask. Is it a matter of obtaining a rare table delicacy? Well, not'ardly, one privately admits, so long as they still grow prime beeves. Is it the pleasure of being outdoors? Well, one kind of thinks to himself, if shivering through a day of sleet, snow, hail, rain and a few other things is pleasure, why sure, maybe, he says. He also thinks of spending a few fitful hours of semi-sleep in a smoky, overheated cabin, so he'll be in shape to put in another day of the same.

Why, then, you say, it must be a matter of companionship. Well, he thinks a minute, it might be if he didn't roost with the same old gang he has lunch with every day. Same old stories, getting fleeced at the same old card games.

Your eyes get a harder gleam. Why, of course, it's the peace and quiet of the woods. He thinks of the woods. Wheeeee! Ziiiiing! Bam! Blooie! Peace and quiet, indeed.

Now you're convinced. The only reason the poor old guy wants to go deer hunting is that he's bone lazy and can get out of work, thereby. You tell him so. He thinks about shooting a deer, the abysmal moment of finishing it off, the worse chore that follows. He remembers dragging it through trackless swamp, arriving at camp spent and done, to learn that he has drawn the dish detail.

No, girls, deer hunting is fun, but we doubt if we'll ever convince you through pure logic. As we said, women are pretty hard to explain things to.

Now about that second question. Why go early? Search back, girls, to those long-ago days of childhood. Didn't you ever peek at Christmas presents a little ahead of the legal day. Well, getting north a few days early is the same sort of thing but we doubt if we can make that stick with you because girls grow up and boys don't.

Archer Misses at 22 Paces—With 6 Shots

LANSING — A galling, quiver-full of frustration dogged the traces of an archer hunting deer near Trenary in the Upper Peninsula recently but failed to dampen his determination to bag a white-tail with his bow and arrows.

The archer reported to Conservation officer Gilbert Larsen, Trenary, that he shot six times at a spike horn buck at a distance of 22 paces—and missed every time.

"But I'm going back," he told Larsen, "and I expect to get a deer—someday."

Larsen Still Remains in Serious Condition

CASTRO VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—Art Larsen, 1950 National amateur tennis champion, remained unconscious and in serious condition today but doctors at Eden Hospital said they were optimistic about his chances.

He suffered a ruptured brain artery Saturday when his motor scooter overturned.

Triple-A Plans Park Meeting

Pontiac Division Will Be Host at Dinner on Dec. 12

On Dec. 12, at the Pontiac Elks lodge, last of a series of dinner-meetings sponsored by the Automobile Club of Michigan to discuss "The State of Our Parks" will take place. The series began early in November and some 18 municipalities are hosts, according to Auto Club officials.

Arthur J. Bogue, Pontiac division manager, is in charge of the local arrangements, Detroit office announced.

These meetings bring together state and local officials, Chamber of Commerce representatives, school people, civic leaders and others to hear a detailed outline of the state parks situation.

The series is part of an intensive campaign by the Triple-A to gain attention for a stepped-up improvement and expansion program throughout the state park system.

Oakland County has many state parks and such a campaign could be of wide benefit to the area.

Better Try It! Loot Growing for Pot-O-Gold

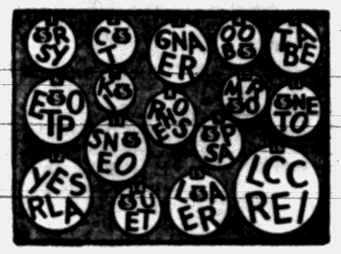

Here's another chance to empty Pot-O-Gold into your own pockets. If no winner is found for last week's puzzle, Puzzle No. 24 will be worth $600. To figure out the correct solution, check the clues below and be sure to read the rules carefully. Even a perfect answer is no good if it comes in late or is mailed incorrectly.

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below.

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conforms to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

2 Republicans Seeking Top Post at Waterford

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Since the election Nov. 6 of township supervisor Lloyd L. Anderson to the Legislature, two Republicans have announced they will seek the supervisor's job in the spring primary Feb. 18.

The Republican hopefuls are township clerk Louis G. Barry and Richard C. Kuhn, who was defeated in the August primaries in his bid for the GOP nomination as state senator from Oakland County.

No Democratic aspirants have yet appeared.

Kuhn, a graduate of Michigan State University and Detroit College of Law, is the owner of an auto wash in Pontiac. Married, he has been active in the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, and is a member of the Chamber of Commerce, the Waterford Junior Chamber of Commerce, and Waterford CAI. He is a former chairman of the Central Oakland Planning Council.

Barry, also an MSU graduate, has been Waterford Township clerk for five years. Married, he is a veteran of World War II and a member of Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Asked if he would seek the Democratic nomination as supervisor, Billie S. Farnum, township resident who is now assistant secretary of state in charge of the Detroit branch office, discounted rumors he is in the race.

"Not that I know of," Farnum said.

Seeks City Approval of New Fire Station

Pontiac's State Rep. Leslie H. Hudson last night asked the City Commission to consider construction of a fire station for the north end.

"With the construction of the Grand Trunk yard, there is all the more need for a fire hall for the protection of the residents north of the railroad's belt line," Hudson said.

He mentioned many traffic snarls that might result from trains blocking crossing preventing emergency vehicles from getting through.

Hudson led the fight of the north-side Wever-Owen-Hawthorne Community Club to keep the yard out of their neighborhood. The Commission voted to let the railroad construct it last night.

Stockholders Vote Tuesday

Raise First State Bank Capital From $250,000 to $375,000

HOLLY — At a stockholders meeting here Tuesday it was voted to increase the capital stock of the First State and Savings Bank from $250,000 to $375,000.

At the same time the par value of the now outstanding 2,000 shares was reduced from $100 to $20 each. Their present market value is $250 each.

To make the change, 10,000 shares of new common stock will be issued at the $20 par value, the stockholders to be given five shares for each one share they now hold.

They also will be allowed to purchase their quota of 2,500 shares of the new stock at $40 per share. The rest will be offered the general public.

There also will be a 50 per cent stock dividend declared to the holders of the new stock. This will make the new capital stock of $375,000 represented by 18,750 shares of $20 par stock and surplus of $125,000.

In the new setup the board of directors is increased from seven to eight members. The new director is Henry D. Seeley, for many years a local businessman. He long has been well conversant with property values in this area.

The other members of the board are Chairman, E. A. Hartz; President, W. E. Lentz; Vice Presidents, H. H. Miller and W. M. Shuttleworth with F. M. Haddon, M. E. Hadley and J. L. Montgomery completing its personnel. M. H. Bennett is cashier.

The bank's statements show a total in excess of $8,000,000. The usual annual cash dividend of ten per cent will be paid this week to the holders of the old stock.

Group Reviews News Policies

Defense Department Report Hits Tendency to Overclassify

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House subcommittee on government information reviewed a special study of Defense Department news policies today while its chairman complained he had received no advance copies.

Chairman Moss (D-Calif) said in an interview it would have been "much more helpful to the subcommittee" if copies of the study had been made available at least a day in advance. Moss and other subcommittee members got copies when the report was made public yesterday — toward the end of the first day of hearings by the House group.

A Pentagon-appointed advisory committee, headed by former Asst. Secretary of Defense Charles A. Coolidge, recommended among other things that when serious "leaks" of defense information occur and the military cannot discover the source, reporters be summoned before grand juries. Secretary of Defense Wilson, however, said he would have "serious reservations" about that.

The Coolidge committee also reported finding "no conscious attempt" by defense officials to withhold information which should be public. But it recommended further efforts to cure what it called defects in the system for determining what data should be kept secret. It said there is a "tendency to overclassify."

Moss said Wilson had formally accepted the report Monday. The subcommittee had asked for the findings, he added, and if these had been provided by that time, "it would have been evidence of cooperation."

Village Departments Push Improvements

(Editor's Note: This is one of a series of articles based on Rochester's growth.)

Rapid increase in its growth means increasing work for Rochester's village departments.

The village now has 23 miles of paved streets and only a mile and a half which remain unpaved. This year $20,000 was spent on paving, of which total two-thirds was resurfacing and the other third was new asphalt over gravel.

The village also put in $10,000 worth of sidewalks and some additional sewers. Today, new subdivisions within the village are required to provide paved streets and all utilities.

Rochester maintains a sewage disposal plant with primary treatment. It has been warned by the state that it must provide secondary treatment soon to reduce pollution of the Clinton River. James D. Salyer is plant superintendent.

The village is planning a new parking lot between East Business Alley and East street from Fourth to Fifth streets. It will accommodate 140 cars, with provision for both short time and all-day parking. This will be completed next spring. The village has options on all the land and will blacktop and curb the area.

This lot is directly across the street from another lot for 60 cars which the village already is operating. Cost of the new lot is estimated at $100,000, to be financed by revenue bonds.

The village has no outstanding general obligation bonds, but there is $24,000 in revenue bonds for the water system. The village has the money ready to retire these as they become due.

CIVIC CENTER

Another new project on which the community is working is a 16-acre downtown civic center, only a block and a half from Fifth and Main streets. An open air theater is planned there, complete with stage suitable both for dramatic productions and band concerts. A lagoon also is being constructed which will provide fishing in the summer and skating in the winter for the young people. Later, the village plans to erect a new building to house the municipal offices.

"We have $50,000 saved for this purpose already," said Village Manager Robert Slone. "The land for the civic center was given the village by the Higbie Manufacturing Co. and the Chamber of Commerce is helping develop the project."

He cited the village's building permits as one sign of growth. These totaled $566,855 for the current year to date.

In addition to his duties as village manager and treasurer, Slone is secretary of the Avon-Rochester Area Planning Commission. This body was formed in 1951. Five members represent Avon Township and five represent Rochester Village.

ROBERT SLONE

Rex Bebout is chairman and Clarence Burr, village president, is vice chairman. The commission employed Geer Associates of Birmingham as a consultant. It will have a master plan ready in about six months. This will include several volumes of studies of the community's needs from the standpoint of population, traffic, etc. The commission makes recommendations to the governing bodies of township and village.

A study of recreation needs also is being made by a committee made up of two representatives each from the township board, the village council and the school board.

Rochester has Avon Township Park within its borders, in addition to the proposed civic center. Bloomer State Park is immediately adjacent to the village and the proposed 3,500-acre Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority development on which work will start later, also is nearby.

Rochester's churches provide a splendid example of the way growth is affecting the community. The new Lutheran church was built in 1952. The new Episcopal church and the new Baptist church were built a year later. The Christian Science Church is now under construction.

The Congregational Church has just finished a new parsonage and is raising a fund to build a new church on its new site. The Methodist Church is finishing a new parsonage on a new eight-acre site and has $80,000 on hand toward a new church.

Another sign of progress is the rebuilding of the big bridge on Rochester road at the southern entrance to the village. Now a two lane highway, the new bridge will have three lanes according to present plans, although village officials are urging the State Highway Department to make it four lanes in view of the growing traffic problem. Bids on this job were to be opened Nov. 21. Now there may be delay while state officials study the village's suggestions that three lanes will be inadequate.

One of the minor problems arising from the community's progress was cited by Manager Slone. The new high school building has been built outside the village limits, hence has no police protection. The village is providing water and sewer service, the schools having run their own lines to connect with the village mains.

Her lace gloves and a bouquet of white fuji mums completed her outfit for the wedding in First Presbyterian Church Pontiac.

Her maid of honor was Mary Ann Michie of Pontiac, and her bridesmaids were Alys Clark of Wayne, Joyce Brandenstien of Royal Oak, and Joyce Clements and Lynda Lynd, both of Pontiac.

Flower girls were Shirley Ann and Roberta Harwood of Windsor, Ont. and ringbearer was Lloyd Harwood, also of Windsor.

After the wedding, the couple received guests at the Bemis Olson Amvet Hall in Pontiac.

After a Miami honeymoon, they will reside in Ypsilanti, where both have graduated from Cleary College.

Pair Grab Woman, Make Off With Purse

Two juvenile hoodlums robbed a woman of her purse while she stood in the doorway of her apartment house last night, Pontiac police said.

Mary Burkman of 7 Prall St. said she was waiting in the doorway about 7:45 p. m. when the pair came walking down the sidewalk.

Both suddenly ran at her, she said. While one held her arms, the other grabbed her purse. Then they fled south on Prall, she added.

About $10 was in the purse, she said. Police said she was unable to describe the two boys.

Quick Action Saves 5 Children in Blaze

A quick-thinking Avon Township woman rushed five children to safety and then returned to help extinguish a fire which could have proved serious at her home at 3309 Eastwood Dr. yesterday.

The prompt actions of Mrs. Philip Ball prevented any injuries to the children, four of which are her own, and saved her home from possible destruction.

She and Avon Township Fire Chief Merrill Van Gelder had the small blaze out before fire trucks arrived on the scene. Damaged were a clothes hamper, clothing, and a utility room wall.

Mrs. Ball told firemen her three-year-old son had apparently started the fire when he dropped a lighted match into the clothes hamper. She said she did not know about the blaze until a short time later when another son went to the room to get his coat and discovered the hamper on fire.

"About 1,138 different people are taking part weekly in nine activities, and many more hundreds are engaged in two other activities monthly," he reports.

Pyramids Unattractive, DeMille Builds Others

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Cecil B. De Mille manufactured his own pyramids for "The Ten Commandments." The usual stinky old pyramids that tourists see in Egypt were too crumby-looking.

Miss Yvonne De Carlo, the slithering gal who emerges as a non-slitherer in De Mille's spectacular, mentioned this to me at the premiere.

"I was in Egypt and remember how the British papers hooted about 'De Mille bringing his own pyramids'," Miss De Carlo said. "But why not? In Biblical days the pyramids must have been beautiful, but now with all the alabaster and stone torn off them, they don't look so good. Mr. De Mille made his own."

Miss De Carlo, who a couple years ago was traveling like a Secretary of State, is now more or less "grounded" since her marriage to Bob Morgan, a Hollywood stunt man, and the birth of their son, Bruce.

YVONNE

"Thanks to Mr. De Mille," she said, "I can get in some Class A pictures. For a long time I did only mediocre films.

"And if I don't get some good ones, I can just change diapers and let my husband fall off of houses."

Ever since "Salome Where She Danced," Yvonne'd been slithering and shakin' in and out of veils and on the desert sands.

"Mr. De Mille had seen me in a picture called 'Sombrero' which I made 3½ years ago in Mexico.

"He said, 'That's the face I want. Get me that face'."

That shows another unusual thing about De Mille. He'd noticed her face, an area of Yvonne that hardly anybody else ever saw, especially when she was in those diaphanous veils. Yvonne became "Sephora," wife of Moses who inspired him to find God.

"There were a lot of old, old opinions against me in Hollywood which Mr. De Mille has changed," Yvonne announced. "There comes a moment when you ruin your career and I had just about reached it. But now . . ."

Her stunt man husband came in for the premiere and I found it fun meeting a fellow whom horses can fall on and never hurt, or who's always being run over by trucks. Roofs cave in on him a lot, too.

"It's a business," Yvonne said. "They figure it our scientifically.

"I'm quite used to it, now. When somebody phones and says 'Where's Bob?' I say 'Oh, he's being blown up today' or 'Well, he should be getting trapped in a burning building about now.' It's all very business like."

Rookie cop Alfred Ottanio of Stamford, who won $11,000 on "Beat the Clock," had had to send in a note to his precinct captain saying he was sick—but his precinct captain saw him on the show, and ordered him in for disciplinary action. Rather than face it, the cop, wealthy with the equivalent of three years' salary as a policeman, just quit his policeman's job.

Henny Youngman refuses to fly to his Las Vegas date: "I'm a coward, and I'll have more time to look at my money" . . . Abbe Lane Cugat, opening in Miami, is insisting on a 10-room suite.

Marlon Brando tried to get into a U.N. session and identified himself. The cop told him, "You can't get in—I don't care if you're Elvis Presley!"

Hollywood Headlines:

'The Loving Couple' Set for Hepburn and Ferrer

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — I'd call this a 10 strike—Audrey Hepburn and Mel Ferrer in "The Loving Couple," the amusing book by Virginia Rowans (the pen name of Patrick Dennis, who wrote "Auntie Mame").

If you've read the book you know how amusing it is. The latter half you have to read upside down.

Freddie Brisson, who's going to produce "The Loving Couple," discussed the possibilities of co-starring Mel and Audrey while Mel was in Hollywood.

When Mel went back to Europe he took the book and Audrey said she wants to co-star with Mel and she thinks this would be just right. Freddie had said all the time that he ganted to get a real life husband and wife team for the star roles.

I'm already holding my sides laughing over the idea of Joan Blondell playing Peg in "Desk Set" at 20th.

If you saw the play with Shirley Booth, you'll remember Peg as the heroine's closest pal—and she has an inebriated scene in a business office that brought down the house with laughter.

In the film, of course, Katharine Hepburn plays the Booth role and Spencer Tracy is the co-star with Walter Lang directing.

Joan hasn't been on the 20th lot since "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn" which earned her an an Acadamy Award nomination. Maybe Peg will get her the same honor.

YVONNE CONSIDERED

Looking at "Ten Commandments" gave Mike Curtiz an idea about Yvonne de Carlo, as indeed it must have given other producers ideas. He saw her as Helen Morgan.

"Ten Commandments" is the best thing Yvonne has ever done, and completely different from the usual siren roles in which her sex appeal is featured. She plays the wife of Moses, and is a standout in a cast of fine players.

Mike will test her for "Why Was I Born?" and he is also discussing Olivia de Havilland for the Helen Morgan story. I must also add Jennifer Jones is still being discussed.

I believe "The Wild Party," as modern as next month, is a real sleeper. It fascinated, irritated and amused me—all at the same time.

It's a study of music-mad, drug-addicted youth, done so skillfully that it slipped by the censorship which forbids drug addiction to be shown on the screen.

It stars Anthony Quinn and Kathy Grant, and was produced by Sidney Harmon for less than $400,000. But its originality lies in its wacky dialogue by John McPartland and its musical score by Buddy Bregman, which you have to hear to believe.

Really Raked It In

MARSHFIELD, Wis. (AP) — A youngster sent outside to rake leaves returned a short time later and handed her older sister a stack of currency she had picked up in the yard. The find was reported to police. A bit later, the housewife called the police and said it was her own money. In her absence, she said, the older daughter had washed some draperies and had hung them on the line to dry. The money, about $120, sewed into the hem of the drapes, dislodged and was blown about in the breeze. The younger daughter picked up most of it.

Larceny Boomerangs for Dixie Pawnbroker

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — City patrolman Bill Holt says a man staggered into a pawnshop, handed the operator a check for $35, and blurted: "Shay, buddy, can you cash thish check for $20?" The pawnbroker, seeing a chance to pick up an easy $15, said "sure."

Only after the check bounced did the pawnbroker decide the "drunk" wasn't so drunk after all. Holt added that he was too embarrassed to make a formal complaint.

Grandma Moses Never Painted on This Scale

LOWELL, Mich. (AP)—Mrs. Julia M. Hosley, a 71-year-old grandmother, ranks with the most ambitious practitioners of "do it yourself" projects.

She recently completed painting the exterior of her three-story, 16-room house. The only help she accepted was from her son, Richard, who helped move a 40-foot ladder used on the job.

Mrs. Hosley started the project this summer, soon after painting a six-room house for another son. She worked from 6:30 a.m. daily, weather permitting, until dark.

"I have never been sick a day in my life. Work is what keeps me well," she says.

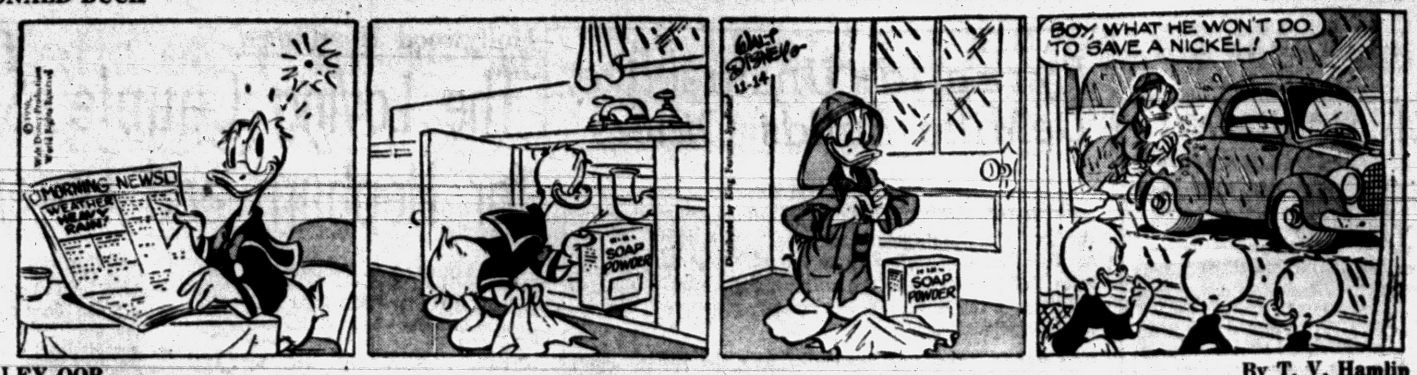

Mrs. Hosley and her late husband, Frederick, came to Lowell in 1911. She says running the Hosley house from the start brought the handyman arts of plumbing, carpentry and painting under her jurisdiction.

Trading Mixes Grain Picture

CHICAGO (AP)—A confusing mixture of small gains and losses were hung up in grains on the Board of Trade today. Dealings were active even though the market got nowhere.

Hedging pressure weighed against the market but support developed on a renewal of apprehension over the Middle East situation. This was aroused by failure of the United Nations peace force to get off for Egypt.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ¼ lower to ½ higher, December $2.37⅞, corn ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, December $1.38¾, oats unchanged to ½ higher, December 78¾, rye ¼ to 1¼ higher, December $1.54¾, soybeans unchanged to ¾ higher, November $2.52¼, and lard 15 to 22 cents a hundred pounds higher, November $12.62.

* * *

In the early trade the near-by wheat deliveries held steady but the distant 1957 crop months eased. Weakness in these distant months was occasioned by a Weather Bureau forecast of snow or rain for much of Nebraska, Kansas, and Oklahoma.

Regain Freedom Only With Blood

By TOM BRADSHAW

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The 23rd annual meeting of the Associated Press Managing Editors Assn. was told today that the Hungarian revolt has emphasized a maxim that "once you lose freedom, you regain it only through bloodshed."

In an address prepared for the convening session in historic Congress Hall, APME President V.M. Newton Jr. of the Tampa (Fla.) Tribune said this "was driven home to all of us three weeks ago as the Hungarians shedding the blood of thousands of lives on the altar of liberty, cried out for freedom of speech and freedom of the press as they rebelled against their Russian masters."

Newton said that in the United States the greatest current struggle involves what he described as efforts by government agencies to withhold from the press the facts and figures of their "inner workings."

He said that this year the representatives of all 19 government executive agencies called before the congressional committee on government information "admitted that they freely withheld news of government from the people, and several testified that they had the 'inherent' right to do this.'

* * *

"When a free people bestow freedom upon its press," Newton said, "they also bestow the obligation and responsibility of printing all facts of free government t the time and not after the fact, when too often in history it has been too late."

Beer Law Violators Receive Sentences

A Royal Oak youth and an Atlanta man are serving sentences in the Oakland County Jail today for violations of the state beer law.

James R. Amell, 20, of 544 N. Rochester Rd., Royal Oak, was jailed for 20 days after pleading guilty to being a minor in possession.

Malcolm M. McNeil, 23, got 30 days for furnishing beer to a minor after also entering a guilty plea. Both were arraigned before Justice Fletcher Renton of Royal Oak.

Market Prices Decline Gently

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices settled backward in moderately active early trading today.

Key issues slipped from fractions to around 2 points. The opening was irregularly lower, then the market dipped.

The decline followed two days of an advance on average although a reversal of the rise began to get underway late in yesterday's session.

Lukens Steel, which advanced 15¾ in the past two sessions was down around 4 on profit taking.

Steels, aircrafts and coppers, the pacemakers of the past two days lost ground. Oils with big holdings in the Middle East declined decisively as the international situation remained doubtful.

Royal Dutch and Gulf Oil each lost more than a point.

U.S. Steel was off a point or so and Bethlehem a fraction. Boeing was up around a point and United Aircraft a fraction but Douglas Aircraft edged off.

Anaconda declined despite its excellent earnings report and Kennecott Copper was down around a point. Phelps Dodge was steady.

American Telephone inched off. American Cyanamid fell around a point and International Paper a major fraction.

Among opening blocks were Boeing up ⅞ at 59¼ on 3,000 shares, Royal Dutch off 1⅝ at 99⅝ on 1,000, General Motors off ¼ at 45¼ on 2,500 and Lockheed up ¼ at 54⅜ on 2,000.

On the American stock exchange irregularity prevailed. Losses were taken by British Petroleum, Northeast Airlines and Hazeltine. Gains were posted by International Petroleum, Barium Steel and Glen Alden.

Corporate bonds were mixed.

Yesterday the Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 20 cents to $180.00.

Orders Budget Cuts

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams has ordered all state agencies to make "drastic cuts" in their budget requests for the next fiscal year. The governor said he acted after receiving a report from James W. Miller, state controller, that state departments are asking about 132 million dollars more for next year's operations of capital outlay than was granted by the last legislative session.

Faulty Wire Starts Fire

Hungary Gets Greatest Help From Poland

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Poland has reported to the United Nations the largest cash donation thus far for the aid of Hungary — two million dollars.

The U.N. listed a million dollars from the United States for aid to Hungarian refugees. In all, nine nations offered a total of $3,762,500, plus food and other items.

The report said eight nations have agreed to accept 20,500 Hungarian refugees and three others have invited an indefinite number.

France offered to accept "any refugees who wish to come here." Argentina pledged to take 3,000 refugee children. Canada gave priority to immigration of Hungarian refugees.

Definite quota acceptances were: Switzerland 2,000; Sweden 1,000, Belgium 4,000, Netherlands 1,000, United States 5,000, Britain 2,500, Italy 2,000, Australia 3,000.

Shrimp Boat Incident Discussed in Mexico

TAMPICO, Mexico (AP)—Mexican coast guardsmen and Texas shrimp fishermen tell conflicting stories of the latest shooting incident in the Gulf of Mexico. The Mexicans charge the Texans with fishing in their territorial waters; the Texans deny it.

Capt. Tom Wilson of the shrimp boat Pescadora, wounded by rifle fire from a Mexican cutter in the fracas Monday, was reported in good condition in a hospital here. He may be flown home to Brownsville, Tex., today.

U. S. Consul George D. Whittinghill said Wilson suffered "a light wound" and would be "up and around in a few days."

A formal hearing will be held today to determine if the Pescadora and its two other crewmen should be seized and tried or released immediately.

Mexican officials did not seem inclined to push the case too far. An informed official source said he believed the boat and crew would be released without charges and without loss of their catch.

The Pescadora was escorted into Tampico yesterday by the Mexican coast guard boat G28, which fired on the shrimper Monday night off the Mexican coast.

The Mexican coast guard version of the incident was that the Pescadora, out of Brownsville, was fishing inside the nine-mile limit Mexico sets on her territorial waters and tried to escape when ordered to halt. After a third warning, the Mexican cutter said it opened fire, wounding Wilson.

The Pescadora crew said they were well outside Mexico's nine-mile limit and trying to move farther out when the G28 opened fire.

Court Backs Negroes in Alabama Dispute Over Segregation

By REX THOMAS

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Jubilant Montgomery Negroes seemed near the end of their historic bus boycott today.

But they turned back to federal court for the right to continue their own transportation system as long as the boycott goes on.

They appealed to U.S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. to prohibit city authorities from interfering with the car pool the Negroes have used for 11 months while refusing to ride segregated city buses.

The city won a temporary injunction in state court yesterday to halt the motor pool until further notice. Circuit Judge Eugene Carter granted the restraining order although the U.S. Supreme Court had outlawed bus segregation earlier in the day.

Negro lawyers challenged the state court's jurisdiction yesterday because the appeal to Johnson in federal court was already on file before the city got into court with its injunction request.

Both in their petition in U.S. court and in arguments before Carter yesterday, the Negroes said that any interference with their civil and constitutional rights.

With or without help from the federal court, however, Carter's injunction was destined to have little effect on the car pool system in view of a Negro leader's prediction that the boycott itself would end tonight.

The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., president of the boycott-supporting Montgomery Improvement Assn., told newsmen the decision will come at a mass meeting tonight at a Negro church.

While emphasizing that he couldn't speak for all the members of his race, King said he felt certain the Negroes will vote to patronize Montgomery city lines buses again now that the segregation laws have been knocked out.

Ease Reins on Youth in East Germany

BERLIN (AP) — Communist East Germany announced today that it will no longer impose political indoctrination on youths who are learning a trade. Western observers viewed the move as another effort to pacify the East German population, grown more restive since the anti-Soviet upheavals in Poland and Hungary.

The Communists' official youth newspaper Junge Welt said more stress was frequently placed on political matters than on professional training.

World Coffee Shoots Upward, FAO Reports

ROME (AP)—Coffee skyrocketed this year on the world market.

Brazilian exports for the first nine months of 1956 rose 63 per cent over the same period last year, according to the latest survey by the Food & Agriculture Organization (FAO).

Colombia's crop had been hard hit by unfavorable weather, but by dipping into reserve stocks the country shipped abroad 16 per cent more than in the first half of last year.

Prices on normal grade coffee held firm, FAO reported, but the better grades were bringing substantially higher prices than in 1955.

The United States was still the biggest single buyer. FAO said the U.S. purchases in the first half of the year were 25 per cent above the same period in 1955.

European imports through May were up 15 per cent, although French imports ran only level with the same period the year before.

Chevrolet, Ford Work Overtime

Autos Lag Behind Mark; 2 Plants Add Extra Shifts

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP) — So far this year the nation's auto plants have rolled out 4,810,000 passenger cars; they are a couple of hundred thousand units behind schedule and there is some question whether the 12-month total for 1956 will reach six million units.

The car makers scheduled 648,000 units for production this month. They probably will build fewer than 600,000. They should go to 650,000 in December. That will give a 12-month total of about 5,900,000 units.

The lagging schedules are what prompted Chevrolet and Ford to start Saturday overtime work in most of their plants. Other producers who encountered production difficulties along with parts shortages also reportedly are surveying possibilities for extra shift operations.

The industry's present situation presents a sharp contrast to that of last year. At that time production was high. The assembly lines were rolling out more than 180,000 passenger cars weekly. Last week they completed 575,000 units. Today they are well below that total although the tabulations have not been completed.

DEMAND HIGH

Substantial design changes, coupled with an unexpected shortage of the new models, have stimulated demand for them. Even at the higher production tempo indicated for the remaining weeks of the year it is not likely production will overtake the volume of dealer orders.

Thus the industry will go into calendar 1957 in much better shape than it started the present year. The huge accumulation of some 904,000 new cars in dealer stocks last March 1 long will be remembered in industry quarters. But so, too, will be the effective manner in which the inventories were reduced by more than 50 per cent in less than six months.

It was accomplished with sharp production cutbacks and intensified sales efforts. Some dealers lost money in the campaign while others eked out a small profit. The important thing, however, was that together the manufacturer and retailer licked the toughest problem ever faced by the industry.

With the public presentation this week of the 1957 model Cadillacs all manufacturers now have their newest product on the market—excepting Packard division of Studebaker-Packard Corp. The parent corporation has announced Packard will get into production on its 1957 car late in December and take the car to market in January.

Subject of wide speculation among industry analysts right now is whether the hot competition that lies ahead among the "big three" of General Motors, Ford and Chrysler will permit the producers to gear output closely to demand.

There has been talk about such a program ever since the dealer associations earlier this year won congressional action on measures they said would improve manufacturer - retailer relations. The dealers complained they were forced to accept from the factories more cars than they could sell.

Many dealers say they believe the congressional action along with voluntary concessions from the car makers promises to materially better their position in this respect.

The inventory situation on March 1, 1957, probably will tell just how effective the new manufacturer-retailer relationship is to be.

One Carrier Flights Argued

Men From Four Cities Convene on Airplanes to Florida

WASHINGTON (AP) — Spokesmen for Detroit, Columbus, Dayton and Toledo asked the Civil Aeronautics Board yesterday to permit Delta Air Lines to serve their cities with one-carrier flights all the way to Florida.

Representatives of the four cities made their arguments to the board, which has before it examiner William J. Madden's recommendation that Trans World Airlines' Detroit-Toledo-Columbus-Dayton-Cincinnati service be transferred to Delta.

This would allow Delta to give one-plane service between Detroit and Miami, with a number of intermediate stops. At present, Delta and TWA fly the Miami-Detroit route jointly, with Delta crews taking passengers as far north as Cincinnati, where TWA crews take over for the remaining trip to Detroit.

This service—called an "interchange"—was termed "grossly inadequate" by Francis A. Bolton, aviation director of Columbus, in his argument to the board.

"There is no good substitution for direct one carrier service," he said.

Similar arguments were made by C. V. Burnett, director of aviation for Detroit.

Steelmaking Output Tops Past Quotas

CLEVELAND (INS) — The awesome steelmaking capacity of the U. S. was cited today as a possible deterrent to war.

The magazine Steel said the domestic capacity represents about 40 per cent of the world production output and in 1956, despite the six-week summer strike, will result in production of about 114.5 million tons.

Russia, the second-largest producer, is believed to be operating at about its 53.5 million-ton capacity. Israel [illegible] the Arab nations have no steel plants, the magazine said.

Earnings

NEW YORK (INS) — Aluminium, Ltd., reports its consolidated net income in the nine months ended Sept. 30 totaled $42,325,290, equal to $4.22 a common share, as compared with $36,776,325, or $3.69 a share, a year earlier. Sales this year amounted to $349,744,000, an increase of about $45 million from the corresponding period of 1955.

NEW YORK (INS)—Sterling Precision Corp. has announced sales of $15,029,197 and net income of $328,841 in the first five months of its new fiscal year which began May 1, 1956. Based on current projections, sales in 1956 will total $36,750,000, compared with $24,385,387 a year ago and profits, before taxes, will approximate $1,310,000 contrasted with a loss of $740,543 in 1955.

Pleven Warns Western Nations to Reorganize Goals or Face Disunity

(One of the strongest supporters of the alliance of Western free nations during the last decade has been Rene Pleven, who twice served as French premier and spent many years as minister of defense. Here, he analyses developments of the last three weeks in Hungary and the Middle East.)

By RENE PLEVEN
Former Prime Minister of France

PARIS (INS)—Not since the end of World War II in 1945, has the world witnessed in so short a time as many grave events as it has in the last three weeks.

It is still too early to evaluate their importance.

But we are sure that we are not mistaken or exaggerating when we say that the part of the world we live in has been severely shaken by these events.

The ground is covered with shattered Western illusions as a forest lane is carpeted with leaves in autumn. Peaceful coexistence among states of different regions is either impossible or will be realized only on conditions dictated by Russia.

RING OF SATELLITES

These conditions comprise the maintenance around Russia of satellites, whose governments are led either by quislings or subservient Communists.

The Soviet government drowned the Hungarian insurrection in blood because the Hungarian revolutionary committees included free elections in their programs.

A reliable observer, who has lived in Hungary for the last five years, told me just before the latest developments that, in the event of free elections in Hungary, the Communists would not obtain 10 per cent of the popular vote. This is less than what the Communists manage to win in France.

Once free elections were allowed in Hungary, it would have been impossible for Russia to deny them to the Poles or the Romanians, where a similar situation prevails, or even less to the East Germans.

Three years ago, Soviet tanks were able to crush an uprising in East Berlin, without provoking a West German reaction.

But should there be now a popular explosion that would bring German workers to grips with their Soviet exploiters, not in Berlin which is an isolated island within the Russian occupation zone, but in the industrial cities near the Iron Curtain, there is no power in the world that could prevent West Germans from going to the assistance of their threatened countrymen.

GERMANY WILL ACT

Germany will not listen without budging to the calls for assistance similar to those made by the Hungarian government and revolutionaries.

Nobody in a responsible position in the West can refuse to look directly at this reality.

There is another reality that is not any more pleasant to look at. It is that Russian policy, de-Stalinized or otherwise, remains faithful to its objective of weakening western Europe.

This is because the standard of living in the West is so high in comparison to that of the U.S.S.R. and in the satellites, that it constitutes a ceaseless indictment of the Communist system.

Oil is one of the weaknesses of Europe. Oil comes from the Near East. Oil has to come through, in part, through the Suez Canal. Soviet diplomacy, therefore, will exploit all circumstances and accidents, even a dictatorship like Nasser's, to take upon itself noisily the role of protector of the Arab peoples and of their governments.

The United Nations have fallen into a trap. This can be blamed in part on the clumsiness of the Anglo-French actions. But one fact remains. The United Nations have been skillfully utilized against France and Britain to save Nasser, who instigated the terrorist commandos against Israel, and who carried out Soviet plans in relation to the Suez Canal. This Canal, in the Russian view, must be threatened or cut at will, just as easily as the oil pipelines can be sabotaged.

ALLIANCE SOLID

Only our friendship, our alliance with the United States, even though it underwent a severe test, has shown its solidity in the face of Bulganin's threats to France and England his proposal of joint Russo-American sanctions against the French and the British.

What are the real conditions of in Egyptian cease-fire?

Are we going to see France and Britain demand the withdrawal of the Israelis from the Sinai Peninsula before any peace negotiations are undertaken? And what will be the reactions in North Africa to this demonstration of strength of Russia and the Afro-Asian bloc?

Is the pincer movement against Europe through Africa going to continue with the conscious or unconscious assistance of those who tomorrow will be enslaved like the Hungarians are today?

Will Soviet tanks, delivered in such abundance to Egypt in order to threaten Israel, become available with the help of Soviet volunteers to proceed against our soldiers in Algeria through Libya?

Before a Big Five meeting, the leaders of the West must concert their action with urgency.

What is necessary now is a meeting among Eisenhower, Eden, Mollet and Adenauer, so that the West can make an inventory of the ruins that have accumulated in the last three weeks.

Lions Club: Sight for Sore Eyes

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Many children going to school today are thinking of what they'll get for Christmas. All 12-year-old Joey Fillar wants is to be able to see like other kids.

Joey won't get his wish this year. But he may get it by Christmay 1957.

He lives at nearby Wilmerding with his widowed mother, a brother and two sisters. Each morning before attending classes at St. Leocadia's Roman Catholic school, he goes to Mass and says a prayer that his operation will "come out okay."

Joey's sort of a frail boy and he's shy. But he's not nearly so shy as he was a year ago when a Lions Club in his community became interested in him, saw to it that he had the finest pair of glasses obtainable and then arranged special eye treatment.

* * *

Mrs. Mary Fillar, Joey's mother, said the outlook wasn't good for Joey until the Lions Club came to the family's aid. Her husband died last February after being bedridden five years by arthritis.

Joey's right eye was injured at birth. His eyelid sagged pathetically and for years, especially after starting to school, he endured the stares of the curious.

"I took him to the doctor to see if there wasn't something we could do," his mother said last night. "The Lions Club paid for his glasses and for a whole year now he's been receiving treatment at the Pennsylvania Vision Institute in Pittsburgh."

That treatment has so encouraged surgeons that in about a month they'll operate on Joey. He has double vision and is unable to coordinate his right eye with his good left eye but eye training exercises have helped him considerably.

There probably will be a series of operations, a surgeon said. Muscles alternately will be strengthened, then weakened. Joey will receive eye exercises. The entire process probably will take a year and it may not be until Christmas 1957 that Joey can see as well as most boys.

The Lions Club has pledged itself to raise more than $500 for the operation. Mrs. Fillar, whose other children range from 9 to 17, said she keeps the family together on $193 monthly Social Security payments.

Question: How to Celebrate
Former Rebel 114 Today

FRANKLIN, Tex. (AP)—Walter W. Williams, forage master in Hodd's Texas Brigade who has seen the South outlive the North, turned 114 today.

His family canceled the usual celebration because of the illness of his second wife, 83. She is suffering from a heart ailment, hardening of the arteries and kidney trouble.

Williams, the nation's oldest living ex-soldier and one of three surviving Confederates, said he was sorry to hear last spring that the last Union Army veteran had died. But, he added, "it just goes to show what I've always said, the South is going to outlive the North."

Flowers from friends and relatives all over the nation poured in as the colorful old soldier celebrated his tamest birthday in recent years.

Williams, who once said he wanted to live to be 125, has celebrated his birthdays lately with such things as an airplane ride, a trip to Houston, and the traditional gathering of relatives and well-wishers.

Germs Now Used to Test Purity of Water

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — Germs are being given a tell-tale radioactive breath to show quickly whether water is safe to drink.

In an hour or less, this test could show whether drinking water had been contaminated by floods, accidents or even germ warfare by an enemy.

The usual tests to detect contamination take two to three days.

A form of radioactive sugar is used in the test. Germs present in the sample of the water lap up the sugar to use in their growth. In doing so they give off radioactive carbon dioxide or "breath" which can be detected and measured.

This test promises to become practical and sufficiently economical to stand guard over drinking water supplies, a team of researchers reported today to the American Public Health Assn.

The team members are Gilbert V. Levin, civil defense representative of the District of Columbia Health Department, and Venton R. Harrison, Dr. Walter C. Hess and Harry G. Gurney of Georgetown University Medical School, Washington.

New Plan Readied for Post Office Site

A new agreement will be written by the city of Pontiac removing a previous block to the construction of the proposed post office on West Huron street.

The previous agreement with the owners of the land would have located a planned extension of Miami road through the off-street parking site of the Post Office.

The Post Office agreed to deed in the next 15 years a parcel to the city to the south of the lot so that the extension still can be made without interfering with the construction of the parking lot.

The City Planning Commission recommended acceptance of the offer after Post Office officials appeared before their body Nov. 7.

Texans OK Aid Plan in 'Mistake' Election

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—About 200,000 voters yesterday approved an amendment to the state constitution in a "mistake" election.

The amendment qualified nearly 15,000 permanently disabled citizens for state aid.

The election act mistakenly read the "second Tuesday in November" instead of the "first Tuesday after the first Monday."

Nearly two million voted in the general election last week.

Estimated cost of the special election was $200,000.

Show Proves Critics Wrong

Martin Manulis Finds Audience Favor With Drama Series

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The hit of the new TV season is Playhouse 90, a daring innovation in programing guided by able, youngish Martin Manulis.

No new show on this coast has aroused such critical applause. To CBS' satisfaction, the Thursday night drama series has also attracted splendid ratings.

"I was surprised we have done so well," said Manulis. "Usually it takes several weeks for a new show to build a rating."

All of the shows so far have been worthy of notice. But the real triumph was the second one, "Requiem for a Heavyweight" with Jack Plance. Manulis terms it "one of the all-time great shows on TV," and some critics have agreed.

The success of Playhouse 90 can be laid to the producer's choice of top-flight material and his ability to round up excellent casts. A onetime actor, the 39-year-old Manulis is a veteran of Broadway and little theaters and a 10-year man in TV. I asked him how the show came about.

"I think it was the idea of (CBS executive) Hubbell Robinson," he said. "I produced a show for him called 'The Best of Broadway.' I think we had some great shows. You can hardly do better when you have a cast like Helen Hayes, Claudette Colbert, Frederic March, Charles Coburn and Nancy Olson in 'The Royal Family.' We also had Lindsay and Crouse adapting their own 'Arsenic and Old Lace,' which was another great show.

"But we were frustrated by two factors: (1). We couldn't build up a rating when we were on every fourth week with the fights on the other three; (2). We couldn't do justice to the plays in an hour."

When CBS announced the new 90-minute series, some observers doubted that audiences would sit still that long. The ratings prove they were wrong.

Report 60,000 Destitute After Port Said Attack

LONDON (AP) — Cairo Radio declared today "about 60,000 persons are destitute as a result of British-French attack on Port Said."

The broadcast said the Ministry of Social Affairs is endeavoring to provide necessary aid to refugees and the Ministry of Health is seeking help from international organizations.

Heat May Help

New Plan Is Put Forward as Fall-Out Protection

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Milwaukee doctor offered today the theory that a city might help protect itself from radioactive fall-out through the heat of bonfires, smudge pots and home and industrial furnaces.

Dr. Herman A. Heise, a specialist in allergy, said research on hay fever pollen in the atmosphere suggests that the hotter the city is, the less chance there is of fall-out particles descending on it.

His address was prepared for a meeting of the Southern Flying Physicians Assn. — a group of Southern doctors who operate their own private airplanes as an avocation. They met in conjunction with the 50th anniversary meeting of the Southern Medical Assn.

Dr. Heise said that for the past decade he and his wife have been making aerial studies of pollen conditions. They found, he said, that "when the ground is warm and the air is cool," warm air currents rise and cause pollen and mold spores to congregate in a kind of "haze layer" some 3,000 feet above the earth.

"These are conditions, he said, which constitute good news to hay fever and asthma sufferers.

But he said the finding also provides a possible tipoff on how to minimize the depositing of fall-out particles from atomic bombs.

Under ordinary conditions, he said, "a city makes its own umbrella to help ward off fall-out because a city proper is 5 to 1 degrees warmer than the surrounding countryside."

But he said intensification of such heat — by people turning on their furnaces even in warm weather and opening their windows, plus lighting of bonfires, and keeping industrial furnaces at full blast — would conceivably add to the protective effect in the event of an atomic attack.

And rural areas, he said, might help minimize effects by "setting up a line of brush fires on the windward side of individual farmhouses."

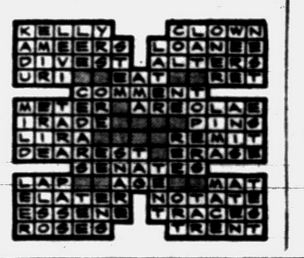

Resolute, on Cornwallis Island, is the northernmost post of the Royal Canadian Air Force. It lies 560 miles north of the Arctic Circle.
