WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson declared today that "certainly troops must be withdrawn" from conquered territory in the war-torn Middle East but firmly linked the pull-back to negotiations of a general Arab-Israeli peace settlement.

In a major statement of U.S. policy, the President dealt with the withdrawal of Israeli forces from captured Arab territory as a matter for negotiation along with the problem of Arab refugees, freedom of passage through international waterways, Arab recognition of Israel's right to exist, and a limitation on the Middle East arms race.

"Certainly troops must be withdrawn, but there must also be recognized rights of national life — progress in solving the refugee problem, freedom of innocent maritime passage, limitation of the arms race, and respect for political independence and territorial integrity," Johnson said.

The President added that a simple withdrawal of Israeli forces would "not be a prescription for peace but for renewed hostilities," unless accompanied by negotiations for a general peace settlement in the area.

Johnson spoke to a foreign policy conference of educators at the State Department. But his policy statement was set in the context of global debate, with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin at a special U.N. General Assembly session in New York an hour or so later.

5 PRINCIPLES OF PEACE

Johnson, laying down "five great principles of peace" for the Middle East, appealed to the nations there to shun another arms race, abandon "a diet of hate," and strive for a settlement.

"The world is watching," he said, "For the peace of the world is at stake."

The President's statement generally appeared to support what is understood here to be an Israeli position on troop withdrawals, that is, any agreement to withdraw Israeli troops from Egypt, Jordan or Syria should be linked to issues of vital interest to Israel, notably Arab recognition.

Johnson for the most part was careful not to name specific countries, but it was clear he was speaking of Egypt when he referred to the closing of the Straits of Tiran, an action announced by Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser about two weeks before the fighting started.

45 Cong Killed After Attack on GI Outpost Fails

SAIGON (AP) — A hard-core battalion of some 500 guerrillas left 45 dead on a blackened battlefield today after failing to storm the bivouac of a U.S. armored cavalry force.

Attempting to smash into American positions just after midnight, the guerrillas were met by the heaviest guns in the U.S. arsenal—175mm cannon raining 200-pound shells on the attackers.

Military headquarters said eight men of the U.S. 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment were killed and 31 wounded in the savage one-hour battle about 40 miles east of Saigon.

It was the only significant ground action reported in the day's communique although there was scattered and occasionally sharp fighting elsewhere.

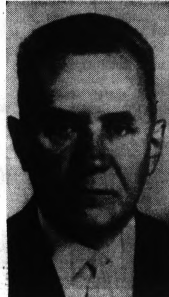

U.S. warplanes kept up their heavy raids on North Vietnam with 130 missions Sunday, including strikes on Hanoi's rail supply lines, the shipwreck Thai Nguyen steel plant north of the capital and a surface-to-air missile site.

The American cavalrymen got a brief warning of impending attack when a small night patrol ran into a Communist recalcitrant rifle team. The U.S. patrol was evidently then surrounded by guerrillas heading for the main cavalry bivouac.

AIR SUPPORT

While the guerrillas of the hard-core 274th Regiment smashed at the U.S. line with recoilless rifles, 50-caliber machine guns and infantry assaults, the cavalry commander called for air and artillery support.

As American flareships lit the battlefield, a helicopter gunship strafed the Communists surrounding the isolated patrol. The 175mm cannon began to lay down a fire curtain barely 50 yards from the main American camp.

ALEXEI KOSYGIN

Kosygin Asks Condemnation of Israel by U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Premier Alexei N. Kosygin asked the United Nations General Assembly today to condemn Israel as an aggressor against the Arabs and order the Israelis to withdraw all their forces immediately from Arab territory.

The Soviet leader, addressing an emergency U.N. session, accused the United States of encouraging Israel to war on the Arabs, promised Soviet support for the Arab cause, and warned members of the United Nations that the world was watching to see if it was "able" to rebuff aggression.

Kosygin spoke only an hour after President Johnson in Washington had delivered a major policy statement urging international cooperation in the search for Middle East peace.

The day thus brought indirect confrontation of the leaders of the world's two most powerful nations.

The Soviet leader warned that conflict in the Middle East could lead to nuclear war.

He presented a resolution seeking condemnation of Israel, its withdrawal from Arab territories, and restitution by Israel to the Arabs "in the shortest possible period of time all the damage inflicted by its aggression upon the U.A.R., Egypt, Syria and Jordan and their nationals."

Body of Woman Found Near Park

Romeo State Police today are attempting to identify the body of a woman found just outside the entrance to Stony Creek Park in Washington Township. The body reportedly was found yesterday about 7 p.m. by two horseback riders.

Police said the partially clothed body was badly decomposed. The woman was white and had been dead at least a week, according to police.

An autopsy was to be performed today to determine cause and time of death.

A crime laboratory crew from State Police headquarters in East Lansing has begun an investigation.

The park is located on Main Park Road, north of 26 Mile Road and about eight miles northwest of Utica.

Romney Campaign Shapes Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The shape of the Romney-for-President campaign is becoming more visible in these political dog days — more than a year before the Republicans nominate their 1968 candidate for the White House.

Current planning appears to be based on hopes, promises and beliefs that:

- A series of public endorsements will start coming next fall from a number of Republican governors that they want their fellow governor, George Romney of Michigan, to be the 1968 nominee.
- Formation of Romney-for-president organizations on a state-by-state basis, already under way, will mobilize grassroots support both in states choosing national convention delegates in primaries and in state conventions.

Romney will meet and defeat Richard M. Nixon in early presidential primaries next year to start his bandwagon.

Romney has slipped in the public opinion polls since his spectacular reelection last fall. He will need to regain momentum and will have opportunities to do so long before the presidential primaries.

Both Romney and Nixon are undeclared candidates, eager to be convinced that they should announce their availability.

While Romney has spent most of his time in Michigan, Nixon has been the world traveler, brightening his image as a man who speaks with authority on foreign policy in a world troubled by problems of war and peace.

NIXON'S CAMPAIGN

The six-man Nixon-for-president committee opened a Washington headquarters last month, three blocks from one already established for Romney. The Nixon group is at work enlisting more national figures to join the committee headed by Dr. Gaylor Parkinson, former California Republican chairman.

Through his long service to the GOP, former Vice President Nixon is known to the political professionals in his party from country chairmen to national committeemen and members of Congress.

Romney needs more exposure to some of these people, although some of them think he is too inclined to sermonize until he bores them.

Both need to win presidential primaries. After losing the presidency in 1960 and the governorship of California in 1962, Nixon needs to rid himself of his reputation as a loser. As of now, his chief competitor is Romney.

MEET IN PRIMARIES

Nixon and Romney now are expected to meet in primaries at least in New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Nebraska and Oregon. And they can expect competition from other possible candidates in some of those states.

Heat Vanishes Into Thin, Cool Air

Oakland County residents regained their "cool" as weekend showers sent skyrocketing temperatures plummeting into the 50s, breaking a five-day heat wave of 90-degree-and-above temperatures.

Clouds will take over the skies by this afternoon with tonight remaining cloudy and not as cool. The low will fall in the 58-to-64 range.

The weatherman predicts that showers and thunderstorms will plague picnickers tomorrow with temperatures remaining in the 70s.

Today's northeast-to-east winds at 10 to 20 miles will swing to the southeast by tonight.

Skies will clear by Wednesday with temperatures turning a little cooler.

PRECIPITATION

Percentage of precipitation probability will be: Today, 5; tonight, 20; and tomorrow, 60.

Low thermometer reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 54. By 2 p.m. sunny skies coaxed temperatures to a pleasant 76.

Auto Crash Kills Avon Twp. Girl, 16

A 16-year-old Avon Township girl was killed late Saturday when the car in which she was riding collided with another car at an Oakland Township intersection.

Killed was Judy Gail Georgeoff of 420 W. Maryknoll.

In satisfactory condition in Pontiac General Hospital are Nancy M. Jones, 16, of 2638 Weaver, Avon Township, driver of the car in which the Georgeoff girl was a passenger, and Randy Lee Kimball, 20, of 1407 Holiday, Orion Township, driver of the other vehicle.

The collision occurred about 9 p.m. at Adams Road and Silverbell Roads, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Investigators said the Kimball car was traveling south on Adams when the Jones girl drove into the intersection. Kimball said the other vehicle pulled in front of him and he couldn't stop in time, according to deputies.

Waterford Girl Is Fair Queen

In yesterday's windup of the North Oakland County Fair, a 16-year-old Waterford Township girl won the queen's contest, the Pontiac Police Department emerged victorious in the tug-of-war and a city woman gained the top prize—a 1967 Firebird Sprint coupe.

In competition based on money votes, Lynn raised $569.36 to easily outdistance runnerup Linda Berry who managed to collect $171.70.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LaVern Silvis, who will be a senior at Waterford-Kettering High School next fall, won the queen's contest in what turned out to be a runaway.

Linda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Berry, 4204 Lotus, Waterford Township.

FINISHING THIRD

Finishing third with $158.99 was Charlene Morris, 15, daughter of Mr. and

Mrs. Mark Meyer, 2256 Williams Lake, Waterford Township.

LYNN SILVIS

Terri Bradford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wojcik, 2912 Orange Grove, Waterford Township.

The 13 girls in the contest collected a combined $1,569.29, all of which will go to the Community Activities, Inc., building fund.

The Pontiac police polished off the Oakland County Sheriff's Department to gain the tug-of-war championship.

PRESS TEAM OUTPOOLED

In reaching the finals, the new champions outpooled The Pontiac Press while the sheriff's department outlasted the Waterford Township Police Department.

Winner of the Firebird was Eleanor Leslie of 630 E. Tennyson.

Despite inclement weather Friday night and Saturday, fair officials estimated attendance in excess of 60,000 for the four-day event.

"Sunday was the best day we ever had," said Fair Chairman Dean A. Salley.

Schools Contribute to Juvenile Delinquency

WASHINGTON (AP) — A presidential crime commission report says public schools contribute to growing juvenile delinquency.

The commission's task force on juvenile delinquency said teachers often fail to cooperate on slow learners, prejudice the learning abilities of slum children and make life so uncomfortable for troublemakers they want to drop out.

The school is a central, strategic place in the lives of children and so has the potential to help offset the pressures toward delinquency "but this potential is not now being realized," the report said.

The report urged the schools to cut the number of high school dropouts, help more children prepare for college and other training beyond high school and help arm with adequate skills those who go to work right after high school graduation so they can hold white-collar or blue-collar jobs.

JUVENILE COURTS

The report, released Saturday, also criticized juvenile courts. Nicholas Katzenbach, crime commission chairman and a former attorney general, said they have failed to live up to the hopes of those who established them.

He said the most important recommendation stemming from the study was that youth service bureaus be set up to work with troubled youths, providing counseling, placement in group and foster homes, work and play programs, job advice and special education.

This program would be voluntary on the part of many youngsters, but others would be referred by police, courts, welfare agencies and parents.

The bureau would be part of a $475-million program proposed by President Johnson and now under consideration in the House. States and local communities would receive grants to build the bureaus and to plan other programs to fight juvenile delinquency.

NO COMMITMENT

Most youths who become delinquent, the report said, do so because they don't have a commitment to conventional middle-class adult roles or community standards of behavior. It said the schools may directly contribute to this lack of commitment or "at least may not capitalize on the chance to foster a commitment to the legitimate system when it is lacking."

The report said some reasons for the dropout problem are:

- Placing poor teachers in slum schools, where the best teachers are needed.
- Continued racial and economic school segregation.
- Widespread acceptance of the idea that most dropout prospects have limited capabilities and not much can be done about them.

UNRELATED TEXTS

• Textbooks and other teaching materials which aren't related to the lives of lower-class children. As an example, the report discussed books which seldom have pictures of Negroes or Mexican-Americans as executives or professional workers.

The heightened sense of academic failure resulting from the schools' heavy reliance on ability and achievement tests with the result that low-scoring are placed in the same classes and taught on the assumption they have low intelligence. Thus they fall further behind.

Victim of Time, Vandalism

Old Cemetery Gets a New Look

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — Tiny Aaron Webster Cemetery, not so long ago was apparently one place in town that had been forgotten by everyone but time.

A heavily rusted cyclone fence surrounded a two-acre plot of ground peppered with pieces of broken tombstones and shattered pop and beer bottles.

The limestone tablets had blackened with age. Many leaned precariously. Some lay in pieces in the tall grass. The years had battered their inscriptions to near illegibility.

In the last two months, however, a small renovating crew, led by James Hazelton, elderly caretaker of the cemetery, has scrubbed and swept away what the years, vandalism and carelessness had deposited.

Hazelton, 86, of 15 Hillview, has been cemetery caretaker for 30 years but doesn't remember when the first and darkest of the stains were left on the stones.

BLACK MARKS

"The old-timers tell me a fire came through here before I came and scorched many of them," he said. He pointed out several stones that still bore the black marks of the fire.

All of the stones had been discolored and chipped by the normal weathering process, however, the most serious damage was due neither to time nor neglect.

At least 10 of the stones had been broken or knocked over completely by vandals.

"Kids got in here twice and pushed the markers and snatched them off," he said. Where it was possible Hazelton and his men reconstructed the tablet by cementing the pieces together.

WERE STRAIGHTENED

Those stones that leaned were straightened, and those that had been pushed over were cemented into holes next to their original places.

Youngsters, he said, are responsible for much of the chipping. "Sometimes they stop as they come from school and throw stones to see if they can hit some of these."

Many of the markers have been scoured and painted white to cover the stains and the fresh cement on those that have been pieced together.

The tiny graveyard originally consisted of a single acre donated by Aaron Webster in 1822. Aaron and his wife were the first adults to be buried there.

ONE-ACRE ADDITION

The markers indicate that by the turn of the century the original acre was nearly filled. Burials in the cemetery now are made in a one-acre addition at the rear of the original lot.

Both acres are owned by Pontiac Township, although officials admit that no titles or records of any kind exist for the initial plot.

Hazelton said he does not know exactly how many people are buried in the cemetery. "We never know where to dig in here," he said. "Many of the old graves have no markers."

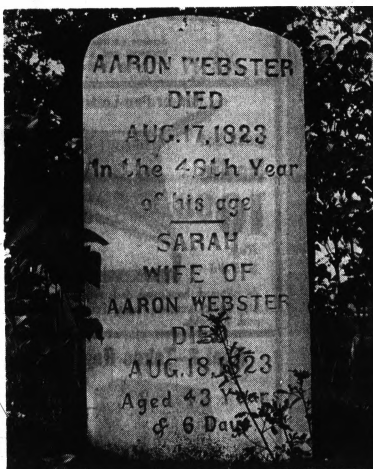

"I just keep it cleaned up and that's all we can do about it."

The last person to be buried in the old section, he said, was his predecessor as caretaker of the cemetery, "Red" Ship. Hazelton said he buried him about 30 years ago.

New Store Will Sell Electrical Material

TROY — A new electrical material store is being constructed at East 14 Mile between John R and Dequindre and will be completed in September.

Raymond De Steiger, Inc., building on the site is a Roseville-based firm, which deals in lighting fixtures and electrical equipment.

The new $185,000 building will have an unusual pagoda-type roof with glass walls to display merchandise.

Infectious mononucleosis is on the increase. At present there are 10,000 cases in the U. S. annually. The germs are spread by coughing and sneezing as well as kissing. Most patients are between 15 and 20 years of age, rarely over 30.

But It's Really a Year-Round Business Now

Start of Fair Season in State Is Near

By JACQUELINE KORONA Associated Press Writer

LANSING — Grandma put on her perkiest bonnet, Grandpa hitched the horses to the buggy and off they trotted to the county fair.

They watched farm wagon contests, rooted for their favorite in the plowing match and saw the top steer at the fair win a whopping $60 first prize.

That was back in 1946, when records show Kalamazoo County held the first such fair in the state.

Just three years later, representatives of 37 counties met with Gov. Epaphroditus Ransom to organize the first Michigan Agricultural Society and help plan the first Michigan State Fair.

Today fairgoers hop into high powered cars and zoom off to see everything from farm machinery to Ferris wheels, hoes to horse racing, popcorn to political candidates.

And they can go to any one of Michigan's 83 county, district and community fairs — or the big Michigan State Fair in Detroit.

The agricultural fair season opens July 1 this year at Lake Odessa and there'll be an exposition, large or small, every week through the summer and fall until the season ends the last of September with the Hillsdale County Fair.

"Fairs are really a year-round business now," says James H. Hall, fair coordinator in the Michigan Department of Agriculture. "As soon as the fairs are over, the officials begin planning for the next year."

Hall claims fairs haven't changed all that much since Grandma's day.

"The big change," he says, "is that fairs have gone from strictly agricultural to predominantly agricultural but seasoned with home arts and mechanical arts."

"In fact," he adds, "you can see just about anything you want to at a fair."

That "anything you want" has brought continuously increasing numbers of persons to fairs in Michigan as well as the rest of the United States and Canada, Hall says.

An amusement trade publication shows that fair attendance in 1966 in this country and Canada increased 7 per cent over attendance for 1965.

The Ionia Free Fair estimates more than a half million entered the fairgrounds during the seven-day event last year.

And the Saginaw County Fair — reportedly the largest paid-attendance fair in the state, excluding the Michigan State Fair — said more than 383,000 persons visited the six-day exposition last year.

Thirty-six fairs now offer horse racing, a proven money-maker.

$3-MILLION TAKE Hall explains that the state receives about $3 million annually from the 5 per cent wager tax at the four tracks where there is pari-mutuel betting on harness races.

About half that money goes into the State General Fund and the other half goes into the County Fair Fund, he says.

The state helps finance the fairs on a 50-50 basis, with a $2,500 per fair limit each year. The state also puts up a share of the money for premiums and horse racing purses.

Last year state aid to fairs and shows, including cost of some $1 million, Hall reports.

That horse and buggy business seems to have paid off.

School Project Reports Slated

WALLED LAKE — Reports on several school programs will be presented to the board of education at its 8:15 meeting tonight.

The future of the outdoor camping program will be discussed by Ethel Mugler, director of the outdoor education program.

William Doggett, principal of the Oakley Park Elementary School, will discuss an outdoor educational program he is developing at his school.

The board will also consider resolutions allowing the senior high school students to participate in vocational courses at Oakland Community College (OCC) next year.

The board has already given tentative approval for the school district to contract with OCC for several courses.

In other business, the board will be asked to consider a change in the salary schedule for next year for the hourly rated cafeteria workers.

An electrode that can be used in a type of battery heretofore used only in laboratories may be adaptable to use in cars, making electric cars more practical in the future. Present batteries do not provide sufficient quick power and recharge.

School Chief Gets $3,000 Raise

MILFORD — The Huron Valley Board of Education recently granted a new three-year contract at a salary of $21,000 per year to Schools Supt. Dr. Truman Owens.

The new salary represents a $3,000 increase in pay.

Other administrators will receive raises when the teachers do under the salary schedule recently adopted.

The schedule is based on the appropriate step on the teacher's salary schedule, the number of weeks the administrator works, the years of administrative experience and administrative responsibility.

In other business recently, the board voted to deny the transfer of land from the Huron Valley School District to the Walled Lake system.

BOARD REFUSED

The Walled Lake board also recently voted to refuse such a transfer.

A group of parents in the Huron Valley district have asked that their land be transferred to Walled Lake because, they say, they are closer to Walled Lake's schools.

12 Persons Are Killed on State's Highways During the Weekend

By the Associated Press

Twelve people perished on the state's highways over the weekend.

The latest death came when Robert Sells, 27, of Detroit, was killed. Police said his motorcycle skidded as he was traveling at high speed in a Detroit parking lot, and slammed into four cars.

The Associated Press traffic count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday. Other deaths include:

William E. Pratt, 29, of Owosso, when his car went out of control on a country road five miles north of Owosso Sunday, and rammed into a bridge.

PEDESTRIAN HIT

Chester Rynski, 46, of Dearborn Heights, when he was struck by a car while walking in Joy Road east of Burt Road in Detroit Saturday.

Judy Gail Georgeoff, 16, of 420 W. Maryknoll, Avon Township, when a car in which she was riding was involved in a collision Saturday at Adams and Silver Bell roads in Oakland County.

Floyd McVey, 45, of Royal Oak, when a car in which he was riding was forced off US-10 near Lincoln Road in Royal Oak and hit a tree Sunday.

Elwood M. Ream, 17, of Owosso, killed Saturday when his car collided head-on with a truck about one-half mile south of Corona.

STRUCK BRIDGE

Mike Katrinic, 43, and James Cuda Jr., 45, both of Clio, when their car, driven by Katrinic, left I-75 north of Birch Run and struck a bridge abutment Saturday.

Randall J. Scheffer, 8, of Saginaw, when the bicycle he was riding was struck by a truck on a country road in Oceana County Saturday.

Arthur W. Aubry, 34, of Livonia, when his car smashed into the rear of a bus in Taylor Township, near Detroit, Saturday.

Janet Hill, 53, of Sturgis, when her car rammed into a tree near Sturgis Friday.

Shirley Witt, 31, of Dearborn Heights, when she was struck by a car as she crossed the street near her home Friday.

Troy to Mull Gas Station Restrictions

TROY — The City Commission will receive a report from the planning commission on a proposed gas station ordinance at tonight's meeting at 8 at City Hall, Big Beaver and I-75.

Drafting of a new ordinance was requested when the commission was hit by six rezoning requests for new gas stations two weeks ago. Several other requests are also pending.

The ordinance would provide increased sites for gas station locations. However, it would place greater restrictions as to lot size, proximity to residential areas, etc., according to city officials.

A proposal to set up a sewer assessment district to handle a ground pollution problem at Moe's Garden Farms subdivision, near Big Beaver and Crooks, will also be studied.

The County Health Department reported on the pollution last year.

for teachers of the Northwest Elementary School will be conducted Aug. 14-25 in conjunction with the University of Michigan. The school is scheduled to be opened next January.

Farm Pond Field Day Set

HADLEY TOWNSHIP — A large group of farmers interested in the construction of Farm Ponds are expected to attend a Farm Pond Field Day June 29 at the L. S. Emery Farm, 4333 Stewart.

Lapeer County now has 500 such ponds, according to the sponsoring groups: the Cooperative Extension Service, the Soil Conservation District and the Soil Conservation Service.

The program starts at 10:30 a.m. and includes demonstrations on clearing a muddy pond, a chicken barbecue luncheon and all phases of pond management.

Commercial exhibits of weed chemicals, fish food and farm pond equipment will be displayed.

Of the present 9,500 airports in the U. S., only 114 can handle jet aircraft.

Girl Reflects on Proposals

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Last year a Radcliffe girl got 250 replies to her advertisement in the Harvard Crimson saying she wanted to get married for one year to escape dormitory life.

What happened?

"I got married," says Beth Luey.

As a result of the ad?

"Not really," not directly," Mrs. Luey says. "But it did get me out of the dorm."

GRADUATE WORK

Beth, 21, and a native of Pittsburgh, Pa., married Michael Luey, 23, of Syosset, N.Y., last January. She was graduated from Radcliffe a few days ago and will do graduate work in Russian studies next semester while her husband finishes his last year at Harvard Law School.

Beth says she and Michael knew each other before she ran the ad, which drew responses from as far as Vietnam and from a person who described himself as "a red-blooded Alaskan bartender."

At the time of the ad, Beth declined public use of her name to avoid calls from "kooks," but agreed to be identified now when interviewed. She declined to give her full maiden name.

"It all died down slowly,"

Beth says. "But I still have some of the answers. I'm saving them for my grandchildren."

MERE ROOMMATE

From Kirkland House at Harvard came this response: "A marriage seems a much better solution than a mere roommate. I will be busy with papers until May 3, but I hope you will let me take you to dinner" after that. "P.S. I have furniture."

But from Winfield, Kan., a girl from Southwestern College asked: "What about the meals you would have to prepare and the extra domestic duties you would have to perform? Perhaps what we need is not relaxed regulations but increased self-discipline."

Three soldiers in Vietnam wrote: "We have decided that as upstanding all-American men first, and soldiers second, it is our honorable duty to all womankind to help alleviate the problem which you are facing."

"We realize that to offer you shelter in our humble abode would present a small transportation problem, so if you are not adverse to the suggestion, we will have to temporarily maintain separate households until the small matter of a war is straightened out."

Beth's ad was a protest against Radcliffe rules prohibiting students from living off-campus. This spring 23 coeds held a five-day hunger strike with the same complaint. The rules are unchanged.

Firm Saves Time With Quiet Hour

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The 250 employees at the Michigan Millers Mutual Insurance Co. in Lansing don't talk to each other from the start of work at 8 a.m. until 9 a.m.

For that hour, they ignore each other. No outgoing phone calls are made, no one walks around, no routine interdepartmental communications are made.

The company says the "quiet hour" has increased efficiency. The idea has attracted the interest of other companies and business journals.

"A few minutes talk about last night's TV show doesn't sound like much," Treasurer Harold C. Roost said. "But when you take a couple hundred people at 10 or 15 minutes apiece — that's a lot of company time."

SECOND QUIET HOUR

Roost said the plan is so successful that some department heads are adding a second quiet hour after lunch.

Millers Mutual gives its employees two coffee breaks and a 45-minute lunch daily and sponsors classes and dances. No coercion beyond a raised eyebrow is used during the quiet hour.

"I sort of enjoy it," said Helen Kont, an underwriter who's been with the firm for 20 years.

"I thought it sounded like a kindergarten when it started 18 months ago."

Zoo Fund Drive

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Zoo begins a $1-million fundraising campaign this week to improve and renovate its facilities. Zoo director Frank G. McInnis says between $15- and $20-million is needed to renovate buildings and bring in more exhibits, as well as to build an education center for research on animal behavior.

India, China Continue Embassy Strife Outcry

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India and Red China continued a war of protests today, each demanding action against "ruffians" who harassed their diplomats. India threatened "appropriate countermeasures."

India told Peking it had 24 hours to remove mobs besieging the Indian Embassy in Peking.

China demanded a formal apology, compensation for damages and punishment for the Indians who stormed the Chinese Embassy in New Delhi Friday and beat nine Chinese they could leave.

who stood in line at their flagpole. The harassment began last week when China accused two Indian diplomats of espionage and deported them from Peking. Leaving for Hong Kong, the two were beaten and taunted Thursday by Chinese Red Guards at Peking and Canton.

India ordered two Chinese diplomats out of the country in retaliation, but the attack on the Chinese Embassy by several thousand Indians came before the Chinese could leave.

An Indian Foreign Ministry spokesman said the situation at the Indian Embassy in Peking was grim and the government was concerned for the safety of the Indian staff and families, crowded into the embassy after the Chinese ordered them to leave their homes.

The spokesman said the embassy has food for two or three days.

The Indian protest said the Peking government arranged the siege of the embassy and called it a negation of international law and diplomatic practices. The letter was handed to Chen Chao-yuen, the Chinese charge d'affaires, Sunday.

LETTER REJECTED

Indian officials said he refused to take the letter but took "exhaustive notes" from it. Peking radio said the Chinese protest, taken to the Indian Embassy today, also demanded all necessary medical treatment for the Chinese wounded and a guarantee such incidents would not recur. The note said the International government should bear full responsibility for the safety of the Chinese Embassy and its staff.

Seven of the Chinese were hospitalized Friday night, and four were released Sunday night. Hospital officials said the four left only after two hours of protesting their discharge and chanting slogans of Mao Tse-tung.

The hospital blocked an attempt by Chen to take a camera into the hospital and also prevented a doctor from the Pakistani Embassy from accompanying Chen into the ward to visit the injured. The doctor had treated the Chinese at their embassy before they were hospitalized.

tributed by their organization for various hospital purposes. They also report that Martha Roper, the first girl to graduate from Oakland Community College's nurse training course with an Auxiliary scholarship, is now an RN on the staff of the hospital.

Follow Through on Punishment

Folks Must Stick to Their Guns

DEAR ABBY: Our 16-year-old son got a ticket for speeding (he has no car, it was his father's) so we took his driving privileges away for a month. It has been only five days and this boy is unbearable. He is ugly and hateful. He won't eat and he won't look at us. He answers all our questions with grunts and shrugs, and he says he won't be "nice" until we give him one more chance and restore his driving privileges.

ABBY

My husband is a physician. He had one coronary and he was told to keep calm and avoid excitement, and this son of ours is making a wreck of him. I honestly don't know how to cope with this. We have all the questions, but none of the answers. Should we give in?

DEAR UNHAPPY: If you "give-in" now you will give your son the impression that all he has to do is lie to get his way is to punish everyone around him with his ugliness. Ignore his act. And if he doesn't eat, it's his hunger.

Don't ask him any questions. It will only provide him with an opportunity to exhibit his surliness. Let him sweat it out. You'll be doing him a favor.

DEAR ABBY: Before my husband and I met and were married, he went with a woman for about three years. He told me that she traveled around with him for weeks at a time. Here is my grudge: After five years of marriage, my husband still keeps in the closet a large box of pictures and souvenirs of this woman. Many of the pictures are of the two of them together.

Abby, am I square and narrow-minded to feel as I do about this? When I married him, I threw away all pictures and souvenirs of past boy friends. I never mention things I did, or places I went, etc. with any other man. But my husband never misses an opportunity to mention this woman's name. What do you think?

DEAR TROUBLED: I think your husband enjoys tormenting you. But he's your husband now, and if you want it that way you could possibly minimize your problem by ignoring all references to this woman, AND the box in the closet.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "BORN SWINGER": Although I am not a doctor, I can recommend one exercise that could cure all your present ills. SKIPPING! Try skipping the drinking, smoking and swinging.

Don't Be Grumpy, Gramp

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — It was all quiet on the White House baby front as Luci Johnson Nugent patiently passed up a chance to make her husband, Pat, a puppy on Father's Day.

Luci, instead, concentrated on a Father's Day gift for the President — an empty oval picture frame.

SORRY ABOUT THAT

With it she attached an apologetic poem for the tardiness of his future grandchild.

The Nugents spent a quiet Sunday with Luci's mother, Lady Bird Johnson, in their new pink brick H-style home in a fashionable residential section here.

They fanned out from the First Lady at church-going time. Mrs. Johnson made a return visit to St. David's Episcopal church which she used to regularly attend.

Luci and Pat attended Mass at St. Mary's Cathedral, their Roman Catholic parish church run by the order of the Holy Cross.

Mrs. Johnson is making it a point to stay close to the Nugent household, spending every night with her daughter.

MRS. PRATEEP GHOSE

Andrea Pearl Tynan, daughter of the John J. Tynans of Angeline Drive, spoke vows Saturday in Our Lady of the Lakes Catholic Church with Prateep Ghose of Westland. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Sovendra Nath Ghose of Calcutta, India. The couple will reside in Westland.

A nuptial mass in Our Lady of the Lakes Catholic Church, was the setting for Saturday afternoon vows of Andrea Pearl Tynan and Prateep Ghose of Westland.

Parents of the couple are the John J. Tynans of Angeline Drive and Mr. and

and Mrs. Sovendra Nath Ghose of Calcutta, India.

The bride wore a floor length gown of pure Indian silk, styled by her mother, on Empire lines with a rolled collar, bell sleeves and chapel train.

Her imported silk illusion veil fell to her shoulders from beneath a pill box of silk organza and lace with pearls.

She carried a semi-cascade of eucharis lilies, Stephanotis and miniature yellow roses.

Honor attendants at the rite were Karen Allhouse and Harkrishan Singh Sehgal of Detroit. Bridesmaids were Anne Navarre of Wyandotte, Susan Caruthers of Wixom and Mrs. James Rickes.

Debarata Mitra and Amit Ghosh, both of Detroit, and PFC Michael G. Tynan, USA, brother of the bride, served as ushers. Ringbearer was the bride's youngest brother, Patrick.

WEDDING SARI

A reception and dinner took place in Guinn's Banquet Hall. The bride changed into a wedding sari of gold and white brocade with gold accessories, brought from India by the bridegroom's mother.

Mrs. Ghose also presented the bride with a single gold bangle, following a custom of her country.

The newlyweds plan a tour through several eastern states. Upon their return, they will reside in Westland.

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: Recently a little friend of mine, who is being married next month, came to me almost in tears. The young lady is an orphan who lives with her elderly grandparents. The boy she is marrying comes from a large, fairly well-to-do family.

Because, of this, a large wedding and reception is expected. She was informed of this by the groom's mother, who also told her all expenses would be up to the bride as she was "going strictly according to the Bride's Book of Etiquette."

Does all this seem quite fair or in the best of taste to you? — Mrs. R. B. Dear Mrs. R.B.: I don't know what book of etiquette that lady read, but according to my book it's about time that parents of prospective bridegrooms accept two basic truths.

First, they have no business telling the bride or her family what size or type of wedding reception there should be. This is the bride's responsibility and prerogative. If she can afford a big wedding, that's fine, but if not, she should not be expected to go into debt for one.

Second, there is no reason that a small, beautifully planned wedding cannot be just as lovely as an extravaganza. In fact, the intimacy and friendliness of the smaller affair is often far more impressive and memorable than the elegance of the large one which advertises: "No expense spared!"

GREETING CARDS

Dear Mrs. Post: I am a prolific user of greeting cards, because after careful selection I invariably find one that expresses my sentiments so much better than I can.

I have a dear daughter and also a daughter-in-law I love as much. Would it be proper to send the latter a card addressed to "Dear Daughter," even though she has very devoted parents? — Rose Sands

Dear Mrs. Sands: Much as you love your daughter-in-law, the right to call her "daughter" belongs to her parents. Lovely cards are made for daughters-in-law. Try to find one appropriate for her.

Mrs. R. V. Aprahamian

Entertains Group in Parents' Home

Mrs. Donald Brownlee was hostess in her parent's home, the Floyd Beardslees of East Square Lake Road, recently for members of the Better Home and Garden Club.

Following the luncheon, the group toured the Beardslee gardens. Mrs. Harry Armstrong, Mrs. Irl Williams, Mrs. William Sovey and Mrs. Arthur Rothweiler gave reports.

Committee for the day consisted of Mrs. E. A. Wilmut, Mrs. J. T. Simmons, Mrs. H. W. Martin, Mrs. Williams, and Mrs. L. A. Chase.

Guests included Mesdames: Robert Miller, Joseph Carlyle, Leon Roundtree, Elmore Higby, William Brandenburg, C. A. Daklin, Gerald Moehleman, Elton Behnke, H. B. Luther and Miss Janet Bemis.

This group plans a picnic in July at Kensington Park for members and husbands.

Newlyweds Are in Puerto Rico

Honeymooning in San Juan, Puerto Rico are the newlywed Ronald V. Aprahamians (nee Patricia Lynn Cooke) who exchanged vows Saturday afternoon in Covenant Baptist Church, Detroit.

The bride chose an A-line gown fashioned of white silk organza with re-embroidered lace highlighting Kabuki sleeves and chapel train.

A Dior bow held her veil and she carried gladiolus, Stephanotis and ivy.

Parents of the couple are the Clarion Cookes of Cedar Shake Drive and the Abraham Aprahamians of Covered Bridge Road.

Beth Cooke was her sister's maid of honor with bridesmaids, Jean Kitchen, Carol Fullerton, Patricia Little, Jean Scolari, Sue Greer, Karen Kareus, Randi Aprahamian and Debra Pieschke.

On the esquire side were James White, best man.

Ushers were Jay Cooke, Donald Tregenza, Robert Phardel, Ronald Holden, Greg Northrup, Robert Morgan, David Nellen and Mark Moncrieff.

A reception at Devon Gables followed the ceremony. The pair will reside in East Lansing while the bridegroom continues senior studies at Michigan State University.

Christine Ann on Scene

The Rex Futrells (Rosemary Pierce) of Ulica Road announce the birth of a daughter, Christine Ann, on June 15.

Grandparents are the Troy Futrells of Newberry Street and Mr. and Mrs. Del Pierce of Shoreview Drive.

Mrs. Michael D. Kelly

Miss Newlin Wed in Romeo

The Romeo First Congregational Church was the setting for afternoon vows repeated by Martha Jean Newlin and Michael Douglas Kelly of Spring Valley, N.Y.

Floor length Chantilly lace in a cage style was worn by the bride. Her silk illusion veil was secured by a pillbox. She carried a white orchid on a Bible.

Nancy Newlin was her sister's maid of honor. They are the daughters of Dr. and Mrs. Louis Newlin of Romeo.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Fred Shumaker of Corra Madera, Calif., sister of the bride with Janeeth Toles.

James R. Kelly Jr. of Holt was best man for his brother. They are the sons of the James R. Kellys of Pinconning. Ushers were Russell Neubauer, Detroit and Douglas Smith, Lansing.

After a church parlor reception, the couple left for a Canadian honeymoon. They will reside in Spring Valley, N.Y.

Newlyweds Honeymoon at 'the Falls'

Walled Lake's St. Williams Catholic Church was the setting for Friday vows exchanged by Sharon Louise Sprenger and Lawrence Joseph Carey.

Parents of the bridal couple who left for a Niagara Falls honeymoon are the Walter J. Sprengers of Carroll Lake Road, and the Albert Careys of Paris Street, both Commerce Township.

The bride chose a floor length silk organza ensemble highlighted with Chantilly lace. Her flowers were a cascade of white carnations, Stephanotis and ivy.

Attending their sister were Mrs. Richard Higdon, Susie, Cathy and Theresa Sprenger and the bridegroom's sister, Mary Carey.

On the esquire side were William Josephson, Walter Sprenger, Raymond and Busse Carey and Benjamin Swift.

Robin Mehalco and Brian Higdon were flower girl and ring bearer.

A reception in the UAW Hall, Wixom, followed the rite.

Garden Clubbers Picnic, Vote

A picnic in the Cass Lake home of Mrs. Wayne Smith highlighted the final meeting of the year for members of the Sylvan Lake Garden Club.

New officers elected are Mrs. Willis Brewer, president; Mrs. George Tozer and Mrs. A. J. Pepper, first and second vice presidents; Mrs. E. C. Thomas and Mrs. Earl Kreps, secretaries and Mrs. Irving Mennuci, treasurer.

Mrs. Ralph Cronis and Pauline Smith of Eureka, Ill. were guests.

and Mark Taylor performed best man duties. He is a brother of the bridegroom. Gary Slinkard and Paul Taylor were ushers.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Elvis Slinkard of Paramus Drive, Independence Township. Mrs. Robert Taylor of Dixie Highway, Independence Township and the late Mr. Taylor.

The bride chose a full length gown in cameo ivory peau de soie and Alencon lace. A detachable circular train fell into soft pleats from the waist of an A-line skirt.

COURT CAP

A court cap of silk leaves and seed pearls held her tiered veil of silk illusion.

She carried white carnations tipped in blue.

Following a reception in the home of the bride's parents, the couple left for a honeymoon in the Colorado Rockies.

Memorial Baptist Church provided the setting Saturday evening for wedding vows spoken by Laura Pauline Casbie and Airman 3/C David Don Brundage, USAF.

Their parents are the Hubert Casbies of Nelson Street and Mr. and Mrs. Claude E. Brundage of St. Clair Shores. The bride chose a gown of Alencon lace over tulle with a scalloped neckline and bouffant train.

Attending her were Mrs. Darrell Crandall, the bride's sister, with attendants Mrs. Marshall Casbie and Janice Buehr. Best man was Robert Klassen. Marshall and David Casbie, the bride's brothers, ushered with the bridegroom's brother-in-law, Tony Scarotte. Cynthia Crandall was flower girl and Thomas a Justin ringbearer.

Following a reception in the church parlors, the couple left for a northern honeymoon.

September Vows to Be Spoken

The Alfred J. Masseyes of Perry Lake Road, Brandon Township, announce the engagement and forthcoming Sept. 9th vows of their daughter, Marie Arlene to David C. Rogers.

His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Claude E. Rogers of Oxford.

The bride-elect attended Pontiac Business Institute and her fiancé holds a Master of Music degree from the University of Michigan.

Amy D. Grossman, daughter of the Leonard L. Grossmans of Orchard Lake flew to Tokyo last week with 56 other high school students, all American Field Service members. A student at West Bloomfield High School, Amy is living with a Japanese family for 10 weeks.

Polly's Pointers

Practice in Home

DEAR POLLY — Recently there has been much talk about the lack of table manners among our young people due to our hectic lives and television. I would like to pass on what I have been doing in our home to remedy this situation.

When our children were small we wanted them to have correct manners, both formally and informally. So we have birth days as "special occasion" days in our home. The honor guest's favorite dinner is prepared.

The table is set with our best china and silver, lit by candlelight and we all use our best company manners. We have a tomato juice cocktail to toast the birthday child. Through all the years, we have had no misgivings about taking our children to anyone's home or to any restaurant for fear of their behavior or table manners. This has also greatly improved their everyday table manners. — MRS. L.B.

DEAR POLLY — What is the best thing to use for cleaning aluminum siding? — MRS. C. L.

DEAR POLLY — Use paper napkins to make a cute party apron that can fit any season or occasion. Unfold four, or more if desired, of the luncheon-sized napkins. Each should be a different color or design.

Stack them one on top of the other and turn down one entire corner (through all four napkins) to about four inches on the wrong side. For the belt, use a strip of nylon net or ribbon that is about two yards long and three or four inches wide, and stitch it along the folded part of the napkins. Be sure the ties are even lengths at either side.

These are easy to make in a jiffy. When one napkin is soiled, tear it off and a fresh one will be uncovered. These are so unique that they make nice little gifts for parties. — MRS. D.S.

DEAR POLLY — J.A.A. will find that changing her dyed tablecloth from orange to red is very simple if she removes the unwanted color with a commercial dye remover and then redyes it the desired shade of red. Just follow the directions on the box — MRS. R. A.

You will receive a dollar if Polly uses your favorite home-making idea, Polly's Problem or solution to a problem. To order her 32-page booklet, send your name, address and 50 cents to Polly's Pointers, in care of The Pontiac Press.

An overweight woman can lose nine pounds in a year by eating just enough to maintain her ideal weight and substituting an hour a day of active recreation for activity, usually done while sitting, Michigan State University home economists say.

Spending a second hour in active recreation instead of sitting will trim off another 15 pounds a year.

Children thrive on personal responsibility. This father knows that. He's not one to push his sons . . . but he does want them to have responsibilities of their own. He'd also like them to know what it means to hustle and to have their efforts show a profit.

This father knows that when a boy takes charge of a newspaper route he's going into business for himself. The boy learns to budget his time, to keep accurate records, he learns the self-confidence that comes through responsibility. And his profits give him a head start on saving towards college.

If your son comes up to you someday and asks if he can have a newspaper route, don't give him the brush-off. He's showing a little initiative. And after all, that's how good strong character is built.

Evening vows in the First Open Bible Church were exchanged Saturday by Judith Mae House and Calvin Eugene Morgan. Their parents are the Clark J. Morgans of Allen Road, Independence Township and the Clarence E. Houses of Kempf Street. Gowned in floor-length white lace and organza, the bride carried white roses with a Bible in the center. Mrs. Thomas LaFord was matron of honor with bridesmaid, Mrs. Douglas Marsh. The bridegroom's brothers, Larry, Wayne, Manley and Clark stood as best man and ushers respectively. The neigues led for a Canadian trip following a reception in the First Federal Savings of Oakland.

A shoulder train of Chantilly lace highlighted a wedding gown Saturday for Sharon Lee Stickle as she exchanged vows with Donald M. Wilson in the Beverly Hills Church of Christ. Their parents are the Theron Stickle of Embarcadero Drive and the Orvis Wilsons of Detroit. Her flowers were a cascade of miniature carnations surrounding a white orchid. Marilyn Stickle was her sister's maid of honor with bridesmaid, Barbara Wilson. Standing as best man was Larry Moore with ushers, James Sisson and Glenn Wilson.

Repeating vows Saturday evening in Birmingham's First Presbyterian Church were the Floyd S. Ostroms (nee Valerie J. Parrish who celebrated later at a reception in the church parlors. Their parents are the Earl Parrishes of Southfield and the Floyd Ostroms of Detroit. Chantilly lace highlighted both gown and long veil of illusion for the bride who carried white roses, ivy and Stephanotis. Honor attendants were Mrs. Arthur Donald Jr. and Thomas Bodell. Following a Bermuda honeymoon the pair will reside in Westland.

Saturday evening vows in the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church united Michael T. Glynn and Diana Lynn Stasiuk. Their parents are the Edward Stasiuks and the John E. Glynn both of North Johnson Street. The bride selected a gown of peau de soie with a Chantilly lace jacket. Her silk illusion veil was secured with a medallion headpiece of pearls and crystals and she carried a white orchid surrounded by carnations and ivy. Honor attendants were Mrs. Carole Gregory and Patrick Glynn. Following a reception in Maurice's, the pair left for a tour of the southern states.

Some Tips on Stretching Vacation Money

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Remember when vacation came only in the summer. And when everybody worked hard the rest of the year, including Saturdays?

Seems like a quaint idea when you realize how our approach to fun and leisure has changed in recent years. MARY FEELEY Nowadays it's the long weekend, the days off, the various holidays, that constitute little vacations in themselves.

Instead of saving up for one grand two-week summer splurge, we spread out our fun money over the whole year. And quite a bit of money it is, too, judging by some national figures.

For instance, in a single year we spent $216 million on cycling, $213 million on golf, $659 million enjoying our pleasure boats (not including yachts, of course), and some $474 million on cameras and equipment.

These estimates by the National Sporting Goods Association, tell the story of our shorter work week and our increasing amount of leisure time.

Family fun has rightly become accepted as a legitimate item in the budget. Fun money is to be allowed for, and the spending of it planned just as the food and clothing money is parceled out. But that doesn't mean it has to be a great big sum.

Two of the most popular sports in the country, for example — bicycling and boating — can be enjoyed without spending a fortune. Maybe you won't own the biggest boat or ride the fanciest bicycle. But you can have a swell time just by renting the props that somebody else owns!

Let's say you're thinking in terms of a $300 "vacation," but you plan to stretch it over weeks. A two-seater bike — these are enjoying a revival — can be bought for about $100.

Then you can figure anywhere from, say, $30 to whatever the budget will bear for a bicycle for each of the children. Of course, a $245 bicycle is spiffier. But the inexpensive models give you just as much exercise — and the scenery looks just as good from a modest seat.

If you'd rather rent than buy, rentals range from about 75 cents an hour to $4 a day or $6 for Saturday and Sunday. Since the early 1960's, there has been a boom in cycle trails around the country.

Many communities — even in and around big cities — are creating more scenic and safe pathways for cyclists. The idea of Bikeways as a national project was conceived and promoted by a Florida couple, who inspired the American bicycle industry and the Department of the Interior to take the problems of cyclists seriously.

Today Bikeways — identified by blue and white signs — are ends. A two-seater bike — these are enjoying a revival — can be bought for about $100.

If boating is your first love, and you're wondering how much it might cost you to operate one if you bought it, here are some figures from an experienced boatman. His is a 23-foot inboard with a 240 h.p. motor.

The cost can run from $500 to $1000 — depending, of course, on how much time you spend on the water. And it can be much higher in warm climates, where the boat is used year-round.

A copy of "recreational Boating Guide," prepared by the U.S. Coast Guard, is a mine of information for boaters. You can send 45 cents with your request to Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

Woman's Club Names Officers

At a recent luncheon meeting in the club house, officers of the Village Woman's Club were announced.

Mrs. Frank H. Boyer will continue as president. Others named are Mrs. Norman Ellis and Mrs. John E. Rumsey, first and third vice presidents respectively; Mrs. Robert M. Hodgson, treasurer; Mrs. Maxwell E. Fead, second vice president; Mrs. Carl Abbott and Mrs. Charles Lewis, secretaries.

William Belisle Claims Bride in Calumet Rite

Lucelia A. Hilton spoke her vows Saturday in a candlelight ceremony in the Presbyterian Congregational Church at Calumet with William D. Belisle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Odell E. Stockton of Cutler Street.

Her parents are Mrs. Peter Hilton of Hancock and the late Mr. Hilton. The bride wore a floor-length gown of silk organza over taffeta with scalloped scoop neckline, short sleeves and Empire waist accented with reembodyered rose-print lace motifs.

COAT AND TRAIN
A sleeveless cardinal coat fell into a court train. She carried a cascade of white roses and ivy.

Mrs. Lynn Watts, the bride's sister, was matron of honor with attendants Mrs. John Hilton and Kathleen Jacobson. Sheri Ortiz was flower girl.

Best man was the bridegroom's brother, Robert Stockton. Ushers were James Rogers, William Rausch, Lynn Mitchell and Paul Talford.

A reception in the church parlors followed the rite.

May Have Strafed Soviet Ship--U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department says American planes may have strafed a Soviet ship in North Vietnamese waters earlier this month.

Previously, the department denied the Soviet claim that U.S. planes hit the 3,358-ton Turkistan June 2 in the North Vietnamese port of Cam Pha. The Soviets said one man was killed and another was seriously wounded.

The Soviets protested the alleged attack, calling it "an act of banditry which may have far-reaching consequences." At the time, the Pentagon theorized North Vietnamese anti-aircraft fire had hit the ship.

In a statement Sunday, the Pentagon said a new report from Gen. John D. Ryan, U. S. Air Force commander in the Pacific, brought forth information indicating U. S. Air Force F105 jets hit the Turkistan with cannon fire.

"THIRD FLIGHT"
Just after the incident, the United States said two flights of F105s struck military targets at Cam Pha but that their firing did not occur near the ship.

closed there was a third flight of planes in the area, the Pentagon said.

The report said: "The target of the third flight was a railroad yard at Bao Giang, about 66 miles from Cam Pha. As previously reported, there was no strafing by the aircraft of the first two flights. However, it now appears that there was 70-millimeter suppressive fire against the North Vietnamese anti-aircraft site at Cam Pha by aircraft of the third flight and that some of this fire may have struck the Turkistan."

The Pentagon said the United States was informing the Soviet Union about Ryan's report and added an investigation is continuing.

2 U. S. Airmen Aid Crewmen of Burning Tanker

NEW YORK (AP) — Two U.S. airmen parachuted into the Atlantic Ocean to aid the crewmen of a Swedish tanker burning about 800 miles off Bermuda.

The Coast Guard said the 19,697-ton tanker Emma Fernstrom radioed that an engine fire forced the 39 crewmen to leave the ship.

Word of the tanker's plight was received at Kindley Air Force Base in Bermuda.

A four-engine plane took off from Kindley carrying a rescue team of Airman 1.C. Albert Robillard and Airman 2.C. Richard C. Weaver.

SCUBA GEAR

The pair, equipped with snorkels, flippers and scuba tanks, parachuted to the water to take survival equipment to the tanker's crew, in four lifeboats.

The Air Force plane hovered over the area, dropping flares, until the Norwegian tanker Trium picked up the 39 crewmen and the two airmen.

The tug Clyde set out from Bermuda to reach the hulk of the Fernstrom, probably Wednesday.

The stricken tanker was on its way from Portland, Maine, to Aruba in the Caribbean.

Air service by air taxis or commuter airlines has grown about 850 per cent in the last four years.

Welfare Aid Helps Woman to Graduate

NEW YORK (AP) — It took while receiving welfare pay- ing others with problems. Gladys Moody more than 20 years-off and on-to get degree, Mrs. Moody starts work help them. "I'm in a better position to help them," said the 38-year-old divorcee and mother of two. "I can understand what they feel."

AP Wirephoto

SHE'LL HELP OTHERS NOW — Gladys Moody, shown her children, Werner, 10, and Eugene, 2, starts work today as a hospital caseworker in Brooklyn. After more than 20 years-off and on, to get through college, the 38-year-old divorcee will be helping others with problems. Part of the time she attended college for her sociology degree she was receiving welfare payments.

She knows firsthand, she said in an interview, the "decided stigma attached to being on welfare."

She said that when her youngest, Eugene, was born 2½ years ago, she was separated and applying for a divorce. She said she didn't know her husband's whereabouts and had given up her job and schooling to take care of the baby.

DIFFICULT DECISION

She had a hard choice to make. She could either put Eugene up for adoption, as friends suggested, and go back to work. Or she could go on welfare, try to finish school while a day care mother looked after the baby, and hope ultimately to land a job enabling her to support her family.

"Relief was a horrible word in my family," said the daughter of a tailor. "But I had no choice. I couldn't give up the baby."

Welfare workers, she said, told her they had never before subsidized anyone through college, that hers would be a test case in New York State.

Mrs. Moody secured a national defense loan under a government program and went back to school.

STARTED IN 1946

She had started college in 1946, taking 1½ years at a Rutgers University branch in Atlantic City, N.J., until she no longer could bear up to working days and attending classes nights.

She came to New York in May 1948 and took a job. Later, she enrolled part-time at the New School for Social Research. Then came night classes at Brooklyn College, finishing a 700-page, still-unpublished novel about Atlantic City, marriage in 1955; and after son Werner, now 10, was born, more evening schooling, at City College.

When Eugene came along, Mrs. Moody had 92 of the 128 credits needed to graduate. She was too close to quit now. She chose welfare as the road to graduation.

Homework had to be done after the children had been put to bed, sometimes after 10:30 p.m. Sometimes, she said, "I felt I didn't have enough sleep to maintain my sanity."

RECEIVED DEGREE

A week ago Sunday she got her B.A. degree from City College. Today she starts work at Kings County Hospital in Brooklyn, the welfare road hopefully at an end.

Ghettos Plagued by Subemployment

By WHITNEY M. YOUNG JR.

In an attempt to humanize their corporate image, many large firms have taken to using pictures of employees in their ads. In the last few weeks I've seen many such ads — bank clerks, pilots, auto workers — all showing the people who make up the company.

I have a special interest in watching for these ads because I just can't help counting the Negroes in them. Or perhaps I should say searching for the Negroes in them, because they are so rarely shown.

It is almost as if these companies were advertising that they didn't hire Negroes, although I know that some of them actually have good records on that score. But why hide it?

One of the most flagrant examples was found in the promotional magazine one airline puts out. They ran a story on what wonderful cooks they had working for them and ran a photo of 14 gentlemen decked out in chefs' uniforms. You know the rest of it — not one Negro in the lot, even though Negro cooks are known throughout the South for their excellence.

This isn't just a small complaint, or a minor thing which only a Negro or someone in the civil rights field would notice. It is indicative of the way the Negro is treated when it comes to the job market.

Everyone knows by now that the Negro unemployment rate is double that for white workers and that Negroes are often denied opportunities for the better jobs, but a recent Labor Department study shows that the situation is even worse than that.

GHETTOS STUDIED

Since most figures show national unemployment averages, it was decided to make a special study of 10 ghetto areas in major cities. That way, the real situation of the ghetto worker would be learned. The results are shocking.

It was found that the unemployment rate in the city slums was 10 per cent — about three times the national average. More than a fifth of the males were "unfound" or not available for counting, indicating that they are probably jobless and homeless, drifting around the edges of society. About 7 per cent of those employed held part-time jobs only because they couldn't find the full-time jobs they need.

And this grim situation refers only to unemployment. Underemployment is at least as big a problem. One of every five people who had a full-time job was making less than $60 per week, or what the government has defined as the poverty line. More than one out of three ghetto families reported their incomes were below the $3,000 poverty line (the average American family earns $6,300).

The Labor Department developed a "subemployment index" to measure those aspects of the employment problems not covered by other indexes. This subemployment index covered jobs with low wages, part-time jobs, etc.

The subemployment rate showed that almost half the people in some ghettos were underemployed. Add to these figures the unemployment rates and you have economic disaster areas which are urgently in need of help.

MUST CLOSE GAP

This tragic economic gap between the ghetto and the rest of the nation must be closed. Nothing short of massive re-education and retraining programs, involving government at all levels, business, labor, foundations, and voluntary groups, can begin to tackle the job.

The total tax income of the U. S. is 27.3 per cent of the gross national product, smaller than any country's except Canada and Switzerland. Sweden is highest with 39 per cent.

'Will Probably Reluctantly Back Idea'

House GOP Leader Eyes Tax Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Melvin R. Laird, chairman of the House Republican Conference, said today that while he didn't like the idea, he probably will have to support a sizable tax hike this year.

Rep. Gerald R. Ford, the House Republican leader, previously opposed a tax increase, favoring instead a reduction in spending.

Laird of Wisconsin said in an interview the tax hike probably will be needed "in light of the Johnson administration's failure to be responsible in the field of fiscal management."

President Johnson has requested a 6 percent surtax to take effect July 1, but he has not submitted the specific legislation he desires.

Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, senior Republican on the ways and means committee, wrote the dissent signed by all 10 GOP ways and means committee members to a recent bill increasing the debt limit by $29 billion. The House killed the bill.

Byrnes and the other GOP committee members said an increase in taxes must be considered a step toward reducing both the deficit and the need for an additional $29 billion in borrowing authority.

Laird said there are three possible courses of action in the face of a deficit of more than $25 billion reduction in nondefense spending, an increase in taxes, or deficit financing.

"A reduction in nondefense spending, Laird said, is the preferred course. He said many worthwhile programs could be postponed or cut back and others such as the moon shot could be stretched out.

"LOGICAL APPROACH"

"Unfortunately, however," Laird said, "President Johnson and his Democratic majorities in both houses of the Congress have refused to accept the logic of this approach to our growing economic problems."

"On the contrary, the House of Representatives has already voted for appropriations of $126.8 billion since Congress convened in January. If this trend continues, and there is little likelihood it will not, Congress will have appropriated more than $163 billion before the session comes to a close."

Consequently, Laird said, Congress will have no choice but to enact a sizable tax increase in order to reduce the impact of a massive deficit that could go well over $25 billion.

He said a responsible Congress should not tolerate such a massive deficit because it would have a staggering adverse impact on the economy.

'M' Research Sub Probes Great Lake

GRAND HAVEN (UPI) — University of Michigan scientists operating the first research submarine in Lake Michigan planned to make two additional dives today.

The first was to be made about 360 feet down and the second dive was scheduled for a cliff rising 80 feet from a point 280 feet down.

Star II, the research submarine, made two dives Saturday — both at about 280 feet.

Scientists David C. Chandler and Charles F. Powers were unable to see more than a few feet from the portholes when their craft reached the bottom, but they got the first look at tiny crustaceans called amphipods at the bottom of the lake.

Powers, a research oceanographer, made the dive 28 miles southwest of Grand Haven.

VISIBILITY POOR

The scientists said fog made visibility poor on Saturday but they expected better weather conditions today.

Today's dives were scheduled at a point 25 miles west of Muskegon and about 360 feet down, and about 25 miles east of Milwaukee, Wis., at about 280 feet.

The scientists are trying to find what type life exists at the bottom of unexplored Lake Michigan and what effects currents have on the lake.

Service Slated for Historian

DETROIT (AP) — Service for Frank B. Woodford, long-time editorial writer for the Detroit Free Press and a noted Michigan historian, will be held Wednesday in Detroit.

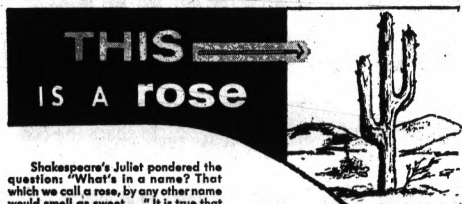

Woodford, 64, died at his home Saturday of a heart attack.

A member of the Free Press editorial staff from 1931 to 1962, and chief editorial writer from 1956 to 1962, Woodford wrote nine books about Michigan history.

One of his books, "Lewis Cass — The Last Jeffersonian," published in 1960, received a resolution of commendation from the Michigan Legislature and a citation from the American Association for State and Local History. The book dealt with Lewis Cass, Michigan's territorial governor.

HILLSDALE GRAD

Born in Detroit Feb. 27, 1903, Woodford was graduated from Hillsdale College in 1923 and received a bachelor of science degree from the University of Pennsylvania in 1925.

Shakespeare's Juliet pondered the question: "What's in a name? That which we call a rose, by any other name would smell as sweet." It is true that the rose would remain the same, regardless of what it might be called. Likewise, our giving that beautiful and meaningful name to the cactus does not impart its beauty and meaning.

The majority of Americans today call themselves Christians. And yet, just as we have observed, it does not necessarily follow that such is the case. It takes much more than the claim to make the reality.

In the New Testament we find that disciples of Jesus were called Christians (Acts 11:26). The word Christian, means "Christ like," therefore, the Lord's disciples are those who follow after Him and comply with His teachings.

In order to be like Christ in every way, we must know Him intimately. We must know Christ as we know our best friend, but few people know Christ as a personality. You can learn to be a true Christian and only a Christian by "knowing Christ." Come hear:

Mustang-Led Specialty-Car Boom Boosts Auto Sales

DETROIT (AP)—A strong showing by specialty cars, led by Ford's Mustang, played a major role in the rejuvenated auto sales market in recent weeks.

Auto sales slipped badly in the opening months of this year but since mid-April consumer demand has been running strong again.

Industry leaders are convinced that demand for the lower priced specialty cars—the Mustang, Chevrolet's Camaro, Plymouth's Barracuda, Pontiac's Firebird and Mercury's Cougar—is one of the key factors in the market.

Mustang, which had the specialty car market to itself when it made its debut on April 17, 1964, sold its 1.5 million car last month as it remained the dominant factor in the market.

Mustang sales for the model year to date, from Oct. 1 through May 31, amounted to 300,610 vehicles or 5.1 per cent of the total auto sales of 5,416,069 U.S. built cars.

Sales figures showed these reports by the other specialty cars for the same period: Cougar 80,498; Camaro 127,794; Firebird 36,354; Barracuda 34,281.

Chevrolet's Camaro, which GM officials said was two years late in getting into the market, placed a $\frac{1}{2}$ battle with Mustang, reportedly has plans afoot to make a stronger challenge in the 1968 model run but, at least for 1967 models, it had to settle for a not-too-close second place.

Mustang sales for calendar 1967 through May 31 came to 177,070 units. Ford officials predicted that they will reach the half-million mark by year end, barring any unforeseen slump in auto demand.

"Mustang sales were strong before any competition arrived on the scene and they continue strong in the face of it and we expect them to stay that way," said M.S. (Matt) McLaughlin, Ford vice president and general manager of its Ford Division.

Top markets for the Mustang continued to be Los Angeles, San Francisco, New York, Chicago, Jacksonville, Washington, Detroit and Boston, according to a sales breakdown by Ford officials.

The sales figures showed Mustang was off about eight per cent over a year ago but the industry as a whole was down a sales breakdown by Ford officials.

Ford officials, along with those of other companies, were convinced that the customer demand for the specialty cars would bring 1967 figures much closer to those of a year ago when the final tally is made.

"The Mustang was a Cinderella car from the day we introduced it. Sales exceeded our expectations from the start and I am happy to say that demand shows no signs of slackening."

Teacher Ouster Advised

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanzania (AP)—A study group organized by mainland Tanzania's only political party says U.S. Peace Corps teachers and all other foreign teachers should be sent home and the government should control all schools.

The group urged that the schools teach socialism to overcome "English reactionary ideas." Tanzania was formed by Tanganyika and the island of Zanzibar, both formerly ruled by Britain.

The report also urged abolition of religious instruction in the schools.

LONDON (AP)—Britain's Royal Navy, once the world's biggest, is renting a boat for the next three weeks to keep its fleet of two fast patrol boats up to strength.

One of the navy's 99-foot patrol boats, Brave Swordfish, is going in for an overhaul. To keep the fleet from being slashed in half, the navy hired a 7-year-old patrol boat from a shipbuilder.

A navy crew boarded her, read a warrant of commission, hoisted the white ensign, and the rented boat became Her Majesty's Ferocity for the next three weeks.

Carmichael Nixes Bond, Stays in Jail

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—"Black power" advocate Stokely Carmichael, arrested with four other Negro men at the scene of two nights of racial tension, spent Sunday night in jail rather than post $50 bond.

He and the others face charges of failing to move at an officer's direction. They were arrested in the predominantly Negro Dixie Hills section where small racial flare-ups had occurred two straight nights.

The four, who posted $25 bond each and were released, were identified by police as Donald Stone, Ernest Stephens, Charles Usher and Johnny Burkes. All listed Atlanta addresses.

A hearing for Carmichael was set for today.

Police said Carmichael, wearing bathing trunks and a sweatshirt with the late black nationalist leader Malcolm X's picture on it, was arrested when extra police were called to disperse a rapidly growing crowd.

Officers said H. Rap Brown, Carmichael's successor as chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, was also present.

A resident of the area, which fringes a middle-class neighborhood, said Carmichael and Brown had come to investigate reports of police brutality and social injustice.

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP)—With the Suez Canal closed since the Middle East war, 21 ships waited in line Sunday to enter Cape Town harbor to fuel on the voyage from Asia and East Africa to Europe.

It was the port's busiest Sunday in more than 10 years. Port Capt. A. C. Matson said shipping agents had advised him of more than 100 other vessels which had been diverted from Suez around southern Africa.

Port lookout officials went on 12-hour shifts and one said, "The invasion is building up. This is only the beginning."

LONDON (AP)—The yeomen of the guard who traditionally watch over Britain's priceless crown jewels by day suddenly discovered Sunday the jewels had been moved during the night—but only to an underground vault.

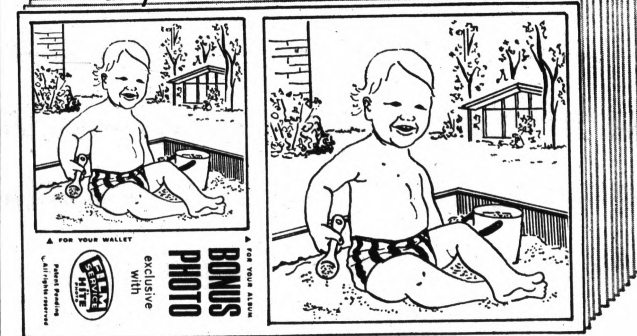

Except for a few officials, nobody—including the yeomen—was told of plans to move the jewel-studded crowns, swords, scepters and other precious regalia from Wakefield Tower to the explosives-proof vault, all within the Tower of London's thick walls.

The move took three hours Saturday night while armed police ringed the 11th century fortress beside the Thames and kept watch on approach roads.

The new jewel stronghold will open to the public July 6. It is fitted with the latest electronic alarm devices.

Predicts Wonders of Future

Engineer Cites Man's Progress

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Despite everything, don't think we're not making progress.

Take transportation. According to Augustus B. Kinzel, "it has been revolutionized."

"We can have breakfast in London, lunch in New York, dinner in San Francisco, and our baggage in Buenos Aires all in the same day."

Kinzel, president of the Salk Institute for Biological Studies, San Diego, also is the founding president of the National Academy of Engineering.

In a recent talk he charted the course of "Engineering, Civilization, and Society" from the days of the cavemen to the days of the suburbanites. He paid tribute to the first savage who made a door by rolling a rock to the entrance of his cave and to those more recent geniuses who invented the transistor.

Engineering has come a long way in the past 6,000 years, Kinzel said. It now is concerned not merely with safety in automobiles but with "the difficulty of getting in and out of many of the latest models."

There also is this new concept of systems engineering. It deals with the whole, not just the parts. Take transportation again by way of example.

"With the advent of the airplane," Kinzel said, "the engineer was interested only in getting the plane from one strip to another. Then he found he had to have airports to get the airplane from the strip to the ramp."

"Then he found it necessary to get the passenger from the check-in desk to the airplane."

"Now," Kinzel asserted, "the engineer is even concerned with getting the passenger from his home to the check-in desk."

When "computers are taking loads off men's minds just as steam (in the Industrial Revolution) took the load off their backs."

Kinzel predicted all sorts of wonders for the near future—1980 or thereabouts. Automobiles powered by batteries or fuel cells will be smogless, some plumbing and other apparatus will operate quietly, cooking cabbage will smell like lilacs.

Household chores will be reduced. "For example," Kinzel said, "we will have a bed-making machine." Heat will be converted directly into electricity, and energy will be transmitted not by wires but by radio.

Now Possible To Shrink Painful Hemorrhoids

And Promptly Stop The Itching, Relieve Pain In Most Cases.

New York, N. Y. (Special): A scientific research institute has discovered a medication which has the ability in most cases—to actually shrink hemorrhoids. In case after case, the sufferer first notices prompt relief from the itching, burning and pain. Then this medication starts right in to gently reduce the swelling of inflamed, irritated hemorrhoids.

Tests conducted on hundreds of patients by leading doctors in New York City, in Washington, D.C. and at a Midwest Medical Center proved this so.

And it was all accomplished without narcotics or stinging astringents of any kind.

The secret is Preparation H®—an exclusive formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids. There is no other formula like it! In addition to actually shrinking piles and relieving the painful distress—Preparation H lubricates, makes bowel movements less painful and soothes the irritated tissues. It also helps prevent further infection. Preparation H comes in ointment or suppository form. No prescription is needed.

INSTALLMENT No. 7

WHAT HAS HAPPENED
Reno Davis, an ex-pugilist trying to be a writer in Paris, needed the money offered as tutor and body-guard to the young son of Anne de Villmont, the American widow of a French aristocrat. So he accepted the advice of a French friend, Louis le Buc, to get in touch with the de Villmonts. Anne de Villmont, the widow of the late colonel, and her husband, the late colonel, were the saviors of Reno Davis. Anne de Villmont gave Davis a letter to her brother, Paul, and his life to be imperiled.

CLAUDE DE GONDE and his wife were alone. When I drew the gun from my belt and handed it to him he looked at it incredulously, and Madame Gabrielle clapped a hand to her mouth in horror.

De Gonde said to her, "I could swear it's Henri!" The one that disappeared after his death. He turned to me. "He was Colonel de Villmont, my wife's brother, Madame de Villmont's late husband. Where did you get this? How did you get it?" He listened intently as I answered.

"Yes," he said when I had concluded, "you've behaved with good sense, letting me know about it at once." "I'm not sure," she said. "Perhaps the best thing is to tell all this to Dr. Morillon immediately."

De Gonde said, "Dr. Morillon should be told he's wrong about Madame taking a turn for the better. One doesn't need medical charts to recognize the symptoms of a growing paranoia. This weapon, the terror that the child might be kidnapped—"

"Isn't it possible," I said, "that she did receive such a threat?"

Madame Gabrielle shook her head. "There's never been any threat, Monsieur Reno," she said gently. "You see, my brother—Madame's husband—was a leader of our country's forces in the struggle against the terrorists of the Algerian FLN and was marked for death by them. They finally did succeed in murdering him."

"After that, Madame was seized by the idea that Paul was intended to be one of their victims, too. It was an obsession with her."

"Not even Dr. Morillon has been able to overcome her secretiveness so far. You may be able to. For the child's sake allow me to help you do that."

"Yes, madame," I said, still not liking the smell of this whole arrangement.

That seemed to cover the subject for the time being. I was already at the door when de Gonde suddenly called me back. "How serious are you about your writing?" he said abruptly, taking me by surprise.

"Very serious. I've gotten enough encouragement from some editors to believe I'll be published sooner or later."

"Do you know Charles Lechenault?" "I know about him," Lechenault was the editor of La Presse, one of the most recent literary magazines to appear in Paris, and already, within a couple of years, one of the most talked about.

"He's an old friend of mine," said de Gonde. "If you have no objections, I'll arrange for you to meet him and show him your work. His personal interest can mean everything to getting a career started."

I needed something to sustain me because the thought of packing out of my room in Madame Olympie's pension after six contented years there was a depressing one.

I found Louis le Buc at the Cafe au Coin. Louis said glumly, "You'd be crazy to give up your room. The de Villmonts are not your kind of people. You'll never stick it out with them."

"If I could do it for a year it would give me a real bankroll to work on. And de Gonde said he'd give me a personal introduction to the editor of La Presse. You know what that can mean."

"Even so, you have a temper of your own, and you're not used to being pushed around by people like that. You could have a showdown with them and be out of there next week for all you know."

"I still can't see saying Olympie for an empty room on the chance of I knew what was on his mind. Look, I have to be out with the kid afternoons. We can get together then any time we want."

"Anyhow, why don't you rent the room to somebody yourself? That way you could have it back as soon as you wanted it."

The salesman standing at the bar an arm's length away turned around interestedly at this. "Somebody say something about a room to rent?"

I couldn't help starting at him. He was wearing oversized wrap-around sunglasses. One side of his face was deeply scarred from cheek to chin.

He saw me staring before I could look away, but he didn't seem perturbed by my bad manners.

"Plastique," he said dispassionately, patting the scarred cheek. Plastique were the mean little bombs the anti-government Organisation de l'Armee Secrete terrorists had used indiscriminately around town during the height of the Algerian troubles a few years before. "I was in the wrong place at the wrong time when it went off."

"Are you guys serious about renting a decent room around here cheap? I need one, but everything I've seen so far is sky high in price."

Thus it was that I packed into the car only my clothing, typewriter, and a few of my books and manuscripts, and gladly saw Leon Becque, salesman extraordinaire of carpeting, linoleum, and other floor coverings, in temporary possession of my room and whatever I had left in it. He immediately proved to be the ideal tenant. Once his bags and sample cases were stored away in the room, he insisted on paying me a week's rent in advance, which gave me more than enough to stand treat in the Cafe au Coin for the rest of the afternoon.

I entered my room at the de Villmont mansion to find that Madame de Villmont had been as good as her word. There was now a bookcase and writing desk around its furnishings.

Raw weather made early spring a museum and movie season for Paul and me, but early in May we started to go afternoons to the Parc Monceau, which was easily the most staid and stuffy piece of greenery in Paris, a stronghold of prim nannies and nursemaids, of expensive children in elegant play clothes. It was hardly the place to play baseball or football, but play them we did every day, drawing a audience of disapproving nannies and the policeman on the beat, who had to be regularly bribed not to interfere.

I could understand Paul's increasing boredom and frustration with life in the park. Then Louis, a born agitator, began to meet us in the park every few days and mischievously planted seeds of revolt against material restrictions at every opportunity.

How to make sure of accommodations in Montreal for Expo 67

An attraction as great as Expo 67 is bound to put very heavy pressure on accommodations in the Montreal area. Nevertheless, you are assured a place to stay by LOGEXPO, the official Expo 67 accommodation bureau. LOGEXPO has listings of over 78,000 rooms, in hotels, motels, tourist homes, efficiency apartments, special trailer motels and private homes. Every room has been inspected and approved by an agency of the Government of Quebec, and a government-controlled rate established. If at peak periods, such as holiday weekends, certain kinds of accommodations are not available, LOGEXPO can offer you alternatives which we are sure you will find satisfactory. All you have to do to make a reservation is fill out the coupon below, and mail it to LOGEXPO. You will receive a reply within a few days.

management of the hotel, etc., or the homeowner. Or you may phone EXPOVOX (414) 397-6397 for full information about availability of any of the accommodations listed below. Make your reservations as early as possible, the sooner you write or call, the wider your choice. Private Homes. Over 30,000 hospitable Montrealeers are welcoming visitors into their homes. The locations have been picked to make it easy for you to get to and from the Expo 67 site. RATES: from $18 to $14 a day for two people, $10 to $18 for three, or $12 to $22 for four. Efficiency Apartments. Accommodations, mostly in central Montreal, for 10,000 people, with kitchen facilities and maid service. RATES: $18 to $25 a day for two people, plus $3 a day for each additional person. Hotels. There are still vacancies in downtown hotels during some periods, also in resort hotels within easy reach of Expo 67. RATES: from $12 to $30 a day (double occupancy).

Motels. Available in many periods, particularly early in the season, and after September 4th. RATES: $12 to $30 (double occupancy). Tourist Homes. The position is similar to that of hotels and motels, with some vacancies in all periods. RATES: $10 to $18 (double occupancy). Motels (Trailer type). 1200 units offer another attractive alternative, are ideal for families; kitchen facilities and maid service included. RATES: from $25 a day for two persons, $30 a day for four, or $49 a day for eight. Children under 12, free. Trailer Sites. There are ample trailer sites within easy driving distance of Expo 67, all with 3-way hook-up. RATES: $3.50 to $5 a day. Camp Sites. 20,000 sites, in 120 separate locations, in the area around Montreal. RATES: $2.50 to $3.50 a day. All these accommodations are government-inspected, approved, and price-controlled.

Document-Disclosure Act Said Confusing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite a 47-page book of guidelines from the Justice Department advising federal agencies how to operate under the new Freedom of Information Act, indications are the law will have to be clarified in the courts.

The measure passed by Congress last year goes into effect July 4.

It permits any citizen to see any government document not exempted from disclosure. If he is rebuffed he can take court action. The government would have the burden of proving the information should not be made public.

Under present law it is up to the citizen to show good reason why the information should be made public.

NEW LAW CONFUSING

In a forward to the guidelines, released Saturday, Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark said in effect that the new law is confusing, open to many interpretations "and definitive answers may have to await court rulings."

Clark's analysis is similar to what other lawyers, in and out of government, have been saying for months.

The guidelines do not list specific documents which were previously private but which can now be made public. The Justice Department conceded many agencies asked for such a list. Officials in several agencies said there are thousands of secret documents which now might be available to the public. These could include, for example, letters from congressmen to government agencies seeking favorable action for constituents.

However, the same officials said they don't believe the new law will encourage so-called fishing expeditions in which citizens could ask the government to open its files just to see what's there. A citizen requesting to see a document will have to identify it as fully as possible. There are nine categories of government documents which are exempted under the new law, ranging from defense secrets to strictly internal communications within an agency or among agencies. But Clark said the exemptions are not mandatory.

"Agencies should also keep in mind that in some instances the public interest may best be served by disclosing, to the extent permitted by other laws, documents which they would be authorized to withhold under the exemptions," Clark said.

Freak Mishap Injures 21 in LA

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A car plunged into a group of tourists strolling through Olvera Street, the quaint side street where downtown Los Angeles was born.

People crumbled "like bowling pins being knocked down," said a witness Sunday afternoon. In all, 21 persons were injured seriously enough to be hospitalized. Many were later released.

The motorist, Harold Francis Bilby, 65, was quoted by police as saying he turned on the ignition of his car and "it just took off."

Bilby's car shot across the sidewalk into the awning-covered shops and cafes and crashed against a column supporting the porch roof of a restaurant. The tile roof collapsed.

2 BROKEN LEGS

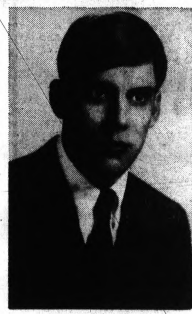

In the debris Joe Giampaolo, 10, had two broken legs.

"I'm okay, father," he told the Rev. Manuel de Santos, assistant pastor of Our Lady Queen of Angels Catholic church. "You better look at someone else."

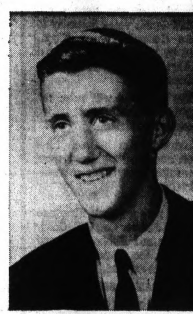

Investigators said the brakes of Bilby's car apparently locked and its accelerator stuck. He was not seriously hurt.

Army Captain in Vietnam

GI Burns $7 Million a Month

By GEORGE ESPER
SAIGON (AP) — For Arthur Junkins, burning up a million dollars or so is chicken feed, small stuff, strictly routine. After all, he handles $78 million a month.
Junkins is no millionaire. He is a 26-year-old Army captain from Alexandria, Va., who earns $338.52 a month. In the nine months he has been in Vietnam he has watched $7 million—give or take a few dollars—go up in smoke.
Junkins is the finance officer for the central funding office in Saigon, which handles the currency needs of all American forces in Vietnam. His office also must collect mutilated or unserviceable military payment certificates from finance units throughout the country, destroy them in an incinerator, then replace them with new currency.
“We disperse around $72 million to $78 million a month,” says Junkins. “I’m used to handling a great deal of money.”
Junkins, who went into the Army 3½ years ago after being graduated from the University of Illinois with a degree in economics and finance, says his office burns unserviceable military payment certificates two or three times a month.
A committee of American officers, representing all branches of the armed forces, is always on hand to verify the amount of money to be destroyed and to witness its destruction.
Junkins says he handles the money carefully.
“We make absolutely sure we credit everything we burn. We set out the amount to be destroyed, then before actually doing it, we balance the books again. We don’t make a mistake.”
Junkins says the first time he watched the money go up in smoke shortly after his arrival in Vietnam, it was a novelty for him.
“But after two or three times,” he says, “It loses its appeal. It’s a hot job to burn it. We have to check all the ashes. It’s a hot, dirty job.”

Strike Looms at Fourth Big Rubber Firm

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — Some 3,100 members of the United Rubber Workers have voted to strike the fourth of Akron’s “big five” rubber companies—the General Tire and Rubber Co. URW locals voted Saturday to strike General’s Waco, Tex., plant at midnight tonight and its Akron operation at midnight Wednesday.

The walkouts will raise to $4,100 the number of URW members on strike.

Contract talks between the union and the “big five” were to resume today after a week-end recess.

The union struck Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., B.F. Goodrich Tire and Rubber Co., and Uniroyal, Inc., April 20 when its contract expired.

Members had been working on a day-to-day basis at General since April 20.

They are still on the job at Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., without a contract.

Wages and union demands for supplementary unemployment benefits were the core of disagreement.

Adman, 60, Dies

PORT HURON (AP)—Nelson W. Armstrong, 60, advertising director of the Port Huron Times Herald, died Saturday of an apparent heart attack.

Pontiac Hurdler in 3 Victories

Tipton Shines in Golden West Invitational

Special to The Press
SACRAMENTO, Calif. — A stirring individual performance earned Pontiac's Bill Tipton the Governor's Trophy here Saturday night in the Golden West Invitational track meet.

Tipton set one record, was deprived of another because of the wind and was part of a record-equalling relay team in the invitational that attracted the leading high school runners in the nation.

He was named the outstanding athlete in the meet and received the Governor's

Trophy from former Olympic great Jesse Owens in a post-meet ceremony.

Tipton, 18, who set local and state records on Michigan tracks this season, sped to a national record of 18.3 seconds running around a curve in the low sticks, the time erasing the old standard of 18.6 set by Wayne Collett of Gardena, Calif., who posted the same time in running second to the Pontiac ace.

A 13.4 second clobbering by Tipton in the highs was a tenth of a second under the national record — Richmond Flowers and Tipton share the mark of 13.5—but it was a wind-aided effort and won't go into the record book.

RECORD NIGHT

Over-all, it was a record night as three national marks fell, and one of them was the shot put standard put on the books in 1958 by Olympic gold medal winner Dallas Long of Phoenix.

Strongboy Karl Salb of Crossett, Ark., flipped the shot 69-feet-4-inches to wipe out Long's old mark of 69-3. Gullu Catlo of East Detroit, Mich., placed sixth with a heave of 59-9-4.

The other record came in the 330-yard intermediate hurdles with Joe Kursrock of Mt. Vernon, N.Y., racing to a 37.3 time to break the mark of 37.8 set earlier in the year by Jack Faubion and Rocky Woods of Texas.

Another victim of the wind was Jerry Proctor of Pasadena, Calif., who leaped 26-feet-5-1/2-inches in the broad jump, bettering his record of 25-7, but he also was aided by the wind and the mark will not count.

After his hurdles victories, Tipton teamed with Bill Gaines of New Jersey, Jim Green of Kentucky and Bill Bakonfleth of Illinois in posting a record-equalling time of 1:25.4 in the 880-yard relay.

Freels Bacon of Flint, Mich., who won the state high jumping title earlier in the year with a 6-feet-8-inch effort, could clear only 6-5-1/2 and placed fifth behind Don Stevenson of Missouri who set a meet record with a mark of 6-7-1/2.

Gaines had some help from the wind so his record-equalling 9.3 seconds time in the 100-yard dash won't stand.

Nicklaus Wins Open With Record Spree

at Baltusrol CC

SPRINGFIELD, N.J. (AP) — "I felt like an idiot, standing there with a one-iron in my hand," Jack Nicklaus said. "But I knew what I had to do to win this golf tournament."

The bulky Golden Bear, at age 27 perhaps the best golfer the world has seen, was explaining the final moments of his record-shattering triumph in the United States Open Golf Tournament Sunday.

"I wasn't thinking about records," Nicklaus said over and over. "Records come. They're made to be broken. I just wanted to win this tournament."

He did. And — he insists it was entirely incidental — he broke Ben Hogan's 19-year-old Open scoring record of 276 by one stroke with a curling, 23-foot putt on the final hole.

It gave him a final round 65, five under par for the stately old Baltusrol Course, and a 72 hole total of 275, adding the Open scoring record to his Masters mark of 271.

But he was more concerned with adding this second Open title — he won his first in 1962 in his first year as a pro — to his collection of three Masters, a PGA and a British Open crown.

"I had to make a decision on the 18th tee," Nicklaus said. The 18th is a 542 yard, par 5 hole. "I was four strokes ahead and knew I had to beat (Arnold) Palmer to win it."

"Two things were going through my mind. One was what Arnie said last year, that he was thinking about breaking Hogan's record when he had that blow-up in San Francisco."

BIG SEVEN

"The other was that Dick Mayer took a seven on this same hole and lost the Open in 1954."

"So I took out a one iron — I felt like an idiot doing it — and aimed it down the right side of the fairway. I was in the rough, on something that looked like a cable. So I got a drop and hit an eight iron back to the fairway."

"He reached the green in three — and that's when I knew I had the tournament won."

For all intents and purposes, however, he had it won much earlier, when he reeled off a string of three straight birdies on the third through fifth holes. That gave him a lead he never relinquished.

He slipped to a bogey five on six when he pushed his second shot to the right into the gallery, but came back with birdies on seven and eight, dropping an 18-foot putt for one-putt pitching to within four feet of the flag for another.

Three more birds on the back nine — two came after Irons left him putts of three and five feet — completed the job that Nicklaus called "probably my best round ever."

Palmer, who was tied with Nicklaus and Casper for second going into the final round, finished with a 69 for second place at 279. Playing in the same swampland with Nicklaus, he didn't get a birdie until the 17th, but added another at the 18th.

Casper, the defending champion, was bothered by driving problems and settled for fourth with a 72 for 282, one stroke back of Don January, who had a final round 70.

Marty Fleckman, the 23-year-old amateur from Port Arthur, Texas, who led the third round, blew sky high with an 80 for 289, putting him far, far back in the pack. He started with three bogeys, and also bogeyed six of seven holes on the back nine.

Hogan, 55, seeking his fifth Open title, had a final 72 for 292.

Starter Again Fails to Finish

Tigers Continue Losing Ways

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers, reeling under a two-week slump during which they have dropped nine of 11 games, may make some pitching changes to try and straighten out their mound corps.

The Kansas City Athletics beat the Tigers 8-4 behind Jim Hunter Sunday. It was the 10th time in 11 games that a Detroit starting pitcher has failed to pitch nine innings.

Earl Wilson pitched nine innings of the 19-inning 6-5 loss to the A's in the second game of a doubleheader Saturday.

The last complete game was pitched by Joe Sparrma June 6 when Detroit swept a twinnal at Kansas City.

But the A's jumped on Sparrma for three first-inning runs Sunday, and tagged the strong-armed right-hander with his first loss after six victories.

"We're pressing," said Manager Mayo Smith, who said he planned to start veteran Johnny Podres Tuesday against the California Angels.

"Anytime you get into a losing streak, it's a common thing. Our pitching has gone sour and our defense has faltered," he added.

"But when Mickey Lolich gets out of the service and the doubleheaders slacken off, I think our starters will come around."

Smith said Lolich would pitch the first game of tonight's doubleheader against the Angels, with Denny McLain going in the second game. Lolich, on duty with the Air National Guard at Alpena, will get an overnight pass to play, Smith said.

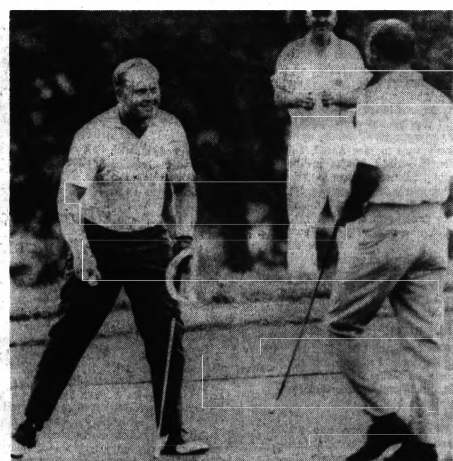

"Podres will pitch Tuesday," he added. "And if he comes through he just might take somebody's starting job."

But Smith emphasized that Podres was just filling in for the overworked pitching staff because of two doubleheaders in five days, including the 13-inning game.

"I'm not contemplating any changes right now," he said.

Amateur Fleckman Finishes 14 Strokes Behind Jack Nicklaus

SPRINGFIELD, N.J. (AP) — It took me four days to get on my game," amateur Marty Fleckman of Port Arthur, Tex., said after giving followers a thrill in the National Open Golf Championship. After shooting a three-under-par 67 to lead the first round, losing the lead temporarily in the second and then regaining it in the third, the former University of Houston played skied to an 80 in the final round Sunday.

He had a 72-hole score of 289 — 14 strokes higher than Jack Nicklaus' record winning 275.

Thus Nicklaus, firing a 65, picked up 15 shots over the last 18 holes. "I thought I could still come back after getting those three straight bogeys at the start," the 23-year-old Fleckman said. "But I couldn't putt. I had five three-putts here."

Fleckman bogeyed six of the first seven holes on the back nine over the Baltusrol course.

He said he wasn't particularly nervous. "I slept well and I didn't feel tense. I'm just not supposed to play in the same league with Nicklaus, Palmer and those boys," he added.

Fleckman, son of a lumber dealer in Port Arthur, was an alternate on the U.S. Walker Cup team which beat Britain last month. He failed to win a point but gained the semifinals in the British Amateur before losing to teammate Ron Cerrudo.

One of the longest hitters in golf — his average was better in this tournament than that of Nicklaus on certain holes checked by an IBM computer — he is believed prime for material.

"I'm in the lumber business right now," he said.

Barry Considers Offer

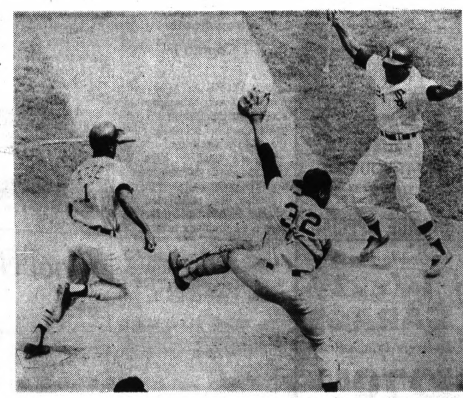

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Rick Barry, San Francisco Warriors star, said Sunday, "I still haven't made up my mind" about a reported offer from Oakland in the rival American Basketball Association.

Grand Prix Crown Is First for Gurney

FRANCOCHAMPS, Belgium (AP) — Dan Gurney captured the Grand Prix auto race of Belgium Sunday, becoming the first American in an American-made car ever to win a Grand Prix that counts toward the world championship.

Gurney, 36, of Costa Mesa, Calif., driving an American-Eagle he designed and built, beat Jackie Stewart of Britain in a BRM by 63 seconds, completing the 244.77-mile test in one hour, 40 minutes, 49.4 seconds. His average speed was 145.65 miles per hour in sunny weather.

The only American among 18 starters, Gurney broke his own 1964 lap record on the 20th lap of the 8.74-mile circuit, averaging 145.51 m.p.h., and took the lead from Stewart on the next lap.

LONG STRETCH — Chicago White Sox runner Tom Agee (1) scores on Ron Hansen's sacrifice fly as New York Yankee catcher Elston Howard leaps high for the throw from center field in the 7th inning of the first game in Chicago yesterday. Tom McCraw, the next batter for the Sox, gives Agee a safe signal at the right. The Chisox won both games 7-3 and 4-0.

White Sox Want to Prove Pennant Intentions in AL

CHICAGO (AP) — Somebody had better start believing the Chicago White Sox pretty soon or they might run away and hide from the rest of the American League.

The Sox have been accused of everything from being a bore to being lucky, but the fact is they lead the league by 3 1/2 games after sweeping a doubleheader from the New York Yankees Sunday 7-3 and 4-0.

Pitching always has been the big factor with the Sox, but manager Eddie Stanky credits alertness and a minimum of mistakes to his team's surge.

"We can't miss signs, we can't make errors and we have to back up plays if we're going to win," said Stanky.

"We've been called lucky, a bore and a team you can't believe in," he continued. "That's okay with me. A couple of weeks ago I sensed more and more that the players are beginning to believe we can win the pennant."

"That's the important thing because it gives a club momentum and we're becoming a bunch of opportunists. That's important, too."

Stanky is always being asked about his team's base-running statistics and the question riddles him because he knows why it is being asked.

LIKE TO RUN

The Sox have stolen 65 bases this season, but they also have been caught stealing 48 times and the ratio minimizes the fact they lead the league in steals.

"Those statistics seem to bother everyone but me," says Stanky. "A lot of times one of our slow runners will be going on a three-and-one pitch. The batter strikes out and the runner is cut down and that goes well as caught stealing. But we do pretty well when we steal by design."

Stanky has another winning formula. "I tell the players when we reach the seventh inning that we are now in the business end of the game because from the seventh inning on is when games are won or lost. The boys are responding admirably."

Miss Maxwell Gains Top Pay Check as Pro

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Susie Maxwell stood in the flush of victory Sunday after winning the Milwaukee Jaycee Open Golf Tournament and solemnly said she was ready to drop professional golf at the drop of a proposal.

"The tour is nice," said the 25-year-old Oklahoman after pocketing $2,250 — the biggest pay check of her pro career.

"But it's not the most important thing in a girl's life. To me that's getting married and having a family."

Susie, who says she's waiting for her beau in San Francisco to pop the question, climbed to second place on the 1967 earnings list with her five-stroke triumph carved out of rounds of 68, 71 and 75 for an even par 216.

Champs Lose to Angels, 5-3

Dynasty Is Myth for Orioles

BALTIMORE (AP) — When the Baltimore Orioles won the American League pennant by nine games in 1966 and swept the World Series in four straight, the popular question around Baltimore was: "Have the Orioles started a new baseball dynasty?"

After the first 60 games of the 1967, and a 5-3 loss yesterday to the Angels, the answer is coming back loud and clear in the form of a resounding "no."

There are still 102 games remaining for the Orioles to pull themselves together for a pennant push, but time is running out on the ifs and maybes surrounding the prolonged slump of the preseason favorites.

When the Orioles began losing early in the season, an official of a team picked to be a contender viewed the slump mostly as a delaying action.

Newest Cougar Averts Shutout

Detroit Booters Drop 4-1 Contest in LA

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Center forward Trevor Thompson has scored all the Detroit Cougars' goals since he belatedly joined the team a week ago.

But the Cougars have lost two and tied the third game that Thompson's played in.

Sunday, the undefeated Los Angeles Wolves handed the Cougars a 4-1 drubbing before 5,381 fans.

Thompson's goal in the 40th minute of the first half merely averted a shutout for the Cougars.

The Wolves, represented by the Wolverhampton Wanderers of England, had already put four goals past Cougar goalie John Kennedy.

Bobby Thompson and Derek Douglas scored goals at the eighth and ninth minute marks respectively. Eddie Hunt added another five minutes later, and Peter Knowles closed out the Wolves' scoring at the half-hour mark.

It was the second straight loss for the Cougars, represented by the Glentoran of Belfast, Ireland. Thompson scored twice in last Sunday's 2-2 tie against Washington.

Cleveland 4-2, and Kansas City Whipped Detroit 8-4

SORE ARMS

Every time the Orioles lose a game, their followers have an excuse — the pitching staff has too many sore arms, Bow Povel always starts slowly, the hitters are in a slump, ad infinitum.

After each victory, the cry is, "Here they go!"

But after losing to the California Angels 5-3 Sunday, for their eighth loss in the last 11 games, the Orioles are in seventh place — eight games behind first-place Chicago in the loss column.

Dave McNally, won 13 games last year and was expected to be a pitching mainstay, failed to last Sunday for the 13th time in 14 starts as his record dropped to 3-5 and his earned run average climbed to 5.71. Manager Hank Bauer immediately assigned him to the bullpen.

Jim Palmer, a 15-game winner in 1966, has made only one start in more than a month because of recurring shoulder trouble. But he has never been placed on the disabled list to make room for a healthy hurler.

Brooks Robinson, who hit .295 and drove in 70 runs during the first half of 1966 and then slumped to .236 with 30 RBI over the final half, continues to baffle observers with his year-long slump. He is now at .244 with 23 runs batted in.

Powell has picked up after another slow start, but has only six homers and 31 RBI. He finished last season with 34 homers and 109 RBI.

The team batting average is just a couple points below last season's .258, but the clutch hits are not as frequent. The 1967 Orioles have a poor 7-14 record in one-run games, as compared with 27-23 last year.

Hank Allen's pinch single with two out in the 10th inning gave Washington its triumph. Batting for Mike Epstein, Allen drove in Bob Saverine, who led off with a walk and moved up on Ed Stroud's sacrifice. Carl Yastrzemski tied the game in the ninth with his 16th homer of the season.

Woody Held continued to torment his ex-teammates in Baltimore, driving in two runs in the first inning of the Angels' victory over the Birds.

Astros' Rookie Wilson Defeats Atlanta Braves

15 Batters Struck Out by Young Pitcher in 2-0 Triumph

By the Associated Press

Don Wilson won't mind passing up another breakfast, if it means more champagne before dinner.

Wilson, a 22-year-old Houston rookie, pitched an overpowering, 2-0 no-hitter — first in the National League since 1965 — against the usually potent Atlanta Braves Sunday.

The 6-foot-3 right-hander walked three Braves, but struck out 15 — including five of the last six he faced — in hurling the first no-hitter in the Astro-dome. And he did it all on an empty stomach.

"I didn't change one thing today," he said between sips of the bubbly in the chaotic Astros' clubhouse. "Oh, yes, there was one thing. My wife didn't cook breakfast for me. She wasn't feeling good."

Would he skip breakfast before his next start?

"I'll try it one more time and see what happens."

Elsewhere in the NL, St. Louis trimmed San Francisco 4-1 to move past Cincinnati into first place while Los Angeles cuffed the Reds 5-3, Pittsburgh beat Philadelphia 5-3 and the Chicago Cubs split a double-header with the New York Mets, winning 4-3 after losing by the same score in 10 innings.

Wilson, who got a saving assist from third baseman Bob Aspromonte in the sixth inning, walked Mike Menke leading off the eighth, hit out the Braves' Rico Carty, Charles Lau and Cleto Bayre.

In the ninth, Felipe Alou fouled out to Aspromonte, Tito Francona fanned — and slugging Hank Aaron stood between Wilson and the championship.

"I checked the scoreboard to see who they had coming up. I didn't want to face Aaron, but after I walked Menke in the eighth, I knew I'd have to."

Aaron ran the count to 3-2, fouled off the next pitch and then went down swinging.

"He just threw it right past me," Aaron said. "This kid threw as hard as anybody we've faced all year."

"He's the kind of guy that makes me want to retire from the game."

Three Deaths Mar Italian Auto Races

CASERTA, Italy (AP) — Two race drivers and a spectator were killed and four drivers seriously injured in three auto races in Italy Sunday.

Geki Russo, Italian formula three champion, and Swiss industrial designer Ben Fehr died in an eight-car chain reaction collision during an international formula three race at Caserta.

Authorities said Russo's car blew a tire and hit a wall, spreading oil on the pavement. Fehr walked away from his wrecked car, but was run down by skidding autos.

Romano Perdoni and Franco Foresti, both of Italy, suffered serious injuries in the crash on a curve where 10 cars were bunched during the ninth lap of the 25-lap, 70-mile race. Three other drivers were shaken up.

The race was suspended after the crash.

MINOR RACE

In a minor auto race at Reggio Emilia, a man watching the race was killed when Italian driver Walter Froldi's Fiat 850 shot off a curve into the road side crowd.

Froldi and 12 other spectators, who fell backwards off a steep embankment while trying to get out of the way, were hospitalized, none with serious injuries.

Miss Hanson Retires Memorial Trophy

Christlott Hanson rode off with honors yesterday in the opening of the 37th annual Detroit Horse Show at the Bloomfield Open Hunt.

The 20-year-old Sharon, Ont., rider won two of the four dressage classes and retired the Colonel I. L. Kitts Memorial Trophy by winning the combination test dressage for the third year in a row.

Miss Hanson's horse for each of the three leading to the trophy was Bonhomie.

Earlier in the day, Miss Hanson had won the third level dressage riding Bon Hom, owned by T. W. Butts of Amherstburg, Ont.

Other first-day blue ribbons went to Susan Davidge of Santa Ynez, Calif., and Natalie Pavek of Arlington, Ill.

Pamela Darwin of Pontiac placed third in the S.E.I. St. Georges dressage.

Class A Fourth Level Open Dressage: 1. Baccarat, Natalie Pavek; 2. Baroque, Susan Davidge; 3. Medallion, Emily Grant.

Class B Fourth Level Open Dressage: 1. Bon Hom, Christlott Hanson; 2. Jewel, Natalie Pavek; 3. Sparky, Stephanie Greene.

Pair Shutouts Highlights Rec Softball Action

A pair of two-hit shutouts highlighted play last night in Waterford Township softball action.

Harland Keith fanned 10 in a five-inning affair in pitching league-leading Spencer Ford (12-4) to a 13-0 nod over Waterford Merchants (0-11), and Buckner Finance (2-9) upset Clarkson Appliances (5-7), 8-4, behind the pitching of Bill DeRousse.

Louis Seay and Maurice Slack collected two hits apiece to spark the Spencer Ford attack, and the winners were aided by seven errors and nine walks by the Merchants.

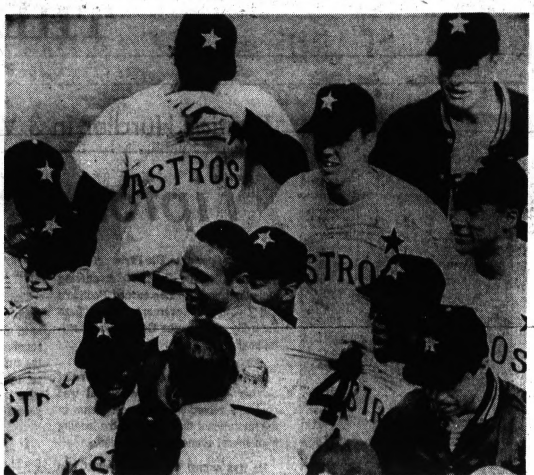

A two-run homer by Jerry Carlton and a two-run triple by Bob Wilson highlighted a six-run second inning for the Buckner Finance crew.

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Detroit area bowlers took the first four places in the Michigan Majors Association tournament at Comptel Lanes.

Champion Tony Loloanico of Warren averaged 223 for his final 12 games Sunday to win $500 with a total of 3075 points. Jack Born of Southfield finished with a 2909 to win $300. Hal Jolley of Detroit had 2873 for $200 and Bill Collet of Detroit rolled a 2649 for $100.

Chuck Sumner of Royal Oak, who won $80, rolled 1397 for six qualifying games to average more than 232, establishing a record for the association of nonprofessional bowlers with averages of 180 and up.

ROOKIE SHINES—Houston Astro rookie Don Wilson, without cap, almost had his shirt torn off by teammates as he struck out 15 Braves in the 2-0 victory.

Aussie, Spaniard in U.S. Net Finals

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Top-seeded Ken Rosewall of Australia was squared against Australian Amos Gimeno of Spain today in the finals of the U.S. Professional Hard Court Tennis Championships.

Rosewall beat Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., Sunday, 6-4, 6-4. Gimeno, who won the tournament last year, advanced by defeating Australia's Fred Stolle 6-3, 6-3.

The favored doubles combination of Rosewall and Ralston are matched against Stolle and Mal Anderson.

In doubles action Sunday, Anderson and Stolle beat Alex Omedeo of Peru and Pancho Segura of Ecuador 6-4, 6-2. Ralston and Rosewall defeated Mike Davies of Britain and Earl Buchholz of St. Louis 6-4, 6-3.

Racer Scores Carolina Win

Son of Driving Great South's Super Star

ROCKINGHAM, N.C. (AP) — There isn't much left for stock car race driver Richard Petty to do but win more money and set more records for others to shoot at.

Petty, 29-year-old son of former driving great Lee Petty, took the Carolina 500-mile race Sunday and now has won on all of the South's five super speedways except the one at Charlotte. And even there, he crossed the finish line at the head of the pack on time as a relief driver.

He has won 59 times in NASCAR's Grand National Division, more than any other driver in history, since beginning his career under his father's tutelage in 1959.

This year he has won 11 times, nine in his last 15 starts, and has banked $59,440 in official earnings to bring his career total well above the $300,000 mark. Every dollar of it has been won in Plymouth race cars.

"It's not so much a thrill to win now," he said after beating Dodge's Buddy Baker by more than a lap in Sunday's chase of more than 4 1/2 hours over the mile-long North Carolina Motor Speedway. "But the money spends just as well."

Petty, a curly-haired, 6-foot-5 200-pounder, pocketed $16,125 in this one. But he found some real competition in Baker, another strapping 6-5 second generation driver.

EARLY LEADER

Baker led much of the early part of the race, staying in front for 128 miles at one stretch, and held a lead of more than a lap at the midway point. A caution flag allowed Petty to make up the deficit and from then on it was principally a duel between these two as 35,000 watched.

For more than 50 miles the two close friends battled through the shallow turns, virtually side-by-side most of the time and rubbing metal on many occasions. Petty finally gained the advantage. From that point on—the 370th circuit of the track—the more experienced Petty had control of the race.

Finishing behind Baker in order were three Ford drivers — Dick Hutcherson, Cale Yarborough and Darrel Dieringer. Baker picked up $9,650 of the $75,000 purse.

Clarkston 4 1 1
Walled Lake 2 1 1
Southfield 3 1 1

Clarkston took a double header from Berkley, 3-1, and, 7-2 in the American Legion Baseball League yesterday.

Dan Fife pitched a two-hitter and struck out 13 while teammate Jerry Ostrom knocked in the winning runs with two-run homer.

In the second game Mike Vidor also gave up only two hits to Berkley while Tom Allen pushed two runs across home plate with a double for Clarkston.

Walled Lake won both games of a twin bill, 1-0, and, 6-2 from Troy. Chuck O'Brien scattered eight hits and struck out 14 batters and then drove in the winning run in the 11th inning in the first game.

Wally Williams and Greg Fogler put the second game out of reach in the third inning when Williams tripled and Fogler doubled.

Southfield took a pair of games from Milford, 10-3, and, 4-3.

Waterford followed precedent by defeating Farmington both times, 6-1, and 9-2. Bruce Mihaluk struck out five and allowed two hits in winning the first game for Waterford.

Rod Kennedy won the second game for Waterford in relief. Jim Burns and Dan Geroux both had three hits in the doubleheader.

Southfield and Walled Lake will play a make-up game tonight at 6 p.m. at Walled Lake.

Champ Out of Action in WDGA

The defending champion will be missing when members of the Women's District Golf Association tee off tomorrow in the first round of their 54-hole medal play tournament at Orchard Lake Country Club.

Six-time champion Mrs. Keith LeClair, who won the crown last year at Grosse Ile, is in Essex, England, where her husband is on a special assignment for the Ford Motor Company. They went to England in January and plan to return next month.

With Mrs. LeClair out of the running, the favorite's spot has been taken by Mrs. T. M. Werner of Indianwood and Mrs. John Hume of Birmingham, both three-time winners of the event.

And waiting in the wings should the favorites falter is Mrs. Robert Gamble of Lochmoor, a two-time runner-up. She finished 15 strokes back of Mrs. Hume in second place in 1962.

and was eight shots back of Mrs. LeClair last year.

Booth Takes Lead in City 'A' League

Booth Homes has slipped into a narrow lead in a bid for baseball honors in the city's hot Class A League race.

The Booth (6-1) squad turned back Lake Orion Cardinals (3-5) yesterday 3-1 to maintain its half-game edge over the R. T. Clippers (5-1-1), a 3-1 winner over Oakland University (2-6).

M. G. Collision (5-2) went into yesterday's action tied with Booth for the lead but the team wound up on the short end of a 5-1 score in a bout with Cranbrook (5-2).

In other games, Talbott Lumber (1-5) won its first with a 15-hit barrage that saddled U.A.W. 653 with its sixth straight loss (0-6), and Don Sackett hurled a one-hitter as the defending champion Teamsters (4-2) knocked off C.I.O. 594 (4-4), 1-0.

Dan Fife collected a pair of hits and scored twice and teammate Jim Ward picked up a pair of safeties to back the three-hit pitching of Booth's Ed Sparkman.

BIG INNING

Cranbrook used five hits, a walk and a hit batsman in the second inning to push across its five runs, the big blow of the inning a two-run triple by pitcher Mike Burklow. It was one of two hits for Burklow, who fanned six and permitted only three hits. Al Levy also came in with a pair of hits.

Sackett retired the first nine C.I.O. batters before first baseman Bud Williams broke the spell with a leadoff double in the fourth. He escaped further damage and his teammates shoved across a run in the fourth for all the help he needed.

Sackett's mates managed only three hits off C.I.O.'s Dick Goldsworth, but one of them came in the fourth following a walk to John Fleser. Fleser went to second on a sacrifice and scampered home on Charles Johnson's single.

Trailing 1-0 in the fifth, the Clippers took a 2-1 lead on a two-run double by Warren Ste-

WASHINGTON (AP) — At a saving of $25,000, the President's Cup Hydroplane Regatta staged one of its best races Sunday since the Cup was first offered in 1926.

Mike Thomas of Harvey Cedars, N.J., in Miss Dodge Rebellion caught and passed Chicago's Bill Heath in the rear-engine Long Gone in the final 100 yards, capturing the top prize in the two-day meet Sunday.

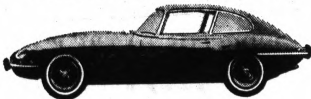

Both drove patched-up Chrysler-powered seven-litre (427 cubic inches) boats in the 8 1/3 mile race won at 75.6 m.p.h. Gen Burgin, Fort Mitchell, Ky., was a distant third in His Lordship.

Philanthropist Plans All-Star Film for Actors' Fund

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Jules Stein confessed to the press conference that he hadn't told his wife about the plan he was announcing. "I promised her after I set up the Eye Institute at UCLA I would take it easy," said the 73-year-old millionaire. But Stein was embarking on a huge new project.

At a conference attended by leaders of the film industry last week, Stein disclosed a bold plan to help finance the Motion Picture Relief Fund. Universal Pictures will film a major movie with the cooperation of the guilds and unions, and all of the profits will go to the fund, which would be conducting a $40-million drive for building and endowment.

"I feel good about our chances to reach our $40-million goal," declared Gregory Peck, chairman of the fund drive committee. "Our thanks will go to Mr. Stein, a creative philanthropist."

Stein is the eye doctor from South Bend, Ind., whose sideline of booking dance bands led to his creation of the Music Corp. of America. He powered the company to top rank as an agency for film stars, then he came a film industry power by taking over Universal Studio. He has a faculty for making money for charity, as well as MCA.

"I felt after speaking to Greg Peck that there might be a simple way to produce a large amount of money for the relief fund," Stein explained. "We had done it before in setting up the films 'Sluge Door Canteen' and 'Hollywood Canteen.' The plan to help finance the Motion Picture Relief Fund, Universal Pictures will film a major movie with the cooperation of the guilds and unions, and all of the profits will go to the fund, which would be conducting a $40-million drive for building and endowment."

His new plan would also be an all-star movie. The budget would be a minimum of $1.5 million — "but it might be two or three times that amount if we felt the film warranted it." The aim is for a road show movie of two to three hours in length, and Stein mentioned that the story line might be like "Around the World in 80 Days" or "If I Had a Million," both of them episodic with a myriad of stars.

The movie would be shot in Hollywood, but overseas locations might be included to accommodate foreign stars. The aid and support of other studios will be sought, and Stein expects some of the stars might well contribute at least part of their earnings to the relief fund. "We take care of our own" is the motto of the relief fund, and for 43 years it has been providing for the less fortunate members of the film industry at the Country Home and Hospital in nearby Woodland Hills.

In accepting Stein's services as leader of the proposed movie, fund President George Bagnall told him: "I'm sure this is one activity your wife will give her approval for."

GI Combat Fatigue Is Felt Less in Viet

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — U.S. troops fighting in Vietnam are bearing up with less "combat fatigue" than they did in Korea or two world wars, a psychiatrist said today.

Combat fatigue means emotional crack-up under harrowing danger. In World War I, it was called shell shock, explained Dr. Robert E. Strang of San Francisco, a U.S. Navy psychiatrist.

But psychiatrists are finding more cases of "pseudocombat fatigue" than true combat fatigue, he told the American Medical Association.

True combat fatigue means a temporary pathological reaction of a basically healthy personality placed under severe or often continuing danger and stress, he said.

MADE WORSE

Men with pseudocombat fatigue already had personality or psychoneurotic troubles which were made worse or came into the open under battle stress, he said.

Strang served in 1966 aboard the hospital ship Repose off the coast of Vietnam.

Of the psychiatric patients brought aboard, 15 per cent had conditions diagnosed as true combat fatigue. With drugs and psychiatric treatment, four-fifths of them were returned to duty with their units, including combat, usually within two weeks, the psychiatrist said. But 57 per cent were diagnosed as having pseudocombat fatigue, and only about half could return to duty after treatment, Strang said. Some of them soon broke down again.

Strang said a clear differentiation should be made between the two types of reaction.

280 Hungarians Flee to Austria

Most Defect From Official Tourist Trips

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — So far this year, 280 Hungarians have asked for political asylum in this neutral country. Most were defectors from official tourist trips.

Such defections started with the first, large-scale Hungarian travels to the West several years ago. But Hungarian authorities have not stopped travel as a result of the defections. They apparently decided the number of defectors was tolerable.

Several thousand Hungarians are given passports for Western trips every year.

An official of the Austrian Interior Minister said sometimes a dozen or more Hungarians stay behind when their travel groups return home.

12 MISSING

During the first week of June, for instance, Austrian authorities reported 12 Hungarians missing from travel groups as they returned to Hungary.

At an Austrian border checkpoint, an officer was asked if there is any fear among Hungarians going back to Hungary that they might be blamed for the disappearance of their fellow-travelers.

"No," he replied. "Most of the time the tours are led by the same travel agents, and we know them by sight. Even if some of their group had stayed behind in Austria, the travel agents will come through here again next week, or the week thereafter with another group, as if nothing had happened."

Hungarians who want to stay in Austria usually are taken to a refugee camp in Traiskirchen, south of Vienna, where they are screened and later given work permits. Some join relatives overseas.

Confused Drivers

NEW YORK (AP) — At least 50 times a day motorists confused by signs on the approaches find themselves trapped on the George Washington Bridge and headed for New Jersey when they want to go to midtown Manhattan or upstate New York, says Ernest Black, manager of the crossing.

A Unique Pair Helps at Birth

BOSTON (AP) — Patrolmen John Meade and Jony Dwyer delivered Rose Gobi's 7-pound, 1-ounce baby daughter Sunday after responding to an emergency call at Mrs. Gobi's home.

The two are the only batch-ers in the East Boston police division.

Cannery Row Cleans Up After Fire

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP) — Residents of John Steinbeck's fabled Cannery Row tackled the task of cleaning up today after fire destroyed one of the old canneries.

Steinbeck wrote of the fables, oibles and fun of the area's citizens, especially in the hilarious novel "Cannery Row."

The row of massive wooden buildings was threatened Saturday night when fire destroyed the interior of a former sardine cannery and partly damaged a building housing an automotive products firm.

Fire Chief Cliff Hebard estimated damage totaled $150,000, mostly to the former cannery, which had housed an auction gallery.

Marbles Champ

WILDWOOD, N.J. (AP) — The winner of the 1967 National Marbles Tournament was Barry Blum, 13, of York, Pa.

And Takes Over Political Organization

Nasser Shuffles Cabinet for Better Hand

CAIRO (UPI) — Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser today shuffled his cabinet to strengthen his own hand, a semiofficial newspaper said.

The newspaper Al-Ahram reported Nasser was forming the new cabinet under his own chairmanship. It also reported Nasser was personally taking over the Arab Socialist Union (ASU), Egypt's only political organization.

Al-Ahram said the new cabinet would be sworn in tomorrow and assume duties immediately.

Nasser announced 10 days ago he was retiring to "rejoin the people's ranks" in the U.A.R. The next day, however, he accepted a National Assembly resolution asking him to stay in office until all trace of "Egypt's setback" were eliminated. But he let go the generals who suffered "grave setbacks" in the war with Israel.

Al-Ahram said the cabinet would be reformed in order to "meet the requirements for the present stage of national struggle."

MILITARY SHAKE-UP

The National Assembly resolution gave Nasser a free hand to take whatever steps he thought necessary for the "reconstruction" of Egypt following its defeat by Israel. Almost immediately a shake-up of the armed forces followed.

In taking over the ASU from Vice President Ali Sabry, Nasser will assume direct command of the organization which recruits popular support for the regime.

While the Arab world kept one eye on the United Nations and the efforts of the Soviet Union on its behalf, it called for economic punishment against western nations who allegedly gave aid to Israel.

Arab foreign ministers concluded a conference in Kuwait where they debated whether to continue withholding Arabian aid from Britain and the United States. Although all the ministers said the Arab world was united after the conference, informed sources said the old radical-conservative divisions reappeared at the meeting.

The newspaper Al-Ahram reported today more than 100 Afro-Asian committees would send delegates to a July 1 emergency conference in Cairo to map plans for Arab world support against Israel.

Al-Ahram quoted the director of the Arab League's economic department, Moukhtar El-Wakeel, as saying the United States and Britain would lose $1 billion annually through Arab boycotts.

In London, oil company spokesmen warned British motorists that the price of gasoline in Great Britain was likely to go up because of the Middle East War.

Warden's Aide

MARQUETTE (AP) — Robert Brown, superintendent of the Alexandrine House, a rehabilitation center for paroled convicts in Detroit, has been named assistant deputy warden of Marquette Prison, Brown, 31, is a career penologist and a 1958 graduate of Michigan State University.

Cincinnati Quiet; Riot Post Ended

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — al Guardsmen who had been put on emergency duty had pulled away. Withdrawal may be complete today.

Police Chief Joseph Schooler announced Sunday that the special riot command post set up during the week had been dismantled. Most of the 1,200 National Guardsmen who had been put on emergency duty had pulled away. Withdrawal may be complete today.

The guardsmen were ordered to duty Tuesday on the second of four hot nights marked by rioting, arson and vandalism in many parts of the city. The violence had largely abated by Friday.

Damage has been estimated at more than $1.5 million. At least 350 persons were arrested.

About 25 per cent of college students today plan to go to graduate school after graduation.

2 Dead, 2 Injured in 3-Car Crack-Up

SARNIA, Ont. (AP) — A Ligonville woman and a Toronto man were killed Saturday in a three-car crash six miles east of here. They were identified as Mrs. John Wendelin Pfeiffer, 64, and Stephen Smith, 23.

Mrs. Pfeiffer's 75-year-old husband was reported in serious condition from shock at a hospital here Sunday. Their daughter, Jean, 26, also of Detroit, was in critical condition in Victoria Hospital, London, Ont., with head and chest injuries.

The driver of the third car involved in the accident, R. Watcher of Stratford, Ont., escaped uninjured.

Soviet Sub Answers Pair's SOS

COPENHAGEN (UPI) — There they were, tired, hungry, exhausted and stuck in a broken-down motorboat when a plane came help in the shape of a Russian submarine.

Peter Bohmstedt-Petersen said he and his wife had been vainly signaling for help yesterday after their motor failed in the Kattegat.

He said the Russian submarine, the S-533, suddenly surfaced next to them. Did the Danish couple need help?

The Russians tossed over a plastic bag filled with coffee, chicken and chocolate. They tied a rope to the Bohmstedt-Petersen craft and towed it to Elsinore harbor, just below Hamlet's legendary castle.

Bohmstedt-Petersen showed his gratitude by giving the Russians his electronic lighter, the only one of value he had with him. The Russian submarine moved off.

Mrs. Jacob Oesch
Service for former resident Mrs. Jacob (Caroline) Oesch, 78, of Hialeah, Fla., will be 1:30 p.m. Wednesday at Hulton Funeral Home. Burial will be in Ottawa Park Cemetery.

Mrs. Oesch died Saturday. She was a member of the First Baptist Church of Pontiac.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Leona Wilsey of Hialeah and Mrs. Dorothy Garrison of Boca Raton, Fla.; two sons, Leonard and Charles, both of Waterford Township; a brother, seven grandchildren; and one great-grandchild.

Verner H. Crankshaw
METAMORA — Service for Verner H. Crankshaw, 89, of 3668 Farmers Creek will be 2 p.m. tomorrow at Hadley Baptist Methodist Community Church. Burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery, Hadley. A Masonic memorial service will be held at 8 tonight at the C. F. Sherman Funeral Home, Ortonville.

Mr. Crankshaw died Saturday. A retired carpenter, he was a life member of Hadley Lodge No. 210, P.F. & M., and a life member of DeWitt Clinton

Robber Knives Pontiac Man

A Pontiac man was stabbed and robbed while walking home late yesterday, it was reported to city police.

Eddie W. Daniels, 34, of 168 E. Wilson told officers he was at the corner of East South Boulevard and South East Boulevard when four men approached him on foot.

He said one of the four pulled a knife, stabbed him in the chest and arm, then took $90 in cash from his shirt pocket.

He did not see which way the assailants fled, police were told.

Daniels was reportedly treated for his wounds at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and released.

Beau Leaps, Girl Leaves

CHICAGO (AP) — Richard Jewell, police said, was unable to talk his girl friend out of taking a trip to Europe.

So the 22-year-old Decatur, Ill., man jumped out of Maurer Warrick's third-floor apartment window, said Detective Sgt. Edward Nichols.

Police took Jewell to Weiss Memorial Hospital, where officials said he wasn't even limping.

Miss Warrick, 21, telephoned police to make sure Jewell was okay, and then hopped on a plane for London.

New Chapter for Vets of 36th Division

All veterans of the 36th Division of World War II are urged to contact the president of the newly formed Midwest chapter of the 36th Division Association, headquartered in Pontiac.

A charter was granted to the Midwest chapter after the initial reunion meeting of the former combat engineers last July, according to its president, Edward Butora of 4178 Meigs, Waterford Township.

This year's reunion will be July 8-9 at Hawthorne Park, weather permitting. In case of rain, the group will move to the VFW hall, 388 S. Saginaw.

Sunday's meeting will be at the home of Peter Rose, 7902 Dixie Highway, Independence Township.

"We are anxious to enlarge the membership," so all veterans of the 36th Division and their wives are urged to attend," Butora said.

Police Action

Pontiac police officers and Oakland County sheriff's deputies investigated some 240 reported incidents the past 24 hours.

Motorcycle Flips; Area Youth Hurt

A Waterford Township youth is in fair condition in Pontiac Hospital with injuries incurred when the motorcycle he was riding flipped over in a field in Independence Township yesterday.

Alan M. Penoyer, 21, of 131 Waterly told Oakland County sheriff's deputies he was going up a hill when he lost control of the vehicle about 2 p.m.

Fish consumption in France is down 25 per cent since the end of meatless Fridays.

Schools to Get News Services

How has education changed in recent times? One interesting way has been the increasing emphasis placed on the study of current events.

To meet the educational needs produced by this growing emphasis, The Pontiac Press is sponsoring a specially designed, modern news program for participating area schools.

In centuries past, those children who went to school in the United States or England received a very different "learning diet" from that given to students now.

They often learned a great deal of Latin, Greek, and classical mythology. They were taught little science compared to today's youngsters. And, of course, most never heard of the subject of current events.

Today, most American educators agree that it is vital for students to be informed about current happenings in our changing world. They are finding the newspaper an invaluable "textbook."

With this in mind, The Pontiac Press is furnishing the VEC News Program, free of charge, to participating schools in this area.

WEEKLY FILMSTRIP

One part of the program is a weekly filmstrip of news pictures showing important national and world events.

The pictures are projected on the classroom screen. The teacher asks questions about news events related to the pictures, thus encouraging student curiosity and interest in current affairs. By creating this interest, the program leads students to newspaper reading.

Along with each news filmstrip, the teacher receives written guides containing background information and thought-provoking discussion questions. She also receives a teacher's guide with vocabulary and map assignments, class projects, homework exercises and a review quiz.

Monthly study filmstrips, which explore important current subjects "in depth," are also included in this educational program.

NEWS QUIZ

The news quiz published weekly by The Press is another part of the program. Students and parents can refresh their knowledge of current events by taking the quiz.

The instructional materials in the program are prepared by Visual Education Consultants, Inc., Madison, Wis. VEC News Services are used in thousands of schools across the nation and in many American schools overseas.

Avon Driver Hurt in Crash

An Avon Township man is in fair condition in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Mt. Clemens, with head injuries and abrasions received in a two-car collision late Saturday night in Shelby Township.

Police said a car driven by William L. Foree, 71, of 2800 Gerald, Avon Township, collided with a car driven by James A. Thompson, 39, of 11389 Diamond, Utica.

The accident occurred at the corner of Auburn and Dequindre.

Foree reportedly pulled out of a driveway into eastbound traffic on Auburn when he collided with Thompson's car. Thompson received minor injuries and was not hospitalized.

GWCC Plans Discussion of Data Links

Methods of improving community communications will be explored when the Greater Waterford Community Council meets at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Jaycee Room of the Community Activities, Inc., building, 5940 Williams Lake.

It was disclosed at the GWCC's May meeting that apathetic interest in township projects, programs, elections and school affairs could be caused by a lack of information and contacts.

GWCC President Byron Zink said the subject was pursued at a recent meeting of the group's steering committee.

"We are sending questionnaires to businessmen, churches, service clubs and interested citizens, asking them to bring ideas to this meeting," said Zink.

A spokesman from Welcome Wagon, the group that contacts area newcomers, will explain that program at tomorrow's meeting.

LISTING DISCUSSED

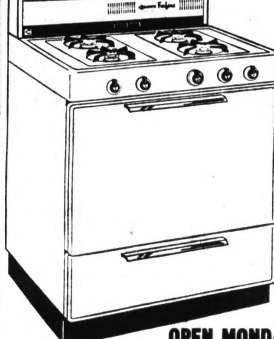

A calendar of events which also would list all businesses in the township will be discussed.

The meeting is open to the public.

During the last four years, the U. S. has spent some $2.4 billion for offensive weapons and $7.2 billion for defensive weapons.

Family Considerations Apparent Reason

Really Won't Run—Rocky

(EDITOR'S NOTE — There has been increasing talk recently of a Rockefeller draft for the GOP presidential nomination if the Romney boom falls through. The following dispatch is based on private talks with Washington sources in a position to know Rockefeller's current attitude.)

By ISABELLE MCCAIG
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York is telling Republican insiders and friends he means it when he says he will not be available for the GOP presidential nomination in 1968.

Family considerations apparently have led him to conclude that his role in the presidential stakes would best be one of a unifying power behind the scenes.

One trial balloon lofted over the GOP suggests a Rockefeller-Reagan ticket — the idea being to balance the eastern liberal and his big base with conservative California Gov. Ronald Reagan and his huge western domain.

Rockefeller is having none of it. He has put himself solidly behind Gov. George Romney of Michigan as the best compromise between East and West, liberal and conservative.

Rockefeller is getting advice and help from Rockefeller's strong organization. Romney also has a star member of the winning GOP 1966 election team, Sen. Edward W. Brooke of Massachusetts, helping out although the Negro senator has not declared support publicly.

INSTANT X RAY — A newly developed film makes it possible to provide a full-sized, sharply detailed radiograph just 45 seconds after exposure. Shown here with a sample X ray taken with the Polaroid film is Boston radiologic technologist Marilyn Smith. The new process could have particular application in emergency room situations or surgical operations where speed is vital.

Despite Romney's decline in recent public opinion polls matching him with President Johnson, Republican party leaders likely will stick with him for the sake of unity for some months to come. Whether he can build up his strength enough to capture the presidential nomination is an open question, however.

Standing in the wings are such as Sen. Charles Percy of Illinois, an attractive, articulate possibility, hampered mainly by his inexperience.

Some GOP insiders feel only Rockefeller could conclusively beat Johnson. But the possibility of his highly publicized divorce and remarriage wrecking the same kind of havoc they did to his 1964 bid for the GOP nomination stands as a big barrier.

Rockefeller himself is believed to want to avoid having his family hurt even if it means foregoing a long-coveted chance to run for president.

Although former Vice President Richard M. Nixon's national standing is improving in the polls, the tendency of party pros is to view him as a loser.

He lost to the late President John F. Kennedy by a whisker in 1960 but he suffered much greater from a loss in the California governorship race to Edmund (Pat) Brown.

An indefatigable party worker who has picked up points among the party faithful, Nixon still has no power base. Reagan reigns in his home ground of California and Rockefeller in his adopted state of New York.

The GOP "match" games go on and the possible combinations are endless. The rules are simple. You just take a seeming front-runner, such as Romney or Nixon, and match him with all satellites, like Reagan, Percy or Brooke.

For variety, mix them all up with "favorite sons" like Sen. Jacob K. Javits, the liberal Jew from New York, and Sen. Mark O. Hatfield, the Oregon "dove."

A main factor in the winning combo will be the success of the moderates who have begun grass roots work to change the conservative complexion of the 1964 GOP convention that nominated Barry M. Goldwater.

Results of early primaries such as that in New Hampshire will be another major factor.

Leaders in both parties privately wish the March 13 New Hampshire primary would go away.

With former Gov. George Wallace of Alabama considering entering on the Democratic side, it's bound to be bruising.

As the first primary in the nation, it attracts attention which political leaders consider to be out of all proportion to its importance.

Star's Kin Asks Police Guard

EL MONTE, Calif. (AP) — How long Jayne Mansfield's 16-year-old daughter, Jayne Marie, will stay under protective police custody was left today to juvenile authorities.

The girl was taken to the juvenile facility with six other girls Saturday, and was not permitted to have visitors Sunday.

A policewoman, Sgt. Shirley Maxwell, said the Mansfield girl walked into the West Los Angeles police station Saturday and said she had been beaten and whipped with a leather belt by a male friend of her mother.

The actress' attorney, Samuel S. Brody, said police had no right to take young Jayne to juvenile hall.

A spokesman for the actress, child psychologist Murray Banks, said Miss Mansfield had been having "a severe disciplinary problem with her daughter" and that the actress had "administered corporal punishment."

Juvenile authorities ordered photographs of her alleged hip and mouth injuries.

Israelis Must Withdraw, Says LBJ

Kosygin Opens U.N. Debate on Israeli Pullback

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin scheduled his first U.N. speech today to open debate in the emergency session of the General Assembly that his government demanded to get Israeli troops out of Egypt, Jordan and Syria.

Completing a long-distance televised exchange, Kosygin speaks less than an hour after an address by President Johnson to an educators' meeting in Washington.

There was no advance indication what the Soviet premier would say, but earlier Soviet statements have hammered on two demands — that Israel be condemned as the aggressor in the Middle East war and that it be made to give up the Arab territory it seized.

Egyptian Deputy Premier Mahmoud Fawzi and Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban were tentatively listed to follow Kosygin and speak for the two main enemies in the six-day war Israel won over the Arabs week before last.

U. S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg had been listed to speak before Kosygin but his delegation announced he had "relinquished first place on the speakers' list to the Soviet premier as an act of courtesy." He is to speak tomorrow.

Sources in a position to know said Goldberg had been holding the No. 1 spot for Johnson and gave it up when the President decided to speak in Washington instead.

Officials in Washington anticipated Johnson and Kosygin would meet during the Russian's visit but said no time or place has been set. The two leaders have never met.

Kosygin arrived from Moscow with a party of 66 a few hours before the emergency session began Saturday morning. He is living at the Soviet delegation's 12-story apartment house on New York's upper East Side and is expected to stay a week or 10 days. The U.N. session probably will last three weeks or more.

Body of Woman Found Near Park

Romeo State Police today are attempting to identify the body of a woman found just outside the entrance to Stony Creek Park in Washington Township. The body reportedly was found yesterday about 7 p.m. by two horseback riders.

Police said the partially clothed body was badly decomposed. The woman was white and had been dead at least a week, according to police.

An autopsy was to be performed today to determine cause and time of death.

A crime laboratory crew from State Police headquarters in East Lansing has begun an investigation.

Pullback Tied to Middle East Peace Accord

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson declared today that "certainly troops must be withdrawn" from conquered territory in the war-torn Middle East but firmly linked the pull-back to negotiations of a general Arab-Israeli peace settlement.

In a major statement of U.S. policy, the President dealt with the withdrawal of Israeli forces from captured Arab territory as a matter for negotiation along with the problem of Arab refugees, freedom of passage through international waterways, Arab recognition of Israel's right to exist, and a limitation on the Middle East arms race.

"Certainly troops must be withdrawn, but there must also be recognized rights of national life — progress in solving the refugee problem, freedom of innocent maritime passage, limitation of the arms race, and respect for political independence and territorial integrity," Johnson said.

The President added that a simple withdrawal of Israeli forces would "not be a prescription for peace but for renewed hostilities," unless accompanied by negotiations for a general peace settlement in the area.

Johnson spoke to a foreign policy conference of educators at the State Department. But his policy statement was set in the context of global debate, with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin at a special U.N. General Assembly session in New York an hour or so later.

5 PRINCIPLES OF PEACE

Johnson, laying down "five great principles of peace" for the Middle East, appealed to the nations there to shun another arms race, abandon "a diet of hate," and strive for a settlement.

"The world is watching," he said, "For the peace of the world is at stake."

Heat Vanishes Into Thin, Cool Air

Oakland County residents regained their "cool" as weekend showers sent skyrocketing temperatures plummeting into the 50s, breaking a five-day heat wave of 90-degree-and-above temperatures. Clouds will take over the skies by this afternoon with tonight remaining cloudy and not as cool. The low will fall in the 58-to-64 range.

The weatherman predicts that showers and thundershowers will plague picnickers tomorrow with temperatures remaining in the 70s.

Today's northeast-to-east winds at 10 to 20 miles will swing to the southeast by tonight.

Skies will clear by Wednesday with temperatures turning a little cooler.

PRECIPITATION

Percentage of precipitation probability will be: Today, 5; tonight, 20; and tomorrow, 60.

Low thermometer reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 54. By 1 p.m. sunny skies coaxed temperatures to a pleasant 75.

Romney Campaign Shapes Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The shape of the Romney-for-President campaign is becoming more visible in these political dog days — more than a year before the Republicans nominate their 1968 candidate for the White House.

ROMNEY

A series of public endorsements will start coming next fall from a number of Republican governors that they want their fellow governor, George Romney of Michigan, to be the 1968 nominee.

Formation of Romney-for-president organizations on a state-by-state basis, already under way, will mobilize grassroots support both in states choosing national convention delegates in primaries and in state conventions.

Romney will meet and defeat Richard M. Nixon in early presidential primaries next year to start his hand-wagon.

Romney has slipped in the public opinion polls since his spectacular election last fall. He will need to regain momentum and will have opportunities to do so long before the presidential primaries.

Both Romney and Nixon are undeclared candidates, eager to be convinced that they should announce their availability.

While Romney has spent most of his time in Michigan, Nixon has been the world traveler, brightening his image as a man who speaks with authority on foreign policy in a world troubled by problems of war and peace.

NIXON'S CAMPAIGN

The six-man Nixon-for-president committee opened a Washington headquarters last month, three blocks from one already established for Romney. The Nixon group is at work enlisting more national figures to join the committee headed by Dr. Gaylor Parkinson, former California Republican chairman.

Through his long service to the GOP, former Vice President Nixon is known to the political professionals in his party from country chairmen to national committeemen and members of Congress.

Romney needs more exposure to some of these people, although some of them think he is too inclined to sermonize until he bores them.

Both need to win presidential primaries. After losing the presidency in 1960 and the governorship of California in 1962, Nixon needs to rid himself of his reputation as a loser. As of now, his chief competitor is Romney.

MEET IN PRIMARIES

Nixon and Romney now are expected to meet in primaries at least in New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Nebraska and Oregon. And they can expect competition from other possible candidates in some of those states.

Auto Crash Kills Avon Twp. Girl, 16

A 16-year-old Avon Township girl was killed late Saturday when the car in which she was riding collided with another car at an Oakland Township intersection.

Killed was Judy Gail George, 16, of 2636 Weaver, Avon Township, driver of the car in which the George girl was a passenger, and Randy Lee Kimball, 20, of 1407 Holiday, Orion Township, driver of the other vehicle.

The collision occurred about 9 p.m. at Adams Road and Silverbell Roads, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Investigators said the Kimball car was traveling south on Adams when the Jones girl drove into the intersection. Kimball said the other vehicle pulled in front of him and he couldn't stop in time, according to deputies.

Waterford Girl Is Fair Queen

In yesterday's windup of the North Oakland County Fair, a 16-year-old Waterford Township girl won the queen's contest, the Pontiac Police Department emerged victorious in the tug-of-war and a city woman gained the top prize—a 1967 Firebird Sprint coupe.

Lynn Silvis, who will be a senior at Waterford-Kettering High School next fall, won the queen's contest in what turned out to be a runaway.

In competition based on money votes, Lynn raised $589.36 to easily outdistance runner-up Linda Berry who managed to collect $170.70.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LaVern Silvis of 3959 Embarras, Lynn will be awarded a one-week vacation at Gay El Rancho in Gaylord for her efforts.

Linda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Berry, 4204 Lotus, Waterford Township.

FINISHING THIRD

Finishing third with $158.99 was Charlene Morris, 15, daughter of Mr. and

Mrs. Mark Meyer, 2256 Williams Lake, Waterford Township.

LYNN SILVIS

Terri Bradford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Woldga, 2912 Orange Grove, Waterford Township.

The 13 girls in the contest collected a combined $1,569.29, all of which will go to the Community Activities, Inc., building fund.

The Pontiac police polished off the Oakland County Sheriff's Department to gain the tug-of-war championship.

PRESS TEAM OUTPULLED

In reaching the finals, the new champions outpulled The Pontiac Press while the sheriff's department outlasted the Waterford Township Police Department.

Winner of the Firebird was Eleanor Leslie of 630 E. Tenneyson.

Despite inclement weather Friday night and Saturday, fair officials estimated attendance in excess of 60,000.

"Sunday was the best day we ever had," said Fair Chairman Dean A. Salley.

45 Cong Killed as Attack Fails

SAIGON (AP) — A hard-core battalion of some 500 guerrillas left 45 dead on a blackened battlefield today after failing to storm the bivouac of a U.S. armored cavalry force.

Attempting to smash into American positions just after midnight, the guerrillas were met by the heaviest guns in the U.S. arsenal—175mm cannon raining 200-pound shells on the attackers.

Military headquarters said eight men of the U.S. 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment were killed and 31 wounded in the savage one-hour battle about 40 miles east of Saigon.

It was the only significant ground action reported in the day's communique although there was scattered and occasionally sharp fighting elsewhere.

U.S. warplanes kept up their heavy raids on North Vietnam with 130 missions Sunday, including strikes on Hanoi's rail supply lines, the showpiece Thai Nguyen steel plant north of the capital and a surface-to-air missile site.

The American cavalrymen got a brief warning of impending attack when a small night patrol ran into a Communist recoilless rifle team. The U.S. patrol was evidently then surrounded by guerrillas heading for the main cavalry bivouac.

AIR SUPPORT

While the guerrillas of the hard-core 274th Regiment smashed at the U.S. with recoilless rifles, 50-caliber machine guns and infantry assaults, the cavalry command called for air and artillery support.

Detroit Policemen Returning to Work

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's 4,700-man police force, threatened with a court order banning work stoppages and massive suspensions by Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh, began returning to normal work shifts today.

But the end of a six-day feud with the city administration over a pay raise was not in sight.

The fight for an average pay hike of $1,665, led by the Detroit Police Officers' Association (DPOA), goes before a State Labor Mediation Board today.

The protest began about eight days ago when officers on the motor traffic patrol began with fewer tickets than normal and continued with massive sick calls, termed the "blue flu" by officers.

SICK CALLS DECREASE

However, Police Commissioner Ray Girardin said only 41 men called in sick on the morning shift Sunday compared with 131 on the same shift 24 hours earlier. The sick call list had reached 449 by late Saturday.

Girardin ordered men back to normal eight-hour work shifts Sunday, ending no-furlough 12-hour shifts ordered to combat the sick call dilemma.

Plunge Fatal to Area Man

CHICAGO (UPI) — Stevenson F. Giffels, 41, 407 N. Williamsbury, Blooded Township, was found dead Saturday on the Illinois Central Railroad tracks below the Randolph Street overpass in downtown Chicago.

Police said the victim, clad in a suit and raincoat, apparently plunged from the bridge despite the four-foot-high guard rail.

Papers found in a briefcase left on the bridge indicated that Giffels was an attorney. He is survived by a widow, Phyllis, 41.

Road to Close for Widening

A 1.4-mile stretch of Greenfield road in the vicinity of the Shopping Center will be closed to through traffic for four months, beginning next Monday, the Oakland County Road Commission announced today.

Local traffic will have access to shopping centers on both sides of Greenfield while the road is being widened from two to three lanes in each direction between 8 and 9 mile roads.

The $642,000 project includes the construction of turning lanes between 8 and 9 mile roads, and the widening of the highway from 9 mile road north to Providence drive.

During construction, traffic will be rerouted north on Coolidge to 10 mile road, and south on Southfield to 16 mile.

The Sargent Contracting Co. of Saginaw is the construction firm for the project.

Jordan: Can't Prove U.S. Helped Israel

AMMAN, Jordan (UPI) — King Hussein said today Jordan was unable to prove "conclusively" the widespread Arab charge that American and British aircraft helped Israel deliver its first blow in the Middle East war.

Hussein told a news conference that radar observations made by Jordan could not identify the aircraft sighted or tell where they came from.

The king said a report on Jordan's observations during the first hours of the war had been forwarded to the Jordanian delegation at the United Nations and would be made available to any group investigating the charges of Anglo-American participation.

"One of the most important factors which decided the fate of this country was the ability of the enemy in the air," the king said.

Eased Abortion Stand is Urged

AMA Group Requests Official Doctor Policy

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The trustees of the American Medical Association have urged, for the first time, that the AMA adopt an official policy in support of liberalizing the nation's abortion laws.

The trustees made the recommendations Sunday at the opening session of the annual AMA convention on the basis of a report by the organization's Committee on Human Reproduction.

The report favored therapeutic abortions when documented medical evidence shows: "that continuation of the pregnancy may threaten the health or life of the mother; that the infant would be born with incapacitating physical deformity or mental deficiency; or that continuation of a pregnancy, resulting from legally established statutory or forcible rape or incest, may constitute a threat to the mental or physical health of the patient."

But the report also stipulated that when an abortion is to be performed on these grounds, two outside physicians must examine the patient and agree with her doctor on the necessity.

It added that the operation should be performed in an accredited hospital.

OLD LAWS

The report said 46 states permit abortion only to save or preserve the life of the mother. But these laws were enacted about 100 years ago, the report said.

"Rather than recommending changes in state laws, the American Medical Association should adopt its own statement of position which can be used as a guide for component and constituent medical societies in states contemplating legislative reform."

The AMA's policy-making body, the 245-member House of Delegates, is scheduled to act upon the report Tuesday.

Comics Fan Treasures Mint Volume--Unopened

DETROIT (AP) — Richard Hauser has a book he's mighty fond of, but he won't open it. Not even a peek, said Hauser. If he did, it "would no longer be in mint condition in my eyes. It would be to other people, but I'd know."

The book is the "Single Series Tarzan No. 20." He's got it encased in plastic along with the "Flash Gordon Four Color Comic No. 10" and "Prince Valiant Feature Book No. 26."

Hauser is a collector of such things. The 20-year-old University of Illinois chemistry major from Chicago said, "I think most collectors agree that these three issues are the most desirable because of the art work, rarity and condition. It took me two years to get them."

FAN FAIR

Hauser showed off his collection at a two-day convention held by the Detroit Triple Fan Fair, where the devotees studied, traded and talked about fantasy literature, films and comic art.

One of the features of the convention was a rerun of the 1941 serial, "The Return of Captain Marvel."

That picture is considered a classic because of its superior special effects, said convention chairman Marvin Giles of Detroit.

Giles said he has a collection of 55,000 items of comics and science fiction, fantasy and adventure magazines.

He said comic books are now in "the second heroic age" of costumed heroes. But the new comics, he said, "aren't quite as good as what we consider the first golden age of comics—the '30s and early '40s."

And in case you missed the last episode of "The Return of Captain Marvel" back in 1941, it came out okay. Captain Marvel triumphed over the Scorpion archrival.

Birmingham Area News City to Get New Police Chief

BIRMINGHAM — The City Commission is to decide on a new police chief at tonight's meeting, at 8 in the City Hall.

The administration has recommended Sgt. Darryl Bruestle for the post. He would replace Ralph Moxley who retired and took a position with Oakland Community College.

The commission will also study a petition from 21 residents of the West Lincoln area requesting stepped-up traffic enforcement.

The residents complain speeding and the use of large trucks on the street is a danger to safety of children.

Also on the agenda is a request that the city cooperate with the Oakland County Office of Economic Opportunity in a summer program with youths.

YOUTH ASSISTANTS

Carrel Middleton, superintendent of parks and recreation, recommends that 10 youths be used by the city to assist in park programs.

They would help build nature trails, assist at golf courses and do landscaping work.

The youths would be part of the Neighborhood Youth Corps which encourages them to stay in school.

Money for the program is provided mostly by federal funds with the city paying for whatever supervisory help is needed.

PARKING BAN

A traffic count was taken during the 30-day parking ban in Maple in the downtown area which ended Saturday.

A further count will be taken with parking allowed again, according to a police report to the city.

Spouse Shoots Wife, 2nd Man

VICTIMS SEATED IN CAR OUTSIDE PONTIAC BAR

Pontiac police are seeking an attempted murder warrant against a city man charged with shooting his wife and another man outside a bar early yesterday.

In custody in Oakland County Jail is Woodrow Wilson Ward, 46, of 216 Going, arrested at his home shortly after the incident, according to police.

In Pontiac St. Joseph Hospital are Johnnie Virginia Ward, 34, of the Going address and Jerry Holmes, 39, of 224 S. Anderson.

Mrs. Ward suffered wounds in the back and arm and Holmes was shot in the left arm and leg, officers said.

Both are reported in satisfactory condition.

SITTING IN CAR

The victims told police they were sitting in a car outside Harry's Bar, 568 Sanford, when Ward drove up, approached them on foot, then fired the shots.

Police said Ward called them after the shooting, then went home, where he reportedly surrendered his gun when they arrived.

Investigators said they impounded a .22-caliber chrome-plated pistol containing five rounds and two un-fired shells.

Ward told police the incident occurred when Holmes first pulled a gun after he arrived at the scene.

He said he ran to his car for his gun after Holmes had fired once. He then fired back, wounding the pair, police were told.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Rain is forecast tonight for southern New England, the northern Plains, the southern Plateau and Florida. It will be warmer in the Midwest and cooler in the northern Plains and along the middle Atlantic coast.

Car Blast Kills California Man

VICTIM HAD TESTIFIED AT TRIAL OF MOBSTER

ENCINO, Calif. (UPI) — Gerald L. Covelli, 43, a reputed member of Chicago's North Side crime syndicate, was killed yesterday by a gangland-style assassination which planted a bomb in his car.

The 6-foot-4 Covelli was believed to have been in fear of his life since 1962 when he turned state's evidence in the whiskey hijack trial of Chicago mobster Jimmy (The Monk) Allegritti.

His testimony resulted in the convictions of Allegretti, Frank (Hot Dog) Landarella and the late Dave Falsone, all of whom received seven-year prison terms for conspiracy.

Covelli also testified at length about syndicate control of book-making, taverns, jukeboxes and money-lending.

The explosion occurred yesterday afternoon as Covelli and a companion, Stephen Keno, 25, drove away from Covelli's $60,000 home in this San Fernando Valley suburb of Los Angeles.

WELL-KNOWN NEIGHBORS

Among the residents in the exclusive neighborhood are comedian Steve Allen and pianist Roger Williams.

A neighbor, Dr. Philip Yankovic, 41, of Keno told him he discovered the bomb and warned Covelli, who was stopping the car at the instant of the explosion.

Police crime laboratory experts said the bomb apparently had a time mechanism.

Covelli, badly mutilated by the blast, died at the scene. Keno suffered serious burns but was listed in fair condition at a local hospital.

WIFE'S DEATH

The slaying also raised questions about the death last month of Covelli's wife, Louise, 31, whose bruised body was found on the stairs behind their home.

Doctors said later she had taken an overdose of pills and police speculated that she had suffered the bruises in a fall.

GANGLAND-STYLE KILLING — Gerald L. Covelli, 43, was killed yesterday afternoon in the driveway of his Encino, Calif., home when a bomb in the car he was driving exploded under his seat. Los Angeles police and firemen inspect the bombed car where it came to rest in a carport 100 yards from Covelli's driveway, running a second car. A passenger in the bombed car, Stephen Keno, 25, of Burbank, was also injured.

A Civil War Epic Negro Class Making Film

DETROIT (AP) — Their teacher is a villain, so the 11th grade hero hounds him through the rubble and acrid smoke of a simulated Civil War to teach him, and the rest of the Detroit Eastern High class, a lesson.

For the 88 eleventh-graders in the class are filming a Civil War epic. The battered buildings of a local urban renewal project and the grassy knolls of Detroit's Belle Isle Park act as a backdrop.

The teacher, Richard Giesler, uses home equipment to film the action. The class enthusiastically hails it up in front of the cameras.

"We're trying to get them involved in research in the Civil War period," Giesler said.

Together with teachers Gerald Sumner and William Hanford, Giesler is directing the project for the all-Negro class.

There's got to be a plot to any story, Giesler said. So he persuaded Walter Blair, a high school athlete, to play the hero, Pauline Barclay became Blair's wife, and Giesler, to the delight of his students, cast himself as the villain.

NOT DEFINITE

"Walter is either going to kill him or make him feel ashamed and leave him sobbing in the dust," said Pauline. "The plot hasn't really been worked out yet."

But we know Giesler is going to tell Walter into slavery. And Blair is going to run away and join a northern regiment, and he'll meet Giesler in the last scene, she said.

"Oh, and I'll meet Walter somewhere in the movie," she smiled.

Though the whole class is now enthusiastic over the project, Giesler said he's run into some rough spots.

HISTORICAL PRIDE

"Until they developed a pride in their history, the kids didn't want to have anything to do with a movie about slavery," he said.

Again, Giesler said everybody wants to die in the movie, and all the kids flock around the set, clutching their chests and writhing in the throes of agony.

"Look out, man," one corpse yelled as his comrades charged toward him. "Don't stamp over me."

"And there was another time," said Giesler, "when we had to stop filming for a while."

'Schools Contribute to Juvenile Delinquency'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A report now being realized, the presidential crime commission report says public schools contribute to growing juvenile delinquency.

The commission's task force on juvenile delinquency said teachers often fail to concentrate on slow learners, prejudice the learning abilities of slum children and make life so uncomfortable for troublemakers they want to drop out.

The school is a central, strategic place in the lives of children and so has the potential to help offset the pressures toward delinquency "but this potential is not now being realized," the task force said.

The report urged the schools to cut the number of high school dropouts, help more children prepare for college and other training beyond high school and help arm with adequate skills those who go to work right after high school graduation so they can hold white-collar or blue-collar jobs.

JUVENILE COURTS

The report, released Saturday, also criticized juvenile courts. Nicholas Katzenbach, crime commission chairman and a former attorney general, said they have failed to live up to the hopes of those who established them.

He said the most important recommendation stemming from the study was that youth service bureaus be set up to work with troubled youths, providing counseling, placement in group and foster homes, work and play programs, job advice and special education.

This program would be voluntary on the part of many youngsters, but others would be referred by police, courts, welfare agencies and parents.

The bureau would be part of a $475-million program proposed by President Johnson and now under consideration in the House. States and local communities would receive grants to build the bureaus and to plan other programs to fight juvenile delinquency.

NO COMMITMENT

Most youths who become delinquent, the report said, do so because they don't have a commitment to conventional middle-class adult roles or community standards of behavior. It said the schools may directly contribute to this lack of commitment or "at least may not capitalize on the chance to foster a commitment to the legitimate system when it is lacking."

The report said some reasons for the dropout problem are:

- Placing poor teachers in slum schools, where the best teachers are needed.
- Continued racial and economic school segregation.
- Widespread acceptance of the idea that most dropout prospects have limited capabilities and not much can be done about them.

UNRELATED TEXTS

• Textbooks and other teaching materials which aren't related to the lives of lower-class children. As an example, the report discussed books which sold him pictures of Negroes or Mexican-Americans as executives or professional workers.

• The heightened sense of academic failure resulting from the schools' heavy reliance on ability and achievement tests with the result that low-scoring are placed in the same classes and taught on the assumption they have low intelligence. Thus they fall further behind.

Victim of Time, Vandalism

Old Cemetery Gets a New Look

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — Tiny Aaron Webster Cemetery not so long ago was apparently one place in town that had been forgotten by everyone but time.

A heavily rusted cyclone fence surrounded a two-acre plot of ground peppered with pieces of broken tombstones and shattered pop and beer bottles.

The limestone tablets had blackened with age. Many leaned precariously. Some lay in pieces in the tall grass. The years had battered their inscriptions to near illegibility.

In the last two months, however, a small renovating crew, led by James Hazelton, elderly caretaker of the cemetery, has scrubbed and swept away what the years, vandalism and carelessness had deposited.

Hazelton, 86, of 15 Hillview, has been cemetery caretaker for 30 years but doesn't remember when the first and darkest of the stains were left on the stones.

BLACK MARKS

"The old-timers tell me a fire came through here before I came and scorched many of them," he said. He pointed out several stones that still bore the black marks of the fire.

All of the stones had been discolored and chipped by the normal weathering process, however, the most serious damage was due neither to time nor neglect.

At least 10 of the stones had been broken or knocked over completely by vandals.

"Kids got in here twice and pushed the markers and snapped them off," he said. Where it was possible Hazelton and his men reconstructed the tablet by cementing the pieces together.

WERE STRAIGHTENED

Those stones that leaned were straightened, and those that had been pushed over were cemented into holes next to their original places.

Youngsters, he said, are responsible for much of the chipping. "Sometimes they stop as they come from school and throw stones to see if they can hit some of these."

Many of the markers have been scoured and painted white to cover the stains and the fresh

James Hazelton Is Cemetery Caretaker

cement on those that have been pieced together.

The tiny graveyard originally consisted of a single acre donated by Aaron Webster in 1822. Aaron and his wife were the first adults to be buried there.

ONE-ACRE ADDITION

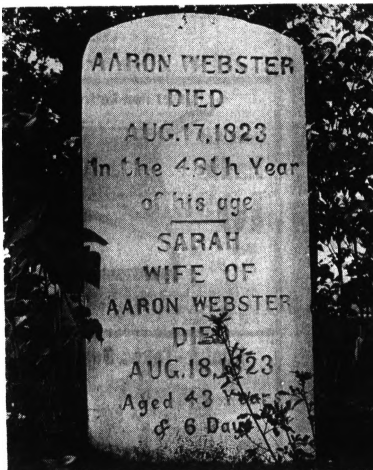

The markers indicate that by the turn of the century the original acre was nearly filled. Burials in the cemetery now are made in a one-acre addition at the rear of the original lot.

Both acres are owned by Pontiac Township, although officials admit that no titles or records of any kind exist for the initial plot.

Hazelton said he does not know exactly how many people are buried in the cemetery. "We never know where to dig in here," he said. "Many of the old graves have no markers."

"I just keep it cleaned up and that's all we can do about it."

The last person to be buried in the old section, he said, was his predecessor as caretaker of the cemetery, "Red" Ship. Hazelton said he buried him about 30 years ago.

Search Is On for WW II Spars

New Store Will Sell Electrical Material

TROY — A new electrical material store is being constructed at East 14 Mile between John R and Dequindre and will be completed in September.

Raymond De Steiger, Inc., building on the site is a Roseville-based firm, which deals in lighting fixtures and electrical equipment.

The new $185,000 building will have an unusual pagoda-type roof with glass walls to display merchandise.

Infectious mononucleosis is on the increase. At present there are 10,000 cases in the U. S. annually. The germs are spread by coughing and sneezing as well as kissing. Most patients are between 15 and 20 years of age, rarely over 30.

SPRING LAKE (UPI) — If you know any Spars from World War II days, tell them to get in touch with the U.S. Coast Guard at Washington, D.C.

This plea is being made by Carol Dusterwinkle of Spring Lake in connection with a convention to be held on the 25th anniversary of the organization. The convention will be held Nov. 22-26 at the Hotel Biltmore in Palm Beach, Fla.

The resort hotel was the principal training center for most of the women and some Spar officers during World War II.

That Spring Lake woman, who is publicity chairman for the get-together, says there is a problem. "Inasmuch as official records are unavailable with regard to names and addresses of former Spars, radio, TV and newspapers are the only method we have of reaching the women formerly affiliated with the U.S. Coast Guard women's reserve and we need all the help we can get," she said.

The clearing house address for the ex-Spars to write is Spar Silver Anniversary Chairman, C/O U.S. Coast Guard, 1300 E. St. Station 2-3, Washington D.C. 20591.

The Ionian Free Fair estimates more than a half million entered the fairgrounds during the seven-day event last year.

And the Saginaw County Fair — reportedly the largest paid-attendance fair in the state, excluding the Michigan State Fair — said more than 383,000 persons visited the six-day exposition last year.

Thirty-six fairs now offer horse racing, a proven money-maker.

$3-MILLION TAKE

receives about $3 million annually from the 5 per cent wager tax at the four tracks where there is pari-mutuel betting on harness races.

About half that money goes into the State General Fund and the other half goes into the County Fair Fund, he says.

The state helps finance the fairs on a 50-50 basis, with a $2,500 per fair limit each year. The state also puts up a share of the money for premiums and horse racing purses.

Last year state aid to fairs and shows, including cost of opo-some $1 million, Hall reports.

School Project Reports Slated

WALLED LAKE — Reports on several school programs will be presented to the board of education at its 8:15 meeting tonight.

The future of the outdoor camping program will be discussed by Ethel Mugger, director of the outdoor education program.

William Doggett, principal of the Oakley Park Elementary School, will discuss an outdoor educational program he is developing at his school.

The board will also consider resolutions allowing the senior high school students to participate in vocational courses at Oakland Community College (OCC) next year.

The board has already given tentative approval for the school district to contract with OCC for several courses.

In other business, the board will be asked to consider a change in the salary schedule for next year for the hourly rated cafeteria workers.

An electrode that can be used in a type of battery heretofore used only in laboratories may be adaptable to use in cars, making electric cars more practical in the future. Present batteries do not provide sufficient quick power and recharge.

12 Persons Are Killed on State's Highways During the Weekend

By the Associated Press
Twelve people perished on the state's highways over the weekend.

The latest death came when Robert Sells, 27, of Detroit, was killed. Police said his motorcycle skidded as he was traveling at high speed in a Detroit parking lot, and slammed into four cars.

The Associated Press traffic count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday. Other deaths include:

William E. Pratt, 29, of Owosso, when his car went out of control on a country road five miles north of Owosso Sunday, and rammed into a bridge.

PEDESTRIAN HIT

Chester Rynski, 46, of Dearborn Heights, when he was struck by a car while walking in Joy Road east of Burd Road in Detroit Saturday.

Judy Gail Georgeoff, 16, of 420 W. Maryknoll, Avon Township, when a car in which she was riding was involved in a collision Saturday at Adams and Silver Bell roads in Oakland County.

Floyd McVey, 45, of Royal Oak, when a car in which he was riding was forced off US-10 near Lincoln Road in Royal Oak and hit a tree Sunday.

STRUCK BRIDGE

Mike Katrinic, 43, and James Cuda Jr., 45, both of Clio, when their car, driven by Katrinic, left I-75 north of Birch Road, struck a bridge abutment Saturday.

Randall J. Scheffer, 8, of Saginaw, when the bicycle he was riding was struck by a truck on a country road in Oceana County Saturday.

Arthur W. Aubry, 34, of Livonia, when his car smashed into the rear of a bus in Taylor Township, near Detroit, Saturday.

Janet Hill, 53, of Sturgis, when her car rammed into a tree near Sturgis Friday.

Shirley Witt, 31, of Dearborn Heights, when she was struck by a car as she crossed the street near her home Friday.

Troy to Mull Gas Station Restrictions

TROY — The City Commission will receive a report from the planning commission on a proposed gas station ordinance at tonight's meeting at 8 at City Hall, Big Beaver and I-75.

Drafting of a new ordinance was requested when the commission was hit by six rezoning requests for new gas stations two weeks ago. Several other requests are also pending.

The ordinance would provide increased sites for gas station locations. However, it would place greater restrictions as to lot size, proximity to residential areas, etc., according to city officials.

A proposal to set up a sewer assessment district to handle a ground pollution problem at Muer's Garden Farms subdivision, near Big Beaver and Crooks, will also be studied.

The County Health Department reported on the pollution last year.

School Chief Gets $3,000 Raise

MILFORD — The Huron Valley Board of Education recently granted a new three-year contract at a salary of $21,000 per year to Schools Supt. Dr. Truman Owens.

The new salary represents a $3,000 increase in pay.

Other administrators will receive raises when the teachers do under the salary schedule recently adopted.

The schedule is based on the appropriate step on the teacher's salary schedule, the number of weeks the administrator works, the years of administrative experience and administrative responsibility.

In other business recently, the board voted to deny the transfer of land from the Huron Valley School District to the Walled Lake system.

BOARD REFUSED

The Walled Lake board also recently voted to refuse such a transfer.

A group of parents in the Huron Valley district have asked that their land be transferred to Walled Lake because, they say, they are closer to Walled Lake's schools.

A two-week summer workshop for teachers of the Northwest Elementary School will be conducted Aug. 14-25 in conjunction with the University of Michigan. The school is scheduled to be opened next January.

In Hadley Twp.

Farm Pond Field Day Set

HADLEY TOWNSHIP — A large group of farmers interested in the construction of Farm Ponds as provided under a federal program are expected to attend a Farm Pond Field Day June 29 at the L. S. Emery Farm, 4333 Stewart.

Lapeer County now has 500 such ponds, according to the sponsoring groups: the Cooperative Extension Service, the Soil Conservation District and the Soil Conservation Service.

The program starts at 10:30 a.m. and includes demonstrations on clearing a muddy pond, a chicken barbecue luncheon and all phases of pond management.

Commercial exhibits of weed chemicals, fish food and farm pond equipment will be displayed.

Of the present 9,500 airports in the U. S., only 114 can handle jet aircraft.

DEER BORN IN DEARBORN — A recent birth at Greenfield Village in Dearborn has disproved the song, "There Are No Deer Born in Dearborn, Michigan." Robert Miller, grounds foreman, shows 3-year-old Sharon Jones of Fremont, Ohio, the 4-year-old fawn born in Dearborn.

But It's Really a Year-Round Business Now

Start of Fair Season in State Is Near

By JACQUELINE KORONA
Associated Press Writer

LANSING — Grandma put on her perkiest bonnet, Grandpa hitched the horses to the buggy and off they trotted to the county fair.

They watched farm wagon contests, rooted for their favorite in the plowing match and saw the top steer at the fair win a whopping $5 first prize.

That was back in 1946, when records show Kalamazoo County held the first such fair in the state.

Just three years later, representatives of 37 counties met with Gov. Epaphroditus Ransom to organize the Michigan Agricultural Society and help plan the first Michigan State Fair.

Today fairgoers hop into high powered cars and zoom off to see everything from farm machinery to Ferris wheels, hogs to horse racing, popcorn to political candidates.

And they can go to any one of Michigan's 83 county, district and community fairs — or the big Michigan State Fair in Detroit.

The agricultural fair season opens July 1 this year at Lake Odessa and there'll be an exposition, large or small, every week through the summer and fall until the season ends the last of September with the Hillsdale County Fair.

"Fairs are really a year-round business now," says James H. Hall, fair coordinator in the Michigan Department of Agriculture. "As soon as the fairs are over, the officials begin planning for the next year."

Hall claims fairs haven't changed all that much since Grandma's day.

"The big change," he says, "is that fairs have gone from strictly agricultural to predominantly agricultural but seasoned with home arts and mechanical arts."

"In fact," he adds, "you can see just about anything you want to at a fair."

"That 'anything you want' has brought continuously increasing numbers of persons to fairs in Michigan as well as the rest of the United States and Canada, Hall says.

An amusement trade publication shows that fair attendance in 1966 in this country and Canada increased 7 per cent over attendance for 1965.

The Ionian Free Fair estimates more than a half million entered the fairgrounds during the seven-day event last year.

And the Saginaw County Fair — reportedly the largest paid-attendance fair in the state, excluding the Michigan State Fair — said more than 383,000 persons visited the six-day exposition last year.

Thirty-six fairs now offer horse racing, a proven money-maker.

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: Recently a little friend of mine, who is being married next month, came to me almost in tears. The young lady is an orphan who lives with her elderly grandparents. The boy she is marrying comes from a large, fairly well-to-do family.

Because of this, a large wedding and reception is expected. She was informed of this by the groom's mother, who also told her all expenses would be up to the bride as she was "going strictly according to the Bride's Book of Etiquette."

Does all this seem quite fair or in the best of taste to you? — Mrs. R. B.

Dear Mrs. R.B.: I don't know what book of etiquette that lady read, but according to my book it's about time that parents of prospective bridegrooms accept two basic truths.

First, they have no business telling the bride or her family what size or type of wedding reception there should be. This is the bride's responsibility and prerogative. If she can afford a big wedding, that's fine, but if not, she should not be expected to go into debt for one.

Second, there is no reason that a small, beautifully planned wedding cannot be just as lovely as an extravaganza. In fact, the intimacy and friendliness of the smaller affair is often far more impressive and memorable than the elegance of the large one which advertises: "No expense spared!"

GREETING CARDS

Dear Mrs. Post: I am a prolific user of greeting cards, because after careful selection I invariably find one that expresses my sentiments so much better than I can.

I have a dear daughter and also a daughter-in-law I love as much. Would it be proper to send the latter a card addressed to "Dear Daughter," even though she has very devoted parents? — Rose Sands to exhibit his surliness. Let him sweat it out. You'll be doing him a favor.

DEAR ABBY: Before my husband and I met and were married, he went with a woman for about three years. He told me that she traveled around with him for weeks at a time. Here is my grudge: After five years of marriage, my husband still keeps in the closet a large box of pictures and souvenirs of this woman. Many of the pictures are of the two of them together.

Abby, am I square and narrow-minded to feel as I do about this? When I married him, I threw away all pictures and souvenirs of past boy friends. I never mention things I did, or places I went, etc. with any other man. But my husband never misses an opportunity to mention this woman's name. What do you think? TROUBLED

DEAR TROUBLED: I think your husband enjoys tormenting you. But he's your husband now, and if you want it that way you could possibly minimize your problem by ignoring all references to this woman, AND the box in the closet.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "BORN SWINGER": Although I am not a doctor, I can recommend one exercise that could cure all your present ills. SKIPPING! Try skipping the drinking, smoking and swinging.

and Mrs. Sovendra Nath Ghose of Calcutta, India.

The bride wore a floor length gown of pure Indian silk, styled by her mother, on Empire lines with a rolled collar, bell sleeves and chapel train.

Her imported silk illusion veil fell to her shoulders from beneath a pill box of silk organza and lace with pearls.

She carried a semi-cascade of eucharis lilies, Stephanotis and miniature yellow roses.

Honor attendants at the rite were Karen Allshouse and Harkrishan Singh Seghal of Detroit. Bridesmaids were Anne Navarre of Wyandotte, Susan Carruthers of Wixom and Mrs. James Rickles.

Debabrata Mitra and Amit Ghosh, both of Detroit, and PFC Michael G. Tynan, USA, brother of the bride, served as ushers. Ringbearer was the bride's youngest brother, Patrick.

WEDDING SARI

A reception and dinner took place in Guinn's Banquet Hall. The bride changed into a wedding sari of gold and white brocade with gold accessories, brought from India by the bridegroom's mother.

Mrs. Ghose also presented the bride with a single gold bangle, following a custom of her country.

The newlyweds plan a tour through several eastern states. Upon their return, they will reside in Westland.

Folks Must Stick to Their Guns

DEAR ABBY: Our 16-year-old son got a ticket for speeding (he has no car, it was his father's) so we took his driving privileges away for a month. It has been only five days and this boy is unbearable.

He is ugly and hateful. He won't eat and he won't look at us. He answers all our questions with grunts and shrugs, and he says he won't be "nice" until we give him one more chance and restore his driving privileges.

My husband is a physician. He had one coronary and he was told to keep calm and avoid excitement, and this son of ours is making a wreck of him. I honestly don't know how to cope with this. We have all the questions, but none of the answers. Should we give in?

DEAR UNHAPPY: If you "give-in" now you will give your son the impression that all he has to do in life to get his way is to punish everyone around him with his ugliness. Ignore his act. And if he doesn't eat, it's his hunger.

Don't ask him any questions. It will only provide him with an opportunity

Don't Be Grumpy, Gramp

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — It was all quiet on the White House baby front as Luci Johnson Nugent patiently passed up a chance to make her husband, Pat, a puppy on Father's Day.

Luci, instead, concentrated on a Father's Day gift for the President — an empty oval picture frame.

SORRY ABOUT THAT

With it she attached an apologetic poem for the tardiness of his future grandchild.

The Nugents spent a quiet Sunday with Luci's mother, Lady Bird Johnson, in their new pink brick H-style home in a fashionable residential section here.

They fanned out from the First Lady at church-going time. Mrs. Johnson made a return visit to St. David's Episcopal church which she used to regularly attend.

Luci and Pat attended Mass at St. Mary's Cathedral, their Roman Catholic parish church run by the order of the Holy Cross.

Mrs. Johnson is making it a point to stay close to the Nugent household, spending every night with her daughter.

Luci made a vivid picture in her mini-mod maternity dress of wild reds, pinks and yellows Sunday.

The tent shaped dress of pleated chiffon had a huge white collar and the skirt was hiked four inches above the knees.

She wore fish-net stockings, white shoes and a white head band to cut a splashy figure as she walked out of the church on the arm of her husband and their house guest, Joe Batson, Lynda Bird's sometimes escort from Amarillo, Tex.

Entertains Group in Parents' Home

Mrs. Donald Brownlee was hostess in her parent's home, the Floyd Beardslees of East Square Lake Road, recently for members of the Better Home and Garden Club.

Following the luncheon, the group toured the Beardslee gardens. Mrs. Harry Armstrong, Mrs. Irl Williams, Mrs. William Sovey and Mrs. Arthur Rothweiler gave reports.

Committee for the day consisted of Mrs. E. A. Wilmut, Mrs. J. T. Simmons, Mrs. H. W. Martin, Mrs. Williams, and Mrs. L. A. Chase.

Guests included Mesdames: Robert Miller, Joseph Carlyle, Leon Roundtree, Elmore Higby, William Brandenburg, C. A. Daklin, Gerald Moehleman, Elton Behnke, H. B. Luther and Miss Janet Bemis.

This group plans a picnic in July at Kensington Park for members and husbands.

Newlyweds Are in Puerto Rico

Honeymooning in San Juan, Puerto Rico are the newlywed Ronald V. Arahamians (nee Patricia Lynn Cooke) who exchanged vows Saturday afternoon in Covenant Baptist Church, Detroit.

The bride chose an A-line gown fashioned of white silk organza with re-embroidered lace highlighting Kabuki sleeves and chapel train.

A Dior bow held her veil and she carried glamelias, Stephanotis and ivy.

Parents of the couple are the Clarion Cookes of Cedar Shake Drive and the Abraham Arahamians of Covered Bridge Road.

Beth Cooke was her sister's maid of honor with bridesmaids, Jean Kitchen, Carol Fullerton, Patricia Little, Jean Scolaro, Sue Greer, Karen Kareus, Rande Arahamian and Debra Pieschke.

On the esquire side were James White, best man.

Ushers were Jay Cooke, Donald Tregenza, Robert Phardel, Ronald Holden, Greg Northrup, Robert Morgan, David Neilen and Mark Moncreiff.

A reception at Devon Gables followed the ceremony. The pair will reside in East Lansing while the bridegroom continues senior studies at Michigan State University.

Christine Ann on Scene

The Rex Futrells (Rosemary Pierce) of Ulica Road announce the birth of a daughter, Christine Ann, on June 15.

Grandparents are the Troy Futrells of Newberry Street and Mr. and Mrs. Del Pierce of Shoreview Drive.

Miss Newlin Wed in Romeo

The Romeo First Congregational Church was the setting for afternoon vows repeated by Martha Jean Newlin and Michael Douglas Kelly of Spring Valley, N. Y.

Floor length Chantilly lace in a cage style was worn by the bride. Her silk illusion veil was secured by a pillbox.

She carried a white orchid on a Bible.

Nancy Newlin was her sister's maid of honor. They are the daughters of Dr. and Mrs. Louis Newlin of Romeo.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Fred Shumaker of Corte Madera, Calif., sister of the bride with Janneth Totes.

Ushers were Russell Neubauer, Detroit and Douglas Smith, Lansing.

After a church parlor reception, the couple left for a Canadian honeymoon.

They will reside in Spring Valley, N.Y.

Champ Out of Action in WDGA

The defending champion will be missing when members of the Women's District Golf Association tee off tomorrow in the first round of their 54-hole medal play tournament at Orchard Lake Country Club.

Six-time champion Mrs. Keith LeClair, who won the crown last year at Grosse Ile, is in Essex, England, where her husband is on a special assignment for the Ford Motor Company. They went to England in January and plan to return next month.

With Mrs. LeClair out of the running, the favorite's spot has been taken by Mrs. T. M. Werner of Indianwood and Mrs. John Hume of Birmingham, both three-time winners of the event.

And waiting in the wings should the favorites falter is Mrs. Robert Gamble of Lochmoor, a two-time runner-up. She finished 15 strokes back of Mrs. Hume in second place in 1962.

Booth Takes Lead in City 'A' League

Booth Homes has slipped into a narrow lead in a bid for baseball honors in the city's hot Class A League race.

The Booths (6-1) squeaked turned back Lake Orion Cardinals (5-5) yesterday 3-1 to maintain its half-game edge over the R. T. Clippers (5-1-1), a 3-1 winner over Oakland University (2-6).

M. G. Collision (5-2) went into yesterday's action tied with Booth for the lead but the team wound up on the short end of a 5-1 score in a bout with Cranbrook (5-2).

In other games, Talbott Lumber (1-5) won its first with a 15-hit barrage that saddled U.A.W. 653 with its sixth straight loss (0-6), and Don Sackett hurled a one-hitter as the defending champion Teamsters (4-2) knocked off C.I.O. 594 (4-4), 1-0.

Dan Fife collected a pair of hits and scored twice and teammate Jim Ward picked up a pair of safeties to back the three-hit pitching of Booth's Ed Sparkman.

BIG INNING

Cranbrook used five hits, a walk and a hit batsman in the second inning to push across its five runs, the big blow of the inning a two-run triple by pitcher Mike Burklow. It was one of two hits for Burklow, who fanned six and permitted only three hits. Al Levy also came in with a pair of hits.

Sackett retired the first nine C.I.O. batters before first baseman Bud Williams broke the spell with a leadoff double in the fourth. He escaped further damage and his teammates shoved across a run in the fourth off the help he needed.

Sackett's mates managed only three hits off C.I.O.'s Dick Goldsworth, but one of them came in the fourth following a walk to John Fieser. Fieser went to second on a sacrifice and scampered home on Charles Johnson's single.

Trailing 1-0 in the fifth, the Clippers took a 2-1 lead on a two-run double by Warren Ste-

Pontiac Hurdler in 3 Victories

Special to The Press
SACRAMENTO, Calif. — A stirring individual performance earned Pontiac's Bill Tipton the Governor's Trophy here Saturday night in the Golden West Invitational track meet.

Tipton set one record, was deprived of another because of the wind and was part of a record-equaling relay team in the invitational that attracted the leading high school runners in the nation.

He was named the outstanding athlete in the meet and received the Governor's

Trophy from former Olympic great Jesse Owens in a post-meet ceremony.

Tipton, 18, who set local and state records on Michigan tracks this season, sped to a national record of 18.3 seconds running around a curve in the low sticks, the time erasing the old standard of 18.6 set by Wayne Collett of Gardena, Calif., who posted the same time in running second to the Pontiac ace.

A 13.4 second clocking by Tipton in the highs was a tenth of a second under the national record — Richmond Flowers and Tipton share the mark of 13.5—but it was a wind-aided effort and won't go into the record book.

RECORD NIGHT

Over-all, it was a record night as three national marks fell, and one of them was the shot put standard put on the books in 1958 by Olympic gold medal winner Dallas Long of Phoenix.

Strongboy Karl Salb of Crossett, Ark., flipped the shot 69-feet-6-inches to wipe out Long's old mark of 68.3. Gullu Cataly of East Detroit, Mich., placed sixth with a heave of 59.9-2.

The other record came in the 330-yard intermediate hurdles by Joe Kursrock of Mt. Vernon, N.Y., racing to a 37.3 time to break the mark of 37.8 set earlier in the year by Jack Faubion and Rocky Woods of Texas.

Another victim of the wind was Jerry Proctor of Pasadena, Calif., who leaped 26-feet-5½-inches in the broad jump, bettering his record of 25-7, but he also was aided by the wind and the mark will not count.

After his hurdles victories, Tipton teamed with Bill Gaines of New Jersey, Jim Green of Kentucky and Bill Bakenfeth of Illinois in posting a record-tying time of 1:25.4 in the 880-yard relay.

Freels Bacon of Flint, Mich., who won the state high jumping title earlier in the year with a 6-foot-8-inch effort, could clear only 6-5½ and placed fifth behind Don Stevenson of Missouri who set a meet record with a mark of 6-7½.

Gaines had some help from the wind so his record-equaling 9.3 seconds time in the 100-yard dash won't stand.

Nicklaus Wins Open With Record Spree

Jack Fires 65
for Total of 275
at Baltusrol CC

SPRINGFIELD, N.J. (AP) — "I felt like an idiot, standing there with a one-iron in my hand," Jack Nicklaus said. "But I knew what I had to do to win this golf tournament."

The bulky Golden Bear, at age 27 perhaps the best golfer the world has seen, was explaining the final moments of his record-shattering triumph in the United States Open Golf Tournament Sunday.

"I wasn't thinking about records," Nicklaus said over and over. "Records come. They're made to be broken. I just wanted to win this tournament."

He did. And — he insists it was entirely incidental — he broke Ben Hogan's 19-year-old Open scoring record of 276 by one stroke with a curling, 23-foot putt on the final hole.

It gave him a final round 65, five under par for the stately old Baltusrol Course, and a 72 hole total of 275, adding the Open scoring record to his Masters mark of 271.

But he was more concerned with adding this second Open title — he won his first in 1962 in his first year as a pro — to his collection of three Masters, a PGA and a British Open crown.

"I had to make a decision on the 18th tee," Nicklaus said. The 18th is a 542 yard, par 5 hole. "I was four strokes ahead and knew I had to beat (Arnold) Palmer to win it."

"Two things were going through my mind. One was what Arnie said last year, that he was thinking about breaking Hogan's record when he had that blow-up in San Francisco."

BIG SEVEN

"The other was that Dick Mayer took a seven on this same hole and lost the Open in 1954."

"So I took out a one iron — I felt like an idiot doing it — and aimed it down the right side of the fairway. I was in the rough, on something that looked like a cable. So I got a drop and hit an eight iron back to the fairway."

He reached the green in three — "and that's when I knew I had the tournament won."

For all intents and purposes, however, he had it won much earlier, when he reeled off a string of three straight birdies on the third through fifth holes. That gave him a lead he never relinquished.

He slipped to a bogey five on six when he pushed his second shot to the right into the gallery, but came back with birdies on seven and eight, dropping an 18-foot putt for one and pitching to within four feet of the flag for another.

Three more birds on the back nine — two came after irons left him putts of three and five feet — completed the job that Nicklaus called "probably my best round ever."

Palmer, who was tied with Nicklaus and Casper for second going into the final round, finished with a 69 for second place at 279. Playing in the same twosome with Nicklaus, he didn't get a birdie until the 17th, but added another at the 18th.

Casper, the defending champion, was bothered by driving problems and settled for fourth with a 72 for 282, one stroke back of Don January, who had a final round 70.

Marty Fleckman, the 23-year-old amateur from Port Arthur, Texas, who led the third round, blew sky high with an 80 for 289, putting him far, far back in the pack. He started with three bogeys, and also bogeyed six of seven holes on the back nine.

Hogan, 55, seeking his fifth Open title, had a final 72 for 282.

Starter Again Fails to Finish

Tigers Continue Losing Ways

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers, reeling under a two-week slump during which they have dropped nine of 11 games, may make some pitching changes to try and straighten out their mound corps.

The Kansas City Athletics beat the Tigers 8-4 behind Jim Hunter Sunday. It was the 10th time in 11 games that a Detroit starting pitcher has failed to pitch nine innings.

Earl Wilson pitched nine innings of the 19-inning 6-5 loss to the A's in the second game of a doubleheader Saturday.

The last complete game was pitched by Joe Sparrma June 6 when Detroit swept a twinnal at Kansas City.

But the A's jumped on Sparrma for three first-inning runs Sunday, and tagged the strong-armed right-hander with his first loss after six victories.

"We're pressing," said Manager Mayo Smith, who said he planned to start veteran Johnny Podres Tuesday against the California Angels.

"Anytime you get into a losing streak, it's a common thing. Our pitching has gone sour and our defense has faltered," he added.

"But when Mickey Lolich gets out of the service and the doubleheaders slacken off, I think our starters will come around."

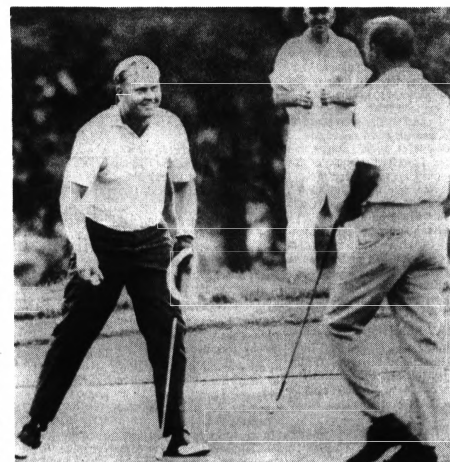

Smith said Lolich would pitch the first game of tonight's doubleheader against the Angels, with Denny McLain going in the second game. Lolich, on duty with the Air National Guard at Alpena, will get an overnight pass to play, Smith said.

"Podres will pitch Tuesday," he added. "And if he comes through he just might take somebody's starting job."

But Smith emphasized that Podres was just filling in for the overworked pitching staff because of two doubleheaders in five days, including the 19-inning game.

"I'm not contemplating any changes right now," he said.

Amateur Fleckman Finishes 14 Strokes Behind Jack Nicklaus

SPRINGFIELD, N.J. (AP) — It took me four days to get on my game," amateur Marty Fleckman of Port Arthur, Tex., said after giving followers a thrill in the National Open Golf Championship.

After shooting a three-under-par 67 to lead the first round, losing the lead temporarily in the second and then regaining it in the third, the former University of Houston played skied to an 80 in the final round Sunday.

He had a 72-hole score of 289 — 14 strokes higher than Jack Nicklaus' record winning 275.

Thus Nicklaus, firing a 65, picked up 15 shots over the last 18 holes.

"I thought I could still come back after getting those three straight bogeys at the start," the 23-year-old Fleckman said. "But I couldn't putt. I had five three-putts greens."

Fleckman bogeyed six of the first seven holes on the back nine over the Baltusrol course.

He said he wasn't particularly nervous. "I slept well and I didn't feel tense—I'm just not supposed to play in the same league with Nicklaus, Palmer and those boys," he added.

Fleckman, son of a lumber dealer in Port Arthur, was an alternate on the U.S. Walker Cup team which beat Britain last month. He failed to win a point but gained the semifinals in the British Amateur before losing to teammate Ron Cerudo.

One of the longest hitters in golf — his average was better in this tournament than that of Nicklaus on certain holes checked by an IBM computer — he is believed prime for material.

"I'm in the lumber business right now," he said.

Barry Considers Offer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Rick Barry, San Francisco Warriors star, said Sunday, "I still haven't made up my mind" about a reported offer from Oakland in the rival American Basketball Association.

White Sox Want to Prove Pennant Intentions in AL

CHICAGO (AP) — Somebody had better start believing the Chicago White Sox pretty soon or they might run away and hide from the rest of the American League.

The Sox have been accused of everything from being a bore to being lucky, but the fact is they lead the league by 3½ games after sweeping a doubleheader from the New York Yankees Sunday 7-3 and 4-0.

Pitching always has been the big factor with the Sox, but manager Eddie Stanky credits alertness and a minimum of mistakes to his team's surge.

"We can't miss signs, we can't make errors and we have to back up plays if we're going to win," said Stanky.

"We've been called lucky, a bore and a team you can't believe in," he continued. "That's okay with me. A couple of weeks ago I sensed more and more that the players are beginning to believe we can win the pennant."

"That's the important thing because it gives a club momentum and we're becoming a bunch of opportunists. That's important, too."

Stanky is always being asked about his team's base-stealing statistics and the question riddles him because he knows why it is being asked.

LIKE TO RUN

The Sox have stolen 65 bases this season, but they also have been caught stealing 46 times and the ratio minimizes the fact they lead the league in steals.

"Those statistics seem to bother everyone but me," says Stanky. "A lot of times one of our slow runners will be going on a three-and-two pitch. The batter strikes out and the runner is cut down and that goes down as caught stealing. But we do pretty well when we steal by design."

Stanky has another winning formula. "I tell the players when we reach the seventh inning that we are now in the business end of the game because from the seventh inning on is when games are won or lost. The boys are responding admirably."

Miss Maxwell Gains Top Pay Check as Pro

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Susie Maxwell stood in the flush of victory Sunday after winning the Milwaukee Jaycee Open Golf Tournament and solemnly said she was ready to drop professional golf at the drop of a proposal.

"The tour is nice," said the 25-year-old Oklahoman after pocketing $2,500 — the biggest pay check of her pro career.

"But it's not the most important thing in a girl's life. To me that's getting married and having a family."

Susie, who says she's waiting for her beau in San Francisco to pop the question, climbed to second place on the 1967 earnings list with her five-stroke triumph carved out of rounds of 68, 73 and 75 for an even par 216.

U.S. Davis Cuppers Trail Ecuador in Stunning Setbacks

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador (AP) — Tiny Ecuador needed only a split in today's final two singles matches to oust the powerful U.S. team in the American Zone Davis Cup tennis playoffs.

But despite the double defeat suffered by his team Sunday and the 2-1 deficit it faces in the best-of-5 series, George MacCall, nonplaying captain of the American team, remained confident that the United States would win.

"It should be better than even money that we will win both singles," said MacCall, after Miguel Overla lead a stirring Ecuador comeback.

Overla whipped Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., 4-6, 6-4, 6-4, 6-2 and teamed with Francisco Guzman for a 6-4, 9-7, 6-3, 4-6, 8-6 victory over Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio and Matt Riessen of Evanston, Ill., in the doubles.

Cliff Richey of Dallas beat Guzman 6-2, 2-6, 8-6, 6-4 in the opening singles Saturday.

Today's singles pitted Richey against Overla and Ashe against Guzman.

"The Ecuadorian boys played very well," said MacCall. "Overla and Guzman should be very tired while our players, Ashe and Richey, are rested."

Grand Prix Crown Is First for Gurney

FRANCOCHAMPS, Belgium (AP) — Dan Gurney captured the Grand Prix auto race of Belgium Sunday, becoming the first American in an American-made car ever to win a Grand Prix that counts toward the world championship.

Gurney, 36, of Costa Mesa, Calif., driving an American-Eagle he designed and built, beat Jackie Stewart of Britain in a BRM by 63 seconds, completing the 244.70-mile test in one hour, 40 minutes, 49.4 seconds. His average speed was 145.66 miles per hour in sunny weather.

The only American among 18 starters, Gurney broke his own 1964 lap record on the 20th lap of the 8.74-mile circuit, averaging 148.519 m.p.h., and took the lead from Stewart on the next lap.

THE COOL ONE

HOMINGWAY'S ADVENTURES OF A YOUNG MAN
PAUL NEWMAN

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Jules Stein confessed to the press conference that he hadn't told his wife about the plan he was announcing. "I promised her after I set up the Eye Institute at UCLA it would take it easy," said the 73-year-old millionaire. But there he was embarking on a huge new project.

At a conference attended by leaders of the film industry last week, Stein disclosed a bold plan to help finance the Motion Picture Relief Fund, Universal Pictures will film a major movie with the cooperation of the guilds and unions, and all of the profits will go to the fund, which has been conducting a $40-million drive for building and endowment.

"I feel good about our chances to reach our $40-million goal," declared Gregory Peck, chairman of the fund drive committee. "Our thanks will go to Mr.

Stein, a creative philanthropist. Stein is the eye doctor from South Bend, Ind., whose sideline of booking dance bands led to his creation of the Music Corp. of America. He powered the company to top rank as an agency for film stars, then became a film industry power by taking over Universal Studio. He has a faculty for making money for charity, as well as MCA.

"I felt after speaking to Greg Peck that there might be a simple way to produce a large amount of money for the relief fund," Stein explained. "We had done it before in setting up the films 'Stage Door Canteen' and 'Hollywood Canteen.' The productions raised millions of dollars for use in entertaining servicemen during World War II."

His new plan would also be an all-star movie. The budget would be a minimum of $3.5 million — "but it might be two or three times that amount if we felt the film warranted it." The aim is for a road show movie of two to three hours in length, and Stein mentioned that the story line might be like "Around the World in 80 Days" or "If I Had a Million," both of them episodic with a myriad of stars.

IN HOLLYWOOD

The movie would be shot in Hollywood, but overseas locations might be included to accommodate foreign stars. The aid and support of other studios will be sought, and Stein expects some of the stars might well contribute at least part of their earnings to the relief fund. "We take care of our own" is

In accepting Stein's services as leader of the proposed movie, fund President George Bagnall said: "I'm sure this is one activity your wife will give her approval for."

London Paper Finished at 117

LONDON (UPI) — The Sunday Citizen closed yesterday after publishing 117 years. It never veered from supporting the British working man. An early campaign opposed "Victorian sentimentalists who wept over Oliver Twist in Faig's den and then went to their factories to fight in the name of the iron law of wages against any concession that would add sixpence a week to the income of an underfed family."

The Sunday Citizen, for 112 years known as Reynolds Weekly Newspaper, had its great years. It was the first British Sunday newspaper to reach a circulation of more than 1 million.

But later it was unable to compete with the larger Beaverbrook, Thomson, Mirror and other Fleet Street publishing groups.

Anti-Christian Filipinos Erupt

MANILA (AP) — A band of 200 anti-Christian fanatics "armed with assorted firearms, explosives, machetes and spears" burned down several houses in a town in the central Philippine island of Leyte, headquarter constabulary headquarters reported today.

A spokesman said no casualty figures had been received, but a press report from the scene quoting national police said "several had been killed."

The spokesman said the fanatics, members of a group called "The Anti-Christian Organization" were moving toward the city of Ormoc, in northern Leyte, and that troops had been sent to subdue them.

The spokesman said the cause of the flare-up was not clear.

Queen Mary Bids Are Due by July 24

NEW YORK (AP) — Bids to buy the liner Queen Mary to be taken out of service this fall, must be received by July 24, a Cunard Line spokesman said Sunday.

Inquiries concerning purchasing the 81,237 gross-ton vessel have been received from many parts of the world, it was reported.

The spokesman said letters setting the deadline have gone to nearly 600 ship brokers and other potential buyers.

Offers will be considered by the Cunard board July 26 and final negotiations will follow immediately, the spokesman said.

The country's first geodetic standard base line has been set up. It consists of a 500 meter row of concrete pillars and is accurate to one part in ten million.

Robber Knives
Pontiac Man

A Pontiac man was stabbed and robbed while walking home late yesterday, it was reported to city police.

Eddie W. Daniels, 34, of 158 E. Wilson told officers he was at the corner of East South Boulevard and East South Boulevard when four men approached him on foot.

He said one of the four pulled a knife, stabbed him in the chest and arm, then took $30 in cash from his shirt pocket.

He did not see which way the assailants fled, police were told.

Daniel was reportedly treated for his wounds at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and released.

Beau Leaps,
Girl Leaves

CHICAGO (AP) — Richard Jewell, police said, was unable to talk his girl friend out of taking a trip to Europe.

So the 22-year-old Decatur, Ill. man jumped out of Maureen Warrick's third-floor apartment window, said Detective Sgt. Edward Nichols.

Police took Jewell to Weiss Memorial Hospital, where officials said he wasn't even limping.

Miss Warrick, 21, telephoned police to make sure Jewell was okay, and then hopped on a plane for London.

A woman was injured Saturday in a car-truck collision on Clintonville Road near Barkman in Waterford Township.

Listed in satisfactory condition in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital is Teresa C. Kosiba, 23, of 4830 Retek, Independence Township, driver of the car.

Driver of the pickup truck was John D. Trojanowski, 21, of 1905 Ruby, Avon Township, according to Waterford Township police.

New Chapter for Vets of 36th Division

All veterans of the 36th Division of World War II are urged to contact the president of the newly formed Midwest chapter of the 36th Division Association, headquartered in Pontiac.

A charter was granted to the Midwest chapter after the initial reunion meeting of the former combat engineers last July, according to its president, Edward Butora of 4178 Meigs, Waterford Township.

This year's reunion will be July 23 at Hawthorne Park, weather permitting. In case of rain, the group will move to the VFW hall, 398 S. Saginaw.

Sunday's meeting will be at the home of Peter Rose, 7902 Dixie Highway, Independence Township.

"We are anxious to enlarge the membership, so all veterans of the 36th Division and their wives are urged to attend," Butora said.

Schools to Get News Services

How has education changed in recent times? One interesting way has been the increasing emphasis placed on the study of current events.

To meet the educational needs produced by this growing emphasis, The Pontiac Press is sponsoring a specially designed, modern news program for participating area schools.

In centuries past, those children who went to school in the United States or England received a very different "learning diet" from that given to students now.

They often learned a great deal of Latin, Greek, and classical mythology. They were taught little science compared to today's youngsters. And, of course, most never heard of the subject of current events.

Today, most American educators agree that it is vital for students to be informed about current happenings in our changing world. They are finding the newspaper an invaluable "textbook."

With this in mind, The Pontiac Press is furnishing the VEC News Program, free of charge, to participating schools in this area.

WEEKLY FILMSTRIP

One part of the program is a weekly filmstrip of news pictures showing important national and world events.

The pictures are projected on the classroom screen. The teacher asks questions about news events related to the pictures, thus encouraging student curiosity and interest in current affairs. By creating this interest, the program leads students to newspaper reading.

Along with each news filmstrip, the teacher receives written guides containing background information and thought-provoking discussion questions. She also receives a teacher's guide with vocabulary and map assignments, class projects, homework exercises and a review quiz.

Monthly study filmstrips, which explore important current subjects "in depth," are also included in this educational program.

NEWS QUIZ

The news quiz published weekly by The Press is another part of the program. Students and parents can refresh their knowledge of current events by taking the quiz.

The instructional materials in the program are prepared by Visual Education Consultants, Inc., Madison, Wis. VEC News Services are used in thousands of schools across the nation and in many American schools overseas.

Avon Driver
Hurt in Crash

An Avon Township man is in fair condition in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Mt. Clemens, with head injuries and abrasions received in a two-car collision late Saturday night in Shelby Township.

Police said a car driven by William L. Foree, 71, of 2800 Gerald, Avon Township, collided with a car driven by James A. Thompson, 38, of 11309 Diamond, Utica.

The accident occurred at the corner of Auburn and Dequindre.

Foree reportedly pulled out of a driveway into east bound traffic on Auburn when he collided with Thompson's car. Thompson received minor injuries and was not hospitalized.

OCC Sets Talks
for Area Elderly

A symposium on new technology in education will be given to senior citizens at the Highland Lakes campus of Oakland Community College from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Wednesday.

A free bus will leave from Pontiac City Hall parking lot, 450 E. Wide Track, at 10 a.m. and return at 4 p.m.

5 Koreans Killed

SEOUL (AP) — Four South Korean national policemen and a villager helping the police were killed Saturday in a gunfight with four suspected North Korean agents at Chongdo, about 150 miles southeast of Seoul, police reported today.

One of the North Koreans also was killed. He was believed to be an officer in the North Korean army, it was reported.

GWCC Plans
Discussion of Data Links

Methods of improving community communications will be explored when the Greater Waterford Community Council meets at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Jaycee Room of the Community Activities, Inc., building, 5640 Williams Lake.

It was disclosed at the GWCC's May meeting that apathetic interest in township projects, programs, elections and school affairs could be caused by a lack of information and contacts.

GWCC President Byron Zink said the subject was pursued at a recent meeting of the group's steering committee.

"We are ending questionnaire to businessmen, church, service clubs and interested citizens, asking them to bring ideas to this meeting," said Zink.

A spokesman from Welcome Wagon, the group that contacts area newcomers, will explain that program at tomorrow's meeting.

LISTING DISCUSSED

A calendar of events which also would list all businessmen in the township will be discussed.

The meeting is open to the public.

During the last four years, the U. S. has spent some $22.4 billion for offensive weapons and $7.2 billion for defensive weapons.
