Asks Realistic Cease Fire in Laos

NEW BACK INJURY — President Kennedy is shown as he lifted a spadeful of dirt at Government House in Ottawa last May 16. The White House disclosed today the President has been suffering from a new, back injury since that time. This injury may force him to use crutches for a while.

Peace Confab to Be Boycotted by West's Big 3

JFK Warns Solution Necessary as Step to Other Agreements

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy called today for a realistic cease fire in Laos and said that if this could not be achieved with the Communists it would be "impossible" to reach agreement on many other important international questions.

Kennedy's warning came after the United States, Britain and France told Russia in Geneva that they will boycott all sessions of the Laos peace conference "for the time being."

A British statement said the Western Big Three took the action to give them time to consult their home governments about Communist cease fire violations in Laos.

In the light of his recent meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, who joined Kennedy in supporting a cease fire and a neutral Laos, the President was plainly disappointed by the continuing fighting.

Kennedy spoke before the 1961 conference of United Press International editors and publishers at the Statler-Hilton Hotel.

★ ★ ★

He appeared before the editors shortly after the White House announced that he had suffered a recent back strain and would be using crutches occasionally.

Kennedy, however, appeared before the editors without crutches.

Turning to questions from the editors, Kennedy made these high points of news:

—The United States will remain at the Laotian negotiations in Geneva but the President feared for the success of all East-West negotiations if there cannot be agreement on a cease fire and an independent, neutral Laos.

He re-emphasized the American position that an immediate, effective cease fire is necessary, adding, "If we can't do it here (in Geneva), where are we going to do it?"

—The United States will continue to stand by its proposed nuclear test ban treaty submitted in Geneva though prospects for acceptance continue to seem highly improbable.

TO CONTINUE PURSUIT

Kennedy said, however, that the United States will pursue the test ban negotiations as far as possible because he will want the world to know that we have exhausted every possible avenue of negotiation before the United States resumes testing.

—The federal government has no intention of taking any action in the field of press censorship, voluntary or otherwise, but the Chief Executive thought self-restraint in reporting security matters was the proper subject

K Raised Voice to JFK on Berlin

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has informed congressional leaders that Premier Khrushchev raised his voice when he told him in Vienna that West Berlin is a bone that must come out of the Soviet throat.

The President also reported Khrushchev indicated he regards Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro as unstable —and not a Communist. Kennedy briefed influential members of both parties at a 90-minute White House conference Tuesday before he told the nation in a television-radio broadcast a few hours later that the West is ready to maintain its rights in Berlin "at any risk."

The briefing, during which the President read from his translator's transcript of some of the conversations, was said to have disclosed that Khrushchev was vitally interested in only two subjects at this time—Berlin and a change in the secretariat direction of the United Nations.

TOPICS DISCUSSED

So reported by responsible sources, these were some of the major topics discussed and the positions taken in the 12 hours of conversations between the two leaders:

★ ★ ★

Berlin — Khrushchev has not changed his position of more than two years' standing that he intends to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany. He fixed no date for this action. He told Kennedy that nobody but the United States still believes East and West Germany can be reunited.

The only time Khrushchev raised his voice in the whole period of discussion was when he talked about Berlin and used the bone in the throat phrase he has employed before. (Kennedy said in his broadcast to the nation "there was no discourtesy, no loss of tempers, no threats or ultimatums by either side" during the Vienna conferences.)

The Soviet premier offered again to give Soviet and East German guarantees of continued Allied access to West Berlin. He proposed that U.S., French, British and Soviet troops remain in the city, and suggested stationing U.N. troops there.

Kennedy replied that the West is in Berlin legally, not merely by sufferance, and intends to stay

Kennedy Says Tension to Grow

Tells Newsmen Days Ahead Will Be Difficult for People of U.S.

By HARRY J. REED
Pontiac Press Managing Editor

WASHINGTON — It was a tired-looking President Kennedy who said today that the days ahead would be long and difficult for the American people.

The signs of fatigue that showed through his deeply tanned face indicated the President felt the weight of the task he said was before the nation.

He said Americans may become puzzled and disappointed by continued international tensions in the coming months, perhaps years.

But the tensions are not going to lessen, they will become worse, Kennedy indicated.

Kennedy's brief off-the-cuff talk was made to newsmen gathered in the Statler-Hilton Hotel here for the opening of United Press International's two-day conference of editors and publishers. Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy was to address the group later today.

MUST BEAR STRESS

The President said the country must have the ability to bear stress without faltering, the ability to move ahead towards its goals with precision.

He predicted that no single action by the U.S., no single im-

Over Hill, Over Dale --by Rocket Belt

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A practical, working rocket belt, torn from the pages of science-fiction, has made a reality of mankind's age-old dream of flying with the birds.

A twist of a throttle, a turn of a lever, and man leaps from the ground, his own personal rocket belt strapped to his back. He hovers in the air, he flies over rivers, he flits up a hill that would leave him breathless to climb.

His support is a twin-nozzle thrust of hydrogen peroxide steam.

All this was revealed today by Bell Aerosystems Co., which developed the belt—called a Small Rocket Lift Device—for the Army Transportation Research Command.

Photos of a test engineer, Harold M. Graham, in personal flight with the man-rocket showed him easily leaping a fire truck, handily swirling up a hill, casually jumping a stream.

In 30 successful test flights this spring, Bell said, Graham achieved a speed of about 20 miles an hour. His longest horizontal flight was 360 feet. He did not try for any great altitude, but the belt carried him up a steep, 30-foot-high hill with ease.

Bell has held the Army development contract since last summer, but Wendell F. Moore, director of Bell's man-rocket research program, has been dabbling with the idea since 1954.

"The current device is strictly a feasibility model designed to prove that lightweight rocket power can lift a man and transport him over the ground in controlled flight," said Moore.

The rocket belt is powered by hydrogen peroxide. When forced into a gas generator where it meets a catalyst, it decomposes into steam. Discharged through two nozzles directed toward the ground, this steam provides the thrust.

The position of the nozzles, set out from the sides of the device, plus the low temperature of the steam, eliminate the need for protective clothing for the operator.

Might Revive Milk-Price Bill

Hotly Debated Issue May Return as Solons Prepare to Adjourn

LANSING (AP) — An attempt to revive a hotly debated milk-pricing bill appeared likely today as Michigan legislators returned for final adjournment of the 1961 session.

★ ★ ★

Main work of the session was completed last month. The formal windup is devoted mainly to action on the governor's vetoes, votes on a variety of resolutions and final attempts to agree on bills sent to Senate-House conference committees for settlement of interchamber differences.

★ ★ ★

Some Republicans indicated there would be a move to pull the milk-pricing bill from the House agriculture committee, where it was consigned for burial in a surprise development last month.

★ ★ ★

The measure had cleared both houses and was enroute to the governor's desk when it was called back for quick disposal.

★ ★ ★

The most disputed feature of the bill would have forbidden sale of milk at the retail level at less than cost plus overhead expenses.

Auto Exhibit Will Highlight Centennial Week Activities

A spectacular automotive exhibit tracing the evolution of cars, buses and trucks built here and featuring a famed scientific stage show will highlight Centennial Week activities in downtown Pontiac.

The free exhibit will run for three days, June 20-22, in the parking lot at Pike and Parke streets across from Pontiac's Civic Center. Hours are 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Earliest cars and trucks manufactured in Pontiac plants will be displayed along with latest models. Scientific exhibits that got top billing in auto shows across the country also will be featured.

Exhibitors are Pontiac Motor Division, Fisher Body Division, GMC Truck & Coach Division, Baldwin Rubber Co. and Universal Oil Seal Co.

Industrial program chairman, Bernard W. Crandell, said the exhibit will be "the most spectacular and comprehensive industrial show ever staged in this area.

"It will tie Pontiac's present products with the past in a brilliant automotive display unparalleled in the 100-year history of the city. Visitors will also get a glimpse into America's industrial future in the unique science show."

tors Previews of Progress, will be presented frequently during exhibit hours. Its unique scientific sequences will be staged in a colorful striped tent seating 100 persons.

TO HOUSE EXHIBITS

Besides the stage show tent, another big, multicolored tent will house 20 scientific automotive exhibits.

The exhibit area will cover nearly 38,000 square feet. The main entrance faces Pike, with two others fronting on Parke Street.

Outdoor exhibits will consist of 16 cars, 11 trucks and coaches, and a Universal Oil Seal product display consisting of all types and sizes of oil seals found in industrial use today.

Pontiac Motor's outdoor exhibit will include a 1926 Pontiac and new Bonnevilles, Star Chiefs, Venturas, Catalinas and Tempests.

Inside will be a 1907 Oakland.

To Pick Queen by Next Week

Miss Centennial and 10 Princesses Will Appear in Parade June 17

Miss Centennial and her 10 princesses will be trying on their Centennial gowns a week from today.

The month-long contest will close officially at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday at Centennial Headquarters in the Pontiac Public Library. After tallying the final returns from sponsoring organizations, headquarters will announce the winners and they'll get ready for their first public appearance in the mammoth parade kicking off Centennial week at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, June 17.

The queen and court will make their first Wisner Stadium appearance Monday evening, June 19, when the queen is crowned.

The coronation will take place immediately before the first performance of "The Pontiac Story," the stadium spectacle tracing the history of Pontiac. This two-hour show will be played in its entirety the first night, with repeat performances on five nights thereafter, June 20, 21, 22, 23 and 24.

★ ★ ★

At the three-quarters mark in the Miss Centennial contest, the General Motors Girls Club candidate, Veachel Bilyeau, still was ahead.

After returns were counted last night, Centennial headquarters listed the other candidates and

Tractors for Freedom Committee

Group Refuses Dickering Trip to Cuba

By JIM LONG

Any speculation that one or more members of the Tractors for Freedom Committee might travel to Havana to negotiate the tractors-for-prisoners swap ended today with an official announcement that none of the principal fund-raisers would make the trip.

A spokesman for Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, committee cochairman and former First Lady, made the announcement in New York today, reiterating what another cochairman, Walter Reuther, told The Pontiac Press last night.

The president of the United Auto Workers Union, prior to his address at commencement exercises at Avondale High School, said it was "very doubtful" that he or any other committee member would venture to Cuba to dicker with Premier Fidel Castro.

Castro, in a cable yesterday, had suggested that a member of the committee or a delegation come to Havana and personally negotiate the trade of 1,200 men for 500 tractors.

Reuther explained that no reply to Castro's terms was made yesterday because it had been physically impossible to get the committee together on such short notice.

★ ★ ★

The committee, composed of Mrs. Roosevelt, Reuther and Dr. Milton Eisenhower, president of Johns Hopkins University, was formed after Castro made an offer May 17 to trade prisoners captured in the ill-fated invasion of the island for machines.

★ ★ ★

The authorized spokesman for Mrs. Roosevelt said: "The committee has never seriously considered Castro's demand for one or more members to come to Cuba."

The spokesman indicated that the committee members had conferred by phone and turned down the Cuban leader's proposal.

Castro may have pushed his luck too far, especially in allowing Havana Radio to be bitingly critical of Reuther in a statement last night.

The commentator, calling Reuther a "false liberal" and a "servant of monopolies," said the labor leader "has taken part in the hypocritical campaign against the Cuban revolution. Not one day has gone by that Reuther has not made insulting comments — something that was not part of the task assigned to him as a member of the committee."

★ ★ ★

Senate Republican Leader Everett Dirksen of Illinois said in Washington last night that the committee members "will be getting on tenuous ground" if they go to Havana to negotiate.

Dirksen said that if the persons concerned accepted the Castro invitation they might run afoul of the Logan Act.

Thunderstorms Will Be Scattered Around Tonight

Scattered thunderstorms will be on the program this evening, the weatherman says. Tonight's low temperature will be a mild 64.

Friday will be partly cloudy with temperatures on the cool side, the high in the 70s. Saturday and Sunday will be generally fair and warm but cooler weather will arrive again Monday. Showers may be expected Sunday and Monday.

Morning southerly winds at 3 miles per hour will become briefly stronger during thunderstorms.

The lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 57 degrees. The reading at 2 p.m. was 76.

Small Fire Shuts Down 2 'News' Departments

DETROIT (AP)—Fire in a ventilating shaft of the Detroit News building today caused an hour's shut down in two of the newspaper's departments. Publication of the newspaper's editions was not affected.

Fireman said the blaze stemmed from an overheated pot holding 10 tons of lead in the paper's stereotyping department. The fire was confined to an air duct.

The blaze forced about 175 men working in the composing room to leave their jobs temporarily.

Public Can View New Plane Tower

The "Public Welcome" sign will be out when the Federal Aviation Agency opens up the Pontiac Municipal Airport tower next week.

★ ★ ★

"Ninety-nine per cent of the time we won't be so busy that we can't let visitors in for a look-see at what goes on," said Frank A. Gineman, tower chief.

What visitors will witness is a well-trained team operating $250,000 worth of complex electronic equipment, directing traffic with more precision than a traffic cop in the middle of Times Square.

The FAA is scheduled to begin operations at 6 a. m., June 15, if all equipment is delivered and installed in time.

★ ★ ★

Gineman, who has worked for the federal government's civil aviation arm since 1937, will have a staff of six operators, working in two-men shifts from 6 a. m. to 10 p. m. seven days a week.

AROUND THE CLOCK

"We'll be working around the clock later if traffic at night warrants it," said the veteran tower official.

"Apparently there's a lot of traffic here, although there's never been an official day-to-day count. But just looking around, you see a lot of planes in the air."

Gineman, who has held FAA positions at a number of airports in Michigan, comes to Pontiac from Chicago's Meigs Airport, where he was tower chief three years.

★ ★ ★

The FAA will occupy the two upper floors and the tower of the terminal building it helped pay for under federal aid-to-airports program.

"Primarily, our responsibility is for the safe, orderly, expeditious flow of air traffic," Gineman explained.

In carrying out this job, the two operators on duty will make use of seven radio channels, one man in touch with any aircraft actually on the runway and the other handling all other craft in the area.

The tower's instructions to pilots are aimed at insuring adequate space between planes, with only one craft entering or leaving the runway at any one time.

For planes arriving at the airport, there will be the usual circle pattern most of the time of 900 feet for the lighter planes and 1,200 feet for the heavier.

The equipment the FAA will use is identical to that used at the largest airports, with the exception of radar.

But compensating for the lack of radar — used only at the busiest fields — is the Vortac homing device the FAA installed in White Lake Township last year.

of continuing consideration by the editors and publishers.

British chief delegate Malcolm Macdonald, cochairman of the Geneva conference, personally informed Soviet Cochairman Georgi Pushkin of the Western boycott decision at an hour-long meeting.

The British statement said Macdonald told Pushkin that "some delegations had informed him that in view of the news of the fighting at Padong in Laos, overrun yesterday by the Reds, they cannot attend a further session of the conference until they have completed consultations with their governments on the situation created by this apparent violation of the cease fire."

An authoritative conference source said that by "some delegations" Macdonald meant the representatives of the United States, Britain and France.

The allies "hope" the International Control Commission in Laos will soon report to the conference on the cease fire breach at Padong.

'IN DUE COURSE'

"In view of this, Macdonald expressed the view (to Pushkin) that the next session should be postponed for the time being," the statement said.

The statement said the date of the next conference session would be announced "in due course." A British spokesman gave no indication how soon that might be.

Kennedy was asked whether in view of the renewed Communist aggression in Laos he felt that Khrushchev had reneged on his Vienna promises.

Obviously wanting to avoid a frontal accusation of the Soviet leader, Kennedy said:

"I think we're going to stay at Geneva . . . to see if we can come to an agreement on a neutral and independent Laos, but it's going to be a task . . .

"If we cannot reach a successful conclusion on this matter in which both sides have used the same words . . . and use the same examples of neutrality and independence such as Burma and Cambodia . . . if we can't reach an agreement here, how impossible it will be to reach agreement on any other questions."

Baldwin Rubber will also present an appropriate display inside the exhibit tent. It will feature many of the automotive products it manufactures here.

A ceremony Tuesday morning will open the huge industrial spectacle.

General managers from the participating companies will be on hand for the 9 a.m. kick-off program.

Goldfine Won't Tell How He Spent Fund

BOSTON (UPI) — Bernard Goldfine has sent word from federal prison at Danbury, Conn., that he will refuse to reveal how he spent a $600,000 slush fund as ordered by a federal court judge, it was disclosed today.

Officials of the U.S. Department of Justice said Goldfine had sent word to this effect "through friends."

Mrs. Lassiter Freed by Judge

All Charges Dropped, Ionia Order Dismissed in Conspiracy Case

DETROIT (UPI)—Circuit Judge Joseph G. Rashid today approved dropping all charges against Mrs. Nelle Lassiter who had been accused of murder and conspiracy in the death of her husband Parvin.

Rashid also dismissed a court order committing Mrs. Lassiter to the Ionia State Hospital.

Thus the books were closed on the long case.

Rashid dropped the charges at the request of the prosecution.

He had ordered her committed to Ionia following a sanity hearing during Mrs. Lassiter's trial with Gordon Watson. After the hearing Mrs. Lassiter was granted a mistrial.

The prosecution decided to drop all charges against Mrs. Lassiter after Watson was acquitted last Monday.

U.S. to Permit Sale to Canada

Diefenbaker Has Praise for Relaxation of Ban on Tanker Pumps

OTTAWA (UPI) — The United States has agreed to let an American company sell 10 grain suction pumps for two tankers carrying Canadian grain to Red China, Prime Minister John Diefenbaker told the House of Commons today.

He praised the United States for "good sense."

Relaxing a ban on trade with Red China for Canada's sake was not easy in view of strong public sentiment, he said, but it was further evidence of accord between the two countries.

It stands as an "example to all the world."

Diefenbaker said the U.S. decision fills immediate needs . . . other shippers requiring the pumps now know where they can get them, he said, referring to an Ontario firm as an alternative source.

A political storm had arisen in the House of Commons over the U.S. order blocking shipment of the machinery to the tankers.

portant change in policy, nowadays could alter the uneasy balance of power in the world or make the path easier for the freedom-loving peoples.

In many ways, Kennedy's thoughts were an echo of the serious messages contained in his inaugaral address and later talks.

Today's remarks, however, carry the import of the President's first personal encounter with Russian Premier Khrushchev in Vienna over the weekend.

Community House Assn. Gets Four New Directors

BIRMINGHAM—Four new directors of the Birmingham Community House Association have been elected, with one incumbent re-elected to the board.

The four new directors are Mrs. Robert F. Kohr, Mrs. Lester C. Lempke, John K. Stevenson and Robert A. Thom. Mrs. Read Jenkins was renamed to the board.

Mrs. Kohr, of 460 Wimbleton Drive, is the retiring president of the American Association of University Women and is a past regent of the Piety Hill chapter of the DAR.

Mrs. Lempke of 1145 Kirkway Hills, Bloomfield Hills, is a member of the DAR and is on the board of deacons, Kirk in the Hills.

Stevenson, a manufacturer's representative, is a member of the boards of the United Foundation, William Beaumont Hospital and the Detroit Football Co.

He also is general chairman of the 1961 Community House Fund Drive.

Thom, of 6160 West Surrey Road, is an artist and was the founding president of the Bloomfield Art Association. He also is one of the founders of the Birmingham Arts Council.

Mrs. Jenkins of 710 Kennebec Court, Bloomfield Hills, was first elected to the board in January to fill a vacancy.

Birmingham residents will get their first look at the city's proposed future business district today at 8 p.m.

Wilbur Mason, chairman of the Central Business District Development Committee, and City Planner Herbert Herzberg will present the detailed plan to the public at a meeting in the municipal building.

The program is designed to obtain the community's criticism of the plan before it is finally adopted.

The completed plan is expected to be displayed during the Arts Festival, June 17-24. It will then be presented to the plan board.

It would eventually be undertaken after receiving the approval of various city boards and committees.

Herzberg said the plan makes no attempt to enlarge the central business district to any large extent.

It is an improvement plan rather than an expansion program, the city planner said.

House Vote Due Today on Repeal of Travel Tax

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Unhappy Democrats faced a showdown vote on the House floor today on a surprise Republican move to repeal the 10 per cent tax on airline, rail and bus tickets.

The Democrats had to choose between supporting their President or voting for $300 million a year in tax relief for travelers.

The Republican move posed a major challenge to the Kennedy administration's policy of maintaining tax revenues at current levels in view of the budget deficit for the next fiscal year.

United Nations — Khrushchev contended the U.N. actions in the Congo, under the direction of Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, were not neutral but were pointed against Soviet interests. Never again, he said, would the Soviet Union be placed in a position where its national security policies could be interfered with by the international organization.

3-MAN BOARD

This was the beginning, he indicated of the "troika" policy under which the Soviets would insist that the unanimous vote of a three-man board—on which the East, West and a neutral would be represented—direct the actions of international commissions, including the United Nations.

Cuba—Khrushchev does not regard Castro as a Communist. But he told Kennedy "you are well on the way to making him a good one." The Soviet leader indicated he regards Castro as unstable.

Khrushchev told Kennedy that Americans were always giving him credit for engineering coups that he had nothing to do with. He said Iran will be lost to the West, but disclaimed any part in this.

Laos — Khrushchev said he wasn't interested in trying to make the Laotian government Communist. He would be glad to settle for a neutral regime. Kennedy asked if the Soviet leader would help get the Geneva conference on Laos off the ground and he promised to do so.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Scattered showers and thunderstorms are expected tonight from the Middle Mississippi Valley eastward over the Ohio and Tennessee valleys, the Lakes area and the Middle Atlantic states and in Oklahoma while light rain is forecast for the Pacific Northwest. It will be warmer in the Middle Atlantic states and the Northern Rockies; cooler in New England, Wisconsin, Nebraska and Kansas.

JFK's New Injury Recalls '44 Trouble

WASHINGTON (UPI) — News that President Kennedy is suffering from a new back injury not connected with his previous back troubles recalled today that Kennedy has undergone three operations dating back to 1944 for spinal injuries.

One in 1954 nearly cost him his life.

Medical records show that the first injury occurred while he was playing football in his sophomore year at Harvard. He underwent a lumbar disc operation in 1944.

A recurrence of the old football injury occurred when Kennedy was thrown violently against the deck of his PT boat when it was hit by a Japanese destroyer.

★ ★ ★

An American Medical Association report last January said that in the 1944 operation the pressure on the nerve fibers supplying the muscles was relieved by removing the gelatinous material from the nerve roots where they emerge from the spine.

ONE LEG LONGER

However, this report said, the muscle spasm failed to subside after the operation and it was discovered that the condition was being aggravated because one of Kennedy's legs was a trifle longer than the other.

"In walking," the report added, "the inequality in leg length causes an abnormal see-saw movement in the back which puts a continual strain on the spinal muscles. By the summer of 1954, Kennedy was obliged to use crutches because of the severity of the pain." The report continued:

"Although in a weakened condition, Kennedy decided to gamble on another operation. On Oct. 21, 1954, a lumbar spine fusion was attempted (in New York's hospital for special surgery) by inserting a small metal plate. The operation didn't take. Then he contracted an infection. Physicians feared death was near and Kennedy was given the last rites of his church.

STILL SUFFERED PAIN

"However, he rallied and attempted to regain his health in Florida (at his father's home in Palm Beach). There was little improvement and in February 1955, the metal plate was removed and the infection healed with antibiotics. He continued to suffer pain and use crutches.

"Final relief was obtained by novocaine injections directly into the cramped muscles . . .

"Other corrective measures were taken. To eliminate the see-saw back movement, Kennedy wears a quarter-inch lift in the heel of his left shoe. To support the lower part of his back, he wears a small, corset-type brace."

The report concluded by saying the medical verdict is that Kennedy's back now is "entirely well."

Kennedy was on the operating table four hours for that 1954 operation. It was during his long convalescence in Florida that he wrote his best-seller "Profiles in Courage"—the story of eight U.S. senators who risked their careers by speaking out for the principles they believed right.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy was a senator then and returned to his Senate duties after an eight-month absence.

Man Will Be Arraigned Monday Over Break-In

A Pontiac man will be arraigned in Circuit Court Monday on a charge of breaking and entering Dave's Barber Shop, 607 Franklin Rd., June 1.

Collis J. Russell, 20, of 66 Earlmoor Blvd., waived examination Tuesday before Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum.

Pontiac police said nothing was taken in the break-in.

Russell's bond was set at $50.

Kennedy Gave Nikita 'Old Ironsides' Model

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has given Soviet Premier Khrushchev something to remember him by—a model of the historic U. S. frigate Constitution, a symbol of the nation's determination.

The ship, dubbed "Old Ironsides," played an important part in the War of 1812.

The White House disclosed that Kennedy, an old sailor and history buff, gave the 2½-foot model to Khrushchev during their talks at Vienna.

Confers With Russian

MOSCOW (AP) — Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution, Indonesia's minister of national security, conferred Wednesday with Soviet Defense Minister Rodion K. Malinovsky. The subject of their talk was not disclosed.

Army Working on New Radar

System Promises to Meet Criticism Aimed at Nike-Zeus

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has embarked on development of a new type of radar that holds promise of meeting some of the criticism aimed at the Nike Zeus antimissile system.

It's called phased radar and involves emitting an electronic beam to scan the skies for oncoming enemy missiles so Nike Zeus rockets can seek them out and destroy them far from targets in the United States.

Such a radar device, if proved successful, would replace the heavy rotating scanning structures now in use.

Army specialists said today the new type radar would do its job rapidly and precisely.

These specialists said it would be simpler and less costly than the models now in use.

PRAISE NEW TYPE

Disclosure of the new Army approach came Wednesday in a brief statement announcing award of a nearly $5 million contract to the Western Electric Co. for work on an advanced radar "design for possible future incorporation into the Nike Zeus antimissile missile system."

The Army has been waging an uphill fight for some time to convince the Kennedy administration and top Pentagon officials that the Nike Zeus antimissile — the only one under advanced development—is as good as the Army says it is.

EYES OF TEXAS — When this leggy lass slid off an Alaska Airlines plane in Dallas Wednesday, you didn't have to be clairvoyant to know in which direction the eyes of most Texans were facing. The big puzzle is why a gal like Judy Onstad, 22, 34-23-35, and Alaska's entry in the Miss U.S.A. contest in Miami Beach, Fla., July 7-14, would feel the need to wear a furry parka.

OAS Probers Start to Work

Investigate to Find if Oppression Is Ending in Dominican Republic

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP) — A commission from the Organization of American States begins investigating today to see if Generalissimo Rafael L. Trujillo's heirs are making good on their promise to end oppression.

President Joaquin Balaguer, the slain dictator's hand-picked chief executive, named Leland Rosemberg as the Dominican Republic's liaison man with the OAS mission.

Rosemberg talked at length Wednesday night with one of the OAS team, Carlos A. Clulow of Uruguay. The two had been in Bonn together until 1958 as their governments' ambassadors to West Germany.

OPTIMISTIC

Rosemberg was optimistic later, saying: "We will develop a few things, they will develop a few things and then matters will materialize."

Augusto Arango, Panamanian ambassador in Washington and head of the 13 OAS investigators, said there was no time limit and he did not know when the investigation would be finished. His group is from Panama, Colombia, Uruguay and the United States.

★ ★ ★

The investigators will determine whether OAS sanctions imposed and breaks in diplomatic relations—are still justified. The Dominican government insists they are not.

Police Report Tickets in May Down From April

Pontiac police issued 2,610 tickets in May, down from 2,749 the previous month.

Last month's breakdown of tickets received by the violations bureau from police for processing includes 894 citations for moving violations, 1,351 tickets for parking meter violations, and 365 for other parking violations.

In April the comparable figures were 905 citations for moving violations, 1,437 tickets for meter violations, and 407 for other parking violations.

The violations bureau collected $9,205 on 2,716 tickets paid last month. Of these, 1,503 wer paid at the Public Safety Building, 863 by mail, and 350 through warrant officers.

There was $9,510.50 collected in April on 2,949 tickets.

14 Anti-Castroites Land in Florida

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla., (AP)—Fourteen persons who identified themselves as anti-Castro underground members arrived here in a 23-foot boat, hungry and thirsty after a three-day trip.

Eleven men, two women and a young girl were in the party. They asked not to be identified because of a fear of reprisals against relatives in Cuba.

The group left Port Moran in Camaguey Province at 9:30 p.m. Sunday. They headed for Key West, Fla., but were thrown off course by rough seas and touched briefly at Andros Island in the Bafiamas before arriving here Wednesday.

The captain of the group reported that many other Cubans wanted to get in the boat but there wasn't room.

When the Japanese occupied Southeast Asia in World War II, they cut off 90 per cent of the world supply of natural rubber.

Editor Questions Open-Handed Foreign Aid Policy of U.S.

One of the most costly and controversial subjects facing our country is its foreign aid policy. From first-hand experience I am fairly sure that the actual extent of this aid is unknown by most of us.

Our dilemma is much the same today as before my recent 12 country trip, the only exception being we did not have the remotest idea of the actual part our foreign aid plays in many instances.

Take the little country of Turkey for example where half their entire national budget is U.S. foreign aid. Just imagine what would happen if we were to cut them down appreciably, or eliminate our assistance completely.

I asked this question to a responsible government official and he very politely told me they would simply have to get it from someone else. Sitting right on the Russian border, it's pretty easy to figure out who the someone else might be.

★ ★ ★

Are our millions of dollars in Turkey well spent? We think so. In return we have modern, well-established bases equipped with the latest weapons right under the nose of Soviet Russia.

Furthermore, the entire Turkish army is training under our joint supervision. It is our humble opinion that these American dollars are working for the taxpayers.

★ ★ ★

The whole problem of foreign aid is so vast that forty, fifty or seventy-five million dollars here or there is beyond comprehension for most of us.

We can't help but wonder at times if it isn't also beyond the people responsible for dishing it out, as well as the representatives on the receiving end.

As a recent example, President Kennedy authorized an additional $30 million in economic aid to Iran between talks with President de-Gaulle and Premier Khrushchev. Perhaps careful consideration had been given the matter, but it has all the earmarks of the panic button being pushed and we kicked in.

★ ★ ★

Certainly no country could be more deserving in our opinion than tiny Jordan. But what we actually saw makes our heart bleed. The people are living in hovels like animals. Instead of American money improving their living conditions we're building a $35 million road from Jerusalem to the Dead Sea practically parallel with the one they have now.

Why? Well, it seems that our Corps of Engineers was instructed to make the new road and eliminate some thirteen curves from the old road shortening the distance.

★ ★ ★

All the countries we visited were receiving aid in one form or another. In most instances, we're convinced that the man in the street is unaware of United States' aid.

In other cases, the governments accept our millions and then refer to us as an "imperialistic nation." At least half of the countries we visited showed little or no appreciation for our aid.

If President Kennedy is right in his assumption that the aid program is a crucial obligation and the taxpayers are to be saddled with it for years, then we feel a far more careful analytical study is called for.

Perhaps the program is so vast and complex that any one person can't begin to fathom the entire setup. If this is the case, and we are inclined to think it is, then a competent board of directors should sit down and appraise where the billions are going and what they are doing.

★ ★ ★

First of all we must establish how much aid each country actually needs for sound economic or military purposes. Secondly, a more comprehensive accounting of how the funds are spent.

Flagrant examples could be listed by the score such as MENDERES, Turkey's President of a year ago, squandering millions of our aid money on mistresses and chalets across two continents.

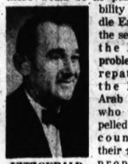
Major Issues Split Jordan, Israel

(Editor's Note: This is the third in a series of articles on Southern Europe and the Middle East after my recent tour of 12 countries.)

★ ★ ★

By JOHN W. FITZGERALD
Editor, The Pontiac Press

In Cairo, Egypt, Dr. Abdul Khalek Hassuna, Arab League secretary general, frankly told us there would be no peace or stability in the Middle East prior to the settlement of the Palestine problem and the repatriation of the Palestine Arab refugees who were expelled from their country after their money and property had been seized.



FITZGERALD

He described the problem of Palestine as similar to that of Berlin. Dr. Hassuna said the difficulty of reaching a peaceful settlement emanated from the unceasing hostilities of the Zionists.

★ ★ ★

"I feel that it is not possible to find a peaceful settlement," he said. Referring to neutrality, he said the Arab League had good relations with both the United States and the Soviet Union.

Economically, it would appear on the surface at least that Egypt under Nasser is making some progress. Yet, a great deal of the country looks dirt poor.

When you get away from the few modern buildings it almost seems like you're turning back several hundred years.

Our conclusion on Cairo is that it is a city in a nation that no foreigner ever can comprehend completely.

MET AREA GIRL

One ray of cheer in Cairo came at a tea sponsored by the United Arab League for our newspaper study mission. While attempting to look pleased and trying to make small talk with some of the Arab leaders, who should pop up and introduce herself but Patricia Hogan of 263 Puritan Road, Birmingham.

Pat is the charming daughter of Mrs. Leland M. Hogan, and she is in Cairo working for the United States Information Service. At this half-way junction in our journey a good-looking American lass really raised our spirits.

Leaving the pyramids and the sphinx behind, we flew over more parched desert to Jerusalem, part of which is in the Hashemite kingdom of Jordan.

Jordan is an Arab country and a member of the Arab League along with Egypt.

It is situated in the heart of the Arab world. On the north it is abounded by Syria, on the northeast by Iraq, on the east and south by Saudi Arabia, an on the west by Israel.

The city of Jerusalem is cut in two, which would be like dividing Pontiac with Saginaw Street. One side is Arab and the other, Israeli, and this is the main conflict. The Israelis claim they always have pressed for peace and negotiations.

On the other hand, the Arabs of Jordon say they want only to go home and have their land and homes back. The Arabs question the right of Israel to exist as an independent state.

HALF-MILLION DISPLACED

Some half-million Arabs have been displaced and are sitting around refugee camps. One camp we visited had 80,000, and they have been living like this for 13 years.

The standard of living around Jerusalem is at absolute rock bottom. At times you can't help but wonder if the residents care to help themselves.

Many live in caves in the hills and exist on practically nothing. On the Israeli side, Prime Minister Ben-Gurion is making great strides with the Jews. The United Nations has a great problem in settling this dispute. Unless the United Nations can come up with a just solution which both the Arabs and Israelis will accept, we feel that war and bloodshed will emerge.

We cannot draw a conclusion on the outcome, since the problems of both sides are too difficult to understand.

The holy places of Jerusalem were both disappointing and thrilling. The Holy Sepulchre and the manger were so obscured with tapestries, ornate lamps and innumerable candles that it seems an affront to the simplicity with which Jesus lived his life.

To stand in the Garden of Gethsemane and remember the words Christ said in his agony was overwhelming.

To walk the stations of the cross through the twisted narrow streets was a sad, humbling experience.

The people we talked to were not impressed with the commoner King Hussein had selected to become his bride.

★ ★ ★

His political advisers disapproved and the man in the street shouted, "Give us a boy child," and others just shook their heads.

(To Be Continued)

Dr. William Brady Says:

Inflammation of Joints Needs Immediate Care

The acute inflammation of one or more joints sometimes occurs in children and adults I am well aware. This serious illness comes on in a few hours or days, runs a course of days or weeks, and is presently over. We formerly called it rheumatic fever, acute inflammatory rheumatism or multiple arthritis.

DR. BRADY

It is inflammation of joint tissues, due usually to invasion of the joint by streptococcus, sometimes by other germs, such as pheumococcus, typhoid bacillus or brucella (germ of undulant fever).

So inflammation of joint or joints is a serious illness that requires immediate and constant medical care.

It is a feverish illness and, unlike rheumatiz or chronic joint disability (chronic "arthritis" if you're unteachable), it involves the risk of endocarditis, inflammation of heart lining, and valvular damage as a complication. It is danger of this complication that makes medical care so important.

There is no similarity whatever between this real arthritis and rheumatiz. In the first place, as already mentioned, real arthritis comes on in a few hours or days, and rheumatiz (Osler called it chronic rheumatism) "comes on insidiously" in a few months or a year. Real arthritis is an acute, sharp illness that runs a course of days or weeks and then is over.

NEEDS OVERCORRECTION

Rheumatiz (chronic joint disability, degeneration of joint tissues), once permitted to develop, is like Tennyson's brook — unless the victim's malnutrition is recognized in time and corrected or rather overcorrected for a sufficiently long period of time.

Since the specific deficiencies accountable for the rheumatiz have been operative since childhood it is logical that corrective measures should be followed from now on, as long as one lives. The trouble with too many victims of rheumatiz is they can't get it through their heads that they must follow a corrective regimen from now on.

It is nutrition, not medicine. The regimen for rheumatiz is described in detail in booklet "Chronic Joint Disability," for which send me 35 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The regimen includes an adequate daily ration of calcium, of course—combined with vitamin D, which is essential for normal utilization of calcium in the body. I do not advise taking calcium without vitamin D.

The regimen also includes good daily rations of iodin and vitamin B complex.

Plain cod liver oil, not less than two tablespoons (one fluid ounce) daily the year around except in very warm weather, will supply the iodin and the vitamin D, although these are are available in tablet or capsule form, virtually tasteless, if cod liver oil is repugnant.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People:

'As Americans Enjoy Life, Communism Is at Work'

Can we have peace if we lose our freedom? No doubt the prisoners in Siberia have "peace" as defined by Webster's dictionary.

Why do red-blooded citizens sit back and enjoy our American way of life? When we look back over the past 40 years, we must admit the Russians have come a long way down the path of world domination.

We must stop them in their tracks or God help us. In order to do this Mr. Average first will have to become acquainted with communism, its tricks, and its treachery, as J. Edgar Hoover stated in his article "How to Beat Communism," 1957: "We must begin at the very heart of our system of government—with the individual, the citizen—with you."

Family Prefers Burying Own Pet

I was disgusted with that comment from "A Taxpayer." We also had a dog who was killed in front of our house. My family never thought of calling the city to move my poor dog. We gave him a little burial with prayers in our back-yard. People who love their pets would not wait for the city to dispose of them like a bag of trash within the hour or two days.

Stevenson Finds Latins for Aid, Won't Hit Fidel

By MAX HARRELSON

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (UPI)—Adlai E. Stevenson is finding Latin Americans anxious to talk about U.S. aid for their economy but shy on any kind of action against Fidel Castro's regime.

The United States' chief U.N. delegate, making a goodwill tour of South America for President Kennedy, was told bluntly by Argentine officials Wednesday that it would be impossible to get unanimous Latin-American support for action against Cuba's strongman.

★ ★ ★

Instead Stevenson was advised that the United States should adopt a police of "live and let live" toward the Castro regime.

Stevenson met for three hours with Argentine President Arturo Frondizi on the second stop of a tour that began in Venezuela.

He is meeting again today with Frondizi and other Argentine officials mainly on economic problems.

NO DETAILS

Neither Stevenson nor Argentine leaders would give details of the discussions on the Cuban situation, but what emerged was understood to be this:

Argentine Foreign Minister Adolfo Mugica expressed a belief the Cuban situation would solve itself if left alone.

Stevenson gave assurances that the U.S. government has ruled out force as a means of ending the Castro regime.

★ ★ ★

Informants said Venezuelan President Romulo Betancourt earlier in the week told Stevenson the most urgent hemispheric problem at the moment is the Dominican Republic.

Betancourt reportedly expressed the conviction that the Castro government will eventually fall of its own weight.

Stevenson is understood to have told associates that whether the United States would move for a political meeting of the Organization of American States at this time depends upon the reaction of the countries he visits on his 18-day tour.

★ ★ ★

The coolness to any action against Castro that he met in Venezuela and here in Argentina appears to have dimmed chances for any such meeting in the immediate future.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Divorces Can Often Be Prevented

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE J-410: Dr. John took me aside when I addressed the Ohio State Dental Association.

"My wife will be here at the luncheon," he began, "for we have scheduled you to address both the dentists and their women folk.

DR. CRANE

"And the women are all expecting you to talk about sex, so we have alloted an hour and a half for your address. Take more time if you wish.

"But please give them at least 30 minutes about marriage problems. For my wife needs to wake up. We are both in the middle 40s.

"Yet she acts as if she were 90, and apparently expects me to snore contentedly in my twin bed until morning, without any interest in erotic matters!

"Several other dentists have the same problem, so please wake up our wives."

MYOPIC WIVES

Divorces usually start in the bedroom.

And educated women, like these dental wives, are often the victims of divorce, chiefly because of their sins of omission.

They get so interested in their children (or grandchildren), plus their gardening or Red Cross and church duties, that they fail to realize their husbands give them the pay check every week primarily to serve as a private paramour!

Ladies, don't think I am joking!

"Dr. Crane," many prominent men have confessed to me, "I would much rather have an affair with my wife than with any other woman I have ever seen.

"But my wife acts disinterested. She is about 100 per cent maternal. But I married her to get a sweetheart, too.

"Yet as soon as our children arrived, she didn't even remain 50-50, but swung over to almost 100 per cent maternal.

"Why won't modern women realize that husbands retain their erotic interest in women as long as they live?

"Just because children arrive, doesn't cut down a man's interest in sex any more than it does his fondness for beefsteak and potatoes.

"Our wives realize we still crave the meat and potatoes. But they act as if we suddenly should lose ALL our romantic appetite."

LAZY WIVES

One reason why wives enter the divorce courts is the fact they are naturally frigid, despite Dr. Kinsey's erroneous report to the contrary.

★ ★ ★

And men must recognize the fact that a woman loses most of her erotic hunger when the honeymoon novelty wears off.

Give her a couple of children, plus activity in church, PTA or Women's Clubs, and she can be fairly content the rest of her life with no more erotic attention than a fatherly peck on the cheek in the morning plus a goodnight kiss at bedtime.

But you wives must wake up.

Just because God Almighty created you to have much less stomach hunger than men, doesn't cause you to short ration your mates at the dinner table.

Not at all! In fact, you try to tantalize your husband's palate with new recipes. You scallop the edges of the grapefruit to whet his hunger beyond normal.

Why not expend 10 per cent of that culinary art in the bedroom! You know men are far more passionate than women, so why try to act blind to that fact.

(See tomorrow's follow-up).

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4 cent stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for psychological charts and pamphlets.

What's This? Khrushchev With Manners

By BOB CONSIDINE

LONDON — What's with Khrushchev?

He was completely out of character at Vienna. He conducted himself with dignity and restraint. The only time he took off a shoe was at bedtime. His toasts were more fitting for soft-drink tippling.

★ ★ ★

He passed up every opportunity to sound off at receptions. He gave no formal or informal interviews.

He remained in Vienna 12 hours longer than did President Kennedy but resisted the temptation to give the world his version of the meeting. When he returned to Moscow he said not a word at the airport.

His deportment was in striking contrast to his workout a year ago in Paris, where he insulted President Eisenhower publicly, or last fall in New York where he made an utter ass of himself in the United Nations and on his Park Avenue balcony.

★ ★ ★

One guesses that Khrushchev wanted to be on his best behavior in this first meeting with the well-bred and well-mannered American President.

★ ★ ★

He brawled with Dick Nixon the first time they met. After a brief immersion into the "spirit of Camp David" he tangled with Ike. But with Kennedy, well, he just wasn't the Khrushchev we've all come to loathe.

DIFFERENT VIEWS

His general manner, the official Russian use of "fruitful" as a term for the talks and other signs and wonders were interpreted in 14 hundred different ways by the 14 hundred newsmen covering the show. Which brings up another point:

In addition to being over-covered, the Kennedy jaunt was over-doped. The army of reporters, columnists and radio and television oracles read astounding conflicting meaning into the few crumbs we were tossed by the briefing officers and the so-called communiques and joint statement.

I've never read or heard so much rot in my life. Depending on which person you read or listened to or watched Kennedy was winning, lost-g, tieing. The talks were sterile, useful, fruitful. Kennedy found De Gaulle hostile, frigid, helpful, cooperative, reverent.

Kennedy and Khrushchev were reported by the London Express last Sunday as being on the point of a terrible row. The next British paper I picked up had them virtually doing a Viennese waltz together.

Even race track handicappers do better than that.

This story was written and spoken of as if the writers and speakers were determined to justify the prohibitive costs of being present.

Most of us found it all but impossible to bring ourselves to the point of penning or saying "not a damned thing new happened here today," as if in fear the home office would cable back, "well then, chum, check out of that $20-a-day suite and get the hell home—by tramp steamer."

An awful lot of people back home must have said, after a few days of diametrically opposed reports, "Oh, the heck with it," and gone back to reading about the Eichmann trial.

Censorship Plan Hard to Apply, Monroney Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. A. S. (Mike) Monroney, D-Okla., says President Kennedy and leaders of the newspaper profession have found it difficult if not impossible to apply a workable formula for voluntary press censorship.

★ ★ ★

He told a meeting Wednesday night of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalism fraternity, that he is certain "no one in this administration has in mind this type of censorship—but baby tigers have a habit of growing from kittens into man-eaters."

★ ★ ★

Monroney said that once news is in the public domain "it is like trying to sweep back the sea to manage it or control it by voluntary censorship."

Senate Probers Echo Criticism

Lacked Money to Do Big Job on State Highway Department

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Department, Michigan road contractors, bonding houses and the state administrative board shared criticism today in a final report of a special Senate investigating committee.

The report apparently rings down the final curtain on a spectacular probe of Highway Department activities launched in 1959 by Sen. John H. Stahlin, R-Belding, the committee chairman.

Much of the reports echoed the accusations Stahlin had made earlier against Highway Department operations.

It criticized the administrative board for approving a $50-million Highway Department bond issue in 1959 while members of the board were represented by deputies. But it concluded:

"In so far as actual procedures of the administrative board are now legal, the committee is well pleased. It would, of course, behoove the board to admit its legal error. However, it can well be seen how this might be asking too much of human nature."

The committee, which was given $30,000 to work with, complained that a lack of funds prevented it from covering broad area of possible inquiry "such as an investigation of dealings of road contractors among themselves and with state officials."

It said that a great staff would be necessary "to effectively assault so convoluted and powerful a citadel."

"Can we conclude thereby that there has been a whitewash of these people and their intricate dealings?" the report asked. "The committee thinks not."

Iran Military Court's Head Quits to Criticize

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—The head of Iran's military court announced his resignation from the army Wednesday, apparently to be free to criticize some actions of Premier Ali Amini's reform government.

Gen. Hussein Zomodeh said he was quitting after 33 years so he could "perform my religious and national duties."

★ ★ ★

Iranian newsmen said Azemodeh told them he has protested the arrest without charges of two generals in Amini's anticorruption campaign, and also objected to projected changes in the electoral law.

CLARKSTON ACTORS ENJOY EFFORTS — Final rehearsals of the newly formed Clarkston Village Players' production, "Two Blind Mice," bring smiles from the cast. Pictured above are Carol Haney, Ernest (Doc) Denne, Mary Coltson, Helen Nuhn, Neil Braun and Pat Breidenbaugh. The play will be given Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. in the little theater of the new Clarkston High School. The public is welcome.

New Group Produces Satire

Curtain to Rise Friday on Little Theater

"Two Blind Mice," a satire on Washington bureaucracy, will be presented Friday and Saturday evenings at 8:30, by The Village Players of Clarkston, at the new little theater in the high school.

This first production of the group involves a forgotten government agency which becomes the target of an economy-minded U.S. senator.

The play has many a strange scene, as befits a satire, but for the community which is producing it, the experience of presenting a Broadway-style production has provided equally unreal situations.

Early rehearsals were held in an abandoned powerhouse with a cast that included three housewives, a first grade teacher, a snake fancier, a financial analyst, a coal merchant, an optometrist, a truck designer, a tool inspector and a personnel director.

Major roles are played by Mary Coltson, Helen Nuhn, Neil Braun, Pat Breidenbaugh and Bruce Embrey, all of the Clarkston area.

The Clarkston High School little theater also will be seen for the first time by many out-of-towners. It has one of the most modern staging facilities in Michigan, providing outstanding acoustics and lighting.

★ ★ ★

The play will be presented for two nights only, according to present plans. Tickets, at $1.50 may be purchased in advance at Clarkston Sporting Goods, 2 S. Main St., Clarkston. Further information may be obtained by calling the store.

Show Antiques in Downtown Store Windows

The old-fashioned look is beginning to arrive in downtown store windows.

A few merchants have already set antique items of Centennial interest in their windows. Others will be following tomorrow and over the weekend.

Special efforts will be made to install interesting displays in the windows of vacant stores, said Monroe M. Osmun, chairman of the Centennial Window committee.

The displays not only cheer up the empty stores, but occupy more space than is available at some of the busy downtown establishments. Hence the displays are sometimes more extensive.

Most of the items on display are the personal property of Pontiac area residents, loaned during the Centennial celebration.

Kennedy Keeps Word to High School Grads

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today kept a 15-month-old promise to greet the senior class of Tomah (Wis.) High School.

★ ★ ★

Ninety-four strong, including a scattering of parents, the seniors had a return visit with Kennedy on the White House lawn and formed a cheering section as he took off in a Marine Corps helicopter for Annapolis to deliver the commencement address at the Naval Academy.

"Oh boy!" said School Supt. John Bjorge. "He kept his promise. It was wonderful."

★ ★ ★

The class showed up at the White House Tuesday but was too early to see Kennedy, flying in from his talks with Soviet Premier Khrushchev, French President Charles de Gaulle and British Prime Minister Harold MacMillan.

★ ★ ★

The White House invited them back this morning.

HE MADE GOOD

That was to make good on a written pledge which the class exacted from Kennedy when he visited their school for an hour during the presidential primary campaign in Wisconsin March 9, 1960.

After a half-hour talk in the school auditorium, Kennedy invited the students to ask questions. The first one popped was, "Can we come and see you in Washington next year?"

Kennedy said they certainly could—whereupon one student dashed out of the hall, typed out a brief statement, and brought it back for Kennedy's signature.

"This is to certify that the senior class of Tomah will be welcome to call on me in Washington, D. C., on or about June 5, 1961—at whatever address my office may be located. Sincerely, John F. Kennedy," it said.

★ ★ ★

The President had a copy of that certificate, bearing the official seal of the Tomah School District, in his hand as he spoke to the assembled class almost under the revolving wings of the helicopter.

Bills for Youth Go to Congress

JFK Sends Measures Covering Conservation Corps, Job Training

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy Wednesday sent to Congress legislation to create a youth conservation corps and provide on-the-job training for young men and women.

Looming problems for young people in finding jobs in the next few years "make it clear that we must act without delay," the President said in a letter accompanying his proposed bill.

The draft bill was sent to House Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., and to Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson as president of the Senate.

With it was a letter from Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg describing the outlook for young folk as "extremely dark unless constructive plans and programs are developed to assist them."

Some 450,000 young people between 16 and 20 were unemployed last fall, Goldberg said.

By 1965, he said, there will be 40 per cent more persons under 20 in the labor force and an additional 800,000 young people expected to be hunting jobs.

The wave of young workers is the result of the postwar baby boom.

Kennedy said the bill would provide useful employment and training on a private basis for young men and women between 16 and 22, over a three-year period.

New Car Models to Come Out Early This Fall

By BEN PHLEGAR
Automotive Writer

DETROIT — Assuming there are no labor troubles the auto industry will introduce its new models this fall at least as early and in some cases earlier than last year.

★ ★ ★

This means the 1962 models will start appearing in showrooms soon after the middle of September.

The labor situation is important since union contracts at Ford, Chrysler and General Motors all expire Sept. 1.

Current betting is Detroit is against a strike but there are always problems at individual plant levels which could slow the start of the new model production.

Last year the new model introductions were jammed into the first two weeks of October, just prior to the opening of the National Auto Show. This fall there will be no show but manufacturers obviously hope to spur sales with early introductions.

★ ★ ★

The sales rate for the 1961 model year has been adequate but certainly nothing spectacular. Auto executives persist in their belief new models generate the enthusiasm which leads to additional buying.

★ ★ ★

Sometimes, as was the case for 1961, this enthusiasm spends itself quickly. November was the peak month for 1961 model sales and only now is the sales rate approaching the November pace.

★ ★ ★

Last year Comet, which changed only the grille, began selling its 1961 models early in September. The first full scale introductions were Sept. 29 for Ford, Falcon, Plymouth, Valiant, Dodge and Lancer.

With dates still subject to last minute changes, indications now are that Ford division, Chevrolet, Oldsmobile, Cadillac, Plymouth, Valiant, Corvair, Lark, Lincoln Continental and Mercury all will go on sale before Oct. 1.

Last year Pontiac saved its compact Tempest for November and Ford saved its restyled Thunderbird for a similar date. There will be some late introductions this year, too.

Best bets for delayed showings are the new entries from Ford, Mercury and Chevrolet. These are the in-between size cars — between current compacts and standard size models.

HUNT NEW GIMMICKS

Manufactures, trying to pacify their dealers, are searching for new gimmicks to stimulate the introduction period.

★ ★ ★

Among other things, several divisions are holding off special press previews until just prior to public introduction. This is supposed to cut down on speculation in print about new models.

One dealers association called last year's new car introductions as exciting as a limp dish rag.

Several criticized the manufacturers for failing to ballyhoo the new cars in the usual manner.

★ ★ ★

And there was the customary criticism from dealers of newspapers and magazines which described the new cars before they went on sale.

Dealers insist the public will not buy current year models if they are aware that a new, somewhat different model, will go on sale in the immediate future.

Cook for Polish Envoy Asks Asylum in U.S.

NEW YORK (AP)—A cook for Bogdan Lewandowski, Poland's permanent representative to the United Nations, has defected and asked for political asylum in the United States.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Felix F. Burant, president of the anti-Communist Polish-American Immigration and Relief Committee, identified her as Miss Aniela Wojtowicz, 37. He said she made her decision May 28 after being told she must return to Poland on a freighter leaving that day.

Denies Pay Adjustment for 90 State Workers

LANSING (AP)—The State Civil Service Commission has denied a special pay adjustment for some 90 Conservation Department employes who head squads of prison trusties on conservation work.

The conservation employes had sought the same pay as corrections officers, a proposed raise from $4,948 to $5,220 a year.

The commission also ruled that State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs has the right to limit enlistments by troopers in the military reserve when it might interfere with their police duties.

Prison Camp Records on Killings Disappeared

JERUSALEM, Israel (AP) — A woman survivor of the Auschwitz death camp testified today at the Adolf Eichmann trial that persons gassed or shot were not recorded — or their files were destroyed — so that camp registry books showed only disease as a cause of death.

"According to the files, nobody was killed in Auschwitz — not one," said Raya Kagan, who worked in the camp as a clerk and now is an official in the Israeli foreign ministry.

The Lithuanian-born woman told the trial court she was sent to Auschwitz as a young girl from France, where she had been studying. She said in Auschwitz she was chosen "haphazardly" as a clerk because she could speak German. She said she and a few other Jewish women worked in the camp administration office which registered the deaths and the live prisoners of Auschwitz.

Mrs. Kagan said there were forms even for punishment of inmates, listing how many whip lashes were given to a prisoner or how much time he spent in a tiny arrest cell in which he could only stand.

SUDDEN DEATH!

"We received certificates of death," she continued, "and in a short time it became clear to us that this was a camouflage. We had to record in the forms all sorts of diseases as cause of death such as pneumonia, general weakness, syphilis and so on.

"When it said sudden death it meant killing. "We never recorded a case that a prisoner was shot.

"There was no report on the deaths of the people who were gassed, who were subjected to special treatment. The files were simply removed and destroyed.

"People who were taken directly from the railway station to the gas stations were never registered."

* * *

She said the files also recorded "the number of gold teeth, artificial teeth, anything of value."

One of the Jewish office workers came upon the death certificate of her brother. But Miss Kagan said "her fear was so great that she did not dare to cry." She testified the Jewish girls were under orders not to react to anything they heard or learned, not even by their facial expression.

This Was Shot That Was Felt Round the Town

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Ila Landon thinks her 7-year-old cocker spaniel, Skeeter, was just getting even for his rabies shot.

* * *

As Mrs. Landon drove into her driveway Wednesday after a visit to a veterinarian Skeeter awakened from his bed on the floor of the car and jumped up and down on the gas pedal.

* * *

The car knocked down a bush, bounced over a three-foot retaining wall, knocked the underpinning from the porch of a neighboring house, sped through a grape arbor, uprooted a clothesline pole in back of another yard and finally stopped in a park a block away.

Mrs. Landon wasn't hurt. Skeeter wasn't either. And the car had only minor damage.

Boyle Says Those Were the Days! Remember?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Some folks are anxiously looking forward to making a round trip to the moon—as soon as they put in tourist rates.

Others of us stubbornly like to recall the flavor of life as it used to be. We enjoy getting together and playing the old memory game.

For example, can you remember when—

★ ★ ★

You could get a teen-ager to baby sit all evening for 50 cents and a plate of fudge.

BOYLE

Half the dogs in town were Tighe, Buck or Prince, and they lived out their lives without ever being taken to an "animal doctor." The vets made a living then treating cows and horses.

A nickel would buy you a ride on the subway or street car, or a hot dog, or a big candy bar, or an ice cream cone, or a tall foamy glass of beer.

The nearest thing to a juvenile delinquent was the tough kid who smoked cornsilk cigarettes and insisted on playing marbles for keeps.

★ ★ ★

A man was as proud of showing off a pair of new $7.50 shoes as he is today of showing off a new $4,000 automobile.

Nobody ever got his toes sliced off in a power lawnmower, because all lawnmowers were powered by hand.

ROOSTER CROWED

You had no need for an alarm clock. The man next door still kept chickens in his back yard, and his rooster woke up the whole community before dawn.

★ ★ ★

No house had a patio, but every home had a big comfortable front porch swing—especially if it held any daughters of marriageable age.

★ ★ ★

At dusk a man on a bicycle rode by to light the street gas lamps. Every kid wanted to grow up and be a lamplighter.

The workingman's dream of affluence was to own a Sunday silk shirt with stripes half an inch wide.

★ ★ ★

If a child sassed a teacher he got a ruller across his knuckles—instead of an emergency consultation with the school psychiatrist.

REMEMBER TOM SWIFT?

The five greatest heroes of American boyhood were Tom Swift, Frank Merriwell and the three Rover boys.

There were at least two certainties in a doubtful world. Baseball and college basketball were honest.

If you went for a motor car trip of more than 40 miles in any direction, you could count on getting lost twice and having at least one flat tire.

The height of adventure to a small boy was to dig a small cave in the back yard, roof it with boards and dirt, and roast potatoes in it until the smoke drove him out, coughing, into the fresh air.

★ ★ ★

No kid ever wondered what to do on Saturday. That was the day he cleaned out the coal furnace and carried out the week's accumulation of ashes from the basement.

If a fellow had to slick down his hair in a hurry before stepping out for the evening, he could always find a little lard in the kitchen.

The kitchen cabinet held only one kind of breakfast cereal, not 12.

Every barbershop had a well-thumbed copy of the "Police Gazette," but if you were under 14 you had to peek at it when the barber wasn't looking.

★ ★ ★

Those who lacked funds to broaden themselves by travel could always further their education by reading back numbers of the "National Geographic" while waiting in the dentist's office.

★ ★ ★

Everybody knew who wore the pants in the family, and nobody argued about it. It was father.

Those were the days! Remember?

Eye New Plan to Handle Mail

System Will Stagger Bulk Deliveries to Local Post Offices for Speed

CHICAGO (AP)—The Post Office Department has announced a new mail handling system which within the next 60 days might speed mail deliveries by 24 hours.

★ ★ ★

Frederick C. Belen, assistant postmaster general for operations, said approximately 30,000 of the nation's mail users are being asked to stagger bulk mail deliveries to their local post offices to avoid the usual end of the business day glut.

Belen told a news conference that approximately 80 per cent of the 85 billion pieces of mail handled annually is delivered to the post office between the hours of 5 and 8 p.m.

"We've had to hire 84,000 part-time employes to handle the load," Belen said. "The end of the day dump is costly and causes delay of delivery for everyone."

Since most of this avalanche comes from business firms the post office department will try to persuade them to mail nonpriority letters outside the peak evening hours.

Belen said a recent test run in Washington involving selected government departments resulted in day-sooner deliverics of Washington mail to points in New York, North Carolina, South Carolina and Kentucky.

Robert Griffith Dies

PORT CHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Robert E. Griffith, 53, of the theatrical producing team of Griffith and Prince, died Wednesday of a heart attack. He was co-producer of such Broadway musicals as "The Pajama Game," "Damn Yankees," "West Side Story," and the current hit "Fiorello."

License 37 Years Old; 'Nobody Ever Told Me'

DETROIT (AP)—Otis G. Knight made a turn and learned his drivers' license hadn't been any good for 37 years.

The 63-year-old Knight told patrolman Fred Sudy, "Nobody ever told me I had to get another one."

Knight got a double ticket — for driving with an expired license and making an illegal turn.

F. J. Burt to Manage Vagabond Factory

Fred J. Burt, 26, son of one of the two cofounders of the Vagabond Coach Manufacturing Co. of New Hudson, has been promoted to general manager of the company's new Vagabond mobile home plant in Kingman, Ariz.

★ ★ ★

F. C. Burt, Vagabond president, announced the promotion of his son from factory manager at the company's plant in Alexander City, Ala., a post he has held since July 1960.

★ ★ ★

Born in South Lyon, he was graduated from South Lyon High School in 1953. He attended Michigan State University in 1954 and 1955 and after serving in the Army, returned to production work in the Vagabond plant in Brighton. He was married in August 1958 and is the father of a son, Fred Jeffrey, six months old.

Funds Approved for Register of Banned Drivers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Funds to establish a federal register of names of automobile drivers whose licenses have been revoked were approved today by the House Appropriations Committee.

Creation of the office was authorized by the last Congress, but no money was provided to put it in operation.

The register is supposed to make it easier for states to check on license applicants suspected of having had their permits revoked in other states.

Charge Two Youths Burglarized Market

Two Pontiac youths will answer charges of burglarizing the Delmos Market, 186 Fisher St., at their arraignment in Circuit Court Monday.

Gerald W. Hill, 17, of 121 W. South Blvd., and Fritz M. Moss, 19, of 376 Ditmar Ave., waived examination before Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum Tuesday.

They were charged with the April 4 burglary in which cigarettes, foodstuffs, and a radio were stolen, after being implicated by a defendant in another burglary case, police detectives said.

Bond on each was set at $50.

Reservists Train at Camp McCoy

Pontiac Group Under Lt. Col. Thompson Wins Praise by Army Men

By LT. C. H. WAGNER JR.
Pontiac Press Correspondent

CAMP McCOY, Wis.—Beginning 15 days field duty here, Pontiac's own 2nd Batallion, 333rd Regiment Reservists are well into the first week of training commanded by Lt. Col. Franklin D. Thompson.

The members of the battalion are working hard to maintain a high readiness position in keeping with their role in national defense. This field training represents a big opportunity for all the Reservists.

Despite unseasonable hot weather with temperatures in the high 80s, the enthusiasm and initiative shown is highly commended by the regular Army evaluators.

During this phase of training special emphasis is being placed on the role of chemical, biological and nuclear arms in the battlefield. These relatively new concepts call for more highly trained individuals than in any other period of our history.

However, traditional discipline, cooperation, leadership, knowledge and confidence remain integral parts of the unit training. As part of the 70th Infantry Division (training), the 2nd Battalion, in case of an obligation would be prepared to receive and train new personnel to meet the needs of the active Army.

4 Ex-College Cagers Held on Fix Charge

NEW YORK (AP)—Four former college basketball players were arrested on charges of conspiracy and bribery in the latest development of the spreading basketball scandals, it was announced today.

The four, previously named as coconspirators, in connection with the indictments of Aaron Wagman and Joseph Hacken, are Dave Budin, former Brooklyn College captain, Jerry Vogel and Dan Quindazi, former Alabama players, and Lou Brown of North Carolina.

The announcements were made by Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan, who broke open the latest basketball fixing scandals last March 17.

Busy Social Director Is, Cupid's Altar Ego

HOLLYWOOD, Fla (UPI)—Marriages may be made in heaven, but they frequently get a helpful hand from a blonde cupid at a resort hotel here.

She is Barbara Brooke, social director of the Hollywood Beach Hotel and Country Club. She figures she has started 200 couples on the way to the altar.

"To be frank," she says, "the most important part of my job is to see that unmarried women vacationing at our hotel meet unmarried men with similar interests."

Miss Brooke's mail regularly includes wedding invitations from people she has brought together.

"One night I had to turn down three invitations because I had accepted a fourth," she says. "So far, there have been 50 babies named after me by couples I've introduced."

MATCHMAKER

Match-making is easiest in the younger age groups, according to Miss Brooke. "Single young men always want to meet single young women, and vice versa. And if a teen-age girl is here with her mother, the first person her mother will get in touch with is me. Make sure my daughter meets a nice fellow,' she says."

With people past 40, the job is harder. "An older man practically never wants to be introduced to a woman," says Miss Brooke. "But a mature woman is always very anxious to meet a man of her own age and of similar interests."

This calls for laying some traps, or "little tricks" as Miss Brooke calls them.

"Let's say I know that Mr. Smith, a bachelor, likes to play bridge. And I know that Mrs. Jones, a widow, also likes to play bridge.

★ ★ ★

I will go to Mr. Smith's table and start a conversation, and have Mrs. Jones walk by five minutes later and ask me some question.

"This gives me a chance to introduce them. I'll offhandedly mention that Mrs. Jones loves to play bridge, and wouldn't it be nice if she and Mr. Smith got together that evening for bridge . . ."

Carillonneur to Play in City Twice Friday

The bells atop the Community National Bank Building in downtown Pontiac will be ringing in a new and different way tomorrow at noon and at 6 p.m.

Clifford Ball, renowned English carillonneur, will be in Pontiac to play the two carillon concerts. A bell-specialist for more than 35 years, Ball has studied and performed on some of the oldest carillons in the world.

Trained in England and at the famous National School of Carillon Art at Malines, Belgium, Ball is in the United States on a world-two-month concert tour, arranged under the auspices of Schulmerich Carillons, Inc., of Sellersville, Pa.

★ ★ ★

An expert performer on both the traditional cast-bell carillon as well as the modern Schulmerich instrument, Ball has played for three generations of British royalty, including Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh. This is his first visit to the United States.

Business, Labor Asked to Sacrifice for Corps

CHICAGO (AP) — R. Sargent Shriver Jr. Wednesday called upon American business and labor to grant manpower concession so the newly formed peace corps can enlist top-level administrators, secretaries and trained technicians.

Shriver, director of the peace corps, said he is convinced 50,000 jobs need filling at this moment in the 103 underdeveloped areas of the world.

If the peace corps fails in carrying out the task assigned to it, he went on, "it will be because we did not give the best that is in us."

In the commencement address delivered at graduation exercises at De Paul University, he made this recommendation for business:

"Paying taxes is no longer in itself sufficient; the peace corps needs the kind of trained and aggressive people who make a success in business . . . I hope American businesses and industries will provide two-year leaves of absences, without pay, but with re-employment benefits for their employes — whether top-level administrators or secretaries — who can meet a critical need abroad."

To labor, he said:

"Already we have received urgent requests for plumbers, electricians, carpenters, and teachers for technical trade schools. Can we meet these requests? Only if the American labor movement can provide the skilled manpower from its ranks to serve abroad. I am hopeful that labor — like business — will grant its people who enter the peace corps the re-employment rights that have been accorded up to now only to veterans of war."

Doctors to Check U.S. Spaceman Round the World

WASHINGTON (AP) — American doctors will be stationed at tracking stations around the world for the first U.S. manned orbital space flight. They will stand by to recommend halting the flight if radio checks show the astronaut is in dire distress.

The latter is one of more than 20 armed services and public health service doctors who have been or are being especially trained to make radio diagnoses of the condition of Mercury astronauts in suborbital and orbital flights.

These "aeromedical monitor" doctors will keep tabs on such things as heart condition, pulse, body temperature, respiration and the reaction of the astronauts to high-gravity of zero-gravity conditions.

John D. Sibotean, 40, of Lansing, was charged with possession of a still, operating as a distiller without bond, making moonshine in a house and possessing untaxed distilled spirits. U.S. Attorney George Hill said the offense occurred May 23 in Lansing.

★ ★ ★

George F. Stewart, 41, of no permanent address and arrested May 17 at Lansing, was indicted by grand jury in the northern district of Indiana for interstate transportation of a falsely made check for $983. The case was transferred to Michigan for disposition, said Hill.

WELCOME, CELEBRATORS! — Pretty Yvonne Moder poses in front of the Centennial seal, her arm raised in traditional Indian greeting. The 20-year-old Riker Building receptionist is the daughter of a Chippewa Indian and wears her Indian outfit in honor of Chief Pontiac, the city's namesake. The Indian theme forms the background to the Greater Pontiac Centennial, which begins next Saturday and runs through June 24.

Music Will Usher In Centennial

Pontiac Is Host for State Sing

By PETE LOCHBILER

The Greater Pontiac Centennial will begin on a high note for the man who loves singing in the shower.

There'll be more singing here than the average ear ever hears.

On opening night, June 17, about 600 male voices will resound in Wisner Stadium for the annual state sing of the Michigan Male Chorus Association.

This traditional gathering of spirited amateurs — with all the skill of professionals — is usually the biggest men's choral concert year after year in Michigan.

★ ★ ★

That it will be held in Pontiac under the title Centennial State Sing will fulfill a long ambition of Pontiac's MacDowell Male Chorus, the host group.

The 30-member Pontiac organization has wanted to sponsor a state sing since joining the association 30 years ago. Now it's finally happened.

FIRST TIME

There'll be a different kind of experience for the newly formed Pontiac Elks Male Chorus, Organized 18 months ago, the 30-member Elks chorus joined the association only last month and therefore will be participating in a state sing for the first time.

These are the only two Pontiac groups in the concert, but there'll be 19 others from a variety of cities.

Ken Young, governor of the MacDowell Chorus, said that Pontiac had to start campaigning as long ago as December 1959 to insure that this year's state sing would be held here for the pleasure of the thousands of persons celebrating the Centennial.

The program will be selected from numbers designated as standard repertoire for 1961 among all the groups in the association.

Melvin Larimer, director for both the MacDowell and Elks choruses, said some songs have been picked.

★ ★ ★

The MacDowell Chorus, for instance, will solo in a medley from the Rodgers-Hammerstein musical South Pacific.

Larimer will lead the massed choruses in "Seventy-six Trombones" from the musical "Music Man."

Jerry Libby, assistant director of the MacDowell Chorus, is scheduled to direct the massed group in a song entitled Prayer of Thanksgiving, a traditional number of the Michigan Male Chorus Association.

MASS NUMBERS

The combined choruses will sing 10 mass numbers in all, with the rest of the program devoted to solo performances by individual choruses.

The choral concert will get under way after a brief concert by the Fifth Army Band, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Other participating choruses:

The Port Huron Schubert Chorus, Midland Male Chorus, Scottish Rite Male Chorus of Detroit, Wyandotte Orpheus Club, International Harvesters Chorus of Hamilton, Ont.; Trinity Male Chorus of Kitchener, Ont.; A. C. Spark Plug Male Chorus of Flint, Lyra Male Chorus of Ann Arbor.

Also, Schoolmen's Chorus of Detroit, Chevrolet-Detroit Male Chorus, Macedonia Male Chorus of Detroit, Chevrolet-Flint Male Chorus, Norton Male Chorus of Flint, Kalamazoo Male Chorus, Lansing Orpheus Club, Cosmopolitan Male Singers of Muskegon, Detroit Orpheus Club and Grand Rapids Schubert Chorus.

In addition, representatives are expected from the London Male Chorus of London, Ont.

READY FOR CENTENNIAL — Pontiac's MacDowell Male Chorus looks pretty big as members pose for a formal photograph in preparation for the Centennial State Sing at Wisner Stadium Saturday, June 17. But these enthusiastic Pontiac area vocalists will be joined by nearly 600 more singers from Michigan and Ontario on opening day of the eight-day Greater Pontiac Centennial. The performance will be preceded by a concert by the Fifth Army Band, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

School to Honor Two Teachers

Emma Spears Retiring After 31 Years; Other at Webster 35

Emma Spears and Mrs. Alfred Rothweiler will be honored at a reception and tea in the Webster School gym Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Miss Spears is retiring after teaching for 31 years at Webster School. She taught previously in Rochester, Hamtramck and Royal Oak Township.

Mrs. Rothweiler has spent 35 years at Webster School, during which time she taught many of the teachers now at Webster.

Before coming to Pontiac she also taught in Port Huron, Lyons and Fenton schools. Many of Mrs. Rothweiler's pupils will remember her as Mrs. Hilzinger.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. George Watters and Dr. Edith Roach Snyder, cochairmen of the event, are extending an invitation to any former pupils of either teacher to attend the reception.

★ ★ ★

The committees are:

Decorations, Mrs. Russell Curtis, Mrs. Denzil Sheppard, Mrs. Glenn Griffin and Mrs. Joan Warrick; refreshments, Mrs. Mitch Bachow, chairman, Mrs. John Rothschild, Mrs. Chalmer Robinette, Mrs. Roy Hurst and Mrs. Arthur Bell; invitations, Mrs. Donald McMillan and Mrs. Marion Groves; and publicity, Mrs. Douglas Green and Mrs. Robert Pote.

Prince Edward, Cromwell's Kin Wed in Cathedral

YORK, England (UPI) — Prince Edward, the Duke of Kent, and Katharine Worsley, a descendant of Oliver Cromwell, were married today in historic Yorkminster Cathedral in a glittering ceremony attended by most of Europe's royalty.

It was the first royal wedding ceremony in the medieval cathedral since 1328.

Today's ceremony was performed by Dr. Arthur Michael Ramsey, who becomes the Archbishop of Canterbury at the end of this month.

★ ★ ★

An estimated 25-million persons in Britain and throughout Europe saw the wedding ceremony on their television sets.

Deed to Courthouse Escaped the Furnace

It was shortly after the turn of the century that an Oakland County janitor was looking through a mass of dusty papers in the cupola on top of the courthouse.

This wasn't the present courthouse building, but the one before it and the county was getting ready to tear it down for a bigger one.

Piling up the old documents for a trip to the furnace, Deville Wilder, the janitor, noticed one that looked important.

He handed it to Judson L. Sibley, who was Oakland County treasurer at the time, and Sibley spied a name on the front page that sounded familiar.

It was the name of Solomon Sibley, a distant relative and one of the members of the Pontiac Co. which founded Pontiac in 1818.

Thus was preserved, almost by chance, the original deed for the Oakland County courthouse and jail property in downtown Pontiac, signed over to the commissioners of Oakland County by Stephen Mack, agent and trustee of the Pontiac Co., and his wife, Temperence.

TO BE DISPLAYED

The deed, dated June 30, 1823, is now in the possession of Sibley's son, white-haired J. Standish Sibley, 41 Oriole St. and will be on display as a Centennial highlight, beginning this weekend in the window of Osmun's Men's Wear store in downtown Pontiac.

In recent years, the deed has played some prominence in downtown affairs. For it stipulates that if the courthouse site is not used for county purposes, it automatically reverts to Mack and his company.

The county's plan to move the courthouse out of downtown and sell the site has raised protests on the basis of this stipulation. One argument is that the site now must revert to Stephen Mack's heirs.

So far, whatever dispute there is remains unsettled.

There's little disputing the authenticity of the original deed, however. A copy of it, with the property use restriction, has been on file in Oakland County records all these years.

Sibley said that now he would like to turn the deed over to the Oakland County Historical Foundation for display in the Wisner Home if it can be suitably safeguarded.

Sibley and Solomon Sibley, one of 15 members of the Pontiac Co., are related through family ties traced back to Massachusetts and Colonial times.

ORIGINAL SETTLER

Sibley's grandfather, Alonzo Sibley, was one of the county's original settlers and gave his name to Sibley's Corners, an early settlement in what is now Wixom.

Sibley recalls stories told by his father about those Indian days.

Once the older children remained petrified under a bed in the Sibley cabin as Indians of the area prowled through the rooms, stripping the kitchen of food while Sibley and his wife were away.

"The way my father told it, the Indians were just curious," Sibley recalls. But for the resultant Sibley clan in Oakland County perhaps it's just as well that the Indians didn't look under the bed.

ORIGINAL COURTHOUSE DEED — J. Standish Sibley, 41 Oriole St., holds the original deed signed by Stephen Mack, dedicating the courthouse site at Saginaw and Huron streets to Oakland County. The deed was rediscovered in the early 1900s and now is a valuable historic memento. Sibley is distantly related to one of the original founders of Pontiac.

Jackie Sailing Isles of Greece on 'North Wind'

ATHENS (UPI) — Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy begins an odyssey through the fabled isles of Greece today with a royal Greek navy escort to make certain the world leaves her alone.

The President's wife and her party sailed this morning aboard the 133-foot "North Wind," described by its owner, Markos Nomikos, as "built in the old comfortable style."

First port of call was Epidaurus, about three hours out of Piraeus, port of Athens.

Mrs. Kennedy was rapidly becoming the darling of the royal Greek navy. It assigned a flotilla to shield the North Wind from the swarms of 60 foreign newsmen and photographers who followed her into Athens.

"We are looking after the little lady," a Greek navy spokesman said.

Little House Has Varied Uses

A versatile garden and tool house, equally valuable in a back yard or at a summer home, can be built of common building materials by two handymen over several weekends. Constructed according to an easy-to-follow plan, the eight-foot-square house may be devoted to a tool storage house and workshop, a children's playhouse, or even a guest house.

★ ★ ★

Panels recommended for the exterior simplify construction. For neatness, good appearance and durability, the plan suggests the use of Masonite Panelgroove, a siding with vertical grooves at regular or random intervals. Paint lasts unusually long on the grainless, splinter-and-knot-free Masonite panels.

The wood floor is given a long-wearing surface of Tempered Presdwood.

The plan suggests the use of Peg-Board panels on the walls if the house is to be used for tool storage and a workshop. Tools and various supplies can be hung on the perforated hardboard. A work table may be hinged to the wall.

Insulation may be placed between the studs to provide year-around comfort. Electric heating will warm the cabin sufficiently in any climate.

The detailed plan may be obtained by sending 50 cents in coin to the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 W. Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., and requesting plan No. 51.

Another Generation Loves Benny's Band

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

ANNAHEIM, Calif. (AP)—Can B. G. make it with another generation?

★ ★ ★

You'd think so, watching Benny Goodman swing out at Disneyland. Such excitement hasn't been seen since the '30s, when the famed pied piper led America into a whole new world of music.

"It's amazing," says Benny, obviously pleased with this new turn in his long career.

THOMAS

He recently organized a big band composed of a few old timers but mostly young musicians. The first date was Disneyland over Memorial Day weekend, the first booking of a name attraction at the park.

The results were sensational. Crowds packed 20 deep before the bandstand and couples were jitterbugging — not rocking, not rolling—jitterbugging.

DISNEY AMAZED

One of the amazed observers was Walt Disney himself. He told me: "Benny said it was just like the old days. His manager kept looking at his watch and warning Benny that he was going overtime. 'Don't worry—I'll pay for it,' Benny said, and he played 15 minutes longer."

B. G. was back on the bandstand last weekend, and I came on a sentimental journey to catch his music. It was indeed like the old days. Benny played the licorice stick with the same facile style, and the crowd cheered every solo.

Still youthful at 52, Benny bounced and grinned as he lead the numbers. They were strictly vintage stuff—"Sing, Sing, Sing" "Jumping at the Woodside," "And The Angels Sing," "One O'Clock Jump," etc. The youngsters ate it up. And for us ex-rug cutters—wow!

Benny has stuck mostly to small combos in recent years, but he said he'll continue with the full band if the demand continues. "Big bands, small bands—I'm in the music business," he said. "I'll play whatever the people want."

Goodman has been held over for another weekend. A week from tonight, he'll face the acid test of whether he can repeat with a whole new crop of kids. He'll play at Disneyland grad night, a midnight-to-dawn party for 10,000 high school graduates from all over Southern California.

If he can send the grads, he's got it made.

Man Is Married While in Jail; No Honeymoon

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—When bridegroom W. C. Swaner said he and his new wife were "looking forward to better things together," he meant just that.

He's in jail.

Swaner, 30, was married in the jail Wednesday to Heidi Guthersohn, 21, a Long Island, N.Y., waitress he met while driving a truck.

They had planned an April wedding, but Swaner was arrested in March when he brought Miss Guthersohn here to meet his mother. He was convicted of forging three checks two years ago and sentenced to 180 days.

"We decided to go ahead so we can begin a new life together," said the smiling bride. Sheriff Leslie Jett granted them special permission to hold the wedding in the jail.

The honeymoon will have to wait.

2 in Court Monday on Break-In Charge

Accused of attempted breaking and entering, two Pontiac men will be arraigned in Circuit Court Monday.

★ ★ ★

Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum ordered Eulus Zimmerman, 41, of 47 Hillsdale St., and Clayton Knepfler, 49, of 20 N. Edith St., bound over to the higher court after a pretrial hearing for four men accused of the charge.

The judge dismissed the charge against Robert Weatherbee, 47, of 843 Melrose Ave., and will decide whether there is enough evidence to bind over Franklin Brock, 28, same address, on June 12.

★ ★ ★

The four men had been accused of the attempted break-in of People's Food-O-Mat, 465 E. Pike St., April 16. They were arrested near the store.

★ ★ ★

Police said wire mesh had been torn from a basement window and they reported finding screw drivers and crow bars in the car in which the four were riding.

Why is the whiskey on the right insured for One Million Dollars?

$4.36 4/5 Qt.
$2.75 Pint

SOLID-GOLD BARS loaned through the courtesy of a U.S. Treasury Department gold licensee.

Answer:

The whiskey on the right is insured because it is Calvert's one million dollar "Standard of Excellence"—the lightest, finest, smoothest-tasting whiskey, we believe, ever created.

The Calvert Reserve on the left—and every bottle you buy—must match this "Standard of Excellence" for lighter taste, finer taste, smoother taste. Taste that never varies. Always "good as gold." Shouldn't you enjoy it tonight?

Cites Dangers of Rail Yards

Grand Trunk Police Captain Has Warning for Parents

With school vacation just around the corner, the Michigan Railroad Police Association is appealing to parents to warn their children of the dangers lurking around railroad yards, trains and tracks. F. M. Kapanowski, captain of police for the Grand Trunk Railway System here, said today.

★ ★ ★

More and more children are being injured and killed as a result of trespassing on railroad property, despite a concentrated safety program by MRPA in schools; with boy and cub scouts; and with Parent-Teachers Associations.

A. J. Faust, president of the Michigan Railroad Police Association said, "Only mothers and fathers can prevent injury and loss of life to their children by teaching them right from wrong about trespassing and vandalism."

★ ★ ★

"Prevention is the answer. Cure is too late to restore life or limb. Law enforcement groups are powerless to prevent loss of life and injury to juveniles. But parents can, and it is their guidance which will keep children safe," Faust added.

State Will Look Into UP's Mining Woes

LANSING (AP) — Rep. Elnar Erlandsen, D-Escanaba, was named today to head a seven-man House committee that will study the metallic mining industry in the Upper Peninsula.

The group will look into the situation that has put the area's mining industry in an unfavorable competitive position as the result of importation of foreign ores.

Other members named by House Speaker Don R. Pears, R-Buchanan, are Reps. Clayton T. Morrison, R-Pickford; James N. Folks, R-Horton; Rollo G. Conlin, R-Tipton; Harry de Maso, R-Battle Creek; Walter H. Nill, D-Muskegon, and Dominic J. Jacobetti, D-Negaunee.

The committee, using a $2,000 appropriation, will begin the study after the legislature adjourns this week and report its findings to the 1962 session.

Freeway Signs for Gas, Lodging Mean 1-3 Miles

LANSING (UPI) — The "gas-food-lodging-next exit" signs on Michigan's freeways are just short of a guarantee that you'll find what you're looking for near the exit.

Highway Department officials said the "gas designation means there is a 24-hour gas station within one mile of the exit.

The "food" and "lodging" signs are an indication there is a restaurant or motel within three miles of the exit. This is not to say the facilities are open around the clock, however.

"A motel or hotel can be presumed to be open at the hours that most people are looking for lodging," a department spokesman said. "The restaurants are a little trickier — some of them change their hours of operation at various seasons."

Since there is no way to keep the highway markers in line with varying hours of business, the department decided to put the food signs up if there is a restaurant within three miles and let the motorist use his own judgment about whether the place might be open.

Bolivia Under State of Siege

Near Martial Law as Series of Red-Backed Strikes Sweeps Land

LIMA, Peru (AP)—Bolivia was reported under a state of siege — near martial law — today with widespread arrests of Communists and other extreme leftists.

Airline passengers arriving here from La Paz said President Victor Paz Estenssoro declared the emergency after a series of Communist-urged strikes swept the country. The strikes apparently stemmed from a dispute between the government and workers in the nationalized tin mines.

★ ★ ★

The travelers said the government appeared in control and La Paz was calm when they left.

Private sources in Buenos Aires, Argentina, said that Communists made an attempt to seize power, but this was denied by travelers from La Paz. They said strikers were the root of the trouble.

President Kennedy's special envoy, Adlai E. Stevenson, now in Buenos Aires, is scheduled to visit Bolivia June 15 on his South American tour. Stevenson's aides said he has made no changes in his itinerary.

Prisoners Eat on Silver at 38 Cents Per Meal

It was the first boost in the individual ration in nearly 10 years.

Continental Guarantee Pays Off

By ROBERT IRVIN
UPI Automotive Editor

WIXOM — A two-year, 24,000-mile guarantee on the 1961 Lincoln Continental seems to be paying off, according to a Ford Motor Co. official.

Ben D. Mills, a Ford vice president in charge of the firm's Lincoln-Mercury Division, said the 24-month warranty, best in the business, has played a big part in the Continental's climbing sales rate.

Moreover, Mills said, despite the longer warranty period claims are down this year when measured against the old guarantee of three months or 4,000 miles.

Mills and Ford President John Dykstra were hosts at a special trip arranged to show newsmen how the Continental is built to specifications called the most rigid in the industry.

"We are in dead earnest on the subject of quality," Dykstra said. "We feel it is the most important thing we have to offer the consumer."

Dykstra is sometimes called "Mr. Q" (for quality) by subordinates because of his long association with that phase of the business. He called the quality program now in effect on the Continental a "remarkable achievement."

ESTABLISH TEST

For one thing, he said, "We have established a 12-mile road test for all Lincoln-Continentals—the only cars in the U.S. industry to receive such extensive tests before being shipped to dealers."

Dykstra went along with three newsmen on one such road test conducted by Joe Carter, 34, of Detroit.

Carter is one of 14 road test inspectors at the Ford Wixom plant where the Continentals are built.

The 50-minute test ranged over a special track and rural roads near the plant. Carter started, stopped, speeded and generally checked everything from the cigaret lighters (3 of them) to the engine. His only complaint was noise in the power steering pump, requiring minor adjustment.

Dykstra said the secret to the success of a quality control operation is attention to detail by the individual workers. But he admitted that cost is a factor, too, in determining how much quality is built into a car.

"We could make a big car corrosion-proof by using stainless steel but who is going to pay for it?" he asked.

There are about 600 life insurance companies in the U.S.

BIGGEST MAY SINCE THE MODEL "A"...

THE MONTH OF MAY WAS THE BIGGEST FOR FORD CAR SALES IN 32 YEARS—SINCE THE HEYDAY OF THE HOT MODEL "A" IN 1929.

MORE THAN 143,000 FORD CARS WERE SOLD.

THIS MEANS THAT EVERY SIX SECONDS OF EVERY EIGHT-HOUR DAY, SOMEONE BOUGHT ANOTHER FORD, FALCON, THUNDERBIRD, OR FORD WAGON.

WHY?

PERHAPS THOSE 143,000 AMERICANS FOUND OUT SOMETHING YOU SHOULD KNOW. THEY DID ALL THE SHOPPING, DEALER BY DEALER; THEY MADE ALL THE COMPARISONS, CAR BY CAR. BUT THEY BOUGHT FORDS!

WHY?

SOONER OR LATER YOU'LL GET A NEW CAR. WHEN YOU DO, TRY YOUR FORD DEALER FIRST—HE WILL GIVE YOU AN ABSOLUTE YARDSTICK OF VALUE IN EVERY PRICE RANGE FROM A TUDOR FALCON TO A THUNDERBIRD CONVERTIBLE.

HERE'S WHAT TO LOOK FOR. IN THE GALAXIE PRICE RANGE, DON'T SETTLE FOR LESS THAN A CAR THAT'S BEAUTIFULLY BUILT TO TAKE CARE OF ITSELF ...THAT GOES 30,000 MILES BETWEEN CHASSIS LUBRICATIONS...4,000 MILES BETWEEN OIL CHANGES...WHOSE BRAKES ADJUST THEMSELVES AUTOMATICALLY...WHOSE MUFFLER IS BUILT TO LAST THREE TIMES AS LONG AS ORDINARY ONES...WHOSE BODY IS SPECIALLY TREATED TO RESIST RUST AND CORROSION...WHOSE FINISH NEVER NEEDS WAXING. AND THE GALAXIE HAS THE MOST IMITATED STYLING ON THE ROAD...ITS NEWEST COMPETITORS LOOK LIKE LAST YEAR'S GALAXIES.

IF YOU WANT RECORD ECONOMY LOOK TO THE FALCON...THIS IS THE ABSOLUTE RUN-AWAY BEST SELLER OF ALL COMPACT CARS...WITH THE GAS MILEAGE RECORD OF 32.6 MILES PER GALLON, PROVEN BY AN EXPERT DRIVER IN A FALCON WITH STANDARD SHIFT, UNDER THE CROSS-COUNTRY TEST CONDITIONS OF THIS YEAR'S MOBILGAS ECONOMY RUN.

OR COMBINE ECONOMY WITH A TOUCH OF THE THUNDERBIRD, IN THE ELEGANT NEW FALCON FUTURA...BUCKET SEATS AND ALL.

TAKE A LOOK AT THE TWELVE FORD WAGONS, EVERY ONE IS DESIGNED AND BUILT TO GIVE YOU MORE SOLID ROOM-PER-DOLLAR, POWER-PER-DOLLAR OR STYLE-PER-DOLLAR VALUE THAN OTHER WAGONS. SEE THEM ALL—FROM THE CRISP SMARTNESS OF THE FALCON WAGON, ALL THE WAY UP TO THE INIMITABLE FORD COUNTRY SQUIRE.

FOR PURE PLEASURE, SEE THE SENSATIONAL NEW THUNDERBIRD FOR 1961, UNIQUE IN ALL THE WORLD—A CAR THAT SOMEHOW BECOMES MORE DESIRABLE EACH MONTH AS THE IMITATIONS COME OUT, AS OTHER CARS COPY ITS FAMOUS ROOFLINE, ITS FOUR-SEAT INTERIOR, ITS CONSOLE—YET MISS THE SECRET OF THE THUNDERBIRD SPIRIT.

THE THING THAT SELLS FORDS IS SIMPLY THE PRODUCT—IT STARTS WHEN YOU TAKE A CLOSE LOOK AT FEATURES OTHER CARS ARE ONLY DREAMING ABOUT, IT GETS CONVINCING WHEN YOU SEE AND FEEL THE HONEST QUALITY OF ITS CRAFTSMANSHIP—AND IT'S ALL OVER WHEN YOU LEARN THE PRICE.

THOSE THOUSANDS OF AMERICANS WHO BOUGHT A GLITTERING NEW FORD EVERY SIX SECONDS IN MAY REALLY DID KNOW SOMETHING YOU SHOULD KNOW—THAT NOW IS THE TIME TO STOP IN, SWAP, AND SAVE PLENTY AT YOUR FORD DEALER'S SWAPPING BEE.

Storms and Rain Rule Eastern Half of Nation

By The Associated Press

More thunderstorms and rain hit broad areas in the eastern half of the nation today after another night of stormy weather in many sections.

★ ★ ★

The most severe thunderstorms rumbled across northwestern Texas and parts of the central Mississippi Valley. The thunderstorm-shower belt stretched from the Rio Grande Valley northward into the central plains and eastward into the southern Upper Great Lakes region.

★ ★ ★

Tornadoes hit areas in Missouri, Texas and northeast New Mexico Wednesday and Wednesday night. Funnel clouds also were reported in Missouri and Iowa as the late spring storm pounded the Midwest with strong winds, hail and rain. No injuries were reported in small communities hit by the twisters.

They Get Lined Up

Chrysler Board Meeting Today

Seems Likely Directors Will Not Choose New President at This Time

NEW YORK (AP) — Chrysler Corp. directors meet here today amid renewed speculation over the possibility of a new president being named for the No. 3 automaking company.

But one director, who asked not to be quoted by name, said flatly, "I do not," when asked if he expected a new president to be appointed.

This director said he anticipated a routine meeting.

The general belief in Detroit automotive circles was that the board would not select a president at this time.

L. L. (Tex) Colbert has held both the chairmanship and presidency since William C. Newberg was fired as president because of conflict of interests last June 30. Colbert has said he expects a president ultimately will be selected.

Fire Prevention Institute Set This Evening

The second annual Oakland County Fire Prevention Institute will be held from 7:30-10 p.m. today at Pontiac State Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Sponsored by the Fire Safety Committee of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, the institute is intended to promote fire prevention practices in the county.

Attending will be representatives of area fire departments and industrial fire safety personnel.

An elimination round in the annual water battle tournament of local fire departments and fire safety demonstrations will be features of the institute.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Fire Marshal Charles E. Metz will discuss "The Firefighters' Role in Arson Detection."

Will Graduate 1,400

DETROIT (AP)—The University of Detroit will graduate 1,400 students at commencement exercises June 15. Dr. A. R. Baralt, dean of the University of Puerto Rico Dental School, will deliver the principal address.

Between the highest and lowest points in Colorado there is a difference of more than 11,000 feet in altitude.

Soviet Theaters Play Up Salami, Vehement Acting

MOSCOW (UPI) — An evening at the theater in Moscow means a double feature: (1) four hours of emotional exciting chest-beating across the footlights, and (2) food.

In that first respect, the Soviet Union is the world's best place for an actor to work, I decided after inspecting the winter theatrical program in Moscow.

For an actor, the audience is his, all his, for four hours. The curtain usually rises at 7:30 and most of the plays last until 11:30.

There's no such thing as being fashionably late, so latecomers can't disturb the actor's orations. They have to sit out the first act in the chilly lobby.

Then the thespian can pull out all the stops. Acting in Moscow, right down to the smallest walk-on part, is more emotional than it is on Western stages. At first, that's astonishing to a theater fan used to the relatively subdued style of Broadway.

But this is a country of stronger emotions in everyday life, and the theater has to be that much broader to do ordinary life one better.

★ ★ ★

One long-run popular play, for example, is a real-life story telling how convicts and prostitutes built the White Sea Canal after the revolution.

★ ★ ★

The heroine of "The Aristocrats," a truly buxom blonde, must have put in a good two miles striding around the stage with jaw outthrust during three acts. In one hysterical scene, she cried real tears and literally rolled around the stage, black velvet dress and all.

Another play dramatizes most fervently life in Siberia 50 years ago, and could be called a Western in Russian boots.

In this supercolossal epic, the hero steals his father's mistress, kills her to snatch money his father gave her, blames the murder on his best friend, has his father put in an insane asylum, takes dope, starts a forest fire, orders police to shoot striking workers at his mines and at last ends it all — and the play —, by jumping out a window.

3 DIFFERENT SETS

The scenic effects were just as flamboyant. Eight completely different sets twirled on a revolving stage. Snowstorms and fires were astonishingly realistic.

★ ★ ★

Because some theatergoers skip dinner to make that 7:30 curtain, during the first intermission there's a wild rush to a room called the buffet.

Limp from the exciting play, you devour thick salami or caviar sandwiches, cheese, beer, sweet Russian drinks or sweeter pastry.

Then back to your seat for another hour of emotion. Next "intermission, everybody eats again. In fact, some foreign theatergoers don't understand a word of Russian but give the caviar sandwiches a rave review.

After seeing one comedy about love at a machine tractor station, I decided they should shelve the play and just show the chocolate eclairs.

Most theaters put on classics, from Chekhov to Shakespeare which is easier than finding a good modern play that meets the requirements of glorifying the march to communism.

To Be in Court Monday Charged With Assault

A Pontiac woman will be arraigned in Circuit Court Monday on a felonious assault charge stemming from a quarrel in a Pontiac bar March 25.

Anna F. Taylor, 33, of 101 Raeburn St., waived examination yesterday before Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum.

She is accused of cutting Ellen Pearl Wright, 210 Wessen St., about the face and neck with a straight razor at the 88 Club, 88 Bagley St.

Bond was set at $100.

Recover Youth's Body

JACKSON (AP) — The body of Thomas Thompson, 16, of nearby Summit Township, was recovered Wednesday by skin divers from Browns Lake. Thompson drowned Monday while bathing.

Fined on Driving Charge

Irvin H. Bell, 64, of 1041 Oxford Road, was found guilty of drunken driving Tuesday before Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum. He was fined $100 — or 15 days in the Oakland County Jail if the fine is not paid.

Romney to Offer Con-Con Views

Meeting Set for Tonight at Ridgedale Playhouse on 10-Mile Road

In his first public appearance in Oakland County, American Motors Corp. President George Romney tonight will offer his views on the forthcoming constitutional convention at a meeting in Pleasant Ridge.

★ ★ ★

The Republican Committee of the county has arranged to put Romney, unopposed in the GOP primary for the county's 12th senatorial district seat, on the stage in three meetings with other GOP con-con candidates.

Tonight's meeting will be at the Ridgedale Playhouse, 8510 W. 10-Mile Road. Others will be June 14 in Birmingham, and June 16 in Waterford Township.

On the platform with Romney of Bloomfield Hills, in the first meeting will be Arthur G. Elliott Jr., GOP county chairman, who is running opposed by five other candidates for the 5th District seat.

★ ★ ★

GOP candidates from the 5th and 6th will answer questions from the audience tonight, a party spokesman said. The meeting begins at 8 p.m.

3 Honorary Degrees to Be Given by WMU

KALAMAZOO (AP) — William H. Hastie, judge of the U.S. Court of Appeals at Philadelphia, will be presented with an honorary doctor of laws degree at Western Michigan University's commencement exercises June 10.

Others getting honorary degrees will be Ray R. Eppert, president of Burroughs Corp., and Mrs. Florence Hanes of Schoolcraft, compiler of a book listing all plants native to Kalamazoo County.

Expect Final Victory for JFK's Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate administration forces predicted today they would be able to beat off all attacks on the $6.19-billion housing bill after victories in initial tests.

Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., floor manager for the measure, said it now was over the hump. He forecast final passage this afternoon without substantial change.

Divers Give Up Search for Bodies of Two Teens

CHEBOYGAN (AP) — Skin divers have abandoned their search for the bodies of two Cheboygan teenagers who apparently drowned in Lake Huron while canoeing on Decoration Day.

The divers covered an area of over 200 square miles before giving up the search for the bodies of Robert McLaughlin, 18, and Fred Shampine, 14.

Will Be Arraigned in Hit-Run Charge

A 21-year-old driver charged with leaving the scene of an injury accident March 20 will be arraigned in Circuit Court Monday.

★ ★ ★

Spencer E. Padgett, 9650 Highland Road, Highland Township, was ordered bound over to the tion before Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum.

Pontiac police said Padgett had admitted being the hit-and-run driver whose car struck two persons in front of the Armory at Mill and Water streets after a Saturday evening dance.

Roger McClintock, 21, of 3124 Eastway Rd., Bloomfield Township, suffered a fractured wrist and Jack Gray, 13, of 119 Perkins St., a fractured arm when hit by the car.

Seek to Make Tourism All-Year State Industry

KALKASKA (AP) — Development of an all-season tourist industry and legislation to facilitate more rapid growth are goals of a discussion series starting June 23 at nearby Lake Valley Resort. Other meetings will be held elsewhere in Northern Michigan.

Rep. Walter Nakkula, R-Gladwin, is chairman of a nine-man House interim study committee which is engaging in the conferences with area chambers of commerce and resort operators.

Development of tourism as "our second largest industry," said Nakkula, "will help to stabilize Michigan's economic well-being through creation of new employment, more construction and more diversification of capital investment."

Romney Aide Named

DETROIT (UPI) — American Motors Corp. has announced the appointment of Robert A. Orr as assistant to President George Romney. Orr has been general manager of the General Electric Co. Vacuum Cleaner Division at Bridgeport, Conn.

The subway system in New York includes about 200 miles of routes.

Rev. Boyd Gets Call to Church in Texas

REV. MARION F. BOYD JR.

Rev. Marion F. Boyd Jr., pastor of the Columbia Avenue Baptist Church for the past four years, has accepted the call to the Springdale Baptist Church in Fort Worth, Tex. He will preach his last sermon in the local church Sunday.

During his Pontiac pastorate, Rev. Mr. Boyd was responsible for the new education building which is nearly completed. It was constructed at a cost of $125,000 with volunteer help from members of the congregation.

He has received 500 members into the fellowship of the church.

* * *

A mission was started about a year ago in Rochester, known as the Rochester Baptist Chapel, and two members were added to the church staff, Mrs. Edith Lockwood, general secretary, and C. B. Jackson, director of Christian education.

A graduate of the Kankakee, Ill., high school, he attended Central College in Chicago and Junior College in Little Rock, Ark. In 1949 he was graduated from Central College in Little Rock.

For a year, the Columbia pastor studied at Hendrix College, Conway, Ark., then transferred to Eastern Michigan University from which he received an A.B. degree. Graduate work was done at American Divinity School, Chicago.

* * *

Before coming to Pontiac, he served Baptist churches in Biggelow and Little Rock. From 1950 until 1957, he was pastor of Eber Memorial Baptist Church, Detroit.

The Rev. Mr. Boyd has been moderator of the Motor Cities Association of Southern Baptist Churches and on the executive board of the Michigan Baptist College and Seminary Extension. He has served as president of the Pontiac Pastor's Association and as leader in state denominational work.

The family will leave for its new home in Texas next week.

About one-half of the surfaced highways in the United States now have painted dividing stripes running down the middle of the roadbed.

State Has Gain in Movements of Industry

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Economic Development Department said Wednesday that the state scored a gain in the movement of industry during the first five months of 1961.

* * *

Thirteen firms moved in from other states, while 10 moved operations to other states, according to department reports.

Employment figures were available on eight companies in each category. They showed that 3,894 workers were involved in the move-ins and 2,970 in the move-outs, a department spokesman said.

The move-in total included 2,500 at the Harvey aluminum plant at Adrian, which will not be operating at full capacity for at least two years. The move-out figure included 1,600 at the Norge refrigerator plant in Muskegon.

Guard Will Halt Aid in Holiday Traffic

LANSING (AP) — Michigan National Guardsmen will not be available to help sheriffs in emergency holiday traffic control during the coming year, says Maj. Gen. Ronald D. McDonald, Michigan's adjutant general.

McDonald advised the Michigan Sheriffs Association that appropriations for the next fiscal year will preclude the assignment of National Guardsmen to sheriff's departments, although about 100 guardsmen will continue to be assigned to traffic control duties with the state police.

Previously, about 200 National Guard troops had been used, with about half of them assigned to individual sheriff's offices.

They had been utilized for traffic control duty since Labor Day 1954.

Gen. McDonald said the legislature passed a bill wherein the emergency highway patrol funds have been limited for the use of Michigan National Guardsmen with the state police force.

Local Head Will Run Against Hoffa, or VP

NEWARK, N. J. (AP) — Milton J. Liss, president of Teamsters Local 478 of Newark, said Wednesday he will run for election against either Teamsters President James R. Hoffa or Anthony (Tony Pro) Provenzano of Hackensack, a vice president.

Elections are scheduled at the Teamsters Convention opening July 3 in Miami Beach, Fla.

Although announcing his candidacy for either office, Liss said he believes Hoffa is almost a sure bet to win re-election. Hoffa probably would carry Provenzano with him but Provenzano was more vulnerable, Liss said.

Liss has withstood Teamster efforts over the past four years to remove him as an official of Local 478. He recently headed an eight-man anti-Hoffa slate from the Newark local as delegates to the convention.

Turbojet Engine Sells at $17,000; Lighter, Cheaper

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Development of a lightweight turbojet engine for small aircraft and helicopters has been announced by Continental Aviation and Engineering Co.

The engine, designated the T72, will be lighter and cheaper at $17,000 than comparable engines now selling at more than $50,000, Continental officials said.

"This new product could well be the forerunner of a new family of turbines," said Roy P. Powers, Continental vice president and general manager.

The 500-horsepower engine, developed in a $1.5 million research project, weighs 210 pounds. It is 45 inches long, has a 20-inch diameter and fewer working parts than current type engines.

Tries Grass-Root Approach

Mother of 4 Writes Castro

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 23-year-old mother of four from Saginaw, Mich., may have come up with a new approach for winning friends in Latin America, Rep. James Harvey, R-Mich., said Wednesday.

Harvey said he has forwarded to the U.S. Information Agency a letter from Mrs. John J. Nalevayko which went to Cuban Premier Fidel Castro via Harvey's office.

Mrs. Nalevayko's handwritten, seven-page letter urged Castro to hold free elections in Cuba and also to change his critical attitude toward the United States.

FORWARDS LETTER

"We only want to protect ourselves from Communist tyranny," she wrote. "I believe that if you continue to sympathize with the Communists, they will have a rocket base in Cuba before long . . . the United States cannot let this happen."

★ ★ ★

Harvey said he forwarded the letter to Castro at Mrs. Nalevayko's request and sent a copy to USIA Director Edward R. Murrow.

He said he told Murrow he thought Mrs. Nalevayko's "grass-root approach to a serious national condition merits further study and possible future use by his agency."

He added:

"It is possible such 'hometown' thinking, integrated into Latin American broadcasts, would prove most successful in furthering better understanding among all the people of North and South America."

U.S. Will Help Ghana Set Up Medical Center

ACCRA, Ghana (AP) — The United States will help Ghana establish a national medical and health training center under the terms of an agreement signed Wednesday by the two nations.

★ ★ ★

The United States will provide $560,000 dollars for a science building, a medical and health training center and a medical educator and staff.

Fourteen Ghanaian teachers for the center will be trained in the United States.

ROBERT DUNSKY

Owners' Son Joins Drug Firm as a Partner

Owners of the three-story Thrifty Drug chain in the Pontiac area announced today that Robert Dunsky, so not the owners, has joined the firm as a partner.

Dunsky, 26, of 13148 Borman Road, Huntington Woods, has been associated with the firm as a pharmacist at the Drayton Plains store, 4895 Dixie Highway, since 1957. He will remain in this position.

Dunsky is a graduate of the University of Michigan College of Pharmacy.

Civitans Install Joseph Horton

President Takes on His Duties at Banquet in Commerce Twp.

The Pontiac Civitan Club installed Joseph R. Horton as its 1961 president at the annual installation banquet last night in the Edgewood Country Club, Commerce Township.

Horton, of 1020 Iroquois Road, is president of Professional Reporting, Inc., a business management and accounting firm in Pontiac.

He has been a member of the club for five years.

Installed as president-elect was Lloyd S. Smith of 3612 Lotus Drive, Waterford Township. Horton and Smith were named local delegates to the Civitan International Convention June 18-21 at the Royal George Hotel, Toronto.

OTHER NEW OFFICERS

Other officers installed are Dr. Maurice Thome and Ivan Knight, vice presidents; Robert Flynn, secretary; Dr. Frank H. Hillebrand, treasurer, and Eldon Gardner, sergeant at arms.

Installing officer was Robert Tricker of Pontiac, governor of the Civitan Great Lakes International District.

Featured speaker for the banquet was Norman Prady, publications editor, Michigan State University Oakland.

I. Joseph Davis was master of ceremonies. Honored guests were B. J. Marks and his wife, of the Flint Civitans.

Standard Cuts Gasoline Price in Latest War

The Standard Oil Division of the American Oil Company has struck the latest spark in the Pontiac area's gasoline war.

Standard announced a .9 cent a gallon tank wagon cut to dealers Wednesday "in the face of continued competitive pressure."

Other oil companies are expected to follow suit and if they do the price for regular gasoline will drop to its lowest point in more than two years.

Before the latest cut, regular gas was selling for from 25.9 to 27.9 cents at most stations, with premium generally four cents higher.

The major oil companies have been carrying on a hot-then-cold war in the area for some time in an effort to squelch independents who have, until now, been matching them cut for cut.

★ ★ ★

Spokesmen for the independents have contended that the big chains were "just hurting themselves" with the price cuts, but they have admitted that the continued cuts, amounting to seven cents since February, have eliminated profit margins.

Sugar Fight Faces Cuba

NEW YORK (UPI)—Cuba faces stiff global competition for sugar markets as output of the commodity rises. Trade sources say the world's 1961 crop is expected to exceed consumption.

Output is forecast at 56 million tons, an increase of about 6 million tons from last year.

Toy Sales Rose in 1960

NEW YORK (UPI)—Shipments of toys rose 7.6 per cent in 1960 to $1.7 billion from $1,608,500,000 in the previous year, the Toy Manufacturers of the USA, Inc., report.

You Can Look at Detroit by Jet

By DICK BUCK

Would you pay $6.50 for a half-hour flight on an airliner that doesn't go anywhere?

One of the country's major airlines, American, has been asking that question across the country. So far, the answer has been a solid "Yes!"

Starting Saturday, the question will be put to those living in metropolitan Detroit as American introduces "Flightseeing" tours.

American has been "test-marketing" the idea in the East since early this year. Success there led to extension of the unusual concept to Detroit and other key cities on the line's routes.

POPULAR CUSTOM

"Flightseeing" is American's glamorized version of a pastime that's been familiar for years at many airports—taking people for a plane ride over a nearby area mainly for the sake of the ride.

Till now, however, such service has been dominated by the single-engine Piper Cubs and Cessnas which handled between two and five passengers.

The airline is going far beyond the Piper Cub-Cessna stage.

One of the modern giants of the airlines, the four-engine turboprop Electra II, with seats for 71 passengers, will give "flightseers" a chance to pick out from the air where they live, work or go to school.

★ ★ ★

After departure from Metropolitan Airport, the tour flights will head for the Detroit River and a view of downtown and the civic center.

From there, the course goes northeast into Southern Macomb County, swings west into Oakland County, and, finally, south again back to Metro Airport.

As on a normal trip, these flights will carry the full three-man cockpit crew and two stewardesses. "Flightseeing" will be offered on Saturdays only, at 3, 4 and 5 p.m.

Unlike its counterparts with the Piper Cubs and Cessnas, American isn't likely to make much profit, if any, on "Flightseeing."

MANY COSTS

A fully loaded Electra II will yield $61.50 in passenger revenue. A flight will consume about 700 gallons of fuel, costing $63.

The cost of the kerosene is only the beginning. By the time the crew's wages and the many other factors involved in getting a plane off the ground and back are figured in, American expects to do no better than break even with a full passenger load.

Yet these flights over a longer span of time may well boost profits for American, and the airline industry in general.

★ ★ ★

Here's an example of how Last Sunday, American staged a dry-run to see how "Flightseeing" would be received in the Detroit area. An ad in a Dearborn newspaper had interested nearly a full load of passengers.

THEIR FIRST RIDE

Among those aboard were two elderly folks. Sunday was their 60th wedding anniversary. The man was 85, his wife 84. It was their first plane ride.

They took it not only as a way of celebrating their anniversary but also to find out what flying was like. A desire to visit children on the West Coast stirred their interest.

The elderly pair didn't feel capable of making a trip by surface transportation. What about flying?

Their reaction after the flight was, "Where do we make our reservations for California?" That'll mean dollar signs for American Airlines.

This is far from being an isolated case. An American spokesman pointed out that a majority of those who've made "Flightseeing" trips in other cities had never been in an airliner before.

"Beside giving people a chance to see what their city looks like from 6,000 feet up, we are introducing many to airline travel," he said.

Phillippine Cigars Up

NEW YORK (UPI)—Philippine cigars are gaining favor in the Havana stogies uncertain. Several importers report rising demand for cigars from the Pacific nation, which only recently had enough smokes for export.

The mood is Thunderbird...the economy is Falcon...

...it's the new Falcon Futura by Ford
COMPACT COUSIN OF THE THUNDERBIRD

And, it's the nicest thing that ever happened to America's best-loved compact! Now . . . step aboard! Relax in the foam-padded comfort of individually contoured twin front seats (styled by the men who designed the Thunderbird!) Rest your lucky feet on the thick wall-to-wall carpeting. Look down beside you: there's a handy console between the front seats for your personal effects.

Be sure to check the back seat, too—plenty of room there for 3 people. And, in Futura everyone's luggage goes in the vacation-size trunk—where it belongs. Futura gives you true gas economy, too. Finally, when it's time to check the price sticker—surprise! Because—for all its luxury, all its economy—Futura's actually America's lowest-priced* luxury compact!

A Falcon Makes Economy Run History! A 1961 Falcon with standard transmission got 32.6 mpg under the cross-country test conditions of this year's Mobilgas Economy Run . . . the best gas mileage ever recorded by a "6" or "8" in the Run's 25-year history! Even more impressive . . . was the competition . . . a group of expert drivers really out to win. But Falcon topped them all!

More good news! Ford sales are booming! One reason: Falcon, America's best-selling compact car has increased its 1961 lead over its nearest competitor to nearly 50,000 cars!

Magazine Editor Taken

CHICAGO (AP) — Roderick M. Grant, 80, editor of Popular Mechanics magazine from 1958 until his retirement in 1960, died Tuesday of a stroke. Grant had been a member of The Associated Press news staff in Topeka, Kan., and Chicago for 10 years before he joined the magazine in 1925.

Public Turns Confident, Cautious

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Businessmen are talking up optimism. But most of them appear to be acting with what they regard as all due caution.

★ ★ ★

Consumers in general seem to be following the same tack. They feel a lot better about the outlook for the economy and their own pocketbooks. But they are spending, and going into debt, at close to their old pace as set in more uncertain days.

FORECASTS OPTIMISTIC

That's how the latest flood of statistics seems to add up after reading the host of predictions—and most forecasts are optimistic.

Retail sales have yet to respond to the new confidence most Americans are said to feel. Consumers are busier paying off old debts than taking on new instalment credit.

Businessmen are ordering better than in the dark days of winter. But so far they are building up their inventories only slightly, apparently with a keen eye for actual sales as well as for prospects. Perhaps they are waiting now to see how much of a summer lull we'll have.

And in spite of all the talk about a sound recovery under way—and even talk of a possible new boom—industrialists haven't stepped up their plans for expansion of plant and equipment, trimmed when recession was the chief concern. Total spending this year still seems likely to trail 1960 by about 3 per cent.

WORST IS NOT BAD

But when you've said that—and added the somber view of international affairs that President Kennedy has expressed after his talks with Soviet Premier Khrushchev—you've about said the worst.

Steel output, aided by auto makers' orders, has risen—although the rise is most likely to be interrupted by a summer slowdown in metal using industries.

★ ★ ★

The nation's total output of goods and services was under a $500-billion annual rate in the first three months of 1961. But the spring recovery is leading Washington pundits to forecast that the April-June figure may reach a $510-billion annual rate.

★ ★ ★

So far the optimism seems to have been turned into terms of cash largely in the manufacturing sector of the economy. Not only is industrial output up, but largely in the manufacturing sector of the economy. Manufacturing inventories were built up by $100 million in April. Wholesale and retail stocks were kept at the old level, on a wait-and-see basis apparently.

Much of this is natural when the economy turns from recession to recovery. Manufacturing had suffered the most, cut its stocks back the most, stood greatest in the need of building up again.

★ ★ ★

All along the line then, there is still caution—confidence, but no splurging.

Even the stock market, where splurging has worried some observers, has its periods of caution. Many persons see that all to the good.

Interest High for Area School Board Elections

Interest is reportedly high in 20 area school districts where voters will pick board of education members in Monday's annual school elections.

In addition, special issues will appear on the ballots in Avondale, Oak Park, Utica, Huron Valley, Novi, Brandon, Rochester and Clarenceville districts.

The hottest races for school board officers are in Lyon and Utica where eight and nine candidates respectively are seeking to fill two vacancies.

Polls are open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Following is a roundup of office-seekers and special issues in each district:

Avondale

A 6.5-mill operational tax proposal and a proposition that would establish teacher tenure will be decided when voters in the Avondale School District go to the polls Monday.

Besides the two issues, the names of six candidates will appear on the ballot for the 2 four-year posts on the Avondale Board of Education.

Campaigning for the school board vacancies are David W. Hackett, 1380 Ruby St.; Herman C. Douglas, 3910 Brimfield St.; James E. Fehlberg, 1461 Ashover St.; Raymond R. Conners, 259 Hurst St.; incumbent Robert C. Sipperly and Raymond N. Baker, 476 S. Squirrel Road, former Avondale school superintendent.

School officials say the millage requested for operation for the next five years represents an increase of 2.6 mills over the 1960-61 levy.

* * *

Three mills approved for operational expenses five years ago ago expired in the 1960-61 school year. The board of education said taxes for debt retirement will be cut by nine-tenths of a mill next year.

* * *

The tenure issue, which was defeated in a tie vote in last year's election, would grant security and fair dismissal procedures for Avondale teachers, according to the Michigan Education Association.

Romeo

Vying for the single four-year post open on the Romeo Board of Education are present Board Secretary Philip A. Berthiaume and Thomas J. Schultz, 6633 28-Mile Road, Washington.

Berthiaume is seeking election to a third term while it is Schultz' first bid for school office.

Utica

Voters in the Utica Community School District will cast their ballots on two local propositions besides electing two men from a field of nine to serve on the Board of Education Monday.

Approval will be sought to reclassify the district from fourth to third class and to set board members' pay at $400 a year.

Board members' salaries were reduced a year ago to $300 each when new members were added so that the latter could receive some compensation until the district classification was changed.

* * *

Running for Board of Education office in addition to present Board President Jack Harvey are Erwin D. Doan, 8917 Shannon Drive; Harry L. Burkhart, 9111 Birkhill Road, Theodore J. Huerth, 8411 River Road and Gene Pini, 46780 Dequindre Road.

* * *

Others are Howard A. Dinger, 45410 Hecker Road; Charles W. Cooper, 8941 Shannon Road; Edward A. Bogdan, 47219 Winthrop St. and Dr. John J. Dina, 45230 Vanker Road.

Lake Orion

Incumbent Charles Carpenter is being challenged by Robert Fetterly of 1850 Barr Road and Ernest N. Shagnea of 846 Sunset Drive for the single four-year vacancy on the Lake Orion Board of Education.

Brandon

A $395,000 bond issue for school construction and remodeling and a request to set salaries for school board members at $240 per year will be decided in the Brandon School District election.

Harold Webb, an incumbent, will be unchallenged in his bid for reelection to a four-year term on the Brandon Board of Education. No other candidates filed nominating petitions for the vacancy.

The long-term bond issue would pay for 11 new classrooms and a library at Brandon High School and three new classrooms, an office and extra storage space at Belle Ann Elementary School.

If voters approve the bond issue, the 51-year-old Brandon Junior High School in Ortonville would be closed and junior high classes would be held in the new additions, according to School Supt. Burl Glendening.

Glendening said the new method of paying board members, who now receive $10 per meeting, is a cost-cutting measure since they currently attend more than 24 meetings a year.

Southfield

Four men, including the two incumbents, and one woman are candidates for the 2 four-year terms available on the Southfield Board of Education.

Seeking re-election are present Board Treasurer Will J. Oliver and Theodore R. Minke. Opposing them are Kenneth N. Larsen, 29518 Westbrook Parkway; S. S. Zwiren, 29554 Chelmsford Road and Mrs. Irene E. Gase, 19625 W. 12-Mile Road.

Oak Park

Voters in the Oak Park School District will decide a proposed $3.5 million bond issue to finance the construction of a 55-room junior high school and additions to two elementary schools besides electing school board members Monday.

This will be the tenth time in as many years that voters in the school district have been asked to approve funds for educational facilities and operations.

Each time in the past the proposals have passed.

In the race for the 2 four-year openings on the Oak Park Board of Education are four men and one woman.

Running for office are Lionel E. Spoon, 21730 Cloverlawn; Seymour Smelsey, 13740 W. Nine-Mile Road; Julius Passerman, 25901 Coolidge Highway; Leland Smith, 23041 Oak Crest Ave. and Selma Shargel, 15401 Park St.

Huron Valley

Incumbents Donald Hackbrandt and Harry Porter will be challenged in their bid for re-election on the Huron Valley Board of Education by Eugene E. Russell of 4209 Duck Lake Road and Robert Gorsline, 900 E. Buno Road, both of Milford Township.

Authorization to transfer $5,000 in delinquent taxes on a retired bond issue to the building and site fund also will be asked of voters.

Oxford Area

The 2 four-year terms on the Oxford Area Board of Education are being sought by James N. Woon, Robert L. McWilliams and Roe V. Sausser, 354 N. Lapeer Road.

McWilliams was elected to the board four years ago while Woon was appointed to fill a vacancy last September.

Rochester

Although the names of five candidates will appear on Monday's ballot in the Rochester Community School District, only four now are seeking election to the board of education.

Charles A. Ferry, who is listed as a candidate has announced his withdrawal from the race.

Campaigning for the 2 four-year school board posts are Board President Henry Purdy, Robert E. Chandler, 210 Winry Drive; John H. Patterson, 2748 W. Tienken Road and Mrs. Virginia K. Allured, 305 Wimpole Drive.

Besides electing school board members, voters will decide on a tax proposal of five mills for operation that will not increase the current school tax levy.

* * *

The tax, if passed, would raise approximately $250,000 to staff new facilities now under construction.

Clarkston

Two 4-year terms of office on the Clarkston Board of Education are being sought by three candidates.

They are Keith Leak, incumbent; Lucia Wilford of 91 N. Main St., Clarkston; and Harold L. Hicks of 5031 Clintonville Road, Independence Township.

Holly

John C. Fisher is unopposed in his bid to regain his post on the Holly Area school board. He is seeking the lone four-year term.

* * *

Also without opposition for election to the single one-year term vacancy on the board is Jack Bennett of 408 East Road, Holly.

Walled Lake

Incumbent Walter Horstman and Richard S. Miles of 2061 Twilight Hill Road, Walled Lake, will vie for the four-year term on the Walled Lake Board of Education.

West Bloomfield

There will be no contest for the 2 four-year terms on the West Bloomfield Board of Education.

The only two candidates seeking the posts are Jack Shuler, incumbent, and Mrs. Kathleen Kjolhede of 1400 Forest Lane, Bloomfield Township.

Dublin

The single three-year term post on the Dublin Board of Education is being sought by Frederick T. Corliss, incumbent, and Eric L. Spitler of 8845 Van Gordon Road, White Lake Township.

Novi

A proposed six-mill tax increase for school operation will be decided by voters in the Novi School District in addition to naming one member to the board of education.

Edward Erwin, incumbent, will be challenged for the three-year post by David Fried of 41040 Hollydale Drive, Novi.

The six-mill levy would be in addition to the 9½ mills currently collected in the school district.

Two and a half mills are now being levied for school operation and seven mills are used for debt retirement. The 2½ mills were approved by voters in 1958 and expires in 1963.

The proposed six mills would provide operating funds for five years if approved.

The proposed millage would be used to increase the salaries of teachers and allow the scheduling of music, art and remedial reading classes.

Lyon

Eight candidates, the largest field ever to seek seats on the Lyon school board, will vie Monday for 2 four-year terms.

They are J. W. Erwin, incumbent; Josephine A. Allen, 51600 Grand River Ave., Wixom; Donald Riddering, 9706 W. Six Mile Road, Salem; and Elsie F. Kitter, 13500 12-Mile Road, South Lyon.

The four other candidates are C. F. Grimes, 7330 Five Mile Road, Northville; Alfred B. Ueker, 3901 Six Mile Road; Rita Chenoweth, 9465 Rushton Road and Gordon Bunn, 9791 Matthews Road, both of South Lyon.

Troy

Incumbents Robert W. Dolmage and Robert A. Meade will be seeking to retain their board of education posts in the Troy School District.

The lone challenger for one of the 2 four-year vacancies on the board is Richard C. Snoad of 1249 Glaser Road.

Farmington

Four candidates, including an incumbent, will vie for the two expiring seats on the Farmington Board of Education.

Seeking the 4-year-terms are Patricia Dates, incumbent; Michael J. Hand, 34247 Cass Court, Farmington; Richard F. Hug, 24780 Springbrook Road; and Herbert R. Neil of 30443 Rockshire Drive, both Farmington Township.

Voters also will be asked to change the present fourth-class school district rating to a third-class category because of increased enrollment in school system.

Clarenceville

Fred T. Bailey, incumbent, and Melvin Kuehn, 20125 Weyher St., Livonia, will vie for a four-year term on the Clarenceville school board while Dr. Samuel Prisk is unopposed for re-election to the two-year post.

Clarenceville voters also will elect a trustee to a proposed community college board.

Clarenceville is the only Oakland County school district that will vote on the establishment of a community college. Five Wayne County school districts, however, will vote on the college proposal.

The only local candidate for the nine-member college board is Paul Mutnick, 19822 Weyher St., Livonia.

All six school districts must approve the proposal before the college can be established.

Auburn Heights Lions to Aid Boys Club Fund

AUBURN HEIGHTS — The Auburn Heights Lions Club has installed new officers and pledged $10,000 to the building fund of the local Boys Club.

* * *

President of the organization is Harold C. Newingham. Other officers are Harold David, first vice president; Arthur Keller, second vice president; Jack Moors, third vice president, S. H. Niedjelski, secretary; and Henry Windenheim, treasurer.

* * *

To raise money for the 250-member Boys Club, the Lions will sponsor a series of annual summer festivals all proceeds of which will go into building fund.

The first festival is slated for Aug. 10 to 13 on the field at the corner of Auburn and Crooks roads. It will feature a carnival, games and a gala parade.

Two and a half years ago, Boys Club officers began looking for a practical site for a club house. Club members now meet in the Community Building on Squirrel Road.

* * *

One of the sites donated for the purpose proved unsuitable because of a drainage problem and another has been earmarked for a new post office.

* * *

The search will continue, according to Newingham, who also is president of the Boys Club. He said he hopes for more concrete plans for building within the next year or so.

Wixom C. of C. Elects Prexy

Robert Kellogg Picked to Head 45-Member Organization

WIXOM—Robert Kellogg of 1636 N. Wixom Road has been elected president of the recently organized Wixom Chamber of Commerce.

Other officers named to head the 45-member organization are Paul D. Podesta, vice president; Frank Russell, treasurer; and Mrs. Frank Russell, secretary.

Named to two-year terms on the board of directors are Benjamin Schneider, Elwood Grubb, Ted Carlson and Frank Geller.

* * *

The one-year-terms on the seven-member board are held by Warren Henderson, Elmer Burnstrum and Wesley McAtee.

The local chamber was established May 23 with the adoption of its bylaws, and only two weeks after the organization was first proposed by City Councilman Howard Coe.

There are 28 charter members in the organization, which has been holding its meetings in the municipal building.

One of the first moves made by the group is its support of the 701 planning program which is currently being considered by city officials.

Under the program the city would share the cost with the federal government for the development of a comprehensive city plan.

School Levy, Board Posts at Stake in Dryden

DRYDEN — Voters in the Dryden School District will decide a local proposition and pick two board of education members in two separate elections Monday.

* * *

The polls in the high school gymnasium will be open from noon to 8 p.m. for residents to decide on a two-mill tax for one year. The tax would raise approximately $8,500 needed to equip the addition built onto the high school three years ago, according to officials.

Even if the two-mill levy were approved, school taxes in the Dryden District would be one-half mill lower next year because the current 2.5 mills is expiring.

Right after the polls close the annual school meeting will be held in the gymnasium. Voters will elect two board of education members.

* * *

The terms of Board President William Thorman Jr. and Treasurer Raymond Stevens, both of whom have served for many years, are expiring.

The winners will be in office for four years.

Hazard to Watch: Fast Driving

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Highway stress, a possible cause of cancer, a summertime hazard, and advice to grandparents are subjects for focus on health.

★ ★ ★

For some people there is a definite wear and tear in driving a car at high speeds or in city traffic.

German researchers found that out of a group of healthy persons, some show great changes in blood pressure and pulse rate after driving at 70 to 80 miles an hour, or after driving in traffic conditions.

★ ★ ★

In these otherwise healthy persons, the appearance of these changes indicates borderline disorders and may explain some faulty reactions that sometimes result in auto accidents, the researchers said.

CAUSE OF CANCER?

Nickel workers have a high rate of lung cancer and the culprit has been identified as a toxic gas containing nickle which has produced cancer in experimental animals. Now researchers have found that the smoke from both nonfiltered and filtered cigarettes deposits nickle in the lungs. A person who smokes two packs a day for a year inhales three times the amount of nickle needed to produce cancer in rats.

SUMMERTIME HAZARD

Some persons are sensitive to bee and wasp stings—so sensitive that a number of stings may send them into shock, may even cause death.

In some cases a person can be immunized against the allergy to yellow jacket stings much as hay fever victims can be immunized against ragweed pollen. Either a mixture of the whole insect or just the venom can be used. Protection lasts only about three months.

However, doctors warn, little is known about the hazard of continued use of the treatment. It is possible in sensitive persons that even the allergy injections may bring on shock.

ADVICE FOR GRAMPS

With summertime here and visits to grandparents in order, a University of Michigan psychiatrist has some advice:

★ ★ ★

Grandparents should keep their hands off in matters calling for discipline of a grandchild. Leave it to the parents. Grandparents are likely either too strict and rigid, or too overly mellowed to be able to help the parents, suggested Dr. Stuart Finch.

And even a 3-year-old is capable of playing grandparent against parent to get what he wants.

Cool, Man, Cool

CLARENDON, Va. (AP) — Some odd things turn up in package mail boxes but clerks in the post office here think they found the record — a shopping bag containing a package of cigars and a carton of beer. The beer, they said, was refreshingly cool.

Honor Pontiac State Hospital Volunteers at Tea

Pontiac Press Photos

Among the volunteers honored Wednesday at Pontiac State Hospital's annual tea were (from left) Mrs. Edward Lawrence Jr., chairman of the children's volunteer program; guest Mayor Philip Rowston; Mrs. Mary McDowell, family care volunteer; and Mrs. Jackie Rae Voorheis, volunteer recreational therapist.

Dedicated Efforts of 500 Hailed

Some 200 Pontiac State Hospital volunteers were honored at the annual hospital tea Wednesday in the recreational therapy department facilities.

Dr. Walter H. Obenauf, hospital superintendent, congratulated the assembly for their dedicated efforts on behalf of the patients.

"The volunteers," he said, as hospital representatives and leaders in their respective committee, "are an integral factor in creating a more favorable public image of mental illness."

Invocation and benediction was given by the Rev. Galen E. Hershey, pastor of First Presbyterian Church.

Speaking on the volunteer program at the hospital in which some 500 persons participate, Larry Payne, director of news and public affairs at radio station WPON, said:

★ ★ ★

"Volunteers have helped erase from public consciousness the stigma so often associated with the mentally ill. Benefits of volunteer service are definitely being felt by the patient and the community. Those who bring sunshine to others are the ones who reap emotional rewards for a job well done."

Patients provided entertainment and acted as guides by meeting their volunteers in the reception center and directing them to the program site.

Dr. Robert Braun, clinical director, was chairman of the tea planning committee. Assisting him were Mrs. Ruby Eargle, director of nursing; Mrs. Eleanore McCurry, director of occupational therapy; Dorothy Roe, director of recreational therapy; Grace Clark, dietitian; Mrs. Hazel Foltz, housekeeping supervisor; Ted Stein, Fairlawn School teacher; Richard Arthaud, social service director and Ted A. Panaretos, director of community relations.

Mayor Phillip E. Rowston was a guest.

With That Kind of Strategy, You May Be Out at Home

By ABIGAIL BAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I met a wonderful guy two weeks ago. He is a professional ball player. He is the kindest and most gentlemanly man I have every known.

ABBY

We have had several dates and I know we are meant for each other. We always enjoy ourselves no matter where we go or what we do.

I have never had this feeling about anyone else and neither has he.

Well, here's our problem. We are both married. His home life is a mess and so is mine.

Abby, I am not the kind of girl who goes around breaking up marriages, but I love this guy so much I would do anything to have him.

Is it possible to be married in one state before your divorce is final in another?

SO IN LOVE

DEAR SO: It is not possible . . . and for a good reason. It assures a cooling off period and is a safeguard against stealing home. Catch?

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: This is my eighth day in bed. I caught my heel on the stairs and plunged to the cement landing. I suffered a slight brain concussion, sprained ankle and a badly bruised elbow. Yes, the new shoes did it.

But I still will not give up the pointed toes and skinny heels. Instead, I will be more careful on the stairs. I am sure the many women who love the beautiful pointed shoes are not writing to you. Just the complainers.

Yours truly,

IN STYLE IN OHIO

DEAR IN: You had better see your doctor again. I'm afraid that brain concussion is more serious than you think it is.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: While I was working at the polls, our National Anthem was played on the radio. Everyone was very busy writing, and so was I.

But I stood up and placed my hand above my heart until the song was over. No one else in the room bothered to acknowledge it.

In fact, I heard a few of them laughing behind my back.

When I watch a parade on television and our flag appears, I always stand up and salute it whether I'm alone or with others.

I want to know if I am as queer as some people think I am, or are they the ones who are out of order?

PATRIOTIC

DEAR PATRIOTIC: Most people do not stand for the National Anthem or flag except at public gatherings. This doesn't mean they are less patriotic, only more conformist. Do as you please, but don't be surprised if you surprise and amuse others.

CONFIDENTIAL TO THE TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB: Jumping at conclusions is not nearly as good exercise as digging for facts, girls.

Greek Decor Ball to Be at Hills Club

Reservations are still coming in for the Bloomfield Art Association's annual ball June 16 at Bloomfield Hills Country Club. Area artists and sculptors have been busy for months designing a scene out of Greek mythology for the 7 p.m. ball and dinner party that officially opens the nine-day festival.

Dubbed "A Night With the Gods," festivities will be on an Olympian scale.

★ ★ ★

Ball invitations have been designed by artist Rocco DiMarco. The king-size invitations are intended to be decorative enough for wall hangings. They will become collector's items, predicts Clifford West, head of the art department at Kingswood School, Cranbrook.

★ ★ ★

Both West and DiMarco are advisors to the ball decorations committee headed by Mrs. Louis E. Dean of Willow Lane, Birmingham. The committee adopted the Grecian gods and goddesses for their theme on a suggestion made by West, who spent last summer in Greece.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Dean's committee has been meeting regularly in the Russell home — even while Mrs. Russell was in Europe for a month — to prepare the elaborate decorations. With chicken wire, plywood, buckets of paste and newspapers, they made huge Grecian urns to flank the ballroom walls.

★ ★ ★

Sculptor Tex Schewitz also made an urn in his studio at Cranbrook Academy of Art. It was so large he was unable to get it into the Russell house.

PRIZES OFFERED

To add to the theme, "goddesses" who are so inclined are being encouraged to create Grecian headdresses. A prize is being offered for the most outstanding entry.

★ ★ ★

The art association members are pouring their creative talents into the annual ball for two reasons. Through the $100-a-couple event, they are providing a gay opener to the art festival. They are also hoping to add to a building fund for a center for Birmingham area artists, both children and adults.

★ ★ ★

The BAA was formed in 1956 to promote participation in and enjoyment of art in the community.

Committee chairmen assisting with ball arrangements are Mrs. Edward S. Wellock, Mrs. George O. Cutter, Mrs. LeRoy E. Kiefer, Mrs. Roger M. Kyes, Mrs. John K. Stevenson and Mrs. Paul N. Averill.

Ball co-chairmen Mrs. George Russell and Mrs. Robert VanderKloot are planning to auction off West's colorful, Grecian-figured murals at the end of the evening. West painted them on large sections of heavy paper which their purchasers could hang like wallpaper.

★ ★ ★

Schwetz used papier-mache and cloth to create a life-size charioteer who will be riding his chariot just inside the country club door. A five-foot-high papier-mache centaur will beam its dark eyes upon the arriving guests.

★ ★ ★

Among local gods and goddesses for the night will be the C. K. Pattersons; the Harold A. Fitzgeralds; the Merrill O. Bates; and the Don E. Ahrens.

Putting the finishing touches on the mural which will adorn a wall of the Bloomfield Hills Country Club for the gala Birmingham Arts Festival Ball June 16 is artist Clifford West of Bloomfield Hills. A make-belive temple for the "gods and goddesses" who will dine and dance that evening is the elaborate setting for the colorful annual affair.

Wash Rollers

Plastic rollers are particularly good for home hair-settings, because they can be whisked through soap or detergent suds after every shampoo. This prevents depositing "old" hair oil or hair coloring on freshly washed locks.

If more than one member of the family uses the same rollers, be sure to use hot suds and rinses for sanitary reasons.

Starch Will Stick

(NEA)—Starch will stick to rope. So when hanging a freshly starched garment on the clothes line, place waxed paper underneath it.

They'll Trim Your Figure

Here Are Easy Exercises

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Today let me give you a few simple exercises which are not difficult to do but which do wonders for your figure. The following one is corrective to bulging thighs, a flabby inner leg line and fat under the arms.

Lie on the floor on your back, legs straight and arms resting on the floor overhead.

Keep your elbows straight and your knees stiff as you drag your legs apart (heels do not leave the floor) and swing your arms down toward your sides, tucking your fingertips to your thighs.

Drag your legs apart as you move your arms sideward-upward to overhead position. Arms stay close to the floor. Clap your hands together as your legs come together. Continue, slowly taking time for the stretch.

FRONT BEND

The old standby, the front bend, is a good exercise if you do it correctly. Most women do not give enough attention or time to the upward stretch. This is an important part of this exercise.

When you raise your trunk after bending forward, lift your rib cage also. This gives you a wonderful pull over the diaphragm. Front bends keep the spine flexible, reduce fat over the diaphragm and stretch the back leg muscles if you keep your knees stiff, as you should).

The following are two easy exercises for the waistline. Stand with your feet separated. Raise your arms overhead. Keep the arms in this position as you sway from side to side, as far to the right as comfortable and then to the left.

LARGE CIRCLES

In this same position make large circles with your torso, circling first in one direction and then in the other.

Just these few simple exercises, done correctly, will give your figure a big lift toward beauty.

If you would like to have my short, daily routine of exercises which are corrective to the most usual feminine figure faults, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 19. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

A graduate from Eastern Michigan University June 10 will be David Lee Kelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kelly of Beechmont Street. He will receive a bachelor of arts degree in physics and mathematics. He will be employed as a research assistant at the Institute of Science and Technology, University of Michigan.

Novina Rae Derk Is Wed to Ronald M. Hambleton

Dr. Milton A. Bank officiated at the marriage of Novina Rae Derk to Ronald M. Hambleton Saturday evening in the Central Methodist Church.

MRS. RONALD M. HAMBLETON

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Phyllis Arlene Derk of Parkhurst Street and Garth S. Derk of Orchard Lake, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Kenneth Sandness of LaSalle Street, Waterford Township, and Ronald G. Hambleton of Royal Oak.

Wearing ballerina-length white nylon lace over satin, the bride carried a crescent of white carnations. Her bouffant veil of silk illusion fell from a crown of seed pearls.

Arlene Derk, her sister's maid of honor, wore mint green chiffon and held a cascade of yellow Shasta daisies. Another sister, Hazel John Pittaway of Lake Orion and Kenneth Albertson of Keego Harbor.

Cascades of white Shasta daisies complemented their dresses of yellow chiffon.

Thomas Goff of Waterford was best man. Guests were seated by ers wore yellow roses.

Members Are Guest at Meeting

Guests from Pontiac Chapter No. 228, Order of the Eastern Star, attended Monday's meeting of Areme Chapter No. 303, OES, in Roosevelt Masonic Temple.

Mrs. J. B. Wilder and Mrs. Raymond Boatright served on the hospitality committee, and Mrs. Bernard Garner, Mrs. Russell Canterbury and Mrs. Loren Palen planned refreshments.

Plans for a picnic July 10 were initiated by the group. Mrs. Harry Lunsford and Mrs. Daniel Peterson were appointed to the food committee. Mr. and Mrs. Royal Clark and Melvin Patterson will select a place for the affair.

Mrs. Harry Lunsford and Melvin Patterson will be guests of the Farmington OES Chapter on June 27. On June 21 Mrs. Edward Moden will visit with the Birmingham chapter.

Committee members for the printing of new membership directories are Mrs. William Pfahlert, Mrs. Kenneth Newton, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Samuel Wiscombe and Mrs. Victor Bodamer.

The chapter will honor past Electas on June 19.

About one-third of all department store purchases are delivered by truck, as well as about 40 per cent of the food bought from the average independent grocer.

Four awards at the honors convocation of Michigan State University's College of Veterinary Medicine were carried off by Mr. and Mrs. John Valerio. The former Marion Greenlee of Avondale Avenue is shown receiving a $100 award from Dr. A. R. Wingerter of the Michigan Veterinary Medical Association for placing second in her class.

League Meets at Dinner

The League of Women Voters of Pontiac met for a cooperative dinner Tuesday evening in the Camley Street home of Lillian Davidson.

* * *

At the business meeting which followed the group agreed to order new league publications which spell out the league positions on constitutional revisions.

Miss Davidson will attend a meeting of voters service chairmen of the eight Oakland County leagues on June 13 in Huntington Woods. The committee will discuss plans for presenting information on con-con candidates of Oakland County to the voters in the form of voters guides and rallies.

Pontiac women volunteering to interview candidates were Laura Belz, Mrs. John Borsvold, Miss Davidson, Mrs. Donovan Gillmore, Elizabeth Halsey, Mrs. Claire J. Hinckley, Mrs. J. E. Scott, Mrs. Fred Steinbaugh and Mrs. William J. Hanley.

* * *

In a report on the state convention May 16-18 in East Lansing the hostess highlighted delegates' part in forming league programs.

Miss Belz reported on talks by special speakers Dr. Ralph Smuckler whose topic was "The New Look in Foreign Aid" and George Romney who discussed "Problems Facing Michigan."

Reports from Michigan members attending the National Council of the LWV of the United States in early May also were heard.

Bonnie Davidson, Mrs. G. A. Flessland and Margaret Harths were added to the membership roster.

What Woman Says Needs Interpreting

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

So you don't understand women—your wife included. Well, maybe that's because you assume a woman means exactly what she says. But a woman seldom does. For instance:

"I'll be ready in just a minute" means "Relax, putting on my face is going to take a while—but it will be worth it."

"She's attractive—if you like the type" implies, "Does anybody?"

"She's so young looking for her age" isn't really a compliment. It's a tip-off that she's not as young as she wants everyone to think she is.

"I had the most wonderful luck today" nearly always leads up to the disclosure that a wife has been a bit extravagant and is building up her buy as the bargain of the year.

IT'S A LURE

"I'd love to have it, but (sigh) it's too expensive." That doesn't mean she has given up the idea. It is just a come-on that is supposed to make her husband automatically respond with, "If it's what you want, get it."

"I'm devoted to Marcia but . . ." Pay no attention to the "I'm devoted" routine—just listen for what follows the pause after that "but" and you'll find out how she really feels about Marcia.

"Do you really like my hat?" That isn't a question—it's a command for you to be reassuring.

* * *

"Of course, I'm not mad. It's just that—" It is just that she is burned up at you, that's all.

"Now don't say a word until I've finished." You'd better sit down before you hear the rest of this. It's going to be bad news, for sure.

More light for husbands on wives' ways: "Happier Wives (hints for husband)." Just send 25 cents to Ruth Millett Reader Service, c/o The Pontiac Press, P.O. Box 489, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 19, N.Y.

Dancing Gets Nod as Second Choice

Movies at Top of Teens' Date Preference

By EUGENE GILBERT
President, Gilbert Youth Research Co.

Here is an opening scene for a typical weekend script . . . You and your date, another couple, perhaps two other couples, all settled comfortable in a car, and someone asks the inevitable question, "What are we going to do?"

Where do YOU usually end up? Well, if you are among the majority of your fellow teen-agers, you will probably go to a movie theater, because this is the No. 1 preference for the best way to spend an evening out, according to a third of the young people.

It is relaxing, provides food for ensuing conversation over a soda, and is not too expensive.

Dancing would be your second choice, if you agree with one out of every five teeners, and bowling would be next, for one out of 10.

FAVORS DANCING

"I like dancing, and you can get better acquainted this way. Also, it is always popular with the girls," says Jack Winjum, 18, of Faribault, Minn.

In defense of bowling, Sue Hastings, 17, of Austin, Minn., says, "It's fun to be active. We're cooped up in school all week.

"On dates, it's more fun to do things than to sit in front of a movie screen."

Six per cent of the young people say they most enjoy staying home with their dates.

★ ★ ★

"You can relax, watch TV, eat, dance, just about anything," says Meridith Jural, 18, of Goshen, Conn. "And your parents know where you are."

House parties and local hangouts were also mentioned.

DRIVE-INS POPULAR

But 13 per cent of the girls and 3 per cent of the boys enjoy spending an evening at a drive-in movie.

In this age of machines, it was automobiles to make some sort of union.

So, in answer to the question, "Did you ever go to a drive-in movie?" we were not surprised to learn that 88 per cent, a whopping majority, have gone.

But only 28 per cent admitted that they go often, as against 70 per cent of the teeners who do not. The rest didn't say.

★ ★ ★

The boys and girls had different ideas on the next one.

Whereas 45 per cent of the boys prefer a drive-in to a regular movie, the majority of the girls, 55 per cent, would rather see a movie at a movie theater than go to a drive-in.

"You save gas," feels Pam Torfin, 17, of Austin, Minn.

Parents, as a matter of interest, are not a stumbling block.

Two-thirds of the youngsters say that their parents do not object to their going to a drive-in movie.

About the only thing some people ever have ready for a rainy day is a newly washed car . . . A small town is a place where, if you buy more than three gallons of gasoline, the attendant asks if you're planning to stay away long. Earl Wilson.

WCTU Holds Federation Dinner

Emor L. Calkins Group of the Women's Christian Temperance Union was hostess for the Pontiac WCTU Federation dinner Tuesday evening at Central Methodist Church.

A "founders' night" theme was used for the occasion. Many members donned Centennial garb.

Mrs. LeRoy Shafer, president of the Frances Willard Union, offered the invocation.

The program was opened with a songfest led by Mrs. Ira Davis with Mrs. Jack Barron at the piano.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jezierski and Joan Stirnemann, the Christian Chapel Trio of the Crusade for Christ television program, sang several selections, including "Hand in Hand with Jesus."

The devotional message was given by Rev. Daniel Wallace, assistant pastor of Central Methodist Church, who spoke from the 13th Chapter of First Corinthians.

Eight unions and nine church denominations were represented. The history of each union was given by the president or an appointed member.

★ ★ ★

The oldest group represented was Pontiac Union of WCTU. Mrs. Ray Fleming, president, reported that it was organized in 1887.

Others reporting their organization dates were Mrs. Mabel Wiser, Frances Willard Unit—1930; Mrs. Frank Hardenburgh, Emor L. Calkins Unit—1937; Mrs. Delbert Martin, Drayton Plains—1938; Mrs. Eleah Patten, Dora B. Whitney group—no date; Mrs. Annie Thompson, Mary Morton unit—no date; Mrs. John J. Little for the Pontiac Federation, and Mrs. William L. Carls for the Anna Gordon Unit—1921. Mrs. Carls read the minutes for the first Anna Gordon meeting.

Guests introduced were Mrs. C. O. Poole of Omaha, Neb., a guest of Mrs. L. G. Rowley, state WCTU president, and Mrs. Sybil Stevens of Pasadena, Calif., sister of federation president Mrs. Nellie Monroe.

Others presented were Delbert Martin, Joseph Green, John McCormick, C. E. Anderson, Ernal Lloyd and A. D. Stimer, honorary WCTU members.

Mrs. Monroe appointed Mrs. Frank Hardenburgh, Mrs. Lorne Warner, Mrs. Leroy Shafer and Mrs. Grace Steeves to the nominating committee.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Hardenburgh and Mrs. Phoebe Davis were hostesses.

Announcement was made of the Anna Gordon annual picnic June 15 at the Pontiac Lake home of Mrs. Joseph Green, district Christian citizenship director. A white elephant sale will highlight the affair to which all unions have been invited.

'Hand'-Washing

A teenager with troubled skin sometimes notices an improvement when she uses her hands, rather than a washcloth, to apply soapsuds to her face and neck.

Once used, a washcloth can be germ-laden, and thus may reinfect problem skin. At least three thorough applications of lather, followed by rinses, are beneficial to problem and perfect skin alike.

Round-Trip Ticket to Moon Will Cost Fare-Paying U.S. Public Plenty

By SID MOODY
AP Newsfeature Writer

The cost of landing an American on the moon is as astronomical as the deed itself.

So costly, in fact, that some influential persons are asking "is this trip necessary?"

President Kennedy says it is. The United States must take a "clearly leading role" in space, he told Congress last month, "for while we cannot guarantee that we shall one day be first, we can guarantee any failure to make this (space) effort will make us last."

He called on the nation to make an all-out effort to land a man on the moon by the decade's end. The nation has the talents and resources, he said.

But it will require mobilization of them on broad and long range scale never before practiced in the United States, he said.

And it will cost heavily, the President warned.

SATURN COSTLY

Take Saturn as an example of the cost. Although the first test flight is months away, the government has already spent $330 million.

"All the public has got for its money so far," Hugh Dryden said, "are a few pictures of an enormous thing and . . . some noises that have shaken up the vicinity of Huntsville" where Wernher von Braun is directing the program.

And an even bigger rocket than Saturn will be needed for a lunar landing.

NASA Chief James Webb has testified it will cost between $20 and $40 billion to land a moon man. That could mean $4 billion a year just for a lunar landing, more than the United States is spending on foreign aid.

After Gargarin's flight, Rep. Victor L. Anfuso (D-N.Y.) said the nation should go on a war footing at once to catch Russia.

Webb said the United States would welcome the chance to perform space spectaculars but added "what we really need to show the world is that we do things in . . . a solid, orderly way."

Some men, such as Dr. Lee Dubridge, president of California Institute of Technology, wonders whether its worth the effort at all to go to the moon when millions on earth are ill-housed, ill-fed and illiterate. And what's so hot about the moon, anyway?

PSYCHOLOGICAL VICTORY

Militarily, no one can really say. But Gen. John B. Medaris thinks "the moon is the greatest advertising billboard since the advent of Coca-Cola."

Whichever nation is the first to land a man there will score a profound, perhaps conclusive, psychological victory.

"We have to continue to be leaders if our system is to survive," said Roy Johnson former head of the Advanced Research Project Agency.

"From a humanitarian viewpoint, we should have everyone fed, sheltered and clothed. But from a practical matter, we shouldn't slow the whole world to catch up with the lowest man on the ladder."

The United States has not yet had to choose between Lee Dubridge and Roy Johnson. The nation seems rich enough to spend heavily in both humanitarian and space projects. But the burden is getting greater.

Kennedy asked Congress for $7-$9 billion additional space funds for the next five years. He asked $679 million more for this year alone.

NASA, which in fiscal 1959 received $338.9 million this year asked $1.4 billion. Kennedy's administration before Gargarin cut $182 million.

Congress after Gagarin restored $38 million and indicates when it comes to space, it is in a spending mood. Last year NASA got every cent it asked.

Is money all our space program needs?

STUMBLE THROUGH

"We've been successful up to now," said Johnson, "because we had enough to stumble through, enough to have many different missiles. But now we are running out of dollars.

"We are no longer capable to blunder through by guess and by God. Unless we get reorganization and forget about politics . . ." He didn't finish the sentence.

"We laugh about Russia and its 10-year plans," he resumed. "We only have one-year plans because Congress won't appropriate more than one year ahead.

"This cripples our long range planning and our lack of that is democracy's greatest weakness.

"Russia can concentrate all its resources wherever it wants to outperform us," he said. "It has chosen to do so in space."

To meet this challenge, the United States must coordinate and plan governmental and scientific agencies to an extent some conservatives may object violates our free enterprise system, Johnson feels.

★ ★ ★

"Some middle ground" must be found between a laissez faire approach and the totalitarian methods of Russia.

In a very real sense the entire nation will be going to the moon, Kennedy said, "for all of us must work to put an astronaut there."

The United States is not yet organized for such an effort, said Johnson.

Space programs are divided between the Air Force, which concentrates on missiles, and NASA which handles only scientific space projects. Thus NASA, for instance, is developing Saturn which has been judged to have no immediate military application.

'ALICE IN WONDERLAND'

"This fragmentation of space is ridiculous," Johnson said. "Until we have peace, we should stop talking about the peaceful use of space. It's military."

"Satellites, lunar expeditions, advance propulsion systems — not a single item . . . (is) totally devoid of present or future military applications," wrote Medaris in his book "Countdown for Decision." Yet great men and their organizations . . . are carefully fenced off from cooperative work on any military objective. Truly an Alice-in-Wonderland approach."

Duplication between NASA and the Air Force is "substantial," he said. Furthermore, he added, more is learned from mistakes than successes and it is the nature of a combined project for some agency to keep its mistakes to itself.

"In terms of one department working with another, there is no reward for confession," he said.

A NASA spokesman noted, however, that the very success of Shepard's flight, done with military cooperation, demonstrates the effectiveness of a dual program.

NASA and Air Force experts are assigned to each other's programs. Their rocket arsenals are being trimmed to have a minimum assortment of types for the jobs at hand — and to be used as interchangeably as possible.

★ ★ ★

Supervising the whole space program is Vice President Lyndon Johnson's space committee.

But it's up to the White House and, ultimately, the American people to decide to what extent the nation should drop other matters and make a beeline into space.

Like the moon, these issues are rapidly rising on the horizon. They will not soon set.

Chicken Is Grilling Gather Round to Eat

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Several weeks ago while driving through the Square Lake Trailer Park, we saw an electric rotisserie outside one of the mobile homes. On it there were 3 chickens going round and round. Evidently a party was in the offing.

Outdoor cooking has become an accepted part of the family's summer meal schedule. We don't presume to make a guess on the number of grills and rotisserie units sold each year. Your equipment can be simple or elaborate.

★ ★ ★

If you missed mention of it when reviewed, you might like to be reminded of the dollar book on outdoor cooking put out by Betty Crocker. It has many valuable suggestions and recipes.

Quartered frying chickens are about as easy as anything to cook on the grill. They're inexpensive to buy, simple to prepare and delicious to eat.

If you will just grill the chicken, then your guests can make their own choice of sauce to put on it. Shown in the picture are a Smoky Barbecue Sauce and a Piquant Pineapple one.

The potato dish is interesting. It starts with frozen French fries. Then milk, cheese, green onions and pimiento are added to give flavor and color, taking the dish out of the ordinary run of potatoes.

Oakland County Consumer Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, tells us that there is an abundance of chicken now and foreseen for the summer months. Let's use lots of it for outdoor grilling.

Patio Grilled Chicken

2 broiler-fryers, 2½ pounds each, quartered
Salt and pepper, optional
Butter, margarine or oil for basting

When the fire has burned to low glowing coals, place chicken well brushed with butter, margarine or oil on grill, skin side up. If desired, sprinkle with salt and pepper after placing chicken on grill. Turn quarters about every 10 minutes, basting as necessary. Cook slowly 1 to 1¼ hours. Chicken is done when drumstick twists out of thigh joint readily, and it is crispy brown. Serve with choice of hot sauces. Makes 8 quarters.

★ ★ ★

Smoky Barbecue Sauce

2 8-ounce cans (2 cups) tomato sauce
½ cup finely chopped onion
2 teaspoons sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
1 tablespoon vinegar
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Few drops liquid smoke seasoning

Combine all ingredients. Bring slowly to simmering; simmer covered, about 20 minutes. Makes about 2 cups. Make ahead; keep in covered jar in refrigerator, all set to go, if desired. Serve hot.

Piquant Pineapple Sauce

1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple
½ cup vinegar
⅓ to ½ cup sugar*
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons cornstarch
¼ cup water
1 large green pepper, cut in squares or strips

Drain syrup from pineapple. Combine the pineapple syrup (about 1 cup) with vinegar, sugar and salt in saucepan; heat. Combine water and cornstarch. Stir into hot syrup mixture. Continue cooking, stirring constantly, until mixture is thickened and clear. Add pineapple and green pepper, and heat. Serve hot. Makes 2½ cups. *Quantity of sugar depends upon vinegar tartness.

★ ★ ★

Deviled Eggs

8 hard-cooked eggs
1 tablespoon lemon juice or vinegar
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon ground pepper
3 tablespoons mayonnaise or salad dressing

Cut eggs in half lengthwise. Remove yolks. Press yolks through sieve and combine with remaining ingredients. Beat until smooth. If desired add more seasoning. Refill whites. Garnish with ripe olive and pimiento slivers. Makes 16 Deviled Eggs.

★ ★ ★

Patio Skillet Fries

1 package (1 pound) or 2 packages (9 ounce each) frozen French fries
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
⅓ cup undiluted evaporated milk or half and half (milk and cream)
1 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
¼ to ⅓ cup sliced green onions
1 tablespoon chopped pimiento
½ cup shredded Cheddar cheese (2 ounces)

Brown French fries well in butter or margarine over low glowing coals (low heat), turning potatoes with pancake turner as needed to brown evenly. Pour evaporated milk or half and half over potatoes; sprinkle with remaining ingredients. Heat just until cheese melts turning potatoes as needed with pancake turner. Serve when cheese melts. Yield; 6 servings.

GREEN PEA SOUFFLE SALAD

Souffle Salad

2 packages lemon-flavored gelatin
2 cups hot water
½ cup cold water
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1½ cups mayonnaise
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon celery salt
Dash of Tabasco sauce
1 tablespoon minced onion
1 cup coarsely shredded, unpeeled cucumber—drained
½ cup finely diced celery
2 cups shredded Cheddar cheese (about ½ pound)

Herbed Green Peas

2 packages (10-ounce) frozen green peas, cooked and chilled
⅔ cup finely sliced pickled onions
⅓ cup garlic, or French dressing
½ teaspoon dill weed

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add cold water, lemon juice, mayonnaise, salt, celery salt, Tabasco sauce and minced onion. Beat with electric or hand mixer until well blended. Chill until firm 2/3 of the way in from the edge of the container. Remove from refrigerator and beat mixture until light and fluffy. Fold in cucumber, celery and cheese; mix well. Pour into well-oiled 6 cup mold. Chill until firm.

Serve with Herbed Peas. To prepare peas, combine ingredients in order listed; toss lightly. Yield: 8 servings.

Lobster Grill Pleases Men

Men like to barbecue rock lobster on the outdoor grill. Also that not only the men but the women and children like to eat them. And here's the trick:

Let frozen rock lobster tails defrost in refrigerator or outdoors. When thawed, use kitchen shears to cut away thin underside membrane. Grasp tail firmly in both hands and bend backward toward shell side to "crack" shell in several places.

Or insert skewers through entire tail to prevent curling. Brush flesh with basting sauce and place on grill over hot coals. Barbecue 5 minutes on flesh side; turn; grill shell side another 5 to 10 minutes, basting top once or twice more.

Lobster is done when meat has just turned creamy white and opaque. Serve with cucumber-horseradish sauce.

Basting Sauce for Lobster

3 tablespoons olive oil
¼ pound butter, melted
1 teaspoon paprika
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
Juice 2 lemons
Salt
Pepper
2 tablespoons brandy, if desired

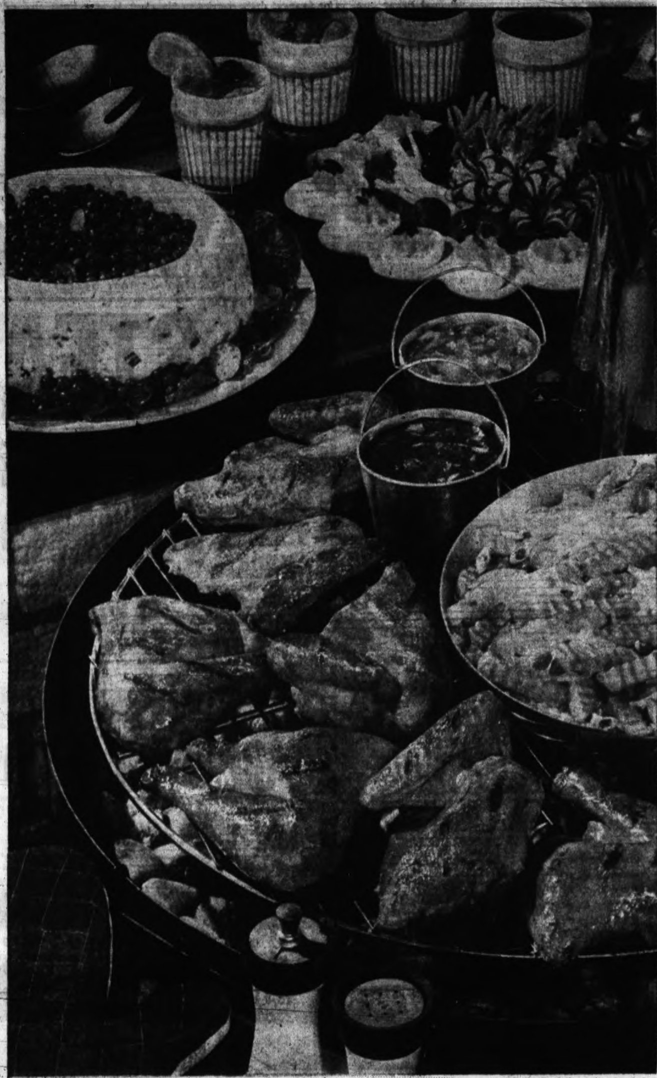
Blend all ingredients together and keep warm in small pan on grill.

Cucumber-Horseradish Dip Sauce

2 cucumbers
1 cup mayonnaise
4 teaspoons prepared horseradish
2 teaspoons chopped chives
½ teaspoon salt
Dash red pepper

Peel cucumbers and remove seeds. Grate or chop very fine; drain off liquid. Should be one cup or a little more. Mix with rest of ingredients and blend well. Stand in refrigerator in covered jar for 1 to 2 hours to blend flavors.

TRY LOBSTER — Here's something for the head barbecuer of the house to try his culinary skill at: outdoor grilled rock lobster tails.



CHICKEN BARBECUE — Barbecue food that's as good as all outdoors can be prepared with ease when you follow the recipes given here. Grilled Chicken and Patio Skillet Fries highlight this easy meal. Both cook over the charcoal fire, to provide festive eating in short order.

Local Residents Have Special Outdoor Recipes

Pontiac area residents enjoy outdoor cooking just like people all over America. They do it at home. They throng the local lake areas during weekends for picnics. They go family camping. Portable grills are an important part of their camping equipment.

★ ★ ★

Much of the success of outdoor cooking can be attributed to aluminum foil. Cooks lay a piece of foil on the grill before placing hot dogs, hamburgers or chicken parts. The foil serves as a pan that can be discarded instead of washed. (Be sure the foil is thrown with tin cans; it won't disintegrate and can be unsightly if just tossed away.)

★ ★ ★

MRS. HOWARD MUDGE who lives at Cass Lake uses aluminum foil a lot. The Mudges have had 3 barbecue grills and use them extensively all summer.

When Mrs. Mudge cooks chicken outside, she brushes it with butter and dips it in flour before wrapping it in foil. The packets are put on the grill and turned from time to time until the chicken is two-thirds done.

Then each package is opened and barbecue sauce is added for the final stages of cooking. Mrs. Mudge makes her barbecue sauce of chili sauce, catsup, lemon juice, salt and pepper and onion juice, Spareribs are done the same way.

The Mudges have an outdoor oven too and use it for meat pies or biscuits. The biscuits are started in foil on top of the grill and transferred to the oven when nearly done.

★ ★ ★

JAMES CLARKSON who has recently moved to a new home on a lake thoroughly enjoys cooking outdoors. He uses an electric rotisserie and keeps brushing the chickens with butter. Mrs. Clarkson does her share by baking potatoes, preparing green beans with mushroom sauce and making a tossed salad.

★ ★ ★

The PHILIP ROWSTONS cook out almost every night. One of their favorite meats is a bacon-wrapped hamburger patty. This is grilled over the coals.

California may well look to its own laurels. Michigan won't take a back seat when it comes to outdoor cooking and eating. The smell of charcoal cooked food is broadcast throughout the land.

Charcoal Adds Tangy Flavor to Ham

If you have spit and electric motor, you can roast a whole ham over wood charcoal briquets. During last thirty minutes glaze can be applied. Mix in blender a small can of frozen pineapple juice concentrate, 1 teaspoon ginger, ¼ cup wine vinegar, one-third cup brown sugar.

Pour into saucepan and heat until sugar dissolves. Apply to ham with brush as it turns over fire.

★ ★ ★

Spicy sauce for a grilled ham steak: mix one-third cup chili sauce, ¾ cup pineapple juice, 1 teaspoon lemon juice and spread on top of ham steak for last twenty minutes of cooking. Serve with Idaho potatoes baked over briquets and frozen buttered peas cooked over the charcoal in foil.

Cut ham into large cubes, thread on skewers along with spiced crabapples and pineapple chunks. Toast over charcoal. Paint ham with fruit juice to keep moist.

For a Sunday morning treat, grill ham steaks and serve with poached eggs and toast made on the grill. Poaching pan can go to one side of the fire. Thick slices of white bread charcoal toasted taste like a new invention. Or wrap sweet rolls in foil and heat them on the barbecue; they'll stay warm and mouth-watering.

Next time you prepare chili con carne, try using half ground beef and half ground pork for the meat instead of the usual all-beef.

Grill Stuffed Chicken Breasts

Lend a gourmet touch to summer cook-outs with "Spicy Stuffed Chicken Breast". This delicious new way to prepare chicken breasts is ideal for the backyard grill, just as tasty when cooked in an oven broiler. An easy blend of canned deviled ham, saltine cracker crumbs, grated onion, and poultry seasoning makes the spicy stuffing. Combined with the delicate flavor of chicken, it's a really unusual taste treat. Here's the recipe:

★ ★ ★

"Spicy Stuffed Chicken Breast"

1 2¼ ounce can deviled ham
½ cup coarsely crushed saltine crackers
½ teaspoon grated onion
¼ teaspoon poultry seasoning
4 chicken breasts (about 2 to 2¼ lbs.), boned
Salt
Melted butter or margarine

Combine first 4 ingredients. Mix well. Wash chicken. Place of each chicken breast. Roll up, tie with string or secure with skewers, Sprinkle stuffed breasts with salt. Brush with melted butter or margarine.

To charcoal grill, arrange chicken breasts on greased grill or sheet of aluminum foil. Grill slowly, turning with tongs and basting with melted butter, about i eTo oven broil, arrange chicken breast skin side down, in bottom of broiler pan, without rack. Place pan in preheated broiler 5"-7" from heat. Turn chicken breast every 15 minutes, brushing with melted butter each time. Broil until crip and tender, about 45 minutes.

Let Guests Put Salad Together

A do-it-yourself salad is colorful, decorative, and just right for a spring buffet. It brings out the latent creative chef in all of us and is a boon to finicky salad eaters.

Have a choice of salad greens—crinkly endive, white crunchy Chinese cabbage, sharp escarole and dark green romaine. Don't hide their beauty in opaque bowls. Find the biggest glass containers you can and let their beauty shine through. Bright red tomato wedges and golden croutons add contrast and highlights.

★ ★ ★

Salad greens, tomato wedges, croutons, with oil and vinegar cruets and fresh seasonings is all necessary for a beautiful salad bar. For more elaborate arrangements, add bacon crumbles, onion rings, cucumber chips, bleu cheese crumbles and a variety of dressings. Guests appreciate the chance to choose and the chance to create exactly the salad they like.

The success of any salad is fresh, crisp greens. Select the best and treat them well. Wash and pat dry with soft cloth or paper towels. Tear them into bite-size pieces and cover them with a damp towel. Place in refrigerator and chill until just before serving. Such treatment can even put some life back into wilting greens.

Croutons should be as crisp as greens. Make cubes of day old bread and fry until golden, not too brown, in hot deep peanut oil. Fried croutons have more flavor and stay crisp longer than toasted ones. For added bouquet, sprinkle the hot draining croutons with garlic salt.

★ ★ ★

Dressing can simply be a cruet of oil and a cruet of good salad vinegar. If you provide a more complicated dressing offer a choice and be sure to leave the oil and vinegar available too.

A good rule of thumb is simple salad — fancy dressing; fancy salad — simple dressing.

Chicken Legs Get Crunchy Covering

Whether you pack a basket for a trip to a picnic site, or tote a meal to your own patio or backyard, plan on food that is easy to carry, and easy to eat out-of-hand. Include a generous jug of cool and refreshing drink to quench outdoor thirst.

A refreshing Lime Cooler Jug makes an appetizing summer aperitif, good for sipping, too, during an outdoor meal of Devil-Crusted Chicken Legs and Macaroni-Stuffed Tomatoes. With chicken-in-parts handy in markets, you can select legs only for smart outdoor eating.

Macaroni-Stuffed Tomatoes combine salad and pasta in an easy-to-pick-up form. Quickly seasoned bread sticks make zesty nibbling with drinks, taste delectable with chicken and salad, too.

Devil-Crusted Chicken Legs

10 chicken legs, or 5 legs and thighs
Salt and pepper
¼ cup oil
3 cups fine bread crumbs
¾ cup butter
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Season chicken with salt and pepper. Brush with oil. Cool in skillet 5 minutes, turning once, to firm flesh slightly. Combine remaining ingredients and press evenly and firmly on chicken. Bake for 25-30 minutes at 325 degrees. Cool before packing for picnic.

Quick Stix

Buy ready-made bread sticks. Lay them side by side in a baking pan. Brush the tops lightly with oil. Sprinkle with different kinds of seasonings from your spice rack—celery salt, garlic salt, tomato seasoning and other specialty seasonings. Heat in a 300-degree oven for 5 minutes. Serve hot or cold. This easy way you can serve 3 or 4 different breads in one basket, at a moment's notice. Allow 3-4 bread sticks per person.

Macaroni-Tomato Salad

1 cup ditalini or small macaroni
1 tablespoon olive oil
2 tablespoons lemon juice
Freshly ground black pepper
½ cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon minced onion
6 to 8 tomatoes
Chives or dill for garnish

Cook the macaroni in well-salted boiling water until just tender. Drain and rinse with cold water. While still hot, mix in oil, lemon juice, and plenty of black pepper. Taste for salt, add more if necessary, then chill the salad. Add mayonnaise and onion.

Lay the tomatoes stem side down, cut off the top and scoop out the inside. (Do not discard, but add to a stew, or strain, season with salt, pepper and lemon juice and drink.) Heap the macaroni salad inside tomato. Snip short lengths of chive or dill for the top.

For easy picnic serving, set each tomato in a paper cup and hand a disposable plastic or wooden fork. Yield: 6 to 8 stuffed tomatoes.

★ ★ ★

Lime Cooler Jug

¼ cup sugar
½ cup lime juice
2 cups (16 ounces) whisky, chilled
1 bottle (26 ounces) soda water, chilled

Chill cooler, liquor and soda before making. Stir the lime juice and sugar together well. Then add whisky and soda. Chill in cooler and carry to picnic site or patio. Pour over ice cubes in tall glasses or tumblers, and garnish with lime slice. Yield: 8 glasses, 6 oz. each.

Use Onion Soup Mix for Unusual Barbecue

Here's a delicious and easy barbecue sauce for chicken: Use 2 tablespoons of onion soup mix (blend the contents well before measuring), ¼ cup Spanish olive oil, an 8-oz. can of tomato sauce, ¼ cup vinegar, a tablespoon of soy sauce and a cup of wine or water. Combine, heat to boiling, simmer 5 minutes, then brush over 2 or 3 broiler chickens left whole.

Truss chickens, impale on barbecue spit and roast over charcoal 1 hour, basting frequently with the sauce. This will bring raves from the entire family.

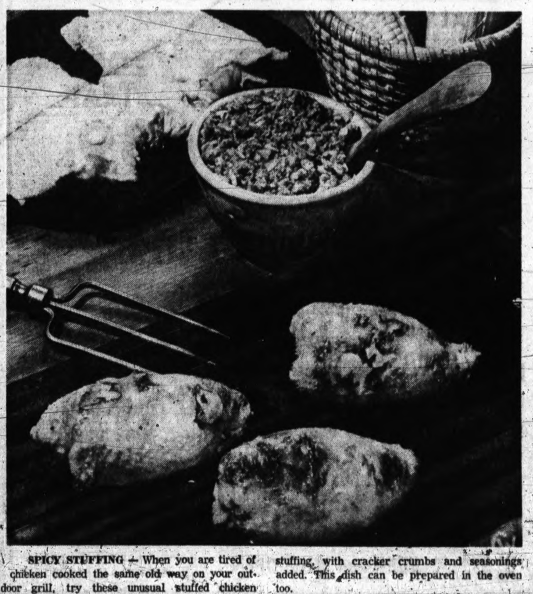
Chop Stuffed Olives for Barbecue Sauce

The addition of chopped stuffed olives to a barbecue sauce for basting chicken is something new and different.

Spanish Barbecued Chicken

⅓ cup catchup
¼ cup finely chopped pimiento-stuffed olives
1 tablespoon salad oil
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
¼ teaspoon pepper
Dash Tabasco
1 2-½ pound frying chicken, quartered

Combine catchup, olives, oil, mustard, pepper and tabasco; mix well. Brush chicken with catchup mixture. Broil 4-5 inches from source of heat, or cook on outdoor grill about 40 minutes, or until tender. Brush with catchup mixture and turn frequently during cooking period.



SPICY STUFFING — When you are tired of chicken cooked the same old way on your outdoor grill, try these unusual stuffed chicken breasts. Canned deviled ham is the base of the stuffing, with cracker crumbs and seasonings added. This dish can be prepared in the oven too.

COCONUT SURPRISES — You'll really be surprised—and delighted—when you take the first bite of these unusual French-fried sandwiches. Coated with the new packaged grated coconut, they have wonderful, crunchy texture—excellent flavor.

Pink Frosted Bonbons Hold a Surprise

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Food Editor

Neatest trick we've come upon recently is this way of baking cherry bonbons—and in good time for springtime tables.

Do you know the jars of maraschino cherries that come with stems? Well, the stemmed cherries are stuffed with small pieces of semi-sweet chocolate and then dipped into batter and baked.

Pink frosting is spooned over the cookies and guests help themselves lifting the bonbons by the cherry stems. If your company is like ours, they'll be intrigued with the idea.

This batter mixture is one of the new recipes using corn oil, and it helps to produce a soft-texture cookie dough that tastes good with the fruit. We chose to stuff the cherries with chocolate because we wanted the bonbons to resemble chocolate cherry candies, but if you prefer you might stuff the cherries with nut-meats.

Cherry Bonbons

1 jar (1 pound) maraschino cherries (with or without stems)
½ cup semi-sweet chocolate pieces
1¼ cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon baking soda
¼ cup corn oil
⅔ cup light brown sugar
1 egg
½ tablespoon distilled white vinegar or lemon juice
½ cup undiluted evaporated milk or light cream
½ teaspoon vanilla

Pour off cherry juice and reserve for frosting; drain cherries on absorbent paper. Stuff a semi-sweet chocolate piece into each cherry.

Sift together the flour, baking powder and baking soda; with fork or pastry blender blend in corn oil until mixture looks like fine crumbs. With rotary beater (hand or electric) beat brown sugar and egg thoroughly. Stir vinegar into undiluted evaporated milk; mix with vanilla into brown sugar-egg mixture.

Beat into corn oil-flour mixture about ½ at a time, mixing until smooth after each addition. Batter will be thick.

★ ★ ★

Dip cherries into batter, turning to coat cherry completely. Lift cherries out of batter with a teaspoon and place them one at a time on an ungreased cooky sheet.

★

Bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven 8 to 10 minutes. (Expect stems on cherries to burn a little!) Cool on wire rack. Makes about 5 dozen bonbons.

To Frost Bonbons: Gradually stir ½ cup maraschino cherry juice into 2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar until mixture is smooth. Spoon frosting over tops of bonbons. This makes a thin covering. Use less liquid and add red food coloring for a thicker frosting.

Note: ½ cup commercial sour cream may be used instead of the vinegar or lemon juice and the evaporated milk or light cream.

Macaroni Makes Salad Hearty Main Course

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gourmet macaroni salad features fruit and nuts. Cook 2 cups (8 ounces) of elbow macaroni according to package directions. Drain, rinse with cold water and drain again.

★

Toss lightly with 1 medium avocado, peeled and diced, ¼ cup of lemon juice, 1½ cups of seedless grapes and 1 cup of peanuts. Chill. Before serving, add ½ cup of mayonnaise and salt and pepper to taste. Toss lightly but thoroughly. Serves 6.

French Cooks Would Use This Combination

This addition to green peas makes for fresh flavor, interesting texture.

Peas With Romaine

Ingredients:

1 can (1 pound and 1 ounce) very young small early peas,
2 cups shredded romaine (packed down).

Drain peas; turn peas into a 1-quart saucepan with ¼ cup of their liquid. Pour remaining liquid into a 10-inch skillet; add romaine. Heat romaine rapidly, turning with a fork, until it is thoroughly hot and the small amount of liquid evaporates; this will take only a few minutes; the lettuce should remain crisp. Meanwhile heat peas, drain; add peas to romaine. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

Note: Choose the crispest romaine leaves for this recipe; washing in cold water helps crisp them.

Cabbage Fixed With a Flair

If you must have a challenge, if you aren't happy unless food is difficult to prepare, then you may not want to bother with cabbage. Cabbage is for cooks who would like for things to jump into the pan, hop out at the proper time and propel themselves to the dinner table without being aided, lifted or scooped.

Cabbage won't quite do all these things, and it does involve a little effort and a little thought. In fact, you can spend quite a large amount of thought on cabbage, but it takes about as little effort as any food you can name.

HUNGARIAN CABBAGE, for example, looks and tastes elaborate enough to satisfy almost any taste, but it is ridiculously simple to prepare. Shred a head of cabbage and drop it into boiling salted water for a few minutes, until the cabbage is tender. Drain and for three cups of cabbage, add ½ cup of sour cream to which 1 teaspoon of caraway seeds have been added. Heat and serve.

Or stuff wilted cabbage leaf with a meat mixture to make Cabbage Rolls. Wilt cabbage leaves in hot water, slightly salted. Combine leftover cooked meat, chopped fine, with bread crumbs, mashed potatoes or cooked rice. Cooked hamburger does nicely as the meat.

Many people like to add chopped onion, melted butter, and catsup. Roll the meat mixture in a wilted cabbage leaf and place several rolls in a baking dish. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) about 45 minutes, or until the cabbage is tender.

Roll Jam Sandwiches in Coconut, Then Fry

If you are looking for "something new and different" to cook, you're one of many millions of homemakers! That's the constant plea we hear — "give us something new . . . something unusual . . . something different from the general run of the mill."

In these Coconut Surprises, you have something new! And they're delicious . . . hot or cold! Try them with different jam fillings—rhubarb, plum, grape. Try serving them for special occasion breakfasts — a birthday, a Sunday brunch outdoors, or at a morning "coffee" when the club meets for a business session.

For a breakfast menu that would include these Coconut Surprises, serve tiny hot sausages, an assortment of fruit juices and lots of hot coffee. For the club luncheon, make the first course a cup of soup. With the Surprises, serve a pretty nut salad and thin the mayonnaise with a little maple-blended syrup. And for dessert, serve parfaits of layered whipped topping and raspberry gelatin. A good menu for a late-late supper, too!

Coconut Surprises

1 loaf sandwich bread (16 thin slices)
1 cup strawberry jam (about)
1 cup milk
1 tablespoon melted shortening
1 egg
1 cup pancake mix
2 cups packaged grated coconut
Fat for deep frying

Trim crusts from bread and arrange in sandwich pairs. Spread half the slices with jam; top with remaining bread slices. Cut each into four tiny sandwiches, rectangles or triangles. Using milk, shortening, egg, and pancake mix, make pancake batter according to package directions. Heat the fat to 375 degrees.

Dip each sandwich into batter, making sure it is completely covered. Use 1 or 2 forks to drain slightly. Roll in coconut, then drop into deep hot fat at once. Fry until brown on both sides. Remove and drain on paper towel. Store in tightly covered container. Makes 3 dozen.

Barbecue Fish for a Change

Halibut steaks barbecued over coals — whether they are grilled outdoors or on a small hibachi placed in an indoor fireplace—are something special when prepared according to the National Fisheries Institute recipe below. Firm-fleshed white-meated halibut is a delightful change from the usual steaks and chops. Furthermore, according to nutritionists, fish is a food that should appear on our menus four or five times a week.

With whole tomatoes grilled along with the fish, potato chips and a hot or iced beverage, depending on the weather, fish steaks provide a main course for outdoor eating, that is both easy to prepare and especially appetizing.

Barbecued Halibut Steaks

4 to 6 halibut steaks (or other fish steaks such as cod, haddock, salmon or swordfish)
½ cup salad oil
¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon dry mustard

Arrange fish steaks in a shallow dish. Combine remaining ingredients and pour over fish steaks. Cover dish and let marinate in refrigerator about 4 hours. Place fish steaks on a greased grill over low glowing coals. Grill 10 minutes, basting frequently; then turn and grill an additional 10 minutes,

Strawberries Have Their Day

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

This is the week when strawberries are expected to move to local markets in some volume. But the peak of the Michigan season won't be before the middle of the month. The Odell berries are still in the blossom stage which means 3-4 weeks before the fruit ripens. Then we fight with the birds for the biggest berries.

* * *

Mrs. Josephine Lawyer tells us to look for fresh, clean bright berries, solid red in color. They should be free of moisture, dirt and trash and the caps should be attached. Size is no indication of flavor.

Pick over your berries as soon as you get them home, discarding underripe and overripe ones. Place on a platter—one layer deep—or on paper plates in the refrigerator. Do not wash them until you are ready to serve them. Be gentle.

Strawberries are high in vitamin C which is good news now that the citrus fruit season has slacked off. There are about 54 calories in 1 cup of unsweetened berries.

After you have had your fill of strawberry shortcake, try a dessert using shredded wheat biscuits. It's different.

Glazed Strawberry Eclair

1 pint fresh strawberries
¾ cup sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
¼ cup water
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 teaspoons lemon juice
4 shredded wheat biscuits
1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Wash and hull berries. Save out 8 strawberries. Mash remaining berries with a fork. Combine with sugar, cornstarch and water in a saucepan. Heat to boiling point, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Stir in butter or margarine and lemon juice. Cool.

Split shredded wheat biscuits along side seams carefully, using point of sharp knife. Spoon half of strawberry sauce over bottom halves of biscuits on serving plate. Spread with whipped cream. Replace tops of biscuits and spoon on remaining whipped cream and strawberry sauce.

Slice remaining 8 strawberries and use as garnish. Makes 4 servings.

* * *

Strawberry Creme is a fluffy mixture that you can serve in a number of ways. Use it as a topping, a filling for cream puffs or a dessert piled high in a sherbet glass. It's inexpensive because it uses whipped evaporated milk.

Strawberry Creme

⅔ cup evaporated milk
3 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
⅓ cup slivered almonds, toasted
1 cup sweetened fresh strawberries, crushed (see note)

Chill evaporated milk in ice tray until frozen around edges. Chill 1½-quart mixing bowl and beaters too. Put ice cold milk and sugar into cold bowl and whip with electric mixer until fluffy. Add lemon juice and whip until very stiff. Fold in almonds and strawberries. Spoon into dessert dishes and chill until ready to serve (up to 30 minutes). Serves 4. For variety, fill cream puffs or top cake slices with strawberry creme.

NOTE: Other fresh berries, such as raspberries or blueberries may be used instead of strawberries.

* * *

Know what? This year is the 40th anniversary of the chiffon pie. We never gave a thought to the time when such a pie wasn't made. In case you can't find your recipe for Fresh Strawberry Chiffon Pie, here is a copy.

1 envelope unflavored gelatine
¼ cup cold water
3 eggs, separated
½ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
¾ cup milk
1½ cups sliced fresh strawberries
¼ cup sugar
9-inch graham cracker pie crust
Whole strawberries for garnish

Soften gelatine in cold water.

Combine egg yolks and the ½ cup sugar in the top part of a double boiler. Stir in salt and milk. Cook over hot water (not boiling) or very low heat until the mixture coats a metal spoon, stirring constantly. Remove from heat.

* * *

Add softened gelatine. Chill until mixture is about as thick as fresh egg whites. Fold in sliced strawberries.

Beat egg whites until they stand in soft peaks into which gradually beat in the remaining ¼ cup sugar. Then fold into the gelatin mixture. Turn into a cold Graham Cracker Pie Crust. Chill until ready to serve.

Spread with sweetened whip cream. Top with whole fresh strawberries. Yield: Filling for one 9-inch pie or for 6 servings.

SHREDDED WHEAT ECLAIRS—Fresh strawberry season calls for a variety of new recipes. One of the more unusual ones is this "eclair" made with regular shredded wheat biscuits, fresh strawberries and whipped cream. You'll like the combination of texture and flavor. Michigan strawberries are just about ready to come into the market in volume.

Rose Wine Used in Chiffon Whip

If the season for fresh raspberries isn't as close as you could wish, rush it a little with this light dessert made with the frozen berries. Rose wine, the pretty pink dinner wine from California, is used as part of the liquid in the gelatin mixture, giving the whip a delightfully unusual flavor.

* * *

The amount of sugar in this recipe is deliberately low to please those who like a not-too-sweet dessert. Others may prefer to add one or two tablespoons more sugar to the whipped cream.

Raspberry Chiffon Whip

1 (10-ounce) package frozen raspberries
1 (3-ounce) package raspberry-flavored gelatin
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ cup Rose wine
½ cup whipping cream
1 tablespoon sugar

Thaw raspberries and drain, saving syrup; set berries aside. Add water to syrup to make ¾ cup liquid. Heat to boiling, stir in gelatin until dissolved. Blend in lemon juice and wine; chill until slightly thickened.

* * *

Whip cream with sugar until stiff. Whip gelatin until frothy; fold in whipped cream and raspberries. Spoon into dessert dishes and chill until set. Serve with additional whipped cream, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

Frequent Serving of Fish Improves Quality of Diet

Seafoods of all kinds will play an increasingly important role in human nutrition, according to Dr. Fredrick J. Stare, chairman of Harvard University's Department of Nutrition. Speaking recently at the 16th annual convention of the National Fisheries Institute in Washington, D.C., Dr. Stare based this prediction on the excellent nutritional value of fish and shellfish and the desirable characteristics of fish fats.

* * *

"We recommend that fish be included in the diet four times a week," he said. "Seafoods fulfill the modern conception of good nutrition. They are high in the protein that contain the important amino acids, high in mineral content, low in fats—and those fats that fish do have are of the polyunsaturated type."

Saturated fats, he explained, are the most suspect in causing cholesterol in the blood, which in turn causes athero-sclerosis, the form of arterio-sclerosis responsible for strokes and heart disease. By eating foods containing polyunsaturated fats, the chance of building too much cholesterol in the body is cut down. As foods rich in the polyunsaturated fats which are believed to be effective in lowering blood cholesterol, Dr. Stare mentioned fish and the common vegetable oils—corn oil, cottonseed oil and soybean oil.

This recipe for Broiled Fish Paprika, gives an excellent way of taking advantage of the high nutritional qualities of fishery products and the polyunsaturated fats found both in fish and corn-oil margarine.

Broiled Fish Paprika

2 pounds fish fillets (fresh or frozen)
½ cup (1 stick) corn-oil margarine, melted
2 tablespoons paprika
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
2 tablespoons lemon juice

If fish is frozen, let thaw in the refrigerator or at room temperatures. Place fish in preheated broiler pan. Brush with sauce made from melted margarine seasoned with paprika, salt, pepper, Worcestershire and lemon juice.

* * *

Place pan in broiler 2 inches from heat and broil 3 minutes. Turn steaks. Brush again with sauce and broil 3 to 5 minutes longer, or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Makes six servings.

Cheese Soup Becomes Dip for Hot Dogs

Yes, there is a new way to serve the succulent frankfurt, and it's a way that the whole family will enjoy, as well as guests, too.

The basis for these sensationally new "cheese dogs" is one of the new concentrated cheese soups now on the market. The contents of the can should be poured directly into a chafing dish or saucepan, without thinning. After you have served "cheese dogs" a few times, you may wish to add other seasoning to your own taste. But for the first time, try the mixture exactly as prepared by the makers.

Heat until the cheese begins to soften in the pan and then put in five or six frankfurts warmed to room temperature. Allow the combination of cheese and frankfurts to heat thoroughly, and then you're ready to introduce a new taste-delight to the world!

Using regular hot dog buns, (warmed, if you like), place one of the "cheese dogs" in the center, and serve with any garnishes, snacks or relishes, such as potato chips and dill pickles, that you wish. Be prepared to serve seconds and thirds and fourths!

Of course, if the canned cheese soup isn't available, or if you prefer, a regular Welsh Rarebit may be prepared which is just as delicious, although more trouble.

Save Calories Keep Goodness

Baked custard is an old favorite among desserts, but it is usually so rich in milk and sugar that the calorie counters must avoid it entirely. Not so with this new low-calorie custard, made with nonfat milk and granulated sugar substitute, which gives all the sweetness of sugar but none of its calories.

* * *

This low-calorie custard is so easy to make that the young daughter of the family can experiment on it for her first attempt at cooking. For mother, it provides a welcome treat for that late morning or mid-afternoon coffee break when sweet rolls or cake add too many calories.

And for the whole family, it is an excellent dessert which can be dressed up with fruit or caramel syrup, or eaten as is for the light touch so desirable at the end of a summertime meal.

Baked Custard

1 egg, lightly beaten
¾ teaspoon granulated sugar substitute
1 cup skim milk or liquefied nonfat dry milk
½ teaspoon vanilla
Nutmeg

Combine beaten egg with sugar substitute; slowly add skim milk and vanilla, blending well. Pour mixture equally into two custard cups; top with a sprinkling of nutmeg. Bake in pan of hot water in moderate oven (325 degrees) about 1 hour, or until mixture does not adhere to knife. Serves 2.

Homemade Mix Is Easily Stored

The housewife who receives food donated by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, including flour and non-fat dry milk, can make her own ready mix for muffins, waffles or griddlecakes.

Home economists of the U.S. Department of Agriculture offer a recipe for a Quick Bread Mix which may be made up at one time, using Government-donated food for most of the mix, and stored dry on the shelf until it is needed. At meal time, it may be made into muffins; with a slight change, it makes delicious batter for waffles, another change for griddlecakes.

Quick Bread Mix

Combine 6 cups sifted flour, 1 cup dry milk, ¼ cup baking powder, 2 teaspoons salt and ½ cup sugar. Sift these things together three times. Cut in ¾ cup shortening until thoroughly mixed. Put into glass jars or tin cans. Do not pack. Close tightly and store on shelf.

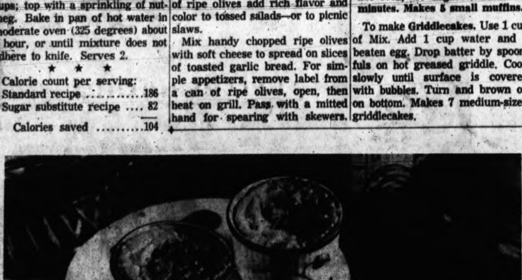
To make Muffins. Use 1 cup of Mix; add ⅓ cup water and 1 beaten egg. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full. Bake in hot oven, 400 degrees, about 20 minutes. Makes 5 small muffins.

To make Griddlecakes. Use 1 cup of Mix. Add 1 cup water and 1 beaten egg. Drop batter by spoonfuls on hot greased griddle. Cook slowly until surface is covered with bubbles. Turn and brown on on bottom. Makes 7 medium-sized griddlecakes.

Can of Ripe Olives Offers Many Ideas

Easy fixings for barbecue salads, appetizers, main dishes and breads come in a can of glossy ripe olives. String pitted ripe olives on skewers with shrimp, beef or lamb cubes, franks, chunks of canned luncheon meat or squares of bologna or salami. Wedges or chunks of ripe olives add rich flavor and color to tossed salads—or to picnic slaws.

Mix handy chopped ripe olives with soft cheese to spread on slices of toasted garlic bread. For simple appetizers, remove label from a can of ripe olives, open, then heat on grill. Pass with a mitted hand for spearing with skewers.



FEWER CALORIES — Creamy baked custard may now be enjoyed by calorie-counters when it's made with a granulated sugar substitute. You can get the benefit of the rich, nutritious dessert without going over your calorie allowance for the day.

NEW FOR LUNCH—Slices of cold boiled ham are filled with parslied rice, then baked in a tangy sauce of tart red jelly and mustard. This is a delightfully quick dish to make.

Tang of Ginger Spices Peach Ice Cream

"Ginger-Peach Ice Cream Bombe" is a spectacular dessert for your next party. It looks and tastes like a chef's pride and joy, but requires only three ingredients and a few minutes of your time.

Just stir chopped canned cling peach slices and candied ginger into vanilla ice cream, then freeze until firm in a high and handsome mold. It's that simple — but it's a mountain of dessert delight.

Ginger-Peach Ice Cream Bombe

1 (1 lb. 13 ounce) can cling peach slices
2 pints vanilla ice cream
¾ cup finely chopped candied ginger

Chill peaches thoroughly. Drain well and chop. Stir ice cream in large bowl to soften slightly. Quickly stir in peaches and ginger. Turn into 2-quart mold; cover with waxed paper or foil and smooth top with palms of hands. Freeze until firm.

To unmold: let mold stand at room temperature a few minutes, invert on plate, then rub outside mold with towel wrung out in hot water. Serve at once. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Don't stack more than two cups and saucers together when you are putting them on a buffet table.

Little Ham Rolls Bake Quickly

Here is a simply delicious luncheon dish that can be prepared in a jiffy. Served with a salad of greens, these Tangy Ham Rolls make an appetizing lunch that is different.

The pre-cooked rice with chopped parsley is rolled in slices of boiled ham; covered with a tangy mustard sauce and baked just ten minutes, they are colorful and appealing in appearance and "yummy" to taste.

Tangy Ham Rolls

1½ cups instant rice
½ teaspoon salt
1½ cups boiling water
⅔ cup tart red jelly
½ cup prepared mustard (about)
½ cup finely chopped parsley
8 slices boiled ham

Add rice and salt to boiling water in saucepan. Mix just to moisten all rice. Cover and remove from heat. Let stand 5 minutes.

Meanwhile, heat jelly and mustard in saucepan over medium heat, stirring until blended.

Add parsley to the rice, mixing lightly with a fork. Place a scant ½ cup of rice mixture on each ham slice. Roll up and arrange in baking dish. Pour hot mustard sauce over rolls. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) 10 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Light-as-Air-Dessert Originated in Austria

Associated Press Food Editor

Call it a frothy whip, as the English sometimes do. Name it an omelet souffle, a la the French. Or say this dish is a Salzburger Nockerl from Austria. By any name it's a delectable dessert that is a cross between a pancake, omelet and souffle.

We first tasted the sweet in a small Viennese restaurant in New York late one evening when a friend from Vienna set out to acquaint us with what he considers the perfect light snack.

When the Salzburger Nockerl was brought in on an ovenproof platter it looked like a great half-moon of fluffy ivory-colored omelet sprinkled with confectioners' sugar and surrounded with vanilla custard sauce. One spoonful of the airy stuff and we were ready to waltz off to whatever Elysian fields appreciative diners go to.

If you want to try a strictly American version of Salzburger Nockerl, the following recipe will be your guide. This rule turns out a dessert that is a bit more substantial than its famous ancestor — a change that may help you to concoct and serve it easily.

Don't be fazed by the directions to turn the pancake-omelet-souffle out of the pan. If it gets balky, loosen the edges with a spatula. But be careful not to cut into the puffy affair or it will fall before you serve it.

Dessert Puff With Sauce

1 package 4 ounces butterscotch pudding and pie filling mix
2 cups milk
3 eggs (separated)
½ cup light cream
Rum flavoring to taste or 2 teaspoons dark rum
Salt
4 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon butter
¼ cup pecans (chopped)

Stir together in a saucepan the pudding mix and milk; cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. Remove from heat.

Mix ½ cup of the pudding with the slightly beaten egg yolks; reserve for the puff. For the sauce mix the remaining pudding with the cream and rum; chill.

Prepare the puff by beating egg whites and a dash of salt until soft peaks form. Gradually beat in sugar; continue beating until VERY STIFF peaks form. Fold in the pudding-egg yolk mixture.

★ ★ ★

Melt butter in a 10-inch skillet with removable or oven-heat-resistant handle. Turn puff mixture into the hot skillet. Cook over VERY LOW HEAT 3 minutes, then bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 15 minutes or until puffed high, lightly browned and firm to the touch.

Place large serving plate over skillet and invert so as to turn puff out. Sprinkle with confectioners' sugar and serve warm with cold sauce into which pecans are folded at last minute. Makes 6 servings.

Instant Minced Onion Livens Mashed Potatoes

Give extra flavor to everyday mashed potatoes by using instant minced onion. Just measure the amount you need and add it with the heated milk, butter and seasonings.

One tablespoon of instant minced onion is equivalent to ¼ cup chopped raw onion. It eliminates unpleasant paring or chopping of raw onion.

Bouillon on the Rocks Has Bit of Orange Juice in It

Get summer meals off to a good start with orange bouillon on the rocks — canned condensed beef bouillon diluted with orange juice instead of water. Serve the amber colored soup in tall glasses over ice cubes, garnished with perky sprigs of mint.

★ ★ ★

It's low in calories, yet high in good health with protein from the bouillon and vitamin C from the orange juice. If you're serving a crowd, mix the soup and orange juice in a pitcher. Each can of soup makes 2 to 3 servings.

Indian Pudding Popular

Beat 4 tablespoons of butter to a cream with ¼ pint powdered sugar. Add yolks of 3 eggs, beat thoroughly. Add ½ cup corn meal and the egg whites beaten to a stiff froth.

Mix well and bake in buttered dish half an hour.

Scholle Favored for State Post

Senate Must Confirm Nomination, Which Is Stalled in Committee

LANSING (AP) — August Scholle, president of the Michigan AFL-CIO, was an odds-on favorite today to become a member of the State Conservation Commission — even if only on an interim basis.

Scholle, of Royal Oak, was named by Gov. Swainson to serve on the commission several weeks ago, but the Senate — which must confirm the nomination — has not received the appointment from its six-man business committee.

Key man in the controversy has been Sen. Carlton H. Morris, R-Kalamazoo, who has voted with the two Democrats on the committee every time a motion has been made to vote the Scholle appointment out of committee onto the Senate floor. This has resulted in a 3-3 tie vote.

Asked by newsmen how he would vote on Scholle, Morris said:

"If there are enough votes on the floor to confirm the nomination, I will vote in the committee to report it out. If there doesn't appear to be enough votes, then I'm not going to vote to report him out."

If the Senate adjourns without taking action, Swainson has said, he will reappoint Scholle, who would serve on an interim basis until the legislature reconvenes next January.

Morris said he disagreed with Scholle on a number of political issues in the past, and probably will disagree with him in the future.

"But I know of no reason why he should not serve on the commission."

Morris added that the Republican party gets a "great deal of labor support, and there is no point in rejecting Scholle just because he heads the AFL-CIO."

Italian Prime Minister to Confer With Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy and Prime Minister Amintore Fanfani of Italy will confer next Monday and Tuesday at the White House.

Fanfani, accompanied by Foreign Minister Antonio Segni and a small group of high ranking Italian officials, will arrive here Sunday at the President's invitation.

Monster of the Deep Is Only U.S. Navy's Nuclear Sub Triton

WASHINGTON — As the submarine Triton was making its supersecret, submerged journey around the world, it raised periscope in the Philippines' Magellan Bay.

Capt. Edward L. Beach found himself staring into the eyes of a startled fisherman in a canoe. The Filipino, as it turned out, was the only unathorized person to detect Triton during the voyage.

People have since wondered: Who was the fisherman?

The National Geographic Magazine, in a search dubbed "Needle in a Haystack," has located the fisherman on Mactan Island off Cebu. He is 19-year-old Rufino Baring.

Rufino, by his own admission, was terrified when the "eye" of the huge, 447½-foot nuclear submarine unexpectedly broke water, vanished, then reappeared.

"I was tired and thought I was seeing things," he said. "But when it came back I thought it was part of a very big monster, and I was very frightened!"

Whereupon, he said, "I tried to get away as fast as I could because it started to move very fast."

★ ★ ★

Rufino never looked back as he paddled frantically for home, and he concealed the incident from his family though he later confided it to a friend. His last trace of dread vanished only recently when he was told what he had actually seen.

FACT TO FACE

The incident, as described by Captain Beach in his log:

"Upon rising the periscope," I am looking right into the eyes of a young man in a small canoe, close alongside. Perhaps he has detected the dark bulk of our hull in the relatively clear waters of the bay . . .

"Down periscope!" The bright steel tube slides down into its well as I describe the scene above to the people in the conning tower.

"A few seconds later I motion for the scope to be raised once more. Sure enough, there is our friend, impassively leaning on his gunwales and staring right at the periscope as it rises barely two inches out of the water.

★ ★ ★

"It is a ludicrous situation: On the one hand an impassive Asian, staring with curious concentration at an unusual object in the water; on the other, a U. S. Navy officer, equipped with all the technical devices money and science can procure, looking back with equally studied concentration.

On one end of the periscope, an outrigger canoe propelled by the brawny arms of its builder; on the other end, a $100 million submarine, the newest, biggest, most powerful in the world, on a history-making cruise.

"What an abyss — what centuries of scientific development — lie between him and me!"

SEARCH ON MACTAN

As Capt. Beach's narrative of the voyage, "Triton Follows Magellan's Wake," was being readied for publication in the November issue of National Geographic, assistant editor John Scofield cabled Edson H. Canova, a business executive whom he had met in Cebu City, to try to track down the fisherman.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Canova and Bob Yost, the American consul in Cebu, thought Mactan was a likely place to look. They went there, finally trekked through fields of camote and corn to find their man in the last house on the island.

Kookie Has Car Trouble —Law Gets in His Hair

SANTA MARIA, Calif. (AP)—Edd (Kookie) Byrnes, jive-talking car parker on the "77 Sunset Strip" TV series, has a real-life auto problem.

Byrnes, 24, pleaded innocent Wednesday to a speeding charge and asked for a jury trial. No date has been set.

Police accuse him of going 75 miles per hour in a 65 m.p.h. zone, and say he also has two other speeding charges pending.

Trick Shot Slays Snake

SPENCER, Ind. (AP)—Russell Farris was out walking in the woods when he saw a rattlesnake.

Farris threw up his left hand in protection and fired his 22-caliber pistol with his right. The bullet passed through his left hand and killed the snake.

City Fire Damage Drops $6,300 in One Month

Fire damage in Pontiac last month totaled $2,905, down from $9,200 in April.

There were no fatalities from fire either month.

Per capita, the fire department reported Pontiac lost $0.04 in May. The April figure was $0.11.

Firemen answered 166 alarms in May, six less than in April.

Of those, 61 were fire alarms—24 fires in buildings, 9 brush and grass, 12 miscellaneous, 13 in motor vehicles, 1 rubbish near building, and 2 dump fires.

★ ★ ★

The other calls included 57 rescue and emergency runs; 9 false alarms, and 39 investigations.

There was one injury by fire in May as compared to none the previous month, and the fire department made 238 inspections, down from 270 in April.

Guilty of Burglary at Service Station

A jury of 12 women yesterday found Andy R. Guyton guilty of burglary after the 25-year-old Pontiac man first admitted the breaking in of a gas station and later pleaded innocent.

It took the Circuit Court a little over 30 minutes to return a verdict of guilty as charged against Guyton, of 73 Florida St.

He was accused of the March 25 break-in of Oman's Service Station, 180 Orchard Lake Ave.

He pleaded guilty in April to the charge, and when the time came April 17 to be sentenced, he switched his plea, bringing the case to trial.

Judge Frederick C. Ziem set sentencing for June 26 and ordered Guyton back to the county jail under a $500 bond.

Raisins to Flavor It?

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Lawyer Bert Sachs says his 4-year-old son has taken up cooking as a hobby. When he heard strange noises from the kitchen he found the tot cooking "chocolate soup." The ingredients: two quarts of milk, one quart of orange juice, three raisins.

Lee Remick Has Son

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Lee Remick and producer William Colleran have a new addition to their family: a son, born Wednesday but not yet named.

The Collerans have another child, Katherine, 2.

Big Weapons Sum Agreed On

Senate House Group Sets Figure for Year at $12.56 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate and House conferees Wednesday agreed on a bill to authorize $12.56 billion expenditures for the nation's major military weapons in the year beginning July 1.

The compromise, still subject to final House and Senate action, includes $525 million more than President Kennedy asked for manned bombers.

The major differences between the House and Senate version of the bill, and compromises reached today:

The House added to the President's authorization requests $337 million for B52s or B57s. The Senate added $525 million for long-range manned aircraft for the Strategic Air Command without specifying a type. The conferees took the Senate figure and wording.

The house added $21.2 million for turbofan engines on the last 15 of the KC135s to be built. The Senate conferees accepted the House figure.

The House added $25 million for three plush special air mission jet planes. The conferees agreed on one more special plane to go with the three in existence for a total of $8 million-plus.

Guerrillas to Display Buck Rogers Devices

FT. EUSTIS, Va. (AP) — The Army today puts on display some of the spectacular transportation tools and techniques it would use in guerrilla warfare.

The spotlight plays on:

Hooking a rocket to the back of a man so he can be shot limited distances. There have been more than 30 tests of this still experimental device.

★ ★ ★

A "marsh buggy" for moving men and supplies through swamp too thick for boats and too thin for vehicles or foot travel.

A "helicycle," a miniature helicopter to carry a soldier over enemy-held strips of land or across impassable terrain.

TO SHOW MOBILITY

They are part of the Transportation Corps' "operation mobility" program. Its object: To show the corps' capability in both limited and full-scale battlefield action.

By coincidence, today's demonstration comes two days after President Kennedy, in a nationwide radio-television talk, again emphasized the priority Communists give to waging "sub-limited" warfare. That is the planned conquest of a country through guerrillas or insurgents.

★ ★ ★

At this headquarters and research center for the Transportation Corps is a combat development group assigned to watch out for the specific needs of various branches of the Army, including the special forces of guerrilla warfare experts.

The Army, in inviting newsmen, said that in view of the emphasis on limited and unconventional warfare, the demonstration would highlight equipment for transporting men and material for such action anywhere.

More than 25,000 inland American communities depend solely on motor trucks for their freight service.

Will Ask Congress to Hike Limit on Debt

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy will ask Congress soon to hike the temporary legal limit on the national debt to $300 billion from its present level of $293 billion.

★ ★ ★

The $300-billion figure is equal to the highest legal limit on record.

Borrowing to cover the 1962 budget deficit and get the treasury over the usual autumn tax ebb is expected to bring the debt close to $300 billion. That would be a new high on the debt itself.

★ ★ ★

But a high official said privately that "We're not going to let it go there."

Vienna Spirit Is Ignored by Red Chinese in Laos

By JOHN RODERICK

TOKYO (AP)—The fall of Padong and Red China's comments since Soviet Premier Khrushchev and President Kennedy agreed in Vienna that an effective cease-fire in Laos is necessary suggest that Asian Communists headed by Mao Tze-tung feel in no way bound by the sober no-ultimatum, no-threat spirit of Vienna.

★ ★ ★

The Chinese Communist boss himself has made no comment on the Vienna meeting. But his propaganda organs, after earlier wishing the conference well, now dismiss it as a handshaking session that produced little or no results.

The Chinese Reds from the beginning of Kennedy's term pictured him as worse than President Eisenhower and by implication warned Khrushchev that such a man could not be trusted.

CHARGE VIOLATIONS

The Chinese diatribes against the youthful American chief executive have stepped up since the Vienna meeting.

★ ★ ★

Referring to the cease fire in Laos, the official New China News Agency charged that violations were created solely by the pro-Western government headed by Prince Boun Oum and Gen. Phoumi Nosavan.

"If Kennedy really means to recognize the importance of an effective cease fire in Laos, as he stated in Vienna, then the United States should desist from encouraging the Phoumi-Boun Oum rebel clique to violate the cease fire," it said.

It described the fall of Padong as a U.S. "pretext" for stalling the Geneva conference on Laos.

Mao and Communist China speak with authority on neighboring Laos. Though Soviet planes and pilots now airlift munitions and supplies to the rebels in the land-locked jungle kingdom, the Soviets are johnnies-come-lately there. Indochina for centuries has been a target for Chinese conquest.

MAO'S PRESERVE

Since 1951, when he sent his "volunteers" into Korea, Mao has indeed regarded all of Asia as his special preserve, to be converted to communism by wars of liberation or by subversion.

He believes that if he is to make any headway among the backward, former colonial countries of the region, he must constantly keep before them the image of a rapaciously imperialist United States threatening to enslave them.

This Mao's policies run headon into Khrushchev's public view that the Soviet Union and the United States must reach a live-and-let-live arrangement if nuclear catastrophe is to be avoided. Mao has made it clear that though he does not agree, he is willing to humor Khrushchev in his periodic ventures into summitry as long as China's Asian sphere of influence is left alone.

Says Loan Veto Cost Customers $3.5 Million

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Swainson's veto of a small loan bill cost customers of small loan companies more than $3.5 million a year, a spokesman for the Michigan Consumers Finance Association said today.

The saving would have been realized under a provision raising the ceiling on small loans from $500 to $1,000, said Russell J. Darling, the association's executive director.

A study by Dr. Thomas G. Gies, professor of finance at the University of Michigan, showed that more than half of the borrowers using small loan service have two or more accounts, Darling said.

At least 25 per cent of these would be consolidated into one account by increasing the loan ceiling, reducing interest charges, he said.

$62,884 Is Granted for Deafness Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Office of Vocational Rehabilitation has granted the Michigan Department of Mental Health $62,884 to undertake a three-year program to separate mentally retarded deaf patients from those who are retarded, but not deaf, in its state home and training schools.

★ ★ ★

There will be special training toward useful employment for as many as possible of the deaf patients. The OVR also has granted $32,350 to the Michigan Association for Better Hearing.

The grant will be used to conduct a four-year effort to provide personal adjustment and job training for about 100 deaf men now considered unemployable.

61,036 Fires in State Claim Lives of 236

EAST LANSING (AP)—The state fire marshal's office reported 61,036 fires in the state last year claimed the lives of 236 persons and caused property damage estimated at nearly $51 million.

The deaths were down 16 and the fire loss down $3.2 million from the previous year although there were 922 more fires.

Says Registry Ruling Won't Wreck Commies

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A man who spent nine years as an FBI informant within the Communist party says the Supreme Court ruling that Communists must register will have little effect.

"A few years ago, such a ruling would have been a crushing blow to the Communists," said Herbert Philbrick, author of the book, "I Led Three Lives."

In an interview Wednesday, Philbrick said the Communists saw the ruling coming and went underground.

Church membership in the United States is reported to be growing twice as fast as the population, and 60 per cent of all U.S. adults are now members of a church.

Appoints Rep. Anderson on Shore Committee

Speaker Don R. Pears of the Lansing House of Representatives has announced the appointment of a three-member special committee to study problems of submerged lands and shorelines.

The committee was created by House resolution to study the legal problems raised concerning the ownership of submerged lands and shorelines.

Named to the committee were Reps. Homer Arnett, R-Kalamazoo; Lloyd J. Anderson, R-Pontiac, and William C. Sterling, D-Monroe.

About 70 per cent more youngsters are in high school now as 25 years ago and two and one-half times as many go to college.

Big Three Skips Annual Raises

General Motors, Ford, Chrysler Corp. Hikes Go Back to '48, '50

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors, Ford and Chrysler Corp. skipped their customary annual raises June 1 for 138,000 salaried employes not covered by union contracts, it was disclosed today.

★ ★ ★

The raises, which have averaged 2.25 per cent, had been granted at GM since 1948, and at Ford and Chrysler since 1950. They matched similar annual improvement factor increases provided in the companies' contracts with the United Auto Workers Union.

UAW contracts at the three companies expire Aug. 31. The last general increase under those contracts — 6 cents an hour or 2.5 per cent — was paid in September.

A similar raise went to some 7,000 Chrysler salaried employes who are covered by the UAW contract. Salaried employes are not covered at GM or Ford.

There has been speculation the auto companies would attempt to eliminate the improvement factor increases from new labor contracts. Such increases have been included in place of other forms of wage hikes.

Union and salaried employes also receive cost of living allowances. This allowance under the present UAW contract is 17 cents an hour.

In a letter to salaried employes Ford President John Dykstra said the subject of improvement factor raises "as others affecting our employes, will be re-examined during the year, taking into consideration such factors as the state of the economy, international competition and the forthcoming negotiations with the UAW."

★ ★ ★

A General Motors spokesman said the matter of salary levels will continue to be studied.

Improvement factor raises for the UAW first were proposed by General Motors.

Not Too Angry to Date His Wife of 51 Years Ago

CARLSBAD, Calif. (AP) — "There's no use holding any grudge," Thomas George Baird, 90, said Wednesday, explaining his forthcoming date with a woman from whom he was divorced 51 years ago.

Lavinia Baird, 91, who never remarried, is coming from England to keep the date and to see her eight great grandchildren, who live in nearby Rancho Santa Fe with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Baird.

Great grandfather Baird's second wife died two years ago.

Talks About Powers Reported Under Way

BRUNSWICK, Ga. (AP) — Negotiations are underway with the Soviet Union to shorten the 10-year prison term given U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers, says Dr. James E. Baugh, Mrs. Powers' doctor.

★ ★ ★

The Milledgeville, Ga., doctor, who accompanied Barbara Powers to Moscow last August, told of the negotiations at a Brunswick Rotary Club luncheon Wednesday. "Yes, I have definite information," he said. "I'd rather not say anything on it."

★ ★ ★

In Washington, however, U.S. officials said they did not know of any negotiations. U.S. diplomats have periodically asked the Soviets for permission to see Powers but have been refused.

Files $5-Million Suit Against Gene Autry

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former Western star Gene Autry is accused of drunken driving and speeding in a $5.1 million damage suit filed as a result of an automobile accident last March.

Elena Perna, 41, asked $5 million for her own injuries and $50,000 for each of her children, John, 14, and James, 4, both also hurt. Her complaint was filed in Superior Court Wednesday.

The complaint said Mrs. Perna's car was struck headon by Autry's station wagon at Riverside Drive and Ponca Avenue last March 25.

Autry is now part owner of the Los Angeles Angels baseball club.

Since 1859 the U.S. has produced about two-thirds of the world's cumulative oil supply.

9 More 'Riders' Jailed in South

Arrested in Attempts to Integrate Facilities in Jackson, Miss.

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Nine more "freedom riders" sit idle in Jackson jails today following unsuccessful attempts to desegregate terminal facilities at an airport and a bus station.

For 16 days segregation-defying freedom riders have converged on Mississippi's capital with no intention of letting up. And Jackson city police have promptly arrested 81 Negroes and whites on breach of peace charges.

Wednesday's airport terminal integration attempt was the first here and adds to one similar attempt on the train terminal and numerous attempts at bus terminals.

COME BY PLANE

The latest group of arrivals were three airborne riders from the St. Louis area Wednesday. They were arrested almost immediately after their arrival by Delta Airlines. All were Negroes.

Only hours earlier three whites and three Negroes were arrested following their arrival by bus from Nashville, Tenn., via Memphis.

The airborne integrationists were arrested after attempting to use dining and restroom facilities at Municipal Airport. The terminal waiting room isn't segregated, but the other facilities are.

Gwendolyn Jenkins, 21, of St. Louis, was arrested as she attempted to enter the white women's rest room, while Robert Jenkins, 27, also of St. Louis (no relation) was arrested when he sat down at a table in the for-whites-only restaurant. The third rider, Ralph Washington, 25, of the Webster Grove community near St. Louis, was standing at the door of the white men's restroom when arrested.

Arguments Back Claim

Priest Believes Life Exists in Outer Space

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Does rational life exist in other parts of the universe?

That question has intrigued science fiction writers for many years. Since the advent of the Space Age, it has attracted growing attention from theologians.

The latest religious scholar to express a view on it is the Rev. L. C. McHugh, S.J., associate editor of the distinguished Catholic magazine America.

Father McHugh believes that intelligent life not only exists beyond earth, but that it is quite a "common" phenomenon in the vast reaches of space.

He acknowledges, in a recent article for America, that "at this moment, there is not one scrap of hard evidence to support my case." But he thinks there are sound scientific and theological arguments for the hypothesis.

★ ★ ★

"Organic life on earth evolved toward a specialized animal form that in God's design was apt material for the infusion of a spiritual soul, while at the same time the lower forms were ordained to serve as a substratum for rational existence and its needs," said the Jesuit scholar.

"Why should these things not be generally true in a physical universe characterized by uniformity of law and process?

"God made the universe for His glory, not as something to be gained but as a benefit to be bestowed; and above all it consists in sharing His happiness with rational creatures.

★ ★ ★

Does it not seem strange to say that His power, immensity, beauty and eternity are displayed with lavish generosity through unimaginable reaches of space and time, but that the knowledge and love which alone give meaning to all this splendor are confined to this tiny globe where sel-conscious life began to flourish a few millenia ago?"

Tickets on Sale at Headquarters for State Sing

Tickets for the Centennial State Sing and Fifth Army Band concert are now being sold at Centennial headquarters in the Pontiac Public Library. Tickets for the six performances of "The Pontiac Story" are also being sold there.

★ ★ ★

Organizations sponsoring Miss Centennial candidates are selling tickets to the state sing and band concert in the form of special coupons that are exchangeable for tickets to "The Pontiac Story" at 50 cent reduction in price.

The Centennial State Sing and Fifth Army Band concert will take place only one night, Friday, June 17, beginning at 7:30 p.m. in Wisner Stadium.

The Centennial Spectacle "The Pontiac Story" will be performed in its entirety six nights in Wisner Stadium June 19, 20, 21, 22, 23 and 24, beginning at 8:45 p.m. with a free half-hour preperformance each night by various groups.

★ ★ ★

There will be no Centennial activity in Wisner Stadium the night of Sunday, June 18.

Would Tack 3 Items Onto Constitution

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Estes Kefauver today urged approval of three constitutional amendments to broaden voter participation in presidential elections.

In opening a hearing of his Senate constitutional amendments subcommittee, the Tennessee Democrat called for:

—Federal regulation of state residence requirements for voting.

—Lowering the voting age to 18.

—Authorizing Congress to set up laws providing for state presidential primaries.

Doctor in Highland Park Renamed to State Board

LANSING (AP)—Dr. E. Deane Elsea of Highland Park has been appointed by Gov. Swainson to a second term on the State Board of Osteopathic Registration and Examination.

The appointment expires April 30, 1966, and requires Senate confirmation.

The chemical warfare service was made a U.S. Army branch in 1920.

Atlas Explodes, Rips Launcher

$2-Million Device Is Destroyed as Missile Blows Up on Pad

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — A recently completed "coffin" launcher—and the only one of its kind nearing combat readiness—was destroyed when an Atlas intercontinental missile blew up on its pad.

Observers heard two, and possibly three sharp blasts as the powerful new "series E" Atlas disintegrated Wednesday amid sheets of orange flame. The missile was intended to soar 4,000 miles out over the Pacific.

★ ★ ★

There were no reports of injuries and the Air Force offered no detailed explanation of the blast.

The launcher was valued at $2 million. It was part of a complex of coffin-type launchers here wherein the missiles are stored underground on their sides, protected by a sliding hangar from attack or sabotage. On signal, the hangar slides back and the missile is raised for fueling and firing.

Officials said the explosion would cause an indefinite delay in making the improved type of missile launcher operational.

Reject School-Tax Levy

BERRIEN SPRINGS (AP) — Voters of Berrien Springs School District, for the second time since March 14, have rejected a proposed four-mill tax levy to cover school operating costs.

Says James Inglis to Head State PSC

DETROIT (AP)—James H. Inglis, state racing commissioner, is going to be named chairman of the State Public Service Commission, The Detroit Free Press said today.

The Free Press, in a dispatch from Lansing by political writer Ray Courage, said "Gov. Swainson is expected to appoint Inglis to the $12,500-a-year job within the next few weeks.

★ ★ ★

"Inglis, 51, will move into the spot vacated by George E. Hill, who was appointed United States attorney for the Western District of Michigan.

"No decision has been made yet by Swainson on a successor for Inglis, according to capital sources."

War-Whooping Indians Invade Tiger Stadium

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

During the past 34 years when they needed a coach in the Pontiac School System, they didn't have to look very far.

Kline Hartman was around.

Next week, however, Pontiac's all-purpose coach and teacher retires after devoting 40 fruitful years to youth.

Born in Battle Creek in 1896, Hartman was educated in the schools at Franklin Park, Ill. He continued through college at Central Michigan where he majored in mathematics and physical education.

His teaching and coaching career started in the Mt. Pleasant school system and later at Lansing Central where he started the first swimming team and coached football and baseball.

★ ★ ★

In 1925 he went to Olean, New York and served as city supervisor plus his physical education duties at Olean High.

In 1927 he made his final move and it has been Pontiac's good fortune that he has stayed here ever since. During the 1936-37 season he coached the Pontiac football teams and for 16 years through 1945 he guided the swim teams.

Yes, there were other coaching duties. He was called on to handle the tennis team and for several years he also coached the baseball team.

★ ★ ★

When capable guidance was needed on an elementary level Hartman was available for two years as principal of Whittier Elementary school and six years as principal of Jefferson Junior High School.

Even after his retirement from athletics, his interest in sports and athletes has been very strong.

As a member of the Pontiac Optimist Club, it was his idea that our outstanding athletes, scholars and citizens should be honored from the respective high schools. The boys chosen to possess these qualities have been honored at Optimist luncheons for the past three years.

Thousands of youngsters have been guided through his 40 years in education and athletics.

★ ★ ★

His name has become an institution at Pontiac High School and with Pontiac's history of great names.

What finer time is there than now during this Centennial celebration to honor our outstanding names of the past in sports. Kline Hartman has to be among them.

We wish him good fishing at his summer cottage near St. Ignace.

'Too Good to Fold' Says Tiger Manager

DETROIT (UPI) — "We're too good to fold up completely," said Bob Scheffing in his most optimistic statement about his Detroit Tigers.

"I don't know how good we are. People ask me all the time if we can keep up this pace, if we can go all the way. All I know is that there are no glaring weaknesses on this team. I sit there and I look at this team of ours, and I can't find anything really bad about it. If that's encouraging, then I am encouraged."

★ ★ ★

In a year when the new manager expected to be learning about a young and supposedly mediocre team, he has found himself managing a first place club that has stirred the interests of baseball fans everywhere.

One half of the baseball world is saying the good times cannot last and the other half is asking "why can't they?"

The good times really began in spring training, possibly one day when Al Kaline—who, at 26, has been with the club longer than any other player—dived headlong into third base during an exhibition game.

This act of daring was new to the Tigers, and Kaline was asked about it.

★ ★ ★

"I just think it's about time I started acting like a $40,000 ball player," he said simply. "We have a lot of kids on the team, and if I don't give everything I have every minute of every game, maybe those kids will think that's the way you're supposed to act in the big leagues."

NEW ATTITUDE

No one ever accused Kaline of giving less than 100 per cent, but neither was he noted for head-first slides.

Whatever the reason—the leadership of veterans like Kaline, Frank Lary, Jim Bunning, or the fire supplied by newcomers Billy Bruton and Dick Brown, or the vitality provided by rookies Steve Boros and Jake Wood — it's been a long time since Detroit has had it so good.

The same players who found it possible to sing after a string of defeats just a season ago now show all the symptoms of being downright mad about losing a single game.

Brown, 26, was a baseball nomad without a regular job. He was thrust into the picture as Detroit's No. 1 catcher. Others had tried, and failed, in their efforts to get Brown to hit to all fields.

★ ★ ★

Scheffing merely told him to try it, and it has worked.

The Tiger power has been evenly distributed.

Rocky Colavito, Norm Cash, Brown, Boros, Wood and Kaline have been leading in run production.

"But I can't cite one guy, or even five, who have done the job for us," said Scheffing. "Every man has been improved and I think the players get a lot of encouragement from each other, and from the knowledge that the team has balance."

NO ANSWER

The Tigers have no cut-and-dried answer for the question "what's right with the Tigers?" But Lary, a standout pitcher for seven seasons, has an interesting theory.

"Maybe everyone got tired of losing," he said. "You know, that losing can get to be just a bad habit even when you're supposed to be a pretty good club. Maybe we're just breaking the habit this year."

Detroit Obtains Casale in Trade

Tigers Send Donohue to Los Angeles Club in Swap of Hurlers

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Tigers, determined to strengthen their mound staff for the heavy load of doubleheaders coming up during the next few weeks, yesterday traded Jim Donohue to Los Angeles Angels for Jerry Casale.

★ ★ ★

The exchange of pitchers, a straight player deal involving no cash, was the second trade made by the Tigers in the past three days. On both occasions the Detroit club picked up a pitcher.

The Tigers traded reserve infielder Chuck Cottier to the Washington Senators Monday for Hal Woodeshick, a left-handed hurler.

Casale, a 27-year-old righthander, won two games and lost nine for the Boston Red Sox last season.

The Angels acquired him for $75,000 in last winter's American League expansion pool. His record at Los Angeles this season is 1-5.

★ ★ ★

Donohue hurled 20 innings, all in relief, for Detroit and posted a 1-1 record. A 22-year-old righthander, Donohue saw action with Rochester, N. Y., and St. Paul, Minn., last year, winning nine of 16 decisions.

Nye and Bennett Top Performers in W-O

Joe Nye of Clarenceville led the hitters at .566 and Bill Bennett of Bloomfield Hills was the top pitcher with a 6-3 record in the Wayne-Oakland League this year.

Ernie Miller of Milford was 2nd in both departments with a .550 average and 4-2 mound record. Ron Lundy of Clarkston hit .481, D. Hay, Northville, .434, West Bloomfield's Jim Lucadam, .421. Milford won the title with an 8-2 record, Northville had 7-3, Clarkston, Brighton and Bloomfield 6-4, Clarenceville 4-6, West Bloomfield 2-8 and Holly 1-9.

Ailing Wynn Needs 12 Wins to Reach 300

CHICAGO (UPI) — Early Wynn's magic number is 12 and he doesn't know if he can make it this season.

★ ★ ★

The rugged 41-year-old righthander needs a dozen more victories to reach a major league career total of 300 — something only 12 pitchers have done in baseball history.

But the durable Wynn is having arm miseries. The Chicago White Sox left him home as they departed yesterday for four games in Washington and three in Baltimore during a five-day trip.

Wynn is undergoing treatment from club physician, Dr. Joseph Coyle, who describes the ailment as bursitis in the right elbow.

"The doctor says he doesn't know how long the misery is going to last," said Wynn. "I hope I'm ready by the time the team gets back home.

"If I'm laid up a couple of weeks, it's sure going to hurt my chances of reaching that 300 mark this year.

"I think I've got a good chance if I miss only a couple of turns. I'm supposed to take it easy and take medicine the doctor gave me. X-rays didn't show any bone chips.

"But it certainly aggravates me to have to rest."

Manager Al Lopez said he wouldn't be surprised if Wynn had to rest two weeks before getting an okay from the doctors.

★ ★ ★

Wynn has a 4-1 record for the season and a total of 288 victories. He ranks 14th among all-time major league winners and is second to Milwaukee's Warren Spahn (294) among active hurlers. Wynn and Spahn are the only pitchers since Lefty Grove reached 300 in 1941 with enough durability to approach the mark.

3 Kansas Athletes Ruled Ineligible

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—Withdrawal of Wayne Hightower and likely loss of two other Philadelphia athletes indicates Kansas basketball is in for an oddity next winter—a rebuilding campaign.

Hightower, 6-foot-10 all - Big Eight star the past two seasons, announced Wednesday from his home in Philadelphia he would pass up his senior year at KU to play pro ball. It was reported here he likely would be scholastically ineligible the first semester anyway.

★ ★ ★

Rumors have persisted for weeks that Hightower and his Philadelphia buddies, Allen Correll, 6-3½ junior, and Ralph Heyward, 6-3 sophomore, would not be around for the 1961-62 season at Kansas. All three were understood to be having difficulty with the textbooks.

Trampoline Club Slates Exhibition at Jumpville

The Union Lake Trampoline Club, a newly-formed organization composed of Walled Lake and Waterford high school students, will stage an exhibition next Monday, June 12, at Union Lake Jumpville on Cooley Lake Road.

Four boys and two girls will participate in the jumping demonstration. A couple of the boys will climax the program by leaping onto the trampoline from a 15-foot ladder. The public is invited to attend the show and there is no admission charge. Starting time is 7:30 p.m.

Where Is He Now?

'Black Jack' Hard Hitter

By the Associated Press

One of the footnotes on Black Jack Stewart is that he was voted the most popular player on the Detroit Red Wing hockey club of the 1942-43 season.

It's a good thing other teams in the national hockey league were not given a vote in the matter. Stewart would not have qualified.

He is recognized as one of the hardest checkers in the long history of the club. Nowadays, when burly young Howie Young bulls into an enemy player, an oft-heard remark is that "he hits almost as hard as Black Jack Stewart.

Stewart played 10 years for the Red Wings, with two seasons out for military service. Five times he was on the NHL all-star squad, three times as a first-teamer.

★ ★ ★

Stewart led the league in penalty minutes in 1946. He was selected to the Red Wings' Hall of Fame, and played on two Stanley Cup teams here.

Where is he now?

Black Jack Stewart, 44, lives in Troy, Mich., and works as a salesman for a Detroit Lithograph firm. He keeps in close touch with the Red Wings as treasurer of the Red Wing Alumni Association and maintains an interest in other sports as a judge at harness tracks in the summer months.

Bonus Days Ahead

By the Associated Press

Reports circulated today that Bill Freehan, Michigan's Big Ten baseball batting champion and top football prospect, will sign a major league bonus contract within two weeks.

★ ★ ★

Freehan himself was mum about the reports, and there was no indication as to which team apparently has made an offer the 19-year-old Royal Oak youth feels he cannot reject.

The reports said he would sign a contract in excess of $100,000.

Although all 18 major league teams have shown interest in Freehan, the Detroit Tigers, Boston Red Sox and Milwaukee Braves are believed to have the best chances to sign him.

Scouts were frequent spectators at Michigan games this spring. Most admittedly were watching Freehan, a catcher-first baseman, who compiled a .446 season average and an all-time high of .585 in Big Ten play.

Freehan, a 6-3, 208-pounder, was a star sophomore end for Michigan last fall and has been boomed as a potential All-American.

But Freehan probably will not receive the bonus a West Coast player is expected to draw.

A sports columnist says an 18-year-old Long Beach prep star will sign for the biggest baseball bonus yet.

Bob Bailey, 18-year-old shortstop for Wilson high school, says he still hasn't made up his mind which of several offers to accept.

Tom Meehan, a columnist for the Fresno, Calif., Bee, said Wednesday that Bailey would sign a contract with either the Pittsburgh Pirates or the Milwaukee Braves for approximately $200,000.

This would be the biggest bonus since the record $130,000 paid by the Chicago Cubs for Danny Murphy of St. John's prep school, Danvers, Mass.

NEW TIGER

Jim Mooring, sophomore baseball star of the University of North Carolina, has signed a "substantial bonus" contract with the Detroit Tigers.

Mooring, 19, was batting champion of the Atlantic Coast Conference this past season with a .427 mark. He plays the outfield and bats lefthanded.

He was assigned to Denver and then optioned to Duluth of the Class C Northern League.

Yankees Hand Twins 13th Successive Loss; Orioles Bow

By United Press International

Jimmy Dykes, who hurled the taunt at Joe McCarthy 25 years ago, is likely to hear any day now that he's a "push button manager."

Jimmy's famed quip referred to the ease with which the 1936 New York Yankees demolished their opposition but it applies just as well today to the Cleveland Indians whose top-to-bottom batting power makes victories look as easy as sitting back and lighting one of Dykes' favorite cigars.

★ ★ ★

The Indians ran their longest winning streak since 1954 to nine games and increased their American League lead to a half-game Wednesday night when they crushed the Washington Senators, 11-0, behind Jim Grant's six-hit pitching.

Held hit his ninth homer, Romano drove in two runs and stretched his hitting streak to 22 games and Willie Kirkland also homered to make Wednesday night another relaxing evening for the manager. The victory ran Grant's 1961 record against the league to 7-0 and increased his lifetime mark against the old and new Senators to 18-2. Grant stands only 18-24 against the rest of the league for his career.

The New York Yankees continued their long-range slugging to hand the Minnesota twins their 13th straight loss, 5-1, the Los Angeles Angels vacated the cellar with a 4-0 victory over the Baltimore Orioles and the Boston Red Sox beat the Kansas City Athletics, 6-2, in other American League games.

Roger Maris hit his 17th homer and Yogi Berra his ninth to give the Yankees a record total of 31 in 16 games and pave the way for Ralph Terry to win his third straight game. Terry yielded both Minnesota hits in the first inning and then pitched no-hit ball the rest of the way. The previous record of 28 homers in 16 games was held by the 1941 Yankees.

★ ★ ★

Ted Bowsfield pitched a five-hitter as the Angels downed the Orioles and moved into ninth place. Ken Aspromonte hit a two-run double in the first inning and Steve Bilko a 450-foot homer in the sixth to lead the Angels' seven-hit attack.

Rookie Don Schwall scored his fourth straight victory since being recalled by the Red Sox three weeks ago and also scored the tie-breaking run in the fifth inning when the sox tallied four times. Schwall has allowed only five runs in 35 innings since being brought up from Seattle.

Triple Play Wasted

Successive homers by Mark Bisquer and winner Jean Douglas paced the Yanks to a 9-8 edge over the Tigers in the Pontiac Federal Savings Boys Club baseball loop yesterday. The Tigers pulled a triple play.

Ex-Ypsi Cager Wins 4th for Red Sox

BOSTON (UPI) — Don Schwall—a basketball convert who makes baseball look easy—is the hottest Boston rookie pitcher since Dave Ferriss hit Fenway Park in 1945.

The unbeaten righthander scattered nine hits for a 6-2 victory over Kansas City yesterday, his fourth straight since being called up from the Seattle farm club.

Possessing two styles of fastball, an amazing sinker and an abundance of poise, Schwall has by far the best earned-run average on the club (1.29) and boasts a shut-out among his decisions. He also has beaten Baltimore twice and Chicago.

When Ferriss arrived in World War II, he won his first eight decisions, four of them shutouts.

"The kid is great," said manager Mike Higgins. "I thought he was pretty good this spring. But he is even better than I thought.

"He has the stuff to be a big winner. He has poise and control. He makes the game look easy because he isn't fighting himself or the batter. He just throws the ball."

★ ★ ★

Schwall's Major League debut brought this comment from awed Chicago manager Al Lopez: "That boy has two different fast balls. When he throws overhand it hops. When he throws three-quarter, it sinks."

Schwall, 6-foot-6 and 23 years old, dabbled in a little high school baseball at Ypsilanti, Mich., then went to the University of Oklahoma.

"In high school and college, basketball had been my big sport," Schwall said. "Because the seasons overlapped, I never played much baseball. I was planning to play basketball after college, maybe professionally, but then the baseball offers came along and they were too good."

Schwall, who once held pro basketball ace Wilt Chamberlain to 11 points while scoring 30 himself, changed the course of his life by playing semi-pro baseball in the summer of 1958. His work brought the scouts flocking.

"I was a second baseman in high school but when I suddenly grew from 5-8 to 6-5 my coach changed me to a pitcher my senior year," Schwall said.

Bald Mountain Friendly Place for Mrs. Miller

They had a new winner Wednesday in the weekly Women's Metropolitan Golf Association tournament.

Mrs. C. J. (Bobbie) Miller, playing over her friendly home course at Bald Mountain Golf Club, rifled a 41-39—80 for a two-stroke victory edge in the 18-hole WMGA event. Mrs. Joseph Koss finished 2nd with 41-41—82.

Mrs. W. R. Rodgers, who took 3rd place with 83, came home in 38 for the best nine-hole round of the day, but she slipped to 45 on the front side.

Next week's tourney will be played at Sunnybrook. Championship flight leaders:

Four Crucial Games Start With Twinbill

Cleveland Rides Crest of 9-Game Win Streak and First Place

DETROIT (AP) — The war-whooping Cleveland Indians, on a nine-game rampage, and the wavering Detroit Tigers open a four-game series tonight in the American League's first showdown of the season.

First place is at stake in this modern-day battle of Lake Erie which is expected to attract 100,000 fans to Tiger Stadium.

The Indians came to town as new occupants of first place, holding a half-game and 13 percentage point lead over the Tigers.

Cleveland is riding a nine-game winning streak, longest in the league this season, and has 21 victories in 25 games. The Indians have the league's batting leader in Jimmy Piersall, who's hitting .368, and Johnny Romano with a 22-game hitting streak. Three of the league's five leading batters are Indians.

The Tigers, whose 39-day reign in first ended Tuesday, had five players in the top ten when they raced to a five-game lead in May. Now there is one, Norm Cash with a .345 average. Slumps have sent the Tigers reeling to two straight defeats in which they totaled only one run.

Detroit comes up to the important series with most of its big guns muffled.

Al Kaline has had only one hit in 19 at bats and his average has dwindled from .316 to .289. Steve Boros, the rookie third baseman who received much credit for the Tigers' early spurt, has gone 5-for-47. His average has dropped from .354 to .279. Dick Brown, another leader in the May drive, has topped from .301 to .277 with one hit in 17 trips.

★ ★ ★

By contrast, the Indians have Romano hitting .357 and Johnny Temple batting .328 in addition to Piersall's .368.

Cleveland beat Washington 11-0 Wednesday night while Detroit was idle.

The series opens with a twi-night doubleheader tonight for which a crowd approaching 50,000 is predicted. Another 45,000 crowd is expected for Thursday night's game. The series ends Saturday afternoon.

Manager Bob Scheffing has named his two aces, Don Mossi (6-0) and Frank Lary (8-3), to open the series. Jimmy Dykes, who a year ago was managing the Tigers and never figured he'd be in a pennant battle, has nominated Jim Perry (3-4) and Wynn Hawkins (5-2) to start for the Indians.

Sandy Koufax Returns Dodgers to First Place

(By the Associated Press)

The Los Angeles Dodgers, shrugging off slumps like a politician in office, are back on top in the National League race again, thanks to a handy guy named Sandy Koufax, who has put away four of their last eight victories.

The Dodgers simply have refused to get caught in a serious slide, losing no more than two in a row over the last three weeks while winning 13 of 20 games in a head-to-head battle with the Cincinnati Reds for first place.

After slipping to second with two straight setbacks by San Francisco and Pittsburgh, the Dodgers have bounced back and won two in a row, regaining a half-game lead with a 7-3 victory over the Pirates Wednesday night as Koufax became the first pitcher to win eight in the NL this season.

Milwaukee helped the Dodgers climb back on top by beating Cincinnati 3-1, and third place San Francisco moved within 1½ games of first place with a 4-3, 11-inning victory over Philadelphia. St. Louis defeated the Chicago Cubs 8-6, with Stan Musial going 4-for-4 and belting a pair of two-run homers.

The Dodgers came from behind with four runs in the second inning, beating Earl Francis in his first major league start on a two-run homer by John Roseboro and a clinching two-run double by Willie Davis. They added three unearned runs in the fifth, making it easy for Koufax (8-2). The young lefty, who won only eight in each of the past two seasons, gave up seven hits and two walks, but struck out seven for his fifth straight victory, all complete games. Homers by Roberto Clemente, in the first inning, and Don Hoak, with a man on in the ninth, scored the Bucs' runs.

★ ★ ★

The Braves beat the Reds for only the third time in 10 tries this season behind the four-hit pitching of right-hander Don Nottebart, who squared his record at 3-3 with his first major league complete game. The Reds scored in the second on a walk, Gene Freese' single and a passed ball, but the Braves then scored three in the third, two on Ed Mathews' double, against rookie Ken Hunt (5-3).

★ ★ ★

Musial's home runs, giving him six for the season, built the Cards' winning cushion in the third and seventh innings. Larry Jackson (2-5) was the winner, but needed relief in the eighth after a home run by George Altman. Maury McDermott finally saved it, coming on when Ernie Banks hit a two-run homer off reliever Al Cicotte in the ninth. Bob Anderson (2-5) was the loser as the Cards won their third in a row.

★ ★ ★

The Giants nailed their third victory in 10 games on two walks and a single by Orlando Cepeda in the 11th off losing reliever Chris Short (1-2). Held to one run and two hits for seven innings by Art Mahaffey, San Francisco tied it in the eighth on consecutive doubles by Matty Alou and Harvey Kuenn; both pinch-hitters and Willie Mays. Jim Duffalo and Stu Miller shut out the Phils on four hits over the last six innings, with Miller winning his fifth without defeat.

Suggs, Wright Are Round Robin Picks

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y. (AP)—Louise Suggs, who hasn't finished worse than second in eight tournaments this year, and Mickey Wright were the co-favorites today as 16 professionals teed off in the annual women's round robin today.

The tournament will run through Sunday. The women play in foursomes and the score of each player is matched against the others in the foursome.

★ ★ ★

The championship is decided on a mathematical formula in which points are awarded or subtracted by comparing strokes in each of the foursomes.

Both Miss Suggs and Miss Wright have won four tournaments. Miss Suggs also is the leading money winner on the tour.

Floyd's Next Title Defense May Be Against McNeeley

NEW YORK (AP)—Floyd Patterson apparently has settled on Tom McNeeley of Boston as his next opponent in a world heavyweight title bout, it was hinted today.

Patterson was not available for comment, but his attorney, Julius November, admitted that "it could come to pass."

Championship Sports, Inc., the promoters, said merely that any talk of a Patterson-McNeeley fight was "premature."

The Boston Record said Wednesday that Patterson would meet McNeeley in Boston on Sept. 23 and that the bout would be carried on national television as part of the ABC regular "Fight of the Week" series.

Harry Markson, general manager of boxing at Madison Square Garden, which runs the Saturday night TV series, said he had been in touch with Sam Silverman, Boston promoter, more than a month ago.

★ ★ ★

"He told me he hoped to make a Patterson-McNeeley fight," said Markson, "and he asked me if I would be interested in such a fight for television.

"I told him our sponsors would be interested in any heavyweight title fight. That's the last I heard of it."

Even before the fight has been officially announced, a hitch appeared to have developed in who will handle the local promotion.

No Hits Given, but Knoxville Still Loses, 4-3

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Asheville's Tourists, without getting a hit and giving up 11, downed the Knoxville Smokies 4-3 in the second game of a South Atlantic League doubleheader Wednesday night.

The Asheville victory in the second game of a doubleheader, came despite the no-hit pitching of Mickey Lolich, Dave Reed and Ross Grimsley.

★ ★ ★

The Tourists runs came off Lolich and Reed on four straight walks, a sacrifice fly, an error and a fielder's choice in the fifth inning.

Realty Defeats Fisher Behind 1-Hit Pitching of Harry Avesian

Arro Realty scored a 4-1 American loop victory over Fisher Local 596 behind the nifty one-hit pitching of Harry Avesian to highlight Wednesday night's City League softball action at Beaudette and Northside parks.

A wild pitch in the 1st inning delivered Fisher's lone run and ruined Avesian's shutout bid. Arro iced the decision with three runs in the 4th.

All other games yesterday were in the National division.

Ken and Chuck Young each made three safeties to spearhead a 13-hit attack as First Presbyterian trimmed the Pontiac Folice, 8-3.

Dennis Diehm notched three hits in a losing cause as Adams TV nipped Howe's Lanes, 5-4. Adams scored the winning run in the bottom of the 8th inning without benefit of a hit and made only three safeties compared to 11 for Howe's club.

Griff's Grill chalked up a 6-3 triumph over CIO Local 594 behind the two-hit hurling of Jerry Bantin.

Captures Senior Golf Crown on His First Try

RYE, N.Y. (AP) — "I guess," said 55-year-old Joseph Morrill Jr., today, "you have to win this thing on the first try or not at all."

Morrill, an ex-football and hockey player at Harvard, was talking about his victory in the National Senior golf championship Wednesday accomplished on his first try.

Morrill won the two-day tournament with a 68-74—142 for 36 holes. He played his first round at Apawamis and the second at the Westchester Country Club.

★ ★ ★

Congressman Jack Westland finished second with a 143, followed by George Dawson of Chicago with a 144. William E. Norvell, Jr. of Chattanooga, Tenn., and Frank B. Graven of Sands Point, N.Y., were tied for fourth with 147's.

Pine Lake's 12th Annual Invitational Begins Today

By BILL CORNWELL

Pine Lake Country Club's 12th annual Invitational Golf Tournament got under way today with 18-hole qualifying rounds. The tourney runs through Sunday.

Many talented two-man teams are entered in the popular selective drive-alternate shot event, including defending champions Dick Whiting and Perry Byard of Red Run.

Whiting and Byard won last year's Pine Lake Invitational title by defeating Meadowbrook's father-and-son team of Tony and Tommy Skover in the match play finals.

The Skovers also are returning to take another crack at the crown they won two years ago.

Following today's qualifiers, the field will be grouped into flights for match play starting Friday. Single matches will be played tomorrow and Saturday with the semifinals and finals set for Sunday. All matches are slated over an 18-hole route.

The Pine Lake tourney is patterned after Scotch foursome competition. Both team members tee off, the most advantageous drive is selected, then they alternate shots through the hole.

Howie Neilson, twice a winner at Pine Lake, is back for another try and this time his partner will be Dearborn's Ralph, Ellstrom, who teamed with Byard to win the Invitational title in 1957.

★ ★ ★

Pine Lake's Chuck Stinson and Leigh Smith, 1960 qualifying medalists, will make another attempt to annex the title. Last year they were ousted in the very first round.

Also competing in today's medal qualifiers are defending Michigan Amateur champion Don Stevens of Plum Hollow and partner Tommy Shannon Jr., son of Orchard Lake's veteran head pro.

Among the other outstanding teams entered are Bill Pettibone and Jack Zinn of Red Run, Blaine Eynon and Al Conner of Forest Lake, Ray West and Don Patrick of Red Run, Jim Tinston and Bill Krall of Plum Hollow, Detroit Golf Club's Bob Babbish and Lou Conroy of Pine Lake, and Pine Lake's Frank Nelson and D'Arcy O'Neil.

It must be added that there's a hockey celebrity in the Pine Lake field. Gordie Howe, the Detroit Red Wings' all-time great, has joined forces with a Pine Lake member, J. Lewis Campbell.

Today's qualifications will be climaxed by the club's traditional Stag Night dinner at which time flights, pairings and tee-off hours for match play will be announced. The traditional Saturday evening tournament docket.

New Coaches at Central

Coaches are coming and going at Pontiac Central.

Gene Norris head swimming and tennis mentor and an assistant football coach is leaving. Jerry Beckner is coming from Grand Rapids and William Deibel from Portsmouth, Ohio.

★ ★ ★

Trinity College in San Antonio, Texas., will be the next stop for Norris. He has been named backfield coach at the college where Jess MacLeay is athletic director. MacLeay is a former PCH grid mentor.

★ ★ ★

Deible will serve as assistant football coach under Paul Dellerba.

Bob Treas, an assistant coach at Central, will take over the head swimming job. He will be assisted by Beckner who has been head tank coach at Grand Rapids Godwin Heights.

A tennis coach still is being sought, according to Central principal Francis Staley who announced the coaching changes.

★ ★ ★

Lake Orion High filled two coaching vacancies for the next school year.

George Elias, who had two highly successful seasons at Frankfort, will take over the basketball reins. Dick Dietrich, a recent graduate of Eastern Michigan, will handle wrestling.

★ ★ ★

Elias replaces Hal Carlin who will remain in the Lake Orion system as a classroom teacher. Carlin had announced after the close of the cage season that he was giving up the post.

Aussies Defeat Yanks Despite Fraser Setback

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—Chuck McKinley of St. Louis defeated Australian Davis Cup ace Neale Fraser, 6-2, 6-8, 6-2 Wednesday in the Stockhom round robin tennis tournament.

★ ★ ★

However, the Australians scored a 2-1 victory over the United States in the third round. Rod Laver of Australia turned back Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., 4-6, 6-1, 6-0.

★ ★ ★

Fraser and Laver teamed to defeat McKinley and Ralston in the doubles, 6-4, 6-8, 6-2.

Pontiac Team Leading in Waterford Softball

Pontiac Rockcote held first place in the National League of Waterford softball play by downing Lakeland Pharmacy 9-8 last night.

The winners were aided by seven Lakeland errors, six walks and two hit batters.

In the other game, Hobby Painting scored all its runs in the last of the sixth to down A & W, 5-4. Bob Johnston doubled home the tying and winning runs.

If He Gets Past Rinaldi Saturday

Moore Eyes Bout With Johansson

MONTICELLO, N. Y. (AP)—If Archie Moore gets by Giulio Rinaldi Saturday night, as he is favored to do, the old gent may take off for Sweden this fall for a joust with Ingemar Johansson.

★ ★ ★

"That would go real big over there," said Jack (Doc) Kearns, who handles Archie's bookings.

"I've discussed the fight with Eddie Ahlquist, Johansson's adviser, and he thinks it would be great.

"First of all, it would make a lot of money for everyone," added Doc. who says he's only slightly older than his meal-ticket.

"Then if Archie wins it, and I'm confident he can, he'll be right in line for another shot at the heavyweight title.

"Archie still thinks he can beat Floyd Patterson and he'd like to get that heavyweight title before he quits in maybe six or seven years."

There was a merry twinkle in Doc's blue eyes as he blithely discussed Archie's future as if the champ was 21 instead of a magnificent antique, aged 44 or 47.

Moore definitely is interested in taking on Johansson and another trip to Europe wouldn't displease him a bit.

"One thing I've got to say about Doc—he's got a tremendous imagination," said Archie.

★ ★ ★

"That's what I like about him. He can think up some mighty interesting propositions."

A Johansson-Moore fight could elbow Sonny Liston, top-ranking heavy contender, out of the picture.

There's been plenty of dickering for the Liston-Johansson fight but it may not occur this year because Moore thinks he can lick Johansson and Ingo feels the same way about Archie. And both think it could be easy-and easy money.

As for the Moore-Rinaldi fight at Madison Square Garden, the principals declared themselves ready. Both finished their boxing drills Wednesday, Archie at his camp here and the Italian at a midtown gym.

Take Note, Tigers

CYO Has Big Battery

Tigers take note!

There may be a pitcher-catcher battery performing in the home back-yard of the Bengals in couple weeks which may be worth a close look.

Larry Walter and Cliff Harris, a pair of 14-year-olds make up the best battery combination in the CYO suburban baseball league.

Walter, a left handed pitcher, has won all seven games played and won by Our Lady of Refgue team of Orchard Lake.

★ ★ ★

The team took the suburban title with a 6-0 season mark and Tuesday it won the opening game of its championship playoffs by defeating Our Lady of Mt. Carmel, 10-1. Larry won that game and gives him a CYO career mark of 16 wins and one loss.

His batterymate, Cliff Harris, the catcher, is the leading hitter in the league. He had 3 for 3 in playoff game including a homer in his 4th straight game and is now hitting .726 for the season.

Next Monday night, the OL Refuge team will play St. Andrews CYO in the second round of the playoffs at Butzel Field at 8:00 p.m. and then a week later for the winner it will be championship game at Tiger Stadium.

A's Will Sign Hurler for Reported $100,000

NEW YORK (AP) — The Kansas City A's today will sign Lew Krause, an 18-year-old pitcher from Chester, Pa., for a reported $100,000 bonus.

★ ★ ★

The A's have called a press conference here and will announce the signing then.

Krause, son of one of the A's scouts, has been sought by almost every major league club.

Colt Has Operation

MEMPHIS (AP) — The Baltimore Colts' defensive safety, Ray Brown, is recuperating at a hospital here after an operation on his knee that may end his football career.

Name? George Dunn

Mystery Solved! Sam's Caddy Is Discovered

By BILL CORNWELL

Would you like to know who caddied for Sam Snead Monday morning at Orchard Lake Country Club?

Well, his name is George Dunn and he's a 14-year-old 8th grade pupil at Pierce Junior High School.

George is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Dunn, 365 Aquarina, Drayton Plains. He stands only 5-foot-2 and weighs 116 pounds—soaking wet.

Enough about the boy's personal statistics—what about his adventure with Snead?

★ ★ ★

"I didn't know who he was, but I thought he looked familiar," the youngster said. "He didn't tell me who he was. He just said he came from West Virginia. Then I saw his name on his golf bag and the puzzle was solved."

How did George happen to be at Orchard Lake on a day when the area's private clubs are closed?

It seems that Dunn had some time off from his classes at Pierce so his parents dropped him off at the course.

Seven o'clock had not yet arrived when the boy saw Snead standing next to his baggage and looking around for signs of life.

★ ★ ★

According to Dunn, it's not entirely Snead's fault that he played 18 practice holes at the wrong golf course.

"Snead said someone told him that the trials were at Orchard Lake and Tam O'Shanter," Dunn claimed.

Orchard Lake and Tam O'Shanter, of course, were hosts to the local National Open qualifying rounds. The sectional qualifiers (Sam's point of interest) were slated at Grosse Ile.

George had never caddied for a big-name player until his run-in with Snead and the whole episode was naturally a great thrill for him. A truly memorable chapter has been added to his life story.

★ ★ ★

"He talked to me all the way around the course and he was really hitting that ball, especially on the back nine," George declared. "I learned a lot about the selection of clubs from him."

"Sam was very friendly," George continued, "and he's a keen bird-caller. Every time he saw a bird, he'd call out its name."

Apparently Snead likes "birdies" that fly almost as well as he does those that go on his scorecard.

This is Dunn's first year as a caddy and he has been toting clubs at Orchard Lake for about a month. He hopes to get a chance to lug somebody's golf bag in the U. S. Open next week at Oakland Hills.

★ ★ ★

Some caddies wait a long time for an opportunity to serve a famous touring pro. Dunn managed to do it (quite by accident) in about four weeks.

Jets Post 3-1 Baseball Win

Ruling Prompts Losing Merchants to Protest City Loop Decision

The Pontiac Merchants played the game under protest but unless there's a change of heart, the Joy Boy Jets own a 3-1 City League baseball victory today.

A ruling which restricted the Merchant's Bud Thomason to only one extra base on a ball that went into the dugout in the 3rd inning prompted them to play the game under protest at Wisner Field.

The Jets spotted the Merchants a 1-0 lead in the 1st stanza, then tallied single runs in the 3rd, 5th and 6th frames to wrap up the verdict. Larry Demerick bested Jim Wagner in a tight mound duel with each pitcher allowing only four hits. The Jets were guilty of six errors.

★ ★ ★

CIO Local 594 banged out 11 hits, featuring three by pitcher Chet Woodmore and two apiece by Ron Woodhull and Robert Orr, to score a 5-2 victory over the Oxford Merchants. Woodmore hurled steady five-hit ball. Darrell Lovell was the losing hurler in the contest at Jaycee Park.

St. Fred Wins Catholic Loop Golf Honors

St. Frederick won the Catholic League golf championship Wednesday at Pontiac Country Club in an 18-hole medal play triangular meet against Dearborn Sacred Heart and Detroit Catholic Central, other parochial division winners.

With Mike Reed and Mike Secoy each firing 78 to set the pace, the Rams added the Catholic League crown to their already acquired Suburban honors. It was the 2nd Catholic golf title for the Rams, who beat Austin for parochial honors five years ago. Charlie Dean shot 79 and Jim Schachern posted 87 to give St. Fred a winning fourman total of 322. Dearborn finished 2nd with 337 as John Hoeflien and Matt Mulcahy each carded 81. Catholic Central had a score of 338, paced by Dan Zapton's 83. Gary Pageau, co-medalist in this year's state meet, came next at 84.

U. S. Oarsmen Ready for Big Challenge

HENLEY-ON-THAMES, England (AP) — British oarsmen tuning up for the Henley Royal Regatta next month will meet another strong challenge from the United States.

Officials of the regatta, which begins on the River Thames July 5, announced Friday night the United States is sending eight entries and, as usual, is the strongest overseas contingent.

★ ★ ★

Cornell University, winner of the Grand Cup in 1957, is challenging for the Cup this year in place of Yale. Cornell's lightweight crew replaces Harvard in the Thames Cup, which Harvard has won for the last three years.

Harvard will not be represented as a university this year. But Eliot House of Harvard is entered for the Thames Cup, along with Cornell and Kent School of Connecticut.

★ ★ ★

South Kent School of Connecticut — a club new to Henley—and Haverford School of Pennsylvania, are entered for the Wyfold Cup.

Marge Burns Sets Pace in Eastern Golf Test

PURCHASE, N.Y. (AP)—Marge Burns of Greensboro, N.C., carried a two-stroke lead into the third round of the Women's Eastern Golf Championship today with Mrs. Joseph Nesbitt of Rye, N.Y. her closest pursuer.

★ ★ ★

Miss Burns had a 79-80—159 compared to Mrs. Nesbitt's 77-84—161. Virtually all the women in the tournament had trouble with the greens Wednesday.

From the Skipper

By BRUNO L. KEARNS

A royal welcome was given to the Pontiac Family Cruise Club during its visit to Chatham, Ontario, last Sunday.

A fleet of 14 boats with 56 people crossed Lake St. Clair to the Thames River Saturday morning at 10:30 a.m. They arrived at Chatham at 2:00 p.m. and stayed over until Sunday afternoon.

A short picnic at Mitchell Bay, Ontario, ended the trip and the cruise club were back by Sunday at 6:00 p.m.

Members of the club enjoyed bowling on the green, soccer games, baseball and other activities at the Chatham City park and local officials were on hand to welcome them.

The next trip is an overnighter to Toledo.

VICTORY AT LAST

Harry Nye and Chuck Cartwright, local speedboaters, finally made the victory column at the races in Sarnia, Ontario, last weekend.

For Nye, it was the first win of his speed boat racing career. He won the class D hydro event and he edged out Cartwright. Cartwright meanwhile scored a win in the B-hydro and Walt Schrieber was third in the B-utility class.

WATER FINE SAYS COMMODORE

"They got me when I wasn't looking," said commodore Ken Peterson of the Oakland County Boat Club after his dunking last Sunday by the membership in the annual launching breakfast.

"I didn't mind it however, the water was fine," he added. "I remember days in past years when it would give me the chills to see the commodore go in clothes and all."

A centennial dance is one of the social highlights in the near future. The date is June 24th, a Saturday night, open for members and their guests.

★ ★ ★

A change has also been made in the annual OCBC regatta which was planned as an amateur race July 30th.

"Because of the poor response, we have decided to get the approval of the National Outboard Association for a sanctioned race and have been given the date as August 13th," said Peterson. "We can now plan on a big race," he added.

"DUCK" FOR DUFFIELD

Races at Watkins Lake were sailed under perfect conditions last Sunday. In the Snipe class after a one hour neck and neck battle, Glenn Fries was edged out by Dave Green by nine seconds. Fred Poole nosed out Fred Brede by a boat length for third place and commodore Guy Duffield, after rebuilding his snipe, earned the dubious "duck" by capsizing in his first race.

★ ★ ★

In the lightning thistle race, Harmon Gillen was first in "Tar Baby" followed by Karl Krietz and Dick Eldred.

TO THE SKIPPER

Ward Rathbun, Len Oesch and Will England leave Friday afternoon for Alexandria Bay, New York to take part in the 1,000-Islands race on Sunday . . . The Cass Lake Ski and the Michigan Conservation Department will show a series of movies on Wednesday nights, twice-monthly at Dodge Park. The movies on water safety, boating and conservation will start Wednesday night June 21 at 8:00 p.m. right out on the beach . . . A blacktopped boat launching access to Otter Lake, on M-59, near Inland Lake Sales, is expected to be completed in a few weeks.

RIGHT AND WRONG — When a boat is beached in waters where there is a current or wave action, is wise to tie the bow to an object ashore and drop an anchor off the stern to hold the boat in position as in the top photo. If the boat is carelessly pulled up on the shore, a common occurence is that illustrated in the lower photo. The water action sets the boat afloat and an impromptu swim is likely in prospect.

Boating

U.S. Challenge for Harmsworth Assured

Pontiac Press Photo

SCORES A VICTORY — Pontiac detective Harry Nye scored his first big victory in boat racing last Sunday when he won the class D-hydro event at Sarnia, Canada. Nye edged out Chuck Cartwright also of Pontiac in the class. Cartwright however won the B-hydro class.

VACATION — A boatload of fun is the bonus of this family, as they have taken their boat with them on vacation. It offers a chance to enjoy the full range of water sports as well as other vacation activities. One fun activity is swimming from the boat, far from the crowded and littered beaches. Anchor solidly in a comparatively shallow spot or near some secluded beach and it's like having your own pool. It's just one of the dozens of ways in which you can enjoy your boat while on vacation.

Boatloads of Fun on Water Vacation

Boatloads of fun await thousands who plan on taking their vacations somewhere on the nations waterways, be it river, lake or ocean. No vacation can be more enjoyable because wherever you are in these United States there is water waiting to welcome you. Water and vacation go together like hand in glove.

If you are planning on boating either as your complete vacation or to supplement other activities, the Evinrude Boating Foundation offers some suggestions. First is to plan your activities well in advance, and second is some information on where you might get additional information on various waterways.

More people will trailer a small boat to their vacation spot than will plan to spend their vacation aboard an overnight cruiser. If you have the cruiser, you're all set. You'll have everything you need aboard, and need only chart your course. But check your needs carefully. It's rough to set out to go water skiing and find you've forgotten the tow rope.

★ ★ ★

Those who trailer their boats have many advantages. The boat can serve as a trailer in which to stow most of your gear and vacation clothing, thus keeping the car uncluttered. Whether going to a resort or to a camp grounds, your boat will possibly be the center of your fun activities while on vacation.

★ ★ ★

Be sure you have along the equipment that will enable the kids, as well as the rest of the family, to enjoy the full range of water sports.

A boat can make the most enjoyable vacation you've ever had.

You might even explore several different areas, especially if you camp and take your boat along.

If you plan extensive cruising on your vacation, you should gather all the information possible about the area in which you wish to cruise. Numerous publications are available listing vacation areas, and there are charts of practically all the most popular waterways.

Coastal charts are published by the U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, Washington 25, D. C. Charts of the Great Lakes are available through the U.S. Lake Survey, 630 Federal Building, Detroit 26, Michigan. There are free catalogs listing the available charts from both sources.

★ ★ ★

Mississippi River charts are available through the Chicago District, Corps of Engineers, U.S. Army, 475 Merchandise Mart, Chicago 54, Illinois. A booklet, "Reclamation's Recreational Opportunities," is available free from the U.S. Department of Interior, Bureau of Reclamation, Washington 25, D. C., LISTING and CATALOGING boating, fishing and camping facilities of 17 western states.

There are also guides to such popular areas as Lake of the Ozarks, the TVA, Lake Texoma and the Intracoastal Waterway.

They can be obtained by writing the association handling publicity for these regions.

Information about waterways in the various states can be obtained by writing the State Conservation Department of the state in which you are interested.

Many states have Development Commissions or Park Commissions which handle this information, but the conservation people are as interested as anyone in promoting the use of the waterways and they will see that your inquiry is channeled to the proper authorities.

Local boat clubs often have access to much of this information. Friends who have cruised the area in which you are interested are also great sources of information.

Several major oil companies publish excellent cruising guides and charts. Included are: The Texaco Waterways Service, 135 East 42nd Street, New York 17, New York; Mobil Oil Company, Touring Service, 150 East 42nd Street, New York 17, New York; Gulf Cruising Guide Bureau, 17 Battery Place, New York, New York. These guides are very useful in that they provide sufficient detail of large areas for the average inland boatman. They show places of interest, access roads and distance.

Proper Mooring Prevents Damage

Properly securing a boat in a place by fastening with cables and anchors or with lines may prevent a great deal of damage to the craft.

Boats are much of the time secured to a pier or a mooring float, at anchor, or pulled up on a beach.

★ ★ ★

Beaching a boat is quite simple, or appears to be. In quiet waters with no current, wave action or tide, a boat will stay in place temporarily if the bow is pulled up onto the beach or shore.

If the boat is left unattended, it is still a good idea to secure it with a line to an anchor ashore or to some fixed object on the shore.

In tidal areas, the boat must be constantly watched so that it either does not become solidly beached as the tide goes out, or set afloat as the tide comes in.

If there is current or wave action, a line from the bow should be fastened ashore and an anchor should be lowered and fastened from the stern. This keeps the boat in position so the action of the water will not swing it broadside to the shore where it might rub against rocks, sand, stumps or other obstacles.

★ ★ ★

When beaching boats overnight, the Evinrude Boating Foundation says a good idea is to tilt the motor and pull the stern ashore. The bow is higher and offers less water surface to be affected by waves. Naturally, the boat should be secured.

Anchoring for brief periods while aboard is simple. Drop the anchor over the side, and when it sets, play out enough line and fasten the anchor line securely to the boat. If you don't want the boat to drift around the anchoring spot, anchors off both the bow and stern will hold it in position.

If a boat rests permanently at anchor, use a mooring float or buoy securely anchored. In this case it is best to have the mooring line fastened to the bow eye snap attachment for fastening to the buoy.

Tying up temporarily at a pier offers no problem if boat fenders, good line and good knots are used. Remember to respect the rights of others who might wish to tie up at the same pier.

To tie a boat securely, use both a bow and stern line fastened to the pier. If you intend to tie up at a pier overnight or for extended periods, it is wise to use spring lines in addition.

These will prevent the boat from moving forward or backward along the pier and will allow the boat freedom to move with the action of the water.

This is especially useful at a pier where other boats are moored. There is nothing more disturbing than to find that some improperly tied up boat has drifted against yours and damaged it. It's just as disturbing to the other guy if you are at fault.

When tying up at a pier in tidal waters, allow enough line so that the boat won't be hung up high and dry when the tide goes out. This can break the lines, pull out the deck hardware or more seriously damage the boat. It a good idea not to permanently moor a boat at other than a floating pier in tidal waters.

A little care in mooring can save the embarrassment of a lost or damaged boat. Good lines and some common sense will prevent both.

Take Plenty of Line When Going on Cruise

Before leaving on your next cruise, the Evinrude Boating Foundation suggests you make up a spare line or two and take it with you.

★ ★ ★

A bow, stern or anchor line may either be lost or used for some other purpose . . . so extra line comes in mighty handy.

★ ★ ★

To prevent unnecessary grief en route, make a check of all lines before leaving on a cruise. A little extra work before the cruise will save a great deal of time, time that could better be spent enjoying your cruise.

'Miss Detroit' Is Considered Top Contender

Canadian Sponsors Poll American Drivers About Aug. 5-8 Dates

DETROIT (AP)—Canadian sponsors of the Harmsworth Trophy race, international powerboating's premier event, were assured yesterday there will be an American challenger for this year's race.

"We assured them that as far as humanly is possible we would have a boat entered this year," said Leonard H. Thompson, secretary of the Yachtmen's Association of America. "We have no intention of withdrawing.

"We told them to go ahead and make their plans and assured them the United States had make its challenge in good faith."

Some American unlimited hydroplane owners had been openly critical in recent weeks of the setup at Picton, Ont. The Harmsworth is scheduled for Aug. 5, 7, and 8. They also expressed a desire to compete the same weekend in the Seattle Mayfair Regatta, where $40,000 has been put up to racers.

Thomson said Chuck Thompson's Miss Detroit probably would be the American challenge against Canada's Miss Supertest III, winner of the last two years.

Miss Supertest defeated three American boats last year at Picton in retaining the trophy for Canada.

Thomson said he put out a questionnaire to all American boat owners asking if they'd be willing to enter this year's Harmsworth.

"Chuck Thompson was the only one who answered yes," said Thomson, "so I had him attend the meeting. The only chance that his boat won't go is if another boat comes along that is faster. Then the Yachtsmen's Association will have to decide which boat to send.

"But it looks like it'll be Miss Detroit."

Miss Detroit did not compete in last year's Harmsworth. It won the President's Cup Regatta in Washington for its major victory of 1960.

Attending the meeting were Bob Finlayson of Toronto, head of the Canadian Boating Federation; Mayor Harvey MacFarland of Picton; Jack Cole of Picton, chairman of the Harmsworth Regatta; and Jay Sprague, commodore of the Prince Edward Yacht Club at Picton.

Give First Aid to Your Dunked Outboard Motor

Outboard motors are made to be clamped on the transoms of boats with only the portion that lies below the cavitation plate in the water. However, for one reason or another, each year many outboards get a complete dunking.

Like your camera, radio, or any other piece of equipment, if they are submerged they can be damaged.

Engineers at Evinrude Motors advise that engines submerged in salt water be taken immediately upon recovery to a dealer. If a motor is submerged in fresh water for a period of 48 hours or longer, it should also be taken to a dealer as soon as recovered.

If a motor remains under water for a period of from an hour up to 48 hours, several steps should be taken upon recovery. First, remove the motor cover, then remove the spark plugs, the carburetor sediment bowl and the carburetor drain screw. Pull the manual starter over six or eight times. Squirt some motor oil into the spark plug holes, then reassemble the motor and attempt to start it.

If it starts, warm it completely, stop it, and attempt to start it again.

Smooth Twilight Boating Offers Fine Relaxation

Because most people are essentially conformists, many boatmen are missing some of the finest time possible to enjoy their favorite sport—the soft and soothing hours of twilight, when tranquillity rules and the golden shafts of the setting sun produce magic effects upon the landscape.

What many fail to realize is that they can nearly double the enjoyment of their favorite sport, by going boating in the late afternoon and evening. Most boatmen work regular hours and feel their only boating time is the week end. However, with development of electrical equipment for boats and the increasing pressure on normal boating areas, the Evinrude Boating Foundation suggests that some of the greatest enjoyment can come after most boatmen have left the water for the day.

On of the most plesant outings on a summer evening is to plan for a meal afloat. This can either be in the form of a meal served on the boat, or beside a campfire at some secluded spot.

The twilight hours are some of the most placid and peaceful of the day and no place may they be better enjoyed than from a boat or along a remote shoreline. The many cares of the business day can become as remote as daydreams when the gentle roll of a boat is the only movement.

This form of boating opens up particularly fascinating vistas for the youngsters. It gives them a wonderful opportunity to observe the stars; possibly even play the game of "wishing on a star" with the first one they see.

Along the shorelines you can hear the night calls of the birds, and possibly even watch seldom seen animals coming down to the shoreline to get their evening drink.

Many of the water birds are calm and secure in their feeling they will not be disturbed at twilight, and they talk to each other in a language the youngsters will almost be able to understand.

Particularly if you live near a metropolitan area, but even if it is on a secluded lake, lights shining on land always carry a mystic fascination at night.

To enjoy these wonderful evening activities aboard, all that is needed is the equipment to operate a boat at night. Many boats come with the required running lights.

For night cruising it will be necessary to install berthing lights of some kind. It is also advisable to carry along a good battery-operated portable spotlight, as it is much easier to pick out objects at night with a light operated by hand than one permanently attached to the boat.

Additionally, this gives you the safety factor of two sources of light power.

The outboard should be equipped with a generator if much night boating is contemplated, so as not to run down the battery.

11 Men Named to Hydro 'Hall'

Five Drivers Are Listed Including Cantrell of Detroit

SEATTLE (AP) — Five daredevil drivers and two famous speedboat designers were among 11 men named last night to a newly established National Hydroplane Hall of Fame.

The names were announced at a $100-a-plate banquet sponsored by Greater Seattle Inc., a civic organization, to raise funds for the $40,000 Seattle Seafair Hydroplane races in August. Nearly 1,000 people attended.

Sports writers and broadcasters who cover unlimited speedboat racing made the selections, choosing outstanding personalities connected with the sport during the last decade.

Drivers named were the late Lou Fageol of Akron, O.; Bill Cantrell, Detroit; Joe Taggart, Canton, O.; Bill Stead of Reno and Bill Muncey of Seattle.

Fageol and Taggart drove the Slo-Mo-Shuns IV and V, which dominated hydroplane racing in the early 1950s. Cantrell for many years has been a driver of the Gale Fleet owned by Lee Schoenith of Detroit. Stead piloted the Maverick to victory in the gold cup race of 1959 and Muncey won the same cup in 1956 and 1957 in Miss Thriftway.

The designers, whose drawing boards have produced most of the unlimited hydroplanes now racing, were Ted Jones of Seattle and Les Staudacher of Kawkawlin, Mich.

Girl, 13, Answers U. S. Problem

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — Remember when you were age 13?

What did you think, then, of America and Americans?

Probably you didn't think much of these subjects at all, unless you were snarled up in social science II; you unthinkingly saluted the Flag, complacently accepted the fact that America is the greatest, looked upon your fellow man as pretty terrific, especially if he was a bosom friend, or the president, or a movie star.

It's different with some eighth graders today. It seems that they think when they salute the Flag, and they read the newspapers instead of (or in addition to) the fan magazines, and they don't give their country or its people much.

They listen, and refuse to toss aside as propaganda, the words of Premier Khrushchev: "We won't have to declare war on you to destroy you—you will do it yourselves."

While their parents frown at this unsettling Communist accusation, and perhaps have another martini to calm their consciences, the thoughtful children seethe for a chance to remake what they consider a badly corrupted, dissolute and endangered America.

Now, these 13-year-olds may bear no resemblance outwardly to the seeming ne'er-do-muches who even now may be sprawled on your bedroom floor conversing in unfrustrated giggles with the kid next door.

SPELLS OUT TROUBLES

After all, no two teen-agers are alike (except in clothes, haircuts, slang, etc.) But I have here a letter from a schoolgirl named Melinda Burgess in Greenfield, Ohio, which decisively spells out the troubles with America as troubled young Americans see them.

She writes in behalf of the eighth grade students of McClain High School, who have started a schoolwide, villagewide and (they hope fervently) nationwide student movement for a "rebirth of true Americanism."

For many days now, writes Melinda Burgess, the kids have been discussing in classrooms and assembly halls, "What's happening to Americans? Why? And what can we do about it?" Their conclusions are listed:

* * *

What is the "typical" American like? "Alcoholic, money-hungry, luxury-loving, self-centered, pleasure-bent, work-avoiding, dishonest, unloyal, morally loose, prestige-seeking."

* * *

And "we're too complacent. We've been No. 1 so long we think we'll stay there. We won't, without a change in our patriotic and self-discipline attitudes. There is more true patriotism in Russia than in America.

LACK CONSCIENCE

"It seems that in America you get laughed at whenever you show signs of having a conscience any more. Many once shameful things are becoming less shameful all the time — smoking, drinking, cheating, law violations, necking, etc. It's common now to boast of violating laws and getting away with it. It's common to 'call in sick' when you want a day off work."

Now, say the youngsters, what can be done about it?

"We need to fight communism by building up Americanism and proving it turns out the best human product, rather than just by running communism down.

"Our country gives too much money away for nothing, both abroad and at home. You can't buy respect. We need to help the needy, but we also need to find some way to let them earn this help.

"Our young people (and old) do too many things to 'go along with the crowd.' We need to find a way to build a 'to heck with them if I know it's wrong' kind of inner strength of character in our people.

"Somehow we have to reinstill basic religious principles in Americans. And we should have a specific time and place in the school curriculum for morals, ethics, patriotism, religious principles.

"If this revival of true Americanism could be accomplished, our mental health problem would be lessened because there would be more people satisfied with the kind of person they are."

Some of these ideas are cliches, granted; but the great truths of history have become cliches. Adults tend to look down on the hackneyed idea, but youth, with its great integrity and untrodden spirit, sees truth as truth, and always fresh.

* * *

I would be willing to bet my memories of a serene, unthinking childhood (which I'd hate to lose) that, if these youngsters from a town so small it can be seen only on very large maps feel this strongly on the subject, there are thousands of others across the land who will go along with their drive to make America morally strong. Anyway, I wish them luck . . .

* * *

For, as they conclude in their discussions of the problem:

"We'll have to change the young people of America—the old are too hard to change."

Mountain Fights Tunnel Builders

MONT BLANC, Italy (UPI) — "The mountain is like a living thing fighting off invaders," the old miner said. Other miners grouped in the tunnel under Mont Blanc, Europe's highest mountain, nodded in grim agreement.

All of us listened, and then it came. Into the semidarkness, heavy with dust, roared Mont Blanc's protest. Somewhere overhead there was a rumbling, frightening sound like a great explosion.

The miners eyed each other apprehensively. Then, when silence returned and nothing happened, they went back to work.

Experts call it a rock burst, but there is no technical explanation to describe what a man feels in his stomach when the huge giant of stone and granite is stretching and protesting just above your head.

Rock bursts are the latest peril in the monumental job of drilling the world's longest highway tunnel under this giant among mountains.

FACED BY DANGERS

The seven-mile tunnel is expected to be completed early in 1962, despite the increading dangers and troubles faced by two little armies of Italian and French miners digging from opposite sides.

About one-third of the tunnel has already been drilled.

On the Italian side, the granite has been found to crumble more easily than on the French side, and the 250-man shifts working around the clock have had to face an ever increasing number of troubles and difficulties.

There were no rock bursts until digging reached the 6,500-foot mark. But now, experts explained, the pressure of the mountain on the tunnel is more than one-and-a-half tons against every square inch.

* * *

As a consequence, the layers of stone and granite surrounding the tunnel tend to "settle down" and find a new geological balance. And when they settle down, the mountain roars and "cries against the invaders."

Men are moving into the mountain at a speed of about 10 yards every day—or one foot, two inches every hour.

When an estimated 350 million cubic feet of rock has been dug out, the tunnel will cut Paris-Turin and Paris-Milan routes by 137 and 194 miles, respectively.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO CONSTRUCT curb, gutter, grade, gravel and related work on Woodland Avenue.

You are hereby notified that at a regular meeting of the Commission of the City of Pontiac, Michigan held June 6, 1961 by resolution it was declared to be the intention of the City Commission to construct curb, gutter, grade, gravel and related work on Woodland Avenue from Dresden Avenue to Lakeside Drive and Kinney Road at an estimated cost of $19,897.45, and that the plan, profile and estimate of said improvement is on file for public inspection.

Wheat Futures Firm in Steady Market

CHICAGO (AP) — A moderate demand firmed the wheat futures contracts slightly today in early transactions on the board of trade, but the market otherwise was steady to easier.

★ ★ ★

Soybeans again yielded to liquidation and lost major fractions generally to two cents a bushel. The July delivery led the decline.

★ ★ ★

Fluctuations in corn, oats and rye were limited to small fractions in draggy dealings which included only scattered commercial buying. Some of the support in wheat was described as short covering.

Bell Continues Negotiations on Wages and Jobs

Negotiations on wages and job classifications continued today between Michigan Bell Telephone Co. and the Communications Workers of America.

A three-year contract ending in June 1963, provides for yearly reopening of bargaining on wages and job categories.

A deadline for agreement expired at midnight Tuesday. The 16,300 CWA members since have remained at their jobs.

In the Upper Peninsula, however, CWA members at three cities were reported to have not appeared for work this morning. Union employes at Bell facilities in Marquette, Ishpeming and Gwinn were said to be attending "a special meeting."

No walkouts were reported in Pontiac, a company spokesman said.

Market Loafing, Edges Downside

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market loafed along with prices mixed in quiet trading early this afternoon. There was an edge to the downside.

Gains and losses of fractions to about a point were the general rule. Most changes were narrow.

The new crisis in the Geneva talks on Laos and word that President Kennedy suffered a severe back strain were distracting elements.

On the bullish side was a prediction that machine tool buying would rise in the fourth quarter and a report by the National Association of Purchasing Agents that new orders, production and employment continued to rise last month.

Steels, tobaccos, rails, utilities, drugs and mail orders were mostly lower. Motors and aircrafts were unchanged to a bit higher. Chemicals were mixed.

★ ★ ★

The steels still seemed dampened by price cuts in the industry. Fractional losses were taken by U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic and Jones & Laughlin.

The drop in dealers' inventories of autos still gave the motor group some support but these stocks were a bit below their best as the session wore on.

General Motors held a fractional gain and Ford was steady. Chrysler and American Motors traded about unchanged.

Du Pont got a temporary boost of about a point on a published projection of a new sales record this year but the stock backed off and showed a fractional net loss.

American Telephone dropped more than a point at the opening following news that the Federal Communications Commission had temporarily blocked AT&T's plans to start a new nationwide system of teletype connections. The loss was halved later.

★ ★ ★

American Stock Exchange prices were irregularly lower in moderate trading. Aerojet-General, Stelma and Cenco Instruments were off around 2 apiece.

Kratter and Atlantic Research lost a point or so. Perfect Photo picked up about a point and Mesabi Iron a bit more than that.

Give Russia Ultimatum, Say Republican Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican congressional leaders said today the United States should quit wasting its energies trying to negotiate with the Soviet Union and take "vigorous moves which the Kremlin will understand."

The GOP leaders renewed their call on President Kennedy to fix a time limit on the Geneva negotiations for a ban on nuclear weapons testing and so notify the Soviet Union. A time limit of one, two or three months was suggested.

★ ★ ★

The recommendation came from Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, Senate minority leader, and Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, House GOP leader, who spoke out at a news conference.

★ ★ ★

They said the stand was taken at a breakfast meeting of party leaders, at which Rep. William E. Miller of New York, the new GOP national chairman, sat in for the first time.

UNDERSTAND STRENGTH

"It is beyond dispute that the only thing the Communists understand is strength," said a statement read by Dirksen. "It is clear that what we need now is leadership of the type demonstrated by President Eisenhower in Iran, Lebanon, Quemoy-Matsu, Guatemala and other areas."

★ ★ ★

"We suggest that instead of spending our energies in planning further negotiations we devote our energies to vigorous moves which the Kremlin will understand. We feel certain the President will have the support of all Americans if he chooses such a course," it said.

★ ★ ★

Both Dirksen and Halleck agreed that Kennedy's face-to-face talks at Vienna served a useful purpose in giving the President a chance to take the measure of Soviet Premier Khrushchev. They also praised the frankness of Kennedy's address to the nation Tuesday night.

But, they said, Kennedy's own report "is the strongest argument we have heard that Soviet words mean nothing and that we must insist on concrete demonstrations of good faith."

Week's Output of Cars to Be Near '60 Figure

DETROIT (AP)—Automotive News said today passenger car production this week will come within 8.7 per cent of the comparable week of 1960—one of the narrowest margins of the year.

★ ★ ★

The trade paper estimated output at 128,476 cars against only 85,723 last week when the Memorial Day holiday limited work in most plants to only three days. A year ago this week 139,557 cars were built.

Truck production came even close to matching year-ago figures. An estimated 24,015 trucks were built this week compared with 16,744 last week and 24,914 a year ago.

Communists Refuse to Obey Sign-Up Rule

NEW YORK (AP)—The head of the Communist party in this country said today the party will not comply in any way with the U.S. Supreme Court ruling that the party must register as an arm of a foreign power.

★ ★ ★

Gus Hall, the party's general secretary, said the ruling Monday "asks the Communist party to commit suicide. We are not going to cooperate."

★ ★ ★

He said officers of the party would prefer to spend the rest of their lives in jail rather than betray the trust of the membership by making their names public.

★ ★ ★

The high court ruled that the party must register under the Internal Security Act of 1950 as a representative of a foreign power, and list its members, officers and financial records.

Says TV Crime Percentage High

319 Violent Episodes Counted in 78 Plays; Gentleness Rare

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chairman Thomas J. Dodd of the Senate juvenile delinquency subcommittee accused broadcasters today of pandering to low tastes by programing increasing dosages of crime, violence and brutality on television.

In opening public hearings to determine television's impact on juvenile crime, the Connecticut Democrat called on TV programers to explain why shows containing violence have "dramatically increased."

He said a staff survey showed that programs depicting crime and violence in the late afternoon and evening jumped from 16.6 per cent in 1954 to 50.8 per cent in 1961.

★ ★ ★

Millions of children and teenagers watch television during these prime viewing hours, Dodd said.

The first witness, Dr. Ralph J. Gary, professer of educational psychology at Boston University, said he counted 319 episodes of violent assault in 78 action-adventure television dramas.

In contrast, Gary testified, "protective and affectionate behavior" was shown less than one-fourth as often.

Too many shows, he said, seem to say that goodness of character is not enough in facing life's problems.

★ ★ ★

Of the TV viewpoint, he said: "Life's problems are solved by violent means, and it is the results that count. Money and power are goals to strive for. Gentleness and consideration scarcely exist."

News in Brief

A break-in of his home was reported to sheriff's deputies yesterday by Ronald J. Cummins, 1796 Alton Circle, Commerce Township. Nothing was stolen.

N. Gura, 6422 Waldon Rd., reported to sheriff's deputies yesterday that four lawn chairs were stolen from the patio of his home.

A box of tools valued at $350 was stolen from his home, Ralph Buckles, 1008 Oakley Park Rd., Commerce Township, reported to sheriff's deputies yesterday.

Sometime early today the Silver Lake Golf Club at 2602 Walton Boulevard, Waterford Township, was broken into and a $175 television stolen, according to the owner, George Purdy, of 3531 Orchard Lake Road.

Demands Examination in Theft of Car Parts

Examination of a Pontiac man accused of receiving stolen property has been set for June 14 in Municipal Court.

★ ★ ★

Arzo Carson, 21, of 496 Arthur St., demanded the pretrial hearing before Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac police arrested Carson Saturday after he tried to sell auto parts stolen in a burglary of Bagley Auto Parts, 170 Bagley St., last November.

Bond was set at $1,000.

Agents Arrest Detroit Officer

Say Ex-City Resident Acted as Lookout for Men Moving Still

A Detroit policeman who formerly resided in Pontiac was arrested by federal agents yesterday and charged with conspiring to violate the liquor tax laws.

He is Patrolman Boyd W. Jones, 26, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carnell Jones live at 203 Rapid St. Jones resigned from the Detroit force after his arrest.

Lawrence Gubow, U. S. attorney, said Jones was accused of acting as a lookout for a group of men who were moving a still and a quantity of mash on April 26.

★ ★ ★

U. S. Treasury agents said they were watching the moving operation when a man drove up, said something to the men loading the still onto a van, and all fled.

They said a check of license numbers showed the car which drove up was registered to Jones.

Jones was arraigned on the conspiracy charge before U. S. District Judge Theodore Levin. He was released on $1,000 bond, pending a hearing June 21.

★ ★ ★

Jones is a 1954 graduate of Pontiac Central High School where he won letters in baseball and football. After graduation, he enlisted in the Marines, serving with the military police. Following discharge he joined the Detroit police force.

Warning to Mothers: School Term Ending

A note to mothers of Pontiac Public School children: Your days of peace and serenity are numbered.

Students will begin making their mass exodus from classrooms for summer vacation next week. High-school graduates will be free tomorrow.

Depending on how long you've been a devoted mom, here's a rundown on the dates to brace yourself.

At both Pontiac Northern and Central high schools, graduating seniors have their final day of regular classes tomorrow. They already have taken their final exams.

COMMENCEMENT THURSDAY

Next week seniors will be busy planning graduation ceremonies and related events. Commencement is Thursday at Pontiac Central and Friday at Northern.

For 10th and 11th grade students at both schools, Monday is the last day of regular classes. Final exams will be held Tuesday and Wednesday.

There will be no school Thursday and report cards will be issued Friday, June 16, officially closing the 1960-61 school year.

The junior high school schedule is identical except that pupils will be dismissed at noon June 15 and report cards will be mailed to their homes.

Elementary pupils also will embark on a summer holiday at noon next Thursday. They will return Friday to pick up report cards.

★ ★ ★

Mothers will be able to relax again Sept. 7, when classes resume for the 1961-62 school year.

Teen Beauty Hauled From Car by Men

ANDERSON, S.C. (AP)—A pretty teen-age girl dragged from a parked car by two or three men Wednesday night staggered to the safety of a farmhouse early today.

★ ★ ★

Officers said she and her companion in a parked car, Charles Gambrell, 20, reported either two or three men pulled her from the car, slashed Gambrell about the abdomen and left arm, and then drove off with the terrified white girl. The men were Negroes.

★ ★ ★

It was not disclosed if the girl was raped.

Officers reconstructed these events: the 17-year-old girl and her companion were parked on a lovers lane off Highway 81 when the men surprised them. Gambrell was slashed and the girl was spirited away. Gambrell staggered to a nearby house and a search was started.

Predicts Viet Nam Will Fight Off Reds

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara predicted confidently today that guerrilla-harassed South Viet Nam will not fall to the Communists.

But he told the House Foreign Affairs Committee that South Viet Nam will require increased U.S. aid in the form of both training and equipment to "deal effectively" with the guerrilla raids from the Communist-held northern half of the country.

McNamara and Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, testified in support of President Kennedy's proposed new $4.5-billion foreign aid bill.

★ ★ ★

McNamara said the reason that the administration's request for military aid was raised from $1.6 billion in March to $1.8 billion today is the stepped-up Communist pressure in Southeast Asia and elsewhere.

The additional funds, he said, are needed to deal with Communist aggression in Laos and South Viet Nam.

Rep. Chester Merrow, R-N.H., asked: "Do you think Viet Nam is going to stand?"

"I do, sir," McNamara replied emphatically.

★ ★ ★

He said the United States should furnish "whatever effort is required" to enable the countries of Southeast Asia to maintain their independence. He also said that the $1.8 billion asked by Kennedy for military aid spending is a "rock bottom" figure.

Walkout on Negotiations Threatens All U.S. Ships

NEW YORK (UPI) — The National Maritime Union broke off negotiations today with the operators of 570 passenger and freight ships and tankers, raising the possibility of a strike in all U.S. ports next Thursday.

★ ★ ★

Joseph Curran, president of the NMU, said the talks were broken off because the ship owners, represented by the Merchant Marine Institute, failed to offer a "positive response" to the Union's demands for "equality of treatment with licensed officers on issues of times off, transportation and subsistence and lodging allowances."

Real Legislative Battle

Clean House in Illinois

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI)—State police hurried to the Illinois House of Representatives to restore order early today when Democratic and Republican lawmakers battled precariously over a balcony for physical possession of the House clock.

The filibuster wound up just short of the 18-hour mark when seven Republicans joined Democratic voting ranks to ram through a bill allowing a half-cent sales tax increase for cities.

★ ★ ★

At the height of the filibuster, a Chicago Republican observed that the House was the "only insane asylum where the inmates rule."

The trouble started when Republicans launched a filibuster Wednesday in protest over a proposed half-cent increase in the sales tax for cities. The Democrats were conceded to have enough votes to push the measure through.

But as midnight approached, Democrat Leo Pfeffer scurried to a washroom closet to get a key for the chamber clock which he wanted to stop to halt the arrival of a new legislative day — a parliamentary tactic employed to allow the chamber to clean up its workload.

HEADED OFF

But Pfeffer ran into two Republicans who got to the closet before him. One ended on the floor.

Then he rushed to the balcony to halt the glass-encased clock. But in the balcony another Republican, Robert Casey, beat him to the scene again.

The two lawmakers, hanging over the balcony with their hands on the clock, wrested with each other untime the big minute hand broke. Pfeffer cut his hand.

★ ★ ★

National Guard cots were brought to the chamber and one woman legislator promptly plopped down on one.

Democratic House Speaker Paul Powell called a brief recess at 1:30 a.m. with an agreement to begin a new legislative day shortly.

To Open Bids on 7.8 Miles in Oakland County

The State Highway Department will open bids June 21 on 41 highway construction projects with an estimated contract value of $16 million.

Included among the projects are contracts for 7.8 miles of I696 Freeway in Oakland County.

The local freeway projects are:

—5.4 miles of I696 from 96 Freeway just west of Haggerty Road northwest of Farmington east to Orchard Lake Road. Included in the project are grade separations at Halstead and Farmington roads and an interchange at Orchard Lake road. Completion date is Nov. 30, 1962.

—2.4 miles of I696 from Orchard Lake road east to Franklin road, including a grade separation at Inkster road. Completion date is Nov. 30, 1962.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR dear husband and father, Anderson Averett, who passed away one year ago June 8, 1960. He's gone to live with Jesus. Never will his memory fade. Loving thoughts will ever linger, to the spot where he is laid. They say time heals all sorrow, and helps us to forget. But time has only proven how much we miss him yet. God gave me strength to face it, courage to bear the blow, but what it meant to lose him, no one will ever know. Sadly missed by wife Rinda, son and daughters Sadie, Gertie and Glenn

Lucy Denies Rumors; Desi Keeps Calling

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — What's Lucille Ball got that she isn't mentioning? She's quite an inspiration (romantically) to career girls. Lucy keeps saying "No, of course not," to rumors she and young Gary Norton might European-honeymoon. While Desi Arnaz' phone calls intimate he'd like a second honeymoon back in California.

WILSON

Carol Lawrence flew from Paris to do the Garry Moore show — with tender memories of Prince Rainier's father, Pierre, whom she'll see when she returns in a week . . .

Rock Hudson and Marilyn Maxwell just made a secret visit to her old home town, Fort Wayne, Ind. — and insisted on no publicity. (What cooks with you cats?) . . . A Greenwich Village store sign says, "We speak beatnik" . . . Rita Hayworth now reveals Spain's not for her. She, James Hill and Princess Yasmine are returning to Beverly Hills permanently. Rita hints she'd like to do a Broadway show . . .

CAROL

Ernest Hemingway's postponed publication of his book of Paris recollections — "He want's to write a little more and remember a little more," explains Mary Hemingway who expects her husband'll leave Mayo's soon . . .

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Frank Sinatra's donation of $100,000 to Marymount College at Palos Verdes Estates Cal., has flabbergasted his harshest critics. They can't find a thing about it to condemn. The college said the announcement was held up for months "because Mr. Sinatra has the habit of keeping his good deeds quiet" . . .

Beverly Aadland's mother wrote a book about her: "My Daughter Beverly" . . .

★ ★ ★

EARL'S PEARLS: People work harder today to pay their taxes than they did once to earn a living.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Paul Taubman figured out what President Kennedy brought to Vienna that Khrushchev didn't—a pocket comb.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: One young fellow was so energetic that he scratched out the seven-year itch in only four years.

This is the time of year when people plan to drive thousands of miles to have their pictures taken standing next to their cars. That's earl, brother.

Show Is Degrading ---in Living Color

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI) — How can anyone be happy with "It Could Be You" after watching "The Price Is Right" just one hour earlier on Wednesday night?

"It Could Be You" is the latest daytime program to infiltrate the NBC-TV nighttime lineup. (Perhaps infiltrate is the wrong word here. Sabotage is more like it.) Whether I watch this show in daylight or nighttime, I find it cynical, embarrassing, degrading and undeserving. And in living color.

Emcee Bill Leyden, assisted by court jester Wendell Niles, continues to mosey and nose around the audience to pick out his "surprise" guests.

For its latest nighttime debut—the show took other shots at the bigtime a couple of times between 1958 and 1960—"It Could Be You" awarded a bike, a camp vacation and $500 worth of camping equipment to a nice young lad.

Next, Leyden and Niles reunited a woman with a brother she hadn't seen in 18 years. For the big finish, they gave a former rodeo champion, an elderly, doughty woman she was, a new TV set.

Leyden can be counted on to milk each story in a mawkish manner. Tears of joy is what the program aims for, preferably on-stage and on-camera, so that viewers can get their kicks.

Now, earlier in the evening there is the status seeker's Santa Claus, Bill Cullen and "The Price Is Right." Last night, Cullen handed out a $595 barbecue cart, a color TV set, a silver tea set, 17 pieces of furniture, a six-week South Pacific cruise, a woman's cruise wardrobe, a $7,300 power boat and also gave home viewers a chance to win a new house. It was, in short, an average night for Cullen.

★ ★ ★

Compared to the carrot-and-kleenex game that "It Could Be You" plays, "Price" appears to be just what it is—a straightforward, no-nonsense, undiluted, championship exhibit of high-powered greed in action.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Louis Nye and Bill (Jose Jiminez) Dana will be reunited as regulars on "The Steve Allen Show," which debuts on ABC-TV Wednesday, Sept. 27.

TV Features

By United Press International

SPORTS SPECTACULAR, 7 p.m. (2). Skydivers give a demonstration at Ft. Bragg, N. C. Brig. Gen. Joseph Stillwell is interviewed.

MY THREE SONS, 9 p.m. (7). Mike Douglas (Tim Considine) is beset by boredom as a forest tower fire watcher—until a storm breaks loose.

ERNIE FORD, 9:30 p.m. (4). Golf champion Gary Player is Ern's guest. (Color).

UNTOUCHABLES, 9:30 p.m. (7). The trail of a bootleg brandy operation leads Eliot Ness (Robert Stack) into burlesque show circles.

CBS REPORTS, 10 p.m. (2). (Rerun) The story of the arrest, indictment, trial and acquittal of 15-year-old Peter Manceri. Edward R. Murrow is the narrator.

SILENTS PLEASE, 10:30 p.m. (7). A montage of filmed trouble for such heroines as Mae Marsh, Gloria Swanson and Leatrice Joy.

JACK PAAR, 11:30 p.m. (4). Jack's guests are Les Paul and Mary Ford, Jack Douglas and Reiko. (Color).

British Population Rises 2.5 Million in Decade

LONDON (AP) — Britain's population has climbed almost 2.5 million in the last 10 years to a record 52,675,094, a preliminary parliamentary report on the 1961 census revealed Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

England and Wales, with 790 people per square mile, make up the most densely populated area in Europe, next to the Netherlands' 893. They are five times as densely populated as mainland China, which has 156 people per square mile.

Reds Survey Mountains

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet geologists have started an extensive geological and geophysical survey of the Eastern Transural Mountains, the Soviet news agency Tass reported Wednesday. The surveys are expected to take 15 to 20 years.

Mission Group to Buy Hotel in Grand Rapids

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The church-affiliated Randall Fullfillment Project, Inc., has prepared a formal agreement to purchase the Manger Hotel in Grand Rapids for $515,000.

The agreement succeeds a verbal option arrangement that expires June 15. It extends until Aug. 15. A period in which the purchasing group may complete financial arrangements or void the transaction.

The Randall group is an organization of Fountain Street Baptist Church in Grand Rapids. It is working with several other groups to use the hotel as a senior citizen's residence.

Verbal agreement to purchase the building was announced earlier by the Randall Project and the Manger Hotels Corp. in New York.

Wisner Lawn Saved for the Handicapped

There'll be two important events at the Wisner Home during Centennial week.

During the big Centennial parade on opening day, June 17, the spacious lawn of the Oakland Avenue home will be reserved for a special group of parade viewers.

These are Centennial enthusiasts who want to see the parade but who are handicapped by physical infirmities from viewing it in the downtown area.

All handicapped persons, including those confined to wheel chairs, are invited to use the Wisner Home lawn under a cooperative plan between the Oakland County Historical Society and the Greater Pontiac Centennial Commission.

The entire, two-hour parade will pass by the home. It begins at 2:30 p.m.

On Pride in Pontiac Day, Monday, June 19, there'll be a 3:30 p.m. ceremony in which a State of Michigan Historical Marker is presented to the home.

* * *

Former U.S. Sen. Prentiss Brown is scheduled to make the presentation to Dr. Sarah Van Hoosen Jones, president of the society.

The home will be open for public inspection from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and again 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. daily during the June 17-24 Centennial celebration. There will be no charge.

* * *

Right now and during the summer days after the Centennial the visiting hours are fom 2 to 5 p.m. Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. There is a 25 cent charge for adults.

Lumber-Yard Strike Ended in Detroit Area

DETROIT (AP) — A six-day strike of Detroit area lumber yards ended Wednesday night when members of Teamsters Local 458 ratified a three-year contract with the Detroit Lumbermen's Association.

Henry Hopkins, local president, said the new pact affected about 2,400 persons. He said it provided a package increase of about 20 cents an hour over the three-year period.

Held in Gun Slaying of S.C. Police Chief

NEW ELLENTON, S.C. (AP)—Willie Brown, 27, was being held today in the shotgun slaying of T. L. Meeks, chief of police in this small Aiken County town.

Sheriff Wyman Busch said Meeks, about 45, was killed Wednesday night when he went to Brown's home to investigate a domestic squabble.

State Highway Patrolman David Barrineau said Brown was arrested a short while after the shooting by Mayor Charlton Shaw and Constable R. J. Cooper.

Meeks had been the town's only full-time policeman for two years.

Do Penance on Sunday

HUGO, Okla. (AP)—Six young boys were punished by a police judge who ordered them to attend Sunday School every Sunday for six months. They had entered a warehouse full of cars and spent an hour driving them around.

Paper Circulation Rises

NEW YORK (UPI)—Daily circulation of newspapers in the United States last year rose over 1959 by more than a half-million copies, according to Editor & Publisher.

In the past two years the gain has been almost 1½ million, it said.

One of the world's deepest oil wells goes to 20,521 feet and is in the Wyoming oil basin. It was once abandoned as worthless.

Quite a Racing Oddity

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. (UPI) — a racing oddity occurred at Charles Town Dec. 17, 1934, when a filly named Sweet Vestal won a race only to have it revealed that nobody at the track had bet on her. The horse would have paid $1,318.50 for a single $2 bet.

About 36 per cent of the Indian population of the U.S. lives in Oklahoma.

Such a Clean Getaway

GOOCHLAND, Va. (AP) — Two prisoners at the Virginia State Convict Farm here made a clean escape — in baskets from the laundry. They leaped from the baskets before a truck carrying them reached the state farm for women but they were soon captured.

Tractors can operate at least 100 farm machines and their attachments.

West Berlin Issue Made K Raise His Voice

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has informed congressional leaders that Premier Khrushchev raised his voice when he told him in Vienna that West Berlin is a bone that must come out of the Soviet throat.

★ ★ ★

The President also reported Khrushchev indicated he regards Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro as unstable—and not a Communist.

Kennedy briefed influential members of both parties at a 90-minute White House conference Tuesday before he told the nation in a television - radio broadcast a few hours later that the West is ready to maintain its rights in Berlin "at any risk."

★ ★ ★

The briefing, during which the President read from his translator's transcript of some of the conversations, was said to have disclosed that Khrushchev was vitally interested in only two subjects at this time—Berlin and a change in the secretariat direction of the United Nations.

TOPICS DISCUSSED

So reported by responsible sources, these were some of the major topics discussed and the positions taken in the 12 hours of conversations between the two leaders:

Berlin — Khrushchev has not changed his position of more than two years' standing that he intends to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany. He fixed no date for this action. He told Kennedy that nobody but the United States still believes East and West Germany can be reunited.

★ ★ ★

The only time Khrushchev raised his voice in the whole period of discussion was when he talked about Berlin and used the bone in the throat phrase he has employed before. (Kennedy said in his broadcast to the nation "there was no discourtesy, no loss of tempers, no threats or ultimatums by either side" during the Vienna conferences.)

The Soviet premier offered again to give Soviet and East German guarantees of continued Allied access to West Berlin. He proposed that U.S., French, British and Soviet troops remain in the city, and suggested stationing U.N. troops there.

Kennedy replied that the West is in Berlin legally, not merely by sufferance, and intends to stay there. He said Berlin is a foundation stone in American security.

United Nations — Khrushchev contended the U.N. actions in the Congo, under the direction of Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, were not neutral but were pointed against Soviet interests. Never again, he said, would the Soviet Union be placed in a position where its national security policies could be interfered with by the international organization.

3-MAN BOARD

This was the beginning, he indicated of the "troika" policy under which the Soviets would insist that the unanimous vote of a three-man board—on which the East, West and a neutral would be represented—direct the actions of international commissions, including the United Nations.

Cuba—Khrushchev does not regard Castro as a Communist. But he told Kennedy "you are well on the way to making him a good one." The Soviet leader indicated he regards Castro as unstable.

Khrushchev told Kennedy that Americans were always giving him credit for engineering coups that he had nothing to do with. He said Iran will be lost to the West, but disclaimed any part in this.

Laos — Khrushchev said he wasn't interested in trying to make the Laotian government Communist. He would be glad to settle for a neutral regime. Kennedy asked if the Soviet leader would help get the Geneva conference on Laos off the ground and he promised to do so.

Over Hill, Over Dale --by Rocket Belt

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A practical, working rocket belt, torn from the pages of science-fiction, has made a reality of mankind's age-old dream of flying with the birds.

A twist of a throttle, a turn of a lever, and man leaps from the ground, his own personal rocket belt strapped to his back. He hovers in the air, he flies over rivers, he flits up a hill that would leave him breathless to climb.

His support is a twin-nozzle thrust of hydrogen peroxide steam.

★ ★ ★

All this was revealed today by Bell Aerosystems Co., which developed the belt—called a Small Rocket Lift Device—for the Army Transportation Research Command.

Photos of a test engineer, Harold M. Graham, in personal flight with the man-rocket showed him easily leaping a fire truck, handily swirling up a hill, casually jumping a stream.

In 30 successful test flights this spring, Bell said, Graham achieved a speed of about 20 miles an hour. His longest horizontal flight was 360 feet. He did not try for any great altitude, but the belt carried him up a steep, 30-foot-high hill with ease.

Bell has held the Army development contract since last summer, but Wendell F. Moore, director of Bell's man-rocket research program, has been dabbling with the idea since 1954.

"The current device is strictly a feasibility model designed to prove that lightweight rocket power can lift a man and transport him over the ground in controlled flight," said Moore.

The rocket belt is powered by hydrogen peroxide. When forced into a gas generator where it meets a catalyst, it decomposes into steam. Discharged through two nozzles directed toward the ground, this steam provides the thrust.

The position of the nozzles, set out from the sides of the device, plus the low temperature of the steam, eliminate the need for protective clothing for the operator.

Thunderstorms Will Be Scattered Around Tonight

Scattered thunderstorms will be on the program this evening, the weatherman says. Tonight's low temperature will be a mild 64.

Friday will be partly cloudy with temperatures on the cool side, the high in the 70s. Saturday and Sunday will be generally fair and warm but cooler weather will arrive again Monday. Showers may be expected Sunday and Monday.

Morning southerly winds at 3 miles per hour will become briefly stronger during thunderstorms.

The lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 67 degrees. The reading at 1 p.m. was 75.

Might Revive Milk-Price Bill

Hotly Debated Issue May Return as State Solons Return

LANSING (AP) — An attempt to revive a hotly debated milk-pricing bill appeared likely today as Michigan legislators returned for final adjournment of the 1961 session.

★ ★ ★

Main work of the session was completed last month. The formal windup is devoted mainly to action on the governor's vetoes, votes on a variety of resolutions and final attempts to agree on bills sent to Senate-House conference committees for settlement of interchamber differences.

★ ★ ★

Some Republicans indicated there would be a move to pull the milk-pricing bill from the House agriculture committee, where it was consigned for burial in a surprise development last month.

The measure had cleared both houses and was enroute to the governor's desk when it was called back for quick disposal.

★ ★ ★

The most disputed feature of the bill would have forbidden sale of milk at the retail level at less than cost plus overhead expenses.

Centennial to Get Queen in Week

Miss Centennial and her 10 princesses will be trying on their Centennial gowns a week from today.

The month-long contest will close officially at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday at Centennial Headquarters in the Pontiac Public Library. After tallying the final returns from sponsoring organizations, headquarters will announce the winners and they'll get ready for their first public appearance in the mammoth parade kicking off Centennial week at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, June 17.

The queen and court will make their first Wisner Stadium appearance Monday evening, June 19, when the queen is crowned.

The coronation will take place immediately before the first performance of "The Pontiac Story," the stadium spectacle tracing the history of Pontiac. This two-hour show will be played in its entirety the first night, with repeat performances on five nights thereafter, June 20, 21, 22, 23 and 24.

For More Centennial Stories See Page 19

At the three-quarters mark in the Miss Centennial contest, the General Motors Girls Club candidate, Veachel Bilyeau, still was ahead.

After returns were counted last night, Centennial headquarters listed the other candidates and sponsors in the following order according to their rank in the contest:

Kennedy Says Tension to Grow

Tells Newsmen Days Ahead Will Be Difficult for People of U.S.

By HARRY J. REED
Pontiac Press Managing Editor

WASHINGTON — It was a tired-looking President Kennedy who said today that the days ahead would be long and difficult for the American people.

★ ★ ★

The signs of fatigue that showed through his deeply tanned face indicated the President felt the weight of the task he said was before the nation.

He said Americans may become puzzled and disappointed by continued international tensions in the coming months, perhaps years.

But the tensions are not going to lessen, they will become worse, Kennedy indicated.

Kennedy's brief off-the-cuff talk was made to newsmen gathered in the Statler-Hilton Hotel here for the opening of United Press International's two-day conference of editors and publishers. Atty. Gen.

NEW BACK INJURY — President Kennedy is shown as he lifted a spadeful of dirt at Government House in Ottawa last May 16. The White House disclosed today the President has been suffering from a new back injury since that time. This injury may force him to use crutches for a while.

Geneva Group Refuses to Attend More Talks; Editors Hear JFK

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy called today for a realistic cease fire in Laos and said that if this could not be achieved with the Communists it would be "impossible" to reach agreement on many other important international questions.

Kennedy's warning came after the United States, Britain and France told Russia in Geneva that they will boycott all sessions of the Laos peace conference "for the time being."

A British statement said the Western Big Three took the action to give them time to consult their home governments about Communist cease fire violations in Laos.

★ ★ ★

In the light of his recent meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev who joined Kennedy in supporting a cease fire and a neutral Laos, the President was plainly disappointed by the continuing fighting.

Kennedy spoke before the 1961 conference of United Press International editors and publishers at the Statler-Hilton Hotel.

★ ★ ★

He appeared before the editors shortly after the White House announced that he had suffered a recent back strain and would be using crutches occasionally.

Kennedy, however, appeared before the editors without crutches.

Turning to questions from the editors, Kennedy made these high points of news:

—The United States will remain at the Laotian negotiations in Geneva but the President feared for the success of all East-West negotiations if there cannot be

Auto Exhibit Will Highlight Centennial Week Activities

A spectacular automotive exhibit tracing the evolution of cars, buses and trucks built here and featuring a famed scientific stage show will highlight Centennial Week activities in downtown Pontiac.

The free exhibit will run for three days, June 20-22, in the parking lot at Pike and Parke streets across from Pontiac's Civic Center. Hours are 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Earliest cars and truck manufactured in Pontiac plants will be displayed along with latest models. Scientific exhibits that got top billing in auto shows across the country also will be featured.

Exhibitors are Pontiac Motor Division, Fisher Body Division, GMC Truck & Coach Division, Baldwin Rubber Co. and Universal Oil Seal Co.

Industrial program chairman, Bernard W. Crandell, said the exhibit will be "the most spectacular and comprehensive industrial show ever staged in this area.

"It will tie Pontiac's present products with the past in a brilliant automotive display unparalleled in the 100-year history of the city. Visitors will also get a glimpse into America's industrial future in the unique science show."

★ ★ ★

This science show, General Motors Previews of Progress, will be presented frequently during exhibit hours. Its unique scientific sequences will be staged in a colorful striped tent seating 100 persons.

TO HOUSE EXHIBITS

Besides the stage show tent, another big, multicolored tent will house 20 scientific automotive exhibits.

The exhibit area will cover nearly 38,000 square feet. The main entrance faces Pike, with two others fronting on Parke Street.

Outdoor exhibits will consist of 16 cars, 11 trucks and coaches, and a Universal Oil Seal product display consisting of all types and sizes of oil seals found in industrial use today.

Pontiac Motor's outdoor exhibit will include a 1926 Pontiac and new Bonnevilles, Star Chiefs, Venturas, Catalinas and Tempests.

Inside will be a 1907 Oakland

Tractor Swap Group Drafts Note

Will Cable Castro Today

By JIM LONG

A reply to Premier Fidel Castro's terms to trade 1,200 prisoners for 500 tractors is being drafted by the Tractors for Freedom Committee and is expected to be cabled to the Cuban leader today.

Walter P. Reuther, a committee cochairman and president of the United Auto Workers Union, told a Pontiac Press reporter last night that a letter is being readied and would probably be forwarded to the Cuban Prime Minister some time today.

The labor leader made his statement prior to addressing graduates at the Avondale High School commencement exercise.

Reuther explained that no reply to Castro's cable was made yesterday because it was physically impossible to get the committee together on such short notice.

★ ★ ★

The committee was formed after Castro made an offer May 17 to trade prisoners captured in the ill-fated April invasion of Cuba for machines.

Reuther would not attempt to explain why Castro waited just hours before the deadline before sending his outline for negotiating.

Castro suggested in his cable that Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt or Dr. Milton Eisenhower, the other cochairmen, come to Havana to discuss the deal.

TRIPS DOUBTFUL

Reuther, however, said he doubted if he or any of the other principals involved in the proposed transaction would make the trip.

★ ★ ★

Reuther was the subject of acidly critical remarks in today's editorial on the official Cuban radio.

The commentator, calling Reuther a "false liberal" and a "servant of monopolies," said the labor leader "has taken part in the hypocritical campaign against the Cuban revolution. Not one day has gone by that Reuther has not made insulting comments — something that was not part of the task assigned to

Public Can View New Plane Tower

The "Public Welcome" sign will be out when the Federal Aviation Agency opens up the Pontiac Municipal Airport tower next week.

★ ★ ★

"Ninety-nine per cent of the time we won't be so busy that we can't let visitors in for a look-see at what goes on," said Frank A. Gineman, tower chief.

What visitors will witness is a well-trained team operating $600,000 worth of complex electronic equipment, directing traffic with more precision than a traffic cop in the middle of Times Square.

The FAA is scheduled to begin operations at 6 a. m., June 15, if all equipment is delivered and installed in time.

Gineman, who has worked for the federal government's civil aviation arm since 1937, will have a staff of six operators, working in two-men shifts from 6 a. m. to 10 p. m. seven days a week.

AROUND THE CLOCK

"We'll be working around the clock later if traffic at night warrants it," said the veteran tower official.

"Apparently there's a lot of traffic here, although there's never been an official day-to-day count. But just looking around, you see a lot of planes in the air."

Gineman, who has held FAA positions at a number of airports in Michigan, comes to Pontiac from Chicago's Meigs Airport, where he was tower chief three years.

The FAA will occupy the two upper floors and the tower of the terminal building it helped pay for under federal aid-to-airports program.

"Primarily, our responsibility is for the safe, orderly, expeditious flow of air traffic," Gineman explained.

In carrying out this job, the two operators on duty will make use of seven radio channels, one man in touch with any aircraft actually on the runway and the other handling all other craft in the area.

The tower's instructions to pilots are aimed at insuring adequate space between planes, with only one craft entering or leaving the runway at any one time.

For planes arriving at the airport, there will be the usual circle pattern most of the time of 900 feet for the lighter planes and 1,200 feet for the heavier.

The equipment the FAA will use is identical to that used at the largest airports, with the exception of radar.

But compensating for the lack of radar — used only at the busiest fields — is the Vortac homing device the FAA installed in White Lake Township last year.

It broadcasts radio beams around the clock, which incoming pilots use as terminal aides and cross-country flyers find helpful as navigation aides.

To Open Bids on 7.8 Miles in Oakland County

The State Highway Department will open bids June 21 on 41 highway construction projects with an estimated contract value of $16 million.

Included among the projects are contracts for 7.8 miles of I696 Freeway in Oakland County.

The local freeway projects are:

—5.4 miles of I696 from 96 Freeway just west of Haggerty Road northwest of Farmington east to Orchard Lake Road. Included in the project are grade separations at Halstead and Farmington roads and an interchange at Orchard Lake road. Completion date is Nov. 30, 1962.

—2.4 miles of I696 from Orchard Lake road east to Franklin road, including a grade separation at Inkster road. Completion date is Nov. 30, 1962.

—Paving at the intersection of I96 and M218 (Wixom Road). Completion date is Sept. 30, 1961.

—5.1 miles of paving at various locations on U.S. 10 southeast and northwest of Pontiac. Completion date is Oct. 15.

agreement on a cease fire and an independent, neutral Laos.

He re-emphasized the American position that an immediate, effective cease fire is necessary, adding, "If we can't do it here (in Geneva), where are we going to do it?"

—The United States will continue to stand by its proposed nuclear test ban treaty submitted in Geneva though prospects for acceptance continue to seem highly improbable.

TO CONTINUE PURSUIT

Kennedy said, however, that the United States will pursue the test ban negotiations as far as possible because he will want the world to know that we have exhausted every possible avenue of negotiation before the United States resumes testing.

—The federal government has no intention of taking any action in the field of press censorship, voluntary or otherwise, but the Chief Executive thought self-restraint in reporting security matters was the proper subject of continuing consideration by the editors and publishers.

British chief delegate Malcolm Macdonald, cochairman of the Geneva conference, personally informed Soviet Cochairman Georgi Pushkin of the Western boycott decision at an hour-long meeting.

★ ★ ★

The British statement said Macdonald told Pushkin that "some delegations had informed him that in view of the news of the fighting at Padong in Laos, overrun yesterday by the Reds, they cannot attend a further session of the conference until they have completed consultations with their governments on the situation created by this apparent violation of the cease fire."

An authoritative conference source said that by "some delegations" Macdonald meant the representatives of the United States, Britain and France.

The allies "hope" the International Control Commission in Laos will soon report to the conference on the cease fire breach at Padong.

'IN DUE COURSE'

"In view of this, Macdonald expressed the view (to Pushkin) that the next session should be postponed for the time being," the statement said.

The statement said the date of the next conference session would be announced "in due course." A British spokesman gave no indication how soon that might be.

Kennedy was asked whether in view of the renewed Communist aggression in Laos he felt that Khrushchev had reneged on his Vienna promises.

★ ★ ★

Obviously wanting to avoid a frontal accusation of the Soviet leader, Kennedy said:

"I think we're going to stay at Geneva . . . to see if we can come to an agreement on a neutral and independent Laos, but it's going to be a task . . .

"If we cannot reach a successful conclusion on this matter in which both sides have used the same words . . . and use the same examples of neutrality and independence such as Burma and Cambodia . . . if we can't reach an agreement here, how impossible it will be to reach agreement on any other questions."

him as a member of the committee."

Reuther never has been a popular figure with the Castro government but comments explained why Castro had singled out Mrs. Roosevelt and Dr. Eisenhower as the ones he is willing to meet.

★ ★ ★

Senate Republican Leader Everett Dirksen of Illinois said in Washington last night that the committee members "will be getting on tenuous ground" if they go to Havana to negotiate.

CITES LOGAN ACT

Castro had said in his cable "the raising and negotiations cannot be made only by cable, and it is better that a delegation should be sent to Cuba."

Dirksen said that if the persons concerned accepted the Castro invitation they might run afoul of the Logan Act.

The act bars individuals from dealing with foreign governments under specified circumstances. Kennedy administration officials contend the act is not involved in the tractor matter.

★ ★ ★

The committee was organized at the suggestion of President Kennedy. But the President also has said the U.S. government would take no part in any exchange, and Reuther has emphasized that Castro's cable has not been discussed with the President.

Tension to Increase, JFK Tells Newsmen

Robert Kennedy was to address the group later today.

MUST BEAR STRESS

The President said the country must have the ability to bear stress without faltering, the ability to move ahead towards its goals with precision.

He predicted that no single action by the U.S., no single important change in policy, nowadays could alter the uneasy balance of power in the world or make the path easier for the freedom-loving peoples.

In many ways, Kennedy's thoughts were an echo of the serious messages contained in his inaugaral address and later talks.

Today's remarks, however, carry the import of the President's first personal encounter with Russian Premier Khrushchev in Vienna over the weekend.

Community House Assn. Gets Four New Directors

BIRMINGHAM—Four new directors of the Birmingham Community House Association have been elected, with one incumbent re-elected to the board.

The four new directors are Mrs. Robert F. Kohr, Mrs. Lester C. Lempke, John K. Stevenson and Robert A. Thom. Mrs. Read Jenkins was renamed to the board.

Mrs. Kohr, of 460 Wimbleton Drive, is the retiring president of the American Association of University Women and is a past regent of the Piety Hill chapter of the DAR.

Mrs. Lempke of 1145 Kirkway Hills, Bloomfield Hills, is a member of the DAR and is on the board of deacons, Kirk in the Hills.

★ ★ ★

Stevenson, a manufacturer's representative, is a member of the boards of the United Foundation, William Beaumont Hospital and the Detroit Football Co.

He also is general chairman of the 1961 Community House Fund Drive.

★ ★ ★

Thom, of 6160 West Surrey Road, is an artist and was the founding president of the Bloomfield Art Association. He also is one of the founders of the Birmingham Arts Council.

Mrs. Jenkins of 710 Kennebec Court, Bloomfield Hills, was first elected to the board in January to fill a vacancy.

Birmingham residents will get their first look at the city's proposed future business district today at 8 p.m.

Wilbur Mason, chairman of the Central Business District Development Committee, and City Planner Herbert Herzberg will present the detailed plan to the public at a meeting in the municipal building.

The program is designed to obtain the community's criticism of the plan before it is finally adopted.

The completed plan is expected to be displayed during the Arts Festival, June 17-24. It will then be presented to the plan board. It would eventually be undertaken after receiving the approval of various city boards and committees.

Herzberg said the plan makes no attempt to enlarge the central business district to any large extent.

It is an improvement plan rather than an expansion program, the city planner said.

House Vote Due Today on Repeal of Travel Tax

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Unhappy Democrats faced a showdown vote on the House floor today on a surprise Republican move to repeal the 10 per cent tax on airline, rail and bus tickets.

The Democrats had to choose between supporting their President or voting for $300 million a year in tax relief for travelers.

The Republican move posed a major challenge to the Kennedy administration's policy of maintaining tax revenues at current levels in view of the budget deficit for the next fiscal year.

Real Legislative Battle

Clean House in Illinois

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI)—State police hurried to the Illinois House of Representatives to restore order early today when Democratic and Republican lawmakers battled precariously over a balcony for physical possession of the House clock.

The filibuster wound up just short of the 18-hour mark when seven Republicans joined Democratic voting ranks to ram through a bill allowing a half-cent sales tax increase for cities.

★ ★ ★

At the height of the filibuster, a Chicago Republican observed that the House was the "only insane asylum where the inmates rule."

The trouble started when Republicans launched a filibuster Wednesday in protest over a proposed half-cent increase in the sales tax for cities. The Democrats were conceded to have enough votes to push the measure through.

But as midnight approached, Democrat Leo Pfeffer scurried to a washroom closet to get a key for the chamber clock which he wanted to stop to halt the arrival of a new legislative day — a parliamentary tactic employed to allow the chamber to clean up its workload.

HEADED OFF

But Pfeffer ran into two Republicans who got to the closet before him. One ended on the floor.

Then he rushed to the balcony to halt the glass-encased clock. But in the balcony another Republican, Robert Casey, beat him to the scene again.

The two lawmakers, hanging over the balcony with their hands on the clock, wrested with each other untime the big minute hand broke. Pfeffer cut his hand.

★ ★ ★

National Guard cots were brought to the chamber and one woman legislator promptly plopped down on one.

Democratic House Speaker Paul Powell called a brief recess at 1:30 a.m. with an agreement to begin a new legislative day shortly.

Hospitality Center Centennial Feature

For the many onetime Pontiac residents who are planning to return here for a visit during the Greater Pontiac Centennial, June 17-24, there'll be a special hospitality center in Elks Temple.

★ ★ ★

Members of the hospitality center committee, headed by Mrs. Cecil McCallum, plan to be on hand to welcome guests of the city and register "oldtimers" from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. during the entire celebration period, with the exception of Sunday, June 18.

DAV Plans Convention

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Approximately 2,000 delegates are expected June 16-18 in Grand Rapids for the annual Michigan convention of Disabled American Veterans. Walter Haedke of Detroit, national service officer, is among special guests at the convention.

Pick Kalamazoo Judge

LANSING (AP) — Appointment of Edward J. Ryan of Kalamazoo as Kalamazoo County probate judge was announced Wednesday by Gov. Swainson. Ryan will replace Probate Judge Donald T. Anderson, who resigned.

Boyle Says Those Were the Days! Remember?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Some folks are anxiously looking forward to making a round trip to the moon—as soon as they put in tourist rates.

Others of us stubbornly like to recall the flavor of life as it used to be. We enjoy getting together and playing the old memory game.

For example, can you remember when—

* * *

You could get a teen-ager to baby sit all evening for 50 cents and a plate of fudge.

BOYLE

Half the dogs in town were Tighe, Buck or Prince, and they lived out their lives without ever being taken to an "animal doctor." The vets made a living then treating cows and horses.

A nickel would buy you a ride on the subway or street car, or a hot dog, or a big candy bar, or an ice cream cone, or a tall foamy glass of beer.

The nearest thing to a juvenile delinquent was the tough kid who smoked cornsilk cigarettes and insisted on playing marbles for keeps.

* * *

A man was as proud of showing off a pair of new $7.50 shoes as he is today of showing off a new $4,000 automobile.

Nobody ever got his toes sliced off in a power lawnmower, because all lawnmowers were powered by hand.

ROOSTER CROWED

You had no need for an alarm clock. The man next door still kept chickens in his back yard, and his rooster woke up the whole community before dawn.

* * *

No house had a patio, but every home had a big comfortable front porch swing—especially if it held any daughters of marriageable age.

* * *

At dusk a man on a bicycle rode by to light the street gas lamps. Every kid wanted to grow up and be a lamplighter.

The workingman's dream of affluence was to own a Sunday silk shirt with stripes half an inch wide.

* * *

If a child sassed a teacher he got a ruler across his knuckles—instead of an emergency consultation with the school psychiatrist.

REMEMBER TOM SWIFT?

The five greatest heroes of American boyhood were Tom Swift, Frank Merriwell and the three Rover boys.

There were at least two certainties in a doubtful world. Baseball and college basketball were honest.

* * *

If you went for a motor car trip of more than 40 miles in any direction, you could count on getting lost twice and having at least one flat tire.

The height of adventure to a small boy was to dig a small cave in the back yard, roof it with boards and dirt, and roast potatoes in it until the smoke drove him out, coughing, into the fresh air.

* * *

No kid ever wondered what to do on Saturday. That was the day he cleaned out the coal furnace and carried out the week's accumulation of ashes from the basement.

If a fellow had to slick down his hair in a hurry before stepping out for the evening, he could always find a little lard in the kitchen.

* * *

The kitchen cabinet held only one kind of breakfast cereal, not 12.

Every barbershop had a well-thumbed copy of the "Police Gazette," but if you were under 14 you had to peek at it when the barber wasn't looking.

* * *

Those who lacked funds to broaden themselves by travel could always further their education by reading back numbers of the "National Geographic" while waiting in the dentist's office.

* * *

Everybody knew who wore the pants in the family, and nobody argued about it. It was father.

Those were the days! Remember?

Eye New Plan to Handle Mail

System Will Stagger Bulk Deliveries to Local Post Offices for Speed

CHICAGO (AP)—The Post Office Department has announced a new mail handling system which within the next 60 days might speed mail deliveries by 24 hours.

* * *

Frederick C. Belen, assistant postmaster general for operations, said approximately 30,000 of the nation's mail users are being asked to stagger bulk mail deliveries to their local post offices to avoid the usual end of the business day glut.

Belen told a news conference that approximately 80 per cent of the 65 billion pieces of mail handled annually is delivered to the post office between the hours of 5 and 8 p.m.

"We've had to hire 84,000 part-time employes to handle the load," Belen said. "The end of the day dump is costly and causes delay of delivery for everyone."

Since most of this avalanche comes from business firms the post office department will try to persuade them to mail nonpriority letters outside the peak evening hours.

Belen said a recent test run in Washington involving selected government departments resulted in day-sooner deliveries of Washington mail to points in New York, North Carolina, South Carolina and Kentucky.

License 37 Years Old; 'Nobody Ever Told Me'

DETROIT (AP)—Otis G. Knight made a turn and learned his drivers' license hadn't been any good for 37 years.

The 63-year-old Knight told patrolman Fred Sudy, "Nobody ever told me I had to get another one."

Knight got a double ticket — for driving with an expired license and making an illegal turn.

Robert Griffith Dies

PORT CHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Robert E. Griffith, 53, of the theatrical producing team of Griffith and Prince, died Wednesday of a heart attack. He was co-producer of such Broadway musicals as "The Pajama Game," "Damn Yankees," "West Side Story," and the current hit "Fiorello."

DUAL LIFE ENDS—A bullet in the temple has ended the dual role of John Arthur Sharpe of Greenbelt, Md. His parents and friends thought he was a University of Maryland student, but he actually withdrew from the institution in October 1958.

Burt Will Manage Vagabond Factory

Fred J. Burt, 26, son of one of the two cofounders of the Vagabond Coach Manufacturing Co. of New Hudson, has been promoted to general manager of the company's new Vagabond mobile home plant in Kingman, Ariz.

* * *

F. C. Burt, Vagabond president, announced the promotion of his son from factory manager at the company's plant in Alexander City, Ala., a post he has held since July 1960.

* * *

Born in South Lyon, he was graduated from South Lyon High School in 1953. He attended Michigan State University in 1954 and 1955 and after serving in the Army, returned to production work in the Vagabond plant in Brighton. He was married in August 1958 and is the father of a son, Fred Jeffrey, six months old.

Jackie Sailing Isles of Greece on 'North Wind'

ATHENS (UPI) — Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy begins an odyssey through the fabled Isles of Greece today with a royal Greek navy escort to make certain the world leaves her alone.

The President's wife and her party sailed this morning aboard the 123-foot "North Wind," described by its owner, Markos Nomikos, as "built in the old comfortable style."

First port of call was Epidaurus, about three hours out of Piraeus, port of Athens.

Mrs. Kennedy was rapidly becoming the darling of the royal Greek navy. It assigned a flotilla to shield the North Wind from the swarm of 60 foreign newsmen and photographers who followed her into Athens.

"We are looking after the little lady," a Greek navy spokesman said.

Little House Has Varied Uses

A versatile garden and tool house, equally valuable in a back yard or at a summer home, can be built of common building materials by two handymen over several weekends. Constructed according to an easy-to-follow plan, the eight-foot-square house may be devoted to a tool storage house and workshop, a children's playhouse, or even a guest house.

★ ★ ★

Panels recommended for the exterior simplify construction. For neatness, good appearance and durability, the plan suggests the use of Masonite Panelgroove, a siding with vertical grooves at regular or random intervals. Paint lasts unusually long on the grainless, splinter - and - knot - free Masonite panels.

The wood floor is given a long-wearing surface of Tempered Presdwood.

The plan suggests the use of Peg-Board panels on the walls if the house is to be used for tool storage and a workshop. Tools and various supplies can be hung on the perforated hardboard. A work table may be hinged to the wall.

Insulation may be placed between the studs to provide year-around comfort. Electric heating will warm the cabin sufficiently in any climate.

The detailed plan may be obtained by sending 50 cents in coin to the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 W. Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., and requesting plan No. 51.

Another Generation Loves Benny's Band

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

ANNAHEIM, Calif. (AP)—Can B. G. make it with another generation?

★ ★ ★

You'd think so, watching Benny Goodman swing out at Disneyland. Such excitement hasn't been seen since the '30s, when the famed pied piper led America into a whole new world of music.

"It's amazing," says Benny, obviously pleased with this new turn in his long career.

THOMAS

He recently organized a big band composed of a few old timers but mostly young musicians. The first date was Disneyland over Memorial Day weekend, the first booking of a name attraction at the park.

The results were sensational. Crowds packed 20 deep before the bandstand and couples were jitterbugging — not rocking, not rolling—jitterbugging.

DISNEY AMAZED

One of the amazed observers was Walt Disney himself. He told me: "Benny said it was just like the old days. His manager kept looking at his watch and warning Benny that he was going overtime. 'Don't worry—I'll pay for it,' Benny said, and he played 15 minutes longer."

B. G. was back on the bandstand last weekend, and I came on a sentimental journey to catch his music. It was indeed like the old days. Benny played the licorice stick with the same facile style, and the crowd cheered every solo.

Still youthful at 52, Benny bounced and grinned as he lead the numbers. They were strictly vintage stuff—"Sing, Sing, Sing" "Jumping at the Woodside," "And The Angels Sing," "One O'Clock Jump," etc. The youngsters ate it up. And for us ex-rug cutters—wow!

Benny has stuck mostly to small combos in recent years, but he said he'll continue with the full band if the demand continues. "Big bands, small bands—I'm in the music business," he said. "I'll play whatever the people want."

Goodman has been held over for another weekend. A week from tonight, he'll face the acid test of whether he can repeat with a whole new crop of kids. He'll play at Disneyland grad night, a midnight-to-dawn party for 10,000 high school graduates from all over Southern California.

If he can send the grads, he's got it made.

Man Is Married While in Jail; No Honeymoon

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—When bridegroom W. C. Swaner said he and his new wife were "looking forward to better things together," he meant just that.

He's in jail.

Swaner, 30, was married in the jail Wednesday to Heidi Guthersohn, 21, a Long Island, N.Y., waitress he met while driving a truck.

They had planned an April wedding, but Swaner was arrested in March when he brought Miss Guthersohn here to meet his mother. He was convicted of forging three checks two years ago and sentenced to 180 days.

"We decided to go ahead so we can begin a new life together," said the smiling bride. Sheriff Leslie Jett granted them special permission to hold the wedding in the jail.

The honeymoon will have to wait.

2 in Court Monday on Break-In Charge

Accused of attempted breaking and entering, two Pontiac men will be arraigned in Circuit Court Monday.

★ ★ ★

Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum ordered Eulus Zimmerman, 41, of 47 Hillsdale St., and Clayton Knepfler, 49, of 20 N. Edith St., bound over to the higher court after a pretrial hearing for four men accused of the charge.

The judge dismissed the charge against Robert Weatherbee, 47, of 845 Melrose Ave., and will decide whether there is enough evidence to bind over Franklin Brock, 28, same address, on June 12.

★ ★ ★

The four men had been accused of the attempted break-in of People's Food-O-Mat, 465 E. Pike St., April 16. They were arrested near the store.

★ ★ ★

Police said wire mesh had been torn from a basement window and they reported finding screw drivers and crow bars in the car in which the four were riding.

Why is the whiskey on the right insured for One Million Dollars?

$4.36 4/5 Qt.
$2.75 Pint

SOLID-GOLD BARS loaned through the courtesy of a U.S. Treasury Department gold licensee.

Answer:

The whiskey on the right is insured because it is Calvert's one million dollar "Standard of Excellence" —the lightest, finest, smoothest-tasting whiskey, we believe, ever created.

The Calvert Reserve on the left—and every bottle you buy—must match this "Standard of Excellence" for lighter taste, finer taste, smoother taste. Taste that never varies. Always "good as gold." Shouldn't you enjoy it tonight?

For lighter taste... finer taste... smoother taste...

Cites Dangers of Rail Yards

Grand Trunk Police Captain Has Warning for Parents

With school vacation just around the corner, the Michigan Railroad Police Association is appealing to parents to warn their children of the dangers lurking around railroad yards, trains and tracks, F. M. Kapanowski, captain of police for the Grand Trunk Railway System here, said today.

★ ★ ★

More and more children are being injured and killed as a result of trespassing on railroad property, despite a concentrated safety program by MRPA in schools; with boy and cub scouts; and with Parent-Teachers Associations.

A. J. Faust, president of the Michigan Railroad Police Association said, "Only mothers and fathers can prevent injury and loss of life to their children by teaching them right from wrong about trespassing and vandalism."

★ ★ ★

"Prevention is the answer. Cure is too late to restore life or limb. Law enforcement groups are powerless to prevent loss of life and injury to juveniles. But parents can, and it is their guidance which will keep children safe," Faust added.

Local Head Will Run Against Hoffa, or VP

NEWARK, N. J. (AP) — Milton J. Liss, president of Teamsters Local 478 of Newark, said Wednesday he will run for election against either Teamsters President James R. Hoffa or Anthony (Tony Pro) Provenzano of Hackensack, a vice president.

Elections are scheduled at the Teamsters Convention opening July 5 in Miami Beach, Fla.

Although announcing his candidacy for either office, Liss said he believes Hoffa is almost a sure bet to win re-election. Hoffa probably would carry Provenzano with him but Provenzano was more vulnerable, Liss said.

Liss has withstood Teamster efforts over the past four years to remove him as an official of Local 478. He recently headed an eight-man anti-Hoffa slate from the Newark local as delegates to the convention.

Turbojet Engine Sells at $17,000; Lighter, Cheaper

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Development of a lightweight turbojet engine for small aircraft and helicopters has been announced by Continental Aviation and Engineering Co.

The engine, designated the T72, will be lighter and cheaper, at $17,000 than comparable engines now selling at more than $50,000, Continental officials said.

"This new product could well be the forerunner of a new family of turbines," said Roy P. Powers, Continental vice president and general manager.

The 500-horsepower engine, developed in a $1.5 million research project, weighs 210 pounds. It is 45 inches long, has a 20-inch diameter and fewer working parts than current type engines.

Tries Grass-Root Approach

Mother of 4 Writes Castro

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 25-year-old mother of four from Saginaw, Mich., may have come up with a new approach for winning friends in Latin America, Rep. James Harvey, R-Mich., said Wednesday.

Harvey said he has forwarded to the U.S. Information Agency a letter from Mrs. John J. Nalevayko which went to Cuban Premier Fidel Castro via Harvey's office.

Mrs. Nalevayko's handwritten, seven-page letter urged Castro to hold free elections in Cuba and also to change his critical attitude toward the United States.

FORWARDS LETTER

"We only want to protect ourselves from Communist tyranny," she wrote. "I believe that if you continue to sympathize with the Communists, they will have a rocket base in Cuba before long . . . the United States cannot let this happen."

* * *

Harvey said he forwarded the letter to Castro at Mrs. Nalevayko's request and sent a copy to USIA Director Edward R. Murrow.

He said he told Murrow he thought Mrs. Nalevayko's "grass-root approach to a serious national condition merits further study and possible future use by his agency."

He added:

"It is possible such 'hometown' thinking, integrated into Latin American broadcasts, would prove most successful in furthering better understanding among all the people of North and South America."

U.S. Will Help Ghana Set Up Medical Center

Honor Pontiac State Hospital Volunteers at Tea

Pontiac Press Photos

Among the 200 volunteers honored Wednesday at Pontiac State Hospital's annual tea were (from left) Mrs. Edward Lawrence Jr., chairman of the children's volunteer program; guest Mayor Philip Rowston; Mrs. Mary McDowell, family care volunteer; and Mrs. Jackie Rae Voorheis, volunteer recreational therapist.

Dedicated Efforts of 500 Hailed

Some 200 Pontiac State Hospital volunteers were honored at the annual hospital tea Wednesday in the recreational therapy department facilities.

Dr. Walter H. Obenauf, hospital superintendent, congratulated the assembly for their dedicated efforts on behalf of the patients.

"The volunteers," he said, as hospital representatives and leaders in their respective committee, "are an integral factor in creating a more favorable public image of mental illness."

Invocation and benediction was given by the Rev. Galen E. Hershey, pastor of First Presbyterian Church.

Speaking on the volunteer program at the hospital in which some 500 persons participate, Larry Payne, director of news and public affairs at radio station WPON, said:

★ ★ ★

"Volunteers have helped erase from public consciousness the stigma so often associated with the mentally ill. Benefits of volunteer service are definitely being felt by the patient and the community. Those who bring sunshine to others are the ones who reap emotional rewards for a job well done."

★ ★ ★

Patients provided entertainment and acted as guides by meeting their volunteers in the reception center and directing them to the program site.

Dr. Robert Braun, clinical director, was chairman of the tea planning committee. Assisting him were Mrs. Ruby Eargle, director of nursing; Mrs. Eleanore McCurry, director of occupational therapy; Dorothy Roe, director of recreational therapy; Grace Clark, dietitian; Mrs. Hazel Foltz, housekeeping supervisor; Ted Stein, Fairlawn School teacher; Richard Arthaud, social service director and Ted A. Panaretos, director of community relations.

Mayor Phillip E. Rowston was a guest.

With That Kind of Strategy, You May Be Out at Home

By ABIGAIL BAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I met a wonderful guy two weeks ago. He is a professional ball player. He is the kindest and most gentlemanly man I have every known.

ABBY

We have had several dates and I know we are meant for each other. We always enjoy ourselves no matter where we go or what we do.

I have never had this feeling about anyone else and neither has he.

Well, here's our problem. We are both married. His home life is a mess and so is mine.

Abby, I am not the kind of girl who goes around breaking up marriages, but I love this guy so much I would do anything to have him.

Is it possible to be married in one state before your divorce is final in another?

SO IN LOVE

DEAR SO: It is not possible . . . and for a good reason. It assures a cooling off period and is a safeguard against stealing home. Catch?

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: This is my eighth day in bed. I caught my heel on the stairs and plunged to the cement landing. I suffered a slight brain concussion, sprained ankle and a badly bruised elbow. Yes, the new shoes did it.

But I still will not give up the pointed toes and skinny heels. Instead, I will be more careful on the stairs. I am sure the many women who love the beautiful pointed shoes are not writing to you. Just the complainers.

Yours truly,

IN STYLE IN OHIO

DEAR IN: You had better see your doctor again. I'm afraid that brain concussion is more serious than you think it is.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: While I was working at the polls, our National Anthem was played on the radio. Everyone was very busy writing, and so was I.

But I stood up and placed my hand above my heart until the song was over. No one else in the room bothered to acknowledge it.

In fact, I heard a few of them laughing behind my back.

When I watch a parade on television and our flag appears, I always stand up and salute it whether I'm alone or with others.

I want to know if I am as queer as some people think I am, or are they the ones who are out of order?

PATRIOTIC

DEAR PATRIOTIC: Most people do not stand for the National Anthem or flag except at public gatherings. This doesn't mean they are less patriotic, only more conformist. Do as you please, but don't be surprised if you surprise and amuse others.

CONFIDENTIAL TO THE TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB: Jumping at conclusions is not nearly as good exercise as digging for facts, girls.

★ ★ ★

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? Write to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

For a personal reply enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Greek Decor Ball to Be at Hills Club

Reservations are still coming in for the Bloomfield Art Association's annual ball June 16 at Bloomfield Hills Country Club. Area artists and sculptors have been busy for months designing a scene out of Greek mythology for the 7 p.m. ball and dinner party that officially opens the nine-day festival.

Dubbed "A Night With the Gods," festivities will be on an Olympian scale.

★ ★ ★

Ball invitations have been designed by artist Rocco DiMarco. The king-size invitations are intended to be decorative enough for wall hangings. They will become collector's items, predicts Clifford West, head of the art department at Kingswood School, Cranbrook.

★ ★ ★

Both West and DiMarco are advisors to the ball decorations committee headed by Mrs. Louis E. Dean of Willow Lane, Birmingham. The committee adopted the Grecian gods and goddesses for their theme on a suggestion made by West, who spent last summer in Greece.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Dean's committee has been meeting regularly in the Russell home — even while Mrs. Russell was in Europe for a month — to prepare the elaborate decorations. With chicken wire, plywood, buckets of paste and newspapers, they made huge Grecian urns to flank the ballroom walls.

★ ★ ★

Sculptor Tex Schewitz also made an urn in his studio at Cranbrook Academy of Art. It was so large he was unable to get it into the Russell house.

PRIZES OFFERED

To add to the theme, "goddesses" who are so inclined are being encouraged to create Grecian headdresses. A prize is being offered for the most outstanding entry. Advice on how to make the headdresses will be available at the open house, along with a sample Grecian chapeau.

★ ★ ★

The art association members are pouring their creative talents into the annual ball for two reasons. Through the $100-a-couple event, they are providing a gay opener to the art festival. They are also hoping to add to a building fund for a center for Birmingham area artists, both children and adults.

★ ★ ★

The BAA was formed in 1956 to promote participation in and enjoyment of art in the community.

Committee chairmen assisting with ball arrangements are Mrs. Edward S. Wellock, Mrs. George O. Cutter, Mrs. LeRoy E. Kiefer, Mrs. Roger M. Kyes, Mrs. John K. Stevenson and Mrs. Paul N. Averill.

Ball co-chairmen Mrs. George Russell and Mrs. Robert VanderKloot are planning to auction off West's colorful, Grecian-figured murals at the end of the evening. West painted them on large sections of heavy paper which their purchasers could hang like wallpaper.

★ ★ ★

An urn made by Cranbrook sculptor Tex Schiwetz was so large that he was unable to get it through a regular door. The urns will greet the modern-day Athenas and Apollos at the clubhouse entrance.

★ ★ ★

Schiwetz used papier-mache and cloth to create a life-size charioteer who will be riding his chariot just inside the country club door. A five-foot-high papier-mache centaur will beam its dark eyes upon the arriving guests.

★ ★ ★

Among local gods and goddesses for the night will be the C. K. Pattersons; the Harold A. Fitzgeralds; the Merrill O. Bates; and the Don E. Ahrens.

Putting the finishing touches on the mural which will adorn a wall of the Bloomfield Hills Country Club for the gala Birmingham Arts Festival Ball June 16 is artist Clifford West of Bloomfield Hills. A make-belive temple for the "gods and goddesses" who will dine and dance that evening is the elaborate setting for the colorful annual affair.

Members Are Guest at Meeting

Guests from Pontiac Chapter No. 228, Order of the Eastern Star, attended Monday's meeting of Areme Chapter No. 503, OES, in Roosevelt Masonic Temple.

Mrs. J. B. Wilder and Mrs. Raymond Boatright served on the hospitality committee, and Mrs. Bernard Garner, Mrs. Russell Canterbury and Mrs. Loren Palen planned refreshments.

Plans for a picnic July 10 were initiated by the group. Mrs. Harry Lunsford and Mrs. Daniel Peterson will select a place for the affair.

Mrs. Harry Bunsford and Melvin Patterson will be guests of the Farmington OES Chapter on June 27. On June 21 Mrs. Edward Moden will visit with the Birmingham chapter.

Committee members for the printing of new membership directories are Mrs. William Pfahlert, Mrs. Kenneth Newlon, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Samuel Wiscombe and Mrs. Victor Bodamer.

The chapter will honor past electras on June 19.

Four awards at the honors convocation of Michigan State University's College of Veterinary Medicine were carried off by Mr. and Mrs. John Valerio. The former Marion Greenlee of Avondale Avenue is shown receiving a $100 award from Dr. A. R. Wingerter of the Michigan Veterinary Medical Association for placing second in her class.

Dramatic Designs

(UPI) — Silvano of Roma styles many at-home hostess costumes that are as dramatic as a stage design. The designer's formal coat worn with a one-piece jump suit, all in bright gold cotton satin printed with huge butterflies is outstanding. Another attractive one is a green cotton coat, lined with white eyelet and worn over a green jump suit.

League Meets at Dinner

The League of Women Voters of Pontiac met for a cooperative dinner Tuesday evening in the Camley Street home of Lillian Davidson.

★ ★ ★

At the business meeting which followed the group agreed to order new league publications which spell out the league positions on constitutional revisions.

Miss Davidson will attend a meeting of voters service chairmen of the eight Oakland County leagues on June 13 in Huntington Woods. The committee will discuss plans for presenting information on con-con candidates of Oakland County to the voters in the form of voters guides and rallies.

Pontiac women volunteering to interview candidates were Laura Belz, Mrs. John Borsvold, Miss Davidson, Mrs. Donovan Gillmore, Elizabeth Halsey, Mrs. Claire J. Hinckley, Mrs. J. E. Scott, Mrs. Fred Steinbaugh and Mrs. William J. Hanley.

★ ★ ★

In a report on the state convention May 16-18 in East Lansing the hostess highlighted delegates' part in forming league programs.

Miss Belz reported on talks by special speakers Dr. Ralph Smuckler whose topic was "The New Look in Foreign Aid" and George Romney who discussed "Problems Facing Michigan."

Reports from Michigan members attending the National Council of the LWV of the United States in early May also were heard.

Bonnie Davidson, Mrs. G. A. Flessland and Margaret Harths were added to the membership roster.

What Woman Says Needs Interpreting

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

So you don't understand women—your wife included. Well, maybe that's because you assume a woman means exactly what she says. But a woman seldom does. For instance:

"I'll be ready in just a minute" means "Relax, putting on my face is going to take a while—but it will be worth it."

"She's attractive—if you like the type" implies, "Does anybody?"

"She's so young looking for her age" isn't really a compliment. It's a tip-off that she's not as young as she wants everyone to think she is.

"I had the most wonderful luck today" nearly always leads up to the disclosure that a wife has been a bit extravagant and is building up her buy as the bargain of the year.

IT'S A LURE

"I'd love to have it, but (sigh) it's too expensive." That doesn't mean she has given up the idea. It is just a come-on that is supposed to make her husband automatically respond with, "If it's what you want, get it."

"I'm devoted to Marcia but . . ." Pay no attention to the "I'm devoted" routine—just listen for what follows the pause after that "but" and you'll find out how she really feels about Marcia.

"Do you really like my hat?" That isn't a question—it's a command for you to be reassuring.

★ ★ ★

"Of course, I'm not mad. It's just that—" It is just that she is burned up at you, that's all.

"Now don't say a word until I've finished." You'd better sit down before you hear the rest of this. It's going to be bad news, for sure.

More light for husbands on wives' ways: "Happier Wives (hints for husband)." Just send 25 cents to Ruth Millett Reader Service, c/o The Pontiac Press, P.O. Box 489, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 19, N.Y.

Out for Daytime

LYNDA ANN McCURDY

Graduating June 10 from Eastern Michigan University will be Lynda Ann McCurdy, daughter of the James L. McCurdys of Henry Clay Avenue. Miss McCurdy, whose B.S. degree was in biological science, will teach science and mathematics at Wayne in September. While in college she was an officer in the Natural Science Club, a freshman counselor and was an assistant in the science department. She also was on the staff of the Eastern Aurora.

Strawberries Have Their Day

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

This is the week when strawberries are expected to move to local markets in some volume. But the peak of the Michigan season won't be before the middle of the month. The Odell berries are still in the blossom stage which means 3-4 weeks before the fruit ripens. Then we fight with the birds for the biggest berries.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Josephine Lawyer tells us to look for fresh, clean bright berries, solid red in color. They should be free of moisture, dirt and trash and the caps should be attached. Size is no indication of flavor.

Pick over your berries as soon as you get them home, discarding underripe and overripe ones. Place on a platter—one layer deep—or on paper plates in the refrigerator. Do not wash them until you are ready to serve them. Be gentle.

Strawberries are high in vitamin C which is good news now that the citrus fruit season has slacked off. There are about 54 calories in 1 cup of unsweetened berries.

After you have had your fill of strawberry shortcake, try a dessert using shredded wheat biscuits. It's different.

Glazed Strawberry Eclair

1 pint fresh strawberries
¾ cup sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
¼ cup water
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 teaspoons lemon juice
4 shredded wheat biscuits
1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Wash and hull berries. Save out 8 strawberries. Mash remaining berries with a fork. Combine with sugar, cornstarch and water in a saucepan. Heat to boiling point, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Stir in butter or margarine and lemon juice. Cool.

Split shredded wheat biscuits along side seams carefully, using point of sharp knife. Spoon half of strawberry sauce over bottom halves of biscuits on serving plate. Spread with whipped cream. Replace tops of biscuits and spoon on remaining whipped cream and strawberry sauce.

Slice remaining 8 strawberries and use as garnish. Makes 4 servings.

★ ★ ★

Strawberry Creme is a fluffy mixture that you can serve in a number of ways. Use it as a topping, a filling for cream puffs or a dessert piled high in a sherbet glass. It's inexpensive because it uses whipped evaporated milk.

Strawberry Creme

⅔ cup evaporated milk
3 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
⅓ cup slivered almonds, toasted
1 cup sweetened fresh strawberries, crushed (see note)

Chill evaporated milk in ice tray until frozen around edges. Chill 1½-quart mixing bowl and beaters too. Put ice cold milk and sugar into cold bowl and whip with electric mixer until fluffy. Add lemon juice and whip until very stiff. Fold in almonds and strawberries. Spoon into dessert dishes and chill until ready to serve (up to 30 minutes). Serves 4. For variety, fill cream puffs or top cake slices with strawberry creme.

NOTE: Other fresh berries, such as raspberries or blueberries may be used instead of strawberries.

★ ★ ★

Know what? This year is the 40th anniversary of the chiffon pie. We never gave a thought to the time when such a pie wasn't made. In case you can't find your recipe for Fresh Strawberry Chiffon Pie, here is a copy.

1 envelope unflavored gelatine
¼ cup cold water
3 eggs, separated
½ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
¾ cup milk
1½ cups sliced fresh strawberries
¼ cup sugar
9-inch graham cracker pie crust
Whole strawberries for garnish

Soften gelatine in cold water.

Combine egg yolks and the ½ cup sugar in the top part of a double boiler. Stir in salt and milk. Cook over hot water (not boiling) or very low heat until the mixture coats a metal spoon, stirring constantly. Remove from heat.

★ ★ ★

Add softened gelatine. Chill until mixture is about as thick as fresh egg whites. Fold in sliced strawberries.

Beat egg whites until they stand in soft peaks into which gradually beat in the remaining ¼ cup sugar. Then fold into the gelatin mixture. Turn into a cold Graham Cracker Pie Crust. Chill until ready to serve.

Spread with sweetened whip cream. Top with whole fresh strawberries. Yield: Filling for one 9-inch pie or for 6 servings.

SHREDDED WHEAT ECLAIRS—Fresh strawberry season calls for a variety of new recipes. One of the more unusual ones is this "eclair" made with regular shredded wheat biscuits, fresh strawberries and whipped cream. You'll like the combination of texture and flavor. Michigan strawberries are just about ready to come into the market in volume.

Cheese Soup Becomes Dip for Hot Dogs

Yes, there is a new way to serve the succulent frankfurt, and it's a way that the whole family will enjoy, as well as guests, too.

The basis for these sensationally new "cheese dogs" is one of the new concentrated cheese soups now on the market. The contents of the can should be poured directly into a chafing dish or saucepan, without thinning. After you have served "cheese dogs" a few times, you may wish to add other seasoning to your own taste. But for the first time, try the mixture exactly as prepared by the makers.

Heat until the cheese begins to soften in the pan and then put in five or six frankfurts warmed to room temperature Allow the combination of cheese and frankfurts to heat thoroughly, and then you're ready to introduce a new taste-delight to the world!

Using regular hot dog buns, (warmed, if you like), place one of the "cheese dogs" in the center, and serve with any garnishes, snacks or relishes, such as potato chips and dill pickles, that you wish. Be prepared to serve seconds and thirds and fourths!

Of course, if the canned cheese soup isn't available, or if you prefer, a regular Welsh Rarebit may be prepared which is just as delicious, although more trouble.

Save Calories Keep Goodness

Baked custard is an old favorite among desserts, but it is usually so rich in milk and sugar that the calorie counters must avoid it entirely. Not so with this new low-calorie custard, made with nonfat milk and granulated sugar substitute, which gives all the sweetness of sugar but none of its calories.

★ ★ ★

This low-calorie custard is so easy to make that the young daughter of the family can experiment on it for her first attempt at cooking. For mother, it provides a welcome treat for that late morning or mid-afternoon coffee break when sweet rolls or cake add too many calories.

And for the whole family, it is an excellent dessert which can be dressed up with fruit or caramel syrup, or eaten as is for the light touch so desirable at the end of a summertime meal.

Baked Custard

1 egg, lightly beaten
¾ teaspoon granulated sugar substitute
1 cup skim milk or liquefied nonfat dry milk
½ teaspoon vanilla
Nutmeg

Combine beaten egg with sugar substitute; slowly add skim milk and vanilla, blending well. Pour mixture equally into two custard cups; top with a sprinkling of nutmeg. Bake in pan of hot water in moderate oven (325 degrees) about 1 hour, or until mixture does not adhere to knife. Serves 2.

Can of Ripe Olives Offers Many Ideas

Easy fixings for barbecue salads, appetizers, main dishes and breads come in a can of glossy ripe olives. String pitted ripe olives on skewers with shrimp, beef or lamb cubes, franks, chunks of canned luncheon meat or squares of bologna or salami. Wedges or chunks of ripe olives add rich flavor and color to tossed salads—or to picnic slaws.

Mix handy chopped ripe olives with soft cheese to spread on slices of toasted garlic bread. For simple appetizers, remove label from a can of ripe olives, open, then heat on grill. Pass with a mitted hand for spearing with skewers.

Homemade Mix Is Easily Stored

The housewife who receives food donated by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, including flour and non-fat dry milk, can make her own ready mix for muffins, waffles or griddlecakes.

Home economists of the U.S. Department of Agriculture offer a recipe for a Quick Bread Mix which may be made up at one time, using Government-donated food for most of the mix, and stored dry on the shelf until it is needed. At meal time, it may be made into muffins; with a slight change, it makes delicious batter for waffles, another change for griddlecakes.

Quick Bread Mix

Combine 6 cups sifted flour, 1 cup dry milk, ¼ cup baking powder, 2 teaspoons salt and ½ cup sugar. Sift these things together three times. Cut in ¾ cup shortening until thoroughly mixed. Put into glass jars or tin cans. Do not pack. Close tightly and store on shelf.

To make Muffins. Use 1 cup of Mix; add ⅓ cup water and 1 beaten egg. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full. Bake in hot oven, 400 degrees, about 20 minutes. Makes 5 small muffins.

To make Griddlecakes. Use 1 cup of Mix. Add 1 cup water and 1 beaten egg. Drop batter by spoonfuls on hot greased griddle. Cook slowly until surface is covered with bubbles. Turn and brown on on bottom. Makes 7 medium-sized griddlecakes.

FEWER CALORIES — Creamy baked custard may now be enjoyed by calorie-counters when it's made with a granulated sugar substitute. You can get the benefit of the rich, nutritious dessert without going over your calorie allowance for the day.

Rose Wine Used in Chiffon Whip

If the season for fresh raspberries isn't as close as you could wish, rush it a little with this light dessert made with the frozen berries. Rose wine, the pretty pink dinner wine from California, is used as part of the liquid in the gelatin mixture, giving the whip a delightfully unusual flavor.

★ ★ ★

The amount of sugar in this recipe is deliberately low to please those who like a not-too-sweet dessert. Others may prefer to add one or two tablespoons more sugar to the whipped cream.

Raspberry Chiffon Whip

1 (10-ounce) package frozen raspberries
1 (3-ounce) package raspberry-flavored gelatin
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ cup Rose wine
½ cup whipping cream
1 tablespoon sugar

Thaw raspberries and drain, saving syrup; set berries aside. Add water to syrup to make ¾ cup liquid. Heat to boiling, stir in gelatin until dissolved. Blend in lemon juice and wine; chill until slightly thickened.

★ ★ ★

Whip cream with sugar until stiff. Whip gelatin until frothy; fold in whipped cream and raspberries. Spoon into dessert dishes and chill until set. Serve with additional whipped cream, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

Frequent Serving of Fish Improves Quality of Diet

Seafoods of all kinds will play an increasingly important role in human nutrition, according to Dr. Fredrick J. Stare, chairman of Harvard University's Department of Nutrition. Speaking recently at the 16th annual convention of the National Fisheries Institute in Washington, D.C., Dr. Stare based this prediction on the excellent nutritional value of fish and shellfish and the desirable characteristics of fish fats.

★ ★ ★

"We recommend that fish be included in the diet four times a week," he said. "Seafoods fulfill the modern conception of good nutrition. They are high in the protein that contain the important amino acids, high in mineral content, low in fats—and those fats that fish do have are of the polyunsaturated type."

Saturated fats, he explained, are the most suspect in causing cholesterol in the blood, which in turn causes athero-sclerosis, the form of arterio-sclerosis responsible for strokes and heart disease. By eating foods containing polyunsaturated fats, the chance of building too much cholesterol in the body is cut down. As foods rich in the polyunsaturated fats which are believed to be effective in lowering blood cholesterol, Dr. Stare mentioned fish and the common vegetable oils—corn oil, cottonseed oil and soybean oil.

This recipe for Broiled Fish Paprika, gives an excellent way of taking advantage of the high nutritional qualities of fishery products and the polyunsaturated fats found both in fish and corn-oil margarine.

Broiled Fish Paprika

2 pounds fish fillets (fresh or frozen)
½ cup (1 stick) corn-oil margarine, melted
2 tablespoons paprika
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
2 tablespoons lemon juice

If fish is frozen, let thaw in the refrigerator or at room temperatures. Place fish in preheated broiler pan. Brush with sauce made from melted margarine seasoned with paprika, salt, pepper, Worcestershire and lemon juice.

★ ★ ★

Place pan in broiler 2 inches from heat and broil 3 minutes. Turn steaks. Brush again with sauce and broil 3 to 5 minutes longer, or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Makes six servings.

Wheat Futures Firm in Steady Market

CHICAGO (AP) — A moderate demand firmed the wheat futures contracts slightly today in early transactions on the board of trade, but the market otherwise was steady to easier.

★ ★ ★

Soybeans again yielded to liquidation and lost major fractions generally to two cents a bushel. The July delivery led the decline.

★ ★ ★

Fluctuations in corn, oats and rye were limited to small fractions in draggy dealings which included only scattered commercial buying. Some of the support in wheat was described as short covering.

Bell Continues Negotiations on Wages and Jobs

Negotiations on wages and job classifications continued today between Michigan Bell Telephone Co. and the Communications Workers of America.

A three-year contract ending in June 1963, provides for yearly reopening of bargaining on wages and job categories.

A deadline for agreement expired at midnight Tuesday. The 16,300 CWA members since have remained at their jobs.

In the Upper Peninsula, however, CWA members at three cities were reported to have not appeared for work this morning. Union employes at Bell facilities in Marquette, Ishpeming and Gwinn were said to be attending "a special meeting."

No walkouts were reported in Pontiac, a company spokesman said.

CORRECTION

In the Sears, Roebuck and Co., advertisement appearing in the Pontiac Press Wednesday, June 7, the following item that read: "27x48-inch oval mat, reg. 8.98 ....3.77" was in error and should have read: "27-inch round mat, reg. 5.98, 3.77."

Motors Firm, Steels Decline

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market continued to back away in quiet early trading today as steels resumed their decline and Big Three motors remained firm.

Losers ranged mostly from fractions to around a point while gainers moved about the same way.

★ ★ ★

Profit taking in previously fast gainers was again a feature of trading. Brunswick and American Machine & Foundry were both down about a point.

★ ★ ★

U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic, the top steel producers, all dropped fractions while Jones & Laughlin was off about a point.

General Motors and Chrysler gained fractions and Ford was steady. American Motors eased.

Price cuts in the steel industry, a new crisis in the Geneva talks on Laos and word that President Kennedy suffered a severe back strain were some of the background factors. On the bullish side, the sharp drop in auto dealers' inventories continued as an influence.

About 80 per cent of U.S. public school teachers are women.

News in Brief

Sometime early today the Silver Lake Golf Club at 2602 Walton Boulevard, Waterford Township, was broken into and a $175 television stolen, according to the owner, George Purdy, of 3531 Orchard Lake Road.

Be Vigorous, Says GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican congressional leaders said today the United States should quit wasting its energies trying to negotiate with Russia and take "vigorous moves which the Kremlin will understand."

Wolfram Heads Fund

LANSING (AP) — Jack F. Wolfram of Lansing, general manager of General Motors Corp.'s Oldsmobile Division, today was elected president of the Michigan United fund.

Name President of Men's Club at St. William

WALLED LAKE — William J. Klem of 1814 Big Trail Road has been named president of the recently organized Men's Club of St. William Catholic Church here.

Other officers of the 27-member club are Charles Duff, vice president; Henry Stanton, secretary; Raymond Carney, treasurer; Harold Gileczek, Frank Murray, Norman Moore, Paul Carl and Robert Williams, directors.

Purpose of the organization is to acquaint the men with the business of the parish as it relates to the present status, future plans, and problems that arise in the operation and upkeep of the church, according to Rev. Raymond Jones, pastor.

The club will meet Tuesday to draft its charter and plan future activities.

Men's Club at Troy Will Sponsor Picnic

TROY — The Men's Club of the First Presbyterian Church of Troy will sponsor a family picnic Saturday June 17, at Boulan Park. In case of inclement weather, it will be held Saturday, June 24.

Registration will start at 10:30 a.m., followed by games and lunch. Families will bring their own food and beverages.

New officers of the club are Peter German, president; Robert Maurer, vice president; Walter Watz, treasurer; and Robert Vincent, program chairman.

Agents Arrest Detroit Officer

Say Ex-City Resident Acted as Lookout for Men Moving Still

A Detroit policeman who formerly resided in Pontiac was arrested by federal agents yesterday and charged with conspiring to violate the liquor tax laws.

He is Patrolman Boyd W. Jones, 26, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carnell Jones live at 203 Rapid St. Jones resigned from the Detroit force after his arrest.

Lawrence Gubow, U. S. attorney, said Jones was accused of acting as a lookout for a group of men who were moving a still and a quantity of mash on April 26.

U. S. Treasury agents said they were watching the moving operation when a man drove up, said something to the men loading the still onto a van, and all fled.

They said a check of license numbers showed the car which drove up was registered to Jones.

Jones was arraigned on the conspiracy charge before U. S. District Judge Theodore Levin. He was released on $1,000 bond, pending a hearing June 21.

Jones is a 1954 graduate of Pontiac Central High School where he won letters in baseball and football. After graduation, he enlisted in the Marines, serving with the military police. Following discharge he joined the Detroit police force.

You Can Get Old Castle Wholesale

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI)—Money can buy almost everything, including a medieval castle with walls, towers and ghosts at wholesale prices.

Knight Kunibert, the Terrible, would revolve in his sarcophagus if he knew that his once-invulnerable castle walls were on sale for roughly the cost of a one-family house.

Generations of unhappy subjects built the stone walls of the castles, cementing them with a mortar including milk and ox blood.

But over the centuries the value of some castles has fallen to a mere 60,000 marks ($14,285) for the cheapest ones.

★ ★ ★

This dismal situation is best reflected in the advertising pages of a periodical, first issued this summer by the German Castle Association under the name Castles and Palaces.

No fewer than 24 castles, some of them splendidly furnished, are offered for sale in the first edition.

★ ★ ★

During the 30 Years War from 1618 to 1648 many were destroyed. The ruins served as quarries for the surrounding villages.

★ ★ ★

Some noble families, haunted more by rheumatism than by ghosts, left the unhealthful towers and moved to cities or palaces with more comfort.

Today it is a burdensome task to keep a castle in shape.

One of the best preserved, the still-inhabited Marksburg Castle ne[illegible]rau[illegible] [illegible] vi[illegible]ted [illegible] yearly. The [illegible] at the gate is eaten u[illegible] for upkeep of the old walls and buildings.

Many of the castles have been turned into hotels and museums, or serve as homes for schools or as youth hostels.

About 24,000 castles have been counted in Germany, 7,000 are inhabited or usable, 6,500 lie in ruins, while the rest are but heaps of rocks and broken walls, hardly indicating the site of former strongholds.

Man Will Be Arraigned Monday Over Break-In

A Pontiac man will be arraigned in Circuit Court Monday on a charge of breaking and entering Dave's Barber Shop, 607 Franklin Rd., June 1.

Collis J. Russell, 20, of 66 Earlmoor Blvd., waived examination Tuesday before Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum.

Pontiac police said nothing was taken in the break-in.

Russell's bond was set at $50.

To Convene in Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—The Catholic Hospital Association of the United States and Canada will hold its 48th annual convention in Cobo Hall June 12-15. Nearly 7,000 persons are expected to attend.

WE ARE CHALLENGED: BE STRONG or BE SPLIT

"First we will take Eastern Europe, then the mass of Asia, then we will encircle the United States. We will not have to attack. It will fall like over-ripe fruit into our hands."—LENIN

Communism is a militant machine. Relentless. Ruthless. Rolling to a basic plan. Its tactics vary. Its end aim of world domination does not. The tally sheet of tyranny is testimony to that — and to the bitter truth of Communist prophecy.

Look back but fifteen years. The world's lone Communist country was Soviet Russia, 170 million people and 8 million square miles. Following World War II a dozen nations fell to Soviet force and guile; another 6 million square miles, another 600 million people. Today the Communist empire sprawls over 14 million square miles, dominating more than 800 million people. It is master of one-fourth of the globe, one-third of mankind.

Look ahead. Listen to the Communist prophecies of today:

"The Communists will destroy capitalism. We are as sure of this as we are sure the sun will set tomorrow."

". . . the day will come when we will bury you."

". . . your children will live in a Communist Society."

The speaker is new, the doctrine is not. Communism's iron purpose pursues its fixed plan. That plan is to split us from our freedoms. Split us from the world. Split us among ourselves. Split the inner strength of our democratic process.

That strength is your power as a free individual. How you use it, how much you care, will decide the future of this free society. Communism cannot be met by armed or economic force alone. It is an idea powered by discipline and dedication. It must be mastered by superior ideas, greater dedication.

You will find such ideas in the new Report of the President's Commission on National Goals. Both President Eisenhower and President Kennedy urge you to think about and act upon this Report. It is a guidebook for the nation during the critical decade ahead. You are the nation. You can make our national goals your personal goals — at home, at work, with your family, neighbors, friends. You can know the challenges, and know better how to meet them. You can not only help deny Communism's prophecy, but demonstrate the lasting truths of democracy to a world hungry for those truths.

Get a copy of the Report, entitled "Goals for Americans," at your bookstore today. Choose hardcover, or $1 paperback, or send for the free digest version below. Remember that we will not become an "over-ripe fruit" ready for the plucking so long as we realize that FREEDOM IS NOT A GIFT BUT A TASK.

Wisner Lawn Saved for the Handicapped

There'll be two important events at the Wisner Home during Centennial week.

During the big Centennial parade on opening day, June 17, the spacious lawn of the Oakland Avenue home will be reserved for a special group of parade viewers.

These are Centennial enthusiasts who want to see the parade but who are handicapped by physical infirmities from viewing it in the downtown area.

All handicapped persons, including those confined to wheel chairs, are invited to use the Wisner Home lawn under a cooperative plan between the Oakland County Historical Society and the Greater Pontiac Centennial Commission.

The entire, two-hour parade will pass by the home. It begins at 2:30 p.m.

On Pride in Pontiac Day, Monday, June 19, there'll be a 3:30 p.m. ceremony in which a State of Michigan Historical Marker is presented to the home.

* * *

Former U.S. Sen. Prentiss Brown is scheduled to make the presentation to Dr. Sarah Van Hoosen Jones, president of the society.

The home will be open for public inspection from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and again 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. daily during the June 17-24 Centennial celebration. There will be no charge.

* * *

Right now and during the summer days after the Centennial the visiting hours are fom 2 to 5 p.m. Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. There is a 25 cent charge for adults.

Lumber-Yard Strike Ended in Detroit Area

DETROIT (AP) — A six-day strike of Detroit area lumber yards ended Wednesday night when members of Teamsters Local 438 ratified a three-year contract with the Detroit Lumbermen's Association.

Henry Hopkins, local president, said the new pact affected about 2,400 persons. He said it provided a package increase of about 20 cents an hour over the three-year period.

Held in Gun Slaying of S.C. Police Chief

NEW ELLENTON, S.C. (AP)—Willie Brown, 27, was being held today in the shotgun slaying of T. L. Meeks, chief of police in this small Aiken County town.

Sheriff Wyman Busch said Meeks, about 45, was killed Wednesday night when he went to Brown's home to investigate a domestic squabble.

State Highway Patrolman David Barrineau said Brown was arrested a short while after the shooting by Mayor Charlton Shaw and Constable R. J. Cooper.

Meeks had been the town's only full-time policeman for two years.

Do Penance on Sunday

HUGO, Okla. (AP)—Six young boys were punished by a police judge who ordered them to attend Sunday School every Sunday for six months. They had entered a warehouse full of cars and spent an hour driving them around.

Paper Circulation Rises

NEW YORK (UPI)—Daily circulation of newspapers in the United States last year rose over 1959 by more than a half-million copies, according to Editor & Publisher.

In the past two years the gain has been almost 1½ million, it said.

One of the world's deepest oil wells goes to 20,521 feet and is in the Wyoming oil basin. It was once abandoned as worthless.

Quite a Racing Oddity

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. (UPI) — a racing oddity occurred at Charles Town Dec. 17, 1934, when a filly named Sweet Vestal won a race only to have it revealed that nobody at the track had bet on her. The horse would have paid $1,318.50 for a single $2 bet.

About 36 per cent of the Indian population of the U.S. lives in Oklahoma.

Such a Clean Getaway

GOOCHLAND, Va. (AP) — Two prisoners at the Virginia State Convict Farm here made a clean escape — in baskets from the laundry. They leaped from the baskets before a truck carrying them reached the state farm for women but they were soon captured.

Tractors can operate at least 100 farm machines and their attachments.
