Vietminh Free Heroic Nurse in Good Health

Genevieve Not Talking About 58 Day Ordeal
at Dien Bien Phu

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—Lt. Genevieve de Galarde Terrabue, heroic French nurse of Dien Bien Phu, was released from Vietminh captivity today and flew into Hanoi with a big smile on her pretty face. Her worn campaign suit was stained with sweat, but she told reporters she was in good health.

A swarm of friends met her at the air field. She greeted them with waves, smiles and a word or two. French soldiers then whisked her away and said she could not be interviewed until she had a night's sleep.

She flew into beleaguered Dien Bien Phu March 27 to aid the wounded and was unable to leave because of rebel advances. She remained, tending her hundreds of charges, until the fortress was overrun May 7, the only woman in the post.

Although a prisoner, she was permitted to remain at Dien Bien Phu to do her work until freed today. More than 400 of the wounded men in the fort have been flown out ahead of her.

She told newsmen at Bachmai Airport here she was taken by helicopter from Dien Bien Phu today to Luang Prabang, the Laotian capital, and then brought here by plane.

The attractive young French air force nurse posed for press and television photographers.

"I have nothing to say and I've made up my mind about that," she told reporters.

The fortress commander, Brig. Gen. Christian de Castries, awarded Genevieve two decorations in the week just before the fortress fell. She was made a knight of the Legion of Honor and presented the French Military Medal. De Castries remains in the hands of the Vietminh, along with 8,000 or more of his men.

In Paris, Genevieve's mother, Mrs. Roger de Galarde Terrabue, wept at the news, saying "that is wonderful."

Campbell Gains Third Round of British Test

MUIRFIELD, Scotland (AP)—Towering Bill Campbell of Huntington, West Va., gained the third round of the British Amateur Golf Tournament today with a 3 and 2 victory over Denton Guest of England.

Campbell went one up on the first hole and never lost his advantage although he shot the front side of the course in 38, two over par. He drew a first round bye.

In addition to Campbell, others to gain the third round after getting a bye were Frank Woodward of Palm Beach, Fla.; Joe Walter Case of Hendersonville, N. C., and Clarke Hardwick of Los Angeles. (Earlier story on page 23.)

The Battle for Asia

Reds Have Whip Hand in Geneva Talks

Editor's Note—William L. Ryan spent six weeks in Southeast Asia, traveling to Indochina and the near-by countries endangered by a Communist sweep southward. He then went to Geneva to check his findings at the Geneva conference. This is the first of four articles this week on the prospects in "The Battle for Asia."

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

GENEVA, May 24 (AP)—There is not the slightest indication at the Geneva conference that the Communists will accept anything but surrender of the West in Asia.

Apparently, they are sure communism is on a victorious march, with the decisive battle for Viet Nam all but behind them. The Russians are calling the tune here, even preparing the speeches of the Communist Vietminh representatives in the Russian language.

After a month of talk, there seems no prospect of anything but obstruction and deadlock. The Russians exude confidence that they hold the trump cards.

60,000 Pack Roads, Parks to Enjoy Sunday Sunshine

A second Sunday of clear skies and warm weather jammed Oakland County highways as some 60,000 people swarmed to local parks and beaches yesterday.

The U. S. Weather Bureau predicts that thunderstorms tonight and showers Tuesday will bring somewhat cooler weather. Tonight's low should be a balmy 57 to 60 degrees. Tuesday's high will be around 68 to 72.

Solon Assesses U. S. Strength

Rep. Dondero Declares
Might Has Developed
Faster Than Expected

Rep. George A. Dondero (R-Mich.) took a close look at the nation's military strength and concluded today that "our armed forces have the punch needed to hold their own anywhere in the world."

He said information reaching him indicates that the national defense program already has progressed more rapidly than expected. "We are rapidly approaching the point where we can negotiate from strength rather than weakness with those nations threatening world peace," said the lawmaker from Royal Oak.

Dondero said by 1955 the U. S. Army will have 17 combat-ready divisions and 27 National Guard divisions, 18 regimental combat units, and 122 anti-aircraft battalions, many equipped with Nike's.

The Navy has 400 active warships, he continued, and a fast growing fleet of guided missile ships. The Marine Corps has three combat divisions.

Pontiac City officials, however, weren't worried about water — at least not yet. Joseph Gable, acting water superintendent, said that pressure stayed at a normal 70 pounds in water mains all weekend.

Pontiac used 38,200,000 gallons of water Friday through Sunday—about 1 1/2 million gallons less than for the same three days last year.

Highways clogged at local intersections Sunday as picnickers took to the parks, Oakland County clerk's office today as the 4 p.m. Tuesday filing deadline loomed.

Thirty-nine Republicans and 33 Democrats have filed petitions so far. The delegates to represent the county's 204 voting precincts will be chosen Aug. 3.

Local parks had above-normal crowds for this time of year. Cass-Dodge Park 4 and Kensington Metropolitan Park reported 25,000 visitors each—three-fourths of them on Sunday.

The Highland Recreation Area near Milford had 4,700 users and 3,000 people went to the Pontiac Lake Recreation Area — many taking advantage of the year-round bass fishing on Pontiac Lake.

Cass-Dodge Park 4 was repairing its diving dock this week, hoping to have it ready for swimmers' use next weekend.

Political Set-Up for Vietnamese Near Collapse

Leaders All in Europe;
U. S. Intervention Talks
Coming Up at Geneva

SAIGON, Indochina (AP)—American diplomats here say the political situation in war-torn Viet Nam has deteriorated rapidly since the fall of Dien Bien Phu. They contend only bold steps can save the government.

This became known today as a French study of steps necessary to bolster Indochina's defenses reached near-completion.

Washington reports have said this study is expected to open a new phase in French-American talks on possible U. S. intervention in the Indochinese war.

American diplomats are worried, however, lest the French-sponsored Vietnamese government of former Emperor Bao Dai collapse before outside help can be brought to keep it on its feet.

In overwhelming French Union forces at Dien Bien Phu, the Vietminh dealt a heavy blow at the morale of the Vietnamese backing Bao Dai's administration.

As a first measure to bolster it, the United States will recommend soon that Bao Dai hurry home from Europe to take over active leadership again.

The Viet Nam chief has been on the French Riviera for more than a month awaiting the outcome of the Geneva conference on Asia and negotiations for complete independence which his officials are carrying on with the French at Paris.

Although the period is extremely critical, most of his Cabinet ministers also are at Geneva, Paris or elsewhere outside the country. Several important decisions have not been carried out.

Before Bao Dai left for France, he signed decrees creating a war cabinet with wide powers and assigned Premier Prince Bao Lu to draw up plans for a provisional national assembly.

The cabinet, at its first meeting, ordered total mobilization of all men between 21 and 24 for military service.

Due largely to sharp differences between government officials, no steps have been taken yet to put these measures into effect.

The French military study is being made by Gen. Paul Ely, chief of staff of the French Army.

Petitions Are Pouring In for Precinct Delegates

Petitions by persons seeking to be named as delegates in the August county political conventions poured into the Oakland County clerk's office today as the 4 p.m. Tuesday filing deadline loomed.

Thirty-nine Republicans and 33 Democrats have filed petitions so far. The delegates to represent the county's 204 voting precincts will be chosen Aug. 3.

Eden Flies to Geneva in Bid to End East-West Deadlock

GENEVA (AP)—British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden flew back to Geneva today for a final effort to break the East-West deadlocks on Indochina and Korea.

Arriving in London, where he consulted Prime Minister Churchill and other Cabinet members, Eden declined to comment on secret instructions he was reported to be carrying.

Before leaving London, however, he agreed with an opinion expressed by other Western sources here that the next week or two will be decisive.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Twenty-four persons lost their lives in Michigan accidents over the warm, sunny weekend that drew thousands to highways and resorts.

Nineteen died in traffic accidents. The latest to be reported, 11 of them, are listed below. Four drowned and an elderly man was fatally injured in a fall down steps at his Grand Rapids home.

Sherman F. Allard, 28, of Harper Woods, was killed today when his car collided with a steel-laden truck on M97 in the western outskirts of Mt. Clemens.

Howard J. Coombe, 55, of Detroit, died Sunday of injuries sustained in a fall from a building.

Western observers said the next few days should show whether the Communists actually are willing to negotiate a settlement or merely are stalling to gain military advantages in the Indochina fighting.

French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, who returned from Paris this morning, was reported to have talked over the general Indochina situation with French officials.

Western delegates were agreed the chances for a settlement on either Indochina or Korea seemed slim.

United States already has reached the conclusion the Communists are stalling while they prepare for a major offensive against

Informed Potter of Army's Feud With M'Carthy

Stevens Still Assumes
Full Responsibility for Accusations

WASHINGTON (U P)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon was reported today to have been engaged in backstage maneuvering that led to the Army's submission of charges against Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy to members of the Senate investigating subcommittee.

McCarthy and Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich.) disclosed Potter wrote the Army inquiring about its troubles with McCarthy at the prompting of an "official high in the administration." They did not identify the official.

But a source friendly to McCarthy (R-Wis.) later disclosed the official was Nixon.

McCarthy himself raised the question of the official's intervention. He said—and Potter agreed—that the official had telephoned Potter last March suggesting that he ask the Army for a report on the alleged pressures exerted by McCarthy and his aides to get favors for Pvt. G. David Schine.

McCarthy spoke of the "prompting" from the administration official in questioning Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens as the Army-McCarthy hearings resumed after week's recess.

When McCarthy mentioned the episode, Potter broke in to confirm that he had received such a suggestion.

Delivery of the report to Potter and other members of the subcommittee, and its subsequent disclosure to reporters, first brought the Army-McCarthy feud over the Schine case into the open.

Testimony has shown that preparation of the report began after a Jan. 21 meeting of high administration officials at which White House aide Sherman Adams advised Army Counselor John G. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Oil Traces Found in Novi Farmland

Oil storage tanks were being constructed on the J. P. Malley farm in Novi Township today as drillers prepared to sink a 5 1/2-inch casing down to the 4,500-foot level where oil traces were found Saturday afternoon.

Tests will be made Friday or Saturday to determine the extent of the find, driller Jack Ferguson said this morning.

The firm of Ferguson and Ferguson of Mt. Pleasant has been drilling on the farm, located at 46820 W. 8-Mile Rd., since March 17.

The Malley farm is about two miles from the location of a giant gas well, brought in about two weeks ago. Ferguson said the oil well is about 100 feet deeper than the gas shaft.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Police have reported two separate auto accidents since Saturday in which two cars overturned on Woodward Avenue.

The first one occurred Saturday morning near Cranbrook road, when cars driven by Murrell Wall, 31, and DeWitt Senior, 44, both of Detroit, locked fenders. Police said Wall evidently lost control of his car, skidded, turned over, and hit a tree in the center island.

He is reported in good condition in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, with a fractured back.

In the other accident at 6:30 a. m. today, witnesses reported that William Boykins, 42, of Flint, apparently dozed at the wheel, and left the road, hitting two trees.

They said the car rolled over several times, and careened back onto the road, about one-quarter mile south of Hickory Grove road. He was treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Nixon Now Linked to Schine Hearings

Adams to compile a written record of alleged McCarthy pressure on behalf of Schine.

Stevens insisted in his testimony today that this proposal on Sherman Adams' part was regarded by the Army as a "suggestion" but not as an "order."

Stevens, back in the witness chair for the first time since March 11, swore that the Army alone was responsible for its charges against McCarthy and his aides, Roy M. Cohn and Francis P. Carr.

He ran into angry charges from McCarthy and Cohn that he was "trying to cover up" for someone higher up in the administration and that he was not telling the truth in asserting sole Army responsibility.

McCarthy and Cohn said Stevens' testimony today contradicted some he had given earlier and also was at odds, in several particulars, with sworn statements made earlier by Army Counsel John G. Adams.

Stevens' temper flared several times as McCarthy and Cohn went after him with questions suggesting he was not telling the truth.

Stevens said he was "not trying to cover up" for anyone and he bridled at the suggestion that he was lying.

"I resent that," he said. "I tell the truth."

Stevens appealed to the hearing chairman, Karl E. Mundt (R-S-D) to stop McCarthy's insinuations and Mundt agreed they were improper.

McCarthy and Cohn charged that Stevens' statements today were directly contradictory to John Adams' testimony about Sherman Adams' suggestion for preparation of a written report on the Schine case.

They also quoted previous testimony from Stevens to the effect that he didn't know who actually issued the order that a report should be prepared.

McCarthy reiterated his mention about the high administration official prompting Potter to ask for the report. He asked Stevens if he knew about this when he said it was the Army's decision alone to draw up the report.

"I didn't know it then, and I don't know it now," Stevens snapped.

"But you heard Sen. Potter's statement on that," McCarthy replied. "Do you now want to stand on your testimony that no one outside the Department of the Army had anything to do with the decision to prepare the report?"

"I stand squarely on that," Stevens replied, explaining there was no "written order" for Adams to prepare the report.

Under McCarthy's questioning, Stevens said he would not consider "suggestions" from the attorney general or the White House as "orders."

Asked if he would consider a suggestion from Sherman Adams an order, Stevens replied, "I would not."

McCarthy asked Stevens if he wanted to say there was "no connection" between the Jan. 21 meeting and the Army's charges; that the charges followed as a "mere coincidence."

"Do you expect anyone with ounce of brains to believe that?" McCarthy demanded.

Stevens said he thought John Adams had received "certain suggestions" but they were "not orders." He said the Army counsel was taking "independent action."

He said it was common procedure for officials in executive departments to consult with others, but that does not alter the fact that they must take responsibility.

When McCarthy first mentioned the "high official" who tipped Potter about the Schine case, he said, "I told him in fairly high respect."

"I agree that occurred," Potter said. "But I don't agree with Sen. McCarthy on the purpose of the call. I was not to be used as a vehicle for releasing the charges. But this official knew that a report was to be released."

No Republican members of the McCarthy subcommittee had asked for the Army report, Potter said, "yet we had to bear the responsibility."

the rich Red River delta in North Indochina. The British have insisted, despite the dim outlook, that the talks should be continued until every possibility has been exhausted.

The French, for internal political reasons, have felt the West must avoid any appearance of being too hasty about breaking off negotiations.

It now appears the Western powers are approaching the time when they must decide on some sort of deadline.

The United States was understood to feel a decision on a cutoff date is vital in view of Britain's public declarations that she will make no military commitments for intervention in Indochina while the Geneva talks are in progress.

This policy has become a serious barrier between British and American leaders. In the opinion of the United States, it has weakened the bargaining power of the West at Geneva and has stalled U.S. efforts to line up military backing for France in Indochina.

The expectation that the Indochina peace talks would finally get down to concrete proposals was based on last Friday's agreement that military problems should be given priority over political issues.

The agreement ended a long procedural wrangle and some delegates hailed it as a step forward. But the United States and some others saw no reason for optimism.

A spokesman for this group said the Communists and the West were standing firm on all major issues.

Outside the conference chambers Krishna Menon, India's delegate to the United Nations, was busy in a series of conversations with big power diplomats in what appeared to be an effort at mediation.

Menon came to Geneva as Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru's special envoy.

Bird in Manhole Brings Firemen Racing to Rescue

Chirps of distress from a manhole sent two Pontiac firemen and a hook-and-ladder truck racing to the rescue of a nearly drowned robin.

Answering a call from residents, Firemen Leo G. Janka and B. L. Martin, of Station No. 1, found the robin floundering Saturday night in a flooded manhole in front of 77 S. Sanford St.

The bird clung to a tree branch until dry, then flew away — apparently uninjured by its ordeal. The firemen believe the bird entered a sewer opening and floated into the manhole.

Reds Run Show in Asian Trouble

Asian leaders spoke frankly of their fears and frustrations in trying to build new nations in an area whose unplumbed riches and geographical position make it a tempting target for Red expansion.

"Those who want to be friends of the United States are falling silent now," an elderly pro-American statesman told me sadly. "It is becoming just as politically unwise in this part of the world to take the side of the United States as it is for you in the states to take the part of Red China."

Asian leaders are alive to the internal Communist threat and have been fighting it consistently. They fear communism. But first of all they fear a new general war.

Because of this, however mistakenly, they fear the United States. They do not believe Americans have any aggressive designs on them. But they have a dread that actions of the United States in a head-on clash with the Soviet Union might plunge Asia into the most dreadful of all wars.

They insist they have won substantial victories over their domestic Communists and can keep them in check, short of invasion from China.

But many of these anti-Communist leaders themselves help Communist propaganda along. Anticolonialism is the cement holding these new nations together. Many a leader is not averse to transferring the former fear of Britain, France or Holland over to the United States. Several frankly admitted this to me.

Certainly the two largest nations, India and Indonesia, would have to be counted out of a Southeast Asian alliance as matters stand now. And Burma likely would cast a cautious look northward. That leaves Pakistan, Thailand and Malaysia, short of a defense line pushed all the way back to the Pacific Island chain.

Tomorrow: After Indochina, Indonesia?

Fox, Hounds Bandits Receive Long Terms

Two Detroiters were sentenced to long prison terms today by Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty for the armed robbery of the Fox and Hounds Inn last November in Bloomfield Hills.

Charles Clark, 31, of 665 Hague St., was given 20 to 40 years and John W. Graham, 37, of 4738 23rd St., received 10 to 20 years.

The pair was found guilty by a Circuit Court jury May 14 and have been in Oakland County Jail awaiting sentence.

James Sullivan, 30, of Detroit, was sentenced to 5 to 20 years for the same robbery in April. A fourth man believed involved in the holdup is being sought on an FBI fugitive warrant. The men will serve their terms in Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson.

Military Housing Details Sought

Senator Says Evidence Exists of Huge Profits in Service Projects

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. Case (R-S.D.) said today he has asked the armed services to supply full details on multi-million dollar military housing projects to a Senate subcommittee he heads.

He said in an interview there is some evidence of huge profits in military housing constructed by private builders either on or near military bases.

Case said his inquiry should not duplicate or interfere with those previously launched by committees headed by Sens. Byrd (D-Va.) and Capehart (R-Ind.).

All three involve a similar pattern—evidence that some builders or developers got government-insured loans of more than the value of their projects and pocketed the difference by various means.

Byrd, as chairman of the Joint Committee of Reduction of Non-essential Federal Expenditures, was critical yesterday of another aspect of the government housing program which has been under investigation by Capehart's Banking Committee and by the Eisenhower administration.

This is the program of insuring loans for home repairs. Byrd said in a statement that lenders have asked for more than 150 million dollars to repay them for defaulted notes on such loans.

Byrd declared that the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) had "insured everyone against loss, except the borrower, in 17 million repair or improvement loans totaling $7,600,000,000 without any prior appraisal."

Revising Social Security

Present mood of the House Ways and Means Committee indicates that an Administration bill to liberalize Social Security will be reported favorably to the floor.

Already the committee has approved extension of coverage to 270,000 more persons than the 10,500,000 proposed by the President. If the committee's action is sustained, almost all the Nation's working force would be covered.

Compulsory coverage now has been voted for 3,600,000 farm operators and 500,000 doctors, lawyers, dentists, engineers, accountants and other professions. There was strong opposition to this from some groups, notably the American Medical Association.

Others who would be included if the committee's action is upheld, are 3,200,000 state and local government employees, including firemen and policemen. These have been excluded heretofore because they have their own retirement systems. Such pension plans wouldn't be affected by the committee's action.

While the committee hasn't taken any formal stand yet on the Administration's proposal for more liberal benefits, word from Washington is that the President's ideas will prevail.

These include increases in the minimum benefits from $25 to $30 and in family benefits from $168.75 to $190 a month. In addition, a retired worker would be allowed to earn $1,000 a year instead of $75 a month, without losing his benefits.

One of the most important items on the Eisenhower election year legislative program, this bill is of vital interest to every adult American. The sympathetic treatment it is getting from the Ways and Means Committee suggests that it will fare equally well in both House and Senate.

Red Arms for Guatemala?

Our State Department has good reason to be concerned about a shipment of arms to Guatemala.

For months this Central American country has been in the international spotlight because of its pro-Communist government. The arms which reached Puerto Barrios were loaded on a Swedish ship at Stettin, Poland.

Beyond that nothing is known of the source or quantity. It is known, however, that Czechoslovakia has several arms salesmen in Latin American countries.

Another fact which shouldn't be overlooked is neighboring Nicaragua's action in severing diplomatic relations with Guatemala. Announced reasons for this break was Guatemala's failure to live up to its agreement not to spread Communist propaganda in Nicaragua.

Washington's concern in no way hints possible U. S. intervention. Any action taken as a result of world communist intervention in the Western Hemisphere would be up to the signatories of the Anti-Red resolution adopted at the Inter-American Conference at Caracas.

No effort was made there to hide Sec. DULLES' aim in submitting that resolution. He was guarding against the kind of coup in Guatemala that resulted in the sovietization of Czechoslovakia.

Another pertinent fact is that Guatemala was one of the three countries which failed to support the resolution. The other two were Mexico and Argentina.

President EISENHOWER put the whole matter in perspective when he said at his press conference that it would be a terrible thing to have an outpost of communism on this Continent.

Dr. Roy E. Bailey

Few men have been privileged to minister to the dental needs of their communities as long as Dr. Roy E. BAILEY.

A native of Troy Township and an 1893 graduate of the University of Michigan dental college, Dr. BAILEY had practiced his profession here for more than 60 years.

When fire in the Pythian Building destroyed his office there, he became associated with his son, Dr. REAME BAILEY, in the Riker Building. Though in his 84th year he had been practicing part time until his last illness.

Dr. BAILEY was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, Pontiac Lodge 21 F & AM, Knights of Pythias and the State Dental Society.

He will be missed not only by his patients, some of whom have depended on him for dental care since childhood, but by a wide circle of older residents.

THE world is an extremely hazardous place in which to live. The other day a London man was walking along the sidewalk when a house toppled over on him. (You've had a lot of hard luck, of course, but did a house ever fall on you?)

It is reported that Great Britain has a bargain-basement H-bomb. There are increasing indications that it may not cost a great deal more than it's worth to destroy so-called civilization.

Vast Land Area of Asia Suggests More Attention in Fight Against Communism

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I wrote a letter to this column a few years ago which concerned the fact that the "whole world needs watching."

Scrutinizing the facts and figures which the Washington warriors relish now and then with reference to their strategy of fighting Communism, I believe that a concentration of American forces in Europe will not stop the infiltration of Communist power.

Complete control of Europe is not sufficient in holding the rest of the world from Communism. You can never ignore the rest of the world and succeed.

Scrutinizing the facts, one finds that the population of Asia alone is bigger than the continents of Africa, Australia, Europe, North and South America combined. For this reason, I believe, that Asia should be given equal if not more attention in order for us to succeed in our fight against Communism.

Claims Man Is Helping God Improve the World
 Individuals trying to solve the mystery of what we are here for keep switching from one religion, one fraternal order, one divorce and marriage to another in their search for happiness.

The philosophies of life and the mystery is as follows: To feel and know that there is a great companion back of the universe working with you, loving you and trying with all his might to prosper every righteous enterprise.

He never dies and you, being a part of Him, will never die either. Go cheerfully, trustingly through life doing what simple kindness you can to those about you. Building a worthy success and scoring dishonest advantage.

The world is getting better each day, for now man realizes that he is working with God to make this world a better place. If you will remember this you will be a confirmed optimist.

Geneva Talks on Indochina Deadlocked, World Awaits More Intense War Action

By DAVID LAWRENCE
 GENEVA — A peace conference while a war is going on has few precedents to guide anybody, especially when one side is losing steadily on the battlefield and the other sees no immediate reason to forego its advantage by stopping the fighting. That's the situation with respect to Indochina.

Hence the world now may expect an intensification of the war in Southeast Asia, with the probability that it will be broadened into an international war before long.

French plan to change its command and put into effect a comprehensive program of winning the war in Indochina may be expected to be disclosed.

It has been under discussion in Paris ever since the fall of Dien Bien Phu, and the American government has been kept closely informed.

This doesn't mean that negotiations here for an armistice are to be broken off. On the contrary, the efforts to get a cease-fire under conditions that are satisfactory to the various nations concerned on the allied side will continue with vigor in the hope that somewhere, somehow a meeting of minds can be attained.

But the working out of an armistice is complicated by so many local factors, and the Communists show no signs of yielding on anything essential, that the outlook for an armistice at this writing is far from encouraging.

There have been some interesting episodes in the last few days the significance of which may have been exaggerated in some quarters.

Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, told Chou En-lai, the Red Chinese foreign minister, that he must not do things that will push America too far. To this, the Red envoy replied that he counted on the British to hold America in line.

Eden promptly replied that there should be no misunderstanding on that point, for, if a showdown came, the British would be found standing with America.

This isn't the first time that America's plans and contingent action in the world as a result of the Indochina affair have been the subject of intimate discussion with

Aunt Het

Watchin' Joe's face taught me a lesson, and I'll never correct Pa in public again. Gettin' the facts straight ain't worth shamin' him before company.

the Communists here. There is reason to believe that Molotov was told virtually the same, thing two weeks ago.

It is, of course, an effort to prevent the alleged British-American divergence of view from being construed by the Communists as a break in the Western alliance.

Apparently the warnings have had little effect, for the defiance of the West by both Red China and the Soviet has continued here since those warnings were given.

Perhaps the most illuminating chapter in the relations between the Communists and the free world has just been written in the speeches here on the Korean problem.

Molotov, speaking for Soviet Russia, has called the United Nations a belligerent and insists it shall have nothing to do with the supervision of any settlement in Korea.

Chou En-lai, speaking for Red China, says the same thing and makes a slight concession to the Allies by condescending to permit an international commission "to assist" the all-Korean commission in supervising elections.

But the all-Korean commission he proposes would be half Communist and half South Korean, and that means a deadlock, of course, and a disregard for the fact that four-fifths of the population is in South Korea.

So it is evident that the Communists haven't the slightest intention of working out an agreement here to solve the Korean problem and to bring about the unification of the country.

Indeed, both Chou En-lai and Molotov hold that the United Nations is an aggressor and is therefore unable to be impartial.

The idea that 140,000 American casualties were incurred "to repel aggression" by Red China, whose armies were assisted by Soviet Russia, or that this action was a disinterested and unselfish one is rejected by the Communists.

The American delegation is expected this week to answer the charge of alleged aggression by the United Nations, but it will come as a surprise to most Americans to learn that, despite the military effort made by the United Nations forces in Korea, this hasn't impressed the Communists, and they now are proposing to get the control of all Korea which they were unable to get through armed operations.

So as yet it is wishful thinking to say that the only language the Communists understand is military force. The fact is they do not understand it unless it is military force exerted with maximum power.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Unfit Teacher May Harm Shy, Timid School Children

Dora has been a tyrant teacher in the kindergarten room. Her children have been so scared they have developed all sorts of ailments and are now hating school. But it was almost impossible for her Chicago principal to oust Dora. Read this case today and weep!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case L-313: Dora N., aged 57, has taught kindergarten in one of our large public schools in Chicago. But she scared her youngsters so they would develop nausea and actually vomit at the thought of attending kindergarten. Several of them became so neurotic, they had to be sent to psychiatrists.

Densens of the parents wrote letters to the principal of Dora's school, criticizing her. This went on for years.

They said she was a detriment to education, for the teachers in the early grades of school are synonymous with education itself.

If a child fears or dislikes his teacher, he will transfer that attitude to the school building and all that it represents.

Finally, the opposition to Dora reached such a stage that the principal told her she'd have to be discharged.

But Dora immediately contacted her Chicago Teachers Union and charged that she was being discriminated against because of her race, for she belonged to a minority racial group.

Apparently, she carried this "racial complex" as a chip on her shoulder, as many people do, and then tried to flaunt it as a "red herring" technique to divert attention from her shortcomings as a kindergarten teacher.

The principal had fortunately retained all the letters which indignant parents had written, plus some from psychiatrists.

Fortunately, the bulk of those letters were from parents who belonged to this same minority race.

"That was lucky for me," her principal added, "for otherwise I couldn't have done a thing to oust her."

"But an almost unbelievable aspect of this affair is the fact that I wasted all summer trying to get rid of this unfit teacher."

"Because of her racial discrimination charge, and the vigorous action of the Teachers' Union, you would have thought it was I who was on trial, instead of this unfit kindergarten teacher."

"And I still am not sure what would have been the final outcome, except for the fact that I called her into my office in September and told her she'd lose all of her pension if she were discharged, but could draw part of her pension of $10 voluntarily resigned."

"So she decided to take the 'half loaf' instead of gamble, and she finally resigned. But she has meanwhile ruined the educational careers of possibly 300 youngsters in my school."

"Conditions are now so bad in Chicago that a principal can hardly get rid of a teacher even though she is patently unfit and even though you have a bushel of letters from intelligent parents and doctors attesting to her incompetence."

An unfit sales clerk can alienate customers, but the latter can still go across the street to a rival concern and buy what they need.

But a teacher is a monopolist. If she alienates children, she can literally ruin their future careers. So it is a tragic matter when a "bad" teacher confronts timid little kindergarteners or first graders.

Teaching is next to the field of religion as a semi-altruistic, inspirational profession, so teachers dare not act like other workers.

Send for my "Test for a Good Teacher," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus a dime.

Many schools are using it as a routine means of having teachers check their own merits and demerits, so try it in your school or PTA group.

Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 3-cent stamped, addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Dr. Brady Grows More Cantankerous Trying to Teach People to Avoid Colds

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
 I'm growing ever more cantankerous about this "cold" nonsense.

What's the use trying to teach people . . .

Some disorders which morons, knuckleheads and stinkers call "colds"—possibly five per cent of all acute respiratory ailments—are certainly not infectious, not communicable.

But people who know enough to try to keep out of conversational spray range are well aware of the infectiousness, the communicability of fully 95 per cent of all acute respiratory tract disorders characterized by running at the nose, stuffiness, sneezing or coughing.

Accordingly they try to keep out of range until the nature of the trouble becomes manifest.

Now and then a health commissioner and even some practicing physicians sanction the teaching that covering cough or sneeze with hand, handkerchief, screen or mask prevents the spread of disease.

But while cough and sneeze spray (of visible or palpable and invisibly fine or impalpable droplets of moisture possibly containing virus or germs of disease) has an effective range of 10 or 12 feet, it is less dangerous than polite conversation spray, which carries not more than five feet. Less dangerous, that is, in my opinion.

Open-face cough or sneeze spray is so obvious, the droplets so palpable, that even the most ignorant bystander resents it, as an insult.

The spray given off in quiet conversation is impalpably fine, but the germ-laden moisture droplets are there, all right, as scientifically shown by agar plate culture tests.

But unfortunately for the public health, most remain serenely unaware of this mode of infection, which probably accounts for most of the everyday practice of physicians, specialists, surgeons, geons.

I hope you Grandmas that study of my Call It Cr-I booklet will bring you up to date.

Please follow my teachings for a season and give your grandchildren the benefit of the doubt.

Stated letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed.

White, Young Meet the Press

Embroided Railroaders Reveal Points of View for TV Audience

NEW YORK (AP) — William White and Robert R. Young met face to face last night for the first time since they joined battle last February for control of the New York Central Railroad.

With a showdown stockholders vote on the dispute scheduled for this Wednesday, the meeting in a television studio was hardly cordial.

Both men smiled tightly when they shook hands before start of the program, Meet the Press, on NBC. Asked to repeat the handshake for benefit of photographers, White, who is now president of the railroad, refused.

"This is serious. I'm not going to make a pink tea of this," he said.

For the remainder of the half-hour program, in which the two railroad titans answered newsmen's questions, they avoided any further direct contact.

Most of the questions covered issues that had been repeated and answered over and over again in the tense contest for stockholders' proxies. The proxies are to be voted at the railroad's annual meeting in Albany Wednesday unless a court decision postpones it for another month.

Both White and Young claimed they were sure of victory, although when asked for figures on proxy strength, White replied:

"In a battle such as this, I don't think contending sides disclose their real strength. I don't propose to."

Young said he was sure of winning, even if 800,000 shares bought by two Texas friends of his are not voted. White has challenged the transfer of this stock from the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad, which Young formerly headed, to Texas millionaires Clint W. Murchison and Sid W. Richardson.

The television show focused on MUTUAL AID—Pakistan's Foreign Minister Sir Mohammed Zafarullah Khan has signed a one-year mutual defense pact with the U. S. Under the pact the U. S. will help train and equip the Pakistani armed forces. In return, Pakistan promises to help the U. S. control trade with nations threatening world peace.

cues largely from charges made by the other side.

White was asked, "If you're running the railroad so efficiently, why is there any fight among the stockholders on whether you're going to stay in the saddle?"

He answered, "There wasn't a fight . . . until someone started one . . . with pie-in-the-sky promises."

Accident Cause of Heart Trouble

Michigan Truck Driver
Hits Five Cars in East, Woman Dies

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — A 77-year-old woman died of a heart attack Sunday after a tractor-trailer truck went out of control on a mile-long hill and struck five automobiles.

The woman, Mrs. Alice Worsham, Philadelphia, was a passenger in one of the autos hit by the truck. Nine others were injured in the accident.

Police said the truck, driven by John R. Verhulst, 21, Holland, Mich., started down the steep hill on Ridge avenue when the brakes failed. Verhulst said he applied the emergency brakes, but they failed to stop the big vehicle.

The truck side-swiped one car on the way down, jumped a traffic island and demolished a traffic light, then smashed into four other autos, including the one in which Mrs. Worsham was a passenger.

None of the other nine were seriously injured, and all were discharged from the hospital shortly after the accident.

Montana Has Youngest Church Organist in U. S.

BROADUS, Mont. (AP) — This small southeastern Montana community claims the youngest church organist in Montana and possibly the United States.

He is Haroldie Miller, 10, who first played at St. David's Church last Christmas eve. Church members liked his music and asked him to stay on as regular organist.

Haroldie also is a tap dancer and plays the drums for the school band.

New driver comfort! New driving ease!

New Chevrolet Trucks...

do more work per day . . . more work per dollar!

You save time in traffic. New truck Hydramatic transmission gets you off to smooth, time-saving starts without shifting or clutching. You can imagine how easy this makes driving in traffic and on delivery routes! It's optional at extra cost on 1/2-, 3/4- and 1-ton models.

You save time on the highway. New high-compression power gets you up to highway speeds from a standing start in less time, and saves you time on hills, too. You make trips faster—and the new Comfortmaster cab makes them seem shorter. It's the last word in truck driving comfort.

You save extra trips, too. That's because of the extra load space you get in the new Advance-Design bodies. New pickup bodies are deeper . . . new stake and platform bodies are wider and longer. Also, they're set lower to the ground to make loading and unloading faster and easier.

You save on operating costs. High-compression power in every model saves you money every mile! The "Thriftmaster 235" engine, the "Loadmaster 235," and the "Jobmaster 261" (optional on 2-ton models at extra cost), deliver greater horsepower plus increased operating economy.

You save with lower upkeep. New Chevrolet trucks are built stronger to last longer and save you money on maintenance. For example, there are heavier axle shafts in two-ton models . . . bigger clutches in light- and heavy-duty models . . . stronger frames in all models.

And your savings start the day you buy. In fact, they start with the low price you pay—and they never stop as long as you own a Chevrolet truck. Chevrolet, you know, is America's lowest-priced line of trucks. And it's also the truck that has a traditionally high trade-in value.

Come in and see how much you're ahead with America's number one truck. You'll like the way we're talking business!

Tommy Pulls Kid Stuff Compared to Napoleon

By BILLY ROSE

Mr. Thomas Manville
Bon Repos
New Rochelle, N. Y.
Dear Tommy:

Every time you kiss off a wife with a five-figure check—I think there have been nine such checks so far—chances are that the directors of the mighty John-Manville Corp. get mighty hot and take you to task for demeaning the dignity of the great corporation whose name you bear.

These recriminations must have been something fierce a couple of weeks back when your latest wife hailed you into court and gave you a public going-over.

Now, my considered advice to you is, don't brood. There's an important historic precedent which demonstrates that, when it comes to real incompetence in the girl department, the greatest sugar daddy of them all is N. Bonaparte, the Emperor of France.

The general belief, of course, is that Napoleon had only to drop his three-cornered hat and any lady he fancied was his. The fact, however, is that most of the little corporal's conquests, very much like your own, were strictly on a cash-and-cuddle basis.

Tommy, read a little book published in 1952, called "Emperor's Cash Book." There, you will find the private bookkeeping records of monies spent by Napoleon for wine, women and the various et ceteras which make up a busy emperor's life.

For openers, you'll learn that his two empresses, Josephine and Marie-Louise, cost him several millions each, and his lesser lights of love, considering the time he spent with them, did darn near as well.

There also was Napoleon's famous romance with Marie Walewska who "loved him for himself alone," according to the Garbo-Royce movie which immortalized the affair. Actually, however, according to the Emperor's Cash Book, the Polish lass' take-home money for "loving him for himself alone" amounted to considerably more than it cost M-G-M to make the movie.

Mme. Georges, the Comedie Francaise tragedienne, received $15,000 from Napoleon every time she called to pay her respects.

On one of her visits, Bonaparte was so overwhelmed by her charm that he fainted. On this occasion, for services above and beyond, the royal tootsie got twice her usual gift.

Little wonder the Emperor is usually portrayed with one hand in his vest. By the time he was through anteing up for his amours, he didn't have enough left to buy a pair of gloves to keep his hands warm.

So, next time the Manville directors start nagging you, Tommy, you can point out to them that, compared to Napoleon's, your expenditures in the pursuit of happiness have been kid stuff.

Fraternal,
Billy Rose

Boy Scout Troop Does Good Turn for Scoutmaster

LOS ANGELES (U)—The Boy Scouts of Troop 666 did their good turn yesterday — for their scoutmaster.

First they had to get him out of town. They contacted Jim Stevens' sister in Fresno and arranged for her to invite him up there for a visit.

Then they set to work, with parental supervision, and painted his house — a job they knew he had been planning but had postponed to work with them. It helped that a painting contractor was chairman of the parents' committee for the troop.

"We figured that since he'd given so much of his time to us, we owed him a little in return," said 15-year-old Scout Warren Smith.

Man to Realize Dream, Sets Sail Around World

LOS ANGELES (U)—As a boy and later as a quartermaster in the Navy during World War II, Ralph Thorvaldson dreamed of sailing solo around the world.

Today he's on his way in a 28-foot ketch and figures it will take a year to make the 12,000-mile voyage.

Thorvaldson, 30, of nearby West Covina, left yesterday. His craft, the Tahae, carries 210 feet of canvas and a 14-horsepower auxiliary engine. It cruises at about four knots.

No Quake Damage Seen After Tremor Near LA

LOS ANGELES (U)—A momentary rolling earth shock sent residents to their telephones and rattled a few dishes yesterday, but no damage was reported.

At Berkeley, The University of California seismograph station said the quake appeared to be centered in the Tehachapi Mountains.

Food Culls Disproved?

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (U)—Mrs. Harriet Crain died yesterday at the age of 106. She attributed her long life to eating heartily. Defying health experts, she ate plenty of meat, eggs, cereal, milk and coffee. She wouldn't touch vegetables.

Allies Observing Red Trade Pact

Stassen Hits McCarthy's Proposal to Cut Off Aid to England

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the third time in less than a week, foreign aid chief Harold E. Stassen has used sharp words to criticize a foreign policy speech of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

Stassen, in a radio-TV interview yesterday, said policies advocated by McCarthy in a Senate speech last week would "have America stand all alone . . . and a third world war would become more and more inevitable."

Asked if his statement indicated an administration decision to get tough with McCarthy, Stassen said he spoke only for the Foreign Operations Administration, which he directs.

He and President Eisenhower have conferred twice since McCarthy told the Senate that with the possibility of American intervention in Indochina, "it is criminal folly to give money to allies who are shipping the sinews of military and economic strength to our enemies."

McCarthy called on Congress to "bring honor out of dishonor" by halting Allied trade with Red China.

Stassen countered quickly at the time with a statement that McCarthy's charges were "fantastic, unbelievable and untrue." He contended McCarthy was "frantically reaching for sensational headlines after the sorry spectacle of his record in recent hearings."

This was an obvious reference to the current McCarthy-Army hearings before a Senate subcommittee.

Stassen said he sees no reason to cut aid to Great Britain just because it has not yet joined American efforts to set up a plan for united action against Communist aggression in Southeast Asia.

Man Dies of Injuries Caused by Bolting Mule

HAMLIN, W. Va. (AP)—John Delbert Thompson, 68, of nearby Bowles Route, was treating a mule for an open sore yesterday when the animal bolted, throwing him against some rocks and into a creek.

Thompson was pronounced dead from internal injuries shortly after arriving at a Huntington hospital.

Heard in a Pontiac Church Sunday

Preparation Is Important, Takes Meditation, Study

First Christian Church on West Huron Street was organized in December 1917, and the Rev. Duncan D. McColl came as pastor December 2, 1953. The following is from his sermon of Sunday morning.

The story is told that a bishop visited a minister who served a church in his district. He preached in the morning and the local minister was to deliver the afternoon message.

Before the service started the minister said to the bishop: "Just ordinary people attend this service so I have vowed a vow to make no preparation for it." After the service the bishop approached the minister and said: "Get down on your knees."

The minister wondered what this procedure was about but complied with the bishop's request. His question was answered as the bishop said: "I hereby absolve you from your vow."

Preparation is important. The minister must prepare for his sermon through prayer, study, meditation, and the experiences of life.

The teacher and the student must prepare for the class period. The traveler, through checking the condition of his car, studying maps, and so forth, must prepare for his trip.

The fisherman, through checking his tackle, and so forth, must prepare for his sport. So every person must prepare to meet the issues of life.

The first step in preparation is meditation. Psalm 46:10 states: "Be still and know that I am God." The psalmist felt that God is our refuge and strength but that we live in a world of confusion.

He was correct. Our world has always been noisy with the clamor of war, the clang of developing industry, and the friction of social adjustments.

However, the individual needs respite from this noise. Peace of mind and heart is found through worship and fellowship with the eternal God.

This fellowship is developed and strengthened through the study of God's Word that we may think God's thoughts. The apostle Paul made three significant statements: "I live, yet not I, but Christ liveth in me," "We have the mind of Christ," and, "Have this mind in you which was also in Christ Jesus."

The first two statements cover the experiences of the apostles. This might be expected. They were given a special commission by the Master. They were pioneer builders of the church.

The third statement is more startling. It carries the idea of creative thinking over to all Christians and gives to each the responsibility of understanding and interpreting God's Word.

The second step in preparation therefore is study. The minister in his sermons tries to think with his people. Together we turn to God's Word as recorded in the Bible that we may see God.

We see God in the message of prophets, poets, historians, and, predominantly, in the life and message of Jesus. God speaks to mankind in the beauty and awfulness of nature. He speaks more clearly in the life of Jesus.

The third step in preparation for life is life itself. The followers of Jesus must interpret his message in daily living.

Our thinking, our attitude, and our living are God's message to the world. Thus in every experience we know the truth of the message of Isaiah: "Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on Thee."

Boy's Persistence Pays as Bird's Egg Hatches

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Bruce Kavin, persistent for a 9-year-old, has a baby bird today because he insisted that his baby sitter rig up an incubator for an egg he found two weeks ago.

Mary Ann Varga, 27, put the egg and a small electric light globe in a cookie tin.

The other day there was a chirp in the cookie tin. Miss Varga thinks the bird is a meadowlark. She feeds it egg yolk and mashed potatoes — every eight minutes.

AUTOMATIC DRIVE TRUCKS

THIS announcement marks the achievement of a goal towards which General Motors has been working for a quarter-century.

That is the elimination of manual gearshifting in GM-built motor vehicles—trucks as well as cars—a task first undertaken by our research engineers in 1929.

It was no easy assignment. It took more than ten years of hard work, the testing and discarding of hundreds of different mechanisms, before the problem was superbly solved in passenger cars by our Hydra-Matic, Dynaflow and Powerglide automatic transmissions.

In trucks the need for a self-shifting drive is infinitely greater—and so is the engineering problem because of the far heavier loads carried and the larger number of forward-speed gears required to move them.

It was not simply a matter of adapting a passenger car drive. A completely different automatic unit had to be designed and that took still more time.

But by 1950, our GMC Truck & Coach Division had developed and thoroughly road-tested a Dual Range Hydra-Matic-type drive for medium-weight trucks. Then came Korea and our entire production of Truck Hydra-Matic Transmissions was required for army vehicles where its superiority was proved in front-line service.

Within the past eighteen months both four-speed and eight-speed versions of this battle-proved transmission have been successfully introduced to the public in light-duty and middleweight GMC trucks. But there still remained the problem of heavy-duty trucks, some of which require as many as 15 forward speeds.

Now our engineers—drawing upon this backlog of twenty-five years' experience—have developed a Twin Hydra-Matic Multiple-Speed self-shifting drive for trucks rated above forty-five thousand pounds gross combination weight.

Thus has GM marshalled its inventive skills to bring the many advantages of Hydra-Matic Hauling to every class of truck operator. These benefits include:

Lower fuel cost—because Truck Hydra-Matic automatically keeps the engine in proper gear for every operating condition, eliminating wasteful engine "gunning."

Less maintenance expense—because Truck Hydra-Matic prevents "shock-loading" strains on engine, drive line and rear axle. And there is no conventional clutch to repair or replace.

Greater safety—because Truck Hydra-Matic does the shifting, easing the driver's work and permitting him to concentrate on the road ahead.

I think these are good reasons why every user of trucks should investigate the GMC line of Hydra-Matic Trucks—whether you use a small pickup or a fleet of heavy highway haulers.

You are cordially invited to call upon your local GMC dealer to learn more about them.

President,

The undersigned GMC Dealer believes that the above announcement by Mr. Curtis is of such importance that it should be brought to the attention of every truck user in this area.

Birds Come for Their Part of Show in Person
 WEISER, Idaho (AP) — A pigeon flew in through an open window at the Congregational Church while Jo Petrashek was speaking at a young people's meeting.
 "I had suspected," she remarked, "that my part of the program was for the birds but I didn't expect them to attend in person."

Sees Deadlock on Farm Issue

GOP Senate Leader Says Flexible Supports Possible From Inaction

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) said today there is a "possibility" that Congress will deadlock over farm legislation and thus let flexible price supports go into effect under existing law.
 Knowland, the Senate's Republican leader, said in an interview he doesn't know what is going to happen in the controversy which has found many Democrats and some Republicans lined up behind proposals to continue price props on major field crops at 90 per cent of parity.
 But he said "It certainly is a possibility" that the two houses of Congress will fail to agree on a farm bill.

President Eisenhower has urged abandonment of the present system of mandatory price supports on basic field crops at 90 per cent of parity and its replacement by a system of flexible props ranging from 75 to 90 per cent of parity. Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices said by law to give farmers a fair return in relation to prices they pay for things they buy.

Congress in 1948 and 1949 put on the books a flexible support system, although not in the form the Eisenhower administration has recommended. But it has postponed its effective date from year to year, continuing the rigid 90 per cent props first provided in wartime to stimulate production.
 The 90 per cent supports now are slated to expire at the end of the 1954 crop year, and failure of Congress to pass new legislation would permit the flexible plan now on the books to go into effect.

 Eisenhower recommended that, to ease the impact of a change to flexible supports, up to 2½ billion dollars worth of crops the government now holds be "frozen" and ignored in figuring support levels. This provision is not included in the 1948-49 legislation.

Chairman Aiken (R-Vt.) of the Senate Agriculture Committee said over the weekend he agrees "there's a possibility we might not do anything." But Rep. Hope (R-Kan.), chairman of the companion House committee, said he "can't conceive that the Congress won't do something."

Secretary of Agriculture Benson has said he would recommend a presidential veto if Congress votes for rigid supports. Knowland said: "If there is a deadlock in Congress or a bill passed that the President doesn't approve, the flexible supports will still go into effect."

Powerful Specs Aid Near-Blind to See Television

NEW YORK (UP)—Nearly blind persons who thought they were beyond all help are being given aid in seeing the world around them by powerful new types of lenses.

Louis J. Bettica, director of service at the Brooklyn Home for the Blind, said Sunday that 131 persons declared "legally blind" are being helped with microscopic or telescopic lenses and other new devices.

Bettica told more than 1,000 optometrists that he was one of the 131 who were helped in New York City.

The report was made at the opening educational session of the New York State Optometric Association's 39th annual convention.
 The desire to see television caused many of the persons to seek aid, he said, and most now can watch the TV screen without difficulty. Many of those helped were students who could not see classroom blackboards before, he said.

Girl Scouts Celebrate the Silver Jubilee of Camp Sherwood

Observance Highlighted by Pageant

Guests Tour Site, Attend Luncheon on Saturday

Early arrivals for the silver jubilee at Camp Sherwood near Lapeer Saturday were former directors Grace Werstovshek and Helen Lapich.

George Carhart, who first selected the Girl Scout campsite, and Mrs. C. H. Hutchins, donor of Lottie Hutchins Hall, were others arriving early.

Washington Junior High School Troop presented guests with Sherwood pine cones which the troop made. Several programs kept Girl Scouts, Brownies and guests informed of the day's program.

Girl Scouts directed incoming guests on tours of the camp units from 10 o'clock until noon when luncheon was served in the main lodge by Mrs. Ray Bush, Mrs. Jesse Briggs, Mrs. William Gorsline and Mrs. LeRoy Aldinger.

An afternoon program dramatized the flag ceremony, with the girls dressed in old-fashioned uniforms. The shores of Davis Lake and the main lodge formed the background as the pageant unfolded with skits on every phase of camp life.

Indian lore, signaling, nature study, campfires, campcraft and a pantomime of modern day camp life completed the program.

Presenting the program were Mrs. G. H. LaPiner, Troop 69; Mrs. Raymond Ruggles, Troop 42; Mrs. Kenneth Kelly, Troop 179; Mrs. Lawrence Murphy, Senior Troop 91, and Mrs. Wesley Allen, Brownie Troops 244 and 246.

Edith Klabunde led group singing, and with the lowering of the flag, the day's activities came to a close.

On Millage Proposal

Louis H. Schimmel of the Board of Education explained the millage proposal that will be on the June 14 ballot when he spoke before Malkim PTA.

He said that the large increase in school population has brought about the need for more money to operate our schools. By 1960, he said, our school population will have doubled.

For the needed improvements an increase of 4.25 mills has been proposed, he explained.

Mrs. Donald North, retiring president of the Pontiac PTA Council, installed Mrs. Edwin Soloman as president of Malkim PTA. Other officers installed were Mrs. Carson Cascadden, first vice president; George Jones, father vice president, and Mrs. Kenneth Brown, teacher vice president.

Mrs. William McGlashen is secretary; Mrs. Stephen Turner, treasurer.

Troth Told at Wedding Anniversary

The silver wedding anniversary of the Thomas C. Fitzpatrick of Mary Day avenue, celebrated Sunday at their home, served a two-fold purpose.

The 150 guests attending heard the announcement of Aug. 7 as the wedding date for the Fitzpatrick's daughter, Mary Ann, and Douglas Treas. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Treas of Snellbrook road.

A miniature bride and bridegroom and cards bearing the names Mary Ann and Doug made the revelation.

Out-of-town guests were from Gaylord, Lansing, Flint and Detroit.

Speaker Describes Home for the Elderly

Catholic Women Discuss Care of Aged

Members of the League of Catholic Women have wanted to do something for the aged woman.

They have wanted to use their beautiful building on South Saginaw street to make a home for these women who are no longer able to care for themselves alone, but who through group living can find a new way of life.

One hundred members of the league gathered Sunday in St. Vincent Hall for the annual banquet, and to discuss with Betty Hogan, a supervisor in the cooperative home sponsored by Holy Trinity Parish, Detroit, how they could get this type of program going in Pontiac.

How does one qualify for a cooperative home for the aged? Members of the league have agreed that there should be no age limit, but need should be the determining factor, and there should be no barriers regarding race, religion or creed.

What would this type of program offer widowed women? Most important is that it attempts to reconstruct the family life in which the individual developed and matured.

It helps develop understanding, they become more contented, and they never feel alone. There is always someone to visit with in a home such as this, Miss Hogan said, but if they prefer to be alone at any time, they may do so.

The small group living is much different than institution care where the aged women are apt to deteriorate when placed in rooms with many others, and where their lives become too regimented, continued Miss Hogan.

Recreation is provided, and through their work in regular household tasks, and through helping one another, they prove to themselves that they are still able to contribute to society.

Mrs. Thomas L. Carry, president of the league, introduced the speaker, and the Rev. Father William J. Rademacher gave the invocation.

Mrs. Arthur Crawford was breakfast chairman, assisted by the members of St. Joseph Guild.

Mrs. W. J. Hines reported that 1,500 cancer pads have been completed, and Mrs. Crawford told of the work the group has been doing at the Oakland County Convalescent Hospital.

Mrs. William B. Dean, membership chairman, reported that there are more than 900 league members.

Isabella Daughters Will Hold Banquet

Knights of Columbus Hall will be the setting this evening for the annual mother and daughter banquet of Daughters of Isabella Circle 479.

The welcome to the daughters will be given by Mrs. Mary Mazurek. Her daughter, Judy, will give the welcome to the mothers. Mrs. Louis Koprince, regent of the Circle, will give a brief talk.

Note Spring Styles

Woman Warned Against Putting Her Small Inheritance Into Gift Shop

'Kindly Omit Flowers,' Is Puzzling

Notice Means That No One Is Obligated to Send Them

By EMILY POST

A reader writes me: "I am eager to know what is really meant by the words 'Kindly omit flowers.' Recently a very dear friend of ours died and this request was made in the obituary column in the newspaper. We followed this request, only to find that everyone else had sent flowers."

"I would like to know if this request is merely made out of kindness on the part of the family and is not to be taken literally. Will you please answer this so that I may be guided accordingly should I encounter this request again?"

Answer: It means that the family does not wish anyone to feel obliged to send flowers. But of course there are always some friends who want to send flowers, and who do so, notwithstanding the "omit flowers" request.

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I disagree on women taking their hats off in the theater. My husband thinks a hat should be taken off, regardless. I think only when it might be obstructing someone's view, or when someone in back of her asks her to. Please settle this difference we have every time we go to the theater.

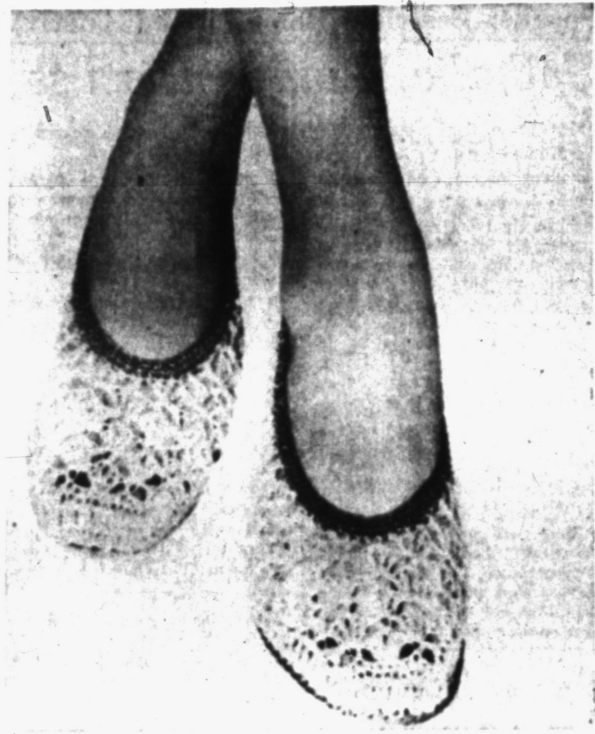

Answer: A completely flat hat with no trimming standing up on it need not be taken off—especially if the wear is very small.

But a hat that in any way impedes the view of those behind should be taken off whether one is asked to do so or not—especially if one is tall.

Dear Mrs. Post: My brother passed away two months before the birth of his first child. They had been married five years and he had looked forward to this event with much joy; however, now things are suddenly changed.

Under the circumstances, what is proper for my sister-in-law? Is any announcement made to friends and relatives?

Answer: The news of the baby's arrival is given as is usual to the local newspapers, and intimate friends and relatives are telephoned, notwithstanding the tragedy.

A compressed foam sole makes this shell slipper a completely washable item. Crocheted of firm nylon yarn and metallic latex, the slipper comes in two color ranges, the high bright shades and the pretty pastels, as well as black and white.

Get Parents Softened Up

Be Ready for First Date

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

Some boy someday is going to ask you for your first date. But it wouldn't do to think too much about the possibility, nor to discuss it right out loud. Though it is inevitable, it would be better to let the thing sneak up on you and catch you unawares.

Don't bother to get yourself organized so you'll be able to handle his invitation. Don't bother to equip yourself with the proper answers. Don't bother to pave the way at home so that your parents' ears may be receptive.

It's better to dream and hope—then face that first date bid with "It's all so sudden!" Then you'll be in the fix this girl's in. She writes:

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm 15, a sophomore in high school, and I like a boy who's 17, a junior. I know that he likes me, too. We don't know each other well."

At some time or other your parents obviously made some pretty general remarks about your chances of dating. It all had a very far-distant ring to it. Pretty final, too. So you all dismissed the problem as something to worry about much later.

And here comes that "much later" sooner than you thought. Of course, you've nothing really definite and tangible to discuss yet. He hasn't asked you for a date. But you can see it coming.

With your heart, you hope it comes soon. Your head says, "What's the use?" the stumbling block is your family.

Now you can keep all your hopes and fears a deep, dark secret from your family and wind up in a heap when the big moment comes. The thing to do now is to lay a little ground work so your date bid won't take them by surprise.

Start mentioning his name quietly around the house. Little things he said, or did, something wonderful his father did for somebody, something sweet he told you about his mother.

Drop one small detail after another. It will add up to the general idea that you know a very nice boy and you like him very much. Let them get used to that idea.

Then break down and ask your mother what to say if he should ask you for a date. Not in general, either. Here's a particular boy who lives in a certain place who's likely to ask you to do one or another perfectly usual thing. See how she reacts to the idea.

If she wants to meet him first, see that she does. She'll understand better and be more sympathetic when a date is mentioned.

If she's adamant, she'll give you the words to pass on to him. If she's receptive, she'll give you the permission you need to say "yes."

Clean Can Opener

Food left on the blade of a can opener may spoil and contaminate other foods. So keep your can opener clean by washing with soap and hot water after each using.

Try It

Have 4-Way Tug-of-War

It has been some time since we had a game for you to add to your Try It game collection. This game is for an older group, and even a group of adults might like to play it. I would say that anyone from about 9 years up would like it.

It is a four-way tug-of-war, and you will need a piece of rope which will make a 5-foot circle. Space each of the four players at even lengths along the rope.

By ANNE HEYWOOD
"I live at home and take care of my mother, who is a chronic invalid," a woman wrote me.
"Now, I have just received a small inheritance, and I have decided to open a small gift shop in my home. I have enough capital to buy a good many items, and I'm sure our city could use a really good gift shop."

Remember, Every Insect Not Termite

By HUBBARD COBB

Our theme for today is that while all termites are insects, all insects are not termites. This is an important little point to remember, especially the next time you see a small ant-like creature trawling around your home.

The important thing to remember about termites is that the worker termite, which is the one that does all the damage, doesn't like to show himself.

He works inside the wood and if he's a success, he can eat up an entire piece of wood, leaving only the outer shell.

If you have termites about, you'll never find little piles of sawdust because termites don't work this way. You won't find little holes in the wood, either. These conditions can be caused by other wood-boring insects but not by termites by looking for certain signs that apply particularly to termites.

Look, for example, for little earthen tunnels on masonry surface. These are built by the termite workers to get them across these surfaces without exposure to light. If you find such tunnels, you have a pretty fair indication that termites are about.

Another good way to check for termites is to prod woodwork near the ground or masonry surfaces with a sharp pointed tool such as an ice pick.

If the point goes into the wood easily, termites may have eaten a fair amount of the wood inside away.

Inspiration Is Key to Decor

By ELIZABETH HILLIER

It's so hard to get started, many letters tell us. Just what should be the first step in planning a room? So we asked several professional decorators to tell us, not what they'd advise, but what they actually did first about the last three rooms they designed.

They thought it over and came up with the same answer. The first step was inspiration. Something they had in mind or saw on the first shopping trip for the job stood out as exactly right.

to take care of would come and be customers of my shop, as they are devoted to me.

"Will you please give me the name of a good book on how to run a gift shop, and give me any suggestions you think will be helpful?"

My first and only suggestion is, don't!

A successful gift shop takes an awful lot of doing, and I have no reason to believe that you could handle it.

Every day, women who enter the business as you contemplate doing it lose their nest eggs and break their hearts.

In the first place, you seem to have had no business experience at all, no experience in a shop, meeting the public and persuading them to buy.

You know nothing about popular tastes, and nothing about purchasing and pricing your items. There is no book in the world which will teach you this. You have to get the experience by actually working in a shop.

In the second place, children seem to be your real interest, since you have worked in the field and loved it.

I'd far rather see you work with children in one way or another, because we know you have a real enthusiasm there.

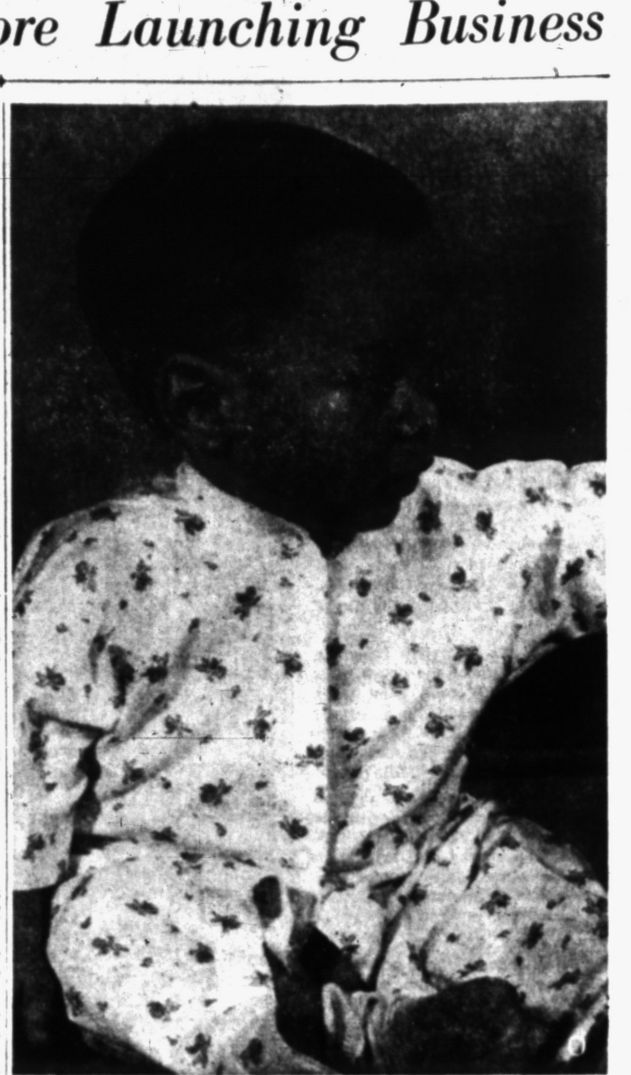

In the third place, the mothers of the children you took care of will probably not be customers. They will come once, to see the shop and say hello and maybe buy a one dollar item.

But people don't become customers of a shop unless it has things they really need, at prices they can afford to pay. Friendship never kept anyone in business; not friendship alone.

My suggestion would be that you take a little of this inheritance to hire a practical nurse, part time, to take care of your mother, while you get a part-time job in your city's biggest department store, selling. See how you like the field.

Try, if possible, to get into the children's wear department. Since you really like children, chances are you could do a good job. And the mothers would then gladly give you their business.

After that, perhaps you could start a children's wear shop, or a toy shop, in your home.

Tiny pink and blue angels interspersed with rosebuds on a white background decorate this nylon sacque, which is easily laundered and comes individually packaged.

AVOCADO SNACKS

By Mrs. Pete Hernandez

1 ripe avocado

Salt

Potato chips

Peel the avocado and remove the pit. Mash well with a fork, season with salt. (Editor's note: A little lemon juice added here will give piquancy and will prevent darkening of the avocado.)

Spread this mixture on potato chips for a tasty, nutritious snack.

A distinguished panel of art critics picked Pontiac artist Edith Arnold's "Still Life" as best-in-oils Saturday, when they judged the work of the Pontiac Society of Artists which opens a two-week public exhibit in the South Room of the Pontiac City Library today. Corroborating their decision (left to right) John S. Coppin of Bloomfield Hills, internationally known portrait painter and muralist; Lyman J. Beckwith, Detroit artist and ceramist, and Clyde H. Burroughs, retired, curator of the Detroit Institute of Arts for 45 years, look over the winning canvas. The judges spoke highly of the exhibit, called it "something for Pontiac to be proud of."

Previewers Consider Show the Best Yet

Artists' Exhibit Rates Critics' Praise

By WILMA GREENWAY

When Mr. and Mrs. John Doe says, "It's a fine art show," they may be right—and again they may not.

But when the distinguished Clyde H. Burroughs, for 45 years curator of the Detroit Institute of Arts (retired); internationally-known John S. Coppin, muralist and portrait painter; and idea-man Lyman J. Beckwith, painter-ceramist, unanimously agree that "here, Pontiac has something to be proud of," it's time to take a bow.

Such men are sparing with their praise. When they give it, it usually is merited.

When that praise is coupled with the fact that they are acting in the capacity of judges of a local art exhibit, it may rightly be regarded as a considered judgment, carrying commensurate weight.

Over 200 invited guests attended the preview of the sixth annual exhibit of the Pontiac Society of Artists yesterday, and showed by their comments that they also considered it the best show the local artists have yet produced. The exhibit, held in the South Room of the public library, Williams and W. Lawrence Sts., officially opened this morning and will continue through the next two weeks.

Mr. Burroughs, Mr. Coppin and Mr. Beckwith singled out Edith Arnold's "Still Life" for the first prize blue ribbon in oils. They chose the painting of pumpkin and sunflowers, which appears to have captured the sunlight, because of its "good spiritual quality" and because they liked the vibrant "massing of fruit color."

Arthur Hays' "Brown's Barn" was second choice in oils for the "capable handling of the medium," and Peter Zampol's "Einstein" was third as an "outstanding figure piece."

An honorable mention was given to Lois Kinney's "Driftwood," a small oil which the judges passed over at first, looked at a second time, and continued to comment on at intervals. "It's reminiscent of Winslow Homer," one judge said, "a picture that grows on you."

In pastels, Ingvor Davison's "Lonely Echoes" was first for its "nice choice of reminiscent subjects—a picture we all liked very much." L. Terry Fullerton was second choice with a colorful snow scene, picked for its "good wintry mood."

Virginia Lakkari's "The Workshop" was third in pastels for its "well-arranged variety of color and excellent drawing."

The boldly painted "Provincetown—the Dunes" by Mary Heitsch was first in the watercolor category.

The judges remarked upon its "brilliance of color" and Mr. Burroughs commented that it appeared to show the influence of Karl Knaths, a well-known artist.

Second prize in watercolors went to John Allhouse for "Autumn Oaks" which the judges described as a "swell job ... fresh, crisp as can be." Blance Avery's "Approaching Storm" took the third-place ribbon for the "excellence of its design."

In the charcoals, first prize went to Vera Rombough's "Old Philosophy" for its "nice tonal quality and good design." Belle Goodwin's "Calamity" was second for its "interesting subject."

Mrs. Doyle Is Honored at Shower

Mrs. Richard L. Doyle (nee Arlyle Oliver) was honored at a family miscellaneous shower Friday evening.

Guests included Mrs. George R. Oliver, Mrs. R. L. Doyle, Mrs. John Cawley, Mrs. Albert Serra, Mrs. J. Dow Smith, Mrs. Paul Smith, Mrs. Theodore Stickney and Jane Wildgen.

Others were Rosalind Wildgen, Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. John Theurer, Donna Stickney, Judy Stickney, Mrs. Bernard Burke of Detroit, Mrs. Clarence Ball and Mrs. Dalton Smith of Berkley.

Mrs. Richard Wargal and Marilyn Ball of Royal Oak and Ann Arbor, respectively, and Mrs. Woodrow Wildgen completed the list.

Freak Tornado Hits in Upper Peninsula

ST. IGNACE (U.P.) — A small "freak" tornado made a brief visit Saturday. State Police said the twister ripped a farmhouse roof and demolished a cement block farm shed then disappeared.

Troopers of the St. Ignace Post reported the tornado struck the Carl Elcey farm, about 23 miles east of St. Ignace.

No one was injured they said but the farmhouse roof was badly damaged, a small plank was driven clear through a wall of the building and a small cement block shed nearby was nearly leveled. State Police said some of the 40 pound blocks were hurled from 50 to 60 feet.

The twister was described as "a freak" by the Detroit Weather Bureau. A forecaster said temperatures and weather conditions were not conducive to the formation of tornadoes.

422 Evacuated From Fallen Fort

French Say Vietminh to Free 858 Wounded in All

HANOI, Indochina (U.P.) — French army headquarters announced today 422 French wounded have been evacuated thus far from the fallen fortress of Dien Bien Phu. There still was no indication when nurse Genevieve de Galard Terraube would come out.

One hundred and thirty casualties — a record number for one day — arrived in Hanoi last night. They had been airlifted by helicopters and light planes to Luang Prabang, the royal Laotian capital, and flown the rest of the way in transport planes.

The French command also announced the Communist-led Vietminh had agreed to release a grand total of 858 wounded, including all nationalities represented in Dien Bien Phu's defense contingent. The rebels previously had said they would release 753.

A message from the Vietminh high command, received at French headquarters last night, promised to repair the main airstrip at Dien Bien Phu to make it usable for transport planes. The message asked the French to send army engineers and mine detectors to help remove mines from the field.

The message apparently replied to a French offer May 17 of aid in repairing the strip to speed the evacuation. French officers said the command had agreed to the rebel request.

The Vietminh message turned down an offer of French planes to help evacuate rebel wounded. It also hotly protested the French bombing of the main road leading from Dien Bien Phu to the Red River delta.

The French have charged the Vietminh are using the highway to rush guns and war materiel from the Dien Bien Phu area to the delta, another key target for rebel attackers.

The message asked for cessation of bombings around the fallen fortress but rejected a French proposal that a mixed control commission be established to govern traffic on the road while the Vietminh were evacuating their wounded.

Moving Sidewalk Makes Its Debut for Train Riders

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (INS) — The conveyor-belt "moving sidewalk" that may play a large part in the future of all big cities makes its world debut today in Jersey City.

The speedwalk, which cost $75,000 to build and is capable of handling 10,800 passengers an hour, links the Hudson and Manhattan Railroad's Erie Station to the Erie Railroad terminal — saving less athletic commuters an uphill climb of 227 feet.

New York City Transit Authority officials will watch the operation with interest because of their plans to build a conveyor system in New York beginning next September.

This "moving sidewalk" will connect Grand Central and Times Square at a cost of four million dollars and will replace the present shuttle. It will be "noiseless, dustless and safe."

It will handle 15,000 passengers an hour in each direction and will cut a few seconds off the usual two minutes now taken by subway trains to make the shuttle trip.

The New York link will operate like this:

As you enter, you step onto a loading belt, moving at 1½ miles an hour, or half your normal walking speed. From there, you will step into a continuous stream of 10-seat passenger cars, moving at the same speed.

When the car passes the far end of the loading belt it will glide onto banks of rubber-tired wheels and the speed will increase to 15 miles an hour until the destination is reached.

There, the car will glide off onto another 1½-mile-an-hour belt, slowing down so that you can step off onto an unloading belt moving at the same speed, and from there to the platform.

Avon Players Revive Theater-in-the-Round Style

TICKET ROW FOR BARN PLAY — The big red barn on the L. S. Smart Farm, Tienken Road, Rochester, was the rustic setting for the Avon Players presentation of "Miranda" Friday and Saturday nights. An amateur play group, the Players have been staging plays for seven years in this area, but this was their first circle theater production and the first time they used a barn. The above picture shows the Smart barn and the lower photo is the ticket booth set up outside the barn entrance. Shown, (left to right) in the lower picture are, Margaret Wiggins, Rochester; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Sheppard, Mrs. Frederick W. Nash and ticket taker, George Akens. Mrs. Charles Stewart served as the other ticket seller.

A MINUTE TO GO — Mrs. Ludwig Bachor, although a veteran actress, said she had butterflies a few minutes before curtain time. Accentuating the eyes, she poses before the mirror. She portrayed Lady Clare Marten of Chelsea, England, for the production. The play, taken from "Mr. Peabody and the Mermaid," drew a capacity crowd both nights of its presentation and a warm ovation for the theater-in-the-round. This was the first time the Players had presented a circle-theater.

Amateurs Successful With Barn Presentation of 'Miranda'

By HAZEL A. TRUMBLE
ROCHESTER — Theater-in-the-round received a hearty ovation from Rochester playgoers this past weekend when several hundred watched the Avon Players stage another phenomenal success.

Tried for the first time in this area, the circle theater idea was used to present "Miranda" in the big red barn on the L. S. Smart farm, Tienken Rd., Rochester. Taken from the successful comedy, "Mr. Peabody and the Mermaid," the play enjoyed a two-night stand before a packed-barn audience.

The rustic setting in the country was punctuated with intermission calls by the cowbell and an occasional visit from a neighborly dog who wondered what was going on in the big barn.

Acclaimed by theater professionals to be a top-notch drama group, the Avon Players are going into their seventh year.

"We wondered seven years ago how long it would last, but we kept on working and hoping," said Henry Purdy, Main street druggist who with a local minister conceived the idea of starting the group.

Their first presentation, "The Male Animal" put the newly organized group in the red by $50. Today, they have nearly $1,000 in the bank. Their goal: "A barn of their own."

Critics who watched Friday and Saturday nights' productions said this group "is head and shoulders above most amateur players in the state."

The reason, they believe, is that

CAPACITY CROWD ATTENDS BARN PERFORMANCE—Every one was there but the animals when the Avon Players staged "Miranda" this past weekend in the L. S. Smart barn on Tienken road.

Rochester, as a place to live, has attracted some fine acting and directing talent and these people have wanted to participate in their community's cultural activities.

Fully incorporated with a constitution and by-laws governing its operation, the group is a democratically functioning organization.

Funeral Veteran

BUTTE, Mont. (AP) — William O. Gilbert, World War I veteran has participated in 2,000 military funerals during the past 33 years as a member of the Silver Bow post of the American Legion.

Their once-a-month meetings give others a chance who have never had any acting experience to take part in one-act skits or plays.

Theft Not Greedy

NEW LONDON, Conn. (UP)—A thief broke into Joseph Obsivac's automobile, left several valuables untouched, but took two boxes of cigars.

This scene shows the crowd a half-hour to curtain time. The play took place in the center of the barn floor with the audience circling the production.

Membership is bolstered by a long list of patrons who pay twice as much a year for membership, but have no work to do. They receive twice as many free tickets in exchange for their support.

Cub Scouts Picnic

The annual Cub Scout, Pack 9, picnic was attended by about 150 scouts and parents Sunday at Camp Agawam, Tommy's Lake. Gold arrow awards were presented to Jack Warren, James Haggerty, Thomas McGrath and Stephen Wyman. Some 19 other scouts received awards, according to Mrs. Clarke Kimball, publicity chairman.

Other successful plays produced by the Avon Players include "Harvey," which brought the house down each night it was staged; "The Hasty Heart," and "Kind Lady."

To encourage family participation, the membership is cheaper for a husband and wife team than for a single member.

"We also try to present some plays for total family enjoyment from the youngsters to the grandparents," Henry Purdy said.

MAKEUP FOR THE MAID—Last-minute make-up touches before curtain time found Mrs. William Mitzfeld, (right) assisting Mrs. Carroll Chapman, Jr., who played the role of Betty in "Miranda." Mrs. Worth Mallory, co-director.

DETROIT (AP) — Army Ordnance has revealed that for the last two years the Auto Specialties Co., of St. Joseph, has been working on a $7,000,000 contract, producing huge shells for atomic cannon.

Ordnance officials said Saturday the company is building four-foot shells, the largest artillery missiles ever cast in one piece, for the giant 280-millimeter cannon. The company was awarded the contract because it developed the one-piece casting system, they said.

The cannon can fire either atomic or conventional shells from its 55-foot barrel.

When Clowning
Abbott, Costello
Are 'Bruisers'

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Attendants stand by with bandages when Abbott and Costello come off-stage after a show such as their TV Comedy Hour performance.

"They gotta be ready," says Lou Costello. "There's no telling how injured we're going to be."

He isn't kidding. Although Lou is under doctors' orders to lay off the rougher routines, his violent kind of comedy puts him in jeopardy. Abbott, too. He's the straight man, but he has had his share of knocks.

The boys were telling me about their mishaps. I concluded they should have a charge account at some nearby hospital.

Legal Obstacles
Still Extradition

Authorities in Germany
Name Ohioan in Three
1946 Slayings

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Legal roadblocks stalled action today in the 1946 ax-arson slayings of three American Army officers in Germany.

U.S. Chief Prosecutor Thomas L. Leland announced the present evidence was not legally sufficient to ask the extradition of James M. Leech of Lima, Ohio, a former Army captain.

Leech was accused last Friday by Leland's deputy of the savage murder of the three officers, Jan. 7, 1946, at Passau, Germany.

Leech denied the killings. Informed in Lima of Leland's announcement, the Ohioan told a newspaper:

"All I know about this is what has been supplied me by the newspapers. I have nothing official on this latest move. When the final decision is reached, I'll still be here."

Leech faces three charges of murder, three of intentional manslaughter and one of arson in the deaths of Maj. Everett S. Conran of Washington, D.C.; Capt. Adrian L. Wessler, of New Rochelle, N.Y.; and 1st Lt. Stanley M. Rosewater of Omaha, Neb. The charges were filed by Deputy U.S. Prosecutor William Canfield, of Hampden, Mass., after the Army had turned over the files of the case to U.S. High Commission legal authorities a few weeks ago.

Canfield had indicated he intended to go ahead with a request for extradition of Leech but Leland stepped into the case and stopped him.

In a statement last night, Leland declared the evidence "is not in its present form legally sufficient" for such a request. The chief prosecutor said his office apparently would not be able to forward the case to the U.S. high commissioner for at least three weeks.

He said gathering evidence required for extradition, its evaluation and preparations to meet legal requisites will take that long.

"For example, all statements of pertinent witnesses must have been made under oath before they are acceptable in an extradition hearing in U.S. federal courts," Leland said.

Bob Considine Says:

Breakfast in New York, Dinner in Hawaii Is Here

NEW YORK (INS)—My friend Pat Patterson, who has been able to run United Air Lines since just about the beginning of aeronautical time, has invited me to have breakfast in New York Monday.

If that doesn't seem newsworthy, let it be added that he has invited me to have lunch in San Francisco, also Monday. What's more, he has reserved a table at the Royal Hawaiian Hotel in Honolulu for dinner.

Yes, Monday. This is just one Monday he has in mind.

There will be a slight assist from the Douglas Aircraft Corp., builders of United's fleet of 25 DC7s. A considerable contribution to this farflung adventure in gastronomy will be made by the Wright people, who built the four 18-cylinder turbo-compound engines which can stir up the sound and fury of 13,000 horses on takeoff.

And let us not forget the Hamilton people, who provide the 13½ feet blades that whip the milky way, and the people who stuffed the instruments with the proper ingredients.

A few short years ago, a flight like United's dawn-to-dusk one-stop leap from New York to Honolulu (5,000 miles) would have come under the heading of stunt... foolhardy stunt. But today it is routine. It is a natural extension of American's non-stop DC7 flights back and forth across the country from New York to Los Angeles, and TWA's Super-Connie non-stop sleeper trips from LA to Idlewild.

United has the route on to Hawaii, and now Pat has the plane that can make it without drawing a hard breath.

The opening of any new frontier in time and space brings inevitable memories of previous travels.

We may pass over Salt Lake City at 25,000 feet and, if the weather is clear, see in miniature the land the Mormons found and tamed, and then soar over mountains that crushed incalculable souls thirsting for Sutter's gold in 1849. And come at last to the area of San Francisco Bay, of which there can be few peers, a sight which Americans from the East once gained only after excruciating walks and horse- and wagon-rides of months duration, or endless voyages by sea.

On Monday United flies it between breakfast and luncheon, plying its 58 reporters and radio and TV people throughout with viands and potions usually associated with pleasure domes. We will be aloof of the weather if the expected flying height of 25,000 feet is officially ordained, and those clapping horses will be towing us along smoothly at better than six miles a minute—while using only 55 per cent of their available power.

It will be quite a day for Pat Patterson, when this first of United's $58 million worth of DC7s previews the regular flights that will begin June 1. He has been around his company since its equipment consisted of a 2-place open cockpit job. He was a proud man back in 1927 when his ships made it across the country in 32 hours with 14 fueling stops. He has had other reasons to sit back and wonder at the distance he and his profession have come. With each stride taken by the manufacturers, he has moved in consonance, bringing the passenger more comfort, safety, speed and service.

Seaway Unlocks Empire, and Should Pay for Itself

By ROBERT G. NIXON
WASHINGTON (INS) — For a self-pay-back 50-year $105,000,000 loan, the United States has unlocked the ocean sluice-gates to a new economic empire in the North American heartland, so fabulous in its potential creation of new wealth that no one dares estimate its final worth.

By 1960—if schedules hold—commerce ships that ply the seven seas may be as commonplace at the docks of Duluth, Minn., 2,225 miles from the Atlantic, as they are today at New York, Southampton, Le Havre or Tokyo.

And this applies as well to such interior U. S. cities as Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit, Toledo, Milwaukee, Erie and Buffalo, to mention only a few.

Supporters of the St. Lawrence Seaway contend that Congress, in approving U. S. participation with Canada in the development, has "bought-in" on what may prove one of the biggest bargains in American history.

For the project not only should pay for itself in 50 years or less through the levying of lock tolls, but after that should return a profit to the U. S.-Canadian treasuries.

But this phase of seaway economics is dwarfed into insignificance by the staggering impact of the almost limitless world commerce facility it will provide for one of the world's richest industrial, agricultural and natural resource areas.

As one of the seemingly incidental by-products, the project will produce 12 billion kilowatt-hours of cheap electricity a year for an area hungry for industrial power.

This energy will be used to reduce aluminum ore for continental defense, and to turn the wheels of factories throughout New York, New England and the contiguous Great Lakes regions of the U. S. and southern Canada.

Project enthusiasts foresee a revival of industry in New England and the creation of a vast new fabric of industry for defense and peace production in the whole area.

The power project will be financed separately, although with out the power development and the inland lake it will provide, the navigational phase of the seaway development could not come into being.

The entire seaway project will cost $18 million dollars. The U. S. will bear about 34 per cent of the cost, Canada 66 per cent.

Division of the cost arrangement is credited by supporters of the project, who fought a 30-year political battle to bring it into being, as one of the factors that brought final congressional approval.

The project calls for a 27-foot channel through the Great Lakes to Duluth ultimately.

This would provide passage for freighters of 10,000 and 15,000 tonnage—the work horses of the world's maritime fleets.

To open up all the lakes and great cities of its shores to shipping, vast collateral work must be undertaken.

Most of the ports as far as Toledo have average depths now of from 21 to 25 feet.

Dredging of channels and creation of port areas and proper depths must be undertaken.

Extensive dredging of existing channels must be undertaken to open up Chicago, Detroit, Duluth, Milwaukee and other cities of Lakes Huron, Michigan and Superior to the future ocean-going traffic.

This dredging cost to deepen existing channels is estimated at 100 million dollars.

Here are some of the things the seaway project will do for the American and Canadian economy:

1. It will bring a large percentage of the world's general cargo seagoing shipping to the Great Lakes interior cities of the U. S. and Canada.

2. It will increase present annual shipping movement on the seaway route from 10 million tons to around 50 million tons.

3. Open the products of one of the world's richest industrial areas to direct shipment by cheap transportation to any point in the world.

4. Make ocean ports of 18 U. S. midwestern cities.

5. Provide inexpensive water-borne shipping for the great grain-producing areas of both countries.

Similarly provide for vast new development of the mineral resources of both countries, particularly of Canada, whose minerals are vitally needed for U. S. defense industry.

7. Effect a tremendous reduction in shipping costs. Present cost per ton of general cargo by rail from Cleveland to the East Coast is $13. Parallel seaway shipping cost will run $1.70 a ton, including probable tolls of $1.25 a ton.

5. Provide a vital addition to national defense by (A) an alternate route for low-cost mass movement of vitally needed iron ore to U. S. steel arsenal, (B) access to shipbuilding and ship-repair facilities located in relatively secure areas to supplement coastal shipyards, (C) furnishing an additional needed line of communication for ocean shipping to ease wartime strain on rail transportation and gulf and Atlantic port facilities, (D) a reserve route in case of interruption of other routes by attack.

Major League 'Old-Timers' Spend Joyous Sunday

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sportswriter

Baseball may be a young man's game but you can't convince Bob Feller, Ted Williams, Mickey Vernon, Preacher Roe, Marv Rice and some of those other greybeards.

Led by these veterans of 36 thereabouts and the 39-year-old Ellis Kinder, the "Old Guard" had quite a day yesterday. Even yearlings like 33-year-old Andy Pafko and 31-year-old George Kell were in on the fun.

Feller, who will be 36 in November, pitched his first victory of the season and 25th of his career as the Cleveland Indians beat Baltimore in a doubleheader 14-3 and 2-1 to increase their American League lead to two and a half games over second-place Chicago.

The Tribe had to go into extra innings to win the nightcap, its 11th in a row, just two short of its all-time high set in 1942 and 1951. Pitcher Art Houtteman won his own game with a 12th inning double that scored George Strickland. Al Rosen's 11th homer in the ninth, his eighth in the last nine games, forced the game into overtime.

Williams banged two singles and drew three walks in six times at bat, drove in a run and scored three as the Boston Red Sox outslugged the New York Yankees 10-9. Kinder hurled the last three innings to receive credit for his second Boston triumph. The Red Sox scored seven runs in the last three innings, driving New York into third place.

Kell, playing his last game for Boston, collected three hits, drove in three runs and scored twice. It was not until after the game that he learned he had been sold to the Chicago White Sox.

Roe not only went the route for the first time this year but starred on offense as the Brooklyn Dodgers captured a doubleheader in the National League. The grizzled southpaw, a notoriously poor hitter, smacked a single and double and scored what proved to be the winning run in the opener. Duke Snider walloped two homers for the Brooklyn in the nightcap.

Pafko, playing in his 12th big league season, was the heavy gun in Milwaukee's double triumph over the Chicago Cubs. After driving in the tie-breaking run with a 10th inning double in the Braves' 4-2 opening victory, Pafko blasted two homers and a triple to drive in five runs in the 9-3 nightcap win. Rookie Ray Crone and Sophomore Chet Nichols were Milwaukee's route-going winners.

Grissom, third pitcher used by Manager Leo Durocher, held the Philadelphia Phillies scoreless in the final three innings to protect New York's 6-4 lead as the Giants swept past the Phils into fourth place. Willie Mays batted in three runs with a triple and single off loser Curt Simmons.

Vernon, who joined Washington in 1940, clouted a home run and three doubles to lead the Nats to a 9-4 victory over Philadelphia's Athletics. Elmer Valo, 33-year-old outfielder, hit a three-run homer for the Athletics.

Outfielder Wally Post drove in five runs, with a home run and double to lead the Cincinnati Red-legs to a 13-6 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Third baseman Ray Jablonski, the league's leading hitter, batted in five runs for the Cards with a home run, double and single. A 32-game streak of perfect fielding by Red Schoendienst ended with a fourth inning tumble. The Card second baseman had handled 180 chances cleanly at second base since April 17.

OUT ON ATTEMPTED STEAL — Ray Boone, Tiger third baseman is out on an attempted steal in the first inning of Sunday's game here. Chico Carrasquel, Chicago White Sox infielder makes the putout. Play was on a throw from Sherman Lollar, White Sox catcher to Carrasquel. Umpire Soar starts to call play.

Shirai Keeps Flyweight Title on Split Decision

By JIM BECKER
TOKYO (AP)—World flyweight boxing champion Yoshio Shirai tonight hammered out a narrow, 15-round decision over little Leo Espinosa of the Philippines in a title bout.

A crowd of about 35,000 paid some $72,000 to see the slim Shirai gain a split verdict over the rugged Filipino challenger in an action-packed battle.

The verdict brought hoots from Espinosa's corner and even the predominately pro-Shirai crowd was none too enthusiastic.

It was Shirai's fourth successful defense of the title he won in May, 1952, from Dado Marino of Honolulu. The razor-thin margin of victory averaged a seventh-round technical knockout by Espinosa last September.

The champion weighed 110½ and the challenger 111.

The referee called the fight 147-145 for Shirai under Japan's complicated point-scoring system.

Baksi, Baker Highlight TV Ring Feature
NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Baksi, back for "just one more chance," kicks off the boxing program tonight at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway (ABC-TV) against Big Bob Baker, a Pittsburgh giant who also fumbled away his big chances.

When Baksi, now 32, came down from the farm at East Nassau, N.Y., around the first of the year he weighed a bulging 261 pounds. After weeks of training and one "tuneup" knockout victory he's down to "about 233."

Baksi's bright hopes were dimmed by chronic bad hands. Every time he started to make his move, the hands went back on him. He got up around 223 but weighed only 209 when he was stopped by Archie Moore March 9 at Miami Beach.

The rival TV show at St. Nicholas Arena tonight (Du Mont) features Ralph (Tiger) Jones and Pedro Gonzales in a middleweight 10 rounder. Jones' disappointed badly as a 5-1 favorite May 14, losing to Jacques Royer at Madison Square Garden.

Ex-Chief Dave Zittel Stars for Scots' Nine
Dave Zittel, freshman from Pontiac, is currently starring for Alma College baseball team. Zittel is a 2nd baseman, rated one of the finest in the MIAA.

In his first year at Alma he is hitting a robust .333, and is sterling defensively.

Dave has had many fine days at the plate, but possibly the best were against Adrian and Albion colleges according to reports. In those games he collected four and five hits, respectively.

5 U.S. Netters Still in Race for Paris Title

List Includes Trabert, Seixas, Mulloy, Patty and Larsen

PARIS (AP)—The United States still had five players left in the running while Australia had two today as the French International tennis tournament went into its quarter-final round.

One of the Aussie quarter-final berths still is not assured since Ken Rosewall must beat Sweden's Sven Davidson, no pushover, to gain his berth.

The winning Americans include Tony Trabert, Vic Seixas, Gardnar Mulloy, Art Larsen and Budge Patty. Mervyn Rose is the sole Aussie in the round of eight quarter-finalists.

Australian coach Harry Hopman brought seven players here and of the big four of the Davis Cup team, Lewis Hoad and Rex Hartwig have been eliminated. Three youngsters—Neil Fraser, Ashley Cooper and Roy Emerson—also have tumbled.

No matter how the tournament winds up, Mulloy will be the talk of the tourney after the lesson he gave the 19-year-old Hoad yesterday. Mulloy, 40 years old, knocked the top-seeded youngster out, 6-2, 2-6, 7-5, 6-4.

"I only let him come up to the net when I wanted him to come up," said Mulloy. "Of course, he could take the initiative once in a while, but I had good control."

Mulloy thus did what neither Trabert nor Seixas could do in last year's Davis Cup challenge round.

"They told me I was too old to play on the Davis Cup team," Mulloy said.

'Everybody's Friend'

Death Claims 'Chief' Bender, Ex-A's Great

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Charles Albert (Chief) Bender, all-time pitching great with the Philadelphia Athletics, and one of the most beloved baseball figures of the century, died Saturday night at the age of 71.

The old Chief, wasted by heart disease and cancer, had been confined to the hospital for some months. His devoted wife of 40 years was at the bedside when he died.

Always a favorite with both fans and players, Bender spent virtually his entire career with the Athletics.

He was discovered by Connie Mack shortly after the turn of the century while playing at the Carlisle (Pa.) Indian school, alma mater of another late great Indian athlete, Jim Thorpe.

In his major league competition, which stretched from 1903 to 1917, Bender had an overall record of 212 wins and 128 losses. He won six and lost four in world series contests.

More recently he had been on the A's coaching staff where he developed several youngsters including lefty Bobby Shantz.

The Chief was a star in the early days of the sport and often joked about the fact that he never made more than $2,400 a season for his "high-priced" talent.

His greatest accolade undoubtedly was being voted into the baseball Hall of Fame.

Roy Mack, A's general manager, commented on learning of the Chief's death:

"The greatest tribute anyone can pay to Chief Bender—and the one he would be proudest to claim—is that he never made an enemy. He was everybody's favorite and everybody's friend."

"There will never be another Chief Bender."

Services will be held at a funeral home on Thursday with burial following at Ardley, Pa.

Hitting Slumps Bother Tigers

By JOE FALLS
DETROIT (AP)—Following three straight losses to the Chicago White Sox, there is concern among the Detroit Tigers over the inability of Harvey Kuenn and Jim Delsing to hit with men on bases.

This weakness—which can be a crippling one—was brought into sharp focus yesterday when the Tigers dropped their 3rd straight game to Chicago, 4-3.

Batting in the key cleanup spot, Delsing failed to hit in four tries and his batting average skidded to .238. He has knocked in only five runs.

Kuenn, who has batted across only six, killed Detroit's big chance to pull the game out of the rye when he slapped into a fly killing double play in the 8th inning.

The loss—charged to starter Steve Gromek—dropped the 4th-place Tigers 5½ games behind the flaming Cleveland Indians, who have taken command in the American League with an 11-game winning streak.

Tigers are idle today and open a three-game series with the Baltimore Orioles Tuesday night in Briggs Stadium.

Gromek was seeking to become the major league's 1st eight-game winner against Chicago, and the 33-year-old righthander held a 1-0 lead entering the 8th inning.

Then the roof, or, more specifically—Chicago's bats, fell on him. White Sox clubbed Gromek for three home runs in the 8th inning to complete the three-game sweep.

After Nellie Fox started the inning harmlessly enough, singling to right, Chicago's siege guns moved into action. Minnie Minoso hammered his 7th home run, to score behind Fox and give Chicago a 2-1 edge.

Gromek retired Ferris Fain, but Cass Michaels and Sherm Lollar connected for successive home runs to pad the lead.

Chicago needed the cushion, too, as Detroit scored twice in their half of the 8th but any chance the Tigers had of winning was killed when Kuenn hit into a double play.

EAST LANSING (UP)—Michigan State, its first Big Ten baseball championship wrapped up, looked forward today to the NCAA playoffs and a crack at the title relinquished by the University of Michigan.

Spartans polished off the conference championship Saturday by sweeping a doubleheader from the Buckeyes of Ohio State by 6-4 and 6-5 scores.

Michigan State, Ohio University and Ashland College have been selected to compete for the NCAA 4th district title.

Ohio U., champion of the Mid-American Conference, and Ashland, the Mid-Ohio Conference title, start a best-of-two-three-game series Wednesday with the winner meeting the Spartans in a similar series starting Memorial Day.

Fourth District winner moves to Omaha, Neb., for the NCAA finals June 10-14.

To claim the Big Ten crown,

Allie Reubens Ponders Entry in the Belmont

Toledoans' Hasty Road Takes Richest of All Preakness Races

By ORLO ROBERTSON
BALTIMORE (AP)—Regardless of what he does in the Belmont Stakes three weeks hence, Hasty Road will go down in turf history as the horse of thrilling finishes.

When Allie Reubens' blazed-faced three-year-old son of Roman won the richest of all Preakness Stakes last Saturday it marked the sixth race this year in which he left spectators limp at the finish.

In two of his thrilling finishes, the Kentucky Derby Trial and the Preakness, he won. In the other four, including the Derby itself and the Preakness Prep, he was second by margins often so slim that a photograph was needed to separate him from the winner.

Whether Hasty Road starts in the mile and a half of the Belmont Stakes on June 12 is a question that Reubens and trainer Harry Trotsek are tossing about. Right now it looks like he will but Reubens might well change his mind again and keep the star of his Hasty House Farm stable in the Midwest for stakes in the Chicago area.

If Hasty Road does go for the Belmont, New York fans can look for a thriller. For Correlation, who beat the Toledo-owned colt in the Preakness Prep by a head and lost to him by a slim neck in the Preakness, also is looking for the Belmont.

The presence of these two horses will make for an exciting Belmont race. But at Belmont they will also have to battle Porthouse, the 1953 two-year-old champ. Porthouse has won his only two starts this year. However he passed up the Derby and the Preakness.

Hasty Road ran in the Preakness as he has in most of his other races. He went to the front soon after the start, set a hard pace over the early part of the race and then said "catch me" in his final drive for the finish.

The time for the mile and three-sixteenths was a fair 1:57 2-5, which caused owner Reubens to remark: "It proves the theory you can breed a speedster like Roman and a distance mare like Traffic Court and get a horse who can last."

The gross value of the Preakness was a record $140,150. Hasty Road's share of $81,600 boosted his winnings for the year to $117,200 and for his career to $394,432. He now has an over-all performance of eight victories, four seconds and a third in 17 starts.

Johnson's No-Hitter Sparks Shaw's Wins

Pontiac Shaw's Jewelers swept both games of an exhibition softball double header from Civic Center Garage Sunday night. Both victories were shutouts.

Glen "Wimpy" Johnson hurled a no-hitter, 1-0, striking out 13 and walking only one. Shaw's managed only one hit, a 3rd inning single by Tony Carey.

Game's only run came in the 1st inning and was unearned.

In the other game, Guy Sparrow and Alex Morris teamed up for a 3-hit shutout, 8-0. Three runs in the 2nd inning were enough for the win. Russ Hester's single, a sacrifice, a walk and Sparrow's single brought in the runs.

KELL LEAVES BOSOX — Veteran third baseman George Kell turns over his No. 1 shirt to Manager Lou Boudreau of the Boston Red Sox at Yankee Stadium Sunday after learning he had been traded to the Chicago White Sox for Grady Hatton and a "very, very substantial sum of cash." At left is Bosox outfielder Ted Williams, recently returned to action after a shoulder injury.

Warman Beats Record Pouget Is 880 Winner

A pair of Class C schools, Keego Harbor and Clarkston, fared the best of Oakland County's entries in the state high school track meets at Ann Arbor and East Lansing Saturday.

Keego Harbor was 6th with 12 points, while Clarkston was 7th with 11 5/8. Saginaw, Inkster, Lansing Everett and Brethren won Class A to D titles, respectively.

Pontiac finished in a tie for 13th place with 8 points in Class A, while Birmingham had 4 points for a 17th place tie. Utica was 10th in Class B with 6 1/2 points.

Al Warman of Clarkston and Jim Pouget of Troy were the county's top performers. Warman, the versatile Clarkston athlete, set a new Class C record, winning the high jump at 6 feet, 1/4 inch. The jump was better than the winning leap in Class A.

Warman and teammate Bob Yahnke tied for 5th in the pole vault and the Wolves' half-mile relay team tied for 3rd.

Pouget, who doesn't even have a track to practice on at Troy, breezed home in his section of the Class B half-mile in 2 minutes, 2.8 seconds at East Lansing. Duane Wildey of Oxford was 2nd behind the Troy runner. Don Pounds of Walled Lake was 4th in the other section of the Class B 880.

Pontiac got its points in the low hurdles and half-mile. John James was 2nd in his section of the 880 and Felix Brooks took 4th in the other section. Dave Long of Birmingham was 4th behind James.

Ed Ringgold and Willie Wilson ran 4th and 5th in the 120-yard low hurdles. John Perry of Birmingham was 4th in his quarter-mile section. Dick McKimney of Ferndale tied for 1st in the high jump at 6 feet, 1/4 inch, while Russ Hibbard of Birmingham was 3rd.

Keego's points came from Dennis Singleton, who was 2nd in the broad jump and 3rd in the 220 and Walt Goetz, 6th in both dashes. Presidents' medley relay team also was 6th.

Ed Goodrich of South Lyon won the 1st section of the Class C 880 in 2:03.3. Clarkston's Gordon Caddan was 3rd behind Ken Maxwell of Mariette in the other heat. Bob Gouin of South Lyon was 3rd in his section of the 440.

Floyd Eslinger of Bloomfield Hills was 4th in the high hurdles.

In Class B, Gil Witsoe of Rochester took a 4th in his 440 heat. Bernie Carter of Romeo was 6th in the broad jump and Giles Goforth of Avondale was 6th in the shotput.

Ernie Malzham of Utica was 5th in the high hurdles and Utica's Dennis Tibble tied for 2nd in the pole vault, while Tom Kalacz of OL St. Mary tied for 4th.

Warman's high jump record was one of nine to be broken Saturday, while another was tied. Saginaw Valley teams took the top three spots in Class A as Flint Northern and Arthur Hill finished 2-3 behind Saginaw's champions.

Grady Hatton Also Is Part of 'Package'

Hose Sought to Add More Hitting Ability to Back Hurling

By TOM BRANAGAN
CHICAGO (AP)—In a lavish, uncharacteristic gamble, the Chicago White Sox paid a reported $100,000 for hard-hitting George Kell and now are ready to acquire another famed slugger, Phil Cavarretta.

Frank Lane, the Sox general manager, got third baseman Kell from the Boston Red Sox for reserve infielder Grady Hatton and cash — so much that Red Sox General Manager Joe Cronin "couldn't turn it down."

Lane didn't announce the amount involved but Manager Paul Richards, when asked if it was $100,000, said: "I think that's pretty close."

In a further effort to shore up the Sox for a determined pennant drive, Lane appeared on the verge of taking on Cavarretta, the deposed Chicago Cubs manager, as a pinch hitter and coach.

Kell has hit over .300 the last seven seasons and Cavarretta has a lifetime .292 batting mark in 19 seasons at first base for the Cubs.

With the Sox pitching staff manned by experts — Richards says it's the best in the American League — the weak-hitting Comiskey club needed a player of Kell's batting ability badly. Richards said only Saturday that the club had to find a dependable slugger to stay in the race. Sox pitchers were hurling five and six-hit games and losing.

If Cavarretta is obtained and can regain even a respectable fraction of his old form, another Sox problem would be near solution. Richards hasn't been able to call forth a reliable pinch hitter in clutch situations. He sent pinch batters to the plate 35 times this season before one of them — pitcher Bob Keegan — produced a hit.

The ex-Cub pilot, relieved during spring training and replaced by Stan Hack, was due in Chicago today for a talk with Lane. They were reported close to an agreement.

'M' 9 Ties for 3rd
ANN ARBOR (UP)—University of Michigan, the 1953 Big Ten and NCAA baseball champion, saw its titles vanish Saturday and there was nothing the Wolverines could do about it.
Coach Ray Fisher's Michigan team swept a twin bill from Indiana, 8-2 and 7-3, but the two victories merely lifted the Wolverines into a tie for 3rd place with Ohio State.
Marv Wisniewski spaced five hits for Michigan in the opener and Jack Corbett hurled a six-hitter to win the nightcap.

Chiefs Add Two More Wins in SVC Campaign

Beat Wolves Twice in Saturday Trip; Boost Total to 10

Pontiac High School's baseball team, still undefeated in Saginaw Valley League competition, took a double header from Bay City in Bay City Saturday.

Winning their 9th and 10th games against one loss, Ed Heikkinen's crew backed up Marv Caswell and Ted Wharry with timely hitting.

Caswell won the opener, 8-3, which the Chiefs salted away on a 6-run 2nd inning. A walk, Al Hayward's double and singles by Don Daniels, Dick Slade and Jerry Vallad drove in four runs. An error and Caswell's triple brought in two more. Caswell also had a double and single.

In the nightcap, Pontiac rallied for two runs in the 6th and another pair in the 7th to nip the Wolves 4-3. Bay City tallied three runs in the 1st. In the 6th, singles by Walt Poe and Vallad, an infield out and Trueman Lampner's single scored two runs.

In the 7th, an error, Wharry's double and Vallad's single accounted for the winning runs.

Time Running Out

Many Golf Fans Will Root for Snead to Overcome Jinx and Win U.S. Open

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—Sam Snead will observe his 40th birthday Thursday, and so there comes the realization that time is beginning to run out on the wealthy ex-hillbilly. If he is ever to collar the will o' the wisp he has been chasing all these years, the National Open golf championship, it had better be soon.

Soon after 40, as any of the stars of other days will tell you, the legs begin gradually to go and those 36 holes on the final day of the Open become a terrible grind. The swing might be as good as ever, but when legs become tired it is difficult to maintain the degree of fierce concentration required to win championships.

SPINNING WHEELS—Appropriately named is the annual roller skating show opening tonight in Rolladium's spacious rink. Exemplifying the title "Spinning Wheels of '54'" is graceful national senior ladies' champion, Laurene Anselmy (above) in a fast twirl. The star-studded program will run three days. Time is 8:30 p.m. each night.

Shrine 3rd in Class B Golf Meet, Skippers 7th in 'A'

Shrine's defending Class B state golf champions finished 3rd in Saturday's state meet at Port Huron. Redford Union won the "B" crown with 325 strokes, while Shrine had 339.

Midland was the Class A winner at 312. Royal Oak was 4th with 334 and Waterford took 7th among the 11 entries with 341.

Fred Howling and Ron Troy each had 84s for Shrine, while Lloyd Syron posted an 85.

Jack Reynolds, Waterford sophomore, had troubles on the finishing holes at the Black River Country Club course and missed the Class A medalist honor by two strokes. Midland's Bill Stumpfig downed Doug Andrews of Jackson in a playoff after each had 75s. Reynolds had a 77, including 7s on the par 5 ninth and par 5 18th holes. He had put together 15 pars and only one bogie on the other 16 holes. Other Waterford scores included Larry Wigner's 82, Bill Mitchell's 87 and Dale Wheeler's 95.

Downs Opens 1954 Season on June 17

Northville Downs will open 39 nights of harness racing Thursday, June 17.

It will be the eleventh year for Michigan's pioneer harness track. The meet which will continue through July 31 will be the shortest in Northville's history because of the assignment by the State Racing Commissioner of 39 nights to each of the other two harness tracks. At first Northville had a 60 night schedule. This later was changed to 54, dropped to 48 last year, and then to 39 this year.

John Carlo, executive manager, has announced the $10,000 Governor's Cup Trot will be held July 9 and the $10,000 Michigan Pacing Derby will be up for decision on July 23.

John Jenuine, who succeeded Bill Conhorns last year, is again the racing secretary this year.

Carter Meets Riley in St. Louis Battle

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Ex-lightweight champion Jimmy Carter, whose return title bout with Paddy DeMarco was postponed, has a 10-round date with Charley Riley in St. Louis June 2.

That was the date for the title fight in San Francisco when DeMarco was stricken with a virus germ and was forced to postpone the bout. Carter had been in training for the chance to regain his crown, which he lost to DeMarco in a Madison Square Garden upset last March.

Schroeder's Bat Paces Orion Nine to Victory

Orion Township Class A independent baseball team defeated Pontiac Aztecs Sunday, 12-7, as Bill Schroeder of Orion had three-for-three at the plate including a home run, double and single. Orion nine is seeking games for Sundays and holidays. Interested teams may contact Dan Blanzly at FE 7-8922.

The Chesapeake Stakes, now run at Laurel, formerly was held at Havre de Grace.

Army Man Trips Scottish Player in Windy Match

Three Other Americans Lose Out on Chilly Muirfield Course

MUIRFIELD, Scotland (AP)—Capt. Malcolm Stokes of Garden City, N. Y., and Tulsa, Okla., scored the first American victory today in the British Amateur Golf championship.

Playing on a rain-soaked course in a cold, whipping wind, the army officer trounced Thomas Cochran of Scotland, 8 and 7. Stokes was three under par for the 11 holes played.

Other early U. S. starters were not so fortunate. First round casualties included Maj. James Seals of New Haven, Conn.; John Breckenridge, Jr., of Larchmont, N. Y., and John Schumacher of Lincoln, Neb. John Hendrickson of Philadelphia defaulted.

Seals fell before Ernest Millward, 1952 English Amateur champion, 6 and 5.

Players from 15 nations are entered and the experts have tabbed big Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., and defending champion Joe Carr of Ireland the two players to beat. They're the longest hitters in the field.

Frank Stranahan of Toledo, has been installed as co-favorite with Carr by the professional oddsmakers, but he has been far off form in practice rounds. One afternoon he hit at least 400 shots in an effort to sharpen his game.

Carr and Stranahan, who won the title in 1948 and 1950, are in the rugged second half of the draw and it is possible they will clash in the quarter-finals Friday. The 36-hole final is Saturday.

The American contingent numbers 35 out of a 286-man field. Frank Strafaci and Bob Sweeney of New York are rated the other two Americans who have the best chance of winning.

Campbell, who is one of the most popular Americans to set foot on these shores in post-war years, is paired with Denton Guest of England and Stranahan plays Andrew Forrest, also of England in second-round matches. Both drew first-round byes.

Carr's first-round opponent is John F. McNielly of Boston while Strafaci meets Dr. C. R. Duncan Leeds of Scotland.

World Record Tied in Meet

Texas Relay Crew Hits 40.5 Mark in 440-Yard Event

MODESTO, Calif. (AP)—One world record was tied and 15 meet records were shattered at the 13th annual California Relays Saturday night.

Hector Hogan, Australian star making his American debut, was beaten one foot by Rod Richard of Los Angeles in a 9.7 seconds 100-yard dash.

Texas University's 440 yard relay team—Dean Smith, Jerry Prewitt, Al Frieden and Charlie Thomas—circled the track in 40.5 seconds to equal the world record.

Parry O'Brien, world record holder in the shot, won with a 58-3 put. This did not approach his new unofficial mark of 60-5 1/2 made in Los Angeles Friday. He also won the discus with a 175-4 1/2 throw.

Diane Clouse, Jerry Hamlin Skate Winners

Final races for the season at Rolladium were held during the week end with Diane Clouse and Jerry Hamlin emerging the top skaters. Their season's totals were tops. In second place were Karen Gullett and Charles Parker, for girls and boys divisions respectively.

Starting today the rolladium will present its annual "Spinning Wheels" show for a three-day stand.

Wyandotte Kegler 2nd in Rich Petersen Test

CHICAGO (UP)—Bob Korn, a Wyandotte, Mich., school teacher, was $5,000 richer today for his 2nd place finish in the Petersen Bowling classic.

The tournament ended Sunday after three months of steady firing. First place and $10,000 went to Joe Kapella, Kent, O., with a 1637 total for eight games. Korn's count was 1611.

Hal Boyle Says:

Peppi Likes Bachelorhood and Intends to Keep His

NEW YORK (AP)—Peppi Paunzen, one of the Orient's most celebrated bachelors, is now touring America—and has decided this is the place for any sensible man to spend his life.

Let any single girl think this is heart-warming news for her, however, let me quote Peppi on the advantages of living here:

"A man has such a wonderful feeling of freedom. The little pies come in cellophane bags. The bread is already sliced. You can get your laundry done by electricity."

"What possible need is there for a man to get married? It is no longer necessary. He already has a wife."

Peppi, a methodical bachelor who requires prospective fiancées to fill out a printed questionnaire, has been overwhelmed by the beauty of American womanhood.

"The girls here are the most chic in the world," he said. "Also the most independent. But I have great curiosity to see one at 7 o'clock in the morning. How do they look without makeup? Has this ever been found out?"

Who is the brash man who seeks to know about the real face behind the great American female facade?

Well, Peppi is a kind of human question mark himself, one of those rare people whom thousands hail as a friend but who spend their lives trying to discover themselves.

Peppi is a career refugee. He fled his native Austria to get away from Hitler. He spent several years in Shanghai as an involuntary guest of the Japanese Army. He was squeezed out of China by the Communists.

For the last four years he has been manager of the Press Club in Hong Kong. There, as a friend wrote, his hospitality, skill at the piano, and sense of humor "endear him to man and beast alike throughout the Orient." The gentle smile and wryly hopeful outlook of this greying Viennese—his byword is "be happy, like Peppi"—have made him something of a living legend in the Far East, where many a lonesome stranger has been made to feel at home by his kindness.

When he finally left Hong Kong, his friends threw so many farewell parties for him that Peppi says for safety's sake he had to write on his forehead: "This side up—handle with care."

Coming to America, where he wants to be a citizen, has been the big adventure of his life. He was held back for years by the small Austria quota.

"I was told I could get in quicker if I married an American girl first," he said, "but the feeling of real freedom was what I wanted—and how can a man ever reach a land of freedom, if he gives up his freedom before he gets there?"

"It is odd about the United States. Everybody seems to like it except the Americans who are away from it."

"In Hong Kong the Americans I met said, 'Better don't go. Peppi, stay here.' But I like it over here much better, even though I went to Times Square and did not find it square."

"Now I would like to travel about this country and write a column explaining America to the Americans."

Peppi has spent so much of his life filling out government forms that he has invented his own bachelor questionnaire—form Z2330—for prospective fiancées.

"Marriages always have something to do with governments," he said, "so why not engagements?" His questionnaire contains such queries as: By the way, what is your own form, if any? Do you talk too much? If not, why not? Do you eat crackers in bed? Toast? Popcorn? Do you giggle? Do you snore? What other musical accomplishments have you? What hours are you free? What games do you play?

Life itself has been a rough game that Peppi always plays with a steady, wistful cheerfulness.

"Sometimes I think I should get married," he said, "because it's true I am too happy."

"The trouble with most girls is they don't realize the importance of food to a man. They try to break his heart instead of trying to break in his stomach to a better way of life."

"Good husbands always come home to good cooks."
