Base Closings Affect Brooklyn and Portsmouth

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional sources said today the Brooklyn, N.Y., and Portsmouth, N.H., Navy yards are among those selected by the Defense Department for shutdown.

A well-placed source here said two other bases in New York — the Brooklyn Army Terminal which employs about 2,000 persons and Ft. Jay on Governor's Island — also are among the bases slated for closing.

Sen. Thomas J. McIntyre, D-N.H., announced earlier that the Portsmouth yard also was among the bases to be closed. It is the nation's oldest yard.

Only two weeks ago, Sen.-elect Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., appealed for continued operation of the Brooklyn yard at a meeting with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara. He also met with McNamara to talk about the yard before the Nov. 3 election.

With Kennedy at the last Pentagon meeting were Sens. Jacob K. Javits and Kenneth B. Keating, New York Republicans, and Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City.

The Brooklyn yard employs about 9,000 to 10,000 workers and New York members of Congress have said a shutdown or job loss there would have a serious economic impact.

★ ★ ★

About 2,000 work at the Brooklyn Army Terminal.

PHASED OUT

McIntyre told a news conference at Portsmouth that the yard there would be one of the 95 to be named for closing at an afternoon McNamara news conference today. He said it will be phased out over a 10-year period.

The senator said he had talked about the matter with President Johnson and had been assured by McNamara later that the 10 years be allowed.

Two Virginia congressmen said no major naval installations in Norfolk, Portsmouth, Va., or Virginia Beach were on the closure list.

★ ★ ★

Rep. Porter Hardy Jr. and Rep. Thomas N. Downing, whose district includes Virginia Beach and the nearby area, said they had that word from the Defense Department.

GIVEN TODAY

McNamara, in announcing yesterday that the list would be given out today, said bases in 33 states would be affected and word would go out to congressmen from the areas.

He said bases to be closed overseas would be identified later.

McNamara planned to advise the Congress members about the same time the list was given out.

Until then, McNamara proposed to keep the list secret. In announcing plans for the cutback yesterday, he said it included facilities of all types — "air bases, air depots, Army arsenals, Army terminals, shipyards etc."

But in Atlanta last night, an informed source who asked that his name be withheld said he had learned from the White House that Hunter Air Force Base in Savannah, Ga., would be closed.

Romney Backs Parley for GOP

Says Program Must Have Wide Appeal

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney said yesterday Republican leaders should hold a national conference to map out a program with a broad appeal to the American public.

★ ★ ★

In a news conference and an address to a County Supervisors Association meeting here, Romney said the Republican party must be rebuilt "around principles and programs, rather than around personalities and candidates."

"If an industrial organization business is ailing," the governor said, "it first looks at its product or service. It can sell only after determining what its product is to be."

★ ★ ★

He said that sometime before the next congressional election the Republican National Committee, Republican governors, congressmen and GOP leaders like former President Eisenhower and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon should meet to unify the party and formulate a program which can "be sold to the American public."

BROADER BASE

"You can't get party leadership together to discuss and make decisions that will lead to a broader base at a national convention such as we had in San Francisco," Romney said.

★ ★ ★

"In that convention—or in any election year — the interest is likely to focus around personalities and candidates, and it's impossible to talk things through in a proper and objective manner," Romney said.

★ ★ ★

He expressed hope that Republicans will "talk things through" before the 1966 congressional elections.

★ ★ ★

He said an initial step toward uniting party leadership will be the forthcoming Republican governors conference at which the GOP can "take a look at its product."

Man Survives 'Steve Brodie' Leap Off Bridge

NEW YORK (AP) — A 25-year-old man made a 160-foot dive from the Brooklyn Bridge into the East River today.

After the crew of a police launch picked him out of the water, his only complaint was of a "slight backache."

Police said he was one of only a few persons to survive such a leap from the bridge since Steve Brodie reportedly did it as a publicity stunt for his saloon before the turn of the century.

The jumper identified himself as Marvin B. Holleman, Houston, Tex.

"I have no job," he told them just before he let go of a cable.

Citizen Group Plans Study of Tax for Pontiac

To Adopt Six-Point Program Stressing Need for Referendum

Formation of a Citizens Committee on Taxation to study and analyze Pontiac's income tax was announced today.

Headed by a nine - member executive committee, the citizens group has adopted a six-point program, which does not take a stand for or against the income tax.

Instead the group emphasizes the need for a referendum on the tax ordinance.

The committee was formed after a meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nasstrom, 206 E. Iroquois.

The Nasstroms have initiated a petition drive to secure the necessary 1,433 signatures to force a referendum on the tax.

EXECUTIVE BOARD

Membership of the new committee's executive board consists of the Nasstroms, Louis Wren, Lucille Marshall, Cecil Mullinix, Robert A. Landry, Earl St. Aubin, Herbert Straley and Loy Ledford.

Landry is a former Pontiac mayor and District 7 commissioner, while Ledford is former District 5 commissioner.

The six-point program outlined in the committee's announcement includes:

★ ★ ★

- a study of the city's fiscal needs;
- study and analysis of the Pontiac Income Tax Ordinance, as adopted;
- an analysis of the city's current fiscal position;
- an analysis of the past and present revenue sources and methods of producing revenue;
- the publication of its findings and dissemination of such information to the people of Pontiac;
- a referendum vote by an informed electorate on the Income Tax Ordinance.

Although the citizens group takes no pro or con stand on the income tax, it does protest adoption of the ordinance without a "full disclosure to the public of the underlying reasons for and the effects of such ordinance, and without affording the public the opportunity to be informed and heard."

Early Snowfall Arrives in Area

So, you thought winter would be a little late this year? Well, it had no intention of missing its customary early start in Michigan, as was evidenced by this morning's snowfall.

In fact, the snow is earlier than last year, when the first accumulation was recorded on Dec. 7.

Most of the snow melted as it hit the ground today. However many roofs stayed covered.

The road commission reported only a few slippery spots in the northeast part of the county and a few slippery bridges on I-94, but no serious traffic hazards from the fall.

The weatherman expects continued cloudy skies with more snow tonight. Little temperature change is foreseen with a low of 30 to 36 predicted.

CLOUDY, COLDER

Tomorrow will have variable cloudiness and colder temperatures. And, more flurries are forecast. They will continue through Saturday. The high expected tomorrow is 35 to 40.

The low mercury reading recorded this morning was 31. At 2 p.m. the thermometer read 34 in downtown Pontiac.

OU BIOLOGISTS — Walter L. Wilson (left) and Clifford V. Harding adjust the ultramicrotome, an instrument used for cutting extremely thin sections of animal cells for examination in the electron microscope. The two men are new biology professors at Oakland University, where a biology program is being installed for the first time this year.

Under Direction of 2 New Professors

Biology Is Added to Curriculum at OU

Oakland University has added biology to its liberal arts-centered curriculum, accomplishing the act with the appointment of two biology professors.

★ ★ ★

Joining the faculty this year are Clifford V. Harding and Walter L. Wilson, both of whom have worked in cellular physiology research.

Both professors come from eastern universities. Harding comes from Columbia University's College of Physicians and Surgeons and Wilson from the University of Vermont's College of Medicine.

Under their direction, the OU biology program has been designed for liberal arts and secondary-teaching majors.

Harding, chairman of the new department, said that the liberal arts emphasis will prepare students for graduate work, industrial laboratory and research work, or further training for other careers.

The two biologists plan to continue foundation-supported research projects at OU. They also plan to maintain their affiliation with the Marine Biological Laboratory in Woods Hole, Mass.

For several summers Harding and Wilson have joined other scientists in research at that biological center.

Harding, 39, received his bachelor's degree from Brown University, and then went on to receive his Ph.D. at Pennsylvania.

★ ★ ★

He taught at the University of Southern California and the University of Pennsylvania, and was a physiologist in the Atomic Energy Commission's division of biology and medicine.

COLUMBIA FACULTY

Prior to joining the OU staff, he was an associate professor at Columbia, where he was a member of the faculty for six years.

Wilson, 46, received his bachelor's degree from West Chester State College, and his Ph.D. from Pennsylvania.

He was a biologist on the Manhattan atomic bomb project at Columbia University for two years, and taught at the University of Pennsylvania while completing his doctorate.

★ ★ ★

FELLOWSHIP

1,200 More Yanks Sent to S. Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States sent another 1,200 military men into South Viet Nam this month, officials disclosed today. More American air transport units also have been thrown into the struggle.

The disclosures came less than 24 hours after it was announced that Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor will fly back to Washington to open a sweeping review of the South Vietnamese situation with President Johnson and his top military and diplomatic advisors on Nov. 27.

Some of the reinforcements have been assigned to the U.S. Special Forces, an elite unit specially trained for guerrilla warfare.

The additional manpower brings U.S. military strength in the troubled area to about 21,200 — up 5,000 since midsummer, sources said.

Other U.S. forces have been assigned to beef up the teams of American advisers who are working in the field with South Vietnamese troops.

AIR POWER

The additional air power includes a squadron of U.S. Air Force C123 transport planes and a group of Army CU2 cargo carriers.

The air power is designed to increase the mobility and flexibility of Vietnamese troops in responding more quickly to guerrilla raids.

Officials said the increases in American manpower and air power committed to the Viet Nam war were the result of decisions taken earlier and did not represent any new strategy.

★ ★ ★

MADE CLEAR

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and other high officials have made it clear since the Nov. 3 election that the United States has no intention of pulling out of Southeast Asia.

★ ★ ★

Most of the presidential advisers appear to have boiled down the alternatives for the future to either a continuation of present policies or an expansion of the war effort into North Viet Nam to retaliate for the increasing pace of the guerrilla war.

★ ★ ★

Taylor's visit to Washington will be his second since he was sent to Saigon as ambassador last July. He is a former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

UAW, Ford Meeting on Local Pacts

DETROIT (AP) — Top officials of the Ford Motor Co. and the United Auto Workers union met today in an attempt to settle local-level strikes which Ford blames for reducing its new car output to a trickle.

Ken Bannon, the UAW's Ford department director, and M. M. (Mike) Cummins, Ford's labor relations director, headed the two teams — the same ones which reached agreement on a new national contract back on Sept. 18.

Before today's session, Bannon had told newsmen it was "to find out why" all at-the-plant disputes had not been resolved.

These revolve around local-level working agreements which supplement the national contract. Effectiveness of the over-all pact is contingent on them.

★ ★ ★

Today's top - level meeting followed by only a few hours a predawn breakoff of marathon local-level negotiations at the only three plants where no settlements have been reached.

2 STATE PLANTS

These are in Sterling Township, where rear axles and chassis parts are made, and at Wayne, where separate plants assemble automobiles and trucks.

★ ★ ★

The strikes have all but halted Ford production of cars and trucks and have resulted in the idling of 75,000 of Ford's 131,000 UAW-represented workers in 90 plants.

10,000 A DAY

The auto firm had been building 10,000 cars a day in recent weeks. Ford estimated production yesterday at 300 cars and 700 trucks.

★ ★ ★

The UAW struck nine of 11 Ford plants without local agreements on Nov. 6. The company and union had agreed Sept. 18 to a national contract. The local pacts supplement this contract.

State police said he would be arraigned in Cheboygan County Circuit Court on two counts, probably late next week.

Negro Leader Notorious Liar, Says FBI Chief

Terms JFK Report 'Monday Morning Quarterbacking'

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has blasted the Warren Commission as "unfair and unjust" and called Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. "the most notorious liar in the country."

Hoover boiled over on these and other matters, including lenient "bleeding heart judges," in a lengthy interview yesterday with a group of women reporters.

He angrily charged the Warren Commission with "a classic example of Monday morning quarterbacking" in discussing its report on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

The commission, headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, has said the FBI failed to notify the Secret Service that the assassin, Lee Harvey Oswald, was in Dallas last Nov. 22, the day Kennedy was slain.

In New York City alone, Hoover complained, 7,000 persons would have to be taken out of circulation every time a president makes a public appearance if it were deemed necessary to remove "every individual who might threaten the safety of the president."

TURNING OVER

However, the FBI director said, his office is turning over to the Secret Service the names of "thousands of beatniks, crackpots and kooks."

Hoover appeared before the commission last May 14 and told newsmen after testifying the panel was doing "a very thorough job."

He said it had "even gone beyond what a reasonable man would have expected" in accumulating evidence.

Shortly after the commission issued its report Sept. 27, Hoover was entwined in controversy.

To Release Warren Data

WASHINGTON (AP) — The hearing transcripts and exhibits of the Warren Commission's inquiry into the assassination of President John F. Kennedy will be made public on Nov. 30. There are 26 volumes weighing 54 pounds.

The White House announced today that the mass of testimony will become available for publication and broadcast at 6:30 a.m. EST Nov. 30. First newspaper publication will be in afternoon papers of that day.

The testimony, which led to the commission's finding that Lee Harvey Oswald, acting alone, killed Kennedy in Dallas last Nov. 22, will be sold by the government printing office in complete sets only, at $76 a set.

500 Copies Sold of Warren Report

Five hundred volumes of the Associated Press edition of the Warren Report on the death of President John F. Kennedy were sold out within four hours after being placed on sale at The Press yesterday.

Additional copies of the $1.50 book have been ordered and The Press will announce their arrival as soon as the order is filled.

Ford Planning Area Expansion

A major expansion program for its Birmingham and Wixom facilities was announced today for Ford Motor Co.'s U.S. Tractor and Implement Operations. When completed early next year, the program will be responsible for bringing 150 new jobs into Michigan.

★ ★ ★

Emery Dearborn, general operations manager, said the expansion will include:

- Construction of a two-story office building adjacent to the present Ford Tractor Division general office building on E. Maple in Birmingham;
- An 84 per cent increase in the floor space of the present Birmingham depot on Coolidge, which has been redesignated the Detroit Supply and Central Parts Depot;

★ ★ ★

- Creation of an expanded north central district sales organization at Wixom, replacing the Birmingham sales district, and covering four states including Michigan. The former sales district covered only Michigan.

BUILDING UNDER WAY

Construction of the new Tractor and Implement Operations general office building already is under way and is scheduled for completion in February 1965, according to Dearborn.

The two-level, 9,720-square foot structure will connect with the present office through an 80-foot long, glass-enclosed, pedestrian bridge at the second level.

The building will be of face brick and aluminum sash construction with stone sills and coping. The bridge will be enclosed with plate glass set off at the top and bottom by opaque glass.

★ ★ ★

Dearborn said the new building will provide Tractor and Implement Operations with space required to continue its sales and personnel expansion. The Tractor Division will require the existing space for concurrent growth.

INCREASED SERVICE

Expansion of the Detroit Supply and Central Parts Depot from 208,000 square feet to 384,000 square feet will permit increased service to Ford tractor and implement dealers throughout the country, Dearborn said.

"Under our new distribution arrangement," he explained, "the depot will serve as a local warehouse for dealers in the north central district and as a central parts warehouse area for replenishment of our other nine depots."

The Detroit depot will stock between 32,000 and 34,000 tractor and implement parts.

★ ★ ★

The addition is being built by H. F. Campbell Company of Detroit.

DISTRICT HEAD

The new North Central District is headed by John J. Dzorni. District offices will be located in existing Ford facilities at Wixom and will work directly with more than 300 dealers in Michigan, Kentucky, Indiana and Ohio, and supervise 21 sales and service zones.

The Michigan expansion program is part of a national realignment announced earlier this year by Dearborn.

FBI Director Raps King, JFK Report

published Oct. 2 a copyright partial transcript of the FBI director's testimony, some of which was sharply critical of the State Department and some of the security measures taken to protect the president.

Yesterday he said there is "not a scintilla" of jealousy between the FBI and the Secret Service, which is charged by law with protecting presidents.

Efforts to reach the members of the Warren Commission, some of whom are traveling abroad, were not successful.

★ ★ ★

Hoover let fly his blast at Dr. King, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference in discussing civil rights.

CALLED A LIAR

He called the Negro integrationist, who recently was named winner of the Nobel Peace Prize a liar for advising Negroes not to report any civil rights violations to the Albany, Ga., FBI office because the staff members were all Southerners.

Dr. King today branded as irresponsible the charge by Hoover that King lied about actions of federal agents in Albany. A telegram to Hoover from King, who is in the Bahamas, was released here by his office.

In his telegram to Hoover, King denied he had attributed FBI ineffectiveness to the heritage of agents.

Fire Strikes Site of Troy Ax-Slayings

Fire of undetermined origin late last night nearly destroyed the scene of a multiple slaying for which a 30-year-old Troy man, William G. Gravlin, is to be tried.

★ ★ ★

Firemen were called to the scene shortly after 11 p.m. when a passing motorist noticed the fire at 2121 Garson.

The little white one-story frame home was in flames when they arrived, but the efforts of the Troy department prevented total destruction.

Seven bodies were found in the house Sept. 29 after Gravlin flagged down a truck driver and told him he had killed his whole family.

The bodies were those of wife, daughter and five stepchildren.

U.S. Authorities Dispute Claims of Fidel Infiltration

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A creepy feeling of Fidel Castro spies infiltrating the United States is growing in the Cuban-exile colony. U.S. authorities say the situation is under control.

★ ★ ★

The head of an anti-Castro organization with an intelligence department of its own estimates more than 1 per cent of the Cuban refugees in this country are Communist agents. About 200,000 cubans have come since Castro's 1959 takeover.

★ ★ ★

Another exile leader, whose office claims wide access to exile and Cuban underground information, estimated the number of Castro agents at 5,000, including Cubans and Americans.

LACK SUBSTANTIATION

An official of the State Department's Cuban affairs office here described such claims as without substantiation.

Miami district immigration director Robert Woytych said his men screen out spies by "one of the most efficient techniques yet devised."

"Our record is so tremendous that no cases have been brought to light," he said.

The Cuban who issued the estimate of 5,000 agents said: "Many have lived in the United States since before Castro, and are American citizens. They can cross back and forth into Mexico freely. The Cuban Embassy in Mexico is the hub of the spy network."

The exile produced a list of alleged Castro agents or "very suspicious persons."

He said his investigation showed that: "One is assigned to watch every important anti-Castro group here. Some are assigned to scan American newspapers. Some are assigned to be troublemakers.

★ ★ ★

"Castro knew about the Bay of Pigs invasion. Since then, his espionage network has grown in experience and numbers."

FBI special agent Howard Albaugh said his office receives many complaints about supposed Castro agents, but "we feel the situation is under control."

Congo Force on March to Stanleyville

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP) — Congolese troops led by white mercenaries began their drive on rebel Stanleyville today while the rebel regime there demanded negotiations on the fate of American medical missionary Paul Carlson and other foreigners in rebel territory.

The central government force moved out of Kindu, 250 miles south of Stanleyville, for what they hoped would be a quick seizure of the rebel capital.

Some 200 white mercenaries — mostly South Africans, Belgians and Britons — were believed to be spearheading between 300 and 500 Congolese troops.

Rebel leader Christophe Gbenye had announced postponement of the death sentence given Dr. Carlson, who had been scheduled to die last Monday following an appeal from Kenya Prime Minister Jomo Kenyatta.

Protest Fails to Halt School Plan

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Despite legal efforts to block it, the Bloomfield Hills Board of Education is going ahead with tentative plans to build a high school on Lahser Road.

★ ★ ★

Board attorney Lawrence King has predicted that five couples protesting the construction will be unsuccessful in their attempt to stop it through Circuit Court action.

Bond issue for the district's second high school was approved by property owners in June. The board then set about planning for the $2.3-million building.

Efforts to halt it were made in August after the board indicated the school would be erected on a 40-acre site on the west side of Lahser, between Long Lake and Hickory Grove roads.

A group of 10 persons who live or own property on the road filed a suit in Oakland County Circuit Court, claiming the narrow, tree-lined lane should not be assaulted by heavy construction vehicles and, later, student traffic.

PROTEST LEADER

Those protesting the construction are led by Bloomfield Hills Mayor Louis J. Colombo.

The board has authorized architects at Tarapata MacMahon Associates, Inc. to start work on a topographical survey necessary to preliminary planning.

Board members had planned originally to see construction started in March, 1965 in order to have the facility completed by September, 1966. This deadline was considered necessary to avoid overcrowding at the present high school.

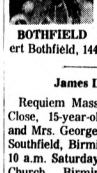

They authorized the topographical survey after a report by King in which he stated his confidence that "the court will, at the final hearing if not before, hold for the school district in this case and will, at the very least, not prohibit construction on the site."

FINAL HEARING

The final hearing is scheduled Jan. 22, 1965, but King has filed for a summary judgment, a motion which will be heard before Judge Frederick C. Ziem Monday.

If favorable to the district, the summary judgment would in effect dismiss the case, indicating there was no cause for action.

Robert Bothfield Jr., 16-year-old member of Boy Scout Troop 1007 at Pierce School, recently was awarded an Eagle badge during a court of honor at the school.

Robert's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bothfield, 1448 Maryland.

The boy died today after a long illness.

He was a sophomore at Brother Rich High School, Bloomfield Township.

Ike May Try to End GOP Spat

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower says he would try to end bickering among Republican party factions if he is asked to do so.

The former president, in New York Wednesday night for a dinner at Columbia University, did not amplify his answer to a reporter's question.

★ ★ ★

Moderate Republicans in the House sought to get together with GOP governors in trying to give the party a more liberal tone. The Republican governors have announced plans to meet in Denver early next month.

The latest plea for Republican unity came Wednesday from Denison Kitchel, director of Sen. Barry Goldwater's unsuccessful presidential campaign.

Urging Republicans to "build for the future," Kitchel said "we will become a vanishing party if divisive tactics prevail."

Kitchel, in his statement issued upon the closing of Goldwater's headquarters here, said that GOP National Chairman Dean Burch "has fully earned the opportunity to continue providing the Republican National Committee with the organization leadership which it will clearly need in the years ahead."

Burch, one of Goldwater's principal advisers before the Republican National Convention, has been under pressure from Republican moderates and some conservatives to resign the post for which he was selected by Goldwater.

A number of the Republican governors, including Idaho's Robert E. Smylie, who heads the group, have called for Burch's ouster.

The GOP House moderates took no position on whether Burch should be retained. But Rep. Ogden R. Reid, R-N.Y., who acted as spokesman, said: "I, personally, think he should go and the sooner the better."

Born on West Coast, Pay TV Laid to Rest

Buried under the Democratic presidential landslide were many issues that got scant airing.

One such was the initiative by the people of California that tuned out pay TV.

The initiative asked, in effect, if the citizenry approved of legislation that had enabled an entrepreneur to invest $22 million in a statewide network of pay-way TV.

Bear State voters growled an overwhelming No.

Subscription Television Inc. had been on the air since last July, beaming plays, opera, lectures and ball games on a fee-as-you-see basis.

Since STV is the most advanced of all pay-TV systems to date, the blackout in California may have spelled the doom of the boom nationally.

Promoters of the plan pointed to the advantages of viewing programs of superior quality not commercially attractive to sponsors and the elimination of commercials from the paid waves.

The opposition, organized largely by movie-theater owners and commercial-TV interests, argued that pay TV customers would one day find themselves paying to see shows they now see free.

Moreover, was the warning, once contemporary network television was defeated there was nothing to prevent STV from introducing commercials into its own system.

★ ★ ★

It could be concluded that with regard to TV the Golden Staters believe that all that glitters is not sold.

Root of Falling Hair a Hairline Decision

If, as romanticists proclaim, hair is woman's crowning glory, the lack of it is man's frowning worry.

It is anyone's guess how much time and money is annually spent by men in, according to specialists, vain efforts to re-hair their balding pates.

Precise causes of baldness have eluded scientists. But the end result is plain to see: nature doesn't reproduce hair as fast as a balding man loses it. It's just another example of imbalance between supply and demand.

The average male loses 25 to 100 of his 120,000 scalp hairs each and every day, and if the fallout proves too much for nature to cope with, it's only a matter of time, Buster, before you're eligible for the celebrated bald-headed row of the country's legitimate theaters.

Some 25 per cent of all males show some degree of baldness by age 25, and 50 per cent will be bald to some extent by the time they're 50. About the only comforting thought experts offer is that an individual who has become only slightly bald at 60 is unlikely to lose more hair.

We might as well face it, men. It seems to be a case of hair today and gone tomorrow.

Winter Road Costs Up as Snow Piles It On

A "snow job" in government is susceptible of many interpretations, often with implications of questionable ethics and hidden cost to the taxpayers.

But Michigan annually has a legitimate one, with the cost as plain as your breath in zero weather.

The state's snow job — keeping its highway network free of snow — will cost $635,865 this year, up $24,000 from last, when 32 of our 83 counties had had enough snow to qualify for Snow Removal Funds — the money earmarked from gas taxes and license plate fees.

Keweenaw County in the Upper Peninsula had the highest average snowfall (191 inches) and Presque Isle County the lowest (71 inches).

To qualify for state snow removal assistance, counties must have averaged at least 70 inches of snow the previous winter. Measurements are made at one or more U. S. Weather Bureau stations in every county.

The heaviest snowfall recorded in Michigan last year was 246 inches — more than 20 feet — measured at a station in Gogebic County. The lightest was 14 inches at a station in Isabella County.

This drift of things moves us to scoop winter's first snowfall by alerting our snow shovel for standby action.

States Maneuver on Redistricting

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mark Twain used to tell a story about a trainload of state legislators who were going on a picnic.

The train was held up by bandits. Having relieved the bandits of their valuables, the legislators proceeded to their picnic.

This, of course, is not an accurate description of modern state legislators. For one thing, they lack the old-time vigor.

But many of them are putting up quite a fight—a fight they cannot possibly win—a fight to preserve "rotten boroughs."

The term rotten borough derives from British parliamentary history. The big dictionary defines a rotten borough thus:

"An election district that has many fewer inhabitants than other election districts with the same voting power."

This exactly describes the situation now prevailing in most states of the union.

There has been a tremendous growth in the population of cities and suburbs, especially the latter, but the outnumbered rural folks still control—or at least exercise a veto power—in most state legislatures.

★ ★ ★

In some cases the state constitutions called for mandatory reapportionment after each census but legislators blithely ignored this requirement, in some cases for as long as 60 years.

LAW OF LAND

Now the law of the land — as pronounced by the Supreme Court—is "one man, one vote"—that is, legislative districts have to be equal in population as nearly as practicable.

New Jersey has come up with a plan —not quite new because it was tried in New Mexico but promptly slapped down as a violation of the state constitution.

One aim of this plan is not to retire any legislator to private life.

It provides for weighted voting in the state Senate, that is the senator from populous Essex County would have 19 votes, as against one for the senator from Cape May County.

The issue is intertwined with partisan politics. Example: in the Goldwater debacle, Democrats won control of the New York Legislature from the Republicans.

Now Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller is planning to call a special session of the legislature soon to reapportion the state before the Democrats get a crack at it in 1965.

Over much of the country, this kind of footwork is going on. A truly fundamental political revolution is under way, with incalculable effects on the American system.

New Balance of Power

David Lawrence Says:

Law Ignored on Political Gifts

WASHINGTON—Such phrases as the "law of the land" and "obedience to law and order" sometimes have a hollow sound nowadays. For the Department of Justice enforces whatever laws it pleases.

LAWRENCE

This has been true in preceding administrations, and it doubtless will continue to be true as long as the department itself is headed by a member of the President's Cabinet instead of being established as an independent agency with its functions specifically defined by law.

Now that the political campaign is over, the country will witness again a flagrant acquiescence in, if not complete indifference to, violations of the law of the land as it relates to political contributions.

Congress several years ago passed what is known as the "Federal Corrupt Practices Act." But many of its provisions are ignored both by the public and by whatever administration happens to be in power.

★ ★ ★

The Federal Corrupt Practices Act defines a political "contribution" as including an individual gift, subscription, loan, or "anything of value."

NO PROSECUTION

The statute not only provides a fine and imprisonment for the making of prohibited contributions by corporations or labor organizations, but it also says it is unlawful "for any candidate, political committee, or other person to accept or receive any contribution prohibited by this section."

So far as this correspondent knows, no candidate "or other person" has ever been prosecuted for "accepting" such contributions.

The Federal Corrupt Practices Act, moreover, has a special section which provides a fine and imprisonment if any government employe "directly of indirectly solicits, receives, or is in any manner concerned in soliciting or receiving, any assessment, subscription, or contribution for any political purpose whatever" from any other employe of the government.

Yet it is a common practice for government employes and officials to issue to other government employes "invitations" to political dinners and other functions held for party fund-raising purposes. This is, however, ignored by the law-enforcement agency of the government itself.

Perhaps the most striking provisions of the law are those which forbid the promise of employment or other benefits derived from governmental sources in return for political support.

The statute forbids the promise of any benefit "provided for or made possible in whole or in part by any act of Congress, to any person as consideration, favor, or reward for any political activity or for the support of or opposition to any candidate or any political party in any election."

Political campaigning nowadays, more than ever before, is related to the expenditure of governmental funds in particular states, areas or districts.

The idea that the voter will get some material benefit if he votes a particular way and for a particular candidate is widely exploited during campaigns.

If these provisions of law have been found unwise, then they ought to be repealed. But failure to enforce the statute gives rise to the impression that politicians inside the government have at times a selfish interest in avoiding enforcement of the "law of the land."

Bob Considine Says:

An Old Pole Sounds Off Behind the Iron Curtain

Passed through the Iron Curtain:

CONSIDINE

Here are some of the ruminations of an old Pole who has been buffeted a bit too much in life, like the country itself:

"In Poland today the optimist studies English. The pessimist studies Russian.

"In Stalin's day we simply mimicked Russia, which was wrong, of course. We have differences in the Socialist bloc just as there are differences in the Western world. The capitalism of Belgium, let us say, is different from the capitalism of the United States.

"Poland can never be talked into serving as an arbiter between the Soviet Union and China. What we hope is that they'll sit down and talk out their differences.

WHICH POINT?

"Sure, Poles can disagree with the Kremlin up to a point at least. The trick is to find the point.

"Khrushchev is a tragic personality. He did a lot of good things, but in doing some of them he upset too many people, too many deep-seated old prejudices. Stalin could have gotten away with anything. He was an absolute ruler. Khrushchev got to a point where he groped and was uncertain whether the people would follow him.

"You Americans badly overestimate Mao Tse-tung's paper war; I am terrified that some day you will take it seriously enough to do something aggressive about it.

"Ask your friends in Japanese intelligence about China's military potential. They know what's going on there. They'll tell you what you've known all along, that you can't fight a war with sticks, or the slogans of Mao.

★ ★ ★

"I'm not a propagandist for China, just a realist. It's on the other side of the world from us, separated from us by a small buffer state called the Soviet Union.

MANY FRIENDS

"I have many good friends in America. I say to them when I see them that they have one engaging habit. When confronted with a problem they say, well, let's straighten that out right this minute.

"I try to explain that time has a way of straightening out things better than humans can. They don't agree. Perhaps that is why they are there . . . and I am here."

In Washington:

China's Bomb Is U.S. Problem

By RAY CROMLEY

The official was tired. He had been working nights and weekends on Viet Nam and now there was this Red Chinese bomb and what to do about it.

As this man described them, the behind-closed-door arguments now going on in the U.S. government on whether or not to destroy Communist China's atomic plants turn you back in history to the agonizing discussions three decades ago on whether — to prevent World War II — we should stop Hitler from rearming Nazi Germany.

CROMLEY

Here, then, are some of today's arguments on China as this official put them:

"We couldn't just go in and bomb Communist China's nuclear plants without provocation, even though if we did people all around the world would probably go to bed that night saying 'Thank God.'

"An unprovoked bombing by America could lead to other countries also taking things into their own hands. Nasser could say it was necessary to take out Palestine's airfields now. Brezhnev could say it was necessary to bomb out West Germany's arms factories or de Gaulle's nuclear plants. So it could go. Where would it stop?

"So there would have to be some new open Communist Chinese aggression before we could act.

"If Mao Tse-tung put Chinese troops into Viet Nam; if Red Chinese bombers hit a South Viet Nam airfield, city or barracks; if China-based fighters attacked American bombers over North Viet Nam or U.S. warships in the Tonkin Gulf, that could do it.

"If Red China attacked Quemoy or Matsu off the China coast opposite Formosa or began another invasion attack on India, either of these also could be adequate provocation.

★ ★ ★

"But no decision has been made on what we would do. And I don't know what we would do. I won't say we would act. I won't say we wouldn't. We've got some hard thinking to do. We're not going to act hastily or recklessly.

"If we knocked out Red China's nuclear plants, the Chinese could build them again. That would take time. Time is valuable in the kind of a world situation we have today.

"Meanwhile, the possibility of U.S. bombings must cause Mao to think, too. He must be leery of giving us cause to knock out his nuclear plants. This probably won't likely stop him from subversion. But one would think it would cause him to hesitate before open aggression.

"Thus these nuclear plants and Mao's undoubted desire to preserve them from attack should give us a freer hand to act in North Viet Nam with less worry of large open Communist Chinese reprisals."

American officials aren't certain what the Soviet Union would do if the United States did carry out bombing raids in Communist China.

U.S. officials I've talked to in the past few days think the Soviet Union couldn't afford to act against a fellow Communist country. They think the Russians would be secretly happy to have the United States cut back Red China's nuclear capability and publicly glad of the chance to denounce us as "imperialist aggressors."

Voice of the People:

Reader and Family See No Filth on Newsstands

I do not know the people who seek to eliminate pornographic literature, but I have seen none of the filth. Perhaps my husband, teen-age sons and I trade at the right stores, or perhaps our personal tastes have made us oblivious to such books. We are a reading family who form our own opinions.

★ ★ ★

My parents were not chary about what I read, although they may have raised their eyebrows at my acquaintance with Balzac, de Maupassant, Zola and Rabelais. They had confidence in my ability to distinquish between the social world of books and the social world of reality. I feel no compulsion to protect my teen-agers. I do not feel it will influence them greatly. I hope that the critics confine their censorship to the truly pornographic—and it is very difficult to find people who agree on what this is.

Inability to read is a contributing cause of delinquency and that few delinquents spend much time reading. Vicarious experiences often replace actual experiences. Is sex the only subject which is pornographic? Is murder to be taken lightly? Can we condone inhumanity to man?

★ ★ ★

If it were possible, I should like to examine books and periodicals to which this group feels the term "filth" applies.

MRS. DOLORES LARAHMORE

Explains Bickering in Republican Party

In reply to "A Democrat" who stated: ". . . the Republicans are bickering among themselves. God save us from these people," there is no bickering among Goldwater Republicans who believe in limitations of government as outlined by the United States Constitution and the Declaration of Independence.

★ ★ ★

So-called Republicans painted Goldwater an extremist in San Francisco and the Democratic party seized on this falsehood and based their campaign on fear that left an image of a trigger-happy man who wanted to start a nuclear war and take away Social Security. The same so-called Republicans who set the pattern for the Democrats to follow are now making an attempt to return to "me-tooism."

Bypassed Relief Measures

Unenacted Bills Part of LBJ Program

By DANIEL RAPOPORT

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The 89th Congress will probably spend a fair share of its time examining the unpleasant side of American life.

It will be asked to consider ways of drawing into the current wave of prosperity the millions of citizens who are left out.

Answers will be sought for the problem of the unemployed and underemployed," whether they be in the slums of Harlem or on the scarred slopes of the Appalachian Mountains.

The proposals President Johnson submits to Congress will be part of the blueprint for "the great society" he promised voters during the recent election campaign.

* * *

It will be several weeks before specific plans are made public, but it's a safe bet that many of them will be based on relief measures that the 88th Congress failed to act on. Among them:

The Appalachia program — probably the largest single slice of poverty in the country, the 11-state eastern region known as Appalachia has been the subject of special study for many months.

A legislative cure has yet to be enacted, however.

Before the last Congress adjourned, the Senate approved the administration's prescription to rejuvenate the area — $1 billion in federal funds to be spent over a five-year period.

* * *

The largest chunk — $865 million — would go for highway construction. Other projects, which may receive additional funds in later years, would include the development of timber, agriculture and public facilities.

READY FOR VOTE

The bill was ready for a House vote but Democratic leaders were afraid end-of-the-season absenteeism might mean its defeat.

Republicans were charging that the whole plan was a vote-buying gimmick. They also claimed it discriminated against equally poor areas outside Appalachia.

With a House that is considerably more Democratic than its predecessor and a Senate which still shows a lopsided division in favor of the administration, prospects are for congressional passage of the program by late spring.

* * *

The War on Poverty — Among the many achievements of the 88th Congress was its approval of Phesident Johnson's general attack on the roots and causes of poverty.

PILOT PROGRAM

It enacted a one-year, $947.5-million pilot program. Administration officials will go before Congress to report on how it has worked so far and recommend which phases should be continued.

The White House has not dropped any hints on how much money will be requested but Chairman Adam Clayton Powell of the House Education and Labor Committee said he would shoot for $3 billion.

Republican opponents are expected to renew the arguments they used in voting against the original bill when they claimed it was nothing more than a warmed-over and duplicated version of existing relief programs.

* * *

The package that passed included a "job corps" to give young men schooling, new skills and work experience in special camps and training centers; similar training for boys and girls in their home towns; financing of locally planned and operated antipoverty programs and the establishment of a domestic Peace Corps to help run the various programs.

RELIEF PROGRAM

Depressed areas — the first relief program of the Kennedy administration came with the creation in 1961 of the Area Redevelopment Administration (ARA).

The agency administered the $451 million the federal government put up to help economically worn downtrodden communities attract job producing industries.

The program has come under fire in some quarters where it is argued that far too much money is spent for the number of new jobs created.

* * *

In 1963 the Senate voted to add another $455 million to the program, but the House, on a narrow vote, rejected the move.

FAVOR SUCCESS

The heavy Democratic majorities strongly favor success if the administration tries again next year.

Emergency public works — in 1962 congress passed an $850 million version of Kennedy's Accelerated Public Works program (APW). Purpose: To pump short spurts of federal dollars into areas of high unemployment.

The money goes for needed projects — such as the construction of sewerage, and water facilities, libraries, hospitals — that are needed and that can be finished within a year.

* * *

The funds were quickly spent and attempts were made in Congress to provide additional funds but they did not materialize.

TAX REDUCTION

The administration had promised during the 1963 tax debate that it would travel the tax reduction "road" rather than the "federal spending" road to get out of the recession then plaguing the country.

* * *

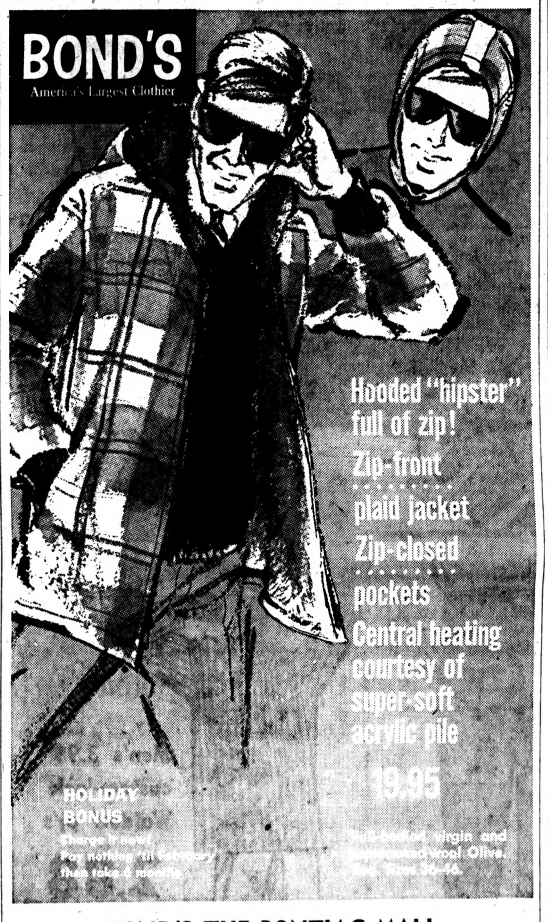

With the recession a thing of the past, and the year 1965 instead of 1963, it's just possible the administration might throw itself behind a renewal of the highly popular program.

All four of the programs were introduced in the 88th Congress as separate bills. In the 89th Congress Johnson might combine some, such as APW and ARA, into one piece of legislation.

PUB VISITOR — Henry, the basset hound, visits taverns in Corning, N.Y., several times a week. Tavern-keepers insist, however, Henry takes only water or milk.

Henry's No Lush

CORNING, N.Y., (AP) — "Have you seen Henry tonight?" they ask along East Market Street after sundown.

People seldom reply, "Henry who?"

Henry is a sad-eyed basset with a yen for pub-crawling and beverages served in East Market Street bars.

Henry is owned by Amory Houghton Jr., chairman of the board of Corning Glass Works.

MAKES ROUNDS

Several nights a week, 4-year-old Henry ambles downtown to make the rounds. Tavern keepers insist Henry never drinks anything stronger than milk or water.

But Houghton says the dog frequently is tired and red-eyed and requires an undue amount of sleep the morning after.

FAVORITE SPOTS

Favorite spots appear to be the Hotel McGlintock, Joe's Grill, the Alibiand the Steuben House Tavern.

Henry's many friends buy him hamburger patties, sandwiches and beverages. Friendly proprietors also offer meat scraps and bones.

★ ★ ★

At the Steuben House, where Henry generally calls it a night, owner Charles Heverly has a special bed for Henry in the "Beagle Room."

Sometimes Henry is not quite so tired and trots to a taxi stand for aride home. There is a tacit understanding between Houghton and a cab driver.

BIG APPETITE

Houghton says neither the family kitchen nor the available area trash cans satisfy Henry's appetite.

★ ★ ★

Henry's friends dote upon him.

A few months ago, when a sore paw sent Henry to the hospital, Henry received get-well cards from the clientele at several taverns.

RESPONSIBLE

Henry also takes responsibilities seriously. Much to the joy of employes of Corning Glass Works, the dog showed up at a Production Club outing when neither Houghton nor his father, Amory Sr., former U.S. ambassador to France, could attend.

Baltimore Gives Teen-Age Queen Warm Welcome

BALTIMORE (AP) — Petite Carolyn Mignini, picked last week as Miss Teen-Age America of 1965, received a tumultuous welcome from teen-agers as she arrived home Wednesday night.

When Miss Mignini, 17, of Catonville stepped from the airliner at Friendship International Airport, about 250 screaming teen-agers waving blue and white pom-pons and hoisting signs proclaiming their affection nearly crushed the teen-age queen's three huge bunches of roses.

It took police nearly 30 mnutes to assist Carolyn and her mother to a waiting car.

WONDERFUL

"It's wonderful. I'm just so happy," Carolyn beamed when asked how she felt.

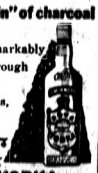

Car Kills Man, 71

HANCOCK (AP) — Robert Roncevich, 71, of the Houghton Canal area was killed Wednesday when he fell into the path of a car on a rural road six miles south of Hancock.

Smirnoff-filtered through a "mountain" of charcoal

Smirnoff is crystal clear, uniquely smooth, remarkably free of taste and odor because it's filtered through 14,000 lbs. of activated charcoal. No wonder it's dryer in a Martini, smoother on the rocks, mixes perfectly with anything that pours.

Junior Editors Quiz on Caterpillars

QUESTION: How does a caterpillar become a butterfly?

ANSWER: This happens through "metamorphosis," or change from one bodily state to another. The change from tadpole to frog is an example.

But the life story of the butterfly is still more remarkable. Butterflies' eggs are generally laid singly or in groups on the underside of the leaves (1). These leaves serve as food for that queer little animal, the caterpillar, which emerges from each egg.

Caterpillars may seem a bit repulsive, but are most interesting to watch and study. They have heads with chewing mouthparts which can bite into leaves.

Underneath are six small legs. Further down are a set of false or unjointed legs. Caterpillars have an amusing trick of standing on these and rearing up the front of the body (2).

After eating enormously and changing its skin several times, the caterpillar becomes a "pupa" or "chrysalis."

A hard case forms around it, generally hanging from a twig or leaf (3).

Inside, an amazing change takes place: the body becomes soft, like cream, and inside this a differently-shaped insect begins to form. Finally, the shell of the pupa cracks and out comes that glorious creature, a butterfly.

FOR YOU TO DO: Color the beautiful monarch butterfly a rich red orange. And keep an eye open for a pupa hanging from a leaf or twig. Take it inside and watch what happens after awhile.

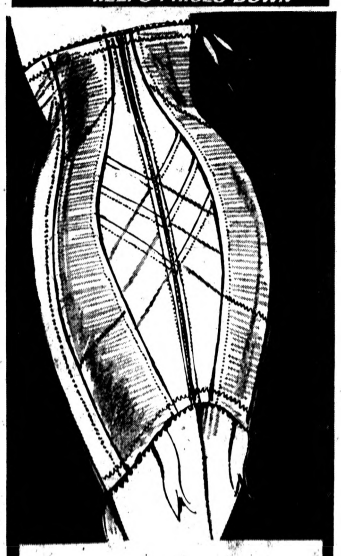

Mums Stay Beautiful for Weeks Indoors

Rivaling the blazing hues of autumn, mums will last indoors for weeks if treated well. Kept out of direct sunlight except in the early morning and afternoon, mums also prefer an evenly moist soil.

This is best maintained by keeping the plants in clay pots which will leach out excess water through the sides.

Strike Deadline Looms Over Rail Talks

CHICAGO (AP) — Time was running short today as federal mediators sought a solution to a threatened strike which could halt service on 90 per cent of the nation's rail traffic.

Francis A. O'Neill of the National Mediation Board said today that no progress was made in talks until nearly midnight between the nation's railroads and six shop craft unions.

O'Neill said all-night sessions may be called.

The unions, representing some 140,000 members, have threatened to walk out at 6 a.m. local time Monday to enforce their demands for larger salary increases than recommended by presidential emergency board.

J. E. Wolfe, chief negotiators for the nation's carriers, has insisted that any settlement be made within the framework of the emergency board's recommendations.

STRIKE DEFINITE

Michael Fox, president of the railway employes department, said that the shop craft unions will definitely strike Monday morning unless they receive a satisfactory settlement proposal from railway management.

The board recommended wage increases of 27 cents an hour over a three-year period.

★ ★ ★

Fox contends the workers are entitled to greater increases than the board's recommendation on the grounds they possess special skills that make them underpaid in relation to other nonoperating railroad workers and other industries.

★ ★ ★

Fox said a walkout would halt service on the 187 railroads and terminal switching companies which handle more than 90 per cent of the nation's rail traffic.

Cherished Memories of Bygone Days

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Everyone is subject at times to self-pity and nameless melancholy.

BOYLE

One way to snap yourself out of these attacks of the blues is to sit down and catalog past experiences that made life memorable for you in some way.

Here is one list of cherished moments:

The taste of honey and the first strawberry of spring. Sunlight on ice-encrusted trees, turning the woodland into a forest of flaming diamonds. The pride in childhood of working out a loose tooth all by yourself —and waking up the next morning and finding a dime under your pillow.

Hearing a cello played in an unseen room. Dandelions studding winter's last snow in yellow surprise. Getting a valentine in kindergarten from the only girl in the world. Listening to anything by Mozart. Climbing the Great Pyramid of Cheops at dawn and, on reaching the top, having the eerie feeling of being totally alone in a lifeless universe.

KATYDIDS

Chanting with the katydids on a warm summer night. Sleeping under a blanket of stars in the Tunisian desert in wartime. Hearing the buzz-saw tenor scream of Gen. George S. Patton as he bawled out a sloppy sergeant. Being praised by your mother for dyeing the prettiest egg in the Easter basket.

Getting sick the first time your country cousin talked you into chewing tobacco — and swearing off forever. Feeling devilish the first time you smoked a cubeb cigarette and managed to blow smoke out your nose. Sending away for a correspondence course in muscle building, and deciding that at those prices you'd get along with the muscles you had.

Falling desperately in love with your sixth-grade teacher, and bringing her a dollar box of face powder for Christmas. Earning the money as a street corner newsboy for your first suit with long pants: cost, $17.50. Going to the funeral of a schoolmate, the best boy in the class, and being haunted by his dead face for years afterward.

Opening a letter from the Internal Revenue Service and discovering, instead of a further claim, an unexpected check. Reading a slender volume of poems by Emily Dickinson, and feeling as if your soul had been struck by lightning.

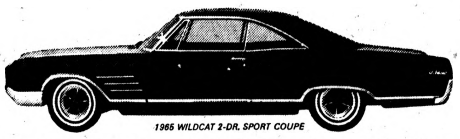

The homely eloquence of Gen. Omar N. Bradley's kind smile. The wet flavor of that first dry martini. Cradling in your arms a dying pet dog poisoned by a hateful neighbor.

Breaking an arm in high school, and realizing for the first time a feeling of personal mortality. The sound of children playing tag. Catching a hoptoad under a street light, and wondering how soon you'd come down with warts. Putting an ear to the keyhole after the grown-ups told you to go into another room because they didn't want you to hear the topic they were discussing. Running into the house when a caravan of Gypsies rolled by — for fear they'd kidnap you and hold you for ransom.

Gazing into your own eyes in the mirror as a child until your mind reeled with the mystery of your own identity — who were you, where did you come from, where was time carrying you?

What's on your own list of unforgettable moments?

Good news for patient people.

U.S. Is Hoping to Avoid Showdown on U.N. Dues

WASHINGTON (AP) — Though time is running out, U.S. officials expressed hope today that some formula may yet be found to avoid a showdown with the Soviet Union in the U.N. General Assembly over Soviet refusal to help pay for certain U.N. peace-keeping operations.

The issue is due to come to a head quickly after the General Assembly meets in New York Dec. 1. If the Soviets then are still two years behind in meeting the financial assessments totaling $52.6 million, they stand to lose their assembly vote.

★ ★ ★

A provision of the U.N. Charter provides that any member in arrears for two years shall have no vote, and the United States is insisting that the charter be strictly enforced.

Officials here said, nevertheless, that the United States would welcome any kind of a solution to the problem which would avoid a showdown.

DISCUSSED SITUATION

President Johnson discussed the situation in detail Wednesday with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, U.N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson and Assistant Secretary of State Harlan Cleveland, who handles U.N. policies in the State Department.

★ ★ ★

Rusk dined with Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin at the Soviet Embassy Wednesday night, keeping an engagement made some months ago. Although it was outwardly a social occasion, the presumption was that they discussed the U.N. issue.

Rusk is scheduled to go to New York for the opening of the U.N. General Assembly, for consultation with foreign ministers who annually gather to attend the big U.N. meeting, and to direct U.S. strategy in the fight over nonpayment of peace-keeping assessments.

★ ★ ★

U.S. officials say they do not know whether Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko will attend the session.

SEEK SOLUTION

The struggle over the Soviet payments position has been developing for months. The United Nations has set up a committee to try to find a solution before the problem becomes acute and a potential source of new East-West tensions.

★ ★ ★

In essence the Soviet government has refused to pay for peace-keeping missions in the Congo and the Middle East on the ground the assessments were levied by the General Assembly rather than the Security Council. Moscow maintains that only the council, in which the major powers have a veto, can legally impose such assessments.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. argument is that the assembly had full authority to assess the charges and that the Soviet refusal to pay has raised a fundamental constitutional question which involves the future effectiveness of the U.N. assembly.

Reports Say Pius Backed Nazi Cause

HAMBURG, Germany (AP) — The controversy over Pope Pius XII's actions in World War II revived today with reports in West Germany and Britain of Nazi documents alleging the pontiff sympathized with the Axis powers.

A high Vatican official said the documents were "clearly partisan because of their source. They are documents from only one of the interested parties."

★ ★ ★

The German news magazine Der Spiegel reported that Nazi foreign policy documents, soon to be published in book form, revealed that Pope Pius tried to persuade the United States and Britain to shift to Germany's side against the Soviet Union. Der Spiegel said the pontiff believed the Nazi army was the only defense against communization of Europe.

The magazine said the Nazi documents reported that the Pope sent an Italian architect, Enrico Pietro Galeazzi, to seek the help of Francis Cardinal Spellman in New York for his anti-Communist plan.

NO COMMENT

Cardinal Spellman, in Rome for the Vatican Ecumenical Council, was not immediately available for comment.

According to Der Spiegel, the Pope's plan called for Hitler's replacement by another leader, probably Heinrich Himmler. Himmler, head of the SS, regarded himself as more acceptable to the allies, the documents reportedly said.

★ ★ ★

The magazine said the documents also proved the charge, raised last year by West German playwright Rolf Hochhuth in the controversial play "The Deputy," that Pope Pius did little to save the Jews from Nazi extermination.

Der Spiegel said the documents report that the pontiff told U.S. diplomat Harold H. Tittmann as early as January 1943, that he believed allied reports of the mass gassing of Jews "are a bit overdone for propaganda purposes."

NEVER SPOKE

"The representative of Christ hardly spoke a clear pastoral word against the crimes of the brown (Nazi) holders of power," the magazine said.

"He never threatened Nazis with excommunication the way he did the Communists in 1949 and he never allowed himself to be moved by appeals from the Western allies to bless the democracies' crusade against Adolf Hitler."

Police Hunt Clues in Ohio Gem Theft

COLUMBUS, OHIO (AP) — Police searched for clues today in a jewelry store burglary in which the loot apparently exceeded $100,000.

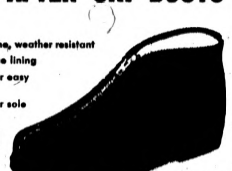

The theft occurred late Tuesday night or early yesterday morning at the Shaw Jewelry Co. in downtown Columbus.

★ ★ ★

Police Lt. Ralph Drown said the thieves gained entrance by breaking through a brick wall in the store basement from the basement of an adjoining building.

New England Still Parched

Storms Give Relief to Southwest States

CHICAGO (AP) — New England remained dust dry today in the clutches of its worst drought, while the Southwest dug out from under heavy snow.

The Weather Bureau said however, that some rain or snow was expected in the southern New England area Friday.

★ ★ ★

Massachusetts and sections of Connecticut and Rhode Island were hardest hit by the drought. Gov. Endicott Peabody of Massachusetts considered calling an emergency meeting of governors in the New England area. There has been no appreciable rain in the six New England states for 208 days.

Hay crop losses were estimated at $18 million in New England, including $3.4 million in Massachusetts. Potato farmers have lost more than $1 million.

BELOW FREEZING

Temperatures were below freezing in many areas of New York State, and the Weather Bureau said there was a slight chance of rain or snow. Forests were closed in 45 counties in the state because of fire hazards. The state has been plagued with a six-month drought.

Light rain fell over most of West Virginia, easing the fire situation out of the critical stage. Livestock farmers in 10 counties were still receiving federal aid under an emergency feed grain program.

The weather situation was considerably different in western and southwestern parts of the nation.

In western Kansas, Garden City received an inch of snow Wednesday night. The precipitation, which extended as far northeastward as Manhattan was welcome in the western Kansas counties where a fall drought had become critical.

COLORADO SNOW

The Weather Bureau reported good news for drought-stricken eastern Colorado where wheat crops valued in the millions had been endangered by an absence of moisture. Heavy snow warnings with up to four inches were issued for some sections.

Red River, N.M., received 13 inches of snow Wednesday, but the Weather Bureau said the precipitation was not expected to affect the drought-stricken eastern part of the state.

★ ★ ★

New storms moved into Arizona and were expected to bring snow to the mountains and rain to the deserts for several days, the Weather Bureau reported. The area had its worst November storm in years Sunday with four persons reported dead.

Floods in north central Oklahoma eased but the Weather Bureau forecast four inches of snow for the Panhandle area.

★ ★ ★

Light rain fell in southern Illinois, giving some relief to foresters who have been fighting field and woodland fires for weeks.

'Visual Aids' Vanish; Class Postponed

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Museum of Natural History has announced its course entitled "now Your Precious Gems" has been postponed indefinitely.

A spokesman said the closing of Morgan Hall, where $410,000 in precious gems were stolen recently, precluded continuation of the course.

The Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America was founded in 1950 by a small group of parents of dystrophic children.

Economic Woes Stalling W. Europe Unity Drive

By ARTHUR L. GAVSHON

LONDON (AP) — Western Europe has run into a wall of economic difficulties in its long march toward unity. Its prolonged boom also seems heading for trouble.

Talk is even heard of a general slump in world trade from such men as Britain's new prime minister, Harold Wilson.

Willson will seek President Johnson's support when they meet next month for a radical new system of international credit that will allow a freer flow of money and goods.

There is immediate peril that Western Europe's two chief trading groups — the six-nation Common Market and the seven-nation European Free Trade Association — will break up because of actions by key members.

A longer-term peril lurks in the possibility that the European boom will play itself out. To safeguard themselves the nations might then adopt protectionist policies. As trade contracted markets shrank and unemployment spread, the Europeans and their trading partners would slide into a slump.

★ ★ ★

Already there have been ominous pointers.

In most industrial countries of West Europe, excepting West Germany and Sweden, imports are outstripping exports, leaving a scary trail of trade deficits.

★ ★ ★

A survey by Common Market economists recently forecast a tapering off of the average European growth rate from 5.5 per cent this year to 4 per cent in 1965.

News Analysis

If this, as the experts say they expect, coincides with a slowdown of American expansion after nearly four years of high riding, a contest for world markets may develop with ever-growing intensity.

In the Common Market, French President Charles de Gaulle recently threatened to walk out if the Germans did not come to terms with France soon on a common grain price. France, with cheap wheat, wants to sell more to her partners. West Germany's Christian Democratic government, with subsidized wheat farming and a general election next fall, does not want cheap wheat dumped on its doorstep.

Britain's new Labor government took the drastic step of putting a surcharge on almost all manufactured imports while offering tax cuts to exporters. The aim was to bring earnings into line with spending and so head off bankruptcy.

Big international loans, cuts in national spending, higher taxes, and curbs on wages and profits are on the British horizon but have still to make their impact.

HITS PARTNER

The 15-per-cent import charge has hit Britain's partners, in the European Free Trade Association whose exports already are sagging. Foreign Minister Per Haekkerup of Denmark warned that EFTA may collapse unless the levy is swiftly scrapped.

Wilson admitted Monday night that the British action was "a step in the wrong direction," away from Britain's goal of freer world trade. He has said the surcharge will be kept "not a day longer" than needed.

★ ★ ★

It is clear that the specter of a slump haunts Wilson as it haunts the statesmen of EFTA nations meeting today in Geneva to discuss their future.

★ ★ ★

Wilson wants to apply to international transactions a sort of checking account and loan system like that used by domestic banks.

SEEKS BACKING

He hopes Johnson will back his idea for international talks lead to a world economic conference at summit level. He proposes that an organization such as the International Monetary Fund, be given vast new reserves of money by member countries and power to issue credit certificates for the support of doubtful currencies and to help developing countries.

Nutrition Deficiency Is Noted in Vegans

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY

A vegan, I am able to tell you (Webster doesn't), is a vegetarian who excludes from his diet not just meat, fish and fowl, but also milk, butter, cheese and eggs.

★ ★ ★

Signs of nutritional deficiency in vegans are (1) sore tongue; (2) sensation of pricking, tingling or creeping on the skin without apparent cause; (3) in women, amenorrhea and other menstrual disturbances; (4) pains in back and spine, stiff back, called "vegan back."

These signs or symptoms occur less frequently in Dutch vegans than in British vegans, and seldom if at all in American vegans.

The total protein intake of British vegans is 7 per cent, of Dutch vegans 9 per cent, of American vegans nearly 10½ per cent, according to biochemical examinations of vegans apparently in good health (but most of whom had had sore tongue at some time), as reported by Wakes, Badenoch and Sinclair in "Am. J. Clinical Nutrition."

★ ★ ★

These investigators state that British vegans do not consume the only vegetable foods (seaweeds and ground nuts such as peanuts) known to contain vitamin B-12. They suggest that vitamin B12 deficiency is responsible for the definite illnesses that have developed gradually after several years in some British vegetarians who have excluded milk, cheese, butter and eggs from their diet.

Milk, skim milk, separator milk, buttermilk, cheese and eggs are excellent sources of protein as good as meat protein for human nutrition.

OBSERVES

I have known, observed and examined numerous vegetarians and it seems to me they have as much vite as people who eat fish, fowl and meat. I have not had the opportunity to observe and examine any vegans, however.

Not from personal observation but from general reading I have formed the impression that vegetarians vegetate.

I do not mean to imply that they "do little but eat and grow," but rather that they "lead a passive existence without initiative" (as Webster says). In other words, they are not aggressive.

Now, now, take it easy. If you happen to be a vegetarian, or better a vegan, keep your shirt on and tell me the facts of life. I eat everything—except mashed potato and doughy whit bread—but if you have anything to tell me other than where I can go you'll find that I am the sweetest old . . .

I shall continue eating meat, fish or fowl daily if I can get it, but if I had to kill my own I'd probably become a vegetarian.

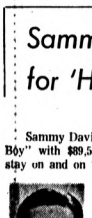

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

U.S. Fixing Trouble, Slates 2nd Mars Probe Next Week

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — The United States, apparently fixing the trouble that threatened to set back its Mars exploration program by two weeks plans to send another probe toward the planet next week.

The Federal Space Agency announced the Nov. 27 launch date yesterday.

But it said the date depends on the outcome of tests on a new metal spacecraft cover designed to replace the fiberglass shroud that failed on the Mariner-3 shot Nov. 5.

Mariner-4, the last of the two television probes in the $112-million program, also must pass a series of routine prelaunch checks with its Atlas-Agena launch rocket next week.

★ ★ ★

The new launch date gives the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) a five-day cushion before the Dec. 2 launch deadline when Mars moves out of shooting range for 25 months.

MAY CANCEL

"Failure to launch in 1964 would mean either cancellation of the Mariner-4 or a two-year delay with a launch attempt in 1966," NASA said.

Mariner-3, now in a useless orbit around the sun, was disabled when its fiberglass shroud did not jettison as planned 5½-minutes after launch.

Tests indicated the shroud partially collapsed when subjected to the pressures of flight in space.

★ ★ ★

As soon as the Mariner-3 failure became apparent, scientists began an around-the-clock drive to pinpoint the trouble and come up with a "fix" before launch time ran out.

STRONGER PART

A stronger shroud made of magnesium was designed and two were ordered. The first has been completed at the Lockheed Missiles and Space Co. plant at Sunnyvale, Calif., and is undergoing the critical tests.

If all goes well, the shroud will be flown to Cape Kennedy this weekend to undergo tests with the 575-pound spacecraft and the booster.

TRAVELED WITHOUT TICKET — Gary Scherzer, 11, visits with his grandmother, Mrs. Bernard Goldstein, in Denver, Colo., yesterday, after making a trip from Dallas, Tex., aboard a plane without a ticket. The youngster mixed with passengers without being noticed, and the stewardess gave him a sandwich. Authorities at Denver became suspicious when the boy got off the plane in freezing weather wearing a short-sleeved shirt.

'Must Be Prepared for N-Fleet Changes'

WASHINGTON (AP)— Chairman J. W. Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said today the Johnson administration must be prepared to make concessions to Britain and Italy in order to assure approval of the U.S. proposal for a NATO nuclear force.

Fulbright said the United States and West Germany — the two chief backers of the MLF plan—"must be prepared, however reluctantly, to accept changes" in the composition of the force to avoid further division among the Western allies.

The Arkansas Democrat discussed the MLF in an address prepared for delivery before the association for the study of foreign affairs in Munich, Germany. The text was issued by his office here.

He said the United States and the federal Republic of Germany "have the responsibility" of trying to find a solution to the stalemate over the MLF.

If the MLF is to serve both its military and political purposes, Fulbright said, it would be well to slow down beyond this year the drive for its implementation.

FURTHER CONSULTATIONS

That, he added, would allow further consultations aimed at gaining support for the present plan of 25 surface vessels armed with Polaris missiles.

But, "more probably," he said, it would permit further time to devise "a modified plan that would be acceptable to the United Kingdom and Italy and other members of the alliance, in addition to the federal republic and the United States."

Fulbright emphasized he was voicing his personal views as a United States senator and not the official policy of President Johnson and the State Department, "for whom I have no authority to speak."

* * *

Undersecretary of State George W. Ball made it apparent Tuesday that Germany and the United States have agreed on a delay beyond the previous year-end deadline for an agreement of at least some weeks to give the British time to come up with any new proposals they may wish to make.

The primary purpose of Ball's recent trip to Europe was to find ways to get unity on the nuclear weapons problem. France opposes the MLF agreement for which Germany earlier was pressing hard for action by the end of the year.

HELICOPTERS SCRAMBLE — U.S. Army helicopters, some of the 115 that took part in yesterday's biggest helicopter assault in Army aviation history, scramble from the airfield in Bien Hao. The helicopters flew a reported 3,000 government soldiers into action northwest of Saigon.

$1-Million Operation

Massive Viet Offensive Lacks Surprise

SAIGON (UPI) — American and Vietnamese troops pressed a massive offensive against Communist guerrillas northwest of Saigon today but the element of surprise was gone. It was the largest helicopter operation of the war.

The big push, launched yesterday, bore a striking resemblance to a government offensive last Aug. 12. It also involved a huge fleet of American helicopters and occurred in the same general area. That operation also lacked the key factor of surprise and failed to produce the hope-for Communist casualties.

U. S. military sources said the Viet Cong guerrillas had apparently been briefed on the strategy of the August airborne assault. The force of 1,000 Vietnamese troops was almost caught in an ambush by an army of guerrillas twice that size.

In yesterday's raid an estimated 115 U. S. Army helicopters flew a reported 3,000 government soldiers into action. Hours later, military authorities reported the assault netted only two guerrillas and one Communist suspect.

The $1-million operation captured a motorbike, 15 hand grenades and three small weapons. The cost was estimated by a U. S. military spokesman.

The raid occurred in Communist-infested Tay Ninh province. The troops landed in an area 40 miles northwest of the big Bien Hoa airbase, an installation which was attacked by guerrillas two weeks ago in one of the boldest and costliest guerrilla attacks of the war.

The August attack was aimed at the guerrilla stronghold of Ap Bo Cang, about 20 miles southeast of yesterday's target. About 100 American helicopters took part in that operation.

At the height of yesterday's attack, a terrorist time bomb exploded in a snack bar at the Saigon airport, wounding 18 Americans, 10 of whom were hospitalized. A spokesman said all 10 were in good condition.

* * *

Vietnamese security officers said the bomb was apparently planted atop a concrete bomb with a timing device set for the noon hour.

In a related development yesterday, Australia lost its first aircraft of the war when an Air Force Caribou transport crashed in the central highlands.

Asks LBJ Help in Paper Strike

Detroit Edison Exec Writes to President

DETROIT (AP)—The President of the United States has been asked to help end Detroit's long newspaper strike, and the president of the Teamsters Union says he thinks the strike should be ended.

The strike against the morning Detroit Free Press and the afternoon Detroit News began July 13.

* * *

Detroit Edison Co. Board Chairman Walker Cisler Wednesday urged President Johnson —in a letter—to "exert every endeavor and every persuasion within your office to bring this distressing and unnecessary situation to an immediate and satisfactory conclusion."

Teamster President James R. Hoffa said, "The strike should be ended, and the union (Pressmen's Local 13) should realistically recognize that they should compromise and submit the remaining issues to arbitration." Hoffa made his remark Wednesday in a telephone interview with Ven Marshall, radio and television newsman (for WWJ, Detroit).

DEADLOCKED

Federal and state mediators have said the striking pressmen and the Detroit Newspaper Publishers Association, which negotiates a joint contract for both papers, are deadlocked over the issue of how many men should man new eight-unit presses. The union insists 16 men should be the minimum. The publishers are willing to settle for 15, although they contend surveys have shown only 11 or 12 men are needed.

In his letter to the President, Cisler also said that if there is no legislation to meet such situations as the newspaper strike "steps should be immediately taken to provide it."

WILL DELIVER

In further remarks, Hoffa said that "if the publishers publish the newspapers, we (the Teamsters) will make the deliveries." He said this would be done even if the papers resumed publication with nonunion pressmen.

There has been no indication, however, the publishers are considering the use of nonunion pressmen.

Signs Point to Upgrading of Russian Secret Police

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two changes in the Soviet hierarchy appear to confirm the belief in Washington that the Soviet secret police organization is gaining importance after some years of relative obscurity.

Alexander N. Shelepin, former head of the Committee of State Security — KGB —as the secret police is formally called, became a member of the Communist party's Presidium on Monday and Vladimir E. Semichastny, the present KGB boss, was promoted a full member of the party's Central Committee.

* * *

These two changes are in addition to other indications of the KGB's growing stature. The signs have been carefully analyzed by the administration's Soviet specialists.

But the specialists cautioned that their significance should not be exaggerated. Moreover, they say, there is no indication that the KGB played any role in the ouster of Premier Khrushchev.

CAUTIOUS GLORIFICATION

Some cautious glorification of the secret police started about six months ago, well before the change in the Kremlin.

The role of the secret police, omnipotent during the Stalin years, was drastically downgraded after the execution of its chief, Lavrenti P. Beria, in 1953. The appointment of Shelepin, an outsider and a former leader of the Komsomol, the party's youth organization, to head the KGB in 1958 represented a downgrading of the dreaded strong arm of the party.

* * *

But Washington experts discovered signs of a slight change since last summer, with occasional newspaper articles praising the "vigilance of the KGB" and its role in fighting "imperialist agents."

Such articles were printed in connection with the Khabarovsk incident last October, when the Soviets raided the hotel rooms of one British and three American military attaches in the Siberian city and then charged that they were spying.

* * *

Officials said in this connection they were even more puzzled by the sudden glorification in the Soviet press of Richard Sorge, the German-born Soviet master spy in Japan during World War II. Sorge, whose name had been unmentioned in Soviet publications since the war, has been named a Hero of the Soviet Union.

Gunshots Finish Silent Struggle

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)— A story of brothers who quarreled in silence ended yesterday with the loud bark of five sudden pistol shots on a San Antonio street.

The shots felled Joseph Fields, 54. He was a deaf mute and could not hear them — just as he did not hear the shots he himself fired when he killed his brother Marshall, 51, who was also a deaf mute.

The shots that killed Joseph were fired by yet another brother, Thomas, 44, who can hear and talk normally, apparently to avenge what he felt was the unpunished murder of Marshall.

The story had its roots in the frequent and violent arguments between Joseph and Marshall. They made no sound as they quarreled. Their fingers flashed quickly in sign language as the arguments grew heated.

* * *

They quarreled about Marshall's drinking too much. Last April, Joseph gave up on sign language and shot Marshall while he slept.

Joseph walked downstairs to the manager's room in their apartment house and handed him a note: "Call the police. I just killed my brother."

CALLED INSANE

Yesterday, a District Court jury heard the case and decided that although Joseph was sane at the time of the trial, he was sane at the time of the slaying.

Under Texas law that meant that he could not be held responsible for his brother's death. He went free, clear of the charge.

That decision angered his brother Thomas. He stalked out of his house in San Antonio last night, headed for his sister's home to tell her about the verdict.

His path crossed that of Joseph, who was walking down a street. When Joseph saw Thomas, he turned and ran.

FIRED 5 TIMES

Thomas drew a 38-caliber pistol and fired five times at his brother. Two of the shots found their mark, and Joseph lay dead in the street.

Thomas was in a cell in city jail today. Police said he would be charged with murder with malice.

"It's just something I had to do," Thomas said.

GI Pledges Beard Fight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A 24-year-old reservist private filed suit here yesterday to prevent the Army from forcing him to shave his beard.

Dennis L. Eisner, an architectural designer in civilian life, said officers objected to his "neatly trimmed" beard at reserve meetings and marked him down for an unexcused absense despite the fact he was present.

He said he was warned that five unexcused absences would put him back on active duty.

The reservist served six months active duty in New York before moving to San Francisco last year.

Famous Frisco Night Spot Celebrates 25th Anniversary

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The spirit that soothed a million farewells still lingers.

The decorations are different. The bar isn't where it used to be. The faces have changed.

★ ★ ★

But it wouldn't matter too much to the men who hoisted their glasses in song there. It wouldn't matter too much to the men who kissed their sweethearts goodby there.

It wouldn't matter too much to the lonely GI who sipped his drink behind the vast panoramic windows and watched the crimson sun dip behind the Golden Gate Bridge into the sea to the west where he was going.

GOOD LUCK CHARM

To them, the place was a good luck charm, the last place they wanted to be before going off to fight in the Pacific and Korean wars, and the first place they wanted to see when they returned.

Today, the Top of The Mark, on the crest of Nob Hill, observes its 25th anniversary. Some of the bay area's top military brass and civic notables will be on hand to note the occasion.

★ ★ ★

Jack Lucas was a waiter at the Top when lines of servicemen stretched through the Mark Hopkins Hotel, waiting for opening time. Lucas is still there.

"From 11 in the morning until closing time at 2 a.m., the Top was filled to capacity," said the 64-year-old Lucas. "There simply was no place else to be when you were going overseas from San Francisco.

TRADITIONAL PLACE

The Top became such a traditional gathering place for departing servicemen that the government installed a one-way spy mirror in the ceiling above the bar. A government agent then watched unseen to determine if any of the men were being pumped for information by possible subversives.

Johnny Miller is a bartender at the Top and often lends an ear to the ex-servicemen who return to talk about the old days.

"It's like coming home," Miller said.

"They find it's changed somewhat. The ceiling is a darker color. The bar has been moved onto a platform. Martinis now cost $1.05 instead of 60 cents. But it's still the same to them."

SQUADRON BOTTLE

Miller often is asked whether the Top still weeps the "Squadron Bottle." The answer is no. But hundreds of ex-Air Force men around the country will never forget the institution of the Squadron Bottle.

★ ★ ★

During the Korean War, the Air Force kept their own non-official personnel records on the back bar — the Squadron Bottle.

★ ★ ★

Any squadron man coming in claimed one free drink, and signed his name and the date on the bottle. The man getting the last drink was privileged to buy the next bottle.

★ ★ ★

Before the Korean War ended, 32 such squadron bottles were going at one time.

Attrition finally emptied them all.

Little Hope for Downed Jet Pilot

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI) — U.S. military sources said today there was little chance that a U.S. Air Force pilot shot down yesterday over Laos had survived. They said his F100 Super Sabre jet exploded and crashed in flames.

The pilot, identified as Capt. William R. Martin, 29, of Alexandria, La., was escorting a reconnaissance plane over Southern Laos, where a troop concentration had led U.S. officials to suspect that infiltrators were moving from North to South Viet Nam through Laos.

The troops, believed to be Viet Cong guerrillas, fired on the RF101 reconnaissance plane, and its pilot told Martin and another escorting fighter pilot to make a retaliatory strike, the sources said.

When the Super Sabre came in for a strafing pass, the ground troops turned their rifles and submachine guns on it, the sources said.

★ ★ ★

The sources said all three planes were based at Tan Son Nhut Air Base outside Saigon.

BULLET HOLES

The RF101 returned here with its wings and fuselage peppered with bullet holes, they said.

U.S. officials refused to confirm that the planes were based here.

Girls Born in Oregon

Mother, Quads All 'Fine'

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Quadruplet daughters were born within a seven-minute period Wednesday night to the 19-year-old wife of an apprentice construction lathe operator.

Mrs. Arlin D. Grenewalt and her daughters were in "sound health" shortly after the birth, said Dr. George Emery.

★ ★ ★

"The babies and their mother are doing fine. We are all very grateful," Dr. Emery said.

Diane Marie Grenewalt was taken into the delivery room of Portland Sanitarium at 6:15 p.m. and the first baby was born at 7:30. The last one was born at 7:37.

NOT WEIGHED

Dr. Remy Fulsher, head of obstetrics at the hospital, said the babies were placed in incubators and Isolettes, and were not weighed immediately.

He said they appeared to be about three pounds each, with one smaller.

★ ★ ★

Complications had been feared prior to the delivery, Dr. Fulsher said, because Mrs. Grenewalt had high blood pressure and a toxic condition.

"No complications developed," he said. "Everything went well."

FOUR WEEKS

The babies appeared to be about four weeks from "full term," Dr. Fulsher said.

Grenewalt, 24, said neither he nor his wife have any family history of multiple births. They have been married nearly three years and have a son, Karl, 17 months.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Grenewalt discovered she was carrying the quads on Nov. 9 when she was X rayed by Dr. Emery. She has had almost daily examinations since then.

Portland, a city of 375,000, has not had a quadruple birth since 1946.

TRIPLETS BORN

It was the second multiple birth within two weeks at Portland Sanitarium. Triplets were born Nov. 7 to Mr. and Mrs. George Fenton of Portland.

Plane's Last Communication Released

No Hint of Trouble in Nevada Crash

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — A 16-page transcript of the last radio communication with a doomed Bonanza airliner with 29 persons aboard gave no indication the pilot knew his plane was in trouble.

This was revealed last night when the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB), which is investigating the crash of flight 114 into a mountain last Sunday night, released the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) transcript, signed by the acting chief of the control tower at McCarran Field.

The transcript involved ground control-to-aircraft conversations with four commercial airliners — Flight 114, Bonanza Flight 418, Western Air Lines (WAL) Flight 196 and WAL Flight 198 — all trying to land at McCarran during a blinding snowstorm.

Flights 418, 196 and 198 were ordered not to land and Flight 114 disappeared from the radar scope, touching off an all-night search in the storm.

★ ★ ★

The search ended shortly after dawn when the wreckage of the silver and white plane was found strewn over a 200-yard area atop the snow-capped mountain in sight of the glittering Las Vegas strip.

FOUND FROZEN

All 29 persons aboard the plane were dead. Some of the bodies — still strapped in their seats —, were found frozen in the ice and snow on the 13,800-foot-high mountain.

The Phoenix, Ariz., to Las Vegas flight disappeared from radar scope here at 8:27 p.m., PST, (11:27 p.m., EST).

The last radio contact with the Twin-engined Turbo-Prop F27, the transcript showed, came two minutes earlier:

"Bonanza Flight 114 is (unintelligible)."

★ ★ ★

At the time, radar plotters placed the plane outside the 10-mile beach on its final ground-controlled approach.

IN CONTACT

The plane was still in radar contact with the tower at this time. Seconds later, there began a series of calls from the ground trying to contact the doomed airliner:

"Bonanza 114 Las Vegas Approach Control over . . . Bonanza 114. Las Vegas Approach Control over . . . Bonanza 114 Las Vegas Approach Control over . . ."

Nine times the same futile call crackled over the airwaves until 8:30 p.m., PST.

★ ★ ★

Two of the three remaining airliners, Flights 418 and 196, were told to return to their take-off points prior to Flight 114's disappearance.

POINTS OF ORIGIN

Flight 418 returned to Ontario, Calif., and 196 went back to Los Angeles. Minutes later, Flight 198 was ordered to return to Los Angeles because it was on the same final approach as the missing Flight 114.

After this, McCarran Field was opened and closed periodically through the night as the storm worsened and abated.

CAB investigators said the two aircraft preceding Flight 114 had taken the same final approach pattern and had cleared the mountain into which the Bonanza plane crashed.

★ ★ ★

Investigators equipped with tents remained on the mountain top today sifting through wreckage looking for clues to the cause of the crash. CAB investigators said it was not known how long they would remain here.

FOUND EARLIER

The plane's flight recorder was found earlier and shipped to Washington, where CAB investigators were scheduled to read it to determine Flight 114's exact speed, altitude, heading and vertical acceleration compared to time.

All of the bodies were removed from the barren peak and taken to Palm Mortuary here. Yesterday eight of the victims' bodies were flown to Mexico City after the arrival of a Mexican consul.

Total sales of the nation's gasoline service stations last year surpassed $19 billion.

Boundary Error Renews Hassle Over Troy Road

TROY — A minor technical error in the boundaries of a special assessment district has made it necessary to start all over again with a hassle on who should pay for 14 Mile Road improvements.

The City of Troy is going to widen that artery to four lanes between Rochester and John R roads, and plans to assess adjacent commercial properties for a large part of the city's share of the cost.

Objections to this plan are made by Detroit attorney Avern Cohn, representing both Jay M. Kogan, Sears, Roebuck & Co., developer, and the Jim Robbins Co.

Kogan had previously made arrangements with the county to make direct payments to the county for the extra paving involved in widening 14 Mile, and opposes being assessed for the same basic improvement by the city.

He owns 188 acres of land at the northwest and northeast corners of John R and 14 Mile.

★ ★ ★

Troy's share of the project's cost is about $31,000, and the city planned to raise about $26,700 of that by assessing commercial properties which would benefit from the improvement.

CITES PRECEDENCE

City Attorney Stanley E. Burke cited precedents upheld in the State Supreme Court for such assessment action, but Cohn said he would cite precedents to the contrary.

The matter was unresolved this week when the minor error in boundary description was discovered by City Assessor Pat Hynes and City Manager Paul York.

York said the difference, which amounts to only a few feet, would increase the assessments by about 10 cents per front foot.

★ ★ ★

A public hearing has been scheduled in the commission's chambers at 7:30 p.m. on Nov. 30 to begin anew with the corrected assessment district boundary description and assessment figures.

PUBLIC HEARING

Also on the agenda that night, is a public hearing on the extention of a water main on Vanderpool, at an estimated cost of $2,970. The project involves three owners of six lots.

Pension Plan to Be Viewed

Troy Commission to Air Proposal Monday

TROY — A retirement system ordinance for city employes will be on the agenda for discussion at Monday's regular City Commission meeting.

Commissioners discussed the proposed ordinance, section by section, at their last meeting.

The idea of a pension plan received favorable support from city employes when a survey was taken last spring.

City Manager Paul York said that figures are not fully compiled yet, since the commission wishes to discuss the plan further.

★ ★ ★

However, he said that the present proposal calls for a payroll deduction from the covered employes of 3 per cent up to a salary of $4,800 and 5 per cent over that.

CITY CONTRIBUTION

The city would contribute 5 per cent of the employe's salary figure to the pension fund.

York said the mandatory retirement age being considered is 65, and the age for earliest retirement with full benefits was about 60, but subject to change.

★ ★

"It's a pretty typical pension plan," he said, "similar to that of other cities."

To Celebrate Rebuilding of Center

ADDISON TOWNSHIP — An open house Nov. 29 will celebrate the rebuilding of a Lutheran retreat center on East Drahner near Oxford.

St. Augustine's House, a two-story structure in the form of a crucifix, is nearly completed on the site where the original building stood before it burned to the ground on July 21, 1963.

Operated by the Congregation of the Servants of Christ, the center is run by Rev. Arthur C. Kreinheder, a former J. L. Hudson Co. executive turned Lutheran priest.

Rev. Kreinheder established the retreat center after giving up the business life for the ministry, only to see his converted home go up in flames.

He moved into a mobile home until this summer, when the Darin and Armstrong Construction Co. of Detroit donated three 12x24 frame buildings used for construction crews and foremen.

JOINED BUILDINGS

Janisse Construction of Independence Township joined the buildings together and remodeled the interiors so that they would serve as a retreat center.

These buildings, plus a chapel made from a quonset hut, have been used by St. Augustine's House while the new structure was being constructed, and will be used after it is completed.

The new retreat building was designed by Carl Benkert, Birmingham, in association with Glen Paulsen and Associates, architects of Bloomfield Hills.

It has eight bedrooms on the ground floor as well as the kitchen, refectory, office and washroom. A commons room is illuminated by a picture window rising from floor level to the pitched roof.

That side of the house rests on the brink of a dropoff, and the picture window provides retreatants a panoramic view of the countryside.

In the basement is a conference room and library, plus a utilities shop and storage area.

The open house will take place in the afternoon and evening.

Program on Plants for 4-H'ers

Youngsters entering into the Michigan 4-H Club program this fall have a chance to become amateur plant scientists.

A new horticulture bulletin, Basic Plant Science, designed for 10-12 year olds, offers an opportunity to grow seeds and plants and experiment with them during the winter months.

It teaches beginners to grow plants from seeds, says Dr. J. Lee Taylor, horticulture extension specialist at Michigan State University and author of the bulletin.

He says that a plant seed is really a young plant which has not yet begun to grow actively.

★ ★ ★

Starting with this seed, Taylor describes the life history of a garden bean and a yellow rocket plant through pictures and diagrams to teach 4-H'ers the different parts of the plant.

TELLS WHY

The new bulletin then tells why seeds and plants are beneficial to man and how man uses seeds as a source of food.

The rest of the bulletin contains 11 exercises, five to be completed during the first year and six the second year.

Each exercise is flavored with scientific terms and contains a specific experiment to be performed. This project is ideally suited to classroom 4-H clubs.

★ ★ ★

Those interested in participating in this new project are requested to contact Jack Worthington or Ruth Montney, Oakland County 4-H extension agents.

Sample bulletins have arrived at the extension office, and there should be a sufficient supply for a few days, the agents said.

Stiles School Slates Open House Tonight

AVON TOWNSHIP — Stiles School PTA will forego its business meeting this month in favor of tonight's open house for parents.

Comedy Set in Romeo by Stage Group

ROMEO — The Romeo Players have chosen a rollicking comedy, "Everybody Loves Opal," for their fall production to be presented tomorrow and Saturday nights at the youth center.

Curtain time is 8:15 both nights.

Other regulars to be featured include Maxine Wolf, James Crary and Dick McLean. Tiger Graham will be making his second appearance with the Players and Claude Calimeri, formerly of Auburn, N.Y., his first.

Another newcomer in the cast is Bill MacNeill, who with his wife, Letha, staged preliminaries for the Miss America pageant for 10 years in St. Clair Shores.

J. Gerald McLean, an old hand at the business, is the director assisted by Helen Stone.

Survey to Catalog Area Youth Needs

ORION TOWNSHIP — A survey of recreational facilities and needs is under way here, directed by the Orion Area Youth Guidance Committee.

Questionnaires have gone out to youth committees in other communities such as Rochester, Clarkston, Oxford and Waterford, plus local organizations and churches.

The purpose of the survey is to outline presently existing facilities for recreation and recreational needs which are not being met.

Results of the questionnaire survey will be compiled and presented to interested groups and organizations with the aim of improving conditions and facilities for child welfare and prevention of delinquency.

The local committee, whose members are appointed by the Juvenile Court of Oakland County, is working with other community agencies and municipal bodies to determine youth needs and provide services to meet them.

ANSWER DEADLINE

The general committee will meet on Dec. 3, and hopes that all replies to the questionnaires are in by that date.

★ ★ ★

So far, response to the survey has been good, according to committee chairman Neal Leonard, who said that the results of the survey will be used to formulate recommendations by the committee.

A free-will offering will be received to help in the purchase of robes for the junior choir.

For Holly District

Educators Study Youth Training Plan

HOLLY — Educators here are looking into a youth training program to help high school dropouts in the district.

Currently under discussion before the board of education is the Michigan Youth Work Training Program, established by the state legislature during its regular 1964 session.

Further consideration is pending the results of a survey to determine just how many dropouts the district has.

Schools Supt. George Garver now is attempting to determine the number of persons in the area who have not completed high school and could be served by the program.

★ ★ ★

The legislature appropriated $150,000 to finance the project for one year on an experimental basis. The state shares cost of the program on a 50-50 split districts participating.

OTHER PROGRAMS

Two Oakland County cities, Birmingham and Oak Park, have established the courses along with a dozen other communities and school districts in the state.

Administered by the Michigan Employment Security Commission, the program provides in-service training for youths chosen and allows them a weekly salary for their work.

Garver has suggested one possibility would be to place girls in school cafeterias where they could be trained in food handling.

★ ★ ★

In other business, the board of education has granted pay raises to the eight secretarial and 15 cafeteria employes in the system.

NEW SALARIES

New salary schedule for the highest secretarial level, consisting of those in the board of education office, has a minimum of $78 and maximum of $98.69 a week. The two figures formerly were $69 and $92.

The lowest level is for secretaries at elementary schools with less than 20 classrooms. Their minimum weekly salary will be $60 and their maximum $73, compared to $48 and $67.

Raises for secretaries now in the system ranged from $3 to $12 a week, Garver noted.

★ ★ ★

Cafeteria employes were given an across - the - board increase of five cents an hour. They also were granted sick days, for which there formerly had been no provision.

They will be permitted five sick days during their first year of employment and an addtional one for each succeeding year up to a total of eight days.

Being considered by the board is a request from the custodians to decrease their winter workweek from 49 to 40 hours, allowing them to be given time and-a-half pay for everything over that.

Body Found in Car Wreck

Addison Twp. Man Is Accident Victim

ADDISON TOWNSHIP — Richard H. Kutchey, 49, of 7320 Dequindre was found dead in his demolished car early this morning three miles north of Rogers City.

★ ★ ★

Presque Isle County Sheriff's deputies said the body was found on U.S. 23 by a passing motorist at about 12:30 a.m.

Skid marks indicated that Kutchey was traveling at high speed and lost control of the auto.

The car struck a guard rail on a bridge over a creek, hit an embankment and flipped end over end.

★ ★ ★

Kutchey had a camp about 11 miles northwest of Rogers City and was deer hunting in the area. He was apparently on his way from Rogers City to camp when the accident occured.

★ ★ ★

His body will be at William Sullivan & Son Funeral Home, Royal Oak.

Phone Exchange Area Increased for Lapeer

LANSING (AP) — The State Public Commission reports that 5.5 miles of territory adjacent to the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. Lapeer Exchange have been added to the base's rate area.

★ ★

The addition will mean savings of more than $4,000 a year to nearly 500 customers in the area, the commission said.

Bullet Wound Is Fatal to Bus Driver

DETROIT (AP) — A bus driver was fatally wounded Wednesday night in an attempted holdup by a lone gunman at a bus layover stop in northwest Detroit.

Police said Lucian Fryling, 38, died at Ford Hospital after receiving a bullet wound in the lower abdomen.

Officers said there were several bullet holes in the roof of the Detroit Street Railways bus, indicating the bandit had fired several times during a struggle with Fryling.

The gunman entered the bus while it was waiting at a layover stop, police said.

DROVE BUS

The wounded Fryling apparently drove the bus a short distance before it ran off the road and crashed into an apartment building, officers said. No one in the building was injured.

The gunman escaped on foot. Police said they did not know whether he had been successful in taking any money from Fryling.

They said Fryling and the gunman apparently were alone on the bus.

Witnesses told police the gunman was a Negro, about 38.

Krebiozen Backer Asks for Early Trial

CHICAGO (AP) — Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, a former university official and an ardent promoter of Krebiozen as a cancer treatment, says he wants an early trial so he can face his accusers.

Dr. Ivy, 71, internationally known physiologist, and three other persons pleaded innocent Wednesday to a 49-count federal indictment charging them with mail fraud, conspiracy, mislabeling and making false statements about Krebiozen.

"This is a new and interesting experience," Ivy said after the arraignment in U.S. District Court.

Trial was set to begin Jan. 11, and the court allowed the four defendants until Dec. 21 to file motions.

NOT FIRST TIME

"It is not the first time that a scientist or a benefactor of mankind has suffered indignities for standing up to his convictions," Ivy told newsmen.

"I have evidence to prove that Krebiozen is a worthwhile drug in the treatment of cancer," he said. "I have reports from a thousand doctors showing its benefits on patients hopelessly afflicted with cancer."

Dr. Ivy, now a professor of biochemistry at Roosevelt University, said he has no immediate plans other than continuing to work in his laboratory.

"Why should I leave? I am anxious to have an honestly conducted, scientific test of Krebiozen, and maybe I will conduct one in court."

DATE ACCEPTED

George T. Davis of San Francisco, one of Ivy's lawyers, said the trial probably would last two months and expressed satisfaction at the January trial date.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Ivy and a codefendant, Dr. William F. P. Phillips, 52, an associate of the Krebiozen Research Foundation, pleaded innocent before Judge Julius J. Hoffman.

Dr. Stevan Durovic, 59, a Yugoslavian, who developed Krebiozen, and his brother, Marko, 64, a lawyer, also pleaded innocent.

LONG CONTROVERSY

Dr. Ivy brought Krebiozen to national attention in 1951 and has supported it through a long controversy with medical groups and the government over its effectiveness.

The National Cancer Institute and the U.S. Public Health Service have termed Krebiozen worthless as a cancer treatment after a study of 504 case histories.

British Theater Hires Poet to Rewrite Bard

LONDON (AP) — Britain's National Theater has hired poet Robert Graves to rewrite Shakespeare.

Anticipating cries of horror, it explained that the rewriting will be confined to the comedies. The idea is to get the jokes across to a modern audience.

"We wouldn't dream of touching the tragedies," a spokesman said.

Graves already has made about 300 changes in "Much Ado About Nothing" in preparation for a new production opening Feb. 8. Mostly he has changed single words which have lost their Elizabethan meaning or become obsolete.

Fire Truck on Test While Houses Burn

KUALA LUMPUR (AP) —Firemen at Kajang, 12 miles south of Kuala Lumpur, decided to take their truck and equipment on a test run Wednesday.

They got back an hour later to find 24 houses in a nearby village had burned down.

Got the Truck Back, but Who's Short Hay?

CHERTSEY, England (UPI) —Police here recovered 50 bales of hay found in a stolen truck.

They said the vehicle was empty when it was hijacked three weeks ago, and they now were looking for the owner of the ton of hay.

Dallas Is Changing, but Memory of Tragedy Lingers On

By ROBERT H. JOHNSON JR.

DALLAS (AP) — The driver swings his car into Elm Street. He passes the nondescript orange brick building. The underpass lies just ahead. Once more the prickling begins in the back of his neck.

Here, at this place on the street, the first shot hit.

★ ★ ★

The car slips through the brief shadow of the underpass and turns into Stemmons Freeway. Moving faster, it passes a wide, stark building on the right.

That was where the speech would have been.

IN RUSHING TRAFFIC

Up to 60 now in the rushing traffic, the car flashes past square towers of yellow brick thrusting up beyond a railroad embankment.

And that was where he died.

The tired businessman is heading home. And the prickly feeling, the compulsive recognition of the Texas School Book Depository, of the Triple Underpass, the Trade Mart, Parkland Hospital have become part of his day.

★ ★ ★

This is the way it is in Dallas now, and perhaps always will be, for thousands of people who go home from work a certain way — and who were here on Nov. 22, 1963.

Now, in November, even the weather may be the reminder: A misty morning giving way to a luminous blue sky with the touch of a breeze.

MORE THAN GRIEF

That's the kind of day it was when John F. Kennedy came to town and Lee Harvey Oswald poked his rifle out a window of the Texas School Book Depository and fired the bullets that killed President Kennedy and wounded Gov. John Connally.

There was more than grief in Dallas that weekend a year ago. There were shock, shame and agonizing self-examination. There have been changes in Dallas since.

The people no longer talk much about the assassination, but it lies deep within them.

"Sometimes it comes unbidden," an executive said. "Maybe when you're shaving in the morning, when there is no reason in the world for you to think about it. It's sort of like feeling an old scar. Maybe it hurts only a little, or maybe it doesn't hurt at all any more — but it's there."

REFERENCE POINT

When people mention the assassination it is almost always as a reference point, a landmark in time: "That was before the assassination"..."Since the assassination, I..."

A year ago, questions of personal and community guilt seared Dallas.

Few, if any, in Dallas believe now that the city was to blame, or feel personal guilt. When the Warren Commission report was released, with its comment that the assassination could not be linked to any "climate" in Dallas, newspaper editorials, officials and people on the street said, in effect — see, Dallas is innocent, just as we knew all along.

But the glare of attention had long before made them see something else — that, Dallas had become known as a stronghold of extreme right-wing thought and action. Some had decided to change that.

LAW AND MORALITY

Soon after the assassination, Southern Methodist University began a program of joining with city leaders in examining community problems of law and morality. This is continuing.

Last December, a small group of Democrats formed the North Dallas Democratic Club. By the time of the second meeting, the club had 400 members. By election time it had 1,600 and had changed its name to Greater Dallas Democrats.

★ ★ ★

Last summer, more than 300 leading businessmen formed a group called Businessmen for Johnson. Many of them had been voting Republican since at least 1952. Harry S. Truman in 1948 had been the last Democratic presidential candidate to carry the county.

★ ★ ★

President Johnson carried it on Nov. 3 by a crashing majority. Former Mayor Earle Cabell, a Democrat, defeated U.S. Rep. Bruce Alger, who once identified himself in the House as an extremist. Republicans won only one county office.

MINORITY TO BLAME

"Dallas has always been a progressive, moderate, compassionate city," Cabell said. "Unfortunately, a minority had given Dallas its image a year ago. They were not the true spokesmen of Dallas by any means."

A year ago, Erik Jonsson, then president of the Dallas Citizens Council, a group of top executives who try to guide the city in what they consider its best interests, said: "I think there will be a reevalution here. Time is on our side."

★ ★ ★

This year, as mayor, Jonsson said: "The great tragedy caused by a stranger, in our town renewed our dedication to the goal of balance."

On Jan. 1, Stanley Marcus, president of the Neiman-Marcus Store, bought a half-page ad in each of Dallas' daily newspapers to discuss the problem of "absolutism" in Dallas.

GOOD WINDS

Does he think Dallas still suffers from this problem?

"Have you seen the election results?" said Marcus. "Dallas is changing — there are good winds blowing. There will still be differences of opinion, as there should be. But gradually people are beginning to realize that not only are there two sides to every question but often three or four. So I'm optimistic."

Dallas people are less sensitive now about visiting other cities; they seldom run into the bitter remarks and sneers that met them in the months just after the assassination. When they go into other states, people question them about Dallas — but curiously, not bitterly.

★ ★ ★

And the city has had plenty of visitors. There have been unending conventions, including national meetings of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the American Legion.

Business has never been better. The towers soar, the lights gleam, you can buy his and her gas ascension balloons for Christmas at Neiman-Marcus, SMU's football team is losing but the pro Dallas Cowboys are finally winning a few, the opera season is on, the symphony is bigger than ever, new managers try off and on to make a go of Jack Ruby's old strip joint, and soon the Christmas decorations will be out.

MORE GENTLE

Jonsson has urged the city's ministers to take note of the Kennedy anniversary — especially since Nov. 22 falls on Sunday. They are likely to be more gentle with Dallas than they were a year ago.

On Nov. 25, the Dallas Civic Opera will present a tribute in dance to Kennedy, featuring premier dancers of great ballet companies around the world.

In another year, construction may have started on Kennedy Memorial Plaza. This will be a quiet park a block and a half from the scene of the assassination. The city and public have raised $225,000 for the plaza and for donations to the Kennedy Library in Boston.

From Kennedy Plaza, you will be able to walk to the scene of the assassination — the School Book Depository and the street dropping into the underpass through Dealey Plaza.

Plain people have already made a memorial of Dealey Plaza.

Strolling up from the Union Railroad Terminal and the bus station, or from parked cars bearing all kinds of license plates, they wander through the white colonnades where mourners first brought flowers, and kept bringing them for months. They stand on the grass and stare at the sixth floor window of the depository or at a guessed-at spot on Elm Street.

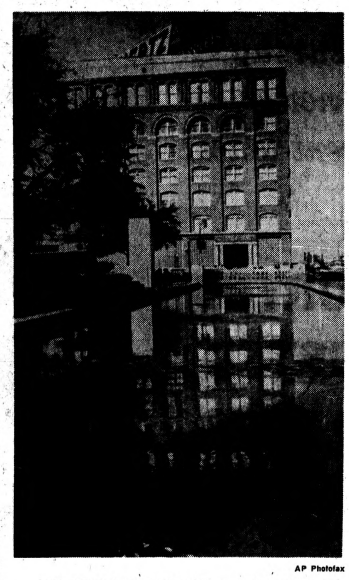

★ ★ ★

And at the bustling Trade Mart now stands a marker "placed in memorial by the friends of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy who awaited his arrival."

Lettered in its base are words of William Blake: "When thou seest an eagle thou seest a portion of genius. Lift up thy head."

★ ★ ★

The ruggedly cast modern eagle spreads its wings for flight atop its tapering stone pedestal. The sun strikes fire from its bronze feathers, and as you look, the light is blinding.

AP Photofax

REFLECTIONS OF THE PAST — Shadow of the nondescript orange brick building known as the Texas School Book Depository plays on the water of Dealey Square lily pond in Dallas. It was from the sixth-floor window, just below the top windows (right), from which the shots were fired that took the life of President John F. Kennedy last Nov. 22.

Hope Is Fading for 2 Hunters

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Hope is fading for the safety of two brothers missing four days in the rough wilderness country of the Superstition Mountains.

The search was to resume today for Richard Kremis, 21, of Mesa, Ariz., and his brother, Robert, 17, of Fredonia, Pa.

★ ★ ★

They have not been heard from since they went deer hunting in the mountain range shortly before a vicious snow storm struck Sunday.

About 500 searchers, including 50 on horseback, fought snow and a chill wind in a futile search Wednesday.

'NOT GOOD'

"Prospects don't look good for finding them alive," said Capt. Bob Heck, head of search and rescue operations for the Maricopa County sheriff's office, "but we won't give up hope."

Innocent Plea Entered by 2

NEW YORK (AP) — Two Florida beach boys flew back to Miami Beach Wednesday night after a quick trip to New York to answer charges they stole $400,000 in gems from the American Museum of Natural History.

Affable and self-assured, Jack (Murf the Surf) Murphy, 27, and Allan Kuhn, 25, pleaded innocent to charges of grand larceny, burglary and possession of burglar tools. They were freed in $20,000 bail each.

They said they had an early morning swim in Florida before they left and were looking forward to an early morning swim there today.

Their lawyer said, "I hope the police find the real thieves and the Star of India, too." The stone, a sapphire, and other precious stones were taken from glass-enclosed exhibits at the museum on Oct. 29.

★ ★ ★

The gems have not been recovered.

Alibi Rings a Bell With Texas Policeman

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI) — When policeman Bob Hicks answered a burglar alarm at a department store, he was confronted by a young man who said he was testing the response to the alarm system.

★ ★ ★

Just how long did it take you to get here? he asked Hicks. Hicks, recognizing a new wrinkle in alibis, arrested the "examiner" for burglary.

Ex-Wife of Les Crane Burned in Philly Fire

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Mrs. Patricia Stein, 34, former wife of television star Les Crane, received burns of the head and legs early today when fire gutted her 12th-floor apartment in the Ambassador Towne House in Center City.

More than half of the 800 occupants of the 17-story building filed quietly to the ground floor lobby as smoke from the blaze filled their quarters. Firemen used air packs to get into the flaming apartment. They extinguished the fire in 10 minutes.

With once-a-week flights between Lagos and New York, Nigeria is the first nation in Africa to offer direct air service to the United States.

It's Rude to Harp on Old Flames

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Isn't it very bad manners on the part of a girl, when she is out on a date with a boy, to talk about her other boyfriends and the places they have taken her to?

I have a friend who always does this. She thinks she is impressing him with her popularity, but I think she is being very rude. I'd like your opinion on this.

★ ★ ★

A: Not only is it rude, but if she keeps it up she will very soon find herself without boyfriends.

Q: Last night while we were having dinner, the telephone rang and my son answered it. He returned to the dining room and said the call was for me, and told me who it was.

Knowing this person to be a great talker, I told him to say that we were in the midst of dinner and that I would call her back later.

My son said she sounded put out because I did not go to the phone and both he and my husband thought it was rude on my part not to have done so.

May I please have your opinion on this matter as it happens quite frequently.

★ ★ ★

A: Asking your son to tell her that you were at dinner and that you would call her back later was not at all rude and your friend should not have been put out because you didn't interrupt your meal to speak to her.

Q: Is it proper to take lump sugar (I mean in a private house where each piece is not individually wrapped) with the fingers, or must one use a teaspoon?

★ ★ ★

A: To take a lump of sugar from a bowl with a teaspoon is sometimes awkward, and if there are no sugar tongs, it is proper to take a lump for one's own cup with the fingers, but the spoon should be used to serve anyone else.

The Emily Post Institute is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

There's 5 Little Reasons for Trying to Save Marriage

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband filed for divorce about five months ago but he isn't doing anything about it.

ABBY

He took a room in town and comes to see us when he feels like it. The kids can't figure out what is going on.

Now he says he doesn't have to divorce me, and he is just going to make me miserable. He says he doesn't have to come back home, either.

We have five children, ranging from 3 to 11.

Should I just go on pretending I don't care what he does, or should I file for a separation?

BROKEN-HEARTED

★ ★ ★

DEAR BROKEN: Why don't you quit playing games and try to save your marriage? A clergyman could help you pick up the pieces if you gave him half a chance.

I can think of five excellent reasons to try — and they range from 3 to 11.

DEAR ABBY: Every Thanksgiving my mother has the family over for a big family meal. This means 10 adults and 14 children ranging from 6 to 18 years old.

Mother is not young any more and she has no one to help her prepare the dinner, but she starts the day before and says she enjoys fixing the turkey and pies, etc.

★ ★ ★

Before dinner, all the women sit with the men drinking highballs and listening to Christmas records while Mom and I set the table.

I help her serve, and the two of us clean up afterward while everyone else sits on their posteriors.

I don't think it's my place to ask the others to pitch in, but wouldn't you think they'd know enough themselves to offer without being asked?

WORN OUT

DEAR WORN: Hints won't help. Recruit the women and teen-aged girls to shoulder some of the load. (Leave the men alone.)

DEAR ABBY: That letter signed "LOVES CHILDREN" took me back five years ago, when we lived in Duarte, Calif. (Los Angeles County) where they had the "block parent" plan, too.

What a comfort it was to know that in every block there was a big sign in the window of some responsible parent's home to let a child know that if he was being bullied by another child, chased by a dog, followed by a stranger, or feeling ill, he could go to that home for help as an island of safety.

The block parents in Duarte were also instructed to notify the sheriff if they saw any strange-looking characters either parked near the school or hanging around where children gathered.

My children have to walk a mile to and from school every day here in Oregon, and I sure do wish they had that block parent plan here. I wouldn't worry so much.

MRS. E. SMITH

DEAR MRS. SMITH: Where the safety of children is concerned, your local PTA would welcome your suggestions.

Why not bring it up at the next PTA meeting? All that is necessary for this plan to work is the cooperation of one mother in every block in your school district.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "ALSO MADE A MISTAKE, BUT WORE WHITE": When I advised thusly: "Don't make two—don't wear white," I did not mean the kind of "mistake" you thought I meant.

★ ★ ★

The mistake was in her first choice. I would not recommend a white, formal, church-type wedding for a divorcee. Sabe, usted?

Feathery Trim Was Turkey's

NEW YORK (AP) — Next week housewives will ponder over what to do with the leftover turkey, but Elizabeth Lawrence has demonstrated what can be done with another Thanksgiving by-product — turkey feathers.

The designer mixed wool jersey, crepe and silk taffeta generously with feathers fresh from the poultry market.

She served up her dish to a handful of fashion writers. Turkey red was the important color with a little cranberry on the side.

Many turkey lovers may cry fowl play, but a commentator explained that these birds are sure to get it in the neck anyway. Furthermore, this new source of feathers can help save the stork, a bird in danger of becoming extinct.

STORK ONCE USED

Now protected by restrictions, the stork once provided the fluffy feather trim called maribou, used to decorate opulent lingerie.

Without giving the exact recipe, the spokesman said that the soft feathers close to the body of the turkey are plucked, bleached, steamed, dyed, and fluffed to achieve the maribou effect.

★ ★ ★

Soft, gray feathers like two downy muffs circled the arms of a model in a pewter gray coachman's wool evening coat. Red feathers dotted the flouncy skirt of a turkey red jersey dinner dress.

A cranberry feather overblouse topped fitted, cuffed satin pants.

FEATHERLESS TAIL

One slim, fitted sheath with a back panel falling to the floor forming a long featherless tail was topped by a red feather empire bodice and another by a red feather shrug. The shrugs are so inexpensive they are sure to be gobbled up this season.

After the show the audience got the bird himself, sliced into diminutive sandwiches, with cranberries on the side.

California fashion designers have given a preview of what will be worn on the beaches and in the back yards around sun tan time. At left Catalina shows a "pure plunge," of silky Antron nylon knit that takes color like magic. This suit with a deep draped front and a back plunge comes in pink, turquoise and black for about $25. Cole of California designed the center suit, one-piece with wide slashed neckline ending in a keyhole cut-out midriff caged in a stretch of dancer's mesh. In black only, it retails for about $24. The suit at right by DeWeese Designs is two-tone sparked by embroidered fish applique and comfortable with a tailored scoop neck and low plunge back outlined by a stretch strap. About $27. All lines are carried locally.

Girl, 5, Resents Aggressive Little Brother

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: My 5-year-old girl is jealous of her little brother. She was complaining about him to me yesterday and I said, "If Bobby went away on a visit to granny, you would miss him and want him back again."

She replied, "I would like to stick a knife into him." Then she said, "I would like to take him up in an airplane and drop him out of it."

If this an indication of emotional problems we have not recognized?

ANSWER: It indicates your daughter's willingness to entrust you with her wish that Bobby didn't exist.

She has not yet received sufficient friendliness from Bobby to make his existence desirable to her.

ARE PESTS

At her age, little brothers and sisters are pests. They eat crayons, grab doll furniture and grin triumphantly when parents scold you for trying to defend yourself against their depredations.

You feel about them exactly as — well, exactly as we feel about our mother-in-law when she says, "I know that John would prefer me to make the pie shell, dear."

* * *

Though we may not say that we want to stick a knife into our grabby mother-in-law we certainly want her grabbiness removed from our lives as passionately as 5-year-olds want the grabbiness of little brothers and sisters removed from theirs.

* * *

Your little girl's references to knives and airplane drops do not mean what they would mean if we thought of these murdering instruments in connection with our mother-in-law.

She knows nothing whatever about the messiness involved in these illegal methods for getting rid of people whose existence is undesirable to us.

For your little girl, talk about knives and airplane drops merely expressed the vividness of her wish to push her pest out of her life and be rid of his aggressions upon her.

We are patient with such a 5-year-old wish because we know that our older child needs time to discover that Bobby can offer more than aggression.

* * *

We listen quietly and sympathetically to the wish for friendliness from him which is expressed by her resentment of his unfriendliness.

We say, "Yes, he's pretty hard to get along with now. But he'll get nicer as time goes by."

New Bathroom Decors

Decor - minded American housewives are paying more attention to decorating their bathrooms and to the accessories than any other room in the home.

* * *

In fact, modern bathrooms are blossoming out like June gardens and keep this decorative effect year-round. The once - popular theme of vivid stripes and multicolored geometric patterns are a thing of the past.

* * *

Today, in the bathroom everything's coming up roses. The newest bath towels and wash cloths are sprinkled with roses, the shower curtain either carries out this idea or is selected in a solid color to match with the rose pattern carried out in embossed white flowers.

* * *

Facial and toilet tissues in the new floral prints extend the decorative plan and often they are displayed in clear plastic holders, instead of in the formerly chosen metal boxes.

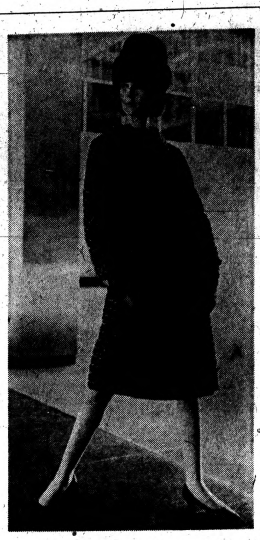

* * *

Some women even carry out the floral theme by painting the pattern on glass and plastic bottles and jars which hold their cosmetic and toiletries supplies.

With a floral printed chintz shade on the window and the efficient new washable cotton carpeting on the floor the bathroom becomes a bower.

Glove Conditioner

Sprinkle the inside of rubber gloves with cornstarch after each use. It keeps them in good condition.

Tweeds, bold in color and bold in pattern, make the most important town coats such as this design by Fernando Bosc for Paul Parnes. The narrow line is softened by big panel pleats, front and back. The tweed is Anglo's, of "Antron" nylon, wool and "Orlon" acrylic, the colors purple and gold. The purple chenille yarn gives a royally rich plush look to the fabric. About $300.

Should Youths Rent or Live at Home?

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

MARY FEELEY

Dear Miss Feeley: We know four young fellows who feel they could do better on their own, living in an apartment, rather than paying board at home. The highest board paid is $20 a week.

Could you give me an idea what it would cost these fellows to live in an apartment for one month. And is $20 a week too much to charge for room and board?

Mrs. J. F., Franklin Park, Ill.

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. F.: If the four of them pool their resources, they could probably find an apartment, pay utilities, and manage their meals in, for the same money they're paying now for room and board at home. But I hardly see where they's save anything.

★ ★ ★

A two - bedroom apartment would likely cost from $180 to $200 a month in a metropolitan locality.

If they were fortunate to find what they wanted at $180, they'd need to figure about $35 for household operating costs per month, and about $30 a week for food.

If each contributed $20 a week, the total of $344 a month would seem sufficient to swing the project.

However, they'd probably discover that this new way of life imposes extra expenses as well as responsibilities. Little things such as laundry, food shopping, perhaps extra transportation, odds and ends of household equipment, all add up.

Then there's the responsibility of signing a lease, and each being dependent on the steady incomes of the other three — and on the temperaments of three other people. But who's to say they can't manage until they try it?

As for whether $20 a week is too much to charge for room and board at home, that depends on the young man's salary and the financial needs of the household.

Dear Miss Feeley: What factors are involved when one wants to pay up an FHA and VA mortgage which still has ten years to go?

Is there a penalty and how much of the unearned interest is required if paid up in advance?

Mrs. C.V., Chicago, Ill.

Dear Mrs. V.: There's a 1 per cent penalty if an FHA-insured mortgage loan is paid off any time during the first 10 years of the mortgage. After that time there's no penalty. And there's no penalty for paying off a VA mortgage ahead of time.

Dear Miss Feeley: We have a 12-year-old who wants to go to college in six years. What is the best way for us to put aside money for this purpose?

My salary is used for household expenses and we have no debts. My wife works, and after deductions, carfare and other extras, has about $50 a week left.

F.P.S., Franklin Square, N.Y.

Dear F.P.S.: If you and your wife feel she can allot $25 or $30 a week towards your child's college fund, you'd have the situation well in hand at the end of six years. Here's how an account in the savings bank at 4 per cent a year interest compounded quarterly would add up:

If $25 a week is saved: first year, $1320; after 3 years, $4,488; after 6 years, $9,179.

If $30 a week is saved: first year, $1583; after 3 years, $5,386; after 6 years, $10,014.

If the savings plan is continued during the child's college years, the sum would amount to $13,444 (at $25 a week) or $17,357 (at $30 a week) at the beginning of his senior year. While most of this would have been spent during his first three years, you would manage to keep a certain amount continually in reserve.

Of course there are other ways of building a fund. But a savings account involves no risk, which is a mighty comfortable feeling when the money is being put aside for a specific and important purpose.

If you put the account in your child's name, and he — or she — has no other income to necessitate filing an income tax return, no tax need be paid on the interest these savings earn.

You can get Mary Feeley's handy Budget Leaflet by writing to her in care of The Pontiac Press. Enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Yard Help Talk Given WNFG

"Help with Our Yards" was the subject of a talk given to Lorraine Manor Branch of the Woman's Farm and Garden Association. Speaker at the Tuesday evening meeting was Tim Jones, landscape designer for Jacobsen's Greenhouses and Garden Town, Lake Orion.

Gifts for the boys of the Lapeer home will be brought to the Dec. 15 meeting in the home of Mrs. Robert Smith, also of Fernbarry Drive.

Save Mom's Time With Plastic Mat

A piece of clear plastic matting at front door and back makes a good storage spot on the spot for muddy boots and dripping rubbers.

Clean-up's easy — just tote the mats to the sink, shake off dried up mud and wash mats with a pine oil cleaner. Dry raingear can go back into the closet — and so can the plastic mats for storing 'til the next rains come.

A la Tom Jones is this bistro shift in all wool double knit by Jonathan Logan. Bareness works in a plunged and ruffled neckline. In pink, black, white and blue in sizes 5 to 15. About $23. Line is available locally.

Why Grow Old?

by JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I have just read a most interesting and informative book by Doctors Sidney J. Robbins and Stephanie H. Robbins, well-known dermatologists, as reported to Sam Sinclair Baker. (Publisher Harper and Row)

The title of the book is "1001 Questions and Answers To Your Skin Problems."

Doctors Robbins say, "The skin is a very flexible organ, sort of an all-covering bag that constantly helps to protect your inner organs from an unceasing attack by bacteria, viruses, fungi and all sorts of potentially dangerous enemies.

"Obviously it pays to try to care for and guard this vital outer covering as well as possible and never 'jump out of your skin.'"

★ ★ ★

We women are always concerned about our complexions but we sometimes fail to remember that the skin of our face is only a small part of one of our most important organs. Total skin weight adds up to about seven pounds for the average woman and about 10 for the average man.

MANY USES

Our skin is so important to us that we cannot lose much of it and live. It helps eliminate waste materials, regulates body temperature and contains a network of nerves.

It is also closely tied in with our health and our emotions. The skin reflects many internal conditions such as jaundice which turns it yellow. Extreme dryness or oiliness may indicate some internal disorder.

We turn pale with fear and blush with shyness. We perspire profusely when we are very nervous. We may break out in a rash when we worry.

★ ★ ★

We are all familiar with "by the skin of our teeth," "she is thin-skinned," "she rubs me the wrong way," "I am going to save my own skin," "Don't jump out of your skin," and many more.

Then there are the gentle touch of the hand and the dependable handshake to warm our heart.

Many people have trouble with itching skin, particularly during the winter months. Even young persons may experience some of this when the weather is cold and dry.

In this latter case the trouble is sometimes abetted by using a lot of soap and then rinsing carelessly. Even young people may require body lotions during this season.

★ ★ ★

From middle age on these are essential. The older person may have real discomfort from itching skin.

Internal disease can cause the itching but more often it is due to the gradual drying out process which goes on in our outer coating.

DRY SKIN

If your skin is very dry, take baths instead of showers. Always use a bath oil, but do not bathe too often. Do not bathe in very hot water; have it just warm. Use a superfatted soap and be sure you dry thoroughly after your bath.

Use body lotions, lubricating creams and oils generously and regularly. Vitamin A is often prescribed for a dry skin. It is important that we take care of our epidermis for the sake of our health as well as our appearance.

A lovely complexion depends on general health and our happy emotions for a good foundation.

If you would like to have my leaflet about skin care send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for "Your Outer Coating." Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

"MY DOLLS"

Doll's Face Same as Its Owner's

What may be the last word in realistic dolls is now available; the logical successor to dolls that talk, walk, cry, shed tears and become damp.

It's a doll that actually has the face of the girl, boy (or adult) that owns it.

★ ★ ★

Called "My Doll," the face is produced from a clear photo of the child it looks like. The face in the photo is enlarged proportionally and transferred to a specially sensitized, highly durable linen which is then moulded and hardened to simulate facial contours and dimensions.

Artists then add skin tone and color the eyes and hair to match your description.

TWO FEET TALL

"My Doll's" body is two feet tall, of cuddly stuffed cloth. She (or he) is fashionably attired in colorful Fun 'n'Sun togs with a scarf or parka. The only hair visible is the hair that shows naturally in the photo.

There's also an 18" "My Doll" for baby, swathed in a terry cloth outfit with hood.

Because each doll requires special treatment, delivery is in about four weeks. Photos are returned undamaged.

★ ★ ★

They should be clear and "straight on" and may be part of a group as long as the head is at least the size of a quarter.

For further information about "My Dolls" contact The Pontiac Press women's department.

Dye Old Cloth for Holidays

One bright idea for a holiday table is to dye an old or an inexpensive new cotton lace cloth in a brilliant Christmas color.

Select a cloth somewhat larger than needed because cotton tends to shrink considerably in a boiling dye bath.

Dye "takes" best on clean fabric, so start by laundering the cloth in hot soap or detergent suds.

More Children Know Family Finances Now

By Gilbert Youth Research, Inc.

It wasn't too many years ago that youngsters knew nothing about the family finances except what they were able to see for themselves.

They had to judge the economic level of their mothers and fathers by what material possessions were evident.

Nobody told them what was going on — except in a negative sort of way when they wanted something their parents couldn't afford.

For some time now, psychologists, educators and authoritative writers have been advising parents of the necessity of letting their offspring know what's going on financially.

★ ★ ★

Is this advice being heeded?

PERTINENT QUERIES

We asked 1228 teen-agers some pertinent questions about the subject — and there's no doubt that things certainly have changed.

Sixty-five per cent of the youngsters said they knew the approximate amount of their family's income.

Seventy-eight per cent said they were informed of financial changes. And 64 per cent said they were consulted about major expenditures.

★ ★ ★

These figures make it very clear which way the trend is.

GIVE ADVICE

Asked whether they felt themselves qualified to give advice to their parents on finances, 57 per cent said they were.

As Jim Corcoran, 16, of Beaver Falls, Pa., put it: "I know a lot about a lot of things."

Another 16-year-old, Sam Kelley, of Fairborn, Ohio, pointed out that he has a job and spends his own money and, therefore, "I think I can advise the family wisely."

★ ★ ★

A 17-year-old girl from State College, Miss., Carolyn Rowze, explained her qualifications this way: "I live in our house as much as anybody and my happiness is wanted too.

FLAIR FOR DESIGN

Also, I have a flair for design and can usually give advice on furnishings."

Among those who felt they shouldn't be consulted about financial matters was Charles Raad, 17, of Camden, N.J., whose reply was typical of many others.

Said he: "It's none of my business or my problem."

★ ★ ★

In all, 29 per cent of those questioned said they preferred not to be worried by family finances until they are older.

Were the teen-agers learning anything from getting a glimpse of the family finances?

Sixty-five per cent said they were — and hoped to put their ideas to good use in their adult years.

Michael Freeman, 17, of Tacoma, Wash., said he had learned that "if you invest, check it out thoroughly, and if you give credit, know the person's background."

★ ★ ★

From 18-year-old Richard Johansen of Salt Lake City, Utah, came this observation: "I've learned to budget to a greater extent and to use more long-range planning of my financial system."

TOO EXPENSIVE

Eddie Corf, 17, of New Hyde Park, N.Y., made this discovery: "Don't get married. It's too expensive."

The best thing Dottie Nisonger, 17, of Fairborn, Ohio, learned was "to plan your expenses way ahead."

Nancy McClure, a 16-year-old from Oklahoma City, has decided to "let my husband handle the finances."

★ ★ ★

Elizabeth Ryker, 19, of Natchez, Miss., came up with a list of things she will do when married: "Have family councils, starting when the child is around 8 years old; do not spend unnecessarily; keep an exact account of all expenditures; and don't make foolish investments."

'Pre-Wash' Dishes With Paper Towel

They are also good for wiping stains from ash trays and grease from glass casseroles or other types of baking dishes and pans before emerging them in water.

A Gift Idea for Christmas

Almost any homemaker will be pleased by a Christmas gift of Belgian linen for the kitchen or the dining table.

★ ★ ★

Choices include jumbo tea towels with holiday designs, calendar towels with snow scenes, red or green tablecloths trimmed with contrasting ball fringe, and place mats and napkins sprigged with wreath designs.

These accessories are practically ageless as the sturdy linen is noted for its washability in hot soap or detergent suds.

Make Silk Lining for Fitted Skirt

When making a fitted woolen skirt, line the back of the skirt halfway down with silk taffeta.

Stitch the lining into the belt and side seams and let the bottom, which has been pinked, hang loose. The lining of the skirt prevents it from stretching.

Can Lead to Divorce

Twin Beds Dangerous

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE U-423: Sue V., aged 19, is soon to be married.

"Dr. Crane," she asked, "I think we should have twin beds in our bedroom.

"But Tom insists on a double bed. He must be old-fashioned.

"For the movies always show twin beds so aren't double beds out of style?"

Twin beds are dangerous! They can lead to divorce.

"But why did the twin bed idea then originate." Sue demands.

Well, it was a compromise by the movie directors back in the early 1900s.

NOT FEASIBLE

For it was not feasible to have the hero and heroine occupy the same bed on the movie screen.

Censors disapproved.

So twin beds were the clever solution, but a very tragic one as regards the divorce rate.

★ ★ ★

For two entire generations of Americans have been reared on the illusory idea that twin beds are "fashionable" and ultra ultra!

Twin beds are about as silly as twin dining room tables where husband and wife sit at separate tables while eating dinner!

Empirical evidence also shows that husbands who start out in twin beds are more likely to seek paramours a few years later.

Wives, please remember that paramours don't use twin beds!

★ ★ ★

Many a "twin bed" husband thus secretly has an affair with a siren who never would think of employing a twin bed.

Go down to the typical divorce court and you will learn the classical symbols of the neurotic American wife seeking a divorce.

Divorce - prone wives are likely addicts of cigarets, and twin beds!

And there is a logical underlying reason.

For example, lack of adequate sexual rapport makes a wife jittery so she resorts to cigarets and liquor to drain off her unexpended sexual energy.

Bridge parties are usually for wives who lack children or enough household duties to keep them busy at home.

And the twin beds are often the basic starting point for addiction to cigarets, liquor and bridge parties! Beware!

When you wives reach the 40-bracket and find your husband showing indifference to your physical charms, or if you realize he is pursuing a younger female somewhere else, then twin beds are a double obstacle.

★ ★ ★

If he still occupies the same double bed with you, it is much easier to win his love back again!

For then your perfume and soft skin and mild erotic aggression can win the battle.

Recipe by Request— It's That Fruit Cake

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Requests have been coming in for us to run Mrs. Dale Swanson's fruit cake recipe again this year. We have given it to a number of readers over the phone, but here it is in print.

It's a beautiful cake to see and delicious to eat.

BRAZIL NUT FRUIT CAKE

By Mrs. Dale Swanson

2 pounds pitted dates
1 pound Brazil nut meats
½ pound California walnut meats, kept whole
1 cup red and green candied cherries
1½ cups sifted flour
1½ cups sugar
1½ teaspoons baking powder
1½ teaspoons melted butter
¼ teaspoon salt
5 eggs, well beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla

Fill each pitted date with a Brazil nut. Line 2 bread pans with waxed paper; this is important. Arrange half the fruit and nuts in attractive design on bottom of pans.

Mix rest of ingredients together, adding beaten eggs last. Mix thoroughly.

Dribble batter over fruit and nuts. Make a second layer with remaining fruit and nuts and cover with rest of batter.

Bake one hour at 325 degrees. Makes 2 loaves of wonderful fruit cake. When sliced, the cake shows an interesting pattern of fruit and nuts.

MR. and MRS. CHARLES F. LONG

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Long will be honored with an open house Sunday. The couple was married Nov. 18, 1914. Their children, who will host the open house in the Longs' Green Lake home, are Mrs. Stephen Steiner of Walled Lake, Royce of Milford, Charles W. of Walled Lake, Harry of Green Lake and Gerald of Middle Straits Lake. A Dye Bath for Blossoms

Gather hydrangea blossoms just as they start to fade. Hang in dry, cool place with blossoms down. When thoroughly dried, they may be bleached by soaking them in a solution of chlorine bleach and water.

Dry again by hanging in a bunch with blossoms down. Later, dye any color you wish in a cold liquid dye bath. Dry again and they are ready for your bouquets.

Baby Cream Protects Skin

NEW YORK — When the wind howls, even an oily skin needs under makeup protection from uncomfortable and beauty marring chapping and windburn.

★ ★ ★

An ideal cream for daytime use under makeup is baby cream which rubs in to become invisible, beauty experts report.

★ ★ ★

It is hypo - allergenic, promotes healing and will keep the skin soft and smooth, even when you spend long hours outside at football games or on the ski slopes.

Cork Up Scissors

Place an ordinary cork over the end of your scissors before placing them in a sewing basket after using.

★ ★ ★

This saves the scissors from damaging the basket, saves the points from being broken if someone happens to drop them point downward — and prevents your fingers from being nicked.

Marble Now for Everyone

Once considered a luxury for the wealthy, marble now enhances even modest homes.

The latest development is marble cut as thin as one-half inch — in various sized tiles.

★ ★ ★

Significantly, these tiles are used in areas that get the hardest wear — foyer floors and kitchen and bathroom countertops — because marble is so durable and easy to keep clean by washing with hot soap or detergent suds.

Some Clothes Can Weather Winter Storms

Men who must be outdoors in stormy weather can keep their trouser legs dry by wearing permanently-creased, plastic pants protectors.

These slip over trousers and attach with elastic to the belt and under shoes.

After each wearing, the transparent protectors should be sponged off with soap or detergent suds, rinse-wiped, and dried. They can be folded and carried in a narrow pocket.

Bad Weather Child's Game

Here's a homemade game the children will enjoy when confined to the house on a bad weather day. Cut the numbers from a calendar and place them in the compartment.

★ ★ ★

Place the tray on the floor and let the children stand three feet away from it and one at a time toss a button at the tray. When one gets a button in a compartment, he wins the number of points designated. The one to get 50 points first is the winner.

New Main Dishes Have Appeal

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

With Thanksgiving looming up in the near future, you are about to begin your busiest season of the year. From next week through New Year's you probably spend more time in the kitchen than at any other period of the year.

It has occurred to us that since poultry of one kind or another is on the holiday menu frequently, you might like some easy main dish recipes using completely different meats. Good as turkey is, too much just depresses your appetite.

How about a corned beef loaf?

CORNED BEEF LOAF

Dad's Favorite Loaf

2 (12-oz.) cans corned beef
½ cup milk
2 grated raw potatoes
1 small onion, grated
1 egg, beaten
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 (8-oz.) can Tomato Sauce
1 teaspoon horseradish
½ teaspoon prepared mustard
1 teaspoon sugar

Combine corned beef, milk, potatoes, onion, egg, salt and pepper. Pack into loaf pan. Mix tomato sauce with horseradish, mustard and sugar. Pour over loaf. Bake for 1 hour at 350 degrees.

★ ★ ★

Serve on thick slices of cooked cabbage. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Not everyone likes liver, we'll agree. If your family is fond of it, here's a new dish made with liver, mushrooms and spaghetti.

Spaghetti and Liver Italiano

1 lb. sliced liver, about ½-inch thick
1½ teaspoons kitchen bouquet
3 tablespoons fat
½ cup finely diced onion
1 can (10½ oz.) tomato puree
1 can (3 oz.) sliced broiled mushrooms
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon oregano
⅛ teaspoon pepper
⅛ teaspoon ground mace
1 tablespoon minced parsley
1 package (7- or 8-oz. size) spaghetti
Parmesan cheese

Drop slices of liver into a skillet with 1 quart boiling water. Drain well on paper toweling. Remove any tubing or skin from liver and cut in finger-length strips.

Place liver in bowl and mix well with kitchen bouquet. Heat fat in large skillet over moderate heat, then brown liver lightly on all sides. Add onion and cook 5 minutes longer.

Stir in tomato puree, mushroom including broth, seasonings, and parsley. Bring to boil and simmer about 5 minutes.

Meanwhile, cook spaghetti in boiling salted water until just tender. Drain. Combine liver, sauce and spaghetti in a heated serving dish. Serve with grated Parmesan cheese. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

BIG BAKED BURGER

Hamburger and French fries . . . it sometimes seems as if teen-agers live on that combination. Turn the tables on them with a giant stuffed hamburger for a dinner entree.

The frozen French fries can be heated in the same oven during the last 30 minutes of baking time.

Big Baked Burger

2 pounds ground beef
1 3-ounce package cream cheese, softened
¼ cup crumbled Blue cheese
1 tablespoon grated onion
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 tablespoon horseradish

★ ★ ★

2 1-pound packages frozen French fried potatoes
Green pepper rings
Cherry tomatoes

Divide beef in half; press one half into bottom of 9-inch pie plate. Cream together cream and Blue cheeses; blend in onion, mustard and horseradish. Spread cheese mixture to within ½ inch of edge of meat in pie plate.

Shape remaining half of beef into 9-inch circle; place over cheese filling in pie plate, pressing around edge to seal. Bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour or until done.

Heat frozen French fries with burger during last 30 minutes. Garnish burger with green pepper rings and cherry tomatoes. Serves 6-8.

SPAGHETTI AND LIVER

Delicate Flavor Comes With Wine

One of the newer flavored gelatin desserts is used here.

Molded Grapefruit Dessert

1 package (3 ounces) pink-colored grapefruit-flavored gelatin
1¼ cups boiling water
¼ cup rose wine
½ cup dry white wine (chablis)

Stir together the gelatin and boiling water until gelatin dissolves. Stir in the rose and white wine. Turn into four ½-cup molds. Chill until set. Unmold. Garnish with fruit if desired. Makes 4 servings.

Luncheon Meat Rims Edge

Need a hearty and filling main dish in a hurry? This luncheon meat, bacon, rice, celery, soup and cheese casserole can be prepared and baked with a minimum of time and effort. Bits of bacon and tomatoes add extra interest and flavor.

★ ★ ★

Add a salad or relishes, and you will have an attractive luncheon or family dinner readily available from staple items.

Budget-wise homemakers keep an extra supply of canned luncheon meat on hand to add interest and variety to their meals as well as for emergencies. Versatile canned luncheon meat can solve the meat problem around the clock.

At breakfast, sliced and browned, it's a perfect companion for eggs, pancakes or waffles. For luncheons, simple suppers or evening treats, it's ideal in casseroles or used in preparing hot and hearty plain or fancy sandwiches.

Luncheon Meat Casserole

1 can (12 ounce) luncheon meat, cut into 6 slices and each slice cut in half crosswise
6 slices bacon, diced
½ cup chopped onion
1 can (1 pound) tomatoes, undrained
1 can (10½ ounce) cream of celery soup
3 cups cooked rice
1 cup shredded pasteurized process American cheese
½ teaspoon dry mustard
3 drops Tabasco sauce

Fry bacon until crisp; drain. Save 2 tablespoons drippings; add onion and saute until soft but not brown. Add tomatoes and soup and bring to simmering stage. Stir in rice, cheese, mustard, Tabasco sauce and ½ of the bacon. Pour into 2-quart casserole.

★ ★ ★

Sprinkle remaining bacon over top. Stand luncheon meat slices upright in rice mixture around edge of casserole. Place in moderate oven (375 degrees) until heated, 20 to 25 minutes. Yield: 6 servings.

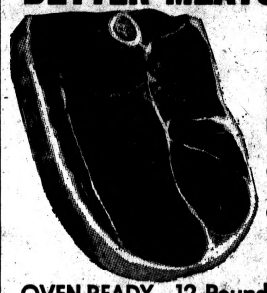

HURRY-UP CASSEROLE — Favorite foods that you may have right on your own shelves are the ingredients called for in this main dish recipe. You can prepare the handsome, hearty casserole quickly and easily.

Recipes for These Old-Fashioned Goodies Will Bring Pang of Nostalgia to Readers

Old-fashioned flavors such as cinnamon, mace, and molasses are wonderful in so many foods —foods pleasantly remindful of one's youth when grandma kept spice cookies in a big cookie jar, and there was always a glass of cold milk to go with them . . . the perect accompaniment for a spicy cookie.

Some older readers will remember back to earlier times when thick homemade cookies were enjoyed in the cool of the buttery or the well-house — and never did food taste so good!

Fun to remember the days of one's youth . . . there were special favorites for every member of the family. One was coconut in cake, on frosted cakes, in custard pie, on puddings and in those wonderful coconut-molasses candies shaped like wee haystacks, or like the "acorns" recipe on this page.

For example, today's homemakers know new and exciting things to do with these old favorites and one of the simplest and most delightful things to do with coconut is to flavor it! Flavor it with molasses (as pictured on the ice cream in the photo). And see how good it is.

The uses of these flavored coconut flakes are endless: sprinkle the molasses-flavored coconut on your favorite frosted cake. It is recommended especially for the following cake mixes: banana, chocolate chip and sugar maple.

Coconut Molasses Acorns

1 cup sugar
¼ cup light corn syrup
½ cup unsulphured molasses
¼ cup hot water
2 tablespoons butter
¼ teaspoon salt
2 cups flaked coconut
6 squares semi-sweet chocolate

In a large saucepan, combine all ingredients except coconut and chocolate. Place over medium heat and cook, stirring occasionally, until a small amount of mixture forms a soft ball in cold water (or to a temperature of 240 degrees).

Remove from heat. Cool about 10 minutes, or to a temperature of 150 degrees. Stir in coconut. Turn out into greased pan and let stand until cold. (Place in refrigerator to hasten cooling, if desired.) Shape into oval balls to resemble acorns.

Heat the chocolate over hot water until partly melted. Then remove from heat and stir rapidly until entirely melted. When chocolate feels cool to the touch (or when cooled to a temperature of 83 degrees), dip ends of the molasses balls quickly in the chocolate; then place on wax paper to harden. Makes about 4 dozen candies.

Crisp Hermits

2 cups sifted cake flour.
2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1 teaspoon ground mace
½ cup granulated sugar
½ cup firmly packed brown sugar
¼ cup milk
½ cup butter or other shortening
2 eggs, well beaten
1 cup dark seedless raisins
½ cup chopped California walnuts

Or use 1¾ cups unsifted cake flour.

Sift flour, baking powder, salt, spices, and granulated sugar. Mix brown sugar and milk. Cream shortening; add flour mixture, brown sugar mixture, and eggs; stir until all flour is dampened. Then beat vigorously 1 minute. Add raisins and nuts and mix well.

Drop by teaspoonfuls onto greased baking sheets. Bake at 350 degrees for 15 minutes, or until golden brown. Makes about 3½ dozen.

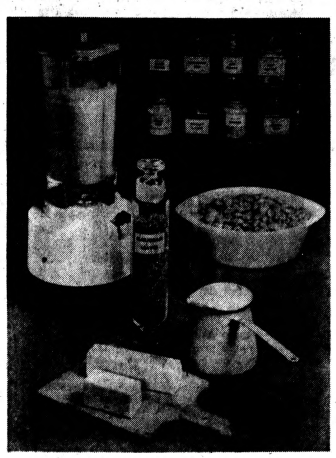

NOTE: Store cookies in airtight container.

Note: If desired, substitute 1 cup granulated sugar for ½ cup brown sugar and ½ cup granulated; sift all the sugar with flour mixture.

Molasses Mint Coconut

1 tablespoon unsulphured molasses
5 drops peppermint extract
1 cup flaked coconut

Add molasses and peppermint extract to coconut in small bowl. Mix well to blend flavors. Use to coat hors d'oeuvres such as pineapple chunks or cream cheese balls. Or use as topping for desserts, salads, or hot breads.

SPICED LIMA BEAN PUREE — Spiced Lima Bean Puree couldn't be easier, or more appetizing with the hint of marjoram rising from it.

Queen of Herbs

Marjoram Gives Zest

Cooking vegetables to bring out their best natural flavors is one of the culinary fine arts. Start them in boiling, salted water, no more than needed to keep them from sticking, then cook only until crisp-tender. This will produce good vegetables. But, for exquisite vegetables, add a dash of seasoning.

Marjoram, say home economists of the American Spice Trade Association, is one of the most flavorful herbs for vegetables. Use it, as they have in the recipes which follow, with lima beans, spinach, carrots and mushrooms.

It's an intriguing addition to green salads, as well, and vegetable relishes. It doesn't take much marjoram — about ½ teaspoon per 4 to 6 servings is right.

Because of its versatility, marjoram is called "the Queen of Herbs." Use it with lamb chops, roast beef, pork, veal or chicken; in omelets, souffles, stews, soups, stuffings. In general, marjoram gives us an easy and inexpensive short-cut to distinguished flavor for a long list of dishes.

If you catch a hint of oregano in the aroma of marjoram, that's because these herbs are both mint relatives. Oregano is stronger in flavor and, because of this, has a more limited use than "sweet marjoram."

Marjoram can be purchased in either ground or whole form. Whenever practical, add it to soups, sauces and stews during the last five minutes of cooking. Such brief heating gives us the best aroma of the herb.

In stuffings and meat loaves the herbs and other seasonings must be stirred into the mixture before they are heated.

Spiced Lima Bean Puree

2 pkgs. frozen lima beans
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons cream
1 teaspoon ground marjoram
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon ground ginger
Paprika

Cook beans according to directions on package until tender. Drain. Put next 5 ingredients into glass top of blender. Cover and place on low speed until beans are liquefied. Heat. Serve with sprinkle of paprika on top. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Spinach and Sour Cream

2 pkgs. frozen spinach
½ pint sour cream
¼ teaspoon sugar
¾ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper
½ teaspoon ground marjoram
2 large hard-cooked eggs

Cook spinach according to directions on package. Drain, add sour cream, sugar, salt and seasonings. Stir gently over low flame until heated thoroughly. Garnish with grated or thinly sliced hard-cooked eggs. Yield: 8 servings.

Two Chickens Means Duet of Dressings

Holiday time is party time, and Twin Roast Chickens are just the ticket for festive dinner parties. Roast the birds in the usual fashion, suggests the National Broiler Council, and provide each with a different stuffing for guests to choose from.

Begin with prepared dressing, add your own ingredients for a special touch — chestnuts, wild rice, mushrooms, oysters, chopped prunes and apricots. Another plus for twin chickens — buy them two-to-the-bag in the supermarket for real value.

Pudding Has Tomato Soup as Liquid in It

Just in case you would enjoy serving a steamed pudding for the Thanksgiving holiday dinner, and you haven't time to make the dessert from scratch, we offer this strictly up-to-date recipe.

It's a version of the tomato-soup cake that has become part of American culinary lore. But alongwith a can of the soup, this pudding uses a package of cake mix.

Steamed Pudding

1 package (about 1 pound and 3 ounces) spice cake mix
1 can (10¾ once) condensed tomato soup, undiluted
3 eggs
½ cup finely chopped pecans
½ cup chopped seedless raisins
¼ cup chopped pitted dates

Into a mixing bowl, turn the cake mix, undiluted tomato soup and eggs; mix according to package directions. Fold in nuts, raisins and dates.

Pour into a greased 2 quart melon mold. Cover tightly. Place on na trivet in a large kettle.

Add boiling water to one half the height of the mold. Cover kettle; steam for 2 hours.

Remove mold from water; uncover and loosen edges of pudding with a spatula. Unmold while hot; serve with a fluffy pudding sauce.

New Spice Cookbook Boon to Timid Cooks

A new cookbook just published proves that spice and herb cookery need not be complicated, time consuming nor expensive.

Called, "The McCormick Spices of the World Cookbook," it has over 700 spice recipes and is a complete reference work on the origin, history and correct use of all the popular as well as little known spices.

★ ★ ★

The book was developed in the Home Economics Department of McCormick & Company, one of the country's leading manufacturers of spices.

Mary Collins, Home Economics Director for the company, notes that, "Many women would like to use more spices in their cooking but are afraid to experiment. One of the purposes of our new cookbook is to help them find uses for those spices already on the shelf and also to learn about other spices."

To accomplish this, McCormick has included a comprehensive encyclopedia section in the book which explains the origin of 96 spices, the kinds of dishes in which they are used, and suggested amounts of each spice to be used for specific amounts of food.

The spices listed range from such commonly used items as cinnamon and pepper to the exotic and little known spice — saffron.

Recipes are planned to provide certain common denominators for approaching spice cookery. "The seasoning of food must vary to suit the tastes of those who are being served," Miss Collins notes, "and these tastes can differ greatly."

★ ★ ★

Homemakers are advised to use all seasonings in small quantities, particularly if it is a new flavor. One may always add more to the spice desired, but it is impossible to correct or remove seasoning if too much has been used initially.

The book advises that, "Well seasoned food, very simply, is food that has been made to taste especially good without any predominating flavor. It is food that has been given a bit of flavor variety — through correct use of spices and herbs."

The back of the book contains a complete spice index listing every spice used in the book and the recipe in which it is used. There is also a comprehensive general index.

★ ★ ★

"The McCormck Spices of the World Cookbook" is being published by McGraw-Hill. Price of the book is $7.95 for the regular edition and $9.95 for the deluxe easel-back edition.

Here's a recipe from the new book.

Spiced Flaming Fruit

1 8-ounce can dark sweet cherries
1 8-ounce can sliced peaches
1 8-ounce can pear halves
1 8¾-ounce can Kadota figs
¼ teaspoon McCormick Coriander Seed
1 piece McCormick whole Ginger, broken
4 McCormick whole Allspice
4 McCormick whole Cloves
⅛ teaspoon McCormick Fennel Seed
1 teaspoon McCormick Lemon Extract

Drain cherries and discard juice. Drain the other fruit and combine juice in saucepan. Tie spices in cheesecloth bag and add to juice; bring to a vigorous boil. Pour juice over combined fruits and cool. Refrigerate overnight.

When ready to serve, pour fruit and juice in chafing dish and heat. Pour extract over fruit and light. Serve in individual bowls topped with soft Cinnamon Ice Cream or table cream. Serves 6 to 8.

Applesauce Mold Complements Fowl

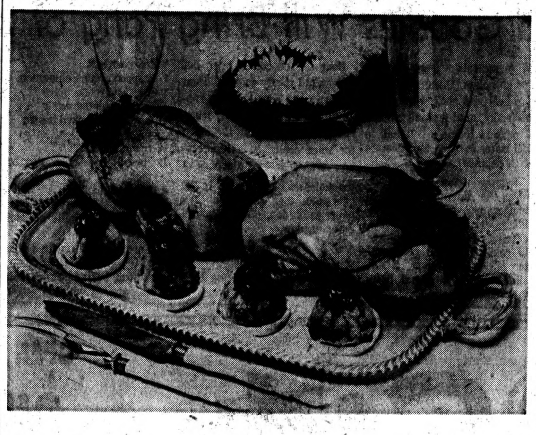

Along with the turkey, sweet potatoes and broccoli, a cooling gelatin salad will be mighty pleasant eating. This salad combines a zesty lemon-lime flavor with applesauce.

Applesauce-Lemon Ring

2 packages lime flavored gelatin
2 1 lb. cans applesauce
1 tablespoon bottled lemon juice

Add 1½ cups hot water to 2 packages lime flavored gelatin. Stir until thoroughly dissolved. Stir in 2 cans applesauce and 1 tablespoon bottled lemon juice; pour into 1½ quart ring mold; chill until set. Turn out on platter, fill with creamed cottage cheese.

Ever saute onions and apples together to serve with meat or poultry?

PRUNE YUM-YAMS — Mashed yams take on a different air when mixed with chopped prunes and orange juice, then baked. For serving, turn out the little mounds onto slices of orange and top with a whole prune.

Yams With Prunes Are Companion to Fowl

First thing you'll notice about Prune Yum-Yams is that they're light as a cloud, so fluffy they're practically a golden froth. Crowding that fact close is the unexpected spirited taste of them.

★ ★ ★

Yams by nature, are, of course, softly mellow in flavor. But heat them up with butter, whip them up with egg, add orange juice and cinnamon and they begin to come to glory. As a grand finale, stir in chopped prunes, winey and tart-sweet and bursting with rich fruit tang. Then bake . . . and out from the oven the Yum-Yams come, golden brown, fragrant, fruity, deliciously savory.

In serving, it's decorative (and also flavorful) to set each Yum-Yam on an orange slice and top with a whole prune. Serve them this way as a festive accompaniment with holiday ducks, or turkey, or chicken.

They're grand with baked ham, too. And, for an everyday family meal, they can turn a platter of plain frizzled sausages into a gala affair.

Prune Yum-Yams

1 can (1 pound 2 ounces) yams (or sweet potatoes)
¼ cup butter or margarine
1 egg, beaten
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ cup orange juice
1½ cups plumped pitted prunes, chopped
6-8 orange slices
6-8 whole plumped prunes

Heat yams with butter or margarine until butter melts. Mash with egg, salt and cinnamon. Add juice and beat until very smooth and creamy. Stir in chopped prunes.

Pack mixture into 6 or 8 greased small molds or custard cups. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, about 35 minutes, or until browned and firm to the touch. Loosen edges and turn out as soon as taken from oven.

★ ★ ★

To serve, place each little Yum-Yam flat side down on a slice of orange. Top each with whole prune. Arrange around Duck, Turkey, or Chicken and serve as vegetable accompaniment. Makes 6-8 servings.

To plump prunes, soak overnight in water — 1 quart water to 1 pound prunes.

Toasted Walnuts Have Delightful Flavor

To toast California walnuts, first drop kernels into rapidly boiling water, boil three minute then drain well. Spread evenly in shallow pan and bake at 350 degrees, stirring often, 15 to 20 minutes, until golden.

★ ★ ★

Serve plain, or while hot, brush lightly with butter and sprinkle with salt or seasoned salt. Cool.

'Burger Cups Corn Filled

Having trouble getting your children to enjoy their vegetables? Then team golden nuggets of vacuum - packed corn with always - popular hamburger in this novelty recipe for Basket Corn Burgers.

The hamburger baskets are baked in muffin cups and filled with canned corn spiced with catsup and mellow shreds of cheese. With the first bite your eager eaters will exclaim, "Gee, mom, these are like cheeseburgers without buns!"

To prepare these perky Basket Corn Burgers, season 1 pound lean ground beef with salt and pepper to taste. Divide seasoned meat into 8 equal portions.

Pat onto bottoms and sides of large aluminum foil-lined muffin cups. (Let foil extend above edges of muffin tin for easy removal.) Bake in preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) about 20 minutes.

While meat is baking, open and drain one 12-oz. can vacuum pack golden whole kernel corn. Combine drained corn with ½ cup catsup and ½ cup shredded American cheese. Spoon mixture into meat cups.

Bake an additional 5 minutes or until cheese is melted and corn is heated through.

Crisp Noodles Hold Creamed Eggs

"Little goat bleat; little table appear!" And there, in one of Grimm's most delightful fairy tales, stood a table covered with the most delectable foods. No fuss. No muss. Just the abracadabra and dinner was served.

Instead of magic words we have, today, a tremendous choice of convenience foods. Canned, frozen, dehydrated. In film, tin, paper, glass. From soup to nuts there are heat-and-eat foods which may be served alone, as is, or combined in appetizing ways.

When it comes to giving homemade individuality to these easy dishes there are ever-ready, twist - of - the - wrist seasonings. Take instant minced (or chopped) onions for example.

The onions grown for dehydration have been specially developed for high solids and low moisture. In the last five years the use of dehydrated onion has increased greatly, more than keeping pace with the increased use of convenience foods generally.

Instant minced onions need almost no reconstituting. Add them, right out of the container, to any mixture with plenty of liquid. Soak them a minute or two in an equal amount of water, however, when they are to be sauteed.

★ ★ ★

Shower them over salad greens or into a dressing, for here, too, there is enough moisture to replace that lost in dehydration.

Creamed Eggs with Asparagus

¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup flour
2 cups milk or 1 cup milk and 1 cup chicken stock
6 hard-cooked eggs, diced
1 tablespoon instant minced onion
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon ground marjoram
⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper
2 pounds fresh asparagus (cooked in 1 teaspoon salt)
1 3-ounce can (2 cups) chow mein noodles
12 strips crisp bacon

Melt butter or margarine in a saucepan. Blend in flour. Remove from heat and stir in milk or milk and chicken stock. Stir and cook until of medium thickness.

Add eggs, instant minced onion, salt, marjoram and black pepper. Mix lightly. Place asparagus on chow mein noodles, over which spoon creamed eggs. Top each serving with 2 strips crisp bacon.

Serve as a luncheon or supper dish. Yield: 6 servings.

Close Calls, Questions, Crowds Highlight Tour of Spaceship

By HAROLD R. WILLIAMS
Associated Press Aerospace Writer

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The angry truck driver bellowed at the Monticello, Fla., policeman.

"Throw me in jail. But park that truck next to the cell window where I can watch it. Gordon Cooper's spaceship is in there."

The skeptical policeman looked inside the big moving van. Sure enough, there sat the Faith 7 Mercury space capsule.

The truck driver stayed in jail two hours until a $50 bond had been wired from his employer in Dallas. He was held because he did not have a $1 Florida cab permit.

★ ★ ★

He continued the journey to Tallahassee, one stop in a nationwide tour of the 50 state capitals and Washington D.C. The tour ends this month with stops at Juneau, Alaska, and Jackson, Miss.

TOSSED IN CLINK

Getting its driver thrown in the clink was one of several incidents that happened to the capsule since it started the tour Sept. 21, 1963 in Oklahoma City, Okla., Cooper's home state.

Most of the police in Virginia started looking for the capsule when it didn't show up in Richmond on time.

The panic button was almost pushed before the spaceship was found safely tucked away for the night in a state highway maintenance garage.

A truck driver saved the capsule from great damage on the mountainous trek between Salt Lake City and Denver.

★ ★ ★

A speeding car zipped around a hairpin curve on the wrong side of the road. The truck was forced over a steep embankment.

KEPT IT UPRIGHT

Bob Gordon, exhibit chief of the Manned Spacecraft Center here, said the truck driver stayed with the truck and kept it upright. The van would have rolled down the mountainside and probably caused some damage to the historic $1-million spacecraft if the driver hadn't done what he did, Gordon said.

As it turned out, only a truck fender was bent.

A young boy in Topeka, Kan., was trying to knock off a knob on the side of the capsule. He said he wanted it for his "wish chest." "I want to be an astronaut," he explained.

So many persons turned out to see the spaceship in Jefferson City, Mo., that it caused the worst traffic jam in the city's history.

★ ★ ★

At Santa Fe, N.M., and Little Rock, Ark., tents had to be set up outside auditoriums, because the capsule was too big for the doorways.

A North Dakota couple drove 250 miles to Cheyenne, Wyo., to see it. They were so impressed they drove back to their home and brought their grandchildren back the next day.

A little girl in Pierre, S.D., refused to leave until she had a ride. Her father told her that no rides would be given until all the people in line had seen the craft. The line was two blocks long.

An escort from the Manned Spacecraft Center accompanies the capsule at all times. They compiled a list of seven questions most often asked.

They are: (1) "Where did he get in? (2) Where did he get out? (3) Which way was he going? (4) Where is the heat shield and what is it made of? (5) How much does it weigh? (6) how hot did it get? and (7) How did he go to the bathroom?

MANY QUESTIONS

Ben James, an escort who has been with the capsule on many stops, said questions also seemed to characterize different sections of the country.

"For instance," he said, "most of the money questions come from the East Coast, while in the wide-open spaces out West, the comments and questions are about the small size of the capsule and how cramped it must have been."

Youngsters amaze the escorts with a thorough knowledge of the space program.

One blind youth in Des Moines, Iowa, carefully explained Cooper's entire mission to his mother by running his hands along the spacecraft's exterior.

★ ★ ★

Gordon estimates that more than 2 million persons have viewed Cooper's Faith 7. Also on tour from the space agency were John Glenn's Friendship 7, Walter Schirra's Sigma 7 and Scott Carpenter's Aurora 7.

100 PESOS

In Santiago, Chile, the government charged 100 pesos, about seven cents American currency, for each viewer. Several hundred dollars were collected and given to a local orphanage.

All of the spaceships now are in the United States. Schirra's is on exhibit in Philadelphia, Carpenter's is at the New York World's Fair and Glenn's is in the Smithsonian Institution.

Youthful Hero Will Get Job Back Next Month

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — There's going to be a happy ending to the story of the underage bellhop whose alertness foiled a double motel holdup and also lost him his job.

His boss says Paul D. Anthony will be back lugging suitcases next month —when he is 16. Mayor Victor Schiro will give the youthful hero a merit award Friday.

★ ★ ★

The youngster, a high school sophomore who bellhopped at night, says he is delighted. He has no hard feelings about his ironic reward —unemployment.

"It struck me as being kind of funny," he said, "in a sad way. It seemed like something happening in a comedy.

NOT MAD

"I wasn't really mad about it. I'd have died laughing if I read about it happening to someone else.

"But I'm glad to be going back to work. And I'm glad nobody got hurt."

The dark-haired youngster, who worked as a relief bellboy two or three days a week after school until 11 p.m. was at home chatting on the telephone Sunday with room clerk Joseph F. Gillin.

Suddenly, the conversation stopped. Paul overheard a gunman threaten to kill the clerk.

CALLED POLICE

Paul hung up and called police. Officers nabbed the holdup man as he tried to rob a nearby second motel.

Paul's newspaper fame was his professional undoing.

★ ★ ★

Child labor laws allow 15-year-olds to work only from 3 to 6 p.m. or from 4 to 7 p.m. — not long enough for the bellhop's job.

Barbara Lewis, state Labor Department representative, left a work permit application with motel manager David Rizzuto.

"I didn't go to the motel to knock the boy out of a job," she said. "We want all young people to work if they can.

WORK PERMIT

"But we want them to have work permits so they are legally employed and qualify under workmen's compensation."

Manager Rizzuto had to let Paul go. But Tuesday the Labor Department pointed out 16-year-olds can work until 10 p.m., eight hours a day, 44 hours a week.

Paul will be 16 on Dec. 17.

"When he turns 16," said Rizzuto, "we'll fill out his work permit application and he can have his job back if he wants it."

Gen. Bradley Honored

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Omar N. Bradley, a World War II commander, has received the award — the George Catlett Marshall Medal. Bradley, now retired, is board chairman of the Bulova Watch Co.

Will Aid Probe —Minuteman

NORBORNE, Mo. (AP) — "If the House Committee on Un-American Activities wishes to investigate the Minutemen, we will be glad to cooperate," said Robert B. DePugh.

DePugh, 41, a manufacturer of livestock remedies, heads the secret organization.

Rep. Charles S. Joelson, D-N.J., said Tuesday it is an armed organization that favors forcing government policies by violent means and should be investigated by the House committee.

"His insinuation that the Minitemen is a Fascist organization is pure propaganda," DePugh said. "The one and only purpose of our organization is to help preserve our traditional form of constitutional government.

"We are going into a period of the one-party system, such as now exists in the Soviet Union. We are on the verge of a Socialist dictatorship. I'm going to keep warning the people of this fact as long as I am able."

Parking Meters Off for Dowagiac Holiday

DOWAGIAC (AP) — Downtown shoppers here have their Christmas present from the chamber of commerce. The City Council has granted the chamber's request to cover parking meters in the business district Dec. 14-24 to allow free parking in a period traditionally noted for last-minute Christmas shoppers.

U.S. Astronaut Colony in Population Explosion

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI) — America's astronaut colony is in the midst of a population explosion.

By this time next year, as many as 50 young and healthy men — and possibly even some women — may be training to make the U.S. space flights ranging all the way to the moon.

As recently as 26 months ago, there were only seven — the original Mercury astronauts. The federal space agency added two more groups to raise the pool level to 28.

About 10 to 15 "scientists-astronauts" as they are called are expected to climb aboard the program next spring. Among them may be the nation's first female astronaut, bidding for a ride to the moon.

Then, along came Brig. Gen. Joseph S. Bleymaier to report the Air Force will select astronauts six at a time for the manned orbital laboratory (MOL) it hopes to install in orbit around earth in late 1967 or 1968.

Bleymaier disappeared before anyone could ask him when the selections would start. But, if everything goes well, that could come before the end of 1965.

★ ★ ★

"Going well" means that Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara still had to give MOL, possibly the forerunner of military "spy in the sky" stations in space, an official go-ahead. At least a preliminary decision is expected soon.

The Air Force is going ahead as if approval were a foregone conclusion.

★ ★ ★

Bleymaier, addressing the third International Symposium on Bioastronautics and Exploration of Space, said requirements for MOL astronauts include a college-level degree in science and engineering and a certificate of graduation from the Air Force astronaut's school in California.

1ST SIX MONTHS

The astronauts, half a dozen at a time, will first take six months of basic training in space mechanics.

VISITOR FROM NORTH — Owen McCormick of Hinsdale, N.H., holds a great snowy owl he picked off a fence post and has made a pet. The East Coast is experiencing an invasion of the huge birds from the arctic. The Audubon Society attributes the unsual migration to a shortage of arctic lemmings, the main food supply of the birds.

Arctic Owls Invade East Coast

LINCOLN, Mass. (AP) — It's a vintage year for the great snowy owl.

"We are being invaded; it isn't a migration," says Wayne Hanley of the Massachusetts Audubon Society.

The big bird, which has a wingspread of more than five feet, is normally happy to stay in the arctic. Within the past few days, however, the society has received reports of some 60 sights in New England. They also have been seen as far south as the Carolinas.

Two days ago one was shot illegally in Belvidere, N.J., when it perched atop a television antenna. It is never legal to shoot the bird in Massachusetts, but some states do not have it on the prohibited list because the bird is so scarce it never occurred to the lawmakers.

FORCED TO FLY

Ornithologists believe the snowy owl is forced out of the arctic when his chief food supply, the lemming, is scarce.

Lemmings, mouselike creatures, are notorious for a boom and bust life cycle. In Scandinavian countries they have been sighted toppling off cliffs in search of food. In other years they are a rarity.

★ ★ ★

"The owls have a hard time when an early snow gives the lemmings a chance to hide in tunnels," says Hanley. "We hear there has been a lot of early snow far north."

Owen McCormick of Hinsdale, N.H., sighted an owl perched on a fence post as he drove along a country road one night. He stepped from his car and grabbed it by the legs. Now the owl is content to feast on hamburger in place of lemmings.

FEED ON GROUND

Hanley says most owls are sighted along the treeless seacoast because they are accustomed to feeding on the ground.

★ ★

"They don't know much about trees. They like to perch on the straddles in the Newburyport marshes."

★ ★ ★

A straddle is a row of small posts, often set in a circle, on which farmers build a haycock when they harvest salt hay.

Now the great snowy owl, which hunts in the daytime, straddles the straddle to pounce on New England field mice.

Columbia Awards Ike Engineering Medallion

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, once a second engineer in a refrigeration plant, has received a medallion from the Columbia University school of engineering and applied science.

"My connections with engineering were a long time ago," said Eisenhower last night at the school's centennial dinner. He recalled that his two-year refrigeration job was between his high school and West Point years.

Area Economy Held Up OK in October

October 1964 will not go down in the books as a recordbreaker for Pontiac area business unless it is for the way business held up so well in the face of three idle GM plants for most of the month.

Bank debist to customers' accounts were $127,619,570., only $1 million below the previous month and approximately $9 million ahead of October 1963.

Industrial payrolls were $16,848,371, actually ahead of September by about $100,000 and 2 million dollars above the same month a year ago.

Postal receipts were just below September 1964 at $181,318 and more, than $15,000 below October a year ago.

Building permit statistics are hard to analyze since they include remodeling and demolishing.

For example, October's total permits of 238 come to $750,610 total compared with the previous month's 157 for a total of $519,415. In October 1963, new construction was valued at $2,012,194 but only 194 permits were issued.

Residential or dwelling permits were up slightly from September, but still far below a year ago.

Gas consumption was off slightly from the previous month but way below the same month last year. Both October and September this year reflect the idle days at the GM plants.

The big difference was a drop in electrical consumption reflecting the huge amount of electricity used by the plants.

Water consumption and bus and airline patronage also dropped somewhat.

Regents to Tackle Issue in California

Student Politicking Big Problem at University

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Regents of the University of California are about to tackle the thorny issue of whether to permit students to engage in politico-social action on campus — and what to do if students are convicted for such activity off campus.

A small but aggressive minority of the more than 27,400 students has defied a long-standing rule against such action.

After several weeks of intermittent demonstrations, inquiries and committee recommendations, the regents are to take up the whole business Friday during their regular session.

Involved were suspensions of eight students — after some had collected money on campus for civil rights work in the Deep South — and the encirclement of a university police car for two days and nights to prevent jailing of a non student for on-campus activities.

SIT-IN DEMONSTRATIONS

Another problem was the conviction earlier of some university students for sit-in demonstrations in San Francisco in support of more jobs for Negroes.

The regents face this question: Should they reaffirm the defied rule — that there shall be no solicitation of funds and no recruitment of members on campus for off-campus political purposes?

Freedom of speech is thus denied, the dissidents charge.

A faculty committee which investigated the complicated situation has recommended lifting the rule; but if a student's on-campus actions lead to off-campus conviction for a law violation, then he also would be subject to university action. That would be double jeopardy, the dissidents insist.

The dissidents have banded together some 18 off-campus political organizations under the name of the Free Speech Movement. They put their strength at about 3,000. Opponents say this figure is exaggerated.

★ ★

Focal point of the dispute is a 26-foot strip of sidewalk at Sather Gate on the campus. Through the years student action there has violated the rules — but it had been tolerated.

On Sept. 21, the dean of students, Katherine Towle, dropped a bombshell by ordering enforcement of the no-politics rule.

There is confusion about precisely what brought the sudden enforcement. University President Clark Kerr said it simply was a built-up case of the Sather Gate area being "quite unregulated."

★ ★ ★

Everything came to a head Sept. 30. Eight students were suspended. There was a mass sit-in demonstration.

A nonstudent demonstrator was arrested and the police car taking him to jail was surrounded.

Demonstrators crushed in its top standing on it to make speeches.

IN THE END

Five hundred police were called in from outside. In the end there was a parley.

Agreement was reached not to prosecute the arrested demonstrator. A committee was set up to investigate.

★ ★ ★

Demonstrators claimed victory and again set up fund-collection tables. The investigating committee was dismissed.

One faculty committee sharply criticized the university for its handling of the eight suspensions. The students were wrong, the committee said, but had good intentions.

JOINED STUDENTS

Some 200 graduate student teaching assistants joined the students.

Then, another faculty committee studied the entire matter and came up with a recommendation for a compromise solution.

Now it's up to the board of regents.

Pig Has Personality

SEYMOUR, Ind. (AP) — This little piggy went to market, but it came right back.

It wanted to be at its favorite trick — stealing ears of corn from its pal, a Shetland pony named Goldie.

Sold to a new owner, Porky the Pig broke out of his pen several times and trotted the quarter-mile to his old home and his pal, Goldie, on Robert Hirtzel's farm near Seymour.

Considerably irked, Porky's new owner, Gerald Jaynes, carted the offspring of Berkshire-Poland China ancestry to a Seymour locker plant to have it butchered.

★ ★ ★

Porky broke out again. Forty-eight hours and five miles later, he turned up again at his old home.

BOUGHT BACK

Touched by the 100-pound pig's love for his old home — and Goldie, Mrs. Hirtzel induced Jaynes to sell Porky back to the Hirtzels.

"I feel Porky has won his right to live a little while longer," Mrs. Hirtzel said.

Trading Simmers Down

Stock Mart Advance Snagged

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market's three - day rally foundered on profit taking today. The pace of trading simmered down.

The list presented a mixed picture—mainly factional gains and losses.

Du Pont, which spearheaded the advance to new highs this week, also led the decline. It was posted at a loss of more than 5 points as it sold ex dividend $2.75 in cash and also went ex distribution half a share of General Motors — as it cleaned up its remaining 23-million-short court-ordered divestiture of GM stock.

GM nudged ahead slightly in a do-nothing motor group. Also largely unchanged were the top steelmakers. Bethlehem edged higher.

DROPS 2

International paper, still reacting to the drop in Canadian newsprint prices, slumped about 2 points.

The low-priced issues which dominated the most-active list Wednesday continued briskly traded.

Building materials, drugs and mail order-retails were mostly lower. Aerospace stocks were mixed but United Aircraft climbed more than a point.

Union Carbide posted a 1-point gain in the irregular chemical section.

SHADE LOWER

Nonferrous metals also moved a shade lower on balance.

Opening blocks included: Ford, unchanged at 58¼ on 2,500.

★ ★ ★

Wednesday the Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 2.1 to 332.4, a record closing high. Prices were irregular on the American Stock Exchange.

Trucks constitute about 15 per cent of the registered vehicles in the United States.

Sees Economy Slowing Down

Lower U. S. Growth Rate Forecast for '65

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The growth rate of the American economy will slow down next year, the annual Michigan Econometric Forecast predicted today.

The Gross National Product will rise 4 per cent in 1965, compared to 7 per cent this year, Prof. Daniel Suits, director of the University of Michigan Seminar in Quantative Economics, told the opening session of the 12th annual Conference on the Economic Outlook.

★ ★ ★

However, the predicted $652-billion GNP will result in record employment and output next year, he said. Suits estimated employment will reach 71.5 million with unemployment at 3.7 million.

Some 1.3 million more persons will work while the unemployment rate will drop 0.4 per cent to 4.9 per cent.

PROFITS TO DECLINE

Corporate profits also should decline slightly next year, Suits said, bringing a "certain amount of profit squeeze." He noted American industry is running at 90 per cent of capacity and labor costs of even a modest expansion would eat up further profits.

The 1965 econometric forecast did not take a proposed $500-million excise tax cut into account. Suits said the influence of such a tax cut would not be large enough to make much difference in the economy as affected industries.

Consumption expenditures will rise to $418.5 billion, an increase of $18.2 billion over this year, Suits said. More than half the gain will come in spending for services, particularly in housing and household operations.

Nondurable goods will take up most of the remainder of the increase. Nearly $5 billion more is expected to be spent on food and an additional $2.1 billion on clothing and shoes.

AUTO SPENDING

Auto spending ies expected to decline about $1 billion next year, the only major sector of the economy to show a decline. Suits predicted auto makers will sell 7.5 million new cars, a decline of as many as 500,000 from this year.

PERFORMANCE PAYS — Pleased with the operation of these GMC Toro-Flow four-cycle diesels, Thomas Industries, Inc., has purchased 16 more. They'll join a fleet of trucks that grind out more than five million highway miles annually, serving 600 cities in 38 states weekly.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "I own E bonds, dated 1942 to the present. I would like to convert these bonds to series H, but have some questions. First, the address to which the bonds must be sent for exchange. Second, must I endorse each bond? Third, do they need my Social Security number? Fourth, what is the best time to make the exchange?" J. B.

A) Your bonds may be sent to any Federal Reserve Bank. Bonds you send in must be endorsed and accompanied by a signed subscription form, which I am having sent to you from the Savings Bond Division of the Treasury. Your Social Security number will be required.

I am having sent to you a Treasury form showing the present value of all your E bonds. You will have to study this form and decide yourself what time is most propitious for switching. I would not switch those approaching maturity, which are in their period of maximum yield.

★ ★ ★

Q) "We are elderly, own our home, have $20,000 in savings, and a portfolio including General Motors, American Telephone, Blaw-Knox, American Airlines, Avco, Gillette, National Distillers, Socony, and Union Carbide. Our list is o.k. while I live, but I've had several coronaries. I thought of switching part of my holdings into public utilities. Do I have too much in savings?" J. M.

A) A switch of certain stocks to public utilities would help to stabilize your list and in some cases improve income.

Blaw-Knox is highly cyclical, and I would switch this issue into Duquesne Light, yielding 4 per cent.

Union Carbide has shown little growth and yields 2.9 per cent. I would switch this stock into Washington Water Power, selling on a 4.3 per cent basis. I would leave intact the balance of your list and your savings reserves.

Firm Orders More Trucks

The outstanding operating characteristics of an initial purchase of 12 GMC Toro-Flow trucks has prompted Thomas Industries, Inc., of Louisville, Ky., to order 16 more of the four-cycle, medium-tonnage diesels for its fleet operations.

Manufacturer of residential, commercial and industrial lighting, the corporation has more than doubled the size of its Toro-Flow fleet with the additional purchases.

The first 12 units have been in operation for eight months. The new 16 are to be placed in operation soon.

According to Ed Kelly, director of trafffic for Thomas Industries, the first Toro-Flows turned in exceptional records in fuel and maintenance economy.

Strike Activity Reported Below Average

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department says that, despite the disputes in the auto industry, strike activity in 1964 is running at half the rate of the past 14 years. However, it shows a slight increase over last year.

During the first nine months of 1964, there have been 2,920 work stoppages involving 1.24 million workers with a loss of 13.5 million days. The 1963 nine-month figures showed 2,797 work stoppages involving 846,000 workers and the loss of 12.3 million days.

★ ★ ★

"Things have been so good the past few years that every time there is a strike now it makes headlines," a Labor Department spokesman said Wednesday.

In 1952, a spokesman said, there were 4,340 work stoppages during which 3 million workers lost 51.7 million man days.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The comptroller general's office has notified the Office of Education that it has been slow to install good procedures to collect repayments from college students who have received federal loans.

A report to Congress noted Wednesday that the collection problem has just started in the program, set up in 1959. Students may borrow up to $1,000 a year — up to $5,000 in all — and are given 10 years to pay it back. A low interest charge goes into effect a year after the student finishes his studies.

In November 1962, only 9,394 loans were due and not collected, while six months later the number had grown to 22,007.

The number of students participating in the program has risen from 24,631 in 1959 to 217,000 in 1963.

The Office of Education, looking into the repayment problem as of June 30, 1962, found that 25 per cent had not repaid on time and that 19 per cent still had not made a payment by Nov. 30, 1964.

WASHINGTON (AP) — An organized group of physicians in Washington has urged the American Medical Association to modify its opposition to proposed federal health aid to the aged.

★ ★ ★

The Medical Society of the District of Columbia, whose members are all AMA members, called on the national group Wednesday to ask Congress to develop "a realistic senior citizens health care program, patterned on the federal employes health benefits program.

About 10 per cent of the 1,600 active members of the society attended the meeting

Here is a hand that gave Great Britain its biggest swing in the match against Italy at the World Bridge Olympiad. The bidding in the box is that used by Jeremy Flint and Maurice Harrison-Gray to reach six hearts.

JACOBY

A lot of players would have gone to seven with the North hand after South's heart opening and rebid, but Maurice noted that there was one king missing. Furthermore, he and Jeremy play Blackwood the same way this columnist often recommends so that when Maurice bid four and five no-trump, he was guaranteeing all the aces. Therefore, South could and would have bid the grand slam with a slightly better hand.

At the other table, the Italians took seven rounds of bidding to reach the grand slam, actually, it wasn't too bad a contract, but there was no way to make it.

Terence Reese opened the ten of diamonds. South might have tried the diamond finesse right then and there, but he decided that Reese would not lead from a king and that he had better play for a 3-3 spade break.

Hence, he went up with the ace of diamonds, led a spade to his king and a second spade back to dummy's ace. Then he led the all important third spade. East showed out and South conceded down one because he could not get three diamond discards.

What do you do?

A—Bid four hearts. There won't be a slam unless your partner can bid again.

Pontiac Central's 'Unknown' Back a Headache for Rivals

Pontiac football fans are finally learning who No. 31 is.

* * *

A dilemma for sportswriters, No. 31 for Pontiac Central now is proving more of a nemesis for the PCH opposition.

Pontiac Northern's Huskies can expect to see a lot of him in the annual intra-city clash at 8 p.m. tomorrow on the Wisner Stadium turf.

Versatile backfield man Don Lavalais wears No. 31 for the Chiefs. He is a quarterback who also operates as a running back spot and on defense plays a defensive halfback role.

His value has increased steadily in recent weeks. Central has won 12-6 and 7-6 in two of its last three games, and Lavalais has scored 13 of the 19 points.

What makes the 5-10, 155-pound junior back an enigma is the fact his name does not appear on PCH football programs although he made the varsity early last season.

CALLED UP

He was called up from the junior varsity last year to be the second string quarterback. Gradually he worked himself into the defensive backfield.

Though coach Paul Dellerba has used him almost every game since late last season, he hasn't been a starter on offense until just recently.

His entry into the Chiefs lineup usually produces a "who is No. 31?" reaction, followed by a "how do you spell it?"

There have been three of four spellings used even by PCH athletic staff members.

Dellerba rates Lavalais as a speedy, inspiring runner who starts quickly and runs very intelligently.

"He seems to pick up the offense when he's in there," the coach observes.

Lavalais will probably be at a running back slot Friday night. Junior Jerry Murphy is considered a better passer and gives the Chiefs a balanced offense.

Central will be seeking to rebound from last year's 21-0 beating at the hands of Northern. The Chiefs won by at least two touchdowns the first three years.

For the year, Central has a statistical edge over the Huskies. The Chiefs have shown a definite ground advantage while PNH has the edge passing. Both have scored six touchdowns in eight games.

Tickets are on sale at the stadium ticket office. They are priced at $1 for students and $1.25 for adults. PCH fans will be seated in the Oakland Avenue stands.

Ticket manager Tom Metzdorf at Central has announced that $8 season tickets for the Chiefs' basketball games are now on sale at Room 116 in the school.

OSU Offense, Defense Face Tough Test

Michigan QB Poses Problem for Buckeyes

Winner Collects Title in Big 10 Conference Plus California Trip

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Coach Woody Hayes isn't broadcasting his strategy for the all-important gridiron clash with the University of Michigan here Saturday, but a couple of things are becoming mighty obvious.

First, Woody has to find ways of putting some punch in a balanced, if not spectacular, offense and thus take some of the pressure off a pretty good and alert defensive unit.

* * *

Next, he'll have to push the same defensive unit to new heights if it has any chance at all of stopping Michigan's All-America quarterback candidate Bob Timberlake and his coworkers.

JAM EXPECTED

The big Buckeye horseshoe stadium — with more than 84,000 in the stands—will find out how well Woody succeeds.

It has been the scene of some memorial clashes in the past, but few could match this week's collision with the Big Ten title and a Rose Bowl bid riding on the outcome.

Columbus football observers see Michigan at its peak for the game. Ohio State bounced back from the humiliating Penn State rout with an unimpressive 10-0 victory over Northwestern last Saturday.

* * *

Psychologically, that Penn State drubbing may still hurt. How deeply is a task for Woody and his staff this week.

The victory bell after the Northwestern game had not stopped ringing when Woody made one big decision for the offense—to start Halfback Leon Lindsey against Michigan instead of Tom Barrington. The latter, handicapped by injuries, has had to be relieved early and often. Now, Woody says, Barrington has a neck injury and may not see much action.

Fullback Will Sander's shoulder was twisted in the Northwestern game and he may not see much service, leaving it up to third-string fullback Paul Hudson to take up the chore. Second-string fullback John McCoy is out for the season with a knee injury.

The others in the backfield, Quarterback Don Unverferth and halfback Bo Rein, seem in good shape. They'll be backed up by Nick Yoncias, Barrington, if available at all, and Tyrone Barnett.

But nobody can outguess Woody when it comes to preparing for the Michigan finale. No doubt he'll have a few surprises, both in the air and on the ground.

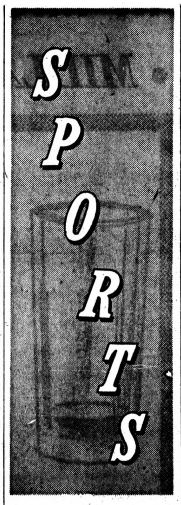

* * *

Giving Michigan a lot of trouble on the defense will be linebacker Ike Kelley who led the Buckeyes in contacts with Northwestern ball carriers Saturday with 13, followed by middle guard Bill Ridder with 12, end Tom Kiehfuss with 11 and linebacker Tom Bugel with eight.

Michigan has been more impressive than Ohio State in meeting three common Big Ten opponents, Illinois, Iowa and Northwestern—with the Wolverines' margin of victory 64 points compared with Ohio State's 37.

* * *

Hayes' teams have won nine of his 13 meetings with the Wolverines, including the last four. Only once before in the long series with Michigan has Ohio State managed to string together as many as four victories in a row. These were Francis Schmidt's teams of 1934-35-36-37 which shut out the Michigan rivals in all four games.

Pontiac Keg Team Shines in Inter-American Tourney

* * * * * *

From Our Wire Service

CARACAS, Venezuela — Pontiac bowlers could claim two records and a second place in the all-events division as the Inter-American Bowling championships ended Wednesday.

* * *

Members of the 300 Bowl team, Larry Crake, Bob Murphy, Les Rothbarth and Joe Foster formed the nucleus of the United States' five- and six-man teams that set tournament records in the four-day competition.

Chicago's Les Zikes led the team in both events. It scored 5620 Sunday for the five-man title and 7120 yesterday for the six-man crown.

Foster had the high game, a 241 in the latter competition in which the Americans were also joined by Jim Stefanich of Joliet, Ill.

Meanwhile, Les Zikes of Chicago embellished his reputation as the world's best amateur bowler by winning the all-events crown Wednesday.

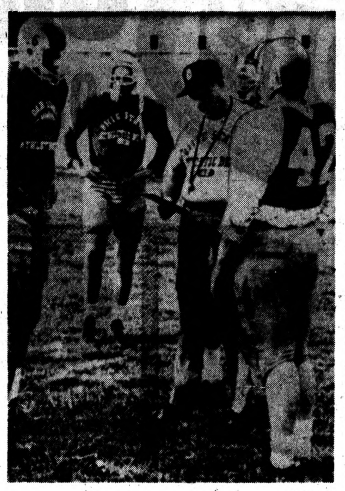

The slender Chicagoan has won three straight titles in American Bowling Congress tournaments in the United States. He won the world all-events title in Mexcio City last November and triumphed in the singles and doubles at the Tournament of Americas in Miami, Fla., last July.

Zikes put together games of 198, 156, 180, 180, 192, 248, 223, 185 in his final eight-game block for a 5217 total in 26 games. He was the only contestant to average 200 in the four-day hemispheric event and helped land four championships for the United States.

Foster finished second to Zikes in the all-events with 5146 and Stefanich was third with 5064.

In addition, Zikes teamed with Stefanich for 2453 to win the six-game doubles.

The heavily favored U.S. women's team failed to win a title. Mexico won the five-women crown, Venezuela the doubles, Puerto Rico the four-woman team title and Alicia Sarabita of Juarez, Mexico, the all-events.

WORDS FROM WOODY — Ohio State coach Woody Hayes (wearing cap) discusses practice plans with Buckeye quarterback Don Unverferth (left) during workout yesterday. OSU will have a Big Ten title showdown Saturday against visiting Michigan.

Black Hawks Nip Wings, 3-1

CHICAGO (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings still hold first place in the National Hockey League —but just barely.

The Red Wings took a 3-1 clipping here Wednesday night from the Chicago Black Hawks, but at the same time second place Montreal was taking a 3-1 licking from Toronto. These were the only two games played Wednesday night.

* * *

The loss, second in a row for Detroit, left the Wings in first place, a point ahead of Montreal. The victory enabled Chicago to move into a fourth-place tie with idle New York.

TWO FOR HULL

Bobby Hull, the league's leading scorer, got his 12th and 13th goals of the season in the final period against Detroit as he broke a 1-1 tie which had been in effect since early in the first period.

* * *

For his first tally, Hull skated through the entire Detroit team to nudge the puck past Red Wing goalie Roger Crozier with one hand. His second goal came with only seconds left to play. It was scored from the blue line into an unguarded net. The Red Wings had pulled Crozier in favor of a sixth skater.

* * *

The Black Hawks jumped into a 1-0 lead in the first minute of the game when Stan Mikita blasted the puck past Crozier from 10 feet out.

But the Red Wings tied the score at the four-minute mark when Norm Ullman took the puck away from two Hawks, and beat Chicago goalie Glenn Hall from close in. The goal was Ullman's 200th NHL tally.

* * *

Crozier made 38 saves to 23 for Hall.

The Red Wings are idle tonight.

Giants' Defender Back

NEW YORK (AP) — Dick Lynch will be back at defensive right half for the New York Giants against the Pittsburgh Steelers in their NFL game here Sunday, Allie Sherman, Giant coach, said Wednesday.

* * *

Lynch has been sidelined for three weeks with a sprained right foot.

Bills' Gridder on Team Again

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UPI) — Cookie Gilchrist promised today to "redeem myself" with the Buffalo Bills after the block-buster fullback was tossed for the biggest loss of his stormy career.

The 251-pound bad boy and leading ground gainer of the American Football League was restored to active duty with the Bills Wednesday night less than 36 hours after he was offered to any team in the circuit willing to pay the $100 waiver price Only three of the Bills' seven rivals had indicated they were interested.

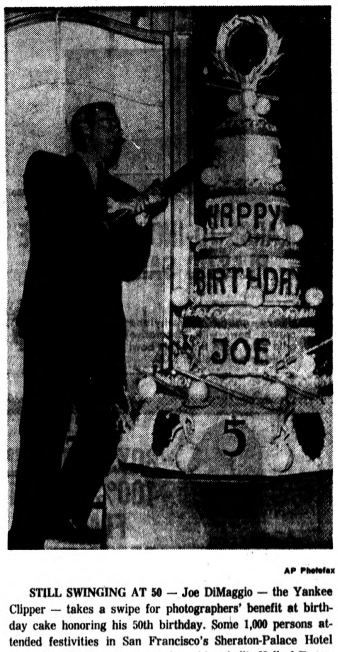

Coach Lou Saban restored Gilchrist to good graces when the 29-year old "angry man of pro football" made a complete, abject and public apology to the coach, his teammates and Buffalo fans.

Former Yankee Star Celebrates Birthday

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — More than 1,000 guests gathered Wednesday night to help Joe DiMaggio, the famed New York Yankee Clipper, celebrate his 50th birthday party.

The ballroom of the Sheraton-Palace Hotel was jammed for the climax of what Mayor John Shelley had proclaimed, "Joe DiMaggio Day in San Francisco."

President Lyndon B. Johnson wired, "Happy birthday to an American sports hero."

AP Photofax

STILL SWINGING AT 50 — Joe DiMaggio — the Yankee Clipper — takes a swipe for photographers' benefit at birthday cake honoring his 50th birthday. Some 1,000 persons attended festivities in San Francisco's Sheraton-Palace Hotel yesterday. DiMaggio is a member of baseball's Hall of Fame.

Irish Preparing for Air Assault

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Notre Dame's top-ranked Irish are battening down their pass defense as they prepare to face their greatest aerial storm of the season Saturday.

Iowa and Gary Snook, the nation's No. 2 hurler, wind up their football season with a shoot-the-works effort at Notre Dame. The Hawkeyes have lost five straight games although Snook has hit on 143 of 290 tosses for a staggering 1,985 yards during the campaign.

His No. 1 target has been flanker back Karl Noonan with 57 catches good for 910 yards and four touchdowns.

"Iowa is a dangerous team," says Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian. "Snook is great and the Hawkeyes have averaged three touchdowns a game.

"Their games have been close. They have missed an unbeaten season by a total of only five touchdowns."

WANTS 4 TD'S

Coach Jerry Burns of the Hawkeyes, asked how many passes Snook would have to throw against the Irish, quipped: "At least four — all touchdowns."

"We have worked on our running game this week but our strength, of course, lies in our passing," Burns said. "Our passing will have to work Saturday if we are going to beat Notre Dame."

* * *

Iowa's main trouble is lack of running ability to offset and balance its aerial game. It has no big back who can blast the middle and keep the defense tight.

The Hawkeyes are not entirely air-borne. They run about 40 per cent of the time. Dalton Kimble and Craig Nourse are small backs and have the speed for sweeping the flanks.

In other Big 10 camps:

Purdue — End Bob Hadrick is scheduled to start against Indiana although he still is bothered by an ankle injury. End Ed Snitger has been scratched because of a rib injury.

Indiana — Coach Phil Dickens still is uncertain about continuing the two-platoon set-up against Purdue. "We might platoon a while and then go with the strongest over-all lineup," he said.

* * *

Wisconsin — Dave Fronek will be ready at defensive halfback against Minnesota after missing two games with a heel injury.

Ontario Horse Shows Class in Judging

TORONTO (AP) — The $1,500 Burton green conformation hunter stake was won by April Showers, owned by J. A. Boyle, of Malton, Ont., at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair Horse Show Wednesday.

Second was Carriage Trade, owned by Dr. and Mrs. J. Chassels of Brampton, Ont. Sly Rival, owned by Betty McGuire of Chicago, was third.

In the jumpers open performance puissance, Nanticoke, ridden by Rodney Jenkins and owned by Charles F. Johnson of Lake City, Fla., was the winner.

Jacks Or Better, ridden by former U.S. international team member Neil Shapiro and owned by Donald Shapiro of Glen Cove N.Y., was second.

Donna Lynn's Delight, owned by F. R. Sullivan of Short Hills, N.J., took the red ribbon in the day's three-gaited saddle horse event. Runner-up was Studio's Delight, owned by Mr. and Mrs. R. Steel of East Lansing, Mich.

Nicklaus 'Foresees' His Victory Margin

What with the speed of jet airplane travel and the fact that the International Dateline is east of Sydney, Australia, golfer Jack Nicklaus was able to beat Bruce Devlin 67-70 in the Australian Open playoff, fly to Hawaii and, during a three-hour wait between planes, take a swim in the surf.

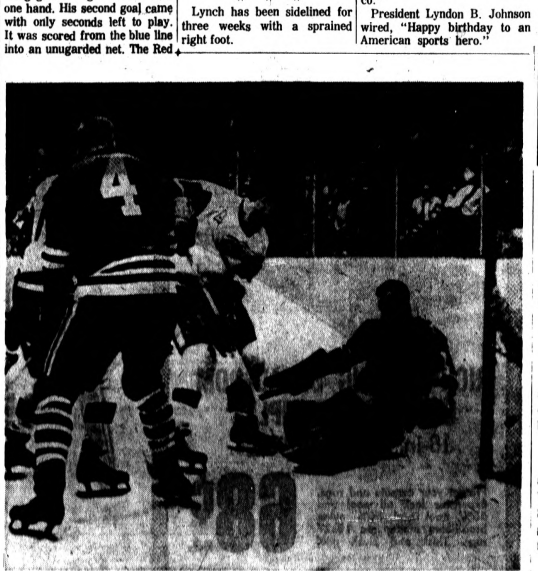

* * *

Both the golf and the swim took place on the same Sunday morning.

A golf fan approached Nicklaus in Honolulu and asked, "How did you make out in Australia?"

Nicklaus looked at his watch. "In just about five minutes," he said, "I will beat him by three strokes."

'M' Meets OSU

Title Tilt on TV

DETROIT (AP)—A Detroit television station announced Wednesday it has arranged for an exclusive area telecast of the Big Ten football championship game between Michigan and Ohio State Saturday.

* * *

WWJ-TV said it will carry the game direct from Columbus, Ohio, starting at 1:15 p.m. Saturday with a pregame show and ending at conclusion of the game at approximately 4:30 p.m.

"Because of the sellout crowd at Columbus, we have been able to make arrangements" for the telecast, a WWJ-TV spokesman said. He did not reveal the arrangements.

Previously a University of Michigan athletic department spokesman had said there was virtually no chance of a telecast of the game which will determine the entry in the Rose Bowl because it was too late to change NCAA television schedules.

* * *

WWJ-TV telecasts over Channel 4 in the Detroit metropolitan area. Bob Wolff and Jimmy Crum will announce the game, the WWJ-TV spokesman said. On conclusion of the Michigan-Ohio State contest, the station will televise the last part of the Michigan State-Illinois football game which previously was scheduled for telecast, he said.

* * *

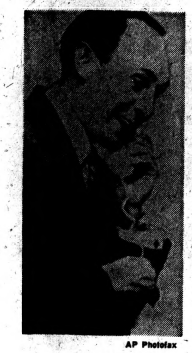

The game at Columbus also will be telecast live over WOSU-TV, the Ohio State University UHF station on channel 34.

The station reported Wednesday that Dick Larkins, university athletic director, had obtained special permission from the NCAA for the WOSU telecast.

BROOKS ROBINSON

Brooks Robinson in Landslide

Oriole Star MVP Selection

BALTIMORE (AP) — Brooks Robinson, who was told as a youth he had a questionable future in baseball, is the American League's Most Valuable Player for 1964.

★ ★ ★

"This is the most wonderful thing that ever happened to me," Robinson said Wednesday night after his landslide victory was announced.

The Baltimore third baseman, whose heroics almost carried the Orioles to a pennant, drew 269 of a possible 280 points in the voting by a special 20-man committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America.

The only player named on all ballots, Robinson drew 18 first place votes. The other two went to Mickey Mantle, who sparked the New York Yankees' late drive to another pennant.

OTHER VOTES

Elston Howard of the Yanks, last year's winner, finished third with 124 points. Rookie batting champ Tony Oliva of Minnesota was fourth with 99, followed by pitcher Dean Chance of Los Angeles, the Cy Young award winner, with 97.

Robinson, 27, topped American League third basemen in fielding for the fifth straight year. And to go with his spectacular glove work, he led the league with 118 runs batted in, finished second in hitting with a .317 mark, and slugged 28 homers.

As an 18-year-old, Brooks played 95 games of Class B ball in 1955 and then made his major league debut. He made several more trips to the minors, but appeared in games with the Orioles every year thereafter.

He quickly became the darling of the fans, and sort of grew up with the new franchise.

Robinson credited the Oriole pennant drive, which fell two games short, with making his award possible.

The only Oriole ever to win the award, Robinson says the only thing that could equal it "would be to play in the World Series."

Nicknamed The Head by his teammates because of a receding hairline, Robinson will present a new appearance in spring training. With a contract to do a hair tonic commercial, Brooks is letting his hair grow during the off season.

The voting for the 1964 American League Most Valuable Player award, announced Wednesday. Points are awarded on a basis of 14 for a first place vote, 9 for second, 8 for third, etc.

Cajun Classic Opens

Rookie Duel Spotlighted

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) — Paul Bondeson and George Archer, two youngsters on the pro golf circuit, couldn't care less about the duel between Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus in the Cajun Classic for top money honors of the year.

What's important to Bondeson and Archer is their battle for 50th place in the earnings competition — and only $1.88 separates them.

Fiftieth place may not sound like much, but it is the difference between being automatically qualified for all of next year's tournaments or having to rush each Sunday to the next tourney spot for the usual Monday qualifying round.

43RD ON TOUR

The sixth annual Cajun Classic, a $25,000 72-hole event which is the 43rd and final PGA tourney of 1964, starts today over the beautifully prepared Oakbourne Country Club course, a par 36-36—72 layout which plays at 6,755 yards.

Palmer, in picking up $111,703 in tournaments this year, leads Nicklaus, his pudgy challenger for the throne of golfdom, by $319.

★ ★ ★

The 24-year-old Bondeson, a native Minnesotan and one-time Army paratrooper, has earned $14,869.73 so far — $1.88 more than the 6-foot-6 Archer, 25, a tour rookie who was a semifinalist in last year's National Amateur.

Sponsors sweetened the purse for this year's tourney by $5,000 after they landed Palmer and Nicklaus. The winner gets $3,300.

2 Local Skaters Score in Hockey Point Race

Two area skaters are in the race for scoring honors in the Metropolitan Detroit Junior Hockey League.

Clarkston's Tom Petrie leads the circuit with 11 points on five goals and a league leading six assists. Jerry Darling of Waterford has three and three for six points and a seventh-place tie.

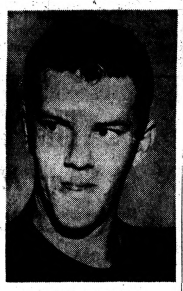

Both play for the Arrow Auto Wash which features all Oakland County skaters. The team stands fourth in the six-team circuit.

Coach Zory Sarkisian of Southfield still has openings on the team roster and is anxious to hear from players interested in tryouts.

He can be reached at EL 6-1733 in the evening.

Dearborn's Adray Appliance is tied for first place with Northend VFW from eastern Detroit. The Arrow sextet trails by three points.

Ex-PCH Star on List

MSU Losing 18 Senior Gridders

EAST LANSING — Former Pontiac Central tackle Jerry Rush, the 6-4, 246-pound stalwart who has been an outstanding two - way line performer for Michigan State for three years, will be one of 18 seniors closing out varsity careers Saturday at Illinois.

★ ★ ★

Rush came to State after a great prep career at Pontiac Central and he has been a regular offensive tackle and a spot performer on defense this fall.

After two letter - winning seasons as a line regular, Jerry was virtually assured of a first-string assignment again this year. Yet, according to Spartan offensive line coach Gordon Serr his attitude in spring drills and practice this fall has been that of a sophomore battling for a playing spot.

★ ★ ★

Each week the Spartan coaching staff views movies of the previous week's game. They rate the performance of each lineman, on a numerical basis, giving him one point if he carries out his assignment perfectly, a zero if his execution was not effective, and -1 if he misses his assignment completely.

Jerry has consistently placed high in this rating and according to Serr has yet to have even a mediocre game.

"I'd have to rate Jerry with the Behrmans and Buddes as one of the best linemen we've ever had at Michigan State," says Serr.

Despite his bulk, Jerry's hustle makes him an extremely effective downfield blocker.

CLEARS WAY

In the Spartans' opener against North Carolina he flew downfield ahead of speedy halfback Clinton Jones to take out the Tar Heel safety man, removing the last obstacle in the way of Jones' 42 yard touchdown run.

Again in the Wisconsin game Jerry threw a key block on a Badger defensive halfback to help Dick Gordon go 75 yards for a TD.

Jerry has also seen his share of defensive play during his career, and though the Spartans have been almost strictly a two-platoon outfit this fall Jerry has been called on to help anchor the defensive line at critical times.

Though Jerry's size and ability alone would make him a welcome addition to any Big Ten team, Serr believes his greates asset is his terrific mental attitude. It gives him an edge over the few enemy linemen who are his equal physically.

Local Quintets Eye First Wins

An initial victory will be the objective Saturday when Midwestern Baptist Seminary and Michigan Christian Junior College resume their state Christian College basketball campaigns.

Both opened with losses last weekend. The defending champion Midwestern Baptist Falcons lost their first game in 16 starts when Grace Bible of Grand Rapids took home a one-point victory.

Michigan Christian was an 84-70 loser at Grand Rapids School of Bible and Music despite having five players score in double figures.

The Warriors will visit Grand Rapids Baptist College for a 2 p. m. tilt Saturday.

★ ★ ★

Freshman Ralph Wingate poured in 35 points as Midwestern lost its opener before the home fans.

The Falcons will journey to School of Bible and Music for a 3:30 p. m. Saturday contest.

Champion Signs Pact

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Lightweight boxing champion Carlos Ortiz has signed for a non-title bout as part of a doubleheader at Convention Hall Dec. 14 that will feature a middleweight championship fight between Joey Giardello and Ruben Hurricane Carter, it was announced Wednesday.

Ortiz will meet Massachusetts lightweight champion Dick DeVola.

GRID FINALE — Former Pontiac Central grid star Jerry Rush will end his football career at Michigan State when the Spartans face Illinois at Champaign Saturday. The 246-pound tackle has been a two-way player this year for MSU.

Giants' Picks Uncertain as Player Draft Nears

NEW YORK (AP) — If the New York Giants get the No. 1 draft choice in the National Football League, don't be surprised if they go for Dick Butkus, the Illinois linebacker, instead of a quarterback.

★ ★ ★

Although many assume the Giants will pick a passer, like Craig Morton of California, it is no sure thing. Wellington Mara, the vice-president who heads up personnel, and Coach Allie Sherman aren't ready to announce any positive decision.

★ ★ ★

"We probably would go for the best player available, regardless of position," said Mara. "If we think Butkus is the best, we may go for him although we are very happy with our present linebackers. We consider Butkus a very good player.

"That does not mean that we would not pick a quarterback but everybody seems to have the impression that we are thinking only in that direction. We might very well go to the other way."

CONTRACT ENDS

Although Y. A. Tittle is finishing the last year of a two-year contract, it is not definite yet whether he will decide to call it a career after this losing season.

Tittle's status could be an important factor in the Giants' draft decision.

★ ★ ★

If the Giants are beaten by Pittsburgh Sunday they would be last in the combined league standings and would get the No. 1 pick in the league's draft Nov. 28 at New York. If Pittsburgh loses, the Steelers would be tied for last with the loser of the Chicago - San Francisco game.

A tie would be decided by lot but Chicago has both its own and Pittsburgh's first pick as the result of a trade last year.

High dollar competition is expected between the NFL and the American Football League, which also will hold its draft in New York on Nov. 28.

★ ★ ★

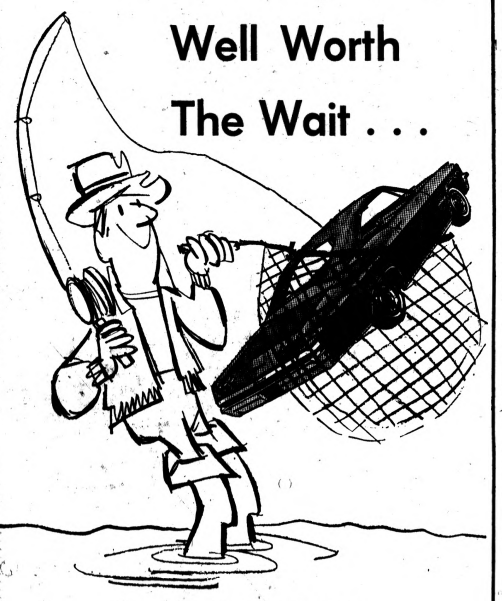

The AFL now has the backing of a $36 million five-year television contract with NBC which starts in 1965 and the NFL is finishing the first year of a two-year $28.2 million television contract with CBS.

Boston's Babe Earns AP's Pro Grid Award

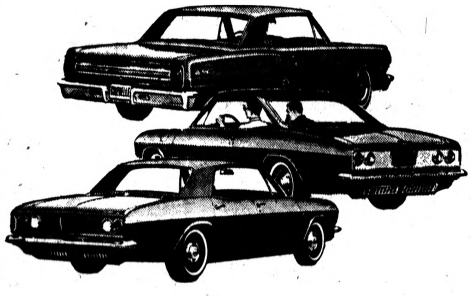

NEW YORK (AP)—Babe Parilli, the 34-year-old Sweet Kentucky Babe of the Boston Patriots, wrecked the Buffalo Bills' nine-game winning streak and became the Associated Press' Player of the Week in the American Football League.

The Babe hit with five touchdown passes, completing 18 of 35 for 240 yards, in the Pats' 36-28 victory that kept the Eastern Division race alive.

AP STAR — Jim Carroll, captain of the Notre Dame top rated football team is the Associated Press lineman of the week for his play against Michigan State last Saturday. Carroll is a 225 pound guard from Atlanta.

Richard Petty Heads Drivers on Dollar List

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Richard Petty, lanky Plymouth driver on the Southern stock car racing circuit, pocketed $98,810 in winnings during the 1964 season which ended Nov.

The Randleman, N.C. driver also won the Grand National point title for the National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing NASCAR drivers.

Petty's winnings fell short of the record $113,570 won by Ford driver Fred Lorenzen of Elmhurst, Ill., last year. Lorenzen won $72,385 this year to become the second highest money winner of the season.

★ ★ ★

Final NASCAR figures show Ned Jarrett of Camden, S. C., national champion for 1961, led all drivers with the most victories, the most times in the top five finishers and the most times in the top 10. He won $63,330 and finished first 15 times, the second highest in any NASCAR season.

Petty and David Pearson of Spartanburg, S. C., each started in every one of the 61 races in which they were eligible to lead all other drivers. Pearson winnings totaled $38,175.

Other drivers and their winnings:

Jim Paschal, High Point, $54,960; Buck Baker, Charlotte, N.C., $41,000; Billy Wade, Spartanburg, S.C., $29,710; the late Jim Pardue, North Wilkesboro, N.C., $36,440; Bobby Isaac, Catawba, N.C., $25,750, and Junior Johnson, $25,500.

Komets Nip Port Huron

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — The Fort Wayne Komets, second in the International Hockey League, tripped Port Huron 4-3 Wednesday night.

Wolverines Favored

Expect Keen Big 10 Cage Race

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Midwest's basketball power will concentrate in the Big Ten this year, but the conferene battle could be one of the tightest and most surprising of the past decade.

Loyola's George Ireland, who only two years ago won the national title, has "the smallest team in the United States," and while he'll feature speed and some jumping jacks, it would be phenomenal and completely unexpected for him to advance to the NCAA regional tourney for a third straight year.

DePaul, another tourney team last year, will have 6 feet 10 center Dave Mills and fancy guard Jim Murphy, but Coach Ray Meyer will have a major job filling in around them.

New Coach Johnny Dee at Notre Dame will have some stars, notably Ron Reed, big Walt Sahm, and Larry Sheffield, but his bench will be weak and he'll lack experienced personnel on the starting five.

MOST TEAMS STRONG

This situation doesn't apply to most of the Big Ten teams. Indiana, Illinois, Iowa and Minnesota have all starters back.

Michigan will have four of the five starters who carried the Wolverines to third place in the NCAA tournament, and everybody else will have a nucleus of veterans and some fine sophomore prospects.

Michigan logically is the title favorite, with Cazzie Russell, Bill Buntin, Larry Tregoning and Oliver Darden at hand for a tremendous rebounding and scoring combination, and two high school All Americans Craig Dill, 6 feet 10, and Dennis Bankey, waiting for a chance to break in.

But Illinois has 6 feet 9 Skip Thoren, Bogie Redmon, Don Freeman and Tal Brody again, Indiana has Dick and Tom Van Arsdale as well as Jon McGlocklin, and Minnesota keeps Mel Northway, Lou Hudson, Archie Clark, Terry Kunze and Don Yates with a top sophomore prospect, Paul Presthus.

Thus it looks like a dofight for the Big Ten crown. One outsider, though, should be Ohio State, which shared the title with Michigan last year.

★ ★ ★

The Buckeyes lost scoring champion Gary Bradds and only three lettermen return, Dick Ricketts, Jim Shaffer and Bob Dove. Sophomores Ron Sepic and Al Rowley thus get wide tracks toward starting jobs.

SPORT NEW LOOK

Iowa has a new coach, Ralph Miler from Wichita, and with six regulars back, headed by Jimmy Rodgers, and some good looking sophomores, the Hawkeye "new look" was expected to cause trouble.

Sophomores could lift both Northwestern and Purdue into contention.

Michigan State has Stan Washington and Marcus Sanders returning, and Coach Forddy Anderson counted on rookies Ted Crary anad Joe Johnson to help build up a potent scoring combine.

Wisconsin, last in the league last year, will have added height from two sophomores, 6 feet 8 Keith Stelter and 6 feet 9 Tom Schoeneck, and might develop quickly.

Frank Carver, Pitt's athletic director since 1959, worked in the school's sports publicity office after graduation in 1931.

Pistons Whip 76ers, 124-111

Quintet Continues Hot for DeBusschere

DETROIT (AP)—Lanky Dave DeBusschere has been in charge of the Detroit Pistons for four games now and his National Basketball Association club has won three of those contests.

DeBussehere, who became playing coach last week, replacing Charley Wolf, flipped in 25 points Wednesday night as his hepped-up team trampled the Philadelphia 76ers 124-111.

The victory gave Detroit a 5-10 record and pushed the club into fourth place in the NBA Western Division. Idle San Francisco slipped from fourth to fifth.

'Other Tackle' Stars With Minnesota Unit

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Grady Alderman, who was "the other tackle" at Madison High School in 1956, is now "the tackle" for the Minnesota Vikings who visit Tiger Stadium Sunday to face the injury riddled Detroit Lions.

When University of Detroit assistant coach John Ray, now assistant at Notre Dame, was looking over film of Madison High School to check one of Eagle players, he was supposed to take a good look at one of the tackles.

The big tackle was highly touted in prep all-star polls and had invitations from many big schools. While looking at the film however, Ray spotted another lineman and when it was over he told the Madison high school coach, "I'm not interested in that all-state tackle, it's that other tackle I want."

That other tackle happened to be Alderman and subsequently he went onto the University of Detroit and had three outstanding seasons.

The Lions drafted him 10th in 1960, and he made the squad as an offensive lineman despite the fact that he battled four veterans for the job.

In 1961 however, when the Minnesota Vikings were starting their first season of play, Alderman was chosen in the player pool to form the Viking squad.

ORIGINAL MEMBER

He is now the lone remaining member of that original player pool and since 1962 he has been a regular offensive tackle and considered one of the top lineman on the team.

Now in his 5th year in the NFL, Alderman weighs 240 pounds and makes his home in Minneapolis.

★ ★ ★

He has played against the Lions in five games since joining the Vikings and last year was highly instrumental in giving Minnesota its first win over the Lions.

The two teams met earlier in the Twin Cities Stadium and the Lions won a 24-20 decision by stopping the scrambling of quarterback Frank Tarkenton.

The Vikings were the only team to defeat the Baltimore Colts 34-24 in the season opener and last week nearly did it again until the Colts struck late in the final period to take a 17-14 decision.

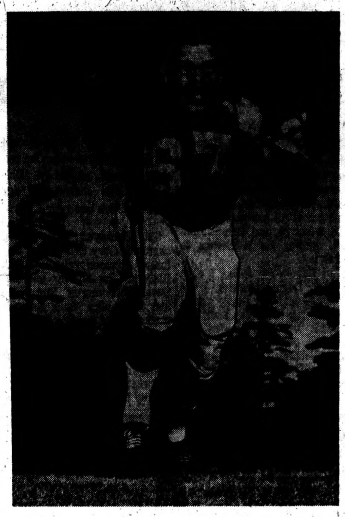

★ ★ ★

One of the top offensive teams in the NFL, the Vikings are a colorful team, in dress and in performance, under former all time great Norm Van Brocklin.

Tarkenton, called "the scrambler" is considered one of the trickiest quarterbacks to bring down and very few times have been able to reach him.

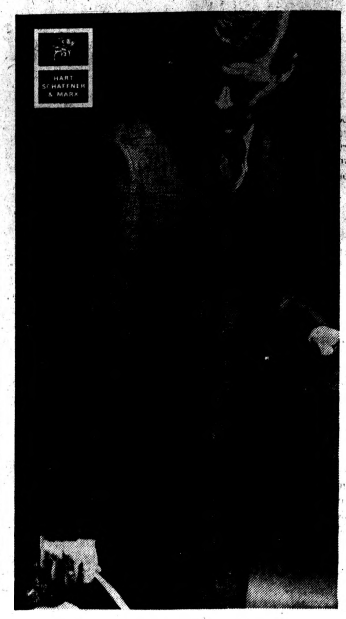

In their last meeting Sam Williams and Roger Brown each nailed him five times. Since that game however, the Lions' once-vaunted defense has been penetrated with ease by several teams and Tarkenton may enjoy one of his better scrambling days Sunday.

Kickoff is 1:30 p.m. and tickets are still available for the contest.

DOES ENCORE — Former Oakland County football star Grady Alderman from Madison High School will be in the starting lineup for the 6th straight time against the Detroit Lions Sunday. Alderman, a Lions' draft choice from U. of D. in 1960, was traded to the Minnesota Vikings, and has been a regular in every game since 1962. He has played five times against the Lions.

Steve Juday, Michigan State quarterback, is the younger brother of Vanderbilt co-captain Bill Juday.

AAU Criticizes Move by NCAA in Track Meet

NEW YORK (AP) — The Amateur Athletic Union, refusing to "bow to . . . any threat," has struck back at the National Collegiate Athletic Association in the renewal of the war for control of track and field in the United States.

The AAU, contending it has the sole right to sanction open meets, called the latest NCAA action "an unnecessary and unwarranted boycott."

★ ★ ★

Col. Don Hull, executive director of the athletic body, issued a statement Wednesday after the NCAA announced a rule banning athletes at its 620 member schools from competing in open meets not sanctioned by the U.S. Track and Field Federation (USTFF).

The NCAA backs the USTFF which hopes to replace the AAU as the American representative to the powerful International Amateur Athletic Federation.

Los Angeles Dodgers Renew Tax Squabble

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers have filed a petition calling the $8-million assessed valuation of Dodger Stadium "unfair, unjust, excessive and exorbitant."

The petition, filed with the county's new tax appeals board Wednesday, asked for a cut of more than $4 million in assessed valuation. Such a cut would mean a reduction of nearly $400,000 in actual taxes.

It will be Dodger President Walter O'Malley's third attempt to win a tax cut. He lost in 1962 and 1963 tax hearings.

Reds, San Diego Agree

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds announced Wednesday they have renewed their working agreement with San Diego of the Pacific Coast League for the 1965 season.

Forced to Be Spy, Says Man in Trunk

ROME (UPI) — Italian police said today the man they rescued from an Egyptian diplomatic trunk now says he is an Israeli who fled to Egypt, was jailed for six months and then forced to become a spy for the United Arab Republic.

* * *

He told police he wound up in the trunk after he asked his contact men at the U.A.R. Embassy in Rome for a raise in pay.

When the police pulled him from the trunk Tuesday night the man said he was Josef Dahan, a native of Morocco. Police said he now admits he is Mordechai Ben Masud Louk born near Tel Aviv.

A police spokesman in Tel Aviv said earlier Dahan appeared from his description to be Louk, a 28-year-old carpenter who left his wife and four children in a small village near Tel Aviv in 1961 and crossed illegally into the Egyptian-held Gaza Strip.

* * *

Louk reportedly fled after he was called up for service in the Israeli army. The Italian police sent his photograph and fingerprints to Tel Aviv and said Israel might ask his extradition as a deserter.

Louk said he gave a false name when first questioned because he was afraid of repercussions for his wife and children.

He told police that after he fled from Israel, the Eyptians questioned him and then put him in jail for six months. He said that he finally agreed to work for "the organization."

Police said he was sent to Europe for economic espionage and worked in the Netherlands, Belgium and West Germany before being sent to Naples early this year.

* * *

Louk said he never furnished the Egyptians any information of real value, only bits and pieces of minor news to string them along.

POSSIBLE REASON

This police said, might have been the reason he got in trouble.

The Italian police had said earlier they had information the man had worked as a spy for the United Arab Republic and later for Israel. The spokesman in Tel Aviv said Louk had never worked for any Israeli authority or institution.

Louk was rescued from a trunk labled diplomatic mail as it was being loaded aboard a United Arab Airlines plane at Rome's Fiumiciono Airport. The trunk, fitted out with a stool, shoes and clamps to hold the feet and headgear for the head, was brought to the airport by two first secretaries of the U.A.R. Embassy in Rome. It was addressed to the U.A.R. Foreign Ministry in Cairo.

The two diplomats were expelled from Italy and left Wednesday night for Cairo.

HIS STORY

Italian police said they pieced together this story from their questioning of Dahan:

He went to Egypt in 1961 and there met one of the two diplomats who on Tuesday tried to ship him back to Cairo. The diplomat offered him a job in Italy supplying such minor information as arrivals and departures of ships and air passengers.

He received from $100 to $160 a month and passed his information to the "organization" through one of the U.A.R. Embassy secretaries.

* * *

Speaking 10 languages, he picked up additional money as an interpreter for travel agencies in Naples. He lived in a simply furnished room in a small hotel, bleached his close-cropped hair almost white, wore dark glasses and had a dozen neatly tailored suits in his wardrobe.

He came to Rome from Naples to contact "the organization" and to discuss money.

WENT FOR DRIVE

He met the two embassy first secretaries, Abdel Moneim El Neklawy and Selim Osman El Sayed, in a cafe on the Via Veneto. They invited him for a drive in an automobile. As they cruised the streets of Rome, the diplomats gave him his choice of quitting or going to Cairo.

He chose Cairo because he feared quitting meant death. The two diplomats took him to a room, drugged him and put him in the trunk.

Envoy to Brief LBJ on Russia

Officials Will Discuss New Kremlin Policy

MOSCOW (UPI) — U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler took off for Washington today to brief President Johnson and top administration officials on Kremlin policy following the overthrow of former Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Kohler's special Air Force plane was expected in Washington at 10:30 p.m. EST, after a 5 a.m. EST departure from Moscow and stopovers in Copenhagen and New York.

Diplomatic sources said Kohler is carrying back with him a general impression that the new Kremlin leadership is determined to improve relations with the West.

The latest indication of this policy was an agreement Kohler signed with the Soviets yesterday providing for cooperation in the use of nuclear energy for the desalination of sea water.

* * *

Kohler hailed the agreement as a milestone along the path of Washington - Moscow agreements such as the hot line and nuclear test ban treaty.

GROMYKO SIGNS

Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, signing for the Soviets, asked Kohler: "Why don't we get together and add another agreement to this one we are signing?"

"The Soviet Union will do its utmost to get a solution to international problems and the lessening of world tension and to improve relations between our two countries," Gromyko added.

The desalination agreement provides for a wide exchange of research reports and periodic meetings of scientists from the two countries.

* * *

Diplomats said the Soviet efforts to improve relations with the United States took on added significance because they came at a time when Moscow's relations with Peking have reached a crucial stage.

Declaration Put Aside at Council

VATICAN CITY, (AP) — Presiding cardinals at the Vatican Ecumenical Council ordered its controversial declaration on religious liberty put aside today. Two U.S. cardinals and a Canadian reportedly protested the action and carried a petition to Pope Paul VI.

* * *

The council was to have voted today on whether to give more time to study the declaration or proceed to an immediate vote of acceptance or rejection.

Instead, council spokesmen said, Eugene Cardinal Tisserant, one of 12 cardinals forming the council Steering Committee, announced there would be no vote at all on the declaration at this council session, which ends Saturday.

MUST WAIT

That meant there would be no further action on the document until the council meets again, possibly in 1966.

Council sources said Joseph Cardinal Ritter of St. Louis, Mo.; Albert Cardinal Meyer of Chicago and Paul Emile Cardinal Leger of Montreal immediately prepared a petition for the Pope, protesting the action and saying it was up to all the 2,000 council fathers to decide whether there should be a vote.

* * *

These sources said the three cardinals circulated the petition during the council meeting and collected between 800 and 1,000 signatures. The three cardinals then went to the Pope's apartment.

Comic Plans $3-Million Suit

Will Charge Sullivan With Libel, Slander

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Comedian Jackie Mason has revealed he plans to sue television host Ed Sullivan for $3 million for libel and slander.

* * *

Sullivan fired Mason for allegedly making "vulgar gestures" on his show last Oct. 18, following a major foreign policy address by President Johnson.

Mason, appearing at the Flamingo Hotel here, told United Press International yesterday that "there is no other means of redress open to me for this grave injustice.

"I deny that any gesture I employed on Mr. Sullivan's show was either vulgar or obscene," the comic added.

* * *

Attorney Paul O'Dwyer, youngest brother of William O'Dwyer, former mayor of New York and former American ambassador to Mexico, said the suit would be filed in the New York Supreme (Superior) Court "as soon as the papers are prepared — probably within the next two weeks."

LIBEL SLANDER

The New York lawyer said his client would charge Sullivan with libel and slander in the suit.

"It was vulgarism," Sullivan said of Mason's alleged performance after the show, "contemptuous and vulgar."

The television entrepreneur arrived here soon after the disputed show to scout talent for future productions. At that time, he said that Mason's gesture was recorded.

* * *

"The proof is on tape and all the king's horses and all the king's men can't change it. I've always had a homey show. This is the first time anything like this has come up in 17 years," Sullivan said.

$35,000 CONTRACT

At the time, Sullivan said he was canceling Mason's contract, which would have netted the comedian $35,000.

* * *

Mason, who was a rabbi in Welcon, N.C., and Latrobe, Pa., until eight years ago, is earning $10,000 weekly at the Flamingo. He said he was to be paid $7,500 each for six scheduled appearances on the Sullivan show.

Guilty Pleas Entered by 3 in Car Deaths

Guilty pleas were entered yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court by three persons charged with negligent homicide in traffic deaths. The pleas were made just before jury trials were to begin for each defendant.

Pleading guilty were John W. Veeder, 30, of Detroit; Ronald R. Brant, 18, of Redford Township; and Brenda J. Saunders, 23, of 1200 Ward, Bloomfield Township.

Veeder and Brant will be sentenced Dec. 10 by Judge Arthur E. Moore. Judge William J. Beer will sentence Miss Saunders on Dec. 4.

Veeder was the driver of a car that collided with another on the Dixie Highway near Sashabaw in Waterford Township on Nov. 18, 1963.

* * *

A passenger in the other auto, Mrs. Mary Wisner, 41, of Flint, was killed. Police said Veeder crossed the center line.

PASSENGER KILLED

The charge was brought against Brant after a passenger in his car was killed in a two-car crash at 13 Mile and Middle Belt, Farmington Township, on May 2. Fatally injured was David B. Miller, 18, of Livonia.

According to township police, Brant disregarded a red flasher signal.

Miss Saunders is charged with the death of Hilda Kress, 35, of 4025 S. Shore, Waterford Township, in a two-car crash on Sept. 6.

* * *

The accident occurred on Telegraph, just south of Orchard Lake, in Bloomfield Township. Miss Kress was a passenger in the car struck by the Saunders auto.

Record 302,735 Voted in County on Nov. 3

A record number of Oakland County voters went to the polls in the Nov. 3 presidential election, according to figures released by the County Board of Canvassers.

* * *

The official tabulation made by the four-member board shows that 302,735 persons cast ballots.

The final count is 1,330 more than the 301,405 votes cast in the 1960 general election.

While the total number of voters was higher in the recent election, the percentage of those registered fell just short of the 1960 all-time high.

In the last election 85.3 per cent of the 355,000 registered voters went to the polls, while in the 1960 86 per cent of the 350,000 registered cast ballots.

OFFICIALS PREDICTED

County election officers had predicted a turnout of 310,000 for the election two weeks ago.

They were basing their forecast on the fact that registrations had increased 5,000.

With one exception, changes in the unofficial tabulation were minor, said County Election Clerk Mabel Child.

James F. O'Neil, an unsuccessful GOP candidate for an eight-year term on the State Board of Education, received about 1,000 more votes than had been recorded earlier.

Union Vows to Fight Back Against Klan

LAUREL, Miss. (AP) — Members of a Mississippi labor union have been told to take arms against the Ku Klux Klan because masked men whipped a union official.

"If those who are members of the Ku Klux Klan wish to turn the community into an armed camp, disregard law and order and soak our soil in blood, we are prepared to help them," the union said.

* * *

All 18 officials of Local 5443 of the International Woodworkers of America, AFL-CIO, signed the declaration Wednesday.

Most union members work at the Masonite plant which, under federal pressure, recently adopted a policy of nondiscrimination in job placement. About 3,000 employes are at the plant.

Otis Matthews, 41, the local's business manager, told officers hooded men abducted and whipped him with a strap Monday night while he was going home from work. Matthews was treated at a local hospital.

'Kin' Is Held in Berle Theft

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Police say they arrested a man whom they identified as a nephew of comedian Milton Berle for stealing jewelry and a valuable fur from his uncle's home.

Marshall Berle, 26, who gave his profession as an actor, was booked on suspicion of grand theft yesterday. He was released within an hour on $1,100 bail and ordered to appear in Beverly Hills Municipal Court Nov. 25.

Lt. R. D. Bowers said the suspect identified himself as Berle's nephew and "it is our understanding that this is true."

Bowers said Marshall Berle came under suspicion when servants at the Berle residence told investigators that he had visited the home a couple of times between Nov. 1 and Nov. 13.

Berle and his wife, Ruth, were in Texas during that period as guests at President Johnson's ranch. Mrs. Berle, upon her return last Friday, reported to police that a sable coat and about six pieces of jewelry had been stolen.

Police said there was no evidence that anyone had broken into the home. Other valuable jewelry was not touched, they said.

President Presley?

LEWISTOWN, Pa. (UPI) — Singer Elvis Presley received one write-in vote for president of the United States, official returns showed yesterday. Former Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and Gov. William W. Scranton also received one vote each.

Weigh Fate of Lover in Escape Plot

FLENSBURG, Germany (UPI)—A West German court today deliberated the fate of an East German refugee whose love for his wife conquered the Berlin wall . . . and landed a teen-aged girl in a Communist jail.

The defendant, Peter Selle, 26, is accused of kidnaping his "fiancee" and leaving her in East Berlin in a ruse by which his wife escaped with him to the West.

Selle, a construction engineer who swam across the Elbe River to freedom last year, is charged with abducting Dorothea Voss, 18, and using her as the dupe to get his wife to West Germany.

Miss Voss was arrested by Communist authorities and jailed for six weeks.

★ ★ ★

Selle's lawyers hoped for leniency on the ground that he had become engaged to Dorothea all for the love of his wife, Barbara, 24.

HEAVY STRAIN

In summation arguments today, defense and prosecution attorneys said there were "mitigating circumstances" in the case. Prosecutor Christian Roth described Selle as "a man under extremely heavy emotional strain" and said the state would be satisfied with a 15-month jail sentence.

In trial testimony, Selle explained he had tried to get his wife out of East Germany through Czechoslovakia but when that failed he hit upon the idea of using a girl who looked like his wife. Dorothea fitted the description.

His plan was to take Dorothea to East Berlin for a "visit," leave her on a pretext, and use her identification papers to bring Barbara back with him.

All went as planned. He and Dorothea were engaged, he persuaded her to go with him to Berlin on a prenuptial trip and managed to get her into East Berlin to take a look at the Communist side of the divided city.

POCKETS CARD

Once in East Berlin, Seller pocketed Dorothea's identity card, telling her that he wanted to make sure she wouldn't lose it. Selle left her in a cafe on Karl Marx Allee and made a rendezvous with Barbara.

World News Roundup

Soviet Union Renews Rocket Claims

MOSCOW (AP)— The Soviet Union celebrated "rocked forces and artillery day" today with renewed claims of ability to devastate any spot on earth and destroy attacking missiles.

Soviet rockets can deliver thermonuclear warheads to any part of the globe, with high accuracy and in any weather, the commander of strategic rocket forces, Marshal Nikolai J. Krylov, said.

Writing in the Communist party newspaper Pravda, he said also that "The problem of destroying enemy rockets was successfully solved." The claim has been made before.

Izvestia revealed that Marshal Konstantin P. Kazakov, 62, is commander of the army's rocket troops and artillery. Marshal of Artillery Sergei Varentsov was demoted from the post last year for lacking vigilance in checking the credentials of Oleg Penkovsky.

★ ★ ★

Penkovsky, a scientific administrator, was executed in May 1963, as a spy for Britain and the United States.

LONDON (AP)— The Transport Ministry launched a horror campaign today to keep Christmas drunks from behind the wheel. "Don't ask a man to drink and drive" was the motto.

The ministry will spend $1.4 million on posters and TV commercials.

One poster shows a small boy crushed beneath the wheel of a smashed auto. Another shows a girl sprawled beside a battered car.

Television spots show cheerful pub scenes punctuated with screams of tires and close-up pictures of mutilated crash victims.

★ ★ ★

Transport Minister Tom Fraser said drivers should limit their drinking to three half pints of beer, three single whiskies or a third of a bottle of wine.

Last year Britain had 132 road deaths in the four-day Christmas holiday. Fraser said drink was a factor in more than half the accidents.

BRUSSELS (AP)— Nine persons are believed dead in the explosion and fire that destroyed an ink plant yesterday in the Brussels suburb of Uccle.

★ ★ ★

Three bodies have been found and six other workers are missing.

Seventy-two persons were injured, five of them seriously.

ROME (AP)— The Eternal City snapped back to its normal bustle today, freed from the boredom and inconvenience of a 24-hour strike of shops, bars, restaurants and cafes.

Leaders of the proprietors who shut their businesses all day yesterday were pleased at the way things went. A spokesman termed it a great success.

The proprietors staged their strike to dramatize demands for an overhaul of taxes on their businesses. They say the taxes are too many and too high.

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP)— The Rhodesian Parliament has been recalled to a Dec. 1 meeting, nearly three months ahead of time, to deal with "urgent legislation."

A government announcement gave no indication of what legislation would be presented.

There was speculation Parliament would be asked to come up with a substitute for the Preventive Detention Act ruled out last week by the country's high court, or to deal with Rhodesian independence.

The high court ruled that African nationalist leader Joshua Nkomo and 16 associates were being held in jail illegally. The government transferred them to a restricted area under another law.

Prime Minister Ian Smith had threatened to proclaim independence by Christmas to preserve white minority rule in the territory. He backed down after Britain threatened him with political and economic isolation.

Negroes in Mississippi Rights Test

MCCOMB, Miss. (AP) — Nine Negroes checked out of two formerly white motels today after cracking segregation barriers in this southwest Mississippi town.

The nine were among 20 Negroes who used white restaurant and theater facilities here Wednesday under protection of 40 state highway patrolmen and 20 FBI agents.

★ ★ ★

The integration was the first test of the public accommodations section of the 1964 Civil Rights Act in Pike County, where more than a dozen racial bombings and attacks occurred this summer.

The tests came a day after more than 600 McComb residents signed a statement calling for the reestablishment of order and respect for the law.

LED GROUP

Charels Evers, state NAACP secretary and brother of slain Negro leader Medgar Evers, led the 10 men and 10 women into the various downtown establishments.

Evers later praised local officers and highway patrolmen for their work.

"If all law enforcement officers handled it like this, there wouldn't be any trouble," he said.

Mayor Gordon Burt said the people of McComb "showed utmost restraint under difficult circumstances."

There are 1.8 million persons employed in various phases of the food industry in this country.

Cary Grant's Latest Film

'Father Goose' Rated Best New Comedy

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—The latest batch of film comedies supplies evidence of how far afield Hollywood is traveling in search of subject matter. The movies concern the Pacific war, reincarnation and football in the Near East, and the results are mixed.

THOMAS

"Father Goose" is the best of the lot, thanks to the consummate artistry of the old maestro, Cary Grant. This time he is playing an unshaven, scrounging South Seas escapist, but don't let the disguise fool you. Beneath that stubble is the same suave Grant.

The plot is a natural for comedy. Grant, a confirmed misanthrope, is tricked into becoming a coast-watcher after the Japanese drive through the South Pacific. Who should fall into his charge but a prim schoolteacher, Leslie Caron, with a covey of young girls.

As with all recent Grant films, this one has been put together with expert care, embodying just the right amounts of adventure, laughs, scenery, sentiment and a soupcon of sex. About all it lacks is that precious element of surprise that denotes inspired comedy.

WINNING WAYS

Ralph Nelson, who evoked such warm humanity in "Lilies of the Field," continues his winning ways with "Father Goose." Leslie Caron makes a welcome return to American films, and Trevor Howard is a proper foil as the British commander for whom Grant is an unwilling hero.

Grant is great, which is no surprise. Maybe now he'll draw that Oscar recognition that is long overdue.

★ ★ ★

Considering the talent that went into "Goodbye, Charlie," it is curious that the film isn't funnier than it is. Vincente Minelli can handle comedy with expertness, Harry Kurnitz is a fast man with the gag line, and Debbie Reynolds, Tony Curtis and Pat Boone are handsome, accomplished performers.

The plot is outrageous and it almost comes off. A double-dealing young screen writer is shot by a producer while dallying with the producer's wife.

WATERY GRAVE

The writer returns from a watery grave to seek revenge upon those who wronged him in life. But in the reincarnation he has been changed into—a girl.

"Goodbye, Charlie" proceeds merrily for the first few reels, reaching hilarity when Miss Reynolds tries to convince her (his) writing pal, Curtis, that she (he) really is Charlie. But then the film makers obviously didn't know where to go with the plot and raced off in all directions.

★ ★ ★

"John Goldfarb, Please Come Home" reminded me of "Million Dollar Legs," "Pigskin Parade" and other guileless fables of another era.

The new Shirley MacLaine film is fast, raucous and eye-filling, but only intermittently funny.

WITH GAGS

Sophistication has set in since those earlier comedies engaged the nation. Even though "Goldfarb" tries to update the satire with gags about Arab kingdoms, war politics and football, its approach remains simple-united and helter-skelter.

Await Listing of 95 Bases to Be Closed

McNamara to Name Military Installations in 33 States Today

WASHINGTON (AP)— Congressional sources said today the Brooklyn, N.Y., and Portsmouth, N.H., Navy yards are among those selected by the Defense Department for shutdown.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some 63,000 workers at 95 military bases, shipyards and other defense installations learn today that their jobs are to be lopped off eventually by the federal economy ax.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara scheduled a midafternoon news conference at which he said he would name the bases in 33 states that are to be closed. A handful of bases overseas will be identified later.

Word was to go more or less simultaneously to congressmen and the affected institutions.

Until then, McNamara proposed to keep the list secret. In announcing plans for the cutback yesterday, he said it included facilities of all types — "air bases, air depots, Army arsenals, Army terminals, shipyards etc."

But in Atlanta last night, an informed source who asked that his name be withheld said he had learned from the White House that Hunter Air Force Base in Savannah, Ga., would be closed.

$24 MILLION

The Military Air Transport facility has 4,600 military personnel, about 600 civilian employes and an annual pay roll of about $24 million.

In Boston, the Record American said it had learned that the Navy shipyards at Portsmouth, N.H., and Brooklyn, N.Y., would be closed but that the Boston Navy Yard would stay open.

But in New York, a City Hall spokesman said he was pretty sure the Brooklyn yard, which employes 9,750 civilian workers, would not be closed. He said the city had been promised a detailed report before such action would be taken and that none had been received.

Major controversy has centered on the possibility some of the Navy's 11 shipyards would be closed. In the recent New York senatorial campaign, both Sen.-elect Robert F. Kennedy and Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, his Republican opponent, vowed to do all they could to keep the Brooklyn yard open.

McNamara said two years ago there was excess in the shipyards. Since then he has visited most of the shipyards in trying to decide which could be closed and which could be cut back.

GOP Parley Is Backed by Romney

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney said yesterday Republican leaders should hold a national conference to map out a program with a broad appeal to the American public.

In a news conference and an address to a County Supervisors Association meeting here, Romney said the Republican party must be rebuilt "around principles and programs, rather than around personalities and candidates."

"If an industrial organization business is ailing," the governor said, "it first looks at its product or service. It can sell only after determining what its product is to be."

He said that sometime before the next congressional election the Republican National Committee, Republican governors, congressmen and GOP leaders like former President Eisenhower and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon should meet to unify the party and formulate a program which can "be sold to the American public."

BROADER BASE

"You can't get party leadership together to discuss and make decisions that will lead to a broader base at a national convention such as we had in San Francisco," Romney said.

"In that convention—or in any election year — the interest is likely to focus around personalities and candidates, and it's impossible to talk things through in a proper and objective manner," Romney said.

He expressed hope that Republicans will "talk things through" before the 1966 congressional elections.

He said an initial step toward uniting party leadership will be the forthcoming Republican governors conference at which the GOP can "take a look at its product.

Hunter Held in Gun Death

A 41-year-old Rochester man is awaiating Circuit Court aa raignment on a charge of involuntary manslaughter after killing another hunter Monday.

Louis F. Brady of 532 Rewold is free on $1,500 bond after admitting to statae police that he mistook Edmund G. Baller, 51, of Cheboygan for a bear.

Brady was hunting in Inverness Township, Cheboygan County, when the incident occurred late Monday afaterno

He was arraigned in Justice Court yesterday, and waived examination.

State police said he would be arraigned in Cheboygan County Circuit Court on two counts, probably late next week.

WITHOUT MALICE

One count covers "killing of a person by discharging a firearm pointed or aimed intentionally but without malice."

The other covers "killing of a person by discharging a firearm carried carelessly, recklessly aand negligently, but not wantingly."

Common Mart Backing Wheat for Red China

BRUSSELS, (UPI) — The European Common Market has agreed to subsidize up to 1 million tons of French wheat for Communist China, informed sources said today.

The subsidy will amount to $4 million and will come from the market's agricultural guarantee fund, it was reliably reported. The money, added to an equivalent subsidy by the French government, would permit French farmers to compete with wheat offers to Red China from Australia and New Zealand.

NEW FORD OFFICE BUILDING — Construction of new headquarters for Ford Tractor and Implement Operations, shown above as conceived by the architects, is now under way in Birmingham. The two-level, 9,720-square-foot structure, scheduled for completion next February, is part of a major Ford expansion program in this area. (See story on Page 2).

Along With Air Transport Units

1,200 More Yanks Sent to S. Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States sent another 1,200 military men into South Viet Nam this month, officials disclosed today. More American air transport units also have been thrown into the struggle.

The disclosures came less than 24 hours after it was announced that Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor will fly back to Washington to open a sweeping review of the South Vietnamese situation with President Johnson and his top military and diplomatic advisers on Nov. 27.

The additional manpower brings U.S. military strength in the troubled area to about 21,200 — up 5,000 since midsummer, sources said.

Some of the reinforcements have been assigned to the U.S. Special Forces, an elite unit specially trained for guerrilla warfare.

★ ★ ★

Other U.S. forces have been assigned to beef up the teams of American advisers who are working in the field with South Vietnamese troops.

AIR POWER

The additional air power includes a squadron of U.S. Air Force C123 transport planes and a group of Army CU2 cargo carriers.

The air power is designed to increase the mobility and flexibility of Vietnamese troops in

Man Survives 'Steve Brodie' Leap Off Bridge

NEW YORK (AP) — A 25-year-old man made a 160-foot dive from the Brooklyn Bridge into the East River today.

After the crew of a police launch picked him out of the water, his only complaint was of a "slight backache."

Police said he was one of only a few persons to survive such a leap from the bridge since Steve Brodie reportedly did it as a publicity stunt for his saloon before the turn of the century.

The jumper identified himself as Marvin B. Holleman, Houston, Tex.

"I have no job," he told them just before he let go of a cable.

responding more quickly to guerrilla raids.

Officials said the increases in American manpower and air power committed to the Viet Nam war were the result of decisions taken earlier and did not represent any new strategy.

★ ★ ★

President Johnson will make whatever new decisions are required following his talks with Taylor.

MADE CLEAR

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and other high officials have made it clear since the Nov. 3 election that the United States has no intention of pulling out of Southeast Asia.

Most of the presidential advisers appear to have boiled down the alternatives for the future to either a continuation of present policies or an expansion of the war effort into North Viet Nam to retaliate for the increasing pace of the guerrilla war.

★ ★ ★

Taylor's visit to Washington will be his second since he was sent to Saigon as ambassador last July. He is a former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Citizens Committee Has 6-Point Program

Formation of a Citizens Committee on Taxation to study and analyze Pontiac's income tax was announced today.

★ ★ ★

Headed by a nine - member executive committee, the citizens group has adopted a six-point program, which does not take a stand for or against the income tax.

Instead the group emphasizes the need for a referendum on the tax ordinance.

The committee was formed after a meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nasstrom, 208 E. Iroquois.

★ ★ ★

The Nasstroms have initiated a petition drive to secure the necessary 1,433 signatures to force a referendum on the tax.

EXECUTIVE BOARD

Membership of the new committee's executive board consists of the Nasstroms, Louis Wren, Lucille Marshall, Cecil Mullinix, Robert A. Landry, Earl St. Aubin, Herbert Straley and Loy Ledford.

Landry is a former Pontiac mayor and District 7 commissioner, while Ledford is former District 5 commissioner.

The six-point program outlined in the committee's announcement includes:

★ ★ ★

- A study of the city's fiscal needs;
- Study and analysis of the Pontiac Income Tax Ordinance, as adopted;
- An analysis of the city's current fiscal position;
- An analysis of the past and present revenue sources and methods of producing revenue;
- The publication of its findings and dissemination of such information to the people of Pontiac;
- A referendum vote by an informed electorate on the Income Tax Ordinance.

UAW, Ford Take Break in Sessions

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. and the United Auto Workers Union broke off without settlement in today's predaawn hours marathon local-level negotiations aiamed at ending strikes which Ford blames for reducing its automobile output to a mere trickle.

Strikes still exist at only three plants in Michigan. These are in Sterling Township, where rear axles and chasasis parts made, and at both an auto and a truck asasembly plant in Wayne.

No new local-level bargaining was scheduled until Friday, making way for a top-level conference at 10 a.m. today at Ford headquarters in suburban Dearborn. A union official said the meeting was "to find out why" at-the-plant disputes had not been resolved.

★ ★ ★

The strikes have all but halted Ford production of cars and trucks and have resulted in the idling of 75,000 of Ford's 131,000 UAW represented workers in 90 plants.

10,000 A DAY

The auto firm had been building 10,000 cars a day in recent weeks. Ford estimated production yesterday at 300 cars and 700 trucks.

The UAW struck nine of 11 Ford plants without local agreements on Nov. 6. The company and union had agreed Sept. 18 to a national contract. The local pacts supplement this contract.

The original nine factories struck included five major parts producing plants, but all of these except the one in Sterling Township have since reached accord on local-level working agreements, which differ plant-to-plant.

Negro Leader Notorious Liar, Says FBI Chief

Terms JFK Report 'Monday Morning Quarterbacking'

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has blasted the Warren Commission as "unfair and unjust" and called Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. "the most notorious liar in the country."

Hoover boiled over on these and other matters, including lenient "bleeding heart judges," in a lengthy interview yesterday with a group of women reporters.

He angrily charged the Warren Commission with "a classic example of Monday morning quarterbacking" in discussing its report on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

The commission, headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, has said the FBI failed to notify the Secret Service that the assassin, Lee Harvey Oswald, was in Dallas last Nov. 22, the day Kennedy was slain.

★ ★ ★

In New York City alone, Hoover complained, 7,000 persons would have to be taken out of circulation every time a president makes a public appearance if it were deemed necessary to remove "every individual who might threaten the safety of the president."

TURNING OVER

However, the FBI director said, his office is turning over to the Secret Service the names of "thousands of beatniks, crackpots and kooks."

Hoover appeared before the commission last May 14 and told newsmen after testifying the panel was doing "a very thorough job."

He said it had "even gone beyond what a reasonable man would have expected" in accumulating evidence.

★ ★ ★

Shortly after the commission issued its report Sept. 27, Hoover was entwined in controversy.

PARTIAL TRANSCRIPT

The Washington Evening Star published Oct. 2 a copyright partial transcript of the FBI director's testimony, some of which was sharply critical of the State Department and some of the security measures taken to protect the president.

Yesterday he said there is "not a scintilla" of jealousy between the FBI and the Secret Service, which is charged by law with protecting presidents.

Efforts to reach the members of the Warren Commission, some of whom are traveling abroad, were not successful.

Hoover let fly his blast at Dr. King, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference in discussing civil rights.

CALLED A LIAR

He called the Negro integrationist, who recently was named winner of the Nobel Peace Prize a liar for advising Negroes not

Add Biology to OU Curriculum

Oakland University has added biology to its liberal arts-centered curriculum, accomplishing the act with the appointment of two biology professors.

Joining the faculty this year are Clifford V. Harding and Walter L. Wilson, both of whom have worked in cellular physiology research.

Both professors come from eastern universities. Harding comes from Columbia University's College of Physicians and Surgeons and Wilson from the University of Vermont's College of Medicine.

Under their direction, the OU biology program has been designed for liberal arts and secondary teaching majors.

★ ★ ★

Harding, chairman of the new department, said that the liberal arts emphasis will prepare students for graduate work, industrial laboratory and research work, or further training for other careers.

RESEARCH PROJECTS

The two biologists plan to continue foundation-supported research projects at OU. They also plan to maintain their affiliation with the Marine Biological Laboratory in Woods Hole, Mass.

For several summers Harding and Wilson have joined other scientists in research at that biological center.

Harding, 39, received his bachelor's degree from Brown University, and then went on to receive his Ph.D. at Pennsylvania.

★ ★ ★

He taught at the University of Southern California and the University of Pennsylvania, and was a physiologist in the Atomic Energy Commission's division of biology and medicine.

COLUMBIA FACULTY

Prior to joining the OU staff, he was an associate professor at Columbia, where he was a member of the faculty for six years.

Wilson, 46, received his bachelor's degree from West Chester State College, and his Ph.D. from Pennsylvania.

He was a biologist on the Manhattan atomic bomb project at Columbia University for two years, and taught at the University of Pennsylvania while completing his doctorate.

He joined the University of Vermont faculty in 1949, and left that institution at the rank of associate professor to join the OU faculty this year.

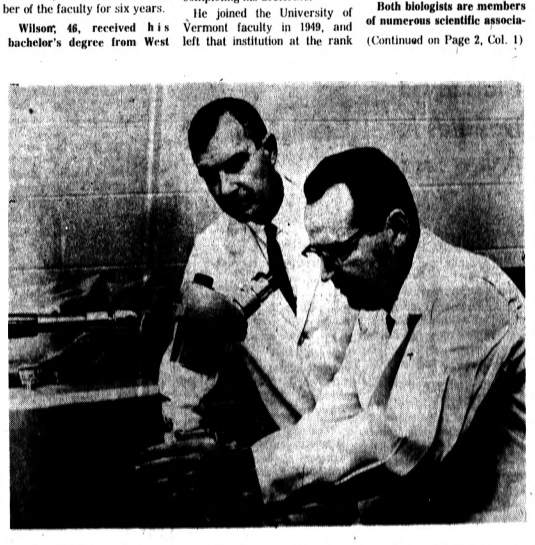

FELLOWSHIP

During his stay at Vermont he was the recipient of a Guggenheim Fellowship.

Both biologists are members of numerous scientific associa-

Early Snowfall Arrives in Area

So, you thought winter would be a little late this year, huh? Well, it had no intention of missing its customary early start in Michigan, as was evidenced by this morning's snowfall.

In fact, the snow is earlier than last year, when the first accumulation was recorded on Dec. 2.

Most of the snow melted as it hit the ground today. However many roofs stayed covered.

The road commission reported only a few slippery spots in the northeast part of the county and a few slippery bridges on I-94, but no serious traffic hazards from the fall.

★ ★

CLOUDY, COLDER

Tomorrow will have variable cloudiness and colder temperatures. And, more flurries are forecast. They will continue through Saturday. The high expected tomorrow is 35 to 40.

The low mercury reading recorded this morning was 31. At 1 p.m. the thermometer read 38 in downtown Pontiac.

Ford Planning Area Expansion

A major expansion program for its Birmingham and Wixom facilities was announced today for Ford Motor Co's U.S. Tractor and Implement Operations. When completed early next year, the program will be responsible for brining 150 new jobs into Michigan.

Emery Dearborn, general operations manager, said the expansion will include:

- Construction of a two-story office building adjacent to the present Ford Tractor Division general office building on E. Maple in Birmingham;
- An 84 per cent increase in the floor space of the present Birmingham depot on Coolidge, which has been redesignated the Detroit Supply and Central Parts Depot;

★ ★ ★

- Creation of an expanded north central district sales organization at Wixom, replacing the Birmingham sales district, and covering four states including Michigan. The former sales district covered only Michigan.

BUILDING UNDER WAY

Construction of the new Tractor and Implement Operations general office building already is under way and is scheduled for completion in February 1965, according to Dearborn.

The two - level, 8,720-square foot structure will connect with the present office through an 80-foot long, glass - enclosed, pedestrian bridge at the second level.

The building will be of face brick and aluminum sash construction with stone sills and coping. The bridge will be enclosed with plate glass set off at the top and bottom by opaque glass.

★ ★ ★

Dearborn said the new building will provide Tractor and Implement Operations with space required to continue its sales and personnel expansion. The Tractor Division, will require the existing space for concurrent growth.

INCREASED SERVICE

Expansion of the Detroit Supply and Central Parts Depot from 208,000 square feet to 384,000 square feet will permit increased service to Ford tractor and implement dealers throughout the country, Dearborn said.

"Under our new distribution arrangement," he explained, "the depot will serve as a local warehouse for dealers in the north central district and as a central parts warehouse area for replenishment of our other nine depots."

The Detroit depot will stock between 32,000 and 34,000 tractor and implement parts.

★ ★ ★

The addition is being built by H. F. Campbell Company of Detroit.

DISTRICT HEAD

The new North Central District is headed by John J. Dzorni. District offices will be located in existing Ford facilities at Wixom and will work directly with more than 300 dealers in Michigan, Kentucky, Indiana and Ohio, and supervise 21 sales and service zones.

The Michigan expansion program is part of a national realignment announced earlier this year by Dearborn.

to report any civil rights violations to the Albany, Ga., FBI office because the staff members were all Southerners.

When he asked King to make an appointment so he could prove that four of the five men were born in the North, Hoover said, King would not make the appointment.

The FBI director went off the record for further comments about the minister.

An aide to King said that he was vacationing in the Bahamas and would have nothing to say until today at the earliest.

But in Houston, Tex., Aaron Henry, a Mississippi NAACP member, told newsme in a iterview that FBI agents in Southern states generally are not in sympathy with civil rights.

Fire Strikes Site of Troy Ax-Slayings

Fire of undetermined origin late last night nearly destroyed the scene of a multiple slaying for which a 30-year-old Troy man, William G. Gravlin, is to be tried.

★ ★ ★

Firemen were called to the scene shortly after 11 p.m. when a passing motorist noticed the fire at 2121 Garson.

The little white one-story frame home was in flames when they arrived, but the efforts of the Troy department prevented total destruction.

Seven bodies were found in the house Sept. 29 after Gravlin flagged down a truck driver and told him he had killed his whole family.

★ ★ ★

The bodies were those of wife, daughter and five stepchildren.

BOUND OVER

Gravlin has just been bound over for trial on a charge of first-degree murder.

Troy Fire Chief Mike Ford said today that he was investigating the cause of the fire. No indication of arson has yet been found.

No damage estimate was available.

U.S. Authorities Dispute Claims of Fidel Infiltration

MIAMI, Fla (AP) — A creepy feeling of Fidel Castro spies infiltrating the United States is growing in the Cuban exile colony. U.S. authorities say the situation is under control.

★ ★ ★

The head of an anti-Castro organization with an intelligence department of its own estimates more than 1 per cent of the Cuban refugees in this country are Communist agents. About 200,000 cubans have come since Castro's 1959 takeover.

★ ★ ★

Another exile leader, whose office claims wide access to exile and Cuban underground information, estimated the number of Castro agents at 5,000, including Cubans and Americans.

LACK SUBSTANTIATION

An official of the State Department's Cuban affairs office here described such claims as without substantiation.

Miami district immigration director Robert Woytych said his men screen out spies by "one of the most efficient techniques yet devised."

★ ★ ★

"Our record is so tremendous that no cases have been brought to light," he said.

The Cuban who issued the estimate of 5,000 agents said: "Many have lived in the United States since before Castro, and are American citizens. They can cross back and forth into Mexico freely. The Cuban Embassy in Mexico is the hub of the spy network."

LIST OF SUSPECTS

The exile produced a list of alleged Castro agents or "very suspicious persons."

He said his investigation showed that: "One is assigned to watch every important anti-Castro group here. Some are assigned to scan American newspapers. Some are assigned to be troublemakers.

★ ★ ★

"Castro knew about the Bay of Pigs invasion. Since then, his espionage network has grown in experience and numbers."

FBI special agent Howard Albaugh said his office receives many complaints about supposed Castro agents, but "we feel the situation is under control."

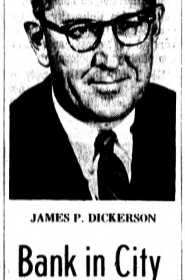

ONLY ONE CASE

Albaugh recalled only one such court case here, that of an American, William J. Shergalis, sentenced to three months in 1962 for failing to register as an agent for the Cuban government. Officials said Shergalis flew to Cuba in a plot to embarrass the United States.

Assistant District Immigration Director Gordon Yeager said his department has "eased out" many who flunked the screening — "well over 100." These are returned to Cuba or permitted to go elsewhere.

★ ★ ★

Laureano Batista, military head of the anti-Castro Christian Democratic Movement, said he caught a Castro spy trying to infiltrate his organization last-year.

Protest Fails to Halt School Plan

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Despite legal efforts to block it, the Bloomfield Hills Board of Education is going ahead with tentative plans to build a high school on Lahser Road.

★ ★ ★

Board attorney Lawrence King has predicted that five couples protesting the construction will be unsuccessful in their attempt to stop it through Circuit Court action.

Bond issue for the district's second high school was approved by property owners in June. The board then set about planning for the $2.3-million building.

Efforts to halt it were made in August after the board indicated the school would be erected on a 40-arcre site on the west side of Lahser, between Long Lake and Hickory Grove roads.

★ ★ ★

A group of 10 persons who live or own property on the road filed a suit in Oakland County Circuit Court, claiming the narrow, tree-lined lane should not be assaulted by heavy construction vehicles and, later, student traffic.

PROTEST LEADER

Those protesting the construction are led by Bloomfield Hills Mayor Louis J. Colombo.

The board has authorized architects at Tarapata MacMahon Associates, Inc. to start work on a topographical survey necessary to preliminary planning.

Board members had planned originally to see construction started in March, 1965 in order to have the facility completed by September, 1966. This deadline was considered necessary to avoid overcrowding at the present high school.

★ ★ ★

They authorized the topographical survey after a report by King in which he stated his confidence that "the court will, at the final hearing if not before, hold for the school district in this case and will, at the very least, not prohibit construction on the site."

FINAL HEARING

The final hearing is scheduled Jan. 22, 1965, but King has filed for a summary judgment, a motion which will be heard before Judge Frederick C. Ziem Monday.

If favorable to the district, the summary judgment would in effect dismiss the case, indicating there was no cause for action.

Girl, 5, Resents Aggressive Little Brother

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: My 5-year-old girl is jealous of her little brother. She was complaining about him to me yesterday and I said, "If Bobby went away on a visit to granny, you would miss him and want him back again."

She replied, "I would like to stick a knife into him." Then she said, "I would like to take him up in an airplane and drop him out of it."

If this an indication of emotional problems we have not recognized?

ANSWER: It indicates your daughter's willingness to entrust you with her wish that Bobby didn't exist.

She has not yet received sufficient friendliness from Bobby to make his existence desirable to her.

ARE PESTS

At her age, little brothers and sisters are pests. They eat crayons, grab doll furniture and grin triumphantly when parents scold you for trying to defend yourself against their depredations.

You feel about them exactly as — well, exactly as we feel about our mother-in-law when she says, "I know that John would prefer me to make the pie shell, dear."

* * *

Though we may not say that we want to stick a knife into our grabby mother-in-law we certainly want her grabbiness removed from our lives as passionately as 5-year-olds want the grabbiness of little brothers and sisters removed from theirs.

* * *

Your little girl's references to knives and airplane drops do not mean what they would mean if we thought of these murdering instruments in connection with our mother-in-law.

She knows nothing whatever about the messiness involved in these illegal methods for getting rid of people whose existence is undesirable to us.

For your little girl, talk about knives and airplane drops merely expressed the vividness of her wish to push her pest out of her life and be rid of his aggressions upon her.

We are patient with such a 5-year-old wish because we know that our older child needs time to discover that Bobby can offer more than aggression.

* * *

We listen quietly and sympathetically to the wish for friendliness from him which is expressed by her resentment of his unfriendliness.

We say, "Yes, he's pretty hard to get along with now. But he'll get nicer as time goes by."

New Bathroom Decors

Decor - minded American housewives are paying more attention to decorating their bathrooms and to the accessories than any other room in the home.

* * *

In fact, modern bathrooms are blossoming out like June gardens and keep this decorative effect year-round. The once - popular theme of vivid stripes and multicolored geometric patterns are a thing of the past.

* * *

Today, in the bathroom everything's coming up roses. The newest bath towels and wash cloths are sprinkled with roses, the shower curtain either carries out this idea or is selected in a solid color to match with the rose pattern carried out in embossed white flowers.

* * *

Facial and toilet tissues in the new floral prints extend the decorative plan and often they are displayed in clear plastic holders, instead of in the formerly chosen metal boxes.

* * *

Some women even carry out the floral theme by painting the pattern on glass and plastic bottles and jars which hold their cosmetic and toiletries supplies.

With a floral printed chintz shade on the window and the efficient new washable cotton carpeting on the floor the bathroom becomes a bower.

Glove Conditioner

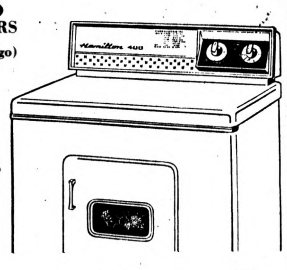

Sprinkle the inside of rubber gloves with cornstarch after each use. It keeps them in good condition.

Tweeds, bold in color and bold in pattern, make the most important town coats such as this design by Fernando Bosc for Paul Parnes. The narrow line is softened by big panel pleats, front and back. The tweed is Anglo's, of "Antron" nylon, wool and "Orlon" acrylic, the colors purple and gold. The purple chenille yarn gives a royally rich plush look to the fabric. About $300.

Regents to Tackle Issue in California

Student Politicking Big Problem at University

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Regents of the University of California are about to tackle the thorny issue of whether to permit students to engage in politico-social action on campus — and what to do if students are convicted for such activity off campus.

A small but aggressive minority of the more than 27,400 students has defied a long-standing rule against such action.

★ ★ ★

After several weeks of intermittent demonstrations, inquiries and committee recommendations, the regents are to take up the whole business Friday during their regular session.

Involved were suspensions of eight students — after some had collected money on campus for civil rights work in the Deep South — and the encirclement of a university police car for two days and nights to prevent jailing of a non student for on-campus activities.

SIT-IN DEMONSTRATIONS

Another problem was the conviction earlier of some university students for sit-in demonstrations in San Francisco in support of more jobs for Negroes.

The regents face this question: Should they reaffirm the defied rule — that there shall be no solicitation of funds and no recruitment of members on campus for off-campus political purposes?

Freedom of speech is thus denied, the dissidents charge.

A faculty committee which investigated the complicated situation has recommended lifting the rule; but if a student's on-campus actions lead to off-campus conviction for a law violation, then he also would be subject to university action. That would be double jeopardy, the dissidents insist.

The dissidents have banded together some 18 off-campus political organizations under the name of the Free Speech Movement. They put their strength at about 3,000. Opponents say this figure is exaggerated.

★ ★ ★

Focal point of the dispute is a 26-foot strip of sidewalk at Sather Gate on the campus. Through the years student action there has violated the rules — but it had been tolerated.

On Sept. 21, the dean of students, Katherine Towle, dropped a bombshell by ordering enforcement of the no-politics rule.

There is confusion about precisely what brought the sudden enforcement. University President Clark Kerr said it simply was a built-up case of the Sather Gate area being "quite unregulated."

★ ★ ★

Everything came to a head Sept. 30. Eight students were suspended. There was a mass sit-in demonstration.

A nonstudent demonstrator was arrested and the police car taking him to jail was surrounded.

Demonstrators crushed in its top standing on it to make speeches.

IN THE END

Five hundred police were called in from outside. In the end there was a parley.

Agreement was reached not to prosecute the arrested demonstrator. A committee was set up to investigate.

★ ★ ★

Demonstrators claimed victory and again set up fund-collection tables. The investigating committee was dismissed.

One faculty committee sharply criticized the university for its handling of the eight suspensions. The students were wrong, the committee said, but had good intentions.

JOINED STUDENTS

Some 200 graduate student teaching assistants joined the students.

Then, another faculty committee studied the entire matter and came up with a recommendation for a compromise solution.

★ ★ ★

Now it's up to the board of regents.

Pig Has Personality

SEYMOUR, Ind. (AP) — This little piggy went to market, but it came right back.

It wanted to be at its favorite trick — stealing ears of corn from its pal, a Shetland pony named Goldie.

Sold to a new owner, Porky the Pig broke out of his pen several times and trotted the quarter-mile to his old home and his pal, Goldie, on Robert Hirtzel's farm near Seymour.

Considerably irked, Porky's new owner, Gerald Jaynes, carted the offspring of Berkshire-Poland China ancestry to a Seymour locker plant to have it butchered.

★ ★ ★

Porky broke out again. Forty-eight hours and five miles later, he turned up again at his old home.

BOUGHT BACK

Touched by the 100-pound pig's love for his old home — and Goldie, Mrs. Hirtzel induced Jaynes to sell Porky back to the Hirtzels.

"I feel Porky has won his right to live a little while longer," Mrs. Hirtzel said.

Forced to Be Spy, Says Man in Trunk

ROME (AP) — Italian police said today the man they rescued from an Egyptian diplomatic trunk now says he is an Israeli who fled to Egypt, was jailed for six months and then forced to become a spy for the United Arab Republic.

★ ★ ★

He told police he wound up in the trunk after he asked his contact men at the U.A.R. Embassy in Rome for a raise in pay.

When the police pulled him from the trunk Tuesday night the man said he was Josef Dahan, a native of Morocco. Police said he now admits he is Mordechai Ben Masud Louk born near Tel Aviv.

A police spokesman in Tel Aviv said earlier Dahan appeared from his description to be Louk, a 28-year-old carpenter who left his wife and four children in a small village near Tel Aviv in 1961 and crossed illegally into the Egyptian-held Gaza Strip.

★ ★ ★

Louk reportedly fled after he was called up for service in the Israeli army. The Italian police sent his photograph and fingerprints to Tel Aviv and said Israel might ask his extradition as a deserter.

Louk said he gave a false name when first questioned because he was afraid of repercussions for his wife and children.

He told police that after he fled from Israel, the Eyptians questioned him and then put him in jail for six months. He said that he finally agreed to work for "the organization."

Police said he was sent to Europe for economic espionage and worked in the Netherlands, Belgium and West Germany before being sent to Naples early this year.

★ ★ ★

Louk said he never furnished the Egyptians any information of real value, only bits and pieces of minor news to string them along.

POSSIBLE REASON

This police said, might have been the reason he got in trouble.

The Italian police had said earlier they had information the man had worked as a spy for the United Arab Republic and later for Israel. The spokesman in Tel Aviv said Louk had never worked for any Israeli authority or institution.

Louk was rescued from a trunk labled diplomatic mail as it was being loaded aboard a United Arab Airlines plane at Rome's Fiumiciono Airport. The trunk, fitted out with a stool, shoes and clamps to hold the feet and headgear for the head, was brought to the airport by two first secretaries of the U.A.R. Embassy in Rome. It was addressed to the U.A.R. Foreign Ministry in Cairo.

The two diplomats were expelled from Italy and left Wednesday night for Cairo.

HIS STORY

Italian police said they pieced together this story from their questioning of Dahan:

He went to Egypt in 1961 and there met one of the two diplomats who on Tuesday tried to ship him back to Cairo. The diplomat offered him a job in Italy supplying such minor information as arrivals and departures of ships and air passengers.

He received from $100 to $160 a month and passed his information to the "organization" through one of the U.A.R. Embassy secretaries.

★ ★ ★

Speaking 10 languages, he picked up additional money as an interpreter for travel agencies in Naples. He lived in a simply furnished room in a small hotel, bleached his close-cropped hair almost white, wore dark glasses and had a dozen neatly tailored suits in his wardrobe.

He came to Rome from Naples to contact "the organization" and to discuss money.

WENT FOR DRIVE

He met the two embassy first secretaries, Abdel Moneim El Neklawy and Selim Osman El Sayed, in a cafe on the Via Veneto. They invited him for a drive in an automobile. As they cruised the streets of Rome, the diplomats gave him his choice of quitting or going to Cairo.

He chose Cairo because he feared quitting meant death. The two diplomats took him to a room, drugged him and put him in the trunk.

Guilty Pleas Entered by 3 in Car Deaths

Guilty pleas were entered yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court by three persons charged with negligent homicide in traffic deaths. The pleas were made just before jury trials were to begin for each defendant.

Pleading guilty were John W. Veeder, 30, of Detroit; Ronald R. Brant, 18, of Redford Township; and Brenda J. Saunders, 23, of 1200 Ward, Bloomfield Township.

Veeder and Brant will be sentenced Dec. 10 by Judge Arthur E. Moore. Judge William J. Beer will sentence Miss Saunders on Dec. 4.

Veeder was the driver of a car that collided with another on the Dixie Highway near Sashabaw in Waterford Township on Nov. 18, 1963.

★ ★ ★

A passenger in the other auto, Mrs. Mary Wisner, 41, of Flint, was killed. Police said Veeder crossed the center line.

PASSENGER KILLED

The charge was brought against Brant after a passenger in his car was killed in a two-car crash at 13 Mile and Middle Belt, Farmington Township, on May 2. Fatally injured was David B. Miller, 18, of Livonia.

According to township police, Brant disregarded a red flasher signal.

Miss Saunders is charged with the death of Hilda Kress, 35, of 4025 S. Shore, Waterford Township, in a two-car crash on Sept. 6.

★ ★ ★

The accident occurred on Telegraph, just south of Orchard Lake, in Bloomfield Township. Miss Kress was a passenger in the car struck by the Saunders auto.

4 of 5 Captured After Break From Jail in Flint

FLINT (AP) — Two men overpowered a jailer who was taking them to get haircuts, freed three other men from their cells and all five escaped from the Genesee County Jail Wednesday night.

★ ★ ★

Four of the five were recaptured in the city within three hours.

Still sought was a man identified by sheriff's deputies as Arnold Wilson, 32, of Flint.

★ ★ ★

They identified the recaptured men as Sterling Wilhoite, Arthur Nation, 30, and James Kelly, 30, all of Flint, and Leo Cole, 28, of Clio.

Officers said that while two of the men were at large they robbed a Flint party store of $100. They did not identify the two.

Envoy to Brief LBJ on Russia

Officials Will Discuss New Kremlin Policy

MOSCOW (UPI) — U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler took off for Washington today to brief President Johnson and top administration officials on Kremlin policy following the overthrow of former Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Kohler's special Air Force plane was expected in Washington at 10:30 p.m. EST, after a 5 a.m. EST departure from Moscow and stopovers in Copenhagen and New York.

Diplomatic sources said Kohler is carrying back with him a general impression that the new Kremlin leadership is determined to improve relations with the West.

The latest indication of this policy was an agreement Kohler signed with the Soviets yesterday providing for cooperation in the use of nuclear energy for the desalination of sea water.

★ ★ ★

Kohler hailed the agreement as a milestone along the path of Washington - Moscow agreements such as the hot line and nuclear test ban treaty.

GROMYKO SIGNS

Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, signing for the Soviets, asked Kohler: "Why don't we get together and add another agreement to this one we are signing?"

"The Soviet Union will do its utmost to get a solution to international problems and the lessening of world tension and to improve relations between our two countries," Gromyko added.

The desalination agreement provides for a wide exchange of research reports and periodic meetings of scientists from the two countries.

★ ★ ★

Diplomats said the Soviet efforts to improve relations with the United States took on added significance because they came at a time when Moscow's relations with Peking have reached a crucial stage.

Declaration Put Aside at Council

VATICAN CITY, (AP) — Presiding cardinals at the Vatican Ecumenical Council ordered its controversial declaration on religious liberty put aside today. Two U.S. cardinals and a Canadian reportedly protested the action and carried a petition to Pope Paul VI.

★ ★ ★

The council was to have voted today on whether to give more time to study the declaration or proceed to an immediate vote of acceptance or rejection.

Instead, council spokesmen said, Eugene Cardinal Tisserant, one of 12 cardinals forming the council Steering Committee, announced there would be no vote at all on the declaration at this council session, which ends Saturday.

MUST WAIT

That meant there would be no further action on the document until the council meets again, possibly in 1966.

Council sources said Joseph Cardinal Ritter of St. Louis, Mo.; Albert Cardinal Meyer of Chicago and Paul Emile Cardinal Leger of Montreal immediately prepared a petition for the Pope, protesting the action and saying it was up to all the 2,000 council fathers to decide whether there should be a vote.

★ ★ ★

These sources said the three cardinals circulated the petition during the council meeting and collected between 800 and 1,000 signatures. The three cardinals then went to the Pope's apartment.

Report Liver Ailment Confines Formosa Veep

TAIPEI (AP) — Chen Cheng, vice president of the Republic of China since 1954, is confined to his home in Taipei with inflammation of the liver, offical sources disclosed today.

They said the 66-year-old official has shown some improvement in the past few days. President Chiang Kai-shek paid him a visit yesterday.

Record 302,735 Voted in County on Nov. 3

A record number of Oakland County voters went to the polls in the Nov. 3 presidential election, according to figures released by the County Board of Canvassers.

★ ★ ★

The official tabulation made by the four-member board shows that 302,735 persons cast ballots.

The final count is 1,330 more than the 301,405 votes cast in the 1960 general election.

★ ★ ★

While the total number of voters was higher in the recent election, the percentage of those reggistered fell just shor of the 1960 all-time high.

★ ★ ★

In the last election 85.3 per cent of the 350,000 registered

They were basing their forecast on the fact that registe-County election officials had strations had increased 5,000.

With one exception, changes in the unofficial tabulation were minor, said County Election Clerk Mabel Child.

★ ★ ★

James F. O'Neil, an unsuccessful GOP candidate for an eight-year term on the State Board of Education, received about 1,000 more votes than had been recorded earlier.

Union Vows to Fight Back Against Klan

LAUREL, Miss. (AP) — Members of a Mississippi labor union have been told to take arms against the Ku Klux Klan because masked men whipped a union official.

★

"If those who are members of the Ku Klux Klan wish to turn the community into an armed camp, disregard law and order and soak our soil in blood, we are prepared to help them," the union said.

★ ★ ★

All 18 officials of Local 5443 of the International Woodworkers of America, AFL-CIO, signed the declaration Wednesday.

Most union members work at the Masonite plant which, under federal pressure, recently adopted a policy of nondiscrimination in job placement. About 3,000 employes are at the plant.

Otis Matthews, 41, the local's business manager, told officers hooded men abducted and whipped him with a strap Monday night while he was going home from work. Matthews was treated at a local hospital.

Comic Plans $3-Million Suit

Will Charge Sullivan With Libel, Slander

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Comedian Jackie Mason has revealed he plans to sue television host Ed Sullivan for $3 million for libel and slander.

★ ★ ★

Sullivan fired Mason for allegedly making "vulgar gestures" on his show last Oct. 18, following a major foreign policy address by President Johnson.

Mason, appearing at the Flamingo Hotel here, told United Press International yesterday that "there is no other means of redress open to me for this grave injustice.

"I deny that any gesture I employed on Mr. Sullivan's show was either vulgar or obscene," the comic added.

★ ★ ★

Attorney Paul O'Dwyer, youngest brother of William O'Dwyer, former mayor of New York and former American ambassador to Mexico, said the suit would be filed in the New York Supreme (Superior) Court "as soon as the papers are prepared — probably within the next two weeks."

LIBEL SLANDER

The New York lawyer said his client would charge Sullivan with libel and slander in the suit.

"It was vulgarism," Sullivan said of Mason's alleged performance after the show, "contemptuous and vulgar."

The television entrepreneur arrived here soon after the disputed show to scout talent for future productions. At that time, he said that Mason's gesture was recorded.

★ ★ ★

"The proof is on tape and all the king's horses and all the king's men can't change it. I've always had a homey show. This is the first time anything like this has come up in 17 years," Sullivan said.

$35,000 CONTRACT

At the time, Sullivan said he was canceling Mason's contract, which would have netted the comedian $35,000.

★ ★ ★

Mason, who was a rabbi in Welcon, N.C., and Latrobe, Pa., until eight years ago, is earning $10,000 weekly at the Flamingo. He said he was to be paid $7,500 each for six scheduled appearances on the Sullivan show.

State Executive Dies in Indiana Accident

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Richard Jennings, 35, general manager of a Grand Rapids car auction operation, was killed Wednesday in a traffic crash near Crown Point, Ind., company spokesmen said. They said Jennings lives at Dyer, Ind., but commutes three days a week to his post here. The victim's car reportedly collided with the rear of a truck stopped at a railroad crossing.
