Rain, Ice Jams Causing Floods

Frankenmuth Damaged by Four Feet of Water, Port Huron Also Hit

Two Michigan cities counted extensive damage today as Oakland County joined the rest of the state in mopping up damage caused by heavy rains and an early thaw.

Flood waters, backed up by ice jams, gushed into Port Huron and Frankenmuth Wednesday when the pile-ups broke loose. Cass River flooded Frankenmuth four feet deep in places.

Meanwhile, Joseph W. Gable, acting Pontiac water superintendent, said the Clinton River flood threat here has temporarily ended.

He said the river rose from 8 to 14 inches during the heavy rains, but has receded slightly since reaching its crest Tuesday.

But the water superintendent pointed out that the river may rise later when all the ice melts on lakes in the vast Clinton River watershed.

The thaw is scheduled to continue at least another day, with a high near 60 forecast for Friday.

Showers may fall, adding more water to already swollen lakes and streams. The U. S. Weather Bureau predicts a low of from 35 to 38 degrees tonight, and windy weather tomorrow.

The mercury rose from 32 degrees at 8 a. m. today to 52 at 2 p. m. in downtown Pontiac. A

Sells Blood $10 Pint, Then Bets on Horses

CHICAGO (AP)—James F. Hurley, 36, told Detective John Hastings he could explain why he carried a professional blood donor's card with him.

"That's how I make my living," he said. "I sell my blood for $10 a pint and then bet on the horses."

Hurley and Frank Parrilli, 30, were seized yesterday by Hastings for making race horse bets.

Highway Parley Adopts Muskegon Plan for Safety

From AP and UP Dispatches

WASHINGTON — A group attending the President's White House Conference on Highway Safety has adopted Muskegon County's "crusade for safety" as a model for making communities traffic-problem conscious.

The group is one of seven which are compiling suggestions to present to Vice President Nixon in President Eisenhower's absence.

The conference's "Media Study Group" will use the plan nationally as "America's Crusade for Safety."

It encourages drivers and pedestrians to pledge themselves to drive and walk selves and promote highway safety among others.

Fifty of the delegates are from Michigan. They are headed by Maxwell Halsey, executive secretary of the State Safety Commission.

Delegates gave special attention to youthful drivers today as they drafted proposals to curb traffic smash-ups.

Teenagers came in for particular consideration less as reckless drivers than as "drivers of tomorrow" whose education on safety would pay future dividends.

Suggestions for dealing with "hot-rod" drivers ranged from setting a national minimum driving age of 20 years to making available indoor arenas where young drivers could work out their stripped-down cars in safety.

Preliminary discussions indicated the final recommendations would strongly urge expanded programs of public school driving lessons for youngsters.

Franklin M. Kreml, director of Northwestern University's Traffic Institute, urged the information media committee Wednesday to "fight for traffic safety as you fight corruption in government."

Mrs. Katherine G. Howard, deputy federal civil defense administrator, told the women's committee "speeding can be called the atom bomb of the American highway."

She said women's organizations should take the lead in carrying out "a tangible, workable program."

Beeson Likely to Be Confirmed

Senate Prepares for Bitter Debate on Ike's NLRB Nominee

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate squared off today for bitter debate on the nomination of Albert C. Beeson to the National Labor Relations Board, with indications that he will be confirmed by a slim margin.

Republicans appeared to be lined up solidly behind the 47-year-old California businessman named to the NLRB by President Eisenhower. Most Democrats indicated they would vote against him, but there were exceptions.

One of these was Sen. Byrd (D-Va), who said in an interview: "I think I'll support him. If there is no conflict of interest — and my investigation doesn't disclose it — I'll be for him."

The six Democrats on the Senate Labor Committee, which questioned Beeson at length, accused him of giving the committee what they called "deceptive and misleading testimony" on three counts.

In a formal report to the Senate, the committee minority said Beeson gave "false" testimony when he said that he "had resigned from the Food Machinery and Chemical Corp.," "had given up his pension rights" and "had not made statements appearing in the San Jose Mercury."

Beeson was vice president of the food machinery firm, at San Jose, Calif., before being named to the NLRB.

The Democrats declared he "withheld information of importance and revealed facts only with reluctance and when confronted with contradictions in his own testimony."

Labor Committee Republicans filed a last-minute report expressing full confidence in Beeson. They noted that he has now submitted a written resignation to his old employer and said:

"This resignation completely dissipates the alleged 'conflict of interest' " which Democrats have said would make Beeson unfit for a job on a semijudicial agency, such as the NLRB.

Manion's Firing Brings Censure; 1 Quits in Anger

Rep. Mason Says Action Will Stymie Work of Commission

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Mason (R-Ill) today resigned from President Eisenhower's Commission on Inter-Governmental Relations in protest against the dismissal of Clarence Manion as chairman.

And from several Republican Senators there was a chorus of outcry against the White House treatment of Manion, former dean of the Notre Dame Law School.

Manion disclosed late yesterday that he had resigned by request. He declared he had been let out because he supports a proposed constitutional amendment by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) to limit treaty powers.

Manion said his resignation was requested by Sherman Adams, presidential aide.

Since Manion was a presidential appointee, Adams obviously could not have acted without Eisenhower's approval.

Mason, in a statement announcing he was resigning, directed his fire at Adams.

Mason said Adams' action "smacks of autocratic dictatorship" and puts the commission "in the same helpless condition as a strong man would be with his head suddenly severed from his body."

The commission, made up of eight public members and four governors appointed by Eisenhower, five senators and five representatives, recently has been seeking more time to study relations among federal, state and local governments. It was to have reported this spring.

There has been criticism of the group's failure to get ahead faster and Sen. Hendrickson (R-NJ), a member, said he was frankly disappointed at the lack of progress.

"It is unfortunate that Dean Manion's resignation came at

Assigns Aide to Probe Alleged Irregularities in Highway Purchases

LANSING (UP) — Attorney General Frank G. Millard today assigned his assistant, Perry S. Maynard, to probe alleged criminal fraud in connection with State Highway Department right-of-way purchases in western Michigan and said he hoped to complete a preliminary report by tomorrow.

Millard said Maynard will check results of an audit completed by Auditor General John B. Martin which showed suspected improper land deals by a department right-of-way buyer who was not further identified.

Meanwhile, Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler said no action would be taken against the suspected individual until the attorney general's investigation was complete.

Ziegler also declined to identify the buyer who was alleged to have cooperated with a Muskegon real estate dealer in paying fictitious prices for right-of-way property.

Millard said State Police Detective Farrell Babcock would work with Maynard in sifting through the voluminous audit report of land purchases in the Grand Rapids right-of-way division of the highway department.

Millard called for the investigation after conferring with Martin and Ziegler in his office.

Martin admitted the audit had been under way since last August when his department first received tips to check right-of-way purchases in the western Michigan district. He said the audit had only been completed within the last few days.

Ziegler said he had no grounds to suspend or fire the suspected buyer, who has been a state employe since 1933, "until we get something concrete to act upon."

Land Appraised at Over $70,000

Two Testify on Value of Jack Habel Property Sought by City

Two appraisers testifying for the Jack Habel Chevrolet Co. in Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday set values of $71,000 and $75,000 on land at 11-49 Parke St. which Pontiac is seeking to condemn.

The city wants to construct a 241-car, metered parking lot on the land now owned by Habel.

Three appraisers testifying for the city last week valued the land at from $37,822 to $40,000.

If the jury condemns the property, it must also decide what amount Pontiac will pay Habel.

Yesterday, Lyle Baker of Royal Oak said he appraised the "fair cash market value" at $71,000, because "that's what it could easily be sold for today."

Baker said he considered the property, worth $120,000 to the Habel company, however, because it allowed room for storage and parking of cars necessary to Habel's business.

Leslie R. Tripp, Pontiac real estate dealer, valued the land at $75,000. "When you get a large property assembled in the business area it takes on 15 to 20 per cent more value," he stated.

Tripp said there are 3,150 parking spaces for shoppers now. He said private enterprise would soon add about 100 more spaces.

William J. Beer, attorney for Habel, asked Tripp if it was true that Pontiac had more parking space than any other comparable size Michigan city. Tripp said, "I wouldn't know."

City Attorney William A. Ewart asked Tripp if he owned a parking lot in Pontiac. Tripp said his wife owned one and he managed her lot and another.

Ewart asked Tripp if he had

Pedestrian Sees Red, Motorist Yellow and White

BURLINGTON, Iowa (UP) — A motorist complained to a woman pedestrian that she was crossing an intersection against a red light.

"Look mister," she said. "My mother-in-law's frustrated, my little boy takes after his father. And I'm behind on my television payments. I don't have to take a lot of drivel from a complete stranger."

Then she hit the motorist in the face with a sack of eggs.

For His Outstanding Work

Urban League Bestows Award on Judge Holland

Oakland County Circuit Court Judge H. Russel Holland last night received the Urban League of Pontiac's annual award for outstanding contribution to racial and religious understanding during the past year.

The presentation was made at the league's 4th annual dinner at St. Benedict Hall, 40 Lynn St.

Judge Holland was cited for his work in 1953 on the league's board of directors and "for many years of service to community and county organizations."

Pontiac General Hospital Director Lauretta Paul spoke on "Employment Integration." She said Pontiac General is the largest employer of minority group professional and office workers in the city.

"Human beings are products of heredity and environment and must be considered as individuals," Miss Paul said.

"Nothing in good management excludes from any work situation any persons provided they are qualified to do the job."

No more friction has occurred than normally would "in a hospital with 140 doctors, over 500 employes, 250 patients and 2,000 friends and relatives of patients," the hospital director added.

Mrs. John D. Monroe, league's first vice president, thanked Miss Paul for "demonstrating that employment based on merit can work."

Everett C. Spurlock, league executive director, summed up 1953 activities. The league made 284 field contacts with business, in-

Six City Schools Get More Space

Board to Buy Portables for 3, Plans Additions for 2, Extra Land

At least six of Pontiac's bulging public schools will get relief by next September.

Pontiac Board of Education Wednesday voted to buy three steel portable buildings to help handle school enrollment growth this next fall. It also decided to buy land on Lake street for a new school later on.

Bids will be opened in March on three "stop-gap" additions to handle September's overflow at other crowded schools.

The board decided to pay $8,000 for the 12-acre site at the south end of Lake street if it can lease 30 adjoining acres for $1 a year with an option to buy after five years.

J. C. Cox, assistant superintendent of schools, said a school on Lake street would relieve overcrowded Bagley. Two rooms of Bagley youngsters are now having classes in the borrowed "Catholic Center" building across the street, he said.

The three steel portables probably would cost about $40,000, Cox said.

Two of the buildings would be "doubles" with two classrooms each, planned to relieve McConnell and Wever schools. He said today that the third, a single, will go to Wisner.

Bids on a four-room addition to Bagley School will be opened March 1, Cox said. Contractors' offers on a two-room Whittier School addition and one room at Malkim will be opened March 3. Plans for a room at Owen School aren't yet ready for bidding.

Burglar Gets Nothing, Store Owner Gains $47

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Three weeks ago Ross Moran, manager of a tire store, came up short $47 in his cash register and reluctantly marked it off as a loss.

This week a burglar entered the place and tore up the cash register. Moran, searching through the dismantled till found the corner of a piece of paper sticking up through a crack in the base. It was a check for $47—dated the same day he had come up short.

And the burglar—he didn't find a cent.

Geneva Meeting Also to Include Indochina War

Communist China Will Be Invited, but Not as Equal Partner

BERLIN (UP)—The Big Four foreign ministers agreed today to hold a Far Eastern peace conference including Red China in Geneva, Switzerland, April 15.

The agreement was reached at a secret meeting of the foreign ministers on the last day of the Berlin conference.

Western informants said it would be announced formally in a communique later today.

Discussion at the Geneva conference will be limited to a Korean peace treaty in its first phase, informants said.

Participants will be the United States, Great Britain, France, Soviet Russia, Communist China, South Korea and North Korea.

After the Korean conference, a second conference will be held on Indochina—Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia.

The Big Four foreign ministers agreed to draft a communique announcing the Far East conference agreement at their final plenary session which started shortly after 3 p.m. (9 a.m. EST).

Agreement on the Geneva conference saved the Berlin meeting from total failure.

It was made possible by a series of concessions by Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov, who had demanded a conference on all world tensions with Red China a full participant.

To French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault the agreement was a major personal triumph. It enables him to return to Paris with the promise of negotiations, at least, to end the grim, costly war in Indochina, now in its eighth year.

It is expected to increase the French government's chance of getting Parliament to ratify the European Defense Community pact

Yankee 2nd Sacker Loses Draft Appeal

BERKLEY, Calif. (UP) — Billy Martin, the New York Yankees world series hero, has lost his draft appeal and faces Army induction in the near future, it was announced today.

Martin, who served just less than six months in the Army at Ft. Ord, Calif., during the winter of 1950-51, was discharged for hardship reasons.

He was recently reclassified 1-A by his Berekley draft board under a general Selective Service order directing a review of all dependency classifications of men who served less than six months in the service.

29 Government Employes Fired in '53 for Disloyalty

WASHINGTON (AP) — The number of officially disclosed 1953 government firings for disloyalty reasons rose to 29 today as the administration took steps toward analyzing 2,200 "security risk" cases.

The figure of 29 covers only five big departments whose officials have been questioned about security separations by the House Appropriations Committee and whose testimony has been made public.

The same departments reported 437 "security risks" had been dropped.

Most recent agency to report was the Commerce Department. In testimony made public today, Asst. Secretary James C. Worthy told the committee 132 security firings or forced resignations last year included 23 persons classified as "cases involving alleged subversion or disloyalty."

Previously, the Justice Department had reported 1 former Communist among its 8 security firings; the Treasury Department had listed 4 disloyalty cases among 130 dismissals; the Agriculture Department had told of 1 disloyalty case in an undisclosed number of security ousters, and the Post Office Department had reported 166 security resignations with no disclosure of how many, if any, were disloyal.

The State Department already has given its figures but the committee has not released them. Reportedly, there have been 534 security firings in the State Department, with 11 or 12 involving disloyalty.

On that basis, with the State Department figures unofficial, the committee has received reports showing that out of 971 security cases in six departments, 40 or 41 have involved persons found or suspected to be disloyal.

Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) said, meanwhile, the administration's promise of a limited analysis of the security risks will not stop his demands for a Senate investigation of the whole issue.

The Charge of Marilyn's Brigade

Rushing Korean GIs Force La Monroe to Flee Stage

EASTERN FRONT, Korea (AP) — An American soldier was knocked down and trampled tonight by an unruly throng of shouting, stomping GIs which surged toward a stage on which Marilyn Monroe was singing.

The crowd of about 6,000 45th Division soldiers rushed toward the stage when the blonde actress appeared.

The men had been unruly from the start of the show. They booed early acts—not Marilyn's—threw rocks at the stage and shouted "bring on Marilyn."

The parka-clad soldiers stomped and shouted as they waited in below-zero weather for the late-starting show to begin. It was the first of Marilyn's shows in three days to get under way behind schedule.

In an effort to quiet the disturbance other acts were cut short and Miss Monroe made an early appearance.

There was an immediate surge toward the stage by soldiers shouting so loudly they drowned out her singing.

One soldier went down and was trampled. He finally was pulled free and taken away in an ambulance. There was no report on the seriousness of his injuries, or his identity.

Miss Monroe bolted from the stage as soon as she completed her eight-minute singing stint. Someone tossed an Army parka over her tight purple gown and

10 Civil Defense Divisions Submit Plans for Disaster Aid in Birmingham Area

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM—Ten department heads of the Civil Defense Council submitted plans for their divisions at a meeting last night. Roland Reese, deputy director, said the plans will be compiled into a workable master plan for use during any disaster.

Reese and other members of the council will meet with James F. Abbott, chairman of the council's essential communications department, to decide the necessity of setting up his department in the Municipal Building where central CD headquarters are located.

A member of a ham radio operators' organization, Abbott told the council that the Oakland County radio control center, owned and operated by this group, has been operating locally in St. James Church.

Reese explained an area-breakdown may for use in the warden's department. Markers designate the location of fire and auxiliary fire stations, motor pools, communications headquarters and schools within the six warden areas.

The six zones were formed by doubling up on the city's 11 voting precincts.

Birmingham High School has been designated as the major emergency hospital.

Besides communications and wardens, other departments are medical schools, clergy, DPW, fire, police, welfare and utilities.

"Acts of vandalism within school property have actually decreased but petty thievery is on the upgrade," Asst. Supt. of Schools Paul Carter told the Birmingham-Bloomfield-Franklin Council on Community Services this week.

The council is studying the juvenile delinquency problem in this area, at the request of representatives of civic organizations and the Birmingham Police Department.

Carter attributed the change to a shift in standards, saying that what was once considered a misdemeanor is now accepted behavior among children. Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley said 45 cases were filed in Oakland County Juvenile Court last year from Birmingham, and only 18 the preceding year.

which provides for the inclusion of German troops in a six-nation West European army.

When the final secret session opened this morning, a high source said the ministers already had reached tentative agreement on the Korean conference on terms submitted by the West.

The Soviet were said to have agreed to give Red China a back seat at the conference by dropping their demand that the Peiping regime be admitted as a full participant.

The Western informant said the Soviets had accepted the following conditions for holding the meeting:

1. The conference would be held in Geneva, Switzerland, preferably on April 15.

2. It would be limited to a discussion of the Korean settlement. Then the conference members would turn to the Indochina War and try to find a way to end the conflict.

3. Red China would be admitted to the conference by invitation only and not be accepted as an equal partner. The Big Four would invite China to join and then send invitations to North and South Korea.

4. Russia would not be considered a belligerent in the Korean War. This is the role that Russia has refused to accept. U. N. charges of Russian belligerence was one of the factors which led to the breakoff of the Panmunjom talks.

5. The 16 nations which sent troops to Korea will be satisfied that they will be represented by the three Western powers.

Looking forward to a Geneva accord on Korea, the West further proposed that the makeup of the conference would change when the Indo-Chinese War issue moved to the top of the agenda.

Under the Western proposal, the three Indochinese states of Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia would replace South and North Korea at the conference table. It was not known whether the Communist-led Viet Minh rebels would be represented.

Postmaster's Appeal Heard by Examiner

DETROIT — Additional statements were taken here today on Birmingham Postmaster Bernard E. Fowler's appeal of his dismissal.

The information was taken by an appeal examiner from the Chicago office of the Civil Service Commission.

Fowler was told last October that his successor would be named at an early date "due to unsatisfactory conditions revealed at a recent inspection" of his office.

According to Civil Service officials in Detroit, a decision on the dismissal will be made at a later date at the seventh Region headquarters in Chicago.

Fowler is appealing under the Veteran's Preference Act of 1944.

Also on March 7, Kirk in the Hills Presbyterian Church will begin holding identical services at 9 and 11 a.m. The early service has been added to accommodate the recent overflow crowd.

GI Hurt in Surge to Greet Marilyn

The actress drew huge crowds of soldiers as she drove to the Eastern Front in an open jeep.

As the soldiers spilled from their trenches she waved, and called "Illywah" — Korean for come here."

She didn't need to repeat the command as thousands of whistling soldiers clustered around for a few songs and a look at the famous Monroe walk and her low-cut dress.

After eating lunch from a tray, Marilyn donned a white chef's cap and passed out rolls to the chow line.

Marilyn wore a clinging wool knit dress and army galoshes during lunch. At other times she changed into a tight black sweater or her famous purple cocktail dress.

After appearances at a central Korean airfield and in South Korea tomorrow Marilyn will fly back to Japan and her new husband, Joe DiMaggio.

ever objected to city-owned parking lots. Tripp said he had written to the City Commission when it was considering going into municipal parking "on a grand scale."

Tripp said he advised the city that he thought municipal parking on a large scale was unwise, without experimenting on a smaller basis at first.

Tripp also stated he thought there was some need for short-term parking in the area near the two downtown banks which the city says the proposed lot would serve. "But I don't think this will provide it," Tripp added.

Ewart said the city plan is to build a bridge from the proposed parking area across the Clinton River so parkers may walk from the lot through the County-City Market building.

3 Nations to Discuss Trade; Surpluses

WASHINGTON (INS) — Trade and surplus problems affecting the United States, Canada and Mexico will come under discussion when farm leaders from those nations meet in Washington next week.

The conference will be sponsored by the International Federation of Agricultural Producers, which is headed by Allan Kline, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

The problem of Mexican labor working on United States farms also will be discussed at the meeting. The Mexican delegation leader, Alberto Salinas Ramos, plans to bring up the question.

An agreement on Mexican labor between the U.S. and Mexico has run out, and the two nations have been unable to work out a new agreement. Congress recently held hearings on the problem.

Delegates to the Washington meeting also plan to lay groundwork for the federation's international conference in Nairobi, Kenya, British East Africa, May 21-29.

Delay Final Vote on Bricker Bill

Senate Test Vote Gives Administration a 44-43 Victory Against Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today put off until next week a final showdown on the Bricker treaty power amendment, after a 44-43 administration victory on a test vote.

This outcome left the general impression among senators that the only proposed constitutional amendment with a chance of winning the required two-thirds approval of those voting was a substitute offered by Sen. George (D-Ga).

George's proposal would amend the Constitution to say:

"A provision of a treaty or other international agreement which conflicts with this constitution shall not be of any force or effect.

"An international agreement other than a treaty shall become effective as internal law in the United States only by an act of Congress."

This substitute for a proposed constitutional amendment by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) has been found unacceptable by President Eisenhower and his executive assistants. They turned down also the original Bricker proposal, which has not as yet been modified to meet the objections.

Nevertheless, several senators said that if George's proposal is not accepted by the Senate, no constitutional amendment is likely to be passed.

• • •

Bricker has said he would go along with the George proposition if his own revision of the constitutional change is rejected by the Senate.

Bricker's proposal would provide that no treaty or international agreement should become effective as domestic law unless approved by a majority of both houses of Congress or separate two-thirds vote of the Senate.

Bricker said in an interview he does not want the Senate to vote on this issue until next week because some of his supporters will be absent earlier.

• • •

The clause adopted yesterday would make all treaties signed in the past as well as future treaties subject to court review on their constitutionality.

Supporters of the administration and of Bricker united on this issue, which got favorable votes from 38 Republicans and six Democrats.

Venice Water Buses Idled by 1-Day Strike

ROME (AP)—Italy's barrage of one-day strikes spread today to Venice, idling scores of the motorboats which provide the City of Canals with its chief means of transportation.

Scores of the water buses remained tied at their docks, but officials estimated that more than half of the fleet continued to ply the old city's waterways.

Gas, electricity and water workers also were ordered off their jobs, but all services were normal.

Germany Agrees to Pay for Allied Army Support

The government said the new agreement would run until June 30.

Kentucky Cave Explorers Drag Weak Pal to Safety

CRYSTAL CAVE, Ky. (AP) — The outside world looked good today to Marguerite M. Klein, a schoolteacher-explorer who found Crystal Cave's rugged depths too much for her strength.

She admitted she was "glad to be out" when fellow explorers in an extensive scientific expedition brought her to the outside last night over and around dangerous pits and crevices.

Samuel Aston Loyd, 30, an engineer from Waynsboro, Va., who helped lead the 27-year-old Chevy Chase, Md., teacher out of the cave, said:

• • •

"We put a rope around her to safety her across Bottomless Pit. She had to stop frequently for breathing."

Bottomless Pit is a 100-foot drop inside a tight-squeeze crawlway. The trail narrows down to about six inches around its rim.

Miss Klein is a member of the National Speleogolical (cave study) Society's three-day-old expedition into the vast unknown of Crystal Cave, which the explorers are beginning to herald as one of the wonders of the world.

The party of three cave experts who accompanied her to the surface after she became ill were picked for their ability to help her through the 1,600-foot crawlway.

The crawlway is an uphill obstacle course of narrow, zig-zagging passageways, deep pits and jagged rock.

Besides Loyd, her guides were Joe Lawrence, the society's 29-year-old expedition leader and electronics engineer from Philadelphia, and Dr. Ned Feder of New York City, who gave medical advice.

It was after her descent through the crawlway two days ago that Miss Klein, who suffers with asthma, had an attack which was complicated by vertigo, a dizziness brought on by excessive fatigue.

Thirty explorers, including two other women, are now making explorations of virgin cave passages and canyons. They have reported that the vast hollows of the cave, which extends for an estimated 53 miles, have waterfalls, high-vaulted cave rooms and deep pits.

• • •

Phil Harsham, a Louisville Courier-Journal reporter turned cave explorer, said: "I've seen wonders today that would astound the general public."

Thomas C. Barr, Jr., 22, a zoologist from Nashville, Tenn., reported finding a rare foundation of calcium carbonate called "moon milk," found in other American caves only within the past two years.

Explorers also found cave rooms decorated with helictites, spider-like stone projections that are the rarest of all cave formations.

Nash Rambler Sedan Gets $1,550 Price Tag

DETROIT (UP)—Nash hung a factory list price tag of $1,550 on its new 1954 Rambler club sedan today.

Dominating features of the new two-door model are its lack of chrome, large rear window, curved windshield and big side windows. Other models in the Rambler line are the four-door sedan, country club hardtop and two and four-door station wagons.

President of Edison Favors A-Exchange

DETROIT (INS) — Detroit Edison Co. president Walter L. Cisler declared today that proposed changes in the National Atomic Energy Act, "would be the best thing that could happen to this country."

Cisler said the current act prohibits active participation by industry in atomic research because of its provision forbidding private ownership of an atomic pile.

Edison is among 27 firms which have banded together to investigate industrial use of the atom, particularly the generation of electric power.

Magsaysay's Big Task

The first budget drafted by the Philippine Republic's new president, RAMON MAGSAYSAY, reveals the hard task he has set for himself.

Proposed appropriations total $334,000,000 making this by far the largest budget in the country's history. Yet the new administration is proposing no increase in taxes, hoping to obtain the necessary funds by more efficient tax collection.

In Manila it is the general opinion that present tax rates are adequate. The big trouble in the past has been that no administration so far has been able to cope with the tax dodging problem. During his election campaign President Magsaysay promised to eliminate that evil.

One of his first discoveries in office was that in five years the country had lost $62,500,000 in customs revenue alone, due to smuggling, graft and ineffeciency.

From 1949 to 1952 income tax collections rose from $20,000,000 to $60,000,000 a year. But economists say that collections should be up to $150,000,000 a year more.

MAGSAYSAY hopes to do more than make income balance outgo. He wants an operating surplus and in an effort to get it is taking tax collections out of the hands of the politicians and making it the responsibility of business executives.

If he succeeds in this formidable undertaking, he will have done something neither France nor Italy yet has been able to do.

Nebraskans Stand Pat

Just to show that politicians can misinterpret what they hear when they put their political ears to the ground, we give you the State of Nebraska.

Last Fall a bipartisan committee of Cornhusker politicians was organized with the avowed purpose of persuading the voters to abandon the country's only one house Legislature.

This innovation had been adopted in 1934 at the suggestion of the late distinguished Sen. GEORGE W. NORRIS. Members of the committee had decided that the public was tired of the experiment and the time was ripe for a constitutional amendment to abolish it.

When they got to work in earnest, however, they learned much to their surprise that most of the voters liked the unicameral idea. So the committee changed objectives. From that point on it began campaigning for an amendment to increase membership in the one House from 43 to 86 and elect them on party tickets.

From this distance it is difficult to say what the final result will be. If among the reasons voters liked the unicameral system are economy and efficiency, isn't it just possible they will decide that a 43-member House is what they still want?

Anyhow it looks as though Nebraska's politicians are doing their best to make two jobs grow where one grew before.

Truth Cure Prescribed

It is heartening to learn that for Franco-German relations in which dispute and distrust have been the rule rather than the exception, a cure in the form of truth in journalism has been prescribed.

This was the result of conclusions reached at meetings between French and German editors. They realized that part of the cause of bad relations between the two countries is the fault of the press of both.

There was recognition on both sides that for far too long there had been distortion of fact and inflaming of opinion. The inevitable result has been that no small part of Franco-German bitterness and misunderstanding has been kept alive by journalistic sins of omission and commission.

Besides the "cure," the editors agreed that the press of each country should print a larger quantity of more accurate news about the other. In addition they established a watchdog committee to scan the newspapers of both countries for misrepresentation, falsehood and misunderstanding.

No one expects more honest and objective journalism to work a miracle overnight. But the mere fact that these editors have recognized an evil and have agreed to do something about it, is a long step in the right direction.

If it can help Frenchmen and Germans to learn more about each other, truthful journalism also can bring nearer the day when European unity will be a fact, not a dream.

AN EDITOR says this would be a weary world indeed if everybody were alike. Yes, of course; still, with everyone being different, it isn't altogether a gladsome globe.

OF COURSE, the Kentwood, La., woman who is offering her husband for sale at $75,000 hasn't succeeded in selling him, as this price is far too high for a used husband.

Coward. A young man who got married to escape the fighting, and now is getting a divorce for the same reason.

The February army draft call on the two boards having their headquarters in Pontiac is the smallest since the close of World War II. The Pontiac City board is asked to send only eight men, and the out-county board only 18. The induction date is Feb. 23. The largest monthly call from the same boards since the end of World War II was last May, when they sent a total of 122 men. During the war the boards covering the same territory sent over 750 men in a single month.

One of Pontiac's first cemeteries was located near the present site of the Walgreen Store, corner of Saginaw and Huron Streets.

This is a rather momentous month locally, according to

of the Oakland County Planning Commission. According to his findings and estimates your county this month passes the half-million mark in population. The county's population in the 1950 federal census was 396,001.

Another former well known Pontiac resident to send this column his congratulations to our city on its new city hall and other improvements is Among its 400 lakes, Oakland County has several "Long" lakes. And none of them is the longest lake in the county. That distinction goes to Kent Lake in Milford and Lyon Townships, over three mils long.

Many Pontiac people are buying their 1954 auto license plates much earlier than usual. According to

Press Reader Says World Utilizes Bad Leaders if Good Ones Cannot Be Found

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

Note that the people who are most shocked by Communist subversion are usually the ones who discourage their children from taking careers in government, teaching or social service because they don't pay enough. History has proved that if you can't find a good leader the world utilizes a bad one.

After spending billions of dollars we have not brought loyalty from our neighbors. Just what are Americans going to do about it?

I pray that each American will stop and think about America and what really is going on. I am thankful we don't have too many of the murdering Communist type here to achieve their goals.

One American

Says if You Must Fight You Should Also Vote

The recent letter written by Carole Bloom interested me. I am not sure an amendment to the federal constitution would be necessary in order to grant 18 year olds the right to vote.

But, if such a law was passed by the federal government it might be argued that such a law was an infringement upon the sovereign rights of the "states."

If we are to continue to draft boys under the voting age, then in order to be American and preserve the spirit of our democracy we must let them vote before the draft age catches up with them. During the Civil War our government refused to accept volunteers or draft men under the age of 21.

If we are going to try to "sell" our "democracy" to the world we must preserve it at home for we are committed to the principle, "That all just governments derive their power from the consent of the governed."

Whether they are mature enough in mind to vote at 18 is not the paramount question. The facts are that under our democratic form of government if they are old enough to fight they are old enough to vote. Let's not enslave our youth while we are trying to free the world.

LeRoy Dean

Route 1, Milford

I am writing in reference to Carole Bloom's letter. I also speak as a teen-ager, but I disagree when she says that 18 year olds should not vote.

The U. S. has always been the symbol of high moral standards which buck the statement, "If they are old enough to die for their country they are old enough to vote." If this is sentiment, what are moral principles?

Carole mentions that the constitution doesn't state the age that voters must be. This power is given to the individual states and it is specifically stated in each state constitution that the individual state legislatures can regulate their own age limit, as did the state of Georgia when it changed the voting age to 18.

There are many teen-agers who could do a good job. With the improved and effective teaching methods of our high schools the average teen-ager is certainly well informed of political affairs and has a broadened outlook.

Many people over 21 are misled by slick talking politicians with glorious promises that never materialize. I believe that 18 year olds could do no worse than many people over 21.

State of Florida Orders Book - Burning on WCTU Protest (Not Mr. McCarthy)

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — What's this — a "book burning" ordered by the government of the state of Florida, and can it be that Sen. McCarthy of Wisconsin is in no wise responsible?

But the news is authentic. The name of the ill-fated book is "Alcohol and Human Affairs," and 200 copies already bought will be "burned" — or at least withheld from the students in the Florida schools — in accordance with a decree issued by the cabinet board of education this week and announced by state superintendent of schools, Thomas D. Bailey.

He says that the Women's Christian Temperance Union interprets a part of the book as advocating moderate drinking and that he has received 3,000 letters of protest.

Now it happens that the WCTU was in existence long before the Wisconsin senator was born, but before many days have passed somebody somewhere will be interpreting Florida's action as somehow a sequel to the "intolerance of dissent" which it is claimed has been "sweeping the nation."

Do not the Florida authorities know that, if alcohol taken in excess poisons the body, it is as important to know about this as it is about the communism that poisons the mind?

How can it be combated, it will be asked in the familiar vein of the critics, unless there is freedom to read about the subject?

The answer will be made, to be sure, that with taxpayers' money the state has a right to decide what books shall be read in the schools.

Many a state in the past has insisted on its right to determine what sort of textbooks its schools shall buy even with state funds that merely supplement local appropriations.

As to the book on alcohol banned in Florida schools, the publishers — the World Book Company of New York — told this correspondent that the state of Alabama has just ordered 1,000 copies and that some endorsements of the book have come from WCTU branches in other states.

This will come as confusing news to many people who have been led to believe that "book burning" in America never occurred before Sen. McCarthy began to ask whether taxpayers' money should be used to buy books by Communist authors — books, incidentally, that were not about communism itself.

Not long ago Dr. Selden Bacon, head of the nation's principal center for alcohol studies, which is at Yale University, criticized the attitude of many ardent prohibitionists as to the proper education of students on the use of alcoholic beverages.

He argued that the approach in the older textbooks was out of date and misleading. He insisted that the time has come to tell the youth of the nation more of the facts about alcohol instead of treating the subject as a taboo item in the school curriculum.

What the state of Florida has just done is to pay attention to letters of protest, which probably have not been balanced by letters pointing out the advantages of letting the youth know all the facts about alcoholism.

The main issue, however — the "burning" of books in response to popular clamor — relates to a practice that has needed exposure for a long time.

Probably no national furor will result because, after all, the books are only about alcohol instead of about communism and because there seems no way to prove that the Wisconsin senator was directly or indirectly responsible for the "book burning."

Nor is any committee of Congress likely to delve into it and ask a lot of questions because textbooks for the public schools are still within the sole jurisdiction of state governments.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Newspaper Routes Teach Boys to Budget Earnings

Jack Calvin of the Houston Post is just like 2,000 other Circulation Managers in being a topnotch Child Psychologist. You parents owe a big debt of gratitude to these CM's who are teaching 500,000 boys honesty and sound American business methods.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case K-328: Jack E. Calvin, aged about 50, is one of the greatest rooters for this psychology column I have ever met.

He is the Circulation Manager at the Houston Post, where I stopped for a visit en route back from Los Angeles. Last year he was president of the ICMA (International Circulation Managers Association.)

"Dr. Crane, I shall never forget one of your columns in which you urged parents to let their sons operate newspaper routes," he began.

"You pointed out that no other type of work teaches American boys the over-all view of our 'free enterprise' system.

"And all of us Circulation Managers appreciate having such advice broadcast to parents.

"For too many mothers nowadays feel that their sons don't need the money, saying their husbands already have good jobs. They don't realize that carrying a newspaper route is worth ten times the actual cash a boy derives from it.

"For it teaches boys to be faithful to duty and to meet people and to learn how to budget their earnings. It also gives them sales training and bookkeeping, too.

"You said it would be well worthwhile if parents actually had to pay us newspapermen just to let their sons obtain such a valuable internship in our American business system.

"But we Circulation Managers help parents in other ways, too. For example, a few months ago I got three letters from mothers of newspaper carriers for the Post.

"All three letters came from wives of college teachers in a university area. And the letters were so much alike, I suspected they were written in collusion.

"These three mothers all stated that their sons couldn't collect for the papers, and that the mothers thus were having to make up the deficits.

"Well, Dr. Crane, that sounded odd for very few customers ever try to beat a newspaper boy out of his money.

"So I drove out there and had a talk with the first boy. I asked to see his account book.

"And every customer had paid up in full, except two who were then on vacation. The boy admitted that they'd pay him just as soon as they returned to Houston.

"Then I showed the boy the letter I'd received from his mother, where she said he couldn't collect his accounts and that she had to make up the deficits.

"Well, he sheepishly confessed he'd been playing the marble machines at a pool hall and had lost his money. So he had finally concocted that story to fool his mother and get her to hand over the cash he needed to pay us for his papers.

"And the second boy was about like the first, except he was making deposits on a hot rod car which his parents had refused to let him buy.

"His hot rod payments depleted his earnings, so he then fabricated the story about his deadbeat clients to coax his mother into giving him extra cash.

"Dr. Crane, we Circulation Managers train over 500,000 boys each year in sound American business practices. In addition, we then step into home situations as I've described and help parents clear-up bad misunderstandings between themselves and their sons.

"So we doubly appreciate any kind words from writers like yourself and hope you can tell more parents about our side of the story."

Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 3 cent stamped, addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

All right with us if boys vote at 18. Provided they bring their guardians along.

That will reduce the age of congressmen down to about 20. It's okay with us if you want tacks on your speaker's chair.

We know we had a president who played piano. But do you want the senate dismissed Wednesday afternoons to take its violin lessons.

Do you want a track coach sticking his noggin in the Supreme Court and hollering, "All out for the eight-eighty"?

We know Ike is for it and we don't understand why. We know Truman is against it for the same reason. Harry says nobody should vote until he is twenty-four. He arrives at that figure by multiplying all the polka dots in the world by the least common divisor of burned-out electric lights and dividing by the number of Long Island R.R. commuters who now ride bicycles.

The short-enders claim if a boy can fight for his country he can vote for it. We cannot argue with that. We happened to cast our first vote when we were around 16. The town was Philadelphia in the same year Lincoln Steffens knocked off the town in a five-syllable indictment.

Lincoln called it corrupt and content. I was both with 50 cents in my pocket. A Republican mayor and vaudeville only 15 cents.

If a boy at 18 is as smart as he's ever going to be, that's another reason he shouldn't vote.

Takes Weeks to Re-educate Diaphragm to Breathe Correct Natural Belly Method

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

I recently described the booster pump effect of belly breathing on the circulation. This is a bit of physiology which should be of interest to any one with heart trouble and/or high blood pressure. Little Lesson 21, How to Breathe, is about the right size for vest pocket or pocketbook, too. Send 25 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope, if you wish it.

I use the term bellows because that's what Webster says belly means—derived from the Anglo-Saxon belg or belig, bag or bellows—and I'm afraid to come right out and say educated belly, lest—well, I'm afraid some prude may delete the word and substitute abdomen or tummy.

But I hope most of you readers are intelligent enough to understand that belly means the front and side walls of the great body cavity (abdomen), and that there is no other word in the English language that is synonymous with belly.

Regular belly breathing exercise, as described in Little Lesson 21, and not as you may think you know how, Wiseacres, may not do as much good as I imply it should do, but anyway it can do no harm.

Even though you have a fair knowledge of physiology it takes several weeks or maybe months of daily practice to educate, or I should say re-educate your breathing muscle (diaphragm), the efficiency of which has been impaired by long disuse.

We have tried to improve the natural way to breathe—with our ridiculous pouter pigeon posing.

You know, the tin soldier posture affected at West Point, in army training camps, by drill teams at the firemen's convention.

How little a person knows about breathing becomes evident when the examining physician asks him or her to take a deep breath. Physical education in Yankeeland is make believe.

Besides improving the circulation, especially in cases of heart trouble and high blood pressure, belly breathing exercise serves as a natural massage of the liver and bile apparatus and benefits ailments associated with stagnation or inactivity of these organs.

Regular practice of belly breathing 365 days in the year without interruption prevents, relieves or cures menstrual difficulties of young women, as the late Dr. Clelia Mosher, medical adviser for women at Stanford University proved.

Belly breathing exercise gives considerable relief to many persons subject to bronchial asthma, chronic bronchitis (winter cough of elderly persons), emphesema or bronchiectasis.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

Jacoby on Games

Hearts No Game for Serious Man

Best Time for Playing Comes When Company Drops In

By OSWALD JACOBY

The game of cancellation hearts is not your dish of tea if you are in a serious, studious mood. Save it for the time that 10 friends drop in to see you in a hilarious mood, if a card game seems like a good way to continue the hilarity.

If you've ever played hearts, you'll catch on to the game in less than one minute. Just shuffle two standard 52-card packs together, and deal them out one at a time as far as they'll go.

If the cards won't all deal out evenly (they usually won't, because 104 is an awkward number of cards), put the remainder face down as a widow, to be taken by the winner of the first trick.

Whenever two identical cards (such as two aces of hearts) are played on the same trick, they cancel each other out, and neither of them can win the trick.

This may make it perfectly safe and logical to lead the queen of spades. The other queen of spades will almost surely be played on the trick, and neither of you will win the trick. Perhaps some innocent soul will win the trick with a measley three of spades and will thus be stuck with both of the Black Ladies.

If every card in a trick is duplicated, the trick is set aside and awarded to the winner of the following trick. In such a situation, the same player leads until somebody wins a trick and thereby becomes the leader to the next trick.

If you've never played hearts before, you can pick it up fairly quickly. Each trick is played like no-trump at bridge. That is, a trick is won by the highest card of the suit led. The object of the game is to avoid winning the counting cards. Each heart counts minus 1, and the queen of spads counts minus 13.

When the deal is complete, each player assorts his hand and then puts three cards face down on the table, ready to pass them to the player at his left. The dealer waites until all players are ready and then says "Pass."

This gives each player a chance to get rid of three dangerous cards in exchange for three that may not be quite so dangerous; and each player, if he has a good memory, will then know three cards that are held by the player at his left. (That is, he will know the cards that he passed on to that player.)

The pass is a vital part of the normal game of hearts, but is not so important in cancellation hearts. You never know which cards will be rendered harmless by cancellation. It is, however, a good idea to pass any card that is duplicated in your hand.

Two States Claiming High Bridge Honors

DENVER (AP) — So West Virginia thinks it has the world's highest bridge.

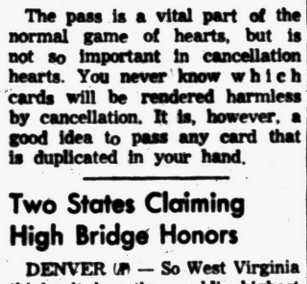

"A peanut-growing state dealing in peanut figures," said Colorado Gov. Dan Thornton yesterday of a claim attributed to the World Almanac that a turnpike bridge across the Bluestone River near Princeton, W. Va. is the world's highest over water.

The bridge is 255 feet above the river..

"Apparently they never heard of the Royal Gorge Bridge over the Arkansas at Canon City," Thornton said. He sent an assistant scurrying out to check the height of the Southern Colorado bridge. Officially, it is 1,053 feet above the churning Arkansas River.

Teamsters Hit No-Raiding Pact

Union Drafts Rejection of Proposed Agreement Between AFL, CIO

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The AFL Teamsters Union today drafted a rejection of a proposed AFL-CIO "no-raiding" agreement, a move expected to kill off any early prospects of a labor merger.

The "no-raiding" pact is regarded as a necessary first step toward a merger of the AFL and the CIO that would put nearly 15 million members in a single organization. However, the teamsters Executive Board was due to veto the plan.

Dave Beck, Teamsters Union president, is openly ambitious to swell his union's membership, already 1,300,000 strong. He also was known to believe that separate alliances between individual unions are more likely to solve union rivalries.

• • •

AFL President George Meany said here at the AFL Executive Council meeting last week that 40 of the AFL's 110 unions were agreeable to signing the "no-raiding" pact. However, Teamsters Union sources said several big AFL unions, other than the teamsters, were against the plan.

CIO President Walter Reuther has said that virtually all CIO unions—except only a few with less than 2 per cent of CIO's membership—are willing to go along with the plan.

• • •

Beck was reported ready to contend that (1) other unions have more than 50,000 members belonging in teamsters jurisdiction, (2) the AFL-CIO plan can't work, and (3) it is illegal under the Taft-Hartley Act.

The plan would require that the disputes over the right of unions to organize particular groups of workers should be decided by a neutral, but Beck is reported convinced unions would not accept such decisions.

Yesterday Beck called for tighter enforcement of state insurance laws to prevent union officials from being tempted with "kick-back" offers from insurance agents and other businessmen anxious to pay off to get union welfare funds business.

Heart Disease Tops List of Death Causes in Detroit

DETROIT (INS)—Dr. Joseph G. Molner, Detroit health commissioner, said today that one in seven deaths in Detroit last year was due to heart disease.

He said the number of deaths due to heart failure exceeded the combined total caused by cancer, tuberculosis, pneumonia, diabetes and accidents.

Stewardesses to Scrap Over Age Limit Regulation

By LAURA Z. HOBSON

NEW YORK (INS) — If Marlene Dietrich, Gloria Swanson, Joan Crawford and Ginger Rogers applied for jobs as stewardesses with American Airlines, they'd never get off the ground.

An age limit of 32 was recently adopted by the company to maintain "the established qualifications for stewardesses." Basic among these states the air line, "is an attractive appearance. Such an appearance ordinarily is found to a higher degree in young women."

Accordingly 27 girls who had reached that ceiling were dismissed or grounded in office jobs, and 69 others, all at the ripe old age of 31, are on notice that one more birthday will blow them right out of the skies.

To me, this sets a new non-stop record for nonsense, and it's no surprise that 4,000 members of the Air Line Stewards and Stewardesses Association went straight up in the air over it, and are asking the National Mediation Board for an official inquiry.

And though airplane hostesses may be the first group of women jobholders to be told off publicly at 32 of the score of "too old," there are thousands of women in other fields who feel like taking to their parachutes if they need to go job hunting once they really are past first youth.

A perfect example is a middle-aged woman I know who used to be a topflight secretary before she married. Now, with her children grown and her husband ailing, she determined to brush up on her old skills and get a part-time job.

Three intense weeks at a secretarial refresher course, and all the speed she could ever use in a shorthand notebook or on a typewriter was again at her fingertips.

Then she started on the rounds of want-ads and personnel offices.

"Salary," she said, "didn't matter too much, nor hours. I didn't even hold out for interesting work or pleasant surroundings. But everywhere it was the same."

That same was never put into words.

My friend is 52 — a good, strong, vigorous 52. Her hair is gray and she's never dyed it. She's slender and nice-looking and well-spoken.

So far she's "unemployable." So are most other women of 52.

Most employers know perfectly well that if they could hire Miss America or a movie starlet as a secretary, the result might be high in romance but not necessarily so in efficiency.

So plenty of American women in all age groups really have a stake in the fight the embattled airline stewardesses are waging.

Keep revved up, girls! Good luck — and happy landings.

At the time of its destruction in a volcanic eruption in 79 A.D., Pompeii had a population of more than 25,000.

Wood charcoal is about two-thirds the bulk of the wood from which it is made.

Recommends Raises for Railway Express

DETROIT (INS)—A presidential fact-finding board today recommended pay increases ranging from $11 to $21 monthly for Railway Express workers in Detroit, Pittsburgh and Milwaukee.

The commission, appointed under provisions of the Railway Labor Act, was summoned to make over pay demands in the three cities.

The board also suggested a year-long moratorium on new pay demands.

It was thought the recommendations, if approved, would apply throughout the Railway Express system.

Speakeasy Back as Orators' Aid

New Device Requires Only Typewritten Copy on Standard Paper

CHICAGO (INS) — The speakeasy is back.

Today's speakeasy is an aid to public speakers. The inventor, German-born Dr. Arthur W. Fornet, says his device is the result of years of study.

Dr. Fornet, who has offered his invention to the United Nations, says it is operated by the speaker and copy used in the machine needs no special preparation.

Demonstrating his invention, Dr. Fornet merely placed standard-sized office paper on a drum, stood three feet from the machine and began talking.

A special lens magnifies ordinary typewriting eight lines at a time and as the speech progresses, the speaker can turn a knob and bring another eight lines into view.

As each page is read, the speaker removes the copy and the first lines of the next page are magnified and before his eyes.

Dr. Fornet said speech classes and public speaking students can use the "speakeasy" to learn confidence in the ability to give a talk before an audience.

The lens and rotating drum are invisible to the audience and the device enables a speaker to move on the platform without losing his place in the speech.

Firemen in Battle of Toothpaste on Burning Truck

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Firemen had as much trouble with toothpaste as they did with flames and smoke while battling a fire in a semitractor near Springfield last night.

"We had toothpaste everywhere—in our coats, down our necks, on our equipment and alongside the road," said Rural Volunteer Fire Chief George Bargdill. "There may be some teeth brushed with free toothpaste in the morning, but not mine. I've lost my taste for the stuff."

The truck, bound for St. Louis from Akron, Ohio, was loaded with tons of dentifrice.

Belt Carries Coal Overland in Ohio

BEVERLY, O. (UP)—In this region where the underground railroad passed its human freight 100 years ago, a new "railroad" has grown—with no passengers, cars or tracks.

It is the four-and-one-half-mile conveyor belt that carries coal from a strip mine to a power plant on the Muskingum River near here. It lugs the coal over several roads and goes across the Muskingum on a suspension bridge. It goes up and down grades that run as steep as 12 per cent.

The coal on the belt travels at slightly less than seven miles an hour. The whole system is in 14 sections, ranging from 500 feet to 2,964 feet. The rolls weigh up to four-and-one-half tons for the longest ones. All are a yard wide.

When the B. F. Goodrich Company made the belts in Akron, they had to include a portable electric vulcanizer when they trucked them to this southern Ohio district.

Boy Turns Babysitter but Not in Usual Sense

BALTIMORE (AP) — Ten-year-old William Welsh can be classified as a baby sitter—but not in the usual sense.

Visiting a home yesterday, William sat down on a kitchen chair before he looked on the seat. He soon discovered he had sat down on 9-week-old Charles Fox, another guest in the house who was tucked under a blanket on the chair.

The baby, suffering no apparent ill effects, was held for observation by Sinai Hospital.

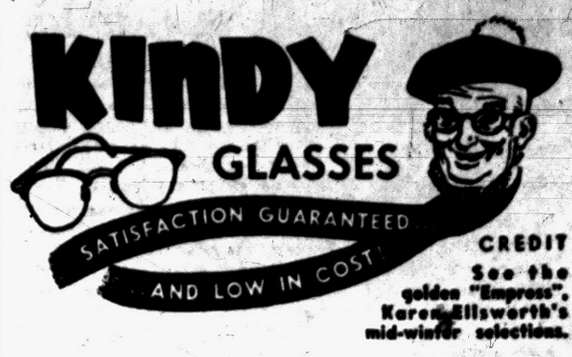

Gasoline Smuggling Link Idles Nepal Vehicles

KHATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — Nearly half of all motor vehicles in this Himalayan kingdom's capital have been rendered idle by a gasoline smuggling link with Communist occupied Tibet, reliable sources here declared.

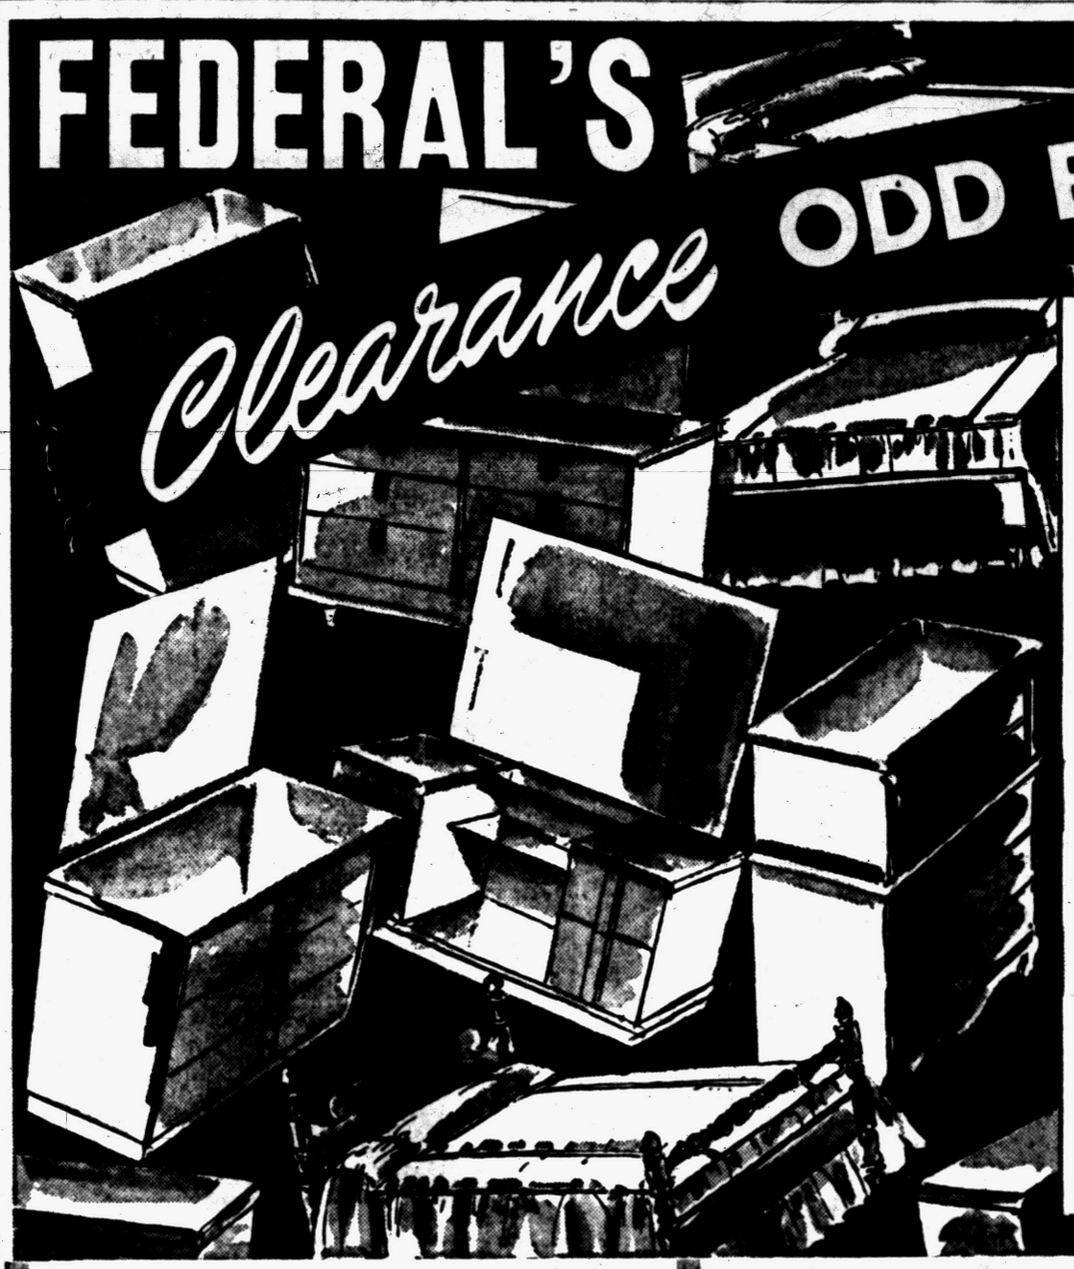

The sources attributed local gasoline shortages to smugglers prices exceeding 40 Indian rupees per gallon compared to a black market high in Khatmandu bazars of slightly over 7 rupees.

Late Mrs. Crofutt Charged in Felony

DETROIT (AP)—A dead woman is charged with a felony in an investigation of the records of a Wayne County Circuit Court post.

Accused is the late Mrs. Freda Crofutt, who was the court's chancery clerk. After Mrs. Crofutt's death last September a shortage of $58,965 was found in her accounts.

A warrant charging conspiracy to violate gaming laws was issued yesterday against Mrs. Crofutt and Stanley Kulma, 32, alleged numbers operator. Investigation has brought out that Mrs. Crofutt played the numbers and bet on horses, and dabbled in the stock market as well, with court funds, officials said.

She was named in the warrant since it is necessary to name at least two persons to charge a conspiracy, the prosecutor's office said.

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (AP)—Drivers in this city of 14,500 "are as lucky as they are careless," the Daily Sentinel reported after a survey recorded more than 13,350 traffic violations in nine hours at seven downtown intersections.

Employing Mesa Junior College students to watch the intersections, the Sentinel counted 12,251 drivers who "neither blinked a light nor waved a finger to show what their intentions were" and 1,105 other instances "in which traffic and safety rules were flouted."

Roosevelt Ruling Expected Soon

Hearing Comes to End; Judge Now Considering Temporary Support

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—A judge will announce within a few days how much temporary support James Roosevelt, who claims he's worse than broke, shall pay his estranged wife Romelle, who demands $3,500 a month.

A four-day hearing on the matter wound up yesterday with her attorneys accusing the eldest son of the late President Franklin Roosevelt of "making false statements for the purpose of concealing his assets."

Roosevelt's attorney said Mrs. Roosevelt will have to get along with $30 to $40 dresses instead of $300 ones.

Superior Judge Kurtz Kauffman took under submission the support demands and the amount to be allowed Mrs. Roosevelt for court costs and attorney fees.

The support order will be effective pending trial of their separate maintenance suits. In hers, Mrs. Roosevelt, 38, accuses her 46-year-old husband of adultery, naming three co-respondents. She also filed letters signed by him stating he admitted infidelities with nine other women.

Roosevelt has denied all the charges.

He already is paying his wife, who has temporary custody of their three small children, $1,073 a month.

Judge Kauffman said his decision will be based on Roosevelt's ability to pay as shown by his income and disbursements the past five or six years.

The insurance executive's financial records, introduced in court, show gross annual income ranging from $30,000 to $51,000 the past few years and yearly disbursements varying from $40,000 to $79,000.

The judge ordered stipulations and restraining orders to remain effective pending trial, which will be at least eight months hence. One order forbids either person from disposing of property. A stipulation bars either from making derogatory remarks about the other in the childrens' presence.

Roosevelt also has the right to visit his children but only at his wife's home. An attorney said she leaves the house when her husband is with the youngsters.

Mexico to Give Instructions in Mexican Spanish

MEXICO CITY (UP)—The tourist deparemtnt of the Mexican home study plan so persons in the United States can learn "Spanish the Mexican way."

The tourist department started the new method of teaching Spanish recently to replace "the long out-dated United States school system's colorless, impractical teachings set in the remote country of Spain with little-used Castilian accent . . ."

This new system, which now is available to all persons in the United States, includes weekly printed lessons with quizzes, records designed to provide conversational experience and personal service departments, located in the United States, to answer questions.

The course has been prepared by outstanding professors of Mexican universityies. It can be completed in 10 months in the adult program and slightly longer in an elementary program.

Strangely enough, the home study plan was developed by an American, Sam Rosenkranz, who has lived and worked in Mexico for some time. He is from a family of educators.

Says Majority of Men Prefer Their Job Ruts

BOSTON (AP)—A Boston business executive says the majority of workers are "good-natured slobs" who want to be left alone in routine jobs.

William H. Eastman, personnel director of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co., said yesterday that "thousands resist promotions because they don't want to be lifted out of a rut."

He spoke at a New England Council "industrial opportunity" conference.

Flanders Lauds Ike's Economics

Senator Impressed by Incentives to Business Via Tax Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) said today he believes President Eisenhower's recommendations for meeting the nation's current economic situation are "just right."

The Vermont senator said he was particularly impressed with the President's tax recommendations designed to increase business incentives by giving corporations and investors some breaks.

Rep. Bolling (D-Mo) said in a separate interview he regards it as fully as important to do some things for the consumer.

* * *

Consumption can best be increased, he said, by raising the personal income tax exemption, cutting excise taxes, and speeding up action on public works.

Meanwhile, Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) said he agrees with the President that March will be the key month in showing how the economic winds are blowing.

The President told his news conference that employment normally picks up in March. If that doesn't happen this year, he said that would be a warning of trouble and his administration would use every weapon available to head it off.

* * *

One of the first things that might be considered, he said, is a cut in taxes to spur consumer spending. He did not go into detail, but the taxes most generally cited in this connection are personal income levies and excise, or sales, taxes.

Ferguson said he personally is optimistic that March will show an improvement in the unemployment situation, specifically in his own state where there now are sizable auto plant layoffs.

But if there is not, he said he would be willing to support some emergency moves such as public works projects.

* * *

Flanders said he was sure the President's tax program with its business and investment incentives would bring about a decrease in unemployment.

Bolling said the present administration so far "hasn't got to first base" with any program of building up a shelf of planned and ready-to-go public works if the downturn worsens.

Plan $1 Million Furniture Village at Grand Rapids

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—A million dollar permanent exhibit of housing and home furnishings, patterned after Henry Ford's Greenfield Village at Dearborn, has been proposed for Grand Rapids.

Theodore R. Corson, Grand Rapids hotel manager who is urging the development, has called a meeting of civic leaders for next week to discuss the project. It would feature groups of homes outfitted with Grand Rapids furniture products and home decorations.

Corson said financing would be sought by an appeal to business men. The project, if realized, would solve a problem for exhibitors at Grand Rapids furniture markets whose displays are closed to the public.

Visitors wishing to inspect Grand Rapids furniture products would be referred to the proposed furniture village.

No site has been discussed but it is planned to consult the University of Michigan survey department on this.

Blames Empty Apartment on Democrats

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Walter Bieberstein, looking for an apartment here, turned one down because he thought the rent too high.

The apartment house manager was chagrined. The place, she said, had been vacant five months.

"This," she said with feeling, "is what the Democrats did to the country.

Mobile Opens Carnival With Romantic Floats

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Six floats portraying famous romances of history and fiction will roll through downtown Mobile tonight to open the city's Mardi Gras.

The parade of the Order of Polka Dots, a women's mystic society, is the first of 15 processions slated for the carnival, which ends Mardi Gras Day, March 2.

Jobless Man Robs Store So He Can Live at Jail

WAYNESBURG, Pa. (AP)—Hagan Stewart, 24, of nearby Graysville, is in jail today—just as he wished.

Police said they found a broken window in a jewelry store yesterday. Not far away, waiting to be picked up, was Stewart and a typewriter that had been lifted from the broken window.

Stewart was arraigned on burglary and larceny charges. He told the justice of peace he was unemployed, tired and hungry—and "wanted to go to jail."

Hikes 48 Miles in Snow to Sign for Naval Duty

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—Louis Rebillet, who lives on a ranch on the south fork of Idaho's Salmon River, walked 48 miles through 14 feet of snow, then hitchhiked to Boise to sign up for the Naval Reserve.

When told his duty wouldn't begin until March, he said he would walk back to the ranch to wait.

Anything to Please

EAST LEMPSTER, N. H. (UP) — Harry F. Hanson, the caretaker at the Honey Brook Wayside Picnic Area was raking pine needles when a woman drove up and asked that he leave some on the ground. She said she wanted to walk on them. Hanson obliged.

Rebels Retreat, Escape French

Fighter Planes Strafe Vietminh Positions for 62nd Day

HANOI, Indochina (AP) — Crack rebel Vietminh troops surrounding France's northwest Indochina fortress of Dien Bien Phu moved still farther back today to escape battle-seeking French forces.

Gen. Rene Cogny's troops pushed three to five miles north and west of the heavily fortified plain without contact.

Cogny, French commander in north Indochina, for several days has been sending out 4,000 to 5,000 troops daily in an attempt to draw major units of the estimated 36,000 Vietminh soldiers into battle. The rebels have been entrenched around Dien Bien Phu for three months but have never attacked.

• • •

French airmen in American-supplied warplanes 'strafed' and bombed the Vietminh positions around the plain for the 62nd straight day. French army sources said the mounting air attacks made it increasingly unlikely that the Vietminh would try a full-fledged assault on Dien Bien Phu.

French fighter pilots strafed the Red supply lines by bright moonlight following daylight attacks, during which B26 bombers dropped napalm on troop concentrations and supply depots.

The French reported the rebel troops were scattered and dozens of supply dumps destroyed.

• • •

In Saigon, meanwhile, French Commissioner Geneal Maurice Dejean denied "emphatically and categorically" that the French had contacted Chinese Communist or Vietminh representatives with a view toward peace negotiations.

Canada Train Crash Kills 1, Injures 87

MONTREAL, Que. (AP) — The 87 persons injured yesterday in a two-train collision 35 miles west of here were reported recovering today. Most were released from the hospital, and none was reported in a critical condition.

One Toronto man W. B. Casselman, was killed in the accident, in which the second section of a Canadian Pacific passenger train plowed into the first section during a blinding snowstorm. The crash was near the tiny farm town of St. Clet.

Eight Americans were hurt, including H. H. Munsey, assistant vice president of the Bell Aircraft Corp. of Buffalo, N. Y., who suffered general bruises.

FBI Asked to Assist Hunt for Holdup Men

Bob Considine Says:

Talking Book Is Wonderful for Older Sightless People

NEW YORK (INS) — The American Foundation for the Blind, whose honorary president is Dwight D. Eisenhower, is celebrating the 20th anniversary of a wonderous innovation, the talking book.

Only the blind and those close to the blind can comprehend what a boon this has been to the sightless.

Long before the commercial world had long-playing records, the foundation was making and distributing books spoken on long-playing records.

In the 20 years more than 2,000 books have been read on to records by famous readers and articulate authors. More than 2,750,000 records have been made by the foundation alone, and the subjects have ranged from the Bible to whodunits.

The place of the talking book among the blind is attested by the fact that less than 15 per cent of the nation's 314,000 blind persons can read braille. Primary cause of this is that more than half of our blind are over 65 and went blind after 50.

Many feel that it it too late in life to begin what must be the learning the language of the up-raised dots.

Incredibly, only 40,000 of the country's blind are using talking books. A poll indicates that tens of thousands have never heard of the records that speak our best sellers.

Any blind person can receive talking books free of charge. A doctor's certificate of blindness is all that is needed to secure talking books and the "player."

There is a talking book library in every state. The Library of Congress foots the bill. Further details may be had from the Foundation, 15 West 16th St., NYC or the Library of Congress, Washington, D. C.

President Eisenhower's is the flyingest administration of them all. He and five of his top men flew 397,000 miles on official business during 1953 — saving about a year in travel time, according to a somewhat partisan source, the Aircraft Industries Association.

The President set a new mark for chief executives by flying 32,143 miles on business, but he was seldom more than five airline hours away from 1600 Pennsylvania Ave.

Air secretary Harold E. Talbot led the list with 115,000 miles. Vice President Nixon turned in 58,604. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson and FOA Director Harold Stassen amassed a total o 190,000.

Missouri's Governor Tells Farmers Ideas

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Missouri's governor, Phil M. Donnelly, hasn't forgotten a few farming tricks.

He told his press conference recently that the best way to tighten up the soil in the bed of a farm pond is to feed pigs there. If the pigs root around and tramp over the pond bed for a few days very little water drains away when the pond is filled

Pontiac Schools May Go in Red

Education Board Learns Plight

Employes Want Raises, as Expenses Increase, Cox Says

Pontiac Public Schools may run in the red again next year, the board of education learned Wednesday.

J. C. Cox, assistant superintendent of schools, said the school system probably will get some $260,000 more from local taxes and state aid next year than this year.

But, he said, expenses will go up roughly $231,000 — and in addition teachers, custodians and principals all want blanket raises.

The school system will finish up its current year June 30, with a $320,000 deficit on the books.

A state aid payment of about $120,000, will be along a few days afterward, however — but will be counted for the next year.

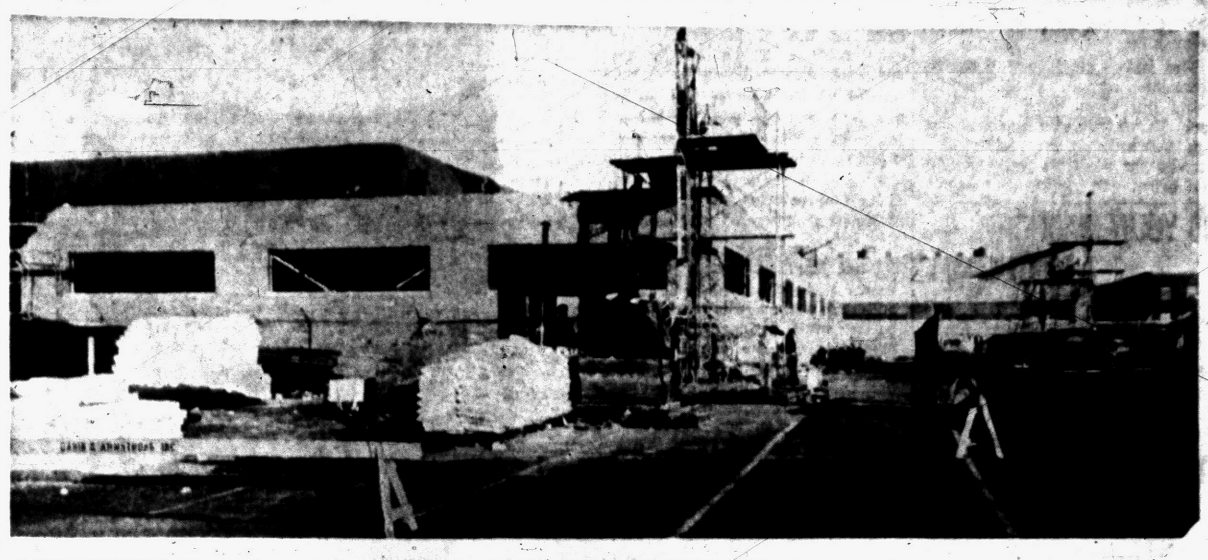

"We need 45 more teachers next year," Cox said. "That's $162,000. A lot of our teachers will be going into automatic raises because of the time they've been here—that's another $54,000. We figure we'll need $10,000 more for teaching supplies and $5,000 more for rebinding books. That's $231,000."

Cox reported that college graduate teachers "are not impressed" with the school system's base starting salary of $3,300. Some nearby school systems are offering $3,500 or more, he added.

George Yansen, chairman of the local school principals' salary study committee, asked that principals' salaries be raised another $300 to $400 above teachers' pay.

"A state survey recommends that elementary principals get 20 per cent more pay than teachers," he said. "We asked for $400 last year, and got it, but teachers got $300, so that actually increased the margin by only $100."

Yansen said the difference between teachers' and principals' salaries has been narrowing since 1947. Elementary principals' salaries now average about $600 above teachers' highest pay, Cox said.

NEW FOUNDRY—Shown above is an exterior view of Pontiac Motor Division's 34,700 square foot addition to its foundry building at the main plant in Pontiac as it reaches the final stages of construction. As part of the extensive expansion program by General Motors divisions, it will provide additional facilities for core making, molding, maintenance and other foundry operations. It also will house the casting cushion conveyor.

The lower photo shows progress inside the building. Company officials said the addition, containing the most modern lighting and ventilation systems available, will be equipped and in operation by spring. Construction of the addition is being handled by Darin & Armstrong, In., a Detroit firm.

GOP Born Just 100 Years Ago Today by Anti-Slavery Units of Whigs, Dems

LANSING (UP)—The Republican party was conceived 100 years ago today.

A group of prominent liberal members of the Whig party met at Detroit on Feb. 18, 1854, in an effort to put new life into their dying party.

But instead of finding a solution for Whig party problems, the meeting laid the foundations for creation of the Republican party at Jackson six months later.

Among those who attended the Feb. 18 meeting were Zachariah Chandler, who later was to become Michigan's first GOP "strong man."

Chandler and his "radical" Whig colleagues agreed their party was a failure, at least in Michigan, and did not have a chance to defeat Democrats in the fall election that year.

Whig candidates had been defeated in Michigan's 1852 election because of their party's failure to take a stand on the slavery question, the greatest issue of the day.

The Whig Liberals who met at Detroit decided that establishment of a new party which would bring together all anti-slavery elements was their only hope.

Four days after the Whig Liberals agreed to bolt their party if the opportunity presented itself, the Free Democrats of Michigan known as Free-Soilers, held a state convention at Jackson. It was Washington's Birthday.

The Free-Soilers had broken away from the Democratic party because Southern Democrats favored extending slavery to new Western territories and had succeeded in forcing their slavery policies through Congress.

At their Jackson meeting, Free-Soilers named a full slate of candidates for the fall election with Kinsley S. Bingham, of Livingston County, as the nominee for governor.

Michigan historians agree that these two meetings of anti-slavery elements within a week of each other did more to set the stage for establishment of the Republican party than anything else up to that time.

And they cite the dates—Feb. 18 and Feb. 22—in arguments to dispute claims by Wisconsin Republicans that the GOP was born at Ripon, Wis.

In the meantime, Michigan leaders of the liberal wing of the Whig party and officials of the Free Democratic party met at Detroit on May 23 in an effort to effect a fusion of the two parties.

They set July 6 as date for a state-wide meeting at Jackson of all anti-slavery elements who favored creation of a new political party.

Free Democrats held another state convention at Kalamazoo on June 21 and agreed to withdraw the state ticket named on Feb. 22 if a new party was formed at Jackson.

Between 3,000 and 5,000 persons gathered at Jackson on July 6—Whigs, Free-Soilers, Abolitionists and anti-slavery Democrats.

By nightfall, the Republican party had been established.

Bingham was named as the GOP candidate for governor and other places on the ballot went to former Whigs, Free-Soilers and an Abolitionist.

Bingham became the nation's first Republican governor that fall when he defeated Democrat John S. Barry, 43,652 votes to 38,095. Barry had served three terms as governor and was urged to go after a fourth term because Democrats wanted the strongest candidate possible to oppose the new party.

Chandler played a key role in both the Jackson convention and Bingham's nomination and election and was rewarded for his effort two years later when he received the Rupublican nomination for U. S. senator and was elected.

Chandler later ruled the GOP in Michigan with an iron fist as the state's first GOP party "boss" and remained in the Senate for nearly 20 years.

2 Babies Perish in Home Fire

Parents, 2 Other Tots Burned as Blaze Hits Near Manistique

MANISTIQUE (UP) — Two babies perished in a fire which destroyed their home at Cooks, 12 miles west of here in Schoocraft County, last night.

Two other children and the parents suffered burns.

Regina, 1½, and Davis, 6 months lost their lives.

The parents were burned in a vain effort to rescue the infants. Also burned were Eldred Jr., 6, and Sylvaia, 4.

State Police said the fire apparently was the result of an overheated wood stove. It broke out about 9 p. m.

Eldred ran to the neighbors' home with a warning but the fire had made such headway it was impossible to save Regina and David.

Story of One Michigan City

Sault Ste. Marie Jubilant Over Her Two Bridge Dreams

Editor's Note—This is the second in a series by the Associated Press on Michigan cities. Editors throughout Michigan were asked to tell of the accomplishments and goals of their communities since World War II. John Matheson, staff writer of the Sault Ste. Marie Evening News, writes the following story.

By JOHN MATHESON
Sault Ste. Marie Evening News Staff Writer

SAULT STE. MARIE (UP) — The eastern end of Michigan's Upper Peninsula is pinning its future plans to two bridges.

One, across the Straits of Mackinac, will be 52 miles south of Sault Ste. Marie. It will physically join Michigan's two peninsulas.

The other, still only a "proposal," will span one of the world's busiest rivers and join Michigan with Ontario at the two Sault Ste. Maries.

Mackinac bridge construction is scheduled to get under way this spring. Preliminary negotiations are being undertaken in New York City on the groundwork for a connecting link across the St. Mary's River between this community and its sister city, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

Paul P. Hoholik of the Sault, chairman of the International Bridge or Tunnel Authority, has been conferring with financial and bridge authorities in New York. Preliminary studies indicate that a St. Mary's River bridge could "stand" financially even without a Straits of Mackinac span, Hoholik was told.

Many consider the St. Mary's crossing nearly as important to Sault Ste. Marie as the Mackinac Bridge.

This is based on the strategic location of both Saults. They straddle the river which funnels Lake Superior into Lake Huron. The two cities are the only accessible entry between Canada and the United States from the Minnesota border, to Port Huron.

The basis for future optimism includes two salient points: The general growth of Canada and its immense future possibilities, and the prospect of completion of a highway around the rugged north shore of Lake Superior within the next five years.

States bordering Lake Superior and the Province of Ontario are all interested in the completion of the highway. Promotion of the route as a tourist attraction already has a name — "The Grand Rounds of Lake Superior," which would take travelers through some of the most ruggedly beautiful country in North America.

Locally, Chippewa County leaders are pushing a plan which would tie in with both Straits and St. Mary's bridges and complement any highway around the north shore of Lake Superior.

They are organized to back a project calling for a shore line road from Detour, at the Lake Huron end of the St. Mary's River, to Whitefish Point on the south shore of Lake Superior.

But it is to Canada that many Sault civic leaders look for a significant share of development of this American city.

Before World War II, the U. S. Customs office in the Sault considered receipts of $50,000 as a good year; in the calendar year ended Dec. 31; collections of duties and excises at the office totaled $1,838,264.

This increase was despite tariff reductions of as much as 50 per cent on some items, according to J. P. Dahlman, deputy collector of customs at the Sault.

The effects of even the prospects of bridges are stirring hope that the two cities are entering previously undreamed of growth and prosperity.

Parents Given Time to Locate New Home

Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore has placed six children of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Craft under temporary county custody, for six months, until the parents can find employment and find a home. The Crafts were found in Detroit recently living in a hearse, after they had been evicted from a home near Lake Orion, and were unable to find another.

The parents and the oldest son, 15, are staying with relatives and the younger children will be placed in boarding homes or county cottages for the present and sent to school, a court official said today. Another hearing on the family's situation will be held in six months.

Ambushes Harry Reds

By FRED SPARKS

TACHEN, Nationalist Guerrilla Island Off Red China (NEA)—A Russian-style jeep with four Chinese tommy-gunners leads a convoy past a roadside stone Buddha carved in the lonesome Singhai Mountains. "Shotgun riders" are on each of 10 trucks hauling food, hardware and clothing.

The leader twists around a pass and brakes hard before a barricade of boulders. Anti-Communist guerrillas, snuggled among the gray rocky slopes like lizards, open fire and flip grenades.

Ambush! A traditional ambush with odds on the attacker. If GI drivers slain in Korean ambushes could testify, they'd agree guerrillas strike only when vastly superior.

There's a feeble attempt by the guards to shoot back at people they can't see. But soon the Commie hands rise like candidates acknowledging a convention demonstration.

Several are pistol-whipped for effect, the rest forced to load the raiders' pack animals. Tires are slashed and by night guerrillas fondle the loot in lofty cave and hut—and Communists, stripped of shoes, raise blisters hiking to the next town.

A messenger who shuttles between raider GHQ on these off-shore islands and mainland mountain bands, describes the above recent ambush as a "shopping operation" by Guerrilla Chief Mohammed Ma. Outlaws can't buy groceries in supermarkets.

Pleasing reports come from Mohammed Ma and other bands living in reasonable security in rugged strips east and west of Canton and in Sikang Province, next to Burma's jungles.

Refugees from Red goon squads are swelling the ranks. Farmers, to spite the hated collectives, are more willing to contribute food after five years of Communist administration.

Such outlaws won't topple Dictator Mao by Tuesday, but with guerrillas raiding the coast and pirating shipping, they're further responsibilities for tired Communist generals who haven't had a furlough in 20 years.

Communists long regarded guerrilla warfare as their private property, as if Karl Marx was the first to advise garroting a sentry with piano wire.

China's roads were built for baggage coolies, not General Motors. By the time reinforcements arrive after an ambush guerrillas can be smoking Havana cigars—in Havana.

My messenger friend, whose secret wife alerts guerrillas from her vantage point as a Communist official's concubine (proving there are many ways to serve freedom), described a typical mountain band.

Currently they reside in bamboo and rock shacks 12 miles from a road, usually shrouded by clouds. They keep goats, chickens and pigs, but depend on outside supporters (and raids) for rice and matches, doled out singly, being that precious. In winter snow is melted for water and in summer scoops catch rain.

They can hit the trail within the hour if sentries or village friends flash warning. They've little fear; it would take several divisions to cork all escape.

Countless rifles were hidden during the Red conquest. The shortage is fighters and the band seeks expansion to 100 men, women and boys on the triggers. Now they muster 60.

The leader, an ex-Nationalist captain, contacts other bands by runner who in turn contact these islands.

Small With Forward Look

Hats On for Spring Style

By JUDITH L. CLEMENCE

Every woman is a romantic at heart and longs to look starry-eyed, so designers of spring hats have focused their creative talents on details which will give that look and make women want to wear hats.

The hats, which are definitely feminine, remain small for the most part but have a forward look. There are little flowers pointing forward, or tiny feathers or maybe the smallest jutting out of the brim.

There's a group of very wide brims, too, created especially to wear with this year's many prints.

Many of the hats have serial brims achieved by posing one brim on top of another, layer-cake fashion. These appear on various shapes including the sailor.

Sally Victor has let her imagination travel the road of Marco Polo. So for spring and summer, she has brought the allure and beauty of the Far East with its rich embroideries and vibrant colors, its smooth straws and silks.

What England's young Queen wears will be copied by thousands of women who are alert as to what is new. Beatrice-Martin, with her keen understanding of feminine psychology, has been inspired to design a group of hats named "Queen's Journey."

These hats reflect the Victorian feeling in a choice of flower appliques where the daisy stars as the spring flower of 1954.

"Sugar and spice and everything nice" keynotes the little girl look that Emme and her designer Adolf, bring back to hats for spring.

Colors in the collection have a spice or a spun sugar look, and silhouettes are so varied that the presentation is divided into 11 groups, providing hats for every hour and every occasion.

Vibrant, lively colors have been used by many designers who are showing many brilliant multi-color hats and combinations of vivid flowers and ribbons.

Spring 1954 promises to be a wonderful season for millinery. The look of fashion is definitely hatted and the collections of New York's leading designers have never been more beautiful.

Sally Victor calls this (center) her Marco Polo pillbox. It is of red and white silk print with small French knots. The big bow is of the same print.

Nagging at Little Children About Manners Destroys Zest for Meals

Dietician Presents Menu for First of Seven Days

By ISABEL DU BOIS

First Day's Menu

You have Elmer Wheeler's fat boy calorie chart. You have made up your mind to reduce. Here is a set of menus, based on the chart, that will help you do it.

Beginning today, low calorie menu suggestions for three meals a day for seven days will be printed, one for each day of the week.

Study them; then use as a guide to plan subsequent menus, substituting other foods that will give you equal caloric value.

Wheeler's calorie suggestions and the menus we'll give you are considered safe for the normal person.

However, it is always advisable to consult your physician before doing any dieting. You must be in a sound state of health before you can safely whittle yourself down to a more normal size.

When planning reducing menus remember to decrease only the calorie intake.

For protection of your health you must continue to eat foods high in vitamins, minerals and protein.

(Your physician may discuss with you the fortification of your diet with additional vitamins and minerals as a further safeguard guard.)

Here is a basic food-selection pattern to insure receiving the necessary nutrients only. During each 24-hour period include the following: 1 pint milk (skim or buttermilk may be used and has a lower caloric value); 4 servings vegetables (at least one should be a leafy green or yellow vegetable); 3 servings fruit (raw or cooked, one serving to be citrus or tomato); 3 slices bread (whole wheat or enriched white); 1 serving at least, lean meat, fish or poultry; 1 or 2 eggs, or at least 5 a week; 3 teaspoons butter.

Twice each week be certain to include an organ meat such as liver in your menus.

Here is is the first menu of your Fat Boy's Diet. It contains approximately 1,400 calories. Elmer's suggestion: "for normal reducing, 10 pounds a month considered safe."

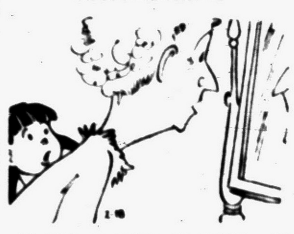

BREAKFAST
- Orange juice, fresh or frozen, ¾ cup
- Soft-boiled eggs, 2
- Toast, whole wheat, 1 slice
- Butter, 1 teaspoon
- Coffee, no cream or sugar (skim milk and saccharine may be used)

- Chicken, lean meat
- Lettuce, 2 leaves
- No mayonnaise
- Apple, 1 large
- Milk, skim, 1 glass (8 oz.)
- Coffee or tea, no cream or sugar (skim milk or lemon juice and saccharine may be used)

DINNER

Save Tired Muscles

Plan your housework to avoid overworking any set of muscles. For instance, it is not wise to go from bending over a wash basin to bending over an ironing board. You'll find it far less tiring to switch from washing to hanging curtains or dusting pictures.

Permit Youngsters to Eat Many Foods With Their Fingers

Little children are pretty messy at their meals. It takes growing up to learn to eat neatly. A certain amount of mess you have to put up with, but there are limits.

We want children to eat because they enjoy eating, and if we fuss at them too much about table manners we can destroy their zest for food. Little children are just not coordinated enough to eat without some spilling.

So long as a child is getting the food into his mouth and eating, put up with the mess. Prepare for it, so the cleaning up is not too difficult.

A piece of linoleum under his chair, a plastic mat in front of him reduce your after meal labors.

Arrange the food so that he can eat as much as possible without help. Let him eat many things in his fingers; it's easier and more fun than utensils.

A carrot can be cooked whole and eaten like a banana. Green beans are more interesting long. Have as much meat on a bone as possible. Peas, lima beans, can be picked up one at a time in the fingers.

Put a toothpick into each bite of such foods as boiled potato or hamburger and let the child pick up the bite and suck it off the toothpick.

Fingers and toothpicks cut down the amount of spooning the child has to do.

Custards, cereals, soft foods have to be eaten with a spoon. A child can manage a spoon for some foods if he doesn't have so much spooning he gets tired and bored with it.

Soups can be drunk if you put them in a cup. If there are vegetables left in the bottom of the cup they can be spooned in, but there is much less spooning if the liquid is drunk off first.

Milk, of course, is drunk. It adds interest if the child is allowed to pour the milk from a little pitcher into his glass.

Be sure there is not very much milk in the pitcher at one time. You can add more as the meal progresses.

Leave the youngster alone and don't scold him for his spillings as long as he is really eating. Help him if he needs help with the food that is more difficult to handle.

Mrs. Ralph complained that sometimes young Bob just messed with his food.

He'd squeeze, the food in his hands, smear it on the back of his chair or throw it on the floor. Then he'd pour his milk onto his plate or sometimes directly on the floor.

This is the kind of a mess you shouldn't put up with; it's a destructive mess.

Don't make a fuss and don't scold. Just wipe off the child's face and hands, take him out of his chair and tell him he is finished eating so the meal is over. Don't give him any more food until the next meal.

He will learn in short order that food is to be eaten, not played with.

In the course of time, your youngster will develop table manners that are an exact copy of yours. Children love to copy as soon as they are old enough to do so.

Nagging about table manners doesn't help a child learn more quickly; it just destroys his zest for food.

We want children to eat with enthusiasm all through childhood. When a youngster is quite young he gets much of his eating pleasure just from being able to get the food into his mouth by himself.

If he spills a little it doesn't bother him; try not to let it bother you. When he is older he will enjoy eating neatly—just as you do.

Girl's Parents Balk at Allowing Boys to Come Over Before Slumber Party

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: During the year all of my girl friends have slumber parties after our high school games, and our boy friends are invited in for a while, then they leave and the girls stay overnight.

"It's my turn to have such a party and my parents are balking. They absolutely refuse to have the boys—they say it wouldn't look right to have the boys come in so late to a party.

"Usually, when the game and dance are over, the boys get to our parties around 11:30 and they stay until after midnight—and that is not too late for a Friday night.

"The parents are always up, and everyone has a wonderful time and the parties aren't rowdy at all.

"You may suggest that I have another kind of party—but my girl friends have always entertained my boy friends at their slumber parties, so don't you think it's only fair for me to entertain theirs at mine?"

All the fussin' and feudin'—the turmoil and tears—are over one hour out of a lifetime. As though life and the slumber party would be dismal flops without one hour of the boys' company.

From where I sit, the puzzle looks like this: You think you simply must follow the pattern the other girls have set with their slumber parties. Your family is willing to go along with you except for one detail. They don't want the boys turning up at 11:30.

But did they say the boys couldn't turn up at 8? And stay until 11:30? Of course, it makes it a different kind of party—but one that could be just as much fun.

Instead of planning your slumber party for a night of a game and dance, pick out some other Friday night. Plan a party at your house with dancing and games and refreshments, let the boys leave at a decent hour, then merrily go on with your slumber party.

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm having my first party in a couple of weeks and I don't know how to act or what to do! Can you help me out with some suggestions?

"What do you think is a good time to break up? My family says 11:15. Do I introduce the boys to my family, or the family to the boys? I'm so afraid the party's going to be a flop!"

It won't be if you plan it carefully and leave nothing to chance. When your guests arrive your parents will undoubtedly be hovering around—and they'll quite obviously be your parents. Introduce each girl and boy they don't know to them.

When they're all there, start 'em off on a break-the-ice stunt that will get them in the mood. Follow it up with more games until it's time to eat, let's say 10 o'clock. After that, a little chatter, and it's time to go.

I'm sending you my "Party" booklet to help with those stunts. It's a sure-fire guarantee that your party won't flop!

And I'll send it to anyone else who wants it and who will write me for it, c-o the Pontiac Press, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

High, Wide Folding Doors Will Take Place of Walls

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

They're called folding doors, and they are doors in some sizes. But they come so wide and so high and so handsome they are more like folding walls, to solve the problems of regulating the uses of open space.

The effect of these folding doors or walls is very much like perfect folds of drapery, because the newest of them are covered with fabric in a variety of weaves and textures and colors, or can be ordered in the special one that the decorating demands.

Here are two ways a folding wall might be used. It might divide a sleeping area from the rest of the room, and it does so completely from the ceiling. Or it might create an entrance hall where there isn't one.

Ease of operation helps to bring the new folding walls into greater favor for homes.

These, which were sketched at Grand Rapids during the recent previews of home furnishings for spring, build a smooth-working extension mechanism into the door itself.

Mrs. V. S. B.—"My floor-length fiber-glass curtains seem to be wearing out at the edges of the hems, although they are comparatively new. Can you explain this and tell me what should be done about it?"

Fiber-glass fabrics really are made of glass which is spun into fine yarns. The yarns are sturdy but they can be broken just as other glass can, and probably your curtain are so long that the striking of the lower edges of the hems against the floor is breaking them.

Turn the hems up higher, so there's no contact with the floor.

Mrs. I. A.—"I would like a new wrought iron table and floor lamp to place beside a club chair in my contemporary living room, but would wrought iron be suitable? There are three leather-topped wood tables in the room."

Wrought iron is used successfully as accent in rooms full of wood furniture, but all the wrought iron in one place will not look as well as if it were repeated elsewhere.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Try It

Build Paper Bag Town

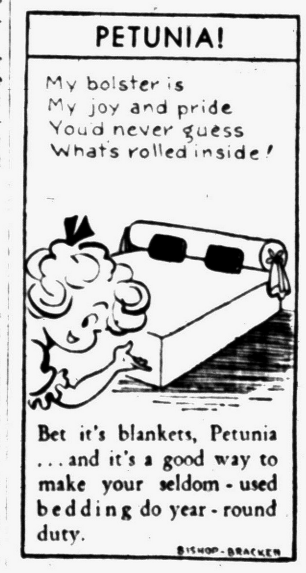

This idea has no real age limit to it, for parents will enjoy helping you make a "tiny town." The skyscrapers in this town are made from large paper grocery bags, and smaller bags can make buildings of different heights.

Projects like this are fun, for once you get started you will have loads of ideas which you will want to use. Tell your younger members of the family about this Try It too, for they can use this at kindergarten.

The windows and doors can be made in two ways. You can use a small paint brush, like the one in your school paint box, and dip it in black show card color or watercolor and paint the windows and doors right on the sack.

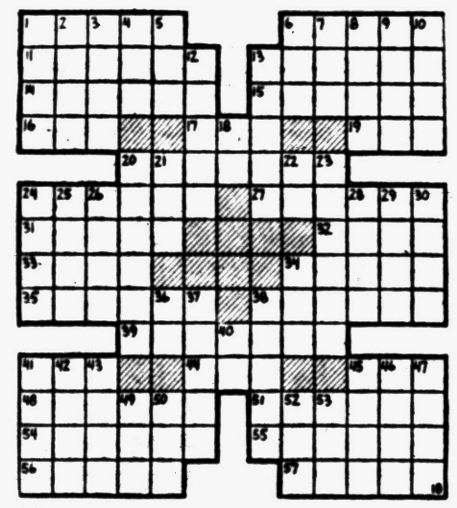

The other way is to cut them out. If you do this, you will want to leave the door parts on so that you can use them as doors. Make the fold the door hinge. Too, you can combine these ideas by painting on windows and cutting all doors.

Set the bags in rows so that streets are formed. Notice the tower on one ow the buildings in the drawing which is made from a small sack put on top of the big one. When you don't want your town, fold it away.

New Suit Types Featuring Silks

Suitmakers have come up with suit types this season which have rarely appeared before. For instance, the preponderance of silk suits (thanks to the new silk and worsted mixtures which lend themselves so splendidly to tailoring); the rise of the costume; and the flexibility of style detail.

In a story by itself is the variety of jacket styles and jacket lengths. Easy-fitting 23-24-inch length is first, but though this establishes a short jacket, the crop is more cropped than that. Some stop at the waist-line, over high-rising skirts.

Box jackets and semi-box jackets are in good shape, literally and numerically. The regulation box jacket is linked with the topper suit, usually with fabric of coating weight for jacket, and lighter-weight skirt or dress beneath.

The low-necked collar labels the spring, 1954, suit, as do the crescent-shaped sleeves, done with moderation. The Empire influence is most discernible in under-bust seaming or detail.

Bride Wants Stepfather to Be Escort
Objects to Having Own Dad Give Her Away at Wedding

By EMILY POST

A bride-to-be tells me: "My parents were divorced when I was quite young. My mother remarried about seven years ago. I always have made my home with her, and while my father lives in this same city, I see very little of him and our relationship is very strained.

"He, too, has remarried. I do no want him to have any part in my wedding. Do I send him and his family—that is his sisters and brothers—wedding invitations?

"My stepfather has been a good father to me and I would like to have him give me away. Would this be proper? If not, could he merely walk up the aisle with me and then have my mother give her consent to the marriage?"

Answer: If you have remained friendly with the members of your father's family, invite them by all means; otherwise not. I think it would be better to call your father and tell him frankly that while you do not want him to give you away, you will be glad to invite him and his wife to your wedding.

If he does not want to come, then it will be proper to let your stepfather give you away. But to have your own father seated in the church, and then have your stepfather give you away would be a public affront to your father.

Rather than cause unpleasant gossip, it would be better for you to walk up the aisle alone and have your mother give her consent from the pew.

Dear Mrs. Post: I have spent the past two weekends at the house of my boy friend. How can I show my appreciation to his parents for their hospitality? May I send his mother a present, and what would be suitable to send?

Answer: You write an appreciative letter telling her how much you enjoyed your visit. That is all—unless she happened to speak of something that she especially likes and you are able to send it to her.

Dear Mrs. Post: Since my mother is not living, is it essential that the bridegroom's mother be seated last, or is it correct that the one whom I have chosen to take my mother's place be seated as would my mother?

Answer: The one you have chosen to be in your mother's place would be seated last. The reason being that the woman who enters last is given the aisle seat on the bride's side, announcing that the bride has arrived and the procession is to start at once.

Animal Photography Hobby Pays Off

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"When my husband was retired at 60," a woman writes me, "we had enough to live on, but just barely. We owned our own little home in a nice suburb and had no really pressing worries.

"My husband had always loved photography, so we both indulged in the hobby and spent hours and hours on it.

"But you know how it is—we kept seeing better equipment that we wanted but couldn't afford. And after a while we began to miss the little luxuries that we had to give up.

"But everybody said that the commercial photography field was terribly overcrowded and hard to get into, so we didn't seriously consider it. However, we kept on with our hobby because it was such fun.

"Our other hobby," she continued, "was animals. Both my husband and I adore all kinds of animals, and we took hundreds of shots of our own cats and dog.

"One day we saw a boxer on the street and, since we were never without our camera, we got the owner to let us take a shot. She asked if we would send her a copy, which we did.

"It came out beautifully—but then, all our animal shots did, if I say so myself, because we just love animals and it seems to come across in the pictures.

"Well, the owner asked if we could sell her half a dozen prints which we did—at a disgracefully small price.

"Her friends like them, and one woman asked us to photograph her new Siamese kittens. We even got a kennel which asked us to do photographs of their prize-winning dogs.

"Armed with these, and a lot of courage, we approached other kennels and a racing stable nearby.

"Now, believe it or not," this wonderful woman concludes, "we have quite a nice bread-and-butter hobby, which helps the budget a lot and gives us great happiness."

The person who truly loves what he is doing brings an extra, plus quality to it, which often enables him to forget the old rules about crowded fields and competition involved.

French Play Up Tots' Furniture

PARIS (INS) — French furniture manufacturers believe children are entitled to as much decorating style in the nursery as mother has in the living room.

The French are showing new juvenile chairs and tables which are miniature replicas of true period pieces. There are Louis XIV upholstered armchairs with pink covers for little girls, Empire-styled funiture for little boys, and even a "rustic" set tof low chairs in dark stained wood and straw seats to match tables and benches for junior's porch.

Wrought iron furniture is fashionable for adults, and the French make duplicate sets for children. There is a white wrought iron bed, two chairs and a marble - topped table, all replicas of adult - size pieces, but scaled to children's proportions.

French Oppose U.S. Training

Cool to American Plan to Help With Troops in Indochina

WASHINGTON (AP)—An American move to help train anti-Comunist Indochinese troops appeared certain today to run into strong opposition from top French government and army leaders.

There were solid signs that if France accepts this American suggestion it will do so reluctantly.

French military authorities were reported convinced they are training loyal Indochinese recruits as fast as humanly possible and that American aid in this task is not needed.

* * *

To back up their arguments, French diplomats reported today plans to mobilize an additional 108 "commando" battalions of anti-Communist troops this year. If this goal is met, they emphasized, loyal Indochinese forces will total some 320,000, outnumbering the 300,000-man Communist force for the first time.

Coupled with the 170,000-man French Expeditionary Corps, this would give anti-Communist forces a 5-3 manpower advantage unprecedented in the bloody seven-year-old conflict.

The Defense Department disclosed late yesterday that it has informally proposed that the French allow Americans to help train native forces, mainly Viet Nam recruits. It reported Lt. Gen. John W. O'Daniel, commander of American Army forces in the Pacific, would be sent to Indochina to head an enlarged American military mission which would have some training responsibilities, if the French agreed.

* * *

The Pentagon explained that the matter so far is being discussed via military rather than diplomatic channels.

The French Embassy, commenting on the Pentagon statement, said emphatically it knew of no formal request of this kind. Diplomatic spokesmen made clear their opinion that any such American aid would have to be decided on a high diplomatic level.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn), a chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Under Secretary of State Walter B. Smith in a closed-door meeting with committee members Tuesday.

* * *

"The committee gave strong, unanimous encouragement to this idea," Humphrey added. He said he understood there need not be any substantial increase in the 300-man American military mission now in Indochina in order to help in training.

Humphrey said he is familiar with French arguments that they are training native troops as fast as possible and that American aid could not help speed this task. "Our observations lead us to other conclusions," he said.

FEELIN' BLUE — Curtis, the boxer, seems upset after being told that the London, Englaind, dog show in which he was to have appeared was called off. He was all dressed up for the gathering, only to have an electrician's strike ruin his chance to show off his party clothes.

$96 Million Paid to Authority

Mackinac Bridge Builders Prepare to Hire Workers

DETROIT (AP) — The $96,000,000-plus is now on the line. And as soon as circumstances suit, the job of bridging the Straits of Mackinac can begin.

Hiring of men of muscle for the gigantic undertaking—possibly 1,000 will be engaged—is expected to start within a bare fortnight.

Then the bridge will be on its way. Less than four years from now it should be completed.

Yesterday's historic ceremony in New York set the project in motion when bankers turned over a check for $96,400,033.33 to the Mackinac Bridge Authority.

The transaction was one of the largest in Michigan history.

Incidentally, the check is now being telegraphed—or soon will be—to the care of a trust account in the authority's name with the Detroit Trust Co.

The bridge's contractors will be paid from the trust.

The hiring of a first 500 men starts March 1.

Merrill-Chapin & Scott Corp., which holds a 26 million dollar contract for the substructure of what will be the world's second longest suspension bridge, announced its hiring plans yesterday. It said a hiring office will be set up on the site of the bridge.

The bridge, spanning the four-mile-wide straits, will be second in length only to the world famous Golden Gate Bridge in San Francisco. The bridge is to be completed by Nov. 1, 1957.

Investment bankers presented the $96 million check to Prentiss Brown, chairman of the authority, in a ceremony at the Bankers Trust Co. The bank is the paying agent for the syndicate underwriting the bridge bonds.

"This has been a citizen's movement," Brown said in accepting the check, "and we in Michigan are very happy about the conclusion of this financing agreement."

A congratulatory letter from Gov. Williams said:

"This is another milestone in the long and sometimes weary road of giving the people of Michigan a connection between their two great peninsulas, and giving the United States and Canada a transcontinental highway between the industrial East and the Pacific Northwest."

State Schools Rate Average

Figures Show Michigan Facilities Still Require Improvements

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's school facilities compare favorably with the national average but still need improvement, the State Department of Public Instruction said today.

The department released figures giving Michigan's position in school housing in comparison with the rest of the nation.

It showed that

Michigan has 35 per cent of its buildings in satisfactory condition for continued use and 50 per cent in fair condition compared to 27 per cent satisfactory and 40 per cent fair nationally.

The State houses 21 per cent of its children in fire resistant buildings and 18 per cent in semi-fire resistant compared to 12 per cent and 19.7 per cent nationally.

Michigan has 39.9 per cent of its buildings over 50 years old compared to the 22 per cent national average, however. Also, 13.4 per cent of the Michigan pupils attend schools more than 30 years old against a nine per cent national average.

The federal report further showed that Michigan has the second highest total of students attending school part time and ranks 12th among the states as to building needs that can be met from available resources.

Twain's House Seems Doomed to Destruction

NEW YORK (AP)—A 114-year-old house where Mark Twain once lived seems doomed to destruction.

He occupied the home on lower 5th avenue near Washington square, from 1904 to 1908. Earlier, Washington Irving was a frequent visitor there.

The Greenwich Village Chamber of Commerce has tried without much luck to raise $70,000 to move the house to another site and preserve the place as a museum. The home must come down to make room for a big apartment house. Demolition is scheduled to start Monday.

Conventions Feed City

GOP Is Trying to Sell Williams on Election Code

LANSING (AP)—Republican House leaders were trying today to sell Gov. Williams on approving a new election code which contains major changes.

Reps. Herb Clements (R-Deckerville), chairman of the House Elections Committee, and Harry J. Phillips (R-Port Huron), majority leader, conferred with the governor.

They were scheduled to report to a caucus of Republican representatives this afternoon.

Williams has expressed disappointment that the codification did not include reforms suggested by a legislative study committee and the governor's own "blue ribbon" committee on the subject.

The Senate has approved the codification, which then included the combining of the presidential and state ballots.

Williams opposed this, and House Republicans have agreed to take it out in an effort to please the governor.

Chinese Reds Down Two Nationalist Planes

HONG KONG (AP)—The Communist newspaper Ta Kung Pao reported today from Hangchow that Chinese Reds in Chekiang province have shot down two Nationalist planes from Formosa.

Antiaircraft fire sliced one of the U. S.-made F47s in two, the report said.

One plane plunged into the sea near Yuhwan, north of Wenchow Bay, and the other crashed and burned somewhere on land, the paper said. One pilot reportedly was killed.

Police Chief Kills Self After Hit-Run

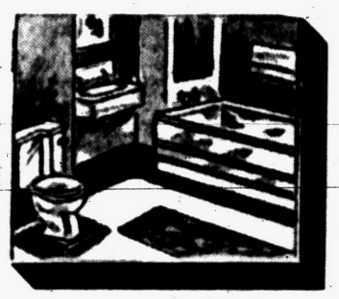

WOODBRIDGE, N. J. (AP)—Police Chief George E. Keating committed suicide by swallowing a dose of cyanide after killing a schoolboy in a hit-and-run auto accident, authorities have disclosed.

The 62-year-old chief, who was to have been honord by the town today for his 35 years of service on the force, took the poison in his home Tuesday about 12 hours after the accident in which 14-year-old Robert Berardi was killed.

At first Keating's death was believed to have been due to a heart attack, but then an autopsy revealed mouth burns and the presence of cyanide.

"It is a most regrettable case involving this fine officer who had been one of the most outstanding policemen in Middlesex County," said County Prosecutor Alex Eber.

Ike Welcomed to Palm Springs

Crowd Cheers Arrival of the Eisenhowers for Desert Holiday

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — President Eisenhower, warmly welcomed to this desert vacation resort, looked forward today to soaking up plenty of sunshine—much of it on the golf course.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower arrived here last night for five days of rest after a 9½-hour nonstop flight from Washington.

A crowd of about 3,000 persons turned out at the airport and cheered the couple as they descended from their private plane, the Columbine. Smiling, the President stepped to a battery of microphones and declared:

"We are delighted to be back here once again. We have been looking forward for a long time to this trip. We are delighted to be in this state."

The Eisenhowers—together with the First Lady's mother, Mrs. John S. Doud—were welcomed officially by California's Gov. Goodwin J. Knight.

On hand, too, was one of the Eisenhowers' hosts, old friend Paul G. Hoffman, board chairman of the Studebaker Corp., and former chief of the government's foreign aid program.

Hoffman invited Eisenhower to Palm Springs four years ago, but the Eisenhowers actually are staying here at the Smoke Tree Ranch home of Paul H. Helms, a bakery executive.

The ranch, close by snow-thatched, 10,800-foot Mt. San Jacinto, is a development made up of 61 privately owned homes. Hoffman's place is located about a block from Helms' home.

Hoffman told newsmen Secret Service agents picked the Helms resident over his for the President because of security advantages.

"It has a closed patio, for example," Hoffman said, "and it has complete privacy."

He described it as a "very simple place" with four bedrooms. The Helms family is providing a cook and a butler for the Eisenhowers.

Plans New Dictionary

JERUSALEM (AP) — The newly founded "Hebrew Language Academy" plans to issue a new complete Hebrew Dictionary. The institution is sponsored by the Israel Government and headed by a committee of fifteen linguistic experts.

TWINS ARE "SISTERS"—A bit of confusion was added to the library of Nazareth College at Kalamazoo recently when Sister M. Catherine Siena, (left), chief librarian, was joined by her twin sister, Sister M. Thomas Aquinas, assistant librarian. The twin nuns have been members of the Order of Sisters of St. Joseph for 10 years but had never served together before. Confused students are Collette Biron of Saginaw (left) and Jane Casey of Chicago.

Smoking Not Only Cancer Possibility

NEW YORK (AP)—A cancer statististical analyst says more evidence is needed before any definite conclusion can be drawn linking cigarette smoking with lung cancer.

Dr. E. Cuyler Hammond, director of statistical research for the American Cancer Society, in a paper presented yesterday before the American Historical Assn., said other factors besides the increase in cigarette smoking are "under suspicion for the increase in lung cancer."

He cited soot and fumes from coal and oil furnaces, fumes from motor vehicles, dust from asphalt roads and rubber tires.

He said, "It is not inconceivable that cigarette smoking has certain beneficial effects," adding that cigarette smoke kills certain bacteria. He did not elaborate.

Child Mistaken for Box Narrowly Escapes Death

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP) — Serenella Leoni, 5, on her coaster, shot down the driveway of her home and under a passing automobile.

Dimes Don't Register

SALEM, Mass. (AP) — City Treasurer Arthur T. Brennan reports that one per cent of parking meter receipts in this community represents dimes which tumble into coin boxes without giving motorists any parking time. The meters are designed to register only for pennies and nickles.

Hal Boyle Says:

Search Your Own Heart for Meaning of America

NEW YORK (AP)—What is America? What does it mean to be an American?

This is "Americanism week," and these questions are being discussed from pulpit and platform. Yet they are questions that each man must search his own heart through to find his own answers.

And many answers have been given since Patrick Henry said in a speech in the Continental Congress on Sept. 5, 1774. "I am not a Virginian, but an American."

Just to refresh your own thinking, here are some observations, serious and not so serious, about the land of the free and the home of the brave:

* * *

"The next Augustine age will dawn on the other side of the Atlantic. There will perhaps be a Thucydides at Boston, a Xenophon at New York"—Horace Walpole, 1774.

"I am willing to love all mankind, except an American"—Samuel Johnson.

"...Knavery seems to be so much the striking feature of its (America's) inhabitants that it may not in the end be an evil that they will become aliens to this kingdom"—King George III, 1782.

* * *

"Our reliance is in the love of liberty which God has planted in us. Our defense is in the spirit which prized liberty as the heritage of all men, in all lands everywhere"—Abraham Lincoln.

"Sometimes people call me an idealist. Well, that is the way I know I am an American. America is the only idealistic nation in the world"—Woodrow Wilson.

"Most Americans are born drunk. . . .They have a sort of permanent intoxication from within, a sort of invisible champagne . . . Americans do not need to drink to inspire them to do anything"—G. K. Chesterton.

"This will never be a civilized country until we expend more money for books than we do for "The first requisite of a good chewing gum"—Elbert Hubbard. citizen in this republic of ours is that he shall be able and willing to pull his own weight"—Theodore Roosevelt.

"The American people never carry an umbrella. They prepare to walk in eternal sunshine"—Alfred E. Smith.

* * *

"The less we have to do with the enmities of Europe the better. Not in our day, but at no distant one, we may shake a rod over the heads of all, which may make the stoutest tremble. But I hope our wisdom will grow with our power, and teach us that the less we use our power the greater it will be"—Thomas Jefferson.

"He defeated the Americans with great slaughter"—inscription on the tomb of Lord Cornwallis, who surrendered at Yorktown.

"Put none but Americans on guard tonight"—George Washington.

"The desire for riches is their ruling passion"—Duc de la Rochefoucault-Liancourt, after a visit here in 1798.

* * *

"To rouse (the Americans') eager interest, their distinguished consideration and their undying devotion, all that is necessary is to hold them up to the ridicule of the rest of the universe. Dickens won them to him forever by merciless projections of typical Americans as windbags, swindlers and assassins"—Bernhard Shaw.

"America is a tune. It must be sung together"—Gerald Stanley Lee.

Typist Brings Joy to the Blind

Woman Transcribes All Types of Literature Into Braille

DENVER (INS)—Rhoda Youngman is just a typist. But with perfect vision and great finger dexterity she brings happiness to blind people all over the world.

For the last 20 years Mrs. Youngman has been transcribing hundreds of pages of written and typed matter into the indentations which the blind read as braille.

She has done work for blind persons in Denver, across the nation, in Jamaica and even the Christian settlement in Jerusalem.

She learned to use braille with a slate and stylus when she was the 18-year-old fiancee of blind Maprice Frank of Nashville, Tenn.

Frank later originated the school for seeing eye dogs in the United States. He now operates the school in Morristown, N.J.

Mrs. Youngman says it is far easier to use a special typewriter than the slate and stylus. As head of a group of volunteers for the Denver Chapter of the American Red Cross, she has trained 45 volunteers.

She does work for the Denver Public Library and the Library of Congress in Washington.

Branding Iron Tastes Vary

Designs Often Risque, Humorous in Oklahoma; Registration Required

OKLAHOMA CITY (UP) — The automobile age is leaving its mark on Oklahoma cattle—usually on the left hip of each beast.

The few Oklahoma blacksmiths who still make cattle branding irons found that the best metal to use comes from old car springs.

Demand for branding irons increased after a state law required all cattlemen to have a registered brand. But though old car springs are plentiful, there is a shortage of smiths who can forge them into irons.

A blacksmith can make an iron in an hour that will last for 15 or 20 years at a cost of $3 or $4. But the price goes up when cattlemen bring in fancy designs such as the outline of Oklahoma — and want every curve of the bounding Red River depicted.

Brand designs fall into four categories—humorous, sentimenta, illustrative and risque, said George Crause, head of the state agriculture department's brand registry division.

He said some brands registered are printable only on a cow's hide when a rancher's earthly sense of humor gets the best of him.

The left side of a cow is branded by about 85 per cent of cattle raisers, Crause said. It's a holdover from the old cowboy custom of breaking a horse to come up on the left side of a cow.

The cattle are branded when they're about eight weeks old. The brand scar usually gets larger as the animal grows—but not always.

A cowboy superstition says whether the brand will grow depends on whether the animal was branded by the light or dark of the moon.

"I don't know where the belief came from," said Crause. "But don't ever ask an old cowboy to prove it, because he will."

Used Car Vigil Kept

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (UP) — Thomas Coalts, 25-year-old war veteran, camped in front of a used car market over a weekend in order to be eligible to buy the lowest priced model offered—a six-year-old sedan for 99 cents. On Sunday, he was joined by Charles Murphy Jr., who was after the next best buy, a car priced at $9.99. Relatives brought the two food and they wrapped themselves in blankets for the vigil. They got the cars.

Parents Pack Board Meeting, Make Requests

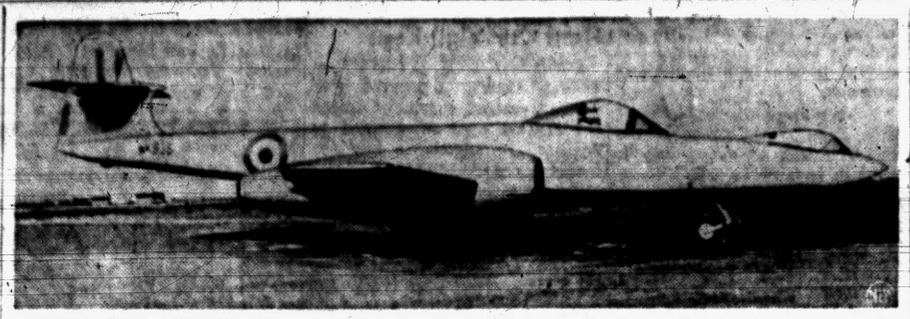

Wednesday's Board of Education meeting got under way before a "full house" as groups of parents from McCarroll, Owen and Hawthorne schools crowded the board room.

McCarroll's delegation, with O. Howard Shelley as spokesman, again asked for a multi-purpose room so that students can have assemblies, gym classes and other activities.

Owen's group, with Mayor Arthur J. Law as spokesman, said that the school is growing more and more crowded, with 529 students now in 15 classrooms and hundreds of new homes being built nearby.

Hawthorne people said they were "just visiting."

School board president Glenn H. Griffin said McCarroll is due for a multi-purpose room as soon as possible. He told the Owen group that a school planned for Kennett road soon will ease Owen's student load. One extra room is to be built there next September, school officials said.

Hearing Aid Like Learning Foreign Tongue

ANN ARBOR — Dr. Albert C. Furstenberg, of the University of Michigan, says that using a hearing device is like "learning a new and foreign language."

The new world of sound ushered in through the tiny mechanism of a hearing aid is indeed a new world. The aid does not transmit sounds which are received by the normal ear.

Because the instrument conveys new and different impulses to the brain, the patient has to learn how to interpret these sounds.

"The power to interpret sounds conveyed through a hearing aid often requires weeks or months of diligent effort and study on the part of the patient," the dean indicates.

For that reason, he advises that the hearing aid be worn all the waking hours of the day.

Dr. Furstenberg also dismisses two superstitions about hearing aids. They do not improve the auditory nerves so that the patient eventually can throw his hearing aid away. Nor does the mechanism "overwork" the nerves and hasten their deterioration.

Glazed Onions Ideal With Steak

A juicy, succulent steak needs no embellishments in order to cause a mouth-watering reaction, but its flavor can undoubtedly be enhanced with just the right vegetable.

What could be more tempting than a steaming bowl of plump, white onions served in a delicate mushroom cream sauce?

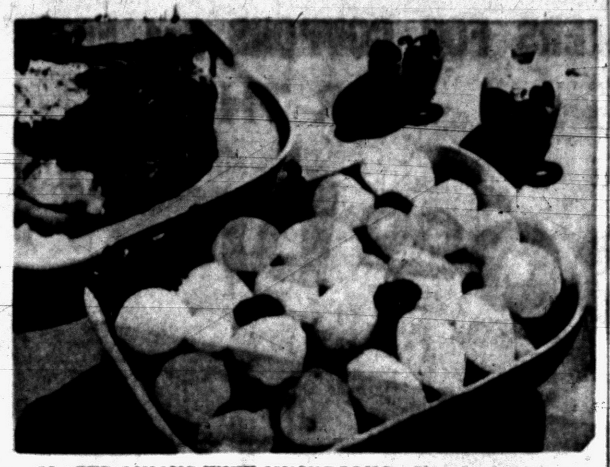

Glazed Onions With Mushrooms

6 tablespoons margarine
1½ pounds small white onions
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon sugar
Several lettuce or cabbage leaves
2 tablespoons cream
½ cup sliced canned mushrooms
¼ cup mushroom liquor

Place margarine in, saucepan. Add peeled onions and sprinkle with salt and sugar. Rinse lettuce in cold water and cover onions completely with leaves.

Cover pan and cook over low heat 20 to 30 minutes. (When done, onions will be firm but tender.)

Discard leaves, add cream, mushrooms and liquor. Heat until mushrooms and sauce are hot. Serves six.

Extra Zest for Pork

Here's an idea for giving pork chops extra zest in flavor: After you've browned them in the pan, pour over a little apple juice, cover and let simmer until the pork chops are tender—about 45 minutes.

Industry Plans New Surprises in Frozen Foods

NEW YORK (INS) — Housewives who think the frozen foods industry has already produced just about every food that can be frozen are in for a surprise.

Coming to the frozen food chests in stores are such items as trout in Champagne, breaded "chicken sticks," low-calory desserts, deviled crab balls, de-boned and neatly rolled turkey meat, fried chicken drumsticks, buttered beef steaks, apple pie—and even hush-puppies, the little frankfurters wrapped in dough.

A ballroom-full of new frozen food items was displayed this week at the national frozen food convention in New York. Industry spokesmen, pointing out that commercial frozen foods hit the billion dollar mark for the first time last year, expect even bigger sales this year.

The frozen food men are promising better values in staple items like juices and vegetables, and eye-catching new prepared frozen foods to tempt housewives into buying more.

Industry spokesmen also are enthusiastic about future possibilities in prepared frozen foods. They see the day coming when a housewife will take complete meals, dish and all, out of the freezer. They even predict that frozen foods especially for children will soon be produced in small kiddie-size packages.

Cheese-Potato Dish Designed for Dieter

The Maine Potato Committee presents another potato dish designed for reducers. It can be adapted to meet the requirements of non-dieters, as the simple instructions point out.

Slim-Jim Cheese Potato

(All quantities given are for one serving only and should be multiplied by the number in your family).

1 medium potato
1 tablespoon cottage cheese
1 tablespoon skim milk
1 teaspoon chopped green onion
1 teaspoon chopped green pepper
Salt and pepper to season

Select medium sized potato, scrub well and bake in 425 oven for about one hour. Slice off top and scoop out white center. Mash and mix in remaining ingredients.

Pile back into potato shell and return to oven for a few minutes to brown. Yield—one serving, approximately 125 calories.

For non-reducers—mix in a generous spoonful of butter or margarine when mashing potato and a splash of cream. Top stuffed potato with cheddar cheese sprinkles before returning to oven to brown.

Chocolate Surprises

½ cup confectioners' sugar
2 teaspoons vanilla
2 cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup uncooked rolled oats
2 6-ounce packages semisweet chocolate pieces
¼ cup milk
Chopped nutmeats (if desired)

Cream butter and sugar with vanilla. Add flour and salt, mixing thoroughly. Stir in rolled oats well. Dough will be quite stiff.

Shape dough to make logs or balls. Bake on ungreased cookie sheets at 325 for 25 to 30 minutes; cool.

Melt chocolate in top of double boiler over hot water. Add milk and beat with rotary egg beater until smooth. Dip cooled cookies in chocolate; if desired sprinkle with chopped nutmeats.

Place on wire rack to drain. Store in refrigerator.

Creole Sauce Elegant on Chops or Burgers

With a can of beef gravy, sliced mushrooms and some catsup, you're all set to stir up a glorious Creole sauce. It's the elegant touch for pork chops or hamburgers.

To make sauce: Brown 2 tablespoons each of chopped onion and green pepper plus one can sliced mushrooms (1 cup) in 1 tablespoon shortening. Stir in one can of beef gravy (1 cups) and one-third cup catsup. Simmer for a few minutes to blend flavors. Pour this hot rich Creole sauce over six to eight cooked pork chops, hamburgers or slices of meat loaf.

In Shallow Casserole

Use leftover chicken or turkey this way. Put a layer of drained canned asparagus in a shallow heatproof dish; add a layer of thinly sliced chicken or turkey; top with cream sauce and a generous sprinkling of grated Parmesan or cheddar cheese. Heat in a moderate oven, putting the dish under the broiler for a second—if necessary—to brown the top.

A spring-hinged clothespin will hold paper bags together neatly in a kitchen cupboard.

Buffet Supper Ideal Way to Entertain Your Guests

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

"Please come over Saturday night for a buffet supper." You've issued the invitations and now you have to make plans.

Informal living makes this kind of entertaining ideal. You need not have a dining room nor try to seat your guests at one table.

MRS. ODELL

All the food is placed on a large table or buffet. The guests walk around and help themselves and eat at card tables or put their plates on trays or TV tables.

Men don't like to juggle dishes and cups and silverware. Be sure you give them some place to drop anchor.

Keep your menu simple. Make it one that can be eaten with a fork or spoon and does not need a knife to cut anything.

Aim for easy informality; but make sure that your table linen is spotless and your service attractive. Serving from a table in the kitchen is proper if you have things set up for that kind of party.

You don't have enough dishes to serve all the people you've invited? Visit the dime store and increase your supply in an inexpensive manner.

Use gay paper plates for the dessert if you care to. Buy the plastic coated plates and you need never worry about them getting soggy. Use paper napkins.

Now for the menu. If this is your first attempt at buffet entertaining, don't try to do too many things. Settle for a casserole, a huge plate of relishes, French bread, coffee and dessert.

Then the next time you want a similar party you can try something more ambitious like hot rolls or a special salad.

Chinese Casserole

1 pound lean pork cubed
1 pound round steak, cubed
½ cup chopped onions
½ cup chopped green pepper
1 cup chopped celery
1 cup chopped mushrooms
1 cup bean sprouts (optional)
¼ cup soy sauce
3 tablespoons peanut oil
1 tablespoon sugar
½ to 1 cup water
2 cups boiled noodles

Soak the pork and round steak for several hours in ½ cup of soy sauce mixed with the sugar. Remove to frying pan in which the peanut oil has been heated. Brown the meat lightly, stirring frequently. Add the onions, and continue to brown.

Add the rest of the vegetables and cover, or remove to a covered casserole. Simmer until the meat is tender and the vegetables cooked (about ½ hour). Add water to keep the dish moist, and soy sauce to taste.

This may be mixed with two cups of boiled wide noodles, or served over the noodles. Serves 6.

Put pickles, olives, celery, radishes, spiced peaches or crabapples, carrot sticks, green onions, piccalilli and a dish of jam or jelly into a lazy susan or in relish dishes.

Buy brown-and-serve French bread and bake it late in the afternoon so that it's really fresh.

For dessert make a towering angel food cake using one of the excellent mixes on the market. Or serve ice cream with a choice of sauces. Or just pass a big bowl of mixed fruit.

Make lots and lots of coffee. Put everything on the table, let your guests go ahead, then enjoy yourself. It will be a lovely party.

Vary Bouillon Flavor With Mushrooms, Cress

A cup of hot bouillon is a good pick-up for a dieter who needs a midmorning snack.

Vary the bouillon sometimes — just to make your reducer's life interesting—by adding a few short sprays of water cress to it. Or add some drained canned mushrooms to the bouillon.

New Way of Serving Leftover Boiled Potatoes

Those leftover boiled potatoes will taste delicious if you dice them and put them into a skillet with some bacon fat. Add some diced onion and fry until golden brown, shaking the pan occasionally. Add salt and freshly-ground pepper, if necessary.

Serve with a sprinkling of minced parsley or finely chopped green pepper.

Yale university has about 4,000 undergraduate students.

CINNAMON NUT CRISPS—A $7,500 winner in a recent baking contest, these Cinnamon Nut Crisps are an unusual sweet yeast bread. Just before their last raising they are rolled very thin on a sugared board. Wonderful with coffee!

Exclusive Southern Recipe for Cinnamon Nut Crisps

Cinnamon Nut Crisps

1 cake compressed yeast or 1 package active dry yeast
¼ cup lukewarm water
2 eggs (well beaten)
1 cup lukewarm cream
3 tablespoons sugar
1½ teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
4½ to 5 cups sifted flour
4 tablespoons butter (melted)
1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
⅔ cup blanched almonds or other nuts (finely chopped)
½ cup raisins (chopped)
Extra sugar

Soften yeast in water. Mix eggs, cream, 3 tablespoons sugar, salt, vanilla and the softened yeast. Gradually add flour, blending thoroughly after each addition to make a stiff dough.

Knead on well-floured board for 2 to 3 minutes until smooth. Place in greased bowl and cover tightly. Let rise in warm place (85F to 90F) until doubled in bulk, about 1½ hours.

Roll out to a 26 by 20 inch rectangle, about ¼-inch thick. Brush with 2 tablespoons of the melted butter. Mix brown sugar and cinnamon; sprinkle half of mixture over dough.

Fold long sides to center; press down firmly. Fold in half lengthwise, making 4 layers; press firmly to seal. Roll out again to a 26 by 12 inch rectangle. Brush with the remaining 2 tablespoons melted butter.

Mix almonds, raisins and remaining brown sugar and cinnamon mixture; sprinkle over dough. Roll as for jelly roll, starting with 26-inch edge.

Cut into 1-inch slices. Dip one cut side of each slice in flour and place, floured side up, on board that has been sprinkled with extra sugar. Roll out to ¼-inch thickness.

Place on well-greased baking sheets, sugared side up. Let rise in warm place 15 minutes. Bake in moderate (375F) oven until golden brown, 15 to 18 minutes. Makes about 2 dozen.

While first pans of rolls are baking, place extra rolls on waxed paper, sugared side up, to let rise. Transfer to baking sheet to bake. If necessary, rolls may rise longer than 15 minutes.

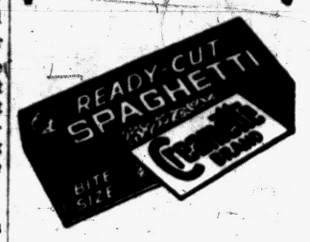

Vegetables and salad greens should not be soaked in water for a long time. The water robs them of the vitamin-rich minerals.

Americans Seem to Be Getting Plenty to Eat

Combining higher income with the other forces—maid shortage, new products, more nutrition knowledge—we can begin to understand why Americans have, in 1953 compared to 1939, eaten per person 1,250 per cent more frozen vegetables, some 900 per cent more baby foods, 738 per cent more frozen fruit and fruit juices.

They also have purchased 218 per cent more canned fruit juices, 80 per cent more canned soup, 71 per cent more ice cream, 40 per cent more cheese, 40 per cent more canned vegetables, 35 per cent more canned fruit, 37 per cent more beef, 13 per cent more coffee, 7 per cent more fluid milk and cream and 6 per cent more condensed and evaporated milk.

One cup of sweet milk becomes the equivalent of one cup of sour or buttermilk when one-half teaspoon of soda is added.

HUNGARIAN GOULASH—A hearty beef stew is just the dish to set before a hungry family on nippy evenings. In this tested recipe, beef stew meat is simmered to fork tenderness in bouillon seasoned with a generous amount of paprika and a whiff of garlic.

Serve Goulash Piping Hot ---Satisfaction Guaranteed!

Beef continues plentiful, with stew meat one of the thriftier buys. Here's a tasty variation of the standard beef stew, known as Hungarian Goulash.

Hungarian Goulash

1 pound beef stew meat
1 clove garlic
2 medium onions
2 teaspoons paprika
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 bouillon cubes
2 cups boiling water
2 cups diced potatoes

Cut meat into 1-inch cubes and brown in a little hot fat. Add minced garlic, sliced onions, seasonings and the bouillon cubes dissolved in hot water. Cover and simmer 2½ hours.

Add 1 cup hot water and potatoes cut in ¾ inch cubes. Cook 20 minutes longer, or until potatoes are tender. Season to taste and thicken, if necessary. 4 servings.

Uncooked meat, stored on the regular shelves of the refrigerator, should be covered lightly because tight covering favors bacterial growth.

Two Sandwich Fillings Made With Pineapple

Combine one (3 oz.) package of cream cheese, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise or salad dressing, ½ cup of drained crushed pineapple and ½ cup finely shredded carrots.

Or, combine ½ cup of peanut butter with ½ cup drained crushed pineapple.

Applesauce Peps Pie

A nice addition to a lemon meringue pie is the flavor of applesauce. Easy does it if you use a package of lemon pudding or pie filling mix. Use half the amount of liquid directed on the package and add an 8-ounce can of applesauce. Pour into an 8-inch baked pastry shell. Top with meringue, and bake in a hot oven until nicely browned.

Write for Recipes

It isn't a good practice to substitute cooking oil in cake recipes developed for hydrogenated shortening, butter, or margarine. However, excellent tested recipes that use oil in place of other shortenings are available. You can get them by writing manufacturers of cooking oils requesting cake recipes.

Sweet-Dream Snacks

Match Up Beans 'n Relishburgers

Serve pork and beans with relishburgers, the "rich relatives" of the hamburger family.

These sturdy foods require little preparation. Canned pork and beans (try the kind with tomato sauce) can be poured into a generous casserole and popped into the oven. If you're in a rush, heat them on top of the range.

A few quick flips of the wrist, and you'll have the ingredients for the burgers combined and shaped into evenly flattened rounds. After browning them on one side, drop some spicy pickle relish on each.

You'll find a 1-pound can (1¾ cups) of pork and beans will make 2 or 3 servings. If your family eats more than that, better get the 1-pound, 7-ounce size. It contains 2½ cups.

You can use the leftover beans in box lunches (fill a wide-mouthed vacuum bottle with them). Or heat them for your lunch the next day.

Relish Burgers

1 pound ground beef
½ teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
2 tablespoons tomato ketchup
1 egg, beaten
2 tablespoons minced onion
¼ cup fine dry bread cubes
1 cup pickle relish (approximate)
6 slices processed cheese (approximate)

Combine all ingredients except relish and cheese, and form into 5 or more burgers. Brown burgers on one side in shortening in a skillet. Turn them over and drop a spoonful of relish on each.

Top each burger with a slice of cheese. Cover pan the last few minutes to allow cheese to melt. The burgers can be "forked" or "sandwiched" to suit your taste.

Macaroni Luncheon Made in 5 Minutes

QUICK MACARONI AND CHEESE

2 tablespoons chili sauce
1 1-pound can macaroni with cheese sauce
2 slices bread
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Add chili sauce to macaroni and heat. Cut bread into tiny cubes and brown in butter. Top servings of macaroni with butter-toasted bread cubes. Makes 4 servings.

Add Apple to Muffins

Next time you make Sunday supper muffins, add 1 cup of chopped, canned apple slices (drained) to the batter. Really delicious, especially when served hot with plenty of butter or margarine.

Sprinkle With Ginger

Joins Action on Disposal Plan

West Bloomfield Board Agrees to Tri-township Garbage Authority

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—The second step toward the formation of a tri-township garbage disposal authority was taken by the West Bloomfield Township Board this week.

An ordinance authorizing the establishment of the authority comprised of West Bloomfield, Commerce and White Lake townships was passed at the board's meeting Tuesday night.

Supervisor Hiland M. Thatcher said White Lake Township had already authorized the plan. Approval by the Commerce Township Board remains to be given.

Under the proposed set-up, the three townships will each appoint members to the authority, which will regulate the disposal of garbage and refuse for the three areas.

It is expected the authority will be in operation within 30 to 60 days.

Tentative plans call for a fill-type garbage dump, similar to Pontiac's. Total cost is expected to be about $15,000, with each of the townships paying a proportional share.

Thatcher said the cost would be for equipment and supervision only. Location of the proposed dump has not been announced.

In other business, the West Bloomfield Township Board approved the Hammond Lake Estates plat and the purchase of a new siren for the Walnut Lake fire hall.

According to the January report of Building Inspector Stewart Underhall six residence permits and two addition permits were issued, with a total estimated cost of $87,400.

Citizens Discuss Special Levy

2.5 Mill Assessment Would Maintain, Run Fire Department

AVON TOWNSHIP — Township residents, members of Avondale Community Forum and the Township Board members tentatively gave their approval Tuesday to means of financing the new Volunteer Fire Department for the southwest portion of the township.

A special assessment of 2.5 mills per thousand dollars of assessed valuation for maintaining and operatng the fire department was discussed at a meeting in Community Hall.

The assessment is expected to go into effect in two weeks on proclamation of the Township Board, unless 10 per cent of qualified electors sign petitions against the move.

Already authorized by the Township Board's $11,000 for the purchase of a fire truck, delivery of which is expected next month. An appropriation of $6,500 for construction of a fire hall has also been approved.

At its organizational meeting Feb. 6, 31 volunteer firemen were signed up for the department. Ten more are still being sought, according to Monroe Frederick, president of the community forum.

Members of the department already signed up, and those interested in joining, are being asked to attend a meeting Sunday at 1 p.m. at the Community Hall, Crooks and Auburn Rd.

She also wore a sweetheart shaped satin headpiece trimmed with pearls and a fingertip length veil. Her bouquet was white roses

Maid of honor was Miss Ann Zollner of Rochester in a copper tone floor length gown with net skirt and nylon acetate bodice with shrug jacket.

Serving as bridesmaids were Miss Carolyn Hartung and Miss Ardith Scribner, both of Rochester, and Mrs. Harold Harkless of Pontiac. They wore dresses similar to the maid of honor in emerald green, and carried bouquets of carnations with matching flowers in their hair.

Serving as best man was Harold Harkless of Pontiac. Ushers were Kenneth Carsner, Wilard Hardenburg and Kenneth McLauchlin, all of Pontiac.

After a reception in the church parlors, the couple left for a Chicago honeymoon with the bride wearing a grey suit with navy accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Plan to Combine Police, Firemen

Oak Park to Get Setup in Which Both Services Done by Same Men

OAK PARK—This city will become the ninth and largest in the nation to have an integrated police-fire department, staffed by men able to do basic work of both agencies.

Outlining the plan yesterday, City Manager Harold K. Schone, said the new system will go into effect July 1.

"Although the taxpayers will save money, that is not the main issue of the program," Schone said. "Under the plan increased fire and police service, better protection and more efficient service will result."

When the system goes into operation 37 men will work regular eight-hour shifts, most of them operating in police patrol cars equipped with fire extinguishers and basic fire fighting equipment as well as regular police equipment, Schone said.

"We have found that 85 per cent of fires can be extinguished by one or two men with fire extinguishers if response is immediate," he stated.

Should a fire be reported three cars will converge on the scene and others will widen their patrol to cover the territory usually policed by the cars sent to the fire scene.

"If the fire is a larger one, from three to six men will be on hand when the engines arrive," Schone said.

Oak Park, with a population between 20,000 and 21,000, currently has a 22-man police force and a fire department of seven men. Six men will be added by July.

With a combining of duties on July 1, the men will get a $500 a year raise. Schone expects a training program for the integrated public safety department to get under way in about two weeks.

The city ordinance establishing the new department of public safety goes into effect Sunday.

Police Chief John F. Trainer has been appointed temporary director until an examination to pick a permanent head is held. Trainer declined to take the examination. His position will be abolished under the new setup.

Schone said Trainer will be given a command position in the new department without a decrease in salary.

Hope Dimmed for 4th Judge

Division Among County Representatives Seen Bar to Bench Addition

A three-way split among Oakland County representatives in Michigan's Legislature today dimmed chances for approval of a bill giving the county a fourth circuit judge.

Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) has had debate on the bill postponed until Feb. 23. The bill has official approval of Oakland County Board of Supervisors and the House of Representatives Judiciary Committee.

"We need every one of these four votes to get the bill through," Broomfield said, "Without them we're stymied."

The split put Broomfield, Rep. Fred G. Beardsley (R-Oxford) and Democratic Reps. Leaun Harrelson of Pontiac and Walter T. McMahon, Hazel Park, in three separate corners.

New Rep. Richard C. VanDusen (R-Birmingham) said he was pretty sure he'd back the bill, but hadn't had a chance to thoroughly check into the need for a fourth judge yet.

While Broomfield and Harrelson squared off with charges of "playing politics," Rep. Beardsley said he opposed the bill because several supervisors from his district had called him to say they didn't want a fourth judge now. "And haven't a decent place to put him," he said.

Harrelson said he will suggest the bill be amended to let Gov. G. Mennen Williams appoint the south judge right away. He said McMahon has taken the same stand.

Broomfield's bill would have the fourth judge named at the November election and take office Jan. 1, 1955.

McCarthy Collision Breaks Wife's Ankle

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy said today it was believed his wife, Jean, suffered a fractured right ankle in a collision here last night between their taxi and an auto.

The Wisconsin Republican displayed a slight red welt over his left eyebrow. Otherwise, he said, he was uninjured.

McCarthy said friends were to take his wife to a hospital today for treatment.

Bengt Nordberg, 41, Scarsdale, N.Y., driver of the auto, was fined $10 on a charge of driving without a license, and released in $500 bond on a charge of driving while intoxicated. He was paroled on a third charge, driving the wrong way on a one-way street. Hearing on the latter two charges was set for March 25.

Commission Agent Sees City Railroad Crossings

A representative of the Michigan Public Service Commission is in Pontiac today inspecting railroad crossings in company with city and Grand Trunk Railroad officials.

The Pontiac City Commission has requested the state group to compel installation of traffic control devices where considered necessary and to direct the railroad to route freight trains on the belt line. An increase in accidents at crossings was given as the reason for the request.

State Negro Leader Rejects U.S. Post

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Paul Phillips, a Negro civic leader, today rejected a high government appointment and said one reason was racial segregation in Washington.

Phillips, executive secretary of the Grand Rapids Urban League, had been offered an appointment as special assistant in Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby's Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

In a letter to Mrs. Hobby, Phillips said he was "humbly grateful" but that there were two reasons he could not accept.

He listed first the "evident progress, though slow, being made in Grand Rapids toward the desired democratic goal of equal opportunity for all and the dignity of the individual. It is our desire to remain with the league," he said.

"The second reason," Phillips wrote, "is a very personal one. In our opinion it would be unfair and unwise to ask my family, and especially our 7-year-old son, to live in and attempt to adjust to the rigid pattern of racial segregation that exists in Washington."

Phillips said he believed President Eisenhower was making a sincere effort to eliminate segregation in the capital, but "nevertheless the pattern is such it would make adjustments very difficult."

"Being adults," he continued, "my wife and I try to make some attempt at understanding and solving the problem."

But how does one explain racial segregation to a child."

May Cancel Plans for Chevalier Film

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Plans for a motion picture based on the life of French entertainer Maurice Chevalier may be canceled on the basis of a refusal of the State Department to grant him a visa to enter this country, a producer announced yesterday.

William Goetz, an independent producer at Columbia Pictures Corp., said he is awaiting information which probably will determine the future of the picture. He previously announced plans to make a film of the French comedian's career with Danny Kaye in the title role.

The State Department said its refusal of a visa was based on the ground that Chevalier's presence in this country is considered contrary to the best interests of the United States." He had been refused an entry permit in 1951 on the basis of his signature on a Communist - inspired Stockholm peace appeal.

There was no indication in a statement issued by Goetz that Chevalier would take any part, advisory or otherwise, in making the picture.

Letter Is 19 Years Late

SALEM, Va. (AP) — Mrs. R. L. Gibson received a card mailed 19 years before in the same city. An accompanying letter from the pst office said it was struck in a crevice of a machine which had been retired to the basement for some years. It was mailed Dec. 18, 1934.

MARILYN IN KOREA—Dressed in drab GI clothing, Marilyn Monroe lifts a heavy-footed boot as she climbs into a jeep in Korea for the first of 10 shows. Voters Get 4th Chance

Examination Waived on Auto Theft Charge

William R. Hoose, 22, of 561 S. Sanford St., waived examination on a stolen auto charge Wednesday when he appeared before Municipal Judge Odin H. Johnson.

Unable to furnish a $500 bond, he was returned to Oakland County Jail pending arraignment in Circuit Court Tuesday. He was arrested by Ferndale Patrolman Russell Rey, Sunday, while driving a car, owned by Wilford Liechty, of 67 Sheridan Ave.

Tickets His Own Auto

WINTER HAVEN, Fla. (AP)—Patrolman James O. Holly prided himself on his record of never tearing up a traffic ticket once he'd written it. On the day he resigned from the force, his last ticket was hung on his own car, illegally parked by his wife. He paid the fine.

Liberace's House Goes Pianoforte

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Well, you've never seen a house like Liberace's!

I had heard that the wavy-haired piano pounder of TV had a fabulous new home, but I had to see it to believe it. The place is located in a quiet residential area of the San Fernando Valley.

* * *

"I hunted for a long time for a house that would suit me," Liberace said. "But all the places I looked at fell short of what I wanted. So I decided I would have to build my own.

* * *

"When I first talked to the architect, he asked what I liked. I said I liked drama and comedy; I liked classical music, but I also liked jazz. I worked closely with him, sketching out things I wanted and picking out everything down to the hardware for the furniture.

"The result is what I wanted. It has drama, but there are also touches of humor. It is actualy a classical modern."

* * *

Lee (yes, he does have a first name) showed me around the place and I was immediately struck by the color scheme. "I wanted it done in black and white, and this worked in nicely with the charcoal shade that is so popular now," he remarked.

* * *

There are a few other bright colors, but nearly everything is black and white or shades thereof. Do you get it? The piano motif?

You can't miss it. When you walk in the black-and-white living room, the first sight is the immense piano, the longest made. I was told that this piano would be moved aside for another. The new one, just as gigantic, will have a plexiglass top. Thus the view of the pool will be unimpeded.

* * *

The swimming pool, you see, is also in the shape of a piano. Large black-and-white keys—88 of them—are painted at one end of the pool, giving the illusion of a huge, piano.

* * *

Back in the living room, your gaze falls on the large, glass-topped planter in the shape of a piano. On shelves about the fireplace were dozens of miniature pianos collected from all over the world.

We continued into the bedroom, which was dominated by a huge bed. On the cover was a large script L, entwined in a piano. To each side were lamps with bases of glass, on which were etched pianos.

* * *

The bathroom was done in mirror and black. Not a sign of a piano that I could see.

* * *

The rest of the house was equally dazzling: the piano bookends; the musical notes for andirons; the lyre-backed chairs in the dining room; the dresser knobs bearing the piano signature; the bar with spinet and Liberace's trophies. They were on the piano, of course. And don't forget the candelabra, and the mantle and hanging in the hall.

Somewhat dazzled, I made my leave, but not before signing the guest book. Uh-huh, it was shaped like a miniature piano.

1 Drowned, 1 Saved in Drainage Ditches

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

A two-year-old child drowned in a rain-swollen ditch in Washtenaw county Wednesday and alert neighbors rescued an infant girl from a similar fate in suburban Redford Township.

The victim was Felix Binion, of Augusta Township, Washtenaw County, who slipped unnoticed into a flooded drainage ditch while playing near his home.

The child was not missed until a playmate found a boot near the ditch and notified parents.

State Police found the child's body a quarter of a mile away, where it had washed in the fast moving stream.

More fortunate was tiny Ann Stroud, of Redford Township, whose plight was noticed by a neighbor woman, Mrs. Madonna Capps, 32.

She rushed to the ditch and dragged the child to safety.

Took Week to Discover Sundae Isn't Sunday

MADILL, Okla. (AP) — Lawrence Ables looked forward all week to eating Sunday breakfast at a cafe here because he heard a certain brand of preserves was served only on that day.

When he got his food, the preserves were missing and he asked for them.

"I waited all week because I was told those preserves were served only on Sundays," he told the waitress.

"That's right," she replied. "They're served only on sundaes."

Honey-Money Like Any, Difficult to Acquire

PINT BUSH, N. Y. (AP)—To get cash toward repairing the century-old Crawford Methodist Church here, it was decided to confiscate and sell the honey stored up by bees in five hives under the eaves of the church.

A night expedition resulted in the following casualties:

Burnet Decker, former Brooklyn policeman, was stung several times and Ira Jones did a jig for five minutes trying to get one insect out of his pants leg.

Group Wading Over Tax Items

Committee OKs Many Revisions Still Needing 3 More Votes

WASHINGTON—This year's tax law will be different. Republican leaders say that for the first time since the 1870s, Congress is reviewing in one piece the measure that brings in Uncle Sam's revenue.

A thousand-page draft is now before the House Ways and Means Committee, which is wading through the bill, item by item.

After approval by the committee, the measure would have to be passed by the House and Senate and signed by the President, before becoming law.

More than any other tax bill in decases this one reflects a consistent theory of taxation. That theory centers around the Republican Administration's two main principles of taxation. Both points were stressed recently by President Eisenhower.

1. Taxes should be lower. The President has said: "The objective will be to return to the people, to spend for themselves in their own way, the largest possible share of the money that the government has been spending for them."

2. Tax relief for business does the economy more good than other kinds of tax relief. President Eisenhower has described his proposals as "reducing the tax barriers to continued economic growth. The proposals will encourage the initiative and investment which stimulate production and productivity and create bigger payrolls and better jobs."

In presenting his 25 tax proposals, the President included a number of items of individual tax relief. He said "revision of the tax system is needed to make tax burdens fairer for millions of individual taxpayers."

Among proposals for tax relief of individuals, the largest of the items would afford progressive reduction, over a three-year period, of taxation of dividends received.

The biggest proposal for tax relief of corporations would permit faster tax write-offs of the cost of new plant and equipment. This is estimated, would reduce corporate income taxes by "more than $100 million."

But the Administration's two-point theory of taxation is not going to go through unchallenged. Following ar4 the two main counter arguments, replies from Administration spokesmen, and rebuttal of Administration critics.

First, critics of the Administration tax philosophy assert that wit 68 cents of every dollar spent by the government earmarked for national security, large tax cuts now would risk the country's safety.

Answering this, Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson insists that his new defense budget gives "more effective defense for less money." Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey adds that "our defense must be measured not by its cost but by its wisdom."

The second counter-argument to the administration tax theory is that tax relief for consumers is more stimulating to the econom than tax relief for investors.

Disagreeing, Secretary Humphrey, told the Joint Committee on the Economic Report; "the goose that lays the golden egg is production; payrolls make consumption; stop payrolls and you stop consumption automatically."

"PLANE" TO SEE—The modern "Aula Magna," main auditorium of Caracas, Venezuela's, University City, will be the site of 10th Inter-American Conference starting March 1. Constructed without any internal support, the 3000-seat auditorium gives all persons an unrestricted view of the stage. The speaker's voice is deflected by the hanging panels and is sent in equal volume to all parts of the auditorium. Each seat has a telephone, and the delegate merely dials the language he desires to get and almost instantly he hears a translation of the speaker's address.

Geologists Catalogue Two New Minerals

WASHINGTON (UP) — Two new minerals, probably among the rarest materials in the earth's crust, have been catalogued by the Smithsonian Institution scientists.

One, which has been named ordonezite, is a combinatio. of the elements zinc, antimony and oxygen. It occurs in minute glassy-brown crystals found in tin deposits in the Mexican province of Guanajuato.

A still rarer mineral is moseite, a combination of mercury, nitrogen, chlorine and water occurring in the form of small yellow crystals. According to institute geologists, it represents a combination of elements never before found in mineral form. It also was discovered in small amounts in Mexico.

There were 188,253 auto service stations in the U. S. in 1953 of which 177,923 were classified as separate and individual businesses.

Senate Passes 1st Money Bill

Name-Calling Session Precedes Vote on Bill for Welfare Grants

LANSING (UP) — The first appropriation bill of the 1954 session passed the Senate Wednesday amid Republican-Democratic catcalling.

The measure, which now goes to the House, is the $44,593,438 welfare grant, which includes $38 million for public assistance and direct relief.

Tempers got hot when Sen. Charles S. Blondy (D-Detroit) declared the chamber voted on appropriation bills without ever visiting the State institutions affected.

Sen. Leo Roy (R-Hancock) replied "I dislike some of the antics of Senator Blondy. Most of the Senators have visited our institutions and you know it."

Blondy erupted with accusations against the Girls Training School at Adrian.

He said he made a lone visit there recently and found "children" locked in cells, sleeping on mattresses on bare floors.

The Senate will vote today on a bill permitting judges to send probationers to special camps.

The chamber passed and sent to the House a law including hotels in a 1949 law forbidding "bottle clubs." These are establishments which sell "set ups" and ice to patrons who bring in their own liquor.

In the House, a bill met defeat providing a statewide curfew for minors. It lost by four votes.

The House approved and sent to the Senate a group of bills establishing procedures for organizing new building and loan and savings and loan associations and making it certain they are to be regulated by the State Department.

Suit All in the Family

HOUSTON, Tex. (UP)—Uncomfortable in a tight-fitting coat and pair of pants, District Judge A. C. Winborn phoned his wife and told her to call the cleaners and tell them they sent him the wrong suit. Mrs. Winborn called back to say, "You put on Bud's suit this morning." Bud is the judge's 15-year-old grandson.

Conference Undercurrent Has Been Red Commerce

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press Foreign News Editor

One little-noted side of the Big Four foreign ministers' conference in Berlin has been Russia's demand that the West drop its restrictions on trade with the Communist world.

Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotov's stand in Berlin has been a continuation of a campaign launched by Russia two years ago first to break the Allied blockade against shipment of strategic goods to the Reds, and second to woo away the United States' Allies with promises of vast profits to be made in trade with the East.

Since the death of Stalin and the rise of Premier Georgi Malenkov there also has been the rising conviction that Russia must vastly step up its imports from the West if it is to carry out promises of a higher standard of living at home.

In April, 1952, the Russians sponsored an international economic conference in Moscow at which they offered $7,500,000,000 to $10,000,000,000 in trade with the West over a two to three year period.

Primarily they wanted ships, machinery and tools.

At that time there had been no slow-down in the Communists' headlong rush toward industrialization.

Since then, with typical Communist ability to do a complete about-face and in an apparent attempt to popularize the Malenkov regime, the Kremlin has admitted it erred in industrializing at the expense of the peasant and even has encouraged a certain amount of private intiative in an attempt to step up food production.

At the same time, it has also admitted that in some respects Russian agriculture is in worse shape now than it was in 1914.

Hence, if it is to live up to its promises, it needs to import not only refrigerators but food to put into them.

The Russian drive to increase trade has been global.

In the last three months, the Russians have sold more than $100,000,000 in gold in Western Europe, most of which presumably is to purchase agricultural and consumers' goods.

Russian platinum and silver sales in the same period are estimated at around $25,000,000. In the past, incidentally, the Russians are said to have financed much of their espionage and political warfare campaigns with bar platinum because it is easy to ship.

Recently Russia has purchased quantities of meat in France, butter in Denmark and New Zealand and eggs in The Netherlands.

It has been buying wool in Australia and textiles from Belgium, France and Italy.

Besides the deals already mentioned, Russia has entered into trade pacts with India, Indonesia, Greece, some of the Latin American republics and only this week was disclosed to have offered to buy ships and industrial equipment from Canada.

A British trade delegation in Moscow has sent back glittering reports about the possibilities of Russian trade.

The Britons report that the Reds have offered more than $1,000,000,000 in trade, including a huge order for ships.

However, some of the cooler heads in British trade circles already are pointing out that all is not gold that glitters.

Russia's principal exports always have been grain and lumber but now she is running short. Greece and Sweden already have found out the Reds are long on promises but short on deliveries.

Bearly Broken Pane Covered by Policy

ROSEVILLE, Calif. (AP)—Ever hear of a hitchhiking bear?

Robert E. Lambridge, in filing an insurance claim for a broken window in his station wagon, related he was returning to California from Alaska when he stopped to fish. Then he resumed his journey.

"After several miles I happened to look in the rear view mirror and what I saw made my hair stand on end," he said.

"On the back seat and glaring at me viciously was a black bear which seemed as big as a mountain. I braked the car to a jolting stop and perhaps this saved me. The jolt startled the bear and he jumped out the window.

"The window was closed."

Ex-Resort Relegated to Big Goldfish Pond

SALISBURY, Md. (AP) — Last summer, Johnson's Lake here couldn't be used for swimming and boating because a dense marine vegetation had sprung up strangling the usefulness of the lake.

An investigation determined that the vegetation was elodea gigantica, the type commonly found in goldfish and marine gardens.

Duquesne (21-0) Faces Rough Part of Schedule

By RIP WATSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The easy sledding is over for Duquesne's talented basketball team in the Dukes' bid to go through the season undefeated.

Untested in collegiate play in two weeks, Duquesne romped to its 21st successive victory last night by walloping little Geneva 93-59. It was no challenge for the No. 1 team in the latest Associated Press poll as the regulars all hit in double figures.

Now, however, the Dukes go up against the meaty party of their schedule, starting next Monday against Bowling Green. Then in order will follow Cincinnati, Dayton, St. Bonaventure, Villanova and the National Invitation Tournament. If the Dukes can do it, they'll be the first team since Army in 1944 to go through without a loss.

• • •

Kentucky, the nation's only other undefeated team, also has a good chance to go through without a loss if they beat De Paul in the Chicago Stadium Saturday night. Kentucky, ranked second with 19 straight, has a routine date with Tennessee tonight and also must face Vanderbilt, Auburn and Alabama. If the Wildcats and Louisiana State tie for the Southeastern Conference title, as expected, they would play off for the championship.

• • •

Dayton walloped Cincinnati 91-66 last night and Villanova trimmed St. Bonaventure 79-64. Dayton, No. 17 team, ran its record to 21-5 as John Horan scored 26 points and Bill Uhl made 24.

Both the NIT and NCAA tournaments gained one team yesterday. Wichita, ranked 15th with a 22-3 record, joined Duquesne, Dayton, fourth-ranked Western Kentucky and Louisville in the NIT, and Seattle, No. 7 team, was named a Western "at large" team in the NCAA for the second straight year.

Louisville lived up to its NIT selection by whaling Kentucky Wesleyan 91-76 to make its record 19-6, and little St. Francis of Brooklyn enhanced its chances of an invitation by trimming City College 71-51. The Terriers now have 12 straight victories and a 19-3 mark.

The NIT suffered a blow, however, when President Max Farrington of the Southern Conference announced that the conference would not change its rule that the NCAA is the only postseason tournament for members. The NIT had hoped to land Furman, if they did not win the conference title, because of high-scoring Frank Selvy's gate appeal.

Only two other top-ranking teams were in action last night. Notre Dame, No. 6, fell behind Butler 11-2, but picked up by the quarter and won going away 81-56. Holy Cross, No. 9, romped to its ninth straight since a loss to Notre Dame in whipping St. Michael's of Vermont 89-67.

La Salle, No. 12, stopped Fordham 61-56 after leading all the way.

LIONS TRY CAGE GAME—A group of Detroit Lions football players have turned to the cage game in the off-season, and are now engaged in playing a series of exhibitions against local basketball squads in various state cities. The group comes to Pontiac Feb. 26, at PHS for a tilt with Chuck's Shack five, Class A City League team. Pontiac Park and Recreation Department will benefit by the show. Funds received will go towards sending city champions to the Class A State MRA tourney in Battle Creek. Lions' All-Stars play in Adrian tonight in a charity contest. Above are five members of the Lions' squad; from left, Charlie Ane (tackle), Jim Martin (guard), Dorne Dibble (end), Sonny Gandee (end) and Bud Erickson, publicity director for the Lions' Football Club.

Mal Not Rated Prospect for 4-Minute Mile

European Star Tells Whitfield to Stick to Shorter Specialty

BOSTON (AP)—With due modesty, Luxembourg's Olympic champion Josy Barthel regards himself as one of six 4-minute mile prospects throughout the world. But he does not consider Mal Whitfield in that exclusive group.

"Whitfield should stop dreaming about doing a four-minute mile. He has no chance at all," Barthel, a graduate student at Harvard, said yesterday.

Earlier this week, Whitfield told New York track writers that only Kansas' Wes Santee had a chance of beating him to the 4-minute mile next summer.

"Whitfield should stick to his shorter specialty," Barthel said.

Pride Is Drive Behind Yanks, Says Reynolds

Allie, Hamey to Talk Salary Again Today in New York

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP)—How do the fat and prosperious Yankees stay "hungry" enough to keep on winning baseball championships?

They don't, Allie Reynolds said today—it's not hunger that drives them on, but fierce pride.

• • •

"They thrive on the idea of being the best," the big Indian right-hander added.

• • •

It's probably the same stuff that keeps Allie himself on the firing line although he's now 36, relegated to relief chores and rolling in oil riches.

"Sure, it's true I don't need my baseball paycheck to keep me going," he said, "but this is the game I got my start in, and it's hard to break away.

"I know there was talk I might chuck it this year and devote myself to my oil business. But my oil business doesn't keep me tied down. So I want to keep playing baseball.

"I'll play as long as I can help the Yankees. When I can't, I'll quit—but you can bet this, I'll quit on top."

The Yankees are said to be offering the wealthy Cherokee no more than last year's $37,500, if that much. He is reported holding out for $40,000.

• • •

"That's another place pride enters in," he said. "There's very little difference in my demands and their offer. But I'm too proud to take less than I think I deserve. It's principle."

• • •

Reynolds, perennial World Series starter for the world champions and holder of a proud 7-2 record in Series play, had a 13-7 winning mark last year but his stout relief pitching is credited with bringing the Yankees their fifth straight pennant and world title.

Slade Bounces Back Into Ring Title Picture

Henry Beaten, Jimmy May Receive Shot at Archie Moore

"I out-maneuvered him," Slade said after scoring a surprising 10-round decision over Clarence Henry of Los Angeles in a nationally televised bout last night. Slade weighed 178½, Henry 186.

Jimmy's speed had Henry baffled through half the fight and then he added to Henry's confusion by rallying with telling blows every time it appeared he had been hurt himself.

"He only hurt me once, in the 9th," Slade said.

Slade, ranked 3rd among the light-heavyweights, gained a good deal of stature in upsetting Henry, who was being groomed as a possible challenger to heavyweight king Rocky Marciano.

"I was bothered because of a virus infection I had a month ago," he said. "I'd like to get another crack at Slade."

Henry was the superior puncher all the way last night, but he didn't have enough opportunities to connect for it to do him too much good. Slade was devastating in attacking the body from the inside and danced away from almost everything Henry could throw at him.

Ernie Confident

Durando Wants Kayo Victory in Friday Bout

NEW YORK (AP)—Ernie Durando has a simple philosophy about boxing.

"If I can catch and hit a guy, then I've got him."

Having caught and belted Rocky Castellani the last time, the Bayonne, N. J., Bruiser feels very confident that he can do it again Friday night in Madison Square Garden.

• • •

"I'm going to try and knock him out again," he said as he finished his training in Stillman's Gym. "I'd like to make it real sensational."

• • •

"That's okay with me. I'm the best underdog fighter you ever saw. I was an underdog against Castellani two years ago. I was a 4-1 underdog to Charley Humez in Paris last October and I knocked the Frenchman out in the sixth round. Any guy I can hit solid I can knock out."

It seems that the heavy-fisted Jerseyite has to stop 'em to win. He has won 38 of 55 fights with 15 losses and 2 draws. He has flattened 27 rivals, almost 50 per cent. But of the 28 fights that went the limit, his record is a poor 11-15-2.

GMC Quintet Wins 'A' Game on Foul Shots

Only two games were played Wednesday night in City Basketball League competition. Two other scheduled contests resulted in forfeitures.

Junior Elks Lodge No. 720 surpassed the 80-point mark for the 2nd straight game in blasting Lakesiders, 85-29, in Class D. Jimmy "Red" Taylor led scoring with 19 points, while teammate Willie DeWalt had 16.

Tonight's play matches GMC and Poole Lumber at 7 p.m. and Shaw's Jewelry against Wayne's Frosh in an exhibition at 8:30 p.m. Both games are in Pontiac High's gymnasium.

Illinois Prep Quintet Wins the Hard Way

Coach Elry Nickel of Bellflower High School thought his team had beaten Wapella High 62-61 Tuesday night. Nickel was feeling happy—with his 2nd victory in 20 games — until he checked his score book when he returned home.

"It was an honest victory this time," said Nickel.

Perva Defeats Mat Substitute

Warshawski Replaces Mystery Man in Show at Armory

Al Warshawski of Poland substituted for the Mystery Man in the feature match of last night's wrestling show at Pontiac Armory. The masked grappler was injured in an auto accident Tuesday night and was unable to appear.

Pro Grid Stars Come Here Feb. 26 in Basketball Tilt

Early in the season a group of Lions formed a basketball team and started a series of exhibition appearance about Michigan. They appeared at Port Huron recently. Tonight they're in Adrian for a charity affair. They come to Pontiac on Feb. 26, at Pontiac High School gymnasium.

The exhibition here will put the big Lions against one of the City League Class A leaders in a twin-bill. Shaw's Jewelers meet the University of Detroit freshmen in the 1st game. Chuck's Shack will oppose the erstwhile gridiron stars.

Pontiac's Parks and Recreation Department will share in the proceeds. Funds so received will help send a Pontiac Class A champion to the state championships last of March.

Members of the squad include Sherwin (Sonny) Gandee, Charlie Ane, Jim Martin, Ex-Spartan ace Dorne Dibble and the NFL club's publicity boss, Bud Erickson and Creekmur.

Tickets may be secured at the Parks and Recreation Department, or from managers of city league teams. They may also be had at PHS gym night of the exhibition.

Demaret, Harper Under Par in Practice Rounds for Texas Open

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Sub-par rounds were a dime a dozen today as a mighty field moved out in the first 18 holes of the $12,500 Texas Open.

A couple of old-timers—Jimmie Demaret and Chandler Harper yesterday fired nine-under-par 62's in final tuneup rounds.

Theirs were just a couple of blistering scores turned in over the 6,400-yard rolling layout with greens so good all the professionals were enthusiastic.

Demaret, who has finished 2nd three times in this event, might make it this time. Harper is dangerous on any course where putting is virtually the whole show.

Among the defending champions in the field of 139 pros and 18 amateurs are two-time winner, E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of Ardmore, Okla., (1939 and 1951), Dave Douglas of Grossinger, N. Y., (1949), Ed Oliver of Palm Springs, Fla., (1947); and Jack Burke, (1952).

Houtteman, Lopata, Littlefield Back Home

DETROIT (AP) — Three major leaguers from Detroit, two of them former Tiger Hurlers, returned from playing South American baseball this winter.

The former Detroit players, Art Houtteman, now with the Cleveland Indians, and Dick Littlefield of Baltimore, joined with Stan Lopata, Philadelphia Phils catcher, in the trek south this year.

Houtteman compiled a 6-6 record while playing with the Gavilenances in the Venezuelan League. Lopata and Littlefield played in the Cuban League.

Buckeye Tank Squad Bent on Revenge at MSC

EAST LANSING (UP) — Revenge-minded Ohio State swimmers will be out to swamp the only team to defeat them in dual meet competition in three years when the Buckeyes meet Michigan State Saturday in Jenison pool.

The Spartans, who upset Ohio State in a dual meet last year when the Buckeyes were without Ford Konno and Dick Cleveland, aren't likely to repeat the feat. Konno and Cleveland, NCAA distance and sprint champs, will be on hand Saturday and are expected to account for 1st in the 220, 440, 100 and 50 yard events.

Orange Star Follows in Coach's Footsteps

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Bruce Yancy, Syracuse University athletic stalwart is following in coach Roy Simmons' footsteps. Yancey is a star in football, boxing and lacrosse. His coach, Roy Simmons, played in the same three sports here 30 years ago.

MSC 5 Faces Indiana After 3 Straight Losses to Hoosier Quints

EAST LANSING (UP)—Michigan State, loser in three consecutive basketball games with Indiana, Notre Dame and Purdue, will be out to snap its "Hoosier" jinx in a return engagement against Indiana Saturday in Jenison fieldhouse.

After holding Indiana 33-33 at halftime in their earlier meeting, Michigan State came out on the short end of a 79-74 score and then went on to drop a 74-71 contest to Notre Dame and absorbed a 64-50 shellacking from a weak Purdue squad.

Indiana, sporting a 76.4-point per game average, will be led by the Big Ten's top scorer, center Don Schlundt, while the Spartans will rely on high-scoring forwards Julius McCoy and Al Ferrari.

Delsing Signs, Nine Tigers Out of Fold

Delsing, 28, who hit .288 for the Tigers last season, returned his signed 1954 contract to the Detroit front office Wednesday. His 1953 showing included 138 hits, 11 of them home runs.

Tigers still unsigned are pitchers Ralph Branca, Ned Garver, Ted Gray and Steve Gromek; catchers Matt Batts and Johnny Bucha, and infielders Fred Hatfield, Clarence Hicks and Johnny Pesky.

Monahan Leads Navy

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — A 192-pound halfback who led Navy's football forces in scoring last season will captain the 1954 Middie eleven.

He is Phil Monahan of Burlingame, Calif., who scored 30 points last season and 12 in 1952, including the touchdown that sank Army.

5,698 Arrests in '53 for Game Law Charges

LANSING (AP)—There were 5,968 arrests in 1953 for violation of fish and game laws, state conservation department reported today.

Violators paid a total of $90,402 in fines and $43,947 in costs.

Small game hunters were the most frequent offenders with 2,380 violations. Fishing law violations totaled 1,987 and 1,212 persons were arrested for deer hunting violations.

Answer Should Soon Come Concerning Baseball Ability of Minnesota Football Star, Paul Giel

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK—The answer will arrive soon concerning an old query—"How good is Paul Giel?" This doesn't mean Paul Giel, the Minnesota football player, but Paul Giel, the pitcher.

• • •

Around five years ago, an old Minnesota friend of mine, George Rodgers, wrote me about Paul. This was before he entered Minnesota. "He is the best young pitcher I ever saw," Rodgers wrote. "I think he has the chance to move into such fast company as Grover Cleveland Alexander and Christy Mathewson."

• • •

Rodgers also added that he had won five or six no-hit games, striking out 20 or 21 men. It was an incredible record. About that time at least two big-league teams had offered him $50,000 bonuses to sign.

• • •

But young Paul liked football better. He said he was going to Minnesota. He did. For three years he was practically the entire Gopher team. Bernie Bierman rates him one of the leading football stars of all time.

Weighing only 180 pounds, he was a spectacular passer, runner and just about everything else. He played several games when he was badly battered, but he went on just the same.

Ivy Williamson of Wisconsin rated him far up. I asked Williamson when he was at the Rose Bowl game why he was held to a 21-21 tie by Minnesota. "Did you ever see Giel play?" he asked. "You have a tough time holding Giel alone to 21 points."

Giel at the time took an unusual stand. "I am going to refuse all bonus offers," he said. "I'm going to give most of my time to football. I'll look to baseball later, but I'll graduate first."

• • •

Giel pitched for Minnesota and won several shutouts in the Big Ten. I read about one game he pitched against Michigan last spring. The first man up against him hit a home run. The next man up hit him for a triple, and it was the last hit of the game for Michigan. Giel won, 2-1.

• • •

It will be interesting to see just how Paul will make out this spring with Minnesota. It would be nothing short of a crime if he has hurt his arm, for in addition to being a fine young pitcher, he is also a great competitor and a most intelligent athlete.

• • •

I know more than one major-league club that is more than normally interested in signing him up. If his arm is right, you will soon see a very fine young pitcher.

Alma, Kazoo Win in MIAA

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The MIAA basketball conference had its ups and downs Wednesday night.

Albion was frustrated in a bid to move into a 2nd place tie with Hope, Underdog Alma did the frustrating with a decisive 86-75 victory over Albion.

Alma quintet came on with a 2nd half rush, hitting on over half its shots to overcome a 39-36 deficit at the half. Alma had six players in double figures in the scoring column topped by Bud Miller's 17 points.

Albion countered with Don Roe and Cedric Dempsey. Roe won high man honors with 27 points while Dempsey sank 26.

While Albion's hopes were on the downgrade, Kalamazoo pulled up into a tie for 5th place with Adrian by downing outmanned Hillsdale 86-74.

Manny Glasser took individual scoring honors for Kalamazoo with 22 points. Teammate Gary Morrison added another 20 while Hillsdale's high scorer was forward Roger Davis with 18 points.

Title Hopes Tested in Friday Contests

By JACK SAYLOR

Rohester, Farmington, Troy and Northville are title-minded as they await Friday night's prep basketball games.

Rochester's Falcons already have a piece of the Tri-County championship assured and can wrap up their 3rd straight title with a Friday victory at Oxford. Farmington in the Inter-Lakes, Troy in the Oakland B, and Northville in the Wayne-Oakand can clinch no worse than a tie in their respective leagues by winning.

Farmington meets Waterford. Troy goes to Madison and Northville is at Holly. Waterford upset the Falcons, 57-44, last month, but are apt to find the trick tough to accomplish at Farmington.

Troy and Northville, both on the rebound from Tuesday losses, are favored in their games. Troy dropped a double overtime decision to Southfield and Clarkston downed Northville in their most recent outings.

Berkley and Southfield, tied for 2nd in the Inter-Lakes, meet Friday with the survivor retaining a slim title chance. Clarkston and Milford still hope to gain at least a tie in the Wayne-Oakland. Clarkston plays cellar-dwelling Clarenceville and Milford is idle.

Elsewhere, Mayville can clinch the South Central "flag" by beating Imlay City and Brown City can assure itself a tie in the Southern Thumb with a win over Capac.

Two championships are already settled. Ferndale is king in the Eastern Michigan and St. Benedict topped OL St. Mary in a playoff for the Suburban Catholic crown.

With the SCL season ended, both the Eaglets and St. Michael have carded non-loop games. Shamrocks entertain St. Stanislaus tonight and Orchard Lake goes to St. Andrew Friday.

With only a week of the regular season left, the race for places among the top 10 individual scorers is heated. The 1st seven have their berths fairly well assured, but at least seven county cagers are in hot pursuit of the final three spots.

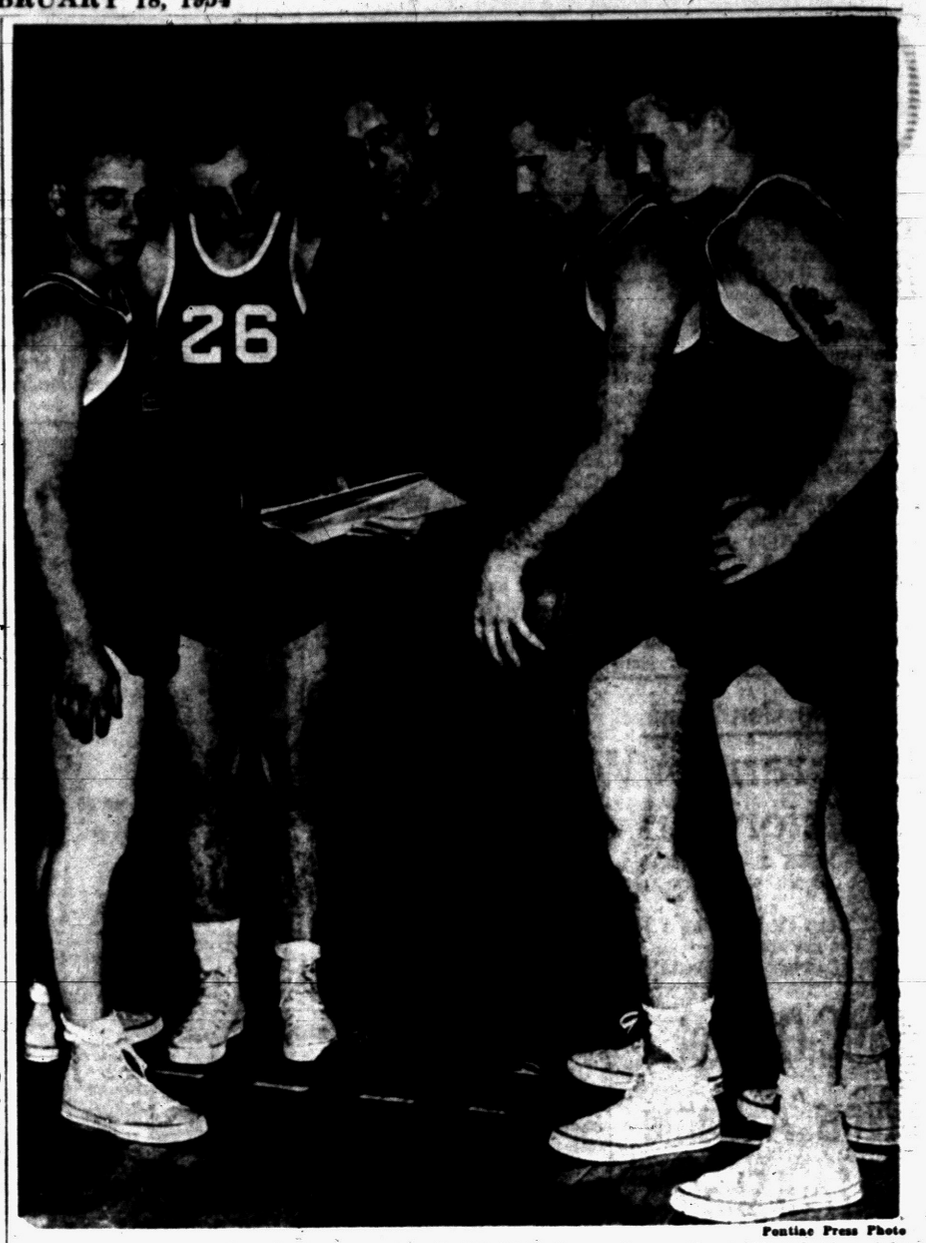

Rochester's Alan Stone, idle since Feb. 9, still holds a comfortable lead with his 23-point average on 299 points in 13 games. Mike DeKane of Troy is 48 points behind at 19.3 per game.

Don Williams of Walled Lake is 3rd, followed by Joe Mullen of St. James, Don Dorough of Birmingham, Larry Chaney of Hazel Park and Roger Nosek of St. Freds. Bob Jacober of Waterford vaulted into 8th on the strength of two 24-point performances to take an edge over Gene Stasialowicz of Orchard Lake and Berkley's Dick Radatz.

Jim Davidson of Milford, Jim Davis of Clawson, Bob Mills of Ortonville and Tom Turner of Ferndale all are very much in the running as the preps near the conclusion of pre-tournament play.

The leading scorers:

	G	PTS	AVG
Arlan Stone, Rochester	13	299	23.0
Mike DeKane, Troy	13	251	19.3

Lansing Five Takes Over Top Spot in 'C' Division

By LLOYD NORTHARD

DETROIT (UP) — Lansing St. Mary, four-time state champion, moved into 1st place today in Class C of the weekly United Press high school basketball ratings, 4th team to occupy the top spot in six weeks.

Mariette, Homer and Ontonagon previously held Class C lead but were quickly lowered from that lofty perch. Now, the once-beaten Lansing parochial school takes its turn, succeeding Ontonagon.

Highland Park, Holland Christian and Detroit All Saints retained 1st place in Classes A, B and D, respectively.

Ontonagon was not the only team to see its hopes for a perfect season ruined. Ferndale in Class A, Dundee in Class B, Highland Park St. Benedict and Caledonia in Class C and Atlanta in Class D all absorbed their initial losses.

Only a half dozen rated teams still boast unbeaten records. They are Highland Park, Lansing Sexton, Flint Tech, East Jackson, Grayling and Detroit All Saints.

Here are the Class A ratings:

Highland Park, Lansing Sexton, Saginaw High, Muskegon Heights, Flint Northern, Grand Rapids Christian, Kalamazoo, Traverse City, Ferndale and Grosse Pointe.

Game Officers Expected to Have All the Answers

MARQUETTE — Some hunters and fishermen take literally the belief that conservation officers have all the answers to hunting and fishing problems.

One such true believer wanted to know—at four in the morning—if it was too cold to go ice fishing.

Conservation officer Robert Timmer of Iron Mountain heard the angler's telephone query sleepily, padded over to check his window-thermometer, then reported it was 29 degrees below zero.

The angler decided that was cold enough. He dutifully thanked the officer and both promptly went back to bed.

Swimmers Washed Out

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (UP) — A swimming meet here had to be called off because of too much water. The Chattanooga and Nashville YMCA's were scheduled for a dual meet, but the Nashville team couldn't travel because of flooded highways.

Phillies, Ashburn Come to Terms on '54 Pact

NEW YORK (UP)—The Philadelphia Phillies, who are having trouble lining up their players for 1954, were feeling a lot better today after having come to terms with star outfielder Richie Ashburn.

Ashburn was forced to take a cut last season, but a club spokesman said yesterday the fleet flychaser got back that amount plus an increase for his .330 batting performance in 1953.

Detroit, Toronto Sextets Struggle to Scoreless Tie

Sawchuk, Lumley Trade Shutouts for 2nd Time This Season

TORONTO (UP)—League leading Detroit Red Wings and 2nd place Toronto fought to a scoreless tie in a National Hockey League game last night that turned out to be a battle of goalies.

The tie left the Wings still 10 points to the good in their try for another repeat performance at walking off with the league crown.

It was the 2nd time this year that Detroit goalie Terry Sawchuk and Maple Leafs netminder Harry Lumley have hooked up in a scoreless battle. First time was in a game at Detroit, Jan. 3.

Sawchuk, winner of the Vezina Trophy for the last two seasons, has recorded 11 shutouts this year. Lumley has only one less.

Wings swarmed all over the Toronto nets in the 1st period but failed to get the puck past Lumley's diving, flailing body on 17 shots. Wings had 33 shots on goal during the game.

It was Sawchuk's turn in the last period to show why he has won the trophy twice in succession. He turned back 13 Toronto scoring attempts for a total of 27 saves for the night.

New York Rangers whipped Boston Bruins 2-1 at Madison Square Garden to move to within three points of the 4th place Hub sextet.

U.S. Harriers 'Too Soft' for Good Job in Sweden

FALUN, Sweden (UP)—Coach Al Merrill called members of the U. S. Cross country team "too soft" today after the best showing any of them could make was 102nd place in the world championship 15-kilometer race.

American entrants finished far back not only in the gruelling 9.3-mile cross country race won by Veikko Hakulinen of Finland, but also in the Nordic combined competition won by Sveree Stenersen of Norway.

Robert Pidacks of Rumford, Me., made the best American showing in the cross country test Wednesday when he was clocked in one hour, seven minutes and 21 seconds to earn 102nd place. George Hovland of Duluth, Minn., finished in 104th place with a 1:07:42 clocking; Marvin Crawford of Steamboat Springs, Colo., wound up in 112th place with 1:08:44, and Crosby Perry-Smith, also of Steamboat Springs, finished 114th in 1:10:35.

Price and Mitchell to Help Each Other

WICHITA, Kan. (UP)—Most college football coaches prefer to keep each other in the dark on grid strategy. Not so with Eddie Price of the University of Texas and Jack Mitchell of the University of Whchita.

When Price's Longhorn squad turned out at Austin, Mitchell demonstrated strong points of the split-T formation offense. And when Wheatshocker gridders gather here later this spring, Price will be on the faculty to demonstrate line play—Texas style.

Birmingham Girl Sets Sights Upon Becoming 'Miss Michigan' This Year

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — A proud family doctor started a Bloomfield Hills beauty off on a career of winning "Miss So-and-So" titles when she was 3.

So says Mrs. John Susin, Orchard Ridge Rd., mother of Miss Oakland County. Miss Flint, Miss Berkley, Miss Young Republican of Oakland County. She is an ardent sports devotee.

Mrs. Susin does not have four daughters who have won such honors, only one — a 21 year old tall (5' 10") green-eyed ash blonde who picks up beauty contest titles like lint.

A title winner in a baby contest at Convention Hall in Detroit launched Dolores Susin, on a line which has parelleled her life through Birmingham schools and from which she graduated last year.

"Since then, people have been wanting to enter her in beauty contests — total strangers from all over the state," Mrs. Susin laughs.

Dolores, who works for an airline in Detroit, doesn't only win titles and occasional cups. Winner of a company contest, she's off the first of March on a trip to Lisbon, London, Paris and Rome for 15 days.

She plans to take part in the 1954 "Miss Michigan" contest in June at Muskegon.

Between work and contests, Dolores manages to wedge in language lessons, and swimming, skiing, skating, tennis and dancing in her spare time.

"But she can never tell when someone will call to say he has entered her in the Miss Something-Or-Other," her mother adds.

Chuck Davey Is Underdog to Art Aragon on Coast

LOS ANGELES (INS)—Television fight idol Chuck Davey, and Art (Golden Boy) Aragon, square off tonight in a 10-round non-televised fight at Los Angeles Olympic auditorium.

A capacity crowd of 10,400 is expected to see the battle between the two ranking welterweights with Aragon, who opened as a three to one favorite, now listed as two to one with the odds dropping.

A gross of around $60,000 is expected for the fight with both contestants assured of a sizable cut of the gate. Davey has a $12,500 guarantee. Aragon, with 30 per cent of the net, ought to fare even better.

Bombastic Aragon, who lost a close fight to Billy Graham last year but who has belted two opponents since then, is regarded the better puncher of the two.

Davey, former Michigan State college titleholder, is a proven stylist who can, when necessary, deliver a knockout punch. His record lists only three defeats in 44 fights, one to champ Kid Gavilan, others to a former sparring partner, Al Andrews.

Davey has impressed Southern California ring experts with his classy workouts since arriving in Los Angeles last week, and for this reason the odds have dropped.

Trabert Jumps Back to Tennis

NEW YORK (UP)—Tony Trabert, switching rapidly from one kind of court to another, heads one of the most brilliant fields ever assembled for the National Indoor Tennis Championships tonight when competition opens in men's singles.

Only Wednesday night, the crew-cutted Trabert played with the University of Cincinnati basketball team in a game against Dayton. At 8 p. m. today, he returns to the role of America's top tennis star to face 43-year-old Frank Shields of New York in an opening round test.

Trabert, national outdoor champion and mainstay of the United States Davis Cup team, (seeded 1st) is only one of six current champions included in the men's field of 32 entrants. Also competing are defending champion Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., Wimbledon champion Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, French indoor champion Budge Patty of New York, Danish champion Kurt Nielsen, and Swedish champion Sven Davidson.

Friday Battle Important One to Saginaw Five

Loss Here Could All but End Title Chance for Upstaters

By BILL MARTIN

Pontiac High's basketball Chiefs, buoyed by their upset victory over previously-undefeated Ferndale on Tuesday, swing back into Saginaw Valley Conference play here Friday against Saginaw in PHS final home tilt.

Trojans, boasting a 9-2 season's mark that includes a 60-50 win over Pontiac on the Saginaw floor, probably will be rated favorites despite Pontiac's impressive showing against the Railsplitters.

Friday's contest is the 1st of a series of four crucial league games for Saginaw. A loss here for the Trojans, now in 2nd place behind Flint Northern in Valley standings, would all but eliminate them for title contention.

Free-scoring Trojans have piled up 733 points in 11 starts this year for a lofty 66.6-point average. Coach Larry Laeding will probably stick with his usual starting lineup, with J. T. Landrum and Bob Maturen at forwards, Tom Hall at center and Sam Davis and John Langhorne at guards. All but Landrum are seniors.

Pontiac Coach Art Van Ryzin will start the same quintet that handed Ferndale its surprise setback Tuesday. John James, the team's leading scorer with 115 points in 11 games, and Walter King will go at forwards, Dick Blacklaw will start at center, and Walt Poe and Bob Johnston will handle backcourt duties.

A reserve game, scheduled for 6:30 p.m., will precede the varsity contest.

Top Milers to Meet at Penn

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — Pick of the world's distance runners has been invited to run in the Ben Franklin Mile event at the 60th annual Penn Relay Carnival April 23-24.

Penn athletic director Jerry Ford was dreaming of the 1st four-minute mile in history being run over the Franklin Field cinders when he announced yesterday the potential field for the event.

It would include Roger Bannister of England, 1952 winner of the event; Josey Barthel, Olympic 1,500 meter champion from Luxembourg; John Landy of Australia; Wes Santee, Kansas U.; Len Truex, last year's winner and former Ohio State runner; Fred Wilt, FBI miler, and Mal Whitfield, Olympic 800-meter champ who will be making his debut as a miler in the Ben Franklin feature.

Whitfield has already accepted and Truex, Santee, Wilt, and Barthel have indicated they will compete.

New Foes for Wolfpack

RALEIGH, N. C. (UP) — North Carolina State's 1954 football schedule includes four new opponents — Virginia Tech, Furman, Richmond and Maryland. Dropped from the schedule were Davidson, Army, Pittsburgh and George Washington.

The Wolfpack will take the field under a new head coach, Earle L. Edwards, former end coach at Michigan State. Edwards succeeds Horace Hendrickson who resigned.

Connie Mack Would Shift A's to Coast

Is Now Convinced That LA Should Have Major Loop Baseball Club

LOS ANGELES (UP) — Connie Mack, here to discuss plans for a movie of his colorful life, told reporters he would like to see the Athletics moved to Los Angeles.

"I love Philadelphia. It's my home. But I heartily am in favor of moving the Athletics to Los Angeles," the 91-year-old president of the Athletics said yesterday.

He declared it is increasingly difficult for more than one club to exist in the same city.

"I was always against entering Los Angeles or San Francisco because I thought it would break up the Coast League," said Mack. "But now I'm convinced that Los Angeles should be in our league before long."

Three studios are bidding for the script of Mack's life story. Jimmy Stewart and Jeff Chandler have been mentioned as possible "Mr. Macks" for the movie.

Milford Swamps Clarenceville 5

Stallsmith's 20 Points Pace Redskins to Easy Win in W-O Loop

Milford High School cagers hit a scorching 54 per cent of their shots in the 1st half to take a 42-18 lead and coast to a 69-27 Wayne-Oakland League victory over Clarenceville Wednesday night.

Victory kept Jack Menzie's Redskins right on the heels of league-leading Northville. Leaders have an 8-2 record with games to play against Holly and Keego Harbor.

Milford's mark is 8-3 with Clarkston yet to meet. Clarkston is 7-3 and plays Clarenceville in addition to Milford.

Bob Stallsmith led the Milford attack Wednesday with 20 points. Jim Davidson tossed in 13 and John Sherwood added 10. Nine Redskins shared in the point-getting.

In another Wednesday game Cranbrook lost to Patterson, 65-49.

SWC posted 2742 in the team event. In doubles, Genevieve Bradley and Sally Hoffman rolled 1074, Helen Achenbach and Linnea Nolan had 968 and Peggy Bender and Marie Serviea! registered 1116.

Singles scores include Genevieve Bradley 541, Sally Hoffman 553, Helen Achenbach 563, Linnea Nolan 599 and Peggy Bender 607. All scores include handicaps.

Caribou Are Plentiful, Increasing in Labrador

ST. JOHNS, Nfld. (UP)—Caribou are steadily increasing in Labrador, even though every hunter averaged at least two kills last year.

Local hunters say they never saw Caribou so plentiful. Some of the herds sighted along the coast had as many as 150 animals.

The odd note about the Caribou increase is that this animal was almost extinct in Labrador a few years ago when herds were slaughtered wholesale.

Racehorse Loves Eggs

MIAMI (UP) — Precious Stone, a race horse belonging to Harvey Frehauf, loves his eggs. He is fed four raw eggs daily at Hialeah race track in addition to his regular diet. Precious Stone eats them, shells and all.

Jenkins Keeps Skating Title

APPROACH—The number of steps in the approach should be determined by individual requirements, points out Marion Ladewig

Win by Akron Youth Runs U.S. String to Seven

Tenley Albright Takes Lead in Women's Test at Oslo

By AL ROSSELAND

OSLO, Norway (AP) — American domination of men's figure skating, ruled for 50 years by European skaters, appears safe as long as Hayes Alan Jenkins of Akron, Ohio, is available for Uncle Sam's team.

Jenkins, continuing a string of American successes started by the incomparable Dick Button in 1948, won the world figure skating championship yesterday for the 2nd straight time. Carrying on despite a fall on the snow-covered ice, Jenkins won with a brilliant display in the free skating competition.

His 2nd triumph, coupled with the five straight world titles won by Button, give the U.S. a seven-year sweep in the sports. Before Button broke the ice, European experts had dominated the competition since its inception in 1896.

Jenkins, 19, is only a junior at Colorado College and should be able to go for his 3rd straight year. Even if he doesn't, the U.S. has the next best skater in Jimmie Grogan of Colorado Springs, Colo., runner-up again this year to Jenkins.

Poor Grogan! He trailed Button for five years and then, when Button retired, along came Jenkins to keep him from the title.

The American contingent really dominated the skating yesterday as Tenley Albright of Boston took the lead in the women's division after six of the eight compulsory figures had been completed. Final two school figures were scheduled today and the free skating tomorrow.

The American coach, Austrian-born Eddie Scholan of Colorado Springs, saw his "boys" sweep four of the 1st five places as David Jenkins, 14-year-old brother of the champion, placed 4th and Ronald Robertson of Long Beach, Calif., was 5th.

Alain Giletti, 14-year-old French star who took third, was the only European in the 1st five.

'Fit Yourself to Approach' Marion Ladewig Suggests

By MARION LADEWIG

Third of a series

As in the stance, the number of steps in the approach should be determined by individual requirements.

I use a four-step approach, but do not believe that every bowler should do likewise.

I have seen people use from two to nine. Naturally, I don't believe anyone should use the extremes, but either a four-step or five-step approach can be used successfully by most bowlers.

Most stars use a four-step approach. I suggest you try that one first.

The final two are the longest. Those preceding the final two should be shorter, almost normal walking steps. If your final step and slide carries you across the foul line, you may be starting too far down the approach, or your steps might be too long. Move back a few inches.

Decide which suits your requirements — a four or five-step approach.

Then practice to develop timing.

Mitchell Is Second in Lifetime Mark

CLEVELAND (AP)—Dale Mitchell, hard-hitting outfielder for the Indians, holds the second best lifetime batting average in the American League. Dale owns a .315 mark for 956 games. The 32-year-old left-handed swinger has been with the Indians since 1946.

The top lifetime mark in the league, of course, belongs to Ted Williams of the Red Sox. His average is .348 in 1,464 games.

Night Game Specialist

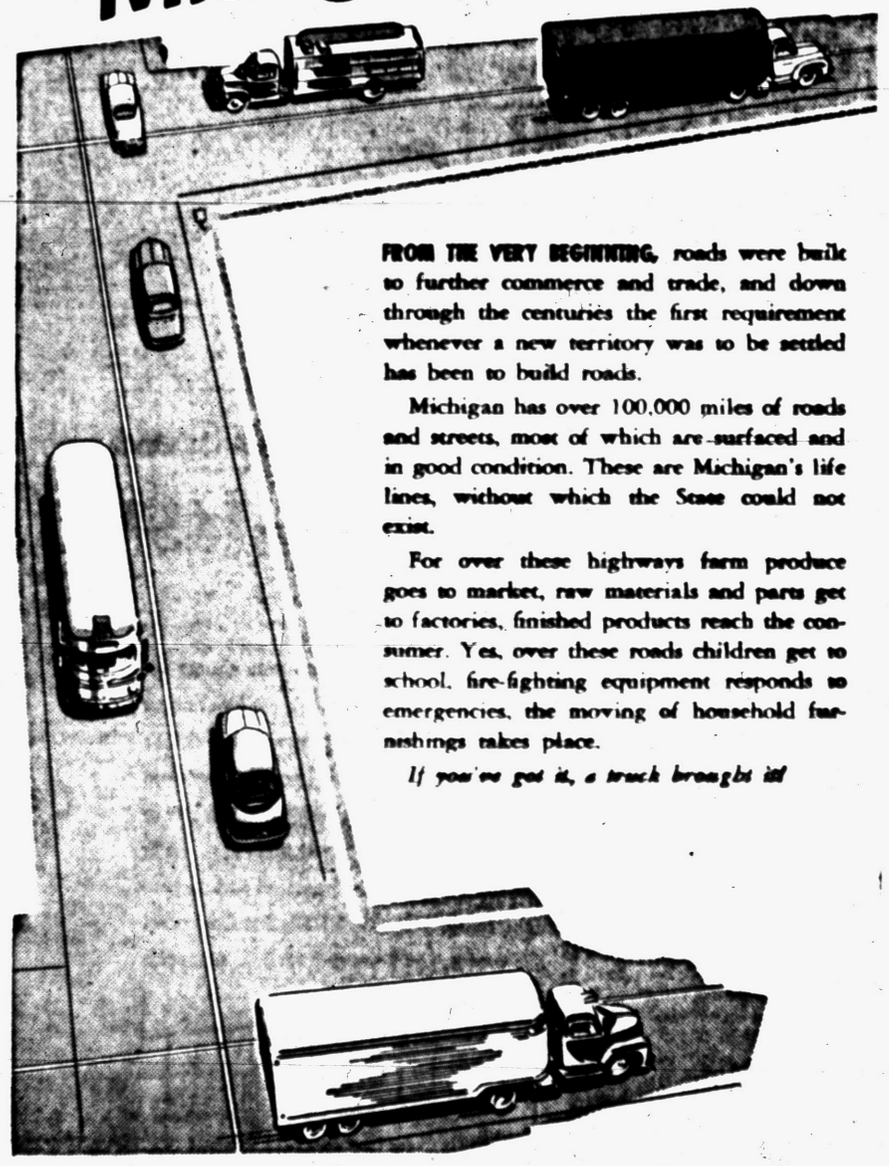

CLEVELAND (AP)—Joe Ginsberg, who divided his time in 1953 between the Cleveland Indians and the Detroit Tigers, did his best playing under the lights. Joe batted .414 in 27 games at night. In day games he hit a puny .196. His over-all season average was .290.

Michigan Life Lines!

FROM THE VERY BEGINNING, roads were built to further commerce and trade, and down through the centuries the first requirement whenever a new territory was to be settled has been to build roads.

Michigan has over 100,000 miles of roads and streets, most of which are surfaced and in good condition. These are Michigan's life lines, without which the State could not exist.

For over these highways farm produce goes to market, raw materials and parts get to factories, finished products reach the consumer. Yes, over these roads children get to school, fire-fighting equipment responds to emergencies, the moving of household furnishings takes place.

Quiet Mourners Suffer? Well, 'Tain't Always So

By BILLY ROSE

Sam Brennan, a stagehand or "grip" as he is called on the theater, is one of the ugliest men I know. His eyes are squinty, his big face is actually lopsided.

BILLY ROSE

On the other hand, Sam's brother, Barry is one of the most elegent gents I ever met up with. He is a lawyer and, judging by the importance of his clients, his "Noble Look" as Sam calls it, has influenced many a jury.

I first got to know Sam back in the '30s when I produced "Jumbo" at the Hippodrome, and I remember his telling me that he and his brother were contributing equal amounts each week to the support of his parents.

I learned later, however, that Sam took care of most of the extras — movie tickets, a turkey for Thanksgiving, and week ends in Atlantic City — although Barry was already earning five times as much as the stagehand.

Yet, while Sam's parents were plenty fond of him, it was the well-barbered Barry whom they were proud of.

About 10 years ago, Sam's father died and, as he recently told me, he and his brother met to decide where their mother would live. At the time, Sam was living in a walk-up in the Bronx and Barry in one of those Georgian brick houses in Westchester.

"I'd be glad to have Mother live with me," said Barry, looking his noblest, "but I don't think she'd be comfortable with servants waiting on her. Psychologically, it might be a bad move."

"You got a better idea?" said Sam.

"Perhaps a home for the elderly," said Barry. "She'd be looked after and be in the company of women her own age."

"Mama never liked old people," said Sam. "She likes young ones — especially her own kids."

So, as might be expected, Sam's mother moved in with him. And, as also might be expected, a few months later Barry stopped sending his half for her support.

When Sam beefed, the noble one said, "I only stopped because she's under your roof, and I thought you might be insulted."

"So insult me," said Sam. "Slap me in the face once a week with a check."

Last month Sam's mother died, and I met him a few nights back coming out of a stage door on Shubert Alley. He looked as bleak as 7 a. m. on Monday.

"Sorry to hear about your mother," I said. "Was she sick long?"

"Almost six months," said Sam. "I went into hock for doctors and nurses, but it didn't do no good."

"Didn't Barry help?"

The stagehand spit.

"I phoned him as soon as the old lady took sick, but he said she needed peace and quiet, and a visit from him might unsettle her. Unsettle her! All she did was talk about him day and night."

"You mean he never came around at all?"

"He finally made it," said Sam. "It was the day after she died. He said he'd be glad to split the funeral expenses, only he thought we should make it simple because Mama would have wanted a dignified funeral."

Sam said, "I didn't feel like arguing, so I went out and got her a box with silver handles. And when they buried her, I made a fool of myself by blubbering all over the place."

"How did Barry behave?"

"He just stood there, looking straight ahead," said Sam, "and never once reached for his handkerchief. And do you know, I heard someone whisper, 'It's the quiet ones who suffer the most!' "

"But there's one thing I can't forget," said Sam. "It's what Mama said the night she died. She took my hand and said—"

Commerce Up on Ohio River

Paddleboat Days Gone but 1952 Was Busiest for Tonnage

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UP)— Although the colorful packet days are gone and most of the old paddlewheel steamboats have disappeared, the Ohio River remains a bustling artery of commerce.

In fact, the river is staging a comeback as a transportation route, with an upsurge that made 1952 the busiest in history on the river, tonnage-wise.

Nowadays, the bulk of the tonnage is moved in long trains of steel barges, pushed by powerful and efficient-looking diesel-driven towboats. The boats are called towboats, even though they usually push rather than pull their barges.

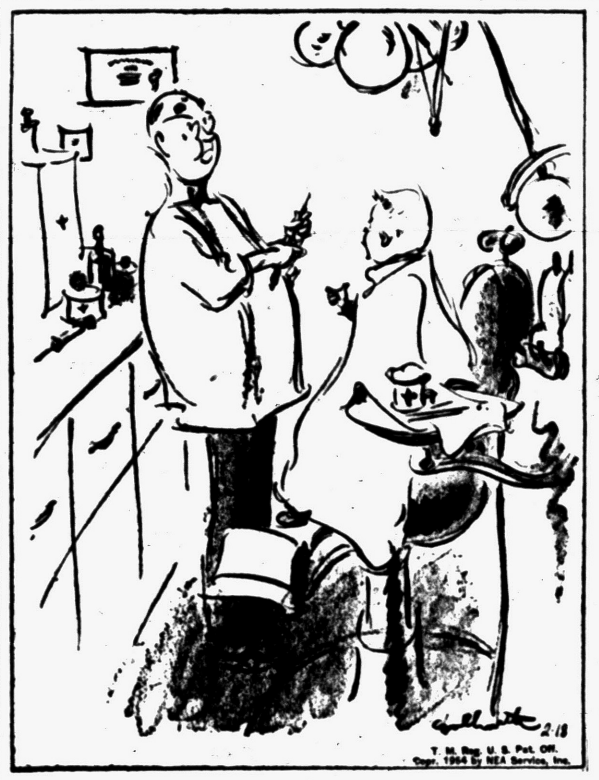

In 1952, 5,115,199 tons of cargo moved through the port of Louisville on the river, an increase of more than a million tons since 1950.

Oil and petroleum products account for a great deal of tonnage, but other commodities frequently carried on the Ohio are automobiles, steel and scrap iron, sugar, paper, fertilizers, phosphates, tractors, appliances, creosote, grain, whisky, cement, sulphur and lumber.

One company has developed a system to use the river as a key link in a north-south trucking system.

The trailer portions of heavy tractor - trailer rigs from the north are loaded on barges at Cincinnati in the evening and floated 100 miles down the river to Louisville overnight. Another tractor picks them up in the morning and proceeds south, cutting out a night of driving over a hilly and curving highway between the two cities.

Selling Barrage Hits Grain Mart

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain retreated under a barrage of selling orders on the board of trade today. Dealings were very active and losses never ran into impressive figures.

In soybeans there appeared to be a good deal of technical selling after yesterday's very sharp upturn. Wheat responded to a forecast for showers in the southwest. Cash corn receipts were fairly large at 120 cars and that depressed feed grains.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was unchanged to ⅞ cent lower, March $2.15½ corn ¼ to ½ lower, March $1.52¼, oats ¼ to ½ lower, March 77, rye unchanged to ⅜ lower, March $1.19, soybeans ½ to 2½ higher, March $3.29 and lard 3 to 17 cents a hundred pounds higher, March $16.90.

Police Arrest Driver After Two Crashes

A Pontiac motorist who, police say, was involved in two accidents in less than 10 minutes early today is being held in Oakland County Jail on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident.

Jesse Adler, 29, of 73 Burt Ave., is accused of colliding with the rear of a car operated by Erick R. Beitler, 22, of 32 Utica Rd., at Mt. Clemens St. and East Blvd.

Patrolmen Joseph Swift and Robert Hellner said Adler left the accident and drove to Montcalm St. and Edison Ave. where he struck another car in the rear, this one driven by Glen Shafter, 37, of 42 Hemingway, Lake Orion. Both cars Adler is accused of striking were halted for traffic lights.

Swift and Hellner arrested Adler at Pontiac General Hospital where the motorist was being treated for forehead cuts and bruises to both knees.

Detroit Builders Get Lakeside Homes Job

A low bid of $13,761 was received from the G & A Construction Co., of Detroit, for construction of a garage and play area at the Lakeside Homes, according to Roy B. MacAfee, executive director.

The work also will include improvement of some hot water radiators, MacAfee said, and construction of gutters for the present management maintenance and community buildings.

The final okay on the bid must come from the Public Housing Administration, MacAfee explained. The work should be completed about June, he added.

Detroit Juvenile Charged

A 16-year-old Detroiter is facing larceny charges after Oakland County Sheriff's deputies recovered a stolen outboard motor in his possession Wednesday.

The motor, valued at $350, was reported stolen Wednesday from Hook's Outboard Motor Sales, Pine Lake. Dets. Leo Hazen and Elliot Anderson arrested the youth after Hooks recalled talking to the youth about the motor last week.

Mart Stronger; Rails Do Well

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market displayed some improvement today in early dealings after a mixed opening.

Changes in price were a little broader than usual, covering around a point either way.

The aircrafts were somewhat depressed with Douglas off a point on top of its 3-point loss of yesterday after directors proposed a two-for-one stock split.

Among higher stocks were Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, New Haven Railroad, Westinghouse Electric, General Electric, American Tobacco, Liggett & Myers, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, and Radio Corp.

Yesterday's stock market was lower in the morning and then turned around with a show of strength and closed slightly higher.

School Board to Increase Steam Boiler Insurance

School treasurer Vernon M. Schiller said he'd found three water-heating boilers that weren't insured at all—"but they're covered now."

The board's decision came after the Pontiac Association of Insurance Agents suggested the board cover each low-pressure boiler with a $100,000 policy, instead of the present $30,000 one.

The association suggested a $200,000 policy for Pontiac High School, where three high-pressure boilers sit side by side, commenting that if one explodes, the others would be likely to go with it.

The school board approved hiring more crossing guards to help children across dangerous streets near city schools. Each school now has just one guard, on the average.

Mrs. Leah Herveat, a teacher injured while on playground duty some two weeks ago, won't have to use up her own sick leave to recover from the accident, the board decided. Members told Cox to supplement her workmen's compensation allowance while she recovers from bruises suffered when a romping dog knocked her off her feet on the Owen grounds.

Herbert Carter and Wesley Sibley, director and coordinator of the school system's veterans' institute, billed the board for $312.70 and $267 for surveying records for the U.S. Veterans' Administration. School treasurer Vernon Schiller explained the veterans' institute had closed this fall before the VA's request for a survey came through.

The board decided to ask Frank J. DuFrain, superintendent of schools, about the matter. DuFrain is now in Florida, recovering from a heart attack suffered earlier this winter.

Maestro Hires on 2nd Hearing

Girls Only 16 but Their Friendship Is as Close as Their Harmony

NEW YORK — It was just a year ago that Fred Waring auditioned his new Teen Trio—twins Jean and June Hendon, and Sandy Schneider—for the first time. They were excellent performers, he thought, but, because of their youth, the maestro sent them home.

Then last December, while the Pennsylvanians were touring the Midwest, Waring auditioned the girls again. This time he invited them to join his organization.

The twins are look-alikes, and Sandy, "the girl in the middle" is the same height, five-four-and-a-half. They have been singing together for five years—on radio shows and on the stage back home in Flint, Michigan.

Now 16, the girls are a featured attraction on television's "Fred Waring Show." They also have won the plaudits of concert audiences during several recent East Coast tours with the Pennsylvanians.

Maestro Waring refers to them as "the greatest girl singers I've heard since the Lane Sisters" (former Pennsylvanians who moved on to stardom in Hollywood). He has big plans for the trio.

Jean, by 10 minutes the older of the twins, sings "lead." June sings "baritone." Sandy, who is four months younger than the Hendon girls, sings "tenor." Their talent makes for "about as close harmony," comments one member of the Waring glee club, "as harmony can get."

The Teen Trio first appeared together at their grammar school graduation. After that they appeared in a regular radio series in Flint, and were featured regularly on local television and radio shows around Michigan.

Jean serves as "spokesman" for the Teen Trio. June is on the quiet side. Sandy is a bit shy. They live together with their chaperone in a residential hotel on the west side of New York's Central Park. Their friendship is as close as their harmony.

IT'S CONFUSING—Richard Denning and Barbara Britton who play husband and wife, Mr. and Mrs. North, on TV, run into complications because people think they are really married. Denning is married to former actress Evelyn Ankers and Barbara's husband is Dr. Eugene Czukor. Hotel clerks, in particular, are always puzzled when the two request separate rooms.

Ritchie to Testify in Own Behalf

Investigator Describes Witness as Pathological Liar

WINDSOR, Ont. (INS) — Ralph Winstead, investigator for the CIO-United Auto Workers Union, was to resume testimony today at hearings in Windsor, to extradite Reuther shooting witness Donald Ritchie.

In an unusual move, Ritchie, himself, was scheduled to take the stand before Essex County Judge Albert J. Gordon, as well as his common-law wife, Betty, with whom he fled from protective custody in Detroit after accusing four men of the 1948 shooting plot.

They may testify later this week or early next week.

The witness's wife will probably renew the charge that Wayne County Prosecutor Gerald K. O'Brien had advance knowledge that the UAW had promised to pay Ritchie $35,000 for his testimony.

Wednesday private investigator Sam Henderson admitted Ritchie was "not sober" the morning he made the formal confession to O'Brien. Defense Attorney Bernard Cohn also drew the statement from Henderson that Ritchie was "not a very reliable person." Canadian authorities have called him a pathological liar.

Henderson, once arrested for questioning in the case himself, was employed by the UAW to contact Ritchie.

State's Business Tax Works as Predicted

LANSING (UP) — Sen. George N. Higgins (R-Ferndale), Senate taxation chairman, reported Wednesday that collections under the State's new business receipts tax have totaled $14,400,000 since the measure became effective July 1, 1953.

Higgins predicted returns for the first six months of the tax would surpass $15,000,000.

The taxation chairman estimated that full year returns will approximate earlier predictions that the measure will yield $32,000,000 annually.

Man in Jail Remembers Wedding Anniversary

PITTSURGH (AP)—On his ninth wedding anniversary, the prisoner took his problem to the jailer, who went to the judge. Sure, said the judge, get the man's wife on the 'phone and read the loving message. It went this way:

"Happy greetings on this, our ninth anniversary. I am terribly lonely, as there are only eight lovely women with me. But don't worry, the tipstaff is watching me. Take the $20 out of my pants pocket and buy yourself something, if you haven't already done so. Happy anniversary."

Cleary Expected to Reveal Plans

Secretary of State May Seek GOP Nomination for Governor

LANSING (UP) — Michigan Republican leaders expect Secretary of State Owen J. Cleary to announce his candidacy for the GOP nomination for Governor Saturday.

Cleary will be guest of honor Saturday at a reception to be staged in Ypsilanti at Michigan state Normal's McKinny hall by Washtenaw County Republicans, and many believe the Secretary of State will select his home-town appearance to announce his campaign intentions.

Cleary has been urged to enter the gubernatorial race by many supporters throughout the state.

Other candidates already seeking the GOP nomination for governor are State Treasurer D Hale Brake, ex-Lt. Gov. Eugene C. Keyes, and State Sen. George N. Higgins.

Prior to his election as Secretary of State in 1952, Cleary served as Republican State Chairman and member of the State Liquor Control Commission.

Running for Fourth Time

JACKSON (AP) — City Commissioner Harold E Nichols has announced his fourth bid for election as County Sheriff. Nichols, a member of the old Michigan State Constabulary, made three unsuccessful bids for the post in the 1930s.

Germans Expect Good Wine Vintage

BINGEN, Germany (AP) — Germany's world - famous vineyards along the Rhine and Moselle rivers promise to produce their best vintage since 1921. Th egrapes were blessed by a long, dry, golden autumn, a combination of weather that makes wine and the hearts of winegrowers sing.

"You will see," say old-timers here, "that the year 1953 will go down in wine history."

The harvest, while long in quality, was short in quantity. Frosts last spring killed off two-thirds of the crop.

ROK Threatens to Block Indians

Provost Marshal Calls for Guarantee of Safety for 76 Korean PWs

SEOUL (AP)—South Korea's provost marshal declared today in the face of American warnings that he will block the departure of Indian troops unless India meets ROK conditions.

Lt. Gen. Won Yong Duk insisted that India guarantee the safety of 76 Korean War prisoners en route to India and warned, "I will carry out my plan if this assurance is not given."

"I could mobilize all patriotic Republic of Korea personnel, military and civilian," Won declared. "Many will volunteer."

• • •

The 76 Koreans, along with 12 Chinese POWs, asked to live in neutral nations and were sent to India until arrangements are completed.

Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor warned South Korea yesterday that his 8th Army will permit no interference with the departure of Indian troops which guarded unrepatriated war prisoners for about four months in the demilitarized zone.

And ROK Foreign Minister Pyun Yung Tai said his government would not revoke its pledge of safe passage for the Indians from the neutral zone to the port of Inchon.

The next group of Indian troops is scheduled to make the rail trip to Inchon tomorrow. An Indian spokesman said about 200 soldiers will travel along the usual route, which has been guarded by American tanks, machine gunners and infantry, plus ROK national police units.

South Korea's Defense Minister Sohn Won Il replied to Taylor's warning. He said the U. N. Command, in addition to being responsible for the Indians' safety, should be responsible for obtaining assurances of the prisoners' safety.

Sohn said the minimum assurances asked were that the men would not be sent to Communist countries, that they would not be a financial burden to South Korea if no neutral nation takes them.

Chaplin's Obligation and Assets Eyed

LOS ANGELES (AP)— Superior Court has been asked to require Comedian Charles Chaplin to post security to guarantee $100 weekly payments to support his daughter, Carol Ann Berry, 10, born to former actress Joan Berry.

In a motion made yesterday, attorney Joseph Scott said Chaplin, as a permanent resident of a foreign country "may attempt to remove all of his remaining assets from America," making enforcement of the support judgment impossible.

Scott explained that the news of Chaplin's wife, Oona O'Neil, deserting her American citizenship to become a British subject was "the last straw to satisfy us of our duty to the little girl."

The attorney asked that a receiver be appointed for Chaplin's remaining California assets until the actor posts security to guaraantee the payments. The court set March 16 for a hearing on the petition. The child attends a private boarding school here.

Oldest Fire Chief

EDENTON, N. C. (AP) — Capt. Dick Hall, 88, is belived to be the oldest active fire chief in America. He remembers when you had to pay to belong to the volunteer fire department, and when manpower supplied the horsepower in pulling the fire cart.

In 1954, the population of France was estimated at 42,995,000, an increase of 2,845,000 since 1946.
