Williams Captures Sixth Term, Potter Loses Senate Seat to Hart

New York Picks Rockefeller for New Governor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats surged in Tuesday's elections to their greatest control of Congress since New Deal days.

In the battles for state governorships, they smashed the Republican hold on California and made over-all gains.

But Gov. Averell Harriman, one of the party's national leaders, was chopped down in New York by Nelson Rockefeller, a rocketing new star for the GOP.

This outcome of the "battle of the millionaires" was the happiest spot in the picture for the Republicans. However, they also ousted the Democrats from state houses in Arizona, Oregon and Rhode Island while losing in California, Maryland, Nevada, Ohio, South Dakota and Wisconsin.

The Rockefeller victory plumped him into the GOP presidential picture for 1960. It beclouded, to some extent at least, the future of the No. 1 prospect for the GOP presidential nomination — Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

In California, too, the elections were fraught with possible portents for 1960. Sen. William F. Knowland, considered a potential contender for the GOP, went into sudden eclipse.

He lost a contest for governor

Broomfield Wins Seat in Congress

Oakland County voters yesterday restored Republican William S. Broomfield as their congressman in Washington.

Broomfield, incumbent from Royal Oak, defeated Pontiac Democrat Leslie H. Hudson, 101,061 to 90,547, in the major drawing card among county voters.

Both 36-year-old former state representatives engaged in a hammer-and-tongs campaign, which veteran observers predicted would result in the closest congressional battle in the county's history.

WILLIAM S. BROOMFIELD
(Returned to Congress)

This feeling was supported today by Broomfield who said the past campaign was "one of my toughest" in his 10 years as a public official.

Broomfield served six years as Royal Oak's state representative and two years as state senator from the county's 12th District.

"I am very grateful for my re-election in view of the national Democratic tide," Broomfield said this morning. "I believe it was a wonderful vote of confidence."

Hudson, a hardware and drug store owner in the city, served Pontiac as its representative in Lansing from 1954 through this year. He announced his candidacy

GOP Wins County Offices but Democrats Closing Gap

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

The Democratic production of "New Faces of 1958" will have to skip Oakland County for another two years.

Democrats failed again to place a person in any of the local county offices in yesterday's fall election. But they came close. The Republican margin of victory was one of the slimmest in many a county election, observers said.

The Oakland County Democratic Committee hasn't been able to put forth a candidate which could break the GOP stronghold on these offices since 1936.

Even yesterday's Democratic sweep in the state failed to do the trick for the six Democratic candidates for prosecutor, sheriff, clerk-register of deeds, treasurer, drain commissioner, or surveyor.

'Heir Apparent' Gets More Votes Than Governor

Defeated Rival Phones His Congratulations to Winner at 3:15 A.M.

DETROIT (AP) — Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart, whom political writers long have referred to as Gov. G. Mennen Williams' heir apparent in Michigan's Democratic party, outpolled "The Champ" in yesterday's balloting.

While Williams won a sixth term by rolling up 1,212,338 votes in the state's 5,158 precincts, Hart, unseating Republican U. S. Sen. Charles E. Potter, got 1,216,727.

When the telephone rang in Hart's Sheraton-Cadillac hotel suite at 3:15 a.m. and he learned Potter was on the line, the 45-year-old Hart silenced enthusiastic supporters celebrating victory.

He blushed as he picked up the phone, then he said:

"I know you're having difficulty making this call. For some time, I anticipated having to do the same thing. I naturally wanted to win — but yet I didn't want to beat anybody badly."

Before the call ended, Hart accepted Potter's offer to get together in the near future and prepare for "an orderly transition" of the Senate seat Jan. 1.

Then turning to his well-wishers, Hart silenced talk that he might still have his eye on the governor's chair if Williams' were to get either the Democratic presidential or vice presidential nomination in 1960.

"I have wanted very much to be senator," Hart said, "and I hope I can come back here at the end of my six-year term and present a record which you will think has been good."

County Dems Gain 1 Seat in Michigan Legislature

Democrats have brought about an even split of Oakland County's six seats in the Michigan House of Representatives with the election yesterday of three new representatives, while Republicans held onto the county's State Senate seat.

Incumbent Sen. L. Harvey Lodge, Waterford Township Republican, edged out his Democratic opponent for the 12th State Senate post, Leo P. Meagher, Farmington Township pharmacist, by 97,225 to 92,822.

Democrats captured Districts 2 (Pontiac), 4, and 6 in the Legislature, while Republicans returned incumbents to Districts 1 and 3, and voted in a new Republican, William Hayward of Royal Oak, to District 5.

During the last session of the Legislature, Republicans held four seats (Districts 1, 3, 4, 5) while Democrats occupied two seats (Districts 2 and 6).

When the gavel comes down on the 1959-60 session of the Legislature in January, Oakland County will be represented by:

District 1—Rep. Lloyd L. Anderson, incumbent Republican from Waterford Township. Anderson defeated Odin H. Johnson, 15,930 to 14,408.

Dems Trounce GOP, Sweep State Offices

Bagwell Cuts Margin of Victory Anticipated by Governor

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. Williams won a history-making sixth consecutive term and Democrats swept all over statewide offices in Tuesday's election, including Republican U.S. Sen. Charles E. Potter's.

The Democrats, in possibly their greatest Michigan triumph, also picked up one congressional seat and by adding six in the state house of representatives earned an even split there.

Williams achieved a feat unparalleled in any state when he whipped Republican Paul D. Bagwell by more than 139,000 votes.

But his victory margin disappointed his followers as much as it heartened Bagwell's. Williams won by 253,008 in 1954 and 290,313 in 1956. He had set out to better both marks.

With all of the state's 5,158 precincts reporting, the unofficial returns gave Williams a 1,212,338 to 1,072,725 lead over Bagwell, and Hart a 1,216,727 to 1,044,113 advantage over Potter.

Reversing the trend of the last five elections, all Williams' running mates defeated GOP rivals by larger margins than he rolled up over Bagwell.

The fact was a tribute mainly to two things:

The strenuous campaign waged by Bagwell, 45, a Michigan State University professor, and increasing Democratic organization strength.

In one of the most astonishing results, Secretary of State James M. Hare won a third term by swamping Republican Raymond A. Plank by nearly 300,000 votes.

Lieutenant Governor — With all of the state's 5,158 precincts reporting, State Sen. John B. Swanson, Democrat, 1,190,502, State Rep. Donald A. Brown, Republican, 1,031,953.

Attorney General — Democrat Paul Adams, 1,221,098; Jason L. Honigman, 1,006,524.

State Treasurer—Democrat Sanford A. Brown, 1,235,416; Republican Allan G. Weatherwax, 982,690.

Voters Decline Convention Call

Constitution Overhaul Defeated by 900,000 Unmarked Ballots

DETROIT (AP) — For the second time in 10 years, Michigan voters declined to order a special convention to overhaul the state's 1908 constitution.

Those who expressed themselves on the issue, both in Wayne County and outstate, heavily favored the convention call.

But it was beaten by the more than 900,000 voters who neglected to mark their constitution ballots one way or the other, thus in effect voting against the proposition.

To carry, it required a majority of all the approximately 2,250,000 votes cast at the election, or about 1,125,000.

However, returns from 4,812 of the state's 5,158 precincts gave the convention call 771,314 favorable votes, with 563,319 persons in opposition.

The proposition, supported by the League of Women Voters and other groups, was fought by the Michigan Farm Bureau and the AFL-CIO.

It appeared on the ballot this year under a self-executing clause in the constitution which automatically submits the question to a statewide referendum every 16 years.

for Oakland County's 18th Congressional seat in 1957.

"My opponent has won the right to represent Oakland County for two more years," Hudson said in a prepared statement. "For this I extend my congratulations."

"I also want to express my deepest thanks to all the people who voted for me and especially to those who worked so hard in my behalf during the campaign. They have done a tremendous job and I am very grateful."

During the 1956 presidential election, when Broomfield first sought election to Washington, he defeated Democrat Paul Sutton 141,058 to 107,609, a 33,449-vote margin.

Blustery Winds Spreading Into Midwest Today

By The Associated Press

Blustery winds which fanned a Pacific storm across the northern Rockies into the Plains states, dumping snow in northern areas, spread into the Midwest today.

Wet weather persisted in the Southeast states. Showers were in store during the day for most of the Eastern third of the nation and much of the Pacific Northwest.

Gusty, shifting winds up to 60 m.p.h. powered the storm through the northern and central Plains during the night. Ahead of the cool front, strong southerly winds increased through the mid-Mississippi Valley.

As the driving storm spread eastward, temperatures dropped rapidly as far south as northwestern Kansas. Winds with gusts of more than 85 m.p.h. lashed Wyoming and continued to whip up dust in western Nebraska and Kansas Tuesday night. Snowfalls ranging from 4 to 6 inches were reported in northern Montana.

District 4—James Clarkson, Detroit attorney and resident of Southfield, barely edged by his Republican opponent, Allen C. Ingle, 21,049 to 20,540.

District 5—William Hayward, former Royal Oak mayor and now a city commissioner, defeated Seymour V. Devereaux, Democratic candidate and a Royal Oak barber, 18,933 to 14,725.

District 6—Democrat John D. Hitchcock, Hazel Park salesman and unsuccessful candidate for the seat in 1956, accrued the second largest victory margin (10,427) as he beat Mrs. Dorothy M. Rowley, former Hazel Park newspaper woman, 17,278 to 6,851.

In the race for the senate seat, voters in the county gave Lodge, Pontiac attorney and former state representative from the city, 4,403 more votes than they gave Meagher.

Lodge, 55, thus won his second two-year term as the county's senator, as Meagher failed in his first political venture.

Meagher is 50 and has for the past 15 years operated a real estate business specializing in the sale of drug stores and general real estate.

Lodge represented Pontiac in the Legislature in 1947 and 1948 (the last time the city has had a Republican representative). He previously was prosecutor for Oakland County.

Two of last year's representatives, who declined re-election in favor of higher government positions, paved the way for the influx of four new faces among the ranks of Oakland lawmakers.

Leslie H. Hudson pulled out of the District 2 (Pontiac) seat to try for Congress. He found today that his old position didn't change political hands, with the election of Law.

Donald A. Brown, former District 5 representative, sought higher stakes too when he joined the Bagwell Republican ticket as candidate for lieutenant governor. District 5 stayed within the GOP grasp with the election of Hayward.

Both Hudson and Brown lost out in their attempts to win higher posts.

Also clearing the way for a new occupant in his old District 4 seat in Lansing was former Republican Rep. Theodore F. Hughes. Hughes, a Berkley attorney, briefly was candidate for county clerk, but dropped out of the race when supervisors merged this office with register of deeds.

The shift in District 4 represents the only readjustment in political lines of the county's six seats. Clarkson is a Democrat.

Hughes defeated Clarkson in 1956 by 7,000 votes for the District 4 position.

Still a Democratic stronghold is District 6, the heavily populated section of the county embracing Royal Oak Township, Ferndale, Hazel Park, and Madison Heights.

The appearance of Hitchcock, 56, as the state representative of these communities, was made possible when incumbent Democratic Rep. Walter T. McMahon was defeated by him in the August primary. McMahon, also of Hazel Park, had been representative since 1948.

This year's victory was sweet revenge for Hitchcock. McMahon edged him out two years ago in the primary by a little less than 200 votes.

Waterford Township Home Hit by Vandal

Two Waterford Township buildings were broken into last night.

A side door was broken down at a house owned by Basil Vernier of 4400 Lanette St. and overstuffed furniture slashed with an axe, Waterford police said. Feathers were strewn all over the house and dishes were smashed on the kitchen floor.

A cement block building owned by John Kent, 3590 Elizabeth Lake Rd., was broken into and an undetermined amount of change stolen from several vending machines.

Sixth Term Captured by Governor Williams

"proud" to have been the GOP standard bearer and saw omens of better things to come for the Republican party in Michigan.

Bagwell said the party had demonstrated fighting spirit in cutting down the opposition's victory margin and in resisting a national Democratic tide, and, that "this holds great promise for the future."

Bagwell said he presented his case as "fairly and ably" as he could and accepted the decision of the voters. He congratulated the governor on winning his unprecedented sixth term.

Williams' statement claiming victory had some bitter passages.

"The voters have repudiated the Republican Smear Michigan campaign and placed the blame for the recession and unemployment where it rightfully belongs," he said.

It belongs, he has repeatedly said, on President Eisenhower and policies of his Republican national administration.

"Here in Michigan, we can join together to repair the damage done to our public interest by the type of destructive campaign the Republicans waged," Williams said.

This clearly referred to Bagwell's contention that Williams, in his close alliance with Walter P. Reuther and the United Auto Workers has driven business out of the state and discouraged new industry and jobs from locating in the state.

Williams expressed gratification at Hart's victory and that of Democrat John G. O'Hara, Macomb County attorney who won the 7th District Congress seat now held by Rep. Robert J. McIntosh (R) of Port Huron.

In another major development, the electorate rejected calling a state constitutional convention when larger numbers of voters neglected to mark ballots on the proposition one way or the other, thereby in effect voting against a convention.

In ousting Potter, Williams and his Democratic forces completed a 100 per cent rout of Republicans from partisan offices filled by statewide election, other than six part time GOP-held positions on the governing bodies of the University of Michigan and MSU.

Ten years ago, before Williams was sworn in for his first term, Republicans occupied the eight state administrative board posts and both U.S. Senate seats.

The GOP held all 17 part time education positions on three statewide boards whose members are chosen at spring elections.

Democrats now have claimed four of the eight seats on the U. of M. Board of Regents, four of the six on the State Board of Agriculture, MSU governing body, and one of the three on the State Board of Education, which has supervision over four state-supported colleges and universities.

In addition, they have installed five party members on the technically non-partisan State Supreme Court, winning a majority on the eight-man body for the first time since the Civil War era.

In Tuesday's balloting, Williams ran as strong as ever in the Detroit-Wayne County Democratic stronghold, although his plurality was pared from that of 1954 and 1956 by the relatively light turnout.

He won Wayne County by 275,532 as against 382,500 in 1956 and 303,014 in 1954, but partially offsetting this was the loss of outstate to Bagwell by roughly 130,000.

The Williams-Bagwell pattern stood pretty well in the Hart-Potter contest, but five other victorious candidates came closer to holding their own outstate while sharing an advantage close on the heels of Williams in Wayne County.

County Offices Won by GOP; Dems Gain

Surveyor: Ralph A. Main (incumbent Republican) 97,469 to Robert J. Lowney's 92,243.

As can be seen, the Republican margins of victory range from Irons' 12,691 more votes than Hicks, who was seeking the sheriff's job for the fourth straight year, to the margin of 5,122 which put Sparks back as treasurer to begin his 14th consecutive term.

Comparable off-year election returns from 1954 show Irons sweeping over Hicks by 16,244 votes, while Sparks captured his 12th two-year term then by 11,085.

"Looks like we gained on the plurality," said a disappointed Carlos G. Richardson, county Democratic chairman, as he surveyed yesterday's returns.

Democrats had pegged this year as the year to place some Democratic faces in the courthouse and county office building. Richardson said he believed the "national trend against the Republican administration" in the country would carry local candidates to victory.

Keenest interest among the six local races centered for the office of prosecutor. Here Ziem, 42-year-old Pontiac attorney, bid for re-election to his fourth term, against the challenges of Lawson, 33-year-old Farmington Township justice of the peace.

Ziem walked away with the second largest GOP winning margin next to Irons'. This was 8,587.

Lawson, who claimed he wasn't criticizing his opponent, perked up his campaign for election several weeks ago by charging the county still had six unsolved murders. This, Lawson argued, might be because assistants in Ziem's office were being allowed to carry on their private law practices in addition to their regular county duties.

Ziem countered by listing the many hours of over-time which assistants recorded without being paid.

Contrary to what some expected, the Frank Kierdorf human torch case hardly was touched upon as a campaign issue between Ziem and Lawson.

In the battle for sheriff, Irons again proved to be the top vote getter among his fellow GOP candidates. This was true also in 1954 and 1956.

Hicks, 52, a Pontiac resident and salesman for a cigarette company, was attempting to keep Irons from his third term as head of the sheriff's office and county jail.

Irons, 59, spent 30 years with the Berkley police department, where he later became chief, before his election to sheriff in 1954. Hicks' police experience consisted of 21 years with the Pontiac police.

The election of Murphy to the job of clerk-register of deeds was historical, as the position was created in Oakland County for the first time in June. This happened when the Board of Supervisors decided to merge the offices of county clerk and register in the interests of efficiency.

Murphy, 35, of Pontiac, became register in 1956 upon the death of former register Orrin McQuaid. In November of the same year, Murphy, who had spent six years as chief deputy clerk, was elected to his first two-year term as register.

Falling under Murphy's second win yesterday was Kronenberg, a 35-year-old Royal Oak Democrat who occupies the position as head of the Berkley branch of the Secretary of State's office.

Benson, Democratic candidate for county treasurer, found it impossible to unseat Sparks, the veteran of county officeholders. Sparks, 66, of Waterford Township, was sworn in for his first term as treasurer in 1933.

Rice, a Troy drainage contractor, tasted defeat for the second time in his fight to win over the post of county drain commissioner. He lost to Barry in 1956 by 138,241 to 108,710, the heavier vote coming as the result of the election of the president in 1956.

Barry, 35, of Waterford Township, might find his second term as drain commissioner in jeopardy as supervisors have voted to consolidate his office with the Department of Public Works, if state legislation to make the change possible can be enacted next year in Lansing.

The drive for probably the least known of the six county positions—that of surveyor—was between a former drain commissioner from Birmingham and a retired Royal Oak architect.

Main, 54, of Birmingham, spent nearly six years as drain commissioner before his election to surveyor two years ago. Lowney, the loser for surveyor yesterday, is 65.

Former City Realtor Dies in Mississippi

Edwin S. Harger, a former realtor of Pontiac died Friday in Starkville, Miss. after a prolonged illness. He was 80.

Before moving to Mississippi in 1940, he was engaged in real estate here. He developed several subdivisions including Ottawa Hills and Pontiac Lake.

Surviving are his wife, Eunice; three sons, Edwin of Baltimore, Md., Stewart of Flint and Charles of Stockton, Calif.; a brother, Fred L. Harger of Pontiac; a sister Mrs. Ida Gould of Ortonville; and seven grandchildren.

Service and burial were in Starkville Monday.

Teamsters' Man Wins

DETROIT (AP) — Prosecutor Samuel H. Olsen, a Democrat criticized by both parties for accepting $11,000 in primary campaign contributions from the Teamsters Union, won re-election handily over Republican Robert L. Blinstrub. Olsen, 40, a bachelor and native of Denmark, was appointed after the death of Gerald K. O'Brien in September 1957.

Dems Win Big Edge in U.S. Congress

to Edmund G. (Pat) Brown. Brown's emphatic victory was sure to get him talked about for the big Democratic prize two years hence.

The election gave President Eisenhower a record he was far from desiring. He's the first president in history to be confronted by three congresses controlled by the opposite party.

Counting of the tide of votes — perhaps reaching 48 million or more — continued. A few races were still inconclusive.

SENATE: Democrats 61 or 62; Republicans 35 or 34.

The undecided Senate race was a nip-and-tuck battle in Wyoming where Republican Sen. Frank Barrett was opposed by Democrat Gale W. McGee.

The figures leave out of account the two senators Alaska will elect Nov. 25.

HOUSE: Democrats 284; Republicans 151. One additional House member will be named by Alaska.

The indicated Senate line-up is the most predominantly Democratic since the party elected 65 senators in 1940. That was the year Franklin D. Roosevelt won his third term.

The Democrats have not had so many House members since 1936 when they elected 333. The 1950 election put 267 Democrats in the House.

In the present Congress, which will give way in January to the newly elected one, the party division is Senate: Democrats 49, Republicans 47; House: Democrats 235, Republicans 200.

Tuesday's Democratic victories were not cut to any particular geographical pattern. In Connecticut, the Democrats grabbed everything, beating Republican Sen. William A. Purtell and six GOP House members.

In South Dakota, they elected the first Democratic governor in 22 years. And in usually GOP Nebraska they ousted two Republican House members, one of them Dr. A. L. Miller, who had held his seat for 16 years.

There were some indications of a flexing of union labor's political muscles in the outcome.

Labor compaigners made a big effort in Ohio, where Democrats took a Senate seat and the governorship from Republicans. They also battled hard in California against William F. Knowland, the former Senate Republican leader who bid unsuccessfully for his state's governorship.

In both of those states, there were referenda on the question of enacting state right-to-work laws. Unions were fighting these proposals which would bar requirement for union membership in order to hold a job.

The proposals were beaten in both states.

Such a proposition also was voted down in Washington, Colorado and Idaho but was approved by Kansas voters.

The election outcome seems to augur a bigger voice for labor union leaders in Democratic affairs and more powerful influence in the selection of the party's 1960 presidential candidate.

In the past, two labor favorites have been Gov. Harriman of New York, now defeated; and Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan.

At the moment, Williams is only another potential nominee in a big Democratic field that includes Sens. John Kennedy of Massachusetts, Stuart Symington of Missouri and Lyndon Johnson of Texas.

Labor union leaders happily anticipate greater influence too in the new Congress itself. Through the seniority system, Southern Democrats, who by and large are conservative, will hold to their committee chairmanships. But the increased northern Democratic membership will water down conservative strength.

Williams Hit at Home

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. G. Mennen Williams was defeated in his home precinct today in suburban Grosse Pointe. The vote was 273 to 156 in favor of Williams' Republican opponent Paul D. Bagwell.

The Day in Birmingham

Heavy Voting Marks Up Big Republican Plurality

BIRMINGHAM — Following the heavy voting trend throughout the country, 75 per cent of the registered voters in Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills and Bloomfield Township went to the polls yesterday, marking up a large Republican plurality.

In Birmingham and Bloomfield Township, Philip Hart led the Democratic party with 2,300 and 1,350 votes, respectively. His opponent, incumbent Senator Charles Potter, polled 7,708 votes in Birmingham and 6,046 in the township.

Top Democratic vote-getter in Bloomfield Hills was incumbent Secretary of State James M. Hare. He got 142 compared to the 831 received by his opponent, Raymond A. Plank.

Area churches under the sponsorship of the United Church Women of Birmingham will join in the observance of World Community Day at 10 a.m. Friday in Embury Methodist Church on 14-Mile Road.

Mrs. Max Williams of Royal Oak, a non-government observer at the United Nations, will moderate the morning panel discussion on world affairs.

Panelists will be Mrs. Charles Miller, widely-traveled Birmingham woman; Dr. Kenneth Neigh, executive of the United Presbyterian Church, U.S.A. Synod, and Miss Cecilia Gomez of Philippine Islands, teaching fellow at Wayne State Univrsity.

Mrs. Harold Van Dragt and Mrs. Ruth Norman, co-chairmen, said gifts of yarn and cloth will be distributed to refugees awaiting resettlement throughout the world.

Nominations for the December election of Metropolitan Club, Spirit 9 Auxiliary, will be made tonight when Mrs. Ralph Bell of 592 Chester St. opens her home for the 8 p.m. meeting.

Birmingham Chapter 220, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold its annual "Holiday Fair" at the Masonic Temple Saturday beginning at 10 a.m. In addition to the Christmas booth, a snack bar will be available from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Bloomfield Hills Board of Education has received a check for $300 from the Wing Lake Branch of the National Farm and Garden Club. The money will be used to landscape the court at the new junior high school.

Harry Klimushyn Jr.

Service for Harry Klimushyn Jr. 17, will be held at 9 a.m. Saturday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Klimushyn, 31555 Eastlady Dr., Southfield Township. Requiem Mass will be conducted at 9:30 a.m. at Holy Name Church, with burial in Holy Sepulcher Cemetery.

The youth died Monday afternoon at Old Grace Hospital, Detroit, following surgery for removal of a blood clot on his brain. He was injured in a scrub football game Sunday.

Oliver Lowe

Service for Oliver Lowe, 58, of Cohoctah, a former resident of Southfield Township, will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Bowles and Sons Funeral Home in Linden. Burial will be in Sanford Cemetery, Oak Grove.

Mr. Lowe died unexpectedly this morning at his home following a heart attack.

Hart Takes Senate Seat From Republican Potter

ing at factory gates at 5:45 a.m. yesterday and they didn't quit until dark. She shed her shoes as Potter's concession came through.

An early arrival for Hart's election party was Senator Patrick V. McNamara, whom the lieutenant-governor will join on the Democratic side of the senate next year.

What did Hart think of outpacing Williams in vote-getting appeal?

"All I can say is that I am happy he has won. Even if he won by one vote, it is historic that he has gained a sixth term."

Son of an Irish immigrant who became a small-town Pennsylvania banker and one of the town's few Democrats, Hart graduated from Georgetown University in 1934 and the University of Michigan Law School in 1937.

Hart campaigned mostly without bitterness, pitching his sales talk on foreign policy, world understanding and what he termed the failure of the Eisenhower administration to stem the recession.

But after Potter jibed at what he termed Hart's "millionaire wealth gained under the worst sweatshop conditions," Hart came swinging back hard. He termed the remark "an irresponsible smear in a desperate effort to rally a dying campaign."

Potter referred to Hart's marriage to the former Jane Briggs, a daughter of the late multi-millionaire Walter O. Briggs, founder of the Briggs Manufacturing Co. and owner until his death of the Detroit Tiger baseball team. Hart said his wife had contributed about $8,000 to his campaign and had personally piloted him around in campaign-hopping via helicopter. He described himself as personally considerably less than a millionaire.

Hart served as Michigan corporation and securities commissioner, director of the Michigan Office of Price Stabilization, U.S. District Attorney for Eastern Michigan and legal adviser to Gov. Williams before his election as lieutenant-governor in 1954. He won again in 1956.

Price May Drop on Men's Suits

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Production of next spring's and summer's suits and slacks for men gets under way in earnest this month on a hopeful note.

For the customers there is a chance that, with wholesale prices off about 5 per cent because of a drop in woolens and worsteds, retail prices may drop by $2.50 or $3 a suit.

For the makers of men's clothing there's a hope that the general business advance will bring with it a 10 per cent rise in unit sales from this year's disappointing totals. In the first nine months of the year the industry was operating at 65 per cent of capacity.

There are some 60 million males over 18 in the United States. In an average year they buy 20 million suits. Naturally, the industry thinks this is far too few and has a variety of campaigns under way to get father and son to spruce up. Some appeal directly to he women folk.

To pep up business the garment industries tries new fashions. Stress on the Ivy League style built it up to about 10 per cent of the market and influenced other styles by trimming down shoulder pads and slimming trouser legs.

This fall some suit cutters are trying a new style called the continental Look, which sees the Ivy League and raises it. The imported version shortens coats, pinches in waists, slants jacket pockets, and has even tighter trousers.

VARIED OUTLOOK — Weather maps below show the U.S. Weather Bureau's 30-day forecast for November. It is not a specific forecast in the usual sense, but an estimate of average temperatures and precipitation for the period.

Folks in the East, South and southern Rocky Mountain areas will find the weather colder than usual in November. But above normal temperatures are forecast for the northern half of the country from the Great Lakes west to the Pacific Coast and in the far Southwest.

Rainfall in November is expected to exceed normal in New England and in the Southwest. Near normal amounts are forecast along the East and West Coasts, in the East Gulf region and in the northern Rocky Mountain states. Elsewhere, below normal precipitation is indicated.

Election Calls Jam State Office Lines

LANSING (UPI) — The state department has reported its telephone lines were jammed yesterday with calls from citizens complaining about election procedurse of seeking information on their franchise.

Secretary of State James M. Hare said "about 85 per cent of the calls were from men and women who wanted to get accurate polling and procedural information."

He said the rest of the calls, mainly to the department's Lansing and Detroit offices, were from persons who wanted to report illegal or suspicious activities in their precincts.

"If we find willful violation of the election law we will prosecute, no matter who the person may be," Hare said.

He said his office has been conducting a statewide campaign to insure "an honest count in all 83 counties."

Robbery Suspect Blames Woes on Other 'Self'

DETROIT (AP) — A 20-year-old unemployed man who surrendered to police because "I'm afraid I'll kill somebody" was being questioned today about some 200 robberies he blamed on the other half of what he called his "Jekyll and Hyde" split personality.

Police said Virno Williams would be given a psychiatric examination.

Williams told detectives that his second self, called "Miles," had committed the crime. He was identified by one of his victims as the man who staged a $250 holdup of a market last Friday.

In New York They Shout:

'Rocky for President!'

NEW YORK (AP) — A fresh, vivid, vote-getting personality flashed across the political skies today, like another satellite shot into orbit, and in its wake arose a question:

Will Nelson Rockefeller, the new Republican star, be a contender for the presidential nomination in 1960?

He says not.

"Believe me, boys," he told persistent reporters Tuesday night when it appeared certain he would be elected governor of New York, "I haven't given a thought to 1960. I really am not interested."

But an hour or so later, after Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman had conceded, and a ballroom full of Republicans were going wild, people began yelling: "Rocky for president . . . Rockefeller in 1960."

To many Republicans, he has many assets. They say:

1. He is a liberal and now becomes the rallying point for that wing of the party which is, at best, lukewarm to Vice President Nixon, apparently the leading contender for the nomination at this point.

2. He would be more likely to exert a pull on the independent voter than Nixon, and less subject to partisan attack—provided he does a good job as governor of New York.

3. He has just discovered campaigning, and appears completly enthralled with it. "No matter what happens," he said, "I've had a wonderful time." (When he was shaking hands in a gasoline service station, his son Stephen said to a reporter, "Let's get out of here before he starts shaking hands with the gas pumps.")

4. He seems to have a natural gift for campaigning. Rockefeller is a political Perry Como, so relaxed he gives the impression that it is fun, not work. He has an engaging grin. He talks easily, and as long as anybody wants. "I like people," he says.

5. In all probability, his wife will be a great help to him, politically. She is tall, patrician in looks and manner, with a single streak of grey in her brown hair. While he was speaking Tuesday night—a sober little statement of thanks—tears glittered in her blue eyes.

Rockefeller urged her to step up to the microphones. She shook her head and took a step backward.

The platform, at that point, was so jammed with Rockefellers—his brothers, her brothers, wives and children—that nobody could move. But one woman did.

She was short, black-haired, wearing a flaming red dress. She leaped on the platform, embraced Rockefeller and smeared his cheek with a lipsticky kiss.

"Oh, Mr. Rockefeller," she said. "All the girls just love you."

Miners and Families Deserve Protection

Recent mine disasters again point up the perilous job that miners have. Living in this area, too often we do not give the men who work the mines a second thought.

Disasters such as struck Spring Hill, Nova Scotia, attract all of us as readers, but there it ends. It would certainly seem that the wives and children of these men deserve more consideration.

Only last Thursday 12 men were rescued from the fallen mine after spending six days of living death. A few days later seven more were discovered alive 13,000 feet below the ground. This was eight long days after the original disaster.

Calling this anything short of a miracle would be deviating from the truth. For us to offer a corrective measure as far afield as mining would be utter nonsense. But the cold fact remians, mine disasters are about as frequent today as ever before.

To us they verge on the barbaric. With all our modern methods, some practical solution should be devised to protect the miners and their families from this extraordinary ordeal.

Truly a heroic job was done by the rescue crews. Despite the amazing rescue, there are still 40 miners unaccounted for.

Miners are a proud lot. They have an unwritten code which says that after disasters, work does not stop until everyone is found, alive or dead.

This common devotion has been rewarded many times. But the men destined to work together under this code are entitled to a better break for their unselfish efforts.

Russia's Steel Output Challenging the West

Russia's steel industry which is about 40 per cent as large as this country's last year produced 56 million net tons of ingots and hopes to increase its capacity to 125 million tons by 1975.

This report was brought back by delegates of the American steel and iron ore industry who toured Russia earlier this year. Annual production of American steel totaled 140,742,570 net tons as of Jan. 1, 1958.

About 80 per cent of the Soviet's finished steel products is being used on state projects, particularly for industrial power, railroad and military requirements. However, any time Moscow wants to sell steel abroad, the government can slow industrial programs and take advantage of favorable trade deals.

Most of the Soviet effort, says Steel Facts writing on the delegates' report, is toward increased production of heavy steel used in construction. However, some attention now is being paid to light gauge steel largely used for consumer goods.

The delegates found that quality of most products and industrial safety were far below American standards. While there are labor unions, the report points out that their only function seems to be to spur members to increased output. In theory a union can call a strike, but the Americans were told there are no strikes in the USSR.

In discussing worker incentives the delegates were informed that as an aid to maximum personal co-operation the plant director has an annual bonus fund for workers in addition to all other bonus sources. He may use 60 per cent of it for awards to anyone he pleases. The other 40 per cent goes into projects of prime interest to the union such as improving or enlarging some of the quarters used as social centers.

With known iron ore reserves of at least 52 billion metric tons, possibly more than any other country in the world, with vastly increased production and with foreign trade a state monopoly, Russia is challenging the free world.

The Man About Town

Northwest Corner

That's Where Bill Broomfield Made His Best Run

Nov. 5: When the "I-told-you-sos" hold revelry.

The new City of Wixom beat out Holly and Rose Townships by a narrow margin in getting its election returns into The Press office. All three were completed about nine o'clock. In the August primary election Holly and Rose took the honors among Oakland County's 295 precincts.

Among those at the other end of the line was another township up in the northwest corner of the county. It was Groveland, where voting still is done by ballot.

Also it was in that northwest corner where Congressman made his best run. His vote more than doubled that of his opponent in Rose, and it was almost as good in other parts of that area. In Holly it was 710 to 513; Groveland, 222 to 142, and Springfield, 419 to 270.

William S. Broomfield

of Birmingham, weighed 22 pounds.

A challenge comes to me from Tuscola County, where

of Vassar had a potato yield of 786 bushels per acre, and claim no other reader of this column can beat that. They were the Sebago variety.

Nationally sponsored TV programs have decreased from 102 to a lowly 10 in five years. And seven of those 10 are bound for the garbage can, if we're any judge. Outside of that grand triumvirate, the others only have an occasional worthwhile program or are a perpetual pain in the neck.

The whole situation is summed up in a phone call from

of Rochester, who says: "Isn't it grand to live under conditions where everything gets normal on the day after election?"

Quite in agreement am I with of Drayton Plains, who asserts that the most forlorn thing in the world is a defeated candidate's billboard on the day after the election.

David Lawrence Says:

South Wins the Elections for Dems

WASHINGTON — The final tally of the results of the elections for 435 districts of the House and a third of the Senate seats will not itself tell the real story. To be realistic it should be entitled: "The South wins again."

LAWRENCE

It so happens that in the North, East and West the Republican and Democratic Parties have for years been fighting an even-up battle with one side or the other getting a narrow margin of victory in the total vote.

But the South, which hasn't even named opposition party candidates for 85 out of its 100 seats, elects its candidates regularly on the Democratic ticket.

From this all-important group come the principal chairmanships of the committees of Congress under what is known as the seniority system—length of service. A chairman of a committee often has the power to sidetrack or kill legislation or to press it to passage.

The box score of the elections this week will be misleading because the label "Democrat" means one thing in the sections outside the South and something else in the South.

Although the South is much criticized these days for allegedly being backward on "civil rights" and for insisting on a continuance of past decisions of the Supreme Court on states' rights, it is the members from the South who will run the Congress that meets in January.

It will take several days to get the exact tabulation of the way all the congressional districts voted as well as the total vote by the different regions of the country.

But the Republicans barely won control of Congress in 1952 when they polled 56.4 per cent of the vote outside the South. In 1956, although receiving 52.2 per cent of the total vote cast outside the South for their candidates for the House, the Republicans lost control of Congress.

Applying the same calculation to the voting this week, one can tell what this means by selecting any of the advance appraisals made by the political leaders of both sides and the newsmen.

The largest claim was that the Democrats would gain 47 seats, thus giving them a total of 282 seats in the House.

But of these only 150 are in districts that are outside the South or in those districts of the border states which have always sided with the South.

The Republicans would then wind up with 153 seats. Thus, the score in the North, East and West plus six in the South would total 153 to 150 in favor of the Republicans.

The medium prediction of a Democratic gain of 30 seats assumed a 265 voting strength for the Democrats. Subtracting the 130 Democrats from the South and border states, the Democrats would then have only 135 seats in the North, East and West as compared with 170 for the Republicans.

In the Senate the same situation obtains. The largest claim of a 12-seat gain for the Democrats would mean a total of 61 but of these, 22 are from the South leaving 39 from the North, East and West and border states as compared with 35 Republicans from those same sections.

The medium prediction of eight seats gained for the Democrats in the Senate would make the Democratic Party total 57. But subtracting the 22 Southern Democrats, the tally for the North, East and West becomes 35 Democrats and 39 Republicans.

The fact that there were practically no Republican candidates nominated for Congress in any of the Southern states is not often taken into account when the results are generalized.

Southern members of Congress have joined again and again with northern conservative Republicans to adopt conservative measures where economic questions were at stake.

So the new Congress will be conservative or non-radical, whichever term may be chosen to describe the underlying philosophy of the southern members who hold the balance of power.

Thus it is that the people of a region who are maligned much of the time as "lawless" and "instigators of violence" happen nevertheless to be embraced on election day as brethren when political expediency is uppermost in the minds of the members of the so-called "liberal" wing of the Democratic Party.

The Country Parson

"We welcome God in our lives like a visitor in the living room —but we don't want Him snooping around in the rest of the house."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Nurse Has No Authority to Advocate Tonsillectomy

"One morning at the beginning of the school term I was about to start our first-grade singing lesson, when the school nurse came in to examine the children's throats. As the children filed past one by one the nurse looked at their throats, and told nearly every one to have the tonsils out. I was horrified. (O.J.A.)"

DR. BRADY

I am not so horrified as I am angry to learn that such malpractice is still perpetrated by public school authorities.

I hope the parents of those first grade children have enough self-respect and gumption to put a stop to such monkey business in the public schools. Under no circumstances is a nurse qualified to determine by examination whether a child should be subjected to tonsillectomy.

The incident reminds me of one I have mentioned here more than once. It was recorded in the New York State Journal of Medicine, the official organ of the N.Y. State Medical Society, by Dr. Wm. E. Barron, who was school physician in the village of Addison.

In his winter or spring examination of the school children, Dr. Barron found many had enlarged tonsils and he advised removal of the tonsils in such cases.

But the following autumn when school opened again the doctor re-examined the same children and found none of them had enlarged tonsils, nor had they been subjected to tonsillectomy. He could only conclude that two or three months of fresh air, sunshine and near-nudity (vacation) is good treatment for children with enlarged tonsils.

The school or health board that authorized the nurse to invade the schoolroom and brush aside the teacher finds from such a test just how far the board can go without arousing popular indignation and getting kicked out of office.

Millions of employes of industrial companies have to accept the services of uniformed nurses in lieu of medical care. So do patients who drop in at smartly appointed "clinic" for a "shot" by the nurse whenever they feel the need of a lift. They think there is $5 worth of magic in 5 cents worth of vitamins taken by needle instead of by mouth.

A medical acquaintance argues that, even though vitamins have no greater effect thus administered than they have in food or food supplements, patients nevertheless believe "shots" are more effective and hence derive as much benefit from 15 cents worth of B1 or B12 in a $5 injection as they would from a $20 or $30 seance with a psychiatrist. That stopped me, and I'm still looking for a yahbut.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Gives 10 Rules for Marital Success

Evelyn made a desperate effort to change her behavior, for her husband had threatened divorce. Her compulsion for a clandestine "affair" was based on a false notion. And the 10 Rules for Happy Marriage listed below helped get her on the right track, after 15 years of unsound marriage.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE Z-363: Evelyn Q., aged 37, is the erring wife mentioned yesterday who patronized a tavern about once per month so she could have a clandestine "affair."

"Dr. Crane, I know my husband plans to divorce me this time," she added, "but I really love my children and am very fond of him, too.

DR. CRANE

"So how can I get over this compulsion to visit a tavern about once per month and have an affair?"

MARRIAGE RULES

Marriage is like baseball in that it has precise rules by which the game is to be played.

Our patient Divorce Court Judges act as the referees when marital partners similarly try to violate the rules of modern matrimony.

And here are the basic rules. If you wish to stay happily married through your Golden Wedding Day, then you better heed them from the first day of your honeymoon:

(1) Become active together in the same church, starting with your very first Sunday on the honeymoon.

For church folks are not likely to encourage you and your wife to get drunk. Nor do they often make passes at other men's wives even at church social affairs.

(2) Beware of excessive fondness for Country Clubs and other social organizations OUTSIDE the church.

This may sound old-fashioned to some of you so-called sophisticates, but the amount of drinking, gambling and seduction of other men's wives is astounding among the Country Club Set.

(3) Keep liquor out of your house. For when you start serving cocktails, you simply place the seal of approval on alcoholism in the eyes of your children.

"Papa drinks!" they will argue, or "Mamma serves highballs," they will justify their drunken driving later on.

When you parents try to justify your use of liquor by saying you are only social drinkers, you aren't kidding youngsters.

For children figure that liquor is liquor, and they don't make much distinction between "social" drinkers vs. the "binge" variety.

(4) Start your family within the first two years of marriage. Have the children preferably in pairs, spaced within 18 to 24 months of each other so they can be pals and playmates.

And look after your own youngsters most of the time, unless you are a widowed mother who MUST work. Quit farming them out to maids and other paid caretakers.

(5) Pay a sincere compliment to your mate at least once per day.

(6) Go out on a date together at least once per week, as to a movie.

(7) Learn the proper sexual technique for happy marriage, for Nature did not create the male and female to satisfy each other in the erotic realm without a collateral technique devised by man's superior brain.

In short, the two sexes are NOT anatomically created to be satisfactory partners in the marriage relation.

(8) Get rid of your unsound complexes, sexual and otherwise, such as Evelyn's false notion that a woman is "on the shelf" after the menopause.

(9) Operate your home on a strict budget.

(10) Cultivate mutual hobbies, like gardening, bird watching, prize contesting, Young People's work, etc.

Grammar of Announcer Is Too Much for Viewer

I'm indeed incensed, even shocked, even chagrined. I couldn't believe my ears. After watching and listening to the Lions-'49er football game Sunday, I shan't quibble about forecasting game results. But you must have heard the great football player, former Lion great and now radio and TV commentator, Leon Hart, when he endeavored to explain the free kick the '49ers attempted.

Along with several minor errors in word usage and grammar, he really tarnished the golden domes of his alma mater, Notre Dame, when he said, not just once, but three times, "If the ball would-a-went between the goal posts, it would-a counted three points."

Of the many thousands of teachers and professors who heard, think how they must feel, not to mention those of us who use and appreciate hearing good grammar. Out of respect for good English, I felt duty-bound to turn off the TV set. By the way, who did win the game?

I Try to Be Correct

Gives Own Answer to Crane Article

After reading Dr. Crane's ideas of what will happen five minutes after death, I'd like to express my views. Everyone desires to make heaven his home, and we must prepare for it this side of the grave. There's no other chance after death.

The Bible says, "All have sinned and come short of the glory of God," Rom. 3:23. God has prepared a way by which we may get there through His Son's death on the cross, where He paid the penalty for the sins of the whole world, (John 3:16) Jesus said in John 3: "Ye must be born again," and in John 14:6, "I am the way, the truth and the life. No man cometh unto the Father but by me."

John 1:12 says, "As many as received Him to them gave He power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on His name." If we realize our own sins and put our trust in Jesus, he will help us, save us, and keep us from eternal abode of Hell, "where the fire is not quenched" and "the worm dieth not," and will take us to a beautiful heaven, five minutes after we die.

'Is This the Way to Attract Dads?

"How can we get more fathers out to PTA?" is a familiar cry, but what I'm wondering is how am I going to get my husband to stay away. As a new officer in PTA I was shocked to see three leading PTA women of our school dressed in such low cut dresses that they were generously exposed at our meeting in October.

If my husband had been there and had not been shocked, then I would have seen he stayed home next time.

Asks Information From United Fund

The United Fund is no doubt a very helpful and worthy fund, but I'd like to see a complete list of all the organizations or societies the money goes to, and also a complete accounting of the money at the end of the drive. Don't we as citizens have a right to know where our contributions are spent?

Citizen

(Editor's Note: The complete list of United Fund agencies was published in the Oct. 20 issue of The Pontiac Press.)

Wants United States to Drop Out of U.N.

Likely only one-quarter of Americans are aware that the U.N. is a foreign nation or government, constitutionally responsible only to the rule of the Antichrist. Not even our American servicemen have authority on its premises.

Sixty-seven million American tax dollars erected this capital of unwholesomeness and unhallowed state where America has two votes. Annually we furnish 65 per cent of its operating expenses.

Here the U.S. and all nations are wooed by foreign potentates, to convince where possible, to confuse where not. Our Constitution, Bill of Rights, states' rights and early patriots are made to look foolish. These potentates create class wars, civil wars, strikes, aid, trade, infiltration, deceit, political moves, double talk and brainwashing while they lie in wait to steal control for communism. Khrushchev has said, "America, we will bury you."

Are Christians waiting until their church doors are padlocked before they demand we get out of the U.N.? Jesus said, "He that is not with me is against me and he that gathereth not with me scattereth abroad." This is living proof there is no middle of the road.

Writers Praise Halloweeners

A word of praise for all children who visited our home Halloween. They all were polite, said thank you and many older people were with them. There was no rowdiness or soaping of windows. We all had a good time. Thanks to the happy, well-behaved children.

Grandmother on Wall Street

This past Halloween doesn't lend much support to the theory that delinquency is increasing. Neither I nor any of my friends had any windows soaped, garbage cans upset or similar other cases of mild vandalism. Guess kids are behaving better than the reports would have us believe.

Democrats Win by Wide Margin in Both Houses

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats piled up comfortable working majorities in both branches of Congress in yesterday's election.

With a few results still in doubt, they had elected 25 senators to the Republicans' 8. With the holdovers, this assured 61 Democrats and 34 Republicans in the Senate, and the Democrat was ahead in the one undecided race. The Democrats were victors in 12 former GOP areas.

Two more senators will be elected later in Alaska.

The present Senate is composed of 49 Democrats and 47 Republicans.

In the House, Democrats elected 271 members and Republicans 133, with Democrats almost certain to add a few more seats. They had taken the scalps of 41 Republicans and had lost none of their own.

In the present House, there were 235 Democrats and 200 Republicans.

Roy Rogers' Mother Dies at 74 in Hospital

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Cowboy actor Roy Rogers' mother, Mrs. Andrew Slye, 74, suffered a stroke at home Tuesday and died in a hospital.

Rogers was with her when she died. In failing health for the past year, she had been confined to a wheelchair.

Guard Units Rated High

WASHINGTON — During World War I the National Guard furnished nearly half the American divisions in France. Captured German records revealed that six of the eight American divisions rated highest by German intelligence were guard divisions.

Young Husband Held in Slaying

Find Bride Strangled, Left in Baby's Closet in Grand Rapids

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—A 19-year-old husband was held for investigation today in the strangulation death of his bride of nine months.

Kent County Sheriff Arnold Pigorsh said Gerad Syrek has orally admitted slaying his 17-year-old wife Kathleen. He said the youth told him he killed his wife yesterday because he was afraid "she would leave me."

The couple has a 4-months-old baby.

Mrs. Syrek's body was discovered in the couple's suburban Grand Rapids township home last night by Syrek's father, who broke in when phone calls failed to bring an answer.

Pigorsh said the youth told this story:

He was awakened early yesterday morning by his father on the way to Grand Rapids furniture company where both worked. After the father left, the young husband went to the kitchen and picked up a 35-pound drill press plate with which he struck his wife on the head as she slept.

Syrek said he then strangled her. He said he wrapped her body in bedclothing and placed it in a closet in the baby's room while he continued to care for the infant throughout the day.

Syrek's father and the girl's father went to the house where the young husband showed them the body. The fathers called the sheriff.

Voting Machines Break Down in Nevada

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—A mechanical breakdown in 20 of the 100 Clark County voting machines used in Nevada's general election caused an uproar among thousands of voters yesterday.

The breakdown resulted when a last-minute error in the voting machine ballot used in the voting was discovered and the mechanical tabulators got out of kilter after adjustments were made.

U. S. Attorney Howard Babcock requested the FBI to investigate to make sure no one had tampered with the machines. However, all indications pointed toward a mechanical breakdown.

There was some indications that results of the balloting might be challenged because of the breakdown but no formal action along this line was filed by the time the courts closed.

PIN-WORMS MAY BE A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do ...and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge... the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

Bandit Kidnaps Taxicab Driver

Man Forced to Drink Whisky, Be Witness to Robberies

DETROIT (AP) — Cab driver Rudolph Becka, nursing a monstrous hangover, told today how a holdup man made him drink three water glasses full of whisky on an enforced crime spree which started in Detroit and ended in Ohio.

Becka was found passed out Monday night about 500 feet from his wrecked cab. Police released him when the captured bandit confirmed his story.

The robber, John T. Auld, an escaped prisoner from Toledo, was being held at Toledo for Detroit police.

Becka said Auld walked out of a bar he had just robbed and got into his cab, saying he wouldn't hesitate to shoot him. To emphasize his threat, Auld fired once into the floor of the cab and once out the right front window.

Needing no further proof, Becka followed orders. He first stopped at a hardware store for more ammunition for Auld's .22 caliber revolver, then watched his kidnaper rob another cab driver of $30 and a shoe store of $115.

Becka said they then stopped off at a bar, where he was forced to drink the whisky.

"When we left, I was too far gone to drive," Becka related, "so Auld took the wheel . . . I remember waking up once and it looked like we were going into the back of a truck. That's the last I remember until they picked me up."

OK 2nd Probate Judge

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Kalamazoo County voters yesterday approved a proposal to establish a second county probate judge at Kalamazoo. The proposal carried 220,313 to 9,135.

Polio Cases Double in 10-Month Period

The number of polio cases reported in Oakland County this year is exactly twice as many as the 1957 10-month total, according to Dr. John Monroe, health director.

To date this year, 54 cases have been reported. One teenage girl died of the disease and six new cases occurred in the county last week.

Unions Jubilant Over Elections

Believe Returns Insure Congress That Can End Right-to-Work Laws

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor unions today acclaimed the election returns as insuring a Congress that can wreck all existing state right-to-work laws at one swoop and enact new social legislation.

They gained confidence from defeat of right-to-work referenda in five of the six states in which the issue was on the ballot.

Union strategists said the complexion of the new Congress, is such that labor-wanted measures — like a higher minimum wage, extra jobless benefits and recession curatives — will get more favorable consideration than they have in recent years.

One thing organized labor will fight for in Congress next year, union sources said, is repeal of that section of the Taft-Hartley law known as 14B which permits states to enact right-to-work laws. These ban the union shop — a labor contract provision that requires workers to join a union to hold their jobs.

Kansas voters approved a ban on the union shop Tuesday, joining 18 other states which already had such laws on the books.

But right-to-work was voted down handily in Ohio, California, Washington and Colorado, and lost by a narrow margin in Idaho.

Labor unions wanted to avoid at all costs any spread of the right-to-work principle in the industrial Midwest. Indiana is the only state in that area now having such a law.

The other right-to-work states are: Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Iowa, Mississippi, Nebraska, Nevada, North and South Dakota, North and South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Utah and Virginia.

Union officials calculated today they will have a good chance in the next Congress to repeal the Taft-Hartley law's Section 14B, but they conceded that even with bigger Democratic majorities in the House and Senate it will be close.

Waterford OKs Trustees

The question of whether or not to have two additional trustees on the Waterford Township board, was approved by a margin of 65 votes, and a majority of Republican candidates won in the township, at yesterday's general election.

There were 4,474 for the proposition, and 4,409 against it. Prospective candidates names will be placed on the spring election ballot for the two $1,040 yearly salaried positions.

With the addition of two more trustees, the township board now will include the supervisor, clerk, treasurer and four elected trustees.

Nearly 70 per cent of Waterford Township's 18,826 registered voters went to the polls in the 18 precincts. Some 13,170 people voted in the township.

County Plea for October Safety Pays Off

Traffic Fatality Rate Drops Suddenly

By DICK SAUNDERS

Oakland County law enforcement officials are heaving a sigh of relief today and preparing to once again hold their breath in expectations of an outstanding traffic record this year.

At the beginning of October The Press published a plea by all area officials warning motorists of the traditional "bad month" to come and asking for cooperation in safe driving.

Evidently the plea rubbed off on a considerable number of county drivers. October, which had yielded 16 traffic deaths in 1957 (high month for the year), counted only five deaths this year.

There is a brighter outlook now for cutting last year's county death toll of 103 considerably. At the beginning of October we had exactly 70 deaths. Now we have 76, one of which occurred Monday.

TREND WAS RISING

This contrasts to last year when 65 had died on county roads up to October and after that month of wholesale slaughter, the total was 81.

Authorities are also pleased because the 1958 death trend had been going up until last month, when it was feared things would get even worse.

A total of 30 persons died from July 1 to Oct. 1, exactly 10 each of the three months.

Now, authorities assert, if all goes according to the pattern in past years, December will be the big hurdle. Eight died in traffic mishaps during November last year and 14 during December (second only to October.

Moreover, 38 people died during the last three months of 1957, while since Oct. 1 this year only six persons have been killed.

Both Oakland County Sheriff's Department and State Police officials urge drivers not to "let up" in November.

Authorities say the best rules to observe at this time of the year are refraining from excessive speeding and using headlights (not just parking lights) during the dusky hours of late afternoon.

All Over but Shouting— Here It Is—Both Sides!

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

Vice President Richard M. Nixon — "Republicans worked for two months. Our opponents worked for two years. The result was inevitable."

Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler — "The voters repudiated President Eisenhower's leadership and Republican campaign tactics. They registered their satisfaction with the constructive record of the Democratic-controlled 85th Congress."

Republican National Chairman Meade Alcorn — "There was no single issue nationally . . . the main trouble was not enough Republican votes. We have no alibis."

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson — "The American people have decisively endorsed the constructive and confident leadership of the Democratic Congress. They have made it clear that the people do not want a veto of the 20th Century."

Adlai E. Stevenson — "The Democratic Party has received a mandate to produce thoughtful, creative leadership in a dangerous time."

Former Sen. Earle Clements of Kentucky, director of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee — "There were a lot of reasons. Domestic issues were dominant. The people liked the constructive approach to problems taken by the Democratic Congress."

Reject Incorporations in Farmington Township

$450,000 Bond Issue Fails to Win Nod in Southfield

By JOEL RIPPA
Suburban News Editor

Farmington Township remained unchanged after yesterday's election, which found voters in two areas rejecting incorporation proposals that would have reduced the township to less than half its present size.

These were among a host of proposals sharing the election spotlight in 15 Oakland County communities.

Voters in the northern half of Farmington Township turned down plans to create the city of Farmington Woods, 1,906 to 1,367. The area would have taken in 14.5 square miles.

Incorporation of 4.1 square miles east of the city of Farmington as the city of Clarenceville failed by the decisive margin of 1,061 to 342.

Despite the lively battle staged between organized groups in favor and against the proposed cities, the election drew only a 68 per cent turnout of registered voters in the township. This is compared to almost 73 per cent in the city of Farmington.

Only qualified voters residing in the areas of the proposed cities were eligible to decide the incorporation issue. A simple majority would have been enough for approval.

Property owners in Southfield, which just last April was incorporated as a city, voted 3,940 to 2,493 in favor of a $450,000 bond issue to acquire and improve park facilities, but the margin was still short of the 60 per cent needed for approval.

Despite turnabout approval of the Oak Park Industrial Tax Study Group, Oak Park property owners again rejected a $306,000 bond issue to finance enlargement of the city's crammed Department of Public Safety quarters.

Needing a 60 per cent majority, the vote fell short, 4,334 "yes" to 4,081 "no."

Opposed by the Tax Study Group when it lost in the August election, the proposal this time failed to carry although having the blessing of the group.

Oak Park's municipal financing is suffering due to its rapid growth. The 1950 census, taken when the city had a population of 5,200, is the basis for present sales tax refunds from the state.

Public Safety Director Glenford S. Leonard has estimated that the city, which now has a population of around 35,000, is losing about a quarter of a million dollars a year in revenue.

A proposed 2-mill tax increase for construction of a village-township fire hall was approved by Milford Township electors, 605 to 358.

In nearby Highland Township, however, a 2-mill tax hike for 20 years to pay for the hiring of three full-time firemen met defeat, 548 "no" votes to 419 "yes."

Southfield Township voters approved a proposal to permit the village of Franklin to enter into contract with the Oakland County Department of Public Works to construct a village sewer system.

DEFEAT LIQUOR PROPOSAL

Oxford residents again turned down the sale of liquor by the glass in the township. There were 697 "no" votes to 555 "yes."

Three proposals establishing primary elections for city officials and setting their terms of fofice were approved in Madison Heights. Also okayed was a charter amendment for a technical change permitting the use of regular mail to send out notices of assessment increases.

A plan to delete lot-size requirements in the charter and have them set up according to state statutes was defeated.

Ferndale residents turned down a proposition to pay non-elected city employes $20 a year for every year of service over five, not to exceed 20 years. The margin was a narrow 3,442 "no" to 3,421 "yes."

In Hazel Park, an ordinance restricting parking to one side of the street in residential areas was repealed, 2,515 to 1,825.

Royal Oak electors approved reduction of firemen's duty week from 63 to 56 hours.

A charter amendment to limit city budgets to not more than 1.1 per cent of the city's total assessed valuation was defeated in Berkley, along with another amendment that would have permitted notices of city ordinances to be posted in public places rather than published in a newspaper. Both lost by more than 1,000 votes.

Jarvis, Kreps Win at Sylvan

Accountant and Barber Elected to 3-Year Term on City Council

A former councilman and a one-time member of the Sylvan Lake Village council were elected yesterday to three-year terms on the city council.

G. Richard Jarvis, village president before Sylvan became a city in 1947, received 412 votes. Anthony Kreps, a former mayor, received 404 votes.

Defeated were incumbent mayor Robert Menees, who received 375 votes, and Joseph A. Wilhelm, another incumbent, who got 145 votes. Kenneth Meredith, who also ran, got 149 votes.

GOP's Two-Party South Dream One Congressman Further Away

By The Associated Press

Republican dreams of a firm two-party South were one congressman further away today, and two other House seats were dangling.

A surge of Democratic votes in Louisville unseated Republican Rep. John M. Robsion Jr. in the Kentucky 3rd District in favor of an energetic young Democrat, Frank W. Burke. Rep. Eugene Siler in the 8th District, the state's other Republican congressman, was re-elected.

With the count nearly half completed, Republican Rep. Bruce Alger was ahead of Democrat Barefoot Sanders in the Texas 5th District, but the outcome was far from certain.

A tight race developed in Virginia between Republican Rep. Joel T. Broyhill and Democrat Joseph H. Freehill in the 10th District. Broyhill won and so did the other Virginia Republican representative, Richard H. Poff, in the 6th District.

All of the Senate seats are in the hands of Democrats except the two in Kentucky which did not come up for election this year. Six Democratic senators won re-election the others were holdovers.

Democrats occupy the governor's office in each of the 12 states. Six governors were elected.

Other Southern Republican representatives are William C. Cramer, Florida 1st District; B. Carroll Reece, Tennessee 1st, and Howard H. Baker, Tennessee 2nd. All were re-elected.

State highlights:

ALABAMA — Democrat John Patterson had a walkaway for governor over Republican W. L. Longshore. Nine Democratic representatives were re-elected. Only one had opposition.

ARKANSAS — Gov. Orval E. Faubus Jr., embattled segregationist, had a landslide victory over Republican George W. Johnson. Democrats held a firm grip on the six House seats but Rep. Brooks Hays, a moderate on the racial issue, had a menacing challenge from a write-in candidate, D. Dale Alford, a vigorous segregationist.

GEORGIA — Lt. Gov. Ernest Vandiver, a Democrat, won the governorship unopposed and all 10 Democratic congressmen were re-elected.

FLORIDA—Conservative Democrat Spessard Holland was returned to the Senate by a wide margin over Republican Leland Hyzer. Seven Democratic House members were re-elected, together with Republican William C. Cramer.

KENTUCKY — Republican Rep. John M. Robsion Jr. was unseated but a second Republican was re-elected as were six Democratic House members.

LOUISIANA—Eight Democrats were back to the House.

MISSISSIPPI — Sen. John Stennis and six House members, all Democrats, were unopposed.

NORTH CAROLINA — Eleven Democratic House members won re-election as did Republican Rep. Charles R. Jonas who defeated Democrat David Clark, both from Lincolnton.

TENNESSEE—Sen. Albert Gore, a Democrat, had easy going over Republican Hobart Atkins. So did Buford Ellington, also a Democrat, over Thomas . Wall Jr. for the governorship. Seven Democratic and two Republican House members won re-election.

TEXAS—Democrat Price Daniel kept the governor's office against a challenge by Republican Ed Mayer. A lone Republican House member, Bruce Alger, had it nip-and-tuck with Democrat Barefoot Sanders for the 5th District seat.

VIRGINIA — Re-elected were Sen. Harry Flood Byrd, eight Democratic and two Republican House members.

SOUTH CAROLINA—Ernest F. Hollings was elected governor and six House members were re-elected, all Democrats.

Sleep First on Agenda for Governor Williams

LANSING (UPI) — Sleep was top priority for the winner and the loser of the Michigan governor's race today after weeks of campaigning and a long night of waiting.

In a house jammed with visitors, party workers, aides and state officials, Gov. G. Mennen Williams stayed to the side rooms much of the time. It wasn't until he secluded himself in his son Gery's third-floor room for more than an hour that he recognized the Democratic win for himself and his "team."

"We were fighting for a team win and we got a team win," Williams told newsmen as he leaned on the back of a chair in the room high in the governor's mansion.

The governor, known as a tireless campaigner, admitted a let down late yesterday but said he felt "buoyant" until that time.

Williams visited his wife Nancy in a Lansing hospital where she is recovering from a siege with a virus complication. Williams dropped in on his wife before settling down at home to watch the returns.

At Williams' home, visitors were greeted by an array of food enough to feed 500. Liz Abernethy, wife of one of Williams' aides, said about 80 pounds of ham, turkey and roast beef were prepared, plus 35 pounds of cheeses, 25 heads of lettuce and countless trimmings.

The scene throughout the night and into the pre-dawn hours was one of noise and smoke as people crowded into the house, getting latest reports on an election-night teletype and radio and television.

A bright mood existed at both places most of the night with things quieting down in Faul D. Bagwell's rented ballroom only when the Williams' trend developed strongly.

In a telegram to Williams, the defeated Bagwell said he thought it was "a good campaign based on the major issues facing our state."

Bagwell telegramed defeated Sen. Charles E. Potter that he was "proud to have been on the Republican ticket with you . . . (and) the fact that there was no Democratic landslide . . . is proof that we do have a fighting organization. . ."

Williams said immediate plans called for "trying to sleep as long as I can' and then getting at what he called the more urgent problems of the state.

Voters Return County Court Commissioners

As expected, Oakland County Circuit Court Commissioners Maurice F. Cole and Verne C. Hampton are back in office today.

County voters in yesterday's election gave the only unopposed candidates on the ballot more than 40,000 votes each to return them to office. Cole received 44,533 and Hampton 40,288 votes on the non-partisan judicial ballot.

Cole is a 65-year-old Ferndale attorney who has held his position since 1938. The commissioner handles court matters pertaining to tenacy problems mostly in the southern part of the county.

His fellow commissioner Hampton is a 55-year-old Pontiac attorney. His business relates to the same, but for the northern section of the county. Hampton was first elected in 1937.

Michigan Dems Enjoy Monopoly

Party Holds Complete Slate of Major State Offices for 1st Time

DETROIT (AP)—Even in the high tides of the Franklin D. Roosevelt era, the Democratic Party in Michigan never enjoyed the monopoly of major statewide offices now in prospect.

Even after the 1932 Roosevelt landslide, Republicans James Couzens and Arthur H. Vandenberg occupied the state's two U.S. Senate seats, and Frank D. Fitzgerald, later a Republican governor, was retained by voters as secretary of state.

Led by Fitzgerald in his first campaign for governor, the party recovered four of the five statewide offices it had lost two years earlier in the 1934 election.

In their resurgence of 1936, Democrats captured one of the U.S. Senate seats through election of Prentiss M. Brown, now chairman of the Mackinac Bridge Authority, and recovered the state administrative board posts in 1934.

However, Vandenberg continued to serve in the Senate, and by this time Republican Eugene B. Elliott, now president of Eastern Michigan College, had won election in 1935 as state superintendent of public instruction, a post he held until 1948.

With the exit of U.S. Sen. Charles Potter, defeated for re-election yesterday, in January the GOP will be left without a single major statewide office.

GOP Keeps State Senate; 2 Parties Even in House

DETROIT (AP)—High-riding Democrats came within a whisker of taking control of the House of Representatives for the first time in 20 years today, driving to an unprecedented 55-55 standoff with Republicans.

Six new seats in the House, coupled with another sweep of state offices and a new U.S. Senate seat, raised Democrats to the highest pinnacle of power since New Deal days in the 1930's.

Republicans in January will be forced to retreat into their last citadel in the capital—the state Senate. The GOP still held a commanding grip on the upper legislative chamber, winning 22 seats to 10 for the Democrats with two districts still unreported.

The down-the-middle split in the House set the stage for some bitter wrangling among top party powers when the 1959 legislature goes into session. It also sent parliamentarians to their legislative rulebooks to figure out what might happen.

"Something will have to give somewhere," said Norman E. Philleo, clerk of the House for the last 13 years.

Philleo, who stands to lose his jobs if Democrats win control, said the two parties have no choice but to come to terms, perhaps with one party electing a speaker and the other the speaker pro-tem.

The half dozen Democrats who won in districts that went to Republicans in 1956:

Harvey J. Beadle, Detroit, who beat first-termer Sterling Eaton (R-Plymouth).

Andrew H. Wisti, of Hancock, who will take over the seat vacated by Rep. D. J. Massoglia (R-Laurium).

For a time, it appeared Democrats might edge out Rep. George Gillespie (R-Gaines) in Genesee County's second district but the veteran GOP lawmaker won out in a nip-and-tuck race with Russell A. Alger of Davison.

Democrats, sensing a continued rise in party strength, early in the campaign set their sights on control of the House, all but resigning the Senate to Republicans.

Gov. Williams told Democrats they must reverse the 61-49 Republican majority in the House to give him a lever with which to force through some of the programs steadfastly rejected by Republicans in his first five terms.

Senate Republicans, if they want it, will be able to block legislation in the 1959-60 term, but they have lost most of their authority.

Considerable "horse-trading" between the two chambers likely will be used to resolve expected stalemates.

Some of the leading lawmakers re-elected for two-year terms were Reps. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton), chairman of the highly important house taxation committee; Arnell Engstrom (R-Traverse City), who heads the powerful ways and means committee; Allison Green (R-Kingston), House majority leader, and Louis Mezzano (D-Wakefield), House minority leader who was elected witout opposition.

Wife of Allan Jones Condition Improved

Mary Florsheim Picking Jones, 38, heiress to the Florsheim shoe fortune, was hospitalized Sunday. She was suffering from an overdose of sleeping pills and a head injury suffered when she fell from a stretcher while being taken from her home.

Police said Mrs. Jones apparently attempted suicide after an argument with her husband. He denied this, saying they had only a minor spat and that the overdose was an "unconscious accident."

Knowland Goes Down Smiling, Handshaking

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — California voters slammed the door Tuesday in the face of Sen. William F. Knowland but the hurt, if any, didn't show.

The victory in the race for governor was assured for Democrat Edmund G. Brown from the first returns, but even the speed of the turndown didn't disturb the aplomb of the Republican leader of the U.S. Senate.

Knowland, a husky man although he lost 20 pounds in his 10-week campaign, got the early bad news at his desk in the Oakland Tribune, of which he is assistant publisher.

He penciled his own tally of precinct reports as they were handed him. No emotion showed, except a smile and handshake for friends and family members as they dropped in.

The first blow to his political chin was a 34-precinct report: Brown 1,385, Knowland 564.

"It doesn't say what precincts," he commented.

"I've been at this for 25 years," he said explaining why he showed no wear and tear.

But the previous 25 years of the 50-year-old senator had been years of unbroken political victories. He was elected to the State Assembly at 24, then to the State Senate and twice to the U.S. Senate.

Calmly, the senator conferred iwth his father Joseph R. Knowland, 85, who is a former Republican congressman. The elder Knowland, publisher and president of the Tribune, looked at the figures, expressionless.

Clustered near the senator were his wife Helen, their three children, Mrs. Emelyn Jewett, 28; Joseph, 28; and Mrs. Robert McKeen, 19.

Brown's headquarters was claiming victory. The senator and his wife withdrew into another room. Would there be a statement?

"Not at this stage," he said, calmly. It was less than two hours since the ballot count had started.

The family, except for the elder Knowland,accompanied the senator to his San Francisco campaign headquarters for the finals.

At 10:32 p.m. he told the mass of workers and well wishers, iwth the TV cameras on him:

"I have sent my congratulations to Atty. Gen. Edmund Brown."

"No! No!" yelled the crowd.

But it was all over.

"I have no regrets," he told newsmen.

"My future plans?" he smiled. "I'm going back into the newspaper business," said the man who had been mentioned as 1960 presidential timber.

Any political plans for the future?

"No."

Another smile. Then handshakes all around.

Then he and his family went home.

Boy Suffers Burns

MT. CLEMENS (AP) — Five-year-old Dale Kestellot was reported in fair condition today from burns suffered when a home-made cape caught fire. His sister, Marie, 14, was credited with saving his life by snatching off part of the flaming cape and dunking him in a water-filled bathtub.

Court to Open Hoffa Hearing

Watchdog Group Seeks More Power to Push Teamster Cleanup

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Court-appointed monitors of the independent Teamsters Union move into court today to tell a federal judge about their troubles with Teamsten boss James R. Hoffa.

The monitors were seeking greater authority to enforce their union clean-up recommendations they contend Hoffa largely ignored. The Teamsters argued the "watchdog" group has exceeded its powers.

Federal Judge F. Dickinson Letts scheduled two days of hearings to consider whether he should modify the consent order which allowed Hoffa to take office but set up the three-man board of monitors to keep an eye on him.

The hearing also apparently will determine if the teamsters may hold a special convention they have scheduled for mid-March in Chicago to elect new officers.

An election would rid the union of the monitors and probably re-elect Hoffa to his $50,000-a-year presidency. The monitors oppose an early convention on grounds the union's records are still inadequate to check on delegates' credentials.

Pupils Get Bad News

KALAMAZOO (UPI) — Pupils in the school system here received bad news today. The school board approved Superintendent Thomas R. Bowman's plan to resume the practice of handing out homework.

Including U.S. territories, American Brahman cattle can now be found in 43 countries of the world.

'Honey bees, which have labored for man for centuries, have found at least one way to keep their product for themselves. Honey produced from the blossoms of some species of Asian rhododendron is poisonous to man—but bees thrive on it.

PTA Meetings Set Thursday

Children's Books to Go on Display for Parents' Choice in Waterford

Four Parent-Teacher Assn. meetings have been scheduled for Thursday night in Waterford Township.

At 8 p.m. a questionnaire will be given to each person attending the Stringham School PTA and the entire theme of the evening will center on the subject, "Studying Michigan Schools." Rooms in the school will be open at 7:30 p.m.

In connection with annual book week, Nov. 3-11, a display has been prepared so that parents may choose from a wide selection the books they would like to purchase for their children.

There will be no business meeting at the McVittie School this month, because of the first open house to be held from 7:30 to 8:15 p.m.

Another book display will be set up, and all proceeds from the sale of books will be donated to the school library fund.

Beginning at 8 p.m., the Schoolcraft School will conduct a "buzz session," following an "opinionaire" report. Parents and teachers will discuss their own individual thoughts on education, following the theme "Studying Michigan Schools."

A nursery will be provided for small children.

The same theme of local school problems will be discussed at the Williams Lake PTA meeting at 8 p.m. The project was developed to meet the needs of hundreds of PTA members as a guide to help them learn more about their schools.

There will also be a bake sale at the Williams Lake School, and refreshments will be served.

Pencil Makers Use Cedar, Graphite Lead

CHICAGO — The best wood for pencils is a cedar that grows in Florida, Texas, and New Mexico. California and African cedar also are good. Pencil lead is a mixture of graphite and clay, the graphite coming from Ceylon, Madagascar, Korea, and Mexico.

The clay acts as a binder and regulates the degree of hardness; the graphite determines the blackness. In an ordinary pencil the lead consists of two thirds graphite and one third clay.

The cedar waxwing loves fruit with such a passion that the birds sometimes get drunk from stuffing themselves on over-ripe berries.

Nearby State Elections See GOP Mostly Losing

DETROIT (AP) — Nearby state races at a glance:

Illinois—With no statewide contests this year, the battle was over House seats. Incomplete returns had 12 Democrats elected—two of them to seats formerly held by Republicans. Eight Republicans had been elected. Five races were undecided.

Indiana—Here, the Democrats made deep inroads in what used to be a solid Republican area. Democratic Mayor Vance Hartke of Evansville won a Senate seat being vacated by Republican Sen. William Jenner. He did this by defeating Republican Harold Handley.

In House races, Democrats elected seven members—five in areas where Republicans formerly were in power. Republicans won in four House battles.

Minnesota—The Republicans lost another Senate seat when Democratic Rep. Eugene McCarthy short-circuited Sen. Edward Thye's drive for re-election. In tandem with McCarthy, Democratic Gov. Orville Freeman won another term in the state capital. With four House races undecided, Democrats had elected three representatives and the Republicans two.

Ohio—In a Republican disaster, Democrats knocked out of office Sen. John Bricker and Gov. C. William O'Neill. Elected governor was Michael V. Disalle, price control boss in the Truman administration. Elected to the Senate was Stephen Young of Cleveland, a former congressman. A right-to-work proposal was swamped.

With one race still out, the Republicans had taken 13 seats to 9 for the Democrats. This represented a gain of at least three seats for the Democrats.

Wisconsin — Democrats boomed through, gaining a full six-year term for Sen. William Proxmire and capturing the state House. Democrat Gaylord A. Nelson unseated Republican Gov. Vernon W. Thompson. Democrats also picked up two House seats, bringing lineup to 5 Democrats and 5 Republicans.

Huge Fire Damages New Belgian Airport

ZAVENTEM, Belgium (AP) — The main building of Brussels' new International Airport was wrecked Tuesday night by a fire due, at least indirectly, to premature opening of the airport.

A helicopter rescued two persons trapped in the control tower. Officials said the fire was started by explosion of a small oil stove installed on the ground floor to supplement a still erratic heating system.

Temporary partitions of canvas, wood and cardboard fed the flames. An automatic sprinkler system was not yet in operation.

The airport was opened to traffic before completion to handle the crowds attending the World Fair last summer.

Firemen got the flames under control after a five-hour fight. Damage ran into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Traffic resumed with operations centered in a building on the other side of the field.

Slate 4-H Banquet Saturday in Pontiac

"Moments to Remember" will be the theme of the annual Oakland County 4-H Leaders Banquet slated for 7 p.m. Saturday at the First Congregational Church in Pontiac.

The county 4-H Service Club throughout the entire evening will present in skits flash backs of 1958 4-H events.

Dr. Lowell Eklund, director of Michigan State University Oakland will be the guest speaker. His topic will be "The Future of 4-H in Oakland County."

Service club member Gloria Sanders of Rochester is general chairman. Assisting her are Nancy Hutchins of Rochester, decorations; Christine Van Buren of Troy, menu and location; and Janet Long and Cordree Heard, both of Milford, program.

Serious Infection Hits Noted Historian Durant

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Noted historian Dr. Will Durant, 73 years old today, is ill with a serious infection of undetermined nature.

His condition caused him to cancel a lecture tonight. The lecture had been scheduled as the last of his 50-year career.

Dr. Durant became ill in Paris a month ago. He returned home last Friday.

Electric Rate Hike Considered Today

LANSING (UPI) — Consumers Power Company's bid for a $15,300,000 hike in electric rates was to be considered by the Public Service Commission today.

Hearings were adjourned Oct. 16 after nine days of testimony and commission members said at that time that the utility should get a rate increase of no more than $3,550,000.

Consumers, which serves 825,000 customers in 61 of 68 Lower Michigan counties, said the hike it proposes would increase electric rates an average of four to five cents a day.

Michigan Utility Rate Payers Assn. said it would present witnesses at today's hearings.

Byrds of Feather Flock Together—in Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harry Truman, when he was president, once wisecracked that there "are too many Byrds in the Senate."

At that time, there was only one: Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va), who won re-election Tuesday.

At the same time, West Virginians chose Robert C. Byrd, also a Democrat, to replace Sen. Chapman Revercomb (R).

The two Byrds are not related.

Billboards Utilize Foil

NEW YORK—One of the newest developments in outdoor advertising is the use of aluminum-foil posters for billboards. Until recently the use of the foil for billboard posters was ruled out because paste couldn't dry under the vaporproof foil. Development of a new aluminum poster sheet having specal perforations that permit use with standard billboard paste licked the problem.

Marseille Big, Ancient

MARSEILLE—Marseille, next to Paris the largest city in France, is the country's greatest seaport and most ancient city. It was founded in the Sixth Century B.C. by Phocaean immigrants from Asia Minor.

Scarcity of News Ends for 1 Radio Announcer

MT. KISCO, N. Y. (UPI)—After complaining bitterly about the lack of news in Mt. Kisco, newsman Mort Dean of radio station WVIP drove home in his father's car to attend a wedding in Fall River, Mass.

After the wedding, he found mbre than $2,000 in jewelry missing from the auto. Dean's father is a jewelry salesman.

Citrus Growers Seek New Uses for Wastes

LAKE ALFRED, Fla. (UPI) — A crew of scientists here is seeking to find uses for citrus by-products — peels, seeds, pulp — which would pay for hauling the big Florida crop to market.

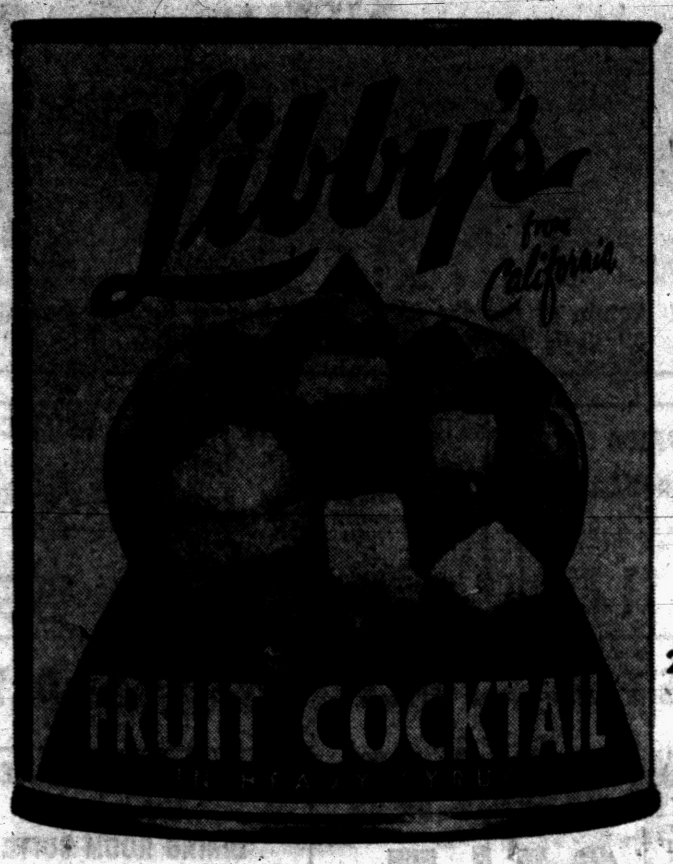

Already, citrus wastes are used in cattle feed and, by segments of the chemical industry. But it is the goal of citrus scientists to find a profitable use for every part of an orange.

U.S. Elk Herd Largest

JACKSON, Wyo. — Every winter the Federal Government feeds 15,000 to 20,000 elk, the largest elk herd in the world, at the Jackson Hole Wildlife Refuge near Jackson. In the summer most of the elk move to nearby high country.

Shortly After Launching

Thor Missile Blows Apart

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A powerful Thor intermediate range missile—the heart of moon rocket Pioneer—blew apart with a brilliant flash shortly after launching early today.

It was the fifth straight time that a ballistic weapon had exploded in spectacular style in the past few months. The shattered sections of the missile appeared to plunge into the Atlantic just off the Cape.

The Air Force announced a malfunction occurred about 30 seconds after liftoff and that the missile was destroyed by the range safety officer.

The 65-foot war rocket blasted aloft at 3:53 a. m. from a huge pool of orange flame. It began to veer left and right almost immediately.

After about 25 seconds, still pouring out a thin trail of flame, the Thor suddenly jerked to the left. At that point, the range safety officer pressed a destruct button and the missile burst apart.

Missile men hoped the launching would give them a preview of the next Air Force Pioneer moon rocket shoot which the National Aeronautic and Space Administration says will take place late this week.

In an adjacent tower less than 500 yards away stood a multistage Thor which is believed to be moon rocket No. 3.

Today's Thor launching was the first in three months and the 19th in the Air Force's ambitious flight test program aimed at making the missile operational.

Since Sept. 17 when a Redstone missile roared across the Atlantic successfully, five ballistic weapons have blown apart shortly after launching. In addition, to the Thor, they were the Atlas ICBM, the Army Jupiter IRBM, and two naval Polaris missiles.

During the period, however, three satellite rockets blasted off to good starts—a Vanguard, the amazingly successful Pioneer, and the Army's Beacon balloon satellite.

Michigan Airman Dies in Jet Crash

CHESANING (AP)—Capt. John M. Gerding, former captain of the Chesaning High School football team, was one of four crew members to escape death in the crash of a B47 jet yesterday near Abilene, Tex.

The plane was carrying a nuclear bomb but it did not explode.

Gerding and three other crew members parachuted to safety. S/Sgt. Robert E. Schneider, 22, of Roseville, Mich., died in the crash.

Gerding was pilot of the jet bomber. He had been stationed at Dyess Air Force Base near Abilene for two years. Gerding, 27, is the father of two boys. His wife, Catherine, and sons, John and William, live at the base.

Two telegrams from the Air Force failed to convince the father of Sgt. Schneider that his only son had been killed.

In his suburban Detroit home, Eugene J. Schneider said last night, "I still don't believe it. I still have hopes that it might have been a mistake."

How To Hold
FALSE TEETH
More Firmly in Place

Do your false teeth annoy and embarrass by slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, laugh or talk? Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This alkaline (non-acid) powder holds false teeth more firmly and more comfortably. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH today at drug counters everywhere.

Scientists Planning Huge Space Radar

ITHACA, N. Y. (UPI)—Cornell University scientists are working on a gigantic radar system that might gather data which once seemed accessible only to artificial earth satellites.

The system, twice the size of a football field, is not expected to substitute for the satellites but will free them for other work, its designers say.

Defense Department authorities are considering two possible locations for the proposed space radar, one in Puerto Rico and the other in Texas.

The radar will be used to obtain information that might aid man in becoming a space traveler. The 1,000-foot dish will probe the thick cloud cover around Venus and is also expected to provide information about Mars and the sun.

Guard Trains Leaders

WASHINGTON — Three of the nation's defense leaders received their earliest military instruction in the National Guard. Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy served in the Ohio National Guard. General Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, was in the Oregon National Guard before he entered West Point. And Secretary of the Army Wilber M. Brucker enlisted in the Michigan National Guard before World War I.

Massachusetts City Pioneer in Lighting

In 1883 Brockton became the first place in the world to possess an underground, three-wire system for the distribution of electricity. The city soon boasted the first theater and first fire station to be lighted by Thomas A. Edison's incandescent system with power supplied from a central station.

On the evening the switch was thrown, one witness of the experiment was described in newspaper accounts as being especially delighted with the results. This was Edison himself.

High-strength steels, containing nickel, are used in aircraft landing gears. These steels develop tensile strengths of as much as 30,000 pounds per square inch.

Russian Gold Sales Up

LONDON—The total volume of Russian gold sales in 1957 is estimated in Samuel Montagu & Company's Annual Bullion Review at 7,500,000 ounces. The 1956 estimate was 4,300,000 ounces. It is believed that a little less than half of Russia's total output was sold in world markets in 1957. If this estimate is correct, Russia's 1957 gold production would be nearly as great as South Africa's.

Spill-Proof Car Game Amuses Tots on Trip

NEW YORK (AP) — Car travel play problems for the younger set are neatly solved with a game which ends the problem of losing pieces ingeniously by attaching the playing pieces firmly to the board by cords.

The spill-proof car travel game board represents a highway marked by varied obstacles which habitually delay motorists. The object of play is to be the first to drive from one end of the route to the other.

Malay Has 9 States

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya—The Federation of Malaya consists of nine states—Johore, Negri Sembilan, Kedah, Perlis, Kelantan, Trengganu, and Perak—each with a Malay ruler, and two former Britgish settlements, Penang and Malacca. The federal constitution of 1948 is based on a series of agreements between the British crown and the nine Malay rulers.

Questions About Social Security

How Much Can I Expect?

By RAY HENRY
Associated Press Writer

From F.W. of Charlotte, N. C.: "I'll be retiring at 65 around the first of the year. I don't want to bother the Social Security office yet, but I would like to have an idea of the size of the monthly payments I can expect. Can you tell me where I can get a simple explanation in writing — of how I can figure my payments?"

My handbook—Security For You—has a complete explanation of how to figure your payments.

From J.L.R. of Aurora, Ill.: "I'm self-employed and pay my Social Security tax along with my regular income tax return. I understand the tax is going up in 1959. Does this mean I'll have to pay the new rate with the tax return I file after next Jan. 1?"

No. The return you file after Jan. 1 will be for taxes due for 1958. It won't be until you pay your tax in 1960 —for year earnings in 1959—that you'll have to pay the new 3¾ per cent rate for self-employed persons.

From Mrs. R.B. of Buffalo, N.Y.: "Could you please tell me when the Social Security program started and the date farmers were brought under the program? I've had an argument with a neighbor about this and I'd like to have you settle it."

The program started Jan. 1, 1937, and farmers were brought under it on Jan. 1, 1955.

From F.M.J. of Oklahoma City: "I have no birth certificate, but I do have an old family Bible which lists all the birth dates of my family. It's been in our family for nearly 100 years. Will the Social Security office accept this as proof of my age when I ask for payments?"

Chances are it will. You should ask now just in case the Bible won't be accepted. If it won't be, you can try to get other proof. Take the Bible to your Social Security office and let a representative there look at it. Don't remove the pages with the birth dates from it.

From Mrs. M.W. of Clearwater, Fla.: "I'm a widow remarried and receive a monthly Social Security check of $73.90 for my daughter. She's eligible because her father died in 1953. She'll be 18 years old in March 1959, and her payments are scheduled to stop then. I've tried to save most of her checks to help put her through nursing school. Is there any way she can continue to receive at least part of her present checks until she completes nurse's training?"

No. The Social Security law requires all checks to a child to stop when the child reaches 18, unless the child was severely disabled before reaching 18 and continues to be disabled after that age. Perahps, your daughter will be able to get a scholarship or some other financial help from the school she attends.

From H. D. of Cleveland, Ohio: "When do we get those higher Social Security checks everybody keeps talking about? I need the money. So does my wife."

The increases in Social Security will be in the checks sent out near the first of next February.

Canada Mine Blast Toll Placed at 74

SPRINGHILL, N.S. (AP) — The death toll in the Cumberland No. 2 mine disaster was placed at 74 Tuesday night, the highest in Canadian mining since the 1920s.

Hope finally was abandoned for nine men still missing in the deep coal shaft where an underground upheaval Oct. 23 trapped 174 miners. A hundred men were rescued, some of them after being trapped for days.

Four more bodies were recovered Tuesday night. Searchers continued their slow hunt through the rock and rubble for the other nine bodies. Less than 100 feet of the mine remained to be explored.

A fund being raised to help the relatives of those killed neared $600,000. Officials hoped a million dollars would be collected.

The first plastic material was made in 1868 as a substitute for ivory in making billiard balls.

Dem Sweep Ruins Some, Sparks Ambitions of Others

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — What happened in yesterday's election can be told today in what it all meant to several brightly ambitious young men.

They are:

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who suffered a political reverse of the first magnitude. For Nixon, the election was a Democratic flash flood which wrecked his Republican home base of political operations in California. The party damage was duplicated generally around the country. Nixon's plus mark is that he is by instinct a take-charge guy. He was able therefore to emerge from the wreckage of the Republican Party today as political head man of the Eisenhower administration.

Nelson A. Rockefeller, Republican governor-elect of New York, was all plus and no minus on the election returns. Rockefeller smacked down Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman's re-election bid. He smacked it so far down that Harriman already is disappearing into the political shadows although he was only 48 hours ago a possible Democratic choice for president in 1960. Rockefeller did more. He won big enough to carry to victory with him New York's Republican candidate for the U. S. Senate, Kenneth B. Keating. By these feats, Rockefeller became a major contender for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination—the only man who seems now to have any chance whatsoever to beat Nixon for that nomination.

HOPEFUL NO MORE

Sen. William F. Knowland who abandoned the Senate Republican leadership to run for governor in California was a Republican presidential prospect when this week began. No more. Knowland shook up California politics for forcing himself into the gubernatorial contest and compelling Republican Gov. Goodwin J. Knight to step aside and to run for the Senate. They both lost and California, the second most populous state, fell to the Democrats for the first time in 16 years.

Sen. John F. Kennedy continued his early foot performance as front runner for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination. Kennedy sought re-election in Massachusetts. To maintain his favorable position, Kennedy needed a smashing victory over a lost-cause Republican opponent, Vincent J. Celeste. Kennedy got it. He clobbered Celeste by 3 to 1 or thereabouts.

New Jersey's Democratic Gov. Robert B. Meyner, also young, substantially held his own in the game of presidential politics by getting his man elected to the U. S. Senate. His man was Harrison A. Williams Jr., who defeated Republican Robert W. Kean. The Republicans had expected to win that one, despite the general Democratic trend.

Still another young man, Democratic George M. Leader of Pennsylvania, plodded with New York's Harriman into the political shadows. Leader lost a U. S. Senate contest to Republican Hugh Scott. Like Harriman, Leader had been counted until the returns came in as among the Democratic presidential possibilities.

Missouri kept Democratic Sen. Stuart Symington among the party's live aspirants to the White House. Symington's re-election, however, lacked the spectacular thump of a run-away majority such as Kennedy won in Massachusetts.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams was the Democratic young man of the hour in big, industrial Michigan. Williams, in political cahoots with big labor's Walter P. Reuther, won an unexampled sixth term. Williams, almost automatically, becomes the man left wing Democrats of the North, East and West would most welcome as head of the 1960 party ticket—and, by the same measure, Williams is the man whose nomination Democrats of the South would most protest.

NEW MR. BIG

Not so young, but mighty big in politics today is Edmund G. (Pat) Brown, the Democrat who ran Knowland out of politics in California. Brown may not figure greatly as a presidential possibility himself, but as California's new Mr. Big, he will have a big part in choosing the next Democratic nominee.

In the day-after-election dawn, big labor stood amid the coast-to-coast Republican wreckage flexing its muscles like a Paul Bunyan in a forest of stumps. The tide of right-to-work laws and state constitutional amendments appeared to have been turned. The right-to-work proposition carried in agricultural Kansas, lost in Washington, Ohio and California, big industrial states, appeared to be rejecting right-to-work on the basis of incomplete returns.

Tossed up for grabs after yesterday's polling was leadership of the Democratic Party in New York State. Tammany boss Carmine Desapio put his blue chips on Frank S. Hogan, an organization Democrat, whom Desapio compelled left wing elements of the party to accept as nominee for the U. S. Senate. The left wing bawled in protest and New York's liberal party threatened to put up a Senate candidate of its own. That practically would have assured election of a Republican.

The liberals relented, however, to accept Hogan who, with Harriman, lost despite nomination by both the Democrats and liberals. Boss control became a cutting issue against the whole Democratic-liberal ticket.

Desapio probably will be the goat of this political series. Desapio's power play in putting Hogan on the ticket offended thousands of voters not to mention his public humiliation of Harriman and Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York.

Desapio and Wagner now must get together for some hatchet burying unless there is to be a party-jarring ruckus for Democratic control in big New York.

CIVIL RIGHTS BREACH

Good news for Republicans in that. Also comforting for the Republicans, perhaps, is the fact that the bitter civil rights breach between Southern Democrats and all other elements of the party had small impact, if any, on yesterday's congressional and gubernatorial elections.

This angry, intra-party dispute, however, will come into its own in 1960 when both parties will put up national candidates and the Democrats again must cope with the hazard of a no longer solid South.

Phones Rockefeller

NEW YORK (UPI) — Nelson A. Rockefeller said Vice President Richard M. Nixon telephoned to congratulate him on his New York gubernatorial victory. Rockefeller said "He was delighted. He said it was the brightest spot on the national scene for the Republican Party."

UPDATED — Employed in much the same work his ancestors might have done centuries ago, an Egyptian workman finishes a mosaic in Cairo as a companion watches. The figures, done in the ancient style, will decorate the entrance of a new hotel.

Voters Back Eisenhower but Reject His Party

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republicans had better begin examining themselves.

Eisenhower was elected overwhelmingly in 1952 and 1956. But in the three congressional races since Eisenhower took office, the voters have given the Democrats control of the legislative branch.

Tuesday's beating forces the Republicans to face this gloomy question: "Unless we can somehow regain voter confidence, how can we possibly hope to win the presidential and congressional elections in 1960?"

No Republican in sight, from Eisenhower down, seems to have the answer.

Despite all the campaign urging by Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon—some of it pretty shrill—the voters still put their faith in the Democrats to run Congress.

This sometimes gets difficult to understand since both parties are basically conservative except that the Republicans, or many of them, seem even more so.

One conclusion seems fair:

That the voters definitely think the Democrats more truly represent their views and interests, are more responsive to their needs, and in these days of vast social changes are more progressive.

That can explain to some extent why the voters elected Eisenhower while defeating his party in Congress, for he has tried to follow a moderately progressive line in his administration.

But neither he nor his party can claim that a majority of congressional Republicans could, or perhaps would want to, be called Eisenhower Republicans.

It seems difficult to think that either Eisenhower or Nixon can give their party more political sex appeal by 1960.

Both men have had six years in which to lead their party down a road that pleased the voters. They couldn't do it.

The Doctor ate no dinner

One of his patients is named Ann. She is eight years old. She has grey eyes and fair hair and a doll named Taggers.

He can hope to prolong her life awhile. He can only hope.

He needs desperately the tools that will let him help the 18,000 boys and girls who are stricken by leukemia each year.

Supplying the tools he needs to help these children is one of the many jobs of your United Fund dollars. Fortunately, with your past help, steady progress has been made. Many agencies are at work in the war against leukemia and other forms of cancer. The disease can be detected in the early stages. Some patients can be helped. But the great goal is the cure. With such a golden aim, won't you give again this year.

Chrysler Starts Something

All '60 Cars May Have Swivel Seats

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Automobile seating has become a major factor in the engineering of the modern day automobile. The shape of the seats and their positioning, say some experts, also is becoming a big factor in car sales.

Certainly that's the view of Chrysler designers who have introduced the swivel front seat in 1959 cars. The seats swing outward to facilitate entry into the car. They swing back into normal position with body pressure.

It is a tradition in the car industry that every major engineering development by one car maker soon appears in the cars of competing auto makers. No one company has a monopoly on such developments and no company can say it has not profited to some extent by the engineering advances of other car producers.

Thus there is much speculation in automotive quarters as to how many auto makers will have swivel seats in 1960.

Industry analysts look for a sizable demand for swivel seats. The seats are extra-cost options on others. Chrysler's plan to introduce them for 1959 was one of the best kept secrets in the final months of the 1958 model car year.

Promotion of the new type seats prompted extensive research into car seating history. DeSoto Division of Chrysler Corp., one of the makers offering swivel seats, reports that there have been only six major developments in such seating since the first successful gasoline-driven vehicle was built in the early 1890s.

The passengers in those early, high-bodied vehicles did not step or back into the vehicle. They climbed into it. And they found themselves sitting almost directly above the engine, often hand-cranked from the side, directly below the seat.

The first major seating development, DeSoto reports, came at the turn of the century with introduction of the rear seat. Then followed the adjustable seat in 1913; rumble seat, 1917; six-way adjustable seat in 1936; introduction of numerous new fabrics in 1950 and the swivel seat in 1959.

Voters Favor Rezoning

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — Voters in Shelby Township yesterday favored the rezoning of the Curtiss-Wright Corp. property for an automobile race track by a vote of 2,176 to 1,029.

This was an advisory vote only. The final decision rests with the township board.

The property covers more than 600 acres, bounded by 22 and 23-Mile roads on the south and north and Van Dyke and Mound road on the east and west. Curtiss-Wright officials hope to use the existing track facilities there for sanctioned national and international races.

Township voters rejected all three other proposals on the ballot. They voted against placing the fire and police departments under Civil Service, 1,763 to 1,428.

The proposal asking voters to approve round-the-clock duty for Police Department personnel also failed, 2,063 to 1,176.

The proposition, which would have supported the augmented police program by raising the tax levy up to 2½ mills also was rejected. The vote was 2,217 to 787.

American Plugs Scenery, People, Life in Costa Rica

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (UPI) — A former American newspaperman has set up shop in Costa Rica under the unique address and title of "El Anciano" — The Ancient One.

Howard Hall, an American newsman for 27 years before he came to Costa Rica 10 years ago, explains he is called "El Anciano" in tribute to his decade of newspapering in the Republic. Recently he joined the Costa Rica Tourist Institute, an autonomous government-operated agency, where mail reaches him if addressed to "El Anciano," P. O. Box 777, San Jose.

"Along with many other Americans," says Hall, "I have been very happy here. I hope now, by spreading the word of Costa Rica's attractions — lovely scenery (and lovely ladies), springlike climate, almost negligible taxes — to help bring more American visitors. Don't forget to tell anyone who asks — write to "El Anciano."

Dried Milk Is Historic

BURLINGTON, Vt. (UPI)—What was good enough for the 13th century troops of Genghis Khan is good enough for people today, says the University of Vermont dairy department. The department said milk is still the best thirst-quencher and instant dry powder milk will serve well as a substitute. The department noted the soldiers of Genghis Khan had dried milk included in their field rations as far back as the 13th century.

Wayne Defeats 7 of 9 Proposals

Port Development, Tax, Bus Measures Among Those Rejected

DETROIT (AP) — In a sweeping vote of no, Detroit and Wayne County yesterday defeated seven of the nine ballot propositions submitted on the general election ballot.

Snowed under was a proposal to issue $7,100,000 in bonds for port development and to increase taxes by 11 cents on each $1,000 of assessed valuation to pay off the bonds.

Also killed was a proposal to increase county taxes for five years to raise 12½ million dollars for payment of welfare hospital bills owed the state and city.

Other proposals beaten included:

A city charter amendment which would have relieved the city's bus system of payment of city, county and school taxes. It now pays $600,000 a year.

Enlargement of the Department of Street Railway Commission from three to five members.

Relieve the bus system of $150,000 to $170,000 annually in charges for service made by other city departments.

Enlargement of the Detroit Board of Water Commissioners from four to seven.

Voters approved a proposal permitting payment of taxes at banks and also gave a majority to a proposed constitutional convention to rewrite the state constitution.

Area Newlyweds Make Home in Keego Harbor

KEEGO HARBOR — Making their home on Palmer street are Mr. and Mrs. Larry G. Hollister. The couple was married Saturday evening in a ceremony performed by the Rev. E. D. Auchard at Orchard Lake Community Church.

Parents of the bride, the former Delma Jo Sullivan, are Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Sullivan of Keego Harbor. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hollister of Orchard Lake.

A ballerina-length gown of Chantilly lace accented with a bateau neckline was worn by the bride. Her waist-length veil was held by a seed pearl tiara and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis.

Sharon Simoneau of Keego Harbor was maid of honor. Kenneth A. Armstrong of Keego Harbor was best man. Ushers were Roger L. Hewett and James L. Hollister, the bridegroom's brother.

A reception was held in VFW Hall in Keego Harbor.

MRS. LARRY G. HOLLISTER

Emily Post Should Have Solution to This One

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The Richmond News Leader reports this one:

A man was eating beans and hot dogs in a restaurant. His fork cut into a hot dog, but the end circled off his plate and into the open handbag of a woman at the next table too engrossed in conversation to notice. What to do? Apparently the social arbiters had never anticipated this. After a bit of hesitation the man left without telling the woman.

Amherst, Williams to Play 1859 Game

AMHERST, Mass (UPI) — Amherst and Williams will recreate the game of baseball as it was played in 1859 to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the first intercollegiate baseball game.

Amherst defeated Williams in that struggle which went 26 innings and took three and a half hours with a final score of 33 to 32.

Colorado became a state in the Union in 1876.

Heavy Voting Favors GOP in Townships

ROMEO — The voters turnout was reportedly "heavy" yesterday for a non-presidential year in the two Washington Township precincts and in Bruce Township.

Republican candidates polled more than twice as many votes as their Democratic opponents in all three precincts.

Baby Boy Dies of Suffocation

North Branch Tot Left to Sleep in Family Car Rolls Over, Smothers

NORTH BRANCH—A 9½-month-old North Branch boy smothered to death in an auto last night while his father was working in a nearby grain elevator and his mother was at a high school function.

According to Dr. R. Lyle Riddell, Lapeer County coroner, Allen F. Keyes died sometime between 10 and 11 p.m. after he had rolled over onto his face while sleeping on the car seat. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen R. Keyes of 4629 E. Castle Rd.

While Mrs. Keyes was at the high school affair with her 11-year-old son and 10-year-old daughter, her husband, who works nights at the Harper Grain Co., was to check on the baby and another two-year-old son frequently while he was working, the parents told Riddell.

Keyes said he parked the auto at the door of the elevator and had checked to see that the children were safe at 10 p.m. When the mother returned to the auto at 11 p.m., she found the child suffocated.

Mrs. Charles Bevette (left) and Mrs. Thomas Cahape of Scott Lake road, new members of the Pontiac Chapter of Needlework Guild Inc., present their two new articles of clothing to Mrs. Neil Ricketts of Scott Lake road. Mrs. Ricketts, a new director, will turn the garments in at the Nov. 13 Ingathering at First Presbyterian Church.

Nov. 13 Ingathering Set by Needlework Guild

Thousands of new garments will be on display Nov. 13 in First Presbyterian Church when the Pontiac Chapter of Needlework Guild Inc. holds its 46th annual Ingathering.

Mrs. Arthur H. Harrington, president, has asked section presidents and directors to bring the collected articles of clothing and household linen to the church between 9 and 10 a.m.

Mrs. William S. Isgrigg will be at the receiving table, with section presidents checking in the reports of their directors.

TO SERVE COFFEE

Coffee and British pastries will be served by members of the Queen Mary Section, women of English, Welsh, Irish and Scottish descent, from 10 to 11:30 a.m. Mrs. Walter Galbraith will be chairman, assisted by Mrs. George Bickley and Mrs. Nelson Hill.

The public is invited to the coffee hour and to see the garments and household linens piled high on tables.

Following an 11:30 business meeting, Mrs. Chauncey G. Burke and Mrs. George H. Crane will be in charge of distribution.

Our school and visiting nurses, our hospitals, child care centers and old age homes all look to Needlework Guild for aid.

Often during the school year private cases are referred to Needlework Guild. Usually these families need only temporary help as a result of sickness, fire or other disaster. The guild gives assistance confidentially.

OPEN TO ALL

Anyone who annually gives two new articles of clothing household linen or money with which to buy garments may be a member.

Clothing may be made at home or purchased. Especially needed are socks, sweaters, skirts, shirts, caps, dresses, boy's trousers, warm pajamas, underwear, towels, sheets, washcloths and outing flannel sheets.

Under the direction of Mrs. Claire R. Gaukler and Mrs. Henry P. Gaukler, trousers, jackets, shoes and galoshes are bought for special cases.

Officers assisting Mrs. Harrington at the Ingathering will be Mrs. Edward P. Barrett, first vice president; Mrs. Burke, second vice president; Mrs. Harold A. Furlong, third vice president; and Mrs. Harold A. Fitzgerald, fourth vice president.

Others in the group include Mrs. A. J. Michal, executive secretary; Mrs. Donald Nicholie, recording secretary; and Mrs. W. Ross Thompson, treasurer.

Miss Ella Green and Mrs. Herbert G. Lowes are honorary presidents.

Those who would like to join Needlework Guild are asked to call Mrs. Arthur H. Harrington or any officer.

Dresses, gay plaid shirts, sweaters, skirts, mittens, socks and articles of household linens are being contributed by members of the Pontiac Osteopathic Society to the Needlework Guild Ingathering. Shown putting garments in pairs are (left) Mrs. R. Mark Todd of Cherokee road and Mrs. Kenneth R. Bartholomew of Berry road.

"One to wash and one to wear," Mrs. Francis H. Phelps told her children, Bobby and Suzanne, as she fitted new outing flannel pajamas to them for her contribution to the Needlework Guild Ingathering on Nov. 13. Mrs. Phelps of Pine Tree Trail, a new director, will provide two pairs of each size.

Cab Driver Being Taken for Ride

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: My wife gets me sore. When I ask her if she wants to go out, she says she would love to, but she has nothing to wear. I go to her closet and I see no less than 30 dresses hanging there and still she has nothing to wear! I buy one suit a year, and I have plenty to wear. What's the answer?"

ABBY

HACK DRIVER

DEAR DRIVER: Your wife means she has nothing NEW to wear. But this excuse is no longer legitimate because now the older a lady's dress is, the newer it looks.

"DEAR ABBY: For almost two years I have been happily married to a wonderful man. His parents treat me like their own daughter, but this one thing bothers me. My husband was married and divorced before I met him. His mother has picture albums which she shows to everyone when she has company. There are many pictures of my husband and his wife in this album. Some are cheek-to-cheek on the beach in affectionate poses.

"This hurts me very much. My in-laws have no use for this woman now, so why do they keep her pictures in the book? About a year ago I asked my mother-in-law to remove the pictures and she said it would ruin her book. I think if she really loved me she would get rid of the pictures. Should I mention it again? It bothers me terribly."

HURT

DEAR HURT: Take some new pictures of your husband and yourself and be sure they are the same size as those you'd like replaced. Tell your mother-in-law you will gladly replace the pictures without ruining her book.

"DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a person who spends $120 on a reducing course for herself and refuses to help her own sister out with a loan for the grocery bill?

DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: She must be penny wise and pound foolish.

"DEAR ABBY: I am a girl of 14, and I have the most terrible habit but I can't help it. I crack my knuckles. The teachers give me dirty looks, and sometimes my father will send me out of the room and my brother yells at me. I've tried hard to break this habit, but when they've got to be cracked, they've got to be cracked or I think I will go crazy. Please help me, Abby?"

KNUCKLE CRACKER

DEAR K. C.: When you get the urge to "crack" your knuckles, say to yourself over and over, "I WILL NOT CRACK MY KNUCKLES!" If you think strongly enough you can overcome the urge. Try with all your might. Good luck!

"DEAR ABBY: A letter in your column about the two 79ers taking a trip together gave me food for thought. I am a widow and not quite 79, but I am over 60. Last year it happened to be convenient for me to attend a family celebration with a gentleman widower remotely related through in-laws. We stayed in separate hotels, not to be discreet but because the hotels were crowded. I found it much nicer than being tied to an older woman night and day.

"Last week I heard about a cruise which sounded inviting. He called me long-distance on business, and I asked him if he would be interested in the cruise. He said it sounded fine. I have no children and to heck with the gossip, but he has children and grandchildren. Do you suppose they would take exception if he went on such a cruise? They might hesitate to criticize him to his face."

MERRY OLD WIDOW

DEAR MERRY: Suggest to this gentleman that perhaps he should talk it over with his relatives IF he is interested in their opinion. If you occupy separate quarters and behave like well-bred adults, there should be no cause for criticism.

CONFIDENTIAL TO LORRIE: The girl who is not too sure of herself lets a fellow become too sure of HER. Wait till he calls you.

Probation Officer Speaks

Reports on the progress of Girls Town at Belleville were heard and contributions made when members of the Round Table Club held their November meeting Tuesday at the Rochester home of Mrs. Harold Shuart. Support of the girls' center is a project of the club.

Mrs. K. K. Krietz, program chairman, introduced Margaret Schnoll who discussed her work as a U.S. probation and parole officer of the Eastern District of Michigan-Women's Division.

Miss Schnoll has had extensive training and experience in social work and is the only woman officer in this district. She spoke of her work with women offenders whom she defined as ". . . women who have committed socially unacceptable acts" and have been brought into federal court.

A question-answer session followed the talk.

Mrs. F. H. Riley, club president, and Mrs. Krietz presided at the refreshment table. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. William Ford, Mrs. R. C. Cummings, Mrs. William A. Gordon, Mrs. Fred Stimpert, Mrs. John R. Lewis and Mrs. Fritzie Stoddard.

A children's Christmas party will be held Dec. 20 at Adah Shelly Branch Library. Chairman is Mrs. Arthur Ellis. The group also plans to fill a Thanksgiving basket. Guest Tuesday evening was Mrs. Paul Boving.

How Does It Sit?

Good advice for the girl about to buy an Empire dress: sit down in it before you buy. Skirts are definitely skimpier as well as shorter and what looks good standing up may not have the same appeal sitting down.

STEP UP YOUR EYE COLOR

. . . with eye shadow. If subtly used it is as socially acceptable as lipstick.

Eyes of any color (except black or brown) can be pointed up with blue and green shadow. If you are trying shadow for the first time you will find the stick-shadow easier to handle. Start at the outer edge of the lid, drawing the color along the base of the upper eyelashes, and blend gently with fingertip or a cotton. Dust over lightly with face powder to set the color.

For you who have deep set eyes, eye shadow is not for you. For protruding eyes use a brownish color.

Hollywood Newcomers Tops on Broadway

(Who will be the feminine movie stars of tomorrow? This is the last of a series in which a Hollywood columnist tells about the "new girls in town.")

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD — It's nothing new for Broadway darlings to invade films, but 1958 is the season of the "big switch" with a bevy of Hollywood-trained beauties on display in some of the biggest shows in the biggest town!

This unusual state of affairs was kicked off last year when Anne Bancroft, movietown leading lady, made such an acting explosion playing opposite Henry Fonda in the two-character "Two for the Seesaw" that writers had to be called in to fatten Henry's star role.

Now following Anne onto the main stem, or set to do so, is, among others, Miyoshi Umeki (winner of Hollywood Academy Award as "best supporting actress" in "Sayonara") in a stellar role in Rodgers and Hammerstein's new "The Flower Drum Song" opening on Broadway Dec. 1.

IN FIRST PLAY

Delores Hart has been in two of Elvis Presley's movies, "Loving You" and "King Creole." She held her own with Anna Magnani, Anthony Quinn and Tony Franciosa in "Wild Is The Wind." She was co-starred with Montgomery Clift in "Lonely Hearts."

Now Delores is in New York in the fast dramatic company of Cyril Ritchard and Cornelia Otis Skinner in "The Pleasure of His Company," doing her first stage play.

"I am just scared to death," she says. "If I am not good in a scene on the stage there is no second chance—no nice director to say, 'Cut, we'll do it again.' I am so new and so green, Mr. Ritchard and Miss Skinner are even having to show me how to project my voice."

Which one, or ones, will equal the unbelievable record of one of the greatest newcomers Hollywood ever sent to Broadway, none other than Gwen Verdon, three times winner of the "Tony" in her first three New York musicals, "Damn Yankees," "Can Can" and "New Girl in Town."

And, a "new girl in town," indeed, was Gwen when she left Hollywood those six years ago, a "Miss Nobody," just another good dancer and assistant choreographer (to Jack Cole) hoping for—but not expecting—the big break.

Gene Kelly, Jack Cole and Fred Astaire—all of whom she had worked with—finally prevailed on Gwen to "try her luck on Broadway."

Considering what happened to her—that's the height of understatement—the new girl in town literally wowed critics and public alike as she stepped along from "Can Can" to "Damn Yankees" to "New Girl in Town," picking up the highest honor Broadway has to bestow, the Antoinette Perry (Tony) Awards, in each and every one of them!

Also, Gwen has proven herself so good in her first starring movie musical, "Damn Yankees" for Warner Bros., there's not a doubt in the world that her future will be evenly divided between Broadway and Hollywood. Gwen is, indeed, the new girl who has made good in two towns.

For the most part they are (these new girls) dedicated and serious young performers who have worked and studied hard and expect no wand waved over a pumpkin to bring them fame and fortune.

And so, a toast to all the new girls in town!

Pauline Trigere is the designer of this slightly shaped wool plaid streamer coat featuring this fall's bright plaid colors and heavy textured fabric. Double discs in matching plaid serve as buttons, and a fringed scarf drapes gracefully from the neckline.

NORWEGIAN SPRITZ
By Mrs. Max Sutton

1 cup shortening, butter preferred
¾ cup sugar
1 egg
2¼ cups flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
Salt
1 teaspoon almond flavoring

Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, then unbeaten egg. Beat well. Add sifted dry ingredients, then flavoring. Chill.

Elementary Lessons for Every Woman

By RUTH MILLETT

A woman should know better than—

To try to fool another woman about her age. If she takes five years off her age it will make another woman suspicious enough to add ten.

To win an argument from a man she is interested in romantically. A man may have to admit that he is wrong and a woman is right—but he doesn't have to like it.

To confide something she doesn't want told to another woman, even if the other woman is her best friend. The only secret a woman can be sure of keeping is the one she doesn't tell anybody.

To give a young man she doesn't like a date, simply because she doesn't want to hurt his feelings. She'll hurt him even worse if she goes out with him a few times and then starts begging off every time he calls her.

To believe the married man who tells her that his wife doesn't understand him. Chances are she probably understands him only too well.

To set a husband who isn't handy with tools on a do-it-yourself job, thinking it will save money. Such men don't find it at all unreasonable to buy a $200 power tool to save $20 on a $100 job.

To wear an unbecoming style simply because it is the very latest thing. No woman is attractive enough to deliberately wear an unbecoming style.

To invite more guests to a lawn party than she can crowd into her house. For if she does, it is sure to rain.

To agree with her husband when he is irritated with a member of his family. He doesn't really want agreement—he just wants to let off a little steam. And if she defends the relative he's criticizing, he'll love her for it.

To ask another woman, "Do you mind if I get one just like yours?" — whether she is talking about a dress, a piece of furniture or whatever. The other woman will have to say, "Of course not." But she won't mean it.

Mary Leach, Gilbert Post Married in Oxford Rite

A double-ring ceremony performed Saturday at Holy Cross Lutheran Church, Oxford, united Mary Leach and Gilbert Post Jr. The Rev. G. E. Behnke officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Leach of West Strathmore avenue, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Post of Lake Orion.

Wearing a bouffant gown accented with iridescent sequins and Chantilly lace appliques at the scooped neckline, the bride was escorted to the altar by her father. A crown of iridescent sequins secured her veil, and she wore a strand of pearls and pearl earrings, gifts of the bridegroom. White roses comprised her bouquet.

MRS. GILBERT POST JR.

Bridesmaids, Carol Peterson and Adeline Volk wore gowns identical to that of the honor maid and also carried bronze and yellow chrysanthemums.

Ralph Parker of Lake Orion was best man. Ushers were Richard Ballagh of Lake Orion, Walter Fedison and Dave Schultz.

Mrs. Leach chose a blue lace dress with blue and white accessories and wore a corsage of yellow chrysanthemums for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Post wore a rose lace dress with matching accessories and a white chrysanthemum corsage.

Following a reception held at the church, the new Mrs. Post changed to a green wool sheath dress with black accessories and a chrysanthemum corsage for a trip to northern Michigan.

The couple will reside on South Roselawn drive. Mr. Leach attends the General Motors Institute of Technology.

T-Straps Modify 'Long Leg' Look

As waistlines and hemlines rise, it is interesting to see that shoe lines rise also. The presently popular T-strap shoe helps to modify the "long leg" effect created by short skirts.

The high T-strap tends to make the ankle appear broader. Therefore a shoe with a very low T-strap might be best for the woman with a slightly broad ankle.

Childhood Hurts Can Haunt Adult Lives

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

When Mr. J. was five years old he got a sled for Christmas. Time passed, and he outgrew it. It was stored behind some trunks in the cellar.

One snowy winter afternoon when he was 11 years old he came home from school to find his little brother belly-whopping down the front walk on his old sled. Shock and outrage possessed him. But when he sputtered them out to his mother, she was bored and impatient.

She said, "What are you making such a fuss for? You've got your new sled. You never use the old one. It's been rusting in the cellar for years. Of course I gave it to Billy. Now get out of my kitchen. I never heard of such nonsense."

Yesterday evening Mr. J.'s 16-year-old son took his car without asking permission.

Hearing it start away from the curb, Mr. J. said to himself, "What's that?" Then, realizing what it was, shock and outrage possessed him. When his son returned with supplies he needed to complete his homework, Mr. J. made a scene from which neither have recovered.

Unknowingly, all this morning at his office he has been feeling the same sense of injury at the younger generation's mistreatment of his property rights that he felt for the older generation's mistreatment of them 35 years ago.

The young often take of our belongings without asking permission. If we feel annoyed at their appropriation of our car, our only pair of white gloves, the magazine we've laid down without finishing, the chances are we had a hard time trying to get our parents to respect our property rights.

The intensity of our sense of injustice is always the giveaway.

The more angry we are when young Bud drives off with the car, the more likely it is that we are feeling the leftover outrage we felt as helpless children when another different generation seemed to do what it pleased with possessions we thought were ours.

We can reduce the intensity by understanding its root. And begin to appreciate the difference between our relationship to our dependent child and our old dependent one to our parents.

Instead of making a big angry scene with Bud, we can make a quiet demand that he seek our permission before taking our car. We can make it reasonably and much, much more impressively.

This versatile crepe blouse —can be worn in or out— is accented with perky bows to add Empire styling. The blouse features a cowl neckline, front vents and short sleeves.

Your Own Monograms

Nowadays it's easy to do your own monogramming, with the aid of the new automatic sewing machines or attachments.

Local sewing center experts suggest a coordinated bathroom set of aquafaille shower curtain, soft terry towels and bath mat in antique gold and moss green, with contrating satin appliqued monograms. Use gold applique on the green towels, green on the gold.

Trace design on cotton satin. Back with organdy, cut out, leaving an inch margin all around and baste in place on towel or curtain.

Set your automatic slant-needle sewing machine or automatic zigzagger attachment for a narrow satin stitch, and stich slowly around outline of monogram.

This also is a great idea for Christmas gifts, if you start early.

Gwendolyn Sue Vernon, Loren F. Thompson Wed

Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church was the scene of the Saturday evening wedding of Gwendolyn Sue Vernon and Loren Francis Thompson. The Rev. Theodore Allebach officiated at the candlelight ceremony before 350 guests.

Parents of the couple are the Harry Vernons of West Rundell street and Mr. and Mrs. Loren Thompson of Court drive.

The bride wore a silk taffeta gown with an oval neckline accented with Alencon lace, pearls and rhinestones. The fitted bodice had long tapered sleeves, and the bouffant skirt formed a chapel train.

MRS. LOREN F. THOMPSON

ATTEND BRIDE

Emily Thompson, the bridegroom's sister, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Carolyn Hickman, Eleanor Hassenzahl, Eunice Hayward and Stephanie Jones.

The attendants wore ballerina length peau de soie gowns with oval necklines, short sleeves and Empire waistlines accented with contrasting inserts. The matron of honor's dress was of cotillion blue and the bridesmaids' were powder blue. All carried cascade bouquets of white carnations.

ASSIST BRIDEGROOM

Following a reception held in the church parlors, the couple left for a honeymoon through the Eastern States. The bride was dressed in a gold two-piece knit suit with brown accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet. They will live on Minton road.

Mrs. Vernon wore a street-length dress of powder blue Chantilly lace over taffeta with a blue feather hat and white carnation corsage for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Thompson was dressed in a blue lace street-length dress with white accessories. Her corsage was pink carnations.

You May Have to Be Blunt

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you suggest through your column a way to avoid in the future a very upsetting incident which occurred recently when I invited several couples to my house for cocktails and dinner. Two of the couples invited have children (two apiece) and since the invitations were out a week in advance I certainly expected that ample time had been given to enable the guests to get "baby sitters."

"I was shocked and chagrined when these two couples turned up with their children in tow. The children romped the house, interrupted conversation, spilled food and in general made a wreck of my well-planned evening. I know that my smile instead of being spontaneous became quite frozen and brittle as the evening wore on and I am sure the parents sensed my displeasure and felt hurt.

"What can one do (outside of saying "no children allowed" when issuing such invitations to avoid this situation? I thought the fact that the party was an evening one would be enough to insure against such contingency."

Answer: In the first place the children should not have been brought to a cocktail and dinner party. But as you have learned that these friends will bring them, the only thing to do in the future is to say something like, "If you can get someone to look after the children, will you come to dinner, or whatever it may be, next Friday?"

"Dear Mrs. Post: Haven't you said that it is entirely proper to put a roll down on the tablecloth when there are no bread-and-butter plates? My husband says it belongs on the dinner plate and when breaking off a piece the rest should be put back on the plate and not on the tablecloth. He thinks I misunderstood your advice so will you please set us straight on this?"

Answer: As long as the roll is dry it may be put on the tablecloth, but when buttered it should be put on your plate.

Fashionette Club Holds Banquet

The fifth annual banquet was observed by members of the Fashionette Club when they met Tuesday at Hi-Land Manor.

Mrs. Wava Forker was chairman of the affair. Mrs. Albert Lovse offered the invocation, and Mrs. Eugene Shelton was mistress of ceremonies.

Mrs. Frank Reichert led group singing, and Mrs. Edward Cook and Mrs. Robert Smith sang duets accompanied by Mrs. Marlene Mardis at the piano.

Fall flowers flowing from a cornucopia centered the banquet table. The centerpiece was given as a prize to Mrs. Daniel Navarro. Members were presented corsages made by Mrs. Raymond Hibbs.

The Fashionette Club is sponsored by the Pontiac Department of Parks and Recreation. Meetings are held each Tuesday from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Adah Shelly Branch Library. Any woman desiring to lose weight and attending three consecutive meetings is eligible for membership.

Employers Close Minds

Age Has Little to Do With Years

Employers and personnel directors should consider a person on his or her own merits rather than let age be a deterring factor.

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Most of my readers know what I think about age consciousness — I believe it ages more women than years ever do. I want to print part of a dynamic and amusing letter which came recently from a reader.

"Dear Mrs. Lowman: I am 46 and never even thought about my age until recently when I had a shattering experience with a college registrar.

"I had asked how many hours I needed to qualify for my degree. I was rewarded with a fishy stare and the comment, 'After all, Madame, you ARE 45. Why do you want a B.A. degree?'

"My immediate reaction was to bash him over the head with my purse. It is the attitude of others which is difficult to combat. Recently my age was found out in my community and people, meaning to be complimentary, said things like, 'I did not know you were THAT old. You don't look THAT old.' Friends say, 'We are too old for this or that.' This fills me with impotent fury and also makes me want to bash someone over the head.

"I work full time, maintain a home for my family, design and make most of my clothes and my daughter's, and am active in community affairs. I have frequently applied for positions in order to better my situation. The employer or personnel director usually fixes his or her eyes on a spot on the wall just above my head and does not listen to a word I say. When will the individual be considered on his own merits and not arbitrarily shelved at the age of 40?

"I know some women who are old at 30. I know one child of 13 who is already old. I am convinced that age has no relation to calendar years."

All I can say to that is "Amen!"

The registrar is certainly old-fashioned and has not kept up with the times. Adult education is becoming an important part of so many schools.

I long ago became convinced that the woman who thinks in terms of years rather than life actually and literally ages much more rapidly physically than the one who is so busy enjoying life that the thought of age seldom, if ever, occurs to her.

Daughters of Isabella Hold Dinner Meeting

The first party will be held Nov. 24 at K. of C. hall with Mrs. Richard Ashton and Mrs. Lewis Cooper in charge of games. Mrs. Charles Berch and Rose Griffin are in charge of prizes. On the refreshment committee are Mrs. Joseph Pfeffer and Estelle Stevens.

Soaking nails in oil often helps relieve brittleness. But it often is wise to check on your diet if nails continue to split and crack.

Well Worth Effort

A brief daily round with the elbows keeps you from being embarrassed by them. If they have become exceedingly rough and dingy, scrub them first with a nail brush. Follow this with a cream or lotion applied with a circular motion. It takes only a minute or two and is worth it.

UF-Sponsored Group Helps Area Couple to New Life

Accident a Blessing, With Red Cross

CHECKING THE CARGO — Here, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stowell of 43 Elizabeth Lake Rd. check a valuable cargo to be taken to an area hospital. They are Red Cross Motor Service volunteers transporting blood plasma to a hospital blood bank. This is typical of the many services performed each day by volunteers of the local Red Cross, a United Fund agency.

The screeching of brakes . . . a dull thud . . . and suddenly a woman writhing in pain — this describes a scene which was the turning point in the lives of an area family.

Although the scene was tragic at first, the turning point for Mrs. Jones, when she was struck by a passing car, was possibly the best thing that ever happened to her.

The "good" in this accident was brought about by the Pontiac Chapter of the American Red Cross, a United Fund agency.

A volunteer in the hospital emergency room notified Mr. Jones, and the Red Cross began supplying what eventually amounted to 12 pints of blood that Mrs. Jones required for transfusions in the coming weeks.

After Mrs. Jones was in the hospital for some time, a Red Cross Gray Lady noticed that her husband never came to visit. When a skillful Red Cross volunteer home service worker contacted him, Mr. Jones first said he was afraid of what it would cost him to replace the blood.

She explained that replacement was not demanded and could be accomplished if and when he was able to do it. This turned out to be the least of the Jones' troubles.

He was unemployed, having quit his job when his wife was hospitalized. This was necessary, the volunteer found, because he had to care for their only daughter.

It was then discovered that the 5-year-old daughter was badly retarded both physically and mentally, and the parents had been caring for her since birth without knowing outside help could be obtained at little or no cost.

PLACED CHILD

The Red Cross saw that both parents had done more than could be expected of them and that there was a definite financial need present. Other trained workers set out to find a suitable hospital, best equipped to give the crippled child proper care.

This was done and transportation was furnished to the hospital by Red Cross Motor Service volunteers, in this case a retired Pontiac Motor employe and his wife.

After a gradual recovery facilitated by the tireless help of Gray Ladies, Mrs. Jones returned home to a new life.

Her husband had taken a responsible position as landscaper for a large county firm. In several months she too got a job.

This all happened several years ago. Today Mr. and Mrs. Jones have paid all debts that were hanging over their heads at the time of the accident and have moved from their two-room dwelling to a comfortable home in a modest residential neighborhood.

They visit their daughter at the hospital regularly, realizing that she is receiving much better care and guidance than they could have given her at home.

This family can thank the Red Cross for giving them a "new start" in life out of what appeared to be their "darkest hour."

Many families throughout Oakland County benefit in similar ways each year due to the continued work of the local Red Cross, made possible by your United Fund contributions.

Scientific Authority Maintains:

'Cocktail Parties Bring On Pure Amnesia'

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI) — All persons concerned about their inability to remember what happened at cocktail parties (and they must number a majority of persons who go to them), can put their worries at rest on the word of a scientific authority on the odd ins and outs of human behavior.

It's not simple forgetfulness, he agreed, but pure amnesia which is a complete loss of memory.

Rather than meaning a mental cog has slipped out of place, however, it most likely means the amnesia "victim" doesn't care to be aware of or to associate himself with cocktail party goings-on.

Dr. Chandler Washburne of the University of Florida, Gainesville, was arguing that pure amnesia (although not amnesia due to any illness), is common among people whether they've had one drink, a number of drinks, or no drinks at all.

The ability to remember, he said, is based first of all on awareness — awareness of one's self in relation to people and circumstances.

Awareness depends upon two things: one is to feel associated with the people and the circumstances and the other is to pay attention to them.

His views struck at a critical point in scientific efforts to understand all the things intoxicating drink do to people.

Amnesia is so common among people who drink (if only a little) that many scientists feel alcohol makes spectacular changes in both the psychological and physical workings of the mind.

Washburne reasoned that no person can remember something of which he was not aware, even if it happened under his nose.

And he can't be aware of anything unless he pays attention to it and unless he also feels associated with it, for one reason or another.

Unawareness with inattention and disassociation goes on all the time among the soberest.

Since alcohol depresses body activities, Washburne reasoned it must depress the hidden "drives and motivations" of people as well.

A theory held by some scientists as well as most laymen is that people do things while intoxicated they'd never do while sober because the mind's suppressing control over these drives and motivation is "dissolved by alcohol."

He thought it much more likely that alcohol decreases the drinker's awareness of himself and his association of himself with circumstances and people.

What happens is not that he stops "censoring" himself but he stops "monitoring" himself. Amnesia results from this lack of attention and that is the meaning of alcoholic memory loss.

Rather than the drinker having disgraced himself so horribly, amnesia protects him from the memory of it.

"Intoxicated people not only do uninhibited or self-forbidden things, but also just plain stupid or unforesighted things," he said in the technical journal of the Yale University center of studies on alcohol.

"The trained user of alcohol may want his awareness to be reduced, and after a drink or two he can allow the whole awareness system to crumble."

Apples, pears, and sweet cherries first developed in the fertile, temperate, hilly land around the Black and Caspian Seas. Peoples of ancient civilizations there and in Europe ate those fruits centuries before Columbus discovered the New World.

Laborers Non-Partisan in 'Attack' on Capitol

A spokesman said the operation had no political significance.

"Some of our workmen are Democrats, some are Republicans," he said. "This project is non-partisan."

The workmen planned to spend most of the week tearing down the more than 150-year-old balustrades on top of the Capitol building's original House and Senate wings.

The operation is one of the first steps in tearing down the entire 80-foot high portico to make room for the new 10-million-dollar east front. Each of the portico's 32-foot-high solid pillars weighs about 10 tons.

The new east front will be an exact copy of the old east front except that it will be made of marble instead of sandstone. It also will be 32½ feet out from the old east front, making room for offices, restaurants and private passageways so congressmen can get about without mingling with citizens in the public halls.

The old front wall will be left generally intact. But the portico under which Lincoln was inaugurated will be replaced and preserved.

Stafford Kelly, chief project engineer, objected Monday night on the "Capital Assignment" radio program to use of the term "tearing down" in connection with the portico.

"I prefer the word dissect," he said.

Kelly said each stone is being carefully numbered and registered as it is removed and is being stored temporarily on the capitol grounds.

He said he did not know what eventually will be done with the portico. But he said his workmen will be able to rebuild it to the last piece of scroll work anytime anyone should happen to want a capitol portico.

The Smithsonian Institution already has expressed some interest in obtaining part of it—but not all of it. The Smithsonian is still working on finding room for all its airplanes.

Kelly was asked if the portico might possibly be turned over to the foreign aid program for presentation to a "country that has everything."

"Over my dead body," he said.

State Motorists Set Safe Driving Record

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Michigan motorists set an October safe driving record which was the lowest in the last quarter of a century, the state police said today.

The death toll for October was 96, 46 less than the 142 killed during that month a year ago. The total is only a provisional report and may increase if delayed reports come in later.

It was the sixth month this year in which less than 100 died.

The low announced previously for September was 117 killed but delayed reports of fatalities increased this toll to 130.

For the first 10 months of the year, 1,050 have died compared to 1,246 for the same period a year ago.

Does Stretch on Road

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Mrs. B. B. Whitehead, who drives her husband to work, reports that while stopped for a red light one recent morning she saw a man hop out of his car, stretch his arms up high, touch his toes, hop back into his car and drive off when the light changed to green.

By Narrow 9 Per Cent Margin

Pontiac Sewage Plant Defeated

By PETE LOCHBILER

The sewage treatment plant bond issue failed yesterday in Pontiac for the second time in two years, by a narrow nine per cent margin.

While the bond issue won a simple majority of votes, it did not gather the three-fifths majority necessary to pass.

The final unofficial tally was 6,354 votes for the bond issue and 5,163 votes against it. To pass, the issue would have needed 6,910 votes.

Only property owners voted on the question.

The proposition called for a $3,300,000 general obligation bond issue to build a new sewage treatment plant, expand the old one and tie the two together.

The defeat was not as onesided as in the May, 1957 special election. A $3,091,000 bond issue was turned down then by 4,489 votes to 2,199.

The near success of yesterday's bond issue was attributed, in part, to Pontiac's large voter turnout. The last successful bond issue was in 1956, when approximately 10,000 property owners balloted.

Defeat of the bond issue left city officials scratching their heads. In their minds were two important considerations.

(1) Expanded sewage treatment facilities, they believed, are the keystone to further residential and industrial expansion within Pontiac; and (2) the state Water Resources Commission has a watchful eye on Pontiac pollution of the Clinton River.

It was possible that the Commission, noting the latest election results would order Pontiac to expand its treatment facilities. Expansion under such an order would probably be financed through a revenue bond issue which would be paid off through increased sewage disposal rates to homeowners.

Revenue bonds would probably cost more in interest than general obligation bonds, and the extra cost would also be passed along in the form of higher sewage rates to Pontiac residents, officials figured.

The Commission last tested the Clinton for pollution in August and the results of the test should be known soon. If the pollution rate is too high, the sewage treatment plant order may follow. If it is not, Pontiac may be granted another breathing space.

It is the latter possibility that has officials wondering whether they should put the treatment plant question to voters again next spring.

Ike Comments on Dem Victory

Warns About Spending, Doesn't Expect Trouble With Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the electorate obviously voted for spending in giving the Democrats greater control of Congress.

At a news conference, Eisenhower called any trend toward bigger federal spending a dangerous one.

He pledged that his administration will fight hard against it during his last two years in office.

Speaking against the background of sweeping Democratic election triumphs, Eisenhower emphatically replied—not at all—when asked whether he expects to have additional trouble during the next two years in dealing with Congress.

Eisenhower added he always has managed to get along pretty well with Congress. He said he is confident that Democrats as well as Republicans are motivated by what is good for the country.

The news conference was dominated by questions about the outcome of Tuesday's elections, which gave the Democrats the tighest control of Congress since New Deal days.

Eisenhower arrived about two minutes early for the session. He promptly asked whether there were any questions, and then joined in the laughter when the first reporter stood up and said: "Yes sir."

Two or three times, Eisenhower refused to be drawn into any prediction or expression of opinion regarding any effect the vote may have on Republican potentials for the 1960 presidential nomination.

As for Eisenhower's oft-stated ideal of molding his party along what he calls lines of modern Republicanism, the President said that not for one minute is he discouraged.

He said somewhat grimly that anyone who has as strong principles as he has cannot afford to be discouraged. He recalled that during World War II he suffered military setbacks at Kasserine Pass and in the Battle of the Bulge.

Eisenhower remarked that you can't be discouraged about such things—you must look on them as opportunities of some kind.

Doris Day's Next Film Will Be Zany Comedy

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD — That busy girl Doris Day has just signed herself a new deal. She goes to Columbia for "Who Is Sylvia," based on an original story by Leonard Gershe, with David Miller directing. David's last for Columbia was "The Story of Esther Costello."

"Who Is Sylvia" won't be made until Doris finishes "It's That Time of Year" which she'll make with Rock Hudson at Universal-International. Of course Marty Melcher, who has certainly been good for Doris' career, is executive producer, with Roger Eden as producer. "Who Is Sylvia" is a zany comedy with six songs to be written especially for Doris.

Debbie Reynolds will take her two children, Carrie Frances and Todd, East with her when she goes to New York to talk about two play offers.

Things Look Brighter for Spartans Next Season—They Figure

Scratch '58—MSU Already Counting '59 Faces

EAST LANSING (AP)—This season has gone slipping down the drain as far as any Michigan State football hopes are concerned.

So coaches already are casting an anxious eye about to try to appraise what will be left from the wreckage of 1958 for next year.

One losing season can be forgiven and forgotten after three winning years. But you don't have two flop years in a row at a football conscious university like Michigan State without trouble.

There are all those stadium seats to be filled and the wolves start howling for a sacrifice.

Even this far away, things look brighter for Michigan State in 1959—and not only because there's no place to go but up.

For one thing, the Spartans won't be losing a lineup of good seniors as was the case this season—fellows like center Dan Currie, halfback Walt Kowalczyk, quarterback Jim Ninowski, tackle Pat Burke and Ends Dave Kaiser, Bob Jewett and Tony Kolodziej.

About the only seniors who have performed consistently so far this season have been end Sammy Williams and guard Ellison Kelly.

Michigan State desperately needs backfield punch and a quarterback able to hit at least 50 per cent of his passes.

Coaches rated the River Rouge power runner as the best all-around player on the squad before his injury. A pile driving runner able to punch a hole up the middle is one of State's crying needs.

Dean Look, who has performed faithfully in all games and brilliantly in some will be back at left half at a senior—unless he decides on a baseball contract. Sophomore Al Luplow, who hit his stride against Wisconsin, will be back to spell him.

At right half, they are pinning a lot of hopes on Gary Ballman, 197-pound freshman from East Detroit. There's already talk of giving him the No. 14 jersey worn by such greats as Kowalczyk, Billy Wells and Lynn Chandnois.

There are several good looking sophomore quarterback prospects. But these have a way of falling off like the autumn leaves.

Coaches probably will have to decide between some of the still unproved candidates now on hand. Greg Montgomery and Larry Bielat will be seniors, Tommy Wilson and Ike Grimsley will be juniors.

Sophomores Mickey Walker and Fred Arbanas already are playing first string at guard and end. Other juniors and sophomores have been drafted to take on the load of regular play that should belong to the seniors.

On the slide rule of material available, things should be looking up for Michigan State next season.

Ex-Pro Replaces Unitas

Lawyer Kerkorian May Get Colts Out of Hole

It is the second time that the former National Football League quarterback has come out of retirement to give the Colts a hand. This time it was prompted by the loss of Baltimore's brilliant quarterback, Johnny Unitas, for three weeks and possibly four.

The Colts management confirmed reluctantly yesterday that Unitas—who has led the Colts to six straight victories and the top of the Western Conference—suffered three fractured ribs in last Sunday's game with the Green Bay Packers.

They had contended previously that Unitas' injury was only a bruise and that he would be ready for the New York Giants this weekend.

Kerkorian, No. 1 Colts quarterback in 1954—his first year out of Stanford—flies into Baltimore today. Said General Manager Don Kellett:

"If we can get together on terms, Gary should be with the club for Thursday's practice and I can see no reason why we can't come to a speedy agreement."

Kerkorian's previous rescue of Baltimore was during the 1956 season when quarterback George Shaw, from Oregon, banged up his knee. Unitas was an untried player from Louisville then.

The Colts asked Kerkorian, who was a law student at Georgetown University in Washington, D.C., to come back to work. He did. But he threw only two passes before Unitas caught fire. So at the season's end, Kerkorian stepped down again, as he had done at the end of the 1955 season.

Baltimore Coach Weeb Ewbank said Kerkorian is in good shape.

"I never have had any fears about Kerkorian's condition," he said. "He has been coaching a bunch of kids and throwing a lot. I'm just glad we got him for insurance for Shaw."

Ewbank also wasn't worried about the lawyer knowing the plays.

"We haven't changed things that much and Kerkorian is smart. He can and will pick up the signals in a jiffy."

PCH Note: Next 2 Foes Listed 1-2 in Ratings

Which is better the frying pan or the fire? Neither would be comfortable, and Pontiac Central High School just hasn't the choice, it must accept both for the next two weeks.

The Chiefs can accept Bay City Central as the number one team as according to the AP Poll, or they can accept Flint Central as the top class A squad as according to the UPI poll.

Friday, PCH travels to Bay City and a week later Flint Central comes to Pontiac in either instance an unenviable assignment for the Chiefs.

Northville and West Bloomfield of the Wayne-Oakland League both took positions in the Class B poll, with the Lakers moving back into the top ten, despite the narrow call against Bloomfield Hills.

Avondale was in 15th place this week and has its Oakland B showdown with Troy on the home field Friday.

Farmington holds down 8th place in the A listing among county teams and Almont was back in 9th place in Class C of the UPI ratings.

West Side Recreation downed East Highland Recreation for three points as Frank Spadafore fired a 687, and Bill Bull a 676 to lead Calbi Music to a four point sweep over Roth Lumber. Calbi's steady games of 1056, 1086 and 1060 were too much for the Lumber five.

Minor League Meetings Begin

Special Sessions Could Result in Big Changes

Franchise Shifts, Loop Mergers May Follow Gathering

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Franchise shifts, league mergers and other changes affecting the entire minor league structure may result from a special meeting of seven high classification circuits which opened today.

Representatives of 54 teams will sit in on the two-day sessions.

The unprecedented gathering was called by President George Trautman of the National Assn. at the request of Bill DeWitt, baseball co-ordinator and administrator of the $500,000 major league fund. DeWitt will report on his findings following an exhaustive summer-long survey of the minor league situation.

Although no legislative action is expected here, it is DeWitt's belief that several franchise shifts and possibly a league merger may develop after the draft meetings in Washington next month.

"We have learned that several clubs are in favor of becoming affiliated with different leagues," said DeWitt. "It's highly possible that switching of clubs or consolidation of leagues might occur here. With all the teams and leagues representatives on hand, many changes could result. Under baseball law, however, they would not become effective until after the draft meetings in December when players' contracts, frozen since October 15, can again be transferred."

DeWitt said he was not at liberty to reveal what clubs were seeking shifts or which leagues were considering consolidation. It is no secret, though, that the St. Louis Cardinals do not intend to operate their Houston farm unless the Texas League club is promoted to the American Assn. in place of the Louisville club, which recently declared it could not operate next year unless its finances were underwritten by a major league club.

The American Assn. may be faced with another problem if Milwaukee makes good its threat to attempt to move its Wichita franchise to Jacksonville, now in the Sally League. One of the leagues anxious to consolidate is the Western, which has a transportation problem resulting from the more than 1,000-mile spread between Albuquerque and Sioux City.

Should the Texas League lose Houston, there is a possibility that circuit may attempt to draft either Albuquerque or Amarillo from the Western.

Indians Entertain Tigers Twice at Night

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians today announced they will play a 35-game home night schedule in 1959, the most in the club's history.

The world champion New York Yankees will be opponents seven times under the lights. Baltimore is scheduled for six night games, Chicago, Boston, Kansas City and Washington five, and Detroit only two contests.

The first night game will be April 17 against Kansas City, and the final archlight affair against the same Athletics, Sept. 25. It marks the first time in many years a club other than Detroit will close the Tribe's home season.

"SPITTOON" GAME — Michigan State isn't winning too many trophies this year and already the cry is up, "Wait till next year," but the 100 year old "brass spittoon" is the trophy at stake when MSU and Indiana meet Saturday. The trophy was initiated in 1950 and the Spartans have held on to it since. Captain Sammy Williams (left) gives it to coach Duffy Daugherty all shined up.

NFL Rushing Mark Sure for Brown

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Jim Brown, who gained "only" 113 yards and scored "only" one touchdown Sunday against the New York Giants continues to close in rapidly on National Football League records for rushing and touchdown scoring by an individual.

NFL statistics released today showed the big fullback of the Cleveland Browns has gained 928 yards running to leave him only 218 yards short of Steve Van Buren's league mark. His per game average is now 155 yards, which if maintained would enable him to break the record in his next two games.

His average for each of his 131 rushes is a startling 7.1 yards. Brown's TD as his team lost to the Giants brought his season total to 15 and a point total of 90 in six games. The league record for touchdowns in a season is 18, by Van Buren in 10 games.

Rookie Bob Mitchell, another Cleveland flash, is second in rushing with a total of 479 yards and Jon Arnett of the Los Angeles Rams moved into third with 381 yards.

Eddie LeBaron of the Washington Redskins has accounted for an average of 9.38 yards with each pass he's thrown. The diminutive Skins' quarterback has attempted 71 and completed 37 for 666 yards. John Brodie of the San Francisco 49ers has the best completion average, 61.1 per cent. He has tossed 126 times and connected 77 for 970 yards. Norn Van Brocklin of the Philadelphia Eagles has the most completions, 109 in 216 tosses, and the most yards gained, 1,295. John Unitas has pitched the most touchdown passes, 12 in six games.

Among the receivers, Ray Berry of Baltimore and Pete Retzlaff of the Eagles lead with 29 each. Berry leads in touchdown catches with 5. Del Shofner of Los Angeles has caught 27 but gained the most yards, 532 against Berry's 478 and Retzlaff's 430.

Willie Galimore of the Chicago Bears is second among the scorers with 60 points, 30 behind Brown. Len Moore of the Colts is third with 48.

Arnett has averaged 16.3 yards with each punt he's returned and Len Lyles of Baltimore leads the kickoff return contingent with an average of 50.3 yards.

Andy Nelson of the Colts has intercepted six passes and returned them 199 yards to lead Jack Morris of the Rams, Joe Schmidt of the Detroit Lions and Jack Butler of Pittsburgh, each of whom also has stolen six passes.

Finsterwald Is Atlanta Threat

Fires 3-Under Par 69 in Warmup for $25,000 Open Links Test

ATLANTA (AP)—On the basis of warm-up play, Dow Finsterwald was rated the man to beat today as competition began in the $25,000 Atlanta Open golf tournament.

The talented PGA king from Tequesta, Fla., conquered the new, tricky Cherokee Town and Country Club par 72 course in 69 strokes yesterday afternoon.

First place money in the four-day 72-hole stroke play tourney is $3,500 except for four former champions who are shooting for $8,500. The extra $5,000 is offered by the sponsor for a repeat winner.

The former champions are Finsterwald, defending champion Paul Harney of Worcester, Mass., Doug Ford of Paradise, Fla., and Julius Boros of Mid-Pines, N.C.

The field had reached 121 last night. A last-minute entry could be Dick Mayer of St. Petersburg, Fla., last year's U.S. Open and world champ.

Rumors Have MSU, Illinois Violating Rules

DES MOINES (AP) — The Des Moines Tribune said Tuesday "there's a rumble going around the Big Ten Conference that Michigan State and Illinois are in the doghouse for recruiting violations."

The Tribune story, by staff writer Tony Cordaro, said:

"The rumor says the Big Ten faculty representatives, when they meet in December in Chicago, will slap the wrists of Hugh "Duffy" Daugherty, Michigan State football coach, for a recruiting infraction.

"The reported Illinois violation is said to involve baseball."

Ron Rothbarth's 299 still stands as the best game bowled in league play around the Pontiac area this season but a 300 has been posted in practice.

Monroe Moore, proprietor of Auburn Lanes in Auburn Heights, turned the trick a few days ago at Huron Bowl—the same alley where Ron just missed going all the way.

Moore reeled off a total of 17 straight strikes during his hot streak which is certainly an outstanding accomplishment anytime. Rothbarth's best latest effort was a 670 series.

Not up to the scores of Rothbarth and Moore but a kingpin in the Elks House League is L. Jelsch. He tops that loop with a 256 single and a 604 series.

Among the women, G. Miner recently fired a 596 series in the Ladies Huron House loop. Carolyn Newcomb had a 591 series and a 238 game in the Lakewood 59ers League.

The latest leader in the traveling Ladies All Star loop is Evelyn Prosser. She hit 557 Sunday to top the list of eight members who have bettered 500 thus far.

SKIPPING AROUND

The Elks Monday League is among the closest in the city . . . Teachers at the new Pontiac Northern have formed a bowling league of 16 teams. They compete at Sylvan Lanes. Singles of 223 and 225 and a 634 series have already been rolled by the faculty members . . . The WIBC has not had a sanctioned 300 this season. Women in California and Illinois have hit 299.

Johnny Boshears of Holly was presented an A.B.C patch Oct. 23 for converting a 7-10 split three weeks before. Later in the evening he did it again. It all happened at East Highland Recreation in Milford, according to secretary Jim Hagerty of the Thursday Night Men's League.

Some of the area bowling establishments are expected to take part in a Thanksgiving Bowling Tournament for charity to be staged by the Detroit Bowling Council. It will start Nov. 17. Qualifying rounds and a handicap setup similar to that used in the past in The Pontiac Press Bowlerama will be featured. Top performers will share in an estimated $3,500 worth of merchandise prizes.

Gen Bradley, a veteran local kegler and Pontiac Women's Bowling Association official, currently holds the top season average of 157 and has rolled the best series of 533 in the Elks Ladies League.

He's One of a Vanishing Breed

Ptacek Is M's 'Iron Man'

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Bob Ptacek is a refreshing reminder of Michigan's storied tradition that has become somewhat tarnished of late.

The senior quarterback is a throwback to the 1920s. Those were the days when the Wolverines won more often than they lost.

Ptacek belongs to that vanishing breed—the iron man.

In the modern day of liberal substitution Michigan can't afford to play without Ptacek. The Wolverines are a different team when he's not on the field.

This has been proven frequently this dull season. Ptacek went the entire route offensively against Michigan State and Michigan battled to a 12-12 tie. He played 51 minutes against Minnesota and Michigan won.

Until Ptacek was tuckered out against Iowa, Michigan fought the nation's No. 2 team on even terms. The Wolverines collapsed after Ptacek was assisted from the field against Northwestern.

Why was Ptacek a lefthalf bench warmer for two seasons? Why was he first converted from quarterback, his freshman position, and why wasn't he changed back?

The Wolverines had experienced signal callers, Jim Van Pelt and Jim Maddock, in 1956 when Ptacek was a sophomore. Van Pelt and Stan Noskin were available last year. Ptacek, thus, languished on the sidelines behind All-America Jim Pace for two campaigns.

"Pace was erratic and Ptacek was needed to back him up," Oosterbaan said. "He actually beat Pace out two years ago."

Pace, however reclaimed the job after Ptacek started the first two games in 1956. But Ptacek's availability permitted Terry Barr's transfer to right halfback, a move that insured the success of the 1956 season.

The master plan this season was to remodel Ptacek as a quarterback and return to the single wing. Ptacek, 207 pounds, fit the bill as a blocking back better than Noskin. The job was his from the start. He retained it as Michigan gradually returned to the T.

Last Saturday he outclassed Randy Duncan, Iowa's All-America quarterback candidate. But Duncan had help from his teammates. All season Ptacek has had good cause to sue for non-support. Still he has passed for a .537 percentage.

Ptacek's passes are Michigan's best hope for a return to respectability in the final third of the season.

Victories over Illinois, Indiana and Ohio State would salvage some of Michigan's sagging prestige.

The Wolverines began heavy work yesterday for Saturday's Illinois encounter. End Walt Johnson rejoined the team but was told not to test his injured knee until today.

U. of M. IRON MAN — Bob Ptacek has been the iron man for the University of Michigan this fall but his play hasn't been enough to produce a winning season for the Wolverines. Ptacek was shifted from halfback to quarterback and he passed well against Iowa last week. In this photo he bulls his way for yardage against the Hawkeyes.

Ram Tops County Scorers by 17

Lyon Seeking 2nd Title

A seven-touchdown spree in the last two games has given St. Frederick's fine fullback Jack Lyon a 17-point spread on his nearest competitor but he will likely need at least one or two more Sunday to win the Oakland County scoring championship for the 2nd successive season.

Harvey Chapman, a versatile Farmington reserve halfback, is the new runnerup with 79 points. Long-time leader Ed Busch of Birmingham is a close 3rd with 78.

Lyon and Chapman, who tallied 32 points Friday, conclude play this weekend but Busch will still have another game to play. The Maple could pull it out with a blazing finish should Lyon be held down by St. Rita here Sunday. Jack currently has 96 points, 12 less than in 1957.

John Lucadam dropped to 4th and avoided a dive to 5th by kicking two extra points before he was injured at Bloomfield Hills. He has 61 points to 59 by Walled Lake fullback Mike Wurst, who got 22 against Waterford.

Dave Stokes of Troy ranks 6th with 55 while five others have 48 including St. Fred's Tom Derocher and Chuck Steinhelper of St. Michael.

Walled Lake and Farmington each have three players among the top 20.

Almont power-runner Frank Hartway has been coming along fast in the county area race. He now trails Dan Donar by only seven points — 73-66. Donar's teammate Ed Everhart and the Brown City pair of Bob Fisher and Ron Irish went scoreless to slip down a notch.

Two Ohio State Students Nabbed in Grid Pool

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two Ohio State University students were arrested here Tuesday in connection with a football gambling pool, similar to one recently disclosed at the University of Michigan.

Arrest of the two on charges of selling football pool tickets came on the heels of an investigation into a lottery operation on and near the Ohio State campus.

The Columbus Dispatch said it learned that the football pool here is a $10,000-a-week business.

The two students charged by the state highway patrol are Jay Franklin Noyes, 21, of Anderson, S. C., and Racey Adair Morris, 27, of Summerfield, Ohio. Both are seniors in the college of education.

At National Horse Show

Wiley Wins First Test

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK (AP)—Bill Steinkraus, a handsome stock analyst when he's not urging horses over barriers of assorted shapes and sizes, is captain of the United States International Jumping team.

It's an important job and one that could give a fellow more gray hairs than watching stocks go up and down. Stocks and horses are both unpredictable. Only, in stocks, he has himself to worry about. With horses, his country's prestige is at stake.

There have been many lean years for the Americans in international competition, but times could be changing.

The National Horse Show went into its second day at Madison Square Garden today. Steinkraus and Co. are tied with the powerful West Germans at one victory each in international competition.

"But they're a tough crowd," said Steinkraus today. "They won the Olympic championship in 1956. They've got good horses and they're no strangers here. Those are three things in their favor.

That didn't stop Hugh Wiley of Towson, Md., from winning the opening international event yesterday, the Wesut Challenge Trophy. A 30-year-old engineer, Wiley rode Master William over eight hurdles in faultless fashion in 38.9 seconds.

Hawks Move to Third Place Tie

Litzenberger Is Pace-Setter in 4-2 Victory Over Rangers

By The Associated Press

The Chicago Black Hawks began the current National Hockey League campaign a month ago with nine new faces.

But Ed Litzenberger, a guy who was with them when they finished in the cellar in the 1957-1958 campaign, has sparked the Hawks into a third-place deadlock with Detroit.

Litzenberger scored twice and had one assist last night as Chicago downed the New York Rangers 4-2. The setback was the fourth in a row for Phil Watson's fifth-placers.

Chicago took a 3-0 lead after two periods, Camille Henry tallied New York's first goal at 11:25 of the third. But Litzenberger grabbed his second marker three minutes later. Dean Prentice notched the other New York goal.

Ted Lindsay and Tod Sloan helped get the Hawks off winging. Lindsay got the first goal in the opening period and Sloan and Litzenberger tallied in the second.

Strikes and Spares

By JOE WILMAN

Many bowlers worry about dipping the right shoulder a bit as they bring the ball forward in delivery. We illustrate just such a dip today, which they try to avoid, feeling they should keep the shoulders level throughout their approach and delivery.

Actually their worries are groundless. I think it's only natural for the right shoulder to drop a bit, as the drawing shows, at this point in the armswing. After all, there is a 16-pound bowling ball pulling it down.

If the shoulder dips too far, however, you will have trouble. The ball will probably bounce off the approach and "dribble" down the alley with little stuff or control.

A slight dip is all right.

So if your right shoulder dips a bit at this point of your delivery, don't worry about it. Keep the shoulders facing your target, and you'll be all right.

BPAA Keglers at Southfield

Falstaff of St. Louis will defend its BPAA National Team Match Game title in the first BPAA tournament of the new bowling season. The BPAA National Team Match Game Championship, with an entirely new format, will be held from Saturday, Nov. 22, through Tuesday, Nov. 25, in Star Lanes, Northwestern Highway in Southfield.

Unlike former years, when the two top teams in the eliminations battled it out in a home-and-home match for the title, this year's eliminations and finals will be centered in one establishment under completely neutral conditions without a break between eliminations and the final matches.

Tournament Director, Syl Sobanski, announced he expected a full field of 48 teams for this year's event in the Detroit suburb.

Yellowjackets at Home for Title Game

Avondale vs Troy Friday

By CHUCK ABAIR

The Oakland B League championship goes up for grabs Friday night when Avondale plays host to Troy in what is expected to be one of the outstanding games of the season in this sector.

Already certain of at least a tie for the crown due to four straight triumphs, the Yellowjackets are giving no thought to sharing the title with anyone. They are determined to take all the marbles as a climax to a cinderella-like season.

Avondale was not figured a contender this fall after going winless all season in 1957 but coach Frank Crowell has done an outstanding job in developing a formidable array.

The Jackets divided their 1st four games—three of them non-league affairs—but have since taken three straight while showing an amazing ability to come from behind.

Crowell drilled his charges on offense last night and stressed defense today in the final heavy workout. Starters Ken Mather and Gary Acker have been ailing but are able to practice. Mather has a knee injury while Acker has a boil on his chin which prevents him from fastening his helmet.

The coach expects a busy time with the visiting Colts. "It will be the first time we have faced an unbalanced line this year," said Frank today.

"We want this one bad. You know we never have had a championship or even a co-championship since entering the league in 1950," pointed out Troy skipper Joe Bechard today.

A loss to Madison has been the only blot on the Colts' loop record. "That was a bad night. We've got a good team," added Joe.

Avondale will likely rate the favorite role by a slim margin on the basis of its unbeaten record plus the home field advantage. An overflow crowd is anticipated by officials at the Auburn Heights school.

Avon has had a variety of offensive stars from week to week throughout the season while Troy has depended largely on two boys.

A total of 11 different Yellowjackets have scored points, nine of them getting at least one touchdown. Hustling quarterback Dick Smith and halfback Dennis Shaw head the pack with five TDs apiece. Pass catcher Herb Harris has four tallies and co-captain Larry Douglas three. Acker has a pair plus nine extra points.

Powerful Dave Stokes, a 190-pounder who likes to run over defenders, has been the big noise for Troy all season. He has scored twice in four different games and has a total of 55 points. Quarterback Rick McKinnon and Jim DePauw have 18 each.

Most of the other area league titles are either settled or at least virtually decided but there will be several other interesting games on the Friday docket.

Saturday, Rochester goes after a 2nd place finish in the Tri-County as guest of L'Anse Creuse, Ferndale visits Royal Oak Dondero and Cranbrook makes its final bid for victory as host to Gilmour of Ohio.

Major Hoople Sez: Egad! Hak! Zounds!

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Built First Goalposts

EGAD! Traditional contests abound as the football season enters its final stages. It is a time when alumni return to alma mater and renew old friendships. In color-splashed stadia great feats of derring-do will be recorded as the athletes reach a fever pitch.

Hak-kaff, I am talking about tremendous upsets. I assure my zillions of readers they are in the making at this very moment. The morale of coaches will be shattered as the unexpected hits their teams this week.

Zounds! As my perfect handicapping shows, there will be surprises throughout the land. None, of course, of the magnitude of the one I caused by belaboring Pudge Heffelfinger in a private scrimmage at Yale one fall. But still the surprises will be big ones.

Baylor will attack Texas with relentless force and imagiation reminiscent of my greatest days and come away with a 27-13 victory! People will refuse to believe the final score of the Iowa State Oklahoma games until it has been re-checked and even then will only half believe Iowa State has won by 15-6!

Columbia is to reach great heights in subduing Dartmouth, 7-0. On this latter score, I must admit it will not be as much of an upset as all indications would have it appear. You see, I have taken time out from a busy week to give advice on the telephone to the Columbia coaching staff.

I have not done this for anybody since I went to Worcester in 1941 to tutor the Holy Cross youngsters who went on to amass an implausible score in beating mighty Boston College.

Iowa's Fleming Gets 'Unsung Hero' Title

CHICAGO (UPI)—Iowa's sophomore halfback, Willie Fleming of Hamtramck, was named "unsung hero of the week" by the Chicago football writers for his performance in the Hawkeye victory against Michigan.

Fleming, never higher than the second team and used sparingly, ran 72 yards with a punt for one Iowa touchdown, and ran 61 yards from scrimmage for another score.

He also had a 40 yard kickoff return and averaged 14 yards per carry on six rushes from scrimmage. In five previous games he had only 90 yards in 26 carries.

Gophers' Grid Misery Brings Words of Alarm

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesota's football misery brought expressions of alarm and words like "serious" and "terrible" Tuesday from the executive secretary of the University Alumni Assn.

But Ed Haislet, the secretary, denied there was any organized pressure against Coach Murray Warmath or Ike Armstrong, the athletic director.

He suggested, however, that more teamwork was needed to deliver top-drawer talent to the school.

Minnesota has lost six in a row this season and nine straight since November 1957, the longest losing streak in the nation among schools playing a big time schedule.

"I was on the phone almost all day answering calls from rabid fans who wanted to know what can be done about the situation," Haislet said.

"My answer is that we need more statewide support than ever behind the present athletic department setup."

In his personal opinion, Haislet good coach" and Armstrong has done "a pretty doggone good job as athletic director and is a fine human being."

Minnesota does not have close liaison between the athletic staff and alumni and other groups who want to help recruit, Haislet said.

"This is one area in which I think Minnesota's football situation must improve," he said.

Gator Bowl Studies Teams for Classic

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — Fifteen of the nation's top-ranked teams, including the surprising Air Force Academy, are being considered for bids to the Gator Bowl football classic here Dec. 17.

Besides the Air Force, which has only a tie with top-ranked Iowa to mar a perfect record, the Gator committee also is keeping an eye on undefeated Louisiana State and once-beaten Syracuse, Mississippi, Clemson and Texas Christian.

Others among the select 15 are Boston College (4-2), Holy Cross (4-1), Pittsburgh (4-2-1), Vanderbilt (4-1-2), Georgia Tech (4-2-1), North Carolina (4-3), Rice (4-2), Southern Methodist (3-3) and Texas (4-2).

Orioles Select MacPhail Club General Manager

BALTIMORE (AP) — Lee MacPhail will take over the general manager's job of the Baltimore Orioles from Paul Richards who "will devote his full attention to managing" the team on the field, it was announced today.

The announcement by James Keelty Jr., Oriole president, confirmed recent reports that the 41-year-old MacPhail will give up the position of director of player personnel for the New York Yankees to come to Baltimore.

The son of Larry MacPhail formerly an owner of the Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers, will take over the end of this month in time for the winter meeting of baseball in Washington on Dec. 1.

Richards has been designated both general and field manager since he was hired by the Orioles from the Chicago White Sox in 1955. As such, he personally has made practically every decision on signing and trading players.

Keelty's definition of MacPhail's position set forth a separation of powers.

MacPhail "will have the authority to approve and conclude all major deals and will confer with Manager Richards on any contemplated transfers of player personnel," Keelty stated.

"We feel the new arrangement —one in which MacPhail will function as general manager and Richards will devote his full attention to managing—cannot help but be in the best interests of the Orioles and the fans of Baltimore."

He added that MacPhail will direct responsibility for all minor league operations, including the signing of young players and of all business details."

Keelty said that Richards was in full accord with the change.

He said the selection of MacPhail was on the personal recommendation of Richards and his "enthusiasm for the move is demonstrated by the fact that he has voluntarily relinquished the position of general manager."

Richards' contract extends through next year. Originally it had a clause giving him exclusive control of all player personnel both on the Orioles and throughout the farm system.

Bird Season Fades; Deer Test Near

By H. GUY MOATS

"Time's a-wasting" for Oakland County pheasant hunters, who have only five more days in which to fill their licenses, and to get into the still wide-open Pontiac Press "pheasant derby."

It's an unusual condition, but a matter of record, that practically all entries in this annual two-way contest, have been around three pounds in weight and from 35 to 38 inches in length. The "weight" entry now holding top spot is nearly a pound under the leader (and ultimate winner) at the same time last fall. Present leaders are a 3-pound 12 ounce bird and a 40½-inch long entry (a 3-pounder).

Prospective entrants have until noon of Nov. 12 to get into the contest, which is limited to full-time Oakland County residents Birds may be taken anywhere in the state. U.S. bonds of $50 for the biggest and $25 for longest birds are the rewards.

While the bird season is fading, there is much stirring among the deer hunting fraternity. Gear and other materiel for the chase for the Michigan Whitetail is being bundled up in many a home, and the biggest gunning army in years is getting ready for the terrific rush into the north country.

With the start of the state gun deer season on Nov. 15, the annual big buck contest, conducted for many years, by The Pontiac Press, gets under way.

Like the pheasant "derby," the deer contest is limited to full-time residents of Oakland County. The big award is $150 in U.S. Savings Bonds.

Rules are unchanged. Deer may be taken anywhere in Michigan where such hunting is legal.

Weight only is considered. All weights MUST be DRESSED-OUT figures, and no live-weight entry will be accepted.

All entries must be accompanied by certified weight slips, and all must be signed by the weigher (must be weighed on state-approved scales—markets, food locker, fuel scales are OK). Slips (properly dated) must also be signed by the hunter and at least one other disinterested person who has witnessed the weighing.

Remember—no entry will be accepted without a properly signed and witnessed weight slip.

All decisions concerning entries reserved by The Press.

Entries may be made at The Press Sports Department between 7 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. daily, except that none will be taken after noon (12 o'clock) Saturdays, and none on Sundays. Entries should be brought to The Press for photographing.

Along the Outdoor Trail

With H. GUY MOATS
Outdoor Editor, Pontiac Press

1957 CHAMP — The rack of horns that Don Behrend of Walled Lake displays above, came from the 214-pounder that won the 1957 Pontiac Press big deer contest. That's the kind of entry scores of Oakland county hunters hope for in the forthcoming 1958 contest, starting Nov. 15. Rules are published on this page, today. The last year's champ came from the Upper Peninsula. Contest is worth $150 in U. S. bonds for the winner.

Michigan Gets $820,000 From Federal Aid Funds

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal aid totaling 21 million dollars has been apportioned the states and territories this year for their fish and game restoration programs.

Asst. Secretary of the Interior Ross Leffler has announced allocations for the fiscal year ending next June 30. He noted that next year Alaska as a state will receive about one million dollars, compared with the $165,000 it has been receiving annually as a territory.

The total for game restoration, derived from the tax on hunting equipment, was down $574,000 this year at $16,400,000. The fish restoration total rose by $268,000 to $4,600,000.

Under law the maximum apportionment to a state for each program is 5 per cent of the total. The minimums are one-half per cent for game restoration and one per cent for fish restoration.

To receive federal aid money, the states must put up $1 for every $3 from Washington. In actual practice the states carry out their projects with their own funds and are reimbursed up to 75 per cent by federal funds.

Latest Entry Just Misses Top Figure

Elmer Miller, a confirmed pheasant hunter of 3030 Joslyn, just missed the leadership in the long bird division of The Press' "ringneck derby" yesterday Miller, hunting with his brothers, Arthur of Pontiac and Robert of Clifford, downed a 3-pound, 3¾-inch rooster near Clifford. The long bird was the biggest of the limit bag taken by the trio, licked less than an inch of equalling the current leader, a 40½-inch specimen shot by Pontiac's Paul Pace. "I'm going back to get a bigger one," Miller promised.

Officer Decides First to Get in Arrow Gets the Trophy

PORT WASHINGTON, Wis., (AP) — Ozaukee County Chief Deputy Charles Retzer was called upon to make a Solomon-like decision yesterday.

The problem: Who gets the buck when 15 hunters have fired arrows into the same deer?

The 15 hunters presented themselves, and the pin-cushioned deer at the sheriff's department and told this story:

They were hunting south of here, near the Milwaukee county line, when Tim Kuhns, 20, "spooked" a deer and fired an arrow which downed the seven-point buck.

Immediately his 14 companions converged on the fallen animal, and fearing it might rise and flee, each shot an arrow into the deer.

Fishing, Hunting Tales in 'Aged in the Woods'

Many Area Dogs Listed in Motor City Specialty

At least a dozen Pontiac area dogs are listed among the entries for the Nov. 9 Motor City Specialty show at the Detroit Artillery Armory, 15000 West 8-Mile road, in Oak Park.

Four are entered for the obedience trial that is expected to be one of the big features. Considerable interest also attaches to the battle among some 80 Chihuahuas, topped by the 3-way contest between top-winning dogs of the breed which have never faced each other before.

The Pontiac dogs include:

The show, limited to eight breeds and obedience, is nevertheless one of the country's largest, with 715 dogs benched. There are 137 entries in the Great Danes alone. Other breeds are Chihuahuas, collies, boxers, toy Manchesters, German shepherds, dobermans and Boston terriers. Judging starts at 9 a.m.

Participation Biggest Feature

Hunting Popular Activity

By JACK PATTERSON

Being a hunter and also a football fan raises a conflict of interests in the fall that some find hard to resolve. Having seen the University of Michigan, for example play, say, 100 games it is extremely unlikely that viewing another 100 would disclose anything startlingly new. One can expect some repetition in the next hundred days of hunting too, but the difference is that in hunting it is doing, not watching. And participation is the heart of any sport.

Participation is probably the real secret to the popularity of hunting, all the talk about atavistic instincts and primordial urges to the contrary. It offers one of the few acceptable escapes from the silken web of the easy life that threatens to turn America into a nation of duff-sitters.

Hunting can be grossly fatiguing, miserably uncomfortable, discouraging, and a general pain, but it's always interesting because the hunter is in there pitching for himself.

The hunter receiving many dividends from his activities besides the obvious ones of escape and recreation. Indifference to climactic extremes that would send the chair-sitters scurrying towards the fire is one.

Another benefit that accrues to the hunter is priceless these days. With practice his ear becomes tuned to tiny, significant, sounds, filtering out and ignoring background racket. What a boon at a dull cocktail party or before the TV set. Idle prattle of bores, the mispronunciation of simple words in unctious tones by announcers simply don't register at all. If this ability isn't a jewel beyond price we're no judge of values.

The bird hunters allotted span is quickly running out and there is a quickening in the step of deer hunters that occurs only at this time of year.

For an unorganized group, deer hunters think remarkably alike and a week from tomorrow has been more or less officially designated as the proper push-off time for up-state cabins. That is, Thursday is the latest date one can leave with propriety. Some have shoved off already, and this weekend will see many more on the move.

Stories About Outdoors

It took 22 months of steady show-winning effort, but the Rudy Buchmann's have a AKC champion in handsome, smart Tux of Forjan, a 2½-year-old German shepherd (pictured recently on these pages). Tux finished his championship with a best in show at the Houston, Tex., German Shepherd Specialty show.

He began the long trek on January of 1957 with a best-in-show at the Progressive Dog club's puppy match (against 480 dogs). His first major was taken at Columbus, O., in May of 1957, with other points being collected at Rockford, Ill., Macomb County Kennel club show (both in 1957) and at Saginaw Kennel club show this year.

Tux took reserve winner's ratings in the German Shepherd Dog Club of America National Specialty Show in 1957 at Kansas City, and also at the big Westminster show in Madison Square Garden, this year.

Area skeet shooters who saw 20-year-old Kathleen (Kathy) Fitchett of Baltimore, at this fall's World skeet shoot here, recalled the young art student's shooting when she appeared recently on a television show ($64,000 Question). She was successful in shooting a "straight" round in a series of problems. She shot very well here, but didn't win any titles.

Game preserve shooting for pheasant, duck or other legal feathered trophies, is catching on among time-limited sportsmen in many areas about the country. It's true also of Michigan, where preserve gunning is comparatively new—off the present activities in this direction. Popularity of this "safest," guaranteed bag shooting, is gaining by leaps and bounds. It's not expensive, say the operators of the several preserves in this section, and this type of sport appeals to the leg-weary elderly sportsman.

Saginaw Bay duck hunting spots report flight ducks are beginning to hit the area in increasingly heavy numbers. Veteran observers say the flights are reaching peak concentrations in the Sebewaing, Wildfowl Bay and other areas. A little more chilly and blustery weather will accelerate the flights, and improve the not-too-bad waterfowling shooting for the weekend.

Migrating wild geese and ducks, in large flocks, have again made the Jack Miner refuge at Kingsville, Ont., a target for a most interesting motor trip. Thousands of visitors from the United States, many from Michigan, visit this unusual bird sanctuary each fall when the place is literally alive with the wild birds. Sanctuary is open every day, except Sunday. Best time to observe the birds is between 3:30 and 4:30 p.m.

State Limits Hunters' Kill to Single Deer

Deer hunters are advised that one deer per hunter per year is the legal limit, regardless of the open season in which the deer is taken.

If he receives a permit to hunt "any-deer" during the coming special seasons, he is still entitled to only one deer—not a buck plus one "any deer."

One deer per hunter per year, and that is all.

Conservation Department law enforcement officials have reported some confusion on this point among applicants for special season permits.

State Pays $22,615 for Hunting Bounties

A total of 501 male coyotes, 483 female coyotes, 881 foxes and 209 bobcats were presented for bounty payments at Conservation Department offices and to sheriffs in the Upper Peninsula.

A total of 120 coyotes—most for any county—were presented in Iron County, and Marquette led in bobcats bountied with 24. Foxes were bountied generally throughout the state.

Quail Have a Way to Avoid Enemies

GEARY, Okla. (AP) — A covey of quail which roams the Geary residential area had some folk puzzled as to how cats were avoided. Fred Sleeper reported that he found the answer. When the birds feed on the ground, there's always one on lookout duty, walking around his mates ready to sound an alarm.

Study Ski Tow Rates

LANSING — Ski tow rates at Porcupine Mountains state park and land acquisition head the list of agenda items for the Conservation Commission meeting here on Nov. 6-7.

The public meeting starts in the Mason Building at three p.m. on Thursday and at nine a.m. on Friday.

100 Conservation Men Ready for Deer Check

LANSING (AP) — With Michigan's deer season only two weeks off, nearly 100 state conservation men are standing by for their yearly survey of the statewide kill.

About one of every 10 deer taken in the Nov. 15-30 season — last year's kill totaled about 80,000 — will undergo inspection at one of eight checking stations spotted at key points through the north country.

A spot check in traffic surveys on state trunklines and secondary roads will help game experts figure the total kill, the condition of the herd, and the prospects for next year and the years ahead.

In the next three or four weeks the State Conservation Department will spend roughly $42,500 to compile the information it needs to know on the deer kill. Besides traffic surveys and checking stations, it will go for checks on deer taken to locker plants, surveys by district conservation men in their respective areas, tabulation of biological data, validation of antlerless deer shot by hunters with special permits and an annual postcard poll of some of the 450,000 deer hunters.

3 Late Fall Field Trials at Highland

Highland Recreation Area will be the site for three late fall field trials for pointers and shooting dogs. Another two-day trial will be run over Bald Mountain Recreation Area's rolling terrain.

Two events will be held at the same time, this weekend, at Highland.

Northern Shooting Dog Classic is a two-day test for gun dogs in which pheasants will be used. It begins Saturday, continues through Sunday. On the same days Michigan Pointer club holds its trial, with dogs working on quail. No guns will be used.

The Bald Mountain trial is by the Michigan English Springer Spaniel Club, for retrievers. There will be 120 pigeons and 150 pheasants used in the event.

Michigan Pointer Club has also scheduled a trial for pointers and setters at Highland on Dec. 6-7. Pheasants will be used, but there will be no firearms.

LSU Linebacker Picked Lineman of Week by AP

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — "It's a great honor," said a dazed Max Fugler, "but the award should be divided up 3 ways—among all the fellows who made it possible."

The 21-year-old Louisiana State center was stunned when told his devastating linebacking in the 14-0 defeat of previously unbeaten Mississippi won him recognition as Associated Press Lineman of the Week.

By defeating the sixth-ranked Rebels, LSU clinched another week at the top of The Associated Press college football poll. Mississippi dropped to ninth place.

St. Lawrence Seaway Set to Open Early Next Spring

(The St. Lawrence Seaway, scheduled to open next spring, will give the United States a "fourth seacoast" and almost certainly change the face of two nations—the U.S. and Canada—by linking the Atlantic Ocean with the Middle West. Following is the first of two dispatches telling how this will be accomplished and what American cities are doing to prepare for the day when they become ports of call for ocean-going vessels.)

By EVERETT R. IRWIN

CHICAGO (UPI) — A dream shared by Canada and the United States for half a century will come true next spring when the first deep-draft ocean vessels begin steaming through the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Work crews have been busy this fall putting the finishing touches to the 27-foot-deep navigation channel that will link the Atlantic Ocean with the Great Lakes and give the U.S. a "fourth seacoast."

Opening of the Seaway will follow the departure of winter's ice around April 1. And, in the meantime, huge drillboats and dipper dredges will continue reaming out the Detroit and St. Mary's Rivers, key connecting channels between the eastern and western Great Lakes.

When their job is finished — several hence — all ocean-going vessels entering Lake Ontario via the Seaway will be able to steam deep into the mid-continent to the lakeheads at Duluth, Minn., and Chicago.

The St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corporation, the government agency created by Congress to carry out this country's share of the joint U.S.-Canadian navigation project, is completing dredging operations in the Thousand Islands section and South Cornwall Channel in upper New York state.

The Canadian Seaway Authority, north-of-the-border counterpart of the U.S. agency, is winding up work on four locks between Montreal and the International Rapids.

A spokesman for the Seaway Development Corporation said another part of the project — a high-level suspension bridge across the St. Lawrence near Massena, N.Y. — will be completed by Nov. 30.

MANY SCARS YET

Many scars of the four-year construction program still remain to be erased.

But Seaway officials say the new waterway system, which cost an estimated 450 million dollars, will be opened on schedule with the ice breakup about April 1, 1959.

PLAN CEREMONIES

Committees which were set up in September are planning elaborate formal ceremonies to herald completion of the project. Details have not been completed, but Queen Elizabeth has announced she will participate and will tour the Seaway.

Some Great Lakes cities plan their own celebrations, Chicago, heralding what civic leaders say will be its emergence as a world port, has scheduled an international trade fair for July 2-18.

The old St. Lawrence canal system had a controlling depth of 14 feet. It could accommodate general cargo sea-going vessels with a deadweight capacity of about 1,500 tons and so-called "canaller" type ships with a capacity of up to 3,000 tons.

UP TO 25,000 TONS

The new Seaway, in contrast, will handle ocean vessels ranging up to 9,000 tons deadweight and large lakers with a deadweight of more than 25,000 tons. And because there are only seven locks in the new system compared with 21 in the old, ships will move through more rapidly.

Army Engineers are pushing work on a 141-million-dollar program to extend the 27-foot depth of the Seaway all the way to Lake Superior and Lake Michigan.

The drillboat "Hornet IV," built especially for the task, is blasting out the stratified limestone bed of the Detroit River south of Detroit, and the dipper dredge "Mogul" is scooping out another section of the river.

5-YEAR PROJECT

Excavation also is going on in the St. Mary's River between Lake Huron and Superior. In all, the five-year project envisages removal of 44 million cubic yards of earth.

The connecting links between the lakes now have 25-foot depths in downbound channels and 21-foot depths in upbound channels.

Maj. Gen. Louis J. Rumaggi, division engineer, predicted that "by June, 1960, we will have 25-foot depths in both directions, and by June, 1962, we will have sufficient depths to support 25½ foot safe draft."

Seek Compromise to Pipe Natural Gas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Efforts are under way to work out a compromise between competing pipe line firms seeking to serve Michigan, Minnesota, Wisconsin and other midwest states with additional natural gas.

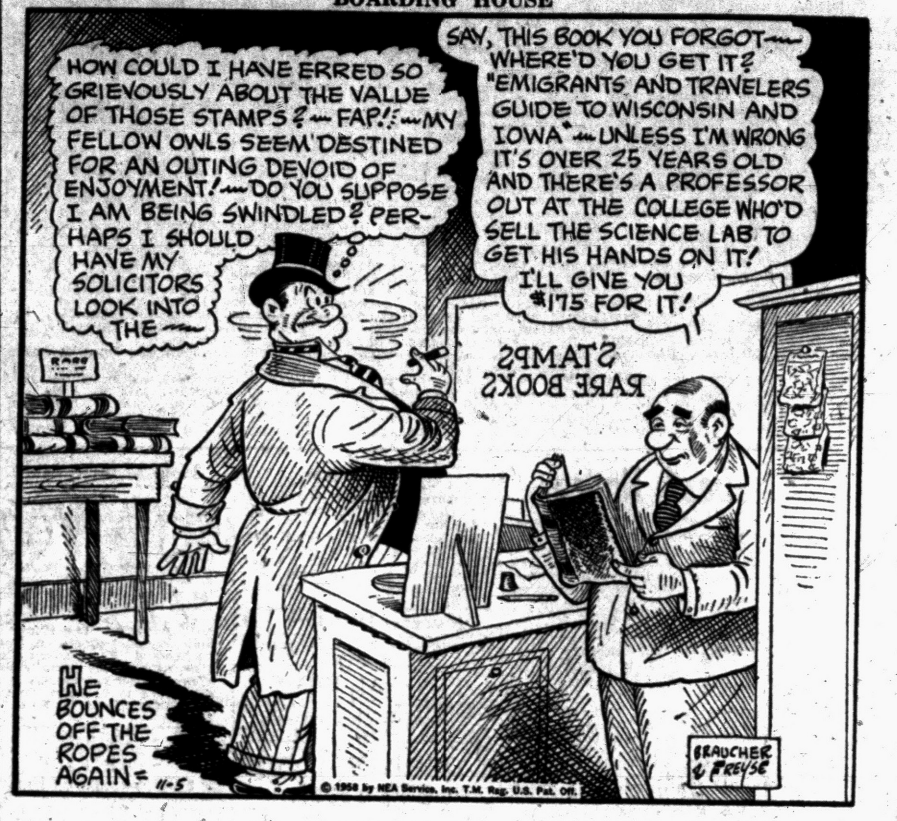

The Federal Power Commission last Friday turned down all competitive proposals to serve the area but suggested the competing firms come in quickly with new applications.

Midwestern Gas Transmission Co. notified the FPC that it intends to file new applications to furnish major new gas supplies to the Chicago-Gary area and to communities, primarily in Minnesota, Wisconsin and the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, that now are without natural gas.

Midwestern said discussions are under way with Northern Natural Gas Co. of Omaha, one of nine pipe line firms whose applications were denied.

AMC Sets Record on Rambler Output

DETROIT (AP)—American Motors Corp. said today its 1958 Rambler production reached a new record high of 26,124 units during October.

E. W. Bernitt, AMC vice president of automotive operations, said the production would be stepped up from 1,150 units a day to 1,280.

AMC said 16,000 employes currently are working in the company's automotive plants in Kenosha and Milwaukee, Wis.

American Motors former all time monthly production high was set in March 1955 when 25,893 Nash, Hudson and Rambler units were turned out.

Motors Climb in Heavy Trade

NEW YORK (AP) — Motors and selected issues rose in a mixed stock market early today. Trading was heavy.

Gains and losses of fractions to a point were made by most key stocks.

The market churned in the wake of big election gains by the Democrats, a result generally anticipated by Wall Street. Market analysts said the results removed an element of uncertainty.

Chrysler and American Motors were up about a point each. Fractional gains were made by Ford and General Motors, the latter briskly traded.

Plus signs were also posed by some airlines, tobaccos, drugs, farm implements and mail order-retail shares. Steels, rails, oils, aircrafts, nonferrous metals and chemicals were uneven.

The ticker tape was 12 minutes behind transactions at the start when some big opening blocks were traded.

Brunswick-Balke was off about 3 points following a 4-for-3 stock split. The stock has had a good rise on favorable rumors and apparently there was some selling on the news.

Gains of around a point or more were made by U.S. Steel, Goodyear, Sheraton and Lorillard. Off about a point were Goodrich, Boeing, Allied Chemical and Standard Oil of Indiana.

S-P Starts Overtime to Cope With Demand

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Studebaker-Packard Corp. said today it has started overtime production to meet dealer demand for its new 1959 Lark, Silver Hawk and truck models.

The company said its production lines are working nine hours a day during the week and eight hours on Saturday to meet dealer demands.

About 35 to 40 per cent of all the cobalt produced is used in the manufacture of alloys designed to withstand high temperatures.

SANITARY WASTE DISPOSAL

Regulation of the Waterford Township, Oakland County, Michigan, Board of Health.

A Regulation to prevent the spread of infectious and contagious diseases in Waterford Township, Oakland County Michigan, to provide for the control of dumping of wastes in said Waterford Township; and to provide penalties for violations of this Regulation.

The Board of Health Resolves:

Section 1. Definitions.

(A) The word "tank" shall mean any container when placed on a vehicle to carry in transport wastes removed from a septic tank, cesspool or seepage pit.

(B) The term "septic tank" shall mean and include a septic toilet, chemical closet and any other water tight enclosure used for storage and decomposition of human excrement and domestic wastes.

(C) The term "seepage pit" shall mean and include a dry well, leaching pit or any other cavity in the ground which receives the liquid discharge of a septic tank.

(D) The word "cesspool" shall mean a cavity in the ground which receives human excrement and domestic wastes to be partially absorbed directly by the surrounding soil.

(E) The word "servicing" and "maintaining" shall mean cleaning and removing wastes from the septic tank, seepage pit or cesspool, and recovering the same as before being exposed for cleaning.

(F) The word "person" shall include any individual, partnership, firm, association or corporation.

Section 2. Business of Servicing or Maintaining Septic Tanks, Seepage Pits or Cesspools.

No person shall engage in or carry on the business of servicing or maintaining septic tanks, seepage pits or cesspools within the Township of Waterford, Oakland County, Michigan, unless duly licensed and bonded under the provisions of Act 243 of the Public Acts of 1951 as amended or lawfully exempted thereunder.

Section 3. Transportation of Wastes from Septic Tanks, Cesspools or Seepage Pits.

No person shall transport or carry wastes from septic tanks, cesspools or seepage pits in a vehicle in said Township of Waterford unless said vehicle has been first duly licensed as provided for by Act 243 of the Public Acts of 1951 as amended. The tank shall be kept tightly closed in transit, to prevent the escape of contents or odors, and the outside of all vehicles and accessory equipment shall be kept clean.

Section 4. Disposal of Waste from Septic Tank, Seepage Pit or Cesspool.

(A) Wastes from any septic tank, seepage pit or cesspool may be buried on private property in locations over 200 yards from any residence, public or private place of business, public gathering place or public thoroughfare, subject to written approval of the property owner; said written approval must be available at all times to the inspection of all officials of the Waterford Township Board of Health. Provided, however, that all said wastes must be either immediately covered with at least 12 inches of earth and protected until settled or immediately treated with an appropriate chemical disinfectant or decontaminant.

(B) Waste removed from septic tanks, seepage pits or cesspools may be buried on the property from which it originates at least 75 feet from any water supply and 25 feet from any body of water; provided, however, it is either immediately covered with at least 12 inches of earth and protected until settled, self inactivated by oxidation, or treated with an appropriate chemical disinfectant or decontaminant.

(C) Under no conditions shall dumping be permitted into or adjacent to any public or private lake, pond, stream, river or any other body of water, nor shall any vehicle be permitted to pump directly from such body of water into and out of said vehicle for flushing and cleaning the tank or other equipment on the vehicle. All wastes must be so disposed of, as to create no public nuisance or health hazard.

Section 5. Penalty.

Any person who shall violate or refuse to comply with any of the provisions of this Regulation shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not less than $25.00 nor more than $100.00 together with costs of prosecution, and in default of payment of fine and costs shall be sentenced to the Oakland County Jail for not less than 10 days nor more than 30 days and when such violation is of continuing nature, each day upon which a violation occurs shall be deemed a separate offense.

Section 6. Severance Clause.

The sentences, sections, provisions and phrases of this Regulation are declared to be severable and if any such portion is declared unconstitutional or invalid by a court of competent jurisdiction, such determination shall in no way affect or invalidate the remaining provisions of this Regulation.

This regulation shall take effect 30 days from and after the date of its publication.

Horse Menace to Cars

ATLANTA (UPI) — The motor age stood still yesterday for a horse. A black mare ran around on part of Atlanta's expressway system for about an hour, stopping traffic before officers could lasso her and lead her away.

'MOM, I'D LIKE YOU TO MEET' — While other comedians bemoan 'taboos' on humor, Bob Hope has no trouble coming up with new material. He is seen above introducing Marie McDonald to American airmen and their families at Nouasseur Air Depot, Morocco, during one of his frequent tours to entertain the troops at American bases overseas.

'Lovers' Demonstrate Way to a Girl's Heart

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — I've been making a study of the Great Lovers' techniques. Frank Sinatra, when introduced to a girl, immediately calls her "Darling." (Formal-like). Aly Khan, at the Embassy Ball with Mrs. Courtney Weatherill, invited old flame Gene Tierney to dance, and as they swept onto the floor, he sultrily asked her, "How is my love tonight?"—and she there with John Finley! No wonder I'm still married to my first. I always call girls "Miss."

WILSON

Some more "Funny Signs": At 237th St. and Bronx Blvd., a SINCLAIR sign lost the letter C, so it read "SIN LAIR" (spotted by Mrs. S. Rauch) . . . A Southern loan office: "Are you at Debt's door? Let us see you through? (reported by Joy Gallagher, Hampton, Va.) . . . On the office door of an ear, nose and throat medic (according to Mike Beecher, Uniondale, L. I., N.Y.): "Orifice Hours by Appointment" . . . At a bus drivers' hangout, Lenny and Dave's Luncheonette in Brooklyn: "Do not talk to the sandwich man while knife is in motion."

The Beautiful Croft twins (Leila and Valerie) turned down $1,000 each to be Playboy's Playmates. The twins, who are from England, explained, "Mummy wouldn't let us." At the Copa yesterday A.M., guess what customer they begged to meet! (Yeah, ain't it murder? Frank Sinatra.)

Junior Trujillo confided in Mexico that when Kim Novak goes to Europe on a movie, he's following, although he may be taking a foreign car to Brigitte Bardot (probably a Thunderbird or a Corvette). Kim still has his Mercedes but he needs a car like another star.

LEILA and VALERIE

J. Paul Getty's now in Naples teaching his son to make millions out of a huge oil refinery.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Audrey Meadows' new date is "the New York Greg Bautzer" — handsome Atty. Arnold Grant (Greg's partner) . . . Society Scoop: Fern Taylor Gimbel will marry Italian boulevardier Franceso Galesi.

Conrad Hilton danced with his 19-year-old daughter-in-law-to-be at the Embassy Ball. His own date was a lot older — maybe two or three years.

Bill Corum's hospitalized but much improved . . . Joe E. Lewis bet $5,000 on Harriman to win . . . I asked Tallulah how she stays so thin and pretty. "Darling," she exclaimed, "I've been this same weight since four years ago when I had the shingles!"

EARL'S PEARLS: "Remember the days when you could glance at a piece of furniture and tell whether it was a chair?" —Laugh Book.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: "In the theoretically level society of the Soviets, some people are a lot more equal than other people" —Holiday magazine . . . That's earl, brother.

Van Buren Voters Nix New Medical Facilities

PAW PAW (AP) — Voters in Van Buren County turned down a proposal in Tuesday's election to build new medical care facilities at Paw Paw and South Haven for the third time in the past two years.

The proposal, which called for a tax limitation increase and a bond issue, would have authorized construction of medical units costing $695,000.

Under the dual unit plan, the facilities would have replaced the old county hospital operation near Hartford which has been criticized as outmoded by the state fire marshal and others.

Sees Pressure as Real Trap

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — There's no need for a "Reserved for Bob Hope" stall at the TV comedians' Wailing Wall.

Today's political and social problems have resulted in so many taboos, some comedians are saying, that it is almost impossible to be funny any more.

But Bob Hope isn't saying it.

"I've been watching some of those comedians who say they can't be funny anymore," he grinned, "and, man, they're pretty funny."

It isn't taboos that are putting comedians on tranquilizers, according to Bob.

"It the pressure of coming up with good new material in these competitive days," he says. "It's rough. There just isn't enough.

"But how can anyone say there is excessive censorship? No one has stopped me from telling jokes about President Eisenhower's golf and no one pressed the panic button when Bing Crosby said I was in Little Rock entertaining the troops."

"The only taboo I knew about — and I've always policed myself — is avoiding risque jokes. I've always told my writers, 'Never let me do anything to offend mothers.'

"It's only the pressure of new material that has trapped comedians. And when they have trouble finding new material, and they're not funny, they dream up a lot of imaginary taboos as excuses for themselves."

Back on a Hollywood movie sound stage for the first time in more than two years, Bob has returned to his best film formula—a horde of villains chasing him while he chases a beautiful doll.

This time it is "Alias Jesse James" and, like "Paleface" and "Son of Paleface," he's the tenderfoot underfoot out west. The luscious girl is red-haired Rhonda Fleming and the heavies are the James Brothers who will be wiped out by a group of TV cowboys "guest gunning" in a wild ending.

It's the old formula of where there's Hope, there's no hope — and it has been his biggest money-maker.

Naturally, he's being asked, "Is it an adult western?"

And, naturally, he's replying, "Sure, we're using older horses."

A movie reunion between an older Bob and an older Bing Crosby is on both of their career planning boards, he told me; they almost made it recently. Both were eager to appear together in a film version of "Who Was That Lady I Seen You With?" But money problems got in the way, as they do even to millionaires like Hope and Crosby, and the film version went to Columbia for Dean Martin and Tony Curtis.

"We're looking again for the right story," says Bob. "Bing's ready and so am I. There was some talk of another 'Road' film but I can't see it. Bing can't either. That was yesterday. We want to do something different like maybe having some dolls chase us."

The smile on President Eisenhower's face the other day when he spotted Bob in the lobby of the Statler Hotel here, by the way, still has old Ski Nose in orbit.

"How ya hittin' 'em?" grinned Ike.

"Better than Crosby," replied Bob.

Later they got together and talked golf with Ike saying, "I'm hitting 'em great off the tee but I just can't seem to sink a putt." To which Hope smiled:

"That's what happens to us old fellows."

Reds Demand U.N. Admit North Korea

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Assembly was expected to deal a quick defeat today to Communist demands that the North Korean Reds be invited to join in the Assembly's annual debate on divided Korea.

The 81-nation Political Committee faced bitter debate on the issue, however, as it turned to the perennial dispute over how to unify Korea.

Soviet Dep. Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin is pressing the usual Russian demand that North Korea as well as the South Korean Republic participate in the debate.

The United States again has proposed that only the South Koreans be invited. The Americans contend that allowing the "puppet regime" of North Korea to join in the discussion would elevate it to an equal footing with "the only lawful government in Korea."

Gives Burglars Good Reason to Try Elsewhere

TOKYO (AP)—Mrs. Toshiko Kobayashi unsheathed an antique samurai sword Tuesday night, chased three burglars away from her home and scared two others so badly they waited for her to come back and capture them.

The five masked men broke into the woman's home and tied up her two sons. But the burglars relaxed their guard. She dashed into her room, took the long, curved blade — a family treasure — and told the intruders:

"Now, gentlemen, I am warranted to slay you in self-defense."

Two of the men dropped to their knees and the others fled, with Mrs. Kobayashi in hot but fruitless pursuit. The frightened pair were still on their knees when she returned with the police.

$64,000 Quiz Taken Off Air

CBS' Question Joins Mounting Scrap Pile of Abandoned TV Shows

NEW YORK (AP) — The $64,000 Question has been answered for the last time.

The Columbia Broadcasting System announced Tuesday that the quiz program by that name had its final television screening last Sunday.

The program—first of the big money quiz shows—is being replaced by "Keep Talking" a comedy panel show in the 10 to 10:30 p.m. (EST) Sunday night time slot on CBS.

The "Question" thus joined the mounting scrap pile of abandoned TV quiz shows. Their ratings plunged after an investigation this fall into complaints that some contestants were coached on answers.

By offering huge sums of money for answers to difficult questions, The "$64,000 Question" launched a trend in the industry 3½ years ago.

CBS Executive Vice President Hubbell Robinson Jr. said:

"Although the integrity of the first and best of the big quiz shows was NOT an issue in the replacement, 'The $64,000 Question' has nevertheless become a victim of declining quiz show audiences."

Mighty Mac Reaps Over $5,000,000

ST. IGNACE (AP)—The Mackinac Bridge Authority reports revenues of more than five million dollars for the first full year of operation of the suspension span between the Upper and Lower Peninsulas.

Prentiss Brown, chairman of the authority, released figures yesterday showing that 1,411,502 vehicles crossed the bridge from Nov. 1, 1957, through Oct. 31, 1958, and the bridge collected $5,182,731 in tolls.

Brown said traffic over the bridge during October totaled 101,790 vehicles with revenues amounting to $382,897. Compared with the same month of 1957, traffic was up 61.2 per cent and tolls collection up 54 per cent.

Looking forward to November traffic, Brown declared:

Bagwell Sees Hope for State in 1960 Vote

LANSING (AP) — Republican Paul D. Bagwell, conceding defeat early today, said he was "proud" of his campaign and foresaw an upturn in Republican fortunes in Michigan in 1960.

"I believe the Republicans in Michigan demonstrated in this campaign a new fighting spirit which cut the victory margin of the opposition in the face of the prevailing national trend," he said.

The GOP governor nominee said "this holds great promise for the future."

"We can look ahead with confidence to the building of a strong organization around the principles of responsible Republicanism," he said.

Bagwell congratulated Gov. Williams on winning an unprecedented sixth term.

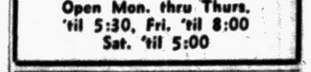

"I presented my case as fairly and ably as I could and I accept the decision of the voters," he said in a statement issued at his election night headquarters at the Hotel Olds.

Novelty Dance Class to Be Held Tuesdays

The Parks and Recreation Department's novelty round dance class will be held from 7:30-10 p.m. Tuesdays through Dec. 16 at the Emerson School multipurpose room, it was announced today.

The first session will be Nov. 11. There is a $1 per person charge for Pontiac residents, $2 for others.

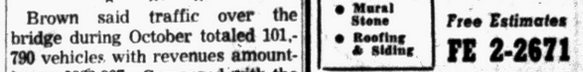

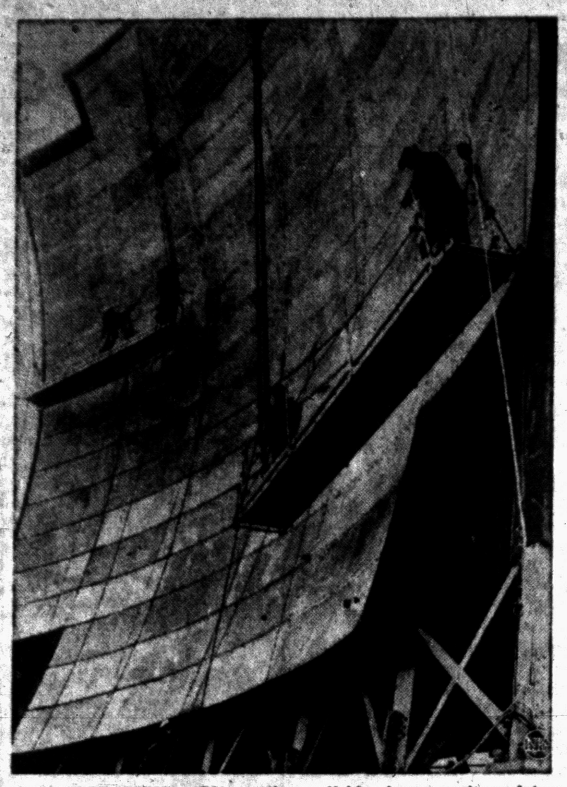

NOW SHOWING — Men on the scaffolds above aren't readying a new curved panoramic screen for an outdoor movie theater. They're caulking the surface of a 60-foot parabolic antenna, one of many in Alaska's "White Alice" communications system. "White Alice," a telephone and telegraph network, stretches 3,100 miles across our newest state, providing communications for the military, Civil Aeronautics Administration and the public. Huge antennas like this make it possible to send messages over hundreds of miles of arctic wilderness.

Hal Boyle Says:

Hollywood Must 'Plant' Stars of Future

NEW YORK (AP)—What Hollywood needs, says producer Jerry Wald, is a reforestration plan to grow new stars.

"The independent producers are chopping down the trees," he remarked, "but they aren't doing any planting.

"Of course, I can't say I blame them," thoughtfully added the pudgy producer, who has had a lifelong admiration for a well-turned dollar. "But someone has to do the planting."

"In another two years it should be self-sufficient. We'll have a good stock of young, well-groomed actors. We have about 50 players under contract—and it takes cuts in the industry today to have a regular payroll.

It costs considerably more to grow movie stars than it does to raise Christmas trees.

"These seedlings need all kinds of help—from special training to wardrobes," said Wald. "It costs a minimum of $100,000 for each personality you sign, whether eventually you keep him or let him go."

Although not exactly an enemy of the star system, the producer feels the presence of stars is no sure guarantee of success for a picture. To him the most important thing is still the story.

"A star without a good story is like a drowning man without a life preserver," he observed. "The most important figures in Hollywood aren't the 12 biggest stars. I'd say the 12 best screenwriters are more important.

"But there is no real shortage of talent. There is a shortage of talent to recognize a talent.

"It's like mining rough ore. Every studio has made its mistakes. No one is infallible.

"Raoul Walsh once brought a guy named Rock Hudson around to see me. His name amused me, but I couldn't use him. The same with James Dean. He stood about 5 feet 4. I must confess I couldn't figure what to do with him.

"The whole thing is pretty much like playing a slot machine. Before you can win you have to put in the coin."

Quemoys, Mainland Trade Heavy Fire

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Artillery dueling resumed today in the offshore war after a 27-hour lull. Red Chinese guns opened up on the Quemoys before dawn. Nationalist batteries returned the fire.

Nationalist headquarters reported the Communists had fired nearly 2,000 shells on the islands by late afternoon. They said the biggest concentration came between 11 and 11:40 a. m., whn 948 were counted. That was almost 24 a minute.

There were reports of continuing Red buildup of mainland positions opposite both Quemoy and Matsu, 150 miles north.

The Nationalists said four Red naval vessels moved into coastal waters close to Matsu but retired without incident.
