PRAGUE (AP) — President Ludvik Svoboda today told the Czechoslovak people today that the nation's liberal course will continue on the path established with the January ouster of former President Antonin Novotny.

The Warsaw Pact troops now occupying the country will be withdrawn gradually, he said in a nationwide address after returning from Moscow.

"We wish to continue to develop a Socialist order, strengthen its humanistic, democratic character as expressed in the action program of the Communist party and in the declaration of the government," Svoboda said.

"We wish to continue with the entire national front to build our country as the home of the working people.

"From these intentions we shall not budge even one step. We shall naturally not admit its abuse by those to whom the interests of socialism are alien.

"The old of basic agreement with the Soviet Union and its allies on the gradual, complete withdrawal of their troops, and added: "Until that time their presence is a political reality." As he spoke, Soviet tanks were pulling back from strategic points in Prague, but they remained nearby.

The Soviet Union announced today the Moscow conference had agreed on conditions for troop withdrawals "as the situation in Czechoslovakia normalizes."

The Moscow communiqué and Czechoslovak sources listed Alexander Dubcek as remaining as chief of the Communist party in this country.

One Czech Communist party member told a newsmen: "Let us hope that our people stay calm when they hear the Russians are going to remain in the country for a while."

The free Czechoslovak radio warned the nation that the heaviest burden is yet to come and may include reimposition of press censorship.

"Everyone is wondering what we shall have to pay for this compromise, for no one believes that the Soviet party leadership would admit to the disce and pointlessness of the entire action," it said.

Lincoln-Mercury Preview Affluent

DETROIT (AP) — The key word at Lincoln-Mercury's national press preview today was "affluent."

Lincoln-Mercury, first of Ford Motor company's automotive divisions to show its 1969 line to the press several weeks in advance of public introduction, apparently remained convinced that customers have the desire and the money.

In addition to the Lincoln Continental which continues as one of the nation's top luxury cars and the almost equally luxurious Mark III introduced last April, Ford came up with a new line this time around—the Marquis.

Designed to cut in the market which now features Olds 88, Pontiac Bonneville and Chrysler New Yorker, the Marquis will carry about a $4,000 price tag as it makes a pitch at the prospective buyer with a big-car yen and pocketbook to match.

VP Closes In on Nomination

CHICAGO (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey tightened today his encircling embrace on the Democratic presidential nomination with the apparent collapse of efforts to draft Sen. Edward M. Kennedy and the erosion of southern resistance.

A party convention vote tonight on a Vietnam plank in the platform, shaped to Humphrey's liking and opposed by Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, seemed likely to provide a key countdown on the nomination outcome. A tumultuous floor fight is expected.

encouragement of negotiations toward a coalition government in South Vietnam.

Following the policies laid down by Humphrey — and opposed by McCarthy — the committee recommended a declaration that cessation of the air strikes must not endanger the safety of U.S. troops and must be made only when there is evidence of a reciprocating military de-escalation by North Vietnam.

SIGNAL FOR DECISION?

Adoption of such a plank could be the signal for a decision by President Johnson to fly to the convention later this week to receive its plaudits, after the presidential nomination is voted.

A visit on his 60th birthday today, however, was all but ruled out.

The preliminary platform victory for Humphrey's viewpoint was reflected by other developments.

Insurgent Democrats backed by McCarthy failed in their challenge to the seating of a Texas delegation headed by Gov. John Connally, who is expected to take his 104-vote group into Humphrey's camp.

TURNED BACK

The challengers, who sought 50 seats on the delegation, were turned back by a vote of 1,368 to 955.

Convention delegates previously had defeated a proposal to delay action on the troublesome questions of seating delegates by a 1,601½ to 875 votes.

The convention took a historic step by seating a racially mixed "loyalist" delegation to supplant the regular group chosen by the Mississippi state party. But the convention turned down by a 1,041½ to 1,413 vote — amid cries of "No, no, no!" — an effort to seat a delegation of insurgents from Georgia.

BY VOICE VOTE

In addition, by a voice vote, delegates threw out the century-old unit rule.

Lawrence F. O'Brien, Humphrey's convention manager, said in a statement that Florida Sen. George Smathers' release of his favorite-son delegates and a 16-point gain by the vice president in a new public opinion poll "support our forecasts of a first-ballot victory."

The hastily floated balloon for a presidential nomination for Sen. Kennedy of Massachusetts was quickly deflated. Kennedy called former Gov. Michael V. DeSalle of Ohio to instruct him not to place the senator's name in nomination.

Frank Mankiewicz, former press secretary to the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy now working for Sen. George McGovern, said the whole operation of trying to draft the surviving Kennedy brother had been "wishful thinking."

Kennedy has told friends he will go to the convention Thursday.

CHICAGO (AP) — State Sen. Coleman Young of Detroit yesterday was unanimously elected Democratic national committeeman from Michigan.

Young, a Negro, succeeds Neil Staebler, who declined to seek reelection. Staebler said that Young is the nation's first Negro ever elected national committeeman.

In supporting Young, Staebler said, "We have pretty well eliminated the color line in the party in Michigan. We now have that kind of opportunity to take to the national party."

"I respect Black Power. I respect White Power," Staebler added. "But I respect even more partnership between Black Power and White Power."

SEN. COLEMAN YOUNG

Mildred Jeffrey was unanimously elected to the post of national committeewoman from Michigan.

Young called his election "another pioneering step" to eliminate racism in the party.

"I feel that a black voice should be heard," Young said. "But I also shall represent the total party of Michigan. The interest of the black people of America is the interest of America," Young stated.

Political Tornadoes Converge

By HARRY J. REED
Managing Editor, The Pontiac Press

CHICAGO — The 50 political tornadoes which have been swirling in separate locations of downtown Chicago united last night.

It was an awesome gathering of forces — much loud sound and a great deal of wind.

The International Amphitheatre survived the hour-after-hour blasts which somehow never took the breath away from the speaker of the moment.

Securely outside the amphitheatre did not seem to be as heavy as the rumors of the last few days had it. There were plenty of city police, but the large crowd of delegates, alternates, guests and newsmen kept them busy.

TIGHT BUT POLITE

Inside, security was tight but polite. Identification, worn around the neck on an elastic cord, was checked as persons moved from one section to another.

The amphitheatre is similar to Detroit's Olympia, but carpeted with wall-to-wall polking Democrats. Gordie Howe would have trouble finding the end of his own hockey stick in the crush.

The welcoming speeches flowed over the preoccupied delegates like an all-day drizzle. Life came to the floor with polling each state on seating various contested delegations.

The Michigan delegation left the floor twice to caucus on how to vote on seating the contested Alabama delegation. Oakland County's own Sander Levin of Berkeley had his hands full giving both sides a fair hearing in a short time.

CAUCUSED TOO LONG

Frequent warnings came that in previous years the Michigan delegation has caucused so long it missed the floor vote on the subject being argued in the caucus. The Michigan delegation finally approved the Alabama delegation which had been challenged.

An indication of Humphrey vs. McCarthy strength in the Michigan delegation was seen by observers in the state's vote on seating the contested Texas delegation.

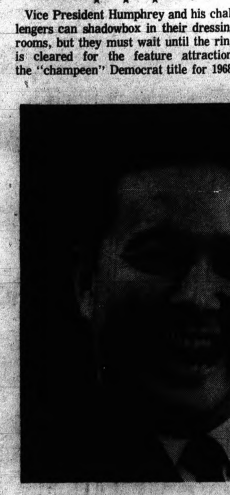

The 70 state votes in favor of the challenged delegation were viewed as Humphrey supporters, while the 23 against were eyed as McCarthyites. This would be an increase of about eight votes for HHH over a previous Michigan poll.

When delegates headed for their buses at 2:45 a.m. they knew they had another session of essentially the same thing in store for them, beginning at 7:30 p.m. tonight.

PRELIMINARY EVENTS

It will be more majority and minority reports, from credentials and rules committees, and more preliminary events before the main event.

Vice President Humphrey and his challengers can shadowbox in their dressing rooms, but they must wait until the ring is cleared for the feature attraction, the "champeen" Democrat title for 1968.

Area Temperature to Rise Gradually

Sunny days are here again.

The weatherman predicts temperatures today through Saturday will average 2 to 4 degrees above the normal high of 73 to 78 and normal lows of 48 to 55. Temperatures will become gradually warmer after midweek.

Precipitation is expected to total one tenth inch or less with chance of some light showers near the weekend.

Morning northerly winds at eight to 15 miles per hour will become light and variable tonight.

The low in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 50. The mercury had warmed up to 71 by 2 p.m.

Gun-Death Data Compiled

WASHINGTON (AP) — If there are 100 people on your block, chances are two of you will be murdered, raped, robbed or beaten in the coming year.

And if someone pulls a weapon on you, it probably will be a gun.

These are key facts in the FBI's annual Uniform Crime Reports, a volume of data supplied by law enforcement agencies across the nation.

It was released yesterday with a message from FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover calling for "great social action to prevent and short more careers in crime."

DETAILED COMPILATION

The report contained for the first time a detailed compilation of murders by firearms in all states between 1962 and 1967.

The statistics show a significantly higher incidence of murder by firearms in states without strict gun controls than in those few that have such controls — showing in keeping with Hoover's long-time campaign for federal gun controls.

One of the most startling statistics was the figure on crime for the decade, showing an 89 per cent increase in serious crime in the nation since 1960, with a rise in crimes of violence of 73 per cent.

Serious crime — there were more than 3.8 million serious offenses committed — rose 16 per cent in 1967 over 1966, the report said. Nearly 500,000 of these serious crimes were classified as crimes of violence.

MORE MURDERS

Firearms were used in 63 per cent of all murders. In 1966, gun murders amounted to less than half — 47 per cent — of all homicides. There were also 11 per cent more murders last year than in the previous 12 months, the report said.

The police batting average in solving crime fell by 8 per cent, and Hoover expressed some concern over the reason the report gave for the slippage.

He blamed court decisions which he said restricted police investigative and enforcement practices, plus the increase in workload for police not related to crime, and understrength police forces.

Seventy-six policemen were killed by criminals in 1967. This was 19 more than 1966, and well above the annual average of 48.

POLICE KILLINGS

Firearms were used in all but five of last year's police killings.

A total of 7,000 persons were shot to death in the United States last year,

Related Story, Page A-11

while another 4,400 died by other means such as beatings, stabbings and clubbings.

Forty-eight per cent were slain by handguns, 9 per cent by shotguns and 6 per cent by rifles.

During the period 1962 through 1967, the report showed, there were 59,015 murders of which 58 per cent were gun murders.

CONTROL STATES

Four Northeastern states with strict gun control laws had the lowest incidence of murder by firearms—Rhode Island 34.1 per cent; New York 34.9; Massachusetts 39.9; and New Jersey 41.2.

Texas, without gun control laws, recorded the highest number of homicides—5,104—of which 70 per cent were gun deaths. California, also lacking strict gun control laws, had 4,567 murders of which more than half — 52 per cent — were caused by firearms.

This compared with New York state which, with the nation's most stringent firearms controls, had 4,635 murders of which 34 per cent were the result of guns.

'Cong Toll 7,500' in Nine Days of Assaults

SAIGON (AP) — An American artillery plane on the jungled infiltration corridor northwest of Saigon came under a blistering, 200-round rocket and mortar barrage today, then beat back a weak infantry assault.

By the light of flares from circling support planes, the Americans cut down at least 37 enemy soldiers.

U.S. headquarters estimates 7,500 enemy slain in the intensified Vietcong assaults of the last nine days, and the Communist command appeared to be shifting to less costly rocket and mortar attacks. The allied command reported heavy barrages at camps and towns from the demilitarized zone south to the Mekong Delta.

In addition to the 200-shell barrage at Fire Base Raylins, about 50 miles northwest of Saigon, enemy gunners raked four other posts along the infiltration route northwest of the city. Two of the camps were hit by light infantry assaults.

Shells were reported at a dozen South Vietnamese and American camps in the Mekong Delta and in the Duc Lap area where more than 800 enemy died attempting to overrun a U.S. Special Forces camp over the weekend.

Enemy gunners in the Duc Lap area also shot down a twin-engine Caribou transport plane yesterday, and a ground patrol that reached the wreckage found the three American crewmen dead. Air reinforcement of Duc Lap appeared to be risky still.

Along the demilitarized zone, North Vietnamese gunners opened up yesterday and today with the heaviest shell fire there in several weeks. U.S. Marine bases at Dong Ha, Cua Viet and below Con Thien caught almost 250 rounds, many of them from 130mm guns firing from North Vietnam.

Braced for an expected third enemy offensive, the allied command sent B2 bombers to drop some 750 tons of bombs Monday night and today, mostly on the northwest approaches to Saigon and on the inland flank of the demilitarized zone.

PATTERN PUZZLING

The pattern of enemy assaults over the past nine days has allied officers puzzled however. There was speculation that instead of launching massive third expected assaults that were generally expected, the Communist command might gradually accelerate the pace, as it appears to be doing. But allied officers emphasized it was still too early to tell. U.S. forces continued mopping up operations at Duc Lap and near Tam Ky, along the highway between Da Nang and Chu Lai, where another big battle was fought over the weekend.

Along the highway, U.S. infantrymen of the American Division reported killing 511 North Vietnamese regulars over the past three days.

Elsewhere in the northern sector, troops of the 82nd Airborne Brigade killed 92 enemy yesterday near Hue and U.S. Marines reported half a dozen fights with relatively small North Vietnamese units along the demilitarized zone.

CHICAGO (AP) — Keynote speaker Sen. Daniel K. Inouye told the Democratic National Convention Monday night that the responsible path to peace in Vietnam has been blazed by President Johnson.

U.S. Sailors Get Turk Protection

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — The Turkish government, fearing further anti-American violence against U.S. sailors, sent extra riot police to Istanbul today for the arrival of more visiting U.S. Navy ships.

Led by the cruiser Little Rock, a task force from the U.S. 6th Fleet was to spend 13 days in the Aegean seaport.

Leftist students were reported preparing to meet the American sailors with "showers of eggs and fruit and unfriendly placards."

Some pro-American Turks expressed misgivings about the visit at a time of continuing controversy over the 30,000 U.S. servicemen stationed in Turkey.

During the "goodwill" visit of another 6th Fleet task force to Istanbul last month, club-wielding, rock-throwing students injured about 20 American sailors and there were demonstrations protesting the visit in other cities. At least one student was killed and scores injured.

Despite expressions of misgiving about another fleet visit, Premier Suleyman Demirel said his pro-American government "will not be intimidated." He called the controversy a "tempest in a teapot" and ordered the undersecretary of the interior to coordinate security measures during the visit.

Anti-Americanism has been building in Turkey for some years, spurred by resentment at the considerably higher standard of living which American servicemen and their families enjoy.

patient political negotiation spelled out by Johnson.

"Of course the Vietnam war is immoral...All wars are immoral," the Hawaii senator said. But he suggested it might be more immoral to renege on commitments and perhaps encourage enemy miscalculation that would gamble the lives of the next generation.

Inouye, who lost his right arm fighting in Europe, said the Vietnam war must be ended with a responsible settlement that guards "against the illusion of an instant peace that has no chance of permanence."

CONDITIONS DEcriED

At the same time, he decried the conditions of despair and denial that confront many Negroes today and said too often black soldiers come back from Vietnam "to economic and social circumstances that are barely, if at all, improved over those they left."

Inouye argued, "Poverty, discrimination and deprivation, evil as they are, do not justify anarchy or violence, looting or burning, murder or assassination."

He criticized wanton civil disobedience as a step toward anarchy and said, "Let us reject violence as a means of protest."

He coupled this with a plea also to "resist the temptation to apathy" and said, "We can never cure the causes of violence with indifference."

'WE'VE DONE MUCH'

Inouye turned to the Johnson Administration's record, citing advances in civil rights, education and health care, and said, "Working together, we have done much. Together we can — and must — do much, much more."

Kelley to Study Candidates Fail to Account for Expenses, Face Penalties

Oakland County Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson Thursday will turn over to State Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley the findings of an investigation into security procedures at Pontiac State Hospital.

Bronson said yesterday the results of the study by his office will remain confidential until after his 10:30 a.m. meeting with Kelley in Lansing.

Three members of Bronson's staff recently completed a two-week investigation of security and treatment policies at the hospital.

The investigation was initiated following the June slaying of a 19-year-old female patient by a male inmate. At that time Bronson noted that two other inmates transferred to the hospital from Ionia State Hospital for the Criminally Insane had walked away and subsequently been involved in crimes.

RESULTS 'SIGNIFICANT'

While refusing to divulge the nature of the report, Bronson did, however, say "The results will be significant and have substance."

Meanwhile, a member of Bronson's staff described the report as a "sizzler" that could have far-reaching effects into the operation of the hospital.

Bronson, who undertook the study for the purpose of "protecting the citizens of the surrounding community," indicated that he would like to see such investigations conducted at each state hospital.

More than a score of candidates in the Aug. 6 election face criminal prosecution unless they submit an accounting of their campaign expenses before Friday.

County Election Clerk Mrs. Mabel Child said today that the deadline for submitting the expense sheets already has passed and that between 20 and 30 candidates are in violation of state election laws.

The filing deadline was Aug. 16, 10 days after the primary election.

Mrs. Child said that she has no other alternative but to turn over to the prosecutor's office the names of those who have failed to make an accounting.

PUNISHMENT

Conviction of the violation is punishable by up to two years in prison or a $1,000 fine or both.

Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson said today that if it becomes necessary he "will not hesitate to prosecute the offenders."

Bronson, the leading vote getter in the three-way race for a new seat on the Michigan Court of Appeals, said he filed his expenses early to avoid just such embarrassment facing some of the candidates.

Of the candidates for major offices, Bronson had the least campaign expenses, spending only $150. The outlay was for posters.

SPENT $7,127

Opposing Bronson in the November

election will be John Foley of Birmingham, whose expense records reveal he spent $7,127 to win the second nomination in a three-way race.

Listed are the names of candidates for county offices and the expenses they incurred during their campaigns.

Prosecutor: Richard D. Kuhn (GOP nominee), $3,541, and John N. O'Brien, $4,863, and Thomas G. Plunkett (Democratic nominee), $1,894.

Sheriff: Frank Irons (GOP nominee), $2,385, Herbert C. Conley, $7,680, Ruel McPherson (Democratic nominee), $4,122, Milton Jones, $285, and Robert Phillips, $1,128.

County Clerk-Register of Deeds: Lynn D. Allen (GOP nominee) $1,105, and Thomas McWilliams, $1,641.

Treasurer: C. Hugh Dohany (GOP nominee), $1,550, and incumbent James Seetlerlin who was unopposed, no expenses.

OK'd for Walled Lake

The municipal Finance Commission has announced the approval of the sale of $1.95 million in bonds to be used for the construction of a Walled Lake community-wide water system.

The Walled Lake City Council has set Sept. 10 for the opening of bids and construction of the system is expected to begin in mid-1969.

Birmingham

Policy Okayed on Utilities' Burial of Lines

BIRMINGHAM — A policy statement concerning the placement of public utility lines underground in the central business district within 10 years was adopted by the City Commission last night.

The resolution was in lieu of an ordinance which would have forced the Detroit Edison Co. and Michigan Bell Telephone Co. to meet a timetable.

City Manager Robert S. Kenning recommended the resolution over the ordinance.

He told commissioners that if the utilities were pressured into placing their lines underground in a limited period, the cost might be passed along to the city and customers of the two companies.

STRONG OPPOSITION

A public relations problem would also be created with the utilities, said Kenning, noting the strong opposition expressed by the utilities to the inflexibility of an ordinance.

"There has been a reasonable effort by the utilities to comply with past requests of the City Commission to get their plants underground in the central business district," Kenning noted in his report to the commission.

As an example of this cooperation, Kenning pointed out that Detroit Edison has cut their timetable from 20 to 10 years in the placement of its facilities underground in the downtown area.

The purpose of placing the facilities underground is part of the commission's continuing program to improve the appearance of the central business district.

1973 DEADLINE

Both companies have advised the city they plan to have their overhead facilities in the central business district removed by Jan. 1, 1979.

In other business, the commission presented a distinguished service award to Herbert Gardner, 172 Aspen, for his 24 years service on the city employees retirement board.

Gardner has been a member of the retirement board since its inception in 1944.

"The system and employees have benefited greatly by your service," said Mayor David Breck in presenting Gardner with a plaque.

It was only the second distinguished service award presented by the city. The other went to former City Commissioner Carl Ingraham.

LBJ Is 60 Today, More Secretive

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson turned 60 today, slimmer, grayer and more secretive about his birthday doings.

Unlike past years in which the presidential birthday was usually observed by a big family gathering with plenty of notice beforehand, there was no advance word on what Johnson planned.

When and whether Johnson would pay a visit to the Democratic convention in Chicago was the subject of much speculation, but no officially outgoing presidents have waited until after the nominations before putting in an appearance.

At 60, and after nearly five years as president, Johnson is much grayer and his face is more deeply lined than when he took over the nation's highest office. But, on the plus side, some find him slimmer — testimony to the rigors of a series of strenuous diets.

Detroit Hearings Likely Today on Utility Rate Hikes

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's Common Council was expected to hold hearings today on rate increases sought by the four major Michigan utility companies.

Council members reportedly had considered passing a resolution opposing a hike in electricity prices by Detroit Edison Co.

Edison, together with Michigan Bell Telephone Co., Consolidated Gas Co. and Consumers Power Co. has asked the state Public Service Commission to grant rate increases.

In the past the city routinely has opposed rate boosts. However, Detroit Corporation Counsel Robert Reese said his office is short-handed this year and would not file a brief on the matter.

TOTAL INCREASE

Requested increases by all four utilities if granted, would total some $40 million a year. Edison has asked a "just and reasonable" increase, amounting to 2 per cent effective Sept. 1.

Consolidated Gas filed its request on April 11. The company's rates have been unchanged since 1960. The three-man utilities commission heard testimony for three days beginning July 15 on that request. Hearings were scheduled to begin in November on a request by Consumers Power Co. Michigan Bell asked the commission for a rate increase on July 31. That came a month after Attorney Gen. Frank Kelley stepped into an otherwise automatic commission approval of two requested "service adjustments" asked by the telephone utility. Bell subsequently dropped those requests, but then asked general rate hikes.

Bell had wanted to add $1 a month to charges for unlisted telephones and to charge an additional $2 for pitting in new phones. The commission had approved such boosts without formal hearings.

Hearings have not been set for other utility petitioners. Much of the difficulty in evaluating a request for higher rates lies in evaluating a "just and reasonable" return on the corporate investment, which the utilities as monopolies are permitted by Michigan law.

Property and equipment are far-flung and hard to appraise.

The Public Service Commission makes no attempt to do so itself, relying on company figures.

HARD TO DETERMINE

Earnings of utilities such as

Michigan Bell and Consolidated Gas, which belong to larger corporations, are hard to determine.

Consumers Power once received a 6 per cent rate of return for net income. A small telephone company got 6.8 per cent.

Detroit Edison has asked 7 1/2 per cent in its latest brief.

For the year ended last June 30, Consumers Power paid $2.75 a share; its stock reportedly sells at 15 times that amount.

Brokers have reported Detroit Edison stock to be slightly lower, selling at 12 times its 5 per cent dividend.

Michigan Bell and Consolidated Gas showed year-end earnings on June 30 of $74.2 million and $24 million.

Surviving besides his mother are three sisters, including Mrs. Cameron Kage of Troy, and two brothers.

Hearing Tonight on Budget for Oxford Schools

The Oxford Area Community School Board will meet tonight for a public hearing on an enlarged budget.

The proposed budget calls for an increase of $115,000 in operating monies over last year's budget, according to Supt. Roger D. Oberg.

"The increase is due to the hiring of new staff members, increases their salaries and increases in operating costs — a little of everything," Oberg explained.

This year's proposed budget is $1,477,000, compared to $1,362,000 for last year.

TO CONSIDER BIDS

In other action the board is expected to consider bids for construction of the new junior high school on Lakeville one mile east of Oxford as well as bids on an adjoining bus garage.

Also under consideration at the 8 p.m. meeting at board offices are bids on bus insurance and prices for milk and lunches.

Oberg said he expects a one-cent increase on milk prices due to a cut in state aid, but that he would "try to hold the line on lunch prices."

Recount Petitions Filed by 3 Losers in Supervisor Races

Recounts have been petitioned by three candidates who lost their bids for nomination to the reappointed Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

Yesterday was the deadline for filing petitions for recounts of the Aug. 6 election.

The three defeated candidates hoping to overturn the vote tallies are Bennie R. Warden of 1125 Davis, Pontiac Township; Joseph L. Barakat of Royal Oak; and John B. Huhn of Berkley.

Warden and Barakat are Democrats. Huhn is a Republican.

CLOSEST CONTESTS

The closest contest involved Barakat who, after being declared the unofficial winner in District 5, lost by a four-vote margin to Les Walker, Madison Heights mayor, when the canvass of the votes was completed.

Warden was defeated in District 22 by Niles E. Olm, 376 to 357, a 19-vote difference.

Huhn, a candidate in District 13, is hoping to overcome a 46-vote margin. He was defeated by William R. Judy, 464 to 418.

County Election Clerk Mabel Child said that the recounts will not be conducted until the state releases the voting machines from its custody after Sept. 1.

Conservationist

Robert Halstead of Maryland has been named Area Conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service at Ann Arbor, announced Verne M. Balburt, State Conservationist at East Lansing.

This is a supervisory position having responsibility for Soil Conservation personnel serving 13 soil conservation districts in Oakland County.

NEW MEMBER OF FORCE—A new member of the Farmington Township Police Department recently was sworn in. He is a 110-pound German Shepherd named Clyde and is under the sole direction of Officer Robert Novak (left) of the township force. Clyde has been trained to track and disarm, to search out buildings and to assist police officers in numerous other tasks. Administering the swearing-in ceremony is Farmington Township clerk Floyd A. Cairns.

Services Withheld in Troy in School Pay Talk Impasse

TROY — Teachers and sponsors of extracurricular school activities here have withheld their services because of an impasse in supplementary pay negotiations between the Troy Board of Education and the Troy Education Association.

Immediately affected by the work stoppage was the Troy High School football team, which was sent home when players appeared for practice Saturday.

The dispute involves pay for extra duties only. Settlement was reached on a master contract in June with the stipulation that extra duty negotiations continue over the summer.

Teachers are expected to handle their regular classroom chores when school starts Sept. 4, even if there is no agreement on the outside activities.

OTHER EXTRA DUTIES

Other extra duties involved besides coaching are teaching driver education and special education, heading departments and sponsoring school clubs.

James Fenner, president of the Troy Education Association, said football practice would start as soon as a settlement is reached. If no agreement is reached, it is expected to be reached by Sept. 1.

Woman Is Named to the Farmington Board of Education

FARMINGTON — The Farmington Board of Education approved the appointment of a new member to the seven-person board at last night's meeting.

Mrs. Patricia Smith will be the single woman on the board. She has been a resident of the district for about seven years, has three children in school, is the past president of the Women's League of Voters and is a graduate of the University of Colorado.

Mrs. Smith will fill the vacancy left by George Otis, who resigned because of a job transfer.

Other board action included the approval of new teacher appointments.

PROGRESS OF ADDITIONS

The board also discussed the progress of the additions to North Farmington High School and Farmington High School, which have not been completed because of this summer's strikes and weather problems.

A one-cent hike in milk prices was approved for all school levels, bringing the cost of whole milk to three cents and chocolate milk to four cents.

The prices for adult lunches was raised five cents to include the state sales tax.

Friends of Library Will Meet in Orion

ORION TOWNSHIP — Friends of the Orion Township Library will meet 8 p.m. Thursday at the library.

Previous for discussion will be the continuation of the student art show, the annual spring book sale, summer story hour and the historical collection.

Schools Sign-Up Set in Clarkston

The Clarkston Board of Education has announced that the elementary and middle schools will be open through Friday to handle registration and payment of book rental fees. The high school will be open through Thursday. Hours for all book stores are 8:30 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

Book rental fees for kindergarten are $2, for grades 1-8 $5, and grades 9-12 $6.

Elementary and middle school students will receive receipts to be redeemed for books at the beginning of school while senior high students may obtain their books when they pay their fees.

Teachers' orientation will be Friday. Grades 1-7, 9, and 10 will report Sept. 3 for a half-day morning session and grades 1-6, 8, 11, and 12 will report Sept. 4 for a half-day morning session.

The regular school schedule will go into effect Sept. 5.

Botulism Cause of Geese Deaths on Manito Lake

ORION TOWNSHIP — The diagnosis that botulism killed several for a half-day morning session and grades 1-6, 8, 11, and 12 will report Sept. 4 for a half-day morning session.

Six of the dead geese were taken to the Rose Lake Wildlife Research Center at East Lansing Thursday after they were found dead or dying on the lake which is just north of Lake Orion.

Conservation officials blamed botulism in their preliminary examination and this was confirmed by chemical analysis. The officials also announced they felt the danger to the wildfowl in the area would be over with the advent of cool weather Sunday.

Botulism affecting state wildlife is not uncommon during long, hot spells, officials indicated. The strain can only be transmitted to humans by uncooked meat, it was pointed out. No further danger is expected.

Animal Link to Population Stability Eyed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Animal populations stop growing when overcrowding sets in. It looks as though these creatures of the wild possess some sort of built-in mechanism for controlling population analogous to a thermostat for controlling temperature.

Science doesn't know what it is or what triggers it. Does something roughly similar to it exist in homo sapiens?

The Albert Einstein Medical Center, Philadelphia, has set out with the help of a National Science Foundation grant to see if it can learn something about effects of overcrowding among human beings by studying animal populations.

MAY CONTRIBUTE

It may be that jamming people cell by cell in city centers contributes to such urban ills as soaring infant mortality rates, lowered life expectancy, and aggravated social and mental maladies.

The principal investigator in the center's new population research is Dr. James A. Lloyd of the Division of Endocrinology and Reproduction. The subjects will be "freely-growing populations of mice."

"Anyone who hunts knows that the numbers of animals in any species vary from season to season," Lloyd said recently. "Some seasons, deer and birds are numerous, the next they may be scarce."

"Many theories have been advanced to explain the changes in numbers of animals . . . basic to our current study is the idea that animals possess mechanisms for stopping reproduction after they reach certain levels of population."

"Both birth and infant survival rates fall off as density increases. Eventually, no new animals are born or the few that are born seldom survive infancy."

Are there implications in this for man in an age of burgeoning human populations?

"There is a natural reluctance to associate human biological response with that seen in animals," Lloyd said. "Yet, it appears that some of today's human problems — overt violence, high infant mortality rates, and mental illness — may be linked with the high urban densities that have come about in cities through the world."

State Woos Resources of 'Volunteers'

Created two years ago by Gov. GEORGE ROMNEY, the Michigan Peace Corps Council is an affiliate of the State Human Resources Council, provides an admirable agency for enlisting the resources of the Returned Peace Corps Volunteers, to the mutual advantage of the corpsmen and the State.

Specific objectives of the Council are:

- The advancement of better understanding of foreign cultures by Michigan citizens.
- To give assistance to Returned Peace Corps Volunteers in Michigan. (There are now more than 1,000 Volunteers living in the State.)
- To encourage Peace Corps Volunteers overseas to live in Michigan on expiration of their foreign assignments.

One concrete project of the Council is:

which has borne fruit was the sponsorship of a fund-raising program in partnership with Michigan school children for the construction of school buildings in Tanzania—one of Africa's new nations.

With $1,000 necessary to purchase the basic materials to begin construction of each school, more than 47 schools are in process of completion.

The Press endorses the creation and aims of the Peace Corps Council. In light of the valuable practical training given Peace Corps volunteers, their extensive experience in social areas around the globe, and their manifest dedication to the cause of humanity, it would be a flagrant waste of potential citizenship of the highest order to allow the fine qualities of these young people to go unutilized.

David Lawrence Says:

Dems Likely to Support LBJ

Will the Democratic National Convention of 1968 repudiate the administration, or will it be declared boastfully, in political rhetoric at least, that President Johnson made the best five-year record of a chevron in modern times?

LAWRENCE

No matter who is nominated in Chicago, the Democratic party can hardly agree with the Republicans in their criticisms of the Johnson administration.

Yet, judging by the comments heard from supporters of Sen. McCarthy and Sen. McGovern and from other outspoken Democrats, the party is supposed to present to the people an entirely different program for the next four years.

Vice President Humphrey, of course, has indicated clearly that, while he may have to modify foreign policy as changing circumstances arise, basically he stands four-square behind the Johnson policies in Vietnam.

McCarthy, on the other hand, in various television appearances has given the impression that there was not much good about the administration's record, and that it bungled the whole Vietnam war problem.

IMPLICIT ENDORSEMENT

The platform writers would like to get the Vietnam war issue out of the campaign, but they cannot afford to do so because this would be looked upon as an implicit endorsement of the viewpoint of the critics.

So far as the delegates are concerned, they are inclined to go along with the Johnson administration. This is one of the reasons why they are leaning toward the nomination of Humphrey.

While he doesn't have an actual majority assured, the prevalent belief is that by the time the first ballot is taken he will have enough votes to be declared the winner.

Already the discussion is turning to the selection of a vice-presidential nominee, and more and more is heard about Gov. Richard Hughes of New Jersey, though there may be others.

a bit of trouble getting support for him in the South.

WOULD TAKE NOTE

Meanwhile, the Democratic party will have to prove by its platform and its selection of presidential and vice-presidential nominees that it intends to go before the country with an endorsement of the Johnson administration.

If it does not do so, the Republicans will certainly take note of any failure to approve the Democratic record.

The Republican argument would be: If the Democrats themselves disapprove, why take a chance on another Democratic administration? Before the convention is over, therefore, effusive eulogies of President Johnson may be expected, and he might even attend — by television at least.

Bob Considine Says:

Irishman Has Last Word on Subject of Barbarity

NEW YORK — People . . .

"At a recent Dublin horse show, a beautiful Tipperary hunter tripped over a wall, broke his leg and was promptly shot," reports my editor friend Jack McCarthy from the Old Sod.

"This is barbarous!" loudly protested an American lady tourist. "We don't shoot horses in America. We give injections."

"Aye, madam," replied an Irish voice in the crowd. "That's foine, you only shoot Kennedys and Negroes."

"There are a lot of people of Greek extraction in this country," Gov. Spiro Agnew told us the other day. "and I'd expect to attract most of their votes to the Republican ticket. I don't think it of a religious vote. I'm not Greek Orthodox."

"I guess you take your politics from your father and your religion from your mother. My mother was Episcopalian. So that's the way I was raised."

I asked the GOP's vice presidential choice to name the toughest pair the Democrats could name at Chicago.

"I surely don't want to pick the candidates for them," he laughed. "Tickets are shaped by the times, and times change. For all I know, the invasion of Czechoslovakia will prove to have hurt or improved the chances of the men in the race for the nominations. I don't know."

"All I'm sure of is that we're going to win, no matter who they put up."

Peter Donald, one of the better wit of our time, has been mending nicely at Polyclinic Hospital after suffering a stroke.

"I'd like to get the hell out of this place, but the doctors tell me I should stay on for a couple more weeks," Pete told us during visiting hours.

"They're practicing preventive medicine: If they keep me in here I don't get hit by a cab."

My wife asked him what the toughest part of his siege has been.

"The babe who brings in the grub at a quarter of five in the afternoon and says 'here's your din-din,'" Pete shuddered.

In Washington:

HHH Needs Boost in No. 2 Spot

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

CHICAGO (NEA) — Polls indicate that only the addition of Sen. Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy or Minn.

Eugene McCarthy as vice presidential nominee would give any kind of forward boost to a ticket headed by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

To no one's surprise, Kennedy would be an immense asset to the ticket, but he has, of course, eliminated himself totally from such consideration by the Democratic convention.

The case for McCarthy is not so clear. Attitude surveys indicate both plus and minus factors in the view that voters have of him. But there is a modest net plus.

The private polls taken for Humphrey made it plain, however, that all other public figures discussed for the second spot and checked in the surveys are a drag on the ticket. In other words, they show Humphrey doing better by himself against the Republican Nixon-Agnew ticket than in combination with any prospective Democratic runner-up choice other than Kennedy or McCarthy.

Included inevitably in such a check list would have been Gov. Richard Hughes of New Jersey, Gov. Harold Hughes of Iowa, Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota,

Scholarship Applicant Views Area College Plan

Before the Board of Trustees at Oakland Community College so generously gives tuition-waived scholarships with transportation and campus jobs to 50 ghetto students from Detroit in hopes of motivating them into wanting an education, please have someone reconsider my application for a scholarship at the Auburn Hills campus.

I have been a resident of Oakland County for 34 years and have worked in same for 23 years. I have helped my husband keep our four children fed and clothed, helped support welfare, ADC, and our overseas friends. Like many residents of Michigan and Oakland County, I am tired of sacrificing my pleasure while supporting others who invariably bite the hand that feeds them.

The need for teachers in our community is severe enough to motivate me into becoming one. Just this once I would like to hold out my hand and not have it slapped. Let them get off their dead rears and desire an education before you offer it to them on a silver platter.

I live on Norton and my property backs up to the Grand Trunk right-of-way. Can anything be done about the excessive blowing of horns at crossings when the bell and red gates are already working? Wife Comments on Charge Against Doctor

I commend Circuit Court Judge James S. Thorburn for granting an order to withdraw and dismiss the second charge placed against Dr. Ronald E. Clark in the death of his patient, Mrs. Grace Neil. This second charge was "failure to notify corner." I compliment Judge Thorburn for saving taxpayers' money and for the judicious administration of Michigan law.

Dr. Posner, the coroner of Oakland County, was in the clinic about two hours after the death of Mrs. Neil and remained there for over an hour. He viewed the body. Dr. Clark acknowledged that Mrs. Neil was his patient and had given her a medical treatment shortly before her death. In view of the law and the statements of fact, it is in my opinion most judicious of Judge Thorburn to issue an order of Nolle Prosequi as of August 6, 1968 and proceed to further with the second charge against Dr. Clark. I question why a second charge was placed against the doctor.

Question and Answer

Is a tax-exempt family foundation legal for the average family?

MRS. GERALD M. BROWN
45 PEACH ST.

REPLY

No one knows yet if it's legal for any family. It hasn't been tested in court. However, it seems unlikely the Government is going to permit, for long, any setup that makes the average family's income tax-exempt.

'Youth Games' May Spark Teen-Age Sports Interest

The unspoken motto of the first United States Youth Games, held in New York last summer, was "keep the kids off the streets." Initiated by Mayor JOHN V. LINDSAY's Urban Task Force, the Games were conceived as a device to relieve juvenile boredom, not as a showcase for athletic stars of the future.

But things were different at the second Youth Games, which recently concluded a four-day program in St. Louis. If the mini-Olympics become an annual event, as seems likely, they could become an important part of the Nation's sports program.

Twelve cities, each represented by a squad of 64 boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 15 years and eight coaches, were represented at St. Louis. As was the case last year, there was competition in track and field, basketball, and bowling.

The fact that the Youth Games are only one year old serves to emphasize the lack of adequate athletic training in the United States for youngsters' of pre-junior-high age.

In this respect, the Soviet Union is far ahead of us. General physical education—games and elements of gymnastics—begins in the elementary grades of Soviet schools. From the fifth grade on, youngsters are eligible to join school sports clubs, of which there are approximately 90,000. There are, in addition, 2,306 special children's sports schools with a total enrollment of 800,000 boys and girls.

Yuri Mashin, central council chairman of the Union Sports Societies of the U.S.S.R., said a year ago: "Our attitude toward athletics—that it makes for the harmonious development of the individual—filters down to the growing generation. A youngster may not know anything else about sports, but he knows it helps him grow."

Postal Worker Takes Lofty View of Mail Volume

Tired of hearing about what lousy service the Post Office is giving, a postal worker has come up with some interesting statistics to illustrate what a massive job the department is faced with.

In 1967, the postal system handled about 80 billion pieces of mail. For 1968, the total is expected to be 83 billion.

If the 3 billion letters in this one-year increase were stacked one on top of the other they would make a pile 2,100 miles high.

If all the 83 billion letters were stacked up, they would reach 59,000 miles into space, or nearly a quarter of the way to the moon.

There's the solution to the mail problem: Write skinnier letters.

Ray Bliss: Magician of Miami Beach

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Many observers at Miami Beach agree that they have never seen a convention so free from abrasions, conflicts and distressing disorder.

A major reason why good humor so generously prevailed was the masterful management of arrangements by Ray Bliss, the national chairman.

In other cities and in other years much of the ill temper that prevailed had its origins in incompetent management of arrangements.

I have attended seven Republican National Conventions since the 1930s, and I have never seen such efficient preparations as at Miami Beach.

That perfection was due to months of preparation by the most competent national chairman the GOP has had in the 50 years since Will Hays assumed that office.

MERE CHORES

But Bliss regarded these arrangements as mere chore, for his real contribution has been in bringing the Republican party out of the disaster and division of 1964.

Working for the recovery of a party from defeat is no new experience for Bliss.

In 1958 certain employers insisted in putting a right-to-work amendment on the Ohio ballot. Sen. John Bricker and Bliss organized without avail.

Organized labor responded by pouring great sums and hundreds of workers into the fight to defeat it. Labor won by a big majority, but down the drain went the Republican ticket. The day of the disaster Bliss began to work for the GOP recovery.

GREAT REVIVAL

During the two years that followed he created a great Republican revival. As a result, Richard Nixon in 1960 carried Ohio by the largest GOP majority in any state.

In 1962 the Republican renaissance continued. Republicans won the Ohio governorship, the legislature and 18 of 24 congressional seats. Despite the defeat of the national ticket in 1964, GOP candidates did fairly well in the state.

The brilliant success of Bliss in Ohio and his high standing among all state chairmen made him the natural choice to succeed Dean Buren who had been selected by Barry Goldwater in 1964. Goldwater himself urged Bliss to take over the national committee in early 1965.

In Washington, Bliss has applied the Ohio formula for success over the nation. He reorganized the national committee staff from top to bottom. He has traveled from state to state inspiring and instructing state and local party officials.

TRUE PROFESSIONAL

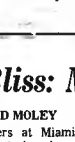

He is a true professional, this man who had demonstrated his value in Ohio for over 17 years.

The culmination was the big Republican sweep in 1966.

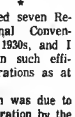

The details of that victory are a twice-told tale. Suffice it to say that the GOP has reached a status of equality with the Democrats, the first time this has happened since 1952.

OK on Apartments Tied to Lake Curbs

The Watford Township Board last night discussed reasoning required for 90 minutes before agreeing to allow construction of apartments on an 18-acre site at Cass-Elizabeth and Cooley Lake roads.

The land will be developed by Herschel Laster and Associates, a Birmingham firm.

The power will be legally granted in the form of a deed

It fronts on the northwest corner of Elizabeth Lake, but no boat usage will be allowed for residents of the planned 216-unit apartment complex.

The rezoning had been turned down three years ago because it was felt then that the added number of boats on the lake could cause a water traffic problem.

AGREES TO RESTRICTIONS

When landowner Charles Tobel petitioned again, he agreed to place restrictions on renters.

As presented last night, the Township Board would have been responsible for making sure the restrictions were not violated.

When the legality of the township's entering into such an agreement was questioned, an attorney representing nearby home owners offered an alternative plan that was deemed workable.

William A. Travis, attorney for seven neighboring subdivisions, suggested that a presidents of the concerned subdivision associations would be entrusted with the power to take action if the apartment dwellers violate the agreement not to keep boats on the lake.

restriction under the watchful eyes of the subdivision chiefs.

Travis represented about 3,000 residents who were concerned about added boat traffic as well as the density of units that would be constructed on the sites.

Attorney Jerome Mulligan, who appeared for the developer, agreed to promise that not more than 216 units would be constructed. Under present conditions, 216 is the legal limit of units allowed. In the event that a sewer was constructed however, that limit could be raised.

Mulligan agreed that even if a sewer is constructed the developers will keep their promise to build no more than the 216 units planned.

In other action taken at last night's meeting, the board:

• Granted an application for a Vehicle Dealer License to Michigan Transport Trailers, Inc. The firm is situated at 4555 Dixie.

● Approved a request from Pontiac's chapter of Disabled

● Approved its meeting next week for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday

Call From Kennedy Dims Drive for Draft

CHICAGO (AP) — Democrats Kennedy spread across the con-flirted with the magical lure of venton floor in the early hours another Kennedy candidacy to today to Illinois, Oregon and In-day despite a dampening disvowal by the last brother.
Backers of Sen. Edward M. Jesse M. Unruh, head of his Kennedy said his name would state's crucial 174-vote delebe thrust before the Democratic tion that is crucial to Kennedy's convention as it chooses a presi- chances, said his candidacy dential nominee Wednesday "would provide an incalculable night despite his telephone call lift to what looks like a disas-to try to block the draft move- trous year for the Democrats."
ment. Unruh said, "I do not regard his conversation with Gov. Di-Salle as final."

The call appeared to doom the already remote chances of any success for the drive in a convention dominated to date by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey. But it didn't deter the delegates drawn in corridor conversation to the romance of his name.

"Nothing could stop his (Kennedy's) name from being placed in nomination," said former Ohio Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, target of the Kennedy telephone call after he opened a draft headquarters in a downtown hotel.

'GONE TOO FAR'

DiSalle promised Kennedy he this race in the first place if I wouldn't nominate him. But he thought there was the slightest said someone else probably chance he would pick up the would. DiSalle said, "I told him mantle of his brother."

The draft movement has gone too far to be stopped."

A petition drive mounted by nedy would cause me to change likely to surface without California as a catalyst.

NO MOVE

But the California leader made no move to swing his huge delegation behind the fledgling draft drive, pending an unusual joint appearance by three declared candidates—Humphrey and Sens. Eugene J. McCarthy and George S. McGovern—at a state caucus today.

McGovern said Monday he would drop his candidacy and back Kennedy "if he asked for my support."

ON FIRST BALLOT

Kennedy's own Massachusetts delegation is bound to McCarthy on the first ballot as a result of his primary victory in that state.

Reservoirs of Kennedy sentiment were visible in such other delegations as Michigan and Oklahoma, but they seemed unlikely to surface without California as a catalyst.

McCarthy said, however, he considered Kennedy "still a potential candidate."

The Minnesota senator said,
"The feeling is that there are people here who would like to put his name in nomination. I think you would still have to consider him as a possibility."

Kennedy, who at 36 is only one year above the constitutional age requirement for president, remained at the family retreat in Hyannis Port, Mass.

There was doubt whether he would come to the convention even on the closing night for the memorial planned for his second assassinated brother. Sen.
Robert F. Kennedy.

The California delegation, won by Robert Kennedy in the primary election triumph he was celebrating when shot June 6, remains essential to any draft movement that would be more than a minor embarrassment to the Massachusetts senator.

ON FIRST BALLOT

Kennedy's own Massachusetts
delegation is bound to McCarthy on the first ballot as a result of his primary victory in that state.

Reservoirs of Kennedy sentiment were visible in such other delegations as Michigan and Oklahoma, but they seemed unlikely to surface without California as a catalyst.

Applications of 2 Firemen Clear Waterford Board

Applications for two volunteer firemen for membership in the Waterford Township Fire Fighters Association were accepted last night by the Township Board.

A third application was rejected by the board when Assistant Fire Chief Russell See recommended denial.

All three had completed their six-month probationary period with the department. See said Accepted were John Schwartz and James Wood.

See recommended against the acceptance of Roger Davis because of an alleged earlier disagreement with department officials.

RECOMMENDED
Davis had received the recommendation of the volunteers of the Fire Fighters Association, Board Trustee Robert E. Richmond gave Davis his only support. Richmond said the recommendations of the association had always been honored in the past and he felt it should be honored again despite See's negative recommendation.

The rift between Davis and the fire department occurred in January, when Davis and nine other volunteers took a 40-day leave of absence during contract negotiations between the fire fighters and the township, according to See.

When negotiations were settled, six of the nine men resigned. Davis was one of the six.

See said he was afraid of a

Urban Crime in Michigan Is Up 16% in 1967

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 193-page Department of Justice Uniform Crime Report for 1967 lists statistics on offenses known to police in various Michigan communities of more than 25,000 population. The Michigan crime rate per 100,000 persons increased 16.4 per cent in 1967 over 1966: from 2,174 to 2,530.

The report noted that many factors influence crime, including climate and police attitudes and policies as well as public attitude. Adherence to statistical procedure in reporting crimes was another factor that could not be controlled, the report said.

The report said that calculated rates of crime are a function of estimated population. All communities, metropolitan areas and states are affected to a greater or lesser degree by the element of transience in the population, the report said. It added: "This factor is not accounted for in crime rates since no reliable estimate by state is available nationwide."

Thus, the "crime index" for a given city is simply derived by adding the recorded incidence of seven categories of criminal acts: murder and non-negligent manslaughter; forcible rape; robbery; aggravated assault; burglary, including breaking and entering; larceny—robbery without force, violence or fraud of more than $50; and auto theft.

More than 250,000 population

Detroit: Index 89.94; murder and nonnegligent manslaughter 281; forcible rape 733; robbery 11,973; aggravated assault 4,635; burglary 38,307; larceny (more than $50) 14,801; auto theft 16,215.

Junior Editors Quiz on ASTEROIDS

QUESTION: What are the asteroids composed of?

ANSWER: Look at our little chart of the solar system (lower right). Notice that the orbits of Mercury, Venus, Earth and Mars are quite close—but there is a wide gap between those of Mars and Jupiter.

Astronomers used to wonder why there was no planet in this area. Then in 1801, a tiny dot of light was seen. Finally, many more. These are the asteroids or tiny planets, a great many of which orbit the sun between Mars and Jupiter.

Some believe they may have resulted from the breakup of a former planet; others disagree.

The orbits of these little bodies are irregular and some of them wander beyond the asteroid belt. A large asteroid named Icarus was detected recently in an orbit which was predicted would pass close to the earth. Many people worried whether it might strike us and cause great damage. But on June 4, 1968, Icarus whizzed safely by, 4 million miles away.

Because an asteroid is too small for gravity to pull it into a sphere, these bodies are thought to be irregular in shape; they are composed of rock and metal.

Almost Half of Policemen Quit in Inkster

INKSTER (AP) — Low wages and a work-week averaging 73 hours were given as reasons Monday for the resignation of 21 patrolmen, almost half of the Inkster police force.

City Manager Ralph DiSantis said at one point the resignations would be accepted and recruits sought to fill vacancies. Chief James Pyke had said the city would rely on State Police and Wayne County sheriff's deputies to maintain order.

Among those resigning from the 43-member force were eight of 14 Negro policemen.

The Inkster Police Officers Association had sought a raise from $8,177 to more than $9,000 after three years. There also were complaints about frequent 12-hour shifts.

DiSantis said the officers knew the city did not consider final its offer of $8,585, an increase of 5 per cent.

The resignations followed a damage suit filed last Friday by the city.

The suit asked an immediate back-to-work order for policemen who had been reporting sick and $60,000 damages from the Police Officers Association.

State Asks U.S. Funds for Antiriot Units

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney reported today Michigan has applied for $186,180 in federal funds to assist local units in riot prevention and control.

The governor said, however, that local requests for federal funds channeled through his office added up to more than $2.33 million.

The federal funds asked in the antiriot program would be added to a required 25 per cent in state and local matching funds, to total $248,000.

"It is obvious that there will not be nearly enough money to meet the requests of our cities, townships and counties," Romney said.

THANKS for your patience

On Friday, August 16, the most destructive storm in the history of Detroit Edison moved in, centering in the South Oakland and surrounding areas.

Some 43,000 of our customers were without electricity in a matter of minutes.

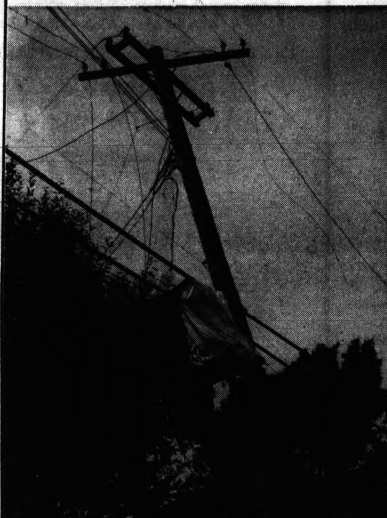

But also in minutes, Edison repair crews were on their way to the scene. And they worked, literally day and night, to restore service. Crews worked long hours without rest or sleep. We are proud of all of them, and want to publicly thank them.

Nevertheless, some of you were without electricity for much too long—we consider that any interruption is too long.

We did our best under very trying circumstances and again, we say, "Thanks for your patience."

Right to Open Mail Belongs to Addressee

By ELIZABETH L. POST
I received a number of letters in regard to the question discussed below, both for and against my answer. The following one not only corroborates my opinion, but also answers those who questioned the legal aspects.

Mrs. Frazee's letter has been chosen as the prize-winning one for this week and a copy of Emily Post's Etiquette has been sent to her under separate cover.

Dear Mrs. Post: A few weeks ago in your column there was a letter from a woman questioning a wife's "legal right to open and read mail addressed to her husband" and the writer said she "maintains that the law of privacy takes precedence over marital ties," and you agreed. In the past few weeks I have sought an answer to "legality" of the situation.

My brother is an attorney and I put the question to him. As it turns out, the legal aspect of this question has never arisen before and he could therefore find no case for reference. The Federal Criminal Code (28 U.S.C.A. 1702) says:

"Whoever takes any letter, postal card or package out of any post office or any authorized depository for mail matter... before it has been delivered to the person to whom it was directed, with design to obstruct the correspondence, or opens, secretes, embezzles, or destroys the same, shall be fined..."

It would thus appear that a spouse opening mail addressed solely to another could be the subject of criminal prosecution. He went on to say that technically the act in reference would be considered "wrong," and that technically an addressee-spouse has a legal right to prohibit his or her spouse from opening the mail.

However, the scarcity of any conclusive answer undoubtedly results from the fact that either the person faced with the problem of a spouse opening his mail does not care about it, in which case nothing is done, or, if the marital situation reaches the point where he would be seizing on such conduct for use, for example, in a divorce proceeding, he probably would be no longer living under the same roof, and, thus, the problem may never occur.

As you can see, your answer was certainly correct and could really be based on nothing other than etiquette itself instilled in family members by the example of the parents.—Virginia Frazee.

She's Called Seven Times at Democratic Convention

The rollcall at the convention is a pacesetter. Dorothy Vredenburg Bush was only 27 back in 1944 when the Democratic National Committee, saluting youthful supporters, appointed her its secretary. She became the first woman — and the youngest person — ever to hold that post in either party.

Mrs. Bush made her debut in Chicago and this will be her seventh consecutive convention in the job.

Wife of Interstate Commerce Commissioner John W. Bush, she grew up in Mississippi and lived in Birmingham, Ala. She has a soft, calm, experienced voice for calling the roll of the states.

The Democrats will pause in their opening night proceedings to pay tribute to the late Margaret Price, the vice chairman of the national committee, who died in July. Sen. Philip Hart of her home state of Michigan will deliver a eulogy.

Mrs. Price would have had a major role at this convention and in the election campaign as director of women's activities for the party.

In her place, chairman John Bailey called back into service a former vice chairman 1950-56, veteran political activist India Moffet Edwards, a native of Chicago, former newspaperwoman.

Mrs. Edwards, who campaigned vigorously for Johnson, has been a colorful figure in Democratic politics.

NOMINEE Her name was placed in nomination as a vice presidential candidate at the 1952 convention.

Mrs. Edwards has been pinch-hitting since June as a special assistant to Bailey, planning the women's activities at the convention.

D. O. Lundins Wed Saturday

Winnetka Presbyterian Church, Winnetka, Ill., was the setting Saturday for vows spoken by David Oscar Lundin of Bloomfield Hills and Frances Aubrey Hynes.

The bride is the daughter of James A. Hynes of Winnetka. Parents of the bridegroom are former Birmingham residents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar A. Lundin of New York City and Armonk, N.Y.

For the afternoon exchange of vows, the former Miss Hynes chose a long sleeved satin gown worn by her mother, the late Mrs. Adele Bunker Hynes.

A cathedral veil of illusion highlighted her ensemble.

Mrs. Casimir A. Yost was matron of honor for her sister with bridesmaids, Mrs. John Whiting of Birmingham, the bridegroom's sister, Mary L. Wickersham, Mary Jo Quigley and Honey Tracy. Elizabeth Pope attended as flower girl.

Stewart Ruch of Indianapolis, Ind., was best man. John Triller and Michael Schaffer, also of Indianapolis, Charles Wessels, John Whiting, Robert Cody and Arthur Hynes, brother of the bride, comprised the usher corps.

A reception at the Women's Club in Winnetka followed nuptials for the Lundins who will make their home in Detroit.

Animal Rescue League Slates Its 16th Annual Antique Fair

The 16th annual Bloomfield Antique Fair, for the benefit of the Michigan Animal Rescue League, is scheduled Sept. 5-7 at Cranbrook Auditorium on Lone Pine Road.

Proceeds of this year's show will be devoted to the operation of the League's Shelter on Featherstone Road which is experiencing increased operational costs. The population explosion seems to have extended itself to the animal kingdom.

Through the League's efforts, many hundreds of animals have been placed in good homes and many others have been rescued from cruelty or mistreatment.

The annual antique fair is a prime source of funds for this work. Displays of furniture, glassware, jewelry and other items are planned. New dealers from out-state localities will participate.

Fair hours are from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Judith Prevette, Robert L. McCall Exchange Nuptials

Wearing an Empire styled gown of peau de sole fashioned with an A-line skirt, Judith Lynne Prevette exchanged vows with Robert LeRoy McCall Saturday in First Baptist Church.

Appliques of Chantilly lace accented her ensemble.

A matching headpiece of peau de sole secured her elbow length veil of illusion and her bouquet was composed of Amazon lilies with ferns.

Following the afternoon ceremony, parents of the newlyweds, the Isaac C. Prevettes of Elizabeth Lake Road and the Jack McCalls of Traverse City joined the couple at a reception in the church parlors.

Honor attendants Barbara Smith and Specie A. McCall, USA, were assisted by Joanne Prevette, Marshall Carr and Robert Prevette.

Following a honeymoon trip to northern Michigan, the couple will make their home in Honor.

Even the Neat Beards of Friends Makes This Mother a Little Itchy

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am an 18-year-old girl, and my problem is my mother. She doesn't like some of the boys I go around with because they have beards. They aren't big, shaggy dirty-looking beards — but small, neatly trimmed, clean-looking beards and I think they look sharp.

ABBY

My mother calls these bearded friends of mine "hoods, beatniks and hippies." She says they look like a bunch of bums who will never amount to anything.

How can I convince her she is wrong? DEAR ABBY: Think again. Your tale of "Old China" sounds like a lot of chop suey to me. Furthermore, a doctor is entitled to be paid for "professional services rendered," regardless of the outcome.

DEAR ABBY: I've been told that in Old China, a "professional" medic was paid only if the patient improved and survived. If the patient died, or did not improve, the medic received nothing. (No tuckee, no washee.) This strikes me as a bit of all right. How does it strike you? Only suckers pay for goods they do not receive. THINKER

DEAR THINKER: Think again. Your tale of "Old China" sounds like a lot of chop suey to me. Furthermore, a doctor is entitled to be paid for "professional services rendered," regardless of the outcome.

DEAR ABBY: I am 14, and five years ago I was in a car accident. After many operations and much therapy I was able to walk again — but with a noticeable limp.

In that accident we lost my little sister, so my mother, not wanting me to be an "only child," adopted a little girl who had been deaf since birth.

What I'm getting at is this: You've seen comedians on TV and the stage lisp, stuttering, stumbling, falling and "playing deaf and mute," and they get laughs that bring down the house.

I don't see anything funny about this, and it's not that I'm overly sensitive because I felt the same way before my accident.

I have seen handicapped people at the rehabilitation center stumbling and falling and doing the same things the comedians do for laughs, and believe me, it is heart-breaking.

My little sister spends hours with a speech therapist trying to form words, and when she sees someone on TV who makes the same sounds as she, and the people laughing about, she runs to her room in tears. (She is only five.)

Is something missing in my sense of humor? Or do others feel the same as I? NOT LAUGHING

DEAR NOT: Many others agree with you, I, for one. And I thank you for your wonderful letter.

DEAR ABBY: I have read your column for years and this is the first time I have ever felt compelled to write and protest one of your answers. It is in regard to "Concerned and Furious," who was upset over a neighbor's allowing her preschool children to play in the nude in the back yard in full view of the public.

Abby, what "public"? Busybodies who have nothing more important to do than watch their neighbors? They should be concerned for their own dirty minds.

BOH Hosts Gala Farewell Party

Bloomfield Open Hunt, for the nonce, is minus a manager. Gene Rawlins, the man-in-charge the last six years, is off for Florida and greener pastures, or maybe he's just looking for better weather. He will manage the Deerwood Club in Jacksonville.

Gene and his wife, Zel, left right after the recent farewell party at the BOH which was described by an eyewitness as "monstrous — about the complete membership was there."

And you, dear Abby, should be ashamed for advising them to "call the police, who will inform those neighbors in question of the risks involved with nudity of small children."

But perhaps with people like you, thinking everything has a dirty meaning, yes, maybe those children ARE in danger.

Try cleaning up your own thoughts before you censor the thoughts of others. ALSO FURIOUS

Mother Must Work to Erase Hostility

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: Though I treat my 2-year-old justly, I know I punish his 4-year-old brother too severely. I want to love him but some terrible hostility in me gets in the way. Why do I feel it? I realize it is wrong to feel it because a good mother-child relationship is the foundation of all good relationships in life. I would appreciate your opinion.

ANSWER: I haven't the faintest idea of why you dislike this child. Nor, were I in possession of this "why," would I give it to you.

Because you seem to be a collector of "whys" that justify your refusal to do anything to change this situation. First, by telling yourself that your "hostility" is terrible, you also tell yourself that it's so much more powerful than you are that you're helpless to alter it. Second, you have made a point of so glorifying maternal affection that no mortal woman could deliver it. (Incidentally, fathers do exist, you know.) You've managed to exaggerate its importance out of all reality. And that's another convenient alibi for offering nothing to the child — nothing, I mean, so mental and unimportant as an interest in his interests.

No, no "whys" from me.

Orders is what you get from me. You are to buy the book you loved most as a little girl and read it to you ramall son. You are to join him in painting clowns and Old Mother Hubbard in his coloring books. You're to turn yourself into a passenger on a bus made of dining room chairs and do what you're told to do by its 4-year-old driver.

Love for him is just discovery of the person in him. It's the search for mutuality of interest with him. And search is action. It is not accumulating "whys" in one's head to make nonaction seem so reasonable that you don't have to either search for or discover.

LEGEND'S LESSON

There's an old Jewish legend about the Israelites' flight from Egyptian bondage. It says that the Red Sea opened the path to freedom for them only after the first man had moved into its obstructing waters.

And that's a parable that glorifies what raises glory — action taken out of faith both in ourselves and the value of what we want.

Why Grow Old?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

There is no doubt that bad breath is a serious problem. It is not a threat to life, but it can be damaging to a career, to a happy social life and to romance.

Here are some of the conditions to investigate. How about your teeth? Do your gums look firm and pink or puffy and red? Do you brush your teeth carefully and regularly? Do you have them examined and cleaned by a professional regularly? If you wear dentures do you give them proper care? Do you have diseased tonsils or adenoids? Do you have sinus trouble? Any one of these could be the culprit.

Are you a "mouth breather"? This dries out the mucus and saliva in the mouth and nose and throat and can cause an unpleasant odor. Too little fluid intake can add to the trouble. Some authorities feel that constipation can play a part, and increased fluid intake helps combat this.

There seems to be no doubt that nervous or emotional tension can produce bad breath.

Halitosis is often due to indigestion. This and poor mouth hygiene are probably the most usual causes.

In his book "Questions You Don't Ask Your Doctor" (Hawthorne Books Inc. N.Y. Dr. William Bolter says, "To make sure that the odor is not coming from the lungs try breathing out with the mouth closed and then with the nose closed. If odor is present, each time the lungs may be the source, although this is not an absolutely specific diagnosis. If you have not had lung studies, they might be advisable."

Unpleasant breath should be investigated not only because of its effect on personal life but also because it is often a symptom of some existing condition which could be corrected.

Lace Accents Ensemble

MRS. JOHN C. BROOKS II

Residing in Milwaukee, Wis., will be John Charles Brooks II and his bride, the former Joann Elizabeth Cronin, where they will resume studies at Marquette University.

The daughter of the Walter J. Cronins of Half Moon Road and the son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Brooks of Charing Cross Road exchanged vows Saturday evening in St. Regis Catholic Church, Birmingham.

ORGANZA, LACE
Attended by Marie Therese Castellan of Marseille, France, the bride wore a silk organza sheath embroidered with motifs of Venetian lace. Matching silk organza fashioned her Cathedral train.

To complete her look, she chose a Venetian lace bonnet atop a cascading veil of illusion.

Judy Wink, Betsi Finlay, Kathi Heinen and Mary Brooks were bridesmaids with Wendy Wink as flower girl. Members of the usher corps were Patrick and Michael Cronin, Dominic Mattone and Gerald Hunsburger.

Best man honors were performed by Thomas Brooks. Following a reception at Oakland Hills Country Club, the newlyweds departed for a honeymoon trip to Quebec.

Housewives Find Driving Better Than Dusting

BALTIMORE (AP) — housewives in this metropolitan area who break away twice a day from their household chores to drive school buses find getting behind the wheel a pleasant relief from their housework.

"Eight years ago, there were only one or two women who drove for us," reports Frederick Donovan, assistant to the director of transportation for Baltimore county public schools, "but last year, the ladies pulled ahead of the men and now 246 of the 350 drivers are women."

The women say they can handle the troubleshooters on their buses just as well as the men, and sometimes better. "They'll try you at first to see how much they can get away with," says Mrs. Doris Anderson, "but once you lay down the law they don't give you any trouble."

Right Sock Size

Be sure to get the correct size in socks for children. It's just as important as the right size in shoes. For healthy, growing feet, foot specialists recommend absorbent all-cotton socks, in a size at least one-half inch longer than the child's longest toe.

Content Is Clue to Washability of Stuffed Toys

"A stuffed toy is only as washable as what's inside it," says George V. Grooms who represents a leading manufacturer which stuffs its animals with polyurethane foam — plus some expanded polystyrene in larger animals to keep them light in weight.

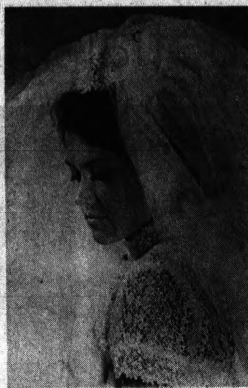

Both fillers are non-toxic, non-allergenic, and thoroughly washable.

The outside "coat" of these animals is made of permanently fire-retardant acrylic fabric, replacing the traditional rayon plush. Made with a long- or short-haired pile, this is also entirely washable — a benefit appreciated by mothers.

Vinyl Patch Lasts

When patching the knees of children's snow suits, place patches of vinyl plastic under the regular patches. Stitch both together on the pants. These make long lasting water-proof patches.

MRS. JEROME BROWNSTEIN

Case No. G-541

Wives—Don't Be Passive

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Case G-541: Nora S., aged 30, is angry.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "you keep blaming us wives, even though it is usually our husbands who start chasing around."

"But I have been married for 11 years and never refused my husband."

"Yet I find that he has been having an affair with one of my best girlfriends, whom I trusted completely."

"So how can I be at fault?"

"Yet you say we faithful wives are at least 50 per cent to blame for our straying husbands?"

WIFELY MISTAKES

What most women fail to realize is this simple psychological difference between husband and wife:

• A husband still wants marital indulgence though he may be unable to function.

• A wife may not want such but she can still function!

For the typical wife is merely a passive partner, who can offer her passive acquiescence, even though she is snoring!

But the male must be sufficiently aroused to take the aggressive role in marital relations.

And it often is not enough for a slender wife to recline in a diaphanous nightgown on her twin bed.

Even her new, seductive perfume may not tip the scales.

Yet the usual wife seems to think she is contributing her full share of cooperation, merely by her passive acquiescence.

That's not always adequate in this hectic, competitive modern world.

For if your husband is under a lot of tension at the factory or office, or is an executive to whom underlings conveniently pass the buck, then he may burn up much of his erotic energy in "production" instead of the functions of "reproduction."

Yet he may still desire physical union when he reaches home.

But if he is tired or his wife has unwittingly lost some of her honeymoon allure due to obesity or pregnancy or the "medical specimen" taboo that attaches to "sick" wives who patronize medical offices unduly, then he may be platonic in action though virile in desire!

The usual two-timing husband will freely admit: "Dr. Crane, I'd much rather have an affair with my wife than this paramour I'm playing around with."

Southfield Is Setting for Vows and Reception

The Jerome Alan Brownsteins (nee Lindsay Elizabeth Woods) were feted at a reception in the Raleigh House, Southfield, following vows there.

SHEATH
For the recent morning ceremony, the bride wore a chiffon sheath fashioned with an Irish lace bodice. A petal headpiece, accented with seed pearls, capped her veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses with baby's breath.

Marcia Johnson was maid of honor for the daughter of George E. Woods of Birmingham and Mrs. Robert L. Segula of Ayrshire Drive.

Best man for the son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Brownstein of Roslyn Heights, N. Y., was John Merriman.

Other members of the bridal party were Patsy Boynton, bridesmaid, and George Woods III, Robert Dugan and Robert Odmark, ushers.

Unemployed Man Desires Insurance

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley:
How can a man keep health insurance coverage for his family when he is leaving a job that gives him group coverage and he doesn't know how long he will be unemployed?

My husband may decide not to go back to a salaried job, but into business with a friend instead. And the de-sion may not be made for a year or so. Is there any temporary insurance protection he could get?

Mrs. E. T. Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Dear Mrs. T.:
There are three possibilities of guarding against the risk of health emergency in this situation.

1. Your husband should ask his company if it gives a departing employee the opportunity of purchasing group coverage on an individual basis. Some companies with group plans do buy conversion rights. Of course, the cost is considerably higher. If, for example, he and the company have been splitting the cost of the policy and your husband has been paying $8 a month, he usually can get the same coverage after he leaves for about $18 a month, or $220 annually.

2. If that doesn't work out, and if he is affiliated with a union, he should find out if the union provides a 30-day extension of coverage. Some unions do and this 30-day period would give him time to go thoughtfully into various insurance policies.

3. He can buy an individual policy for a year with guaranteed renewal. A basic policy for a young family man aged from 30 to 34 for example, would cover medical costs except for maternity benefits in the sum of $20 a day up to 70 days per year, with ancillary coverage of $300. This would cost about $150 a year.

Dear Mary Feeley: Maybe you can help us decide whether to buy or not to buy a small home. We sold the one we had and are now renting. But there's no place like your own. We will both be ready to retire in January, 1970, with a pension of about $600 a month. We have savings of about $40,000 in bonds and savings and loan.

What would be a reasonable price to pay for a house? I would like to buy some new furniture and a new car. There are only the two of us.

Mrs. J. B. E., Chicago
Dear Mrs. E.: Better start with the premise that your basic expenses — housing, food, and clothing — should be kept to no more than 60 per cent of net income. So if you consider an $18,000 house, with a $10,000 down payment and an $8,000 mortgage for 15 years at 7 per cent, you could set up your budget on that basis. Mortgage payments would be $71.91 a month, plus about $60 a month for tax, insurance and heat, or a total of about $140 for housing.

Allowing $100 a month for food, $54 for clothing, and $30 for household operation, your basics would cost $284 a month — just under that 60 per cent of income. Since you have more than a year to go on your current income, devote what you can toward furniture and the car now. And your best to keep hands off those savings, except for the house payment.

DEAR POLLY — What can be done with an overnight bag that is usable except for a badly scuffed outside leather covering? It leaves a dark mark on everything, even a hand, that comes in contact with it. Could some finish be applied? — MRS. F. L. B.

| Opening lead—♥ Q |       |      |       |

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY

The Bridge World magazine has taken up Lewis Carroll's hand in from an article by Ernst Thamer in which a bridge expert finds himself playing against the Red Queen in Carroll's Looking-Glass World where everything is backward.

Humpty Dumpty had just been talking about real backward plays, as distingled from reverse play, when our hero found himself playing a five-club contract.

He won the heart lead and studied the hand. It seemed too bad that West had opened a heart. Against a spade opening there would have been time to knock out the ace of clubs, get over to dummy with a second trump, lead a diamond, and knock out West's ace by playing the jack or 10. After that, he would be able to discard one of dummy's hearts on the king of diamonds.

The heart lead had destroyed the timing but a sort of backward play against the Red Queen, who not only sat East but held the missing red queen, won the rubber.

South just led the 10 of diamonds. East was in with the queen and played a second heart. Now declared led his king of diamonds and discarded dummy's last heart when Humpty Dumpty did not cover.

The play of not covering was his only chance, because, if he had covered, South would ruff in dummy, return to his hand with the ace of spades and discard his losing heart on the jack of diamonds.

This play would have lost if the ace and queen of diamonds were reversed but Humpty Dumpty's takeout double had marked him with the ace of diamonds.

The visitor, who had been rather annoyed by Humpty's general hard-boiled manner, remarked, "Was that a backward finesse, old boy?"

For once, the unboiled egg had no answer.

'Let a Computer Solve Smog Woe'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The problem of smog which has stymied human thinkers for more than two decades should be referred to a giant computer says a researcher.

Beymour Calvert head of the University of California air pollution research center told newsmen Monday that scientists need a mathematical model of the atmosphere and everything that goes into it. Then he said the computer could calculate the results of various contemplated control measures.

Dems Kill Unit Rule; Vote Is Overwhelming

CHICAGO (AP) — Democrats have swept away the century-old tradition of unit-rule voting, despite a claim that front-running presidential hopeful Hubert H. Humphrey supported a move to delay the action until 1972.

Vice President Humphrey has been under fire in Texas and other southern delegations for the role played by his supporters in joining with backers of his chief rival, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, to vote unit-rule abolition in the Rules Committee last week.

But he may have made up for that with a statement Monday, quoted amid boos to the Democratic National Convention by Texas delegate Tom Gordon, that "If you want to abolish the unit rule, well and good. But let's pass a resolution that will be effective in 1972."

"I don't think that we ought to abolish what I think is an undemocratic rule by an undemocratic procedure," Gordon quoted Humphrey as saying.

SKOUTED DOWN

But Gordon's move to substitute a minority recommendation to retain the unit rule for this convention and abolish it in 1972 was shut down by an overwhelming voice vote.

The rules committee recommendation for a "freedom of conscience" requirement to permit individual delegates to vote as they wish was then approved also by voice vote.

Nine delegations, Texas, Alaska, Arkansas, Canal Zone, Georgia, Kansas, Missouri, Louisiana and South Carolina, came to the convention with unit rules requiring all votes to be cast the way the majority voted.

The action could have the effect of freeing some delegates in the Oregon and Massachusetts groups, where McCarthy now has the entire delegation because of his victories in the two states' winner-take-all primaries. But past conventions have made no effort to enforce state primary laws.

On the whole, the disappearance of the unit rule after 106 years is expected to have little effect on the presidential balloting. Subsequent roll call votes showed most of the members in the unit rule states sticking together.

Gordon said he objected to "any change in the playing rules in the middle of the ball game." But Gov. Samuel Shapiro of Illinois, rules committee chairman, said of abolition: "This is a moment of historic significance in the life of the Democratic party."

Monday night's action came as the convention adopted its temporary rules.

Two more floor fights could come tonight when Shapiro presents the permanent rules; one over a move to implement proposals of a group headed by Iowa Gov. Harold E. Hughes to make the convention more democratic, the other on a proposal to add state Democratic chairmen and Young Democratic Club presidents to the National Committee.

Here Are Highlights of Keynote Address

CHICAGO (U) — Highlights of the keynote address by Sen. Daniel K. Inouye of Hawaii at the Democratic National Convention.

Vietnam War — Of course the war in Vietnam must be ended. It must be ended as President Johnson said last March by patient political negotiation. . . . Like our other complex problems this one must also be solved responsibly. Just as we shun responsibility for total and devastating military victory so must we guard against the illusion of an instant peace that has no chance of permanence.

NEGRO PLIGHT — The Negro's unemployment rate is triple the national average. The mortality rate of his children is more than twice that of white children. He often pays more for his miserable tenement than comparable space costs in the white suburbs. . . . Today many thousands of our black brothers return from Vietnam with medals of valor. Some of them have been crippled in service of their country. But too often they return to economic and social circumstances that are barely if at all improved over those they left. . . . Is it any wonder that Negroes find it harder to wait another hundred years before they are accepted as full citizens in our free society?

REJECT VIOLENCE — CIVIL ORDER — Let us reject violence as a means of protest. And let us reject those who preach violence. Let us not tempt those who would hide the evil face of racism behind the mask of law and order.

Let us also resist the temptation of apathy. We can witness the causes of violence with indifference. . . . But violence and anarchy will make our task even more difficult. Poverty, discrimination and deprivation as evil as they are, do not justify anarchy or violence, looting or burning, murder or assassination.

DEMOCRATIC LEADERSHIP — We have laid in place such building blocks of mankind's survival as the nuclear test ban treaty of 1963, the banning of atomic weapons in space in 1967, and the nuclear nonproliferation treaty in 1968. Twenty million older Americans are now protected under Medicare. . . . Since 1963 the federal government has tripled its investment in education. . . . The last 11 years have seen the passage of the five civil rights bills passed in our entire history. I might note in passing that Lyndon Johnson is the author, chief architect or primary sponsor of each of them.

Working together we have done much. Together, we can and must — do much, much more. . . . We have long been the party which gave priority to the needs of human beings. So let us go forward with the programs responsive to the needs of today and tomorrow.

Probe Clears '67 Mustang

No Steering Hazard Federal Report Says

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The 1967 Ford Mustang car does not have a defective front-suspension system which makes steering hazardous, a federal government investigation disclosed Monday.

Dr. William Haddon Jr., director of the Federal Highway Administration's National Highway Safety Bureau, said his staff had found no evidence of faulty parts in the Ford model.

Bryon Bloch, an independent engineering consultant, had charged that the car's front-suspension drag struts were defectively designed and created dangerous driving conditions by impairing the steering apparatus. Ralph Nader, a critic on auto safety, had lent his support to Bloch's charge.

Haddon said 17 men from his staff conducted an investigation this summer in which they examined at random 844 Mustangs, including 564 1967 models, in 72 cities across the country. Columbus, Ohio, and Ford's plant in Columbus, Ohio, where the drag struts are manufactured, was also inspected by federal officials.

The investigations showed no defect existed and there was no need to recall any of the cars, Haddon said.

Ford had contended that the strut damage cited by Bloch in crashes involving Mustangs was the result of severe impact, not any defect which contributed to the mishaps.

Glamor Girl of 1930s Films Is Dead at 63

NEW YORK (AP) — Kay Francis, the tall brunette glamor girl who became one of the highest paid Hollywood stars of the 1930s, died Monday following a long illness. She was 63.

She had been a cancer patient at New York Hospital but returned home to her apartment on East 64th Street Saturday. At her request there will be no funeral service.

Her acting career began on Broadway but quickly shifted to Hollywood where she made more than 50 films including "Raffles," "Mandala," "I Found Stella Parish" and "Give Me Your Heart."

She was a popular success and her financial rewards were substantial. In 1937 she received $27,500 in salary, while an industrial executive like the chairman of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. earned $85,000.

EPITOME OF GLAMOR

In her lavishly furled suits and long slinky evening gowns she won a reputation as one of filmland's best-dressed women; she was considered the epitome of glamor and sexiness in her era.

Miss Francis was afflicted with a faint lisp and sometimes had difficulty pronouncing 'r's, but her voice only seemed to add to her popular appeal.

In 1946, after an 18-year absence from the Broadway stage, she returned in "State of the Union," the Pulitzer Prize comedy, and she ended her acting career in summer stock.

An Oklahoma girl, the daughter of actress Katherine Clinton, Miss Francis was born in 1905 and took her stage name from her first husband, Dwight Francis. She later married and divorced John Meehan, actor William Gaston and Kenneth McKenna.

Steady Increase of School Integration Seen in South

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—School integration across the South is expected to increase steadily, if not spectacularly this fall, even as federal enforcement officials begin shifting some of their concern from the South to northern cities.

"The quality of school systems by race can be expressed in Chicago or Detroit, as well as in Atlanta or Memphis," said William J. Page Jr., Atlanta regional director of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

"There's a crew now assigned to work with northern cities," Page said, suggesting this might actually make it easier to work with southern school officials.

"This is assurance that it is a nationwide program, that it's not specifically tailored to the South," Page said.

ABOUT 14 PCT.

In 11 southern states last fall, the number of Negroes in desegregated classes reached about 14 per cent. HEW officials anticipate a "meaningful" increase in that figure this fall, but no figures will be available until well after the 1968-69 school year begins.

"There's better acceptance of the absolute necessity of eliminating dual school systems on a racial basis," Page commented.

Page's HEW region includes Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, South Carolina and Tennessee. These states, plus Arkansas, Texas, North Carolina, Virginia, and Louisiana, had an estimated 2.9 million Negro pupils in school last year.

An Associated Press survey of these states indicates that state and local school officials are for the most part cooperating in carrying out court decisions and HEW guidelines.

GIVE UP FUNDS

In scattered areas, primarily in Georgia and Mississippi, local school systems have chosen to give up federal funds rather than comply with HEW desegregation proposals.

HEW officials point out that a school district giving up federal funds is still subject to court action—brought either by individuals or the Justice Department—to force school integration.

Alabama is a special case, since 11 of 118 school districts are completely desegregated, and the other 107 are all under federal court order. HEW officials usually do not deal with school systems that are under court order.

In Mississippi, all federal funds have been cut off to 22 of the state's 149 school systems. "There's a possibility of a decrease in the number of schools that will be integrated this year," said State Dept. of Education Dr. Garvin Johnston.

WILL REVERT

Johnston said most of the school systems which will lose federal funds are planning to revert to segregated schools this fall.

Johnston said one school official told him, "Why be integrated when we won't get federal funds? ... there's no reason."

In Georgia, 29 of 195 school systems have been informed they will get no federal money this fall.

But, Dr. Allen Smith, associate state school superintendent, said most of these systems will continue their desegregation plans.

ARE CONTINUING

"I don't know of many that don't have at least some desegregation," Smith said. Most of these schools, he said, lost federal money because of failure to work out an agreement with HEW but are continuing whatever school integration plan was already in effect.

The National Education Association is investigating charges that 19 Georgia school systems are firing Negro principals as they desegregate. A report is due in the fall.

The charges were first brought by some Negro educators, who said the black principals were fired so that local school systems would not have Negro educators in positions of authority over white teachers or white pupils.

Some 61 school districts so far have had federal funds cut off in Georgia and Mississippi; in nine other southern states, only 35 school districts have lost such funds.

MAJOR BATTLEGROUND

One major battleground in southern school desegregation this fall is expected to be the elimination of "freedom of choice" plans in favor of some form of geographic zone attendance.

The U.S. Supreme Court has ruled that freedom of choice, under which students select their schools, is no longer acceptable if other ways—such as geographic zoning—would result in more complete integration. This has not eliminated all freedom of choice plans.

On Aug. 20, the 5th Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans refused to order immediate speedup of school desegregation in 40 parishes and counties of Louisiana, Mississippi, Georgia and Texas where the Justice Department and Negro plaintiffs contended that freedom of choice plans perpetuated dual school systems.

The Circuit Court ruled that district courts should make findings of fact in individual cases. Judge Minor Wisdom of New Orleans wrote that the only desegregation plan that is constitutional is one that works.

USE IS CHALLENGED

The U.S. Justice Department has challenged the continued use of freedom of choice plans in Alabama, and Gov. Albert Brewer has already expressed concern that elimination of such plans will make it difficult to get school appropriations from the legislature.

Alabama School Supt. Ernest Stone said the state "is reluctantly accepting freedom of choice, but I don't believe the people are in a frame of mind to accept anything else."

Hundreds of white parents in Columbia, S.C., have retained a lawyer to fight a desegregation plan based on geographic zoning which will assign about 800 white children to formerly all-Negro schools.

The plan affects all elementary schools in the city.

40 PCT. NEGRO

For example, it requires Gov. Robert McNair to transfer his youngest daughter from an upper-middle-class white school to a school in a low-income neighborhood with 40 per cent Negro enrollment.

McNair says his daughter will attend the school assigned under the plan.

Dr. Charles F. Carroll, North Carolina superintendent of public instruction, said there is growing acceptance of integration in some parts of that state, still little acceptance in others.

Florida School Supt. James Campbell had a similar comment, noting "The picture is mixed. I'd say generally there is growing acceptance but in some cases there is a stiffening of attitude."

TIPPING POINT

One concept expressed by some school officials relates to the "tipping point," as one Georgia educator called it.

This refers to the tendency of a previously all-white school to become an all-Negro school after the integrated school reaches the 50-50 level.

"This is one drawback to 50-50 integration," said Tennessee Education Department official, Robert Sharp. After a certain point, Sharp said, white families tend to move away from a school.

Prince Edward County, Va., continues to be an example of resentment to school integration. As a school district, it is theoretically integrated. But most white parents have withdrawn their children from the public school system, leaving it almost all-Negro.

FEW PROBLEMS

But Arkansas, for instance, completed desegregation of athletic programs last year with few problems. In Texas this year, integrated teams won basketball titles in three statewide conferences.

HEW figures show the following percentages of Negro pupils in each state attended integrated schools during the last school year: Texas, 26.1 per cent; Virginia, 20.4 per cent; Tennessee, 18.4 per cent; Florida, 18 per cent; Arkansas, 16.8 per cent; North Carolina, 16 per cent; Georgia, 9.5 per cent; Louisiana, 6.7 per cent; South Carolina, 6.4 per cent; Alabama, 5.4 per cent; and Mississippi, 3.9 per cent.

Miami Releases Kicker

Pros Start Cutdown

By The Associated Press
When the Saints go marching in, Obert Logan and Ray Rissmiller won't.

The two New Orleans veterans were among more than 75 players turned loose by the pro football clubs Monday—the final day for meeting the latest league roster limits.

National Football League teams were required to cut their rosters to 49, American League teams to 43. And several clubs slashed away with gusto.

Kansas City released seven players, including four of its top 10 draft picks, while Chicago, San Francisco, Pittsburgh, Washington and New Orleans of the NFL and New York of the AFL all released a half dozen players or more.

Most of those cut left camp without a word. One who didn't was Booth Lusteg, 29-year-old kicker released by Miami of the AFL.

"I think they made a mistake," charged Lusteg, who said he had been expecting it since missing a 30-yard field goal last Friday that cost the Dolphins a chance to beat Boston in the last seconds of an exhibition.

CAREFUL STUDY

"I don't want to make it seem like I'm poor-mouthing," said Lusteg, "but I've studied kicking a long time. I had a good record last season and I think Coach (George) Wilson made a mistake."

In addition to releasing Logan, free safety acquired from Dallas in the NFL expansion draft, and Rissmiller, Philadelphia's No. 2 draft choice in 1965, New Orleans also cut six others, including No. 3 draft choice Ronnie Smith of West Texas State.

Kansas City went a step farther in releasing one promising talent. It let go No. 2 draft pick Mike Livingston, a star quarterback at Southern Methodist, No. 4 Mickey McCarthy, tight end from Texas Christian; No. 7 Sammy Grezaffi, defensive back from Louisiana State, and No. 9 Wayne McClure, linebacker from Mississippi.

Also among seven players released were veterans Eddie Biedrowski, a guard, and center Ray Kubala.

Two of the six released by San Francisco were draft choices—No. 7 Jerry Richardson, linebacker from Mississippi, and No. 8 Tommie Gray, a receiver from Morehead State.

PUT ON WAIVERS

Atlanta dropped tight end Duane Allen, a six-year NFL veteran claimed by the Falcons on waivers after his release by the Chicago Bears. Defensive end Bo Wood, who saw action in all 14 games last season, also was put on waivers.

Green Bay gave up on No. 7 draft choice Andy Beath, defensive back from Duke, and kicker Wade Trypham, just recently acquired in a trade with Atlanta.

Minnesota cut five players, including former Canadian Football League star Willie Fleming, but used a little trickery to sneak rookie quarterback Bob Lee onto their taxi squad.

The Vikings said Lee of the University of Pacific, had cleared waivers after being secretly placed on the list several weeks ago.

The Pittsburgh Steelers cut seven players, including veteran Jerry Mazzaniti, a defensive end, center Bob Whitlow and flanker Jerry Marion, while nine-year defensive tackle Jim Prestel was among nine turned loose by Washington.

Jim Harris, the New York Jets starting tackle for three seasons, was released along with seven other Jets.

The Boston Patriots trimmed five, including third year backs Bob Cappaona and Bill Johnson and second year defensive lineman Ed Toner.

PLAYER LIMIT

Denver's Broncos got down to the player limit by getting rid of guard Richard Tyson, defensive back Bobby Moton, flanker Herman Lewis and kicker Bob Humphreys.

The Chicago Bears released seven and the Philadelphia Eagles cut four, but refused to name them. However, Bears' coach Jim Wilson said, "We didn't cut any regulars and there were no surprises."

Defensive end Tom Day was signed a contract and fullback Charley Bivins and five others placed on waivers by the Buffalo Bills.

Bills' Coach Joe Collier said the other names were being withheld until he talked to each man in hopes he would stay on the taxi squad.

Day, 33, rejoined the club after a season with San Diego. He was cut by the Chargers two weeks ago and then by the Atlanta Falcons.

Bivins joined the Bills last October and was used as a reserve fullback. He suffered a pulled groin muscle this summer.

Coast Sailor Wins Cup

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Gary Wiseman of Santa Barbara, Calif., won Monday's race in the Sears Cup sailing series for the North American Junior Championship.

READY TO GO—Heading for the practice field and the first workout of the '68 season for Pontiac Central yesterday are (from

Texas Kegler Gains Victory in Canada Open

MONTREAL (AP)—Skeo Foremky of El Paso, Tex., defeated Dave Davis of Phoenix, Ariz., 258-173 to win the $3,000 first prize in the Professional Bowlers Association $30,000 Canadian Open Monday.

Bill Allen of Orlando, Fla., was third, Don Russell of San Diego finished fourth and Don Helling of St. Louis wound up fifth in the finals.

The victory was the 32-year-old Foremky's first of the year and his third in the last three years. The first prize money brought his earnings to over $13,000 this year.

Pro-Junior Event Has Hot Scores

Some of the game's future stars teamed with some old hands yesterday in producing a few hot scores in the pro-junior golf tournament at Monroe Country Club.

The hottest round of the day was recorded by Cass Jawor, assistant pro at Glen Oaks, and his 13-year-old partner Peter Eddy of Dearborn Country Club.

BREEZE ALONG

With Eddy getting his full 17 strokes handicap for the 6,231-yard, par-72 course, the two breezed around in 28-31-40 to get the pace in the age 13-15 age group.

In the 12-and-under junior group, Don Allred, pro at Burning Tree, and 11-year-old Greg Palmer, also of Burning Tree, checked in with a 33-32-45 for a two-shot edge over Linc Jackson and Chris Wilson of Hillcrest.

Pro Tom Cosmos and Jim Graham, 17, of Oakland Hills scored a 31-30-41 to set the pace in the 16-17 age group.

Allred, "Jayce" and Larry Manouche of Grand Blanc posted 70s to share the low spot among the pros, while Bob Pansituk of Knollwood and Tom Kingsley of Lakeland teamed to take the pro-honors with a 67.

Dem, GOP Viet Planks Compared

CHICAGO (UPI) — Here is a comparison of key points of the Vietnam plans approved by the Democratic Platform Committee and by the Republican convention in Miami Beach Aug. 6.

POLICY
Republican: "The administration's Vietnam policy has failed—militarily, politically, diplomatically, and with reactions to our own people."
Democrat: "We strongly support the Paris talks and applaud the initiative of President Johnson which brought North Vietnam to the peace table."

NEGOTIATIONS
Republican: "We will sincerely and vigorously pursue peace negotiations as long as they offer any reasonable prospect for a just peace. We pledge to develop a clear and purposeful negotiating position."
Democrat: "Our most urgent task in Southeast Asia is to end the war in Vietnam by an honorable and lasting settlement which respects the rights of all people of Vietnam."

SURRENDER
Republican: "We pledge a program for peace in Vietnam — neither peace at any price nor camouflaged surrender of legitimate U.S. or allied interests."
Democrat: "We reject as unacceptable a unilateral withdrawal of our forces which allow that aggression and subversion to succeed. We have never demanded, and do not now demand, unconditional surrender by the Communists."

MILITARY
Republican: "The administration's piecemeal commitment of men and material has wasted our massive military superiority and frittered away our options. The result has been a prolonged war of attrition."
Democrat: "Stop all bombing of North Vietnam when this action would not endanger the lives of our troops in the field; this action should take into account the response from Hanoi."

STRATEGY
Republican: "We pledge to adopt a strategy relevant to the real problems of the war, concentrating on the security of the population, on developing a greater sense of nationhood and on strengthening the local forces; it will be a strategy permitting a progressive de-Americanization of the war, both military and civilian."
Democrat: "Until the fighting stops (we would) accelerate our efforts to train and equip the South Vietnamese army so that it can defend its own country and carry out outposts of U.S. military involvement as the South Vietnamese are able to take over their own defense."

Radio Man Named to House Committee
LANSING (UPI) — Michigan House Speaker Robert E. Wadsworth today named Harry Boyes of WJR in Detroit to the House Radio and Television Credentials Committee.

The committee issues credentials to authorized reporters, regulates radio and television activities, and acts as liaison between the news media and the house speaker's office.

A WJR capital correspondent for one year, Boyes was previously in Iowa as news director for 12 years. He is a former vice president of the Midwest Radio and Television News Directors Association.

Spangled Banner Soloist
Voices a Discordant Note

By EARL WILSON

CHICAGO—You probably don't get the gut-punching drama of it, but what the guy's been through who sings "The Star Spangled Banner" at the Democratic convention.

It can sear the soul. It shouldn't happen to a tenor.

About three weeks ago, Robert Merrill of the Metropolitan Opera told me he'd be out here to sing at the convention. "If I can get a hotel room," he laughed.

Bob's one of the Star Spangled boys of today. His recorded voice opens the TV Yankee ball games. He likes to say, "When they announce I'm going to sing 'The Star Spangled Banner' I get a standing ovation."

I saw Bob two weeks later, and he looked distressed.

"We decided not to go," Bob said. "They made it tough. You got to take a hotel room for five days, give them a $150 deposit, and after all this, nobody ever listens to you sing."

Singers like to be heard singing, why not? It was tough for the Democrats to lose Bob because he happens to know "The Star Spangled Banner." You know, everybody who sings it, doesn't know it.

Robert Goulet made a famous fluff at a fight and has been kidded about it since by people who remember Johnny Depp roomed at the 1956 convention and probably everybody but the forget that.

Desmond left out a line — "The rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air." He blew that completely.

You think people, ordinary people, don't know the words? They do when you miss some of them. The furor was so great that Dore Schary, who was then head of entertainment at the convention, hauled Desmond onto the bench for the next night and put pinch-singer Leonard Warren in for him.

THE MIDNIGHT LEARN IN N. Y. — LAUREN BACALL autographed a poster to hang in Arthur — but couldn't spell "discotheque," so she called it a "salon." Humphrey Bakers will operate as "Hubert cabaret" (and "Hubert") in Chicago during the convention. — E. G. Marshall takes over George Scott's "Plaza Suite" role Sept. 9.

Kate Smith has a slight change in profile — she shaved 50 pounds, in a year, wants to lose 35 more. — Jane Fonda'll get 500Gs for her next film, "They Shoot Horses, Don't They?"

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: An actress said at the Press Box that she doesn't care who knows she's 35 — particularly because she's 42.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: September is a lovely month — it's too late to put up the screens and too early to put up the storm windows.

EARL'S PEARLS: Hefty comedienne Totie Fields boasts she got a great big buy — stockings at 35 cents a pair. "There's just one small defect — the seams are in the front."

Judge Roy Hofheine escorted a British TV crew around his huge Houston Astrodome and Space AstroWorld amusement park. He asked, "Got anything to bring to England?" "Almost," said a cameraman, "we call it 'London.'"

However, City Clerk Al First said the council either had to withdraw the ordinance or face a public vote on whether the fire and police departments' two departments should be merged. Petitions have been filed with First to put the issue to a ballot.

Last year the taxpayers voted down the merger.

This leaves the situation in a status quo until the council decides at its Sept. 3 meeting whether to rescind the ordinance or permit the public vote. Cauffman and two regulars were back at work today, August 26 by volunteer firemen.

A Look at TV

Nets Spotlight Dems

NEW YORK — Television wrangle was stated to be Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy's qualifications for the highest office. But that was quickly lost as the two clever, urbane commentators began to toss barbs at each other.

The most turbulent part of the convention session covered by NBC and CBS swung around assorted challenges to rules and credentials. At some moments the tension and strong feelings engendered could even be felt by the television viewers.

After the start, NBC and CBS coverage swung almost equally between formal speeches on the podium and interviews with delegations on the floor.

ABC's "unconventional" convention coverage — the 90-minute wrap-up starting at 9:30 — had trouble wrapping up anything since it ran into Sen. Daniel Inouye's keynote speech, which it covered live and thus used up about half its air time.

CAMPAIGN SONG
But when the convention moved on to preliminary skirmishes over suspension of the unit rule of voting, ABC cut back to some entertaining feature material.

The best was its anatomical study of a campaign song, "Let a Winner Lead the Way," chosen by Hubert H. Humphrey. It's original title, in a Broadway show, was "Please Step to the Rear," but this was abandoned because of its negative attitude. The vice president himself asked permission to adapt the tune, said the show's producer, David Merrick, who four years ago presented Lyndon M. Johnson with "Hello, Dolly."

The regular feature of ABC's coverage — the nightly confrontation between conservative William F. Buckley Jr. and liberal Gore Vidal was, as usual, an amusing exchange of snide wit and polite invective. The subject of last night's show, was "Please Step to the Rear," but this was abandoned because of its negative attitude. The vice president himself asked permission to adapt the tune, said the show's producer, David Merrick, who four years ago presented Lyndon M. Johnson with "Hello, Dolly."

The tip was in the form of a winning service station game card and Mrs. Lapierre is going to collect her check from a major oil company today.

"I don't remember what he looked like but I do know he had a sandwich and some macaroni salad," she said of her benefactor.

The man came during the noon rush she said, and it wasn't until later that she opened the card.

"It was a $2,000 instant winner. I burned everybody's toast for the rest of the day," she said. "I've been a bundle of nerves ever since."

TOURIST POWWOW
BAY CITY (AP)—The Northern Great Lakes Area—The North American Travel Group made of tourist industry leaders from Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan and Ontario, will meet Sept. 8-10 at Bay City. Guest Speaker for the conference will be Jack Kerr, executive director of Discover America, Inc., established by President Johnson to spur domestic travel.

YOUTH DIES on New Cycle
PORTLAND (UPI) — Howard Shaw owned a motorcycle for 10 minutes before he was killed riding it.

Shaw, 19, and a friend, Michael Seun, came here from their Grand Lodge homes Monday to buy a motorcycle for Shaw. The youth found one he liked and was riding it along Charlotte Highway with Selden following in his car.

Selden said Shaw lost control of the bike about three miles south of here, ran off a curve and struck a tree. Authorities said he died instantly.

More than 10,000 industrial workers are in danger of being exposed to laser beams. The beams can cause eye damage and severe burns to workers not properly protected.

Story of Tenant Union Is Told

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Tenant unions have been formed in several Michigan cities, and one such group in Detroit has signed a unique contract with a landlord. This is the story of the tenants' organization and its leader, who was mysteriously shot by a sniper.)

By RONALD F. KARLE
Associated Press Writer
DETROIT—Within the fringes of the inner city on Detroit's West Side, and Afro-American beat penetrates the yellow walls of a second story office where the conversation is of roaches and rats.

Downstairs, Negro teens are hip to the pulsation from behind the pink-orange iridescence framed in chaise longue which identifies "The Ghetto," a converted store-front entertainment spot on West Grand River Avenue.

As the sounds work up along a musty stairway they mingle with another beat—one their elders are hip to — a mimeograph machine.

That machine has been the prime weapon of the United Tenants for Collective Action, a union organized for tenants to deal with landlords in the inner city and its fringes.

MAJOR FORCE
The major force behind the tenant union since its beginnings more than a year ago has been 45-year-old Fred D. Lyles Jr. who has achieved a unique agreement between his organization and one of the city's biggest inner city landlords, Albert J. Goodman.

The contract, which Goodman describes as a "money-shattering agreement a dangerous precedent for the power structure," gives the tenant organization complete control of Goodman's 17 apartment buildings and allows the organization to keep 75 per cent of the net income after expenses.

Lyles, however, is unable to fully savor this breakthrough because he lies partially paralyzed in a hospital bed with a bullet wound from a 30-caliber rifle in his back.

The still - unsolved shooting came on a midsummer Saturday night—only two weeks after the Goodman agreement was signed—as Lyles stood talking with two other members of his organization.

SECOND STORY
The slug smashed through the second-story office window.

The contract Lyles negotiated with Goodman was drawn up by Abdeen Jabara, a 26-year-old attorney two years out of Wayne State University Law School, who says, "There has never been such an agreement before that I know of."

Then tenants union established a management company called United Tenants for Collective Management, Inc., which is responsible for collecting rent, has power of eviction, taken over any mortgage payments, hires and fires employees in the management of the 17 buildings, pays maintenance costs, improvements, taxes and insurance.

"The only thing they don't have is ownership," says Jabara. That and 25 per cent of the net income which goes to Goodman.

700-800 UNITS
The management corporation has agreed to give the tenants union a separate organization — $5 annually for every dwelling unit, beginning one year after the signing of the contract.

One of the men in the office the night Lyles was shot was Jarratt Roseborough. Roseborough, who has stepped into Lyles' leadership role, estimates the contract covers 700 to 800 units housing an average of three persons.

"We are driving for closed shops just like labor," Lyles

Boulevard which rings the inner city.

4,000 TENANTS
Two years ago Goodman owned 41 apartment buildings housing about 4,000 tenants, and was Detroit's biggest single landlord except for the city itself.

"I am strictly a businessman in this business to make a profit, not to perform a humanitarian service," he said then. "If the tenants are straight with me, I'm straight with them. If they get hard-nosed, I get hard-nosed."

But today Goodman is 55 and says he has "decided to give blacks a chance to get into the community of money. So far, I'm very proud."

"I don't want to be in the background of change — I want to be in the foreground I want to work with them, help train them, give them every possible chance."

A DECENT TYPE?
Goodman still says he's "not a humanitarian type, but I'm a decent type."

He says the agreement has drawn inquiries from landlords and owners around the county but when asked if he thinks similar agreements will spread elsewhere, with almost fierce pride, he asserts: "Nobody will ever do what I did!"

Anywhere else he says "they'd be lucky to get 10 per cent. I gave them a lot because I'm quitting anyway."

The son of Jewish-Polish immigrants, who used to live on Third Street when he was a kid, Goodman says, of his beginnings in Detroit, that the other kids "used to chase me up and down Third Avenue calling me a kike. It didn't hurt me. It just made me push harder."

VP Closes In on Nomination

CHICAGO (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey tightened today his encircling embrace on the Democratic presidential nomination with the apparent collapse of efforts to draft Sen. Edward M. Kennedy and the erosion of southern resistance.

A party convention vote tonight on a Vietnam plank in the platform, shaped to Humphrey's liking and opposed by Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, seemed likely to provide a key countdown on the nomination outcome. A tumultuous floor fight is expected.

By a 62-to-35 vote the Platform Committee rejected a peace plank calling for an unconditional bombing halt, a cutback of U.S. war efforts, and encouragement of negotiations toward a coalition government in South Vietnam.

Following the policies laid down by Humphrey — and opposed by McCarthy — the committee recommended a declaration that cessation of the air strikes must not endanger the safety of U.S. troops and must be made only when there is evidence of a reciprocating military de-escalation by North Vietnam.

SIGNAL FOR DECISION?

Adoption of such a plank could be the signal for a decision by President Johnson to fly to the convention later this week to receive its plaudits, after the presidential nomination is voted.

A visit on his 60th birthday today, however, was all but ruled out.

The preliminary platform victory for Humphrey's viewpoint was reflected by other developments.

Insurgent Democrats backed by McCarthy failed in their challenge to the seating of a Texas delegation headed by Gov. John Connally, who is expected to take his 104-vote group into Humphrey's camp.

TURNED BACK

The challengers, who sought 50 seats on the delegation, were turned back by a vote of 1,368 to 955.

Convention delegates previously had defeated a proposal to delay action on the troublesome questions of seating delegates by a 1,691-to-875 votes.

The convention took a historic step by seating a racially mixed "loyalist" delegation to supplant the regular group chosen by the Mississippi state party.

But the convention turned down by a

Related Stories, Pages A-2, A-8, B-7, D-5, D-13

1,041-to-1,413 vote—amid cries of "No, no, no!" — an effort to seat a delegation of insurgents from Georgia.

BY VOICE VOTE

In addition, by a voice vote, delegates threw out the century-old unit rule.

Lawrence F. O'Brien, Humphrey's convention manager, said in a statement that Florida Sen. George Smathers' release of his favorite-son delegates and a 10-point gain by the vice president in a new public opinion poll "support our forecasts of a first-ballot victory."

The hastily floated balloon for a presidential nomination for Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts was quickly deflated. Kennedy called former Gov. Michael V. DiSalle of Ohio to instruct him not to place the senator's name in nomination.

Frank Mankiewicz, former press secretary to the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy now working for McGovern, said the whole operation of trying to draft the surviving Kennedy brother had been "wishful thinking."

Kennedy has told friends he will go in the convention Thursday.

SEN. COLEMAN YOUNG

State Dem '1st U.S. Negro to Get Key Post'

CHICAGO (AP) — State Sen. Coleman Young of Detroit yesterday was unanimously elected Democratic national committeeman from Michigan.

Young, a Negro, succeeds Neil Staebler, who declined to seek reelection. Staebler said that Young is the nation's first Negro ever elected national committeeman.

In supporting Young, Staebler said, "We have pretty well eliminated the color line in the party in Michigan. We now have that kind of opportunity to make to the national party."

"I respect Black Power. I respect White Power," Staebler added. "But I respect even more partnership between Black Power and White Power."

Mildred Jeffrey was unanimously elected to the post of national committeewoman from Michigan.

Young called his election "another pioneering step" to eliminate racism in the party.

"I feel that a black voice should be heard," Young said. "But I also shall represent the total party of Michigan. The interest of the black people of America is the interest of America," Young stated.

Lincoln-Mercury Preview Affluent

DETROIT (AP) — The key word at Lincoln-Mercury's national press preview today was "affluent."

Lincoln-Mercury's first of Ford Motor company's automotive divisions to show its 1969 line to the press several weeks in advance of public introduction, apparently remained convinced that customers have the desire and the money.

In addition to the Lincoln Continental which continues as one of the nation's top luxury cars and the almost equally luxurious Mark III introduced last April, Ford came up with a new line this time around—the Marquis.

Designed to cut in the market which now features Olds 88, Pontiac Bonneville and Chrysler New Yorker, the Marquis will carry about a $4,000 price tag as it makes a pitch at the prospective buyer with a big-car yen and pocketbook to match.

Czechs End Talks; Troops May Stay

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovak leaders returned from Moscow today and started trying to sell their people on an agreement with the Kremlin which apparently lets the liberals stay in office but also continues the Soviet occupation of Czechoslovakia.

A huge crowd gathered outside the Parliament building as the National Assembly met to learn what happened in the four days of negotiations in the Soviet capital.

The free Czechoslovak Radio warned the nation that its heaviest burden is yet to come and may include reimposition of press censorship.

"Everyone is wondering what we shall have to pay for this compromise, for no one believes that the Soviet party leadership would admit the fiasco and pointlessness of the entire action," it said.

APPEAL FOR PATIENCE

The broadcast appealed for calm and patience.

U.S. Sends Biafra Food

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has announced a new shipment of 10,000 tons of food for starving Biafrans and is pressing both Nigerian and Biafran officials to agree quickly on ways to get the food through.

There were indications more talks would be needed for final agreement.

The Free Czech Radio said those who returned included Communist party chief Alexander Dubcek, who came to power in January and started leading his country away from 20 years of Stalinist-type rule.

Gun-Death Data Compiled

WASHINGTON (AP) — If there are 100 people on your block chances are two of you will be murdered, raped, robbed or beaten in the coming year.

And if somebody pulls a weapon on you, it probably will be a gun.

These are key facts in the FBI's annual Uniform Crime Reports, a volume of data supplied by law enforcement agencies across the nation.

It was released Monday with a message from FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover calling for "great social action to prevent and abort more careers in crime."

DETAILED COMPILATION

The report contained for the first time a detailed compilation of murders by firearms in all states between 1962 and 1967.

The statistics show a significantly higher incidence of murder by firearms in states without strict gun controls than in those few that have such controls—a showing in keeping with Hoover's long-time campaign for federal gun controls.

One of the most startling statistics was the figure on crime for the decade, showing an 89 per cent increase in serious crime in the nation since 1960, with a rise in crimes of violence of 73 per cent.

Serious crime—there were more than 3.8 million serious offenses committed—rose 16 per cent in 1967 over 1966, the report said. Nearly 500,000 of these serious crimes were classified as crimes of violence.

MORE MURDERS

Firearms were used in 63 per cent of all murders. In 1966, gun murders amounted to less than half—47 per cent—of all homicides. There were also 11 per cent more murders last year than in the previous 12 months, the report said.

The police batting average in solving crime fell by 8 per cent, and Hoover expressed some concern over the reason the report gave for the slippage.

He blamed court decisions which he said restricted police investigative and enforcement practices, plus the increase in workload for police not related to crime, and understrength police forces. Seventy-six policemen were killed by criminals in 1967. This was 19 more than 1966, and well above the annual average of 48.

POLICE KILLINGS

Forty eight per cent were used in all but five of last year's police killings.

A total of 7,600 persons were shot to death in the United States last year.

Related Story, Page A-11

while another 4,400 died by other means such as beatings, stabbings and clubbings.

Forty eight per cent were slain by handguns, 9 per cent by shotguns and 6 per cent by rifles.

During the period 1962 through 1967, the report showed, there were 50,015 murders of which 38 per cent were gun murders.

CONTROL STATES

Four Northeastern states with strict gun control laws had the lowest incidence of murder by firearms—Rhode Island 34.1 per cent; New York 34.9; Massachusetts 39.9; and New Jersey 41.2.

Texas, without gun control laws, recorded the highest number of homicides—5,104—of which 70 per cent were gun deaths. California, also lacking strict gun control laws, had 4,837 murders of which more than half—52 per cent—were caused by firearms.

This compared with New York state which, with the nation's most stringent firearms controls, had 4,835 murders of which 34 per cent were the result of guns.

On Traditional 'Windy City'

Political Tornadoes Converge

By HARRY J. REED
Managing Editor, The Pontiac Press
CHICAGO — The 50 political tornadoes which have been swirling in separate locations of downtown Chicago united last night.

It was an awesome gathering of forces — much loud sound and a great deal of wind.

The International Amphitheatre survived the hour-after-hour blasts which somehow never took the breath away from the speaker of the moment.

Security outside the amphitheatre did not seem to be as heavy as the rumors of the last few days had it. There were plenty of city police, but the large crowd of delegates, alternates, guests and newsmen kept them busy.

TIGHT BUT POLITE

Inside, security was tight but polite. Identification, worn around the neck on an elastic cord, was checked as persons moved from one section to another.

The amphitheatre is similar to Detroit's Olympia, but carpeted with wall-to-wall poliocking Democrats. Gordie Howe would have trouble finding the end of his own hockey stick in the crush.

The welcoming speeches flowed over the preoccupied delegates like an all-day drizzle. Life came to the floor with polling each state on seating various contested delegations.

The Michigan delegation left the floor twice to caucus on how to vote on seating the contested Alabama delegation. Oakland County's own Sander Levin of Berkley had his hands full giving both sides a fair hearing in a short time.

CAUCUSED TOO LONG

Frequent warnings came that in previous years the Michigan delegation has caucused so long it missed the floor vote on the subject being argued in the caucus. The Michigan delegation finally approved the Alabama delegation which had been challenged.

An indication of Humphrey vs. McCarthy strength in the Michigan delegation was seen by observers in the state's vote on seating the contested Texas delegation.

The 70 state votes in favor of the challenged delegation were viewed as Humphrey supporters, while the 23 against were eyed as McCarthyites. This would be an increase of about eight votes for HHH over a previous Michigan poll.

When delegates headed for their buses at 2:45 a.m. they knew they had another session of essentially the same thing in store for them, beginning at 7:30 p.m. tonight.

PRELIMINARY EVENTS

It will be more majority and minority reports, from credentials and rules committees, and more preliminary events before the main event.

Vice President Humphrey and his challengers can shadowbox in their dressing rooms, but they must wait until the ring is cleared for the feature attraction, the "champeen" Democrat title for 1968.

Area Temperature to Rise Gradually

Sunny days are here again.

The weatherman predicts temperatures today through Saturday will average 2 to 4 degrees above the normal high of 73 to 78 and normal lows of 48 to 55. Temperatures will become gradually warmer after midweek.

Precipitation is expected to total one tenth inch or less with chance of some light showers near the weekend.

Morning northerly winds at eight to 15 miles per hour will become light and variable tonight.

The low in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 50. The mercury had warmed up to 65 by 12:30 p.m.

MAKE OVER PAGES Cong Toll 7,500' in Nine Days of Assaults

SAIGON (AP) — An American artillery base on the jungled infiltration corridor northwest of Saigon came under a blistering, 200-round rocket and mortar barrage today, then beat back a weak infantry assault.

By the light of flares from circling support planes, the Americans cut down at least 27 enemy soldiers.

U.S. headquarters estimates 7,500 enemy slain in the intensified Vietcong assaults of the last nine days, and the Communist command appeared to be shifting to less costly rocket and mortar attacks. The allied command reported heavy barrages at camps and towns from the demilitarized zone south to the Mekong Delta.

In addition to the 200-shell barrage at Fire Base Rawlins, about 50 miles northwest of Saigon, enemy gunners raked four other posts along the infiltration route northwest of the city. Two of the camps were hit by light infantry assaults.

Shellings were reported at a dozen South Vietnamese and American camps in the Mekong Delta and in the Duc Lap area where more than 800 enemy died attempting to overrun a U.S. Special Forces camp over the weekend.

Enemy gunners in the Duc Lap area also shot down a twin-engine Caribou transport plane yesterday, and a ground patrol that reached the wreckage found the three American crewmen dead. Air reinforcement of Duc Lap appeared to be risky still.

Along the demilitarized zone, North Vietnamese gunners opened up yesterday and today with the heaviest shell-fire there in several weeks. U.S. Marine bases at Dong Ha, Cua Viet and below Con Thien caught almost 250 rounds, many of them from 130mm guns firing from North Vietnam.

Braced for an expected third enemy offensive, the allied command sent B2 bombers to drop some 750 tons of bombs Monday night and today, mostly on the northwest approaches to Saigon and on the inland flank of the demilitarized zone.

PATTERN PUZZLING

The pattern of enemy assaults over the past nine days has allied officers puzzled however. There was speculation that instead of launching massive third week assaults that were generally expected, the Communist command might gradually accelerate the pace, as it appears to be doing. But allied officers emphasized it was still too early to tell. U.S. forces continued mopping up operations at Duc Lap and near Tam Ky, along the highway between Da Nang and Chu Lai, where another big battle was fought over the weekend.

Along the highway, U.S. infantrymen of the American Division reported killing 511 North Vietnamese regulars over the past three days.

Elsewhere in the northern sector, troops of the 82nd Airborne Brigade killed 92 enemy yesterday near Hue and U.S. Marines reported half a dozen fights with relatively small North Vietnamese units along the demilitarized zone.

Dem Keynoter Hails LBJ's Viet Tactics

CHICAGO (AP) — Keynote speaker Sen. Daniel K. Inouye told the Democratic National Convention Monday night that the responsible path to peace in Vietnam has been blazed by President Johnson.

The one-armed World War II hero told a far from enthusiastic crowd at Chicago's International Amphitheater that "of course the war in Vietnam must be ended," but it must be done through the patient political negotiation spelled out by Johnson.

"Of course the Vietnam war is immoral...All wars are immoral," the Hawaii senator said. But he suggested it might be more immoral to renege on commitments and perhaps encourage enemy miscalculation that would gamble the lives of the next generation.

Inouye, who lost his right arm fighting in Europe, said the Vietnam war must be ended with a responsible settlement that guards "against the illusion of an instant peace that has no chance of permanence."

CONDITONS DECRIED

At the same time, he decried the conditions of despair and denial that confront many Negroes today and said too often black soldiers come back from Vietnam "to economic and social circumstances that are barely, if at all, improved over those they left."

Inouye argued, "Poverty, discrimination and deprivation, evil as they are, do not justify anarchy or violence, looting or burning, murder or assassination."

He criticized wanton civil disobedience as a step toward anarchy and said, "Let us reject violence as a means of protest."

He coupled this with a plea also to "resist the temptation to apathy" and said, "We can never cure the causes of violence with indifference."

'WE'D LOVE MUCH'

Inouye turned to the Johnson Administration's record, citing advances in civil rights, education and health care, and said, "Working together, we have done much. Together we can—and must—do much, much more."

U.S. Sailors Get Turk Protection

ANKARA, Turkey (U) — The Turkish government, fearing further anti-American violence against U.S. sailors, sent extra riot police to Izmir today for the arrival of more visiting U.S. Navy ships.

Led by the cruiser Little Rock, a task force from the U.S. 6th Fleet was to spend 13 days in the Aegean seaport.

Leftist students were reported preparing to meet the American sailors with showers of eggs and fruit and unfriendly placards.

Some pro-American Turks expressed misgivings about the visit at a time of continuing controversy over the 30,000 U.S. servicemen stationed in Turkey.

During the "goodwill" visit of another 6th Fleet task force to Istanbul last month, a club-wielding, rock-throwing mob of about 50 American sailors and there were demonstrations protesting the visit in other cities. At least one student was killed and scores injured.

Despite expressions of misgiving about another fleet visit, Premier Suleyman Demirel said his pro-American government "will not be intimidated." He called the controversy a "tempest in a teapot" and ordered the undersecretary of the interior to coordinate security measures during the visit.

Anti-Americanism has been building in Turkey for some years, spurred by resentment at the considerably higher standard of living which American servicemen and their families enjoy.

Brain Tumor Claims Life of Duchess, 61

LONDON (U) — Princess Marina, the Dowager Duchess of Kent and the glamor girl of European royalty before World War II, died today. She was 61.

A medical bulletin said she died peacefully in her sleep at her apartment in Kensington Palace.

She had suffered for some weeks from an inoperable tumor of the brain.

'69 RAMBLER—The new Rambler Rogue two-door hardtop retains the compact passenger car dimensions of the low-price line. Numerous mechanical improvements common in all 1969 American Motors products include an accelerator cable linkage and suspended accelerator pedal. Parking lights which remain on with the headlights are also a new feature.

Kelley to Study Candidates Fail to Account for Expenses, Face Penalties

Oakland County Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson Thursday will turn over to State Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley the findings of an investigation into security procedures at Pontiac State Hospital.

Bronson said yesterday the results of the study by his office will remain confidential until after his 10:30 a.m. meeting with Kelley in Lansing.

Three members of Bronson's staff recently completed a two-week investigation of security and treatment policies at the hospital.

The investigation was initiated following the June slaying of a 19-year-old female patient by a male inmate. At that time Bronson noted that two other inmates transferred to the hospital from the Ionia State Hospital for the Criminally Insane had walked away and subsequently been involved in crimes.

RESULTS 'SIGNIFICANT'

While refusing to divulge the nature of the report, Bronson did, however, say "The results will be significant and have substance."

Meanwhile, a member of Bronson's staff described the report as a "sizzler" that could have far-reaching effects into the operation of the hospital.

Bronson, who undertook the study for the purpose of "protecting the citizens of the surrounding community," indicated that he would like to see such investigations conducted at each state hospital.

More than a score of candidates in the Aug. 6 election face criminal prosecution unless they submit an accounting of their campaign expenses before Friday.

County Election Clerk Mrs. Mabel Child said today that the deadline for submitting the expense sheets already has passed and that between 20 and 30 candidates are in violation of state election laws.

The filing deadline was Aug. 16, 10 days after the primary election.

Mrs. Child said that she has no other alternative but to turn over to the prosecutor's office the names of those who have failed to make an accounting.

PUNISHMENT

Conviction of the violation is punishable by up to two years in prison or a $1,000 fine or both.

Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson said today that if it becomes necessary he "will not hesitate to prosecute the offenders."

Bronson, the leading vote getter in the three-way race for a new seat on the Michigan Court of Appeals, said he filed his expenses early to avoid just such embarrassment facing some of the candidates.

Of the candidates for major offices, Bronson had the least campaign expenses, spending only $150. The outlay was for posters.

SPENT $7,127

Opposing Bronson in the November

election will be John Foley of Birmingham, whose expense records reveal he spent $7,127 to win the second nomination in a three-way race.

Listed are the names of candidates for county offices and the expenses they incurred during their campaigns.

Prosecutor: Richard D. Kuhn (GOP nominee), $3,541, and John N. O'Brien, $4,863, and Thomas G. Plunkett (Democratic nominee), $1,934.

Sheriff: Frank Irons (GOP nominee) $2,385, Herbert C. Cooley, $7,059, Ruel McPherson (Democratic nominee), $4,122, Milton Jones, $285, and Robert Phillips, $1,128.

County Clerk-Register of Deeds: Lynn D. Allen (GOP nominee) $1,105, and Thomas Williams, $1,641.

Treasurer: C. Hugh Dohany (GOP nominee), $1,593, and incumbent James Seeterlin who was unopposed, no expenses.

Water System Bonds OK'd for Walled Lake

The municipal Finance Commission has announced the approval of the sale of $1.85 million in bonds to be used for the construction of a Walled Lake communitywide water system.

The Walled Lake City Council has set Sept. 10 for the opening of bids and construction of the system is expected to begin in mid-1969.

Policy Eased on Utilities' Burial of Lines

BIRMINGHAM — A policy statement concerning the placement of public utility lines underground in the central business district within 10 years was adopted by the City Commission last night.

The resolution was in lieu of an ordinance which would have forced the Detroit Edison Co. and Michigan Bell Telephone Co. to meet a timetable.

City Manager Robert S. Keening recommended the resolution over the ordinance.

He told commissioners that if the utilities were pressured into placing their lines underground in a limited period, the cost might be passed along to the city and customers of the two companies.

STRONG OPPOSITION

A public relations problem would also be created with the utilities, said Keening, noting the strong opposition expressed by the utilities to the inflexibility of an ordinance.

"There has been a reasonable effort by the utilities to comply with past requests of the City Commission to get their plants underground in the central business district," Keening noted in his report to the commission.

As an example of this cooperation, Keening pointed out that Detroit Edison has cut their timetable from 20 to 10 years in the placement of its facilities underground in the downtown area. The purpose of placing the facilities underground is part of the commission's continuing program to improve the appearance of the central business district.

1979 DEADLINE

Both companies have advised the city that they plan to have their overhead facilities in the central business district removed by Jan. 1, 1979.

In other business, the commission presented a distinguished service award to Herbert Gardner, 172 Aspen, for his 24 years service on the city employees retirement board.

Gardner has been a member of the retirement board since its inception in 1944.

"The system and employees have benefited greatly by your service," said Mayor David Brock in presenting Gardner with a plaque.

"It was only the second distinguished service award presented by the city. The other went to former City Commissioner Carl Ingraham."

LB.J Is 60 Today, More Secretive

WASHINGTON (U) — President Johnson turned 60 today, slimmer, grayer and more secretive about his birthday doings.

Unlike past years in which the presidential birthday was usually observed by a big family gathering with plenty of notice beforehand, there was no advance word on what Johnson planned.

When and whether Johnson would pay a visit to the Democratic convention in Chicago was the subject of much speculation, but traditionally outgoing presidents have waited until after the nominations before putting in an appearance.

At 60, and after nearly five years as president, Johnson is much grayer and his face is more deeply lined than when he took over the nation's highest office. But, on the plus side, some find him slimmer — testimony to the rigors of a series of strenuous diets.

Report on NATO Hit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department delicately reports it is officially dissatisfied with a call by German Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger for a NATO summit conference.

Kiesinger reportedly proposed during the interview in Bonn that the heads of North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries meet to awaken the Western nations to guard their liberty and security.
