Five Fingerprints on Kierdorf Car Only Evidence?

Prosecutor Is Mum on Speculation He May Spring New Facts

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

FLINT — Five fingerprints found on Frank Kierdorf's station wagon appeared to be all that Genesee County Prosecutor Jerome F. O'Rourke had in his case against Flint Teamster business agent Jack D. Thompson, charged with arson in the burning of a dry cleaning pickup station which police believe caused Kierdorf's death.

But as O'Rourke this morning was ready to close his case before Flint Municipal Judge Donald R. Freeman, speculation mounted that he would produce new evidence or a secret witness to strengthen his charge against Thompson.

O'Rourke, who in August had to release Thompson from custody for lack of evidence, paraded 27 witnesses to the stand yesterday, the first day of Thompson's examination.

Included were three nurses and a doctor from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, where Kierdorf mysteriously ended up Aug. 4 and died four days after the fire, and three Pontiac police officers who participated in the early investigation of the Kierdorf case.

Throughout the 8½ hours of testimony yesterday, O'Rourke questioned witnesses who saw the fire at Latreille Dry Cleaners, and two neighbors of Kierdorf's who de-

Pontiac to Get Ten Degree Cold Tonight

The U.S. Weather Bureau has issued a cold-wave warning for the Pontiac area tonight with the low dipping to a frosty 10 degrees.

Saturday's high is expected to rise to not more than 16. The cold will continue through Wednesday, with a warming trend about Tuesday.

Temperatures for the next five days will average 10-15 degrees below the normal high of 34 and normal low of 21.

Precipitation will total about one third to one quarter of an inch in snow about Tuesday.

Twenty-seven was the lowest recorded temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The mercury read 31 at 2 p.m.

Teacher Mute on 2 Charges

Accused of Furnishing Beer to Minors and Gross Indecency

A Waterford Township High School mathematics teacher accused of gross indecency and furnishing beer to minors stood mute to both charges today before Pontiac Township Justice Robert W. Hodge.

A plea of not guilty was entered by Hodge, who ordered the teacher, Arthur Mooney, 50, of 1651 Grimshaw St., Commerce Township, freed on personal bond.

Examination on the gross indecency charge, a felony carrying a five-year maximum sentence, will be Jan. 9.

Mooney will be tried on the second charge, a misdemeanor, on the same date.

Three youths, in statements to Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem, said Mooney bought two six-packs of beer for them Friday night from a grocery near his home, using their money.

They then went riding and hit a tree in West Bloomfield Township.

A fourth student in the car, John L. Fromm, 17, of 35 Riviera St., was killed.

The three survivors also admitted the gross indecencies with Mooney, Ziem said.

The driver of the car, Captain Frank Wilson, 16, of 1043 Boston Ave., Waterford Township, was being held by Oakland County juvenile authorities.

Assistant Prosecutor Jerome K. Barry said that consideration is being given to seeking a waiver on

Thunders Into Orbit

START OF JOURNEY — The powerful Atlas missile, wreathed in liquid oxygen fumes, blasts fire from its tail at the start of a 17,000 m.p.h. journey into orbit around the globe. The "lox," as it is called, is part of the missile's liquid fuel system.

4½-Ton Atlas Now Circling Around Earth

Moon 3 Times Size of Sputnik III to Be Clearly Visible

From Our News Wires

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. —The United States dramatically launched the space age's biggest satellite last night, a giant Atlas missile which could — in a few hours—broadcast President Eisenhower's voice back to earth.

The "talking" satellite weighs nearly four and a half tons, is twice as long as a city bus and twice the weight of Russia's Sputnik III.

It was fully guided into a space orbit by radio signal. It was the Air Force's first try at satellite launching — and the first time the 85-foot long Atlas ICBM has been hurled outward from the atmosphere.

The Defense Department announced the satellite — called "Score," for satellite communications orbit relay experiment — would swing around the earth once every 100 minutes for about 20 days. It was reaching 625 statute miles from the earth at its farthest point and 118 miles at the closest.

Scientists said the big assembly should be plainly visible in the southern part of the United States, shining most brightly at dusk.

It had been a closely-kept secret, not only as to the attempt to put the Atlas in orbit but as to the special communications system stowed through the missile's carcass.

The new satellite, tumbling through space on an orbit between 118 and 625 statute miles above the earth, was 200 times heavier than the largest of the three previous U.S. satellites. And it was expected to be the most clearly visible during its relatively short expected life span — only 20 days.

But in that time, scientists hoped to "load" its tape recorder "memory" mechanism with spoken messages radioed from earth stations, then have the whizzing space station relay them back.

Special stations at Los Angeles, Ft. Huachuca, Ariz., Ft. Sam Houston, Tex., and Ft. Stewart, Ga., began "feeding" the spoken messages — possibly President Eisenhower's own voice — to the satellite almost immediately.

Journey to Jesus Is Rigorous, Long

("The Three Kings of the Orient" were in fact kings only of knowledge — professional scholars more advanced than any others in their age. THE CARAVAN stood in readiness. It had taken nearly three months to prepare for the 1,200-mile journey. Shouts of leather-shirted cavalry officers mingled with the bawl of animals as supplies were loaded.

Somewhere . . . somewhere in Judea . . . was the destination.

The chief camoleer rushed about, yelling instructions and gesturing violently, as sweating slaves hoisted rope crates and grain bags to the backs of kneeling freight beasts. Dust swirled in the bright Persian sunlight.

Blankets, tents, foodstuffs, water casks and other necessities, along with chests of rare treasures, were stowed on the wooden pack saddles, divided equally by weight on either side, and bound to the uprights.

Since it would be a rigorous trip, only about 400 pounds of cargo, two-thirds the usual maximum, was placed on each camel. A crowd of jostling townspeople looked on, women veiled in their chadors; dark, hirsute men with laughing eyes.

THREE ARE SELECTED

Behind a brick wall, inside the palace of the royal Magian Council, a circle of white-gowned men sat around a fire, staring silently into its leaping flames.

Among them were the three (the number and their identifications are matters of divergent ancient accounts, but the most common listing is used here) who had determined to track the genesis of a star.

They were Melchior, pale, old, white-bearded; Gaspar, a tall, ruddy young priest, and black-skinned Balthasar, of medium age and stature, whose ancestors may have come to Persia in the days when its empire stretched to Ethiopia.

Not all their fellow Magi condoned this quest to honor a hypothetical "Blessed One" of alien birth. Nor would they, as the ensuing years proved, accept its validity. It smacked of national disloyalty.

But the tenacity of High Magus Melchior and his supporters had overcome this narrow view. The strange mission was decreed.

Seeking Divine guidance, the counsellors sat now to "contemplate the beams of the fire with a most pious mind." So their prophet, Zarathrustra, had taught. So Moses heard God on fiery Sinai and in a burning bush.

Finally, the group rose and filed out of the altar room. After farewell embraces, the three travelers donned Sandor and his wife Mildred, 36, have seven children. Two of them, Teddy, 12 months, and Tina Marie, 2½, were rescued by the mother who was home alone with them when the blaze broke out at their six-room frame house shortly before noon yesterday.

The five older children were at school.

Addisoin Township Firemen who fought the blaze for over two hours attributed it to an overheated coal furnace.

Sandor, who had planned to celebrate his 46th birthday with his family when he returned home that evening, was at work at a service station in Rochester. He was called home by neighbors.

Laid off from his job at a machine products shop in Clawson a year ago, he had just gotten the Rochester job.

"We were just getting ahead. Then this had to happen," he said.

Neighbors immediately began to gather up clothing and supplies for the destitute family.

Relief headquarters were set up at a store at 79 E. Elmwood Rd., where donations began pouring in even before the flames were extinguished.

Owners of the store, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Snyder, are handling the emergency fund.

Ransford Bromley put the family up last night at his motel in Lakeville.

Besides the two youngest children, the Sandors have five boys: Sandy, 15; Skip, 14; Corky, 13; all students of Oxford High School. Tom, 12, and Terry, 11, attend Leonard Elementary School.

Can See Satellite About 7:05 Tonight

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The new Atlas satellite will be visible over Michigan at 7:05 tonight, if the sky is clear.

William Liller, of the University of Michigan astronomy department, said viewers should face south and gaze halfway up into the sky. He said the satellite, appearing about as bright as a star in the Big Dipper, would pass from west to east and should be visible for two minutes.

Liller said the Atlas never actually would cross Michigan skies. Its most northerly point, he said, would be about 32 degrees north latitude — a line between Atlanta, Ga., and San Diego, Calif.

But with clear skies it should be visible because of its height in the sky, Liller said.

Ike's Guests Hear Satellite News First

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower strode dramatically into the center of a glittering White House diplomatic gathering to announce that the United States had placed a nearly 9,000-pound satellite in orbit.

He gave his dinner guests—top-ranking diplomats from 41 other nations—the first word of the great scientific advance Thursday night.

The news that a mighty Atlas missile was in orbit reached the President at the White House minutes before he was due to go down to the state dinner.

He decided to share his secret with his dinner guests even before his press secretary, James C. Hagerty, made the news known to the rest of the world.

But he saved the dramatic moment until he had shaken hands with each of the 78 guests assembled in the East Ballroom.

The red-coated Marine Corps band, unaware of the President's plan, had struck up a march for the chief executive to lead his guests from the ballroom to the state dining room.

But Eisenhower didn't follow the schedule. Instead, he turned back into the middle of the ballroom.

There, standing beneath three glittering chandeliers and in the dazzle of an 18-foot Christmas tree, he announced that he had something interesting to tell his guests.

Simply, the President reported that the United States had gotten a satellite of almost 9,000 pounds into orbit and it was expected to stay there about 25 days.

Construction Scheduled on MSUO Student Center

Construction is slated to begin immediately on the $700,000 Michigan State University Oakland student center, MSU vice president Durward B. Varner announced today.

The building will provide a food center and headquarters for student activities, Varner said. Expected completion date is September, 1959.

The project is being financed partially by a grant from the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, and partially by borrowed funds.

Construction of the center will be such that it may be doubled in size when it is necessary later, and eventually, it could be tripled in area.

According to Varner, the student center, will have accommodations for seating 400 persons at one time, and will be adequate for a student body of 1,200 to 1,500.

The building will be constructed in a similar manner as the first building, which is the general classroom and office buildings. The brickwalled structure will have 33,000 square feet of area, with measurements of 164x96. It will have a basement and first floor, with a 48x32 one story penthouse.

The State Board of Agriculture, governing body of MSU, has approved letting the contracts. The J. A. Fredman Co., of 735 S. Paddock St., is the general contractor.

The board confirmed the appointment of Herbert N. Stoutenberg, who has been serving as assistant registrar, as registrar for the new university.

Varner warned the board that the MSUO will not be able to open on schedule in the fall of 1959 unless the 1959 legislature approves operating funds, including a deficit appropriation for the remainder of this fiscal year.

Area Residents Favor Halt to Sunday Sales

The question of whether the city should adopt an ordinance making it unlawful for merchants in the downtown area to remain open Sundays was backed by Pontiac area residents this week.

According to officials at Simms Department Store, who ran a ballot in The Pontiac Press last Saturday for the public to vote either for or against stores staying open, the public is firmly in favor of the stores closing on Sunday.

The store has been receiving an estimated 100 ballots or more each day plus numerous letters from area residents, they said. The totals today showed that out of slightly more than 1,000 ballots, only two voted in favor of allowing stores to stay open seven days a week.

Letters received also upheld the Sunday closing. The majority felt that Sunday should be set aside as a day of worship and should be looked upon as a day of rest.

Those against closing on Sundays argued that Sunday business would go to merchants outside the city limits.

the youth from juvenile court so he can be tried for manslaughter.

Ziem said Mooney admitted taking indecent liberties with the youths and other students, but didn't remember whether he had bought beer for four Friday night.

Mooney said he was too drunk to recall.

"But if they said I did, I guess it's so," Mooney said.

Mooney was suspended by Waterford Township Superintendent of Schools William Shunck Wednesday. He joined the Waterford school system in September, 1956.

Complaints about Mooney reached the Pontiac State Police Post in September.

On Sept. 21, two state troopers investigated complaints that teenage youths were hanging around Mooney's apartment.

The teacher's landlord told troopers the students smelled of beer. Mooney then lived in Pontiac Township.

Investigation of the charges failed to turn up any positive evidence and the troopers, after talking with Mooney, bowed out.

Before they did, however, they informed Shunck of the complaints.

Last night, just prior to the Waterford Township Board of Education meeting, Shunck told reporters he called Mooney into his office and confronted him with the complaint that he was providing students with alcoholic beverages.

The teacher denied he was, Shunck said.

"After our talk, I was convinced he was clean."

Principal James Fry, who was present during the talk, agreed with him, Shunck said.

Mooney was a principal of an elementary school in Chicago. Before coming to Waterford, however, he had taken a year's leave of absence to go to Japan, working on an educational project for the Army.

Mooney's record in Chicago was clean, the superintendent said.

Shunck said he suspended Mooney as soon as he heard he had been arrested.

Mooney told the prosecutor's office that he has committed acts of gross indecency since 1957, several of them quite recently.

A bachelor, Mooney lived with his mother in Chicago. It was after she died that he decided to move from the city, Mooney told him, Shunck said.

Wyandotte Man Strangles Wife

WYANDOTTE (AP) — A 36-year-old Wyandotte man was held in city jail today after telling police he strangled his wife because she nagged him.

Detective Sgt. John Shopp said that Charles R. Schweikert admitted killing his wife, Martina, 39, last night with a rope.

"It was just too much nagging," he told the detective. "She slapped me, so I put the cord around her neck, wrapped it around twice and knotted it."

The couple had reconciled last week following a six-year separation. His wife had lived in Pottsville, Pa., with their two sons, 13 and 17, before the reconciliation. She had charged him with desertion but dropped the charges after Schweikert agreed to go back to her, police said.

School Interest Could Cost $1 Million

New Debt Looms for State

EAST LANSING (AP)—The business of borrowing from Peter to pay Paul has opened up the prospect of a new debt burden for the ailing state treasury.

The governing board of Michigan State University agreed yesterday to float a bank loan of $2,555,000 to meet its December payroll and other obligations.

But the State Board of Agriculture, MSU governing body, said it expected the state to pick up the bill for the interest.

The borrowing was forced because the state has withheld two monthly payments totaling $4,218,000. State payments have also been withheld from the University of Michigan and Wayne State University.

The three universities have been notified they can't expect any aid before March because the bottom of the state barrel is being scraped for cash.

Philip J. May, MSU comptroller, estimated the interest would mount up to $200,000. Michigan and Wayne are expected to seek loans which could boost the total to more than half a million if they also demand repayment.

Looming in the background was the possibility that state school districts, which have borrowed $41,893,242 to date in anticipation of school aid payments, might also demand refund of interest.

The State Municipal Finance Commission estimated that if the present rate of borrowing continues, interest could amount to more than one million dollars, just on a six-month basis.

Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction, has publicly complained about the money the school districts are losing because of interest payments. He had no comment on the possibility that the schools would follow the wake of MSU in asking for return of interest.

Lower Michigan Now Assured of White Christmas

By The Associated Press

Michigan's brief respite from a teeth-chattering cold wave that blew into the state on Thanksgiving weekend is over.

A new cold wave is racing in and it will drive thermometers to as much as 15 below zero in the Upper Peninsula and into the 5 to 10 above range downstate.

There was only one speck of cheer in the five-day outlook. Michigan apparently is assured a white Christmas. There was snow aground everywhere, with 44 inches at Grand Marais, and more is forecast into Tuesday.

Houghton, high on the Keweenaw Peninsula, had its 26th consecutive day of snow today, with the heavy fall cutting visibility to less than half a mile. And it was coming down on 3.4 inches that had fallen over the 24 hours previous.

Injuries Fatal to Truck Driver

Dies This Morning After Collision With Train in Avon Monday

The driver of an Oakland County Road Commission road-salting truck which collided with a train at an Avon Township crossing Monday died at 4:30 this morning at Pontiac General Hospital.

Donald W. Chambers, 30, of 79 Dennison St., Oxford, had remained on the critical list since being admitted with severe head and chest injuries.

Oakland Highway Toll in '58 88

Going west on Avon road, just east of Livernois road Chambers' truck was struck by an east bound Grand Trunk freight train.

Both Chambers and the engineer, Leo A. Martell, 51, of 85 Dwight St., told deputies their view was cut off by a steep embankment alongside the road.

Chambers was pinned under the cab of the dump truck for nearly 30 minutes, while Oakland County sheriff's deputies and a welder tried to cut him loose with a torch.

They referred all queries to Washington.

This was in sharp contrast to quick disclosures on all previous satellite launchings concerning signals received, length of time received and the frequency over which they were transmitted.

"This is a different type of thing altogether," a spokesman at the satellite tracking station said. "Any official comment would have to come out of Washington," he added.

America's latest and the world's largest satellite contained a special communications system developed in part by Army Signal technicians here. Asked if this new system had any relation to the news blackout here last night, the spokesman said:

"Draw your own conclusions."

Launching of the nation's Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile was the most spectacular fireworks display this famous rocket test center has yet offered.

The rocket, 224,000 pounds of power coated with stainless steel, stood free of its service tower for more than an hour before the spectacular launching.

It turned crimson as the rays of the setting sun reflected off the missile case. Later it shone in the beams of powerful floodlights.

Then at 6:02 p.m., the countdown announcer shouted "Zero" and a brilliant flash of white flame shot from the tail of the "Big A."

There was a pause, and then the mighty rocket struggled aloft — slowly at first — with its three engines blazing, it began to accelerate atop a tapered tail of white flame.

The cape turned to daylight for miles around as the monster weapon soared. The thunder of its three-engine power package rocked the coastline.

The Atlas is unique as far as big rockets go in that the full power of the engines is built up on the ground.

After about 60 seconds, the Atlas — just a bright fireball now — curved high in the sky and droned toward the east.

Because conditions were perfect, the Atlas was in sight for about seven minutes before it finally faded out like a fiery meteor.

Federal's to Back Sunday Closings

An official of Federal Department Stores said today that his firm would support any move to forbid keeping stores open on Sundays.

Vice president and general manager, M. Behrend of Detroit, said some Federal stores had to be kept open for three Sundays prior to Christmas "because the competitive picture was such in those areas that it was the prudent thing to do."

These stores, however, will not be open Sundays after Christmas, he stressed.

"In spite of the steps we were forced to take, we will support any legal or voluntary move to forbid them," Behrend said.

Food Ads Affect Buying

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State University economists say food advertisements in newspapers influence what groceries homemakers shop for and where.

James Shaffer, MSU researcher, reports a survey of 1,200 homemakers indicated:

1. 63 per cent read advertisements before shopping;

2. 45 per cent of all homemakers and 72 per cent of those who read the ads believe the ads influence what groceries they shopped for;

3. 30 per cent of all homemakers and 49 per cent of those who read the ads said the ads influenced where they shopped.

Mrs. D. J. Parry Resigns Board of Education Post

BIRMINGHAM — The Birmingham Board of Education is preparing to select a successor for Mrs. Donald J. Parry of 836 Mohegan St. A Board of Education member since September 1957, Mrs. Parry resigned this week because her husband has accepted a position that will take the family to Newark, N. J., after the first of the year.

Mrs. Parry succeeded Mrs. Alec Parnie who also vacated the post when the family moved out of the Birmingham School District.

The appointment, to be made soon, will be for the balance of the fiscal year.

Mrs. Parry, a lifelong resident of Birmingham, has been active in many community affairs in the field of education and youth. She has worked in scouting, PTA and church groups as well as the Birmingham Chapter of the American Assn. of University Women.

Piety Hill Chapter, DAR, has made its annual Good Citzenship award to Linda Burkman, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. N. Weir Burkman of 719 Westwood Ave.

Linda, a high school senior, was chosen on the basis of her civic and social activities in the school and for outstanding scholarship. She will receive a $100 U.S. Savings Bond if she is selected as the outstanding high school citizen in the state.

The Pyads, young adult group of First Presbyterian Church, will sing Christmas carols for shut-ins beginning at 8 tonight. The carolers will return to the church for refreshments and a Christmas party afterward.

Following the theft of Christmas packages, a bowling ball and a spare tire from an unlocked car trunk last night, police are again warning motorists to lock all parked vehicles.

The car is owned by James McFarian of 1212 Webster St. Police estimated the value of stolen goods at $60.

Det. Lt. Merlin Holmquist said this morning that many residents have heeded the warning to notify the police when they are leaving home for extended trips. He urged others to follow the example and thus to help protect their homes from burglaries.

Elaine McNab is chairman of the homeroom committee at Birmingham High School which has spearheaded a Christmas basket drive for all homerooms in the school.

A representative of the Salvation Army from Pontiac visited the high school here this morning, spoke to a general assembly and accepted the 59 baskets for needy families. Each basket contained a complete turkey dinner with all the trimmings.

Mrs. Victor F. Brown

Service for Mrs. Victor F. (Agnes) Brown, 91, of 712 Woodcrest St., Royal Oak, will be held at 1 p.m. Saturday at the Community Congregational Church of Lathrup Village. Burial will be in Forest Hills Cemetery, Ann Arbor.

The body will be at the Manley-Bailey Funeral Home, Birmingham until 11:30 a.m. tomorrow.

Mrs. Brown died this morning at the Community Hospital, Howell, of injuries received in an auto accident near Howell Nov. 28.

She was a member of the Community Congregational Church of Lathrup Village. She was the wife of the late Dr. Victor F. Brown, a prominent Congregational minister in Michigan.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Hiram Jackson of Royal Oak; a son, Dr. James O. Brown of Riverton, N.J.; three grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

2 Accused Policemen Free on $5,000 Bond

DETROIT (AP) — Two Detroit policemen accused of rape and gross indecency by a waitress have been freed on $5,000 bond each and ordered to appear for examination Jan. 5.

Standing mute in Recorder's Court yesterday where they were arraigned on two counts of criminal assault were Patrolmen Michael T. O'Donnell, 31, and Edwin B. Cable, 36, partners on Accident Prevention Bureau assignment.

They were accused by a 22-year-old mother of two of attacking her in her car Monday morning as she was returning home from her job. Investigators said her story stood up under several lie detector tests.

Both officers denied the attack. Their attorney, Harry Kent, said he plans to "find out everything we can about the complainant's personal life in an attempt to impeach her at the examination."

New Building Has Flaw, Name Spelled Wrong

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — It didn't take Gov. Milward L. Simpson long to spot something wrong with the Wyoming Highway Department's new $1,200,000 office building.

Airborne Autos Pose Problems

Now Is Time to Set Up Flying Jeep Regulations, Says Attorney

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan legislature, faced with regulating a fast-growing army of ground-hugging vehicles, should begin making plans for coping with a new traffic problem: The airborne automobile.

Arthur V. Doble of Detroit, a member of the State Bar Committee on Aeronautical Law, poses the problem in the November issue of the State Bar Journal issued this week.

Doble notes that Chrysler Corp. has under development a flying ground-vehicle designed to give the Army a highly maneuverable air-ground tactical machine.

The Chrysler "flying jeep" is a propeller-driven vehicle with an air-cooled aircraft engine and will carry a 1,000-pound load at about 50 m.p.h.

Doble foresees an extension of the "flying jeep" idea to civilian life.

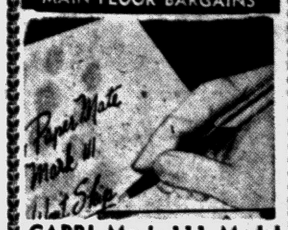

This would mean regulatory administrative agencies would have to be enlarged to control masses of persons who would otherwise be piloting their flying-cars in random directions, at arbitrary altitudes and speed, in all climatic conditions.

It would also present these problems: Traffic regulations, air safety, maintenance of vehicles, licensing of "driver-pilots," storage and parking areas.

Now is the time, Doble says, to start thinking about necessary legislation for the day when there may be a flying car in every garage.

Britain Plans to Pay on American Loan

LONDON (AP) — The British government is to pay the full 186 million dollars in principal and interest due this year on its outstanding American and Canadian loans.

The decision was announced by Chancellor of the Exchequer Derick Heathcoat Amory in the House of Commons.

The announcement was expected. It reflects the conservative government's confidence in Britain's current financial position and prospects.

The payments due Dec. 31 include $37 million dollars on the American loan, more than 37½ million on the Canadian loan, and more than 5½ million in interest on previous deferments.

Two years ago, after the Suez invasion, Britain asked for a waiver. Britain was granted the right to ask for deferment of up to seven of the annual payments.

Sales of Food Increase

NEW YORK—The United States food industry reports that its volume of sales rose from 16 billion dollars in 1939 to 75 billion in 1957. Sales during 1958 so far have been running about 10 per cent ahead of last year.

Hal Boyle Says:

'Laziest Man' Keeps His Comedy Touch

NEW YORK (AP) — It takes a real laugh master to retain the true comedy touch for three decades.

One who has never lost his skill at tickling the national funnybone is Hollywood director Leo McCarey.

"I'm accused of being the laziest man in the business," said Leo, who has a weatherbeaten face and dark snapping eyes.

"In over 30 years I've only made about 25 pictures. Some men in that time have turned out 200, or even 300."

But McCarey has won three Oscars and been nominated for two more. And his roster of films include such landmarks as "The Awful Truth," "Ruggles of Red Gap," "My Favorite Wife," "Indiscreet," "Going My Way," and "The Bells of St. Mary's."

Leo over the years has been one of Hollywood's top money earners. He also has a reputation of being one of its softest touches for anyone in the industry down on his luck.

He has a great gift for friendship, and his friends have ranged from Jack Dempsey and the late Jack Barrymore to a host of colorful unknowns, in practically every walk of life.

An associate said this is McCarey's unspoken creed: "Never go up the hill alone."

Son of a famous West Coast boxing promoter, Leo became a lawyer and still brags he retired from active practice with a perfect record: He never won a case.

He started in pictures as a script clerk, directed a number of the Charlie Chase and Laurel and Hardy comedies. They gave him a love for pantomime that has never left him, and he still likes to write with his camera as much as his typewriter.

"Everything I do is partly visual," he remarked. "I love pantomime. I revel in it. Words are necessary, but the movies are still a very visual art. I like wherever possible to let action tell the story.

"I spent a lot of time with Charlie Chaplin in the old days, and one of my happiest memories is of sitting up late at night with him figuring out visual gags."

Whether he takes a writing credit or not, Leo almost always takes a firm hand in shaping the final script.

"Nobody should tell a story who is not a story teller," he said. "The writer is the story teller, and the future of movies is to have more directors who are also writers.

"I find it easier to direct characters I have created rather than those created by someone else. You know them better as people."

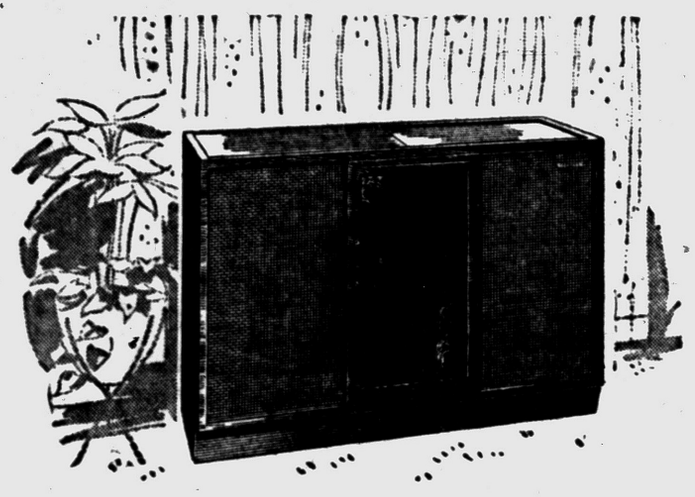

Between his film chores Leo has also written some 30 songs.

A stout defender of Hollywood, McCarey says its biggest need now—and always has been—fresh ideas.

"The truth is," he added, "that every time you have a novel idea, it is hard to find people willing to put their money into it — because it doesn't remind them of something else that has been successful."

Helium, the second lightest element, is inert, odorless, colorless and tasteless but not completely weightless.

May Deny Alford Seat Pending Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Hays-Alford election dispute moved today toward a possibly bitter fight that could rock the House.

A special House committee voted 3-2 Wednesday to recommend that Dr. Dale Alford, Little Rock segregationist, be denied a seat pending an investigation into charges of irregularities and fraud in his election. The two no votes came from Southerners.

Alford, who testified he believed he was elected honestly, promised to push his case at once.

Alford entered the November election at virtually the last minute.

Running as a write-in candidate, he beat Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark), an avowed moderate on segregation, by about 1,200 votes.

The committee's Southerners, Chairman Clifford Davis (D-Tenn) and Robert Jones (D-Ala), agreed the election should be investigated. But they said Alford should be seated pending the outcome of the inquiry. This, they said, would be in line with past procedure.

The Southerners were outvoted by Representatives Thomas O'Neill (D-Mass), Kenneth Keating (R-NY) and David Dennison (R-Ohio).

Nationalist Spy Present When Mao Story Broke

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—A Nationalist Chinese agent was present when the Chinese Communist party's Central Committee decided not to nominate Mao Tze-tung for re-election as president, a Taipei newspaper reported today.

The English-language China News, an independent daily, said the informer was present as a devoted, high-ranking member of the party.

The newspaper said the agent had news of the decision radioed to Taipei only hours after it was made.

Little Rock's Schools Show Striking Contrasts

One of several strange contrasts seen in the school situation in Little Rock, Ark., stems from the fact that the Negro schools are continuing to function on what seems to be a completely normal basis.

The determined effort of white leaders to prevent integration of that city's public schools, however, has left the white schools closed. Some of the white students have entered segregated schools in other southern cities.

The vast majority have not been able to do this. So informal classes have been set up in churches, halls, and even in private homes. The white children attending these classes are continuing their scholastic education under considerable difficulty. They do not know whether any college will recognize the credits they will receive in these informal, unofficial "schools." One organized private school has been set up.

Many of the public school teachers, those who formerly taught in the white schools, are teaching — some prefer to refer to it as tutoring — in these informal local classes. However, they are not recognized as formal schools, so they have no official status.

It may develop that only the Negro children will receive official grades in Little Rock this year. Possibly the white children who seek to go to college or university will have to take entrance examinations in view of the lack of official reports for the year or years they miss from their closed high school.

Perhaps the work they do in their informal tutoring classes will be recognized by southern colleges. Perhaps not. It is extremely doubtful that they would be recognized by any northern college.

These are only two of the many questions which arise from the closing of Little Rock's white high school. The future of the teachers affected is another problem which may prove far more serious.

Many of these teachers have indicated that if the school is still closed by mid-year, they will be forced to look elsewhere for regular teaching jobs. While they may be paid for their tutoring, the whole setup is so uncertain that they will not care to continue on a month to month basis with no permanent security.

Thus, if the present situation continues, Little Rock undoubtedly will lose many of its qualified teachers. And once they move away and secure positions elsewhere, it may prove difficult to replace them in view of the nationwide teacher shortage.

This is another reason why the white children of Little Rock probably will be the biggest losers, in the long run, from the battle over integration.

Soviet Union Cheated by Own Secret Code

Secrecy prevented the Russians from discovering the band of cosmic radiation which surrounds the earth and is a major threat to man's exploration of space.

The Soviet Union did not make public the code in which their sputniks sent back information. The result was that the only data received came when the Sputniks were in their low orbits over Russia where cosmic radiation didn't affect their instruments. Those outside that area who did receive the signals couldn't translate them.

It remained for the United States Army's Explorer III to tell the world of the deadly band of radiation above the earth.

Before the first Sputnik startled humanity our scientists missed advance information because we ignored Russian scientific publications. Now, although prepared to translate Sputnik signals, Russian secrecy prevented it and deprived Russia of an important discovery.

Secrecy in science bars exchange of ideas and in many cases, particularly with our Allies in regard to the atom bomb, necessitates costly research in areas already covered by others.

The Man About Town

We Now Have One

First Old Fashioned Winter Here in Many Years

Early shopper: A well-intentioned person, but prone to mix with the late shoppers.

Now that the ground is frozen deeper than in most whole winters—and that even before winter has officially arrived, the lakes are frozen over so most of them are safe, ice-caught fish is driving beef, pork and other meats off the menu, our fuel consumption already has reached the usual Jan. 10 level, and we've had a lower average December temperature than for over a third of a century, don't say anything to us about because we're wrestling with one right now.

To be sure, the snowfall has been light, and that made it easy for Jack Frost to burrow deeper into the ground and extend the thickness of the ice on the lakes, but already it is a winter like the ones our grandparents tell about. And the almanac says that winter doesn't actually begin until the early hours of day after tomorrow.

This column is quite in agreement with the sentiments of

of Birmingham, who writes me a letter deploring the fact that our nation's song writers do not seem able to get up a good Christmas song any more, but each year go back to that duo about a red nosed reindeer and two front teeth.

Elmwood School's fourth grade children, taught by Mary Sadler and Erma Waun,

a Korean orphan whom they "adopted" a year ago. He thanks them for "being so kind to keep me in the good home, wishing you all good health, and hope you will be joyous in the soon Christmas coming." What better way could there be to teach peace on earth, good will to men?

The Knife Changes Hands

David Lawrence Says:

Old House Can't Oust New Solon

WASHINGTON— Some headlines and news dispatches in the last 48 hours have given an erroneous impression of the way the House of Representatives deals with the seating of newly elected members.

LAWRENCE

The report was widely published that a House committee had recommended that a recently elected member not be given his seat.

Actually, the House committee which made the "recommendation" has no jurisdiction over the case. Unlike the Senate, the House of Representatives is not now, and never has been, what is known as a "continuing body."

The candidates elected last month for the Congress that meets in January are not passed upon by and do not have to submit their qualifications to any committee of the present House.

What was printed in the newspapers this week might better have been described as just a piece of politics engineered for publicity reasons by three members of the present House of Representatives, two of whom will not even be members of the House in January.

Yet it was widely proclaimed that, by a vote of these three members, a newly elected member was about to be denied his seat in Congress.

Every House of Representatives at the end of two years ceases to exist and does not have any authority over the succeeding House.

All bills pending in the House now and all committees thereof lose their official or legal status at the end of the two-year period, which happens in this instance to be on Jan. 6, 1959, with the new Congress convening the next day.

The House committee which the other day took up the subject of the Arkansas election in which Rep. Brooks Hays (D) was defeated by an independent, Dr. Dale Alford, has no jurisdiction at all over admission of the members of the next Congress.

The House appointed this committee to watch the congressional campaign while it was in progress, so that any evidence of irregularities could be collected.

But the committee collected none with reference to the Arkansas election, though it now has permitted a witness to file charges.

Any current committee of the House of Representatives — or any member, for that matter— can "recommend" or "suggest" or even "demand" that some member not be seated in the future.

But this has about as much legal value as if it had been recommended in a newspaper editorial or in a radio broadcast by any private individual. It is, after all, merely a bit of controversial debate designed to influence public opinion.

When the House of Representatives meets in January, it will be confronted by an Arkansas man with a formal certificate issued by the State of Arkansas declaring that he has been duly elected to Congress.

If the House of Representatives wishes the new member to "stand aside" while an investigation is made by the House elections committee, it may do so. But such a step would be virtually unprecedented.

It would mean that, solely on an unsubstantiated charge in the newspapers and without a single claim by the person or party most interested — the defeated candidate — a formal step would be taken to deprive an elected member of his vote on current legislation.

A member of Congress is presumed to have been legally elected until it is conclusively established otherwise.

With all the legal aspects involved, it was incorrect to give the impression to the American people that a committee of the present House has any right to pass upon the admission or rejection of a member elected to the Congress which convenes next month.

It will be a sorry day for America if there is a return to the events of reconstruction days, when "radicals" in the North — after the war between the states was over—voted to unseat Southern members of both Houses of Congress and violated the Constitution by depriving certain states of their representation in Congress without their consent.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Modern Obstetrics Keep Husband at Wife's Side

"Last spring I read in your column that the professor of obstetrics at Jefferson Medical College Hospital said a husband's place is at his wife's side in the delivery room when their baby is being born.

DR. BRADY

"Thought you might like to know Jefferson Medical College Hospital obstetricians practice what they preach. On your suggestion, I asked the Maternity Center Association in New York City for a hospital which would endorse natural childbirth . . . they recommended Jefferson Medical College Hospital in Philadelphia.

"Now I am happy to report that I and several 'classmates' (from the prenatal class) have found that all is as was promised in our instructional sessions . . . My gratitude for steering me to a natural atmosphere for the birth of my baby . . . (Mrs. G. J. A.)"

This is the way of 20th Century obstetrics. So is rooming-in — a main feature of which is that the baby remains always in mother's care and is never kept in the show window with other waifs.

So is natural childbirth — if the expectant mother wants it that way. Incidentally, in natural childbirth an anesthetic is always available if or when the woman in labor wants it.

Old-fashioned 19th century hospitals still snatch the baby away from the mother right after birth and keep it on exhibition in the show window called the nursery for the newborn — where, all too often, infectious diarrhea and other diseases are spread from one infant to the next, often with fatal consequence.

The theory on which this harsh practice was and is based (for it is still practiced in many institutions) was that the young baby has no need for mother love and that it is crude and unrefined for a mother to want to cuddle, love, nurse, protect and hum a lullaby — that stuff is not scientific.

In my booklet Preparing for Maternity — for expectant husbands and wives — I recommend books about natural childbirth, which will be of great help in any case, whether the couple go for natural childbirth or not. (For booklet send me, in care of this paper, 35 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

The only way I can suggest at present, if you want to find a hospital or a doctor up to date in the obstetric department, is that you canvass the field by letter, by telephone or by personal call.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

The Country Parson

"We conquer mountains and stumble over clods because we know the danger of mountains and ignore the clod."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Help Newlyweds the Right Way

Sally eloped. Now her wealthy parents are arguing about how to subsidize the newlyweds. Be sue to study this case carefully, for the in-laws can often predispose a young couple to divorce by their misguided generosity with cash. Don't spoil the fun of young married couples by eliminating their need to budget and skimp!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE A-405: Sally R., aged 23 recently eloped.

DR. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, she said she did so to avoid a tiresome big wedding," her wealthy father explained.

"And I can sympathize with her on that score. Besides, she married a smart young fellow with a lot of gumption and horse sense.

"My wife was quite upset about the elopement, for you know how women are concerning big church weddings.

"And now my wife thinks we should subsidize Sally with a liberal monthly allowance, for her husband is making $100 per week and my wife thinks Sally can't possibly drop down to that scale of living.

"Sally is our only child. And we have a fair amount of this world's goods, so I could easily subsidize the young couple.

"But I hate to spoil their fun and make my new son-in-law into a 'remittance man.'

"My wife and I started out from scratch and ate off a packing box in lieu of a table for several weeks, but she has gone societyfied and now wants to outfit the newlyweds and help finance them to a higher standard of living than they can afford.

"Is that wise, Dr. Crane? Yet I feel I should give them some sort of wedding present, but what?"

Sally's father is a very understanding parent. He is showing much more gumption than her mother.

For the skimping and budgeting are part of the fun of early marriage. It also makes the young couple more appreciative of the value of money and the need to operate on a rigid household budget.

Sally's parents could easily give her a $500 allowance check every month.

But that would be wrong! For it would make the young husband feel unimportant.

He'd soon grow caustic and irritable at being a "squaw man." He'd probably develop the "remittance man" personality and start living on an inflated scale that wasn't justified by his own efforts.

Moreover, it would kill much of the joy they'd share when he got his first monthly salary raise of $25, for such a sum would be dwarfed by the big cash gifts of Sally's parents.

So won't you wealthy parents please use "horse sense" and let your married children have the fun of trying to live like other young folks who must depend on their own efforts?

HOW GIVE GIFTS

If you do wish to offer the newlyweds a gift that will not ruin their morale or inflate their scale of living, make a suitable down payment on a little home for them.

Then let them pay off the balance in monthly installments, using the same sum they'd otherwise devote to their monthly rent.

This type of capital investment does not disturb their budgeting of the young husband's salary. And it does help stabilize them in the same community so their children will be happier and make higher school marks.

And if you wealthy parents wish to add a little incentive for a larger number of grandchildren, offer them a "baby bonus" of some sort for each new grandchild they give you, for babies are capital investments and warrant a little subsidy.

To help make sure they set up a stable and permanently HAPPY home, also send them the booklet "Sex Problems in Marriage," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

It's excellent insurance against divorce.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

PCHS Student Supports Intra-City Football Game

Many thanks to The Pontiac Press for offering to promote a city championship football game. It's something which could give a big boost to this community's spirit. Perhaps this rivalry is just the thing that will finally make Pontiac truly interested in its high school teams. Certainly everyone would support such a game and in time it would become as big an event as Flint's traditional battle.

I read Earl Wilson's story about his visit to Elvis Presley's home. In October we were lucky enough to be allowed inside the estate. Everything was just as Mr. Wilson mentioned. 'Post Office Should Have Told Public'

In previous years the postal rate on unsealed Christmas cards to Canada was the same as those delivered in the U.S. August 1 the postal rate was raised and the public was so informed. It seemed logical to assume the one-cent raise would apply to Christmas cards. On Dec. 16, with our cards in the mail, the public is informed their cards can't be delivered because of insufficient postage.

'Such People Ruin Others' Christmas'

The Christmas spirit is something different to some. My daughter, 15, saved $6 from baby sitting and was thrilled to think she could buy Christmas presents with her own money.

Forgetting to remove it from her purse, she carried to to school and locked it in her locker. When she returned the $6 was missing, along with a pair of capri pants, a jacket and a blouse she had bought with her own savings.

Disillusioned

Doesn't Go Along With Such Ideas

The "all men are wonderful" routine of the letter by American Men Are the Greatest doesn't explain the divorce rate, the desertions or the fact that many marriages are held together only by children.

Marriage, in many cases, is a wonderful experience, but we can't solve anything by pretending this is always true or that women are always to blame when it isn't.

The number of desertions by women is negligible and when it does happen, the husband's mother enters the picture again, according to the experts.

When A. M. A. T. G. grows up, if ever, she'll learn cheerful ignorance doesn't help her.

'It's Up to Voters to Remedy This'

Considering the tragic fire in Chicago, let's reflect on how safe Roosevelt School is. The school board appealed last spring for funds to remodel this old building.

Among the emergency needs right then were a new boiler for the furnace, new ventilating system, not to mention the old wooden stairs to the third floor, plus many other musts. These were needed right then and are more needed now. The bond issue was defeated.

It's imperative that these repairs be made for the safety and well-being of our children. The school board must appeal again for these funds in the near future and must keep on appealing until the needs are met. It must be done. Will you bear this in mind and give them your support?

Expressways to Aid State's Rural Areas

MT. PLEASANT (AP) — New expressways will encourage a population boom in rural Mt. Pleasant and Isabella counties, a county planning group was told here Wednesday.

Frank W. Suggitt of the Michigan State University resource development department said the counties had gained less than 5 per cent in population between 1950 and 1957 compared to the statewide increase of 22.5 per cent.

He predicted at least a 25 per cent growth for the area in the next 10 years.

"This spurt in growth," Suggitt said, "will be largely due to the expressways, which will make it more feasible for new factories and tourist service establishments to locate in this remote rural area."

He advised planning now to capitalize on changes that will be ushered in with the opening of new highways.

Sunken Boat Yields Fisherman's Body

HOUGHTON (AP) — The body of Walter Virnius, 44, a Chassell fisherman who drowned in a boat collision Monday on Lake Superior, was recovered from the sunken vessel yesterday.

Virnius was lost when a 28-foot plywood fishing boat sank after colliding about 1,000 yards offshore with a steel-hulled boat, also a fishing craft. The collision was off Gay in the Keweenaw Peninsula.

A Naval Reserve diver recovered the body from the approximate spot where the boats collided.

Train vs. Missile Battle Declared 1st-Round Draw

The question of which has priority — train or missile — came up Tuesday during the first West Coast launching of a Thor intermediate range ballistic missile.

Several trains were waved through while crews prepared to launch the Thor. The tracks pass through the base about three-quarters of a mile from the launching pads.

The Air Force said it has signed an agreement with the Southern Pacific Railroad not to schedule missile firings to interfere with scheduled train movement. The SP, in return, agreed that unscheduled freight trains would be delayed on each side of the base during firings.

5 Fingerprints Only Kierdorf Case Evidence?

scribed seeing him return and leave his home several times on the night of the fire.

At the conclusion of the day's testimony, O'Rourke had not as yet placed the 41-year-old Thompson at the cleaners, and had only Thompson's fingerprints on Kierdorf's car to remotely link him to post-fire activities at the Kierdorf home.

The prosecutor continued to display a "wait-and-see" attitude to newsmen when queried about what secret evidence he might have had to get Thompson bound over to Genesee Circuit Court for trial on the arson charge.

POTENTIAL BOMBSHELL?

Although he said the fingerprints were "a key" in his case, he refused to say they were the key, thus indicating again a potential bombshell he possibly holds to sew up his case.

Not even Thompson's attorney, James E. Haggerty, attorney for many high-ranking Teamsters officials could pump from O'Rourke's witnesses what evidence he might have that he didn't have before.

"In your investigation since Aug. 3 have you ascertained the existence of any additional eye witnesses to the alleged arson committed to the burning of the building?" Haggerty asked during his cross-examination of Flint State Police Detective Ralph S. Baney, who directed the investigation.

Judge Freeman overruled O'Rourke's strenuous objections to this question, and Baney was careful to be specific in his answer. "No, not at Latreille's," he replied.

Two sets of fingerprints figured in Thursday's testimony.

One, those of Kierdorf taken at the hospital by Pontiac Police Officer Ray E. Denton, which later resulted in Kierdorf's identification, were not allowed by the judge to be identified in court as Haggerty said they had not been connected "up until this point" with the charge against his client.

The judge agreed, saying, "There should be some order of proof connecting the two."

It was an 18-year veteran of the Flint police identification bureau Walter J. Lougheed, who produced the second set, which he testified were found on the outside of the driver's window of Kierdorf's station wagon.

'THOMPSON'S LEFT HAND'

"I found three prints as being those from Jack Thompson's left right ring-finger, and one-half of a print not identifiable," Lougheed said.

He said analysis of the prints showed they were put on the window anywhere from one to 36 hours before he took them from the car on the afternoon of Aug. 4.

Under cross-examination by Haggerty, he said "they were closer to the one-hour factor than to the 36."

Another fingerprint expert, Lawrence P. Stackable, superintendent of identification for the State Police, said his analysis of the same prints caused him to believe they were put on the window 24 hours before Lougheed "lifted" them.

A key witness to Kierdorf's whereabouts just minutes after the Latreille fire was his next door neighbor, Mrs. Edna Bergeron.

She said she saw the 56-year-old Kierdorf drive his station wagon into his garage shortly after what appeared to be a black Cadillac had pulled into the Kierdorf driveway.

"I saw Mr. Kierdorf, dressed in light clothes, put the station wagon in the garage, then walk onto his porch where I heard men's voices," Mrs. Bergeron testified.

"There were no lights on in the house then, but later I saw one in the kitchen. At one time I saw Mr. Kierdorf in a bathrobe."

"I saw two men, one was Mr. Kierdorf in a light-colored bathrobe and another was dressed in light clothing and about Mr. Kierdorf's size. They were carrying packages of some kind and putting them into the black car."

"They looked like pillows and they were carrying them out very fast. They must have made eight or 10 trips, passing these packages from one man on the porch, down to the other, who would put them in the back seat of the car. It later backed out of the driveway with its lights out."

Mrs. Bergeron said she had never seen Thompson before yesterday.

When Kierdorf, a fellow business agent of Thompson with Flint Local 332, stumbled into the hospital he was wearing only a yellow and black checkered robe, blue socks, and black shoes.

APPROACHED ON ORGANIZING

Owner George W. Latreille, 29, testified Thursday that two years ago a union official, unknown to him, approached him on organizing with a union, but since then he had no such visits, only "rumblings" that a competitor across the street was displeased about him opening up his business July 1.

Latreille said he had received no threats that his small pickup station would be destroyed if he didn't close.

Four eyewitnesses to the fire, which occurred at around 10:52 p.m., testified they saw a station wagon speed away from the cleaners after two men were seen scurrying about the premises.

Long Voyage Brings Magi to Jerusalem

"Khikh!" The gutteral command burst from the camoleers. They jerked at the halters, and the beasts rose, growling, to their feet. The troop of mounted bowmen moved forward, the golden eagle of Persia fluttering on their banners.

QUEST BEGINS

The long trek was on.

In what city the march began is uncertain, but since the Magian priesthood served as one of the two councils to the king, it way have been at Hecatompylos, the northern capital "of a hundred gates."

Or, they may have left from the winter castle in Ctesiphon, with its sately domes and arcades, or from the former hundred-columned capitol at Persepolis, or the once-sovereign western city, Susa.

At any rate, despite some traditions saying each of them came from different places such as Media, India, Tharsis, Arabia, Nubia and Ethiopia, this is flatly refuted by the Apostle Matthew who cites a single homeland—"their own country."

The overriding evidence is that this was Persia. In the original Greek, Matthew's gospel specifies the "Magi," who at the time of Jesus' birth and for centuries before were widely known as the learned priestly caste of Persia.

Matthew's original language also connotes "the Far East," and comparisons with other documents of the era show this was the common phrase used for the area of Persia,

The weight of tradition agrees. It may be that other nationalities sometimes mentioned refer to racial backgrounds, since in the past heydey of Persian empire, their regions had been included. Some still were.

Thus, the venturesome Magi, leaving behind Persia's barren expanse of Drangiana with its salt-water lakes and yapping jackals, traveled on through the wooded foothills of the Zagros.

The caravan climbed the steep trails into the mountains on Persia's western rim, and descended into the lowlands beyond. Wild boars, cheetahs and other carnivores infested the area, and bulbuls sang from the box trees.

The military escort was supplied as a routine to such royal entourages, even though the fratricidal King Phraates IV, dominated by an Italian concubine he called "the godess Musa," had no taste for the mission.

The squadron of helmeted archers, with their fine-limbed horses, led the column down into the plain of Appolloniatis, on past the proudly independent city of Seleucia beside the Tigris, and as far as the Euphrates bridge.

CONTINUE ALONE

For them to go farther might have appeared warlike. The Magi and their retinue of servants likely continued from there alone. A long, hard road, of many months, lay ahead.

They tramped on. The saddles chaffed their legs; the sun burned their skin and dust caked their eyes. The trip took six months to a year, other travel logs of the period indicate.

What kind of men were these who discerned a still small voice, and pursued it across a continent?

The annals of that time tell of their knowledge and insight.

Philo, then an Alexandrian Philosopher, said the Magi "behold the books of nature with more acute perception than usual." A contemporary Roman scholar, Apuleius, calls them "Divinely wise."

LOVERS OF TRUTH

The Wisdom of Solomon says the Magi "seek for God being conversant with His works." The ancient Greek geographer, Herodotus, said that in all the world's ignorance was one shining exception—the truth-loving Magi.

Many other ancient scholars, Plutarch, Diogenes, Laertius, Pliny, all speak of the Magian acuity. They were official tutors of princes, Persian and Parthian alike.

But none of this explains the impetus that took them hundreds of miles, in broiling heat of day and chill of night, across the wide Syrian desert to Haleb or Tudmor, and on along the dusty highway to Damascus.

They camped at night in their black goat-hair tents, for it would not be fitting for regal personages to stop in foreign hostels, with their dancers, boxers, knife-throwers and comedians balancing underfed infants atop poles.

The brilliant star they had seen "in the east" or more specifically translated "at the rising" apparently did not guide them, for Judea lay to the west beside the Mediterranean—not to the east.

Part of their secret may have been in their "Zendavesta," the hoary, mystical record of which only one of 21 books survive. Or it may have been in the labyrinthine, dateless processes of the past linking their stored-up lore and monotheistic beliefs with Judaism, and its yearning for the king of kings.

Whatever the explanation, the Magi's final decision was precipitated by a star, and as Ignatius described it in the First Century, it "shone in heaven beyond all other stars . . . Its light was inexpressible . . . Men's ignorance was taken away."

It was in that instant, in a flare of intuition and conviction, that the Magi had known heaven had touched earth. So they traveled on and on, south along the great trade route from Damascus, along the eastern shore of Galilee, across the Jericho ford over the Jordan, and to Jerusalem.

They arrived there, not with any map or preordained itinerary or directional signals, but with the burning force with which they started — the force that outruns all transient knowedge — their faith.

TOMORROW: "Where is he?"

Hospital Severs Building Pacts

Board Drops Contracts for Construction After Talk With Commission

In a joint meeting last night at Pontiac General Hospital, city commissioners and hospital trustees came to grips with the problem of hospital construction finances.

Upon the recommendation of City Manager Walter K. Willman, they agreed to cancel present construction contracts in the east wing with three firms. The cancellation settlement amounts to $420,490.

The action came after Willman reported that costs the city must bear to replace worn out heating, lighting and plumbing fixtures in the east wing of the hospital exceeded estimates.

The higher costs, Willman said, were reported this fall when inspectors opened up the walls of the old hospital building for the first time.

In the $420,490 figure, which Willman gave as necessary to wash out the contracts is about $60,000 in prefabricated equipment and materials ordered for the new wing, which will be kept by the hospital.

The figure also includes $212,594 which is presently being withheld from the contracts under the construction retention clause, he said.

Willman said, in explaining the necessity for quick action, that the old contracts had to be closed out before the renovation of the old wing could be considered.

"We've got to get the new beds in operation there before a balanced operation is possible," Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator said.

Although the east wing is designed to house 155 beds, only 32 are now used, he stated.

Atlas May Be Military Hunter

ICBM Missile Could Strike Right on Target After 6,000-Mile Flight

NEW YORK (AP)—Atlas is a missile with the instinct of a hunter.

It can—and Thursday night it did—steer into an orbit in chartless space.

Perhaps, as unofficial sources report, it can be a superaccurate military missile as well.

In fact, an industry source has indicated an Atlas can strike close to target—perhaps within a mile—at the end of a 6,000-mile flight.

The 85-foot missile made its first intercontinental trip just 22 days ago—spanning 6,325 miles from Cape Canaveral, Fla., to the coastal area of Africa.

Thursday night the Defense Department called the November feat a precise demonstration of intercontinental capability for distances of more than 6,000 miles.

The Atlas probably costs something like two million dollars.

In spite of its enormous size, it is said to be so delicate that you can drive a hammer into it with a good solid blow. Its thin walls act not only as fuselage, but also as fuel tanks.

Loaded for its space duties, it weighs about 122 tons. The propellants fleshed out its sides, gave it substance and weight.

The history of Atlas goes back to 1946 when Convair Division of General Dynamics Corp. was awarded the first research and development contract.

Defense Department cutbacks canceled the program in 1947. Convair kept some work going on its own until the Korean conflict brought increased military monies in 1951.

In June 1957, the Atlas was fired for the first time. That was only about 18 months ago.

In a tour of the Cape Canaveral launching ground, there is no question which are the Atlas launching pads.

The missiles stand on concrete pedestals well over two stories high. Through these pedestals bends a long funnel—a sort of horn of plenty with its small end ready to receive the fire of the Atlas engines.

When the huge missiles blast off, the exhaust flames from the engines pour through the funnel—cooled by some 30,000 gallons of water a minute. Even then the flames sear almost the full length of a football field from the open end of the flame deflector.

Flame, steam and running water pour over the concrete spillway.

Then the missile begins to rise slowly from the pad—gradually gaining speed. The separate tongues of flame from the three engines are finally visible.

The two booster engines, churning out some 150,000 pounds of thrust each—and the central sustainer engine with another 100,000 pounds of thrust push the missile aloft.

After the big booster engines have burned their fuels, they shuck off like two unneeded wings and the Atlas burns onward with its sustained engine alone.

Army Missile Site Uses Shepherd Dogs to Guard

They're German and Belgian shepherds, picked for their aggressiveness. "And don't let the names fool you," cautioned M.Sgt. Ben Mullins, chief dog trainer. "They're tough."

The dog guards, trained at Ft. Benning, Ga., are the first of many to be stationed at other Los Angeles area Nike Hercules installations.

(Copyright 1958) . . . by Elizabeth Cadell

THE STORY: Angus Graham, invalided out of the Navy, is amused at being hired by Sir Claud as a "liaison officer" for the simple job of courier on a superlative luxury bus tour in Europe. He's filling in for his friend, Wax Sealing. The driver is Freddy Brewer. The passenger list sounds impressive—Lord Lorrimer, father of a Navy friend, with his lovely daughter Angelea Clunes, and his secretary, Lionel Yule, obviously in love with Angela; Mr. Zoller, philanthropist and his wife; Admiral Peterson and his sister, Mrs. Denby-Warre; young Sir Maurice Tarrant, who has an irrepressible manner; Stanton Holt, an American, about 40, who asks to meet Miss Seton, in her late thirties, with warm, humorous intelligent eyes. Angela tells Angus she has adored him ever since her brother, Oliver, brought him home on a visit and accuses him of carefully avoiding all Naval contacts. Angela thinks her father looks dejected. Mrs. Denby-Warre wants Angus to interest the Admiral in everything to make him forget his garden.

CHAPTER V

"I knew Maurice Tarrant's father many years ago," said Mrs Denby-Warre. "He was a quiet, careful man and he built up a large fortune. And now this young man is running through it with disgraceful speed.

"He's the only child, and his mother never had the slightest control over him. It's a pity they didn't put him into the Navy to learn a little discipline.

"Do you know that he has already called Lord Lorrimer 'my dear fellow' several times?"

"I don't think he means to offend people."

"I wonder," she said darkly. "As you know, he's sitting in front of me—but that doesn't give him the right to join in the conversations I have with my brother.

DIDN'T EXPECT ANSWER

"But when we were talking about somebody just now, I said to my brother: 'I wish you had his flair' — and Maurice Tarrant turned round and said to me, 'Nonsense, she's too young for him.' Am I," she demanded, "to put up with that throughout the journey?"

Angus, at a loss for answer was glad to find that she did not expect one. She had risen, and when Angus had opened the door for her, she looked up at him and spoke with obvious sincerity.

"It's so nice to have someone like yourself in charge of us. That's what makes these Empresses so comfortable. The last time I traveled on an ordinary coach, we were shepherded about by a dreadful man who addressed us through a megaphone. I said to him at last 'My good man, I am not a film star.'"

She seemed to think this a good exit line. Angus thought so too. Smiling to himself, he gathered his papers together and prepared for the formalities of the crossing.

The sea, he saw presently, was blue, and so mirror-smooth that it seemed to be another proof of Sir Claud's excellent planning. Across the water was France, and in France the journey would really begin. Angus felt his spirits rising.

The crossing was uneventful, and the presence of Lord Lorrimer, or the reputation of the Green Empresses, sent them through the customs with a speed and ease amounting almost to diplomatic immunity.

No sooner had they touched French soil than it seemed they were rolling onward, on towards the South, where some of France's loveliest scenery awaited them.

France, Spain, Portugal. Angus putting away his papers, allowed his mind to leap ahead through the successive stages of the journey.

None of it would be new to him, all of it would be full of memories. He was to see it all again—and this time, he wouldn't be paying to see it. He was actually being paid.

He was confident that he could perform his duties well. Everything, he felt, was in hand. The success of the trip was assured. Nothing could go wrong.

OK 24 HOURS

And for twenty-four hours, nothing did.

They stopped for lunch at a small village not far from Class. On their arrival at the Inn, Ferdy was kept busy carrying suitcases out of the coach for the air of France seemed to have made the passengers clothes-conscious, and there was a general desire to change into holiday wear.

The men were soon ready, they sat waiting for the women on the terrace outside the Inn, and the landlord brought out small tables and placed them in the sun.

When at last the women appeared, their entry was in the nature of a dress parade, Angela and Miss Seton first, in pretty, light woolen dresses, Mrs. Denby-Warre in a severe suit of dark gray, and last of all, Mrs. Zoller, dazzling in

There was no noticeable enthusiasm when, after a discourse on the specialties of Picardy, the landlord offered them a pot au feu made of frogs' legs.

They chose, instead, partridges roasted in butter, with a sauce of apples and partridge livers.

Waiting for the food, they fell into groups, chatting or sitting silent or dozing. Mrs. Denby-Warre came across to talk to Angus, and presently they were joined by Mrs. Zoller, who had little to say at first, being occupied in staring with her usual frankness at the dresses of the other women.

"You do not," she asked her, "feel yourself too warm in those winter clothes?"

"This suit," Mrs. Denby-Warre informed her coldly, "is not winter weight."

'IT'S TOO OLD'

"It looks so hot, and the cut . . . You have a good figure, slim, straight; you should show it. Even for your age, that suit is too old. Why are you not drinking something?"

"I never take anything alcoholic, thank you."

"That is a pity. It would do you good." She looked at the other woman's stout, sensible shoes. "Where do you buy your shoes?"

"I—" Mrs. Denby-Warre hesitated and looked appealing at Angus.

"You should go always to Florence to buy your shoes," said Mrs. Zoller. "You have good feet, so you should wear good shoes. Have you someone to write the address? And if you wish to buy perfumes, I know a shop in Madrid. . . ."

Mesmerized, Mrs. Denby-Warre found herself bringing out a battered little address book and borrowing a pencil from Angus.

Handing it to her, he supposed that she could not bring herself to scratch out the eyes of the woman who used them to discover that she had good feet and a good figure.

He was relieved when lunch was announced. Maurice Tarrant and Mr. Holt came to join him at his table, and he spent the meal listening to their comments on the other passengers.

Mr. Holt said little, Maurice a little too much, and at last the other man leaned back in his chair and looked at him wonderingly.

"Boy, you sure like talking," he commented. "But you'd better stop talking about the customers; you're making Angus here feel uncomfortable."

SILENT SERVICE TRADITION

"That's just his habit of discretion," explained Maurice. "Keeping your mouth shut in the Silent Service tradition. Did you know he'd been in the Navy?"

"In the Navy, huh?" Mr. Holt turned an interested gaze on Angus. "Why'd you get out?"

"He was invalided out," said Maurice.

"Illness?" asked Mr. Holt sympathetically.

"Rugger accident," said Angus. "Knee went."

He saw that Lord Lorrimer had risen and soon they were all seated out on the terrace, drowsy with good food and wine, watching their coffee as it dripped slowly from tin containers into small, thick white cups.

Back once more in his own compartment, Angus told himself that he was fortunate to have got the job.

It was unbelievably pleasant—and it was easy. Or it would be easy if Angela Clunes behaved all the way as she had behaved at lunch, making no move to join him or to talk to him.

That way, he could be at peace, he thought. If there was mockery in her eyes when they met his, he could ignore it: she had caught him off guard once and it wouldn't do to give her a second chance.

He looked out of his window. They were passing sleepy Norman villages, the fields were green and gray and pale gold.

Timbered cottages with thatched roofs flashed by and then there was a glimpse of a faded-looking manor set in a wild garden, or a chateau half hidden among trees.

HUM OF CONVERSATION

He saw the Admiral come in to speak to him. He left the door open, and from the coach, a hum of conversation sounded. The talk appeared to have become general.

"How far do we get tonight?" inquired the Admiral.

"Just beyond Rouen, sir," Angus told him.

"Do we stay one night, or two?" asked Mr. Holt.

"One. We stay two nights at Beynac."

Paper Strike Goes On in New York City

NEW YORK (AP)—New Yorkers face a second weekend without nine major city dailies. The 10-day-old newspaper strike seemed likely to continue at least until Monday.

Joint talks between the striking Union and the Publishers Assn. of New York City, broken off last Tuesday, are scheduled to resume Monday afternoon.

Until then, federal mediators will confer separately with the publishers and the deliverers. "If circumstances warrant," the mediation service said, "an earlier joint meeting will be scheduled."

Million Dollar Life Insurance Policy Sales Up

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) — Sale of million-dollar life insurance policies are going up.

Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Co., with headquarters here, reports 19 new policies for one million dollars or more were issued during the first 11 months of this year.

Sixteen such policies were issued during all of 1957. The company sold no million-dollar policies on single applications prior to 1954.

Among the life insurance millionaires covered by Massachusetts Mutual policies are TV comedian George Gobel, two housewives, and four oilmen brothers. The largest amount of insurance issued for an individual is two million dollars.

A-Tests Aiding Study of Earth

Underground Shots Tell Science About Distant 'Quakes, Crust

WASHINGTON (AP) — Underground atomic tests in Nevada last fall promise to improve scientists' spotting of distant earthquakes and add to their knowledge of the earth's crust.

The first figures on the recording of this and three other blasts in the underground series were given to a reporter by earthquake sleuths of the U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey.

The Oct. 30 shot, code-named Blanca, was the biggest. It packed a wallop equal to 3,000 tons of TNT. It jiggled seismographs 5,500 miles away.

In the United States and Canada most of 110 regular and temporary seismology stations recorded it.

Reports on the three earlier and smaller tests came only from United States territory. However, one of them — equivalent to the force of 1,000 tons of TNT—was detected at Fairbanks, Alaska. That is 2,310 miles from the Nevada test site.

The smaller blast — a comparative pipsqueak of 20 tons TNT power — was recorded only out to 820 miles at Rapid City, S.D.

There was also a 50-tonner. Because its explosive impact shot down into the ground the earth shocks traveled only a few thousand feet.

Capt. Elliott Roberts and L. M. Murphy of the Coast and Geodetic Survey's seismology branch said it will take six months to study findings fully.

"But the prospects are," Roberts said, "that science stands to gain new knowledge of the earth's crust which extends to a depth of 20 miles, and possibly get some new information about the earth's mantle, extending from 20 miles to a depth of 1,900 miles."

He said information obtained will enable seismologists to do a better job of locating earthquakes.

Pier Angeli Wins Divorce From Vic Damone

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Actress Pier Angeli won a divorce from singer Vic Damone on testimony that he was "insanely jealous for no reason whatsoever."

Sobbing, she testified: "His telephone calls woud disturb me five or six times a day while I was working here and abroad. He treated me badly and insulted me."

Miss Angeli was awarded custody of their son Perry, 3. She will receive $500 monthly for the boy's support and a percentage of Damone's earnings.

Miss Angeli, 26, and Damone, 29, were married in 1954.

American women used up 95,568,192 tubes of beauty preparations in 1957, according to the Collapsible Tube Manufacturers Association.

Children's Art Exhibit Featured at Cranbrook

Currently on display at the Cranbrook Academy of Art Galleries, Saturdays and Sundays from 2 until 5 p. m., is the first exhibit of the Young Peoples Art Center. The exhibit will be on display through February.

The exhibition is a cross-section of all the art mediums in which children in Oakland County have been participating during the past 10 weeks.

The American Indians which 8-and 9-year-old children carved from dried apples and dressed in authentic costumes is an outstanding display.

MOSAICS, PAINTINGS

Colorful mosaic patterns created from bits of tile is the project of the 11-year-olds. On every wall are numerous paintings in oils and water colors, and one is a life-size painting.

The Center was originated through the combined efforts of the Cranbrook Academy of Art Galleries and the Junior League of Birmingham. In their workshop, they offer five classes a week to all children in Oakland County between the ages of 8 and 14.

New this fall, the art classes run 10 weeks and are held to 25 students per class. Classes are held each week on Monday, Wednesday and Saturdays, but each student takes only one class each week. Three classes each day are under instruction.

MICHAELS TEACHES

Supervisor and instructor is Glen Michaels who received his masters degree in art from Cranbrook Academy of Art, a degree in music from Yale University and a degree from Washington State University.

Stimulating and well-planned projects are set up for each class. A ballet dancer performing to music, a weaver at her spinning wheel, and a native of India pose for the young students.

Mrs. Robert Wardrop, chairman of the Junior League committee, states, "What we are attempting is to give additional training to youngsters who want more art than the regular school course provides."

Jane Shimmin and John King discuss the picture of a weaver at her spinning wheel which Miss Shimmin has drawn. Individuals with interesting backgrounds or occupations visit the classes periodically to pose for the young artists who are becoming adept at expressing themselves from observation.

It's Her Turn to Ask Now

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Several weeks ago I telephoned a friend of ours and asked if she was going to be home on Sunday as we were thinking of driving over to see them. She said she was very sorry but they had another engagement and would not be home. She did not set another time for us to come.

"My husband wants to go out and visit them this week, but I refuse to go as I think it is now up to her to call and ask us out to visit them. My husband thinks I stand too much on ceremony. What is your opinion?"

Answer: I think you are right and that the next move is up to them. Had she really wanted to see you, she would have either mentioned another time when you were talking with her, or she would have called you since to make a date.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My son is to be married in several weeks and it will be a small wedding. I would like to know if it would be proper for me to give a pre-wedding party at my house about a week before the wedding for his many friends who will not be invited to the reception. Will you please tell me how the invitations should be worded and also what kind of a party would be best to give?"

Answer: It would be entirely proper to give a party for your son and his fiancee at any time. It could be a small dance or just a supper, or whatever you can best give in your house. The invitations would read "Small Dance" or ("Supper") for Mary and John, and the time and day.

Dear Mrs. Post: Would it seem forward of me to send a birthday greeting to a young man I met last summer and who took me out while I visited a cousin, but from whom I haven't heard since? I know it will be his birthday soon, but I don't want to have him think I'm running after him."

Answer: Sending a birthday card is certainly a very proper gesture if its message is impersonal.

Students Stage Operetta

An operetta, "Merry Christmas, Mr. Snowman," was presented by the students of Baldwin School Thursday afternoon.

Leading characters and alternates included Janice Cornette, announcer; Gary Richfaust, Richard Marker, Fred Fravis, Loren Evens, Linda Taylor, Alana Cargle, Cheryl Pointer, and Alice Cunningham.

Also participating were Bert Bojesen, Larry Haskins, Linda Wall, and Patricia Jamieson.

The school's Honor Choir provided background music, with first grade students portraying toys and second graders snowflakes. These included Gail Ann Fetters, Sharon Heaton, Karen Dobbins, Hope Flores, Margaret Johnson, Patricia Jamieson, Belinda Kiefer, Laurie Dennis, Brenda Carney, Beverly Hemming, Martha Yaeger, Pamela Siple, Barbara Weyant, and Sandra Carey, snowflakes.

Soldiers were Allen McFarland, Jeff Brown, Ronald Hibbs, Walter Post, Larry Wolfenbarger, Garyl Roberts, Alan Bowman, Jimmy Ewald and Kenneth Dudley.

Gay Christmas Salad Is Red, White and Green

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

One of the prettiest salads we have seen in a long time was made by Mrs. James Absher for a recent luncheon. It is just right for holiday serving.

Mrs. Absher, an attractive brunette, is active in church work. She also sings in the choir.

HOLIDAY SALAD
By Mrs. James Absher

1 package lime gelatin
1 package lemon gelatin
1 package strawberry gelatin
1 small can crushed pineapple drained
½ pint whipping cream
1 package (3 oz.) cream cheese

Use drained pineapple juice to dissolve lime gelatin, adding enough hot water to make 1 2/3 cups. Dissolve each of the other gelatins in 1 2/3 cups water also. Let chill until partially set.

Add the pineapple and ½ cup of the lemon gelatin to the lime gelatin. Pour into a deep pan, 8x8 or 7x12. Let chill until firm.

Beat cream cheese into remaining lemon gelatin and fold in cream that has been whipped. Pour over green layer. After this is firm pour red layer over it and chill until serving time. Makes 9 large servings.

A festive dress for the approaching holiday season is this flower printed silk surah by Suzy Perette. The skirt is wide at the hips and tapers to a hobble hem. The neckline dips low in both front and back.

Stealing Is Serious—Abby

This Is Time to Speak Up, Aunty

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: You may say this is not my problem but I am very much disturbed and don't know what to do. Our son, who is 15, pals around with his boy cousin who is the same age. Our son started to avoid his cousin and when we questioned him he said the boy can't go into a place downtown without stealing one or two small articles.

ABBY

"We know my brother and his wife have no idea their son does these things. We hate to tattle-tale, but we are afraid if we let it go on, the boy will be caught and taken to the police station. His father is a well liked, prominent businessman in town. Should I give them some hint or stay out of it altogether?"

AUNTY

DEAR AUNTY: This is no time for "hints." A frank heart-to-heart talk is the only solution. For the boy's own good, and as a favor to his parents I urge you to tell them at once.

"DEAR ABBY: Is it right for a husband to avoid poker games which he doesn't care for with the excuse, 'My wife objects.' He also tells salesmen to 'talk to the wife' after he's instructed me to turn them down. Isn't there more to being 'the man of the house' than just signing the checks?"

CONFUSED

DEAR CONFUSED: A "man" (and I use the term loosely) who constantly uses his wife as the goat is a little boy grown tall.

"DEAR ABBY: I have a sister whom I call on the telephone and she is my problem. The minute she hears my voice she says, 'Wait a second until I find a cigarette.' When she returns I ask her what she is doing and she says, 'Nothing.' About half an hour later she says, 'I have to run, there's someone waiting outside in the car for me" and bang goes the receiver. Is this a nice way to treat an older sister?"

THE ELDEST

DEAR ELDEST: Half an hour on the telephone should be a pretty complete chat. She could be more courteous, but perhaps if you brought the conversation to a close earlier, she'd be happier to chat with you.

"DEAR ABBY: I see so much about married men getting mixed up with single women who'd just as soon break up their homes as not. I have been around a lot and would like to say that no man has to break up his home if he doesn't want to. Here are THREE good excuses he can use when his girl friend puts the pressure on him. (They work, too, because I have used them.)

1. "You are a good kid and deserve better than me so I am turning you loose for your own good."

2. "I can't stay true to one woman as you can plainly see."

3. "My wife is crazy and I can't leave her in that condition."

"BEEN AROUND"

"DEAR ABBY: Why do some parents object to ROCK AND ROLL? There is nothing wrong with it and let me tell you something — my mother has a pile of old records and I played them and if you think rock and roll is bad you should hear the one that was popular in her day called 'MINNIE THE MOOCHER.' Wow!"

Program on Carols Presented

PTA members voted to open a blood bank and polio clinic at the school. The date for these projects will be determined later in the year.

Co-chairmen of the refreshment committee were Mrs. Martin Bacak and Mrs. Paul Maddox, assisted by Mrs. Reuben Deytrom, Mrs. Jack Bresler, Mrs. Arthur Clarkson and Mrs. LeRoy Koch.

Hospitality committee members were Mrs. John Appleton, Mrs. Wilbur Hinsperger and Mrs. Fred Froede.

Exchange Students to Be Feted

American Field Service students and their "families" will attend a supper party at the home of Dr. and Mrs. L. Jerome Fink Sunday on Ottawa drive.

The party is sponsored by the American Field Service branch at Pontiac Central High School.

Attending will be some 40 people, including American students who studied abroad last summer and students from foreign countries in this area who are sponsored by the program.

Child Culture Club Gathers

The reading, "The Christmas Story," was given by Mrs. Calvin King at a meeting of the Child Culture Club, held Thursday at the home of Mrs. Charles L. Bowers on Barlington road.

Christmas carols were sung and secret pals' gifts exchanged. Mrs. Neil Nelson, president, assisted with the meeting.

'Serious Little Discussion' Isn't Enough

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

The TV psychologist had received a letter from a viewer. In effect it asked, "What can I do about my mother-in-law? She's always picking on me before my children. This is encouraging them to question everything I say so that I get arguments from them constantly . . ."

The TV psychologist started broadcasting her reply. In her studio complicated machinery began turning her words into wave patterns which other complicated machinery in our TV sets promptly changed back into words.

The answer resulting from all this electronic activity was this: "Why don't you have a serious little talk with your mother-in-law, pointing out what her picking on you is doing to your parental authority?"

It seemed to me a waste of the electronic activity.

People who want to undermine our parental authority are seldom deflected from their purpose by "serious little talks." Since their need to display their superiority to us is stronger than their reason, their ears are closed to reasonable words.

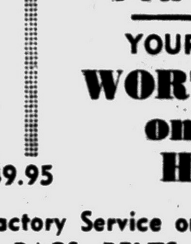

So if we're obliged to maintain contact with such people, our solution is not asking them to stop criticizing us but changing our own response to their criticism.

When our mother-in-law finds fault with the way we're preparing baby's vegetables or dealing with Tommy's defiance, what is it in us that finds her fault-finding disturbing?

Isn't it our expectations of faultless performance from ourselves? Of course it is. If we didn't feel we should be able to provide perfect meals for baby and always be ready with the exact answer to Tommy's defiance, our mother-in-law's suggestion that our methods are faulty wouldn't disturb us.

Once we dissolve this need, criticism's power to scare us dissolves with it. To the mother-in-law who's just criticized us, we just say cheerfully, "Look here, Mother So-and-So, I do things wrong as often as I do them right. Perhaps more often. I'm used to it — and it's high time you started getting used to it, too."

Walking Good

Swimming Helps Build Up Contours

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "A few months ago I was sick and lost a lot of weight. Do you know of any exercises which will help me gain and build up contour?"

A. A mild exercise is a great help, and swimming is one of the best of these. Why not take a course of swimming lessons if they are available? If not, walking and stretching and deep breathing exercises would be beneficial.

Q. I am 36 years old and have four children. I always have worked hard and my hands show it most. The skin across the backs is tight and shiny. What can I do to dull this telltale shine?"

A. Of course the use of hand lotions and creams regularly will be a great help. Also why not use a liquid or cream powder base on your hands and arms just as you would on your face and neck?

Q. "How can I fade freckles at home?"

A. Cucumber juice is supposed to help and so is buttermilk. However, I think time is the main remedy—time for them to fade out.

Q. "I am 18 years old, 5 feet 2½ inches tall and weigh 126 pounds. My bust measures 35½ inches, waist 25 and hips 39. Please tell me how much overweight I am?"

A. You are about 10 pounds overweight unless you have a very large frame. Watch your diet a little and take hip-slimming exercises for a reduction of a couple of inches in that measurement.

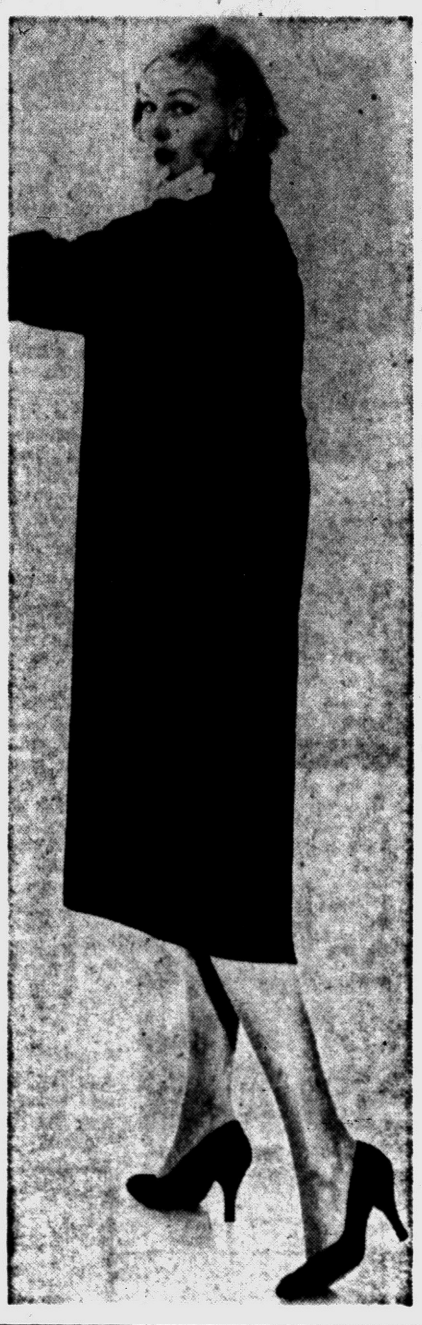

Q. "I have trouble buying brassieres, no matter how good the brand. They never fit. If I buy one which fits my bust it is too tight in the band and if I buy one which is big enough in the band it is too large in the bust. What CAN I do?"

A. Buy the one which fits the bust and add elastic to the end of the band in the back.

Q. "My sister insists on plucking her eyebrows to a thin, high-arched line. This looks very artificial and is out of date isn't it? I try to tell her this but she will not listen. Her eyes look much prettier and much larger when she lets her brows stay heavier. What do you think?"

A. I agree with you. This type brow is out of date now. If you will call her attention to the stars of the screen and stage and the social set, you will be able to convince your sister of her error.

The vogue now is for shaped, well-groomed brows, but they should be wider and should follow the natural bony structure above the eyes.

Just the thing for the approaching holidays is this theater coat by Don Loper of California. Of imported broadcloth in black, brown and charcoal, it is accented by criss crosses of velvet at the back. It may be purchased locally.

Deborah Circle Has Breakfast at Kunze Home

A Christmas breakfast was held at the Spence street home of Mrs. Herman Kunze Monday morning for members of Deborah Circle of Oakland Park Methodist Church.

Mrs. Basil Meidlein spoke on "Life Begins Each Morning." She also told the story of a Maine Boy's Christmas in 1760 and recited "The Night After Christmas."

The Rev. and Mrs. James Deeg, Mrs. Joseph Wagley, Mrs. James Nickell and Mrs. J. F. Smythe were guests.

Mrs. Nickell and Mrs. Smythe joined the circle as new members.

Maceday Unit Meets at Hotchkiss Home

Maceday Gardens Extension Group met Thursday at the Warringham road home of Mrs. Earl Hothkiss for a Christmas dinner party. Mrs. Donald Collins and Mrs. Donald Card were co-hostesses.

Favors for rest home patients were made and gifts were exchanged.

Garden Club Tea Features Movies, Music

C. J. Brouilet showed two pictures, "The Night Before Christmas" and "The Christmas Story," at the Christmas Tea of Pontiac Better Home and Garden Club. The event was at Adah Shelly Library Thursday.

Chairman for the day was Mrs. Earl Campbell. On her committee were Mrs. H. A. Brown, Mrs. W. H. Eustice, Mrs. Roy Annett, Mrs. Clyde Andersen and Mrs. Ethel Winkley.

Kyle Wilson sang three solos: "The New Born King," "O Holy Night," and "I heard the Bells on Christmas Day." He was accompanied by Mrs. Bruce Ray.

Pouring at the tea were Mrs. John McCormick and Mrs. Walter Seaks. Gifts were exchanged.

In Antiques

Unique Tree Ornaments

Some Christmas ornaments passed along from one generation to another, and these make unique decorations for the tree.

If there are no holiday display pieces in attics and closets, however, you can find them in antiques shops and shows.

Glass Christmas tree lights made in Germany, England and France in the 1880's and '90's were used to shield candles, and these in glowing emerald, amber, amethyst, cobalt and ruby are the most popular.

German Christmas ornaments of wax, plaster, unglazed pottery and spun glass dating from about 1850 are popular also. Some elaborate blown glass ornaments are frosted outside and decorated inside with a manger scene.

Tin ornaments bent into various shapes with colorful pits of glass on them date from the 19th century. French cup-shaped brass candle holders have wooden ball or gilded lead star attached to provide balance, which holds the candle upright.

There are hexagonal tin lanterns with inset panels of varicolored glass. A candle goes inside. Some people enjoy decorating the tree with old tin cookie molds shaped like animals and gingerbread men.

Along with the Empire line, the blouson and the sheath are doing nicely this year. Both are shown in wool jersey and usually are fully lined.

Milady Takes to Velvet

NEW YORK (NEA) — In another day and age, a touch more gracious than ours, ladies did not array themselves in pants and shirts to greet their guests. They appeared in what was known as the velvet tea gown, a romantic, feminine and captivating csoncoction.

The tea gown is back in many forms for entertaining. Modern versions are ankle-length but each design offers the special flattery of velvet.

And like the designs, the velvet is 1958. That is to say, it has a noncrushable finish, strong water-repellency as well as beautiful color and texture. The nylon and crushed-velvet types are completely washable.

These new leisure fashions are done in the great lady tradition: sweeping skirts, flowing peignoirs, chiffon linings and roses to enhance necklines.

The cosmetic value of velvet has long been known. Its particular flattery stems from the fact that it has a luminous quality that seems to impart radiance to the skin of the wearer.

This new look of queenly grace is one that falls right in with the season's romantic hairdos, makeup, and festive, frivolous little slippers for at-home wear.

'Finest Colonial Building' to Be Opened in April

Historic North Carolina Palace Restored

NEW BERN, N.C. (AP) — What some folks call the handsomest building in colonial America is back in royal dress.

A restoration project lavished seven years and 3¼ million dollars to turn back the clock for the splendid Georgian palace built by royal Governor William Tryon.

In its time the palace helped spark a rebellion among backwoods Tar Heel farmers.

New Bernians hope the restoration will bring an invasion — of free-spending tourists after it is opened to the public next year.

SET FOR BIG DAY

The date for the formal opening has been set tentatively for April 8. But already this quiet river port community is getting set for the big day — when North Carolina's present governor and Legislature are expected to return for a day to the palace which was the state's first fixed capitol.

Sparked by Miss Gertrude Carraway, energetic director of the restoration, New Bern is brushing up on its colonial history. Some 36 women who will serve as hostess-guides have been taking history courses weekly for more than two years.

The palace was thrown open for a few days recently to give the home folks a review. Hundreds of visitors included New Bern's policemen and firemen, bank employes, store clerks and waitresses.

"Everybody in New Bern is going to know all about the palace," promised Miss Carraway, so they can answer questions when the tourists begin to flock in.

BURNED IN 1798

The palace's central wing burned to the ground in 1798 — only 28 years after it was completed. But in this brief span it not only served as North Carolina's first established seat of government, its was the home of its last two royal governors, the meeting place of the first state legislature and scene of the inaugural of its first two governors after independence was declared.

President Washington was entertained in the palace — but did not sleep there — in a gala banquet and ball in 1791. The building had been neglected during the Revolution and lead from its roof and gutters had been stripped to make bullets for patriot rifles.

Even before the palace was built it became a symbol — one of the grievances of oppressed backwoods farmers who staged a bloody revolt four years before the outbreak of the American Revolution.

These farmers, who called themselves Regulators, objected to the way in which a tax — to raise the $75,000 which the palace cost — was levied. It was a head tax which forced the poor farmer to pay as much as the wealthy landowner.

Tryon, who supressed the revolt sternly with colonial militia and hanged its leaders, was painted as a tyrant during the hysteria of the Revolution and afterward. But later, calmer historians have described him as the ablest of North Carolina's colonial governors. He left the colony a year after his palace was completed to become New York's last royal governor.

History-minded citizens had dreamed of restoring the palace for years. But it remained only a dream until the project found its "angel" in Mrs. Maude Moore Latham of Greensboro, N.C.

Mrs. Latham, wife of a wealthy industrialist, as born in New Bern and reared on legends of the palace. In 1944 she created a $100,000 trust fund for the restoration. It was the first of a series of gifts — including $125,000 worth of antique furnishings — that she lavished upon the project. Upon her death in 1951, she bequeathed to it the residue of her estate, then valued at $1,250,000.

The gifts, fortunately, were in gilt-edged stocks and bonds which have more than doubled in value since. With $227,000 put up by the state to acquire land, the Tryon Palace Commission had ample funds for the restoration and will have a substantial sum left for an endowment fund.

DEEDED TO STATE

The restored palace has been deeded to the State of North Carolina.

Thanks to Mrs. Latham, the commission "did not have the problem that most projects and most restorations face," said Miss Carraway. "We didn't have any worries about money."

And the restored palace, its $750,000 worth of furnishings — antique furniture, paintings and other objects of art — and its lavishly landscaped grounds leading to the edge of a broad and blue tidal river — all testify that money was no problem.

Typical of the elegant look of the new bulky but lightweight fabrics give, is this three-piece outfit. The collarless two-piece suit and smart seven-eighths-length coat are fashioned of soft British woolen mohair in bright colors.

Rivets made of high strength stainless steel containing 24 per cent nickel are used to weld the wing surfaces on supersonic jet bombers.

Spray Hem, Seam, Not the Outside

Your wardrobe can be a perfect echo for a beautiful fragrance. But be careful, a beauty expert warns, for the rich, fragrant oils used in the creation of perfume often stain costume fabrics if applied directly to them.

So don't take any chances — spray the inside hems and seams of your garments instead. In addition, spray your closet and garment bags to keep the fragrance alive.

Easy to Stay Young If You Really Try

By RUTH MILLETT

It will keep you young if you—

Keep making new friends, instead of depending on a few old friends for all of your companionship.

Are willing to try out new gadgets and new ways of doing things, instead of clinging to outdated methods.

Try to understand young people and appreciate their good qualities, instead of telling yourself and others that you don't know what the world is coming to the way young folks behave.

Put your mind to a hard task now and then—for a mind that keeps learning stays young.

Take a vital interest in what is going on around you — in your country and in the rest of the world.

Take pride in dressing as well and as becomingly as you can.

Ask questions, instead of figuring that you have lived long enough to know all the answers.

Make the effort to go out, even when it would be much easier to tell yourself you don't quite feel up to it.

Listen as much as you talk, paying attention to what others have to say, instead of just half listening.

Make routine chores as easy for yourself as possible so that you can conserve your strength and energy for the things you really enjoy.

Dwell as little as possible on anything unpleasant — particularly things you can't do anything about.

Take a chance now and then—instead of being fearful of making a mistake.

Drop the phrase "at my age" from your conversation and your thinking.

Mrs. Forman Gives Reading at Zonta Club

Mrs. Ralph Forman entertained Zonta Club members at the Thursday luncheon held at Hotel Waldron with the story "Magic Under the Mistletoe," by Ann Pinchot.

Mrs. Gunnar Karlstrom of Birmingham was a guest.

Zonta Club held its annual Christmas dinner party Dec. 10 at Hotel Waldron. Gifts were exchanged. Mrs. Florence Doty and Dr. Sarah Van Hoosen Jones acted as Santa Clauses.

The next meeting will be a dinner meeting on Jan. 8 when the nominating committee will be named.

'Keeps Me on Toes' Says Bob Cummings' Wife

Glad the Girls Chase Her Man

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Pretty Mary Cummings is delighted when girls chase her good-looking husband Bob, star of television and screen, because—

"It helps a wife keep on her toes to know her husband is attractive to other women. A man never should stop appreciating attractive women, just because he is married. Bob likes handsome, vital people and so do I. I wouldn't have it any other way."

GAVE UP CAREER

The former Mary Eliott quit the stage when she got married, and has been quite busy since acting as Bob's business manager and raising their family of five children: Robert, 12, Melinda, 10, Patricia, 7, Laurel, 3, and Tony, 1.

The spacious Cummings home in Beverly Hills is organized for family action. The living room opens into a patio and swimming pool where father Bob gives swimming lessons to all the children, even before they can walk.

"The children start swimming when they are 6 to 9 months old," says Mary. "Their dad is a good swimming coach—he was a YMCA champion swimmer as a boy."

Mary had made a considerable reputation as a stage and screen actress when she met Bob Cummings, having played overseas with USO Camp Shows during World War II and played the title role in "My Sister Eileen." They were married in 1945 and Mary decided firmly and at once to make her sole career that of wife and mother. Says she:

"I'm positive I couldn't be happy as a star, and be married at the same time. My best acting offers have been since my marriage, but I don't think any family is big enough for two stars.

'VOTED FOR HAPPINESS'

"I have observed show business for a long time, and it seems to me that often the most successful women stars seem the most unhappy. I voted for happiness, and I've never regretted it."

After a long and successful career in both Broadway and Hollywood productions, Bob Cummings has had his own weekly show on television for five years.

Mary takes care of business details and often helps pick promising young actresses for the cast. She has an office in her home, and puts in a regular 40-hour week being a business manager, running home and family at the same time.

This heavy rib knit sweater designed by Catalina, is just the thing for snowy mornings. The tab button neck opening has an attached drawstring hood lined with orlon pile. The sweater also features two front pockets. May be purchased locally.

Scraps of Felt Fine Material for Ear Muffs

Adjustable ear muffs are an easy job for a home seamstress.

Using scraps of bright felt, cut four heart-shaped pieces about 4 inches long. Stitch two pieces with machine embroidery stitches. Sew each to a plain heart, leaving an opening at top and bottom for ribbon to slide through.

Pull a grosgrain ribbon (¾ yard and 1-inch wide) through the hearts. Adjust over ears and tie.

Plastics Have So Many Uses

Washable tufted vinyl plastic makes attractive cushioning for a whole line of TV hassocks, vanity benches, and other casual furniture where comfort and good looks are important.

Every shade in the wide range of colors can be wiped clean with a cloth dipped into soap or detergent suds.

Check Bottles for Sterilizing

Baby bottles must be washed thoroughly to rid them of stale milk odor and taste before being sterilized.

Soak bottles in cool soap or detergent suds to loosen and remove milk that clings to the inside surfaces, then rinse. Only after you've examined the bottles for complete cleanliness should you put them in the sterilizer.

Walled Lake Collects 999 Books in Drive

By SALLY COLLINS

Frank Fink, a student at Walled Lake High School, has been awarded "Horace," a statue of a horse, for collecting the highest number of books in the school's drive.

Frank, who collected 338 of the 999 books, was followed by Jim Owens and Karen Gammel, 272 and 167, respectively.

The books will be distributed by members of the Bibliophiles, the library club, to the boys at the St. Francis Home before Christmas.

Clarkston Clubs to Buy Clothes for Needy

By JOAN PAYNE

Members of the Clarkston High School High-Y Club and Y-Teens Club will take 16 needy students shopping this weekend to purchase clothing for them with the $200 the group raised.

The clubs raised the money by selling candy, Christmas trees and wreaths.

Tuesday Is Deadline

Tuesday is the deadline for students at West Bloomfield High School to apply to become a foreign exchange student next summer, according to Mrs. Sylvester Trythall, member of the screening committee.

The student must be in the junior class, a United States citizen, in good health and have a good academic record.

Last Page This Year

The next page will be published January 9.

We wish you a joyful as well as relaxing Christmas and a safe and successful new year.

Northern's Rooters Don New Red, White Uniforms

By BARBARA SHAVER

Pontiac Northern High School's first cheerleaders, selected recently, are now jumping, rooting and kicking in their new red and white uniforms.

Captain Sherri Everett, a senior, wears all white — a white boatneck sweater and white cotton twill skirt. The other three varsity cheerleaders, Joan Humphrey, a senior, and Sharon Nichols and Cynthia Sach, both juniors, wear white sweaters and reversible red or white skirts with the white outside.

Northern also has a mascot. He's been attending all of the games. Frosty, a husky dog owned by Mary Lynn Mann, a sophomore, is light tan with a dark brown face. He, too, wears the school's colors, a red jacket with a white "N."

The new cheerleaders are composing cheers and routines for the spectators. The group, under the sponsorship of Betty Murphy, English teacher and counselor, plans to sell sweatshirts, school emblems and pins to raise money for the uniforms.

TO DANCE TUESDAY

The senior class and Student Council will co-sponsor the semi-formal Christmas dance Tuesday at Northern. At least one student of the couple must attend Northern.

The vocal department will present a program, "The Christmas Story," at 8 tonight in the school's new auditorium. Donations will be given to the choir robe fund.

Begin Holiday Vacation Today at Emmanuel

By ANNE MERCER

Anne Mercer gave a reading on the Swedish version of "The Night Before Christmas" and the glee club, under the direction of Charles Joss, sang a medley of Christmas carols.

Band Yule Program at Avondale Tomorrow

By CAROL MAZUREK

Avondale High School band members will entertain their parents and friends beginning at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the group's annual Christmas concert.

Included in the selections will be "A Christmas Festival," "The Dam Busters," "White Christmas," "The Nations Prayer," and "First Romanian Rhapsody."

PCH Forms Snow Ski Club

By JOANNE WOOD

Pontiac Central High School students who are members of the school's newest club, the Ski Club, are looking forward to Christmas vacation, which begins Wednesday. They want to practice the steps they have learned thus far.

The club, under the direction of Mrs. Marjorie Jackson, is the first of its type in the school's history. They meet every other Tuesday afternoon at Grampian Mountain for lessons on the snowy slopes.

Officers elected this week to lead the local club were Jim Ruth, president; Char Osmun, vice president; Marillyn McClintoc, secretary and Phil Frances, treasurer.

"KING AND I" TRYOUTS

Tryouts for the next production of the Playcrafters will be held Monday and Tuesday, according to Garth Errington, director. The group is planning to present "The King and I."

The Dolphins, Central's female water ballet club, are secretly preparing for the group's water show slated for early spring. This year, they will present it at Pontiac Northern's pool.

Eight Central cheerleaders attended a cheerleading clinic at Berkley High School Sunday. They are Jeanne Johnson, Sue Clark, Karen Oxley, Sandra Irwin, Tommy Bogan, Darlene Woodhall, Donna Douglas and Mary Augenbough.

The Y-Teens and Hi-Y clubs will combine their musical talents next week to sing Christmas carols for shut-ins throughout the city.

To Dance in Snow, Ice at St. Michael's

By SHELAGH O'ROURKE

"Winter Whirl" is the title of the dance scheduled for Dec. 27 and sponsored by the seniors of St. Michael's High School.

Those attending will dance in artifical snow and ice to the music of the Rythm Knites from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m.

Admission to the semi-formal dance will be $1.50 a couple.

Committee chairmen include, Gloria Barnowsky and Jim Zugras, decorations; Joan Gibb and Joe Gallardo, tickets; Delores Ardelan and Shelagh O'Rourke, publicity.

Others are Judy Merithew and Carol Bauer, entertainment; Don Ginell, refreshments, and Barb McGinnis and Kathleen Donely, arrangemets.

Bob Considine Says:

DeMille's Latest Epic Out, Ready for Next

NEW YORK — Cecil B. DeMille, 77 years young, is in town with his new film, "The Buccaneer," the 71st film of his momentous life in that industry.

The swashbuckler pits Charlton Heston, as Gen. Andrew Jackson, against a fur-bearing Yul Brynner, as Jean LaFitte. In there also are Charles Boyer, Claire Bloom, Inger Stevens, and costly and colossal reproductions of the Battle of New Orleans.

He likes this one, and the Paramount publicity men hovering in the next room of DeMille's Plaza Hotel suite would have wished the titan talked more about it to the attentive and admiring reporter.

But DeMille is not a man whose mind is lazy enough to stay very long on one topic. He has a voracious interest in all things that are a part of this world, and all things that are not.

"I got fired by Paramount the first time I made 'The Ten Commandments,' the keen-eyed veteran said, pacing the floor and rattling the silver coins in his pocket. "The next time I made it, well, that was a little different. The picture has now grossed $56,000,000 and it has played hardly a fifth of the available theaters. It will do better than $100,000,000."

It sounded to the reporter like a bold assertion that movies are better, or at least bigger, than ever.

"Of course they're bigger," he said. "Take that box in the corner there, (Ed. note; He pointed to a nice TV set) where would that business be without the films? You hear a lot about pay-TV getting a film company off-the-nut with a single showing of a new film. Bunk. A big film could never be shown on present-day sets.

"Could you imagine The Exodus sequence from "The Ten Commandments" on THAT screen!" He had made his point with great emphasis, but plainly he doesn't underestimate the guile of the toll-TV people.

There was a book spread on his coffee table, portions of the opened pages marked with red ink.

Cecil DeMille, actor, author, entepreneur, with a career that reaches back in the theater to the American Academy of Dramatic Art, circa 1900, had interrupted his work for this interview.

His work on his next picture, that is. It will be the story of Sir Robert Baden-Powell, founder of the Boy Scouts.

"A man yawned when I told him that in Atlanta the other night," DeMille said levelly. "Yawned! So I drew him a few word pictures of Britain's wars in the Sudan and in South Africa, and of the defender of Maleking for seven terrible months at the turn of the century, and how the terrible fact dawned on him, as he lay in a pit, that a greater and ghastlier war would follow, and that the boys who would be called upon to fight it must be prepared to face their ordeal.

"What's the first thing a tyrant or a dictator destroys or disbands when he takes power? The Boy Scouts . . . all youth movements. Well, by God, the man didn't yawn after that!"

"What's the picture beyond that one?" we asked.

"I call it Project X," DeMille said.

DeMille, who is a keen student of history, believes that a warning of Napoleon, to the effect that the world had better let China sleep, is taking terrible shape and substance. He agrees with his friends Churchill, MacArthur and Adenauer that China may represent more of a menace to free men and institutions than the Soviet Union. He has seen more of the U.S.S.R. than most men, by the way.

"Walked 1,200 miles down the Volga back in 1933," he recalled. "Mrs. DeMille went by boat. I like to walk and meet people. I found the Russian people fine people, provided I could talk to them in the middle of a wheat field."

Leukemia Up in Japan

TOKYO — Leukemia, or blood cancer, has doubled in Japan in the last 10 years, rising to 2.77 cases per 100,000 population among males and to 1.81 among females. The disease, however, is reportedly three times more prevalent in the United States and Denmark than in Japan.

About three hundred years ago, one-third of the United States was covered by tangled swamps.

Shelby Track Petition Ruled Too Late

Technicality Blocks Referendum Attempt

By LEE WINBORN
Staff Writer, Pontiac Press

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — Some 885 Shelby Township home owners who signed petitions asking for a referendum vote on the proposed auto race track in their area have been left holding an empty bag.

The leaders of the auto race track opposition movement were under the erroneous impression that they had until 4 p.m. yesterday to file their petitions.

For a month they had been seeking support in an effort to bring the question of rezoning the Curtiss-Wright Corporation property to permit auto racing to a vote. The 675-acre tract is located between Mound road and Van Dyke, and 22 and 23-Mile roads.

It was not until they received a letter from township attorney, George F. Roberts, that they learned the deadline had already passed. It was 4 p.m. last Friday.

The misunderstanding arose from the legal terminology used in the passage of the re-zoning amendment by the Shelby Zoning and Township boards on Nov. 12.

The resolution stated that the new zoning amendment, permitting auto racing on the Curtiss-Wright property, would become effective today. This is legally true, Roberts said, but the law requires that petitions be filed within 30 days after passage of the amendment — in other words Dec. 12.

The Shelby Homeowners' Council, the group which circulated the petitions, is now screaming "dirty politics," declaring the legal point that caused their efforts to go for naught should have been explained to them.

"All we wanted was time to study the issue further and let the people decide," a council spokesman said today.

Shelby residents had cast their ballots in an advisory on Nov. 4 favoring the re-zoning of the Curtiss-Wright property by a 2 to 1 majority.

It was after this vote that the Shelby Zoning and Township boards acted to approve the re-zoning amendment.

Soon after that the residents opposing the track began meeting each week to report on their work in rallying support to their cause.

"We had 885 homeowners' signatures on our petitions, and we could have had hundreds more," Joseph M. Bailey, one of the leaders of the opposition to the track, said today.

"A lot of people who voted for the track changed their minds due to opinions we received from mortgage companies, veterans' organizations and traffic and police officials," Bailey said.

"Our trouble was we believed in our elected officials and township attorney. We were told we had 30 days after publication to file," Bailey asserted.

The final passage date and the day the amendment was to go into effect should have been one and the same, he added.

"We are guilty of not having had legal advice, we admit. We assumed that our township officials were honest and above board," said Bailey. He went on to explain that the letter from the township attorney was dated Dec. 15, three days after the deadline.

"We did go ahead and file our petitions yesterday anyway, but the clerks receipt stipulated that they were filed late," the council spokesman added.

"It was an honest mistake on our part and we hope that the township officials will realize this, and make an effort to recognize the work we've put into this issue," he went on to say.

The obstacles to the Curtiss-Wright race track apparently removed, company officials are moving ahead with their plans for development of the property for major auto races, preparatory to presenting the entire proposition to the home office in the east.

Madison Group Asking Recall

Disgruntled Residents Circulate Petitions on Mayor, 5 Councilmen

MADISON HEIGHTS — Petitions demanding a recall election against Mayor George S. Hockey and five of the six council members are being circulated here by a group of disgruntled residents.

About forty fairly new residents of the community are behind the movement to oust the officials.

The group has registered disgust with the running battle between council members and former City Manager Jack P. Sweitzer.

Petitioners feel that the council, with the exception of one member, Billy S. Huffman, was shoving Sweitzer around, making him hire people promiscuously, it was stated today by former Mayor Lloyd Ferguson.

Ferguson said he has signed one of the petitions, but maintains he had nothing to do with its inception. The petition was also signed by a defeated candidate for council, Mrs. Virginia Solberg.

Sweitzer resigned Dec. 1 from the city manager post on the request of the council, which decided he lacked the ability required for the job.

Huffman was the only member of the council who did not favor Sweitzer's removal.

Romeo Fire Department Banquet Set Saturday

ROMEO — Members of the Romeo Fire Dept. will entertain their families at the annual Christmas party and banquet at 7 p.m. Saturday in the Fire Hall on South Rawles street.

Santa Claus will be on hand to give gifts to the youngsters, and games will be played.

Some 50 to 60 persons are expected to attend the affair, according to cochairmen Ed Kleinhans and William Herfert.

Dryden Vets to Stage Party for Children

DRYDEN — The Dryden Veterans Group will stage its annual Christmas party for all children in the community at 6:30 p.m. Monday in the Fire Hall on Main street.

Jack West, chairman of the event, said the program will be highlighted by the appearance of Santa Claus who will hand out a bag of candy to every youngster.

Another feature of the evening's entertainment will be group carol singing around a gaily decorated Christmas tree to be set up in the hall for this special event.

Brownies Plan to Stage Play at Rest Haven

GREEN LAKE — The Brownie Scouts of Troop 88 will present a play, titled "Christmas Dolls," for elderly people at the Green Lake Rest Haven Home at 4 p.m. Sunday. The girls will sing a number of Christmas carols for their finale.

In years past the Green Lake Brownies made favors available each Christmas for the Rest Haven residents, but they decided to donate their time and talents this year by staging their show instead, Troop Leader Mrs. Bernard Cornaire of 6344 Commerce Rd. said.

The play will be presented under the direction of Mrs. Florence Neal of 6280 Commerce Rd.

Santa Arriving at Walled Lake

Parade Also Features Girl Selected as 'Miss Merry Christmas'

WALLED LAKE — Santa Claus will come to town in a parade tomorrow afternoon, accompanied by 35 girls selected from the elementary schools in the district.

One of the girls will be named Miss Merry Christmas and occupy the seat of honor next to Santa in the parade which will leave Lakeside Market at 2 p.m.

Santa and his court will ride in two wagons, each drawn by six ponies from the Ivory Polo Farm. Accompanying them will be the VFW color-bearers, the Walled Lake Senior High School Marching Band, the Dryer sisters, champion baton twirlers from Orchard Lake, eight two-horse teams of Roman riders, also from the Ivory Farm, a unit of the Oakland County Mounted Sheriff's Posse and the Walled Lake Fire Dept.

The parade will pass through town, on Main street and turn onto Pontiac Trail to the Maple Plaza Shopping Center, and on to the Junior High School where Santa will dismount at the Christmas scene panel, prepared by the Senior High arts department under Mrs. James Lobdell. The parade will then return to Lakeside.

Santa will receive visitors at the Junior High site until 8 p.m. Saturday. On Monday and Tuesday he will be on hand from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. and again on Wednesday from 1 to 4 p.m.

While Santa is on duty, groups of carolers from schools and local churches will present programs of Christmas music. The entire program is sponsored by the Walled Lake Chamber of Commerce.

Jail Sees Overflow

TOMS RIVER, N. J. (UPI) — There were 72 prisoners in the Ocean County Jail, which has a legal capacity of 28, so Sheriff Harry Roe boarded out the overflow in prisons of five other counties.

Ex-Pupil Teaches for Principal

AUBURN HEIGHTS — Although he is a new member of the teaching staff at Avondale Junior High School, Jack Gentges, 23, has known the principal there for more than 18 years.

A series of coincidences has caused the two men's paths to cross many times since Gentges entered kindergarten at Elmwood Elementary School in 1940. At that time Lawrence Scharer was the Elmwood School principal. Now he is principal of Avondale Junior High.

Last spring when Gentges was looking for a teaching position in the Pontiac area, he contacted Scharer, and an old friendship was renewed.

"I still remember Jack in grade school. He used to make his eights upside down," the principal recalled with a smile, "but a lot has happened to both of us since those days."

When he was in the lower grades Gentges was a safety patrol captain and consequently had to work closely with his principal. Later, when the personable young teacher was a seventh and eighth grader, he played softball under Scharer, "so I knew him pretty well then," Gentges said.

FRIENDSHIP RIPENS

The friendship ripened at Avondale High School were Scharer was athletic director when Gentges, as a student, was a member of the track and football teams.

"Jack excelled in the mile run," the school administrator remembered. "I knew him well all through school, so when he applied to me for a teaching job last spring, I was glad to recommend him for a position on my staff," Scharer said.

From high school, Gentges went on to Central Michigan College at Mt. Pleasant. While there he decided to give up his original idea of becoming a coach and take up teaching. In 1957, he received his bachelor of science degree in education.

TAUGHT IN REMUS

The broad-shouldered young civics and history teacher taught school in Remus last year while his wife, Shirley, was in her senior year at Central Michigan. After Mrs. Gentges received her diploma, the young couple moved to 73½ S. Francis St., Pontiac.

"I was supposed to go into the Army last summer, but then I found out I didn't have to report for duty until Feb. 1," Gentges said. "Mr. Scharer was kind enough to give me this job for just one semester," he added.

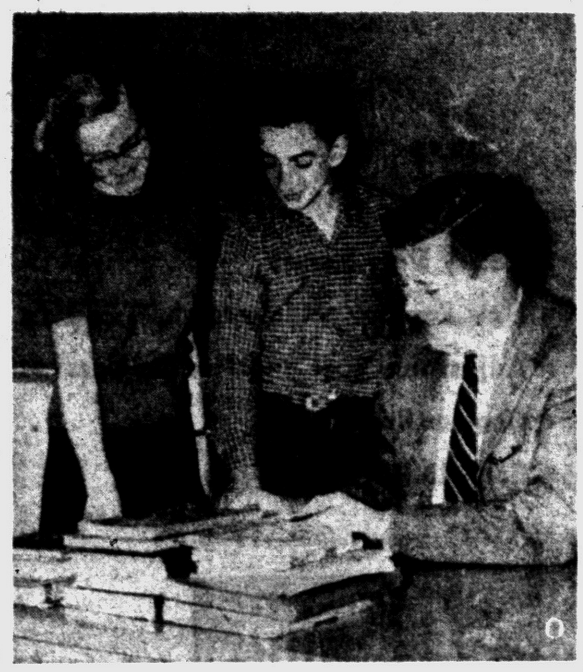

WIFE ALSO TEACHER

Mrs. Gentges is a teacher at Longfellow Elementary School, Pontiac. She will continue teaching until June while her husband is taking a basic officer's course in Baltimore, Md. Then she will join him at his assigned duty station.

Scharer says he's "delighted" to have his former student on his staff "even though it's only for a brief period."

Burglars Break In

DETROIT (AP) — Burglars, apparently seeking a hidden safe, broke into the suburban Grosse Pointe Park home of George S. Fitzgerald, a Teamsters Union attorney, Thursday. Fitzgerald, vacationing in Key Biscayne, Fla., told police by phone that he has no safe in his house.

Pontiac Press Photo

BACK ON HOME GROUNDS — Eighteen years ago Jack Gentges, left, entered kindergarten in the Avondale school system. This fall he returned to the system, this time as a teacher of civics and history in the Avondale Junior High School. Going over new assignments with their teacher are Roger Bauer and Karin Walters, both 13.

Auburn Heights Has Tree Lighting Sing

AUBURN HEIGHTS — For the first time, a Christmas tree lighting ceremony and community sing will be held here tomorrow night.

The event, to be held at Auburn Heights Park from 7:30 to 9 p.m., is sponsored by American Legion Post 143, the Lions Club and the Pontiac Township firemen, according to Donald Dodman, legionaire.

Santa Claus will arrive in a sleigh and candy, coffee and donuts will be available for children and adults respectively.

The event will replace the annual Christmas party which had been previously sponsored by the three groups.

Files for JP Nomination in Farmington Township

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Robert H. Nelson, lawyer and certified public accountant, announced today he is seeking the Republican nomination for Farmington Township Justice of the Peace.

Petitions are being circulated in his behalf for the primary election to be held Feb. 16. Nominees selected at that time will run in the April election for one of the two J. P. positions to which the township is entitled.

The expiring term is that of Allen C. Ingle. James P. Lawson has several years remaining to his term of office.

Dryden Music Groups to Present Program

DRYDEN—Three Dryden musical aggregations will join in presenting a Christmas program at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the high school auditorium.

The Dryden High School Chorus and Band will perform, in addition to the 25-member Community Chorus which will be featured in a short cantata, "The Birth of Christ."

All three groups will take part in the finale, "Three Songs for Christmas."

Total area of Brazil is greater than that of the continental U. S. by about 250,000 square miles.

Women Jurors Present Cake to the Courtroom

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—There was a cake in the courtroom after Mrs. Josephine Foley and Mrs. Margaret Cull served as jurors.

They liked the work so well each baked a cake for Criminal Court Judge Thomas Knight and the court officers.

They said they started their first jury duty with "fear and trepidation" but soon changed their minds.

Once-Proud Bulganin Crawls for Big Red Boss Khrushchev

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY
AP Foreign News Analyst

Sick, tired old Nikolai Bulganin groveled before Nikita Khrushchev Thursday and begged to be allowed to live out his days in peace.

Bulganin admitted to the Communist Party Central Committee that he had conspired against the party. The 63-year-old former Soviet Premier said Premier Nikita Khrushchev was right in accusing him and four other ousted leaders of reactionary activities.

By making the proceedings of the committee meeting public immediately, Khrushchev took his case directly to the people, whom he is wooing with promises that industrial and agricultural innovations will mean better living.

Bulganin's confession and Khrushchev's own attacks on the five-man "antiparty group" are designed to discredit all who oppose Khrushchev.

Contrite speeches were one of the devices used by Stalin to discredit his opponents. They were a prelude to execution then. None of the antiparty five is known to have met a fate worse than banishment to a small-fry job in the provinces.

Former Premier Georgi Malenkov was last reported running a power station, former Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov was serving as ambassador to Outer Mongolia, former Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov was teaching school and onetime economic boss Lazar Kaganovich was running a factory.

Bulganin came out of semiretirement in southern Russia to speak again in the committee where once his was a prominent voice. As premier from 1955 until last March, while party boss Khrushchev actually ran the country, Bulganin's stout, goateed figure became world famous.

He traveled to India, Britain and other countries with Khrushchev. He posed for pictures with President Eisenhower in Geneva in 1955 and signed numerous letters to the White House.

But, Bulganin said Thursday, "when in 1957 the antiparty activities of (the other four) actively developed, I joined them." As premier, he added, "I not only became their accomplice but also nominally their leader.

'The antiparty group met in my office and there concerted their antiparty reactionary work." This Bulganin explained, consisted of opposing "the general line of the Central Committee," which Khrushchev laid down.

Always a shrewd politician with an eye to his own and other peoples' intrigue, Khrushchev held off a showdown with the group in June 1957 until he could bring up enough party supporters to outvote and exile them. Bulganin then turned coat and ended up backing the winner, but he himself lasted only a few months longer.

He plunged from premier to director of the state bank to head of a regional economic council at Stavropol, a post he indicated he still held.

Charms Man Into Jail

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — The fellow looked at the pretty policewoman and shook his head sadly.

"She arrested me once already," he sighed. "I told her that it would be nice if we could go to her house and talk it over. And I was so taken by her that she was on the jail elevator before I knew what she was really doing to me.

"She booked me for drunk."

American Science Impresses World

Prestige Soars Up With Satellite

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's scientific and military prestige, a key element in the cold war, rebounded high today from the lows of double disaster a year ago.

A mighty U. S. Atlas rocket roared into orbit around the earth Thursday night. It became a satellite weighing between 8,700 and 8,800 pounds—three times heavier than the biggest Soviet Sputnik.

That was a comparison easily understood by the man in the street in London, Moscow and New Delhi.

It carried significance too for the military officer and government official: the United States had a missile with power and control to dump a nuclear warhead on a target on another continent.

Of such stuff is made prestige that can bolster friends, give pause to enemies and nudge the vital in-betweeners who want to lean with the winning side.

The U. S. comeback seemed incredible in view of the shattering Soviet success starting wth Sputnik I Oct. 4, 1957, a Pearl Harbor Day for U. S. prestige.

On Nov. 3 the Russian threw into orbit Sputnik II, carrying little dog Laika. The weight this time: a half ton.

On Dec. 6, Pearl Harbor Day again so far as U. S. prestige was concerned, America's first satellite-bearing rocket—a Navy Vanguard—blew up on its launching pad.

Not until Jan. 31 of this year did the United States get its first foot in the satellite race. But the Army's Explorer I weighed only 31 pounds, a midget against its Soviet rivals.

On March 17 the Navy finally got a satellite into orbit too, shooting Vanguard I to a record far point of 2,246 miles to give its satellite a top life expectancy of 200 years. But Vanguard I was a Lilliputian 3¼ pounds.

On May 15 the Russians tossed up Sputnik III, 2,929 pounds. It's still going.

Yet the American scientific show was coming to life. An atomic sub nosed under the arctic icecap. The Air force and the Army tried rockets that soared a third of the way to the moon. 6,325 miles across the Atlantic.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said the Russians had a missile capable of going 8,700 miles. U. S. officials underscored the word "capable," discounting Communist possession of any such operational weapon for at least two years.

American authorities deny Thursday night's launching was a propaganda move. They said it would carry out important communications experiments.

Atlas is big enough to be seen with the naked eye by the millons in the heavily populated areas of the earth over which it was aimed. And its tape recording playbacks are highly convenient for worldwide rebroadcasting by the Voice of America.

Space Achievement Praised

Western Europe Rejoices

LONDON (AP)—Jubilation was expressed in Western Europe today over the launching of the four-ton American earth satellite.

"Good," said the man on the Moscow street. "It gives us competition."

"Amazing U.S. space triumph," trumpeted the tabloid Daily Mirror. It said: "The American stride forward into space proves the Americans now have a super rocket that can serve a dual role — blasting Russia's secret war centers or enabling the United States to put big research laboratories crammed with instruments of many kinds into space.

"It also brings very much nearer the day when man makes the first trip into space."

At Jodrell Bank, England, the operators of the world's largest radio telescope, which has tracked other American satellites and the Pioneer moon shots, apparently were as much surprised as the rest of the world.

At the time of the launching, the telescope was engaged in routine astronomical observation, and four Americans who have helped in previous trackings of U.S. space were off duty.

The Soviet regime first told its people about the orbiting Atlas some eight hours after the first announcement in Washington. Moscow radio broadcasts in both Russian and English told of the missile advance without any comment.

Indiana Bank Robber Held in South Bend

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Hugh Barr, 53, was held in South Bend today after failing to post $25,000 bond on federal charges of robbing the First Commercial Bank of Edwardsburg, Mich.

Police said Barr admitted holding up the bank twice in the past four months, Wednesday for $3,581.

Barr, an unemployed South Bend salesman, was captured near the entrance to the University of Notre Dame by city policemen less than an hour after the second holdup.

He was returned to jail after he failed to post the $25,000 bail. Authorities were still considering additional charges to be filed against him.

Barr will not have to be extradited to be tried, because the Edwardsburg bank is a member of the Federal Reserve System and the case will go to a federal court.

Hollywood Headlines:

Preminger Wins Rights to 'Anatomy of Murder'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD — All the fighting and disputing is over and Otto Preminger comes up the winner in the hassle over which Hollywood producer will bring "Anatomy of Murder" to the screen. It was a prize worth battling for as Robert Traver's exciting novel has been on the best seller lists for over 11 months.

Otto isn't wasting any time getting activated now the court has decided in his favor. He has sent the script to Susan Kohner and wants her for the part of Laura. Susan likes it very much so it's only a matter of time before she inks the papers.

Every top actor in town has been rumored for the male lead of the lawyer, including Bill Holden, Gary Cooper and Bob Mitchum—but Preminger says no one is set.

Recently when Howard Keel came to see me he said he wanted to continue singing on the screen, which is a switch. Most of the singers want non-warbling roles. Well J. Arthur Rank has offered Howard the screen biography of the great Russian opera star Feodor Chaliapin and Howard is very interested.

One again "true love" bites the dust in favor of a Hollywood career. Evy Norlund, who won fame as "Miss Denmark" in the Miss Universe contest and along with it a contract at Columbia, is heading home to break the news to her boy friend that their engagement is over.

The young man, whose name is Klaus Padl, has a job that keeps him in Denmark, and Evy is now convinced that her heart and interests are in Hollywood. She believes that no marriage will stand up under the pressure of long separations, and she's going all the way home to tell Klaus in person.

One of the nicest Christmas gifts of any season was given to Gilbert Roland by Ernest Hemingway. When Gil was in Cuba with "Mr. Pharaoh and the Cleopatra," Hemingway presented him with the film rights to a short story "The Capitol of the World," because said Hemingway, "no one but you should attempt to star in it."

Gilbert plans to set up his own company and make "The Capitol of the World" in Spain inasmuch as it involves bull fighting. It's a story about a man who accidentally kills a friend during a mock bull fight, and it has all the color and adventure of the usual Hemingway tales.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Clint ("Cheyenne") Walker plans to return to his home state of Illinois to live.

Julie London is back from a long, hard location on "Wonderful Country" in Mexico so tired that she's in no mood to even think of marriage.

May Britt is being tested at U-I for a role in Kirk Douglas' "Spartacus."

Jane Withers is taking her doll collection out of storage for the first time in 15 years and will put it on display at Pacific Ocean Park over the holidays.

The jurist who drafted the Ordinance of Secession in the Civil War was a Mississippian named Lucius Quintus Cincinnatus Lamar. Later he was an associate justice of the Supreme Court.

Dedicate Chapel at State Prison

Building for All Faiths Raised Money From Inmates, Private Donors

JACKSON (UPI) — A modern, 700-capacity chapel was dedicated yesterday within the walls of Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson.

The chapel, constructed to contain units for Catholic, Protestant and Jewish faiths, cost $150,000 with more than $11,500 for furnishings coming through donations. Inmates contributed $2,000 through individual donations for the furnishings and much of the rest was from private citizens and inmates' families.

The chapel is in the center of the giant prison's yard and easily seen from most of the inmate facilities.

Corrections Director Gus Harrison said it was the first chapel building at any of the State prison facilities. He said more than half the inmates attended worship services previously in an auditorium.

Warden William H. Bannan predicted attendance would now increase 25 per cent.

The chapel is a contemporary design, contrasting to the other prison structures.

Linda Christian Seeking Part of Power's Estate

Her attorney James Fizzolio said he will ask Superior Court to authorize the payment because when Power and Miss Christian were divorced no provision was made for child support.

"With Power's death, alimony to Miss Christian ceased," he said. "For this reason, support for the children must come from the estate."

Red Scientists Visit West Coast Labs

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — It looked like camera day with the visiting Russians Thursday. And it was a two-way picture taking.

Some of the 67 Russian scientists visiting the Bay area toured University of California laboratories. Most carried cameras, and used them freely.

The Russians came on the Soviet laboratory ship Vityaz, which has been doing oceanographic research for the International Geophysical Year.

More than 1,000 Americans visited the Vityaz, on which Capt. Igor Sergeev held open house. Many of them snapped pictures.

Rudolph the Reindeer Is Source of Trouble

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — William J. Wilson notified the sheriff the other day that his pet deer Rudolph had been stolen.

Two men returned Rudolph and apologized, explaining they thought they had caught a wild deer.

A game warden heard about the incident and promptly arrested Wilson for capturing and possessing a game animal.

Wilson pleaded guilty and was fined $107.

Game wardens gave Rudolph to the Topeka Zoo.

Phoenix, Ariz., maintains a "city" park as a recreation area for its citizens and tourists. It is 85 miles outside the city limits of Phoenix.

Olivier Separation Has Rumors Running Wild

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Speaking of the low-down on the higher-ups, as we often do here, "Sir Larry" Olivier is evidently going to be away from Vivien Leigh for the first half of 1959. In N.Y. to do "The Moon and Sixpense" on TV he then goes to Hollywood to film "Spartacus," all of which takes him up to June. Viv's busy in England being a grandmother. You gossipmongers who claim all is not well, make of it what you will. I have no comment.

WILSON

Eddie Fisher's weathered his TV crisis apparently—the mail to his sponsors is more kindly (such as "So the kid made a mistake, give him another chance") and he seems likely to keep working through March . . . Marie McDonald's reportedly latched onto a rich Houstonian, Mike Gordon, who's a bachelor, yet! Aren't they having Hollywood Christmas together? . . . Myrno Loy goes on George Gobel's TV show Jan. 13 from Hollywood with Jimmy Stewart. But she says George would probably belt her if she tipped off the sketch they're going to do. Could it be a Thin Man bit? Jimmy's thin enough.

Kim Novak, her hair darkened slightly, wasn't recognized as Kim Novak when she came into Lindy's for lunch.

Kim had been rehearsing at the Palladium ballroom on Broadway, home of the mambo and cha-cha-cha, for "Middle of the Night," her next film, with Frederic March. Unglamoured up at that point, she seemed to be just another paying customer, instead of a star.

Ava Gardner claimed to be glad there was a newsapaper strike on when she left N.Y. to visit her relatives in South Carolina — and she probably was, for her Italian boy friend, actor Walter Chiari, was with her.

Walter'll probably accompany her to Hollywood, and possibly to Australia, where she's to film "On The Beach." Curiously, when this flying reporter was in Rome about 10 days ago Chiari's agents told me he couldn't possibly come to America with her because he had TV and movies to do in Italy. So who's boss? Him . . . his agents . . . or Ava?

A couple of years ago, when Dore Schary was bounced from his top Hollywood job, friends felt sorry for the poor fellow. Today he's about "the hottest property" around — not only does he have "Sunrise at Campobello," a new movie called "Lonelyhearts," and five TV shows to produce for a network, but he's directing "Majority of One," a B'way-to-be show starring Sir Cedrick Hardwicke and Gertrude Berg. Schary pulled up stakes in Hollywood and moved here—and the big thing is, he's happy. Must be rich, too.

13 Unlucky?—PCH Coach to Find Out

SPORTS

Art Van Ryzin After 13th Win in FC Series

Flint Central's High Scoring Quint Rated Favorite Tonight

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The number in the charmed circle for coach Art Van Ryzin is "13" and the Chief mentor is ready to find out the facts about these superstitious digits.

This marks Van Ryzin's 13th season as head coach of the Chiefs and the big game tonight against Flint Central will either mark the 13th win or the 13th loss against the Indians during his coaching career.

Since the 1946-47 season, when Van Ryzin started at PCH, Pontiac Central and Flint Central each has won 12 games.

The basketball series has been hectic since Flint Central is Pontiac's oldest athletic rival, but tonight's clash on the PCH court could be one of the most crucial meetings between the two.

Both teams are highly ranked. Flint Central, the defending champion of the Saginaw Valley, is favored to repeat. Pontiac Central is considered a strong challenger.

Each team has swept the two-game series in one season three times. Flint Central won twice in 1946-47, 1952-53 and 1957-58. Pontiac Central swept the season series in 1948-49, 1949-50 and 1956-57.

The other six seasons during Van Ryzin's regime has seen each team winning at home and losing on the road.

"We are worried about tonight's game," said Joe Dowdy, coach of Flint Central, the number one team in the current state prep ratings.

The Indians have shown good balanced scoring with six players having hit in double figures at least once in the three games played.

Keith Richardson hit 22, 13 and six; Dale Lucas hit 16, 13 and 12; Marcellus Wilson got 11 and 20 in two games. These are the top four pointmakers for the Indians.

Pontiac Central has scored 181 points in posting a 3-0 mark while Flint Central has hit for 205 points in as many games.

"I think our kids are ready for this game," said Van Ryzin, "they realize they have to win at home because it will be tough winning up there the next time."

Available tickets will be put on sale at 6:15 at the PCH ticket windows. Game time is 8:00 p.m.

'Cousins' Stage Revolt

Worsley Shines as Rangers Top Red Wings, 2-0

By BILL CORNWELL

DETROIT — Those "cousins" from New York were downright nasty Thursday night.

After being pushed around almost at will by the Detroit Red Wings in five previous meetings this year, the Rangers discarded their role of friendly relatives and staged a revolt.

With netminder Lorne (Gump) Worsley sparkling in the New York cage and Andy Hebenton taking care of the scoring details, the Rangers handed the Wings a 2-0 setback last night before 9,112 fans in Olympia Stadium.

Hebenton's two goals came in the 4th minute of the 1st period and the 15-minute mark of the 3rd stanza and they were just as good as 100 counters for Worsley, who was a giant goaltender from start to finish.

The Wings peppered Worsley with 38 shots and the chunky New York goalie kicked out every one of them, including half a dozen phenomenal saves from point blank range with no protection in front of him.

It was Worsley's 1st shutout of the 1958-59 season and New York's 1st win over the Redshirts. The shutout was the 5th against the Red Wings this year, three of them on Olympia ice.

Terry Sawchuk also did a herculean job in the Detroit net, turning aside a total of 28 Ranger shots, but the Wing goalie was twice punctured by Hebenton on scoring efforts that he was helpless to stop.

Hebenton's 1st goal was a quick blast of Harry Howell's rebound from 15 feet. A clever bit of fakery produced the 2nd tally as Hebenton skated around defenseman Pete Goegan, drew Sawchuk out of position and hit the open corner.

Worsley made spectacular saves in the scoreless 2nd period, blocking shots by Alex Delvecchio and Red Kelly on solo breakaways and others by Jack McIntyre, Gordie Howe and Norm Ullman.

Ullman, who mixed it up with Rocket Richard last Sunday night in Detroit's game with Montreal at Olympia, entered the act again yesterday as he and rookie Ed Shack of the Rangers engaged in a stick duel at the final buzzer.

Shack received a two-minute high sticking penalty and Ullman was given a major for slashing, both penalties called after the game ended.

The defeat caused the Red Wings to lose ground to Montreal in their fight for 1st place in the National Hockey League. The Canadiens trounced the Toronto Maple Leafs by a 4-1 score yesterday in the Montreal Forum and now lead the 2nd place Wings by six points.

From The PRESS BOX

The Bloomfield Hills junior high hoop team is off to a good start with easy victories over Clarkston and West Bloomfield to its credit. Art Tregenza and Roger Stewart have been the top scorers.

Temple coach Harry Litwack says the trouble with officiating in the National Basketball Association is due to the coaches. He is amazed the owners stand for the way the coaches jump off the benches trying to incite fouls. Litwack says Boston's Red Auerbach admits his pre-game strategy depends on the officials assigned.

Golden Gloves Deadline for Entries Dec. 31st

Training facilities for amateur and novice boxers have been set up at 18 N. Perry St. in the basement level of Pontiac Recreation where Golden Gloves entries have started workouts.

The training area will operate daily starting at 6:00 p.m. and if necessary on Saturdays. It is being operated by the Pontiac Jaycees, sponsors of the 1959 Golden Gloves which will be held Jan. 31 and Feb. 7 at Pontiac Central High School.

Any boy 16 years of age and over can submit his entry for the Golden Gloves, and he will be able to use the Jaycee facilities to train.

Deadline for entries is Dec. 31st since it is required by the AAU that each boy be in training for 30 days before his bout.

Boys need only their own shoes and trunks, all other equipment will be furnished by the Jaycees.

It is expected that 60 boxers will participate in the Pontiac fights. Eliminations will be held Saturday, Jan. 31st and the finals Feb. 7th.

Pontiac winners will then be sent to Grand Rapids for the state finals and from there to Chicago for the Midwest championships.

There is no entry fee for boys except a 50-cent registration fee for the AAU.

Organizations such as Boys' Clubs have entered representative teams into the Golden Gloves, which will make their first appearance in Pontiac since 1949. Last year Pontiac Central was used for some of the fights from the Detroit regionals.

Tickets for the fights will go on sale at numerous sporting goods stores in Oakland County and Pontiac business establishments with general admission starting at 90 cents.

American Pair Beats Italians

Olmedo, Richardson Get 2-0 Lead in Davis Cup Interzone Match

PERTH, Australia (AP)—A nervous Alex Olmedo, playing in his first Davis Cup match, and poised Ham Richardson sent the United States off to a 2-0 lead over Italy today in the interzone tennis final.

Olmedo, a 22-year-old Peruvian from the University of Southern California who never before had even seen a Davis Cup competition, shook off an early case of jitters and defeated the flashy Italian champion, Nicola Pietrangeli, 5-7, 10-8, 6-0, 6-1.

Pietrangeli, his fine game in tatters, won only one of the last 16 games—dropping 14 in a row at one stage.

Then Richardson, a former Rhodes Scholar from Arlington, Va., stepped front and center at the Royal Kings Park Club and, despite the 90 degree temperatures, cut down titantic, 6-7 Orlando Sirola 6-4, 6-2, 7-5.

This match was like a matador against a big bull.

30 Training Season Games for Athletics

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics announced today a 30-game exhibition schedule for their spring training session in Florida. The club will play 20 games against American League teams and 10 against National Leaguers.

General Manager Parke Carroll said the club will open training at West Palm Beach Feb. 22 with drills for pitchers and catchers. Other players will report Feb. 26.

The A's will begin exhibition play March 7 against Baltimore.

Laker Rookie Gets 26; Celts Trip Royals

Too Much Baylor for Pistons, 113-105

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A little less of Elgin Baylor on the basketball floor would have suited the Detroit Pistons just fine last night. The Minneapolis rookie scored 26 points to fire the Lakers to a 113-104 National Basketball Assn. victory.

Besides snapping a four-game losing streak, Minneapolis closed the gap to a 2½ game deficit in its battle with Detroit for second place in the Western Division.

The Pistons have won 14 and lost 14. The Lakers have a 10-15 record.

Baylor's 26 points against Detroit moved him into a second place tie with Philadelphia's Paul Arizin in the league individual scoring race. Baylor and Arizin now have 637 each.

Detroit lost a hard-fought battle. Through the first three quarters it was a nip-and-tuck struggle with no more than six points separating the teams at any one point. The Pistons were ahead at the end of the third quarter, 80-79, after trailing after the first quarter and at halftime.

With 4½ minutes to play, the Lakers led 99-97. In an outburst of scoring, they poured in 12 points to 3 for the Pistons in the next three minutes.

The Celtics, out-rebounded and guilty of loose ball handling, fell behind, 27-19, in the opening quarter but they swung into high gear in the second period, against the Royals.

They outscored the Royals, 33-14, to take a 52-41 halftime lead and never were behind again although the Cincinnatians cut the margin to 72-70 at one time in the fourth quarter.

In their big second quarter, the Celts tied the score at 28-28 on Tom Heinsohn's field goal and went ahead for the first time on Frank Ramsey's fielder. Ramsey's three 25-foot set shots were big factors in the second period drive.

Boston held a 72-69 lead going into the third quarter and Jim Palmer cut the lead to two points. The Celts pulled away after that with Bob Cousel contributing nine points.

'Gang' Tourney Begins Dec. 29

Entries are now being accepted for the 3rd annual YMCA "Gang" basketball tournament, which will begin Monday morning, Dec. 29, in the Pontiac "Y" gym. The tourney is again being sponsored by the North Kiwanis Club of this city.

It is a single elimination tourney and competition will be held in two divisions, the prep division for boys from 10 through 12 years of age and the junior class for 13 and 14-year-old boys.

Any group of six to eight boys wishing to enter the "Gang" tournament may do so by obtaining an entry blank at the YMCA, 131 Mt. Clemens St., and returning it to Art Mann, "Y" physical director. Deadline for entries is next Monday, Dec. 22.

Each team must have an adult coach or manager at all games. Individual trophies will be awarded to the players on the winning team in each division. There is no entry fee for the tourney. For more information, call the "Y" at FE 5-6116.

Rec Cage Loop Available for Clarkston Men

A recreation basketball league will be started in Clarkston for adults.

Games will be played each Monday night at Clarkston High gym. Interested players and team sponsors can call Ed Hintz at the high school.

Meeting and practice sessions will be held Monday Dec. 22 and Dec. 29th at 7:00 p.m.

Farmington Matmen Win

Farmington won its four matches then lost the next six, however the Falcons still managed to beat Livonia Bentley in wrestling yesterday, 26-24.

This is the summary:

95 pound—Bob Mazur (F) 8-3 over Glen Felix.
103—Charley Rogers (F) 17-9 over Paul Felice (LB).
112—Don Hendricks (F) pinned Gordon Hisayasu (LB).
120—Tom Peckham (F) pinned Dennis Hisayasu (LB).
127—Pat Warner (LB) beat Lester Rackov 6-0.
133—Dick Paul (LB) pinned Dennis Staley.
138—Dick Hoebler (LB) pinned Dick Lamb (F).
145—Jim Unverzagt (LB) beat Larry Berger 6-3.
154—Stew Papineau (LB) pinned Dick Brogden (F).
165—Dick Albrecht (LB) beat Frank DePodesta 8-5.
175—Dan Ressler (F) pinned Chuck Thompson.
Heavy—George Fawcett (F) pinned Dick Marien.

Cage Whirl Starts Tonight With Four Dixie Events

Holiday Tournaments Begin

By the Associated Press

The merry whirl of holiday basketball tournaments starts spinning in full swing tonight. Four college festivals in the south launch this frantic period that will stretch past New Year's Day.

The state of Kentucky will house a pair of the opening classics. The Kentucky Invitational will take place at Lexington while the Blue Grass Festival begins at Louisville.

The Birmingham Classic gets under way at Birmingham, Ala., while the Citadel Invitational is held at Charleston, S.C. First round games in all four tourneys will be played tonight. The finals will be Saturday night.

Kentucky, the 1957-58 national champion and the second-ranked team in the weekly Associated Press poll, is host in its own sixth annual invitational. The Wildcats (6-0) meet Ohio State (1-2) in the second game after seventh-ranked West Virginia (6-1), the tournament's defending titlist, opposes Oklahoma State (2-2) in the opener.

Tenth-rated North Carolina (3-0) faces Notre Dame (1-3) in the first game of the third annual Blue Grass Festival. Northwestern (3-0) listed sixth nationally, goes against host Louisville (4-2) in the afterpiece.

Pairings for the sixth annual Birmingham classic are 13th-ranked Auburn (3-0) vs. Wyoming (2-3) in the lid-lifter and Alabama (3-2) vs. Texas A&M (4-0) in the nightcap.

The Citadel (3-1) is the host in its first invitational and meets Georgia (3-1) in the second game of the doubleheader. Miami (4-2) clashes with Florida State (3-3) in the opener.

The fifth annual Quantico Marines Christmas Invitational tourney ended last night with host Quantico capturing the championship for the fourth time. The Marines defeated American University 69-63 with the losers, Willie Jones voted the most valuable player by the coaches.

The semifinals of the annual NAIA South-Central Tipoff Tourney will take place at Nashville, Tenn., tonight with Villa Madonna (Ky.) meeting Kentucky State and host Tennessee A&I opposing Panhandle.

In yesterday's opening round games Kentucky State ousted Anderson, Ind. 63-56, Villa Madonna eliminated Peru, Neb. State 73-72, Panhandle sent Fisk, Tenn. to the sidelines 54-53 and top-seeded Tennessee A&I, the winner of last season's NAIA tourney, erased Berea, Ky. 106-54.

Tennessee, No. 5, was the only member of the nation's top 10 teams in action last night. The undefeated Vols overcame a five-point halftime deficit to whip Davidson 67-52 for their fifth straight victory.

50 After Titan Grid Job

DETROIT (AP) — The University of Detroit has received about 50 applications for the head football coaching job.

"About 30 of them are worth very serious consideration," said university vice president John Mulroy of the faculty athletic committee.

"Surprisingly," he said, "some applications still are drifting in and some of them look good. In the last couple of days we got several applications that we consider worth top consideration."

So far nine personal interviews have been held with prospective coaches by officials of the university.

Mulroy said he still hoped to have the coach named around the first of the year, but added, "we've got a long way to go."

The job came open when the ambitious U. of D. fired Wally Fromhart Dec. 2. Fromhart finished his fifth season as the Titans' head coach with a disappointing 4-4-1 record.

Johnny Ray, an assistant coach under Fromhart for four years, is considered one of the leading candidates.

Prep Front

By BILL CORNWELL

Shed a tear for Rochester High School, the latest victim of a rule instituted last year by the Michigan High School Athletic Association for the purpose of creating more Class A schools in the state of Michigan.

Late last week a letter arrived at Rochester from Charles Forsythe, state director of prep athletics, officially notifying the Falcons that they had moved into the Class A ranks.

Suffice it to say, the announcement was not exactly greeted with a lusty round of applause by Rochester basketball coach Gene Konley or other school officials. They can blame it all on the one-third rule.

The new rule said, in effect, that any school whose enrollment is based on grades 10, 11 and 12 must add one-third of that figure to account for its total number of students.

Most Class B high schools in Michigan operate on a three-grade setup and Rochester was one of them. Consequently, Rochester now becomes the newest member of a growing list of small "A" schools.

Rochester's enrollment in the upper three grades is 744. A third of that total is 248, which must be added to 744. Thus, Rochester has an official register of 992 pupils and 900 is the dividing line between classes A and B

The Falcons are currently undefeated on the basketball court in five games and Konley was cautiously optimistic about their chances of making headway in the state tournament next March.

Following their easy victory over Pontiac Northern, Konley said, "I think we have a good chance to reach the quarter-finals."

If anything could smother their hopes quicker than their elevation to Class A status, we don't know what it is. Now the Falcons will enter the "A" district at Southfield, along with Pontiac Central and nine other schools, and their chances of survival are slim indeed.

It was early last March, just before the district tournaments started, that this writer penned a three-part series of articles dealing with the state's classification problems, their inequalities and the definite need for realignment.

The need for a change is still just as great. The situation has not changed one iota and the classification system continues to operate in an unfair manner and schools are thrust into a realm of competition they cannot handle.

Six high schools in the Oakland County area — Walled Lake, Farmington, Lapeer, Van Dyke Lincoln and Roseville — were pushed into the Class A category a year ago by the MHSAA's one-third rule.

Now Rochester has joined the group and Clawson and Troy are not too far removed from becoming additions to this company.

Pontiac Central has an enrollment of 2,100 in its top three grades while Rochester has 744. This huge difference, according to the MHSAA, is a fair method of classification.

If MHSAA officials can convince Rochester of this reasoning, they deserve a gold medal. They'll have a mighty hard time convincing us.

Robertson Top College Scorer

Through games of last Saturday, the 6-5 star of the top-ranked Bearcats had scored 128 points in three games for a 42.7 points average.

The NCAA Service Bureau statistics Thursday also discolsed that Bailey Howell of Mississippi is in the runner-up position with a 38.0 average.

Chief Tankers Face Strong Indian Team

A full squad will represent Pontiac Central High today in the Chiefs' second Saginaw Valley swimming meet of the winter, in Flint Central's pool. Coach Gene Norris will take both varsity and Jayvees, as the meet is a two-way event.

Chiefs will again be spearheaded by their ace breaststroker, Bruce Norvel, who has twice broken the PCH pool and school record in his specialty.

Indians are rated as one of the top Valley title prospects, and this meet should be a very interesting affair. Pontiac will be shooting for its 3rd victory, and its first in the Valley. Chiefs bowed to defending champion Arthur Hill, last Friday.

Hughes to Start for Titan Five Saturday Night

Larry Hughes, 6-4 sophomore from Walled Lake, has taken over a starting position with the U. of D. basketball team for Saturday night's game against Western Ontario.

Hughes, who scored 25 points against Assumption Tuesday and was instrumental in the victory over Canisius last week, ousted veteran Ralph Uchison out of the position.

"He's a scrapper and with a little more experience he should do an outstanding job for us," said Titan coach Bob Calihan.

Hughes was one of Oakland County's outstanding prep cagers while at Walled Lake two seasons ago. He led the Vikings into the state quarter-finals in 1956-57.

AA Swimmers Claim Medley Relay Mark

ANN ARBOR (AP) — An Ann Arbor high school quartet splashed to a national high school swimming record last night in the 200-yard medley relay.

Steve Thrasher, Bob Clark, Jim Griffith and Owen Kleinschmidt chopped better than a second off the old mark with a time of 1:47.4.

The old clocking of 1:48.5 set last year, was held jointly by Battle Creek and Grosse Pointe high schools.

Ann Arbor coach Paul Clifford said he would apply to the NCAA for certification of the new mark.

It's Alma in Overtime

ALMA, Mich. (AP) — Alma College came from behind to tie up the game and then downed Calvin in an overtime period, 75-73.

Alma's Ferris Saxton set the pace for his team, scoring 26 points. Calvin was led by Ralph Honderd, with 20.

Pee Wee Quits Shortstopping to Try Coaching

LOS ANGELES (AP) — After a brilliant 16-year career Pee Wee Reese is retiring as a shortstop to become a coach for the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Vice president Buzzie Bavasi said Reese could have continued as an active baseball player on another club but that he preferred to be a coach with the Dodgers rather than change uniforms.

Reese played 2,166 games with the Dodgers and has a .269 batting average for the 16 years. He hit 126 homers and drove in 885 runs. He holds the club record for stolen bases (232), runs (1,338) and walks (1,210), and is second in total hits (2,170).

Carry Torch for Marshall

MARSHALL, Mo. (AP)—Sixty students of Missouri Valley College began running a 1,300-mile marathon to Orlando, Fla.

Taking turns running half-mile stints, they are relaying a lighted torch to the Tangerine Bowl where on Dec. 27 the Missouri Valley Vikings will play East Texas State's football team.

Preps Adjourn After Tonight's Card

The early part of the 1958-59 area high school hoop season comes to a close until after the holidays tonight with a 28-game schedule featuring some important contests.

It is far too soon to determine how any of the league races are going to wind up but the results of some of these games could give a strong indication of what to expect come January and February.

INTER - LAKES

Waterford plays on its friendly home court for the 1st time as host to Farmington still seeking its first victory — league or otherwise. Farmington has beaten only Clarenceville in three outings. Each is 0-1 in the league.

Walled Lake goes after its 2nd straight league victory and 4th overall at home against Van Dyke expecting a busy time of it. Viking Kirk Evans has been one of the top performers in this sector with 69 points.

The defending champion (Berkley) is host to this year's favorite (Southfield) in the other game. Berkley is unbeaten and Southfield 3-1. Each has won its only loop start.

EASTERN MICHIGAN

Birmingham travels to Hazel Park, East Detroit is at Ferndale and Royal Oak Kimball visits Port Huron on the 1st full league slate. Mt. Clemens' win over Kimball has been the only game.

The Maples have certainly had two rugged warmups posting a one-point triumph and losing by three in overtime. Hazel Park is 0-2. The same is true of Port Huron but the Big Reds have been tripped by such powers as Flint Northern and Hamtramck.

Ferndale is winless in two games while East Detroit whipped Roseville in its only appearance.

WAYNE - OAKLAND

The Holly at Brighton tussle is figured another tossup. Big George McDaniels could make the difference.

Bloomfield Hills is at West Bloomfield in another dandy. Milford is favored to end its losing string at home against Clarenceville but not with ease. Every team in the league has lost at least once.

OAKLAND B

SOUTH CENTRAL

All roads in the northern county area will lead to the small Oxford gym where the Wildcats attempt to chew up Ortonville. Each team has been losing but playing good ball.

Imlay City, perennial SCC champion, plays at Millington in the other contest seeking its 2nd win.

SOUTHERN THUMB

Almont has already taken two big steps towards another title and will be at home to meet Capac, 1-1. Armada was the top pre-season choice to give Almont trouble but AHS takes an 0-2 record to Brown City.

Memphis is at New Haven and Capac at Anchor Bay in others.

INDEPENDENTS

Lapeer will be heavily favored to even its record at 2-2 playing at Davison led by Jerry Bennington. South Lyon visits Hartland, Royal Oak Dondero is host to Wyandotte. Farmington Our Lady plays at St. Agatha and Mt. Clemens visits Roseville.

Delaware, Princeton Coaches Ex-Wolverines

Alumni Cagers Face 'M' 5

A pair of ex-Wolverines get the opportunity to haunt their Alma Michigan basketball team takes Mater when the University of the court for its next two games.

Tomorrow night, Delaware invades Yost fieldhouse to meet the Wolverines who boast a 3-1 mark to date.

Coach of the Delaware team is Irv Wisniewski who lettered four times in basketball and played on three football championship teams. To date Delaware carries a 2-2 mark. Monday night Delaware plays at U. of D.

The Wolverines then adjourn for the holidays and get back into action in the Motor City Classic, Dec. 29-30.

First opponent on opening night will be Princeton also coached by a Michigan alumnus, Cappy Cappon.

Cappon, a native of Holland, graduated from U. of M. in 1924 as an all-conference gridder and regular on the basketball team.

From 1930 through 1938 Cappon coached the Wolverine cagers and in eight seasons his teams posted a 92-60 record.

For the past 10 seasons, Cappon has guided Princeton to three Ivy League titles including a 20-6 mark last year for a co-championship.

Princeton is expecting another outstanding season this year and Cappon let it be known he brings his Tigers to the Motor City Classic intent on whipping his Alma Mater.

Michigan, however, has been named the favorite for the 7th annual tournament which also includes Army and University of Detroit.

The Cadets and U. of D. will meetin in the opening game, Dec. 29th at 7:30 and Michigan and Princeton tipoff at 9:30.

The Wolverines have good balanced height up front led by forwards, M. C. Burton (6-5) and ex-Highland Park ace George Lee (6-4). At center coach Bill Perigo has gone with Gordon Rogers (6-6) of Utica.

Outstanding player thus far has been guard John Tidwell a 6-3 sophomore who leads the team in scoring with a 19.5 average. Tidwell is a native of Herron, Ill.

Tickets for the Motor City Classic have gone on sale at the U. of D. fieldhouse, and can be ordered by phone.

Mt. Christie in Operation

Newest Winter Sports Area Opens Tomorrow

Mt. Christie, newest and most spectacular of the winter sports areas in the Pontiac area will open officially Saturday morning.

The new location is located off M24, five and one-half miles north of Oxford, on the Davison Lake road.

Primarily devoted to skiing, the new area will have the additional facility of three 700-foot concrte toboggan chutes with rope tow returns, and will permit only the use of Mt. Christie toboggans.

Ski-wise, Mt. Christie towers 174 feet, will have a run of 1200 feet. The run will be serviced by an 1100 foot Poma lift and four double rope tows. The Poma lift can handle 950 skiers per hour.

A full professional staff has been named by the nine Detroiters who comprise the principal ownership.

Heading the five man staff is 27-year-old Michel Turcotte from Jasper-in-Quebec. Turcotte will be available at all times. Assisting him in night and weekend instruction will be Jack Germaine, well known Michigan professional whose background includes teaching at the Otsego Ski Club, Au Sable, and Thunder Mountain; Gene Hill, formerly of Boyne Mountain and Alta, Utah; George White, who has assisted Germaine in the past and Bob Earhart, associated previously with Hill.

Bob Jackson has been named resident manager of the new location. The Detroit principals include industrialist Edward Wilson Jr., President; Carter Sales Jr., Vice President; N. H. Hollerbach, Secretary-Treasurer; and a Board of Directors including the officers as well as William Noah; Murray Cales III, James Kurtz, Al Simon, Dr. Al Block, and Tom Davis.

The chips were down today for two of the three unbeaten teams at the top of the Suburban Catholic League. One is certain to fall out of the select category, in which Orchard Lake St. Mary is already ensconced.

Pontiac's St. Frederick club, winner over Royal Oak St. Mary and St. Michael, in loop play, goes against Highland Park St. Benedict in the circuit's top contest of the week, tonight. Game is set for the Ravens' gymnasium on John R, four blocks south (right) of Six-Mile road (on west side of John R).

The match is rated a tossup. Ravens have won over St. Clement and Ferndale St. James in SCL competition. They defeated Lourdes in a non-league battle by a two-point margin. The Rams defeated Detroit St. Elizabeth in their only non-loop encounter.

St. Benedict, coached by hard-bitten Art Massucci, whose teams are always tough opponents for any club, defeated Gene Wright's Rams in last winter's meeting, 46-21.

Ravens have most of the top-scoring boys from that contest back this year, headed by "young" Art Massucci, currently the club' leading scorer. Art has hit for some 38 points, including a 21-point production against St. Clement, last week.

The Pontiac club has all but one of last year's starters in "harness" again, including ace point-maker Tom Derocher, who had a cold night in last year's St. Benedict game, with only one basket. Tom hit for 22 points in last week's game against RO St. Mary.

Rams starters are unchanged from last week's contest, and the same condition applies for St. Benedict.

In other Suburban Catholic League contests tonight Pontiac St. Michael is at St. Rita (0-2) and St. James of Ferndale tackles RO St. Mary in Royal Oak.

Shamrocks' coach Jim Niebauer is seeking his first league victory, and his quintet is rated a favorite to achieve that result. He had planned to start the same combination that made a good battle against OL St. Mary last Friday night, Eaglets won 44-30, for their 2nd SCL win.

The Orchard Lake club has already won three loop tests, and will share the lead with the winner of tonight's Ram-Raven battle. Eaglets will be idle now until the second week in January (Jan. 9). All other SCL clubs resume Jan. 6.

Orion Comeback Dumps Clawson

Down by 18, Dragons Rally for 58-51 Win in Oakland B Game

Never-say-die Lake Orion recovered from an 18-point deficit to defeat Clawson, 58-51, in an Oakland B League basketball game Thursday night at Clawson.

It was Orion's 3rd victory in four starts this season and gave the Dragons a 1-1 record in the Oakland B.

The Dragons were unable to make a field goal for nearly six minutes and trailed early in the contest, 13-1. They scored only three points in the 1st quarter and faced a 25-7 deficit midway through the 2nd period.

With center Bob Shuler and sophomore Tom Reed showing the way, the Dragons finally caught up with Clawson at 47-47 in the 1st minute of the final quarter. From there they pulled steadily away to grab the decision.

Shuler paced the Orion attack with 16 points and Reed, who came off the bench halfway through the 3rd stanza, was next with 13. Jim Recknagel netted 12 points, eight from the foul line. Bill O'Dell and Ron Hewlett tallied 15 apiece for Clawson.

De Gaulle's Return to Power Fulfilled Historic Inevitability

(This is the second of two dispatches by a veteran reporter of French affairs providing a closeup of Gen. Charles de Gaulle as he prepares for his election on Sunday as president of France with unprecedented powers.)

By ARTHUR HIGBEE

PARIS (UPI)—Last May 29 the highest personage of the French Republic, President Rene Coty, stood before a palpitating chamber-full of deputies and invoked the name of Gen. Charles de Gaulle. There was a historic inevitability about it.

The mobs were loose in the streets of Algiers, restive in the streets of Algiers, restive in the had been canceled; the Champs-Elysees was an armed camp. Rumors of paratroopers dropping from the skies flew thickly.

For the National Assembly and for France, the choice was between, on the one hand, revolution, anarchy of dictatorship—possibly all three—or the one man whose integrity nobody questioned, however much they might question his politics: De Gaulle.

The Assembly gratefully chose De Gaulle and the nation ratified this choice months later, in De Gaulle's constitutional referendum of Sept. 28, 1957, by an 80 per cent vote for him.

Yet 18 years earlier when De Gaulle broadcast his appeal to a prostrate France on June 18, 1940, few Frenchmen had ever heard of him.

"This war is not over with the battle of France," De Gaulle said then. "This war is a world war. ("An anonymous but wide-awake publicist later changed this to France has lost a battle; she has not lost the war.")

De Gaulle went on, "Every Frenchman who still bears arms has the absolute duty of continuing resistance. Soldiers of France, wherever you are, arise!"

Frenchmen did arise, first by the dozens, later by the hundreds of thousands. It was slow going at first.

NO OFFICIAL BLESSING

De Gaulle not only had no official blessing from Paris; within the month the Petain government had stripped him of his French citizenship and condemned him in absentia to death.

But the same month British Prime Minister Winston Churchill recognized De Gaulle's free France.

De Gaulle had his troubles. Having tried and failed to win over French administrators and military commanders around the French empire to his cause, he insisted on forming a full-fledged free French government.

On Nov. 30, 1945, the constituent Assembly confirmed De Gaulle as premier by a unanimous 555-0 vote. But the honeymoon was nearly over.

The Socialists opposed him over the size of the defense budget. Other parties were chafing at De Gaulle's impatience with parliamentary procedure.

De Gaulle was more than impatient. He admitted later that he had considered—and rejected—a coup d'etat. In December he told the shocked deputies, "This will undoubtedly be the last time I will speak in this chamber.

"Therefore I want to tell you now; if you do not respect the necessary conditions for responsible and dignified government, you are heading for a time when you will bitterly regret the path you have chosen."

RETURN CHARACTERISTICS

His return to power was characteristically dramatic.

The morning after May 13, 1958, Frenchmen awoke to find that settlers and soldiers in Algiers had carried out a bloodless mutiny to demonstrate their fears of a French giveaway of Algeria.

They were denying the authority of Paris and demanding the return of De Gaulle.

The mutiny jumped to Corsica and threatened to spread to France itself.

On May 19 De Gaulle came to Paris and at a press conference surrounded by the greatest security precautions that security-conscious Paris had ever seen, announced, "If the people want it, as in the preceding national crisis, I am ready to take the leadership . . ."

On June 1, 1958, De Gaulle returned to the chamber he had so abruptly walked out of 12 years before. Without preliminaries he began, "The degradation of the state is rapidly becoming worse."

Perhaps his most historic achievement was the declaration to France's immense overseas territories that they could become independent simply by voting against his constitution—or at any time they chose thereafter.

This gesture liquidated once and for all the possibility that France would fight any more wars of the type, and on the scale, of Indochina and Algeria.

In the campaign for the Nov. 23-30 parliamentary elections, the chief issue among the candidates was who favored De Gaulle most.

The Communists suffered their worst postwar defeat.

Newsboy, Princess, Professor Will Benefit

AT&T 3-for-1 Stock Split Is Firm's First

NEW YORK (AP)—A newsboy from Port Chester, N.Y., an Oklahoma Indian princess and a University of California professor have one thing in common today — a sizable paper profit on their stock in American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

Directors of the world's biggest public utility recommended a 3-for-1 stock split and a 10 per cent hike in the dividend Wednesday. It's the first stock split in company history and the first dividend change in 37 years.

Company directors said the split would strengthen the position of the company in obtaining large amounts of equity capital needed for expansion. They expect the split will widen the market for the stock.

The proposal sent AT&T stock skyrocketing on the New York Stock Exchange. An avalanche of buying orders forced suspension of trading. When trading resumed 1½ hours later, the stock was up $23 at $225, breaking a 27-year high. It closed at $223, up $21 on the day, on a volume of 110,200 shares.

What does this mean to the newsboy, the Indian princess or the college professor? They probably won't take down their paper profits by selling. They've held their AT&T stock five years or more.

They are part of AT&T's 1,625,800 shareowners. This is the biggest corporate family in the total of owners in the three next biggest concerns: General Motors Corp., Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey) and General Electric Co.

These three are among the 812,900 little investors who have held 15 shares or less of AT&T stock for five years or more.

If one of the trio, for instance, had purchased 10 shares at the 1954 low of $156 a share, it would have cost him $1,560, plus broker fees. In five years, he would have collected $450 in dividends.

He also could have participated in one rights offering to buy new stock and several rights offerings to buy convertible debentures at favorable prices. Or, if he didn't have the extra funds, he could have sold those rights for a total of more than $60 in cash.

On 10 shares he could have collected $2,230, less broker fees, at Wednesday night's New York closing price. That's a capital gain in five years of $670.

He probably wouldn't sell though. Because if he and the other stockholders approve the proposed stock-split at the next annual meeting on April 15, his 10 shares will become 30. And his dividends would increase from $90 a year on 10 shares to $99 a year on 30 shares.

In recent years, AT&T stock generally has been around a 4½ to 5 per cent yield basis. Dividends on the new stock will be $3.30 a share. That could put the price in the range of $65 to $70 a share.

In each of the past three years AT&T and its Bell System have spent more than two billion dollars for new construction.

Since the end of World War II, more than 17 billion dollars have been laid out for expansion. The major part of this has been raised through sale of securities.

The board declared expenditures of this magnitude are expected to continue. If these large construction programs are to be continued, directors said, a broader market for the stock is essential.

In its statement, the board said additional shares resulting from the split would probably be distributed about June 1. The first quarterly dividend on the split shares will be made in July at the annual rate of $3.30 a share. That would be $9.90 a share on the old stock.

Detective Bares Gunaca's Boast

Said He Would Never Have to Stand Trial for Beatings

SHEBOYGAN, Wis. (AP) — A detective testified yesterday that former UAW union organizer John Gunaca of Detroit admitted beating two non-striking Kohler Co. workers but said he would never have to stand trial.

"Sarge, this will never do you any good. Mazey will never leave Soapy send me back to Wisconsin," Det. Sgt. Conrad Konetshny of the Michigan State Police quoted Gunaca as saying. The officer said Gunaca was referring to Emil Mazey, secretary-treasurer of the UAW, and Michigan Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

Konetshny was a surprise witness at Gunaca's preliminary hearing on two charges of felonious assault. The hearing was scheduled to continue today.

Gunaca, a former member of a Detroit UAW local, is charged with beating William Bersch Jr., and his late father, William Sr., on the night of July 4, 1954. Local 833 of the UAW struck the Kohler plumbing ware firm on April 5, 1954. The company resumed production with new workers and non-strikers about eight weeks after the strike began. The company remains in production and the strike continues.

Konetshny said Gunaca made the statement Sept. 9 when taken into custody by the officer in a Detroit tavern on a Wisconsin fugitive warrant.

4 Booth Newspapers Settle Labor Dispute

DETROIT (UPI) — Publication was expected to resume today at four of nine Booth newspapers closed down since Nov. 24 by a strike of International Typographical Union printers and apprentices.

Printers and apprentices at the Ann Arbor News, Bay City Times, Kalamazoo Gazette and Muskegon Chronicle voted late yesterday to accept a contract offer made last Friday by Booth Newspapers, Inc.

ITU members at three other Booth papers, the Flint Journal, Saginaw News and Jackson Citizen-Patriot, have been ordered by the international union to vote on the offer by midnight Sunday.

The vote at the Saginaw News is scheduled for today.

No vote has been ordered on the contract proposal at the two Booth papers in Grand Rapids, the Press and the Herald. Local issues are still being negotiated in Grand Rapids.

5½ Million Cars Goal for Quarter

January-March Output Would Be Higher Than Last Year's Figure

DETROIT (AP) — Auto industry planning for next year's first quarter indicates the car makers expect a 5½ million unit production in 1959, Ward's Automotive Reports says in its current issue.

The industry is scheduling 1,644,000 car assemblies for the January-March quarter, the agency says. That total would compare with 1,238,710 car assemblies in the first 1958 quarter.

Ward's notes that in recent years January-March output has amounted to approximately 30 per cent of the year's total production.

It says all producers will participate in the upswing. The production projections include an increase by American Motors to 94,000 assemblies from 41,183 in the first 1958 quarter and to 38,000 by Studebaker-Packard from 9,520 units.

The projection is subject to change, Ward's says, but it adds: "The 1,644,000 figure is not just a statistical throw of the dice. It is a total comprised of individual company expectations based on facts calculated from nationwide market investigation."

To Vote on Bond Issue, Tax Hike in Waterford

Waterford Township registered voters will be asked to approve a proposed $5 million bond issue for an extensive school building program, plus a five-mill tax increase for school operations.

The Board of Education last night approved Supt. William Shunck's recommendations to call a special election late in February or early March.

If the bond issue and the millage hike are approved, Shunck said, there would be no increase in taxes provided assessed property valuation is not changed.

Rates for retiring earlier bond issues have been held at such a level that the $5 million and five mills for operation could be paid off more rapidly than was originally scheduled.

In a detailed report on the proposed building program, Shunck recommended construction of a fully equipped senior high school, five elementary schools, five additions to present schools, maintenance and board of education buildings; the remodeling of one school and the purchase of a future school site.

Although this was a suggested program, Shunck stressed the importance of maintaining flexibility in drafting the plan so that the Board can spread the building funds to obtain maximum construction.

He added that because of the increases of the school district attendance and assessed valuation, the borrowing of building funds now would not produce as large an obligation percentagewise as did the $1,400,000 bond issue approved by voters in 1950, which has been paid.

The superintendent's report stated that not all of the construction program would be put into immediate operation even though funds were available.

A definite date will be set at the next regular Board meeting, Jan. 21.

Mart Advances in Active Trade

NEW YORK (AP) — General Dynamic, builder of the giant Atlas satellite, and other missile-related stocks rose today. The Stock Market advanced irregularly in active early trading.

Gains of fractions to a point were the general rule among key stocks but there were plenty of losses in the same range.

General Dynamics rose 2⅛ to 66⅜ on an opening block of 7,000 shares and then clipped a sizable fraction from the gain. This stock rose 2¾ yesterday in advance of the big news and brokers were at a loss for the reason.

Burroughs rose more than a point and General Electric a fraction. Both firms worked on the Atlas.

Moderate gains were made by Ford, Chrysler, Goodrich, Sperry Rand, Kennecott, Royal Dutch and Loillard.

American Telephone was off about a point. Losses were also taken by Lowe's, Air Reduction, Liggett & Myers and Merck, the latter off about a point.

Paper Strike Continues

NEW YORK (UPI) — No break was in sight today in the 10-day-old deliverers' strike which has stilled the presses of New York City's nine major newspapers since Dec. 10.

FOR CEREBRAL PALSY — Howard Palmer, (left) president of the United Cerebral Palsy Association of Pontiac, presents Vernon Schiller, Pontiac Board of Education treasurer, with a check for $2,036.48 from the United Cerebral Palsy Association of Michigan, a United Fund agency. The money paid for the six-week summer recreation program held in Pontiac this year for 20 handicapped children, which the board of education financed. The presentation was made yesterday.

Holiday Traffic Deaths Estimated

620 Americans May Die

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Safety Council today estimated that 620 Americans will be killed in traffic accidents during the four-day Christmas holiday period.

The period will begin at 6 p.m. (local time) Wednesday, Dec. 24, and will end at midnight Sunday, Dec. 27.

"Those deaths need not occur and should not occur," the council said.

And it provided this prescription for driving and staying alive:

Start early, cut speed to meet traffic and weather conditions, pull off the road if you feel tired or sleepy.

If you've been drinking, the council added, don't drive.

'Treated Washington Properly'

Defends George's Docs

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Did George Washington die because his physicians were incompetent, as history sometimes states?

But a modern physician says no.

Dr. Darrell A. Campbell, surgical director of Wayne County General Hospital, comes to early American doctors' defense in an article in the University of Michigan Alumnus Quarterly Review.

Campbell writes that Washington's final illness was diagnosed properly as cynanche trachealis. Today the disease is called strep throat.

"Washington's illness was so short and unexpected as to bring much criticism upon those who attended him," Campbell says. "It was perhaps the same diagnosis that would be made today.

"In the light of knowledge available in those days, the treatment was adequately and honestly carried out. There is little doubt that the repeated blood letting was a conributory factor (in death).

"But at that time and for 50 years thereafter, the medical profession as a whole — and not just the three attending physicians — lay under the error of adherence to this concept of treatment."

Campbell says Washington himself asked for blood letting.

Navy Sweeping 9,000 Civilians From Payroll

WASHINGTON (AP)—Costs and weapons advances have triggered a sweeping Navy cutback in shore establishments and spelled the end to a major missile program.

To keep pace with cutdowns in its operating forces, the Navy said Thursday night, 30 ground bases in 17 states will be closed, reduced or merged.

The announcement spoke of rising prices and higher labor costs. About 9,000 civilian jobs will be abolished over the next several years.

Canceled after an outlay of 78 million dollars was the Regulus II guided missile program. The air-breathing missile can soar more than 1,000 miles at twice the speed of sound. It flew in about 40 successful tests.

The Navy figured that by jettisoning Regulus II now it could save more than 100 million dollars for other projects. It said ballistic missiles — shot more like bullets — have better potential than the air-breathers guided like pilotless planes.

The Navy is now developing the Polaris 1,500-mile range ballistic missile. Like the Regulus, the Polaris could be fired with a nuclear warhead from submarines.

F. O. Detweiler, president of Chance Vought Aircraft Inc. which held the Regulus development contract, said the cancellation will leave "a void that cannot be filled by any other weapon in existence or planned." He blamed the Navy action solely on budget limits.

The biggest Navy center slated for shutdown is the overhaul and repair activity at the naval air station in Corpus Christi, Tex. This is to be closed by next July, putting 3,015 civilians out of jobs.

Music Reduces Errors

CHICAGO — Music in the background makes workers produce more and reduces their errors, according to one test. It showed that listening to music while working increased mail inserters' performance 8 per cent; check typers' errors dropped 38 per cent; keypunch operators' production jumped 18 per cent and their mistakes dropped 37 per cent.

Atomic-Capable Missiles Nesting on Belle Isle

DETROIT (AP) — The Army disclosed today that a nest of 16 Nike-Hercules guided missiles, capable of carrying atomic warheads, has been set up at Belle Isle on the East Side of Detroit.

Col. John R. Romlein, commander of the Detroit Nike District, said security regulations prohibited any disclosure of whether the missiles actually are armed with nuclear warheads.

He said the Army is converting other Nike sites at Commerce Lake, Harrison Township and Monroe to accommodate the new missiles.

The Nike-Hercules, which has a range of 85 miles, replaces the Nike Ajax, which was a smaller, shorter-range missile incapable of carrying an atomic warhead.

Parks occupy 27,114 acres of New York City, or about 10 per cent.

News in Brief

A break-in at Deni's Food Market, 1450 Square Lake Rd., was reported to Pontiac police yesterday. Nothing was reported missing.

Thieves broke into the Robert Hall Clothiers shop, 200 N. Saginaw St., last night, Pontiac police report.

Twelve tires were stolen from a gas station at 605 S. Saginaw St., it was reported to police today.

A meeting of the Democrats will be held at the Groveland Township Hall on Saturday, Dec. 20 at 8 p.m. All interested are invited.

Death Penalty Ruled for Starkweather

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—The Nebraska Supreme Court today upheld a District Court decision and ordered mass-killer Charles R. Starkweather to die in the electric chair March 27, 1959.

The high court issued its order after review of Starkweather's sentence, an automatic procedure for all death sentences handed down in Nebraska. He originally had been scheduled to die last Wednesday.

Starkweather was convicted of first-degree murder, and murder while in perpetration of robbery, of Robert Jensen, 17, Bennet, Neb., high school student. Jensen fell victim to Starkweather during a killing spree last January in which 10 persons were slain.

Starkweather's sweetheart, Caril Ann Fugate, 15, has been sentenced to life imprisonment for aiding and abetting Starkweather in the murder of Jensen. Caril was his companion on the murder spree.

Stockholders Like Splitting

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock splitting flourishes in a bull market and during periods of increasing business activity when a company needs to raise new money for growth.

It pleases shareholders almost as much as raising the dividend—although in cold reality only the latter does them any mathematical good.

A stock split like the one proposed by directors of American Telephone & Telegraph actually leaves the present stock owner with the same share of equity in the company's assets. Thus, when AT&T stockholders get three new shares for the one they hold today it will mean that each of the new shares is worth in company assets only one third what the present one is.

But shareholders like splits anyway because usually the price of the company's stock rises on the market. Even when the split isn't accompanied by a money-in-the-pocket dividend hike, as the phone company's was, the hope is strong that the split means the directors think higher dividend rates possible.

In bear markets stock splitting dries up because splitting a stock when its price is dropping has little appeal. But with prices setting new highs stocksplitting has come thick and fast of late.

So far in 1958 there have been 26 splits or proposals of splits of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, the majority in recent weeks. The same number was set in all of 1957. The year before, a bull market year, there were 56, and 47 in 1955. But in depressed 1954 there were only 13. The biggest postwar year was 1946 with 74.

Reasons for stock splitting are many — some not given by the directors.

Atlas Success Raises Space Sights for U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, triumphant at hurling a four-ton satellite into orbit, raised its space sights another notch today.

The men who built the earth-circling device, which dwarfs the Soviet Union's 1½-ton Sputnik III, talked about putting a man aboard another one and sending it to Venus or Mars.

President Eisenhower called it "a distinct step forward . . . (which) opens new opportunities to the United States and all mankind." The Pentagon echoed his words, accenting the peaceful aspects of launching a satellite the size of a Pullman car.

But early comment from members of Congress indicated a preference to dwell on what it means in military terms.

And even in Moscow, celebrating the 3,000th orbiting of Sputnik III, man-in-the-street reaction was favorable. American reporters, bereft of any official comment, approached a cab driver who said: "Good. It gives us competition."

Eisenhower broke the news dramatically at a White House state dinner for diplomats. White House press secretary James C. Hagerty and Pentagon officials spread the word to reporters and the world.

The Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile was launched at 6:02 p.m. Thursday from Cape Canaveral, Fla. The whole thing, 85 feet long and 10 feet wide, went into orbit.

It is the biggest known man-made object swinging around the globe. Its weight, between 8,700 and 8,800 pounds, nearly doubles the 2,919 pounds of Soviet Sputnik III, fired last May 15.

Sputnik III's rocket, variously estimated to weigh between two and five tons, trailed it until being burned up by air friction Dec. 2.

The Atlas' orbit girdles the earth every 100 minutes at altitudes varying between 118 to 625 miles.

Most Americans can see it, glowing like a star, especially at dusk and in the South. Its estimated life aloft is 20 days.

Radio signals for tracking purposes are coming from the giant artificial moon on two frequencies 107.97 megacycles and 107.94 megacycles.

Moonwatchers at El Paso, Tex., were first to report spotting it visually. They reported at 9:30 p.m. that it glowed at 1½ magnitude, just a bit brighter than the stars in the Milky Way.

The Air Force dubbed its satellite Operation Score, after the first letters of the words signal, communications, orbit, relay experiment. These summed up its purposes except for the basic one.

This was to see if the Atlas would fly as faithfully as it did two weeks ago, when it traveled a prescribed 6,325-mile course over the Atlantic.

Of Thursday night's test, the Pentagon said: "Most successful."

But it did much more, as the Pentagon pointed out in a statement: "The entire vehicle achieved an orbit. As such, it is the largest satellite that has been put into orbit by the United States. More importantly, this marks the first time that a high accuracy missile guidance system has been used to steer such a vehicle into its orbital trajectory."

Thus, in a matter of minutes, the United States proved once more that it has a dependable ICBM and also took the wind out of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's taunts about "lemon-size" U.S. satellites.

There was a novel twist to the launching which sent the Atlas soaring at 17,000 miles an hour. In its nose cone was a unique communications system—and there was speculation that its tape recordings included the voice of Eisenhower.

Newsmen expressed this speculation to Pentagon officials, who would neither confirm nor deny it.

The communications system is part of the 150-pound payload in the rocket's nose cone. It records messages sent to it and, on a command signal later, sends the messages back to earth.

The Atlas weighed 100 tons on the ground. The combined thrust of its three rocket engines at sea level was 359,000 pounds. Once fired, its two booster engines dropped off and what was left, the instrumented carcass and burned-out third engine, went into orbit. Powered flight lasted 4½ minutes.

AP Wirephoto

ATLAS BLASTS OFF — The mighty 100-ton Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile, churning out 360,000 pounds of thrust, aims for the skies after takeoff at Cape Canaveral, Fla. last night. President Eisenhower announced later that the missile was in orbit.

Goldfine Found Guilty by Court

Boston Industrialist Is Convicted of Criminal Contempt Today

BOSTON, Mass. (AP)—Industrialist Bernard Goldfine was convicted of criminal contempt today for failure to comply with a federal court order to produce books of the Lebanon Mills, Lebanon, N.H., in connection with a probe of his tax affairs.

U.S. Dist. Judge Charles E. Wyzanski Jr. handed down his decision in a surprise announcement. He had indicated Thursday he would return his verdict on Monday.

The 67-year-old Goldfine was acquitted on two counts regarding books of Lebandale Mills of Lebanon, N.H., and George Moffett & Sons Co., of Plymouth, Mass.

Goldfine's secretary, Miss Mildred Paperman, was convicted of criminal contempt in connection with records of the Strathmore Mills of Boston, and the Northfield Mills of Northfield, Vt.

MOUNT VERNON, N.Y. (AP) —Solomon J. Goldfine of Scarsdale, son of Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine, was fined $50 Thursday on a speeding charge.

City Judge P. Raymond Sirignano also suspended his driving license for having been involved in three traffic violations within 18 months.

Parkway police accused Goldfine of driving at 50 miles an hour in a 35-mile-limit section of the Cross County Parkway on Oct. 27.

Obedience Class Graduates Told for Fall Term

Top dogs for the fall graduating classes at Daniel Whitfield and Bloomfield High Schools were named this week. These classes are conducted by Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club at a number of area schools. Plans are underway now for the spring classes.

Arson Found Cause of High School Fire

DETROIT (AP) — Fire department investigators say definite evidence of arson has been uncovered in a $50,000 fire that swept through a portion of Eastern High School Wednesday night.

The high school's third floor auditorium and two study halls were damaged in the fire.

Firemen found evidence of arson at the scene. Police found additional arson evidence yesterday. Detective John Adams said a burned book of matches was found near two teachers' desks in which separate fires had been deliberately set.

Meanwhile fire inspectors ordered a lunchroom at Northeastern High School closed until fire escapes are provided. Northeastern is the fourth public school in which rooms have been ordered closed as a safety precaution.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Atlas Boosts Human Flight

Man Leaps Nearer Space

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Atlas' triumph brings human space flight and astounding space laboratories a big step closer.

Sprung from well-kept secrecy, it could spur the Russians to push harder and faster in their always secret space plans.

Just 14½ months ago, man was still earthbound. Then Sputnik I startled, and shocked, the Western world.

Now the United States has scored a prodigious comeback. It possesses the heaviest as well as the most satellites. It has sent two probes nearly a third of the way to the moon.

Temporarily, America leads.

But the Soviet Union could play the next trump soon. Indeed, some space experts are puzzled why she hasn't done something spectacular since the 1½-ton Sputnik soared up last May.

The main significance of Atlas is in advancing the ability accurately to thrust big and heavy satellites into space.

Big enough to carry men.

All these are eagerly anticipated by scientists.

The Atlas missile will be a main workhorse toward these goals until far more powerful rockets are developed.

Atlas, with smaller rockets staged atop it, could also launch instrumented probes investigating Venus and Mars, or going into orbit as artificial planets of the sun. Shots for Venus and Mars are among U. S. current plans.

We must learn how to recover the protective, well-stocked capsule that can sustain his life within a satellite. Re-entry and medical problems of survival are being vigorously studied.

Rockets and controls must become reliable enough to give any volunteer a rally good chance of making the round-trip.

Railroad Cuts Fares 28 Pct. in January

CHICAGO (AP)—Reversing the trend in the transportation business, the Rock Island Lines is cutting its first-class round-trip passenger fares 28 per cent Jan. 25. Coach fares are not affected.

The cuts announced Thursday were expected to spark similar reductions on some carriers which parallel Rock Island from Chicago to Western destinations. There was no imediate reaction from Eastern railroads.

R. E. King, Rock Island general passenger traffic manager, said the reduced fare tickets, which have a 30-day time limit for the round trip, were ordered for a period of nine months. That is sufficient time, he said, to determine the public's reaction.

Woman Batters Her Head After Killing 3 Children

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — Police found the woman in a field. She hugged her knees and shivered. Blood streamed down her face.

"I did this with a rock to myself," said Mrs. Donna Mae Rutledge, 27. "I got three kids. They're over there in the ditch. I drowned them."

The dead were Mrs. Rutledge's three children: Mark Elliott Rutledge, 5; Darlene Ann Rutledge, 4; and Tammia Rutledge, 2.

Mrs. Rutledge was arrested, held without formal charge and then placed under guard in a hospital here. Police said her husband Donald was somewhere in California.

SEC Chairman Makes Apology to Ford Motor

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission has apologized for implying in a recent speech that Ford Motor Co. illegally publicized its big public offering of common stock in 1956.

A Commission official said yesterday that SEC Chairman Edward N. Gadsby had sent a telegram to William T. Gossett, Ford vice president and general counsel who had objected to Gadsby's remarks.

The telegram was not made public but the SEC said it amounted to an apology.

Stricken Boy, 3, Has Christmas Early This Year

Charles Howard, who runs a school here for department store Santas from all over the country, put on his best red and white Christmas suit to do the job.

Paul, the youngest of five children of Mr. and Mrs. Hal Reiferson of Albion, has been in and out of hospitals for many months.

Offer Monitor $155,000

Teamster Bribe Claimed

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y. (AP) — Godfrey Schmidt, a court appointed monitor over Teamsters Union affairs, said today that the union offered to pay him the $155,000 it owes him if he would quit his post.

Schmidt, a New York attorney, represented rank-and-file Teamsters a year ago when they brought a suit that temporarily kept James R. Hoffa from taking office as Teamsters president.

Schmidt said from his home here that the sum owed him includes a fee of $105,000 as counsel for the insurgents and $50,000 for a year's services as one of the union's three monitors.

The story appeared Thursday night in the Minneapolis Tribune and the Des Moines Register and was copyrighted by them.

The Tribune and Register story said:

"The members of the Hoffa group have tried to put a gloss on this offer by calling it a settlement," Schmidt said, "but it is a flat bribe to get me out of the case and I have rejected it.

"They haven't paid me because they are trying to starve me out."

Schmidt and Martin Donoghue, monitor chairman, have formed a majority on the monitors' board in adopting a policy of toughness against Hoffa. They have demanded that racketeers who dominate locals in some areas be eliminated.

The third monitor is L. N. D. Wells, attorney for the Hoffa-dominated Southern Conference of Teamsters.

Schmidt said the latest of several offers for him to get out was made since U.S. Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Letts ruled last week that the monitors have full power to make recommendations or issue orders to clean up unsavory elements in the Teamsters.

Comment from Hoffa and the Teamsters was not immediately available.

Largest Ore Carrier to Be Built at Once

MANITOWOC, Wis. (AP) — Work on the largest ore carrier ever designed for the Great Lakes trade will be started immediately at the Anitowoc Shipbuilding Co., on order of Inland Steel.

Inland Vice President P. D. Block said the vessel will be christened the Edward L. Ryerson, after Inland's former board chairman and long-time Chicago civic leader.

The vessel will cost about 8 million dollars and be 730 feet long. Biggest carrier on the lakes now is Inland's Wilfred Sykes, a 678-foot boat which cost 5 million dollars.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MRS. Cornelius (Alice) Jewell who passed away 3 years ago, December 19, 1955.
The family of Mrs. Cornelius Jewell.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF Arthur Thompson who passed away Dec. 19th, 1957.
You bade us not farewell,
Nor said goodbye to none;
Your loving heart had ceased to beat,
Before we knew you were gone.
God saw that you were suffering,
And the bills were hard to climb;
So he closed your weary eyes,
And whispered "Peace Be Thine."

Shipping Lines Ask Subsidies

Applications Piling Up for Great Lakes Route When Seaway Opens

WASHINGTON (AP) — The imminent opening of Great Lakes ports to deep-draft, ocean-going ships has drawn a flock of applications for route subsidies by U.S. shipping companies.

With the St. Lawrence Seaway scheduled to open for traffic next spring, American shipping lines will find it practical to compete with the smaller foreign flag ships which have had the field to themselves so far.

A check at the Federal Maritime Board showed seven applications on file for subsidies to help cover the costs of proposed U.S. routes from the Great Lakes to Europe, to the Caribbean and to Mediterranean ports.

Under the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, the government may agree to pay subsidies to U.S. shippers to permit them to compete with foreign vessels able to operate at a lower cost.

The agreements permit the government to recover subsidy payments when shippers' profits reach a certain level.

The most recent application, filed this week, is from American President Lines of San Francisco, for a Great Lakes-Mediterranean route subsidy.

The company proposed a cargo route to include Chicago, Milwaukee, Detroit, Toronto and Montreal and eight or more ports in Spain, Portugal, Morocco, France, Italy, Greece and Turkey.

Immediate Goal for Bagwell: Keep GOP Unity

WASHINGTON (AP)—Paul D. Bagwell, recent unsuccessful Republican candidate for governor of Michigan, said today his only immediate ambition is "to keep the party unified and working as it is now."

Bagwell came to Washington for a round of what he described as "thank-you calls" on persons who aided his campaign.

Bagwell came within 138,000 votes of matching the 1,200,000 votes piled up Nov. 4 by Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who won a sixth term.

The 45-year-old Bagwell said he had reached no decision on whether to seek the governorship again in 1960.

"Right now," Bagwell said, "I want to concentrate on some hard organizing work. We had some phenomenal results where we were well organized in the election.

"Only where we lacked organization did we fail to show a significant gain."

Bagwell said he planned to see outgoing Sen. Potter (R-Mich), several Michigan Republican congressmen and a number of other friends in Washington.

Man Is Killed in Fall Carrying Yule Decoration

ATLANTA (AP) — An Atlanta carpenter fell down a flight of stairs Thursday night with an armful of Christmas decorations and was killed.

He was H. Smiley Hanson Jr., 39.

Police said Hanson's head struck the stair steps and the floor. He was dead when a doctor arrived.

Hanson's parents said he tripped and fell while bringing Christmas decorations downstairs.

Man, 90, Crossing Street Fatally Injured by Car

JACKSON (AP)—Francis M. Davis, a 90-year-old Jackson man, was injured fatally when struck by a car as he crossed a Jackson street in mid-block last night.

Frederick T. Haws, 42, driver of the car, said the glare of oncoming headlights kept him from seeing Davis until it was too late to stop on the wet pavement. Haws was not held.

Davis had just alighted from a car driven by his son, Ray, also of Jackson.

THE TRAIL TO CHRISTMAS — Roving cowboy, James Stewart, crosses trails with runaway schoolboy, Richard Eyer, and spins a yarn to reaffirm the lad's faith in the spirit of Christmas in a special repeat performance on the General Electric Theater, Sunday, Dec. 21 from 9 to 9:30 p. m. on CBS-TV.

Acts, Directs Repeat Show

Plays Part of Cowboy Who Restores Boy's Faith on GE Theater

NEW YORK — James Stewart is the star and director of the special repeat performance of "The Trail to Christmas," a presentation of The General Electric Theater, Sunday, Dec. 21 from 9 to 9:30 p. m. on CBS-TV.

It is Christmas Eve when a wandering cowhand, Bart (James Stewart), meets a young schoolboy, Johnny (Richard Eyer), intent on running away from home and a misunderstanding aunt.

Around a campfire, Bart learns of the lad's bitterness toward Christmas. To reaffirm the boy's faith in the spirit of the season, the cowboy begins to relate a well-known story of the Yuletide.

The tale is Charles Dickens' immortal classic, "A Christmas Carol." But the cowboy spins the yarn in his own setting — the Old West of the 19th Century.

All the well-known Dickensian characters appear in the story that unfolds, but in Western garb — rich rancher and cattle baron, Ebenezer Scrooge (John McIntire); ol' Jake Marley (Will Wright), the grizzled ex-partner; young, poverty-stricken rancher Bob Cratchit and his family, and even Stetson-hatted Tiny Tim.

The cowboy's narrative brings a new meaning to the Christmas season for the young runaway.

"The Trail to Christmas" marks the debut of actor James Stewart as a director. Also featured in the play-within-a-play are Kevin Hagen, Sally Fraser, Sam Edwards, Dennis Holmes, Mary Lawrence, Russell Simpson, and Hope Summers. The teleplay was written by Frank Burt and Valentine Davies, adapted from an original story by Burt. William Frye is the producer. Ronald Reagan is host.

Home Photographer Guilty of Beating Son

Magistrate William S. Allen sentenced Cook to six months in jail, then released him on two-year parole. Charges against Mrs. Cook, 23, were dropped.

She told police her husband struck the child, Kevin, on the head because he wouldn't sit still while they were taking pictures for Christmas cards.

"I just spanked the boy," Cook told the magistrate.

The family's baby sitter took Kevin to a physician for treatment of bruises on the face and body Wednesday. The physician notified police.

Baby Critically Burned in Tumble From Sofa

DETROIT (AP) — A 5-month-old baby was burned critically when he fell from a living room couch and became wedged against a hot steam radiator pipe yesterday.

The child, Lawrence Morgan, was admitted to a hospital with head and face burns. His mother, Sandra, said she had been cleaning in another room while the baby slept.

Disc Data and Chatter

Music in the Round

by Dick Saunders

FIVE ACES: I was saving next week for the year-end wrapup and trophy-handing-out session, but at this point I'll just have to put the wreath on David Seville's noggin.

He has undoubtedly been the teenagers top choice for '58. Seville again has scored a clean sweep, taking all first place votes with "The Chipmunk Song" for the second straight week. That's a total of three clean sweeps for him this year, the other coming in April with "Witch Dr."

Second, if you rate by demand, should be "The Little Drummer Boy" (Harry Simeone Chorale). Shops have been swamped by calls for it, but haven't been able to get the disc from distributors. Second in actual sales would be "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes" (The Platters).

Third in sales around Pontiac is "To Know Him Is To Love Him" (Teddy Bears). Fourth spot goes to "Whole Lot Of Loving" (Fats Domino). A flip of the coin and we come up with "Lovers Question" (Clyde McPhatter) in fifth.

Rodgers and Hammerstein's new broadway bombshell, "Flower Drum Song," should be on the record stands before long. It was recorded for Columbia Dec. 7 by the original cast starring Miyoshi Umeki with Larry Blyden and Pat Suzuki.

Johnny Desmond, currently starring in the Broadway musical "Say Darling," has just penned an exclusive Columbia recording contract. The Detroit-born vocalist's first disc for Columbia is "Willingly" and "Apple," backed by Glen Osser.

The next teenage sensation may be a 19-year-old Brooklynite, Neil Sedaka. He studies at Juilliard, has a vast classical background, and wrote the recent rocker "Stupid Cupid."

His love for rock 'n' roll is evident in his Victor recording of "The Diary" and "No Vacancy."

'Hasty Heart' Called Superb by Viewer

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — Broadway supplied television with a work of superb entertainment Thursday night when "The Hasty Heart" was presented on CBS-TV.

Don Murray gave a temendous performance as a dour, doomed Scottish sergeant of World War II who tried to reject love and friendship in a Burma hospital.

Barbara Bel Geddes, who appears on television too infrequently, was grand as the nurse who fell in love with the sergeant. Jackie Cooper was outstanding as the Yankee member of the international set of patients in a field hospital.

Fine direction by Tom Donovan and Robert Wallsten's faithful adaptation of the John Patrick drama helped to make this Gordon Duff production the best Du Pont Show of the Month this season.

Sewage Hazards Claimed Increasing

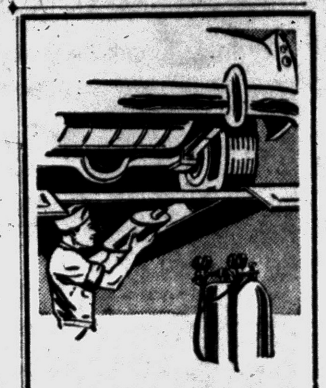

LANSING (AP) — "Many people will soon be drinking their own or their neighbors' sewage unless we act quickly to imrove our sanitation."

That's how State Health Commissioner Dr. Albert E. Heustis sums up the situation facing Michigan communities where sewage treatment facilities are inadequate or lacking. He says the southern half of the Lower Peninsula is a particularly hazardous area.

Heustis made the appraisal yesterday in a roundup of 1958 public health developments.

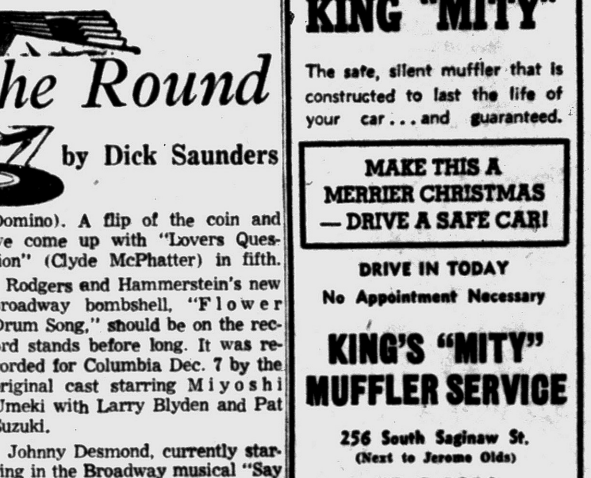

He said Michigan's record of not having a case of typhoid fever in 18 years traceable to a public water supply may be snapped if sewage treatment is not improved.

Death, Despair, Degradation Replace Love

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—Love, in the movies and television, has given way to the three d's—death, despair and degradation.

You rarely find love on Broadway either. Except occasionally between an actor and himself.

The sweet old days of Garbo and Gilbert, MacDonald and Eddy, Gable and Colbert, have passed away for one basic reason: Hollywood and Broadway think Mr. and Mrs. Doe are too sophisticated for outright sentiment.

Who needs love? Love was good enough for the depression era. Now we've got money, so we can afford to enjoy meanness, insanity and high-budget crime.

The picture makes Leo McCarey a bit sad.

McCarey is the gentle director whose reputation was built on the light romance, the human touch. He won Oscars for "The Awful Truth" and "Going My Way," and award nominations for "Love Affair," "The Bells of St. Mary's" and "My Son, John."

"I don't try to go along with the trend, myself," he said quietly, "because I can't pour out my heart on a story of degenerates. I'm behind the times, I guess.

"I think Tennessee Williams started this whole thing with 'A Streetcar Named Desire.' And all the writers started to copy him. The critics seem to love the sordid things. And, from that, it's assumed that the audiences do too." He shrugged.

"So a writer who expresses too much sentiment is behind the times. If Alfred Tennyson were alive today, they'd blast him. Blast him? They'd throw a net over him."

McCarey's insight into the sweet, human nature of his movie characters made him a fortune up until 1952. Since then (since, you might say, the celluloid curtain was dropped on pure tenderness) he has made only two films, "An Affair to Remember," in '57 and the upcoming "Rally Round the Flag, Boys."

He is in New York for the premier of the latter. And he is not, personally, unhappy about this city's newspapers being on strike.

"It will be good," he said, "to have the fun of seeing my own movie without having to read the reviews."

McCarey is an out and out sentimentalist.

His tear ducts went into action, for example, when he recalled the night he won his first Oscar. It was for best direction of the film, "The Awful Truth."

"I'll never forget it. As I returned to the table, my wife whispered, 'Oh, darling, it's wonderful—but you won it for the wrong picture.' I said, 'Yes, I know.' "

In that same year, he explained, he had directed a movie called "Make Way for Tomorrow," starring Victor Moore and Beulah Bondi as an elderly couple about to be separated. "It was so full of love, it tore your heart out."

But even then, in 1937, pure love couldn't win an academy award.

"There are things that transcend love, I guess," said McCarey wistfully . . . "in every medium besides reality."

Two Against Curb of Rules Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two influential committee chairmen voiced opposition today to curbing the power of the House Rules Committee.

Chairmen Clarence Cannon (D-Mo) of the Appropriations Committee and Francis E. Walter (D-Pa) of the Committee on Un-American Activities both argued the change might clear the way for passage of undesirable legislation.

In separate interviews, Cannon and Walter said the 21-day rule, which a group of liberals seeks to restore in the new House, proved unworkable when tried out 10 years ago. It was discarded two years later.

The 21-day rule provided that a legislative committee which has approved a bill may call it up for a House vote, if a request for clearance is ignored by the Rules Committee for 21 days.

Famous Name Returns to Theater—New Bearer

Dough Changes Hands

THOMPSON, Conn. (UPI) — It cost Philip Choquette more dough after an argument with his wife. Choquette was fined $18 for tossing a pizza at her.

Perhaps They Couldn't Carry Anything More

DALLAS (AP) — Driver W. D. Haggard was relieved to know that the thirst of the two men who stole his liquor truck Thursday was easily satisfied.

Haggard, making a delivery, saw two unidentified men climb into his truck and drive away.

The only items missing from the $5,000 cargo when the truck was found abandoned 15 minutes later were two cases of vodka and one case of gin.

Successful Salesman

MILO, Maine (UPI) — Bobby Ellison, 13, returned to school $60 richer after selling more than 6,000 worms to fishermen this summer.
