Reception Honors Pontiac Motor Division

Over 500 Pay Tribute to Pontiac Motor, GM

More than 500 persons turned out to pay tribute to Pontiac Motor Division and its parent, General Motors Corp. at a reception staged last night by the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

Assembled at the Elks Temple were city and county officials and leaders from all phases of the community's economic and social life, honoring the division on its 50th anniversary.

In a brief program, half-way through the reception, general chairman of the affair, Harold A. Fitzgerald, introduced the chief guests and paid tribute to Pontiac Motors as the mainstay of the city's prosperity.

Louis C. Goad, GM executive vice president, spoke briefly. Goad was substituting for Harold H. Curtice, GM president, who was unable to attend due to illness.

Goad said that General Motors was fully aware of the mutuality of interests between the city of Pontiac and the corporation. He assured his listeners that GM would never abandon its stake in Pontiac. Goad added GM wanted to be a good citizen of Pontiac and take its full share in all civic developments.

Pontiac Motor Division general manager S. E. Knudsen received a scroll of appreciation from the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, and also spoke briefly.

Fitzgerald also introduced Ormond E. Hunt, GM director; James E. Goodman, general manager of GM's Fisher Body Division; Carl W. Moyer, Fisher Body general factory manager for Michigan; Thomas F. Weithorn, manager of Fisher Body in Pontiac; and Thomas Wilson, general manufacturing manager of GMC Truck and Coach Division.

The reception concluded the two-week civic celebration of Pontiac Motor Division's birthday.

Careless Swimmers Die! Check Water Safety Rules

By DICK SAUNDERS

Careless swimming is the major factor of the 21 drownings in Oakland County lakes since Memorial Day, a study of the causes shows.

Twelve of the 21 victims had been swimming, four died from boating accidents, and one was a water skier. The remainder was classified as miscellaneous—most of these victims were small children that fell off docks or wandered into shallow water.

As the total grows with thousands using Oakland County's 423 lakes, it becomes more obvious that safe swimming rules are being left behind with the swimmers' street clothes.

Law enforcement officials are as disgusted as they are worried. Ten of the 12 swimmers who drowned were old enough to know the elementary safety rules.

Children have to be reminded about water safety, but once you're 15 or older, common sense should point out dangerous practices, they feel.

NEVER GO ALONE
For example, if you ever swim in an unguarded area or swim alone, you are gambling with your life, according to authorities. Should a swimmer ever run into trouble, he is in a much better position if he has a friend nearby—in the water—not a fully clothed friend standing on the beach.

A man drowned in Lake Oakland last month while swimming alone. Nobody knew exactly how he went down. Friends might have been able to save him had he not been alone, but they didn't even miss him until 9 that night.

Tests showed he went down at about 4 p.m. If a swimmer wades out into an unguarded swimming area, or an area unknown to him, he is really flirting with possible death. He may fall off an unexpected drop-off or become tangled in weeds.

On July 15th, a 15-year-old boy drowned diving into dangerous waters. The youth dived from a breakwater into swirling waters under a waterfall, and was held there by currents until hours later.

A swimmer must always be sensible in judging his own ability and never try to do more than he is able to handle, according to (Continued on Page 28, Col. 7)

Showers to Subside Early This Evening

The U. S. Weather Bureau has forecast mostly cloudy and not much change in temperature for this area tonight, with today's occasional showers ending early this evening.

Tonight's low will be from 58 to 62 degrees.

Tomorrow will be somewhat warmer with a high of 76 to 80. Showers are expected Saturday. In downtown Pontiac the lowest temperature recorded preceding 8 a.m. was 59. At 1 p.m. the mercury registered 70.

What? No Steak? Let Them Eat Ham and Eggs

PARIS (INS) — A high French official has given a 20th century twist to Queen Marie-Antoinette's famous saying: "If they have no bread, let them eat cake."

Under-secretary for agriculture Pierre de Felice has told housewives complaining that beef was priced beyond their reach: "If you can't buy steak, have ham and eggs."

Barnyard products are the few commodities not affected by the recent general rise in French prices.

Man Seeks $10,565 for Single Toothpick

LANSING (P) — A Detroit man is seeking $10,565 for a toothpick. James L. Goudreau of Detroit filed a damage suit for that amount in Ingham County Circuit Court yesterday, declaring a Lansing hotel was negligent last January in serving him a hamburger which contained a toothpick.

Goudreau claimed the toothpick became lodged in his throat and he "became sick, sore, disordered and suffered grievous pains, injury, medical expenses and loss of earnings from employment to the total damage of $10,565."

Solo Filibuster Is Under Way on Civil Rights

South Carolina Senator Talked Through Night; Effort Called Futile

WASHINGTON (P) — Sen. Thurmond (D-SC) droned past 13 hours today a one-man filibuster against the compromise civil rights bill.

He chalked up 13 hours at 9:54 a.m. and kept on in the face of word from the GOP leader, Sen. Knowland of California, that it was all futile.

Knowland, looking fresh in contrast to the obvious wear on Thurmond, appeared in the chamber at 6:30 a.m. to tell the South Carolinian he couldn't win; that there will be no adjournment of Congress until there is civil rights action, and that Thurmond was inviting rules changes making it easier to break up long talk.

Then, after the brief interruption, Knowland went to the White House, for breakfast with President Eisenhower while Thurmond kept going.

After the White House session Knowland said he had told Eisenhower Congress still might be able to adjourn tonight despite Thurmond.

Knowland said his report was the first word Eisenhower had received that the Senate had been going all night.

"The Republican leader said there were indications Thurmond's operation was 'a purely isolated and solo filibuster.'"

FIRST SINCE 1953

It was the first time the Senate had stayed in round-the-clock session since 1953. The day's regular sitting started at 10 a.m., so that a 24-hour run was guaranteed when Thurmond went past that time and into his 14th hour.

The last all-night sitting in 1953 featured a 22-hour and 26-minute speech by Sen. Morse (D-Ore) against the tidelands bill. Morse set an unofficial Senate record for marathon talk.

Frequently Thurmond's voice was so low he could not be heard in the press and public galleries.

However, about 9:30 a.m. his voice gained strength as he began re-reading a statement he made to the Senate Tuesday night in a vain effort to have the bill sent to the Judiciary Committee after it had been passed by the House.

Thurmond was helped, by two aides who sat near him during the night and handed him papers to read. They were Alex McCullough, his administrative assistant, and Harry S. Dent, a legislative assistant.

Poll Shows Adults Split on Drag Strip Supported by Teens

Oakland County law enforcement and court officials are not the only ones in dispute over the establishment of a drag strip in the Pontiac area for teenagers to race their cars.

Citizens of Pontiac are also divided in their opinions on whether an area should be set up for drag racing under proper supervision.

This was revealed yesterday in a random sampling of public opinion by The Pontiac Press. Eight persons were questioned on the issue — four teenagers and four adults.

Unanimously, the youngsters felt that a legalized drag strip would be a fine thing for teenagers. The adults, however, were less enthusiastic about the proposal. Two declared themselves in favor of the strip and the others opposed it.

Jack Larson, 19, of 830 Robinson called the proposed drag strip a "good deal." He pointed out that teenagers would be racing against time, not against each other. A student at Michigan State University, Larson said that he'd watch such races, but that he would not be a participant.

They did okay the issuance of $500,000 worth of full faith and credit bonds at an interest rate "to be determined at competitive bidding, but not to exceed six per cent per annum."

Commissioners earlier this month concurred with the hospital Board of Trustees that a second bond vote was the only answer to finishing the four million dollar wing.

Voters last May turned thumbs down on a $1,850,000 hospital vote.

TRIMMED DOWN

The proposed issue has been trimmed down to provide just "bare necessities" for the addition, trustees point out.

Puzzling commissioners last evening was the question, posed by Commissioner Floyd P. Miles, whether to use an unlevied half mill, which would mean a 50 cents per $1,000 tax increase, or to chop off the half mill from the annual 3 1/2 mills allocated for capital improvement work in Pontiac.

The unlevied half mill was approved by voters during a 1954 $3,000,000 hospital construction bond issue. If levied now, officials say, voter approval would not be needed.

This would result in boosting the city's present tax rate of $13.70 per thousand of assessed valuation to $14.20.

Miles said the October vote would stand the best chance to pass if no tax increase was involved.

City Clerk Ada R. Evans estimated there are 15,000 property owners in Pontiac. It will take three-fifths of the votes cast to pass the issue.

Parade to Open Fair

DETROIT (P) — More than half-a-million persons are expected to turn out Friday to watch a three-mile parade wind through the heart of Detroit to signal the opening of the Michigan State Fair. The 110-unit parade will feature 21 bands, 19 floats, 10 units of prancing horses and seven marching groups. The marchers will be met at the state fairgrounds by Gov. Williams who will cut a ribbon to officially open the 108th annual fair.

Question Crew, Captain of U.S. Vessel Involved

River Steamer Sinks After Crash in Dark; Carried 247 Persons

BUENOS AIRES (P) — The captain and crew of an American freighter were questioned today in an effort to determine the cause of a collision that sank an Argentine steamer and left 94 persons missing.

All the missing were among the 247 persons aboard the river steamer City of Buenos Aires. No one aboard the freighter Mormacsurf, owned by the Moore-McCormack lines of New York, was injured.

Only slight hope was held that some of the missing might have reached safety after the river boat went down Tuesday night in the Uruguay River 78 miles north of Buenos Aires.

Argentine officials said Capt. Kenneth J. Sommers of Marin County, Calif., and other crew members of the Mormacsurf were "being detained incommunicado."

The stressed that such procedure was normal to give authorities the opportunity to take testimony.

The 7,890-ton Mormacsurf—loaded with grain and canned meat—steamed into Buenos Aires harbor yesterday, a 15-foot section of her prow bent 45 degrees to starboard by the collision.

The 3,754-ton City of Buenos Aires, owned by the Dodero Steamship Line, for years had been shuttling passengers and cargo between Buenos Aires and Montevideo.

Many passengers were in bed or preparing to retire when the two vessels crunched together shortly before midnight. The river boat went down before lifeboats could be launched.

A government communiqué said 153 persons—66 crewmen and 87 passengers—were rescued from the river steamer. Survivors said many of those lost were old people and children who could not swim.

CAPTAIN REPORTED SHOT

Among those listed as missing was Silverio Brizuela, 53, captain of the City of Buenos Aires.

Local newspapers reported the captain shot himself in the head while standing on the bridge a few moments after the collision, but there was no confirmation.

Three agencies said he shot himself and went down with his ship, while a fourth said he killed himself after being rescued from the river.

One surviving passenger said he saw Brizuela fire a bullet into his head while standing on the bridge of the ship. Another said he saw the captain directing rescue operations with a revolver in his hand.

Authorities, who at first announced no one had been killed in the collision, later refused to give any estimate of casualties.

Survivors told newsmen there must have been casualties because the ferry had more than 200 persons aboard and went down within ten minutes of the collision near the mouth of the river.

Rescue operations took place in a thick fog and biting cold temperatures. Many of the survivors were picked up by the Mormacsurf.

Charge Murder in Trailer Death

First Degree Warrant Issued Against Harris in Area Shooting

Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem yesterday issued a first-degree murder warrant in the fatal trailer park shooting of Eddie Hicks, 28, of Wye Mills, Pa. Monday night.

Lee Harris Jr., 23, a resident of the Glenview Trailer Park, 2300 Shimmans Rd., Pontiac Township, demanded examination when he appeared before Pontiac Township Justice of the Peace Robert W. Hodge.

Examination was set for Sept. 4. Ziem said he would seek to have Thomas Squires, 27, of Wyandotte, and Joseph Wells, 19, of Detroit, held as material witnesses.

All three men are in Oakland County Jail. Harris told investigating Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies that he fired over the heads of Hicks, Squires and Wells after they pounded on the door of his trailer.

Squires and Wells contended that they knocked on the trailer door and Harris answered by brandishing a gun and firing at them.

Deputies said that Squires admitted he and Harris had been carrying a grudge since an argument in Pennsylvania several years ago. Squires' wife is Harris' former wife.

Foreign Aid Bill Set to Pass Today

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
WASHINGTON (AP)—An adjournment bill Congress was set to pass finally today a $3,435,810,000 money bill to pay for military and economic aid to friendly nations around the globe.

The compromise bill, including $2,768,760,000 in new funds and $667,050,000 in re-appropriated funds from previous years, was agreed upon by Senate and House conferees yesterday.

The compromise figure is 244 million dollars more than the House originally voted and $256,900,000 below the Senate amount. The last of the year's appropriations bills, it represents a slash of $1,004,400,000 from President Eisenhower's original foreign aid request in January.

Barring a hitch, the House planned to act first on the compromise. Senate approval was expected later in the day.

Can we tell anything from the ordinary rainbow? Does it give us any clue to the coming weather? Yes, the rainbow, of course, is usually seen after or during a rain, but it is also often seen when there has been no rain. Sometimes it may indicate the possibility of rain, since moisture is always one of the ingredients which form a rainbow.

If you see a rainbow to the windward (the direction from which the wind is blowing), chances are good that you will be in for a rain.

On the other hand, if the rainbow appears to the leeward (the direction in which the wind is blowing), you can expect an end to the rains pretty soon, usually. The sun's light, playing through moisture laden particles of air, forms a rainbow, the result of various reflected hues of light.

MORE TROUBLE FOR BECK — Dave Beck, president of the Teamsters Union, consults his watch at a meeting in Los Angeles Wednesday of the union's executive board. Not long afterwards a federal grand jury in Seattle indicted him on seven counts of evading $184,000 in income tax and accused his son and four associates of conspiracy to aid in the evasion.

New Tax Tangle for Beck; Teamsters Answer Blunt

TACOMA, Wash. (INS) — Teamster President Dave Beck's entanglement with federal tax collectors deepened today.

The burly, retiring boss of the nation's largest union was indicted by a federal grand jury in Tacoma yesterday for allegedly cheating the government out of $184,000 in taxes on 1951, 1952 and 1953 income.

The grand jury said Beck's taxable income in those years was $420,000 and not $165,065 which Beck reported.

The indictment citing tax evasion was the second against Beck in four months. He was indicted last May on charges of evading $36,420 in federal taxes on 1950 income.

Named with Beck yesterday were his son, Dave Beck Jr., and four others. They were accused of conspiring with Beck Senior to conceal the Teamster head's true income.

Besides the two Becks, those named were: Norman Gessert, general organizer for the Teamsters; Fred Verschueren Sr., the union's auditor; Nathan Shefferman, a Chicago labor relations consultant, and his son, Shelton Shefferman.

Beck, in Los Angeles for an executive board meeting of Teamsters officials, kissed off the latest indictment as "nothing." He asserted: "It doesn't mean a thing. I have just joined that army of Americans who have been indicted. I most certainly am not guilty."

Federal Judge John C. Bowen set Sept. 12 as the date for arraignment and a plea of the defendants, who will be free on bail.

In Los Angeles, leaders of the scandal-ridden Teamsters Union apparently have drafted a tough reply to the AFL-CIO's corruption charges.

SEND BLUNT ANSWER
Beck hinted last night at the end of a three-day executive board policy meeting that the AFL-CIO was going to get a blunt and unyielding answer from the Teamsters.

Members of the executive board have been summoned to appear in person at a meeting of the AFL-CIO ethical practices committee in Washington on Sept. 4-5.

The executive board's reported tough reply to the AFL-CIO was interpreted in labor circles as a Herman Friedman, 19610 Warwick, Birmingham, has been named general operations manager of the Wrigley Division of ACF-Wrigley Stores Inc.

One of three divisional heads under general manager Samuel Frankel, he will be in charge of all phases of the Wrigley operation with the exception of sales and finance.

Department heads of warehousing, personnel, planning, research, construction, engineering and maintenance will report to Friedman.

Friedman joined the organization as a meat buyer in 1942, when the chain consisted of seven Wrigley stores. Mergers and construction have upped the total of stores to 99.

Prior to his appointment, Friedman was meat department director of the Wrigley Stores.

Friends of Area Library Prepare Drive, Program

BIRMINGHAM—The Friends of the Baldwin Public Library of Birmingham are looking forward to one of their most successful seasons for 1957-58.

Plans for increasing the membership of this organization are now under way, under the direction of Richard Hanne, president; Jeanne Lloyd, librarian; and Sylvia Parker, chairman of the membership committee.

A recent meeting of the membership committee furthered plans to interest residents of the Birmingham area in this organization.

Mallings already have been sent to former members, and it is planned to contact a number of additional people in Birmingham and the surrounding area.

Announcement was made by Edgar Dare, program chairman, that the speaker for the first program would be Carleton Smith, now in Europe, and who, in the course of his travels, has made two trips behind the Iron Curtain and met with Stalin, Khrushchev, Malenkov and Shepilov.

Persons interested in joining the Friends of the Baldwin Public Library can contact Miss Parker through the Library, or at 763 North Woodward.

Linn Smith, Birmingham architect, has been appointed to the Building Code Board of Appeals for a five-year term.

Smith replaces Clarence W. Blenman, whose resignation was accepted by commissioners this week.

Blenman said he would continue on the Zoning Board of Appeals but gave business reasons for his resignation from the other post.

Flies 15,500 M.P.H. to 620-Mile Height Reds Describe Missile

MOSCOW (INS) — A Soviet scientist has described Russia's intercontinental ballistic missile as a weapon that can reach a height of 620 miles, fly at 15,500 miles per hour and deliver a hydrogen bomb warhead virtually on the nose of any target on earth.

G. I. Pokrowski, a major general of engineers and professor and doctor of technical science, described the missile, that Russia says was fired successfully a few days ago, in an article published yesterday in the Soviet Air Force and Navy newspapers.

Pokrowski said the missile can fly a distance of many thousands of miles and hit a target within a radius of 12 miles. The Russian scientist said the Soviet ICBM is small, easily camouflaged on firing platforms and highly heat resistant.

Break for Flint Schools

FLINT (AP) — The Mott Foundation, philanthropic organization formed by Flint industrialist C. S. Mott, has offered to buy a million dollar school bond issue and allow the Flint Board of Education to redeem it at no interest. The issue is for the construction of a science building. Savings in interest for the school board amounts to $175,000.

Weapons Must Go

FLINT (AP) — Pupils found carrying weapons will be suspended automatically under a policy adopted Tuesday night by the Flint Board of Education. The recommendation was made by Dr. Spencer W. Myers, superintendent, who said recent incidents reveal that weapons are being carried by some young people.

Michigan was the first state in the Union to require compulsory pasteurization of milk sold for public marketing.

Or Should Teenager Be Taught by Parents?

High School Driver-Training Courses Said Best Way to Learn to Handle Car

(If teenagers are to be allowed to drive, they must first learn to operate an automobile. There are many opinions on how it should be done. This problem is discussed today in the third of four articles on teenage driving.)

By IRWIN SAFCHIK
INS Staff Writer

When a teenager should be allowed to drive is only part of the vexing problem facing parents and all who strive to make the highways safe. Who should teach them to drive is another vital question. Their fathers? "Not!" says Prof. Amos E. Neyhart, consultant on road training for the American Automobile Association and administrative head of the Institute of Public Safety at Pennsylvania State College.

Parental driving instruction, he contends, is "murder." Neyhart points out that too many parents themselves have bad driving habits and even those who don't simply are not equipped to be teachers.

He cites figures to show that, in Pennsylvania for example, "home-trained youngsters were involved in three times as many traffic accidents and violations as those who learned about cars and driving in high school."

Neyhart is a pioneer in the field of high school driver education. Under his guidance, the Penn State College high school was the first to conduct a regular course in the subject. That was more than 13 years ago.

PROGRAM HAS GROWN
Since then, the program has bloomed magnificently. In the 1936-37 school year it trained 450 young drivers. In the 1955-56 school year 10,280 of the nation's 19,886 public high schools—or 51.7 per cent—were teaching 923,830 of the nation's 1,632,816 high school students—or 55.9 per cent—how to drive.

Not all of them receive behind-the-wheel training, but all are learning at least the fundamentals of good driving through classroom instructions.

And, in Springfield, Mo., the city's high schools are offering road experience right in the classroom—through the use of "drivetrainers," units containing all the mechanical contrivances of the automobile which the student manipulates while watching filmed traffic situations on a screen.

As of last Jan. 1, seven states—California, Delaware, Florida, Louisiana, Maine, Michigan and Pennsylvania—were providing financial assistance to the driver training program, and many more were considering the advisability of following suit.

The AAA says the program has saved 2,614 lives, prevented 38,490 injuries and averted 298 million, 810 thousand dollars in economic losses since it began.

These savings, the AAA says, "are computed on the assumption, justified by numerous studies, that students who take a driver education course have only half as many accidents for the first five years of driving as untrained drivers in the same age group."

Dems to Attack GOP Foreign Policy in '58 Elections

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (U.S.)—Sen. Smathers (D-Fla.) said today Democrats are going to run against Secretary of State Dulles in next year's battle for control of Congress.

Smathers, who heads the Democratic senatorial campaign committee, said he is convinced criticism of the Eisenhower administration's foreign policies helped Democrat William Proxmire win an upset victory in Tuesday's special Senate election in Wisconsin.

Proxmire defeated Republican Walter J. Kohler, a former governor, who ran as a strong supporter of President Eisenhower.

"The Republicans ran against Dean Acheson when he was secretary of state," Smathers said.

"Secretary Dulles represents this administration's uncertain foreign policies and he is a legitimate target for attack in the campaign," Smathers spoke in an interview as Proxmire waited to be sworn in as the first Democratic senator elected from Wisconsin since 1932. Proxmire was elected to fill out the unexpired term of the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, a Republican.

Proxmire flew into Washington last night, expecting to be seated in the Senate promptly. But Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California blocked the attempt, saying the ceremony would have to await receipt of official word from Wisconsin Gov. Vernon W. Thomson that the 41-year-old Proxmire had been elected.

This set off a loud argument between Knowland and Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas. But Knowland's objection under the unanimous consent rule postponed the action.

Meanwhile, in a separate interview, Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) agreed with Smathers that foreign policy is likely to be one of the prime political issues in 1958.

"I think there are three fronts on which we ought to hit the Republicans hard — foreign policy failures, their lack of a farm program and their tight money policy that is pinching the small business man, the laboring man and the farmer," Humphrey said.

Proxmire, in an airport news conference here last night, said "I campaigned strictly on the Democratic record in Congress. So my success was both a rejection of the Eisenhower administration and an affirmation of the Democratic program."

Smathers said he agrees with Proxmire's estimate that the defeat of Kohler represented a protest against Eisenhower and his policies.

"I don't think there is any question Eisenhower's popularity as president is diminishing rapidly," Smathers said. "He is still personally popular but people are getting disenchanted with him as president."

Proxmire plans to run next year for a full six-year term. His will be one of 12 Democratic Senate seats at stake, along with 20 Republican seats.

Meanwhile, Republicans assigned a wide variety of reasons for the defeat of Kohler.

Sen. Mundt (R-SD) said he thinks a Republican candidate who offered the voters a "sharper choice" between candidates than Kohler did might have fared better. Both Proxmire and Kohler classed themselves as liberals.

"I don't think the Wisconsin election is particularly significant with regard to 1958," Mundt said. "But I do think it demonstrated that the sharper the choice you make for the voters between the Republican and the Democratic candidate the more Republicans you attract to the polls."

COMMUNITY NATIONAL BANK OF Pontiac, Pontiac, Michigan.

Notice of Shareholders Meeting.

Notice is hereby given that, pursuant to call of its directors, a special meeting of the shareholders of Community National Bank of Pontiac will be held at its banking house at 30 North Saginaw Street, in the City of Pontiac, State of Michigan, on Tuesday, September 17, 1957, at 10:00 a.m., for the purpose of considering and determining by vote whether an agreement to merge the said bank and The Orion State Bank located in the Village of Lake Orion, State of Michigan, under the provisions of the laws of the United States, shall be ratified and confirmed; and for the purpose of voting upon any other matters incidental to the proposed merger of the two banks. A copy of the aforesaid agreement, executed by a majority of the directors of each of the two banks, providing for the merger, is on file at the bank and may be inspected during business hours.

Public Warned Against Chain Letter Schemes

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Post Office Department reported today a "renewal of chain letter schemes" and warned participants they are subject to criminal prosecution.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield noted that the courts have held the letters to be "frauds and lotteries," and pointed out that this applies also to "savings bond clubs" which attempt to "cloak themselves in respectability."

Students can protect lab notes from chemicals and dirt or keep intact botany specimens, sketch class plates or other valuable notes, papers and pictures. The answer is a new extra-strong, extra-thin "sheet protector"—a plastic film covering for looseleaf binder papers.

Made of a new miracle polyester film, it withstands a pull of 60 pounds without tearing at the holes and will not rip at the edges nor crack, according to tests.

Yosemite Ranger Reports:

Adults Get Lost by Thoughtlessness; Suggests 5 Rules for Safety Outdoors

YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK, Calif.—The world, says a Yosemite Park ranger, is full of escapists who get lost. Sometimes, he confides, it seems as if most of them are among the 15,000 persons who visit Yosemite daily.

In fact, an average of six people a day get lost in the park's 1,200 square miles.

"All of these cases of lost people are the result of carelessness or thoughtlessness," said chief ranger Oscar Sedergren. "It's hard to put a finger on just what it is that motivates people in surroundings like these, but they do things here they wouldn't do at home."

His troop of 21 rangers plus 60 additional in the summertime have their hands full keeping track of people who for the most part are more used to city traffic than to the paths of woodland and glen.

Many of the missing are children, usually found quickly. But several times a year searches run into days. Widespread and difficult, they become races against time to save a life.

Last June 4-year-old Shirley Ann Miller of Reseda, Calif., was lost for 62 hours. She was found unharmed.

"In the case of the Miller girl," Sedergren said, "park employees volunteered their services; many helped look for the kid for almost the entire 62 hours."

"There's a difference between missing children and missing adults. The adults usually have only themselves to blame, but you cannot blame a child. I never saw so many tears in the eyes of grown men as when Shirley Ann was found. It's really wonderful to participate in such a rescue."

"Some days we have five or six tots wandering from their parents. We usually find them quickly," he said.

"Kids usually fare better than adults. When they're tired they lie down and go to sleep. Adults get nervous and often go haywire."

"Kids do the right thing naturally. They're fearless, and as a result there is no danger from animals, which can smell fear."

The chief ranger's simple rules for saving yourself in the wilds are these: "Tell people where you're going. Don't hike alone. If you get lost and try to find your way out, mark a trail and leave signs. Conserve your energy. Watch the flow of streams but don't follow downstream too literally—it can lead into a box canyon."

Russia's Next Goal:

Steady Infiltration of Iran, Turkey by Economic Aid

WASHINGTON (INS)—U. S. Intelligence sources state that Russia is attempting to take over Turkey and Iran.

These sources said that the Kremlin, having converted Syria into a virtual Communist satellite in a few short months, has launched a plot to subvert the two strategic Middle East nations at the crossroads of three continents.

U. S. Middle East experts said, however, they do not believe the Soviets will succeed in penetrating either Turkey or Iran, both of which are staunch U. S. allies.

REPEAT PATTERN

Intelligence sources said Moscow is following the same pattern that it has used so successfully in obtaining a position of influence in Syria, Egypt and Yemen.

This pattern, as described by President Eisenhower at a recent news conference, is: First, the Russians make an economic agreement; then they send in their agents to find "stooges" in power in the government to do their bidding, and finally they take over.

U. S. officials said Moscow has already begun the first step of this pattern in Turkey and Iran. Reliable informants said a Soviet economic mission, comprised of some of the Kremlin's top men, is now in Turkey offering all kinds of economic inducement to the Turks, and trying to undermine the U. S.-Turkey friendship.

Informants said the same pattern is being followed by the Reds in Iran, which successfully overcame attempted Russian domination several years ago by ousting pro-Soviet Premier Mosaddegh.

A Russian economic mission headed by Soviet trade boss Nikolai Godeschitz is now in Iran and has offered the country "unlimited credit" for development of heavy industry at the low interest rate of two per cent. The immediate Russian goal is to get the Iranians to accept credit for construction of a steel mill.

In both cases—Turkey and Iran—it would mean that Soviet supplies, heavy machinery and, most important of all, Russian technicians, would enter the two countries.

TURKEY SEEMS FIRM

Turkey, the dominant nation of the Middle Eastern area and possessor of a standing army of 21 divisions, is a U. S. ally in NATO and has been receiving large-scale American military aid. The Turks have traditionally been enemies of Russia and have refused all offers of aid by Moscow.

But individual Turkish businessmen have been to Moscow on a two-month visit negotiating a series of economic agreements. One of these deals reportedly is for Soviet construction of a glass factory under a five-year loan at three and a half per cent interest.

The Turkish businessmen, who have just returned from the Russian capital, brought with them

Woman Driver Shone

DETROIT (AP)—Mrs. Georgia Shone, a 43-year-old grandmother, has been named "Detroit's typical good driver."

Mrs. Shone beat out four men during a 20-minute driving test Wednesday to win the title. Mrs. Shone, who said she never received a ticket or was stopped by a policeman in 29 years of driving, was given a $100 government bond.

Crash Kills Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—Mrs. Opal Filis, 54, of Detroit, died in a Detroit hospital today after being injured Sunday when a car driven by her husband, Michael, struck a utility pole.

UAW Review Board Will Get First Task

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers union has handed its recently created public review board its first assignment.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther asked the board yesterday to determine whether his union acted correctly in expressing confidence in nine officials called to testify before Congressional investigating committees and whether such expression "reached a conclusion consistent with the spirit as well as the letter of the AFL-CIO ethical practices code."

The board, made up of seven private citizens not connected with the giant union, was established to review UAW activities. Reuther said it was needed to combat what he called "a campaign by a group of reactionary Senators" to smear the UAW.

For its first assignment the board will study the cases of office-holders in five UAW local unions and four UAW staff representatives who testified before the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee earlier this year, during which some invoked the fifth amendment.

None of those questioned were removed for their jobs or offices, or found in violation of the ethical practices code.

Poll Shows Adults Split on Drag Strip

Johnson St., said that "she's never heard of anyone getting hurt on a drag strip, and that it would be safer to have hot-rodders race there than on public roads."

"If they really want to race their cars, then I think they should be given the chance to do so. It's not against the law, as far as I know," she said.

Adults, however, were not so completely in agreement on this issue.

Miss Virginia Hess, 3345 Melrad, said that "she's not much for car racing." Miss Hess, who lived in Birmingham, Alabama, until she moved here a year ago, told of a "hotrod club" that had been formed in the Southern city.

"I guess the teenagers liked the name 'hotrod,'" she said, "but they didn't do much racing."

"The club was really a 'Good Samaritan' type of organization that would help motorists in trouble, and it really gained a fine name throughout the community. Something of this type would be a lot better than a racing organization."

George Roberts, 3738 Gregory Rd., said that it was "all wrong." Roberts said that teenagers don't "know how to drive. They'd go out in their cars after racing on the drag strip and do the same thing on the highways."

He said that instead of concentrating on drag strips, racing and speed, "the youngsters should worry more about safe driving and traffic laws."

Dissenting from this view was Kenneth Hoskins of 21 N. Paddock St., who supported a drag strip because "it would get this high-speed stuff out of the systems of teenagers."

"There's no safer place for them to do this sort of thing," Hoskins said, "and it's certainly better than having these youngsters doing it out on the city streets."

The same view was taken by a Fisher Body worker, John Maxwell of 33 E. Yale St., who said, "Youngsters like to build up these hotrods. They should certainly be given a place to try them out."

Maxwell said that teenagers should be commended for taking up hotrodding as a hobby because it keeps them out of trouble.

"Under the right sort of supervision, it would be a fine thing," he asserted.

The establishment of a hotrod drag strip has been publicly criticized by Police Chief Herbert W. Straley and Oakland County Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore.

The Oakland County Timing Assn. is pushing for the establishment of a drag strip in the local area. The association will meet at 8:00 p.m. tonight on the fifth floor of the Oakland County Jail to discuss charges by Straley and Moore that drag racing is "dangerous."

The teenagers will also vote on a proposed constitution drawn up by the Bylaws Committee.

All interested hotrodders and their parents were invited to attend the meeting by Bill Martin, 21, of 1704 Crescent Lake Rd., Waterford Township. Martin is president of the association.

Floyd R. Pratt Suffers Fatal Heart Attack Today

Floyd R. Pratt, 75, of 4735 Elizabeth Lake Rd., Waterford Township, suffered a heart attack this morning at the corner of Lawrence and Saginaw streets, in front of the Community National Bank Building.

Pontiac police and firemen rushed him to Pontiac General Hospital where he was pronounced dead by deputy coroner Dr. H. L. Riggs of coronary thrombosis. Pratt lived with his wife, Lulu, at the Elizabeth Lake road address.

Gets Long Probation

DETROIT (INS)—Thomas R. Zurawski, 18, of Detroit, has been placed on two years' probation for stealing an outboard motor and then advertising it for sale.

ANNIVERSARY SMILES—Joining the more than 500 attending the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce reception marking Pontiac Motor Division golden anniversary were (from left) Fred Poole, of F. J. Poole Co.; Ralph B. Eastridge, of

J. C. Penney Stores; and Clare L. Utley, of Cutter Tool and Supply Co. They were among a host of civic leaders on hand to greet top General Motors and Pontiac Division officials last night.

able to block Senate action by long talk. Knowland said there will be no resolution for final adjournment of this session of Congress "until we have completed work on the pending legislation—which is the civil rights bill."

Thurmond said his speech was designed to "call to the attention of the Senate and the people of the nation that this is a dangerous bill."

Thurmond spoke to an almost deserted chamber as the night wore on. When he rose to speak at 9 p.m., there were some 15 senators on hand.

After midnight, this number had dropped to three or so. The galleries emptied.

Several other Southern senators had spoken during the long session that began at 10 a.m. yesterday. Virtually to a man, they voiced their unyielding opposition to the civil rights bill which passed the House in compromise form.

World Travels Over, for One-Five Years

DETROIT (P)—Clifton R. Mullen's world travels are over—at least for a time.

He was sentenced to from one to five years in prison yesterday by Recorder's Judge John A. Ricca.

Mullen was a driver-salesman for a Detroit coffee company in 1955 when he made an unscheduled trip to Europe, taking along an English-born girl friend and some $781 of the company's cash.

He was deported from England and then traveled to Ireland, France and Germany, where he was twice convicted of larceny and again deported.

Mullen surrendered to Detroit police in June.

Newsman's Hopes Rise for Entry Into Red China

HONG KONG (INS) — The hopes of a dozen impatient American newsmen waiting for permission to enter Red China were boosted slightly today by a prediction that the Peiping regime will issue a new statement shortly.

A generally well-informed source said the chances of the reporters' getting a Communist visa "brightened a bit" with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' statement that there is no absolute bar on Chinese newsmen in the United States.

The source said the Chinese Communist government probably would "clear the air further" within a day or two.

Carelessness Fatal to Many Swimmers

Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy William Jackson, a skin-diver.

This sounds silly, but it is amazing how many people drown who can't swim at all and have waded into trouble, he added.

Earlier this summer an 18-year-old boy drowned because he was playing with friends on a log in deep water and couldn't swim. He fell from the log and pulled his friends under each time they tried to save him.

QUIT IF TIRED

There is always the swimmer who swims with a group of friends, but tries too hard to keep up with the bunch or to show off.

He is the person you read about who became "tired" and just couldn't make it to the raft, or back to shore. Sometimes his friends help him, but often they can't get there in time.

A Detroit boy almost drowned last June on Dixie Lake, in Springfield Township, after discovering his ability was not equal to his desire.

While swimming to a raft, he saw it was too far and he was tiring. He turned wearily back to shore, but floundered and called for help. Luckily, someone dived in and recovered his body in time, doubled over on the bottom of the lake.

More often, people do not consider their health before splashing into the water. Some should not go swimming or even wading.

A 68-year-old man drowned in a crowded area at the Pontiac Lake Beach during July. Deputies said the man must have had a heart attack or fainting spell, since there were many people near him who could have heard calls for help.

Those who have any heart condition should refrain from swimming and anyone who has ever experienced epilepsy should definitely stay away from the water, law enforcement officials say.

KNOW DEPTH

Always know the depth of the water you jump or dive into is another safety rule. Diving into water too shallow can result in your being knocked unconscious or breaking your neck.

Never go swimming after dark. The bodies of two boys, who it is believed went for a midnight swim in Walled Lake last week, were found the following day about 100 yards from shore.

No one knows exactly what happened to them, but it is believed that one called for help and pulled the other under in his rescue attempt.

If you ever do need help, don't get panicky when it arrives. Remember, whoever swims to you is there to save you. Be sure to let him, experts say.

Observance of these elementary safety rules and use of common sense would help cut the drowning toll in the county lakes this year, officials felt.

Expect Over 10,000

DETROIT (P) — More than 10,000 persons are expected to attend the seventh annual sunrise service Sunday at the Michigan State Fairgrounds. Bishop Gerald Kennedy, resident bishop of the Los Angeles Area Methodist Conference, will deliver a sermon on "The Kingdom Minus One."

State Auto Club Gets 500,000th Active Member

The Automobile Club of Michigan established itself as one of the largest member organizations in the state today with the signing of its 500,000th active member.

The half million mark was set as the 1957 membership goal and represents an increase of 23,000 members in eight months.

Mitchell A. Calbi, 222 Linden Rd., was named as the newest active member of the Pontiac branch club. His honorary membership number of 500,014 is a tribute to the Pontiac club, which was the 14th unit to join the state organization.

The Pontiac club is a direct descendant of the Oakland County Automobile Club, which merged its 1,463 members with the Auto Club of Michigan in 1927.

The branch club now serves nearly 20,000 members and is building a $125,000 office.

no comment on the testimony of De Stefano concerning the story. Alan Ladd's wife Sue Carol, likewise reached at her home, said she was speaking for her husband in denying that either she or Ladd had seen or heard from Miss Allyson following completion of a film in which Ladd and Miss Allyson appeared several years ago.

Francesca De Scaffa, whose name has flitted in and out of the record during 12 days of testimony, was in it again yesterday. De Stefano identified her as the source of stories concerning Robert Mitchum and Miss Calvet.

"Miss Calvet said on a TV interview that the story flattered her," De Stefano added. "It confirmed her reputation as a sexy French actress."

In Mexico City an Interior Ministry official said Miss De Scaffa left her hideout in a suburb there Tuesday, hidden in the trunk of a Jaguar car with California license plates driven by a friend, then flew to a northwestern border city, using an assumed name.

The ministry official said she probably left for the United States, planning to go to New York where, he was informed, a wealthy friend had retained a law firm to defend her. She is under indictment in the Confidential case.

Mexican police previously had given Miss De Scaffa until Friday to leave the country but had required her to obtain exit papers. Her tourist permit expired Aug. 8. She left behind her mother, her clothes and her jewels.

De Stefano testified that Confidential agreed to settle a suit brought by singer Dorothy Dandridge although he was convinced that the "kiss-and-tell" band leader who provided a story on her was truthful.

Among the arguments for settlement: "Miss Dandridge is a consummate actress; she'll come into court, shed a few tears and the jury won't believe our witness," said De Stefano.

She was given $10,000 and promise of an apology. Now Confidential has reneged on the apology and wants its money back on the claim that Miss Dandridge "acted in bad faith" by announcing the magazine had admitted the story was untrue, De Stefano said.

Montana was admitted to the United States on Nov. 8, 1889.

Wife Needs Hubby's Help to Ward Off Widowhood

She'll Tackle Budget, Pare Calories, but Man's Job Is to Obey Health Rules

By RUTH MILLETT

Memo to middle-aged men:

Judging from my mail, an increasing number of wives are worrying about the health of their husbands. To put it bluntly, these wives don't want to be widows.

But anxious as they are to look after your health there are some things they can't keep you from doing.

Your wife can see that your meals are well balanced and easy on calories. But she can't keep you from raiding the icebox at night.

Your wife can cut down on her demands so that the budget isn't a constant worry to you. But she can't keep you from being extravagant in such matters as having to drive the latest model car.

Your wife can limit the number of nights the two of you go out each week so that you can get plenty of rest. But she can't keep you from bringing your business worries home with you.

Your wife can encourage you to get away from it all whenever you get the chance. But she can't keep you from turning a hunting or fishing trip into an endurance contest that brings you home exhausted.

Your wife can urge you to drive carefully, but there's not much she can do if you are the kind who likes to brag about how fast your car will go.

Your wife may be able to talk you into getting regular physical checkups. But she can't make you take your doctor's advice about slowing down, losing 15 pounds or easing up on smoking.

Your wife doesn't want to be a widow. But she can only avoid it with your help.

Acquire Tan Slowly

Massage, Brushing Also Important

Health Affects Appearance of Health

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Lucky is the woman who has a luxuriant head of hair. This boosts beauty tremendously. This characteristic often seems to run in families although this is not always the case. One child may have moderate to thin hair while another has heavy hair.

Many women worry about thin hair and write to know what to do about it. First look to your general health! Your hair is a living, growing part of your body. As such, it is affected by the food you eat, the exercise you take and the thoughts you think. We all know that after times of strain and worry or following an illness the hair often falls out or becomes dull and lifeless.

Be especially careful about your diet. Be sure that it gives you a high intake in vitamin B complex. It might even be wise to reinforce your menus with vitamin B complex capsules. Ask your physician about this. Also try to form good health habits. Avoid strain and relax more.

Local stimulation is also helpful. Massage your scalp and brush your hair daily — using the proper technique. There are all kinds of motions which are called "brushing" or "massaging."

Even in good beauty salons you seldom find that they brush hair correctly. Usually the brush is just whipped across the top of the head a few times. This provides no stimulation for the scalp, and therein lies the value of brushing.

This is the way it should be done. Turn the bristles of the brush toward the scalp. As you sweep the brush toward the ends of the hair turn the bristles toward the ceiling. This will pull the hair gently.

When you massage the scalp spread the fingers over the head and rotate the hands, keeping the fingers in the same spot. Change the position of the hands until the entire scalp has been covered.

Brushing and massaging the scalp take little time but will bring you much improvement if you indulge in them daily.

Of course a permanent helps a lot if you have thin hair just as liquid sprays are a great aid if your hair is very fine. Sprays give it body and help hold it in place.

When you massage your scalp, spread the fingers over the head and rotate the hands, keeping the fingers in the same spot.

Bon Voyage Gifts Bring a Problem

Death Cancels Trip; Should Presents Be Returned?

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: My father's sudden death canceled my European trip. I received quite a number of going-away presents from friends, which I still have. I would like to know if these gifts should be returned to the givers?"

Answer: Under ordinary circumstances you would keep them in the hope of going on a journey in the not too distant future. On the other hand, if any of these gifts are valuable and returnable to stores, you might offer to give these back.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Isn't it just as much a man's responsibility to return dinner invitations as a woman's? It seems most men take these invitations for granted and seldom return them."

Answer: A man who has his own establishment or his family is in a position to let him give parties at home, or who has the means to invite his friends to dine in a restaurant, does usually make some return. But since the typical young man is not in this position, no one really expects anything more of him than to make himself agreeable and help make the dinner party a success.

It is true, however, that a few flowers sent now and again by way of return to a hostess is always pleasing.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I thought it was required to take a hostess a present when going to stay a weekend or longer. Someone told me that it is not at all, and quotes you. Is this true?"

Answer: People love to give presents even when there is small excuse, and certainly there is no objection to taking one to a hostess if you would like to. On the other hand, there is no rule of etiquette requiring the taking or not taking of a gift. It is a question to be decided by your own personal impulse and circumstances.

Cleanliness and good manners are valuable assets when job hunting.

Boulevard Elms to Be Saved

City officials last night quelled fears of Franklin boulevard residents that many trees would have to be removed on their street to make room for the West Huron street sanitary relief sewer.

"There will be no wholesale slaughter of the trees," City Engineer Lewis M. Wrenn assured city commissioners. "We will try and save all we can, but some might have to go."

Mayor William W. Donaldson sought the assurance because he said "runners" were spreading in the neighborhood that most of old Elms would be lost to the project.

Brought before the commission last evening was a letter from S. E. Knudsen, general manager of Pontiac Motor Division, thanking the city for its participation in the Aug. 19 anniversary parade saluting the 50th birthday of the industry.

A low bid of $6,777 from Edward R. White of Berkley was accepted by commissioners for construction of six sidewalk projects in the city. City Attorney William A. Ewart was instructed to draft an agreement.

A request from Carmine Donato to transfer ownership of a 1957 package beer and wine license from Carl Leone at 438 W. Huron St. was approved.

Also granted was a request from Peter Perna at 118 Baldwin Ave. to drop Frank Perna as a partner on a 1957 package beer and wine license.

District 4 Commissioner Floyd P. Miles offered as a public necessity the grading of Livingston avenue from Blaine to Stanley, Allen A. Saltz, representing a Detroit building firm owning lots in the area, asked for the work "to comply with the city building code."

HONOR MCNEILL

Hearing no objections during a public hearing, commissioners okayed changing the name of Dix street between Warner and Hess streets to Howard McNeill, in honor of the former city commissioner.

Nine public hearings were scheduled for Sept. 10 for certain public works project slated for Pontiac.

The commission deferred action until that time on two engineer estimates covering street and sewer improvements on Arlene avenue pending the recovery of Commissioner John A. Dugan, in whose district the work falls.

A virus bug has temporarily sidelined both Dugan and City Manager Walter K. Willman.

Commissioner Miles offered a resolution commemorating the civic contributions of the late Rev. Leland L. Marion, pastor of the Christian Temple, 505 Auburn Ave. It was passed.

2½-Pound Baby Born to Youngest Mother, 9

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (INS) — The University of Arkansas Medical Center reported the birth of a 2½ pound baby to a 9-year-old girl — the youngest mother in departmental records.

The baby's boy was about two months premature, but doctors said he has a reasonable chance of survival. The delivery was described as normal.

Dr. Eva Dodge, who delivered the baby, said the mother's birth date was verified as March 1948.

Crash Kills Detroit

PEMBROKE, Ont. (AP)—Thomas M. Quinn, 16, of Detroit, died here Wednesday of injuries he suffered when his car ran out of control, struck a tree and ran 40 feet down an embankment. Police said Quinn apparently was headed for his family's cottage on nearby Alameda Island when the crash occurred.

Meanwhile, it was disclosed yesterday the military services have increased their vaccine order to more than seven million doses to provide two shots per person, compared with the single dose planned for civilians.

Two Michigan State University administrators discussed that institution's role in Oakland County at a noon luncheon Wednesday at the North Pontiac Kiwanis Club.

Dr. Thomas H. Hamilton, vice president in charge of academic affairs, and Philip May, vice president in charge of finance, centered their remarks around the branch which MSU will establish in Oakland County.

The branch school will be at the Alfred G. Wilson Meadow Brook estate, donated to the university last spring.

Dr. Hamilton told the 125 luncheon guests that classes should begin at the branch school in the fall of 1959. He also emphasized that the school will operate on a commuter basis, with no dormitories planned in the initial stages.

The university presently is conducting a survey to determine higher educational needs of Oakland and Macomb county residents.

Following his talk, Dr. Hamilton joined May in a 15-minute question and answer session with the guests.

Members attended the luncheon from clubs in West Bloomfield Township, Downtown and West Side Pontiac, Rochester and Birmingham.

Study Priority for Flu Vaccine

Health Officers Urge Plan to Assure All Areas Fair Supply

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's state health officers have recommended that Asian flu vaccine be administered on a priority basis to assure maintenance of essential community services in event of epidemics.

The Assn. of State and Territorial Health Officers of the United States asked the U.S. surgeon general yesterday to recommend that physicians give priority to three groups:

(1) Doctors and other medical and health workers, (2) individuals "necessary to maintain other basic community services," and (3) persons with tuberculosis and those with other special medical problems.

The association did not spell out who should be listed in priority group No. 2. It said that group might vary from one locality to another.

The health officers suggested that federal, state and local governments establish advisory committees to consider which occupations are necessary to keep community services functioning.

The association ended a two-day conference yesterday, calling on the Public Health Service for a discussion of plans for combating possible widespread outbreaks of the flu this fall and winter.

Members attended the luncheon from clubs in West Bloomfield Township, Downtown and West Side Pontiac, Rochester and Birmingham.
