Many County Homes Suffer Flood Damage

Downtown Area Improvement Up to Retail Stores

By PETE LOCHBILER

A challenge to the downtown Pontiac business area highlighted City Manager Walter K. Willman's annual "State of the City" address yesterday before the Pontiac Rotary Club.

"The city has its plans under way to help improve the business section," he told businessmen.

"The actual improvement of the retail area is up to you—it's your baby."

Willman cited the progress in urban renewal plans affecting the southern half of the business section and the successful approval, so far, of plans for a loop highway circling the business district.

The city is now embarked on final planning for urban renewal and may get final federal approval in time to begin the project early next year, he said.

"I want to emphasize that the disputed area along the west side of S. Saginaw street between Pike and Patterson has been included in the project," he said.

Federal assistance will be available to clean up this portion of the business district, but businessmen will be on their own in improving the rest of the area, he said.

The manager congratulated business for its initiative so far, particularly for providing funds for the study that led to the loop road proposal.

The state has looked favorably on the loop plan, he said, and already has given trunkline approval to it.

"This means the city will have to bear only 12½ per cent of the cost of constructing the new highway," Willman reminded his listeners.

Although actual construction is still more than a year away, the city is hoping to work out an agreement whereby it can begin right-of-way purchase, with reimbursement by the state later, Willman said.

The loop is designed to free downtown Pontiac of traffic congestion, Willman said, allowing the entire business section to take on aspects of a giant shopping center.

The manager also cited progress in construction programs at Pontiac Municipal Airport and Pontiac General Hospital and outlined plans for a new library and main fire station.

He said the city's financial position was "excellent," especially in comparison with the present crisis in state government.

As an index, he pointed out that even with approval of the $3,300,000 sewage treatment bonds at the April 6 election, the city will have drawn on only about two-sevenths of its present bonding potential of $21,600,000.

Details of the manager's talk; Pontiac Municipal Airport. A $390,000 federal-aid construction program is under way this year, providing for the terminal building and tower, important construction from the point of view of commercial and passenger flights.

A major storm is reported from the Southeast. A record 9.87 inches of rain deluged the Charleston, S. C., Airport in a 24-hour period. It measured 4.34 inches in downtown Charleston. Apalachicola, Fla., had 7.51 inches of rain.

Another Police Rebellion Looms

18 Angered Pontiac Officers Are Eying Phoenix Positions

Eighteen police officers were making plans for a caravan to Phoenix, Ariz., in search of new jobs, it was learned.

Individual officers confirmed a report that plans for a mass trek to Phoenix were in the making, but none would be quoted.

The officers said they will take police Civil Service examinations in Phoenix on March 30. They plan to make the trip by car.

The newest development in the police fracas came after City Manager Walter K. Willman testified last night in the removal hearing of suspended Police Chief Herbert W. Straley.

The officers — all ex-servicemen —were angered by Willman's remarks that World War II veterans were responsible for much of the dissension in the Police Department.

Willman said some veterans displayed a lax attitude and did not show a complete dedication to duty.

Those planning the trip accused Willman of not supporting Public Safety Director George D. Eastman in his testimony.

The officers vowed to leave the department for other jobs if Straley is reinstated as chief.

Two lieutenants, four sergeants, eight patrolmen and four detectives have indicated they will make the journey. They have a total 156 years of experience.

Eastman said this morning he had heard reports of the officers' plans but declined comment. No officers have sought leave time around March 30, he said.

Willman was out of town and unavailable for comment.

Legislators Go Home Without Action on Crisis

Only Choices Seem to Be Tapping Vets' Fund or Payless Paydays

LANSING (AP)—The Legislature adjourned for the weekend today without further action in the state's cash emergency.

Both the Senate and House quit until 8 p.m., Monday after working less than an hour.

As both Republican and Democratic leaders read it, the script spelled:

1. Liquidation, or at least mortgaging, of the Veterans Trust Fund late next month.

2. And a greatly heightened chance of payless paydays in early May.

The House today rejected for a second time a borrowing proposal to bail the state out of its cash emergency.

The action came as Rep. Rollo G. Conlin, Republican tax expert, was conferring with Gov. Williams on an 11th hour sales tax compromise tied to a borrowing proposition.

Williams returned from California today following a three-hour delay in his flight schedule. He and Conlin went into conference immediately.

The House vote was 55-43, far short of the 74 votes needed for passage. After failing on its second try, the proposition was dead for good. But there was a possibility a new one would be submitted if the governor went along with Conlin's idea.

Unanimous consent for reconsideration also would revive it.

Acting on his own, Conlin said he would offer "as a basis for discussion" a one cent sales tax increase for six months, pleaded to back up a 50 million dollar bond issue.

'LEAVE NO CHOICE'

In an exchange of recriminations with Republicans, Williams said

County Hit by Heavy Runoff

Straley Did 'a Pretty Fair Job'

By MAX E. SIMON

Suspended Police Chief Herbert W. Straley was "doing a pretty fair job," City Manager Walter K. Willman told the Civil Service Commission last night.

Nevertheless, Willman said, he "agreed" with removal charges against the chief which the Commission is considering.

Willman, who suspended Straley on Feb. 9 and sent charges against him to the Commission, was expected to be a key witness for the prosecution. Instead, Willman called Straley a "meticulous, industrious worker."

The city manager also said Straley was never disrespectful nor insubordinate in their conversations. "He never used vulgar or profane language," Willman said.

"I never saw the chief lose his temper, but I know he has one," Willman declared. "At times, he was pretty disgusted.

NO MAJOR CONFLICTS

"No major conflicts existed between us," the city manager said.

Willman hired Straley as police chief in November 1951. The chief is accused of incompetency and inefficiency, insubordination, neglect of duty and failure to maintain good behavior.

Willman told the Commission he obtained pledges from both Public Safety Director George D. Eastman and Straley to work together when Eastman took over as director in October 1958.

The safety director was hired by Willman after the Public Administration Service (PAS) report ripped the department for inefficiency and found morale low.

Complaints from both Eastman and Straley almost immediately started coming into his office, Willman declared. "There were rumblings from one side, then the other," he recalled. "It didn't take too long to see it wouldn't work."

WALTER K. WILLMAN

The city manager said the working relationship between Straley and Eastman was "the shortest honeymoon on record."

It was of the "Hollywood type," Willman said.

He said he never asked Straley to resign, but told the chief if he didn't "resign as gracefully as possible" he would have to defend himself against charges.

Once the charges drafted by Eastman were in his hands, the manager said, he decided he had no choice but to send them to the Civil Service Commission.

"I accept full responsibility for them," Willman told the Commission.

Willman said he recommended the PAS study of the department because the Pontiac Police Officers Assn. was "crying for the chief's scalp," and businessmen, the press and radio were calling for an investigation.

He said the police situation was "rapidly deteriorating" before the Public Administration Service of Chicago was hired to study department conditions.

Whenever Straley attempted to institute a new policy, it was as 'Operation Deepfreeze' Leader Gets Along on Wing and Prayer

By JOHN L. SHERRILL

In his book, "Operation Deepfreeze," Rear Admiral George J. Dufek wrote: "There have been so many times in my life when all my experience and all the resources at my command have been useless. At these times I have gone into my cabin and knelt before my bunk and prayed . . . Something always happened . . . I can't explain it and I don't intend to try."

DUFEK

One such experience began for him on Feb. 3, 1956, at his Operation Deepfreeze headquarters in Antarctica with radio dispatch: Seven men were missing . . .

Three years earlier, Adm. Dufek had been assigned the task of establishing year-round scientific bases in Antarctica. After two years of planning, Dufek started construction of two bases late in 1955: one on the coast at McMurdo Sound, and one 450 miles along the coast to the eastward at Little America.

A tractor train set out from Little America to scout a trail to the site of Byrd Base—500 miles inland—to be built the following year.

MESSAGE, THEN SILENCE

At 5:15 a.m., on the morning of Feb. 3, an "Otter" (a single-engined plane especially adapted to cold-weather flying) piloted by Lt. Paul Streich, departed from the tractor train on the lonely Byrd Base trail to fly six passengers back to Little America. A few minutes later came his last radio contact:

Then silence.

All of Dufek's planes, except two short-range Otters, had been flown out of the Antarctic for the winter. Therefore any search parties would have to operate out of Little America, 450 miles closer to the accident. Could the Otters be blown from McMurdo to Little America in the February gales? Dufek radioed Capt. Douglas Cordiner at Little America to find out.

"You can't fly anything in here now," said Cordiner. "The weather has closed in."

"Let me know the minute it lifts," Dufek radioed back. "In the meantime, what about ground teams?"

Capt. Cordiner radioed the leader of the tractor train on the Byrd Base trail to retrace his tracks. From Little America another tractor train set out to meet them.

One day had already gone when a faint distress signal was picked up.

On the second day after the crash there were two more faint signals. Then, again, silence . . .

Pioneer Speeds Beyond Hearing

Space Probe's Signals Fade at 412,000 Miles on Path to Sun

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pioneer IV vanished into space today and may never be heard from again.

The space probe tracking station at Goldstone, Calif., lost contact at 10:15 a.m. today when the probe's transmitting signals became very weak.

At that time the probe was traveling toward the sun at about 3,960 m.p.h., 412,000 miles from the earth.

The last contact was made at about 10:24 a.m.

Asked if there was any likelihood of further contact with Pioneer IV a spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said it was unlikely.

He added that since the probe's battery apparently had gone dead, it was unlikely that the Goldstone station would make any further search for it.

"We think that this is it," he said.

"Pioneer IV is gone forever."

NASA scientists calculated the distance at 403,000 miles and the gold-plated cone's speed at 3,960 miles an hour.

At that time the Pioneer had been under radio observation for about 80 hours, longer than any other such space traveler.

Earlier a "really good signal" was reported by the General Electric Co. tracking station at Schenectady, N.Y., from nearly 400,000 miles. That was at 5:02 a.m.

Loss of the signal does not mean that science would have no idea as to the location of Pioneer IV. On the basis of excellent tracking during the first 400,000 miles of its journey, NASA astronomers can calculate with fair precision the orbit it will follow around the sun.

GM Truck Sales for February Up 47 Per Cent

Sales of 1959 General Motors Corp. trucks during the month of February were 47 per cent above those for the same period of last truck sales manager for GMC Truck & Coach Division, reported today.

& Coach Division, reported today.

Woodhouse also said that the combined total of 11,829 GMC truck sales for the first two months of 1959 were 40 per cent above the corresponding months of last year.

"Although February had fewer selling days than the months previous," Woodhouse said, "the daily selling rate rose for the third consecutive month, indicating the rapidly increasing need for new trucks in the farm, construction, fleet and other large truck markets," Woodhouse said.

Woodhouse and P. J. Monaghan, general manager of the division and General Motors vice president, have just completed with other GMC officials 12 of a planned 22 showings across the country of a new GMC lightweight Diesel highway tractor.

Wide Area Hit by Rising Water After Rain, Thaw

Mounting flood waters burst into at least two Pontiac area homes today, causing extensive damage, as more rain, snow and sleet threatened waterlogged Oakland County.

Pressure from ponding ground waters collapsed foundations of dwellings in Waterford Township and Walled Lake, while another home in Orion Township was flooded by three inches of water.

Dozens of other homes suffered minor damage from basement flooding and water seepage as the Weather Bureau warned that three to four inches of snow would accumulate here by morning.

Ominously, the Weather Bureau cautioned that new precipitation would add to the flood threat today and tonight, increasing the store of ground water dumped on the area by last night's rain.

Thaw temperatures during the daytime were also a danger, unlocking the tons of snow and ice that built up in the past two months, the weatherman warned.

Flooding centered in valleys and low spots where ground waters have been collecting for the past several weeks.

Severely damaged were a $15,000 home at 5334 Clinton River Dr. in Waterford Township and a basement home at 1193 W. Maple Rd. in Walled Lake.

Ponding waters surrounding the Clinton River road home collapsed a basement wall about 4 a.m. this morning, sending four feet of water swirling into the basement and tilting the home forward on its foundation.

William Libby, who lives there, said he was awakened by a loud cracking noise, leaped from his bed and found the house leaning at an angle, walls cracked and furniture jammed forward.

Water was pouring into the basement "like Niagara Falls," he said.

Fearing the whole house would collapse, Libby hurriedly carried his two children, William, 4, and Kimberly, 2, to a neighbor's. His wife, Marilyn, was at Pontiac General Hospital, where she is employed as a night-shift nurse.

In Walled Lake, the damage to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hattis was discovered by neighbors. The Hattis family is vacationing in the south, they said.

Pressure from ponding waters caved in one cement-block wall of the basement home, hurtling five feet of water into the building.

Sheriff's Deputy Roland G. Piess said virtually all of the couple's possessions appeared to be ruined.

Flood waters began seeping into the basementless home of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Wright, 3442 Chalice St., Orion Township, about 6:30 a.m.

By noon, the water had risen to about three inches in depth. Outside, ponding waters were knee deep.

The family propped its furniture and possessions off the floor, hoping the water would stop rising.

"If the water keeps on going up, everything will be ruined," said Mrs. Wright.

Low spots throughout the county were threatened by the mounting tide.

Midwest Storm Flays Michigan

Snowdrifts Trap Buses, Schools Close; Roof Caves In at Cadillac

By The Associated Press

A vast March storm today spread into new territory with driving snow and smashing winds.

The storm that had dumped up to 1½ feet of snow on eight Midwestern states was centered in Michigan this morning.

Houghton reported the storm was the worst of the winter, with high winds drifting the snow and cutting visibility to a maximum of a quarter mile. Most schools in the area were closed.

The new storm brought the winter's snowfall at Houghton to 230 inches. The record was in 1949-50 when 282.2 inches fell up to May 3, 1950.

Two Greyhound buses were stuck in snowdrifts in the Cheboygan area just south of the Straits of Mackinac. Scores of schools had to close.

A Greyhound bus with about 10 passengers aboard was reported by State Police to be stranded in a snowdrift on U.S. 27, 12 miles south of Cheboygan in the Mullet Lake area.

All schools in Cheboygan County were closed.

St. Ignace, north of the Straits of Mackinac, was virtually isolated. Schools in the area were closed. Main roads as well as side roads were blocked by snowdrifts.

Traffic across the Straits of Mackinac Bridge was almost at a standstill.

Eleven brand new Chevrolets were "flattened like pancakes" under tons of snow and ice when the roof of a building in Cadillac where they were being stored collapsed today. Damage to the building and its contents was estimated at between $50,000 and $75,000.

At Sault Ste. Marie, Jim Bennett got instructions by phone from the family doctor and with the help of an aunt delivered a baby boy today.

In the Detroit area, heavy rains fell and some sewers and drains were reported plugged.

Elsewhere, much of Iowa, hit by its worst March snowstorm in 10 years, was nearly paralyzed.

Air travel was grounded in many places. Many schools in Iowa and Wisconsin were closed. Business and industry slowed operations, with workers hampered by travel conditions.

Snow Falls on Mackie

ST. IGNACE (AP)—State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie today was reported blocked by snow on U. S. Highway 2 at Rudyard between Sault Ste. Marie and St. Ignace. Mackie telephoned that he would be late for a luncheon meeting here.

Straley Did Fair Job, Says City Manager

He said it would be "exceedingly difficult to have peace and quiet" in the Police Department if Straley was restored to office.

"But the chief's not completely at fault," Willman said.

The PAS report was not recommended, said the city manager, because the department was inefficient, because of traffic safety problems, or because of laxity in apprehending criminals.

"I felt that the city could not get the best work possible from police with dissension in the department," Willman said.

Under cross-examination, Willman said he was aware of strife among police officers before the adoption of the Civil Service Act but said the dissension was more "noteworthy" after the adoption of the act in April 1957.

The manager said he agreed with certain policies Straley had in mind for the department, but forced the chief to abandon them because of the objections from PPOA members.

On the other hand, Willman said, he disagreed quite often with Straley. "He's rigid in his thinking," the manager said, "whereas, I'm more on the soft side."

Willman said he had been called "The Great Pacifier" in mediating police disputes.

Willman admitted refusing Straley's request to file charges with the Commission against an officer who falsified a promotion application by stating he had never been arrested.

In reply to questions of Straley's attorney, Clarence L. Smith, Willman said the police officer had been arrested three times.

He said he had consulted City Attorney William A. Ewart about the matter and had been told the charges would not stand up in court.

He said the officer was later promoted despite the arrests, one for stealing money from parking meters.

One of the farthest things from his mind when he hired Eastman was the safety director taking over direct command of the department, Willman said.

"But Eastman was in complete charge," he said. "Once I appointed him, I took myself out of the war."

Willman said he knew of nothing done by Straley to show he couldn't work with Eastman, and did not investigate the feud.

Willman did mildly rebuke the chief for delegating more work to subordinates. "General work buries a man," he said.

Willman refused to discuss the central records system which Eastman has started in the Police Department. "I know nothing of it," he said. "I have enough trouble keeping up my own files."

Willman glumly listened as Smith played a tape recording of a speech made by the manager a week before Eastman arrived in Pontiac, in which Willman said Straley had the confidence of the city administration.

In his speech, Willman called the PPOA "combative" and accused it of keeping its membership concealed. He said the group was made up of 40 per cent of the department — "some of whom joined not too willingly."

World War II veterans who joined the force after being discharged were creating much of the strife, Willman charged. He said they showed a "laxness of attitude and dedication."

He told the commission that although Eastman has perhaps taken the PPOA faction "under his wing a little more than others" he felt the director could eliminate friction in the department.

"He should start immediately," Willman said.

Legislature Adjourns Without Crisis Action

Speaker Don R. Pears (R-Buchanan) retorted that every compromise offered by the House GOP leadership was "flatly turned down by Democrats."

For practical purposes, the doom was sealed yesterday for a borrowing solution to the state's cash emeregency when the House killed the last two remaining vehicles for putting a proposal on the spring election ballot.

The main test ended in a 55 to 43 vote on a resolution to boost the state debt ceiling from $250,000 to 50 million dollars.

Republicans almost solidly opposed it because no tax was provided to repay the bond issue. The proposition needed 74 favorable votes.

Conlin was asked if it was the end of the line.

"I think it is," he replied.

Rep. Joseph J. Kowalski of Detroit, house Democratic leader, said later "we're always hopeful but I don't see what can be done at this point."

"Everything's dead as far as I can see," said Rep. Allison Green of Kingston, GOP floor leader. "That is, unless the governor can open the door (to the sale tax). We have nothing else in mind ourselves."

A Democratic insider said "I'm reconciled to payless paydays."

It was conceded all the way round that although the Veterans Trust Fund assuredly is a sitting duck it won't get the business until after April 6 for political reasons—barring major unforeseen developments.

State aid to local school districts will fall about 36 million dollars in arrears next week, a state official said today.

Report Flooding in County Homes

"We're stranded here. We'll have to get a boat in order to get out to get groceries," said Mrs. McCarty.

Township officials reported they, too, were flooded—with telephone calls for help in pumping away water.

Waterford Township firemen spent hours early today pumping water away from the Libby home.

Roads generally were in good shape, but the Sheriff's Department warned that a freeze today could cause dangerous glaze.

Redford State Police said low spots on Northwestern highway between Eight Mile road and Telegraph were flooded, but traffic was able to pass through at a slow pace.

Traffic in the westbound lane of the Farmington-Brighton Expressway was tied up north of Novi early this morning because of flooding, State Police said.

The intersection of Orchard Lake and 12-mile roads was threatened by a tributary of the River Rouge, which was nearing flood stage.

Snow flurries and turning colder is the prediction for the Pontiac area tonight. The low will be near 25 degrees.

Saturday's forecast calls for partly cloudy weather with little temperature change, the high around 36. Sunday and Monday will be partly cloudy and a little warmer.

The lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 35 degrees. The reading at 1 p.m. was 30.

Victim's Widow Wins $43,000 in Accident Suit

A $43,000 settlement, considered to be the largest for a traffic accident judgment in Oakland County Circuit Court, was reached yesterday in favor of the widow of a Pontiac garage mechanic killed last April 30 in Bloomfield Township.

Circuit Judge William J. Beer signed an order giving the award to Mary E. Grassi, formerly of 27 Edna St., and her four children, ranging in age from 2 to 16.

The judgment was against Edward F. Petsch, 60, a salesman from Detroit for the Timkin-Detroit Axle Division of the Rockwell Standard Corp. Both Petsch and the corporation were sued by Carl Grassi, administrator for the estate of Anthony Grassi.

Anthony Grassi, 41, was killed when Petsch's car struck his autowrecker at the intersection of Franklin and Square Lake roads. The suit contended that Petsch was speeding and went through a stop street.

A negligent homicide charge against Petsch will be dropped at the request of complainants, according to George F. Taylor, chief assistant prosecutor.

Flannery is alleged to have beaten his roommate, Thomas Neitling, 21, with the shotgun until the stock broke, last Nov. 25. His battered body was found the next morning in the room which the two shared.

Detroit Police Lieut. Garnett Hines, to whom Flannery allegedly confessed killing Neitling, testified that Flannery talked freely about everything except the actual crime. When talking about that, Hines said, he spoke more slowly.

Under cross-examination by Defense Attorney Joseph W. Louisell, Hines said Flannery never gave him any reason for the crime. Under continued questioning, Hines said FGlannery told him Neitling sometimes came home drunk and teased him and threw him out of bed.

Bees Have Had It, Too

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Bees apparently are getting ready for spring. The Agriculture Department's semi-monthly "Honey Market News" reports that "bees are becoming restless and are in need of warmer weather."

Confession 'a Hoax'

YOKOHAMA (UPI) — Jobless Yashimasa Sunazawa, 38, told police today he falsely confessed to murdering his father, who had committed suicide, because he wanted to go to jail so relatives would have to pay the funeral expenses. He did and they did.

Manager Willman Eyes Improvements

er than anticipated and the airport soon will be self-sustaining. It remained the third busiest airport in the state last year.

Next year's construction program calls for extending the east-west runway to 5,500 feet, ample space to handle all two-engine aircraft and some four-engine. Property and clearance rights have already been obtained.

Pontiac General Hospital. The main portion of the expansion program (the 216-bed addition) is completed. The hospital won't be self-supporting, however, until remodeling of the old building is finished, turning it into a 155-bed patient area.

"The old wing is the bread-and-butter section of the hospital, as far as revenues are concerned. It will make the difference between a losing operation and a financially successful one."

As the city completes negotiations to have local contractors undertake to make repairs to utilities in the old wing, it is still looking to the Detroit Area Hospital Council for a $300,000 grant to help pay for them.

Discovery last fall that the utilities had to be repaired to the tune of an estimated $350,000—$400,000 led to a halt in the expansion program. If the Hospital Council grant doesn't come through, the city will have to take the extra money for the repairs out of 1961 capital improvement funds. The hospital has promised to pay the city back someday for whatever new public funds are required to get the expansion program under way.

Main Library. The city has saved up $400,000 to begin construction of the new main library this year. A $500,000 limit has been set on its construction cost and no more than $100,000 will go into its furnishings.

Planned as the main feature of the Pontiac centennial celebration next year, the library will be across Parke street from the City Hall, probably fronting on E. Pike street.

Architects are drawing up plans for submission early this summer. The pay-as-you-go financing arrangements will be the same as those covering other new buildings in the growing civic center.

New Main Fire Station. Land for the building has been purchased on the north side of Pike street, across from the Public Safety Building.

Although the City Commission has not yet definitely scheduled the new building for construction, the administration hopes to have approval in time to begin it in 1961.

"Addition of the fire station will give us a civic center second to none for a city of this size."

Water. Plans for the city to join in the Southeastern Michigan Water Authority project for a Lake Huron pipeline are still dependent upon whether the City of Detroit joins in, too.

"Detroit is still the big potential customer. If it agrees to buy authority water to service its customers in South Oakland County, then there will be sufficient revenues to make the pipeline financially possible and we can join in."

"Industry and householders alike would like to have the purer Lake Huron water."

A new, virtually unlimited supply of pure water would be a boon to new expansion, however.

Expressways. The Oakland County expressway just east of Pontiac is definitely set, as far as route is concerned, and is scheduled for construction beginning next year.

The Day in Birmingham

Bloomfield School Bond, Tax Millage Increase OK'd

BIRMINGHAM — Bloomfield Hills School District voters supported the Board of Education request for a school construction bond issue and an operational increase in tax millage.

The $790,000 bond issue was approved 1,975 to 1,170. A millage increase of 4.6 for three years with a drop to 3.6 for the following three years was carried by a 2,102 to 1,185 vote.

Approximately 50 per cent of the district's 6,600 eligible voters turned out. Total millage will be 22.2 per $1,000 assessed valuation.

School Superintendent Eugene Johnson said a Board of Education meeting is scheduled for Monday night to push plans for the 12-room Junior High School addition. This must be ready for the fall term opening if the school load is to be met, he added.

Also included in the bond issue is an eight-room elementary school on Quarton road. Johnson said this was scheduled to open in the fall of 1960.

Departments of Public Works throughout the area this morning report scattered calls of flooded basements. For the most part they are due to surface water rather than backed-up sewers, officials said.

Persons 18 or over who are residents of Birmingham or patrons of the Birmingham Post Office may apply for positions as clerks and carriers, Postmaster Roland Reese said today.

Complete information and proper application blanks may be obtained at the post office here. Civil Service examinations for permanent appointments will be scheduled shortly.

At 8 p.m. Monday Karl Trump, associate professor of vocal music at Wooster College, Wooster, Ohio, will direct the college's 40-voice male choir in a public program at the First Presbyterian Church here.

The group presents a varied program of songs from other nations, great music of the church, a series of Scottish airs and American folk songs from the South.

One of the program's highlights is the appearance of Gloria Miranda, young Argentine pianist. Five young women, including Miss Miranda, travel with the group as special soloists and instrumentalists. Among the latter are Laurie Benz and Margorie Ward, who play the bagpipes.

Twister Strikes Monroe Plant

None Hurt as Squall Sucks Out 60-Foot Wall at Ford Factory

MONROE (AP)—A wind squall, described by police as a small tornado, sucked out a 60-foot section of a wall of the Ford Motor Co. plant in Monroe today.

No one was reported injured and the plant continued operation.

Some 250 employes were working on the night shift when the storm struck without warning at 3:40 a.m. The storm blew down a few utility poles in the industrial area but the rest of the city was not affected.

The main force of the wind centered on the north wall of the plant's steel storage area. The wall is of cement block construction with a superstructure of window panes.

"It sounded like two railroad trains coming together," said Pete Raft, the plant's industrial relations manager.

Employes working in the manufacturing area of the plant said a big draft suddenly swept through the plant. But electric lights stayed on and there was no confusion.

Sales Up in February

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. says it sold 12,304 Mercury and 4,179 Edsel models in February. Ford says the figures compared with 10,155 Mercury sales in February, 1958. It said the Edsel sales were a 28 per cent increase over the same month last year.

Milk Delivery Truck Catches Fire in Romeo

ROMEO—A Van Hoosen farm milk delivery truck caught fire at 9:45 a.m. today while the driver was making a delivery at 246 N. Main St., here.

The driver, Bruce Emmons, 29, of Stony Creek road, Rochester, said the blaze was caused by a kerosene stove in the front of the truck which flared up suddenly.

Arkansas Probes Reformatory Fire

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — State fire officials moved today to place or absolve blame for a predawn blaze which killed 21 teenagers at the Negro Boys Industrial School Thursday.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus, who visited the scene at nearby Wrightsville while the ruins smouldered, called the tragedy inexcusable. He said it could not have happened "except for the negligence of someone."

Sixty-nine youth between the ages of 15 and 18 were locked in a dormitory in the north wing of a large building which was leveled less than an hour after the blaze was discovered.

Forty-seven escaped death by fleeing through windows after kicking out heavy metal screens. The doors to the building were never unlocked. No one with a key was in the building when the fire broke out.

Some Do Start Young, but This Is Ridiculous

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Jimmy Dowling is only 2 years old but already a veteran smoker.

His mother, Mrs. George W. Dowling, said her infant son started smoking when he was 15 months old. She doesn't know what got him started.

Mrs. Dowling said her physician assured her Jimmy would get over the habit by himself sooner or later.

To Vote Monday in Westwood

Two Issues, Four Posts on Ballot in Village Election

WESTWOOD — Registered voters in the village will decide two special issues on Monday's election ballot along with filling four council posts.

The proposals include one which would enable Westwood to take over control of the water system within its boundaries which is now handled by Bloomfield Township; the other is to change the village's name to Beverly Hills.

Approval by 60 per cent of he votes cast is needed to open negotiations with the township on the water issue, whereas a simple majority will change the name of the village.

Seven candidates are vying for the council posts, three of which are for two-year terms and the other for one year. The outcome will be decided by vote totals with the person polling fourth taking the position for the one-year term and the three highest pollers in for two-year terms.

Candidates are Chester F. Guilmet, Douglas J. Wood and Edward M. Shurtleff, all incumbents, and Floyd G. Abatt, Herman Drazick, Leo J. Linsenmeyer and John A. McClanathan.

Robert Larsen, whose term of office expires at this time has declined to run again.

To Operate Walled Lake Schools

Asking for 2-Mill Tax Increase

WALLED LAKE — The Walled Lake Board of Education is asking electors to authorize a 2-mill increase in the school operating tax levy at a special election Monday.

School officials say that if the proposal is passed it will not mean any increase in taxes because the board will reduce the debt levy by the same 2 mills per $1,000 assessed valuation.

The authorization of the 2 mills for operating would make approximately an additional $93,000 a year available.

Some of the reasons for seeking additional operational funds is the delinquency in payment of state funds, an additional enrollment of 400 students anticipated for next fall, and the need to staff the 22 rooms of the new junior high school, superintendent Clifford H. Smart said today.

He added that the district will probably end up $50,000 in the red this year, even if the state is able to come through with a 100 per cent payment. Reason for this, Smart said, is that expenses have been running way over estimates made at the time budgets were prepared last year.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. at the following locations: Walled Lake Junior High School for Precinct 1; Union Lake School for Precinct 2; Commerce Elementary School for Precinct 3; Wixom Elementary School for Precinct 4; and Glengary Elementary School for Precinct 5.

Mr. and Mrs. Palmentier are both past presidents of the League. They will demonstrate their beginning efforts and the progress they made toward experienced techniques.

People interested in movies or photo club membership are invited to attend the meeting.

Body Taken From River Is Hazel Park Father

HAZEL PARK — The body of a Hazel Park father of four was recovered yesterday from the St. John's River, 18 miles northwest of St. Augustine, Fla.

James H. O'Neal, 52, of 560 Hamata St. had been missing eight days from the home of a sister, Mrs. Tolliver H. Williams, with whom he was visiting in Jacksonville, Fla.

Two Oldsters Fight; One Hit With Hammer

ALMONT—Two septuagenarians had an argument last night over a broken-down car and one ended up hitting the other twice on the head with a hammer, Romeo State Police reported today.

Hospitalized was Leo Wernet, 74, of 80455 Capac Rd., near here. He was hit by Irving Crull, 75, of the same address.

Crull owns the house where he lives and also the small shack Wernet occupies behind the main house. The fight took place in the shack.

The argument started when Crull offered Wernet $10 to have the latter's car fixed. Wernet told police he thought Crull "was trying to trick him."

As the exchange of words became more heated, Crull grabbed a hammer and struck Wernet.

The victim was taken to Community Hospital near here with a scalp laceration and a swelling over the left eye.

No warrant has been issued, police said.

Vet Offers Check for Yankus Fine

Royal Oak Teacher Wants to Pledge Help to 'Rebel' Farmer

A disabled Royal Oak war veteran's letter in which he pledges to contribute his monthly compensation checks to help pay the fine imposed by the U.S. Government on Stanley Yankus, the "rebel" Dowagiac farmer, was received yesterday in the nation's capitol.

Rep. Clare E. Hoffman (R-Mich) who represents Yankus' congressional district found a check for $19 enclosed with the letter from Loren M. Knowles, 37, of 1109 E. Fifth St., Royal Oak.

"This is to help pay the fine Yankus incurred by attempting to be an American," Knowles wrote.

He added "I don't think I'm disabled any more and shouldn't be getting the checks anyway." Knowles is a chemistry teacher at Lawrence Institute of Technology in Detroit.

"It's sort of poetic justice that a fine Yankus shouldn't be paying should be paid with a check I shouldn't be collecting," Knowles concluded.

Yankus had already paid his debt to Uncle Sam and has announced his intention to forsake this country for Australia where he knows of no wheat restrictions.

Pomona Grange Meets With Lone Pine Grange

2 Councilmen on Ballot in Wood Creek Election

WOOD CREEK—Only the two incumbent council members whose jobs are open to election Monday will face opposition. Village President Alger Clark is unopposed for his second term.

Incumbent councilmen Harry Lang Jr. and Norman Krieder are being challenged by Mrs. Conrad R. Lam and William Scott. The term is for two years in both cases.

In Franklin Election Monday

Voting on 3 Special Issues

FRANKLIN — Voters here will have three special issues facing them in Monday's election. They are:

1. Should the village join and purchase capacity rights from the Evergreen Interceptor Sewer?

2. Should the village levy as much as eight mills in village taxes for road improvements.

3. Should the village have authority to issue bonds to finance road construction and improvements under special assessment districts?

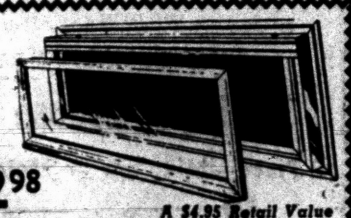

In addition, voters here will elect three councilmen, a village clerk, treasurer and assessor.

Six candidates are seeking the three two-year council terms to be filled. They are Donald W. Hunter and William Worcester, both incumbents, and William L. Kahn, Dr. Duane B. Lurkins, Arthur R. Marshall and Frederick K. Ziegal.

Two women are competing for the village clerk position. They are Emma F. Coburn and Elsie M. Garwood.

Matched against each other for treasurer's job are Archie McCardell and Robert Winkel; and for the post of assessor, Alfred C. Emmerling and Leo J. Wishman.

Addison Group Asks Write-In for Hickmott

ADDISON TOWNSHIP—A group of township citizens have organized a "Donald Hickmott for Treasurer" committee and have named Mrs. Melvin W. Thorman to serve as chairman and Elmer Powell as treasurer.

Members have asked Hickmott to allow his name to be placed on the ballot in the April 6 election as a sticker or write-in candidate.

Hickmott was defeated in balloting for the nomination to seek re-election to his present post by fellow Republican Walter Griffin in the Feb. 16 primary. The vote was 113 to 108.

In addition to pushing the candidacy of Hickmott, the newly formed committee is promoting registration for the forthcoming election. It is a matter of record that one half of the eligible voters in the township are not registered, they said.

All persons must be registered by next Monday in order to cast their ballots in the April election, Mrs. Thorman stated today.

Held 4 in Alabama Flight

Convict Releases Hostages

FLAT ROCK, Ala. (AP) — A state patrolman, a married couple and a fellow convict held hostage more than 12 hours by a gunman breaking out of police custody were turned loose unhurt on a highway near this northeast Alabama town early today.

The escaped convict, William E. Smothers, continued his flight toward the Tennessee line in the married couple's car.

The highway patrol said he was believed headed for Chattanooga, Tenn.

The highway patrolman, Otto Dees, 55, was taking Smothers in handcuffs and chains from Kilby Prison at Montgomery, Ala., to Birmingham for trial on a charge of possessing a pistol after conviction of a felony.

Smothers was serving 160 years on six robbery convictions.

Ted Easley, a trusty convict serving 25 years on a murder conviction, was driving the car.

Smothers left the police car at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Noel Keith near Birmingham Thursday then took the Keiths, Easley and Dees with him in the Keith car.

Earlier, Smothers, Easley and Dees, with Smothers free of his handcuffs and chains, visited the home of Smothers' sister, Mrs. Fulton Weems, at Birmingham.

They summoned Smothers' father, E. F. Smothers, from his house next door.

"He asked for some clothing and I gave him a suit and $10," the elder Smothers said of his son. "There was no indication that anything was wrong."

About an hour later, a highway patrolman noticed the car outside Birmingham with Smothers at the wheel and Easley and Dees in the car.

There was nothing to indicate Dees was in trouble, the patrolman said, and he did not report the incident.

A neighbor spotted the police car parked at the Keiths' back door shortly after noon, but thought it was the car of a friend.

When the Keiths' 9-year-old son Don came home from school, he found the house empty and a note from his mother directing him to go to the home of an aunt nearby. A neighbor later found the Keith house empty, the Keiths' car gone, and the police car still parked beside the back door. He called police.

Police found convict clothing inside the police car and sent out an alarm over a seven-state area.

Ash of Volcano May Become Home Regular

CORTEZ, Colo. (UPI)—A chunk of Cochetopa Pass may one day be a standard item in the American refrigerator.

At least that's the hope of the backers of a firm which is grinding and packing volcanic ash from a 20-million-ton deposit on the Colorado mountain pass for sale as a refrigerator deodorizer.

The only other source for this type of volcanic ash—known as pumecite — is Italy, which now supplies practically all that is used in the United States.

Mining operations by Denite Products, Inc., have barely dented the huge deposit, but officials are investigating other possible applications such as sweeping compounds, air conditioning and acoustical plaster components.

Adlai Advises Russia:

Should Realize War Risk

BOSTON (AP)—Adlai Stevenson says the Soviets should understand that if they interfere with the West's freedom of access to Berlin they run the risk of war.

The two-time Democratic candidate for President advised the Soviet leaders in a speech Thursday night "not to mistake the underlying temper of our people."

"When the President says we will not give in to force, he speaks for all of us. I pray there are no illusions in Moscow on this vital score."

AGREES ABOUT 1960

At an earlier news conference Stevenson said he agreed with Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler that Stevenson would not seek the nomination in 1960.

"I agree with Mr. Butler. I am not a candidate in 1960," he said.

In his speech Stevenson berated Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev for "a tirade of abuse and threats" while British Premier Harold Macmillan was in Moscow.

"Are such threats and bullying the language of responsibility when the survival of humanity is at stake?" Stevenson asked.

Noting Soviet explanations that the "tough talk" was for campaign purposes, Stevenson quipped: "I haven't noticed that the Communist party needed much help in Soviet elections."

Stock Growth Pays for Church Sanctuary

LAWRENCEBURG, Tenn. (AP) — The First Presbyterian Church's new $200,000 sanctuary has just about everything the 56-member congregation could want. And it's all paid for.

How could such a small group pay cash?

In 1949, the church received a gift of stock from the late Richard S. Reynolds Sr., president of the Reynolds Metals Co.

By last year the stock had increased in value enough to pay the costs of the new building.

Boston was the site of the first YMCA in the U.S., although Montreal's "Y" was established four days earlier.

Medical Group Formed for Worldwide Health

In his 1958 State of the Union message President EISENHOWER stressed the need for worldwide exchange of medical knowledge and asked for legislation to implement our part of the program.

At the same time and at the invitation of Congress the United Nations General Assembly by unanimous vote asked the World Health Organization to carry out plans for an International Health and Medical Research Year in 1961 along the lines of the International Geophysical Year.

As a follow-up Sen. Hill now has introduced a bill in Congress proposing establishment of a National Institute of International Medical Research. Supporting the bill is a long list of Democratic and Republican Senators and at the hearings before the Labor and Public Welfare Committee a distinguished group of witnesses all testified in its favor.

The Institute would be authorized to spend $50 million a year to encourage medical search abroad, train technicians, improve facilities and co-ordinate efforts of different countries. Research findings for control of disease would be made available to all.

The need for more medical supplies, hospitals and medical training for underdeveloped countries always is acute and has been brought to public attention from time to time by such men as Drs. Seagrave of Burma, and Schweitzer in Equatorial Africa. Recently on television Dr. Dooley who is in charge of a clinic in Laos, made eloquent appeals for assistance.

A worldwide movement for the promotion of health would help break down barriers of suspicion and distrust and would be a strong weapon for peace.

Insurance Companies to Pay More Taxes

After eight years study the House Ways and Means Committee and the Treasury finally have agreed on a sound plan for closing an income tax loophole enjoyed by life insurance companies.

Results of the existing formula, said Chairman MILLS, were in some cases "outrageous" with some companies paying taxes that were "ridiculously small in relation to profits. We are getting at the true income of life insurance companies for the first time since 1921."

The Administration bill had the support of such conservative Republicans as SIMPSON of Pennsylvania and the late DANIEL REED of New York. It provides that income on investments is to be taxed after making allowance for the building up of proper reserves. Other income is to be taxed in stages, half at the time it is earned and the rest when and if distributed to stockholders.

The measure is expected to yield $545 million in revenue, $226 million more than at present. Sponsors feel that the new plan is fair and will encourage the growth of new and small companies.

Waterford School Vote Deserves Much Praise

Voters in Waterford Township are to be congratulated for facing the facts squarely and okaying $5 million in school bonds for new building and operational costs in their school district.

The margin of victory was slight, but nevertheless enough to establish two records. They approved the biggest construction bond issue in the district's history, plus keeping intact their record of never thumbing down school financing money.

It is the individual's responsibility to weigh the facts and on election day express his opinion. In this case the majority of the people was determined that the necessity for new school buildings existed. They also realized that additional operating expenses were needed.

Like any growing community, school costs are skyrocketing. But what better line of defense for the years ahead do we have than education for our future citizens?

The School Board, with the able assistance of Superintendent WILLIAM SHUNCK, went directly to the people and appealed its case. The property owners responded and Waterford's fine school district will continue to prosper.

The Man About Town

Indians Learned It

And Now Do It Better Than Any White Men in Country

Miami Beach: Where the sharks come too close and the wolves go too far.

A fact not generally known is that the descendants of the early residents of the Pontiac area still have a monopoly on jewel bearing manufacture. The Chippewa Indians roamed this territory as far back as history goes.

They were gradually driven westward after taking sides too much with the early French settlers in their almost continual wars with the English. Each succeeding generation further forsook the old Indian ways, and got deeper into the marts of trade.

In this they did well. Several families learned jewel bearing. Now the only plant of this kind in the United States is at Rolla, North Dakota, operated by Chippewas under non-Indian supervision.

Experts say that the Indians in this work have created their monopoly by their native intelligence, superb eyesight, excellent muscular reflexes and a patience required in successfully working with the hard and miniature jewels.

Back in the city named for their early ruler it is interesting to note that these bearings are a vital part in the program that makes our present Pontiac the great city that it is.

It'll Be Some Time Before the Big Fish Fry

David Lawrence Says:

Khrushchev Backs Down Again

WASHINGTON — The Berlin crisis is running true to form. Just as it appears to be coming to a climax that could mean war, the Soviet bluffer-in-chief retreats a bit.

LAWRENCE

This is the art of maneuvering, which is historically known as dictatorship diplomacy.

The Soviet ruler now says that the May 27 deadline on forcing Western troops out of Berlin can be moved forward if "sensible negotiations" are under way with the Western powers.

The moves in the chess game are all too palpable. The British prime minister has said that the West might even be willing to pull some of its troops away from West Germany provided the Russians pulled away from East Germany.

This is a form of "disengagement" which has been debated for many months. In essence, it means a retreat and withdrawal by the West in the face of Soviet pressure.

It may not make the West Germans happy, but it satisfies the peace-at-any-price sentiment inside Britain, where the British prime minister faces political opposition from the appeaser group all the time.

Meanwhile, President Eisenhower at his press conference this week was careful not to criticize the British prime minister's mission or its results because, after all, the purpose of the visit was solely to elicit information as to the Kremlin ruler's attitude rather than to reach agreements.

As a piece of probing of the other side's intentions, it was to some degree successful.

Macmillan can also retreat if need be when he finds the American, French and West German view to be in accord with the military recommendations of Gen. Norstad, commander of the NATO forces.

Military men of the West don't think it helps the morale of their forces to be withdrawing Allied troops from West Germany under pressure from Moscow.

Coincidentally in this country, the secretary of defense, Neil McElroy, at a news conference gave the impression that, far from retreating, the United States intends to advocate resistance by force should there be any attempt to compel the Allied troops to get out of Berlin in violation of the existing four-power wartime agreement.

McElroy said frankly that, if fighting breaks out over Berlin, he doesn't "quite see how you could avoid involving Russian forces," and that it would be "very difficult to keep it a limited war."

He added that "we do not see ourselves fighting Russia" in anything that could be called a small war.

The secretary also remarked that, while there would be reluctance to use nuclear weapons, they certainly would be used if necessary but that he hoped that the friction over Berlin "would not get to the point where that kind of war action would be required."

So from one side comes the usual pressure to win concessions by threat-of-war and bluff tactics.

From the other side comes the firm language of potential resistance so that the Soviets will not miscalculate and, in the belief that there would be no resistance at all take some step that would bring on war.

One reason for the cockiness of the Soviets is the reported belief in the Kremlin that the American people voted against the Eisenhower administration in the 1958 elections and that in 1960 a Democratic administration is coming into power which will be favorable to Moscow.

This impression has been given by the public utterances of some Democratic members of Congress, but it by no means reflects accurately the overwhelming sentiment of the Democratic Party.

There is every reason to believe that the majority in Congress are behind the administration in its firm policy.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Combat 'Gray Sickness' With Vegetables, Fruits

The medical name of the "green sickness," described here recently, was chlorosis. I use the past tense because this type of anemia seems to have become extinct in America since transportation and refrigeration wrought universal improvement in our nutrition.

DR. BRADY

While the green sickness is rarely diagnosed today, a similar type of anemia seems to have taken its place, namely, the gray sickness. The medical term for this is chronic hypochromic anemia. Hypochromic is an $18.75 word meaning deficiency of coloring matter.

So the blood count and coloring matter (hemoglobin) measurement are much like those characteristic of chlorosis (the green sickness); but chronic hypochromic anemia (the gray sickness) occurs mainly in women of 40 or thereabouts, especially women who try to subsist on an inadequate diet—coffee and roll breakfast, hot dog and pop lunch, meat and potato dinner.

Women with the gray sickness have lack-luster hair, parchment pallor, sagging corners of the mouth, flabby, wrinkled skin, flat or spooned nails that are brittle and cracked, sore tongue, often a difficulty in swallowing solid food. They complain that their hair began to turn gray at an early age but lately it has become hard to do anything with.

For further data on the gray sickness send stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for the FREE pamphlet on Nutritional Deficiency Anemia—The Gray Sickness.

Too many women with the gray sickness drift along from bad to worse as they fool around with this or that nostrum purporting to be good for "nervous exhaustion," "run down condition," indigestion with "gas," "auto-intoxication."

The young girls who had "green sickness" in days gone by owed their anemia, I believe, to lack of green leafy vegetables and fresh fruit throughout winter and spring. The older girls owe their anemia to insufficient daily intake of the same leafy green vegetables and fresh fruit.

The difference is that these health foods were not available in winter and spring before refrigeration and rapid transportation became essential in American life. The health foods (chief sources of vitamins and minerals) are available now, but some women are just too dumb to make 'em a part of their daily diet.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

'Insured Driver Shouldn't Have to Pay for Uninsured'

Concerning the proposed Motorist's Aid Fund, we voters should have something to say about it. A law should be passed to compel every car owner to carry at least property damage and public liability.

Why should we, who carry the maximum insurance, have to take extra expense for those who won't carry any or don't care enough about their own families to carry even some insurance? And why should we be taxed an extra ten dollars with our license plates to build up a fund for those who have no insurance and injure someone?

'Southern Negro, Return to South'

Southern Negro is a disgrace to the Negro race. He's no good to himself nor his people. The Negro is a proud man and sensitive. Southern Negro is the type without which the Southern white trash cannot survive. Go back to the Alabama fields. What will you do when your back is bent and you're unable to hoe a straight row of cotton. The white trash won't want you then. We won't own you. If you leave now you'll be just in time to meet that white man's mule Monday morning.

'Weatherman Has Been Very Close'

Your weatherman is about eight times as good as he was last summer. During the entire winter his predictions have been right almost every time and he has had a tough deal, for the weather has been very changeable.

He has called drops and rises in temperature and snow, sleet and rain very, very good.

I was a complainer last summer and now I want to applaud.

Fred Hulet

'Just Wait and See Who Gripes Most'

Our worst winter of all has practically ruined the streets, but the thing that interests me is the fact those who holler the loudest will be first to complain if it takes some extra tax money to clean up the mess.

All cities in the nation face a very expensive repair job and only patience will see it done at the least possible cost. If we do a rush job, it means extra dollars and the big complainers will be hard at it either way.

'Brooklyn Police Are Unhindered'

When I was in Brooklyn I saw this headline: "Kennedy Busts 4 Top Cops." Kennedy was head of the police force and evidently Brooklyn isn't handicapped by a civil service like we have in Pontiac. Down there they run the police force like a police force and not like a boy scout cub troop in some elementary school.

Taxpayer

Income Tax Notes

IS IT TAXABLE?

All amounts paid to you as compensation for personal services must be included in your gross income. Therefore, you must report wages, salaries, commissions, tips and other fees received.

Sometimes payment is in goods or services rather than money. In such cases, the fair market value of such goods and services must be shown as income on your income tax return.

The value of meals and lodgings you might receive are not income if furnished on the employer's premises and are for his convenience.

An individual who receives wages or salary from an employer must have a Form W-2 attached to the return. In some instances an individual who has more than one employer will have more than $94.50 of Social Security tax withheld from his pay.

This excess is allowed as additional income tax withheld if he uses the Form 1040.

The instruction book prepared by the Internal Revenue Service gives the average taxpayer the necessary help to properly prepare his income tax return.

You are urged to first read the instructions, then start your return. If a question arises, telephone your local Internal Revenue Service office for the answer.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

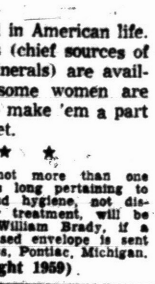

Child's Fear Needs 'Unconditioning'

Tommy has developed a sudden dread of the dark and grows hysterical with terror at bedtime. So learn how to "uncondition" such unwise fears or your child may go through life saddled with phobias and undue nervous tension. Use the strategy outlined below and rate yourselves by the "Tests for Good Parents."

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE A-471: Tommy R., aged 3, has developed a terrible fear of the dark.

"Dr. Crane," his worried mother began, "I think one of our baby sitters must have scared him with some ghost stories.

DR. CRANE

"But, regardless of how it started, Tommy now grows hysterical at bed time and screams and cries if we try to turn off the light in his bedroom.

"In fact, he pleads with his Daddy and me to PLEASE let him have his door open and the light on.

"Even then, he is tense and it is only because I praise him and tell him he is a BIG boy that he can stay in the room at all.

"So what can we do to get him relaxed and unafraid?"

"CONDITIONED" FEARS

Fear of the dark is not a native or inherited dread. It must be acquired in some way, as possibly by having ghosts or robbers linked with dark clothes closets or unlighted bedrooms.

Reassure your children by positively telling them there are no ghosts or gobblins, but that those are imaginary things, concocted by story-tellers to give folks goose pimples.

Remind the child, too, that God gives us darkness for protection. For example, boys and girls gain rest for their eyes by this soft blanket of darkness that covers our part of the earth at night.

Remind them, too, that darkness safeguards many timid little creatures like the Bunny Rabbit, who comes out to eat at night fall.

And to further reassure an "only" child, give him bedfellows in the form of a Wooly Lamb or a cloth Bunny Rabbit or a Teddy Bear or some other toy which he can regard much as a human companion. Let him lay these on his pillow or cuddle them beside him under the covers.

A live dog also is a great help. Even though it sheds hairs on the rug, it will far outweigh such disadvantages by the relief of tension it affords your child.

HOW BREAK FEARS

But unwise fears can actually be broken by deftly training your child to attach pleasures to the former hated object.

Let Daddy and Mother play hide-and-seek with the child, with all the lights turned on.

Gradually, get the youngster accustomed to hiding in the lighted bedroom with the lights on. Daddy or Mother can then hide with him in the clothes closet, also with its light on.

Next, hide therein with the child but now turn off the light, but let the bedroom light remain on so he can be reassured by its light under the closet door.

Finally, you can get the child to hide in the dark closet in the unlighted bedroom, with you beside him. Ultimately, he will hide there by himself while you hide elsewhere in the bedroom.

By this method of gradual steps, and by feigning inability to find him for a long time, you will build up such glee in his mind that his delight at the darkened bedroom or his clothes closet, will outweigh his former fear.

This is what we call "Conditioning" in psychology and it really works.

You can use the same method with dogs or other animals who are gun shy or afraid of thunder, etc.

For fear is a universal trait of animals and man, but unwise fears should be banished as soon as possible to prevent fettering a child permanently.

And to be better parents, send for my "Tests for Good Parents," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents. Let your child rate you, too.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Airline Asks Drop in Fares

Coach Rates Would Be Lowered by 24 Pct. on Some Nights

MIAMI (UPI)—National Airlines has announced plans for a sharp reduction in night coach fares that officials say would enable passengers to travel cheaper by plane.

National announced that it has asked the Civil Aeronautics Board for permission to reduce its night coach rates by 24 per cent on a four-month trial basis, beginning April 20.

The reduction would mean airline travel at slightly over three cents a mile, National said. It would mean a passenger would have to pay, for example, only $35.10 for the 1,100 miles trip between New York and Miami, or $21.55 between Washington, D. C., and Jacksonville, Fla.

The lower rates would apply on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights, he said. Other cities that would receive the new fares would include Bostona nd Philadelphia and the Florida cities of Jacksonville, Tampa, Orlando, St. Petersburg and Clearwater.

Saginaw, Bay City Flood Danger Lessens Fast

Bay County Drain Commissioner William Rosebush said yesterday blue ice on the Kawkawlin River is down to four inches, according to recent tests.

Sheriff Clarence Kackmeister said the Tittabawassee River is open but the Flint and Cass rivers still are frozen.

Ten Passengers Hurt in Rough Air Flight

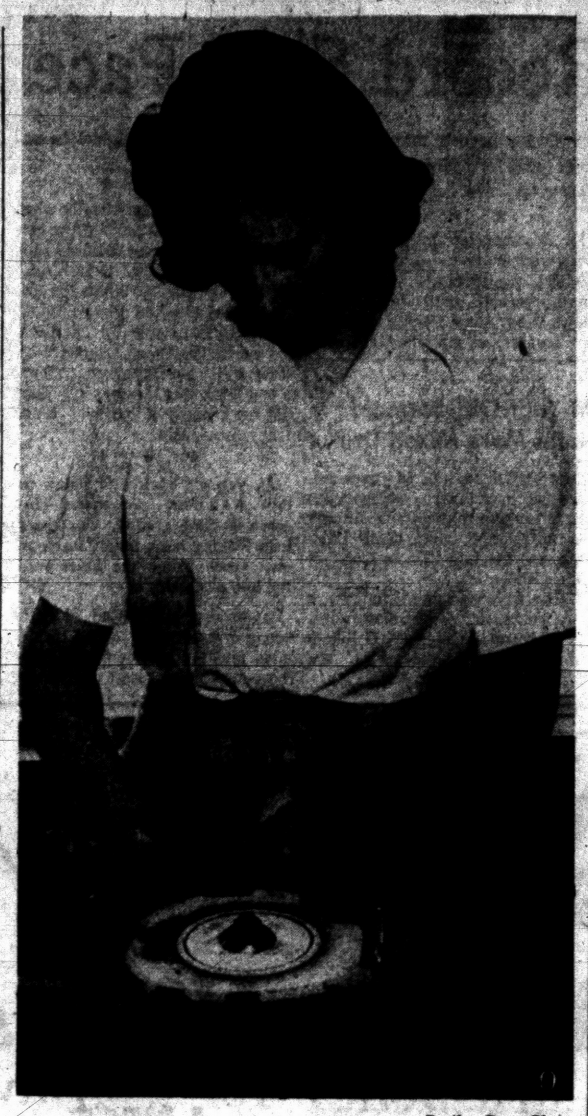

CHICAGO (AP)—Ten passengers, including a Michigan woman, were slightly injured Thursday night when a Minneapolis to Chicago Northwest Airlines plane encountered rough weather over Northern Illinois.

A Northwest spokesman said turbulent weather forced the plane, a DC-6B, into an unexpected dive, causing the injuries.

Two stewardesses and a passenger were admitted to a suburban Berwyn hospital.

Can't Keep Pace

Book Classics Dropped

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — It seems the boisterous characters of Robert Louis Stevenson's famous novels "Treasure Island" and "Kidnaped" can't keep up with the fast pace of American life.

Same with George Eliot's "Silas Marner," Alfred Lord Tennyson's "Idylls of the King," Stephen Crane's "The Red Badge of Courage," and Pearl Buck's "The Good Earth."

A committee of public school teachers recommended that the Board of Education drop these classics from its approved list of textbooks.

"It's a matter of economics and the changing times in which we live, Dr. Helen C. Bailey, associate school superintendent in charge of curriculum, said Thursday.

"We are living at such a rapid pace," Dr. Bailey explained, "that some of the 'sacred cows' have to be dropped. The books that are to be dropped from the approved textbook list nevertheless will remain on the approved library and collateral reading lists.

"It is like a nice suit on a rack," she explained. "Everybody likes it but nobody takes it. And if a book is inactive for three years, we take it off the list."

On the other hand, the teachers committee found some books that keep pace very nicely with American life and these, they said, should be added to the approved textbook list.

They include Anatole France's "The Crime of Sylvester Bonnard," and Anne Frank's "Diary of a Young Girl" for the kids; and Jules Verne's "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea" for the adult education program.

3 Toronto Men Returned for Trial in Marquette

MARQUETTE (AP)—Three Toronto men have waived extradition from Canada and have been returned here to face charges of robbing a feed store.

Canadian police arrested the trio Tuesday night on a request from the Marquette County sheriff.

Railroad Unions Force Closing

Anaconda Co. Begins Shutdown in Montana as 225 Trainmen Quit

BUTTE, Mont. (AP) — Two railroad unions called 225 members off their jobs Thursday and thus began a gradual shutdown of mining and smelting operations of the Anaconda Co., Montana's largest single employer.

As many as 8,000 workers may be idled by Saturday because of the jurisdictional dispute.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive, Firemen and Engineers and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen touched off the work stoppage. They claim jurisdiction over loading ore into railroad cars at an open pit here.

The work has been performed by Anaconda crews who are members of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (Ind).

Within a few hours of the 7 a.m. work stoppage, the 27-mile Butte, Pacific and Anaconda Railway was lifeless. It is the lifeline between the mines here and the Anaconda smelter.

A spokesman for the firm said Anaconda plans to charge the railroad brotherhoods with unfair labor practices.

The brotherhoods and the mine-mill union have been warring intermittently for years over jurisdiction on the loading jobs.

Police Hunt Engineer in Fatal Train Wreck

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Police hunted today for the engineer of a speeding freight which slammed into a passenger train, killing 11 persons and injuring more than 70.

Javier Garcia Travesi, an investigator for the federal district attorney, said both engineers may have been at fault. Preliminary investigation indicated the engineer of the passenger train halted to repair a bearing without putting out warning flags. Garcia said the freight engineer apparently failed to give the passenger train a required 10-minute head start and was traveling at high speed.

Kissing Bug May Inherit Earth After Atom War

TORONTO (UPI) — The South American kissing bug is the candidate of a Canadian atomic scientist as the best likely survivor of an atomic war and also the best space traveler.

The half-inch-long insect can take 250,000 times more radiation than man, Dr. W. F. Baldwin, a Chalk River, Ont., atomic researcher, said yesterday.

"It can emerge smiling from a dose of radiation that would fry man like an egg," he said.

"Bugs like these would be good candidates to inherit the earth after an atomic war. If man had resistance like them, he too might survive."

The insect also can withstand 1,100 degrees of gravity pull, compared to seven or eight that is man's limit. Gravity pull increases with acceleration in a rocket blast-off.

Vacuum Cleaners Used to Recover Eyeglasses

MILWAUKEE (AP) — During a heavy snow William Schuessler got ou the vacuum cleaner and went to work.

He explained he had been using a shovel, but knocked off his glasses. After an hour's search with the vacuum cleaner he found all but one lens.

Then he reversed the hoses on the cleaner and blew away the snow. Out came the missing lens.

Monster Record Sets Pace for Today's Youth

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

The guests were getting quietly embalmed. The favorite solution was an awfully-bloody Mary. Although some were partaking of sloe death gin, baleful bourbon, dread-label scotch, and that excellent vodka, Wolfbane's.

"This," said a press agent, raising his frankenstein of beer, "is a monster rally. It is in honor of a new RCA Victor LPM-1923 new orthophonic high fidelity recording called 'Monster Rally.' Figures, doesn't it?

"This record, we feel, is the greatest potential hit since the distinguished album, 'Must to Keep the Baby Sitter Restless and Awake By.' It is mainly for teenagers and people for whom the chipmunks sing too tame.

"As it says on the cover, music has always been a mirror of the times—and let's face it, these are monstrous times."

So saying, he introduced the stars who made the album: Hans Conreid, cadaverous comic of stage, screen and Jack Paar shows, and Alice Pearce, a creative creature of equally monstrous talent in Broadway, nightclubs and TV.

Conreid cringed artistically when asked why he took part in the cutting of an album that features such numbers as "The Dracula Trot," "Mostly Ghostly," "What Do You Hear From the Red Planet Mars" and "(I'm In Love With) The Creature From The Black Lagoon."

"Honey!" he remarked. "What do you think was the reason? They paid me money, of course." Blood money, obviously.

As you sit back and listen to this album, punctuated by screams and groans, you can't help looking back fondly on your own youth, when the blues was the hue of music.

It was depression, and what the teenager lamented was the lack of funds and the loss of sweethearts. There was not a great deal in the family larder, so you ate out your heart instead.

"Gloomy Sunday" subtitled "The Suicide Song," was a classic of the period. Other big hits, I recall, had to do with the death of your romance, the theft of lover by your best friend, and other morbid ideas concerning the demise of dreams, hopes and funds. In my day, in my junior set, you suffered when you sang—the doldrums were de riguer.

Today's teenagers, then, seem like monsters to us depression cats. They rock, to unlimber their tensions, and roll to forget the world is real and earnest.

They dream of far-away planets because earth imposes rules on them, and they like weird lyrics (she has three heads and four arms but I love her just the same) because it's funny and unrealistic and therefore less painful, man.

They're luckier, in a way, than we were. They have more cash to spend on getting out of this world through loud escapist music (?) and wild fancies of imagination.

Their life is a real scream.

Science fiction has helped them to get o-u-t, man, of this miserable world. Rockets have quickened their flights. They've got money and all the headaches that go with it; they've got purple people eaters instead of purple passion and heartaches.

Let's face it, ours was a generation of sobs—theirs is a generation of blobs.

Which was the better adjusted?

Couple Get Doctorates at the Same Graduation

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Clement M. Silvestro became the first husband and wife team to receive doctor of philosophy degrees from the University of Wisconsin at the same time.

The Answer Came Quick

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI)—After a month of snowless winter weather, the Hartford Times printed a picture of a sled on barren ground with the caption: "Where's the snow?" Before the final edition, it started to snow and the next day the Times printed another picture of the sled, this time covered with snow, and the caption: "We asked for it."

Advice to young TV producers just starting out: Go Western, young man . . . Today's young people are so much more mature. Why, newlywed couples argue as though they'd been married for years. —Earl Wilson.

In Russia's East Berlin Embassy

Bleak Officials; Bleak Aims

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Editor

BERLIN (UPI) — The Russian embassy in Communist East Berlin arises, a great, gray stone pile, on what used to be the Unter den Linden, Berlin's most fashionable street before World War II.

On all sides is the still uncleared rubble of the war.

A quarter of a mile or so away, near the Brandenburg Gate which is the boundary between East and West, is the hole in the ground where the American Embassy once stood. It is marked now only by the jagged remnants of a foundation.

Nearby, sealed by tons of rubble, is the entrance to the underground bunker where Adolf Hitler and Eva Braun died.

From this setting, the Russians direct the strategy designed to bring West Berlin to its knees and ultimately to enslave another two and a half million Germans.

A sentry stands at the embassy entrance.

He stands stiffly, unsmiling in the peaked cap and gray-green uniform of the East German army. He checks your mission and then stands aside.

It is a warm, sunny, spring-like day in Berlin, but there is little warmth here.

What there is of it is in the three small children playing in the stone courtyard. They are children of Soviet personnel in the embassy. They are on roller skates, and they slide, slip, fall and laugh just as do children all over the world.

This embassy has been rebuilt since the war and it sprawls four stories high over more than a city block.

Just inside, a broad-faced male receptionist looks up impassively. He checks your mission and speaks on an inner house telephone. There is a quick exchange of Russian and then he waves you to a high-ceilinged reception room decorated with wood trim.

You start to speak and then pause, wondering where a hidden microphone might be located.

Minutes pass, and then the man you came to see enters.

There is a brief smile and he ushers you into a conference room a little smaller than the first.

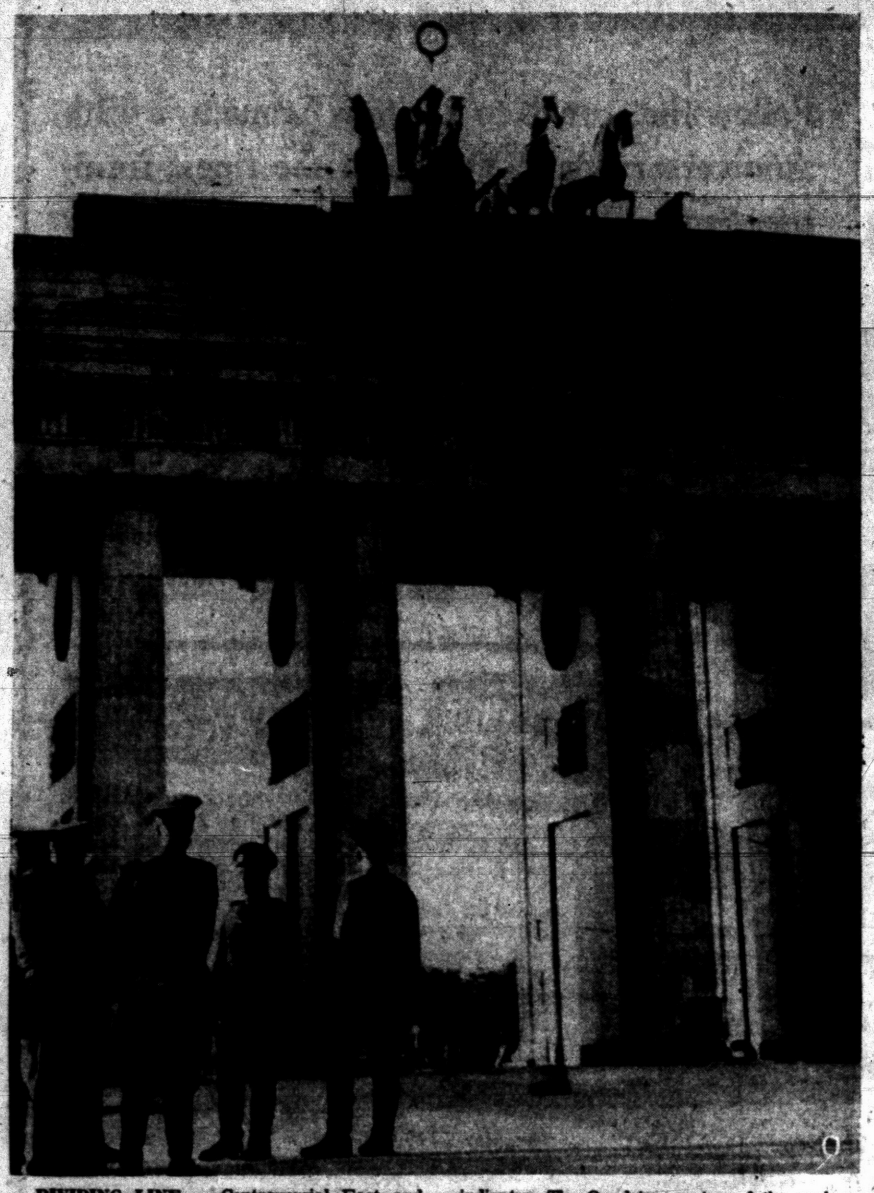

He speaks German and Russian and through an interpreter he reiterates the Russian demands, tapping out his points with a well-manicured finger on the round mahogany table.

He is to the point. Russia will hand over to the East Germans on May 27 land and air controls of Berlin. Berlin must be a free, demilitarized city. If West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer wants a unified Germany, he must negotiate with the East Germans.

He suggested that East Germany may demand payment of a toll for use of the roads to Berlin.

Then he suggests you return in two days and perhaps more information will be available. You do, and you are told the man you came to see has been called away.

You wonder if he really was.

DIVIDING LINE — Controversial East and West Berlin are divided by the majestic Brandenberg Gate. Here a group of Russian soldiers gathers on the Eastern side of the city's zone indicator. The Quadriga on top of the arch was recently restored from damage suffered during World War II.

Home Is Found for Family of 11

Fire in Massachusetts Took All Possessions Week Ago

NEWBURYPORT, Mass. (AP) — A new home is waiting for Mr. and Mrs. Tony Genna and their nine children, who lost their old one and all their possessions in a fire a week ago.

By an ironic quirk, the new home became available through another tragedy. It used to be the residence of Daniel Mahoney, a widoewr. But Mahoney was killed by an automobile Christmas Eve while crossing a street to deliver gifts.

When the Gennas were burned out, the community went to work to give the family a new start. The Rotary Club took upon itself the job of finding a home. Kiwanians agreed to provide furniture. The Junior Chamber of Commerce agreed to provide appliances.

Meanwhile a community fund drive has raised more than $4,500 for the family.

Rotary announced arrangements have been made for Genria, a mail order house salesman, to purchase an eight-room home in Newburyport's south end.

For the expected new arrival in the family, an attic provides room for expansion.

Other groups have found clothes for the Gennas' children ranging in age from 2 to 14. Other gifts equipped Mrs. Genna with bed linen and kitchen equipment.

Gee—Was He Happy?

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Because the city needed the revenue, officials swallowed their pride and honored the check of an irate citizen who wrote: "Pay to the order of the thieves of City Hall, $13.50 for water from a bunch of crooks."

AP Wirephoto

HE MADE IT—U. S. pilot Max Conrad paused for a farewell wave when he left Chicago earlier this week for a 4,806-mile nonstop flight to Rome, where he arrived today. The trip, in the single-engine Piper Comanche, was Conrad's 50th transatlantic crossing in a small plane. It took 34 hours and 3 minutes, but did not set a record. The nonstop distance mark for small planes is held by Marion L. (Pat) Boling, who flew 6,856 miles in a Beechcraft Bonanza last year.

Smiling Debbie Leaves for Spain Movie Set

Accompanying her as she boarded a plane at International Airport were dancer Camille Williams, her companion and secretary; and Agnes Roth, Romanian refugee who has been nurse to Debbie's two children.

The actress had nothing to say about Eddie Fisher, from whom she has been granted a divorce.

She said she would be in Spain for about four weeks.

California Motorists Face Rigid 65 M.P.H. Limit

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Californians have to slowdown to not more than 65 m.p.h. starting New Year's Day.

The State Senate passed an Assembly bill fixing the state speed limit at an absolute 65. It was requested by Gov. Edmond G. Brown.

The state now has a 55 m.p.h. law, but it permits a driver to go faster if he can show it is safe to do so, and this has enabled some motorists to travel 80 to 100 miles an hour.

'Quietest Girl' Foils Holdup

Petite Young Blonde Saves $20,000 for Firm by Attack

NEW YORK (AP)—"The quietest girl in the office" — a petite young blonde — battled a holdup man Thursday in a Broadway concern and saved a $20,000 payroll.

Mrs. Joan Greco, 20, a slender 5-feet-2, was with two other women in the seventh floor office of the Venetian Manufacturing Co. when a Negro entered. He produced what appeared to be a gun and ordered the three to drop face down on the floor.

Two of the women complied. Not Mrs. Greco. She sailed into the man, fists flailing and feet flying, kicked him off balance and tore the weapon from his hands.

The bandit walloped her on the temple, grabbed the gun and ran.

Mrs. Greco told her boss, Abraham Britebart: "It was a toy gun. I knew it was a toy gun. I know a real gun when I see one."

Actress, Husband Part After 11 Months

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Linda Cristal and oil executive Robert Champion have separated after 11 months.

The Argentine-born actress, 25, and Champion, 35, of Venezuela were married April 24, 1958. She blamed the breakup on her career and his job in Venezuela which kept them apart.

Louisville Bans Bare-Bosomed Ballet Belles

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Police Chief Carl Heustis agrees with his New York City colleagues that bosoms are meant to be covered in public—even in the matter of the ballet.

The question of bare bosoms arose when Les Ballets Africains asked Mayor Bruce Hoblitzell if the lady members of the troupe could dance uncovered from the waist up.

Heustis said department police required the African dancers to cover up.

They performed bare chested in Philadelphia and Boston but New York City authorities demanded concealment.

DETROIT (AP)—Producer Luben Vichey of Les Ballets Africains has asked Mayor Louis Miriani if his dancers would have to wear brassieres in Detroit. Inspector Melville Bullach, the police censor, said he would have to see a performance before deciding.

Their Secrets Crack in Traffic Court

DENVER (AP) — "I'm going downtown on a little business," Leonard H. Wilson remarked slyly the other day.

"Anything I can take care of? I'm going downtown too," said his wife.

The Wilsons parted, only to meet a few hours later — in traffic court where each had been charged with a minor violation.

"I should have known better," said Wilson later. "I haven't been able to keep a secret from her for 32 years."

Bob Considine Says:

Sure Seems Odd to 'See' a Cocktail Party

NEW YORK—Saw my first cocktail party the other evening. Believe me, it's quite an experience. Makes a fellow wonder.

I've been a participant in a few zillion of them, unnaturally, but this was the first I'd ever witnessed. The only way to witness a cocktail party is to be on the wagon, where I happened to be at the time.

If you participate, then everything takes on a different hue and meaning, as well as a hue and cry. If you just stand there with a soda-on-the-rocks, well . . .

For one thing, cocktail parties are much louder than I thought they were. But the participants didn't mind. For them, I dimly recalled, looking back on that distant day late last week when I took the pledge, noise is not noise.

MUST BE SURMOUNTED

It is a condition which must be surmounted, if one is to finish his story, by simply straining the lungs a bit more, bugging out the eyes, breathing harder, and making a short story long.

Lot more smoke around, too, when you're just observing. Makes the eyes of the casual teetotaling bystander smart. Yet, by some miracle which should command the attention of ophthalmology, not an eye of a participant seemed to blink.

Perhaps the protective red film that nature provides for such occasions is to the eye of the inmate of a cocktail party what the hide is to the sensitive rhinocerous.

Then, there's something psychic about cocktail party musicians I had never noticed back in those dear dead days around March 1, 1959.

They have some sixth or seventh sense which tells them precisely where an interesting conversation or story has started in the room.

They may be on the extreme left of a room as large as, let's say, the Lillian Russell Room at Luchow's, and the conversation or story may be under way in whispers on the right side of the room.

But they'll know, just as surely as the last flapping bird in a 10,000-member migration of geese, gets the secret signal from the head gander to turn left over Route 35.

They go thumping through the participants like four good halfbacks, knocking ladies hats askew, find the people who are now getting warmed up to the conversation or story, and play "Flatfoot Floogie with a Floy-Floy." Nice and loud, too, with all the pearlies showing.

Participants at cocktail parties stand a lot closer to each other or one another than do clinical observers of this strange rite.

We made the mistake of trying to engage a very tall lady in conversation in the course of this party, even though she was a participant.

She didn't seem to mind, especially. We started at a civil two paces but moved forward, not in any bold way, one hastens to add, but simply because cocktailing people sense they must stand close—either for moral or physical support.

I backed up a bit. She followed. I backed up some more. She followed, continuing the talk. I put Toots Shor between us. She walked right through him, a ghastly sight, and continued what was now a monologue.

I felt a red plush wall at my back and knew, with the cringing fear of an animal trapped in a dead-end canyon, that this was the end of the line.

She kept coming closer and closer, talking. And then it happened. She bit me on the nose.

Didn't really appreciate something a child of ours said years ago about cocktail parties until I saw my first one. Debbie had seen at least five or six by the time she made her declaration.

We were all standing at close range in our apartment, outshouting one another, exhaling smoke into every nearby eye, and the music was foraging up and down in search of conversations and stories to demolish when I felt the tug at my trouser leg.

It was this girl child. She had a puzzled look on her face.

"What is it, dear?" I shouted, stooping over.

She cupped her hands to my ear and said, "Daddy, haven't we had this party before?"

8-Hour Day Likely to Stay Around

EAST LANSING (AP)—It looks as if the eight hour day is here to stay, even in the age of automation, a conference of labor writers was told.

But Dr. Charles C. Killingsworth, director of the Michigan State University Labor and Industrial Relations Center, predicted longer holidays for future workers.

He forecast two full length holidays a year and four-day weekends without loss of pay.

Killingsworth said he saw no cause for union-management disputes over automation and described it as "more a scare word than anything else."

He said there will be more white collar workers among union ranks in the future. Collective bargaining, not legislation, is the best method of adjustment to automation, he said.

Women Can Lie Age in Insurance Dealings

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI)—Connecticut authorizes life insurance companies to let women policyholders exercise a traditional right: to lie about their age.

The insurance companies aren't being gallant, however. Women live three years longer than men on the average and therefore are allowed a three-year leeway with the truth.

Huge Warehouse Planned by GM

CHARLOTTE (UPI)—A new auto parts warehouse, more than one-third of a mile long and 350 feet wide, will be built here by General Motors.

Construction will start on April 10, according to J. F. Wolfram, general manager of Oldsmobile Division, which is building the warehouse. It will be ready for use early next winter.

The Eaton County Board of Supervisors has approved construction of an access highway to the new GM building, which will be located along the Grand Trunk Railroad line. It will be capable of holding a 50-car freight train and load or unload 300 truck trailers at the same time.

Club Keeps City Indians From Missing Tepees

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—There is an active social club in Southern California dedicated to keeping big-city Indians from getting lonely for their reservations and tribes.

The Drum and Feathers Club holds a monthly Pow-Wow which features different tribal ritual dances, singing and lots of talk. Its membership varies from 25 to 50 Indians.

The club was founded three years ago by Victor Roebuck, an electrician. Many of its members, such as Foster Hood, appear often in film and TV productions.

Tale of Stuck Baby Sitter

Sticks to Sticky Story, but It's Pretty Old Now

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Everybody has to set the record straight once in a while.

A few weeks ago there was a funny story about a baby sitter who got stuck on the job—because her employers forgot to tell her they had just painted the toilet seat.

Fun is fun, but it turns out that this bit of imaginary humor apparently has had the greatest workout in the history of indoor plumbing. It has been tossed around the world for years.

This week the insurance man responsible for the latest revival—and who claimed it actually happened—did a little record-straightening in the matter.

The St. Paul Dispatch, which published the original story after the insurance man vouched for its truth, conducted two subsequent investigations and came to the conclusion the tale was fiction. The paper printed a second story expressing skepticism.

The insurance man, however, still sticks to the story as firmly as the baby sitter reportedly did to the toilet seat, although he now attributes it to a friend who attributes it to another friend and so on.

At any rate, while it was still going, the latest edition of the aging yarn stirred up a good many new chuckles across the country.

The Dispatch's Jan. 23 story carried this headline: "Baby Sitter Unwillingly Stuck To Her Job." A note proclaimed the account to be true but with names omitted "to protect the injured."

The Associated Press checked the insurance man who had related it to the newspaper. He stoutly vouched for its accuracy. The AP distributed the story on its nationwide wires.

Palmer Hoyt, editor and publisher of the Denver Post, remembered that one of his reporters tried to pin down a similar story about 25 years ago while he was managing editor of the Portland Oregonian.

The reporter was Edward Miller, now assistant managing editor of the Oregonian. Miller said he recalled the incident very well.

He said the story was told him by a physician on a streetcar about 1935, but the doctor said he got the account from someone else, then the someone else said another fellow told him, and so on.

Added Miller: "I am sure the lady in question must be embarrassed no end by having her end exposed to the public for an entire quarter century."

From Charles Nichols, news editor of the Toronto Telegram, came word that his wife read of a similar incident in a novel the very day the latest version was published here.

Last August, the British medical journal Lancet recounted almost exactly the same yarn—saying the events had occurred about 20 years ago—in a discussion of the merits of plastic versus wooden toilet seats.

Goodrich Employes Play Safety Game

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A game which is a cross between Bingo and safety is helping to cut industrial accidents at a large manufacturing plant here.

The game is called SAFGO. Each month every person in the B. F. Goodrich Co. plant is issued a SAFGO card. There are 24 numbers on each card, and every day one number is drawn.

The first employe, whose numbers chosen in the drawing form a green cross, representing safety, wins a $100 U. S. Savings bond—unless he has had an injury during the month which resulted in loss of time.

"Interest in the game is mounting," said J. M. Robbins, plant manager. "W expect this interest and the safety ideas printed on the SAFGO card to help measurably in keeping accidents from happening at our plant."

Orders Refund on Bingo Raid

Judge Says Royal Oak Police Took Cash Not Used Illegally

ROYAL OAK — Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer yesterday ordered Royal Oak city officials to return $927 confiscated during a raid by police on a bingo game at a veterans hall last November.

Members of the Acorn VFW Post No. 1169, whose hall is located a block from the police station, filed a writ of replevin to have the city treasurer and Police Chief Ray C. Hayward return $1,214 taken in the Nov. 20 raid.

Judge Beer refused to order the city to return another $387 to the group because this amount, taken from aprons worn by men selling bingo cards, was accrued illegally, he said.

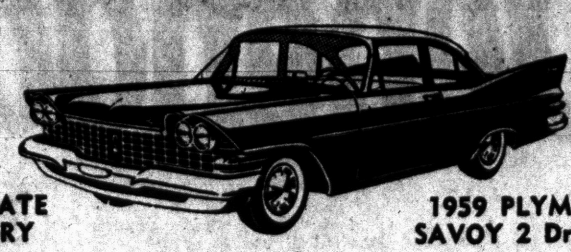

However, Judge Beer granted the return of the rest of the money because "it obviously wasn't being used in the illegal bingo enterprise."

He said the police had no right to seize and hold onto $821 taken from a table in an adjoining room and $106 confiscated from two cigar boxes.

Others elected were Sandi Erwin, secretary; Judy Dearing, vice president; Fred Staley, treasurer, and Glenn Sherman, sergeant at arms.

The combined Pontiac Central and Pontiac Northern High bands presented their annual spring concert last night in the Pontiac Central High School auditorium.

Last year's concert climaxed a 31-year era of Pontiac high school band concerts under the direction of Dale C. Harris. He conducted the combined band in their first concert this year since the opening of Pontiac Northern High School.

Two Pontiac Central High School seniors, Sally Warren of 100 Henry Clay Ave. and Jim Freet of 53 North Anderson St., were honored this week for placing as finalists in the National Merit Scholarship Corporation's qualifying examination.

The contest was held last spring for more than 487,000. Jim and Sally received letters of commendation from Principal Francis W. Staley for placing in the top one-half of one per cent of the students taking the test. They are now eligible for scholarships to any college of their choice.

The cheerleaders have announced April 30 and May 3 as the dates of the cheerleading tryouts for next fall. A cheerleading clinic will be held May 27 and 29. A cartwheel, "Yea Orange," T-E-A-M, and the Pontiac Fight Song will be required in the tryouts.

The new Quiver yearbook advertising staff has been working overtime contacting local businessmen to sell their quota—$1,500 of advertisements to finance the annual.

Under the direction of Sue Koprince, advertising manager, the staff, which started work at the beginning of the semester, has now only 10 per cent to go with a list of possibilities well over the amount.

Other staffs of the Quiver, advised by Robert R. Rickard and edited by Tom Nichols, also have been working late hours and Saturdays to meet the deadline.

PUBLISH RIDDLES

The Tomahawk, the school's newspaper, has been publishing riddles, which when deciphered, give a clue to the secret contents of the 1959 Quiver. All winning replies will receive a free copy of the Quiver.

Pontiac Central students attending a music workshop held last weekend at Wayne State University were Marlene Beale, Juanita Graham, and Curtis Lee. They were accompanied by Doreen Voltmann, vocal music teacher.

All the schools in the Detroit area were invited to attend and bring three or four students to participate under the direction of Don Craig, famed choral director.

The new officers of Hi-Y were installed in a formal ceremony this week. They are Mike Luchenbach, president; Chuck Hunt, vice president, and Bruce Benter, secretary. Plans are being made to admit new members into the club.

Thursday, PCH students along with Mrs. Jean Smith will attend an evening performance of "My Fair Lady" at the Riviera Theater in Detroit.

Students Discuss Diploma Policy at Holly High

By JUDITH WOOD

A new policy here providing for two diplomas, academic and general, has promoted discussion among Holly High School students.

It is now compulsory to complete two majors and two minors from the departments of English, science, mathematics, languages, or history and maintain a C average to receive an academic diploma.

The opinions of students polled, rated the academic diploma higher. They think that the academic diploma will help them to find a better position in their chosen fields, it gives the students greater incentive and it will give them a much better chance for acceptance into college.

IQ's Not Everything

ONEIDA, N. Y. (UPI)—A survey shows that five of the top students in the 1958 graduating class at Oneida High School had intelligence quotients slightly lower than many of their classmates. School officials attrivuted this in part to better study habits.

Two Walled Lake Seniors Cited as Merit Scholars

By SALLY COLLINS

Two seniors at Walled Lake High School have reached the finals in the 1958-59 National Merit Scholarship Program. Each was awarded a certificate attesting to high academic promise. They are Kathy Irons and James Mitchell.

Both seniors scored high on two college aptitude tests used in the National Merit Scholarship competition. Awards were received by about six-tenths of one per cent of all the seniors in each state. Nationally, a total of 10,000 students were honored.

The recent Science Fair was sponsored jointly by the science departments of the school and the science clubs. Its purpose was to further the cause of future scientists and provide area parents an opportunity to view science progress in secondary schools.

Winning exhibitions from the school science fair may be sent to the Detroit Science Fair in April. First and second prizes were awarded in each of three divisions—physics, chemistry and biology. Judges were Oliver Rose and Kenneth Hathaway.

First and second prizes in the physics division were awarded to Donald Derby, with a carbon-arc furnace, and Tom McClelland, with observations on the period of the pendulum.

SCIENCE AWARDS

Chemistry awards were won by Jo Harlow, photographic tinting, and Fred Koch, research on nitrocellulose.

Research on mildew and its effects upon textiles took a first in biology for Lynn Ashby, while Steve Green took a second with his project on apple enemies.

The Walled Lake High School Band received a rating of II at the 26th annual band and orchestra festival held at Derby Junior High in Birmingham.

The band earned a I and two IIs in concert and a I in sight reading, but since the rating on concert carried more weight, the final tally was a II.

By JOAN PAYNE

The "Hypo Hop" is the title of the dance which will be held tonight from 8 p.m. to 11:30 p.m. and sponsored by the Clarkston High School Future Nurses Club.

Proceeds of the dance will be used for the club's science fair project and also to costume several dolls in dresses of nearby nursing schools.

March Teenage Pattern Is 3 Piece Play Dress

Here is the third in a series of Young America patterns which will be featured on the high school page once a month.

The shorts are notched on the side seams and intended to be in a contrasting fabric. The four gore, tie-on skirt and front of the jumper length shirt should be in a print, stripes or polka dot. The back, sleeves and collar of the shirt call for a third fabric which might match the shorts.

Try plain linen for shorts and trim, a print of cotton or rayon for the rest of the outfit. Denim with plain or printed sharkskin would be good, too.

Northern Has 3 Visitors' Rooms

Can Hold Basketball, Swimming, Wrestling at Same Time

A unique feature of the Pontiac Northern High School physical education facilities are the three visiting team rooms.

Thus, a swimming meet, wrestling match and basketball game can be going on at one time and each of the visiting teams will have their own dressing room containing benches and lockers.

The new high school is believed to be the only one in Michigan to have two regulation size handball courts which are each 46 feet long and 23 feet wide.

The courts are located to the north of the natatorium. In the winter, they are used by the wrestling team for practice.

To the right of the pool room is a rifle range which is also used for archery students and physical education classes.

The department has two shower rooms for the boys and two for the girls plus a drying room for each and two large locker rooms.

Two classrooms for health and safety education classes are in the department as well as a first aid room. The PNH team's training room contains a whirlpool and training benches.

Two offices for coaches are also in the department's area.

Ticket Office Drives Up

GRAFTON, N.D. (UPI)—An unused railroad passenger car has been pressed into service here as the result of a fire which destroyed the regular Northern Pacific ticket office. Waiting passengers had to shiver in below-zero cold several days beore a railroad crew could lay a special spur to accommodate the new ticket office.

Disc Data and Chatter

Music in the Round

by Dick Saunders

SAUNDERS

FIVE ACES: Men of all ages still place women before chipmunks.

That's all that can be said in explanation of what has happened in the past seven days.

That hot looking disc of "Alvin's Harmonica" (David Seville & Crew) has made an about face and high tailed it back to the wood. The disc doesn't even rate an honorable mention in this week's sales list.

"Venus" (Frankie Avalon) is alone in first place once again. Second spot goes to "Charlie Brown" (The Coasters), jumping into the upper crust for the first time.

Very surprisingly, "Stagger Lee" (Lloyd Price) has fought back to a third-place rating after looking like it was on its way out in the Pontiac area.

"I've Had It" (The Bell Notes) was nudged down a notch to fourth. Last in this week's winning hand is "It's Just A Matter Of Time" (Book Benton).

TOP LPs: Two albums currently on top are "Peter Gunn" (Victor LPM-1956) and "Have Twangy Guitar—Will Travel" (Jamie-3000).

The former, conducted by Henry Mancini, is background music of the popular Peter Gunn show. Mancini wrote the stuff and this is a terrific LP, very highly recommended again as it was by this column several weeks ago.

Other LPs selling big are "Broadway In Rhythm" (Columbia CL-1252) by Ray Coniff; "For LP Fans Only" (Victor LPM-1990) by Elvis; "Open Fire; Two Guitars" (Columbia CL-1270) by Johnny Mathis; "But Not For Me" (Argo-628) by Ahmad Jamal; and Nat King Cole's latest "Welcome To The Club" (Capital W-1120), which we mentioned as a possible big seller last week.

Patti Page has a new one for Victor called "I've Heard That Song Before" which is very pleasing. Also showing signs of life is "Redhead" (LOC-1048) by the cast of the new broadway smash of the same name, starring Gwen Verdon and Richard Kiley.

The LP was finished only three days after the show opened on Broadway in a marathon 14½ hour recording session.

Big Crowd Applauds Concert

Capacity Audience Sees High School Bands Perform

The 32nd annual spring concert by the Pontiac High School Band, under the direction of Dale C. Harris, was held Thursday evening in Central High School Auditorium.

The band comprises personnel from both Central and Northern High Schools. A capacity audience was in attendance and showed a genuine and vigorous appreciation.

A U. S. 'FIRST'

First on the program was "Olympic Fanfare," performed at the most recent Olympic Games and, it is believed, performed for the first time in this country last night. It had all the elements of pomp and circumstance and was well performed, although it was, perhaps, not the most engaging of the selections.

It may be that the most meaningful pieces were an "Ode" by Hermann and a "Tone Poem" by Royal. The former was conducted by Eldon Rosegart, the latter by Mr. Harris.

These are thoughtful compositions, rich in imagination, contrast and color. They were finely interpreted and excellently performed. They were beautiful.

OVERTURE PLAYED

Probably most exciting in some respects was the "Thunderbird Overture," composed by Philip J. Lang, dedicated to the Pontiac High School Band and first performed here in 1952.

It was altogether fascinating with its pure American Indian rhythms and melodic structure. The performers themselves clearly enjoyed it.

There were some other numbers which showed to advantage the several sections of the woodwind, brass and percussion instruments, as well as the entire ensemble.

EXCELLENCE KNOWN

It would be altogether trite to comment on the excellence of the Pontiac High School Band. For years it has maintained a national reputation and received high honors. A number of alumni have entered schools for further training and have become professional performers, teachers and conductors.

Ask Hostess If You May Warm Milk

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am accustomed to having a cup of warm milk and a cookie or cracker with it before going to bed and I find I cannot sleep without it. Very shortly I will be spending several days with some friends in another city. I would like to know if it would be proper to ask the hostess for this or must I forego this practice when a guest in someone's house?"

Answer: You may ask the hostess if she minds your going into the kitchen to warm a cup of milk before going up to bed. If she does seem to mind you can get a small thermos jar and fill it during the day for your next bedtime.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I would like some help. My daughter is going to be married shortly. There will be a luncheon after the ceremony at which will be served a fruit punch with champagne to toast the bride and groom. This is all the liquid refreshment being served.

"The groom-to-be insists on ordering liquor for his friends and wants to pay for it. I want this to be a nice dignified wedding and somehow things get a little out of hand with liquor. Isn't it up to the bride's family to say what is to be served at the reception?"

Answer: You are entirely right. You are the hosts and decide on, as well as pay for, every detail of the wedding reception.

Tell Them It Was a Mix-Up—Abby

Confession Is Good for the Soul!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: I did a terrible thing but what is done is done and I want to know what to do now. Our Church Auxiliary had a bake sale and we agreed that there would be no 'mixes' used.

ABBY

I was in a hurry that morning and used a mix, but I made my own frosting (caramel). Everyone raved over my cake and they are all asking me for the recipe. I can't tell them it is a mix without looking like a fool. Should I find a regular white cake recipe, in any old cookbook and give it to them or what?"

TROUBLED CONSCIENCE

DEAR TROUBLED: Admit that you used a mix for the cake but give them the recipe for your frosting. You will make a lot of women happy by proving that you don't have to beat up your own batter to make it better.

"DEAR ABBY: Can blushing be cured and if so, how? I work in an office and for almost no reason at all I blush like the setting sun when I laugh or when I am just a little bit uncomfortable. This awful blushing gives me away and I feel like crawling into a hole. Please, Abby, try to help me."

REDHEAD

DEAR REDHEAD: You blushers would blush even a deeper hue to know how refreshing it is to see a girl who can still blush. Get over the idea that it's something to be ashamed of and enjoy your individuality.

"DEAR ABBY: I divorced my husband six years ago after I caught him giving our baby liquor in one of his bottles. I took the baby and left everything behind. Even my rings. I refused his support and went to work and got along nicely. Last week his sister called me and told me that my 'ex' wanted to see me and the baby. She said he has joined 'AA' and had not had a drink in three years.

"My family says I'd be crazy to see him again. Maybe someone reading this has had experience with an alcoholic. Do they ever really change? Please help me decide what to do." ONCE BURNT

DEAR ONCE: I would certainly see him and give him a chance to prove he has changed. If he had the stuff to stick with "AA" for three years, he has probably learned his lesson.

"DEAR ABBY: Maybe it's just my age, but I have become aware that my memory isn't as good as it used to be. I can't remember telephone numbers or addresses and sometimes important names escape me. Is this normal for people around 50 and is there anything I can do about it?" FORGETFUL

DEAR FORGETFUL: It's normal, so don't worry about it. A short pencil is better than a long memory.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "LIVING WITH A DEVIL": Your man has become spiritually unbuttoned. You'll button him up faster with the help of your pastor.

Date Nut Loaf Delicious Made Into Sandwiches

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Lunch boxes call for quick breads as a variation for the standard sandwich. Most people like a date-nut loaf. We suggest you try Mrs. Rupert Hamil's recipe for such a bread.

Mrs. Hamil enjoys many kinds of handwork, especially ceramics and leather work. She belongs to both a garden club and an Extension group.

DATE NUT LOAF
By Mrs. Rupert Hamil

1 cup chopped nuts
1½ cups sugar
1 small package pitted dates
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
2¾ cups sifted flour
1 egg
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons soda
1 teaspoon vanilla
1½ cups boiling water

Pour boiling water over dates which have been cut in pieces. Let stand until cool. Strain, but keep the water.

Cream sugar and shortening. Add beaten egg, flour and salt, alternately with date water in which soda has been dissolved. Add dates, nuts and vanilla.

Pour into well greased and floured bread pan. Bake one hour at 350 degrees.

Dry Skin, Wrinkles Yield to Cream

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Q. "I am 19 years old. What can I do about dry skin and how can I get rid of very noticeable wrinkles under my eyes?"

A. Since your skin is very dry I advise you not to use soap and water on it. Try cleansing the face and neck with a good cleansing cream. It also is essential to lubricate the face daily. You either can pat a cream or oil on before going to sleep at night, or apply it in the daytime.

In the latter case give it time to soak in well—preferably an hour or so. An eye cream patted around your eyes at night will help. Sometimes extremely dry skin is due to a vitamin deficiency or an inadequate diet.

Q. "I am 5 feet 6 inches tall and weigh 140 pounds. My bust measures 40 inches, waist 32 and hips 42. My frame is large. My family says that I am fat. What is the correct weight for my height and build? I am 48 years old. I went on your diet and have lost 20 pounds. Should I lose more?"

A. Since you have a large frame, you are at the correct weight. Your measurements suggest that you either have a very large frame or are overweight. Are your larger measurements due to fatty deposits or to build? If the latter, you are not overweight.

Q. "I am sure I am overweight and it worries me. I am 5 feet 3½ inches tall and weigh 130 pounds. My bust measures 36 inches, waist 31 and hips 34. Hope you can help me."

A. You are some overweight but not badly so—especially if you have a large frame. Just eat a well-balanced diet but watch those extras! It is time you were slimming down in the middle. Why not take some waist-slimming exercises? If you or any of my readers want these exercises, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 6 to me in care of The Pontiac Press.

Q. "I imagine that many TV and movie stars have false teeth, but they do not appear so. Can a woman have teeth made that do not appear false and do not cost a fortune?"

A. Many people in the spotlight have caps put on their teeth because of spaces or crooked teeth. They look lovely and natural when the work is done by an expert.

This is definitely a luxury item. However, most dentists who do this work probably would work out a budget payment plan with you.

Tomorrow: "Good Grooming Now Is Not Vanity But Healthy."

If your skin is dry use cleansing cream and lubricate the face daily. You can pat a cream or oil on before going to sleep at night.

X-Ways Bring Huge Decrease in Traffic Deaths

Traffic deaths and accidents on the Brighton-Farmington Expressway in Oakland County have decreased considerably as part of an "amazing" reduction on Michigan's new expressways, according to Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie.

Mackie reported that deaths on the 21-mile route (the old U.S.16-Grand River avenue) have dropped from 19 in 1957 on the old road, to one on the new route.

Accidents for the same period and same route decreased from 275 to 105, he said.

His department made a study of accidents during a one-year period on 80 miles of new expressways compared to the old trunklines they replaced, the one in Oakland County being made part of the study.

The entire study showed total accidents reduced from 729 to 184, and the number of injured and killed down from 306 to 121.

It is expected that 970,000 single family houses will be built in the U.S. in 1959.

4 Americans Among 21 Dead in Jet Crash

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (UPI)—A British-made prop-jetliner crashed near here yesterday moments after takeoff from Mercedes Airport, killing 15 of the 19 persons aboard.

Four of the dead were Americans.

Two American stewardesses, Nancy Niezgoda of Mannington, W. Va., and Laura Direnzo, a naturalized American from Hamilton, Ont., escaped serious injury but were hospitalized for treatment of extreme shock.

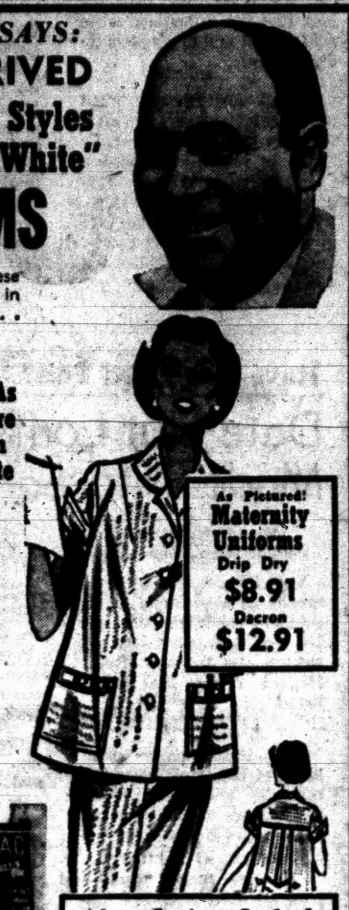

The four-engined Viscount, operated by Central America's TACA Airline, was outbound from Managua on a flight to Honduras and El Salvador at the time of the crash.

East Coast Warming, West Coast Gets Colder

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—A University of Wisconsin meteorologist says grandpa is right about those winters when he was young. They were colder, especially in the eastern part of the country.

Reid Bryson, head of the meteorology department, said winter temperatures in hte North Atlantic states are up an average of 10 degrees since 1885. On the other hand, the Pacific Coast area is getting cooler. He added that meteorologists don't know why.

Juvenile Team Gets Practical Experience

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mrs. Barbara Kelley, 22, and her brother, Harold Esterwood, 23, recently got some unscheduled trtaining. Coming home at night, Mrs. Kelley was grabbed by a man. Her brother heard her cries, raced out of the family apartment nearby and collared a 19-year-old youth.

Merchants Selected Wrong Year for Dime

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A 10th anniversary promotion stunt backfired at Lane Avenue Shopping Center here. Merchants offered to honor 1948 dimes for dollar purchases. After customers threatened to clean out store merchandise with a flood of dimes, the merchants called off their offer.

They learned later that 163,311,000 dimes were minted in 1948—a large annual issue for any year.

Women Square Dancers Wearing Britches Now

PATERSON, N. J. (AP)—Mrs. Carrie (Ma) Heater, 88, has been calling square dances since the 1880s when she was just a child.

"The women around here have got ot wearing britches, like a man's, no stockings, and old house slippers. 'The slippers fall off their feet but they keep dancing just the same."

"We are very pleased with the response to our opening invitation," said Addison Oakley, manager of Stewart-Glenn's new furniture store.

A Pontiac firm for over 40 years, the Stewart-Glenn Company has moved from its S. Saginaw Street location to a new store at 1680 S. Telegraph road.

One of the original partners, John Stewart, is still active in the business. Associated with him are his son-in-law, Addison Oakley and Robert Glenn.

The new store contains some 10,000 feet of floor space. Made of cement block with a red brick front, it has offices across the rear. Two gas units which control both heat and air conditioning are located in the front corners above the sales floor. There is parking both in front and on the side.

Inside, on the south wall of the building, there is a fireplace built into a red brick wall. This area is furnished as a living room. Interior walls and ceiling are all white to display to best advantage the colors of the furniture.

Unlike some stores, Stewart-Glenn has arranged its furniture by room groupings. There are, for instance, living room units that include sofa, chairs, occasional tables, lamps and accessories. Dining room units have place settings on the table as well as other pieces of china on matching buffets. Under one of the heating corners there is a full display of New Hampshire made maple furniture. Nearby is a canopied bed.

The store sells two styles of furniture, Early American and Contemporary. An innovation is the stocking of numerous accessories to go with both kinds of furniture. In the Archway which is the open display wall for accessories an Italian glass clown from Italy may be placed next to a pewter mug that could have come from grandmother's attic.

The coffee bar draws everyone's attention. Part of the old store has been incorporated into this room. The counter was made from the receptionist's desk formerly used in the S. Saginaw street store. Now covered with a plastic material and surrounded by swivel bar stools, it serves as the place from which coffee is served to customers, salesmen and store personnel.

Mrs. Anne Wilson, the store's full-time interior decorating consultant, has her own office where she helps customers select the desired colors of their furniture and rugs and advises them on decorating problems.

Open house is to continue through March 10. Except for Saturday night and all day Sunday, the store will be open from 9-9 every day.

Japan Sees Seaway Boosting Exports

TOKYO (AP)—Japanese trading circles are gleefully looking forward to the day in late April when Queen Elizabeth is expected to inaugurate the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway linking the Atlantic with the Great Lakes region.

They believe the seaway will bring about a marked increase in Japanese exports because of greatly reduced shipping costs.

This was revealed in a survey just published by the Japan Export Trade Recovery Organization (JETRO) on the effects of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

JETRO said one-third of the 200 million dollars worth of sundries Japan exported to the United States in 1958 were shipped to Chicago by rail from New York.

The seaway, however, will allow Japanese goods to be delivered by ship directly to that region via the Atlantic.

No Pilots Needed for Takeoffs, Either

New Radar Soon Can Land All Planes

WASHINGTON (NEA) — It won't be long now before they'll be able to land the airplane you ride in without a human pilot — except to turn off the engines.

The pilot won't be needed for takeoffs, either. Theoretically, it could be arranged so he wouldn't be needed the whole trip.

When this day arrives, planes will be able to land and take off freely in all but bad storms.

Military aircraft would be able during combat to land and take off on temporary landing fields and on carriers with relative safety in bad weather.

As a by-product, this automation could be used to speed the landing of planes at crowded airports, especially in foggy weather.

This same system could be used too, to guide planes through perilous routes and to prevent such accidents as the Grand Canyon collision between two passenger airliners several years ago.

Actually, the day when all this can be done is close scientifically. The idea probably could be adopted at major airports within two or three years.

Economics — and the legal and regulatory problems connected with radical new ideas— may hold up adoption for four years or more.

Already, scientists have tried out the idea with experimental planes at a test airfield. They say it works.

This research, experimenting and testing are being done by engineers at the Hughes Aircraft Company. It is the by-product of radar work they're doing for the Army and Navy.

The new speed makes it possible to measure the distance a plane is off the ground quickly enough to effectively guide a plane in to landing automatically.

Under the present experimental system, the new type radar unit would be on the ground at an airport. Aboard the plane a special radio would receive the "commands" from the ground radar, and guide the plane in accurately until it was actually on the ground. The same thing would work in reverse on takeoff.

THE MASTER CONTROL — The panel of Frescanar, the revolutionary 3-D radar developed for the Army Signal Corps, looks like this. Scope on left displays range and bearing, the other, altitude.

At the same time, the radar and calculating unit attached could be observing and guiding all other planes circling to land at the airport. It could automatically guide planes in so as to prevent air collisions in bad weather. It could also give the same sort of "guiding hand" to planes taking off.

One engine failed when the craft was about 400 miles from Shannon, en route from New York to Frankfurt, Germany. Shor ly afterward another engne failed.

Ex-Flatbush Stars Bid for Careers in AL

Meyer, Jackson Try It Again

United Press International

Russ Meyer and Ransom Jackson, who were big league stars away back when the Dodgers played in Brooklyn, are making strong early bids to start new careers with American League teams.

Meyer, former "Mad Monk of Flatbush," is trying to win a place on the Kansas City Athletics' pitching staff while Jackson, once valued by the Dodgers at $100,000 is battling for a third base job with the Cleveland Indians.

The 35-year-old Meyer impressed manager Harry Craft yesterday when he pitched three hitless innings during Kansas City's final intra-squad game of the spring. Meyer said afterward that his arm trouble has completely disappeared and added, "I feel I can stick with the Athletics this year."

Jackson, a 33-year-old native of Little Rock, Ark., hit two homers and drove in eight runs during the Indians' three-game intra-squad series which was concluded yesterday. A poll of newsmen covering the Indians camp made him the series' most valuable player. Shortstop Billy Moran homered for the big blow of yesterday's game.

Rookies starred for the Chicago White Sox, San Francisco Giants and St. Louis Cardinals in other Thursday intra-squad games.

Hal Trosky, son of the former Cleveland first-baseman who had an 11-8 record for Colorado Springs last season, pitched two hitless innings in a scoreless White Sox' camp game. Turk Lown, Bill Dufour and Don Rudolph also starred, each allowing one hit.

Don Taussig, an outfielder who hit .212 for Phoenix last season, hit two homers and drove in five runs in San Francisco's contest. Rookie catcher Roger McCardell and Hank Sauer also homered with pitchers Johnny Antonelli and Mike McCormick absorbing most of the punishment.

Infielder Wally Shannon, son of the Cardinals' farm director who hit .290 for Houston, blasted a double and a triple in successive innings off Von McDaniel to highlight St. Louis' contest. It was a bad debut for the younger McDaniel, a $50,000 bonus beauty in 1957 and a four-star flop in '58. Veteran Del Ennis put on a one-man show in a Cincinnati game including a 3-run homer.

Harvey Enjoys Outfield, Likes Rocky at Short

Hitchcock's Team Beats Henrich's, 7-4, in First Intra-Squad Game

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

LAKELAND, Fla. — Harvey Kuenn, who is now the team's highest paid player, is happy the Tigers got Rocky Bridges for the shortstop's job.

For awhile there was talk that with Billy Martin traded he might be moved back from the outfield to play short and there was also talk that the Cleveland Indians would get him in a trade and put him back at his old position.

"I'm very happy in the outfield," said Kuenn, who became the center field fly chaser last year, "and we now have Bridges who was made for the shortstop's job."

Two years ago when Kuenn's average fell below the .300 mark, for the first and only time of his Major League career, he was also having his poorest season fielding.

He committed 30 errors at shortstop and he was worried so much about his fielding he dropped in all batting departments. In one game he committed three errors and even had the fans at Briggs Stadium booing him for the first time since joining the Tigers.

He welcomed the shift to the outfield last year. He had only six errors and production at the plate also got better. Now he's happy where he's at and wants only to think about improving his hitting statistics, especially in the RBI department.

After yesterday's intra-squad game in which he got two hits and drove in three runs to lead Billy Hitchcock's squad to a 7-4 victory over Tommy Henrich's team, Kuenn said, "that's where I'd like to put a couple of figures in the box score every day." He was referring to the RBI column where he had only 54 last season.

Looking at Bridges' fielding record compared to his when he was at short, shows what he means when he says he's happy Rocky is at the position and not he. Compared to Kuenn's 30 errors at short, Bridges had 13 while playing with Washington.

The Hitchcock team pounded rookie pitchers Gene Bacque and Doug Gallagher for 10 hits in six innings, led by Kuenn's single and double and Earl Hersch's homer over the 330-foot mark in right field. Catcher Red Wilson added a pair of singles.

Dick Day, with Birmingham of the Southern Association, and Larry Foster, signed this year off the Michigan campus, pitched for the Hitchcock team.

Larry Osborne, playing left field, got a pair of doubles for the Henrich unit and he also drove in two runs. Al Kaline, Frank Bolling, Gus Zernial, Neil Chrisley and Steve Demeter each contributed a single for the losers.

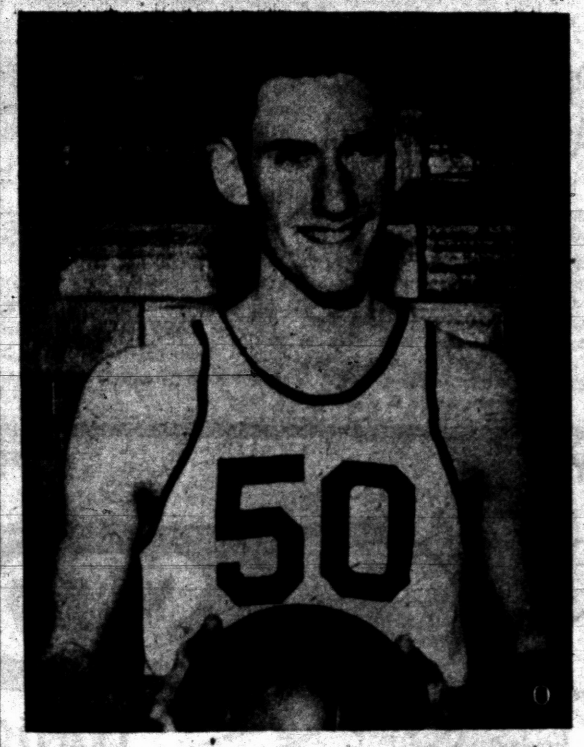

Demeter was charged with two errors at third but his single accounted for two runs batted in.

Another intra-squad game is slated for today and tomorrow the squad will play the Senators in Orlando to start the Grapefruit circuit.

TRAINING CAMP NOTES

Strong winds played tricks with fly balls in yesterday's intra-squad game. One time Frank Bolling called for a high pop-up just inside the second base line and after jitterbugging around he finally made the catch about 15 feet from home plate.

President of the Tigers, Harvey Hansen, made his first appearance in training camp Wednesday and he plans on going further south after watching the first exhibition games this weekend.

Rams, ROSM in 'C' Title Tilt

Overtime Tilts Settle District Tourney Finale

Orchard Lakers Edged 42-37; Shamrocks Lose to RO Club, 34-32

By H. GUY MOATS

The way the ball bounced at the end of two overtime battles put Pontiac St. Frederick and Royal Oak St. Mary in Saturday night's championship round, at 7:30 p.m.

Both finalists had previously fallen before their Thursday night opponents, during regular season play in the Suburban Catholic loop.

Rams came up with one of their best games of the season to nip the usually high-flying Orchard Lake Eaglets, 42-37, in regulation overtime.

For half of their setto with the Royal Oak Club, St. Michael played like a winner. But after intermission Shamrocks suddenly went sour, blew a 9-point margin (23-14), and were unable to stop ROSM in a wild regulation game finish and the overtime session. St. Mary knotted the count at 30-30, then collected a pair of goals in overtime to offset a Shamrock bucket, for a final count of 34-32.

Orchard Lake, the SCL champion, trailed up to the middle of the 3rd period before closing an 8-point gap at 24-24, with Bill Votruba, Don Duszynski, Chet Wlodkowski's side shot. Rams' bining for 12 points. But Joe Keller and Tom Derocher boosted the Rams to 28.

Eaglets tied it up again at 33-all with three minutes left in the finale, moved ahead, 35-33, on Woldkowski's side shot. Rams' Jim Kennedy drove in for a quick bucket seconds later to tie it up at 35-35 with less than a minute left.

Erratic ball handling hurt the Eaglets in the extra period, and both the first two goals scored by Rams' Keller and Derocher resulted from drives after recovering loose balls. Derocher added another basket, Keller a free toss before Witkor's final goal.

Derocher had 15, Keller 14 to pace the winners.

An 11-point rally, led by Mike Butash and Bill Crawford, broke open the Shamrocks' game, to pull ROSM within one point, 26-25, going into the finale. In the 4th frame ROSM tied the score twice, the last time at 30-30, on Butash's hook shot a minute from the end.

In the overtime Butash made it 32-30. Tommy Dabbs squared it with a minute to go. The ball changed hands several times with both clubs missing shots at the hoops. Then Crawford let loose of a hook shot that cleared the hoop, with 24 seconds left. That was the game.

Crawford was high with 17 points, while George Drake hit 14 for Shamrocks.

LET ME AT THAT BALL — Tom Drake (10) of St. Michael, and RO St. Mary's Bill Crawford stage a little battle for possession, in last night's sizzling District class "C" semifinal at PCH gymnasium. Crawford had 17 points, Drake 14 to lead their respective teams. Bill's bucket, with 24 seconds to go in overtime won for ROSM, 34-32.

Michigan, Illini Top Indoor Field

MADISON, Wis. (UP) — The Big Ten indoor track championship meet tonight and tomorrow shapes up as nothing more than a test of speed and strength between co-favorites Illinois and Michigan. The other eight teams might just as well keep their street shoes on.

At least, that is the concensus today as the University of Wisconsin gets ready to be host to its second Big Ten title chase in 49 years.

The way Badger track coach Wiley Best looks at it, Ohio State, with the great Glenn Davis, and Purdue will match strides for third place.

"After Ohio State and Purdue it is a jumble. Like everything it is depth that counts and the rest of us just don't have it. We'll be jockeying for a respectable finish," said Best today.

Davis, who has been troubled by a lame back, is one of four individual defending titlists. He won the 60-yard dash and 70-yard high hurdles a year ago.

The others are Purdue's Ron Ehterton in the 300-yard run; Illinois' Ernie Haisley in the high jump, and George Kerr in the 440, plus Ohio State in the mile relay.

Existing Big Ten records have been bettered so far this season in three events, the 300 and 880 yard runs and the mile relay and equaled in two, the pole vault and the 60-yard dash.

Kerr ran a 1:52.0 in the 880, seven-tenths of a second under the existing standard. Michigan's Tom Robinson turned in a :30.6 seconds effort in the 300, two-tenths of a second under the conference record. Both Illinois and Michigan have surpassed the mile relay record of 3:17.3 with clockings of 3:15.7 and 3:16.1, respectively.

Illinois' Del Coleman equaled the conference record in the 60 last week, clicking off 6.1 second; and Eeles Landstrom of Michigan tied the pole vault record of 14 feet, 8 inches.

Only one final in the broad jump is on the docket tonight. All other finals will be held tomorrow afternoon.

MSU'S Steuart Wins 1,500 Freestyle

Imports Set Swim Pace

EAST LANSING (UP) — Imported entries had an early jump on the pack as Big Ten swimmers plunged into their first full day of competition in the 49th annual conference championships.

Billy Steuart of host team Michigan State, a native of Johannesburg, South Africa, won the 1,500-meter freestyle, the only final yesterday. He was followed in by two Hawaiians and a Hungarian.

The barrel-chested Steuart won with a powerful arm stroke in 18:36.6, bettering his winning time of 18:40.5 last year.

The metric mile grind was a duel between Steuart and John Parks of Indiana, second in 18:40.5, the winner's identical time a year ago.

George Onekea of Ohio State was third in 18:58.6. The second and third places are from Hawaii and John Urbancsok of Michigan, fourth, originally came from Hungary. Peter Fries of Michigan was fifth and Joe Henry of Ohio State sixth.

Stewart had an eight-yard lead on Parks at the one-quarter mark and lengthened the gap to about 15 yards but finished only five yards ahead.

The record is 18:11.5 by Ford Konno of Ohio State in 1952.

There were 19 entries in four heats for the grind with best times deciding placements. Michigan State went briefly ahead in the scoring on the basis of the single final on the 7-5-4-3-2-1 scoring system.

Eliminations and semi-finals in eight events got under way this afternoon. Evening finals will be in the 200-yard butterfly, 50-yard freestyle, 200-yard backstroke, 220-yard freestyle, 100-yard breaststroke, one-meter springboard diving, 200-yard individual medley and 400-yard freestyle.

Coaches Divided Over Value of Modified Rules

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Opposing coaches viewed with mixed reactions the changed rules under which last night's Vanderbilt-Baylor basketball was played.

The modified rules enforced were a 24-second offensive time limit, elimination of free throws for the first six common fouls of each half, and elimination of bonus, or "one-and-one" free throws.

The final score, Vanderbilt 61-Baylor 60, didn't reflect any drastic change. But the number of free throws awarded each team was sharply reduced. Vanderbilt had 11 free throws, Baylor only 5.

Wings Closer to Early Vacation After 3-0 Loss

BOSTON (UPI)—The Detroit Red Wings took another step toward an early vacation last night when former teammate Harry Lumley and the Boston Bruins blanked them 3-0.

The loss left the Wings five points behind fourth-place New York with eight games left. It would take a miracle finish to get Detroit into the playoffs.

Bronco Horvath gave Lumley all the margin he needed with his 17th goal of the season at 15:14 of the first period. Horvath dug the puck out from a scramble and raced in to beat goalie Terry Sawchuk for an unassisted marker.

The Bruins gave roly-poly "Lum" a pair of insurance tallies in the final period. Guy Gendron triggered his 15th at 5:15 and rookie Larry Leach got his third at 13:50.

Lumley turned back 29 Red Wing shots and the Bruins had the same number of tries at Sawchuk but they put three of them in.

The victory last night gave the Bruins an eight-point bulge over Detroit and Toronto, tied for last place, and an almost unbreakable hold on one playoff spot.

The beleaguered Red Wings journey to Montreal tomorrow night and all the Canadiens need is a tie to clinch their second straight National Hockey League championship. The Wings will be at New York Sunday.

The Canadiens nipped Toronto 2-1 in the other game last night. Dickie Moore took over the goals tallied lead by firing his 34th and upped his advantage over Andy Bathgate to two.

HEY! WHAT GOES ON? — Orchard Lake St. Mary's Don Duszynski ducks under the high-flung arms of St. Frederick's Jim (Jumbo) Kennedy, during early action in last night's District "C" tourney at PCH. Tom Derocher (St. Frederick) looks on in astonishment. Rams won, in overtime, 42-37.

Women's Tourney Resumes

The 2nd of four full weekends of bowling comes up Saturday and Sunday at Montcalm Centre in the annual City Women's tournament sponsored by the Pontiac Women's Association.

Tomorrow's action will start at 6:45 p.m. and include two squads in team play. Sunday, competition will begin at 10 a.m. as originally scheduled with doubles and singles filling three squads and more teams making up a 4th.

None of last year's championship scores was threatened as things got rolling last weekend. General Fabricating hit 2889 as compared to 3072 by Twin Pines in 1958; Betty Given totaled 690, 39 short of Viola Cargal; Eleanor Needham-Marvel Szot were far off the mark at 1237 in doubles, as was Opal Ward in all events actual with 1334.

Wilma Myers and Doris Young combined for 1307 as doubles champs and Shirley Pointer fired a 1666 all events actual to win the last tournament.

Betty Given has scored the top actual series of 570 while Fran McCallum rolled the best actual game with 228 but was matched for handicap score by Stella Grapp at 267.

While all the activity is going on here, PWBA president Gen Bradley will lead a group of local teams competing in the Elks' State Women's event at Jackson.

Imlay Eliminates Almont, Dryden Bows Out

Romeo Wins, Milford Falls

Two conference champions are paired in the Class B district final at Troy and an all-Wayne-Oakland League final is scheduled in the same division at Milford following Thursday night's high school tournament action in the Oakland County area.

Romeo, Tri-County champion, qualified to meet Oakland B winner Troy on Saturday night by crushing Clawson, 72-40, last night at Troy.

Northville will meet Wayne-Oakland champ Brighton for the Milford "B" title, also on Saturday night. The Mustangs earned their right to enter the title round by defeating host Milford, 60-51, last night.

In other tourney highlights yesterday, Memphis of the Southern Thumb and Country Day gained the final Class D round at East Detroit, Imlay City polished off Almont in the "C" ranks at Port Huron, Southern Thumb member Dryden bowed out of Class D at Grand Blanc and Highland Park ousted Ferndale from the "A" field at Birmingham.

Memphis led all the way for a 49-30 victory over Marine City Holy Cross, Country Day eked out a 40-30 decision over New Baltimore St. Mary, Imlay came from behind for a 59-48 conquest of Almont, Flint St. Mary disposed of Dryden, 44-39, and Ferndale was eliminated by Highland Park, 46-42.

In yesterday's other Class A game at Birmingham, Warren advanced to Saturday's title round against Berkley by sailing past inept Hazel Park, 50-35.

Clawson was never in contention against Romeo. The Bulldogs jumped off to a 16-6 first quarter lead with Reid Olszak firing the first 14 points and they were never in danger. Three Romeo cagers hit double figures, headed by Olszak's 24 points. Lowell Acton scored 18 for Clawson.

Milford stayed even with Northville for the 1st period, 15-15, but the Mustangs moved into a 33-27 halftime edge, hiked the margin to 10 points in the 3rd stanza and coasted home.

Big Jeff Goodrich, returning to winning form after an early season injury, was the big thorn in Milford's side. The 6-foot-8 center swished 29 points for Northville, 10 in the decisive 2nd quarter. Gene Schuett tallied 16 in defeat for the Redskins.

Imlay, South Central king, spotted Almont an early 13-4 advantage, then came on strong to win. The Spartans opened up a 10-point gap in the 3rd session and led the rest of the way. Imlay's John Lengemann hooped 20 points and Don Eschenberg caged a dozen for Almont's Thumb co-champs.

John Englert bagged 16 points in Dryden's losing cause. Barry Falter tallied 14 to spark the Memphis triumph and John Seeley paced Country Day's win with 16.

Dennis Stinson meshed 16 points for Ferndale to take game scoring honors as the Dales gave Highland Park a hard time before bowing. Stinson's individual heroics brought Ferndale a brief lead in the 3rd period before the Parkers bounced back to win and gain a berth in the Birmingham regional next week.

SVC Swim Title at Stake

There is a strong possibility that at least three, and perhaps more records will be smashed during tonight and Saturday's 4th annual Saginaw Valley Swimming Championships at PNH's pool.

First events in one of the state's top schoolboy "tank" competitions take place tonight with the 400-yard freestyle and diving the features.

Record for the 400 is not believed in danger as none of the leading entrants has been close to the 4:29.1 SVC mark.

But the record attempts will come early in the Saturday trials, with the 50-yard freestyle presenting two swimmers who have bettered the Valley mark of 24.7, and another who has equalled it this season.

Chuck Requadt of Bay City and Carl Nieman of Arthur Hill have hit 24.4 and 24.3, respectively, while Jim Ruitti of Flint Northern equaled it. They should meet in the final, with Ruitti seeded in the 2nd, Requadt in the 3rd and Nieman in the last heat.

Requadt has also bettered the Valley mark of 54.7 for the 100-yard freestyle with a 54.1 performance. The Bay City sprinter may get a battle from Flint Central's Art Schantz, who has been clocked only a fraction off the record.

Tom Schadt's 1:02.8 for the 100-yard butterfly makes him the favorite, and a possible record-breaker in the event, in which several others have been close. Current record is 1:03.2.

Pontiac fans will be watching the 100-yard orthodox test with more than usual interest. The favored swimmer in the event is Chiefs sensational sophomore, Bruce Norvell, who has been close to the Valley record of 1:08.5, repeatedly.

The public is invited to see the meet and tickets may be secured at the pool entrance. Adult tickets are $1. Tickets for tonight's events are also good for Saturday afternoon, but tickets (same price) will have to be purchased for the finals, at night.

Tonight's events begin at 8; Saturday prelims at 2:30, and night finals at 8 p.m.

100-yard butterfly—Art Manwell (AH), 1:03.1 (1956).
100-yard backstroke—Ron Gage (AH), 59.5 (1958).
100-yard orthodox breaststroke—Dick Ulrey (Sag), 1:08.5 (1957).
150-yard indiv. medley—Bill Darnton (FC), 1:35.9 (1958).

Spartans Shoot for Puck Sweep Over UM

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State will try to wind up its best hockey season on record tonight and Saturday by shoving the puck down the throat of old rival Michigan.

The Spartans have a 15-4-1 record and have been unofficially assured of a berth in the NCAA playoffs at Troy, N. Y., March 12-14.

MSU has beaten Michigan twice and would like to end the regular season with a series shutout. The best Spartan record against the Wolverines was three of four last year.

Tonight's game will be at East Lansing and the season's finale is scheduled for Ann Arbor ice.

'Big O' Tops All-America 5

These five whizzes of the hardwood were named to the 1959 collegiate basketball All-America by the Associated Press today on the basis of votes from 319 sportswriters and broadcasters throughout the country.

Robertson, the "Big O" who made the All-America last year as a sophomore, again is the top major college scorer, averaging better than 33 points a game. He has drawn capacity crowds wherever Cincinnati has played.

West, a junior like Robertson, led West Virginia to its fifth straight Southern Conference title. "I know that without him," says West Virginia coach Fred Schaus, "our team this year wouldn't have gone anyplace.

Boozer, a senior like Howell and Cox and at 6-8 the tallest man on the first team, led Kansas State to the Big Eight crown.

Howell, whose season is over because Miss. State will not compete in the NCAA tournament, shattered the three-year Southeastern Conference scoring mark of 2,002 that Bob Pettit set as an All-America at Louisiana State in 1954.

Cox was in the thick of things when Kentucky won the National Collegiate (NCAA) championship last season. This season, coach Adolph Rupp built an entirely new team around him.

Don Hennon, of Pitt; Johnny Green of Michigan state; Tom Hawkins of Notre Dame; Leo Byrd of Marshall and Lou Pucillo of North Carolina State were named as a second team.

Jim Hagan of Tennessee Tech; Bob Perry of St. Louis; Ron Johnson of Minnesota; Joe Ruklick of Northwestern and York Larese of North Carolina were chosen as a third team.

All 15 players, comprising the first three teams, will receive certificates from the Associated Press.

UPI All-America Squad

NEW YORK (UPI)—Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati, whose 33.6-point scoring average represents only a small part of his varied basketball talents, led the voting today for the 1959 United Press Internatoinal All-America team with a record popularity.

Named with Robertson by the direct vote of 290 sports writers and radio-TV broadcasters throughout the nation were: Bailey Howell of Mississippi State, Bob Boozer of Kansas State, Jerry West of West Virginia, and little Don Hennon of Pittsburgh. Robertson and Hennon are repeaters from last year's team.

The six-foot-five Robertson, currently leading the nation in scoring for the second consecutive season, received a total of 279 first-team votes, three for second and was passed up on only eight ballots. He thus was named on an all-time high of 97.2 per cent of the votes cast, topping the old record popularity of 96.9 attracted by Wilt Chamberlain of Kansas last season.

'Y' Names 14 Swimmers for State Title Tests

Michigan's YMCA swimmers and divers convene Saturday at the Frost Intermediate School in Jackson for the 1959 prep and junior championships. Pontiac Red Triangle will be represented by teams in both groups, with 14 boys making up the squad in charge of swimming director John Moreau.

Saturday's meet will provide the Pontiac association's so-far undefeated junior medley relay team (200-yards) with its biggest challenge of the season. Moreau believes it has a good chance of coming through with a win.

The junior medley team members are Phil Cashin, Jim Velzey, Tom Harrington and Bob Butler. Other junior swimmers and their events are Bill Main, diving, and Tom McKinnon, 100-yard individual medley. Butler will also swim the 100-yard freestyle, Cashin the 50-yard backstroke and Velzey the 50-yard breaststroke.

The prep team also includes a medley relay quartet, composed of Roger Edginton, Bruce Weber, Roger Wotila and Lin Niggeman. Skip Ervin will swim the 25-yard butterfly, Richard Ries the 25-yard breaststroke and Chuck Ries will compete in diving. Medley team swims a 100-yard distance.

Pontiac YMCA will have a nine-man team in the March 14-15 Eleventh Annual Glass City meet at Toledo. Team will compete in five age divisions, and compete in 23 events.

In yesterday's other Class A playoff game, Bob McManus tallied 20 points, Hal Trott 19 and Dave Sebring 18 as the Knights of Columbus moved into the title round with an 80-66 victory over the Sports Shop. Felix Brooks captured scoring honors in defeat with 27.

Pettit Betters Yardley Record

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks last night set a National Basketball Assn. single season scoring record.

Pettit, in his fifth year in the NBA, dumped in 24 points to run his season's total to 2,008, although the Hawks lost to Philadelphia 106-101.

The 26-year-old Baton Rouge, La., native surpassed the previous mark of 2,0001 set last year by George Yardley, then with Detroit. The two are the only NBA players to surpass 2,000 points in one season. Paul Arizin led Philly with 42.

Even the Warriors' victory didn't get them into the Eastern Division playoffs. Syracuse laid into the Boston Celtics, 142-118 to clinch the third and last playoff in the East.

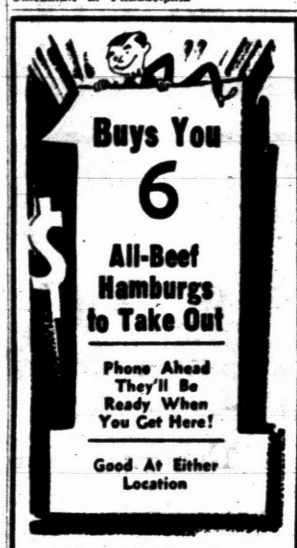

The victory kept Boston from setting an all-time record for season victories. The Celts now have 51. The Nats set a club record for total points as Dolph Schayes scored 25 points, John Kerr 22 and Bob Hopkins 20. Bill Sharman led Boston with 23.

Elgin Baylor scored 32 points to give Minneapolis at least a tie for second place in the West, as the Lakers downed New York 135-115. Baylor got 14 field goals—10 in a row at one point—in the first game of the Philly doubleheader.

Baylor Named Top NBA Rookie

NEW YORK (AP)—Elgin Baylor, the former college All-America from Seattle who is making good in the National Basketball Assn., today was unanimously selected as the outstanding rookie in the professional game by the New York Basketball Writers' Assn.

The Hy Turkin award, named in honor of the late New York Daily News sports writer, will be given to Baylor of the Minneapolis Lakers at the writers' annual dinner March 15.

By BEN OLAN

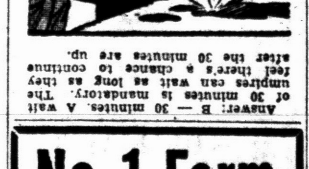

There are few things less irritating to baseball fans than having a game interrupted by rain. But if there's one factor even the best teams can't buck it's the elements.

What's the procedure to be followed when it looks as though a game may be called because of a downpour? Form your opinion after reading the following theoretical situation.

The Baltimore Orioles are playing the White Sox in Chicago. It's the top of the fourth inning with Dick Donovan on the mound for the Sox. Bob Boyd and Bob Nieman, the first two Baltimore batsmen, have just been retired. It then begins to rain heavily and time is called as the players move into their dugouts. The downpour increases and it appears that further play may be impossible.

a. one hour?
b. 30 minutes?
c. not at all?
d. 90 minutes?

Answer: B — 30 minutes. A wait of 30 minutes is mandatory. The umpires can wait as long as they feel there's a chance to continue after the 30 minutes are up.

FACTS ABOUT STORMS—Seven months of the year are the danger months as far as tornadoes go (see Newschart). But nature's most vicious kind of storm has been known to occur at all seasons and in every state in the Union. According to a study made by the U.S. Weather Bureau of 3,024 tornadoes recorded during the six years, 1950-1956, most twisters strike between noon and midnight.

Father, Daughter, 3, Die in Iowa Blizzard

WAUKEE, Iowa (AP) — The body of the 3-year-old girl lay face down in the snowbank. There were no overshoes on her feet.

Beside her huddled form was that of her father, once stricken with polio, who walked with a limp.

That was the scene highway patrolman Leroy Weber came upon Thursday night on a blizzard-swept country road.

The father, George Cotton, about 30, was dead.

"There was what seemed to be a spark of life in the little girl, Carolyn," said the patrolman. "I carried her to the Otis Dymond farm about a fourth of a mile down the road. We tried our best to revive her but couldnt."

The father and child had spent Thursday afternoon visiting friends near this small town west of Des Moines. They had started home sometime before 4 o'clock in a fierce snowstorm.

About a mile further down the road the car stalled in a snowdrift again. They left the car and started walking for help.

"They walked nearly a mile before they collapsed," Weber said. "The Dymond farm was almost in view."

The patrolman started his search when Cotton's wife reported he and Carolyn were missing.

Weber drove as far as he could down the country road. Then he set out on foot in the storm. A farmer got out his tractor and helped plow a path. When the tractor bogged down, Weber continued on foot.

The patrolman battled bitter winds and wet blown snow for several hours before he discovered the bodies.

Charlotte Man Sees Plant Reopening

CHARLOTTE (UP) — The manager of the Charlotte Chamber of Commerce states he is "reasonably sure" the Wilcox-Gay plant that closed in this Eaton County community last December will reopen as the Recordio Corp.

Robert Gibson said some 200 former employes of the plant, a pioneer tape recording firm, have pledged $100,000 for possible purchase of stock in the new corporation.

Other sources have pledged $50,000, he added.

Gibson said the pledges meet the first requirement of an agreement between former plant manager Donald Heinsche, and the owners of Wilcox-Gay for purchase of inventory and opening of properties under a lease.

A final agreement on the plan, Gibson said, would have to be worked out with the Michigan Securities Commission.

Ontario Indians Proclaim Independent State

BRANTFORD, Ont. (AP) — Indians on the warpath have proclaimed a vest-pocket independent state in Ontario and demanded immediate recognition.

They threaten to go to the United Nations if Canada doesn't play ball.

The Canadian government's first reaction was to wait and see. A veiled offer was held out to smoke the pipe of peace.

Rebellious warriors, carrying hatchets and wearing warpaint and feathered headdress, staged the bloodless coup Thursday and overthrew the Canadian government-sponsored council of 11 men in the Six Nations Reserve.

Some 20 hereditary tribal chiefs branded the council a puppet government and seized administrative control of the 12-mile-square reserve west of Toronto and Buffalo, N.Y.

The old council slipped out the back door just before the assault.

"We are satisfied that the revolution is a success and will not be put down," a rebel spokesman declared.

The chiefs ruled the reserve and its community of Oshweken until 1924, when the Canadian government stripped them of power and vested authority in an 11-man elected council. The dissident faction refused to recognize the council and continued to hold meetings in their traditional long houses.

A Royal Canadian Mounted Police force of eight men on the reserve made no attempt to crush the revolt when 1,000 Indians marched on the Council House, smashed open the locked door and took over control.

About 6,000 people live on the Indian Reserve on the Grand River, which dates back to 1784. The land was given to those of the Iroquois Confederacy — of Mohawks, Senecas, Onondagas, Cayugas, Oneidas and Tuscaroras —who came north to Canada after the American Revolution.

The dissident Indians charge the Canadian government has robbed them of much of their land grant and trampled their tribal rites—especially in refusing to recognize the tribal marriage ceremony.

The Indian claim extends over a rich area of land six miles deep along both banks of the Grand River, including the cities of Kitchener, Galt and Brantford.

The chiefs' lawyer said H. M. Jones, head of the federal government's Indian Affairs Branch, had reused to recognize the coup, but had offered to review any complaints against the old administration.

J. E. Morris of Ottawa, regional supervisor for Indian affairs, challenged the position taken by the chiefs, telling a tribal meeting that although the rebels refused to recognize the federal Indian Act, the reserve was accepting from the Canadian government social and welfare benefits of $400,000 a year.

"I don't know how you can accept this aid if you have no desire to continue as before," he said.

Hicks Charged With Selling Beer to Minor

George D. Hicks, four times a losing Democratic candidate for Oakland County sheriff and a former Pontiac police officer for 22 years, was arrested yesterday on a charge of illegally selling liquor.

Hicks pleaded not guilty to the charge before Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan, and is free on personal bond.

He will be tried March 12.

He ran unsuccessfully for sheriff in 1952, 54, 56 and 58.

Hicks, 52, of 16 N. Johnson Ave., was arrested at noon yesterday by Pontiac Police vice officers.

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — A committee of the Republican-dominated Kansas Legislature voted against recommending passage of a bill which would erect a statue of President Eisenhower in the capitol of his boyhood state. Democrats sponsored the bill.

Pennsylvania Fire Claims Fifth Victim

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP) — The fire which destroyed the Hotel Gary claimed another life Thursday night, bringing the death toll to five.

Howard Deitch, 53, whose wife lost her life in the blazing building early Thursday, died at a hospital of injuries. The couple had lived at the hotel.

Mrs. Mary McAlarney, another hotel resident was still unaccounted for. A man and a woman, were considered in serious condition. Thirteen others were injured less seriously, with seven still hospitalized.

Hazleton fire officials and the 7state fire marshal's office launched an investigation to determine the cause of the blaze, which roared up the elevator shaft of the five-story, 75-year-old brick structure.

There were 53 guests in the hotel, many of them elderly persons.

'Sayonara' Maker Plans Another Similar Movie

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD — Interesting that William Goetz, basking in the fame of "Sayonara," has decided to make another movie in Japan early next year.

He's bought "Cry for Happy," a novel by George Campbell which is set in Japan during 1950-51.

This is the story of seven Navy men who take over a Geisha house in Tokyo and theis amours with the young ladies employed there. William Holden, who would travel at the drop of a hat, is being sought, as is Jack Lemmon, under contract to Columbia, for the two top roles.

In addition to the Japanese-made movie, Goetz's program includes "The Magic Flame" with Dirk Bogarde which starts April 20, and in order to get Jimmy Stewart for "The Mountain Road" they must go into production the end of May.

"Time of the Dragon" is third on Goetz's list, all for this year.

Supposed to be on the q.t.—but an unknown beauty is flying out via jet from New York to test for the role Lana Turner abandoned in "Anatomy of a Murder."

When Preminger was interviewing girls for "St. Joan" one of the applicants who impressed him most was Elizabeth. She lost out to Jean Seberg.

Against her wealthy parents' wishes, she went to New York to pursue a career, and when Preminger was East recently he talked with Elizabeth about the part of the "other woman" in "Anatomy of a Murder."

But now that Lana has flown the coop—he put in a hurry-up call for Miss McCrea to fly here to test for LANA'S part. Well, Preminger likes young talent.

Hard to realize that Lou Costello is gone. At times I think many of us who are close to the industry failed to realize his great popularity.

Lou and Bud Abbott, his partner of many years, went with me to the veterans hospital in Long Beach with a party of other stars to put on a show, and they just wouldn't let Lou and Bud off the stage. "Who's on first," their famous baseball act, gave happiness to so many people.

Lou was a sweet, kind person, but very sensitive about the opinion of those close to him. I felt sorry when Lou and Bud broke up their partnership, and I think that hurt Lou. I know it did Bud.

The Abbott-Costello comedies took U-I out of the red, and their "Buck Privates" which cost $250,000 to make, grossed $10,000,000. The GIs just loved it as they did all the Abbott-Costello comedies.

Lou was too young to die. Had he lived he would have been 53 tomorrow.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Fernando Lamas is courting Arlene Dahl again and is making with the roses, the candy and the dinner routine. They were at Scandia for dinner and Brown Derby for luncheon.

Constance Bennett is in town to confer with the William Morris agency about three TV pilots.

Great disappointment that Academy nominee Wendy Hiller won't be able to be here for the Academy Awards. She told Hecht-Hill-Lancaster that she starts rehearsals immediately for a new London play "All in the Family." She's up for an Oscar in "Separate Tables."

Canadian Consul General Leo Dolan tells me that he has presented an award to Bing Crosby from Canada, and has also given the groaner a membership in the Woods and Stream Association which gives him the right to hunt and fish on Canadian land and waters.

U.S. Embassy Plans to Reopen in Bolivia

The Bolivian Foreign Ministry said it did not expect any more trouble and advised embassy workers they could return to their homes in the capital. They were evacuated to the suburbs Monday to escape rioters. None was hurt.

The demonstrations grew out of a wisecrack belittling Bolivia in Time magazine, which attributed the quip to an unnamed embassy official. The Embassy denied any official made the remark, which suggested Bolivia should be divided up among her neighbors to solve the country's grave economic problems.

Officer Ripped in Court Picking Up Paper

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP)—Policeman Fred Teeter had just been called to testify in Superior Court when the prosecutor dropped a paper. Teeter, his back to the courtroom, bent to pick it up.

There was a loud rip, then a ripple of laughter from spectators. Teeter's trousers had tore.

Ike's Cabinet Luck Running Out?

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—All in all President Eisenhower has had pretty good luck with the longevity of his Cabinet even though he's had practically two Cabinets in six years.

All but three members of the original Cabinet he picked in 1953 are gone. But most of the men who took their places are still there. The one exception is Marion B. Folsom, who succeeded Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby as secretary of health, education and welfare and in turn was succeeded last year by Arthur S. Flemming.

Now, however, Eisenhower's Cabinet may face a double dent.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, a member of the original Cabinet, is fighting cancer and it is questionable whether he will resume his job. Thursday Neil H. McElroy, secretary of defense, confirmed reports he is leaving sometime this year.

It so happens that Dulles and McElroy — next to Eisenhower himself — are the two most important men in relation to American foreign affairs at a time when this country is facing a critical showdown with the Soviet Union over Germany.

McEloy, 54, told a news conference he planned to resign "toward the end of this year." He is going back into private business.

It has been estimated it would take any outsider like McElroy, going into his defense job, at least 18 months to master his problems and reach the point where he could function at his best.

This would be true if a strict outsider were brought in. But there have been reports that Eisenhower will move Donald A. Quarles, deputy secretary of defense, into the secretary's spot when McElroy says goodbye.

Quarles is no novice in the Pentagon. He has been there quite a while, as deputy secretary since May 1, 1957, and before that as secretary of the air force and assistant secretary of defense.

McElroy will be setting no precedent by resigning the defense secretary's job after a limited stay and at a serious moment.

Gen. George C. Marshall was made secretary of defense by President Truman in September 1950, a few months after the start of the Korean War. He stayed in the job one year, and resigned during the war.

Truman reached into the Defense Department for Marshall's successor. He picked Robert A. Lovett, also a businessman, who had been Marshall's deputy secretary of defense.

Truman had pulled Marshall out of retirement — the general had been ill — to help out during the Korean War and Marshall told him his stay in the Pentagon might be temporary.

McElroy said Thursday he had told Eisenhower, when the latter appointed him defense secretary in 1957, that he would want to be relieved before the end of the administration.

But Eisenhower told a news conference Wednesday that McElroy has a sense of duty and: "If things get tighter, well, I just don't think he would forget."

Actually, if McElroy waits till near the end of the year to quit, the crisis over Germany may have flattened out.

Big Ben's 100th Year Nearing

British Haven't Chosen Date for Famed Clock's Centenary Fete

WASHINGTON — Britons will soon observe the centenary of the Great Clock at Westminster Palace in London, more familiarly known the world over as "Big Ben."

Parliament has not yet determined an exact date for the birthday celebrations. While E. J. Dent's remarkably accurate "double three-legged escapement" clockwork mechanism started ticking on May 31, 1859, the great bell or Big Ben didn't begin to thunder out the hours until July 11, 1859.

Over the years, the 13½-ton main bell has given its name to the clock, the National Geographic Society notes.

Among other names, Parliament had considered calling the original Bell "St. Stephen" and "The Crown Princess of Prussia."

of Sir Benjamin Hall, then Queen Sir Benjamin Hall, then Queen Victoria's Chief Commissioner of Works, a Parliamentary wag urged that it be called "Big Ben." The name stuck.

Big Ben's chimes, which precede the striking of the quarter hours, were taken from Great St. Mary's Church in Cambridge. The phrase they sound, popularly known as the "Westminster Chimes," derives from the aria in Handel's Messiah, "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth."

Discount Rate Hiked to 3 Pct.

4 Reserve Banks Up Charge on Borrowing to Members

WASHINGTON (AP) — Indicating concern about a possible upturn in inflation, the Federal Reserve Board increased the discount rate at four reserve banks effective today.

The discount rate will rise to 3 per cent from 2½ per cent at reserve banks in New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and Dallas. Similar increases are expected later at the eight other banks in the system.

The move toward tighter money came as a surprise. An increase in the discount rate—the interest charged when member banks borrow from the reserve system—usually portends a rise in other interest charges.

The board's announcement was made Thursday after the close of the New York markets. In Los Angeles, where the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange was still open, prices went down fractionally.

Government market experts in New York attributed the rally in part to remarks Wednesday by M. S. Szymczak, a member of the Federal Reserve Board, who said that because of unemployment the board could not pursue a more restrictive monetary policy at this time.

Couple Loses 6 Tots in Farm Home Fire

BATOCHE, Sask. (AP)—Six children and an adult perished last night in a farm home fire near this village 40 miles southwest of Prince Albert.

The victims were four boys and two girls, ranging in age from four months to seven years. They were the entire family of Mr. and Mrs. William Hryciuk. The other victim was Edmond Pilon, 60, a guest of the family.

The parents were attending a public health lecture at the village church. They returned to find their home in flames. Hryciuk forced his way inside and managed to drag out three children before he collapsed.

When he recovered, he and his wife drove them to a hospital at Rosthern, 15 miles away. The children were pronounced dead on arrival.

Car Output Will Climb This Week

DETROIT (AP)—Passenger car output this week will move up to 133,688 units, Automotive News said.

The total, boosted by the return of Chrysler Corp. to five-day operations, will compare with last week's 127,756 cars. In the week ended March 8, 1958, the industry built 83,892 cars.

Truck output, the trade paper said, will amount to 23,558 units, compared with 25,139 last week. Chevrolet truck output will decline, Automotive News said, because of the closing of the division's St. Louis plant this week for modernization.

Canadian auto makers are expected to build 7,861 cars and 1,760 trucks this week, the paper said. Last week they made 8,258 cars and 1,583 trucks. In the year-ago week output was 6,907 cars and trucks.

Buick Plans Cutback Affecting 4,500 Workers

FLINT (AP)—Buick Motors Corp. plans a second production cut this month which could affect some 4,500 workers.

Edward T. Ragsdale, Buick general manager, said the cut to balance output with sales becomes effective March 24. Ragsdale said the extent of the curtailment and the number of workers affected could not be determined immediately but added that some 4,500 workers may be affected.

The division currently employs some 18,000.

Buick laid off some 2,000 workers about a month ago in its first cutback.

The division turned out 63,376 autos in the first two months this year, compared with 61,198 in the like 1958 period.

Break Ring That Passed Fake $100 Bills in Area

DETROIT (UPI) — About $2,000 worth of bogus $100 bills was passed in the Detroit area by a nationwide ring of counterfeiters.

The breakup of the ring was announced yesterday in Chicago. Secret service agents said the ring passed more than one million dollars in phony $100 bills.

In Canada, mounties arrested two men, Jack Edward Venus, 32, and James Zavine, 22, at Hamilton, Ont., and charged them with possessing $6,800 in fake bills.

They are charged with passing 18 or 20 of the bills in Detroit department stores during the Christmas holidays.

Discount News Tumbles Mart

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market fell sharply in heavy early trading today on overnight news of the surprise boost in the discount rate.

The surprise credit-tightening move by the Federal Reserve Board shook key stocks to losses of fractions to about 2 points.

Some of the space age issues which have made huge gains recently took bigger losses. Zenith plummeted half a dozen points and Thiokol fell more than 4 before halving the loss.

The raising of the discount rate to 3 per cent from 2½ per cent as an anti-inflation measure hit hard at one of the main spark plugs of the recent market rise — fear of inflation.

The decline swept all sections of the list as the ticker tape ran late under a barrage of offerings.

Losses of around 2 points were taken by Ford, Reynolds Tobacco "B," U. S. Gypsum and Lukens Steel.

Down more than a point were Union Carbide, U. S. Rubber, Radio Corp., Anaconda, Allied Chemical, Westinghouse Electric and International Paper.

Blame Dixie Crash on Splash of Mud

One traffic accident attributed to last night's rainfall was reported by Oakland County sheriff's deputies on U.S. 10 near Grange Hall road, in Groveland Township.

Clifford W. Babcock, 44, of Lowell, Mich., was reported in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital today. Deputies said Babcock's auto was struck from behind by one driven by Jack T. MacLean Jr., 26, of Forest Park, Ill.

MacLean told deputies that an unidentified passing auto splashed mud on his windshield and that he couldn't see Babcock's car in time to avoid the collision.

'Deepfreeze' Commander Learns to Rely on Prayer

and high winds. In desperation, on the third day, Dufek decided to load one of the Otters on the shop Eastwind and sail it to Little America. During this operation a wing of the Otter was smashed.

NO SIGN OF PLANE

It would take hours, perhaps a whole day to repair it. Dufek decided to return to McMurdo and bring up the second Otter. Meanwhile Capt. Cordiner reported that the tractor trains had found no sign of the plane.

And still the weather continued bad. Snow. Wind. The white-out.

"Time is against us," said Admiral Dufek. "We'll just have to wait."

But Admiral Dufek did more than simply wait. He returned to McMurdo and sought out Chaplain John Condit. The priest was talking with some base personnel in the chapel, built by these men on their own time, after they had put in their regular 12-hour shifts. Father Condit shared with Protestant chaplain Peter Bol the southernmost parish in the world.

"Any news?" asked the priest.

"None."

"We're going to hold a special service after supper . . ."

"I'll be there."

"We wish there were something we could do," said one of the men.

PRAYED

"There is," said Admiral Dufek. "Pray." Let's not be afraid to ask for help." And then the Admiral went down to his own cabin aboard the Eastwind, closed the door and he prayed.

The morning of the fourth day came and went.

A blizzard closed McMurdo. Dufek had to delay shipping the second Otter to Little America.

On the afternoon of the fourth day came a message from Washington. It was from Captain "Trigger" Hawkes, one of Dufek's ace pilots who had flown the long range aircraft out of Antarctica a few weeks earlier.

"Propose flight to Antarctica via South America to assist in search."

TROUBLE ON TROUBLE

It was a desperate hope. Admiral Dufek wired back to Washington: "Approved."

More waiting. The morning of the fifth day arrived. The Otter at Little America was airborne now. Any word from it? No. None at all.

And then, a more urgent note. A message relayed from South America. Commander Torbert, flying the plane sent by Trigger Hawkes, reported losing power. Jungles below. Setting down in clearing beside river.

Two crews to worry about now! The sixth day came. The blizzard still raged at McMurdo.

On the morning of the seventh day one of the messengers ran in from the radio room and handed Dufek a message. "Torbert plane sighted. All personnel safe."

And minutes later one of Admiral Dufek's officers walked up to him with another message. "I believe this is something you've been waiting for, Admiral," he said.

The plane had crash-landed on a narrow plateau in the Alexandra Mountains, 60 miles off the tractor trail. The plane was completely destroyed.

The pilot had been unable to use his radio because of freezing rains. They had rationed their food, but it had not been enough. When found, they were exhausted from exposure and lack of nourishment. But all hands were safe . . . Thank you, God. Thank you!

Admiral Dufek looked at the clock on the wall in his cabin. Three o'clock: Feb. 10th. "Why, it's my birthday!" he said, aloud.

"The two rescues," he radioed, "make the best birthday present I ever had." And, as he thought about his prayers, he said to himself:

"Something always happens. I can't explain it and I don't intend to try."

Top Legislators Confer With Ike

United After 90 Minutes on Berlin; Macmillan to Arrive March 19

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower discussed the Berlin situation with congressional leaders of both parties for 90 minutes today.

The President and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan will begin talks here March 20 on the same critical problem.

The White House and Macmillan's office in London announced jointly that the British prime minister and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd will arrive here Thursday, March 19 "for informal discussions lasting a few days on the international situation."

The discussions will begin Friday, March 20. The talks presumably will include a review of Macmillan's recent conferences with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

After the announcement of Macmillan's plans to come here, Eisenhower welcomed Senate and House leaders of both political parties to his office for a discussion of the developing crisis.

The big four involved in this consultation were Lyndon Johnson of Texas, Democratic leader of the Senate and Everett Dirksen of Illinois, Republican leader; Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, top Democrat in the House; and Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, House Republican chief.

The President also included Vice President Nixon, Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy and Acting Secretary of State Christian Herter in the conference.

Rayburn called the conference very informative.

"The upshot," he added, "is that we are united. We have no (political) parties in this thing."

GM, Du Pont Rebuttal Due in Stock Hearings

CHICAGO (AP)—General Motors Corp. and E. I. Du Pont de Nemours & Co. begin rebuttal testimony March 16 in a hearing on a government plan to divest Du Pont of 63 million shares of GM common stock.

The government rested its case yesterday.

The hearing is the result of a 1957 Supreme Court ruling that Du Pont holdings in GM—23 per cent—constitute a tendency toward monopoly. The high court ordered U. S. District Judge Walter J. Labuy to determine how to remedy the situation.

The government has proposed 20 million shares of GM stock be sold on the open market over a 10-year period with the remaining 43 million shares to be distributed to individual Du Pont stockholders on a pro-rated basis.

Du Pont attorneys have contended the government plan would depress GM and Du Pont stock prices on the market. As an alternate, they propose Du Pont retain its GM stock but pass on voting rights to individual stockholders.

In yesterday's hearing a government witness and a Du Pont attorney clashed over the authenticity of an illustrated exhibit relating to the divestiture plan.

Hugh B. Cox, a Du Pont attorney, argued the exhibit, purporting to compare yields of GM stock and a composite of 500 other stocks over a 12-year period, wax "phoney." He said extra dividends were included in the GM listing, but not in the composite.

The witness, Alfred C. Boni, president of Boni, Watkins, Jason & Comn, a New York investment firm, admitted the omission. Boni added, however, that the extra dividend factor was not included in the composite because it was canceled out by dividends not declared by some firms making up the list.

Purpose of the exhibit, prepared by the Boni firm, was to attempt to show GM common stock yields have a fairly stable relationship with those of the composite group despite changes in capital structure such as new stock offerings.

Boni testified previously it would be feasible under certain conditions to market Du Pont's 63 million shares of GM stock without causing a short term price decline of more than 5 per cent.

Marketing of the shares over a long period, he had said, could be accomplished "without dire consequences."

Prout Hits Planning of Courthouse

W. Cadman Prout, Oakland County's Friend of the Court, has that left out feeling.

Prout complained today when he learned his 35-member staff will not have offices in the proposed new $2,875,000 courthouse.

He said his office "is about to be forgotten" by supervisors and architects who planned several years ago just who will have offices in the modern six-story, long-awaited building.

"If this office is the ill-conceived child of the county, it is about time some changes are made which will give the status to the divorce traffic which is presently vexing our county and society in general," Prout said.

In a letter to several supervisors and Circuit Court judges, Prout criticized the planners, who, he claimed, "choose arbitrarily to forget the largest department assisting the Circuit Court."

Prout requested an explanation.

This was given immediately by Harry W. Horton, vice chairman of a supervisors' Special Courthouse Building.

"We couldn't put everybody in the building," he said.

Horton said the committee, in sitting down with architects, allotted space to those departments first that they believed were absolutely necessary to be immediate to the courts.

Money was another factor, he said, why all county offices, like Prout's, couldn't be placed in the courthouse unit.

The Royal Oak supervisor said present plans call for the Friend of the Court office to be "very adjacent" to the new courthouse to be built on the Service Center site on Telegraph road.

Although Prout's and several other departments won't be moved into the new courthouse, future plans call for them to be housed in administrative wings to be added probably six years from when the courthouse unit is completed.

Prout's letter said his office has a yearly budget of more than $200,000, has more than 7,000 divorce cases on file, and has supervised 24,000 children over the past 10 years as wards of the Circuit Court.

To Subpoena 17 in Arson Trial

To Call Ziem, Assistant, Other Local Witnesses in Thompson Case

Seventeen Pontiac area persons, including Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem and his chief assistant, George F. Taylor, will be subpoenaed to testify in the Jack D. Thompson arson trial starting March 17 in Flint.

State Police Det. Charles M. Leaf of the Pontiac Post was in the process of serving the subpoenas yesterday. Coincidentally, Leaf is one of the 17 to appear.

Thompson, a business agent with the Flint Teamsters local, is charged with arson in the Aug. 3 death of his fellow Teamsters agent Frank Kierdorf.

Included on the list of local people slated to testify is Leaun Harrelson, president of Pontiac Teamsters Local 614, once suspected as a conspirator in the baffling Kierdorf death, and Frank's uncle, Herman of Madison Heights.

Herman, 68, still free on bond appeal a 17 to 5-year prison sentence for possession of a pistol silencer, was another central figure in his nephew's strange burning. Herman disappeared for 13 days after seeing Frank near death at a Pontiac hospital.

Others from here subpoenaed include Sheriff's Det. Charles Whitlock; Pontiac Police officers William Nesbitt, Robert M. Wachal, Ray E. Denton, Fred A. Stormer, Karl D. Kilmer; Sara Tardugno, Dr. Norman F. Gehringer, Mary Medina, Mrs. J. C. Greene, Anna Mae Mullins, and Dr. Richard E. Olsen, all on the staff of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

During the month of August 1958 at least 21 million women were employed in the United States.

Willman Asks 'Yes' Vote on Civil Service Repeal

City Manager Walter K. Willman yesterday urged a favorable vote on two city-sponsored propositions on the April 6 ballot.

He outlined to the Pontiac Rotary Club reasons why the city is asking public approval of the $3,300,000 sewage treatment plant bond issue and repeal of the state Civil Service law covering Pontiac Police.

The one proposal would allow for new residential expansion in Pontiac, he said, opening the door for a higher tax base.

The other would put control over the Police Department back where it belongs—in the hands of the administration, he said.

With the existing treatment plant working at capacity and above, further residential expansion is stymied, Willman said, by the city's inability to take on new customers.

But with a new plant, undeveloped areas could be opened up for new homes, he said.

About six of the city's 20 square miles are still unsubdivided, and these represent a potential $100 million in assessed valuation if built up, Willman estimated.

The city manager still hopes to retire the bonds without extra taxes, saying they would only cost about 70 cents for every $1,000 in assessed valuation.

"It is still our aim to handle all of the retirement expense—or a good share of it—within the existing tax rate."

The Water Resources Commission continues to urge an end to Pontiac pollution of the Clinton River, said Willman, but it is doubtful whether the existing plant will be able to increase its efficiency beyond the present 83 per cent mark, 12 points below the minimum state standard.

The treatment plant bond issue was defeated by a narrow margin last fall and a wider one in May 1957. The bonds would cover the cost of a new plant, improvements to the old plant and facilities to connect the two.

Willman called the Civil Service Act "restrictive and difficult."

He repeated complaints that have been leveled by City Hall since the act was voted m nearly two years ago.

The manager gave these objections as examples:

1. Under Civil Service, police and firemen are treated separately from other city employes.

2. Although the city administration is charged by law with maintenance of law and order, under Civil Service it has nothing to say about the selection of police officers, or their discipline.

3. To amend the law would be "next to impossible," since changes would have to be approved by both legislative chambers in Lansing, "neither of which are particularly interested in the subject."

4. Only the top man on the examination list is eligible for promotion to a new opening. More liberal civil service systems allow the administration to choose among the top three men.

5. All promotions must be made from within the department, even to the chief's job.

Willman said many other provisions were "puzzling."

"For example," he said, "the act requires newcomers to the department to have lived within the city for one year. But there is no residency requirement once an officer is in the department."

Willman said there is a mayor's committee studying means to improve the old trial board setup, in case voters repeal Civil Service and place police back under the trial board.

"The decision to put Civil Service to a vote was made solely by the City Commission," he said. "The administration made no recommendation one way or another."

Firemen, who have been under the act 17 years, are not affected by the April 6 vote.

Foundation Silent on Ford Stock Plan

NEW YORK (AP)—Officials of the Ford Foundation have refused to confirm or deny a Wall Street report the foundation plans to sell another large block of Ford Motor Co. stock.

"We have no comment," a foundation spokesman said yesterday.

Ford Motor Co. spokesmen disclaimed knowledge of the report.

The foundation sold 10,200,000 shares of Ford stock early in 1956, making the motor company's stock available to the general public for the first time, at $64 a share.

Blythe & Co., investment banking house which handled the original offering, also had "no comment."

The foundation holds some 36 million Ford shares.

Capital punishment was abolished in Rhode Island on Feb. 11, 1852, except that a person who commits murder while serving a life sentence can be hanged.

Storms Slow Alaska Pioneers

First Day Hard on 59ers

ANGOLA, Ind. (AP) — The Alaska-bound 59ers from Detroit had it rough Thursday—the first day of their 4,300-mile journey—but a severe Midwestern snowstorm could slow them down even more today.

Winds up to 50 miles per hour piled up heavy snow from Oklahoma to Michigan, and across the path of the modern day wagon train.

The pioneers, who left Detroit Thursday morning and made a mere 130 miles to a state park here because of bad breaks, are scheduled to reach Wisconsin by nightfall. Parts of Wisconsin and Illinois are blanketed by more than eight inches of snow.

In spite of obstacles, the Michiganders aren't discouraged in their hopes of reaching the virgin Kenai Peninsula—where they plan to homestead 160 acres apiece—in about three weeks.

The group includes 13 men, 10 women and 14 children. There are 10 married couples and three single men. Yvonne Stevens, 22, quit her job as a business machine operator to join the caravan, but got stranded in Detroit by trailer hitch trouble. She hopes to catch up today.

The last vehicle of the motorcade had hardly left the Motor City when the lead car pulled off for gasoline near Monroe, Mich. The others trailed around a corner after their leader, but kept going for two miles—on the wrong road.

FLAT TIRE

Another delay came near the Ohio-Indiana border when one of the 12 vehicles blew a tire during a snowstorm. True to pioneer tradition, the whole caravan pulled over to help.

Turnpike guards opened a special gate to speed the 59ers on their way. A highway patrol car stayed within hailing distance.

The modern-day pioneers pulled their vehicles into a tight circle on the service drive of a turnpike rest stop as they halted for lunch. Most of them ate in their cars to stretch funds.

They had hoped to make their first overnight stop near Chicago. The delays, however, caused them to spend the night at Pokagon State Park near here.

Nagging, Slugging—What a Life!

Can Only Take So Much

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — Charles Newell has filed suit for divorce in Circuit Court charging his wife, Bertha, "continually nagged" about:

1. The way he hung up the towels after using them.
2. The way he ate his meals.
3. The fact that he was overweight.
4. The way he combed his hair.
5. His rosy cheeks.
6. The way he complained when his wife's cat walked on the dining room table.
7. The way he complained when she took the cat to bed with her.

He added in his petition: "She informed me the cat was there first and took precedence over me."

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Police booked singer Helen O'Connell's 225-pound husband on two battery charges when she said he beat her and pulled her hair.

ONCE WITH DORSEY

Miss O'Connell, 37, who once sang with the late Jimmy Dorsey's orchestra, said Chamales held her captive in a bedroom 12 hours.

Chamales, 45, author of "Never So Few" and "No Rent In My Hand," married the singer two years ago.

ANCIENT MUSIC — The Imperial Court Orchestra of Japan goes through the same musical ritual it has performed for the past 1,255 years — and on the same kind of instruments, too. The man in foreground is playing a lute-like biwa. Behind him are two sho players. Musicians to the left are playing hichiriki.

Japanese Music 12 Centuries Old

Imperial Band Began in 703 A.D. and Has Entertained Kings

TOKYO (AP)—For more than 12 centuries, Japan's Imperial Court Orchestra has entertained kings and knaves, princes and plotters in an unchanging ritual that was old even before the violin made its European debut.

Founded in 703 A.D., the orchestra has faithfully conserved the cream of ancient Indian and Chinese music to gain its soubriquet as the "Conservatory of the Word."

Its queer harmonies and weird sounds have puzzled Western ears for centuries.

But only recently studies have shown that the 200 ancient compositions that make up the orchestra's repertory bear close similarities to the modern atonal and 12-tone music of Schoenberg, Berg and Hindemith and may have influenced Debussy at an earlier time.

During its long history, the orchestra has been manned only by members of its founding families —except for one musician in the group's present 25 members and seven trainees.

Its instruments have been exact replicas of the original ones imported from China and Korea in the Seventh and Eighth Centuries.

Most of the ancient unwritten laws governing the orchestra are still in force.

All the members are male. Not a single female musician has been allowed to participate in the court orchestra during the past 1,255 years.

Five years ago, Emperor Hirohito sent his kappelmeister to the court treasure house at Nara, the ancient capital in western Japan. The chief court musician, Sukehiro Shiba, 60, cleaned one original bamboo flute of its 1,200 years of dust and played the instrument.

The "A" tone of the ancient flute recorded 440 frequencies, exactly the same as the current internationally agreed concert pitch.

Shiba, direct descendant of the Korean prince who came to Japan in the Seventh Century to organize the orchestra, says: "I was overjoyed at the discovery."

The court orchestra normally has 16 instruments of eight kinds.

The musicians, wearing brown medieval costumes and black headgears, play in a squatting position on the floor.

Harmony of the court music is completely different from usual Western concepts. The Japanese harmony is all dissonance under Western theory. But the dissonance has a pleasing sound because of the peculiar tones of the instruments.

All the court music tunes can be played accurately — from the frequency viewpoint, not tonality —by Western instruments, including keyboard instruments like piano and organ.

Billy Graham Plays More Golf in Australia

"I even shot a 38 the other day," Graham said. He is under doctor's orders to relax as much as possible.

Graham had no revival meetings scheduled today or Saturday because the Melbourne Show Ground where he is preaching is booked by other organizations.

For his meeting Sunday afternoon 66 Sydney people have chartered an airliner to fly them the 1,000 miles to Melbourne and then back.

Taxpayers Irked in Western State

Capitol of Washington Stormed by Backers of Higher, Lower Levies

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP)—A taxpayers' revolt force stormed the State Capitol Thursday but was outmaneuvered by a counter-attack of spending volunteers.

The antitaxers, 75 strong in 19 cars, came armed with a laundry basket of petitions and a few stenciled cards.

Many of the invaders wore tea bag lapel badges in honor of a group of citizens who started the taxpayer revolt in the eastern Washington town of Ritzville over a cup of coffee a few weeks ago. Coffee cups are ungainly to wear, so tea bags were substituted.

The spenders — supporters of full or expanded state services—watched calmly as the invaders swept up the Capitol steps. Then they closed ranks and marched to do battle in the governor's office.

The revolt force got off the first volley, presenting Gov. Albert D. Rosellini with petitions bearing the names of 27,452 persons who pledged not to ask for increased state services in return for holding the line on taxes.

But when the popping of flashbulbs began, the opposition moved in with professionally lettered signs reading: "Taxes for schools, taxes for kindergartens, taxes buy good roads, schools need money." They won the skirmish by dominating the photographs, then retreated on orders of the governor.

Rosellini listened politely as the revolters, who stressed they had no formal organization or leaders, presented their case for holding the line on spending the taxes. He assured the group every possible economy would be effected.

"But we are still going to need more taxes," he said.

The nonpolitical Tax Advisory Council estimated the state would need an additional 120 million dollars in the next two years "just to maintain the services we now have," he added.

As the antitaxers fell back, the more-taxers trooped in. They urged the governor to provide adequate funds for schools.

When the action was all over, neither side had clear victory—but the more-taxers obviously had the support of the governor who is having trouble pushing his heavy tax program through the Legislature, strongly controlled by his own Democratic party.

Chicago Mother Gets $600,000

Former Boss Leaves Sum to Secretary of 40 Years

CHICAGO (AP)—The head of a former printing concern has willed a mother of three teen-agers, whom he described as "my faithful and competent secretary" more than $600,000.

Mrs. Lucille Hoppe Wasleff, who started to work for the company when she was 13 and worked her way up to be the boss' secretary and to executive posts, was left the fortune by Luther C. Rogers, a childless widower, who died Feb. 16 at 92.

Mrs. Wasleff became vice president and part owner of the Rogers & Hall company that is now a management and investment firm. She had worked for Rogers for 40 years.

In Rogers' will, filed in probate court yesterday, Mrs. Wasleff was given $300,000 outright. After other smaller bequests, he left her 20 per cent of the residue, which an attorney for the estate said would total another $300,000 — plus He estimated Rogers' estate at more than two million dollars.

Italy Operagoers Hail American Baritone

MILAN, Italy (AP)—American baritone Cornell McNeil of Cliffside Park, N. J., was the toast of the La Scala Opera House last night as he made his debut as Don Carlo in Verdi't Ernani.

McNeil was cheered in the second act and won shouts of "Bravo, Bravo" in the third. His appearance was called "outstanding" and "a very good surprise for all of us" by operagoers.

The opera conductor chorused in the praise, "McNeil was really outstanding. He is certainly heading for a grand future," said Maestro Gianandrea Gavazeni.

"We will want him back again next year," said La Scala Secretary Luigi Oldani.

McNeil, 34, was born in Minneapolis. He sang with American soprano Margaret Roberts who shared in the applause. She made her debut here two years ago.

8 Ships' Crewmen Ask OK to Switch Unions

DETROIT (AP)—Some 210 crewmen on eight Great Lakes ships have asked the National Labor Relations Board to let them switch from the United Mine Workers Union to the Seafarers International Union.

The ships belong to the Bradley Transportation Co.

Fred J. Farnen, secretary-treasurer of the SIU, said yesterday the crewmen want to be represented by a union specializing in the maritime field.

The SIU has asked the NLRB's regional office at Detroit to hold an election among the seamen as soon as possible. The election is expected to be held at Rogers City.

Russia and-or its satellites have taken part in eight of the 15 small wars which have occurred since the end of World War II.

Bob Hope Quitting Movies for a While

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Back home from New York, where physicians assured him he would not have to submit to eye surgery, comedian Bob Hope says he is quitting the movies for a while.

Hope, who appeared tired, said the medics told him he'd have to stay out of the kleig lights until a blood clot in his left eye clears. The doctors said the clot was caused by high blood pressure.

"I've had to knock out a couple of personal appearances," said Hope. He is going to complete a television film within a few days, then rest for a while.

The land and water area of the Netherlands East Indies is about equal to the land area contained within the continental United States.

Dahl, Lamas Attempt to Reconcile Marriage

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Arlene Dahl says she and Fernando Lamas are dating and their broken marriage may be saved.

It was just a week ago that Miss Dahl, 33, sued the 42-year-old actor for divorce, charging cruelty.

Thursday the actress issued this statement: "I am dismissing the suit to clear it away for a possible reconciliation. Fernando and I are dating. It's all very exciting and I surely hope we can get back together."

Liz Will Speak Freely, but Not About Eddie

By EARL WILSON

Liz and I got together on a 5th Avenue sidewalk late the other night—at the door of a limousine trying to rush her to the airport—and she was very communicative . . . about "smellovision."

WILSON

About Eddie, no. "Hel-ll-lo!" she said from under a wide black hat. A couple of guys were trying to sneak her out but she was nicer than they were.

She'd flown here from Chicago to see Michael's Todd Jr.'s "smellovision" film demonstration . . . 10 minutes in which a rose was shown . . . and she smelled a rose. Then a carpenter shop; she smelled shavings. A delicatessen — she smelled garlic.

"It was sensational," said Liz, who'll play a bit part in Mike Jr.'s "Scent of Mystery." I asked what scent would emanate from her—what she'd smell like. She didn't know yet. But she'll smell like something. (Any suggestions, Debbie?) I fell under her charm and didn't mind her limousine shooting away leaving me empty-notebooked . . . and a stinking reporter.

Playhouse 90 Interesting, but Under Usual Standard

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI)—"Made In Japan," last night's CBS-TV Playhouse 90, was a very earnest play and at times, a moderately interesting one.

But it was not quite up to the mark Playhouse 90 has set most of this season.

Its skeleton was built around a young American soldier who precipitated the death of an inconvenient Japanese girl friend and then induced three buddies to alibi him.

This frame was used as underpropping for a tidy lecture in tolerance and responsibility, all of it pretty painless.

But the trouble with "Made in Japan" lay in its skeleton — it was not a very well-made play.

Its climax was not reached when the young GI decided to confess his errors late in the evening — that event sort of glided in and squatted in among a set of bones that had already gone slack.

The true climax of the play was reached, unfortunately, about half way through the evening when a young Japanese, accused of the girl's death, hanged himself.

This was the turning point of the play and after it occurred, the drama's course was not only predictable, but robbed of its tensions.

SHORT SHOT: Even when ABC-TV's The Real McCoys goes unbelievable as it did last night, Walter Brennan is a pleasure to watch in action — he plays a Johnny one-note character, but even so, manages to give it some shadings.

Medical Tests May Give Clues

Police Still Stumped in Slaying of Father, Tot, Absence of 2 Others

FREDERICKSBURG, Va. (AP) —Authorities are banking heavily on medical examinations for clues to the brutal slaying of a Louisa County man and his infant daughter.

Two bodies found Wednesday under a brush pile two miles west of here have been identified as those of Carroll V. Jackson Jr., 29, a feed truck driver, and 18-month-old Janet Jackson, missing since Jan. 11. Investigators hold little hope of finding alive Jackson's wife Mildred, 27, and their other daughter Susan Anne, 5.

The family vanished while driving from the home of Mrs. Jackson's parents to their own house in Louisa County, about 45 miles from the spot where the bodies were found by two men seeking sawdust mulch for a garden. Their abandoned car was found Jan. 12, keys still in the ignition.

State police said they had no clues to the slayer or the motive. They said much depended on examinations being conducted by Dr. Geoffrey T. Mann, state medical examiner.

"There are many, many questions that Dr. Mann will be able to answer for us," said investigator G. S. Cooper.

Mann said Jackson had been shot through the head. He estimated Jackson and the infant had been dead at least six weeks, which means the slayings occurred soon after the family disappeared.

1st Impressions Are Not Always Best, He Finds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Nathaniel Robinson, 25, had nothing but thanks for the two men who approached him on the street, told him he had dropped his wallet and returned it to him.

After the two men made a hasty retreat, Robinson looked inside his wallet and changed his opinion of them—$49 was missing from the wallet.

To Quiz Mother on 16 Husbands

Hire - Murder Suspect Due on Stand Again in Bride-Killing

VENTURA, Calif. (AP)—Elizabeth Duncan, fiery and unpredictable, returns today to the witness stand amid reports she will be asked about as many as 16 alleged husbands.

Snapping, sobbing and shouting, she admitted to 11 marriages Thursday. She said she couldn't remember a twelfth mentioned by Dist. Atty. Roy Gustafson.

Mrs. Duncan, 54, pictured as an intensely jealous and possessive mother, is accused of hiring two men to murder her daughter-in-law, Olga Duncan, 30.

She was vague on what became of the many marriages. Some were annulled, she said. Other husbands told her they got divorces.

Stormy outbursts marked the cross-examination.

"I think every mother considers her son or daughter, no matter how old, still her baby," Mrs. Duncan said once, sobbing.

Attorney Frank Duncan, 30, jumped to his feet to protest:

"Mr. Gustafson, my name is Frank, not Frankie, and I wish you would refer to me as Frank."

After several angry protests, Mrs. Duncan appealed: "I think your honor should make him show some respect for my son. It's not respectful, and he's doing it for meanness."

The prosecution contends Mrs. Duncan's strong love for her son led her to plot the slaying of his bride, after keeping the newlyweds apart most of their six months of married life.

Luis Moya, 20, and Augustine Baldonado, 25, have admitted beating and strangling Olga Duncan last November.

Mrs. Duncan denied she planned Olga's death.

Jury Proves Generous

ST. CATHARINES, Ont. (UPI)—A Supreme Court jury here awarded the Peter Cunninghams $37,341 in damages growing out of an automobile accident. The Cunninghams had sued for $25,000.

California Kidnap Charge Reduced to Child Stealing

ONTARIO, Calif. (AP) — Betty Jean Yocom, 38, who took 9-week-old Eric Leon Flores from his crib and ket him five days, is charged with child stealing.

The charge was reduced Thursday from suspicion of kidnaping.

"I just love children," the bleached blonde said, sobbing.

She offered to babysit for widowed Ruth Flores, 35, last Friday night. While Mrs. Flores was gone, she took the baby—a twin—to her home a few miles away.

Mrs. Yocom convinced her husband, a truck driver who frequently is away from home, the baby was her own.

"I wanted to have a son," she said. "It was the one thing I wanted more than anything else to give my husband."

Moon's Oxygen Lack Good News for Metal

CHICAGO (UPI) — Science has done it again.

For what comfort it may be to tidy space cadets and pioneer housewives, a metallurgist group here has announced that on the moon, metal won't rust, silver never tarnishes and bronze can't turn green.

A space-age "rust index" shows that on earth up to 15 years of moisture, wind, corrosive gases, sunlight and salt water will corrode a steel panel the size of a license plate. And presumably anything else rustable.

Rust ratio, they say, is 0.0 for the moon, which lacks wind, moisture and free oxygen.

Dedicate Northern High Sunday

CONVENIENT LOADING ENTRANCES—This is a portion of the south end of the new Pontiac Northern High School. The building was constructed so that the majority of loading and unloading of equipment could be at one end of the building. There are doors for the band, stage, book supplies and cafeteria equipment.

MSU President to Speak at Dream School Fete

Pontiac Northern High School, the educators' and students' dream building which opened in September, will be officially dedicated Sunday.

Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University, will be the guest speaker during the one hour program which begins at 3 p.m. in the high school's auditorium. "Pontiac Passes the Test" will be the title of Dr. Hannah's address.

Approximately 75 members of the PNH faculty and administration, the Pontiac Board of Education, and the board's administration who have responsibilities in the city's secondary schools will be included in the processional march which will begin the program.

Participants in the march will wear their respective educational robes of office, including the colorful gowns, hoods and mortar boards.

A minimum of 5,000 spectators is expected to attend the dedication ceremonies which are open to the public.

After the auditorium seating 977 is filled, the overflow crowd will be seated in the gymnasium, Little Theater and cafeteria where the program will be "piped" over the public address system.

The 75-piece Pontiac High School Band, including Northern and Central high school students, will play "Processional" by Calliet for the opening of the program.

It will be under the direction of Dale C. Harris, supervisor of instrumental music for Pontiac schools.

Also included in the impressive processional will be Dr. Hannah, Joan Humphrey, president of the PNH Student Council; Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent; Dr. Otto C. Hufziger, assistant superintendent in charge of business and Dr. Philip J. Proud, assistant superintendent in charge of personnel.

The Rev. Galen Hershey, president of the Pontiac Pastors' Assn. and assistant pastor of First Presbyterian Church will deliver the invocation.

Preceding the welcome and introduction of platform guests by Philip J. Wargelin, principal of the new high school, the band will play "Overture from Hansel and Gretel" by Humperdinck.

Glenn H. Griffin, president of the board of education, will then address the audience. He will be followed by the Pontiac Northern High School Choir's rendition of "Bless the Lord, O My Soul" by Ippolitov Ivanov, under the direction of Melvin Larimer.

The modern building will be officially presented by Eberle Smith, its architect, to Dr. Whitmer who will accept it, address the audience and then introduce Dr. Hannah.

Conducted tours of the building by students of PNH will follow the official dedication ceremonies.

DR. JOHN A. HANNAH
Dedication Speaker

Guided Tours Planned 3 Evenings Next Week

If you haven't toured Pontiac's newest school, Pontiac Northern High, next week will be a good opportunity since more than 100 PNH student guides will be on duty to take visitors through the building.

Open house will be held Sunday following the dedication program and Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. Monday, from 7 to 9 p. m., the business education, science, mathematics, homemaking, art and driver education departments will be featured. On Tuesday, from 7 to 10 p.m., the program will feature the physical education department and its facilities.

Wednesday, the English, drama, radio, social studies, music, foreign language, journalism, industrial arts, radio laboratory and driver education classes and facilities will be on display.

Although each of the three evenings has special attractions, the entire building will be open for tours. Only the faculty concerned with that evening will be present, however.

In the four business education classrooms, bulletin board and bookkeeping material displays, business machine demonstrations including the dictaphone, key-driven and rotary calculators and posting machines, demonstration of transcription from shorthand notes with the use of the electric typewriter by a student and explanations of daily classroom experience will be given.

A skit will be presented by the Secretarial Club in the Little Theater at 8 p. m. concerning the efficient and inefficient secretary and proper and improper office procedures.

Demonstrations and classroom procedures also will be presented in the science and mathematics room. Homemaking students will take visitors on the tour of the departments facilities and at 7 p. m., the driver education department will display psycho-physical testing equipment with student operators as a part of their program.

On Tuesday, visitors will take a complete tour of the "C" area of the school. This is the physical education department.

From 7 to 8 p. m., students will show the use of the pool, archery and handball rooms. Wrestling and team sports will be demonstrated in the gymnasium from 8 to 9 p. m.

Swimming and diving demonstrations and synchronized swimming will be exhibited from 9 to 10 p. m.

At 7 p. m. Wednesday the journalism laboratory and the reading laboratory will be featured. The Latin students also will demonstrate an event at the time of Caesar and French and Spanish listening equipment will be on display.

The drama department will give excerpts from "Macbeth" and the "Man Without a Country" in the Little Theater and audio-visual techniques will be presented by the social studies department.

In the music department, instrumental demonstrations and rehearsals of choral group singing

Many Cost-Saving Ideas Used for New High School

By GLENN H. GRIFFIN
Board of Education President

Excellent planning was done before Pontiac Northern High School, which will be dedicated Sunday, became a reality.

The new high school has many cost saving features. Among them is the location of the high school near Madison Junior High School which called for the need of only one auditorium for the two schools. All of the four other city junior high schools have auditoriums.

GRIFFIN

The building of one auditorium to serve two schools is believed to have saved the taxpayers of the school district about three-quarters of a million dollars.

Locating the two schools on the same site made it possible to build only one power plant which serves both schools, another money-saving feature.

The use of plywood panels for interior classroom walls in place of the usual masonary walls and strips of accoustical tile rather than complete tile ceilings are two other cost savers.

PLAN TWO YEARS

Two years of careful planning by teachers and administrators resulted in a set of educational specifications which helped the school win national acclaim. The architects, Eberle Smith, Inc. of Detroit, have praised their planning.

The high school building which we have is as fine as any of its size in the country, according to reports of school architects and educators.

Particularly impressive is the way in which materials move into the building without disrupting the school program. The receiving platform at the south end of the building utilizes the latest developments in planning for the movement of food, stage materials, musical instruments and school supplies.

Academic areas, while low in cost, are also attractive and functional in the new building. In this setting, mathematics, science, English, foreign languages, social studies and business education courses can be taught efficiently and effectively.

The physical education facilities are adequate for the development of a badly needed physical fitness program.

Shop facilities are excellent in the new school. The Board of Education feels very strongly that in an industrial city such as ours, much importance should be placed upon the development of salable skills among our high school youth.

Pontiac Pupils Do Well as U. of M. Scholars

Among the 32 freshmen at the University of Michigan last year who were graduated from Pontiac Central High School, one of every three was cited for high scholarship at the last honor's convocation.

Plan Open House at PNH Next Week

will be provided. Students also will operate some of the equipment and answer questions about it in the three shops of the vocational and industrial arts department.

Driver education equipment will again be displayed at 7 p. m. Wednesday evening.

Music Department Rooms Feature Nonparallel Walls

The two large rooms seating 80 at the south end of the building are conveniently located across from the auditorium.

Between the two rooms are two individual practice rooms and a larger ensemble practice room. A vocal music library and a departmental office are also located in this area.

Mixed chorus classes are now offered four of the six hours in a day at PNH. The choir, and senior girls ensemble are two of the department's other classes. Other ensembles are available to sing for club or church functions by request, according to Melvin Larimer, vocal music director.

The major performances since the department's beginning in September have been the Fall Festival with Pontiac Central High School; the All-City Christmas Concert and the PNH Christmas Concert.

CONCERT WEDNESDAY

The groups will participate in the Michigan School Vocal Association district Solo and Ensemble and Choral Festival, a Dedicatory Concert Wednesday during open house and two operettas, "The Lowland Sea" and "Cumberland Fair" tonight and tomorrow night.

The department is preparing for a spring concert in May.

The choir now is in the process of raising money to pay for new choir robes. Members are checking coats at school functions, working at school banquets, selling programs and shakers at the basketball games and participating in the operettas.

Spectators Needn't Cross Gym Floor

Their entrance to the 129 by 120 foot gym will be from the top of the bleachers. Toilet facilities, a snack bar and drinking fountain are located near their entrance also.

The large floor made of hardwood can hold two regulation size basketball courts.

Markings are also indicated on the floor for three volleyball courts, 12 badminton and three basketball courts.

The adjustable bleachers have a full capacity of 1,924. Red and white girders, the school's colors, brighten the huge room which has cement block walls.

A folding wall is available in the middle of the gym so that it can be divided for boys and girls physical education classes during the school day.

Plan to Open Another Elementary School in Fall

A new Pontiac elementary school will be opened on the Square Lake site in September 1959. The school will have six classrooms. Major construction projects will add much needed facilities at Washington and Madison Junior High Schools.

These facilities will relieve a major enrollment increase at the junior high school level. It will not be completed until the fall of 1960.

New Auditorium Largest in Pontiac

Whether planning to make the stage a career or just studying dramatics for the experience, knowledge and fun, students in the Pontiac Northern High School speech department have excellent facilities and training program.

Their ultimate goal probably is to perform on the 28x80 foot stage in the auditorium, Pontiac's largest. But before this, they will have had training first in the speech room and then in the Little Theater.

The auditorium with its 977 blue-green upholstered seats has already been acclaimed as having the best acoustics of any area high school.

The non-parallel walls and plated or stepped ceiling are two of the factors which gives the auditorium such an excellent sound-giving quality.

The ceiling, closest to the stage is made of precoated metal, the center section of hard plaster and the ceiling at the back of the auditorium is made by acoustical plaster.

Practical to the large stage of the auditorium is a hardwood floor on the forestage and softwood on the main stage. This construction purpose is to afford ease in nailing scenery and various props to the floor.

* * *

Since it is 28 feet from the stage floor to the gridiron, backdrops can be flown with pulleys instead of rolled. A 17 foot proscenium is another feature of the stage.

CONVENIENT WORKSHOP

Directly behind the stage is the shop where students and citizens who use the area can assemble scenery and paint and fix up props for their productions.

An outside door to load and unload stage equipment is also located in the shop.

Two dressing rooms, one for the boys, the other for the girls are also located behind the stage, affording easy access to the acting area when the houselights dim.

The dressing and make-up rooms offer well-lighted mirrors, counters and stools designed for the necessary preparations before curtain call.

A toilet and sink are also adjacent to each room and next to one of the dressing rooms is an adequate storage space for costume wardrobes and street clothes.

Natatorium Has Glass Wall, Olympic Pool at Northern

The swimming pool, 75 feet long and 46 feet wide, is also picturesquely situated against a white and green ceramic tiled wall. Opposite this wall are bleachers with a seating capacity of 415 persons. Portable bleachers also are available for an additional 250.

The depth of the pool ranges from 3½ to 10½ feet and the water is regulated to keep a constant flow.

The pool is heated at approximately 81 degrees and underwater lights provided for instructional use as well as adding to the beauty of the pool.

On Teaching Certificates

While one of every six teachers in the State of Michigan is teaching with a special certificate (not fully qualified), only one of every 15 teachers in Pontiac has a special certificate.

PNH Homemaking Pupils Work in a Dream Kitchen

A tour of the multi-purpose homemaking room of Pontiac's new high school will show visitors that students have all of the facilities needed to aid them in preparing for the role of homemakers and parents.

New ways of preparing foods may be learned by watching the teacher and other students work beneath a demonstration mirror suspended over one of the counters. At this counter there is a built-in electric mixer, blender and knife sharpener.

The room also contains two wall ovens and an electrical rotisserie plus two apartment-size electric stoves, several gas stoves and two counter burner units, spaced to allow 24 students to work at one time in this area.

Besides studying the buying of food and meal planning and then having their efforts tested by fellow students and guests, the future homemakers study equipment selection, storage and food and furniture arrangement.

The kitchen area of the room also includes circular storage shelves for china and cooking utensils and garbage containers which open with a cupboard door. A freezer-refrigerator and an electric dishwasher are also included.

Opposite one of the kitchen units is an automatic tumbler washer, dryer and ironer with adjacent storage for clean and soiled linens. Tall steel cabinets store cleaning supplies and staple foods in separate cupboards.

Four sewing machines are built into counters and tote drawers are built into the wall for each sewing student. Four full-length mirrors and four cutting tables are included in the sewing section of the room plus two sewing machines with fancy stitches.

Personal grooming, clothing selection and wardrobe planning are all a part of the student's curriculum.

A one-way window is located on the wall between the two homemaking rooms. By darkening the larger room, students there can observe children in the smaller room during their child care studies.

A roll-away bed and living area furniture is planned to be added to the smaller room. Students will then be able to study furniture care and arrangement, home nursing and child study.

Time and money management, family relationships, laundry methods and equipment, home decoration, home safety and housekeeping also are taught in the elective homemaking courses for boys and girls.

Northern's Little Theater Scene of Daily Activity

Although the Pontiac Northern High Auditorium is only used for large school and civic assemblies, meetings and productions, Northern's Little Theater, seating 192, is an area of daily activity.

Students studying the dramatic arts use the room for both class assignments and long-term projects. The theater is also used for lectures by the speech instructors and students and note taking is simplified by the tablet arms attached to the seats.

Departments throughout the school also use the Little Theater for audio-visual educational lessons although many of the classrooms do afford the facilities to show films.

The smaller theater has a full, conventional stage which is especially designed for student use. The wings and backstage areas provide ample room and the simplified lighting switchboard can be operated by students with a minimum of instruction.

The stage also has a generous semi-circular apron which extends from the main stage floor area out toward the audience, according to Dawn Davis, speech instructor.

OFFER 3 SEMESTERS

To date, the drama department offers three semesters of dramatics to any student as an elective course. Exercises in pantomime, voice and diction are preliminary requisites in a student's course of study.

Character creating; reading, memorizing and dramatizing excerpts from plays; studying the history of drama; experimenting with makeup fundamentals; studying set design and reading and reporting on plays are also included in the curriculum.

Beautiful High School Cost $3,611,248 for 1,229 Pupils

Pontiac Northern High School, which will be dedicated Sunday, cost $3,611,248, less architects fees, according to Dr. Otto C. Hufziger, assistant superintendent of schools, in charge of business.

The present building has a net capacity of 80 per cent of the gross capacity, which is 1,229. Today, 983 students attend the school.

When the school is completed sometime in the 1960's, gross student capacity will be 2,071 and the net capacity 1,698.

There are 45 instructional rooms and areas in the present building. When completed, the total will be 75.

Proposed additions to the present building include a graphics, drafting, electronics, auto mechanics, two food and clothing and child care classrooms.

PLAN EXPANSION

Others include two study halls, an auxiliary gymnasium, special education, retailing, bookkeeping, typing, two physics, math, two biology and seven more English classrooms, plus the various offices needed for these facilities.

Auditorium, 977; Little Theater, 192; gymnasium, 1,924; natatorium, 415 plus 250 portable seats; cafeteria, 450; south parking lot, 88 cars and north parking lot, 237 cars.

The area of the site used jointly with Madison Junior High School is 107.7 acres. The building area, including the boiler house addition of 1,760 square feet, is 181,893 square feet.

Construction costs per square foot were $16.24 or a total of $2,953,721 for general, mechanical, and electrical trades.

Other costs were fixed equipment cost, $308,831; furniture and instructional equipment cost, $222,050; and physical education and site development cost $226,644.

The educational planning for the building lasted from November 1954 to July 1956. One year, from July 1956 to June, 1957, was taken for the architectural planning, and actual construction took a total of 19 months from July 1957 to December 1958.

Eberle M. Smith Associates, Inc. of Detroit were the architects of the modern building.

Contractors were Spence Brothers Inc. of Saginaw, general; Broedell Plumbing and Heating Co. of Roseville, mechanical; Hamill Electric Co. of Detroit, electrical; and A. J. Miller, Inc. of Royal Oak, site contractor.

24 Educators Carefully Planned for New School

Although groundbreaking ceremonies for Pontiac Northern High School were held in July of 1957, much planning and organizing was done by Pontiac educators beforehand.

Prior to the time the architects of Eberle M. Smith Associates, Inc. of Detroit, sat down to design a school and draw up the particulars, a team of 24 local educators had studied the needs of the proposed school.

This steering committee worked from November 1954 to September of 1956. The results of their surveys, investigations and ideas were then compiled into a 150 page 8x10-inch spiral book entitled "Educational Specifications for New Senior High School."

Working with this book, the architects then proceeded to design a school with as many of the departmental and service requirements as the book requested. Specifications as to the size and location of each room were suggested.

The location of doors, and windows, necessary storage facilities and the types desired, the kinds of walls, floors and ceilings were just a few of the many specifications included in the book.

TEAM OF 24

Members of the Steering Committee for the building included: Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent; Otto C. Hufziger, assistant superintendent in charge of business; John Thors Jr., then the principal of Pontiac High School; Robert Beauchamp, English teacher; H. Guy Bevington, social studies teacher; Victor Lindquist, science teacher, now assistant principal of the new high school, and Neil Gray, language.

Others include: Carmi Odell, business education; John Allshouse, art; George Putnam, supervisor of vocal music; Raymond J. Graff, vocational education; Mary Parrish, speech; and Donald McCracken, now assistant superintendent of PNH; Gerald Hunt, mathematics; Elizabeth Rodgers, home economics and Bertha Stephens, business education.

The remainder of the committee consisted of Russell W. Curtis, coordinator of secondary education; Thomas Dodson, former director of physical education, athletics and recreation; Dale Harris, supervisor of instrumental music; Donald North, former president of the Pontiac High School PTA; Francis Staley, principal of PCH and Richard Fell, director of vocational education.

Pontiac High Schoolers Learn to Swim Fast

At the beginning of the fall semester 114 pupils of Pontiac Central High School could not swim. At the close of the first semester 112 could swim at least two lengths of the pool. Most of them could manage eight lengths.

The two who did not "measure up" had highly irregular attendance.

Move 100,000 Yards of Earth for School Site

A total of 100,000 cubic yards of earth were moved to create the three level site development at Pontiac Northern High School.

The top level, next to the school toward the north and east, has a parking area for 237 cars and is expandable plus three tennis courts.

Two softball, a baseball and soccer field are located on the third level.

STAGE CONTROLS — This is only a portion of the lighting and stage equipment control panel back stage at the Pontiac Northern High School. The control room is encaged to discourage persons having a desire to push buttons and levers and turn switches.

10,000 Invited Sunday

A total of 10,000 have been invited to attend the dedication of the new Pontiac Northern High School Sunday.

Mrs. Mildred Wiersema, chairman of the invitation committee and a teacher at Northern, reports 2,000 of the invitations have been mailed to presidents of city fraternal, religious, civic and service organization and business and industry men including representatives of the 250 companies involved in the construction of the new school.

Others who received mailed invitations were retired teachers, school administrators of the Oakland County Board of Education, the Parent-Teacher associations in Pontiac and former administrators with the Board of Education.

Others were members of the accreditaton committee of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools; Pontiac city commissioners and other city officials; and administrators of surrounding colleges and universities.

Every student and faculty member of Pontiac Northern High School, Pontiac Central High School and the five city junior high schools has also been invited.

They were given unmailed invitations which were duplicated with the multilith process which has the appearance of being engraved.

Members tof the PNH Secretarial Club were among those busy the past few weeks assisting Mrs. Wiersema and her four member faculty committee in addressing the invitations.

City School Chief Thanks Hundreds for Building Job

By DANA P. WHITMER
Superintendent of Pontiac Schools

Hundreds of people deserve thanks for their excellent work in planning and building Pontiac Northern High School.

Every worker, contractor and supplier should be pleased with his fine results. Particularly important is the fine cooperation we had from our teachers and administrators who, for several years, gave much of their own time and talent.

WHITMER

Both present and past Board of Education members also gave fine support of the project.

Most of all, the people of Pontiac should be thanked. Without the confidence and support of parents and other Pontiac citizens, the new high school never could have been built.

The new building serves Pontiac in many ways. The regular school program, adult education courses, extension programs offered by Michigan universities and college and community use of many facilities are just a few.

The auditorium already is used by the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra and for various cultural and educational activities. The swimming pool and gymnasium now have busy schedules and the Pontiac Recreation Department will soon be operating there.

* * *

Layout of Northern High Shows Good Planning

The section of the building occupied by the Vocational and Industrial Arts Department of Pontiac Northern High School is located near the Art and Homemaking departments.

These departments are utilized more by the general public in the evening and it is therefore possible to make them available without opening up the entire school.

SPACIOUS AUDITORIUM — The auditorium of the Pontiac Northern High School seats 977 persons and will be used for community as well as school events. Note the plated or stepped ceiling which carries the sound equally to all seats. This picture shows a portion of the auditorium with some of upholstered seats from the view of the performer.

Driver Education Program Popular

Driver Education is one of the fastest growing programs in Pontiac Northern High School today. The Michigan legislature saw the need to educate young drivers and passed the Michigan Driver Education Law which states:

1. Beginning Feb. 1, 1957, no person under the age of 18 will be licensed to drive on Michigan highways unless he has passed an approved course of driver education.

2. Driver education will be made available to every person between 15 and 18 years without tuition or fees.

3. Each student shall receive a minimum of 30 hours of class and an average of six hours behind-the-wheel driving.

The approved program for Pontiac City Schools consists of one semester of study and driving, divided into two parts. The first is class instruction on motor laws, rules and regulations, automobile insurance, automobile care and maintenance, driving attitudes and responsibilities, physical fitness and safety education.

The second portion, behind-the-wheel training, consists of 10 periods on the multiple car area at which time basic driving skills shall be taught, and two periods on the street driving, where basic skill will be put to use by practical driving experience.

Pontiac Northern High School has one of the state's finest facilities which includes a 20 by 40 foot class room, a nine car garage, and a 300 by 300 foot paved multiple car area.

The driver education department consists of two instructors, sharing the duties of classroom, multiple car area and on-street program instruction equally, reaching 370 students a school year.

The classroom instructor works on the development of basic knowledge, attitude, and skills of driving. The classroom work and driving are held on alternate days. In this way the instructor keeps abreast of the student's problems encountered on the previous day of driving and presents the next day's driving assignment.

The student maintains a notebook with important material for later reference. In addition to the textbook used, many supplemental materials are available.

The use of physical testing equipment, films and pamphlets from our local agencies enrich the program. Resource people bring the student in contact with the law enforcement and the community on a friendly basis rather than under adverse conditions.

Much of the material that is available will be taken home so that the program will have a far reaching effect and in this way reacquaint the parents with the problems and the proper procedure and good driving techniques.

USE 8 PONTIACS

Operating on Northern's multiple car area are eight 1959 Pontiacs loaned to the Pontiac Public Schools by the Pontiac Motor Division. The multiple car area is laid out in one and two way streets, with skill areas for backing, parallel and angular parking, a hill for stopping and starting on a grade, traffic signs and signal light as would be seen on our highways.

The students begin driving on their own from almost the very first hour. They progress under a program of advancing skills that meets as near actual driving conditions as possible. The instructor aids each student as his problem arises.

The on-street program is actual city and highway driving in a dual controlled car. The student is under direct supervision of an instructor whose duties are to observe the student in making decisions, pointing out errors, and to see that the student has the necessary skills and confidence to meet our present day traffic conditions.

In the final analysis throughout the class instruction and the driving experience, the development of the student's "attitude" and "social responsibility" is the most important factor; for without good attitude and social responsibility the driving skill and knowledge gained in the course will have been a waste of time.

AUTO IN CLASSROOM — Driver education class students at Pontiac Northern High School have the opportunity to inspect the automobiles they are learning how to operate in the classroom. Here, instructor Burl Glendening drives the 1959 Pontiac used by the students into the classroom through the large doorway provided for this purpose. The projector on the table in the picture is used to teach traffic rules.

Metal Shop Has Prized Machines

Universal Bender, AC-DC Welder Possessions to Boast About

The universal bender and the newest AC-DC welder are two of the prized possessions of the general metal and art metal shop at Pontiac's new high school.

As in the other three shops, the shop has a full glass eastern exposure which allows maximum daylight. The control speed variation on most of the machines is also a useful feature in shop instruction.

Double doors to a service drive afford easy direct delivery of supplies and the end grain wood block floor simplifies machinery installation and assures long wear, a necessity in a school.

The balcony floor is over tools and supply storage. In the balcony, students have room to study and do research.

Island and four-place benches provide maximum number of work stations and the locker-type storage simplifies flor cleaning and maintenance.

PLENTY OF ROOM

Sufficient bench work stations combined with the use of two modern machine lathes, heat treat furnace, soldering bench, drill presses and grinders permit a full range program for basic bench metal work. The use of the two metal spinning lathes affords a more artistic aspect for the metal working students.

What in the world

ONE OF A SERIES

ANSWER: WOMEN ARE WILD ABOUT ADVERTISING! An analysis of readership by type of content shows that among women, advertising is in first place. Among men readers advertising ranks third, just ahead of the sports news. This readership by both sexes is entirely voluntary, making for a very receptive atmosphere for advertisers to register solid impact with their sales messages. That's why so many use the daily newspaper.

Industrial Arts Receive Due Emphasis at Northern

Pontiac is a great industrial town. Thus, it is appropriate that its youth receive every possible benefit and facility appropriate to a high school industrial and vocational curriculum.

The planners of Pontiac Northern High School knew this. Today, the school provides four vocational and industrial arts rooms and future plans call for three more.

Outstanding to one of the rooms, the wood and plastics fabrication area, is its underfloor shaving and sawdust exhaust system. This eliminates much of the dust and constant sweeping.

Each machine is connected to a large vacuum creating a blower by piping, much like that used in the heating system of a home. The blower-type collector and pipe system is located in a partial basement under the shop floor.

The collector is equipped to also accept floor sweepings through a trap door in the floor.

ALL HAVE BALCONIES

The balcony in each of the industrial arts rooms is another unique feature of the department. In the woodshops, the space about the tool crib, finishing and storage areas is used for classes during lectures, and testing.

This shop is not without its share of refinements and modern touches. The layout of the room itself reflects careful planning as does the equipment.

The ratio of 100 square feet of floor area per pupil is generous. This is the limits recommended by professional schoolplant planners, according to W. R. Sturgeon, instructor.

Few high schools can boast as complete a compliment of machines as does Northern. In addition to the usual jig-saws, circular saw and jointer, the shop is equipped with a 16-inch planer, four floor-type wood turning lathes and a shaper.

In wood pattern making and foundry practice courses, a molting furnace and molding bench is also provided. This equipment enables students to actually see metal being poured and to do some mold making while experimenting with the patterns they have made.

The molting-pouring area is ventilated by an overhead exhaust fan as is the painting area in the finishing portion.

The woodshop is designed to accommodate 24 students and is used every period of the school day.

Other equipment in the shop includes four place benches, a band saw, sander, drill press, combination grinder, table saw, bench drill press, buffer, electric oven and an assembly bench.

Machine Shop Offers Practical, Classroom Work

Between the general metals and drafting rooms of Pontiac Northern High School is the metal processing or machine shop.

The automatically controlled heat treat furnace and new universal grinder and surface grinder are a few of the outstanding facilities of the room.

Much of the equipment and facilities of the vocational and industrial arts department is located in the machine shop to aid students in their training under the direction of Rodney Bacon, instructor.

Also in this area, a balcony is provided for classroom work outside practical experience of the shop. Large areas of chalkboard and bulletin board space are available.

Special Floors in Shops

Wide Range of Personnel Provided in Schools

Pontiac schools provide a complete range of pupil personnel services. These include a psychologist, a diagnostician, visiting teachers (often called school social workers), nurses, health technicians, junior and senior high counselors, attendance and census personel, and teachers of physically and mentally handicapped children.
