Goodfellows Selling Papers in Waterford

Funds Aid Needy; Drive Goal is $3,000; 10 'Newsboy' Sites

There are approximately 100 more "newsboys" than usual on Waterford streets today, thanks to the annual all-day Goodfellows sale.

A spokesman announced that 3,000 editions of The Pontiac Press are on sale at 10 township locations.

Proceeds of the sale will be used to bring a brighter Christmas to needy families living in the township.

The goal of the drive is $3,000, according to Ernest Latimer, president of the Goodfellows and chairman of this year's campaign.

Last year the goal was the same. However, less than $2,000 was raised.

LOCATIONS LISTED

Newspapers are on sale at the following locations:

Airport and M59, M59 Plaza at Williams Lake Road and M59, Voorhees and Telegraph, M59 and Telegraph, Elizabeth Lake Road and Telegraph and Pontiac Mall.

Other locations are Andersonville and Dixie Highway, Silver Lake Road and Dixie Highway, Sasabaw and Walton and Wheelers Groceries, 4260 Dixie headquarters for the drive.

Participating organizations, in addition to the Waterford Township Goodfellows, are the Eagles, police department, firefighters association, fire department, police reserves, Kiwanis, Evening Optimists, Breakfast Optimists, Lions and Jaycees.

Receipts from the sale will be used to purchase food orders negotiable at area stores and to prepare Christmas food baskets.

The baskets will be delivered a few days before Christmas to needy families.

Anyone knowing of a needy family can contact Latimer of 3345 Curwood or Clayton W. Soncrante of 3273 Pirin, both of Waterford Township.

To Fight Killer's Death Penalty

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI) — Attorneys for Duane Earl Pope, condemned to the electric chair for triple murder, have vowed to carry his conviction to the U.S. Supreme Court to try and save his life.

The husky, 22-year-old Kansas farm youth was found guilty yesterday on six charges stemming from the robbery of the Farmers State Bank in the ranch town of Big Springs, Neb., last June 4. The robbery netted $1,598.

His mother, Mrs. Earl Pope, Roxbury, Kan., wept into a flowered handkerchief as the verdict was returned and as U.S. Judge Robert Van Pel sent Pope to die March 3, 1966.

The jury deliberated nearly 14 hours and recommended the death penalty.

If carried out, it will be Nebraska's first execution since Charles Starkweather was electrocuted in 1958. An intense and bespectacled young man, Starkweather with his girlfriend, Caryl Ann Fugate, went on a highway rampage and killed 11 persons.

"A railroad job," said Hanes, and served immediate notice of appeal. "When they said they were deadlocked, it should have been dismissed."

Hanes charged that the jury had listened to perjured testimony from government witnesses.

But Hanes took issue with

Gemini 7 Blasts Off

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — Rookie astronauts Frank Borman and James Lovell blasted off toward orbit today to open America's "Spirit of '76" double-header spectacular in space.

The two 37-year-old spacemen rode their Gemini 7 ship from Cape Kennedy's Launch Pad 19 and aimed at an orbit 100 to 210 miles above earth to begin a record-shattering 14-day trip through the cosmos.

With luck, Gemini 6 astronauts Walter M. Schirra and Thomas Stafford will join them in orbit Dec. 13 in the world's first nose-to-nose "rendezvous" flight in space.

All four expected to return home in time for Christmas to climax a year of sweeping cosmic conquest for the United States.

Space scientists sweated out a late-hour weather threat before giving Borman and Lovell permission to don their lightweight "get-me-down" space suits, enjoy a final breakfast of steaks and eggs and climb aboard Gemini 7 for the fiery dash into the heavens.

The astronauts were smiling and eager as they slid into the tight confines of the capsule.

Both men beamed broadly as they walked up to the pad. They were "ready to fly ... they're in good spirits," reported Donald K. (Deke) Slayton, flight crew director.

The weather was overcast but the sun lightened the sky through the high, misty clouds as the countdown progressed.

The 300-minute final countdown went flawlessly and technicians waited in the wings—a hangar 2.5 miles away—with the rocket scheduled to send Schirra and Stafford into space nine days from now to rendezvous with Gemini 7.

Chief forecaster E. A. Amman reported weather conditions acceptable in all possible emergency landing areas.

The aircraft carrier Wasp, prime recovery ship, stood by "ready and waiting" in a rolling sea some 438 miles southeast of Bermuda.

Gemini 6 pilots Schirra and Stafford followed a rigid training schedule for their brief, but important, role in what would be a blue-ribbon-wrapped Christmas present for U.S. space officials.

Lovell could find a personal present on his return — a fourth child. His wife, Marilyn, is staying behind at their home near the Houston Space Center, and is expected to give birth during the flight, if all went according to schedule.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A small band of Viet Cong terrorists, with machine guns blazing, stormed and blasted an enlisted man's billet before dawn today, leaving 11 persons dead and scores injured.

The raiders escaped without a trace. The bomb they used to blast the eight-story Metropole Hotel in downtown Saigon took the lives of two Americans, a New Zealand trooper and eight Vietnamese.

Seventy-two Americans were injured and estimates of Vietnamese wounded ranged from more than 100, many of them women and children. Officials still had no exact figure this morning.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge called the bombing "a diabolical act" and "murder."

"It was sheer wanton terrorism, as was the killing and wounding of Vietnamese men, women and children who lived and worked nearby," he said.

LULL IS BROKEN — The Viet Cong also broke a three-day lull in the war today with attacks on government outposts from the South China Sea to the central plains of the north.

Police Nab Two Suspects in Benton Harbor Holdup

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — Two Chicago men submitted to arrest in Indiana yesterday, shortly after a violent $25,000 holdup-shooting at a bank near this southwestern Michigan city. Held at the Berrien County jail in lieu of $30,000 bond each were Roy Bowen, 41, and Noti Perez, 43.

The two men waived extradition after their capture at Chesterton, Ind., and were arraigned before Municipal Judge Maurice Weber of nearby St. Joseph.

Both men waived examination on two counts each of assault with intent to commit murder, and single counts of bank robbery and armed robbery. No date was set for their circuit court trial.

Meanwhile, deputy Elton Slover of Berrien County remained in critical condition at a Benton Harbor hospital after surgery last night. Deputies said he suffered at least three bullet wounds in the stomach.

Bowen and Perez are charged with shooting Slover and deputy Gary Mitchell during a holdup at a suburban branch of the Farmers & Merchants National Bank. Mitchell was released after treatment.

INDIANA TROOPER — An Indiana State Police Trooper, Robert Zickmund, serving his first day in a patrol car, stopped a car near Chesterton at a road block.

"We were stopping everything that came through," said Zickmund. "I was in the middle of the road and Mary (Trooper Marvin Carter) was covering me from behind the car with a shotgun. One of the men fit the description so we decided to search the car."

The troopers found a sub-machine gun, pistols and $25,694 in the trunk of the car. The sub-machine gun had not been fired, they said. However, one of the pistols in the trunk belonged to Deputy Slover.

Third-Term Bid by Governor Is All but Assured

Report No Consensus on GOP Candidate for the Upper House

By DICK BARNES
LANSING (AP) — Gov. Romney has told Republican leaders to find a U.S. Senate candidate, thus all but declaring his own intention to run for a third term as chief executive in 1966.

In meetings with GOP area chairmen Thursday at Bloomfield Hills and yesterday in East Lansing, Romney left little doubt about his plans—if, in fact, there had been any.

The governor has publicly stated many times that by early 1966, he would declare which race — Senate or governor — he was not going to enter.

Reliable sources said no consensus had been reached on a Senate candidate, although leaders have said they hope to decide on someone by early 1966.

The Senate candidate will bid for the seat now held by Democrat Patrick McNamara.

REGARDED AS CINCH — Romney reportedly told the GOP leaders they should not consider Lt. Gov. William Milliken for the Senate race.

Milliken is regarded as a cinch again to be Romney's running mate.

One GOP leader said practically every potential Senate candidate seriously mentioned had some support.

Word of Romney's move came at the first session of a two-day, GOP State Central Committee meeting that was to continue today.

PRINCIPAL ITEMS — Principal items under discussion are formal adoption of the broad task force reports drafted by Republicans at Mackinac Island in September and selection of a second vice chairman.

By late yesterday the only announced contender for the additional vice chairman was Joseph Bell of Detroit.

When the legislature approved this year a second vice chairman for each political party, it was accepted by many that the post in each party would go to a Negro. Bell is a Negro.

At a state central dinner yesterday, Romney called for support of his vetoes of legislation granting higher veterans' benefits, senior citizen rent reimbursement and extra-enrollment funds to smaller colleges.

EXPRESSING CONFIDENCE — He expressed confidence that Republicans would uphold the vetoes when the legislature reconvenes Dec. 9.

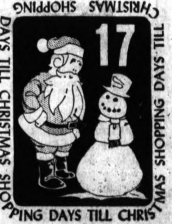

He declared "the effectiveness of the Republican party in state government is related to our ability to stand together on these vetoes."

Windy Weather May Include Rain

Windy weather with partly cloudy skies and a chance of showers is the outlook for tomorrow.

Temperatures falling to lows of 27 to 33 tonight will climb to 38 to 46 tomorrow. Partly cloudy and warmer is the forecast for Monday.

A chilly 31 was today's low prior to 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac. The 2 p.m. recording was 35.

Birch Society, Like Hitler, Can't Be Ignored---Kelley

State Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley last night warned that the John Birch Society "cannot be laughed off or ridiculed away unless you think you can laugh off the fellow who hung paper in Germany."

The comparison to Hitler was made by Kelley in a speech before the Oakland County Democratic Business and Professional Association at Holiday Inn, Bloomfield Township.

Kelley's attack on the right-wing organization came in an address pointing out the danger of extremist groups and the responsibilities of the public to recognize and oppose them.

"Extremism represents something more than a nuisance," said Kelley. "Today it is a corrosive influence with a widening impact on the component parts of our society."

"It is not only the direct attack of the extremist that represent a danger to our way of life," he said. "It is the paralyzing fallout from extremist's attacks which affect us long after the primary assault has vanished."

"MADE US THINK"
"They make us think long and hard before we take an unpopular course. They stifle our efforts to develop new programs. They retard the ability of many to overcome conformity."

Police Arrest Two Suspects in Bank Heist

said the gunmen opened fire at Stover and Mitchell entered the bank. Eight employees and 12 customers were in the bank when the holdup began shortly before noon.

SOUNDED ALARM
A woman teller managed to trip a holdup alarm before leaving her cage, police said, and the two deputies were dispatched to the bank.

Stover and Mitchell fled wounded to the police. Police said both were shot after being ordered to drop their guns.

"Shoot that one a little more," one of the gunmen was quoted as saying. "Let's give it to him."

The other gunman walked over to the wounded Stover, picked up his fallen revolver and shot him again, police said.

Police said records show Bowen was a native of Memphis, Tenn., and Perez was born in Tampa, Fla.

'Stop Rhodesia, or Else' Africans Warn Britain

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — Members of the Organization of African Unity voted Friday night to break off diplomatic relations with Britain unless the British crush the Rhodesian rebellion by Dec. 15.

The OAU's Council of Ministers also decided to have its 36 member states slap a total economic blockade on Rhodesia, cut off all communications, bar planes from flying over their territory to Rhodesia, block all Rhodesian bank accounts and declare Rhodesian travel documents void.

There was no mention of any military action against the rebellious British colony but the subject could come up in today's session.

OAU Secretary-General Diallo Teili said the decisions were voted unanimously by the 35 countries whose foreign ministers are attending the conference.

SOMETHING ELSE
A British official, commenting on the threat to cut diplomatic relations, said it was one thing to decide on this "but it is something quite different to implement it."

OAU members belonging to the British Commonwealth include Ghana, Nigeria, Tanzania, Kenya and Zambia. If they broke diplomatic relations with Britain they would stand to lose trading and other commonwealth benefits.

Other leading OAU members not in the commonwealth include the United Arab Republic, Algeria, Tunisia, Guinea and Ethiopia.

There has been no immediate reaction from the British government in London to the OAU threat to cut off diplomatic relations.

MAY CALL
Zambia's president, Kenneth Kaunda, suggested in Lusaka that he may call for Soviet troops if Britain refuses to invade neighboring white-ruled Rhodesia.

The British have limited their action so far to sending warplanes to Zambia to defend the Kariba Dam, on the Rhodesian border.

31 Are Arrested in Liquor Raid
Pontiac police early this morning raided two alleged illegal liquor establishments and arrested 31 persons.

Charged with maintaining and operating illegal establishments were Sarah Calvin, 49, of 201 Hughes and Mary S. Gibson, 25, of 241 W. Wilson.

Twenty-nine other persons were arrested on charges of loitering at an illegal liquor establishment.

All but six posted bond and were released pending arraignment today in Municipal Court.

The raids, which struck the two residences about 3 a.m., were led by Lt. Fred K. Gaines and Sgt. Robert G. Gaines.

Needs Draft Deferment—He's in Viet
Charles N. Dubre says he is considering asking his draft board in Pontiac for a deferment so that he can finish his tour in Viet Nam.

Dubre graduated from Pontiac High School in 1965, and has been in the Army ever since. Pontiac Board 45 has just ordered him to register for the draft within five days.

The letter was relayed to him in South Viet Nam.

"I am very happy that the city of my childhood, and the home of my family has not forgotten me," was his reaction.

Dubre is a sergeant with Headquarters Co., 1st Battalion, 28th Regiment, 1st Infantry Division.

His wife, Sue, and his mother, Mrs. Oma Merchant, still live in Pontiac.

Sewerage Pact Before Board

Expect County Aide at Waterford Session

The Waterford Township Board Monday night will consider entering into a contract with the Oakland County Department of Public Works (DPW) involving the township's share of the proposed Clinton-Oakland Sewage Disposal System.

It is expected that R. J. Alexander, director of the Oakland County DPW, will be on hand to answer questions of trustees and to further explain the projected system.

Waterford Township is one of eight communities which would use the proposed $16.5-million trunkline. The others are Avon, Pontiac, Independence, West Bloomfield and Orchard Lake.

Under preliminary plans, Waterford Township — which would be the foremost user of the system — would be assessed approximately 40 per cent of the total cost.

The project would be financed by a 30-year bond issue. The federal government might pay 50 per cent of the construction cost.

SYSTEM SETUP
Projected internal systems would feed into the trunkline which, in turn, would flow into the Detroit system.

In other business, the board will hear a request to rezone from R-01 to C-2 a parcel of land on Telegraph between Fairview and Elizabeth Lake to construct a restaurant.

Also, bids will be opened on Lot 68 of Huron Gardens Subdivision, and Johnson & Anderson engineering consultants will be asked to make a cost estimate study of two proposed street blacktopping projects.

The proposed special assessment district projects consist of Lynn, Woodbine and Sylvan Shore streets and Elsinore and Shoreview.

Voters Hold Fate of France
---De Gaulle

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle headed for his country home today to vote in tomorrow's election.

He told Frenchmen last night, "Your decision will undoubtedly decide forever the fate of our country."

De Gaulle, 75, is running for another seven-year term as President against five young opponents.

De Gaulle must get more than 50 per cent of the votes to be declared a winner on the first ballot.

Under the French system, if no one gets a majority, the two highest candidates compete in a run-off election scheduled for later this month.

CONCEDE VICTORY
Even his most vocal critics concede de Gaulle would win a run-off. The crucial question was whether he would get enough votes to make a run-off unnecessary.

Some critics have even predicted that he would retire rather than submit to a runoff.

Dowd said the Russell girl had crossed the road just in front of the victim.

"She went through the air like she had been launched," the girl said. "The car didn't even slow down."

Death was attributed to a fractured neck, broken back and other injuries. The victim was flung across the road and landed against the guide wire on a utility pole, Dowd said.

Her body is at the Coats Funeral Home.

Men's Night Will Start Yule Shopping Season

It's time for that "men-first" event again — the official opening of the Christmas shopping season in downtown Birmingham.

The annual Men's Night will begin at 7 p.m. Monday with merchants' doors swinging wide for male shoppers.

At 6:30 p.m., Santa Claus will arrive in Birmingham and the Christmas lights decorating the downtown district will be turned on.

Mayor Robert W. Page will welcome Santa to his headquarters at Shain Park. There, Santa will visit with youngsters until the closing of Men's Night at 10 p.m.

Page also will turn on the lights covering Birmingham's new 35-foot Christmas tree, between Woodward and Hunter at Haynes.

Some 25,000 miniature lights will decorate 200 trees in Birmingham. Poles are also decked with greens and lights.

The city's parks and forestry department and the Birmingham-Bloomfield Chamber of Commerce have joined forces on the decorating program, the latter supplying materials which are put up by city workmen.

Background music for Christmas shoppers will be supplied through the chamber's 16-speaker public address system, which will be reactivated Monday.

Stores feature special attractions for the men. The only women allowed are clerks and models, ready to give the men ideas on what the women in their lives would like for Christmas.

Sea Disaster Survivor Recalls Ship Captain, Crew Bickering

MIAMI (UPI)—A survivor back! You have passengers here—this isn't crew, NEVER SAIL AGAIN! "I have your number. You'll never sail again," she said he added.

Mrs. Kneeland said she asked the officer why the captain did not return. "He's afraid the boat will explode," she said he told her.

Voutsinas said in testimony last week that he returned to the sinking ship and was one of the last to leave it. He did not mention a dispute with his boat crew, although he repeatedly stressed that he considered it important to go for help because he thought other ships might not realize their lifeboats were burning.

Mrs. Kneeland was one of several survivors to go before a three-officer Coast Guard panel investigating the tragedy at sea deck and shouted to the captain, "Come back! Come back!"

Voutsinas said, favored going to seek help from other ships in the area. She said an officer stood near to her on the forward promenade deck and shouted to the captain, "Come back! Come back!"

Court Orders Strike Halted on Railway

WASHINGTON (AP) — A strike of railway trainmen hit overnight operations of the Southern Railway System, but a federal court ordered a halt to the walkout today.

The railroad said a temporary restraining order was issued early today by U.S. Dist. Court Judge J. Robert Elliott in Georgia and was served on representatives of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen at Macon, Ga., at 6:30 a.m.

L.G. Tolleson, assistant vice president in charge of labor for Southern, said the apparent cause of the strike was a dispute over whether trainmen on freight trains should ride in the engine or the caboose.

Both passenger and freight service was affected by the walkout, but some trains of both kinds continued operation. Service throughout the night was described as spotty.

Announcing issuance of the court order, the railroad said normal operation of trains would be resumed as rapidly as possible.

Pope Likely to End Friday Meat Ban

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Prospects appeared likely today that Pope Paul VI will remove the 1,000-year-old Catholic ban against eating meat on Fridays.

Informal sources said Friday that such a papal announcement is expected soon, possibly next Tuesday or Wednesday during ceremonies closing the Vatican Council.

These sources added that the pope is expected to declare that it will no longer be regarded as sinful to eat meat on Fridays, but will encourage Catholics to continue observing the abstinence as a sign of penance for sins and gratitude for Christ's Good Friday sacrifice.

Red China Taxing Soviet Aid to N. Viet

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — Red China is levying duties and transit fees, payable only in dollars or gold, on shipments of Russian supplies to Communist North Viet Nam, diplomatic sources said today.

Non-Western diplomats said Russia is required to pay the charges even on medical supplies sent across mainland China to Ho Chi Minh's Hanoi regime.

The diplomats believed Communist China's mercenary attitude explains the increasingly bitter attacks on the Peking regime by the Soviet Union and its European satellites.

The latest attack came yesterday when Trybuna Ludu, the Polish Communist organ, charged that China refused to let other countries help the Reds in Viet Nam.

Poland's Communist party hitherto had remained basically neutral in the political fight between Moscow and Peking.

The Non-Western diplomats said this was largely because the Chinese Communists supported Wladyslaw Gomulka in his 1956 efforts to "liberalize" the Polish party despite Moscow threats to take action against him.

Peking's "obtuseness" on aid to North Viet Nam, the diplomats believed, persuaded Poland and other Communist "fence sitters" to join Moscow's denunciation of Red China.

Despite the ideological fight, Soviet ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko told the General Assembly's 117-nation main political committee yesterday that his government "has been rendering and will render full political support and the necessary economic and military assistance to fraternal Viet Nam."

The assembly concluded the disarmament phase of its 1965 session by overwhelmingly approving three resolutions to keep disarmament negotiations going and to halt nuclear explosions.

ADOPTIONS

It adopted measures that:

• Requested early resumption of the 17-nation Geneva arms talks.

• Urged suspension of all nuclear tests, including those underground.

• Called on all countries to respect Africa as a nuclear-free zone.

French Voters Likely to Go With de Gaulle

Although none of his five opponents is given a Chinaman's—er, Frenchman's—chance to beat him, CHARLES DE GAULLE tomorrow wows the French electorate for another seven-year term as president of France.

Probably no contemporary world figure has risen to comparable heights of power as has the grand CHARLES, nor kicked up more international dust in doing it.

De Gaulle's political and philosophical attitudes have shifted with the winds, until neither ally nor enemy has been able to pinpoint either without a scorecard.

But admittedly, the 75-year-old leader has been the savior of France, as he picked it up from the rubble of World War II and nursed it along to a fifth try at being a republic, seven years ago.

From the standpoint of Continental cohesion and a working alliance of free nations against the spread of communism, the overriding question that concerns global leaders is: After De Gaulle—What?

Running to type DE GAULLE, virtually the constitutional dictator of France, has so center-staged himself that few other political actors have been able to manage more than walk-on parts.

If De Gaulle is re-elected, the question of succession is only postponed. Not only is there no successor in sight but few think that Gaullism—the arbitrary personality and one-man rule around which the nation revolves—will survive its creator.

Nor is there any indication that another—say Premier GEORGES POMPIDOU or JACQUES CHABAN-DEL-MAS, the attractive young president of the National Assembly—could hold together the Gaullist mass.

The anxious eyes of many of the world's movers and shakers will be focused on France during the years ahead.

Uncle Sam's Becoming the U.N.'s Uncle Sap

As the United Nations swings into its 21st year of life, a drastic reapportionment of representation in the General Assembly is clearly called for if the United States is not increasingly to play the role of interplanetary sucker.

The peace-keeping agency, initially composed of 51 nations, has grown to a membership of 117.

The inequality by which the United States is penalized is seen in the preponderance of countries in Africa (many of which are new), Eastern Europe and Asia which are either Communist satellites or have Communist orientation.

Thus, when the General Assembly voted recently on the admittance of Red China, 47 member nations voted in favor, 47 against. The rest abstained.

Since the United Nations was organized, the U.S., with but a single vote, has contributed $2.41 billion of the total $5.34 billion collected in assessments and voluntary payments—or 45 per cent of the total. Yet during the same period, the Soviet Union with three votes paid only $233 million, or less than 5 per cent of the total.

This disproportionate representation has been exhaustively studied by our Department of State, and 15 different systems of weighted voting have been explored—to no purpose.

Some of the plans have been based on population, some on financial contributions to the U. N. and some on comparisons of Gross National Product. None have been formerly proposed by the United States.

But the problem will not solve itself and will grow more onerous as time passes. Sooner or later, the American people are going to demand that the policies of the Nation that puts up the most money and finances the largest amount of economic aid to other nations should not be vulnerable to a majority vote by a block of members whose votes are controlled or manipulated by Communist imperialism.

Talk About Viet More Confusing

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON—Talk about peace talks on Viet Nam is a bag of confusion and the more the talk the bigger the bag.

Just last Friday, Secretary of State Dean Rusk said peace talks with the Communists were accepted now but he said he did not expect such talks soon.

Although saying this country was willing to talk without preconditions, he also said that no matter how long the talks lasted, one precondition to any talk was the independence of South Viet Nam.

Meanwhile, the North Vietnamese Reds have laid down conditions of their own for any settlement, one being that the United States would have to clear its troops and bases out of South Viet Nam.

Thursday in Moscow, Britain's foreign secretary, Michael Stewart, called on the Soviet Union to join his country in calling a conference to arrange a cease-fire in Viet Nam and bring about a peaceful settlement.

And Thursday, Rusk, after talking with Johnson in Texas, said the United States is willing to attend a conference on Southeast Asia of the sort proposed by Britain.

But in 1954 the United States joined Britain, France and Russia in calling a meeting to settle the war then going on between the French and the Vietnamese under the Communist leadership of Ho Chi Minh.

The conference was held, the French agreed to get out, Viet Nam was divided into Communist North and non-Communist South, but the United States refused to sign the agreement.

Just a few days ago, the United States joined in a vote at the United Nations—there were no dissenting votes—to call a disarmament conference, which would include Red China.

But the United States refused to say whether it would take part—it said it might take part in preliminary sessions—and then Red China said it wouldn't take part at all unless admitted to the United Nations.

Last April North Viet Nam turned down an appeal by 17 nonaligned nations for unconditional negotiations on Viet Nam.

And last month the State Department admitted it had rejected last autumn what Rusk called "so-called peace-feelers" from North Viet Nam. Rusk explained the Communists "undoubtedly felt they were on the threshold of victory."

The POWER of FAITH

by WOODI ISHMAEL

THE ANNUNCIATION

"And the angel came in unto her and said, Hail thou that art highly favoured, the Lord is with thee: blessed art thou among women. And when she saw him, she was troubled at his saying, and cast in her mind what manner of salutation this should be. And the angel said unto her, Fear not, Mary: for thou hast found favor with God. And behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and shalt call his name Jesus." St. Luke 1:28, 31.

This moment when Mary learned of her divine role has been the inspiration for artists throughout the Christian era. The Cyclopaedia of Painters and Paintings list 40 older masters who have painted this scene. Among them El Greco, Leonardo and Tintoretto; Titian and Murillo painted it three times. Their visions have influenced countless other artists. My own drawing is inspired by the work of some of the old masters. In expressing their faith in paint all have given the world a greater visual and spiritual understanding of that holy scene.

Finding the Way:

Keep in Touch With Each Other

By RALPH W. LOEW, D.D.

I had been saying farewell to a family moving to another city. "We must keep in touch with one another," we said.

Yet we knew the problems of doing this in a time of increasing mobility. It's easy to lose touch.

Our best plans miscarry as easily as the elaborate techniques of the tracking stations lose contact with a straying satellite.

In the same way we lose touch with life itself. The reporter goes to Viet Nam to know about the battlefield from a firsthand point of view. The social worker must live among the people of Appalachia to understand their problems.

The doctor must literally touch the patient to diagnose and prescribe. The clergyman must live in the marketplace and place of business to keep in touch.

This is no new necessity.

The Almanac

By United Press International
Today is Saturday, Dec. 4, the 38th day of 1965 with 27 to follow.

The moon is approaching its full phase.

The morning star is Jupiter.

The evening stars are Venus, Mars, Saturn and Jupiter.

In 1783, George Washington bid farewell to his troops at a New York City tavern shortly before he resigned as commander of the Continental Army.

In 1918, President Woodrow Wilson sailed for France to attend the peace conference at Versailles.

In 1942, President Roosevelt ordered the liquidation of the W.P.A. created in 1935 to provide work for the unemployed.

In 1946, the United Mine Workers Union was fined $3.5 million for refusing to call off 17-day strike.

Isaiah discussed his sense of vocation in terms of having an angel touch his lips. A woman wanted to touch the hem of Jesus' garment and mothers brought their children for Jesus to touch them.

Centuries later, Kipling insisted: "If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue, or walk with kings—nor lose the common touch, You'll be a man, my son."

Yet here's the problem. One has to do more than touch life. One has to keep in touch with power to meet the need. Our problem is that we might lose touch with life altogether or get bogged down in the problems without sensing any power.

We have to keep in touch on a double front—dealing with the present with some power to deal with the situation!

The biographer Nicoll wrote, "Newton was not the first to observe the fall of an apple but he was the first to see the falling apple in relation to the stars." It is this sense of relationship that makes the difference. Lose this and one loses touch!

It's important that we see the slums. Too many people have shut the unpleasant sights of a city from their eyes and consciences, but we have to see the unhappiness in relation to the power to handle it and the love that can redeem it.

We need to see the sin in terms of our own sin and the love of God that keeps in touch with each of us.

There was a break in a cable in a television studio one day. All of the preparation, the programming and the preliminary work was being jeopardized by this mechanical break. One man picked up the broken ends and held them together. So a program was broadcast.

Most of us are in that place holding the broken pieces together in our families, our neighborhoods or our cities. The power that keeps in touch with us, needs to reach through us to keep in touch with others!

New Twist for Ex-Arm-Twister

By WASHINGTON STAFF
WASHINGTON (NEA)—Postmaster General Lawrence O'Brien was constantly accused of "arm-twisting" during his five-year service as the President's congressional liaison officer.

He now finds the situation turned around 180 degrees, as people with complaints about the mail pressure him at every opportunity. Even O'Brien's wife is hearing from disgruntled users of the mail.

"If you could time in at any thing you might get something like this, from an annoyed housewife," Mrs. O'Brien, I've been meaning to tell you. A couple of Christmases ago, I received this parcel post package and it was just smashed to pieces.

Voice of the People:

Communists Use 'Truths' to Advance Their Cause

The editorial on what Chinese newspapers have to say about Americans was very enlightening. The Chinese Communists used the same technique in Korea when they committed mass murders and then accused the Americans of committing them.

To a Communist, truth is anything that advances the course of communism, which includes murder and distortion. Communism tries and often succeeds in twisting around the definition of our basic moral ideas by building on godless materialism.

If we, in our ignorance of this fact, interpret their words as if they believed the Christian philosophy from which we take our own basic concepts, then we give them aid and comfort in their program for conquest and destruction of American principles and ideals.

A CONSERVATIVE

Answers Criticism of Area Nursing Homes

In answer to the letter written about nursing homes, I am a registered nurse working in a fine nursing home in Pontiac and the patients get the best possible care. We cure bed sores—we don't create them. Great effort is put forth for these skin problems but there is just so much nursing care that can be given and the body doesn't always respond.

Our nurses' aides are specially trained in treating the aged and do a fine job. We are proud of the nursing care that is given here and hope the public will not believe the first letter written without investigating and seeing for itself.

I believe the nursing home profession is a necessary asset and is just as important as the general hospital or the mental hospital. It should receive the respect due it.

Replies to Letter on Area Poverty Program

The need for a poverty program in the Pontiac area is indeed a shame, as G. W. suggests in a recent letter. It's also a shame to place the blame for it on the wealth of Bloomfield and West Bloomfield and people with means.

G. W. stated that "as long as a community turns its back upon its responsibility and the need of its people, others will have to try to make it up some way." It is doubtful that the residents of Bloomfield and West Bloomfield got where they are by waiting for a community to meet its responsibility and supply its needs, or if it failed to do so, waited for others to try and make it up some way.

Poverty isn't going to end by condemning the "haves" simply because they have. Give credit where credit is due and save the "sour grapes" for those "have nots" who live on handouts because they have no desire or the initiative to help themselves.

the inner courtyard of the building—turned around so that visitors entering the main door would be greeted by Mr. Sam's face instead of his back.

In the midst of the controversy, a veteran observer pointed out that the statue of Oklahoma satirist Will Rogers was the only one in the halls of the capital which faced the House. He recalled that Rogers often remarked:

"If they ever put a statue of me in that Statuary Hall in the Capitol, I want it facing the House so that I can keep an eye on it when I'm gone."

This practice was recently carried to the ultimate degree of sophistication. After working for several months on the initial stage of a pet project, an officer—who shall remain nameless—submitted a progress report for approval by his bosses.

He got his answer a week later and it left him thoroughly confused about his project's status. It read:

"We do not necessarily not concur in this project."

Gets Sentence for Tax Evasion

A former Pontiac funeral director and three-time unsuccessful City Commission candidate has been sentenced in California for income tax evasion.

Earl J. Smith Jr., 43, of El Monte, Calif. was ordered to serve one year in prison.

U. S. District Judge E. Avery Crary in Los Angeles, suspended nine months of the sentence but placed Smith on 15 months probation after he serves his 90-day term.

Smith was defeated in his bid for a seat on the commission in elections in 1954, 1956 and 1958. He formerly operated the Brace-Smith Funeral Home at 138 W. Lawrence.

He pleaded guilty last month to failing to file tax returns for the years 1958 and 1959 on gross incomes of $13,603 and $14,182, respectively.

CIVIL CHARGES

A spokesman for the Internal Revenue Service in Pontiac said Smith is liable on civil charges for $18,190 in taxes and penalties for the years 1957 through 1960 when he failed to file returns.

Because of the statute of limitations Smith was cited on only two criminal counts, the spokesman said.

Fire Alarms in Waterford Below 1964

The Waterford Township Fire Department answered 46 fire alarms last month, raising the 1965 total to 474 with one month remaining.

This compares with 69 fires in November, 1964 and 688 fires the first 11 months last year.

However, 11 more fires were recorded last month than in October when only 35 blazes were reported.

Total fire loss for the year to date is $212,710 against $146,191 the same period last year.

Altogether, 739 alarms, including rescue runs, have been answered this year, compared with 914 the same period last year.

Last month a total of 69 alarms were answered, one more than in October, but 19 fewer than the preceding November.

Death Toll at 16 in Iowa Explosion

KEOKUK, Iowa (UPI) — The 15th and 16th victims of a gas explosion in the Keokuk Army Thangsgiving eve died yesterday in University Hospital, Iowa City.

It was feared the death toll might go even higher. Six persons remained in serious condition at the U.S. Army Burn Center, Brooke Hospital, San Antonio, Tex.

Twenty others were still hospitalized in Iowa and Illinois. Investigators said the blast was caused by a gas accumulation from a line break, ignited by a water heating unit.

Nearly 70 persons were inside the armory when the blast occurred.

Marines Edgy Awaiting Assault Landing in Viet

WITH U.S. NAVY off Vietnam (AP) — Hours of waiting in the holds sharpened the Marines' nerves like a whetstone run along the blade of a new hunting knife.

The riflemen braced themselves calmly against the heavy rolling of the ships in the task group. They wrote letters to family or sweethearts, worried silently, played cards, or tried to talk their nervousness away. Few succeeded.

Destroyers, a helicopter carrier and attack troop ships prowled off Viet Nam waiting to launch an amphibious assault against a part of the central coast held by the Viet Cong.

Runners flooded the lower holds where the young Marines were stacked in racks of bunks four high.

"I heard from the skipper we may go tomorrow," a corporal told one group.

WE'LL KNOW

"Maybe so," replied a gunnery sergeant. "If they issue the combat rations and ammo to-night, we'll know for sure."

They didn't. Instead, a practice assault was ordered for 6 a.m. against the beach at Chu Lai, one of three Marine beach-heads in Viet Nam.

"There's a hell of a surf out there now. But wait until D Day, these swells will smash right over the small boats," said a veteran of World War II. He added knowingly: "Except at places like Tarawa, more people got it from boats sinking than from enemy fire on the beach."

CHEERED NO ONE

That cheered practically no one in C Hold. Most were teenagers or just into their 20s.

As night fell, a blackout was ordered. More letters, many more letters, were written. Talk became a bit more edgy. Company commanders prepared for final briefings.

The ship's loudspeaker crackled to life and the chaplain's night prayer began.

Nearly all the Marines stopped in their tracks and most bowed as the chaplain asked God "to protect those who on the morrow must walk into the valleys of danger."

BATTLE STATIONS

At 4 a.m., battle stations sounded. The men had breakfast of hot Navy chow, mailed letters and made a final check of equipment.

Some gave a wistful glance at their Navy bunks. The coming assault would mean days of sleeping in the rain and trudging through rice paddies.

Men of the first assault wave had heard a pep talk before Taps from their company commander, Capt. Fred L. Tolleson of San Antonio, Texas.

"Remember, we were picked for this job because we're No. 1. You can do anything. I don't know what we'll hit tomorrow, but don't forget, whatever it is, each man must do his job no matter what," he said.

BLARES ORDERS

The loudspeaker blared orders to load the Amtracs. When the front ramps opened again it would be on the white sand.

While other American Leathernecks and the Vietnamese clambered down cargo nets into the Mike boats—open infantry landing craft—the Amtracs nosed into position on an assault line facing the beach. Then the line started forward. Inside, the Marines waited.

The Amtracs were in the surf and the heavy waves submerged them for several seconds at a time.

Then their treads bit into the sand and after a short run onto the beach, the ramps clanged out to set up a perimeter in the nearby tree line.

LANDING UNOPPOSED

The landing was unopposed this time, and only scattered sniper shots were heard. No boats were lost in the surf.

The Marines plan more and possibly bigger landings in the future. The Viet Cong may not always fade so easily.

Charming Colonial Of The J. E. Cochran Found On Nearbrook Drive, Bloomfield Township

Mediterranean Accent Enhances Colonial

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, Pontiac Press

Weeping cherry trees provide an interesting and colorful focal point to the foundation planting of the J. E. Cochrans on Nearbrook Drive, Bloomfield Township.

Weeds pose no problem for the Cochrans. They have covered the soil around the evergreens and trees with a blanket of plastic and number "10" stone.

"To insure adequate moisture reaching the roots of the plantings," said Mr. Cochran, "we punctured holes here and there in the plastic."

A central foyer allows entrance into the formal living room, the second floor sleeping area, the kitchen and the den.

Though furnished principally in the colonial period, the living room introduces touches of the Mediterranean influence for an interesting change of pace.

ELEGANT SETTING

Setting the room's simple yet elegant background are white walls, including the paneled fireplace wall, gold carpeting and gold antique satin draperies with sheer white half-curtains.

A maple eagle hangs above the fireplace between a mantel arrangement of pewter goblets, plates and candlesticks with avocado-green candles.

Wingback chairs in a gold and white provincial print complete the fireside grouping. Lighting the area are a black and brass table lamp and an antiqued-brass lamp on a distressed pecan table.

The room's drop-front desk with movable candle holders in antiqued brass is served by a chair cushioned in avocado-green.

An oil of ancient Rome, emphasizing the area's color theme, by the Italian painter Carillo dresses the wall above the olive-green sofa.

Illuminating the spiced-pumpkin chair and ottoman placed under the pewter lavabo wall planter is a pecan and wrought iron lamp table.

Adjoining the convenient kitchen and informal breakfast room at the back of the house is the pecan-paneled family room.

Pointing to the pass-through which opens into the family room, Mrs. Cochran said,

"That is one of my greatest step-savers."

"When our daughters were home and entertaining their teen-age friends, it was a perfect spot to set up a snack buffet."

The Cochrans have three children, Gary, 12, Jacquelyn, a freshman at Western Michigan University and Mrs. Norman LePage, a senior at WMU.

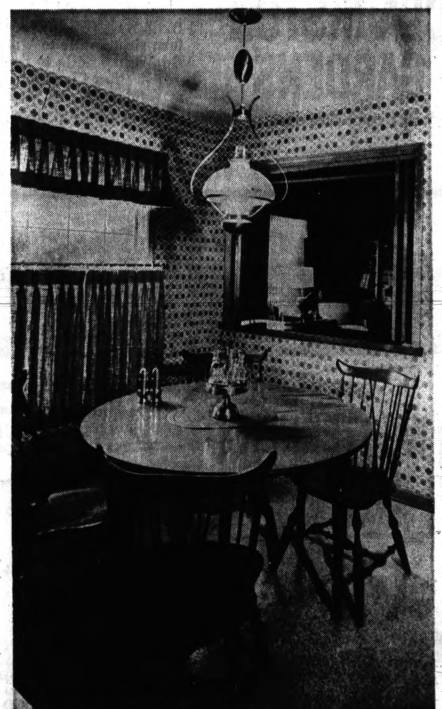

Twin cabinets on either side of the room's used-brick fireplace display family treasures of the Cochrans.

"Marcel DeBer, our 13-year-old exchange student," said Mrs. Cochran, "sent us the bridal couple on the top shelf when he returned home to Mexico."

"And the tin lantern on the mantel's far right was made by Jackie's Finnish father when she was an exchange student."

"It's called a Viking moon lamp. The tin is cut so that the candlelight filters through the holes."

In front of the king-sized curved sofa of rust and black boucle is a drop-leaf pine coffee table centered by a copper chafing dish converted into a planter.

Chemistry Increases Wood's Life

Modern chemistry is improving the quality and increasing the life span of one of the oldest building materials—wood.

One example is the scientifically developed chemical preservative which is factory-applied to wood windows to make them operate better and last longer.

The process involves impregnating wood sash and frames with a chemical which controls water absorption.

This eliminates a swelling, shrinking, warping and termites and makes the wood completely resistant to dry rot and decay.

Another effect of the preservative treatment, which is applied to all stock windows of ponderosa pine, is that it allows wood to take paint easily and hold it longer, so that only infrequent repainting is needed.

The most popular roofing material for residential reroofing jobs is asphalt shingles. In addition to offering beauty, long life and low maintenance, asphalt shingles can usually be applied directly over the old roofing.

SPECIAL DESIGN — It would be difficult to pass this ranch-type house without giving it a second look. Various exterior features, including placement of windows, make it pleasingly different without excessive structural changes.

Mobile Units Are Popular

In the market for a mobile home? If so, you're one of a tribe that is rapidly increasing. According to Stan Johnson, manager of fiberoptic sales for Allied Chemical Corporation's Barrett Division, a major supplier of subflooring material for mobile homes:

"One-sixth of all new single-family homes — some 290,000 — will be mobile in 1965.

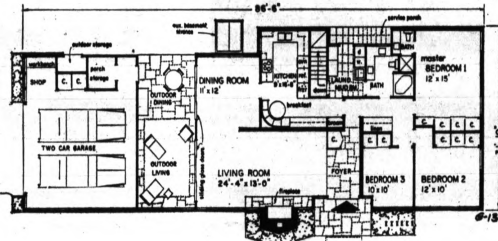

"In fact," adds Johnson, "mobile homes have become a major factor in the less-than-$10,000 home market. The units account for one out of every three new residences in this price range, and their share of the market is growing larger each year."

The days when trailer living was austere at best, have been long since gone. Today's mobile homes range in price from $3,000 to $12,000 with an average of about $5,000.

Johnson reports that most late model mobile homes boast virtually all the comforts of any home including the last word in kitchen appliances, air-conditioning and wall-to-wall carpeting.

Keeping pace in improvements in the mobile homes themselves, today's mobile home parks offer swimming pools, recreation facilities, shopping centers and other accoutrements of gracious living.

Room Size Guides
Tile Pattern Choice
Don't put a large resilient floor tile pattern in a small room. The room will automatically look cluttered and crowded.

FLOOR PLAN — Excellent circulation pattern of this three-bedroom, one-story contemporary is enhanced by location of indoor-outdoor area between the basic house and the garage, making it practical extension of living room and dining room.

Contemporary Has Variation of Design

By their very nature, contemporary houses permit wider variation of design than do the traditional. While the latter occasionally stray from the structural features that established their popularity over the years, it is the contemporary that the architect can exercise his ingenuity to the utmost.

In the latest House of the G-13 STATISTICS

Design G-13 has a living room, dining room, kitchen, laundry-mud room, foyer, three bedrooms and two baths with a habitable area of 1603 square feet. In addition, there is a living area between the house and two-car garage of 265 additional square feet. The plans include a basement. Over-all dimensions, which include the garage, are 36' 6" by 31' 10".

Week, Rudolph A. Matern has demonstrated how a modern, one-story house can be given a touch of excitement without deviating from the basic principles of good design.

Both outside and inside, this house has the virtues home owners have come to expect: a center hall entrance, a practical traffic pattern, excellent placement of kitchen appliances, separation of the living and sleeping quarters, and plenty of closet and storage space.

But a glance at the artist's exterior rendering and the floor plans discloses a most distinctive outdoor appearance and a fine arrangement for indoor-outdoor living.

The indoor-outdoor feature is an extension of the formal living area of the house.

EXTRA ROOM
Sandwiched between this part of the house and the two-car garage is a room 26' long, completely covered yet open at the rear.

Sliding glass doors from the living room lead to what is, in effect, a second living room. Sliding glass doors from the dining room lead to a second dining room.

The regular house roof extends over this unusual area, except that there are plastic overhead domes which afford natural light and provide a view of the sky day or night.

From the front of the house, passersby cannot see this special section, since there is a continuity of material and windows.

This means that, in good weather, the flagstone-floored area can serve as an overflow for guests who are either relaxing or dining, with no invasion of privacy.

The regular living room has an attractive stone fireplace.

The U shape of the kitchen is a step-saver for the lady of the house.

BUILT-IN SEAT
A built-in breakfast seat saves the dining room for more formal meals.

Just off the kitchen is a laundry-mud room, with access to a service porch and close to one of the two bathrooms.

Also in this area is the basement stair, conveniently located for inside or outside usage.

There are three bedrooms in the wing at the right of the house.

One of the two bathrooms serves the master bedroom and includes a stall shower.

A multiplicity of closets makes it certain that everyone in the family will have ample space for clothes.

The foyer, off the covered entryway, is large enough to permit a housewife with decorative tendencies to come up with some imaginative and interesting effects.

Outside, vertical redwood siding, high windows, a flagstone porch, planters and a gable-shaped chimney add up to something different.

Design G-13 is an eye-catcher whose interior plan fulfills the promise of the exterior.

FHA Issues New Policy

Perry E. Willis, president of the National Association of Home Builders, recently praised FHA's new liberalized policy on "working wives' income."

FHA insuring offices have been instructed by Commissioner P.N. Brownstein to give more consideration to a wife's income in qualifying married couples mortgage insurance and payments.

"This new policy," Willis said, "recognizes the reality of the times and will enable more young married people to purchase the homes they want and need and can afford when a wife's income is given due consideration."

"For many young people, this policy will open the doors earlier to home ownership and to the stability of family home life."

Brownstein, in announcing the new policy, said the primary reason is the trend in recent years for wives to resume employment after a childbirth.

He noted that many employers now offer maternity leave benefits and guarantee re-employment rights and that the period of interrupted income is typically short.

The financial impact, Brownstein said, frequently is lessened by insurance or hospitalization plans.

These considerations, he added, make it possible for FHA to give more weight to the wife's income in measuring the family's effective income for repayment of the mortgage debt.

Enamel Point Is Best Around Moisture

Kitchens and bathrooms are subject to more punishment from moisture than any of the other rooms in your home. So, it's a good idea to paint them with a moisture resistant paint.

One of the best is a semi-gloss enamel. Not only will it stand up under the wear and tear of the moisture normally produced in these rooms, but it can also be easily cleaned with a soap and water scrubbing.

Dimensions Important

The modern trend in wood design features striking visual displays of all dimensions of lumber—thickness as well as length and width.

This explains the growing popularity of exposed beam ceilings where the solid aspects of lumber are focal points as well as the grain character.

New patterns of paneling are spaced so that all dimensions of each panel are visible.

Despite Tightening Money Markets

Nation's Builders Predict Increase

Despite concern over new construction of single family units, many of the nation's leading home builders predict a slight increase in housing starts in 1966 over this year's expected 1,300,000 starts. They also indicate a feeling that any further money tightening at this time was unwarranted both in view of the building situation and money availability.

Fifty builders, meeting at the National Housing Center for a Builders' Intentions Conference, generally forecast an increase of about 5 per cent in starts for 1966. They predicted most of that increase will come in the construction of single family units, 6 per cent in single family and 2 per cent increase in multi-family dwellings. This upward thrust is expected within the next six months.

The builders were almost universally disturbed over serious shortages of home building labor, especially skilled.

LABOR SHORTAGE. On the latter point, one builder said that due to the developing shortage of skilled labor, "my sales exceed my capacity to produce."

Mentioning his concern over the increase in the cost of money he said that "invariably when the cost of money goes up my production falls."

High on the list of builders' concerns is the increasing technical requirements imposed by local and Federal government, thus adding to the cost of the houses and, in some cases, inhibiting the production of homes for low-income families.

The round table session confirmed the results of a preliminary survey by National Association of Home Builders economists. Some 150 builders had responded to the written survey.

The upsurge of rental housing in recent years has already reached its peak, in the opinion of most of the builders. Seventy-five per cent of those responding said the rental market has either reached the peak and will stay as it is for a while or will actually decline. The remainder felt that the rental boom is just beginning in their areas.

Builders responding to the survey represent all areas of the United States. Generally speaking, they reported economic conditions in their areas to be favorable. The new home sales market is considered to be good, and the outlook for construction in their areas is good to excellent.

CONSUMER INTEREST

The builders reported signs of increased consumer interest from visitors to model homes and actual sales recently.

In areas where there were indications of an uncertain sales market, the major reason for the lack of stability was uncertainty over economic and political conditions.

Most builders also indicated local market obstacles in zoning, and intensive competition from rentals. The majority of builders considered their sales market for the next six months as firm, however.

More than half the builders questioned said they currently are building rental units, and of these, 69 per cent plan to build garden-type apartments in 1966. Less than 20 per cent expect to build high-rise and a smaller number plan town houses for rental.

CONVENTIONAL FINANCING. Three quarters of those building for the rental market will use conventional financing, with the remaining 25 per cent using FHA.

Are builders planning to utilize provisions of the 1965 Housing Act? Nearly two-thirds of the builders responding to the survey indicated that the new housing act will affect their operations directly, but only a few said it will happen this year.

Most said the effect of the new legislation will be felt next year. The part of the act with most appeal is the FHA mortgage insurance for veterans provision: 75 per cent plan to use it.

Almost half said they plan to utilize the increased dollar limit on FHA Rental housing. Twenty-one per cent expect to use the land development insurance and 14 per cent the college housing loan program. One-third said they would use the rent supplement program for low-rent housing, a third said they would not, and a third were uncertain.

Kitchen Plan Advances in Efficiency

Some of the most significant advancements in this year's new homes are in the kitchen.

Kitchen planning has, in fact, become an exact science and no room in the home today has been so completely revolutionized in appearance and function.

Before some of the nation's best designing talent tackled the problem of making it more pleasant and useful, the kitchen of many homes was a sorry sight. All too often it had a cluttered look due to poor arrangement of appliances and equipment.

It was poorly lighted and hard to work in. Keeping it clean was a major problem.

Contrast that with the modern kitchen where everything is well-arranged and conveniently at hand—a pleasure to work in and easy to keep spotless. The center of food preparation is, of course, the sink, with its flanking countertops.

PLANNED KITCHEN

In the well-planned kitchen, the range, refrigerator, automatic dishwasher and storage areas are installed so that the housewife has the fewest possible steps to travel between them and the sink.

Modern sinks in single, double and even triple bowl styles come in a myriad of colors as well as stainless steel.

Hose spray attachments and food waste disposers are coming to be "standard equipment."

To obtain professional help in planning your kitchen, consult an experienced plumbing contractor. He is an expert who will help create just the kind of kitchen you want.

CHRISTMAS PROJECT.—With all the new little mail trucks scurrying about these days, it's only natural that little boys want to play mailman. Pictured above is a plywood truck that even beginning do-it-yourselfers can make. To obtain full size truck pattern number 383, send $1 by currency, check or money order to: Steve Ellingson, Pontiac Press Pattern Dept., P. O. Box 2383, Van Nuys, Calif. 91409.

No-Polish Pewter Shines After Shining

Times — and pewter — have changed! While antique pewter darkened because it contained lead, modern pewter — made without lead — is tarnish-resistant and never needs to be polished.

Whether its finish is bright, a soft satin sheen, or somewhere between these two extremes, pewter requires only washing with hot soap or detergent suds and hot rinse water followed by drying with a soft cloth.

'Paradise' Lost for Elvis Says Star's Leading Lady

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — There are people brave enough to think and mostly they are young... and one is 21-year-old Marianna Hill who plays Elvis Presley's leading lady in a film but cannot be induced to say that Elvis is a great acting talent.

"San Francisco's famed restaurants," she says, continuing her iconoclastic way, "are really stuffy and very drunk inside."

And many of the so-called "in" people and places are "frauds," "wasteful," and "disappointing," alleges she.

Blonde, long-haired, beautiful in a bikini! Marianna, grandniece of the great New Jersey police boss Norman Schwarzkopf, has recently filmed "Paradise, Hawaiian Style," with Presley, which was highly revelatory.

"They kept asking me," Marianna says, "Hasn't he got talent?" That was when the picture was starting.

"I said, 'He's a show business phenomenon.'"

"When we were finishing the picture, they said, 'NOW hasn't he got talent?'"

"I said, 'I still say he's a show business phenomenon.'"

"Did you ever have a date with Elvis?" I asked Marianna.

"No," she squirmed. "You see, he's got his entourage, and they go over to his house and eat popcorn and watch television."

After brushing off the great god Elvis, Marianna took after the restaurants of San Francisco where she once lived (she also grew up in Santa Barbara, La Jolla, Vancouver and New York).

"I think New York's restaurants are superior to San Francisco's," Marianna said as we sat in Gallagher's.

"Here it's alive! San Francisco's restaurants are cliché."

It's very old San Francisco society... and everybody's looped. If you drink a bottle of liquor a day, you're one of the social group."

THE WEEKEND WINDUP
David Merrick says he's friendly now with Neil Williamson, star of his show, "Inadmissible Evidence" (who reportedly belted Merrick in Philadelphia). "In fact," he says waggishly, "We're so friendly I may even invite him to the N.Y. opening."

Ava Gardner complimented Abbe Lane at the Persian Rm. Said the sexy Ava: "Abbe's very sexy."

Kate Smith'll visit Europe in February — her first trip outside the U.S. ... Carol Burnett and Nipsey Russell did so well at Lake Tahoe's Harrah's they may do a concert together... Boxing champ Jose Torres sat in at the N.J. neighbors to record: Jimmy Dean and Jerry Vale.

EARL'S PEARLS: Sal Cucinotta notes that some women are at the dangerous time of life — just before Christmas shopping begins.

Milton Berle was on the "H'wood Palace" TV'er with Sonny & Cher, the long-haired husband-and-wife singing duo who wear tight pants. One of them complimented Berle, who said, "Thank you, Sonny. Uh—it is Sonny, isn't it?" That's earl, brother. (The Hall Syndicate, Inc.)

Faulty Engine Cancels Flight

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The pilot of a United Air Lines 727 jetliner detected a vibration in one engine shortly after takeoff last night and made a precautionary landing.

The flight was United's 542, carrying 44 persons, en route to San Francisco.

The pilot said he noted the vibration within five minutes of takeoff and immediately turned the engine off and returned to Los Angeles International Airport.

City fire department units stood by as the three-engine plane made a normal landing. Passengers were quickly transferred to another aircraft.

The method for fine-tuning the engine was developed in Caswell County, N.C., in 1857.

Picasso Well After Surgery

PARIS (UPI) — Pablo Picasso, the world-famous 84-year-old Spanish-born painter, was reported recovering well today from a bile-duct operation performed secretly two weeks ago.

"Mr. Picasso was a good patient," Dr. Raymond Alluaume said this morning. "His recovery has been very good."

Picasso's nurses were quoted as saying the white-haired old man was "charming," "extraordinary" and "a perfect patient."

Picasso had ordered that there be no publicity about his operation, similar to that undergone recently by President Johnson.

He simply left his hilltop villa at Mougins in southern France two weeks ago. The next day, he was wheeled into a Paris operating room. Not even his closest friends were told.

WOMEN'S SECTION

Send Note of Thanks But Enclose the Check

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I don't have much of a problem, but I would like your opinion on this. When I paid my doctor bill, I enclosed a little note to my doctor telling him how much I appreciated his services.

A friend of mine said I was foolish for doing such a thing—that all a doctor was interested in from his patients, was the fee.

I can't believe that. I thought he was such a wonderful doctor because of what he did for me. I wanted him to know how I felt. Did I do wrong?

MRS. R.: Not in my book. Doctors are people, and they do more than "sell" their services. A good doctor gives comfort, compassion, encouragement, hope and peace of mind.

You can pay for shots, pills, treatment and surgery. But the only way to express appreciation for that which isn't on the bill is a simple "thank you." (P. S. But don't forget to enclose your check.)

DEAR ABBY: After a lot of discussion, we finally made a deal with our son and are letting him wear his hair the way he wants to.

When I tell you that his hair is longer than his mother's, I am not putting you on. He is all boy, but he does help his mother in the kitchen, peeling vegetables, drying dishes, carrying out garbage, etc.

This morning I found a hair about nine inches long in my breakfast food. It was his! (His mother has red hair, he has brown hair.) Don't you think this is reason enough to make him cut his hair?

GREENVILLE DAD

DEAR DAD: If the hair was NINE inches long, there's a better reason. But since you made a deal with him, don't wench. Just make him wear a hairnet when he helps his mother in the kitchen.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I disagree on a very serious matter. We have a 15-year-old daughter who has been a handful ever since she was 12. She is very big for her age, and boy crazy. The good Lord is surely watching over her or she'd have been in trouble more than once.

A fellow who is 22 wants to marry her, and she wants to quit school and marry him. She needs our signatures. The man is a common laborer but he seems like a decent sort.

He came to us and asked for her hand like a gentleman. My wife says we should sign and get her married so we won't have to worry about her anymore.

I say she should know him longer because I'm afraid this marriage won't stick and we'll have her back in a year with a kid. She's only gone with him six weeks. We want your opinion.

WORRIED FATHER

DEAR FATHER: I hope your wife listens to you. Of all the reasons to sign for a 15-year-old to marry, your wife's is the poorest.

Troubled? Write to ABBY, care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press.

Plans are being completed by Herbert W. Gordon, committee chairman, and Mrs. Robert Anderson, president of the Bar Association auxiliary.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Biehl of Embarcadero Street find an uncrowded spot on the dance floor. With some 500 people in attendance, this wasn't easy.

DAR Chapter Pays Honor to Nine Girls

The General Richardson chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, honored nine "Good Citizens" and their mothers, Thursday evening in the YWCA.

Mrs. John Tomlins of Rochester directed the program attended by some 60 members and guests.

Place Gifts on Table for Guests

By the Emily Post Institute

Q: I am going to be married in two weeks. I have ordered favors (a small cup and saucer with our names on it) to give to the guests at the reception. I would like to know how these should be distributed. Should I hand them to the guests as they come up to congratulate me or should I put one at each place setting at the table?

A: It will be best to put one at each guest's place at table.

IN THE DINING CAR

Q: When seated at table with a stranger in the dining car of a train, it is rude not to speak to one's table companion?

A: On a day-long journey, there is no need to speak to your companion at the table, beyond a possible "May I have the salt, please?" although there is no objection to an impersonal conversation on such subjects as the scenery, the weather, a book the stranger may have with him, etc.

On a longer journey, if you happen to sit next to, or near, the same person for a number of meals, it is extremely bad mannered to sit in wooden silence.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Sorority Unit Meets for Festive Party

Members of Epsilon chapter, Alpha Delta Kappa sorority, gathered for the Christmas meeting, Thursday, in the home of Mrs. William VanderZee on Hatton Street, Pontiac Township.

Mrs. Charles Hampshire was cohostess.

A gift of money will be sent to the State Alpha Delta "Kite" fund for a Colombian student at Oakland University.

The altruistic committee is planning game parties as a fund raiser.

February vows are planned by Betty Lynn Renne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack E. Renne of Decatur, Mich., and Richard Dennis Look, son of the Ralph W. Looks of Bunker Road, West Bloomfield Township. Both attend Eastern Michigan University where the bride-elect is affiliated with Alpha Xi Delta sorority. Her fiancé is a member of the Arm of Honor fraternity.

A festive Santa Claus, who hides miniature packages or party favors under his hat is made from a cardboard cylinder, covered in gay Christmas gift wrapping paper. Children will love the fun of making their own Christmas decorations, and it's easy with the help of this year's Christmas wrappings, very much in keeping with the spirit of the season.

Make Decorations

Nimble Fingers Help

A good part of the fun in making colorful decorations says Mrs. Peggy Gilbert, head of the Norcross Design Studio, is finding novel and effective use for everyday objects, with the objective of keeping the cost low. The attractive Christmas ornaments shown in the booklet, "Christmas U. S. A." have been designed to use such readily available items as paper cups, wire hangers, cottage cheese containers, cereal boxes, along with the economical, gay Christmas gift wrappings and ribbons, in themselves very much in keeping with the spirit of the season.

These may even be left-overs from the wrapping of Christmas presents. Their colors are gay, their patterns appropriate and often of themselves will suggest novel uses.

Many of the original designs shown in the booklet can double as gifts or gift holders, while it will be found that others will provide inspiration in creating new and different ways of wrapping gifts.

Clean Tips for a Trip

Before milady packs a bag for traveling, it pays her to vacuum clean the inside of her luggage and thoroughly clean any soiled spots.

Have all woollens and fine fabrics cleaned and pressed before packing. Clean shoes thoroughly and polish lightly and pack in plastic bags. Hosiery should go into separate plastic bags to prevent snags. Above all tighten tops of all leakable containers and seal them with cellophane tape.

Hairy Problem

Use a wet chamomile to remove dog hairs from furniture without damaging the fabric.

ELIAS BROS. NEEDS A WAITRESS

She has to be big, strong and healthy. Carrying trays loaded with Big Boy's super-sized portions is no job for a willing neophyte. She has to be fast. Folks who come to Big Boys like their food in a hurry, then take their time enjoying it. Not the other way around.

She has to like kids. We get lots because we're a family restaurant. (Four healthy appetites can eat regularly at Big Boys for less than $5). And she has to have will power. It's pretty tough to resist snitching a crispy french fry or golden-brown fried shrimp occasionally but we'd rather she didn't nibble in front of our guest.

What can we offer?

A permanent job, hourly wages plus tips, paid vacation and hospitalization in clean wholesome surroundings, nice uniforms and a lot of wonderful people to work with. You see, girls like the one's we're looking for right now are the only kind we hire.

Chapter Has Big Plans

Christmas plans were on the agenda at a meeting of American Gold Star Mothers, chapter 34, Friday, in the home of Mrs. Carl Rutherford on Alberta Street.

Gifts will be sent to the veterans in the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium and to some 25 boys at Pontiac State Hospital.

Five U. S. Veterans' Administration Hospitals and the Michigan Veterans' Facility in Grand Rapids will also receive gifts of money at Christmas.

Spades Designer Pattern

The great master tailor, Anthony Blotta, has designed this beautifully tailored two-piece dress. The contrasting detachable collar is set to one side, as is the button and loop, closing of the jacket. The side panels work up into underarm gussets. The bottom of the jacket is turned under and shirred to a lining, which controls the gentle blouson shape.

The skirt, which has 5 pleats across the front, is set on a camisole top. The whole look is slim and easy and very graceful in motion. Fabric suggestions are plain or printed rayon, silks and shantung, linen and cotton.

Expect Full Squads

Few Keg Spots Remain

Remaining spots on the squads for Sunday's second qualifying round of the Pontiac Open City Bowling championship have dwindled as bowlers began filling the remaining available times.

At Huron Bowl, the 3:00 p.m. and 4:15 p.m. squads are closed and the 5:30 and 6:45 squads were near to being filled as of last night.

Available openings for bowlers still wanting to qualify at Huron Bowl are — 10:00 a.m. and 11:15 a.m., — eight spots each; at 12:30 p.m. 10 spots and at 1:45 p.m. only six.

At 300 Bowl, the mid-afternoon squads from 1:45 to 5:30 p.m. are near closing, but there are openings on the three morning squads.

Monday's extension squads for convenience of residents and returning deer hunters are at 2:00 p.m., 4:00 and 5:00 p.m. The night squads are very limited.

Bowlers still desiring to attempt to qualify for the big tournament purse and city championship title can reserve one of the openings still available by calling Huron Bowl at 335-2625 and 300 Bowl at 623-6300 today.

Frustrated End to Baseball Talks

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Disappointed major league officials ended their meeting Friday with a frustrated feeling over having failed to complete a single player trade of major proportions.

The closest to a swap of any significance was the four-player deal in which the San Francisco Giants acquired right-handed relief pitcher Lindy McDaniel from the Chicago Cubs Thursday.

There was still some hope, however, that a couple of more transactions involving name players would be consummated before Dec. 10, when the three-week interleague trading period comes to an end.

Several deals were still hanging fire as the club owners and their entourage left for their home bases.

John McHale, president of the Atlanta Braves, blocked in his efforts to acquire a right-handed relief pitcher from a rival National League team, swung over to the American with a bid for John Wyatt, workhorse right-hander of the Kansas City Athletics.

McHale offered Reds' left-handed pitcher Ed Bunker Bell, a hard-hitting outfielder who batted .300 this year, although played a good part of the season with an ailing back. Wyatt, 32, appeared in 66 games for the A's this past season. He established a major league record of 81 appearances in 1964, a mark broken this year by Ted Abernathy, who pitched in 84 games for the Cubs.

The Braves also bid for Boston first baseman Lee Thomas, offering a starting pitcher, Ed Hank Fischer or Bob Sadowski, in exchange. The Red Sox, also dickering with Detroit for an outfielder, preferably Gates Brown, advised the Braves they would take their offer under advisement.

"Our prime needs are a right-handed relief pitcher and a left-handed batter," said Manager Bobby Bragan of the Braves. "We're hopeful we can swing deals for the men we're after before the interleague trade deadline."

The American League champion Minnesota Twins, stymied

in their attempts to land a second baseman, reportedly proposed a five-player deal to California involving catcher Earl Butler, outfielder Jimmie Hall and pitcher Dick Stigman for catcher Bob Rodgers and relief ace Bob Lee of the Angels. The Angels still were mulling over that one at a late hour Friday.

Philadelphia's Phillies, trying desperately to peddle Dick Stuart, offered the slugging first baseman to the New York Mets for a pitcher. They asked specifically for either Jack Fisher or Darrell Sutherland. In the meantime, they were considering a Baltimore offer of outfielder Jackie Brandt and a pitcher for outfielder Adolfo Phillips and relief pitcher Jack Baldschun.

The surprise of the meetings was the Cincinnati Reds' apparent willingness to trade Frank Robinson, who has been third baseman since the departure of Ted Kuszewski. A Houston official disclosed that the Astros had rejected a Red request for center fielder Jim Wynn and promising right-hander Larry Dierker in exchange for the 30-year-old slugger.

Robinson hit .296 with 33 home runs and 113 runs batted in last season. He was the National League's Most Valuable Player in 1962, when he hit .342, hammered 39 home runs and drove in 136 runs.

The Reds also were weighing an offer of pitcher Phil Ortega by Washington for second baseman Chico Ruiz. Another second baseman, Julian Javier of the St. Louis Cardinals, is being sought by the Chicago White Sox.

Should St. Louis trade Javier it would mark the final move in a complete revamping of the Cardinals' regular infield of 1965. In previous transactions, shortstop Dick Groat and first baseman Bill White were traded to Philadelphia and third baseman Ken Boyer to the Mets.

A new name cropped up as a candidate for the vacant White Sox' managerial job. He is Nellie Fox, former Chicago favorite, now coaching Houston. Astros' officials said, however, they had not been contacted by the White Sox regarding the former second baseman.

All-Star Tilt for '67 Given to California

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The 1967 All-Star baseball game was awarded to Anaheim, Calif., new home of the California Angels, by the major leagues in the final session at the winter meetings Friday.

The 1966 All-Star game will be played at St. Louis in the new stadium which is scheduled for completion next spring.

The 1966 major league meetings will be held in Pittsburgh. The minor league meetings will be held at Columbus, Ohio.

The owners, at a joint meeting, ratified an amendment which reduces from 30 to 15 days the minimum length of time a player must be on the disabled list.

The majors also allotted $250,000 for amateur baseball development.

Unofficial Record on Speedway Oval

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Mario Andretti of Nazareth, Pa., the U.S. Auto Club's 1965 champion, established an unofficial one-lap record of 182.4 miles per hour for the Indianapolis Motor Speedway Thursday.

Driving the Clint Brawner-built rear engine Dean Van Lines Brawner-Ford, Andretti surpassed during the tests the 162 m.p.h. speed set by the late Bobby Marshman of Pottstown, Pa., in November, 1964, tire tests.

Andretti went 10 laps at an average of over 161 m.p.h.

WGA Gives Report of Record Season

GOLF, Ill. (AP)—A new high in college scholarships for young caddies under the Chick Evans scholarship program was reported at the 67th annual meeting of the Western Golf Association Friday.

Both a total of 562 current Evans scholars at 26 universities and 192 new scholarships awarded this year marked records in the $2 million program conceived by former amateur champion and launched in 1930.

CONTRIBUTIONS

Another new high was contributions this year of more than $400,000 by some 60,000 golfers throughout the nation to the WGA-sponsored Evans Foundation.

Dates for three WGA major tournaments next year were certified including:

The 63rd Western Open, June 23-26, Medinah, Ill., Country Club.

Discuss Status of Amateurs

Suggestion is Offered to Regain Standing

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Amateur Athletic Union takes up today a suggestion to permit athletes who fall in troyouts with professional basketball and football teams to regain their amateur standing.

This is one of a number of proposals scheduled for discussion at the first general session of the AAU's 78th annual convention.

Other items include acceptance of records in weightlifting, swimming and track and field; a change in the way track and field records are listed to segregate records set by U.S. athletes and by foreign athletes in the United States; and a change in women's basketball rules.

A fight was expected over a decision to reject 10 women's swimming records set at the AAU's National Indoor Championship last spring because they were sent in for certification too late.

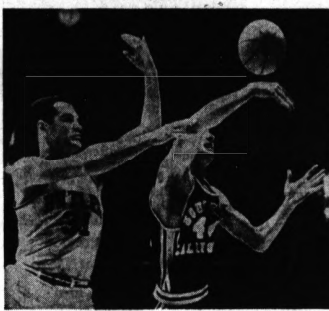

Miss Laurie Mickelsen, chairman of the Women's AAU Basketball Committee, said Thursday night that two changes had been made in the basketball rules on a trial basis to make them closer to men's rules, which are used in international competition.

The women adopted the continuous dribble and the 30-second rule but kept the divided court.

"This ought to make it easier for us to compete against Russia," said Miss Mickelsen.

The Women's Basketball Committee had awarded the national tournament to Gallup, N.M., for 1967, 1968 and 1969. The tournament was held there this year and is scheduled there next spring.

However, it was discovered that under AAU rules a championship event can only be awarded for two years at a time. So, Miss Mickelsen said, the award has been changed and the tournament will be held in Gallup only through 1968. It can be awarded for a longer time at the next AAU convention if the committee desires.

Grid Twin in Accident

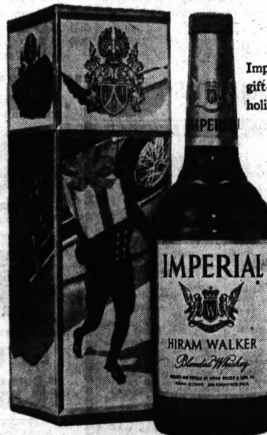

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Mike McKeever, former University of Southern California football star whose twin, Marlin, plays professional football, underwent surgery Friday, after an auto accident.

The two-car collision, which occurred in a dense, early-morning fog in nearby Fountain Valley, left the 25-year-old McKeever unconscious with a gash on the back of his head, sheriff's deputies said.

He was brought to Long Beach Memorial Hospital, where neurosurgeons said his condition was critical.

Marlin, an end for the Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League, remained with his brother as did Mike's wife, Judy, who is expecting a child soon. A Rams spokesman said Marlin would be flying with the team to St. Louis, Mo.

DISCUSS WELFARE PROGRAM — Finley L. Milne of 5361 Echo, Bloomfield Township, bishop of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, 425 Woodward, Bloomfield Hills, (left) and family is visited by Raymond Gallagher, a member of the Priesthood to discuss the welfare program of the church. Shown are Bishop Milne, Joseph, Lori, Mrs. Milne and Suzanne. Mr. Gallagher of Bloomfield Township (far right) is seated beside his son, Dennis Gallagher. Once a month each member of the Priesthood calls on a family to offer assistance. There are no exceptions.

World's Fair Film Slated Sunday

"The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, the Mormons, exists solely for the perfecting of the members that all might grow spiritually, socially, intellectually and come to, a complete understanding of God and what He expects of us," said Findley Milne, bishop of the Detroit-Pontiac Stake.

The film, "Man's Search for Happiness," shown at the World's Fair in New York City, will be presented to the public at 7 p.m. tomorrow at the local church, 425 Woodward, Bloomfield Hills.

Young people will show the film on Dec. 18 to youth of the community.

According to Elder Barton Smith members believe God revealed Himself to man in Biblical history and at times actually appeared and spoke to man.

The church, organized as was Christ's original church with apostles and prophets has no paid ministry. It is the same throughout the world with the same beliefs and doctrines.

MARRIAGE FOREVER

Mormons believe marriage is for time and eternity, not just till death, but forever.

They also believe one-tenth of all they earn belongs to God.

Every male member over the age of 12 holds the priesthood and is given various responsibilities for the spiritual and temporal welfare of the church. Many auxiliaries serve under the priesthood.

Mormons are firm believers in the principle that "experience is the mother of learning." The church develops all the people by providing the way for members to learn by doing as they conduct services. Adults, young people and even children are called upon to deliver Scriptural talks before the general congregation. There are no clergymen. Helping others to help themselves is the key to the Mormon welfare program, a part of their religion.

"Our primary purpose" said the first president of the church, "was to set up insofar as it might be possible, a system under which the curse of idleness would be done away with, the evils of a dole abolished, and independence, industry, thrift and self respect be once more established among our people."

"The aim of the Church is to help the people to help themselves. Work is to be re-throned as the ruling principle of the lives of our church membership."

WELFARE

The Mormon welfare plan is a combination Red Cross, Flood and Disaster Relief, Employment Service and Community Chest. Each Mormon believes the Church should look after the temporal needs of its members.

On the first Sunday of every month, the church teaches members should fast for two meals and to voluntarily contribute the cost of these meals to the Bishop of the area. This provides the Bishop with a cash sum ready to meet the requirements of the needy.

In order to provide the necessities of life, the Church operates projects centered around producing grain, meats, dairy and poultry products, fruits, vegetables, clothing, fuel and furniture. Members volunteer their services on these farm projects.

Each month every family is visited by the Priesthood members who talk briefly with the family, leave a spiritual message and determine if the family needs assistance.

Arrangements for help are made with the Bishop.

As an aid to the Priesthood the Women's Relief Society supplies assistance to the sick, afflicted, poor and needy. The women also study literature, theology, social sciences and hold workshops for bazaars.

According to Elder Smith the church has no one on government relief.

PROGRAM FOR YOUTH

The Mutual Improvement Association offers a program for young people. This organization was established to provide wholesome activities and instruction for youth.

SPONSORS BASKETBALL

The MIA sponsors one of the largest basketball leagues in the world with approximately 3,700 teams. Playoffs are held in Utah to decide a champion in a junior and senior division.

Swimming, skits, plays, dancing and recreational games are among the activities.

Young women receive lessons in homemaking skills, music, literature and family living as well as religious instruction.

Young men have Boy Scout and Explorer training, then receive lessons on religion, dating and vocations as they grow older.

The social and cultural programs for youngsters or 4 to 12 years of age are conducted one night a week. Here the children learn about Jesus and other religious subjects along with recreation.

At the present time some 13,000 young men ages 19 to 26 are on a full time mission for the Church. They serve for more than two years at their own time and expense.

FOUR TOWNS METHODIST — Men of Four Towns
Methodist Church, Waterford Township, gave generously of their time to complete the renovating of the chapel for the consecration service at 11 a.m. tomorrow. The 99-year-old church building will celebrate its 100th birthday in May. Walls of the nave are off-white. The ceiling is off-white with an amber cast.

Four Towns Chapel Will Be Consecrated

Dr. W. Leslie Williams, Flint district superintendent of Methodist churches, will be guest speaker and conduct the service of consecration of the newly renovated chapel of Four Towns Methodist Church, Waterford Township, tomorrow.

A decorating committee was appointed in August 1964 to redecorate the interior of the chapel so the entire church would be in readiness for the centennial celebration in May 1966.

A colonial theme was chosen and followed. Walls and ceiling are off-white.

A Communion rail was installed with a natural wood top supported by spindles of the same style.

The natural wood of the pews was highlighted by painting the ends white as well as the pulpit, main altar and other chancel furnishings.

BRASS CANDELABRA
Wall panels are enhanced by brass candelabra centered in the panels between the six main windows in the nave.

Wall to wall carpeting in deep red is matched in the tie back velvet draperies of the windows. A sheer white dacton curtain falls gently behind the draperies.

A new entrance provides a narthex area which leads into the chapel through double colonial doors.

Much of the work was done by the general membership of the church. As a result only a few items were subcontracted.

Salvation Army Is Clearing House

Anyone wishing to give a Christmas basket to the needy is asked to call the clearing house at the Salvation Army and report to whom the basket is going.

Those wishing names may also contact the clearing house.

Oakland Park Host to Methodist Youth
Youth Fellowship of Oakland Park Methodist Church will be hosts to the Pontiac sub district Methodist churches for the annual Christmas Carol Sing at 7 p.m. tomorrow. This will involve some 17 churches in the area.

Reid Straub, director of music for the Oakland Park Church, will lead the sing. Organist will be Robert Stastuk.

Young people participating in the event include Raymond Council, president; Carol Harris, vice president; Carolyn Bell and Bonnie Lawrence.

The Salvation Army acts as a clearing house for distribution of all Christmas baskets in north Oakland County, that is, from 14-Mile road north.

Names of families are indexed as they are called in and checked to make sure names are not duplicated.

One organization which has traditionally recognized the importance of preventing depression and loneliness is The Salvation Army.

Since its beginning — 100 years ago — the Army has made it an important part of its ministry to bring some of the joy of this holy season to those who are out of the mainstream of life.

To the elderly, living in a small furnished room, the prisoner behind bars, the sick and frightened invalid in a hospital, and the abandoned residents of Skid Row, Salvationists bring the cheer of music, conservation, personal interest, frivolous small gifts.

Prisoners often ask the Army to send Christmas gifts to their children from Daddy.

Dem Districting Plan Keeps Status Quo

LANSING (UPI) — Democratic members of the apportionment commission, holding to a "no change unless necessary" policy, yesterday submitted a districting plan for the State Senate that would insure no incumbent would have to run against another next year.

The plan, proposed by Commissioner Henry J. Dongvillo, left the nine districts in Detroit intact and tampered little with the existing outstate districts adopted last year.

Republican suggestions to change the shapes of some of the districts to make them more compact and regular in shape as required in the constitution met with little enthusiasm from the four Democratic commissioners.

"I am not sure this is necessary," said commission chairman Richard Austin, Detroit, a Democrat.

"I am not interested in proposing any change here for the sake of change."

"We are dealing with districts now in existence and should not make changes in them unless absolutely necessary."

Dongvillo's plan was in sharp contrast to the Republican Senate apportionment plan proposed two weeks ago, which completely remapped the state and threw 12 incumbent senators into potential election races with each other.

Both sides have repeatedly said they would pay no attention to where current incumbents live in drawing new districts. Each Senate plan under consideration comes closer to the equal population goal than the present "one man, one vote" districting, with Dongvillo's a hair more equal.

The difference between the highest and lowest districts in his plan was 1,425 and in the Republican plan it was 1,678.

The present districting has a difference of 2,827 between the largest and the smallest district.

The commission has been ordered by the State Supreme Court to "start anew" and to come up with legislative districts by Jan. 1, using both equal population and "antigerrymandering" guidelines in the State Constitution as criteria.

Most squabbles between the two four-man partisan teams on the commission since it was reactivated a month ago have been over the vague language used by the court.

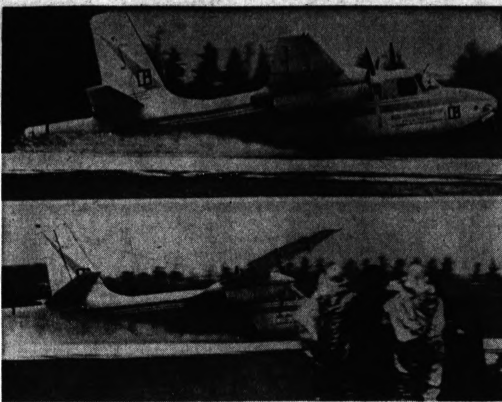

'ONLY IMPROVEMENTS'

Republicans feel a complete redistricting is in order while Democrats say only "improvements" on the present plan are called for.

"These current districts are constitutional," said Democrat A. Robert Kleiner, Grand Rapids, coauthor of the present plan. "And I don't think the court wants us to completely disrupt the Michigan legislative system."

In statements both last week and yesterday, Kleiner complained the Republican-proposed House and Senate districting plans "completely disrupt and change existing districts within a county or city for no apparent reason."

Portugal, which discovered Brazil in 1500, ruled it until 1822.

RIDING THE FOAM — A twin-engine plane with faulty landing gear touches down yesterday at the Northeast Philadelphia Airport on a foam-covered runway and slides past asbestos-clad firemen as the landing gear on the left side (bottom photo) collapses. The two men aboard escaped injury after circling the airport for three hours to use up fuel.

Mental Health Unit OKs Language in 3 Contracts

The language of three proposed contracts for expanded mental health services was approved yesterday by the Oakland County Mental Health Services Board.

Hopefully, all three contracts will clear other channels of approval by next month.

A proposed contract with Child Guidance Clinics Inc. provides for financial support by the Mental Health Services Board for existing clinic programs and support for anticipated expansion of psychiatric services to children.

The $66,000 fiscal-year cost of the program will remain an Oakland County expenditure but will be charged to the Mental Health Services Board budget.

A second proposed contract seeks inpatient psychiatric services from Pontiac General Hospital with cost of this service pending establishment of a per-diem rate and an estimated number of persons participating.

FOR RETARDED ADULTS

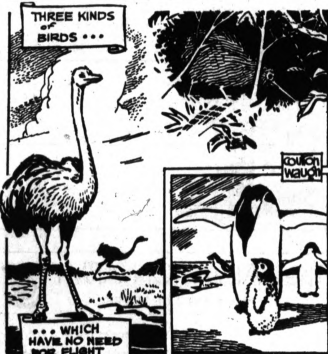

Thirdly, the board authorized a one-year contract to support the New Horizons program in Royal Oak in which mentally retarded adults receive rehabilitative services.

A maximum expenditure of $20,200 was specified. New Horizons has agreed to the contract.

The contracts with Child Guidance Clinics Inc. and Pontiac General Hospital both require second party approval.

All three contracts must also be approved by the Oakland County Board of Supervisors and the Michigan Department of Mental Health.

Junior Editors Quiz on FLIGHTLESS BIRDS

QUESTION: How did flightless birds get that way?

ANSWER: Birds developed wings as a way of flying from enemies and moving quickly from place to place in search of food.

But a few birds found themselves in situations where wings were not necessary and were actually in the way.

The little kiwi of New Zealand, for example, found an abundance of worms, berries and insects in thick woody places, through which its small size enabled it to creep.

To protect itself from enemies, it hid during the day. The wings, no longer necessary, were a hindrance, so they disappeared; the flat, flight feathers turned into something more like hair.

The African ostrich, living in wide open country, developed long, powerful legs to speed away from enemies. It also lost the power of flight because it was no longer needed. The rhea, emu and cassowary, all ostrich-like birds, lost their wings for similar reasons.

Penguins, living in regions where fish was the only food, had to develop expertness in underwater swimming. So the wing bones flattened to give less resistance.

The whole wing changed into a highly efficient paddle which enabled the bird to swim up to 20 miles an hour.

For a penguin, flight had no longer any importance.

FOR YOU TO DO: Try to think of another well known bird which has almost lost the power of flight. Give up? It's the chicken. Why would chickens need to fly around in the sky when their meals are brought to them, every day, right on the dot?

Question of Legislative Reform May Delay Decision on Pay

LANSING (AP) — A citizens commission studying legislators' pay wrestled Friday with the question of whether higher salaries should be tied to improved legislative procedures and full-time work.

The 12-member panel, working under a Senate resolution, is charged with recommending by early next week whether House and Senate compensation should be changed from the present $10,000 salary and $2,500 automatic expense allowance.

From open discussion, the committee thinking appeared to be that no sound decision on pay can be made until the full-time question is settled.

August Scholle, state AFL-CIO president and vice chairman of the group, declared that unless the legislature changes what he called its 1835 rules, there should be no pay raise.

ONLY JOKING

"If they don't want to change this format, let's cut it $5,000," he said. Later he said he was only joking about a cut.

Scholle spoke in favor of regular year-round legislative sessions and observed the job "can't be done in five or six months, meeting three or four times a week."

Former Republican Rep. Harry Hogan Jr., a Bloomfield Hills attorney, said the bill introduction period should be shortened and the study period lengthened.

Committee members disagreed about how specific any procedural recommendations could be.

Hogan said that for political reasons legislators could not now pass a pay increase without the commission's backing. Thus, he said, commission recommendations tied to procedural changes would have to be accepted on an all-or-nothing basis.

Wayne County Medical Examiner Dr. Perry Burnstine argued that the ballot box, not a pay recommendation, is the place to put legislators on the spot if they aren't doing their job. He objected to any insinuation that members of the present legislature are inefficient.

But committee members agreed it was the legislative process, not members, that needed reexamination.

The Rev. Robert Swanson, president of Alma College, suggested the commission issue an interim report declaring that no pay decision could be reached until procedural reforms were undertaken.

The commission agreed to meet Jan. 14 with selected legislators in an effort to determine if lawmaking should be a full-time job.

Use of Gates to Control Levels of Great Lakes Envisioned in Army Report

CHICAGO (AP) — Control of the Great Lakes through a system of gates was envisioned Friday in a report by the Corps of Engineers of the U.S. Army.

Brig. Gen. Roy T. Dodge, division engineer who issued the report, said it contained tentative plans that would have to be coordinated with Canadian plans before a joint blueprint could be drawn.

Two tentative plans were formulated for Lakes Michigan-Huron, which connect at the Straits of Mackinac. Under one, the extreme high stage would be lowered about 1.3 feet and the extreme low stage would be raised about 1.1 feet. Under the other, the extreme high would be lowered a little less than half a foot and the extreme low would be raised about 1.1 feet.

Regulatory works would be needed in the St. Clair and Detroit River channels to control the outflow from Lake Huron, which drains through the river into Lake Erie.

"These works," the report said, "would consist of gated structures to control the flows and channel enlargements to provide the required increase in discharge capacity."

The total cost of one plan was estimated at $426,230,000 and for the other at $905 million.

The Lake Erie plan contemplated lowering the extreme high stage by about one foot and raising the extreme low a bit more than a half foot.

It would require regulatory works near the head of the Niagara River to control the outflows from Lake Erie. Lake Erie waters flow on to Lake Ontario via the Niagara.

"These works would consist of a gated dam across the Niagara River to control the flows, and channel excavations above and below the dam to provide the required increase in discharge capacity," the report said.

The Lake Superior study aimed at the possibility of controlling stages on Lakes Michigan and Huron "without change in the present regulatory works provided for Lake Ontario."

The study indicated the high and low stages could be lowered or raised by a little less than a half-foot.

The Lake Erie plan would be integrated with one already approved for Lake Ontario.

Romney Rules Himself Out of Senate Race

Youth Held in Hit-Run Death

A 13-year-old girl on her way about 7:30 p.m. as she crossed the road on the way to a party by a hit-run driver last night on Williams Lake Road in Waterford Township.

Dead is Artha S. Kline of 5525 Cleary, Waterford Township, thrown over 100 feet when hit.

ARTHA S. KLINE

Heiple surrendered a short time later at the Waterford police station.

The victim was going to the dance with a friend, Joyce Russell, 14, of 5545 Harrell, Waterford Township.

Dowd said the Russell girl had crossed the road just in front of the victim.

"She went through the air like she had been launched," the girl said. "The car didn't even slow down."

Death was attributed to a fractured neck, broken back and other injuries. The victim was flung across the road and landed against the guide wire on a utility pole, Dowd said.

Her body is at the Coats Funeral Home.

Last year the goal was the same. However, less than $2,000 was raised.

Klansmen Get 10 Years

Seek Trio's Release on Bond

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — The attorney for three Ku Klux Klansmen convicted of violating the civil rights of slain Judge Johnson's conduct of the trial.

Hanes objected to Johnson's action in delivering a so-called "dynamic charge" to the all-white jury which reported itself hopelessly deadlocked after some eight hours of deliberations.

The judge told them, "This case must at some time be decided," and sent them back for deliberations which ended less than four hours later with guilty verdicts for all three defendants.

"In my opinion it was the only verdict you could reach in this case," Johnson told the jury. He then sentenced the Klansmen to the limits of the 1870 law written to protect freed slaves.

IN GRIM SILENCE
Wilkins, Eaton and Thomas took it in grim silence.

"A railroad job," said Hanes, and served immediate notice of appeal. "When they said they were deadlocked, it should have been dismissed,"

Hanes charged that the jury had listened to perjured testimony from government witnesses.

There are approximately 100 more "newsboys" than usual on Waterford streets today, thanks to the annual all-day Goodfellows sale.

A spokesman announced that 3,000 editions of The Pontiac Press are on sale at 10 township locations.

Proceeds of the sale will be used to bring a brighter Christmas to needy families living in the township.

The goal of the drive is $3,000, according to Ernest Latimer, president of the Goodfellows and chairman of this year's campaign.

Horizon-to-horizon clouds that covered the cape area at dawn and spattered a few drops of rain began to lighten slightly to the north and west.

Forecasters pronounced conditions "satisfactory for orbital operations" at the time of lift-off (2:30 p.m. Pontiac time).

Fortified by steak and eggs, command pilot Borman and deputy pilot Lovell went through the final checks and tests before suiting up in their 16-pound lightweight space garments.

Chief forecaster E. A. Amman reported weather conditions acceptable in all possible emergency landing areas.

"READY AND WAITING"
The aircraft carrier Wasp, prime recovery ship, stood by "ready and waiting" in a rolling sea some 438 miles southeast of Bermuda.

Officials picked up the terminal countdown on the space capsule right on schedule at 8:30 a.m. (EST) for the launch 35 hours later. Borman and Lovell awoke for their preflight physical examinations.

PRONOUNCED A-1
Both pilots and spacebus were pronounced in A-1 condition for the launch, which according to plan, would start a 14- or 15-day mission featuring a rigid training schedule for their brief, but important, role in what would be a blue-ribbon, wrapped Christmas present for U.S. space officials.

Gemini 6 pilots Walter Schirra and Thomas Stafford followed a rigid training schedule for their brief, but important, role in what would be a blue-ribbon, wrapped Christmas present for U.S. space officials.

Lovell could find a personal present on his return — a fourth child. His wife, Marilyn, is staying behind at their home near the Houston Space Center, and is expected to give birth during the flight, if all went according to schedule.

Seventy-two Americans were injured and estimates of Vietnamese wounded ranged to more than 100, many of them women and children. Officials still had no exact figure this morning.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge called the bombing "a diabolical act" and "murder."

"It was sheer wanton terrorism, as was the killing and wounding of Vietnamese men, women and children who lived and worked nearby," he said.

LULL IS BROKEN
The Viet Cong also broke a three-day lull in the war today with attacks on government outposts from the South China Sea to the central plains of the north.

A battle still raged late today about 20 miles south of Quang Ngai City in the central coastal plains, where the Viet Cong attacked a complex of three hamlets. A government

Third-Term Bid by Governor Is All but Assured

Report No Consensus on GOP Candidate for the Upper House

By DICK BARNES
LANSING (AP) — Gov. Romney has told Republican leaders to find a U.S. Senate candidate, thus all but declaring his own intention to run for a third term as chief executive in 1966.

In meetings with GOP area chairmen Thursday at Bloomfield Hills and yesterday in East Lansing, Romney left little doubt about his plans—if, in fact, there had ever been any.

The governor has publicly stated many times that by early 1966, he would declare which race — Senate or governor — he was not going to enter.

Reliable sources said no consensus had been reached on a Senate candidate, although leaders have said they hope to decide on someone by early 1966.

The Senate candidate will bid for the seat now held by Democrat Patrick McNamara.

REGARDED AS CINCH
Romney reportedly told the GOP leaders they should not consider Lt. Gov. William Milliken for the Senate race.

Milliken is regarded as a cinch again to be Romney's running mate.

One GOP leader said practically every potential Senate candidate seriously mentioned had some support.

Word of Romney's move came at the first session of a two-day GOP State Central Committee meeting that was to continue today.

PRINCIPAL ITEMS
Principal items under discussion are formal adoption of the broad task force reports drafted by Republicans at Mackinac Island in September and selection of a second vice chairman.

By late yesterday the only announced contender for the additional vice chairmanship was Joseph Bell of Detroit.

When the legislature approved this year a second vice chairman for each political party, it was accepted by many that the Post in each party would go to a Negro. Bell is a Negro.

At a state central dinner yesterday, Romney called for support of his veto of legislation granting higher veterans' benefits, senior citizen rent reimbursement and extra-enrollment funds to smaller colleges.

EXPRESSED CONFIDENCE
He expressed confidence that Republicans would uphold the veto when the legislature reconvenes Dec. 9.

He declared "the effectiveness of the Republican party in state government is related to our ability to stand together on these vetoes."

Birch Society, Like Hitler, Can't Be Ignored--Kelley

State Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley last night warned that the John Birch Society "cannot be laughed off or ridiculed away unless you think you can laugh off the fellow who hung paper in Germany."

"The comparison to Hitler was made by Kelley in a speech before the Oakland County Democratic Business and Professional Association at Holiday Inn, Bloomfield Township.

Kelley's attack on the right-wing organization came in an address pointing out the danger of extremist groups and the responsibilities of the public to recognize and oppose them.

"Extremism represents something more than a nuisance," said Kelley. "Today it is a corrosive influence with a widening impact on the component parts of our society."

"It is not only the direct attack of the extremist that represent a danger to our way of life," he said. "It is the paralyzing fallout from extremist's attacks which affect us long after the primary assault has vanished."

"MADE US THINK" "They make us think long and hard before we take an unpopular course. They stifle our efforts to develop new programs. "They retard the ability of many to overcome conformity

Police Arrest Two Suspects in Bank Heist

(Continued From Page One) said the gunmen opened fire as Stover and Mitchell entered the bank. Eight employees and 12 customers were in the bank when the holdup began shortly before noon.

SOUNDED ALARM A woman teller managed to trip a holdup alarm before leaving her cage, police said, and the two deputies were dispatched to the bank.

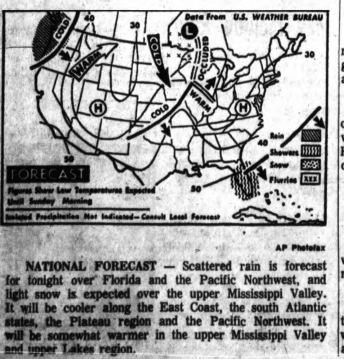

Stover and Mitchell wounded to the floor. Police said both were shot after being ordered to drop their guns. "Shoot that one little more," one of the gunmen was quoted as saying. "Let's give it to him."

The other gunman walked over to the wounded Stover, picked up his fallen revolver and shot him again, police said. Police said records show Bowen was a native of Memphis, Tenn., and Perez was born in Tampa, Fla.

'Stop Rhodesia, or Else' Africans Warn Britain

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — Members of the Organization of African Unity voted Friday night to break off diplomatic relations with Britain unless the British crush the Rhodesian rebellion by Dec. 15.

Kaunda told newsmen he was not satisfied with this limited aid. "If the United Kingdom refused to send ground troops," he said, "we could ask the United States." Since America would probably support the British stand, he added, "What is there left for us to do but go to the Soviet government?"

LINE OF THOUGHT Kaunda said this was "just a line of thought." He spoke as British Royal Air Force transports and jet fighters arrived to beef up Zambia's air defense. But, said Kaunda, "it is not Zambia we want to protect. It is Kariba Dam." The dam is on Rhodesia's side of the Zambezi River.

Zambian and British officials disagree over who would command troops sent to Zambia by Britain and possibly other nations such as OAU members. Britain wants full control; Zambia demands that Britain share command with Zambia and any other nations involved.

Needs Draft Deferment--He's in Viet

Charles N. Dubre says he is considering asking his draft board in Pontiac for a deferment--so that he can finish his tour in Viet Nam.

Dubre graduated from Pontiac High School in 1955, and has been in the Army ever since. Pontiac Board 45 has just ordered him to register for the draft within five days.

The letter was relayed to him in South Viet Nam. "I am very happy that the city of my childhood, and the home of my family has not forgotten me," was his reaction.

Dubre is a sergeant with Headquarters Co., 1st Battalion, 28th Regiment, 1st Infantry Division.

His wife, Sue, and his mother, Mrs. Oma Merchant, still live in Pontiac.

Men's Night Will Start Yule Shopping Season

It's time for that "men-first" event again, the official opening of the Christmas shopping season in downtown Birmingham.

The annual Men's Night will begin at 7 p.m. Monday with merchants' doors swinging wide for male shoppers.

At 6:30 p.m., Santa Claus will arrive in Birmingham and the Christmas lights decorating the downtown district will be turned on.

Mayor Robert W. Page will welcome Santa to his headquarters at Shain Park. There, Santa will visit with youngsters until the closing of Men's Night at 10 p.m.

Page also will turn on the lights covering Birmingham's new 35-foot Christmas tree, between Woodward and Hunter at Haynes.

Some 25,000 miniature lights will decorate 200 trees in Birmingham. Poles are also decked with greens and lights.

The city's parks and forestry department and the Birmingham-Bloomfield Chamber of Commerce have joined forces on the decorating program, the latter supplying materials which are put up by city workmen.

Background music for Christmas shoppers will be supplied through the chamber's 16-speaker public address system, which will be reactivated Monday.

Stores feature special attractions for the men. The only women allowed are clerks and models, ready to give the men ideas on what the women in their lives would like for Christmas.

Frustrated End to Baseball Talks

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Disappointed major league officials ended their meeting Friday with a frustrated feeling over having failed to complete a single player trade of major proportions.

Bowlers still desiring to attempt to qualify for the big tournament purse and city championship title can reserve one of the openings still available by calling Huron Bowl at 335-2525 and 300 Bowl at 682-6300 today.

Several deals were still hanging fire as the club owners and their entourage left for their home bases.
