House Approves Bill for 5th Judge

Bid to Relieve County's Circuit Court Case Load Faces 2 More Hurdles

A bill to add a fifth judge to the Oakland County circuit cleared one of three big hurdles yesterday when the House of Representatives gave it a green light by a 39-6 vote. The bill, sponsored by all six Oakland County representatives, moved over to the Senate, where it faces its second barrier.

The third hurdle will be gaining Gov. Williams' approval. Sponsors say he favors provisions of the proposal. He vetoed a fifth judge bill last year.

The four Republican and two Democratic lawmakers from Oakland County joined forces in January to sponsor the measure, thus hoping to avoid the 1957 partisan defeat of the bill.

One representative, Harry J. Phillips (R-Port Huron), apparently changed his mind overnight and voted for the bill yesterday. Monday night he led a floor fight delaying the vote, claiming the bill would violate a GOP "hold the line" policy on state spending.

About half of circuit judges' pay comes from the state treasury, and this expenditure drew Phillips' ire. The six who cast "no" votes yesterday.

To Serve Area MSU Site

Branch Engineer Selected

Michigan State University's plans for a branch college at Meadow Brook Farm, east of Pontiac, moved forward with the appointment of a resident supervisory engineer.

George Karas, 33, formerly MSU buildings and utilities engineer at East Lansing, has moved to the Meadow Brook Farm with his family.

Karas is familiarizing himself with the water and sewer facilities on the estate in preparation for construction of the first college building, a $2 million classroom, laboratory and office structure.

Karas, a civil engineer, graduated from MSU in 1956. His experience has included work for a private building concern and for a metropolitan sewer and water authority update.

Born in Pittsburgh, Karas is married and three children ages 2, 4 and 6.

WORKS WITH ARCHITECTS
His duties include working with representatives of the architect firm of Swanson, Associates which is designing the new building.

Present plans call for the location of the building off Squirrel road in Pontiac Township. Construction may get under way next month with opening date set for September of 1959.

The site chosen offers 258 acres, which will allow plenty of expansion room, Karas said.

He added that the existing water facilities, including an 80,000 gallon elevated tank at the western end of the estate, will be ample to supply the structure.

For sewage disposal, MSU presently plans to install a small, but complete sewage treatment plant on a branch of the Clinton River which goes through the property.

ON THE JOB — George Karas, supervisory engineer for Michigan State University's Oakland County branch college, checks manuals on water systems. Karas and his family have moved to the Meadow Brook Farm on which MSU plans to construct its first college building next month.

Defense to Call Key Witnesses in Goff's Trial

2 Psychiatrists, Doctor to Testify on Sanity of Accused Flint Slayer

Key witnesses in the first-degree murder trial of Ray Goff were to take the stand today, as the trial before Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty moved towards a conclusion.

The first defense witnesses, two Pontiac psychiatrists and the family doctor of Goff, were to be called as Attorneys L. Rex Bebout and Edward A. Portere try to show their client was insane when he shot and killed Rita M. Cummings in August, 1955.

Goff, 35, a Flint factory machinist and motorcycle racer, is charged with slaying the woman, a divorced mother of three children, after he supposedly failed to win her love.

Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor was to place Dr. John G. Haarer, medical superintendent of Ionia State Hospital for the criminally insane, on the stand today.

It was Dr. Haarer who said Goff had regained his sanity and ordered his release from the hospital for the criminally insane last December.

Goff was ordered there after four psychiatrists at a sanity hearing following the shooting ruled Goff insane and not able to stand trial. The first-degree murder charge awaited him upon his release.

Also expected to testify today is Dean G. Worres, 28, of Flint. He was with Mrs. Cummings on August 21 when Goff, according to (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

Truman Won't Criticize Ike on Mamie's Trip

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Truman said he would not criticize President Eisenhower for taking Mrs. Eisenhower on a government-paid trip to Arizona.

Truman told newsmen Tuesday "some people think Eisenhower went too far out of his way," but added:

"Whatever the President sees fit to do for the welfare of his family he should be allowed to do without a lot of people jumping on him. I don't believe in attacking a man through his family."

Congressional Leaders Back Foreign Aid

Education Your Challenge, AF Colonel Tells PCH Boys

The American way of life is being threatened today because of the lack of scientists, engineers and technicians and it is the young American's responsibility to become educated in these fields if possible.

This was the message of Lt. Col. Paul E. Cool, a 1934 graduate of Pontiac Central High School who returned to his school this morning to talk to junior and senior boys.

Cool, a native of Pontiac, is now assigned as chief of Guided Missiles Branch, Investigation and Field Operations Division at Norton Air Force Base, California.

He told the students the United States is falling behind in technical training, and graduating one-third as many students in the technical fields as Russia.

Recently, Russia has advanced to a degree where there are enough trained people to send to other countries while the United States doesn't have enough men trained

Calls on Dulles to Justify Stories of Aid 'Rackets'

WASHINGTON (INS)—A House committee, armed with reports of widespread graft and "rackets" in foreign aid handling, called Secretary of State John Foster Dulles today to justify the administration's request for another $3,942,000,000.

The Foreign Affairs Committee had held a week of closed-door hearings at which officials of the General Accounting Office have detailed their charges of waste and inefficiency in the military aid program.

Members said they wanted the facts about how the money has been handled in the past before hearing Dulles and other administration spokesmen on what they want for the future.

The House committee made public last night secret testimony which made these disclosures about the foreign aid program.

—Surplus military equipment is being sold abroad by the government and is then shipped to the U. S. and resold at bargain prices, sometimes to the government in violation of existing laws.

Details of the practice were scarce in the testimony, but Rep. James Fulton (R-Pa) called it a "racket" and said it involved mostly automobile parts.

TOO MANY PLANES

—France has diverted "substantial" quantities of military equipment to North Africa to use in its battle against Algerian nationalists.

Citizens Back Foreign Aid

Dems and Republicans, Leaders of Many Fields on New Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Citizens for Foreign Aid movement took root today, launched with an impassioned plea by President Eisenhower to combat opponents who say "billions for armament, but not one cent for peace!"

Movie czar Eric Johnston undertook the task of setting up a permanent nongovernmental committee. The group with headquarters in Washington, will seek to build public support for military and economic aid programs abroad.

Its immediate objective is to win congressional passage of the administration's $3,900,000,000 foreign aid bill.

The movement is a direct outgrowth of a conference yesterday, arranged by Johnston at Eisenhower's behest, of leading citizens.

Eisenhower addressed a dinner attended by 2,000 persons last night, climaxing a daylong parade of leaders from politics, industry, labor, entertainment, education and just about every other walk of life.

An unusual spirit of bipartisanship marked the gathering, at which Eisenhower and former President Truman both spoke eight hours apart.

The unprecedented political truce was emphasized when Eisenhower posed chummy for pictures as Senate Democratic leader Lyndon Johnson and House Speaker Sam Rayburn, both of Texas, as well as Adlai E. Stevenson, Eisenhower's Democratic opponent in 1952 and 1956.

Eisenhower, obviously moved, asked indulgence to say a few words "from my heart" in advance of his formal half-hour speech.

"I hope that from this meeting will flow a great wave of knowledge and education so that the American people will understand how necessary foreign aid is to the cause of peace," he said.

He is the brother of Joseph Cool, 22 Collingwood Ave.

Of Newly-Formed State AFL-CIO Council

Scholle Elected President

GRAND RAPIDS—Former State CIO Council head August Scholle of Royal Oak is president of the newly formed Michigan AFL-CIO Council today.

Scholle was elected last night in an overwhelming vote at the merger convention of the Michigan Federation of Labor and the State CIO Council at Grand Rapids.

He received 444,652 votes to defeat his nearest opponent Steve Hudock of Detroit Local 26 of the Doll and Toy Workers Union who polled 38,621 ballots.

The two organizations, which had been feuding for two years, merged after AFL-CIO President George Meany stepped in and ordered them to do so. The parent organization had taken their charters away and issued one for

Calls Increase Vital to Offset Revenue Losses

Firm to Issue Tokens at Reduced Cost; Raise Begins Monday

To offset continued revenue losses, largely due to a 20 per cent drop in bus-riders since last summer, Pontiac City Lines will boost its adult cash fares from 15 to 20 cents beginning Monday.

However, the company said it would begin issuing tokens again to adults at a price of four for 70 cents.

This means that adults who purchase tokens will only be paying 2 1/2 cents more per ride, according to Earle W. Dresher, the company's transportation superintendent.

There is no contemplation of raising fares for children or curtailing bus service "at this time," Dresher said. There will still be free transfers.

The number of customers riding City Lines buses from July 1, 1957 through Jan. 31 this year dropped by 323,230, Dresher said.

LOAD DROPS
The number of passengers carried in January was about 180,000 compared with average monthly loads of 450,000 to 500,000 in 1950, he said.

In 1955, the total number of passengers carried was 1,960,000, while last year that total fell to 1,565,000, Dresher said.

Dresher believed that the increase in adult fares would bolster operating profits sufficiently to continue normal bus operation at present.

Under its operating permit with the city, the bus company is allowed the boost fares or cut service whenever its operating expenses exceed 90 per cent of its gross intake.

The operating expenses now stand at 97 1/2 per cent of gross intake, Dresher said.

The company's vice-president, R. E. James, informed the City Commission of the fare hike by letter last night.

The company eliminated bus tokens for adults last year when it set a flat 15 cent per ride rate. Tokens had been available before then at 4 for 55 cents, or 13 1/2 cents apiece.

Brief Chilly Spell Arrives Tomorrow

Occasional showers and warmer is the prediction for the Pontiac area tonight, with the low around 40-44 degrees.

Thursday will be colder, with showers changing to snow flurries late tomorrow. The high temperature will be near 44-48.

For the next five days temperatures will average about 10 degrees above the normal high of 36 and normal low of 22 degrees.

Thursday and Friday will be colder, but the weather will again turn warmer Sunday and Monday.

The lowest temperature recorded preceding 8 a. m. in downtown Pontiac was 31 degrees. The thermometer registered 42 at 1 p. m.

City National Guard Unit Wins Rifle Competition

Pontiac's National Guard unit, Company M, was officially notified today that its rifle team has won first place in the 125th Infantry Regiment competition.

The six-man sharpshooting team, won the honor narrowly edging the Company B team from Alpena by 12 points, in a recent match.

GRUDGE MATCH It was a big victory for the team, since the match was what could be termed a friendly "grudge" match. In the same event last year, Company B edged the Pontiac outfit for top spot.

To win the regimental title the team had to outshoot other battalion champions from Company G, in Lapeer, and a heavy mortar company from Howell, besides the team from Alpena.

They won the right to participate in the event.

And Did Joe Meet Minnie 30 Years Ago?

DALLAS (AP)—A mighty dead postcard sent to the dead letter office here raises the question of whether Joe met Minnie one Friday night some 30 years ago.

Or did Minnie spend hours waiting at the depot and raise a domestic crisis?

A postcard was found lodged in the lobby mail chute at the Gbralter Hotel in Paris, Tex., recently when the mail receptacle was taken out during remodeling.

The card is undated, but it is addressed to a Dallas post office box number that went out of use in 1920.

The last name of the addressee is illegible, but the card begins, "Dear Joe." It ends, "Love, Minnie." The writer said she was enjoying her stay in Paris and added, "Don't have too good a time while your wife is away." Then it says, "Don't forget to meet me Friday night at the depot."

Postmen, trying to deliver the card here, wondered: Did he?

It took a jury nearly five hours Tuesday to return a verdict of guilty of manslaughter against 32-year-old Brodie Reed, of 295 Hughes St.

Reed was accused of the fatal stabbing last Aug. 30 of James Quiet, 27, of 241 Wilson St.

The jury of seven women and five men, after retiring at 10:30 a.m., returned to the courtroom once to be re-instructed by Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartwick. The guilty verdict was reached around 3:30.

Reed will be sentenced March 17 by Judge Hartwick. The crime carries up to a maximum of 15 years in prison.

Gotta Be Frustrated to 'Dig Rock,' Man!

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE
NEW YORK (INS)—There probably are more frustrated, unpublished songwriters in this country than there are bad songs, and that is going some if you can believe your ears.

I don't know where so many people get the idea they can write potential hit tunes, but I suspect it has something to do with their first kiss and how it came off. If all went well, they look to writing ballads; and if they were rebuffed, by too much calm or palm from the kisses, they wrote rock 'n' roll in eternal protest against tenderness and decency.

Whatever the reason, the frustrated, unpublished songwriters have long been pitted—and assiduously avoided—by their opposite numbers, the frustrated, published songwriters. This was not for deep psychological reasons. It involved money. Once you have a chunk of the relatively small hit tune market, you mind your own business and try to hang onto it.

There was no time to listen to Aunt Minnie's favorite composer, Herman.

If he was bad, as seemed likely, it was a waste of energy. If he was good, he was competition. So what's the percentage?

"Do you realize that 80 per cent of the 'rock 'n' roll' hits of recent years have been written and performed by unknowns who had their songs recorded in little studios and then persuaded local disc jockeys to play them?"

Allen, who is the top-selling young ballad songwriter of the day ("Chances Are," "Moments to Remember," "No Not Much," etc.), continued his pollyanna report: "Most of the professional songwriters, like myself for instance, can't write rock 'n' roll and make it sound sincere. And believe me, kids know when a song is sincerely written and when it's not."

"All the deejays are looking to make hit news and with teenagers buying most of the records, they're eating up rock-roll fast. I don't like it, but it's here, and it's a great chance for the unknowns who are sincere. Because I believe music with a heavy beat, in tremendous amounts, will be with us a long, long while yet."

Allen, at just 30 years of age, has the phenomenal record of having had at least one of his songs in the "top five" every week in the past two years—and not one of them an R-R number. He makes a big thing of the "sincerity value of songs," says he writes love songs because he's in love.

"But people throughout the country who sincerely like rock 'n' roll, and can write music, have a real chance now." The "big boys"—the Berlins

Raps French Use of U.S. Equipment

WASHINGTON (AP)—A State Department official says there "was certainly no excuse" for the French to use U.S. military aid equipment in their much-criticized attack on a Tunisian village Feb. 8.

And Deputy Undersecretary of State C. Douglas Dillon said yesterday this country intends to take every precaution to prevent similar use in the future. Dillon, replying to questions at a foreign aid rally, did not identify the equipment used in the attack. But he presumably referred to Corsair fighters used in the raid.

He made no mention of a secret report saying substantial quantities of U.S. material were diverted by France to North Africa, where it is trying to suppress rebellious Algerians.

House to Vote on Soil Bank

Final Action Scheduled
Today on Move to Add
Extra $250 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House takes final action today on a last-minute decision to add 250 million dollars to the farm soil bank program "to keep faith with the farmers."

The extra money was added yesterday to a general appropriations bill which comes up for passage. The change would increase from 500 to 750 million dollars the amount farmers may be paid this year for retiring surplus cropland.

Approval of the soil bank funds came on a standing 120-57 vote after the program was denounced as unsound, outlandish and a joke.

Rep. Whitten (D-Miss) said in the long run the program "is going to do more damage than good." But he urged approval of the funds to keep faith with farmers who signed up to participate in the soil bank but who were excluded when the 500 million dollars originally earmarked for 1958 was exhausted.

The House also added an amendment to limit payments under the extra allotment to $3,000 for any individual or corporate farm participant, regardless of the number of farms affected.

The original law also has a $3,000 limitation but it has been interpreted to apply to each farm.

OKs Relief Projects

DETROIT (AP)—City Council has endorsed an emergency program of work relief projects to relieve Detroit unemployment. Council adopted a resolution calling for creation of a committee to draft specific projects.

Nurses of Month Illustrate Variety of Work, Service

By MARGARET BROWN

Mention a nurse and almost immediately the mind's eye will envision a flash of white darting from one hospital bed to another, efficiently checking our TPR (temperature, pulse, and respiration) and administering hypodermic injections. The nurse, however, is trained to meet many more needs than this rather stereotyped impression depicts.

In this area the Oakland County District Nurses Association has decided to accord special honor to those women in white who have proven particularly outstanding in ministering to the manifold needs of their patients.

The association has designated 1958 as Professional Nurse Recognition Year and has been accepting nominations from lay people, doctors and other nurses for nurses they feel are worthy of special recognition. Near the end of each month the association asks a committee to select the Professional Nurse of the Month.

Since the committee began functioning the first of this year, perhaps you might like to know a little about the two women who have been named professional nurses of the month thus far.

ON PRIVATE DUTY

The first nurse chosen was Mrs. Anna Wurm of LaSalle avenue who currently is working at private duty nursing. Born in Petoskey where she attended the Petoskey Hospital School of Nursing, Mrs. Wurm was one of 12 children, 10 of whom are living. "We're all on speaking terms, too," quips Mrs. Wurm.

A true pioneer in the nursing field, Mrs. Wurm was graduated in 1911 and was one of the first 1,000 nurses to be registered in Michigan. We wish it had been possible to print a charming picture of that early nursing graduation class from a 1911 newspaper shown us by Mrs. Wurm, but we were unable to obtain the original 47-year-old photograph needed for news photo reproduction.

The picture showed the nurses posed in a merry Oldsmobile convertible, clothed in stiffly starched pinafores, their hair pulled back severely to form the chignon so vital to ladies of that era for cruising in high-flying open-topped vehicles.

Following graduation Mrs. Wurm remained for 14 years at the Petoskey Hospital where she eventually assumed a position in charge of the entire hospital. One of the more exciting incidents recalled by Mrs. Wurm was an emergency call to a private home where she and another nurse assisted a doctor in performing an appendectomy on a middle-aged woman.

HAD TO IMPROVISE

Mrs. Wurm commented that nurses had to improvise a lot more during those earlier years of medicine. Most care was given in private homes, and one did not go to a surgical supply cabinet and find at hand the necessary instruments and medications. Kitchen utensils and the proverbial hot tea kettle combined with what items the nurse carried in her small bag were about the only tools of the trade available.

In 1940 Mrs. Wurm came to Pontiac where she began private duty nursing and also assisted in organizing the Pontiac Community Nursing Bureau.

The association's next selection was Rose Boyd of Oneida road. Miss Boyd also hails from northern Michigan. Traverse City being her birthplace. There she attended the nursing school of Traverse City General Hospital.

Following her graduation, Miss Boyd went to New York City's Mount Sinai Hospital where she did post-graduate work before returning to Traverse City for a brief period of private duty nursing.

It was in Detroit, however, when she began nursing at the West Branch of Harper Hospital, that Miss Boyd really tasted the excitement and many demands of her chosen profession.

HOME DELIVERIES

Working with the "Home Delivery Service," Miss Boyd and several other nurses who were associated with the Detroit Home Nursing Service began assisting with baby deliveries in the home. Working 48 hours followed by a 24-hour break, these busy stork interceptors covered the entire city of Detroit.

In the late 1930s Miss Boyd returned to her studies, obtaining a public health nursing certificate from Wayne State University. She came to Oakland County in 1939 on special service for six months with the TB Association, followed by field work through the Oakland County Health Department.

For the past two years Miss Boyd has acted as one of six supervisors of the central office of the Oakland County Health Department.

Music Service Will Be Given at Beth Jacob

Temple Beth Jacob will present a service devoted to the theme of Brotherhood Through Music Friday evening at the temple.

MacDowell Male Chorus will join Temple Beth Jacob soloists in presenting a program of secular and religious songs of brotherhood.

Mrs. James Rosenthal will direct the program, assisted by temple organist Charles Wilson.

nursing was most interesting to them, both nurses replied without hesitation. "Surgery!" And with the current run of medical stories, pictures, anatomical charts and diagrams being presented in leading magazines and newspapers, it seems that this fascinating realm of medicine is fast becoming the No. 1 interest of scores of laymen as well as medical personnel in probing for the why behind maladies.

SATISFYING FACET

Miss Boyd added that another satisfying facet of nursing, for those who prefer personal contact with a patient in meeting his emotional and spiritual as well as physical needs, is public health work. There's a wealth of these nurses' experiences yet untold, but both were so very modest it was difficult to make them tell us much about themselves.

This lack of self was, perhaps, just another of the many factors contributing to the decisions rendered in naming them Professional Nurses of the Month.

Professional Nurse of the Month recognition also has been accorded to Rose Boyd of Oneida road. A supervisor in the central office of the Oakland County Health Department, Miss Boyd finds public health nursing one of the more gratifying fields in her profession.

The Store Where Quality Counts!

Dear Abby....

When She's Paying, She's Boss

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: We have two daughters, 15 and 17, and all we hear from them is that when they reach the age of 18 they will be their own boss.

I think a girl is not her own boss until she reaches the age of 21. I would be grateful to you, Abby, if you would settle this matter of when a girl is "her own boss."

A MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: In order to be one's own boss (in my opinion) a girl has to be able to leave her parents' home, pay for her own entertainment, insurance and medical care, and pay for the continuance of her education.

THEN, she has the privilege of choosing her own company, making all her own decisions and being her own "boss."

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a model railroad fiend. He sneaks my good drip-grind coffee to use as "dirt" for the landscaping.

Every time company comes I am caught short on coffee and sure enough I see it has become part of another "hill-side." I know this isn't grounds for divorce, but it is getting me unnerved. Any suggestions?

COFFEE NERVES

DEAR NERVES: Not only is it no "grounds" for divorce... it isn't even grounds for "coffee"—and until coffee is "dirt cheap," he oughta use dirt.

DEAR ABBY: I am 11 years old and I want my mother to have a baby. My mother said she would be happy to, but she isn't planning on it. I am willing to give up all my babysitting jobs to help her. I offered to pay the hospital bills and buy all the baby needs. I have some money in my bank at school. I want you to understand that my mother is in perfect health. My father says he is willing. Please see what you can do, Miss Abby? Thank you.

LONESOME

DEAR LONESOME: If your mother agrees and your father is willing—half the battle is won. But—the good Lord has something to say about it, too. Good luck, Honey.

DEAR ABBY: I work in an office with many women of all ages. I am a single man (almost 30) and am always elected when a doll needs an "escort" to go somewhere.

One of these "girls" (she's been here for years) could talk an arm-and-a-leg off you and everybody runs the other way when they see her coming. She asked me to "escort" her to a fancy party. I hate to refuse her, but I don't want to go. What should I do?

NO HERO

DEAR NO: Recommend a friend—or better yet—an enemy.

CONFIDENTIAL TO KATHY:

Girls who hang around pool halls usually find themselves behind the eight ball. Invite him to your home like a lady and if he's a gentleman he'll accept.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of The Pontiac Press. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Don't Choose Family Doctor Casually

Use Care in Selecting Physician

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

In a recent public affairs pamphlet, "Your Family's Health," Stella B. Applebaum, health educator and writer, says, "Much loss of life and health can be avoided if we devote at least as much attention to the upkeep of health as we do to our cars and homes."

In this publication Miss Applebaum makes many practical suggestions concerning the welfare and safety of the family.

There is nothing more important than the selection of your family physician. Yet many women give more thought to the selection of a piece of furniture. I think many folks just do not know how to go about selecting a physician. The following are some of the warnings in this particular public affairs pamphlet:

1. Don't wait until illness strikes to find your doctor.

2. Don't pick a doctor just because he is nearby, or the one your neighbor or friend swears by.

3. Don't ask the postman or your neighborhood druggist to recommend one and don't select one yourself at random from a telephone directory.

4. Don't choose Doctor X because you have heard that his fee is high and therefore he must be good, or Doctor Y because his fee is low and you will save money.

5. Finally, DON'T pick the doctor with the winning personality whom you met at a party.

The author continued, "Any one of these may happen to be qualified, but there is a risk that the doctor chosen so casually may not be reputable professionally."

One of the best ways to select a physician is to locate a good hospital in your town. Ask it to give you the names of several doctors on its staff. For this you telephone the office of the medical director or the superintendent. An accredited hospital chooses its staff most carefully.

Another way to choose a doctor is to write or telephone your county medical society and ask for the names of physicians.

A competent family physician will know when you need to see a specialist, or may suggest one for your peace of mind. He also will help you locate one.

Tomorrow, "This Happy Reader Lost 18 Pounds on Marathon."

Mrs. Roberts Feted

Mrs. Richard Roberts was entertained with a birthday dinner in her Forest street home. Among those present were Mrs. Mae Franklin, Mrs. G. A. Taylor, Mrs. C. A. Dahmann, Mrs. Roberts and the six Roberts children.

One of the best ways to select a physician is to telephone the office of the medical director or superintendent of a good hospital and ask him to give you the names of several doctors on the hospital staff.

Glassware Recalls Past

NEW YORK (INS) — The latest glass tableware designs are old-fashioned early American.

That's the news from the New York Gift Show where the newest glassware is being shown.

Milk glass is important in any collection stressing early American, and cloudy tones of blue, aqua, pink and white' all are available.

This emphasis on the traditional means a return to simple, elegant styles in all forms of glassware.

Taller stems are returning. Glassware has bell, and tapered bowls and is simply adorned with wreaths or unfussy cuttings.

Gold and platinum trims are used as border designs, as well as for rims on bowls and feet. Favorite cuttings included hobnail, diamond, rose and teardrop. Colors were most contemporary—deep blue, pine green, amber and amethyst.

Glass accessories are where the color-minded glassmakers really went wild, stressing persimmon, bright blue and charcoal, as well as colors matched to tableware.

Mrs. Vanderworp Honored at Shower

Mrs. Edward Vanderworp was honored at a pink and blue shower given by Mrs. Alfred Koop of West Ann Arbor avenue.

Present for the affair were Mrs. Walter Babb, Mrs. Frances McCue, Mrs. Clyde Cronover, Mrs. Robert Burmeister, Mrs. William Hartman and Mrs. Lyle Hoard.

Also attending the Monday evening shower were Mrs. Earl DeMond, Mrs. Charles Griggs, Mrs. William St. Charles, Mrs. Harry Martin and Mrs. Raymond L. Cole.

Chiefs Want Northern's Scalp

Pontiac Cagers Tackle Vikings Here on Friday

Saginaw Valley Clash Finds Chiefs Barring Northern Title Hopes

By BILL CORNWELL

If the Pontiac Central basketball team wants to beat Flint Northern this Friday as badly as coach Art Van Ryzin does, the Vikings are due for a busy evening.

Northern, still clinging to hopes for a share of the Saginaw Valley Conference crown, invades the Chiefs' wigwam Friday night for a league encounter important to both schools.

"I hope we can give them a real good licking," Van Ryzin said as the bus carried his cagers home from last Friday's 65-54 triumph at Bay City.

"We've got an old score to settle with those fellows," he remarked.

The old score, of course, is the narrow 49-47 loss the Chiefs absorbed from Northern in their court. The setback, as it turned out, marked the Chiefs' downfall in their efforts to retain the SVC title.

Pontiac has long since lost all hopes of defending its conference honors, but the Chiefs can still gain a share of 3rd place with Saginaw.

Saginaw has a rough assignment Friday against the league-leading Indians of Flint Central on the Flint floor. A Saginaw loss coupled with a Pontiac victory would force a tie for 3rd place.

Northern, which took a bad 75-58 beating from city rival Central in their SVC showdown last week, must beat the Chiefs while hoping for Saginaw to upset Central in order to divide the title "spoils."

If the Chiefs can come up with the type of performance Van Ryzin knows they are capable of giving, the 1937-38 regular season schedule may finish on a happy note.

One thing is for sure, the pressure is all on Northern when the two teams collide in the PCH gym. The Chiefs should be as relaxed as a carefree vagabond for this one.

Bay City clashes with Arthur Hill in Friday's other Saginaw Valley game.

My favorite is the jump shot from the top of the key.

I try to run my defender into a screen so I can get free and take the shot without forcing it.

In other situations I try to feint my defender out of position by dribbling or changing direction.

If my opponent plays me loose, I take a one-hand which I have tried constantly to improve.

K-State, Dons Clinch Tourney Berths

NCAA Field Gains 2

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Kansas State and San Francisco were sitting pretty in NCAA major college tournament seats today while Southern Methodist has upset the dope by gaining the inside track in a bid for a fourth consecutive Southwest Conference basketball crown.

Virginia made the already confusing Atlantic Coast Conference battle even tougher to figure by upsetting Duke, which had won 11 straight, 70-68, in triple overtime last night.

Kansas State gained its fourth Big Eight conference title and NCAA berth by whipping Oklahoma 68-51. The Wildcats, ranked No. 1 in the Associated Press poll, now have won 10 in a row for a 19-1 record.

San Francisco, ranked No. 4, didn't have it so easy while building a 22-1 record with a 49-47 decision over St. Mary's (Calif.) that clinched the West Coast Athletic Conference championship and handed the Dons a ticket to their fourth consecutive NCAA shindig.

Holy Cross, passed over thus far by selection committees, upset NCAA-bound Connecticut 92-89 in double overtime. New Orleans Loyola, named to the NCAA field yesterday, whipped Memphis State 68-55.

SMU, crossed off as a Southwest power with the graduation of Big Jim Krebs, took the undisputed lead with an expected 89-73 victory over Texas while Texas A&M was upsetting Texas Tech 79-63.

Kansas State, the NCAA runner-up in 1931, managed only a 30-28 lead against Oklahoma's man-to-man defense at the half. But the Wildcats hustled 16-points ahead early in the second half. Bob Boozer supplied K-State's scoring punch with 23.

A disputed field goal helped San Francisco, which finished third in the NCAA championships last year after taking the title in 1955-56.

Duke's winning streak got the gate on a basket by Herb Busch with 29 seconds left in the third extra session.

Lapeer Red Cross Goal Set at $16,508; Canvass of Homes Planned

LAPEER—With a quota of $16,508 in the Red Cross Fund Drive scheduled to get under way here next month, Lapeer County drive chairmen and workers will meet tonight to map plans for an all-out campaign.

The meeting, at 8:15 p.m. in Lapeer Presbyterian Church, will include all township Red Cross chairmen and volunteer workers. Among those attending will be Metamora Township campaign chairmen, Mrs. Ben Schenck and Mrs. Richard de Beaubien. Metamora's quota in the overall county goal is $990.

Of funds collected in the drive, 67 per cent will be earmarked for local use and the balance will go to the national organization. A house-to-house canvass is planned.

Individuals have been named to be responsible for registration, food, clothing, cots, and bedding, first aid, nurses, communications and transportation, in event of emergency. The program is set up in conjunction with the Thumb group of the Civil Air Patrol and the Lapeer County Boy Scout Emergency Service program under the direction of Al Monroe.

ARTHRITIS PAINS UNBEARABLE SAYS DETROIT WOMAN

The real test of a medicine is not in printed words, but in its use. Thousands of people right here in Michigan like Mrs. Vera Robbins, 48 W. Ferry, Detroit, have tried O-JIB-WA BITTERS and have been so pleased with the results, that they are continually telling others about this time proven, successful medicine.

"Arthritis pains in my arm, right side and leg were absolutely unbearable. For over a year I couldn't comb my hair, put on my coat or even sleep at night because the pains were so bad. It finally got so I could hardly walk or even turn my head. I also tried it for his arthritis, and it helped him in just one week. I am very glad to have this opportunity to tell others about your swell medicine. I want to tell every sufferer of arthritis and rheumatism how wonderful O-JIB-WA BITTERS really is, for if I hadn't of learned about it from a story in my newspaper, I would probably still be suffering. With other medicines, I always ended up disappointed, as none of them measured up to their claims. Right from the first, O-JIB-WA BITTERS was different, as in just two weeks the aches and pains began to leave. Soon I could move about good again, and now, just three months later, I am all better. My husband didn't have his arthritis, and it helped him in just one week. I am very glad to have this opportunity to tell others about your swell medicine. Available in three economical sizes.
