Senate Awaits City Tax Bill

LANSING (AP) — A bill to take the income tax question out of the hands of city councils and commissions and put it in the hands of the voters is on its way to the Senate.

The bill passed the House 56-40 Tuesday and yesterday it survived an attempt to have that vote reconsidered.

The measure requires a popular vote before a city can levy an income tax.

Present law allows a city government body to adopt an income tax and provides for an election on the question afterwards, but only if enough voters sign petitions calling for the election.

Rep. Charles Conrad, D-Jackson, attempted to have Tuesday's vote on the bill reconsidered, and mustered majority support.

But the bill was passed last year, reconsidered and sent back to committee.

REQUIRED VOTE

Another reconsideration would have required a vote by three-fifths of the members present to suspend House rules. The vote was 57-41.

"This bill goes beyond just the consideration of a tax by the electorate," Conrad said. "It reflects on the attitude of this body on the whole legislative process."

"We are telling city legislative bodies: you don't have the power to levy this tax; you must ask the voters." What if the constitutional convention had done that to us—making us refer each tax bill to the public," he said.

The bill could benefit home rule cities contemplating income taxes, said Rep. J. Bob Traxler, D-Day City.

"This approach could arouse less animosity to an income tax. Under the present setup, the antitax people get a big campaign going to collect signatures opposing it," he said. "The income tax is an anti-tax army ready when the question comes to a vote. I think this bill takes one tool out of the hands of the antitax people."

Cite Klansmen for Contempt

7 Refused to Submit
Records to House

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A federal grand jury today returned contempt of Congress citations against seven members of the Ku Klux Klan, including Imperial Wizard Robert Shelton.

The jury returned the one-count indictments in District Court here. The maximum penalty upon conviction is a $10,000 fine and one year in prison.

The seven were cited for refusing to submit Klan records to the House Committee on Un-American Activities during its year-long hearings on the hooded order.

Shelton is the imperial wizard of the United Klans of America, the largest Klan group in the nation.

SET PATTERN

Shelton, from Tuscaloosa, Ala., set the pattern for other Klan members when he refused to turn over records on grounds of possible self-incrimination.

By a vote of 344 to 28, the House directed the Justice Department to institute a criminal prosecution against him.

The House then followed up with citations against the other men. All of them had been summoned before the committee and asked to produce records. All refused.

Wreck Injuries Are Fatal to 2

A Pontiac schoolteacher died at a hospital early today of injuries suffered in an accident Monday, and a Royal Oak man was killed last night in a two-car collision in Troy.

Dead are Cleo Murchison, 37, of Detroit, a teacher at Wilson Elementary School; and Joseph A. Thompson, 37.

The Murchison woman was one of several persons injured when seven cars and a semi-trailer truck piled together on Telegraph in Bloomfield Township.

She had been listed in critical condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital until succumbing about 1 a.m. today.

Thompson was dead on arrival at William Beaumont Hospital shortly before midnight after the car he was riding in collided broadside with another car.

Troy police said the accident occurred when a car driven by Carl C. Griffin, 41, of Royal Oak, skidded across the center line on Maple and collided with another car driven by Robert E. Brainard, 32, of Madison Heights.

Thompson was a passenger in Griffin's car. Brainard was listed in satisfactory condition at William Beaumont.

Employe Groups Are Honored by UF

The proverbial "little guy" was honored today for his outstanding contribution to the 1965 Pontiac Area United Fund campaign.

Employees of 48 local firms representing employe groups were honored at an awards breakfast held at Ted's Restaurant, 2515 Woodward, Bloomfield Township.

Presentation of the awards was made by Glenn Griffin, president of the UF Board of Trustees, and Calvin J. Werner, 1965 general campaign chairman.

Werner is a vice president of General Motors Corp. and general manager of GMC Truck and Coach Division.

A record $1,900,197 was collected in the 1965 drive.

EMPLOYEE GROUPS

"The outstanding citizenship awards program, initiated three years ago, honors outstanding employe groups attaining 90 per cent participation and a minimum average of 65 per cent of employes contributing one hour's pay per month.

There were 13 employe groups receiving awards for the third consecutive year and 12 qualified as second-year recipients.

Guinea Chief Gives Power to Nkrumah

ADDIS ABABA (UPI)—Marxist President Sekou Toure of Guinea resigned and turned his office over to equally left-wing Kwame Nkrumah who was ousted last week as president of Ghana, a Guinean diplomat announced today.

He said Nkrumah would be "president" of both bankrupt countries.

The flip-flop brought to power—if he can maintain office in his new domain—a controversial dictator and an avowed Marxist friendly with Communist China and the Soviet Union.

The Ghanaian army threw him out last Thursday for his abuse of power and sent Communist representatives out of the country.

The announcement was made by Guinea's new Ambassador Diallo Abdoulaye who walked out of a conference of foreign ministers of the Organization for African Unity (OAU) in protest against the presence there of the new revolutionary government of Ghana.

Observers knew of no precedent for Toure's reported action in which the ruler of one country gives up his rule to the deposed president of another.

Another 23 firms were awarded first-year plaques.

Dr. Ernest Thomas, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Birmingham, was the featured speaker.

Dr. Thomas lauded citizen efforts in community service in his address "The Rewards of Service."

In addition to the 80 group representatives present, United Fund Commercial Division chairman of last year attended today's 8 a.m. meeting.

They included Al Magnus, who headed retail and small business solicitation efforts; Richard Fell, education groups; William Freshour, chapter plan companies; John Witherup, government employees; and John Napely, professions.

'Cold War GI Bill' Signed by Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson signed into law today the "cold war GI bill," but remarked that its cost goes further than he was willing to recommend.

Johnson signed the measure in a ceremony in the White House in which he noted that both houses of Congress passed it unanimously.

"I am going to resolve the doubt in favor of Congress," he said. "It just could be that the President was wrong."

The measure sets up a permanent program of educational benefits, housing loans and limited medical treatment for honorably discharged veterans with more than 180 days of active military service since Jan. 31, 1955, when the Korean GI benefits bill expired.

Johnson said the cost of the bill will be $245 million more than he had recommended for the first year and $1.8 billion more over the next five years.

But "the President just must not ignore the unanimous vote of the Congress," Johnson said.

Congressional sponsors believe the bill will help hundreds of thousands of veterans get a college education who couldn't otherwise.

The bill is estimated to cost $350 million the first year and $500 million annually by the fifth year—far beyond administration recommendations.

Johnson wanted benefits limited to veterans of combat areas. This would cost about $150-million a year.

But, with the increase in Viet Nam fighting, the broader measure passed the House 381 to 0 and the Senate 99 to 0.

An individual can receive $100 a month in education payments for each month's service—with a 36 month limit. If he has a wife, he can get $125 a month, two or more dependents $150 monthly.

Education benefits begin June 1, but other parts of the program are effective at once.

Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex., the bill's chief sponsor, estimates 6 million veterans will be eligible for the new benefits.

Senate Queries Are Answered by McNamara

Secretary of Defense Says Commitment by
Reds to Be Limited

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told Senators today that he expects the enemy troop buildup to reach its height in Viet Nam at the end of this year.

Basing his assessment largely on estimates of how big a force the Communists can keep supplied in the face of U.S. air opposition, McNamara used it as a major factor for this conclusion.

"I do not believe that we are facing in Viet Nam an unlimited, open-ended commitment to a major land war in Asia."

McNamara appeared at a closed session to answer questions of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee whose probe of Administration Southeast Asia policy has been the storm center of debate.

McNamara told the committee the United States has done everything possible militarily and diplomatically "to make it unmistakably clear that there is no justification for Communist China to involve itself in the war in Viet Nam."

RISK OF WAR

But he said that given the history of militant activities by Communist China "it would be irresponsible for me to say that we run no risk of war with China arising from our efforts to defend South Viet Nam from aggression."

One task facing McNamara is a defense of his own announcement yesterday of a new 29,000-man increase in U.S. fighting forces in Viet Nam.

McNamara was expected to be called upon to support Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's assertion last night that the "tide has begun to turn in our favor" in the effort to halt Viet Cong aggression and bolster the South Vietnamese economy.

ONE OF THE PRESSING QUESTIONS

At a closed meeting of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee appeared likely to revolve around why—with 215,000 Americans already committed to the (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

ON HANDSHAKING TOUR—Former Gov. G. Mennen Williams (right) shakes hands with Rep. Francis Crowley, D-Clarkston, on a return visit to the State Capital yesterday. Democratic legislators generally indicated their backing for Williams' potential race for the U.S. Senate.

Happy Homecoming for Soapy in Lansing

LANSING (AP) — Former Gov. G. Mennen Williams returned yesterday to the capitol he ruled for 12 years, chatted with political foe Gov. George Romney and drew continuing plaudits from Democrats backing him for the U.S. Senate.

Williams, touring Michigan this week to test sentiments for his potential Democratic Senate candidacy, talked privately with Republican Romney for seven minutes in the governor's office.

Each said later they had not discussed politics.

Romney pointed out such additions to the former Williams office as new point and an air conditioner, but said, "I guess Gov. Williams knows this area better than anyone in Michigan history."

Romney said he asked Williams a few questions about Africa, Williams' special field as an assistant secretary of state.

Mail clerk Carlyle Cromwell and file clerk Florence Stetler employes for more than 20 years each in the governor's office, were ushered to a seat between the governors for a few moments of reminiscing.

SECOND TIME

Williams then went on a handshaking tour through capital offices, kissing several of his former secretaries.

It was only the second time he's returned since leaving the governorship Jan. 1, 1961.

Williams met with Democratic legislators and won semiofficial endorsements from House and Senate caucuses for the Senate race.

S. Sen. Patrick McNamara, D-Mich., has said he will not seek reelection.

Williams said he would announce his decision at 11 a.m. Monday in Detroit.

Voters of the Brandon district will decide the annexation issue at a special election April 4.

A public meeting at Brandon High School Monday night could be the turning point, according to School Board Trustee Frederic Howard, a professor at General Motors Institute in Flint.

SOME FIREWORKS

"I know this will be the clincher for many people," said Howard. "We expect a few fireworks."

"The opposition has done a darn good job convincing a number of people there should not be a merger. Many who voted in favor originally (at a meeting Feb. 4 attended by 28 citizens) now are on the fence or against it."

However, Howard feels the advantages outweigh the disadvantages as do school board members Dr. Paul Schoen and Mrs. Louise B. Weeks and Glendon Fletcher, owner of the Village Dry Goods Store.

Frustrating Tales of Mice and Men

NEW YORK (AP)—It was a day for the mice—a population explosion, a funeral and the last straw for Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg.

At Incarnate Word College in San Antonio, Tex., the cancer research program may turn out to be a study in genetics, thanks to Dominick.

Dominick is the pop in the population explosion among the laboratory mice.

The research program got under way in January when an order of 100 white mice arrived at the college. Everything was fine until last Friday when one of the mice became the mother of nine.

FAT MICE
Said a freshman coed: "We just thought they were fat mice until Friday."

Then the researchers took a closer look at the 100 mice. They found 99 females—and Dominick.

Dominick was separated from his harem, but the damage had been done. Two more mice had litters and 22 others were found to be pregnant. The other 74 are being closely watched.

Thanks to Dominick the 100 mice are soon to become 300 or more.

Bank Robbers Are Convicted

Two Pontiac men charged in the Dec. 17 armed robbery of a Pontiac State Bank branch office were convicted yesterday in Federal District Court in Detroit.

Rentz Nicholson Jr., 31, of 175 Victory, charged with armed robbery, and Darrell L. Colbert, 28, of 461 Nevada, charged with aiding and abetting in the robbery, were both remanded to the custody of a U.S. Marshal following their two-day trial.

Judge Ralph M. Freeman ordered bond on each man rescinded.

They had entered pleas of innocent at their arraignment Jan. 21.

Nicholson was apprehended within minutes after the branch bank at 870 W. Long Lake was robbed of $12,250.

HOURLY LATER
Colbert, alleged driver of a getaway car, was arrested about an hour later at a Pontiac service station.

No date for sentencing was set, pending investigation of each man's record by the U.S. Probation Department.

Nicholson could receive up to 25 years imprisonment and Colbert up to 10 years.

Hospital Gift by Ford Fund

Ford Motor Company Fund announced today it will donate $75,000 to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital's $3.25 million building fund campaign.

Emery Dearborn, assistant general manager of Ford's Tractor Division, made the announcement.

"This program will result in virtually a new hospital with 500 beds and the capacity for handling 7,200 additional patients each year," Dearborn said in telling of the donation.

"As chairman of Ford's Southeast Oakland County Community Relations Committee, I have been aware of the need for it. I am delighted to be able to announce the Fund's participation."

The gift of the Ford Fund will be used to build and equip the new self-care unit to be included in the expanded hospital.

Man Arraigned in Gun Attack

Everett Joseph, 48, was arraigned yesterday afternoon on a charge of assault with intent to commit great bodily harm in the shooting of another man at the Pontiac police station.

Municipal Court Judge Cecil B. McCallum set preliminary examination for Wednesday and released Joseph on $500 personal bond.

Joseph of 599 Lochaven West Bloomfield Township allegedly wounded John B. Cannon, 36, of 5 Lee Court yesterday with a single shot from a 22-caliber pistol.

The shooting took place shortly before Cannon was to face preliminary examination on a charge of gross indecency involving Joseph's 23-year-old daughter.

Joseph reportedly fired twice at Cannon after apparently waiting for Cannon to appear at the second floor of the police station, location of the two municipal courtrooms.

APPREHENDED
Apprehended only moments after the shooting, Joseph was quoted as saying, "I must have been crazy," to detectives who disarmed him in an office.

Detective Sgt. Carl P. Colando, who sat just five feet away when Cannon was struck in the leg with a bullet, said

Joseph told him, "I'm all done, it's all over."

"Now you better take care of that mail there (Cannon)," Joseph reportedly said.

Cannon was treated and released at Pontiac General Hospital.

Detectives said Joseph appeared relieved when taken into custody, telling them, "I haven't felt so good in months."

"Your face looks familiar," Joseph smiled in speaking to Colando shortly before his arraignment.

"Oh, yes, now I remember," Joseph said, "Thank you." Colando was one of two men who disarmed him.

4 of 6 Indicted Are Arraigned

Grand Jury Charges Bribery and Extortion

Four of six persons under grand jury indictment were arraigned yesterday in Novi Justice Court. Three were released on $1,000 bond while the fourth is in the Oakland County Jail in lieu of $5,000 bond.

Those arraigned include Royal Oak Township Treasurer Frank Miles, two former township trustees, W. C. Chambliss and Marshall Taylor, and Inkster urban renewal director Elton Mickels. Taylor is still being held.

The four, along with Township Supervisor Edward Kennedy and trustee Samuel Woodard, were charged yesterday by the Oakland County grand jury, Circuit Judge Philip Pratt, with bribery and extortion.

Kennedy was not immediately arraigned because he is being hospitalized for a burned foot. Woodard was expected to be arraigned today.

Novi Justice Robert K. Anderson scheduled a preliminary court examination on March 10 at 9 a.m. for Miles, Taylor and Mickels. The hearing for Chambliss is set for March 15.

ALLEGED DEALINGS
Miles also will appear at that time since he was accused of being involved in both of the two separate alleged illegal dealings.

Kennedy, Miles, Woodard, Taylor and Mickels allegedly conspired on a property deal involving a $4,000 high rise last year.

Woodard, Miles and Chambliss are charged with accepting $200 in 1961 to permit a gas station to erect a sign that was prohibited by a township zoning ordinance.

No Clues in 'Slick' Gold Theft

WINNIPEG, Man. (UPI)—Investigators were without clues today to the identities of a "slim" youth and his "beefy" associate who hijacked a shipment of gold bullion that could be worth $670,000.

Tuesday night's robbery, the fourth successful theft of gold from a Canadian airport in the past 14 years, was so carefully planned, and slickly executed that it went undiscovered for more than two hours.

That two hours gave the bandits, both described as in their twenties, plenty of time to transfer the 12 wooden crates of ingots from an Air Canada truck to another vehicle—perhaps an airplane or another vehicle—and leave the truck parked on an air strip near the old terminal building at Winnipeg International Airport.

Police from the suburb of St. James, where the airport is located, joined with Winnipeg city police and Royal Canadian Mounted in the investigation. But no agency reported any progress.

U.S. customs authorities and the FBI also were alerted on the theory that the bandits may have headed into the United States with the gold.

MAJOR HIGHWAY
A major highway links Winnipeg and the border, about 60 miles away, where it meets Interstate route 29 at the Minnesota-North Dakota line.

The ingot shipment was being flown from mines at Red

Lake in northern Ontario to the Canadian mint at Ottawa.

At Winnipeg, three employees of Transair were unloading the shipment for transfer to an Air Canada plane for the flight to Ottawa when an Air Canada truck pulled to the loading dock. The two men in the truck—both dressed in white coveralls and Air Canada parkas—presented property filled-out freight documents, loaded the gold onto their truck and drove away. The whole thing took five minutes.

Two hours later, about midnight, an Air Canada official called Transair and asked where the gold was. It was then that they discovered the brazen theft.

Action Likely on Street Lights

Proposed for Area in Independence Twp.

INDEPENDENCE, TOWNSHIP — The Township Board is expected to take action March 15 on the proposed street lighting district in Thendara Park Country Club Subdivision.

It was pointed out at a recent public hearing that total cost for the project would be $300 or $2.35 per lot. The proposed undertaking encompasses 166 lots.

Only benefiting residents would share the cost of the special assessment district project, according to township officials.

Thirteen street lights would be installed on portions of the following streets: Sequoyah Court, Thendara Boulevard, Hawk Drive, Onadaga Road, Itasca Drive and Pequot Drive.

In other business, the board has agreed to install street lights on M15 at Paramus and Princess Drive.

The board also has rescinded a junk yard ordinance in favor of a new junk yard ordinance recently adopted.

According to township officials the new law is more clearly defined and restrictive than the rescinded ordinance.

It regulates hours of operation, noise and smoke and includes a provision making green belts mandatory.

Robert Waid has been appointed to serve on the three-member board of review, leaving only one vacancy to be filled.

The board of review will hold hearings from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 4 p.m. March 8, 9 and 15 and from 3 to 9 p.m. March 14 at the township hall.

Purpose of the hearings is to consider tax relief appeals from township taxpayers.

COLONIAL-STYLE LIBRARY — After a complete face-lifting, this former grocery store houses the Westacres branch of the West Bloomfield Township Library. The branch opened for regular business Feb. 8 and now contains over 6,000 volumes of reading material for local residents.

Area Pairings for M-Week Announced

Pairings have been announced for the 30 area municipalities that will participate in the annual exchange of mayors and village presidents May 16.

During the Michigan Week event, governmental representatives from throughout the state will visit the area communities, while their cities and villages will play host to area officials.

Among the pairings are Beverly Hills-Grosse Pointe Shores, Bingham Farms-Northville, Birmingham-Midland, Bloomfield Hills-St. Ignace, Clarkson-Webberville, Farmington-Jonesville and Franklin-Grosse Pointe Farms.

Also included are Holly-Lincoln, Imlay City-Fennville, Keego Harbor-McBride, Lake Angelus-Southfield, Lake Orion-Cassville, Lapeer-Harrisville, Lathrup Village-Cass City and Leonard-Cape.

Others are Metamora-Linden, Milford-Ravenna, Novi-Grant, Orchard Lake-Columbiaville, Orionville-Sunfield, Oxford-Howell, Rochester-Menominee and South Lyon-West Branch.

Also Sylvan Lake-Trenton, Troy-Charlotte, Utica-Byron, Walled Lake-Unionville, Wixom-Negaunee and Wood Creek Farms-Clarksville.

Shelby to Make 2nd Try for U.S. Water Line Aid

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — The Township Board will make a second attempt to obtain federal funds for construction of the Ryan Road water line.

The board has authorized Supervisor Lorin E. Evans to file an application for funds with the Economic Development Administration.

The line, as proposed two years ago, would be a 24-inch conduit extending from Ryan and Utica roads to about 22 Mile.

Connected to a Detroit Department of Water Supply main at Ryan and Utica roads, it would aid in the development of an industrial park along 22 Mile between Ryan and Shelby.

A previous application was turned down because federal funds had been depleted.

Merger of School Districts Defended by Proponents

Some people feel that Ortonville would lose business if the children attended classes in Clarkson, he explained.

Howard also mentioned a "prestige" loss in event the high school was moved elsewhere.

"Our arguments are mostly educational," said Howard. "I think in the back of all our minds on the Brandon Board is the education of our children."

"Initially our district stands to benefit from this merger financially," he said.

ESTIMATE COST — Brandon school officials estimate an additional levy of $4 to $6 per $1,000 of assessed property value would be required to build a new high school, according to Howard.

It would amount to only $1 or $2 per $1,000 for the two systems to build a new high school together, they predict.

"That represents quite a lot of money saved," Howard volunteered.

The opposition had criticized a recommendation that Oakland County's 29 school districts be reduced to nine, contending it threw a scare at the people.

GIVES EXPLANATION

Howard explained that George Schutt of the Michigan Department of Education told local officials that it would be favorable to have nine to 11 districts in the county.

Howard pointed out that Michigan has 5,500 school districts in 1962 and at present has about 1,100. The state recommends 400-500 districts, he said.

Mrs. Weeks, board secretary, called a story in Tuesday's Pontiac Press quoting members of the opposition group "very biased."

"I think it presented just one side of this story. When we did this we did it all in good faith."

"The opposition group had criticized school officials for not informing the public about drawbacks of the proposed merger available to the public before it was approved by the Brandon and Clarkson school boards."

Only the advantages were listed by school officials prior to official action.

"All I'm interested in is seeing that our children get a better education," Mrs. Weeks said.

"In all sincerity... we were not trying to push anything," she said in retaliation to complaints from the opposition.

"Everything we have done, they have taken and twisted. I don't understand Mr. Wilcox's position," she said.

Mrs. Weeks contends that Wilcox admitted to her at the Feb. 4 meeting that his reasons for opposing the merger are probably selfish, explaining that the village would lose business.

Wilcox declined an invitation to visit the Clarkson school system, according to Mrs. Weeks.

"They have many things in Clarkson that we probably won't have for several years," remarked Mrs. Weeks. She listed auto mechanics, carpentry, Latin, French and excellent drama facilities as a few.

GOOD SYSTEM

Mrs. Weeks stressed that Brandon has a good school system, but asked: "How can we best educate our children?"

"My children got a good education at Brandon," she said, "and I'm glad they went there."

Dr. Schoen, a local physician, agrees with some of the advantages and disadvantages. He is willing to accept whatever decision the voters make April 4.

"Bring out the disadvantages and advantages and let the people decide. They have an opportunity to study it. If they like it, fine. If they don't, fine."

"The school board is concerned about education first," said Dr. Schoen. "This is paramount."

"I feel that's the way the people feel, too. But I don't know if they want to attain that education by a merger."

Dr. Schoen feels that the system's greatest need is a new high school and that annexation would hasten this.

Concerning the opposition Dr. Schoen said, "I feel that they're very sincere in their criticism. It's quite a shock. It came up very quickly."

"Brandon is in control of either rejecting or accepting annexation whereas Clarkson people have nothing to say about it."

Pletcher, the father of three schoolchildren expressed confidence in the school board's decision for annexation.

"It seems to me it would be an educational advantage for the children," he said. "A wider selection of classes would be advantageous."

"If I thought it would take away business, I might be a bit uneasy, too. But I don't know how they figure it would or wouldn't."

Reappraisal Issue Rehashed

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The township's six-year bout to successfully determine a means of reappraising township property has entered another round.

The difficulty lies in coming up with a factor which could be applied to bring all property up to an equitable level, according to Roland Harkless, township assessor.

Last month Harkless revived the reappraisal issue when he suggested that the township conduct a complete reappraisal of township property in accordance with a new state law.

The law requires that municipalities assess property at 50 per cent of market value. The township presently assesses at 30 per cent.

At last night's board meeting Harkless pointed out that the thing to strive for in the reappraisal is uniformity.

News of the Area

SEVEN CATEGORIES

John C. Reharr, township supervisor, noted that there are approximately seven categories of property within the township.

"Some property owners are paying too many taxes, others not enough," said Reharr. "Some are carrying another's load."

Complete reappraisal to be completed within the span of one year is the only sensible way to conduct the reappraisal, according to both Reharr and Harkless.

The assessor was instructed last month to obtain bids and compile a report which was to be given at last night's meeting.

Only one bid was received, but that was one worth considering, according to Harkless.

The National Evaluation Service of Cleveland, Ohio, which has appraised Port Huron, Brighton and Farmington as well as numerous other Michigan municipalities, was the only firm to submit a bid.

"I consider the Ohio firm's bid an excellent one," said Harkless. "They have estimated a cost of $45,000."

Harkless had originally estimated that the cost for complete reappraisal would run as high as $70,000.

"Reappraisal will be costly," he noted, "but we would be way ahead as a result of it."

Harkless believes that having the task done by a professional firm would be superior to having the township continue to appraise in a "bits and pieces" manner.

The zoning ordinance, which the Township Planning Commission has worked on for 2 1/2 years, was also discussed at the meeting.

The commission had been prepared to present the ordinance to the board recommending adoption. But changes had been made as the result of four hearings, and the township attorney suggested that another public hearing be held.

Officials Testify at Hearing

'Must Plug Loopholes on TB Detection'

LANSING (AP) — Lawmakers and public health officials agreed Wednesday that loopholes in the state's tuberculosis detection system must be plugged.

But they also found that new laws probably could not guarantee against outbreaks such as that discovered at a Garden City nursery school late last year.

Representatives of the state departments of health and social services, the attorney general's office, and the Wayne County Health Department testified before a House committee.

"I agree we can't legislate professional competence," said Rep. William Fitzgerald, D-Detroit, chairman of the House Public Health Committee. The committee conducted a hearing on a report by Dr. Richard Hanlon, director of the Wayne County Health Department.

DISCOVERED POSSIBILITY

Hanlon's report, revealed earlier this week, showed that a certified radiologist had discovered possible tuberculosis in one of the teachers at the Hansel and Gretel Nursery months before the outbreak in which 20 children eventually were infected.

A short time after the X ray, the woman's physician had certified the X ray show negative and another test was "reportedly negative," the report said.

"Would this be a reasonable thing to do, to put down negative on the form (needed for her employment as a teacher) after the radiologist reported 'active TB cannot be ruled out?" Fitzgerald asked.

"No sir, it wouldn't be," Hanlon replied.

FAULTY REPORT?

"Did he then turn in a faulty report?" the chairman asked.

"From the evidence, it would appear so," said Hanlon. "But Dr. J. K. Altland, associate state director of public health, told the committee 'any physician has a right to make his own professional judgment and disagree with the radiologist's report.'"

In such cases, he said, the attending physician might not forward the findings to the State Health Department as the law requires. The law does not specify who must report to the state when an actual or suspected case of TB is discovered.

Junior Editors Quiz on MONA LISA

THESE 4 GIRLS WENT TO A MONA LISA SMILE PARTY. COTY WON

QUESTION: What is the secret of Mona Lisa's smile?

ANSWER: The famous picture of Mona Lisa was painted by the great Italian, Leonardo da Vinci, who lived between 1452 and 1519.

It is a portrait of the wife of a merchant, Francesco del Giocondo, and is often called La Gioconda.

Up to that time pictures had mostly been of events or religious ideas.

This was one of the first portraits of a real human being, or of special interest because she seems so warm and human we can almost see her thinking. What is she thinking about?

Perhaps this is the secret of La Gioconda's fame — everyone is trying to guess her own secret. The faintest smiles plays over her lips—but again, what is she smiling about?

No one really knows, but everyone has his own idea. Here is our artist's special theory. "Most people in portraits," he says, "give me the feeling they are thinking about themselves."

"But this wise, lovely lady looks deeply into your eyes and seems to think about you rather than herself. Somehow, she seems to have guessed your secret."

"And she gives the impression that even if she shares your secret, she will keep it in confidence. She is smiling because she is your friend."

FOR YOU TO DO: Find a color reproduction of Mona Lisa and look deeply into her eyes. See if you agree with our artist. If not, work out your own explanation of that wise but tantalizing smile.

City Commission Merits Reelection

Pontiac residents are in the process of evaluating the candidates seeking nomination in the primary election Monday. On that day, voters in each of six districts will indicate their choices, and two persons from each will be put up for the City at large to consider at the April election. Since only two candidates filed in District 3, there will be no primary vote there.

To many residents, a number of the candidates are unfamiliar names. Some of them have been active in their districts, and others are unknowns. There are at least six which should be familiar to all. These are the incumbents who have guided the city for the past two years.

They are:
T. Warren Fowler Sr., District 1
Robert C. Irwin, District 2
Leslie H. Hudson, District 4
John A. Dugan, District 5
Wesley J. Wood, District 6
James H. Marshall, District 7.

They have guided this City's future in a busy time. They took over in a situation when Pontiac's stock was pretty low. Their immediate predecessors had wrangled the City into numerous hornet's nests — so much so they were repudiated at the polls and shoved out by the voters.

The six incumbents listed above, under the leadership of Mayor WILLIAM H. TAYLOR, picked Pontiac up off the canvas and put it back on the map. It took some doing, lots of time and energy and hard work, but they didn't flinch. Currently they have plans nearing completion for the urban renewal area which will enliven and restore the downtown area, and benefit the entire city.

Housing for the elderly is in the mill, fulfilling a need which the public made known.

These men deserve a chance to finish the projects they have undertaken for the benefit of all of us. They should be nominated at the polls Monday.

Women's Organization Marks 75th Birthday

This date has been designated Diamond Jubilee Day for the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

The organization was born when a woman journalist was excluded by reason of her sex from a farewell Press Club dinner for CHARLES DICKENS in 1868. Indignant, she started the Sorosis Club—for women only.

When on the club's 21st birthday the founder sent out a call for a convocation of all the women's clubs she could contact the mailing list stopped at 94. Forty-six groups sent delegates, and these women met a year later to organize their clubs into a federation. Today, as it begins its 76th year of operation there are 800,000 members in 14,600 clubs throughout the United States.

The accomplishments of the Federation have been many and varied. It is credited with having aroused public sentiment for creation of a Federal Pure Food Bureau in 1907; the Children's Bureau in 1912; the Women's Bureau in 1920. Since 1926, the clubwomen have fostered programs to erase illiteracy.

No one can accuse the Federation of parochialism. It was one of the first national organizations to support the Marshall Plan, the North Atlantic Defense pact, the Peace Corps, and CARE. It also boasts an international membership of more than 7 million through its Council of International Clubs.

We warmly acclaim this fine organization of womanhood on its significant anniversary and for the accelerative progress shown.

Antarctica is now the "in" spot to visit. According to 57 pioneers who took the first 16-day cruise to the frozen continent aboard S. S.

Anyway, it will do until the first tourist excursion to the moon can be arranged.

LBJ Avoids Viet Explanation

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — While his critics and supporters on Viet Nam scuffle on the beach of public opinion, President Johnson has avoided making a detailed explanation of his case to the nation in a way that would give him the widest public audience and greatly help public understanding.

Doing it would be simple enough: If the White House announced well in advance that the President was going to make such an explanation to the nation at night, it would be televised and broadcast, undoubtedly by all the networks, and thus get him maximum audience and attention.

For some reason not clear, he has not done so, although he has sought to express his views publicly in other but less effective ways.

Last week, for instance, he made a major address in New York on Viet Nam but the nation was not informed well enough in advance to be looking for it.

The result: only one major television network carried it at 9:30 p.m.

NO TELEVISION

Last Saturday, he held a news conference, in which he discussed Viet Nam at length, but insisted beforehand that it not be televised at all.

Previously, he had held a rather impromptu news conference with reporters at the White House but there was practically no advance notice on this.

And when he decided to go to Honolulu to meet with the South Vietnamese leaders, the whole thing was announced suddenly, again losing maximum attention.

On the other hand, the public, by way of television, has been exposed for hours to testimony for and against Johnson's Vietnamese policy before the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee whose chairman, Sen. J. W. Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat, is one of the most important and persistent critics of Johnson's Southeast Asia policy.

BRILLIANT JOB
At these hearings, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, former ambassador to South Viet Nam, and adviser to President Johnson and John F. Kennedy — did a brilliant job of stating the administration's case.

But it is doubtful the general public, watching them testify, got the full impact of what they said or could retain the logic or continuity of it because they were constantly interrupted by critical committee members who injected their contradictory views.

As a result of these interruptions, anyone not an expert on Viet Nam was bound to get a mixed and perhaps even foggy view of the administration's position. The nonexpert got was a jumble of views.

A Little Early This Year

David Lawrence Says:

Congress Stands Firm on Viet

WASHINGTON—The Congress of the United States has notified the world that America stands squarely behind the President's policy of assisting the government of Viet Nam in repelling the aggression of the Communists.

The overwhelming vote in both houses LAWRENCE should clear away any doubts whether this country means to retreat and withdraw and whether the 215,000 American troops in Viet Nam will be supported to the utmost in their brave fight against Communist aggression. It could conceivably open the door to peace negotiations and shorten the war.

The three roll calls must inevitably make an indelible impression everywhere. First, the House of Representatives, by a vote of 392 to 4, approved the bill authorizing $4.8 billion more to fight the Viet Nam war.

Second, the Senate, by a vote of 93 to 2, approved the same measure.

BRUSHED ASIDE

Third, while the bill was under discussion in the Senate, an amendment which would have repealed the President's authority to carry on the war in Viet Nam was brushed aside by a vote of 92 to 5.

Thus, there was erased the image of a Congress in danger of being influenced by intellectual confusionists; self-centered exhibitionists; or reckless exponents of the idea of opposition for opposition's sake.

Congress unquestionably was influenced by public opinion. Despite the hostile demonstrations here and there, the voice of the people — declaring, in effect, that the fighting must go on.

Voice of the People:

Answers to Complaints on Salt Truck Operation

Letters have expressed dissatisfaction with seeing loaded salt trucks on the highways when no storm had occurred or was in progress. Frost accumulates on bridge floors under certain temperature conditions and we must salt them immediately. There are over 125 bridges on State trunk lines alone. "Snow Showers" may cover parts of the County and it may be necessary to haul salt over roads where no precipitation has occurred.

During winter we have men who patrol over 2,500 miles of roads in pickups carrying patching material, flares, salt, etc. for emergency use. They continually report on road conditions. Trucks are loaded with salt each night and they may be used on the road for other purposes before the salt is dumped or used.

The National Safety Council estimates traffic accidents in Oakland County during 1965 cost over $30 million, five times the amount spent by all local authorities combined in the County for road maintenance. We feel it is money well spent to maintain the roads in as safe a condition as possible.

'Sirens Are Necessary for Emergencies'

On any emergency run it is essential that a vehicle be able to get through traffic with minimum delay. The traffic on today's roads is heavier than ten years ago and this has led to the development of louder and better sirens and more efficient emergency lights.

The electronic siren is a benefit to those of us who must navigate a car, truck or ambulance through heavy traffic. When drivers cannot hear or see a properly equipped emergency vehicle behind them, they aren't paying enough attention to their driving.

My congratulations to the drivers who do pay attention and have the courtesy to give the right of way.

Readers Agree on Separating Modern Art

Every year there is a great deal of criticism of judging the art show at the Mall. I enjoy the paintings, abstracts and all. Why don't they separate modern art from the rest and judge best of show. Maybe then the nonlovers of modern art would be satisfied.

MRS. SHIRLEY STORER

Art students and art teachers are the only ones who appreciate modern art. They have been brainwashed in their training to accept it as a modern art for this day and age. Let's keep modern art to one end of the Mall art show and keep realistic art at the other.

Support Passage of Gun Control Legislation

Senator Dodd's proposed legislation will not take away anyone's 30-30, nor infringe on his right to carry it. The proposed legislation is to protect all of us from those too young or too emotionally sick to be near a gun. Granted, a hunting rifle is not a machine gun, but neither President Kennedy nor Rabbi Adler was shot by a machine gun.

How many valuable policemen have been killed by crazed home owners with shotguns? The right to carry a gun should be and is protected under Senator Dodd's bill. The public's right to stay alive should also be protected. Unless we work hard for the passage of gun-control legislation, we'll deserve any of the terrible consequences we are sure to get.

Disagrees With Parking Ticket Procedure

Writing parking tickets after the hour of 6 p.m. in the parking lot abatement Army building on Lawrence seems wrong. All that park there after 6 p.m. are members of Pontiac Elks Lodge 810. Take the Elks out of Pontiac and you wouldn't have one place for holding larger banquets or civic meetings. The entire City of Pontiac has been ruined by parking meters. Let's rebel.

Comments on Accomplishments of Williams

Who remembers Soapy Williams and what happened to the State finances while he was governor—especially the time State employees received their pay checks a week late? What has been gained in Africa since Soapy has been there? The news media said ex-Governor Williams would like to be nominated and elected as State Senator to Washington. What is his aim this time?

Taxpayers Demand Action on Spending

Latin American currencies are inflated; governments are unstable; welfare programs undermine the economy; foreign aid whitewashes blunders. News about the Viet Nam conflict makes me shudder. I agree we cannot let communism spread but do not agree in the way we are trying to stop it. The time to stop Red China is now and not ten years from now as she quietly sits back and builds up her strength.

Register Likes and Dislikes

Don't Just Sit There; React

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

Basically, we're all critics of movies, theater, art and music, but we fail to tout the horri, because we're so in awe of "ART."

Some 200 women at the Village Woman's Club on Wednesday heard Judith Crist, drama and movie critic for the New York Herald Tribune, accuse them of being passive culture hounds.

Mrs. Crist who says she leads a life in "the dim and the dark" loves the movies and live theater and deplores the sad state of both.

She reminded her audience that both are industries, despite the tendency to label them art forms or culture. Money in the box office is still the criteria for what the public wants.

VOTE ON WAY OUT

Mrs. Crist thinks that individuals should register their appraisal of performances "after ward and not be so passive about everything."

Since the advent of television, most of our entertainment has been canned.

And while — if you wait long enough — you can see some excellent ballet, and music, some very good dramatic performances and the best of yesterday's movies, you should not be completely satisfied with TV.

We need the liveliness of the theater, says Mrs. Crist. We must resist the temptation to be passive about it and react honestly.

EVERYONE A CRITIC

"Criticism is only conversation between amateurs" and everyone who has an active interest in a particular field is a potential critic.

She has been proclaimed a heroine because she is vocal about her dislikes. People are so conditioned to superlatives praising something that when they read a negative report, they think it must be true, said the speaker.

Mrs. Crist gave as a reason for the rise in movies and plays dealing almost exclusively with sex the influx of foreign films and the desire to take the viewer away from "that little black box."

There are good plays on Broadway. There are good movies. But they are few and their chances of succeeding is less if people who like them don't say so — and say it loudly and often.

Pianist Joins Quintet for Next Concert

Mary Norris, pianist, will join the Meadow Brook Wind Quintet at 8:30 p. m. March 11 in the Gold Room of Oakland University.

Miss Norris will be heard in Ludwig van Beethoven's "Quintet in E Flat" and Francis Poulenc's "Sextette for Piano, Clarinet, Flute, Oboe, Bassoon and Horn."

The program will include "Trois Pieces Breves," by Jacques Ibert and "Trio for Flute, Clarinet and Bassoon," by Walter Piston.

Quintet members, all first chair men of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, are: Albert Tipton, flute; Arno Mariotti, oboe; Paul Schaller, clarinet; Charles Sirard, bassoon; and Arthur Krehbiel, French horn.

The quintet is one of three chamber groups formed a year ago at Meadow Brook to offer new exposure to special abilities of Detroit Symphony principals.

The program, with its challenging selections of works rarely heard in the area, has won national recognition, according to Jim Hicks, OU public relations.

Single tickets for the general public and special student tickets are available through the university's Festival Office.

Mrs. Frank H. Boyer, Jonathan Lane (left) and Mrs. William B. Bachman Jr. of Bloomfield Hills (right) get acquainted with the speaker for Wednesday's luncheon at the Village Woman's Club. Both are vice presidents of the club. Mrs. Judith Crist, film critic and associate dramatic critic for the New York Herald Tribune, spoke on "The Passive Culture Hound."

To Attend Saturday Workshop

Some 14 members of Pontioak chapter, National Secretaries Association International, will attend the 14th annual secretarial workshop, Saturday, in Detroit's Cobo Hall.

The second workshop cosponsored by the six chapters of the NSA which make up the Greater International Metropolitan Area Council (GIMAC) will also highlight ten concurrent seminars on practical business subjects and a fashion show by the B. Siegel Shops.

"SECRETARIAL SAGACITY" According to Mrs. Mildred Reynolds, coordinator of the 1966 workshop, the theme will be "Secretarial Sagacity — What's Your Capacity?"

Representatives of NSA chapters in Pontiac, Detroit, Livonia, Royal Oak, Livonia, Wyandotte and Windsor will assist her with planning.

Robert St. John, NBC correspondent and author will speak on "This Challenging World," and Mary Morgan, CKLW-TV and radio, will comment on "New Spring Fashions for Secretaries."

Attending from Pontioak chapter will be Mesdames: Julius Nurek, Loti Yarnold, Orin Rogers, LaVerne Adair, Ralph McFadden, Delbert Parks, Ruth Smith, Roberta Trayer, Katherine Frank, John Duncan, Norman Burns.

Others are Theresa McVeigh, Mary Eleanor Lockman, and Rose Seibert.

Meeting Tonight

There will be a meeting tonight at 7 p. m. of the Fashion Your Figure Club. Members will gather in the Adah Shelly Library.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Hines of Bunker Street announce the betrothal of their daughter Nancy Kay to Marcus J. Zajack, son of Stanley Zajack of Detroit and the late Mrs. Anna Zajack. Both are Oakland University seniors.

NANCY KAY HINES

the men who form the future of Rose Jewelers

After the turn of the century, when Greater Detroit was building its reputation as the horseless carriage center of the world, a reputation for fine jewelry was being won by Rose Jewelers.

As Detroit grew with piston driven energy and prospered from its V-8 powered muscles, the city grew in many directions.

Under the guidance of Emil Rose, whose father began the Rose tradition of jewelry creations, Rose Jewelers expanded to meet the city's needs. Every effort was made to firmly establish Rose Jewelers as the fashion innovators in fine jewelry personalized for Detroit tastes.

Today the names of Henry Ford, Alfred Sloan, George Romney and Lynn Townsend have become identified with the creative development of the modern automobile. In the world of rare gems and fine jewelry, the name Rose has become synonymous with integrity of fashions.

In the tradition of the Rose family, from Nathan Rose at the turn of the century, to Emil Rose, his son, President of Rose Jewelers, to David Rose, the grandson and Executive Vice President, three generations have kept pace with a growing Greater Detroit.

Today, at Rose Jewelers, David Rose, the Executive Vice President, represents the fresh concepts of a new generation built on the tradition of over half a century.

As a result, you, our customer, will benefit. The prologue of our past is the prophecy for our future.

Looks Funny, but Helps

To help smooth out lines around your eyes and mouth first, open your mouth very wide and squeeze your eyes shut.

Next, relax your mouth and eyelids and blow your lips out with a burbling sound (you know, like a baby). Repeat six times.

To help soften expression lines from nose to mouth, fill out cheek hollows, and improve the shape of your mouth — start with your mouth shut, then puff out your cheeks.

Next, suck in your cheeks hard until they have a hollow look. Repeat six times.

FIRM CHIN

This next rhythm is designed to firm the muscles under your chin and at your jawline, and to keep your mouth relaxed and pretty.

First, pucker up your lips and say "Oh" — then stretch your mouth as wide as you can and say "Ah." Repeat six to 12 times.

All of these rhythms can be done in just about 60 seconds. Do them in front of your mirror each day before cleansing your skin or applying make-up in the morning.

Try these regularly for about 12 weeks and see what miracles you can perform.

Real Cool Cat

WAKEFIELD, Kan. (U. S. —) Tammy, a kitten belonging to the 8-year-old daughter of Sergeant and Mrs. James Rose, was inadvertently locked in the family's upright deep freeze unit with subfreezing temperatures for 10 hours. But she's apparently none the worse for the experience.

Not Born, but Cries

INVERNESS, Scotland — Can a baby cry before it is born? Yes it can.

A young Scottish woman, her two attending physicians and three midwives heard the extraordinary sound five times before the mother was delivered of a baby boy, approximately 18 hours after the first cry.

"All of us were startled," reported Dr. Robert G. Blair, one of the physicians, "and looked around the labor room to make sure that a nurse had not carried in a baby."

The infant, the doctor wrote in a recent issue of the British medical journal, The Lancet, "cried immediately at birth, its color was pink," and it was entirely normal. Mother did well, too. After recovering from her surprise, that is.

Why Grow Old?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Q. I rub my eyes quite often because they itch. I am 15 and just started wearing mascara. It can't be the mascara because my eyes itched before I ever wore any. It can't be that I don't get enough sleep because school nights I get nine hours of sleep, and on weekends more than that!

A. This could be due to a mild infection, eye strain or an allergy. See an eye doctor for his advice.

Q. I have a very serious problem — my figure! I did weigh 142, but I reduced to 136. My bust measures 34, waist 27 and hips 42 inches. This hip measurement is a real problem and seems to get larger.

What exercises should I

Mr. and Mrs. Emilie Iott of Deerfield announce the engagement of their daughter Andrea Thresea to Pfc. Daniel Max Jaworski, U.S.M.C., son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley M. Jaworski of Kenilworth Street. Miss Iott attends Siena Heights College; Adrian and her fiancée is stationed in Viet Nam.

You Should Have This Picture in Full Color Focus by Now

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Last August two of our daughters were married at a double wedding. At the reception when everyone was feeling good, a relative who is in the furniture business promised each of the brides a colored TV for wedding gifts.

They were planning on the sets, so neither bought one. Several months passed and no sets, so I took the bull by the horns and asked this relative about the promised sets.

(Apologetically and tactfully, of course.)

He said it had slipped his mind and he would "get after it" right away. He also thanked me for reminding him. Seven months later, and no trace of the sets. He is well to do, loved by all of us and is really a peach of a guy.

We know he has a lot on his mind, but seven months! Should I remind him once more or forget about it?

WONDERING "peach" of a guy either has a very fuzzy memory or he must have been stoned at the reception when he made the offer. You've already jogged his memory once without results.

I think by now your daughters should have gotten "the picture" without TV sets.

DEAR ABBY: A friend asked me if I wanted to out with a "southern gentleman" from Memphis, so I said sure. I am in my middle forties and he's in his middle fifties, and we are both divorced.

The minute this "gentleman" walked in he started giving me this jazz about how everything from the weather to the women was better in the South. Then he threw in a few digs about how "loud" and "aggressive" the yankee girls are.

He said he was more accustomed to the soft-spoken, lady-like refined southern woman. Well, I was born and raised in the Bronx and I'm proud of it. And I don't talk with "dees, dems and does" either.

Should I have said, "Drop dead, you all!" How would you have handled it?

FROM THE BRONX DEAR FROM: I would have thanked him for the "lovely" evening. And made it a short one.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has an aunt in her eighties. She lives alone and we invite her over quite often. We'd invite her more often because she is very lonely, but she is the world's worst bore.

She never stops talking. She talks about death, fire, rape, murder, etc. Her voice is loud and she won't let anyone get a word in.

Don't tell me it's her age. She's always been this way. My husband brings her here, dumps her off on me, and then he goes and hides in the yard or at a neighbor's. If she weren't wealthy she'd have been locked up long ago.

What can we do? Can we tell her we would have her here while she'd be quiet once in a while?

Our Own Failure Makes Us Poor Guide

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: My lovely child of 19 has been swept off her feet by a man nearly twice her age. I can't even talk to her about delaying marriage until she knows him better without her getting hysterical and crying "Oh, mother, leave me alone, leave me alone!"

I am so confused. My own marriage to her father ended in divorce because I rushed into it, and I have tried so hard to prepare her for a happier life than mine has been. If you could...

ANSWER: It's very hard for her to trust your sexual counsel. But it may be even harder for you to realize this. That's because, as mothers who have failed as wives, we tend to take special pride in our closeness to the child. Without knowing it, we may have even made a resolve to be the most loved, most trusted mother in the world.

We do this as proof of our love to the man who would do us as well as to our own self-doubting selves.

So, to realize that the child we wanted to mother so perfectly regards us as an unreliable guide to sexual happiness world right now... that very area of our own lives in which we are most unsure of ourselves... can be very painful indeed.

We may just not be up to the knowledge that our own failure still haunts our relationship to the child in spite of all our efforts to atone for it. Yet it may be that in this knowledge lies the answer to this breakdown of talk between you and your daughter.

The moment it's possible to acknowledge that our old failure, HAS made us into an unreliable guide, we can put the child's distrust of us into words for her and can suggest a reliable guide. We can say:

"I can understand why you have to count me out as a person to trust with this problem. It hurts me a little but not more than I can stand."

"But the fact that you can't talk to me about your feelings may contact Mrs. John H. Vinkler, Union Lake."

about talking to a psychiatrist about them—a man? You haven't had a father around to take your trouble to, so the idea of talking to a kind, fatherlike man you can truly trust may not have occurred to you.

"Yet talking to such a man may be exactly what you want more than anything else in the world right now..."

Somewhere psychoanalyst Dr. Karen Horney wrote, "Pride is always the enemy of love." And so it is. It's the special enemy of women whose sexual pride wounded by divorce, has realigned itself in the form of pride in motherhood.

Alumnae Unit Being Formed

The newly formed Detroit Northwest Suburban Alumnae Chapter, Alpha Omicron Pi sorority, plans its second meeting at 8 p.m. March 10.

Mrs. Forest O. Strand of Farmington will be hostess.

The group will hear a report on an district day in Ann Arbor recently, from Mrs. Thomas McMillan, alumnae director.

Other AOP sorority members in the area who are interested may contact Mrs. John H. Vinkler, Union Lake.

Pair Leaves for Florida Honeymoon

After recent vows in the First Presbyterian Church, the Laurence Delbert Tebo (Karen Marie Jenko) left for a Florida honeymoon and a new home in Garden Grove, Calif. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Anton Jenko of Mapleleaf Drive and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tebo of Banks Street.

Silk roses encircled the waistline of the bride's chapel-length gown of Chantilly lace over white taffeta, worn with jeweled crown and silk illusion veil. Gaila Tebo was honor maid along with bridesmaids Mrs. Roger Fosmoen, Rebecca Beatty and Judy Walters.

Catherine Briski and Jeffrey Jenko were flower girl and ring bearer, respectively. With best man, Jerry Tappscott were ushers Roger Fosmoen, Tony and George Jenko.

Reception in the American Legion Hall, Auburn Heights, followed the evening rite performed by Rev. Richard J. Reynolds.

Judy Webb, Clarkston, worked with her sorority, Pi Beta Phi and Chi Psi on their booth.

Football Chatter in Beauty Shop

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The conversation at one local beauty parlor isn't the feminine-type chatter usually heard at such places. It is more likely to run to talk about football.

The manicurist at Dominic's beauty parlor is Mrs. Dorothy Matie, and mother of Tom Matie of the Baltimore Colts. Regular customers at the shop are wives of the Cleveland Browns team members, who discuss pigskin topics with Mrs. Matie while having their hair and nails done.

The French novelist Honoré Balzac wrote most of his stories from midnight until noon or late afternoon of the next day.

Vast, Restless Africa Hits Boiling Point

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Vast, restless and enormously important Africa has come to a boil. A long series of upheavals may be only the beginning of a process that one day can transform the dark continent into the arena of showdown in world clash of ideologies.

The latest upheaval, in Ghana, was another in a chain of eruptions that have dealt blow after blow to those who sought to exploit Africa's continental complex of inferiority complexes.

In a world struggle, Africa could be considered even more important than Southeast Asia. Some African leaders hint at a fear that the continent may become the scene of struggles more deadly than what goes on today in Viet Nam.

Africa has been the target of both Soviet and Chinese ambitions. Its natural riches are important to the industry of the West and the West's standard of living.

RAW MATERIALS
Africa's heart is a primary source of vital raw materials—copper, uranium, chrome and many other materials.

The Congo long was a No. 1 target in political efforts of both the Russians and Red Chinese. Its Katanga Province is richly endowed with resources.

China's Mao Tse-tung once was quoted by one of his own diplomats as saying that if Peking could get its hands on the Congo, it could control all Africa.

In November, President Joseph Kasavubu was ousted as president of the Congo by an army coup. In December, a general seized power in Dahomey from the provisional president. In January, military coups overthrew governments in the Central African Republic, Upper Volta and Nigeria. Last week military men ousted Kwame Nkrumah as Ghana's president while he was visiting Peking.

STATE OF TENSION
Burundi has been in a high state of tension since October, when a police revolt was crushed. Its government accused China of playing deadly games there. In Uganda, Prime Minister Milton Obote suspended the constitution after rumors of an impending coup. Troops are on the alert there.

Kenya's political leaders have been demanding the ouster of Red Chinese missions whom they accused of revolutionary meddling. President Jomo Kenyatta warned the Chinese last year he would tolerate no revolution from any source. The Chinese were similarly warned last year by President Julius Nyerere of Tanzania.

Egypt is trying a group of revolutionaries accused of plotting against President Gamal Abdel Nasser with Red Chinese backing. Once warm relations between Cairo and Peking have chilled.

There have been complaints of Communist meddling in Mali, Central Africa, Sudan and elsewhere. In the Brazzaville Congo, the Chinese have had what amounted almost to a base of operations for the world continent.

That is only part of the picture of the bubbling African pot. Portugal spends about 40 percent of its budget on security in its African colonies: Portuguese Guinea, Angola and Mozambique.

Portugal has firmed up relations with the white governments of Rhodesia and South Africa. Rhodesia, which proclaimed its independence in a wary Britain called illegal, has been chronically tense under heavy pressure, though it seems heartened by the overthrow of Nkrumah, one of its most belligerent critics.

Much of Africa has been appalled at the high cost of independence.

African governments invariably call themselves democratic, but democracy in Africa is just a word whose meaning depends upon who interprets it.

SOCIALISM
The idea of socialism took hold among leaders who felt everything had to be government-planned because Africa was so far behind the northern world. Tom M'Boya, a Kenya government minister, put it: "Both capitalism and communism are rejected in favor of African socialism." But frequently African socialism, too, is just a vague label. What has emerged in many areas has been dictatorship, possibly regarded as the only logical way of ruling nations plagued by backwardness, lack of leaders, lack of education, overpopulation and threats of mass hunger.

Military government becomes the order of the day as attempts at representative government bog down under the weight of the problems and conflicts. Country after country is taken over by army coups. The man with the gun wields the power.

Ghana's Nkrumah had pushed the idea of African federation—evidently to be led by him. This, said one of his ministers, would "place Africa beyond the reach of imperialism control." This would be the "new Africa."

NO UNITY
But there is no unity in Africa. The slogan "Africa for Africans" is virtually meaningless. There is fear on all sides of domination, if not by non-Africans, then by one another. There are innumerable ethnic and tribal divisions.

Africa's problems have been compounded by a game of status which goes on constantly, making some leaders easy prey to blandishments of those seeking to exploit them politically.

The Russians plunged enthusiastically into Africa in the late 1950s. Since 1958 they have extended more than $800 million worth of loans to new black African nations. About 4,000 Africans study in Soviet schools.

The Russians made it fairly obvious that they considered Africa a decisive sector in the struggle between Soviet-style socialism and the Western way of life.

RED CHINESE
The Red Chinese, too, entered the contest fairly recently. Trade and cultural missions crisscrossed the continent, playing on African memories of colonialism and fear of a bogey called "imperialism."

WINTER HAVEN, Fla.—The General of golf's biggest army, Arnold Palmer, raised his hand and almost simultaneously complete silence covered the tee area where his opponent Doug Sanders was lining up the ball.

The two were completing a week-long tour of the South with clinics and exhibitions over the weekend in Tampa and Winter Haven and ending in Birmingham, Ala.

For Sanders, it was sort of a homecoming. He is one of several ex-University of Florida golfers on the pro tour, but even in his home battleground he was still only one of the Lieutenants under command of the Pennsylvania General.

The pair was tired and after relating their schedule to newsmen around the tea table it was evident why. They started at New Orleans, took flights to Texas, California, back to Florida arriving in each instance at early a.m. hours and proceeding on to the golf course.

On the course, Palmer and Sanders were still very much full of humor and quips which captivated their audiences around the tees and greens.

Sanders, who plays each round with a different colored pair of shoes, slacks and shirt, said, "This is supposed to be my week off and I was supposed to take my son fishing back in California. I did get to see him, though, during our exhibition on the course."

"Did you take him fishing?"

"No," Sanders replied, "He took me to Disneyland."

HE AIMS FOR BIRDS

In a more serious vein when questioned by newsmen, Sanders was asked what approach he takes when shooting for score.

"I always aim for birds," said Sanders, "but there are times when a certain degree of concentration is so very important I don't want to talk to anyone."

"The click of a camera in the middle of my backswing, or some unnecessary noise on a key putt, will bother me, but in general I try not to make myself aware of noises."

"We hear crowds on a next fairway or green cheer, and it's not very often that they distract me. I naturally try to concentrate more in a tight match and hope to make my shots around anything that will break that concentration."

"But as far as having the fans cheer for me, sure it's a big assist. It makes you feel good to know people are rooting for you," Palmer added.

Stan Brion, Tam O'Shanter Assistant who qualified for the PGA tour early in the winter, is currently working out of a Tampa Golf Club. Among the Pontiac tourists in Lakeland to take a look at the Tigers were Mr. and Mrs. George Turner and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Fox.

"I don't like getting lost on the course. I like to talk to people and usually do," said Sanders, "but there are times when a certain degree of concentration is so very important I don't want to talk to anyone."

Training Gets 'Official'

Humor Invades Tiger Camp

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

LAKELAND, Fla.—Training camp "officially" opened for the Detroit Tigers yesterday, and manager Charlie Dressen's choice to pitch the first batting drill was Bill Monbouquette, whom Dressen says, "could be the key to our pennant hopes if he can get 15-18 wins out of that arm."

First baseman Norman Cash, who just arrived in camp, greeted the ex-Boxton star. "Welcome, Monbo, you've always been one of my favorites," said Cash.

"Thanks Norm, but now that I'm on your side, you might not hit 30 homers this season," Monbo replied.

A few minutes later, Hank Aguirre took the mound and both Cash and Jerry Lumpe hit the ball out of the park.

"Did you hear, Hank?" Cash called out, "now that we have Monbo, we're gonna trade you to another American League team so that we can all improve our batting averages."

"That's the strategy," Aguirre replied, "I haven't used my wide variety of pitches yet. Besides I'm building optimism and confidence. I'll have all you guys thinking of hitting 300 and we'll run away with the pennant."

Denny McLain couldn't find the range on his first four pitches and Don Demeter called out to him: "Keep trying Denny, you have six weeks to find the plate."

"You just started your batting slump, early," McLain joked in reply.

So, it was a typical "official" opening of baseball camp, but by consensus of veteran training camp officials it was the most enthusiastic and spirited opening in several years.

Monbouquette scoffs at the idea that in his new Tiger uniform he'll have more troubles pitching in Detroit because of "big hitters park."

"I can't see using a park, short fences, long fences, any kind of fences, as an excuse for a good season," he said.

"Then how about your 20 wins in 1963 and only 10 last year," he was asked.

"Well, the short fence down the line at Fenway Park certainly wasn't the reason. You see what Billy Herman said when I was traded to Detroit. He thought getting outfielder George Smith would strengthen the Red Sox' leaky defense."

PCH Plays Kettering for District Cage Title

Utica Routs Troy; Mikemen Triumph

By FLETCHER SPEARS

Utica's Chiefs and Dryden's Cardinals will find themselves in the favorite's role tomorrow night when they go after state basketball district tournament crowns at Rochester.

Dryden and St. Michael will duel for the Class D title at 7 p.m., and the Chiefs and Rochester will move onto the floor to battle for the Class A championship at 8:30.

The Mikemen of St. Michael advanced to finals after turning back a surprising Emmanuel Christian squad, 58-51, and Utica moved ahead with a 71-33 rout of Troy.

Coach Carlo Muzi, who guided the Chiefs into the Bi-County League championship this year, is getting out of the coaching ranks after this season but he may have a little fun before it's over.

Muzi and the Chiefs were bounced from the tournament trail last year in their first game by Rochester, 60-50, and they'd like to gain a little revenge for that setback.

WINNER TRAVELS

The Rochester-Utica winner will move down to East Detroit for regional action where the competition gets a little stiffer, while the Dryden-St. Michael survivor will take a trip to Grand Blanc.

For the Chiefs, who now own a 16-1 record, the win over Troy was the easiest of them all.

With 6-5 center Bob Didur stuffing 25 points in the basket and making like a goalie on defense, the Utica quintet opened up a 29-13 lead at halftime and the rout was on.

For Troy, the setback brought an end to the team's worst season (5-12) in recent years. Last year, playing as a Class B team, the Colts advanced to the quarter-finals before bowing in an operation Wednesday and enrollment shoved them into the 'A' division this year.

And the defeat was the worst of the season for the Colts, who played without their leading scorer, Bruce Baas.

SCORER OUT

Baas, who averaged 20 points a game during the regular season, had his adenoids removed in an operation Wednesday and his absence from the Col line-up stood out like a sore thumb. Didur and teammates Jim Jeik and Dan Drca gave the Chiefs a 49-27 edge in the rebounding department and put a tight defense around the bucket.

Didur, who picked up 12 points in the first half, blasted away a dozen shots tossed at the bucket by the Colts and pulled in 18 rebounds.

Hull's Record Goal Helps Hawks Edge Detroit, 5-4

From Our Wire Services

Bobby Hull, once described as "a combination of Maurice Richard and Gordie Howe," has his own niche in the National Hockey League record book today.

Hull scored a record - tying 50th goal last night as the Chicago Black Hawks edged the Detroit Red Wings 5-4 to gain sole possession of first place in the NHL.

Hull's "Golden Goal" marked the second time he has achieved this plateau. He previously notched 50 goals in 1962 to equal the total set by Richard in 1945 and matched by Bernie Geoffrion in 1961.

With 13 games remaining, Hull can rewrite the scoring record in two categories. His next goal will be the all-time, historic 51st and there remains the possibility Hull will crack the record of 96 points in a season.

Hull was outscored by Detroit's Howe, 2-1, who scored his 28th and 27th goals of the season and raised his NHL career total to 622.

Richard scored his 50 in 50 games while it took Hull 20 more games, 52, in which to record his total, including nine against Detroit.

Wings' goalie Hank Bassen, a stand-in for Roger Crozier, who was being rested by Coach Sid Abel, gave up the record-tying goal after Stan Mikita carried the puck across the blue line, passed to Kenny Wharram, who in turn dropped the puck for Hull who scored on a sizzling 12-footer.

Alex Delvecchio and Bruce MacGregor provided the other two Detroit goals. The Wings have won only one game out of the dozen played with Chicago this season. Chicago has won 10 and the other was a tie.

PAIDS LEAD
Hull's record-tying goal came at 5:15 of the final period and gave the Hawks a 4-2 lead but Chicago led to 4-3 at 5:44. Hull won it on a goal by Kenne Wharram with less than six minutes to play.

"He'll score at least 50 goals before the season is over," said Hawk Coach Billy Reay.

"I don't know how many I'll score," said Hull, "but I hope each and everyone of them help this club reach the goal which is the championship."

Aside from his goal, Hull also picked up a pair of assists to give him 87 points for the season, nine short of matching the record of 96 set by Montreal's Dickie Moore in 1959.

When Hull scored his 50th goal in the third period against Detroit, the home crowd went wild and play was halted for at least five minutes.

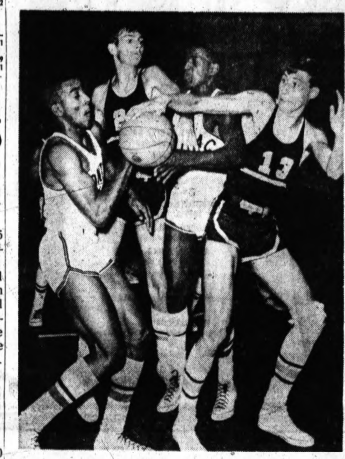

SMU Gridders Dies in Spring Training

DALLAS (AP)—Death came early today to Tom White, who collapsed in spring football training at Southern Methodist University Wednesday afternoon. A cardiac arrest was given as the cause.

White, 19, was a 170-pound student from Cohasset, Mass., who did not play freshman football at SMU but had gone out for the varsity in spring training.

He was working on defense, had just completed a maneuver against blocking and was waiting his second turn when he slumped to the ground.

Eaglets to Begin Title Search Friday

The Eaglets of Orchard Lake paired in a 7 p.m. scrap and St. Mary, who won a Class B district title last year, will start tomorrow for a Class C crown to growning night.

The survivors tonight will meet Saturday at 8:30 p.m. in the finals.

OLSM will take on Ortonville Grandon at 8:30 on the Pontiac Central floor in the second game of a doubleheader. St. Frederick and Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows open the action at 7 o'clock.

In a state-wide reclassification, OLSM dropped from Class B to C and thus will be trying its luck on the "C" tournament trail.

Winners of the two clashes tomorrow will meet Saturday at 7 p.m. for the district title.

OLSM fashioned a 16-3 record during the regular season and it is heavy favorite to take the title. POLS posted a 6-8 mark. St. Frederick 12-6 and Ortonville closed at 10-7.

Fast Finish Gives Chiefs 63-50 Victory

Waterford in Game for Three Quarters; Ziem Nets 26

By DON VOGEL

Two league champions collide head-on for a third title tomorrow night in the Class A district basketball tournament at Pontiac Northern.

Pontiac Central, co-champion of the Saginaw Valley Conference, will take on Kettering at 7:30 for the district crown.

PCH pulled away from stubborn Waterford in the fourth quarter last night to down the Skippers, 63-50, and reach the finale. Kettering ousted Pontiac Northern Tuesday.

The winner of the PNH district advances to regional play at Ferndale.

The Chiefs and Skippers had their troubles in the first half. Waterford players kept giving up the ball on turnovers and the Chiefs missed five layup shots.

Either team could have held a 10-point margin at halftime. A pair of free throws each by Eddie Pruitt and Jessie Evans and a layup by Willie Craft in the final 1:30 of the second quarter gave PCH a 30-26 lead at the intermission.

Until the final 90 seconds, the lead had changed hands five times and the score had been tied on six occasions.

TOOK COMMAND
The Chiefs started taking command in the third quarter and finally pulled away in the opening minutes of the final period.

They clamped down on Waterford's Rick Ziem who scored 17 of his game high 36 in the first half. Jim McClelland and Pruitt handled the defensive chores in the second half with Pruitt particularly effective after McClelland fouled out.

The Chiefs, who let the Skippers get inside for several easy baskets in the first half, forced their opponents to shoot from outside in the last two periods.

The Skipper couldn't hit. They went the last three-and-a-half minutes of the third period with only one basket and a first 3:28 of the fourth without a field goal.

Had they made their free throws in the third period the Skippers would have remained within striking range instead of falling behind, 43-36.

Baskets by Alton Wilson, Evans and McClelland in the opening two minutes of the last quarter put PCH into a 43-36 lead. They increased the margin to 55-40 with 4:38 to play and that was the game.

Waterford cut the margin to 55-50 with 2:02 remaining, but couldn't score again.

Evans, constantly coming up with the big play for the Chiefs either on offense or defense, scored 23 points. Willie Craft topped in 14 and McClelland added 11.

Evans, constantly coming up with the big play for the Chiefs either on offense or defense, scored 23 points. Willie Craft topped in 14 and McClelland added 11.

Waterford, sparked by the shooting of Ziem and the floor play of Bob Adis, jumped to 13-8 lead in the first quarter. A three-point play by Craft and a jumper by Evans knotted the game.

A free throw by McClelland and layup by Craft put PCH ahead 16-13 at the quarter. Waterford rallied and regained the lead, 22-20 and 24-22, but couldn't hold it.

Although he scored only three points, Larry Platt was a big cog in Central controlling the rebound. The 6-8 center hauled down 21 of the Chiefs 32 rebounds. The Skippers grabbed 37.

Neither team had a good shooting night. PCH hit 25 of 72 while the cold second left the Skippers with 16 of 68.

Central, now 22-4 for the season, will travel to the University of Wisconsin - Milwaukee branch for a game this Friday before going to Kansas City on Monday for the beginning of the national NAIA tourney.

CMU Quintet in Upset Win

MOUNT PLEASANT (UPI)—The Central Michigan Chippewas won an upset victory over eighth-ranked Northern Michigan Wednesday to win their first trip to the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics NAIA tournament in the history of the school.

Playing on their home court, the Chippies rallied from a 44-38 halftime deficit to defeat the high-scoring Northern Michigan team, 86-83.

Dave Outwin put in a pair of free throws with 11:23 left to play in the second half to give Central the lead for the first time. After a couple more tie scores the Chiefs took the lead for keeps, 68-66, with just under 10 minutes to play.

Don Edwards was the top Central scorer with 28 points while Gene Summers poured in 30 for Northern Michigan.

Central, now 22-4 for the season, will travel to the University of Wisconsin - Milwaukee branch for a game this Friday before going to Kansas City on Monday for the beginning of the national NAIA tourney.

HIS GOAL'S ACCOMPLISHED—Chicago's Bobby Hull (left) turns away from the net after zipping his 50th goal of the current National Hockey League season past Hank Bassen (right), the Detroit Red Wings' netminder. Hull's goal, despite three Wings in front of the goal, matched the league record for one season. It played a key role in the Black Hawks' 5-4 victory over Detroit.

St. Joseph '5' Gains Revenge

By The Associated Press
It was sweet revenge for the St. Joseph's Hawks of Philadelphia.

The Hawks, seventh-ranked nationally in The Associated Press college basketball poll, had been beaten twice last year by the eighth-ranked Providence Friars, once in the regular season and again in the NCAA East regionals.

No. 2 in the AP poll made it 23 straight with a 75-56 road romp over New Mexico State. Another 63-63 regular season tie, Syracuse, similarly won on the road against Niagara 97-78 behind Dave Bing's 27 points and 16 rebounds.

The Hawks crushed Friars 86-67 for their ninth straight victory and a season record of 22-4. "Revenge, revenge, revenge," chanted the crowd of 9,246 throughout the game as Matt Guokas with 21 and Cliff Anderson with 19, combined for 40 points in leading the rout. Jim Walker's 23 points led Providence, now 21-4.

TWIN BILL
The game topped off a double-header. In the opener, LaSalle upset Louisville 96-92 behind Hubie Marshall's 42 points. The Explorers, on the upgrade from a dismal 4-14 mark, now have won six in a row. Wade Houston scored 30 for Louisville.

Unbeaten Texas Western and the Tigers in the West Coast Athletic Conference and they can land a berth in the NCAA tourney by beating Ucal, Santa Barbara, on Saturday.

WORSE MARK
Conversely, Notre Dame ended its worst season in years at 5-21 by losing to Creighton at South Bend 72-68. "Our opponents had their fun this season," said Johnny Dee, the Irish coach. "But it's going to be a very different story next year with our freshmen coming up."

Mike Thornberry, playing a little more than a half, tossed in three long shots and finished with 11 points in assisting French with the scoring chores.

Recreation Results Cut 'C' Field to 3 Quintets

The number of teams remaining in the City Class C basketball playoffs was reduced to three following last night's action.

The All Stars advanced to the finals by trimming UAW No. 653-2, 43-42, and defending champion moved into the semifinals of the losers bracket by ousting P. O. H. 66-42.

Coalcois will now take on the UAW quintet with the winner moving into the finals against the All Stars Monday at a site not yet selected.

Pistons Take 2nd Straight

By The Associated Press

Sure, it may be too late to do much good as far as the playoffs are concerned, but the Detroit Pistons undoubtedly figure a few victories look better than losses regardless of the team standings.

The Detroiters started right at the opening gun Wednesday night, jumping to a 14-2 lead over San Francisco after three minutes, and went on to down the Warriors 131-118 in one of three National Basketball Association contests.

In other games, Boston clobbered New York 140-104 and Baltimore nipped Los Angeles 119-113.

The Pistons, well ensconced in last place in the NBA's Western Division with a 20-51 mark, pulled off their third victory in 15 games behind Ray Scott's 27 points.

Russian Ice Squad Wins Meet Opener

LJUBLJANA, Yugoslavia (AP) — Powerful Russia opened the World Ice Hockey Championships today with an 8-1 victory over Poland in a first-round game of the 11-day tournament.

The Soviet team, which has bagged the title for the last three years, bottled to a 4-0 first-period lead against Poland and was never headed.

Later Czechoslovakia, last year's runner-up, faced East Germany. Sweden and Finland were paired in an all-Scandinavian battle, and the U.S. squad faced its old rival Canada in a night game.

Between games the Yugoslavians, who are staging the championships for the first time, planned a spectacular opening ceremony which President Josip Broz Tito was expected to attend.

U.S. SEXY

The team to upset that pattern this time could be the United States. Uncle Sam's boys have been reinforced by the return of experienced stars like goalie Tom Yorkovich of Rochester, Minn., defense star John Mayasich of Green Bay, Wis., and ace forward Marshall Tschida of St. Paul, Minn. The Yanks beat Canada 2-1 in a practice game in Belgrade a few days ago and followed up by trouncing Yugoslavia 9-1 Tuesday night.

The Russians have evolved a formidable pattern of teamwork and strategy which none of their rivals are likely to match. But the Americans have done well in warm-up games and could get into the top three for the first time since finishing third in 1962.

The Tivoli Hall here has been built up with wooden terraces and can pack in more than 10,000 spectators. Indications are that there will be a full house for the key games in the tournament.

The championships are being televised to 23 countries.

Spencer Nabs Class A Crown

Spencer Floor went over the century mark for the second time this season in trimming Frushour & Struble, 106-86, and the victory clinched the American League basketball title for Spencer in Waterford Township recreation play.

John Herrington picked up 22 points and John Keller collected 20 in sparking the Spencer (9-0) victory. Harry Dearborn paced the losers (6-3) with 21.

In other games, Powell's Trucking (1-3) ended an eight-game losing streak by trimming Lakeland Pharmacy (4-5), 64-55, and Drayton (6-3) Drug moved into a tie for second in the loop with a 65-62 win over CIO No. 594 (1-3).

Ron Lundy pushed in 20 markers for Powell's and Jerry Weber collected 21 for the Lakeland squad.

A basket by Mike Miley and a pair of free throws by Don Castle in the final minute of play kept Drayton Drug from falling to the surprising CIO five. Miley finished with 22 points to pace the winners. Bob Tuck fired in 21 for the losers.

Mild Weather Puts Heat on State Skiers

By the Associated Press
Skiing conditions at Michigan resorts still open were reported fair to good Wednesday.

Recent warm weather and thaws forced several resorts to close at least temporarily.

Only three resorts in the Pontiac area were open reported Wednesday night and conditions were continuing to deteriorate.

Should cold weather return in time, Mt. Holly will have its annual ski carnival Sunday afternoon.

The weatherman is giving encouragement to resort owners for the weekend with predictions of colder temperatures and possible snow flurries tomorrow.

Waterford Gains Tie for Ice Hockey Lead

Unbeaten Waterford blanked Grosse Pointe, 4-0, last night at Cranbrook to claim a share of first place in the Juvenile Division of the SE Michigan Hockey Association.

Goals by Tom Francis, Bob Going, Bob Church and Bob Erickson backed the shutout netminding of Wren Timmerman.

Vikings After State Crown

The Vikings of Walled Lake will send a six-man team to East Lansing tomorrow afternoon to try and keep the team's record unblemished by capturing the state Class A wrestling championship.

The action opens at 2 p.m. tomorrow and will continue on Saturday with finals at 8 p.m.

Coach Rick Schneider and the Vikings moved down 13 opponents during the regular season and captured the regional tournament title last week.

Three members of Waterford's team will also be in the battle — Ron Smith (120), Darryl Potter (133) and Tim Thurston (145).

Among those making the trip for the Vikings are Rick Russell (103), John Hellner (138) and Dennis Brandt (180), who won regional titles last week. Other Vikings making the trip will be Roger Nicolay (112), Fred Her-ring (120) and Rick Hyde (133).

Viet Tactical Chess Game Nears Showdown

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Both the American and Communist commands are pushing pieces onto the Viet Nam chessboard for the long awaited showdown tournament that could decide military tactics for decades to come.

Although both sides still are pulling their chessmen out of the box, the positions of the opposing sides are taking shape.

Narrow-walled Viet Nam, with terrain ranging from swamps, jungle and delta paddy fields to coastal wastelands and rugged mountains, makes for a puzzling and confused board at best. The rules are being written as the players jockey for position and make their opening moves.

So far, the Americans and non-Vietnamese allies are restricted to moving in three of the four army corps areas. The southernmost 4th Corps — the Mekong River delta — still is an all-Vietnamese show.

A focal point of the American buildup to 200,000 men is in the Saigon area where an iron umbrella is being created to shelter the capital from six or seven hard-core Viet Cong regiments. A large part of the additional American troops expected to be sent to Viet Nam this year are likely to be thrown into the 3rd Army Corps which surrounds Saigon.

The western edge of the umbrella is 35 miles from Saigon at Cu Chi where the 2nd Brigade of the 25th Division has taken serious casualties just trying to wrest living space from the Viet Cong.

The American forward wall then swings through the Ben Cat-Lai Khe area, home of the 3rd Brigade of the 1st Infantry Division, to Phuc Vinh, the area held by the 1st Division's 1st Brigade.

SAIGON FLANK

One flank of Saigon is held by the 2nd Brigade and the 173rd Airborne Brigade at Bien Hoa. This also is the site of a jet airstrip used by the Air Force in its daily poundings of the Viet Cong.

Future arrivals are expected to be stationed south of Saigon which, besides being the national capital, is the command and logistics hub of the allied effort.

The American command is concerned about the buildup of Viet Cong strength around the capital. Intelligence reports indicate that as many as eight enemy battalions are operating under the umbrella. So far, these units have pretty much confined themselves to attacks on small posts, terrorism and propaganda.

Unconfirmed reports identify one of the battalions as a heavy weapons unit, possibly armed with 120mm mortars. There is speculation these might be used against the capital in case of an attack against Hanoi or Haiphong in North Viet Nam. Military attacks have been launched against police posts in the city's outskirts.

In the 3rd Corps, some 22,000 men are with U.S. ground combat units and more than 1,000 are with the Air Force in the U.S. command or part of the U.S. advisory structure. The 2nd Army Corps area to the north has the least food, the worst terrain, the fewest people and the largest area of any corps areas. It also has nearly all of some 25,000 North Vietnamese regulars operating in South Viet Nam.

A major battle between U.S. troops and Communist troops was fought in the 2nd Corps near the Cambodian border and an obscure valley cut by the Ia Drang River.

The fight involved men of the 16,000-strong 1st Cavalry Airborne Division based in An Khe, 250 miles northeast of Saigon.

JUNGLE VASTNESS

With some 450 helicopters at their disposal, the 1st Cavalry troops have jumped all over the board in the jungled vastness near the Cambodian border and operate also on the coast.

These lightning assaults are hailed for the Viet Cong to handle, but sometimes leave American troops exposed in case one of the units runs into an overwhelming enemy force.

TOP OF BOARD

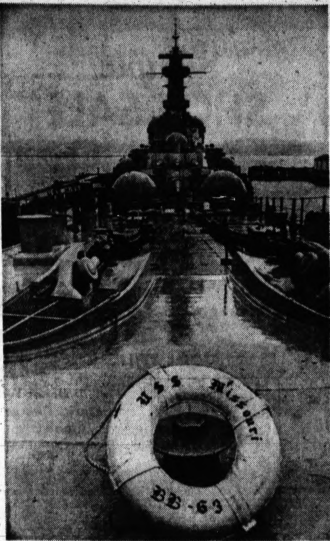

The 101st Airborne Brigade, the Screaming Eagles, is based in Phan Rang, a relatively quiet coastal area where a U.S. jet airstrip is being constructed. Combat troops of the 4,000-man brigade spend little time there. They call themselves the Gypsies and have operated in both the 2nd and 3rd Corps. Some consider the 101st as possibly the best single unit in Viet Nam but so far they have had relatively few major clashes.

The 3rd Brigade of the 25th Infantry Division is based at Pleiku, 240 miles north of Saigon.

At the top of the board in the 1st Army Corps, some 45,000 Marines are in position at three beachheads. Despite the Marines' tradition of wreck as primary role has been one of defense with most of the emphasis on jet strips at Da Nang and Chu Lai. More than 100 jet fighter-bombers are divided between the bases.

In anatomy, an orbit is the eye socket.

BLEAK FUTURE—The USS Missouri, aboard which the Japanese surrender was signed to end World War II and the last battleship to be used in wartime when she shelled Communist positions in Korea, lies in mothballs at Bremerton, Wash. A Navy spokesman says there has been no consideration of returning the Missouri to the active fleet.

Princess Margaret came to Hong Kong to boost British exports, but like many another visitor she's having a favorable outfit copied by one of the colony's expert Chinese tailors.

Margaret and her husband, Lord Snowdon, are here for a week's official visit.

Last night they went on an unscheduled private shopping tour. Margaret took along a cocktail dress and coat and left it with tailor John Yee to be copied without benefit of fitting, something at which Hong Kong tailors excel.

Yee said the new dress "is of simple design without sleeves, in plain orange-red Thai silk." The coat, he said, will be "semifit, with notch collar, three buttons," made of orange-red heavy Thai silk in a bold floral design lined with the dress material.

CLOUDY PICTURE—This picture was one of the first made by cameras aboard ESEA 2, America's newest storm-hunting satellite. It shows the northeastern quarter of the United States and much of Canada. The bright area over southeastern Canada represents a large snow cover and clouds. An artist added the Loch Ness monster, but they weren't laughing today.

Smog Is Suspected in Birth Mutations

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Smog — long suspect of causing many lung diseases including cancer — may even have an effect on your offspring.

A Public Health research scientist told an air pollution conference Wednesday he has found mutagens — substances that cause mutations, or changes, in heredity — "fairly prevalent" in the atmosphere of smoggy cities.

"We know these airborne agents cause mutations in animals, but we have made no tests yet to determine the effect in humans," said Dr. Eugene Sawicki of the U.S. Health Department's laboratory of engineering and physical sciences at Cincinnati.

"We have learned enough, however, to know that further investigation is warranted."

MADE DISCLOSURE

Dr. Sawicki made his disclosures in a talk at the American Medical Association's medical research conference and in an interview.

He said that four types of carcinogens — cancer-causing agents — have been found in urban atmosphere and that there probably are several other types which have not yet been isolated.

Work has been lagging, however, he said, in the search for related agents which are known to affect cell development and heredity.

He said recent tests show the presence in city air of certain types of molecules called alkylating agents which alter the nucleic acids DNA and RNA. These acids, in the cell nucleus, control development of the cell and its offspring.

SUBSTANCE SOURCE

Source of the mutagens, he said, is probably combustion in automobiles and industrial plants.

The Bachelor Is Unhappy — It Says Here

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The carefree bachelor is a myth. He's really unhappy, maladjusted and neurotic — far more so than "old maids" or married men.

That's the conclusion of a recent study sponsored by the National Institute of Mental Health.

The study, directed by Dr. Genevieve Knupfer, a psychiatrist at the Mental Research Institute at Berkeley, Calif., showed that the happiest people are married men.

Dr. Knupfer's group interviewed 785 adults, age 23 or older.

The questions asked were designed to measure happiness, high spirits and job satisfaction.

In all three categories, the study showed, married men scored highest.

Legend of Loch Ness—Live Monster or Fish Story?

(EDITOR'S NOTE—In Scotland there are two kinds of people: Those who believe in the Loch Ness monster and those who do not. Believers got a boost when experts of the Royal Air Force said purported photographs of the legendary monster depict "probably an animate object." This dispatch is written by a reporter who saw the monster. Or did he?)

By ROBERT MUSEL
LONDON (UPI) — They laughed when I said I saw the object supposed to be the Loch Ness monster, but they weren't laughing today.

For scientist and layman alike are agreed that the time has finally come to settle once and for all whether we chosen few have actually seen a monster or been the victims of hallucination.

Although I am in the ranks of the thousands or so who are privileged to tell the biggest fish story of all — I remain as impartial as a news agency reporter should be.

I myself did not say that what I saw moving through the Loch in the clear late afternoon of July 11, 1960 was a monster.

Members of the Oxford and Cambridge scientific expedition who spotted it at the same time from a different vantage point said so.

SAW 'NESSIE'

And since we were looking at the same thing I can claim to have seen "Nessie," though some of the other guests at my hotel speculated it might be a large seal or grampian before the university experts announced they had observed at least 10 feet of body behind the head.

Late this spring and summer, when the winds die down and the mists clear, several small and large expeditions will journey to one of the most beautiful lakes in Europe to try to capture a camera close-up of the monster that will identify it for what it is beyond all doubt.

All the sightings until now have not been unequivocal—that is, the word of witnesses has not been backed with absolute photographic evidence, and, as the history of Loch Ness shows, imagination is often quicker than the naked eye.

Just what is the Loch Ness monster — or "The Laddie of the Lake" as the locals sometimes call him — supposed to be?

MANY SHAPES

He has had many shapes from an aquatic horse to a prehistoric plesiosaur to a giant serpent with classically undulating body, since he made his first appearance in recorded history exactly 1400 years ago.

It is forbidden to shoot or try to capture Nessie.

In 1963 a panel of experts examined all the evidence on a nationwide television show—eyewitnesses, still and movie shots. The chairman, Peter Scott, one of Britain's best known naturalists and son of the polar explorer, Robert Scott summed up:

"We came to the final conclusion that there was some unidentified animate object in Loch Ness. A substantial number of witnesses presented to us a clear picture of a long, dark object of upwards of 10 feet in length of which up to three feet of eight emerged above the water."

"We are satisfied by the witnesses that there could be no suggestion that this object moved as a result of artificial propulsion of any kind. We are further satisfied that this object moved with some speed across wind and current."

He said there was no way to determine whether it was a mammal, a reptile, an amphibian, a fish or a mollusk, though "a fish is easier to imagine."

Until they find something definite, I plan to continue assuaging new friends with my story of the one that got away.

Marines Grateful With Viet Money

Scrawled on the notes are messages of thanks to students at Midwestern University here for 273 pints of blood donated last December. Members of Marine Air Group 16, stationed near Da Nang, sent the notes.

DEPEND ON SAVON FOR THRIFTY FOODS

ON PATROL—Aluminum patrol boats of the U.S. Navy speed in a column along the South Vietnamese coast. The craft have a speed in excess of 25 knots. Patrolling from the 17th parallel—the dividing line between North and South Viet Nam—to the Cambodian border, their mission is to stop infiltration of South Viet Nam by sea. This photo was released yesterday by the Department of Defense.

Cong Kill 11 Police, Shoot Up Oil Tanker

SAIGON, South Viet Nam bank of a ship channel 15 miles southeast of Saigon raked the water and land, the Viet Cong shot up a small oil tanker near Saigon today and killed at least 11 Vietnamese policemen in the 17th Parallel demilitarized zone.

In a vacant lot on Saigon's outskirts, authorities found the bodies of three young government employees executed by the Viet Cong. Their hands were tied behind their backs and they had been shot.

U.S. officials reported that air operations against North Viet Nam and in the South cost three American planes in the past three days. An A4 Skyhawk and an F4 Phantom jet, both from the 7th Fleet carrier Ranger, disappeared in heavy overcast over the North on Tuesday and their three crewmen were listed as missing.

A light spotter plane crashed in the South Wednesday 40 miles northwest of Qui Nhon on a reconnaissance flight for the 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division. Two Americans aboard were killed.

JUNGLES COMBED

On the ground, U.S. forces combed the jungles and rice paddies for the Communists but stirred up little action. The 101st Airborne Division's 1st Brigade killed six Viet Cong in operations around Tuy Hoa, a coastal town 240 miles northeast of Saigon.

A reinforced South Vietnamese battalion, including Rangers, brushed with the Viet Cong seven miles northeast of Quang Ngai, a provincial capital near the coast 340 miles northeast of Saigon. By nightfall, 22 Communists were reported killed against light government losses.

Other Reds were said to have inflicted moderate casualties on a Vietnamese regional force platoon 10 miles southeast of Quang Tri City, in the northernmost province. Communist gunners hidden in mangrove swamps on the west another squad headed for the scene.

In addition to the 11 dead, two members of his Dominican Revolutionary Party—have been killed since the provisional government took office six months ago.

He charged in an interview Wednesday night that right-wing extremists were working through connections with some military officers are carrying out the terrorist campaign throughout the country.

The continuing violence may keep his party—the largest in the Dominican Republic—from participating in the June elections, he said.

The party leadership has not yet made a formal decision.

GOVERNMENT PROTEST

The government protested to the International Control Commission, the Indochina peace-keeping body created by the Geneva conference. The spokesman said the incidents took place 300 yards inside South Viet Nam's half of the zone and that the police forces were allowed to patrol there under the Geneva agreements.

The three government workers slain in Saigon, aged 25 to 30, were youth and self-defense assistants in the cluster of "new life" hamlets around An Loc, an area outside of Saigon where the government has been reducing its pacification efforts.

Near their bodies was a death warrant dated Feb. 25 signed by the Viet Cong organization for Gia Dinh Province surrounding Saigon. They were kidnapped on their way home last night, informants said.

Their deaths increased fears of an upsurge of terrorism in Saigon's outskirts. Guerrillas struck a rehabilitation and self-help area last month only a few days after it had been visited and highly praised by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

Psychological Tests

Are Urged for Drivers

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—Insurance broker Harold Marshall says psychological tests for motorists would help "spot the guy who's going to take it out on his car if he has a fight with his wife."

Marshall appeared at a state commission hearing and said insurance rates could be cut if applicants for drivers' licenses were given such tests.

Bosch Accuses Rightists of Terrorism

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Ex-President Juan Bosch says that more than 400 Dominicans—most of them members of his Dominican Revolutionary Party—have been killed since the provisional government took office six months ago.

He charged in an interview Wednesday night that right-wing extremists were working through connections with some military officers are carrying out the terrorist campaign throughout the country.

The continuing violence may keep his party—the largest in the Dominican Republic—from participating in the June elections, he said.

The party leadership has not yet made a formal decision.

Bosch said, but he stressed it is impossible to think in terms of a fully free election under present circumstances.

WRONG CLIMATE

"The proper climate for an election has not been created," he said.

"Violence only breeds more violence," Bosch warned. "People forget the PRD is not only a party. It's the people. Each bombing converts 100 more people to the PRD and each killing 1,000 more."

Until his overthrow by the military in September 1963, Bosch served for seven months as the country's first democratically elected president since 1924. He returned from exile last September after U.S. intervention checked the revolution launched in April to bring him back to power.

In the interview at his home, Bosch reiterated remarks he made recently in a radio address highly critical of President Hector Garcia-Godoy's provisional government for failing to take firmer steps to halt the wave of shootings, bombings and attacks on members of the PRD.

CLAIMS BEATING

As he spoke, a party affiliate, Rosendo E. Terrero, 50, was brought in. He showed newsmen severe lacerations on his back which he said resulted from a beating dealt him and two companions by a military commander in the interior.

He said, "and probably because one of our companions was wearing an olive green shirt, we were accused of being guerrillas and arrested and tortured."

"This is just one of hundreds of cases," Bosch said. "There have been over 400 killings, mostly of PRD members, since the provisional government took power."

Wednesday, a bomb blasted the car and damaged the home of PRD official Jaime Acosta Torres.

SEEN NOMINEE

Bosch has not said yet whether he will be a candidate in the election, but sources close to him insist he will be the party nominee for president and will not be frightened out of the campaign by terrorism.

The party's national convention to select candidates is scheduled for this month.

Bosch keeps mostly to his well-guarded home on the western outskirts of Santo Domingo. There have been continuous threats on his life since he returned from exile in Puerto Rico.

Pair's Fate Hinges on Cancer Transplant

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Two cancer patients, who never met each other before Wednesday night, now find their relationship a matter of life and death.

Both are afflicted with a rare type of bone cancer and have been told that only a successful transplant operation can save their lives.

Accompanied by their wives, the men arrived Wednesday at Roswell Park Memorial Institute to await the experimental operation, tentatively scheduled for Friday.

Robert F. Allen, 28, a Tucson, Ariz., businessman and a father of three, was told he will die in two to six months unless the operation is successful. He already has lost his left leg to the dreaded disease.

PLAYED FOOTBALL

Allen, who played football for the University of Illinois, said "I'm 100 per cent certain it will be a success."

Allen joined Harry T. Griffith, 63, of Flourtown, Pa., who arrived earlier Wednesday.

To undergo the operation, both had to have the same type of blood—O positive—and the same type cancer—osteogenic sarcoma.

If tests at the institute today confirm that the patients are medically compatible, they will undergo an operation in which a portion of tumor from each will be transplanted in the other.

RESISTANCE

Doctors say that, hopefully, resistance will develop in each patient against the other's cancer in 10 to 12 days. White cells containing the resistance factors will then be exchanged in the patients at intervals.

Griffith, a sales engineer and former minor league baseball player, said he was not aware of his malignancy until Allen's story of his fight to live was made known by the Associated Press. Griffith's left collarbone was removed last December but he was not told of the malignancy, he said.

Griffith said: "When I was told the entire story of my case, I felt this was the one chance I had. Even though the treatment is not proved and is not always successful, I felt I had to grasp it."

Detroit Eying Civilians for Parking Meter Unit

DETROIT — Civilians—both men and women—soon may hop on police motorcycles and write tickets for parking violations if a proposal before the Detroit Common Council is approved.

The Common Council gave favorable first action yesterday to a plan to deputize a special nonpolice force to mind the meters, relieving the regular police patrol for more pressing duties. The council takes final action next Tuesday.

Names of U.S. Operations in Viet Taken From Master List

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — "Operation Buckskin, which terminated recently, accounted for 93 Viet Cong killed, 11 captured," and so on.

That was the account that originated in Saigon. Why was that particular mission of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division in Hau Nghia Province called Operation Buckskin? Why not Operation Rover? or Operation Big Shot?

The operation actually could have been called just about anything. Troops afield on a specific mission carry out their operation under a name that sets it apart from other specific missions.

Sound Filtered for the Deaf

By Science Service
WASHINGTON—A method of bringing sound to deaf people has been devised in Yugoslavia.

Dr. Peter Guberina, director of the Phonetics Institute of the University of Zagreb, based his technique — the verbo-tonal method — on the belief that most deaf people can hear at least one sound frequency.

But, in normal speech, that one frequency is drowned out by others.

To remedy this situation, Dr. Guberina designed an audiometer that filters words into their component frequencies and selects the one best understood by a deaf individual.

A 40-minute test with filtered sound demonstrates which frequency any one person hears best.

FILTER DEVICE
The Institute staff has developed a miniaturized filtering device which can be adapted to particular individuals.

Dr. Guberina's verbo-tonal method is considered promising by scientists in this country, and the linguist-phonetician has received a U. S. grant for his research.

However, Dr. Eugene Wallie, an audiologist with the Catholic University in Washington, D. C., pointed out that the new technique probably would not convey speech itself.

Perhaps distinctions between gross sounds such as ringing and clanging could be made, he told Science Service.

suffering light casualties, as was the case in adjoining Hau Nghia Province.

MASTER LIST

The name of an operation is chosen at the planning level at senior headquarters well in advance of the actual kickoff.

The master list is made up of names chosen at random but consists of names that can be transmitted with ease and with standing by voice, telephone and radio.

It would obviously be troubling to have Operation Dolly taken from a master list and Operation Polly being carried out at the same time.

Several operations in the war in Viet Nam have been designated by the names of U.S. presidents — Van Buren, Taylor, Harrison. Others — at random — have been called Starlight, Blue Marlin, Mastiff, Double Eagle, and so on. Some names have been taken from comic strip characters.

FAMOUS NAMES

Two famous operational names are remembered from World War II: Operation Overlord for the invasion of Europe and Operation Olympia for the invasion of Japan.

The name of one major operation in the present war was changed recently while it was still going on. The change was from Operation Masher to Operation White Wing.

Military authorities here declined to explain why the change was made, but one report had it that the order for the change came from Washington because Operation Masher sounded too

Aid Is Missing Skid Row Tots

'Disorganized Family' Found Out of Touch

By Science Service
WASHINGTON — The huns, psychopaths and alcoholics of tomorrow are now, at the age of three, largely beyond the reach of any poverty program in existence.

At tender preschool ages, children from skid row already display abnormal personalities and an inability to form healthy ties with adults or each other.

These observations came from Dr. Charles A. Malone, associate professor of clinical psychiatry at the University of Pennsylvania Medical School, Philadelphia.

Dr. Malone has recently completed three years of intensive therapeutic research on 21 children in south Boston.

The effort, supported by the National Institute of Mental Health, was designed to discover how far children from "disorganized families" could be helped.

NO DIFFERENCE

These are families, comprising roughly 15 per cent to 20 per cent of the slums, who recognize little difference between day and night. Meals could be anytime. Members of the family communicate by yelling.

Punishments are confused and meted out with little sense of judgment. For example, if one child accidentally knocks over his sister's food, the sister gets a whack.

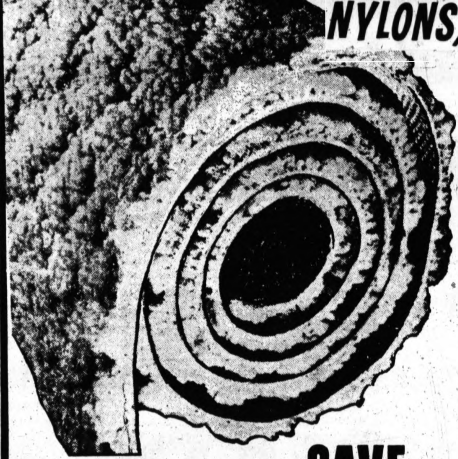

Dr. Malone said the government's Head Start program for pre-school children would not normally reach these youngsters because it relies on the parents' initiative first to learn about the classes and then to get their children there.

Such awareness and positive action do not exist in "disorganized families."

If, by chance, a child from this background does get into a Head Start class, he can be spotted immediately, said Dr. Malone.

Eggs, Fish and Seafood Replace Meat

Pontiac Press Food Editor

Meat prices are up and there doesn't seem to be much hope for their coming down in the near future. This presents a woman-size problem to the homemaker who is trying to feed her family well on a budget.

Even if it weren't Lent, many families are having meatless meals.

Eggs are a good substitute for meat. Turn them into little individual souffles made with cheese crackers for a flavorful main course.

CHEESE SOUFFLES
1/4 cup finely crushed cheese cracker crumbs
1/2 teaspoon onion salt
1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
1/4 teaspoon ginger
1 cup milk
3 tablespoons shortening

4 egg yolks
6 egg whites

With blender or with rolling pin, crush crackers into very fine crumbs between 2 sheets of waxed paper. Mix with onion salt, mustard and ginger; set aside.

Heat milk and shortening together until shortening is melted. Add half the crumb mixture and cook, stirring over moderate heat, until mixture thickens and begins to boil. Remove from heat.

Beat egg yolks and stir in half the milk mixture; cook remaining milk in pan, stirring constantly over moderate heat until mixture boils. Remove from heat and cool to lukewarm.

Beat egg whites until quite stiff, but not dry. Fold mixture gradually into beaten egg whites; fold in remaining crumbs. Pour into four ungreased 8-ounce souffle dishes. Bake in slow oven (325 degrees) for 25 minutes, or until tops are puffed and golden. Serve immediately. Accompany with Garlic Ketchup Sauce. Yield: 4 servings.

Pineapple Relish Is Spiced With Candy

Often a simple meal is remembered for the unusual sauces and garnishes served with it. Such a garnish is this one, full of good fruit flavor laced with cinnamon for a zesty tang. Only three ingredients and minutes to make, but a real treat with pork, ham, turkey or lamb.

Spiced Pineapple Relish
Drain off 1/2 cup juice from one No. 2 can crushed pineapple; place remaining juice and pineapple in saucepan and add 1 tablespoon white vinegar. Heat gently and add 1/4 cup cinnamon red dots.

Let simmer until well blended and cooked down. Cover and chill.

Cheese Marks Life

In Switzerland, when a baby is born, a wheel of Swiss cheese is marked with his name. On all the holiest occasions of his mortality his private cheese is served. When he dies the mourners consume the last of this ceremonial Wheel of Life.

GARLIC KETCHUP SAUCE
1/4 cup ketchup
1/2 teaspoon garlic salt
Mix well and serve with souffles.

Breaded fish portions take on glamour when they are broiled with a special sauce. Add mashed potato nests of peas for a complete meal.

PLANKED FISH JARDINIERE
2 packages (10-oz. each) frozen breaded fish portions
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/2 teaspoon grated onion
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon Tabasco
1/2 cup drained grated cucumber
1/2 cup drained, diced, peeled tomato
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 tablespoons minced parsley
Hot buttered cooked peas for six.
Hot mashed potatoes for six.
Heat fish as package directs.

Meantime, melt the butter and stir in onion, salt and Tabasco. Stir in cucumber and tomato and cook less than a minute over moderate heat. Remove from heat and stir in lemon juice and parsley.

Select a large broiler-proof platter and grease it. On it arrange hot fish. Drain peas well. Fry potatoes, make mounds (at least one per person) on the platter with wells in the centers of mounds to hold peas, nest fashion. Pour Jardiniere Sauce (the butter mixture) over fish.

Place entire platter into very hot oven (500 degrees) for five minutes or under broiler just long enough to brown lightly. Serve (perhaps with crisp vegetable relishes to round out the meal) to four to six.

Two cans of shrimp are the base of an interesting casserole.

ONION-CURRY CASEROLE
1/4 cup margarine or butter
3 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon seasoning salt
1/2 teaspoon curry powder
1 1/4 cups milk
2 tablespoons parsley flakes
1 package (10-oz.) frozen peas, cooked and drained
2 cans (5-oz.) shrimp, rinsed well and drained
1 package (8-oz.) noodles, cooked and drained
1 can (3 1/2-oz.) french fried onions

Melt margarine or butter in a saucepan. Blend flour, flavor salt, and curry powder. Add milk gradually. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until smooth and thickened. Add parsley flakes, peas and shrimp to sauce.

Spoon half of the noodles into the bottom of a greased 2-quart casserole. Spoon 1/2 of the shrimp mixture over the noodles. Repeat. Bake (covered) at 350 degrees for 30 to 35 minutes, until heated through. Uncover.

Spoon french fried onions around outer edge. Bake 5 minutes more. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

CHEESE SOUFFLES

Snip Bacon to Fry, Roll It to Broil

Here's a hint for those of you who despair of ever keeping bacon from curling. Before you cook it, snip the ends with kitchen shears. It will stay flat as can be.

On the other hand, bacon curls are a nice garnish for many meat and vegetable dishes. They're easily made by rolling strips of bacon, securing them with a toothpick, and then broiling them instead of frying.

The seasoning for this melange of ground beef, canned Blue Lake green beans and tomatoes, celery, onion and cheese is zest itself — chili powder, seasoned salt and Worcestershire. Just the culinary creation for a nippy night!

Fiesta Burger-Bean Pie
1 can (1 lb.) cut Blue Lake green beans
1 can (1 lb.) solid-pack tomatoes
2 slices bread
1 lb. ground beef
½ cup chopped onion
2 teaspoons Worcestershire Salt
¼ teaspoon seasoned salt

¼ teaspoon pepper
½ cup chopped celery
2 tablespoons flour
1 to 2 teaspoons chili powder
1 cup grated Cheddar or American cheese

Drain beans. Drain tomatoes, saving ¼ cup liquid. Cut or tear bread into very small pieces. Combine in bowl bread, beef, reserved tomato liquid, onion, Worcestershire, ¼ teaspoon salt, seasoned salt and pepper. Mix lightly with fork.

Turn into 9-inch pie pan and press with fork to form shell; build up edges slightly. Bake in 400-degree (hot) oven 15 minutes.

Meanwhile, combine in saucepan beans, tomatoes and celery. Mix flour with chili powder and ½ teaspoon salt; stir into vegetable mixture. Bring to boil.

Drain excess liquids from meat shell; heap vegetables in center. Return to oven; bake 10 minutes. Sprinkle cheese over vegetables; bake 10 minutes longer. Makes 6 servings.

FIESTA PIE — Lively seasonings enhance the ground beef and tender Blue Lake green beans featured in "Fiesta Burger-Bean Pie." The crust is a ground beef mixture.

Let Artichokes Stand in Spicy Syrup for Relish

A relish tray helps to make baked ham interesting.

Spicy Artichokes
1 can (14 ounces) artichoke hearts (water packed)
1 cup cider vinegar
2 tablespoons sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
5 or 6 whole cloves

Drain the artichoke hearts — there should be 10 to 12. Place them in a shallow container (7½ by 3½ by 2½ inches is a good size).

In a small saucepan over low heat, stir together the vinegar, sugar, salt and cloves until sugar dissolves. Bring to a gentle boil. Spoon out the cloves and insert one in the center of 5 or 6 of the artichoke hearts; add the hot vinegar mixture.

Cover and chill, turning once, for at least 1 hour. Drain thoroughly. Makes 5 to 6 servings — 2 hearts per portion.

Nice on a relish tray with ripe olives; canned whole pimientos marinated in garlic-flavored olive oil; creamy cottage cheese; and mustard sauce.

SANDWICH ASSORTMENT — Here's a sandwich assortment that can be prepared ahead and frozen for convenient, instant use. Teamed with soups, salads or fruit selections, the sandwiches are nice to serve for guest luncheons, family suppers or as party snacks.

Avocado Has Cocktail Role

Food that is quick and easy to prepare aren't necessarily run-of-the-mill. Fast-to-fix "Regal Avocado Cocktail" certainly isn't. Its diced California avocado crested with an imposing sauce makes it an appetizer to be served with pride.

Regal Avocado Cocktail

1/4 cup mayonnaise
1/4 cup chili sauce
1/4 cup light cream
2 tablespoons chopped olives or green onion
1 tablespoon lemon or lime juice
1 teaspoon prepared horseradish
1 avocado
Parsley

Combine all ingredients except avocado and parsley; chill. Cut avocado lengthwise into halves; remove seed and skin. Dice fruit; place in 4 cocktail cups. Spoon chilled sauce on top. Garnish with tiny sprigs of parsley. Makes 4 servings.

PEACHY BANANA BAVARIAN—Use the family's favorite 'year-round foods—mellow tropical bananas and tangy fruit-flavored gelatin—to add a bit of brightness to mid-winter menus.

There's a Trick to Putting Bavarian Cream Into Mold

Dreaming of Spring with its bluest of skies, bursting buds, fresh-washed breezes and happy chirpings? Want to add a bit of this brightness to perk up mid-winter menus? Then consider a liling dessert, Peachy Banana Bavarian, that's not only springtime-pretty, but has a sparkling fresh flavor to boot.

And, what's more, it calls for the family's favorite 'year-round foods—mellow tropical bananas and tangy fruit-flavored gelatin, plus convenient canned cling peaches and the richness of real cream.

Of course, the easiest way to serve these pleasers would be simply to fold the fruit into the gelatin, chill, and top with snowy whipped cream.

But it only takes a bit more time and effort to give the combination breath-of-spring party airs, by making the rosy gelatin into a "shell."

and transforming the remaining ingredients into a melting-smooth Bavarian center.

When it's time to serve, cut through the molded beauty carefully, so that each slice will present the colorful fruit and gelatin attractively.

Peachy Banana Bavarian
1 (1 lb. 13-oz.) can sliced cling peaches
1 (6-oz.) package strawberry-banana-flavored gelatin
2 cups heavy cream, whipped
6 bananas, sliced

Drain peaches, reserving syrup. Add boiling water to gelatin and stir gently until dissolved; add one cup peach syrup. Pour 1 1/2 cups gelatin mixture into a 1 1/2-quart mold or bowl.

In order to make a deep depression in gelatin to form a "shell," float a smaller mold or bowl on top of gelatin. Pour enough water into smaller mold to weight it down, making sure that molds do not touch at any point. (About 1/2 to 1 cup of water will be needed, depending on weight of mold or bowl.)

Place a few banana slices in gelatin at sides between molds. Chill until firm (about 1 hour).

Pour cold water out of small mold and carefully pour in hot water to aid in removing small mold from gelatin shell. Store gelatin shell in mold in refrigerator until cream mixture is made.

Chill remaining gelatin mixture until consistency of egg whites (about 10 minutes); fold in whipped cream, peaches and banana slices. Pour into gelatin shell in mold. Chill until firm. To serve: Unmold and slice. Makes 8-10 servings.

Have Sandwich-Making Session and Freeze Some

Sandwiches always seem such a treat...for afternoon luncheons or late evening suppers, and they're super as midnight snacks.

Each of the sandwich filling recipes in this "make-ahead lunchbox assortment" can be prepared and served immediately, or individual sandwiches can be frozen and enjoyed within the next week or two. Each is a tasty spread for any one of the commercially prepared, or home baked breads, buttered soft buns, or seeded hard rolls.

Team these sandwiches with mugs of steaming canned soup, or match them up with molded vegetable salads or a selection of chilled canned fruits.

Especially well liked is a meaty filling of canned corn beef blended with softened cream cheese. The special accents are spicy mustard and pickle bits.

CORNEED BEEF SANDWICHES

1 pkg. (3-oz.) cream cheese
3 tablespoons prepared horseradish mustard
1/4 cup chopped dill pickle
1 can (12-oz.) corneed beef
Mix softened cream cheese, mustard and dill pickle. Add ground corneed beef. Spread buttered slices of bread, buns or rolls with filling and put together. Makes about 2 cups filling.

Why not use some of the canned ham left over from last evening's dinner for a creamy

Ham Cheese Filling? If the ham was all eaten, canned luncheon meat works just as well.

HAM CHEESE FILLING

2 cups ground canned ham, or 1 can (12-oz.) luncheon meat
1 jar (5-oz.) cheese 'n' bacon, or smoky cheese spread

Mix ingredients well. Spread buttered slices of bread, buns or rolls with filling and put together. Makes about 2 cups filling.

Filling may be frozen: Wrap sandwiches individually. Store no longer than three weeks.

Hungry people love tuna sandwich filling. While you're about it make a second, well-accepted, version using canned boneless chicken too.

TUNA OR CHICKEN FILLING

1 pkg. (5-oz.) cream cheese
2 teaspoons lemon juice
2 tablespoons drained pickle relish
1/4 teaspoon onion salt
1 can (6 1/2-oz.) chunk tuna, or 1 cup finely chopped canned chicken

Blend softened cream cheese with lemon juice, pickle relish and onion salt. Add drained flaked tuna, or chicken, mixing well. Spread bread, buns or rolls with filling and put together. Makes about 1 cup filling.

There's no question about it, one sandwich frequently requested features a combination of canned crushed pineapple and peanut butter spread.

PINEAPPLE PEANUT BUTTER FILLING

1 cup peanut butter
1 can (8 to 9-oz.) crushed pineapple
1 teaspoon bottled lemon juice
Mix peanut butter, well drained pineapple and lemon juice. Spread buttered slices of bread, buns or rolls with filling and put together. Makes about 1 1/2 cups filling.

Filling may be frozen: Wrap sandwiches individually. Store no longer than three weeks.

When you are baking or broiling a thick ham slice, always cut slashes in the fat around the edge of the meat to prevent it from curling.

BETTER LIVING—Mrs. Lola Sigley dries tears as she, her husband, Phil, and two children leave a makeshift desert shack (left) to take up residence in a new portable home (right) in Indio, Calif. They lived with 300 other squatters in the desert while Sigley sought farm work. Now he has work and a new place to live.

Abandon Desert Shacks

Squatters Have New Homes

MECCA, Calif. (AP) — Home — sweet tumble-down makeshift shack — has been abandoned here by a group of squatters who've moved on to new, better and cleaner government housing in nearby Indio.

The squatters, most of them migratory farm workers, were living in old cars and shacks made of discarded junk.

Those seeking jobs and decent places to live have them today. The others — among 300 squatters in dry, barren Box Canyon — just pulled up and left.

One family, Phil and Lola Sigley, moved into a brand new — and strange-looking — government house Wednesday with their two children.

NEW HOME

"First time I've ever been inside a new house, leastwise ever staying in some myself," Mrs. Sigley said. "It's the finest place I've ever stayed in."

A grin crossed her 24-year-old husband's face as he, their two children, Larry, 4, and Rebecca, 1, stood outside their new abode.

Inside, Mrs. Sigley, 21, ran her hands over the new stove, inspected the sink with faucets and bounced lightly on one of the four beds. "It's sure one of the oddest looking places I ever did see," she said.

And it was. The spacious one-room structure resembles the bellows section of an accordion or camera, and is made of heavy plastic-coated paper.

It is one of 80 units recently completed under a federal program at the Indio Farm Labor Center. Here, if the Sigleys stay long enough, their son will be enrolled in a preschool program while they work.

"I talked to a man on the phone. He said he has a place for us to live permanently, and that he will pay me $100 a week steady to be a ranch hand at his place."

"If it works out — and I sure hope it does, 'cause I've never had a steady job — we will be moving on. Otherwise, we'll stay here and work in the fields," Sigley said.

He added that a man who owns a Los Angeles box factory hired several of the squatters.

The squatters were urged to get out of Box Canyon by the Riverside County Health Department, which said they would not be permitted to remain in the canyon in their old shacks, caves, cars and cardboard packing cases.

Some, like the Sigleys, moved to the farm labor camp operated by the Riverside County Housing Authority. Adjacent to the new pastel structures stand 146 frame cabins also occupied by farm families.

"The new 80 units were a godsend," said Grace Young, director of the housing center.

"I suppose it is because Princess Margaret is here," the skipper said. As a police launch circled the ship, Capt. Nilolai Ambrosov angrily told newsmen: "That is a waste of time. It would be better if those men were looking after your princess."

Princess Margaret and her husband, Lord Snowdon, are on a week's visit to the colony to promote British exports. The Soviet liner Urutskii arrived Wednesday night for a three-day stay. Aboard were 276 Japanese tourists, a crew of 155 and Ambrosov.

Immigration Director W. E. Collard refused to tell newsmen why Ambrosov and his crew were kept aboard the ship. But a spokesman for the government information service indicated that the authorities had not been notified of the liner's arrival far enough in advance to investigate and clear the Soviet personnel.

"The restriction came as a complete surprise," Ambrosov said through an interpreter. "I was only told about it at the last minute by immigration officials who came aboard to clear the passengers."

"This is very inhospitable. I am very angry. Did Russia do something like this when Prime Minister (Harold) Wilson came to our country?"

Ambrosov said that Collard had not shown up after promising to come aboard today to discuss the ban.

Great Lakes Area Is Tagged for U.S. Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Parts of Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan have tagged behind the nation's growth.

The governors were invited to the meeting to concur in the designation of the region and will be asked to establish a regional commission to carry out the program.

When the commission is established it will be eligible for federal funds for planning and administrative purposes. It will include representatives of Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan, who will elect a cochairman. A federal cochairman will be named by the President with the consent of the Senate.

Eugene P. Foley, assistant secretary of commerce for economic development, is in charge of the new program. He has said the most effective means a commission can use to further its plans for the region will be to see that it obtains maximum assistance from existing federal and other programs.

Romney planned to attend a breakfast meeting with Republican members of the Michigan congressional delegation prior to going to the meeting in Connor's office.

Asked about the pigeon's politics, the spokesman said: "The bird is definitely Viet Cong."

U.S. Paratroopers Capture First VC Carrier Pigeon

SAIGON (UPI) — An American military spokesman today proudly announced the capture of the first Viet Cong carrier pigeon.

The spokesman said a patrol of the 101st Airborne Brigade searching the Tuy Hoa area captured the pigeon, and the message attached to its leg.

"I might add that to the best of our knowledge this is the first time we have captured a carrier pigeon," the spokesman added.

Asked about the pigeon's politics, the spokesman said: "The bird is definitely Viet Cong."

Soviet Crew Kept on Ship

Hong Kong on Guard During Meg's Visit

HONG KONG (AP) — Japanese passengers flocked ashore today from the first Soviet cruise liner to visit Hong Kong, but authorities kept the captain and his crew aboard. "I suppose it is because Princess Margaret is here," the skipper said.

As a police launch circled the ship, Capt. Nilolai Ambrosov angrily told newsmen: "That is a waste of time. It would be better if those men were looking after your princess."

Clock, Time Both Run Out

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Fred C. Staib, last of a distinguished line of Baltimore clock and watch makers, mounted the three stories above his shop Wednesday morning to wind a clock which has marked the time for Lexington Street merchants for four generations.

Today, the clock went unwound for the first time in its 80-year history, and stopped.

Staib died Wednesday afternoon of a heart attack at 83.

Storms Up Insurance for Offshore Drilling

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Insurance rates for offshore drilling and production equipment have risen sharply in recent years because of hurricanes.

A spokesman for Southern Marine & Aviation Underwriters Inc., said new rates in the London insurance market — traditionally handling most of the offshore equipment on the Louisiana and Texas coast — will more than double the old.

Supreme Court Finishes Restudy of Historic Decision; Still Split on Application

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Illinois conviction of a man who was convicted of a murder in 1959, after a Supreme Court decision, is being reviewed by the Supreme Court. The court is still split on whether the decision should be applied to cases like this one.

The Illinois conviction of a man who was convicted of a murder in 1959, after a Supreme Court decision, is being reviewed by the Supreme Court. The court is still split on whether the decision should be applied to cases like this one.

The Escobedo ruling in 1964 for the first time extended to a suspect in a police station the right to consult his lawyer — and set off a national debate on police practices. They hang in the balance until the justices hammer out their differences if they can and, perhaps by June, announce their decisions.

Again and again, as lawyers pressed their cases before the court during the exhaustive review, they were asked by the justices — Abe Fortas particularly — to give their own readings of the Escobedo ruling. The answers were diverse.

NO OBLIGATION
To California Deputy Atty. Gen. Gordon Ringer, the Escobedo decision does not mean the state is obliged to provide a lawyer to a police suspect before taking his confession. "It's a question of the facts in each individual case," Ringer said.

But to William A. Norris, a Los Angeles attorney appointed by the high court to represent a man who had been convicted of murder on the basis of a purse-snatching confession, it means suspects not only have the right to a lawyer's assistance during police interrogation, but that the right is not "contingent upon request."

What about the justices themselves?

CAUTIONS LAWYER
Although Chief Justice Earl Warren cautioned one lawyer against "trying to read our minds," the only clues at this point are in the justices' bench remarks and questions. The Escobedo decision threw out, by the narrow 5-4 vote, the

Jet Halts Flight as Precaution

DENVER (UPI) — A Trans World Airlines Boeing 727 jetliner made a precautionary landing in Denver yesterday when low oil pressure threatened to damage one of its three engines.

The landing was made without incident and the 89 persons aboard were transferred to another plane to complete their flight from Chicago to Phoenix, Ariz.

Airline officials said flight captain Jack Quinn of Newark, N.J., shut off one of the engines when a gauge indicated oil pressure was low.

A spokesman for the airline said the plane was not in jeopardy, since a 727 is capable of flying with only one engine operating.

The spokesman said the damage to the engine was repaired shortly after the landing.

Motorist Lounged as Stranger Toiled

MT. STERLING, Ky. (AP)—Driving along the highway, Okey Smith spotted a woman in the process of changing a flat tire.

He stopped and completed the job.

As her car drove away, Smith saw something that the raised trunk lid had hidden from his view while the tire changing was under way.

Sitting in the driver's seat was a man.

Auto Leaders Are Relieved by Look at LBJ Safety Program

By CHARLES C. CAIN

DETROIT (AP)—Auto industry leaders breathed a sigh of relief today after getting their first look at President Johnson's long-awaited traffic safety program.

"This is a reasonable proposal and we can live with it," said one industry source. He, along with others in the industry who discussed the program, declined view while the tire changing was under way.

The President's 17-page proposal sent to Congress Wednesday called for a $700-million, six-year program to arrest what he called "carnage on the highways."

Top brass from all four major U.S. auto makers attended a Washington briefing session held by John T. Connor, secretary of commerce, Wednesday in advance of public announcement of the Johnson message.

AUTO LEADERS

Among them were James Roche, president of General Motors; Lynn A. Townsend, president of Chrysler; Richard E. Cross, chairman of American Motors and John A. Bugas, vice president of Ford Motor Co.

The auto industry had known for several months that President Johnson, concerned over the nation's 48,000 traffic fatalities last year, was going to add his voice to the cause of auto safety.

Some industry leaders had expressed fears federal intervention in the safety program would result in government controls of the auto business.

GM President Roche, for example, said recently: "Regulation would have a severe and adverse effect on our business. It would substitute rigidity for flexibility, bureaucratic approval for public approval."

TOOK A LOOK

After a first look at the Johnson proposals, however, the industry indicated it found nothing major on which it would disagree with the President.

One official commented: "It looks like the body of the proposal is reasonable and one which the industry would be hard put to defeat or defy. I would assume it would be difficult for us to oppose the legislation as I understand it."

In brief, the Johnson message called for:

- An authorization, but not a requirement, to the secretary of commerce to determine safety criteria for all vehicles.
- An increase in federal grants to states for highway safety projects.
- An expansion of the federal government's highway safety research efforts, including a national highway safety research and test center.

CHEERED UP

Industry sources, who had repeatedly expressed hopes that they would be allowed to work out safety problems without federal interference, were cheered by the timetable set up in the Johnson message.

This provided that if the industry does not adopt voluntary safety standards for motor vehicles within two years after the secretary of commerce has suggested them, the secretary then could prescribe mandatory standards which would take effect two years later.

Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., whose subcommittee has held numerous hearings on auto safety, said it would take a year to get the Johnson message put into effect by law.

PRACTICAL USE

He called the Johnson proposal a major victory for advocates of auto safety but said that five years could elapse and 50 million cars could be built before auto safety standards take effect.

The general feeling was, however, that the auto companies—if they do have such a grace period—would see that safety ideas were put into practical use before the federal government made up their minds for them.

'HAVE YOU HEARD?' — "Single-8 is big-format Japanese... Super-8 is big-format American... and CK17S is the German double-8 type." These two Bedlington terriers appear to be discussing the new 8mm movie films.

New Home Movie Gear

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newfeatures

The 8mm home movie field is buzzing with activity with the launching in the United States of Fuji's Instant Load Movie System from Japan and a new color film, Aglachrome CK17S, from Germany.

The Japanese is a major movie invasion involving a new film, new cameras, new projectors, new accessories and a processing lab in Rochester, N. Y., so that exposed films need not go to Japan for finishing.

The Agla Processing Lab in Flushing, N. Y., is well past its shakedown stages and has been on full-scale production for several years producing color slide transparencies and color prints from German color films.

The new Aglachrome color movie film is Type A (tungsten-type) with an ASA speed of 40 with floodlights or sun guns and it can be used in daylight at ASA 25 with a No. 85 conversion filter.

It is supplied in double 8mm 25-foot rolls to fit standard 8mm movie cameras.

'SINGLE-8'
The new Fuji line is built around a "Single-8" film cartridge which contains 50 feet of 8mm color film in a single, continuous roll.

There is a difference between Single-8 and Kodak's Super 8 cameras and film cartridges.

The Single-8 has a simplified thinner cartridge and a pressure plate built into the cartridge. Each cartridge can

'Governments Aid Fight to Control Population'

CHICAGO (AP) — Control of the world's population is becoming "a winning battle," because governments are becoming involved, says the president of the Planned Parenthood Federation of America, Dr. Alan F. Guttmacher. He told the mid-winter meeting of the Chicago Medical Society that more emphasis is being placed in birth control devices in underdeveloped countries.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Unsightly Keloids Difficult to Remove

When a scar gets carried away with its own importance you have a keloid. This is a hard, raised scar that is smooth except for its clawlike edges.

Keloids are primarily a cosmetic problem but, if they occur at the collar line or any other location where they are rubbed by your clothing, BRANDSTADT they may be a constant source of irritation.

They usually follow a burn, chronic infection, operation or vaccination. They may run in families.

JAPANESE SURVIVORS

A large number of keloids were seen in the survivors of the atomic explosions in Japan. Keloids are not malignant and some patients.

they do not tend to become cancerous.

Many a surgeon has removed an unsightly keloid only to have it recur after the wound heals.

When anyone who has a keloid must be operated on the surgeon takes certain precautions, not always successful, to try to prevent another keloid forming in the new scar.

Many treatments have been tried to remove or reduce keloids, but none are completely successful.

X-RAY EXPOSURE

Exposure to X rays, injecting the keloid with one of the corticosteroids, heavy pressure with a freezing agent such as dry ice, injection with a mixture of lidocaine (a local anesthetic) and dexamethasone, all but do not cure this condition. What causes it and what will cure it?

More recently, two new compounds, triethylene-thiophosphoramide and triamcinolone acetonide, have been found to give good results both on old keloids and in the prevention of new ones.

For those who have the patience to stay with it for 10 to 12 months, deep heat produced by ultrasonic waves has also reduced keloids nearly to the vanishing point.

Comparative studies to determine which of the methods mentioned is best have not yet been made but at least there has been some progress in getting rid of these unsightly scars.

Q—For two years I have been getting sores on my scalp dry ice, and face that do not come to a head. Frequent shampoos help but do not cure this condition. What causes it and what will cure it?

A—You probably have acne necrotica. This disease is in no way related to the acne of adolescents.

The cause is unknown but it is most often seen in middle-aged men. It is hard to cure but it can be helped by rubbing white ammoniated mercury ointment (10 per cent) in your scalp every second or third night.

This should be washed out thoroughly in the morning. If you are overweight you should reduce and regardless of your weight you should cut out fatty foods and chocolates.

If these measures do not help you, you should see a skin specialist.

Jacoby on Bridge

By JACOBY & SON
Today's hand is really a bridge problem. Can South make three no-trump against a four of spades opening and best defense?
Needless to say, East rises with the queen of spades at trick one and if South takes the queen with his king East will be in with the ace of diamonds and give his partner four spade tricks.
Therefore it is up to South to let the queen of spades hold. Things look fine for South now. Or do they?
They are against normal defense. East can return the nine of spades and set up his partner's spade suit but South will get to dummy twice with clubs and two diamond leads will give him three diamond tricks in addition to one spade, two hearts and three clubs.

This is all too easy. If you haven't figured out the trick defense, here it is. When East returns the nine of spades West takes his ace and leads a third spade. East has to discard and he takes this opportunity to get rid of his ace of diamonds!
All of a sudden South can't make nine tricks. He has to let West get in with the jack of diamonds before he can make his third diamond trick and once West is in the lead, he sets the contract with two spade tricks.

Of course there aren't many players who actually would discard that ace of diamonds but the play is not entirely unreasonable and we will guarantee that every expert has made more sensational plays on occasion (not always with success).

'Control Population to Curb Food Need'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Paul H. Todd Jr., D-Mich., said strong efforts in population control are necessary to meet the world's food needs.
He told the House Agriculture Committee Wednesday he hopes money to help underdeveloped nations in family planning are included in the proposed, new foreign food relief bill.
The committee is holding hearings on a $3.3-billion "food for freedom" program suggested by President Johnson.

Green Berets Added to Day of Shillelagh

CLARION, Pa. (AP)—They'll be wearing green berets along with their shillelaghs on St. Patrick's Day in Clarion County this year, but the mood won't be as light.
The mayors of all Clarion County communities proclaimed March 17—St. Patrick's Day—as Green Beret Day as well in honor of servicemen fighting in Viet Nam.

BERRY'S WORLD

Project Offers Background in Science Policy

By Science Service
WASHINGTON—A new project for training foreign service officers in U.S. scientific policies was launched quietly here by the government.
The idea is for the State Department representatives to learn more about U.S. science programs and the problems encountered administering them.
The project is patterned after the successful exchanges already made between the State Department and Department of Defense through which individuals become acquainted with the particular problems faced by another government agency.
Although only two persons are now involved—one foreign service officer and an Atomic Energy Commission official—some 10 to 15 will be exchanged within the next few months.

Besides the State Department and AEC, the National Science Foundation and the Environmental Science Services Administration of the Department of Commerce are cooperating in the exchange program, inaugurated at ceremonies at the State Department here.

Anita Ekberg Dyed Hair Brown Before Return to Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD — Cool, self-assured and brown-haired — that's right: brown-haired — Anita Ekberg is making one of her infrequent returns to the town where she found fame, but not success.

The Swedish dazler is here to play a Soviet astroboat in a Jerry Lewis film, "Way... Way Out." The title is descriptive, because the movie deals with a wacky flight to the moon.

This takes me back to the first time I observed the formidable figure of Ekberg. It was in 1952, and she had just competed in the Miss Universe pageant as Miss Sweden. Along with other contestants, she was appearing as a moon maiden in a Universal romp called "Abbott and Costello go to Mars."

What happened to the other contestants is unknown. Miss Ekberg advanced to better things, including two films with Jerry Lewis and a contract with John Wayne's Batjac Productions.

RELAXED
"Hollywood didn't know what to do with me," she said this week as she relaxed in her skimpy astro-leotard. "They could only cast me as a femme fatale because of my accent. They didn't stop to realize that Greta Garbo and Ingrid Bergman had been able to play a variety of roles here before me."

"I wanted to play comedy, but I was never considered for it. The producers figured I was a sex type, and that was that."

Anita fled in frustration to the less moonlit film industry of Rome, and there she established herself as an actress as well as a sex type, especially in "La Dolce Vita" and "Boccaccio

A blustery snowstorm whipped across the northern Plains today after leaving heavy blankets of white in wide areas in the Rockies.

Blizzard conditions pounded some parts of the storm belt which covered western sections of Montana and Wyoming, the Dakotas and northern Minnesota. There was considerable drifting, and in some parts of Montana, snow removal crews were on around-the-clock duty.

Winds of 25 to 30 m.p.h. caused drifts of four to five feet in some parts of Montana. Heaviest snow accumulations totaled near two feet at Red Lodge in the southern part of the state. Snow also totaled nearly two feet at Evanston, in southwestern Wyoming, with similar amounts in some higher mountain areas.

Heaviest snow during the night and early morning was in the Dakotas, including four inches in a six-hour period at Aberdeen, S.D. More than a half foot was reported since the storm struck Wednesday after sweeping areas in Utah, New Mexico, Idaho and Colorado.

HUGE SNOWDRIFTS
Winds of 25 m.p.h. formed huge snowdrifts in the Jamestown, N.D., area, and considerable drifting also was reported in other sections of the Dakotas, with winds in some cities up to 45 m.p.h.

No subzero cold was reported in the storm sections.

Southeast of the wintry storm center, severe thunderstorms with rain and hail, pelted sections of Nebraska Wednesday night. Thunderstorms continued during the early morning from Kansas into parts of Iowa, Wisconsin, northeastern Illinois, Lower Michigan and northern Indiana.

BARGE ROUNDUP—Tugboats are dwarfed by part of some 100 barges being rounded up in the Mississippi River at New Orleans after they broke loose from their moorings yesterday and swept away tearing other barges loose and damaging pilings. The tugs intercepted the barges and pushed them ashore, ending a threat to river traffic in the nation's second largest port.

Folk Singer Dying at Career's Height

NEW YORK (AP) — Woody Guthrie is an Oklahoma-born folk singer who trumped out of a dust bowl existence in search of a better life. He never really did find it, and now his time is running out.

He tried to "make it" in California in the early 1930s. He tried again in New York. He wrote at least a thousand songs along the way. Some people listened. Most didn't.

Today he has found a great and eager following in England and is the subject of a strong revival in the United States. But for Woody Guthrie, 53, it is the end rather than the beginning.

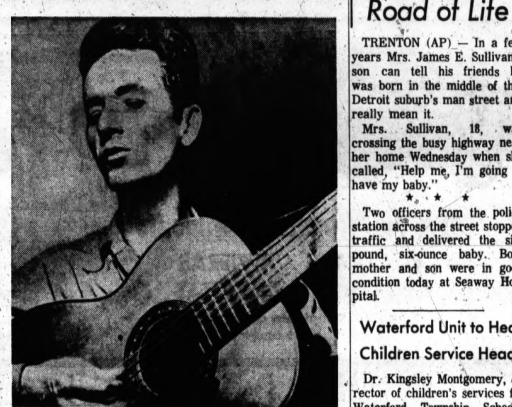

For the past 15 years he has been slowly, helplessly, dying of a hereditary disease called Huntington's Chorea, an affliction that progressively destroys coordination and runs its fatal course in about 15 years.

MUST HAVE IT
Coordination is the one thing a man like Guthrie can't afford to lose.

It was coordination of mind and guitar-strumming hands that produced one of his best-known songs:

"This land is your land. This land is my land. From California to the New York island, from the Redwood forests to the Gulf Stream waters, this land was made for you and me."

That verse—in some of his songs there are as many as 100 verses—is typical of the Guthrie philosophy.

NO MORE SONGS—Folk singer Woody Guthrie is slowly dying of a hereditary disease at Brooklyn State Hospital after a long career that started in the Oklahoma dust bowl days of the 1930s. He wrote some 1,000 songs along the way.

Canada to Yanks: Come North!

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — west, young man," the Canadian government issues its "to what ability and hard work" "come north" invitation by say-can accomplish."

"The pace of growth, approximating boom conditions, has led to a serious shortage of skilled manpower in the trades and professions," states a news release from the Canadian Immigration Service.

The Canadian government has immigration offices in New York, Chicago, Denver and San Francisco.

From these posts, officials are distributing literature on the advantages of living in Canada and they invite inquiries from interested persons.

21 PER CENT
F. M. Norman, officer-in-charge of the San Francisco bureau, reported recently that emigration by U.S. residents to Canada jumped 21 per cent last year.

A total of 15,143 persons moved from the United States to his country, which has a population of 20 million.

The literature passed out by the Canadian government is unabashed in its praise of the country.

"Opportunity unlimited" says one article.

LAST FRONTIER
"The challenge of one of the world's last frontiers excites the enterprising and adventurous spirit."

In a pointed reference to the generally hectic manner of U.S. living, the government literature states, "There are unlimited opportunities to enjoy the outdoor life, free from smog, freeways and the fast pace of city living."

The Immigration Service explains that there is no quota and no visa required.

"Provided he is in good health, of good character and considered able to establish himself in Canada, he (a U.S. citizen) may be admitted as a legal resident."

INDUCEMENTS
The service lists, as inducements to emigrate, such factors as rapid advancement opportunities, extensive medical care programs, government pensions, modern education and a wide variety of cultural activities.

It also boasts "room to breathe in," citing Canada's spaciousness, its magnificent lakes, rivers and seacoasts, its parklands and vacation areas so close to large cities.

The government is frank about its reason for the intensive immigration campaign. It needs more manpower to keep its economy going at full tilt.

"There is a growing demand for more workers, with higher and higher levels of skills and technical knowledge," one brochure states.

A recent survey in British Columbia showed an immediate requirement for 22,000 professional, technical and skilled persons.

In the province of Ontario, at least 65,000 professional and technical specialists were needed.

The government concedes that wages and salaries are slightly less than in the United States, but adds, "more reasonable living costs and lower taxes provide a high standard of living."

In a 20th century echo of Horace Greeley's famous "go

Man's Life Prospers When God Takes Over

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the eighth in a 48-part series written by famous and unknown persons on how faith in God made a difference in their lives.)

By TED C. CURTAS
Tampa, Florida

As I look back to the afternoon when I first met Mike and Pauline Miklas, I wonder what my life would be like if I'd never known them.

Would I still be the same Ted Curtas who needed a pill to go to sleep, a pill to wake up, a pill to be able to stop my hands from shaking?

I had come to Tampa suffering from a complete mental breakdown. My doctor in Connecticut told me the Florida climate might help me. He knew that my brother, who lived in Tampa, would keep a close check on me.

When alone in my room I began to sweat out the attacks of panic that were the worst part of my illness. It started always with a numbness in the legs, then a suffocating, paralyzing tightness in the chest.

Just to get me out of that room, my brother would think up simple jobs for me to do. He had a small plant that manufactured shutters and one day he got a call that a set he had sold wasn't working right. "Just go to these people's house and see what the trouble is," he told me.

REMEMBER DATE

The name was Miklas. I have never forgotten the date: Saturday, March 23, 1957.

A lady asked me in. Her husband was in the driveway, waxing a big new car.

Suddenly I knew that an attack was coming. The first symptoms were already there: the numb hands and feet, the short, hard breath.

"I've got to go!" I said. I turned and dashed for the front door — no one must see me like this!

RAN AHEAD OF ME

Mrs. Miklas ran ahead of me and stood now in a doorway, blocking my flight.

"Why, you're afraid," she said softly after a pause. "Your legs go numb, don't they, your heart pounds, your chest gets tight. I've had these attacks too."

"But I don't get them anymore. I got better!" Her eyes were shining with happiness.

"Sit down. Tell me what's the matter."

LENTEN GUIDEPOSTS

"I sat, and a strange new emotion was struggling in me. Hope. NOTHING THE MATTER."

"The matter?" I repeated. "Nothing is really the matter. That's what makes it so strange. I had everything a guy could want. A beautiful wife, four great kids, nice house, two cars in the garage, perfect health, golf game in the 70's. I was making $20,000 a year."

"No one can help me," I said.

"Someone can," Mr. Miklas was standing in the doorway. "You say you had everything," he said. "Did you really? Did you have Jesus?"

"Get the Bible, will you, Honey?" he said to his wife. "My hands are greasy."

READS FROM BIBLE

Mrs. Miklas came back with the Bible. "Listen to this," he said, and here is what he read:

"If thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised Him from the dead, thou shalt be saved."

"That's all there is to it," Mr. Miklas said. "But that 'all' must be done."

"Can you do it?" she said. "With us? Right here and now?"

Frankly, I didn't know what those words were all about. But Mrs. Miklas said those words had healed her.

STATEMENT OF BELIEF

I blurted out a statement of belief in Someone I didn't even know. Then they took me to a restaurant for dinner and told me they'd pick me up for church in the morning.

The Miklases often came to talk to me about Jesus. And unbelievably, as I learned about Him I felt fear disappear, and confidence and calm take its place.

At last I felt well enough to accept my brother's offer to help me get started in a shutter business of my own. I brought my family to Florida; we bought a small house and a second-hand car, a far come-down from our life in Connecticut.

I started making the shutters myself in a rented garage, trying to show them to prospective customers, sell them and install them all at once. I did so badly that finally we had to sell even that little house and the old car. I would lie awake at night wondering where the money that night on. He might point; would come from to support my family. It was 3 o'clock one morning in the spring of 1958 when the thought suddenly came to me, "Read Proverbs 3:6." Here is what it said:

"In all thy ways acknowledge Him, and He shall direct thy paths."

In all my ways! I realized that I had never, not once, acknowledged Jesus as Lord of my business. I had asked Him to rule my sick emotional life. Why not my sick business too?

That night the conversion began on the Miklases' porch was completed as I prayed, "Lord, I know that You are not in my business. I ask that You come in. Help me make shutters to Your glory."

ECONOMIST'S ACCOUNT

I don't know how an economist would account for the success of my business from stands five feet or so in height.

But how would he account for the phone call which came the very morning after that prayer and brought in a big order that had previously been canceled? Or the fact that a bank which had turned down my request for a loan suddenly reversed itself?

I only know that from the time God took over my business, it prospered. We did over half a million dollars' worth of business last year and hired 40 additional people for a large new plant.

February Auto Output Is Down

AMC, Chrysler Only Firms to Top '65 Pace

By CHARLES C. CAIN
AP Business News Writer

DETROIT (AP) — United States auto firms built 766,000 cars last month despite the handicaps of a Chrysler stamping plant strike and a shutdown of American Motors car building facilities on Feb. 21.

The count was the second highest February total on record, topped only by the 771,162 cars built in February 1965.

Oddly enough, Chrysler and AMC, which had the roughest going last month, were the only firms to top their pace of last February.

Chrysler lost approximately 13,000 cars from its planned production because of a strike at its Sterling Township stamping plant. But it finished the month with an output of 110,000 cars, compared with 107,372 in the preceding February.

General Motors' February production included 432,478 cars down from the 438,274 of Feb. 1965. Buick, Cadillac and Pontiac topped the year-to-date figures, but Chevrolet and Oldsmobile were off the pace.

Ford's car output for the month was 200,394 units, down from the 206,472 of February a year ago. Lincoln was up, but Ford Division and Mercury ran behind the Feb. 1965 pace.

Tempests Take a 33-Pct. Jump

A 33 per cent jump in production of Tempests over the year paced Pontiac Motor Division to total output of 81,542 automobiles last month.

Tempest production for the month was 36,622, some 8,900 units ahead of February 1965.

Division production through the first two months of this year is 159,037, nearly 9,000 ahead of 1965's pace.

Pontiac maintained its 1966 production margin over Tempest, with figures showing 89,644 Tempests and 89,433 Tempests rolling off assembly lines so far this year.

GMC Truck & Coach Division also showed a production increase, with 24,143 units through February of this year.

Last year's figure was 23,035. A jump in output of some 1,500 vehicles last month keyed the overall increase.

Total motor vehicle production for General Motors for 1966 is listed at 1,086,092 units, about 1,600 vehicles behind last year's pace.

Conversely, if peace is achieved, that also would probably have a bad effect on the market. If concerned, you can confine your purchases to conservative growth stocks which have not benefited from the rise and are less vulnerable to any decline which may develop.

In this group I favor Cor Products, which has quite consistently lifted earnings and dividends over the past decade.

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — The better than expected economic recovery and stock traders' worry. And they've been worrying about how this optimism is going to pay off — and for whom.

Currently it's the payoff of the majority of businessmen, for most workmen, for a large percentage of all Americans. But some birds are developing too, and more seem to be in the making.

Tighter money is beginning to pinch here and there. Monetary experts warn that there's likely to be less funds available for borrowing than industry will want if it goes through with all its plans for expanding its plant and buying new equipment.

And the intentions of industrial firms to expand go right on expanding. They want to spend more this year than last. But accountants warn that annual reports show that many corporations have less available cash assets to draw upon than a year ago, despite their record profits.

LESS MONEY
Mortgage lenders are told by government agencies that there'll be less money available this year than last to lend to home builders and buyers. The steady upward creep in interest rates backs up their warning.

The corporate cash bill will have also in the current buildup in inventories. Many corporations must borrow to order these stocks and to carry them. Factory inventories stood at $68.4 billion at the end of January, up $400 million in the month.

Both the inventory rise and the steadily increasing backlog of unfilled orders are cited by those who worry about the economy overhauling it starts its sixth year of upturn.

Profits are at a record high. Most companies are predicting still higher net income after taxes this year. But an increasing number of observers are saying the gain won't be as much as last year. And a few are warning that production costs may be rising faster than prices, so that profit margins will be clipped and the big profit boom brought to an end.

OTHER UNCERTAINTIES
All these worries can be based on interpretations of available figures and projected trends. But businessmen, and especially stock traders, have other uncertainties, nebulous now because they're mixed in with politics.

One disturbing fear is that before 1966 is over taxes will go up again, reversing the 1964 and 1965 course. Higher corporate income taxes would bite into profits, into enthusiasm for business expansion, and into stock prices.

Along with this is the fear that if inflation becomes an acknowledged fact, the government may turn voluntary wage and price restraints into something much closer to actual government controls. Neither business, nor labor, nor the stock market would like that.

And then there's speculation. There have been signs of late that prosperity has fanned this danger. The stock market fears that monetary authorities might step in and choke off some of the margin allowed for borrowing by stocks.

All these dangers — visible, probable or possible — are tempering some of the satisfaction of seeing the long peace economic growth start its sixth year.

DETROIT (AP) — Auto plants' ideas and the money paid for year for imaginative workers who came up with suggestions on how operations could be improved. They have three goals.

Today is his last day on the job.

General Motors, Ford and Chrysler paid out more than $11 million to 216,888 workers whose ideas were accepted.

Each of the firms offers a maximum prize category of $6,000 in cash. Ford adds a bonus of a new Ford or Mercury to winners of its top awards.

At General Motors, the prize money totaled $2,916,977, with 193,873 suggestion makers sharing in it. Eighty five got maximum awards of $6,000. Another 847 ideas were worth $1,000 or more.

Older in industry

GM's Corporation Suggestion Plan, inaugurated in 1942, is the oldest in the auto industry. To date it has paid out more than $72 million for 1.5 million suggestions.

Chrysler did not start a similar program until last year when it distributed $165,491 to 1,158 suggestion makers.

American Motors said its top

Auto Club Ups Insurance Rate

DETROIT (AP) — Auto insurance rates for the 613,000 Auto Club members of Michigan policyholders will rise an average of 17.5 per cent in the next 12 months.

The Auto Club, citing a 50 per cent rise in injury accidents the last five years, said its increase is the result of the "simple arithmetic" of increasing costs.

The increase, announced yesterday, was made effective as of Monday of this week.

The Auto Club's AAA insurance covers about one-fourth of Michigan's motorists.

SAME REASON
All the insurance companies blamed the higher auto accident rates for their action.

Paul R. Erickson, manager of the Auto Club's insurance exchange, said Michigan's insurance experience is among the worst in the country.

The highest of the new rates will be for male drivers 16 to 20 years old who own or are principal owners of insured cars, the Auto Club said.

Motorists with multiple accidents are to be charged an increased amount.

U. S. Explains Its Silence on H-Bomb Loss

WASHINGTON (AP) — Official silence today diplomatic courtesy kept the United States silent on the biggest nonsecret in years — the loss of a hydrogen bomb over Spain.

"We couldn't say anything officially until Spain made a move," one authority said.

Spain made a move Tuesday, announcing that 2,000 hydrogen bombs had been exposed to a slight danger of radiation after a U.S. B-57 bomber and KC-135 tanker crashed after colliding in flight Jan. 17 near Palomares, Spain.

The United States followed yesterday with the first official acknowledgement four thermonuclear weapons were aboard the B-57 when it crashed near the Mediterranean Coast.

The first official statement came from the State Department and later the Pentagon filled in some of the technical details.

A spokesman at defense headquarters described the weapons as thermonuclear and a reporter asked if that meant hydrogen bombs. The answer was "Yes."

Extortionists Victimized Top Names

NEW YORK (AP) — Eminent educators, including at least two deans of Eastern universities, prominent theatrical personalities and officers of the armed services — all homeseized — have been the victims of an extortion ring, the New York Times said today.

The ring has operated throughout the nation for nearly 10 years, the Times said.

The story also is in part: So brazen is the operation that, in one instance, two gang members, posing as New York City detectives, walked into the Pentagon and walked out with a high officer in the armed services.

The man, who they shook down for several thousand dollars, committed suicide the night before he was scheduled to testify before a New York County grand jury.

This was learned Wednesday from the police and sources in the district attorney's office. It was also learned that more than 1,000 victims had paid millions of dollars in extortion, with some individuals paying more than $20,000 to ring members posing as policemen. Only a small number of persons have been willing to sign complaints.

Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan announced last Feb. 17 the indictment of 17 defendants on charges of extortion from homosexuals and reported that nine were in custody. At the time, he said the victims who had made complaints had given $15,529 to the gang.

'Delivery' Too Fast for Pinch Hitter

Pontiac policeman John H. Bridgewater rushed to 413 Jordan this morning when a 32-year-old expectant mother put out a distress call about 7:15.

First the 36-year-old patrolman — a two-baby "veteran" — went to the phone to call an ambulance.

"When I came back, it was all over," Bridgewater said.

Lying next to Mrs. Leroy McNeal was a tiny girl. Standing by her husband.

Bridgewater, of 5450 Tubbs, Waterford Township, calmly executed routine post-delivery duties and assisted ambulance attendants in getting Mrs. McNeal and the new arrival to Pontiac General Hospital.

Mother and daughter are reportedly doing fine.

Waterford Unit OKs Development Guide

The Waterford Township Planning Commission has passed a resolution informally adopting the comprehensive development plan as a guide in making decisions regarding growth and development of the community.

The plan, which will be expanded if the third year "701" program gains federal approval, now includes zoning, ordinance and subdivision regulations.

To Rezoning Request

Citizen Presents Creative Opposition

Fighting commercial rezoning requested for a small strip of land on the city's east side, a Pontiac home owner last night added a new twist to the routine public hearing held by the City Planning Commission.

Arnold R. Jones, 672 Linda Vista, showed city planners a series of color slides as "creative opposition" to the proposed rezoning.

Normally, the slide presentation is a procedure employed by the petitioner.

In an attempt to show neighborhood conditions he claimed were a result of adjacent commercial establishments, Jones cited seven reasons why he was opposed to the rezoning.

He also presented city planners with a protest petition signed by some 30 home owners.

LISTS REASONS

Jones said rezoning of the property at N. East Boulevard and Victory to permit the location there of some seven stores would increase area traffic, increase the possibility of litter, increase noise and possibly drop the value of adjacent residential property.

"Our only problems are

U.S., Reds Move Nearer N-Nonproliferation Treaty

GENEVA (UPI) — The United States and the Soviet Union today took another step closer to a possible nuclear nonproliferation treaty by agreeing to exclude other issues from their negotiations.

The two nuclear superpowers are already agreed that preventing the further spread of nuclear weapons is the most crucial issue now facing the world and that agreement is vital.

Today, they both rejected demands made by nonaligned, nonnuclear countries that a treaty be linked to other nuclear disarmament measures.

American disarmament negotiator Adrian S. Fisher and Soviet negotiator Semyon K. Tsarapkin said agreement on nonproliferation would certainly facilitate negotiations on other questions.

But any link to different issues would only complicate negotiations or even block eventual agreement, they said.

FACILITATE ACCORD — "The implementation of nonproliferation would undoubtedly facilitate agreement on other matters," Tsarapkin told the disarmament conference.

But, he said, "there is doubtful good in packaging several measures, or making one measure dependent on the implementation of others. This could complicate negotiations which are already difficult."

Fisher said in his speech the United States hopes that agreement on nonproliferation "will move us forward toward agreement" on other issues.

"As we have said before, however, we could not link the entry into force of one measure with that of another for fear we would not get either," he said.

WELCOMED BY WEST — Tsarapkin's speech was welcomed by Western officials as a serious contribution to an eventual nonproliferation pact.

Tsarapkin's repeated rejection of America's draft treaty was expected, they said.

The important thing, according to the officials is that Russia now seems to be ready for truly serious negotiations.

Tsarapkin said the American draft is "unacceptable" because it would permit nuclear sharing arrangements in NATO.

PARTICIPATION RIGHT — It would not prevent nonnuclear countries from acquiring "the right of participation in the ownership, disposal and use of nuclear weapons," he said.

NATO, he said, could thus "become a sanctuary for nonnuclear states which strive for access to nuclear weapons."

"This is nepotism on the part of the U.S., which aims at a third category of states," he said.

The Western countries at the conference have repeatedly served notice on Russia, however, that they have no intention of abandoning NATO's right to make its own security arrangements.

Fisher today again stressed, however, that America would never relinquish control over her nuclear weapons within NATO, nor would any nonnuclear NATO state acquire the right to fire such arms in any sharing arrangement.

Man Wins Suit Against CBS on Idea of 'Paladin'

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Victor de Costa, of Johnston, R.I., who says he's the original Paladin, has won $150,000 in a suit in which he claimed his idea was appropriated for the television program "Have Gun, Will Travel."

De Costa had asked for $2 million in his suit against the Columbia Broadcasting System.

He said he invented Paladin when he performed at rodeos in 1947, nine years before the debut of "Have Gun, Will Travel."

He claimed more businesses

those brought to us by the businesses near us," said Jones, who is attempting to form a neighborhood home owners' association.

"Offering his 'creative opposition,'" Jones showed slides of beer bottles, broken glass and other litter he charged was left behind by "obnoxious night riders."

In other business last night, a preliminary plan and zoning for urban renewal work were accorded favorable recommendations.

The residential zoning was recommended for the block bounded by Paddock, Osmon, Perkins and Wall.

Favorable recommendations were also granted four other urban renewal proposals. These included the vacating of an alley within the block; the vacating of Perkins, Auburn halfway south to Judson; and the vacating of Center, Park to Osmon.

VACATING OF ALLEY — Also, the vacating of the alley parallel to Osmon, between Hovey and O'Brien, received an affirmative recommendation.

In other business, the vacating of the alley parallel to Walton, from Hollywood east to the north-south alley parallel to Baldwin, also was given a favorable recommendation.

Final action on rezoning requests and street and alley vacations rests with the City Commission.

Woman Facing Arraignment in Shooting of Two

MUSKOGEE HEIGHTS (AP) — Mrs. Leona Moser, 46, a Spring Lake fashion and beauty consultant faces Circuit Court arraignment Monday on charges of attempted murder and assault on her husband and another woman.

She was bound over Wednesday but was released under $3,000 bond after examination on the charges before Muskegon Heights Municipal Judge Matthew C. Locke.

The defendant is accused in the gunshot wounding Jan. 1 of her husband, Lawrence, 49, and Mrs. Eleanor Anderson, 43. Police said the shooting took place at Mrs. Anderson's home in Muskegon Heights. Moser was arrested at her own residence about one hour later.

Mrs. Anderson remains partially paralyzed as a result of a bullet wound of the back. She testified Wednesday in a room at Hackley Hospital. Moser has recovered from her wound.

Indonesians Close College

Called Bid to Silence
Protesting Students

SINGAPORE (AP) — The Indonesian government has closed the University of Indonesia in Jakarta "to stop students and nonstudents from using the university for undesirable purposes," Radio Jakarta announced today.

The broadcast said the university was being closed "for the time being" and will be guarded by the Jakarta military garrison.

Anti-Communist students from the university have been demonstrating for the past week against President Sukarno's dismissal of Defense Minister Abdul Haris Nasution.

Nasution led the army campaign against the Communists after the failure of the Red attempt to seize power on Oct. 1.

Reports reaching Singapore said Kani has used the university as his headquarters and students have converted it into an "armed fortress."

Kani staged two violent demonstrations outside Sukarno's palace in Jakarta last week in which three students were killed and another two were wounded.

Sukarno flew out by helicopter to his palace at Bogor, 40 miles south of the capital. Reports reaching here said he has been sleeping there since.

CONFERENCE?

In another broadcast, Radio Jakarta claimed the Philippine government is trying to arrange a meeting of President Ferdinand E. Marcos of the Philippines, Sukarno and Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman of Malaysia to end the three-year-old undeclared war between Indonesia and Malaysia.

Despite this, the broadcast said, Sukarno's campaign against Malaysia will continue and will be stepped up, Sukarno contends that Malaysia is a "neocolonial" British creation aimed at destroying Indonesia.

Police said the two guards, James Luiz and John Santos, both of Fall River, were inside New England Food Fair, a shopping center, only about two minutes when the theft took place.

They were dropping off bags of small bills and change and were picking up the night receipts from the market.

MAN GOT IN

A witness said he saw a man wearing a hat similar to the guards, walk quickly up to the truck, get in and speed off. The truck was parked unguarded in front of the store beneath a canopy.

It was not known if it was loaded.

Only 14 months ago, a station wagon owned by Skelly's and carrying $118,000 in cash and checks, was stolen from a parking lot of the Warehouse Dining in Quincy while the guards were eating lunch inside.

Legislative Study of the State Labor Department Results in Proposal for Overhaul

LANSING (AP) — Overhaul of the State Labor Department, including stripping the governor of his power to appoint its director—was proposed today.

"We don't pretend we now have all the answers," said Sen. Sander Levin, D-Berkeley. "However, these bills, representing the very best thinking available, will help solve the majority of tragic shortcomings which have plagued Michigan's Labor Department."

The present commission would assume control of the department and appoint its director. MESC, with more than 2,000 employees, is by far the largest labor unit in state government.

AWAITS CONFIRMATION

In the government reorganization compromise of 1965, Democrats agreed to a labor department under a director appointed by the governor. Gov. A. Campbell of Muskegon and George Romney named former Alexander Fuller of Detroit and good job and should be renamed. MESC Director Thomas Rou-Fernale and Chester A. Cahn crats control Higgins, who opposed the governor in the 1964

Higgins' term ran out Jan. 8, 1968. Internal reorganization proposed by Levin and Rep. James Bradley, D-Detroit, would accept manpower training.

MUST ACCELERATE

Recent examples of Michigan's serious shortages of programs and report on labor skilled and unskilled workers shortages and surpluses.

The department also would contain a statistics, research and information division, agricultural division and legal division.

The manpower division would determine needs for training.

show Michigan simply must accelerate its involvement in manpower programs," said Levin.

A one-year study by a joint House-Senate committee produced a plan whereby the now independent Michigan Employment Security Commission would be dissolved into the reorganized Labor Department.

Colorado Mine Blast Kills 3

Shaft Gas Blamed in 2nd Recent Disaster

HESPERUS, Colo. (UPI) — A gas explosion ripped "like a sonic boom" through a deep mountain mine shaft yesterday, killing three brothers-in-law and spewing coal dust over eight inches of fresh snow for a thousand yards.

It was the second mine disaster in Colorado in just over two months. Nine persons were killed in a blast in a "very gassy" coal mine near Redstone, Colo., Dec. 28.

It took 25 volunteers, digging in subfreezing temperatures with their hands and small tools, 14 hours to recover the bodies of the last two victims.

They were buried under tons of rubble, 2,100 feet down the near this southwestern Colorado town named for the evening star.

Yesterday's victims were Joe Valdez, 53, the mine foreman from Durango, Colo.; Ben Lucero, 44; and Remigio Garcia, 44. Their widows are sisters.

RUSH TO SCENE

State mine inspectors were rushed today to the scene 50 miles northeast of the only split in the United States where four states meet—the four corners area of Colorado, New Mexico, Utah and Arizona.

Gov. John A. Love said despite the latest two fatal blasts, there is no reason to think Colorado's coal mine safety law is inadequate.

"But if reports indicate the (latest) disaster is somehow tied to state statutes, corrective action will be taken," the governor said. He said the Hesperus Mine had been inspected three times last year.

Mrs. Violet Smith, whose home is only a few yards from the mine 8,000 feet high in the Colorado Rockies, said the mine had been closed for three days because of a surplus of coal.

"They had their chutes full of coal and couldn't sell it so had stopped work for awhile," she said.

Clarence Riecke, chief of the La Plata County volunteer fire department, said gas apparently accumulated during the three days.

"It looks like the ventilation fans weren't on long enough before they went inside," Riecke said.

Mrs. Smith said she heard the blast from her home. Her husband was working in another nearby mine at the time.

SONIC BOOM

"We thought it was a jet went over and broke the sound barrier," she said. "All of the power was knocked off. It was loud—like a sonic boom."

Valdez' almost decapitated body was recovered about six hours after the explosion at the 1,800-foot level of the shaft. Eight hours later, searchers found a dollar bill, a crescent wrench and a coat among the tons of debris which buried the bodies of the other two victims.

The three victims and a caretaker were the only persons employed at the Burwell mine, which produced 5,980 tons of bituminous coal during 1965.

Quits 11th District Race

HOUGHTON (AP)—Leland W. Hooker withdrew Wednesday from the race for Republican nomination for Michigan's 11th Congressional District in favor of businessman Philip Ruppe. Both are Houghton residents.

ON HANDSHAKING TOUR—Former Gov. G. Mennen Williams (right) shakes hands with Rep. Francis Crowley, D-Clarkston, on a return visit to the State Capital yesterday. Democratic legislators generally indicated their backing for Williams' potential race for the U.S. Senate.

It's a Happy Homecoming for Soapy at State Capitol

LANSING (AP)—Former Gov. G. Mennen Williams returned yesterday to the capitol he ruled for 12 years, chatted with political foe Gov. George Romney and drew continuing plaudits from Democrats backing him for the U. S. Senate.

Williams, touring Michigan this week to test sentiments for his potential Democratic Senate candidacy, talked privately with Republican Romney for seven minutes in the governor's office.

Each said later they had not discussed politics.

Romney pointed out such additions to the former Williams office as new paint and an air conditioner, but said, "I guess Gov. Williams knows this area better than anyone in Michigan history."

Romney said he asked Williams a few questions about Africa, Williams' special field as an assistant secretary of state.

Mail clerk Carlyle Cromwell and file clerk Florence Stetler, employees for more than 20 years each in the governor's office, were ushered to a seat before the governors for a few moments of reminiscing.

SECOND TIME

Williams then went on a handshaking tour through capitol offices, kissing several of his former secretaries.

It was only the second time he's returned since leaving the governorship Jan. 1, 1961.

Williams met with Democratic legislators and won semiofficial endorsements from House and Senate caucuses for the Senate race.

Sen. Patrick McNamara, D-Mich., has said he will not seek reelection.

Williams said he would announce his decision at 11 a.m. Monday in Detroit.

At a news conference he acknowledged he had heard or seen nothing during his few days in Michigan to discourage him from making the race.

Senate Awaits City Tax Bill

LANSING (AP)—A bill to take the income tax question out of the hands of city councils and commissions and put it in the hands of the voters is on its way to the Senate.

The bill passed the House 56-40 Tuesday and yesterday it survived an attempt to have it vote reconsidered.

The measure requires a popular vote before a city can levy an income tax.

Present law allows a city government body to adopt an income tax and provides for an election on the question afterwards, but only if enough voters sign petitions calling for the election.

Rep. Charles Conrad, D-Jackson, attempted to have Tuesday's vote on the bill reconsidered, and mustered majority support.

But the bill was passed last year, reconsidered and sent back to committee.

REQUIRED VOTE

Another reconsideration would have required a vote by three-fifths of the members present to suspend House rules. The vote was 57-41.

"This bill goes beyond just the consideration of a tax by the electorate," Conrad said. "It reflects on the attitude of this body on the whole legislative process."

"We are telling city legislative bodies: you don't have the power to levy this tax; you must ask the voters." What if the constitutional convention had done that to us—making us refer each tax bill to the public," he said.

The bill could benefit home rule cities contemplating income taxes, said Rep. J. Bob Traxler, D-Bay City.

Pontiac Sales Hit New 10-Day High

Retail sales by Pontiac dealers during the last 10-day period in February totaled 23,921, the highest sales mark for any identical period in Pontiac history, it was announced today by John Z. DeLoe, general manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

This figure surpasses by 39 per cent the 17,131 cars sold during the same period a year ago which was the previous record.

For the month, however, Pontiac sales totaled 66,399 compared to 66,577 in February a year ago.

McNamara: Red Forces Not Unlimited

Secretary of Defense Answers Questions by Senate Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told Senators today that he expects the enemy troop buildup to reach its height in Viet Nam at the end of this year.

Basing his assessment largely on estimates of how big a force the Communists can keep supplied in the face of U.S. air opposition, McNamara used it as a major factor for this conclusion:

"I do not believe that we are facing in Viet Nam an unlimited, open-ended commitment to a major land war in Asia."

McNamara appeared at a closed session to answer questions of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee whose probe of administration Southeast Asian policy has been the storm center of debate.

McNamara told the committee the United States has done everything possible militarily and diplomatically "to make it unmistakably clear that there is no justification for Communist China to involve itself in the war in Viet Nam."

RISK OF WAR

But he said that given the history of militant actions by Communist China "it would be irresponsible for me to say that we run no risk of war with China arising from our efforts to defend South Viet Nam from aggression."

One task facing McNamara is a defense of his own announcement yesterday of a new 25,000-man increase in U.S. fighting forces in Viet Nam.

McNamara was expected to be called upon to support Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's assertion last night that the "side has begun to turn in our favor" in the effort to halt Viet Cong aggression and to bolster the South Vietnamese economy.

Auto Club Ups Insurance Rate

DETROIT (AP)—Auto insurance rates for the 613,000 Automobile Club of Michigan policyholders will rise an average of 17.5 per cent in the next 12 months.

The Auto Club, citing a 50 per cent rise in injury accidents the last five years, said its increase is the result of the "simple arithmetic" of increasing costs.

The increase, announced yesterday, was made effective as of Monday of this week.

It followed prior rate increases by other major insurers, including State Farm Mutual.

The Auto Club's AAA insurance covers about one-fourth of Michigan's motorists.

SAME REASON

All the insurance companies blamed the higher auto accident rates for their action.

Paul R. Erickson, manager of the Auto Club's insurance exchange, said Michigan's auto insurance experience is among the worst in the country.

The highest of the new rates will be for new drivers 16 to 20 years old who own or are principal owners of insured cars, the Auto Club said.

Motorists with multiple accidents are to be charged an increased amount.

Employee Groups Are Honored

The proverbial "little guy" was honored today for his outstanding contribution to the 1965 Pontiac Area United Fund campaign.

Employees of 46 local firms representing employee groups were honored at an awards breakfast held at Ted's Restaurant, 2515 Woodward, Bloomfield and Coach Division.

President Is Set to Sign Cold War GI Bill Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson signs into law today the cold war GI bill granting education, home loan and other benefits to veterans.

The benefits are retroactive to Jan. 31, 1955, when the Korean War GI program expired.

The new aid amounts to an extension of the World War II and Korean war GI benefits, but on a reduced scale. It is open to all with six month military service and an honorable discharge.

Congressional sponsors believe the bill will help hundreds of thousands of veterans get a college education who couldn't otherwise.

The bill is estimated to cost $350 million the first year and $500 million annually by the fifth year—far beyond administration recommendations.

Johnson wanted benefits limited to veterans of combat areas. This would cost about $150,000-million a year.

INCREASED FIGHTING

But, with the increase in Viet Nam fighting, the broader measure passed the House 381 to 0 and the Senate 99 to 0.

An individual can receive $100 a month in education payments for each month of service—with a 36 month limit. If he has a wife, he can get $125 a month, two or more dependents $150 monthly.

Educational benefits begin June 1, but other parts of the program are effective at once.

Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex., the bill's chief sponsor, estimates 5 million veterans will be eligible for the new benefits.

EDUCATION PAYMENTS

Education payments can be used for high school, as well as college classes, for correspondence courses and by persons on active duty if their military assignments permit.

There is no provision for retroactive payments for veterans who have completed college, but the payments may be used for graduate work.

Veterans attending school part-time will receive scaled down payments.

Employe Groups Are Honored

A record $1,000,107 was collected in the 1965 drive.

EMPLOYEE GROUPS

"The 'outstanding citizenship' awards program, initiated three years ago, honors outstanding employee groups attaining 90 per cent participation and a minimum average of 65 per cent of employees contributing one hour's pay per month."

There were 13 employee groups receiving awards for the third consecutive year and 12 qualified as second-year recipients.

Another 23 firms were awarded first-year plaques.

Dr. G. Ernest Thomas, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Birmingham, was the featured speaker.

LAUDS CITIZEN EFFORTS

Dr. Thomas lauded citizen efforts in community service in his address "The Rewards of Service."

In addition to the 80 group representatives present, United Fund Commercial Division chairmen of last year attended today's 8 a.m. meeting.

U.S. Explains Its Silence on H-Bomb Loss

WASHINGTON (AP)—Officials said today diplomatic courtesy kept the United States silent on the biggest nonsecret in years—the loss of a hydrogen bomb over Spain.

"We couldn't say anything officially until Spain made a move," one authority said.

Spain made a move Tuesday, announcing that 2,000 persons had been exposed to a slight danger of radiation after a U.S. B52 bomber and KC135 tanker crashed after colliding in flight Jan. 17 near Palencia, Spain.

The United States followed up yesterday with the first official acknowledgment four thermonuclear weapons were aboard the B52 when it crashed near the Mediterranean Coast.

The first official statement came from the State Department and later the Pentagon filled in some of the technical details. A spokesman at defense headquarters described the weapons as thermonuclear and a reporter asked if that meant hydrogen bombs. The answer was "Yes."

These Five Will Exchange Marriage Vows

A September altar date is set by Cheryl Sue Leece, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Elwyn Leece of Hadley Road, Brandon Township, and Larry A. Purdy, son of Mrs. Richard Willett of Oakwood Road, Brandon Township and Lloyd Purdy of Birmingham Street, Orion Township. The bride-elect is a graduate of Pontiac Business Institute.

The James E. Berkleys of West Ann Arbor Avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Shirley Jean, to William Dean Condron of North Johnson Street, son of the William P. Condrons of Chillicothe, Mo. Summer vows are planned.

May vows are being planned by Marilyn Louise Bird, daughter of the Arthur J. Birds of Otter Drive and William Philip Rogers, son of Mrs. Thomas R. Rogers of School Road, Avon Township and the late Mr. Rogers.

The Calvin Cooleys of Henrydale Avenue, Pontiac Township, announce the engagement of their daughter, Linda Dianne, to Pvt. Thomas Eugene Cornman, son of the Elmer Cornmans of Worthington, Pa. Her fiancé is stationed at Fort Ord, Calif.

A May wedding is planned by Barbara Pickup whose engagement to Constantinos Gianakos is announced. Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Gianakos of Michigan Avenue.

Pair Leaves for Florida Honeymoon

After recent vows in the First Presbyterian Church, the Laurence Delbert Tebos (Karen Marie Jenko) left for a Florida honeymoon and a new home in Garden Grove, Calif.

Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Anton Jenko of Mapleleaf Drive and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tebo of Banks Street. Silk roses encircled the waistline of the bride's chapel-length gown of Chantilly lace over white taffeta, worn with jeweled crown and silk illusion veil.

Gaila Tebo was honor maid along with bridesmaids Mrs. Roger Fosmoen, Rebecca Beatty and Judy Walters.

Catherine Briski and Jeffrey Jenko were flower girl and ring-bearer, respectively. With best man, Jerry Tappscott were ushers Roger Fosmoen, Tony and George Jenko.

Reception in the American Legion Hall, Auburn Heights, followed the evening rite performed by Rev. Richard J. Reynolds.

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: My lovely child of 19 has been swept off her feet by a man nearly twice her age. I can't even talk to her about delaying marriage until she knows him better without her getting hysterical and crying "Oh, mother, leave me alone, leave me alone!"

I am so confused. My own marriage to her father ended in divorce because I rushed into it, and I have tried so hard to prepare her for a happier life than mine has been. If you could...

ANSWER: It's very hard for her to trust your sexual counsel. But it may be even harder for you to realize this. That's because, as mothers who have failed as wives, we tend to take special pride in our closeness to the child. Without knowing it, we may have even made a resolve to be the most loved, most trusted mother in the world.

We do this as proof of our loveliness to the man who wounded us as well as to our own self-doubting selves.

So, to realize that the child we wanted to mother so perfectly regards us as an unreliable guide to sexual happiness—that very area of our own lives in which we are most unsure of ourselves—can be very painful indeed.

We may just not be up to the knowledge that our own failure still haunts our relationship to the child in spite of all our efforts to atone for it. Yet it may be that in this knowledge lies the answer to this breakdown of talk between you and your daughter.

The moment it's possible to acknowledge that our old failure HAS made us into an unreliable guide, we can put the child's distrust of us into words for her and can suggest a reliable guide. We can say:

"I can understand why you have to count me out as a person to trust with this problem. It hurts me a little but not more than I can stand."

"But the fact that you can't talk to me about your feelings for Jim doesn't mean you can't talk to anyone about them. What about talking to a psychiatrist about them—a man? You haven't had a father around to take your trouble to, so the idea of talking to a kind, fatherlike man you can truly trust may not have occurred to you."

"Yet talking to such a man may be exactly what you want more than anything else in the world right now."

Somewhere psychoanalyst Dr. Karen Horney wrote, "Pride is always the enemy of love." And so it is. It's the sexual enemy of women whose special pride, wounded by divorce, has re-related itself in the form of pride in motherhood.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Unslightly Keloids Difficult to Remove

When a scar gets carried away with its own importance, you have a keloid. This is a hard, raised scar that is smooth except for its clawlike edges.

Keloids are primarily a cosmetic problem but, if they occur at the collar line or any other location where they are rubbed by your clothing, BRANDSTADT they may be a constant source of irritation.

They usually follow a burn, chronic infection, operation or vaccination. They may run in families.

JAPANESE SURVIVORS

A large number of keloids were seen in the survivors of the atomic explosions in Japan. Keloids are not malignant and some patients.

More recently, two new compounds, triethylene-thiophosphoramide and triamcortolone acetamide have been found to give good results both on old keloids and in the prevention of new ones.

For those who have the patience to stay with it for 10 to 12 months, deep heat produced by ultrasonic waves has also reduced keloids nearly to the vanishing point.

Comparative studies to determine which of the methods mentioned is best have not yet been made but at least there has been some progress in getting rid of these unsightly scars.

X-RAY EXPOSURE

Exposure to X rays, injecting the keloid with one of the corticosteroids, heavy pressure with a freezing agent such as dry ice, injection with a mixture of lidocaine (a local anesthetic) and dexamethasone, all have produced good results in some patients.

A—You probably have acne necrotica. This disease is in no way related to the acne of adolescents.

The cause is unknown but it is most often seen in middle-aged men. It is hard to cure but it can be helped by rubbing white ammoniated mercury ointment (10 per cent) in your scalp every second or third night.

This should be washed out thoroughly in the morning. If you are overweight you should reduce and regardless of your weight you should cut out fatty foods and chocolates.

If these measures do not help you, you should see a skin specialist. (Writes for Newspaper Enterprises Assn.)

New Home Movie Gear

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newsfeatures

The 8mm home movie field is buzzing with activity with the launching in the United States of Fuji's Instant Load Movie System from Japan and a new color film, Agfachrome CK17S, from Germany.

The Japanese is a major movie invasion involving a new film, new cameras, new projectors, new accessories and a processing lab in Rochester, N. Y., so that exposed films need not go to Japan for finishing.

The Agfa Processing Lab in Flushing, N. Y., is well past its shakedown stages and has been on full-scale production for several years producing color slide transparencies and color prints from German color films.

The new Agfachrome color movie film is Type A (tungsten-type) with an ASA speed of 40 with floodlights or sun guns and it can be used in daylight at ASA 25 with a No. 85 conversion filter.

It is supplied in double 8mm 25-foot rolls to fit standard 8mm movie cameras.

'SINGLE-8'

The new Fuji line is built around a "Single-8" film cartridge which contains 50 feet of 8mm color film in a single, continuous roll.

There is a difference between Single-8 and Kodak's Super 8 cameras and film cartridges.

The Single-8 has a simplified thinner cartridge and a pressure plate built into the camera.

The Kodak Super 8 has a pressure plate built into the cartridge. Each cartridge can be used only in a camera of its own system.

ANY NEW PROJECTOR

However, after processing, both films can be run on any of the new projectors taking the enlarged-area 8mm film.

Two cameras will become available in America this month: the Fujica Instant Load Single-8 P-1 and a Zoom-Reflex model, both slim-line and battery operated.

The P-1 is a fixed focus camera with an f/1.8, 11.5mm lens.

The Zoom Reflex model has an f/1.6 lens with a range from 9.5 to 29mm, a magnification of three times.

MANUALLY OPERATED

Zooming is manually operated but filming is powered by four pen-light batteries with provision for single frame and 18 or 24 frames per second.

Two projectors make their debut also. The Fujica Scope M-2 Single-8 projector features automatic threading onto take-up reel, push button operation and uses a 50-watt lamp.

Model SM-1 is a sound projector with microphone, earphone, dynamic speaker and a patch cord for direct pickup from a tape recorder or phonograph.

TAPE RECORDER

The tape synchronization unit permits the use of the M-2 silent projector and a tape recorder in order to add sound to a home movie taken on Single-8 film.

Since Fuji film has a polyester base, it cannot be spliced with ordinary film cements.

A new polyester tape and a splicer create a strong butt splice for editing movies.

The Fuji Single-8 movie system in the United States will be handled by Ehrenreich Photo-Optical Industries with headquarters in Garden City, N.Y.

Pilot processing and test runs of the film have been going on for months in a Rochester, N.Y., lab to prepare for the film's availability in this country starting this month.

Extortionists Victimized Top Names

NEW YORK (AP) — Eminent educators, including at least two deans of Eastern universities, prominent theatrical personalities and officers of the armed services — all homosexual — have been the victims of an extortion ring, the New York Times said today.

The ring has operated throughout the nation for nearly 10 years, the Times said.

The story also said in part: So brazen is the operation that, in one instance, two gang members, posing as New York City detectives, walked into the Pentagon and walked out with a high officer in the armed services.

The man, who they shook down for several thousand dollars, committed suicide the night before he was scheduled to testify before a New York County grand jury.

This was learned Wednesday from the police and sources in the district attorney's office.

It was also learned that more than 1,000 victims had paid millions of dollars in extortion, with some individuals paying more than $20,000 to ring members posing as policemen. Only a small number of persons have been willing to sign complaints.

Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan announced last Feb. 17 that the indictment of 17 defendants on charges of extortion from homosexuals and reported that nine were in custody. At the time, he said the victims who had made complaints had given $15,529 to the gang.

To Rezoning Request

Citizen Presents Creative Opposition

Fighting commercial rezoning requested for a small strip of land on the city's east side, a Pontiac home owner last night added a novel twist to the routine public hearing held by the City Planning Commission.

Arnold R. Jones, 672 Linda Vista, showed city planners a series of color slides as "creative opposition" to the proposed rezoning.

Normally, the slide presentation is a procedure employed by the petitioner.

In an attempt to show neighborhood conditions he claimed were a result of adjacent commercial establishments, Jones cited seven reasons why he was opposed to the rezoning.

He also presented city planners with a protest petition signed by some 30 home owners.

LISTS REASONS

Jones said rezoning of the property at N. East Boulevard and Victory to permit the location there of some seven stores would increase area traffic, increase the possibility of litter, increase noise and possibly drop the value of adjacent residential property.

"Our only problems are those brought to us by the businesses near us," said Jones, who is attempting to form a neighborhood home owners' association.

Offering his "creative opposition," Jones showed slides of beer bottles, broken glass and other litter he charged was left behind by "obnoxious night riders."

Man Wins Suit Against CBS on Idea of 'Paladin'

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP) — Victor de Costa of Johnston, R.I., who says he's the original Paladin, has won $150,000 in a suit in which he claimed his idea was appropriated for the television program "Have Gun, Will Travel."

De Costa had asked for $2 million in his suit against the Columbia Broadcasting System.

He said he invented Paladin when he performed at rodeos in 1947, nine years before the debut of "Have Gun, Will Travel."

U.S., Reds Move Nearer N-Nonproliferation Treaty

GENEVA (UPI) — The United States and the Soviet Union today took another step closer to a possible nuclear nonproliferation treaty by agreeing to exclude other issues from their negotiations.

The two nuclear superpowers are already agreed that preventing the further spread of nuclear weapons is the most crucial issue now facing the world and that agreement is vital.

Today, they both rejected demands made by nonaligned, nonnuclear countries that a treaty be linked to other nuclear disarmament measures.

American disarmament negotiator Adrian S. Fisher and Soviet negotiator Semyon K. Tsarapkin said agreement on nonproliferation would certainly facilitate negotiations on other questions.

But any link to different issues would only complicate negotiations or even block eventual agreement, they said.

FACILITATE ACCORD

"The implementation of nonproliferation would undoubtedly facilitate agreement on other matters," Tsarapkin told the disarmament conference.

But, he said, "there is doubtful good in packaging several measures, or making one measure dependent on the implementation of others."

This could complicate negotiations which are already difficult.

Fisher said in his speech the United States hopes that agreement on nonproliferation "will move us forward toward agreement" on other issues.

"As we have said before, however, we could not link the entry into force of one measure with that of another for fear we would not get either," he said.

WELCOMED BY WEST

Tsarapkin's speech was welcomed by Western officials as a serious contribution to an eventual nonproliferation pact.

Tsarapkin's repeated rejection of America's draft treaty was expected, they said.

The important thing, according to the officials is that Russia now seems to be ready for truly serious negotiations.

Tsarapkin said the American draft is "unacceptable" because it would permit nuclear sharing arrangements in NATO.

It would not prevent nonnuclear countries from acquiring "the right of participation in the ownership, disposal and use of nuclear weapons," he said.

NATO, he said, could thus "become a sanctuary for non-nuclear states which strive for access to nuclear weapons."

"This is nepotism on the part of the U. S., which acts at a third category of states," he said.

The Western countries at the conference have repeatedly served notice on Russia, however, that they have no intention of abandoning NATO's right to make its own security arrangements.

Fisher today again stressed, however, that America would never relinquish control over her nuclear weapons within NATO, nor would any nonnuclear NATO state acquire the right to fire such arms in any sharing arrangement.

City planners rejected the rezoning proposal, voting to recommend denial of the petition.

In other business last night, a preliminary plan and rezoning for urban renewal land were accorded favorable recommendations.

The residential zoning was recommended for the block bounded by Paddock, Osburn, Perkins and Wall.

Favorable recommendations were also granted four other urban renewal proposals. These included the vacating of an alley within the block; the vacating of Perkins, Auburn highway south to Jeddson; and the vacating of Center, Park to Osburn.

VACATING OF ALLEY

Also, the vacating of the alley parallel to Osburn, between Hovey and O'Reilly, received an affirmative recommendation.

In other business, the vacating of the alley parallel to Wallon, from Hollywood east to the north-south alley parallel to Baldwin, also was given a favorable recommendation.

Final action on rezoning requests and street and alley vacations rests with the City Commission.

Woman Facing Arraignment in Shooting of Two

MUSKOGEE HEIGHTS (AP) — Mrs. Leona Mosler, 46, of Spring Lake fashion and beauty consultant faces Circuit Court arraignment Monday on charges of attempted murder and assault on her husband and another woman.

She was bound over Wednesday but was released under $3,000 bond after examination on the charges before Muskegon Heights Municipal Judge Matthew C. Locke.

The defendant is accused in the gunshot wounding Jan. 1 of her husband, Lawrence, 49, and Mrs. Eleanor Anderson, 42. Police said the shooting took place at Mrs. Anderson's home in Muskegon Heights. Mrs. Mosler was arrested at her own residence about one hour later.

Mrs. Anderson remains partially paralyzed as a result of a bullet wound of the back. She testified Wednesday in a room at Hackley Hospital. Mosler has recovered from her wound.

Each also said it is important to provide funds quickly for an $800 million backlog of urban renewal projects awaiting action.

Cavanagh suggested that $2.9 billion in urban renewal funds, authorized last year for the next four years, be made available now.

Cavanagh testified that carrying out a five-year renewal plan in Detroit would require $2.5 billion.

Indonesians Close College

Protesting Students

SINGAPORE (AP) — The Indonesian government has closed the University of Indonesia in Jakarta "to stop students and nonstudents from using the university for undesirable purposes," Radio Jakarta announced today.

The broadcast said the university was being closed "for the time being" and will be guarded by the Jakarta military garrison.

An anti-Communist students from the university have been demonstrating for the past week against President Sukarno's dismissal of Defense Minister Abdul Haris Nasution.

Nasution led the army campaign against the Communists after the failure of the Red attempt to seize power on Oct. 1.

LEADING PART

Sukarno banned all student demonstrations last week, but they have continued almost daily with students from the University of Indonesia taking the leading part. Wednesday, about 2,000 marched on government offices and burned an effigy of Premier Sukarno. Reliable sources said army troops looted on tolerance.

The demonstrations are being staged by KAMI, a student organization banned by Sukarno last week.

Reports reaching Singapore said KAMI has used the university as its headquarters and students have converted it into an "armed fortress."

KAMI staged two violent demonstrations outside Sukarno's palace in Jakarta last week in which three students were killed and another two were wounded. Sukarno flew out by helicopter to his place at Bogor, 40 miles south of the capital. Reports reaching here said he has been sequestered since.

CONFERENCE?

In another broadcast, Radio Jakarta said the Philippine government is trying to arrange a meeting of President Ferdinand E. Marcos of the Philippines, Sukarno and Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman of Malaysia to end the three-year-old undeclared war between Indonesia and Malaysia.

Despite this, the broadcast said, Indonesia's campaign against Malaysia will continue and will be stepped up. Sukarno contends that Malaysia is a "neocolonial" British creation aimed at destroying Indonesia.

Detroit Mayor, Lindsay Testify

WASHINGTON (AP) — The mayors of New York and Detroit told Congress Wednesday either of their cities could use all the funds President Johnson has proposed for demonstrations in 60 to 70 cities of massive assault on slums and their effects.

Testifying separately before the House subcommittee on housing, John V. Lindsay of New York and Jerome P. Cavanagh of Detroit advocated that the $2.3 billion Johnson seeks over a five-year period be made available all at once.

Each also said it is important to provide funds quickly for an $800 million backlog of urban renewal projects awaiting action.

Cavanagh suggested that $2.9 billion in urban renewal funds, authorized last year for the next four years, be made available now.

Legalized off-Track Betting, Consumer Bills Introduced

LANSING (AP) — Twenty-one bills to save the consumer's money and one to let him put it on the horses while away from the track were among nearly 50 introduced in the Michigan Legislature today.

The consumer protection package, ordered by the House and Senate majority leadership, "ranges over the entire area of buying, borrowing and advertising," said Rep. Marvin Stempler, D - Livonia, chairman of the subcommittee on consumer protection of the House Judiciary Committee.

The "bookmaking" bill is an attempt by Rep. George Montgomerie, D - Detroit, to cut into what he calls a large volume of illegal betting in the state, by permitting "pari-mutuel accounts" — a sort of legalized bookie.

"There are those who feel that as much money is bet off the tracks as on in Michigan," Montgomery said. Off-track bets — taken by bookies — are illegal in Michigan.

Consumer bills would establish a state consumer council — "an agency responsible for research in consumer affairs."

Other bills in the package provide for: — A truth-in-packing law, providing for labeling goods by cost, measure and weight; — A truth-in-lending law, requiring that the buyer be given the full cost of credit purchases and setting a ceiling on the amount of interest charged; — A truth-in-advertising law, providing penalties for deliberate use of misleading or unfair advertising; — Mandatory licensing of hearing aid dispensers; — Mandatory registration of door-to-door salesmen by county law enforcement agencies.

NOT CURE-ALLS — The bills, Stempler said, "are not intended to be cure-alls but have been designed to hit at problems plaguing the buying public."

The betting bill would empower the State Racing Commission to issue pari-mutuel licenses and rules — including qualifications of financial responsibility and character and activities of agents.

The agent would have to have the entire amount of the bet from the bettor before he could place it on a horse.

He would receive a maximum of 25 cents for each ticket sold — regardless of the size of the bet. He would receive the same maximum for each ticket cashed, plus a fee from the track.

The bill also could increase state revenues by taxing at 8 per cent track receipts that represent more than a 25 per cent growth in the amount of wagering.
