Airport Referendum Vetoed by Romney

Calling it "an unjustified and potentially disastrous restriction," Gov. George Romney yesterday vetoed a bill that would have called for a referendum on development of Oakland-Orion Airport.

Though the bill was aimed specifically at Oakland County, it eventually would have affected other counties' development plans, one of Romney's aides told The Press.

The measure, House Bill 3632, was guided through the State Legislature late in May by Rep. Donald E. Bishop, R-Rochester. Bishop said he backed the bill because many residents in his area had written to him opposing the proposed facility.

An amendment was added to a bill mainly concerning referendum voting. It specified that a referendum be called in any county that wanted to expand an airport beyond 600 acres.

ONLY ONE AFFECTED

The Oakland-Orion facility in Orion Township has been expanded to just over 599 acres, meaning the bill would have applied that airport alone, at present.

The amended bill got through the House by a single vote, but the Senate okayed it 34-0. In order for the Legislature to override Romney's veto it needs a two-thirds majority vote in each house.

The county plans to expand Oakland-Orion to complement Oakland-Pontiac Airport in Waterford Township. A master plan is now before the Federal Aviation Agency, and if approval is forthcoming quickly, some phases of construction could start at Oakland-Orion early next year.

The county plans to gradually expand the facility over a 10-year period. First to be built, by 1970, would be two medium-sized runways. Eventual plans are for four runways, two of them 7,000 feet long. With complementary facilities

4 Paper Unions to Vote on Pact

DETROIT (AP)—Heads of bargaining committees for four of six striking Detroit newspaper unions agreed last night to "recommend acceptance by their membership of the recommendations" of a special mediator in the city's 224-day-old newspaper blackout.

But the breakthrough still gave no assurance of a quick return of newspapers to Detroit area readers.

A proposed 34½-month contract, offering $33 in four increments, was accepted by the Paper and Plate Handlers Union, the Lithographers and Photoengravers Union, the Printing Pressmen's Union, the International Typographical Union and by representatives of the two papers.

However, three other unions — two of them on strike — still were reported negotiating beyond recommendations made by University of Wisconsin law professor and labor mediator Dr. Nathan Feinsinger. These unions are the mailers, the Newspaper Guild and stereotypes.

NO VOTING DATES SET

In addition, ratification must come from the voting membership of the four agreeing unions and numerous building and maintenance unions.

Norman Park, head of the Council of Newspaper Unions, said at last night's announcement that no ratification dates have been set and there are not now any special procedures established for meetings with publishers and the three unions still negotiating.

Torrential rains yesterday flooded county roads and numerous basements and temporarily knocked out electrical and telephone lines in several areas. Flooding was so bad in Novi Township that a diver was employed to attach a towline to a stalled car.

Rain readings varied from 2.15 inches at the Oakland-Pontiac Airport to 4.8 inches at the Oakland County Drain Commission and 6.5 inches at The Pontiac Press.

Rain is likely to continue tonight and tomorrow while it remains cloudy and cool. High today is expected to be about 70 while the low for tonight will be 54 to 60. Winds are mostly northeasterly from 10 to 20 miles today with precipitation probabilities in per cent at 80 today, 70 tonight, and 40 tomorrow.

'Trudeaumania' Gives Victory to Canada Liberals

TORONTO (AP) — A tidal wave of "Trudeaumania" gave Canada's Liberal party a clear-cut mandate in yesterday's election.

Pierre Elliott Trudeau, who entered politics only three years ago, capitalized on personal appeal and pragmatic politics to lead his Liberals to the biggest victory any party has scored in the last 10 years, a 22-vote majority in Parliament.

Trudeau, who assumed the prime ministry when Liberal Lester B. Pearson retired two months ago, showed himself a tough politician in the campaign. He said the right things and made no big promises.

Though a native of Quebec, he didn't give an inch to those Quebecers who want a special deal for that dominantly French-speaking province, or even to split off from Canada. There is one Canada, Trudeau said, and that's the way it's going to be.

DIDN'T FLINCH

At the last minute, when Quebec separatists rioted in Montreal and hurled a bottle past the prime minister, he didn't flinch.

In contrast, the Conservatives, though also under new leadership, never caught popular fancy. Robert Stanfield, the party's leader, said as the returns rolled in that he had known 24 hours earlier that his party was beaten.

Stanfield is 54, only six years older than Trudeau, but to most Canadians, it appeared, his and the Tories' ideas were old-hat or at least not good enough.

The election was for 264 seats, with each citizen voting only for a legislator in his own district. Thus Trudeau's name was on the ballot only in a Montreal district, but voters nationwide knew whom they were supporting when they voted Liberal.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson announced today his acceptance of the resignation of Chief Justice Earl Warren and the selection of Justice Abe Fortias to replace Warren.

Huge Drug Haul Seized in NY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal agents have seized $22.4 million worth of heroin — the largest single seizure of the drug in the nation's history — in an automobile in New York City, Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark said today.

Clark said the 112 kilograms of pure heroin was discovered in a hidden compartment in a foreign automobile which had been shipped to New York City from France.

Clark said a 63-year-old naturalized citizen was arrested in New York City and four Frenchmen were captured in Paris in connection with the seizure. All were charged with conspiracy to violate U.S. or French narcotic laws.

Henry L. Giordano, associate director of the Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs, said the seizure followed an investigation that lasted several months and involved the close cooperation of the Central Narcotic Bureau of France, U.S. Customs and New York City and New York State police.

The American citizen charged was Arthur Benvenuto of New York City.

Michigan Bell Telephone Co. reported about 500 customers in the Pontiac area were temporarily without service after some 40 cables got wet and the wires inside shorted. Service should be completely restored by 10 tonight barring another heavy rainfall.

TREES DOWN WIRES

Detroit Edison Co. reported about 1,600 customers near Wing Lake in Bloomfield Township were without service between 6:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. yesterday after falling trees brought down wires. Some 215 customers in Clarkston, 30 in Farmington Township and other scattered customers were also without power for short times last night.

Consumers Power Co. reported that the Rundell substation was flooded although the power didn't go off. Some 100 electrical turnoffs and about 430 gas turnoffs were requested by customers because of flooding basements. Servicemen are turning the gas and electricity valves in these houses back on today.

Extensive road damage was reported both in the city and the county.

JUST COMPLETED

Work on installation of a sewer beneath the roadbed had been completed just three days ago. Oakland County Road Commission spokesmen said the heavy rains apparently saturated the dirt road, causing it to settle along the path of the sewer.

The storm caused widespread flooding in Pontiac making several streets impassable part of the time.

The streets near Pontiac Creek from the Pontiac State Hospital grounds to the railroad, were still flooded and impassable this morning.

Walton between Joslyn and Giddings was still under water this morning, according to police.

In addition, Bay Street north of University Drive was completely washed out and the Clinton River overflowed in the area of Opdyke and M59 causing these streets to be impassable for some time.

Oscar Loomis, general maintenance superintendent for the Oakland County Road Commission reported numerous damaged roads.

"There's still a lot of standing water," he said.

Loomis reported the following roads as the most seriously damaged or flooded: portions of Gill in Farmington Township; Commerce, east of Lake Sherwood in Commerce Township; South Boulevard, west of Crooks in Troy and Avon Township; and Livernois, between Dutton and Tienken in Avon Township. Also in bad condition are Gunn, between Rochester and Orion in Oakland Township; Kensington, north of 16 Mile Road and Big Beaver, between Woodward and Adams in Bloomfield Township.

Youth Drowns in Troy Drain

An 18-year-old Crosswell youth was drowned last night when he was swept by surging storm waters into a drain intake in Troy's Somerset apartment complex.

Troy Police said James K. Grandy was spending the summer with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Rennicks of 2067 Somerset.

Police said the three were walking and looking at the deep water at the rear of the apartments near Golfview, between Coolidge and Crooks, and decided to swim in the swift current shortly before the mishap occurred at about 7:30 p.m.

After swimming for a few moments all three reportedly emerged from the water. Then the victim decided to re-enter, and began swimming on his back with the current, police said.

WENT UNDER

Grandy then went under the surface, police reported, and his brother-in-law attempted to rescue him but was unable to hold him.

Members of the Troy Fire Department brought a small boat to the heavily flooded area to assist in a search for the youth, but abandoned the effort shortly after 9 p.m. to wait for daylight.

Two teams began searching again this morning, and found the youth's body at about 7:30 in an open drain ditch south of Morse between Crooks and Livernois, about 1¼ miles from the drain intake.

The victim was pronounced dead about an hour later by Dr. Leroy S. Neumann of Royal Oak, police said.

TWO CULVERTS

Before entering the open ditch west of Crooks, the Kirt's Drain passes through two culverts, one 27 inches in diameter and the other 54 inches in diameter.

The ditch where the youth was found was swollen beyond capacity at 8:30 this morning, long after the heavy rain had subsided, and was so deep that searchers had to cross it on a pile of driftwood which had accumulated.

STORM VICTIM—Police and firemen recover the body of James K. Grandy, 18, of Crosswell from a Troy drain ditch early this morning. The youth was swept into a drain intake near Golfview last night while swimming in storm waters.

U.S. Charges N. Viet Infiltration Hit Record

PARIS (AP) — The United States accused North Vietnam today of pushing troop infiltration into South Vietnam to a record high 29,000 men during May and said "an abnormally high rate of infiltration" is indicated by evidence for June.

Ambassador Cyrus R. Vance told United States Secretary of State Dean Rusk that the United States is "prepared to cease bombing" of North Vietnam but cannot do so when the North has "intensified its war effort" at the very time the United States tried to de-escalate.

Humphrey of trying to create confusion and misled world opinion over the bombing question by suggesting recently that an immediate cease-fire should be established in Vietnam. Lack of progress in the Paris peace talks to date, he said, is due to "the position of aggression of the United States and their quibbling attitude."

"We are very serious about these negotiations," Vance told Thuy. "We want them to succeed."

"We think there is a proper basis for peace in Southeast Asia that conforms to the legitimate interests of all the countries of that area, and that we and others should move steadily toward it."

Vance said of the U.S. position: "We are prepared to cease bombardment at the appropriate time and circumstances. Our fundamental premise is that North Vietnam must not improve its military position as a result of the cessation of bombardment by the United States."

Thuy replied, according to his spokesman, with a demand that all attacks on the North stop immediately without any military reciprocity by the North Vietnamese forces. He said then other peacemaking questions could be discussed here.

The two sides agreed to meet again next Wednesday.

AGREED: NO PROGRESS

The Americans and North Vietnamese agreed that the talks made no progress. But there was a 42-minute coffee break of which North Vietnamese spokesman Nguyen Thanh Le said, "There was nothing special during it."

The coffee breaks are regarded by American negotiators as a hopeful development for the future when they may provide a basis for private exploration of peace possibilities.

Vance spoke for the United States for the first time. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman is in the United States this week. The session lasted about four hours and 10 minutes. When Vance returned to the American Embassy, he said "there was no movement" but added, "I'm not discouraged."

Waterford Twp. Files Briefs in Appeal of Terms Ruling

Attorneys for Waterford Township have filed briefs with the Michigan Supreme Court defending a state law extending the terms of incumbent township officers.

The law was declared unconstitutional by Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer early last month.

It provides that township officers elected in 1966 would continue in office until November 1970, 18 months longer than the terms to which they were elected.

The measure was adopted by the Legislature to eliminate the lame-duck period affecting township officers who were elected in a November election but did not take office until the following April.

DEADLINE YESTERDAY

The court had set yesterday as the deadline for filing briefs appealing the Circuit Court ruling.

If the lower court decision is upheld, present township officers will have to run for reelection this year if they want to remain in office.

If the decision is reversed, there will be no election for township officers this year.

All candidates for township office must run in the Aug. 6 primary election. It is because of the short time left that the Supreme Court is being asked to resolve the case immediately.

Romney Reaffirms Neutrality in Race

LANSING (UP) — Gov. Romney reaffirmed his neutrality in the race for the Republican presidential nomination on the eve of a delegate-watching trip today by Richard M. Nixon who drove Romney from the field before a vote was cast.

Romney said yesterday that he had no intention of abandoning his favorite son at this time.

Nixon was making the trip—his first major campaign swing since the assassination of Robert F. Kennedy—at the invitation of the Michigan delegation, which held a similar session with Gov. Nelson Rockefeller last month in Detroit.

Nixon was making the trip—his first major campaign swing since the assassination of Robert F. Kennedy—at the invitation of the Michigan delegation, which held a similar session with Gov. Nelson Rockefeller last month in Detroit.

Not legally binding

as a favorite son at the Miami Beach convention in August. But the commitment of the delegates is ethical and not legally binding.

Nixon's Michigan campaign manager, State Sen. Emil Lockwood of St. Louis, predicted that Nixon would win new supporters through his visit and eventually—but not immediately—the backing of Romney.

Lockwood claims that Nixon is the favorite—after Romney—of about 25 of the 48 delegates. Rockefeller's supporters also claim that many and more.

VIEW POSITIONS

Romney says his support is dependent upon the positions the candidates take on the major issues, especially the Vietnam war and urban problems.

While there is considerable discussion among Michigan Republicans about the possibility that Romney might become a vice presidential contender for either Nixon or Rockefeller, but especially Nixon, Romney declines active interest and rejects the notion that the second spot on the ticket is the price for his support.

Bar Exec to Run for Prosecutor

Louis E. Fairbrother of 212 Josephine, secretary and director of the Oakland County Bar Association, has announced his candidacy for prosecuting attorney.

He seeks the Democratic nomination in the Aug. 6 primary for the post to be vacated by S. Jerome Bronson, who is running for a seat on the Michigan Court of Appeals.

Fairbrother, 40, is a former assignment officer for the Oakland County Circuit Court. He and his wife, Barbara, have six children. His law office is at 801 S. Adams, Birmingham.

Fairbrother holds a law degree from the University of Detroit, is a member of St. Benedict's school board and a member of the Pontiac Elks Lodge.

In announcing why he is seeking the post, Fairbrother stated: "Disrespect for the law is one of the major problems of our times. The citizens of Oakland County are entitled to resolute enforcement of the law by the prosecuting attorney."

"To obtain such law enforcement we need qualified, dedicated and highly trained personnel in the prosecutor's office cooperating with and assisting other law enforcement agencies."

Plan for Another Mall Gets Preliminary City Approval

City commissioners, following the recommendation of the city staff, last night gave preliminary approval to a plan for another parking mall on Saginaw in the downtown area.

Downtown merchants presented the commission with a petition requesting another mall following success with the existing parking mall on Saginaw between Huron and Pike.

Under a plan developed by the city staff, the mall would be located between Huron and the Oakland-Saginaw intersection. The mall would include Warren from Saginaw to the alley west of it and University Drive from Saginaw to the alley east of it.

Director of Public Works Joseph E.

Nepling said conversion would entail rerouting traffic around the mall and removal of islands at the point of intersection of Saginaw, Oakland and Lafayette.

EQUIPMENT DELIVERY

He said the mall could be put into effect as soon as ticket emission equipment can be delivered, probably no sooner than September.

Nepling said experience with the present mall indicates that the new mall would be self-supporting and profits from the operation would justify an initial $50,000 expense by the city to put the mall into operation.

The new mall would have parking for about 130 cars.

Rains Flood County Areas

Bloomfield Township police reported a flooded culvert washed out a bridge at 14 Mile Road just east of Franklin. Waterford Township police reported portions of the Dixie were closed between Walton and Floradale and also Cass Lake Road between Elizabeth Lake Road and M59.

Flooding was also reported on Middle Belt between 14 and 15 Mile roads.

Grand Trunk Western Railroad Trainmaster Max Waldrup reported several washouts along the railroad's right of way.

One is at the Bloomfield Township subdivision opposite St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, two are on the Jackson subline in Walled Lake and one in the Romeo subline as well as the Cass City subline near Oxford.

TRAINS TO BE SLOWED

Trains will be slowed down to 10 miles per hour according to Waldrup, but no main trains will be canceled.

Commission OKs Program for Sidewalks

BIRMINGHAM — The City Commission has approved this city's sidewalk program for this year. The program will be conducted in "Sidewalk Replacement Area 3"—an area bounded by Adams, Woodward, 14 Mile, Pierce, Frank and Maple.

Sidewalk to be replaced in the area has been designated with paint during a survey by the engineering department, according to a report submitted to the commission by City Engineer William T. Killen.

Green paint indicates that the section of walk to be replaced is the property owner's responsibility; yellow denotes the city's responsibility.

CITY RESPONSIBILITY

"The city responsibility," Killen explained, "will generally be under one of the following conditions: (1) Sidewalk is damaged by a city tree, (2) Sidewalk has settled over sewer and water service trench, (3) Sidewalk at intersection, and (4) Sidewalk along side frontage, except at driveways."

No definite price figure has been set for sidewalk which is to be replaced at the expense of property owners. However, cost for a 4-inch-thick concrete replacement in last year's program was 61½ cents per square foot. The cost to owners depends on the price paid to the sidewalk contractor.

In addition to the replacement, the program will include the construction of new sidewalks in two areas, as recommended by the city engineer: the north side of Haynes from Elm to Adams, and the south side of Lincoln from Woodward to Adams.

Both sidewalks will be five feet wide, and both can be "ordered in" by the commission, since they are adjacent to business property, Killen said.

TOTAL COST

The city engineer estimated total cost of the program at $80,587, with $53,315, or about 66 per cent, to be paid for by property owners. The city, Killen added, would pay an estimated $23,906, and the remaining $3,366 would come from the sewer and water account.

The work should be done by late summer or fall, Killen said. In other business, the commission approved an elevator maintenance contract with the Montgomery Elevator Co. for the Lot 5 parking structure, located on Woodward north of Willis.

Assistant City Manager John F. Seefke had recommended acceptance of the contract after conferring with the city's legal counsel at the request of the commission.

PREVIOUS URGING

City Manager Robert S. Kenning had previously urged that the contract be accepted July 1, provided there were no objections with the elevators from June 12-30.

However, commissioners, citing mechanical problems encountered during the past year, asked if a longer trial period might not be possible.

The contract as approved will become effective July 1, and will be in the amount of $167 a month.

A request has been received from the Birmingham-Bloomfield Chamber of Commerce for additional parking spaces, due to the fact that the completion of the new Lot 1 structure, at Pierce and Merrill, has been delayed by a construction strike.

SHOPPER DIFFICULTIES

"... The August back-to-school shoppers and the November and December Christmas shoppers will find it most difficult to park in Birmingham," commented chamber president Carl F. Fischer.

Change at Horse Show

Today's schedule for the Detroit Horse Show on the Bloomfield Open Hunt grounds has been revised to offer only jumping events in the sand ring this afternoon and tonight.

Warren Coy but Admits He's Resigning

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Chief Justice Earl Warren coyly conceded yesterday he is stepping down from the U.S. Supreme Court and returning to his native California.

The 77-year-old jurist told newsmen he preferred having President Johnson make the official announcement. Warren said he had written the President concerning his retirement or resignation.

"There is no mystery about it," he said. "I have written a letter to the President on that subject, but the contents and the President's reply should remain unknown until the President makes it public."

Asked if there were any reason why he should quit the nation's highest judicial post, Warren replied: "Yes. Age."

Rocky: Getting RFK Support

By The Associated Press

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says he's picking up support that had gone to Sen. Robert F. Kennedy—and at the same time has kept alive the idea of running with California Gov. Ronald Reagan.

"He (Kennedy) had become a symbol to minority groups more than anyone since Roosevelt," Rockefeller said in Albany Tuesday. "I think much of this is now coming my way."

The Republican presidential aspirant said earlier in the day there was "absolutely no basis" to reports he had given up the idea of a Rockefeller-Reagan ticket.

"Although Mr. Reagan himself has said he would not be a candidate," Rockefeller said,

"there have been a great many people who have felt there was a possibility of a ticket there."

'NOT INTERESTED'

Reagan has said repeatedly he is not interested in the vice presidency and he told a news conference Tuesday neither Rockefeller nor Richard M. Nixon had asked him to become a running mate.

Reagan, a GOP favorite son, also indicated he would not be entered as a presidential candidate at the Republican National Convention if it is obvious someone else has the nomination locked up in advance.

"Obviously, if the convention is going to be sewed up," he said, "there's no sense in going down there and going through an empty gesture."

Reds Display U.S. 'Spy Boat'

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP)—North Korea displayed a 12-foot board-motorboat today and claimed it was the "U.S. Imperialist spy boat" it reported sinking off Korea's west coast Saturday.

The boat was set up outside the meeting place of the Joint Military Armistice Commission. It had the name of a Japanese maker, Yamaha Motor Co., on the hull, and two Mercury 500 engines made by Kiekhafer Corp. of Fond Du Lac, Wis.

The North Korean delegation brought the boat for the 27th meeting of the armistice commission. The boat had some bullet scars but otherwise looked intact.

3 Die in Hotel Fire; 15 Are Hospitalized

VANCOUVER (AP)—Fire swept the Clarence Hotel last night, killing at least three persons. Firemen with aerial ladders saved survivors who sat on the roof.

Fire Chief Ralph Jackson said the blaze was believed to have been started by an explosion. Authorities said at least 15 persons were hospitalized.

The hotel in the downtown business section is frequented by middle-aged low-income public come patrons.

Milford Marine Reports Seeing Red Copters at DMZ

CUA VIET, Vietnam (AP) — "We aren't seeing flying saucers, we're seeing helicopters and just about every night," says Marine Lance Cpl. Daryl Lewis, 19, of Milford.

Lewis, a naval gunfire forward spotter near the demilitarized zone, was talking about enemy helicopters that he and other artillery spotters have reported seeing for the past 10 days in the demilitarized zone.

Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, the U.S. commander in Vietnam, said Sunday "there is no formal, concrete, factual evidence" of North Vietnamese helicopters being used along the demilitarized zone.

Lacking photographic evidence or

Milford Marine Lance Cpl. Daryl Lewis of 723 Squire enlisted in the armed forces in January, 1967 and was sent to Vietnam February 14, 1968.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lewis, Daryl graduated from Milford High School in 1966 and for one term attended Lawrence Institute of Technology.

wreckage of enemy helicopters reported shot down, U.S. Command spokesmen are skeptical of the reports.

QUESTIONED 5 DAYS

Last week some sources said radar signals might have been misinterpreted as helicopters. One said the helicopter reports could be likened to the reported sightings of flying saucers.

A Marine staff sergeant who was one of the first to report helicopter sighting was summoned to Da Nang where he was questioned for five days.

"I think I convinced them I was not crazy and having hallucinations," he told his superior officers when he returned to the Cua Viet supply base on the South China Sea coast eight miles below the DMZ.

A lance corporal who also was among the first to report the lights is still in Saigon where he is being questioned, officers of the Marine 1st Amphibious Tractor Battalion said.

ENEMY COPTER LIGHTS

Monday night, Marine spotters at the forward post called "Ocean View"

reported seeing the lights of 11 enemy helicopters shuttling along the southern portion of the DMZ and then heading out toward Tiger Island, a North Vietnamese island 15 miles northeast of the DMZ.

Although reports vary, officers here say between three and five enemy helicopters have been shot down by Air Force F4 Phantoms or naval gunfire. The U.S. Command has not confirmed these reports.

A captain here said, "We know we got one about 10 days ago and two more the next night."

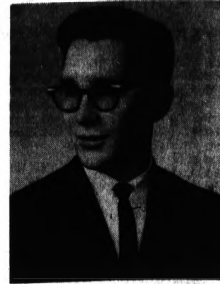

Because of the uncertainty in the U.S. Command over the sightings, he asked not to be identified and declined to say where he had received their information.

Lewis, who said he first saw the red lights moving along the DMZ two weeks ago, was atop the Ocean View lookout tower at the time.

"There were six blinking red lights, each about 500 meters apart," he said.

Asked if the lights could have been flares or possibly vehicles moving on a distant horizon, Lewis replied: "Definitely not. They were flashing red lights, moving in a kind of formation in the sky. There is no doubt in my mind or by anyone else who has seen them that they are helicopters, and they aren't ours. We don't have any up there."

Two soldiers who work on an Army team at Cua Viet as artillery observers for Marine countermortar and artillery fire agreed with Lewis.

Oxford School Board Pares Budget as Second Millage Vote Is Discussed

Bell Exec Heads JA for SE Michigan

Elected president of Junior Achievement of Southeastern Michigan at the recent annual meeting of the board of directors was Donald E. McGaw, vice president of Michigan Bell Telephone Co. A resident of 723 N. Valley Chase, Bloomfield Township, McGaw is completing a term as vice president of the youth organization.

Succeeding McGaw as vice president is Robert S. Olson, board chairman, Ford Motor Credit Co.

DIRECTORS REELECTED

Reelected as directors were Ross Roy, chairman of Ross Roy Inc., board chairman, Ludger A. Beauvais, director of controller staff services for the J. L. Hudson Co., treasurer; Ray C. Kool, director, Ford Motor Co. Fund, assistant treasurer; and Wesley R. Baker, secretary, the Kresge Foundation, secretary.

Others chosen to fill vacancies on the board included Jack M. Cudlip, assistant to the chairman, McLouth Steel Corp.; Charles C. Gale, treasurer, Parke, Davis & Co.; A. Dean Swift, general manager-Detroit group, Sears, Roebuck & Co.; and Wilfred D. MacDonnell, president, Kelsey-Hayes Co.

Still others are Charles R. Montgomery, vice president and controller, Michigan Consolidated Gas Co.; James Schiavone, general manager, WWJ-TV; and A. C. Welling, vice president, technical division, Wyandotte Chemicals Corp.

Edward P. Nagel, recently named executive vice president of JA in this area, becomes a director. Also reelected was Robert C. Trees, retired executive director of Metal Finishing Suppliers Association.

REPLACEMENTS

Replacements for retirees from the advisory council, headed by Stanley S. Kresge, board chairman, the Kresge Foundation; are Roland A. Mewhorst, president, Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit; and Dr. Austin Smith, board chairman and president, Parke, Davis & Co.

Candidates were submitted by nominating chairman Rinehart S. Bright, vice president - operations staff, Chrysler Corp.; and his committee of directors.

Residents of Bloomfield Township include Swift of 2596 Covington and MacDonnell of 1375 N. Gleggery. Living in Birmingham are Mewhorst of 1083 Chesterfield, Schiavone of 32600 Lahser and Trees of 1712 Oak.

Other area residents are Bright of 335 Cranbrook, Bloomfield Hills, and Nagel of 3200 Hartslock Woods, West Bloomfield Township.

140 Acres in Groveland

County Gets U.S. Funds for Park

Oakland County's Parks and Recreation Commission has received a $198,000 grant from the U.S. office of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), it was announced by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich.

The money is to match county funds spent in purchasing a 140-acre park in Groveland Township. The park, then known as Paradise Beach, was purchased in June 1967 for $490,000.

Bought from Dr. Lamar K. Mathews, who retired, the land contains a large springfed lake and camping and play areas. Dr. Mathews also had a clinic on the grounds.

The HUD funds, for area development of open spaces and parklands, represent about half the money spent on the land.

The facility at Dixie and Grange Hall is used mostly for family camping. Part of the land will be the site of a new sheriff's department substation to serve the four northwest county townships.

Funds for purchase of county parks, an ongoing program come from a one-quarter mill levy approved by voters in November 1966. This quarter mill provides the park commission with about $800,000 per year for a five-year period.

Other purchases included $540,000 for 337-acre site in Independence Township on the west side of Crooked Lake and two smaller parcels in Waterford Township, adjacent to County Center land at Telegraph and Pontiac Lake roads.

OXFORD — An attempt to maintain current school programs and facilities on a balanced budget was made by the board of education last night, even as it discussed a probable second millage vote in early September.

Some $54,500 was pared off the 1968-69 budget as the result of a voter turnout June 10 of an additional 6 operating mills. Voters at that time approved renewal of 9 mills.

The new budget of $1,472,515 is balanced, according to Schools Supt. Roger Oberg.

It reflects a $29,000 cut in maintenance costs, a $12,000 cut in capital outlay, a $9,000 reduction in teaching supplies, and field trips and conferences reduced by $2,400.

ATTEMPT DISCUSSED

The likelihood of an attempt to get an additional 2 or 3 mills next September was discussed by the board. Another meeting was set for 8 p.m. Monday at board offices.

It was noted that the current budget is balanced only if enrollment and state aid is as projected and if teacher and other employee salaries are negotiated within projected bounds.

The board last night voted to bypass a state mediator it had requested nearly two months ago and to meet with the Oxford Education Association, probably Tuesday, in an attempt to get stalled negotiations rolling again.

The effect of incorporation — making Oxford and part of the township a city — was asked by Calvin Darby, a resident.

TWO EFFECTS

Oberg said that while no formal position would be taken by the board, he could see two effects.

● The school taxes would be collected in the summer instead of in December for that portion incorporated.

● Under a charter township form of government (proposed by the township) as opposed to cityhood, the school district might possibly pick up $16,000 as opposed to $10,000 in an unallocated mill.

The possibility of using the old Christian Slattery house, formerly home of the Oxford Public Library, as school administrative offices or as a cultural center was asked by Darby.

The historic home is due to be torn down soon, unless someone is willing to pay the approximate $5,000 needed to move and relocate it. An investigation was promised.

CB Operators Form Emergency Patrol

WALLED LAKE — The Channel Breakers Citizen Band Radio Club has formed an emergency patrol team to work with Civil Defense and local law enforcement agencies.

At a recent meeting, the group reelected John Dementry president.

Oxford Area Population Meets Requirements for Incorporation

OXFORD — The vote to incorporate the village and parts of the township has cleared another hurdle here.

Village Manager Robert Smalley announced to the council last night that a state-conducted census showed the area contains 300 more residents than needed to meet state density requirements.

The survey showed 2,460 residents living within the present village limits and another 1,002 in the area of the township proposed for incorporation.

Smalley said the figures reflected a 103 population gain in the village since 1960.

PETITIONS FILED

Petitions to incorporate the area were filed earlier this year.

Cost surveys will be obtained for the acquisition of land off Washington Street for off-street parking.

Smalley reported that an informal meeting last week between the council and merchants had given the go-ahead to the project. The merchants reportedly will pay costs involved.

Beach Permit Again Goes to Novi Resident

NOVI — Although East Shore Beach has been open to area water-lovers for years, its operators must obtain a permit each year.

The permit comes from the Village Council, which has once again granted it. Herman W. Bohannon, 42935 14 Mile, will be operating the beach for his second year. East Shore Beach is across from East Shore Tavern.

In other action at a recent meeting, the Council purchased an all-season road grader for $16,000 from Michigan Tractor and Machinery Co., Novi.

A water budget of $90,400 for 1968-69 was also approved by Council. The village operates its own water system with revenues from tap-in, meter, and privilege fees, hydrant rental and equipment installation.

CONTRACT AWARDED

The contract for construction of the water main extension on Novi Road near Northville for the commercial area east of Novi Road was awarded to Canzano Excavating Co., Dearborn Heights, for $11,286.

Work will begin in one week and should be completed during the following week, estimated Village Manager, Harold Ackley.

Pontiac Township Sets Hours for Voter Signup

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — Mrs. Greta Block, township clerk, has announced that she will accept voter registrations for the Aug. 6 primaries all day Saturday June 29 and from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Friday July 5, the voter registration deadline.

The township office is open regularly weekdays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Clarkston Rotary Picks Officers

CLARKSTON — The Rotary Club has installed Louis W. Lessard, 6431 Havlock, as president for a one-year term.

Lessard succeeds Paul DeLongchamp. Other new officers are Lewis Wint, vice president; Charles Robinson, secretary; and Jess Berg, treasurer.

Voters Approve 'Fair Housing'

We commend the Pontiac electorate on their affirmative referendum vote that approved the Fair Housing ordinance passed earlier in the year by the City Commission.

The Press has consistently stood for nondiscriminatory housing as a meaningful objective in the Civil Rights movement, and notes with satisfaction that Pontiac is the fourth Michigan city to legalize it by vote of the people.

fact that overriding fair housing laws have been passed by both Federal and State governments — thereby lessening, in many eyes, the importance of the local issue.

Regardless, the outcome of the election marks a local milestone in the Negro community's crusade for equality of citizenship, while serving as a testimonial to an enlightened social consciousness on the part of the community at large.

Congratulations are in order to the public-spirited citizens, both whites and blacks, who exerted themselves so assiduously in behalf of Fair Housing in Pontiac.

Although the margin of victory in support of the ordinance was substantial, the voter turnout was small — with only a fourth of eligible voters casting ballots. Contributing to the apathy, undoubtedly, was the

A Myriad Youngsters Hear Call of Summer Camps

The National Music Camp opened Sunday at Interlochen. This is only one of hundreds of special-purpose camps that will entertain young and old this summer. The exodus from the city usually reaches a climax in the last weekend of June.

In addition to perhaps 15,000 private camps, at least 6,000 short-term camps operated by social-welfare and semipublic organizations annually welcome more than a million American boys and girls.

These are conducted by Boy and Girl Scouts, the YMCA and YMCA, the Federation of Girls' Clubs, the Woodcraft League of America, Camp Fire Girls, Rotary and other service clubs, churches, industrial and commercial enterprises, unions, magazines, newspapers, and public-spirited citizens.

Some camps over the years have become lushly institutionalized. The camps conducted by Culver Academy, for example, are really extremely well-equipped summer schools.

The special-purpose camps range from those for the "mentally retarded and brain injured" to slimming centers for overweight boys and girls. Cruise camps are proliferating. So are so-called travel camps, some of which will take youngsters on camping tours of Canada or Europe.

A great many camps these days are advertising themselves as "intercultural, co-educational, and international," but there are still some which are frankly denominational.

Constitution Raises Another Election Question

Does the Constitution of the United States effectively prevent nominating a NIXON-ROCKEFELLER or ROCKEFELLER-NIXON ticket for the 1968 presidential election? The question is being raised because of a clause in the Constitution's Twelfth Amendment regulating operation of the Electoral College.

The amendment, adopted in 1804, states: "The electors shall meet in their respective states and vote by ballot for President and Vice President, one of whom, at least, shall not be an inhabitant of the same state with themselves." In other words, the New York electors, in one hypothetical situation, could cast their ballots for Nixon for President but not for ROCKEFELLER for Vice President, since both now are New York State residents.

In a close election, this requirement might lead to election of a Vice President from the other party. Even if the likelihood of a Nixon-Rockefeller ticket is discounted, the restriction also could prevent consideration of New York City Mayor John Lindsay as a running mate for Nixon.

Constitutional lawyers can have a field day with the legalisms of the matter. But one possible escape hatch is suggested by NEAL PEIRCE, political editor of Congressional Quarterly Service and author of a new book about the electoral college, "The People's President."

PEIRCE believes the New York State electors could cast ballots for a NIXON-ROCKEFELLER ticket, for example, if the peripatetic NIXON simply moved out of the state before the electoral ballots were cast in December. The Constitution is vague about when a person is, or ceases to be, an "inhabitant" of a state.

Columbia U. Is an Impotent Giant

By RAYMOND MOLEY

A faculty member of Columbia University said recently that his place of employment reminded him of the Austro-Hungarian Empire under the dual patronage of the Kaiser and the Czar.

A sprawling aggregate of many dissimilar elements, difficult to govern and impossible to defend against internal or external threats.

Columbia's lack of capacity to govern itself lies in the way that it grew. As somebody said about hash, it was not built — it accumulated.

In the beginning there was an undergraduate institution, Kings College, created in the reign of George III. Over the two centuries since, it has become an aggregate of many schools, institutes and faculties, all with some measure of self-government.

Now in the mid-20th century, these pursue quite different policies toward varied objectives.

Quite naturally in a city as large as New York, there were many institutions whose purpose had something to do with education and research. And since Columbia's governing administration has always had a tendency to expand, the university in one way or another has absorbed many of these into its own corporate structure.

This process of expansion went on without serious difficulties so long as Nicholas Murray Butler was president. But he was a very strong man and a great administrator. His dominance over deans, faculties, students and trustees was seldom questioned.

But even in Butler's time effective power came to be decentralized. Teaching appointments and promotions were taken over by the faculties and departments and various schools achieved a measure of self-government.

At the present time at least two of the schools have their own board of trustees and all of them have measurable control over their own budget.

So now, a small group of immature undergraduates, many of them members of the revolutionary Students for a Democratic Society, demand not only freedom from discipline but a hand in the general administration and representation on the board of trustees.

The absurdity of this claim is apparent. What can boys of 20 or so contribute to the operation of such schools as medicine, law, engineering and architecture?

The concept of undergraduate participation in administration is an invitation to chaos and anarchy.

They've Got A No-Hitter Going!

Crackdown on Protesters Wise

Public indignation has at last exerted an influence. The people have wondered how long the federal government was going to go on to intimidation as it permitted the "Poor People's Crusade" to continue to encamp on national parkland and to create disturbances in and around government buildings here.

The authorities finally moved in on Monday to force the evacuation of "Resurrection City" despite the defiance and threats of the leaders.

well as in the rest of the country. The younger generation particularly has been led to assume that "justifiable" protest against "discrimination" goes to the point that a Negro can commit a crime, rob a store, steal an automobile, or engage in gang vandalism without risking punishment.

Perhaps the rest of the country, too, will see that order can be preserved when officials possessed of courage resolutely do their duty.

Bob Considine Says:

Reagan's Daughter Has Real Future in Politics

NEW YORK — People . . .

One of the clearest statements of the 1968 political campaigns was made the other night at the Unicorn, Tony Bern's hip restaurant, by a pretty girl named Maureen Reagan.

Maureen is Ronald Reagan's daughter by Jane Wyman, his first wife. She has been speaking to young groups through the country on the joys and merits of conservative politics. I asked her what her central theme was.

"I tell them that you can't glide the lily without putting your best foot forward," the beautiful young thing said very seriously.

That girl's going places in the political world.

The graduation exercises at the Air Force Academy were jarringly low-level superior "pass" by an F105. The sonic boom blew out dozens of windows. The pilot, a veteran of 100 missions in the war in Vietnam, was under strict instructions to fly over much slower and higher. He has been grounded indefinitely.

Secretary of the Air Force Harold Brown was not as angry at the hot-rod pilot as was the Air Force Academy brass.

"Let's look at it this way," he said to Gen. John P. McConnell, chief of staff. "We've got two things to be grateful for: Nobody was hurt by the flying kluge, and the plane wasn't an F111."

"I'm out here at Roosevelt Raceway and just as I'm reading your story on Lou Novak's dream of becoming president, in the New York column, the sixth race goes off," writes Arthur Susskind Jr., long-time sports publicist.

"And would you believe it, a horse by the name of Lou's Dream wins! So don't count on the city of Washington will change all this.

Reader Submits Answer to Often-Repeated Rumor

For those who are curious about the source of a rumor alleging the mutilation of a four-year-old boy, there is an answer. In 1965 the rumor was current on the West Coast. It also appeared in Germany during the Hitler era when a white boy was identified as a German and the villains were claimed to be Jews. In its anti-Semitic form this story can be traced back as far as 1255 A.D.

Human Rights

Voice of United Arab Republic

The United Nations Conference on Human Rights approved recommendations to the U.N. General Assembly for ending white rule and racial discrimination in Africa and the Middle East.

The conference plenary session passed far-reaching resolutions against South Africa, Rhodesia and Portugal which were worked out under strong African pressure in a committee considering all forms of racial discrimination and colonialism.

It also urged Israel to treat its Arab population in occupied areas "in conformity with the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and the Geneva Conventions." It expressed "grave concern at Israeli violations of human rights" in Arab occupied territories since the June 1967 war.

The resolution, submitted by Saudi Arabia, Sudan and Spain, was adopted after acceptance of an Arab-backed amendment calling on Israel "to desist forthwith from acts of destroying homes of Arab civilian populations in areas occupied by Israel."

to investigate violations of human rights in Israel occupied territories. The resolution also warned Israel of the "grave consequences resulting from the disregard of fundamental freedoms and human rights in occupied territories." It affirms the inalienable rights of all inhabitants who have left their homes as a result of the outbreak of hostilities in the Middle East to return to their property and homes and to rejoin their families.

The conference also supported liberation movements, asking all states to give "freedom fighters" all necessary political, moral and material assistance.

If it's taken to heart, the law might also buoy up more middle-aged employees to feel they have as much right as youngsters to shake off jobs in which they feel rutted and look for new openings.

GOP Mulls Fighting LBJ on Warren Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republicans are questioning whether they can—or should—try to block any attempt by President Johnson to name a successor to Earl Warren as chief justice of the Supreme Court.

Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said Tuesday there is a question of policy whether Johnson should try to replace Warren "in the shank of his administration."

But Dirksen also said there is a question of whether a refusal to confirm a nominee before Johnson steps out of the White House would be an intrusion by Congress on executive powers.

While Dirksen was commenting after a luncheon meeting of Senate Republicans Tuesday, Warren in California discussed for the first time reports that he is retiring.

He said he had given President Johnson a letter about his retirement plans but, "the contents should come from him."

"The President should make any announcement about the letter, whenever it may be," Warren told newsmen at the San Francisco Airport as he arrived in the state for vacation.

Although several senators have said they are opposed to Johnson, as a "lame duck" President, naming a new chief justice, none have questioned his constitutional power to nominate one.

The luncheon meeting was called to organize GOP thought on the subject. But Dirksen said only three or four senators had a chance to express themselves before the session was cut off for a Senate vote.

The GOP leader said he would not make a statement of his position until his colleagues have discussed it further.

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., has said he would oppose any nomination because for "a lame duck" president to designate the leadership of the Supreme Court for many years in the future would break faith with our system, and it would be an affront to the American people."

Similar views were expressed last week by Sens. John G. Tower, R-Texas, and Strom Thurmond, R-S.C. Griffin reported this week he had been impressed and encouraged by other indications of support for his position, both in and outside the Senate.

Even solid GOP opposition, however, would not alone be enough to block Senate confirmation since Democrats outnumber Republicans 63 to 35.

TIMING IMPORTANT

There has been no official confirmation of Warren's resignation and there is no telling when Johnson may nominate a successor. The timing could be important, because of the law respecting recess appointments. If Warren's resignation should take effect after Congress adjourns, the President could make a recess appointment to fill the vacancy.

Under the law, he could also make a recess appointment to fill a vacancy which existed even while the Senate was still in session—and the appointee could be paid prior to confirmation—under these three conditions:

• If the vacancy arose within

30 days prior to the end of the Senate session.

• If nomination had been rejected by the Senate within 30 days prior to the end of the session, except that the recess appointee could not be the person whose nomination had been rejected.

• If a nomination was pending before the Senate at the time adjournment.

HART RESOLUTION

In all of these cases, however, a nomination to fill the vacancy for which a recess appointment had been made would have to be submitted to the Senate not later than 40 days after the start of the next session of Congress. Dirksen recalled that in 1960, during the Eisenhower administration, the Senate Judiciary Committee had approved a resolution opposing recess appointments to the Supreme Court. He aspired.

said that it was sponsored by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich.

The record shows, although Dirksen did not mention it, that the three top GOP committee members at the time filed a minority report disapproving the resolution. The Senate adopted it 48-37, after rejecting by a 52-33 vote a motion of former Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., to return it to committee.

President Johnson, then a senator from Texas, voted for the resolution and against Keating's recommittal motion.

U.S. House Backers Fear Budget Cuts of Social Programs

WASHINGTON (AP) — House improving the education of non-English speaking U.S. children face the formidable task — mainly Indians, Puerto Ricans and young people of Mexican descent — lost by only one vote, at their expense and not from 96 to 85.

Amendment before the House today called for the restoration of at least part of $600-million cut from education programs and the $307-million slashed from antipoverty projects.

The funds were part of a $1.7-billion pared by the House Appropriations Committee from a $17-billion money bill for the Labor and Health, Education and Welfare departments, and related agencies including the Office of Economic Opportunity.

"If anyone thinks we are going to capitulate to communism or to forces that would destroy us and cut the defense budget accordingly, they have another think coming," appropriations committee chairman George D. Mahon, D-Tex., said Tuesday.

AMENDMENTS DEFEATED
Mahon spoke before the House touched at all. He defeated two amendments that would have increased allocations. One, to add $5-million for said.

The tax-spending bill requires a $5-billion cut in outlays under budget estimates for the year beginning July 1.

Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., said the Johnson administration will have to withhold even more funds that the committee cut to meet its $5-billion over-all reduction requirement.

Mahon rejected a suggestion that the defense budget be cut in proportion to the social programs, for a $5-billion saving. "As long as I am chairman, we are going to protect our country," he said.

Mahon said he "stoutly repudiated" claims he promised that social programs would not be touched at all.

"I said we would have to make cuts all down the line," he said. One, to add $5-million for said.

Ghetto Power Focus of NAACP Meeting

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI) — The 59th annual convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) today returned to the convention theme of building and using power in the ghetto.

For two days the convention had been troubled by a Young Turk attempt to make the moderate civil rights organization militant.

The speakers today chose as their topics methods of building and using power in urban and rural areas. They were Ruth Harvey of Danville, Va., and the Rev. C. A. Lett of Selma, Ala., a member of the Southwest Alabama Farmers Cooperative.

Sen. Fred Harris, D-Okl., told the convention last night, "Racism is the No. 1 mental problem in America."

"IT CRIPPLES"
"It cripples far more children than schizophrenia, far more children than mental retardation," Harris said. "And I'm not just talking about its victims."

Harris sprinkled his 40-minute talk with information from the report of the President's Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders, which he helped write. He said the country was faced with two choices in its Young Turks.

race relations: "The chaos of anarchy and a far more oppressive society than either you or I thought possible."

"As between the two, I think we'll move toward repression," the Oklahoma senator said. But then he offered what he said was a better alternative — racial justice and equal opportunity for the Negro.

He said he felt not enough support for such an alternative had come from the Congress, the government or the people, but "As the people become more aware of these things, the government will respond."

"THEY'LL WANT TO"
"As more and more people come to see the conditions in which their fellow Americans live, they will want to do something about it."

Harris was cheered repeatedly through the speech and wildly at the end. The Oklahoma delegation burst into the song, "Oklahoma!" when he finished.

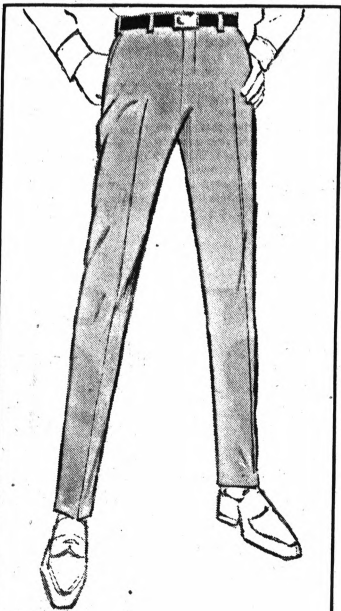

Harris, accompanied by his Comanche Indian wife, Ladonna, had to enter convention hall by a side door because of a small demonstration in front.

The victory demonstration was led by Kan., NAACP, the leader of the faced with two choices in its Young Turks.

Sweeping Changes Urged

State Health Laws, Services Hit

DETROIT (AP)—A man can build a ramshackle house in lems and a huge increase in fi- some parts of Michigan and nancial help for local health "put in a nail keg for a septic agencies."

But in other areas that same home builder would have to follow strict codes to insure sanitary disposal of home sewage.

This kind of conflict in health standards is a prime target of a citizen committee's sweeping recommendations to improve Michigan's public health facilities, services and laws.

The Committee of Forty, including a $350,000, five-year study of public health in the state, issued 61 recommendations Tuesday.

OVERLAP HIT

The group assailed "duplication and overlapping of effort" in health services provided by 11 of the state's 19 government departments.

It called for merger of all health services into one agency.

The committee also urged revision of the state's 40-year-old income and expenses of all public health law, adoption of a nonprofit, voluntary health and statewide sanitary code to con-

• More facilities for long-term medical patients.
Dr. Váldo A. Getting, chairman of the University of Michigan Department of Community Health Services, directed the study which was financed by grants from the W.K. Kellogg Foundation and the U.S. Public Health Services.

WHOPPING INCREASE

A whopping increase in state funds for health services is needed, Getting said. He estimated current state payments are about 5 per cent of total health service costs. The committee urged that the state pay one-third of the costs.

Getting cited scores of examples in which persons in one area receive health care and those in other areas are deprived of the same kind of service.

"In many communities, for instance, an emergency mental case lands in jail," Getting said. He said most general hospitals should have small units for handling emergency mental patients.

The committee, which gathered information on local health request.

Hudson's Drug Department a good place to shop

WHY? For one thing, Hudson's Pharmacy puts an extra ingredient in every single prescription they fill. That extra is Hudson's fine reputation. It may not be listed on the label, but it's there just the same.

Hudson's pharmacists use only the freshest ingredients available. And your prescription is checked—then double-checked, to make sure it's been filled exactly as your doctor ordered. It's filled quickly while you wait, or you can leave it, shop, and pick it up later, if you wish!

WHAT ABOUT MEDICARD?

It's the personal medical tag that can save your life, and it's available at Hudson's Pharmacy. We'll permanently engrave it with information about your allergies, heart or other medical conditions. In an emergency, it'll inform doctors as to what you need and what to avoid.

SHAPE UP ... with health and exercise equipment from Hudson's Drug Department. We've massagers and facial saunas, denture cleaners and exercise bikes, sunlamps and portable steam cabinets—just about everything to help you look and feel great! See them all in Hudson's Drug Departments.

State House Passes 2 Antiriot Bills; Senate OK Seen

LANSING (AP)—A pair of lawmakers returned to Lansing after a two-week recess, House approval Tuesday as Senate endorsement was likely today.

State Senators Prod Congress on Gun Curbs

LANSING (AP)—A resolution which would put the Michigan Legislature on record as asking Congress to enact President Johnson's gun control proposals was introduced in the Senate Tuesday.

Also introduced was a measure which would create a five-member Senate committee to study Michigan's existing firearms laws.

Sen. Sander Levin, D-Berkley, State Democratic chairman, and Sen. Emil Lockwood, R-S.L. Louis, Senate Republican leader, were principal sponsors of the resolution calling for a federal gun control law.

It urges Congress to ban all mail-order sales of guns, require licensing of all gun owners, and forbid licensing of alcoholics, drug addicts, felons and the mentally ill.

'SENSELESSNESS'

"The slaying by firearms of two of our most brilliant national leaders in recent months (Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. and Sen. Robert Kennedy, D-New York) has dramatized to the American people the senselessness and gravity of the problem," the measure said, adding:

"The legitimate interests of the sportsman and hunter can be completely protected within the framework of a reasonable system of gun control laws designed only to keep weapons out of the hands of those who have acted in such a manner as to lead one to believe they might use a firearm to do violence against another human being."

Sen. John McCauley, D-Wyandotte, sponsored the second resolution, which calls for a committee study of the state's "antiquated" firearms laws.

Federal Controls Sought by UAW

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers International executive board Tuesday called for immediate passage of federal legislation to control gun and ammunition sales and to require registration of all firearms.

In a unanimous resolution, the 26-man UAW governing body said the law it envisioned would "bar interstate mail orders of any firearms, prohibit a resident of one state from buying a gun in another state and forbid retailers from selling any kind of gun to minors, fugitives or felons."

Another Bonanza Foreseen for the Stars of 'Bonanza'

By EARL WILSON

RENO—A couple or three things stood out as I reclined on a dusty mountain side with "Ben Cartwright" and his son "Hoss" of "Bonanza" . . . who were trying not to look rich.

Lorne Greene and Dan Blocker'll strike gold again, not in TV this time. But in tourism in a new Ponderosa Ranch over at Incline Village which might bring in a million visitors a year to buy jams and jellies and the other souvenirs—and get a squint at Ben and Hoss.

"It's our 10th season we're starting in 'Bonanza,'" Lorne Greene said. "I remember the first year when I woke up worrying that the show'd be cancelled."

"The 10th year you woke up hoping it will be cancelled," Dan Blocker said.

WILSON

It was 1959 when they started. The year Marilyn Monroe got interested in Yves Montand, the year of the TV quiz scandals; "Mr. K" (Khrushchev) was here, Eisenhower was President, Eddie Fisher and Liz Taylor were celebrating a year of heavenly bliss.

Still going, now an institution.

They love the climate here and the recent remark by some local who said Easterners might like it out here—"they might find it nice sometime to breathe air they couldn't see."

They're impressed that since the show's seen in more than 60 countries, much of the old world thinks America is still Old West.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN N.Y. . . .

Pearl Bailey (out of "Hello, Dolly!" the other night with a virus) resented the rumors that she was trying to break her contract with David Merrick. She says the truth is that she has just made a new contract until January 1970, with salary raise, and couldn't have been more eager to get out of Mt. Sinai Hospital where she's been repeatedly this year for strengthening. "She'd have been on stage except she was fed intravenously," said her manager, Stan Irwin.

Big night at El Morocco: Laura Johnson gave a party for newswired Albin Bolders who've been getting threatening letters and calls over the publicity about Mrs. H. (the former Margo Lyke) being one of the richest women. . . . Judy Garland with her friend W. Fuller.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Bobby Goldsboro heard of an auto manufacturer who recalled his four-door models—they were all on the same side of the road. REMEMBERED QUOTE: "The fool ages. The wise man matures."

EARL'S PEARLS: The most difficult thing for people to say in 25 words or less is "goodbye."—Tony Pettito.

Joan Rivers recalls the first fight she had with her husband: "It was about the one-night-out-with-the-boys business. He insisted that I give it up." . . . That's earl, brother.

De Gaulle Sticks to Red Scare as Biggest Election Weapon

PARIS (AP) — The Red scare continues to be the biggest gun in the Gaullist arsenal as President Charles de Gaulle's lieutenant campaign for the runoff National Assembly elections Sunday.

Still sounding the theme that brought the government unexpected success in the voting last Sunday, Premier Georges Pompidou declared Tuesday night the first-round Gaullist victories were the result of reaction of national pride against men of the black flag (the anarchists) and of the red flag.

This Sunday, Pompidou told voters, "above all, do not let yourselves be tempted to go off on vacation, even if you have been planning it for some time."

The government radio-television network gave Pompidou 10 minutes, Leftist Federation leader Francois Mitterrand six minutes and Communist Robert Ballanger four minutes.

Mitterrand warned against a National Assembly in the style of King Louis XVIII, "totally submitted to the will of one master, with or without crown

Ballanger said de Gaulle would "lead the nation again into disorder and again challenge the social conquests" won by the nationwide strikes and student unrest in May.

The Gaullists seem assured of a majority, in the assembly, probably the largest in the 10 years of de Gaulle's presidency. In the first round, which required a majority of the votes cast for election, they won 151 seats in the 487-seat assembly, about twice their first-round score in the 1967 assembly elections.

In the runoff, in which the candidate with the most votes wins, Gaullists will be running against one other candidate in 243 districts and against two candidates in 55 others. Gaullist candidates have Communist opponents in 103 races.

'Leniency No Solution to Soaring Crime'

"The soaring crime rate," Michigan Congressman Jack McDonald R-19th District, said this week, "is without question the most pressing, domestic problem in America."

He noted that there have been numerous well-meaning suggestions proposed for the solution to the high crime rate.

"But," he continued, "all too often the obvious is ignored." McDonald pointed out that, according to FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, more than half of the nation's criminal repeaters are recipients of leniency.

REPEAT OFFENDERS

In recent testimony, Hoover showed the enormity of the problem posed when offenders are turned loose via parole, probation and clemency abuses.

He testified that of nearly 18,000 federal offenders released in 1963, some 55 per cent were arrested for new crimes within 30 months. An analysis of 41,733 repeat offenders arrested in 1966 showed that more than half had received leniency in the form of parole, probation, suspended sentence or conditional release on more than one occasion.

"I think it clearly shows the fallacy of the contention that you should be soft and easy in handling criminals when so many, more than half of them, are repeaters," the FBI chief said.

He said three factors would "put a brake on crime" — prompt arrest, prompt trials and elimination of delays such as postponement and plea bargaining, and sentences that "fit the crime."

NOT WORKABLE

"It has been proven that probation and parole just do not work in many cases," Hoover said. He said that while probation and parole are laudable principles, "it is absolutely essential that sound procedures for handling criminal repeaters are followed."

Hoover warned against "over-indulgence in legal technicalities and evasions." The rights of the law-abiding majority must be afforded at least equal respect and consideration if the future of America is to be as glorious as our past.

Most Tourist Spending Exempt in Modified Travel Tax Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The vast majority of U.S. tourist spending in other countries would be exempt from the modified travel tax the Johnson administration has urged Congress Americans spend about two-thirds of their foreign travel even if it were spent in Europe, ship lines another $800 million, the Mediterranean and the Far East. This $4 billion total compared with $1.9 billion in U.S. earnings last year. American tourists from foreign visitors, leaving a balance - of - payments program figures show that And the first $15 in spending spent $3.2 billion in other countries record $2.1 billion gap.

The Johnson administration is seeking to lower this by $500 million as part of an over-all balance - of - payments program which includes a tax on the spending of U.S. tourists outside the Hemisphere. Secretary of the Treasury daily. Missing from the Henry H. Fowler outlined to the Senate Finance Committee on a proposed 15 per cent tax on the Tuesday a plan for a 30 per cent daily.

Senate OKs ABM, Military Building Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has approved a $1.8-billion bill for military construction projects around the world, including the controversial Sentinel Antihallistic Missile System (ABM).

The Senate approved the measure 78-3 Tuesday and returned it to the House which earlier had passed a measure about $29-million greater.

If the House does not accept the Senate version, compromise will have to be worked out in a joint conference committee.

Passage came after the Senate beat back five amendments by Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., that would have pared the bill by $160-million.

AN ANTICLIMAX

Also turned back was an amendment by Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., to add $280-million for the Charleston Air Force Base in his home state.

Approval of the bill came as somewhat of an anticlimax after the Senate rejected Monday attempts to delay $227.3-million included for acquisition of sites and the start of construction for the Sentinel system.

This is a so-called 'thin' line of defense against possible Red Chinese attack in the 1970s. It is expected to cost more than $5-billion, but critics say it is just the beginning of a system that will eventually cost more than $40-billion to guard against possible Russian attack and will be obsolete before it is finished.

Army Reduces Harsh Penalties

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sentences against 53 soldiers who claimed a two-star general used his influence to stiffen their punishment have been reduced and 40 more are under review, the Army says.

The Pentagon said Tuesday that all the soldiers were tried at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., when Maj. Gen. Thomas H. Lipscomb was commanding officer.

The soldiers, convicted on charges ranging from AWOL to disobeying a noncommissioned officer, accused Lipscomb of trying to improve base discipline by urging harsh sentences.

The over-all review followed a test case this month, in which the Army Board of Review found "the appearance of command influence exists ... and provides presumption of prejudice."

Antiques Must Enrich Your Life

FLEETWOOD, Pa. (AP) — The purchase of antiques only for their decorative value or price tags is "mere possessiveness" rather than a means to enrichment of the collector's life, a recognized authority on antiques believes.

The Rev. Dr. John Joseph Staudt, professor of philosophy at Kutztown State College and widely known collector and connoisseur, feels antiques should give rootedness and a sense of security, not just make a person wealthy.

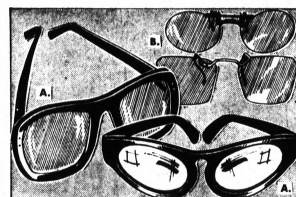

"Antiques must be connected to the personality of the people who are living with them," he says. "They should have personal meaning or significance; acquisitiveness is not enough. They become meaningful by being a part of what you have lived or you experience." Dr. Staudt, himself of Pennsylvania Dutch heritage, has geared his collection to family and Berks County antiques.

Flag Procedure

When a flag is to be half-staffed, it should be first hoisted to the peak for an instant and then lowered to the half-staff position. The flag should be again raised to the peak before it is lowered for the day.

Optimistic Horse Sense Keeps Spirits Dry

By JEANNE NELSON
Reports that the drizzle would let up "any minute now" kept floating around spectators' stands Tuesday, the second day of the Detroit Horse Show at Bloomfield Open Hunt. The rumors proved false but the rain only served to dampen clothes and hairdos, never the spirits of the crowd. Indeed, with the parade of colorful ringear (some unbelievable) rushing about the grounds and huddled beneath umbrellas, the whole scene became one of fellowship and lightness.

The horses and their riders worked through the downpour in true sportsmanship fashion to the delight of their audience and judges.

Junior class entrants turned out in riding habits of various color combinations, lending their own note of brightness to an otherwise grey day.

TROPHIES

Inside the club, the newly plated and polished trophies (efforts of the women's committee) stood in proud array. Among them are some of the nation's most coveted awards in the equestrian field.

The fine assortment of silver, bronze and porcelain is one of the most outstanding collections of trophies in the United States.

The exquisite porcelain figure of horse and rider, the Stewart M. Cram Perpetual Memorial Trophy for Open Jumpers, was donated this year in honor of the late Mr. Cram, past chairman of the show and past president of BOH. It is one of a limited edition of Royal Worcester equestrian statuettes.

Another new trophy this year is the Red Bob Farm Perpetual which replaces the Red Bob Challenge. Like many others, it has been mounted on a solid walnut base. Some of the magnificent trophies commemorate members of the BOH and horse show competitors, while still others are in memory of outstanding horses.

A turn at lunch gave everyone a chance to dry out and exchange views on the morning competition. Then it was off to the check room to claim slickers and umbrellas for the afternoon events.

Hopping puddles and sloshing through mud to the grounds area once again, the crowd proclaimed its devotion to riding in spite of a few slips and falls along the way.

Former Residents Here

Mr. and Mrs. Theo E. Wiersma of Sun City, Calif., former Pontiac residents of many years' standing, have been visiting here for several weeks. They have been houseguests of the Paul B. Lines of Orchard Lake, the Nelson Hunters of West Iroquois Road and the Arno Hulets of Helston Road.

Music Festival Opens

Meadow Brook Festival opens its fifth season Thursday at 8:30 p.m. with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and Camilla Wicks, violinist. The grounds are open at 6:30 p.m. for dinner on Trumbull Terrace and for picnicks.

Has Strange Ring to It

Dear Soldier: 'Rocks of Luck'

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I am in the service and have a little problem. The night before I left the States I surprised my girl with a diamond engagement ring.

She acted like she was thrilled to pieces, and of course I was happy, too. Her mother took me aside and asked me if I could get a refund on the ring — well, I couldn't.

Now I get a letter from my girl telling me that she and her mother "traded" in the engagement ring on another one which is bigger and much "nicer." She said her mother paid the difference and I can pay her back when I get home, but for me not to worry about it.

I am not exactly "worried" about it, but I don't think it was a very nice thing for them to do. If you were in my place, what would you do?

DEAR GI: Nothing for the moment. But when you get stateside, size up the situation and make sure your girl and her mother don't have a wedding ring waiting for you that's big enough for you to jump through.

DEAR ABBY: I am 13 years old and my scout troop recently made a visit to a nursing home to cheer up the old folks there. We made some colorful flowers beforehand and sang some hymns to entertain them.

Abby, those elderly people are so hungry for company, you wouldn't believe it. The first lady I handed a flower to, gave it back to me saying she didn't have any money to buy it. Then I told her it was free and her face lit up and she took such a long time trying to decide which color to take, I got the feeling that she was trying to detain me just to have somebody to talk to for a little while.

I can't tell you how much our visit was appreciated. When we drove off, we could see them looking from their windows and holding onto their paper flowers.

"Tiptoe through the mud holes," should have been the musical theme at the Detroit Horse Show Tuesday at Bloomfield Open Hunt. This youngster's plight was typical of the challenge faced by all.

Please say something in your column asking people to go to visit their local nursing homes, whether they have somebody there or not. They are all somebody's grandmothers and grandfathers and they are human, too.

A TEEN-AGER WHO CARES

CONFIDENTIAL TO LIVING THROUGH HELL. IN HARTFORD: "Hell is truth seen too late — duty neglected in its season." (Tyrone Edward.)

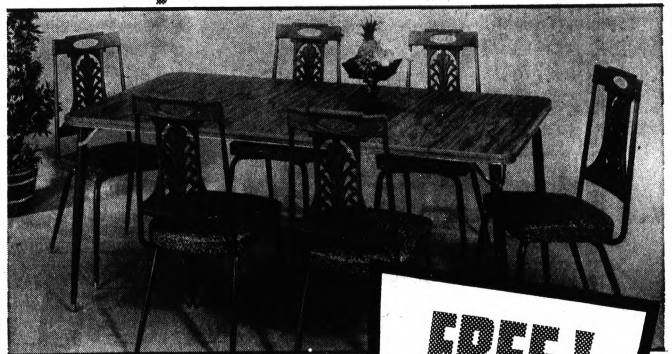

CONFIDENTIAL TO H. P. IN PHILADELPHIA: Your letter was very much appreciated, and your daughter's was a treasure. There is an old Jewish "blessing" used to wish another well. It goes something like this, "May your children bring you joy." I know of no finer wish for you. And I know you shall have it. Shalom.

Dental Assistant Watches Change Over 50 Years

CHARLESTON, S.C. — In her 50 years as a dental assistant, Janie Moorer has seen revolutionary changes in equipment and techniques for dental care.

During those five decades she has worked in four dentists' offices and continues to serve as a dental hygienist for Dr. Joe Sam Palmer, with no plans for retirement.

In 1948, she organized the Charleston Dental Assistants' Society and she is the first person to serve two terms as president of the State Dental Assistants' Association in which she holds life membership.

TROPHY

She received the Loyalty Trophy from the Dental Assistants' Association for working the most consecutive years with one dentist — 34 years, six months and 14 days.

MARIETTA BUTLER

A double ring ceremony in Waterford Community Church Saturday evening united Willa Kay Butler and Donald Richard Marietta. Their parents are Mrs. Mary Butler of State Street, Albert Butler of Elizabeth Lake Road and the Richard Mariettas of Walton Boulevard. The bride selected a gown or organza and Spanish lace and completed her ensemble with a petal headpiece secured to a bouffant veil. Honor attendants were Mrs. Gerid C. Kline and David Marietta. Prior to leaving on a honeymoon trip to Mexico City, the newlyweds were joined at a reception in the Oakland County Sportsman's Club.

Interlochen Tells Dates of Concerts

Two concerts are to be given in the Interlochen Bowl this weekend at the National Music Camp. They'll be the first performances by students this first season in camp history and will include all the high school students who are candidates for places in band and orchestra.

The combined bands, numbering about 200 players, will play at 8 Saturday under the baton of Butler Eitel, long time camp conductor, and with Dr. William D. Revell of the University of Michigan conducting one work, the majestic "Great Gate of Kiev" from Mussorgsky's "Pictures at an Exhibition."

SUNDAY CONCERT

The Sunday program, also at 8 p.m., will bring more than 300 orchestra candidates into performance. They will play a comparatively new number, Morton Gould's Venice for Two Orchestras — with two brass choirs added; also the melodic Symphony No. 4 in F minor by Tchaikowsky. Dr. George C. Wilson, camp director, conducts.

After the weekend concerts, each ensemble will become two, the band students to be assigned to the Symphonic and Concert bands and the orchestra personnel to be assigned to the World Youth Symphony or High School Concert orchestra.

Faculty concerts at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Thursday and Friday in Kresge Auditorium open the summer program. Elissa Smith, harpist; Don Jaeger, English horn, and Michael Combs, tympani, will give the Wednesday concert.

Clementine White, harp; Harriet LeJenne, flute, and Laurence Morton, piano and a violin-piano team of Herman Berg and George Luckenberg are to give the Thursday program.

Jay Thompson, baritone, and a faculty-staff orchestra conducted by Orion Dalley are on the Friday program.

NEW YORK (AP) — In an effort to bridge the gap between teen-ager and parent, an adult education course that will discuss topics chosen by parents is being offered at Bishop Reilly Diocesan High School here.

Subjects to be discussed in the series of eight seminars include a physiological and psychological survey of the teen-ager as a developing individual; the influence of the home; religion, and the effect of films, records, television and paperback books.

Brother Terrence Connolly, guidance counselor of the school, said the program was planned because of "our mutual need as teachers and parents to understand, to help and to share information."

Peterson-Young Vows Spoken in Dearborn

A double ring ceremony in Dearborn's First Presbyterian Church Saturday united Christine Margaret Young and 2nd Lt. Stacy Eldon Peterson, USA.

The bride's gown of organza was topped with flower-accented yoke and short sleeves. Her bouffant veil of illusion was secured with a fabric-flower circ-let and she carried a bouquet of Stephanotis and orchids.

Mary Kay Gorton of Farmington was maid of honor for the daughter of the Jack M. Youngs of Dearborn.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Young of Royal Oak served as best man and bridesmaid. Mrs. A. B. Brooks of Dearborn, James Degrazia, Detroit, Gary Newcomb, Milford, John Spencer, Northville and Thomas Custan-co of Troy completed the wedding party.

A reception in Dearborn Inn followed the ceremony. The bridegroom is the son of the senior Stacy E. Petersons of Milford.

The newlyweds are graduates of Western Michigan University. They will take up residence in Evanston, Ill.

MRS. STACY E. PETERSON

Christine Margaret Young and 2nd Lt. Stacy Eldon Peterson, USA, were married Saturday afternoon in First Presbyterian Church, Dearborn. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jack M. Young of Dearborn and the senior Mr. and Mrs. Stacy E. Peterson of Milford.

MRS. LEON A. MELLES

Couple Wed on Saturday

Detroit's Calvary Methodist Church was the setting of Saturday vows and reception for the Leon A. Melles (nee Judith Lynn Bell).

An ensemble of peau de sole, highlighted with Chantilly lace, was chosen by the bride who completed her outfit with a short veil falling from a lace and seed pearl headpiece.

White roses and Stephanotis were carried in a bridal basket.

Mrs. Keith Winquist and Michael Melles stood as honor attendants with bridal party members, Carol Clinger, Gayann Pryor, Robert Lorenz, Ronald Zumbrennen and Gary and James Bell.

Parents of the couple who left on a honeymoon to the Virgin Islands are, the William L. Bells of Livonia and the George Melles of Delevan Street, Pontiac Township.

One of summer's most important looks, the feminine dirndl skirt, this one by Country Set in Arnel/cotton peewee-hued denim trimmed with white fishnet lace. The matching blouse features a cool, open lace trimmed neckline.

Parties Have Bridal Note

Denise Mary Mason, daughter of the K. Victor Masons of Voorhees Road, has been honored at several pre-nuptial parties, beginning with a miscellaneous shower at Melinda Whiting's Troy home.

The affair, coshosted by Sally Wygoski, was attended by former classmates from Dominican Academy.

CRYSTAL SHOWER

Bridesmaid Molly Reynolds opened her Oxford home for a crystal shower.

Miss Mason will wed Jack Stanley Lindstrom, son of the Paul Lindstroms of Coleman Street, Friday at an evening candlelight ceremony in St. Benedict's Catholic Church.

Lead is the world's fifth most important metal on a tonnage basis, being exceeded only by zinc, copper, aluminum and iron.

Regulations for Social Security Benefits

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Mary Feeley:

I've been suffering from multiple sclerosis and haven't been able to work. I have been told I might now be eligible for disability benefits under Social Security. Do you know if this is so?

M. W., Madison, Wis.

Dear M. W.:

There are certain regulations under which you must qualify. Recent legislation which improved medicare benefits also extended Social Security disability insurance protection. And approximately some 100,000 younger people are expected to be able to benefit.

First, did you become totally disabled before age 31? And if so, do you have a minimum of six (up to 20) quarters of Social Security coverage? Six quarters would mean a year-and-a-half of coverage, and 20 quarters would be five years of coverage under Social Security. If you meet these conditions, you can qualify.

Or—are you a widow or widower age 50 or older? Until now, a widow could not get Social Security benefits unless she had in her care a child who was entitled to benefits based on her husband's earnings.

Now, as a disabled widow, a woman may be eligible for these benefits if her disability started before her husband's death, or within seven years after that time.

You must file a claim at your local Social Security office before any payments you may be entitled to can be paid.

Dear Miss Feeley:

Since my husband feels I'm doing a poor job on budgeting,

Buttering Spoon

You can make a handy corn buttering spoon that butters corn on the cob much better than a knife, by taking an ordinary plastic spoon and drilling three holes in it. Rub this butter-filled spoon over the corn, and the heated butter will seep through and season it just right.

I've decided to have him pay all the bills and just give me money for food expenses.

We have five children, four boys, aged three to nine, and one girl aged 11. Our annual income after taxes is between $9,000 and $10,000.

Since my husband reads your column, I would like your opinion on the amount I should receive. Then I can stop arguing with my frugal mate.

Mrs. R. S., New York City

Dear Mrs. S.:

I just hope when you said "food expenses" you meant food—and not laundry and cleaning supplies, paper goods, table mats, shoe polish, tooth paste and razor blades, too.

Because the figure I'm going to give you is strictly for what the family eats. So don't let your husband get the idea it covers the "supermarket" bill.

For a Moderate Food Plan, you'll need $50 a week. That's adding a few cents to the last estimate compiled by the Department of Agriculture, using national averages. If prices continue to inch up, a penny here and three cents there, even the

July Exhibit Is Last 'til Fall

Works of some 30 old and contemporary masters of etchings, lithographs and serigraphs will be exhibited in the Gertrude Kasle Gallery, Fisher Building, Detroit from July 1-31.

The Gallery is open Monday through Friday from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. and will be closed Saturdays during the month of July. It will be closed the entire month of August and will reopen for another $3 to $5 a week.

BECKER-BYERS
Mt. Vernon Methodist Church, Mt. Vernon, was the site of the marriage Saturday of Janice Faye Byers and Thomas Jay Becker. Parents of the couple, both from Washington Township, are Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Byers of Dequindre Road and the Rev. Beckers of 29 Mile Road. Leading the bridal party of eight for their brother and sister, respectively, were best man, Paul Becker and matron of honor, Mrs. David Hipp. A bouquet of daisies and ivy accented the bride's dress of silk organza over tulle with a daisy crown headpiece and elbow length veil. After a reception at the bride's parents' home, the couple left on a honeymoon in Canada.

LEVANDOWSKI-WILKINSON
Honeymooning in Bermuda are the new Mr. and Mrs. Henry James Levandowskis (Sandra Joyce Wilkinson). Married Friday at Christ Methodist Church, Detroit, the bride wore a silk linen dress with daisy lace panel and carried a bouquet of gardenias and Stephanotis. The wedding party of 10 was led by the bride's sister, matron of honor, Mrs. Harold Stokes and John Januszko acting as proxy best man for 1st Lt. James Hiles, USA, stationed in Vietnam. Parents of the couple are the Rudy Wilkinsons of Detroit and the Stanley Levandowskis of Muskegon Heights. Reception was at Cambridge Hall, Detroit.

While Your Kid Learns to Boogaloo, let him learn Beethoven, too!

The Twist, the Frug, the Watusi. And now the Boogaloo. Fine. Let him dance the newest craze. Then introduce him to one of the oldest crazes around: the piano. The instrument that nurtured Mozart and Beethoven. And Andre Watts, Oscar Peterson, George Gershwin and Leonard Bernstein. For over 100 years, Baldwin has been making fine pianos to nurture talents with.

And Baldwin makes so many styles of piano, there is one you can afford. Available with a small down payment and on easy terms financed by Baldwin.

We'll even rent you one, for a few dollars a week. And if you decide to keep it, you can apply the rental fees to the purchase price. Look at it this way: for about what it costs your child to buy records to dance the Boogaloo to, he could be learning Beethoven, too. Just in case the Boogaloo doesn't last.

We have a select group of good used pianos—guaranteed. Prices start about $445.

Sayre-Hamilton Vows Are Pledged

Saturday afternoon vows in Central United Methodist Church were exchanged by the newlyweds. Following the ceremony performed by the bridegroom's father and a reception in the church parlors, the newlyweds left on a northern Michigan honeymoon.

The bride's Empire gown of imported organza and Alencon lace was highlighted with a full court train.

A bubble veil of illusion fell from her organza and pearl headpiece and she carried white roses and Stephanotis.

Linda Hunt stood as maid of honor with bridesmaids, Kathi Hamilton and Mary, Ruth and Carol Sayre.

MRS. WILLIAM K. SAYRE

BEZEMEK-CLINE

Newlyweds, the John Rodger Taylors (nee Donna Jean Reinke) departed for Niagara Falls following a reception Saturday in the American Legion Hall, Utica. Attended by Mrs. Vern Herberg and Gilbert L. Taylor, they spoke vows that evening in Covenant Baptist Church. The daughter of the Stanley A. Reinken of Utica wore a lace sheath fashioned with a fitted bodice, wrist point sleeves and bell skirt. A star of lace secured her veil of illusion. Bridesmaids were Sally Soullier, Janine Wright, Kathleen Reinken, and Patricia Ruby. The son of the Gilbert C. Taylors of Utica was assigned by ushers Charles Clark, Lawrence Monahan, Vern Herberg and Charles Licaolic.

Exchanging vows Saturday afternoon in Central United Methodist Church were Linda Sue Cline and William Lyle Bezemek. The bride appeared in a white linen Empire-waisted gown. Her headpiece was a lace crown holding a silk illusion veil. She carried a cascade of white rose buds. Kay Elizabeth Cline was her sister's maid of honor; they are the daughters of the Allen K. Clines of Elizabeth Lake Road. Mrs. Thomas R. Garnsey was bridesmaid. Michael Bezemek was best man for the bridegroom, son of Mrs. John M. Bezemek of Bad Axe, and the late Mr. Bezemek. Ushers were Larry Wilford and Jerry Lapham. The church parlor was the scene of a reception.

Voice Library Originator to Speak at 'College Week'

EAST LANSING, Mich. — Robert Vincent, originator and curator of the national voice library at Michigan State University, will be one of the featured speakers during College Week for Women at MSU.

The voice authority will address a special assembly of the forty-first annual women's conference on June 27.

The library Vincent established at MSU has the most complete collection of historical and contemporary voice recordings in the world. College Week for Women, sponsored by MSU's Cooperative Extension Service and Continuing Education Service, will run June 25-28.

The theme of the conference is "You and Your Land-Grant University Serve the World." Thursday, has been designated as visitors' day for those unable to attend the entire four days.

INFORMATION

Specific information concerning registration and fees is available from Mrs. Anne Wolford, College Week chairman, 103 Home Economics Building, Michigan State University, or from the local county Cooperative Extension Service office.

Flower Talk

ONE OF THE WORLD'S WONDERS

About 500 years before Christ a Babylonian king married a beautiful princess from a foreign country. She yearned for her native land—its hills, trees and flowers. To gratify her, the king built a mighty structure four hundred feet square and a hundred feet tall on the west bank of the river Euphrates. Here he planted rare flowers and shrubs, trees and unusual plants. Thus the Hanging Gardens of Babylon, one of the Seven Wonders of the World, came into existence.

Potted plants and dish gardens can brighten and beautify your home. Our selection can add a touch of pleasant cheer to a shut-in.

New Election Ploy May Be Complex

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (AP)—In addition to all of the public opinion surveys who are polling us voters this year, we now have a psychiatrist who is analyzing us.

Dr. Theodore Isaac Rubin says that many voters who think they are making objective, rational decisions in their choice of candidates actually are subconsciously influenced to a large extent by their psychological problems.

I find that easy to believe. It goes a long way toward explaining how some of the more bizarre members of Congress manage to get elected. Their constituents obviously have some pretty weird psychological problems.

11 EXAMPLES

Rubin, whose theories are advanced in the current issue of McCall's magazine, gives 11 examples of "psychological determinants."

If, for instance, you have a narcissus complex, you will vote for the candidate who most reminds you of yourself. A masochist will favor the candidate who seems to be the most arrogant and vindictive. And so on.

I don't know of what significance this might be, but in seven of these examples Rubin uses women voters. Two apply to both sexes and only two to men alone.

Does this mean that women voters have more psychological problems than men? Or merely that they are readily swayed by their psychological problems? Rubin does not say.

SUBCONSCIOUS?

He may have used women for examples because he was writing for a women's magazine. Or not.

he may have done subconsciously. Anyway, assuming that Rubin's basic thesis is correct, this is something the candidates may want to take advantage of. Along with their press agents, speech writers and other campaign aides, they might do well to hire psychiatric advisers.

A typical strategy meeting might go something like this: "Well, doctor, how do you think my campaign is going this far?"

GOING OVER BIG

"By describing yourself as the underdog you stand to win the persecution complex vote and your cigarette cough is going over big with the hypochondriacs."

"However, your opponent's baggy eyes are winning him a lot of support among the insomniacs. The schizophrenics, as usual, are split."

"I believe you can wrap up the nomination with a Fourth of July rally. By holding it in a large, open field and having a fireworks display before your speech, you can capture both the claustrophobia and the pyromania vote with one swoop."

Gun Turn-Ins 'Satisfying'

HONOLULU (AP) — Police say they've collected 315 guns in their drive to get residents to turn in unwanted firearms.

Assistant Police Chief Fred Paao termed the public response to the campaign "very satisfying."

A total of 213 handguns, 100 shotguns and rifles and two machine guns has been collected. The drive is to continue indefinitely.

Air Pollution Unit Elects Officers

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—John S. Legarias of Reston, Va., was elected president of the National Air Pollution Control Association at its 61st annual convention in St. Paul Monday.

Among those elected to the board of directors was Frederick W. Bowditch, a staff engineer for General Motors.

Angler Shuns Tradition; Queen Loses Out

PLYMOUTH, England (AP)—Fisherman Bill Curtis is no traditionalist—and Queen Elizabeth II in consequence is short of a fish dinner.

Curtis, 60, netted a fine 78-pound sturgeon off the Devon coast. Sturgeon are rare in British waters, and tradition demands that it be sent to the queen, whose established right to British sturgeon dates from the 14th century.

Curtis, however, sold the sturgeon to a merchant for $43.80 saying: "I'm sure the queen has had so much sturgeon she is sick of it. And the fish means money to me."

Said Buckingham Palace: "Her Majesty has no objection to fishermen retaining their catch. If offered a sturgeon, however, she accepts it as a gift."

Body Pulled From River

A car containing the body of William R. Henry, 27, formerly of 7000 Williams, Lake, Waterford Township, was pulled out of the Ohio River at Owensboro, Ky., Monday.
Owensboro police said the car plunged into the river from a boat loading dock Dec. 1, 1967, and sunk in about 60 feet of water.
Cold weather, rapid currents and rising waters prevented a recovery at that time, police said.

Barrier of Bubbles

HOLLAND (AP) — A curtain of air bubbles across the mouth of the Holland harbor appears effective in keeping large numbers of Lake Michigan alewives from entering Lake Macatawa.
Members of the Lake Macatawa Intercommunity Committee, which contracted to have the equipment installed in the harbor, said it was proving more effective than anticipated.
A research boat from Grand Valley State College is expected to count the alewives in Lake Macatawa later this week.

Judge Rejects Mistrial Bid for Dr. Clark

Circuit Judge William Beer yesterday denied a demand for a mistrial in the case of Dr. Ronald B. Clark of Farmington, charged with manslaughter in the death of his part-time nurse.
The lawyer for the 56-year-old defendant charged that newspaper coverage of the trial had prejudiced persons in the area, including friends and family of some of the jurors.
The trial is being conducted in Mason due to a change of venue granted by Beer on the basis of alleged prejudicial pretrial publicity.
Beer called back the jury and asked its members if they had read or heard anything that would change their minds about the presumed innocence of the doctor.
"NOT SO NAIVE"
When they replied they had not, Beer denied the motion.
He said: "A long time ago I reached the point of believing that an American citizen is not so naive as to be persuaded in his judgment by the press."

Clark is charged in the death of Mrs. Grace Neil, 43, of Livonia. The prosecution alleges she died of an overdose of sodium pentothal, or "truth serum," administered by Clark while treating the woman for a heart ailment.
Mrs. Tracey died Monday. She was a member of the American Friends, Philadelphia, Pa.
Surviving besides her husband are four daughters, Mrs. Virginia J. big as football fields and cost $10 million to build. Many have crews of up to 50 men and are equipped with living quarters, recreation and dining rooms. Starr Commonwealth for Boys, Albion.

Rigs Expensive

Modern offshore drilling rigs, used in prospecting for natural gas beneath the sea, may be as big as football fields and cost $10 million to build. Many have crews of up to 50 men and are equipped with living quarters, recreation and dining rooms. Starr Commonwealth for Boys, Albion.

People in the News

By The Associated Press
It's Arthur J. Goldberg, attorney at law. Goldberg, who retired Monday as U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations, has joined the New York law firm of Paul, Weiss, Rifkin, Wharton and Garrison.
From now on, the firm will be known as Paul, Weiss, Goldberg, Rifkin, Wharton and Garrison.
Besides Ambassador Goldberg, in the past it has been Justice Goldberg of the U.S. Supreme Court and Secretary Goldberg of the Labor Department.

American Woman Now a Guyanese Citizen

Janet Jagan, American-born wife of Dr. Cheddi Jagan, leftist Peoples Progressive party leader, has been granted Guyanese citizenship.
Guyana Home Affairs Minister Llewellyn John made the announcement today in Parliament in Georgetown.
Mrs. Jagan applied for citizenship six months ago, and after three months of waiting, she protested over the delay. The government said then that it was "processing" her application.
Mrs. Jagan, the former Janet Rosenberg of Chicago, lost her American citizenship when she voted in Guyana elections. But she regained it last year following a decision of the U.S. Supreme Court.
She can return to the United States at any time, but her husband still remains banned.

Wedding Bells to Ring Dixieland Style

When Alice Ann Doughty gets married July 4, providing the "first-son-traditional" music at the wedding will be a Dixieland band.
"We think most church music is not very good," said the father of the bride, Ralph Doughty of Oklahoma City. He will escort his daughter down the aisle of St. Patrick's Catholic Church, then join the band to play trumpet.
Music for the wedding will include the Dixieland jazz versions of the wedding march, the offertory, Lord's Prayer, communion and recessional.
Alice Ann, 20, is getting married in Robert Kellogg, a 21-year-old sergeant stationed at Warren Air Force Base in Cheyenne, Wyo. She says she doesn't know what he will think about it, but she said he had heard the jazz music for a Thanksgiving Mass and "thought it was great."
The Rev. Dale Dirkschneider, an assistant pastor who will perform the ceremony, says he favors the jazz music.

Actress Plays Sick for Students

Actress Margo Makee plays the only part in a drama that has run for nearly three years and in which the script changes every day.
She acts from a hospital bed, and often for an audience of one. She never gets applause.
She's a "programmed patient" employed by the University of Southern California's School of Medicine in Los Angeles as part of the neurology department's teaching program.
A veteran actress trained in off-Broadway shows and television programs, she studies patient's behavior and then imitates it for the students.
Dr. Howard S. Barrows, professor of neurology, says the project spurs the actual patient the ordeal of frequent examinations and that the programmed patient can replay illnesses until each student learns to recognize the disease.

Local Banker Gets Traffic Safety Post

Traffic Safety for Michigan, Inc., a Lansing-based citizens association which campaigns for traffic safety, has elected Milo J. Cross, chairman of the board of Pontiac State Bank, as president.
The organization is composed of Michigan labor, agriculture and business leaders. The four major auto corporations are also members.

Woman at Sea Calls for Help

LONDON (AP) — A German woman sailing in the single-handed transatlantic yacht race radioed a distress call today, saying her 30-foot boat was breaking up in midocean.
Edith Baumann, 26, who learned to sail only a year ago, reported her three-hulled yacht Koala III was being battered by a gale 300 miles due north of the Azores.
The distress call was picked up by the Italian liner Michelangelo.
U.S. Air Force planes from the Azores, French aircraft and two French frigates were speeding to the gale-swept area.

The Negro Veteran Comes Home—1

Black GIs Make Fine Combat Showing

First of Three

NEW YORK (UPI) — In May 1968, in the jungle war zone northwest of Saigon, Joe Williams, 19, a high school dropout, braved heavy machine gun and mortar fire to aid his buddies caught in an ambush.

Williams, a medic with a rifle platoon of the 1st Infantry Division, crawled from man to man, plugging gaping shrapnel wounds with thick dressings, shooting morphine into a man whose arm had been shattered and telling another he would be okay, although the lower portion of his body was blown away.

Joey was hit three times by bullets — in the back, in the legs and in one foot. For his heroism, the army awarded Spec. 4 Don (Joey) Williams of Memphis, Tenn. the Bronze Star medal with a "V" for valor.

On April 4, 1968, near Main and Beale streets in downtown Memphis, Joey Williams, then 21 and unemployed, looted stores, burned shops and fought the police and National Guard.

AND CASE

Six months after Joey won his decoration, on Nov. 6, 1968, Buddy Warrick, 22, a high school dropout and a rifleman, distinguished himself in combat during a battle in the Central Lowlands of Vietnam.

Warrick ignored heavy enemy mortar fire and dragged a wounded buddy 120 yards to safety. For his heroism, the 196th Light Infantry Brigade awarded Sgt. James (Buddy) Warrick of Providence, R.I., the Army Commendation Medal with a "V" and the Vietnamese government decorated him with its Silver Star for valor.

On Aug. 1, 1967, Buddy Warrick, also unemployed, went into the riot-torn streets of South Providence in a personally dangerous effort to persuade Negroes to stop looting and burning and go home.

Williams and Warrick are Negroes. What sent Joey into the streets to riot and Buddy into the streets to stop a riot was the different feeling each had about the United States.

Williams felt that after having served in Vietnam, his country had failed to deliver on its promise of democracy and equal opportunity for everyone.

Warrick believed that the delivery was slow, that it was coming and he would get his.

In the Army, both men saw democracy in action — in equal opportunities for advancement and full integration. In Vietnam, both learned there was only one color — olive drab — and only one concern — battle.

Negro battle Vietnam have been paid the Chicago, 21, a medic in the 1st Cavalry Division, is typical of that kind of Negro soldier. He has taught himself a few words of Vietnamese. On search operations in villages, he seeks out the elders and tries to explain what the troops are doing and why. He also offers to treat sick villagers.

Often, Baker ends up being invited to drink tea with these village leaders and, when his unit pulls out, he has left behind friends of the United States but at least better understand the GI.

The most eloquent record of the black soldier in combat is that written in his own blood. Between 1961 and the end of 1967, 14.1 per cent of all battle deaths were Negroes, although Negroes during those years averaged less than 10 per cent of the total troops in Vietnam.

The New York Times reported that in late 1965 and early 1966, black battle deaths rose to 25 per cent and the Pentagon ordered a cutback in Negro participation at the front.

The Defense Department officially denies the report. The Vietnam war has been a widening experience for nearly every Negro. His battle record is a source of new pride and new confidence.

SAGA OF A GALLANT TUG

OCTOBER 23 1941, THE TUG 'AMERICA' WAS CALLED FROM ITS HOME PORT OF TOLEDO TO AID A FREIGHTER STUCK ON A MUD BANK IN THE DETROIT RIVER. THE 'AMERICA' TOILED THROUGH THE NIGHT BUT COULD NOT FREE THE GROUNDING SHIP. ONE LAST EFFORT WAS MADE, WINCHES RATTLED, CABLES STRAINED—THEN A BROKEN GEAR OR A SHAPED LEVER AND THE TUG LURCHED OVER ON ITS SIDE, FILLED WITH WATER AND SANK. 7 OF ITS 13 MAN CREW DROWNED.

BUT THE GALLANT TUG 'AMERICA' WAS TOO TOUGH TO DIE. IT WAS RAISED, FITTED WITH NEW DIESEL ENGINES AND STILL OPERATES ON THE LAKES.

Life in West Berlin Is Recurring Crisis

BERLIN (UPI)—In West Berlin's Grunewald Woods, Spec. 4 John Brown of Pineland, Tex., adjusted the sighting mechanism of a U.S. Army 81mm Mortar. On the Kurfurstendamm main street, former beauty queen Susanne Erichsen told the attractive girls being trained as "welcome international service" hostesses they would be fired from their $1.50 an hour jobs if they showed anything more than the picture postcard sights. On Linden Strasse where the Communist border meets the American sector, East Berlin workers guarded by armed troops built a second wall a few yards behind the first one, the better to keep East Germans inside East Germany. In Reykjavik, Iceland, the foreign ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) were pledging a strong united front against fresh Communist pressure on West Berlin.

ALL in all, a typical West Berlin day. In the Palace Hotel Christian O'Brien, an Australian star here for the annual Berlin film festival, told newsmen she weighs 7 1/2 stone. An interpreter explained that "ein stein" equals 14 pounds. At Park's Range, on the East-West border, Sgt. Chester Fehnel of North Hampton, Pa., climbed into the commander's position atop his M48 tank. "Marcella" got the top striptease billing at the Scotch Club 13 in Augsburg Strasse, the city's sin street, where hostesses in mod club charge $2.75 a drink and are not fired for conduct Suane Erichsen would not allow. Tennessee Williams' "The Glass Menagerie" packed them in at the Vaganten Theater in a revival. Talk of Communist pressure made it all the more typical. The Marcellas and the Conchitas—"fresh from Barcelona"—come and go. One film festival succeeds another. Spec. 4 Brown goes home. "The Glass Menagerie" is revived for the umpteenth time and still there is Communist pressure in one form or another on this city 110 miles inside East Germany. West Berlin's 2.2 million residents are used to it. They are not happy about it. They are concerned, but as usual they are not afraid and are ready to be defiant again if necessary.

This city has had a lot of practice living under pressure. Just 20 years ago this month the blockade started. The blockade ended in 11 months but Eastern pressure in one form or another has gone on. It would take a computer to list all the "baby blockades" and "creeping blockades" and so-called "Communist pin-pricks" and the things have gone on in the air and on the ground the last 20 years. The late Ernst Reuter, mayor during the blockades, used to say, "We are tired of being heroes. We just want to live normal lives."

NOT VERY GOOD But the outlook for normal life here is not very good. And not everyone can be a hero. The city needs people, and it particularly needs young people. The city has no natural hinterland to draw on and since the wall was built Aug. 13, 1961, it no longer gets the refugees, who provided the city's new lifeblood for years. The campaign to get West Germans to come here has not worked. Last year more persons moved out of the city than moved in. The death rate is higher than the birth rate, and 19 per cent of the people are 65 and older compared with 12 per cent in West Germany. But statistics like these are trotted out every time there is a Berlin crisis, and still the city goes on.

Summer Spells Return of Home-Repair Con Men

LANSING (UPI) — A band of "painters" drive up to a two-story frame and offer to paint it for $200.

The "nice" man in white overalls tells the lady at the door they can do it cheaply because another one of their jobs for the day fell through.

"It's better to earn something, even if it isn't as much as we were promised on the other job," he says.

The woman, figuring it to be a once in a lifetime bargain,

MOVE INTO ACTION

The painters move into action. They slosh the paint around as quickly as possible, collect their money and take off.

The paint job looks pretty good—until the first rain. Then it's discovered the paint is nothing more than watercolors and it washes off.

By the time of the discovery, the roving man may have painted 15 more houses.

Then there's the case of the woman who paid a man $225 for "blacktopping" her drive with used motor oil. The man sprayed the 12½-cent-a-gallon stuff on for the "low" price of $4.75 a gallon.

LEFT WITH MONEY

When the job was done, the man left with the money and the woman has a sticky driveway.

These pests can be counted on to appear every summer as regularly as ants at a picnic.

Most of the time these con men travel in groups offering to "repair and improve" homes at bargain basement prices.

Fortunately, the attorney general's office has a consumers protective division that has been clamping down on the con men in Michigan.

DATA NETWORK

Organized in 1960, the division aims to "make it hot in Michigan" for these people. A sophisticated network of relaying information about these groups and where they're operating speeds detection of them.

The program relies on local persons, who get "taken" or who suspect anyone as being a con artist, to notify law enforcement officials and chambers of commerce.

The information is then sent on to the consumer's protection division for relay around the state by "hot line" telephone calls.

Other communities are then put on the lookout for the crooks. The total system of relay takes only hours, hopefully, time enough to catch up with the "bargain basement repairmen."

"The biggest detriment to the program," a spokesman said, "is the person who won't admit he's been fleeced. He leaves the door open for others to get taken in."

The spokesman said that many times a person is so embarrassed by being sold a bad bill of goods that he won't even tell his spouse about the incident.

And a New Car

SAPULPA, Okla. (AP) — A Sapulpa man needed brake fluid for his car Monday. He pulled into a garage, was unable to stop and hit a tire changer. His car bounced off the changer and slammed into the firm's wall, sending bricks flying.

Computerized Cataloging of U.S. Art Objects Is Under Way

NEW YORK (AP) — Work is under way on the nation's first central art archive, an $8.5-million computer network that will program the contents of 21 of the nation's largest museums.

Eventually, all of the nation's estimated six million art objects will be included in what project director Everett Ellin describes as an "infinite artbook."

"I don't envision it becoming a supercurator," said Ellin. "It won't make value judgments. It can only make comparisons of one fact with another, but it can produce raw material which a scholar can interpret."

Ellin arrived at the idea of a computer network after witnessing an "information overload" at the Guggenheim Museum in New York where he was an assistant director.

CATALOG CARDS

Much of the information about museum collections is compiled on catalog cards, a practice that is getting out of hand, he said.

"If you took all the index cards in the United States and stacked them into a single museum," said Ellin, "the floor would surely collapse from the weight."

Originally, the project was to include 15 New York museums and the National Gallery in Washington, D. C., working with the New York University Institute for Computer Research. These 16 museums received an initial $50,000 grant from the New York Council on the Arts and the Old Dominion Foundation for preliminary plans.

Since then, five other museums have joined the network, thus adding to the data bank, the extensive collections of the Baltimore Museum of Art, the Los Angeles County Museum, the Philadelphia Museum of Art, the San Francisco Museum of Art and the Smithsonian Institution.

AID TO SCHOLARS

The computer will not only provide a central bank for information storage, but it also will be invaluable in helping scholars get at it in an orderly fashion.

"Too many scholars are not getting into problems because it is too unfeasible to answer a question," said Ellin, who sees the computer as an opportunity to free the creative thinker from the drudgeries of research.

In addition, he said, it will help a curator when he wants to plan an exhibition.

As an example, Ellin referred to an exhibit on possessions of kings last year at the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York. Thousands of catalogue cards had to be searched just to find out what articles the museum had in its more than 200,000-piece collection.

SIMPLE MATTER

"But if the collection had been on computer storage, it would have been a simple matter to search for the available works," he said, "and the computer would have typed out a list of available pieces immediately."

Ellin, a 40-year-old lawyer with an engineering background, envisions all museums eventually buying their own computers and being able to feed new information into the central archive. He even foresees the storing of images on computers.

In the long run, he sees it as "almost the infinite artbook at anyone's command," with console models in homes.

"You could be sitting at home after dinner and someone could be recounting visits to Greece," said Ellin. "You could dial a central archive and summon onto your screen images of what you are speaking about."

Mothers' Parley

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Mothers of World War II opened their 25th national convention Tuesday at Grand Rapids. More than 200 delegates are expected for the meeting which concludes Thursday with installation of new officers. Irene McMahon of Kalamazoo is national president.

Another all-time FAVORITE RECIPE from McCall's

- 2/3 cup lemon juice
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine, melted
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 3 broiler-fryers, (2 pound size) halved
- 1 tablespoon sesame seeds

1. Adjust grill 5" from prepared coals.
2. Combine lemon juice, butter and salt to make basting sauce.
3. Place chickens, skin side down, on grill. Baste with basting sauce; sprinkle with half of sesame seeds; grill 15 to 20 minutes.
4. Turn; brush with more sauce; sprinkle with rest of seeds; grill 15 to 20 minutes longer. Serve with any remaining sauce. Makes 6 servings.

Weather Hampers Horse Schedule

BY JERE CRAIG

The weatherman commanded an anything-but-bright spotlight Tuesday at the Detroit Horse Show, causing the postponement of last night's three events.

It is rare that a class is set back at the Detroit Horse Show, and the postponement of all three events was very unusual. Included were the first junior jumper, open jumper and regular working hunter classes at the 51st annual competition.

Among the results during the wet daytime judging were a surprise in the junior riders' working hunter class and the debut of a promising new green jumper.

Milwren, the 11-year-old black gelding owned and ridden by Katie Monahan of Bloomfield Hills, last year lost the Skip Couzens Memorial Trophy as the outstanding working hunter ridden by a junior rider by one point.

SECOND PLACE

Yesterday it had to settle for second place behind an eight-year-old rival from Ohio, 'Tidewater Farms' For Now, in their first class at this show.

The green jumper event in the afternoon resulted in a jumpoff between Legal Fees and Steel Master. Both horses were ridden by Jim Day for different owners. Day is one of the leading hopefuls for a berth on the Canadian Olympic team.

In the jumpoff, seven-year-old chestnut

RAIN HALTS START OF GOLF TOURNEY — Rain washed out the opening round of the Women's District Golf Association medal play tournament slated for today at Meadowbrook Country Club near Northville.

With the washout, the tournament has been cut from 54 holes to 36. Weather permitting, the event will open tomorrow with 18 holes and the final 18 is set for Friday. If rain makes the course unplayable tomorrow, WDGA officials said 18 holes would be played Friday and the other 18 on Saturday.

Defending champion in the event is four-time winner Mrs. T. M. Werner of Indianwood.

MUDDY TRIAL — The "trial" to the stables was perhaps more of a trial than their ring class Tuesday afternoon by the time Meg Woodington and her jumper Hobbit had collected their third-place ribbon and money.

TURIN, Italy (AP) — The June 28 fight between world middleweight champion Nino Benvenuti and Jimmy Ramos of Boston, was postponed Tuesday until a current wave of newspaper strikes clears up.

Tigers' Deluge in 7th Swamps Yanks

Bengals Rally for 8-5 Victory on Rainy Night

NEW YORK (AP) — "Be sure and visit the Yankee Hall of Fame in lobby 6," the public address announcer said. "It will remain open one hour after the end of tonight's game."

Except it wasn't Tuesday night anymore; it was early Wednesday morning, and the Detroit Tigers still were half an inning and another threatening rain storm away from wrapping up an 8-5 victory over the New York Yankees.

LOSING EARLIER

About four innings and 2½ hours earlier, the Tigers would have gladly settled for a rain-out. At that time they were losing 4-1, and Steve Barber was stymieing their potent bats.

***

Rain already had interrupted the game twice, and it started falling again with Detroit at bat in the top of the fifth — two outs away from an official loss.

"We started stalling a little," said center fielder Mickey Stanley, who later was to deliver a key two-run single in Detroit's comeback. "We were taking pitches. We had to and hope for some more rain."

MORE RAIN

More rain did fall, and when play finally was resumed at 11:18, the teams had played for 90 minutes and the rain for 99.

"I was ready to take a rainout and so were the other guys," Stanley said. "We were down 4-1, and we weren't hitting Barber."

"I've never played in a game like this. I'll say one thing. Whether you win or lose makes a big difference in how you play five hours and lose, you feel awfully dejected."

The Tigers, however, left the dejected feelings for the Yankees. They erupted for six runs in the seventh inning, two on Stanley's single off Bill Monbouquette and two on Willie Horton's triple off Fred Talbot.

Barber had particularly good reason for feeling dejected. After struggling in the minors for the first seven weeks of the season, the veteran left-hander was seeking his first Yankee victory of the season.

The end of the 28-year-old Barber came in the seventh inning after he walked leadoff batter Wayne Comer on four pitches.

"Steve told me before the inning, 'If I get into trouble take me out,'" Yankee manager Ralph Houk said. Houk took him out, but that's when the real trouble started.

UP IN ARMS—Umpire Nestor Chylak signals New York's Horace Clark safe at third in the first inning of last night's game against Detroit. Clark gained first on an error by third baseman Dick Tracewski (44) and came to third on a wild pitch by Tiger hurler Mickey Lolich. Clark later scored on a passed ball but the Tigers came from behind to win, 8-5.

2 Tigers Land All-Star Berths

Freehan, Horton Joining Starters in Annual Classic

NEW YORK (AP) — Slugging outfielder Frank Howard of the Washington Senators, the American League's home run and run batted in leader was named to the circuit's All-Star team for the first time and third baseman Brooks Robinson made it for the ninth consecutive year, it was announced today.

Others chosen to start against the National League in the July 9 All-Star baseball game in Houston were outfielder Carl Yastrzemski of Boston catcher Bill Freehan and outfielder Willie Horton of Detroit, first baseman Harmon Killebrew and second baseman Rod Carew of Minnesota and shortstop Jim Fregosi of California.

Robinson, Freehan, Killebrew, Carew and Yastrzemski all started last year when the AL dropped a 2-1 decision, extending the circuit's losing streak in the mid-season classic to five games. The National League leads in the series, 20 to 17 with one tie.

Outfielders Tony Oliva of Minnesota and Tony Conigliaro of Boston and shortstop Rico Petrocelli of the Red Sox were the other AL starters in 1967.

Freehan led the batting by league players this year, accumulating 248 votes. The Tigers' backstop is batting .260.

Yastrzemski, hitting .321, was next with 246 votes followed by Howard with 238, Horton, 193 and Carew, 184.

The closest competition for a starting position was at first base where Killebrew collected 116 votes and Boog Powell of Baltimore drew 106. Killebrew has 12 homers and 32 runs batted in, but is way down the batting list with a .216 average. Powell has a .255 batting mark with 11 homers and 44 RBI.

Horton, chosen for the second time in his career, has 18 homers, 39 RBI and a .287 average.

U.S. Army Runner Aims for Record

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bob torn Achilles tendon in 1966. Day, who once ran an incredible mile, says the American record for 5,000 meters isn't very good, and he hopes to do something about it Saturday.

The former UCLA miler, now a Private First Class in the U.S. Army, will step on the Los Angeles Coliseum track with America's finest distance runners in the 5,000-meter Olympic trials. Day said he's pointing at the American record of 13:38.8 set earlier this year by Gerry Lindgren.

The others in the race "know what the record is, too," Day said.

AUSSEIS HAS MARK

Ron Clarke of Australia holds the world record of 13:16.6 for 5,000-meters, and Day thinks that mark is untouchable for a while.

This is a comeback year for Day, who suffered a severely

STARS GALORE

Saturday the track will be full of stars including Lindgren, Van Nelson, Tracy Smith, Bob Schul and possibly even George Young, unbeaten this year.

"I think the American record should be in the low 13:20s," said Day. "I'm over the injury now and I'm building toward a peak. If the pace is fast, we all might run well."

"If the pace is slow, I think I can run the last lap in 55 or 54 seconds. I can run about 57 seconds on the last lap of a fast race."

Lindgren is the one Day respects most in the race Saturday. "He runs a little like Clarke," said the 23-year-old Day. "He'll be running a nice even pace and suddenly he'll have to stay with him."

Bob ran the first 440 in 56 seconds, the half-mile in 1:33 and three-quarters in 2:54.7. By that time, Groth and the rest of the field were far behind.

Reject Banning Attempt USAC Sticks by Turbine Use

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — The one Bobby Unser won the was uncompetitive with the p... U.S. Auto Club directors reject Indianapolis 500-mile race May... on-engine cars.

Thomas W. Blinford, USAC president, said the directors' action "means that the turbine and other unique forms of power are still eligible to compete with the more traditional piston engines. The board is hopeful that a reduction can be recommended."

"The action was delayed until 1970," Blinford said, "to give those interested an opportunity to develop an automotive turbine race car while continuing to compete with their present type turbines combined with four-wheel drive."

He said, "This reflects the board's desire to bring turbine-powered cars into the mainstream of automotive development as opposed to aircraft development."

The directors voted to: —Have a special committee reduction would eliminate his evaluate all USAC champion-turbines from competition with ship engine formulas, with the turbocharged Offenhauser possibility of reducing or adjust- ing all engine sizes for 1969. —Permit no turbine engines. —Eliminate four-wheel drive by Jan. 1, 1970.

The USAC Rules Committee had recommended shortly after the 500 that the turbine be banned from racing because it

Houston Fighter Scores 54th Kayo

HOUSTON (AP) — Veteran heavyweight Cleveland Williams of Houston scored his 54th knockout Tuesday night over Les Borden of Montreal, Canada, and tied Joe Louis' record.

Williams, 213½, decked Borden, 198, at 2:35 in the first round of a scheduled 10-round fight at Sam Houston Coliseum.

Texas heavyweight champion Dave Zygiewicz, 191½, of Houston, stopped Levi Forte, 194½, of Miami Beach, Fla., at 2:47 of the third round in a scheduled 10-round co-feature.

Granelati said he feels the new proposal is an efficient and ambiguous way of barring his turbine engines.

Granelati criticized elimination of four-wheel drive which he said combined with the turbine and streamlined chassis to make his car competitive.

Blinford said four-wheel drive will be dropped because turbines no longer will require it.

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By John Carter

Here's a tough golf question... As you probably know, in the U.S. golf clubs had names in addition to numbers... When the old times played, they often called the clubs by their names... Now, see if you can supply the names for these clubs: No. 2 wood, 3 wood, 4 wood, 5 iron and 9 iron... The 2 wood is the brassie, the 3 wood is the spoon, the 4 wood is the club, the 5 iron is the masher and the 9 iron is the nicker... They should bring back names for some of you old golfers.

Who was the last man to win the U.S. singles championship more than two years in a row... It was Big Bill Tilden who won the title 6 straight years between 1920 and 1925.

Joe Louis lost only three fights in his entire professional career... Can you name the three men who beat him? ... They are Max Baer, Sugar Ray Robinson and Ezzard Charles... Schmeling and Marciano knocked out Louis, while Charles won by a decision.

I bet you didn't know that the most important thing we offer our customers is fine, accurate, impartial, professional tire advice. And it springs from more combined years of life experience than any other tire firm in town — 46 years — count 'em!

Rain Puts Damper on Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Bad weather is casting a cloud over the first Open Wimbledon tennis championship and threatening to put added strain on the veteran pros.

After two days hit heavily by rain, 14 of the 64 scheduled matches in the first round of the men's singles still hadn't been started.

Tournament referee Mike Gibson, said: "It's the older pros like Pancho Gonzales and Lew Hoad I feel sorry for."

"Normally we space out the singles matches so that players get a day's rest between rounds. But because the weather has interfered so much with the program, we shall not be able to avoid asking them to play on consecutive days."

Gonzales, 40, from Los Angeles, is competing in the All-England tournament for the first time since he turned pro 19 years ago. He won his first by an amateur.

round match Tuesday, defeating Ramanathan Krishnan of India 6-2, 6-4, 6-3.

Hoad, 33-year-old Australian who turned pro after winning Wimbledon in 1957, defeated another Indian, Jaidip Mukerjee, in three straight sets Monday.

Herb Fitzgibbon, 26, from Wightman Cupper Peaches Garden City, N.Y., claimed Monday's honors by knocking out Nikki Pilić of Yugoslavia 3-6, 7-5, 6-3, 6-2. That was the finalist, overcame Kathy Harter first time since he turned pro 19 years ago. He won his first by an amateur.

Pilić, a semifinalist at last year's Wimbledon, was the No. 16 seed.

The two top seeds in the women's singles — both professionals — got off the mark with victories. Defending champion Mrs. Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., downed U.S.

Wightman Cupper Peaches Garden City, N.Y., claimed Monday's honors by knocking out Nikki Pilić of Yugoslavia 3-6, 7-5, 6-3, 6-2. That was the finalist, overcame Kathy Harter first time since he turned pro 19 years ago. He won his first by an amateur.

Turbine Debuts in Road Race

Star-Studded Field for Rocky Mt. Classic

CASTLE ROCK, Colo. (AP) — A controversial turbine-powered racer, driven by Joe Leonard, will make its U.S. road race debut in the $25,000 premier Rocky Mountain 150-miler at Continental Divide Raceways here July 7.

The Parnelli Jones Firestone STP Special was entered in the U.S. Auto Club-sanctioned race Tuesday, bringing the field to 21 for the 57-lap race over the 10-turn, 2.66 mile course.

Leonard, of San Jose, Calif., drove the same turbine in the Indianapolis 500 last month after qualifying the machine at 171.599 miles an hour to win the pole position. He was in the lead with nine laps to go when the car stalled on the 181st lap.

Heading the field here is the 1968 Indianapolis winner, Bobby Unser of Albuquerque, N.M. Others entered include A. J. Foyt, Lloyd Ruby, Mario Andretti and Billy Vukovich.

The two are Melvin (Bud) and Don Stevens, who combined for a 136 in the best-ball event to tie for the top spot and then beat the twosome of Jim Rae and Lynn Janson of Lansing in a playoff.

PARTNERSHIP ENDS

But the partnership was ended this morning as the Stevens test off in the Michigan Amateur Championship.

Today's play is strictly a solo affair, with the Stevens brothers along with 239 others battling in a 36-hole test to determine who'll join defending champion Bill Newcomb of Ann Arbor for the match play phase of the tournament which opens Friday.

PLAY 36 HOLES

The large field will play 18 holes today and 18 tomorrow with the low 63 joining Newcomb for the match play.

The two Stevens are both former Amateur champions. Bud won the event three times — 1959, 1963 and 1965 — while Don took the crown in 1960.

Bud, a member at Western, and Don, a Plum Hollow member, were eight-under-par over the 6,414-yard layout yesterday in winning the best-ball title.

BIRDIE PUTT

It took the Stevens boys four holes to whip the Lansing twosome. The end came when Don canned a birdie putt on the par-3, 230-yard No. 4.

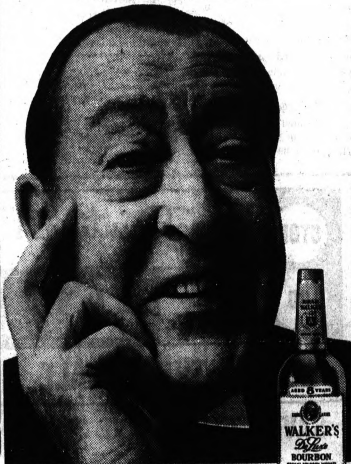

Taking the No. 3 spot in a three-way playoff were Russ Streeter of Walled Lake and Frank Reaume of Detroit.

Streeter and Reaume carded 138s, along with Ole Ellstrom Jr. and Ted Kondratko and Pontiac's Ken McClintock and Dick Robertson.

Altitude Trials Are Stressed

ALTITUDE TRIALS — 42 T.R. LOS ANGELES (AP) — A sprinter and a distance runner agreed Tuesday that training at high altitude is an absolute necessity for competitors in the Olympic Games this fall at Mexico City.

Ex-Amateur Paces Field in Qualifying

By the Associated Press
Former British Amateur champ Joe Conrad fired a 69 for a 143 total Tuesday to lead qualifying at San Antonio, Tex., for next month's National PGA Championships.
Conrad, now living in San Antonio, had the only sub-par round on the 7,138-yard Pecan Valley Course, site of the national meet. Rex Baxter of Houston, with a 71-76-147, also qualified for the July 18-21 competition.
J.C. Goosse of Clearwater, Fla., turned in a five-under-par 66 for a 137 in winning Florida's spot in the tournament in competition at Lehigh Acres, Fla.
Sonny Ridenhour of High Point, N.C., carded a six-under-par 69-67-136 and Bob Gallo-way of Denver, N.C., had a 69-74-143 to win the two berths in the Carolinas sectional at Asheville, N.C.

Two other spots allotted that sectional were awarded earlier to touring pro Julius Boros and defending Carolina champ Bobby Mitchell of Danville, Va.
Robert Nichols of Cookeville, Tenn., had a 73-71-144 and was the only qualifier in the South-eastern competition at Memphis, Tenn.

Coaches Study Blocking, QB's

Western Defenders Showing Good Rush

ATLANTA (AP)—West Coach Dee Andros of Oregon State was concerned today about protecting against the pass run while East Coach John Pont of Indiana mulled over which quarterback to start—Greg Landry of Massachusetts or Kim King of Georgia Tech.

"I hope the East isn't as tough as our defense," Andros said after Tuesday's practice session for Friday's Coaches Football All-America game.

"I'd like to think it was due to the fine pass rush of our defense rather than any weakness in our offensive line," he said.

Andros said he was using both Gary Behan and Billy Stevens to spell flankers in practice. "We just don't have many receivers," he said, "and we have to rest the ones we have because of the heat."

Meanwhile, Pont pondered the quarterback competition.

He said Landry "looks good, very good, and from what I've seen here in the practices I think a very quick release is what he has best of all."

But, he said, "I'm not quite ready to say who will start, Landry or Kim King, but we are indeed pleased with Landry's work."

Grand Rapids Team to Play in Holland

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — The Grand Rapids, Mich., Sullivan's will represent the United States next month at an international baseball series at Haarlem, The Netherlands.

The National Baseball Congress is sponsoring the series which will open July 20. In addition to the U.S. entry, there will be teams from Italy, The Netherlands and The Netherlands Antilles in a round-robin, seven-game program.

The Grand Rapids Sullivan's are former Congress tournament champions. They won the first series in 1961 when they played the Dutch in the United States and also won the 1963 series in Holland.

The international games will be about 7,350 feet above sea level. Many of the United States squads, including the track teams, will train this summer and fall at South Lake Tahoe, Calif., at about that same altitude.

NEED TRAINING

"Sprinters need the altitude training as much as distance men," commented speedster Mel Pender. Tracy Smith of the distance corps said, "I don't think anybody training at sea level can run at Mexico City and hope to win."

Pender, an Army captain, and Smith, a private first class, are among the top athletes competing in the Los Angeles Coliseum on Saturday and Sunday in the men's track and field Olympic trials.

Head coach Payton Jordan said the first three finishers in each event will be invited automatically to the high altitude training and up to 10 in each event may be invited. The actual number would appear to be somewhere between 15 and 20.

Also, special invitations will be issued such athletes as Jim Ryan and Richard Flowers who through illness or injury weren't able to compete in the trials.

STRESS IMPORTANCE

Importance of altitude training was stressed by Pender who recalled running a 100-meter race at Mexico last summer.

"I ran a 10.2 and felt good right after the race. Thirty minutes later I could hardly walk. We had arrived just one day before the meet."

In most Olympic running events, the contestants must be reaching the finish before Smith's parents own a lodge near Bishop, Calif., in the High Sierra where he sometimes goes to work out at the 8,400-foot altitude.

"The first couple of weeks at altitude you can't do nearly as much as at sea level," he says. With altitude training, the 23-year-old Smith doesn't feel the distance runners from the lowlands will be at a disadvantage.

Young Fish Sensitive to Pollution

Once again, Conservation Department fishermen have learned the hard lesson of how extremely sensitive young fish are to pollution.

Earlier this year, they saw some 700,000 young coho salmon die in Department hatcheries, and research findings at a Michigan State University linked DDT residues as the "most probable" cause of those losses.

More recently, a heavy number of muskellunge fry were victimized at the department's Wolf Lake Hatchery near Kalamazoo, and serious oversight on our part," admits Brad Durling, supervisor of the Department's hatchery system.

He adds that the fisheries workers at Wolf Lake are correcting the situation by replacing the galvanized liner with a glass liner.

Upshot of the zinc-caused mortality is that this year's anticipated production of muskie fingerlings at Wolf Lake will be cut from 50,000 to only about 11,000.

WRONG LINER

The small but lethal doses of zinc escaped into the tanks from the galvanized liner of a heater that was being used to maintain water temperatures for maximum muskie production.

"The installation of a galvanized liner for the water heater was an honest but serious oversight on our part," admits Brad Durling, supervisor of the Department's hatchery system.

He adds that the fisheries workers at Wolf Lake are correcting the situation by replacing the galvanized liner with a glass liner.

Pheasant Count Down This Spring

"Down but not out" describes Lower Michigan's pheasant breeding populations this spring, reports the Conservation Department.

Results of the department's recent ringneck "crowing" counts indicate that pheasant numbers are about 35 per cent below a year ago.

Victor S. Janson, the pheasant specialist, explains that the birds' generally lower population this spring is due to their poor hatch last spring.

He adds: "We expected the birds' breeding population to be well below 1967 because of last spring's reduced nesting success. This spring's population level pretty much matches up with the 40-per cent decline in the 1967 pheasant crop."

STILL HOPEFUL

Although pheasant numbers are decidedly down this spring, game men are still hopeful that the birds' populations will be closer to the 1967 mark by this fall. Everything rides now with the birds' nesting season which, on the average, produces at least 75 per cent of the targets available to pheasant hunters each fall.

"If the birds have a good hatch this year, it will somewhat compensate for their lower production last year, and could result in some increase in the total kill this fall," notes Janson.

Some recovery is possible this year, but a full comeback is not probable he frankly observes. "There was enough flooding of low areas in late May to make it doubtful that the birds can completely rally back to their 1967 level," he points out.

Janson says the best preview of all hunting prospects will come in mid-August after rural mail carriers have completed their annual pheasant brood survey to size up the birds' 1968 crop.

As the birds went into their current nesting season, their breeding populations were down about 30 per cent in the Thumb Area, 50 in the southeastern and south-central sectors of the Lower Peninsula, and 23 per cent in the western block of Allegan, Muskegon and Ottawa counties.

FRINGE COUNTIES

They were 44 per cent below last spring in their northern fringe range which takes in Gladwin, Mecosta, Midland and Newaygo counties.

Only bright spot in the state is Southwestern Michigan where the pheasant numbers are up about 25 per cent.

The Conservation Department's survey effort is now concentrated on quail. Game men are making early-morning whistling counts of these birds in southern Michigan to measure quail breeding populations.

Janson reports: "Our game men will cover about 50 established survey routes to see which southern counties have enough quail to provide a hunt-able crop of birds for this fall."

This is the only survey run on quail and the Department leans heavily on it to determine where and if these birds will be legal fall targets. Because of the generally mild winter, Janson is hopeful that quail numbers this spring will show an improvement over 1967.

Champion Strives for Spot in Olympics

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — The nation's most outstanding sports shooters move into San Antonio this week to compete for national honors in the U.S. International Shooting Championships and to strive for a position on the U.S. Olympic Shooting Team.

Included in the field of 400 rifle, shotgun, and pistol competitors will be three former Olympic gold medalists. Capt. Lones Wigger, Great Falls, Mont., of the U.S. Army, and Gary Anderson, San Anselmo, Calif., two of the nation's best known riflemen, will be contestants. Wigger, a former national Smallbore Rifle champion, set a world record in the 1964 Olympics in Tokyo when he captured the three-position Smallbore Rifle title with a fantastic score of 1164 points out of 1200.

In 1964 Anderson took the gold medal in Tokyo with a record score of 1153 points out of 1200 in the 300-meter, three-position, Free Rifle match.

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Ronnie Allison splashed to his third straight auto racing victory in the rain-shortened Montgomery 200 Grand Touring stock car race Tuesday night.

Heavy rains delayed the race for more than an hour at the end of the 62nd lap and finally caused an early halt to the race when the third shower fell during the 148th lap.

What gets under Chevrolet's skin?

Only the toughest truck components in the business!

Beneath Chevrolet's thick skin (double-valved in most places) lies a truck chassis built for punishment. A heavy-gauge steel frame provides the solid backbone for this inner strength. While a host of durable driveline components supply the muscle. Enough to whip most any job.

Of course, the heart of all this brawn is Chevrolet's engine. Six or V8, all are built for stamina. They last longer because of such things as Induction-hardened crankshaft journals. Inexpensive to operate, too. All run on regular gasoline. Keeping everything riding softly is the job of Chevy's famed independent front suspension. And what a job it does! Combined with tough coil springs, front and rear, this suspension system cushions the entire truck from jarring road shock.

So you see, beautiful engineering is more than skin deep on Chevrolet.

Army Orders Puzzle Auditors

WASHINGTON (UPI) — What puzzled auditors was why the Army's fighting force has housing authorities at U.S. Army Headquarters in South Vietnam needed 720 crystal li- quor glasses in such a hurry. Or, for that matter, why the rush for an organ for the 34th General Support Group? But if there is another Vietnam, the Army may be in a position to do better. It is working on creation of a Quick Reaction Inventory Con- trol Center (QRICC) that gets time."

So far as combat supplies go, high marks from GAO. They said the system "with its own computer, equipment, pretested programs, and trained military personnel, will be available to move quickly into a future combat situation — such as those in Vietnam — and to

And then there were the saltshakers and staples, paper clip and pencils, dictionaries and davepaga. These and other items, the General Accounting Office (GAO) reported today, were requisitioned by the Army in Vietnam on a costly top-priority basis that required special shipping, sometimes by air. "NOT JUSTIFIED" In 70 per cent of the cases where supplies were requisitioned on a rush basis, top-priority handling was "not justified" by the importance of the item, the GAO said. The auditing group, which keeps tabs on government spending for Congress, said this was one factor contributing to a total Army supply system for Vietnam that is still "costly and inefficient," although improved since the last GAO report in November.

Psychological Threat Seen in SST Booms

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sonic studies indicate "little cause for concern" from the psychological commercial supersonic transport could cause psychological problems for some people, a panel of scientists said yesterday. A subcommittee of the National Academy of Science based its conclusion on a study of sonic booms caused by military aircraft as they roar through the sound barrier.

The subcommittee called the outlook for the psychological effect of the giant commercial transports, as now proposed, "discouraging."

STEPPED-UP RESEARCH

It also urged stepped-up research to better assess levels acceptable to specialized groups of people, like hospital patients, infants, and people engaged in delicate work.

Research also should be undertaken, the subcommittee said, on the effects of sonic booms on sleep.

The subcommittee stressed that the discouraging picture would hold for any plans to employ the "current version" of the proposed SST.

"However," it added, "the subcommittee wishes to express cautious optimism in its belief that in the future, it may be possible to design and build a commercial SST that will, when flying supersonically, generate a boom of acceptable characteristics."

It said that while all available evidence suggests a psychological hazard from sonic booms, concern" from the psychological bodilily—standpoint. The subcommittee, headed by Prof. Raymond A. Bauer of Harvard University's Graduate School of Business Administration, said the research it suggests "is urgently needed. Irresponsible design of the supersonic transport flies over populated areas."

"Even if, as we assume, the present generation of SSTs will be restricted essentially to routes over water, this research is required to provide basic criteria necessary to the design of a future commercial SST which will be able to fly over populated areas at frequent intervals without undue annoyance to the residents of such areas."

Cherry Cream Parfait Is Instant Frosty Treat

Who doesn't look for short cuts to good taste? Here's a beat cream with sugar just in cherry-cream parfait produced in a twinkling from cloud-light cherry pie-filling until evenly sweetened whipped cream and blended. Spoon into 6 parfait tart cherry pie-filling straight glasses.

Place in freezer. Freeze 2 hours, or until firm. If desired, at serving time garnish top with additional whipped cream. Makes 6 servings.

SOUR CREAM VARIATION:
1 cup sour cream
1 tablespoon sugar
2 1/2 cups (1-lb. 5-oz. can) cherry pie-filling

Precook, Freeze Picnic Burgers

Feeding the crowd can be fun. Try this package ensemble for hamburgers that saves on time, toil and cooking space at picnics.

Cook hamburgers ahead of time at home and place in split hamburger rolls. Wrap individually in heavy duty foil and store in freezer until ready to use. Remove from freezer 1/2 hour before serving. Refrigerate until serving time. If desired, top each parfait with whipped cream. Makes 6 servings.

JIFFY PARFAIT — Whipped cream of sweetened sour cream blended with cherry pie filling and frozen makes a dessert that is delightful to look at and delicious to eat. You can prepare it for guests with little effort.

Let Potatoes Stand in Italian Dressing

What kind of potato salad do you prefer? Hot or cold? German or mayonnaise-style? If the family's split on this all-important subject, treat them to something new.

Serve a completely different kind of potato salad that's bound to win favor from all. Potato Salad which has a zest all its own, thanks to the use of tangy Italian dressing and the addition of cottage cheese.

CHANGE DRESSING
Use Italian dressing to marinate the cubes of cooked potato and give them zesty flavor. When the potatoes have absorbed most of their dressing, they're ready to go into the bowl with other good things to eat.

Cottage cheese provides fresh flavor and creamy texture, and

Patio Potato Salad

1/2 cup Italian-style dressing
1 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
3 medium potatoes, cooked and cubed
1 1/2 cups cottage cheese
1/2 cup chopped celery
1 hard-cooked egg, chopped
2 teaspoons grated onion
1/2 teaspoon dried chopped chives
Tomato wedges

Good With Steak

Stir-fry sliced zucchini, carrots and onion wedges in a little oil over medium-high heat. When tender-crisp, stir in salt, crumbled rosemary and, if you have it, a touch of bottled dry orange peel; sprinkle onion and chives lightly to generously with sliced almonds. Delicious with steak strips.

Combine dressing, salt and pepper; add to potatoes and toss lightly. Cover and store in refrigerator for several hours. Add cottage cheese, celery, egg, onion and chives; toss lightly to combine. Garnish with tomato wedges. Yield: 6-8 servings.

Combat Boredom by Combining

It's the wise and clever housewife who learns to serve her family the most plentiful foods in season, but at the same time making the repetition interesting.

It's also the smart housewife that has discovered she can combat boredom by combining fresh oranges, lemons and grapefruit with plentiful foods to glamorize, appease and disguise the commonplace. She can do just that all year long because fresh citrus is in the markets year 'round.

SERVE IN SHELLS
The half orange or lemon shells make attractive serving containers for desserts, salads or sauces. Sweet potatoes baked in orange shells make a piece de resistance!

Desert grapefruit from the west are plentiful. For those people who find it difficult to eat citrus for breakfast, remember it's just as delicious for lunch, dinner or snacktime. And you need vitamin C every day! Lemons have no seasonal limitation since they ripen all year long.

Are you one of many summer weight watchers who resort to "no-cal" beverages for thirst quenching? Why not enjoy a glass of fresh lemonade made with non-caloric sweetener? Lemonade prepared this way has only 10 calories, but has that fresh-fresh flavor of tree ripened lemons.

A tip for weight watchers — use a wedge of lemon on summer fresh vegetables instead of butter and salt. The flavor is great and calories — only 10! What have you got to lose but weight?

PARFAIT SHORTCAKE — Mix together 2 cups biscuit mix; 2 tablespoons sugar; 1/4 cup light cream and 1/4 cup sliced almonds. Spread dough in ungreased 9x9x2 pan. Bake 10 minutes at 450 degrees. Cut or break into small squares. Cool. In chilled bowl, beat 1 cup whipping cream until stiff; fold in 1 cup shredded coconut and 1/4 teaspoon almond extract. Alternate layers of shortcake, sliced sweetened strawberries (you'll need 2 cups) and whipped cream in tall glasses. Serve at once. Makes 8 servings.

Chicken Is Perfect for Summer Meals

By JANET ODELL

Good Editor, The Pontiac Press
Although chicken is no longer the big treat it was in the old days, it has become a favorite and popular food for all ages.
Note the widespread chicken drive-in restaurants.

Chicken is such good finger food that it's practically perfect for picnics and other summer meals. It's a food you can prepare ahead of time, freeze if you like and carry along to the park, the beach or on a trip.

If you pack it frozen, it will thaw by meal time and provide its own refrigeration. If freshly cooked, it should be chilled and carried in a container that will keep it cool.

Several of the following recipes call for steaming the chicken first; this will insure its complete cooking. Frying in deep fat gives it a wonderful crisp, brown coating.

Grilled Chicken With Kraut Relish

6 cups sauerkraut
2 medium green peppers, chopped
1 jar (4 ounces) pimiento, drained and chopped
2 medium onions, chopped
1/4 teaspoon paprika
Freshly ground pepper
1 clove garlic, minced
1/2 cup butter or margarine, melted
1/4 cup wine vinegar
1/2 cup firmly-packed dark brown sugar
2 tablespoons Worcestershire
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1/4 cup water
12 chicken legs with thighs

Drain kraut and reserve liquid. Toss kraut with green pepper, pimiento, half the onion, paprika and pepper to taste. Chill until serving time.

Saute remaining onion and the garlic in butter until golden.
Add vinegar, sugar,
Worcestershire, pepper to taste and reserved kraut liquid. Stir until sugar melts; bring to a boil over medium heat.

Blend cornstarch with water and stir into sauce mixture.
Continue boiling for 1/2 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat.

Place chicken on grill 7 to 8 inches from source of heat; cook 10 minutes. Brush with sauce and continue grilling for 10 minutes.

Turn chicken and grill an additional 10 minutes or until done, brushing frequently with sauce to glaze. Serve kraut relish with grilled chicken.
Makes 8 servings.

For those who are not fond of kraut, a basting sauce made with honey and fruit juices and sparked with a bit of mustard may be more pleasing.

Honey Barbecue Chicken

1/4 cup butter
1/2 cup orange juice
1/2 cup honey
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
2 tablespoons soy sauce
1 tablespoon dry mustard
2 broiler-fryers (2 1/2 to 3 pounds each), split

Melt butter in small saucepan. Blend in remaining ingredients and simmer 2 to 3 minutes. Cool. Pour sauce over chicken halves in shallow pan.

Allow to marinate a few hours before cooking.
Place chicken halves, cavity side down, on grill. Cook slowly, 40 to 45 minutes, basting frequently with sauce. Turn and cook meat side down for an additional 10 minutes. Makes 1 1/2 cups sauce.

Chicken
Fritter Legs

6 medium chicken legs and high, cut apart
1/4 cup flour (about)
Salt and pepper
Water
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1/4 cup finely chopped nuts
1/4 cup finely crushed salted crackers (about 24 square crackers)

Solid all-vegetable shortening
Shake chicken pieces in a bag with flour seasoned with 1 teaspoon salt and a dash pepper. Place on a rack over about 1 cup water in a pan with a tight fitting cover. Bring water to a boil, cover and steam 25 to 30 minutes, or until chicken is tender. Cool.

Dip steamed chicken in eggs, then roll in mixture of nuts and cracker crumbs, pressing combination on chicken to coat thoroughly. Let stand 10 minutes to set coating.

Heat shortening to 365
degrees. Fry chicken in hot shortening until brown and crisp, about 5 minutes. Drain on paper towels and sprinkle with salt, if desired. Serve hot or cold. Makes 6 servings.

*Or use 6 chicken breasts, split and boned.

California Fried Chicken

1 cup dairy sour cream
3/4 tablespoons (1/2 envelope) onion soup mix*
1 cup flour (about)
2 cups solid all-vegetable shortening (about) Blend sour cream and onion soup mix. (Mixture will be thick.) With a pastry brush, brush chicken pieces with sour cream mixture, covering completely. (If mixture becomes too thick, thin with a little milk.)

Then roll chicken in flour; let stand 10 minutes, then roll again in flour.

In a large skillet, heat shortening to a depth of about 1/2 inch. Brown the chicken on all sides in hot shortening (365 degrees in a temperature-controlled frying pan) for 10 minutes. Then cover pan, reduce heat (300 degrees) and cook 15 minutes.

Remove cover, turn chicken and continue cooking 10 minutes longer, turning chicken occasionally. Drain on paper towels before serving. Serve hot or cold.

*Remaining half of soup mix may be used to season a pound of ground beef for hamburgers or blended with a cup of sour cream for a chip dip.

Corn Pone Fried Chicken

1 broiler-fryer chicken, cut up
(2 1/2 to 3 pounds)
Water
1/4 cup corn meal
1 1/4 teaspoons salt
1/4 cup flour
Dash pepper

Solid all-vegetable shortening
Place chicken on a rack over about 1 cup water in a pan with a tight fitting cover. Bring water to a boil, cover and steam 25 to 30 minutes, or until chicken is tender.

Meanwhile, bring 1 1/4 cups water to a boil in saucepan.
Blend corn meal, 1/4 teaspoon salt and 1/4 cup cold water; stir into boiling water. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil; remove from heat.

Using tongs, dip steamed chicken pieces into hot corn meal mixture, coating completely. Lay chicken on a tray to cool. Just before frying roll chicken in flour seasoned with 1 teaspoon salt and pepper.

Heat shortening to 365
degrees. Fry chicken in hot shortening until brown and crisp, about 5 minutes. Drain on paper towels and sprinkle with

Sprinkle Can Mean Up to Tablespoon

How much is a sprinkle? Of sugar, when used for purposes other than sweetening, it varies.

• For stewing tomatoes in an 8-inch saucepan, a sprinkling of sugar might measure 1/2 teaspoon when added to promote the tomato flavor.

• But for broiling steaks, with a near 8-inch surface, to sprinkle well with sugar could mean a 2-tablespoon measurement, with either amount adding up to browned-on succulence.

• As to an 8-inch double-crust pie, it takes about 1 teaspoon of sugar, sprinkled over the top before baking, to add sparkle and the crisp, texture-taste of sugared baked pastry.

by HENRI ARNOLD and BOB LEE

These funny-looking nonsense words are actually REAL words, but their letters have been mixed up by someone. You must put their letters back in the right order so that they make orinary words that you can find in the dictionary. WRITE THE LETTERS OF EACH WORD UNDER EACH NONSENSE WORD—BUT ONLY ONE LETTER TO EACH SQUARE.

Early Infant Hearing Tests Urged

PALO ALTO, Calif. (UPI)—An audiologist says it now is possible to test infants during their first few months to determine whether they have a hearing impairment.

Robert E. Burkhalter, president of Audiology Research consultants, Inc., maintains it is "imperative" to have highly risk babies — those especially susceptible to hearing loss — tested early.

"The prime time for a child's learning is during its first year or two of life and possibly even before it reaches its first birthday," Burkhalter said.

An agonizing experience for new parents is when their child fails to develop language and speech between its first and second birthday, he added.

Although parents may be extremely concerned at this stage, the child's hearing impairment itself is usually not confirmed until the child is two or three years old or even later, he said.

Junior Editors Quiz on LUNAR RINGS

QUESTION: What causes a lunar halo?

ANSWER: Lunar rings, or halos, are occasionally seen, especially in the Arctic regions, when there is a high gauze-like cloud in the sky called cirro-stratus.

Such a cloud is composed of minute, needle-like, floating ice crystals (see picture). Some of the moonlight is refracted or bent by the crystals so that it is turned down at an angle which meets our eyes. It appears round because the body which is making it is round.

These halos often show colors—white on the outside, then yellow, orange and red. Accompanying the northern halos may be cross shapes and spots of light called sun dogs.

Farmers will often tell you that a ring around the moon (the same thing as a halo) means rain. This is often true, but it may depend on whether the air pressure is rising or falling. If air pressure falls rapidly, a ring around the moon means rain 75 per cent of the time, according to weather experts.

Halos are so spiritual in appearance, so beautiful, that the old religious painters put them as light circles around the heads of sacred figures.

Current Saigon Chess Game Finds Thieu Firmly in Charge

SAIGON (AP)—South Vietnam rumor mill is working overtime. What is going on? And why is period so uneasy that Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky felt months of seeming stability? compelled to go on television to say he wouldn't stage a coup. Two of the country's four army corps commanders have resigned. And the all-powerful police boss is suddenly out of a job.

Hardly a day goes by that new faces do not appear in important positions. It is a time of great change in South Vietnam, and Saigon's Thieu. And he sometimes moves in ways seemingly understood only to himself.

IN CONTROL

But one thing is clear: Despite rumors and uncertainty and occasional talks of a coup, Thieu is in control. The government is not about to fall.

Within little more than five weeks, Thieu has taken giant strides to consolidate his rule. The loser has been his chief rival for supremacy, Vice President Ky.

In the view of Thieu's advisers, the president was in an intolerable position as long as Ky was running something of a parallel "government" through his powerful friends and supporters.

Thieu had to move, it is argued, to replace these men — and some of them were competent — with men of his own choosing, or never accomplish anything without having it blocked by the "Ky regime."

SUPPORTERS OUSTED

The "Ky regime" today is no more. Thieu, with the help of Premier Tran Van Huong, has ousted Ky's most powerful supporters. This was something which it was apparent was coming when Thieu took office seven months ago. But never has the normally cautious Thieu moved with such decisiveness. Undoubtedly, his planned trip to the United States acted as a catalyst. Thieu wanted to have his position firmly secured before leaving Saigon.

There is little chance of a coup against Thieu now, even if Ky wanted to stage one.

The relationship between Thieu and Ky, two men who have shared power for three years, has never been an easy one. It has probably been more friendly at times than their supporters would have you believe. But Thieu's recent moves are certain to have increased the strain.

'FEARED FOR LIFE'

And there are those who claim that at one point Thieu even feared for his life. Thieu and Ky are opposite personalities. The pipe-smoking shal, seven years younger than Thieu, 44, is an introvert, Thieu, is a former air force pilot noted for his candor and future role of the Vietnamese military in South Vietnam's post-impulsiveness.

The moustached air vice mar-power between Thieu and Ky is: Until recently, a small group less. The generals are still in the say in Thieu's policy making background, watching paternal-

But more than a struggle for military in South Vietnam's po- old military junta. But now tem which they once reluctantly Thieu consults them less and approved and fostered — and hoped to control.

AID FOR ENEMY — South Vietnamese medics treat the wounded among the 121 Vietcong who surrendered en masse in northeastern Saigon. The men were remnants of a battalion from the Vietcong Quyet Thang (Resolved to Win) Regiment. They surrendered following an appeal by South Vietnamese psychological warfare teams to lay down their arms. The Vietcong group was encircled, hungry and exhausted.

War Claims 6 Americans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six servicemen killed in action in the Vietnam war have been named in the latest Defense Department casualty list.

They included:

Opening lead—2

We like to bid grand slams jumped to five hearts. This as well as anyone but we seldom feel that we have missed very much when we fail to get to one. A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush and when we bid six and make seven we have actually collected two birds in our hand (grand and small slam), and left only one in the bush.

All this preparation leads up to the fact that we think today's South was properly punished for bad bidding when it turned out that his partner had no play for seven hearts. South pointed out that it was most unfortunate that North held two diamond tricks and had to lose a diamond trick.

He was right about that but the bidding started in the wrong direction when South used Blackwood.

It was perfectly possible for North to have a sound opening bid with two club losers in which case even a small slam would be set.

South had a perfect bid at his second turn. He should have

Daily Almanac

By United Press International
Today is Wednesday, June 26, the 178th day of 1968 with 188 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter. The morning star is Saturn. The evening star is Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1900, Dr. Walter Reed led a medical team in a campaign to wipe out yellow fever.

In 1917, the first troops of the American Expeditionary Forces reached France for duty in World War I.

In 1944, the third largest French port, Cherbourg, was liberated from the Nazis by the Allies.

In 1948, the United States began operation of the "Berlin Airlift" to bypass Soviet sector of the divided German city.

A thought for the day: German philosopher Arthur Schopenhauer once said "the fundamental fault of the female character is that it has no sense of justice."

Parts of the Appian Way, 2,000-year-old Roman highway, are still in use today.

Joint Mental Programs Get Romney's Okay

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney Tuesday signed a bill permitting counties to join community mental health programs in adjacent counties.

It permits counties to participate in an established program if approved by boards of supervisors of the affected counties and the State Department of Mental Health.

Formerly, a county was forced to dissolve its community health program before a joint effort could be made.

17 Are Cleared in Mafia Case

PALERMO, Sicily (AP) — Seventeen Sicilians and Italian-Americans — including two Detroiters — have been cleared in a Palermo court of charges they ran narcotics and currency rackets for the Italian Mafia and the U.S. Cosa Nostra crime syndicates.

The courtroom erupted with shouts of joy as the jury announced its verdict after four hours of deliberation. The defendants present for the trial and friends and relatives embraced, cheered and wept.

Seven of the accused were at large during the trial and are believed to be in the United States. The seven, described in Italian newspapers as "the patriarchs of the Cosa Nostra," include John Prizoli and Rafael Quasano of Detroit.

The court ruled there was insufficient evidence and ordered all but two of the defendants released in Italy.

TO SEEK RETRIAL

The prosecution promptly announced it would seek a retrial. During the investigation leading to the indictments, an investigating magistrate, Judge Aldo Vignari, made an unexpected visit to the United States to question Joseph Valachi, a key witness to alleged Cosa Nostra activities now in prison, reportedly in the federal penitentiary at Milan, Mich.

Retra activities now in prison, reportedly in the federal penitentiary at Milan, Mich.

Conscience Bothers Them

BENTON, Ark. (AP) — When the Benton City Council voted to discontinue garbage collection because the city was losing money on the service, the consciences of two Benton residents were stricken.

The council received a letter containing $45 in cash and an unsigned note, which said: "For 3 1/2 years my neighbor and I used one garbage can between us. We have decided that this was cheating. Enclosed is $45 for services received."

A Bungling Bird

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — Richland County deputies raced to a local discount house and entered with drawn pistols after the burglar alarm sounded at the closed store.

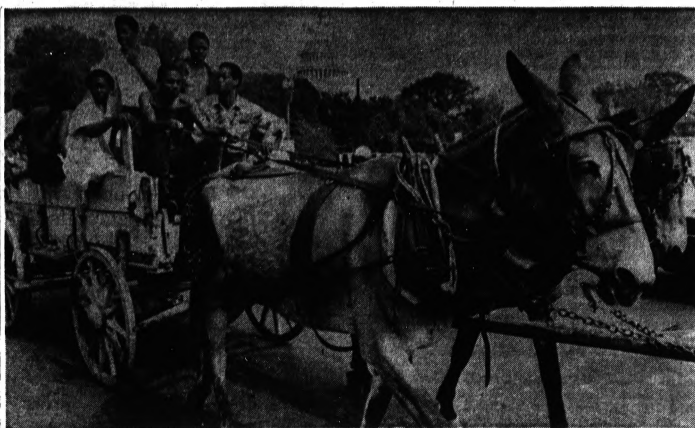

The conducted an aisle-by-aisle search but failed to find an intruder. A canary had escaped from his cage and set off the alarm by flying through one of the light beams which electronically guard the premises.

Fresh Communist Troops Said Heading for Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. sources said today two freshly equipped North Vietnamese regiments — possibly 5,000 men — are believed headed toward Saigon to join the enemy force threatening another attack on the South Vietnamese capital.

U.S. intelligence officials said the 32nd and 33rd North Vietnamese regiments were in Phuoc Long Province five days ago, 74 miles north of Saigon and 165 miles southwest of their previous headquarters.

The two regiments are normally headquartered along the Cambodian border just west of Pleiku in the central Saigon.

CAPITAL TOUR BY MULE—Mules pull a wagonload of Poor People's Campaign demonstrators, part of a 13-wagon caravan that toured Washington, D.C., yesterday, passing the Capitol before returning to the animals' quarters across the Potomac in Virginia.

Few Signs of Poor March Left

Capital Is Back to Normal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The streets of the nation's capital were back to normal today — no curfew, no heavy police patrols, no National Guardsmen and few visible symbols of the Poor People's Campaign.

But even with its leader, the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, beginning a 20-day jail term and Restoration City reduced to stacks of plywood, the campaign continued to run at a reduced pace.

"We have to keep the movement alive," said the Rev. Andrew Young, Abernathy's chief assistant, as he announced plans for clergymen to march on the Capitol grounds today, despite a law forbidding demonstrations there.

Young told a news conference plans for the ministerial demonstration had been in the works for some time. They were released by Abernathy in a letter "from a jail in Washington D.C."

SIMILAR TO KING'S

The tactic was similar to Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s classic "Letter from a Birmingham Jail" in 1963, but Abernathy's was much shorter and quite different in content.

"I am in jail with the poor, and today I ask you to join us," it said. "The time for stating our case in words is past. We have done that and have been rebuked by the authorities..."

Abernathy said he hoped the clergymen would be just "one of the first waves of people who are willing to join the poor in jail."

"If I must go to jail to end hunger in America, I gladly go this 20th day," he said. "And I would go the 50th and 100th if necessary."

NO DOUBT

Abernathy, one of 261 demonstrators arrested Monday, was sentenced by Chief Judge Harold H. Greene of the District of Columbia court of General Sessions.

Greene said he had no doubt "you were sincerely trying to help the poor people of America." He could have levied 90 days in jail plus a $250 fine.

Young said Abernathy had told him by telephone he was "disturbed at the feeling of bitterness and hatred" that resulted in hundreds of police using tear gas to clear slum streets.

HEALTH ACTIVITY

"The old idea of the swimming pool as something of a Roman bath doesn't hold water anymore," said a spokesman for the National Swimming Pool Institute, a trade organization.

"Now swimming is a health activity," he said, "one of the best sports for maintaining cardiovascular health. It's not just rehabilitative either, it's preventive also."

Whatever the reason, more people seem to be learning to swim. The industry has done its part by prodding, encouraging and teaching the skill. Another spur is the fact that many people now have the money and the leisure time.

PRICE STABILITY

Convenience is another factor. People ask themselves why they should drive 40 or 50 miles to a crowded beach when swimming can be available just beyond their patio and right next to the television set and the charcoal broiler.

Helping to make these dreams

Monday night, and the National Guard enforcing a 9 p.m. curfew.

The quick action by police and National Guardsmen was credited by other observers with preventing more widespread violence.

STEALING BILLIONS

"This does not help us, it confuses the issue," Young urged Abernathy as saying, "Neighborhood stores may be petty thieves, but it is the federal government that is stealing billions of dollars from the poor..."

We want to catch the big exploiters on Capitol Hill.

The most visible aspect of the Poor People's Campaign Tuesday was the mule train. Five weeks after it left Marks, Miss., its 13 battered wagons trundled across the 14th St. bridge into Washington under police escort.

In hot, muggy weather, it made a 10-mile tour of poor and wealthy sections of the Negro areas hit by disorders and the surprise of even the drivers was warmly welcomed wherever it went.

This prompted Young and 28-year-old wagon master Willie Bolden to decide that mule train members could do more out of jail than in, and should try to drum up support among Washington area residents.

INVOLVE COMMUNITY

"We will use the mule train to go around the D.C. community and try to get the community involved," Young said.

As the mule train creaked along the Potomac River bridge from Virginia, it passed within sight of a strangely empty Restoration City.

Some 400 workmen arrived at the muddy, rutted Lincoln Memorial campground at 8 a.m. and in less than six hours, demolished what had taken the campaign more than six troubled weeks to build.

PREFABS GAINING

Increasingly the pools now being installed are prefabricated of vinyl and are erected partially above ground and surrounded with a wooden deck.

But in-ground concrete pools, which might cost 20 to 40 percent more, still are the most popular.

Regardless of whether in-ground or on the ground, the expense doesn't end with the installation. Swimming pools get dirty, they get clogged with leaves. After a while the water gets warm too, and so comfort demands a change.

In a heavily wooded area maintenance might cost $12 to $30 a month if the work is done professionally on a regular contract basis, the cost can run to $30 a month.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q — We are retired and plan to sell our home and move into an apartment. This will give us $20,000 to invest. After building up two of our three mutual funds to $10,000 each, we will have about $18,000 to invest. We are considering preferred issues of Consumers Power $4.50, Christiana Securities $7.00, Du Pont $4.50, Gen. Motors $5.00 and Philadelphia Elec. $4.85. These look safe for income and we don't need more growth stocks now. What is your opinion? — G.S.

A — There is little I can add to the thoughtful planned financial program you've already presented. The five preferreds are of the highest quality and sell to yield around 6 percent. Because Christiana owns a 29 percent interest in Du Pont, I would avoid duplication by sensible to concentrate on eliminating Du Pont from your building your capital through investments.

I would suggest a high-yield triple-A bond. Any of these mentioned in yesterday's column, or Consumers Power $4.50 of 1968, would be suitable.

Putting about $6,000 in bonds and $12,000 in preferred will help balance the $18,000 in your two growth funds — Enterprise

Negro Area Shut Off After Youth Is Shot

RICHMOND, Calif. (AP) — Officers sealed off unincorporated North Richmond Tuesday night when Negro crowds gathered after the shooting of a 15-year-old youth in a car they said might have been stolen.

Three other Negro boys were arrested after a high-speed chase through this East Bay community 10 miles north of Oakland.

The injured youth, Charles Mims, was reported in critical condition at Brookside Hospital in nearby San Pablo.

One car was set afire in downtown Richmond as the disturbance spread, and police squad cars conveyed fire trucks and a tow truck which went to the scene and removed it after putting out the fire.

Youths threw bricks, bottles and stones at official vehicles. Two policemen were reported struck by flying debris but were not seriously hurt.

REINFORCEMENTS

Police from nearby communities and the Contra Costa County sheriff's department answered a call for reinforcements and threw a cordon around a 2.5-square-mile area, partly in Richmond and partly in the unincorporated area to the north.

By 10 p.m. the area was quiet, with police manning rooftops and checking all pedestrians and motor traffic.

Off-Duty Police Still Picketing

Picketing of the Waterford Township Hall by off-duty members of the Waterford Township Police Officers Association WTPOA continued today.

The policemen began their demonstration yesterday and today said that it would continue until a new contract with the township is signed.

Negotiating teams for the Township Board and the WTPOA have been unable to arrive at an agreement on a 1968 contract for the policemen. The police have been working since Jan. 1 of this year without a contract. They are demanding a $200 increase in base pay for all policemen, retroactive to Jan. 1, and time and one-half overtime pay for hours worked over 40 hours.

BOARD'S OFFER

The Township Board has offered a $100 base pay increase and time and one-half overtime pay for hours worked over 42 hours. Both provisions would be effective as of the date of contract ratification.

All 26 members of the township police force are members of the association. They presently have a base pay of $8,184.

Family Busy ... to a Degree

MEMONONNE FALLS, Wis. — There are three new diplomats at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sevik — and one of them belongs to the household, who won it while holding a full-time job.

Sevik, a designer and draftsman, enrolled at Milwaukee Technical College five years ago and attended mechanical engineering classes two or three nights a week.

He and his son, Anthony, 21, were graduated together this year. Anthony, completing a course in business administration, also attended naval reserve meetings and had a part-time job.

Mr. and Mrs. Sevik's daughter, Jane, graduated from Menomonee Falls High School in addition to working about 17 hours a week as a shoe store clerk.

"Sunday is about the only day we can really get together," said Mrs. Sevik, who works full-time as a department store clerk.

Four State GIs Killed in Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four Michigan servicemen were among 76 Americans listed Tuesday by the Defense Department as killed in recent action in the Vietnam war.

They were: Army Spec. 4 Jeffrey H. Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard B. Hall of Dowagiac; Army Pfc. Michael J. Johnson, son of David L. Johnson of Owosso; Marine Lance Cpl. Steven B. Laine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fabian W. Lavigne of Cheboygan; and Army Pfc. Michael D. Murray, son of Myron G. Murray of Clare.

REINFORCEMENTS

Police from nearby communities and the Contra Costa County sheriff's department answered a call for reinforcements and threw a cordon around a 2.5-square-mile area, partly in Richmond and partly in the unincorporated area to the north.

By 10 p.m. the area was quiet, with police manning rooftops and checking all pedestrians and motor traffic.

Landscaping Gear Is Stolen

$1,300 in Equipment Taken in Two Thefts

Landscaping equipment valued at more than $1,300 was reported stolen in two thefts in Pontiac yesterday.

An employee of the Armstrong Landscape Co. of Fraser told police about 11:30 a.m. that someone had stolen a rake graded or valued at $600 from a lot at Auburn and Opdyke.

The machine was described as about eight feet long and weighing several hundred pounds.

An employee of the Stolaruk Asphalt Co. of Southfield told officers about 4:30 p.m. that thieves had made off with a motorized earth tamper and two shovels from a site on Auburn between Eastway and Opdyke.

The machine was called a vibrator, weighs more than 600 pounds, police were told.

It is valued at more than $700, according to officers.

2 Rezoning Bids Recommended in Waterford

The Waterford Township Planning Commission last night recommended that the Township Board act favorably on a pair of rezoning requests at a future meeting.

Recommended for approval was a request to rezone one lot in Riverview Subdivision, on Fremont just north of Hatcher, from single-family residential (RIA) to local business (C1).

Also recommended for favorable board action was a request to rezone half of a lot on Cooley Lake, just west of Williams Lake, in Miller's Union Lake Subdivision, from single-family residential (RIA) to general business district (C2). The latter request was made by the John R. Lumber Co. for the purpose of expanding its parking lot.

Hippies Mar TV Interview in New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Police said about 40 hippies charged into the studios of educational television station WNDT Tuesday night as three representatives of the underground press were being interviewed.

A guard was knocked over and the associate director of the "Newsfront" interview show was punched, officers said. Police arrested seven persons.

A station spokesman said the intruders used "very foul language" over the air and that many viewers called in to ask what was going on and if it had been planned by the station. There was no immediate explanation for the invasion.

IN BACKGROUND

Former astronaut John Glenn, chairman of the Emergency Committee for Gun Control, a guest earlier on the show, stood in the back of the studio.

Smiling, Glenn said, "And they say there is violence on commercial television."

Sailors Nearing Finish of Solo Ocean Crossing
 NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — The first finishers in the 5,000-mile single-handed yacht race from Plymouth, England, are expected to arrive at the finish line off Newport Thursday night at the earliest.

William Thomas of the local pears that although many are Ida Lewis Yacht Club, called, only a few quality in man of the committee handling some mysterious way for host-arrangements for the finish, ship Tuesday this estimate was based on the rate the yachts have been traveling since they left Plymouth June 1.

He said the Thursday night projection was "only a guess" because weather and other factors. Where "Music Hall" is a sick little sister of its winter show, it is still aimed generally at the younger TV audience.

Thirty-five yachts entered the race. Thomas said 27 still were in the competition at last report.

School Officials Plan Crackdown

FENNVILLE (AP) — In response to parent complaints that loose discipline existed in the schools and on buses, Fennville school officials in Allegan County promised tougher school policies and pupil controls.

High School Principal Fred Richardson has told a group of concerned parents that pupils no longer will be allowed to drive their cars at noon, and disupt. Henry Martin said students riding buses would be assigned specific seats. In case of misbehavior, the students will be barred from riding the bus until parents have conferred with school officials.

Only for the year 1912 does a mint mark appear on the Liberty nickel.

U.S. Not Sick, Briton Writes

'Most Low-Abiding;
Gun Rules Weak'

LONDON (AP) — Americans are not sick, says a British writer, and if another country had been "so shaken by political and racial violence, a revolution would have occurred or at least the government would have fallen."

John Pilger of the London Daily Mirror wrote from New York that the great majority of Americans are among the most law-abiding people in the world, but this fact "appears to have been lost in the emotion over Robert Kennedy's death."

"What is wrong with America is not Americans, but the very law and order they are being called upon to uphold. The gun laws, by their weakness, have simply allowed a disease to spread," he said.

Dr. Hiroshi Minami, a Japanese psychologist who lived in the United States for seven years, wrote in the Japanese weekly Asahi magazine: "In America, democracy is not quite widespread; the Civil War still hasn't completely ended. And the politicians, with vigorous greed for power and prestige, engage in politics with a do-or-die attitude that in no way can be comparable to what takes place in Japan."

'NOT MYSTERIOUS'

"In this respect, the assassinations of the two Kennedys do not appear too mysterious to me."

"Individually speaking, however, the Americans are 'open' and 'energetic,' possessing still many of the virtues of the pioneer spirit."

Reporting from Washington to the London Sunday Telegraph, Peregrine Worsthorne said, "It is astonishing how the death of the second Kennedy, like the death of the first, has had the effect of summoning Lyndon Johnson from the shadows..."

"President Johnson is an extraordinary man, large in every way. By all the normal rules of the political game he should be beginning slowly to fade away into the wings. Yet it is the candidates who seem somehow to be fading away, wraith-like figures whose voices get ever fainter, even when they try raising them."

BRITISH PICKS

The Times of London predicted that the Democrats will nominate Hubert H. Humphrey for president and the Republicans will choose Richard M. Nixon.

"But," it said, "it grows ever plainer that this is not the choice that the American public wants to consider in the autumn."

The Times suggested that American voters want to choose among new men with new ideas. A presidential contest between Eugene J. McCarthy and Nelson A. Rockefeller would "have real meaning, and the winner would face America's problems in the right atmosphere for leadership," the Times said.

Besides politics, foreign commentators also took up the question of whether America's wealth makes for a better life.

TRANSPORTATION HIT

It does not make for better transportation, wrote George Gale of the London Daily Mirror.

Some of his conclusions:

● On cars—"The people are the servants of their cars and exist to keep them moving."

● On airlines—"The service is bad and the stewards tend to give the impression that having a few drinks is morally reprehensible."

● On one train he rode—"Filthy...noisy...rocked and bounced in an alarming way although its speed was not remotely excessive."

Popular detective story writer Saburo Shiroyama said in the Asahi magazine his impression was that despite its wealth, "the United States was not necessarily a country that would make people happy." He mentioned the race for status symbols.

But, he added, "Americans, because of installment payments constantly, still are cheerful, optimistic, kind and likable."

NEGRO REPORT

The West German magazine Neue Illustrierte Revue carried a report on the American Negro woman.

"As strange as it may appear, the black women in the United States are the real stalwarts of the 'Black Power,'" wrote Gerd Schmitt-Hauser. "They are far more advanced than the men—and that creates social uneasiness in the black society..."

Rains Flood Roads, Black Out Areas

WATERS WET WHITMER — Pontiac Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer was caught romping in the floodwaters near his home at 43 N. Genesee last night. He is apparently enjoying his venture. His wife looks on. Who said school superintendents don't have fun like schoolchildren?

Torrential rains yesterday flooded county roads and numerous basements and temporarily knocked out electrical and telephone lines in several areas. Flooding was so bad in Novi Township that a diver was employed to attach a towline to a stalled car.

Rain readings varied from 2.15 inches at the Oakland-Pontiac Airport to 4.8 inches at the Oakland County Drain Commission and 6.5 inches at The Pontiac Press.

Rain is likely to continue tonight and tomorrow while it remains cloudy and cool. High today is expected to be about 70 while the low for tonight will be 54 to 60. Winds are mostly northeasterly from 10 to 20 miles today with precipitation probabilities in per cent at 80 today, 70 tonight, and 40 tomorrow.

Michigan Bell Telephone Co. reported about 500 customers in the Pontiac area were temporarily without service after some 40 cables got wet and the wires inside shorted. Service should be completely restored by 10 tonight barring another heavy rainfall.

TREES DOWN WIRES

Detroit Edison Co. reported about 1,600 customers near Wing Lake in Bloomfield Township were without service between 6:30 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. yesterday after falling trees brought down wires. Some 215 customers in Clarkston, 30 in Farmington Township and other scattered customers were also without power for short times last night.

Consumers Power Co. reported that the Rundell substation was flooded although the power didn't go off. Some 100 electrical turnoffs and about 430 gas turnoffs were requested by customers because of flooding basements. Servicemen are turning the gas and electricity valves in these houses back on today.

Extensive road damage was reported both in the city and the county.

JUST COMPLETED

Work on installation of a sewer beneath the road had been completed just three days ago. Oakland County Road Commission spokesmen said the heavy rains apparently saturated the dirt road, causing it to settle along the path of the sewer.

The storm caused widespread flooding in Pontiac making several streets impassable part of the time.

The streets near Pontiac Creek from the Pontiac State Hospital grounds to the railroad, were still flooded and impassable this morning.

Walton between Joslyn and Giddings was still under water this morning, according to police.

RIVER OVERFLOWS

In addition, Bay Street north of University Drive was completely washed

'Trudeaumania' Gives Victory to Canada Liberals

TORONTO (AP) — A tidal wave of "Trudeaumania" gave Canada's Liberal party a clear-cut mandate in yesterday's election.

Pierre Elliott Trudeau, who entered politics only three years ago, capitalized on personal appeal and pragmatic politics to lead his Liberals to the biggest victory any party has scored in the last 10 years, a 22-vote majority in Parliament.

Trudeau, who assumed the prime ministry when Lester B. Pearson retired two months ago, showed himself a tough politician in the campaign. He said the right things and made no big promises.

Though a native of Quebec, he didn't give an inch to those Quebecers who want a special deal for that dominantly French-speaking province, or even to split off from Canada. There is one Canada, Trudeau said, and that's the way it's going to be.

DIDN'T FLINCH

At the last minute, when Quebec separatists rioted in Montreal and hurled a bottle past the prime minister, he didn't flinch.

In contrast, the Conservatives, though also under new leadership, never caught popular fancy. Robert Stanfield, the party's leader, said as the returns rolled in that he had known 24 hours earlier that his party was beaten.

Stanfield is 54, only six years older than Trudeau, but to most Canadians' it appeared, his and the Tories' ideas were old-hat or at least not good enough.

The election was for 264 seats, with each citizen voting only for a legislator in his own district. Thus Trudeau's name was on the ballot only in a Montreal district, but voters nationwide knew whom they were supporting when they voted Liberal.

COMPLETE RETURNS

Complete unofficial tabulations showed the Liberals were sure of 154-seats — a majority of 22 — and the Conservatives 71. The New Democratic party took 23 seats, but their veteran leader, T. C. "Tommy" Douglas, lost in a close British Columbia race to Liberal Ray Perrault. The Creditistes of Quebec won 15 seats, and an independent 1.

Mail on Guns Reverses Trend

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is being flooded with mail running heavily against proposals for even stronger gun control laws, a sharp reversal of earlier trends immediately after the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

This development came as the Senate juvenile delinquency subcommittee started hearings today on strict registration and licensing proposals.

Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, carrying President Johnson's plea for federal registration of every gun in the nation and licensing of all owners, was among lead-off witnesses before the subcommittee.

25 TO 1

The congressmen say they're receiving tens of thousands of letters, running up to 25 to 1 against stricter controls.

Congressmen from the north-east and isolated areas elsewhere said their mail still favors stronger firearms controls, although by a lower margin than before.

Youth Drowns in Troy Drain

An 18-year-old Croswell youth was drowned last night when he was swept by surging storm waters into a drain intake in Troy's apartment complex.

Troy Police said James K. Grandy was spending the summer with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Rennicks of 2067 Somerset.

Police said the three were walking and looking at the deep water at the rear of the apartments near Golfview, between Coolidge and Crooks, and decided to swim in the swift current shortly before the mishap occurred at about 7:30 p.m.

Rusk Dramatizes Stand

BONN, Germany (AP) — U. S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk arrived today for a four-hour visit intended to dramatize American support against the new Communist pressure on West Berlin.

After swimming for a few moments all three reportedly emerged from the water. Then the victim decided to re-enter, and began swimming on his back with the current, police said.

WENT UNDER

Grandy then went under the surface, police reported, and his brother-in-law attempted to rescue him but was unable to hold him.

Members of the Troy Fire Department brought a small boat to the heavily flooded area to assist in a search for the youth, but abandoned the effort shortly after 9 p.m. to wait for daylight.

6 in Copter Rescued

Two teams began searching again this morning, and found the youth's body at about 7:30 in an open drain ditch south of Morse between Crooks and Livernors, about 1 1/4 miles from the drain intake.

The victim was pronounced dead about early this morning. The youth was swept into a drain intake near Golfview last night while swimming in storm waters.

an hour later by Dr. Leroy S. Neumann of Royal Oak, police said.

TWO CULVERTS

Before entering the open ditch west of Crooks, the Kirts Drain passes through two culverts, one 27 inches in diameter and the other 54 inches in diameter.

The ditch where the youth was found was swollen beyond capacity at 8:30 this morning, long after the heavy rain had subsided, and was so deep that searchers had to cross it on a pile of driftwood which had accumulated.

6 in Copter Rescued

NEW YORK (AP) — A sight-seeing helicopter landed upside down in the Hudson River Tuesday, but police were able to rescue the five passengers and pilot within minutes.

Six policemen jumped into the river and swam about 100 feet off shore, where they found the passengers, including a five-year-old boy, clinging to the helicopter's pontoons.

Airport Referendum Vetoed by Romney

Calling it "an unjustified and potentially disastrous restriction," Gov. George Romney yesterday vetoed a bill that would have called for a referendum on development of Oakland-Orion Airport.

Though the bill was aimed specifically at Oakland County, it eventually would have affected other counties' development plans, one of Romney's aides told The Press.

The measure, House Bill 3632, was guided through the State Legislature late in May by Rep. Donald E. Bishop, R-Rochester. Bishop said he backed the bill because many residents in his area had written to him opposing the proposed facility.

An amendment was added to a bill mainly concerning referendum voting. It specified that a referendum be called in any county that wanted to expand an airport beyond 600 acres.

ONLY ONE AFFECTED

The Oakland-Orion facility in Orion Township has been expanded to just over 509 acres, meaning the bill would have applied that the airport alone, at present. The amended bill got through the House by a single vote, but the Senate okayed it 24-0. In order for the Legislature to override Romney's veto it needs a two-thirds majority vote in each house.

The county plans to expand Oakland-Orion to complement Oakland-Pontiac Airport in Waterford Township. A master plan is now before the Federal Aviation Agency, and if approval is forthcoming quickly, some phases of construction could start at Oakland-Orion early next year.

The county plans to gradually expand the facility over a 10-year period. First to be built, by 1970, would be two medium-sized runways. Eventual plans are for four runways, two of them 7,000 feet long. With complementary facilities

4 Paper Unions to Vote on Pact

DETROIT (AP) — Heads of bargaining committees for four of six striking Detroit newspaper unions agreed last night to "recommend acceptance by their membership of the recommendations" of a special mediator in the city's 224-day-old newspaper blackout.

But the breakthrough still gave no assurance of a quick return of newspapers to Detroit area readers.

A proposed 34 1/2-month contract, offering $33 in four increments, was accepted by the Paper and Plate Handlers Union, the Lithographers and Photoengravers Union, the Printing Pressmen's Union, the Typographical Printers Union and by representatives of the two papers.

However, three other unions — two of them on strike — still were reported negotiating beyond recommendations made by University of Wisconsin law professor and labor mediator Dr. Nathan Feinsinger. These unions are the mailers, the Newspaper Guild and stereotypers.

NO VOTING DATES SET

In addition, ratification must come from the voting membership of the four agreeing unions and numerous building and maintenance unions.

Norman Park, head of the Council of Newspaper Unions, said at last night's Detroit newspaper unions agreed last announcement that no ratification dates have been set and there are not now any special procedures established for meetings with publishers and the three unions still negotiating.

U.S. Plans Try to Break Peace Talk Logjam

From Our News Wires
PARIS (UPI) — Diplomatic sources said today the United States is making a new effort to break the logjam in the Paris negotiations.
They said U.S. negotiators designed an appeal to North Vietnamese representatives in their 10th meeting today to turn their backs on propaganda statements and engage in meaningful bargaining.
Cyprus R. Vance, who heads the U.S. team in the absence of Ambassador-at-Large W. Averell Harriman, was said to be undaunted by repeated rejections of U.S. proposals. Harriman was in Washington today to meet with administration officials.

However, indications were that North Vietnamese negotiators remained adamant in insisting on immediate halt to U.S. bombings of their country as precondition for any meaningful talks. Political observers expected a breakthrough from Vance's meeting with Nuan Thuy, head of the Hanoi delegation.
Both the United States and North Vietnam appeared unwilling to make any major concessions at this point. The talks may continue throughout the summer without vigorous efforts to break the deadlock, the sources said.

Some diplomats said the peace talks would enter a new phase after the U.S. political conventions. Hanoi keeps hoping a "dove" may be nominated for president.
Some sources believe that North Vietnam's leaders are still convinced that the United States will eventually stop all attacks on their territory unconditionally despite repeated U.S.

U.S. officials expected Thuy to confront Vance, as he has Harriman at each of the previous nine meetings with his government's demand that the United States end all bombing of North Vietnam. He has said repeatedly that no other issues can be discussed until that is done.
U.S. officials believed when the talks opened May 13 that Thuy expected to be told after a few meetings that Johnson was ending all attacks on his country.

They also believed that when he found out Johnson would not do this, the policymakers in Hanoi would begin to shift to a more flexible position.
Thuy made clear at a meeting with newsmen Monday that he and his government still believe world public opinion, including some opinion in the United States, will force the United States to bring the bombing to an end. He appealed for fresh condemnation of U.S. policy and expressed confidence in victory.

Birmingham Commission OKs Program for Sidewalks

BIRMINGHAM — The City Commission has approved this city's sidewalk program for this year.
The program will be conducted in "Sidewalk Replacement Area 3" — an area bounded by Adams, Woodward, 14 Mile, Pierce, Frank and Maple.
Sidewalk to be replaced in the area has been designated with paint during a survey by the engineering department, according to a report submitted to the commission by City Engineer William T. Killen.
Green paint indicates that the section of walk to be replaced is the property owner's responsibility; yellow denotes the city's responsibility.

CITY RESPONSIBILITY.
"The city responsibility," Killen explained, "will generally be under one of the following conditions: (1) Sidewalk is damaged by a city tree; (2) Sidewalk has settled over sewer and water service trench; (3) Sidewalk at intersection; and (4) Sidewalk along side frontage, except at driveways."
No definite price figure has been set for sidewalk which is to be replaced at the expense of property owners. However, cost for a 4-inch-thick concrete replacement in last year's program was 61¢ cents per square foot. The cost to owners depends on the price paid to the sidewalk contractor.

In addition to the replacement, the program will include the construction of new sidewalks in two areas, as recommended by the city engineer: the north side of Haynes from Elm to Adams, and the south side of Lincoln from Woodward to Adams.
Both sidewalks will be five feet wide, and both can be "ordered in" by the commission, since they are adjacent to business property, Killen said.

TOTAL COST
The city engineer estimated total cost of the program at $80,587, with $35,315, or about 66 percent, to be paid for by property owners. The city, Killen added, would pay an estimated $23,908, and the remaining $3,366 would come from the sewer and water account.
The work should be done by late summer or fall, Killen said.

In other business, the commission approved an elevator maintenance contract with the Montgomery Elevator Co. for the Lot 5 parking structure, located on Woodward north of Willis.
Assistant City Manager John F. Saeftle had recommended acceptance of the contract, after conferring with the city's legal counsel at the request of the commission.

PREVIOUS URGING
City Manager Robert S. Kenning had previously urged that the contract be accepted July 1, provided there were no difficulties with the elevators from June 12-30.
However, commissioners, citing mechanical problems encountered during the past year, asked if a longer trial period might not be possible.
The contract as approved will become effective July 1, and will be in the amount of $167 a month.

A request has been received from the Birmingham-Bloomfield Chamber of Commerce for additional parking spaces, due to the fact that the completion of the new Lot 1 structure, at Pierce and Merrill, has been delayed by a construction strike.

SHOPPER DIFFICULTIES
"The August back-to-school shoppers and the November and December Christmas shoppers will find it most difficult to park in Birmingham," commented chamber president Carl F. Fischer.

Commissioners asked that the chamber's parking committee review possibilities for expanded parking and present some specific proposals.

Sen. Bartlett in Hospital
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. E. L. Bartlett, 64, Alaska's senior senator, has been hospitalized under intensive care after suffering a heart attack.
An aide said yesterday the senator was in an intensive care unit at Bethesda Naval Hospital for treatment of a heart attack suffered Saturday.

Waterford Twp. Files Briefs in Appeal of Terms Ruling

Attorneys for Waterford Township have filed briefs with the Michigan Supreme Court defending a state law extending the terms of incumbent township officers.
The law was declared unconstitutional by Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer early last month.

It provided that township officers elected in 1966 would continue in office until November 1970, 18 months longer than the terms to which they were elected.
DEADLINE YESTERDAY
The court had set yesterday as the deadline for filing briefs appealing the Circuit Court ruling.

If the lower court decision is upheld, present township officers will have to run for reelection this year if they want to remain in office.
If the decision is reversed, there will be no election for township officers this year.
All candidates for township office must run in the Aug. 6 primary election. It is because of the short time left that the Supreme Court is being asked to resolve the case immediately.

Romney Reaffirms Neutrality in Race

LANSING (UPI) — Gov. Romney reaffirmed his neutrality in the race for the Republican presidential nomination on the eve of a delegate-wooing trip today by Richard M. Nixon who drove Romney from the field before a vote was cast.
Romney said yesterday that he had no intention of abandoning his favorite-son candidacy and turning loose Michigan's 47 other National convention delegates—at this time.
Nixon was to arrive here at 1 p.m. by chartered jet for a private question-answer session with the delegation and later give a speech at a $100-a-plate dinner to raise campaign funds for Michigan Republicans.
Nixon was making the trip — his first major campaign swing since the assassination of Robert F. Kennedy — at the invitation of the Michigan delegation, which held a similar session with Gov. Nelson Rockefeller last month in Detroit.
NOT LEGALLY BINDING
The Republican State Convention instructed the delegates to back Romney

as a favorite son at the Miami Beach convention in August. But the commitment of the delegates is ethical and not legally binding.
Nixon's Michigan campaign manager, State Sen. Emil Lockwood of St. Louis, predicted that Nixon would win new supporters through his visit and eventually — but not immediately — the backing of Romney.
Lockwood claims that Nixon is the favorite — after Romney — of about 25 of the 48 delegates. Rockefeller's supporters also claim that many and more.
But both camps agree that Romney's endorsement would tip the balance for either candidate.
VIEWS POSITIONS
Romney says his support is dependent upon the positions the candidates take on the major issues, especially the Vietnam war and urban problems.

While there is considerable discussion among Michigan Republicans about the possibility that Romney might become a vice presidential contender for either Nixon or Rockefeller, but especially Nixon, Romney disclaims active interest and rejects the notion that the second spot on the ticket is the price for his support.

Bar Exec to Run for Prosecutor

Louis E. Fairbrother of 212 Josephine, secretary and director of the Oakland County Bar Association, has announced his candidacy for prosecuting attorney.
He seeks the Democratic nomination in the Aug. 6 primary for the post to be vacated by S. Jerome Bronson, who is running for a seat on the Michigan Court of Appeals.
Fairbrother, 40, is a former assignment officer for the Oakland County Circuit Court. He and his wife, Barbara, have six children. His law office is at 801 S. Adams, Birmingham.
Fairbrother holds a law degree from the University of Detroit, is a member of St. Benedict's school board and a member of the Pontiac Elks Lodge.

In announcing why he is seeking the post, Fairbrother stated: "Disrespect for the law is one of the major problems of our times. The citizens of Oakland County are entitled to resolute enforcement of the law by the prosecuting attorney.
"To obtain such law enforcement we need qualified, dedicated and highly trained personnel in the prosecutor's office cooperating with and assisting other law enforcement agencies."

LOUIS E. FAIRBROTHER
Today's Press does not contain a market page due to the closing of the New York and American stock exchanges to allow employees to handle extra paper work. The normal stock listings will be resumed tomorrow.

SMASHING TIME—A group of Cub Scouts break up the toy gun stock of Chicago wholesaler David Perlin. The boys were asked by Perlin to smash the inventory of nearly 1,000 toy guns. Perlin says he will no longer sell toy firearms.

Plan for Another Mall Gets Preliminary City Approval

City commissioners, following the recommendation of the city staff, last night gave preliminary approval to a plan for another parking mall on Saginaw in the downtown area.
Downtown merchants presented the commission with a petition requesting another mall following success with the existing parking mall on Saginaw between Huron and Pike.
Under a plan developed by the city staff, the mall would be located between Huron and the Oakland-Saginaw intersection. The mall would include Warren from Saginaw to the alley west of University Drive from Saginaw to the alley east of it.
Director of Public Works Joseph E.

Neippling said conversion would entail rerouting traffic around the mall and removal of islands at the point of intersection of Saginaw, Woodward and Lafayette.
EQUIPMENT DELIVERY
He said the mall could be put into effect as soon as ticket emission equipment can be delivered, probably no sooner than September.
Neippling said experience with the present mall indicates that the new mall would be self-supporting and profits from the operation would justify an initial $50,000 expense by the city to put the mall into operation.
The new mall would have parking for about 130 cars.

out and the Clinton River overflowed in the area of Odyke and M50 causing these streets to be impassable for some time.
Oscar Loomis, general maintenance superintendent for the Oakland County Road Commission reported numerous damaged roads.
"There's still a lot of standing water," he said.
Loomis reported the following roads as the most seriously damaged or flooded: portions of Gill in Farmington Township; Commerce, east of Lake Sherwood in Commerce Township; South Boulevard, west of Crooks in Troy and Avon Townships; and Livernois, between Dutton and Tienken in Avon Township. Also in bad condition are Gun, between Rochester and Orion in Oakland Township; Kensington, north of 16 Mile Road and Big Beaver, between Woodward and Adams in Bloomfield Township.

Romney Vetoes Airport Vote

including hangars and a terminal, an all-around general aviation facility would be built, especially designed for freight, commercial and private flying purposes.
More than $600,000 has already been spent in acquiring the old Allen Airport at the site, and adjacent land. Tentative plans call for spending between $500,000 and $1 million yearly on improvements.
From 50 to 75 per cent of all spending would be returned to the county in state and federal matching grants.
'HISTORY' DETAILED
Romney's aide said the veto detailed some of the history in the bill's passage and stated: "It is no secret that the only county immediately within the population standards of the amendment is Oakland...

"Thus if permitted to become law this bill would require the affirmative vote of the residents on any future expansion there. However, eventually other counties would 'grow' into the bill's provisions."
"This is an unjustified and potentially disastrous restriction on the future development of air transportation..."
Romney went on to state similar restrictive legislation was to blame for holding up construction of "an essential expressway," apparently referring to I-696, which is embroiled in controversy as several communities in south Oakland County holding up construction.

Romney also informed the Legislature: "A key to our total progress as a state is a sound, well-planned, servicable transportation system. We cannot afford ill-conceived limitations on the mobility of public decision making..."
The statement added, "The public is entitled to checks and balances. They now exist in this field through the elected local governmental officials responsible for such airport expansion and through federal, state and local funds upon which such development is dependent. This is the democratic procedure to insure action that will reflect and serve the public interest."

SAVING THE MAIN Reports Seeing Red Copters at DMZ

CUA VIET, Vietnam (AP) — "We aren't seeing flying saucers, we're seeing helicopters and just about every night," says Marine Lance Cpl. Daryl Lewis, 19, of Milford.

Lewis, a naval gunfire forward spotter near the demilitarized zone, was talking about enemy helicopters that he and other artillery spotters have reported seeing for the past 10 days in the demilitarized zone.

Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, the U.S. commander in Vietnam, said Sunday "there is no formal, concrete, factual evidence" of North Vietnamese helicopters being used along the demilitarized zone.

Lacking photographic evidence or

Milford Marine Lance Cpl. Daryl Lewis of 723 Squire enlisted in the armed forces in January, 1967 and was sent to Vietnam February 14, 1968.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lewis, Daryl graduated from Milford High School in 1966 and for one term attended Lawrence Institute of Technology.

wreckage of enemy helicopters reported shot down, U.S. Command spokesmen are skeptical of the reports.

QUESTIONED 5 DAYS

Last week some sources said radar signals might have been misinterpreted as helicopters. One said the helicopter reports could be likened to the reported sightings of flying saucers.

A Marine staff sergeant who was one of the first to report helicopter sighting was summoned to Da Nang where he was questioned for five days.

"I think I convinced them I was not crazy and having hallucinations," he told his superior officers when he returned to the Cua Viet supply base on the South China Sea coast eight miles below the DMZ.

A lance corporal who also was among the first to report the lights is still in Saigon where he is being questioned, officers of the Marine 1st Amphibious Tractor Battalion said.

ENEMY COPTER LIGHTS

Monday night, Marine spotters at the forward post called "Ocean View"

reported seeing the lights of 11 enemy helicopters shuttling along the southern portion of the DMZ and then heading out toward Tiger Island, a North Vietnamese island 15 miles northeast of the DMZ.

Although reports vary, officers here say between three and five enemy helicopters have been shot down by Air Force F4 Phantoms or naval gunfire. The U.S. Command has not confirmed these reports.

A captain here said, "We know we got one about 10 days ago and two more the next night."

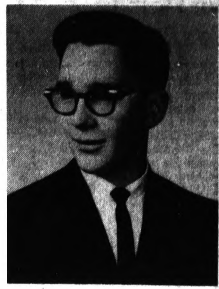

Because of the uncertainty in the U.S. Command over the sightings, he asked not to be identified and declined to say where he had received their information.

Lewis, who said he first saw the red lights moving along the DMZ two weeks ago, was atop the Ocean View lookout tower at the time.

"There were six blinking red lights, each about 500 meters apart," he said.

Asked if the lights could have been flares or possibly vehicles moving on a distant horizon, Lewis replied: "Definitely not. They were flashing red lights, moving in a kind of formation in the sky. There is no doubt in my mind or by anyone else who has seen them that they are helicopters, and they aren't ours. We don't have any up there."

Two soldiers who work on an Army team at Cua Viet as artillery observers for Marine countermortar and artillery fire agreed with Lewis.

Oxford School Board Pares Budget as Second Millage Vote Is Discussed

OXFORD — An attempt to maintain current school programs and facilities on a balanced budget was made by the board of education last night, even as it discussed a probable second millage vote in early September.

Some $54,500 was pared off the 1968-69 budget as the result of a voter turnout June 10 of an additional 6 operating mills. Voters at that time approved renewal of 9 mills.

The new budget of $1,472,515 is balanced, according to Schools Supt. Roger Oberg.

It reflects a $29,000 cut in maintenance costs, a $12,000 cut in capital outlay, a $9,000 reduction in teaching supplies, and field trips and conferences reduced by $2,400.

ATTEMPT DISCUSSED

The likelihood of an attempt to get an additional 2 or 3 mills next September was discussed by the board. Another meeting was set for 8 p.m. Monday at board offices.

It was noted that the current budget is balanced only if enrollment and state aid is as projected and if teacher and other employee salaries are negotiated within projected bounds.

The board last night voted to bypass a state meeting it had requested nearly two months ago and to meet with the Oxford Education Association, probably Tuesday, in an attempt to get stalled negotiations rolling again.

The effect of incorporation — making Oxford and part of the township a city — was asked by Calvin Darby, a resident.

TWO EFFECTS

Oberg said that while no formal position would be taken by the board, he could see two effects.

• The school taxes would be collected in the summer instead of in December for that portion incorporated.
• Under a charter township form of government (proposed by the township) as opposed to cityhood, the school district might possibly pick up $16,000 as opposed to $10,000 in an unallocated mill.

The possibility of using the old Christian Slayton house, formerly home of the Oxford Public Library, as school administrative offices or as a cultural center was asked by Darby.

The historic home is due to be torn down soon, unless someone is willing to pay the approximate $5,000 needed to move and relocate it. An investigation was promised.

CB Operators Form Emergency Patrol

WALLED LAKE — The Channel Breakers Citizen Band Radio Club has formed an emergency patrol team to work with Civil Defense and local law enforcement agencies.

Other officers are Leslie McComb, vice president; Mrs. Leslie McComb, treasurer; Mrs. Joyce Hiltesdorf, secretary; Larry Wesson, Bruce Ridley and Jack McConnell, trustees; and William Dyckman, sergeant at arms.

DONALD E. MCGAW

Bell Exec Heads JA for SE Michigan

A resident of 733 N. Valley Chase, Bloomfield Township, McGaw is completing a term as vice president of the youth organization.

Succeeding McGaw as vice president is Robert S. Olson, board chairman, Ford Motor Credit Co.

Olson, newly elected to the JA board, lives at 1535 Island, Bloomfield Township.

DIRECTORS REELECTED

Re-elected as directors were Ross Roy, chairman of Ross Roy Inc., board chairman; Ludger A. Beauvais, director of controller staff services for the J. L. Hudson Co.; treasurer; Ray C. Kooli, director, Ford Motor Co. Fund, assistant treasurer; and Wesley R. Baker, secretary, the Kresge Foundation, secretary.

Others chosen to fill vacancies on the board included Jack M. Cudlip, assistant to the chairman, MacLouth Steel Corp.; Charles C. Gale, treasurer, Parke, Davis & Co.; A. Dean Swift, general manager, Detroit group, Sears, Roebuck & Co.; and Willard D. MacDonnell, president, Kelsey-Hayes Co.

Still others are Charles R. Montgomery, vice president and controller, Michigan Consolidated Gas Co.; James Schiavone, general manager, WRJ/TV; and A. C. Welling, vice president, technical division, Wyandotte Chemicals Corp.

Edward P. Nagel, recently named executive vice president of JA in this area, becomes a director. Also reelected was Robert C. Trees, retired executive director of Metal Finishing Suppliers Association.

REPLACEMENTS

Replacements for retirees from the advisory council, headed by Stanley S. Kresge, board chairman, the Kresge Foundation; are Roland A. Mewhort, president, Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit; and Dr. Austin Smith, board chairman and president, Parke, Davis & Co.

Candidates were submitted by nominating chairman Rinehart S. Bright, vice president - operations staff, Chrysler Corp.; and his committee of directors.

Residents of Bloomfield Township include Swift of 2596 Covington and MacDonnell of 1375 N. Gleggarry. Living in Birmingham are Mewhort of 1083 Chesterfield, Schiavone of 3260 Lahser and Trees of 1712 Oak.

Other area residents are Bright of 335 Cranbrook, Bloomfield Hills, and Nagel of 3200 Hartstock Woods, West Bloomfield Township.

140 Acres in Groveland

County Gets U.S. Funds for Park

Oakland County's Parks and Recreation Commission has received a $198,000 grant from the U.S. office of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), it was announced by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich.

The money is to match county funds spent in purchasing a 140-acre park in Groveland Township. The park, then known as Paradise Beach, was purchased in June 1967 for $499,000.

Bought from Dr. Lamar K. Mathews, who retired, the land contains a large spring-fed lake and camping and play areas. Dr. Mathews also had a clinic on the grounds.

The HUD funds, for area development of open spaces and parklands, represent about half the money spent on the land.

The facility at Dixie and Grange Hall is used mostly for family camping. Part of the land will be the site of a new sheriff's department substation to serve the four northwest county townships.

Funds for purchase of county parks, an ongoing program come from a one-quarter mill levy approved by voters in November 1966. This quarter mill provides the park commission with about $800,000 per year for a five-year period.

Other purchases included $540,000 for 337-acre site in Independence Township on the west side of Crooked Lake and two smaller parcels in Waterford Township, adjacent to County Center land at Telegraph and Pontiac Lake roads.

Oxford Area Population Meets Requirements for Incorporation

OXFORD — The vote to incorporate the village and parts of the township has cleared another hurdle here.

Village Manager Robert Smalley announced to the council last night that a state-conducted census showed the area contains 300 more residents than needed to meet state density requirements.

The survey showed 2,460 residents living within the present village limits and another 1,002 in the area of the township proposed for incorporation.

Smalley said the figures reflected a 103 population gain in the village since 1960.

PETITIONS FILED

Pontiac Township Sets Hours for Voter Signup

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — Mrs. Greta Block, township clerk, has announced that she will accept voter registrations for the Aug. 6 primaries all day Saturday June 29 and from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Friday July 5, the voter registration deadline.

The township office is open regularly weekdays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Cost surveys will be obtained for the acquisition of land off Washington Street for off-street parking.

Smalley reported that an informal meeting last week between the council and merchants had given the go-ahead to the project. The merchants reportedly will pay costs involved.

Clarkston Rotary Picks Officers

CLARKSTON — The Rotary Club has installed Louis W. Lessard, 6431 Havenock, as president for a one-year term.

Lessard succeeds Paul DeLongchamp. Other new officers are Lewis Wint, vice president; Charles Robinson, secretary; and Jess Berg, treasurer.

Beach Permit Again Goes to Novi Resident

NOVI — Although East Shore Beach has been open to area water-lovers for years, its operators must obtain a permit each year.

The permit comes from the Village Council, which has once again granted it. Herman W. Bohannon, 42935 14 Mile, will be operating the beach for his second year. East Shore Beach is across from East Shore Tavern.

In other action at a recent meeting, the Council purchased an all-season road grader for $16,000 from Michigan Tractor and Machinery Co., Novi.

A water budget of $90,400 for 1968-69 was also approved by Council. The village operates its own water system with revenues from tap-in, meter, and privilege fees, hydrant rental and equipment installation.

CONTRACT AWARDED

The contract for construction of the water main extension on Novi Road near Northville for the commercial area east of Novi Road was awarded to Canzano Excavating Co.; Dearborn Heights, for $11,286.

Work will begin in one week and should be completed during the following week, estimated Village Manager, Harold Ackley.

Parties Have Bridal Note

Denise Mary Mason, daughter of the K. Victor Masons of Voorheis Road, has been honored at several prenuptial parties, beginning with a miscellaneous shower at Melinda Whiting's Troy home.

The affair, cohosted by Sally Wyzgoski, was attended by former classmates from Dominican Academy.

CRYSTAL SHOWER

Bridesmaid Molly Reynolds opened her Oxford home for a crystal shower.

Miss Mason will wed Jack Stanley Lindstrom, son of the Paul Lindstroms of Coleman Street, Friday at an evening candlelight ceremony in St. Benedict's Catholic Church.

Lead is the world's fifth most important metal on a tonnage basis, being exceeded only by iron, copper, aluminum and zinc.

Regulations for Social Security Benefits

Consultant in Money Management

Dear Mary Feeley:

I've been suffering from multiple sclerosis and haven't been able to work. I have been told I might now be eligible for disability benefits under Social Security. Do you know if this is so?

M. W., Madison, Wis.

There are certain regulations under which you must qualify. Recent legislation which improved medicare benefits also extended Social Security disability insurance protection. And approximately some 100,000 younger people are expected to be able to benefit.

First, did you become totally disabled before age 31? And if so, do you have a minimum of six (up to 20) quarters of Social Security coverage? Six quarters would mean a year-and-a-half of coverage, and 20 quarters would be five years of coverage under Social Security. If you meet these conditions, you can qualify.

Or—are you a widow or widower age 50 or older? Until now, a widow could not get Social Security benefits unless she had in her care a child who was entitled to benefits based on her husband's earnings.

Now, as a disabled widow, a woman may be eligible for these benefits if her disability started before her husband's death, or within seven years after that time.

You must file a claim at your local Social Security office before any payments you may be entitled to can be paid.

Dear Miss Feeley:

Since my husband feels I'm doing a poor job on budgeting,

Buttering Spoon

You can make a handy corn buttering spoon that butters corn on the cob much better than a knife, by taking an ordinary plastic spoon and drilling three holes in it. Rub this butter-filled spoon over the corn, and the heated butter will seep through and season it just right.

I've decided to have him pay all the bills and just give me money for food expenses.

We have five children, four boys, aged three to nine, and one girl aged 11. Our annual income after taxes is between $9,000 and $10,000.

Since my husband reads your column, I would like your opinion on the amount I should receive. Then I can stop arguing with my frugal mate.

Mrs. R. S., New York City

Dear Mrs. S.:

I just hope when you said "food expenses" you meant food—and not laundry and cleaning supplies, paper goods, table mats, shoe polish, tooth paste and razor blades, too.

Because the figure I'm going to give you is strictly for what the family eats. So don't let your husband get the idea it covers the "supermarket" bill.

For a Moderate Food Plan, you'll need $50 a week. That's adding a few cents to the last estimate compiled by the Department of Agriculture, using national averages. If prices continue to inch up, a penny here and three cents there, even the $50 will be none too much. The ages and sexes of the children are taken into consideration, as is the size of your family. The cost per person is less, of course, the more people you seat at the table.

If you want to revise your ultimatum to your husband, and make the deal "supermarket" instead of just food, then better ask for another $3 to $5 a week.

Mt. Vernon Methodist Church, Mt. Vernon, was the site of the marriage Saturday of Janice Faye Byers and Thomas Jay Becker. Parents of the couple, both from Washington Township, are Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Byers of Dequindre Road and the Rae Beckers of 28 Mile Road. Leading the bridal party of eight for their brother and sister, respectively, were best man, Paul Becker and matron of honor, Mrs. David Hipp. A bouquet of daisies and ivy accented the bride's dress of silk organza over taffeta with a daisy crown headpiece and elbow length veil. After a reception at the bride's parents' home, the couple left on a honeymoon in Canada.

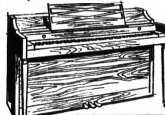

LEVANDOWSKI-WILKINSON

Honeymooning in Bermuda are the new Mr. and Mrs. Henry James Levandowskis (Sandra Joyce Wilkinson). Married Friday at Christ Methodist Church, Detroit, the bride wore a silk linen dress with daisy lace panel and carried a bouquet of gardenias and Stephanotis. The wedding party of 10 was led by the bride's sister, matron of honor, Mrs. Harold Stokes and John Januszko acting as proxy best man for 1st Lt. James Hiles, USA, stationed in Vietnam. Parents of the couple are the Rudy Levandowskis of Detroit and the Stanley Levandowskis of Muskegon Heights. Reception was at Cambridge Hall, Detroit.

Fight Is Begun To Clear Name

Arson Plea in 1939 Coerced—Ex-Inmate

MINEOLA, N.Y. (AP)—John Peter Dorak has begun a court fight to clear his name after spending 20 years in state mental institutions on what he contends was a coerced guilty plea to a charge of arson in 1939.

Free since last July, Dorak, 61, now lives with a son, Patrick, 38, on a farm at Honesdale, Pa.

Dorak said he was not sure why he was discharged from Binghamton State Hospital, but he recalled that a fellow prisoner at Dannemora State Hospital for the Criminal Insane, where he previously spent 25 years, had included his name on a writ of habeas corpus submitted to prison officials. Dorak said a lawyer who has taken his case without fee began proceedings Tuesday in Nassau County Court to try to have the arson conviction erased.

The lawyer, Harry Heller, claimed a denial of Dorak's constitutional right to be represented by counsel during his court appearance in November 1939.

PETTY LARCENY

Heller said Dorak had been induced into entering the guilty plea by an unidentified assistant district attorney who had told him that unless he pleaded, his wife, Maria, would be arrested on a petty larceny charge.

The lawyer claimed that Mrs. Dorak, who deceased, allegedly had sold to a junk man for $2 a bathtub that had been in one of two Freeport bungalows once belonging to her mother-in-law. The bungalows had been taken over by town government for nonpayment of taxes, and Dorak was charged with setting fire to them.

Dorak, whose wife was pregnant and who had four young sons aged 2 to 7, pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to an indefinite term in the State Institute for Mental Defectives in Nanuet. A psychiatric examination had showed him to have the mental age of a 7-year-old.

Mrs. Dorak subsequently gave birth to their only daughter and told their children their father was dead. Fourteen years later an aunt told them where their father was.

Dorak spent 24 years at Nanuet, then was transferred to Dannemora and in 1966 to Binghamton.

Heller learned about the case a month ago from Dorak's son, William, who cleans windows in the attorney's building.

Judge Denies Dismissal in Theft Trial

A motion for dismissal in the trial of a Southfield man charged with receiving stolen property in connection with an alleged jet-age shopping ring was denied yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Judge Clark J. Adams overruled the motion, which had been presented by the attorney defending Maxwell Gordon of a Southfield, after a State Police intelligence detective testified to the manner in which he searched a box of goods bound by air freight from Miami to Detroit.

The defense held that the search was illegal.

Gordon was charged with receiving goods shoplifted from exclusive firms in southern U.S. cities and shipped to Detroit.

He and a Detroit man—later released—were arrested in Oakland County last February.

The buyer for the Miami firm was charged with the goods—high-priced dresses—discovered by the detective were taken, also testified yesterday.

Flood Damages Apartments

An estimated $30,000 to $40,000 damage was done to the Bloomfield Hills Townhouse Cooperative Apartments when 40 feet of water from the Detroit River gushed into the building.

Between 6 and 10 p.m., 25 to 30 families had to be evacuated from the apartment complex, according to Carleyle, assistant superintendent.

He said five to eight units were ruined. "I don't even know if $30,000 to $40,000 will cover it."

The people in the one-year-old complex in the community on Woodward south of East Boulevard were evacuated to their homes and relatives came to their aid.

Some can not return to their homes because the floors and walls have caved in, said Carleyle.

City Commission Reappoints Four; Gains Resignations

City commissioners last night reappointed Harold S. Goldberg of 1079 James K. and Dr. Lynn D. Allen of 110 Wenhaw to four-year terms on the Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees.

The commission also reappointed Mrs. Joseph H. of 434 Lynch to a five-year term on the Pontiac Housing Commission and Samuel Morgan of 933 Lull to a new five-year term on the Police Trial Board.

The commission accepted the resignations of Rev. Thomas E. McGrath of St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church from the Human Relations Commission, David E. Uley of 51 Henry Clark from the Fire Civil Service Commission and Gerald Moore of 3671 Meadowleigh from the Cemetery Board of Control.

Hippies Mar
TV Interview
in New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Police said about 40 hippies charged into the studios of educational television station WNDT Tuesday night as three representatives of the underground press were being interviewed.

A guard was knocked over and the associate director of the "Newfront" interview show was punched, officers said. Police arrested seven persons.

A station spokesman said the intruders used "very foul language" over the air and that many viewers called in to ask what was going on and if it had been planned by the station. There was no immediate explanation for the invasion.

IN BACKGROUND

Former astronaut John Glenn, chairman of the Emergency Committee for Gun Control, a guest earlier on the show, stood in the back of the studio. Smiling, Glenn said, "And they say there is violence on commercial television."

Sailors Nearing
Finish of Solo
Ocean Crossing

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) —

The first finishers in the 3,000-mile single-handed yacht race from

Plymouth, England, are expected to arrive at the finish line off

Newport Thursday night at the earliest.

William Thomas of the local

Lewis Yacht Club, chairman of the committee handling arrangements for the finish, said Tuesday this estimate was based on the rate the yachts have been traveling since they

He said the Thursday night

because weather and other factors unknown to the committee

might delay the yachts until Friday morning or later.

Thirty-five yachts entered the race. Thomas said 27 still were in the competition at last report.

sponse to parent complaints that loose discipline existed

in the schools and on buses, Fennville school officials in Allegan

County promised tougher school

High School Principal Fred

Richardson has told a group of concerned parents that pupils

no longer will be allowed to drive their cars at noon, and Supr. Henry Martin said students riding buses would be

of misbehavior, the students will be barred from riding the bus until parents have conferred with school officials.

The second part of "The Cities"

on CBS Tuesday night was

involved in rehabilitating the homes and lives of the millions who are prisoners in the city slums.

The program concentrated on two places. First there was the crumbling Bedford-Stuyvesant

section of Brooklyn where 95 percent of the population is nonwhite, where illegitimate

are commonplace and where the crime rate is high.

CBS showed some of the ex-

see if the area can be salvaged.

Bedford-Stuyvesant is in far too

about integration when the needs are financial credit, jobs and job training and better education for its inhabitants.

OTHER PLACE

The other place shown was the Crenshaw section of Los Angeles consisting of $30,000 to $200,000 homes of professional

Here, seven miles from the

whites, Negroes and Orientals have made a good start on

nity.
