Flanders Wants McCarthy Stripped of Power

Find Kidnaper's Footprints

FBI Calls Out Bloodhounds in Arizona Hills

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—A giant police force combing the rugged Superstition Mountains picked up fresh tracks of an armed and dangerous kidnaper early today.

The Pinal County Sheriff's office reported that search parties came across the footprints while the main group of searchers were heading off in a different direction through the barren, rocky terrain.

The tracks are following a power line and are headed back toward a main highway, between Apache Junction and Florence Junction.

Bloodhounds are being rushed to the area. The sheriff's office said the tracks represent the best lead that has been found since the trail was lost last night.

They are part of a vast police network of planes, patrol cars, and ground parties using bloodhounds in seeking the abductor of Mrs. Evelyn Ann Smith.

The attractive 23-year-old wife of a wealthy Phoenix pipe and steel company executive was seized by the man Wednesday afternoon and released yesterday after a $75,000 ransom was paid by her husband, Herbert.

She was held captive for 29 hours, most of the time in the rugged Superstitions, site of the Lost Dutchman gold mine. Police picked up the kidnaper's tracks late yesterday and followed them five miles before they disappeared in the cactus-studded wasteland.

The search area is very rugged. It is dotted with old mine shafts that would make excellent hiding places. There are numerous trails but almost no water holes. Thirteen persons have lost their lives in the area.

Three planes were put into the air today, the Arizona highway patrol has blocked all highways and reserve manpower in patrol cars is standing by.

Officers from two counties, the Phoenix police department and the FBI are participating in the operation.

Mrs. Smith, a mother of two children, was unharmed when released in the shadow of the Superstitions yesterday.

McCarthy Denies Asking Soft Assignment for Schine

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy denied today he ever asked Secretary of the Army Stevens to assign Pvt. G. David Schine to the New York area as Stevens testified.

And McCarthy swore it was not true, as Army Counselor John G. Adams testified, that Adams came to him last Dec. 9 and complained he could no longer take "abuse" from Roy M. Cohn on the subject of Schine.

Under cross-examination at the McCarthy-Army hearings, McCarthy fought back vigorously against Army charges that he and his staff sought by improper means to get preferential treatment for Schine, wealthy New Yorker who was an unpaid staff consultant until drafted.

He didn't dispute that he once told Secretary Stevens as a monitored telephone call records—that Cohn thought Schine "should be a general and work from a penthouse of the Waldorf."

But McCarthy said that was "completely facetious"—that he was only "ribbing" the secretary.

While McCarthy repeatedly disputed testimony from Stevens and Adams, he invariably said they were "mistaken" or questioned their memories.

As to Adams, McCarthy said: "I wouldn't evaluate Mr. Adams' testimony and accuse him of perjury."

Stevens, McCarthy said, "has proven that he has a very bad memory. He changed his testimony from day to day."

"Undoubtedly that's what he remembered," McCarthy said in referring to Adams' version of a conversation with McCarthy last Dec. 9.

Adams testified he went to McCarthy's office and complained about Cohn's attitude and said he was "no longer able to take this abuse."

"Did Adams make that statement to you?" asked Jenkins.

"He did not make that statement," McCarthy replied.

Congress Asked to Stop Fighting, Work With Ike

Eisenhower Promises All-Out Battle Against Subversives

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower urged Congress last night to provide "less political fission and more political fusion" and appealed for enactment of his "Stronger America" program.

In a radio-television address to the nation, the chief executive's talk was reminiscent of his 1952 campaign speeches, indicating his planned style of support for GOP candidates in Congressional races this fall.

During his speech before the district chairmen of the National Citizens for Eisenhower Congressional Committee, he pledged an all-out battle against subversion in the government.

Although he made no direct reference to Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, he drew a loud burst of applause when he declared that his administration will "keep everlastingly at the job of uprooting subversion wherever it may be found."

Departing from his prepared text, he added:

"My friends, I do not believe I am egotistical when I say that every American believes at least that about me."

At one juncture, he warned that the government's farm surpluses are reaching the point where they will be spoiled or otherwise wasted unless something is done.

The half-hour speech also touched on foreign policy, stressing the importance of America building up its military strength so we can successfully oppose any "rash aggression" by the Communists.

The President included a series of administration bills designed to tighten the nation's safeguards against subversive activities in reciting those measures which require the urgent attention of Congress.

He said these bills awaiting Congressional action add up to a "potent package of protection against Communism" without damaging the rights of individual citizens.

Declaring that the need for a new farm program is too critical to permit a delay, Mr. Eisenhower noted that he has been told it is not "good politics" to attempt to solve the farm problem in an election year.

He added that he doesn't care what constitutes "good politics," the nation urgently needs his farm program, and he is going to continue to press for its enactment.

Commissioners OK Annexation

Ewart Told to Prepare Resolution Authorizing Move by City

Pontiac's City Commission Thursday night gave general approval to annexation by the city of about 111 acres of Waterford Township to be used as a site for the proposed county office buildings.

Commissioners asked City Attorney William A. Ewart to bring a resolution to next Tuesday's meeting which, if passed, would authorize the annexation already approved by Waterford Township.

The area lies between Telegraph road and the city's West boulevard boundary.

It is expected that Commission approval will include a stipulation that the county pay costs of constructing utilities necessary for the proposed buildings.

Commissioners also may ask that any county buildings in Pontiac left vacant by a move to the new site be sold within a stated time. This would allow the city to assess taxes against such property which is tax-free while county-owned.

MAN, THAT'S COOL — Audrey Maki of 582 Raskob Ave. kept a cool head in yesterday's hot weather. With the temperature at the 90-degree mark — the highest this year — Audrey found a pitcher of cold water brought instant relief from the heat. Janet Burt, of 227 Baldwin Ave., poured.

Mercury Soars to 90 Thursday

Hottest Day of the Year Recorded; More Heat Forecast for Saturday

Ninety-degree weather came to the Pontiac area yesterday and more hot weather is forecast.

The mercury rose to 90 at 2:15 yesterday, making it the first 90-degree day this year.

Southerly winds are expected to push the temperature to 86 to 88 degrees tomorrow. Scattered afternoon and evening thundershowers also are predicted by the U. S. Weather Bureau.

Despite forecasts of cooler weather, the temperature passed the 80-degree mark today for the fourth straight day. The thermometer rose from 66 at 8 a.m. to 86 at 2 p.m. in downtown Pontiac.

Highs of 88 were recorded on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Water pumpage has climbed rapidly during the hot weather in Pontiac, and several Oakland County communities have clamped restrictions on sprinkling.

A low of from 60 to 64 is forecast for tonight.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Clardy (R-Mich) today offered a bill to ban from federal employment any witnesses who refused to answer congressional committee or loyalty board questions.

323 PHS Seniors to Get Diplomas Next Thursday

Dr. Gail Ernest Densmore, professor of speech and chairman of the Department of Speech at the University of Michigan, will be the main speaker next Thursday when approximately 323 Pontiac High School seniors receive their diplomas in the boy's gymnasium.

Dr. Densmore's address is titled "Ceiling Upward."

The commencement exercises will begin at 8 p. m., with Glenn H. Griffin, president of the Board of Education, presiding.

The processional by Savino will be played by the high school band under the direction of Dale C. Harris.

The Rev. James W. Deeg, pastor of the Oakland Park Methodist Church, will offer the invocation. This will be followed by the band's rendition of excerpts from "Oklahoma."

The president of the senior class, H. Russel Holland II, will make a few brief remarks.

Dr. Densmore will then present the main address of the evening.

The band will play the March from "Victory at Sea," by Rogers, followed by the presentation of the class awards by Pontiac High School Principal John Thors Jr.

Find Hazards at Courthouse

Supervisors Discover Building a Fire Trap, Falling Apart

By PATRICIA A. WOOD

Dead pigeons and live fire hazards marred an inspection of Oakland County Courthouse Thursday.

"The place is falling apart at the seams," commented Harry W. Horton, chairman of Oakland County Supervisors buildings and grounds committee. "We're afraid it will be condemned."

The committee, out on routine inspection of the county's land and buildings, spent the afternoon looking over the courthouse at Huron and Saginaw streets and asking employes about its condition. The courthouse was built in 1904-5, with an addition on its south side some time later.

Asks Wisconsin Senator to Reply to 1952 Charges

Vermonter Launches Third Attack Against GOP Colleague

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) today demanded that the Senate oust Sen. McCarthy as chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee and its parent group unless McCarthy "purge himself of contempt" and answer charges made against him in 1952.

Flanders said in a Senate speech that McCarthy had treated "with contempt" a three-man subcommittee set up in 1952 to investigate charges against McCarthy by former Sen. Benton (D-Conn) and countercharges of McCarthy.

McCarthy, who has previously attributed Flanders' criticisms to "senility," said of today's speech: "I think they should get a man with a net and take him to a good quiet place."

Flanders began his speech soon after 1 p.m., (EDT).

About 40 of the 96 senators were on the floor, but not McCarthy. The public galleries were fairly well filled.

The Vermont senator, who criticized McCarthy in two previous Senate speeches, noted that the 1952 subcommittee formally reported that McCarthy rejected its invitation to testify.

In the absence of testimony by McCarthy, the subcommittee reported it could not finally rule on the charges raised against him. Its report said the situation left unanswered such questions as to whether McCarthy had used for his own benefit some of the money contributed to his fight against communism and whether McCarthy had improperly accepted a $10,000 fee from a housing firm for a booklet he wrote.

Flanders' speech today had a dramatic prelude. The New England senator strode into the McCarthy-Army hearings this morning and tossed a note to McCarthy advising him of the forthcoming speech.

McCarthy read the note and commented: "I don't have enough interest in any Flanders speech to listen to it."

McCarthy then demanded that Flanders be sworn and testify in the hearings, if he had any relevant information. He said that if Flanders has "nothing but the usual smears" he should say it to the hearings subcommittee, and not on the Senate floor.

McCarthy has stepped temporarily from the chairmanship of the Security Probe Speed-Up Urged

Coordination of Cases Under Single Director Requested

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Appropriations Committee today ordered the Defense Department "to speed up its clearance of military and civilian security cases" as it approved a bill providing more than 29 billions of defense funds for the next fiscal year.

Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) manager for the biggest money bill, told reporters that the directive to "coordinate all security and loyalty cases" results from several recent cases and the controversial McCarthy-Army investigations.

"It's chiefly because of the delay in clearance for three midshipmen in the recent Naval Academy graduating class and the case of that dentist, Peress," Ferguson told reporters when asked the purpose of the directive.

The case of Maj. Irving Peress, dentist, who was given an honorable discharge from the Army after refusing to answer questions in the Senate Investigations subcommittee's investigation of alleged subversion in the Army, has figured prominently in the hearings of the dispute between Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and Pentagon officials.

Chi-Chi Chimp Opens Mouth and Loses Home

No one would have known that Chi-Chi was chained in the basement of C. R. Rock's home at 289 Novi Rd. if he hadn't started screaming for his master.

Rock's brother, Foss, a Harrison animal-circus owner, decided to lodge the 4½-foot-tall ape in the Novi Township home until he could sell him. He chained Chi-Chi up and went away.

Chi-chi got so lonely he knotted water pipes like string, smashed a ventilating shaft and kicked out two windows. But his screams were his undoing.

They terrorized housewives and county authorities converged on the house.

Dr. Frank P. Bates, Oakland County animal welfare director, and Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem went into a huddle. Their ruling: Chi-Chi had to go.

Ziem has given Foss until tomorrow morning to get the ape out of the county. If Chi-Chi stays, a warrant will be issued.

Dr. Bates said Chi-Chi is friendly and well-mannered when his master is near, but "I would hate to see him loose around strangers."

That's the reason Chi-Chi must leave the county.

All School Board Candidates Favor Tax Program, See It as Vital for Community

All six candidates for the two open spots on Pontiac Board of Education favor the 10-year tax program being submitted to voters Monday.

The tax program would let the school board levy taxes of 6.25 mills over the 15-mill limit from 1955-1957 and 8.75 mills over the limit from 1958-1964.

Actually, the net increase would be only about 4.25 mills ($4.25 on each $1,000 worth of property as valued by Oakland County.) One voted 2-mill tax ends this year; another 2.5-mill voted tax ends in 1957.

The school board says the tax program would build some $9,000,000 worth of new schools—enough to contain Pontiac's enrollment, expected to hit 23,000 by 1964. There are about 16,000 youngsters in public schools here now.

School men say the tax also would raise enough money to keep the schools out of debt on day-to-day costs.

Vernon L. Schiller, school treasurer, says the Pontiac system is now $725,000 in the red on next year's budget.

Mrs. Paul A. (Matlyn) Brown, 384 Ditmar St., says she favors the tax increase. "Most parents want the best schools they can get for their children and are willing to pay for them," she said.

"It's only the unthinking citizen who's indifferent to what is done in the schools as long as he can keep taxes down. The value of residential real estate rises when schools are improved and modernized."

Dr. Walter L. Godsell, 307 W. Huron St., supports the tax increase, too.

"Nobody likes taxes," he said. "But this money is definitely needed. We trust the amount specified is right.

"If the increase isn't approved it will mean half-day sessions, cutting down instruction time and leaving our children more free time — and this could possibly mean more juvenile delinquency."

Mrs. Harry (Lola B.) King, 98 S. Shirley Ave., running for re-election, was one of the school board members who planned the tax program.

"Due to an unprecedented increase in school enrollment," she said, "our school district faces many problems. It needs more buildings, more equipment, more teachers. Our bonded debt incurred in 1932 will be completely paid this year."

Dr. Leonard F. Klausmeyer, 230 Chippewa Rd., says he favors the tax increase because "Pontiac schools face the same problems as schools all over America — a shortage of teachers and schoolrooms and an added number of students.

"We as a community should be happy to support our schools with taxes that will perpetuate a basic American heritage — the public school system."

Paul Simmons, 45 Lorraine Ct., says he intends to vote for the tax increase "although it may be a little extreme in not allowing enough for increased property assessments. But these problems are here—we must do something and do it right away."

Everett C. Spurlock, 257 Crystal Lake Rd., points out that "anytime you want something done and done right it costs money.

"Buildings are only a part of the need," he said. "Salaries must be high enough so we can meet the competition of neighboring cities in getting competent teachers.

"Nothing we can do holds more hope for the future than the thought, time and money spent preparing our young people for sane and useful living."

Faulty Chimneys Rebuilt in Pembroke Manor Allay Residents' Fears of Fire

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM—Residents in the Pembrook Manor subdivision can rest more easily now over fear of fires, according to City Building Inspector T. C. Brien and Fire Chief Vernon W. Griffith.

Chimneys found to be defective in 43 homes there have been rebuilt by the contractors and are probably better constructed than most, the city officials agreed.

Faulty masonry work was discovered last November, when fire broke out in a Pembroke road residence and was traced to poor brick construction around the chimney flue liner.

Of 270 homes built by contractors Harry Green and Harry Jacobs, 108 were inspected by the city with permission of the homeowners, and 43 found to have defective chimneys. Certain characteristics showed that the same mason had built all 43.

The Michigan Corporation and Securities Commission held up issurance of 16 licenses of the builders until work was completed, Brien said.

He added that the work of a second mason, "who probably built about 30 chimneys," was also being checked. His work was only "sloppy," Brien said, but the other worker had literally thrown bricks around the flue liner, letting flames escape to ignite insulation.

As a precaution, builders here are now required to leave insulation off until chimneys are inspected, he stated.

Demands Stripping of M'Carthy Power investigations subcommittee while it is taking testimony on his dispute with Army officials. The investigations group is a subcommittee of the Government Operations Committee, which McCarthy still heads.

• • •

Flanders quoted the following from the 1952 subcommittee's formal report:

"Such action on the part of Sen. McCarthy (in not testifying) might appear to reflect a disdain and contempt for the rules and wishes of the entire Senate body, as well as the membership of the subcommittee on Privileges and Elections."

• • •

Flanders then said:

"It is surely clear that the junior senator from Wisconsin treated the members of the subcommittee, Messrs. Hennings (D-Mo), Hayden (D-Ariz) and Hendrickson (R-NJ), with contempt. The Senate, on April 10, 1952, by a 60 to 0 vote, confirmed the integrity of the members of the subcommittee and its jurisdiction to investigate the matters involved. Therefore, the original contempt of the junior senator from Wisconsin extended to the whole Senate."

Flanders presented the Senate with a formal motion and asked that it lie on the table until sufficient time has been given for the senator to purge himself of contempt by answering specifically and in detail the charges in the numerous questions" raised by the Hennings subcommittee.

The motion read:

"It is moved that Sen. McCarthy be separated from the chairmanship of the Senate Committee on Government Operations and furthermore be prohibited from being chairman or vice chairman of any subcommittee thereof."

Flanders read the Senate these questions raised by the 1952 report:

"Whether, under the circumstances, it was proper for Sen. McCarthy to receive $10,000 from the Lustron Corp."

• • •

"Whether funds supplied to Sen. McCarthy to fight communism or for other specific purposes were diverted to his own use.

"Whether Sen. McCarthy used close associates and members of his family to secrete receipts, income, commodity and stock speculation and other financial transactions for ulterior motives.

"Whether Sen. McCarthy's activities on behalf of certain special interest groups, such as housing, sugar and china, were motivated by self-interest.

• • •

"Whether loan or other transactions Sen. McCarthy had with the Appleton (Wis) State bank or others involved violations of the tax and banking laws.

"Whether Sen. McCarthy violated federal and state corrupt practice acts in connection with his 1944-46 senatorial campaigns or in connection with his dealings with Ray Kiermas" (McCarthy's administrative assistant).

"It is no defense to call the charges a 'smear.' A smear is a most annoying thing and one which is perhaps (I would not speak definitely) not unknown to the junior senator from Wisconsin. But there is this about a smear. It can be removed by a dry cleaning process which involves a vigorous application of the truth. That process, the senator was unwilling to apply. The smear remains.

In bringing the note to McCarthy this morning, Flanders was observing an unwritten Senate rule.

Fireworks Ruling in Pontiac OKs Sale of Sparklers

A 25-year-old fireworks ordinance was repealed by Pontiac City Commission last night and a new one adopted providing for the sale of sparklers and caps by merchants who pay a $5 license fee.

The old city law legalized the sale of all kinds of fireworks under a $10 license, but had not been valid since a state law banned everything but sparklers and caps about 15 years ago, according to City Attorney William A. Ewart.

"We've been operating under the state requirements," said Ewart, "but this ordinace puts us officially in line with it." Permits for fireworks displays at carnivals, fairs and festivals are obtainable with permission of the fire marshal, he added.

bizarre elements. The ransom note was placed in the side pocket of Smith's golf bag, which was left at a desert service station. A note of instructions on payment of the ransom was delivered to Smith's home in a bouquet of roses. Two other notes were left under piles of rocks which designate mining claim boundaries. The ransom note warned one of these sites was mined with dynamite.

Mrs. Smith, sunburned and frightened but otherwise in good condition, gave officers this statement upon reaching her home:

When she came out of the beauty parlor at 1 p.m. Wednesday a strange man with a gun was hiding in her car. She said she screamed, honked the horn and struggled but didn't attract any attention.

The man drove to the Salt River and put her in the car trunk. She was let out when they reached the mountains.

Smith's first information that his wife had been kidnaped came in a telephone call to his office at 4:40 p.m. Wednesday. A man's voice told him:

"Know where Apache Junction is? You can pick up your golf clubs at the Chevron service station, Ed's Place," one-half mile from there. You will find a note."

• • •

Smith said his clubs had been in the trunk of his wife's car. He telephoned home, learned his wife was not there and notified police.

The ransom note told Smith to go to Apache Junction, 32 miles east of Phoenix, at 2 p.m. yesterday and telephone his home for instructions. When he called, the instructions in the bouquet note were given him.

Smith told officers he drove as directed and found a note under a rock monument at the highway's edge, 8½ miles southeast of the junction. It directed him up a dirt road to another pile of rocks. There he found another note which told him to get out and walk and take the money with him.

• • •

Smith said that after walking about four miles he heard his wife scream. As he dropped the valise containing the money and started toward his wife, a masked man jumped up and sent a rifle shot whistling over his head.

Smith drove his wife home.

Until word of Mrs. Smith's safety was received, newspapers, news services and radio stations had cooperated with a police and FBI request that they remain silent about the kidnaping for fear an alarmed abductor might kill his captive.

Born in Elida, Ohio, March 14, 1892, he was the son of David and Ina Dunn Speer. He married Bernice Dickman here Aug. 15, 1925.

He was employed as an electric welder at Fisher Body Division.

He was a veteran of World War I and a member of the Eagles Lodge.

Besides his widow he is survived by a son and two daughters, Floyd Jr. of Waterford, Beverly and June at home; three brothers, Charles of Toledo, John and Harry of Pontiac.

Funeral will be Monday at 11 a.m. from the Farmer-Snover Funeral Home. The Rev. Wright Van-Plew of Waterford Community Church will officiate and burial will be in Lakeview Cemetery. There will be a military service at the grave.

Clarence Teed

Funeral for Clarence Teed, 53, of 1371 Pierce St., Birmingham, an employe of GMC Truck and Coach Division here, will be Saturday at 10 a.m. in St. Monica Catholic Church. Vaughan and Lyndon in Detroit. Rosary will be recited tonight at 9 in the Van-Valkenburg Funeral Home, Redford.

Born in Denver, Colo., Nov. 28, 1900, he was the son of Charles M. and Mary Boyle Teed. He died Thursday in Harper Hospital, Detroit.

Surviving are his widow, Mildred; a son, Robert, and a daughter, Mrs. Patricia Anderson, both of Detroit, and two grandchildren.

Clair L. Taylor Elected

DES MOINES (AP) — Adel F. Throckmorton, state superintendent of public education for Kansas at Topeka, was elected Thursday as president of the Central States Conference of State Departments of Education. Clair L. Taylor, of Lansing, was named vice-president.

Named Alumni Officer

BIRMINGHAM—Mrs. Lewis Sappington of 487 Arlington, a member of the Birmingham Board of Education, was elected second vice president of the Alumni Assn. of the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor yesterday. She will serve a one-year term.

Barrett Confirms His Withdrawal

"Although my name will appear on the ballot, I am no longer an active candidate for a place on the Pontiac Board of Education because of the demands of my law practice and the added fact that there are capable, qualified candidates for the two positions to be filled.

"I wish to thank those who have given me their interest and support, and hope that at a subsequent time I will find it possible again to be a candidate for the school board.

"I favor the proposed 10-year school financing plan, and hope that the voters will approve it at the polls next Monday."

Willman's Mother Dies in Negaunee

Pontiac City Manager Walter K. Willman and his wife are en route to Negaunee today after being notified of the death of Willman's mother, Mrs. A. F. Willman, late last night, according to Pontiac Mayor William W. Donaldson.

Mrs. Willman (Mary S.) was 79. Besides her husband and the city manager, she is survived by another son, Frank of Minneapolis. The Koskey Funeral Home in Negaunee is handling arrangements for the service which will be either Sunday or Monday from the St. John Episcopal Church.

Donaldson said flowers will be sent by the Pontiac City Commission, city department heads and municipal employes.

2 Youths Plead Guilty to Charge of Larceny

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Two 18-year-olds, Jackie D. Bruce of 4179 Meyers, Drayton Plains and Edgar M. Baker of 3395 Mill, Auburn Heights, pleaded guilty to charges of simple larceny when they appeared before Justice A. J. Richardson yesterday.

Both youths were sentenced to 30-day terms in Oakland County Jail each after failing to pay $50 with costs, each.

The two were arrested early yesterday morning for taking gasoline from construction equipment at St. Hugo of the Hills Church, police said.

County Courthouse Called Fire Hazard

around." Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore pointed out. "They should be fireproof — they're not. Some flooring is terrazo; some is wood. We'll crowd ourselves right out of this building in another year."

County Clerk Lynn D. Allen pointed out that the "addition" part of the courthouse lies next to a paint-shop and steam press "and other possibe fire hazards. The windows in some vaults are protected by a curtain of 20-gauge steel," he said. "That wouldn't last long in any kind of a blaze."

Committee members bounded up and down on floors in the "addition." Horton said the joists have rotted out. He pointed to cracks in the basement's terrazo floors as "showing undue strain on the buildings supports."

The stairway to the boiler room is wood.

The floors of the annex are wood.

The courthouse attic, reached by a narrow, winding wooden stairway that opens out of a janitor's closet, holds a few more surprises.

Fifty-year-old electric wiring, installed in 1905, runs through the wooden beams and joists. Insulation on some of the wires is crystallized, Horton said, ready to fall away at a touch. Papers, boxes and other likely fuel were piled on wooden floors, where several pigeons had met unexplained, bloody deaths.

Horton and committeemen eyed the dry and drafty attic and sighed.

Charlotte Dress Shop Shows True Generosity

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — A man returned a dress, to a Charlotte shop saying that his wife had bought it for her mother who didn't like it. He got $15.

Later, the store checked the dress and found it was one of theirs. But it never had been paid for.

Democratic Commentary

WATERFURY, Conn. (UP)—The mayor, city clerk and controller of this Republican - dominated city were given permission by the council to use "facsimile signatures" on municipal checks. Democratic Minority Leader William H. Patton observed that "I might say that makes the Republicans rubber stamps, just as I always thought they were."

Artillery Seen Curb on Snow Avalanches

STEVENS PASS, Wash. (UP)—Tests conducted by the U. S. Forestry Service and Army cannoneers here revealed that the safest way to eliminate snow avalanches under certain conditions is to shoot them down before they become destructive forces capable of burying towns or sweeping away trains.

The Army gunners were given carefully selected targets by the Wenatchee district's forest ranger, H. E. Peters, director of the tests.

"We have to hit the critical points such as overhanging rocks, loaded snow banks, and special slopes," Peters said, pointing to Skylight Mountain.

"This is a good test site. A few hundred yards down that ridge, 108 people were killed when a slide hit three trains in 1910."

Either loose or packed snow can become a destroyer. The amount of water, the temperature, wind and cohesion between layers of snow are some of the factors that establish avalanche conditions.

All slides must be "triggered" or set off. Almost any pressure at the right time can do it — even a rabbit running across a snowbank.

Everyone Is Surprised

SALEM, Ore. (UP) — The surprise bridal shower for Mrs. Leroy Davis at Jefferson was indeed a surprise — for the party-givers. Someone forgot to make sure that the former Joyce Lettrell would be available. After guests arrived for the event, it was found that Mrs. Davis was in Seattle, visiting her Navy husband.

Turkey Gave U.S. Aid in 19th Century

ANKARA (AP) — Just before the outbreak of the U. S. Civil War Sultan Abdul Medjid of Turkey authorized the export of 2 male and 18 female Angora goats to the the United States. Angora goats are the source of mohair and Turkey's policy had been to prohibit shipment of the goats to protect the local mohair market.

Turkish sources say the 2½ million Angora goats found today in Texas, Oregon and other states are all descended from the original 20.

As a result, American mohair output is now the largest in the world. Turkey is second and the United States is one of the biggest buyers of Turkish mohair.

Turks refer to this as Turkish economic aid to America.

Club Members Support Fisher

Ask Statement Denying McCarthy 'Assault' Be Put in Hearing Record

NEWTON, Mass. (AP)—The Newton Republican Club fellow members of Frederick G. Fisher Jr.—who Sen. McCarthy mentioned in the Army-McCarthy row as a one-time member of "a Communist front organization"—asked today that their support of him be read into the record of the Washington hearing.

In a telegram to Sen. Mundt (R-SD), chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee, President Stanley S. Lewenberg of the club said his group wants to "bring the truth" to the attention of the committee.

* * *

McCarthy brought Fisher's name into the hearings when he told Welch he has "in his law firm a young man ... who has been a member of an organization which was named ... as the legal bulwark of the Communist party," the National Lawyers' Guild.

The telegram to Mundt said in part:

"We of the Newton Republican Club (of which Fisher was president two years, completing his second term last week) are deeply concerned by the unwarranted and unjustified character assault made upon him. ...

"We who have worked with Fred Fisher know first hand ... that he is neither un-American or would he have any sort of a subversive nature.

"We have found him to be ... a leader who throughout his two administrations as president has always inspired our membership by his honesty, integrity and complete lack of bias."

* * *

Fisher, in a statement yesterday, said he joined the Lawyers' Guild at a time when "many honorable and outstanding lawyers were also members of the Guild" and resigned in 1950 "because I disagreed with activites of the Guild."

Doctor Cancels All Debts to Celebrate Anniversary

CHICAGO (AP)—An 82-year-old Indiana doctor has canceled all medical debts of his patients in celebration of his 60th anniversary as a practicing physician.

Dr. Frank E. Wiedemann, who has practiced medicine in Terre Haute since 1894, said he wanted to share his anniversary celebration with his patients.

Secretary Hobby Would Expand Health Insurance

DETROIT (UP) — Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby said Thursday that most Americans want to pay their own way "in sickness as well as in health."

"Therefore," she said, "ways must be found to make more and better health insurance available to more people."

Mrs. Hobby, secretary of health, education and welfare, spoke before the National Association of State Insurance Commissioners. She said the administration's plan to expand private health insurance "is imperative if we are to have a strong and healthy America."

The program would set up a $25,000,000 fund to re-insure private health insurance companies against abnormal losses from broadened insurance coverage. She denied "flatly and definitely" that it would clear the way for federal regulation of the insurance industry.

The program "contains many safeguards to protect states' rights and the private insurance system," she said.

Riverdale Man, 22, Dies in Accident at Lakeview

LAKEVIEW (AP) — Wayne J. Vance, 22, of Riverdale, Gratiot County, was killed Thursday night in an auto accident on M. 46 three miles east of Lakeview.

Vance, an Army veteran, was a passenger in a car driven by Tom Richards, 22, of near Coral, officers said. The car skidded on a curve and overturned, throwing Vance out, they said.

Richards was taken to a hospital for examination and released.

new safe All-in-One Capsule Discovery for EASY REDUCING science now helps you take off your fat while you eat the foods you choose

Do you like sweets, cake, butter, gravy, potatoes? Have you tried one thing after another to reduce, spent dollar after dollar for pills and tablets and in spite of everything you've tried you're still too fat? Well, be as skeptical as you like, but NOW, right NOW, there's a wonderful new kind of capsule that helps you take off pounds and inches of ugly fat safely, quickly and so much easier you hardly know what's happening. You don't suffer starvation dieting hunger, you take no drugs, you don't exercise. In fact, you don't even diet one bit more than you want to, because you automatically eat less and here's why ...

Just recently a well known scientist perfected a new tiny capsule that combines not one by ALL THE RECOGNIZED proven aids to reducing. It combines the vitamins and minerals often lost when cutting off fattening foods containing these needed vitamins and minerals. It combines the vegetable cellulose that has no calories yet expands when it absorbs water thereby helping give the feeling of a full contented stomach. In fact these tiny capsules are so packed with vitamins and minerals, protein and non-caloric filling food, they actually equal and exceed many a meal.

fat goes first

You'll be surprised at the fat you lose the first week, the inches that disappear the first month. No hunger, no strict dieting, no drugs, no exercise. And the cost is absolutely nothing unless you grow more slim, more youthful looking, more active and enjoy better health.

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

FRIDAY, JUNE 11, 1954

James 'Tell All' Roosevelt

JIMMY ROOSEVELT was nominated.

What next?

It is doubtful whether any American citizen ever pleaded guilty to such a bald and atrocious declaration involving a dozen women.

★ ★ ★

Never before has any citizen, including those pronounced mentally deranged, fired so terrific a broadside at a "dozen friends." The Democratic party practically disowned him. He was a political outcast and derelict, tossed to the wolves for early consumption.

★ ★ ★

But JAMES had a different idea.
He figured the voters didn't care.
And he was right.

One of the most incredible elections in America shows JAMES ROOSEVELT the winner. The "tell all" boy was selected. He was the "preferred candidate" and won the nomination.

How low can California voters sink?

Record Franking Abuse

Besides nominating November election candidates, California's primary has focused attention again on abuse of the franking privilege.

A case brought to light by the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee seems to have set all time high records for the number of items franked and the cost to taxpayers.

Involved is an address inserted in the May 12 Congressional Record by Rep. Yorty, successful candidate for the Golden State's Democratic Senatorial nomination. In all Rep. Yorty had 4,108,500 copies of his address mailed free to voters to aid his campaign. The cost to taxpayers is reported to be $119,146.

★ ★ ★

Beyond the number of copies and the cost, there was nothing unusual about the speech. Under the title "Let's Build a Better America," Rep. YORTY denounced dictators and demagogues and urged more hospitals, better roads and education.

In other words, he was doing on a scale never before approached what most members of Congress do as a matter of almost daily routine. It is not surprising, therefore, that this case should bring renewed demands for an end of the franking privilege.

One suggestion is that it be replaced by adequate grants for postage to members of Congress. This automatically would limit the mail cost of each legislator. Here is a proposal calling for Congressional study.

Perspective on Steel

Because steel is basic in our economy and because there has been much misinterpretation of production figures, it is vital to keep this industry in proper perspective.

U. S. Steel Quarterly helps do this with a set of figures covering its production for the first three months of this year. In that period U. S. Steel's plants operated at 80.8 per cent of the January 1, 1954, capacity rating of 38,715,000 tons.

Actual production of steel ingots and castings in the first quarter totaled 7,713,675 net tons. It is important to note that this is equivalent to an output index of 112.3 if the average of the 1947-49 period is rated at 100.

Further revealing light is thrown on U. S. Steel's production by another comparison. Output in the first quarter was at a rate equivalent to 86 per cent of 1953's capacity rate and 92 per cent of the rate in 1951. Both of these were record years.

★ ★ ★

In short, the great steel industry and its leader, U. S. Steel, are doing very well despite talk to the contrary spread by the prophets of gloom.

Holland's Recovery

Of all the countries benefiting from U. S. foreign aid, none has been more prompt in expressing gratitude or more efficient in using that aid.

In order to show what Holland has done, the government has issued a report in booklet form titled "Road to Recovery." Reaching this country almost seven years to the day after Gen. MARSHALL announced his historic plan at Harvard, the book tells a remarkable tale of progress.

Since 1947, for instance, real income is up 40 per cent. Farm output has increased 60 per cent and industrial production, 75 per cent. Exports have tripled and Netherlanders now own twice as many automobiles as before the war.

For hundreds of years ocean shipping has been a vital factor in the Dutch economy. It still is, with the merchant marine expanded 15 per cent above 1940.

All these gains help explain how a country which suffered such disastrous floods in early 1953 could tell us a year ago that it no longer needs our aid.

THE reason candidates promise the voters impossible things is that the voters won't settle for less.

Bathing suit: What causes a beach to be called a seeshore.

In response to several inquiries for suggestions regarding a drive in the country over this weekend, most any Oakland County road offers nature at its best. This weekend promises to be a quiet one in highway travel, and is recommended as one of the best of the year. In spite of the recent rains, however, most of the gravel roads are dusty, and the black tops, off the trunk highways, are the best. A good rain will make most any road an excellent one to take. Get out among the hills and lakes and you'll be happy.

Pontiac, Rochester Parking Meter Laws Differ From Detroit's Regulations

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

I was watching a program called Traffic Court recently and this question came to mind.

Judge Watts stated that in Detroit it is illegal to remain in a metered parking spot after the time allotted runs out. You are not allowed to stay regardless of how many pennies or nickels you put in the meter thereafter.

I would like to know if anyone can enlighten me as to whether this is the law in Pontiac and Rochester? If it is, I'm sure lots of people would like to be informed about it.

Mrs. Shirley Holliday

Editor's note — Sgt. Scott of the Pontiac Police Department Traffic Bureau says that it is legal to remain in a metered spot in Pontiac if you put the required coin in the meter when your time runs out. The Rochester Police Department reports the same attitude.

According to a recent newspaper Mr. Churchill reportedly has told the cabinet that the American people are deeply opposed to entering the Indochina war at this time but that President Eisenhower probably can change the public thinking with two TV appeals.

I consider that an insult to the intelligence of the American people.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Psychologists Usually Teach Psychology; Psychiatrists Deal With Mental Disorders

When a boxer is knocked out, is he asleep? You wouldn't call him conscious, would you? And what about the hypnotized person?

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case L-329: Eileen G., aged 19, is a college freshman who recently asked me to conduct a forum on psychology.

"What is the difference between a psychologist and a psychiatrist?" Eileen began.

Many of you readers make the same inquiry. Actually, everybody uses psychology in his contacts with other human beings and might technically be called a psychologist.

But when we officially label a person a "psychologist" we usually refer to a teacher of that subject in high school or college. This college teacher generally has a Doctor of Philosophy (Ph. D.) degree.

A psychiatrist is always a physician with a Doctor of Medicine (M. D.) degree who deals with mental and nervous disorders.

"Then what is a psychoanalyst?" another coed asked. In some states like California, people set themselves up as "Psychoanalysts" and may have a neon sign in their front yard advertising their services.

Some may not possess even a high school diploma, but others may have an M. D. or a Ph. D. degree.

Professional counselors in America usually call themselves psychologists or psychiatrists in order to indicate their educational background.

You can't feel or touch or weigh a "soul" and a science needs to start with self-evident facts, like axioms in geometry.

So psychology was later defined as "the science of consciousness." And many of your household dictionaries still carry such a definition.

But that went out of style by World War I, for even "consciousness" is a slippery term. If you are called "conscious" while awake what are you when asleep?

"Then what about the boxer who has been knocked out in the ring?" I queried. "Is he the same as asleep? Can he awaken instantly at the sound of an alarm clock? Or, if it is chilly, will he reach down and try to pull up a blanket?"

She looked puzzled, and well she might, for the sleeper is partly conscious of his surroundings, which is why he doesn't roll out of bed or flop over against the wall when he reaches the far side.

Thus, psychologists distinguished between consciousness and co-consciousness, as well as unconsciousness and subconsciousness.

Now we define psychology as the "science of behavior." And that includes the behavior of children, as well as animals. It likewise covers buying and selling, as well as politics and love.

McCarthy's Vote Liberal Rather Than Isolationist

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—A natural question asked of anyone returning from abroad is: "What do Europeans think about the McCarthy controversy?"

It actually is far more a topic of conversation among Americans living in Europe than it is, for instance, among the citizens of Switzerland or France or Britain. Americans there divide about as they do in this country.

Most Europeans have exhibited relatively little concern about the issue of internal communism, even though Communists have been discovered in high places in the governments of some of our allies. Lately there have been some manifestations of a growing awareness of the menace.

But, basically, whatever interest there is in the McCarthy episode stems from a belief that the Wisconsin senator is unfriendly to international cooperation. Many of the press dispatches and editorials appearing in European newspapers refer to Sen. McCarthy as a "right-wing isolationist."

To Europeans, of course, an "isolationist" is one who doesn't want to send American troops to Europe or who doesn't want to appropriate money for economic or military aid abroad.

In Europe, they are far more interested in whether an American congressman is sympathetic to them on economic cooperation than on what he does on domestic issues within the United States.

In order to set the record straight on this point — which is susceptible of producing misunderstandings about the attitude of the American Congress toward Europe—this correspondent examined today the roll-call votes of Sen. McCarthy on international questions since he entered the Senate in 1947.

There is no evidence to justify the characterization of the Wisconsin senator as an "isolationist." In fact, the evidence—which may be a surprise to some readers—is just the other way. Here is the record of how Sen. McCarthy voted on significant roll calls:

1947—Voted for Greek-Turkish aid bill and against the Johnson amendment to strike from the measure the authorizations for military aid. Voted for the Senate authorization of $350 millions for foreign relief. Voted for ratification of the peace treaty with Italy.

1948—Voted for the European recovery bill. Was recorded as in favor of the Vandenberg foreign-policy resolution reaffirming faith in the United Nations and advocating voluntary limitation on the use of the veto in the Security Council and more effective efforts to limit armaments and to provide a world police force.

Voted for the Ferguson amendment to admit 200,000 instead of 150,000 displaced persons. Voted for revival of selective service law.

1949—Voted against the Taft-Russell amendment which would have cut by 10 per cent the authorization for spending by the ECA (Economic Cooperation Administration).

Voted for the North Atlantic Security Treaty and against the Taft-Wherry - Watkins reservation declaring that the same treaty was no commitment to arm Western Europe.

Voted against even more sweeping reservations proposed by Sen. Watkins, Republican, of Utah. Voted for foreign military aid bill. Voted against shelving the revision of the displaced persons act until 1950.

1950—Voted for a liberalized rather than a tightened law on the admission of displaced persons. Voted for $100 million loan to Spain.

1951—Voted for the resolution approving participation of U. S. land forces in the international army being formed in Western Europe and for the resolution requiring congressional approval for dispatch of additional troops.

Offered own amendment—adopted 48 to 41—suggesting revision of existing plans for defense of Europe to permit utilization of the military resources of Spain and Western Germany.

Voted for bill to make a two-million-ton wheat purchase by India as a loan. Voted against motions to cut U. S. armed forces fund to $55 billions.

1953. — Voted for McClellan amendment to use foreign aid to cut farm surpluses and against Goldwater amendment pressuring France to grant full self-government to states of Indochina.

Voted for legislation to admit 214,000 aliens during next three years, most of them refugees from behind Iron Curtain.

There have been no important record votes on international questions in the present session. The Wisconsin senator has made several speeches about embargoing all trade with Red China—an issue which is not confined to any party or political faction in the Senate.

If, however, voting records as a whole are to be classified as "isolationist" or "cooperationist," Sen. McCarthy cannot justly be characterized either by Europeans or Americans as in the "isolationist" category.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

International News Service

Final summation of the swivel-mounted evasion force was, "Would you strike a father with his lawyer in his arms?"

There was much to be said for both sides. And they said it.

The Democrats claim it was political suicide with self-inflicted question marks sharpened to a point of order.

The opposition insists it was a priming coat of rose-colored whitewash.

The entire hassel started innocently enough with the communication of communication secrets. An exchange espionage student had his portfolio padded with top radar memoranda. The defense along implacable party-lines was, "Since when has home-work been a crime?"

The morning and afternoon sessions constituted an infringement of indoor sidewalk superintending. We do not require two children's hours a day.

The top spot of the co-operative equivocating was when a filibustering attorney beat his tattersall vest and screamed, "This is a dagger pointed at the gizzards of give-away programs."

We still don't know who did what and to who. Or why.

A drum-head for two passes a week isn't much of an orchestra. They should have added a fife, glockenspiel and tenor sax. Back in 1918 we averaged one every 30 days.

It probably will finish in a blaze of indifference and evaporated glory. The top brass was polished to infinity.

There was only one problem to be settled for future serenity. Who opened the doors on the money house.

Right to Contradict or Reverse Himself Once Every Decade Reserved by Brady

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Reader claims a prize—complete set of Little Lessons in the Ways of Health—which she says I offered to any reader who catches me contradicting myself.

Within the past six months, according to the clippings from my own column the reader submits, I said my pa hammered horses—that is, he was a blacksmith—and another time I said he worked 12 hours a day seven days a week, for many years as guard at the crossing in Canandaigua.

Pa certainly hammered horses in Billing's blacksmith shop. I remember how sorry I felt for the horses when Pa drove nails right into their feet.

It was when I was about 5 or 6 years old that Pa sustained multiple fractures and never became rehabilitated enough to continue blacksmithing.

That's how he began working for the railroad—and studying history, biography, poetry and other subjects which were and, I'm afraid, still are beyond the depth of any of his sons.

The lady will receive in due course an autographed set of the complete works in token of my appreciation of her interest in this column, but I hereby reserve the right, I might even say the duty of contradicting myself every 10 years, at any rate.

It was not more than 30 years ago, I dare say, that I believed and taught that the clamp and cautery operation (atrocity) was the only effective treatment for hemorrhoids (piles).

And, being a—well, you know me—character I went further and said a doctor who purported to cure piles with painless, ambulant, office treatment was a charlatan.

Later I learned that I was grievously wrong, made my apologies to the doctor I had branded charlatan and backed up my apology by recommending him to many readers in his community who sought relief from internal piles.

• • •

External piles, probably more painful than internal piles (the bleeding kind), are not amenable to injection treatment, but a doctor who is skilled with the needle can cure external piles with surgery under local anesthesia in the office without interrupting the patient's ordinary work.

• • •

So, in the pamphlet You Need Not Have Piles, available on written and signed request if you provide stamped, self-addressed envelope, I do not say much that pleases the nineteenth century surgeons — a good many of whom still persuade victims to go to the hospital for the atrocious clamp and cautery "operation."

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed.

Highway Use Is Seen for Paper Mill Waste

MADISON, Wis. (UP) — A waste product from Wisconsin's paper mills may be used widely in the future to repair worn-out highways at low cost.

Prof. Lloyd F. Rader of the University of Wisconsin civil engineering department says tests have proved that sulphite liquor from paper mills actually will rehabilitate old roads. He said the technique of using the material is still in the experimental stage, however, and much work needs to be done.

Rader noted that the financial conditions of many local units of government makes economical rehabilitation of roads "a matter of importance."

Ions are atoms with one electron added or removed.

Certain Insecticides May Harm Cattle

CHICAGO (UP) — Farmers who use certain insecticides too freely may give their cattle mild cases of a one-time "mystery disease," according to a research team.

University of Wisconsin researchers, writing in the American Journal of Veterinary Research, reported that mineral seal oil, often used as an insecticide base, can produce symptoms of hyperkeratosis in calves.

They said dosages double the application recommended by the insecticide manufacturers were used in producing hyperkeratosis.

The disease usually causes the animal's skin to thicken and harden. It also causes loss of appetite, watering of the eye, sores on the mouth and tongue and, in extreme cases, death.

Bows, Arrows May Be Made From Fiberglas

HASTINGS (UP) — Archers may be doing their hunting this fall with glass bows and arrows.

A sports equipment firm, recently introduced bows made of fiberglas. Such arrows already are on the market, but production of bows has not yet started.

The bows and arrows are of a synthetic fiber made from tough glass filaments. The result is a material stronger than steel. It won't burn, stretch, rot, is moisture proof and a poor conductor of electricity.

Put $4 Billion in Mutuals

NEW YORK (INS) — Americans had more than $4 billion invested in 110 mutual fund organizations at the end of 1953, according to the National Association of Investment Companies.

Seagoing Setter Has Trouble Getting Adjusted

NEW LONDON, Conn. (UP) — One morning Red, an Irish setter, wandered up a tug's gangplank. He was discovered as the ship docked at New York. The tug's captain found out who owned the dog and returned him to New London by train.

First knitting machine was invented in 1589 by William Lee, a native of England. Power was applied to knitting machines for the first time in Albany, New York, in 1831.

Grammer Dies for Killing Wife

BALTIMORE (AP) — George Edward Grammer, once a prosperous New York businessman, dropped to his death from Maryland's gallows early today for the murder that was almost a "perfect crime."

The state accused Grammer of beating to death his 33-year-old wife on a sultry August night in 1952 so he could be free to marry a pretty United Nations secretary.

Grammer admitted he killed his wife, but he claimed he hadn't planned the crime.

* * *

The body of the mother of three little girls was found in an automobile, smashed by a wild, careening drive down a Baltimore hill.

Police found a pebble lodged beneath the accelerator to force it into an open position. Their alert discovery led to a trail of damning evidence and the 37-year-old New Yorker's ultimate conviction.

The burley, six-footer went to his death without a trace of emotion. He had a glass of milk and a bun for breakfast yesterday and passed up the traditional last meal.

* * *

The Rev. Benjamin Blubaugh, a Methodist minister, was with Grammer all day from 9 a.m. until shortly after midnight, when he accompanied the condemned man to the gallows.

In the execution chamber, a bleak room with a high ceiling, Grammer was stoic to the end.

He raised his head and closed his eyes as the hood was dropped over his face.

* * *

Two other death house inmates, Sylvester Madison and David Floyd, prayed aloud with two Catholic chaplains as Grammer stood on the death trap.

He made the drop of six feet and six inches at the end of the state's rope with their litany audible in the background.

There were signs of life from the husky 200-pounder for a full four minutes. He was pronounced dead 13 minutes after the final plunge.

* * *

Costello Denied Bail to Wait for Appeal

NEW YORK (AP)—The U.S. Court of Appeals has turned down gambler Frank Costello's plea for release on bail pending outcome of his appeal from his conviction for income tax evasion.

In a terse decision yesterday the court ruled "bail denied."

Costello, 61, has been held in the Federal House of Detention since being sentenced May 17 to five years in prison and a $30,000 fine for evading payments of $39,015 in taxes. His counsel appealed the sentence.

Costello has refused to answer questions about his assets in the government's effort to collect the $30,000 fine.

Reed City Resident, 93, Leaves 147 Descendants

Lawmaker Held for Receiving Stolen Jewelry

PARIS (AP)—The nemesis of France's brothels was having her own troubles with the law today.

Marthe Richard, 64, former member of the Paris City Council, was in police custody charged with receiving stolen jewels. She reportedly insisted that she bought at least two of the disputed items from a jeweler.

Mrs. Richard, a member of the French underground in both World Wars, gained wide attention eight years ago when she put a bill through the Council closing the city's licensed houses of prostitution. The French Assembly later applied the law to the whole country.

Laniel Position Remains Shaky

Premier Tries to Gain Support for Confidence Vote Tomorrow

PARIS (INS) — The position of France's 17th postwar government remained perilous today as Premier Joseph Laniel continued his efforts to gain Assembly support to survive tomorrow's vote of confidence.

The various parliamentary groups were expected to reach their final decisions before nightfall on how they will cast their ballots.

Laniel requested the confidence ballot early yesterday following rejection by the critical deputies of a government test motion affecting its Indochina policy.

Most political observers were agreed that a government crisis would be extremely difficult to avoid.

If the moderate, pro-American Laniel cabinet should fall, a long and hard-to-solve crisis was predicted. France was without a government for 5½ weeks last year before Laniel was approved as Premier on June 30.

Several Parisian papers pointed out editorially that although the policies of Laniel and his foreign minister, Georges Bidault, have been criticized severely, no concrete substitute policies have been proposed.

Press comment also noted that no other governmental team seems to have a chance to win investiture by the fragmented Assembly.

Rose Writes City News to Army Pal, Asks One Little Favor in Return

By BILLY ROSE

Pfc. Samuel Collins
U. S. Army Detachment
Keflavik, Iceland

Dear Sammy:

When you were drafted, you said there was no telling where the Army would send you after your basic training. But who would have thought my assistant stage manager would wind up a polar bear's slither from the top of the world.

• • •

In your letter to me, you tell me how dull the nights are in Keflavik, how much you miss the gang at Sardi's, and what a morale booster it would be if I were to write you once in a while and let you know what's cooking on Times Square.

BILLY ROSE

• • •

Well, Sammy, to level with you, things are pretty quiet these days. There figures to be some excitement, however, when the new season gets going.

For instance, the other night I attended a private showing of a blockbuster of a movie called "One the Waterfront." It stars that big hunk of morbid muscle named Marlon Brando.

I don't care how many couches he hits and how many contracts he breaks—this Brando sure can act. And in Waterfront, playing an unreconstructed dockwalloper, he turns in one of the most hackle-heisting performances I've ever seen.

Waterfront is a down-to-business story about labor and larceny on the New York docks, but don't let that scarce you away when the picture opens at Loew's Reykjavik.

While it's something of a social document, it explodes all over the screen like an Eniwetok firecracker. And in case I haven't made myself clear, I liked it. . . .

Another show that hit me right between the myopics recently opened to big business, not in a theater but in a museum. I'm referring to the retrospective exhibit of the sculptor Jacques Lipchitz at the Museum of Modern Art on West 53rd Street.

There are almost 130 examples of Lipchitz' work on dispay, covering more than 40 years of his career, and the overall effect is approximately that of a sledge hammer.

It's like seeing a pyramid for the first time, or walking into that room at the Prado where there are 27 El Grecos.

The Lipchitz show will close Aug. 1, but don't brood about it, Sammy. You'll have plenty of chance to see his statuary when you come back. Bronze, I'm told, lasts almost as long as a Rodgers and Hammerstein show. . . .

• • •

The only other bit of gab-gab I can think of has to do with our old friends, the drama critics.

Some 60 weeks ago, as you know, "Can-Can" opened at the Shubert theater to a chorus of critical so-whats.

Then, a few months later, another musical, "Kismet," opened at the Ziegfeld to mixed notices—which, to filch a phrase from George S. Kaufman, means good and lousy.

The public, it turns out, hasn't paid the slightest bit of mind to the tin-ear brigade which failed to recognize that both shows were studded with hit songs. Can-Can hasn't had an empty seat since it opened, and Kismet has averaged better than $55,000 a week.

In view of this, it begins to look as if certain of our critics—estimable gentlemen though they be—have disenfranchised themselves when it comes to judging musicals. . . .

That's all for now, Sammy. You'll be hearing from me from time to time about the happenings on Megalomania Mews.

In return, there's one little favor I'd like to ask. If the skies up your way ever fill up with airplanes with red stars on their bellies, call me collect.

Yours, etc.,
BILLY ROSE.

New Hospital Will Let Patients Sleep Later

LOS ANGELES (UP) — A hospital where patients can really sleep without being awakened for morning baths or thermometer readings is in the planning stage, according to David Dorin, executive vice president of the Southern California Hospital Fund.

Dorin said the proposed $2,000,000 Los Angeles Memorial Hospital would run on a "let-them-sleep" policy.

"Patients need rest or they wouldn't be in hospitals," he said.

Seek Loopholes in Race Ruling

15 Southern Attorneys May Meet to Thwart Anti-Segregation Ban

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—The attorneys general of the Southern states may meet this summer in an effort to find legal loopholes that would permit the states to continue their traditional system of racial segregation in the public schools.

A suggestion for such a meeting was just about the most tangible thing that emerged from yesterday's 15-state, closed-door conference on problems resulting from the Supreme Court's decision against separation of the races in schools.

Most of the states indicated they will not file briefs, as the Supreme Court invited them to do, before the court issues its final decree. Georgia's Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook told reporters at the conclusion of the five-hour conference.

Governors of nine states and legal and educational representatives of six other states attended the meeting, which was initiated by Virginia's Gov. Thomas B. Stanley. At the conclusion of the meeting Stanley read to newsmen this statement:

"It is recognized that the problems are ones requiring the decision of individual states and that a meeting of this kind can only be helpful in the exchange of information. The gravity of the situation in many of the states was emphasized but no conclusions were reached and no group course of action was proposed.

"The governor of West Virginia, along with personal representatives of Maryland and Kentucky, stated they were not confronted with as serious a problem as some of the Southern states, and that it was their intention to conform with the decision of the court.

"The other states represented eight by their governors, found more of a problem. The conference was most helpful and it has been suggested that the attorneys general consider holding a later meeting to discuss the situation in more detail from the legal viewpoint."

Coeds to Lead Cheering at Future MSC Games

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State College will have girl cheerleaders next year — on a one-year probationary tryout.

The decision, earlier advocated by student groups, was approved by the Athletic Council.

The girls were told they could gyrate only at home games and must buy their own uniforms. There will be four regulars and two alternates chosen in the fall to work with the male cheerleaders.

Scientists Solve Windshield Pits

Accumulation of Marks Plus Increased Public Interest Blamed

SEATTLE (AP)—Take a long-time accumulation of pockmarks in your windshield, mix well with sudden public interest in the matter and you have the probable recipe for this spring's windshield-pitting epidemic, two University of Washington scientists reported today.

The recipe was the result of an intensive investigation into every reported possible cause of the pitting—from sandflea eggs to the H-bomb—conducted by Harley H. Bovee, a research chemist, and Ross N. Kusian, director of the university's Environmental Research Laboratory.

The sandflea eggs and H-bombs were ruled out quickly in the deadpan report.

* * *

The facts, the scientists said, support only a "normal road damage theory." They based this on these findings:

1. The windshield damage is virtually all of an "impact" type, caused by some hard object striking the glass with sufficient force to chip, pit or crack it.

2. Small black spheres about the size of a pinhead found on car windshields and elsewhere "are a unique type of unburned fuel known as "cenospheres." These, the report said, result from improper combustion of small particles of bituminous coal and are "incapable of pitting windshields by impact or otherwise."

* * *

3. The windshield pits cannot be duplicated in the laboratory or under controlled field conditions by any means other than impact.

4. "Although there is a considerable body of testimony from reputable witnesses to the effect that windshields were pitted by some mysterious cause in the space of a few minutes or hours during the "epidemic," it has not been possible to substantiate a single one of these statements by scientific observation. Actually, the observed facts tend to contradict such statements."

"The large number of reports were then due to people looking closely at their windshields for the first time," the scientists said.

Chemical Explosion Claims 2nd Victim

DETROIT (UP) — A mysterious blast which shook the Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing Co. plant in suburban Wyandotte claimed its second victim Thursday when Francis Murphy died in Wyandotte General Hospital.

Murphy, 44, of Wyandotte, died about 24 hours after the explosion. He was superintendent of manufacturing at the plant.

The first victim, Ray Mehling, 30, Taylor Twp., died five hours after the Wednesday night blast.

J. T. Gormally, superintendent of industrial relations, said the exact cause of the explosion still was not known. He said the blast occurred while a new process for removing dust from detergents was being used in production for the first time.

Board Hearing 'Security Risk'

Character Witnesses Try to Stop Dismissal of Arsenal Worker

DETROIT (AP)— John W. Lupa, 41, presented a series of character witnesses today in appealing before a Fifth Army security board his dismissal from a government job as "a security risk."

Lupa, a former machinist at the Detroit Tank Arsenal, presented his first character witnesses Thursday at the secrecy-cloaked hearing. Newsmen and the public were kept half a mile away from the normally unused arsenal building where the hearing is being conducted.

Lupa's attorney told newsmen that Marvin F. Heinz, of Detroit, testified that Lupa was "A free-thinking Democrat whose trouble stems from the fact that he is outspoken and blunt."

William L Sanders, the attorney, quoted Curt Murdock and Mrs. Constance Heinz, Detroit friends of Lupa, as testifying there was nothing in Lupa's thinking that could be termed "subversive."

A veteran of 18 years service in the Army and Navy, Lupa said his dismissal notice accused him of having been a member of the Socialist Workers Party. He denied it.

The party is on the U. S. Attorney General's list of subversive organizations, but it is a legal political party in Michigan.

Sanders said that Samuel H. Bluethe, attorney for the hearing board, admitted that charges against Lupa contained an error.

Sanders said Lupa was accused of associating with Ernest Mazey, national committeeman of the Socialist Workers Party, from 1933 to 1940, but that Lupa did not come to Detroit until 1937 and could not have associated with Mazey before that date.

Saners argued, without success, that the error indicated all accusations against Lupa were inaccurate and made without proper investigation. Bluethe argues the error was a typographical one.

Methodists Hold Annual Confab

Detroit District Church Urges Political Action Committees

DETROIT (INS) — Delegates to the 113th annual conference of the Detroit District Methodist Church today were urged to form political action committees in 650 Michigan churches.

A report to be voted upon today recommended that the conference establish committees to inform church members about the opinions and voting records of candidates on such issues as foreign policy, congressional investigations, civil liberties, employment, and the United Nations.

Also to be decided will be other issues, including support for the guaranteed annual wage for auto workers, alcoholic beverages and the H-bomb and A-bomb question.

Congressional investigations were attacked in the recommendation, which said:

"Senator McCarthy and his like-minded co-workers including Congressman Kit Clardy of Michigan, have assumed the position of divinely appointed guardians of mens' consciences, patriotism, and thoughts.

"As such, they destroy the judicial principles of trial by jury, legal counsel for the defendants, and the right to cross-examine one's accusers."

F86 Crashes Near Oscoda, Pilot Killed

OSCODA (UP) — An Air Force pilot killed when his F86 fighter plane crashed and exploded five miles southwest of the Wurtsmith Air Force Base was identified today as Lt. Mario Pastorino, of Long Island, N. Y.

The Air Force said Pastorino, who was unmarried and attached to the 63rd Fighter Squadron based at Oscoda, had taken off Thursday on a routine training flight.

Pastorino apparently tried to guide the plane to a clearing when it developed engine trouble but it exploded when it hit the ground.

Graduates Hear Reuther Speak

CIO President Urges Americans to Provide Moral Leadership

XENIA, Ohio (UP) — CIO President Walter P. Reuther called on Americans Thursday to "provide moral leadership in the world."

The labor leader addressed 1,200 persons at the 96th Wilberforce University commencement, where he was granted an honorary degree of Doctor of Humanites.

"Peace is the only adequate defense against the hydrogen bomb, and to win peace, we've got to dedicate ourselves to making the better things of life available to people all over the world," Reuther said.

"We've got to provide moral leadership in the world. What good are all our material resources unless these material resources are devoted to a moral purpose?

"Our task is not only to stand before the world as a great and rich country, but we must stand before te world as a great and moral power, and use that moral power in the interest of the whole human race."

"There is more Jim Crowism and discrimination on Sunday mornings in America than on any other day in the week. Christianity is not just something you believe in, but something you must practice seven days a week."

Eden, Molotov to Talk Privately

To Seek Solution for Deadlock Threatening Indochina Parley

GENEVA (AP) — British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov planned to meet privately today or tomorrow to decide what to do next about the deadlock threatening the Indochina peace talks.

Eden suggested the meeting yesterday after admitting that the nine-party parley might as well concede failure and go home unless it can narrow East-West differences without further delay.

There appeared to be no evidence that either side would make the concessions required for agreement.

* * *

One highly important Western diplomat said: "The failure of the conference certainly seems to be within sight."

Awaiting the outcome of the Eden-Molotov meetings, the Indochina talks were in recess. The two diplomats are the chairmen of the conference.

A meeting of the 19-nation Korean conference, however, was set for this afternoon. This, too, is deadlocked and Western diplomats already have written it off as hopeless.

* * *

The Eden-Molotov discussions were expected to consider three possibilities:

1. That the talks should continue in semi-public meetings, such as those of the past three days, which allow the fullest publicity to the proceedings.

2. That the negotiations should be carried on in secret, with all parties formally bound to withhold information from the press. The conference has held a dozen such meetings but information has always leaked out.

3. That the conference should arrange talks by smaller groups or by two or more representatives, such as the meetings now going on between the representatives of the two military commands in the Indochina War.

* * *

This latter alternative was mentioned by a British spokesman. He said he was sure Eden had this in mind when, in his speech to the conference yesterday, he said Britain still was willing to attempt to resolve East-West differences "here or in restricted session, or by any other method which our colleagues may prefer."

False Road Sign Snares Tourists in North Carolina

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—Unidentified persons apparently want tourists to go through the town of Rockingham. They manage this by erecting signs similar to official signs at the intersection of a detour route and a road leading to Rockingham.

The signs herald the route as a shortcut back to U. S. 1—but it just isn't so.

The result: tourists wander all over.

The signs, which highway forces remove only to see reappear, are placed just off the right-of-way.

The State Highway Commission chairman says the commission can't do a thing about it. The signs aren't on state property.

Struck Bus Drivers to Vote on Contract

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Members of the AFL Motor Coach Employes Union and directors of the Indianapolis transit system vote today on an agreement which would end a six-week-old transportation strike.

Negotiators for both sides recommended acceptance yesterday. They withheld the terms of the agreement pending acceptance.

The strike of 800 bus and trolley operators, May 1, left a metropolitan area of more than half a million persons without any mass transportation except taxicabs.

The union struck over its demand for a 15-cent hourly wage increase. The company said it could not afford to pay any increase, and it refused to submit the dispute to arbitration because of this position.

Representatives to Confer

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP) — An official four-man Indonesian delegation will arrive June 20 to discuss with the Dutch government the liquidation of their 4½ year-old loosely linked union, the Dutch Foreign Ministry reports.

Ike to Vacation in Denver

DENVER (AP) — A Lowry Air Force Base spokesman says President Eisenhower will vacation in Denver this summer, just as he has the last two years.

Group to Elect Officers Sunday

Cass Lake - Highlands Association Schedules Annual Meeting

CASS LAKE — Cass Lake-Highlands Improvement Association will hold its annual meeting and election of officers Sunday at the home of Howard C. Mudge, 1321 Grinnell.

The meeting will begin at 2 p.m.

Many improvements are being sought for the subdivision including some form of cooperation in operation of boats. The number of boats has reached the problem stage, association members say.

Representatives from other subdivisions are expected to be present and a plan of cooperation instituted.

Gary Follows Bing's Footsteps Into the Spotlight

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Does it help or hinder to inherit a great name in show business? Gary Crosby is finding out it works both ways.

The husky son of Bing Crosby is launching his show business career this week. He has previously made eight records and 10 broadcasts with his father. Now he is doing his first regular job—taking over his father's radio show for the summer.

Gary, who comes of voting age June 27, faced his first press conference yesterday with an aplomb that few young men of his years possess. On the brink of his new career, he said he hoped he could become as great a singer as his father.

• • •

"Dad and his producer, Bill Morrow, came to me with the idea of taking over the show for the summer," Gary said. "I snapped at the idea. I want to have a career in show business and this seemed like a good way to begin."

Unlike his father, who worked his way up from playing drums and singing with bands, Gary gets to start at the top. He will have Bing's producers-writers, Morrow and Murdo Mackenzie, and his long time announcer Ken Carpenter.

Mother Is Held in Beating Case

Neighbor Calls Police; Tot, With Blood Clot, in Receiving Hospital

DETROIT (AP) — A 20-year-old mother, acquitted a month ago of brutally beating her 3½-year-old son, was held by police today for investigation of a similar charge.

The mother is Mrs. Rosemary Pietrandrea.

The son is Joseph Pietrandrea. He is in Receiving Hospital recovering from injuries and an operation to remove a blood clot from his head.

Policewoman Warna Roberts said the boy was injured Monday night and that his mother had been attempting to treat him with ice packs. Bth his eyes still were black when he was taken to a hospital Wednesday.

Policewoman Roberts said the boy told her his mother beat him because "I wet my bed and spilled some milk." A neighbor called police.

The mother told her, the policewoman said, that she had spanked the boy for spilling milk and that he had pulled away, striking his head against a wall. A fall downstairs, the mother said, caused other injuries.

Physicians said the boy's injuries could not have resulted from a fall and that he appeared to have been struck "literally hundreds of blows."

Growth Becoming Evident

White Lake and Highland Townships Feel Effects of County Development

(This is the 14th in a series of articles describing population and industrial growth of communities in Oakland and adjoining counties.)

By HARRY J. REED

The west-county townships of Highland and White Lake have not escaped the influx of residents currently moving into Oakland County.

Although the large areas of land scarred by heavy equipment, and the hundreds of white stakes dividing future building sites are lacking, there has been substantial growth in both townships.

OLDENBURG

"We had about 35 homes built here last year," Highland Township Supervisor Louis F. Oldenburg relates, "but no industrial growth." He estimates the 1950 population of 2,944 has increased to approximately 3,500.

Currently under construction is a 56-lot subdivision off Milford road, Highland Gardens, which will be ranch type homes. Another development is scheduled for Harvey Lake road, around upper Pettibone and Leonard lakes.

The assessed value of the township has increased $143,000 from the 1950 figure, and now totals $2,291,565.

"I expect to see the growth really set in here. We've not yet received the expansion which has hit other areas," the supervisor stated.

In a good position to see the increase is butcher Bob Myers, manager of a Highland market for the past three years. "Our business has increased 100 per cent since 1950, and I think that in the next 10 years, it will be like a small city around here," he said.

Although no industry has yet chosen a township site on which to relocate, the Detroit Edison Co., which often assists firms to find desirable locations, was studying the area recently.

Supervisor Oldenburg feels that as long as the township doesn't have a zoning ordinance, no industry will take a gamble on the area. Voters turned down a zoning law at a special election last August.

JOY

Increased business of building supplies store-owner Donald Hoy is another measure of the community expansion. "With the development we're getting, I think the zoning ordinance will come up again to preserve property values and eliminate poor construction," he said.

The anticipated extension of Northwestern highway is expected to aid the local growth, according to Hoy. "I think we'll double in population during the next five years," he estimated.

President of the newly formed Chamber of Commerce, and co-owner of Highland Golf and Country Club, Leslie Oberlin also checks the increased building locally. He lists Axford Acres, a 200-home development on the west side of Duck Lake, as another new project.

"What we need, however, is some industry, and we're working now to prepare some industrial sites," he added.

BRENDEL

The current building rate is three times faster than construction in 1950, Township Supervisor Forest I. Brendel reports. Sixty-five residences were built during 1953.

The east side of the township seems to be bearing the more rapid building, especially around Oxbow Lake and Pontiac Lake, says Brendel, now in his twentieth year as supervisor.

To date the large, row-upon-row type of subdivisions common to other rapidly developing areas have not appeared in White Lake Township. There has been slight commercial development along M59, but large industry and its welcome addition to the tax base, has yet to arrive.

Draining of marshes on the south side of Brendel Lake has been going on 24 hours a day, six days a week, for some time, to prepare the land for building there.

Bond Is Continued for Eviction Rioter

LAPEER — A motion to continue bond for Floyd Schriber, convicted of obstructing justice in an eviction riot, has been filed in Circuit Court here pending Schriber's filing for a rehearing on his application for appeal in Michigan Supreme Court.

Schriber was convicted of the charge in resisting Sheriff Clark Gregory when officers attempted to evict Mrs. Elizabeth Stevens from her farm home in 1952.

The Supreme Court refused to hear Schriber's appeal Wednesday.

Judge Timothy C. Quinn is expected to rule Monday on whether Schriber will be allowed to seek another hearing on his appeal.

Avondale Folks Rally 'Round for Painting Bee

AVONDALE — Civic-spirited citizens in this community are rounding up buckets of paint, brushes and volunteer brush-wielders today in preparation for tomorrow's painting bee at the Avondale Community Building and fire hall.

Sparking the painting jamboree are the Avondale Community Forum and the volunteer fire department. Housed inside the new building is a brand-new fire engine and the sponsors, wanting the building to match the truck in bright appearance, hit upon the paint-up plan.

A glace at figures from the recently completed school census shows the problem of supt. of Dublin School, W. H. Vander Ven. In 1953 there were 411 children under five years of age, and 818 between five and nineteen.

VANDER VEN

The 1954 school census shows 464 in the pre-school age, and 871 in the second bracket. "We have 699 pupils in our school now, which was added to in 1949 and 1952," Vander Ven says.

Futher expansion is being contemplated, he added, as further growth of the community becomes obvious in the near future.

3 Seek 2 Posts on School Board

Walled Lake Residents Vote Also on Special Education Act

WALLED LAKE — Three candidates, including the incumbent and a former member, will be contending for two three - year terms on the Board of Education in the annual school election here Monday.

Seeking re-election to the school board will be Dwight L. Wiseman, the incumbent. Other candidates are Robert H. Shores, a former member of the school board, and Edward Paige.

Also on Monday's ballot will be other questions.

Voters will decide on whether the county school district of Oakland County will come under provisions of the Special Education Act which is designed to encourage the education of handicapped children.

Also to be decided is whether the limitation on the total amount of taxes which may be assessed each year against property in the county school district shall be increased by 50 cents per $1,000 for carrying out the Special Education Act.

This includes taxes assessed for all purposes but payment of interest and principal on obligations incurred prior to Dec. 8, 1932.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. at five precincts. Precincts are No. 1 at Walled Lake High School, No. 2 at Union Lake School, No. 3 at Commerce School, No. 4 at Wixom School and No. 5 at Glengary School.

Seymour Lake 4H Club Names New Officers

AMBROSE D. POWERS

Waterford Post 431 Elects A. D. Powers

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Ambrose D. Powers was elected as new commander of Waterford Township American Legion Post 431 this week at the post's annual election of officers.

Powers, who has served the post for several years as service officer, is a charter member of the organization. He lives at 1796 Lakeland, Pontiac.

Officers reelected include Verne C. Witherspoon, adjutant; George V. Wells, sergeant at arms; and G. L. (Pete) Towner, chaplain.

County Deaths

Howard Baker

CLAWSON — Service and burial for Howard Baker, 83, of 532 Chocolay Ave. will be tomorrow afternoon at Brookfield, Mo. He died Thursday at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac.

Surviving are his widow, Mary; four sons, Hobert of Clawson, Amil of Warren, Edgar of St. Catherines, Mo. and Arlo of Detroit; four daughters, Mrs. Arthur McCollum of Warren, Mrs. Leland Lambert, Mrs. Raymond Warren and Mrs. Darrell White of Clawson, a sister and 33 grandchildren.

Holly Signs Teaching Staff

System Gets Nine New Teachers; $400 Raise Is Granted

HOLLY—With the hiring here of nine new teachers, Holly Area Schools has completed signing its teaching staff for the 1954-55 year despite a wage controversy early this year in which the majority of teachers asked for a raise increase, it was announced this week by Charles G. Coggins, superintendent of schools.

Holly's teaching staff this year was granted a $400 raise, with all but seven teachers returning next year, Coggins said.

Seven replacements have been signed to contracts and two others have been hired to handle an increasing enrollment, one in junior high school and the other in the elementary grade school. Starting salary will be $3,350.

Coggins, pleased with the early settlement of the wage dispute, said that this was the earliest that he has filled his teaching staff in several years.

Oxford High Graduate Given MSC Scholarship

SEYMOUR LAKE — For maintaining a high scholastic average in high school, Marilyn Taylor, of 8781 Pine Knob Rd., has been awarded a scholarship by Michigan State College.

Marilyn, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Taylor, was graduated from Oxford High School Wednesday night as the third highest member of her class. She was awarded a second scholarship for one year by the Clarkston Farm and Garden Club.

LEILA KIBBE

George Kibbe of Auburn Heights announces the engagement of his daughter Leila of Rochester, to Jasen Atkins of Rochester. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Moore of Rochester. A September wedding is planned.

Romeo Community Body Names New President

ROMEO — James H. Winborn was unanimously elected president of the Romeo Community Council at an organizational meeting held Tuesday night.

Others elected to serve on the executive board for one year were Matthew Koth, vice president; Mrs. Carl Doetfer, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Jules Dupont, recording secretary, and Roger Toothacker, treasurer.

The board of directors will meet at 8 p.m. tomorrow at St. Paul Episcopal Church to draft final plans for the summer recreation program.

Ask Roads Closed in Fisher Property

ROMEO — It was learned today that the Bruce Township Board has been petitioned to close off portions of three roads running through the Fisher property and adjacent areas, recently optioned by an unidentified principal.

Roy Annett Inc., agents for the mystery organization or person, stated that the options now held embrace all the lands bordering the portions of the roads to be closed.

In its petition the real estate firm indirectly confirmed reports that the optioner of the 6,000-odd acres of land was not the federal government. The board was assured that the lands in the proposed project will not be removed from the tax assessment rolls.

The roads involved are Fisher, School and Lassier.

Planes Herd Sheep

Bozeman, Mont. (AP) — Sheepherders, once scarce and expensive in eastern Montana, no longer are in demand there. An Albion area sheepman, James Courtney, says sheepmen in his area have fenced their ranges and use airplanes to herd their sheep.

Youngsters Get Practice Ride in School Bus

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — While prospective school mothers listened to talks about preparing their five-year-olds for kindergarten at the Jayno Adams School Wednesday, the youngsters themselves were having a "dry run," in the school bus—just so they would be familiar with it next fall.

Mrs. Evelyn McMullen, kindergarten teacher, showed the potential pupils the ins and outs of bus travel as the big carrier rumbled down highways on the short demonstration drive.

Meanwhile, the mothers were hearing Mrs. Lorraine Black of the Oakland County Health Dept. narrate the film "Starting School." Principal Henry Karwas also spoke to them on readying the children for school.

Afterward, refreshments were served by present kindergarten mothers.

Heads Superintendents

HOLLY—Charles G. Coggins, superintendent of Holly Area Schools, was elected president of the Oakland County Superintendents Assn. at a recent meeting, for the 1954-55 year.

William Emerson, superintendent of Oakland County Schools, was re-elected as secretary-treasurer.

Bloomfield to Vote on 3.5 Millage Levy

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Voters here Monday will be asked to approve an additional 3.5 mill levy for five years to furnish and equip the new township high school now under construction.

School district voters will also cast ballots for two Board of Education members. Incumbents Edwin R. Dreyer and Kern H. Murphy are unopposed in seeking the three-year seats.

The millage request is for the purpose of purchasing school furnishings, apparatus, equipment and materials necessary for school operation.

Doctors Always Study

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP) — A Hartford County Medical Association poll showed that most doctors "go to school" all their lives. The poll disclosed doctors study the equivalent of three months each year, keeping up with new medical developments.

Mother Should Admit She Stuck to 'Worst Marriage' for Own Sake

Ex-Fiance Should Be Patient

Girl Breaks Engagement

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm desperately in love with a girl who is 16 years old. Last fall when I was home from college we became engaged, but two weeks ago she returned my ring.

"I know she still loves me because her parents have told me so, but as she broke the engagement I feel she should make the next move. Please help me get it straightened out because I love her very much."

The move you'd like her to make is a speedy and complete confession that she has made a horrible mistake. But if she doesn't think she was hasty, what other move can you possibly expect her to make?

It's understandable that with you away at college she might consider your ring an obstacle to having a normal high school social life. Being engaged to you kept her from going around with the crowd, having dates for school functions and big parties.

Maybe she began to feel that she stuck out among her friends like a very sore thumb. It's quite possible that she could be very fond of you indeed, and still not want to be engaged to you just yet.

But loving her the way you do, couldn't you find it in your heart to string along with a change of mind that may be only temporary? When you get home for summer vacation and can be Johnny-on-the-spot the whole situation may straighten out.

Meantime, why take the return of your ring as curtains for your friendship? Keep on writing to her, keep on telling her how much you miss her and wish you could see her.

Ask nothing in return, just give her time to get her own thoughts and emotions sorted out. And make a beeline to see her when you get home.

Dear Miss Woodward: I've been going steady with him for three years, but he's in Korea now. When he left I thought I loved him so I told him I would wait for him. Now I know I don't love him.

"And now I've met a boy I would like to go with. I think he would like to go with me, too. He doesn't know I'm going steady.

"Should I tell him? Should I just go out with him and not tell the boy in Korea until he comes home in November? Should I stop wearing his ring?"

I feel pretty strongly about promises made to boys who are off in the service. And I suspect that you take your own promise seriously, too. For you haven't yet had a date with that new boy who interests you.

Your loneliness for your steady boy friend and the proximity of another attractive boy have you temporarily convinced that you're not in love.

But why not wait until November to decide? It's not such a long wait! Meantime, stick to your promise — avoid the temptation to get involved with anyone else. String along for five more months and keep your conscience clear.

Pear-shaped, round and baguette diamonds in a platinum necklace compliment this Gaston Mallet dress of dulled-down satin. The regal loveliness is topped with a delicately beaded crown and an illusion veil.

The first woman ever to go aloft in a free balloon was the French prima donna, Madame Thible. She rode as a passenger over Lyons, France, for 45 minutes on June 4, 1784.

Now Grown, They Prefer Dad

Children Not Impressed by Her 'Self-Sacrificing'

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Mrs. T. says her marriage has been the "worst possible" one. She's stayed with it for her children's sake. The trouble is, they're not impressed. Grown now, they're always slighting their mother to show affection to their father.

Then Mr. T. says to his wife: "See? You are the one who knocked yourself out for them, but I am the one they like."

Bitter and disheartened, Mrs. T. writes, "What can I do? Where can I turn?"

Mrs. T. can turn to a place outside of herself that will lead her back to a place inside of herself. She can turn to her local family service agency. Or she can turn into the secret places of her heart herself.

Whether she's led to them or seeks them by herself, she will discover, I think, that she's stayed with her marriage for her own sake, not her children's.

Perhaps she's stayed with it because it gave her protection against the guilts and upheavals and financial uncertainties involved in separation.

Perhaps it was her shield against full responsibility in raising the children.

Plunging even deeper, Mrs. T. might discover that this "worst possible marriage" was useful to her as reassurance.

For by "knocking herself out" working for the children, she could say, without words to them, day after day, "See how conscientious and loving I am? See how lazy and disinterested your father is?"

Maybe Mrs. T. can bring herself to want truth more than she wants to believe that she's better than you and me. If so, it will release her from her dependence on her children's appreciation.

This marriage has served her more usefully than it's served the children, so they really do not owe her any special devotion.

It could mean that Mrs. T., freed from the burden of maintaining such a virtuous, self - sacrificing character for herself, could suddenly relax, and think: "Oh, how relieved I am to be done with this competition for these children's special devotion! How tired I really am of trying to make them admire me!"

And with this new knowledge, she could turn to the person whose devotion she really wants.

Between you and me, I think Mr. T. wants her to discover this knowledge very much. I think he is probably just as bored and tired of the competitive fight for devotion as she is.

I bet he's really saying to her, "If you were interested in my love, maybe you'd get the children's love, too."

Extra Bids to Wedding Pondered

Late Replacements May Be Asked Via Personal Notes

By EMILY POST

The mother of a bride-to-be writes: "Invitations have been sent out to my daughter's wedding which is to take place in a little over two weeks. Replies have started to come in and several of the guests have sent regrets.

"I would like to know if it would be proper to invite other guests in their places. The number of guests had to be limited and since some can't attend, we could ask others in their place.

"Would this be proper, or might those receiving invitations now be offended at being 'second choice'?"

Answer: Instead of sending engraved invitations, write notes and say, "To our great delight we find we can ask a few more friends to Jane's wedding and we do hope so much that you will come."

Dear Mrs. Post: There always seems to be confusion with one of my friends regarding the placing of bread and butter plates. Should the butter plate be placed at the tip of the fork on the left, or below the water glass on the right? If on the left, then where should a salad be placed when it is served on individual plates?

But if, as in some houses, the salad is served with the main course, then the salad plate would be put on the left of the dinner plate and below the bread and butter plate.

Dear Mrs. Post: My fiance has been called by a nickname for years. In fact, I don't think anyone would recognize his real name. In this situation, shouldn't the wedding invitations be engraved with his nickname rather than the real one?

Answer: If it is a name that has any dignity, it would be quite all right. But if it is a name such as "Tubby" or "Red" or "Babe," you couldn't possibly put it on an engraved invitation.

When Inventing, Stick to Own Field

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Marjorie O'Shaughenessy, author of "How to Make Money at Home," is one of my favorite talent scouts. Yesterday she told me a story of a woman inventor.

One day she realized that too many women had trouble with slip straps that kept slipping over the shoulder.

She decided something should be done about it, so she did it. She worked out a device which prevents this once and for all.

It is sold now at all variety stores and many notions counters, and it points a moral to all of my readers who tell me they just love the idea of inventing something they can sell.

First, stick to the fields you know. If Mrs. Hart hadn't seen the lingerie trade from the inside, she wouldn't have been able to think up the gadget or know how to fit it into the field.

If you don't like cooking and aren't very good at it, don't think up a kitchen gadget for cooks; it won't suit their needs. Concentrate on a gadget in the field in which you excel.

Second, experiment with your gadget yourself, see that it works and really fills a need, and is worth the trouble. Try it out on your friends and get their honest opinions.

Third, check with a lawyer or the Legal Aid Society and get a patent if it is possible.

Fourth, and most important, approach the manufacturers without any fear. Good marketable items are needed, so don't listen to the people who tell you "you have to have contacts." If you have a good item, they need you.

If you approach enough manufacturers, and they don't take it, don't go around for the rest of your life complaining and bitter.

Pitch in and try another one, and eventually, if you have what it takes, you will land a sale.

Try It

Make Berry Basket Hats

Here is an idea which can be used in several ways. It seems that berry baskets are thrown away by many people, but if you will keep them on hand we will use them from time to time. I wonder if you have ever thought of using them as hats?

How about collecting several of these berry baskets to use as a game at a party or for fun at a get-together? You can see two funny, yet attractive hats which were made with berry baskets as the base.

If you put several of these out on a table together with some flowers, ribbons, feathers, crepe paper, kitchen tools and other things around the house, you and your guests will have a lot of fun making these hats.

The girl on the left has her basket filled with fruit and tied to her head. The other has hers bottom side up with a flower.

You can let everyone have about 20 minutes to make and try on his hat. Let the judge be someone who is not in the contest. This will be fun for players of any age.

Musicale Announces Its Awards

Club Gives Partial Scholarships for Interlochen

Winners of Tuesday Musicale partial scholarships to the state band and orchestra camp at Interlochen National Music Camp are announced by the committee.

Three members of the junior clubs of Tuesday Musicale won the partial scholarship. They include Nancy Lee Lowery of Devondale avenue, Janet Sue Willoughby of Clarkston and Janice Mickle of Clarkston, who won an honor scholarship. The girls will attend the all-state two-week session in August.

Winners of the junior group scholarship of Tuesday Musicale Student League are Greta Phipps of Oneida road and Jacqueline Spratt of Clarence street.

Tuesday Musicale winners were selected at an April audition. To qualify, applicants had to be members of a junior club of Tuesday Musicale. Judges were Francisco DiBlasi, Mrs. Donald Hough and Mrs. Addison Oakley.

Junior group auditions were held in May. Mrs. Carroll Braid, Mrs. George Cameron and Mrs. Charles Buck selected the winners, who will also receive support from Pontiac High School Vocal Department.

Inspiration From Orient

Wall Decor Lengthening

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

Wall decorations change shape, and right now there's a trend toward the use of the long, narrow panel.

Oriental influence inspired it, particularly the Japanese. Written scrolls and paintings made to roll up like scrolls are especially typical of Japanese decoration.

Some of the long panels now used are old or new Oriental imports, others are modern abstract paintings or drawings or decorations in various materials that take the same shapes.

Some are framed, some are unframed. But whatever their subject or technique, these slender and upward-reaching decorations have a rightness for today's decorating.

They have a lightness of outline that matches slim contemporary furniture — the effect of both is in outline rather than bulk. And the panels raise wall decorating to new heights.

With the new tall cabinets that have come into fashion, they help to break away from the long, low phase of contemporary decorating which left too much of the interest in a room at the same height.

Macaroon Tart Recipe Is Scottish

Mrs. Greenlee's Treat Will Team With Fruit Ades

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Our recipe today comes by way of Scotland. Mrs. John Greenlee, herself a native of Scotland, says this is an old favorite recipe of her mother's. Macaroon tarts should be good to serve with long cool fruit drinks in this hot weather.

A past president of the Sylvan Lake Garden Club, Mrs. Greenlee continues her interest in the club and in her own garden. The out-of-doors appeals to her, and she spends many hours taking long walks and swimming. Bridge is a favorite indoor pastime.

MACAROON TARTS
By Mrs. John Greenlee

3 egg whites, beaten
1 cup sugar
½ cup ground almonds
1 cup fine coconut
1 teaspoon vanilla
Jelly
Pastry

Cut pastry into circles and fit into tart or muffin pans. Put a spoonful of jelly on top of the pastry. Mix the other ingredients together well and divide among the tart shells.

Bake in a 350-degree oven about 20 minutes. Makes 12 tarts.

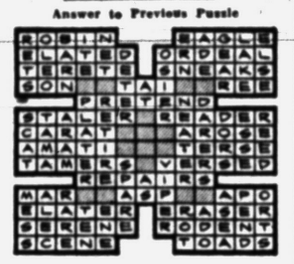
Answer to Previous Puzzle



Mary Margaret McBride Says:

'Twas a Lovely Vacation, With Leprechauns and All

Speaking of vacations, as everyone is right now, the best I ever had was in Ireland where I went one summer to hunt for the castle that my Great-Grandfather Moore told me was surely waiting for me.

I never found it and never really believe it existed, but on the other hand, such strange things happen in Ireland that it wouldn't have surprised me too much if I had actually come upon a castle, complete with moat and drawbridge, marked with my name.

MISS McBRIDE

The next best thing happened. I met up with a woman who was born in a castle—not that I knew that at first. Moira O'Brien Bathurst just said casually that her brother was living in Dromoland, the family home, in County Clare.

And when we drove up to Dromoland, lo and behold, it was a gray, ivied castle of tradition with turret and keep, set in acres of park. We arrived at 4 o'clock and right away had tea in a beautiful old garden beneath a huge lime tree, with friendly peacocks strutting about, fountains tinkling, stock and roses perfuming the air.

Nearby was a lake upon which Moira said she and her 13 brothers and sisters used to row. Once she and two of her younger brothers dropped their oars.

"We'd have drowned, too," she reported mysteriously, "if they hadn't helped us."

That was the first time I heard it but I soon found out that all the Irish I met referred frequently to leprechauns and the other wee people as "they." It's apparently not thought best to be more specific because such personages resent being gossiped about.

There's a tale in County Clare, indeed, about one reckless old dame who did brag of her intimacy with the wee people and one day she was found on the edge of the cemetery, half dead with fright, her body black and blue from the pinching of fairy fingers.

Johnny Murphy, said to be nearly 100, who became our friendly guide, told fearsome tales about curses that "they," when offended, had put upon families so that every member died off, the last, in on specially horrendous story, drowning in no more than a cup of water!

When I went out on the wild cliffs of Moher, Johnny urged me to listen hard to try to catch the distant crowing of cocks and the lowing of cows from Kilstuiffeen, buried by a curse. Although I strained my ears, I heard nothing except the sound of the birds on the cliffs as they dived from the rocks into the foam and never a whisper from Kilstuiffeen.

According to Johnny, the Bay of Discannor will dry up when a six-fingered, six-toed wife of a tailor finds a big key on the Lahinch shore. The key will unlock Kilstuiffeen and all the humans and houses will be revealed as they were when they fell into the sea and the waters flowed over them.

"You're heartily welcome," the friendly people in the whitewashed cottages with thatched roofs tied down to resist the high winds invariably greeted us, and they immediately put the kettle on so that we could have a cup of tea with a bit of bread and jam. A lovely vacation!

An atomizer gives you spray-on luxury, yet eliminates waste. At this time of year when women are particularly fragrance-conscious, an atomizer permits frequent and lavish use of summer colognes for a controlled effect.

PETUNIA!

Changing tires
And things at night?
Here's the way
To prop your light!

Hospital Auxiliary Plans Fall Review

An amateur musical review to be held in the fall was the subject discussed at the special meeting of Pontiac General Hospital Auxiliary Wednesday at Mrs. William J. Dean's home on Ottawa drive.

Mrs. Ralph Babbington, ways and means chairman, thanked members for giving card parties during the past month to raise funds for the auxiliary. Mrs. Leo J. Heenan, Mrs. Martin S. Smith and Mrs. Paul Terry were those giving parties.

New members received into the auxiliary were Mrs. Wilbur W. Smith, Mrs. Donald C. Snavely, Mrs. Eric Lundquist, Mrs. Jessie H. Watson, Mrs. Harold R. Franks, Mrs. Grover Yates, Mrs. A. I. Curling and Mrs. E. G. Pierce.

IF you need slimming—

Mrs. N. S.—The one-color look combining two textures (smooth, lightweight wool jersey, combined with heavier weight wool jersey, same color) is better than the dramatic contrast of two colors since you are overweight.

How to Pull Moisture From Air

By HUBBARD COBB

When it comes to basements, you can usually expect almost anything. Some basements are dry in summer and damp in winter, while others are dry in winter but become damp in summer when the heating plant is turned off.

Sometimes only the walls become damp and sometimes just the floor and then again it may be both the walls and floor that cause the trouble.

This state of affairs is due to condensation and one way to prevent it is to remove the moisture from the air in the basement. This can sometimes be accomplished by good ventilation but often you need some mechanical or chemical means to remove the particles of moisture from the air.

One good and inexpensive way this can be done is with a material known as calcium chloride. Calcium chloride is thirsty stuff and if it's exposed to the air it will soak up the moisture right out of the air. If there is no moisture in the air your basement walls and floor won't become damp.

Calcium chloride is sold in bags at hardware stores and lumber yards. It can be placed in almost any durable container but the best type is one especially designed to expose as much of the calcium chloride to the air as possible.

Of course, in time the calcium chloride absorbs all the moisture that it can and then you need a fresh batch.

Another way to remove the moisture from the air is with a dehumidifier. This runs on electricity and the general idea is that it pulls the air over a cool coil which causes the air to drop its moisture.

The moisture in the form of a liquid falls into a pan in the dehumidifier which can be emptied by hand or connected into an outside drain.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

Don't let your child become a neighborhood "orphan." See to it that the children play at your house a fair portion of the time.

Collegians Hit Books for Exams

MSC Social Life Coming to Standstill as Vacation Nears

By ELVIRA BISOGNI

Spartans hit the books this week with final exams beginning Saturday. The last exam will be taken June 18, which is when the spring term officially closes.

* * *

MSC students have been wanting girl cheerleaders and the Athletic Council has given its approval.

The girls' group has been established for a one-year probationary period starting with next fall term. The coeds will not be allowed to travel to games that are played away during this period of probation.

* * *

The Water Carnival, which took place on the Red Cedar River last weekend, turned out to be a huge success even though it had to be postponed on its opening night because of rain.

Two thousand one hundred and forty-seven students received their degrees at graduation exercises last Sunday. Awarded at the ceremony were 1,952 bachelors' degrees and 195 graduate degrees—158 masters and 37 doctorates.

* * *

It has been an eventful season for the Spartans with dances, parties and the Rose Bowl game highlighting the school year of 1954.

MSC students are taking down their overloaded bulletin boards, cleaning out desk drawers, packing tennis rackets and clothes, and going home for summer vacation until Sept. 20 when fall term begins.

Arthur Sweet Claims Bride

A ceremony Saturday at First Presbyterian Church, Ann Arbor, united Judith A. Neal and Arthur Gordon Sweet.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Loren E. Neal of West Palm Beach, Fla., and the late Mr. Neal, and Arthur is the son of former Pontiac residents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Sweet of Colorado Springs, Colo.

Jean Alexander was maid of honor and George Allen of Birmingham was best man. James H. McPhail Jr. gave the bride in marriage and Susan McPhail was junior bridesmaid.

The newlyweds, both students at the University of Michigan, will make their home on Stoepel avenue in Detroit.

Chorus Closes Year at Dinner

LeBaron Women's Chorus closed the season with a dinner Monday at Old Mill Tavern in Waterford. Guests were Mrs. Welton Sherman, principal of LeBaron School, and Mrs. Wayne Maguire, former accompanist for the chorus.

Mrs. Kline B. Hartman, director of the group, and Mrs. Calvin Hobart, accompanist, were presented with gifts of appreciation.

On the committees were Mrs. Hartman, Mrs. Wayne Fugitt and Mrs. Norman Mallory, program; Mrs. George Schellenberg and Mrs. Hobart, games; Mrs. Wayne Faleries and Mrs. Raymond Morford, decorations, and Mrs. Martin Parker, gifts. The next meeting of the group will be in September.

Garden Show, Sale to Be Held June 21

The Louis Schimmel cabin on Otter Lake will be the setting for the 11 o'clock garden show and sale which the Pontiac Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association will sponsor June 21.

On sale will be home canned goods, plant materials, baked goods and floral arrangements which will be provided by members.

Mrs. Jerry Martin Hostess to Sorority

Mrs. Jerry Martin was hostess in her Durnham street home for the Tuesday meeting of Gamma Chapter of Betha Theta Phi sorority.

Medical Auxilary Gives Nursing Award

Norma Bader Receives Scholarship

Norma Bader of Whittemore street, a graduated senior of St. Frederick High School, received a $250 nursing scholarship from Oakland County Medical Society Auxiliary at the baccalaureate program Tuesday.

The award, presented to an Oakland County June high school graduate each year, is given on the basis of ability, character and references for assistance toward a three-year training program.

High schools are contacted by the auxiliary in January, and interested girls fill in application forms for the award. To be eligible, a girl must have been accepted by an accredited nursing school.

On the committee are Mrs. Normand E. Durocher, chairman; Mrs. A. F. Cefai, cochairman; Mrs. A. J. Zujko, Mrs. Vincent P. Russell, auxiliary president; Mrs Donald Smith and Mrs. M. L. Shadley.

Funds for the scholarship are raised through a series of bridge-dessert parties, and anything over the $250 scholarship fund goes toward a gift for the new Beaumont Hospital in southern Oakland County.

Mrs. A. F. Cefai of Miami road, a member of the auxiliary's scholarship committee, presented the scholarship to Norma.

With Friendship Theme

Yomar Conducts Meeting

Friendship was the theme of the evening Thursday when Mrs. Harry Pattison opened her Pontiac trail home to members of the Yomar Group of First Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. J. E. Frankenfield presented the Bible study and Mrs. Neil Gray presided over the business session at which plans were made for the summer. Mrs. Richard Wright led the mission study, and a playlet entitled "New Members" was given by Mrs. Chester Varney.

Mrs. Ted Koella Jr. closed the meeting with a resume of the recent conference of Presbyterian women held at Purdue University.

Guests of the group were Mrs. Henry Amell, Mrs. Edward Graybiel, Mrs. H. R. Fraser, Mrs. William Hudson, Mrs. Robert Sigler, Mrs. Koella, Mrs. Dorothy Turner, Eleanor Kellogg and Mrs. Richard Pattison. Mrs. Ralph Mason was welcomed as a new member.

Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Howard Wideman, Mrs. Harry Wood and Mrs. George Stimmett. Mrs. Eldred Mathes will be hostess on July 15 for a family picnic of the group at her home on Sylvan Shores drive.

Mrs. Porter Feted on 86th Birthday

DORIS E. MARTIN

A graduating senior at Michigan State Normal College is Doris E. Martin of Rasburn street. She will receive a B. S. degree Saturday and will teach in the Pontiac area in September.

Sorority Council Installs Officers

Installation of officers highlighted the annual June breakfast of Pontiac Council, Pi Omicron sorority. The Wednesday affair was held at Rotunda Inn. Mrs. Richard Fox is the new president.

Other officers installed at the breakfast were Mrs. Leon Skelley, vice president; Mrs. Chester Adams, recording secretary; Mrs. John C. Wilson, treasurer, and Mrs. Buhl Burt, corresponding secretary.

Presidents of the three Pontiac chapters were also installed at the event. They are Mrs. James Leach of Sigma Gamma Chapter, Mrs. G. N. Ferguson of Sigma Beta Chapter and Mrs. Buhl Burt of Iota Chapter.

Mrs. Burt Rockwell Is Meeting Hostess

Mrs. Burt Rockwell was hostess in her home on Pioneer drive for the Tuesday evening meeting of Zeta Eta Chapter Beta Sigma Phi sorority.

42nd Year Celebrated With Dinner

White Shrine Fetes Past Officers, Life, Charter Members

Members of Pontiac Shrine 22 of the White Shrine of Jerusalem honored past officers, life and charter members when they celebrated the White Shrine's 42nd birthday with a dinner Wednesday evening in Roosevelt Temple.

Mrs. Wayne Scott and her committee were in charge of favors and Mrs. Earl Ross took care of dining room arrangements. Kitchen chairman was Mrs. Cecil Diehl.

Ceremonial was held at this meeting and the Shrine was visited by Juanita Mauss of Kansas City, Mo., supreme worthy high priestess.

Among those initiated into the order were Mrs. Wallace Morgan, Mr. Morgan, Mrs. James McCurdy, Mrs. Bernard Hansen and Victor Bodamer.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Charles Merrill, supreme worthy chapalin of Detroit; Mrs. Rouss Thomas, supreme flag-bearer of Durham, N. C., and Mrs. Nella Jones, supreme deputy of Mount Clemens.

Others were Lucille Lauderdale, junior past worthy high priestess of Lincoln, Ill., and Pearl Sillett, worthy scribe of Lincoln, Ill.

Plans for the future include a card party June 23 at the home of Mrs. Josephine Hoskins. The annual Shrine picnic for members and their families will be held at Cass-Dodge Park on July 28.

Amvets Group Chooses Two to Attend Dinner

Representatives chosen to attend an Americanism dinner June 18 from the Ladies Auxiliary to Jimmy Dey Amvets Post 12 are Mrs. Wesley Newman and Mrs. Richard I. Moore.

The announcement was made Wednesday at a meeting of the group with Mrs. Newman at her home on Oakshire drive. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Peter Metes and Mrs. Ben Mirkin.

A change in the meeting date was discussed and the next meeting was announced for June 23 at the home of Mrs. Leland Hunt on James K boulevard.

Crumpled, Limp Clothes Are Banished for Summer by New Pellon Interfacing

Up to now, a snowball in July had a better chance than most summer clothes of keeping fresh, feeling cool and looking shapely for long. But 1953 ended the B. P. era, proudly asserts the maker of pellon, the new interfacing that has caused perhaps the greatest fashion furor since the New Look.

Cotton, silk and linen dresses, suits and beach clothes are lined or fortified in strategic places with pellon, each planned to remain as crisp in outline as a snowflake even on a scorcher in Manhattan or a steamy day at the beach. And as cool as a snowflake, too, for one of pellon's "wonder-under" properties is complete porosity that aerates a garment while holding it lightly but immovably in place.

One of a group of active sports clothes made more curvacious as well as comfortable is Jantzen's white and blue floral print elasticized faille swim suit with quick-drying pellon permanently shaping the mold top, laughingly "supported" by shoestring shoulder straps.

Brigance's sun duet — a matching playsuit and dress in a gay black and white checkerboard printed cotton - - - also features lightweight pellon to keep the sawtooth edge of the bodice perfectly en point.

Sheer cotton afternoon dresses in icy pinks and blues by leading designers Suzy Perette and Joan Preston look especially cool and crisp with lightweight pellon keeping the fluffy skirts floatingly fresh and non-crushable.

Slim skirts now carry the pellon guarantee never to "sit out" or crumple no matter what the weatherman says. Pellon lines a navy linen wrap-around skirt by M. Sloat and Jane Parker's sky blue cotton satin sheath which is embossed with frosty white arabesques.

Pellon-lined dresses and suits can be packed for that summer holiday without a care or worry because of this new wondrous non-woven fabric that does not wrinkle or crease.

And this year, hats can also be squashed into a suitcase without a peril, for Betmar has pellon-lined its charming summer hats to collapse to nothing and then pop quickly back into shape.

Parochial Seniors Complete Their High School Careers

Mikes, Freds Hold Graduation

Pontiac High Seniors to Have Commencement on June 17

Parochial seniors have completed their high school careers St. Michael conducted graduation exercises Sunday evening and St. Fred upperclassmen were handed their diplomas on Tuesday.

PONTIAC HIGH

The distribution of the school yearbook, the Quiver, was a definite milestone in progress, writes reporter Vicky Micu. This issue of the book marks the first time any color was used in the makeup. The first sixteen pages appeared in a pale gren shade and the cover motif was green with white lettering. The Quiver was dedicated to retiring Superintendent of Schools Frank J. Dufrain.

VICKY

Final exams loom next week for weary underclassmen who are eager to take advantage of the warm swimming weather. Seniors have every right to look smug . . . with their finals safely in the past they can sit back for a well earned breather before graduation.

The wheels of knowledge ground slowly, as English VII classes held a panel discussion Friday on "Careers in the Automobile Industry." W. L. Pelton was GMC consultant for the two classes, taught by Miss Lucy Hayden.

X-ray vans parked by the school were open to students wishing chest X-rays, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week.

ST. FREDERICK

A life of goodness, charity, discipline and wisdom is the formula for living given to graduating seniors of St. Frederick High School by the Rev. John Finnegan, Tuesday evening.

MARY

Tuesday morning the happy seniors attended Mass and Holy Communion. The Most Rev. Alexander Zaleski spoke to them at that time, after which a breakfast sponsored by the faculty was held.

Scholarship medals were presented to Maureen Sweetman, and Joseph LaClave. Official scholarship awards were given to Donna Ritter, Norma Bader, Mary Drake and John Russell.

Meanwhile, while the seniors celebrated, underclassmen crammed for final exams which began Tuesday afternoon. Results of the tests will be revealed June 14, when students receive report cards and are dismissed for the summer.

Two PHS Groups Elect Fall Officers

PHS Dolphin Club members elected a new slate of officers recently as did the school Projectionist Club.

Leading the Dolphins in the fall will be president Alice Bego, veep Marianne Crozier, and secretary Patsy Dernberger. Carol Borsvold will take over the treasurer's duties, with Henrietta Schlaefer as sergeant-at-arms, and Barbara Calhoun, historian.

Gary Montgomery will head the Projectionists when the Steptember term begins. Bob Dunn was elected vice president and Don Bumgardner is the new secretary-treasurer.

St. Fred Honor Students Listed

13 Seniors Are Among Those Being Taken Into Society

A complete list of St. Frederick High School students who achieved membership on the 1953-54 Honor Society was announced recently.

Honors in the eleventh grade went to Mary Jane Leahy, Michael Wells, Jean McHugh, Carolyn Robichaud, Lawrence Decker, Alice Rivera, Sharon Wolf, and Marlene Green.

Other freshmen are Walter Quarles, Lies Van Houten, Eleanor Arno, Mary Elizabeth Wuest, Karen Kergan, Fred Sechanski, and Marjorie McHugh.

Awards were presented to Donna Ritter and Michael Kopscik for the highest scores achieved on the United Nations sponsored tests. An award for the highest score on a current events exam was awarded to Ruth Ann Schachern.

Priest to Receive Scroll at Film Premiere Tonight

DETROIT (INS) —The Rev. Father Daniel A. Lord, S. J., tonight will receive a testimonial signed by 5,000 University of Detroit students and also a scroll signed by representatives of 104 Detroit area Catholic groups.

The presentation will take place at 8 in the U. of D. Memorial Building, when Father Lord's film, "Light Up the Land," will be premiered.

Michigan established the first state agricultural college in the United States in 1857. Maryland and Pennsylvania followed in 1859.

Future Teachers Club Holds Tea for Faculty

The Pontiac High School Future Teachers Club held a tea for faculty members Tuesday.

Three members of the club received intercouncil delegate pins awarded to the girls because they attended the Tri-County Intercouncil. They were Margaret Levely, Marcia Thomas and Connie Davies.

Fast Delivery Doctor

DETROIT (UP) — Dr. H. C. Walser claims the 1954 record for "delivering the most babies in the least time, excluding quintuplets and quads." Each of two women he attended recently was delivered of twins within one hour in the same hospital room.

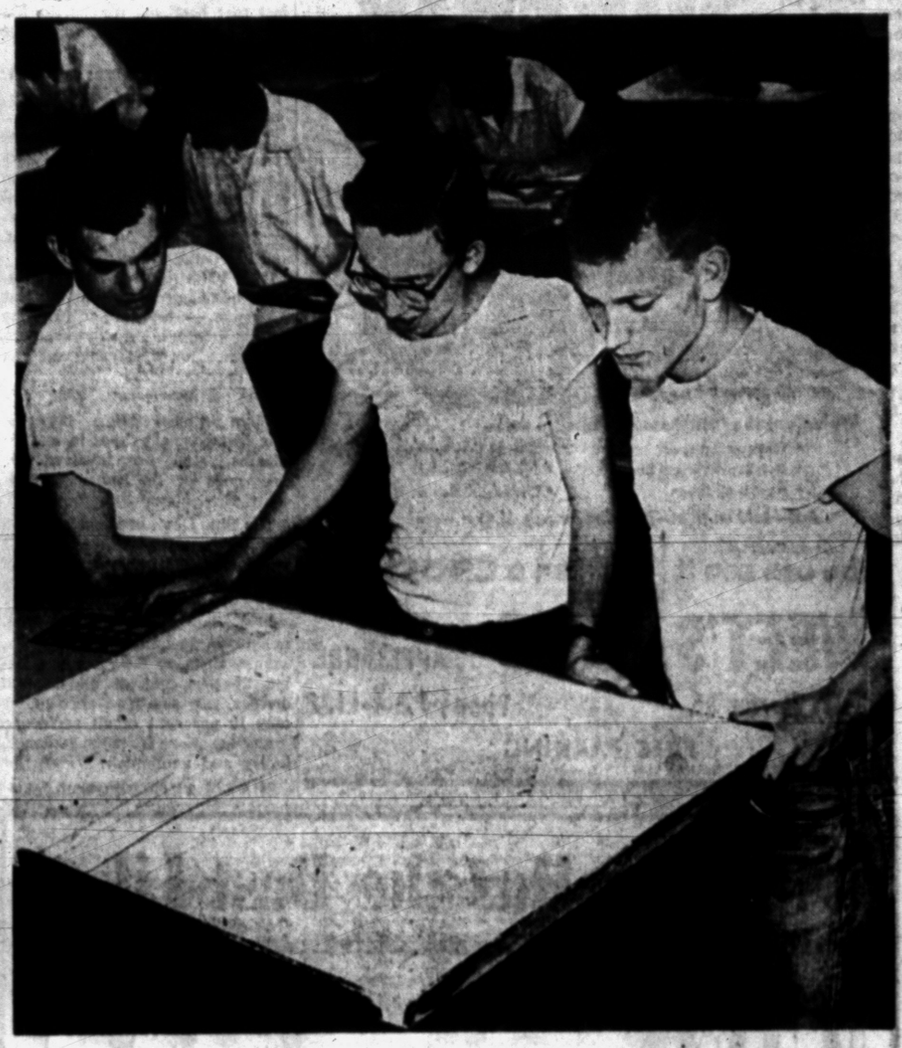
Pontiac Student Artisans Vie for National Honors

Pontiac Press Photos

ARTISANS ON THE JOB — As the last week of school and deadline draws nearer, these two Lincoln Junior High School boys are busy perfecting their projects for entrance in the Industrial Arts Award Contest. Making good use of both imaginative and mechanical skill, these youngsters learn that dexterity with both the hands and the mind is essential in creating a work of art. Gilbert Trevino, of 715 Portland Ave., watches intently as Larry Price at the printing press displays his delicate handiwork. Larry lives at 110 Putnam Ave.



INDUSTRIALISTS OF THE FUTURE—The Industrial Arts Award Contest, sponsored by the Ford Motor Co., is somewhat of a proving ground for talent and ability. The contest offers a challenge to today's youth; a showcase of skill and craftsmanship. The three Pontiac High School students, above, ponder a complicated problem in drafting, one of the three categories open for projects. Lowell Satterlee (left), of 318 Nelson St., offers his advice to Floyd Miles (center), of 103 Summit Ave., while Jerry Lawrence, of 574 LeBaron looks on.

HARD AT WORK—Showing the precision and accuracy which is essential for entrance in the Industrial Art Awards Contest is Tom Eskridge, of 384 S. East Blvd. With painstaking diligence the young craftsman pores over his drawing board while other articles of handiwork surround him. The youngster is a student of Eastern Junior High School, one of the three schools participating in the event.

Young Craftsmen Rushing Projects for National Contest

In school workshops throughout the city, budding craftsmen are lending their skill and initiative to projects perfected for the annual Industrial Arts Award Contest sponsored by the Ford Motor Co.

Students from Lincoln and Eastern Junior High School, along with boys from Pontiac High School, produced shop, drawing or printing articles in order to meet the June deadline for entries.

Craftsmanship was the goal which these young industrialists of the future strived to maintain.

Under surveillance of instructors, works of art were formed by the supple fingers of these youngsters. They fashioned such things as lamps, silk screen drawings, and drafting work with an amazing eye for detail, grace, and smoothness of line.

The contest is open to any student enrolled in a shop, drawing or printing course between the grades of 7 and 12 inclusive.

Any project is eligible, providing it was completed under the supervision of the school shop instructor.

Judging will continue throughout the summer at Dearborn, with the awards presented on a national level only.

First prize is $100, the second place winner will receive $80, third $60; fourth $40. Those awarded honorable mentions will be granted $20, and gold pins will be given to 12 additional students in each group.

Winners will be announced September 15.

C. of C. Backs School Tax Hike

The proposed tax hike for expansion of the city's school system and for payment of increased operating costs, to be voted on June 14, has been endorsed unanimously by directors of the Chamber of Commerce.

Milo J. Cross, chamber president, said today his organization is ready to assist passage of the tax plan in every possible way since approval of the plan will strengthen the school system immeasurably.

"Of the 17,000 children now attending Pontiac schools, many are occupying undesirable quarters — basement rooms, temporary rooms and other substandard meeting places," Cross said.

"In the next 10 years an additional 6,000 children are expected to further tax present facilities. Those additional students will require 200 more rooms, not counting the replacement of present unsatisfactory housing," according to Cross.

"Under the present school budget no additional rooms or services can be furnished.

"There are two things that can be done," Cross said.

"We can let the pile-up continue until our children will soon be forced into half-day sessions. Enrollment per room will be increased from about 35 to 60.

"Educational standards will necessarily be lowered, the curriculum curtailed, and the caliber of the teachers lowered. Not an additional classroom can be built and the present repair program will have to be stopped.

"The cost of this program of neglect would be very high in terms of the future educational progress of our children," Cross declared.

The other alternative is the sensible one — passage of the necessary funds for further expansion and payment of increased school costs, he noted.

MILO J. CROSS

The money realized through taxes would be sufficient to build a 48-room high school; 48 new junior high classrooms, 115 grade school classrooms and 10 multipurpose rooms.

"Passage of the bill would cost only 25 cents per week for the average homeowner," Cross said, "a small expenditure for such an important and necessary return.

"The additional funds would also serve as a substantial basis for an adequate teaching staff and an expanded curriculum.

"Even with the proposed increase, our school taxes will be substantially lower than most cities," Cross explained.

He pointed out that Pontiac is one of the few school districts in the state that hasn't been granted additional revenue since the end of World War II to compensate for the increasingly higher operating costs.

As a final argument for passage of the proposed tax hike, Cross said that with a constantly decreasing amount of state aid per child and the operating cost per child on the increase, the tax program is a necessity.

Supervisors Want Tax Opinion Review

The ruling holds that any county with fractional school districts must adopt the state's equalization figures which generally are higher than those of the counties.

Secy. Dulles' Attempts to Save Money Are Sometimes Detrimental to U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles concedes that his efforts to save a dollar here and a dollar there have sometimes backfired.

"I personally scratch out words here and there to save a few dollars on every cable," Dulles told the Senate Appropriations Committee in secret testimony May 17 and just made public.

Dulles acknowledged that editing cables to save money would seem like a job that could be performed by someone whose time was less valuable than the Secretary of state's, but he added:

"I think I have to do that not only for the actual savings itself, but to set an example along the line."

Dulles took no Far Eastern experts to the Berlin conference in January, he said, fearing this might "look like a waste of money" and then when Far Eastern problems arose "we were caught shorthanded . . . I was embarrassed because I did not have the people who knew the China situation."

"Sometimes we make a saving which obviously is detrimental to the interests of the United States," he said.

Dulles conceded that in trying to hold State department expenses to a "very austere basis," he cut too many words out of a cable to Moscow carrying parts of President Eisenhower's Dec. 8 speech to the United Nations proposing a peacetime atomic pool.

"In order to save money I decided we better cable parts of it," he said, rather than send the full text.

The Communists printed the "full reply which was made by Malenkov a few days later," Dulles said, "and when we objected to them that they only published part of the speech of Eisenhower, and all the speech of the other fellow, they said this is the only part you sent us."

FRANKLIN BOY REMEMBERS SCHOOL DAYS—Robert Dremann, 15-year-old post-polio patient, 27185 Scenic Dr., Franklin Village, remembers the days when he could go to school before polio made him a homebound student. When special education facilities are established, if June 14's election passes, Robert will be able once again to go to school. In the meantime, he is trying to keep pace with his age-grade level by studying at home.

5,000 Children Awaiting Chance to Attend School

There are nearly 5,000 Oakland county boys and girls who are not looking forward to the last day of school — they haven't been going to school.

Many of them have never been inside a classroom.

Many more, because of physical handicaps resulting from polio, cerebral palsy, muscular dystrophy and several other partially crippling diseases have been staying at home for all the young years of their lives praying for the day when they could be well enough to sit at a desk and learn like other youngsters.

Monday, the school electors of Oakland County are going to be given an opportunity to do something for these 5,000. In each school district, they will go to the polls to decide whether or not they will pay 50 cents per $1,000 (assessed valuation as equalized with each taxpayer's average increase to be from $1.25 to $2.00) for a period of 15 years.

The money raised annually will provide $450,000 and $500,000 per year to finance special education facilities including classrooms and teachers for these children who are not now getting a full and adequate education.

"Given a chance, these youngsters can become self-sufficient and self-supporting adults making as much of a contribution to society as the adult who does not have a handicap," said William J. Emerson, Oakland county superintendent of schools.

Oakland county will be the first in the state to take care of its children with handicaps if this Public Act 18 passes. It was planned by a group of county educators following their survey which showed that 5,000 children need help.

The proposed program will be under the guidance of the Oakland County Board of Education with local school districts administering and conducting the education of these boys and girls.

HE LEARNS AT HOME—Terry Van Scoyoc, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Van Scoyoc Jr., 3139 Pontiac Lake Rd., Waterford Township, hopes for the day when he can be a regular classroom student. Terry suffered from muscular dystrophy a few years ago.

It's Time to Park Jibes About Gals Behind Wheel

By LAURA Z. HOBSON
International News Service

There are 13,777,000 licensed woman drivers in the U. S., and if we tooted our own horns with a few complimentary statistics I've just met head on, maybe the 37,223,000 male drivers would get the signal.

Well, if not all 37,223,000, then perhaps a couple of dozen open-minded ones among them.

The complimentary statistics come with the compliments of Paul Kamey of Universal Pictures, who ran them down to promote a coming movie, "Johnny Dark," featuring sports car racing, Tony Curtis, and red-headed Piper Laurie.

Over 100 traffic studies, says Kamey, have been made in the last 25 years — and every last one indicates that women drivers definitely are not "just as good" as men drivers.

They're better.

The National Safety Council, for instance, says that in traffic deaths, men are involved 89 per cent of the time, women only 11 per cent.

The Ohio Dept. of Highways says that when it comes to the No. 1 killer on the highways, speeding, 60 per cent of the speeders are men, 40 per cent women.

In the latest survey by the Automobile Association of America, women drivers, though representing 27 per cent of all licensed drivers, are shown to account for only 10 per cent of all accidents.

Any questions from the audience, ladies and gentlemen?

I could go on with such facts for nine pages — Mr. Kamey did. But it all comes down to one great conclusion: "Woman driver" hurled as an epithet is a libel, a slander, and a lot of hot oil in the crankcase.

What's more, the male drivers of this nation, far from taunting and maligning women who drive, really ought to pull up short and thank them humbly for many of the improvements in today's cars.

Power steering might never have been invented if the industry hadn't hearkened to women's complaints about "tearing my arms out parking this two tons of concrete."

Gear shifts might still be diagonal bars sticking up from the floorboard if some automotive genius hadn't marveled over his wife's talents to rearrange the furniture.

Bright gay colors, nylon upholstery, ashtrays, movable seats, pushbutton control — all came since women gave the breeze to the inconveniences in the dull old hearse - colored things that used to pass for new cars.

But humble thanks or no, it's high time men drivers parked their wisecracks about the girls and women behind the wheel — and if they won't they'll soon find themselves behind the eightball of aroused public opinion.

Because that modern cussword, "woman driver," has got to go, and once we women drivers make up our 13,777,000 minds to that, dead storage is its only future.

So you males might as well drain the tank now, grease the brightwork, remove the battery, and put "woman driver" up on blocks — and there's no speed law for how fast you get to it.

The light's green all the way, and remember, the little woman in the next lane could always turn out to be red-headed Piper Laurie.

Pickets at Auto Sales Temporarily Restrained

Egypt Becoming Isolated as Turkey Forges Ahead

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

Egypt is steadily losing its influence in the Middle East, and it is becoming increasingly isolated.

For a time, Egypt was making a strong bid for leadership of the Moslem world in general and the Arab world in particular.

But Moslem leadership is shifting toward Turkey and the Asiatic members of the Arab League are drawing away from Egypt.

Also, Egypt is being bypassed in the organization of the eastern end of the allied defense line against Soviet Russian aggression.

The United States has made defense agreements with Turkey and Pakistan, and is supplying them with arms. It has agreed to send arms to Iraq, and may soon agree to send arms to Syria and Lebanon.

Egypt is getting no arms. Economic aid earmarked for it is being held up because of the British-Egyptian dispute over the Suez Canal.

The Egyptian army got rid of King Farouk, and its more radical members talk of throwing the British out of the canal zone by force if necessary.

But Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser and his fellow army officers who are running the country are beset by a continuing internal crisis, which helps to lessen Egypt's influence.

There are disputes about leadership. Army officers who helped oust Farouk are being accused of plotting to overthrow the government of Nasser and President Mohammed Naguib. Newspaper editors are being thrown into jail and their papers suppressed.

A settlement of the canal dispute might help to restore Egypt's position, and might in time bring Egypt into the grand alliance against Communist aggression.

Britain broke off the latest Suez Canal negotiations because of a new outbreak of terrorism in the zone, including the murder of British soldiers.

It is reported that negotiations may be resumed within the next few weeks, partly because of United States pressure on Britain.

It is accepted that under any agreement, Britain will withdraw its garrison of 80,000 troops from the zone. But about 4,000 men would remain as technicians to maintain a supply base.

The chief issue is whether the 4,000 technicians should be uniformed men, as Britain demands, or civilians as Egypt insists. Thus Britain and Egypt do not seem too far apart.

In the past, every time agreement seemed near something happened to wreck it. It may be that the next attempt at negotiation will succeed, with United States help. In that event, the Canal Zone might one day become a most valuable allied base with Egypt as one of the allies.

Music Publisher, 87, Succumbs in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—Will Rossiter, 87, dean of American music publishers and best known as the composer of "I'd Love to Live in Loveland," died last night after a short illness.

Rossiter, known to thousands as "Uncle Will," began his publishing career after composing his first song, "Sweet Nellie Bawn," in 1890. Among the more famous songs he published were "Some of These Days," "Darktown Strutters' Ball" and "Turkey in the Straw." He used the pseudonym W. R. Williams in his own song writing.

He was born in Wells, Somerset, England, and came to the United States at the age of 14.

Britain Lists Goods for Sale to Red China

LONDON (AP)—Britain has tentatively okayed the sale to Communist China of thousands of items, including light machinery, medical supplies and scientific instruments. All were described officially as nonstrategic goods.

The list of permitted items was published last night in the official Board of Trade Journal. The announcement emphasized, however, that the government retains the final say in the licensing of even these goods for shipment to China.

On the list were manufacturing equipment of many kinds, light vehicles and trucks, rubber goods, plastics and food.

Equipment for Radar Sabotaged by Salt

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—One thousand capacitors or condensers, manufactured for Navy radar equipment, were ruined by a saboteur yesterday with an ordinary salt shaker.

Hopkins Engineering Co. plant officials said they believe a disgruntled employe did the $500 damage.

Salt was sprinkled on two cartons of capacitors at the plant. A salt shaker was found nearby.

The condensers are so sensitive that salt alters the electric capacity of the paper that separates layers of aluminum foil in them. Signs warn against bringing salt into the building.

Wives Offered Bonus

FORT WORTH, Texas (INS)—Get a salesman's wife in the act, and he'll work harder, make more money for his firm, and have no late-hour objections from the little woman. Charles L. Lapp, assistant professor of marketing at Washington University at St. Louis, told a southwestern sales executives conference in Fort Worth that one firm has had the best results in its history by offering the salesman's wife a bonus when her husband exceeds his quota.

Violinist Jealous of Dog, Wife Says

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Concert violinist Elliott Fisher was jealous of her Chihuahua puppy, Mrs. Lisette Fisher testified in divorcing him yesterday.

She got the brown and white, 7-month-old dog, Ricky, under a property settlement along with $400 cash and $2,500 worth of jewelry and wedding gifts.

Mrs. Fisher, 22, testified Fisher, 29, gave her the dog after their marriage here last Aug. 22 and made claim to the pet after their separation because he knew she was attached to it.

"He would say that he could remember when I looked at him the way I looked now at Ricky," she said. "He was jealous."

It's a FACT!

After 1,2,3 years- CHEVROLET'S TRADE-IN IS HIGHEST!

CHEVROLET
Get the FACTS and you'll get a Chevrolet!

Horsepower	Driving tests show Chevrolet's "Blue Flame 125" delivers a full 125 H.P. That's 10 to 15 more ROAD H.P. than Car B or Car C delivers!
Mileage	In city and highway road tests, Chevrolet delivers up to 12.3% more gas mileage than Car B—up to 31% more than Car C.
Price	Price comparison figures show Chevrolet costs up to $145 less than Car B—up to $225 less than Car C.
Trade-in	Official national used-car figures show Chevrolet depreciates less-per-year than Car B or Car C.
Getaway	Traffic tests show Chevrolet breaks away up to 18.9% faster than Car B—up to 24.6% faster than Car C.
Weight	Weight charts show Chevrolet is the heaviest, widest car in its field—up to 200 pounds heavier! It's more solid, more durable, more comfortable.
Automatic Features	Comparison shows Chevrolet's Powerglide and Power Steering, Brakes, Windows, Seat cost less than Car B's or Car C's automatic features.
Popularity	Auto registration figures show over 2 million more Chevrolets licensed than Car B—over 5 million more than Car C.

While other cars talk "highest trade-in value" in the showroom, CHEVROLET delivers it in the showdown!

The truest measure of trade-in value is the official used-car appraisal book used as a guide by new and used-car dealers from coast to coast.

This book shows, for example, that a 1950 model Chevrolet has a higher cash value and a higher resale value today than a 1950 model of Car B or Car C. This is true, despite the fact that Car B and Car C cost MORE when new!

There's no better proof that Chevrolet retains its value, good looks and driving performance longest of all low-priced cars. There's no better reason why more people drive Chevrolets than any other car, at any price!

Leaf-Chewers Active in Area

Considerable Damage Done to Trees, Shrubs by Insects

By WILLIAM AHO
Parks and Recreation Dept.

During the spring, insects become very active in their development and cause considerable damage. Trees and shrubs are damaged by leaf - eating insects, sucking insects, wood borers and bark beetles.

In the Pontiac area at this time, leaf - chewing insects are quite active.

They destroy the leaves of trees and shrubs which manufacture food. This defoliation can reduce the vitality of the plant to such an extent as to cause it to become more susceptible to disease and attack by other insects.

If a tree is defoliated the adventitious buds usually develop a new set of leaves. Some trees have been known to be defoliated three times in one season without any serious effects.

One of the first leaf - eating insects to appear in this locality is the canker-worm. It is from ½ to ¾ inch long and yellowish green to greenish black. The larvae of both the spring and fall canker-worm hatch out in spring and then feed from four to five weeks. Both species of canker-worm pupate on the ground.

The larvae of the spring cankerworm have two prolegs while the fall species has three. The larvae of the latter spins a tough silken cocoon before pupating while the former does not.

Another common leaf-eater in this area is the Eastern tent caterpillar. Its conspicuous nests can be seen in forks of trees along most roadsides. The favorite trees of the caterpillar are elm, maple, oak, poplar, willow, cherry, apple, and plum.

The larvae of this insect feed in a colony approximately six weeks. Three weeks are required to complete the pupal stage before emerging as adult moths.

Canker-worms and caterpillars can be controlled by spraying with five pounds arsenate of lead in 100 gallons of water. Another good spray is three pounds arsenate of lead, 1½ pounds of 50 per cent wettable DDT mixed with 100 gallons of water. The DDT acts both as a stomach and contact insecticide.

The leaves on trees also can be eaten by other insects such as leaf miners and leaf beetles. Leaf miners feed between the upper and lower leaf surface while the leaf beetles chew holes in leaves.

Physicists believe that the sun will continue to give off heat and light for at lest 50 billion years.

FARM & GARDEN NEWS

MAKING A COMEBACK — Returning to even greater popularity with the re-release of the movie "Gone With the Wind" is the Scarlet O'Hara morning glory, new winner of the All-America award. Seeds of the brilliant red flower can be sown right out on the open ground. The Scarlett O'Hara needs no special care and will assure a spectacular show of red morning glories from late summer through frost.

Quizzing the Gardener

Q—I want to plant a few small trees that have structural beauty and colorful bark in the winter. What do you suggest?

A—The saucer-cup magnolia, Magnolia soulangeana, qualifies for this purpose. Then you should consider the paper-bark maple, Acer griseum, with its papery red-brown bark, and the native striped maple, Acer pensylvanicum, noted for its bark striped with longitudinal white lines. The hardiest of the stewartias, Stewartial pseudo-camellia, has striking red bark that peels off in large flakes.

Q—What are the cultural requirements of Japanese iris?

A—Japanese iris will thrive and bloom in the flower border if the soil is acid, heavily enriched with humus and old manure, and given an abundance of water, particularly during the blooming season.

Q—The bloom on our daffodils was rather sparce this spring—nuch greed foliage but few flowers. What is wrong?

A—Probably the most common cause is not planting in good soil and/or not a well-drained, sunny location.

Q—Our back yard, adjacent to a wood lot, is infested with poison-ivy vines. What is the best method of eradication?

A—A combination of spraying the foliage with the weed killer 2, 4, 5-T, and hand-pulling of the numberless roots which are rather close to the surface. 2, 4, 5-T must be sprayed only on the ivy, as it will kill or damage most vegetation it touches. Hand-pulling is made easier by first loosening the soil. Both chores should be done by one immune to the poison.

Q—Will asparagus grow well in a heavy clay soil?

A—Unless drainage is perfect do not plant in clay soil. Asparagus grows best in a sandy loam. Plant in rows three feet apart and set the roots 18 inches apart so that the crowns are four inches below the surface.

Q—Our African violets fail to flower after we purchase them at the florists. What causes this?

A—One or more reasons can cause failure, such as lack of sun or fluorescent light, too many leaves in the center of the plants, overwatering and/or a too hot and dry room temperature.

Development of Muck Land Gains Importance

By JOE HAAS

With the encroachment of industry and house building on the farm acreage in Oakland County, the development of our muck land appears to be a solution that may bring the number of acres devoted to agriculture back to what it was a few years ago.

There are many thousands of acres of muck land awaiting the breaking up process, and its conversion into fertile fields. Where this has been done, the farmers look upon it as a gift, since it had hitherto been regarded as worthless land, or rendering only meager returns as a pasture area.

Neighboring Lapeer County already has converted over 25,000 acres of its muck land into a productiveness that exceeds the returns from most of its regular farm land. It is making that area one of the state leaders in the growing of root and other crops that thrive best on low land.

With the modern tractor, bulldozer and other farm machinery, it is even possible to uproot trees and brush, level off the bogs, and put the decayed vegetation of thousands of years back into use in growing farm products.

JOE HAAS

What the muck land may lack for the profitable growing of wheat and other crops, previously regarded only as best grown on higher and vastly different soils, can now be supplied by artificial means, the same as other fertilizer.

This places much in the same category as other soils, and removes it from a classification of specialized farming. Our Lapeer neighbors already are fattening their bank accounts in this manner.

In the growing of root crops it has been found that a big boost can be secured by a little artificial addition to the soil content of muck. In this respect, the potato yield has been pushed up to even above 500 bushels per acre, and the onion yield close to the 1,000 bushel mark. The same also is true of celery and other vegetable crops, including tomatoes.

Oakland County farmers who have pioneered in the improvement of their muck land are quite enthusiastic about the results. About one half of our 400 lakes are quite surrounded by a muck area. Our rivers and creeks generally course through similar soil, and there is much of it not contiguous to any water area.

The nearness of our muck land to the great metropolitan markets give it a great advantage in the raising of vegetables for city consumption. In this respect its improvement has an added impetus.

Such crops grown here can be placed in the households of the consumers on the same day that they are taken from the ground, and have a big start on those grown further back in the state.

An acre of good pasture will give forage for a score or more fattenings hogs, from weaning to market weight, suggest Michigan State College animal husbandmen.

Meals Important for Trees Also

Nitrogen in Menu Vital to Keep Them Healthy, Growing

In a dinner nothing is more important than the food and how it is served. The thought goes for trees as well as for humans. Simply seeing that a tree gets nourishment often is not enough.

When the arboreal mealtime rolls around, the home owner should pay attention to the menu he prepares. Most trees, for example, need a food formula high in nitrogen.

A properly balanced diet should contains approximately three parts of nitrogen to one each of phosphorus and potassium plus minute quantities of those vital trace elements that are so important in some soils.

Tree meals are served to the roots through holes in the surrounding soil. All too often, the home owner tries to get by with as few holes in the sod as possible. But this means that comparatively few of the feeding roots get fed, even if a double dose of the victuals is placed in each hole.

Most trees have a root system at least as wide as their branch spread, with the majority of the feeding roots being within the perimeter of the circle. Perforation holes are made over this entire area.

These should be 12 to 15 inches deep and not more than 12 to 15 inches apart. The prescribed tree food dosage is then distributed among the holes. The unfilled portion should be filled with top soil, peat moss, shredded manure or other humus material.

Lack of Single Women Living on Farms Acute

Is rural America propagating a womanless generation?

The situation isn't quite that acute. But the boy-girl ratio on farms has decidedly widened and it's disturbing the rural sociologists. They say that there just aren't enough farm girls to go around.

Take, for example, the rating, dating and mating situation in Keokuk county, Iowa. Young people cite what has come to be a big social problem in rural America.

Not long ago researchers from Iowa State College visited one out of every three farm homes in Keokuk county. In these homes they found 317 persons between the ages of 16 and 25.

Only 25 were single women out of school and still living in the country. From these homes 24 single women had left the county — seven to go to college and 17 to take jobs in town.

In the same age group there were 77 single men on farms in Keokuk county.

This situation isn't peculiar to any one county. Everywhere in farm areas there's an excess of young men, a shortage of girls. In towns and cities the ratio is reversed: more young women than young men.

Oriental Poppies, Daylilies, Iris Easy to Grow

Oriental poppies, daylilies, iris — they're the tried-and-true trio!

Here's why. You know they're gorgeous and make a big splash of color when they bloom. But that's only part of their appeal. What makes them rate extra-high is that they're so easy to grow and so dependable.

These perennials can all be moved and planted in summer.

In fact, that's the preferred time for iris and the only recommended time for oriental poppies. Day lilies can be moved any time from early spring until fall.

A century ago American sheep yielded an average of only two pounds of fleece. Now the average is eight pounds.

Sky Light Farms Cow Places High in Butterfat

Pinky totalled 1,748 pounds of 5.9 per cent milk.

Larro Adonis Royal is the new champion, taking the lead for all of Michigan's junior four-year-old Holsteins milked twice daily in the 10-months division, with the production of 658 pounds of butterfat from 17,490 pounds of milk.

Rumors Confuse Pesticide Users

Little Danger Involved if Gardeners Observe Directions

"Much has been said recently about the use of pesticides around the home and in the garden and most of the talk has only confused the amateur," Edmond W. Alchin, county agricultural agent, said this week.

"For the most part, the hue and cry has concerned itself with the dangers involved in the use of dusts and sprays as they pertain to friendly insects, birds and soil organisms," he said.

"Most of this information is misleading and is not based on research results of the chemical manufacturers or experiment stations of the land grant colleges."

Alchin listed the following five facts for the home gardnener:

1. General garden dusts and sprays do not last more than a period of a few hours to a week.

2. Very few pesticides are harmful to soil organisms.

3. Normal applications to the plants themselves will not penetrate the soil enough to harm earthworms or other beneficial soil organisms.

4. There is generally not a build-up in the soil or on plants from one spray to the next.

5. The labeling and recommendations of insecticides are governed by the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture and, if directions are followed, danger should be nil.

"All this means that if the home gardener does not use these pesticides indiscriminately and follows the directions as stated on the package, no harmful effects should be realized, Alchin commented.

"As far as the control of garden pests by beneficial insects and birds is concerned, the average urban and rural-urban dweller will find very little benefit from them.

"Clean cultivation and elimination of hedge rows and wild areas has removed the homes of many of these friendly creatures, so that in number alone they are unable to do the job for us.

CREATES FLORAL EXHIBIT — Mrs. Harold J. Hopkins, of 6298 Sheldon Rd., Rochester, studies the reproduction of an abstract painting by Vasili Kandinsky as she assembles a flower arrangement to harmonize with it. Holding the picture is her daughter, Carole Sue. Flowers and paintings will make up an ensemble in the Rochester flower show to be held Saturday and Sunday in the Avondale Park Pavilion. The exhibit will be free to the public.

Women's National Farm, Garden Assn. to Display Flowers in Avon Park Pavilion

By WILMA GREENWAY

The Rochester branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Assn. is setting the final props today for what they expect to be the biggest flower show they have yet produced.

Titled "Jewel Box Colors," the exhibit will be held Saturday and Sunday in the Avon Park Pavilion, in Rochester. Doors will open at 3 p.m. Saturday and at 1 p.m. Sunday. Closing time will be 9 p.m. both days. No admission will be charged.

Flowers will bank the corners of the rustic, pine-paneled pavilion. The natural stone fireplace at the far end will be transformed into a miniature garden, complete with white picket fencing.

A focal point of interest will be creative flower arrangements to complement reproductions of seven famous paintings, procured from the Detroit Institute of Arts for this exhibit. Each picture with its harmoniously designed flower exhibit will be dramatically floodlighted.

In keeping with the theme of the show, categories for the jewel tone entries include: "Diamonds"—all white flower arrangements for living room; "Rubies"—garnet or carnelian colors in antique containers, for entry hall; "Jade"—all green, for dining room; "Topaz"—topaz or amber toned blooms, for library.

"Sapphire or Amethyst" will include porch arrangements; "Cameo Pink" will be for bedrooms.

Open to non-members will be two categories: "As You Like It in Jewel Tones," and "Horticultural." The latter is for specimen blooms only and no containers are required.

Table groupings with settings in jewel colors also will be featured.

Deadline for entries is 9 a.m. Saturday, when exhibits will be prepared for judging. First, second and third place ribbons will be given in each category.

Awards will be made from the standpoint of color harmony, balance and proportion, distinction, relation to container and condition of material.

The panel of six judges, well known in flower circles, will be: Mrs. Frank Webb, Mrs. George Chesley, Mrs. Aaron Webster, Mrs. Lewis Dibble, all of Birmingham; Mrs. James Cox of Royal Oak, and Mrs. Albert F. Allmayer, of Detroit.

Purpose of the exhibition, according to Mrs. Fred Noyes, public relations director, is to "show the people of Rochester just how much they can do with a few flowers, with just greens, and with simple everyday containers."

"We expect the largest number of entries of any exhibit we have sponsored," Mrs. Allison Haidle, general chairman, stated.

"We want to issue a wholehearted invitation to everyone to submit entries if they wish, and by all means turn out Saturday and Sunday to drink a glass of punch with us, talk gardening and view the interesting and creatively designed exhibits."

In addition to Mrs. Haidle and Mrs. Noyes, committee chairmen include:

Mrs. Vern Pixley, properties; Mrs. Frederick Nash, lighting; Mrs. Frank Chapman, art paintings; Mrs. Laurence Smith, judges; Mrs. Henry McNalley, Mrs. Thomas Everhard, Mrs. Carl Oxford, hostesses to judges; Mrs. Wayne Eddy, Mrs. Carl Dorst, hospitality, and Mrs. Roy McCornac, tea-table arrangements.

Mrs. Grover Taylor is in charge of registration; Mrs. Arnold Smith, schedules; Mrs. Keith Crissman, hostess; Mrs. James Jackson, signs and Mrs. Myron Lyttell, conservation exhibit.

This Week's Garden Tips for the Area

Succession sowings for a long period of bloom and vegetable production may be continued. Plant seed in moist drills—a bit deeper than earlier in the season — to speed germination and avoid the necessity for frequent watering.

* * *

Make sure all the early blooming bulbs have had their withered blooms snipped off immediately below the swelling seed sacs—and most of them will appreciate a feeding of bone meal scratched lightly in the soil as they go into their underground development periods.

* * *

Keep ahead of the weeds. Frequently cultivation makes the job easier and can be done with a pronged cultivator. If the weeds get ahead, it means hand pulling which is apt to disturb the root system of desired plants. Keeping down weeds also is a means of conserving water.

* * *

* * *

Transplant irises as soon as their blooming period is over—and look for rhizomes which have been attacked by insects. Destroy these. Prepare the iris beds carefully—they like alkaline soil—and set the rhizomes into the ground rather than planting them into the soil. Roots will reach out into the soil from their surface positions.

* * *

The earlier perennial and biennial seed is planted, the longer they have to develop into healthly, well-rooted plants for next year's bloom.

* * *

Cherry Flies Need Spraying

Insects Show Increase in Oakland County and Surrounding Areas

Although they're a little behind schedule, cherry fruit flies have shown up in force in Oakland and surrounding counties.

"Cherry growers should get a spray on before Saturday," warns Hans H. Haugard, assistant county agricultural agent.

He advises spraying three times thereafter, at seven-day intervals.

"Two pounds of lead arsenate is recommended, in conjunction with the usual fungicide. If the grower prefers, he can use methoxychlor at the manufacturer's recommendations."

"Growers should remember that Michigan State law prevents the sale of cherries that are infested with fruit fly maggots," he stated.

Shady Spots Bloom With Proper Care

Don't be downhearted about gardening just because your yard has lots of shade. Make the most of it.

Many plants prefer shade. You can develop beauty spots that sunny-side gardeners will envy.

The big key to success in shady gardening is understanding the problems. An obvious one is the lack of sunlight. Others, though, aren't so easy to pin-point.

If trees are the source of your shade, you're up against the double troubles of dryness and poor soil. Trees not only act as rain-shedding umbrellas, but their greedy roots rob the soil of food and moisture.

A semi-starved area extends out as far as the branch tips and often farther. So you'll have to plan on soil improvement, extra feeding and watering.

Here are flowers and plants that do well in shaded areas:

Perennial flowers for shade include bulbs, wild flowers, anemone, astilbe, bleeding heart, columbine, coral-bell, forget-me-not, lungwort, phlox, primrose, plantain-lily, lily-of-the-valley.

Groundcovers to use where grass won't grow — or for easier maintenance — include Vinca minor, wintercreeper euonymus, pachysandra, English ivy. The first two are the hardiest.

Quality of Equipment Overshadows Price

EAST LANSING—Repairs, reputation and requirements are the "three R's" in buying farm equipment, reminds George Amundson, veteran extension agricultural engineer at Michigan State College.

The service a farmer can expect and the available parts in a profit-threatening breakdown mean more than a brand name. Reputations of the mnufacturer and dealer mean more than advertising programs, he says.

A small piece of equipment proves more expensive than a large one if it cannot handle the job when the chips are down, states Amundson.

Michigan farmers who spend about $100 per acre of crops on farm machinery each year can afford to spend a little time checking their value, suggests Amundson. Safety features are important, he notes.

Detroit Women's Club Drops Rule, Has Bar

DETROIT (AP) — The Women's City Club of Detroit has a bar now—pardon, a lounge.

For its 35 years of existence the 8,000-member club got along without one.

At a preview yesterday Mrs John P. Carritte, club president, said it was decided finally to abandon precedent because of "many demands over the years." She gently but firmly asked that it be referred to as a "lounge."

Mexico Changes Stand on Reds

Country Ready to Ask for Study of Infiltration in Guatemala

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico, a chief critic of U. S. efforts to fight communism in the Americas, stood ready today to join in a hemispheric study of charges that the Reds boss neighboring Guatemala.

Acting Foreign Minister Jose Gorostiza announced last night his government would go along with the "general sentiment" among the American republics for such a review.

Since Mexico has been one of Guatemala's staunchest defenders in this hemisphere, her consent virtually assured the holding of an inter-American conference to find out what is going on in the banana-producing republic 1,000 miles northwest of the Panama Canal.

* * *

Gorostiza's statement recalled that under the Rio de Janeiro defense pact any country is entitled to ask for a meeting to discuss defense matters. Thus, he said, Mexico "is in accord" with recent informal proposals for a session.

There was no indication yet who would call the conference. The United States would like to see one of the Latin republics take the lead.

At the Inter-American Conference in Caracas last March Mexico was one of three countries which did not support a U.S.-sponsored resolution condemning Red infiltration in the Americas. She abstained along with Argentina. Guatemala voted against it.

* * *

The United States argued that establishment of a Communist government in the Americas was intervention from abroad, to be combated under the terms of the Rio defense pact.

Mexico's Foreign Minister Luis Padillo Nervo argued that it was a country's own affair if it wanted to set up a Red government.

The apparent reversal of this policy by last night's announcement raised speculation here about Padilla Nervo's future. The foreign minister has not been at his office for the past week and is reported suffering from "nervous exhaustion."

* * *

American concern over Communist influence in Guatemala came to a head last month when the Latin-American republic on Mexico's southern border received 10 million dollars worth of arms shipped from Red Poland. The United States promptly increased arms aid to neighboring Nicaragua and Costa Rica.

Dulles Details Red Imperialism

Says Communists May Seek to Force U. S. Out of Pacific

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles says there is a danger that Communist China may try to capture "free world positions in the western Pacific with a view to driving the United States back to California."

Without specifying which positions he had in mind, he warned the Red Chinese to keep "hands off."

Addressing the San Francisco World Affairs Council in a brief stopover last night in a whirlwind West Coast tour, he said if Red aggression occurs in the western Pacific the United States will consider it a "direct threat."

"We would we hope with the help of the U.N., deal with it." He added, however, that even without the help of its allies, the United States would consider such Communist advances "a direct challenge."

* * *

"Our action would not depend upon others but . . . upon what was vital to the security of the United States," he said.

He also said any attempt to extend "European" political systems to South America would be considered a danger to the United States.

He said the recent arms shipment to Guatemala in Central America from Communist Poland caused a "major shift of power" in South America.

Urges Oppenheimer Be Hired by British

LONDON (AP)—The Conservative Daily Mail urged Britain today to find a job for Dr. Robert Oppenheimer, suspended adviser to the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission.

"Should we waste men like Oppenheimer?" was the headline on the article by William Hardcastle. His conclusion: "The Western Allies can't afford to."

U. S. investigators recently held Oppenheimer was a "loyal citizen" but a security risk and said he should not be reinstated in his post. His case now awaits final action by the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission.

Wills $2,000 to Police for Their Kindly Aid

The will said the money was given "in recognition of the help given me by members of the force in crossing streets since my sight became impaired." Reily died Saturday.

Boys Thrown in Coop for Owning an Egg

TOKYO (AP)—Police caught up today with four boy bandits accused of stealing 42 birds from the Tokyo zoo and selling them for money to go to the movies.

The youths claimed ownership of an egg laid during the escapade. Police seized the egg as evidence and threw the boys in the coop.

Derbies, Bonnets Will Mark GOP Centennial

JACKSON (AP) — Black derbies and sunbonnets will be the latest headgear fashion in Jackson shortly. The reminders of a by-gone era are going on sale Friday and Saturday in connection with Jackson's "Freedom Festival" July 4-10.

MacGinnis (Martin Luther) Gets Offer

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — While Lana Turner and Clark Gable were in Holland and England filming "Betrayed" they, as well as Lex Barker, became very good friends with Niall MacGinnis.

He played a role in "Betrayed," and all of them later spent 10 days at a hunting lodge.

Now, MGM has cabled MacGinnis to ask him to play Nahreeb, the scheming high priest in "The Prodigal." If he can finish "Helen of Troy" he'll be here on his first visit to our town.

Of MacGinnis, who is remembered for his portrayal of Martin Luther, Lana says, "Besides being a fine, intelligent actor, Niall writes short stories in his spare time and he was a successful practicing physician only a few years ago."

Walt Disney took time off to go to see his daughter, Sharon, graduate. But I did manage to get the news that Norman Foster is signed on the Disney lot to direct a TV series called "Frontier Films" to be shown at the new Disneyland.

The TV group will be based on the exploits of legendary characters such as Davey Crockett, Paul Bunyan and Daniel Boone. As Disney puts it, "The stories will be based on characters who are real, and also on legendary characters who seem real — actually, American folklore."

Whispers in the air sometimes turn out to be real stories. In other words, Elizabeth Taylor wants her MGM bosses to let her play the top role in the film version of "I Am a Camera," which will be made in England.

Henry Cornelius was out on the set of "This Is Paris" at MGM and had quite a talk with Liz. She'd love to make another picture in the land where she was born and where her husband, Mike Wilding, lived until he met her. But I can't say Liz has the job or that MGM will let her go.

According to Alvin Manuel, if Liz doesn't do it, Dorothy Tulin, who played "I am a Camera" on the London stage is next in line for the motion picture version.

There will soon be a Marilyn Monroe doll on the market, brought out by an eastern concern.

Helen Traubel, God bless her, is going to Korea for two weeks in January 1955. Two years ago she went there for Christmas and the boys loved her.

Jean Peters is wanted in Hollywood to play opposite Clark Gable in "The Tall Men." Bet that will bring her back. But she'll have time for a honeymoon at that.

Roosevelt Row Is Being Settled

Attorneys Report Suits on Separation Being Settled Privately

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The James Roosevelts are settling privately the sizzling separation row in which she accused him of adultery with a dozen women.

Their attorneys announced this yesterday, two days after the late President's eldest son won Democratic nomination for Congress in California's 26th District in a state primary election.

An attorney for Mrs. Romelle Roosevelt said the agreement whereby her separate maintenance suit and her husband's divorce action will go off the Pasadena Superior Court calendar did not result from his political victory.

• • •

Lawyers for neither side would disclose settlement terms, nor would they comment on these published reports:

That Mrs. Roosevelt, 38, will receive under the agreement more than the $1,625 monthly awarded temporarily by a court last February for support of herself and the couple's three children pending trial of the suits.

That the Roosevelts, separated since last Aug. 20, will stay married for at least a year so that the wife can be assured that her husband will abide by the agreement's terms.

That when she does ask a divorce, she will not use a 1945 letter in which Roosevelt admitted infidelities with nine women and that she will drop her charges of adultery with three other women.

Roosevelt has denied he was intimate with any of the dozen women. The 46-year-old insurance man declared he was blackmailed into signing the 1945 letter to stop his wife from divorcing him and adding to the burdens of his father, President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Roosevelt's attorney Arthur Schifferman, said neither side is dismissing its suit.

Plot Suspect Being Quizzed

Florida Man Arrested in Probe of Conspiracy to Murder Case

BARTOW, Fla. (AP)—Questioning of a new alleged triggerman was the big order of business today in the investigation of the Lake Wales murder-for-profit plot.

This man, Raymond James, 32, a Pensacola millhand, was arrested there yesterday on a charge of conspiring to murder K. H. Gerlach. He was brought here during the night.

• • •

Sheriff Pat Gordon said he had information that James agreed to kill Gerlach, 81-year-old wealthy Lake Wales calendar manufacturer, for $5,000 but balked when principals would pay only $2,500 in advance.

• • •

In this case James is accused of conspiring with Willard Durden, Orlando building contractor, and Emmett Donnelly, Lake Wales lawyer. Donnelly killed himself Tuesday after being released in bond in three other murder conspiracy cases.

Durden and Donnelly were arrested Monday and charged with a second conspiracy against Gerlach's life and plots to kill two wealthy widows, Mrs. Byrd Roach of Lake Wales and Mrs. Louise Hawley of Orlando.

• • •

Sheriff Gordon said Durden confessed to these three conspiracies with Donnelly alone, and that Durden tagged the lawyer the mastermind. He was freed in $5,000 bond.

Donnelly handled the financial affairs of all three and stood to profit by an unchecked handling of their funds when they died, investigators said. Durden admitted he was to get $25,000 for arranging the deaths of each one, Gordon said.

But Durden, rearrested after James was brought into the case, denied knowing anything about a plot with James. He was held in default of $15,000 bond.

Motorama Film Part of Program at Local Theater

"Going Places," a 10-minute color film reviewing the 1954 GM Motorama is a part of the regular program beginning today at the Oakland Theater through Monday.

Pontiac Motor Division and GMC Truck and Coach Division both played important parts in the Motorama, which was hailed nationally as the greatest industrial show ever staged. It drew nearly 2,000,000 people in the five cities it visited.

The famed dream cars and the Kitchen of Tomorrow are among the Motorama highlights covered in the film.

Jewelers Sweep 2 Games in Exhibition Softball Play

Shaw's Jewelry swept a pair of games with City Men's League opposition in exhibition play. Stan Hester and Glenn "Wimpy" Johnson poled home runs to pace the Jewelers to an 11-1 victory over Birmingham Riteway.

Both round-trippers came in the 6th inning. Hester's clout brought in three runs and Johnson's scored two.

Second game saw Shaw's down Stadium Inn, 3-1. Hester again paced the winners at the plate, with two hits in three trips.

General Motors remained in 2nd place in girls' league standings by dumping Shaw's 9-7, despite being outhit 2-4. Avondale forfeited to Gingellville in a 2nd scheduled girls' game.

Draper, Sharp Are Medalists at Blythefield

Lead Qualifiers With Eight-Under-Par 65's on Thursday

Draper and Sharp fired 8-under par 65's to finish two strokes ahead of Bill Pettibone of Red Run, and Howard Schaefer, of Flint, 1951 medalists.

A 2-under-par 71 was the magic number for entry into the championship flight of 16 teams shooting for the title won last year by Roy Taylor, of Blythefield, and Chuck Kocsis, of Detroit. Taylor and Kocsis automatically gained this year's championship round.

Teams which failed to qualify for the championship flight will play in lesser flights today and Saturday.

Other qualifying teams for the championship flight were:

Bob Babbish and Bud Gould, of Detroit with a 68; Paul Strauch of Green Ridge and Bill Tausend of Blythefield, and veterans, C. J. Farley of Blythefield and Ray Palmer of Grosse Isle, also at 68.

Ten teams shot 71 and a playoff for the championship flight was expected until Detroiters, J. W. Atelean and H. Van Hollenbeck, who had left the course, were contacted and decided to take a place in the 1st flight.

Three teams considered strong contenders just made it in the 71 bracket — Harold Brink and Herman Miller of Green Ridge, Joel Shepherd and Bill Walsh, both of Kalamazoo, and Lou Wendrow and Bud Reniger, former Blythefield invitational champions.

Others who will challenge Taylor and Kocsis are George Gentley of Detroit and John Jessup of South Bend, Ira Shy and Joe Osplack, both of Detroit, Randy Ahern and Dr. H. MacGreagor, Ed Larson and Charles Beaumonte of Sheboygan, Wis., Sam Greenawalt, Jr., and Joe Tangney, both of Blythefield, and Dr. C. B. Potter of Grosse Ile and Dick Wibel, both of Detroit.

Student Council at Keego Hails Athletic Family

Plaque Honors Last of O'Shaunghnessy 'Clan' at Roosevelt

An unique award will be the highlight of the annual honors assembly this afternoon at Roosevelt High School in Keego Harbor.

The school's student council, represented by vice-president James Deacon, will present a plaque to Lester and Jerry O'Shaunghnessy, last of seven brothers who have starred in all sports at the suburban Pontiac school for many years.

The plaque is in recognition of the athletic achievements of the family, including Alvin (Junior), Marshall, Nelson, Wayne, Earl and finally, Lester and Jerry.

Athletic and student council awards also will be made at the assembly.

Presenting the letters will be coaches Charlie Guinnip (baseball), Sam Minard (basketball), Dale Nelson (golf), Don Bradford (track) and Mrs. Jean Waters (girls' athletics) as well as cheer leader sponsor Betty Murphy.

Four Marks in Danger as College Athletes Meet in Ann Arbor

By JOE FALLS

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Southern California's mighty Trojans, rich in talent as well as manpower, start shooting for their sixth straight NCAA track title in twilight preliminaries this evening on the University of Michigan's Ferry Field.

* * *

The prelims are scheduled to start at 4:30 p.m. (EST), with 375 athletes from 92 schools—a record entry—seeking places in Saturday's 14 final events.

* * *

But even a downpour shouldn't keep Southern California from qualifying a strong team for the finals, which start at 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

* * *

Trojan Coach Jess Mortensen, who has a perfect 3-for-3 record in NCAA competition, has readied a 20-man squad for the prelims. It is the largest team in the bulky field and is expected to double the score of its nearest rival.

Heading Southern California's delegation is Jim Lea, defending champion in the 40-yard dash. Lea has turned in the best time this season in the 440—a flat 47 second clocking. That's the time he won the event in last year.

In addition to the 440, three other meet records appear in jeopardy of falling.

Pittsburgh's Arnie Sowell, a swimmer turned runner, is given a chance to crack the 880 mark, a 1:50.3 set by Pittsburgh's John Woodruff in 1937 and equalled by Mal Whitfield of Ohio State in 1949.

Gene Mathews, Purdue's outstanding two-miler, is a strong possibility to break the meet mark of 9:01.9, set in 1950 by Michigan's Don McEwen. Mathews turned the distance in 8:58.8 at the Central Relays in Milwaukee.

Also, the high jump standard of 6 feet, 10⅞ inches could be toppled. Ernie Shelton of Southern Cal and Chuck Holding of East Texas State each has cleared 6-10.

Rookie Connects, Collects

Giants' Victory Costs Durocher $100, but He's Glad to Pay Off on Home Run

CHICAGO (AP) — Leo Durocher bought the New York Giants a share of first place in the National League for $100.

* * *

The financial transaction came to light today when the New York manager admitted he made the offer when he sent rookie Bill Taylor in to pinch hit in the 10th inning at Milwaukee yesterday.

"I told the players in the dugout 'if he hits a homer I'll give him $100'," Durocher said.

"That cost me $100 and I'm glad to pay it," Durocher said.

* * *

Success in the 10-inning spine tingler demonstrated again that what left New York as virtually a one-man show starring Willie Mays has turned into a team parade with everybody getting in on the act.

Ruben Gomez, the Puerto Rican senor who shivers whenever the thermometer dips under 80 degrees, braves the Wisconsin storm clouds and turned in his third shutout.

Mays maintained a part of his starring role. It was his spectacular catch and throw to the plate that nipped Henry Aaron trying to score in the seventh inning.

* * *

The western trip, on which the Giants have won eight out of nine games, has brought an end to Al Dark's prolonged hitting slump. The team's captain left New York with an anemic .244 average. Today he's an even .300. On the trip he's been blasting at a .511 clip and he has made four hits in three different games.

Monte Irvin has improved, too. His average isn't much better but his hits have been more timely.

The Giants, picked to finish third in a pre-season poll of the nation's experts, started fast, stumbled slightly and then pulled even with Brooklyn at the top of the pack Wednesday.

Better Than TV!

Rocky Goes All-Out in Sparring Sessions

GROSSINGER, N. Y. (AP)—Training camp or Yankee Stadium, it's all the same to heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano to whom every round is a "war."

* * *

For one buck, spectators at Rocky's airport drill shed see more action than they usually will see in most headline shows each week.

As a matter of fact, Rocky, in one 10-second trade with Willie Wilson yesterday, produced more fireworks than the recent Coley Wallace-Bill Gilliam and Joe Baksi-Bob Baker television fights put together.

Rocky's sparring partners, Wilson, Bob Golden, Toxie Hall and Keen Simmons are told by Manager Al Weill to "get in there and fight."

They do just that. But they wear heavily padded headguards and 16 ounce gloves. Six ounce mittens are used for championship fights.

Rocky dishes it out in camp and takes it, too. The champ is a puncher and takes his lumps to get in his own blockbusters, like he does in fights.

The champion absorbed plenty of punches, especially left hooks in a four round drill yesterday with Wilson, Hall and Simmons. He rested today. He'll wind up his boxing on Saturday and Sunday unless Weill decides Rocky needs more sparring.

Unheralded Pro Is Impressive in Tourney Debut

Texan Palmer Lawrence Tied for 2nd in Open at Virginia Beach

By ROBERT MOORE

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP)—The eyes of Texas might well be focused today on another of the Lone Star State's native sons—Palmer Lawrence.

* * *

For Lawrence, a 27-year-old rust-haired fellow from Arlington, Tex., may well become one of the next big stars in big time professional golf's spotlight.

* * *

Lawrence made his debut yesterday on the tournament circuit and carved a neat 4-under par 65 in the opening round of the $15,000 Virginia Beach Open being played over the par 69 Cavalier Yacht and Country Club layout.

Palmer's performance left him tied with three other aces for second place and only a stroke behind temperamental Tommy Bolt of Houston, Tex., as the tournament moved today into its second round.

The unheralded pro made six birdies—three on each nine—in his first competitive round over the 6,065-yard course.

Deadlocked with Lawrence a stroke behind Bolt were Leo Biagetti of Sandusky, Ohio; Gardner Dickinson of Palm Springs, Calif. and Shelley Mayfield of Chicopee, Mass.

* * *

Four were tied with 66's, Lloyd Mangrum of Niles, Ill.; Johnny Palmer of Charlotte, N. C.; Ivan Gantz of Elmwood, Ind., and amateur Thomas W. Strange Jr. of Norfolk, Va.

Eight others carded 67's and five 68's, making a total of 22 who bettered par. Defending champion Doug Ford of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., toured the course in one-over par 70.

U. S. Is Favored in Britain Test

Connolly, Hart and Mrs. Du Pont Rated Over Britishers

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — America's women tennis players ruled overwhelming favorites to rack up their 18th straight Wightman Cup victory over the British here today and tomorrow.

* * *

Two singles matches and one doubles are scheduled on each of the days and the English girls don't figure to win a single match, possibly not even a set.

* * *

Maureen Connolly of San Diego, Calif., the world's No. 1 woman player, meets Helen Fletcher in one of the opening singles today. The other sends Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., the United States' No. 2 player, against young Ann Shilcock.

Mrs. Margaret Osborne du Pont, U. S. cup captain, surprisingly named herself for the doubles and teamed with Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., against Angela Buxton and Pat Hird.

Wes Ready for Try at World's Record

By BOB MYERS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It was a confident Wes Santee of Kansas and a cautious Josy Barthel of Luxembourg who awaited their duel at one mile in Memorial Coliseum tonight.

Opposing each other for the first time, Santee, America's premier miler, was favored to defeat the 1,500-meter champion of the 1952 Olympic games.

* * *

Apparently the race was to be more of a man against man struggle than a run against the clock. But Santee, for one, felt that he might match or break the epic record of 3:59.4 set last May 6 at Oxford by England's Roger Bannister, if all conditions are right.

The clash, scheduled to start at 8:50 p.m. (10:50 p.m. EST), was on the program as a special invitational event of the Southern Pacific AAU district track and field meet.

Entered against the headliners, as pace makers if nothing else, were Sture Landvquist of Sweden and Bjorn Bogerud of Norway.

* * *

Santee, in what may be his last major race of the year—he goes into summer training June 14 at Quantico, Va., with the Marine Corps—is the logical selection.

* * *

Just last Friday at nearby Compton, the 22-year-old Kansan ran the second fastest mile in history—4:00.6—for a new American record. And en route to the mile finish he bettered the world 1,500 meter record with a time of 3:42.8.

The race tonight also will be clocked at 1,500 meters, roughly 120 yards less than a mile.

* * *

Barthel has nothing to approach the Santee marks this year, because as he explained, "I have not had the competition." He has been studying to gain a master's degree at Harvard and running has been strictly secondary.

Barthel said he expects to run the mile in 4:02 or 4:03—maybe even slower on a track that is regarded as slow. "Who knows what we will run for sure?" he inquired.

Dryer's 1-Hitter Wins for Dairy

Shutout Triumph Gains Third Place Spot in Township Loop

Bruce Dryer hurled a 1-hitter at Township Park in Drayton Plains Thursday night as Richardson Dairy shut out Dixie Recreation, 7-0, in a Waterford Township Softball League contest.

Dryer struck out 7, walked 4, and retired 13 men in a row at one stretch. The only hit he yielded was a solid single in the 2nd inning by Don Hill. The victory moved the Dairymen into 3rd place ahead of Recreation.

In Little League action, Williams Lake routed Del's Service, 15-2, as Duane Hooper homered for the Lakers.

Writer Tires of Alibis by Star Runners

Says Santee, Landy Should Let Performance Speak for Itself

By PAT ROBINSON

NEW YORK (INS) — It is hard to fault a runner who can turn in a 4:00.6 mile as Wes Santee, the tall Kansan, did the other day.

That is the fastest mile ever turned in by an American runner and track experts are inclined to agree with the not too bashful Santee that he can do better.

But we should like to see a little more stress laid on performance rather than on promise. A little less talk and a little faster running seems indicated.

Santee said a chill wind hampered his efforts in his last start but we noticed that he passed the 1500-meter mark in record time.

Apparently the chill wind hadn't bothered him up to then and if he had it in him he should have beaten Roger Bannister's world mark (3:59.4) for the mile.

Up to now Santee always has had some excuse for not doing better—track conditions were off, or the pace was wrong, or the wind bothered him.

In this respect he has been like that other great miler from Australia, John Landy, who has had an alibi after every race. Of course, it may be said that any runner who runs as close to four minutes as these fellows always do, doesn't need an alibi.

Santee will have all the competition he can handle for running against him will be Josy Barthel. And if they hit the last 100 yards together Los Angeles is going to see one of the greatest mile finishes in track history.

Brief Reports From Majors

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Senators have come up with a promising rookie hurler in Dean Stone. The 6-4, 200 pound southpaw posted his fourth straight victory without a setback yesterday as he turned back the Cleveland Indians 8-4. Stone pitched for Chattanooga in the Southern Assn. last season where he compiled an 8-10 won-lost record.

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Granny Hamner of the Phils, continuing his sensational stickwork, boasted a 15-game hitting streak today. The veteran infielder extended his skein yesterday with a double as Philadelphia blanked the Chicago Cubs 6-0. During the span, Hamner has collected 26 hits in 61 trips—a .426 clip.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati's Gus Bell has located the home run range again. The slugging outfielder, who belted 30 home runs last season, homered in the Redlegs' 6-0 triumph over Pittsburgh yesterday for his third round-tripper in two days. Bell now has seven circuit clouts this year.

Jersey Joe Names Ez Charles to Win

GROSSINGER, N. Y. (INS)—Former champion Jersey Joe Walcott, professional prognosticator of late, has fought both opponents a total of seven times and says that Ezzard Charles will beat heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano next Thursday in Yankee Stadium.

Walcott, who took the title from Charles in July, 1951, only to lose it to Marciano, watched Charles work out yesterday at Monticello, N. Y., and then moved over to the Marciano camp at Grossinger where the champ came out of a four-round sparring match with a bloody nose.

The ancient battler said Charles was "the best boxer I ever met."

Car Racing Fans Promised Plenty Action at Speedway

Roadsters, "big" cars and midgets all invade the Pontiac M-59 Speedway for a big program of automobile racing Saturday night.

The speedy little roadsters and large Indianapolis-type cars will race together, while one special race involving the midget autos will be held.

On the card are a 4-lap dash, five heat races of 6 laps each, a 10-lap Australian pursuit, 14-car semi-final event and 10-car feature race. Affair is attracting drivers from Ohio and Ontario as well as Michigan.

Among the entries are Glen Rockey of Muskegon; Henry Wilson of Cleveland, O.; Clair Lawicki of Detroit; and Shorty Fitzgerald, midget racing veteran from Fredericktown, O.

At least four Pontiac cars will be entered including Abe Cutean's Riley Special, Gordon Vanderlind in Jack Mitchell's car; Lloyd Stevens, owner-driver of his Miller Special; and Max Peacock, who drives his own Dreyer Special.

Bob Williams of Flint will drive a car owned by Tom Cross of St. Clair Shores, while other entries are driven by Harold Erhart of Adrian and Willie Eiseman of Ann Arbor.

Buddy Woods of Detroit, one of the few Negro car owners in business, is expected to have his Miller Special (an ex-Indianapolis car) on hand, although he has no driver as yet.

Several Lansing-owned cars are entered including those of Rondie

CLAIR LAWICKI

Harris, Pete Stackable (driven by Ron Harris of Ionia) and two by Ed Heiser, driven by Clair Ferris and Bob Taylor.

The Ontario driver is Howard Menard of Windsor, driving a car owned by John Bohas of Dearborn. The engine in Bohas' car is completely home designed and built. It will be the car's 1st test in competition.

Time trials Saturday night start at 7 p.m. with the 1st race at 8:30 p.m.

Successful Golf Party

For Bob Lohff, Pontiac golfer, playing in the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants golf tourney, Tuesday, it was a really successful affair.

Bob aced the No. 4 hole at Lakepointe Golf Club, where the party took place. He hit a six iron shot that "was in all the way". The ace gave Lohiff an 84 for the round on a 46-38 card. Lohff is associated here with the Ernst & Ernst organization.

RYE, N. Y. (AP) — John Ellis Knowles, five times champion from Rye, N. Y., and Frank D. Ross, last year's winner from West Hartford, Conn., were still very much in the running today for the National Seniors golf championship.

Open Should Be Easiest Tourney to Win Since Pressure Puts Most Top Golfers Above Average

* * *

"This is a point I shouldn't bring up now," he said, "for some of the smart boys may use it as a tip. I should keep this remark to myself, and work on it. The point is this—

* * *

"The U. S. Open is not the hardest tournament to win. It is the easiest of them all. Most of the field, including the leading stars, get all tied up with tension and play badly. The average scoring is five or six shots higher than it should be.

* * *

Look what it has done to Sammy Snead for nearly twenty years. How many Opens did Horton Smith ever win? Or Light Horse Harry Cooper? Or Joe Turnesa? Or Jimmy Demaret, who has won three Masters? How many U. S. Opens has Dutch Harrison ever won? How about Fred Haas and Ed Oliver?

"I'll admit we have had two exceptions after 1910, when the pace became hot. The two exceptions were Bobby Jones and Ben Hogan, who won four each. I'll tell you something—Bob and Ben were two pretty smart guys. Don't think they never understood the situation.

* * *

Both admit they had worked on this idea—realizing the Open was the easiest big tournament to win, if they only played fair golf. Look at Jones—Bob ran one-two in eight out of nine Opens.

He didn't play as well as he could play. He didn't play as well as I've seen him play. But he refused to be in a high state of tension and he played well enough to win.

"I'll tell you more what I mean about the Open being the easiest tournament to win in a scoring way. I checked recently the showing of the tournament leaders for several years in cross-country tournament play. Their average in the Open was well above their average around the circuit.

* * *

"Now if fellows like Bob Toski, Julius Boros, who has won one, Bo Winninger, Chandler Harper, Doug Ford and others—all good, steady experienced golfers—could say to themselves, 'This is just another tournament it would be entirely different.'"

Jockey Thrown, but Re-Mounts to Win Triple

NEW YORK (INS)—Jockey Ted Atkinson scored a triple victory at Belmont park the hard way Thursday, climbing back on a five-year-old horse that threw him to the ground unconscious to win the final race.

As the field in the 8th race headed toward the starting gate, Atkinson's mount, Thymus, collided with Deep River and unseated both Atkinson and Jim Nichols. Atkinson was knocked temporarily unconscious while the Gilbert Gay colt ran a quarter of a mile before his capture by an outrider.

Atkinson leaped aboard Thymus again and thrilled a crowd of 18,103 with a victory that paid $8.70. Nichols finished 2nd on Deep River. Ted had won earlier on Milanza and Flapper.

White Sox, Yankees Open Big Series Tonight

By BEN PHLEGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

If you feel the urge to make a friendly wager on tonight's big clash between the Chicago White Sox and the New York Yankees, you might consider backing the Yanks to win by one run while using at least two pitchers.

* * *

The two teams have met four times so far. New York has won three of the four, always with two or more pitchers. And every one of the games has been decided by a single run.

* * *

The white hot White Sox come into Yankee Stadium for a four game series leading the American League by a game and a half. They've won 16 of their last 19, 7 of them in a row.

But a lot of visiting winning streaks have become mere memories in the vast reaches of the Bronx stadium which taunts the visitors with the slogan, "The Home of Champions."

The last time Paul Richards' hustlers lost two in a row to the same team was the last Yankee series in Chicago when the White Sox led after seven innings in each game only to be beaten 4-3 and 3-2.

The White Sox have visited New York once before this spring. They had won seven out of eight and were leading the league when they arrived April 27. And they proceeded to beat the Yanks 4-3 on Minnie Minoso's two-run homer.

But after a rainout, the White Sox lost the second game as the Yanks twice came from behind and won 5-4 on pinch hits by Enos Slaughter and Eddie Robinson.

* * *

* * *

Cleveland fell a game and a half behind Chicago by losing to Washington 8-4. Baltimore took a pair from Boston 5-1 and 9-0.

The New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers continued to share first place in the National League. The Giants edged Milwaukee 1-0 on Bill Taylor's 10th inning pinch hit homer. The Dodgers beat St. Louis 7-4. Philadelphia defeated Chicago 6-0 and Fred Baczewski pitched Cincinnati to a 6-0 victory over Pittsburgh.

* * *

The Dodgers broke a two-game slump with a 13-hit attack on Vic Raschi and Stu Miller. The loss was Raschi's second straight after winning his first five in the National League.

Washington jumped on Bob Lemon of Cleveland for five runs in the third inning, three of them coming after George Strickland threw wild on a potential double play ball. Dean Stone, a rookie, won his fourth straight for the Senators.

* * *

Boston's hopes of climbing out of second division received a double setback from Joe Coleman and Duane Pillette of the Orioles. Coleman spaced seven hits in winning his seventh game in the opener. Pillette allowed only five in the nightcap shutout. Sam Mele homered with a man aboard in the first game and Clint Courtney duplicated the feat in the second game for the Orioles.

Woodvale Stables Sell 18 Horses at Auction

NEW YORK, June 10 (AP) — Three racing stables disposed of their stock Thursday in a public auction at Belmont Park which saw a total of 68 horses go on the block for $497,300.

* * *

The biggest dispersal was that of Woodvale Farm, owned by the late Royce G. Martin. This stable sold 18 thoroughbreds for $194,500, an average of $10,805. Martin died in Lexington, Ky., on Kentucky Derby day May 1.

The average for the entire sale, which involved numerous stables, was $7,313.

One of Woodvale's best known thoroughbreds, Goyamo, winner of the Blue Grass and Bahama Stakes and fourth place finisher in both the Derby and Preakness, was not included in the lot. He will be sold later.

* * *

Other stables to dispose of their stock were the Yolo Stable of Mr. and Mrs. John Deblois Wack of Santa Barbara, Calif., and the stable of Tinkham Veale II of Cleveland.

Leonard Wood Team Wins 5th Army Meet

CHICAGO, June 11 (AP) — Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., swept 12 firsts and piled up 136½ points Thursday to win the Fifth Army track championship at the University of Chicago.

Camp Carson, Colo., was second with 93½, followed by Fort Riley, Kan., with 28 and Fort Sheridan, Ill., with 7.

Cpl. Gastonia Finch, Trenton, N.J., stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, set an All-Army 440-yard record with a time of :49.4.

Rain Halts SVC Title Battle

Central-Pontiac Clash Washed Out at Flint Yesterday

An attempt to re-schedule the game for this afternoon was being made this morning. Since final exams start next week and school is slated to end next Friday, today is the only possible date left to play the game.

The two teams currently are tied for the lead in SVC standings with 8-1 records.

Neither team scored during the 1 2-3 innings played yesterday. Pontiac's Colle Hunt posted the game's only hit, a 1st-inning single. When the game was called, Central had two men on base with two out and pitcher Larry Horde at bat.

Canadian, U. S. Golfers Tied

Bobby Locke and Jerry Barber Are 1st Day's Top Winners

TORONTO, June 10 (AP)—Canada and the United States split the points Thursday as play opened in the Hopkins Trophy international golf matches.

The 1st 18-hole matches in the three-day match play tournament between six-man teams of top Canadian and United States professionals, each squad had nine points apiece.

* * *

The big point-winners were South Africa's Bobby Locke, playing on the Canadian team as an honorary member of the Canadian Professional Golfers Assn.; Gordie Brydson, also a member of the Dominion's squad, and Jerry Barber of the United States.

* * *

* * *

Marty Furgol of the United States picked up 2½ points, Chandler Harper 2 and Walt Burkemo 1½ to account for the remainder of the American points.

Californians Gain Kent's Semifinals

BECKENHAM, England (AP)—Two Californians and another who learned his tennis on the West Coast courts, held down three of the brackets in the semifinal round of the Kent championships today.

* * *

Art Larsen of San Leandro, 1950 United States champion, met Neil Fraser, a young Australian, in one of the matches and Hugh Stewart of Los Angeles tangled with ex-Californian Bob Falkenburg of Brazil in the other.

* * *

Stewart, ranked 16th in the U.S., pulled the big upset yesterday when he eliminated fourth ranked Gardnar Mulloy of Miami, Fla., 6-1, 3-6, 6-1.

Injured Foot Sends Woodling to Sidelines

Woodling fouled a ball off the toe during batting practice before Thursday's game with Detroit. Blood was drawn from beneath the nail to relieve pressure by trainer Gus Mauch and then the player went to Lenox Hill Hospital for X-rays.

PCC's Two Divisions May Join for Basketball Play

By JACK HEWINS

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—Basketball players of the Pacific Coast Conference will make the grand tour of the loop starting in 1956 if plans to merge the present two divisions prove workable.

A committee was named to check all the angles as the conference closed its four-day spring meeting yesterday.

Since the early 1920s the PCC has been split into Northern and Southern divisions for basketball competition, with the winners of the pennants meeting in a title playoff. Problems of travel and financing are to be worked out by the committee, headed by Conference Commissioner Victor O. Schmidt, with a report on progress at the December meeting in Pasadena, Calif.

Working with Schmidt will be Wilbur Johns of UCLA, R. S. (Spec) Keene of Oregon State, Rixford Snyder of Stanford and H. P. (Dick) Everest of Washington. Everest, who also acts as conference spokesman, said it was likely the conference-wide program would go into effect in 1956.

Mae Jones Wins Eastern Test by 11 Strokes

* * *

The 28-year-old wife of a Montpelier, Vt., granite dealer not only won the Women's Eastern Golf Assn. championship yesterday with 221—11 strokes ahead of defending champion Mary Ann Downey of Baltimore—but broke two tournament records to boot.

Mrs. Jones' opening day round of 71 bettered the record for 18 holes set by Pat O'Sullivan of Orange in 1948 when the latter had a 72. Her final 221 was seven better than the record for the 54 holes which was set in 1938 by Maureen Orcutt.

* * *

It was Mrs. Jones' first major tournament victory in the 13 years she has been playing competitive golf.

Lothery Hurls Three-Hitter as Jets Take Win

Winners Now Within Half-Game of Glass A Leaders

Pontiac Jets' Russ Lothery pitched a 3-hitter yesterday as his mates won their 3rd victory in four City Class A Baseball League starts, 11-1, over Auburn Merchants.

Lothery went the route for the winners, striking out seven and walking two. Merchants' only run came in the 3rd inning, when Ed Pace walked, advanced on Ernie Meeker's single and a passed ball and came home on DeWayne Sheffer's sacrifice fly.

This afternoon's schedule matches GMC and CIO No. 594 at 5:30 p.m. at Wisner Field in the makeup of an earlier postponed game.

Utah Deer Hunters May Enjoy 'Bonus' Seasons

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Deer hunters are likely to get a bonus in Utah this year because the animals are thriving so mightily in some areas that they're eating themselves out of house and home.

The situation, which arises periodically in nearly all the important deer states, probably will be met here by special early, late and two-deer hunts in overcrowded areas.

All-Star Baseball Team Balloting Begins Today

CHICAGO (AP)—The 23-day, worldwide All-Star baseball poll opened today with fans casting ballots for starting American and National League lineups for the 21st interleague game in Cleveland July 13.

The voters will name eight players for each team, one at each position except pitcher. The hurlers will be selected by the All-Star managers, Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees and Walter Alston of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Chicago Tribune, clearing house for the votes, said that more than 200 newspapers, radio and television stations in the United States, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and Mexico, will co-operate in conducting the poll.

American military and civilian personnel in Europe, Japan, Korea and the Philippine, Mariana and Aleutian Islands also will cast ballots for their favorites.

A record vote total may be reached, surpassing the 4,637,743 count set in 1949. Last year's total coared to 4,430,338.

Yankee Homers Off Branca Send Detroit Below .500

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The struggling Detroit Tigers moved in today hopeful of regaining some prestige at the expense of the last place Philadelphia Athletics on the last stop of a sad road tour.

Tigers bowed for the 12th time in 17 games of their road trip to the New York Yankees yesterday, 9-5, falling below the .500 mark for the first time this season.

Manager Fred Hutchinson's boys were really on the spot here. They had to do something against the lowly A's (17-33) or give up almost all present claim to distinction. It is a five-game series.

Yogi Berra, Bobby Brown and Mickey Mantle wee the Yankee bad men against Detroit. Each hit his homer off Branca, who lost his 1st game, in the role of relief, against three victories.

About all that cheered Detroit was Frank House's 4th home run and two more hits by Harvey Kuenn. Kuenn's blows gave him an impressive record of nine hits in 12 times up in the Yankee series.

New York chased starter Al Aber in the 1st with three runs but the Tigers tied it in the fourth off Jim McDonald on two walks and singles by Ray Boone, Al Kaline and Kuenn.

The roof started to fall in the 5th. Berra hit his homer, his 9th. In the 6th Brown hit his 1st, with a man on base, and Mantle followed with his 11th.

By this time Branca was done and though the Tigers got two in the 7th on House's homer scoring Kuenn the Yanks got another pair off Bob Miller in their half.

When Tigers finish up at Philadelphia in a doubleheader Sunday, they'll go home to face an eastern invasion starting with a visit by the Boston Red Sox on Tuesday. The A's, Yanks and Washington follow.

'Darkhorse' Threats Fill U. S. Open Field

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

* * *

Off the records, the answer to all three questions seems to be "no". The last amateur to win the Open was Johnny Goodman in 1932. No real "dark horse" pro has won since Sam Parks Jr. in 1935 and Tony Manero in 1936. And not since big, pipe-smoking Ted Ray took the title to England in 1920 has an invader made off with the title.

* * *

But the 162-man field which will start play at Baltusrol next Thursday is so well filled with good players who come under those three categories, that almost anything can happen.

The three-man foreign delegation is headed by South Africa's Bobby Locke, who'll be shooting for his seventh United States title since 1947. He finished either third or fourth in four of his six previous attempts; dropped out after 36 holes at Dallas in 1951 and tied for 14th place at Oakmont last year.

Locke, one of the game's finest putters, has had some dazzling rounds this year, notably his 65-65-67-65—262 in a tournament at Johannesburg in March.

Then there's rosy-cheeked young Peter Thomson of Australia. He tied for second behind Hogan in last year's British Open and is a vastly improved golfer after two years on the American tour. The third foreigner is Canada's Rudy Horvath.

The first amateur name that comes to mind is Billy Joe Patton, while Gene Littler, the 1953 amateur champion, heads the list of rookie professionals.

Patton, the carefree "week-end golfer" from Morganton, N. C., hardly can be expected to repeat his feat of the 1954 Masters, when he finished third after giving Hogan and Sam Snead a real scare. But his long hitting should come in handy on Baltusrol's 7,027-yard lower course.

Temperamentally, Littler is Patton's opposite. He's a serious, silent, steady-shooting player who can get down into the 60's regularly. He won the San Diego Open before turning pro last January and since then has finished in the money in every tournament for which he was eligible.

WHAT'S MY LINE?—Ted Williams says this alone is for him after the 1954 baseball season, when he will devote business hours to his fishing tackle business in Miami, Fla.

Giardello Still Is Favored Over Jones Tonight

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—A week ago the news of a "fight fix" attempt startled the nation. Tonight "the" fight is to be held at Madison Square Garden with Joey Giardello boxing Bobby Jones.

* * *

Jones turned down a reported $15,000 bribe, allegedly offered by heavyweight Clarence Henry, to "fix" the Giardello fight and the district attorney's office launched a full scale investigation. For a week Jones has trained with a detective as a bodyguard, day and night.

* * *

Despite the arrests and publicity, Giardello still remains a 2 to 1 favorite over the 28-year-old Oakland, Calif. boxer, just as he did a week ago.

The 10-round middleweight match, scheduled for 9 p. m. (EST), will be carried on network radio (ABC) and television (NBC) with two judges and a referee giving the decision on a round basis.

Jones' record never was too interesting until he upset Gil Turner in March and stopped him in a rematch, both at Philadelphia. As a result he moved up to the No. 7 spot in the middleweight rankings. He is a cagey boxer with a 37-19-8 record for 64 bouts and only 5 knockouts in a career dating back to 1945.

* * *

Giardello was set for a title bout with Bobo Olson in October until he was upset by Pierre Langlois, May 21. He had knocked out Garth Panter, Walter Cartier and Willie Troy in quick succession in a sensational rise toward the top. After the Langlois defeat he was dropped from No. 1 contender to the No. 3 spot. The Philadelphia boxer's record is 49-11-5 for 65 bouts.

* * *

The bout would have attracted great interest in Philadelphia where Jones defeated Turner but it was just another fight in New York until the scandal broke. The D. A. probably will have more detectives in the Garden than paying customers.

Rangers Aiming for 2nd Straight Victory on Turf

Ivory Rangers will bid for their 2nd straight polo victory on the turf field when they clash with the powerful Strawberry Hill team at the Lahser and Eight Mile Road grounds at 3 p.m. Sunday.

Strawberry Hills replaces the Cleveland Polo Club as the Rangers' foe. The Ohioans will keep their indoor date here Wednesday, June 16, and will return for an outdoor game June 20.

Strawberry Hill will be shored up by nine-goal Lew Smith, East Aurora (N. Y.) sharpshooter who ranks as one of the game's best.

* * *

Davey Williams, 19-year-old MSC sophomore who many critics regard as the most promising young player in the Midwest, will make his first appearance of the year on the outdoor field in this contest.

* * *

* * *

Rangers will stand pat on the squad of six that conquered Harbor Hills of Columbus (O.) last Sunday. It will include Mac Stefani, Fred Lutzow, Capt. Jack Ivory and Johnny Ryan with Jack Stefani as first alternate.

Red Sultan Close Up in DRC Race Feature

Pontiac race fans attending the Optimist-West Pontiac Kiwanis day at Detroit Race Course, Wednesday saw a bit of interesting "local" action. In the West Pontiac Kiwanis race (the fifth), Red Sultan, a handsome chestnut colt owned by Clarence Hartwick of Oxford, nearly upset the winner (Whirling Blues) in a driving finish at the wire. Sultan was only a half a head back, and coming fast.

Hartwick is owner of the fabulous mare, Sickle's Image, who is expected to go to the post in the June 19 rich Rose Leaves, for fillies and mares. Image is the current "mare of the year" for the nation's feminine racers and is rapidly nearing the all-time record for winning mares.

Ty Cobb created or tied more major league records than any player. He led American League batters 12 times.

Home-Run Bats Blast Spartans to NCAA's Top

OMAHA (AP)—The boys are going to be hard put today to give the fans in the second round of the NCAA College Baseball World Series the thrills they got in the first round of the double elimination tourney.

* * *

Making it through to the second round unbeaten were Michigan State, the powerful hitting bunch of Big Ten champions, set to tangle with Arizona's well-balanced club at 6 p.m. (CST) and Missouri and little Rollins College, both of whom base their hopes on strong pitching and tight defenses rather than power hitting. They meet at 8 p.m.

* * *

Up for the test of survival will be yesterday's losers—Massachusetts vs. Oregon at 11 a.m. and Oklahoma A. and M. vs. Lafayette at 2 p.m. The losers will be eliminated.

* * *

Yesterday's games served to tab Michigan State more firmly as the team to beat. The powerful Spartans walloped Massachusetts, 16-5, and hit three home runs that accounted for nine runs. The wallops were by Tom Yewcic with the bases loaded, John Risch with two on and John Metsock with one on.

Arizona's 12-1 win over Oregon followed the same win-it-with-home-runs pattern. Pitcher Carl Thomas took this one into his own hands and slugged two balls into the left field bleachers, the first with two on and the second with nobody on.

* * *

The long ball was still the thing in the third game when Rollins had to go 11 innings to whip Oklahoma A. and M. 9 to 5. Pitcher Bill Cary of Rollins was just one strike away from a regulation 5-3 win when he served up a fast ball that Jim Wollard hit 360 feet over the left center field wall with a man on to tie for the Aggies. Then in the 11th, Rollins' Bob Machardy hit a long triple into center after relief pitcher J. B. White had loaded the bases with walks.

Missouri and Lafayette reversed the picture a bit, although long hits still played their part, and the winning Missouri run in a 5-3 victory came on a sacrifice fly after two short singles and a wild pitch by Roger Gordon.

Record Field Is Expected to Run in Belmont Test

NEW YORK (AP)—The entry box for the 86th running of the $10,000-added Belmont Stakes opens this morning, and it's possible the largest field in 77 years will be named for the last of the Triple Crown classics for 3-year-olds.

* * *

The King Ranch's High Gun, winner of last Saturday's Peter Pan, may start as the favorite, but the post-time condition of two other colts could have a big effect in the race.

The Llangollen Farm's Porterhouse and Robert S. Lytle's Correlation have been nursing aches and pains, but seem to be recuperating.

* * *

Palm Tree is being counted upon to give the Greentree stable its fourth Belmont victory, while High Gun could make it No. 3 for the Texas King Ranch of Robert J. Kleberg. Twenty Grand won the first for Greentree in 1931, Shut Out duplicated in 1942, and Capot won in 1949. Assault completed the Derby-Preakness-Belmont triple in 1946, and Middleground won the 1950 Belmont for the King Ranch.

Fisherman, probably the smallest horse in the field, could make it three Belmonts for Sonny Whitney.

Texan Out in Front in Round Robin Test

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Raleigh M. Selby of New London, Tex., led the way into the second round of the mens division of the Westborough Round Robin golf tournament today with the best point score although eight other amateurs turned in better medal scores yesterday.

Barbara McIntire, Toledo, O., leading the women's division on points, equalled the best round ever made in the event by a woman, by firing a first round 69, two under women's par. This gave her a plus 24 points.

Four Tourneys Listed for City Golfers in '54

Best-Ball Is Opening Event on Muny Slate, June 26

Schedule of city golf tournaments was released today with four events on the card.

Medal play tournaments for both men and women are scheduled as well as men's best ball and mixed foursome events.

The men's best ball, 18-hole tourney, gets the municipal tourney season started June 26. The mixed 2-ball foursome is slated July 17, also for 18 holes.

The 18-hole women's medal play test is July 31. Men qualify for the medal play tournament Aug. 14, and the 36-hole finals are Aug. 21 and 22, 18 holes each day.

Men's match play was canceled last year and is not even listed on this year's schedule due to lack of interest. Women's match play event also was dropped for the same reason several years ago.

Tulsa U Golfer Cards 2 Aces in One Round

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—A Tulsa University golfer scored two holes in one during the same 18-hole round at the Hot Springs Country Club yesterday.

Thomas Barker, 20, of Hot Springs aced the No. 3, 156-yard hole with an eight iron, and got his second hole-in-one on the 180-yard, No. 15 using a seven iron.

Barker had a one-under-par 71.

Merchants to Practice

Auburn Merchants' Class A baseball team will practice this afternoon at 5:15 p.m. and Saturday at 4 p.m. Both sessions are scheduled at the Columbia-Joslyn south diamond.

Weekend Stream Fishing Outlook Is 'Very Good'

LANSING (UP) — Prospects for weekend stream fishing in Michigan are very good, the conservation department reported today.

Most streams this week have been high and colored, with fishing only fair, but good fly hatches have been noted and stream conditions seem to be improving, the department said.

Best reports came from the Sturgeon and Pigeon rivers in Otsego and Montmorency counties, Maple river in Emmet county and Jordon river in Antrim and Charlevoix counties.

Ex-Navy Official Succumbs at 87

Charles F. Adams Was Secretary in Hoover Administration

BOSTON, Mass. (AP) — Charles Francis Adams, former Secretary of the Navy, died at his home here yesterday. He was 87.

Adams served the Navy during the Hoover administration.

He was a lawyer by profession but had many other business interests. In later life he engaged in banking.

He was a great-great grandson of President John Adams, second President of the United States.

He was chairman of the board of the State Street Trust Co., Boston, and long had held office in the Corporation of Harvard University. For 33 years he was Harvard's treasurer.

* * *

Adams often was referred to as the nation's outstanding yachtsman, having defended the America's Cup in 1920 off Newport, skippering the Resolute against Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock.

He also leaves a widow and a daughter, Mrs. Henry Sturges Morgan.

The funeral will be at Quincy, his birthplace, Saturday at 2 p.m. from the First Parish (Unitarian) Church.

Menzies' Majority Drops

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — Prime Minster Robert Menzies' governing coalition will have a majority of only seven votes in Autralia's new House of Representatives, final election figures disclosed today. The regime had a majority of 15 in the last House.

Mart Advances, Steels Leading

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved higher today under the influence of broadening demand.

It was the second straight day of recovery following two days of sharp reaction.

The upward movement was not very extensive nor was much trading enthusiasm aroused by the rising prices.

Gains went to between 1 and 2 points occasionally. Losses were almost entirely below a point. Business ran at a pace a little under yesterday's low 1,610,000 shares.

Prices were steady at the start. In the second hour, the steels began to advance and this soon broadened out to include several other major divisions.

Stocks gaining ground included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, United Aircraft, Schenley Industries, American Telephone, Westinghouse Electric, New York Central, Southern Pacific, Cities Service, Texas Pacific Land Trust, and General Dynamics.

Trucker Blocks Getaway Car, Helps Catch Robber

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A quick-witted truck driver foiled a $1,400 holdup Thursday by blocking the getaway car with his truck.

Business Notes:

Jobs Open Up for Women, Fewer for Men in Pontiac

Employment opportunities in the Pontiac area are currently for women workers in clerical, sales and service work. Job openings are available to qualified clerk-typists, sales persons and in restaurant work.

This information is included in the monthly market letter on employment trend and outlook issued by Luther C. Olson, branch manager of the Michigan Employment Security Commission office here.

Non-farm employment dropped by 200 between mid-April and mid-May, the report shows, with employment in manufacturing plants decreased by 700. Seasonal gains of 500 in non-manufacturing activities cut the over-all loss to several hundred, Olson said.

The non-industrial increases reflect the opening of summer outdoor work in construction and recreational activity, said Olson.

These reductions stem largely from a lowered volume of defense work, Olson said, though employment on civilian production at mid-May compares favorably with a year ago.

Non-manufacturing employment is 1,200 above a year ago because of a construction industry dispute a year ago and increased facilities in retail trade and service work, according to Olson.

Employment prospects for the next 60 days indicate a further drop in the employment level, Olson said, with layoffs in manufacturing approximating 1,500 by mid-July.

Non - manufacturing activities should continue to expand, adding several hundred more workers as the summer season develops.

Unemployment at mid-May was estimated at 4,000—down 200 from the April level but 2,500 above a year ago. The 200 decrease in the past month was due to outmigration and retirements from the labor force.

The unemployed currently make up 4.7 per cent of the area's total labor force compared to 4.9 per cent in April and 1.8 in May, 1953.

An annual entrance into the labor market of school graduates and summer vacation job seekers will serve to augment the number of job seekers during the coming two-month period, Olson said.

During May the Pontiac branch office issued 4,694 state and veterans unemployment checks with a monetary value of $199,179. In the 30-day period preceding, 4,808 checks valued at $211,635 were issued.

Separations, excluding layoffs, averaged 31 per 1,000 during April in manufacturing plants compared with 40 per 1,000 in March and 33 per 1,000 in February.

The last comparable statewide rate was 20 per 1,000 in March and 21 per 1,000 in February, Olson said.

3 Waive Examination of Golf Club Burglary

Three men accused of breaking into the Tam-O-Shanter Country Club pro shop May 22 waived examination when they appeared Thursday before W. Bloomfield Township Justice Elmer C. Dieterle.

The three are Jack Swartzbaugh, 20, and Oavel H. Daniel, 28, both of 5240 Pine Knob Rd., and Dale Woods, 17, of 5091 Eastfield. Woods and Daniel face arraignment in Oakland County Circuit Court Monday.

The breakin charge against Swartzbaugh was dismissed by the County Prosecutor's Office so he could be prosecuted on a violation-of-parole charge.

All are being held in Oakland County Jail.

F. D. R. Jr., Gains Favor

ALBANY, N. Y. Fifteen Democratic chairmen upstate have tabbed Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., as their choice for the gubernatorial nomination and 11 others are reported likely to follow suit Saturday. In New York, a spokesman for Mayor Robert F. Wagner says he has made no choice as yet.

City Approves Ban on Selling

OKs 1st Reading of Bill to Stop Furniture Sales on Sunday

In a special meeting last night Pontiac City Commission passed first reading of an ordinance against selling furniture and household appliances including television sets and radios on Sunday.

Only Commissioner Dr. Roy V. Cooley (District 1) voted against the move saying he thought merchants could work out an agreement accomplishing the same thing without a law.

The ordinance, if given final approval next week, will not apply to "work of necessity and charity" or to persons who observe Saturday as the Sabbath and don't do business on that day.

Violators could be fined up to $100 or sent to jail not exceeding 90 days or both. A group of local merchants asked for the law to avoid asking employes to work on Sunday and guard against interfering with religious observances.

In other action commissioners passed an amendment to the 1954 appropriations ordinance lowering the city tax rate from $13.80 per $1,000 of property valuation to $13.70.

Because Pontiac has over $30,000,000 of property valuation taxable for the first time this year, it is possible to lower the rate and still get $100,000 in revenue over the original estimate, said City Manager Walter K. Willman.

Willman said a contractor had estimated it would cost about $45,000 to move the city-owned market building at 40 Mill St. to the proposed new Department of Public Works location at N. Saginaw and E. Rundell Sts.

Parking meter revenues will have to be accumulated, Willman stated, in order to finance the plan. The building would be moved and the Mill street location used for public parking.

Cadillac Posts Record Car Delivery for May

DETROIT (UP)—Cadillac said today it delivered 11 per cent more new cars last month than during any May in history.

J. M. Roche, general sales manager of the General Motors division, said increased deliveries were made possible by the division's expansion program and a 10-hour work day on final assembly lines.

Bob Considine Says:

Senators Adept at Mixing Bitter Words With Honey

WASHINGTON (INS)—The honeyed word will not be crushed by all the hobnailed wrangling of the Army-McCarthy hearings. Wonder what effect this is having on the housewives and barflies who have been watching it since April as if drugged?

It could be teaching them an entirely new approach in their relationship with friend or foe. This approach may best be summed up as the gloved-brass-knuckle approach. In the hearings it has run something like this:

Sen. Brmnphk—Will my distinguished colleague from the great state of Pirbz yeild for a question? Thank you, senator.

The "question" turns out to be a 10-minute statement in which Sen. Brmnphk calls his distinguished colleague a cloven-hoofed scoundrel who should be put behind bars (iron) for life.

Or:

Sen. Phnkb—A point of personal privilege, Mr. Chairman. May I say a word or two about a reference just made by the illustrious gentleman from the Prairie State?

When he finishes his word or two, the man from the lone prayree has been accused of operating a still during vespers, stealing the paycheck of his crippled mother (an Empire State Building window washer) and operating furtively as the power behind Lester Rodney, sports editor of the Daily Worker.

There has been a good bit of open warfare in the McCarthy hearings; speeches that start right out "You're another." But generally the old order, which the founding fathers inherited from Parliament and southern graciousness, prevaileth.

I expect the last words said in the hearing will be, "Mr. Chairman, may I use the rest of my time to state that, to the best of my recollection, my eminent colleague to my right is a louse?"

Things have been said in this hearing which, if said in a Third avenue bar, would have made history forget the bloody charge of the Light Brigade. But the effect on the victim of the charges has hardly been noticeable. He sits there listening to the scalding words, quietly making notes or accepting the whispered suggestions of counsel or friends.

When the accuser runs out of wind, he tends to ask almost solicitously if his tormentor will yield, and then retorts with a withering broadside fit to reduce the USS Missouri to a sieve.

Wonder how Andrew Jackson would have weathered some of this give-and-take? Or Aaron Burr? Potomac Park would become a shooting gallery.

Housewives who are inclined to hit their ever-loving with a lamp if he uses the hand towel marked "Her" instead of "Him," and sots who square off like Jem Mace if the bum next by says, "Nice day, ain't?" must be pretty puzzled after a month or so of this excessively polite hearing.

Dizzy Dean dusted off a tough batter once. The guy dropped his bat, walked out to the mound, and flattened Dizzy with a punch. Diz hollered foul. Asked later why he protested, the great man said, with injured pride:

First truck driver: Will the gentleman from Eureka Fast Van, Inc., do me the great honor of removing his left front tire from my shipment of fresh eggs?

Second truck driver: I will yield for a question, provided it does not come out of my time and a half.

Or we may see a soused spouse tiptoeing upstairs at 3 ayem. Fellow named Sam Chareman.

"Mr. Chareman," rings a stentorian voice from the bedroom. "Mr. Chareman, a point of order. I order you to return to the kitchen and bring up a cleaver, with which I plan to cleave you, you distinguished elder senator from Toots Shor's."

Could be.

Aromatic Currency

WILDWOOD, N. J. (UP) — A representative of the U. S. Secret Service told a service club meeting here that counterfeiters have found that dipping their currency in coffee gives it a necessary "brownish tint." He said the odor of coffee clings to the bogus bills and if you have a bill that "smells like coffee, chances are it is counterfeit."

New School Is Dedicated

1st All-New Elementary Unit in 20 Years Built on Telegraph Road

Pontiac's first all-new elementary school in some 20 years was officially dedicated Thursday before 300 parents, teachers and guests.

The 12-room one-story Hawthorne School at 1400 N. Telegraph Rd. was opened last fall. A cinder block, brick-faced building, it stands on 19 acres of contoured land.

Speakers for Thursday's ceremony included Glenn H. Griffin, president of Pontiac Board of Education; Frank J. DuFrain and J. Cecil Cox, superintendent and assistant of Pontiac Public Schools; and several parents, youngsters and teachers.

"We've received many expressions of gratitude from this area about Hawthorne School," Griffin said. "We hope the school proves very useful. The people of this area deserve it."

DuFrain commented that the school was "a dream fulfilled — a privilege and a pleasure to build."

DuFrain said Hawthorne is an example of new "city park school" theory. (Principal Lester Stanley says Pontiac City has plans for a 45-acre park next to Hawthorne's school grounds) "This building should be practical for 75 years and cost very little to keep up." DuFrain said. "We know, however, that a multi-purpose room is still needed."

Cox commented that he sees a big "If" in Hawthorne's future. "If more building takes place and we get a multi-purpose room and more classrooms on the north side of the building and the park is built," he said, "this school will be one of the most complete educational plants in Oakland County."

Others on the dedication program narrated by Melvin Norberg, were architect Ray Ward; contractor Ward Ross; parents James S. Tuttle and Mrs. Robert Grant; student Sharon Nichols; teacher Mrs. Alice Wilson and principal Lester Stanley. Music was by Hawthorne Glee Club with Mrs. Melvin Boersma as director and Mrs. William Aitkens as accompanist.

Refreshments table was centered by a big T-shaped cake baked in the shape of the school, detailed down to the lettering "Hawthorne" on the chimney.

Nuptial Mass Joins Couple in Almont Church

ALMONT — In a nuptial mass last Saturday morning, Rose Margaret Herzig became the bride of Orville Bishop.

Rose is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Herzig of Almont. The bridegroom's parents are Mrs. Willard A. Bishop of Emmett and the late Mr. Bishop.

Serving as maid of honor was a niece of the bride, Helen Herzig of Detroit. Bridesmaids were Betty Stroup and Caroline Ward of Almont, Christine Vandawaker of Dryden and Patricia Herzig of Detroit.

Serving as best man was Willard Bishop, brother of the bridegroom. Robert VanNess, Jerry Feldhus, Robert Parks and LaVern Standel, all of Capac, were the ushers.

After a wedding breakfast and a reception in the evening, the couple left for a week's honeymoon trip through Northern Michigan. They will reside on East St. Clair street upon returning.

Methodist Rite Unites Couple in Sandusky

MARLETTE — With tall baskets of white gladioli, palms and lighted candles forming the background, Marilyn Wedge and Donald Smith exchanged wedding vows in Sandusky Methodist Church Saturday evening.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Wedge of Sandusky and the bridegroom is the son of the Norman Smiths of Marlette.

Other attendants were Kenneth Gift, Leo Sullivan, Tom Redman and Jim Elliott of Marlette, Dick Wedge of Sandusky and Jim Knight of the U. S. Marine Corps.

New York Votes to Drop Railroad's Bankruptcy

ALBANY (AP) — The Republican-controlled state Legislature, over solid Democratic objection, has approved a proposal to take the Long Island Railroad out of bankruptcy.

The proposal calls for the return Pennsylvania, plus a $58,739,000, 12-year rebuilding, program financed by loans, tax relief and fare increases.

Faces Navy Duty Monday

Campaign to Keep Dentist in Milford Begins to Falter

MILFORD — Efforts to prevent active Navy duty of disabled dentist Dr. Robert J. Lawrence sputtered yesterday, as two sources of possibe assistance dried up.

Sen. Homer Ferguson advised Dr. Lawrence by telegram yesterday to go to Washington for a physical examination if he wanted a deferment, which is not what is being sought.

Residents had informed Sen. Ferguson and Rep. George A. Dondero that they thought unfair the tour of duty for Dr. Lawrence, a father of five small children who has been pronounced "permanently disabled."

The 36-year-old dentist has one leg which is two inches shorter than the other. He has been a victim since he was two years old of chronic osteomyeliitis, a bone infection. He has undergone nine operations.

Attempts to get Gov. G. Mennen Williams to intervene in the call to service, which will begin Monday, failed. An administrative assistant said the governor's office was going to take the matter up with Col. Arthur A. Holmes, director of state selective service, but that the governor cannot go against the advice of a medical advisory board, composed of doctors of the state.

Petitions signed by 250 residents will be forwarded to Sen. Charles Potter, Residents, the Village Council, Chamber of Commerce, and veterans' groups have sent affidavits to Dr. Lawrence's draft board that the dentist is essential to the community.

There are two other dentists, one of whom limits his practice to dentures and fillings. Lawrence was told by his Detroit draft board that he would be inducted April 29 if he did not receive a commission before that.

He applied to the Navy, which first ruled him unfit, and then waived his disability, swore him in as a lieutenant, and ordered him to duty June 14.

Pontiac Woman Injured in Car-Truck Collision

Mrs. Joan J. Thomas, 20, of 21 N. Ardmore Ave. was treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for arm injuries sustained when her car and a truck collided Thursday afternoon at U.S. 10 and Williams Lake Rd.

Lewis Rhymes, 45, of 387 Highland Ave., driver of the truck, was waiting to turn at Williams Lake road when Mrs. Thomas' car made a left turn from U.S. 10 and the two autos collided, State Police said.

James Lesar Given Award at Waterford

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Picked from a group of 13 outstanding seniors at Waterford High School, James Lesar this week was awarded the Citizenship Cup at the school's seventh annual honors convocation.

James who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Lesar, 850 Hospital Rd., was awarded the cup by James Boaz on behalf of the Waterford-Drayton Exchange Club.

He has been a member of the student council and Hi-Y, was a letterman in football and baseball and participated in many other school activities.

Avondale Polls Open Monday 8 to 8 P. M.

AVONDALE — Polls here will be open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday as balloting is held for the annual Avondale School District election.

MURDER!
Actual Cases From the Files of Oliver Motor Sales
Today's Line-Up

Chief Turnkey Lou Creekmur kept all-night watch on '52 Chrysler Windsor 4 dr. with automatic shift, radio & heater. Mighty dangerous to look at, can be bailed out for only $1,095

9:03 a.m.

10:17 a.m.
1947 Chevrolet 4 dr. out on probation, picked up last night on suspicion by plain-clothesman Don Weiss. Now cooling off in the cooler. Has radio, heater and new paint. Bail set at $195

11:23 a.m.
Rounded up this '50 Buick 2 dr. with radio and heater. Discovered it was trying to look like a new car, and almost does. Judge says the fine is only $495

12:01 p.m.
Lunch.

1:36 p.m.
Investigator Byron Davidson apprehended this '51 Buick 2 dr. near 210 Orchard Lake Avenue. We gave it the full reconditioning treatment and it's set for release for the payment of bail of $895

2:06 p.m.
The net was put out and Rookie Russ Hester nabbed this one. A 1953 Ford Courier Sedan Delivery. Being held at 210 Orchard Lake Avenue and can be released for payment of fine of $1,395

3:16 p.m.
This '53 Buick Super 4 dr. Dynaflow, radio and heater was brought in and checked over. No rehabilitation needed and it is ready to go out on the open road $1,995

4:15 p.m.
Large group of petty crimes entered in record. Some in fair shape, some not so good, and some in surprisingly fine condition. Contact Constable Humphries and he will introduce you to one of his men who will be glad to arrange payment of bail for these cases.

Remember
The force at Oliver's is always pleased to show any of the cases on the lot. Just dial FE 2-9101 and request demonstration drive. No obligation.

Program Host Is Peter Donald

Phil Silvers, Buff Cobb and Ogden Nash to Be With TV Group

NEW YORK—Masquerade Party, panel quiz program starring Phil Silvers, Buff Cobb, Ogden Nash and Ilka Chase, with gentile Peter Donald as host and master-of-ceremonies, starts its summer run on television June 21.

Born in Bristol, England, in June, 1918, Peter spent most of his childhood on a world-wide tour which took his father, a comedian, and his mother, a singer, to Asia, Australia, Africa and finally, America.

Peter has been emcee of a number of television and radio programs. Last summer, he was one of the regular panelists of Masquerade Party. He is host and emcee this year.

Silvers was born in Brooklyn on May 11, 1912. He made his first appearance in show business as a boy tenor, later graduated to top banana roles in burlesque.

He has made more than 30 motion pictures, including the current film version of his Broadway hit, Top Banana.

Recognized as one of America's most fashionable women, Miss Ilka Chase has appeared in many stage plays, in motion pictures and television. She is the author of five best sellers and is a lecturer noted for her wit.

The grandaughter of the late writer, Irvin S. Cobb, Buff is perhaps best known for her radio and television appearances with husband Mike Wallace, and as commentator for leading New York fashion shows. She is recognized as an authority on feminine apparel.

As her husband's partner on the recent television All Around the Town series, Buff interviewed countless personalities at big New York restaurants and theaters. She also appeared with Mike on the Mike and Buff series.

Poet, lyricist and lecturer, Ogden Nash is perhaps best known for his many volumes of bright, light verse — including Hard Lines (1931); Free Wheeling (1931); Happy Days (1933); The Primrose Path (1935); Versus (1949), and the Private Dining Room (1953). He is co-author of the mucical comedy hit, One Touch of Venus.

Martha's previous experience includes the role of Nellie Forbush in South Pacific, a role she took over after Mary Martin's departure.

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt di Bonaventura, granddaughter of the late President F. D. Roosevelt, gave birth to a son yesterday at Washington University Hospital, Washington, D.C. The child's father, Anthony di Bonaventura, a pianist, who made his debut at 10, is serving in the army. The couple was married here June 12, 1953.

Mrs. Di Bonaventura is the daughter of James Roosevelt, eldest son of the late President, and the former Betsey Cushing, now Mrs. John Hay Whitney.

Surprise Check by Reds Ends Quickly in Austria

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—A surprise Soviet check on cars and trucks crossing Russian occupation zone borders in Austria lasted less than a day. Soviet authorities lifted the control measure soon after sunset last night.

The Russians began the sudden check early yesterday, reportedly in a hunt for anti-Soviet propaganda material. Regular Soviet traffic checks were abolished nearly a year ago.

Wreckage of PBY Found on Japan Isle

TOKYO (AP) — Search planes today spotted the wreckage of a U. S. Navy patrol bomber missing since Wednesday. There was no sign that any of the 17 servicemen aboard survived the crash into a 6,300-foot mountain on Yakushima Island off Japan.

The two-engine amphibian patrol bomber disappeared Wednesday on a flight from western Japan to the Philippines.

A Navy seaplane tender was dispatched from Iwakuni but was not expected to reach heavily wooded Yakushima until early Saturday.

ARTHRITIS PAINS WERE UNBEARABLE SAYS CALUMET LADY

"Rheumatism pains struck me whenever I moved my arms or legs, and lots of times I would have done anything to stop the pains," says Mrs. Peter Stella, 71 County Road, Calumet, Michigan.

Mrs. P. Stella

"For seven years I suffered the awful pains of rheumatism, arthritis and lumbago. Any movement that I would make sent pains shooting through my arms, legs and back. When I bent over I never knew if I would be able to straighten up or not. I could hardly get out of bed in the mornings, and it was very painful when I walked. It's terrible to say, but there were times when I wished I was dead because of the unbearable pains. I went to a clinic in Wisconsin and after a thorough examination, they told me that I was in good health except for the rheumatism and arthritis. They couldn't help me, so I tried about every medicine under the sun, but nothing I tried helped me until my husband saw an ad in the newspaper for O-JIB-WA BITTERS. It told about the good results O-JIB-WA had brought to another person that was suffering the same way I was. He wanted me to try it, but I was discouraged with all medicines, and didn't want to. He brought home a bottle of O-JIB-WA BITTERS anyway, so I started taking it. It was almost a month before I saw much results, but in four months I was all better. I get around fine now and do all the things I couldn't do before. I have my own garden in which I do all the work, and I even painted our house this year. My husband says it seems like he's got a new woman in the house. I give many thanks to O-JIB-WA BITTERS for making my new health possible and hope other people who are suffering will give it a try. I know they will be as pleased with O-JIB-WA BITTERS as I am."

Hal Boyle Says:

Typical Problem Confronts AF General in Germany

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP)—The man who organized the Berlin and Korean airlifts has a new supply problem now—finding schoolteachers.

Practically every community school board in America shares the plight of Lt. Gen. William H. Tunner, commander of the rapidly growing United States Air Forces in Europe.

"One of our big problems is getting schoolteachers over here," said the big, graying, 47-year-old officer, who is responsible for the air protection of 35 countries in Europe, Africa and Asia.

* * *

"We now have 11,000 dependent children in school in our area, and next semester we will have 15,000. That means we require 500 teachers for some 51 elementary and eight high schools in this command. They aren't easy to find."

* * *

Any adventurous girl back home with a teaching diploma and a yearning for foreign travel will find a sympathetic listener in the general right now.

His USAFE command has grown from 15,000 men in the spring of 1950 to 80,000. It now represents a fifth of the entire American Air Force, and its basic mission is to guard the skies over an area of 17 million square miles, nearly six times the size of the United States.

* * *

"We expect to be able to minimize a Soviet attack if it comes."

* * *

The lives and homes of millions, perhaps the whole pattern of the free world itself, hang largely on the accuracy of this estimate if zero hour ever comes. But Tunner isn't a general whose career has been marked by idle complacency.

"I don't feel we underestimate the capability of any possible enemy," he observed dryly in a briefing delivered to 42 former war correspondents who are making a tour of European danger zones.

His command has no strategic bombers now nested on vulnerable bases of continental Europe itself, and it has pulled all but two of its tactical air units back west of the Rhine.

* * *

It also is engaged in the gigantic task of ferrying millions of tons of valuable war material back from dumps east of the Rhine to great depots deep in France, thus lessening the possibility of losing them to surprise enemy ground and air blows.

* * *

Bases have to be built. Housing, recreational facilities must be provided to keep up the morale of American airmen and their families.

Over all hangs the endless task that faces even the simplest household—the best way to spend the available money wisely—or, as Tunner puts it: "The challenge to get the most out of what we've got."

* * *

The general is noted as a thrifty operator. Some months ago he moved his headquarters out of 33 high rent buildings in the center of Wiesbaden and into an old German army barracks on the outskirts of the city. The cost of modernizing the barracks was paid by the German government.

* * *

Housing has been a recurrent headache. Some 11,000 additional housing units are badly needed. Tunner is trying to solve this by encouraging private builders in each country to erect dwelling areas near new airfields. In return, he guarantees them 95 per cent rental occupancy for at least five years.

This attempt to save the American taxpayers construction costs has run into some snags, particularly in France. Because the airfields are usually out in the country, far from settled areas, private builders have been reluctant to invest their capital. As an emergency measure Tunner is providing low cost portable trailer camps.

He also hopes to send 10,600 U.S. airmen home this year through a "native son policy" of hiring foreign civilian skilled and semi-skilled workmen. It costs about $4,500 a year to support an American airman abroad, compared to $1,100 for a native.

* * *

* * *

"We don't believe in pampering our men with luxuries," said a headquarters spokesman. "But it costs $14,000 to replace a trained American Airman. So we feel it pays to keep him happy in the service."

Banker Sees Youngsters Good Lending Risks

STURGEON, Mo. (AP) — C. L. Harper, bank president, lends money to youngsters from 6 to 15 years old for their 4-H projects. He's been doing it for 12 years and hasn't had to foreclose yet.

"I've been a little leery about a few cases," he said, "but they never have let me down. In fact, I've loaned money to a few youngsters when I wouldn't have given their folks credit.
