Hart Speaks at Dinner

Dems Rip GOP Here

By JIM DYGERT
Half a dozen big guns of the Democratic party gathered last night in Pontiac and fired a salvo at Republican candidates for state and county offices.
U.S. Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., speaking before some 600 persons at the County Democratic Committee's 18th District congressional dinner at the Elks

Temple, called for support for the Democratic party as "the party that better understands history."
Hart said Democrats understand better the lesson of history that great powers "drop into the footstep department" when they "daily dilly with necessary reforms until it's too late."
He joined Gov. John B. Swainson in urging election of Democratic congressmen to support President Kennedy's program.
Swainson also told the partisan crowd that Michigan cannot be separated from the nation. Support for President Kennedy's programs is important to the people of Michigan, he said.
Swainson said he was "proud to support John F. Kennedy and prouder still to have President Kennedy support me and my Democratic team."
The governor seeking a second-term bid blasted his opponent, George W. Romney, for what he called a "now-you-see-it, now-you-don't version of Republicanism."
He said Romney "engaged in a love fest with other Republican candidates" in Berrien County, but "has refused to admit that he is a Republican" in Oakland and Wayne counties.
"NATION NEEDS DEMS"
Democratic congressman-at-large candidate Neil Staebler said the nation needed more Democratic help in Congress. President Kennedy needs a strong right arm in Michigan, he said.
"We need a Democratic governor with a veto to ride herd on the Republican legislature" to get an equitable redistricting if the U.S. Supreme Court rules for reapportionment at the State Senate, Staebler said.
He has to keep the boys honest," he said.
George Fullerton, candidate for the county's 18th District congressional seat, into whose campaign fund most of the proceeds of last night's dinner will go, called for "talking campaign" in his behalf.

Letters Show Voters Moved

Oakland GOP Leader Denies Dem Charge

Oakland County Republicans said Saturday that 3,800 out of 12,528 letters sent to registered voters in the county were returned because the addressees had moved.
The announcement was made by county Republican Chairman Charles L. Lyle in answer to charges by Democratic State Chairman John J. (Joe) Collins that a similar program in Detroit was using "tactics better suited for the Gestapo or Soviet Secret Police."
"Collins hasn't the slightest idea what he is talking about," Lyle said.
Collins accused a voter registration check in Detroit by the Honest Ballot Association, a New York nonprofit organization, of attempting to "confuse" and "terrorize" Negro voters in Detroit.
The New York group was retained to keep watch on Wayne County voting by the Committee for Honest Elections, headed by Detroit Edison Company President Walter Cisker.

NO CONNECTION

The Oakland County Republican check of voter registrations has no connection with the Detroit group, Lyle explained.
But its results so far "prove without a doubt that Michigan voters need and demand assurance that votes are honest and within the law," he said.
Although the returned letters do not by themselves indicate any vote fraud, he explained, they provide information for guarding against it.
The names on the returned envelopes will be marked for challenges at the polls on election day, Lyle said. He added that the program, called "Operation Checkmate," is not intended to terrorize or intimidate anyone.
A total of some 25,000 mailings will be made altogether, Lyle said. They are sent to all registered voters in selected precincts in Hazel Park, Madison Heights, Ferndale and Pontiac.
NO SEGREGATION
Although these areas have an 80 per cent or more Democratic voting record, no mailings were made to Negro precincts, he said.
The mailings were sent in envelopes marked with a return address of "Oakland Opinion Bureau."
They contained only campaign

What Will De Gaulle Do?

France Sits, Waits

PARIS (AP)—France waited anxiously today to see if President Charles de Gaulle considered his referendum victory decisive enough for him to stay on as president.
The outlook was that he would continue in a period of bitter political strife.
The country's voters approved, Sunday, de Gaulle's proposed constitutional amendment providing for direct election of future presidents, an issue which de Gaulle turned into test of strength with the majority of the nation's politicians.
He deliberately tied his political life to a solid majority, saying he would resign if the approval was "weak, mediocre or doubtful."
DE WON
De Gaulle won, but the margin was less than his followers expected, and only a minority of the French electorate approved his proposal.
Complete official returns from metropolitan France, including Corsica, were:
Yes—12,810,848, or 61.75 per cent of valid ballots.
No—7,939,399, or 38.24 per cent of valid ballots.
The "yes" votes represented only 46.3 per cent of the registered voters. Fully a fourth of the electorate abstained, mostly by staying at home although some cast blanks or spoiled their ballots.

Ambassador Galbraith Promises Anti-China Aid; India Post Falls

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—India turned to the United States today for weapons to fight the Communist Chinese and was assured they would be sent soon.
Prime Minister Nehru asked U.S. Ambassador John Kenneth Galbraith for the weapons and an American Embassy spokesman said Galbraith indicated they are coming.
Almost simultaneously an Indian spokesman announced the loss of Demchok, the farthest thrust the Chinese have made southward at the western end of the fighting front.
The spokesman estimated between 2,000 and 2,500 Indian soldiers are dead or missing since the Chinese launched their offensive Oct. 20 and added the Chinese are believed to have suffered much heavier casualties.
Reinforcements were being rushed to Se Pass to try to head off at least one 10,000-man Chinese division moving from the key northeast border town of Tawang, lost last week.
Despite setbacks such as the loss of Demchok, India refused offers of mediation of the undeclared war with China.

K's Backdown JFK Victory, but Peace Far From Reality

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON — Premier Khrushchev's backdown on Cuba gives President Kennedy a victory but any appearance of peace is illusory and temporary, for Cuba and elsewhere.
Nevertheless, some of the Soviet and Cuban actions in this crisis look stupid if not nutty.
The biggest unanswered question still is: Why did Khrushchev decide to put missile bases in Cuba in the first place?
He took the shock out of the crisis yesterday with his astonishing mild agreement to pull his missile out. But that doesn't solve the problem of Fidel Castro.

chev's decision to withdraw the missiles and proceed with their anti-Castro business.
Revolutionary Council President Jose Miro Cardona said: "The council is continuing its struggle for overthrow of the Communist dictatorship."

He said the group would report directly to the President and act under the supervision of the three officials concerned. These are Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Stevenson.
Ball and Gilpatrick left for New York after attending the daily meeting of the executive committee of the National Security Council this morning. McCloy already was in New York.
Salingar said the coordinating committee would function in New York.
The press secretary said it would be concerned with "implementing the letters of President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev."
In these letters, exchanged over the weekend, Soviet Premier Khrushchev pledged dismantling of Soviet bases in Cuba and a halt to the delivery of offensive weapons to the Castro regime in return for an end to the U.S. blockade and a no-invasion pledge.
Khrushchev has dispatched Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily Kuznetsov to the United Nations to work with Acting Secretary General U Thant in dealing with the many details involved in a settlement.
Salingar said he had no information as to whether McCloy, Ball and Gilpatrick would accompany U Thant to Havana Tuesday (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Acting Secretary General U Thant conferred with a special envoy of Soviet Premier Khrushchev today and made hurried plans for a peace mission to Cuba. Thant is trying urgently to nail down a U.S.-Soviet deal to end the missile base crisis.

The lowest temperature reading preceding 8 a.m. today in downtown Pontiac was 32. At 1 p.m. the thermometer recorded 47.

Quit Guantanamo, Castro Demand

From Our News Wires

MIAMI — The Castro brothers have demanded the surrender of the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo, Cuba, and dared the United States to invade their Soviet-infiltrated country.

Premier Fidel Castro started the ball rolling yesterday with the publication of a five-point demand for guarantees against aggression, shortly after Premier Nikita Khrushchev announced Russia will dismantle its Cuban missile bases.

However, he did not repeat his earlier declaration the United Nations observers never would be allowed in Cuba.

Castro's program included a demand that the United States get out of the $76-million base, on which it has a 99-year lease, and return it to Cuba.

HIS DEMANDS

These were Castro's demands:

1. Lifting the U.S. economic boycott of Cuba.

2. An end to all "subversive activities, organization of mercenary invaders and infiltration of spies and saboteurs" from U. S. territory.

3. Ending of "pirate attacks" from U. S. and Puerto Rican bases.

4. No more violations of Cuban waters and air space by American warplanes and ships.

5. Withdrawal from the Guantanamo base.

Castro said Kennedy's "guarantees against aggression" were no more than "imperialism" exists.

Khrushchev contends that there must be negotiations with the West to stage off a nuclear war which could destroy the Communist as well as the capitalist world. Peiping scoffs at this latter possibility.

Chinese May Make Move

Red Fight Looms in Cuba

By JOHN RODERICK

TOKYO (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev's order to withdraw his missiles from Cuba may touch off a new struggle between the Soviet and Chinese Communists to win control of the Cuban revolution.

It also could dangerously heighten the ideological quarrel between Peiping and Moscow.

Mao Tse-tung was one of the first to support Fidel Castro's revolt against dictator Fulencio Batista. Peiping called Castro's 1959 victory a "defeat of U.S. imperialism in Cuba."

It seemed apparent during Castro's first year of rule that Moscow had given Peiping priority to Peiping's view is that Kennedy is a blood-stained murderer; a description often used by its propaganda services, and that there can be no coexistence with the United States as long as "imperialism" exists.

Khrushchev contends that there must be negotiations with the West to stage off a nuclear war which could destroy the Communist as well as the capitalist world. Peiping scoffs at this latter possibility.

News Analysis

exploit the Cuban revolution and to seek to scatter its flames in the whole Caribbean area.

From the beginning, the Chinese were active with trade and diplomatic missions which culminated in Castro's severance of relations with the Chinese Nationalist government and recognition of Peiping.

The Chinese established newspapers in Cuba, sent a news correspondent, drew up trade agreements and worked behind the scenes to win Castro's ear. But China's star waned soon after the abortive bay of Pigs invasion of 1961.

Though Castro seemed to prefer working with the Chinese, he recognized that Khrushchev could give him something Peiping did not have—missiles. The Soviet leader obligingly rattled them at the United States.

From that time on, the Russians were in the ascendancy. Their victory was complete when Castro purged pro-Chinese elements in the Cuban Communist party, a decision Peiping meekly accepted.

Withdrawal of the Soviet missiles may re-establish the situation before the invasion attempt.

Mao also is not likely to take with good grace Khrushchev's unilateral move to ease world tensions, or any step toward a thaw in the cold war.

Soviet Press Depicts K as Man of Peace

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet press and radio did its best today to depict Premier Khrushchev as the man who averted a possible thermonuclear war over Cuba.

This was coupled with warning that the West should not interpret Soviet "peacefulness as a weakness."

Both points were made on the front page of Pravda, the official Communist Party newspaper, which said Khrushchev's decision to remove rockets from Cuba had the unanimous support of the Soviet people.

"The working people of Byelorussia, Kazakhstan, Georgia, Latvia and other republics of the Soviet Union support the wise policy of the Soviet government which was able, even in a most complicated situation, to find a way to avert the threat of thermonuclear war."

Both Pravda and the Moscow press also gave much space to statements from abroad hailing Khrushchev as the savior of peace.

First Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov's statement in New York saying Khrushchev and the Soviet government "are sparing no effort to avert the danger of war" was quoted here.

abandoning Castro would mean, will have to keep him in business with arms and supplies, if not missiles.

U.S. COURSE SET

And the United States, which has kept alive the hope of Cuban refugees that they someday will be able to throw Castro out, can hardly change course on that.

Sooner or later, therefore, Castro should be involved actively or passively in new explosions, and the withdrawal of the missiles may mean is that the United States won't be in danger of nuclear attack.

It's possible that Castro — said down the river by Khrushchev on the missile, at least, to avoid war with the United States — may be bounced by his own followers in Cuba. That looks like a long shot now.

Meanwhile, the Russians, who were expected to create a crisis over Berlin before year's end, are still in position to do that.

Khrushchev so far as is known put no price tag on his agreement to take his missiles back home. That doesn't mean he won't spring one later. For instance, by again demanding that the United States remove its missiles from Turkey, Kennedy wouldn't buy that out when Khrushchev proposed it Saturday as a swap for his taking his missiles out of Cuba. Then Khrushchev dropped the demand.

But the United States, in the eyes of the non-Allied world, can hardly claim more justification for having missiles in Turkey, right next to the Soviet Union than Khrushchev could for putting missiles in Cuba, 90 miles from America.

Since he withdrew his, to avoid a war, he may let a lot of non-Allied support around the world if, sooner or later, he demands that the United States return the commitment in Turkey.

It's hard to think Khrushchev put missiles in Cuba on impulse assuming the United States would detect them and that they later could be used to blackmail and blackmail this country in any showdown Khrushchev started.

In the first place, this would have had to be a high-policy decision in the Kremlin since it so deeply involved Soviet foreign policy.

Second, the Russians know this country keeps Cuba under constant observation and would therefore discover the missiles.

It's possible Khrushchev thought that even if the missiles in Cuba were discovered, Kennedy would not have the nerve to force a showdown. This would have been a reckless gamble.

But looked at from any angle — in view of Khrushchev's showdown — the operation was stupid unless possibly Khrushchev had banked on something like this:

That even if Kennedy forced a showdown, the President's fear of starting a war might have induced him to agree to a compromise with Khrushchev on something else Khrushchev wanted badly.

Woman Saved as Car Burns

Crash Victim Pulled From Wrecked Auto

Flames quickly enveloped a woman's car when it was struck from behind by a pick-up truck and flipped over on South Telegraph Road in Bloomfield Township this morning.

"I could see as I drove up that no one could be alive in the burning car," Lt. John Moyes of the township fire department said.

Seconds before — immediately after the crash — the driver of the pick-up truck pulled Mrs. Lois Breithart, 46, of 131 S. Ascot Road, Waterford Township, from her overturned, burning car.

Alone in the car, she suffered only minor injuries. She was treated and released at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

"DIDN'T SEE CAR"

The truck driver, John Crampton, 31, of 910 Eagle Road, Springfield Township, said "I just didn't see her car ahead. I don't know whether it was the sun in my eyes or what."

"Next thing, all I could see was flames," he added.

Only slightly bruised himself, Crampton jumped from his truck before it also caught fire and pulled Mrs. Breithart from her burning car.

He dragged her by the arms through a back window which had been smashed out by the impact. Mrs. Breithart was waiting to make a left-hand turn off Telegraph into the parking lot of the U.S. Post Office.

S. Telegraph Road when her car was struck from behind in a southbound lane. She is employed at the shop as a seamstress.

Richard MacDonald, 30, an employee at the Calico Corners fabric shop next door, saw the accident from the shop window.

"The car burst into flames right away when it flipped over," he said.

The only price he asked was a guarantee, which Kennedy gave, that the United States would not invade Cuba.

American diplomats focused on working out arrangements for U. N. inspection of the withdrawal from Cuba of the "grim weapons" which Khrushchev, under threat of forfeiting U.S. action, dramatically announced he would ship back to the Soviet Union.

Khrushchev sent Kuznetsov to New York to negotiate. He said on his arrival Sunday night "We are sure peace can be achieved if all parties concerned will exercise good will and a reasonable approach."

field, in the remaining days before the Nov. 6 election.

Fulkerson accused Brookfield of waging a program of public deception and of being an "obstructionist" to President Kennedy's program.

More than support in a time of crisis is needed, Fulkerson said.

"We need men of perception in Lansing and Washington to see the problems beforehand and support the President in advance," he said.

He said he wanted a talking campaign rather than a whispering campaign.

"We believe in open debate and discussion," he said, claiming that Brookfield was "afraid" to defend his record publicly.

"OAKLAND MYTH" County Democratic Chairman Sander Levin predicted Democrats would "explode the myth that Oakland County is the private property of the Republican party."

Levin said the majority of registered voters in the county are Democrats. "The problem is to get out the voters," he said.

Swainson, who delivered the main speech, said voters have been exposed "to an all-out helping of Republican evasion, distortion and desperation in their attempts to win this election."

"We have witnessed the spectacle of the Republican candidate for governor, campaigning on a program that alters to fit the time, place and his audience," Swainson said.

Air Zoning Proposals at Public Hearing Tonight

BIRMINGHAM — Several proposed changes in Birmingham's zoning ordinance will be aired at a public hearing to be held at today's 8 p.m. City Commission meeting.

One of the suggested revisions would allow state licensed trailer camps in business (B3) districts while another would include licensed outdoor amusement and recreational facilities in B3 zones.

A section of the ordinance also would be revised to clarify the necessary setback of buildings from lot lines in single-family residential districts.

A legal definition of schools and a provision for off-street parking also would be included in the ordinance amendments to be discussed.

Commissioners tonight also will consider dedicating Old Salem Court, a private street in the northwest section of the city, for public use.

PARKING TOPIC City Manager L. R. Gare will ask the commission to issue a directive which will specify certain parking places in municipal lot, 5 for 15 spaces.

The lot is at Woodward Avenue and Willett Street. Persons who lease spaces there now may park in any section of the lot.

However, Gare said, merchants and shoppers have complained that prime spaces near downtown stores are being taken up by motorists who park all day under their houses.

Gare suggested that areas in the north and west sections of the lot be set aside for leased parking.

Birmingham Chapter No. 220, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold its usual business from 11 a. m. to 9 p. m. Saturday at the Masonic Temple, 327 S. Woodward Ave.

Aprons, hand-made articles, candy, baked goods, and Christmas cards will be a few of the items on sale.

A roast beef dinner, open to OES members, their families and friends, will be held from 5 to 7 p. m.

Rescue Angler in Buckell Lake

Detroit Man Clung to Boat 2 Hours

A Detroit man clung to his small overturned boat in Buckell Lake in Grosse Pointe Township for two hours yesterday before being rescued from the chilling water.

Leon Greenblatt, 56, was pulled to safety by Roy Willis of Royal Oak and Salvador Ramos, 130 East Boulevard, after they heard his screams for help.

Greenblatt is in Pontiac General Hospital for observation of shock and exposure. His condition is listed as satisfactory.

Greenblatt, who said he was told Sheriff deputies that he was about 100 feet from shore when his boat flipped, tossing him into the water.

Heavy clothing and boots, he said, prevented him from attempting to swim to shore. He said he tried it once but had to turn back because his clothes weighed him down.

Willis was the first to hear Greenblatt's repeated calls for aid.

He said that he was removing some things from his car into a new home when he heard the voice over the radio.

He ran into the house and got Ramos, who was visiting his father-in-law. The two rowed out to Greenblatt.

Greenblatt was brought back to the house, wrapped in blankets and taken to the hospital where two men until his circulation returned.

literature, according to Donald A. Forman, 4425 Charing Way, Bloomfield Township, who is in charge of "Operation Checkmate."

Under elections laws, Forman explained, voters who have moved within 30 days prior to the election or who have moved to another address within the same city or township can still vote by signing an affidavit available at the polls on election day.

Collins charged that in the Detroit registration check "the paid employees of the committee are in the neighborhood to spy upon neighbors to inform on alleged registration improprieties, with the hidden intent of frightening thousands of voters from the polls on election day."

DENIES CHARGES Chief investigator for the Honest Ballot Association, George J. Abrams, denied the accusations, saying his committee has worked with both political parties in the past, and aims only at keeping elections above board.

He said, "It is our policy to concentrate on areas of high population where our experience has shown election frauds can exist."

Citler said some 40,000 persons are on Detroit registration roles who no longer live in the city.

The letter sent to voters by the group and signed by Citler, says, "If you know of any person who has moved or died or is otherwise not qualified to vote on Nov. 6, 1962, it is your duty to notify officials so that their vote is not canceled by a fraudulent vote."

Collins and a representative of Republican State Chairman George Van Fursen are scheduled to meet with Abrams today to clarify this latest political hassle.

Junior Editors Quiz on SAILING

QUESTION: How do sailboats sail into the wind?

ANSWER: The two boats in our picture can both sail up to the lighthouse, even though the wind is coming toward them. No boat can sail directly into the wind. However, a boat can sail at an angle of about 45 degrees from the wind's "eye." To get where the skippers want them to go these boats are sailing in zig zag courses, which is what sailors call "beating to windward."

How can a boat sail against the wind at all? Because, as shown in the cross-section of an airplane wing (1), the air moves faster over the curved top, so there is less air pressure there. This allows the air pressure below to hold the plane up.

Looking down on a sailboat (2) we see its sails are also curved. The little arrows on the left indicate air pressure built up in the direction of big arrow A.

But the keel or centerboard of the boat, deep in the water, prevents the boat from going in the direction of A. Instead the boat takes the path of least resistance, towards B.

FOR YOU TO DO: Learn some sailor talk. Important is that dealing with the direction of the wind. Everything toward the wind is "to windward," such as a windward shore, the windward side of the boat. Things away from wind are to leeward, pronounced "loo'ard."

Pilot Crash-Lands Airplane Adeptly

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — A pilot crash-landed a disabled war surplus plane on the front yard of a vacant house Sunday, avoiding dozens of children playing nearby.

The pilot, Owen Parry Jr., 34, of Phoenix, escaped with a slight cut on the forehead. Observers said Parry used unusual skill in bringing the plane under power lines and crashing into two trees to lessen impact on the house.

Gov. Swainson, Romney Speed Up Before Finish Line

By The Associated Press
Democratic Gov. John B. Swainson and his Republican challenger, George Romney, swung today into the home stretch of their Nov. 6 election campaign with intensified speaking schedules.

Swainson predicted a victory for his party which he asserted would open up "unlimited opportunities for the people under Democratic leadership."

Romney, who took Sunday off as usual, said, "I feel a sense of victory on Nov. 6." He said he now believes a Republican victory is "a distinct possibility."

In a speech at an 18th Congressional District dinner Sunday, Swainson renewed his attacks on Romney's Republicanism. He said Romney "professes to be a so-called enlightened Republican but the record proves that he has been a contributor to the Americans for Constitutional Action, an organization replete with John Birchers opposed to all measures for the benefit of our people."

Romney has replied before that the only complaints about his Republicanism have come from Democrats, not Republicans, adding that Michigan has been suffering from excessively partisan politics.

On his Saturday tour of northern Lower Michigan and Upper Michigan, Romney hammered away at issues of economic recovery, conservation and other matters of concern to the north country.

Meanwhile, a controversy developed over the formation of an "honest election" committee in Detroit. Democratic State Chairman John J. Collins charged Saturday that it is an attempt to terrorize Detroit voters.

LUNCHEON TODAY

Collins and Republican State Chairman George Van Pusem were invited to attend a luncheon meeting today by George J. Abrams, chief investigator for the Honest Ballot Association of New York. Abrams was employed to handle the Honest Elections Committee program.

Van Pusem said he will be represented at the meeting by his side, Jack Gibbs.

Collins suggested the investigation might have Republican bias because Detroit areas selected for a mail check of voters are heavily Democratic and Negro.

The Honest Elections Committee is headed by Walker Ciesler, president of the Detroit Edison Co. A committee announcement said the group had been formed as a result of disclosure that 40,000 voters registered as living in Detroit no longer live in the city. The committee called this condition an invitation to fraud.

Abrams said his organization is strictly nonpartisan and described Collins' charges as "not factual."

Van Pusem commented, "I don't know that Walker Ciesler is either a Democrat or a Republican. This sounds pretty nonpartisan to me."

The Detroit Free Press, in an editorial today, endorsed Republican Alvin Bentley in his race for congressman at large against Democrat Neil Stuebber. The newspaper said "the qualifications are preponderantly on the side of Alvin Bentley." The Detroit News earlier endorsed Stuebber.

Stuebber told 18th Congressional District Democrats Sunday that President Kennedy's Cuban action "has resulted in the greatest victory over communism since the cold war began."

'Spaceships Could Use Airports'

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Future spacemen returning from interplanetary trips could land their winged ships at present airports, according to the nation's first rocket ship pilot.

Scott Crossfield, who first tested the X-15 for North American Aviation, says that Los Angeles International Airport—or something similar—could become a space ship airport.

Crossfield also said winged spacecraft could take off and land at airports on flights around the earth.

"The pilot will not need the Army or the Navy to help him land," Crossfield told a news conference at a meeting of the Society of Industrial Engineers. He noted the needs of modern space age industry in matters of real estate.

COULD BE USED

"I couldn't predict exactly what kind of an airport these space ships will need to land on, but based on the one-mile strip the X-15 uses, today's airports probably will be utilized," he said.

The X-15 is a half-space ship, half-airplane which holds the world's speed—4,195 miles an hour—and altitude—50.8 miles high—records for winged aircraft. It makes research flights from Edward Air Force Base, Calif.

Crossfield said, however, that space airports probably would "need room."

The equipment on future space ships would be noisy and their exotic fuels, if ignited, "would have the effect of a large bomb exploding."

He said, "We used dynamite to form some of the metals and thus we must choose where the community will not be unduly affected by our activities."

The famed test pilot also predicted that other experimental winged craft would follow the X-15 "in about three or four years."

Vassar Girls Take to the Football Field

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y. (AP) — These Vassar girls really know how to catch a man — especially if he's carrying a football around the line of scrimmage.

And they know how to avoid being caught, too, when they happen to be carrying the ball. All they do is push their handkerchiefs a bit deeper in their pockets, or switch the hanky to another pocket. Confused?

Well, so were the men from Siena College this weekend when the eleven-girl team from Vassar College engaged them in a bit of gridiron tomfoolery. (That's the closest anyone can come to describing this particular game of touch football, played at Vassar's "Wash Bowl" here.)

Did we say "touch"? Slight correction, please. At one point there was an (unintentional?) tackle by a male fullback who excused himself by saying, "I guess I just lost my head."

ADVANTAGE FOR GALS
The girls were supposed to have an advantage with 11 players on the field to the men's eight.

But when the last quarter rolled around, the girls discovered there were 10 males rushing them at the line of scrimmage.

"It's the best built line (of girls) I've ever seen," said one of the guys.

Well, those gallant boys from Siena graciously agreed to a rules change:

They would consider themselves tackled by simply being touched by a girl. Vassar would be tackled only when a male player could yank a sock from the hip pocket of a girl's blue jeans.

That worked fine — until the girls ungratefully responded by tucking the socks deeper in their pockets as the game progressed.

VASSAR SCORES
In the third quarter, Vassar scored its only touchdown when quarterback Betsy (Willy) Wilbur transferred her sock from her right back pocket — where the boys were accustomed to look for it — to her left back pocket.

With this neat feminine "strategy" (a word in gal lingo meaning "how best to trick the fellas"), Betsy scampered 30 yards to the goal line.

So guess who won? No, not our heroines. But the collegians from Loudonville, N. Y., were gentlemen about it: They kept the margin of victory small, 14-6.

And if you're still doubting that Vassar girls know how to catch a man, take heed of one, Jacqueline Bouvier, who attended the Poughkeepsie school from 1947-49. She caught one of the best male touch-football players around. In the process she changed her last name to Kennedy.

British Are Wrestling Economic Dilemma

If the politico-economic and social picture of the U.S. seems a bit out of focus at times, we have but to gaze across the Atlantic to view comparable distortion.

Our English cousins are finding the going a little rough.

On a related political and economic issue, Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and his Tory government face the proverbial horns of the dilemma.

The threat of one lies in the conviction of British leaders that it is to the country's advantage to join the European Common Market. Such action, however, is by no means overwhelmingly popular since opposition exists in many quarters.

And implement on the other "horn" looms from the strong opposition of the 16 nations of the Commonwealth to England's aligning herself with the continental bloc. They see such a course as inimical to their economic well-being which depends to a great extent on reciprocal trade with the mother country.

Additionally, the canvas shows a blemish represented by the sluggishness of the British economy and the rising unproductivity of labor—both of which are no strangers to America.

For the decade of the 50s, Britain had the slowest growth per capita output of any industrial nation—20 per cent. Yet over the same period wages doubled.

But in West Germany, an identical wage increase was offset by a 60 per cent rise in production.

Britain has had 2,000-odd strikes so far this year, costing more than 5-million work days. A corollary, just as serious, are the slowdowns, hangovers from prewar days of heavy unemployment when work was spread to make more jobs.

Indication of the situation are evidenced in the following: A 1954 poll showed only 12 per cent of the public considered unions bad. By 1959, the figure had doubled. Today, a leader of the Trade Union Congress says: "We have lost public sympathy usually felt for the underdog. Unions came into existence to resist injustice and oppression. They should be careful not to even appear as the instruments of oppression themselves."

Yes, things are indeed a bit tight. In the Tight Little Isle.

How's That Again? ...

In these news-saturated times when much of our information originates with "experts," "special committees," "official spokesmen," etc., you need a phrasebook to interpret the obscure language of certain pronouncements.

A popular magazine offers the following translations of some familiar instances of gobbledegook.

"The committee met and evaluated the situation." (Half the members showed up and talked for awhile.)

"We explored every conceivable

solution to the problem." (Everybody talked a lot but nothing was said.)

"The results were inconclusive." (Nothing was accomplished.)

"It is widely accepted that..." (One other person agrees with me.)

"Therefore, the consensus is..." (A couple of others think so, too.)

"It is hoped that the report will stimulate increased interest in the problem." (Next time let somebody else do it.)

In Washington:

Photos Tell Story

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — It is now admitted by even the most conservative United States intelligence sources that the big Russian military build-up in Cuba began last July. For three months confidential reports showed only defensive and short-range anti-aircraft missiles were being delivered. This apparently lulled American officials into a false sense of security on Cuba.

For all this time, Cuban refugee sources were reporting far heavier shipments of Russian arms to Cuba and the arrival of far more Communist "technicians" than official sources could verify. Early in October, however, the refugee reports began to check out.

Confirmed now by United States air reconnaissance photos taken over Cuba, they indicate that American intelligence services — in their cautious desire not to fall for exaggerated rumors — may have seriously underestimated the build-up.

If this in any way delayed the Kennedy administration in making its decision to blockade shipments of offensive weapons to Cuba, it was another serious intelligence blunder.

As an example, the Cuban Student Directorate — a former underground resistance unit now operating from a Miami headquarters — reports 87 ships brought over 800,000 tons of Communist supplies to Cuba, July 1 to September.

It puts the number of people from Communist countries arriving in Cuba at over 9,000 — double official estimates. The number of armed men in Cuba, including Cubans, is put at 300,000. All are said to have automatic weapons.

The command is in general areas, operating from the top floors of a large building in Havana, with field headquarters in central Las Villas province. Even the Cuban militia is now said to be under Russian control. A five-page list of camps and installations is given. Cubans are barred from major bases. Many underground installations are reported throughout the island for storage and concealment of weapons, including IL-28 aircraft. The number of Russian MIG jet fighters is put at 185 — nearly double United States official estimates.

American intelligence estimates of Russian arms in Cuba are verified by aerial photographs.

They show: Twenty-four missile bases, 22 of them already operational, for medium and intermediate range ballistic missiles. They are widely dispersed and really blanket the whole island.

There are at least four launching pads at each site. In some cases there are two and three missiles at each pad. Medium range missiles are all mobile field units, with portable erectors. They are apparently unloaded from ships at docks and moved on trailers directly to the launching sites.

No nuclear warheads have yet been detected, but they are small and easily concealed. One recent aerial photo shows construction of a bunker with arched roof being earth-covered. It could provide underground storage for nuclear weapons. A port facility for their unloading has been spotted. It is surrounded by double fencing.

Two aerial photos taken 24 hours apart show, on the first shot, 45 vehicles assembled at a site where grading has been started for the launching pads. No tents are shown.

The second shot made a day later shows four erectors in place on the pads, seven missiles on trailers, 100 motor vehicles including rocket fuel trucks, 27 big tents capable of sheltering 500 men. The missiles have been identified as mobile 1,000-mile-range rockets of a type shown in Moscow May Day parades for several years past.

The second type of fired site, identified also with four pads, shows heavier erector construction to handle 2,200-mile intermediate range rockets. Two vertical bunkers have been built between each pair of pads. The areas are heavily fenced.

Air photos of Russian freighters approaching Cuba show the crates loaded to the deck. These crates were later spotted at an airfield, being unpacked. Each crate contained an IL-28 advanced jet bomber capable of carrying a nuclear warhead 750 miles.

The High Road

David Lawrence Says:

We Must Help Russ Free Selves

WASHINGTON—Is everything being done that can be done to prevent a third world war? As of today, a negative answer must be given. For there is a glaring deficiency—a failure of the voice of truth to reach the 200 million people of the Soviet Union who alone can determine whether their autocratic government shall stay in power.

The Soviet people have not been getting and are not now getting the truth. The United States, to be sure, is equipped with the latest in electronic devices. LAWRENCE, which can broadcast messages of great length into all the countries of the world in various languages.

Then what's lacking? It is a policy of positiveness and frankness that would, day after day, tell the peoples of the Communist-bloc countries how they can liberate themselves from the yoke of one-man rule and one-party government which today constitutes the biggest menace to world peace.

But, it will be asked, doesn't the United States government issue "propaganda" through the Voice of America and other agencies of international publicity?

TOO RESTRAINED

The answer is that the messages sent out daily are so restrained in tone as to give the impression of a fear to speak forthrightly and explicitly to the people of the Soviet Union. The broadcasts are confined largely to reading over the air condensations of news dispatches and extracts from speeches and official statements.

The official pronouncements, moreover, are couched in polite phrases and make no direct appeal.

The White House and State Department under this and preceding administrations have ordered a policy of forbearance. Occasionally, there is emphasis and bluntness. Every now and then there is a presidential statement broadcast—which contains resolute words.

But there's no exhortation—no appeal to the Soviet people themselves.

The Soviet people have been told repeatedly by a controlled press, radio and TV that the United States and its Western allies are indeed "aggressors."

The charge has been reiterated constantly that America plans the destruction of the people of the Soviet Union by nuclear bombs direct from missile bases in Europe.

Even inside this country there are many uninformed persons who don't see the difference between Western bases erected in Turkey for defensive and deterrent purposes and missile bases built by Khrushchev in Cuba for what he chooses to call "defensive" purposes.

Many citizens in this country do not know why the Western missile bases were originally set up in Turkey, nor do they know of the Soviet threats of missile attack that preceded this countermove by the West.

Sure, it was printed in the newspapers at the time it happened in 1958 and was announced to the world. It wasn't done secretly.

But there's been little or no mention of it since then nor any over-all broadcast to the Soviet people repeated day in and day out to characterize the offensive nature of the Kremlin's tactics throughout Europe, Asia and Latin America, as well as Africa.

This has made defensive measures necessary and has built up the armament costs of every one of the free nations.

Is a revolution inside the Soviet Union possible? This question is often asked. Three times in the last 50 years' people throughout the world were convinced that a revolution to overthrow any strong dictatorship in Europe was not even remotely possible.

Few persons, for instance, who read of the tight hold on the Russian people by the Communist regime ever believed it could be or would be overthrown as it was in 1917.

Few people ever believed that the Kaiser or Hitler could be deposed or that disintegration of their authority and power could come from within. But when once the truth reaches the Soviet people, they too will take concerted action, and the personnel of the Soviet army, navy and air force will desert the dictatorship en masse as was done in the three instances mentioned above.

Dr. Wayne Brandstadt Says:

'You're Lucky if Drops Help Your Dry Eyes

Q—My doctor says I have dry eyes. What causes this? I have been using eye drops for two years and am getting along fine.

A—Dryness of the lining membrane that covers the eyeball of the eyes can be caused by such infectious diseases as trachoma and diphtheria, by burns, by drooping of the lower lid so the skin in most instances is weak.

Methoxsalen given by mouth has helped some persons. This drug should not be applied to the skin and in any case it should be used only under medical supervision. It has proved effective for only about 25 per cent of those using it. As soon as the drug is stopped the condition returns.

BRANDSTADT that the lower part of the eyeball is exposed to the air or by inability to close the eye completely.

The condition is best treated with eye drops containing lycerin or an emulsion of cod liver oil. This treatment relieves the dryness and prevents the formation of ulcers on the surface of the eyeball. But it cannot be called a cure. If using the drops your doctor gave you permits you to "get along fine," you are more fortunate than most persons with this condition.

Q—I get very depressed. The doctors tell me it is the change of life. I have had shots of vitamin B-12 and tranquilizers but nothing seems to help. All kinds of laboratory tests fail to show that there is anything wrong with me. I am not interested in anything and have no pep. My doctor thinks I may have to have shock treatments. Would this cure me?

A—Some persons become depressed when the change of life sets in, but not quite so severely depressed as I should judge you to be from your letter.

Shock treatments have been advised place yourself in the care of a physician who specializes in nervous diseases. No one can guarantee that shock treatments will cure you, but they have helped some people and they may help you.

Q—Is there any known cure of treatment for vitiligo?

A—The cause of vitiligo or patchy loss of pigment from the skin is not known.

'Pre-Trial Examination May Soon Involve All'

Compulsory pre-trial psychiatric examination is becoming more widespread. The Walker case puts it into the spotlight and it literally could involve every person. After General Walker was apprehended by U.S. marshals, he was put in confinement and ordered to undergo pre-trial psychiatric examination for 90 days.

Let's look at this compulsory pre-trial psychiatric examination and see who is establishing the standards. Is due process denied United States citizens?

Better Keep Powder Dry

WASHINGTON (AP) — American political leaders hailed the news that Soviet Premier Khrushchev had ordered the removal of Soviet missile bases from Cuba. But many of them maintained a "keep your powder dry" attitude.

Though the reaction of many Democrats ran a strong strain of praise for President Kennedy's handling of the crisis.

Many Republican leaders noted that they had been urging a strong policy on Cuba for many weeks.

Former President Harry Truman said, "I knew very well if we met Khrushchev head on that's what he'd do. Kennedy did meet them head on and that's what counted."

THEY BACK DOWN

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, now the Republican candidate for governor of California, said "it demonstrates again that when you stand up to Communist aggressors, they back down."

Members of Congress welcomed the announcement but many were cautious and said the United States should not relax its vigil until the missiles have been removed.

"I will believe it when I see it," commented Rep. John Saylor, R-Pa.

Sen. Milton R. Young, R-N.D., continued because "our agreements with Russia have been far from successful in the past."

Reviewing Other Editorial Pages

It also is interesting that the Grange held its annual convention in Fremont, the home of Stephen S. Nibbet, who was president of the constitutional convention.

Thus, a distinctly rural group opposes the proposed constitution for the same reason that some of the Detroit area politicians are against it — apportionment.

The only difference is that the big city boys fear it will give rural areas too much representation while the rural boys say it won't give Detroit enough.

In between, the Michigan Municipal League which represents cities and villages took an affirmative stand relative to the proposed constitution.

It is fortunate that the proposed constitution was not finished in time to go to it on the November ballot. To bring it to voters in April will enable more time for public study and understanding.

Just a year ago, 92 per cent of the eligible voters in Turkey divided their votes in a parliamentary election among four parties, which led to political uncertainty and finally a coalition government — but all four parties are staunchly pro-western.

Last April, after several years of martial law, the 80,000-member electoral college of Pakistan, chosen by universal suffrage, picked a pro-western parliament. And whatever else may be said of Chiang Kai-shek's rule of Formosa, he has continued to hold local elections under the constitution.

Until there is a reasonably free election in Cuba, Castro and his Communists must be regarded as imposters who don't have the moral right to hand privileges or Cuban territory over to anybody.

Midland Daily News

It is significant that the Michigan Grange opposes the proposed new state constitution by a vote of 88 in favor to 64 against the measure.

The reason is that the new document would likely result in loss of rural representation in the Legislature.

New York Unafraid During Crisis

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—For a week now New York City has maintained its image — a body of people belligerently unafraid.

Throughout the crisis, tension has shown on the faces of New Yorkers but never a trace of fear.

New York is not a place for the soft or the sissy.

The people here have more personal concern for what has happened and can happen in this war of nerves than the citizens of any other single community.

This is because, wherever in the world there is a threat of fighting or terror or hunger, there dwell people who teach New Yorkers . . . for New Yorkers come from everywhere; their sisters and their cousins and their aunts still are living everywhere.

It is one vast city of caring what happens everywhere.

Many beauty shops, two manicurists and a hair dresser carried tiny transistor radios in their pockets.

LISTENED TO U. N.

They followed the United Nations session silently, while doing their work efficiently, faces impassive. These young people were from Cuba. Their parents still live there.

In the apartment next door to us, the couple is German. Their entire families are scattered between East and West Berlin, and they too carry radios wherever they go. They don't talk, they just listen carefully.

On every streets for this past week, there is a cacophony of little radios. Even in the children's playgrounds, the sound of news reports outlasts the screams and squeals.

While the mothers listened, two little girls upped and downed on a wobbly brown teeter-totter. Suddenly the little girl in the red pants was bored. She slid off.

The girl in brown cheeks clanked to the cement.

She sat there a moment, feeling for a hurt — turned to look at her mother, the lady with the radio at her ear — then rose, not in tears but in annoyance, and walked to the swings.

The attitude of this child, I thought, reflects the attitude of the New Yorker. It hurts, but what can you do?

This city is, of course, about as vulnerable as any city in the country. A top-priority target in any nuclear war. All of us know that, and yet I doubt if any considering game they don't attempt to guess openly. They remain relatively silent, as wise men should, and listen.

NOT LEAVING
In other parts of the country, I read, there has been some panic buying. New York City stores report sales normal.

Its theaters are doing a booming business. There is no sign of heavier-than-usual traffic of planes or trains headed for more pastoral or peacefully remote locales.

There's a sardonic humor; kids still inquire politely, "What are you gonna be if you grow up?" A cab driver reminded me jovially to "be your Christmas praying early."

Most New Yorkers are quieter than usual, sensible, sane and, on the surface at least, impassive. In this international guessing game they don't attempt to guess openly. They remain relatively silent, as wise men should, and listen.

Considering their savvy (there is more awareness per crankum here than in other cities) and their mixture of heritages which makes them involved with every country in the world, one might think it odd that New Yorkers can keep their courageous image.

But perhaps it's their very involvement that saves them from panic: It's easier to keep your sanity when you're more concerned for the fate of others than for yourself.

DIES IN CRASH — Enrico Mattei, Italian government oil czar, was killed Saturday night when his private plane crashed 10 miles south of Milan, Italy, in a dense fog. His pilot also was killed. Mattei, 55, was the aggressive chief of the ENI, the Italian government-owned oil empire.

Safety Experts Gather to Fight Accidental Death

CHICAGO (U.S.) — Some 12,000 safety experts gathered today to map strategy in the fight against a menace which killed 91,500 Americans last year—accidental death.

The specialists from all over the country are attending the five-day 50th National Safety Congress and Exposition, the annual convention of the National Safety Council.

During 480 sessions at seven hotels, the delegates will hear more than 900 speakers on accident prevention, health, hygiene and fire protection.

Among the scheduled speakers is Dr. Hugh L. Dryden, deputy administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

He will tell the congress Wednesday about the behind-the-scenes safety story of the Project Mercury astronaut program.

Much of the discussion will center on traffic accidents, which took 28,900 lives last year.

Sessions will deal with seat belts, citizen support of traffic courts, alcohol and drugs, the role of the states in traffic safety, accident records and the need for uniform traffic regulations.

Some 250 educational and commercial exhibitors will display the latest safety equipment at the congress.

Also on display is a research sled designed to test automobile seat belts with deceleration forces up to 30 times the force of gravity.

Unofficial Text of Nikita's Letter

MOSCOW (UP)—The following is an unofficial translation of the text of Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's letter yesterday to President Kennedy:

Esteemed Mr. President: I have received your message of 27th October 1962. I understand very well your anxiety and the anxiety of the people of the U.S.A. in connection with the fact that the weapons which you describe as "offensive" are in fact grim weapons.

Both you and I understand what kind of weapons they are.

In order to liquidate with greater speed the dangerous conflict, to serve the cause of peace, give confidence to all peoples longing for peace, and to calm the people of America, who I am sure, want peace as much as the peoples of the Soviet Union, the Soviet government, in addition to the cessation of further work at the weapons building sites, has issued a new order, for the dismantling of the weapons, which you describe as "offensive," their creating and returning to the Soviet Union.

EXPLAINS STAND

Mr. President, I would like to repeat once more what I wrote to you in my preceding letters, that the Soviet government has placed at the disposal of the government of Cuba economic aid as well as arms, inasmuch as Cuba and the Cuban people have been under the constant danger of an invasion of Cuba.

The shelling of Havana took place off a pirate ship. It is said that irresponsible Cuban emigrants did the shooting. This is possibly the case.

But the question arises: From where did they shoot? After all, these Cubans have no territory, no private means, no means to wage military action.

Thus somebody put into their hands the arms needed to shell Havana and to carry out their piratical actions in the Caribbean, in Cuban territorial waters.

It is unthinkable in our time that a pirate ship should pass unnoticed, particularly if one takes into account the saturation of the Caribbean with American ships from which all this is seen and observed.

And in such circumstances pirate ships are freely moving about around Cuba, shell Cuba, and carry out piratical attacks upon peaceful transport vessels. It, after all, is known that they even shelled a British freighter.

In short, Cuba was under the constant threat of aggressive forces who did not conceal their intentions to invade Cuba's territory.

The Cuban people want to build their life in their own interests without interference from without. You are right in this and one may not blame them because they want to be master in their own country, to dispose of the fruits of their labor.

The threat of Cuba's invasion and all the other ventures aimed at bringing about tension around Cuba are designed to engender uncertainty in the Cuban people, to intimidate them, to hinder them in building their new life undisturbed.

MEANS OF DEFENSE

Mr. President, I want to say clearly once again that we could not be indifferent to that. The Soviet government decided to help Cuba with means of defense against aggression—with means only for the purposes of defense.

We stationed these defense means, which you call offensive, and we stationed them there in order that no attack should be made against Cuba, that no rash actions should be permitted to take place.

I regard, with respect and trust, your statement put forward in your message of 27th October 1962, that no attack will be made on Cuba, that no invasion will take place, not only by the U.S.A., but also by other countries of the Western Hemisphere, as in view of this, the motives which prompted us to give aid of this nature to Cuba are no longer applicable.

Hence, we have instructed our officers—and these means, as already stated, are in the hands of Soviet officers—to take the necessary measures to stop the building of the said offensive, dismantle them and return them to the Soviet Union.

As I already told you in my letter of 27th October, we are both, and to come to an agreement that representatives of the U.N. may verify the dismantling of these means.

STAGE IS SET

In this way, if one is to rely on your assurances and on our orders to dismantle, then there exist all the necessary conditions for the liquidation of the conflict which has arisen.

I note with satisfaction that you have responded to my wish that the said dangerous situation should be liquidated and also that conditions should be created for a more thoughtful appraisal of the international situation which is fraught with great dangers in our age of thermonuclear weapons, rocket technology, space ships, and other rockets and other lethal weapons. All people are interested in the ensuring of peace.

Therefore, who who are invested with trust and great responsibility must not permit an escalation of the situation, must liquidate the breeding grounds where a dangerous situation has been created, fraught with serious consequences for the cause of peace.

And if we succeed, along with you, and with the aid of other people of goodwill in liquidating the dangerous situation, we must also concern ourselves to see that other dangerous conflicts do not arise which might lead to a world thermonuclear catastrophe.

In conclusion I wish to speak of the regulation of relations between NATO and the states of the Warsaw Treaty which you mention.

We spoke of this not long ago and are ready to continue an exchange of opinions with you on this question and to find a reasonable solution.

I also wish to continue an exchange of opinions on the prohibition of atomic and thermonuclear weapons and on general disarmament and other questions connected with the lessening of international tension.

Mr. President, I trust your statement. But on the other hand, there are irresponsible people who would like to carry out an invasion of Cuba at this time, and in this way spark off a war.

If we take practical steps, and announce the dismantling and evacuation of the said instruments from Cuba, then, in doing that, we wish at the same time to assure the Cuban people that we are with them and are not divesting ourselves of the responsibility of granting help to the Cuban people.

We are convinced that the peoples of all countries, like yourself, Mr. President, will understand me correctly.

We are not people who threaten. We desire only peace.

Our country is now on the upsurge: Our people are enjoying the fruits of their peaceful labor. They have achieved tremendous successes since the October revolution, have created supreme material and spiritual-cultural treasures.

Our country is making use of these treasures and wants to develop its successes further, wants to ensure further development on the road of peace and social progress by its steadfast labor.

ON SPY PLANES

I should like, Mr. President, to remind you that military aircraft of a reconnaissance type have violated the frontier of the Soviet Union—a matter over which we have had disputes with you. An exchange of notes has taken place.

In 1960 we shot down your U2 aircraft, the reconnaissance flight of which over the U.S.S.R. led to the wrecking of the meeting of the powers in Paris.

You then assumed a correct position in condemning that criminal action by the former government of the United States of America.

But during the period of your tenure of the office of president, a second case of the violation of our frontier by an American U2 aircraft in the area of Sakhalin.

3 Ships for Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—The Ishikawajima Shipbuilding Co. of Japan has contracted to build three 10,000-ton cargo ships for Brazil's growing merchant fleet.

95 Million in Japan

TOKYO (AP)—Statistics this week show Japan's population has just passed the 95 million mark.

took place. We had written you of this violation on 26th August. You replied then that this violation had taken place as the result of bad weather and gave an assurance that it would not be repeated.

We gave credence to your assurance because there was, indeed, bad weather in that area at the time.

However, if your aircraft did not have the task of flying near our territory, then even bad weather could not have led an American aircraft into our air space.

The conclusion follows that this is done with the knowledge of the Pentagon, which tramples on international usage and violates the frontiers of other states.

An even more dangerous case occurred on 28th October, when your reconnaissance aircraft intruded into the territory of the Soviet Union in the north, in the area of the Chukotka Peninsula, and flew over our territory.

One asks, Mr. President, how should we regard this? What is it? A provocation?

Your aircraft violates our frontier and that at times as anxious as those we are now experiencing, when everything has been placed in a state of fighting readiness.

For an intruding U.S. aircraft can easily be taken for a bomber with nuclear weapons, and that can push us toward a fatal step. All the more so, because both the U.S. government and the Pentagon have long been saying that you have bombers with atomic bombs constantly on flight duty.

JFK'S RESPONSIBILITY

Therefore, you can imagine what kind of responsibility you assume, especially now, at this anxious time through which we are passing.

I would like to ask you to assess this correctly and take steps accordingly, so that it would not serve as a provocation to the unleashing of war.

I would also like to express the following wish: Of course, it is a matter for the Cuban people since you do not at present maintain any diplomatic relations, but through my officers on Cuba I have reports that flights of U.S. planes over Cuba are being carried out.

We are interested in not having any war at all in the world and in the Cuban people being able to live quietly.

Besides, Mr. President, it is no secret that we have our people on Cuba. In accordance with a treaty with the Cuban government, we have there officers and instructors who are training the Cubans, mainly ordinary people, experts, agronomists, zoo-technicians, irrigation and soil improvement experts, ordinary workers, tractor drivers, and others. We are concerned about them.

I would like to ask you, Mr. President, to bear in mind that a violation of Cuban airspace by U.S. aircraft may also have dangerous consequences. And if you do not want that, then no causes should be given for the creation of a dangerous situation.

We must now be very cautious and not take any steps that would be of no use for the defense of the states involved in the conflict, but which are likely to arouse only irritation, and even provoke a provocation leading to the painful step. We must therefore display sobriety and wisdom, and refrain from steps of that kind.

We value peace, perhaps even more than other peoples, because we experienced the terrible war against Hitler, but our people will not flinch in the face of any ordeal.

Our people trust their own government, and we assure our own people and the world public that the Soviet government will not allow itself to be provoked.

But should the provocateurs unleash a war, they would not escape the responsibility for the grave consequences of the war. But we are confident that reason will triumph. War will not be unleashed, and peace and security of the peoples will be insured.

In connection with the current negotiations of the acting secretary-general, U Thant, with representatives of the Soviet Union, the U.S.A. and the Republic of Cuba, the Soviet government has sent to New York its first deputy minister of foreign affairs of the U.S.S.R., Kuznetsov, with a view to assisting U Thant in his noble efforts aimed at the liquidation of the present dangerous position.

Respectfully yours, Khrushchev.

U.S. Craft Flew Over Russia

WASHINGTON (UPI)—At the height of tension over the Russian missiles in Cuba, a U.S. plane flew over Soviet territory.

President Kennedy acknowledged yesterday that an American aircraft sampling air in connection with the current Soviet nuclear tests made a "serious" navigational error.

He told Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, who raised the specter of accidental war over the incident, that he would take steps to prevent a recurrence.

Khrushchev said in his message to Kennedy concerning withdrawal of missiles from Cuba that the plane violated Soviet air space over the Chukotka Peninsula, near Alaska.

Kennedy replied: "I have learned that this plane, without arms or photographic equipment, was engaged in an air sampling mission in connection with your nuclear tests. Its course was direct from Eielson Air Force Base in Alaska to the North Pole and return."

"In turning south, the pilot made a serious navigational error which carried him over Soviet territory."

U Thant Praised for Efforts

JFK Hails K's Message Aid to Peace

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Text of yesterday's message from President Kennedy to Chairman Nikita S. Khrushchev:

Dear Mr. Chairman:

I am replying at once to your broadcast message of Oct. 28, even though the official text has not yet reached me, because of the great importance I attach to moving forward promptly to the settlement of the Cuban crisis.

I think that you and I, with our heavy responsibilities for the maintenance of peace, were aware that developments were approaching a point where events could have become unmanageable. So I welcome this message and consider it an important contribution to peace.

The distinguished efforts of Acting Secretary General U

Thant have greatly facilitated both our tasks. I consider my letter to you of Oct. 27 and your reply of today as firm undertakings on part of both our governments which should be promptly carried out.

I hope that the necessary measures can at once be taken through the United Nations, as your message says, so that the United States in turn will be able to remove the quarantine measures now in effect.

I have already made arrangements to report all these matters to the Organization of American States, whose members share a deep interest in a genuine peace in the Caribbean area.

ABOUT U.S. PLANE

You referred in your letter to a violation by your frontier by an American aircraft in the area of the Chukotka Peninsula. I have learned that this plane, without arms or photographic equipment, was engaged in an air sampling mission in connection with your nuclear tests.

Its course was direct from Eielson Air Force Base in Alaska to the North Pole and return. In turning south, the pilot made a serious navigational error which carried him over Soviet territory.

He immediately made an emergency call on an open radio for navigational assistance and was guided back to his home base by the most direct route.

I regret this incident and will see to it that every precaution is taken to prevent recurrence.

Mr. Chairman, both our countries have unfinished tasks and I know that your people as well as the United States can ask for nothing better than to pursue them free from the fear of war.

Modern science and technology have given us the possibility of making labor fruitful beyond anything that could have been dreamed of a few decades ago.

TALKS DISARMAMENT

I agree with you that we must devote urgent attention to the problem of disarmament, as it relates to the whole world and also to critical areas. Perhaps now, as we step back from danger, we can together make real progress in this vital field.

I think we should give priority to questions relating to the proliferation of nuclear weapons, on Earth and in outer space, and to the great effort for a nuclear test ban.

But we should also work hard to see if wider measures of disarmament can be agreed to and put into operation at an early date. The United States government will be prepared to discuss these questions urgently, and in a constructive spirit, at Geneva or elsewhere.

Castro Still a Troublemaker Despite Damaged Pride

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fidel Castro's prestige has suffered a damaging blow but his capacity for troublemaking subversion in Latin America has not been ended. American diplomats said today.

As fresh evidence of this, authoritative sources cited the Castro given Sunday by the official Cuban radio for general terrorist agitation in Latin America. The signal broadcast by the official Havana radio was heard by both U.S. and Venezuelan government sources. The instructions to Castro agents called for dismantling Venezuelan oil facilities at Lake Maracaibo. Saboteurs knocked out one-sixth of Venezuela's oil production by blowing up four oil company power stations.

Radio Havana also was reported calling openly for an insurrection in Honduras.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk called in Latin-American ambassadors late Sunday to brief them on developments in the fast-moving Cuban crisis.

GREAT IMPORTANCE
After the 45-minute session, the dean of the diplomatic corps, Ambassador Guillermo Sacasa of Nicaragua, reported that Rusk "gave us information of great importance to our respective governments."

He said the information was of a private character that he could not disclose.

Sevilla Sacasa said, however, that the statement of Soviet Premier Khrushchev ordering a halt to the building of offensive missile bases in Cuba signified a real blow to Prime Minister Castro and Castroism.

GOP May Play 1-Party Theme

Ike Gives Likely Cue to Strategy Change

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans may turn to the one-party government theme pounded by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower as a substitute for the Cuban issue in the congressional campaign.

The prospect that Soviet Premier Khrushchev will comply with President Kennedy's demand for withdrawal of Soviet missiles and the dismantling of launching pads on the island deprived GOP candidates of an issue many of them had hoped would spell victory in any otherwise close contest.

With Kennedy's personal popularity and that of his party likely to be enhanced by any satisfactory final settlement of the Cuban controversy, which involves no major U.S. concessions, Republicans searched for an issue to fill a vacuum.

IKE GIVES CLUE
Eisenhower gave them a cue in a weekend speech in Marion, Ill., when he said the Cuban crisis is no excuse for one party government that would reduce the American people "to the level of a regimented herd."

Before he acted on Cuba, Kennedy was campaigning for the election to Congress of Democrats favorable to his domestic program.

Eisenhower called on Republicans to continue to campaign to "make sure that we defeat recent efforts to get in Washington a virtually one-party Congress."

EFFECT MAY BE SPOTTY
While the President seemed on the way toward silencing critics who first assailed him for failing to act on Cuba and then said he had moved tardily, the political effect of the missile crisis appeared likely to be spotty.

For example, the blockade course the President took was in line with proposals made earlier by GOP Sen. Homer Capehart in Indiana. The Democrats' previous hopes of knocking off Capehart have been dimmed by the developments.

In California, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon has been campaigning on international instead of the state issues on which Democrats believed Edmund G. Brown had his Republican opponent out-gunned.

Relations Plunged Downward Over Cuba

Nikita's Decision Came None Too Soon

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Premier Khrushchev stopped a downward plunge toward nuclear war between the Soviet Union and the United States when he gave orders to halt work on Soviet nuclear missile bases in Cuba.

President Kennedy had made the basic decision to use whatever force was necessary to destroy the bases unless Khrushchev reversed his course. The key to timing came in a phrase in the Kennedy letter to the Soviet leader which was handed to a Soviet diplomat at the State Department at 8 o'clock Saturday night.

In outlining terms of a possible settlement actually drawn from a Khrushchev letter of Friday night, Kennedy said that if both sides would act quickly it should be possible to announce agreement "within a couple of days."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and other policymakers studied and deliberately refrained from giving Khrushchev any kind of ultimatum.

AVENUE OF RETREAT
They sought every opportunity to keep open some avenue of retreat for him on the theory that when he realized U.S. determination he would accept losses in the Cuban adventure rather than risk the destruction of the Soviet Union in nuclear conflict.

The outcome of this diplomatic strategy, paralleling the hard-revolution to destroy the bases without waiting much longer, burst on the world Sunday when Khrushchev announced that he was calling on his commanders in Cuba to stop their construction, dismantle their bases, and take their weapons home.

The only price which Khrushchev really asked was a guarantee, which Kennedy gave, that the United States would not invade Cuba.

Official quarters here to cry victory or to gloat over the Kremlin capitulation it was instantly checked back because there are many mysterious and puzzling aspects of the Cuban crisis which may take months or years to straighten out.

EFFECT ELSEWHERE
What is even more important is that the U.S.-Soviet showdown over Cuba seemed certain to have a profound and extensive impact on other critical situations in the world.

During the long, frantic week of exchanges over the Cuban crisis, Kennedy made some references to the Berlin situation but Khrushchev stuck strictly to the Cuban problem. Kennedy tried to throw a protective arm around West Berlin every time he could because he and his associates really expected a Soviet diversionary move or perhaps an act to switch the focus of the main crisis once the U.S. began to crack down.

Other objective? It is entirely possible, however, that Khrushchev had some other objective in view. He could have made a diversionary move, would like to use the Cuban scare to renew serious disarmament negotiations.

It is conceivable, as high officials here privately agree, that the Cuban strategy was not so much Khrushchev's personal choice as a maneuver that he approved because of his troubles in other fields and because of miscalculations about the determination of the Kennedy administration.

REFUGEES PARADE — This is part of a group of 2,000 refugees of gins that marched through Old San Juan, P.R., yesterday. They praised President Kennedy's blockade and condemned Castro.

Latins Being Alerted for Cuban Sabotage

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — U.S. diplomats are alerting Latin American governments against an expected continentwide Castro sabotage campaign believed launched Sunday with bombings that knocked out one-sixth of Venezuela's oil production.

Authoritative sources in Washington said Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro gave the signal for general terrorist action in Latin America with the American-operated oil fields in Venezuela a prime target. Saboteurs dynamited four power stations of the Creole Petroleum Corp. at Lake Maracaibo, which holds beneath its waters one of the world's richest oil stores. The lake, roughly 75 miles wide and 130 miles long, lies about 300 miles west of Caracas.

The bombers struck shortly after midnight Saturday a few hours after President Romulo Betancourt ordered mobilization of the armed forces to counter what he called the threat to Venezuela of "the reservoir of Soviet nuclear rockets in Cuba."

OLD PROBLEM
U.S. officials were reported reminding Latin Americans that while a settlement may now be in sight to dismantle the Soviet missile sites, the long-range problem of dealing with Castro in this hemisphere will remain.

Venezuela blamed the oil field bombing on "Communists." Two suspects were hauled out of the debris-strewn waters of Lake Maracaibo after the blasts destroyed transformer stations of Creole Petroleum, a subsidiary of Standard Oil of New Jersey.

Police said one of the blasts apparently blew up the saboteur's boat, killing one of the bombers. One of the suspects was so badly burned he was blinded.

A Creole spokesman said the entire Tijuana oil field in the lake was rendered inoperable. He estimated it would take about a month to get the field back to its daily production of 525,000 barrels. Other sources said it might take as long as three months.

Informants said the government faces a serious loss of foreign exchange earned from oil royalties. Venezuela's main source of wealth, Venezuela collects about 70 per cent of the $1.2 million daily revenue from the country's oil production, the third largest in the world.

The government rushed a marine battalion to Lake Maracaibo to reinforce guards on the oil installations. Betancourt and his Cabinet met in emergency session to plan stricter security measures.

Soviet Orchestra Plays for Cheering Americans

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Leningrad Philharmonic Orchestra performed yesterday at Washington's Constitution Hall before 3,000 applauding Americans who did not let international tension extend to cultural relations.

So enthusiastic was the audience to the all-Russian music program that the orchestra added two encores to its scheduled program, and Conductor Eugen Mravinsky took six bows.

Strain Eases Among GIs at Key West

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — A small boy swung on a sentry's rifle, using the weapon as if it were a trapeze bar. His family and the soldier laughed.

That bit of horseplay was a sign this normally sleepy, off-season resort city only 90 miles from Havana was relaxing again after the Soviet Union's agreement to pull its missiles out of Cuba.

Other reactions to Premier Khrushchev's announcement included prayers of thanksgiving, jubilation—and some skepticism. One mother said her small son was disappointed because he apparently wasn't going to see any fireworks.

Both faces of Key West — the armed camp and the tourist center — relaxed. Soldiers on guard duty around the hastily erected radar sets and anti-aircraft missile batteries waved to motorists cruising past on the highway.

Residents wondered if the tourist trade would pick up. "Some people seem to have the idea that there is barbed wire on the beaches and six soldiers in every hotel room," said Al Reine, a taxi driver.

Actually, the soldiers and their weapons have been tucked away in the corners of the island, and most of the ships stationed here have gone to sea.

Jet fighters still blast through the sky and helicopters whirl overhead, but the feeling of a city under the gun largely evaporated with the Khrushchev statement. "I'm glad, it was a worrisome to me," said Margaret Gates, a member of the community which settled here from the British Bahamas islands.

Ford to Book 'Space Flights'

DEARBORN (U-P) — Ford Motor Co. plans to start booking simulated flights to outer space from the Ford Rotunda here early next year.

The company said yesterday it is moving its "Adventure in Space" exhibit at the recent Seattle World's Fair to Dearborn. The simulated space ride will be housed in the center court of the Rotunda exhibition building.

The Rio Grande River rises in a series of springs which are located about 12,600 feet above sea level.

Europe Applauds Retreat as Great U.S. Victory

LONDON (AP) — Western Europe hailed the Soviet Union's retreat in the Cuban crisis as a stunning victory for the United States and greeted it universally with profound relief today.

The dramatic turn of events was seen as opening up possibilities for new East-West negotiations on the whole question of disarmament.

President Kennedy emerged in the West as the undisputed hero of the crisis. Soviet Premier Khrushchev also came in for some praise.

Banner headlines such as "back from the brink," "Retreat from danger" and "End of a nightmare" reflected Europe's mood of deep thankfulness at having escaped the horrors of nuclear war. The British government, which welcomed the Soviet announcement that it is ready to dismantle its Cuban missile sites, a few hours earlier Prime Minister Harold Macmillan had messaged Khrushchev that such a move would open the way to wider negotiations on a nuclear test ban and disarmament generally.

"THANK NIKITA"
Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak said Khrushchev must be thanked and congratulated for his action. Danish Foreign Minister Per Heidegaard expressed hope that the new Soviet-U.S. contact on Cuba might lead to "a final settlement in peace."

In Italy, Milan's Corriere Della Sera said Khrushchev "surrendered in the face of the U.S. President's firmness." The conservative Corriere headlined: "Complete American success."

Rome's independent Il Messaggero said the exchange of messages "gives the go-ahead for constructive talks under the auspices of the United Nations." The Daily Express was typical of British opinion. "The United States has scored an immense diplomatic victory," it asserted. "It is also a victory for peace."

Hopes for Liberal Outcome Depend on Election

'Minor' House Races Pretty Major to JFK

(Editor's Note — This, the first of a series dealing with the crucial race for the House — a race that largely will determine the fate of the Kennedy legislative program for the next two years.)

By VINCENT J. BURKE
WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy's hopes for more liberal Congress will be riding Election Day on the outcome of about 100 little-publicized contests for seats in the U.S. House of Representatives.

Although nationally known senatorial and gubernatorial candidates probably will claim the spotlight, Kennedy's legislative lieutenants will be watching results of House races between candidates who are relatively unknown outside their own districts.

For two years the House has imposed the brake on the New Frontier's legislative proposals. With the election of a liberalizing Democratic Senate almost certain, the big question is whether the House in the new 86th Congress will be more conservative, less conservative or remain at approximately its present balance.

Most of the 435 House seats at stake are relatively "safe" for the party now holding them. The outcome will depend on elections in about 100 doubtful, or swing districts.

During the last two years the party lineup in the House has been:

Democrats — 263.

Republicans — 174.

For the White House, however, the significant figures have been 217-212, 215-205, 202-197 and 219-196. These are the margins by which Kennedy won four and lost one of his closest struggles on the House floor in the 85th Congress.

In the new Congress which convenes on Jan. 9 there will be two fewer seats. The House membership boosted temporarily to 437 with the granting of statehood to Hawaii and Alaska, reverts to its permanent size of 435.

The party in power almost always loses House seats in midterm congressional elections. Not since 1934 has the President's party gained seats in such elections. The average result in midterm elections dating back to 1912 has been a loss of 39 seats for the President's party.

GOOD CHANCE
Republican leaders publicly claim they have a good chance of winning the 44 seats they need to control the House. But their private assessment of prospective gains falls far short of that figure.

Kennedy has publicly expressed hope of upsetting the historical trend by picking up five or 10 new Democratic seats. Privately, Democratic strategists would be happy to hold their losses to five seats.

The significant fact is that Republicans do not have to win party control of the House for conservatives to gain a headlock on Kennedy's legislative program.

A Republican gain of 20 or more House seats would unquestionably give GOP leaders and conservative Southern Democrats the whiphand. Conceivably, a GOP gain of as few as 10 seats would significantly boost the power of the conservative bloc.

On the other hand, should the election result in little or no net shift in the party lineup, administration forces probably would be stronger in the House in 1963 and 1964 than they were during the past two years.

This is because the Democrats which the South elects this year almost certainly will include more Kennedy supporters and fewer Kennedy foes. In a few scattered primary elections, conservative Democratic incumbents were defeated this year by moderate or liberal Southerners.

EXPECT 'LIBERALIZING'
In addition, reapportionment of House seats among states will result in some "liberalizing" of the Democratic party's Southern wing in the House.

The House seats at stake this year have been reapportioned to reflect relative changes in state population during the 1950s.

The 11 states of the old Southern Confederacy wound up with the same number of seats. But some of these in conservative-rural areas were eliminated and some new districts were carved out in areas with more liberal constituents, including Tampa, Fla., and the Miami area.

In the North as well as the South the result of reapportionment will be to give greater voice in the House to city-suburban voters and a smaller voice to the nation's declining farm population.

California with a gain of eight seats will elect 38 representatives to the House, more than any state except New York with 41. Florida gained four seats. Seven other states each gained one seat. Sixteen states lost seats.

The reshuffling of seats has assured a big turnover in House membership. It caused collisions between incumbents thrown into the same districts. Five were defeated in incumbent-vs.-incumbent battles in the primaries and similar contests will unseat seven more on Nov. 4.

A good many veterans decided to retire rather than seek reelection in newly mapped districts. They included Reps. John Taber, R-N.Y., dean of congressional Republicans with 40 years of service, and Brent Spence, D-Ky., chairman of the House Banking Committee, at 87 the oldest man in Congress.

Idaho, New Jersey, Montana and Arizona lead the U.S. in zinc production.

Survey Completed on Possible Shelters

DETROIT (AP) — A survey of potential fallout shelters among 50,000 public buildings throughout Michigan is completed, an Army official said Saturday.

Signs marking Detroit buildings for refuge from atomic attack are scheduled to be posted within two or three weeks, added Douglas Graham, chief of the Army engineering's design unit.

The work of posting signs and stocking shelters throughout Michigan with emergency food supplies is expected to be finished by spring.

The survey was part of a national program to find shelter areas and stock them at the cost of the federal government.

Merchants Mad

Plaster Political Signs

Trate merchants in downtown Pontiac were busy early today, attempting to remove heavily glued signs from plain glass windows.

There were at least two of the hard-to-remove "Fulkerson, Modicare Congress" signs on every store window—occupied or otherwise—for three blocks down Saginaw St.

Attorney George J. Fulkerson of 3100 Middlebury Lane, Birmingham, who is running for Congress on the Democratic ticket, in the 10th District said he had no idea who had plastered the windows sometime Saturday night or Sunday.

He said, "We had to sign crews which met at Oak Park yesterday to distribute signs, but these people would not have pulled this stunt. I think someone was making a deliberate attempt to make all of the merchants in town mad at me."

Maxine Hamby, a beauty operator at Andre's Beauty Salon at 11 N. Saginaw St., said "The first thing I noticed when I walked down the street were these awful signs on every window as far as you could see."

"Some of them are even upside down. It looked terrible."

A more furious businesswoman, Mrs. Lillian Huston, manager of the Paris Hot Shop at 13 N. Saginaw said, "Regardless of how I feel about a candidate, I think this was a pretty dumb trick. Whoever did it should be made to pay for having the signs taken off."

Manager of Shaw's Jewelry Store, 24 N. Saginaw, Tom Brown was one of the first to report the incident to the Pontiac Police Department.

He said, "I understand they have ticketed someone. The culprit should have to come down here and scrape every sign from every window in town."

Arthur Engass of the Engass Jewelry store at 25 N. Saginaw said, "People are not supposed to post signs without permission. I don't think the man running for office is at fault in this case."

Only one woman interviewed said she didn't mind about the signs on her windows.

She is Mrs. Glen Whitcraft, of 7 N. Saginaw St.

"My husband isn't here, but I don't think he'd object," she said, and added: "I have no objections whatsoever. I'm for modicare."

Pontiac police said they discovered Leann Harrelson Jr. busy gluing one of the bright orange and white signs on the Malling Shoe Store window at 50 N. Saginaw St. at 11 p.m. Saturday.

He is the son of Leann Harrelson, president of the Pontiac Teamster's Union Local. He was ticketed for posting bills on public buildings.

Romney Pays Visit to Pontiac Motor

Swinging into the final campaign week with a "people's people" blitz, Republican candidate for governor George W. Romney made a brief stop in Pontiac this morning before heading northward.

Romney shook hands with employees entering the Pontiac Motor Division gate on Glenwood Avenue beginning about 5:45 a. m. And then hurried off to a 6:40 a. m. appearance near Oxford.

He greeted workers at the American Aggregate Corp. gravel pit and processing facilities just north of Oxford.

Lapeer was to be the site of the next two stops on his itinerary, one at a restaurant with local campaign workers, and the other at the Lapeer State Home and Training School.

The GOP candidate was then to visit Davison, Flint, Montrose, Meadow Gardens and Saginaw, all before noon.

Birmingham police said thieves entered the store shortly before 7:30 a.m. by smashing a front window.

Six radio-photographs were reported stolen. Police estimated the loss at $600.

Town Seems to Lack Public-Minded Citizens

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—In the interest of safety the Birmingham Junior Chamber of Commerce gave a member $5 and told him to jaywalk across downtown streets.

The first public-minded citizen who called him down would get the $5.

No one but Jaycee officials and city police knew the jaywalker.

He walked for a full month and still had the $5.

U.S. Takes Action to Begin Unbiased Study of Smoking

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government took final action Saturday aimed at starting a broad new study by nonbiased scientists on the controversy over whether tobacco smoking has adverse health effects such as lung cancer.

Surgeon General Luther L. Terry announced the membership of a 10-man Advisory Committee on Smoking and Health and said it would meet Nov. 9-10 in Washington.

The committee, selected by the surgeon general from a list of approximately 150 names submitted to the Public Health Service by federal agencies, voluntary health organizations and the tobacco industry, has a two-fold mission:

1. To make a "comprehensive review of all available data on smoking and other factors in the environment that may affect health"—a study expected to last about six months.

2. To make recommendations for action at the completion of the study.

Terry, in announcing plans for setting up the committee several months ago, said no scientist who already had taken a strong public position—pro or con—on the smoking and lung cancer controversy would be named to the panel.

COMMITTEE MEMBERS

Members of the committee, and their fields of professional competence, are:

To Mark Special World Day

The Pontiac Council of United Church Women will observe World Community Day Friday at the First Congregational Church from 9:30 a.m. to noon.

This year's theme is "Deepen the Channels to Peace," emphasizing special needs of the people of southeast Asia. World Community Day has been observed on the first Friday in November each year since the war years in the 40s. Millions of bundles of clothing, blankets and yard goods have gone out annually from every state in the union to help refugee and destitute families throughout the world. New garments, home medical kits and school bags have been distributed by church workers in many lands.

This year's project includes children's outfits, other clothing and fully equipped sewing bags for the women of southeast Asia. The united offering will further a new training program for women in Indonesia, continue social education in Brazil and Chile and make possible a new UCW program at the United Nations.

MRS. PATTISON CHAIRMAN
Mrs. H. H. Pattison is chairman of the day. Working with her is Mrs. Lenworth R. Miner of the UCW Pontiac Council, Mrs. P. G. Latimer, Mrs. J. Harry Baker and Mrs. Warren Fowler.

Mrs. Lewis C. Ball and Mrs. John Hau are chairmen of hostesses who will take guests on an imaginary "Hike Around the Rim of East Asia."

Mrs. George Gaches and members of the Women's Fellowship of the hostess church will serve coffee and rolls during the social period.

Mrs. James C. Covert will present a dramatic skit titled "No Time for Despair." She will be assisted by Mrs. George Beauchamp, Mrs. Leslie Bell, Mrs. Emil Kontz, Mrs. Robert Sigler, Mrs. Cecil Choate and Mrs. Grace Steeves.

Mrs. John Heisch, Mrs. Richard Wright and Mrs. George Stinnett will give a choral reading based on "A Simple Prayer" by St. Francis of Assisi.

Music will be under the direction of Charles E. Wilson with Mrs. Carl Leonard as soloist.

MARGARET B. HARRIS

nomics consultant to the University of Ryuky in Okinawa from 1955-58 will be the chief speaker. Now retired, Miss Harris worked out of Michigan State University as a state leader of home economics extension for many years.

A nursery will be provided for small children.

Little striped bags of sewing supplies will go from the Pontiac Council of United Church Women to the women of Southeast Asia. Mrs. Gladys LaBair (left), Murphy Street, and Mrs. James S. Glennie, Gingell Court, were on the committee for this job.

The planning committee for World Community Day met some weeks ago. Those responsible for guiding this year's program at the First Congregational Church Nov. 2 include (from left)

Mrs. Lewis C. Ball, Clarence Street; Mrs. H. H. Pattison, chairman from Orchard Lake, and Mrs. Grace Steeves, North Johnson Street.

160 Members, Guests Attend

Urban League Holds Fall Dinner

One hundred sixty members and guests of the Urban League attended the annual fall buffet dinner Saturday evening at the First Federal Savings and Loan of Oakland.

John Dancy, for 42 years executive secretary of the Detroit Urban League and now retired, spoke on "The Function of the Individual Urban League member in His Community." "When we turn aside to help someone who is groping about for light in the darkness of his personal difficulties," Mr. Dancy said, "we add not only to our own stature, but to that of our community."

Mrs. Willie Holly was general chairman for the evening. She was assisted by Mrs. Julian Callett, Mrs. William Essey and Mrs. Otis Ferguson. Others on the arrangements committee included Mrs. Sam Jones, Mrs. William Jones, Mrs. Pertin Cobb and Mrs. Lenworth Miner.

The invocation was given by Mrs. Lucetta Baker. Mrs. Charles Harrison, accompanied by Fred Bellingher, presented selections from "The Sound of Music."

Should Know What Foreigners Think

Important to Read About Events Abroad

Editor's Note — Gay Pauley is an assignment gathering column material. In her absence, authorities in the women's news fields will be guest columnists. Today's guest is Mrs. Yarnall Jacobs, president of the National Council of Women of the United States.

By SOPHIA YARNALL JACOBS

NEW YORK (UPI) — Do you sometimes want to skim through the newspaper, reading the latest local gossip or studying the advertisements for new fall and winter clothes?

I do. Do you turn with macabre fascination to the obituary page to see who has been the grim reaper's latest victim? I do.

And finally, do you settle back and put your attention on the news dispatches from Europe and Asia, from Africa and from Latin America? I do that too, and with almost the same compulsion.

More and more, we seem to need information about other parts of the world, perhaps because we are setting off on a trip to foreign lands, or perhaps because our husbands or our children are being sent abroad on private or government business.

Perhaps our community is entertaining visiting foreign students or technical specialists and we would be uncomfortable with them unless we knew something of their countries and their customs.

COMPELLING REASONS

All these are compelling personal reasons for wanting to read day-by-day news of the world outside the United States. Much is said of the confusion and difficulties which heightened communications and accelerated transportation impose on us, and it is true that one can become swamped by too many different impressions.

I, for one, however, rejoice in the opening up of new horizons for all of us American women. No matter how remote our homes, nor how confined our jobs, we have on our radio, on our television and in our daily press the opportunity to teach out and know about every corner of the globe.

Nor are the corners of the globe so remote from our own life in this country. Need to know not only what the people of India and Argentina and Germany are doing and thinking, but more subjectively, we need to know what they think of us. The courage and the skill of the astronaut not only helped develop a program of outer space. They brought respect for the United States and its citizens from people all over the world.

DISTURB FOREIGNERS

By the same token, our agonizing racial gnostip growing pains disturb and frighten those in Africa and Asia who always have looked to us as the standard - bearers of democracy.

It is important for us as women to be aware of these reactions around the world so that we realize we are not operating nationally in a vacuum.

Whether we like it or not, I expect we had better adapt quickly to the thought that a woman in Laos, Nigeria, in Rome or in Rio de Janeiro is as much concerned to us as a woman in Chicago or Boston or San Francisco.

Actually there is much that is fascinating about this foreign woman—her clothes, her family and customs, the kinds of jobs she has, the kinds of schools her children go to.

If our curiosity is not stifled by age and inertia we can find her story absorbing. Added to this, we are already beginning to find our children coming home from school better informed about their contemporaries in other continents than we are.

We need to read ALL the news we can find to keep up with them.

IMPORTANT JOB

If reading the foreign news is an acquired taste — and perhaps it is — it can become a real addition.

Not all local newspapers cater to this taste, however, and women have an important job to do in informing their local editors that they would like to read stories of the United Nations, stories of women in other parts of the world, stories of children, of customs, clothes and food.

After a while, foreign news becomes essential to the initiated. Then it is no longer a question of duty, but of desire. And those newspapers which have wide foreign coverage become a delight and a source of knowledge, interest and pleasure.

A Question of Safety

Q. I would like to have some information on the new oral pills to prevent pregnancy. Have they been found 100 percent safe?

A. OK, here's the latest rundown. Results of wide scale clinical studies indicate that when the pill is taken regularly as directed, it is highly (99 percent) effective in preventing ovulation (and thus preventing pregnancy). It is estimated that over one million women are now using the pills. In some instances the pills cause side effects such as nausea, stinging, bleeding, breast tenderness, and weight gain. So far, use of the pills has had no known effect on the fertility of women when they stop taking the pills. What the effect of the prolonged use of the pills may be on the pituitary gland and ovaries; how the menopause may be affected; or what effect prolonged use of the pills may have on offspring, are questions which may take years to be answered. There is some element of danger in almost all medication.

Color In Dreams

Q. Is it normal to dream in colors?

A. Psychologists say that probably all dreams have some color in them. So far as we know, dreaming in colors is quite normal, or at least is of no special significance.

MOSCOW POLICE REPORT — A Moscow policeman reports from the scene by walkie-talkie radio as demonstrators put up signs on iron grill fence in front of the U.S. Embassy this past weekend. The demonstration was in protest against the arms blockade of Cuba.

Clive Brook's Back in U.S.

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—Debonair Clive Brook has returned to Hollywood after a 26-year absence and he's playing a proper English gentleman, fittingly enough.

Back in the 1930s, Brook was a leader in what might have been the largest invasion of American soil by the British since the unpleasant s of 1812. At least it seemed that way, as Hollywood was signing up stars who could speak the King's English in the newfangled talkies.

WENT HOME

Like Ronald Colman, Cary Grant, Herbert Marshall, Charles Laughton, etc., Brook became a popular Hollywood commodity. Unlike the others, he didn't stay on. He returned to the London stage after suffering what he calls "celluloid poisoning."

Now he's back for a role in John Huston's "The List of Adrian Messenger." A still-handsome 75, he paused during the shooting for some observations on Hollywood revisited ("Not as much fun as it used to be") and England today. Understandably, he has some regrets over the changes that have come in England since the war.

NOT VERY HAPPY

"I'm afraid England is not a very happy place," he sighed. "This idea of a nursemaid government has taken all the initiative from the young people. They are protected from everything, even unemployment is no problem because they get such good benefits."

The traffic in London has become abominable, he commented, and he viewed with distaste the skyscrapers that are appearing on the landscape.

Brook remarked that he is an admirer of things American, but he has certain regrets about the invasion of Americanisms in England.

"America innovates, and England follows," he said. "You can see the impact of American speech when our own prime minister said in his first speech, 'You never had it so good.' That is strictly American."

SPEAKING AMERICAN

"The young people are speaking more and more American, because of the singing idols," he added. These rock 'n' rollers try to imitate the American speech, unfortunately taking the worst of it. The teen-agers follow them."

About the London theater: "Too much concerned with the kitchen sink kind of drama—dirty people with filthy pants speaking filthy language. It can be exciting theater, but it is not the kind I like. One good thing it has produced some exciting new actors like Peter O'Toole and Albert Finney."

About the British film industry: "It has done well but is being killed by union strikes."

Brook added: "The leveling of the classes since the war has made shopping difficult. The story goes that a woman asked of a haughty salesgirl, 'Do you think you're my equal?' The girl said, 'Yes!' The woman then said,

Says Children Are Pressured

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—American school children are under too much pressure to get high marks and are 'getting too little love,' says a college professor. As a result, he believes, half of them are potential neurotics, drug addicts, alcoholics and suicide cases.

"We are teaching reading in the nursery school and algebra in the first grade," said Dr. James A. Smith. "What for?"

Smith, a professor of education at Syracuse University, told a teachers' conference Friday.

"We make children conform, conform, until we kill their creativity. We know people came in under undue pressure. But we continue to put our children under more and more pressure."

That Old Black Magic Lives On and On

WASHINGTON—Halloween celebrations may mock witchcraft, but the fear of witches still terrorizes people around the world. Indeed, some reports say that witchcraft is enjoying a revival. Belief in the black arts persists in modern industrial countries as well as remote unsophisticated villages.

A Scotland Yard official believes that there is more black magic in Great Britain now than in the Dark Ages. A self-proclaimed witch has warned that British witches might "raise a cone of power" to prevent nuclear war.

In Germany, where thousands still scan the heavens for cones on broomsticks, charges of black arts, says the National Geographic Society.

courts, and books on black magic are best sellers.

A woman in a Russian village asked for police protection because her neighbors were convinced she was a witch and wanted her to her their enemies.

In New York City, a doctor watched helplessly as life slipped away from a patient who believed himself in Great Britain under a fatal spell. An autopsy disclosed no disease.

Despite these cases, the modern age is skeptical of witchcraft, though song writers may refer to that old black magic.

But for untold generations most people believed strongly in the power of magic, and the National Geographic Society.

Basically, belief in witches arises from nothing more sinister than man's earnest efforts to understand the world around him and make it work for him instead of against him.

Early men who felt sick knew nothing of bacteria and viruses. To explain their misfortune, they developed the theory that an enemy was somehow injuring them.

They began trying to injure others by magical means, such as making an image of a hated man and sticking pins in it. If a victim learned that a spell was being worked against him, he might well succumb to the power of suggestion.

When witchcraft failed, it was easy to believe that the ritual had been performed incorrectly. Fear of later every spell works because all men eventually die.

Thus many unsophisticated believers think that they have good reason for faith in witchcraft.

Belief in the black arts has desirable aspects. Without it, as making an image of a hated man and sticking pins in it. If an illness and feel completely helpless.

But if he believes he has been hexed, he can send for a witchdoctor to remove the spell, restore his spirits, and give him the will to recover.

Europeans remained fairly sensible about witches during the Dark Ages and early medieval times. Ironically, in the 16th and 17th centuries, when the Renaissance and the New Science began to spread, the infamous witchcraft persecutions occurred.

It was an age of social upheaval; the Reformation had split Europe into warring camps. In this time of tension and unrest, popular wrath turned on women who, for one reason or another, had aroused distrust. They were accused of dealing with the Devil, and 300,000 were put to death.

The persecution ended as political stability returned, economic conditions improved, and education spread. The rise of science generally extinguished fear of witches, except for persistent pockets of belief.

See What He Means

LONDON (UPI) — Sir Arthur Harvey, Conservative member of Parliament from MacCleave, wrote his local newspaper over a week ago about exasperating postal delays. His letter still has not been delivered.

In 1915 the U. S. has 27 airplanes and 23 army officers in flight tests.

Fulkerson, Broomfield Will Share Platform

It looks as if Democratic candidate for Congress from Oakland County George J. Fulkerson will finally get one of his fondest campaign wishes.

Fulkerson has been trying to arrange a debate with his opponent, incumbent Republican William S. Broomfield, who is seeking his fourth term, or at least appear on a speaker's platform at the same time.

Broomfield has declined Fulkerson's challenges, explaining that the late adjournment of Congress has made it difficult for him to meet previous campaign commitments without taking on new ones.

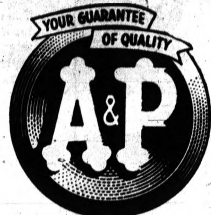

But their paths will cross at 7:30 p.m. tonight at Pontiac Northern High School when both appear in a candidates' forum sponsored by the Pontiac League of Women Voters.

A Broomfield aide said yesterday the congressman will appear at the meeting and Fulkerson indicated he wouldn't miss it for anything.

They will be among some 20 Republican and Democratic candidates for county and state legislative posts expected to attend and state their qualifications and explain their views.

They also will be subjected to questions prepared by the league and an informal question-and-answer session with audience participation.

The nonpartisan L.W.V. does not take stands on candidates. It has distributed a "Voters' Guide" prepared by the state L.W.V. and an "Oakland County Voters' Guide" containing background information on the candidates for state and county offices.

makes up the difference . . . confidentially!

Hidden Treasure was designed to make up the difference between the not-quite A, B, or C and the perfect A, B, or C! It fulfills you beautifully without excess padding. You no longer have to suffer wearing a too-tight or too-loose bra. Hidden Treasure makes you perfectly proportioned, secretly, comfortably. Zephraire batiste, drip-dry. Black, white.

The New Peter Pan Look

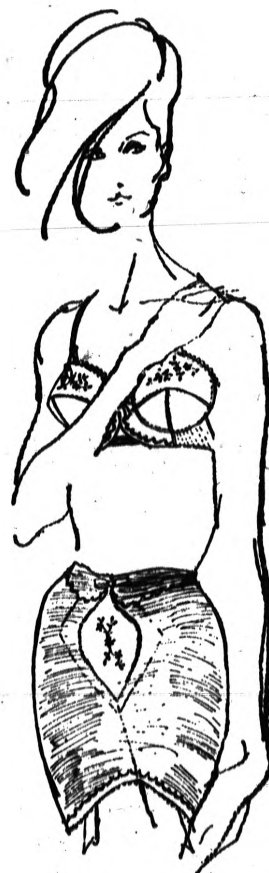

in comfortable, figure-molding Lycra® Spandex

The lightness, the control, the comfort you want—in underfashions so ultra feminine that they give you a wonderful new feeling of loveliness! The wonder of the trim girdles is Lycra spandex, molding every curve so comfortably. The delight of the bra is silky-soft, drip-dry Zephraire batiste. And the joy of both is beauty (the dainty scalloping . . . the embroidery) . . . that Peter Pan look! Black or white.

Walled Lake's Parade Treat for Tiny Goblins

WALLED LAKE — Saturday was a great day for the kids in Walled Lake.

A parade — complete with fire engines, a railroad train and three football teams — delighted hundreds of youngsters who lined the city's main streets Saturday afternoon.

About 300 children outfitted

in colorful Halloween costumes took part in the parade themselves.

Dozens of youngsters rode the special John F. Ivory train while others marched behind the three Beaver Little League Football teams.

The Halloween parade, first in the history of Walled Lake, was termed a "tremendous success" today by Sam Gardiner, chairman of the event for the sponsoring Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Led by a color guard of sailors from the U.S. Navy recruiting office in Pontiac, the procession started from Memorial Park at Walled Lake Drive and Pontiac Trail.

Also included in the event were two carloads of Jaycee "Pumpkin Girls," the Detroit Edison Co. calliope, a 42-foot-long Navy the three football teams, city Talos missile, cheerleaders for officials, eight truckloads of pumpkins and two Walled Lake fire engines.

15 PRIZES

As a climax to the Saturday event, 15 prizes were awarded for the best Halloween costumes after the parade reached the Maple Plaza Shopping Center.

Gardiner said Jaycee members sold from 400 to 500 pumpkins to area residents following the parade.

Anyone who purchased the pumpkins over the weekend, said Gardiner, will be eligible for a contest in this area Halloween night.

A committee which includes Mayor Louis E. James, Police Chief James A. Decker and Jaycee President Wendell G. Kellogg Jr. will award a $25 savings bond at the home with the best pumpkin display.

All proceeds from the pumpkin sale will be used for Jaycee-sponsored civic improvement projects in this area.

PREPARE FOR BAZAAR — These three members of Immanuel Congregational Church, Oxford, look over articles to be sold during the church's annual fall festival and bazaar Thursday from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. They are

2 From Area Die in Weekend Traffic

Two Oakland County residents were killed Saturday in separate traffic mishaps, one of which also claimed the life of a Lansing girl.

A 38-year-old woman and her 19-year-old niece were killed when the car in which they were riding collided with a pickup truck on U.S. 16 near Lake Chemung in Livingston County.

Mrs. Hedwig Kately, of 29006 Spring River Road and Shirley Huebert, of Lansing, were fatally injured at 4:09 p.m. Saturday when their eastbound car crossed into the inner westbound lane and collided with a vehicle driven by Leon Barron, 46, of Howell.

PASSING AUTO

Julian Kately, driver of the car

in which the two were killed, was overtaking and passing another eastbound car on the four lane highway when he was forced to stop for a car making a left turn in front of him, according to Brighton State Police.

Kushion said the car apparently skidded across the yellow line and into the path of the eastbound truck.

Kately is in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor. The truck driver also was injured.

In another accident Saturday a 17-year-old Highland Township youth was killed at 10:41 a.m.

when the car in which he was rid-

HITS REAR OF TRUCK

Charles R. Howarth, of 2335 Davista Road, was a passenger in the car driven by Robert Oakes, 21, of 5541 N. Hickory Road, Holly, when the car struck the rear of a truck.

According to Erie State Police, Leonard J. Walkowicz of Detroit, driver of the northbound truck, said he saw the car rapidly approaching his rear.

The car struck the truck, passed it, and then crossed in front of it off the road and into a corn field, police said.

Oakes is in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor.

A floor-length gown of Chantilly lace over net was chosen by the bride for her wedding. It featured a scalloped portrait neckline, long pointed sleeves and a bouffant skirt.

Her fingertip veil of nylon net was fastened to a rhinestone tiara, and she carried a bridal bouquet of white carnations.

Nancy Hutchinson of Pontiac attended as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Rebecca Post of Pontiac and Betta Sheldon, sister of the bride.

Larry Muckenhirn assisted his brother as best man. Ushers were James Croslin and Keith McBurney, both of Rochester, and Erwin Sheldon Jr., brother of the bride.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the Avondale Community Center. The newlyweds leave today for Key West, Fla., where the bridegroom is stationed.

Volunteer Fireman Hurt Fighting Blaze in Novi

NOVI — A volunteer fireman was injured Saturday afternoon while fighting a fire which destroyed a large barn and adjoining shed on Wixom Road just north of 10-Mile Road.

Fireman Robert Hansor of 26545 Taft Road suffered burns on his hands and face. He was treated and released at the Northville Medical Clinic.

Police Chief Lee BeGole said two fire trucks and 15 firemen were dispatched to the farm at 24555 Wixom Road shortly after noon Saturday.

Seven bales of hay owned by Edward Wiles of 24500 Wixom Road were destroyed when flames leveled the large wood barn.

BLAME ELECTRIC PUMP

The fire apparently started when an electrically operated water pump in the barn ignited the hay. BeGole said the pump had been covered with hay to keep it from freezing during the winter.

The barn, leased by Mrs. Jette Hamilton, is owned by A. J. Alper of Livonia. The property was not covered by insurance, BeGole said.

There was no estimate of damage.

Oxford Firemen to Entertain, Feed 'Beggars'

The "beggars" will receive their free "meals" between 8 and 9 p.m. Firemen will serve hot dogs, cider and doughnuts to those attending.

Some of the children will have canisters and be asking for donations to the U.N. International Children's Fund during the "begging" hours.

These youngsters, selected from local Sunday Schools, will be recognizable by tags they will wear.

Washington Folk Breathe and Talk Only Politics

BY RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — The citizens of no other urban community in the world react so totally to crisis as Washingtonians.

This is an artificially created city, which exists for the sole purpose of providing the seat for our government.

In practically all other nations, the capital is also the chief center of commerce, culture and banking.

London, Paris, Rome and even Moscow are the equivalent of New York City and Washington rolled into one. The interests of their citizens are widely divergent, running the gamut from industry to the arts.

Here we breathe only the rarefied atmosphere of politics and world affairs.

At cocktail parties throughout the United States and the world, the conversational range may cover the latest movies, plays, style changes, love triangles, or cost of living, but here we chat endlessly about congressional hearings, alleged power grabs, political campaigns, or Soviet threats.

We are a one-industry town — government. We have a one-track mind — government — and we beat to any out-of-town visitor who tries to shift the subject to anything as mundane as actors, or business.

Washington itself is our favorite drama, and government is our business. The U.S. Congress is one of the greatest ham actors who have delivered the soliloquy from Hamlet, so what do we want with play-acting?

TENSION UNDERNEATH
The drama-packed week just ended is a case in point. Tension had already gripped the party circuit by late Sunday, although not a word of anything extraordinary had yet appeared in print.

Capitalists, long inured to governmental crises, knew all of the tell-tale signs. The wives of top-ranking officials in the Pentagon, State Department and White House made excuses for their absent husbands.

Some of the party-goers had noticed that only the parking lots reserved for top brass were in use at strategic government buildings on this quiet Sabbath Day. As that word spread, so did the certainty that grave decisions were at hand.

By Monday the entire city was absorbed in impending crisis.

People talked of little else as they went about their daily tasks. The pulse-center was the White House, and as this correspondent made her way through milling crowds to the gate, the mental comparison with wartime days was inescapable.

WAITING, WAITING
Perhaps not since the sudden death of Franklin D. Roosevelt, when we waited within the White House for the arrival of high officials to watch the swearing-in of Harry S. Truman, had so many news photographers thronged the pulsating west wing.

STAYED AWAY
The next evening the Russian Embassy was the stage for a previously scheduled party, but few Americans made an appearance. Perhaps it was just as well, for a Soviet military attaché shocked foreign diplomats with his quip:

The evening, a concert honoring the 17th anniversary of the United Nations had been scheduled at the State Department Auditorium.

The show went on, but tiers of vacant seats eloquently bespeke the absence of top echelons of the department, the White House and defense.

Small groups of solemn-faced ambassadors—ordinarily the most faithful cultural attendees in Washington—began drifting over to the concert after a briefing by Secretary Dean Rusk, but many returned directly to their embassies to contact their governments.

Other parties stopped dead while television sets were attuned to the President's speech, and the Cuban blockade became the sole topic of conversation thereafter.

While television sets were attuned to the President's speech, and the Cuban blockade became the sole topic of conversation thereafter.

"I fought in three wars already, and I am looking forward to fighting in the next."

Although Ambassador DeBrynn was the host, the usually buoyant Russian did not appear at his own party until almost the very end.

The week was grim, for Washington cave-dwellers know full well the meaning of a governmental ordeal. They have lived at the nerve-center of three terrible wars during the past five decades.

They have seen the new faces pour into town, with the deepening of each crisis.

After the tension departs, the new-comers do not. Having fallen rapturously in love with Washington, they just can't go back to Main Street again.

Revolutionists Keep Active Against Fidel

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—It is anti-Castro business as usual with the Cuban Revolutionary Council, principal leader of Miami's Cuban exile colony.

The council, organizer of last year's unsuccessful invasion of Cuba, refused to comment on Soviet Premier Khrushchev's announcement that he would create up Soviet missiles now in Cuba.

Jose Miró Cardona, council president, said: "The council is continuing its struggle for the overthrow of the Communist dictatorship. We are on the threshold of great events."

One exile leader, Luis Conte Aguiar, said "Internationally, the victory may belong to President Kennedy. But in reality, Communism will remain in Cuba unless the United States persists in moving against Castro."

The council "proceeded with plans to create a Cuban army of liberation" manned with refugees being trained in Spanish-speaking units of the U.S. armed forces.

Defensive Unit Shuts Down on Chicago

Walker 'Man of the Hour' in Lions 11-3 Win Over Bears

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press
DETROIT—In this day of pro football platoons, a player often excels on offense or on defense. Yesterday at Tiger Stadium, where the Lions defeated the Chicago Bears, 11-3, to keep their NFL title hopes alive, the Lions' defensive unit was the man of the hour.

It was his defensive play along with his offensive touch which were the big factors in the triumph. Often applauded for his part with the "Terrible Trio" of linebackers, which includes captain Joe Schmidt and Carl Brettschneider, Walker found it difficult this year to make Lions fans forget about the great Jim

Martin and his golden toe of the past 10 years. He made some tough field goals this year; he missed some easy ones; he had five blocked against him and he even lost his field goal kicking job for a game as Milt Pum stepped in to boot the winning pair against the Rams.

Despite it all, coach George Wilson was still convinced that Walker could do the job with some encouragement and work. "It was kicking beautifully all week in practice," said Wilson yesterday, "and I was certain of going with him all the way against the Bears." Walker responded and booted three big ones, out of three attempts, from the 17, 43 and 38 yardlines to spell the margin of victory.

His outstanding defensive move came in the second period when he raced in to block Roger Leclerc's first quarter attempt from the 40-yard line.

Neither team could cross the goal line for a six-point edge though the Lions moved inside the Bears' 35 yard line six times and were stopped by two fumbles and a pass interception on three of those occasions.

Coach Wilson credited the defensive unit along with Walker's toe as the big factors in the victory but he was not critical of the offense.

"Our offensive linemen did some good blocking and we moved the ball well. Let's give credit to the Bears' defense, they were pretty tough," said Wilson.

LIONS HAVE EDGE

Statistically, the Lions had the edge all the way, while the Bears managed only 15 net passing yards and 60 rushing for a grand total of 75.

"Carl (Brettschneider) played a helluva game, one of his best," said Wilson, "and how about that Schmidt, he's given you maximum effort with a couple broken legs. Of course Joe would be the last guy to admit they were broken."

Wilson was making reference to special rep padding Schmidt was forced to wear after suffering back bruises last week against the Giants.

Brettschneider, along with Alex Karras and the defensive wall, fed leather to Bears' quarterback Billy Wade throughout the afternoon.

Karras was credited for smearing Wade in the end zone in the third quarter for the safety which put the Lions ahead 8-0. Walker's two field goals made it 8-0 at halftime.

The safety loomed big in the late stages after Leclerc made it 8-3 early in the fourth quarter. The Bears got possession with seven minutes left in the game on their own 30.

Brettschneider shot through to hit Wade for a 10-yard loss and on the next play he dropped Joe Marconi at the line for no gain. Ron Bull got nowhere in the middle and the Bears had to punt out.

The Lions took over on their own 40 and moved to the 31, helped by an interference penalty on the 33. Walker then booted his 38 yarder with 1:56 left in the game, and the eight-point lead seemed to have the victory secured even if the Bears would have managed to score.

Rudy Butkiewicz went in for Wade on the ensuing kickoff and his stay was short lived as Yale Lary intercepted his first pass on the Bears' 42. The Lions held for three plays as time ran out.

Green Bay Stays Unbeaten

Packers Use Top Defense to Stop Colts

Baltimore's Offense Piles Up Yards but Still Loses, 17-6

From Our Wire Services
BALTIMORE — The Green Bay Packers, with one of the best defensive teams in the NFL, used strong defense to repulse repeated Baltimore threats in scoring a 17-6 victory yesterday before a capacity crowd of 57,889.

The Colts had the advantage of all the statistics except the figures on the score board. All they could muster were field goals by Dick Blechsl in the second and third periods.

Green Bay led at halftime 10-3 by virtue of a 23-yard field goal by Jerry Kramer, substituting for the ailing Paul Hornung and a 25-yard pass from Bart Starr to Ron Kramer.

It was 10-6 after three periods and in the final quarter Jim Taylor went 37 yards for a touchdown after being contained through the game with only 19 yards in 12 carries.

Penalties hurt the Colts as tempers flared and Baltimore received 80 yards and the Packers 74 yards in penalties.

Sunny in Los Angeles, gloomy in San Francisco was the California professional football outlook today as the Rams finally enjoy a Monday colored other than blue.

For Los Angeles, after losing six straight National Football League battles, surprised the 49ers in their own Kezar Stadium Sunday with a 28-14 victory. It was no fluke.

Dick Bass, John Arnett and Zeke Bratkowski starred offensively in the victory that started when veteran Landon Crow returned an intercepted pass 65 yards for a first quarter touchdown.

San Francisco entered Sunday's fray a two-touchdown favorite but by the time the game was 21 minutes old, the shocked 49ers were 21 points behind.

Tittle's Mastery Dims 'Skins' Hopes

By The Associated Press
Y. A. Tittle, a pinpoint passer extraordinary, has sent the New York Giants' title chances in the National Football League soaring with a record-setting performance that punctured the Washington Redskins' bubble.

Tittle, balding dean of the NFL's quarterbacks at a very spry 36, took apart the Redskins Sunday with a display of aerial wizardry that propelled the Giants to a resounding 48-34 victory over the previously unbeaten 'Skins. He threw seven touchdown passes, equalling the league record established by the fabled Sid Luckman and later matched by Adrian Burk.

The victory gave the Giants a 5-2 mark as the season reached the halfway point but New York still is in second place in the Eastern Conference behind Washington. The 'Skins have won four, just one and tied two.

CRUSH STEELERS
The Browns stayed in the Eastern race, wallowing Pittsburgh 41-14, but Cleveland quarterback Jim Brown suffered a shoulder separation and may be out for four weeks.

In other games, the St. Louis Cardinals upset the Cowboys 28-24, Minnesota's Vikings surprised Philadelphia 31-21.

Tittle, who has said he is in his last season as a pro, gave the Redskins' pass defense a lesson they'll not soon forget. He completed 27 of 39 for 565 yards, and hit end Joe Walton for three touchdowns, halfback Joe Morris for two and nailed Del Shofner and Frank Gifford for one each.

SCORING BOMBS
Frank Ryan stepped in for Ninowski and threw a pair of scoring passes, one to fullback Jimmy Brown, who also scored on a 1-yard buck and gained 85 yards rushing. The Browns' defense also had a hand in the scoring, with linebacker Vince Costello scoring on a 21-yard run with a fumble. Charley Johnson threw three scoring passes and defensive back Larry Wilson added the clincher with a 57-yard return of an intercepted pass as the Cards upended Dallas.

Don Perkins, on a 33-yard run, and Don Bishop's 84-yard run with a fumble, accounted for two Dallas scores.

Vikings' Coach Norm Van Brocklin, with help from Fran Tarkenton, got revenge on the Eagles, who refused to hire the Dutchman as head coach following the 1960 world championship season.

GOOD HUNTING — Lions' linebacker, Carl Brettschneider (57) spins Joe Marconi of the Chicago Bears around by his shirt as he drops him for a loss in their game yesterday.

day at Tiger Stadium. The Bears' offense managed only 75 total yards and Brettschneider was in the Chicago backfield all afternoon.

Thorny Rose Bush for MSU

From Our News Wire
EAST LANSING—The smell of roses is getting stronger around the Michigan State University campus, but three thorns may blow the fragrance elsewhere.

The Spartans posted victory No. 2 in Big 10 play Saturday 28-0 over outmanned Indiana. The barricades on the road to Pasadena for the Rose Bowl game get higher with each of the next three games.

MSU, ninth ranked in the nation, must face Minnesota, Purdue and Northwestern in that order. The battle with Northwestern Nov. 17 at Evanston may decide who is in California New Year's Day.

George Salmes, a leading candidate for All-America honors, marched like a Sherman tank through Indiana territory for the second straight time Saturday. Like Notre Dame the week before, Indiana's Hoosiers fell victim this time with the Spartan captain scoring three touchdowns.

Salmes plunges to paydirt of 1, 1 and 3 yards in the first, second and fourth periods put the icing on the cake after Dwyer Lincoln opened MSU's scoring on a 25-yard run.

THREE-WAY TIE
The victory left MSU atop the Big 10 standings along with Northwestern and Purdue.

Michigan State amassed a 20-0 halftime lead on the runs by Lincoln and Salmes, the first two scores coming in the first four minutes.

Indiana scored its only touchdown on the last play of the third quarter when quarterback Woody Moore faked a handoff on fourth down and raced around left end for three yards.

Michigan State won with ease but irked by the team's five lost fumbles and three intercepted passes with Spartan coach Duffy Daugherty.

"I don't mean I wanted to run up a big score but I had hopes that when we led 20-0 we would be able to maintain some level of sharpness. We didn't though," Daugherty said.

"If we could, by some stretch of the imagination, win the next three games," Daugherty said, "I feel we could go into the Illinois game with a chance of winning the championship."

Halas Gives Lions' Hope With Promise

George Wilson is looking for his old tutor, George Halas, to do the Lions a big favor — beat Green Bay.

"We weren't up for Detroit," said Halas after the Lions beat his Chicago Bears 11-3 yesterday. "The next one is our big game. I promise we'll be up for that one."

"I just hope they are," said Wilson.

The next one for the Bears is Green Bay at Chicago next Sunday. Wilson has been saying he expects somebody to knock off the unbeaten Packers before their Thanksgiving day rematch with the Lions in Detroit.

That would give the Lions — if they can win their next three games — the chance to scramble back into a tie with the Packers in the National Football League's western division.

NO MORE HOOK

There was a time when the hook was for high scorers.

Now Don Carter, Bill Lillard, Tom Hennessey and many others are finding they can get better results with the down-and-in ball. It follows a line down the lane and comes in toward the ball in a manner similar to the hook, but the inshoot is not so long drawn out.

"Inshoot not so drawn out."

The down-and-in ball is rolled about the same as the hook except the fingers put on more forward roll, rather than the wrist twisting for the hook.

TOE IN ACTION — Wayne Walker gets off the first of his three field goals from the 17 yard line as Chicago Bears' defensive back Dave Whitsett tries in vain to block the kick. Walker kicked three field goals in the Lions beat the Bears, 11-3. The other two points came on a safety in the third period. Neither team was able to score a touchdown but the Lions' defense limited the Bears to 75 yards total.

'M' Delves in Wishful Thoughts

ANN ARBOR — It may be wishful thinking, but the University of Michigan may be looking ahead to their game with Illinois in two weeks.

The Wolverines, who lost 17-0 to Minnesota Saturday, suffering their third straight shutout, might even be wishfully thinking about scoring against Wisconsin next Saturday.

They can at least hope for their first Big 10 victory against the other Elliott-coached team from Champaign, Ill., Nov. 16th, at Ann Arbor.

Both Bump and Pete Elliott are sitting in the Big 10 basement looking to each other for victory hopes. Illinois — which has lost 15 straight — could even hardly be called a breather for the Wolverines. The Illini have chalked up 31 points in their last three games — including 15 against Ohio State.

Even the surprise shift of quarterback Bob Timberlake could not save the Wolverines, and when the statistics were added up, Michi-

The switch allowed Timberlake to do more pass receiving and give quarterback Rocky Evans more passing opportunities. He completed four out of 13 for 11 yards.

The switch caught Minnesota coach Murray Warmath by surprise. But, he added, "our line adjusted quickly to Michigan's backfield changes."

As in Michigan's previous losses, the opposition managed to turn early Wolverine mistakes into scoring opportunities. A bad snap from center sent the ball over tackle Joe O'Donnell's head to a 54-yarder to Jim D'Arcy with 1:33 left in the first half.

The second pass, also a 54-yarder, went to Pat Dignan on the first play of the fourth quarter. Norm Parker kicked both extra points.

Hurons Snap Slump, 14-0

Eastern Takes Load Off Coach

By United Press International
 Fred Trosko, a coach who knows well the ignominy of watching his own effort hang from a tree limb, will Saturday "like the world is finally off my shoulders."

Trosko made this remark while being carried off the field by his Eastern Michigan University football squad following a 14-0 victory over Eastern Illinois.

The homecoming victory before 1,400 spectators at Ypsilanti ended a winless fame that had reached 30 games for the Hurons. No wonder Trosko was elated.

Chlebek Leads Grand Rapids to 53-12 Win

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — Ed Chlebek, rookie quarterback from Western Michigan University, uncoiled a record-setting aerial barrage, which included five touchdowns, passed last night to lead the Grand Rapids Blazers to a 54-12 United Football League rout of the Louisville Raiders.

Chlebek completed 31 of 47 attempts for 415 yards, the connections breaking his own single game league mark of 29, to move the defending champion Blazers into a first place tie with Indianapolis in the NFL's western division.

Indianapolis, which lost to Wheeling, 28-20, and Grand Rapids each own 4-2 marks.

Chlebek's touchdown bombs went to Leon Burton (35 and 60 yards), Cliff Jackson (10), Jason Harless (25) and Bob Jewett (41).

Eagles Top Rams, 27-7, to Share Loop Crown; Miss Playoff

OL St. Mary Wins, Ties, Loses

Orchard Lake St. Mary trounced St. Fred yesterday, 27-7, and clinched a tie for the Northwest Parochial championship, but still failed to qualify as the loop representative in the divisional playoffs next Sunday.

The Eagles and Royal Oak St. Mary have identical 4-1 marks but the Royal Oak squad has a bigger victory margin for the season and will meet Ann Arbor St. Thomas next Sunday.

Cramps, the cold nor a St. Fred defense couldn't stop 130 pound St. Mary halfback Frank Rompel in a scoring spree that netted him three touchdowns and 162 yards rushing.

Stan Sawicki made the only other St. Mary six-pointer and Don Figiel was next highest in yardage with 65.

Rompel helped unnerve the visitors three plays after the opening kickoff by intercepting a pass and scoring 30 yards to paydirt. He scored again late in the same quarter on a 10-yard end sweep.

With 1:15 left on the clock he caught a 16-yard pass from St. Mary quarterback Larry Janiszewski to put the Orchard Lake boys ahead at the half, 27-7.

This was the last time the red and white reached the Fred's goal line.

Sawicki hit paydirt for the only other Eagles' tally just before time ran out of the first quarter. He tucked a 16-yard pass from Janiszewski under his arm and stepped into the end zone from the 5.

Figiel ran two of the PATs and John Stojnicki tallied for one.

ST. FRED FIRED-UP From the onset of the second half a difference could be noted in the countenance of the St. Fred group.

Not only were the Rams revitalized in the offense department but they also revealed a hitherto unnoticed, hard hitting and determined defense.

The visitors improved their rushing record from 90 yards in the first half to 129 after the interruption and held St. Mary, with 181 at the half, to only 50 the final two quarters.

Hindered by three pass interceptions in the earlier part of the game the Rams clicked on 4 out of 9 aerials for 83 yards before the final whistle.

A gamble paid off for the only St. Fred TD in the final seconds when Ram quarterback Fred Medina lofted a 20-yard pass to Mike Windey who outdistanced the pursuing Eagles' secondary 60-yard to paydirt.

Mary Robare dove over center for the extra point.

Dennis Tepper was defensive standout for the Eagles and Janiszewski showed talent on the kick offs booting four well into the Fred end zone.

It was the final game for Chuck Lewis as St. Fred Coach.

Lewis Leaves St. Fred

Likeable Chuck Lewis resigned yesterday as head football coach at St. Frederick High School. Lewis completed his first season as the Rams' mentor Sunday with their 27-7 defeat at Orchard Lake St. Mary.

The loss doomed the St. Fred team to its third consecutive season without a victory. In 1960 and 1961 with Tom Kennedy at the helm, the Rams had managed one tie in 15 contests. Under Lewis they were 0-4.

Following the announcement of Lewis' resignation, the Rev. Thompson Marston, pastor of the St. Vincent De Paul parish, announced that Bud Duff would succeed Lewis.

Undaunted by his squad's losing ways, Lewis said he was leaving for a job as a radio announcer in Rogers City. He had worked for a radio station prior to taking the coaching job at St. Frederick.

Lewis insisted the responsibility of raising a large family — he has eight children — was the reason said.

he resigned his coaching position. "I didn't give up on these boys," he said. "They never stopped trying."

RIGHT TRACK

In announcing Lewis' official resignation, Athletic Director Gene Wright commented: "Lewis has the boys back on the right track. He did a capable job with the material he had."

This year's varsity had eight seniors, six juniors and freshmen, and nine sophomores. Almost three-fourths of the team will return, having acquired some much needed experience under Lewis.

Duff was Lewis' assistant at St. Fred's and is a teacher in Pontiac. He will have George O'Neill, coach of the St. Frederick grade school teams, as his assistant.

Wright said he felt the school had found the best man it could to replace Lewis.

"Duff knows the boys and he is familiar with the offense," Wright said.

ROSM Reaches Division Playoffs

Behind the passing and running and confirmed itself as the star halfback Don Wells, Royal Northwest Parochial League's Oak St. Mary smashed St. representative in the Division 2 Michael 33-0 Sunday afternoon.

Memory of 1959 Haunts Wildcats

By The Associated Press

Northwestern's Wildcats, having firmly established themselves as the best in the Big Ten this far and ranked No. 3, return to conference wars this week, haunted by the memory of 1959.

That was the year Northwestern won its first six games and then did a turnaround and lost the final three, going from a contender to an also ran.

It shouldn't happen to the Wildcats this year but Coach Ara Parseghian can't help but remember. Riding the crest of three conference victories and a 5-0 record for the season, Northwestern invades Indiana Saturday.

Equipped with proper credentials, the Wildcats figure to defeat Indiana handily and then need to hurdle Wisconsin and Michigan State, both contenders, to grab their first conference title since 1936.

IRISH ROUTED

Northwestern took Notre Dame apart Saturday 35-6 and remained the only team which has scored against Minnesota this season. The Wildcats did it in a 34-21 victory. Since then Minnesota has blanketed Illinois and against Michigan by a 17-0 margin. Before that both Missouri and Navy failed to score against the Gophers who certainly must rank as one of the best defensive teams in the country.

Aside from Northwestern's triumph over Notre Dame, other significant outcomes involved Ohio State's 14-7 victory over Wisconsin; Michigan State's 28-8 triumph over Indiana and Purdue's 25-3 decision over Iowa. Illinois, as expected, lost to Southern California 28-16 and now has a 15-game losing streak.

Michigan State and Purdue remained the only teams other than Northwestern which have yet to lose in Big Ten competition. Wisconsin, Ohio State and Minnesota, despite one loss, are still alive in the run for the title and a trip to the West Coast for the Rose Bowl game.

The fact that the Big Ten plays its first full schedule this Saturday figures to alter matters. Minnesota is at Michigan State and the loser in this game might very well have to abandon title hopes.

BADGERS VS. U-M

Elsewhere, upsets could determine the final conference standings although the ranking teams shouldn't have too much trouble. Northwestern will be at Indiana, Illinois at Purdue, Ohio State at Iowa and Wisconsin at Michigan. Northwestern, Purdue, Ohio State and Wisconsin should come through victoriously, but every game must be played and every team must be given a chance to win.

Should the favorites triumph Saturday, then the process of elimination will be in full swing a week hence. Of the contenders, only Minnesota and Wisconsin play seven-game schedules. This could be advantageous only if the conference fails to produce a winner without a loss.

Only five teams have been successful in winning the title without a loss in the last 13 years.

Although finishing deadlocked with Orchard Lake St. Mary at 3-1-1, the Irish amassed a bigger victory margin in loop contests (under the 28 points maximum rule). The Irish had a 55-point advantage, while the Eagles trailed 44, and thus earned the right to meet Ann Arbor St. Thomas.

In other league action, Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows parlayed a three touchdown spurt in the fourth quarter to a 24-12 victory over Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes, and routed the Lakers' first homecoming.

Wells ran two yards and passed 18 yards to Jerry Smiley for first half touchdowns. ROSM built its margin to 19-0 in the third quarter when the halfback, son of coach Carl Wells, skirted his right end for a 25-yard scoring jaunt.

Mike Connelly, who kicked three extra points, also tallied on a 12-yard end run and quarterback Tom Wagner plunged two yards for the final Irish points.

THREE TDs

Jeff Barth scored all three FOLS touchdowns in the final quarter as the Lancers built a 26-0 margin. The Lakers rallied for two six pointers in the final two minutes of play to make the score a little more respectable.

After brother Rick had scored 20 yards off tackle to break a scoreless deadlock in the third quarter, Barth tallied on runs of 30 yards, and six yards, sandwiched around a punt return of 70 yards.

He also added two PAT's on plunges.

WOLL quarterback Wes Borys clicked with TD tosses of 15 and 20 yards in the closing two minutes. Reserve halfbacks Tom Ogg and Jerry Perchette were on the receiving end of the throws that came too late to affect the outcome of the game.

In building its final loop mark to 4-2, FOLS outgained the Lakers 264 total yards to 129, and 11 first downs to four. The Lancers tied Detroit St. Agatha for third place in the loop.

West Berlin Elation Quiet, Held Down by Experience

BERLIN (UPI) — West Berliners today greeted Premier Nikita Khrushchev's decision to withdraw Soviet missiles from Cuba with elation — tempered by caution born of long experience.

As if to remind them of West Berlin's vulnerable position as an island surrounded by Red-controlled territory, a lone American was up for sentencing by a Communist court in East Berlin.

He is Jean F. Loba, 27, Alameda, Calif., arrested in East Berlin June 2 and charged with trying to help East Germans flee to the West.

Loba went on trial Friday. Details of the charges against him were not made public. His mother, Mrs. Florence Loba, came to Berlin to attend the trial but she was not allowed in court. Western newsmen also were barred.

Mrs. Loba said she had been informed her son was arrested at the Berlin Wall while taking food to friends in East Berlin. He left the United States in June 1958, for a tour of Europe and had worked in a factory in West Berlin while studying at the city's Free University.

West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt said in a radio speech last night that Khrushchev's reaction to the United States stand on Cuba showed that he may take American warnings on Berlin more seriously.

However, Brandt continued, that "We must see what will develop during the coming days." He said there was no reason to rejoice because "matters are too serious."

Other Berliners echoed Brandt's sentiments.

"This is a great victory for the United States and the whole Western world," said businessman Kurt Hirschmann, 45. "But we ought to remind ourselves of that old German saying, 'After the victory, strap your helmet tighter.'"

"When the Russians give in," said housewife Erika Schmitzer, 28, "they must be up to something. Watch out."

The general feeling, however, was that the Cuban situation appeared to give encouragement to Communist East Germany.

"The American victory in Cuba is a victory in Berlin, too," said Ernst Moch, 42, a construction worker.

Find Cabin Cruiser on Lake Sand Bar

FLAT ROCK (AP) — An overnight search for a 22-foot cabin cruiser ended yesterday when a Coast Guard patrol from Grosse Ile located the craft trapped on a Lake Erie sand bar. The craft was refloated.

State police said the boat owner, Murlin Wagner, 28, of Romulus, set out alone Saturday afternoon to take the boat to a winter dock area. When he failed to show up Saturday night, the search began.

Baby Born in Ambulance

Plane Outpaces Stork

ATLANTA (UPI) — The stork lost a race with an airliner yesterday, but snatched a minor victory by delivering its bundle in an ambulance racing from the Atlanta airport.

The mother, Mrs. Luz M. Guzman, 19, of San Juan, P.R., and child, a 5 pound 12 ounce girl, were reported "doing fine" today in Grady Hospital here.

Mrs. Guzman was on a flight from Miami to join her husband in Chicago when the labor pains started and an ambulance met the plane when it landed at the airport.

The woman's two other children, both under 2 years old, were with her on the flight.

An Eastern Air Line ticket seller boarded the plane with the youngsters when the craft resumed its flight, and turned them over to their father in Chicago.

Stops Constipation due to "Aging Colon"

But, doctors say, there is one simple principle that re-creates 3 seconds of possible regularity.

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant, balled contents dry out and shrink so they fail to stimulate the urge to purge. On leading laxatives, only new COLONOID gives you this special 3-way relief.

(1) COLONOID prevents the formation of dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) helps restore flabby colon muscles with unique rubbing action. (3) acts gently on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the "mass movement" of your lower colon.

COLONOID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. Introductory Size 43¢.

SEN. PHILIP HART

GOV. ROMNEY

Dems Rip GOP at Dinner Here

By JIM DYGIERT

Half a dozen big guns of the Democratic party gathered together last night in Pontiac and fired a salvo at Republican candidates for state and county offices.

U.S. Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., speaking before some 600 persons at the County Democratic Committee's 18th District congressional dinner at the Elks Temple, called for support for the Democratic party as "the party that better understands history."

Hart said Democrats understood better the lesson of history that great powers "drop into the footnote department" when they "dilly-dally with necessary reforms until it's too late."

He joined Gov. John B. Swainson in urging election of Democratic congressmen to support President Kennedy's program.

Swainson also told the partisan crowd that Michigan cannot be separated from the nation. Support for President Kennedy's programs is important to the people of Michigan, he said.

Swainson said he was "proud to support John F. Kennedy and prouder still to have President Kennedy support me and my Democratic team."

The governor seeking a second-term bid blasted his opponent, George W. Romney, for what he called a "now-you-see-it, now-you-don't" version of Republicanism.

He said Romney "engaged in a love fest with other Republican candidates" in Berrien County, but "has refused to admit that he is a Republican" in Oakland and Wayne counties.

'NATION NEEDS DEMS'
Democratic congressman-at-large candidate Neil Staebler said the nation needed more Democratic help in Congress. President Kennedy needs a strong right arm in Michigan, he said.

"We need a Democratic governor with a veto to ride herd on the Republican legislature" to get an equitable redistricting if the U.S. Supreme Court rules for reapportionment of the State Senate, Staebler said.

"We have to keep the boys honest," he said.

Letters Show Voters Moved

Oakland GOP Leader Denies Dem Charge

Oakland County Republican said Saturday that 3,091 out of 12,528 letters sent to registered voters in the county were returned because the addressees had moved.

The announcement was made by county Republican Chairman Charles L. Lyle in answer to charges by Democratic State Chairman John J. (Joe) Collins that a similar program in Detroit was using "tactics better suited to the Gestapo or Soviet Secret Police."

"Collins hasn't the slightest idea what he is talking about," Lyle said.

Collins accused a voter registration check in Detroit by the Honest Ballot Association, a New York nonprofit organization, of attempting to "confuse" and "terrorize" Negro voters in Detroit.

The New York group was retained to keep watch on Wayne County voting by the Committee for Honest Elections, headed by Detroit Edison Company President Walker Childer.

NO CONNECTION
The Oakland County Republican check of voter registrations has no connection with the Detroit group, Lyle explained.

But its results so far "prove without a doubt that Michigan voters need and demand assurance that votes are honest and within the law," he said.

Although the returned letters do not by themselves indicate any vote fraud, he explained, they provide information for guarding against it.

The names on the returned envelopes will be marked for challenges at the polls on election day, Lyle said. He added that the program, called "Operation Checkmate," is not intended to terrorize or intimidate anyone.

A total of some 25,000 mailings will be made altogether, Lyle said. They are sent to all registered voters in selected precincts in Hazel Park, Madison Heights, Ferndale and Pontiac.

NO SEGREGATION
Although these areas have an 80 per cent or more Democratic voting record, no mailings were made to Negro precincts, he said.

Nehru Pleads for Arms; U.S. Vows to Help

Ambassador Galbraith Promises Anti-China Aid; India Post Falls

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—India turned to the United States today for weapons to fight the Communist Chinese and was assured they would be sent soon.

Prime Minister Nehru asked U.S. Ambassador John Kenneth Galbraith for the weapons and an American Embassy spokesman said Galbraith indicated they are coming.

Almost simultaneously an Indian spokesman announced the loss of Dhanoch, the farthest thrust the Chinese have made southward at the western end of the fighting front.

The spokesman estimated between 2,000 and 2,500 Indian soldiers are dead or missing since the Chinese launched their offensive Oct. 20 and added the Chinese are believed to have suffered many heavy casualties.

Reinforcements were being rushed to Se Pao to try to head off at least one 10,000-man Chinese division moving from the key northeast border town of Tawang, lost last week.

Despite setbacks such as the loss of Dhanoch, India refused offers of mediation of the undeclared war with China.

A foreign ministry spokesman said "No self-respecting country and certainly not India, with her love of freedom, can submit to Chinese aggression, whatever may be the consequences, nor can India allow China's occupation of Indian territory to be used as a bargaining counter for dictating to India a settlement of differences regarding the boundary on China's terms."

American infantry weapons for the Indian defenders in the Himalayas may begin arriving by air by the end of this week, it was understood.

France Waits for De Gaulle's Decision

PARIS (AP)—France waited anxiously today to see if President Charles de Gaulle considered his referendum victory decisive enough for him to stay on as president.

The outlook was that he would continue in a period of bitter political strife.

The country's voters approved, Sunday, de Gaulle's proposed constitutional amendment providing for direct election of future presidents, an issue which de Gaulle turned into test of strength with the majority of the nation's politicians.

He deliberately tied his political life to a solid majority, saying he would resign if the approval was "weak, mediocre or doubtful."

HE WON

De Gaulle won, but the margin was less than his followers expected, and only a minority of the French electorate approved his proposal.

Complete official returns from metropolitan France, including Corsica, were:

Yes—12,810,948, or 61.75 per cent of valid ballots.
No—7,739,320, or 38.24 per cent of valid ballots.

The "yes" voters represented only 46.3 per cent of the registered voters. Fully a fourth of the electorate abstained, mostly by staying at home although some cast blanks or spoiled their ballots.

K's Backdown JFK Victory, but Peace Far From Reality

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Premier Khrushchev's backdown on Cuba gives President Kennedy a victory but any appearance of peace is illusory and temporary, for Cuba and elsewhere.

Nevertheless, some of the Soviet and Cuban actions in this crisis look stupid if not nutty.

chev decide to put missile bases in Cuba in the first place?

He took the shock out of the crisis yesterday with his astonishing mild agreement to pull his missile out. But that doesn't solve the problem of Fidel Castro.

As if to prove peace is a dream this happened: Just a few hours after Khrushchev said he'd backed up, from Venezuela The Associated Press reported saboteurs, believed to be Castro followers, blew up enough power stations to knock out a sixth of the country's oil production.

HEAR HAVANA RADIO

A Havana radio signal instructing Venezuelan Communists to take action against the oil fields there was heard by U.S. and Venezuelan government sources. Radio Havana was reported calling openly for an insurrection in Honduras.

This, coming on the heels of Khrushchev's protest against any interference with the Cuban people, makes no sense unless it can be interpreted as Castro's way of showing that, even without Soviet missiles, he intends to be a menace.

From Miami The Associated Press reported Cuban exile leaders shrugged at Khrushchev's decision to withdraw the missiles and proceed with their anti-Castro business.

Revolutionary Council President Jose Miro Cardona said: "The council is continuing its struggle for overthrow of the Communist dictatorship."

Kuznetsov arrived from Moscow Sunday night and told newsmen, "We are sure peace can be achieved if all parties concerned (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Expect It to Get Up to 60 Degrees Here Tomorrow

Partly cloudy skies will remain in the area through tomorrow, says the weatherman. The mercury is expected to dip to a low of 50 tonight, and climb to a high of 60 tomorrow.

Temperatures for the next five days will average from one to three degrees below the normal high of 54 and the normal low of 38.

Precipitation will total from one to three tenths of an inch in showers tomorrow, Thursday and Saturday.

The lowest temperature recorded preceding 8 a.m. today, downtown Pontiac was 32. At 1 p.m. the thermometer recorded 50.

Parleys Follow Missile Pledge

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States pushed today for fast diplomatic action to nail down Soviet Premier Khrushchev's agreement to pull Soviet missile bases out of Cuba.

Washington policymakers held hope—mixed with liberal roses of caution—that a breakthrough has been scored in the U.S.-Soviet confrontation that bordered on potential nuclear conflict.

Khrushchev's pledge was hailed in Western capitals as a stunning victory for the United States.

Informed sources said there were no deals or secret understandings involved with the Soviet leader's offer to dismantle the Cuban bases and return their rockets to the Soviet Union.

The only price he asked was a guarantee, which Kennedy gave, that the United States would not invade Cuba.

American diplomats focused on working out arrangements for U. N. inspection of the withdrawal from Cuba of the "grim weapons" which Khrushchev, under threat of forceful U.S. action, dramatically announced he would ship back to the Soviet Union.

Khrushchev sent Deputy Foreign Minister Vassily Kuznetsov to New York to negotiate. He said on his arrival Sunday night "We are

There was an almost tangible easing of the tension that gripped the nation during the past week of crisis.

There was no accompanying reversal of the military preparations which had been mounting toward an indicating bombing strike or invasion of Cuba.

Informed officials said they don't expect to see any substantial reduction in those land, sea and air preparations at least until this country is convinced the missile threat from Cuba is removed.

Even after that it is almost certain that aerial surveillance will be continued over Cuba to make sure there is no new sneak try at setting up ballistic missiles pointed toward the United States. Authorities said the 14,000 Air Force Reservists who went on active duty Saturday probably will be kept in service for the time being.

NOTED BY REDS
The Pentagon announcement Saturday night that the Reservists were being called up to man troop-carrying planes hinted very strongly at a possible invasion.

WASHINGTON — U. S. naval blockade and aerial surveillance of Cuba continues while President Kennedy seeks speedy fulfillment of Soviet promise to get missiles out of Cuba.

HAVANA — Premier Fidel Castro reiterates demand that U. S. surrender its naval base at Guantanamo and get out of Cuba. Brother Raul, in bitter anti-American speech, darts United States to invade the island promising that seven million Cubans are ready to fight the "imperialists."

UNITED NATIONS — Acting Secretary General Thant arranges final round of discussions with U.S. and Soviet envoys before leaving for talks with Cuban Premier Fidel Castro in Havana tomorrow.

Removal of the rockets and jet bombers which the Soviet Union has been shipping to Cuba is the prime U.S. goal.

Quit Guantanamo, Castro's Demand

From Our News Wire
MIAMI — The Castro brothers have demanded the surrender of the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo, Cuba, and dared the United States to invade their Soviet-infiltrated country.
Premier Fidel Castro started the ball rolling yesterday with the publication of a five-point demand for guarantees against aggression, shortly after Premier Nikita Khrushchev announced Russia will dismantle its Cuban missile bases.

Chinese May Make Move

Red Fight Looms in Cuba

By JOHN RODERICK
TOKYO (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev's order to withdraw his missiles from Cuba may mark the start of a new struggle between the Soviet and Chinese Communists to win control of the Cuban revolution.
It also could dangerously heighten the ideological quarrel between Peking and Moscow.
Mao Tse-tung was one of the first to support Fidel Castro's revolt against dictator Fulgencio Batista. Peking called Castro's 1959 victory a "defeat of U.S. imperialism in Cuba."
It seemed apparent during Castro's first year of rule that Moscow had given Peking priority to exploit the Cuban revolution and to seek to scatter its flames in the whole Caribbean area.
From the beginning, the Chinese were active with trade and diplomatic missions which culminated in Castro's severance of relations with the Chinese Nationalist government and recognition of Peking.
The Chinese established newspapers in Cuba, sent a news crew to report on the revolution, and Khrushchev's recent work order behind the scenes to win Castro's ear. But China's star waned soon after the abortive Bay of Pigs invasion of 1961.
Though Castro seemed to prefer working with the Chinese, he resented the role Khrushchev played in purging pro-Chinese elements in the Cuban Communist party, a decision Peking merely accepted.
Withdrawal of the Soviet missiles may re-establish the situation before the invasion attempt.
Mao also is not likely to take with good grace Khrushchev's unilateral move to ease world tensions, or any step toward a thaw in the cold war.

Soviet Press Depicts K as Man of Peace

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet press and radio did its best today to depict Premier Khrushchev as the man who averted a possible thermonuclear war over Cuba.
This was coupled with warning that the West should not interpret Soviet "peacefulness as a weakness."
Both points were made on the front page of Pravda, the official Communist party newspaper, which said Khrushchev's decision to remove rockets from Cuba had the unanimous support of the Soviet people.
"The working people of Byelorussia, Kazakhstan, Georgia, Latvia and other republics of the Union are waiting for them. They will find their home here," he said. "Seven million Cubans are waiting for them. They will find their home here."
He said Fidel would give any invaders "a rough time." He said Cuba does not have enough men to make full use of the "hundreds of thousands of weapons" it possesses.
Cubans, now as in the past, "laugh loudly... at the threats of the U.S. President," he said.
He said Cuba's current mobilization was not its first nor was it likely to be its last. He said "we have had to put the entire country on a war footing" during both the Eisenhower and the Kennedy administrations.
Raul denounced as the U.S. arm, ball and chain as "direct imperialist aggression."

MISSILE SITE — The Defense Department's Washington released this low-level photograph, made Tuesday of the medium range ballistic missile site under construction in the San Cristobal area of Cuba. A line of oxidizer tank trailers is at center. Added since Oct. 14, when the site was earlier photographed, are fuel tank trailers, a missile shelter tent, and other equipment.

Woman Saved as Car Burns

Crash Victim Pulled From Wrecked Auto
Flames quickly enveloped a woman's car when it was struck by a truck and flipped over on South Telegraph Road in Bloomfield Township this morning.

"I could see as I drove up that no one could be alive in the burning car," L.J. John Moyses of the township fire department said.

Seconds before — immediately after the crash — the driver of the pick-up truck pulled Mrs. Lois Breitbach, 48, of 131 S. Ascot Road, Waterford Township, from her overturned, burning car.

Alone in the car, she suffered only minor bruises. She was treated and released at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

"DIDN'T SEE CAR"
The truck driver, John Crampton, 34, of 919 E. Eagle Road, Springfield Township, said "I just didn't see her car ahead. I don't know whether it was the sun in my eyes or what."

"Next thing, I all I could see was flames," he added.

Only slightly bruised himself, Crampton jumped from his truck before it also caught fire and pulled Mrs. Breitbach from her burning car.

He dragged her by the arms through a back window which had been smashed out by the impact. Mrs. Breitbach was waiting to make a left-hand turn off Telegraph into the parking lot of the Mary Lee Decorator Shop at 1935 S. Telegraph Road when her car was struck from behind in a southbound lane. She is employed shop as a seamstress.

Richard MacDonald, 20, an employee at the Calico Corners fabric shop next door, saw the accident from the shop window.

Area Cleared Near Missile, Fire Possible

ALTUS, Okla. (AP)—A one-mile area around an Atlas missile launching site was evacuated today after an accident threatened a possible fire.

A spokesman at Altus Air Force Base here said a pipe feeding liquid oxygen to the missile had broken but "there is no fire yet." Earlier, unofficial reports said there was a fire and that smoke was seen from a distance.

The launching site, one of several in the vicinity, is about 40 miles east of this southwestern Oklahoma town and 20 miles west of Lawton—adjacent to the Army missile and artillery center.

Birmingham Area News:

Air Zoning Proposals at Public Hearing Tonight

BIRMINGHAM — Several proposed changes in Birmingham's zoning ordinance will be held at a public hearing to be held at 8 p.m. City Commission meeting.

One of the suggested revisions would allow state licensed trailer camps in business (B2) districts while another would include licensed outdoor amusement and recreational facilities in B2 zones.

A section of the ordinance also would be revised to clarify the necessary setback of buildings from lot lines in single-family residential districts.

A legal definition of schools and a provision for off-street parking also would be included in the ordinance amendments to be discussed.

Commissioners tonight also will consider dedicating Old Salem Court, a private street in the northwest section of the city, for public use.

PARKING TOPIC
City Manager L. R. Gare will ask the commission to issue a directive which will specify certain parking places in municipal lot No. 5 for lessees.

The lot is at Woodward Avenue and Willets Street. Persons who lease spaces there now may park in any section of the lot.

However, Gare said, merchants and shoppers have complained that prime spaces nearest downtown stores are being taken by motorists who park all day under their leases.

Gare suggested that areas in the north and west sections of the lot be set aside for leased parking.

Birmingham Chapter No. 220, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold its annual bazaar from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Saturday at the Masonic Temple, 327 S. Woodward Ave.

Aprons, hand-made articles, candy, baked goods, and Christmas cards will be a few of the items on sale.

A roast beef dinner, open to OES members, their families and friends, will be held from 5 to 7 p.m.

Rescue Angler in Buckell Lake

Detroit Man Clung to Boat 2 Hours
A Detroit man clung to his small overturned boat in Buckell Lake in Groveland Township for two hours yesterday before being rescued from the chilling water.

Leon Greenblatt, 56, was pulled to safety by Roy Willis of Royal Oak and Salvador Ramos, 130 East Boulevard, after they heard his screams for help.

Greenblatt is in Postle Hospital for observation of shock and exposure. His condition is listed as satisfactory.

Greenblatt, who said he has been fishing the lake for 20 years, told Sheriff deputies that he was about 100 feet from shore when his boat flipped, tossing him into the water.

Heavy clothing and boots, he said, prevented him from attempting to swim to shore. He said he tried it once but had to turn back because his clothes weighed him down.

Willis was the first to hear Greenblatt's repeated calls for aid.

He said that he was removing some things from his car into a new home when he heard the voice over the water.

He ran into the house and got Ramos, who was visiting his father-in-law. The two rowed out to Greenblatt.

Soviets Ease Travel Ban

MOSCOW (AP)—The ban on travel outside Moscow by Western diplomats was eased today by the Soviet government.

The ban went into effect last week after President Kennedy announced an arms blockade of Cuba.

Area Registrations in Hassle

literature, according to Donald A. Forman, 425 Charing Way, Bloomfield Township, who is in charge of "Operation Checkmate."

Under elections laws, Forman explained, voters who have moved within 30 days prior to the election or who have moved to another address within the same city or township can still vote by signing an affidavit available at the polls on election day.

Collins charged that in the Detroit registration check "the paid employees of the committee are asking neighbor to spy upon neighbor to inform on alleged registration improprieties, with the hidden intent of frightening thousands of voters from the polls on election day."

DENIES CHARGES
Chief investigator for the Honest Ballot Association, George J. Abrams, denied the accusations, saying his committee has worked with both political parties in the past, and since only at keeping elections above board.

He said, "It is our policy to concentrate on areas of high population where our experience has shown election frauds can exist."

Clair said some 40,000 persons are on Detroit registration roles who no longer live in the city.

The letter sent to voters by the group and signed by Clair, says, "If you know of any person who has moved or died or is otherwise not qualified to vote on Nov. 6, 1962, it is your duty to notify officials so that your vote is not canceled by a fraudulent vote."

Collins and a representative of Republican State Chairman George Van Pelt are scheduled to meet with Abrams today to clarify this latest political hassle.

Succumbs to Injuries

MONROE (AP)—Gerald D. Miller, 23, of La Salle, died today of injuries suffered in a car smash-up in Monroe County Sept. 28.

More than support in a time of crisis is needed, Fulkerson said.

"We need men of perception in Lansing and Washington to see the problems beforehand and support the President in advance," he said.

He said he wanted a talking campaign rather than a whispering campaign.

"We believe in open debate and discussion," he said, claiming that Broomfield was "afraid" to defend his record publicly.

"OAKLAND MYTH"
County Democratic Chairman Sander Levin predicted Democrats would "explode the myth that Oakland County is the private property of the Republican party."

Levin said the majority of registered voters in the county are Democrats. "The problem is to get out the votes," he said.

Swanson, who delivered the main speech, said voters have been exposed "to an all-out helping of Republican evasion, distortion and desperation in their attempts to win this election."

"We have witnessed the spectacle of the Republican candidate for governor campaigning on a program that alters to fit the time, place and his audience," Swanson said.

Junior Editors Quiz on SAILING

QUESTION: How do sailboats sail into the wind?

ANSWER: The two boats in our picture can both sail up to the lighthouse, even though the wind is coming toward them. No boat can sail directly into the wind. However, a boat can sail at an angle of about 45 degrees from the wind's "eye." To get where the skippers want them to go these boats are sailing in zig zag courses, which is what sailors call "beating to windward."

How can a boat sail against the wind at all? Because, as shown in the cross-section of an airplane wing (1), the air moves faster over the curved top, so there is less air pressure there. This allows the air pressure below to hold the plane up.

Looking down on a sailboat (2) we see its sails are also curved. The little arrows on the left indicate air pressure built up in the direction of big arrow A.

But the keel or centerboard of the boat, deep in the water, prevents the boat from going in the direction of A. Instead the boat takes the path of least resistance, towards B.

FOR YOU TO DO: Learn some sailor talk. Important is that dealing with the direction of the wind. Everything toward the wind is "to windward," such as a windward shore, the windward side of the boat. Things away from wind are to leeward, pronounced "loo-ard."

British Are Wrestling Economic Dilemma

If the politico-economic and social picture of the U.S. seems a bit out of focus at times, we have but to gaze across the Atlantic to view comparable distortion.

Our English cousins are finding the going a little rough.

On a related political and economic issue, Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and his Tory government face the proverbial horns of the dilemma.

The threat of one lies in the conviction of British leaders that it is to the country's advantage to join the European Common Market. Such action, however, is by no means overwhelmingly popular since opposition exists in many quarters.

And impale on the other "horn" looms from the strong opposition of the 16 nations of the Commonwealth to England's aligning herself with the continental bloc. They see such a course as inimical to their economic well-being which depends to a great extent on reciprocal trade with the mother country.

Additionally, the canvas shows a blemish represented by the sluggishness of the British economy and the rising unproductivity of labor—both of which are no strangers to America.

For the decade of the 50s, Britain had the slowest growth per capita output of any industrial nation—20 per cent. Yet over the same period wages doubled.

But in West Germany, an identical wage increase was offset by a 60 per cent rise in production.

Britain has had 2,000-odd strikes so far this year, costing more than 5-million work days. A corollary, just as serious, are the slowdowns, hangovers from prewar days of heavy unemployment when work was spread to make more jobs.

Indication of the situation are evidenced in the following: A 1954 poll showed only 12 per cent of the public considered unions bad. By 1959, the figure had doubled. Today, a leader of the Trade Union Congress says: "We have lost public sympathy usually felt for the underdog. Unions came into existence to resist injustice and oppression. They should be careful not to even appear as the instruments of oppression themselves."

Yes, things are indeed a bit tight in the Tight Little Isle.

How's That Again? . . . In these news-saturated times when much of our information originates with "experts," "special committees," "official spokesmen," etc., you need a phrasebook to interpret the obscure language of certain pronouncements.

A popular magazine offers the following translations of some familiar instances of gobbledygook.

"The committee met and evaluated the situation." (Half the members showed up and talked for awhile.)

"We explored every conceivable

solution to the problem." (Everybody talked a lot but nothing was said.)

"The results were inconclusive." (Nothing was accomplished.)

"It is widely accepted that . . ." (One other person agrees with me.)

"Therefore, the consensus is . . ." A couple of others think so, too.)

"It is hoped that the report will stimulate increased interest in the problem." (Next time let somebody else do it.)

In Washington:

Photos Tell Story

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — It is now admitted by even the most conservative United States intelligence sources that the big Russian military buildup in Cuba began last July. For three months, confirmable reports showed only defensive and short-range aircraft missiles were being delivered. This apparently misled American officials into a false sense of security on Cuba.

For all this time, Cuban refugee sources were reporting far heavier shipments of Russian arms to Cuba and the arrival of far more Communist "technicians" than official sources could verify. Early in October, however, the refugees began to check out.

Confirmed now by United States air reconnaissance photos taken over Cuba, they indicate that American intelligence services — in their cautious desire not to fall for exaggerated rumors — may have seriously underestimated the buildup.

If this in any way delayed the Kennedy administration in making its decision to blockade shipments of offensive weapons into Cuba, it was another serious intelligence blunder.

As an example, the Cuban Student Directorate — a former underground resistance unit now operating from a Miami headquarters — reports 87 ships brought over 800,000 tons of Communist supplies to Cuba, July to September.

It puts the number of people from Communist countries arriving in Cuba at over 8,000 — double official estimates. The number of armed men in Cuba, including Cubans, is put at 300,000. All are said to have automatic weapons.

The command is under Russian generals, operating from three top floors of a large building in Havana, with field headquarters in central Las Villas province. Even the portable militia is now said to be under Russian officers. A five-page list of camps and installations is given. Cubans are barred from major bases. Many underground installations are reported throughout the island for storage and concealment of weapons, including I-28 aircraft. The number of Russian MIG jet fighters is put at 185 — nearly double United States official estimates.

American intelligence estimates of Russian arms in Cuba are verified by aerial photographs.

They show: Twenty-four missile bases, 22 of them already operational, for medium and intermediate range ballistic missiles. They are widely dispersed and really blanket the whole island.

There are at least four launching pads at each site. In some cases there are two and three missiles at each pad. Medium range missiles are all mobile field units, with portable erectors that can be moved on trailers directly to the launching sites.

No nuclear warheads have yet been detected, but they are small and easily concealed. One recent aerial photo shows construction of a bunker with arched roof being earth-covered. It could provide underground storage for nuclear weapons. A port facility for their unloading has been spotted. It is surrounded by double fencing.

Two aerial photos taken 24 hours apart show, on the first shot, 45 vehicles assembled at a site where grading has been started for the launching pads. No tents are shown.

The second shot made a day later shows four erectors in place on the pads, seven missiles on trailers, 100 motor vehicles including rocket fuel trucks, 27 big tents capable of sheltering 500 men. The missiles have been identified as mobile 1,000-mile-range rockets of a type shown in Moscow May Day parades for several years past.

The second type of fired site, identified also with four pads, shows heavier erector construction to handle 3,500-mile intermediate range rockets. Two vertical launchers have been built between each pair of pads. The areas are heavily fenced.

Air photos of Russian freighters approaching Cuba show the crates loaded to the deck. These crates were later spotted at an airfield, being unpacked. Each crate contained an I-28 advanced jet bomber capable of carrying a nuclear warhead 750 miles.

The High Road

David Lawrence Says:

We Must Help Russ Free Selves

WASHINGTON — Is everything being done that can be done to prevent a third world war? As of today, a negative answer must be given. For there is a glaring deficiency—a failure of the voice of truth to reach the 500 million people of the Soviet Union who alone can determine whether their autocratic government shall stay in power.

The Soviet people have not been getting and are not now getting the truth. It is not a lack of means. The United States, to be sure, is equipped with the latest mechanical devices LAWRENCE which can broadcast messages of great length into all the countries of the world in various languages.

Then what's lacking? It is a policy of positiveness and frankness that would, day after day, tell the peoples of the Communist-bloc countries how they can liberate themselves from the yoke of one-man rule and one-party government which today constitutes the biggest menace to world peace.

But, it will be asked, doesn't the United States government issue "propaganda" through the Voice of America and other agencies of international publicity?

TOO RESTRAINED
The answer is that the messages sent out daily are so restrained in tone as to give the impression of a fear to speak out forthrightly and explicitly to the people of the Soviet Union.

The broadcasts are confined largely to reading over the air condensations of news dispatches and extracts from speeches and official statements.

The official pronouncements, moreover, are couched in polite phrases and make no direct appeal.

The White House and State Department under this and preceding administrations have ordered a policy of forbearance. Occasionally, there is emphasis and bluntness. Every now and then there is a presidential statement broadcast which contains resolute words.

But there's no exhortation—no appeal to the Soviet people themselves.

The Soviet people have been told repeatedly by a controlled press, radio and TV that the United States and its Western allies are indeed "aggressors."

The charge has been reiterated constantly that America plans the destruction of the people of the Soviet Union by nuclear bombs direct from missile bases in Europe.

Even inside this country there are many uninformed persons who don't see the difference between Western bases erected in Turkey for defensive and deterrent purposes and missile bases built by Khrushchev in Cuba for what he chooses to call "defensive" purposes.

Many citizens in this country do not know why the Western missile bases were originally set up in Turkey, nor do they know of the Soviet threat to the Atlantic that preceded this countermove by the West.

Sure, it was printed in the newspapers at the time it happened in 1958 and was announced to the world. It wasn't done secretly.

But there's been little or no mention of it since then nor any over-all broadcast to the Soviet people repeated day in and day out to characterize the offensive nature of the Kremlin's tactics throughout Europe, Asia and Latin America, as well as Africa.

This has made defensive measures necessary and has built up the armament costs of every one of the free nations.

Is a revolution inside the Soviet Union possible? This question is often asked. Three times in the last 50 years people throughout the world were convinced that a revolution to overthrow any strong dictatorship in Europe was not even remotely possible.

Few persons, for instance, who read of the tight hold on the Russian people by the Communist regime ever believed it could be or would be overthrown as it was in 1917.

Few people ever believed that the Kaiser or Hitler could be deposed or that disintegration of their authority and power could come from within. But when once the truth reaches the Soviet people, they too will take concerted action, and the personnel of the Soviet army, navy and air force will desert the dictatorship in mass as was done in the three instances mentioned above.

Dr. Wayne Brandstadt Says:

'You're Lucky if Drops Help Your Dry Eyes

Q—My doctor says I have dry eyes. What causes this? I have been using eye drops for two years and am getting along fine.

A—Dryness of the lining membrane that covers the whites of the eyes can be caused by such infectious diseases as trachoma and diphtheria, by burns, by a drooping of the lower lid so BRANDSTADT that the lower part of the eyeball is exposed to the air or by inability to close the eye completely.

The condition is best treated with eye drops containing lycerin or an emulsion of cod liver oil. This treatment relieves the dryness and prevents the formation of ulcers on the surface of the eyeball. But it cannot be called a cure. If using the drops your doctor gave you permits you to "get along fine" you are more fortunate than most persons with this condition.

Q—I get very depressed. The doctors tell me it is the change of life. I have had shots of vitamin B-12 and tranquilizers but nothing seems to help. All kinds of laboratory tests fail to show that there is anything wrong with me. I am not interested in anything and have no pep. My doctor thinks I may have to have shock treatments. Would this cure me?

A—Some persons become depressed when the change of life sets in, but not quite so severely depressed as I should judge you to be from your letter.

If shock treatments have been advised place yourself in the care of a physician who specializes in nervous diseases. No one can guarantee that shock treatments will cure you, but they have helped some people and they may help you.

Q—Is there any known cure of treatment for vitiligo?

A—The cause of vitiligo or patchy loss of pigment from the skin in most instances is unknown.

Mechanical given by mouth has helped some persons. This drug should not be applied to the skin and in any case it should be used only under medical supervision. It has proved effective for only about 25 per cent of those using it. As soon as the drug is stopped the condition returns.

There are two very good reasons why the Cuban bases are different from the others. One is that the aggressive designs of the Communists are well established while for 60 years the United States has shown that it has no desire to subvert the Cuban government.

There are two very good reasons why the Cuban bases are different from the others. One is that the aggressive designs of the Communists are well established while for 60 years the United States has shown that it has no desire to subvert the Cuban government.

The other is that in nearly four years of the Castro regime, the Cuban people have not once been given the chance to express their approval or disapproval of its policies.

The Castro government therefore cannot claim to represent the Cuban people according to the principles which govern the civilized world. There is no evidence that the Cuban people want Soviet bases on their island.

In the Asian countries, to be sure, the art of representative government is not fully developed. Turkey and Pakistan have experienced military coups and periods of martial law; Formosa has had a vir-

'Pre-Trial Examination May Soon Involve All'

Compulsory pre-trial psychiatric examination is becoming more widespread. The Walker case puts it into the spotlight and it literally could involve every person.

After General Walker was apprehended by U.S. marshals, he was put in confinement and ordered to undergo pre-trial psychiatric examination for 90 days.

Let's look at this compulsory pre-trial psychiatric examination and see who is establishing the standards: Is due process denied United States citizens?

U.S. Takes Action to Begin Unbiased Study of Smoking

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government took final action Saturday aimed at starting a broad new study by nonbiased scientists on the controversy over whether tobacco smoking has adverse health effects such as lung cancer.

Surgeon General Luther L. Terry announced the membership of a 10-man Advisory Committee on Smoking and Health and said it would meet Nov. 9-10 in Washington.

The committee, selected by the surgeon general from a list of approximately 150 names submitted to the Public Health Service by federal agencies, voluntary health organizations and the tobacco industry, has a two-fold mission:

1. To make a "comprehensive review of all available data on smoking and other factors in the environment that may affect health"—a study expected to last about six months.

2. To make recommendations for action at the completion of the study.

Terry, in announcing plans for setting up the committee several months ago, said no scientist who already had taken a strong public position—pro or con—on the smoking and lung cancer controversy would be named to the panel.

COMMITTEE MEMBERS

Members of the committee, and their fields of professional competence, are:

Clive Brook's Back in U.S.

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD—Debonair Clive Brook has returned to Hollywood after a 26-year absence and he's playing a proper English gentleman, fittingly enough.

Back in the 1930s, Brook was a leader in what might have been the largest invasion of American soil by the British since the unpleasance of 1812. At least it seemed that way, as Hollywood was signing up stars who could speak the King's English in the newfangled talkies.

Like Ronald Colman, Cary Grant, Herbert Marshall, Charles Laughton, etc., Brook became a popular Hollywood commodity. Unlike the others, he didn't stay on. He returned to the London stage after suffering what he calls "celluloid poisoning."

Now he's back for a role in John Huston's "The List of Adrian Messenger." A still-handsome 75, he paused during the shooting for some observations on Hollywood revisited ("Not as much fun as it used to be") and England today.

Understandably, he has some regrets over the changes that have come in England since the war.
NOT VERY HAPPY
"I'm afraid England is not a very happy place," he sighed. "This idea of a nursemaid government has taken all the initiative from the young people. They are protected from everything; even unemployment is no problem because they get such good benefits."
The traffic in London has become abominable, he commented, and he viewed with distaste the skyscrapers that are appearing on the landscape.

Brook remarked that he is an admirer of things American, but he has certain regrets about the invasion of Americanisms in England.
"America innovates, and England follows," he said. "You can see the impact of American speech when our own prime minister said in his first speech, 'You never had it so good.' That is strictly American."
SPEAKING AMERICAN
"The young people are speaking more and more American, but the cause of the singing idols," he added. These rock 'n' rollers try to imitate the American speech, unfortunately taking the worst of it. The teen-agers follow them."

About the London theater: "Too much concerned with the kitchen sink kind of drama—dirty people with filthy pants speaking filthy language. It can be exciting theater, but it is not the kind I like. One good thing: it has produced some exciting new actors like Peter O'Toole and Albert Finney."

About the British film industry: "It has done well but is being killed by union strikes." Brook added: "The leveling of the classes since the war has made shopping difficult. The story goes that a woman asked of a haughty salesgirl: 'Do you think you're my equal?' The girl said, 'Yes!' The woman then said, 'I have done well but is being killed by union strikes.'"

Says Children Are Pressured

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—American school children are under too much pressure to get high marks and are getting too little love, says a college professor. As a result, he believes, half of them are potential neurotics, drug addicts, alcoholics and suicide cases.
"We are teaching reading in the nursery school and algebra in the first grade," said Dr. James A. Smith, a professor of education at Syracuse University, told a teachers conference Friday.
"We make children conform, conform, conform, until we kill their creativity. We know people cave in under undue pressure. But we continue to put our children under more and more pressure."

Walled Lake's Parade Treat for Tiny Goblins

WALLED LAKE — Saturday was a great day for the kids in Walled Lake.

A parade — complete with fire engines, a railroad train and three football teams — delighted hundreds of youngsters who lined the city's main streets Saturday afternoon.

About 300 children outfitted

in colorful Halloween costumes took part in the parade themselves.

Dons of youngsters rode the special John F. Ivory train while others marched behind the three Beaver Little League Football teams.

The Halloween parade, first in the history of Walled Lake, was termed a "tremendous success" today by Sam Gardiner, chairman of the event for the sponsoring Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Led by a color guard of sailors from the U.S. Navy recruiting office in Pontiac, the procession started from Memorial Park at Walled Lake Drive and Pontiac Trail.

Also included in the event were two carloads of Jaycee "Pumpkin Girls," the Detroit Edison Co. calliope, a 42-foot-long Navy the three football teams, city Talos missile, cheerleaders for officials, eight truckloads of pumpkins and two Walled Lake fire engines.

15 PRIZES

As a climax to the Saturday event, 15 prizes were awarded for the best Halloween costumes after the parade reached the Maple Plaza Shopping Center.

Gardiner said Jaycee members sold from 400 to 500 pumpkins to area residents following the parade.

Anyone who purchased the pumpkins over the weekend, said Gardiner, will be eligible for a contest in this area Halloween night.

A committee which includes Mayor Louis E. James, Police Chief James A. Decker and Jaycee President Wendell G. Kellogg Jr. will award a $25 savings bond at the home with the best pumpkin display.

All proceeds from the pumpkin sale will be used for Jaycee-sponsored civic improvement projects in this area.

Catherine Sheldon Wed in Candlelight

AVON TOWNSHIP — Catherine Ann Sheldon became the bride of Yeoman 2C Gordon D. Muckenhirn in a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening at Elmwood Methodist Church. Rev. Eric Wehrli performed the double-ring rites.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Sheldon, 3628 Cone Ave., and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Muckenhirn, 530 John R. Road.

A floor-length gown of Chantilly lace over net was chosen by the bride for her wedding. It featured a scalloped portrait neckline, long pointed sleeves and a bouffant skirt.

Her fingertip veil of nylon net was fastened to a rhinestone tiara, and she carried a bridal bouquet of white carnations.

Nancy Hutchinson of Pontiac attended as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Rebecca Poel of Pontiac and Betta Sheldon, sister of the bride.

Larry Muckenhirn assisted his brother as best man. Ushers were James Crodin and Keith McBurney, both of Rochester, and Erwin Sheldon Jr., brother of the bride.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the Avondale Community Center. The newlyweds leave today for Key West, Fla., where the bridegroom is stationed.

Find Body of Car Dealer Missing Since Air Crash

PINCONNING (UP) — The body of a 44-year-old Capac auto dealer, missing since the crash of a light plane Aug. 16, was recovered along the shore of Saginaw Bay near here Saturday.

The victim was Albert Copeland, who along with Lawrence Bade, 50, Capac, chief plant protection officer at the Detroit Edison Co. Marysville plant, crashed into the bay during a flight from Lapeer to Long Lake, in Isos County.

2 From Area Die in Weekend Traffic

Two Oakland County residents were killed Saturday in separate traffic mishaps, one of which also claimed the life of a Lansing girl.

A 58-year-old woman and her 19-year-old niece were killed when the car in which they were riding collided with a pickup truck on U.S. 16 near Lake Chemung in Livingston County.

Mrs. Hedwig Kately, of 29006 Spring River Road and Shirley Huebert, of Lansing, were fatally injured at 4:09 p.m. Saturday when their eastbound car crossed into the inner westbound lane and collided with a vehicle driven by Leon Barron, 46, of Howell.

PASSING AUTO

in which the two were killed, was overtaking and passing another eastbound car on the four lane highway when he was forced to stop for a car making a left turn in front of him, according to Brighton State Police.

Kushion said the car apparently skidded across the yellow line and into the path of the eastbound truck.

Kately is in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor. The truck driver also was injured.

In another accident Saturday a 17-year-old Highland Township youth was killed at 10:41 a.m. when the car in which he was riding crashed into the rear of a semi-trailer on U.S. 23, Milan Township, Monroe County.

HITS REAR OF TRUCK

Charles R. Howarth, of 2335 Davista Road, was a passenger in the car driven by Robert Oakes, 21, of 5541 N. Hickory Road, Holly, when the car struck the rear of a truck.

According to Erie State Police, Leonard J. Walkowicz of Detroit, driver of the northbound truck, said he saw the car rapidly approaching his rear.

The car struck the truck, passed it, and then crossed in front of it off the road and into a corn field, police said.

Oakes is in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Volunteer Fireman Hurt Fighting Blaze in Novi

NOVI — A volunteer fireman was injured Saturday afternoon while fighting a fire which destroyed a large barn and adjoining shed on Wixom Road just north of 10-Mile Road.

Fireman Robert Hanson of 26545 Taft Road suffered burns on his hands and face. He was treated and released at the Northville Medical Clinic.

Police Chief Leo BeGole said two fire trucks and 15 firemen were dispatched to the farm at 24595 Wixom Road shortly after noon Saturday.

Seven bales of hay owned by Edward Wiles of 24500 Wixom Road were destroyed when flames leveled the large wood barn.

BLAME ELECTRIC PUMP

The fire apparently started when an electrically operated water pump in the barn ignited the hay. BeGole said the pump had been covered with hay to keep it from freezing during the winter.

The barn, leased by Mrs. Jett Hamilton, is owned by A. J. Alper of Livonia. The property was not covered by insurance, BeGole said.

There was no estimate of damage.

Some of the children will have canisters and be asking for donations to the U.N. International Children's Fund during the "begging" hours.

These youngsters, selected from local Sunday Schools, will be recognizable by tags they will wear.

Honor 4 Retirees of Park Authority

Four retiring Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority employees, three of them from Oakland County, were honored at a retirement dinner Saturday in East Detroit.

The county men all were employed at Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford.

They include Henry Dahn, carpenter shop foreman, 3182 DeRose St., Milford; Cecil Holcomb, general park maintenance man, 320 West Lake Drive, Walled Lake; and Seth Monroe, park ranger, 1722 Wixom Road, Wixom.

The Halloween parade, first in the history of Walled Lake, was termed a "tremendous success" today by Sam Gardiner, chairman of the event for the sponsoring Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Led by a color guard of sailors from the U.S. Navy recruiting office in Pontiac, the procession started from Memorial Park at Walled Lake Drive and Pontiac Trail.

Also included in the event were two carloads of Jaycee "Pumpkin Girls," the Detroit Edison Co. calliope, a 42-foot-long Navy the three football teams, city T-10 missile, cheerleaders for officials, eight truckloads of pumpkins and two Walled Lake fire engines.

15 PRIZES

As a climax to the Saturday event, 15 prizes were awarded for the best Halloween costumes after the parade reached the Maple Plaza Shopping Center.

Gardiner said Jaycee members sold from 400 to 500 pumpkins to area residents following the parade.

Anyone who purchased the pumpkins over the weekend, said Gardiner, will be eligible for a contest in this area Halloween night.

A committee which includes Mayor Louis E. James, Police Chief James A. Decker and Jaycee President Wendell G. Kellogg Jr. will award a $25 savings bond at the home with the best pumpkin display.

All proceeds from the pumpkin sale will be used for Jaycee-sponsored civic improvement projects in this area.

Two Oakland County residents were killed Saturday in separate traffic mishaps, one of which also claimed the life of a Lansing girl.

A 58-year-old woman and her 19-year-old niece were killed when the car in which they were riding collided with a pick-up truck on U.S. 16 near Lake Chemung in Livingston County.

Mrs. Hedwig Kately, of 28006 Spring River Road and Shirley Huchert, of Lansing, were fatally injured at 4:09 p.m. Saturday when their eastbound car crossed into the inner westbound lane and collided with a vehicle driven by Leon Barron, 46, of Howell.

PASSING AUTO

Julian Kately, driver of the car

in which the two were killed, was passing another eastbound car on the four lane highway when he was forced to stop for a car making a left turn in front of him, according to Brighton State Police.

Kushion said the car apparently skidded across the yellow line and into the path of the eastbound truck.

Kately is in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor. The truck driver also was injured.

In another accident Saturday a 17-year-old Highland Township youth was killed at 10:41 a.m. when the car in which he was riding crashed into the rear of a semi-trailer on U.S. 23, Milan Township, Monroe County.

According to Erie State Police, Leonard J. Walkowicz of Detroit, driver of the northbound truck, said he saw the car rapidly approaching his rear.

The victim was Albert Copeland, who along with Lawrence Bode, 50, Capac, chief plant protection officer at the Detroit Edison Co. Marysville plant, crashed into the bay during a flight from Lapeer to Long Lake, in Isosco County.

Oakes is in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Volunteer Fireman Hurt Fighting Blaze in Novi

NOVI — A volunteer fireman was injured Saturday afternoon while fighting a fire which destroyed a large barn and adjoining shed on Wixom Road just north of 10-Mile Road.

Fireman Robert Hanson of 26545 Taft Road suffered burns on his hands and face. He was treated and released at the Northville Medical Clinic.

Police Chief Lee BeGole said two fire trucks and 15 firemen were dispatched to the farm at 24595 Wixom Road shortly after noon Saturday.

Seven bales of hay owned by Edward Wiles of 24500 Wixom Road were destroyed when flames leveled the large wood barn.

BLAME ELECTRIC PUMP

The fire apparently started when an electrically operated water pump in the barn ignited the hay. BeGole said the pump had been covered with hay to keep it from freezing during the winter.

The barn, leased by Mrs. Jettie Hamilton, is owned by A. J. Alper of Livonia. The property was not covered by insurance, BeGole said.

There was no estimate of damage.

MASKED BANDIT — Detroit Red Wings' masked goalie Terry Sawchuk deflects a shot (circle) by Ron Stewart (left) of Toronto in the first period last night at Olympia. Sawchuk earned a 2-0 win.

Wings Enjoy Fastest Start Since Title Year

Sawchuk Key to Redshirts' Top Position

2-0 Shutout Against Maple Leafs Is 100th for Detroit Goalie

DETROIT (AP)—Only once before in their championship-filled history did the Red Wings start as fast as they have this season. That was in 1956-57 — the last time they were able to celebrate a championship.

With rejuvenated Terry Sawchuk performing robbery in goal, the unbeaten Wings outskated the Stanley Cup champion Toronto Maple Leafs last night, 2-0 before 13,000 at the Olympia.

GREAT START

Their five victories and two ties in the first seven games of the National Hockey League season matches the start in 1956-57. The Wings went on to win their eighth NHL title in nine years that season before they were eliminated in the first round of the playoffs.

"Let's not even start thinking about championships," said coach Sid Abel. "We've still got 63 games to go."

But there was no dispute from Abel that Sawchuk is the key to the Red Wings' surprise getaway. The veteran goaltender, wearing a mask for the first time in games, has yielded a paltry nine goals in the seven games.

A year ago, when Detroit missed the playoffs, Sawchuk allowed 24 goals in the first seven games.

"The main thing about the mask," said Abel, "is it gives Terry more confidence. He admits he has a blind spot with it. But if he wants to wear it that's okay with me."

"I had nothing to do with his wearing the face mask. He came into training camp and said he was going to wear it and that was it."

The shutout was the 100th of Sawchuk's career—90 in the regular season and 10 in playoff competition.

Sawchuk turned aside 24 Maple Leaf shots including two difficult ones by high scoring Frank Mahovlich in the third period. If either one had slipped past, the Leafs likely would have salvaged a tie.

The Wings were protecting a 1-0 lead when Parker MacDonald's second period goal at the time, Gordie Howe scored Detroit's second goal into an open net 33 seconds from the end when Toronto had lifted goalie Johnny Bower for a sixth attacker.

Detroit's first place margin was opened to three points by the victory.

Black Hawks Second After 5-3 Triumph

NEW YORK (AP)—Ron Murphy powered the Chicago Black Hawks to a 5-3 National Hockey League victory over the New York Rangers Sunday night with a pair of goals, the last scored into an empty net with 23 seconds left.

The victory moved Chicago into second place. The Rangers had pulled sub goalie Marcel Pelletier from the cage with 46 seconds remaining in a desperate effort to gain the equalizer.

But the strategy backfired as Murphy fired a long shot that found the nets.

Ab McDonald had given the Black Hawks a 4-3 lead midway in the third stanza.

SPARE GOALIE — The Rangers had to use Pelletier in the final 20 minutes after regular goalie Gump Worsley had been forced out with a stiff neck. Worsley had injured his neck in a first period collision.

The 34-year-old Pelletier, whose only previous National League experience was six games with the Hawks in 1958-59, began the final period with his team trailing 3-2. Earl Ingarfield promptly produced a tying goal for the Rangers at 4 minutes, 20 seconds, but McDonald and Murphy snapped the deadlock.

National League Castoff Makes Good

Len Dawson Finds Home in AFL

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — Len Dawson, a priceless piece of property who found himself a no cash-down commodity after five years on the pro football market, has come full circle since leaving the unemployment office for a job with the Dallas Texans of the American Football League.

Dubbed "pro football's next great quarterback" when he entered the pro ranks, Dawson gathered experience and splinters in five years in the NFL, but has turned into Big D at Big D. His passing Sunday carried the Texans to the top in the Western Division as they rode over Houston, by 31-7.

The former Purdue star was dubbed by Bobby Layne with the "next great" label, then watched his price tag dwindle in five years of spear carrying for Layne at Pittsburgh and Milt Plum at Cleveland. Dawson says he didn't flunk the NFL test—he never took it.

WON OR LOST

"All the games I ever played in already were won or lost when I finally got off the bench," says Dawson. "I just happened to play under two coaches (Pittsburgh's Buddy Parker and Cleveland's Paul Brown) who believed in sticking with one quarterback. I wasn't that quarterback."

He is at Dallas, which picked him up as a free agent after he was out by the Browns.

Dawson passed for three touchdowns as the Texans knocked defending league champion Houston from a first-place tie with Boston in the East. The Patriots, who whipped Oakland 26-16 Friday, are 5-2 to the Oilers' 4-3.

The Texans are 6-1 in the West, one-half game in front of Denver (6-2), upended by Buffalo Saturday 45-38 on the long-range bombs of Warren Rabb.

In the league's other game, New York's Titans belted San Diego's Western Division defenders 23-3. Abner Haynes got the first Texans' touchdown on a 1-yard drive before Dawson took over. He pitched a 49-yarder to Chris Burford and followed with a 3-yarder to the same target, pulling Dallas out front 21-0.

SENIOR CITIZEN

Dawson, at 27 the Texans' senior citizen and the only NFL reject on the squad, wound up the day with a 5-yard TD flip to Fred Arnheim. He completed 12 of 16 passes for 177 yards.

Rabb spearheaded a Bills attack that scored 22 points in the final quarter, getting the clinching touchdown himself on a 1-yard ramble.

Shades of Mighty Casey! No Joy in San Francisco

By The Associated Press — It was like Mighty Casey striking out.

Cincinnati and San Francisco were locked in an overtime National Basketball Association struggle Sunday night. Oscar Robertson and Wayne Embry had accounted for the Royals' 16 points in the extra session and had the Royals ahead 131-129 with time running out.

Then with 10 seconds left, Hub Reed fouled Wilt Chamberlain, who already had scored 52 points and had pushed the game into overtime with a field goal 17 seconds from the end of regulation time. Wilt went to the foul line with three chances for two points and another tie.

Chamberlain stepped up and connected. He sent up another one. It missed. Wilt tried again. It missed. The transplanted Warriors had lost their first 131-130.

That was the only game scheduled Sunday night.

PISTONS DUMPED

In Saturday action, Boston beat Syracuse 118-88, St. Louis beat New York 115-109, Los Angeles wallpiped Detroit 134-108 and the Warriors edged Chicago 129-126 in overtime.

Boston, which leads the East, is the only undefeated team remaining. St. Louis is first in the West with a 4-1 record to San Francisco's 3-1.

The Warriors trailed the Royals 58-49 at halftime, but Chamberlain kept them within range until he connected in the waning seconds of regulation time to tie the score 115-111. Then Robertson and Embry went to work. Robertson wound up with 36 points, Embry 29.

Chamberlain set a Cincinnati Gardens' record by attempting 60 shots. He hit on 23. The former record was 47 tries by Cincinnati's Jack Twyman against St. Louis Feb. 28, 1959.
