Dr. H. W. Odum Expires at 70

Noted Teacher, Author, Sociologist Dies After Helping to Build South

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. (AP)—Dr. Howard Washington Odum, a Georgia farm boy who lent his scholarly mind to the rebuilding of the South, died here Sunday. Dr. Odum, recognized as the South's foremost sociologist, died at age 70 at the University of North Carolina's Memorial Hospital. Retiring as professor of sociology at the university only a few months ago, he had been ill since September.

Odum, born on a farm near Bethlehem, Ga., through years of fact-finding showed Southerners the way to a new economy. Many Southern leaders credit him as one of the leaders in laying the foundation for the new South.

Author of many books, his most notable work was "Southern Regions of the United States," which many said did as much to arouse the South economically as "Uncle Tom's Cabin" did sociologically in the North years before.

His writings emphasized facts which left no facet of Southern life untouched. He talked soil, climate, race relations, sharecropping, bookworms and men, and said the region was potentially the nation's richest. And he exhorted teachers to make their school centers of research in local problems.

Cops Lose Foot Race, Find Patrol Car Gone

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Two policemen who leaped out of their radio car to chase two youngsters reported tampering with a parked automobile gave up when the boys vanished in an alley. The policemen returned to the radio car—to find it stolen. The car was recovered a few hours later. The officers said they believed the two suspects had darted out of the alley and driven the patrol car away.

Statehood Hope High for Alaska, Hawaii

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Sen. Murray (D-Mont.), incoming chairman of the Senate Interior and Insular Affairs Committee said today he believes prospects are "good" for Alaskan and Hawaiian statehood legislation in the coming session of Congress.

He said he plans to introduce again a bill to admit Alaska, probably patterned after that approved by the Senate last spring, and added: "They (Hawaii backers) know I support Hawaii too."

Verdict Grants Wish to Killer

Jury Finds Slayer of 5 Guilty; Death Sentence Mandatory

NEW YORK (U-P)—John Francis Roche, 27, confessed killer of five persons, has been found guilty of first-degree murder, a verdict that grants him his wish to die.

An all-male jury convicted Roche late yesterday without recommending mercy, thereby making a death sentence mandatory. However, an appeal to the state's highest court is required before the sentence can be carried out.

Roche, a plumber's helper, was convicted of the rape-murder of Dorothy Westwater, a 14-year-old schoolgirl, last June. Hers was the last of a series of murders which police said Roche confessed.

In finding Roche guilty, the jury rejected a defense claim that he was insane. It deliberated 90 minutes.

Roche was arrested last June 5 on a minor traffic violation. Questioned about a length of stained pipe found in his car, he confessed slaying the Westwater girl as she was leaving for school three days before. She was beaten and raped and died on June 6 without regaining consciousness.

Police said Roche also confessed killing Marion Brown, 17, a waitress; Mrs. Rosa Chronik, 85; Alex Jablonski, 43, a taxicab driver; and Edward Bates, 22, a sailor.

Professor Quits After Spicing Up College Classes

NARA, Japan (U-P)—A 45-year-old professor accused by coeds of mixing whisky and woe in the Nara College curriculum has announced he will resign.

Fifty of his girl students asserted Prof. Magashiro Abe had offered to improve their grades if they cooperated with his style of education.

Some said he taught them—behind locked classroom doors—to drink whisky and make love.

Ridiculous, said the professor.

Students at a rally called for expulsion. The faculty concurred.

Abe said in a statement today he could "not be bothered with these trivialities." Therefore, he would resign and "devote my time to study."

Seeks to Free Man Imprisoned in Killing

EAST LANSING (U-P)—Dr. Le Moyne Snyder, Lansing authority on legal medicine, has said the so-called "court of last resort" will attempt to secure the release of a prisoner serving a life term for murder at the State Prison of Southern Michigan.

Dr. Snyder told the Michigan conference of school counselors at Michigan State College that two other innocent men have been freed in Michigan through the work of his group. The "court of last resort" is a private group interested in correcting miscarriages of justice.

Although he would not reveal the name of the prisoner or the county from which he was sentenced, Dr. Snyder said the inmate had served 13 years of a life term "although he was 75 miles away at the time of the murder."

Jane Wyman Launches Third Divorce Action

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (U-P)—Alleging mental cruelty, Jane Wyman has sued handleader-composer Frederick J. Karger for divorce.

The actress yesterday asked the court for permission to resume her former legal name, Jane Wyman.

The couple married in 1952 and separated last Saturday. She previously was married to actor Ronald Reagan, and before that to manufacturer Myron Futterman.

Midland Mayor Named

MIDLAND (U-P)—Glenn W. Warren has been elected mayor of Midland by City Council members at their organizational meeting. He succeeds Dr. Noland Poffenberger. Warren is an employee of Dow Chemical Co.

Show Business

Lucille Ball Once Expressed Fear She'd Always Remain an Unknown

By EDDIE CANTOR

Back in 1933 I was starring in the movie, "Roman Scandals," for Samuel Goldwyn. All of the show girls were beautiful, but one of them attracted attention because she was always not only gay, but downright comical.

When someone asked, "Mr. Cantor, what makes your eyes pop?" this gorgeous gal quipped, "If you woke up one morning and found yourself the father of five girls, your eyes would pop, too!"

One afternoon between takes I was surprised to see this ad-libbing lass sitting dejectedly in a corner. "What's wrong, Honey?" I asked.

She said, "I'm disgusted, that's all! Here I am—just a show girl—probably never be anything more—I'll live and die and nobody will even remember my name!"

Recalling that line, I always smile a little when I read the latest TV ratings that prove Lucille Ball is a top favorite all over the country.

"I Love Lucy" has become such a habit that 50,000,000 Americans sit down to enjoy Lucille and Desi Arnaz as if they're visiting with close friends. It was only a few months ago that I realized just how near home viewers feel they are.

Coming out of the Hollywood Brown Derby, I ran into Lucy and Desi and stopped to talk a minute. A little boy dashed up, calling "Hi, Lucy—Hi, Ricky—" (their TV names.) Desi said, "Hello, Son, where are you from?" The kid gave him a hurt, puzzled look. "Gee," he said, "you oughta know—you were at my house in Buffalo last week!"

The title, "I Love Lucy" was a natural because they're the three words Desi uses most. I don't have to hear him say it to know Desi loves Lucy. Proof enough for me is that he laughs at all her jokes even when they cost him money.

Shortly after their celebrated infant, was born, I had dinner at their home. As we walked into the living room to have coffee, I complimented Lucille on getting her figure back in shape so quickly.

She said, "Thanks, Eddie—that reminds me—" and walked out of the room. In a few minutes she was back with about two dozen empty clothes hangers. "Desi," she announced, "these need a refill!"

14-Room-House Too Little for Judge's 12 Children

ST. LOUIS (U-P)—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Pauley have a 14-room house but are still short four bedrooms. Their 12th child was born Sunday.

"We're anxious to learn if it's true that children are cheaper by the dozen," said the 46-year-old Pauley, a suburban Ferguson municipal judge.

Pauley, who said he and his wife "just went along having children and we'll keep on going," said they may expand the house in the spring.

1 Man Killed, 4 Hurt in Tenement Blaze

NEW YORK (U-P)—A swift-spreading fire blocked the stairs of a five-story tenement yesterday, burned one man to death and caused injury to at least four persons.

Several persons jumped from apartment windows after finding the stairs cut off by fire. Others waited on ledges until rescue units arrived with ladders.

Chief Fire Marshal Martin Scott said the blaze apparently originated in the hallway of a double building at 214-216 W. 78th St.

Firemen found the burned body of an unidentified man in a top-floor bathroom.

Turkey Thieves Hinder Firemen at Truck Blaze

WESTMORELAND, Calif. (U-P)—Some 28,000 pounds of frozen turkey, being transported in a truck and trailer, went up in flames yesterday. A wheel bearing froze, igniting a tire, and set off the blaze.

Firemen said several motorists stopped to grab turkeys and this hampered their firefighting.

Soviets Undertaking Antireligious Drive

MOSCOW (U-P)—The Soviet government is training apostles to go out over the land and preach "antireligion."

This is part of the vast, revived antireligious campaign. The idea is to snuff out a resurgence of religion that is taking place in this 35th year of Communist rule.

Tass reports from Tallin, Estonia, that a school was recently conducted there to school antireligious propagandists for field work. The school was conducted under sponsorship of the Communist party, the Estonian Ministry of Culture and other agencies.

More than 100 lecturers participated. They studied various Marx-Leninist works against religion, scientific works on the evolution of the earth and were shown numerous scientific films.

Edison Hits New Peak

DETROIT (U-P)—The Detroit Edison Co. says an all-time peak load set three new company records last week. At Thursday's 6 p. m. peak, power requirements for all purposes were 2,027,000 kilowatts, exceeding previous highs by 5,000 kilowatts.

JAYNE'S P.W. KILLS PIN-WORMS

(You may have them and not know it)

Fighting, non-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often tell-tale signs of Pin-Worms... tiny parasites that medical experts say infect one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P.W. tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P.W. Vermifuge... the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. B. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

Child Discipline Needed

Mrs. ROBERT PHILLIPS, a Dearborn Township PTA president, no doubt has won a warm spot in the hearts of thousands of parents.

She did this by saying some things long needed to be said in defense of parents and common sense discipline of children. More important, she displayed unusual courage in saying them at the 25th annual session of the parent education institute sponsored by the University of Michigan.

Mrs. PHILLIPS began by declaring she was sick and tired of hearing psychologists, politicians, school board members and all the other experts blame parents for child delinquency. If parents are to blame, she continued, it is because they are confused and feel a sense of guilt because the experts have been insisting that discipline harms children's personalities.

This newspaper has no quarrel with the experts. We firmly believe that some juvenile delinquency is traceable to parental neglect. But we share Mrs. PHILLIPS' weariness with the argument that discipline frustrates children. In truth, our experience with some undisciplined children convinces us that they need nothing so much in the world as some quick frustration.

Another way of saying it is that adults still have some rights in our complex society. One of the best ways we know of maintaining those rights against the small fry, is the judicious use of discipline even to the point of spanking.

U. S. Aid to Reds Halted

Thanks to Ambassador CLARE BOOTH LUCE our Government has been able to cut off some involuntary aid to Italian Communists.

The situation arose out of our very sensible foreign defense procurement program and the cold war. Under it we are able to have defense materials manufactured and distributed in Allied countries at a far lower cost than they could be produced here.

At the same time we are helping our friends earn needed dollar exchange and establish standardization of weapons among our Allies.

Italy's share of that program is $500,000,000 and complications arose there because so many Italian industrial workers are members of the Communist Party. Communists control the Confederation of Labor and the party takes three per cent of the average Communist industrial worker's pay.

When Mrs. LUCE first reached Rome she determined to find a cure for this complicated and touchy situation. In two flagrant cases a $25,000,000 ordinance contract and a $7,500,000 ship-building contract have been canceled.

These were awarded only after workers had swung away from Red unions toward free unions in plant elections. In each case after the contracts were let, the workers swung right back to the Red unions.

The wisdom of our action is emphasized by the howls of the Communists against U. S. "intervention" in Italian affairs. That is not quite the right word for our perfectly natural desire to have a voice in how our money is spent.

Abadan Oil Flowing Again

A new and brighter era has dawned in Iran.

It began when Iranian Finance Minister Dr. ALI AMINI handed sailing papers to the captain of the tanker British Advocate. The latter immediately set sail for Ceylon with 11,500 tons of fuel oil. This was the first shipment from Abadan refineries since former Premier MOSSADEGH's disastrous nationalization order closed them three years ago.

How disastrous that order was can't be measured accurately even in dollars. The loss to Iran because of exclusion of its oil from world markets now is estimated at $500,000,000. It may be a great deal more before all of the production facilities can be restored by the eight American, British, Dutch and French oil companies participating in the agreement with Iran.

Under the new agreement signed with the blessing of the U. S. and British governments, Iran will receive 50 per cent of the net operating revenue in lieu of income taxes. This should give the government urgently needed revenue of $420,000,000 in the next three years.

The Anglo-Iranian Oil Company also is to be compensated by the eight operating companies which have taken over its assets.

The news that other tankers are loading Abadan oil is heartening for those who once feared the country might be drawn into the orbit of Soviet Russia.

It is very difficult to dodge bill collectors and at the same time keep up with the Joneses.

Boys' Club Needs 3 for Work on Special Projects

Patriotism: A commendable quality, but too often used only as a mouth wash.

Executive Director at Pontiac Boys' Club,

William V. Coulacos, tells me that he needs three versatile adults able to direct boys in three capacities: stamp collection, boys' choir and magic club. Working on a volunteer basis, the selected advisors will be required to guide boys in these activities one or two evenings weekly. If you think you can qualify for any of these jobs, make application in writing to Pontiac Boys' Club, 530 East Pike St.

A national television program on which he recently appeared has presented our State Senator George N. Higgins with a scholarship in the University of Michigan. George of course will not use it, but will pass it on to some deserving and qualified young person, continuing his Higgins Foundation through which 75 boys and girls already have found a way to higher education.

A Wolf River apple grown in the orchard of Eben Winthrop of Farmington measures 18 inches in circumference, and he defies any other orchard in Michigan to produce anything bigger.

One of Detroit's largest hotels surely sticks out its neck when it advertises: "Our aim is to render a service more complete, more hospitable and more pleasing than even the most exacting guest expects."

Sure indication of a mild winter is reported by

Miles Stranahan of Drayton Plains. Despite Friday's cold weather, he saw a caterpillar crawling—north.

A letter bearing a Pontiac postmark and signed,

"Forever Optimistic," says, "Yes, we've all been terribly fed up on politics, but let's give it credit for driving the Sheppard trial off the front page for a few days."

A resident of Pontiac for many years, Albert Smythe, now living in Ann Arbor, writes, "We're keeping our new courthouse down town where it belongs, and are not bothered by the rats that infested the old one."

Challenging the entire nation in growing large cabbage is

Peter Kraft of Auburn Heights, who raised one that measured five feet across the whole plant, the head two feet in diameter and weighed 65 pounds.

Recent Religious Cartoon Was Timely and Appreciated, Says Local Reverend

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

A recent religious cartoon, "Divinely Appointed" was not only most timely, but greatly appreciated. It has been placed over my study desk and will continue to serve as a source of inspiration. Permit my sincere expression of "thanks."

Mt. Rushmore is one of my favorite vacation spots and I feel Jack Hamm reached a peak in this religious cartoon.

I'm confident that I'm only one of many who feel that this is a feature of your fine paper which must continue.

Schools Should Teach More Courses Which Prepare Students for Daily Life

"Where the press is free," said Thomas Jefferson, "and every man able to read, all is safe." Suppose we closed our schools after the 6th grade, what then? If we still had our modern newspapers, plus the Scouts and 4-H Clubs, most of our people would be about as well educated as of now. You disagree? Then read below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
 Case M-363: Mildred F., age 29, is a teacher in junior high school.

"Dr. Crane, many of us teachers feel that the curriculum is out of date," she began.

"We'd like to teach our pupils how to solve the everyday problems of life."

"But the colleges have coerced our schools into keeping a lot of obsolete courses in the curriculum."

"Don't you think the high schools should declare their independence from college dictation and prepare boys and girls for life instead of for college entrance requirements?"

Yes, Mildred is correct. We have a fine group of teachers in our public schools, but they are often hamstrung by college coercion.

So don't blame the good teachers for the inefficiency of our school output.

The basic purpose of our schools is to prepare students for solving the everyday problems they will face in life. And we spend billions of dollars per year on our schools. What do we get for our money?

Well, the Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls and 4-H Clubs probably give our youth a better education in practical matters than do our schools. And the Scout leaders serve free. It costs the taxpayer nothing.

Indeed, the schools have escaped censure this long because of the lucky fact that the Boy Scouts were started in 1910.

Subconsciously, the public gives the schools credit for most of the good work of the Boy Scouts and 4-H Clubs, but that is a mistake.

Suppose our children attended school only long enough to learn to read and use arithmetic. If we then disbanded school from the 6th grade through senior high school, what would be the ultimate effect? Wouldn't the 85 per cent who never go on to college be almost as well off, besides saving billions of dollars each year?

For the Scouts and 4-H Clubs give our children a better practical preparation for life than those 6 years of Junior and Senior High.

If you think I am simply trying to shock you by being an iconoclast, then test your local schools by the following questions:

Since schools are supposed to teach pupils to solve the practical, everyday problems of life, do your local schools offer courses in winning friends?

Or in carrying on an interesting conversation? Or in running a budget?

Our 500,000 newspaper carriers are about the only children in America who get any practical training in money matters or business. And newspaper circulation managers deserve the credit for that.

Do your schools offer courses in marriage problems? Yet most of the graduates will marry and need such facts.

Do your schools offer a course in applied psychology? Do they offer classes in practical medicine? Or in business law? Your she had asked her mother, "Is that what they always do when someone isn't there? What do they do or say when they are all there?"

Geo. Dondro Praised for St. Lawrence Seaway

Our Congressman, George Dondro, certainly gets things done. A few weeks ago he finally finished getting the St. Lawrence Waterway after the generation before him had failed.

The Democrats have knocked him for years for not getting the waterway. What have they to say now? Yes, George does get things done.

James Marlow Says:

McCarthy Links His Fate With Fate of Entire U. S.

WASHINGTON (U)—The speech which Sen. McCarthy prepared for the Senate today—in his own defense against censure—goes far beyond anything he has ever said or claimed before.

This speech, which he released late yesterday, is a basic restatement of his attitude and tactics toward criticism of himself over the past four years. History may remember it as an extraordinary document.

The speech goes so far in its implications it is difficult to believe McCarthy can surpass it: he holds himself and those who go along with him as the country's chief defenders against communism and links the fate of the nation to his own fate.

Without using the word "martyr," he clearly suggests he is a man persecuted.

Senate debate begins today on recommendations of a special committee created to consider charges of misconduct against McCarthy. This committee of three Democrats and three Republicans was headed by Sen. Watkins (R-Utah).

It investigated, held hearings, let McCarthy reply to the charges and recommended that the full Senate censure him on two counts: (A) that he ignored requests to testify made upon him by a previous committee which investigated him and (B) that he treated Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker abusively.

The first count termed contemptuous his treatment of the earlier committee. The second said, in effect, he had acted like a bully toward the general. On both counts the Watkins committee considered his conduct unfit for a senator.

This is how McCarthy reasoned in his speech:

He brushed aside as inconsequential the Watkins committee charges, the same attitude he has taken toward all previous charges. "Petty," he called them.

Censuring him would be a victory for the Communists who want to destroy him, he said. He described himself as "hard" on communism and those opposing him as "soft" on communism. Who are they? In this group, which he called "ruthless," he included radio commentators, educators, writers, a majority of the press.

(Earlier this week he had said the attacks on him had "emanated" from the White House.)

Communist influence in shaping American thinking is enormous, he said, and now communism has extended "its tentacles to . . . the United States Senate." He declared the Watkins committee was playing the Communists' game in voting against him.

He didn't say the committee had knowingly played the Communist game, but that it was a "victim" of the Communist campaign.

"And," said McCarthy, "having been victimized, it became the Communist party's involuntary agent."

In the course of the Senate debate I shall demonstrate that the Watkins committee has done the work of the Communist party, that it not only cooperated in the achievement of Communist goals, but that in writing its report it imitated Communist methods—that it distorted, misrepresented and omitted in its efforts to manufacture a plausible rationalization for advising the Senate to accede to the clamor for my scalp."

There he made it plain the best he could say for the Watkins committee was that it was too dumb to realize it was playing the Communists' game; the worst, game; the worst, that it deliberately connived to get him.

But if the members of the Senate are too stupid to know what the Communists are up to, and protect the country from them, who in the United States can be depended upon to save the nation?

By direct implication McCarthy held himself up as one whose fate is linked to that of the nation in the anti-Communist fight. He said: "It is not easy for a man to assert that he is the symbol of resistance to Communist subversion—that the nation's fate is in some take it you would rather I be respect tied to his own . . . but I frank than coy."

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

I prevented the dawning of the morning, and cried: I hoped in thy word.

—Psalms 119:147.

Hope is the last lingering light of the human heart. It shines when every other is put out. Extinguish it, and the gloom of affliction becomes the very blackness of darkness—cheerless and impenetrable.

Hardening of Arteries (Arteriosclerosis) Manifestation of Physical Degeneration

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Just had an examination of my arteries by an expert, name of Brady. I was going through the mail and noticed more than an ordinary number of queries about hardening of the arteries (arteriosclerosis).

Dwelling on such a subject is depressing. I decided I ought to have my head examined—many readers have told me so, but I kept putting it off, just as you put off having a proper medical examination until your trouble becomes so far advanced that . . .

The examination of my head took ten or fifteen seconds. It was made by the conductor of this column. With scientific precision the examiner directed diffused daylight first upon the left temple and scrutinized the area over the course of the external carotid which supplies the scalp. Negative. On the right side, however, while there was no visible pulsation, palpation revealed the presence of the artery, all right; confirmed by counting the pulse, 60, not alarmingly slow, in view of the fact that there's no bowling today.

Just in case any poor soul reading this drivel harbors a morbid notion that he has hardening of the arteries, let me say: Don't make a federal case of it. We're all in the same boat—all of us, at any rate, who have passed the peak.

Arteriosclerosis (hardening of the arteries) is not a disease or an ailment. It is a natural, inevitable manifestation of physical degeneration—the decline, the involution, well, let's face it, the slow death that awaits all of us who are not cut off prematurely by execution, accident, murder, or disease.

Arteriosclerosis is like rheumatism—or rheumatism is not to be confused with inflammation, infection, or injury of a joint (arthritis), as I make tolerably clear, I hope, in the pamphlet, Calcium and Rheumatism, available on written request if you provide a stamped, self-addressed envelope. That is to say, the beginning of the disability is so sneaky that you scarcely realize that you, of all people, have it until you've had it a year or so.

So far, in compliance with the injunction of Hippocrates, "Do good if you can but do no harm," I have not alluded to blood pressure, because this is still a health column. Even in Little Lesson No. 2, the booklet CVD, which deals with causes and prevention of heart and artery troubles, you will find a scant paragraph or two advising you not to meddle with blood pressure but to leave it to the judgment of your physician. In all my experience as a physician and teacher of health, I have seen nothing but harm come of d. f. attempts to "reduce" or "treat" high blood pressure as though it were a malady or disease. For the CVD booklet send 25 cents—free from messy stickum and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Signed letters, not more than one page of 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, act to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed, etc. (Copyright 1954)

Inspector 'Knatch' Wattles Views Trial of Sheppard

CLEVELAND (INS) — Among the distinguished foreign crime experts covering the Marilyn Sheppard murder trial is G. Knatchbull-Wattles, famed British detective best remembered for cracking the Cholmondeley - Chumley garroting case which sent the scoundrel Murgatroyd to deserved goal.

Ran into "Knatch," as he was known in Scotland Yard, only last night at the Theatrical Grill, Cleveland's answer to the Cheshire Cheese. He dropped into this quiet meeting place of wits and essayists to inquire the way to the nearest Marconigram office.

"Knatch" was kind enough not only to recall fondly our war (Boer) days but to give me, exclusive U.S. rights to the material he is writing by flashlight with the pointed peak of his Sherlock Holmes hat.

Here is his first offering: By Inspector G. Knatchbull-Wattles "Knatch" CLEVELAND — (By Rothschild Pigeon) — I am here. Incontrovertibly.

After a careful study of the voluminous reports compiled by industrious "stenographers" at the coroner's inquiry, as well as the bail-bond hearing, the grand jury findings and several score of signed statements, tipsters' phone calls and anonymous letters, I have reached the conclusion — perhaps hastily — that some sort of crime has been committed.

And in this vicinity.

There is reason to believe that the victim was a Mrs. Marilyn Sheppard. At least, the Colonial Press has thus identified her. British libel law being what it is, I am not permitted at this time to name the defendant, but confess I am sorely prompted to divulge this information in my memoirs, now tentatively scheduled on Hutchinson's Spring List, 1973.

It may possibly be of interest to charter subscribers of the Atheism Quarterly Review that in America there are certain restrictions erected to discourage murder by gunplay and knouting. This, I confess, came as a bit of surprise to your correspondent, too.

He had recently witnessed a series of late, late television shows intended for British commercial television but has learned since arrival in this splendid cotton-exporting town on Lake Huron that Edward G. Robinson did not invariably go unapprehended.

So. Back to the trial. To repeat. I am here. I was welcomed most heartily by the judge. He will pardon, I trust, my startled expression when I found him bereft of his judicial wig. With a discreet cough I whispered, "Your worship, your valet is a varlet. He has failed to robe you properly. Your wig, sir." For reasons for which I can only say—with a helpless shrug—"that's colonial life," he preferred to ignore my solicitous remarks.

A stubborn man, he has each day failed to appear on the bench wearing what every jurist knows he must wear—the tightly rolled shoulder length wig without whose presence Anglo-Saxon justice is scarcely possible and Magna Carta so much billingsgate.

Your obdient s'vant has undergone many other hardships in the New World, notably the deplorable coffee served in America. A conscientious search of local memorials of Brillat-Savarin has failed to unearth a single dish of bubble and squeak or even of Brussels sprouts. But, after all, one must be patient. What can one safely expect of a country hardly 178 years old?

Being here in Cleveland for the Marilyn Sheppard case, naturally I am here. Let no snide fellow from the Royal Automobile Club contest that. I have my card of admission. My place is hard by Inspector Fabian's. We make the best of things. At luncheon at the Express Grill nearby only Friday we shouted "crumpets" when the waitresses appeared. They slapped our faces. Extraordinary conduct. They seemed offended by the word.

W. Corrigan, barrister for the defendant, was sporting enough to take official countenance to the fact that I am here, immediately I arrived. He included me in an excellent condemnation of the visiting press. Truly, it was a wizard moment for your correspondent.

Nothing has happened in the way of news here, if you except the escape of the defendant by helicopter, the strychnine poisoning of the jury and the burning of the Criminal Courts Building. But, by Geoffrey, if anything does occur you'll find me on guard, ready, as ever, to serve.

"Knatch."

Still Sells Insurance After 100th Birthday

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UP)—Walter Deveau lays claim to being the country's oldest insurance salesman. He recently celebrated his 100th birthday, a few days after selling another insurance policy to one of his long-time clients.

Deveau first sold insurance in Chicago, then came to Buffalo in 1885 to pursue his career.

In 1953, he was honored by the Deveau School, Niagara Falls, as "the oldest of the old boys" from the institution, which he attended as a student in 1868-1869.

Who Said Gas Truck?

SALINA, Kan. (AP)—Two big fire trucks, the whole police department and news photographers turned out when George Rishel reported a fire.

"They must have thought I said gas truck," said Rishel, whose pintsize gas torch was ablaze.

Police Seize 2 After Wild Ride

16 Bullets Pumped Into Car Speeding Through
Port Huron Area

PORT HURON (U)—A Port Huron father of six and an Arkansas convict were held for investigation today after a wild two-car police chase that led to dizzy speeds last night through downtown Port Huron and the suburban area.

Police fired 16 bullets at the fleeing vehicle before the driver, James Clifton, Jr., about 28, of Little Rock, Ark., lost control of his car and crashed into a tree near suburban Columbus. With Clifton was James Provost, about 36, of Port Huron.

Police said Clifton crashed when he cut his headlights in a desperate attempt to duck pursuing police.

Clifton was held in St. Clair County Jail on a reckless driving charge pending investigation. Police said he was an ex-convict facing felony charges in Arkansas later this month.

Provost was held for investigation. Police said he tried to jump from the speeding car several times during the chase.

The chase started about 9 p.m. in downtown Port Huron and led through the south and southwest residential sections of the city. Police hooked bumpers with Clifton's car and tried to force it off the road but failed to halt the vehicle.

Police opened fire when the chase turned toward Marysville.

There, the one Port Huron police car was joined by a Marysville squad car. After a wild ride through the suburban Port Huron community, Clifton headed for Columbus—about 17 miles from Port Huron.

It was between Port Huron and Columbus he lost control of his car and crashed. No one was injured but police counted 16 bullet holes in Clifton's car.

Talc Tablet Erected

GOVERNOR, N. Y. (UP)—A bronze tablet marking the site of the first commercial talc mill in the United States was unveiled here. The tablet was bolted to a block of talc ore taken from the Wright mine and set in concrete. The old mill, located between Fowler and Balmat, was built by the Agalite Fibre Co. in 1876.

Surplus Food May Be Given to Detroit Needy

DETROIT (U)—The Detroit Welfare Commission has approved plans to distribute three million dollars worth of federal surplus food to the needy in a supplementary aid program.

The plan is subject to the approval of Mayor Albert Cobo and the Detroit Common Council.

More than 76,000 Detroiters would be eligible for the surplus food. Distribution cost would run about $23,000 a year, Daniel J. Ryan, welfare commissioner, estimated.

Half the cost would be borne by the state since state agencies would benefit in the program.

The food would be available through a Welfare Department storehouse and through private groceries which would handle the food on a distribution fee basis—10 cents per case.

To Hold Panel Talk for Education Week

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—Hickory Grove School will hold open house at 8 p.m. Thursday in conjunction with National Education Week.

The work of the students will be displayed in the individual classrooms. Bulletin boards in the halls will spotlight a "skill project," showing a typical development in arithmetic and penmanship from first through the eighth grades.

Plans Psychiatric Aid

BATTLE CREEK (U)—Municipal Judge William C. Burke has announced plans for extensive use of probation and psychiatric aid for youthful offenders. Judge Burke says he plans to make use of the psychiatric diagnosis and treatment available through outpatient service at Kalamazoo Hospital for seemingly incorrigible young people in the 17 to 21-year age group.

Man Acquitted in Arizona Case

Freed of Charge That He Shot Neighbor Due to Jealousy

PHOENIX, Ariz. (U)—William E. Demand, 35, was freed of a first-degree murder charge last night by a Superior Court jury that deliberated just 1 hour and 24 minutes.

Demand had been charged with the fatal shooting last July 27 of Vernon Donn (Jim) Frederick, 38, his next-door neighbor and long-time friend. The trial, marked by defensive fireworks, lasted 15 days.

"The Scottsdale Photo Shop will be open for business in the morning," Demand, a photographer and operator of the shop, said when the verdict was read. "I'll be there."

The defense held that Demand was at home asleep when Frederick was shot, that Frederick, a Scottsdale city councilman, was a philanderer and could have been killed by any number of jealous men.

The state contended Demand was jealous of Frederick's attentions to his wife Faye and shot Frederick while intoxicated. Mrs. Demand drove her car into an irrigation canal and drowned shortly after the slaying.

Auditor Reports 36,000 Liquor Handouts in Year

LANSING (U)—Aud. Gen. John B. Martin reported yesterday that 36,000 bottles of liquor were given away free in Michigan in the past fiscal year by liquor salesmen.

Martin estimated the state is losing $42,240 in liquor revenue on the 3,000 cases of free liquor.

He made the report at the request of the Legislative Audit and Appropriations Committee.

Martin said that during one convention, the National Alcoholic Beverage Control Association in Detroit last April, 136 cases of liquor were distributed free, apparently in addition to salesmen's regular sample allotments.

The Legislature, Martin said, "may have an interest in the question of who receives such free distribution."

Prior to last November, Martin reported, salesmen paid the state either the cost of the liquor or the usual 44 per cent state markup.

British Public in Dither

Margaret Breaks Tradition, Goes to Movie on Sunday

By ALVIN STEINKOPF
For Hal Boyle

LONDON (U)—Just imagine you are a lively, 24-year-old girl living in London.

It's a dank and dreary Sunday. You have to turn on the light in the middle of the afternoon.

If you were just any 24-year-old girl, earning your living typing in an office, you could give that ponytail haircut a swipe with a comb, slip on a mackintosh and go to the movies.

Tens of thousands of young girls do just that, and manage to survive a gloomy afternoon. There are thick, moist and noisy masses of them in Oxford St.

But you had better do nothing of the kind if you are Princess Margaret. She ventured last Sunday to join that damp crush in Oxford St., and now there is a public dither about her.

Princess Margaret, it seems, broke a royal tradition. Conspiring with her lady-in-waiting, Miss Irish Peake, and two unidentified young men.

Members of the royal family may engage in a lot of sprightly activities, such as shooting quail, drinking champagne for lunch, playing polo any old day, and betting on the races. But members of the royal family do not go to the movies on Sunday.

The Princess went to see something rather new in London—a method of projection known as Cinerama. She and her companions went into the Casino Theater and occupied seats which cost $2.10 apiece. Then they went home through the gloom.

Two newspapers got excited for a couple of columns apiece, and Mayfair quivered with gossip. Margaret had been to church. And because it was Remembrance Sunday, she had been down in Whitehall to stand by reverently while her sister, Queen Elizabeth, honored the men and women who had lost their lives in wars. Then in the afternoon she went to the movies.

Theater managers were interviewed, and they said: "Tradition-shattering," "what a surprise," "it must have been unofficial" and "tut-tut and tch-tch!"

The objection to royalty's going to movies on Sunday is inspired largely by the conservative elements among English churchmen, whose influence is great. The population is being reminded constantly that the sovereign is the defender of the faith, and that the Lord's Day must be respected.

But curiously while Margaret is being talked about for breaking tradition, the Church of England itself is being sniped at by persons whose moral indignation gets stirred up easily. The church, which lately turned its financial affairs over to a committee of experts, made a handsome cleaning in the stock exchange. It's gambling, say critics, and indignation simmers.

The number of American illiterates over 14 was reduced from 20 per cent of the population in 1870 to 2.5 per cent in 1952.

Sugar cane was not successfully introduced into Louisiana until 1751.

The brontosaur, an extinct dinosaur, was often 70 feet long and weighed 30 tons.

HOW I OVERCAME ARTHRITIS

Mrs. Emily Bruntys
505 Wisconsin
Gladstone, Michigan

"Arthritis in my knees and ankles was so painful I could hardly walk. Thanks to the wonderful results I received from O-JIB-WA BITTERS, I am completely better now."

"Anyone who has suffered from arthritis knows how thankful I am to be free of such torturing pains. I now highly recommend O-JIB-WA BITTERS. One day, however, my neighbor told me how O-JIB-WA medicine had helped her over-ly, as before she came to me. I decided to use it. I had given it a trial. I felt it helping arthritis in my knee in about a week, and within a month, my suffering was over. I am very thankful for O-JIB-WA that I could and the good health it has brought me. I do my housework again and can go up or down stairs without a trace of pain or stiffness. I'm so glad that I tried O-JIB-WA BITTERS and will always have a bottle in the house. I'm always happy to tell anyone who suffers from arthritis about how O-JIB-WA BITTERS put me around and couldn't do my housework or can vegetables in the fall. The pains were so bad that they kept me awake nights. I tried many different medicines without help, so was awfully dis- couraged. Prosperity for Long Haul Forecast by Chief of ABA

By MARGARET LATHROBE

It is no great surprise when the Optimists Club issues cheering predictions. But when a banker does? "What he says? What the man says?"

He said it all right, none other than El Presidente of the American Bankers Association, Everett D. Reese, of New-ark, Ohio, speaking at their convention recently in Atlantic City.

"Good business under highly competitive conditions," voiced Mr. Reese, with a genuine smile illuminating normal banking expression. He feels that a long range period of prosperity is a certainty, an opinion formed after traveling 50,000 miles around America, talking with farmers, bankers, oil men and every business type fellow he could locate.

Building and construction? Outlook excellent. Farmers voiced few complaints, recognizing that President Ike's farm policy is constructive over the long haul, with a banker knows enough to grams going on all over, credit sound, and installment buying at a dandy pitch. Mr. Reese thinks every banker will be smiling for a good long time.

(Can we buy that deep freeze now, dear? You heard what the man said!)

When a banker declares that business looks good and predicts it will stay that way, I am impressed. Such conduct isn't usual amongst the interest boys. Anybody who has ever played poker with a banker knows enough to get out if the banker stays in. Brother, he's got it made. He does not throw his blue chips around idly, just to keep the pot sweet and happy.

It's the same with words. When they say, "Sorry, we won't lend a nickel on that shack!"—you can depend on it.

So when the president of the American Bankers Association utters the blue chip phrase that good times are a good bet. I'm for buying the deep freeze and three or four pairs of new shoes without even trembling.

"Which corner is prosperity just around, Mister? I wish to overtake same!"

PTA Council Meets, Schools Hold Open House

J. Cecil Cox, assistant superintendent of Pontiac Schools, moderated a panel discussion on PTA finance at a meeting of the Pontiac Council held at Whitfield School Tuesday afternoon.

Stanton Levely, supervisor of purchases for the Board of Education, told how the budget is made up well in advance, and how the Board could assist PTA's in contemplated purchases.

Vernon L. Schiller, treasurer of the Board of Education, explained the distribution of money available.

Cloyd Houts, maintenance supervisor of the Board of Education, told the responsibility of the Board to the schools for maintenance.

Mrs. Harry E. King, secretary of the Board of Education and past president of Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers, spoke on how to spend PTA money to best promote and improve the PTA program.

Mrs. Donald North, finance chairman and past president of the Pontiac Council, stressed the use of the manual, and that in considering purchases, the needs of the greatest number of people should be considered.

A question and answer period followed the panel discussion.

Mrs. Richard Stark, PTA president, and Margaret Luther, principal of Whitfield School, presided at the tea table.

Eastern

An estimated 1000 people attended the Eastern Jr. High School "Open House" Tuesday evening in observance of American Education Week.

Fifty teachers greeted parents of their students and discussed their school work and problems.

Displays of products made in the metal and wood shops and mechanical drawing classes included several prize winning items in a nationwide contest sponsored by the Ford Foundation.

The sewing classes showed the dresses, skirts and aprons made by the pupils.

Baldwin

Open House was held at Baldwin School Tuesday evening.

Several hundred parents then visited the homerooms to meet the teachers and to observe methods and work carried on during school hours.

Drawings and exhibits illustrating current studies were shown in each room and individual work sheets and books of each child were on display at the desks.

Hawthorne

Hawthorne School reports a good turnout for its open house held Tuesday evening. Parents and friends inspected the rooms and talked with the teachers. Homeroom mothers served refreshments.

Edward Collins' Return From Trip

Mr. and Mrs. L. Ross Buffington of Pontiac drive have returned to their home from a trip to Newark, Ohio where they attended the wedding of their granddaughter, Joanne Marilyn Buffington and Donald G. Miller of Shanesville, Ohio. Joanne is the daughter of the John Buffingtons, former Pontiac residents.

Show 'Tomboy' Good Grooming Techniques

One of the most difficult characters to sell on good grooming and the importance of cleanliness is the "tomboy" daughter.

This is the little girl who dearly prefers dungarees and pigtails to dresses and curls. She'd think her self quite fortunate, indeed, if just once mother would forget to make her take her daily bath.

If she has an older sister who has started her own grooming routine, then this sister is held up to the "tomboy" as a good example. "Don't you want to look neat like your sister?" she'll be asked. The answer is usually a casual "No" that completely shocks the inquirer.

Twenty years ago, the mother of such a child really had a problem on her hands. Not so today, with grooming items being made with "antigrooming" type children in mind.

Among the items available is a selection of soap toys made by Austria's leading artists and imported to this country from a leading firm in Vienna.

Made from the finest castle soap, these soap toys include French poodles in black, white and pastels, pink elephants, rocking horses, teddy bears and many others to encourage children to enjoy their grooming tasks.

Predinner washings will seem like a game to the child who finds the basin decorated with one of several soap toys and grooming helmpates.

Stop Affected Radiance

Some women tend to overwork the pleasant - facial - expression theme. If you've seen the face of affected radiance. You've also seen the empty, insincere smile.

Then, too, there's the woman who goes through each day and the daily contacts it offers her, ignoring the importance of a nice facial expression. She rarely smiles, and with her lips pressed tightly together, her expression is one of grave seriousness.

She is unaware of the fact that her lips set the scene for her facial expression. And at first glance, she creates the impression of being very unhappy, and without a sense of humor.

To present a pleasant expression that's indicative of warm and happy personality is very simple. The key and method is contained in just a half-dozen words: Keep the corners of your lips up.

When applying your lipstick, remember to fill in the corners of your mouth. Keep your lipstick as neat and as well applied as you can. If your lips tend to crack or dry, there's a new lipstick containing a softening ingredient you may want to try.

In addition to its softening ingredient, the makers of this new lipstick claim it's pleasant-tasting, and contains idelium, too, for lasting color without drying your lips.

Kingswood School to Present Drama

The impact of Nazi bloodshed and propaganda on a quiet Swiss girls' school in 1939 will be dramatically portrayed in the play, "Letters to Lucerne," by the senior class of Kingswood School Cranbrook, Saturday at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Marcia McClintock, of Cherokee road, will enact one of the leading roles in the three act war drama which deals with young girls of different nationalities, studying in neutral Switzerland and with the letters they receive from their families at home.

Pillow Too Soft

A pillow is too soft a mattress for a bassinet and two pillows won't do for a crib, either, for the same reason. Sew an old cotton blanket into a pad the right size. Tuft it. Tack it to a board to fit the crib or bassinet bottom. Young folks need a hard mattress.

Use Acid to Clean Off Masonry

A good many people spend a good deal of time and a good deal of money painting a masonry wall or floor only to find that when the paint becomes dry it falls or chips away.

In most cases this is not the fault of the paint or the masonry—the fault is that the masonry was dirty and, as we all so well know, paint just won't stick to a dirty surface.

A good way to clean a masonry surface is with acid. The reason you have to use acid is that masonry is porous and once the dirt has been absorbed, it can't very easily be scrubbed out.

When the masonry is given an acid wash, the surface film of masonry is removed and with it comes the dirt.

The acid used for this purpose is muriatic acid and you can buy it at most hardware stores. Handle it gently for the concentrated acid is strong stuff.

Wear old clothes, rubber gloves and goggles. Fill a container with 10 parts of water and then add one part of the acid. Be careful not to let it splash.

Wet down the masonry surface and then apply the acid with a scrubbing brush with a long handle. Let it sit on the masonry for a few minutes and then give the surface a good scrubbing.

Now rinse the surface down with several applications of fresh water. Use plenty of water because if any trace of the acid remains, it's not going to do the paint much good.

It's often wise to use an acid treatment even of a clean surface for this will roughen up the smooth surface so that the paint will be able to take a better hold.

Laundry Easier in Installments

Thanks to efficient appliances, home laundering has become so simple and foolproof that it takes little time to keep the whole family in clean clothes. Sudsing and drying can be done so conveniently, at any time of day or evening, that women are learning to wash oftener, with smaller loads.

This is a smart way to do the family laundry. It causes less strain on the hot water supply; it eliminates the need for big, space-stealing laundry hampers; it keeps everybody's wardrobe in fresher condition; it eliminates that psychological hazard of "wash day"—and the home looks and is cleaner and more attractive.

CHANGING TREND

The trend is away from very short hair to styles that are a little longer. Please let me give a word of caution here. Don't all decide to wear a bun. There are a few who will be very attractive with hair low on the neck, but many others should only lengthen their hair a little. The right approach to any new trend is to first decide whether it is for you or against you and be guided by this when you adapt these new lines to your needs.

Exposure to Germs Is Feared

By EMILY POST

Today's first letter asks: "When a friend has a cold and comes and sits next to me, would it be considered rude to ask that person please not to come so close, or must I, in order to be polite, say nothing and risk catching her cold?"

"When I get a cold I really am laid low for several days, so I try to avoid coming in close contact with anyone who has a cold."

Answer: There's no objection to your saying regretfully, "Please don't get so close; I catch cold so very easily."

Dear Mrs. Post: I am planning a wedding breakfast for about 100 guests after a 10 o'clock Nuptial Mass. The breakfast will be at 1 o'clock at a hotel.

Mother would like the guests to come to our house from 11:30 to 12:30 for cocktails and also to see the wedding presents before going on to the hotel for the wedding breakfast.

My problem is how to word the reception invitations so that guests will know that they are expected to come to the house before going to the hotel for the wedding breakfast. Will you please help me as I must order my wedding invitations soon?

Answer: The only thing I know to suggest is to have the invitations to the reception read as follows:

Breakfast at 10 o'clock Plaza Hotel

And then in the lower left-hand corner say:

Immediately following ceremony presents will be on display at 22 Main St. Dear Mrs. Post: The other day I went to the beauty shop to which I always go for a permanent wave.

My regular operator was busy when I arrived and so she asked one of the other girls to shampoo my hair while she finished her other customer. I would like to know if I should have given her a separate tip?

Answer: Yes, she should have been given the tip customary for a shampoo to which no other attention is added.

Queen's Hands Betray Rural Childhood

By MARY MARGARET McBRIDE

It's really true what Cecil Beaton told me a year ago about the Queen Mother, Elizabeth. She does have "a countrywoman's hands."

Maybe it would take a photographer or another countrywoman to recognize the signs, but she comes by her compact, useful-looking hands naturally for she grew up in the country. When she was a little girl she ran about the family estate in Scotland with her brother David, playing Indian, face daubed with paint, head covered with feathers, bow and arrow slung around her neck.

Jennifer Ellis, writing about Queen Mother Elizabeth, in "Royal Mother," says the little Elizabeth could build a raft or make a campfire just as well as David.

At 7, Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon went to a charity party where a palm-reader was one of the attractions. When she got home, her governess asked if she had her hand read.

"Yes, I did," said the little girl. "But she was silly. She says I'm going to be a queen when I grow up."

"That you can't be, unless they change the laws of England for you," her mentor drily assured her, referring to the tradition that at the time prohibited a member of the royal family from marrying a commoner.

Actually, two years before, the events that ultimately were to make her a queen had been set in motion. At a children's party given by the Duchess of Buccleugh, a stammering 10-year-old boy in an Eton suit sat next to a small girl who put the bashful boy at ease by chattering on about her Shetland pony and her tame bullfinch.

When it was time to go home, the little girl asked the boy his name. "Bertie," he replied.

Their paths didn't cross again until Lady Elizabeth, 19, and Prince Albert, King George V's 24-year-old son, danced together at a ball. The prince remembered Elizabeth at once.

"Why, I met you a long time ago," he said. "You were eating angel cake."

"And I gave you the cherries off the top," she recalled.

In the meantime George V had announced that his sons did not have to marry royalty, but could take their wives from the three highest ranks of the nobility.

So the two were married and one day Elizabeth did become Queen and through the years made such a happy family atmosphere that much later her elder daughter, now Queen Elizabeth II of England, was able to look back on her childhood and say, "The sun seemed to be always shining."

I hope the Queen Mother realizes how much we like her here even though we express our affection a little differently than her countrymen. I'm sure she understands, for the discerning and inclined-tounderstatement Mr. Beaton called her "sweet, interested and understanding."

"I remember one long session with the Queen Mother," he said. "In all that time, she never complained—except once or twice when I needed to refill, she looked at my camera a little sadly and asked incredulously, 'Is it empty AGAIN?'"

Wonder if our American photographers, whose cry traditionally is "Just one more," startled the understanding royal mother when they yelled "hey, Queen." Or did she realize it was just their informal way of showing affection?

IF statuesque—

Long formal is much better than short one. You can wear both and the long torso is especially flattering.

MISS S.—The tiny waist with circle-flaring skirt silhouette never your dish, nor was the paper doll-look. The straight satin sheath with draped hipline emphasizes that quality of stateliness which height demands.

Fringe Comes Back

Fringe came back on furniture, now it seems to appear on clothes. A high-style design easily copied at home is a bouffant-skirted evening dress with a thick black fringe running from the back of the waist, down and around the skirt to the hem on the side.

Comfortable Heat Varies With Age

By HUBBARD COBB

The heater thermostat in some households gets changed about a thousand times a day because each member of the household seems to want a different temperature.

Now these people are not just being cussed, because science or someone has found out that what you consider to be a comfortable house temperature depends on what you are and what you are doing.

For example, if you are a young active adult you probably find a temperature of around 68 degrees just about right, but if you are a baby or getting on in years, 68 degrees is too cold. You will probably find 74 degrees or so much more comfortable.

If you are a young active adult playing a game of ping-pong in the basement you will need a lower temperature than you will when you are in the study or living room just sitting and being quiet.

Young women are more comfortable at a lower room temperature than are young men, but in the summer it's just the other way around. Men, it seems, are more comfortable than women at high temperatures.

Women get around this little problem by wearing lighter weight and less clothes in summer than do men.

But to get back to winter and heating the house: If you have an old-fashioned system where individual room temperature can't be adjusted, then the thermostat should be set to take care of the people who need the maximum temperature.

If this is too hot for you, wear lighter-weight clothes when you are at home. It's a lot easier for someone who likes to be cool to take off clothes than it is for someone who needs a higher temperature to add them.

And whatever you do, keep the thermostat at a more or less constant setting—moving it up and down not only wastes fuel but it makes everyone in the house uncomfortable.

Probably the thing that's mostly responsible for the myth about the good old days is a poor memory.

That Choice Fruit Cake's Here Again!

Mrs. Swanson Uses Nut - Stuffed Dates in Holiday Recipe

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor Here's Pontiac's favorite fruit cake recipe again! Several years ago Mrs. Dale Swanson gave her recipe to Mrs. Selden to use in this column. It was so popular that it was reprinted the following year. We think it deserves another showing for those cooks who have lost their copy and all the new cooks who might like to try it.

We asked Mrs. Swanson for the history of this recipe. All she could tell us was that it had been handed down in her husband's family from an aunt who came from Finland.

BRAZIL NUT FRUIT CAKE

By Mrs. Dale Swanson

2 pounds pitted dates
1 pound Brazil nut meats
1/2 pound English walnut meats, kept whole
1 cup red and green candied cherries
1/2 cups flour
1/2 cups sugar
1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoons melted butter
1/2 teaspoon salt
5 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla

Fill each pitted date with a Brazil nut. Put fruit and nuts in a bowl and add flour, sugar, salt, baking powder and the butter. Add well beaten eggs and work together thoroughly. Line tins with waxed paper (this is important). Bake for one hour in a 325-degree oven. Makes 2 loaves of fruit cake.

They're Apt to Develop Arguing Habit

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Mrs. Y. grew up under the authority of a "do-it-because-I-say-so" father. So somewhere between childhood and her own parenthood she resolved to always tell her children "why" they had to obey. Practically, this policy hasn't worked too well. Amy, her 14-year-old daughter, is an inveterate arguer.

Just the other day, for example, Mrs. Y. came to a decision against blue jeans for school wear. As usual, she gave Amy all the thinking that had led her to it.

And as usual, Amy behaved as though she hadn't heard. The moment her mother had concluded her case against blue jeans, her child said, "But mother, you don't understand. You . . ."

Perhaps Mrs. Y. might try saying, "Blue jeans for school are out."

period. I like my reasons for saying so. If you want to hear them, let me know.

To put decisions so directly without their "why's" may be a little difficult for Mrs. Y.

If so, let's take it easy. The influence of a "do-it-because-I-say-so" rearing is not overcome in one day. Living our tender years under authority that makes a point of squashing our point of view develops some suspicion of that authority, too.

So we aren't likely to realize that our policy of "explaining" every decision we make for our own children is really our appeal for their approval and endorsement.

We don't fool them, of course. They sense our uncertainty—and easily develop the arguing habit toward the parent whose mind is not really made up.

So I want to suggest to parents who may be having trouble with our fashionable "explaining" policy that making good decisions for children is hard work.

If we make them in sincerity and love, it is a little self-contemptuous to feel we must parade all the private thinking that has led us to the decision.

If we have proper respect for this thinking, we do not lavish it upon our bored daughter, but wait for her to ask for it herself.

It is, of course, unfair of us to expect Amy and Jimmy to always agree with grownup thinking on blue jeans for school, home chores, late parties, etc. They don't possess our experience. So they simply can't share all our conclusions.

Only too often, teenage impatience with "explaining" parents is anger with our unspoken pressure for agreement with our point of view.

If readers don't believe me, let them discuss the question with the children. They may be most helpfully illuminated.

Select Coat by Careful Decisions

In choosing a coat, the older woman must consider several important things. In flattering her figure, she should watch the fabric and color as well as the styling of her coat.

A coat of heavy fabric will add weight. The heavier woman should avoid the fitted, tweed coat, since this will add at least five pounds to her figure.

And despite the beautiful range of fall colors, she should remember that light, bright colors make her look larger.

A black, navy or charcoal coat is a good color choice, since it is slimming, yet provides a good background for hat, gloves or bag in the vivid fall shades. Since these are considered the "classic" colors, her coat should last several seasons without looking "dated."

As for styling, the wisest choice would be the loose-fitting, slightly flared coat. This season, there are many coats with huge collars and pocket flaps. Such a coat can be worn over suits without looking bulky.

When you select your coat, choose a day when you have a few hours of spare time. Try on several coats, observing yourself in a full length mirror.

Whatever you do, don't skimp on material. If the coat you like is just a little too small, choose the next size. An ill-fitting coat is unflattering as well as uncomfortable.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

Some people don't seem to know it, but it is just as poor taste to run down your in-laws to outsiders as to low-rate members of your own family. Some persons want you to know that his in-laws are no bargain.

Unwittingly he tells you that he is no bargain as an in-law, either.

First Bath for Dog Due at 3 Months

Advice to new puppy owners: A dog's first bath is important but should not be given until the animal is past the three month stage. Up to that time, a good daily brushing will keep him somewhat odor-free and presentable. Exercise care and patience during your dog's first soap-and-water bath. See that suds don't bother him around his face, and stuff his ears with cotton wads to protect them from trickling water.

The United States has 17 beet sugar factories in 16 states which produce 1,800,000 tons of sugar a year.

Carpet for Bath Can Be Washed

Did you know that any home-maker can install her own wall-to-wall bathroom carpeting without calling in professional help—and can remove it in easy-to-handle sections that can be washed by machine?

Washable, preshrunk bathroom carpeting can be had by the yard, along with an instruction kit complete with cutting knife, measuring device, and pattern square. Once installed, 36-inch widths which are securely taped together, can be "un-taped" and picked right up off the floor and dumped into the washer whenever necessary.

The cost isn't out of bounds, either—just figure you'll spend about the same amount of money a dozen good bath towels would cost. Naturally, bathroom carpeting is made to take it—and thrives on soap and water as any bathroom accessory should.

Bazaar Plans Set by St. Vincent Guild

The guild of St. Vincent de Paul Church met Monday evening at St. Thomas Hall to make plans for its bazaar and turkey dinner to be held Dec. 5 from 1 until 6 p.m.

The bazaar will be under the direction of members of the guild and the dinner will be under the supervision of Mrs. Robert Cross-dell and Mrs. Arthur Crawford.

Party Plans Made as Sorority Meets

Iota Eta Chapter of Pi Omicron Sorority met recently at the Watkins Lake home of Norma Harnack. Plans were made for a Christmas party to be held Dec. 17 at Colonial Manor in Birmingham. Miss Harnack and E. Verne McCall are in charge of making arrangements.

The chapter decided that each member will make a donation to a crippled child at Christmas time.

Satin Suit Favorite

The go-to-town, afternoon party favorite, the satin suit, is in good repute this season. Dark and embroidered, it can be smuggled by an employer in the day. Light and taffy-colored, it fools no one. It's a dress just for parties and company.

Sorority Meets to Hear Talk by Dr. McHugh

Dr. James McHugh spoke on future projects for child psychiatry at Pontiac State Hospital recently when Beta Theta Chapter of Lambda Chi Omega sorority met at the Pontiac drive home of Mrs. Raymond Howell.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR: JUNIOR EDITORS

LOOPS FOR FEET

A TRIP TO THE ZOO—4

Monkeys live in many parts of the world, and this monkey can live in your Junior Editors zoo.

1. With water colors or crayons, color the monkey tan. Color the tabs on hand and feet green.
2. Paste this picture on stiff paper or cardboard from a cracker box, using white library paste, and press under books. When dry, cut out the monkey carefully. If you don't want to cut out the openings in the curve of the arm and tail, then color this area green.
3. Make the monkey swing through the air by bending the tabs over the branch of a bush or a lamp cord and holding them firm with gummed tape. The foot tabs can be pasted into loops, as shown in the little drawing, for even better support.

Almanac Scans Weather, Prints Pat Nixon's Recipe

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Storms will feature the start of 1955 over most of the country but March will come and go like a lamb. And it'll be a pleasant summer with temperatures near normal and precipitation below.

So says the new edition of "Agricultural Almanac," or "Lancaster Almanac," a little book many persons have sworn by since John Quincy Adams was President.

In its 13 year history, the almanac has covered practically every subject from farming to higher esthetics. This year's book runs from a day by day look at the weather to a recipe for hot tamales by Vice President Richard Nixon's wife, Patricia.

On page 33, there's a formula for predicting the number of snow storms per winter, if you can find a duck.

"The date of the first snow tells how many snows will fall during the winter—thus if the first snow falls on the 15th of a month, then 15 snows can be expected. But to qualify as the first, the snow must produce enough cover so you can track a duck through it."

Then, "if there's enough blue sky to patch a Dutchman's breeches, you can safely hang out your wash." That's as Pennsylvania Dutch as shoo-fly pie and the la-

The driver, Burton Dorway, said an auto ahead of him stopped, trapping his cab in the path of a freight train.

Woman, 91, Calls First Plane Ride 'Wonderful'

DALLAS (AP)—A 91-year-old great-grandmother who says she has "109 young'uns" took her first plane ride and declared it "wonderful."

Mrs. Ellen Skinner Carruth, of Denison, Tex., took the five-minute ride in an airliner between Fort Worth and Dallas yesterday.

For four years she had wanted to try flying, members of her family said. Her family consists of eight children and their spouses; 32 grandchildren, of whom 26 are married, and 35 great-grandchildren.

Police Hunting for Girl's Killer

Bloodstains Hint That Victim, 14, Was Slain Near Baltimore Home

BALTIMORE (AP)—Police conducted an intensive search near the home of a murdered 14-year-old high school girl today after the discovery of blood stains that may point to a possible site for the brutal slaying.

The semirude, battered body of Carolyn Loretta Wasilewski, better known to her friends as Carolyn Wells, was found yesterday on a railroad track in the northwest suburb of Mount Washington.

Police concluded that the murder had occurred elsewhere and the small blonde girl had been thrown from a bridge overhead or dragged down a bank to the track.

An autopsy showed the girl had been dead since Monday night. She had suffered a fractured skull and jaw and the ring finger of her right hand had been broken. There was no evidence of a violent sexual attack.

Near the Wells' home, police found a bloodstained trail that ran from a vacant lot to an embankment on the opposite side of the street.

Nearly were a gold pendant earring, two sides of a matching locket, a locket chain, an aluminum hair curler and a pair of blue and white moccasin-type shoes.

Rhee Raps Plan for Korean Vote Under U.N. Eye

SEOUL (AP)—President Syngman Rhee said today the Korean people want "no foreign government or foreign nationals" dabbling in elections seeking to unite the divided peninsula.

The 79-year-old President, commenting on a report the United Nations may soon consider a compromise formula for all-Korea elections, told The Associated Press:

"While we remain grateful to all friendly nations, we earnestly and sincerely appeal to them not to take up the Korean question unless they first consult us and receive our concurrence."

The new formula, sponsored by Canada and Great Britain, reportedly would call for free elections in Korea under "appropriate auspices." Diplomatic sources said these elections could be supervised by a mixed commission made up of representatives of South Korea, a Communist nation and a neutral.

The United States reportedly agreed reluctantly to the plan.

Sergeant Found Guilty of Taking Bribe on Job

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A Randolph Air Force Base general court-martial yesterday found S.Sgt. Joel Graslum, 25, a personnel clerk, guilty of accepting a bribe to influence an overseas assignment.

The court sentenced Graslum, of Valley City, N. D., to a bad conduct discharge, confinement at hard labor for six months and forfeiture of $50 pay per month for six months. The sentence must be reviewed by the commanding general.

What Education Means to Me

Teacher Believes Education Guides Destiny of Nation

Editor's Note: Third in a series on "What Teaching Means to Me" published by the Pontiac Press during American Education Week, Nov. 9-13 is written by Dorothy E. Lindstrom, Waterford High School chemistry teacher. A graduate of Northern Michigan College of Education, Miss Lindstrom is a class sponsor and serves as sponsor for the "Atom Smashers," a group of high school science enthusiasts.

By DOROTHY E. LINDSTROM

There is no task so vital today as the education of our children. The youth of today are the citizens of tomorrow and the destiny of our nation rests upon the shoulders of these youngsters. Will they be able to accept this responsibility? I believe the answer depends upon parents and teachers.

I am one of these teachers. I feel that it is my duty to guide these young people so they will be good citizens, capable of taking their places in society.

What is a good citizen? He is a person who is well-informed, prepared to select wisely, and well-adjusted to his role in society.

Each teacher has a part in helping the student to learn about the world around him, the people in it, and to understand himself.

To me, teaching is not just an imparting of subject matter. It is an education to adjust to life. It is important that the children learn how to work together and to respect others' judgments. It is my job to provide opportunities for this type of learning and to help them when they are having difficulties.

Education is a never-ending process. We are learning new techniques and methods all of the time and the classroom is just one part of the total education process.

To me, a high school teacher, teaching means an awareness of the importance of assemblies, school clubs, athletics and other co-curricular activities as a vital part of the adjustment to life which our children face in school.

It is tremendously important that the student learn to apply or use what he is being taught. The test of learning is in the application. If the student can leave school and apply what he has learned, then the school has served its purpose.

To me, teaching means getting to know students as individuals, to know their likes and dislikes.

I enjoy teaching because I enjoy being with these growing youngsters. Each one is a fascinating study and just as you would watch an infant saying his first words, or learning to take his first steps, I watch each student with hope, encouragement and pride as he masters something new.

These boys and girls are each individuals with varying capacities to learn or apply themselves. A good teacher accepts the challenge to help the slow learner as well as the easy learner. Teaching means preparing all of these youngsters to take a part in society.

The reports I have received about my students who have entered college or who have gone on into the industrial world have fully compensated for my efforts in helping to prepare them for their future.

I feel it is a real honor to be a teacher — to have a part in preparing for tomorrow's America.

Bible Program Gets President's Backing

NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower says "religious faith, in our time, is under massive attack by a strongly entrenched atheistic materialism."

In a letter endorsing the American Bible Society's worldwide Bible reading program and made public yesterday, the President continued:

"In such a time, how clear it is that we should treasure and further every act which fuels the flame of our faith. The observance of worldwide Bible reading is such an act."

The society conducts its worldwide Bible reading program each year between Thanksgiving and Christmas.

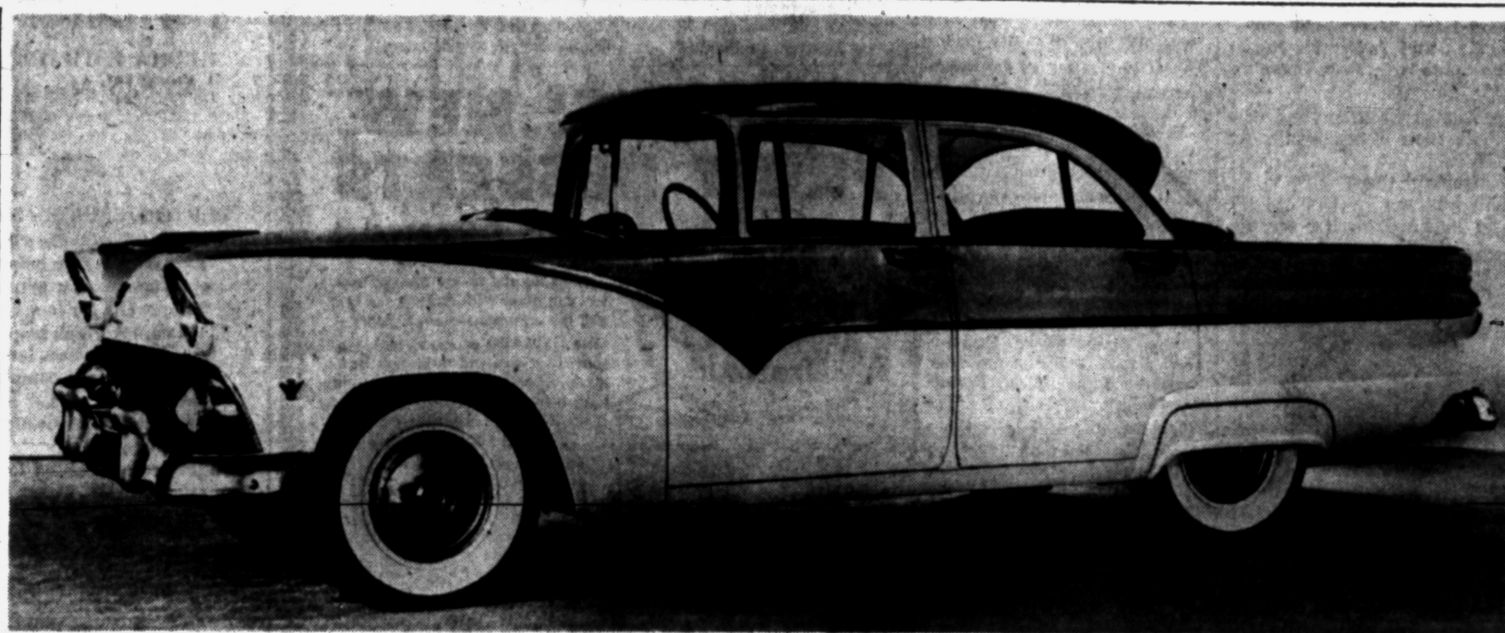

Largest UF Gift Made by Ford, Auto Workers

DETROIT (AP) — A record $1,914,000 was given to Detroit's United Foundation yesterday by the Ford Motor Co. and its employees.

The contribution is the largest ever made to the torch drive by a corporation and its workers.

The bulk of the money was given by CIO United Auto Workers Ford locals and salaried employees at the company's Detroit area plants. The corporation itself gave $478,000 and the Ford Foundation contributed another $250,000.

The drive still has some two million dollars to go to reach its $13,250,000 goal.

Williams, Aides to Map Strategy

Governor, New Cabinet Will Discuss Patronage Tomorrow

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams will assemble his new all-Democratic cabinet-elect tomorrow for a full day of strategy and patronage discussions.

It will be the first get-together for all since the Nov. 2 general election in which the Democrats swept the entire state ticket. All the new officials will take office Jan. 1.

Williams told reporters he would discuss with his team the possibility of reorganizing a number of major state offices which they will control.

The governor said he hoped to go over his program for the 1955 legislature with the new cabinet.

Asked whether the group would discuss patronage matters, Williams said, "Yes, although not quite in the sense of patronage. We will want to talk over putting together an efficient and smooth-working organization in these departments."

The men will lunch with Williams, while their wives are lunching with Mrs. Nancy Williams, the governor's wife, and then combine for what Williams called a "social dinner" in the evening.

The new officers-elect include U. S. Sen. Patrick V. McNamara, who will be a sort of onlooker; Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart, Sec. of State James N. Hare, Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh, State Treas. Sanford A. Brown and Aud. Gen. Victor Targonski.

The group, plus other advisers, will meet in December at Haven Hill Conservation Lodge in Oakland County for further discussions, Williams said.

Ford Introducing New Fairlane Series to Head Four Lines of Cars for 1955

Ford will introduce an entirely new line—the Fairlane series—as the leader of its four lines of 1955 passenger cars to be shown in dealers' showrooms on Friday.

Styling inspired by Ford's new Thunderbird distinguishes the new Fairlane. Retaining definite Ford characteristics the 1955 cars have a wrap-around windshield and a new, lower silhouette. The Crown Victoria, a new model, is the first Ford sedan under five feet in overall height.

Ford, which offered the first V-8 engine in the low price field in 1932, introduces for the first time three new engines:

A high compression Y-block V-8 engine of 272 cubic inch displacement and an 8.5 to 1 compression ratio and 182 horsepower; a Y-block V-8 engine of 272 cubic inch displacement and a 7.6 to 1 compression ratio, developing 162 horsepower; and an improved 6 cylinder I-block engine of 223 cubic inch displacement and a 7.5 to 1 compression ratio giving 129 horsepower.

Dual exhausts, which provide extra power, are standard on all Fairlane V-8 and station wagon models.

Ford's new high compression engine available only with Fordomatic transmission in the Fairlane series, has a four-barrel carburetor, automatic choke, vacuum controlled distributor and high compression cylinder heads. Ford's V-8 and 6 cylinder engines are available with any of the 16 Ford models.

The new Ford Fairlane series, named after the home of the late Henry Ford, includes a completely new styling idea—the Crown Victoria model. This car has an arch of chrome over the top like a tiara.

It also is available with a transparent plastic roof over the driver's compartment.

All the new Fords have a flat-plate hood and a longer rear deck.

New upholstery fabrics are available and are matched with 13 exterior colors in single tones and in a variety of two-tone treatments.

Ford has expanded its station wagon series to include five models with all steel bodies—one more than in 1954.

This year Ford's Customline series includes Fordor and Tudor Sedans.

Ford's lowest priced series includes three models: The new Tudor Business Sedan, the Tudor Sedan and the Fordor Sedan. New features of the 1955 Fords include:

Improved Fordomatic transmission, with overdrive and regular transmissions as optional equipment; a new integrated air conditioning and heating system to be introduced early in 1955; larger brakes on all models; larger spark plugs and drive selector mounted in the instrument panel.

Ford's new, lower silhouette is the result of a redesigned frame which has made possible a reduction in overall height of all models. Sedans are reduced 1.3 inches under the 1954 models without loss of headroom.

A greatly improved "ride" and easier handling is claimed from an entirely new chassis, new shock absorber valving, spring improvements and new "angle poise" ball joint suspension which Ford introduced last year.

New tubeless tires, first introduced in the low-priced field by Ford in 1954, are again standard equipment.

Twenty-four series including 190 models of 1955 Ford trucks ranging from 30-ton tandem-axle "Big Jobs" down to F-100 pickups, also will be introduced by Ford dealers Friday.

Six Pay Fines After Paint Raid

Five Other MSC Youths Face Trial in Daubing at U of M

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Pre-game pranks left University of Michigan campus buildings daubed with green and white paint today and 11 Michigan State College students charged with disorderly conduct.

Six of the East Lansing collegians pleaded guilty yesterday to painting MSC colors on the Michigan campus in an after dark foray Monday night. Five others stood mute when arraigned on the charge before municipal judge Francis O'Brien.

Judge O'Brien fined the six who pleaded guilty $5 plus $6.85 costs. He entered not guilty pleas for the five who stood mute and ordered them to stand trial Saturday morning before the Michigan-Michigan State game at Ann Arbor.

Those fined were: James F. Cline, 19, of Traverse City; Richard Collins, 18, of Midland; Charles Bishop, 18, of Detroit; Richard Gillen, 18, of East Lansing; Richard Duddy, 20, of Hartland; and Douglas Kellogg III, 20, of Jackson. All are of Michigan.

Facing trial Saturday are: Duane Scott, 19, Birmingham; Kenneth McCullough, 19, Detroit; Leo Dougherty, 19, Detroit; David Faulkner, 19, Coloma; and John Cox, 20, Roseville.

The five were released on $20 bond furnished by James A. Lewis, Michigan dean of students, who said he was acting in the absence of the students' parents.

Nine other Michigan State students, rounded up in the sweep by police Monday night, were released for lack of evidence.

4 Youths, 2 Girls Killed in Accident

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP)—Two cars smashed together head on last night on a fog-shrouded highway, killing four youths and two high school girls.

Four others were injured. One was near death today.

T. T. Hunt, managing editor of the Beaumont Enterprise, said two wreckers were required to pull the tangled automobiles apart.

Police Discover 'Body' Is Dead as a Mackerel

DULUTH (UP) — A Duluth man, thinking he had discovered a body, telephoned police when he noticed his dog barking and scratching a mound of dirt in his backyard.

Police finished the job and dug out the skeletal remains of an old fish.

Pontiac GI Issues Yule Gift Plea for Korean Orphans

Here in Pontiac snow, bright displays in store windows and parcel-laden shoppers are all pleasantly suggestive of the coming Christmas.

And the spirit is growing.

However, in far off Korea, as in many of the trouble spots of this world, there are many boys and girls and grownups who will not only miss Christmas, but who are hungry and unclothed.

Pfc Donald C. Reich, son of Mrs. Mary L. Reich of 3036 Lapeer Road, Pontiac, is acutely aware of the plight of these Korean children, many of them orphans. Stationed in Korea, Private Reich must live with the tragedy of the Koreans.

That is why Reich sent a letter of appeal to the Press, asking for anything to help these people, especially the orphans in their sector. That "anything" could mean clothing, shoes, food, toys, or money.

In his plea for help the young GI says: "Please ask the residents of Pontiac to give what they can to these people—they need it!"

The letter is also signed by Capt. G. R. Woods, chaplain, Maj. Paul H. Kozikowski and Lt. Col. M. D. Johnson, QMC, chairman of Operation Santa Claus.

It is requested that all contributors send their Christmas packages to: Operation Santa Claus, Headquarters, 32d Quartermaster Group, APO 973, c/o Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif.

Crosses Bridge at 90 'to Give Cops a Thrill'

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—William R. Ditch, 23, of Oakland roared across the Golden Gate Bridge and downtown San Francisco at 90 miles an hour yesterday.

"I was just trying to give you a thrill," he told police who finally caught him and booked him on charges of speeding, reckless driving and attempting to evade arrest.

MARINE CORPS 179 YEARS YOUNG—The Nichols-Conklin (Oakland County) Detachment of the Marine Corps League, in honor of the U. S. Marine Corps' 179th birthday, is holding a dance tonight at 9 at the Les Hutchinson Veterans' Hall, in Drayton Plains, and has invited the general public. M. Sgt. Ishmael Powers, in charge of the local Marine Corps recruiting sub-station, (above) presents a personal invitation to Pontiac Police Chief Herbert V. Straley, USMCR Major. The League auxiliary will serve free refreshments, and there will be no cost for admission. Powers said. Marines and former Marines have been requested to wear their uniforms.

Leaflets List Many Activities

Ewalt Says Both Kids and Adults Welcome to Participate

Now being distributed by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Dept. are 18,000 leaflets cataloging the department's winter recreation program for youngsters and adults. Distribution of the folders is being handled through the public schools, luncheon clubs and the Oakland County CIO Council.

Purpose of the leaflets is to let Pontiac citizens know what is being offered in the program and to get them interested in participation, according to David R. Ewalt, department director.

"The recreation program has continued to grow each year," Ewalt said yesterday.

"But the facilities and programs have not been used to capacity. We can always use more kids and more adults in the activities."

"I feel that if you have already paid for the recreation program through your taxes, you should take advantage of it."

The parks and recreation department services are carried out yearly at a cost of less than $2 per person, Ewalt said.

Part of the department's winter program is already in operation, including weekly "figure-watching" clubs, the Pontiac Women's Chorus, the chess and checkers club and the Circle Players, an amateur dramatic group.

The department-sponsored astronomer's association meets monthly and the Sunset Club, for "youngsters 60 and over," gathers every two weeks.

Complete information on these and other activities may be obtained by phoning the department at FE 3-7131.

Other activities include: square dance clubs and athletics for men and boys. Some athletics for women and girls will get under way next week, others after Jan. 1. The men's program is already rolling and the boys' starts Saturday.

Bi-monthly dances for junior high school students are also scheduled, as are neighborhood community center activities for boys and girls weekday afternoons and evenings.

Community center programs include crafts, table tennis, gym games, tumbling and dancing.

The department also offers classes in square, round and novelty dancing, with one class in square dancing now in full swing Monday nights.

Ewalt said other classes will be started as soon as enough people sign up for them.

Skating will be offered at seven locations, as soon as weather permits.

Rinks will be set-up at the Crofoot, Wilson and Weaver elementary schools, Washington and Jefferson junior high schools, Oriole Field and Northside Park.

Concluding the winter program pamphlet is a section reminding residents of free counseling service offered by the department.

Included are assistance in planning and organizing picnics (in season), parties and clubs and in landscaping, tree planting and control of insects.

Staff members will also give talks to groups on topics related to recreation, parks and forestry.

Ewalt added that his department welcomes calls from persons suggesting additional classes or programs.

Girl From Ohio Valley New Hit on Broadway

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—A new gal just made good on Broadway—and to everybody's surprise, she's not from Texas.

Florence Henderson's a country-fresh 20-year-old unknown blonde from Owensboro, Ky., and Rockport, Ind., down around Evansville. And she made it in Josh Logan's new musical play called "Fanny."

You see, Broadway Cinderellas are different than they were when Mary Martin came along. Television is responsible for that, too.

A big opening night party was customary then. "I can't even go to a party tonight," the healthy-looking singer from the Ohio River country lamented in her second-floor dressing room at the Majestic Theater.

"I have a TV rehearsal at 10:30 a. m."

Eddie Fisher heard her sing in Philadelphia, flipped over her style and freshness, and signed her for 3 appearances on his TV show.

"And she has an offer to do a Sunday night show for $2,500," her manager, Barron Polan, added, not unhappily.

Florence—5-foot-7 in her heels—was made love to on stage by Walter Slezak and Bill Tabbert, and her ultimate pappy-in-law was Ezio Pinza.

Her first week's check goes to the St. Meinrad Monastery and School at St. Meinrad, Indiana.

"It's a little promise I made," she said.

Florence came to N.Y. right out of high school, went to the American Academy of Dramatic Arts, got a walk-on part in "Wish You Were Here" on a dare—and was "discovered again" by Rodgers and Hammerstein who put her on the road in "Oklahoma!" and also on their big TV show.

Sees Barrier to Highway Plan

Sen. Chavez Believes
Roads Would Require
Cut in Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON—Sen. Chavez (D-NM) said yesterday the federal government probably will have to cut down on foreign aid if it embarks on a huge highway expansion program.

The New Mexican is in line for the chairmanship of the Senate Public Works Committee. This committee would have to pass on any new highway bill.

President Eisenhower recently suggested a 50 billion dollar highway program to be carried on over a 10-year period. Presumably, a good portion of the costs would be borne by the federal government.

Chavez told a reporter there is "no question" but that the country would benefit by a 50 billion dollar expenditure for highways, but that "there is more to building highways than wishful thinking."

"I do not think that as long as we are spending so many billions of dollars outside the United States that any direct recommendation will be made to Congress by any administration for a 50 billion dollar highway program," Chavez said.

He expressed belief the Public Works Committee would be "very sympathetic" to any proposals for better highways. "That is entirely a nonpartisan thing," he said.

"But if we have a big road program as contemplated, we must have cuts in foreign aid," he added.

added, "That is the only place where I see that cuts in present expenditures can be made."

Radford in Turkey

ANKARA, Turkey—Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, arrived today from Portugal for a three-day visit at the invitation of the Turkish government.

Radford told newsmen he would discuss "mutual problems."

Frankster Plagues Man With Problem Parade

BATON ROUGE, La. (UP)—Michael Hamilton called in the police yesterday after a frankster sent him a woman seeking her lost dog, a hearse to pick up a body, and a repairman to adjust his septic tank.

While he talked to police a truck drove up and the driver said: "I've come for the dead horse."

Residents Warned of Phone Solicitation

Pontiac-area residents were warned today to be wary of any telephone solicitations, especially in connection with donations or advertising for political or fraternal publications, according to John Hirlinger, assistant manager of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce.

Hirlinger was concerned with attempts by solicitors to seek donations in Pontiac for the Legion News, a publication for American Legion Posts in the Detroit area.

The publication is mainly for readers in Detroit and would benefit few advertisers in this area, Hirlinger said.

"Solicitations by telephone and solicitations for publications with which the person is not familiar, should be avoided," Hirlinger said.

said, "Anyone receiving calls for advertising space or seeking donations should be reported immediately."

Cigarettes on Trial

Prosecution, Defense Advance Views to Explain the Increase in Lung Cancer

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

NEW YORK (AP)—Cigarettes seem to be on trial. You are the jury.

The charge: Cigarettes are harmful, contributing to cancer and heart disease.

The defense: That isn't proven yet; others call cigarettes innocent pleasure.

The bits of evidence of your verdict are coming from scientists, physicians, statisticians. This is expert testimony from both sides. There also are declarations from zealots on both sides, people who attack or defend smoking on emotional grounds.

The trial came to full public attention only within the last two years. Here are some main reasons:

Statisticians found an "alarming" increase in lung cancer, particularly in men over 45. They said the increase was worrisome even after allowance is made for the fact more Americans are reaching the older ages at which cancer becomes more common and that cancer nowadays is diagnosed more accurately than in the past.

These two things—increasing average age and better diagnosis—could account for some or much of the increase from 3,900 reported lung cancer deaths in 1939 to about 27,000 in 1953. A few physicians and statisticians say these two factors could account for most or all of it.

But the majority by far see a real increase in lung cancer deaths. Some find the rate doubling every 10 years, and predict 60,000 American lung cancer victims annually by 1960.

If there really is an increase, what is causing it?

From their own observations some physicians blamed cigarettes because most of their patients were smokers. Statistical studies of hospital patients added much weight to this view.

Cigarette sales increased sharply during the years when lung cancer was rising. This, to their view, was a pretty suspicious association.

Then came more than statistical evidence against cigarettes. One was the skin-painting experiments by Doctors Everts Graham and Ernest Wynder. Concentrated tars from cigarettes smoked by machines were applied to shaved skin of mice. After a year of treatment, many mice developed skin cancers—evidence of a cancer-causing chemical or chemicals in the smoke.

Others still doubted. They said skin cancer in mice is not the same as lung cancer in humans.

The doubters could point to at least one experiment in which mice were exposed to daily, measured amounts of cigarette smoke, from adolescence until they died and were compared with other "non-smoked" mice. There was just one case of lung cancer in 132 "smoked" mice—not significant statistically.

Benzpyrene, a chemical which induces cancer in mice, has been identified by one scientific team in smoke and tars from the burning of enough cigarette paper to make 80,000 cigarettes—an 11-year supply for a pack-a-day smoker.

There is still some question, though, as to whether a human smoker might get enough of this to cause human lung cancer.

Benzpyrene also has been found in the polluted air of cities.

Some researchers suspect polluted air as a cause of lung cancer. Some say the rise in lung cancer might be coming from a combination of things, including cigarette smoking and polluted air.

Some studies find lung cancer more frequent in cities than rural areas. One explanation advanced is that city people smoke more. Another is that city air is less clean or pure.

Some scientists question whether people who smoke may be constitutionally different from non-smokers, more tense perhaps, with a different production of hormones. Hormones can influence cancers.

But there's no evidence that really answers this question.

Sex and jobs are elements in the evidence.

Many women smoke, have smoked for years. But lung cancer is at least four to five times more common among men than women. Why?

Several explanations are advanced. One: Not so many women smoke. Another: Most women have not smoked as long as men have, and it is argued that it takes 10 to 20 years of smoking to induce lung cancer; that in the future the cancer rate in women will begin to rise. Yet another: There is a sex difference—men may naturally be more susceptible to lung cancer than women.

Men may be subjected to more cancer-causing chemicals or agents in their jobs than women. There is no doubt that a large number of chemicals to which some workers are exposed can produce cancer in animals.

In scientific and medical circles, there have long been questionings, evidences and counter evidences about the role of cigarettes in health. To the public, which could not be aware of all of the findings being made, some of the reports had to come with bombshell effects.

(Tomorrow: Reports of heart disease hazard, and "how to quit smoking.")

Michigan Beet Quota Boosted

Corrected Story Shows State's Acreage Higher While U.S. Total Is Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—Controls that will cut the nation's sugar beet planting by 10 per cent next year were clamped on by the Agriculture Department last week.

But Michigan, one of the top producing states, however, got an allotment of 4,005 acres more than was planted to sugar beets in 1934.

The allotment for Michigan next year is 81,420 acres, compared with 77,415 planted to sugar beets this year, when there were no restrictions.

Controls last prevailed on sugar beet acreage in 1941.

(Editor's Note: This is an Associated Press correction of a statement appearing in the Pontiac Press Saturday, Nov. 6.)

Acting under a sugar control law, the agriculture department will allot 850,000 acres on a national basis compared with 944,000 planted this year when there were no restrictions.

Growers must comply with allotments in order to be eligible for subsidy payments authorized by law.

The domestic beet producing area is allotted an annual marketing quota of 1,800,000 tons of sugar. Production this year is indicated to be about 200,000 tons more than the quota. Hence the restrictions were set up for the next year.

Similar limitations have been ordered for the sugar cane producing areas of Louisiana and Florida.

Speech Contest Won by Waterford Senior

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — A Waterford High School senior, 17-year-old Myles Watkins of 4312 Lotus Drive, Waterford, is the district winner of the Voice of Democracy Speech and Essay Contest, held Monday at a local radio station.

Watkins won over Donald Baumgartner and Charlotte Stark, finalists from Pontiac High School. All three students were awarded table model radios for their part in the contest.

Judges were Willis D. Lefurgy, Waterford Township justice of the peace, Cecil McCallum, Pontiac Municipal Court judge, and Dr. George Petroff of Pontiac.

As winner, Watkins will be eligible to compete in the state contest, to be held in Lansing in December. The state contest winner will receive an all-expense paid trip to Washington, where he will compete in the national finals.

Dondero Cites Highway Needs

Urges New Emphasis on Solving Road Problems in Seattle Speech

Speaking at the national convention of the American Association of State Highway Officials in Seattle, Wash., yesterday, Rep. George A. Dondero urged a new emphasis on solving the traffic problems in and around large metropolitan areas.

"When the great period of highway development in America started back in the twenties, municipal streets were quite adequate for the relatively modest traffic then existing," he said.

"The crying need at that time was for all-weather facilities to connect up centers of population, provide an integrated network."

"Hence, the main emphasis of the nation's road program was on rural highway improvement."

"That policy dominated for something like three decades. Street betterment remained almost static, despite the revolutionary growth of motor vehicle use in cities."

"Result is that major arteries are becoming crammed almost to the point of immobility."

Dondero is chairman of the House Committee on Public Works at this session of Congress.

Pontiac City Affairs

Owners Protest Rezoning of Residential Property

More than 25 owners of residential property near the Pontiac Motor Division plant appeared at last night's City Commission meeting to protest rezoning large tracts of land in that area to a manufacturing classification.

Final action on the measure was put off until a public hearing Dec. 7.

Attorney George A. Cram, representing the protesting owners, told the commissioners if they acted in favor of the rezoning they would be doing so in the face of many objections and "private restrictions" in the property abstracts.

The City Plan Commission has recommended that the land in question be rezoned as requested.

Petitions have been filed showing 25 per cent of the property owners in the Joslyn-Peacock-Fuller section are against changing the zoning from the present residential classification.

Cram quoted from what he said was a typical property abstract held by most owners, which, he said, stated: "All lots in Peacock Acres (the old name for the section) shall be used for residences only."

He said the abstracts are dated July 1, 1925 and have no time restrictions.

Before the issue was brought to the City Commission and plan commission several months ago, it had been presented by petitions showing nearly 71 per cent of the residents approved the change.

An auto haulaway company wants to purchase the property, provided it is rezoned.

The rezoning question had been postponed at two plan commission drawing up of the revised ordinance making the change.

Since more than 50 per cent of area owners are against the rezoning, six of the seven will have to approve the change. The concurring resolution passed was based on the following plan commission report.

Re: Request for Manufacturing 1 classification for both sides of Grace street, from Joslyn to the east subdivision line, north side of Peacock street from Fuller to the east subdivision line, vacating of Grace street from Joslyn to east subdivision line, vacating Fuller street from Grace to north subdivision line (Bell Line Railroad).

City plan recommendation: lots 70 to 78 inclusive, 83 to 138 inclusive of assessor's plat 102 be rezoned to manufacturing 1, providing land for a 40-foot setback from Joslyn is deeded from lots 83, 84, 137 and 138 and Grace street.

The commission tabled a second portion of the report recommending vacating portions of Grace avenue and Fuller street.

In other action, the commission received and filed the following reports from the plan commission:

Request from Judson Bradway for regulation 28-foot pavement and curb and relocation of property line at intersection of Avon, Berwick and Roland.

Approval of proposed plat for "Herington Hills," subject to compliance with platting ordinance as amended.

Approval of ordinance to resume to residential 3 classification lot 16, Evelyn Court, lots 6 to 11 of assessor's plat 38, lots 9 to 11 of assessor's plat 127.

Approval of ordinance to resume to commercial 1 lots 137, 138, 139, 140 and 186 of assessor's plat 138, providing alley is deeded.

The commission also concurred in the denial of a request for approval of a replat of the plat covering the six-family building on the corner of Michigan and North Tasmania.

The cubit, a measurement used by ancient peoples, was supposed to represent the distance from a man's elbow to the tip of his middle finger.

Egypt Ex-Queen Seeking Divorce to Marry Again

CAIRO, Egypt (U)—The newspaper Al Akhbar said today ex-Queen Nourin will marry a top official of the oil-rich Persian Gulf principality of Kuwait if she can get a divorce from her present husband.

But in Alexandria Nourin's husband Dr. Adham el Nakib told a newspaper yesterday he would not consent to a divorce. He blamed trouble.

In a special dispatch from Geneva, Switzerland, Al Akhbar said Nourin has agreed to marry Ezzat Gaafar, Kuwait's Cabinet chief, after she divorces Nakib. The former queen and her mother, Mrs. Assila Sadek, are in Switzerland for medical treatment.

Mrs. Sadek announced Oct. 30 that her daughter and Nakib had "equally agreed" on a divorce. Nourin was divorced from ex-King Farouk last Feb. 2.

Al Akhbar said Gaafar, 38, met Nourin and Mrs. Sadek several times and left Geneva last night for Cairo to meet Nourin's grandmother.

FAMOUS SON OF A FAMOUS MOTHER—Academy Award winner Humphrey Bogart holds a souvenir of his youth, a drawing made by his famed mother, Maur Humphreys, whose children's books

Phony Cops Sought in Diamond Robbery

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (U)—Clarence Loeb, 70, a jewelry salesman, was driving home to Cincinnati yesterday with $50,000 worth of diamond rings when he heard the wail of a siren.

He stopped. A man in a police uniform came up to the car and asked for his driver's license, then ordered him out of the car.

The man and a companion seized Loeb, bound him with adhesive tape, returned to his auto and drove him to a private lane, where the men took his jewelry sample case with the diamond rings and his wallet containing $40 in cash and left.

Police theorized a third man must have driven the robbers' car to the lane and picked up his confederates.

Loeb struggled for 10 minutes to free himself from the tape and then went to a nearby school to telephone authorities.

His sample case and a police badge were found later near his car.

France produces about 500,000 cars annually, ranking third behind the United States and Britain.

Gable, 38 Others Leave Thursday for Hong Kong

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Clark Gable, Michael Rennie, Alex D'Arcy and 36 other members of the "Soldier of Fortune" company leave Thursday for Hong Kong, one of the danger spots of the world.

20th Century-Fox has taken a two million dollar insurance policy on the company, and an additional $250,000 on the seven three-ton trucks which left by boat some time ago.

Clark and company will live at the Peninsula Hotel at Kowloon, which is so close to Communist territory that all water comes from the Communist held country. Not only is there fear of the Communies, but they have had several typhoons in that part of the world. Producer Buddy Adler and Director Edward Dmytryk have already visited Hong Kong and engaged 100 junk.

Susan Hayward, who plays opposite Clark, has five weeks in which to cut her flowing mane before the company gets back. This is the first time anybody ever talked Susie into that.

Grace Kelly will not be back for "Cobweb." She has told MGM that she is ill and says that her family does not want her to come back until she is in better health. They feel she has made too many pictures.

There are two schools of thought on that, and I think it could be her unhappiness over the break-up of her romance with Oleg Cassini.

John Houseman, the producer, tells me that Lauren Bacall plays Meg, Grace's role. The cast now stands: Lauren, Richard Widmark, and Charles Boyer if Boyer can finish his play in time.

Cesar Romero received a telephone call from New York offering him the lead opposite Mae West in the revival of the "Ziegfeld Follies" at the Wintergarden Theater.

Cesar hasn't appeared on Broadway in 20 years and there was no holding him when Producer Charles Sherman telephoned him.

Here's another example of "the rich get richer." Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz have just added $780,000 to their coffers (or wherever they keep their gold) from a deal whereby their No. 1 TV show, "I Love Lucy," will play second rounds on the network.

This is the first TV show to be released nationally on a repeat basis. "Dragnet" which has had repeat reissues is on a local basis.

Lucy and Desi are particularly happy that their repeat shows will be held Sunday afternoons, an especially good beaming for children.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Dale Robertson is free in February and you can look for a marriage to Mary Murphy as soon as he gets his papers.

The on-again-off-again romance of Charlie Chaplin Jr. and Susan Cook is so much on that they're talking about a January marriage.

David R. Ewalt Serves on Recreation Panel

Attending the two-day meeting with Ewalt is Leonard Buzz, recreation supervisor.

County's Only Unbeaten 11's Play Here

By BILL MARTIN
Oakland County's only two undefeated high school football teams both will appear here this weekend against Pontiac's parochial squads.

Avondale (5-0-3) comes to Wisner Memorial Stadium for a Thursday night game with St. Frederick, while unbeaten and untied Oxford will provide a rugged finale for St. Michael on Saturday night.

Defense-minded Yellowjackets will rule heavy favorites over winless St. Fred. Avondale boasts a fine defensive unit that has given up only four touchdowns in eight games. Suburban squad holds victories over St. Michael (26-7), Lake Orion (6-0), Troy (27-6), Roseville (13-0) and Clawson (13-0). Lapeer and Fitzgerald held Avondale to scoreless ties and a 7-7 deadlock with Madison last week forced the Yellowjackets to share the Oakland-B Conference championship with Roseville.

Avondale lacks a real passing threat, but has a strong running attack built around high-scoring Marv Evans. The 178-pound senior halfback has run for nine touchdowns this season. Toby Aldrich directs Coach Frank Crowell's Split-T, while Bob Kuhfeldt and Don Krupp round out the backfield.

Oxford has rolled to victories over Milford (21-0), Clawson (27-14), Flint Dye (27-20), Ortonville (35-12), Lake Orion (2-0), Romeo (21-9) and Wayne (2-0). Oakland champion Clarkston (3-7).

Wildcats, coached by Jean Harkness, have big ends in Fred Bergin and Duane Wildey, a capable line and an outstanding backfield. Clyde Groves and Dale Spiker start at the halves, with Larry Spencer at full and Mike Benedict at quarter.

Spencer, a 180-pound power runner, has scored 66 points this year and also is a defensive standout. St. Michael has split even in eight starts this year, and finished 4th in the Suburban Catholic League with a 4-3 record. St. Frederick, which finished in the SCL cellar with Ferndale St. James, has tied one and lost seven in eight starts.

Matsock Puts MSC Coaches 'On the Spot'

Versatile Back's Injury Leaves Availability in Doubt for 'M' Game

EAST LANSING (AP) — Johnny Matsock has been "Johnny on the spot" for the Michigan State Football team all this season. Now he's got the coaches on the spot. Whenever there was a tough backfield chore to perform, coaches put Matsock in for spot duty. Every time, he came through for the Spartans.

The Detroit senior, a comparative light weight at 180 pounds, started out at quarterback. He was shifted to right half and then to left half when LeRoy Bolden was hobbled by a lame leg.

Last Saturday, he was at quarterback again and started the squad on its victory drive over Washington State.

This week, the Coaches are on the spot. They would like to start Matsock at quarterback again, to alternate with Earl Morrill.

But a pulled leg muscle leaves his availability in doubt so the coaching staff probably will be sweating him out right up to the kickoff for the Michigan game.

Matsock has carried more than any other MSC player this season. His 226 yards net in 53 tries is a better than 4-yard-a-try average.

He is also tops in punt returns with six for 118 yards and leads in kickoff returns with 10 for 250 yards. In addition he's completed seven passes for 114 yards.

After last Saturday, LeRoy Bolden returned to the statistics column as top rusher for the Spartans with 236 yards on 52 carries.

If Matsock could be teamed with Bolden, it would give the Spartans their best 1-2 punch. Quarterback Earl Morrill, who has 33 completions for 603 yards, would be alternated to insert a passing threat.

Because of the number of injuries, MSC Coach Duffy Daugherty has said he won't scrimmage at all this week.

"With so many out now, I just can't afford to take the chance," Daugherty said.

Trophy Will Honor Star Terp Athlete

BALTIMORE (AP) — A sports trophy will be given in memory of 2nd Lt. Morton J. Cohen, better known as Morty Cohen, track star at the University of Maryland. He was graduated in 1953. Cohen was a member of the Walter Reed Hospital.

A standout hurdler and broad jumper at Maryland and one-time holder of several Southern Conference titles, Cohen was graduated in June, 1953 and commissioned in the Air Force. He entered Walter Reed last spring suffering from leukemia.

Seattle Fighter Wins Over Ray Lewis of LA

SEATTLE (AP) — Vinnie de Carlo, 157, Seattle, smashed a long right to the jaw of Ray Lewis, 158, Los Angeles, tonight for one knockdown in the fifth round and dropped him again with a flurry of punches to win the scheduled 10-round bout on a technical knockout.

Referee Davey Ward stopped the scrap at 1:42 as Lewis clambered up to argue his case without effect.

Prep Elevens Close 1954 Season Friday

By JACK SAYLOR
With the exception of the traditional Thanksgiving Day game between Royal Oak and Birmingham High Schools, prep football activity in Oakland County comes to a close this week.

Pontiac's parochial schools take on the county's only undefeated teams as St. Fred's entertains Avondale (5-0-3) Thursday night and St. Mike's hosts Oxford (7-0) Saturday night. Both games are at Wisner Stadium.

Three other area teams have unbeaten records. North Branch finished last Friday with an 8-0 mark. Dryden and Center Line can conclude all-winning campaigns tonight.

Dryden (6-0) finishes against Almont, seeking an undisputed Southern Thumb title, while Center Line (8-0), winds up with Lincoln of Van Dyke, Cl. already has taken the Bi-County championship.

A check of the Oakland-B Conference constitution discloses that Avondale is forced to share the league championship with Roseville. The conference awards 2 points for a league victory and one for a tie.

Auburn Heights eleven gained 8 points on 3 wins and 2 ties. Roseville won 4 conference contests, while losing its other, also for 8 points. In sharing the Oak-B title for the last 2 seasons, Avondale has beaten the other co-champ both times.

In 1953, Avon defeated Fitzgerald, 12-0, but lost to Roseville, thus sharing the crown. Roseville was beaten, 13-0, by the Yellow Jackets this fall, but ties with Fitzgerald and Madison forced Avondale to share the title with Roseville.

Five games are listed for county gridirons Friday. Saginaw will play at Pontiac, Owosso at Waterford, Birmingham at Berkley, Northville at Keego Harbor and Holly at Lake Orion.

The starting time of the Waterford-Owosso game has been moved ahead a half-hour to 3 p.m. for broadcasting purposes of the visitors. This game is the lone afternoon contest, all others are under the arcs.

The week's schedule:

FRIDAY

Mays Hits for .640 in Puerto Rico Loop

SAN JUAN (AP) — Willie Mays, who led the National League in batting last season with a .345 average, is showing signs that he plans to do the same in the Puerto Rican Winter League where he is playing with the Santurce club.

The New York Giants' center fielder sports a .640 average after 14 games. He didn't get his first homer until yesterday off Brooklyn's Tom LaSorda but he leads the league in triples, 3; doubles, 6; runs, 18, and total hits, 26.

Franchise May Be Sold

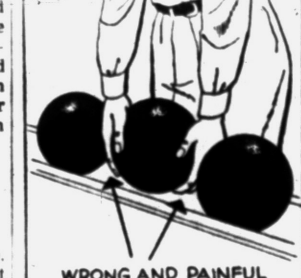

PITTSBURGH (UP) — Pittsburgh Pirate General Manager Branch Rickey announced today that the club's franchise with New Orleans of the Southern Association may be sold to a group of prominent city officials and businessmen there.

Rickey said if present negotiations with the New Orleans group are successful final details of the sale will be completed Dec. 1.

A's Will Name GM, Field Boss Soon

NEW YORK (UP) — Owner Arnold Johnson said today that he will kick off his $1,000,000 "first things first" plan to build the Kansas City Athletics into a pennant contender by naming a general manager and field manager in about two weeks.

Johnson gave no hint of the men he is considering but in Kansas City there was speculation that Parke Carroll, general manager of the Kansas City team of the American Association, would be appointed general manager and that Lou Boudreau would be the new pilot.

"I think we should select the general manager first so that he may have some voice in the selection of his field manager," Johnson said. "We know that whoever takes over will have a job to do. We know that we don't have an easy road ahead."

Johnson said that Eddie Joost, manager of the Athletics last season, would be considered for the post but did not identify any other candidates. He said, however, he had been contacted by several aspirants for the job.

The 47-year-old Chicago realtor emphasized that money would first be poured into obtaining players for the Athletics and that the farm system would be strengthened "later on." He said "It's simply a matter of first things first."

Johnson also said he would like to acquire outfielder Hank Bauer of the New York Yankees — producing speculation that he might offer 3rd baseman Jim Finigan or pitcher Arnold Portocarrero in an effort to obtain him.

Bauer hit .294 for the Yankees last season while Finigan hit .300 and Portocarrero posted a 9-18 won-and-lost record.

Mayor William E. Kemp, meanwhile, returned to Kansas City with the triumphant delegation which plugged for the switch to the midwestern city.

Ernest Mehl, the group's spokesman, said Kansas City fans owed the franchise to Spike Briggs, owner of the Detroit Tigers, who cast the decisive ballot.

Perry Replaces Injured 49er Teammate McElhenny as NFL Top Ground Gainer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Joe Perry has replaced his injured teammate, Hugh McElhenny, as the top ground gainer, and Philadelphia's Bobby Thomson is challenging Norman van Brocklin for passing honors, the latest National Football League statistics disclosed Wednesday. Perry, defending ground-gaining champion, has gained 570 yards in 85 attempts for an average of 6.7 yards per carry. Paul Younger,

Los Angeles Rams' ball-carrying ace, is second with 523 yards on 87 efforts for a 6-yard average. McElhenny, who suffered a shoulder separation last week and probably is out for the season, held third place with his 8-yard average compiled on 515 yards gained in 64 runs.

Van Brocklin, who connected with 16 of 18 passes to help the Rams defeat San Francisco Sunday, held on to his passing lead with a 10.9 per-pass average. The Rams star has thrown 163, completed 94 for 1,791 yards and 9 touchdowns. Thomson ousted Otto Graham from second place with an 8.7 average compiled on 52 completions for 97 passes, 852 yards gained and 9 TDs. Graham is third with 83 of 136 for 1,133 yards, 10 TDs and an 8.4 average.

Other leaders: Billy Wilson of San Francisco, for the second week in succession, top pass receiver with 37 caught for 513 yards.

Bobby Walston, who continued to kick field goals and extra points for the Eagles despite a broken jaw, the scoring department with 79 points—8 TDs, 25 conversions and 2 field goals.

Van Brocklin, punts on a 44.8 average.

Jack Christiansen, Detroit, punt returns with an average of 13.7.

Bill Bowman of Detroit, kickoff returns with an average of 33.8.

Paul Cameron, Pittsburgh, interceptions, six.

Prystai Traded to Hawks in Deal Designed by NHL

NEW YORK (AP) — In a move to rectify what President Clarence Campbell calls the "unlighted self-interest" that has made perennial losers of certain clubs, National Hockey League owners yesterday approved three player trades designed to bolster weaker clubs.

One of the deals sent center Metro Prystai, 27-year-old Yorkton, Sask., native who once scored 51 points in an NHL season, from the Detroit Red Wings to the Chicago Black Hawks, with whom he played before being traded to Detroit four years ago.

The Black Hawks, who finished in the cellar last season and now are in 5th place, also acquired center Paul Masnick from the Montreal Canadiens for a player to be named later.

Other trade sent defenseman Leo Bolvin from the Toronto Maple Leafs to the last-place Boston Bruins for veteran Joe Klukay, who was with the Leafs for six seasons before being sent to Boston in 1952.

In return for Prystai, the Stanley Cup champion Red Wings will get forward Lorne Davis, 23-year-old native of Regina, who was traded to Chicago earlier this year by the Canadiens.

Campbell said in an interview following the meeting that he was pleased with the willingness of club owners to "try to do something to maintain the balance of the league. There has been a little too much of the same people being out of the running too long."

Stricken Boxer Is Improved in Kaycee Hospital

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Jimmie (Lucky) Thomas, 23-year-old featherweight who collapsed following an eight-round bout, was reported in fair condition Wednesday at a Kansas City hospital.

He suffered head injuries and underwent surgery.

Thomas, of St. Louis, fought Jesse Rodriguez to a draw in Municipal Auditorium Tuesday night in a semifinal scrap.

Thomas left the ring without aid, but collapsed later in his dressing room. He is a former Golden Glove champion who turned professional in 1949.

Brown, Dawkins Pass Spencer in County's Prep Point Race

Hazel Park halfback Jack Brown has displaced Oxford's Larry Spencer as the Oakland County prep football scoring leader.

Spencer's Oxford team was idle last Friday awaiting this week's final game, against Pontiac St. Michael. Meanwhile, Brown tallied twice to raise his season's total to 73 points on 12 touchdowns.

Pete Dawkins of Cranbrook also moved ahead of Spencer dropping him to 3rd place. For the 3rd straight week, Dawkins registered 3 touchdowns to bring his total to 11, which along with a lone extra point makes his total 67 points.

Spencer has 66 followed by Avondale's Marv Evans with 57 and Jerry Hunter of Holly with 55. Each of the top 5 has another game to play. Pat Thompson of Clarkston and Fred Courville of Southfield, tied for 6th with 48 points, have completed their seasons.

Another threat is Royal Oak's Roy Soldan, who cracked the top 10 for the 1st time with 42 points. He has 2 games yet to play.

Aggies' Back Earns Honors

Colorado A & M Star Glick 'One-Man Team' Against Utah

By The Associated Press
It isn't unusual to praise a football player as a "one-man team," but quarterback Gary Glick of Colorado A & M., came about as close as possible to earning that designation against Utah last Saturday. As a result he was chosen over strong competition Wednesday as Associated Press Back of the Week.

Glick, rated the top all-purpose back in the Rocky Mountain area, played almost the whole game with a painful right hand, which was stepped on early in the game.

Here's what the 193-pound junior did as the Aggies upset Utah, the defending Skyline Conference champion, 14-13.

Scored all his team's points, making a final 11-yard run for the second touchdown with a quick cutback after being hemmed in. Kicked the winning point with 55 seconds left to play.

Smashed through the Utah line to block Lou Mele's extra-point kick after the second Utah touchdown—the point that made the difference in the game.

Passed for 63 yards in 15 attempts; ran for 46 yards more in 13 rushes and led all the defensive players with 15 tackles.

Intercepted a Utah desperation pass on his own 15-yard line as the final gun sounded.

Phillies Won't Name Successor to Reardon

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — General Manager Roy Hamey of the Philadelphia Phillies says the club will not name a successor to former Farm Director Joe Reardon, who resigned Monday.

Hamey said Tuesday that Eddie Collins Jr. will carry on Reardon's work but will not be named his successor. Reardon gave no explanation of his resignation.

But the Germans sewed up the eight days' jump competition with a total of seven blue ribbons. Mexico and Spain were closest with three blue ribbons each, the U. S. had one and Canada, none.

Mexicans won the perpetual challenge trophy for the 7th time since its inception in 1934 on perfect rides by Lt. Roberto Vinals; Capt. Joaquin D'Harcourt and Gen. Humberto Mariles. All three cleared the 10-fence course in the prescribed 50 seconds.

CHIPS' JV ACE—One of the aces of the Central Michigan College Jayvee football team this fall is Jack Gentges, 1953 graduate of Avondale High School. Gentges, shown with Chips' Jayvee coach Bill Theunissen, is a halfback. He scored 2 TDs this season, one on a 66-yard runback of an intercepted pass. The other was on a long pass play. Jack is also a standout defensive player. Chip Jayvees are unbeaten for the 2nd season in a row, with a 10-straight skien that started with 2 wins in 1952.

U.S. Accuses Boxing Clubs of Conspiracy

By HERB ALTSCHULL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government sets out today to try to convince the Supreme Court that two major boxing clubs and two big names in fight promotion are involved in an illegal conspiracy to violate the anti-monopoly laws.

The court has allotted two hours for arguments by both sides beginning about 12:30 p. m., ET.

What the government is seeking is a Supreme Court ruling against the International Boxing Clubs of New York and Illinois, Madison Square Garden, James D. Norris, head of the New York and Chicago boxing clubs, and Arthur M. Wirtz, who shares with Norris sole ownership of the Chicago Stadium and its subsidiaries.

The boxing people base their case chiefly on the legal doctrine of "stare decisis," under which courts sometimes stand by previous decisions and refuse to disturb settled matters.

The "settled matter" cited in this case is the relationship of professional baseball to the nation's anti-trust laws. Last November, the Supreme Court ruled that baseball does not come under the anti-trust laws.

Attorneys for the boxing interests have told the court in a brief:

"Our basic argument is that since professional boxing is and always has been indistinguishable from professional baseball, in all material aspects of the manner in which it is conducted, the decisions relating to professional baseball must be treated as governing professional boxing."

The government, which is appealing an adverse ruling in a U. S. District Court in New York, argued that baseball and boxing are "markedly different."

The crux of the argument involves television. The government maintains at least 25 per cent of boxing income—and in some cases more than 50 per cent—comes from rights to put on nationwide television shows. This, the Justice Department argues, puts boxing squarely in interstate commerce.

No more so than baseball, the boxing lawyers reply. They argue that baseball collects 10 times as much from TV and radio as does boxing.

Atty. Gen. Nathaniel L. Goldstein of New York entered the case as a "friend of the court," arguing with the government that TV is the big factor in boxing income.

"Television, not the box office, is the tail that swings the boxing kite," said Goldstein.

Andrews Meets Varona Tonight

Wisconsin Boxer Out to Prove KO of Turner No Fluke

CHICAGO (AP)—Al Andrews, the 24-year-old middleweight of Superior, Wis., who recently kayeed Gil Turner, will try to prove he really possesses a knockout punch when he meets Chico Varona in a 10-rounder at Chicago Stadium tonight.

The five-card show which co-features a 10-round bout between Chicago heavyweights Bob Satterfield and Johnny Holman will not be televised.

Varona, a 26-year-old veteran with 56 victories in 72 bouts, recently scored a 10-round decision over former welterweight king Johnny Bratton. Andrews has had 40 fights with 30 victories, 8 losses and 2 draws.

The Satterfield-Holman battle seems to have little chance of going the limit. Satterfield has 29 knockouts in 36 victories. He has been stopped 11 times in 16 defeats.

Holman has had 33 fights. He has won 22, 13 by knockouts.

Michigan State freshman half-back Glenn Burgett is a real Spartan. He hails from Sparta, Mich.

Cage Coach Blasts NCAA Season Ruling

Gullion Says Limitation on Practice Defeats Purpose of Game

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Blair Gullion, veteran basketball coach, charges the NCAA with "stepping in and taking away institutional controls" through a new rule which set a starting time for opening of formal court practice and the season.

The rule, which went into effect this year, prohibits colleges and universities from starting basketball drills until Nov. 1 and opening seasons before Dec. 1.

Gullion said Tuesday the rule, in its present form, works a hardship on players and "defeats the very purpose of the sport which should be fun."

The Washington University (St. Louis) coach, predicting the rule "will be gone by next year," said it is no secret that at some schools the candidates are working overtime to make up for lost time.

Association Is Sought

Plans are currently under way to form a Pontiac Bowling Association. Secretaries of all men's leagues who have not yet filed petitions on formation of an association are urged to do so immediately. Petitions should be mailed to William Bull, 2694 Island Court, Pontiac 19. Captains also may have petitions picked up by calling FEderal 5-4843.

Dogs Complete Third Cast in Futurity Test

DUBLIN, Ga. (AP)—Prize hunting dogs, well tested in hunting, trailing, speed and drive, completed the third cast of the Futurity competition today in the National Fox Hunters Assn. meet.

The winner of the 3-day contest probably won't be known until early Wednesday night, although the 3rd cast of dogs began their test over the rolling acres of Laurens County at daybreak.

Leader after two days was Harry Rorrie, a foxhound owned by J. C. Rorrie of Marshville, N. C.

Jack Maulsby, North Carolina's 222-pound tackle, is the catcher on the Tar Heel baseball team.

Hunters Should Leave Thursday

Straits Ferries Can Handle Traffic Easier Over 3-Day Period

LANSING (AP)—Deer hunters going into the Upper Peninsula were advised by the state highway department to start north Thursday to avoid a jam at the Straits of Mackinac.

Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler said the state ferries can handle the hunter traffic without long waits if it is spread over the next three days. But long lines will result, he said, if the hunters pile up at Mackinac City Friday and Saturday.

Ziegler said traffic will be at its peak from Friday noon through Saturday night. Hunting season opens Monday.

Department will operate five ferries while traffic is heavy. They will leave Mackinac City every 20 minutes day and night. A special crew will work the docks to speed traffic, he said.

By JACK PATTERSON

Went up to the Bay Sunday and for once the guides didn't give us the "should have been here yesterday" routine. Nope, this time they admitted that "things were pretty flat yesterday, but boy, you should have been here the day before." Oh well, anything for a change.

As a matter of fact it turned out to be a very pleasant day, as most any day on a great duck marsh is apt to be, and we did get some shooting. The marsh proper was quiet and things in the open water blinds weren't very lively so we wound up on one of the small offshore islands.

It was a good spot and a fair share of the ducks that were moving came close enough at least to give us a cheap thrill.

Between shots we had ample opportunity to observe some of the weird and wonderful shenanigans that pass, these days, for duck hunting. Those great conservationists, the sky shooters, were present, of course, in great numbers. A flight of swans, cruising at 2,000 feet was probably unaware of being brought under fire, but we'll bet many a "hunter" had some tall tales about the "geese" he almost got.

And then—and this was to laugh—you should have seen the boys anchor out in a scrawny patch of rushes, cover so thin it served less to conceal them than to emphasize their presence, then proceed to stand up and tootle interminably on what, properly used, might have been a duck call.

Not quite so funny was the pair of fishermen who anchored within comfortable gunshot range of our decoys. When shouted advice and imprecations seemed only to strengthen their determination to sit tight and make a day of it, we laid a few rounds of number two's close aboard and they quickly got the idea, hove anchor and departed.

Someone ought to get the word to such characters that the best fishing probably isn't in the middle of a duck hunter's spread.

Had a chance to look over a number of decoy set ups and noted several reasons why many hunters report difficulty in getting ducks to decoy (apart from the activities of skyshooters). First of all, many decoys supplied by commercial operators are in pretty dreadful shape—they'll work fine when conditions are such that ducks will decoy recklessly, but are practically useless when some real appeal is needed.

On the other hand, the man who owns his own spread, may have decoys in excellent shape, but too brilliantly painted. This particularly applies to canvas-back and redhead decoys which are almost always painted these days in adult winter plumage. Swell for later in the season on Chesapeake Bay but a little bright for many of our early arrivals. At least they look brighter than the ducks, and they shouldn't.

Biggest mistake with any decoys, when hunting for divers is setting them downwind of the blind. Divers have a high wing-loading, need space to take off and land. They must take off and land into the wind and won't come into a place where there isn't clear water ahead. Any object to the windward of the decoys spells "keep out."

Poor Decoys Will Ruin Duck Hunting

Record Number of Nimrods Seen for Deer Season

LANSING (UP)—Small bands of hunters fired closing shots in a generally successful pheasant season today as a record 400,000 hunters prepared for the opening of deer season Monday.

Temperatures will average near normal this week.

Elation over prospects for good deer hunting was tempered by a conservation department prediction of 15 deaths and 60 injuries during the Nov. 15-30 season.

Activity will be centered in the northern Lower Peninsula, where at least 41,000 bucks are expected to fall. Some increase in the 1953 kill of 26,000 is predicted in the upper peninsula.

An additional 10,000-15,000 deer will be taken during the Dec. 1 "any-deer" season, game officials predict.

Nearly all of the 72,000 permits for the Dec. 1 season have been mailed out.

State's Fish Diet Attracts Attention

LANSING (AP)—State conservation department reported today its new fish diet for hatchery trout is attracting national attention.

It said the method will save $50,000 a year.

Method centers around a dry pellet food, rather than the former food or raw meat byproducts. Department said other states and commercial hatcheries are interested in the method because it is quicker, less wasteful and cleaner, as well as providing more pounds of fish per pound of food than the old system.

Permits for 'Any Deer' Season Are Distributed

LANSING (AP)—Approximately 72,000 permits for hunting in Michigan's special "any deer" season will be distributed this week.

In three areas of the northern Lower Peninsula, a permit-holder may take any deer in his assigned area on Dec. 1 if he has not shot a deer in the regular buck season.

George Kell of the White Sox hails from Swifton, Arkansas.

Observe Safety Rules, Deer Hunters Urged

By MORT NEFF

Gambling odds of 30,000 to 1! You bet your life on those odds when you go deer hunting in Michigan, and it looks like a pretty safe bet.

Then what's all the fuss? Probably because death by gunfire is regarded as especially violent and therefore good headline material. Death in any form is pretty final, and should be avoided or postponed for as long a time as possible. That's why we write a simple gun-safety column every year about now.

Did you know that your 30-06 deer rifle is dangerous up to three miles away? Even the little .22 calibre bullet can penetrate the human anatomy a mile away! And the 30-30 rated lethal at two miles.

You may argue "there's always a tree to stop it!" Have you ever fired at a deer on a ridge? Most of us have. If you miss the deer that bullet can really travel—as much as 3 miles to a possible human target. Headlines will read "STRAY BULLET KILLS HUNTER." It might have been YOUR bullet.

Two recent issues of national magazines carried splendid illustrated articles on the ease with which we can mistake a human target for a deer. A man with a small bit of white handkerchief protruding from his hip pocket, with his back toward you can look like a deer. A hunter standing under a tree with low limbs extending head-high can seem to be a buck with a beautiful rack. A hunter stalking thru heavy brush, occasionally getting down on hands and knees looks a lot like a bear, especially in fading light—and there's a lot of shooting done at dawn and near dark in the late afternoon.

Some safety-conscious hunters carry compact 6-power binoculars with which to inspect their target before squeezing the trigger—and it's a good idea. All of us should take measures to make absolutely sure that we want to kill what we're shooting at.

Play it safe in Michigan Outdoors!

Tokens May Replace Race Ticket Sellers

NEW YORK (AP)—Two dollar bettors at race tracks soon may be using tokens instead of money. An inventor has come up with a new token-operated mechanical device which will enable folks to buy race tickets as fast and as easily as a pack of cigarettes at a vending machine.

The new system would eliminate many ticket sellers.

Each bettor could make his own wager by inserting a small plastic token into the device, pushing a numbered button and receiving a ticket.

The machine was invented by engineer Van Dyke Hill of New York City.

Press Weekend Set

CADILLAC (UP)—Caberfae ski center's annual press weekend will be held Jan. 15-16, the Cadillac Chamber of Commerce announced today. Newspaper, radio and television people from throughout the midwest have been invited to visit Caberfae during the weekend.

Project Is Successful

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—A project to provide new faces among the wild Canadian strains of ducks that ordinarily fly into the range of New York hunters proved successful this past season, state conservation officials report. Bands turned in by hunters show that pintails, redheads, canvasbacks and shovelers released by game farms were among species more familiar to local nimrods.

Gun Safety Rules Listed

CHICAGO (UP)—Four men, one woman and two children probably will be shot and killed by gunfire during the next 24 hours—all of them accidentally—the nation's hunters were warned today.

Deaths due to firearms accidents have been on the rise since the end of World War II. John T. Amber said, and more people are killed and wounded by gunfire now than during the wildest days of Jesse James and Kit Carson.

Amber, collector of antique guns and editor of "The Gun Digest," lists five basic rules of "sense and safety":

1. Treat a loaded gun with respect—as if it were loaded.
2. Always point the muzzle at the ground, not in the direction of other people.
3. Make sure of your target before you pull the trigger. Never shoot at a noise.
4. Keep your loaded gun on safety.
5. Never leave a loaded gun in a car or boat.

This Big 'Fish' Got Away—125-Pound Bear

PITTSBURGH, N. H. (AP)—Here's a "fish" story with a new angle. It's about a big one that got away. J. F. Perkins was fishing in Lake Francis recently with guide "Ving" Judd. They spotted a "big one" swimming across the lake—a 125-pound bear.

Excitedly trying to head off the animal, Perkins' fly-hook accidentally tangled in the bear's fur. Swimming with renewed fury, the animal made it to shore and ran into the woods, the hook still in his side.

Crow Hunt King

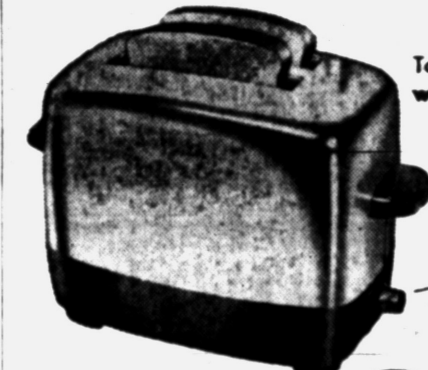

WALLINGFORD, Conn. (UP)—William Carr Jr. has been officially designated Wallingford's "crow hunt king." The Wallingford Rod and Gun Club, which put a 25-cent bounty on crows over a three-month period, announced that it paid off on 219. Of the total, Carr bagged 182.

Paul Sedar, chairman of the Illinois Racing Commission, races thoroughbreds under the name of Locust Farm Stable.

Cadets' Attack Outgains Foes by Big Margin

Current '11' Surpasses Davis-Blanchard Squads Statistically

NEW YORK (AP) — You can argue about how the 1954 Army team compares to the Cadet juggernauts of 1944-48, but not even the Blanchard-Davis teams of that era outclassed their opposition by as big a statistical margin as the present Cadets, official NCAA Service Bureau figures showed today.

No. 1 in total offense and in rushing offense, Army's average gain of 453.4 yards a game is 57.8 yards a game better than runner-up Mississippi's 395.6.

Included in the present West Point average are such items as a 499-yard blast against previously unbeaten Yale last Saturday, 436 against Duke and 344 against Michigan.

Army has more total offense yardage in seven games than the No. 2 team has in eight, 3,174 to Mississippi's 3,165. The Cadets' bulge is more modest in rushing, 329.9 to 307.1 for UCLA and 306 for Colorado.

UCLA is tops in scoring, averaging 41.6 points a game. Army second with 38.6, followed by Arizona 38.3, Wichita 37, Boston U. 33, Miami (Fla.) 31.6, Mississippi 30.4, Cincinnati 30, Denver 29.9 and Navy 29.3.

UCLA took a hand in the passing race, knocking Oregon out of first place for the first time in three weeks by holding George Shaw and his mates to 47 yards, allowing only 4 completions in 15 tries.

That let Purdue take the lead as it raised its yardage per game to 187.9, California is second with 177.6 and Mississippi third with 167.6. Oregon now is fourth with 167.1.

Purdue also has the most touchdown passes, 14, but California has a good claim on overall efficiency. The Bears have the most completions, 117, and a completion record of 62.9 per cent — an all-time record if maintained. All this is through the courtesy of Paul Larson, the country's top individual passer. Oregon and Washington have thrown most often, 195 times each.

Wichita's Game With Bearcats Valley Feature

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Only four teams rank in the nation's top 10 in both total offense and defense, and Missouri Valley Conference football fans will be watching three of them Saturday.

Wichita's valley leaders are sixth on the attack with an average of 382.9 yards a game rushing and passing and seventh on defense, allowing 175.9.

Cincinnati risks its 16-game winning streak against the Kansas, and if the figures are truthful the game will be close. The Bearcats stand fifth on offense and eighth in defense, with 386.1 and 181 marks.

Earl Lunsford of Oklahoma A & M added only five net yards to his No. 1 rushing total, but scored twice to take the scoring lead with 42 points. His 598 yards on the ground is 10th in the nation.

In punt returns, it's Lee Riley of Detroit, 226 on 11, with Bob Burgmeier, his "touchdown twin" of 1953, leading in kickoff-return yardage on 180 for eight.

Crisler Would Have TV Plan Controlled Regionally

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Fritz Crisler, Michigan's TV-minded athletic director, favors controlled football television but he believes these controls should be on a regional, rather than national, basis.

Speaking yesterday at the Michigan Football Writers Association, Crisler said:

"We must have controls on TV. But I believe there should be national ground rules that are flexible to apply to the various regions."

"If a region wants to take a position beneath these national ground rules, it should be permissible."

Crisler, who has long favored regionally controlled television, said that a television round table has been set for Nov. 30-Dec. 1 in Chicago to draft a report on this year's TV program.

He said: "Personally, I believe it has reached a point where a decision will have to be made between two simple, fundamental alternatives. "The first is whether the NCAA will have a defensive protective attitude toward television, or secondly, look at television to determine the best way to exploit it."

Crisler said that the protective choice is not very salable to television sponsors. "This is where we are now," he added.

"If that is the decision that is made, we must give up seeking any great revenues from television," Crisler said. "If the other choice is made, we must consider the public, the networks and the sponsors."

False Football Injury

MYRTE BEACH, S. C. (AP) — The Fort Mill high school football team reported that one of its members lost his front teeth in the ocean during a rough practice session on the beach here.

"It couldn't be classed as an injury, though," the coach reported. "The teeth are false."

Some Started With Networks

Broadcasting Veterans Include TV's Grauer and Von Zell

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK (U-P)—Once an announcer always an announcer, even in these days of TV.

A search through the files of the radio and video networks brings to light the name of many a veteran still going strong.

To cite just a few, there are Milton J. Cross, Don Wilson, Harry Von Zell, Jimmy Wallington, Ben Grauer, Norman Brokenshire, George Hicks, Jack Costello, Bill Goodwin, Ford Bond, David Rose and Nelson Case.

They began when the networks were new or even before there were networks. They first served primarily as formal introducers of programs, although many had to fill in on all sorts of other assignments.

Today, with many moving into television, they have become stars in their own right and have displayed talents other than the expert handling of the English language.

They got their original jobs mainly because their diction had the required "well-rounded tones." Certainly Milton Cross falls in this category. He has had the radio assignments with the Metropolitan Opera almost from the first time it went on the air in the early '30s.

Cross joined NBC in 1927 when his station became a part of the network. A native New Yorker, he started with the station in 1922 as a singer. He moved to ABC when that network was separated from the parent NBC in 1942.

His distinctive voice has won numerous awards and many concert assignments other than opera.

Ford Bond holds a record that few other network speakers can equal. He has been regular announcer with the program now entitled Band of America for 34 years and is about the only one left of the original staff. He, too, started on a local station, in Louisville, Ky. He joined NBC in 1929, but in recent years has been operating his own program company.

A radio veteran just as widely known in TV is Ben Grauer, whose specialty almost from the beginning has been special events. He has carried that activity over into TV, where among other assignments he appears with the monthly March of Medicine. Ben can handle anything from a golf match to symphony concerts.

Like Cross, he is a native New Yorker, and has been with NBC since 1930 when he won an announcing job after auditioning for a drama.

Harry Von Zell likewise has taken

Invite U.N. Delegates to Atom Peace Show

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (U-P)—The United States invited delegates of all 59 other United Nations to a special show late today on peaceful uses of atomic energy. The Russians were expected to attend.

The show was scheduled for the spacious Serf Room of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. On the program were two movies, some exhibits and three explanatory lectures. None of the information involved is secret.

The U.S. delegation arranged the program with the help of the Atomic Energy Commission. It did so in connection with the Western resolution now before the Assembly's Political Committee proposing establishment of an international atomic agency.

Dog Replaces Husband as Wife's Bed Buddy

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (U-P)—A Terrier named Prince literally came between Carl T. Torrensen, 63, aeronautical engineer, and his wife Harriet, 39, he testified yesterday in gaining an uncontested divorce.

"We bought the dog, a Manchester terrier, and it became a family pet," he said. "The dog was playful and decided to sleep in our bed. I made an ultimatum that Harriet choose between me and the dog to sleep in her bed. She chose the dog."

Norman Brokenshire is another whose career has paralleled the history of broadcasting, with many a "first" to his credit. When he started in 1924 on a New York station he had to announce, direct and produce programs, write and create new shows and even guide visitors through the studio.

Airline Pilot Makes Safe Belly Landing

CHICAGO (U-P)—An American Airlines Convair airliner, with 43 persons aboard, made a successful crash landing on two wheels yesterday after circling over Chicago for more than an hour when the plane's landing gear failed to operate.

One of the 40 passengers suffered a cut finger as he scrambled out of an escape hatch.

The landing was made on the jet runway at Glenview Naval Air Station, about 20 miles north of Midway Airport, the plane's destination after a flight originating in Fort Worth, Tex.

Among the passengers aboard were: Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Pokorski, 13686 Edmore Dr., Detroit; Paul W. Walaskay, 21949 Cherry Hill, Dearborn; W. I. Shirley, 18632 Midway St., Detroit.

Southeast Asia has a tuberculosis rate of about 300 per 100,000 population compared with 12 for Denmark and 30 for England.

Maker of Bogus Violins Sought by Swiss Police

ZURICH, Switzerland (U-P)—Swiss police are on the trail of a master violin maker. They believe he is making a fortune by turning out counterfeit 17th and 18th century violins of fine workmanship.

A violin made by Stradivarius may fetch $100,000 among collectors and experts. Similar prices are paid for violins by such other old Italian masters as Giuseppe Guarneri and the Amati family. Fine modern violins, on the other hand, rarely bring more than $5,000.

The unknown forger, according to the Swiss investigators, has flooded the world market with superb forgeries. Criminal charges against two Swiss violin dealers are pending, and the investigators hope to track down the forger before these cases come to trial.

Some 30 modern violins sold as old Italian masterpieces at fabulous prices have been confiscated as evidence. Police believe scores of the forgeries have found their way into Western Europe and the United States. Investigations are seriously hindered by the reluctance of violin lovers to admit they were fooled.

The first counterfeit violin was discovered accidentally several years ago by Giovanni Iviglia, secretary general of the Italian Chamber of Commerce in Switzerland. Iviglia has written several books on Italian violins of the so-called classical period, roughly 1640-1740.

A friend proudly showed him an acquisition — a beautiful, inlaid Stradivarius bought from a dealer for $60,000. The violin had a faded parchment label on the case and a dealer's certificate of origin. Microscopic flaws aroused Iviglia's suspicion. Chemical analysis proved the violin was of modern manufacture and had been carefully aged by heat treatment and other means.

Then a committee, with the help of a police laboratory, examined all the old violins, cellos and other instruments submitted by owners willing to cooperate.

"We were shocked to find," Iviglia said, "that more than 90 per cent of the violins we examined were copies."

Ask Why Jets Not With Plane

Pentagon Says Fighters
Should Have Protected

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Pentagon officials professed puzzlement today over why a jet fighter escort did not go along with a photo bomber shot down by Soviet MIGs off northern Japan last weekend. Spokesmen said the Far East Command long has had authority to provide "cover" for mapping and weather planes on missions where trouble could arise. Such escorts are used frequently, they added.

But military sources said they were unable to explain why jet fighters did not accompany the RB29 assigned to an aerial mapping job over northern Japan, close to Russian-held Sakhalin Island and the Kuriles. Fighter protection subsequently was provided for a second photo bomber which completed the mission.

Eleven men parachuted from the stricken ship. Ten lived, but one man became entangled in his chute and drowned. The United States has demanded reparations from the Russians, but the Soviet Union has fired back a countercharge that the Red planes were fired upon first. The U.S. fliers have denied they were fired at.

Secretary of State Dulles told a news conference yesterday he believed the Joint Chiefs of Staff were considering whether to authorize fighter escort for mapping and weather planes.

This comment caused perplexity at the Pentagon, where spokesmen said Gen. John Hull, top U. S. commander in the Far East, already had such authority. One spokesman said the decision whether to use jet fighter escort lies "out there in the local command." The Pentagon, it was indicated, is waiting to hear why a fighter escort did not go along this time.

Stevenson Says Party 'on Trial' After Victory

LIBERTYVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Winning control of the Congress has put the Democratic party "on trial," says Adlai E. Stevenson.

Stevenson, in an interview yesterday, said he has no fears as to the outcome of that trial as it will be determined by the 1956 elections.

"The record of the 84th Congress and the Democratic members of it must certainly have an effect on the elections two years hence," he said. "But, as one who has faith in the party, I decline to worry about the conduct of its representatives."
