Tornado Victims Turn to Rebuilding

Prayers Are Answered

WELCOME REWARD — Rosalind Jordan, 9, of Milton, Mass., bedridden with a rheumatic heart cuddles her dearest possession, a French poodle named Suzette. Rosalind had $1.40 saved for a puppy when she learned that four Jesuits had died when fire destroyed the Shadowbrook Novitiate in Lenox, Mass. She sent her money to a rebuilding fund with a note saying "I'm sorry your house burned down." New England Jesuits said they would pray for her, and newspaper stories prompted a reader to send her the puppy as a present.

Fair-Sharer Martin Pushes for Nationwide Dairy Union

DETROIT (AP)—Homer Martin, an adviser to the Fair Share Bargaining Assn., says plans are in the works for a national organization of dairy farmers pledged to higher milk prices. A goal, Martain said, would be at least $6 a hundredweight for drinking milk.

The former president of the United Auto Workers said a working agreement has been reached with the Tri-State Master Dairy Farmers Guild in the East to join in forming the national group. Tri-State represents dairy farmers in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

Martin said plans are being made for a meeting of representatives of various dairy states to form the group. He said the meeting probably will be held in Cleveland within the next month.

Martin was a leader in the Fair Sharers' nine-day strike in Michigan in support of demands for $6.50 a hundredweight of milk. The strike ended Tuesday after a series of court orders restricted Fair Share picketing.

Strike leaders claimed a partial victory. They said the strike forced Michigan Milk Producers Assn. to obtain a price of $5 a hundredweight from Detroit-area creameries. The pre-strike price was $4.41. The Fair Sharers are a rebel group within the producers association.

Martin said Fair Share leaders already had held informal talks with representatives from Illinois, Wisconsin and Ohio as well as the three eastern states. He said Fair Share headquarters here had received calls "from as far away as Georgia" expressing interest in formation of a national organization.

"The dairy farmer needs an organization he can trust and one which will bargain for him in good faith," Martin said.

Martin is scheduled to speak Saturday at a meeting of Fair Sharers and the Huron County Farmers Union in Bad Axe.

Illinois Primary Will Test Adlai

Stevenson Must Match Kefauver's 42 Pct. in Wisconsin for Big Boost

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Illinois presidential primary next Tuesday will be eyed by politicians to see if Adlai Stevenson runs as strongly there against President Eisenhower as Sen. Estes Kefauver did in Wisconsin.

* * *

Stevenson is likely to suffer a psychological setback in his contest with Kefauver for the Democratic nomination unless he can match or better the 42 per cent of the total vote polled by the Tennessee senator in Wisconsin.

The Illinois and Wisconsin primaries have at least as many differences as they have similarities.

Nevertheless, a relatively poor showing by Stevenson next Tuesday would give Kefauver backers some ammunition to argue that he would have less chance against Eisenhower in November than their candidate.

IN ADLAI'S HOME STATE

Illinois is Stevenson's home state, where he served one term as governor. In 1952, he lost the state to Eisenhower by 443,000 votes.

* * *

Illinois that year did not go as strongly for Eisenhower as did Wisconsin. Eisenhower got 54 per cent of the total general election vote in Illinois and 61 per cent in Wisconsin.

* * *

Stevenson will be unopposed officially in the Illinois Democratic primary, as Kefauver was in Wisconsin.

Visitors Discouraged

State Police are discouraging curiosity seekers from traveling to Hudsonville to view the tornado destruction. According to Sgt. Henry Kozowicz of the Redford post, only emergency vehicles are being allowed at the scene. "Many people have telephoned to inquire," Kozowicz said. "Those who drive to Hudsonville will only be turned away," he added.

Artificial Flower Firm Razed

Debris Kills Six Firemen, 13 Hurt in Roaring Bronx Factory Building Blaze

NEW YORK (AP)—A wall collapsed during a roaring blaze which gutted a Bronx factory building last night. Six firemen were crushed to death and 13 others were injured.

Fire Commissioner Edward Cavanagh Jr., struck by a flying brick, saw six of his men buried under an avalanche of debris. Five died as they reached a hospital. The sixth man died a few minutes later.

The five-alarm blaze broke out shortly after 8 p.m. in the basement of a one-story, 40-by-80-foot brick structure occupied by an artificial flower manufacturing firm. Firemen fought for 3¼ hours to put it out.

The crashing wall cut power lines and snuffed out street lights. Some 60 firemen battled on in darkness and choking smoke.

Cavanagh, saying the fire took the worst toll of lives in the department in 24 years, ordered an immediate investigation.

Firemen were scrambling up half a dozen ladders hoisted against the 25-foot-high roof when someone yelled "Watch it!"

A 20-by-15-foot marquee on the building, which used to house a movie theater, suddenly ripped clear and brought a large section of the wall with it. Then the entire front wall went down.

MARQUEE GIVES WAY

Ladders were heaved outward as the marquee gave way. Some firemen were thrown to comparative safety or jumped clear.

Fireman Joseph O'Keefe said he was 15 feet up a ladder when he heard a warning cry. He looked down, saw the wall sway, and his ladder was tossed outward.

O'Keefe was flung clear, suffering only foot and face injuries. But Firemen William Hoolan, 47, and Arthurr Hanson, 35, below him on the ladder, were crushed to death by falling masonry.

Others killed were Lt. John F. Molloy, 44, and firemen Edward J. Carroll, 41, Frederick J. Hellauer, 38, and Charles J. Infosino, 45.

Eight men, including Antonio Petronelli, acting chief of the city's fire department, were taken to hospitals suffering from broken bones, lacerations, bruises and

Not Candidate, Says VanDusen

Private Law Practice Calls to Representative of Third District

State Representative Richard C. VanDusen (R-Birmingham) said today in Lansing he will not be a candidate for reelection from Oakland County's third district this fall.

VanDusen, appointed to fill a vacancy in the House of Representatives in February, 1954, was elected to the post in November of the same year.

He said he plans to concentrate on the private practice of law, but might be interested in becoming a Republican candidate for attorney general, although he is not actively campaigning.

VanDusen, 30, has been chairman of the Birmingham Republican Committee and Oakland County's Third District Republican Organization Committee.

A graduate of the University of Minnesota, he took his law degree from Harvard Law School.

'Gone With Wind'—Goes

BERLIN (AP) — "Gone With the Wind" finally went today. The durable American film ended a marathon run of nearly 2½ years in West Berlin after playing to 600,000 moviegoers. Both the length of the run and attendance total broke all movie records for West Germany.

Tornado Inflicts Freak Damage

OPEN HOUSE -- Vicious tornado which struck in western Michigan Tuesday night played freakish tricks at some houses, leaving parts of the buildings standing while pealing off outer walls. The one above is in Hudsonville, a Grand Rapids suburb. Additional tornado pictures, pages 32, 61.

West Michigan Property Loss Set at $11 Million

Death Toll Now Stands at 17, but Several Are Still Missing

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Thousands of weary tornado victims turned to the heartbreaking task of rebuilding shattered homes today in the aftermath of Michigan's second worst tornado.

The death toll stood at 17, but several persons still were unaccounted for in the Grand Rapids area where Tuesday night's twister claimed 16 of its 17 known victims. The other known death was near Thompsonville, east of Traverse City.

It still was too early to assess the property damage accurately, but unofficial estimates placed it at 11 million dollars, not including losses from several smaller tornadoes in the Traverse City area.

(Yesterday's death toll was unofficial, apparently listing some missing persons.)

The figure was roughly the same as the damage estimate in the Flint tornado of June 8, 1953, that took 115 lives.

A count by the Red Cross put the number of buildings damaged or destroyed at 555. In Kent, Ottawa and adjoining counties, a breakdown showed 69 homes destroyed, 300 damaged and 186 stores and other buildings damaged or destroyed.

Some 2,000 were left homeless.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who visited the stricken areas yesterday, indicated that "a reasonable amount of state and local funds" will be spent to ease the tornado havoc.

Promises of federal help came soon after.

The Small Business Administration designated Kent and Ottawa Counties as disaster areas eligible for federal assistance and said other areas damaged by the tornadoes may receive similar designation.

ELIGIBLE FOR LOANS

The action makes owners of homes and business property in the two counties eligible for 3 per cent reconstruction loans for property damaged by the twister.

Gov. Williams has asked President Eisenhower to make devastated areas eligible for other federal help, which could bring assistance from the Civil Defense Administration, the Housing and Home Finance Agency and the Agriculture Department.

These agencies could provide cash grants necessary to provide shelter for the homeless, mortgage insurance for loans to rebuild homes, loans to communities to restore utilities and crop and housing loans to farmers.

RELIEF PROGRAM

Gov. Williams said representatives of the Civil Defense Administration, the U. S. Corps of Engineers and the Health, Education and Welfare Department will make a survey of the damaged areas surrounding Grand Rapids and help set up a relief program.

The State Agriculture Department sent nine food inspectors from its Lansing headquarters yesterday to help men in the Grand Rapids branch check food supplies in the tornado area.

Pontiac Attorney Watches Twister Hit Grand Rapids

"We knew people were getting killed out there. It left us feeling completely helpless."

Pontiac attorney Anthony Renne, who flew to Grand Rapids for a business meeting Tuesday night, watched the first of three tornadoes which killed 17 and left 2,000 homeless in Michigan that night.

"We were on the seventh floor of the Pantlind Hotel, just getting into the elevator," Renne explained today.

"The elevator girl said, 'Look out the window.' We saw this thing about ten miles away, coming toward the city.

"It headed over a ridge into the suburbs, black, black clouds with the funnel sticking down and skipping over the ground.

"As it came down the side of the ridge, we could see flames and smoke springing up behind it wherever it hit. There were black things that we knew were bits of houses and trees swirling around in the air.

"And around the point of the funnel we could see dust clouds swirling around the way they do in pictures of atomic bomb explosions.

"It was a weird sort of feeling. We couldn't hear the tornado, just the fire and ambulance sirens starting up. We were talking to each other, saying 'People are getting killed out there,' and there was nothing we could do about it.

"We knew we were safe, because we could judge its direction. It came within about three miles of us.

"The only thing we could do was watch it plowing through the city."

Dag Maps Out Peace Mission

To Leave Tomorrow to Probe Tensions Along Israeli-Arab Borders

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold today mapped a mission to find ways to bring peace back to the Middle East.

Armed with unanimous authorization from the Security Council, Hammarskjold planned to leave tomorrow to investigate the causes of tension along the Israeli-Arab borders.

He is to report back to the Security Council within a month with measures to calm down Israel and her Arab neighbors.

En route to the Middle East, the secretary general planned to fly by way of London and Paris to consult with Foreign Office experts on arms sales questions and other problems.

He told the council yesterday, after it adopted the U.S. resolution to send him back to the Middle East, that he shared world concern over the dangers in Palestine area.

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., U. S. chief delegate and council president for April, voiced the council's confidence in the secretary general and its good wishes. Israeli and Arab spokesmen had previously promised cooperation with the mission.

Detroit Pair Murder Case Set in Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Two men from the United States were in Ciudad Victoria today to stand trial in the mutilation slaying of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Kennison of Detroit.

Police said William Shelton and Joseph O'Brien, both 37, confessed the killings.

The bodies of the Kennisons, in Mexico on a hunting trip, were found March 17 about 15 miles from Victoria. They had been staying at a motel managed by Shelton and O'Brien.

The two men disappeared after the killings but were captured here last Saturday.

They both claim only Shelton was was present when the Kennisons were shot. Shelton claimed he suffered a mental blackout at the time.

State Kefauverites Meet

DETROIT (AP) — A newly formed "Michigan Pioneers for Kefauver" committee met in Detroit yesterday to draw up plans supporting Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) as the Democratic nominee for president.

Civil Defense Heads Give Advice:

What You Should Do Until the Tornado Arrives

What should you do if a tornado is about to strike the Pontiac area, like those that swept through western Michigan Tuesday night?

If time permits, you should go to a cellar, cave, or underground excavation, preferably where there is an air outlet to help equalize air pressure.

But past history has shown that often you will not have time to seek shelter. Most tornadoes have speeds from 25 to 40 miles per hour while some have varied up to 140 m.p.h.

Lewis C. Jarrendt, Oakland County Civil Defense Director, said yesterday he planned to investigate the possibility of having Ground Observer post filter centers send warnings to law enforcement agencies when tornadoes are spotted.

In other information prepared by Jarrendt's office, it was suggested that a shelter, like your basement, should be equipped with a pick and shovel.

Assistant Pontiac Civil Defense Director William L. Collins added that canned food, water and first aid kits be added to the shelter if time permits.

If you don't have a basement or storm cellar and there is no time to escape, lie flat in the nearest depression such as a ditch or ravine.

Collins suggested for those homes in the Pontiac area without basements, that residents get under the most substantial object on the first floor like a desk, table or bed.

When you are inside, stay away from windows and draw shades. Turn on the radio or television set for latest tornado advice or information.

Doors and windows on the north and east sides of the house may be opened to help reduce damage to the building.

In frame homes, the southwest corner of the basement usually offers the greatest safety. If time permits, electricity and fuel lines should be shut off.

If in schools of strongly reinforced construction, remain near an inside wall on the lower floor. Avoid auditorium and gymnasiums with poorly supported roofs.

In factories, workers should be moved to sections of the plant offering the greatest protection. Advance preparation should be made for shutting off electrical circuits and fuel lines.

If on the highway, motorists should head north. It is possible to outrun a tornado if there is an open road ahead.

If the twister appears to be catching up, get out of the car and into a ditch on the south side of a street.

Jarrendt and Collins both agree it is most important to keep calm. Even though a warning is issued, chances of a tornado striking one's home or location are very slight.

Tornadoes cover such a small zone, as a rule, that relatively few places in a warned area are directly affected, they said.

Planners Discuss Recreation Need

Blame Short Finances for Slow Progress; Cite Ferndale Development

Finances were blamed for the slowness with which recreational areas are developed in Southern Oakland county as 11 members of the South Oakland Planning Council met last night in Birmingham.

Roy Goodspeed, Ferndale city planning official, said "You'd be surprised what you can do over a ten year period even though your yearly allotment is low."

Frendale, he explained, has a lack of general policy for improvements for public recreation, but allots $7,500 a year to his department. "That amounts to $75,000 over a ten year period," he pointed out.

Birmingham's need for recreation funds was cited by City Panner Herbert Herzberg, the council chairman. "We develop things that seem to be most necessary as the time arises," he said.

The potential in Troy was discussed by the city planners, who agreed encroaching commercial, industrial and residential users of land, might complicate future planning for recreation. Areas should be set aside now to insure open areas in neighborhoods, the two Troy representatives present were warned by Herzbert.

April to July Considered as Twister Time

CHICAGO (AP)—The rash of tornados that cut a path of death and destruction Monday and Tuesday got the twister season off to a quick start.

* * *

The season for tornadoes generally runs from April through July.

(A University of Michigan meteorologist warned today that Michigan is in for more tornadoes.)

They are bred when a layer of cool and dry air spreads over a thick ground layer of moist, warm air. The warm air, being lighter, starts to rise quickly, creating turbulence.

Tornadoes are small, localized violent storms. The funnel usually ranges from 100 feet to a half mile in thickness.

Woman Fails to Outtalk Youths of Heavy Theft

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The "biggest" robbery in the history of this town, home of the University of Arkansas, occurred when eight boys "about colleage" carted off an 800-pound concrete shamrock.

They weren't discouraged, however, she said.

Vienna Sees Medical Rebirth

City Rapidly Becoming Center for Physicians to Train, Study

VIENNA (INS)—Vienna is rapidly returning to its former status as the world's greatest medical center.

* * *

This charming Central European city, which led the world in medical science for centuries, is undergoing the fourth great medical renaissance in its long history.

The hub of this rebirth is the medical faculty of the University of Vienna. The university has built its post-World War II medical faculty around a nucleus of eminent physicians, the kingpins of the Viennese medical mecca of pre-war days.

Today, Vienna boasts 52 major hospitals comprising a total of 35,000 beds. This is considered exceptional medical resources for a city the size of Vienna, with approximately 1,800,000 population.

Every year since the war, physicians the world over in ever-growing numbers, have arrived in Vienna to study some of the 534 highly-advanced, specialized post-graduate courses with the university's medical faculty.

New York Doctor Blasts Enemies of Fluoridation

NEW YORK — Opponents of fluoridation of the city's water were described as "fuzzy-minded nitwits" by a pioneer public-health physician.

* * *

The attack was made by Dr. Haven Emerson, 81-year-old member of the city's Board of Health, who has long been regarded as an authority on public health problems.

Speaking at the nineteenth anniversary celebration of the city Health Department, Dr. Emerson charged that opponents of fluoridation had been swept "off their feet by emotional ignorance." Some have accused the Health Department, he said, of seeking to "poison everybody in town" by urging fluoridation of the water supply.

The Board of Health recommended that fluoridation be adopted "as soon as possible."

Fluoridation consists of adding a fluoride compound to drinking water as a means of preventing tooth decay.

The board's view, shared by many scientific groups in the nation, is that the fluoride is safe and effective when introduced in recommended amounts.

Dr. Emerson declared: "Every advance in this field has been met by objections from self-appointed but unqualified citizens."

He recalled that considerable opposition had been raised to such public-health measures as mass immunization against diphtheria and clorination of the city's drinking water to kill bacteria.

The physician has been a member of the Health Board for 22 years. He served as health commissioner from 1915 to 1917.

Hagerty Says Woman Who Fired White House Was Mental Patient

WASHINGTON (AP)—A woman who started five fires in the White House and nearby Executive Office Building Monday has been identified as Mrs. Hilda Marie Marks, 51, of St. Clair Shores, Mich.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, announcing the identification yesterday, said Mrs. Marks furnished the information and it had been checked by police. Monday she gave her name as Mrs. Julia M. Chase.

Hagerty said U. E. Baughman, chief of the secret service, informed him the woman "admits that since 1932 she has been in several mental institutions" in Michigan.

Mrs. Marks set one fire in the White House Red Room and four others across the street in the Executive Office Building, occupied mainly by White House employes.

NO SERIOUS DAMAGE

There was no serious damage and guards quickly put out all the fires, but the woman was not seized for several hours. She is in a Washigton Hospital for observation.

Hagerty said Mrs. Marks was born April 24, 1905 at Ruth, Mich. He said she arrived in Washington by bus Sunday, but did not say where she came from. She had been staying at a hotel here.

Mrs. Marks is separated from her husband, Hagerty added.

He emphasized that no charge has been placed against her. The woman said Monday she "had a lot of trash and just wanted to burn it."

Five other firemen were hurt and treated at the scene.

"There were cries of warning as it pulled part of the wall with it. The shock as it hit the sidewalk did the rest.

"The falling debris crushed firemen and cut powerlines, plunging the whole area into darkness as the street lights went out."

Cavanagh said the fire apparently started in the cellar.

William Rogers, 36, of Flint, had pleaded guilty to the charge March 26.

Rogers' companion, 43-year-old Russell Colvin, also of Flint, was scheduled for examination today before Waterford Township Justice Willis D. LeFurgy.

But Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said today the case against Colvin will be dismissed. He said Rogers has stated Colvin was not involved in his admitted narcotics possession.

Trail of Matches Through House Left by Thief

Apparently by matchlight, a burglar last night ransacked a home at 270 Nelson St. and stole $3 in change plus four trade stamp books, Pontiac police said.

The owner, Wesley McCulloch, who with his wife was away between 6 p.m. and 9 p.m., reported a trail of burnt match sticks throughout the two-story home.

Police believe the culprit, probably a juvenile, entered by kicking in a basement window, which is hidden from view by a hedge.

Bicycle Plates Stop Thieves, Say Police

An outcrop of bicycle thefts with the return of warm weather this week prompted Pontiac police to urge youngsters to tag bicycles with license plates.

* * *

"License plates discourage stealing," according to Juvenile officer Henry Hoyt, who added that they aid in recovery and return of bikes to proper owners.

Thefts were recently reported by Gladys Grubb, of 154 W. Rutgers St., who said a $15 bicycle was stolen from 554 Madison St. Tuesday; and by Opal Williams, who reported a $45 bike stolen from her home at 94 E. Howard St. yesterday.

Governor Moves Quickly to Aid in Grand Rapids

In Michigan's tragic tornado disaster, Governor G. Mennen Williams exhibited quick humanitarian qualities in his rapid appraisal of the situation and subsequent action.

The State's Chief Executive left in the middle of the night and rushed to the stricken area to see first hand what action was required. He activated the State's new Emergency Task Force for the first time. This is made up of representatives of the State Police, National Guard and the departments of health, civil defense, public service, aeronautics and agriculture.

★ ★ ★

Michigan people rallied around the Governor's appeal instantly as they always have in the past. This State has never lagged or been slow to act when disaster has struck and the Grand Rapids tragedy is no exception.

Fortunately, the loss in life is comparatively small although the property damage is still in purely the estimate stages.

Governor Williams has asked the President to declare the section a disaster area so survivors can get Federal rebuilding loans. Michigan citizens leave no stone unturned to assist those who have suffered.

Iceland Asks Removal of American Garrison

Washington in particular, and all NATO countries in general, are justified in their concern over a contradictory resolution adopted by the Parliament of Iceland.

The resolution, approved in a final vote of 38 to 18, reaffirms Iceland's adherence to the North Atlantic Alliance. At the same time it asks withdrawal of American defense forces and transfer of our bases on the island to the care and protection of the Icelanders.

Obviously, this action by the world's oldest parliament looms as a potential threat to NATO. If carried out it would leave Iceland without any military protection and create a situation inviting surprise attack that would endanger the whole North Atlantic community.

During World War II, Iceland asked U. S. protection against the Nazi threat but our forces were withdrawn in 1945. They were invited back in 1951 and the island since has become a vital U. S. air and naval base and an essential radar warning post against transarctic air attack.

★ ★ ★

It was only natural that a certain amount of friction would develop between American personnel and the islanders. The latter blamed inflation and labor shortages on the presence of our troops and Communists did everything they could to stir discontent. The result was a full fledged political crisis in which the two party government coalition split, Parliament was dissolved and an election called for June 24.

★ ★ ★

Certainly, it is to be hoped that before the election, which actually will be a plebiscite on American withdrawal, Icelanders in self interest, will have realized the folly of this resolution.

The intelligence of the motorist is in reverse ratio to the amount of horn-blowing he does.

New York Car Owners Must Have Insurance

Approval by the legislature at Albany and the expected signature of Gov. Harriman will make New York State the pioneer in the field of compulsory automobile liability insurance.

The measure becomes operative next January 1. It provides that every Empire State car owner must have $10,000 coverage for an accident involving one person, $20,000 for more than one and $5,000 for property damage.

★ ★ ★

Other provisions require that car owners must produce proof by February 1 that they have the necessary insurance before they get their 1957 license plates. Penalties for violation may be a fine up to $1,000, a year in jail, or both, plus a possible one year revocation of driving license.

In New York State that segment of the insurance industry which fought this legislation tooth and nail now is being urged to go all out in an effort to help make it a success. That, of course, implies a well organized and directed campaign of public education.

The insurance problem there is much like that in Michigan. About 700,000 or 14 per cent of New York drivers lack coverage. The same percentage holds good here. For that reason The Press long has felt that our "one free accident" law is unfair to insured motorists.

We also feel that the time has come to give the principle of compulsory insurance careful consideration. Therefore, we earnestly hope that New York's experiment will be carefully watched by Michigan law enforcement officials.

The Man About Town

Worst Cyclone

Some Who Went Through It Still Are Living in County

Alimony: Combat pay.

The largest loss of life in one day in the history of Oakland County was on May 26, 1896, when 43 people were killed in a cyclone. Several others died later from injuries, bringing the total casualty list close to the 50 mark. It swept through the northern part of the county, most of the fatalities being in Groveland and Brandon Townships. Man About Town is compiling a list of its survivors who still are living. Let me hear from you. Old MAT himself was within a mile of where that twister started and distinctly remembers that early evening catastrophe and the harrowing scenes and sorrows brought about by it.

David Lawrence Says:

Minnesota and Wisconsin Primaries Indicate a Hustling Fight Set for '56

WASHINGTON — Republicans came out in bigger numbers to vote in Wisconsin than they did in the Minnesota primary while the Democrats did not do as well in Wisconsin as in the Minnesota primary this year.

Although in Minnesota only about 25 per cent of the Republicans who had voted in the 1952 final election went to the polls this year, the Wisconsin presidential primary brought out 52 per cent of the Republicans who voted in the 1952 election. The Democrats, on the other hand, polled in the Minnesota primary 70 per cent of their 1952 election vote but in Wisconsin the Democrats' proportion of their 1952 vote dropped to 46 per cent.

It is important in comparing the figures of this year's primary elections and the primaries of four years ago to recall that the Republicans staged quite a contest in the 1952 primaries with Taft, Warren and Stassen dividing the vote. So the total Republican vote in the 1952 primary of 776,600 must be compared with the 425,000 cast this year for President Eisenhower and 18,000 for Chapple, or a total of 443,000—virtually no contest.

NO CONTEST FOR DEMS

The Democrats, on the other hand, four years ago, didn't have much of a contest and Sen. Kefauver made only a few trips to the state. The total Democratic vote in the 1952 primary was 241,525 as compared with approximately 325,000 this year. It was a gain of about 84,000 votes this time, but, when it is noted that Stevenson polled 622,175 in the 1952 election, it will be apparent that the votes in the Democratic primary this week fell far short of the total of four years ago.

Plainly, the most significant thing about the primary votes in Minnesota and Wisconsin is the popularity of President Eisenhower with a large segment of his own party, but the results are not conclusive as to whether these states can be carried by the Republicans next November.

There is no doubt that a farm revolt is on in the middle west. There is no doubt also that grievances usually accumulate against the party in power. The Republicans are facing a real battle this time and will need to get out their vote. On the surface, it may appear that Eisenhower's popularity will be enough to win for the Republicans. But there are many indications that things are astir in the agricultural regions, and a crossing over to the Democratic party by the farmers could make quite a difference in the final result.

One thing seems certain—there will be a contest of major proportions this autumn and the party organizations will exert more effort to get out the vote than in any election in history. This is partly because more money will be available to both parties and the candidates will make use of every medium of communication more intensively than ever before.

As a consequence of the primaries, the Republican leaders will be warning their party workers against overconfidence. The Democratic managers are counting heavily on former President Truman to carry on a "give 'em hell" offensive. He didn't make a very auspicious start with his New York speech this week because "foreign policy" is an abstract subject to the voter. The public generally understands only the major points—peace or war—and just now the administration has all the advantage of the peace side of the argument.

It's on economic issues that the Democrats must make their campaign. They can demonstrate that income is down in the farm states. But they will be hard put to it to make any headway in the industrial states unless the auto business falls off and considerable unemployment results before the autumn elections. The Minnesota and Wisconsin primaries have come and gone and have left the campaign managers on both sides with no real clue as to what November will bring.

Doctor Becoming Bored of Common Cold Theme

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Since Topsy was a colt and I was an honest doctor, dozens of investigations or studies have been launched, with funds donated by big medicine manufacturers, in quest of a cure for the common cold. With each launching ceremony the sponsors have seen to it that experts estimate the annual cost of "colds," in days lost from work and in doctor bills, and the cost of medicine, is I forget how many million or billion dollars.

All this, as you may understand, makes me tired. Tired, in the first place, because, once the expedition is given a fine send-off on p. 1 of the news section, with perhaps some accompanying editorial comment and a few informative articles about participating experts and the bright prospect of solving the problem, we hear no more of the project.

I'm weary of trying to get from such experts or from any recognized health authority or physician of standing a definition of "the common cold," if there is such an entity.

* * *

Sometimes, believe it or not, I even get tired of harping on the theme, that exposure to everyday dampness, drafts, changes of weather, wet feet, insufficient clothing, poorly heated living rooms, offices, schoolrooms, etc., is uncomfortable, perhaps, but certainly not harmful to health nor a cause of cri . . . (kree), coined name to apply to any acute respiratory infection before you find out what you've got.

* * *

After considerable reflection about this I have come to realize that all these years I have been firing at the wrong target. Instead of calling you poor geeks names—a practice which never got me anything but fired anyway—I should have concentrated my ridicule and invective upon the medical and health authorities who ignore the newer knowledge of hygiene and continue to embrace only the notions dreamed up in the 18th or 19th century, when malaria (fever and ague) was ascribed to miasms arising from swamps or from freshly turned soil or from putrescent matter and chronic or gradually increasing joint disability was ascribed to "exposure" to cold and dampness.

Now if perchance my position reminds you of Johnny in the parade I acknowledge the similarity, and in all sincerity I still contend that they're all out of

Please, oh, please, my dear knuckleheads, don't bother to tell me I'm nuts or that you certainly take cold if you get your feet wet or go without a hat . . . That doesn't make me tired any more. It just makes me laugh.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

'Teenagers Are Not Alone in Making Fun of People'

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

The teenagers are not alone in their making fun of folks downtown. Maybe they wouldn't do it so much if they didn't have such examples set for them by adults who never grew out of childhood emotionally.

As a general rule, you find the ones who serve the public are courteous, a credit to the firm they serve. But a few today were not. I was waiting for a clerk to wait on me and at the lunch counter were two men. They both enjoyed themselves at my expense.

I think a firm hand when young would do much to alleviate such cruelty. I heartily commend those writers in the Voice of the People who advocate spanking.

They have laws against stealing, physical cruelty, etc. How about a law against mental cruelty? The Constitution says ," Our rights cease where the other person's arm begins."

'Early Riser' Would Like Ordinance Enforced

What is required to have an existing city ordinance, concerning loud speakers on the outside of buildings, enforced?

The residents in the vicinity of Baldwin and New York are continually disturbed by one on a restaurant in the neighborhood. It is impossible to retire in early evening or to enjoy a Sunday afternoon nap when this loud speaker is on.

We are over a block away and can hear it inside with the windows shut.

'Some Neighbors Have 4 Dogs Running Loose'

The party complaining about her neighbor's dog should be living in my neighborhood. Some of my good neighbors have as many as four dogs to run all over your garden and lawn, destroying your flowers and vegetables. Of course, this is a free country.

A Press Reader

Hal Boyle Says:

Bahamas Lure Tourists and Tax-Fleeing Dollars

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—Leaves from a touring notebook:

Tourists and tax-fleeing dollars are creating the greatest boom in the 464-year history of the Bahamas.

* * *

Visiting stenographers, flying in on a trip paid for on the installment plan, outnumbered the millionaire sportsmen who steam or sail here in their own yachts.

132,434 VISITORS

The growth of the tourist industry can be seen in these figures. There were 32,018 visitors in 1949 and they spent $10,407,000. In 1955 more than 132,434 came and left $26,352,000.

* * *

(Actually, however, in both years the tourists probably spent far more than these figures indicate. This is a British sterling money area, and for one reason or another many dollars expended here don't get officially reported.)

A few oldtimers fear the influx of tourists will turn conservative Nassau into "another Miami." But most Bahamians are glad to see a fellow from out of town and sell him anything from a $1.50 straw hat to a $50,000 motor sailboat.

Not all the visitors are sun-seekers here for a brief season on the beach or to make a sociological study of the effects of drinking four rum-filled Planters Punches in a row.

* * *

Many are hard-headed businessmen from America, Canada, Britain and other countries looking for ways to invest capital that will enable them to escape high inheritance or income taxes in their homelands.

There are no such taxes here. The colony is financed largely by an import tax on all products brought in from abroad.

Just how can this tax situation help a foreign capitalist? As explained to me, there is a long-accepted principle in international law that no country attempts to tax real property situated in another country.

* * *

Suppose you are a rich American with a couple of million bucks or so you'd like to leave your heirs without having Uncle Sam take his usual big whack.

You couldn't start a big chain of liquor stores here. The colony has a rule you have to be a resident for seven years before you can launch a business competitive with one already in existence.

But you could buy up a lot of island real estate and either develop it or just let it lie there enjoying the sunshine.

* * *

After your death your heirs can sell the property — probably to some other wealthy old man who wants to protect his heirs — and pocket the money practically free, as the American inheritance law wouldn't apply.

If the property had gone up in value (and it is going up right now), they might even turn a tidy profit.

* * *

I might be tempted to employ this device myself, except the only thing I plan to leave my heirs is a wristwatch.

Popular American Sport Is Jumping to Wrong Conclusions About Ailments

Have you any "asking favor" with God Almighty? If, like King Hezekiah, you were dying, what arguments could you offer God to justify His adding an extra 15 years to your life-span? Better open an account in the "Bank of Heaven" and watch it, instead of the pill bottles in your medicine cabinet!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case R-322: Horace M., aged 47, is typical of America's most numerous type of "athlete". He is a great jumper.

For each morning he "jumps" to wrong conclusions about his health. He is so absessed with fear of medical ailments that he makes an inventory each day of his symptoms.

Quickly he checks his heart and liver, stomach, gall bladder and colon by pressing his fingertips over the area in question.

And if he feels a twinge of pain, he immediately grows panicky.

* * *

"Jumping" is thus America's most popular indoor sport, for literally millions of hypochondriacs jump to wrong conclusions every day about their health.

SOBER THINKING

Before you degenerate into a fraidy cat, why not do a little sober thinking?

"What am I doing to justify being alive?" is a good query to ask yourself.

"Why should God grant me even a normal three score and ten life span, not to mention some extra years as a bonus?"

Good King Hezekiah was informed by the prophet Isaiah that he should put his house in order

But Hezekiah turned his face to the wall and prayed to God, saying:

"O Lord, remember now how I have walked before Thee in truth and with a perfect heart and have done that which is good in Thy sight."

* * *

And God sent the prophet Isaiah back to inform King Hezekiah that he had made a sensible appeal, so God would add 15 years to his life-span.

ASKING FAVOR

Well, why don't you hypochondriacs sit down some day with pencil and paper to tally your moral account books.

Have you any right to expect favors from God Almighty? Do you have a figurative checking account in the "Bank of Heaven" so that when you get into trouble and wish to write a check, it will be honored?

Have you any right to ask God that even an extra year or two should be added to your longevity?

Or, if you need more good health or an extension of your child's life who is now critically ill, what spiritual "collateral" can you offer God to merit a "loan". Remember, God doesn't accept co-

"But, Dr. Crane, God wouldn't think of keeping books on us, would he?" you may inquire.

Apparently he does, for Christ said he notes everything that goes on down here, even to a sparrow's fall!

GOD IS MERICIFUL

"Yes, but God is merciful," you may remonstrate.

True enough, especially with those heathen who never heard the glad tidings and haven't known better.

But Americans, who are surrounded by churches and hear religious addresses on radio and TV, can't ignore God until cancer is diagnosed and then suddenly expect to appeal to God's mercy.

You can't cheat God! You can't ignore what you know is right, figuring at the last minute you'll do a dramatic right-about-face and then appeal to God's mercy.

So start a bank acocunt in Heaven. Go to church. Attend Sunday school. Apply the Golden Rule by joining my "Compliment Club" and thus buoying up the morale of your neighbors with honest praise.

Work in youth groups, as the Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, etc. Contribute cheerfully to philanthropic causes and not just to the Cancer Foundation because you hope a cure will be found to eliminate your own cancer.

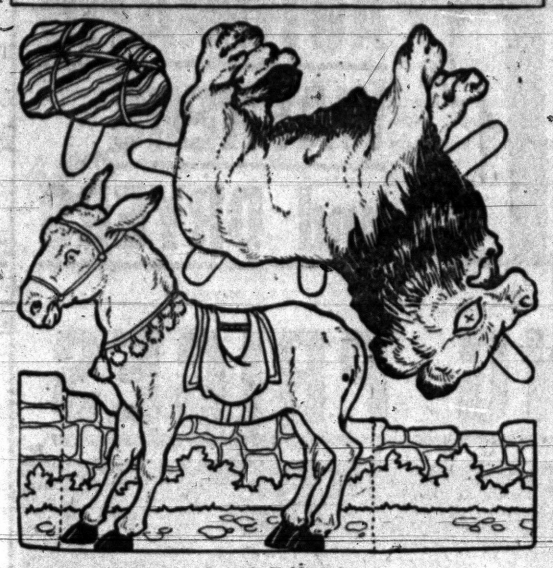

God likes a cheerful giver and he keeps a complete record, so forget your hypochondria and worry more about your "asking favor" with the Almighty.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Aesop's Fables—4

THE DONKEY AND THE LION'S SKIN

Today's fable is about a little donkey who carried packs on his back all day long and who was unhappy because no one feared or respected him.

Then one day the donkey found a lion's skin and dressed himself in it. The skin didn't fit well but he rushed about frightening everybody he could.

So pleased was he with his new found importance that he brayed in triumph. A passing fox, hearing the familiar donkey voice coming out of the lion skin, began to laugh. "Ha, ha," said the fox, "I would have been afraid of you, too, if I hadn't heard your voice."

The moral: Sometimes people talk too much.

Color this picture with crayons and paste down on cardboard. Cut out the parts carefully. Fold back the ends of the wall and the donkey will stand up. Cut the slit on the saddle bag and push the tab on the bundle into it.

Now cut out the lion's skin and the eye marked X. Put the skin over the donkey, folding back the tabs. All you can see of the donkey is his tell-tale ears.

150 Million a Year Goes to Aid Blind

CHICAGO—Private and public American agencies spend $150,000,000 a year on welfare and rehabilitation work for the blind. Less than one tenth of this sum is invested in research to discover the causes of eye troubles that bring blindness or impaired vision and the best methods of dealing with them.

Deadline for Home Set

DETROIT (AP)—The proposed $3,450,000 juvenile detention home, approved last spring by Wayne County voters, should be built and in operation by the spring of 1959. That was announced yesterday by the county.

1,709,000 Phone Books

Hey, Look, Here's Another Big Contest! Name the Treasury; Win Immortality

WASHINGTON (AP) — Would you like to try your hand at making a little history?

* * *

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey would welcome help from the public in solving a problem neglected since 1789.

Humphrey noted recently that the big Treasury Building in downtown Washington near the White House has no name on it.

NAME THE PLACE

His staff looked around and could find no other government departmental headquarters living in such anonymity.

So the Treasury asked the General Services Administration, housekeeper for the government, to put up a name on each of the four sides of the block - square building.

GSA said it would be delighted, and just how did the Treasury style itself?

That's where things rest right now.

Nobody knows just what is the Treasury's official name, although the department was the third following State and War chartered by the first Congress, and has been doing an ever-growing business since.

THOSE PREPOSITIONS

The confusion began in 1789. Congress chartered the Treasury by "an act to establish the Treasury Department." But in the body of the bill, it specifies that there "shall be a Department of the Treasury."

Both terms have been used commonly since, as well as the term "the United States Treasury," title of an official history the Treasury published in 1951.

* * *

As soon as the Treasury can decide what its name is, it will go up in 12-inch, gold-finished bronze letters on three sides of the building, and in 8-inch letters on the plainer east side.

If you want to help, mail your suggestions for a name to the Office of the Secretary, Main Treasury Building, Washington, D.C.

* * *

(Terms like "robber," which might come to some minds at this taxpaying season, have been disqualified in advance. Not dignified.)

Glass has been manufactured for about 4,000 years.

Reds Gain Control of Bonn Plant Council

BONN—Union workers in a big iron industry plant at Dortmund, West Germany, were shocked when the 15,000 employes elected a factory council on which Communist Party members hold an absolute majority.

* * *

Previously there had been only two Communists on the 25-member council. Now there are 15. The plant's wage scale tops that of the iron industry and workers had been well satisfied.

The Communists won, it is now claimed, with tactics introduced by labor officials from Russian Zone factories, who frequently visit the Dortmund plant.

* * *

Their system was to circulate malicious attacks and slanders on the other members of the council, to make it appear they represented the employers' interests.

They also made extravagant demands which the firm could not possibly grant. Their rejection, however, supplied the Communists with propaganda and eventually they had a majority.

Frenchmen Suspicious of U.S. Position in Simmering North African Question

By PRESTON GROVER

ALGIERS, French North Africa (AP) — Many Frenchmen here — and in France for that matter — believe the United States is trying to oust the French from North Africa so the Americans can take over.

* * *

A lot of Arabs believe that too. It is a wonderful weapon for the rebels to use as propaganda. One Frenchman told me that the day after an uprising last August, he went into a little village in the Aures Mountains to find the villagers shouting: "The Americans are coming."

TERRORISTS STIR LIES

Terrorist agents had told them that liberating armies both from Egypt and America were going to help them win their liberty. Neither army landed, but many are still hopeful.

In Constantine, an Arab virtually shadowed me for two days trying to find out who I was, then introduced himself.

* * *

"We want the Americans to come in," he said. "I was here in 1942 when the Americans landed in Oran. In 48 hours they were in Constantine and we were in the dollar zone. Every shoeshine boy had a thousand dollars by night. We want to be in the dollar zone."

The French are not happy about it. They are bitter. They blame the United States for inciting the Arabs to resistance.

SOUGHT OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

For a long time the French have insisted that America should speak out for her ally. But the State Department has refused to run the risk of antagonizing the Arabs in the Middle East.

When, early in March, French colonists in Tunis sacked an American consulate, the State Department agreed it was time to speak out. Ambassador Douglas Dillon told Paris correspondents at a press luncheon that the United States stood solidly back of France's efforts to find a "liberal and equitable" solution of the Algerian problem.

* * *

The Americans want French influence to remain in North Africa. But they would like to see the French move forward on a program of giving extensive home rule and near independence to the Arabs.

FRENCH MOVE SLOWLY

But France has been so slow in moving that only in 1955 did it give home rule and near independence to Morocco and Tunisia and then seemingly only under the pressure of events, especially in Morocco.

* * *

The "bad blood" between the Americans and French extends all over North Africa. The French accuse American officials in North Africa of being too friendly to the Moslem population which has been trying to crowd France into granting home rule. On the other hand, many Moslems feel that America hasn't gone far enough in pressuring the French.

MILITARY IMPORTANCE

All this, of course, is complicated still further by the fact that North Africa is terribly important for America, which has air bases on the northwest corner of Africa, in Morocco. French naval bases and ports at Casablanca and Port Lyautey in Morocco and at Oran and Algiers in Algeria, are vital links in the defense of the Western Hemisphere and Europe.

* * *

But the hard fact is that France doesn't have the money for the job that must be done down here. The only source available outside the Iron Curtain is the United States.

* * *

It is not made any easier by the Israeli-Arab question. An important Moroccan official to whom I talked was very blunt about it:

"If war breaks out between Israel and the Arab states, the whole Moslem world will slip into the Communist camp. We know in our hearts that the United States will support Israel."

* * *

The Americans feel that all this Arab problem, so far as it affects North Africa at any rate, could have been avoided if the French had acted more wisely. But that is water over the dam. The problem still remains — what to do now?

Next: Terror.

Wedding Marches Disliked by Clerics

CAPETOWN—Mendelssohn's and Wagner's wedding marches "lack sanctity" according to a group of South African ministers, who would ban them from church weddings.

* * *

They were composed expressly for performance in the theater, the ministers say. Some of them object to the solos sometimes sung at weddings and many ministers bar sentimental ballads at such affairs.

Says Rev. J. B. Webb, of the Methodist Church Hall in Johannesburg: "The marriage service is more than just a social function. It is an act of worship."

* * *

He once was asked by a bride to allow a song about "a good pal and true," which was a juke-box hit at the time, he said. "Danny Boy" and "In a Monastery Garden" are "inappropriate."

Celtic Town Dating to 200 B. C. Found

MUNICH, GERMANY—The site of the ancient Celtic town of Vallatum, whose origin archaeologists put at about 200 B.C., has been discovered near Manching, Germany. More than 500 cases of artifacts unearthed in the Bavarian discovery have been shipped to a Munich museum.

Tale Takes Longer Under Dad's Typing

OMAHA (AP) — The teacher assigned students to write a one-hundred word news story and allowed five words leeway.

Next day, the daughter of a public-school principal reported to the teacher she was having difficulty with the assignment, couldn't make it fit as to wordage.

"You have a little leeway," the teacher reminded.

"I know," the girl said. "When I first wrote it, I had exactly 100 words. But after daddy got through typing, it had 149 words."

Group Defines 'Pests'

DENVER (INS) — The Colorado General Assembly rounded out a tough legislative schedule by approving a measure that defines "pests" for all interested persons. Senate Bill 16, passed unanimously, defines agricultural pests as "insect pests, animal pests (except rodents, jack rabbits and predatory animals), fungus and other plant disease, or weeds."

Dynamite Blasts Alloy Into Shape

NEW YORK—A method of using dynamite has been worked out to blast large Monel nickle-copper-alloy fan hubs into shape. A Monel cylinder is placed in a water-filled die with a stick of dynamite suspended at water level. The blast forces the ductile alloy into the contour of the die at a fraction of what it would cost to spin the metal into the same shape.

SAN JUAN—Puerto Rico produced $120,000,000 worth of manufactured goods in 1955 compared with an output of $20,000,000 in 1947.

Been Going On for Years

Oriental Clearing House Benefiting Commie China

HONG KONG (AP)—This British crown colony is a clearing house for a small legal trade in nonstrategic materials between two enemies — Red China and the Nationalist Chinese on Formosa.

* * *

Hong Kong businessmen who boast they will sell to anyone merely shrugged their shoulders at a recent Washington controversy about trade between the Red and Nationalist Chinese. Such trade has been going on here for years.

Both the Chinas ship goods to this commercial city. The goods are stored in warehouses before reshipment. Communist and Nationalist Chinese buyers rub shoulders while purchasing their respective countries' needs — regardless of origin.

STRATEGIC ITEMS OUTLAWED

Products like camphor, citronella oil and nonstrategic chemicals can be shipped freely between the two Chinas through here. The Hong Kong government has made legal trade in strategic items impossible and is combatting smuggling. Occasionally revenue officers of the colony intercept Chinese junks carrying American cars or kerosene for Communist jet planes trying to reach Red China after dark. The penalty for such activity is stiff.

* * *

Major items traded through Hong Kong between Formosa and Red China include:

1. Citronella oil from Formosa purchased by the Communists — about 50,000 U.S. dollars worth last year.

* * *

2. Camphor oil from Formosa bought by the Reds — about $160,000 worth last year.

3. Tung oil from Red China bought by Nationalist China—$60,000 worth last year.

HOOVER IGNITES DEBATE

U.S. Undersecretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr. touched off the controversy about the trade between Nationalist and Red China. He told a Senate subcommittee March 26 that the Nationalists were shipping millions of dollars worth of goods to the Communists each year.

* * *

A few days later Hoover told the investigators he had been wrong. He said the State Department had no evidence of any direct trade between Formosa and the mainland, but that indirect trade in nonstrategic items over which Nationalist authorities have no control takes place through Hong Kong.

The controversy also turned up a U.S. government foreign aid report showing Nationalist China imported $1,300,000 worth of goods from Red China during the first eight months of 1955. Shipments to and from Hong Kong were listed separately. Foreign aid chief John B. Hollister said in a subsequent statement that the Nationalist imports from the Reds "were actually shipped from Hong Kong." He also said he had no evidence of any direct trade between Formosa and the Red mainland.

Adlai Stresses American Unity

Says Fate of World Depends on U.S., Cites Segregation Solution

KINGSLAND, Ga. (AP) — Adlai Stevenson says "thefate of the owrld depends today on unity among Americans."

"To have that unity we must settle the segregation problem peaceably, honorably and according to our law, our conscience and our religion," he said last night in a copyrighted interview with M.L. St. John, political editor of the Atlanta Constitution.

"I believe deeply that there is this unity in America's heart; and I believe that no man North or South has any greater present duty than to help find the way to unite this nation and find the right answer to this problem."

The candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination said it is becoming increasingly difficult to fill the role of a mediator to unite extremists of the right and the left.

"But," he said, "it also becomes more and more important that the mediator's role be filled. The hope that I could fill that role, in both domestic and foreign fields, is the only satisfaction I get out of seeking the presidency again."

Stevenson said he has "been working for party unity ever since the 1952 election. It is imperative that the Democrats win this year. Divided on foreign policy and committed to serving only big business in the domestic field, the Republicans have demonstrated their inability to rule this nation."

The former Illinois governor was interviewed at the Harry Guggenheim estate near Kingsland, whereheis on a brief vacation.

He's a Husband?

PATERSON, N.J. (AP) — When her new husband demanded she pay rent to him, Mrs. Josephine Remsen said, that was the end. She has filed a separate maintenance suit.

DUSTING OFF OLD JOE — In Russia, the Communist top brass has been giving once-worshiped Josef Stalin a rough brush-off. And here he gets another — in New York — from Joseph Carucci, caretaker at the Wax Museum in Coney Island.

Emergency Line to Bisect County

Bell System to Assure Long Distance Contact if Disaster Hits

Construction of a nationwide express telephone system which will bypass heavily populated areas to safeguard communications in times of disaster has been launched by the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. and the American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

The 5,500-mile line wil extend across Milford and Southfield townships in Oakland County.

The $3,100,000 project will permit completion of long distance calls throughout the state even though switching facilities at such potential enemy targets as Detroit, Grand Rapids and Flint are isolated by fire, tornado or enemy bombings.

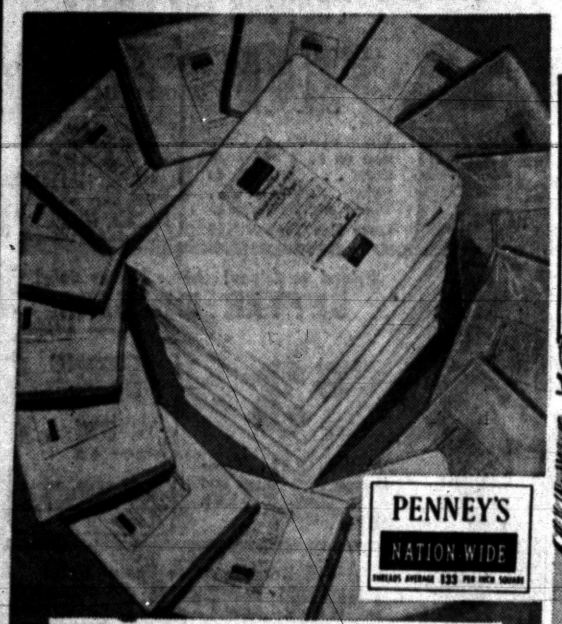

Towers from 225 to 350 feet high will also be erected about 30 miles apart at Reading in Hillsdale County, Parma in Jackson County, Lacy in Barry County and Dansville in Ingham County.

The new route wil supplement existing long distance facilities and will operate on a microwave radio-relay system.

Scientists working under American Cancer Society grants are seeking drugs to cure cancer. The only approved cures for cancer now are surgery and radiation.

THESE TOOK THE PRIZES — These odd-looking homemade hats are prize winners, believe it or not. Folks in Casper, Wyo., make the long, cold and stormy winters seem shorter by holding unusual contests. The oil-derrick hat at left symbolizes the main industry in the area. The one at upper right represents gardening and the other, made of doll-sized pots and pans, represents household activities. The designers are Mrs. Philip Kretz, left; Mrs. Philip Clark, upper right, and Mrs. Pat Alsup.

Navy Will Use Power of the Sun in New Research

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force will turn to the sun for energy to fire the hottest furnace "known to exist in the world today."

* * *

It will be done with mirrors in a solar furnace to be built soon at a spot 9,000 feet high in the Sacramento Mountains near Holloman Air Development Center, Alamogordo, N. M.

The furnace may attain temperatures of 7,000 to 8,000 degrees fahrenheit over a "substantially larger area than any other furnace known to exist."

The Air Force said such terrific heats are needed to advance research and testing of materials for use in high-speed, high-altitude aircraft, and for duplicating the heat effects of nuclear weapons.

Jinx Adds Tone to Set Sailing 'Below-Stairs'

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Jinx Falkenberg, who'll help report Grace Kelly's wedding, accepted cabin class accommodations on the Constitution (which are second class). That'll give a lot of tone to the Below-Stairs Set. (Second-class would be a promotion for me—I go steerage.)

UM Develops Alloy Method

New Technique May Make Gas Turbine Cars Practical Much Sooner

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The University of Michigan has reported its metallurgical engineers have developed manufacturing techniques which may make gas turbine automobiles practical within "two to five years."

The engineers found a way to produce a nickel-base alloy for use in aircraft and auto turbine engines that costs half as much as cobalt-base alloys used in jet engines and auto turbines.

Richard A. Flinn, professor of metallurgical and production engineering, said the process should give greater power or longer life to jet engines.

The engineers discovered a new way to melt and cast metals used making turbine blades. These blades are the heart of jet engines. They are turned by blasts of hot gases and must withstand intense heat.

Prof. Flinn said the nickel-base alloy is melted in a high vacuum and poured in an atmosphere of argon gas. He said the process produces a metal superior to cobalt-base alloys.

Cobalt is a strategic material and costs $2.60 a pound. Nickel costs 65 cents a pound.

* * *

"The automobile industry," Prof. Flinn said, "has to have the cost down to cents per turbine blade, rather than dollars per blade. It could live with nickel-base alloys, but could not with cobalt-base."

Queen Vetoes Video

Britain's Queen decided against having her Christmas speech televised in 1955—partly because there are now both BBC and independent TV in Britain and she did not want to offend either one, London reports.

Unions Quarrel in Erie Over Jurisdiction

DUBLIN — Union jurisdiction is an increasing source of trouble in Eire. Demarcation disputes are turning union against union. Years ago, one union leader explained, if you got tiles laid in a bathroom they were laid by a tiler.

Today there are synthetic plastic tiles which are stuck on with glue. Is that a job for a tiler, a carpenter or a bricklayer? A tribunal to settle such quarrels is being urged.

Britain's Oldest Lag Dies in Prison at 86

LONDON—Britain's oldest "old lag" of the underworld is dead. He was a man of 30 different names who originated the crooked role of the "Perfect Butler," but his death certificate nears the same name as his birth certificate—Henry Alfred Irwin.

* * *

After stealing more than $224,000 in 38 years of crime, and spending over half his life in jail, he died, aged 86, in Wandsworth prison.

His "perfect butler" role brought him loot worth over $112,000. He made the rest from his poses as a wholesale jeweler, secret service agent, surveyor, architect, cook, porter, singer and acrobatic dancer. In his early roles his performance was impeccable.

* * *

He fooled a peer, a knight, a financier and two wealthy American families, Scotland Yard says. But in his role of a gay bachelor he squandered all his money.

New Terry Cloth Uses

NEW YORK—New uses for terry cloth took 25 per cent of production in 1955 compared with 2 per cent in 1947. It is being used, in addition to toweling, for car-seat covers, curtains, couch covers and aprons. Terrycloth coveralls are being worn by Air Force ground crews while refueling jet fighters.

United States Presents Four-Point Proposal

Four U.N. Atom Powers Study 'Steps to Disarmament'

LONDON (AP)—Four leading U.N. atomic powers are studying the new U.S. "steps-to-disarmament" plan calling for staged cutbacks in both conventional and nuclear weapons to reduce the threat of war.

* * *

The plan calls for strict international inspections and controls, a stumbling block in previous efforts to halt the big power arms race.

Once this is working, the plan provides for a census of nuclear stocks and gradual conversion of such stockpiles to peaceful purposes.

STASSEN EXPLAINS

U. S. Delegate Harold E. Stassen outlined the proposal at a meeting of the five-power subcommittee of the U.N. Disarmament Commission. Delegates from the Soviet Union, Britain, France and Canada studied the lengthy, detailed draft overnight before meeting again for fresh discussion.

* * *

The U.S. plan differs significantly from an earlier Russian proposal in that it would set up controls over nuclear weapons and production as well as limitations on conventional armaments. The Soviet plan, offered last week, dealt only with conventional weapons. This was a reversal of previous Russian demands that nuclear weapons must be banned as a first step to planning disarmament.

LIMIT MILITARY

The U.S. plan also would limit military forces of America and the Soviets to 2½ million men each, while the Russian proposal would restrict them to 1½ million.

* * *

A spokesman said the United States regards its plan as workable "in the world we now are living in"—a world divided and torn by tensions in many areas. He termed the draft an informal framework which can be revised.

* * *

Under the U.S. plan, the nuclear phase of disarmament would not be started until reduction of conventional arms is working smoothly.

* * *

The nuclear phase would begin with a world census of atomic and hydrogen weapons, supplies and production. Then it would proceed to a system of control and inspection, a freeze on production and finally conversion of nuclear stockpiles to peaceful uses.

U. S. PLAN

The United States outlined its disarmament planin these stages:

1. A "confidence-building" step between the United States and the Soviet Union. This calls for tests of practical disarmament controls in special "nonsensitive" areas of the two nations, 20,000 to 30,000 square miles in size.

* * *

2. Creation of a preparatory armaments regulatory commission made up of the five powers. This body would set maximum manpower limits of 2½ million men each for Russia and the United States and 750,000 men each for Britain and France, with conventional arms and defense budgets keyed to the manpower level. It also would work out — to safeguard against surprise attack—a control and inspection plan including President Eisenhower's "open skies" principle of aerial inspection and Soviet Premier Bulganin's suggestion of ground control posts at ports, airfields, rail terminals and highways.

3. Drafting of a disarmament treoty by the five powers. Approval of the treaty would be followed by an exchange of military "blueprints" of conventional armed strength; freezing of defense budgets at the Dec. 31, 1955, level, and start of the inspection and control system.

4. Expansion of the Disarmament Commission by admitting other states with "significant" military potential. These states with the exception of Red China would be limited to 500,000 troops each. All member nation's would come under the inspection and control system.

* * *

5. Start of the nuclear phase of disarmament. All member nations would report their stocks and production of nuclear materials and weapons, and plans for testing nuclear weapons. The control and inspection system would be expanded to account for nuclear production and to monitor nuclear tests. Production of nuclear weapons would be progressively reduced and eventually stockpiles of nuclear weapons would be whittled down.

1 Day's Petroleum Fills 378 Trains

NEW YORK—The publication, Petroleum Processing, reports that a single day's shipments of oil products in the United States this year would fill 18,100 miles of 10-inch pipeline and it would take 378 trains, each of 100 tank cars of 10,000-gallon capacity, to move one day's petroleum by rail. Total demand at U. S. refineries for all products this year is expected to reach a new high of 9,009,000 barrels a day.

Many Homes Lack Power in Canada

OTTAWA — A study by the Canadian Bureau of Statistics reveals that only 256,000, or 7 per cent, of the dominion's households don't have electricity.

Those households with running water total 79 per cent and those with central heating 54 per cent.

So many Italians are touring that fears are felt about the effect on savings.

When Preparing Kale

Be sure to remove all coarse stems when you are cooking kale, and wash the vegetable well in several waters. Chop the kale and cook it rapidly in a small amount of salted water, plus a little butter or margarine, until it is tender.

Spread a thin flat sponge cake with softened ice cream; roll up, wrap in aluminum foil and freeze. Allow to stand at room temperature about an hour before slicing.

Serve Fresh Asparagus Buttered or With a Sauce

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

With the ever-rising popularity of frozen foods we have captured the fresh taste of nearly every food. One exception we might make is fresh asparagus.

Of course, we can buy both canned and frozen asparagus. But nothing tastes quite like the fresh stalks themselves.

This is the season of the year when fresh asparagus begins to come into the market in larger quantities. The price drops a bit to the place where we feel we can indulge more often.

Don't overcook asparagus. Whether you do it in a pressure cooker or in a small amount of water in a saucepan, cook it only enough to make the stalks tender.

Some cooks like to cook the stalks upright in a tall can or double boiler. This allows the water to cook the stalks directly, while the steam tenderizes the tops.

There's nothing like plain melted butter to bring out the delicate flavor of cooked asparagus. But other sauces are also delicious.

Since a true Hollandaise sauce is tricky to make, you might like to try a mock Hollandaise. It will taste just as good.

Mock Hollandaise Sauce

3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
½ cup milk
3 egg yolks, slightly beaten
¼ cup melted butter
3 tablespoons lemon juice

Melt butter in saucepan, blend in flour and seasonings. Add milk slowly and continue to cook and stir until thickened. Remove from heat.

Add slightly beaten egg yolks, blending well. Stir in melted butter and lemon juice blending well. Makes about 1 cup sauce. Serve at once.

A simpler way of preparing asparagus is to serve it with Toasted Sesame Seed Butter.

Toasted Sesame Seed Butter

Chive Cream Sauce

2 pounds fresh asparagus
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
2 tablespoons toasted sesame seed

Cook fresh asparagus until crisp-tender. Place in a serving dish. Combine remaining ingredients and pour over asparagus. Serve at once. Yield: 6 servings.

To toast sesame seed, place in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 22 minutes or until golden brown, stirring 2 to 3 times to brown uniformly.

To Crisp Up Bread

To crisp slices of bread, bake them in a slow (300 degrees) oven for 20 minutes or longer. Halfway through the baking time, turn the slices so they will brown evenly.

For those of you who like your vegetables with a cream sauce we might suggest this chive-flavored sauce.

1½ pounds fresh asparagus
¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ pound fresh mushrooms, sliced
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 6-ounce package chive cream cheese
1 tablespoon milk

Clean asparagus thoroughly and break off bottom ends. Cover and cook in 1-inch boiling salted water over low heat 12 to 15 minutes, or until tender. Drain.

Meanwhile, melt butter or margarine; add mushrooms and cook 5 minutes, or until tender. Add lemon juice and asparagus and cook 5 minutes.

Combine cheese and milk; beat until light and fluffy. Serve asparagus with cheese mixture. Garnish with additional chives, if desired. Makes 4 servings.

Grated cheddar cheese looks pretty atop cream of asparagus soup.

Add a tablespoon of cream for each egg when you are cooking scrambled eggs.

Choose Steak and Chicken for Best Buys of Week

April showers may bring May flowers, but regardless of weather, spring appetites can be easily satisfied with the variety of meat values in the markets, says Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, Consumer Marketing Information Agent in Pontiac.

With many beef cuts as much as 12 to 20% lower than last year at this time, shoppers will find special emphasis in many beef departments. More grain fed cattle than there has been for several years means continued high quality beef at reasonable prices.

Cuts of chuck from the forequarter are most economically marked for savory pot roast, or choose a rib roast for a more tender cut that may be roasted in dry heat. Due to recent reductions in wholesale prices, consumers will also find steaks a good value at retail counters.

If the budget needs pinching after holiday celebrating, then fresh ground beef at about 33 to 39 cents a pound offers a number of food combinations.

Supplies of frying chickens are increasing. It is estimated that there will be 20% more broiler-fryers during April than during the same month in 1955. Consumers will find prices may vary as much as 20 cents per pound this week, due in part to some stores featuring them at close to wholesale cost.

Most broiler-fryers now in the market weigh from 1½ to 3¼ pounds and are being sold completely cleaned, and either whole, or cut-up. A good fryer has thin, smooth skin and a flexible breastbone.

The best birds weight from 2½ to 3½ pounds, and are meaty enough to make good-sized servings. For broiling, use the popular size of 2½ pounds and under, and allow ¼ to ½ a bird for each serving.

All lean frozen veal rolls are an economy choice, since they serve about 4 people per pound. Follow the instructions printed on the outside covering for best roasting results.

Food bargains come and go, but when shoppers think of all the things offered by milk they see why it is always a bargain. Few, if any, foods outrank milk as a source of economical nutrition. Three-fourths of the calcium in the American diet comes from milk; about one-half of the riboflavin, and one-fourth of the protein in our national diet comes from milk.

It is open season for salads from now until the end of summer. Lettuce, which is most often chosen as the base for green salads, is now excellent quality. The heads are mostly of good size, are firm, and heavy for their size.

For over a month, green cabbage has rated a blue ribbon for quality, low cost, and health value. Another salad vegetable that continues on the wise-buy list is carrots. Since 1952, the marketing of carrots has shifted rapidly from the bunched style with the tops on to the pre-packaged style with the tops off.

Carrots with the tops off are high in food nutrients since the tops live off the root and take away from its value. The orange color of carrots is a good measure of the amount of Vitamin A, but it is not a true indication of the sweetness and flavor.

Though potatoes may be a few cents more, they still are a thrifty purchase. New, red, Florida potatoes are reasonably priced. Since the season for Michigan potatoes is rapidly coming to a close, the best quality in old crop potatoes is now coming from Maine.

Citrus fruits, especially grapefruit and Florida Valencia oranges, are good choices for the shopping list. Supplies of bananas will increase during April, so look for values at the food market.

Since many eggs were priced at near wholesale cost last week, shoppers will notice a return to pre-Easter prices. For best quality choose Grade A eggs from a refrigerated case; for the most weight from the money spent, choose the large size. The color of the shell has nothing to do with the quality or flavor of the eggs inside.

Oven Fried Chicken

This method is excellent when two or more chickens are being fried.

1. Coat chicken with seasoned flour.

2. Brown pieces of chicken in at least ½ inch layer of fat in a heavy skillet. If a large quantity of chicken is being prepared the browning will go much faster if a 1 to 2-inch layer of fat is used.

3. Place golden-browned chicken one layer deep in a shallow baking pan.

4. For each chicken spoon a mixture of 2 tablespoons of melted butter or margarine and 2 tablespoons of broth or milk over the chicken.

5. Continue the cooking in a slow (325 degree F.) until chicken is tender, 45 to 60 minutes. Turn once to crisp evenly. During the cooking more broth or milk may be drizzled over chicken if it appears dry.

Barbecue Sauce

1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon paprika
1 tablespoon sugar
½ clove garlic or ½ teaspoon garlic salt
1 medium onion, finely chopped
½ cup water
½ cup lemon juice or vinegar
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
¼ cup butter or margarine
1 cup catsup

Blend salt, pepper, paprika and sugar. Add remaining ingredients. Heat to boiling. Remove from heat. Makes 2½ cups.

Potatoes Splurge

tatoes and diagonally sliced carrots in a casserole. Include a few rings of onions for seasoning. Pour a can of mushroom soup (stirred smooth with half a can of milk) over the ingredients in the casserole. Cover and bake at 375 degrees F. for about 45 minutes. Uncover and let dish brown (about 25 minutes).

Try These Exercises for Slimming Waist

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Have you ever stopped to think that most fashions emphasize the waistline? In the so-called "Gay Nineties" there was a fad for the very low, unfitted waistline but any attempts since then to dig up that fashion have failed dismally. So we might as well admit that our "middle" is a crucial part of our figure ensemble.

* * *

With this in mind I give you a few waist exercises to help you enjoy the spring styles.

1. Stand tall with the feet comfortably separated. Bend the trunk& and touch the fingertips to the outside of the left foot. Raise the trunk, lifting arms overhead and twist to the right, looking over your right shoulder.

Bend the trunk, this time touching the fingertips to the outside of the right foot. Raise the trunk, arms returning overhead, twist to the left and look over the left shoulder.

* * *

2. Another: The pendulum swing is slimming to the waist as well as to the hips and abdomen. Lie on the floor on your back with your legs straight and your arms resting on the floor, extending out from your side.

Cling to the floor with your fingertips. Swing the legs like the pendulum of a clock, back and forth. Keep the heels close to the floor. This is rather difficult. Rest in between swings at first.

For the waist: Bend trunk and touch fingertips outside of left foot. Raise trunk and twist to right, looking over right shoulder.

3. Simply stretching in bed in a lazy fashion before getting up in the morning can be pleasant as well as slimming. Raise your arms overhead. Stretch to the left by bending your trunk to the left as you move your legs to the left also. Feel the pull? Take your time and then stretch in the opposite direction.

* * *

If you would like to have my tested exercises for reducing the waist send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 6 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Entertainment for the spring dance of Temple Beth Jacob's Youth Group will be presented by (left to right) Donald Barnett of Cherokee road, Naomi Kantzer of Mohawk road, Rhoda Goldberg of James K boulevard and Judy Levine of Ottawa drive. The group is pictured at a recent rehearsal for the affair, scheduled for Saturday evening at the temple on Elizabeth Lake avenue.

A stepladder and a little muscle work are necessary for the success of any dance, and Jeff Siegel (left) of Menominee road and Edward Kantzer of Mohawk road are doing their part. They are working on decorations for the spring dance sponsored by the Youth Group of Temple Beth Jacob. A local orchestra will furnish music for the dance Saturday evening at the temple.

Coming Events

DeMolay Mothers Club will meet Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the Masonic Hall, Pike street.

Grand officers of Esther Court 13, Order of the Amaranth, will sponsor a card party Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Civics Room of Federal Savings and Loan Building on West Huron street. The public is invited.

Youth Dance to Feature Carnival Motif

An atmosphere of colorful carnival decorations and music in tune with the merry spirit of the carousel will prevail at the annual spring dance of the Youth Group of Temple Beth Jacob. The dance, Saturday evening at the temple, will feature a local orchestra.

* * *

In keeping with the carnival theme, the dance is called "CO-CA-CU Carousel," the first portion of the title, referring to Combined Campaign for College and Union.

Proceeds of the dance will be donated to this campaign, the fund that supports the national institutions of Reform Judaism. They are the Union of American Hebrew Congregations and the College instituted, the seminary which ordains reform rabbis.

Committees appointed by Judy Levine, president, are uner the general chairmanship of Edward Kantzer.

Ticket committee members are Dick Hartman and Dorothy Katchka; patonr committee, Rhoda Goldberg and Donald Barnett.

John Richman and Donald Barnett are arranging refreshments, and entertainment is being planned by Jeff Siegel and Dick Hartman, with Jeff Siegel also working on publicity with Michael Nosanchuk.

Decorations are being prepared by Joe Thome, Stanton Walker and Edward Kantzer.

Judy Levine is handling the dating and housing bureau.

Joel Thome arranged for the orchestra for the affair. Entertainment will be provided by members ofthe Youth Group.

Mix cooked green peas (drained and cooled) with minced onion, strips of pimiento and mayonnaise. Serve in lettuce cups for a different and delicious salad.

April 12 Party Planned by Club

A Get-Acquainted cocktail party is planned for April 12 by members of Birmingham Country Club. The party from 3 to 5 p.m. will be held at the Club.

Old Pros Favored as Masters Begins

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Can a newcomer win the 20th Masters, a golf classic which opened today with the biggest and best field in its brief but brilliant history?

The records say no. The golfers say no. And the sports writers say no. They lean toward the experience of a Cary Middlecoff, Sam Snead, Ben Hogan or Jimmy Demaret.

* * * *

But Ray O'Brien, tournament director of the Professional Golfers Assn., says yes.

"We have more fine young golfers on the tour this year than ever before, I believe," O'Brien said. "Several of them have the game to win the Masters, and I think one of them will."

He mentioned such circuit stars as Dow Finsterwald, Don Fairfield, Ernie Vossler, Lionel Hebert, Mike Fetchick, Billy Maxwell, Gene Littler and Mike Souchak.

Middlecoff, the defending champion who would like to become the first to win Masters titles in successive years, held out for experience—experience on the exacting Augusta National course, a favorite golfing retreat of President Eisenhower.

"I don't believe any of the boys who haven't played this course several years stand much chance," he said. "This is a course you have to know to be able to score well.

* * *

"I'd say Littler and Souchak have the best chance among the younger fellows. They've already played in two or thre Masters."

Middlecoff tried and failed nine times before he finally quaified for the bright green jacket symbolic of a Masters winner.

The sprawling Augusta National spread its 6,950 challenging yards before a record field of 84 for the opening round. Rich in tradition and packed with prestige, the Masters championship is one coveted by all golfers.

Par for the Augusta National is a standard 36-36—72.

The course itself, plus the terrific pressure generated in this classic, lend support to those who argue that again this year one of golf's old guard will emerge victorious.

* * *

Middlecoff, Snead, Demaret and Hogan have monopolized this event since 1949. Snead and Demaret are three-time winners.

Hogan has won twice and has been runner-up four times, including two playoffs he lost.

Bobby Jones, the grand slam king, came out of retirement in 1934 to help launch the Masters but neither he nor any other amateur ever has won.

This year's amateur field, 21 strong, is headed by Billy Joe Patton, Harvie Ward, Ken Venturi, Joe Conrad and Hillman Robbins. Foreign participants include Henry Cotton, three-time winner of the British Open; Roberto DeVicenzo, Argentine star now registering from Mexico City; and Canadians Al Balding and Stan Leonard.

* * *

The final round of the tournament comes Sunday and President Eisenhower, who has a cottage at the course, is scheduled to fly here Monday. In case of a tie, a playoff will be held Monday, forcing the President to delay his trip.

Portions of the tournament the last three days will be telecast nationally (CBS).

SNEAD COAXES ONE — Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., waves his putter over the ball as he misses a short putt on the 18th green during a practice round for the Masters Golf Tournament at August, Ga., yesterday. In the background Mike Souchak also does some coaxing standing on one foot. Tommy Bolt is at the right.

Cranbrook Walloped, 14-0

Danville (Va.) High School handed touring Cranbrook its worst drubbing on the Southern trip yesterday in taking a 14-0 decision from the Bloomfield Hills nine.

* * *

A three-run homer in the first inning by George Gover after an error and a walk was all the Virginians needed.

Pete Bedford was the starting pitcher with Dave Cooper of Birmingham taking over in the 5th.

For the third time, the Cranes left 10 men stranded on the base paths. Cranbrook managed by six scattered singles while Danville was driving out 16 base knocks.

* * *

Today the Cranes play the 6th game of the tour against the University of Virginia freshman team at Charlottesville.

Senator Hurler Has Rough Time at Start

CAMP GORDON, Ga. (AP)—Bunky Stewart needs more work before he'll be ready for steady pitching duty with the Washington Senators.

* * *

In his first start yesterday, Stewart gave up nine walks, let loose a wild pitch and yielded the Cincinnati Redlegs five runs in three innings. Stewart got a late start in spring training because of a broken toe.

Beat Tarheels, 4-2

UM in Dixie Semi-Finals

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — Tight pitching by righthander Bill Thurston gave underdog Michigan a 4-2 victory over North Carolina yesterday in an opening round game of the Dixie Baseball Classic.

Thurston struck out 10, allowed only six scattered hits and didn't walk a man in going the distance for the Wolverines. Both tar heel runs were unearned.

In other games Colgate polished off Duke 16-12, Wake Forest routed Loyola of New Orleans 11-5 at Wake Forest and North Carolina State shaded Amherst 6-5 in a game at Raleigh.

In championship semifinals today Wake Forest, 1955 NCAA champion, will meet N.C. State and Michigan will go against Colgate in a twi-night doubleheader at Durham athletic park.

* * *

Loyola plays Amherst and North Carolina meets Duke in a consolation doubleheader at Duke's Coombs Field.

Thurston, pitching nearly flawless ball, likely would have had a shutout except for an error and a misjudged fly in the Wolverine outfield that opened the way for tarheel runs in the 4th and 5th innings.

Michigan collected two runs off Jim Raugh in the 3rd on Thurston's walk and a home run by Bruce Fox that sailed nearly 450 feet into deep left field.

Steve Boros, a flashy sophomore from Flint, tripled in the 4th and crossed the plate on Bob Sealby's double. Fox scored Michigan's final run in the 8th.

Boros, outstanding in both the fielding and hitting departments, connected for three of the Wolverines' seven hits.

* * *

Coach Ray Fisher indicated he probably will start righthander Jack Clark in tonight's game with Colgate.

GRAPEFRUIT League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The National League season doesn't open for another 12 days, but the battle's already on between the world champion Brooklyn Dodgers and the Milwaukee Braves. Tempers have flared and Don Newcombe, tired of being called "gutless," is mad.

After a couple of squabbles that almost led to fist fights in the Braves' 7-5, 10-inning decision over the Brooks yesterday, Big Newk said today "Those guys (he meant the Milwaukees) sit around all night saying how gutless our pitchers are—especially me.

"Well, we'll see about that tomorrow."

Newcombe, who won 20 games last season before going sour at the end of the schedule, is slated to face the Braves at Chattanooga tomorrow as the two NL contenders continue their eight - game homeward tour from Florida. They play at New Orleans today.

Elsewhere, extra-curricular activities were chucked in favor of baseball.

The Cleveland Indians beat the New York Giants 2-0 behind the five-hit pitching of Bob Lemon, a safe bet to open the season for the Tribe, and Bob Feller although held to only three hits—all ground-rule doubles—by the Giants' Joe Margoneri, Windy McCall and Jim Constable.

Cincinnati and Washington each had only five hits, but the Redlegs ran away with a 5-0 decision after getting nine walks from Bunky Stewart.

The New York Yankees belted Robin Roberts for all their runs in the fourth, including a two-run homer by rookie Lou Skizas, but lost to the Philadelphia Phils 4-3. The Phils scored three in the eighth off Bob Grim.

Pittsburgh got three runs in the second off Art Ceccarelli and beat Kansas City 4-2 with Roberto Clemente getting 3-for-3. And Baltimore, paced by Jim Pyburn's two homers, walloped the Chicago Cubs 15-4. One of Pyburn's clouts was a first-inning grandslam off Paul Minner.

Skippers' 3-Sport Star

Roller Skating Helped Him in Sports

Gary Meeker, 17-year-old Waterford High School student, made the leap from the roller skating rink to three Skipper athletic teams with the greatest of ease.

As a freshman and sophomore at Waterford, Gary spent most of his time on roller skates before getting the urge to participate in athletics.

He held down an end position on the football team, completed in the pole vault and hurdles on the track squad and worked his way to the captaincy of the basketball team.

His roller skating achievements date back to 1952 when he won honors in state and regional competition as a 13-year-old.

* * *

In 1953 Gary made his mark on the national scene at Cleveland winning a first in the junior pair with Martha Lee Rodgers as his partner.

He also placed second in figure skating singles, and third in free style.

In the National finals at Denver in 1954, he and Miss Rodgers placed second as a duet and second in figure skating.

* * *

Activity in high school athletics kept him busy last year but despite lack of practice he still skated his way to the national finals at Toledo.

His father Ursul believes that roller skating has played a large part in developing Gary in athletics, giving him coordination and balance.

SKATING HONORS — Gary Meeker displays the trophies he won in state and national competition on the roller rink. He is also a member of the football, basketball and track teams at Waterford High School.

Average 1955 college basketball game required a time of one hour 17 minutes.

Farm Compromise Gets Polished Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate-House conference committee turned today to polishing up a controversial election-year farm bill with most of its major provisions already determined.

Tentative agreement late yesterday on a program for supporting corn and other livestock feed grains left only minor compromises ahead in the committee's effort to rewrite two widely differing farm bills into a singe measure.

* * *

Still ahead, if the bill is to become law, is the need for first House and then Senate approval and for President Eisenhower's signature on a measure which now contains many provisions he has opposed.

Hollywood Headlines:

Jo Van Fleet Remembers Rough Road to Success

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—When Jo Van Fleet received the supporting actress Oscar from Edmond O'Brien, it was a special thrill for her.

* * *

She remembered back to her days as a struggling actress, when there was more struggle than acting. One of the jobs she took to tide her over between acting jobs was theater ushering. She ushered for a wartime show, "Winged Victory," and one of the stars was Edmond O'Brien.

THOSE WHO HELPED

Miss Van Fleet, who struggled for 10 years with little success, remembered a lot of people who have helped her along the way. The person who really started her was DeMarcus Brown, drama teacher at College of the Pacific at Stockton, Calif. When she attended the college, he urged her to try her luck in New York.

* * *

"At that time, New York seemed like another world to me," the Oakland-born actress recalls. "But he kept at me until he convinced me to go."

After she won the Academy Award, she telephoned her former teacher to offer her thanks for his help. "This," he said through his tears, "makes up for whatever disappointments I may have had in the teaching profession."

* * *

Miss Van Fleet admitted the list of all of those who have helped her along the way would be a long one. Principal among them are director Elia Kazan and producer Cheryl Crawford, "who gave me what I needed when I was at my low points — not money, but hope."

VARIETY OF JOBS

During those lean periods, she worked as receptionist, usher, office worker, even behind a soda fountain. And she taught at the neighborhood playhouse, where she studied when she first went to New York.

* * *

It was Kazan who selected her for "East of Eden," her first film and the Oscar winner for her. She had appeared in a couple of his plays and had studied under him at the Actor's Studio. She did a screen test for him, portraying the dissolute mother of James Dean.

* * *

Miss Van Fleet is now doing her fourth film role, "Gunfight at OK Corral." Unlike "Eden," "The Rose Tattoo" and "I'll Cry Tomorrow," this one doesn't portray her as a mother. But she's a shady lady again) She's Kirk Douglas' mistress.

* * *

She plays her own age this time (it's somewhere in the early 30s). It might surprise fans to learn that she is younger than Susan Hayward, who portrayed her daughter in "I'll Cry Tomorrow."

British Papers See Allies Out of Step

LONDON (AP) — British newspapers expressed the alarmed view today that British and U.S. policies in the Middle East are getting more and more out of step.

* * *

The Conservative Daily Mail said from President Eisenhower's news conference remarks on the subject yesterday, "It appears the United States has retreated still farther from support of Britain's tough line in the danger area."

"Until the United States adopts a more realistic approach to the Mideast crisis," the Mail asserted, "it is pointed out that Britain is the only country prepared to intervene immediately if war breaks out between the Arabs and Israel."

* * *

The Daily Telegraph, another strong supporter of Prime Minister Eden's Conservative government, said Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser is trying to picture Britain and other Western nations as plunderers of the oil of the Arab states.

Lumber Harvest Vast

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP)—The lumber harvested from national forests in Region 1 in 1955 would build 140,000 average homes, says Regional Forester P. D. Hanson. The 970 million board feet cut in the region, which covers several northwestern states, was valued at about $6,600,000.

Find Child in Woods

LUDINGTON (AP)—More than 200 volunteers and Mason County sheriff's men scoured a wooded area three miles north of Ludington Wednesday night in a search for 2½-year-old Jeana Ray Borgh. After a three hour hunt they found her a mile and a half from her farm home, chilled by the night air but otherwise unharmed. The girl had wandered away from her home in South Hamlin Township. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Borgh.

Charlotte Band Tops

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Charlotte (Michigan) High School band captured first place yesterday in the Cherry Blossom Festival school band contest. The unit scored 850 points out of a possible 1,000.

Heart Disease Triumph Hinted

Specialist Sees End of Fatal Sickness by Turn of Century

LOS ANGELES (INS) — A noted specialist predicts flatly that medical science will triumph over heart disease by the turn of the century.

Dr. Arthur M. Master, consulting cardiologist for several eastern hospitals, outlined at a Los Angeles news conference the advances being made in the field of heart ailments and declared:

"There will be no more coronary diseases by the year 2000!"

The specialist said great progress which has been made in the field of biochemistry as it pertains to heart disease and new drugs, including the so-called "tranquilizers," have worked wonders.

Dr. Master said it will become the duty of doctors, psychiatrists and psychologists to "lessen the world pressures upon the public."

Red Bulgaria Seeking U.S. Diplomatic Ties

WASHINGTON (INS)—Communist Bulgaria wants to pick up diplomatic relations with the United States again.

Informed sources in the state department said the Sofia government made verbal overtures through its legation in Paris and that similar unofficial action has been taken in Washington.

Diplomatic ties were severed in 1950 when Bulgaria sought to implicate Donald R. Heath, then U.S. minister to Bulgaria, in an alleged

San Francisco Leads All in Top Alcoholism Rate

By FRANK CAREY

WASHINGTON (AP)—San Francisco had "by far" the highest rate of alcoholism among the nation's big cities in 1950, two Yale University researchers have reported.

* * *

New York, Detroit and St. Louis weren't even in the first 25, according to a survey by alcoholism researchers Mark Keller and Vera Efron. They reported their findings in the Quarterly Journal of Studies on Alcohol.

* * *

They said San Francisco showed a rate of 4,190 "alcoholics with complications" for each 100,000 adult population. Next closest were Sacramento, Calif., with a rate of 2,780, and Louisville, Ky., 2,380.

* * *

They defined "alcoholics with complications" as those "who have developed recognizable physical or mental symptons due to excessive drinking." The researchers said estimates are that for every such alcoholic there are three other chronic, excessive drinkers without such complications.

* * *

The survey covered cities of 100,000 population or over. The rates were figured on the basis of adult population 20 years of age or over. The 1950 figures were said to be the most recent available. The scientists said it is generally known that alcoholism is more prevalent in urban areas than in rural ones.

* * *

"But the factors, whatever they may be, which make up the urbanism that associates with alcoholism," they said, "do not appear to correspond closely with population density."

"Thus, it is possible for a city between 100,000 and 200,000 inhabitants, as Wilmington, Del., or Sacramento, to show a much higher rate of alcoholism than a metropolis of millions, as Chicago or New York.

* * *

"The psychological or cultural factors which influence the regional rates of alcoholism await elucidation by social scientists."

Man Sues, Claiming Attack by Game Cock

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—A 61-year-old man charged in a $100,000 damage suit that a game cock attacked him, causing him to fall to a floor and suffer permanent injuries.

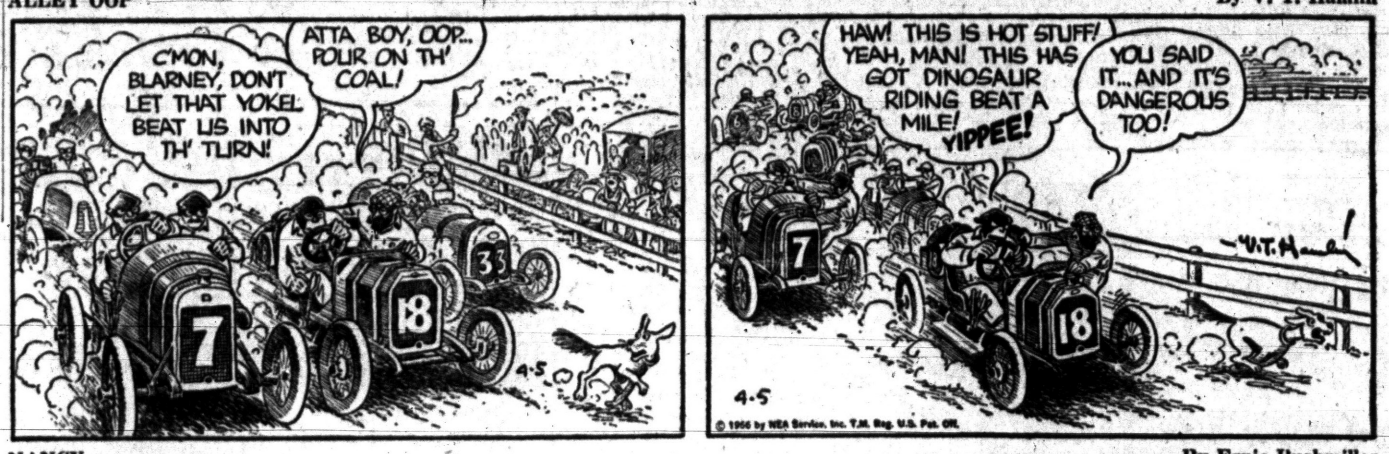

Cecil P. Dickson, former head of a St. Petersburg coffee firm, charged that he called at the place of business of Ernest Atkins, a paper dealer, in 1952 and was attacked by the cock.

Dickson said the fighting cock "did continue his viciuos attack upon the plaintiff" after he had fallen to the floor, "pecking, scratching and tearing at the flesh."

Farm Income Drops 2 Points in March

LANSING (AP) — The index of prices received by Michigan farmers declined 2 points during the month ending in mid-March, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service said today.

The index now stands at 217, based on a 1910-1914 control of 100 points, a decline of 16 points from a year ago.

Lower calf and wholesale milk prices were primarily responsible for the drop since mid-February, the service reported.

The livestock index was down 9 points below a year ago, due mainly to lower prices for dry beans.

The all crops index was 25 points below a year ago, due mainly to lower prices for dry beans.

Pontiac Sales Show Late March Upturn

An upsurge in spring buying boosted Pontiac new car sales approximately 40 per cent during the last ten-day period in March, R. M. Critchfield, Pontiac general manager, announced today.

"Sales for the period set a new record for the year of over 14,200 for the period," Critchfield said.

Used car sales were up 33 per cent over the preceding period, totaling 29,878. This is a 28-days supply indicating a very strong used car market.

Young Purse Snatchers Rob Pontiac Woman

A woman two houses from home last night was set upon by two youths who forced her against a hedge fence, stole her purse and escaped running east on Gage street, according to Pontiac police.

Mrs. Joseph Thouin, of 58 Gage said she was walking home about 9:30 p.m. when the pair approached, walking the opposite way.

Only $3 in change plus a $16 check were in the purse, she said. One youth was described as six feet tall and the other of medium height. Both wore light colored jackets, Mrs. Thouin believed.

Patient Flips Twice

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (AP)—A woman patient got a surpise when she flipped a switch in the corridor of Middlesex General Hospital. She expected a light to go on. Instead, four fire engines responded. She had turned in a fire alarm.

Prices Higher in Early Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Prices were higher in early stock market dealings today but the rise didn't get very far.

* * *

Best prices were up 1 to 2 points, and there were losses to around a point, but the bulk of changes were quite small.

* * *

Oils were outstanding for activity with moderate gains. The oils sparked a late rally yesterday that turned the market higher at the close. Talk of possible price increases for oil sweetened sentiment in that division.

* * *

Higher with the oils today were the steels, most chemicals, building materials and railroads. Other divisions were mixed. There were no definitely lower sections.

* * *

Phillips Petroleum made good progress following news that the company has test fired a new rocket fule.

* * *

Babcock & Wilcox, off 4 points yesterday at 124, gained 8½ points today within a short time.

Trading was fast at the start and brought out a number of blocks. Among them were Midwest Oil 1,300 up 1⅝ at 36½, Pacific Western Oil 1,300 off ½ at 48¾, Studebaker-Packard 1,100 up ⅜ at 8⅞, Panhandle Oil 3,500 up ¼ at 14⅝, Bethlemem Steel 1,700 up ⅞ at 166½, Standard Oil (NJ) 6,000 off ⅝ at 61½, General Motors 3,500 up ⅛ at 45¾, Pure Oil 1,500 up ½ at 50¾, General Tire 1,900 up 1¼ at 66, and American Smelting 1,700 up ¾ at 56¼.

Dealers Hope It's Temporary

Trend in Car Purchasing Is Awareness of Prices

Automakers hope it's temporary phenomenon, but the new car sales prospect for 1956 is becoming increasingly price conscious, according to Ward's Automotive Reports.

The prospective buyer, according to the periodical, is more selective in choosing accessories and is bending his favor toward six-cylinder engines. He's also buying less-expensive models at the strongest clip in years.

"The trend, by no means of alarming proportions, has been growing since January," Ward's states. "Automakers label it a temporary phenomenon, but one that may promht a switch in advertising emphasis from 'price' to 'quality'."

Among possible reasons cited by the publication is the average $100 boost in 1956 car prices tightening of credit terms, and the absence of any major change in styling.

"At one low-priced Big Three producer, output of the highest-priced luxury line dipped from 48 per cent through January to 45 per cent in March," Ward's reported.

Accessories such as windshield washers are reportedly meeting with sales resistance. "Nor is the industry's styling sensation, the four-door hardtop sedan enjoying the expected runaway," Ward's pointed out.

Exceptions to the trend appear to be in items like station wagons, automatic transmission and power steering, the publication concluded.

Westinghouse Head Cites Strike Losses

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Gwilym A. Price, president and board chairman of Westinghouse Electric Corp., told stockholders yesterday that a 5-month strike cut 300 million dollars out of expected shipments.

Speaking at the 70th annual shareholders meeting, Price said: "Operating results in January and February indicate a loss for the first three months of 1956 of somewhat more than a dollar a share.

"I am sure you recognize that with production just getting underway at many of our plants it is impossible to forecast accurately what the results are likely to be in the second quarter."

The big electric appliance firm—14th largest corporation in the country—just recently reached agreement with two unions ending the longest major strike in the nation in 20 years.

Mysterious Blast Shakes Florida Coast Residents

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—A mysterious explosion over the Gulf of Mexico shook buildings and frightened residents along 70 miles of the Florida west coast last night.

The St. Petersburg Times said that bombs dropped by an Air Force plane created the disturbance.

The Times quoted a military spokesman as saying the pilot of the plane thought he was farther out to sea than he actually was on a practice mission.

The spokesman, who declined to be quoted by name, said the pilot reported that he discharged 10 bombs, two of which exploded.

Buildings were shaken along the coastline for about 70 miles and many residents said they were frightened by the "mysterious explosions" which were accompanied by bright flashes about 9 p.m.

Award Contracts on Lincoln Plant

Firms Launch Erection of Novi Manufacturing, Office Buildings

Construction contracts for the Lincoln Division's future general office building and manufacturing plant in Novi Township have been awarded to three firms, according to General Manager Ben D. Mills.

General contract for the one-story 1,300,000 square-foot manufacturing plant was awarded the W. E. Wood Construction Co. of Detroit, which is currently laying the foundation. Included in the contract is a quarter-mile oval test track.

Work on the three-story 200,000 square-foot general office building, which will employ the lift-slab method of construction, was started last month by the Long Construction Co. Long will also build a power plant to supply both the plant and office building.

Sugden and Sivier, Inc., of Detroit, began grading the 325-acre plant site in December and is expected to complete its work late this spring. More than 250,000 cubic yards of dirt have been moved to date.

Included in the facilities are four cafeterias, two dining rooms, an 800-line telephone switchboard and complete teletype and duplicating systems.

Completion of the plant and office building is scheduled for the spring of 1957.

Business Notes

The appointment of Chris J. Edmonds to the Buick public relations staff has been announced by company officials. Edmonds formerly was West Coast sports editor for the Associated Press.

The new appointee started his newspaper career as a reporter on the Milwaukee Sentinel in 1937 and has spent 12 years with the Associated Press.

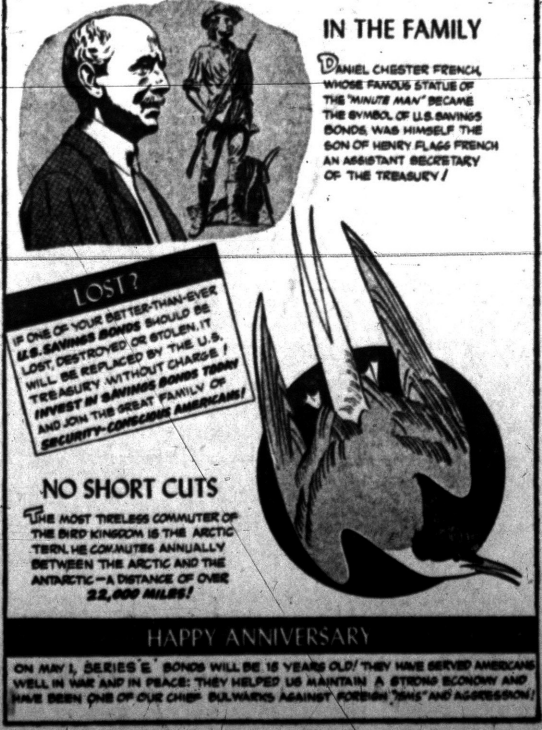

Edward D. Lee and Robert Johnson, of Lee's Sales and Service, recently were graduated from a course on the professional care of gasoline engines at the Clinton Machine Co. Service School in Maquoketa, Iowa.

Both were awarded diplomas at ceremonies last month.

Emery B. Stolt, of 7225 Ormond Rd., Davisburg, will attend a four-day meeting of top-ranking state and district managers of the Modern Woodmen of America in Washington, D.C., next week.

Manager of the insurance firm's Davisburg district, Stolt recently was among 100 Modern Woodmen agents who were honored for record premium and new business production in 1955, according to company officials.
