Swainson Asks 3 Per Cent State Income Tax

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Swainson today formally unveiled a sweeping new tax program geared to a 3 per cent flat rate tax on personal and corporate income.

He asked the legislature to boost taxes on individuals by $125 million a year and to cut the net levy on business and industry by $107 million.

A suggestion that Swainson's tax package be submitted to the people for a vote at the April 3 election was greeted coldly today by the governor.

The referendum proposal was made by Rep. Don R. Pears, Republican House speaker, while Swainson was delivering his tax message to a joint session of the legislature.

Pears said: "The only thing I would possibly consider is placing this whole package before the people at the April 3 election so they can determine whether they want to make this wholesale shift in our tax structure and impose an income tax on themselves."

Swainson termed Pears' statement as "an unrealistic approach," and added that the responsibility for the state's fiscal program lies with the legislature.

The new Chief Executive, appearing personally before a joint session of the House and Senate, proposed a $17 million increase in state aid to counties and local governments.

He also recommended legislation allowing local units to levy a maximum one per cent income tax on top of the proposed state income levies.

The Democratic governor described his nine-point tax blueprint as an attempt to revitalize the state's economy, presently saddled with 320,000 jobless workers, 11.5 per cent of the work force.

"Economic growth is the single most important area of concern that faces us," he told the lawmakers.

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Swainson's blueprint for tax revision, based on a three per cent personal and corporate income tax, met heavy blasts from Republican legislators today.

Democrats generally supported it.

Even before the Democratic governor wound up his tax message to the legislature, GOP lawmakers began issuing denunciations.

"The governor isn't going to get anywhere with any kind of income tax, either with Republicans or Democrats," said Sen. Carlton H. Morris, R-Kalamazoo, who led the historic 1959 fight against passage of an income levy.

Even before the Democratic governor wound up his tax message to the legislature, GOP lawmakers began issuing denunciations.

"The sooner he forgets an income tax, the sooner we will get a solution to the fiscal problems of Michigan," said Morris, who didn't bother to attend the joint legislative session to hear Swainson's proposals.

The Democratic floor leader, Rep. Joseph J. Kowalski of Detroit, called the proposal "a very courageous move on the part of the governor to achieve fiscal reform."

"The people will support it too as soon as they read it and understand it," he said.

Sen. Raymond Dendzel, D-Detroit, labeled it "fair and equitable to the people and to the business community."

State Revenue officials estimated the three per cent personal income tax would yield $230 million a year.

The bite on individual taxpayers would be lessened by exempting food and drugs from the four per cent sales tax at a loss of $85 million.

The income tax would be pegged to federal income tax laws, including the $500 allowance for the taxpayer and his dependents.

The three per cent corporate profits tax, also based on similar federal laws, would produce an estimated $65 million but the gain would be offset by repeal of the business activities tax.

Exemption of machinery, equipment, inventories and other items from the personal property tax base would cut tax revenues paid by business and industry to local governments by $266 million a year.

The governor proposed to make up the $123 million loss by substituting a specific nine-half state aid to local welfare programs by $12 million annually. "The state would assume the entire cost of direct relief after counties and the city of Detroit had spent the equivalent of one mill of the state equalized property values, excluding the personal property tax."

Under the current arrangement, the state takes over full payment after local governments spend an amount adding up to 1½ mills, including personal property levies. Prior to that, local governments pay for 70 per cent of welfare costs and the state 30 per cent.

Liner Sails Into Recife— Rebels Granted Asylum

$6½ Million Budget Adopted by Commission

City Tax Rate to Rise by 33 Cents From 1960—$13.60 Per Thousand

By PETE LOCHBILER

A $6,571,868 budget, based on an anticipated 1961 tax rate of $13.60 for every $1,000 of assessed valuation, was adopted by the City Commission last night.

Budget estimates and the proposed 33-cent increase in municipal taxes are founded on a tax base of about $290 million, a rise of about $9 million over last year.

The budget is $94,651 over that of 1960. The proposed tax levy of $3,538,290 is $218,563 higher than that of last year.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said that salary increases under the 1960 pay plan accounted for about $300,000 of the budget increase.

Another $50,000 in adjustments for 1961 was included in contingency funds. Employee representatives have agreed to apply the increase to hospitalization benefits, he said.

Two other items in the $116,228 contingency fund are:

A $20,000 allocation for financing of a master plan for downtown Pontiac redevelopment, to be matched by funds raised by downtown merchants.

A second item of $25,000 to the Greater Pontiac Centennial Commission to finance the June 17-24 centennial observance. The money is to be repaid, as much as possible, out of centennial revenues.

Improvement Funds Cuts

As they decided last week, commissioners attempted to hold down the 1961 tax increase by slashing capital improvement funds by $115,000 in anticipation of a slack year for neighborhood improvements.

Instead of raising about $1,015,000 through a full $2.50 capital improvement levy, they plan on around $900,000 under a partial $2.10 levy.

MISSING THE BOAT—Charles Bonny, French magazine photographer, bobs in the Atlantic after attempting to parachute onto the hijacked liner Santa Maria Tuesday. He missed by nearly a mile and spent more than 20 minutes in the water before being rescued by an American ship. Another French newsman also missed, but both eventually boarded the Santa Maria. It sailed into Recife harbor this morning.

1st Minuteman Flight Complete Success

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A Minuteman missile, America's hope for a gushbutton war weapon, scored an amazing success on its first test flight today.

A jubilant Air Force reported 20 minutes after the 11 a.m. EST launching that all three stages of the missile had fired successfully and that the rocket had landed on target in the south Atlantic Ocean, more than 4,000 miles away.

The Air Force had gone all out on the initial firing of this second generation intercontinental missile, which will be launched from the continental United States.

Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff, called the success "one of the most significant steps this nation has ever taken toward gaining intercontinental missile supremacy in the critical years just ahead."

Never before had so many rocket components been tested on a first launching here. All three solid fuel stages, the guidance system and nose cone were tested today. The distance covered was just 2,000 miles short of the intended operational range of 6,300 miles.

This was the first time that all stages of a military rocket were manufactured by different contractors. Thikral made the first stage, Aerojet the second and Hercules the third. Boeing Aircraft Co. is assembly and test manager.

"Anything beyond the first stage will be strictly a bonus," a project official said. "We decided to go for broke on the first launch because success would cut the test program by several months."

Previous multistage military rocket programs here started with testing of only one stage and worked up to the full configuration, gradually weaving in guidance, nose cone and other refinements.

The Air Force plans to have Minuteman ready for combat by mid-1962.

Once the missile is perfected, the Air Force plans the fastest buildup in missile history with at least 600 Minutemen to be deployed by 1964. About 60 of these will be spread across the western United States in underground silos designed to survive a near miss by a nuclear bomb. The remainder will be on special rail-road trains.

Approach Stirs Demonstrations, Police Patrols

Ship Earlier Had Stood Offshore on Account of Ambiguous Welcome

RECIFE, Brazil (UPI)—Rebel leader Henrique Galvao sailed the captured cruise ship Santa Maria into Recife harbor today to discharge the 600 captive passengers, touching off street demonstrations for and against the Portuguese government.

Galvao had halted at the entrance to the harbor this morning.

LISBOA, Portugal (AP)—Two Portuguese organizations today appealed to President Kennedy to use his influence to free the crew of the captured liner Santa Maria.

Until President Janio Quadros offered political asylum to him and his band of 70 rebels who seized the ship on Jan. 22. Then when high tide arrived he began moving toward the quay.

Heavy police patrols were placed around Dock 4 where Galvao was to be up to discharge the passengers, some of whom have wandered the high seas in the Portuguese luxury liner since they sailed from Lisbon last Jan. 9.

UPI Correspondent Almeida Edo reported from the port area that the Santa Maria was in front of Dock 4 by early afternoon.

The docking process was expected to take some time, and it was not certain when the first passengers would come ashore.

The harbor area was a scene of great confusion with crowds (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

News Flashes

MUSKOGEE (AP)—A staggering, muscular blow was confirmed for Muskogee today by an announcement that Norgie Division of Borg-Warner Corp. was moving its facilities to Fort Smith, Ark. Judson Sayre, chairman of the Borg-Warner board, said the move will come sometime near July.

ATLANTA (UPI)—Several thousand Negro students marched on downtown Atlanta today to mark the 50th anniversary of the start of the sit-in movement against segregation at Southern lunch counters.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Police said today that investigation of a $31,000 theft from President Kennedy's sister Patricia, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Lawrence J. Kennedy, had led to the break-up of an international ring of hotel burglars whose lost totals hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Mr. Ham Cries: 'I'm Hungry'

HIS BONUS... AN APPLE — Ham, the space chimp, reaches out from his couch to take an apple as his first food after the 420-mile ride aboard a Redstone rocket from a crewman aboard the USS Donner at sea. The chimpanzee was fired Tuesday from Cape Canaveral, Fla., riding a Redstone rocket, and "happy" today after his harrowing trip.

Peppy Chimp Back at U.S. Home Base

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Winding up a space flight with a chipper, cheerful handshake, a chimpanzee called Ham today signaled a go-ahead for man to enter space safely.

The happy space chimp returned to the United States in an airplane, landing at 1:10 p.m. (Pontiac time) at Patrick Air Force Base, Fla.

The largest animal ever sent aloft, Ham's trip 155 miles high and 420 miles southeast into the Atlantic into the rescuing hands of the U.S. Navy carried several main significances.

1. It indicates manned space flight is feasible. An American astronaut is scheduled, this spring to duplicate Ham's daring flight.

2. The Soviets appear likely to win the race to be first to orbit a man around the earth.

3. A very slight misfiring in the rocket system hurling out Ham's capsule may well prompt further tests with or without a chimp aboard, before a man goes up. But this also produced valuable dividends.

HAM IN FINE SHAPE

4. Ham himself is reported in excellent shape, a smart 37 pounds of amiability.

Picked from the sea by a helicopter from the USS Donner, he shook hands with the veterinarian who greeted him when his on-board space capsule was unlocked three hours after launching.

After a medical checkup, Ham drew a bonus of a banana and a bit more apple on top of his scientifically prescribed menu.

His flight was one of graduated steps in a National Aeronautics and Space Administration program hopefully intended to put an American astronaut into several round trips about the earth in 1961.

GRAVITY LIKE CRAZY

In a big first step, Ham twice felt the crushing weight of increased gravity. Taking off, he weighed seven times more than on earth, and on coming down at a 5,000-mile per hour clip into the atmosphere was subjected to forces 12 times normal gravity.

Fear 9 Dead in Plunge

MILAN (AP)—Nine persons were feared drowned today and 36 were injured when a computer bus bringing workers to their jobs in Milan plunged into nine feet of water in a roadside canal.

Russian Envoy to U.S. Asks to See Bowles

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Soviet Ambassador Mikhail A. Mes, asked arranged to call at the State Department today for the first time since the Kennedy administration took office.

The Department said Mes-shov asked to see Undersecretary of State Chester Bowles at 4 p.m. EST.

The visit was described as a "courtesy call" and officials said they did not know if the Soviet ambassador had any particular business to discuss.

Set Government to Buck Fidel?

Foes Seen Heartened by JFK Talk, May Plan Mountain 'Coalition'

HAVANA (UPI) — Foes of President Kennedy, heartened by President Kennedy's State of the Union speech, were said today to be planning to form a "coalition government" in the mountains of Central Cuba.

Informal sources said anti-Castro leaders were confident the militiamen who have been cordoning off rebel positions in the Escambray Mountains for weeks would never be able to dislodge them from their mountain strongholds.

Travelers from Central Cuba said skirmishes between the militia and the rebels were almost nightly, but reliable sources said Castro forces are making no effort to advance into the mountains.

Official secrecy veiled details of casualties inflicted by the nightly clashes.

Government authorities have been moving militiamen into the Escambray area from all over Cuba, and there have been recurrent reports that a government offensive is imminent.

There have been some indications that the government is having trouble with its own forces.

Teacher Makes a Hit

LONDON (UPI) — Mrs. Judith Slater, a student driver, and her instructor, Joseph Keogh, each were fined $20 because she obeyed his instructions to drive through an intersection. Their car collided with another auto.

MICHIGAN EMBLEM — The Wolverine state's proud, and cheery robin takes on a new look this year as he heralds the approach of the 1961 Michigan Week to be observed next May 21-27. This year the state's official bird, which has been the symbol of seven previous state celebrations, is pictured, with a new band leader's cap as he leads the parade with a banner proclaiming the 1961 slogan, "Michigan Marching Forward." The emblem will be used on all advertising and promotional materials.

Col. Rogers Combines Fun, Work

MOUNT CLEMENS (UPI) — Breaking the sound barrier at one end is the vocation of Col. Robert Rogers.

Breaking it at the other end is his avocation.

Fresh from an off-duty stint of singing-the-hoop lead of Ostin in Mozart's Seraglio with the Detroit Opera theater group during January, Col. Rogers took over officially today as base commander at Selfridge Air Force Base here.

In his own words, the singing colonel became housekeeper and shepherd to 7,000 personnel at Selfridge who make the base tick as a supersonic jet-fighter plane base.

"The job of base commander is a wrap-up of all the other jobs on a base that nobody else wants," said Rogers modestly. Actually, it is the key post that keeps the base running smoothly and efficiently.

He supervises the operations of the air police, the food commissaries, housing, the engineer squadron, the maintenance of operations squadron, all communications, chaplain and other personal service, recreation and post exchange.

Scientists estimate there are upwards of 10 billion tons of gold in the sea.

Reflector Repeal Bill Introduced

LANSING (UPI) — Two Republican senators today renewed a drive to repeal the state's reflectorized license plate law.

Introduction of a repealer bill by Sens. John H. Stahlin, R-Belling, and Elmer R. Porter, R-Birmingham, may knock off one of the liveliest scraps of the 1961 session.

The law was passed in 1959 amid protests that it was unnecessary and would benefit only the one Minnesota firm that manufactures the special reflectorized paint required. It was designed to improve nighttime visibility on the highways.

Some lawmakers complained of undue lobbying pressures.

Stahlin estimated the reflectorizing process would cost $2 million a year.

"One testing laboratory even questioned whether it is effective," he said.

The 35-cent fee to cover the treating process was added to the cost of license plates last spring. The legislature, however, made no appropriation to finance the operation and the special fee went into the state's general fund.

There is no provision for a refund.

Meanwhile, Secretary of State James M. Hare is going ahead with plans to produce the state's first new license plate in three years without knowing whether they will be reflectorized or not.

Broadcasters Reach Agreement on Pact

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI) — Negotiators for the National Broadcasting Co. and engineers and technicians reached an agreement this morning on a new three-year contract.

Negotiations continued between the union and the American Broadcasting Co.

The contract between NBC and representatives of the National Association of Broadcast Employees and Technicians was reached shortly after 4 a.m., ending a month continuous bargaining session that began early Tuesday.

It's Goodbye By-Line!

AUGUSTA, Maine (UPI) — A bill that would have required newspaper editors to carry the writer's by-line was rejected by the state senate.

Use, Sales Tax Record in State

Receipts for December Business Up 6.4 Pct. Over Previous Year

LANSING (AP) — State sales and use tax collections in January on December business hit a record, the State Revenue Department reports.

Collections totaled $36,556,231. The previous high was the $34,351,219 collected during the same month a year ago.

"Despite all the talk about a recession, this indicates people were still buying through December," said Clarence W. Lock, state revenue commissioner.

The collections were $1,265,115 higher than the previous year, an increase of 6.4 per cent. About $1 million of the increase, Lock said, could be attributed to several changes in the sales tax law not in effect a year ago, including increases in telephone rates and on government contracts.

"This still leaves about a $12 million increase, or around 3 1/2 per cent," he said.

There was almost no change in automotive sales, Lock said, all of the increase coming from taxes on other items. Some of the increase, he said, might have been the result of last-minute buying to avoid the sales tax jump from

BEARDS RAISE PROTEST — Five of the 12 jury members sport beards in a Montgomery, Ala., courtroom Tuesday, as they listen to the opening testimony of Mayor Earl James' $500,000 libel suit against the New York Times and four Negro ministers. The beards, not an unfamiliar sight on Pontiac streets these days, are for the Civil War centennial in Montgomery. The judge rejected a Times argument that such pro-South sentiment would affect an impartial trial.

three to four cents. The higher rate went into effect Jan. 1.

The February collections on January business will be the first to reflect the penny sales-tax increase.

Takes More Than Safe to Stop These Burglars

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — Two months ago, burglars stole some expensive office machines from Williams Coal Co. When company officials bought replacements, they put them in a heavy safe at night. Tuesday night, burglars used one of the company's trucks to haul away the safe — with the new office machines.

Moscow Paper Praises Kennedy's Union Speech

MOSCOW (AP) — The government newspaper Izvestia Tuesday commended President Kennedy's "most clearly expressed" concern about the state of the Union and promised him full support in seeking to ease international tension.

It added that this could be expected to take some time. The comment, buried in a full page general news review, was the first public expression on the President's State of the Union Message.

An extended digest of this was published in morning papers, but without comment.

Izvestia noted that the world's political weather is determined by relations between the United States and the Soviet Union and added its usual claim that "it is not our fault that dark clouds are found there."

Izvestia agreed that it would "take time to eliminate all the debris burdening American-Soviet relations" but added that the Soviet Union took one step by liberating the two RMR files.

The President followed suit by ordering cessation of flights over the Soviet Union, Izvestia noted. Izvestia omitted stating that this order had been first issued by President Eisenhower.

The paper said that Kennedy had taken another favorable step in "severely controlling" statements of generals and admirals.

"The future will show," Izvestia said, "whether the new government of the United States will take the road of lessening international tension."

World Almanac, 1961 Volume, Full of Facts

NEW YORK — Two major domestic events of 1960 — the presidential election and the decennial census — give special importance to The World Almanac and Book of Facts for 1961, just published. In accordance with its custom of nearly 80 years, the World Almanac publishes comprehensive returns from all the states, with the latest figures tabulated by counties and compared with the returns of the election of 1956.

It also gives the totals for all parties in elections since 1900, and the results in contests for Congress and governors.

The second valuable feature of the new World Almanac is the report of the census, published for the first time in history in the same year of the "big count" because the Bureau of the Census is able to use the new tabulating machinery.

The population reports of this annual always have been the most comprehensive of any encyclopedia of its size. The new volume presents not only the population of states and cities, but of metropolitan areas.

And in 2 sections that have proved the most useful, it publishes the 1960 population of places of over 2,500 population, compared with their figures for 1950, to demonstrate the tremendous expansion of the country.

The World Almanac and Book of Facts for 1961, now in its 76th year, is published by the New York World-Telegram and Sun, 896 pages, in two formats, paperback and clothbound.

To Fight Segregation Throughout the U.S.

NEW YORK (UPI) — James Farmer, newly appointed national director of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), Tuesday announced plans to attack racial segregation throughout the nation.

Farmer, a founding member of CORE who took part in the nation's first Negro sit-in demonstration in 1945, also said the organization would utilize "nationally coordinated boycotts" against companies that discriminate against Negroes.

Farmer, who was CORE's first national chairman, was appointed to the newly established post of national director Tuesday.

He told a news conference CORE will concentrate on different goals in different parts of the country.

Scouts 'Take Over' Michigan Government

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Swainson, a former Eagle scout, will temporarily give up his executive seat next Tuesday as part of the annual Scouts in Government Day.

Boy scouts throughout the state will spend the day learning the functions of state, county and local government.

Richard Hautau of East Lansing, also an Eagle scout, will be the boy scout governor.

'Not Fair to People,' He Says

Law Joins Slap at Committee Divvy

Assigned mostly to "dead committees that never meet," Rep. Don R. Pears had told him that Arthur J. Law, D-Pontiac, joined other Democrats in attacking the Republicans monopoly on choice committees.

The second-term representative "It would be much fairer to the people if they were spread around," Law said.

At the same time, Pears handed all four Republican Oakland County state representatives — two of them freshmen legislators — chairmanships.

Over in the Senate, where continuing Republicans tried earlier to ease the tension with Democrats by allowing them one more member on committees, Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, will be chairman of the elections committee.

He is also a member of the judiciary and retirement committees.

Law said he had been made a member of the apportionment, juvenile — "this determines what you should punish a boy" — state capital and public buildings — "whether we paint the dome silver or yellow" — and supplies and expenditures.

Fellow Oakland Democrat in the House, Rep. John C. Hiltchcock, Hazel Park, won assignment to the committee on horticulture — "that's the one I was on last year, but I didn't learn whether we were to examine peaches or apples." Law said-tuberculosis hospitals, village corporations and juvenile corrections.

TO AREA GOPERS

First-time representatives Henry M. Hogan Jr., R-Bloomfield Township, and Raymond L. Baker, R-Berkley, were named chairman.

respectively, of the committees on revision and amendment of statutes and metropolitan affairs.

Hogan's other committee assignments include judiciary, revision and amendment of the constitution, and rules and resolutions.

Baker will serve as vice chairman of the committee on revision and amendment of statutes, and as a member of the insurance and liquor control committees.

Third-term Rep. Lloyd L. Anderson, R-Waterford Township, was named to six committees.

Anderson will serve as chairman of the drainage committee and vice chairman of the apportionment committee, which will provide the bills toward creation of a 10th Congressional District in Michigan.

He'll be a member of the liquor control, public health, state affairs, and towns and counties committees.

Rep. William Hayward, R-Royal Oak, will chair the city corporations committee, be vice chairman of the more important labor committee, which Roberts, as a representative last year, chaired, and be a member of the insurance and public utilities committees.

Rockefeller Presents Record State Budget

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller presented today a record, $2.4-billion budget that called for additional state spending of $212 million, including big increases for education, highways, state-employee salaries and medical care for the aged.

The Republican governor's mid-term budget listed higher costs in most other areas of government. But he proposed no new taxes and estimated the state would end fiscal 1961-62 with a surplus of $5 million.

"This budget is based on the assumption that the state economy will function at a relatively high level in 1961," the governor said.

He also told the legislature that his spending program had been "framed in a mood of cautious optimism" and "we must always be prepared to act quickly if signs of economic trouble appear."

More Head Room, Nonglare Panel

Fussy Buyers Like '61 Pontiac Interior

The engineering attention focused on improved passenger compartment design in the 1961 Pontiac is unparalleled in our history, says E. E. Knudsen, vice president of General Motors and general manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

"The various comfort and safety advances within the new compartment are tailored to satisfy even the most exacting demands reflected in customer research surveys over the past three years, he points out.

Knudsen lists improved head room, increased seat height, easier entrance and exit, and a new antiglare instrument panel as the most significant interior innovations.

"Substantially more compartment space is realized from Pontiac's lowering the floor in the passenger area — a change made possible by our adoption of a perimeter-type frame," he explains.

"The immediate benefit is an increase in head room by as much as two inches in some models. In addition, the lower floor enables a better than two-inch increase in front seat height with respect to the car floor and controls.

"This gives both the driver and passengers added support under the upper leg area and, a natural, more comfortable, relaxed sitting position may be assumed.

"And, by increasing the front seat bottom clearance over the floor, we provide rear seat occupants with greater leg room and a better flow of heater air.

"Also contributing to greater passenger comfort," according to Knudsen, "is a pad of one-inch foam which cushions front seats on all new Pontiacs and rear seats on most models.

"Passengers will find it much easier to get in and out of the new Pontiac," he continues.

"Doors open as much as five inches wider due to a new hinge design and, the windshield corner or 'dog-leg' has been virtually eliminated. Also enhancing driver entry and exit is a 22 per cent improvement in front seat to steering wheel clearance.

"Pontiac's new instrument panel features a cove shape and lucite face for optimum glare resistance. A safety cushion completely encircles the face of the panel. New instrument clusters, gauges, control knobs and panel lighting are designed for the ultimate in driver and passenger convenience."

Lizard Skin Tells Story

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—The sex of lizards is determined by their skin coat, according to zoologists at the University of Texas. Male lizards have pronounced longitudinal body stripes, whereas females give an overall impression of cross-hatching. Males also have a bluish stripe on their sides.

Estimate January Construction at $3.8 Billion

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Commerce Department Tuesday estimated the value of construction activity in January at $3.8 billion, unchanged from January 1960.

Compared to December, construction activity slipped 15 per cent, about 2 percentage points more than a normal seasonal slow down.

However, department experts said their estimate of construction activity in December probably was too high, partly because it did not take account of unusually snowy and cold weather.

The department said the January construction total included $2.75 billion of private activity and $1.08 billion of government-financed construction.

Retiring Today at GMC Truck

A. A. Shantz Leaves
Sales Post After Being
With Firm 40 Years

A. A. SHANTZ

A. A. Shantz, a 40-year veteran of General Motors and one of the best known truck men in the country, retired today from his federal government sales post at GMC Truck & Coach Division.

A native Detroit, Shantz began his career with GM in 1921 as a service department employee of Cadillac Motor Car Division. After serving there in various service and sales capacities, he was transferred to GMC Truck & Coach in 1929.

One of his first assignments resulted in the establishment of a flat rate system for standardizing dealer service charges. The system became a model for the trucking industry and was widely copied by other manufacturers.

He served in various executive capacities in GMC Truck's Service Department and was named general parts and service manager in 1941.

In 1953, he was appointed assistant general truck sales manager. Three years later he became manager of federal government sales.

Shantz traveled extensively during his long association with GMC.

Truck Assignments took him to all corners of the nation and to such places as Labrador and Mexico. As government sales manager, he visited major military installations in the United States and Europe.

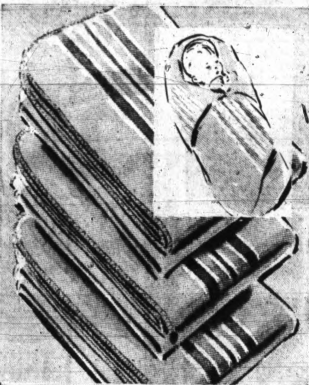

He is a member of the Economic Club of Detroit, Detroit chapter of the Society of Automotive Engineers, Association of the U.S. Army, American Ordnance Association and the Oakland Hills Country Club.

Shantz resided in Royal Oak from 1930 to 1957 when he moved to 3525 Shadow Lane, Bloomfield Hills. A son, John F. Shantz, is associated with the Dell & Shantz law offices in Royal Oak. His other son, Thomas, is a junior at Bloomfield Hills High School.

Congress Tells Jack: No Drastic Farm Plans

Task Force Suggestions Closer to GOP Platform

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democrats and Republicans who steered farm legislation in Congress in recent years had this advice today for the Kennedy administration: Build on existing farm programs.

The legislators saw little chance in Congress for any drastic farm proposals.

The advice comes before the new administration gets down to drafting the farm proposals President Kennedy will submit to Congress within the next two weeks.

A three-member task force committee on "the key elements of the agricultural situation" handed the new administration its farm program recommendations Tuesday.

They came closer, in some respects, to meeting wishes of the Republican rather than of the Democrats in the 1960 campaign.

The committee opposed increases in price supports for farm commodities and expressed the view that farmers would be unlikely to support rigid farm production control measures.

Kennedy's campaign farm program and the Democratic platform favored higher price supports and measures to control farm production and to halt surplus output.

On Capitol Hill today, Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., chairman of the senate agriculture committee, said: "With the possible exception of wheat and its surpluses, I think the best chances are to improve and continue our existing programs."

In the House, Rep. Charles B. Boevey of Iowa, senior Republican on the House Agriculture Committee, said he doubted that Congress would pass a general farm bill this year.

Ellender said his committee would give careful consideration to all proposals made by Kennedy and Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman.

Ellender emphasized, however, that the proposals must have the support of major farm organizations if they are to win congressional approval. So far, there appears to be little prospect of such united support.

Another veteran farm legislator, Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., questioned the alarm of some persons over the surpluses of food and farm products in this country.

"If Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev could match our farm production he would feel he was on top of the world," Aiken said.

The task force committee also said a greatly expanded land reclamation program might be the best way of bringing farm production into line with markets.

The Eisenhower administration operated a soil bank retirement program until the Democratic-controlled Congress cut it off.

Ellender and Aiken both protested criticism of the recent multibillion-dollar costs charged against the farm programs.

They pointed out that much of this outlay went to milk for school lunches, food for the needy in this country and overseas and grants undertaken in behalf of foreign policy of national defense.

Ex-Farm Heads to Get Together

5 Former Agriculture Secretaries at MSU to Discuss Problems

EAST LANSING (UPI)—Five former secretaries of agriculture were to appear on the program today to discuss the problems of "Agriculture in an Uneasy World."

Henry A. Wallace, Claude R. Wickard, Clinton P. Anderson, Charles F. Brannan and Ezra Taft Benson will speak at the annual Farmers' Week at the Michigan State University campus here.

Wallace and Wickard served under President Franklin D. Roosevelt, Anderson and Brannan under Harry S. Truman and Benson under Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Members of Michigan's 4-H clubs were told Tuesday "there are fewer farm jobs, but there is still a great future in farming."

Robert Kramer, head of MSU's agricultural marketing and utilization center, told the 4-H members that "the farming continues to specialize, there will be more and more jobs available of the farm."

"But there are and always will be good jobs in agribusiness for young men and women who will work... and who do not expect to start at the top," he continued.

A 255-pound hog owned by the Stid brothers of Mason was judged the top hog at the hog show.

Plan Addition to Area School

Acquisition of Property to Allow Construction in Clarenceville District

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Plans for an addition to the Edgewood Elementary School in the Clarenceville School District were announced today by Supt. Louis E. Schmidt.

Schmidt said the much needed facility can now be built because the school system has recently acquired adjacent property to the Edgewood School from the owners of Botsford Inn.

The property purchased from the inn contains approximately four acres, Schmidt said.

The addition will consist of a minimum of five classrooms and a boiler room.

The present boiler room area will be renovated in order to provide a hallway from the existing building to the proposed addition, explained Schmidt.

"The Citizens' Committee on Future Building Needs was aware of the need for additional property and an addition to the Edgewood School, more than a year ago," Schmidt added.

"At that time they recommended that an addition be built on the Edgewood School to provide facilities in the northeast section of the school district."

No date has been set for accepting bids for construction of the addition, said Schmidt, "but every effort is being made to establish a time table that would permit the use of the addition by this fall."

The board of education sees only one possible major problem, Schmidt pointed out. That is the completion of sewer facilities in the township in time to enable the addition to tie into the prior to the 1961-62 school year.

Junior Woman's Unit Gets New President

ROCHESTER — Mrs. William Beardmore of 213 Nesbit Lane is the new president of the Rochester Junior Woman's Club.

Mrs. Beardmore, former vice president, succeeds outgoing president, Mrs. Richard C. Jerome, of 137 Parkside St., who resigned last post because of illness in the family.

In a letter to the club's executive board, Mrs. Jerome said she was resigning because of her husband's health. However, she will remain an active club member.

Mrs. Paul Christensen of 147 Old Perch Road will be the new vice president.

By Mayor and 5 Institutions

Savings Plan for Taxes Worked Out for Berkley

BERKLEY—A ready-made, plan of monthly tax payments for local residents has been evolved by Mayor George W. Kuhn with the cooperation of bankers from five financial institutions.

At Mayor Kuhn's invitation, three banks and two savings and loan associations in the city agreed to meet with him in Berkley.

"Our studies indicate strongly that the best way to provide a monthly payment tax plan for our citizens is through private financial institutions," said Mayor Kuhn.

He added, "The administrative costs of a city-operated plan would be prohibitive and the taxpayers would not benefit from it."

"Since each of the banks interviewed already has a suitable special purpose savings plan, it naturally follows that this private source of commercial banks and savings and loan associations is the ready-made answer to our taxpayers' problem," the mayor noted.

He said he was assured by the five institutions that their tax calculation plans are uniformly suitable and can easily be adapted to fit the needs of the local citizenry.

"Each plan offered provides a system of regular savings in advance for each depositor for a pre-set objective, in this case, taxes," Mayor Kuhn explained.

The institutions represented at the meeting with the mayor were Detroit Bank and Trust Company, First Federal Savings and Loan Association, National Bank of Detroit, Standard Federal Savings and Loan and the Wayne Oakland Bank.

Commenting on the session, the mayor said, "I am delighted to offer this ready-made plan to the citizens of Berkley, especially since it will not require any financial outlay by the city."

"The banks are to be commended for their civic-minded interest and I sincerely thank them for showing their particular concern in the problems of our City of Berkley," he concluded.

Roundtable discussions for scout leaders in the Manito District will be held tomorrow at two locations in the county.

The monthly meeting for the cub and boy scout leaders will begin at 7:30 at the Blanche Sims Elementary School in Lake Orion.

Explorer scout leaders will meet at 7:30 p.m. at Camp Agawam on Tommy's Lake near Lake Orion.

The topic to be discussed by the leaders will be "Cub Scout Roundtable." "Compass, Adventure" will be the theme of the boy scouts leaders' session.

Paul Tomashay, commissioner in charge of the roundtable meetings requests that all units in the Manito District send at least one representative to the meetings.

Will Speak at Founders' Celebration

ROCHESTER — Featured speaker at the annual Founders' Day program Feb. 20 at Rochester High School will be Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction.

Dr. Bartlett, who will meet local leaders of governmental and civic organizations at a 7:15 p.m. reception, is scheduled to speak on the costs and quality of education at 8 p.m.

Following Dr. Bartlett's address, which will be a discussion of education on the state level, James Ludwick will explain the superintendent's remarks as they apply to the Rochester School District.

Ludwick, a trustee on the Rochester Board of Education, was head of a finance committee which set up Rochester's current $3-million school building program before he joined the board.

All nine parent-teacher associations in the school district will meet together for the first time this year to hear Dr. Bartlett and Ludwick.

The Founders' Day program, which will be presented in the student center of the high school, is sponsored by the Rochester Council of Parent-Teacher Associations.

The Founders' Day celebration is the annual observance of the founding of the parent-teacher association movement.

Musings on Eve of Centennial

By MARJORIE EICHER,
Women's Editor, The Pontiac Press

This is the city: muffled, disguised, softened and hushed by the burden of white vouchsafed from the skies.

This is the city, winding its sinewy streets athwart a wondrous huddle of homes where none repeats the pattern of another; alone, unique, like individual snowflakes. En masse, they represent a unity we term community and label with names that proudly bear a century's weight with grace to elude the mantilla of snow her stately elms wear in their hair.

This is the city ringed by lusty factory spires that spew a smoke that spells of man's ingenuity to span the years from buggy whip to meaching gears with continuity.

This is the city—hiding the gleam of a valley stream called Clinton "neath concrete cloak. Yet mindful still of the moccasined throng that stood on Huron hill and marked its loveliness short centuries ago.

Did they know this place would bear a mighty chieftain's name? Yet kindred from the white man's need of transport its own peculiar flame, and grow in years and grace and strength, encompassing the length of Clinton stream?

This is the city of a hundred years. Three hundred thousand sunrises have gone before, and stretching out its strength across a span of century-growth, this strange amalgam of home and man, of loveliness and labor, will mark three hundred thousand more! For this is a city.

Abby Not Sold

Shrugs at Pointed Shoes

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: A while back you started a campaign to get rid of the sack dress. How about a campaign to get rid of the horrible pointed shoes?

I have held out buying shoes for a year and my feet are almost back to normal again. There are just no comfortable, good-looking shoes to be had anymore.

Even elderly women are being around in those ridiculous pointed-toe, spindly-beeled shoes. And the steel tips are ruining everybody's linoleum and carpets! Gosh, Abby, can't you do something about it?

FOOTSHOE AND WEARY DEAR F and W: I am told the women "love" the new pointed shoes. (Yes, and even the spindly heels that ruin the floor covering!) I may be a heel—but I am not sold.

DEAR ABBY: Some neighbors of ours were very friendly at first. Then all of a sudden they stopped coming to see us, so I went over there one night to see what was wrong.

Through the window I could see her and her husband sitting there, watching television, but I couldn't get in because the screen door was latched. I wrote her a letter telling her I thought it was insulting to lock up a house as tight as a bank so people couldn't even get up on the porch to ring the bell.

She ignored my letter. Don't you think there is something wrong with people who lock themselves in?

FRIENDLY NEIGHBOR DEAR ABBY: Folks rarely lock themselves in—but they frequently lock others out. Latch on to some friendlier neighbors.

DEAR ABBY: My best friend's husband is the type who "loves his wife but, oh, you kid!" He tells her he has to work late, go to a meeting, etc., and in the meantime he is running around with other women.

She is a wonderful person. They have two small children. Do you think it's my place to tell her? This has been going on for four years. They have been married for five.

A VERY GOOD FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: If you are truly "a very good friend," tell HIM, not her.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "TROUBLED TEEN." It's nice to be important, but it's important to be nice.

Moloney-Smith Vows Are Repeated

Margaret Mary Smith of Highland Park pledged wedding vows to Robert L. Moloney Saturday morning in St. Benedict Church, Highland Park.

The Rev. Thomas Sauter was assisted by the Rev. M. Damien of Marmon Military Academy, Aurora, Ill., where the bridegroom attended school.

Daughter of Mrs. Given Smith of Highland Park and the late Judge Smith, the bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law Richard Saut of Chicago. The bridegroom is the son of Lawrence J. Moloney of Colonial Trail, and the late Mrs. Moloney.

Attendants in process-line red velvet frocks, carrying cascades of white carnations, preceded the bride to the sanctuary. Their hats and shoes were also red.

Mrs. Richard Saut attended her sister as matron of honor. The bridegroom's sister Maureen Moloney and Mrs. Paul Bochnig served as bridesmaids.

Almon lace embroidered with seed pearls enhanced the molded bodice of the white satin gown styled with a chapel train. A hip-length veil of French illusion fell from a crown of pearls.

White roses and stephanotis completed the bridal bouquet.

Charles Moloney stood as best man for his brother, James Moloney of Detroit, who served with Shaul Shays of Livonia and Paul Bochnig.

Wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's mother. Four hundred guests attended the afternoon reception at the home of the bridegroom's father.

in Chicago, the couple will be at home on Menominee Road. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Smith selected a Celi Chagnon original in royal blue shantung with matching hat and shoes. Her flowers were white cymbidium orchids.

Pontiac Couple Is Wed at 1st Methodist Church

Judith R. Gutke exchanged wedding vows with Grover L. Tipton Jr. before the Rev. Paul T. Hart Friday evening in First Methodist Church.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leland M. Gutke of Baldwin Road were hosts at the church reception. Greeting some 300 guests with them were the senior Grover L. Tiptons of Adelaide Street, parents of the bridegroom.

Draped paniers of rose pointe-pattern Chantilly lace held by soft fabric roses accented the bride's gown of white tulle with a chapel train. West-point sleeves of lace extended from the basque bodice of lace designed with scalloped Sabrina neckline touched with seed pearls and sequins.

A queen's crown of pearls, sequins and lace secured the full circular veil of imported silk illusion. White roses, feathered carnations, Stephanotis and ivy comprised the bride's chapel bouquet.

Attendants were honor maid Mary Ann Smith, Mrs. James Crosby, cousin of the bride, Mrs. Kenneth Karzen and the bride's sister Janet.

Their ballroom-length dresses of crepe de chine with tulle featured tulip skirts. They held baskets made of pink pompons and silver leaves.

On the square side were Kenneth Leece, best man and ushers Fred Wilson of Lincoln Park and Duane Whitson. The bridegroom's brother Billy Tipton was junior usher.

Leaving for a honeymoon, the new Mrs. Tipton was wearing a toast shade-lint-suit with brown accessories, the couple will be at home on Newberry Street.

Mrs. Gutke chose a tiered dress of Wedgewood rose lace and Mrs. Tipton appeared in beige brocade with turquoise accessories. Both mothers wore cymbidium orchids.

Sounds Delicious

(NEA)—Wool jersey for daytime is cut from such delicious colors as silver, mist green, anethist, and cherry. Though the cut is casual, the colors are beauties.

MRS. THOMAS D. STUDT

Evening vows of Carol M. Lazebny and Thomas D. Studt were repeated to the Rev. Arvid Anderson Saturday in Christ Lutheran Church, Waterford. White chrysanthemums and gladioli adorned the altar.

Parents of the couple, the Royce K. Lazebny of Rowley Street, Drayton Plains, and the William J. Studt of Overridge Street, received some 400 guests in the church parlors following the ceremony.

The bride's gown of white slipper satin was fashioned with molded bodice and bateau neckline of Alencon lace embroidered with seed pearls. The lace waistline extended into a bouffant skirt and chapel train.

SILK ILLUSION Fingertip veiling of silk illusion was caught by a Swedish crown of pearls and rhinestones. The bride wore a single strand of pearls, gift of her husband, and carried a round arrangement of white carnations, miniature roses, Stephanotis and feathered carnations.

Marlene Lazebny, her sister's honor maid, appeared in floor-length cotton blue crystal-backed satin. Styled along princess lines, the dress featured a tiered bustle. A white fur headpiece and muffed tulle with cotton blue feathered carnations completed her ensemble.

Bridesmaids Mrs. Richard Ryan, Mrs. Vincent Alonzi and Mrs. Donald Lucarelli, aunt of the bride, wore similar gowns in royal blue. Royal blue carnations rested on their white fur muffs.

In their cousin's wedding party were Pamela Lucarelli in cotton blue tulle and white fur headband. She carried a basket of rose petals. Tommie Knight carried the rings.

John Studt was best man for his brother, Robert Studt and the bride's brother, Larry Lazebny seated guests with Stanley Larkin.

Before leaving on a motor trip through Illinois and Ohio, the new Mrs. Studt changed to a navy dressmaker suit. The bridegroom is a graduate of Augustana College, Rock Island, Ill. The couple will live in Elizabeth Lake Estates.

Mrs. Lazebny chose a dusty rose-pink sheath dress of embroidered silk organza over tulle with matching organza hat. She carried a pearl clutch bag and wore long white gloves and a spiral of miniature pink roses. Mrs. Studt chose cocoa beige Chantilly lace over tulle and a beige hat. She carried a gold beaded purse and wore beige wrist-length gloves. Her flowers were green cymbidium orchids.

who damns us, above, is architect-industrial designer George Nelson, creator of everything from the storage-wall and L-shaped desk to the United States exhibit in Moscow and the "atoms for peace" exhibit in Cairo.

"And I'm not really angry," he says firmly. "It just makes me sad to see our rows and rows of little badly made modern houses. What could be more antithetical and soul-deadening than thousands of people living in a series of file drawers?"

"We'll pay for these developments in terms of mental health problems, social discontent, and the money we will use to tear them all down a few years from now."

Nelson has a lean, brooding face when he describes America as a land of "tissue paper culture. We are not building antiques for the future—just things to use and throw away."

He smiles wryly when he points out that industry cares little what it makes, as long as it sells. His slogan for businessmen, "Always first with what the other guy has, provided it's selling."

Of course, Nelson says, the American people could "work out their own salvation. But the salvation is not acceptable to them. They'd have to sit down and study architecture, art, and beauty. They'd have to read, rather than sit down and watch television for a real dead evening. "People don't like to work that hard."

Besides, he concedes, what the average family doesn't know won't hurt them. It only hurts people like the late Frank Lloyd Wright and George Nelson . . . and the occasional homesicker who has good taste and cannot afford to indulge it. "These are the people to feel sorry for. There is an assumption that the average citizen can make his house beautiful because he has some knowledge. But if he makes, say, $10,000—what can he do? He can't go to a fine architect. He can't buy beauty cheaply. He must just do his best, a little frustrated."

Another curious anomaly of culture, as reflected in home decor, is the fact that "as people's lives become more complicated, they tend to want their homes to be more simple and uncluttered; peaceful refuges from their complex world outside."

"On the other hand, as their things go up, they must collect stuff. There is a growing fear among people that they aren't people any more. 'Things' keep them in touch with reality." So they buy things they don't need. They want "different" things, they think, but in reality they want everything to remain the same."

Wearing identical dresses of gold tulle, styled with short sleeves and bell skirts, the attendants carried cascades of tangerine carnations and gold gladioli.

Richard Zaborowski of Detroit attended the bridegroom as best man. Louis Plagens Jr., seated guest; also Kenneth Rayson of Detroit.

For a short honeymoon trip, the new Mrs. Plagens donned a gray and gold plaid wool suit, gold hat and gray accessories.

The newlyweds are graduates of Eastern Michigan University and will live in Ypsilanti where the bridegroom will continue studies on his master's degree.

Green cymbidium orchids accented Mrs. Brosted's dress brocade jacketed sheath dress worn with cocoa accessories. Mrs. Plagens appeared in a blue tulle dress with matching accessories. Her flowers were white cymbidium orchids.

Iron Discolored?

(NEA) — When starch discolors the bottom of your iron, use the special paste cleaner for copper to remove it. Rub a thin paste on the iron, rinse out the sponge with clean water and wipe off the bottom of the iron until water forms in droplets. This film will make the iron discolor easily.

Set Good Example

(NEA) — Don't neglect your own beauty care just because you're a busy housewife and mother. Not only should you be as attractive as possible to your family, but you should set a good grooming example for your children, too.

Couple Honeymoon in UP After Pontiac Wedding

Dr. William H. Marbach officiated at the Saturday evening vows of Nancy Esther Mize and Charles C. Crowley in First Presbyterian Church.

Candlelight and potted palms flanked the altar decorated with white chrysanthemums, gladioli and snapdragons.

Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. George Mize of

MRS. CHARLES C. CROWLEY

Memorance Road and the Lyle D. Crowleys of Crofton Road, Waterford Township.

The bride appeared in a beautiful gown of white Chantilly lace and tulle over silk tulle. Back ruffles extended from a front overlay of the lace to the floor-length hemline.

Seal pearls and sequins were applied on the blouse bodice in complement to the tulle which caught the scalloped fingertip veiling of imported silk illusion. White roses and carnations comprised the bridal cascade.

Ann Dakesian served as honor maid. Bridesmaids were Betty Crowley, sister of the bridegroom and Charlotte Johnson. They wore aqua and turquoise tulle with fitted bodices, redingote-effect skirts and cap sleeves.

Chin veils were attached to their tulle pixie hats. Their cascade bouquets included roses and pink and white carnations.

Walter Stonehouse was best man. Seating women were Christine Lippard and Robert Pote, ushers of the bridegroom, and Earl Hoppens and Allen Farmer.

Brass candleholders from Pakistan, gift of the Kenneth Matichas, aunt and uncle of the bride, were placed on the table where the bride's great-aunt, Mrs. Roy Stroupe, served the wedding cake.

Leaving for a northern Michigan honeymoon, the new Mrs. Crowley was wearing a white wool flannel sheath dress, blue accessories and a fur jacket. The couple will be at home on State Street.

Mrs. Mize appeared in a pale green brocade sheath dress with matching jacket and beige accessories. The mother of the bridegroom accented her beige brocade ensemble with Nile green accessories. Both mothers wore gardenias.

Before You Paint

(NEA) — If you're moving into another home, be sure that the walls are washed with soap or detergent before painting. This prevents dirt from being painted right into the surface.

On Marathon Program

Her Weight Still Dropping

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Those of you who joined my Eight-Week Self-Improvement Marathon will be especially interested in the following letter. It comes from a reader who used this same routine at the end of last summer.

Many of you already are experiencing the thrill of beginning improvement in your figure, but the following letter will inspire you even more to stick to your Marathon routine. It also brings up a problem which I'm sure many have.

"Dear Mrs. Lowman: I'm very thankful for your self-improvement Marathon. I did not cut my food as much as I should have or exercise as much as I should have, but I have lost 14½ pounds and my clothes now are too large. The corset which was so tight is now very loose and my dresses are all too long because of this loss in weight."

"I weighed 130 pounds and now weigh 115½ pounds. I am going to continue until I am the correct weight. I am so very happy and so pleased. I love candy but I haven't bought any for more than two months now."

"I would have done better but I get so hungry at night. Thank you again!"

It is a good idea to save something from your daily allowable calorie count to have just before going to sleep at night. This may be a glass of skim milk or butter-milk or a piece of fresh fruit or some such item.

You will reduce much more successfully and much more pleasantly if you do not skip meals. Many women find it best to eat five small meals, or three regular meals.

But save out of your allowance of calories a glass of juice in mid-morning and a glass of milk for mid-afternoon and a piece of fruit for bedtime. Just be sure that your intake every 24 hours does not exceed what you should have in order to lose.

JOIN MARATHON

If you do not drink a lot of coffee, you can enjoy a teaspoon of sugar in it. You can take advantage of the many low-calorie dressings and artificial sweeteners during your reducing program. Don't forget powdered, fat-free milk. Many people prefer this to skim milk from a dairy.

If you would like to join my request, for the Marathon booklet, address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press. You can lose up to 20 pounds on Marathon.

For those of you on the Marathon, don't forget powdered, fat-free milk. Many people prefer this to skim milk.

How Young-in-Heart Get to Stay That Way

By RUTH MILLETT

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. It's a safe bet that the "youngest" older women you know have a lot in common. Isn't it true that . . .

They don't find the younger generation shocking?

They don't talk about the past to the exclusion of the present and the future?

They refuse to be bosomed by their grown children and firmly go about doing as they please?

They have a keen interest in what is going on in the world and keep themselves well-informed on world affairs?

They make light of their troubles and much prefer to talk about pleasant subjects than about depressing ones?

They have plenty to do to keep them busy?

UNDERSTANDING They are sympathetic and understanding instead of being highly critical of others?

They have a sense of humor and can even poke fun at themselves?

They have a "let's not get excited" attitude toward life's little misadventures, for having seen big troubles they aren't too impressed with small ones?

They can get ready to go anywhere in nothing flat — and so have plenty of opportunities for companionship?

They'll take pride in doing something exceptionally well?

Moving Is a Problem for Child

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.

AP Newsfeatures

Moving is always a chore since there is a lot of work to be done and the presence of several little children doesn't make the job any easier.

To a little child, his family is his world. It doesn't make too much difference where he lives so long as his parents are there. He will miss his present playmates of course, but almost any other children of about the right age will soon substitute for those he leaves behind.

HE NEEDS YOU

The important thing to a little child is that he doesn't lose you during the move. If you are so busy sorting, packing and arranging you don't have the usual time for your children you will soon have the added problem of a fussy, irritable, whiney child with which to cope.

Let him help you, or at least be around while you are getting things ready to move. This means you have to allow some extra time since his help is far from a device for getting things done quickly. However, the child who sees the familiar things packed away has a much greater sense of belonging than the youngster who suddenly discovers that the old things have disappeared.

On the big day, have him around; don't send him off to Grandma's to get him out of the way. Persuade the movers to pack his room last, so he can still see it when the living room is bare and so it can be set up first in the new house. Be sure to leave a few favorite toys to be carried by hand and played with when the going gets tough.

Also, a neighborhood with young families may give you a chance to make friends with other young mothers. A house in the country may have wonderful play space but it can be very lonely for a mother. It's better if there are some other young women with whom to share a morning coffee break or a little baby sitting now and then.

THINK AHEAD

If you think you are going to live in your new house for years, consider the question of available public transportation so that as the children get older they can go places on their own. Otherwise you will find you are running a jittery service to ballparks, music lessons and even friends' houses.

Of the world's total supply of sugar, two-thirds comes from sugar cane. The other third is from sugar beets which can be grown successfully in cooler climates.

Aw, C'mon, Ladies, Be Yourself

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The human eyebrow, usually runs in a fairly straight line at right angles to the nose on a parallel with the eyelashes.

This geometrically balanced arrangement obviously was planned by Mother Nature to provide the human face with some sort of symmetry. And, heavens knows, most human faces can use a little symmetry.

Rarely does the eyebrow, of its own volition, take off at oblique angles across the forehead, and rarely does it spin around into a kind of a curl.

Even more rarely does the eyebrow arch up into the shape of new moons, or horseshoes, giving the face an expression of perpetual astonishment.

How, then, do we account for the fact that about 95 per cent of the women these days have semi-circular—eyebrows? The answer, obviously, is that the eyebrow is being diverted from its natural path.

And what is the purpose of this? I can only conclude that the quest for new eyebrow frontiers is somehow connected with the "Jackie look" that is sweeping the country. The "Jackie look" is responsible for a lot of strange occurrences.

For instance, I noticed recently that my wife was shortening the sleeves on her old dresses. At the time, I wrote this off as whim and tried to ignore it.

BY CRACKY, IT'S JACKIE

I didn't realize what was behind it until a day or two later when we were going out for the evening. When I got home, she was already dressed. For a wild, brief moment I thought I had accidentally stumbled into the White House.

Tell me, my lovelies, why is it that all of you want to look like the First Lady? I'll grant that she is a beauty. But does the nation really need 90 million Mrs. Kennedys?

According to an item I saw in the paper the other day, some women are even going to far as to have their noses made over in the First Lady's image.

Jackie Plays With Children but Is at Ease With Queens

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON—An era of ecstasies dawned at the White House. First Lady Jacqueline Kennedy, effortlessly at home in the haunts of fashion, society and the arts, is fully prepared during the next four years to dine at the right hand of kings, presidents and popes.

A beacon of her finger will bring poets, artists, courtiers and musicians rushing to her side.

Significantly, however, this willowy young blond who looks like a fashion-model seems happy in the small-world department of people under three feet tall.

Never as relaxed as when she is shell-hunting with 3-year-old Caroline along the seashore, or joining her in guessing games, Jackie has a highly developed maternal instinct which is being sorely tried by her temporary separation from Caroline and baby John-Jr.

Mrs. Kennedy is a lady of strong mind, cultured taste and exquisite determination. She is fiercely protective about her two little children and intent on shielding them as much as possible from the goldfish-bowl existence that transformed some predecessors' children into "sophomoric exhibitionists."

Because she is now the leading lady of our American political stage, she is determined to spend more time instead of less with her offspring. She feels that her husband's role as leader of the free world makes this imperative.

Frankly facing up to the approaching problem, she told this correspondent: "I worry about Caroline and John in the White House. Anyone with young children would. The greatest responsibility in life is your children. They don't ask to be your children."

NEEDED BY CHILDREN

She mulled over this thought for a moment, and added pensively: "If your husband is president, you must spend more time than ever with your children, to make it up to them. If my children should turn out badly, I would feel that nothing I have done was worth while."

Jackie was the product of a broken home, but she seems to retain mostly happy memories of her childhood in New York and Southampton as the daughter of the socially impeccable John Bouvier, and of her teens in Washington and Newport with her mother and stepfather, Hugh Auchincloss.

She wants to ensure that her own children will see as much of their father as possible, however, and for that reason she plans to use the rented Virginia estate, Glea Ora, mainly as a family retreat on weekends.

Accustomed to the well-ordered homes of her conservative Republican mother, Jackie at first found adjustment difficult to the highly informal ways of the burgeoning Kennedy clan.

One of her chief problems, she said, was the raft of unexpected guests whom Jack—the politician—regularly brought home for lunch or dinner. A bit wryly she recalls that during her husband's vacation in Hyannisport between his presidential nomination and the start of the fall campaign, "We served an average of 70 meals a day at our house."

"The minimum number for any dinner was 35," she recounted, "and practically all of the guests were unexpected—at least by me."

This problem will be less acute for Jackie at the White House, thanks to a large and well-trained staff of servants that is virtually immune to shock.

Some have been household retainers since Sir Winston Churchill—like the man who came to dinner—once stretched his White House visit to a month, popping in and out of his Rose Room suite wearing the "siren" sleeping suit that made him look like a roly-poly Humpty Dumpty.

Any staff that could survive the wartime visit of Madame Chiang Kai-shek and her incredibly thoughtless niece and nephew, the perennial houseguest Harry Hopkins, and Sir Winston's array of brandy bottles will be serenely undisturbed by a few extra dozens for luncheon.

The Pentagon's cooling system is roughly equivalent to melting 28 million tons of ice each 24 hours.

YOUTH ORGANIZATION for UNICEF

YOU Need Fund Ideas

NEW YORK—Dream up an idea for YOU (Youth Organization for UNICEF) and you'll make dreams come true for the world's needy. But there's no time for day-dreaming, because the deadline in "idea-ology" is early in 1961. Just put on your quick-thinking cap and come up with a nationwide idea for raising funds and spreading interest in UNICEF (United Nations Children's Fund).

Thousands of teens from coast-to-coast have already become "idea men" for YOU, with suggestions ranging from national YOU fairs to selling shares in International Good Will.

And you might have a dream-come-true, too, because the teen who submits the best idea will win a gala, four-day trip to New York, including a reception at the United Nations, as the guest of Seventeen Magazine.

What kind of projects can you take part in to help YOU, the new international good-will program for teen-agers only which was launched this fall by Seventeen in cooperation with UNICEF? Here are just a few of the fund-raising suggestions already submitted:

National Penny Nights — when teens could pay a penny per minute to stay out a half-hour beyond curfew. Local clubs could be organized to collect coins.

Let high schools and colleges throughout the country sponsor annual YOU dances.

Have a special YOU day across the country when teens could raise funds by washing cars, baby-sitting and other services.

Collect old soda and beer bottles from house-to-house and return them for the deposit at local stores.

Hold a Powder Puff Bowl — a game of "touch football" for girls — and charge admission.

Organize a UNICEF "Thanksgiving Day" — a day to give thanks for what we have, by giving to UNICEF.

EVELYN J. GOCHA

After their marriage Saturday evening in First Church of the Nazarene, Jesse L. Seibert Jr. and his bride, the former Joyce Ann Dewese, left for a honeymoon in Canada.

White-gladioli, palms and candles graced the chancel where the Rev. J. E. Van Allen performed the candlelight ceremony.

Receiving some 250 guests in the Central Methodist Church parlors were Mr. and Mrs. Willard Dewese of Joslyn Avenue and the Floyd Kimballe of Gilegill Road, parents of the newlyweds.

Proceeding the bride to the chancel were Joanne Delphinski maid of honor, with Mrs. Dewese and Vicki Seibert, sister of the bridegroom, serving as bridesmaids.

Fashioned of raspberry pink nylon sheer over taffeta, their ballerina-length dresses were worn with velvet jackets and cummerbunds. Azalea pink carnations rested on their white muffs, with variegated pink carnations for the honor maid.

Nikki Purvis, in white nylon sheer over taffeta, wore a wreath of variegated pink carnations in complement to the flowers in her white lace basket.

The bride appeared in floor-length white Chantilly lace over taffeta with ruffled belt panels set into the bodice. Seibert carried the bride.

A jeweled headpiece secured her fingertip veil. White orchids and ivy centered her cascade bouquet.

William Kurz was best man. Seating guests were the bride's brother Richard Dewese, James Stogin of Clarkson, Robert Murphy and Dennis Piller of Holly.

The new Mrs. Seibert, who is a graduate of the Ann Arbor School of Practical Nursing, donned a brown plaid sheath dress with bonnet and brown accessories for the honeymoon trip.

Mrs. Dewese selected a cotton blue lace over taffeta and Mrs. Kimball was dressed in beige lace over taffeta. Both mothers wore pink rusebuds.

The other three members of the Administrative Board—superintendent of public instruction, attorney general and highway commissioner—would be appointed by the governor if the legislature approved the resolution and voters decided to change the constitution.

By DICK HANSON

Often cursed by drivers, ice has its silver lining—providing it's thick enough.

Good old ice—in some cases two feet thick—probably has prevented recent additions to the already grim drowning toll in lake-dotted Oakland County.

Winter lakes enthusiasts, including ice fishermen, skaters and ice-boaters, have revelled across the hard, substantial surface. There has been little danger of falling through since winter set in with plenty of cold weather.

LAST WINTER GRIM

Last winter was a different story—grim, with several drownings through the ice. Four small boys and two teen-age ice skaters were victims.

Altogether, 59 persons drowned in the county in 1959. Most, to be sure, met their untimely fate at the beck of summer.

True to form, most of the county's drowning fatalities were recorded during the hot months last year. A late summer claimed 11 lives between July and September.

A long, cool spring saw four months go by with no drownings in the county last year.

The tricky ice claimed its last victim Feb. 2. The most person drowned July 11, only a few days after the first warmth of summer.

Before the latter death, it looked as though 1959 would bring a record low in drownings here.

However, before the year ended, it surpassed the previous year's toll by one.

The major factor in the fatalities was inexperience on the part of young and old.

The very young never had the opportunity to grow knowing of the water's ways. Invariably they had wandered off unattended to answer the water's call.

Older victims either overestimated their swimming ability or under-

State Traffic Toll Drops This January

EAST LANSING (U)—A sharp reduction in the highway death toll in January—a drop to 91 fatalities—was reported today by state police.

This was 46 less, a reduction of 33 per cent, from the 137 traffic fatalities during the same month last year.

The January figure marked the first time in 11 months, since the 76 deaths in February of last year, that the monthly fatal toll has been less than 100.

Delayed death reports are expected to increase the final count but a substantial drop still is anticipated.

Suffers Fractures in 2-Car Collision

A Pontiac man suffered fractured ribs yesterday when his car collided with another auto at the intersection of Joslyn and East Montclair streets.

Vincent C. Androl, 44, 984 Canterbury Drive, was in satisfactory condition today at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Androl's car, traveling west on Montclair, collided with a car driven by Betty J. Harris, 26, 632 Sec. St. She was driving north on Joslyn.

Androl's wife, Recie, 32, and a daughter Linda, 12, were treated for minor injuries at the hospital and released.

Frozen Juice to Rise

NEW YORK (UPI)—Frozen orange juice concentrates are expected to increase by 1 cent a can in the near future. The Florida orange crop is late in ripening and slightly smaller than last year. In addition cold storage stocks are 40 per cent below the level of a year ago.

An average American motorist fuel taxes each time he has 10 now pays about 95 cents in motor gallons of gasoline put into his car.

Eighth Chapter ... Michigan's Role in the Civil War

Frank (Undetected Sarah) Fought Side by Side With Comrades

(Editor's Note: This is the eighth of a series of articles on Michigan's role in the Civil War.)

By DR. PHILIP MASON
Archivist, Wayne State University
Written for Associated Press

Franklin Thompson of Flint was one of the first Michigan citizens to respond to President Lincoln's call for volunteers at the outbreak of the Civil War.

On the 17th of April, 1861, Thompson joined the Flint Union Greys, a private military company, and on the following day the organization offered its services to the 2nd Michigan Infantry Regiment, then being recruited in the state.

In the following months, the 2nd Michigan fought in some of the toughest battles of the war, those of Bull Run, Malvern Hill, Fredericksburg, Vicksburg, the Wilderness, Spotsylvania and Petersburg.

Young Frank Thompson fought side by side with his Michigan comrades.

He underwent the same hardships and dangers; he ate the same army food and was exposed to the same malaria-ridden swamps of Virginia.

Frank Thompson was a "typical" Civil War soldier—with one exception: Frank Thompson was a woman—Sarah Emma Edmonds—who for two years allegedly kept her identity and sex a secret. In fact, it was not until 20 years after the war that her comrades discovered the real identity of their young friend.

HER STORY

Her story can be pieced together from her service and pension record in the National Archives, a report of the congressional committee which investigated her case, contemporary accounts by her fellow officers and comrades, and her own published narrative of her war service, nurse and spy.

Sarah Emma Edmonds was born in St. Johns, New Brunswick, Canada, in 1839. She had a happy childhood on her parents' farm, but ran away from home when her father arranged her marriage to an older man, whom she thoroughly disliked.

To avoid detection, she donned the disguise of a young man and adopted the name, "Frank Thompson."

In this disguise, she took a job as a Bible salesman, which will readily brought her to Michigan, first to Rose Township, Oakland County, and later to Flint.

After enlisting, she was sent to Fort Wayne in Detroit, where she joined recruits from East Saginaw, Constantine, Hudson, Detroit, Kalamazoo, Battle Creek, Adrian, Niles and other towns in Southern Michigan.

Col. Israel B. Richardson, who later lost his life at Antietam, was in command of the regiment.

On June 10, after less than two weeks training, the raw recruits of the 2nd Michigan left Detroit for Virginia. Although the regiment missed front-line action at Bull Run in July 1861, it did cover the retreat of the routed Union Army.

In the following months, the 2nd Michigan participated in McClellan's disastrous peninsula campaign against the Confederate capital of Richmond, Va.

Sarah Edmonds withstood the rigors of the campaign and somehow seemed to have kept her identity a secret. In fact, she even volunteered for spy duty behind enemy lines.

To qualify for this dangerous work, she had to undergo rigid interrogation. First, she was questioned in the presence of George McClellan and other Union generals "with regard to her views on the rebellion." Tests on her use of firearms followed.

Frank Thompson's first spy assignment was to gather information on fortifications near Richmond.

With the aid of a wig and black dye, she disguised herself as a Negro boy and crossed into enemy territory under the cover of darkness.

She was apprehended near Richmond and put to work with a construction crew. Although the work taxed her physical capacity, it offered her an excellent opportunity to secure military data.

In addition, she recognized a peddler, who had been a frequent visitor at the Union camp, giving information to the rebels. A few days later, she slipped quietly through enemy lines to report her findings to her superiors.

The woman soldier was sent on other spying missions and on several occasions barely escaped capture. Her most effective disguise, however, was that of a woman. When the Confederates finally detected her activities and put a price on her head, she was assigned to duty behind Union lines, locating Confederate sympathizers and plotters.

In the spring of 1863 as a result of an injury received when she fell from a horse and because she was in poor general health, Sarah Edmonds requested a furlough to recuperate.

When this was rejected, she decided to desert rather than face hospital confinement which would inevitably lead to disclosure of her sex. She returned to civilian life and once more became Sarah Emma Edmonds.

OLD BUDDY WRITES

The whereabouts of Frank Thompson was not known to the men of the 2nd Michigan until about 1880 when several received letters from a woman in Fort Scott, Kan.—now Mrs. Lina Seelye—who claimed to be their "old buddy," Frank Thompson.

Her motives for renewing their friendships are not clear, although it was definitely tied up with her desire to secure a government pension.

Although the men were skeptical at first, she soon convinced them that she was telling the truth. In 1882, they invited her to attend the regiment's reunion in Flint. Frank Thompson once again joined her comrades, but now as "stout and fleshy" Sarah Edmonds Seelye, the mother of three children.

The men and officers of the regiment gladly wrote affidavits and letters to the United States Pension Office supporting her claim and vouching for her bravery and high moral character.

Gen. Orlando Poe of Detroit wrote that she acted fearfully in battle and "secured the commendation of field and general officers."

He continued:

"There was not even a shadow of humbug about the soldierhood of Frank Thompson." Later he offered to testify "that her sex was not suspected by me or anyone else in the regiment."

Congress finally took action on the case. On a recommendation of the House Committee on Military Affairs, they removed the charge of desertion from her war record and authorized a full pension of $12 a month.

Despite the action of Congress and the statements of her Army comrades, the service career of Sarah Edmonds, alias Frank Thompson, must be treated with some skepticism.

There is little doubt that she enlisted disguised as a man and served in the 2nd Michigan regiment for about two years. However, her claim that she kept her identity a secret is questionable.

For example, after the Flint reunion of the regiment, she wrote to a friend: "I was properly punished for going to the reunion . . . it has always been the pride of my life that I had ever been a member of the beloved 2nd Michigan, but I discovered while at Flint that the honor of membership has cost me more than I am willing to pay."

that of slurs upon my character."

What did she mean by this statement? Were the veterans merely teasing her or did they question her claim that "no one knew that she was a woman?"

The diary of a corporal in the 2nd Michigan—brigaded with the 2nd in the spring of 1862—mentions presumably the same woman.

If the men of the 20th knew that Frank Thompson was a woman, was it possible that the men of her own company and regiment were deceived? Yet, they seemed sincere in supporting her pension claim 20 years later.

Until new evidence is presented—and that is doubtful now—the 30-year story of Michigan's woman soldier must remain incomplete.

Circular pattern identifies deposits scraped from combustion chamber. It tells researchers many secrets. To get this pattern, deposits are ground up and placed above a film. Electrons are beamed directly at the deposits. The beam is diffracted—scattered at precise and characteristic angles. This registers as the pattern of dots shown above. Reading this photograph, Shell scientists learn composition of deposits, determine how to neutralize them.

BULLETIN:

Weird electron “pictures” help Shell scientists develop improved TCP for today’s Super Shell —to give your car top performance

Read how electron diffraction revealed the inner secrets of the combustion deposits in your car’s engine. How improved TCP was developed to neutralize these deposits, prolong spark-plug life, increase mileage—and release up to 15% more power.

Here’s the full story of today’s Super Shell—and the 9 ingredients that give your car top performance.

THE TCP in today’s Super Shell does its job better than ever. It neutralizes certain harmful effects of combustion deposits—deposits that can prevent you from ever knowing your engine’s top performance.

There’s not a single engine with more than a few thousand miles on it that doesn’t have this type of deposit in its combustion chambers. These deposits can cause real trouble when you need power most.

They glow red-hot and set off the fuel before the spark plug has a chance to get into the act.

The experts call this pre-ignition. The explosion punches the piston on the way up. Two forces meet head-on. No wonder your power falls off.

Deposits can also cramp your car’s performance by short-circuiting the spark. What happens? No firing—you get a miss.

Problem: How to add something to gasoline that neutralizes the effects of deposits.

Answer: Shell Research.

A scientific detective story

Shell scientists announced the first TCP* additive eight years ago, after research had proved it could virtually end this misfire problem once and for all. TCP was hailed as the greatest advance in gasoline in thirty-one years. Now Shell has improved it.

Scientific detectives like the electron “photograph” (above) made new, improved TCP possible. They helped Shell scientists to look engine deposits right in the face. And to find how best to neutralize them.

What today’s TCP can do

Tests have already proved that TCP can help you get up to 15 per cent more power, up to 17 more miles per tankful. And it can make plugs last up to twice as long.

Yet TCP is only one of nine ingredients in today’s Super Shell. Read about the others. And how each helps your car deliver its top performance.

Ingredient #2 is “cat-cracked” gasoline for power with a purr

This is petroleum that has actually cracked under 900-degree heat and catalytic action. Its heavier molecules have been shattered into livelier, lighter ones.

The result is a super-octane ingredient that makes your engine purr with power the moment you put your foot down.

NOTE: “Cat-cracking” refers to the use of a catalyst—the mysterious substance that can alter molecules without changing itself.

Ingredient #3 is Alkylate, noted for knock control in hot engines

Jimmy Doolittle helped pioneer this outstanding high-octane ingredient for Shell aviation fuel.

Alkylate—the ingredient that took the dream of 100-octane gasoline out of the lab and put it into the skies—is now in Super Shell. It controls knocking in hot engines at high speeds better than anything else yet available.

NOTE: Speaking of controlling knocks at high speeds, remember that car engines frequently turn even faster than the engines of a DC-7. Think of this next time you pass another car.

Ingredient #4 is anti-knock mix for extra resistance to knocks

You might think that two high-octane ingredients are enough for knock-free performance. But Shell’s scientists have keen ears.

They insist on adding a special anti-knock mix. A mix so effective that one teaspoon per gallon can boost anti-knock rating by five points.

This mix has the tricky job of regulating combustion so that Super Shell gives each piston a firm, even push—rather than a sharp blow which would cause a knock.

Ingredient #5 is Butane for quick starts on cold mornings

Butane is so eager to get going that Shell keeps it under pressure 400 feet below ground to stop it from vaporizing by itself. Think what this extra volatility means in cold weather. Your engine fires in seconds. There is less strain on your battery. And none on your patience.

NOTE: Super Shell is primed with Butane all year round. In winter, Shell scientists simply increase the quick-start dose.

Ingredient #6 is Pentane mix for fast warm-ups on cold days

Pentanes are made by tearing gasoline apart, much as you split kindling to start a log fire.

In this case, the “logs” are petroleum’s heavier hydrocarbons. A special process transforms their molecules from slow-burning “logs” into the quicker-firing “kindling.”

NET RESULT: Fast warm-up and top performance in a hurry.

Ingredient #7 is an “anti-icer” to check cold-weather stalling

Super Shell’s formula is adjusted as often as eight times a year to beat the weather. For example, whenever the temperature is likely to be less than forty-five degrees, a carburetor anti-icer is added.

Why add anti-icer at forty-five degrees? Because, even then, frost can form in your carburetor just as it does in your refrigerator. It can choke your engine dead.

Ingredient #8 is gum preventive to keep carburetors clean inside

Even the purest gasoline can form gum when stored. This can clog carburetors and foul automatic chokes. But, with Super Shell, you needn’t worry. A special gum preventive does the trick.

It acts like a policeman controlling a mob. Regulates unstable elements to help keep them from clotting. Hence no gum problem.

Ingredient #9 is Platformate for extra energy, more mileage

It takes eight million dollars’ worth of platinum catalyst for Shell to produce Platformate. But fortunately for you and for us, this precious stuff can be used over and over again.

The platinum re-forming process, which gives Platformate its odd name, converts petroleum into super-energy components—such as benzene, xylene and toluene.

These three alone release 11 per cent more energy per gallon than the finest 100-octane gasoline.

But make no mistake. This is not untamed energy. Far from it. The super-energy of Platformate is harnessed by the eight other ingredients in Super Shell, where it behaves so well you scarcely know it’s there. That is until you note your extra mileage. After that, there is no doubt.

Test Super Shell for yourself

Try Super Shell next time you fill up. You’ll soon feel and hear a difference in the way your engine runs.

That difference is top performance.

A BULLETIN FROM SHELL RESEARCH —where 1,997 scientists are working to make your car go better and better.

Test proves how TCP neutralizes glowing deposits. The electrically heated piston, above, has been sprinkled with two kinds of engine deposit. The glowing deposit, at left, had not been neutralized with TCP. The deposit on the right had. With TCP in action, there is no trace of glow.

Secret of Mysterious MSG Is Revealed

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor
Sometimes rules have to be broken, and we believe this is one of the times.
As you readers know, we never use brand names in our articles. Once we did—unwittingly—and were called to account for it. Since then we have always started the word "Thermos" with a capital letter.
We had so many questions at the Cooking School. We get telephone calls every week on the same thing.
What is MSG? Where do I buy it?

MSG stands for monosodium glutamate. The pure crystalline form which we use goes under the trade name of Accent. Other companies may have similar products, but this is the one with which we're most familiar.
Centuries ago the Orientals discovered this type of vegetable protein. They found that it enhanced the taste of a good many foods, even though it has no taste of its own. It is only since the end of World War II that Americans have been using MSG in any great amount.
MSG is a basic seasoning like salt and pepper. It is good in any protein or vegetable dish. Keep it out of baked goods and sweets. Start out with 1/2 teaspoon per pound of meat and increase it to suit your taste. Some canned foods may already have MSG in them. Read your labels.

We hope this clears up a puzzling question. We don't deliberately keep you in the dark. Now we'll have to start on the grocers, some of whom don't know the meaning of the mysterious letters. Won't you share your knowledge with your grocer?
By the way, it is all right to leave the MSG out of a recipe if you don't have it on hand. But you'll have a better tasting product if you include it.

Here's a sample of one way it can be used:
Grilled Hamburger Steak
2 pounds lean ground beef
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup onion, finely chopped
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup Worcestershire sauce
Mix ground beef lightly with salt, pepper, MSG and onion. Shape into 4 thick "steaks". Let stand in cool place 1 hour.
Melt butter; add lemon juice and Worcestershire sauce; brush meat cakes with the mixture. Pan-fry in hot skillet, basting several times with remaining sauce. Makes 8 servings.

Hot Spiced Punch
On a cold winter's night nothing tastes as good as hot punch and popcorn! An exciting change for your recipe collection—simply heat a can of apricot whole fruit nectar with a dash of ginger and lemon juice. Keep the pot on for seconds!
Make whipping balls of coffee-ice cream with ice cream scoop. Freeze on cookie sheet, then roll in chopped or ready-diced almonds. Freeze again and keep on hand. Serve with fudge or mocha sauce for splendid and easy dessert.

Steamed Date Pudding Good Winter Eating

Supper idea for a cold winter's night: Bowls of rich vegetable soup, crusty rolls, large fruit salads and "Chocolate Date Pudding With Vanilla Sauce." Rich with luscious fresh California dates, this spicy, chocolate pudding is really easy to make. Serve it hot with its warm sauce spooned over each serving. Save this recipe for the family, you can be sure, will ask for it again and again.
Chocolate Date Pudding With Vanilla Sauce
1 cup pitted fresh California dates
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1 egg
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup butter
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
Chop dates coarsely. Melt butter and chocolate together over low heat. Remove from heat and add sugar, salt, slightly-beaten eggs and milk.
Sift together flour, baking powder and cinnamon. Stir in dates. Add liquid ingredients all at once, and stir until well-mixed. Turn into a well-greased one-quart mold. Cover tightly with foil.

Place on a rack in a large kettle and pour boiling water around mold to reach half way up sides. Cover tightly and steam 1 hour and 45 minutes, replenishing water if needed. Unmold and serve hot with Vanilla Sauce.
Vanilla Sauce: Boil water, sugar and butter together for 5 minutes. Remove from heat and stir in vanilla. Serve warm. Makes 8 servings.
Arrange alternating section of fresh grapefruit, avocados and oranges on a bed of lettuce on a large platter. Dot with diced unpickled red apples. Serve with mayonnaise.

Changes Her Stand on Santa Maria

Help Judge Hijackers, Says Portugal

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG

LISBON, Portugal (UPI)—Portugal is prepared to let the United States, Brazil or any other friendly government bring the Santa Maria hijackers to trial under their own laws, a high-ranking Portuguese government member said today.

Minister of presidency Pedro Teotónio Pereira said in an exclusive interview that Portugal does not want to be "sole judge of the guilty."

"Any of the friendly nations taking part in settling this unfortunate incident may, of course, bring them to book in accordance with its own penal code," he said. "Justice will be served equally well."

The statement indicated a striking switch in Portugal's official stand. Earlier, the government was reported to have demanded the surrender of Capt. Henrique Galvão and his fellow rebels for trial before a Portuguese court.

"What we ask is that the authority of the master of the ship should be restored, that it be returned to its owners' possession, and that the passengers and crew be freed from the veritable nightmare they have undergone hitherto," Teotónio Pereira said.

"Portugal has laws to punish common crimes. But it does not wish to be the sole judge of the guilty."

"Portugal appeals to friendly nations to help her right the situation aboard the ship as quickly as possible," he said.

He added that this appeal already has been sent to the United States, British and Brazilian governments.

State Area Busy Making Cedar Fence

GLADSTONE, UP—The move to subdivide is a big shot in the arm for one of Northern Michigan's fastest growing industries—the manufacture of rustic fencing units.

They are produced from vast stands of white stands of white cedar that cover an estimated 600,000 acres in Michigan, nearly half of them in central and eastern sections of the Upper Peninsula.

The area between Gladstone and Stephenson, not far from Wisconsin, supports seven fence-making plants. It calls it itself the cedar fence capital of the world.

Popularity of rustic fences enclosing the backyards of suburban homes started the boom.

G. H. Casey, plant manager of Northern Cedar Craft Products, Inc., here says his company used 700,000 cedar posts last year and wants to buy a million this year. Posts too large for fencing are split and made into cedar log cabins.

At peak production the company employs 60 to 65 men in the plant, 15 to 20 as hand peeler in the yards. Its output also means work for about 200 cutters in the woods.

Medical Cooperative in Ferndale Gets OK

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams Tuesday gave a legal go-ahead for establishment of a medical center and hospital by Ferndale Cooperative, a nonprofit organization in Oakland County.

There is no law preventing a cooperative from building a medical center and employing physicians to treat the membership, Adams said in an opinion asked by Sen. Harold M. Ryan, D-Detroit.

However, he said, the cooperative may not carry out its plans to open the center to the general public. Neither may it operate at a profit, he said. The organization did not submit its proposed system of financing for consideration by the attorney general.

Propane Gas Explosions Cause Spectacular Fire

NEW YORK (UPI) — Propane gas tanks exploded Tuesday night at a luxury apartment building under construction in a fashionable district, touching off a fire visible 40 blocks away and shattering windows in a nearby FBI office building.

Two watchmen were burned. One was hospitalized. The clasp of the nearly 12 explosions brought hundreds of people rushing to the scene.

Lutheran Leader Asks Faith Unity

DETROIT (AP) — Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, a leading Lutheran clergyman, says "unity of faith" among Lutherans is the basic step toward organizational unity.

"Every year the church is not united," Dr. Fry said Tuesday, "there is a loss." Dr. Fry of New Rochelle, N.Y., was here for the annual meeting of the National Lutheran Council, a social action agency of six Lutheran denominations. He is president of the Lutheran World Federation. Speaking of merger among Lutheran denominations, he said, "We Lutherans feel there should be an agreement in faith before there is unity of organization."

Convenience Foods Shorten Dip Making

Have you ever wondered how those "perfect" hostesses found time to prepare delicious before-meal snacks while attending to all the other details necessary when entertaining guests?

It's easy when you combine potato chips, crackers and similar items with taste tempting dips. Here are three dip recipes whose secret of success lies in using convenience ingredients where the manufacturer has already done the time-consuming unpleasant work for you.

All three of these dips utilize instant minced onion. A "convenience item" in the truest sense, instant minced onion, now available in an economy size, eliminates the tears, spillage, waste, cut fingers and storage problems usually associated with use of fresh onion.

Minced onion, and the other easy-to-use ingredients in these recipes, will enable you to serve delicious dips with a minimum expenditure of time.

Northampton Dip
1 1/2-cup jar cheese spread with bacon
1 cup sour cream
2 tablespoons instant minced onion
1/2 teaspoon barbecue seasoning

Beat together the cheese spread and sour cream until smooth. Add minced onion and barbecue seasoning. Chill until a half hour before serving time.

Here's a different twist. Instead of the usual cream or cheese base, this Chili Dip uses baked beans!

Chili Dip
1 cup baked beans
1/2 cup instant minced onion
1/2 cup instant minced onion
1/2 cup instant minced onion
1/2 cup instant minced onion

Mix beans with mixer or blender until smooth. Stir in remaining ingredients. Chill until serving time.

Bucks County Dip
1 cup cottage cheese
1/2 cup cream
1/2 cup instant minced onion
1/2 cup instant minced onion

Combine cottage cheese, cream, and chicken seasoned stock base and beat until well mixed. Mix in remaining ingredients. Refrigerate until shortly before serving time.

A Happy Cham Dip
1 can (1 1/2 ounces) frozen condensed clam chowder (New England style)
1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese, softened
1 medium clove garlic, minced
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire

Thaw soup, just before using, by placing unopened can in pan of hot water for about 30 minutes. With an electric mixer or rotary beater, gradually blend soup with cream cheese, garlic, and Worcestershire; beat until smooth. (Overbeating makes dip too thin.) Chill. Makes about 2 cups dip.

Top With Peaches and Whipped Honey Butter

For a bright beginning to any day, start with warm, golden peaches, whipped honey butter and hot waffles. To make honey butter, whip 2 tablespoons honey with 1/2 cup butter (1/2 pound). Heat canned cling-peach slices in their syrup, adding a teaspoon of whole cloves.

Spread warm waffles with whipped butter and top with peaches. Sweet enough to double as dessert.

Fruit Velvet Is Two-Way Concoction

Isn't it nice that many of the foods which contribute to the happy Christmas and New Year's season are available the year round, so that you can recreate in part, at least, the joys of the holiday season whenever you wish.

Cranberries, of course, are in that class and give a real holiday touch to the simplest of meals. This month especially you'll find supplies of both the fresh and processed berries abundant, so if you yearn for a return to some of the holiday atmosphere, make cranberries a part of your meals in one form or another.

One especially delicious concoction that may be served as a salad or as a dessert is CRANBERRY-PINEAPPLE VELVET.

To prepare, combine 2 parts of whole cranberry sauce with 1 part miniature marshmallows and 1 part drained crushed pineapple. Add just enough fresh lemon juice to highlight the flavors and a pinch of salt for mellowness. Fold into firmly whipped sweetened cream. Pour into refrigerated trays and chill until firm enough to cut.

For salads, serve cut into squares, atop a bed of lettuce with finely chopped fresh cranberry garnish. As a dessert, it is most attractive when baked apart with a spoon and baked lightly into moist sherbet dishes... and garnished with a whipped cream topping.

Guacamole Joins List of Good Dips

Often served in Mexican restaurants, this appetizer is equally good at home.

Guacamole With Corn Chips
2 medium-sized avocados
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon onion (or more)
Corn chips

Peel and mash ripe avocados and mix with lemon juice and salt. Add finely grated onion, including both pulp and juice. Turn into serving dish; garnish with pimiento. Serve with corn chips to dunk into mixture. No flour sifter in the house? Use a fine wire sieve.

Many-Way Lemon Dessert Sauce Is Handy

Pure Vanilla Sauce Yummy for Sundae

Quick Walnut Date Bars

Curried Sardines and Rice

Knowing your refrigerator is stocked with a sumptuous dessert sauce gives you a wonderful air of serenity when unexpected guests drop by. Glamorous Many-Way Lemon Dessert Sauce is a sparkly, tangy-tasting topper that goes deliciously with most every and any dessert you can name.

Creamy smooth and lemony flavored Many-Way Lemon Dessert Sauce is made in short-order-time — just five minutes. But it keeps so well that at the close of three weeks, you'll find it as luscious and refreshing as the minute you prepared it.

It's so simple to blend that you might even mix it after company arrives, serving it warm over succulent, canned or freshly frozen fruits, pound or plain cake.

Blendable evaporated milk is the miracle dairy food that thickens this sauce — so such a velvety-smooth consistency — slightly lumpy and lumpy find it impossible to appear. Evaporated milk is so dependable, you need never worry — not even for one second — that a recipe "won't work."

Freshly bottled lemon juice — the tart-sweet prize of the lemon that's now available to use without is mighty good over a Midwinter Fresh Fruit Sundae.

Many-Way Lemon Dessert Sauce
1 tablespoon (½ stick) butter
½ cup sugar
½ cup light corn syrup
Dash salt
1 cup (1 small can) evaporated milk
1 cup bottled lemon juice

In saucepan melt butter. Add sugar, corn syrup and salt. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, 3 to 4 minutes (mixture will become slightly opaque). Remove from heat. Gradually stir in evaporated milk. Add lemon juice; beat vigorously. Serve either hot or cold as a topping for ice cream or other desserts. Makes 2 cups.

Variations
Foamy Lemon Sauce: Chill one-third cup evaporated milk in refrigerator tray until icy cold; add 1 tablespoon bottled lemon juice and beat in chilled bowl until stiff. Fold into 2 cups chilled Many-Way Lemon Dessert Sauce. Makes 3 cups.

Marshmallow Lemon Sauce: Prepare Many-Way Lemon Dessert Sauce as directed adding ½ cup miniature marshmallows with the sugar, corn syrup and salt. Makes 2½ cups.

Fruited Lemon Sauce: Fold ¼ cup crushed drained pineapple or wise, slice lengthwise and dip in orange juice. To serve arrange 4 banana slices in each dish; top with 4 scoops of ice cream. Spoon remaining orange juice and orange sections over ice cream. Garnish each sundae with 2 maraschino cherries and top with ¼ cup Fruited Lemon Sauce.

Curried Sardines and Rice
Curried Maine Sardine, in an East Indian mood, is a delightful dish for a quick "n' easy supper. Add two teaspoons of curry powder — or more if you like — to a can of condensed mushroom soup. Add a chopped apple, rind and all, a diced banana and two cans of drained Maine Sardines. Serve over boiled rice when it's piping hot. M'm, good!

Scars Not Harmful
Surface scars do not affect the flavor and juiciness of fresh grapefruit unless they are soft and wet. Choose those which are firm and heavy for their size.

1½ teaspoons pure vanilla extract
Vanilla Ice Cream
Chopped peanuts

Combine sugar, cornstarch, and salt. Gradually stir in milk. Cook over hot water or very low heat until the mixture is of medium thickness. Stir in butter or margarine and pure vanilla extract. Cool, stirring occasionally. When ready to serve, place a scoop of vanilla ice cream in each sherbert dish over which spoon cooled vanilla sauce. Sprinkle with chopped peanuts. Yield: Sufficient sauce for 8 to 10 sundaes.

Just follow direction for preparing date bars using packaged date bar mix. Add ¼ cup chopped walnuts to the date filling mixture and bake as directed. Tastes delicious when served in squares with a California honey lemon sauce.

You can improvise a steamer by using a wire rack in the bottom of a large covered kettle.

U.S. Russian Ambassador Returning for Sharpening

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A key phase in President Kennedy's program to "sharpen our political and diplomatic tools" will begin next week when U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson returns from Moscow for consultations on U.S.-Soviet relations.

Diplomatic officials expect the top-deck American strategy talks to set the course for new U.S. efforts to blunt some of the sharp differences between the Kremlin and the West. But they look for no basic changes in policy.

The White House announced Tuesday that Thompson had been called home to talk with Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk and would arrive about Feb. 8. It was emphasized that he would return to Moscow.

Space Chimp Diet Way Out - Includes Oil

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — During the final 84 hours before Ham the chimp took off for space, it had four meals and 1.7 pints of water.

At 24, 18 and 12 hours prior to flight time, the animal received "full" meals and got a final snack seven hours and 15 minutes before takeoff.

This was the diet for each of the main meals:

- One-half fresh whole egg.
- One ounce of infant cereal.
- Four ounces of condensed milk.
- One-fourth package, flavored gelatin.
- One teaspoon of increment with iron.
- One-half teaspoon of cooking oil.

Man, 49, Is Accused in Rape of Little Girl

DOWAGIAC (AP) — Iren Smallwood, 49, demanded examination Tuesday on a charge of rape involving an 8-year-old girl.

Justice Robert A. Wilson set the hearing for Feb. 8 and ordered the man jailed when bond of $10,000 was not immediately furnished.

Smallwood, a groom at a Dowagiac area horse farm, is accused of assaulting the girl last Saturday night after allegedly forcing entry into a Dowagiac home where she was babysitting.

Interceptor Missiles Hit Targets in Tests

ELGIN AIR FORCE BASE, Ill. (UPI) — Two Bomarc "B" missiles intercepted and destroyed targets over the Gulf of Mexico Tuesday.

The first missile, fired by an Air Force crew, intercepted a Regulus II missile. The second, fired by technicians, destroyed a jet bomber flown by remote control from a ground station.

Thompson is an expert of many years' standing on Soviet affairs. He speaks the language fluently and has enjoyed the personal confidence of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev even during the grimest periods of the cold war.

One result of the consultations here may be a decision on whether to encourage or discourage Khrushchev's desire for an early meeting with Kennedy.

The Kremlin at present is playing it coy, refusing to disclose whether the Soviet leader intends to be in New York in March for the U.N. General Assembly. Indications are that Khrushchev is waiting for some sign that Kennedy would meet him at that time.

Seek Authority to Install New Phone-Speaker

LANSING (AP) — Michigan Bell Telephone Co. today asked the State Public Service Commission for authority to begin installing a new telephone-loudspeaker unit on Michigan farms.

The device, known as farm interphone, is designed to save steps and energy for the farmer, his family and employees, the company said.

The system is a combination of an extension telephone and two-way speaker system, users can talk to and from any telephone on the farm and page other persons over the speaker system.

Speakers also can be used as monitors in the barnyard or other farm areas, the company said.

Michigan Bell proposed an $11.50 monthly charge for a basic system, including one phone and one extension and two indoor and one outdoor speaker microphone units.

The charge would be in addition to the regular fee for a standard telephone.

Commie Plan Found Wanting

Red China Cools on Idea to Link Factories With Farm Communes

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist China has taken stock of its plan to link huge factories economically with the individual farm commune. The appraisal apparently has found the scheme wanting.

Reports from Peking indicate that planners will take the factories out of the hands of commune bosses and tuck them safely under the wing of the Heavy Industry Ministry.

In an early effort to "sell" the commune system to Chinese peasant farmers, Peking had promised them first call on the output from nearby factories.

Farmers, eyeing the big, gray machines rolling off the assembly line of a nearby tractor plant, went along with the plan. This was fine with those on the tractor plant commune, but neighbors living on backache communes continued ploughing, sowing and harvesting crops by hand. They did not like it.

It was something similar to the U.S. Commerce Department ordering U.S. Steel Co. to sell all its products in Pennsylvania, or restricting Standard Oil to sales in New Jersey. Although the examples might be exaggerated, the system was no less true.

Equal distribution of manufactured goods is the new byword. It appears Peking's economic bosses are working toward a national market.

The new scheme calls for big factories to serve everyone in the area.

Under the commune system, agricultural cooperatives were reorganized in 1958 in country-wide "cooperatives" with authority over all government and economic functions.

Farming, industry, taxation and the militia all fell within the authority of the commune.

From now on the factories have their own special niche. Several communes have organized industrially into networks, an economic grouping that includes half a dozen or more communes.

Forced by Rocks to Flee Congo—Mission Doctor

ELIZABETH, N.J. (UPI) — An African mission doctor has cabled his parents in New Jersey that he and his family were forced to flee the strife-torn Congo when tribesmen hurled rocks at mission buildings.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard B. Carpenter said they received word Tuesday from their son Dr. Robert D. Carpenter, 36. They said he and his family were not hurt.

The younger Carpenter said in his cable that he, his wife Mary, and their two children Patricia, 5, and John, 18 months, drove to Bristol Uganda under an escort of United Nations troops.

Avondale in Oak and-B Lead Again, Thanks to Lake Orion

OAKLAND B STANDINGS

| League     | All Games |
|------------|-----------|
| Avondale   | 1-0       |
| Fitzgerald | 1-0       |
| Lake Orion | 1-0       |
| Clawson    | 1-0       |
| Madison    | 1-0       |

Couch Dick Bye at Avondale wants the Lake Orion basketball team to know that he certainly appreciates the help his Yellow Jackets have received in the Oakland-B conference race, but to expect any favors from him in the league late in February.

Orion did it again by defeating Fitzgerald, 55-53, to allow Avondale to take over first place in the league all by itself. Avondale, meanwhile had to depend on heavy free throw shooting to defeat Madison, 69-55.

In another league game, Oak Park stayed in contention with an easy 62-45 win over Clawson.

In other games of interest locally last night, Flint Southwestern outscored Waterford 75-58, South Lyon got by Brighton 91-83, Orchard Lake St. Mary rolled over St. Alphonse of Dearborn, 41-21. St. Michael triumphed Farmington Our Lady 66-46 and Royal Oak Dondoro napped Hazel Park, 46-44.

Lake Orion has made a habit of helping Avondale. Couple years ago, in the last game of the season, the Dragons upset highly favored Troy and pushed Avondale into a co-championship.

A year later, Orion pulled the rug from under Fitzgerald to allow Troy to win the title.

Last night Fitzgerald held a 24-20 halftime lead and then stretched the margin to 31 points early in the third quarter. Orion pulled away and closed the gap to 48-45 at the final period.

Fitzgerald again surged ahead 53-45 with six minutes to play and that was it. Orion scored 10 straight points with Bucky Craven hitting for the tying point 55-53 at 1:20.

An Orion free throw was missed, and Fitzgerald took the rebound. Roger Williams however stole the ball with 38 seconds to play and Orion then played for the last shot.

With 5 seconds left, Craven hit the jumper and that was the game.

Craven finished with 18 points, followed by Tom Reed with 17 and Mike Rach with 10. Rach, who for two years served as the team's manager, is playing his first year at basketball. Last night was the 7th game he has started and he clipped in with 10 points.

Duane Pisarek who got 11 in the first half, was held to five by Williams' defensive play in the second half and finished with 16.

Avondale hit 33 of 49 free throws for its margin of victory, as Madison outscored the Jackets from the floor on 19 field goals to 18.

At halftime Avondale led 26-29 and never lost the lead. Tim Burt led Avon with 20 points and Jim McDonald hit 16 as four players got double figures.

Oak Park led 25-21 at halftime and got double figure scoring from Bob Newman adding 12 and Dick Shipman 10.

St. Mike led 25-21 at halftime and got double figure scoring from Bob Newman adding 12 and Dick Shipman 10.

St. Mike had a 25-point second quarter to five for Our Lady and that was a 47-21 halftime advantage, which was more than enough to preserve a victory.

St. Mary got 18 for the Shamrocks with Al Tunny and Hurron each getting 10. Machan had 10 for the losers.

SOUTH LYON-BRIGHTON

Jack Wren and Steve Tapp put on a high scoring show in beating Brighton. Wren scored 30 points with 17 field goals and Tapp got 32 points with 15 field goals.

Leading 60-43 at halftime Brighton slowed the game to prevent South Lyon from hitting the century mark for the 4th time this year. Mack Bidwell with 20, Fred Diamond with 18 and Dave Hill with 12 led Brighton.

HAZEL PARK-DONDERO

Hazel Park had a 24-22 halftime lead and led by eight going into the final period, but Dondoro scored 16 points and Hazel Park six in that stanza to do it. A shot as the buzzer sounded hit the rim for Hazel Park but failed to drop.

Bill Boldt had 17 for the Parkers and Bill Pyles 16 for Dondoro.

BERKLEY-THURSTON

With Paul Wierbach hitting 23 points, Berkley whipped Thurston 65-36 in a non-league encounter.

Winter Rainbow Fishing Becoming Popular

Locating Fish Is Big Problem Facing Anglers

Many Baits Being Tried as Fishermen Improve on Methods

By DON VOGEL
Outdoor Writer, Pontiac Press

Trout fishermen who normally pick their gear away early in September and don't take it out again until April are beginning to change their habits.

Winter rainbow fishing is the big reason.

Opened for the first time in Michigan a year ago, winter fishing for rainbows is beginning to pick up momentum. And the trout are co-operating.

Oakland County has 30 lakes stocked by the state. These lakes are all open to the public for winter trout fishing.

The State Conservation Department has been busy making rest plantings this winter. From 500 to 1,000 rainbows are released at individual lakes and chains of lakes.

This practice is repeated each year because rainbows have a poor reproduction record on lakes.

The methods used to catch these rainbows vary. This being the second season, improvements are constantly being made. But the trout can be as tricky in winter as those in a stream during summer.

However, much to the anglers' delight, they do not seem quite as cautious when feeding.

Corn borers, grubs, minnows, doughballs, small spoons, pieces of fish or cut bait, minnows and wigglers are all tested baits. The favorites in the Oakland County area seem to be perch minnows and wigglers.

Two-pound test lines up to six-pounds are fastened on the rods. Four pounds appears to be the average and the most productive. No. 8 hooks get the best results.

Where do you locate the rainbows are the lake of your choice? This has been the big problem confronting fishermen. Most of the winter rainbows fishermen like to go to 20 feet along drop-offs.

Then there is the case of Deer Lake where most of the rainbows have been taken in three to five-foot depths. Most of these trout have been in the eight and nine-inch class and are believed to have come from a recent planting.

Square Lake on the south edge of Pontiac has been noted for big trout. But most of the larger fish are taken in the spring and fall by anglers wading from shore. Some good fish have been caught in Sugar Lake this winter. Cedar Island and Oxbow have good producers.

The ice fishing season for rainbows opens in December and runs through February.

Flamingoes Spotted During Florida Tour

MIAMI (AP) — Audubon Wildlife Tours, conducted by the National Audubon Society into the Everglades of Florida, recently made news by discovering two wild flamingoes in State Right, a remote saltwater bay near the visitor's center in Everglades National Park.

Although pale colored captive flamingoes at Hialeah Race Track and a few other commercial flocks are somewhat common sights, scientists had estimated that, before Hurricane Donna, no more than nine of these birds lived in the wild in the state.

Perhaps all nine had escaped from captivity. Since the hurricane, only one bird, discovered last month at the normal range, had been sighted.

Who Says He Was Outsmarted?

Fish, Animals Aren't Very Bright

LANSING (UPI) — "Outsmarted again" is a familiar comment from a hunter or fisherman returning empty-handed from a day of watching or waiting.

Biologists and conservation officials are hesitant to describe objects of the hunt as "dumb animals" but they are equally hesitant to call animals and fish "smart."

Being "outsmarted" by ducks or fish could be a fact, they say, but the term itself doesn't fit the situation.

"Birds learn by experience," said conservation department biologist Oscar Warbach. "For example, we usually figure the ducks that survive the opening day of a season have a good chance to get through the rest of the hunting days."

Dr. George J. Wallace, professor of zoology at Michigan State University, agreed with Warbach but said a duck's memory is short-lived.

"They may recall being shot at during a given season, just as they seem to stick with a single mate during a season," Wallace said. "But by the time the next season rolls around, they seem to have forgotten much as they were the previous year."

Fish, on the other hand, are generally not "smart" enough to remember being hooked, zoologists contend.

"From what little we know about learning abilities of fish, you would have to hook a bass four or five, or even more times in a row within a relatively short period of time in order that he would remember," said John E. Bardach.

Memory or lack of it does not mean, however, that ducks or fish are easy game.

Techniques of hunters and fishermen, for example, often fail to be effective because they hit the prey where it is sharpest.

Fish and ducks both have sharp abilities to distinguish color, the experts say.

"Some species of ducks react more in shades of dark and light," said Warbach. "So if a hunter lifts his face up in the blind too soon he'll lose any chance at a shot."

Color perception in fish often means the difference in whether a fish will take an artificial lure, Bardach said.

Both ducks and fish lack one ability common to mammals which often proves their undoing. This is the ability to link incidents together — to make "mental jumps" like a monkey which puts two sticks together because they will reach a banana outside the cage.

The fish seldom connects the taste-tempting worm on the end of a barely-visible string with the fact he will be in the fisherman's live box if he bites.

Similarly many ducks die in Michigan annually because they do not connect danger with oil slicks on familiar marshes and ponds easily distinguish lethal lead pellets in shallow ponds from nourishing hard seeds under the water.

Biologists won't come right out and dispute a hunter or fisherman's claim that he was "outsmarted." But they might raise a eyebrow of disbelief.

Warriors Take 2nd in 'D' Cage Race

The Warriors moved into 2nd place in the Class D City League basketball race Tuesday night with an easy 50-29 victory over Winless Northside at Lincoln Junior High.

Larnell Draper again set the pace for the Warriors by scoring 13 points. It was the 8th win in 10 games for the Warriors, who now trail the league-leading Trotters by half a game. The loss was Northside's 9th.

In another Class D contest yesterday, the All-Stars defeated Westside Kiwanis, 38-35. Paul Wilson topped the winners with 15 points and Dave Brandenburg tallied 18 in a losing cause.

Canada Expects Record Influx of Fishermen

Great Slave Lake Area Is Jumping Off Point for Anglers

EDMONTON, Alta. (AP) — The more than a dozen outfitters in Canada's Northwest Territories are expecting the biggest influx of sport fishermen ever next season.

They will be guiding anglers to waters teeming with lake trout, great northern pike, pickerel, Arctic char and Arctic grayling.

One reason is the newly completed all-weather, highway from Edmonton to Yellowknife which makes it possible to drive into the heart of one of the best sport fishing areas in North America.

Yellowknife, on the north shore of the Great Slave Lake, is the focal point for most anglers going "down north." The lake is 325 miles long and up to 150 miles wide. Some parts are more than 500 feet deep.

The gravel-surfaced Mackenzie Highway meets the Great Slave at the mouth of the Hay River. Here the settlement of Hay River is the base of commercial trout fisheries which annually export many millions of pounds of fresh fish to the United States.

The next settlement is Fort Providence at the extreme west end of the lake where it drains into the mighty Mackenzie River. This area is frequented by the Ikonas, the mystery fish discovered by French-Canadian voyageurs.

Now are taken that it is trophy material.

Characterized by a long, narrow head, the Ikonas measures 20 inches in length and can weigh more than 10 pounds. It feeds on smaller fish, making it susceptible to a long liver louse.

Last stop on the Mackenzie Highway is the modern pleasure town of Yellowknife. This is the jumping-off point for fishermen, who can rent a boat to reach any part of the lake or charter a small aircraft to reach any of the dozens of small lakes and streams to the north and east.

The island-studded eastern arm of the Great Slave is ideal for canoeing, fishing or observing before visited by white men and rewarded the angler with silver-sided lake trout weighing up to 50 pounds.

Snowdrift, an Indian village on the southeastern shore of the Great Slave, is near the lower end of the Snowdrift River. Here the fishermen always go out before the fly. Grayling snap at almost every fly that's cast and a lure will rise the big trout.

The black gnat dry fly tempts Grayling averaging close to four pounds and the trout are often over 20.

Aircraft can be chartered at Hay River, Yellowknife and Fort Smith and the rates are $105 an hour for a 14-passenger Otter, $75 for a 10-passenger Beaver and 50 cents a mile for a four-passenger Cessna 180.

Fishermen who haven't time for the 1,000-mile drive north over the Mackenzie highway can reach the territories by airplane from Edmonton in three to five hours, depending on their destination.

Wild Fish Disappear Each Year

LANSING (AP) — State conservation men are puzzling over a mystery that has baffled them for more than two years — why do so many wild trout die during the winter?

They'd give a lot to know the answer. Natural trout far outnumber hatchery-reared trout in Michigan streams and any assists that could bring more of them through the winter would more than pay their way.

"Frankly, we're somewhat alarmed by this thing," said Troy Yoder, hatcheries supervisor for the state conservation department.

It makes us wonder how worth while it is to try to build up the trout populations if our work goes for naught because of the winter kill."

The situation came to light as a result of surveys on sections of streams set aside for use by fly fishermen only. The experiments on the Boardman River and branches of the Au Sable and Pere Marquette rivers are designed to gauge the effect of

Trout Kill Is Problem

Yoder, hatcheries supervisor for the state conservation department, it makes us wonder how worth while it is to try to build up the trout populations if our work goes for naught because of the winter kill."

The situation came to light as a result of surveys on sections of streams set aside for use by fly fishermen only. The experiments on the Boardman River and branches of the Au Sable and Pere Marquette rivers are designed to gauge the effect of

"We have known for some time that the mortality rate was high for hatchery-reared trout and we had assumed it was because they had been bled along and were weaker—and dumber than the wild trout," Yoder said.

"We thought that because we set them in a weakened condition in files-only waters that the population would grow. But they didn't show up in the catch the following spring."

"This phenomena was noted just recently in a number of other states, and nobody seems to know the reason."

Fish experts have come up with theories, still untested, on possible reasons. One speculates that hungry predators such as fish-eating ducks, otter and muskrat take a heavy toll.

Extremely low temperatures that cool the bottoms of streams with ice might be responsible. Moving masses of ice crystals that fill the water when the temperature is at or near 32 degrees also could figure in the kill.

"However, we know that bad ice conditions don't kill fish in the hatcheries, and we know that trout can go for months with virtually no food and still survive," Yoder said.

"We think it is possible that, in a weakened condition, they contract a fatal disease."

Trout populations in lakes survive the winter well. The conservation department, in fact, plants a good many trout in lakes during the fall.

A fund shortage in the state conservation treasury prevents the Institute for Fisheries Research at Ann Arbor from undertaking research to learn the reasons for the winter death toll in streams and rivers.

One Sticker for Each Car

State's Parks Permit Users Raise Questions

"If I buy an annual state park permit, do I still have to pay 50 cents every time I come to the park? If I change cars during the year, can I remove the permit and put it on my new car?"

These are two of the many questions that Michigan's parks permit requirement has raised during its first month.

The answer to the questions above is "no." Parks users need either a $2 annual or a 50-cent daily permit, not both. However, if a family owns two cars and has a permit on one, it must buy an annual or daily permit to enter parks with the other. Permits are not transferable from one car to another.

Here are other questions which park managers are being asked. "You mean I even have to have a permit in the wintertime?" Yes, the permit requirement went into effect Jan. 1 at 55 of 52 state parks.

Parks men are issuing violation permits to visitors who don't have permits on their cars.

Persons receiving these notices either have a five-day "grace" period to buy annual permits or must purchase a daily permit before leaving parks.

"Will the money from the permit go back into parks?" Yes. Pending legislative action, the Conservation Department will launch a $5,000,000 parks improvement and lands acquisition program in 1961.

The program, to be financed by permit sales, calls for $1,000,000 in new lands purchases and $4,000,000 in improvements to campgrounds, picnic areas, parks, utilities, toilets, bathhouses and other facilities.

"Where do I put the permit on my motor scooter?" Any suitable place where it will be visible. For other vehicles, it goes on the lower right-hand corner of windshields.

Record Marlin Can Be Expensive

MIAMI (UPI) — If you want to catch and keep a record marlin or swordfish you not only better be lucky — you'd also better be wealthy.

In any game fish waters you can rent a boat for $50 by the half day or $75 for the day. But that's only a starter if you're intent on having your prize mounted for the ivory tower wall.

Say, for instance, you catch a 1,500 pound marlin. To have it mounted costs you a buck a pound for a neat $1,500 to have him plunging forever across the wall of your den.

Say, as example, you boat a 1,100-pound swordfish. At a dollar a pound, you're passing over $1,100 to be a neighborhood show-off.

And the guy you're probably going to pay to it is a tall, rangy Indian-looking fellow named Al Pfueger who, as one of the nation's leading taxidermists, makes speciality of mounting fish.

Pfueger is a man who came out of Elizabeth, N.J., back in 1925 when he tried of being a tooler and a Miami fishing boat captain advised him that he should give up stuffing ducks, pheasants and such and start making fishermen tell the truth. Then it was a hobby. Today it is a very profitable business.

Big Al, who has a rambling, informal fishstopping factory on the northern outskirts of Miami, has mounted trophies for so many sportsmen that he can't remember them all.

"Pfueger's green and gray painted shops are a wonderland of dead fish, sans smell."

Mounting the specimens is a tedious process. Quickly, a plastic mold is made of the fish to be mounted.

The lady of the house, it seems, is tired of dusting those white elephants of the sea.

To Seek Bonding OK

County Receives Bids on the Eight Mile Drain

Next stop for the Oakland County Drain Commission is the Municipal Finance Commission and permission to sell bonds to finance the Eight Mile storm drain, for which construction bids were received yesterday.

Low among the six bidding companies were the firms of S. A. Healy Co. and Gargaro & Co., both of Detroit, with a combined bid of $3,545,342.

The bid was some $554,000 less than the engineer's estimate of $3.9 million, according to Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry.

Barry, who said he was "quite surprised" by the size of the bid, attributed it to a more modern, and less expensive, method of "tunneling" to lay drains.

He said a petition was now being drawn to submit to the finance commission for permission to issue general obligation bonds. He was "somewhat reluctant to estimate when construction might begin in light of many legal obstacles which have blocked the drain in the past."

It will run for 19,100 feet along Eight Mile Road from a point 500 feet off Greenfield Road westerly to its outlet at the Rouge River. It will help relieve flooding in streets and basements in some 2,300 acres of Southfield and Oak Park.

The low bid was being studied by Barry's engineers. Construction will take 20 months, Barry said.

The TV and movie actor apparently will remain in Orange County jail until March 6, when a hearing is scheduled on his wife's complaint, unless he raises the $50,000 bond.

One of Mitchell's attorneys, James Byrd of Orlando, said so far as he knows the actor "doesn't have enough to put up a $500 bond, much less $50,000."

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Rules Committee has voted to give President Kennedy the desk chair from his old Senate office as a souvenir of his almost eight years as a senator.

Hope Camera to Offer Clue

TV Pictures Taken in Rocket With Ham May Tell Booster Trouble

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A tiny television camera may provide a clue to what caused a malfunction in the Redstone rocket which boosted Ham the space chimp 155 miles above the earth.

The trouble could delay a plan to hurl an American astronaut aloft on a similar flight. Federal space officials had hoped to accomplish this within two months if Tuesday's shot had been completely successful.

Thrust termination occurred a quarter-second before the scheduled Redstone engine burnout and activated a rocket escape tower which helped propel the chimp's space capsule higher and farther than intended.

The television camera was attached near the top of the Redstone to transmit pictures of capsule separation and booster performance during powered flight.

The 34-pound unit, 12 inches long and 3 inches in diameter, transmitted 500 pictures during the 14-second powered phase of the trip.

Brando Comes Forth With Real Western

By JAMES BACON
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The ever-amazing Marlon Brando has come up with a classic Western in his first—and he says his last—try at directing.

"One-Eyed Jacks," the movie Hollywood said never would get finished, was previewed Monday night.

For this cameraman, Charles Lang and the Pacific Ocean along the Monterey section of California must rate an assist.

Marlon played his horseman mostly in front of pounding surf instead of the traditional canyon rock, and it's violently effective.

Even the final gunfight has a new Brando-twist. Marlon, the hero, shoots Karl Malden, the heavy, in the back—a clear violation of the code of the West. But the director-star makes it look justifiable.

When Marlon started the picture a couple of years ago, it had a normal three-months shooting schedule, a normal $1-million budget and only a bare outline for a script.

When it finally finished, the shooting and editing time totaled two years and the price tag was $2 million. The first rough cut of the picture lasted eight hours and 42 minutes on the screen.

The movie now runs a little over two hours. Some actors who worked months on scenes now are lucky if they rate 15 seconds on the screen.

Marlon, besides his superb job of direction, also established himself as the most rugged gunslinger since John Wayne first cocked a Colt.

Grain Futures Weak; Soybeans Stubborn

CHICAGO — Grain futures prices were generally weak again today although soybeans showed some signs of resisting further heavy selling such as the volume which knocked the market down sharply Tuesday.

Grains were off all small futures during the first few minutes in most contracts with old crop wheat holding steady. Transactions were slow compared with the brisk activity of the previous session.

Dealers said the broad declines in soybeans Tuesday apparently had shaken out the bulk of speculative profit taking for the present. While demand was by no means as active as in most of the trade recently, it was described as possibly an indication that buyers were moving with a little more confidence.

Chrysler Gets Delay in Newberg Suit

Chrysler Corp. has received a delay until Feb. 20 to file an answer to the suit brought by its former president, William C. Newberg, and his wife Dorothy, of 1111 Kirkway Road, Bloomfield Hills.

The delay was granted Tuesday by Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Chester P. O'Hara over the strenuous objections of Newberg's lawyer, Joseph W. Louie. He said that with all his lawyers Chrysler should be able to have the case ready without delay.

The Newbergs are seeking to set aside an agreement under which Newberg is to return $450,000 to Chrysler. He signed the agreement when he resigned as Chrysler president. Chrysler says the suit is Newberg's earnings through his interests in vendor companies while he was a Chrysler official.

1962 Studebaker to Change Some

SAN FRANCISCO — Sherwood Egbert, who officially became president of Studebaker-Packard Corp. today, says his company's 1962 model cars will be different but not radically so.

Egbert, from Los Angeles, was named head of the company in late December.

He came to San Francisco for the National Auto Dealers Association convention and this month will visit Studebaker dealers in 23 cities.

"What we find out will go a long way in deciding the shape of the company," Egbert said, "I have no overnight program."

One phase of future products was clarified at a news conference Tuesday — Studebaker will not introduce a small car of the Volkswagen size this year.

Kennedy Staggers Newsmen . . . He Reads Their Offerings

RICHMAN BROTHERS CLOTHIERS
MIRACLE MILE CENTER

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON — This ordinary bias capital is fascinated by the novelty of having a president who reads the newspapers. That may seem odd to aborigines and outlanders who, having heard from missionaries and itinerant drummers that practically everyone in America can read and write, quaintly assume that our highest officials scan the unfettered press.

Alas, during recent years, we have had little proof of it. President Eisenhower, an old Army man whose heavy presidential chores were constantly interfering with golf and hunting, found so little time for newspapers that he usually took his news in capsule form, with additional weekly briefings from Press Secretary Jim Hagerty.

President Roosevelt, an indifferent student in college days, called newspaper columnists "excessives," which Webster defines as an "abnormal growth" . . . "superfluous."

The only time this correspondent can recall that President Truman made news by reading the paper was when he blew his stack over an unfavorable review of daughter Margaret's overambitious attempts to be a concert singer.

Because a music critic quite honestly implied that Maggy wouldn't have been singing with the National Symphony Orchestra at Convention Hall unless she had a daddy in the White House, the quicktempered prexy fired off a hand-written letter that contained some purple passages including a threat to kick below the belt.

President Kennedy, a former newspaperman himself who won a Pulitzer Prize for his smooth and polished writings, not only likes columnists, but also likes to read newspapers.

At least twice during his first ten days as president — probably the busiest period of his life — he has demonstrated that he not only skims the headlines, but avidly pores over the fine print, as well.

READS LOCAL PAPER
The first proof occurred when he read in a local paper that the White House had slammed the door on special tours for the constituents of congressmen, and that GOP Rep. Robert R. Barry of New York had hit the ceiling about it.

Barry's explosion was relatively mild compared with JFK's reaction. Throwing down the paper, he sent for Press Secretary Pierre Salinger and read the riot act to him and everyone else on the staff who had had anything to do with the decision.

As a former congressman as well as reporter, he needed no one to tell him the public relations value of doing little favors for constituents. The VIP tours were promptly reinstated.

The second incident similarly stemmed from Kennedy's deep-rooted habit of reading the paper. Learning that the staff of former President Eisenhower was being denied everything from paper clips to stationery by the General Services Administration, in attempting to acknowledge 10,000 pieces of mail, Jack phoned the acting GSA administrator and ordered him to cut the red tape. The effect was like waving a magic wand.

Such acts of thoughtfulness, however minor their individual effect may be in terms of global problems, are nonetheless capturing the public imagination and heart.

A president who will take time, in the midst of world-shaking problems, to ease the path of others, cannot help but attract admiration from all shades of political opinion.

The current reaction to Kennedy's Cabinet appointments, his inaugural address, State of the Union message and general can-run-off election today by a land now gone, and die-hard Republic-It is not yet in sight.

Approximately one-eighth of the cans are still prayerfully waiting for the first real Kennedy blooper. Now gone, and die-hard Republic-It is not yet in sight.

Victorious House Dems Prepare for Tough Fight

WASHINGTON (U)—After scoring an important victory on enlargement of its Rules Committee, the House Democratic leadership digs in today for a long fight to enact President Kennedy's legislative program.

The fight probably will be a tough one, since Tuesday's victory for the Kennedy administration and Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas was won with only a five-vote margin.

The House voted 217 to 212 to back Rayburn's plan to enlarge the Rules Committee from 12 to 15 members, wresting committee control from a conservative coalition. Respectively this puts liberal Democrats in control by an 87-edge.

The White House reported Kennedy was pleased with the outcome. Officially he had taken no direct part in the fight, but left no doubt that he favored the Rayburn plan.

Under Tuesday's action, Democrats will add two members to the committee and Republicans will add one. Republicans also have two vacancies to fill on the committee.

The new lineup will be 10 Democrats and 5 Republicans. The committee previously had 8 Democrats and 4 Republicans—with the Republicans and two conservative Southern Democrats usually in control.

The House vote, while nominally wrestling Rules Committee control from the coalition, indicated that the coalition is a force that must be reckoned with on the House floor.

It found 22 Republicans joining 195 Democrats to uphold Rayburn, and 84 Democrats and 148 Republicans voting against him.

Ground Hog Is Star of Weather Picture

Will he or won't he? Tomorrow is Ground Hog Day and the legend goes that the ground hog comes out of his burrow on the second day of February, looks about, and if he sees his shadow, decides that spring is still six weeks off.

The weatherman comes up with a partly cloudy prediction for tonight and Thursday, so it may all depend on the time of day the ground hog chooses to peek.

For the next five days temperatures will average 6 to 10 degrees below the normal high of 21 to 25, and normal low of zero to 11 above. Cold temperatures will prevail through Friday, Saturday will be a little warmer, but temperatures will be colder again Sunday and Monday.

Precipitation for the period will total 1 or 2 inches of an inch in snow or snow flurries mostly over the weekend.

Morning east to northeast winds at 10-15 miles per hour will blow northerly at 10 to 20 miles Thursday.

The lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 3 a.m. was 10 degrees. The recording at 1 p.m. was 22.

U.S. Coy on Orbiting Samos II

Spy Moon Slinks on High

POINT ARGUELLO, Calif. (AP)—Samos II is circling the globe every 55 minutes today on a pioneer mission which may lead to a whole system of United States electronic military scouts.

The ultimate goal of the program is to be able to make detailed photographs of any point on earth and thus detect a buildup by a potential foe.

The mission is so secret that the Air Force won't even confirm that the satellite, launched Tuesday, will radio pictures back to earth. The orbiting vehicle is equipped with cameras to photograph ground terrain and sensors to record electro-magnetic radiation.

It can be made to transmit information as it passes over stations where data can be reproduced, stored, integrated and interpreted by automatic display equipment.

Signals from Samos II were being picked up by tracking and telemetry stations at Vandenberg Air Force Base at Oahu, Hawaii and at Kodiak, Alaska.

All orbital data was being received at the Air Force Satellite Test Center in Sunnyvale, Calif., south of San Francisco.

Samos I, launched last October, failed to orbit.

No. 2 in the series roared aloft into a dizzy sky at 12:23 p. m. Tuesday and disappeared in a heavy overcast. Two hours later the Air Force said it had achieved pole orbit. Its path carries the satellite at altitudes ranging from 300 to 350 miles.

The launching was from the Point Arguello Naval Base, adjacent to Vandenberg Air Force Base, 170 miles northwest of Los Angeles.

Future satellites of this type are expected to take pictures from 300 miles up with equipment so advanced that quality will equal the view from a human eye at 100 feet.

The Samos program, begun in 1957, was given top priority last year after cessation of the U2 reconnaissance flights over the Soviet Union.

Chipper Chimp Due Back at Base Today

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (U)—Winding up a space flight with a chipper, cheerful handshake, a chimpanzee called Ham today signaled a go-ahead for man to enter space safely.

Ham is due back this afternoon to this rocket space port—which he left lightly abruptly Tuesday atop a Redstone rocket.

The largest animal ever sent aloft, Ham's trip 155 miles high and 420 miles southeast into the Atlantic into the receding hands of the U.S. Navy carried several main significances:

1. It indicates manned space flight is feasible. An American astronaut is scheduled this spring to duplicate Ham's daring flight.

2. The Soviets appear likely to win the race to be first to orbit a man around the earth.

3. A very slight mis-firing in the rocket system hurling out Ham's capsule may well require further tests with or without a chimp aboard, before a man goes up. But this also produced valuable dividends.

4. Ham himself is reported in excellent shape, a smart 37 pounds of amiability.

Perfect Flight for Minuteman

AF Jubilant Following Successful Firing and 4,000-Mile Run

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (U)—A Minuteman missile, America's hope for a pushbutton war weapon, scored an amazing success on its first test flight today.

A jubilant Air Force reported 30 minutes after the 11 a.m. (Ponitic time) launching that all three stages had fired successfully and that the rocket had landed on target in the South Atlantic Ocean, more than 4,000 miles away.

The Air Force had gone all out on the initial firing of this second generation intercontinental range missile, which will provide the countryside on hard-to-find railroad trails, or stand poised in hardened underground bases, ready for firing on an instant's notice.

Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff, called the success "one of the most significant steps this nation has ever taken toward gaining intercontinental missile supremacy in the critical years just ahead."

This was the first time that all stages of a military rocket were manufactured by different contractors.

Missol made the first stage, Aerojet the second and Hercules the third. Boeing Aircraft Co. is assembly and test manager.

The distance covered was just 2,000 miles short of the intended operational range of 5,500 miles.

'Pirates' Await Clear Welcome From Brazil

Ambiguity of Wording Leaves Possibility That Ship Will Be Seized

RECIFE, Brazil (UPI)—Rebel leader Henrique Galvao sailed his captive liner Santa Maria into the harbor of this Brazilian port today and was immediately granted political asylum by President Janio Quadros.

The 600 passengers aboard were expected to land soon.

The 20,000-ton liner had dropped anchor at the entrance to the port awaiting clarification of the tangled political situation before proceeding further. U.S. Navy destroyers and a Brazilian destroyer and a frigate circled the luxury liner.

The Brazilian navy sent heavily armed marines to the dock area where the Santa Maria is to tie up and occupied it in preparation for removing the passengers who have been held captive since Galvao seized the ship early on Jan. 22.

President Quadros, inaugurated only Tuesday, had maintained silence on the case until today.

Portugal had said the case involved murder and piracy on the seas and that the ship was a pirate vessel. He had said the ship was a pirate vessel.

Quadros radioed Galvao from the capital of Brasilia today that "You may be sure that in the exercise of my constitutional duties you and all who want it will receive the right of asylum on our territory and all else which laws and treaties permit."

His statement did not make it clear whether Brazil would seize the ship as demanded by Portugal.

But the Brazilian navy already had sent a navy ship to act the moment it received new orders from the government.

CLARIFICATION ASKED
Quadros disclosed that Galvao messaged him at 1 a.m. today asking him to clarify his position and to say he was simply crazy in contact with the president-elect (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Land Ho! Passengers Sick of Sea

By United Press International
"The Santa Maria passengers are satisfied with the ending of their odyssey," he simply crazy to touch land after so many days wandering the high seas," rebel Capt. Henrique Galvao said today.

"I expect a good reception in Recife," he said, satisfied with everything."

He made the statement as the big luxury ship approached port with only three days' water supply left.

Galvao told a UPI cameraman aboard the Santa Maria he was satisfied with the arrangements he had made with Brazilian President Janio Quadros but he declined to say what they were.

Quadros, who was inaugurated only Tuesday, acknowledged for the first time today an appeal from Galvao in the early morning hours as the Santa Maria approached the port of Recife.

"At one o'clock today I received the telegram you sent from aboard the Santa Maria recalling our contact in Caracas," the new president radioed Galvao.

"I reaffirm my loyalty to our unshakable democratic conviction. The government and the people of Brazil follow with profound emotion the fate of the passengers who are under your care and responsibility."

"You may be sure that in the exercise of my constitutional duties you and all who want it will receive the right of asylum on our territory and all else which laws and treaties permit."

Dems Show No Dislike to Tax Plan

LANSING (U)—Democratic reaction to Gov. Swanson's tax program reflected restraint and caution today—but no outright opposition despite the possible political impact of a state income tax.

The Governor disclosed his program to legislative members of his party at separate House and Senate caucuses Tuesday.

The minority floor leader of the house, Rep. Joseph Kowalski of Detroit, said a special 10-man committee was set up to study the proposals, which generally call for a major shift in tax burdens from the business community to the individual taxpayer.

"Maybe the legislature will accept the total plan, and maybe there will be variations on it," he said. "The program is so flexible that we can incorporate several ideas from both sides."

Other House Democrats generally agreed that the proposals needed to be studied.

On the Senate side, the Democratic caucus decided to accept the program as presented.

Republican reaction to news leaks about Swanson's program was generally cool to the income tax provisions.

Most of the senators said they thought the issue of income vs. sales taxes had been settled at the polls last November.

President and Advisers Discuss Plan on Slump

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy conferred today with his chief economic advisers on the administration program he will submit to Congress, and met for the first time with the National Security Council.

There was economic emphasis at both meetings as Kennedy put the economic program before the nation's top advisers.

At the first meeting, the President invited Budget Director David Bell, two members of the Council of Economic Advisers, Dr. Walter Heller and James Tobin, Undersecretary of the Treasury for Monetary Affairs, Robert Roosa and special White House counsel Theodore C. Sorensen.

The regular members of the National Security Council also joined in the meeting on his recommendations for spurring the U.S. economy which go to Congress Thursday.

LIVE CONFERENCE AGAIN This afternoon, Kennedy will go to the auditorium of the State Department for a second presidential news conference.

The 4 p.m. question-and-answer session will be broadcast live on radio and television.

The economic meeting was the first since a busy schedule for Kennedy. The President also had appointments with James M. Leahy, governor of the federal regulatory agencies, and with Robert Kennedy.

Scare Over White Integrationist McDonough 19 Father is Forced to Sneak From New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Segregationists won their fight today to restore the total white boycott at newly integrated McDonough 19 Elementary School, forcing a white family to move from the city.

Johnson Thompson, 35-year-old assistant Alabama state trooper, took his family from New Orleans during the night. Two of his sons, Gregory, 9, and Michael, 8, were enrolled in McDonough 19, a white child.

Nov. 17, the third day of integration.

Walgreen's Drug Stores, which employs Thompson, announced this morning that he had requested transfer to another city. The firm would not reveal where he was sent.

The Thompsons, with their six children, then succumbed to segregationist threats.

The Thompson family had been ordered to move from its four-room apartment in the McDonough 19 School District because of the boycott-breaking action.

Segregationist mothers from the school district picketed a Walgreen's drug store, Walgreen's employees Thompson as a 20-a-week soda fountain assistant manager.

City Approves Expansion OK's $80,000 for Hospital

Anticipating a joint meeting with the Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees this month the City Commission has approved expansion at the hospital estimated at $80,000.

The hospital now has an okay last night to spend $42,500 for construction of a three-story storage building, and $37,500 for purchase of a four-family flat for intern housing.

The approval authorized the hospital to pay the costs out of accumulated depreciation funds, writing the expense off against the $638,000 once owed the city.

February Makes a Mild Entry By The Associated Press

February, often winter's harshest month, made a mild entrance today with a dash of rain and a touch of snow.

Temperatures ran pretty much in line with the cold weather — a block of below-freezing temperatures — lacing through the northern states from the central Rockies through the Great Lakes region to middle and northern Atlantic Coast states.

It was within this area—from the Mississippi to the Hudson to the region to middle and northern Atlantic Coast states.

Some of the ice jams were loosed Tuesday by thawing temperatures. Two tows, trapped on the ice-choked Mississippi near Cairo, Ill., worked themselves free with the help of a third boat.

But the ice closed again 13 miles north of Cairo, where the Ohio joins the Mississippi.

The Ohio, too, was still troubled with ice. Towboats were moving but the U.S. Engineers at Cincinnati reported the going was slow and the ice heavy. Many towboats were tied up, waiting for the ice to ease.

Following are comparative figures showing a breakdown of the budget-increases for operating expenses in important areas:

Police department last year $338,238, this year $377,450; fire department last year $200,000, this year $215,000; electrical department last year $69,737, this year $77,005.

Health last year $108,254, this year $122,440; library last year $141,364, this year $135,130; recreation last year $133,562, this year $138,000; parks last year $115,000, this year $125,000; municipal court last year $100,214, this year $117,172.

Public service equipment last year $201,500, this year $237,643; Lake Street yards last year $166,576, this year $158,002; cemeteries last year $27,600, this year $29,205; Pontiac Municipal Airport last year $76,335, this year $83,314.

It was estimated that operation of the City Hall offices would cost $1,254,539 this year, compared with a budget estimate of $1,261,258 last year.

The budget includes expenses of $239,192 for waste collection, $57,171 for garbage disposal and $177,175 for the retirement of Pontiac General Hospital construction bonds, the only debt service to be raised by taxation.

'Unsightly' Shopping Mall to Be Removed From City

BIRMINGHAM — After a two-month trial this city's blacking mall is going to go.

Not because it hasn't been successful but because it's an eyesore. City commissioners at least five of them, felt the mall on Hargett Street between Maple and Martin has become "distasteful."

Mayor Thomas Whitely and Commissioners Robert Page agreed that the mall "was a disfigurement" but suggested that it stay until a traffic-reducing study is completed.

City Manager L. R. Gare has been directed by the commission to notify the sponsors of the project, the Central Business District Development Committee, of the city's intention.

The shabbiness of the landscaping in the mall is blamed by commissioners on its poor appearance.

Commissioner William Roberts said that he has been told by fire department officials that the 30-foot pine tree in the center of the block has become a fire hazard and if it stays, fire safety checks will have to be made periodically.

Commissioners are voting to do away with the pilot project which is part of a long-range downtown development program proposed by the CBDDC, made it clear that the removal of the temporary mall will not mean that another mall might someday take its place.

That decision however, commissioners believe, will depend on the outcome of the traffic study now under way by the Birmingham Police Department.

"Area Library Service: Is There an Answer?" will be discussed by members of the Baldwin Public Library Board at the monthly luncheon of Birmingham Branch of the American Association of University Women at the Community House Feb. 8.

Moderated by Jeanne Lloyd, head of the Baldwin Library staff, board members will discuss the forward movement of this educational frontier.

Participating will be Daniel Nesbitt, Mrs. F. Chalmers Smith and James E. Tobin.

"Throughout the United States, suburban areas are lacking in library service. In 10 years, the population of Birmingham and surrounding communities is expected to reach 500,000. The AAUW will hear board members explore the possibilities of solving this problem," the head librarian said.

Victor E. Graham Service for Victor E. Graham, 76, of 1885 Birmingham Blvd., will be 1 p.m. Thursday at the Temple of Memories at White Chapel Memorial Cemetery, Troy, with burial to follow there.

Mr. Graham died Monday in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, after a short illness.

A resident of Birmingham since 1932, he was a retired Arm Arbol funeral home director. He retired in 1945.

He was a life member of the Arm Arbol Golden Rule Lodge 158, F.A.M., and a member of the Birmingham Senior Men's Club.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. John Schofield of Birmingham, two grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

His body will be at the Manly Bailey Funeral Home until noon tomorrow.

Mrs. G. H. Whitely Service for Mrs. G. H. (Marie) Whitely, 87, of 307 Townsend St., will be 1 p.m. Friday at the Manly Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery.

Mrs. Whitely died yesterday at her home after a long illness. She was a life-long area resident and a member of the First Methodist Church of Birmingham.

She is survived by a sister, Mabel Kozar of Birmingham, and a brother Frank Kozar of Grosse Pointe Farms.

Observers Differ on Methods

How to Solve Gold Crisis . . . a Real Problem

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analysis

NEW YORK (AP)—The real debate concerning our loss of gold isn't whether the drain will be in the dollar or the gold itself, but whether the dollar should be taken for granted or whether the dollar should be put to a test.

That's the view of a growing number of financial observers who daily grow more vocal on the problem which President Kennedy posed in his news conference and has tackled in his State of the Union message.

The United States can halt the outflow of gold and bring its international financial payments in balance. That also is taken for granted.

But then you get into the real dispute. At one extreme are those who say that the dollar can be defended not alone by bringing the dollar's overseas outgo and income into balance—but only if it is also protected at home by stabilizing prices and putting and keeping the U. S. Treasury on a balanced diet. In other words, by licking inflation, which was the original culprit in weakening and threatening the status of the dollar.

OTHER EXTREME

Those who hold that the gold loss isn't serious yet, is nearing an end, say that the gold loss is a result of natural causes, and steps already taken to trim overseas spending will make its end certain.

In between are those who hold that the loss of gold in the last three years is indeed serious and must be stopped, that half-way measures won't do it, but that the dollar isn't in present danger of collapse.

President Kennedy sums up the problem this way: The over-inflation of the dollar, which has increased by nearly $1 billion in the last three years. And holders of dollars abroad (foreigners and Americans) converted some $5 billion of that into gold once held by the Treasury.

All bank economists heard from agree with the President that the dollar must be maintained at its present level, which means the gold price must be kept at $35 an ounce.

On bank economists, Dr. Marcus Nadler, consultant to the Hanover Bank of New York, holds that "only a rectification of the balance of payments deficit will bring to an end the large outflow of gold. All other measures are only temporary and do not go to the root of the problem."

GOLD NOT SIGNIFICANT

But he insists that the U. S. gold stock is still large enough to meet all the legitimate requirements of the country. He holds that gold no longer plays a significant role as a basis for domestic credit, but that its principal function now is to effect international payments.

His thesis is that while the United States can take measures to correct its balance of payments deficit, if these are strenuous enough they "could undermine the economic and political relations of the free nations."

Dr. Nadler's thesis is: "The dollar problem is an international one. It was caused by the efforts of the United States to help the other nations and to protect them against Soviet aggression. It must therefore be solved by international cooperation and agreement."

Achieving such cooperation is a major task. But many bankers here agree that such measures must be sought and started. As the Hanover Bank economist sees it: "The mere adoption of such measures, even though some time must elapse before they come into full fruition, will reduce the outflow of gold and ultimately bring it to an end."

So, patience, maybe other affluent nations will see it our way.

Musings on Eve of Centennial

By MARJORIE EICHER
Women's Editor, The Pontiac Press

This is the city: muffled, disguised—softened and hushed by the burden of white vouchsafed from the skies.

This is the city, winding its snowy streets adown a wondrous huddle of homes where none repeats the pattern of another; alone, unique, like individual snowflakes. In mass, they represent a unity we term community and label with names that proudly bear a century's weight with grace to match the mantilla of snow her stately elms wear in their hair.

This is the city ringed by lusty factory spires that spew a smoke that spells of man's ingenuity to span the years from buggy whip to meshing gears with continuity.

This is the city—hiding the gleam of a valley stream called Clinton "neath concrete cloak. Yet mindful still of the moonbeams through that stood on Huron hills and marked its loveliness short centuries ago.

Did they know this place would bear a mighty chieftain's name? Yet kindly from the white man's need of transport its own peculiar flame, and grow in years and grace and strength, encompassing the length of Clinton stream?

This is the city of a hundred years. Three hundred thousand sunrises have gone before, and stretching out its strength across a span of century-growth, this strange amalgam of home and man, of loveliness and labor, will mark three hundred thousand more! For this IS a city.

Abby Not Sold

Shrugs at Pointed Shoes

By ARIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: A while back you started a campaign to get rid of the sack dress. How about a campaign to get rid of those horrible pointed shoes?

I have held out buying shoes for a year and my feet are almost back to normal again. There are just no comfortable, good-looking shoes to be had anymore.

Even elderly women are hobbling around in those ridiculous pointed-toe, spindly-heeled shoes. And the steel tips are ruining everybody's linoleum and carpets! Gosh, Abby, can't you do something about it?

FOOTSOKE AND WEARY DEAR F, and W, I am told the women "love" the new pointed shoes. (Yes, and even the spindly heels that ruin the floor covering!) I may be a heel—but I am not sold.

DEAR ABBY: Some neighbors of ours were very friendly at first. Then all of a sudden they stopped coming to see us so I went over there one night to see what was wrong.

Through the window I could see her and her husband sitting there watching television, but I couldn't get in because the screen door was latched. I wrote her a letter telling her I thought it was insulting to lock up a house as tight as a bank so people couldn't even get up on the porch to ring the bell.

Hotel Reception Follows Plagens-Brosted Rites

A reception in the Hotel Waldron followed the nuptials of Donna Jean Brosted and Ralph K. Plagens of Detroit Saturday morning in St. Vincent de Paul Church. The Rev. Edward Olszewski performed the ceremony before an altar banked with white gladioli.

Daughter of Mrs. Harry I. Brosted of South Francis Street and the late Mr. Brosted, the bride was given in marriage by her uncle Thurman G. Newbound, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Plagens of Detroit are the bridegroom's parents.

Wearing identical dresses of gold taffeta, styled with short sleeves and bell skirts, the attendants carried cascades of tangerine carnations and gold foliage.

Richard Zaborowski of Detroit attended the bridegroom as best man. Louis Plagens Jr., seated guest; also Kenneth Rayson of Detroit.

For a short honeymoon trip, the new Mrs. Plagens donned a gray and gold plaid wool suit, gold hat and gray accessories.

The newlyweds are graduates of Eastern Michigan University and will live in Ypsilanti where the bridegroom will continue studies on his master's degree.

Green cymbidium orchids adorned Mrs. Brosted's dress worn with cocoa accessories. Mrs. Plagens appeared in a blue taffeta dress with matching accessories. Her flowers were white cymbidium orchids.

She ignored my letter. Don't you think there is something wrong with people who lock themselves in?

FRIENDLY NEIGHBOR

DEAR FRIENDLY: Folks rarely lock themselves in—they frequently lock others out. Latch on to some friendlier neighbors.

DEAR ABBY: My best girl-friend's husband is the type who "loves his wife but oh, you kid!" He tells her he has to work late, go to a meeting, etc., and in the meantime he is running around with other women.

She is a wonderful person. They have two small children. Do you think it's my place to tell her? This has been going on for four years. They have been married for five.

A VERY GOOD FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: If you are truly "a very good friend" tell HIM, not her.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "TROUBLED TEEN": It's nice to be important, but it's important to be nice.

Moloney-Smith Vows Are Repeated

The Rev. Thomas Sauter was assisted by the Rev. M. Danien of Marmion Military Academy, Aurora, Ill., where the bridegroom attended school.

Daughter of Mrs. Gaven Smith of Highland Park and the late Judge Smith, the bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law Richard Snot of Chicago. The bridegroom is the son of Lawrence J. Moloney of Colonial Trail, and the late Mrs. Moloney.

Attendants in princess-line red velvet frocks, carrying cascades of white carnations, preceded the bride to the sanctuary. Their hats and shoes were also red.

Mrs. Richard Snot attended her sister as matron of honor. The bridegroom's sister, Maureen Moloney and Mrs. Paul Bochnig served as bridesmaids.

Alenon lace embroidered with seed pearls enhanced the molded bodice of the white satin bridal gown styled with a chapel train. A hip-length veil of French illusion fell from a crown of pearls.

White roses and stephanotis comprised the bridal bouquet. Charles Moloney stood as best man for his brother, James Moloney of Detroit, who was assisted by Shaili Shaya of Livonia and Paul Bochnig.

Wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's mother. Four hundred guests attended the afternoon reception at the home of the bridegroom's father.

in Chicago, the couple will be at home on Menominee Road.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Smith selected a Cell Chapman organ in royal blue shantung with matching hat and shoes. Her flowers were white cymbidium orchids.

Noted Designer Tells Us:

American Homes Reek With Bad Taste

By PHYLLIS BATTALIE

NEW YORK — "Not one out of 100 Americans knows a decent house from a bad one. And after they buy a house, they haven't any idea what to furnish it with."

"But that's not matter — because about 99 per cent of the houses being built now are so — and it really doesn't matter too much what you do with them inside."

"Why does the typical American house look like the typical American house? The obvious answer, of course, is the taste level of the population. But I suspect what the average citizen lacks is not taste but courage: the nerve to do what he'd like. He's awfully scared what the neighbors would think."

"Well, I think a real lack of taste, expressed with cheerful conviction, would be much more entertaining than what currently passes for decor."

The angry middle-aged man who damns us, above, is architectural designer George Nelson, creator of everything from the storage-rail and L-shaped desk to the United States exhibit in Moscow and the "atoms for peace" exhibit in Cairo.

"And I'm not really angry," he says firmly. "It just makes me sad to see our rows and rows of little badly made modern houses. What could be more unhuman and soul-deadening than thousands of people living in a series of life drawers?"

"We'll pay for these developments in terms of mental health problems, social discontent, and the money we will use to tear them all down a few years from now."

Nelson has a lean, brooding face when he describes America as a land of "tissue paper culture. We are not building antiques for the future — just things to use and throw away."

He smiles wryly when he points out that industry cares little what it makes, as long as it sells. His slogan for businessmen: "Always first with what the other guy has provided its selling."

Of course, Nelson says, the American people could "work out their own salvation. But the salvation is not acceptable to them. They'd have to sit down and study architecture, and art, and beauty. They'd have to read, rather than sit down and watch television for a real dead evening.

"People don't like to work that hard."

Besides, he concedes, what the average family doesn't know won't hurt them. It only hurts people like the late Frank Lloyd Wright and George Nelson — and the occasional house seeker who has good taste and there is a growing fear among people that they aren't people any more. "Things keep them in touch with reality." So they buy things they don't need. They want "different" things, they think; but in reality they want everything to remain the same."

Another curious anomaly of culture, as reflected in home decor, is the fact that "as people's lives become more complicated, they tend to want their homes to be more simple and uncluttered; peaceful refuges from their complex world outside."

"On the other hand, as their status goes up, they must collect. There is a growing fear among people that they aren't people any more. Things keep them in touch with reality." So they buy things they don't need. They want "different" things, they think; but in reality they want everything to remain the same."

See Deadlock in Congo Debate

No Change in Policy of U.S. in Supporting Dog Is Expected

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Some U.N. diplomats predict the Security Council's Congo debate opening today will end in a deadlock, as have all others recently, unless the United States announces a new middle-road policy.

Adlai Stevenson, facing his first debate as chief U.S. delegate, has given no indication of any switch in policy. He said Friday that President Kennedy's administration supports Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld's efforts to settle the Congo crisis "by whatever means he chooses."

Hammarskjöld's policies have been criticized by the Communist bloc and African U.N. members who support deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba, now jailed by President Joseph Kasavubu. Their demands that the U.N. force in the Congo restore Lumumba to power have been blocked by the U.S.-led majority on the council.

Before the council were a variety of complaints: Charges from the Soviet Union and Czechoslovakia that Belgium is committing aggression in the Congo; Kasavubu's accusation that the United Arab Republic interfered in Congo internal affairs, and a complaint that the imprisoned Lumumba has been given "inhuman and brutal treatment." This was submitted by Ceylon, Ghana, Guinea, Mali, Libya, Morocco, the United Arab Republic and Yugoslavia.

The Soviet Union charged Belgium was "taking steps to organize a so-called foreign legion" to fight in the Congo and demanded the Security Council take "decisive action." The Soviet complaint also accused Belgians of bombing Congolese towns under the control of Lumumba's supporters.

Six Americans Get 30 Years in Cuba

HAVANA (AP)—Six American adventurers, who faced possible execution as conspirators against Fidel Castro's regime, have been sentenced to 30 years imprisonment.

The Americans were sentenced Tuesday, three days after their trial before a military tribunal. Castro himself reportedly had been weighing the verdict.

Their sentences, the maximum prison terms under Cuban law, were interpreted here as the Castro regime's reaction to President Kennedy's denunciation in his State of the Union message Monday or Communist influence in Cuba. Defense attorneys said they will appeal.

Proves Blessing to County

Ice Cuts Drowning Toll

By DICK HANSON

Often cursed by drivers, ice has its silver lining — providing it's thick enough.

"Good ole' ice" — in some cases prevented recent additions to the already grim drowning toll in lake-dotted Oakland County.

Winter takes enthusiasts, including ice fishermen, skaters and ice boaters, have revealed across the hard, substantial surface. There has been little danger of falling through since water set in with plenty of cold weather.

LAST WINTER GRIM

Last winter was a different story — grim, with several drownings through the ice. Four small boys and two teen-age ice skaters were victims.

Altogether, 30 persons drowned in the county in 1959. Most, to be sure, met their untimely fate at the beck of summer.

True to form, most of the county's drowning fatalities were recorded during the hot months last year. A late summer claimed 11 lives between July and September.

A long, cool spring saw four months go by with no drownings in the county last year.

The tricky ice claimed its last victim Feb. 2. The next person drowned July 11, only a few days after the first warmth of summer.

Before the latter death, it looked as though 1959 would bring a record low in drownings here.

However, before the year ended, it surpassed the previous year's toll by one.

The major factor in the fatal was inexperience on the part of young and old.

The very young never had the opportunity to grow knowing of the water's ways. Invariably they had wandered off unattended to answer the water's call.

Older victims either overestimated their swimming ability or under-

Agency Studies Latin America

Kennedy Worries Over Reds, Gives Powers to Task Force

WASHINGTON (AP)—Latin America, an area of deep concern to President Kennedy's State of the Union message, is getting immediate attention from the new administration.

- 1. A new, high-level agency, headed by Adolf A. Berle Jr., a Franklin D. Roosevelt brain trustee, has been named to handle Latin American affairs.
- 2. A food for peace mission to south of the border may be named early next week and may go on tour before the end of the month.

Two days ago, Kennedy in his message to Congress lamented Cuba's Communist leanings. He said broad action was needed to aid all Latin American nations.

Late Tuesday, Berle's task force was announced. He has been at work at the State Department for several days.

The task force, according to an informed source, will have the broadest powers ever given any agency for dealing with Latin American affairs.

Indications are the force will deal with economic aid and financial assistance, cultural and social matters, and apparently will have charge of U.S. activity in the Organization of American States.

U.S. Russian Ambassador Returning for Sharpening

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A key phase in President Kennedy's program to "sharpen our political and diplomatic tools" will begin next week when U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson returns from Moscow for consultations on U.S.-Soviet relations.

Space Chimp Diet Way Out —Includes Oil

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — During the final 24 hours before Ham the chimp took off for space, it had four meals and 1.7 pints of water.

At 11, 10 and 12 hours prior to flight time, the animal received "full" meals and got a final snack seven hours and 15 minutes before takeoff.

***
This was the diet for each of the male monkeys.
One-half fresh whole egg.
One ounce of infant cereal.
Four ounces of condensed milk.
One-fourth package flavored gelatin.
One teaspoon of increment with low.
One-half teaspoon of cooking oil.

Man, 49, Is Accused in Rape of Little Girl

DOWAGIAC (AP) — Leon Smallwood, 49, demanded examination Tuesday on a charge of rape involving an 8-year-old girl.
Justice Robert A. Wilson set the hearing for Feb. 8 and ordered the man jailed without bond of $10,000 was not immediately furnished.

Interceptor Missiles Hit Targets in Tests

EGLEN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (UPI) — Two Bomarc "B" missiles intercepted and destroyed targets over the Gulf of Mexico Tuesday.
The first missile, fired by an Air Force crew, intercepted a Regulus II missile. The second, fired by technicians, destroyed a jet bomber down by remote control from a ground station.

Diplomatic officials expect the top-deck American strategy talks to set the course for new U.S. efforts to blunt some of the sharp differences between the Kremlin and the West. But they look for no basic changes in policy.

The White House announced Tuesday that Thompson had been called home for talks with Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk and would arrive about Feb. 8. It was emphasized that he would return to Moscow.

Thompson is an expert of many years' standing on Soviet affairs. He speaks the language fluently and has enjoyed the personal confidence of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev even during the grimest periods of the cold war.

One result of the consultations here may be a decision on whether to encourage or discourage Khrushchev's desire for an early meeting with Kennedy.

The Kremlin at present is playing it coy, refusing to disclose whether the Soviet leader intends to be in New York in March for the U.N. General Assembly. Indications are that Khrushchev is waiting for some sign that Kennedy would meet him at that time.

Seek Authority to Install New Phone-Speaker

LANSING (AP) — Michigan Bell Telephone Co. today asked the State Public Service Commission for authority to begin installing a new telephone-loudspeaker unit on Michigan farms.

The device, known as farm interphone, is designed to save steps and energy for the farmer, his family and employees, the company said.

The system is a combination of an extension telephone and two-way speaker system, users can talk to and from any telephone on the farm and page other persons over the speaker system.

Speakers also can be used as monitors in the barnyard or other farm areas, the company said. Michigan Bell proposed an $11.50 monthly charge for a basic system, including one phone and one extension and two indoor and one outdoor speaker microphone units.

***
The charge would be in addition to the regular fee for a standard telephone.
The utility said it hoped to begin installing farm interphone units this spring.

Commie Plan Found Wanting

Red China Cools on Idea to Link Factories With Farm Communes

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist China has taken stock of its plan to link huge factories economically with the individual farm commune. The appraisal apparently has found the scheme wanting. Reports from Peking indicate that planners will take the factories out of the hands of commune bosses and tuck them safely under the wing of the Heavy Industry Ministry.

In an early effort to "sell" the commune system to Chinese peasant farmers, Peking had promised them first call on the output from nearby factories.

Farmers, eyeing the big, gray machines rolling off the assembly line of a nearby tractor plant, went along with the plan. This was fine with those on the tractor plant commune, but neighbors living on backache communes continued ploughing, sowing and harvesting crops by hand. They did not like it.

***
If it was something similar to the U.S. Commerce Department ordering U.S. Steel Co. to sell all its products in Pennsylvania, or restricting Standard Oil to sales in New Jersey. Although the examples might be exaggerated, the system was no less true.
Equal distribution of manufactured goods is the new byword. It appears Peking's economic bosses are working toward a national market.

The new scheme calls for big factories to serve everyone in the area.
Under the commune system, agricultural cooperatives were reorganized in 1958 in country-wide "corporations," with authority over all government and economic functions.

Farming, industry, taxation and the militia all fell within the authority of the commune.
From now on the factories have their own special niche. Several communes have organized industrially into networks, an economic grouping that includes half a dozen or more communes.

Forced by Rocks to Flee Congo— Mission Doctor

ELIZABETH, N.J. (UPI) — An African mission doctor has cabled his parents in New Jersey that he and his family were forced to flee the strife-torn Congo when tribesmen buried rocks at mission buildings.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard B. Carpenter said they received word Tuesday from their son Dr. Robert D. Carpenter, 38. They said he and his family were not harmed.
The younger Carpenter said in his cable that he, his wife May, and their two children Patricia, 5, and John, 18 months, drove to British Uganda under an escort of United Nations troops.

Maz's Home Run Voted Biggest Thrill of '60

By The Associated Press
The place was Maz's. The place was the time, Oct. 13, 1960—late afternoon on a busy autumn day. The score was tied at 9-9 in the final inning of the seventh and final game of the World Series when Bill Mazeroski, a .273 hitter, strode to the plate clutching his bat in the manner of Mighty Casey, determined to do or die.

Mazeroski did. He slammed Ralph Terry's second pitch high over the left field wall and the Pirates had won the game and the World Series from the New York Yankees.

There was a moment of stunned silence, then a roar from the park and the entire city of Pittsburgh was struck with the kind of noisy madness that can afflict a major league city that hasn't won a world championship for 35 years.

If there was any more thrilling occasion in sports during 1960, the nation's sports writers and broadcasters hardly know about it. Voting in the annual Associated Press poll, 71 named Mazeroski's series-winning homer as the best of the year. Another 26 listed the final World Series game, including a series of exciting events that led up to the winning walk.

In contrast, only 13 listed Floyd Patterson's fifth round knockout of Ingemar Johansson to regain the world heavyweight boxing championship. Nine listed the pro football thriller between the Detroit Lions and Baltimore Colts.

Eight picked the Olympic Games as the most thrilling event of 1960 and three individual performances in the summer games drew mention; seven votes went to the victory of the U.S. Olympic hockey team's victory over Russia in the Winter Games at Squaw Valley, Calif. Arnold Palmer's dingling last-round play to win the Masters and U.S. Open golf championships drew six votes.

There were a few scattered voters for other exciting events but in the final count the World Series finish drew more votes for thrill of the year than all the other events mentioned.

Flyers Advance in Hockey Semis

Sylvan 2-1 Conqueror of Forge in NL Tilt; Raiders Forfeit

The Sylvan Flyers moved into the semifinals of the City Junior Hockey League's National division tournament with a 2-1 upset triumph over Standard Forge last night at Northside Park.

Forge tallied first on a first-period goal by Ronnie Haskett, but the Flyers clicked twice in the second stanza to gain the decision with Bill Mondor and Al Ryden doing the scoring.

Douglas Is 3rd in SVC Point Race

Pontiac Central's Clarence Douglas has climbed into 3rd place in both conference and all-games divisions of the Saginaw Valley basketball scoring race with four league contests remaining.

Douglas has scored 166 points in six last outings for an average of 16.6 per game, latest figures disclose. In the all-games division, he's tallied 184 points in 10 starts for a 18.4 average.

The PCH sharp-shooter will never catch the Saginaw High "twins," however. Jerry Tillman and Ernie Thompson, in that order, are far ahead of everybody else in both categories.

Tillman is setting the pace for the unbeaten Trojans with a 25.5 league average and 22 altogether. Thompson is averaging 20.1 and 21.3, respectively.

George Fed, Pontiac Central's stellar rebounder, is 9th in the SVC race at 11.1 and 8th overall with a 12.5 average.

The Chiefs clash with Flint Central Friday night at Flint.
