2 State Men Fly in Earth-Circling Bombers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Around the world in less than two days? Two Michigan flyers have done it — but the trip wasn't fast enough for a little girl without a name.

For the parents of T/Sgt. Donovan W. Higginbotham, 23, and Capt. Gerald A. Rusch, 30, it was the thrill of a lifetime.

Sgt. Higginbotham and Capt. Rusch were among the crewmen of the Air Force B52s that covered the world circuit in 45 hours and 19 minutes.

It took less time than that for Capt. Rusch's third daughter to be born, but it happened while the captain was airborne.

You see, with two daughters already, Capt. Rusch and his wife, Marian, were expecting a boy—that report is from grandfather Emmanuel Rusch of Saginaw.

In fact the Rusch's had a boy's name all picked out —but they didn't have a girl's name. It will probably require a huddle between momma and poppa to arrive at a name.

Mrs. Rose Higginbotham, airman Higginbotham's mother, was surprised enough to leave her work in a Lansing dry goods store to talk to reporters.

"I can't believe he has flown around the world in less than two days. Why we just had a letter from him last week," she said.

★ ★ ★

Rusch's father said he was "so proud, my chest is all puffed out." About his son, the elder Rusch said, "he's outstanding. He's great."

In fact said grandfather Rusch, a veteran employe with Chevrolet grey iron foundry, "I'm so proud, I'm going to wear a necktie to work tomorrow for once."

Major General Archie Old said Higginbotham "did a great job in keeping the plane in top flying condition." Higginbotham was crew chief of one of the planes. He was the youngest man on the flight.

★ ★ ★

Capt. Rusch, a West Pointer, graduated from Arthur Hill high school in Saginaw in 1944. An honor student, he was outstanding in mathematics. Said he elder Rusch:

"He was too small for football, and he had more of a knack for studying."

The West Point yearbook for the class of 1950 said this about Rusch:

"Archie hails from the wilds of Michigan, a fact which he makes known at the slightest excuse. Although it is said he can't get the lead out of a mechanical pencil without a list of instructions, Archie comes through when the chips are down.

"He can always be found either in the sack or trying to start a basketball game. Archie has that certain knack necessary for success."

Mrs. Higginbotham, whose husband is a heating plant foreman in Lansing, said of her son, "it's just as well we didn't know he was on a trip like that, or we would have been worried half crazy."

"Both of us are very proud and happy that Donovan was on one of the three planes."

★ ★ ★

Radar observer Rusch also has a working mother. Mrs. Rusch is employed at Saginaw Power Steering. She broke down and cried "she was so proud," her husband said.

Once when his father asked him about what it feels like to be up in the stratosphere, Rusch said, "I fly with God."

Thousands Pour Into Capital for Inauguration

Suggest Extra State Money Be Given Expanding Counties

Special cash payments to the state's faster-growing communities have been proposed by a governor's commission on the study of sales tax revenue distribution.

The commission cited Oakland, Wayne and Macomb counties as three of the local units experiencing the most significant rates of expansion since 1950.

From General Fund

The group has recommended to Gov. G. Mennen Williams that communities with a growth of more than 20 per cent since the 1950 federal census be paid extra money from the state's General Fund.

★ ★ ★

The relief would cost an estimated $4,500,000 a year until the next census in 1960. At present, one-sixth of the state sales tax revenue goes to local governmental units, one-sixth to the state and two-thirds to schools.

Gov. Williams, already faced with a deficit budget problem, said he wasn't sure he would recommend the plan to the Legislature this year.

On Population

It was proposed, under the plan, that local units of government receive an amount from the general fund based on population in excess of the 20 per cent of qualifying growth. The payment would be based on the per capita amount received from the regular sales tax distribution—$7.47 per capita in the 1954-55 fiscal year.

★ ★ ★

Each community, the commission suggested, would have to obtain a local census from the Federal Census Bureau to qualify for payments. the plan would not affect the distribution formula, but would draw bonus money from the General Fund.

★ ★ ★

The study group's report said that 57 of Michigan's 83 counties have shown population increases since 1950.

President, Nixon to Take Oaths Over Weekend

750,000 Due to Visit, Be Part of Colorful Rite in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — A mighty throng of Americans poured into the capital today to join in celebrating the second inauguration of President Eisenhower.

An estimated 750,000 persons were expected to witness or take part in the many events planned for the next four days. But the over-all attendance wasn't expected to be as big as in 1953 when Eisenhower first entered the White House.

High point of the long inaugural weekend will be the public oath-taking by Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon in front of the Capitol building on Monday.

(Related Stories Pages 8 and 10)

Then will come the traditional inaugural parade from the Capital to the White House, and four glittering inaugural balls that night.

The Weather Bureau said yesterday it expects colder than normal weather Monday, with a chance of rain or snow late in the day.

But the President and vice president will be sheltered from the cold in the first of two inaugural ceremonies.

To Take Oath Twice

They will take the oath of office tomorrow in the White House in the presence of 59 members of their families.

Inauguration events will be seen in this area Monday as follows: Starting at 11 a.m. on channels 4 and 7; at 11:30 a.m. on 2. The Inaugural Ball will be telecast on channel 4 starting at 11:30 p.m.

Chapter 12: 'The FBI Story'

Crime Is Science at Famed School

(Editor's Note: The following article is the twelfth in a series of highlights from the exciting new book "The FBI Story," by Don Whitehead. Today's account is one of 30 chapters about the fabulous history of the Federal Bureau of Investigation appearing daily in The Pontiac Press.)

By DON WHITEHEAD

Had J. Edgar Hoover ever dreamed of directing a huge federal police system enforcing the law for every city and hamlet in the country—it might have been realized in the early 1930s.

This period was a nightmare in the history of crime in America. It was a nightmare in which an army of criminals had better weapons, faster automobiles, greater range of movement and far more political influence than the poverty-stricken local police.

This was the period when demands came for a national police force which would take over the job of the local police.

Hoover believed the answer to the crime problem lay in taking police work out of politics, and in giving all policemen scientific training in law enforcement.

At that time most rookie policemen were given a badge and a gun and told to go to work. Few cities had any kind of training program for police officers, and generally there was an attitude that none was needed.

★ ★ ★

One chief of police commanding a force of more than 100 men dismissed the idea of scientific police training with the curious comment: ". . . all that a policeman need know (is) the Ten Commandments."

Boosts Local Police

Time after time, Hoover argued —in letters, speeches, articles, and memoranda—that the basic responsibility for law enforcement in a democracy rested with the local police and should remain there. In a letter to the Topeka Daily Capital, Hoover said in 1936:

Co-operation Needed

"The Federal Bureau of Investigation believes that the secret of crime eradication lies not in a national police force but in solidarity and the combined linking of all law enforcement agencies.

★ ★ ★

It believes in a close-knit cooperation, each unit capable of handling its peculiar problems but capable also, when necessary, of mobilizing its efforts in a concerted drive against the criminal element of this country . . ."

Hoover discussed his ideas with Atty. Gen. Homer Cum-

Hospital Head Mum About Future Plans

Miss Lauretta Paul, director of Pontiac General Hospital, was still "undecided" this morning about the possibility that she might resign her post over a rejected $2,000 increase in salary.

Contacted at her home by a Press reporter, Miss Paul said she had no statement to make regarding any resignation.

The hospital's Board of Trustees turned down a proposed $2,000 boost Thursday night, but voted to raise her salary by $1,000, bringing the director's annual pay to $13,000.

Prior to the vote, Trustee Harold S. Goldberg (who voted against the $1,000 raise) told the board's 10 other members that "any vote giving her less than $14,000 would be asking for her resignation."

Last Chance to Register for Township Primaries

Voter registration for the Feb. 18 primary election in Oakland County townships will close Monday in the offices of township clerks.

County clerk Lynn Allen cannot accept the registrations. They must be made with the clerk of the township in which the voter lives.

Predict Temperature Rise in Area

Warmer Weather Ahead!

Slowly, but surely, the Pontiac area is pulling out of the near and sub-zero weather which has claimed more than 80 lives across the nation, according to the U. S. Weather Bureau which predicts cloudy and warmer temperatures today through tomorrow.

A high of 22-28 is the forecast for today with a low of 16-20 tonight. Predicted high for tomorrow is 24-28. Occasional snow flurries are included in the local weather scheme for today and tomorrow.

Heavy snow fell yesterday and last night along the western lakefront of Michigan and in the Upper Peninsula. The sub-zero temperatures in these areas were generally eased, however. The outlook for Monday in upper Michigan is snow with little change in temperature.

Lower Michigan residents can keep their shovels handy and get out the tire chains. Snow is probable for the area Monday, according to the weather bureau.

U. S. Outlook

The national outlook is not so bright, however, as respite from the paralyzing temperatures is not in sight for large portions of the country. The frosty cold weather is continuing in the eastern third of the nation with zero temperatures in the North Atlantic states, and in the northern and southern Rockies.

Penetrating Florida, the cold front is threatening multi-million dollar damages to citrus fruit crops.

Much of the Midwest, hit by biting cold and snow for more than a week, is expected to get some relief today from winds out of the Southern Plains. The warm winds are expected to spread from the Southern Plains region to the Upper Mississippi Valley.

Clear skies and dry weather prevails in most other sections of the country. The warmest area to date is Southern California.

The lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 4 above zero. At 2 p.m. the temperature read 28 degrees.

$30,000 Blaze Injures Four

One Fireman 'Critical,' Three Seriously Hurt Fighting Detroit Fire

DETROIT (INS)—Four firemen were burned, one critically, fighting a spectacular two-alarm $30,000 blaze at the Heather Hall Hotel Apartments, 3444 Second, in Detroit last night.

Firefighter Otto Wandrie, 32, suffered second and third degree burns over most of his body. He was reported in "critical" condition.

Also injured were Sgt. Mahlon Morowske, 43, Alexa Calleja, 37, and Stanley Gondek, 38, all members of Squad Two. The three were reported in "temporarily serious" condition.

Doctors said all suffered burns and possible flame inhalation when heat, that was generated in the apartment where the blaze started, struck them full in the face as they opened the door.

The blaze started in a tenth floor apartment, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Price. They were not home when the fire started.

Occupants of six other apartments on the tenth floor smelled smoke about 6 p.m. and called the fire department.

Fifteen pieces of fire equipment and nine police cars and an ambulance answered the call. Traffic was rerouted.

Doctor Testifies in Shooting Trial

Says Sexton Suffered Brain Injury Prior to Wounding Friends

Medical testimony for the defense preceded the adjournment yesterday of the trial of former Pontiac police officer James B. Sexton until 9:30 a.m. Tuesday.

Dr. A. Tauber of Pontiac testified Sexton, 30, had suffered a temporary brain injury sufficient to explain his sudden, off-duty shooting of two friends nearly a year ago.

Under cross-examination by Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor, however, Tauber admitted he had not studied Sexton personally, but based his

Humphrey Looks at the Problem

Is 3 Pct. Interest on U.S. Bonds Enough?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government sources say Treasury officials are divided on whether to recommend that Congress increase the present 3 per cent interest rate on U. S. savings bonds.

★ ★ ★

The department has been faced recently with strong demands in and out of Congress for an increase as sales declined on some types of government bonds.

The general rise of interest rates has made other investments more attractive.

There were no indications today when a decision might be reached.

Earlier this week, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey said "We will have a permanent and definite statement before very long."

Sales of the Series E bonds, which are available in smaller denominations and pay 3 per cent if held for 10 years or longer, have slackened.

★ ★ ★

This apparently is because the same or a higher rate can be obtained from savings accounts and elsewhere without a 10-year wait.

PHS Offers Drivers' Class

To comply with more rigid state rulings concerning the obtaining of drivers' licenses, Pontiac High School will make available education facilities for those not enrolled in PHS.

After Feb. 1, any person under 18 years of age applying for a Michigan operator's license must have successfully completed a state-approved course in driver education available through the public schools, said George Stewart, driver education instructor.

Persons of this age group not regularly enrolled as students at Pontiac High, but who desire the training, are requested to report at 3:30 p.m. Monday, Jan. 28 at Room 233 of the high school, Stewart said.

Persons applying for the course must have attained the age of 15 and be residents of the Pontiac School district, he said. There is no tuition fee.

Ike's Doctrine Blasted by Reds

Communists Will Give Mideast 'Any...Support,' Say Bulganin, Chou

MOSCOW (AP) — Condemning the Eisenhower doctrine, the Soviet Union and Communist China have proclaimed their continued readiness to give Middle Eastern countries "any necessary support" to avert aggression and interference in their affairs.

★ ★ ★

A 2,000-word communique issued last night by Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai and Soviet Premier Bulganin said:

"The governments of the Soviet Union and the Chinese People's Republic resolutely condemn this policy of the United States.

"They are prepared to continue to give any necessary support to the peoples of the Near and Middle East in order to avert aggression and interference in the affairs of the countries of that region."

★ ★ ★

The two Communist nations previously have denounced the plan put forward by President Eisenhower two weeks ago for military and economic aid to the Middle East.

The new denunciation was included in the joint communique ending Chou's visit in Moscow. Chou left last night for Tashkent, en route to Kabul, Afghanistan, to resume his goodwill tour of Southern Asia.

HOME AGAIN — Crews of three B52 jet bombers which Friday completed a record nonstop flight around the world salute as they line up in front of one of the three planes which made the trip upon their return to March Air Force Base. Behind them is one of the planes that made the trip.

'We Just Stayed Up Longer,' Say Crewmen

Globe-Girdling Flight Called 'Routine'

MARCH AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — "A routine flight," That's the way Air Force men describe a hop by three B52 bombers in which the routine took place five to 10 miles in the sky for 45 hours, 19 minutes.

★ ★ ★

After the red-eyed and weary crewmen clambered yesterday from the trio of Stratofortresses which set a nonstop, round-the-world record, Lt. Col. James H. Morris, 40, said that it was just like other long-distance flights.

★ ★ ★

"Oh sure," he said, "we stayed up a little longer, but that's the only difference."

Col. Morris was a copilot on the propeller-driven B50 which set the previous record, 94 hours 1 minute, in a 1949 globe-girdling trip.

Others among the 26 officers and men on the three giant jets agreed with Morris: the most tense moment came when the crew members met the reception awaiting them at this air base near Riverside, 60 miles east of Los Angeles. Said Morris: "What a show!"

The base band played, 1,000 airmen cheered and 100 newsmen took pictures or notes as the big planes touched their eight-wheel main landing gear to the runway. Waiting to meet them was Gen. Curtis LeMay, commander in chief of the Strategic Air Command.

★ ★ ★

He pinned Distinguished Flying Crosses on each of the crewmen, praised by the flight commander, Maj. Gen. Archie J. Old, 50, as "professionals all the way."

The planes circled the globe from west to east. They covered 24,325 miles at an average speed listed unofficially at "better than 530 m.p.h."

Thus U. S. Air Force has given the world—and especially Russia—a spectacular demonstration of its ability to deliver H-bombs to any point on the face of the earth.

Presumably the globe - circling flight of three B52 heavy jet bombers, also has impressed Congress—now beginning to consider appropriations for the armed forces.

But the dramatic demonstration also has pointed up another strategic fact:

★ ★ ★

The United States still must rely on overseas bases for global operation of its Strategic Air Command bombers.

Tanker aircraft for refueling the three Stratofortresses had to be deployed at intervals along the 24,325-mile route around the midrift of the world.

Without such in-flight refueling, a B52 can fly approximately 6,000 miles. Allowing time to maneuver over the target and for evasive action shortens its striking range to about 2,500 miles.

It is a weakness recognized by top commanders, including Gen. Curtis E. Lemay, chief of the big bomber force.

It makes vital the retention of U. S. rights to use overseas bases for spotting its tanker planes. Those rights depend on continued good relations with foreign nations in which the bases are operated — Denmark — which owns Greenland — —Morocco, England, Germany, Saudi Arabia, the Philippines, Japan.

It also depends upon the ability of the United States and its friends to protect those bases against enemy attack in event of war.

Rev. Paul T. Hart to Give Address to Graduates

The Rev. Paul T. Hart of First Methodist Church of Pontiac will speak to approximately 130 graduating Pontiac High School seniors at Baccalaureate services Sunday. His topic will be "The Great Essentials."

The program will be held at 7:30 p.m. at Central Methodist Church. Singing "Allelulia" will be the Pontiac High A Capella choir under the direction of George H. Putnam.

Also on the program will be Central Methodist's associate minister, the Rev. Calvin Rice and the Rev. Edward D. Auchard, associate pastor of Pontiac's First Presbyterian Church.

Candidacy Rule Set by Kavanagh

Non-Property Owners Can Be on School Board in Royal Oak Township

School Board candidates in Royal Oak Township need not be property owners, Attorney General Thomas M. Kavanagh said today in his interpretation of a special section of the 1955 School Code.

The advice of the attorney general was requested by Rep. McMahon (D-Hazel Park), in an effort to determine the eligibility of persons seeking election to the school board at George Washington Carver School.

According to Kavanagh, the code provides that school board candidates are exempt from property ownership regulations in districts where less than 25 per cent of the registered voters are qualified tax electors. Royal Oak Township, he ruled, is such a district.

Kavanagh added that Royal Oak Township is located in an area where there is a large federal housing project in which none of the occupants are property owners.

Two Will Refuse to Resign Posts

Independence Official Reported to Have Asked Employes to Quit

Two Independence Township employes, reportedly asked to resign by Township Supervisor Floyd Andrews, said today they will not do so.

They are James Gardiner, township building inspector, and Jack Levitsky, electrical inspector. Gardiner is opposing Andrews for the supervisors nomination on the Republican ticket in the Feb. 18 primary.

Levitsky is running for the justice of the peace nomination on the Democratic ticket.

Both inspectors said they were not given any reason for the demanded resignation by Andrews, who has been township supervisor for the past 21 years.

According to Gardiner, Andrews opened a second meeting after the township board meeting Tuesday night. Andrews surrendered the chair to Dr. Fred Tucker, trustee, and then moved that the supervisor be given authority over the township building department, Gardiner alleged.

Supported by Township Clerk Ira Snader, the motion was approved, Levitsky said, with Andrews, Snader and Trustee Harold Doebler approving. Dr. Tucker did not vote, and Trustee Ralph Smith was absent.

Gardiner has said he didn't intend to oppose Andrews in the primary, but a nominating petition bearing 200 signatures was filed for him. He said he felt that he should remain in the race because of this.

Those re-elected to the board were Eugene T. Cleland, Waterford; B. Jack Habel, 22 Miami Rd.; Alfred Riesz, 27 Berkshire St.; Sidney Teague, Rochester, and Eames and Greenhalgh.

4 Turn Up in California, Disappeared in Saline

YPSILANTI (AP)—The mysterious disappearance of a mother and her small children, missing when a fire swept their Saline apartment, was cleared up yesterday.

Mrs. Barbara Gibson, 21, and her children were discovered in Bakersfield, Calif., reunited with Mrs. Gibson's husband, David.

The fire destroyed three business apartment buildings in Saline Tuesday. Everyone was accounted for but Mrs. Gibson and her children, Diane, 3; David 1½, and Gary, 5 months.

State police said Mr. and Mrs. Gibson had apparently reconciled after a separation and had left for Bakersfield Sunday. They were unaware of the fire.

Talk, Movie on Nephrosis to Highlight Convention

An ex-featherweight state amateur boxing champion will continue his tireless fight against the dread disease of childhood nephrosis when the national convention of the National Nephrosis Foundation, Inc. is held in Pontiac Monday.

Stanley R. Allen, of 80 Collier Rd., Pontiac Township, began his crusade to educate persons to the seriousness of the disease after his son, Dennis, 4, died of it last May.

Due to his efforts to raise money for the foundation, officials decided to hold the convention here Jan. 21. It will be held at the Moose Lodge, 350 Mt. Clemens St., beginning at 8 p.m.

"We invite the public to attend the free meeting in order to see the new color movie 'Children With Nephrosis,'" Allen said.

"My job is to tell people just what this disease is like," he added. He said that medical records show that it now kills 65 per cent of children afflicted.

Allen, who is state chairman of the foundation, last year raised $800 which goes for research and to aid parents with children with the disease to pay medical expenses which go as high as $40 a week for medicine alone.

Besides the movie, there will be a seven-act stage show to entertain the public.

Plans for a 1957 drive in Michigan to begin March 2 will be made at the meeting, Allen said.

Pontifical Mass in St. Patrick's for Toscanini

NEW YORK (AP) — A pontifical requiem Mass will be offered today at St. Patrick's Cathedral for world-famed conductor Arturo Toscanini.

The maestro, 89, died in his sleep Wednesday night at his home in Riverdale, the Bronx, following a stroke.

The Mass will be sung by the Most. Rev. Joseph M. Pernicone, Italian-born auxiliary bishop of the Archidocese of New York.

Francis Cardinal Spellman, Roman Catholic archbishop of New York will preside in the sanctuary and will sing the absolution over the coffin after the Mass.

Some 5,000 persons filed past Toscanini's bier yesterday at a funeral home, where his body has lain in state since Thursday.

Thousands of telegrams of condolence have been received by Toscanini's immediate family survivors — two daughters, Mrs. Wanda Horowitz and Countess Wally Castelbarco, and a son, Walter.

Toscanini will be buried in a family chapel in Milan, Italy.

Boost Ohio Leader as GOP Chairman

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ray Bliss, Ohio State Republican chairman, was pushed today for the chairmanship of the GOP National Committee. But H. Mead Alcorn Jr. of Connecticut was reported "still on top of the list" of prospects for the post.

Leonard W. Hall, retiring chairman, called the 146-member national committee together in closed session to announce his choice of a seven-member group to canvass suggestions for his successor. Hall has resigned effective Feb. 1. The full committee will vote on a new chairman Tuesday after the smaller group confers with President Eisenhower.

The White House is standing fast on its refusal to allow any news coverage of the private ceremony. Press secretary James C. Hagerty has said he will attend and brief newsmen later.

Repeat on Monday

Then, on Monday at noon EST, Eisenhower and Nixon will repeat the oath-taking before thousands packed into the Capital plaza and millions watching on television. TV and radio also will bring other events, including the parade, into the homes of citizens across the country.

Pedestrian Dents Car, Gets Sued by Motorist

HITCHIN, England (AP) — A man who bumped into a passing car and dented a fender has been ordered to pay the motorist $72.80 damages.

"I don't see why a motorist who suffers damages by a pedestrian should not claim damages just like a pedestrian hurt by a motorist," ruled Judge Lawson Campbell.

The pedestrian, Paul Walker, said he struck the car while running for a bus.

No Requests, Motorists Told

Auto Plate Numbers Fall as They May

If you would like your 1957 license plate to match your telephone or house number, or be as simple as GA 9000 to remember, the Pontiac branch of the Secretary of State's office advises that you forget about it.

Willis M. Brewer, branch manager, said, under instructions from the Lansing office, all plates are distributed in numerical order. "No special favors will be granted to anyone," Brewer added.

"If someone wants to wait around the office until a special number comes up, that's okay with us," he said. "But we cannot dig down into the pile to pull out a special number."

The Pontiac office is not without requests for special numbers, according to Leroy F. Kellogg, 1088 Dover Rd., assistant branch manager.

LUCKY SEVEN

"One fellow came in recently saying seven was his lucky number, and could he have a plate with four sevens," Kellogg explained. "It's just a big nuisance and would cause a lot of confusion if we granted such requests."

The confusion would exist in adjusting a stamp which has license plate numbers automatically corresponding as plates come off the pile he said.

Brewer said back in the late 30's requests for specially lettered and numbered plates were granted. These cost the state some $50,000, Kellogg said, and forced abandonment of the practice.

ISSUE 2 PLATES

This year's new plates—two for the first time since 1943—must be purchased by Feb. 28, Brewer warned.

Plates purchased at the Pontiac office will have letters GA, GB, GL, GM, GY, or GZ followed by a series of four numbers from 1001 through 9950.

Kellogg mentioned that many purchasers with these initials come from other counties and cities to buy plates. "This is perfectly legal," he said.

Some of the states allow for the purchase of "personal plates," Brewer said.

"I urge everybody to get their new plates now," he said. The branch office located at 53 N. Parke St. is open five days a week from 9 until 5 and on Saturdays from 9 until noon.

Green Lake Building Destroyed by Fire

Office building containing the home of William McFeely, located on M15 at Green Lake, was destroyed by fire about 6 a.m. today, according to William Buckingham, Brandon Township fire chief.

Buckingham said he had not contacted the owner as of 11 a.m. and could not estimate the amount of damage. The entire single-floor frame dwelling, about 18 by 30 feet, was destroyed, according to Buckingham.

Exact cause of the fire was unknown although firemen report it originated near the oil burner.

conclusions on medical tests made by other persons.

"You mean that, for all you know, these tests could have been made on some subject other than Sexton?" Taylor asked.

Tauber said this was so.

Both Recovered

Sexton's attorney, Clarence L. Smith, maintained four head injuries since 1945 led to Sexton's shooting Archie McCowan, 25, and Robert K. Stephens, 30, with a service revolver early Jan. 23. Both men recovered.

Cross-examined yesterday, Sexton admitted he had been drinking "on and off" for 10 hours preceding the shooting, but maintained he was not drunk.

He explained he "blacked out" more than an hour before McCowan was shot in the hand and Stephens in the shoulder. He came to, Sexton said, when he heard the shots and found himself "standing with the gun in my hand."

Stephens testified the shooting took place, suddenly and for no apparent reason, about 5:30 a.m. in a parked car in which the three were drinking. McCowan, absent from the state, did not appear in court.

Local Man Is Critical After Fall on Stairway

William Dean, 50, address unknown, was in critical condition today in Pontiac General Hospital where he is being treated for head and chest injuries received from a fall.

Police report Dean allegedly fell down an 18-step stairway at 102½ Branch St. about 6 a.m. this morning. Cause of the fall is being investigated by Sgt. Allen D. Noble.

Pontiac Deaths

Levi Brown

Levi Brown, 92, a former Pontiac resident, died Thursday in Dearborn. He made his home there at 4890 W. Land St.

Born in New York on June 16, 1865, he had lived here several years.

Mr. Brown leaves three sons, Alfred, Delbert and Carl.

Service will be at 11 a.m. Monday from the McFarland Funeral Home, 5401 Schaefer Rd., Dearborn. Mr. Brown's body will be brought to Oak Hill Cemetery for burial.

Mrs. Anna McCallum

Word has been received of the death of Mrs. Anna McCallum, mother of Judge Cecil McCallum, in Charlotte Hospital, Punta Gorda, Fla. She died Thursday after a prolonged illness.

Mrs. McCallum was born on March 18, 1863, in Belmont, Ont., to Hiram and Sarah Willis. She moved to Sanilac County in 1873. A resident of Pontiac 42 years, she moved to Punta Gorda in 1952 and made her home with her daugher, Mrs. Sadie McCallum.

A lifelong member of the Presbyterian Church, she was also a member of the D.A.R. and life member of O.E.S. No. 228 of Pontiac.

Survivors include her daughter, Mrs. Sadie McCallum of Punta Gorda; two sons, Earl McCallum of North Vancouver, B.C. and Judge McCallum; two sisters, Mrs. Mary Rumble of Deckerville and Mrs. Carrie Nicholson of St. Petersburg, Fla.; 11 grandchildren and 20 great-grandchildren.

Area State Policeman Promoted, Reassigned

State Police announced today the promotion of Raymond H. McConnell, detective with the Romeo Post, who will be assigned to the special investigation squad at East Lansing Headquarters.

Promoted to sergeant, McConnell has also served at Bay City, Marquette, Wakefield and Ypsilanti. He joined the force in 1940.

News Flashes

POCAHONTAS, Va. (AP) — Fire burned through a four-room frame home near here last night, wiping out the Earl Bostic family of six.

Nearby residents in this southwest Virginia coal mining area said the interval between the time the flames were noticed and the house was consumed could be measured in moments.

NAUGATUCK, Conn. (AP) — Two children perished in a fire early today that sent three other members of the Earl Douty family to a Waterbury hospital in fair condition.

The children, whose bodies were found at the bottom of rear stairs, were Elizabeth Douty, 4 and Reginia, 10.

Work to Start After Spring Elections

Waterford to Add 8 Voting Precincts

Immediately following the spring elections, alternations and division work will begin on Waterford Township's 12 voting precincts, according to clerk Louis Barry.

Eight more precincts will be added to the present number and much research will be necessary before plans will be completed, Barry said.

Among some of the problems facing the clerk and his assistants will be finding the most convenient location for voters to register. Voters will then be notified of the new locations by mail, Barry said.

There are 20,000 registered voters in the township, and extra voting machines will be established in the 12 precincts to accommodate the heavy overflow for the primary and spring elections.

TO ADD 10 MACHINES

At the present time the township has 34 automatic voting machines in use, and the plans are to add 10 more after revision of the precincts.

There are 72 election board inspectors and three custodians, in Waterford Township. However, 48 more people will be needed to operate the additional precincts.

State law allows 1,400 voters to each precinct. The present plan, to be in operation by the next gubernatorial election, is to have 1,000 voters for each precinct, leaving 400 names open for expansion, Barry said.

"Although the number of registered voters in Waterford Township is above the recommended total per precinct, it would not be economically feasible or possible to divide the precincts before the two coming elections," Barry concluded.

Elect 4-H Representative From East Orion Club

Mrs. John Lessiter, a leader of the East Orion 4-H Club, has been elected to represent the Southeastern 4-H district on the state 4-H Council. Leon Storm, another county 4-H leader of the same group, was elected vice chairman for the district.

Both elections occurred at the winter meeting of the district 4-H councils in Ann Arbor, Thursday, according to Jack Worthington, county 4-H agent.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Monday, January 21, 1957 is the final day for payment of 1956 county taxes in the City of Pontiac without penalties. On January 22, 1957, a 4% collection fee will be added.

On March 1, 1957, all delinquent 1956 city, school and county taxes as well as delinquent installments of special assessments will be returned to the Oakland county treasurer for collection with additional fees.

All payments postmarked January 21 will be accepted without penalty.

Continue to Test Probe Authority

Senate Group to Call Defiant Union Officials in New Showdown

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two defiant West Coast labor union officials go before the Senate Investigations subcommittee today for a new showdown in a dispute over the group's authority to probe alleged labor racketeering.

★ ★ ★

Called to testify in open hearing were Frank W. Brewster, head of the 11-state Western Conference of Teamsters, and Nugent LaPoma secretary-treasurer of Teamsters Local 174 in Seattle.

Both already have challenged in closed hearings the subcommittee's authority to investigate them. And both have refused to honor a subpoena under which the senators sought union financial records.

Yesterday Einar Mohn, executive vice president of the big international Teamsters Union, refused to answer any questions on grounds the subcommittee had no jurisdiction to investigate unions.

Mohn refused to say whether he had sent a telegram to the international union's vice presidents asking them to approve a policy of taking no disciplinary action against any union member who may "assert his constitutional . . . rights" in declining to give information to the subcommittee. The telegram described the inquiry as "a fishing expedition."

★ ★ ★

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) denounced the telegram as an effort to obstruct the investigation.

Dave Beck, the international union's general president, did not show up for the hearing as McClellan said Beck had promised to do.

Atom-Equipped Units to European Defense

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United State is organizing something new in atomic-age military units—special missile-equipped forces designed to back up formations of American and Allied troops.

One such unit—now called the "Southern European Task Force"—already is stationed in northern Italy. Pentagon officials said five others will be established.

The six will be designated as atomic support commands. They will average about 6,000 men each.

Military officials said the unit now in Italy is armed with Corporal and Honest John Rockets. The new Redstone ballistic missile, which has a 200-mile range, is to be added, along with conventional weapons.

Talk With Jan Sterling Brings Gab From Paul

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Talking to Jan Sterling, I got a great interview with Paul Douglas.

The immense shoulders of her husband loomed out the kitchen window when I got to Sutton Place to admire Jan closer-up.

★ ★ ★

She was so shapily beautiful and blondy believable as the cheating Revolutionary War wife in the Robert E. Sherwood play, "Small War on Murray Hill," that I wanted to tell her so personally.

JAN & PAUL

But her husband, an old pal of mine from radio days, was impolite enough to be at home when I called.

"I didn't know you had a house in New York," I murmered to the two Hollywoodians, now Broadwayites.

"We didn't — until now," Jan replied from the divan.

It was apparent from the way Paul fondled a drink that he meant to stay.

Wifelike, Jan deferred to her husband, who, it needs be pointed out, has been a professional talker since he was three, or possibly two. (He was on a kiddie radio show in Philadelphia.)

"Nowadays actors are usually gypsies," Paul said. He leisurely lit a cigarette. "You have to go where the work is. You do TV and theater." He leisurely puffed the cigarette. "In between, if you find a good script, you make a movie. As for living off the movies"—he blew the smoke out leisurely—"I think that day has really sailed."

★ ★ ★

"No more 'movie stars' as such?"

"No," Paul said. And Jan nodded. "You know some of these girls just can't act. It's going to be talent now versus busts, instead of vice versa."

It goes for men, too. For example, since Paul turned down "The Last Hurrah," we talked about who else might play the part of the elderly Boston politician.

"Who else can play parts but Tracy, Cagney and myself?" Paul asked.

"May I say that?" I asked.

★ ★ ★

"It's true. Who else?" challenged Paul.

"I've turned down better'n a half million dollars' worth of work in the last six months to do this play. I don't think the time to do a play is when you need work but when you don't need it.

"Take Walter Pidgeon.

"Pidgeon is one of them real rich actors. He's got $1,000 bills fertilizing his rose bushes."

I've given a rather unfair summarization of our interview because actually we talked considerably about Jan's performance which taught many New Yorkers that Murray Hill wasn't named for Arthur Murray.

She portrayed Mrs. Robert Murray, young wife of a 1776 banker who dallied with General Howe, got him to stay the night, and saved the Colonial Army—according to the Sherwood version.

THE WEEKEND WINDUP

Tom Ewell says he was very calm at the opening of his show, "Tunnel of Love": "I gave Nancy Olson a stick of gum to soothe her—then tried to light it" . . . Miami realtors are buying land in British Honduras, expecting the next boom there . . . President Eisenhower told an aide, "I've noticed more and more of the foreign diplomats have learned golfing nomenclature."

★ ★ ★

Sammy Davis, Jr. will work alone the last night of his Chicago engagement; his father and uncle need a head start for their next job, 'cause they won't fly . . . Lionel Hampton's band will be playing its third inaugural.

James Dean's fan mail has slumped, and Natalie Wood gave away her two Dean paintings. The fad is fading.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: "The only trouble with some of these fine new homes being built is their location—on the outskirts of your income."—Quote.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "Women are divided in opinion about this year's bathing suits. Some think them immodest; others have fine figures."—P. K. Sideliner.

There's one girl, reports Peter Arnell, who never has dates because she's only 18—where she should be about 34 . . . That's earl, brother.

A Job Well Done

At the current Chamber of Commerce dinner, President George N. Petroff surrendered control to Howard O. Powers.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Petroff has served the community well. A very busy man, he has always found time to work on the important duties that confront the titular leader of this important civic organization. The good doctor has been faithful to his trust and has faced his responsibilities squarely and fairly.

PETROFF

★ ★ ★

All momentum is slowly dissipated without constant pump priming and this necessarily comes from the top. No board member at the Chamber receives any remuneration and Pontiac is fortunate to have had so willing and capable a group over an extended period of years.

★ ★ ★

On behalf of an entire community, The Press wishes to thank Dr. Petroff and his associates for their interest and their capable work. In most cities, the most important people find time for the Chambers of Commerce. Pontiac follows the general rule.

They Weren't Fooled

The twelve week strike of German metal trade workers in Kiel provided Communists in East Germany with a fine opportunity to show their sympathy with the strikers.

★ ★ ★

A delegation from East Germany brought $3,600 as a contribution to strike funds but the money was refused. The delegates told of the fine working conditions at home. The strikers replied "we are waiting to see the day when workers in a Communist country can strike against a goverment industry."

★ ★ ★

The Red emissaries tried to explain the advantage of Communism and government owned factories. However, the Kiel strikers told them they were happy with capitalism and only wanted a bigger share of its profits. Another contribution was sent from East Germany. This time the workers, ironically enough, turned it over to Hungarian relief.

These free Kiel workmen living next door to a "worker's paradise" were not taken in by this great show of working class solidarity.

U.S. Must Be Prepared for Booming Population

Twenty years ago experts looking at the declining birth rate in this country predicted a leveling off toward a stable population of 165 million and then gradual decline.

But after World War II birth rates shot up, death rates dropped and our population increased at an amazing rate. In the next year alone there will be 2.8 million more Americans and by 1975 some 60 million more bringing the total to at least 225 million.

These figures are of great interest to workers, business and Government. In the years ahead we will need not only bigger schools, more and better roads and more hospitals but new homes, new cars and goods and services of all kinds.

★ ★ ★

The Nation's output will have to increase phenomenally and American industry already is spending huge sums in expansion to meet this demand. The Gross National Product now running at more than $410 billion a year, will have to be boosted to around $550 billion to maintain living standards at present levels.

This will take a lot of large scale planning if we are to meet problems the huge increase in population is bringing.

A man in his sixties can derive considerable satisfaction out of looking at a picture of alluring grandma Marlene Dietrich and reminding himself that he isn't much older than she.

Economists are painting a rosy future, but it's a safe bet that people will never be prosperous enough to buy what they want and have enough money left to save for a rainy day.

Fund for Jobless

Law May Be Revised to Aid Small Employers

By ROGER LANE

LANSING—An attempt to revise the so-called merit rating provisions of the Employment Security Act is a virtual certainty at the present legislative session.

★ ★ ★

Gov. Williams promised last July that he would have some recommendations on this point, and a few days ago a Democratic lawmaker said if the governor failed to go ahead that he would suggest changes.

Although the governor in a message to the 1956 special legislative session refrained from taking responsibility for this view, he said:

"It is commonly asserted that the legislative leadership permitted lobbyists for the large auto companies to write the current merit rating system."

★ ★ ★

He also said:

"The fact is that one large employer's cost, after the current rating system went into effect, were just one-tenth of what they formerly had been."

DRAIN ON FUND

The complaint is this.

A big slump in automaking occurs, as in the summer of 1956. Heavy outlays in unemployment compensation benefits to idled auto workers deplete the solvency fund, making necessary under the law an assessment on all employers in the state to replenish the fund.

★ ★ ★

This means the druggist in Escanaba, the garage proprietor in Sault Ste. Marie and the florist in Benton Harbor all have to chip in—indirectly—to pay for jobless paychecks received by laidoff auto workers in Detroit.

This may happen every other year, whereas in 20 years the druggist, the garageman and the florist might not have a single layoff, and, besides, would be paying the normal payroll tax in support of unemployment compensation.

The argument in support of the solvency fund assessment feature of merit rating is well understood by insurancemen.

★ ★ ★

It is based on the "pooling of risk" concept. When the kitty for paying jobless pay benefits is drained down, all who stand to gain by drawing on the reservoir must chip in to refill it.

In part, Williams looks on merit rating, at least in its present form, as a problem of small businessmen—a financial burden on them that ought to be lightened.

ANOTHER KIND OF RELIEF

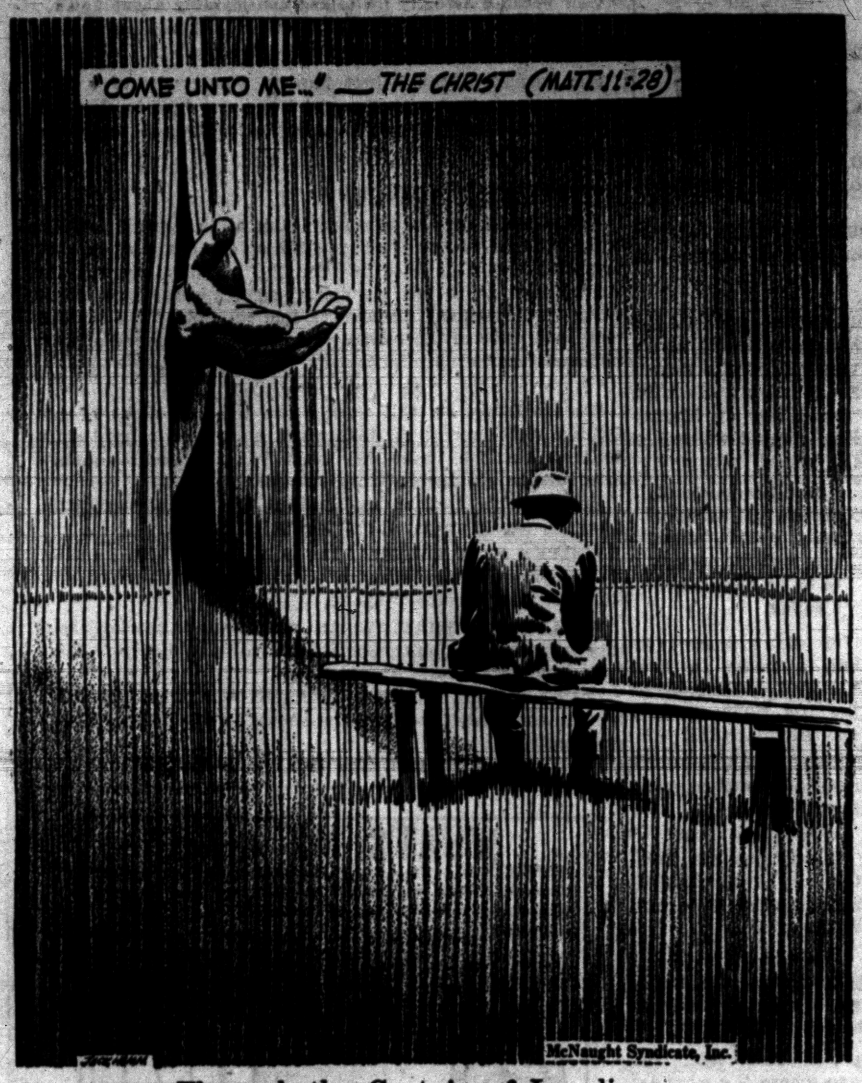

Last August, while temporarily shying away from the complexities involved in solvency fund aspects of financing unemployment compensation, he asked the legislature to give small businessmen relief of another sort.

★ ★ ★

He asked the employers in this category with one year's experience as a chargeable employer be dropped to the minimum payroll tax rate instead of being kept at the beginning 2.7 per cent tax rate for four years.

This recommendation, ignored by lawmakers last summer, is certain of renewal this year.

In addition, the governor reportedly is working on a legal device to present to the Legislature which would have the effect on excusing small businessmen—except in the most extraordinary circumstances—from having to kick in to the solvency fund when it needs replenishment—as it does now.

Days of All Faiths

St. Timothy Is Honored Thursday

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

"Take a little wine for thy stomach's sake" is probably one of the most popular and most frequently quoted admonitions in the Bible. It was addressed (I Timothy, Chapter 5, verse 23) by St. Paul to Timothy, Bishop of Ephesus, who is remembered Thursday in the calendar of saints. St. Timothy was a man of such stern self-discipline that he drank only water. St. Paul's advice has been taken by many who needed much less persuasion than Timothy did.

★ ★ ★

If St. Paul can be said to have had an assistant—a number two man—the title would go to St. Timothy. Paul said in his letter to the Christians at Philippi he had never found anyone else so truly united to him in spirit. Much older than Timothy, Paul had a father's affection for him—advising him, teaching him sometimes scolding him, and finally, as he sat in a Roman prison awaiting execution, longing for his companionship during those last days.

Tradition says Timothy outlived Paul by 30-odd years. In the year 97 he was beaten to death with stones and clubs in Ephesus by the heathen of that city for trying to stop one of their idolatrous ceremonies.

CONVERSION OF ST. PAUL

Friday commemorates one of the most dramatic events in Christian history: The sudden change of Saul of Tarsus, blasphemer and persecutor of Christianity, into Paul the Apostle, one of God's principal instruments in the conversion of the world.

A Jew of the tribe of Benjamin pupil of the great Gamaliel, Saul was a Pharisee, a learned rabbi and a scrupulous observer of the Mosaic Law. The new Christian faith was to him an abomination and he personally took on the responsibility of exterminating it. In his fury he went to the High Priest and got an order that permitted him to go to Damascus, arrest every Christian he could find there, and bring them all in chains to Jerusalem.

About noon on the last day of the journey, Saul and his companions were suddenly surrounded by a brilliant light. Saul, knocked down by the impact, heard the voice of Jesus. His response, "Lord, what wilt thou have me to do?" was the key that let loose the greatest missionary power Christianity has ever seen. His new zeal for the faith was even stronger than his old hatred of it had been.

His great missionary journeys from then on took him to every part of the known world "in weariness and painfulness, in watchings often, in hunger, and thirst, in fastings often, in cold and nakedness" (II Corinthians, Chapter 11, verse 27). He was finally beheaded at Rome.

His original name, Saul, he changed to Paul in honor of Sergius Paulus, whom he converted to Christianity (Acts, Chapter 13, verses 6 to 12).

★ ★ ★

St. Paul is the patron saint of preachers, for obvious reasons, and of tentmakers because throughout his career he preferred to finance his ministry by practicing the tentmaker's trade rather than depending on the contributions of the faithful.

LI'L ONES

"I just know she must be lonesome for her hospital nursery friends . . ."

Dr. William Brady's Mailbag:

Better Shun Husband With Sniffles

"How can I stop catching my husband's colds? I'm sure any suggestion you may give me will be sound hygiene." (Mrs. P. F.)

Answer—1. Regard any alleged "cold" as communicable. 2. Maintain five-foot isolation. 3. Make him wear a suitable mask. 4. If he will not do so, wear one yourself. 5. Otherwise put him in the dog house for the duration. I'm not fooling. Send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope for booklet Call it CRI, and learn how to protect yourself and your family.

"Do you think smoking cigarettes harmful for an old lady? I am lonely and almost deaf and smoking is about the only . . ." (E. M.)

Answer—you won't be lonely if you get into the habit of going for a daily walk and making friends with the birds, animals, plants, and people a regular vistor comes to know. Television should brighten your day. Smoking cigarettes is o.k., and so is a . . . you can explain, if necessary, that it is doctor's orders.

"Are fresh blueberries good for people with diabetes? M. Told eating fresh blueberries is like taking insulin." (F. M.)

Answer—Eating blueberries has about the same effect as eating apples, pears, huckleberries, cherries, currants, apricots, or raspberries—they're all in the 15 per cent column—that is to say, contain about 15 per cent of carbohydrate (sugar and-or starch), as do green peas, parsnips, pecans, walnuts, hickory nuts.

Only 10 per cent carbohydrate in grapefruit, oranges, lemons, melon, strawberries, blackberries, gooseberries, pumpkin, squash, turnip, onions, carrots, and beets. Only 5 per cent in tomato, cauliflower, mushrooms, cabbage, string beans, asparagus, lettuce, spinach, sauerkraut celery, butternuts.

A whopping 20 per cent in baked beans, macaroni, potato, banana, plums, prunes, boiled rice, English walnuts, almonds. At the very top are—I regret to say—peanuts, 25 per cent carbohydrate. There's little or no difference between sugar and starch so far as a diabetic's diet is concerned. Send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope for Volumette 23 of the Pocket Cyclopedia of Health, Training for Diabetes.

"Last spring I sent for your pamphlet on indigestion. I followed instructions, and I am so much better . . . (Mrs. E. P. W.)

Answer — Send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope for booklet, So You Have Indigestion? Or if that seems a little steep, send just stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlet Yankee Stomach.

"Oculist reported tendency to cataracts four years ago. Recently another oculist confirmed it. Please advise about the time needed for operation, time of recuperation, possibility of recurrence, etc." (P. L.)

Answer—In the case of my friend reported here recently, the operation took about 20 minutes, for each eye, he was in hospital 15 days. Never any pain. With his final glasses he now has vision good enough to drive his car and read fine print as well as he could before he developed cataract. Recurrence? Not a chance.

"Friend casually mentioned a formula of yours to use previous to final exams. If this is so, please . . ." (E. M. H.)

Answer—Send stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for pamphlet on Stage Fright and Examination Jitters.

"Can't begin to tell you how much—on the iodin ration nearly a year, and I'm like a different person. all my friends notice it, and certainly my memory has improved . . ." (E. S. B.)

Answer—Thank you. All I say is that it can do no harm, and that every man, woman or child needs a daily ration to supplement the iodin-poor food and water in the every day diet. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlet the Iodin Ration.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Asks Better Opportunities for Japanese War Brides

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I am one of the Japanese war brides, that is what they call us.

One thing that I really would like to know is why this country does not give us an opportunity to have better jobs or give us the chance to prove our abilities. They require that we have experience in this country. If nobody gives us a first chance, how can we build that experience?

After all, we are willing to learn everything and help to earn a better living with our husbands, as well as other wives. Maybe we are even willing to work harder.

Please do not let us down; give us a chance to share responsibility. We worked for the Armed Forces as office girls and waitresses, and our knowledge of English was quite satisfactory.

I have been working at a restaurant as a fountain girl and have been asking for a better position, but have been unable to get one, even though I am qualified for office work, having had training in Japan and at a Business Institute here.

'It's Novel Design but So's the Cost'

Being a taxpayer, I, too, am very much interested in the second senior high school. It sure is of novel design, but it looks to me as though whoever designed it must have had a pipe dream and tried to see just how much of a bill they could run up against the Pontiac taxpayers.

I wonder why the new City Hall was not scattered out over the hill, likewise the new addition to General Hospital, instead of 4- or 5-story buildings.

Perhaps the novel designers figure the youngsters aren't able to walk up stairs, might better build a gym for them to play in. The taxpayers have lots of money; they won't care. The construction, heating and maintenance of this novel design would certainly be lots more than a 3- or 4-story building. I think the Board of Education owes the taxpayers an explanation.

'Ike's Mistake Is His Budget'

President Eisenhower's biggest mistake since going into office is his current budget. No one will cheer for that, even those that cheered for Ike.

One That Did

'Either Pay Now or Stay in Debt'

There's a lot of kicking on the current federal budget. People can decide whether they want new and better roads, whether they want absolute defense against Russia and whether they want the social advances incorporated in the new budget, or whether they don't. The last time that happened three straight years was a quarter of a century ago.

The slight excess this year will be used to reduce our national debt and cut down interest charges. Do you want that or do you want more deficit spending for you, your children and your grandchildren to make payments on every single year of their lives?

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Here's Way to Improve Memory

Homer actually became a memory expert in six weeks by using the advice below. If you wish to recall names and faces, or study your textbooks far more efficiently, then send for the non-profit booklet named below. And pass it around to your friends or office associates, too. A good memory raises your school marks and also your salary!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case T-378: Homer J., aged 43, is a high salaried insurance executive.

★ ★ ★

"Dr. Crane, my big problem is a poor memory," he began.

"I have a terrible time recalling names and faces. Why, I may be introduced to a man at a party and not recall his name two minutes later when I wish to present him to my wife or some other associate.

"And a poor memory for names and faces actually hurts a man in his business relations.

"So what do you suggest as a means of perking up a fellow's memory?"

IMPROVE MEMORY

Motivation is a big asset in memory improvement. You must retain an active and continual desire to recall names.

★ ★ ★

If Homer would pay his wife $5 for every stranger's name he could not remember after a business or social party, he'd be surprised how fast he would improve!

I've been the banquet speaker at various conventions where memory experts were also to perform. And these experts would recall as many as 100 names with hardly an error.

At one such banquet, the memory expert correctly named 118 out of 120 people to whom he had been introduced an hour before the dinner.

And he paid off the two whom he failed to recall, with $5 each.

"How is it possible for you to have such a phenomenal memory," asked the banker chairman of the banquet.

★ ★ ★

"Well, sir, if you had to pay $5 to everybody whom you failed to recall," replied the memory expert, "you'd be surprised at what a fine memory you'd have for names and faces!"

SHORTCUTS TO MEMORY

A second aid to a good memory, is to react positively to the new names.

In psychology we distinguish between "active" vs. "passive" learning. You can read and reread the pages of a textbook a dozen times and still not know all the facts it mentions.

But let the professor give you a test after just one reading, and the next time you thumb through those pages, watch how eagerly you begin to look for specific answers to the questions you missed or couldn't solve.

Applied to memorizing names and faces, this means take frequent tests. For example, as soon as you get home that night, challenge your wife to a memory contest.

Each of you can then write down the names of all the strangers whom you met. Compare lists and see whose is longer.

★ ★ ★

If you men folks combine this strategy with the additional technique of offering your wife $5 or even $1 for each name by which she surpasses your record; you'll be a memory wizard in a few weeks!

REPEAT THE NAME

When you are introduced, be sure you get a clearcut impression of the new name. Often you hear only a mumbled final syllable, so it is only natural that you can't recall it later.

For memory is much like photography. You must get a good initial exposure if you wish to develope clear prints (memories) at a later date.

Then use that new name as soon as possible. Which of the following two acknowlegements of an introduction is better in this regard?

"I'm glad to meet you."

"I'm glad to meet you, Mr. Reid."

Obviously, the latter is better, for it permits you to utter the name, and habit is partly based on repetition. Then introduce Mr. Reid to others immediately and continue repeating his name.

★ ★ ★

For further advice, send for my booklet "How to Improve Your Memory & Study More Efficiently," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

These booklets are a non-profit educational service, so pass them around in your church or school or business firm.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Area Lions Club Men Launch New Project

Some 50 men from local area Lions Clubs gathered near Utica today to watch ground-breaking ceremonies for a new home which will become a project to raise $50,000 for the Leader Dogs for The Blind, Inc. in Rochester.

The future $22,000 home, a three-bedroom, brick, ranch style, will go to the winner of a drive to raise the money.

Representatives of clubs at Pontiac, Birmingham, Rochester, Utica, Centerline, and Mt. Clemens, were present.

The home is going to be built by persons who donate their time and materials free. It is being built at Erdmann and River roads.

A representative of the Rochester school demonstrated to the men how the dogs help the blind person.

FBI's Fight Against Crime Begins at Famous School

mings, and together they carried a proposal for a police training school before the Attorney General's Crime Conference, which met in December, 1934.

Hoover told the conference:

"The value of adequate training has already been proven in the training schools maintained by our bureau for its personnel . . . With but slight readjustment of operations, these training facilities already established could be extended to the local law enforcement agencies of the country."

The conference recommended that the school be established, and on July 29, 1935, the first class of 23 police officers gathered for 12 weeks of study.

ANSWER TO DEMANDS

This was the beginning of the FBI's now famous National Academy which was Hoover's answer to demands for a national police force.

In its first 21 years, the academy gave instruction to more than 3,000 law enforcement officers. Out of this number, more than 28 per cent climbed to positions as executive heads of their departments with such titles as chief of police, sheriff, and state police chief.

★ ★ ★

The number of graduates is small when compared with the total number of police officers in the United States—some 250,000.

But each graduate has left the academy qualified to organize police schools in his home town and to share the knoweledge he has gained with the other members of his force.

Two 12 week sessions are held each year—sessions in which some 80 students attend classes from 9 to 5, five days a week. After dinner hours are taken up with the typing of notes and study.

It's a hard, grinding period in which no outside interests are allowed to interfere with work. The only excuses accepted for missing a class are sickness, illness in th family or complying with a court subpoena.

★ ★ ★

The academy's regular instructors are experienced and well-trained FBI teachers. Other FBI special agents are available in the teaching of highly specialized courses. Lectures are given by educators, criminologists, lawyers and others.

SUCCESS FROM FIRST

The academy was a success from the beginning. Applications have poured in from law enforcement agencies at the ratio of about seven applications for each student admitted.

Perhaps more than any other single program, the National Academy brought closer cooperation between the FBI and local police. The FBI agents and the students came to know each other and to have a better appreciation of the others' problems.

Local officers saw the FBI men in an entirely different light—and the FBI's agents gained a new perspective by looking at the local men's problems.

There was, for example, a heavyset officer from the sagebrush country who came to the academy and immediately made himself disagreeable by refusing to associate in off hours with either the FBI instructors or the other students.

He was overweight when he began training, and the pounds dropped off at an alarming rate. But he didn't complain. At mealtime, and at night, he went off by himself. He became the "lone wolf."

TELLS HIS STORY

At the close of the session, he came to the office of the assistant director of the FBI in charge of training. He fiddled with his hat for a moment and then blurted out his story:

"I know you and the other fellows think I'm a pretty strange character, acting like I have. But I'd like for you to know the reason. I had to mortgage my house to get enough money to come up here and at the same time take care of my family back home along with some relatives who live with us.

"After I bought my railroad ticket and took out the money for the hotel, I only had 35 cents a day for food. I couldn't afford to eat with the others. That's why I went off by myself and why I lost so much weight."

The FBI man said, "But why didn't you tell me? We could have worked out something."

★ ★ ★

The police officer shrugged. "Pride, I reckon. I guess I was ashamed to say anything. But it's been worth it and I figure I'm a better man for what I've done." He shook hands and walked out.

U. of M. Students Design Electronic Computer

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Electrical engineering students at the University of Michigan have entered the "do-it-yourself" age.

They are scheduled to complete in the spring an electronic computer they designed and constructed themselves. Called the Mic—Michigan Instructional Computer — its exclusive purpose is to teach fellow students how to design and modify computers.

The $65,000 Mic will be capable of adding two numbers of 10 digets in 70 millionths of a second, multiplying them in 1050 millionths and dividing them in 1120 millionths.

Predict 1960 Population of 178 Million for U.S.

NEW YORK (INS) — Statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. say that the National population will climb to 178,500,000 by the 1960 census.

An increase of population well above the national average has been noted in Michigan, Delaware and Maryland in a report by the statisticians.

California paced the nation in population growth with a gain of 3.1 million residents since the 1950 census, and rapid growth was also noted in Florida, Nevada and Arizona.

Reflections

BETWEEN THE COVERS

J. L. VOORHEES

The person who strives for himself, alone, may acquire a hoard of worldly goods but when he's gone his worldly goods disappear like a star in sunshine. In this life it is the person who is kind, thoughtful and generous that is immortal.

M. E. SIPLE

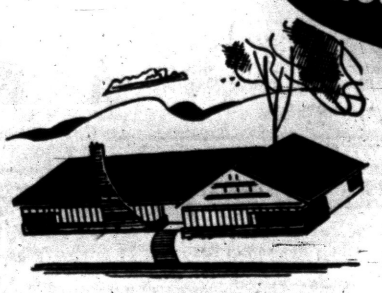

What we do for ourselves, alone, dies with us; what we do for others, without thought of recompense, lives on and on. The father who thinks more of his personal affairs, too busy to "bother" with his own, loses that boy. The mother who teaches her daughter the secrets of successful home-making, is that girl's confidente, is building immortality. The niggardly "boss" is carving a tomb where even his name will be sealed inside; the employee who gives less that his best will never see the top.

What we put between the covers of our book will be sacrificed on the altar of indifference or treasured as a jewel without price; we alone, have written the text, in deeds we have done for others.

Insurance Protection for Your New Home

You're buying a new home! It's a wonderful experience and will bring you happiness for many years to come.

A most important part of the deal is your Insurance Policy.

Where Should You Buy Your Insurance?
Under law, you have the right to buy your insurance from the agent of your choice. Unfortunately, there are out-of-town builders who will tell you that you must buy their insurance. If any such inference is made to you, ignore it.

It Pays to Deal With a Friend
Your local agent can give you immediate service in case of need. He will give you friendly service, because he is your neighbor. He will give you the best possible rates. Give him a call before you sign with some distant agent.

What About Insurance Renewals?
If you have already purchased a home, you still have a right to buy your insurance from the agent of your choice. You can solve the problem of long distance calls and correspondence by switching to your own agent at the expiration of your present policy.

It Pays to Deal With Local, Well-Established Firms!

First Baptists Offer Concert

Moody Bible Institute to Present Orchestra, Chorale Sunday

The First Baptist Church will present the Moody Chorale and Orchestra in a concert of sacred music Sunday evening, January 20 at 7:00 p.m. in the First Baptist Church. In a program of favorite hymns and great sacred classics, Clayton Halvorsen, baritone, will be featured as soloist.

The 45-voice Moody Chorale and 25-piece orchestra from Chicago's Moody Bible Institute are currently on tour of Indiana and Michigan between semesters of school.

Donald P. Hustad, arranger, organist and director, has long been active in radio work, broadcasting weekly over severa. Chicago stations.

The orchestra which will accompany the Chorale on tour is a portion of the Moody Community Orchestra, composed of students and other musicians from the Chicago area.

The orchestra will provide accompaniment for the Chorale as well as classical instrumental selections and arrangements of gospel songs and hymns

Baritone Clayton E. Halvorsen, soloist, is chairman of voice instruction in the sacred music department and is well known as a concert and oratorio singer.

The program fare ranges from an unaccompanied Brahms motet on Psalm 51 and Beethoven's "Hallelujah" (Mount of Olives) to modern arrangements for choir and orchestra of simpler church music.

RETURNING FOR REFRESHMENTS—Every Friday and Sunday night, the Galloway Lake Methodist Church holds open house for all teenagers of the area, known as "Teen-Town." Shown returning to the church for refreshments after skating on the lake are Paula Dombyoski of 1961 Opdyke Rd., (top left) Dorothy Birkett of 2105 Joy Rd., Dorothy Coleman of 1908 Opdyke Rd. (front left) and Thomas Fidler of 2141 Pontiac Rd. "Teen-Town" includes both recreational and devotional periods.

Youth Organize for Fun and Faith

Teenagers From 12-20 Enjoy Friday, Saturday Nights at Teen Town

The basement of Galloway Lake Methodist Church is buzzing with activity every Friday and Sunday night as young people between the ages of 12 and 20 come to Teen-Town.

★ ★ ★

According to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Feekart, advisors to the group, Teen-Town is open at 7 p.m. to all teenagers in the area.

Activities include ping pong, shuffle board, darts, picnics in the summer, skating in the winter on Galloway Lake, and favorite games, both old and new.

A devotional period under the guidance of the Rev. Kenneth Stephens, will be held on Sunday evenings.

Instead of the conventional type of youth meeting, a sincere attempt is being made in the area of drama to relate the Christian experience and way of life to the youth.

DEVOTIONS WITH DRAMA

An example of this is the current devotional series being done with creative dramatics in which the character of various individuals in a story is acted out. The actors will attempt to interpret a spiritual application to their own lives as they create the various roles.

Frequently the group will be visiting other churches to share in the service and to learn of their convictions and beliefs. They will also be entertaining other church youth groups.

The program has recently expanded to include a glee club open to anyone.

"Teen-Town News" a monthly publication, will be issued soon. Young people interested in working on the paper or singing in the glee club should contact the Rev. Mr. Stephens.

★ ★ ★

Teen-Town is governed by the young people with adults acting only in an advisory capacity. The cabinet consists of Don Decker, president; Dorothy Birkett, vice president; Elna Fielding, secretary and Tom Fidler, treasurer. Open business meetings are held the first Sunday of each month.

Church Service to Start at 6:30 Sunday Evening

The Rev. H. Eugene Ramsey, pastor of the First Church of God, 25 S. East Blvd., announces the Sunday evening service will begin at 6:30 p.m. and will continue at that hour until June 1. Choir practice is scheduled for 5:15 Sunday afternoon.

After the evening service, the young people will head for "Destination Unknown." The group will be taken somewhere for recreation and refreshments usually at someone's home.

Only the counselors, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Ditterline and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Mattingly, know the destination.

The week of Jan. 27 will be Youth Week when the church young people will be responsible for the music, speaker and be in charge of the Sunday service.

Jefferson Triumphs to Grab 1st Place

Jefferson's basketball team took over undisputed possession of 1st place in the Pontiac Junior High League yesterday afternoon with a 30-24 victory over Washington on the Jefferson court.

The Warriors are now undefeated in four league games while Washington has a 2-1 record.

A well-balanced scoring punch featured Jefferson's attack in the highly defensive battle. Bill Lee and Leon Prentis sparkled on the backboards for the Warriors.

Eastern handed Madison a 40-32 setback at Eastern in yesterday's other Junior High League contest. Fred Brooks netted 18 points to pace the Redskins to their 1st win in three starts.

Officers Elected by Congregation

Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterians Plan for Coming Year

At the annual congregational and ecclesiastical meeting of the Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church, the following officers were elected: Beatrice Harrison, chairman; Eileen Cox, vice chairman; Babette Gaines, secretary; Margaret Lunsford, special treasurer and Charles Moore, her assistant.

New trustees for 1957 will be Ford Newcomb and Fred Giddings. Elected to the office of Elder for a term of four years was Ronald Bumstead.

Appointments from the Session include Eugene Hoisington, superintendent of the Bible School; Francis Oak, asst. superintendent; Margaret Lunsford, junior superintendent and Francis Hoisington, primary superintendent.

Others were Grace Nelson, secretary; Lucille Mallory, asst. secretary; Leola Oak, supply secretary and Ronald Bumstead, treasurer.

The choir director will be Elder Robert Nelson and his assistant, Mary Kline, Gloria Brown will continue to be the organist with Judith Kline, junior choir director, assisting her. Leo Gaines will be head usher.

Marvin Fauss is slated to be secretary of the men's Work and Church Recreation with Mrs. Ralph Harrison and Mrs. Hugh Stimson appointed to the Fellowship committee.

'White Doctor' Slated

In response to widespread requests "Monganga" or "White Doctor," an hour-long TV film story of Dr. Ross, medical missionary in Africa, is to be repeated on NBC-TV Tuesday, March 5 at 9:30 p.m. EST. John Gunther, author of "Inside Africa," is chief commentator. . . .

Inter-Church Fellowship to Hear Adrian President

Dr. John Harper Dawson, educator, minister and president of Adrian College since February 1955, will be the speaker Sunday evening at Inter-Church Fellowship in All Saints Episcopal Church. "Christian Hands" will be his subject at the 7:30 service.

Raised in the Pittsburgh area, Dr. Dawson spent most of his life in the Quaker state. For two years he pursued an engineering course at the University of Pennsylvania.

Changing his mind, he transferred to Adrian College where he studied religion.

After graduation, he continued his theological training at the Westminster Theological Seminary, Westminster, Md. from which he received his Bachelor of Sacred Theology in 1941.

In 1946, he was awarded the Master of Education degree and in 1954 was granted the Doctor of Philosophy degree by the University of Pittsburgh.

He became a member of the university faculty and at the same time was pastor of the Crafton Methodist Church.

Selected for his work as a minister, educator, community leader and youth worker, by the Adrian College Board of Trustees, he was inaugurated as the 14th president of Adrian College on Oct. 14, 1955.

Dr. Dawson has declared his firm conviction that church-related, liberal arts colleges are necessary in the American education system.

As a student at Adrian, he was active in all undertakings and was awarded five athletic letters.

DELEGATE TO CONFERENCE

In 1955, Dr. Dawson was appointed a state delegate to the President's White House Conference on Education held in Washington, D.C. He is a member of Rotary International, American Commons Club fraternity and Michigan Association of College and University Presidents.

Dr. John L. Cheek will speak again at 6 p.m. for the Bible Exposition.

DR. JOHN H. DAWSON

A fellowship period will follow from 6:45 to 7:30 with the women of All Saints serving sandwiches and coffee. The evening will begin at 5:45 with an old fashioned Hymn Sing. A special program has been arranged for children.

Inter - Church Fellowship meetings are being held in the downtown churches that individuals might know each other better and understand the ritual of other churches in our common concern for the reunion of the Christian Church.

Men Meet Monday Noon

The Christian Men's Club will hear John W. Hirlinger at the noon luncheon Monday at the Waldron Hotel.

Mr. Hirlinger is manager of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

The grass withereth, the flower fadeth, but the word of our God shall stand forever.

Area Church Group Hears Budget Report

Members of the Community United Presbyterian Church of Drayton Plains held their congregational meeting recently, heard reports of the past year's activities and adopted a $60,000 budget for 1957 covering current expenses, benevolences and building fund program.

Dr. L. G. Rowley and Mrs. Harold Trexler were elected for a one-year term as Chairman of the Congregation and Secretary of the Congregation, respectively.

Others elected were: Olaf Johnson, Andrew McConnaughey and Dan Williams for three year terms as Trustees and Vern Green to fill an unexpired term of one year.

Congregational action also continued Roy Lindahl Sr. as Building Committee Chairman for the current year and authorized further discussion with the architect and preliminary planning for a new sanctuary.

Plan Faith and Order Conference for U.S.

Distinguished churchmen from all over the world are coming to the United States next summer. Prior to attending the first major Faith and Order Conference ever held in this hemisphere, the 90 members of the Central Committee of the World Council of Churches will meet together July 30-Aug. 7 at Yale University Divinity School, New Haven, Conn.

Under the joint sponsorship of the World Council, the National Council of Churches and the Canadian Council of Churches, the Conference on Faith and Order will meet at Oberlin College, Oberlin, Ohio from Sept. 3-10, when church leaders will discuss "The Nature of the Unity We Seek."

Old Roman Basilica Restored in Germany

The basilica in Trier, Germany, which was built by the Romans in 310 A.C., has been restored and was recently re-consecrated as a church, according to the German Tourist Information Office.

The ancient construction is still evident in that edifice, as in other Roman structures about the town: a complete amphitheater, a bridge, and others.

Trier, more than any other city north of the Alps, has the greatest wealth of old Romanb uildings, and annually attracts thousands of visitors to its beautiful site on the Mosel River.

Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me.

Confident Living

Dedicated Surgeon Brings Patient Confidence, Hope

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Not too long ago at a veteran's hospital in the South I had an interesting discussion about the partnership of medicine and faith with a truly great surgeon. This doctor told me a fascinating story illustrating the importance of that healing partnership.

DR. PEALE

The surgeon had a young veteran on his operating table. Attendants were preparing him for the operation. The kindly surgeon came in to say a word to the boy. As he stood looking down at the patient, he realized that the boy was deeply despondent. A kindly man, he tousled the lad's hair and asked, "How are you feeling son?"

"Not so good," the boy replied. "I don't think I'll ever come through this operation."

Thoughtfully the doctor turned to the attendants. "Better take him upstairs." Then he said to the boy, "I'll come up to the ward to see you in just a few minutes."

Later, sitting by the patient's bed, he began talking to him in relaxed and friendly manner about his home, his mother, his father and his hopes for the future. "Do you believe in your religion, son?" he asked.

"Oh, yes, sir," the boy answered, "and I try to practice it."

"I'm a religious man myself," the doctor told him. "When I became a doctor I dedicated myself to the Lord and told Him I wanted to help people. That is why I became a surgeon. I'm only God's servant. Every time I operate on a patient, I dedicate my hands and my mind to the Lord. I ask Him to put His healing touch upon me so that I may use my instruments with skill. I dedicate to Him all my knowledge and I dedicate my patient to Him as well."

TEAM OF THREE

"Now," he continued, "tomorrow morning I'm going to operate on you. I want you to come into the operating room really believing that we are a spiritual team at work. The team is the Lord, the Great Healer: you, a relaxed and believing patient; and I, a dedicated servant of God. The three of us together will be successful in our task."

The boy nodded; there was an understanding smile on his face.

When he was rolled into the operating room the next morning, the smile was still there. The doctor asked, "How do you feel, Bill?"

"Doctor, I feel all right," Bill answered. "I want you to know that all the team is here. Go ahead."

The surgeon did go ahead and the operation was successful. In telling me about this incident, the doctor added, "If we can get people to realize that they are the creations of One who can heal them, if only they will apply the Divine laws of health, we doctors can perform miracles of faith and healing."

• • •

As he spoke, I thought of a verse from St. Luke which I have always considered one of the most beautiful in the Bible: "And all the crowd sought to touch him, for power came forth from him and healed them all" (Revised Standard Version).

Personally I believe that this tremendous healing power is available to you and me, for it has been promised and the promise has been fulfilled over and over again. You can have it if you desire, but not without giving your whole self. It will not come unless you have real faith and can truly say, "With God's help I will give up my sins; I will have done with my doubts; I will conquer my conflicts."

Then He will give His healing grace to you as he did to that crowd long ago when they sought to touch Him, "And power came forth from him and healed them all."

Bethany Baptist Secures Pastor

Executive Secretary of Minnesota Convention to Be Minister

Bethany Baptist Church announces that Dr. Joseph Irvine Chapman, executive secretary of the Minnesota Convention of Baptist Churches, has accepted the call from the congregation to be pastor of the church.

★ ★ ★

A native of Canastota, N. Y.; Dr. Chapman attended grammar and high school in that community. He grew up in a Presbyterian home but became a Baptist at the age of 15.

A leader in the local and state youth organizations, he accepted a call for full time Christian service. He was graduated from Colgate University in 1932 receiving a B. A. degree.

In 1937, Dr. Chapman was given the Bachelor of Theology degree by Eastern Baptist Theological Seminary.

He served as pastor of the First Baptist Church of Georgetown, N. Y. from 1937 to 1941.

During the next six years while pastor of Trinity Baptist Church in Brooklyn, he was active in denominational and interdenominational work in the community and state.

In 1947, he went to Minnesota to serve as Director of Christian Education for the Twin City Baptist Union and in 1949 was invited to serve in the same capacity for the Board of Promotion.

SERVES CONVENTION

In 1952, he became Executive Secretary of the Union and with the forming of the Minnesota Convention of American Baptist Churches in 1954, he was called to serve as the Executive Secretary.

Dr. Chapman is a trustee of Sioux Falls College; a member of the Executive Committee of the Board; a member of the Baptist Hospital Fund, and the Council on Missionary Co-operation of the American Baptist Convention.

A member of the commission on the Ministry of the Convention as well as of its Rural Commission, he was honored in 1954 with the degree of Doctor of Divinity by Sioux Falls College.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Chapman will move to Pontiac with his wife, Shirley, and five children about April 1. He will preach his first sermon the following Sunday morning.

Nixon Statement on Civil Rights Urged by Group

Assemblage of the Emancipation Day mass meeting, sponsored by Negro Protestant Churches of Oakland County in Pontiac, recently sent to Vice President Richard M. Nixon a letter protesting withholding of civil rights from Negroes in certain southern states, notably Mississippi, Alabama, Florida and Georgia.

The letter signed by the Rev. Richard H. Dixon, chairman of the Assemblage, urges, in part: "We earnestly believe, Mr. Vice President, that you have a responsibility to speak to the people just as forthrightly about these inhumane acts as you did about those you witnessed in Hungary.

"Such a positive statement would demonstrate to the world that America merits her avowed position as a leader of free people."

1st Presbyterian Assists Kinnaird College Teacher

The First Presbyterian Church has assumed partial support of Miss Louise Shawver, a member of the faculty of Kinnaird College, Lahore, Pakistan. She serves as special assignment with the Board of Foreign Missions.

Kinnaird College is the only institution of college grade maintained for women in Pakistan.

It is named for Lady Kinnaird, a Scotswoman, who is active in the Zenana Bible and Medical Mission to India.

The institution is supported jointly by the Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., the United Presbyterian Church, the women of the Methodist Church, the Church Missionary Society of the Church of England, the Church of Scotland and the Zenana Bible and Medical Mission.

LOUISE SHAWVER

GIRLS WANT COLLEGE

The college began when two girls in the high school, founded by Lady Kinnaird, expressed an interest in college work and a teaching career, in 1913.

During World War I, about 40 students lived in two bungalows with their teachers. Classes were held in four tents and under trees. Later a 20-acre site was purchased and the college erected.

In the early 1940's, the enrollment had reached 230 students.

The partition of India and Pakistan in 1947 and the flight of Hindus and Sikhs to India nearly wrecked the institution. That autumn only nine girls enrolled.

Today about 250 attend Kinnaird. A vigorous program of Christian education is promoted among the majority who are Moslems and the 90 refugees.

SEEK EDUCATED WIVES

Young men in the service of the Pakistan government find their positions require educated wives. Kinnaird College girls are found today in Pakistani embassies of most of the capital cities of the world.

Bill Voska, representative of Alma College, will be a guest of the Tuxis Society at the 5:30 p.m. service Sunday. Richard Mann will lead devotions and Pat Graham will provide refreshments.

Sally Huntoon will lead devotions in the Pioneer Society. The filmstrip, "The Living Church" will be shown and Mrs. William H. Marbach will take care of the refreshments.

The Rev. Edward D. Auchard will preach at the 9:30 service Sunday morning and at 11 o'clock Dr. William H. Marbach will preach and baptize infants.

To Build Up Colleges, Church-Related

Twenty-five business, education and church leaders, members of the National Committee of Church Men for Church Colleges, have announced an eight-point action program designed to strengthen some 470 church-related colleges in the United States.

Meeting in Philadelphia, Jan. 8-10, at the annual assembly of the American Association of Colleges, the National Council of Churches group reviewed the difficulties facing many of the nation's Protestant church-related colleges and proposed setting up: an information center; a program of research and study on problems confronting these colleges; and an international placement bureau to secure faculty and staff.

The group further proposed calling regional conferences of college trustees and administrators; soliciting support from state and city councils of churches; and organizing a national conference of Church Men for Church Colleges. In addition, the program calls for mapping long-range public relations and publicity operations for church-related colleges.

Churches Get Praise for Suez Crisis Role

Dr. Geoffrey Francis Fisher, Archbishop of Canterbury, hailed the role of the churches in their efforts to heal the breach between the three major Atlantic powers, Britain, France and the United States, in the recent Suez crisis.

Replying as president of the British Council of Churches to a message from Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, president of the National Council of Churches, the Archbishop declared that he valued "the restraint and understanding courtesy" of American fellow Christians "at a time when decisions of the British government have been sharply criticized by many in your country."

Inaugural Decor Brightens Capital

PERFORM FOR IKE — Suzanne Devine, of Madison, University of Wisconsin co-ed and her mambo-dancing horse, Joey, will give performance for President Eisenhower at his inaugural Monday. Suzanne and Joey were in the 1952 inaugural parade, too.

Stage About Set for Celebration

President Takes Oath on Sunday, Repeats in Public Monday

WASHINGTON (INS) — Bunting is out, R.S.V.P.'s are in, grandstands are painted and pickpockets and pitchmen have been warned.

Summing up, the stage is just about set for the inauguration of President Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon next Monday.

Final nails still have to be hammered into the lumber arena which carpenters have set up on capitol plaza for some 16,000 ticket-holders and newsmen to view the swearing-in.

This remains to be done also on the fancy wooden reviewing stand being erected in front of the White House for Mr. Eisenhower and his official family to review the inaugural parade.

Capital Is Ready

But to all intents and purposes, Washington is ready for the dramatic moment shortly after noon when the chief executive will raise his right hand and publicly swear to uphold the constitution for a second term.

As far as the nation and the world are concerned, though, Monday's performance will be the one that counts.

Red, White and Blue

Washington buildings already are bedecked with red, white and blue decorations for the occasion, and downtown store windows are featuring super-size color photographs of the Eisenhower-Nixon team.

A weather bureau study gives odds of about 50 to one against bad weather. Some past inaugurals have taken place in elements running from drizzle to blizzard, but this year's committee is confident the sun will shine as strongly for Ike in 1957 as it did in 1953.

Souvenir salesmen are starting to break out their wares, but under strict licensing which allows vending of only approved items. One example: an "Ike-Dick" bow tie that lights up.

On the Alert

An "unfair practices committee" is on guard against what Chairman Dewey Zirkin of the better business bureau calls "fast-talkers, promoters and unscrupulous advertising salesmen."

The District of Columbia police has fortified its ranks with 90 of the nation's finest, taken from almost as many cities, to spot and nab pickpockets before pockets are picked.

All that Washington needs is the magic moment itself and the hundreds of thousands of out-of-towners who arrive over the weekend for one or more of the festive events.

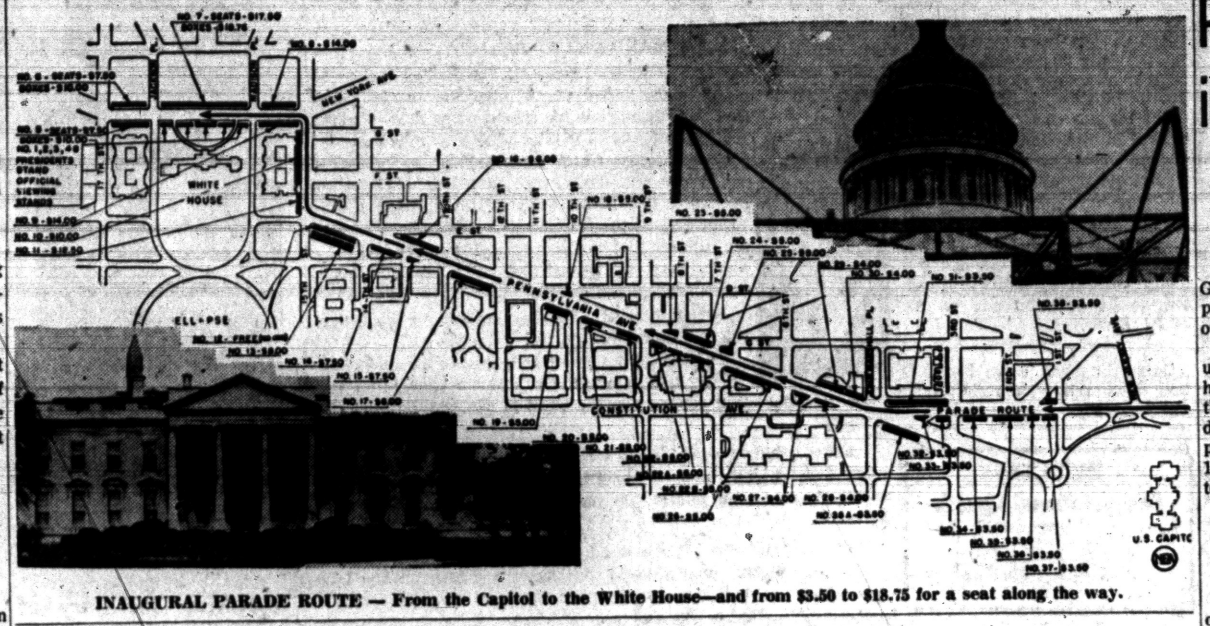

★ ★ ★

Most — nearly all — will do no better than to crowd onto the capitol lawn for neck-craning views of the proceedings, and then do the same along the two-mile parade route, possibly seeing as much as the TV audience.

Seats for almost 70,000 will be available in wooden stands along the Pennsylvania Avenue parade route, at prices ranging from $3.50 to $18.75 apiece — a bit of a boost from 1953 when the top tab was $15.

Prices for all the events have gone up, with the proceeds paying for the pageantry, pomp and splendor. All that the government pays is the salaries of the thousands of federal employes who will have the day off.

INAUGURAL PARADE ROUTE — From the Capitol to the White House—and from $3.50 to $18.75 for a seat along the way.

Pons, Merman in Festal Concert

Also Features Gould's Symphony, Composed for This Occasion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ever since George Washington, music has played an important role in getting our presidents into office.

So President Eisenhower's inaugural concert Sunday night is in the historic tradition. Researchers on the inaugural committee said today the first inaugural concert probably took place on April 21, 1789, nine days before Washington took the oath.

Certainly Washington was serenaded and feted and hurrahed during most of his long trip from Mount Vernon, Va., to New York.

And as he approached the bridge over Assunpink Creek, at Trenton, N. J., quite a shindig had been prepared, to remind the general that here he had got in some of the best licks of the Revolutionary War.

SUNDAY'S CONCERT

Sunday's concert for Eisenhower's supporters will include songs by Lily Pons and Ethel Merman and music by Fred Waring and the National Symphony Orchestra.

One number—"Declaration," by the American composer Morton Gould—will be having its world premier. It probably also is the first symphonic work ever commissioned by a broadcasting station.

Officials at a couple of Washington stations, WRC and WRC-TV, ordered the work. They plan to have it played with a dramatic reading of the Declaration of Independence each Fourth of July.

This sounds appropriate for an inaugural concert. And it's in the historic pattern, for Washington at Trenton had a song written for him, too.

It started, "Welcome, mighty chief" and ended like this:

"Virgins fair, and matrons grave,
Those thy conquering arms did save,
Build for thee triumphant bowers,
Strew, ye fair, his way with flowers—
Strew your hero's way with flowers."

Whereupon the virgins fair, and possibly also the matrons grave, strewed blossoms in the general's path. Washington was so fond of this song of the first inaugural concert that he copied the words in his letter book, to make sure they were saved for the ages.

Weather Experts Hedge on Inaugural Forecast

WASHINGTON (INS) — The weatherman, uneager to stir storm clouds among Washington officialdom, has taken no chances with long-range forecasts of whether the sun will shine Monday, inauguration day.

There was sunshine galore when President Eisenhower first was installed four years ago. And the inaugural committee has issued an announcement that "the odds are heavily against bad weather" this year too.

But the Weather Bureau, following routine, will make its usual general forecast Saturday night and a specific one at 10 a. m. Sunday. A vague regional forecast five days in advance isn't really worth counting on, the spokesman added.

This reflected somewhat less outright optimism than the inaugural committee, which said that a Weather Bureau study of the temperatures and precipitation for each Jan. 21 since 1900 offers odds of 50 to 1 against inclement conditions Monday.

Only once since the turn of the century, the committee said, has it snowed measurably in Washington on a Jan. 21, and that was in 1917.

Temperatures on Jan. 21 since 1900 have averaged a maximum of 45.8 degrees and a minimum of 29, which the committee says is evidence of the wisdom of changing the constitution in 1933 to switch inauguration day from March 4 to Jan. 20. March 4 inaugurations sometimes were anything but balmy.

As the committee recalled: "U. S. Grant hit the meteorological jackpot. At his first inauguration, in 1869, there was a 'heavy rain' and four years later he took office in a raging blizzard."

Abraham Lincoln took office on March 4, 1865, in "stormy" weather; James Garfield had a snowstorm in 1881; Benjamin Harrison spoke and paraded in a downpour in 1889, and Grover Cleveland and William Howard Taft both had blizzards when they were sworn in.

Of more recent memory, Herbert Hoover spoke and paraded in rain on March 4, 1929, and Franklin D. Roosevelt, in the final March 4 ceremony in 1933, had what the late Damon Runyon described as "dour" weather.

Williams Stars in Ike's Parade

To Lead State Section Including Two Bands, and Detroit Templars

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans couldn't have fixed the Eisenhower inaugural parade much better for Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan.

While most Republicans look on Monday at Washington from cane-bottomed chairs costing all the way up to $18.50 each, Williams will march in a star's setting in the parade.

★ ★ ★

Williams will lead the Michigan section. Just behind the 6-foot-4 governor, his wife, Nancy, will march with the Detroit letter carriers band.

Right behind the band will come 425 colorfully costumed Knights Templar from Detroit's Commandery No. 1, adding to the pageantry attending Williams' passage.

Back of the Knights Templar will come Calumet High School's ROTC band, with copper-plated helmets and copper-colored rifles. The Army will put the band up at Fort Belvoir.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, a Flint Republican, is, in effect, boss of the letter carriers band. Army Secretary Wilber Brucker, a former Republican governor, will be host to the Calumet band, which hails from the Upper Peninsula that always gives Williams a whopping majority.

Governors of all states are invited to the Presidential inaugural.

Paul W. Weber, Gov. Williams' press secretary, scanned plans for Michigan's parade participation, and opined: "It is doubtful if I could have done better."

National Guard Unit to Be Cited

Pontiac's Company M Will Receive Placque for Outstanding Soldier

Pontiac's Company M of the 125th Regiment, Michigan National Guard, will be honored with a placque Monday night for having the outstanding soldier in the regiment at summer camp.

Second Lt. Donald Russ, a city policeman who has been promoted from sergeant since the training period,. made the honor possible by earning the General Colliday "best soldier" award at Camp Grayling. He was given a medal at camp.

Representatives from the Army and Navy Association in Flint will be on hand at the regular Guard meeting to present the Unit award, which will be accepted by Capt. A. J. Largent, the commanding officer.

Col. Robert T. McColl, of Owosso, Commander of the 3rd Battalion, will be on hand to view the proceedings as a guest of the local heavy weapons company.

The public has been invited to attend the presentation and a 15-minute session to follow about the summer camp training of the 32rd Division at Camp Claybanks, Wisconsin.

DENVER — Rattlesnakes are found at altitudes as high as 11,000 feet.

65 Bands, 34 Floats Take Part in Parade

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some vital statistics on the Eisenhower inaugural parade Monday came out today: 17,000 people all told, 65 bands, 34 floats, perhaps 40 state governors, 150 parade marshals—all strung out for 10,450 yards along Pennsylvania Ave.

If the paraders keep to their 120 paces per minute cadence, newsmen were told at a special briefing, they will move at the rate of 120 yards a minute. That means 1 hour, 44 minutes, 30 seconds to pass any given point-say the White House reviewing stand.

Capital Snow Plows Ready—Just in Case

WASHINGTON (AP) —The District of Columbia will have 160 snow plows handy next Monday just in case it snows on President Eisenhower's second inaugural day.

GENEVA — Switzerland has more savings accounts than people.

WCTU President Deplores Wine at Inaugural

EVANSTON, Ill. (INS) — The President of the Women's Christian Temperance Union sent a telegram to President Eisenhower tonight protesting the reported use of 500 cases of wine to be served at the inaugural ball.

Mrs. Glenn G. Hays wired the President:

"I am amazed and disillusioned at the reversal in policy which I am told will permit 500 cases of wine donated by the Almaden vineyards of California to be used in toasting the President of the U. S., at the inaugural balls on Wednesday night.

"May I respectively request that only non-alcoholic beverages be served on this historic occasion."

Mrs. Hays said she learned of the wine through temperance officials in Washington.

Plenty of Accomodations Available in Washington

By ALVIN SPIVAK

WASHINGTON (INS) — Hotelmen who sold out every room in Washington a month before the 1953 inaugural are stuck with hundreds of empty beds for this year's big weekend.

"I'm sorry to say we've probably got upwards of 500 units available for today, tomorrow and Monday," reported Bourbon Dawes, secretary of the Hotel Association of Washington, D.C.

He told an interviewer that those rooms and suites are part of the 9,000 units in member hotels. There are an estimated 4,500 units in non-member licensed hotels, he said, and he doesn't know how many vacancies will exist in those or in motels and rooming houses.

Inaugural committee housing chairman A. B. Hermann stressed in a separate interview that in contrast to 1953 there is "ample space available" this year.

He said: "Four or five of the big hotels are practically wrapped up, but the others are running about 20 per cent behind four years ago in reservations."

★ ★ ★

Hermann explained that there was more of a stampede to get to Washington for President Eisenhower's inauguration in 1953 "because then we were ending a 20-year drought for Republicans" in the nation's capital.

The "Pullman City" of sleeping cars which railroads set up in their yards to accommodate thousands of out-of-towners who had no other place to stay in 1953, again will be part of the Washington scene this week end. But a railroad spokesman said there will be "nowhere near the volume" of four years ago.

Even if there is a last-minute rush for hotel rooms, Hermann added, there are nearby motels and rooming houses which can handle an overflow. "From my opinion we're in excellent shape," he said.

Initially, Hermann's committee expected more of a demand. It set up strict rules for room assignments to assure state officials proper quarters and required deposits of from $40 to $60 per room before last Dec. 31.

The plentitude of sleeping accommodations has been reflected also in some early difficulty the parade committee had in selling grandstand seats at prices ranging from $3.50 to $18.75.

However, the invitation-only inaugural balls are expected to be sellouts, as are the two inaugural festivals tonight which feature dozens of top-flight Hollywood and Broadway stars.

And, there is no question that—weather permitting—every one of the 16,000 to 18,000 seats on capitol plaza will be filled when President Eisenhower takes his oath of office Monday shortly after noon.

Custom Dictates Use of Bible in Taking Oath

WASHINGTON (INS)—There is no law or constitutional provision requiring the President and Vice President to place their left hands on the Bible when they are inaugurated, but they always do.

The custom has prevailed since George Washington's inaugural in 1789, and President Eisenhower used the first chief executive's Bible for his own induction in 1953.

A President and Vice President may affirm, rather than swear to uphold the Constitution when the oath is administered to them.

However, this has happened only once—when Franklin Pierce took the oath by affirmation in 1853.

Only known time that a President failed to use a Bible was when Theodore Roosevelt was hurriedly sworn in at Buffalo, N. Y., in 1901, upon the death of William McKinley. Historians say there was no Bible readily at hand.

Darnell Reveals Plans to Marry Airline Pilot

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Linda Darnell says that she and airline pilot Robbie Robertson will be married next month.

She broke the news to friends this week on the set of a film she is making for television. Robertson, an American Airlines captain, is now on the Los Angeles-Chicago freight run. The actress, 33, has been twice divorced.

Area Residents Attending Inaugural Events Monday

A number of Oakland County residents will be in Washington for the inaugural ceremonies Monday, some to participate in official events and others as spectators.

Midshipman Milton H. Bank II, son of Dr. and Mrs. Milton H. Bank of Central Methodist Church, will carry his company's flag in the Inaugural Parade. He is the flag bearer for the 21st company of the 6th battalion at the U.S. Naval Academy, Annapolis. After graduation, he will go to Pensacola, Fla. for flight training.

Others from the Academy in the parade, will be Midshipmen Phillip Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd H. Smith, 150 N. Johnson Ave. and Wayne E. Scott of 63 Delaware Rd.

In Washington for ceremonies Monday from this area also will be Miss Elaine Appel, of Commerce Road; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Rammes, of Sylvan Lake; John W. Fitzgerald, editor, The Pontiac Press; and the F. C. Gallaudts of Bloomfield Township. Miss Appel and Mrs. Rammes are among the Michigan people representing the Citizens for Eisenhower Committee at the inaugural.

Raymond Ebey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Ebey, 4125 Lanette St., has been chosen to be one of the 200 honor guards from the United States Naval School of Music in Washington. He is scheduled to stand guard during the parade from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. A graduate of Waterford High School in 1953, Ebey is majoring in organ at the naval school. He was the organist of the First Methodist Church before enlisting last August.

EBEY

O. E. Walker, of Rochester, and his 15-year-old grandson, Albert Butson, Jr., left this morning for Washington and plans to return next Wednesday. Walker attended the President's first inauguration, but this will be the first for his grandson.

Prime Minister Sidney G. Holland of New Zealand says that he is an eloquent speaker because he once sold plows to farmers. The farmers' only answer to his eloquent sales talks would be a simple "yes" or "no."

5,000 Extra Guards to Police Inaugural

WASHINGTON (AP) —About 5,000 law-and-order specialists will be on duty during President Eisenhower's inaugural Jan. 21.

Their primary concern: the safety of the President and other officials. Their next worry: pickpockets.

Otherwise, officers said minor infractions will go unpunished on this special day.

The lineup of uniformed and plainclothes security personnel now includes about 2,200 Washington metropolitan police, 120 Secret Service agents (about half called in from posts out of town), 180 Capital Park police, 1,400 soldiers and National Guardsmen, 100 White House police, 150 Capitol police, 400 Washington firemen and 100 out-of-town policemen.

Girl singers, according to Opera Star Elaine Malbin, should show more talent and less girl . . . The best thing in Budapest nowadays, according to Arthur Steiner, is the fast train to Viena—Earl Wilson.

President to Wear Homburg on Monday

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower will wear a homburg hat to his inauguration Monday.

Before Eisenhower, the traditional headgear for inaugurations was a high silk hat.

Eisenhower's decision to wear a homburg at his first inaugural four years ago touched off some frantic scurrying by other dignitaries who had been planning to wear silk hats.

Local stores sold out of homburgs. Some officials had to go elsewhere to buy their hats.

The black homburg Eisenhower will wear next Monday was made by skilled hatters in 10 countries.

Hungarian Refugees Will Witness Parade

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Fourteen Hungarian refugees who arrived here recently will have ringside seats at President Eisenhower's inauguration ceremonies next Monday at Washington.

Learning that some of the refugees had expressed an interest in the machinery of inaugurating a U. S. president, the Young Republican Club of Allegheny County invited the 14 to accompany them on their special train.

They'll keep their new look, their flattering fit longer when they're cleaned the Lustre-Sheen way because they're measured and blocked to your exact size! Quick dependable service!

Glenn Ford Voices Fear About Future of Westerns

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Take it from Glenn Ford, Westerns are getting tougher and tougher.

Ever since "The Great Train Robbery," horse operas have been a prime commodity for the movies — maybe THE prime commodity.

I've heard it said that Westerns are the motion picture's sole original contribution to modern culture. Could be.

★ ★ ★

But Ford claims Westerns are in jeopardy. He's more than a slight expert in the art form, since he's now making his 25th oater, "7:10 to Yuma." More than a third of his films have had him headin' thataway on horseback.

"I'm worried," the actor said, though it hardly showed. "It's getting harder to make good Westerns all the time. It's tough to get authenticity.

"Take equipment. There are getting to be few good stagecoaches any more. We had a dickens of a time finding an 1870 train to use in the picture. RKO had one, but the railroad said it wasn't in good enough condition to take it down to Arizona. A train was finally found on a siding down in Arizona.

"Manpower is the same thing. We used to have men like Charlie Dalton and other real figures of the Old West to act as technical advisers on pictures. They're all gone now. There are only two or three good stagecoach drivers left.

★ ★ ★

"Locations are a problem. We used to be able to go out to Calabasas or Northridge in the San Fernando Valley and shoot Westerns. Now those places are full of subdivisions and you can't get a longshot without television aerials.

"Even in Arizona we had problems. We had to drive 60 miles to a location and 60 miles back. And part of the time we couldn't shoot because of jet plane streaks in the sky."

Then there is the problem of new plots. Not that Westerns demand new plots, but it helps. Especially when TV viewers can see a score of variations on the old themes any week on the half-hour horse operas. And the heat is really on now, with the old features flooding the TV market.

"You've got to try new things," Ford explained. "We're taking a chance on '7:10 to Yuma' because I play a bad guy who doesn't get punished for the things he does. That goes against the old tradition which states that evil must be punished."

★ ★ ★

Despite all these problems, Ford never doubts for a minute that Westerns will continue to flourish on the screen. Nor do I.

"The great appeal of Westerns is that they can be understood and appreciated anywhere in the world," he remarked. "They're based on basic principles that know no language barrier."

There's Slight Hitch to This Trousers Tale

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Trousers are being worn a little higher at the Mayme S. Waggener Junior High School nowadays.

Principal John B. Lowe, taking official notice of a new fad that calls for pants to be slung around the hips casually, has ruled the boys at the coeducational school must keep their trousers around the waist.

Lowe said he acted after learning two of the boys observing the fad lost their pants in the school gym when a practical joker administered a slight tug.

He said he felt the ban was necessary to stop any "immoral episodes."

Bloodmobile Slated Monday in Pontiac

Pontiac residents will be able to donate blood at the monthly appearance of the bloodmobile from 2 to 8 p.m. Monday at the Elks Temple on Orchard Lake avenue, said Mrs. A. H. Magnus, Red Cross blood chairman for Pontiac.

Oakland County's yearly quota has been increased from 8,000 to 9,000 pints, Mrs. Magnus said, so increased regular donors are needed.

The county also has to give 126 additional pints of blood monthly to National Red Cross for defense purposes. The additional blood is used for serum albumen.

Appointments can be made, Mrs. Magnus added, and walk-ins also will be welcomed.

The use of water in the United States, for all purposes, industrial, commercial and domestic, is expected to double within the next 25 years, according to municipal planners.

Doggish Dervish; Well, Anyway, It Was Whirling

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (AP) — Four-year-old Michael Campbell was watching his mother wash clothes just about the time he figured his pup, "Little Bunker," needed a bath.

So, when Mrs. Campbell left the room for a minute, Michael dumped the pup in the washing machine and flipped the switch.

When Mrs. Campbell returned, she saw what looked like several "Little Bunkers" whirling around and quickly turned the machine off.

Relatives of Ike and Nixon Will Turn Out En Masse

Youngsters Will Join With Grownups in Watching Both Ceremonies

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON (INS) — Starry-eyed moppets will brighten the inaugural scene Monday on the time-hallowed Capitol steps as Eisenhower grandchildren and Nixon youngsters vie with uncles and grandmothers to ogle the swearing-in ceremony.

Sub-normal temperatures are predicted.

Neither sleet, nor rain, nor wintry blasts, however, will prevent the Eisenhower, Doud and Nixon clans from turning out almost en masse to hear Ike and Dick swear to uphold the Constitution.

Except for the youngest — baby Mary Jean — the three other offspring of Maj. John and Barbara Eisenhower are already matching their socks and planning their ensembles for the big event.

For them, as well as for 8-year-old Julie and 10-year-old Tricia Nixon, the Monday festivities will be a mere public repeat of the more intimate oath-taking Sunday morning at the White House.

If Julie Nixon attracts slightly more attention than Ike from the Eisenhower grandchildren, the President can blame it on her beautiful black "shiner" which stems from a sledding mishap.

Four generations will be logged for the distaff side of the White House. Mrs. John S. (Min) Doud, the First Lady's doting mother, will stand proudly beside her great-grandchildren as they watch Grandpa say "I do . . ."

★ ★ ★

Besides John Eisenhower, Mrs. Doud can proudly boast of two other grandchildren, Mamie and Ellen Moore, who will be at both swearings-in with their mother, Mrs. George Gordon Moore, and her husband.

BROTHERS TO ATTEND

All four of Ike's brothers are expected for the second inaugural, as are Vice President Nixon's two brothers and his mother.

The Sunday ceremony, restricted to relatives and News Secretary James C. Hagerty, will be staged in the White House shortly after Ike and Mamie return from 9 a.m. services at the National Presbyterian Church.

★ ★ ★

The Monday noon repeat performance for important dignitaries will set off a whoop-la fanfare of parade and balls to stagger the imagination of capital old-timers.

The Nixon children will watch "until they're tired" an extravaganza of super weapons, guided missiles, cowboys on horseback and 34 floats—one a block long—as the parade wends its way from the Capitol to the White House reviewing stand.

The Eisenhower and Nixon youngsters will be firmly tucked into bed Monday night, however, as their grownup relatives set off in their new finery for a succession of four inaugural balls.

Mrs. Moore, Mamie's sister, will cochairman the festive dance at the Mayflower Hotel, which the Eisenhowers and Nixons will visit during their busy rounds.

A few fascinating notes have been injected into this gigantic inaugural fiesta. For instance, President Cornelius Seneca of the Seneca Indian tribe has refused to march in the parade because "relations between my nation and President Eisenhower's are strained." Seventeen thousand other peaceful souls have, however, agreed to tramp the long mile.

Nine hundred avid Republicans who coughed up eight dollars each for bleacher seats on Pennsylvania avenue—only to have the stands condemned as unsafe—are gleefully exchanging them for $14 seats outside the Treasury Building, without additional charge.

Choice tickets are still going begging for the star-studded Inaugural Concert Sunday night in Constitution Hall. This Potomac River town, which eats and sleeps pure politics, would apparently rather see a long-haired senator any day than a galaxy of headliners like Lily Pons, Fred Waring, Peter Palmer, Ethel Merman and George Murphy.

Visitors who are already beginning to throng this capital which foreign diplomats list as "sub-tropical" will be happy to know that the city fathers have at last decided to do something about the weather.

An announcement solemnly assures the citizenry that out of deference to the inaugural festivities, a special snow-removal program will go into effect "in the event of a 6-inch snow."

Baldwin PTA Holds Meeting

Mrs. William Wright, principal of Mark Twain School, conducted the Thursday program at the Baldwin PTA meeting. The theme was "What do parents want to know about their children's progress in school?"

Assisting Mrs. Wright in group discussions of the problem were Paride Ninotti, Mrs. Lyle Dusenbury and Mrs. Donald Williams, members of the Pontiac Committee on Reports to the Home.

Mrs. Roland Curtis, presided at the business meeting. Members voted to support the PTA scholarship fund as recommended by the Pontiac PTA Council.

Coming Events

Waterford Township Republican Women's Club will meet Monday at 12:30 p.m. at Elks Temple.

Fanny E. Tompkins, Temple 41, Knight of Pythias, will meet Monday at 8 p.m. at 18½ E. Huron St.

Designer Mollie Parnis Drops Hints

By JOAN HANAUER

NEW YORK (INS) — Fashion designer Mollie Parnis is keeping one of the nation's top secrets—what Mamie Eisenhower will wear to her husband's inauguration—but she dropped a few hints today.

★ ★ ★

Details of the suit Miss Parnis designed for Mrs. Eisenhower are being guarded by the White House with all the hush-hush usually reserved for atomic secrets.

But an interview with this top New York designer about the First Lady's preferences in clothing brought forth some hints.

"Mrs. Eisenhower likes easy, flared skirts," Miss Parnis reported, "and this created a little problem for me because my suits this season have straight, slim skirts.

"Generally, there's no special problem about designing for Mrs. Eisenhower," said the woman who has been creating Mamie's clothes since 1952. "She wears a size 12 and really has a very nice figure.

★ ★ ★

"She wears a great deal of mauves, purples, pinks and reds that have purple in them.

"Those are her colors because she has such beautiful skin and wonderfully blue eyes. Blue would be the obvious thing to wear, but Mrs. Eisenhower isn't like that."

SOFTLY TAILORED

Miss Parnis confided that the general's lady likes softly tailored suit jackets, preferably falling just below the hipline. Mamie also has shown a preference for matching scarves and hats.

"I've never seen her in any jewelry, other than that single strand of pearls," Miss Parnis added.

"Of course, the suit I've designed will have refinement and won't be too outstanding. It isn't the kind of suit where you see it first and Mrs. Eisenhower second."

According to Miss Parnis, Mamie's preferences in other styles run to princess line clothes, covered up for daytime. She likes small prints, particularly florals, and loves new-looking shirtwaist dresses.

Another of her favorite styles is the dress and jacket ensemble, particularly little short, ribbed jackets with jersey dresses for fall and spring.

The First Lady, said Miss Parnis, is "a perfectly normal woman who likes clothes" and, considering the many affairs and functions she must attend, is not extravagant.

Teenagers, Remedy Defects Now

The true sophisticate has her values straightened out. She is mature enough and has enough self-confidence to stick to her own beliefs, rather than to try to follow the crowd.

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Every once in a while I send a message to the teenagers who read my column, and there are many of them. They have just about taken over the Friday Question Box. Many letters from them tell me that their mothers have read and followed this column for 20 years and that now they themselves want help.

★ ★ ★

I wish that young women in this age group could realize that now is the time to remedy any defects in figure and especially in posture. During these years you are more pliable in every way. You are not so "set" in physique or in personality.

Poor posture can be remedied now whereas later on it will be much more difficult, if not impossible. I can look at you today and tell you much about how you will look at 20 or 25 or 30.

Will you have a protruding abdomen, wings for shoulder blades, a double chin, or a hump at the base of your neck? This depends to a great degree on how you carry yourself today. You are creating the woman of tomorrow by the way you eat, exercise, sleep and carry yourself today.

The true sophisticate has her values straightened out. She is mature enough and has enough self-confidence to stick to her own beliefs, rather than to try to follow the crowd. The really grownup teenager does what she does because she wants to and thinks it is right, not because she is mimicking others.

This doesn't mean that you shquld not be tolerant of others, that you must be stuffy, but you really will be grown up when you can be understanding and still stick to your own standards.

This is the individual right of every human being, and no teenager or adult is mature so long as she plans her life on the ideas of others.

If you would like to have my leaflet written especially for teenagers, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 58 "Popularity." Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Princess Design Adapts to All Types of Materials

Harvey Berin again proves his great finesse with this dress that can be made in formal fabrics for city wear, airy cottons or silks for resort and if there's a really big occasion in the offing, you might want to use starched cotton or re-embroidered lace over crepe or taffeta.

★ ★ ★

A princess model, all the seams except the center front and back have deep inverted pleats which give the skirt inestimable grace. Tiny cap sleeves are attached to shaped bias bands over the shoulders, a trick that makes the bodice fit and hang to perfection.

These high - style dressmaker details are simple to handle since the pattern is custom cut with great attention to accuracy. From this chart select the one size best for you:

Sizes	Bust	Waist	Hips Inches	Length From Nape of Neck to Waist

Mme. Callas Enchants Washington

Guests See None of Prima Donna's Famous Temper

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — If the beautiful, much-headlined Maria Meneghini Callas, Metropolitan Opera star, disappointed any of the distinguished audience in her first appearance here it was because she failed to show any of her famous "temperament."

★ ★ ★

Instead, the sensational prima donna, American-born of Greek parents, had the guests of the Italian Ambassador and Mrs. Brosio sitting on the edges of their gilt chairs, enthralled.

The singer selected several of her "most difficult" numbers for the private concert.

During the champagne supper which followed, Mrs. Callas chatted amiably with the guests and revealed she never read stories about herself in the newspapers, because, she said, a great many of the tales about her temperament were untrue.

★ ★ ★

Of all the beautifully dressed women in the gathering, which included White House officials, Mrs. Wendell Wilkie, widow of the 1940 GOP presidential candidate, hostesses Mrs. Robert Low Bacon and Mrs. Morris Cafritz, former Secretary of State and Mrs. Dean Acheson, Eric Johnston and Under Secretary of the Treasury and Mrs. Randolph Burgess, the artist was the MOST.

Her sleek, jewel-embroidered white satin gown, designed, she said, by the Italian couturier Biki, a granddaughter of amed composer Puccini, was enriched by a fabulous four-strand tiered necklace of diamonds and a huge emerald-cut diamond ring, and diamond earrings.

The singer confided she always gets a jewel from her wealthy husband for every new role she sings.

Faith is a graduate of Greenville College, Greenville, Ill., and William was graduated from Northwestern Institute of Chiropody and Foot Surgery. They plan a March 23 wedding in Chicago.

Hospital Guild Slates Projects

Plans for a fashion show to be held in March and for a money making project in February were discussed at the Wednesday meeting of Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital Guild held at the hospital. Mrs. Harvey Bridenstine was appointed chairman of the February event.

Members volunteered their services to help with the Red Cross Blood Bank when the Bloodmobile will be at the hospital on Feb. 11.

Mrs. D. G. Strauss and Mrs. B. F. Bragg of Milford were cohostesses for the afternoon meeting.

Use Perfume — Carefully!

Getting one of the well-known French perfumes for a gift is exciting.

But, unfortunately, many women don't know what to do with perfume once they have it. They know it's expensive and therefore feel that it ought not to be wasted. So they put it away without using it.

Unfortunately, this allows the perfume balance to change so that when they do get around to using it, they might as well not bother.

True, good perfume shouldn't be used carelessly. But definitely—it should be used.

It should be used either with a spray or by direct application to pulse spots: inside wrists, elbows, throat, temples and behind the ears. The heat of the body keeps the scent alive.

If you want to take it traveling with you, see to it that the bottle is only three-quarters full to allow for air space. And never seal the bottle with nail polish since the alcohol in the perfume will melt the polish. Use wax instead. You can drip the wax onto the neck of the bottle from a candle.

To get rid of dark half moons under fingernails, use a well-soaped brush and warm-to-hot water.

$5,000 Burglary Case Still Puzzling Police

Waterford Township police still had little to go on today in a $5,000 burglary of an Elizabeth Lake road store believed to have occurred between Wednesday night and Thursday morning.

The money, which included $400 in change, was taken from a safe at Russ' Country Store, 4500 Elizabeth Lake Rd. The business is owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Russell Jackson.

Mrs. Jackson discovered the burglary Thursday. Investigation by Township police disclosed the safe had been pried open with a chisel and file. Entry to the store was gained by smashing through the back door, according to Capt. Millard Pender.

Chiefs Win 7th Beating Saginaw, 64-59; Skippers Nipped, 62-61

GUESS WHO SCORED?—It doesn't take much to figure out who scored, Pontiac or Saginaw, to make these PHS cheerleaders go flying upward. The standing room crowd did as much jumping as the cheerleaders in the last few minutes of the game last night when the Chiefs broke away from a one-point margin three times.

Ray Scores 26 Points in Key League Battle

By BRUNO L. KEARNS

The coveted basketball throne of the Saginaw Valley Conference is still five games away from having a ruler, but Pontiac High School has won the honor of being acclaimed the strongest challenger after adding Saginaw, 64-59, to its list of conference victims.

It was the 7th straight victory of the season and the 5th in league play for the Chiefs who have now beaten every team in the SVC in the first round of the home and home series.

★ ★ ★

The game itself was a crowd pleaser, and Saginaw made a valiant effort right up to the last 40 seconds when the score read 60-59 for Pontiac.

Both teams exchanged several hot scoring streaks which changed the complexion of the game in the matter of seconds.

With big Hud Ray, 6-foot-5 center ripping the cords for 26 points as well as taking 23 rebounds, the Chiefs started off by taking a 5-0 lead.

Saginaw hit its first marker after 3½ minutes and then rapidly took an 8-5 lead. With the score knotted at 20-20 early in the second quarter, Ray and Dave Diehm each connected twice and it was 28-20. At halftime it was 34-24.

The Chiefs widened the margin to 41-28 after two minutes of the 3rd period, but at 4:50 in the frame the Chiefs made it 43-31 and then did not score until after one minute of the 4th stanza.

Meanwhile Saginaw tied it at 43-43 in the 3rd period and even took a 45-43 lead to start the 4th quarter.

Dick Whitmer then dropped in four straight free throws and along with a pair of fielders by Ray, PHS was then back in a 54-47 lead.

But again the Trojans came back, and for the last two minutes they stayed within one point until Dave Simmons and Larry Peet hit a free throw each and Ray fired a basket at the gun to climax a wild finish.

The Chiefs had one of their best shooting nights of the year, connecting on 27 field goals in 63 attempts for a shooting percentage of 41 compared to Saginaw's 30 per cent on 20 fields in 67 tries.

Pontiac had 14 more points from the field but Saginaw connected on 19 of 23 free throws.

Ray had 12 field goals in 16 tries and two free throws to comprise his total. Three other baskets were nullified for Ray when traveling was called against him.

★ ★ ★

The Chiefs in losing wide leads several times did so when they attempted to play Saginaw's fast running game, but when they stuck close to their floor patterns in the waning moments they were able to score with easy layups.

Larry Peet back at his regular guard spot showed old form with his floor play, and another outstanding performance was turned in by Jim Skinner whose close checking held Saginaw's high scoring forward Deb Biondin to only two field goals. Biondin finished with 12 points.

In other conference games Arthur Hill surprised Flint Central 47-41 and Bay City took a double overtime victory from Flint Northern, 64-62.

Waterford Bows to Jays in I-L Cage Thriller

Farmington Can't Halt Vikings; Berkley Also Wins to Stay in Race

By BILL CORNWELL

Southfield won its first basketball game of the season last night, a 62-61 squeaker, but only after fighting off a desperate Waterford rally in a thrill-packed Inter-Lakes Conference battle at Waterford.

While the Bluejays were posting a mild upset, Walled Lake was extending its unbeaten string to seven games with a 61-52 decision over Farmington and Berkley was keeping in the thick of the Inter-Lakes title chase by disposing of Van Dyke 58-46.

Waterford jumped into a 21-17 1st quarter lead in the hectic, swift-moving struggle, but ice-cold 2nd and 3rd periods permitted the Jays to seize an advantage they never relinquished.

During Waterford's freezing interim, Southfield found the range and stormed into a 52-44 edge as the 4th period started.

Then the Skippers began their belated surge and a field goal by Chuck Gillis with less than two minutes remaining narrowed the gap to 58-57. But successive fielders by Tom Dobbertin and diminutive Ed Kennedy during a Southfield stall wrapped it up.

The rapidly improving Jays, who had waded through seven previous failures, listed four players in double-figured scoring with Mel Alldredge, Bill Maksimas and Dave Krause each getting 12 points. Dobbertin tossed in 11.

Three Skippers also reached two numerals with Gillis claiming the honors on 21 points. Jim Devine contributed 16 points, 10 from the foul stripe, and John Herrington added 13. It was Waterford's 3rd loss in four league efforts.

Walled Lake applied steady pressure in beating the Falcons. The Vikings had a 51-34 cushion entering the 4th quarter and just coasted home for their 4th I-L victory. Dean Hess stole the limelight for Walled Lake with 18 points while Farmington's Bud Jones grabbed game honors with 19.

Berkley was never pressed by the Abes. Jim Zalenski meshed 16 points for the Bears as they notched their 3rd conference win in four games. Bill Rzeszut pumped in 20 for Van Dyke.

St. Mary Can't Stop Ravens

Rams, Mikes Happy; Gloom for Eaglets

St. Frederick and St. Michael won Suburban Catholic League games handily last night in enemy territory, but Orchard Lake St. Mary muffed its big opportunity to capture the conference lead at Highland Park.

The Rams coasted to a 49-37 decision over weak St. Rita of Hazel Park and St. Mike sailed along just as easily to thump Ferndale St. James, 63-47.

Previously unbeaten St. Mary, meanwhile, was hitting a snag in the suburban Detroit gymnasium. St. Benedict kept a firm grip on the SCL lead by handing the Eaglets a 49-34 setback.

Seventeen St. Fred players saw action and eight of them scored as the Rams won their 6th game in eight attempts. Big Bill Mountain paced the attack with 16 points, including 10 free throws, and John Bradley turned in a sparkling performance.

Mike Young spearheaded St. Rita's listless offense with 18 counters, almost half of his team's total.

Southpaw Chuck Brown carried his shooting eye to Ferndale and fired 20 points as the Shamrocks bounced back into the victory column. Dan Dropps contributed 14 points to St. Mike's 5th win in seven tries.

The Mikes enjoyed a 29-18 halftime edge and just toyed with the opposition in the 2nd half. Ray Reiti netted 20 points for the Dales.

A disastrous 4th quarter spelled curtains for Orchard Lake. St. Benedict held only a 26-22 advantage at intermission and the Eaglets pulled even, 26-26, to open the 3rd period.

The Ravens exercised control ball tactics in the final period and outscored St. Mary by a 15-4 margin to decide the argument convincingly.

Pete Madelans scored 14 points for the Eaglets, who now own a 6-1 record. Center Larry Gacki tallied 15 points to lead the unbeaten Ravens to their 7th win.

HITS 40 — Dave Peters led Rochester to its 6th win in seven starts by bucketing 40 points as the Falcons whipped Fitzgerald, 74-55, on the Rochester court last night.

Peters' 40 Sets Falcon Record

Rochester Boasts 6-1 Slate After 74-55 Romp Over Fitzgerald

A new individual scoring record was established and Rochester added to its already impressive record as the Falcons handed Fitzgerald a 74-55 thrashing Friday night.

Dave Peters broke into the RHS record books by hitting 16 field goals and eight free throws for 40 points breaking the old mark of 37 set by Arlan Stone four years ago. He turned the trick by garnering at least seven in each period with 13 in the 3rd canto his best quarter.

Peters' big night enabled Rochester to lead all the way with ease in posting victory No. 6 in seven outings. There was little question of the final outcome with the score 43-23 at halftime. The difference got even higher before Coach Gene Konley emptied his bench.

Bloomfield Hills in 38-32 Loop Victory

The rapidly improving Bloomfield Hills hopsters copped their 2nd triumph in five Southeast Suburban League games and 3rd for the season with a 38-32 win over Country Day last night.

Bob Elston sparked a well-balanced scoring attack for the victors with 11 points with Dave Drury adding nine. Country Day's John Kingsepp took game honors with 14.

The Bloomfield gang dominated the contest from the opening whistle and led 21-15 at halftime. Country Day matched the locals the rest of the way.

Wilson Hits 36 in Lapeer Win

Tommy Wilson got back into high gear with a 36-point performance and two others hit double numbers as Lapeer romped to a 74-67 conquest of Romeo last night in a battle of area independents.

It was the 5th victory against three setbacks for the Panthers with Wilson having his 2nd best night of the season. He tallied 42 in a December contest.

Larry Thiemky and Dale Coller contributed 14 and 10, respectively, to the Lapeer offensive to overpower some excellent shooting by Romeo guards John Fowler and little Bill Redman. Both rung up 22 digits.

Lapeer opened with a 20-17 first quarter edge and kept increasing the margin until a last period rally by the losers sliced the final score. The Panthers held a 16-point lead early in the 2nd half. Romeo, is now 2-4.

Chief Matmen Shutout

Highly-ranked Lansing Sexton handed the inexperienced Pontiac Chiefs their 6th straight wrestling defeat in posting a 50-0 triumph at Lansing last night.

Top Unbeatens Rolling Along

Utica of the Bi-County league and Almont of the Southern Thumb continued their winning ways last night.

The Chieftans made it six straight with a 65-53 win over Lake Shore as Len Haase and Ken Thompson hit for 26 and 21 points respectively.

Almont was led by Tom Huff who had 21 in the absence of scoring ace Larry Kersten.

In other games Ferndale had little trouble beating Mt. Clemens in the EML, 68-43 and East Detroit rolled along dumping Port Huron, 61-54.

Royal Oak with three men in double figures led by Dave Richey's 17 nipped Fordson 56-54.

Avon Wins; Orion Fails at Troy

Troy was a whole lot closer to the Oakland B League basketball crown today, thanks to Roseville, and Avondale was a step higher in the standings after the smoke of battle cleared away Friday night.

Avondale's resurgent forces, looking better each time out, raced to a 59-48 victory over Clawson on the Avon court. The triumph, coupled with Madison's upset at the hands of Roseville, vaulted the Yellow Jackets into a 2nd place tie with the Eagles on a 4-2 record.

Troy brushed aside Lake Orion's challenge, 61-49, for its 6th consecutive win in the Oakland B circuit.

Roseville, the league doormat until now, rose up and surprised Madison, 64-53. The assist from the Wildcats gave Troy a two-game bulge over runners-up Avondale and Madison.

Clawson held a 19-18 lead over Avon entering the 2nd quarter, but could make only 12 points during the next periods while the Jackets were compiling 30. After that it was merely routine.

Balanced scoring again highlighted Avondale's attack. Four Jacket cagers hit double figures, headed by Steve Saunders and Jerry Hill with 14 points apiece. Clawson's Larry Dorr carted away the honors with 18.

Troy did not have an easy time with the invading Dragons. Orion led at the end of the 1st quarter, 14-10, and Troy's 2nd period rally left the Dragons trailing at intermission by only one point, 28-27. But the Colts pulled away in the 2nd half.

The Colts placed four players in double figures with Milo Varajon and Dick Booth showing the way on 12 points each. Nick Niera rang up 24 point for Orion, 10 at the foul line.

By CHUCK ABAIR

A Holly team that had led most of the way had to battle from behind in the waning four seconds to pull out a 58-57 Wayne-Oakland League triumph over a hard-fighting West Bloomfield High contingent at Keego Harbor last night.

Phil Valek, a newcomer in the Bronco lineup, tossed in a rebound following a missed shot just before the final buzzer ruining a gallant bid for an upset by the home club which played an outstanding final period despite the absence of center and scoring ace Rolf Gordhammer.

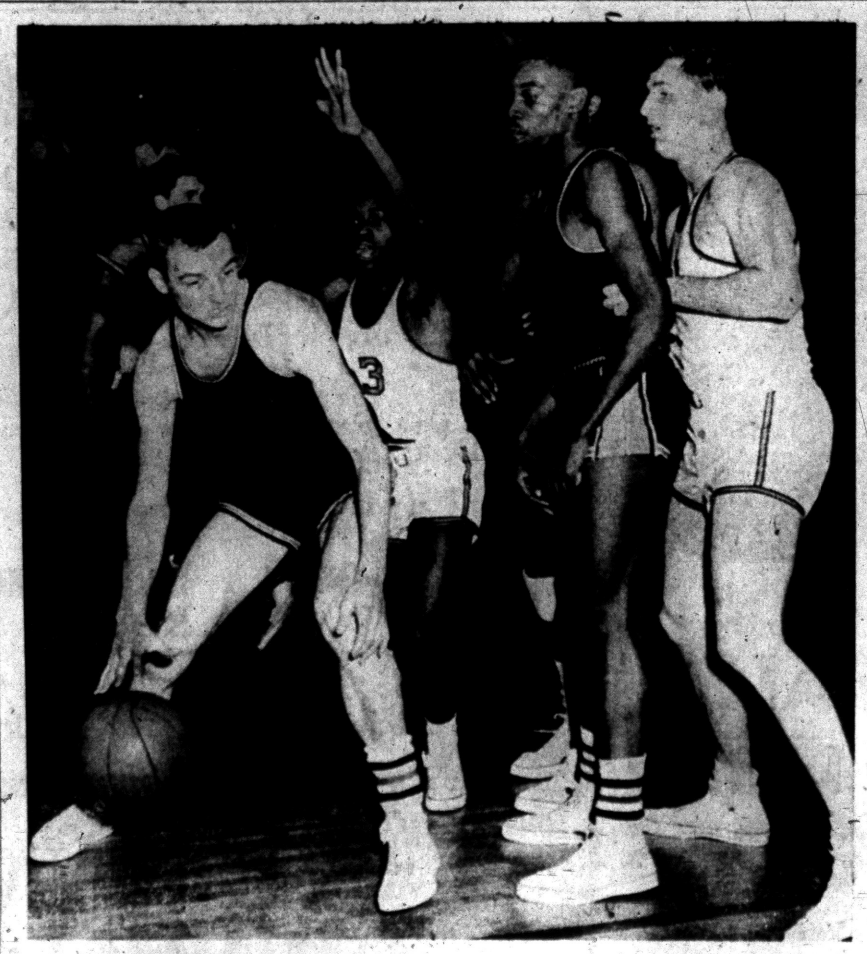

In other loop tilts, Northville held onto its perch atop the standings by tripping its chief threat, Clarkston, 43-37, and Milford came out on top for the first time this season upending Clarenceville, 58-54.

West Bloomfield appeared to have its second W-O victory in the bag with a one-point advantage and possession of the ball with only 16 seconds remaining. But a foul broke up the freeze and the ensuing missed charity toss gave Holly the break it needed to clinch the verdict.

Gordhammer fouled out with 10 minutes to play after scoring 18 points and rebounding well against the big Bronco quintet.

Clarkston played bigger Northville on even terms for two quarters only to fall behind by eight in the 3rd canto and never recover. George Lang topped the Wolves with 13, while Bill Yahne hooped 15 for the leaders.

Milford ended its loss string at six as Pat Kelly tallied 21 and Frank Redmond 16. Larry Andrews rung up 29 for Clarenceville.

Oxford Ends Win Famine

Victory finally came in Oxford's direction and Imlay City repulsed the threat of Millington in South Central Conference basketball games of contrasting objectives Friday night.

Oxford and Ortonville met on the Oxford court in an effort to get out of the league basement and the Wildcats succeeded by chalking up a 57-43 triumph.

Imlay collided with invading Millington in a struggle for 1st place and the undefeated Spartans registered their 3rd league win and 8th overall, 63-55.

Carl Roland meshed 18 points to spark Oxford to its 1st victory of the season. The Wildcats jumped into a 16-8 1st quarter lead and were never headed. Bob Hutchings topped Ortonville, also with 18 points.

Larry Dorow poured in 28 points for Imlay, which led all the way. George Kish collected 19 counters for the Cardinals.

Cranes Lose 8 Wrestlers for Rule Infraction

Cranbrook school's mat squad was dealt a real body blow yesterday just before its schedule match at Hazel Park. Because of a holiday infraction of training rules eight squadmen were dropped, according to coach Bill Stapp.

"They just found out about it yesterday," Stapp reported. "It sure hit us hard as among the boys we lost were our best heavyweight, and at least three others of our leading performers."

Cranes won only three matches, bowing to Parkers 31-9.

Rawls in Front for Tampa Test

Defending Champ's 73 Gives Her 2 Strokes Lead in 3rd Round

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The old pros are in another close scramble in the $5,000 Tampa Women's Open golf tournament, and defending champion Betsy Rawls is two strokes to the good starting today's third round.

Miss Rawls shot 73 yesterday. She was the only player to match par for the 6,066-yard Palma Ceia course in the face of unpredictable winds and biting cold. That gave her 148 at the halfway point in the 72-hole event.

Tied for second at 150 were Louise Suggs and Patty Berg. They shot 75s each day.

These three veterans have won five of the 10 times this tournament has been played.

Trailing the top three were Kathy Cornelius and Betty Dodd, tied at 153, and Marlene Hagge, 155.

Fay Crocker, first round leader with 72, started poorly and never got back on her game yesterday. She took 84 for a 156, to tie with Marilyn Smith and Betty Jameson, another former Tampa Open champion.

Low amateur for the second straight day was St. Petersburg's Betty Kerby with 79-83——162.

Ruling Upholds Lions Contract With Dublinski

Detroit Club Awarded Damages of $6,950 in Canadian Suit

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Commissioner Bert Bell of the National Football League today described a Canadian court decision upholding a Detroit player contract as "precedent setting" and said it means an end to player raids across the border.

★ ★ ★

The Ontario court of appeals in Toronto yesterday ruled in favor of Detroit, which had brought a breach-of-contract action against quarterback Tom Dublinski. The Lions were awarded $6,950 in damages.

Dublinski, an understudy to Detroit's Bobby Layne in the 1954 season, joined the Toronto Argonauts of the Big Four Football Union in 1955.

The Lions claimed his contract, which ran until May 1, 1955, carried an option clause which the club said it exercised in March, 1955.

The Lions asked for $10,000 damages, the amount the club had to pay Washington for Harry Gilmer, a quarterback substitute for Dublinski.

The action was dismissed by the Supreme Court of Ontario last July, Chief Justice McRuer ruling that the so-called option clause merely gave the right to Detroit to renew Dublinski's contract and was not an option in itself.

In a 20-page judgment yesterday, the court of appeals said evidence showed Dublinski "was rightly regarded as a star player and would be a valuable asset to any professional football team in the NFL. The loss of his services for the 1955 season was a serious matter for the plaintiff."

Bell said this was the first time a Canadian court has upheld an NFL player contract.

He said it clarifies the situation between pro football teams in the two countries and would "eliminate raiding."

The decision, he said, will discourage not only the players, but also the clubs from conducting raids to obtain top player talent presumably already signed to play on either side of the border.

★ ★ ★

Bell said U.S. courts have upheld the Canadian clubs when they sought to prevent U.S. teams from signing Canadian owned talent, but heretofore NFL owners have been unable to obtain the same legal relief in Canada.

Retirement Appears Certain

Terry Sawchuk Relaxes at Home

DETROIT (AP) — Terry Sawchuk finally had a chance to relax with his family today, and from all outward appearances he'll remain an ex-hockey player.

The 27-year-old Sawchuk, who surprised the hockey world by quitting at the peak of a brilliant career that was stretching across its 10th season, appeared to have everything in order for his retirement except a formal announcement.

That is expected to come Monday noon at a press conference at the suburban home of the Boston Bruin goaltender, who three times in six seasons has been named the outstanding goalie in the National Hockey League.

For the first time since he announced his retirement in Boston Tuesday, Sawchuk didn't appear to be angry at anybody when he was featured last night on a Canadian network television program originating from his home. He wrapped up his hockey plans this way:

"It wasn't an overnight thought. I'll have a statement on Monday. I know it's not fair to the people in hockey and the fans, but it's just got to be that way."

Sawchuk was relaxed and smiling as the television crews maneuvered heavy equipment around his new home. "He couldn't have been nicer," said one member of the crew.

But the veteran goalie has been a man of many moods since he announced he was "fed up" with hockey on Tuesday. The Boston club suspended him, and Sawchuk disappeared for two days. He had verbal battles with newsmen at both ends of the line, boarding a train in Boston Thursday afternoon and arriving in Detroit yesterday.

Finally he talked with newsmen in Detroit for a few moments. His NHL career both in Detroit and Boston, his bout earlier this season with the blood disease mononucleosis, his relations with the Bruins organization — all these drew comments from Sawchuk. Still no real explanation for his sudden exit from the sport he has loved since his boyhood days in Winnipeg.

★ ★ ★

"Just be a little patient," he said. "Give me a couple of days to think things over. I'll see you Monday and we'll get this thing straightened out."

Houston Names Lahar

Coaching Jobs Aplenty

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The East became the center of football speculation today as Colgate's Athletic Council went into action to seek a successor to ambitious and successful young Hal Lahar, who compiled a 24-17-4 record in five seasons at Colgate—his first head coaching post—resigned yesterday to take the job as head coach at the University of Houston.

★ ★ ★

The move had far-reaching effects. Iowa State College, which had listed him as one of its two top prospects, promptly selected the other, UCLA line coach Jim Myers.

Syracuse, where Floyd (Ben) Schwartzwalder has been showing signs of restlessness, began to wonder if its upstate New York football rivalry with Colgate would spread into the coach-hiring field and other Eastern colleges with coaching vacancies began to wonder about their chances of getting a top-rank man.

★ ★ ★

At this stage seven major college coaching vacancies exist — three in the East. Harvard dropped veteran Lloyd Jordan last week, a move which drew an angry reaction at the American Football Coaches Assn. meeting, and the only candidate who has been mentioned prominently is backfield coach Harold (Josh) Williams. There apparently is no outstanding candidate for the Boston University job, which Buff Donelli vacated to go to Columbia.

Other vacancies exist at the University of Washington and Southern California on the Pacific Coast—one of which Schwartzwalder apparently is considering—Arizona and Indiana.

★ ★ ★

After meeting with the Syracuse athletic board Thursday, Schwartzwalder held off signing a new contract until he could talk to officials of the unidentified Pacific Coast Conference institution.

Trojans Win Over Pontiac Swimmers

PHS swimming Chiefs did well in spots, in last night's Valley tank meet at Saginaw High, but lacked depth to combat the overall strength of the Trojans. Chiefs took three firsts, two by captain Dennis Simonson, but bowed 65-31, for their 4th SVC loss. Win was the 3rd for Trojans, against two loop defeats. Meet ended Jim Cornforth's eligibility.

One pool record was set.

Arthur Hill defeated Flint Central in a battle for top spot, leaving the 'Jacks with a 5-win undefeated mark. Indians stand at 4-1.

Trojans' Moe Davis shattered the Saginaw pool mark for the 100-yard orthodox breaststroke, with a 1:11.9 time for the only highlighted performance.

Pontiac won the 100-yard breaststroke and the individual medley, both by Simonson, and then wound up with a win in the freestyle relay.

Final NFL Draft Round on Jan. 31

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The National Football League will open its annual meeting here Jan. 31 with the final 26 rounds of the player draft.

The first four rounds of the draft and the bonus pick were held in November. The pro owners also will discuss constitutional amendments, rule changes and submit annual reports.

Weekend Expected Light for Fishing

LANSING (AP) — Ice fishing pressure is expected to be light this weekend because of cold weather although some fair catches are being taken with smelt especially good, the State Conservation Department reported today.

The report by species:

SMELT — Good at Portage Lake at Onekama and picking up on Lake Charlevoix with best fishing in the south arm of the lake.

PERCH — Fair at Lake Charlevoix, also at Crooked and Pickerel Lakes, Emmet County; Burt Lake, Cheboygan County, and Houghton Lake, Roscommon County.

BLUEGILLS — Fair at Crooked and Pickerel Lakes, Emmet County, and Stoney Lake, Oceana County.

PIKE — Fair throughout the region.

Gophers Victors in Puck Brawl

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A free-for-all brawl that ended with officials clearing the ice of both starting teams marked Minnesota's 7-3 Western Intercollegiate League hockey victory over Michigan Tech last night.

An extra period had to be called because neither camp had enough men suited up to continue after the mass penalties. It was believed the first time in collegiate hockey that penalties have cleared the ice.

The tumult came late in the second period.

Bob Turk had made the score 3-2 for Minnesota and a flurry of high-sticking broke out behind the Michigan Tech goal.

Before officials could reach the scene, all 12 players were having at each other. Jack McCartan, Minnesota goalie skated the length of the rink to get in the act.

It took three policemen, besides the two officials, to break up the melee.

Newcomer Leads in Caliente Open

TIJUANA, Mexico (AP)—Newcomer Paul Harney of Bolton, Mass., found himself in a new and unfamiliar role as the pace setter going in to the third round of the $15,000 Caliente Open golf tournament today.

Wally Burkemo of Franklin Mich., fired a 68 to give him 141, to tie with Mike Souchak. Another Michigan pro, young Gene Bone of Pontiac, had 72 for 142, to share a spot with Art Wall.

The 27-year-old professional who in two experiences on golf's winter tournament trail has had his moments but never one at this strategic phase of a major event, boasted rounds of 70-65 and a 36-hole total of 135.

He was the leader, but in a precarious position, for just one stroke back was Doug Ford, already the winner of two tournaments this year, in Los Angeles and Panama. And tied with Ford was Al Besselink, no mean threat himself. Each had scores of 69-67—136, a margin too close for comfort for Harney.

★ ★ ★

The wager minded in this border town, where gambling is not only legal but a tourist magnet, quoted Ford as the man most likely to succeed for this round, at odds of 10-1, and to go on and win the $2,000 first prize, at odds of 3-1.

Harney was 35-1 for today's round and 30-1 to win the 72-hole event when it winds up Sunday.

Four strokes behind Harney were other serious challengers, former United Staes Open champoins Ed Furgol and Julius Boros; Harry Weetman of England and Billy Casper Jr., who is quite familiar with the Tijuana Country club course.

Casper shot a 65 here last fall, as did Mike Souchak as he proceeded to win this tournament a year ago. So yesterday's 65 made Harney co-holder of the course competitive record.

Souchak was six strokes off the pace with 68-73—141. In 1956 at this same point Mike held a three-stroke lead. Tommy Bolt also had 141, with rounds of 71-70.

Art Wall, 72-20—142, and the 143 group that listed Jay Hebert, Jack Burke and Dow Finsterwald, were farther back.

BC Has 5 in Gloves Test

At least five Pontiac boys will see action in the forthcoming Detroit Golden Gloves tournament elimination events.

Boys' Club has selected a 5-man team that includes a pair of light - heavyweights, a welterweight and a set of two lightweights. The group is working out regularly under the direction of coach Jack Kudray who says he's been very much impressed with ability of his charges. The 135-pounders, particularly, rate well up, says Kudray.

The quintet, picked from a group of some 30 boys comprising the club's boxing squad, includes Dave Blower, 19, and 17-year-old Don Cole, both in the 175-pound class; Dick McDonald, a 147-pounder, 17-years-old, and Dick Comptom and Larry Cosgrove, both 16, the 135-pounders.

All these boys, in Kudray's opinion, could go a long way in the novice division. Pairings and dates for their opening bouts in Detroit will be announced shortly.

Native Scot Reads Burns to High School Students

By JAN HAYHOW

The day that Scotland's famous poet, Robert Burns, comes to life to Pontiac High School students is the annual day when Alexander Aitken puts aside his duties as head custodian at Pontiac High, and steps into the English class.

English teachers at PHS know that when it comes time to study Burns and his difficult native dialects, it's time to call on Aitken, a fellow countryman of the great poet.

The Scottish burr and many strange words take on a new meaning to the students when Aitken begins to read.

Aitken says modestly that he's no authority where Burns is concerned. He just likes him. He says he could qualify to criticize the composer of verse, at least by the qualifications of an old Scottish saying which states that only true Scotsmen can criticize Burns.

Aitken, who came to the United States in 1921 and Pontiac in 1926, says that every young Scottish boy and girl is exposed thoroughly to this poet of their people. Oral reading is required all through school.

Of all the Burns' poems Aitken reads to the students, his favorite is "To A Louse," the rather fanciful thoughts that Burns put into verse when he saw a louse crawling on a well-dressed woman's head. Oft quote lines of the poem are common in America today.

"Oh wad some power the giftie gie us
To see ourselves as others see us."

And just to keep the classroom interesting and lively as all good teachers know, Aitken always slips in human interest stories about the poet, explains the difficult passages and has one or two stories concerning the renowned thriftiness of his people to tell the students.

Aitken has been with the Pontiac High School Operations Department since 1930 and has been reading the words of Burns off and on for 20 of those years.

He lives with his family at 146 Palmer St. He and his wife visited their native Scotland in 1936, but have no great yearn to live there again. "This is home now," says Aitken.

Cliffords Settled in Ottawa Drive Home

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

When we made the appointment to take pictures of this week's home, we must have anticipated the recent snowstorm. Instead of having to plow through snowy roads somewhere out in the county, we stayed right in town, on Ottawa Drive.

There are so few vacant lots left on this street that any new house stands out. We had watched number 304 being readied for its first occupants and were glad when curtains went up, signifying a family had moved in. As always, we gave them some time to get settled before we intruded with our camera and our notebook.

Former Flint residents, the William G. Cliffords moved here from Cincinnati when Mr. Clifford was transferred back to Michigan. So, although they are new residents, they are not complete strangers. And—please note—they much prefer Michigan's icy blasts to southern Ohio's damp winters. (Ohio papers, do not copy.)

Nine-year-old Nancy and fourteen - year - old Laura started school here in September and by now are well acquainted. Mac—short for Cliffords' Black MacTavish—the Scottie, is confined to the fenced back yard. Anyway, he was not available for comment. He's wary of strangers.

From the outside this neat red brick home with its white trim and the white board and batten porch looks small and compact. Compact it may be, but inside there are four rooms on the first floor, two on the second, with a basement under the entire house. And for once in her life, says Mrs. Clifford, she has enough closet space.

The stairs go steeply up from the front hall. The hall itself is linoleum floored, while the stairs have the same carpet as that in the living room. The stair rail and newel are natural finish birch. Walls are gray.

The living room with dining space at the rear extends the length of the house. The carpeting is brown and aqua tweed. The walls are gray and borrow a deep warmth from the curtains. Those are white with cinnamon, brown, orange and chartreuse figures. On the unbroken north wall there is a red brick fireplace, a contemporary one, with slate hearth. Fittings and the screen are brass.

Next to the fireplace is a small spinet piano. The sofa is covered in green with a small red figure. One chair has the same upholstery, only with a beige background. Two other upholstered chairs also have beige figured upholstery. Tables are mahogany.

In the dining area the furniture is again mahogany. It includes a drop leaf table and a buffet. Chairs seats are striped in wine and gray. Mrs. Clifford keeps an antique caster set on the table.

COMING UP — Teenage Laura Clifford climbs the stairs to her room where she can listen to her favorite Elvis Presley records. She and her younger sister, Nancy, share the second floor of their new home. The stairs are carpeted in tweed carpeting in aqua and brown shades. The rails and newel post of the stairs are natural finish birch.

BRIGHT CURTAINS — These draperies have an unusual effect on the color of the living room walls, making them almost beige instead of the gray they are painted. The stonework of the contemporary fireplace extends to the ceiling. Nancy Clifford poses at the piano where she spends time daily in practice. The large chair at the right is covered with the same material as the sofa, only in a different color.

MASTER BEDROOM — In this mirror shot of the Cliffords' bedroom we see the twin beds and the colorful chintz curtains. The walls in this room are pale blue. Furniture is Kling maple. There is a bright red cotton rug on the floor.

NANCY'S ROOM — Windows on the south and west make this bedroom with its sloping ceiling a bright one. The sheer curtains have threads of gold running through them. Nancy has a fiber rug on her floor, one combining shades of green, yellow and brown. Her bedspread and dust ruffle match the green walls. Nancy's doll collection can be seen on the bed in the corner.

Designer Plugs for Annual Show of Furnishings

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—A furniture designer today proposed an annual national furniture style show—open to the public—to "clinch this city's position as the 'furniture style capital.'"

Renzo R. Rutili, for 24 years a designer with the Johnson Furniture Co., said new designs and styles could be shown without prices "to test public reaction before the furniture ever reaches retail floors."

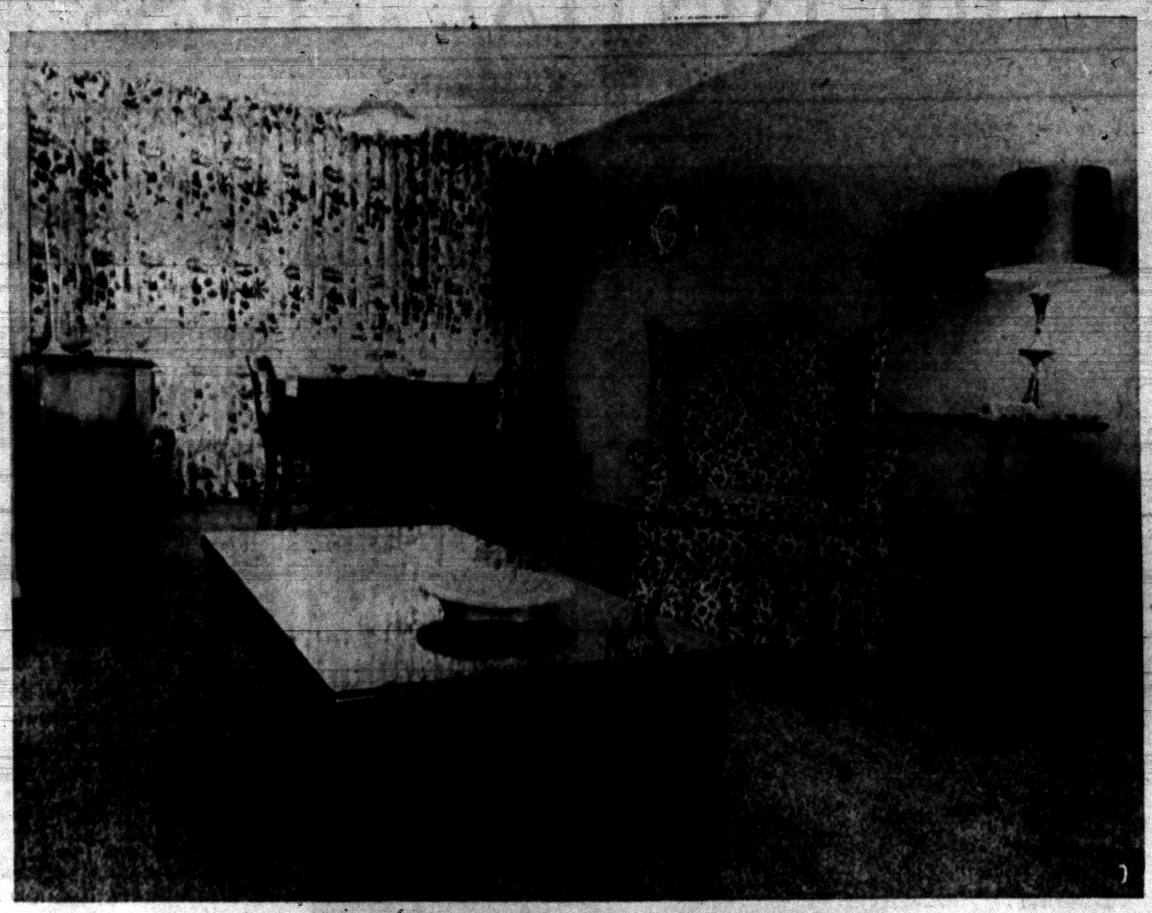

The city's furniture markets, such as the current 158th semi-annual market, are aimed at commercial buyers.

Rutili said he has pondered a public style show for some time.

"The idea came to a head when I was visiting the automobile show the other evening and saw thousands of people viewing cars that they see every day on the streets. I wondered why the public would not respond to a show of new furniture styles they never had seen before . . ."

He believed a furniture style center building should be erected in Grand Rapids for an annual presentation of new styles and designs.

"Once established," he declared, "this show would draw people from all over the country . . . such a project would clinch this city's position as the furniture style capital."

Building A-Reactor in East Germany

BERLIN (AP)—Communist East Germany said today it has begun construction for its first atomic reactor.

Neues Deutschland, the official Communist party organ, reported several Soviet experts are helping with the work, in Dresden. The newspaper said the parts for the reactor were supplied by the Soviet Union.

A Soviet physicist told a meeting in Dresden Aug. 31, 1955, that the Soviet Union would supply East Germany a Russian-made atomic reactor during 1956. He said it would turn out all isotopes required for industrial purposes.

chair seats. Curtains and the tablecloth are a gold color print with recipes on them.

The master bedroom on the first floor has pale blue walls and a white ceiling. The twin beds have gray leather headboards and white spreads. In bright contrast the rug is a brilliant red. Chests and the mirror are Kling maple. Curtains are chintz.

In the den the walls are peach, the curtains tan with a gold thread. Here Mrs. Clifford has used a brown fiber rug. This is a room for guests, for relaxing with a book or for viewing television.

The full bath on the ground floor is gray in varying shades. A narrow vanity is built next to the basin with cupboards below. Curtains are bright blue.

Upstairs the bath has sand color tile and sand walls. There is a long vanity with a big mirror back of the door—just the place for two young daughters to do their primping. The curtains are beige and brown with a bright print.

"Elvis lives here" might be the motto over the entrance to the curtains. Laura has big closeverywhere, even pinned all over the curtains. Laur ahas big closets with sliding doors in her pale yellow room. Her bed has a blue leather headboard and a blue cotton spread. The dressing table has a glass top and a full cotton skirt. The rug is a fiber one.

Nancy's room on the south side of the house is bright and sunny. It is a green room, from the fiber rug to the walls and the bed coverings. In one corner is a studio couch for guests. At present it's inhabited by Nancy's dolls, nine in number. Her curtains are sheer white with a gold stripe. The bed table and chest of drawers are maple.

Building Products Display Opens in Chicago Jan. 20

CHICAGO, Ill. — The world's largest display of building products—to be held in Chicago January 20-24—is expected to attract a record crowd of more than 30,000 home builders and representatives of allied industries to the 13th annual Convention-Exposition of the National Association of Home Builders.

According to Paul S. Van Auken, convention-exposition director, the huge exposition, totaling 778 display spaces, will occupy the combined facilities of three of Chicago's largest convention centers—plus a barge in the Chicago river. A completely furnished 3-bedroom model home will be displayed on a barge located just north of Chicago's "loop."

★ ★ ★

In a single exhibit area of 40 exhibit spaces, builders will see a glamorous array of 1957 "dream" kitchens and the latest in appliances. Air conditioning equipment, lumber and millwork and power tools are among other product classifications that will occupy large segments of the quarter-million square feet of space used for exposition purposes.

More than 440 leading manufacturers of building materials and home equipment will participate in the spectacular showing, and many of them will be introducing new products.

In more than one hundred separate convention meetings, the buildings will tackle such perennial industry problems as financing, more efficient construction methods, merchandising and methods of providing such vital facilities as schools and sewage systems for the new community.

Many special program features will be devoted to the problems of the smaller "one-to-twenty" home builder.

Throughout the five-day meeting, manufacturers will conduct dozens of demonstrations to show the builders better and more efficient methods of using the new materials available for 1957 homes. Associations of various manufacturing groups will cooperate in staging full-scale demonstrations of important technical developments.

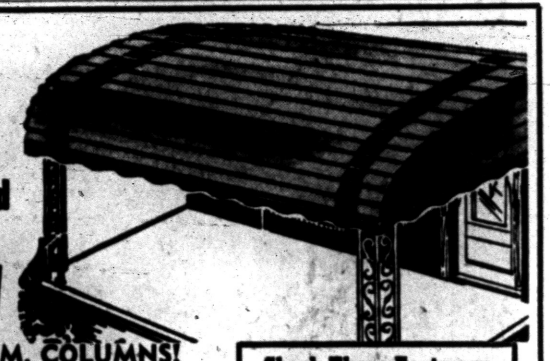

In addition to helping solve the many pressing problems of their industry today, the builders will also take an informative look into such long-range developments as the soaring population rate, the new $33 billion highway program, the peaceful applications of atomic power and other events that will affect the home building industry in the future. Among the many nationally recognized authorities who will address the convention on "the targets for tomorrow" theme will be Dr. Ralph E. Lapp, noted nuclear physicist and author, and Pyke Johnson, chief consultant to President Eisenhower's highway advisory committee.

Umbrella Stands Alone

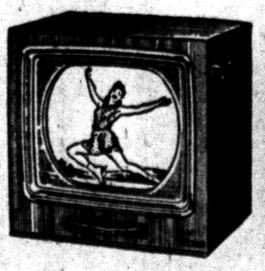

Few homes are equipped with umbrella stands these days, yet umbrellas themselves haven't gone out of style. Cut several two inch holes in a piece of hardboard shaped to fit the top of a galvanized steel pail.

Paint the pail to match the decor of the front entryway. The leakproof pail will prevent water stains on carpeting and streaks on floors from wet umbrellas.

NEW BRANCH BANK—The Bloomfield Hills branch of Community National Bank opened for business this week, with the official opening scheduled for Jan. 25. This view of the new building shows the tellers cages in the rear and the sit-down tellers' desk this side of them. Railings are made of aluminite. Walls have a wainscoting of burnt oak with a painted surface to match above. The floor is carpeted throughout the main part of the building. In the basement there is a ladies' lounge. Dawson Baer is manager of the new branch.

Community National Bank Opens Bloomfield Branch

The Bloomfield Hills Branch of Community National Bank opened for business this week, although the official opening is not scheduled until Friday, January 25.

Located on West Long Lake road just west of Woodward, the brick, steel and glass building has a style new in bank buildings. The architect, Erwin L. Broecker, AIA of Detroit, specializes in bank design.

In addition to the entrance on Long Lake road there also is an entrance from the parking lot. The drive-in window is located at one side near the rear of the building.

Large areas of glass distinguish this building from most of Community National's other branches. There are floor-to-ceiling windows as part of each of the four walls. Some of these already have sand color draperies to shut out the sun. tained eventually.

SECTIONED BY RAILINGS

Aluminite railings set off the lobby from the manager's desk and the sit-down tellers. The latter are an innovation in this branch. Three tllers have desks at which they can transact any form of bank business for clients who prefer not to stand at the regular tellers' windows. Dawson Baer, branch manager, says all have the latest teller machines.

The entire first floor is covered with a textured carpet that combines rose and a rose and brown tweed mixture. The floor in the lower level is tiled in beige, brown and gray.

Walls in the main bank are sand colored. The lower part and the wall around the vault are paneled in burnt oak. The rest of the walls are painted to match.

LEDGEROCK WALL

In addition to rhe regular vault and lock boxes in the basement, there are a few lock boxes on the first floor. The wall between the upstairs vault and the stairs is made of Tennessee ledgerock. A star-spray light fixture hangs over the stairway.

There is a waiting room at the foot of the stairs and a ladies' lounge in a separate room. This latter room has black chairs and sofa with cushions of turquoise, aqua and rose. The eight employes have their own lounge and lunch room in the rear.

Besides the cubicles for lock box patrons, there is a conference room in the basement. A storage room will also be used for the printing of checks for all the branch banks.

★ ★ ★

The lighting in the main part of the bank is unusual. Over the tellers' cages are the usual lights set flush with the ceiling. But over the front of this area the ceiling is made of a soft plastic in a corrugated pattern. The bulbs are hidden and the light is soft and diffused.

The Bloomfield Hills bank was started last spring. Schurrer Construction Company of Pontiac did the building.

Heavy Vote Victorious for Heavy Squad Cars

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—Brown County Sheriff-elect Artley Skenandore told the County Board he would like 10 new squad cars—a heavier type than those now in use

"I noticed," Skenandore said, "that about 75 per cent of your heavier type automobiles as you parked in the courthouse yard. I believe each of you is looking for economy.'

Purchase of 10 heavier squad cars was approved, 44-6.

Fact Is Plane Amazing

NEW YORK—One large modern American air transport carries enough fuel on one flight to furnish a passenger automobile with gasoline sufficient to drive it more than 160,000 miles.

Some Like It Piping Hot

It is estimated that the average home used 80 per cent more hot water than cold. We take hot water for granted. We expect at the turn of a faucet to get hot water instantly in the right amounts and at the right temperature.

Check the Plans Before Building

Informative literature published by manufacturers of everything from ceramic tile to mercury light switches has helped acquaint many laymen with building materials.

There remain, however, vast areas of ignorance in the fundamental steps of planning and building a home. The first step is to obtain plans and specifications.

The two main sources of plans and specifications are architects and plan service agencies. Whichever source is chosen, a preliminary step should be to establish your needs—number of rooms, size, type, location—and match them with your funds.

Advantages of engaging an architect include assurance of complete and accurate drawings and specifications and a home designed for your individual family. Before deciding on an architect, discuss him with previous clients and compare his designs with your own tastes.

Stock plans prepared by plan service agencies are sold by publications and are available from building material dealers. Caution: although many such plans are drawn by qualified architects, some are inferior in design and incomplete in specifications.

In the event changes are made in stock plans, they must be cleared with the contractor before revisions can be incorporated in the contract.

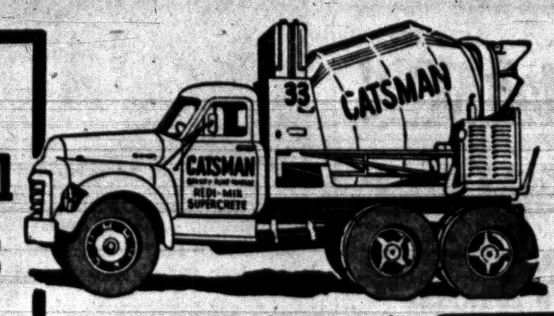

Changes also are problematical in building a prefabricated house, another form of stock plans. In selecting a prefab, check on type of construction and conformance to building codes. Easily overlooked but quite pertinent, too, is the matter of material and equipment no furnished with the prefab house—steps, foundation, etc.

Furniture designers are stressing rich natural colors, grain and figure of the various hardwoods, emphasizing the interesting variations that five fine woods their distinctive air. Because of the fine woods and the natural finishes, both the new elegant modern and the frankly transitional designs blend well with contemporary or traditional settings or furniture.

LONG AND LOW — Long, low and smart, this house features brick veneer, vertical siding and ornamental ironwork. There is a permanent masonry planter at the corner of the house as well as redwood flower boxes under other front windows.

2-Purpose Room Is Smart, Useful, Easy to Decorate

A happy solution to the family room-dining room controversy is featured in Design HW-34 for The House of The Week.

So many people favor either the one room or the other that it is difficult to satisfy everybody without getting a house too big for popular appeal.

This plan gives you one smartly placed room where it can serve either as a spacious and cheerful family room, or as a beautifully proportioned dining room, or as both.

Mixing the two purposes of this room, while still meeting a woman's most exacting demands in decor, is entirely feasible because of the many new developments in vinyl fabrics, as well as wall coverings that are luxurious but serviceable.

The importance of a plan of this type is that it appeals to the greatest number of families. This insures a sound investment. You get not only a house to fit your family, but also one that will satisfy others and therefore have a good mortgage or resale value.

★ ★ ★

Keyed throughout to modern living requirements, this house has been designed by Petersen & Ebbert, Detroit architects, to fill the following prevailing demands:

(1) All rooms are on one floor—the ranch style still holding the lead.

(2) Three bedrooms make this home ample for an average family with boys and girls. This is vital to value.

(3) More than one bathroom. Since bathroom construction is costly, maximum facilities are provided economically with twin lavatories in a long vanity counter in the main bathroom, while a shower stall is used in the master bedroom's private bath.

(4) A large living room is invariably preferred. Here it is almost 20 feet square.

(5) A two-car garage. This is a prudent investment, costing far less at the time of building a house than when it is added or enlarged later. Even for one-car occupancy, a garage of this size adds value with the space it provides for storage of garden tools, lawn furniture, bicycles and sleds.

(6) Center hall traffic control preventing passage through rooms. The L-shaped hall in this plan channels traffic directly to any desired area.

(7) Generous closet space. The use of sliding doors provides maximum use of large closets in all the bedrooms. Two coat closets and two linen closets open from the hall. Each bathroom has a towel closet. A broom closet for the vacuum cleaner is centrally located.

(8) Informal dining space in the kitchen. The entire front end of this room, under the large front windows, is available for table space.

(9) Optional basementless construction. The stairway space, adjacent to the chimney, is readily convertible to a heating or air conditioning room.

(10) A smartly designed exterior. Here the architects suggest a combination of brick veneer, 12-in V-cut boards and bevel siding or shingles topped by a roof of colored asphalt shingles.

★ ★ ★

A corner fireplace in the living room is an attractive detail. This fireplace is set flush in a floor-to-ceiling ledge stone chimney block. Its corner location leaves three unbroken walls for furniture placement. A garden-view window wall in this room is more than 15 feet wide and is equipped with bottom vents for draftless ventilation. Steel casement windows are specified throughout the house.

A fluted glass panel next to the front door, ornamental ironwork at the corner of the entrance porch, a permanent masonry planter at the corner of the huse and a long redwood flower box under the family room and kitchen windows are among decorative details.

Adapted to Basement, Crawl Space on Slab

If you want to build without a basement, you do not have to pass up the big advantages of Design HW-34. This house can be built over a crawl space or on a concrete slab.

Space for the cellar stairs, shown on this plan, can be used for a heater or air conditioning room, or a modern horizontal heating plant can be accommodated in a small crawl space adjacent the chimney, in the garage or in the attic.

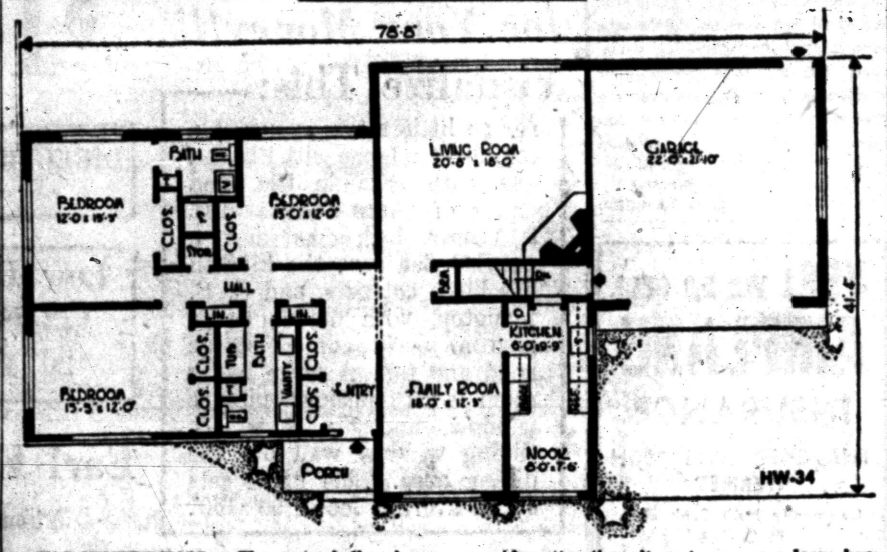

The garage is large enough for laundry equipment and extra storage space, or can be enlarged further at a fraction of basement cost.

Estimate Costs by List of Materials Included

The architects for Design HW-34 estimate that this house may be built in the metropolitan Detroit area for approximately $28,000.

To estimate local building costs, take a study plan for this house to a builder of homes of similar size. The study plan includes a summarized material list.

This house covers 1,915 square feet. The garage adds 531 square feet. If built over a basement, the house will contain 37,821 cubic feet.

HAS CENTER HALL — The center hall makes this plan a model for circulation. Family room provides attractive alternate use as a large hospitable dining room. Note good size of all rooms.

Scraps Can Start Fire

Scraps of wood from the basement or garage workbench can cause a disastrous fire if carelessly left lying about. Oily or paint-covered rags also can cause a fire. Prevent spontaneous combustion by storing these flammable ites in a covered galvanized steel garbage can placed near the workbench.

Farmers with sudan grass experience say grazing can start when the sudan is 18 inches tall. Graze it down to six to 10 inches and then remove the animals to permit the sudan to recover to 19 inches before grazing again, they advise.

Hoarders of Soft Water Give Way to New System

Soft water was a carefully hoarded and precious commodity in the days when the only source was a rain barrel outside the back door, or a cistern to catch run-off water from the roof.

Now families everywhere can enjoy the convenience of soft water flowing from all faucets in the home, the Water Conditioning Foundation states.

A household water softener installed at the point of intake will remove all hardness before city water enters the house piping system.

Softeners compare favorably in price with other household appliances. They are economical and virtually trouble-free in operation.

SAVES MONEY

Completely softened water is both a convenience and a money-saver in the home.

Soft water saves costly plumbing repairs and maintenance, because the piping system doesn't fill up with choking scale. Water heater bills are lower, because there is no scale barrier in the water heater tank to keep heat from getting through.

Clothing, sheets and towels laundered in soft water last 25 per cent longer, on the average than would be the case if they were washed in hard water. Soap scum formation in hard water leaves a deposit which progressively weakens textile fibres. Another advantage of soft water for the laundry — clothes look cleaner, feel softer.

★ ★ ★

Soft water saves time in all cleaning chores around the house. There is no extra wiping required to get rid of residual, dulling film on woodwork, painted surfaces, china, silverware and glassware. In terms of efficiency and convenience, soft water may make as much difference as replacing the broom with a vacuum cleaner.

Soft water will save the average family of four about $125 yearly. At this rate, the cosr of a water softener is self-liquidating in short

---

Putting bathtub and toilet in separate enclosures would permit four to use the facilities of a bathroom with twin lavatories simultaneously.

By Realtor Partridge

Being in business gives us an opportunity to meet a lot of nice people. We talk a little . . . joke a little . . . listen a little. And by and by we find our viewpoint broadening and maybe our opinions changing until it becomes a little confusing.

They say the best way to straighten things out in your mind is to jot them down. So before we become too confused, we want to get on record and give our friends and customers a crack at our opinions. In fact, we're going to appear in this column every week and try to come up with some pertinent remarks . . . sometimes witty, sometimes surprising . . . about the current news. They say just about everyone has buried deep down a desire to write . . . to express ideas and see them in print. Maybe so. Anyway, that's just what we're going to do.

Unfortunately, the newspaper isn't paying us for these literary efforts. Don't know why. Maybe you'll have the answer after reading a few of these columns. Look in on us each week . . . we'll be looking for you!

We look forward, too, to meeting each and every one of you in person . . . and to renew acquaintance with a great many of you. Spider Monkeys Get New King in 'Frisco Zoo

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—A new king reigns in the spider monkey colony of the San Francisco Zoological Gardens today.

How long this simian monarch rules is problematical, according to Carey Baldwin, director of the zoo which is a prime attraction to thousands of visitors each year.

Buck, the former king of a tribe of 60 spider monkeys, was found bitten to death. His predecessor was held under water by his subjects until he drowned.

★ ★ ★

"Sometimes the head monkey of the colony is deposed by a lone challenger," Baldwin explained. "At other times, the king is victim of a gang attack."

When the king monkey goes, his going is final. The new king, Baldwin said, doesn't want any live ex-kings around to foment trouble.

Junior Achievement Fund Drive to Start

Robert Nelson, vice president and general manager of the Universal Oil Seal Co. and finance chairman for the Pontiac Area Junior Achievement, said the Pontiac solicitation campaign for JA will get under way next week.

Teams are being formed in the city along with the rest of Southeastern Michigan to collect funds to continue the work of this non - profit organization which teaches the free-enterprise system to teenagers.

Approximately 275 teenagers in Pontiac are associated with Junior Achievement companies.

The campaign will last through Feb. 21. The quota set for the suburban Detroit unit's fund is $50,000.

U. S. Library of Congress Hires New Paint Expert

WASHINGTON, D.C. —The Library of Congress has come up with a question of its own. Accustomed to furnishing the answers to anything from the color of mastodon's eye to the weight of the Capitol Dome, the Library has applied to General Joseph F. Battley, President of the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association for help in finding the best possible refinishing method for the 60-year-old desks in the Main Reading Room. There are 260 of these, plus a large circular central desk, all made of Honduras mahogany and installed when the Library was built in 1897. Minor repairs and touch-ups have been made occasionally through the years but never a complete job, for which Congress has now provided a $10,000 budget.

Badly worn, marred, pitted and defaced by the idle doodling of countless readers, the restoration of the historic and priceless pieces presents a unique problem, which for both practical and aesthetic reasons merits special study. The soft mahogany must be given the hardest possible finish to stand up through many more years of constant use.

Abrasion resistance, proper light reflection and stability against fading must be accomplished, along with equalization of wood colors. A new organic finish, applied after careful sanding to the naked wood, must give the appearance of the original hand-rubbed mahogany, consistent with the Italian Renaissance interior of the Main Reading Room. When missing pieces are replaced they must be grained to match the wood.

As usual, time is an element, for this Mecca of sightseers as well as of researchers cannot be closed while the work takes place, M. J. Foley, Chief of Building and Grounds Division of the Library, has on hand the original specifications showing how the heavy pieces were put together, and he expects to allow only a few at a time to be removed for refinishing.

MAKE EXPERIMENTS

Before concluding that only an organic finish restoration of the original grain and shade of the mahogany is desirable, the Library experimented with various types of synthetic coverings for the desks. Laminated plastic in a blonde mahogany shade was applied to one desk, a dark mahogany shade on another.

After a period of use, Library officials are convinced that the blonde finish does not suit the room decor; both the dark and the blonde plastic create light reflection and seem susceptible to scratches.

ADHESION PROBLEM

There is also the problem of adhesion inasmuch as the desks are not entirely flat, having grooves for pencils and ink stand, and curved mouldings on outside edges.

★ ★ ★

Another desk given a sample refinish with stain and lacquer received the unanimous vote for beauty, suitability and durability.

"But before we proceed with the restoration," says Irvin Doniface, Mr. Foley's assistant at the Library, "we want to be sure the method we use is the very best the industry has to offer. We've put the question to them through their trade association and are confident they'll come up with the best possible answer."

Gals Like Wood Panel

One reason given by women for prefering wood kitchen cabinets, built-ins and wall paneling is that it is comfortable to the touch, neither too cool in winter nor to hot in summer.

Modern Furniture Elegant

CHICAGO: Elegantly mannered, easy to care for furniture of great variety was unveiled at The Merchandise Mart, as the world's major home goods manufacturers reveal their newest products. The occasion was the January 7-18 International Home Furnishings Market. Upwards of 25,000 buyers from stores across the land viewed the 2,596 lines of home goods displayed in The Mart.

New furniture in The Mart revealed a strong traditional influence in contemporary styles. Oriental, Scandinavian, Italian and French influences are seen. Conversely, new, true modern is shown by noted designers, and frankly old world styles like Venetian and Spanish are found.

Rich, warm woods, high-color leathers, metals, parquetry and combined materials lend design interest. Walnut, teak, ebony and cane are all combined in a hi-fi cabinet; a dining group has chairs of cinnamon mahogany and aluminum with seats of woven cream colored leather. Narrow, vertical strips of inlaid wood or metal, and brass marquetry are other design measures. Stainless steel, aluminum, pewter and silver are the newest metals.

High fashion furniture is low and light in scale and often complemented by a high, slim cabinet or mirror, or by tall accessories. Newest in low furniture is a series of chests only 18 inches high which are equally useful and attractive as lamp or end tables or standing alone.

New versions of the low party tables and chairs are shown, and even some dining tables are lower; one of mahogany with an extendible white plastic top is only 26½ inches high. Lounge chairs and sofas are deep and low. Furniture that bunches or stacks continues popular. One example is a 60" round coffee table composed of 8 little tables or seats that fit together in beautiful pattern.

Correlated furniture, for that look of unity without monotony, is all the rage. More upholstery and wood furniture makers are designing together and a new firm has correlated the exclusive designs of several manufacturers in a furniture, carpet and lamp package.

Upholstery fabrics are fresh and appealing in smooth or subtle textures, hand-loomed effects and brilliant colors. Blues and blue greens are big, with purples, apricot, and rose among other lush shades.

Exciting design developments to be exhibited include leather draperies, printed leather cafe curtains, and leather woven with fabrics and lurex. Forecasting home furnishings of the future are a wall covering of many-hued pieces of aluminum foil, a rug woven with aluminum, and an aluminum table, each by a famous designer.

Color is the news in drapery fabrics—sharp, brilliant hues or many intensities of the same. Patterns are contemporized traditional that go well with all types of interiors. The linen look, sailcloth and other smooth fabrics are popular.

Appliances, too, are given the high color treatment—turquoise, copper, rose and others. Contrasting colors are used inside and out, like the tarnish-proof copper freezer with pink and white interior. New conveniences are magic. There's the oven that raises and lowers automatically to suit the cook; an electric dishwasher that hangs on the wall above sink or counter; the freezer with pop-out dispenser racks; the separate ice-cube maker to fit under the sink.

An air purifying system circulates purer air every 45 seconds in a new refrigerator; a gas range has built-in meat probe, automatic rotisserie and thermostatic control in surface burners. A new lifeguard door release prevents children from locking themselves in the refrigerator. Air conditioners and wall heaters are slimmer and more decorative. Kitchen appliances and decorative pots and pans are color coordinated and shown together.

Both smooth and soft surface floor coverings are creating high-fashion news at this Market. Fibers are the biggest news in carpets including broadloom woven of a new 100 per cent Acrilan fiber that looks like wool; tufted carpet of the first Chromespun carpet yarns; a tufted tweed carpet with entire surface of jute.

New textures in all-wool, all-cotton, all-nylon and blends are available. White is important—one entire collection is woven of all-white wool. Vibrant colors also appear in floor coverings and patterns are increasingly important in both carpets and smooth surface floor coverings like linoleum and tile.

New lamp designs take many directions—French Provincial, Oriental, Scandinavian, Persian. Modern shapes have elegant traditional touches, while traditional forms are given simplified, contemporary treatment.

Suds and Water Whisk Grime Off Furniture

An occasional soap-and-water bath will keep wooden furniture looking its very best. Removing old wax and the accumulation of dirt and grime which furniture collects, despite everyday dusting, is easy with the proper methods.

A very mild soap or flax soap is the best cleanser for the job. Be careful not to let water reach the glued joints of the furniture and don't let water remain on the surfaces more than a minute or two.

Equipment for the job includes three soft cloths, soap, and two pails, one filled with soapy wash water and the other with clear rinse water.

Wash a small area of the furniture at a time, using one of the soft cloths wrung out in suds. Rinse with another soft cloth wrung from clear water and dry immediately with the dry cloth.

Repeat the process, starting just within the clean area each time until the entire piece is washed, rinsed and dried. Be sure the entire surface is thoroughly dry before applying furniture polish or wax.

Paint the house number on the lid and side of your garbage can to help prevent loss and theft.

Modern Heating Fine Investment

Modernization of a home heating plant will be reflected in the selling price of a used dwelling to an unusually high degree, according to the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association.

Although most owners do their improving for their own comfort and convenience, resale considerations are a major factor in a situation where millions of families are moving each year, GAMA points out. Sprucing up a property before it is sold almost always is in order, it is explained, but major investments have to stand a test of examination as to prospective buyers' wants.

Because tastes differ and styles change, the gas trade group notes, some items have to be considered more in the way of personal consumption expenditures than real investments. Here is why a modern heating plant is put in the investment category:

1. The need is absolutly basic, and the heating system itself is made to adjust to the differences in wants of prospective users.

2. Because the heating system will be sold with the house, the selling expense, or commission, will represent a smaller portion of the asset than is possible in almost any transaction outside the real estate field.

★ ★ ★

3. The improvement can be demonstrated instantly and effortlessly and the guarantee going with it can be transferred.

4. The buyer can know approximately what his oerating costs will be. In the case of heating equipment, this can be accomplished by merely showing past utility bills and current rate schedules.

5. The improvement upgrades an entire property and insures the buyer against trouble and loss in a period when he will be more than busy with other problems of getting relocated.

British Engineer Gets Bare Facts From Canada

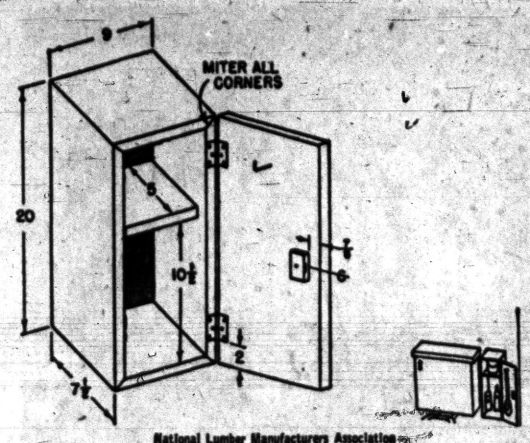

OTTAWA — The Candian Government Travel Bureau reports that a young British engineer, interested in migrating to Canada, has said he won't come unless he and his wife can be certain of finding Canadian summer camps for nudists.

The prospective immigrant wrote to the Travel Bureau's Publicity Division recently, "One condition on which both my wife and I insist is that we are able to join a nudist summer camp and go there every year . . ."

He was informed that recent magazine reports show there are 17 nudist camps in Canada.

Motor vehicle accidents in the United States passed 40,000 in 1956. In 1955 there were 38,426 motor vehicle deaths in the U.S. and 35,586 in 1954.

HERE'S HOW — Make a bathroom cabinet to store cleaning supplies and necessary drugs. This cabinet can be locked to keep out prying youngsters.

Handy Cabinet Stores Supplies

Holds Bathroom Gear, Keeps Drugs Beyond Reach of Children

Convenient storage for cleansers, detergents, brushes and rags which are used primarily in the bathroom can save extra steps for the lady of the house. For the protection of curious youngsters the cabinet can be locked.

All joints are mitered as shown in the diagram. Before beginning construction of the cabinet, use a miter box eight inches high so that all joints will be a perfect fit.

The top, bottom, sides, back and shelf are made of 1 by 8-inch lumber. The top and bottom of the cabinet are cut nine inches long, while the sides are cut 20 inches long. Make mitered joints and assemble the frame using glue and 6-penny finishing nails.

If desired, the joints may be strengthened with angle braces placed on the inside of the cabinet. The back is cut 18 7/16 inches long. Attach the back to the cabinet with glue and 6-penny finishing nails. The shelf is fitted in place 10½ inches from the bottom of the cabinet and flush with the back. Fasten the shelf with glue and 8-penny finishing nails.

* * *

The hinged door is made of 1 by 10-inch lumber, 20 inches long, ripped to fit the 9-inch wide frame. Two ¾ by 2-inch butt hinges are used to attach the door to the frame. The hinges are recessed two inches from the top and bottom of the cabinet.

Locate the position of the door lock ⅞ of an inch from the edge of the door as shown. The top of the lock should not be more than 10 inches from the bottom of the door. Installation of the lock will depend on the type of lock purchased. If desired, a knob may be added to the door.

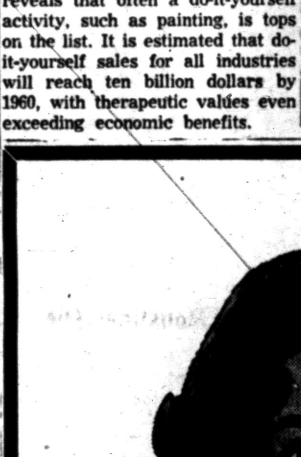

The cabinet may be hung on the wall with screws or anchor bolts.

Unions Aid Home Loans

Welfare funds and other savings by unions someday will serve as a multi-billion dollar financial reservoir for home mortgages. The first step has been taken in the International Ladies Garment Workers Union in announcing that $20,000,000 will be made available for lending on moderate-cost homes.

More Air Conditioners

BOSTON—There is one stockholder among every 10 residents of New England.

SEWING CENTER — For the woman who wants a sewing corner, here is a capital suggestion. Space along wall no deeper than 18 inches will give room for sewing machine and cabinets below for storing all sewing gear. This unit was made of Douglas fir to match the storage cabinets occupying the rest of the wall. Leave room for kneehole below sewing machine. Sliding doors can hide sewing machine when not in use.

Ease Today's Tensions

A recent study on how best to ease tension of today's fast living reveals that often a do-it-yourself activity, such as painting, is tops on the list. It is estimated that do-it-yourself sales for all industries will reach ten billion dollars by 1960, with therapeutic values even exceeding economic benefits.

Get Bunk Beds to Save Space

Most boys like the idea of bunk beds, and parents agree they do save floor space.

Biggest problem is to avoid the bulky unwieldy appearance of the top bunk which can completely overwhelm a small room.

Here is a solution. The bottom bunk operates on large, rubber-tired coasters and is hinged with sturdy piano hinge so it can be rolled away from the wall and easily made.

A chest of drawers is part of the design of this bunk unit. It fits into the corner, contains drawers for clothing, games and boy gear, and may even have a wardrobe closet.

Drawers and bunks have been designed in Douglas fir because it is very durable and will take many knocks and bumps.

Now, here is where the bulk problem is solved. The top bunk fits directly over the chest of drawers and projects only part way out over the lower bunk.

Sort of stairstep idea. In this way the overwhelming massiveness of a bunk installation with one on top of the other is avoided.

This is an easy unit to construct when built and designed in Douglas fir. This wood works easy with small tools and can be cut and fit into any desired shape or size.

It can also be finished in any way you wish. It may be painted, varnished, tinted. Generally you will want to panel the two walls around these bunks in the same wood, which makes for easy maintenance.

NEW FOR '57 — For the past two years Kenneth Zemke of 587 Bagley road in Lake Orion has been working on this new kitchen. He contracted to have the sixteen foot addition started, that is foundation and framing completed. Then he took over. Ceiling, cupboards and valance boards are knotty pine, as is the entry hall. Splashboards, counter tops and floor are vinyl plastic in a white, rust and green spatter pattern. Hardware is wrought iron. To the left of the dinette table, seen in the foreground, there is a huge cork bulletin board. The wall on this side of the table is planned for storage of all kinds. There is concealed lighting under the valance boards; Mrs. Zemke made the bright chintz curtains. With her in the above picture is fifteen-months-old Mark who has two older brothers, Stephen and John.

Clean Books Bi-Yearly

At least twice a year, take your books from the shelves, dust them thoroughly, wipe the shelves with a damp cloth and give them time to dry. Then replace the books. This with lengthen the life of your books considerably.

To clean spilled milk from your living-room rug, use water with detergent added. Then follow with clear-water sponging.

Sponge Rubber Pad Anchors Small Rugs

A new sponge rubber underlay to make small rugs stay put has been developed.

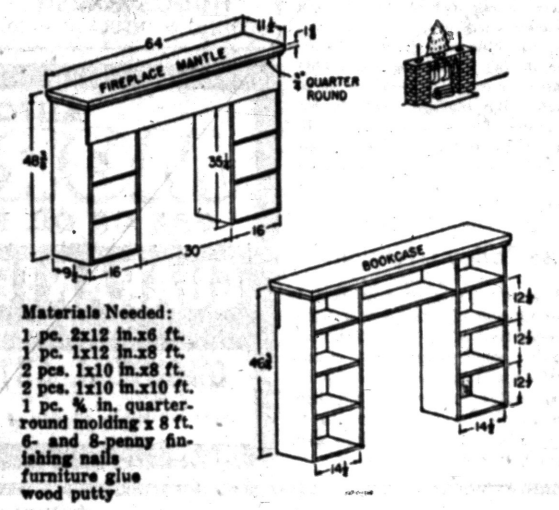

Almost one-fourth less costly than the original "Rug Anchor," which has been a popular safety factor in homes for over 30 years, the newly designed "Rug Anchor" offers advantages in addition to economy.

It is extra durable since it is now constructed with a strong fabric insert permanently bonded between layers of resilient foam rubber. No sacrifice has been made in the non-skid property. Tests prove it will not stain floors. Soft green in color and suede-like in feel, the underlay prevent slipping, sliding or creeping, at the same time adding length of life to scatter rugs because it cushions and prevents dirt from the floor from reaching the underside of the rug.

Homemakers may purchase the new underlay in various widths, by the yard, at local department stores and retail outlets. Cut one and one-half inches smaller than a rug on all four sides and placed underneath, "Rug Anchor" guards against painful falls and minimizes tripping hazards.

DECORATIVE FIREPLACE BOOKCASE — Easy to make and attractive to use.

Build a New Bookcase

A decorative and useful addition in the home is a fireplace bookcase. Besides providing much needed space for the home library, the bookcase can double as a Christmas fireplace if you add imitation brick covering as shown in the small diagram.

First, make the sides of 1 by 10-inch lumber, each 46¾ inches long. A miter box will help you cut the ends perfectly square. Notch one edge of each side piece 25/32 inches deep and 11 inches wide to provide a flush fit of the upper segment of the back. Next, make the shelves of 1 by 10-inch lumber. Again use the miter box to square the ends. The center shelf, 30 inches long, and the upper three shelves of each side panel, 14½ inches long, are each 9½ inches wide.

The top or fireplace mantle is made of a 2 by 12-inch board, 64 inches long.

Make the back. The upper segment is 11 inches wide cut from a 62-inch length of 1 by 12-inch lumber. The other segments of the back are made of 1 by 12-inch lumber, each 14½ inches long. The boards are planned so that they fit between the shelves.

Assemble the project. Mark the position of the shelves on the sides. Glue and nail the sides to the bottom and top shelves, thus forming two panels. Use glue and 8-penny finishing nails. Connect the panels by inserting the upper segment of the back in the notch provided and fasten in place using glue and 6-penny finishing nails. Position the remaining side shelves and nail in place. Attach the rest of the back boards, starting at the top.

The center shelf is fastened to the back and glued and toenailed to the sides. The top is centered on the bookcase allowing for a 1-inch overhang on all sides and fatened from above with 6-penny finishing nails. The ¾-inch quarter-round molding is attached to the underside of the top as shown in the diagram; use 4-penny finishing nails. Sand all sharp edges; set all nails and fill the holes with wood putty.

Scrub Fireplace

A chore made to order for one of those weather-bound winter weekends is cleaning the fireplace in the living room or game room. If the brick or stone is looking a bit seedy, trying scrubbing it thoroughly with a stiff brush. Fill a pail with a solution of washing soda and water and apply it liberally to remove soot and grime.

Plastic Starches Best on Wallpaper for Home Walls

For patching wall-paper, plastic For patching wall-paper, plastic starch is unexcelled since it can be smeared over paper and will dry without a mark. Many painters also paint it on directly over new paint since it provides a plastic film that stops grease and dirt from becoming embedded in the paint itself and can be washed off easily. On the walls around stoves this is important.

Many women use it to put a film over copper to prevent oxidation and to keep them bright. Others even paint it over oil paintings to protect them since it can be removed with a damp cloth.

Many school systems find that Carboxy-methyl cellulose starch colored by food coloring, makes a better finger paint than any product created for the purpose. They also find that it is an excellent library paste since the younger children don't eat it as they sometimes do with a wheat paste.

All these and wave sets too!

The American woman is ingenious at experimentation and with a product that was designed to do a superior job of starching to make ironing easier, and to offer protection against soiling the fibers themselves, she has come up with a whole list of strange uses.

But Insurance Rates May Jump

Detroit Hospital Council Asks Nurse Pay Increase

DETROIT (AP) — The Greater Detroit Area Hospital Council recommends that its 56 member hospitals increase the starting salaries of registered nurses six to eight per cent — from an average of $300 a month to about $325.

At the same time, William S. McNary, executive vice president of Michigan Blue Cross, said the raise, if adopted, "will undoubtedly" mean a boost in the rates of Blue Cross and other pre-paid hospital care plans.

Jacques Cousin, excutive director of the council, said the nurses' raise would boost hospital operation costs about three per cent.

McNary said if the increase for nurses is approved "similar equitable adjustments in the salaries of other hospital personnel may be expected to follow." He said this would mean a total increase of six per cent in hospital costs.

He said the average cost of hospital care already has increased six per cent since the present new rate became effective last March.

"It is certainly safe to predict that a further increase of up to six per cent in hospital costs will undoubtedly bring an upward adjustment in rates for all hospital prepayments," McNary said.

Cousin said a pay increase for nurses would be the first in two years.

He blamed a "critical" shortage of nurses on poor starting salaries.

Cousin said the average starting salary for registered nurses in Detroit area hospitals is below that of comparable urban areas in many other midwestern cities.

Department Stores Up 3 Per Cent Last Week

NEW YORK (INS)—Department store sales in the U.S. last week were three per cent higher than the corresponding period of 1956. Gains were posted by seven of the 12 federal reserve districts, paced by Richmond's 14 per cent improvement. Volume in the Dallas district was unchanged from the previous year.

Barbados, an island in the British West Indies, has a population of approximately 223,000. It has an area of 166 square miles.

Four School Additions

Avondale's R. Baker Tells New Progress

AVONDALE — The School District's building here is making progress, according to Supt. Raymond N. Baker, as he summarized yesterday the various developments that have occurred in recent weeks.

Architcts plans have been approved by the Board of Education, and bids will be let as soon as the working drawings are prepared. George D. Mason & Co. is the architect.

Necessary approval of the $850,000 bond issue, which will finance the program, has been granted by the Municipal Finance Commission.

The application for the qualification of bonds has been accepted by the Department of Public Instruction. Baker explains that qualifying the bonds is important "because it will enable the Avondale School District to keep its dept millage at 13 or less."

The money is to be spent for additions to four buildings: the Senior High School, Junior High School, Stone Elementary, and Stiles Elementary Schools.

Avondale will also receive two special education rooms from the Oakland County special education program. This includes $45,000 for the rooms, with the county also providing the equipment needed.

No Fire Estimate to Be Given at Utica

UTICA — School officials yesterday announced that no estimate from the damage to the Junior High School will be given out. Contractors will be brought in to look over the ruins and the building will be sub-let to one of them for repairs.

The bus company is working out a program to provide transportation for the students to the temporary school houses

MARLETTE — Mr. and Mrs. Lester Appel, here, announce the engagement of their daughter, Marilyn Louise to Robert D. Kohnert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus L. Freud of Lake Orion. They have set June 15 as their wedding date.

MARIA FOEHLINGER

The engagement of Maria L. Foehlinger is announced by her sister, Nella Foehlinger, of Lake Orion. Maria is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Anton Foehlinger of Germany. She will wed Charles R. Walter, son of Mr. and Mrs. William N. Walter, also of Lake Orion. No date has been set for the wedding.

Dunckel at Farmington Since '39

School Official Resigning

FARMINGTON—O. E. Dunckel, Supt. of Farmington Public Schools has announced his intent to resign when his contract expires in June.

In his letter of resignation to the school board earlier this week, Dunckel stated: "This is not an easy decision to make when I think of the splendid support given me by the Board of Education, the citizens of the community and the loyal and professional teaching staff."

Dunckel has been head of the Farmington Public School system since 1939. Except for a three year period between May 1943 and September 1946 when he served as a lieutenant in the United States Naval Reserve, he has served continuously as superintendent of Public Schools in Farmington.

Prior to his appointment here he was superintendent of schools in Sand Creek and Manchester, respectively.

Southfield Man Beaten, Knifed

Helmeted Bandits Attack Victim in Auto, Escape in Souped Up Car

A Southfield Township man was beaten and knifed in the stomach by two helmeted bandits last night who robbed him of $210 and escaped in a "souped up" car.

Andrew Przytulski, 32, of 30830 Helmandale St., is in fair condition at Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak. He described his assailants as "about 35, wearing black leather jackets and gloves, and motorcycle helmets."

Przytulski told police that he had stopped for a red light on Twelve Mile Rd. at Telegraph Rd.

"One of the men from the car behind me got out and came up to my car," said Przytulski. "He opened up the back door and got into the seat behind me. He held a knife on me and told me to pull over to the side of the road.

"The other car pulled over behind us and his friend got into the front seat with me. He hit me a few times and then took my money.

"The fellow in the back seat said, 'Keep your mouth shut about this and don't yell.' Then he leaned over and stuck the knife in my stomach. Then they left me there."

After a few minutes, Przytulski said, he managed to drive to his home a mile away. Slumped over the wheel, he sounded his horn until his wife came outside to see what was wrong. She drove him to the hospital.

WESTACRES — A budget of $4,393 was adopted by the Westacres Community Assn. at a recent meeting. This in turn necessitated an increase in the monthly dues for 1957 from one dollar to a dollar and a half a month for each shareholder.

The meeting was conducted by the association president, Norville Trombley, who heard reports from the officers and the committee chairmen.

New directors, a vice president Frank Bowles, and treasurer Robert Dickson were elected while the President Trombley and secretary Earl Garrels were re-elected.

The association was incorporated as a non-profit organization just a year ago.

To Organize Faith and Life Curriculum at Milford

MILFORD—All parents, teachers and interested adults of the Presbyterian church school will meet at 8 p.m. Monday, Jan. 28, for a social program in connection with a "Christian Faith and Life" curriculum.

This meeting will be in the form of a parent-teacher conference with individual departmental groups arranged so that parents may become better acquainted with material used by teachers of the Sunday school.

Sunday school department supervisors urge parents to attend this meeting, as it is an opportunity for them to learn how to help their children use this curriculum.

ENERGETIC COMIC — Jerry Lewis, who will star in his own hour-long show, "Saturday Color Carnival," on NBC-TV tonight at 9 o'clock, estimates that he has revised the program layout 13 times. This show marks the television debut of Lewis as a solo performer. The restless, bouncing comedian and singer Dean Martin broke up their partnership last year.

Jerry Lewis Will Make Solo Video Debut Tonight

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Let's see now, we have here some coffee-stained notes made while Jerry Lewis was eating breakfast the other morning.

Breakfast in a hotel room is an athletic event for Lewis: orange juice on the back of one chair, toast while wandering around, and heavens knows where he ate the fried eggs.

It's energy, that's what it is. Restless, bouncing energy. Early in the morning too.

Lewis is here for his first performance on television without his erstwhile TV partner Dean Martin. It will be a one-hour color show on NBC-TV tonight. What's he going to do? Well, what isn't he going to do?

"I've revised the layout 13 times," he said. "One way I wouldn't sing, one way I wouldn't dance, one way there wouldn't be pathos. I want to run the gamut of entertainment, and you can't do everything in an hour. . . .

"Pathos is the foundation of humor. It's the raw, jumping nerve of comedy. Without it you've got nothing. To do it you have to be an actor. But you have to be an actor anyway before you can be a comedian. . . ."

★ ★ ★

Then, chewing on a piece of toast:

"I don't use guests just to have guests. A show that announces it's having, say, Gary Cooper, and then Cooper comes on and says, 'Yep,' and then disappears, that show is an insult to the intelligence of the American people.

"Of course a performer who does a weekly show has to have guests. He's got to have help. Personally I wouldn't want to do one live TV show a week even if I was hungry. I've tried to keep television an event. Back in 1950 when I refused to do 39 shows in a year my manager wanted to give me a gift certificate to the Menninger Clinic. Now he agrees with me."

Bergman Visits U. S. Briefly

Actress Returns to Get Award After Absence of Eight Years

NEW YORK (AP) — Ingrid Bergman returns to the United States today for her first visit in nearly eight years.

The visit by the blonde, Swedish-born actress will be a short one—just 34 hours. Then she'll board an airliner Sunday night to rush back to Paris where she is appearing in a smash stage hit.

★ ★ ★

Miss Bergman is making the flying visit to New York to receive the New York film critics' award as the best actress of 1956 for her performance in "Anastasia."

The actress has not been in the United States since 1949 when she left to make the film "Stromboli" in Italy with Roberto Rossellini. She and the Italian film director had a son and then married after Miss Bergman's divorce from her American husband, Dr. Peter Lindstrom.

Just before her departure last night from Orly Airport in Paris, Miss Bergman told newsmen that "I feel completely calm, now."

"At first I was very excited at the idea of the trip, now it feels just like another journey."

Her husband is in India making a film.

"The children are back at our apartment in a hotel with their nurse and a maid," she said, referring to her son, Robertino, 7, and her twin 4-year-old daughters, Ingrid and Isabella.

Miss Bergman said she would not see her daughter, Pia, now 18 and a student at the University of Colorado. The girl, now named Jenny Ann, was born during her marriage with Dr. Lindstrom.

Miss Bergman said she expected her New York trip to be pretty much handicapped by publicity and "I would prefer to see her (Jenny Ann) under quieter circumstances when we can be alone."

Dr. Lindstrom, divorced in 1950 by Miss Bergman, is a professor at the University of Utah. Lindstrom since has remarried.

★ ★ ★

Balloon Chokes Child

DETROIT (AP) — Three-year-old Maureen Murphy choked to death yesterday with a portion of a toy balloon caught in her throat. Mrs. Audrey Murphy, 29, her mother, said Maureen ran into the living room and fell at her feet. The child was dead on admission to the hospital.

Eleanor is a variation of the name Helen, which is the Greek word for "light."

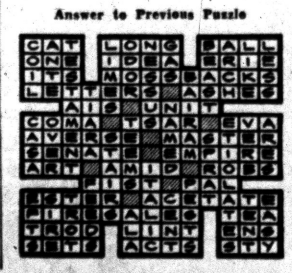

Snow Delays Election in Remote Himalayas

NEW DELHI, India, (AP) — India's election commission today announced that voting in the country's second general election will start Feb. 24 and end March 14.

Voting will be allowed after March 14 in the most remote Himalayan areas, which are likely to be snowbound until late in April.

Security for You

Cannot Collect Benefits in Lump Sum

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

From A. B. of Allentown, Pa.: "I am now receiving $58.30 monthly from Social Security. This is not enough for me to live on. If I request a lump sum payment, how much would I receive?"

There is no way for you to forego your rights to monthly Social Security payments and collect a lump sum.

★ ★ ★

From Mrs. W. T. B. of Oklahoma City: "My husband is 61 and I'll be 65 in February. I have never been covered by Social Security and never paid into it. My husband has been paying into it for years. Will I be eligible to get payments when I reach 65 because I'm the wife of a man who has paid into Social Security?"

No. You'll not be eligible to receive payments based on your husband's Social Security record until he reaches 65.

★ ★ ★

From A. R. R. of San Pedro, Calif: "My wife and I were divorced some years ago. In the last couple of years, we've been seeing each other again. If I were to remarry her, would she become eligible for Social Security payments from my work?"

Yes, but not until you had been remarried for a period of three years. However, she'd be eligible for payments as a widow if you should die after having been remarried for a year.

★ ★ ★

From B. A. of New York City: "Some time ago I worked for about eight months and Social Security taxes were deducted from my wages. I know that that period of time was too short for me to collect Social Security payments, but I wonder if it's possible for me to get a refund of the money I paid in?"

No.

★ ★ ★

From R. P. of Liberal, Kans.: "I worked for the federal government during 30 months of World War II. A certain percentage of my wage was deducted for a government retirement plan. Am I eligible to get a refund of these payments?"

★ ★ ★

Yes. You may do so by writing to the United States Civil Service Commission, Retirement Division, Washington 25, D. C. That office will send you a form which you can use to apply for the refund.

★ ★ ★

From T. G. C. of Fargo, N. Dak.: "Last July I retired from the railroad and started collecting Railroad Retirement. The other day I got my income tax form and I'm wondering if I have to pay income tax on my Railroad Retirement payments."

No. You don't even have to report the payments on your income tax form.

★ ★ ★

From A. L. D. of Castle Point, N. Y.: "I'm a veteran 63 years old and am in the hospital with TB. I will not be able to work again. I am getting $66.15 a month pension from the Veterans Administration. Next July, I'll be eligible for payments from Social Security due to my disability. Will the VA pension have a bearing on my eligibility to Social Security?"

Yes. The amount of the pension will be deducted from your Social Security payment until you reach 65. Then, you'll be eligible for your full Social Security payments.
