24 Lost as Italian Ship Flounders

Lenten Meditations

By DR. EDWIN T. DAHLBERG
President, National Council of Churches

Mark 1:14, 15, "Now after John was arrested, Jesus came into Galilee, preaching the gospel of God, and saying, 'The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand; repent, and believe in the gospel'."

One cold winter morning four or five years ago I was sitting in a bus at a suburban station on the edge of Pittsburgh, Pa., waiting to go on to Lewisburg, where I was to speak at a student convocation at Bucknell University.

It was a bitterly cold day. The door of the bus was open, and we were all sitting rather dismally in our seats, waiting for the bus driver to finish his coffee and doughnuts in the depot.

Suddenly there was an electric change in the whole atmosphere. An old news dealer got on board with a bundle of newspapers under his arm.

His head was hunched way down in his coat collar, but his eyes twinkled merrily as he began to call out in the cheeriest voice you could imagine: "GOOD NEWS HERE! Local news, world news, sports news, society news. Morning papers here—five cents a copy."

I had already read the morning paper. But the spirit of this old news butcher was irresistible. I simply had to buy one of his papers. A man back of me said, "Haven't you got any bad news?" "Only in fine print on the back page," was the reply. He sold a paper to every passenger on the bus. As he returned to the front of the aisle, he turned around, bowed to us grandly, and said, "In the name of the bus company, I wish to extend my best wishes for a safe and pleasant journey."

In a far greater and more glorious sense, that is the way Jesus Christ broke in upon the attention of the world. He came saying to the nation, "Good news here! Eternal and everlasting news! Personal news! News for all mankind!"

We read in the first chapter of Mark that "Jesus came into Galilee, preaching the gospel of God, and saying, 'The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand.'"

This is literally what the word "gospel" means—"good news." It was the good news of God's love for all men. It was the good news that the Messiah had come—that forgiveness of sins was issued freely to all who would repent and come to the Saviour—that in Christ even death was abolished, and that we need no longer sorrow as those without hope, but rather rejoice in the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith.

Christ's kingdom was to be an everlasting kingdom, for all nations, races, and peoples, who through the way of the cross, were to become our fellowship in him.

How can anyone resist that news, or the Christ who brought it? He stands radiantly and joyously before everyone of us this very day, saying, "In the name of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit, I wish to extend my best wishes for a victorious journey through life."

China Promises to Pull Men Out of North Korea

Move Is Regarded as Attempt to Push U.S. From South Korea

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Red China said today it will withdraw all its troops from North Korea by the end of this year.

The move is seen as an another attempt to pressure U.N. forces out of South Korea.

The announcement was greeted with skepticism in Seoul and Washington.

U. S. officials have rejected earlier Red demands for the withdrawal of U. S. forces and showed no sign of acceding to this one.

The U. N. commander, U. S. Gen. George Decker, pointed out that only the Yalu separates China and North Korea, and Chinese troops could return to North Korean positions "within a matter of a few days."

The nearest major U. S. base since the recent withdrawal of U. S. ground forces from Japan is the island of Okinawa, 500 miles south of Korea.

The South Korean defense minister, Kim Chung Yul, said the announcement "smacks of cunning intrigue and appears to be a pretext for propaganda. We can never take it seriously."

ELECTION PROPOSAL

The Chinese-North Korean announcement followed up a Pyongyang proposal two weeks ago for withdrawal of all foreign forces from Korea and negotiations between the Northern and Southern regimes to arrange unification elections supervised by "neutral" nations.

South Korea said it would not negotiate with the northern Communists and any elections would have to be supervised by the U. N.

The Communist communique warned that if the United States

Woman Chides Giants, Dodgers for Family Split

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Some of the San Francisco Giants were relaxing in front of their hotel last night when a car with New York license plates pulled up.

"Well, here's a New Yorker," said one of the Giants.

The woman who had been driving walked up to the former New Yorkers, shook her finger and said:

"I shouldn't even talk to you fellows. Since you and the Dodgers left town, my family is splitting up. My son is going to Los Angeles to live and my husband wants to go to San Francisco."

President Asks $3.9 Billion Aid

Says Foreign Defense, Economic Assistance Protects U.S.

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower today asked Congress for $3,942,100,000 in foreign aid.

He said any sharp cut would lead to a massive defense spending hike, higher taxes and heavily increased draft calls.

In a special message cautioning against Soviet Union and Red China threats, the President also said deep reductions would leave America eventually beleaguered in a world dominated by international communism.

Eisenhower called the administration aid plan a deterrent to general nuclear war.

"For the safety of our families, for the future of our children and our continued existence as a nation, we cannot afford to slacken our support of the mutual security program," he said.

The President's strong appeal went to the lawmakers against the background of an already intense drive by some House members and senators to make sharp cuts in the program, particularly the economic aid phase. Fully aware of the opposition, Eisenhower plugged especially hard for enactment.

Waves Swamp Lifeboat During Rescue Attempt

U.S. Liner Saves Three; Small Hope for Others in Gale-Lashed Atlantic

NORFOLK, Va. (INS)—Twenty-four of 27 seamen, dumped into the icy waters of the gale-lashed, snow-swept Atlantic when their lifeboat capsized, were reported missing early today and feared lost.

The men had been forced to abandon the Italian freighter Bonitas late last night about 160 miles east of Cape Lookout off the North Carolina coast when the ship's forward hold sprang a leak.

A Coast Guard spokesman said three survivors were picked up by the President Adams, a passenger liner out of New York.

The other crew members were last seen in the water "drifting away from the rescue ship" in a blinding snowstorm.

The survivors were identified as I. Marini, the captain; Alfred Contessi, deck boy; and Giovanni Barbara, fireman.

The Adams was the first ship to reach the stricken freighter last night and was trying to take the seamen aboard when they were tossed into the turbulent water.

Winds up to 40 miles an hour and 20-foot seas combined with the

Oakland Republicans Blast 'Unholy Team'

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Republicans of Oakland County last night opened a new chapter in a 10-year history of trying to wrest state leadership from Gov. Williams and "his boss Walter P. Reuther."

"We have had for 10 years now that same old stuff that has led us to higher taxes, fewer jobs and bankruptcy," said Lawrence B. Lindemer, state Republican chairman.

"And they're ready to shove it down our throats for another two years," he told 125 party members attending a county kick-off rally at the County Office Building.

"The people who are backing Reuther, our governor's boss, are the ones that are losing the most," Don E. Ahrens, state finance chairman, asserted.

Ahrens, of 540 Haverhill Rd., Bloomfield Hills, outlined the financial structure of the party in Michigan and assured members "we're going to have the money to support any candidate."

A former General Motors Corp. vice president and manager of the Cadillac Motor Division, Ahrens, now retired, promised no deficit

Find Everyone Dead at Plane Wreckage

NAPLES, Italy (AP)—Ground patrols reached the wreckage of a U. S. Air Force C47 transport plane on Mt. Vesuvius today, and reported by radio that all of its 16 passengers were dead.

Patrols battled snowstorms and sleet to the 3,800-foot level of the 4,000-foot volcano, where the plane crashed four days ago, after taking off from Naples for Athens.

Heavy fog shrouding Vesuvius and southern Italy since the day of the crash lifted earlier in the day and the wreckage was sighted from the air.

Tonight Will Be Cloudy, Snowy

Warmer Weather With High Around 22-26 Due Tomorrow Afternoon

Mostly cloudy with occasional snow flurries and a low of 10 is the weatherman's prediction for Pontiac tonight.

Thursday will be partly cloudy with scattered snow flurries and a little warmer in the afternoon. Tomorrow's high will be around 22 - 26.

For the next five days, temperatures will average around eight degrees below the normal high of 34 and normal low of 20 degrees.

Advised by cable of the nine degree below zero temperature in Pontiac, Mrs. Harold A. Fitzgerald wires that the mercury in the Belgian Congo where she is presently stands an even hundred degrees warmer—or a neat 91. She is with Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Pryale and Mr. and Mrs. Graham John Graham.

The lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 16 degrees. The thermometer registered 24 at 2 p.m.

Churchill Has Flu, Passes Good Night

NICE (AP) — Ailing, 83-year-old Sir Winston Churchill was reported by a member of his household to have passed a good night.

Sir Winston's personal physician, summoned to the bedside of the ailing statesman, was flying from London to the French Riviera today.

The physician, Lord Moran, was called after another doctor ordered the 83-year-old former prime minister confined to bed because of what he termed a light cold.

A staff member at the villa where Churchill is vacationing said the former Prime Minister had suffered a chill and required rest. He insisted that the aged statesman's condition is not serious.

Boy Plus Closed School Equals Snow Adventure

By DICK SAUNDERS

The weather outside's delightful—to a youngster who wakes to find it has frozen shut his classroom doors for at least a day.

What do kids do when their school has been closed by bad weather?

If drifting snow caused their brief freedom, it's their duty to romp in the liberating agent. Hip deep, if possible.

Tuesday the elements forced an unscheduled holiday on students at Lake Orion Junior High School.

Billy Shoup, 14, of 109 Axford St., searched for high adventure in a romp through the hills near his home.

When Snow Closes Classrooms, There Are Many Things to Do

IDLE HOURS — When the snow and cold closed Lake Orion Junior High School, yesterday, eighth grader Billy Shoup, 14, of 109 Axford St., Lake Orion, spent his idle hours romping through the snow covered hills near his home.

GOOD OLD BAD WEATHER — This seems to be Billy's attitude as he skillfully balances himself on a slippery log. Like many kids, he spends his free holiday close to the "terrible" elements.

IT'S BEEN A LONG, COLD DAY — But not as long as some of those classes often seem. With all the snowdrifts plowed through, slopes slid down, and logs walked, there's not much left to do but climb the hill for home and hope that tomorrow will bring another day of even colder, nastier weather.

snow to make rescue operations exceedingly difficult.

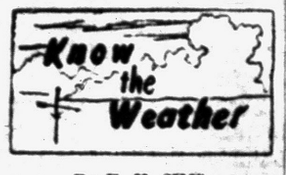

Four other ships—a French vessel and three U. S. Navy destroyer escorts — rushed to the disaster scene to assist the Adams. The Coast Guard cutter Chilula was expected to arrive on the scene within the next few hours.

The Bonitas was carrying 5,636 tons of iron ore from Brazil to Baltimore, Md., where it is represented in this country by the Tidewaters Commercial Co.

The freighter's skipper reported the forward hold of his vessel was leaking and that the ship was in immediate danger of sinking. However, the Adams said the Bonitas was still afloat, but that the forward part of the ship was riding low in the water.

One of the Adams' lifeboats was abandoned during the rescue operations because of the high seas. The lifeboat crew scrambled to safety and no one was injured.

A Coast Guard amphibious plane located the ship's position and stayed close until the New York liner arrived. The Adams left New York Monday and was bound for the Orient via the Panama canal.

How fast does weather move across the surface of the earth, under normal conditions?

This is an interesting subject. For weather is always moving. It is never stagnant. The air above you today was somewhere else yesterday, not simply cooled or heated since that time. In the United States our weather averages about 30 miles an hour, year-in and year-out, moving from west to east, or perhaps 25.

Of course, that's an approximation. But, generally speaking, count on the air layer above you having been from 500 to 800 miles away the day before. But conditions of the atmosphere change as the air mass moves, often spoofing the weather forecasters. For example, rainy air sometimes clears into a no-cloud situation simultaneously over hundreds of miles.

The weather experts don't understand all the factors involved and can't always explain such a development. They usually guess right when the air content remains the same and moves generally in an eastward direction, according to the book.

Space Man Flies in Regular Plane to Visit Parents

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Airman Donald G. Farrell, who soared through simulated space conditions for a week, takes off today in a conventional type of aircraft for a visit with his parents in New York.

Farrell is slated for a round of television appearances and will return to Randolph Air Force Base Feb. 28.

Yesterday, the 23-year-old airman underwent additional physical examinations given by scientists seeking answers to the effects of space flight on man. Farrell emerged Sunday from a sealed cabin at the School of Aviation Medicine, where he spent seven days in isolation.

School officials said he apparently suffered no ill effects on his simulated flight to the moon.

China Says Army Will Leave Korea

and South Korea "think the independent withdrawal signifies a weakness and attempt to exploit it, they will meet a fate beyond their imagination."

They added if the United States and the U. N. Command has the least sincerity for a peaceful solution of the Korean problem, they should also withdraw . . . "Otherwise it will be clear to the whole world they are obstructing the peaceful unification of Korea."

The South Korean army estimated last year there were 350,000 Chinese Communist troops in North Korea and "not less than a million across the Yalu River in Manchuria."

North and South Korea each have 21 divisions, the South Korean forces numbering about 600,000 men under close U. S. supervision. The U. N. forces in the south consist of two U. S. divisions —about 30,000 men—plus one Turkish brigade and one Thai company.

The lengthy communique containing a number of current Communist propaganda points was issued at the end of a five-day visit by Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai to North Korea. He was accompanied by Vice Premier Chen Yi, Red China's new foreign minister.

The communique said the first stage of the Chinese troop withdrawal would be completed before April 30.

$1 Million, 5-Year Project

To Study Schizophrenia

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Research laboratories were dedicated here yesterday to seek the solution to schizophrenia.

The five-year project, financed by grants totaling one million dollars, will be operated jointly by Ypsilanti State Hospital and the University of Michigan. The grants were made by the National Institute of Mental Health.

The director of the project, psychiatry professor Norman Rosenzweig of the university, said it is the first time such a large scale cooperative research program has concentrated on the mechanisms of the mental disease.

Patients at the hospital will be used in the basic research of schizophrenia or split personality.

"It is the foremost public health problem of our time," said Dr. Rosenzweig.

He outlined some of the problems the study will attempt to solve:

1 — Is schizophrenia a single disease such as diabetes or does it consist of similar conditions like heart disease of cancer?

2 — Are there consistent biological differences among schizophrenics patients and do such differences, if they exist, correlate with psychological and psychiatric findings?

3 — How do the patient's background, constitution and life experience figure in the development of the disease.

City Retains Gillespie in Sullenberger Suit

Pontiac attorney Glenn C. Gillespie will be retained by the city to act as trial lawyer in the $250,000 damage suit brought against Pontiac General Hospital by suspended staff surgeon, Dr. Neil H. Sullenberger.

City Commissioners agreed informally last night to pay Gillespie, a former Oakland County circuit judge, $150 a-day in court under a City Charter provision that additional counsel can be hired to assist City Attorney William A. Ewart.

Ewart said that Gillespie, vacationing in California, had indicated his services would be available.

Trial of the suit has been scheduled for early in April. Besides the hospital, Dr. Sullenberger has also named as defendants the city and the hospital director, as well as the hospital medical staff, two of its committees and the hospital board of trustees.

Dr. Sullenberger is also asking for an injunction cancelling his Nov. 13 suspension and allowing him to practice again at the hospital.

Rome Begins Lent

ROME (INS) — Thousands of worshippers jammed St. Peter's today for the Ash Wednesday services opening the Lenten season. Rome's thousand church bells pealed, calling hundreds of thousands of others to the traditional services and to follow the stations of the cross which recall Christ's walk to Mt. Calvary.

Piggins, 3 Others Reported Retiring

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Times said today Detroit Police Commissioner Edward Piggins is expected to resign within 60 days and that three top police department officers would retire in the next few days.

The newspaper named those expected to retire as Supt. Jack Harvill, Deputy Supt. Miles Furlong and Senior Inspector Arthur Heidt.

It said Detective Chief Marvin Lane also will retire if a business connection he is seeking materializes.

The Times reported Herbert W. (Burt) Hart, wealthy businessman and long-time friend of Mayor Louis Miriani, is the top choice to succeed Piggins, named commissioner by the late Mayor Albert E. Cobo. It added Louis J. Berg, traffic director, reportedly will be named superintendent.

Detroit Police officers can retire on full pension after 25 years service, regardless of age.

tain snow covered trail. Once found, it led him through a narrow strip of trees and underbrush.

He nimbly ducked under a single icy strand of barbed wire fence, stepped out into a clearing and started up the first of many rolling hills.

He kicked snow into the air and watched it blow away like dust in the frigid gusts of wind. Oblivious to the bitter cold, he continued to the hill crest, searching out the deepest snowdrifts to trudge through.

Then, half running, half sliding, he flew down the other side and found a few logs to walk down tightrope style.

Finally, he reached the highest peak and looked out over a nearby lake. Remaining here for awhile at his lookout post, Billy carefully scanned his vast domain.

Then he began retracing his footsteps, stopping after a few moments to sit in the middle of a newly found snowbank on the edge of a miniature cliff.

He tossed handfuls of snow into the air and grinning as the tiny flakes blew like icy mist against his windreddened cheeks. He slid down the steep slope and started for home.

The last we saw of him, he was trudging hatless, snowy, and completely happy, up a windblown slope; probably hoping the weatherman will continue his terrible, frightful (wonderful, delightful) offerings for at least one more day.

Quiz Red Agent on Plane Grab

South Korea Questions 'Key Man' in Seizure of Airliner, 34 Aboard

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — The South Korean army reportedly is interrogating a high-ranking Communist agent believed to have masterminded the seizure of a South Korean commercial airliner which flew to North Korea Sunday.

An army counterintelligence source reported the agent's arrest after the national police announced they had evidence seven Communist passengers seized the plane at gunpoint and diverted it to North Korea. Piloted by two Americans, it was on a flight from Pusan to Seoul.

The U.S. State Department accepted the theory that Communists had seized the plane in flight.

A North Korean newsman told South Korean reporters at Panmunjom that some of the 34 persons aboard were "wounded and are receiving medical treatment." He did not specify how they were wounded, but his report tended to substantiate the theory of a gunfight.

Communist representatives at Panmunjom rejected U.N. Command's demand that the plane and its occupants be returned, saying they had defected to North Korea.

The South Korean government appealed to the International Red Cross for help in securing "the immediate safe return" of all 34 persons aboard the plane.

spending. "We are going to run this on a business basis," he remarked.

Continuing his attacks on UAW president, Reuther, the speaker warned: "There won't be any jobs for anybody if he gets his 1958 demands."

Colorful signs adorning the supervisors auditorium showed county Republicans hoped to join with the party to "eradicate and eliminate" Democratic control of the state.

'UNHOLY ALLIANCE'

Rep. Farrell E. Roberts (West Bloomfield Township) joined in on what members charge is the "unholy alliance of big labor with the Democrats."

"Come 1960," he said, "we are going to get some sad awakening if some UAW leaders or Soapy get near Washington."

The Republican committee of Oakland County, headed by Arthur G. Elliott, had a surprise package. It was a 20-minute filmed interview with Oakland County Congressman William S. Broomfield, Sen. Charles E. Potter and Port Huron Congressman Robert J. McIntosh.

Potter too echoed the alleged Democratic-union alliance. He charged the opposition party with securing funds from union dues.

The governor should pay more attention to his own state before accusing President Eisenhower of being responsible for the nation's present economic situation, the party leader demanded.

"Last year he spent more than 200 days away from the office. I wish he would do it one way or another. Work there as he should or get out for the entire 365 days."

Lindemer urged county Republicans to give him "a minority party, if the Republican party be a minority, with chins up — sick and tired of losing, and we will win."

PREDICTS REPUBLICAN GAIN

He predicted Republican strength in the Lansing House of Representatives would gain by seven this year.

He praised Oakland County's "teamwork of cooperative action that is moving ahead. We are trying to do the same on the state level," he added.

Among the speakers was Sen. L. Harvey Lodge who said the party was pitted in a battle against "a profit-gain individual who has no more idea of the truth than Franklin Roosevelt."

He accused the governor of spending taxpayers' money foolishly by proposing "piecemeal" budgets with overestimated anticipated revenues.

Absentee Ballots for Primary Ready

Absentee ballots for the March 3 city primary election are available at the City Clerk's office.

Mrs. Ada R. Evans, city clerk, said voters who will be out of the city on election day or unable to get to the polls because of illness may apply for applications in person, by telephone or by mail.

Deadline for receiving absentee ballots will be 2 p.m. March 1, she said.

The Day in Birmingham

Church Women Will Join in Prayer Service Friday

BIRMINGHAM — Following a custom established in 1887, church women are observing first Friday in Lent as World Day of Prayer.

The United Church Women of Birmingham will sponsor the event this year at 10 a.m. in St. James Episcopal Church.

Mrs. Earl Bramblett of the First Baptist Church and Mrs. W. B. Hutchinson of St. James are cochairmen.

Other committee members are Mrs. John VanderRoest, Mrs. Dawin Kettering, Mrs. Alvin Lawrie, Mrs. Dale McNutt, Mrs. David Todd, Mrs. A. C. Childs, Mrs. R. C. Trouteaud, Mrs. William D. Rentch, Mrs. Russell Cowles and Mrs. Alfred Rupple.

Taking part in the Birmingham service will be Mrs. George A. Burnham, Mrs. Kenneth Gass, Mrs. N. J. Ellis and Mrs. VanderRoest.

The service duplicates that conducted in churches throughout the world. It has been translated into 60 languages and more than 1,000 dialects.

Funds received during this day are used for missionary purposes.

A Communion service will follow the reading.

"Success" is the topic for the discussion group of the Senior Men's Club meeting Friday. The entertainment feature will be a talk by George Ziegler, a club member, on "The Life of George Washington."

A Pontiac man was arrested by Bloomfield Hills Police yesterday on charges of larceny of liquor from the Kingsley Inn.

J. W. Smith, 26, of 577½ Going St., a night porter at the inn, admitted taking 30 quarts of liquor, according to Bloomfield Hills police.

He removed the hinges from the liquor bar without disturbing the lock, police said.

Membership tea for the Birmingham Women's Club will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. Friday at the home of Mrs. Ralph Main, 891 Fairview Dr. She will be assisted by Mrs. Charles W. Hester.

Chief Hurtubise Ousted at Keego

Police Head Fired Last Night, Says He Wrote Resignation Feb. 12

Keego Harbor Police Chief Richard Hurtubise last night was dismissed by the City Council.

Mayor Samuel Whitmore said today that the action was taken for the "best interest of the community."

"There was no alternative for us because he had refused to act on our request two weeks ago that he resign," the mayor said.

HURTUBISE He declined to comment further on why the resignation was asked.

Hurtubise, however, said he had sent a letter of resignation to the mayor on Feb. 12.

Hurtubise said his resignation would become effective March 1, and added he was quitting to join a larger department.

He said he felt the $5,200 a year pay for the post wasn't enough for the time the job demands.

Hurtubise, 32, of 3450 14 Mile Rd., West Bloomfield Township, was appointed chief in October 1956 when the former chief, Calvin Baxter, died of burns received in a fire. He joined the force in July of 1955 when it was formed.

Three men remain on the force, with Sgt. James K. Sisk in temporary command.

Find Freedom Frigid

Government Orders 1,763 Willys Jeeps

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Willys Motors, Inc., said today it has received a $3,108,227 government contract for jeep vehicles, its biggest government order for the vehicles since the Second World War.

The 1,763 units and parts were ordered by the International Cooperation Administration for delivery to the government of India under the U. S. Mutual security program.

To fill the order, 948 universal jeep vehicles will be assembled by Mahindra and Mahindra, Willys licensee in Bombay; and 640 FC-150 trucks and 175 jeep vehicles will be assembled here and shipped to Bombay, Calcutta and Madras.

Uses of the vehicles will include malaria control work and service for the Ministry of Food and Agriculture and the Community Project Administration.

School Bus in Accident, Avon Girl, 7, Injured

A seven-year-old Avon Township girl, Stella Dombrowski, of 2673 Melvin St., was injured slightly, yesterday when the school bus she was riding home in collided with a car at Clovelly and Harrison roads, Avon Township, according to State Police at the Center Line Post.

She was treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for facial cuts and a possible broken nose before being released.

The bus was being driven by James T. Brown, 22, of 318 Alice St., Rochester, said police. The driver of the car was Joseph L. Adams, 22, of 2856 Harrison Rd.

Bone-Chilling Cold to Continue

East Locked in Icy Vise

CHICAGO (INS) — The eastern third of the nation was tightly locked in an icy vise of Arctic air today that remained almost motionless.

The weather bureau in Chicago explained that a stagnant weather pattern that prevailed over most of the country kept the cold sealed in much like a refrigerator and added that there is no relief in sight for the ice box conditions.

CREEP UPWARD

Temperatures crept upward a few degrees in some places but the bone-chilling cold that has kept many sections below freezing for as long as 13 days is expected to continue through the weekend.

The winter's worst cold wave, plus a heavy weekend snowfall, has been blamed for 410 weather deaths, including 135 in the East where some 150 communities, isolated by the storm, reportedly are short of food and fuel.

The extreme cold extended from the East Coast to Missouri and Iowa and from Maine to Alabama.

ICE IN RIVER

A mile ice gorge that is building up in the Mississippi River is gradually choking off river traffic on other streams near Cairo, Ill. More than 100 barges and their tows were blocked by ice at the junction of the Mississippi and Ohio Rivers. Five towboats and their barges broke through the ice jam and headed south. But the others awaited a break in the cold wave, the worst in more than 20 years.

Snow removal in the East was hampered by the huge storm. Misery and inconvenience followed in the wake of the snow and helicopters rescued marooned farmers and their families in many isolated areas.

Many eastern cities still listed snarled air traffic because of heavy snow drifts and flights were canceled. Most railroads listed long delays in train operations and several trains were stalled in New England.

The economic loss was expected to run into millions.

Winds up to 40 miles an hour hit the San Francisco Bay area. A peak gust of 87 m.p.h. was reported at Tatoosh Island off the northwest tip of Washington.

Heavy rains lashed central and northern California. San Francisco measured an inch of water in a six-hour period and almost four inches were received in a 24-hour period at Point Arena, Calif.

Gusty winds also stirred the nation's northeast quarter with velocities ranging from 20 to 30 miles an hour in the Northeast which gusts of up to 40 miles an hour added to the misery of residents of the mid-Atlantic Coast.

Spotty snow flurries were reported over the Northern Plains and light rain or sprinkles fell in southern and central Texas.

Light snow or snow flurries during the night added to the deep snow belt that extended from Michigan and the lower Great Lakes region eastward through much of New York, Pennsylvania and portions of the New England interior.

A big Army helicopter, one of two that rescued 21 persons stranded in snow-locked northern Indiana rural homes, will distribute drums of fuel oil today to families needing it.

Burns to Stay in Show Business

Gracie Allen Will Retire

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—The famed comedy team of George Burns and Gracie Allen is calling it quits after 35 years in show business.

Burns announced yesterday that Gracie will retire when the team's current TV show closes in May. However, Burns says he will continue in show business.

George said:

"Gracie has had it. She has been in show business all Her life. We have been married 32 years and we have made motion pictures, appeared in vaudeville, nightclubs, and worked hard in every phase of entertainment all our married life.

"Now is the time for Gracie to see our children, our grandchildren, and her friends, and to take life a little easier. It's a grind to learn 25 pages of dialogue out of 46 each week."

Burns said he "will have some kind of show." He has been very successful with his McCadden Company, producing such popular TV shows as the "Bob Cummings Show" and "The People's Choice" as well as the Burns and Allen series which has been on TV for eight years and on radio for 20 years.

"When I was born," one of Gracie Allen's gags goes, "I was so surprised I couldn't talk for a year and a half."

Nationalists Lose Plane Over Communist China

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The Chinese Nationalists confirmed today that they lost a plane on a leaflet-dropping mission over Red China.

Peiping radio said the plane was attacked yesterday by Communist planes south of Haiyang, in Shantung province, and crashed into the sea.

The Nationalist Defense Ministry said the unarmed plane was dropping leaflets "with greetings and messages of comfort for our compatriots on the mainland on the occasion of the Chinese New Year."

Bob Considine Says:

Readjustment? Recession? - - It Depends

NEW YORK (INS) — People . . . places . . . things . . .

Marcus Nadler, professor of finance at the New York University Graduate School of Business, defines the difference between an economic readjustment and a recession:

"If you lose your job and I keep mine, that's a readjustment. But if we both lose our jobs, that's a recession."

The Strategic Air Command headquarters near Omaha covers and includes some ancient red-brick barracks which are all that is left of Fort Crook.

In these relics of a forgotten cavalry post are housed some of the airmen whose daily duties with SAC would have stunned Jules Verne.

But in preparing an intercontinental weapons system, and dreaming of conquest of the moon and even Mars, neither SAC nor the Defense Department has had a chance to repeal two dusty directives under which airmen in the Fort Crook barracks are duty-bound to obey.

One of these bars shooting at buffalo from barracks windows.

The other huffily rules out the use of dead Indians in beds, during bed-checks.

Not incidentally at all, a major concern at SAC these days is the reason why the Russians have stopped all their talk of the Red air force. They no longer send new bombers and fighters whistling over Red Square, or drop hints about their performances. Now the official "leaks" all concern rockets.

Yet more than a year ago, Defense Secretary Wilson gave this testimony to Fowler Hamilton, counsel of Sen. Stuart Symington's subcommittee on the Air Force:

Q.—Is it correct to say at the present time that we estimate the Russians are producing more Bisons (heavyweight jet bombers) than we are B-52s, Mr. Wilson?

A.—That is the best intelligence I have.

Q.—And is it correct to say that, under our present plans and programs, by the period about 1958 they will have more Bisons than we will have B-52s?

A.—I think that that is our present intelligence information.

One SAC officer: "Maybe the Russians want us to build a missile force, knowing it will take us until 1962 to get it working properly. Then they could come over in, say, 1961, with the damndest bomber force ever known and clean our clocks."

Remember Terry Carpenter, the Nebraska delegate who disturbed the GOP convention at San Francisco by preferring "Joe Smith" to Richard M. Nixon, as vice presidential choice?

Well, sir, he's at it again.

Now chairman of the Tax Committee of the Nebraska State Legislature, Terrible Terry of Terrytown has begun a loud scrutiny of the tax status of the state's great do-good organization Aksar-ben.

PIN-WORMS MAY BE A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do ... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge ... the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

Delaware Guard Tanks Save Stranded Scouts

CECILTON, Md. (AP) — Three Delaware National Guard tanks crossed into Maryland early today, plowed through mountainous snow drifts and rescued eight Girl Scouts and their adult leader stranded since Saturday.

The nine had been living the past two days on canned tomato soup and dry cereal. None suffered any ill effects.

Deaware's Gov. J. Caleb Boggs ordered the tanks to the rescue after getting permission from Maryland authorities to cross the state line.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass
Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

Children Prefer Being Bored to Frostbitten

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — This has been a miserable, draggy unreasonable type of winter for most Americans who are not of Icelandic descent, or who cannot say "freeze" in Eskimese.

Even the children, it is said by those brainy folks with doctor of delinquency degrees, are bored by the whole thing. After two months of frostbite they would just as soon go to school as to construct or destroy another snowman. And you know that's abnormal.

The role for the housewife is especially difficult, compounded by the fact that nobody in the family wants to go out. When it's a choice between physical discomfort and boredom, they'll take the latter, thanks, and so will the dog and cat.

This means, depending on the size of her family and their respective appetites, that weekends (plus weekdays, if this is a fashionable flu-ridden group) are not only tough but tedious. Familiarity of this type breeds cracker crumbs under the TV stools. And not only that, the issue of who takes out the garbage becomes a large, legal hassle.

Toward the end of a long, sequestered winter such as this, a housewife—who is accustomed to being alone, in and with her vacuum—well may turn into a new woman, ready to chew nails and chew out people who won't eat their junket.

With her family closely cluttered around her, she wonders how come it was she missed her husband so on his last trip to Schenectady. She recalls aghast the pride she once displayed in showing the babies' pictures.

As for the dog, she has lost respect for him altogether. He is a shivering, shedding, smelly sissy who hasn't the gumption to venture past the storm doors even for a taste of postman.

The cat, out of sorts at having people usurp the couch, is more unlovable than usual, and because of pure annoyance or upset stomach over the whole thing, may neglect his duties mouse-wise.

Housewifely friends of mine have dreamed up several antidotes for this touchy situation in the home of a winter day. One woman, whose entire family of four has had red noses and grooved tongues from temperature-taking for two weeks, decided it might be a splendid idea to show photographic slides of their last summer's vacation in Georgia.

Everyone was so frustrated (not only did they miss Georgia, they missed the Perry Como show) that there were two relapses and one psychosomatic case of hives.

Senator Hayden to Set Record With 47th Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Carl Hayden (D-Ariz), who is usually seen but rarely heard in congressional circles, sets a record tomorrow when he begins his 47th year as a member of Congress.

The 80-year-old Hayden has served continuously since being sworn in Feb. 19, 1912, as the first old state of Arizona. He put in 14 years in the House, then moved over to the Senate.

Only one other member has served as long as 46 years. Rep. Joe Cannon (R-Ill) counted that many years of House tenure before retiring in 1923.

Hayden is chairman of the appropriations committee and president pro tempore of the Senate, a position that leaves him third in line of presidential succession.

Despite these posts, he is one of the quietest and most unobtrusive members of Congress. He makes few speeches, rarely holds a news conference and doesn't issue many statements.

"I've always thought I should do a fair day's work every day and let the work speak for itself," Hayden said.

Indians Claim Big Dupe in State Acreage Deal

Want Wampum for Land Sold in 1836

WASHINGTON (AP) — Descendents of Indians who sold more than one-third of the present state of Michigan to the United States in 1836 have asked the government for a better purchase price.

The long legal battle of the Chippewa and Ottawa Indians to get more money for the land reached the hearing stage before the Indian Claims Commission.

But the Michigan Indians still face a long fight before they collect any wampum from Uncle Sam. They first must prove to the commission that their ancestors held title to the land before 1836. Then they must prove that the original purchase price is insufficient.

If this fails, the Indians can appeal to the Court of Claims.

The treaty of May 27, 1836, ceded to the United States 13,734,000 acres of land in the western part of Michigan's Lower Peninsula and the eastern part of the Upper Peninsula for $2,308,451—about 16.8 cents an acre.

PRICE 'UNCONSCIONABLE'

About 4,000 to 5,000 present-day Chippewas and Ottawas who live in the purchased area claim the price was "grossly inadequate and unconscionable," another case of the white man pulling the blanket over the eyes of the red man. They say the land was worth at least $1.25 an acre.

Congress barred the Indians from suing the government to get more money in the past. The Indian Claims Act of 1946 establishing the Claims Commission opened a door for the Indians, and they filed their petition in 1949.

"The minimum value of the land must be presumed to have been $1.25 per acre on the date ceded," the petition said. "The actual value much exceeded that sum."

The Indians' petition chronicles a long list of acts by the government allegedly intended to make the Indian chiefs knuckle under and sell their homeland. The petition charges:

"Trespassing settlers were harrowing the Indians. Threat of removal to distant lands was hanging over their heads . . .

"They (the Indians) knew nothing of the value of money or the money value of the land . . .

"They were unable to understand the terms and effect of the treaty and felt that they had no choice but to make their marks upon the paper laid before them."

In addition, the present-day Indians say, the government offered "special inducements" to the chiefs and enlisted the support of Indiana traders by promising them $300,000 of the purchase price to settle the Indians' outstanding debts.

The government did all this, says the petition, to obtain land "indispensable to the future growth and commercial prospects of the state."

906 Bills Face '58 Legislature

Some Action Must Be Taken on All Proposals Prior to April 11

LANSING (AP) — The 1958 Legislature finally has its work cut out — 906 pieces of it, each in the form of a bill.

That was the measure of its job between now and the scheduled session end April 11, to pass, amend and pass or kill them all, plus about 15 appropriations bills that will come along later.

The total compares with 768 measures dumped into the mill two years ago in the last "short" session.

It was swelled last night as more than 100 proposals rattled into the legislative hopper in advance of a deadline for introductions postponed from last Wednesday.

Among them were several major features of Gov. Williams' program, including a bonding proposal for 55 million dollars in buildings at state educational and other institutions.

A seven member building authority, consisting of the state treasurer, state auditor general and state controller and four persons named by the governor, could issue bonds to finance projects.

The completed structures then would be leased to state agencies, with the bonds to be repaid out of lease fees appropriated annually by the legislature.

Other proposals reflected the governor's ideas on civil rights, state park improvements, freedom of information and stimulation of industrial growth.

Hearing Set Monday for Keego Stepfather

Frank Szumowski Jr., 25, of Keego Harbor, charged with cruelty to children in the alleged thrashing of his 10-year-old stepdaughter Feb. 7, was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court at his examination today before West Bloomfield Township Justice Elmer C. Dieterle.

Judge Dieterle ordered Szumowski, of 2066 Willow Beach Rd., returned to the Oakland County Jail with bond continued at $5,000. The bond has not been furnished.

His arraignment in Circuit Court has been set for 9:30 a.m. Monday. Szumowski, an unemployed welder, is facing charges stemming from his alleged thrashing of Diane Dube, his wife's daughter by a previous marriage, with a razor strop.

Whole Country Will Feel Loss of Senator Byrd

Senator HARRY F. BYRD, of Virginia, has declared that he will not be a candidate for the United States Senate this fall.

BYRD

This is a blow to Virginia.

It hurts the whole Democratic party.

In fact, it's a blow to the United States of America. Senator HARRY F. BYRD is a truly great American and a great Statesman first. His political party, religion, social status, etc., are relegated to secondary position.

Herein lies his greatness.

Primarily, he's for mankind.

Senator Byrd has been a champion watchdog of budgets and all Federal expenditures. Perhaps no man in public life has fought the unending battle of the taxpayers as valiantly and successfully as this Southerner. Here is taxpayers' greatest friend, often unsung, but everlastingly on the job.

Senator BYRD's capabilities extended far beyond this one division of public affairs. There is nothing insular about the great Virginian. He has served Virginia and his nation honorably, cleanly and with great credit to himself and his people. He understood all questions at the National level and yet he was close to the common man—the little man—and the man who needed help. Senator BYRD was thoughtful, studious and dependable. He has long been one of his party's bulwarks—in fact, one of the powerful, underlying forces for good and progress in the entire District of Columbia.

There has been some talk in Virginian circles that his son, Harry Y. Byrd Jr., might be a candidate to succeed his famous father. The younger Byrd (43 years old) is currently a Senator in the Virginia Legislature and has been mentioned several times as a Gubernatorial candidate. He is an aggressive young man and would make a worthy successor to his distinguished father.

This entire nation suffers a loss in the current retirement of Senator Byrd.

Foresight Eliminates Fear of Another Crash

Business certainly isn't "brisk" or on the same levels that it was a while back, but it is infinitely better than it has been many, many times in the past.

Probably the world will never reach a point where business gets better every single year for every single individual. We don't believe The Maker intended it to be that way. Hence, the current flat spot can be viewed with greater optimism than many of those in the past. The payrolls in the United States are still huge. The national income is gigantic —RIGHT NOW.

At the same time, we are all very happy over the fact the economic leaders and the Government are busily planning antidotes and counter measures to turn the trend upward again. One of the most recent is frank talk of an income tax reduction to apply against all or part of 1958 incomes.

Both parties are interested.

A joint effort may result.

There will probably be no decisions for at least another 60 days as the leaders wish to observe the trend of the times a little longer, with the ardent wish that things may revert anyway.

One thing is certain: we will not drift aimlessly into a mess as we did in the early thirties. And that's a very comforting thought. There will be definite and corrective measures taken until the desired results are obtained. A quarter of a century ago, this nation simply slid around helplessly.

Those days are gone.

Everyone would welcome a tax reduction, but we'd all rather forego that and see the business cycle whirl merrily again.

The Man About Town

It Was 'Jack's Hill'

Great Winter Resort Today Is Far Cry From That Time

Ideal husband: According to many wives, the one who'll wash up when asked and dry up when told.

As more thousands crowd to the

every day and night than to any other of Michigan's 100 odd such winter recreational area, my recollections go back for over 60 years.

The present four-lane

Dixie Highway Pavement

that goes past it rests on what then was a couple of ruts, known as the

Saginaw Turnpike,

succeeding by only a few years the

that wound through the Groveland hills.

The elevation, highest for many miles around, was known as

"Jack's Hill,"

because its owner, who lived at its base, was a rough-and-ready bearded rugged individualist. His abode dated back to the days when the Indians roamed that area —he told of dickering with them.

The neighborhood boys regarded him as a sort of inland.

Robinson Crusoe,

and he once told me that he could raise all of the food that he needed on a small plot of level ground, his only outside expenditures being less than $10 a year.

He seemed to love solitude—and he had it. In the winter he almost went into hibernation. His habitation seemed all the more eerie to us youngsters because it was located behind a cemetery.

A few years later I enjoyed the distinction of being the first person to drive an automobile to the top of that hill. That was in 1916, and it was accomplished by a battle with underbrush, while dodging trees and boulders. At the summit I found a comparatively level spot, from which thousands of skiers now take off. I wish that Jack knew about it—perhaps he does. He was a good soul.

I have it directly from the top men in the Michigan Conservation Department that we should dim our lights when we see any animal in the highway. They "freeze" in their tracks when dazzled by the bright lights, but will leap out of danger when the lights are dimmed.

A national survey, according to

Ike Finally Tells Off the Kremlin

WASHINGTON — A British foreign office spokesman calls it a "refreshing" piece of diplomatic writing. It is considered by Prime Minister Macmillan as an "excellent statement." The United Press report speaks of it as "tartly worded." Certainly the letter sent by President Eisenhower to Soviet Premier Bulganin is rightly described as unusual.

LAWRENCE

And most Americans will say it was about time that the President told off the Kremlin rulers with a forthright statement of the facts of international life today.

For if the Soviet chiefs really want an East-West conference in order to relieve tension, they have gone about it the wrong way. There is no advantage to be gained by insulting the President, the secretary of state and the American people by attributing unworthy motives to them and then demanding a meeting to discuss only the things prescribed by Moscow for consideration.

While Bulganin signs the letters, Khrushchev concurrently makes vicious and bitter attacks in public speeches. Mr. Eisenhower wisely coupled the two and declared that this battle of words is not going to help solve international problems.

"I begin to wonder, Mr. Chairman," wrote the President, "whether we shall get anywhere by continuing to write speeches to each other."

This was but one of a series of acid comments which normally do not occur in diplomatic notes or interchanges. The President added:

"I deplore the constantly mounting accusations within the Soviet Union that the United States is a nation ruled by aggressive, warminded imperialists. Mr. Khrushchev's speech of Jan. 22 is an outstanding example of such charges and indeed they are to be found in your Feb. 1 note."

Mr. Eisenhower, in a vein of challenging sarcasm, declared that "it is possible that Soviet leadership feels it necessary deliberately to misrepresent the American viewpoint" and that, "if so, one effect would be to confuse their own people and the people of those Eastern European countries under their domination, who are denied access to world information except as the Soviet leaders permit."

"Another effect," continued the President, "would be to make true cooperation more difficult."

But while the President said that " 'polemics' will not, I fear, advance us along the path of better relations," he did argue for a different approach—some way of conducting the negotiations without the artificiality of propaganda maneuvers.

"I cannot avoid the feeling," declared the President, "that if our two countries are to move ahead to the establishment of better relations, we must find some ways other than mere prolongation of repetitive public debate."

Mr. Eisenhower brushed aside the "polemics" after an excellent rebuttal of every argument offered by the Bulganin-Khrushchev notes and speeches.

"I prefer," said the President, "to assume that these misrepresentations are not willful but result from genuine misconceptions which could be done away with."

This section is in the polite style of diplomacy which recites answers to charges and then adopts the customary tactics of giving the other side a way out.

The Eisenhower letter is unlike any that has been written in the exchanges heretofore between the Soviet Union and the United States. It disposes bluntly of any theory that the Soviet Union can select America's secretary of state.

The President makes it clear that Secretary Dulles will participate in the making of policies with reference to an East-West meeting, whether or not the Soviet rulers like it.

Altogether, the Eisenhower letter —doubtless prepared at the White House from point-by-point memoranda furnished by the State Department—calls the Soviet bluff. If the Moscow regime really wants a "summit" conference, it can have one.

But there must first be a demonstration through diplomatic channels that the Soviets are sincere—a difficult proposition to establish when there is evidently no sincerity on the part of Communists. For they believe in giving pledges only to break them.

The Country Parson

WC 2-19

"Our tendency is to expect God to give us OUR answers to prayers—not His."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Limit Bellows-Breathing to Healthful Daily Dozen

I recommend, as standard belly breathing exercise, six inflations, once, twice, three times or at most four times a day.

Or, say, a dozen inflations daily. In the pamphlet Belly Breathing, for which send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope, I say the exercise is best done when you get into bed at night and before you get up in the morning.

DR. BRADY

Belly breathing continued for more than six inflations (forced breathing, hypernea) may cause some numbness and tingling, coldness of the feet and perhaps tremors and slight tightness of the muscles.

One who overbreathes (deep but not rapid inflations) for a few minutes can hold his breath for three-quarters of a minute to a minute thereafter. Divers overbreathe for a few minutes and then can stay under water for two or three minutes. Without preliminary overbreathing a healthy person should be able to hold his breath 30 to 35 seconds. If you can't do so, you'd better quit smoking excessively or consult a physician.

Here are the practical benefits to be derived from a daily dozen inflations of the bellows:

1. Belly breathing tends to bring down and keep down high blood pressure.

2. If you have cold feet when you go to bed, six inflations will get your dogs warm and let you sleep.

3. B. B. has a calming, tranquilizing influence and helps "nervous" creatures to get pleasantly relaxed.

4. Six inflations twice daily — before you get out of bed in the morning and after you get into bed at night — will serve as a natural massage of liver, gallsac and bile-ducts, and indirectly tend to prevent many ailments associated with functional inactivity of these organs and stagnation of bile.

5. A daily dozen inflations faithfully carried out 365 days in the year — will prevent, relieve or cure most of the menstrual difficulties of young women.

6. For persons with chronic bronchitis (recurring winter cough), bronchial asthma, emphysema (constant wheezing and shortness of breath) or bronchiectasis (ballooning, dilation of bronchial tube or tubes), six inflations three times a day.

These are only the more familiar benefits derived from regular practice of the belly breathing exercise as described in the B B pamphlet. The most important benefit to be gained from natural breathing is improvement of the circulation, especially the return flow of blood through the veins to the heart. More about this later.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Opposed to Doing Away With Legal Holiday Nov. 11

In reference to a recent article suggesting it, I can't imagine any World War I veteran even as much as thinking of doing away with Nov. 11 as a legal holiday, even though we've had two wars since. That day is as close in my mind today as it was 39 years ago and other veterans who saw service in 1917 and 1918 should feel the same way.

I haven't forgotten the back slaps and handshakes we got when we left Detroit to go into training. I am among the first few who enlisted at the tent in Cadillac Square. At the time, Armistice Day stood out as wonderfully as VJ Day did in 1945. I'm very proud of that day, too, because I had two sons, a son-in-law and a number of nephews who served in World War II and one son in Korea.

So let's keep Veteran's Day alive if only for our grandchildren to remember, for every man that came back from France sacrificed plenty. And he wasn't offered a free education, a chance to buy a new home with the help of the Veterans Administration, and in a lot of places he couldn't even buy a job. Let's keep Veteran's Day, but let's make it Armistice Day again.

General Taylor Urges Cool, Firm U.S. Policy

CHICAGO (AP)—General Maxwell D. Taylor said today this country must maintain "a cool steadfastness in the face of the missile blackmail and tough diplomacy which we can expect to encounter in our future relations with the Communist bloc."

The Army chief of staff also reiterated a contention some other Army officials have made: that with both the Soviet Union and the United States able to kill off each other in a general nuclear war, the prospect of limited aggression by the Soviets is increasing.

In an address prepared for the National Military-Industrial Conference, Taylor said: "There is strong reason to feel that while avoiding general atomic war, communism will incline toward limited aggression, infiltration, subversion and the like—courses of action which appear as increasingly serious threats to world peace. . . . Immediately after the deterrence of general war I consider the mission of deterring, or winning quickly any local aggression as an indispensible part of our security."

The Army, Taylor said, has a major role in the program of deterrence. In the Amy's budget for new year, he said, "66 per cent of our dollars and 68 per cent of our personnel are used to maintain Army forces with an identifiable contribution to our national deterrent power."

Up to now, principal reliance for the deterrent power has been placed on the long-range bombers of the Air Force and Navy, Taylor said, but added that in the last year the Soviet Union has made great strides in the same fields.

Even the nuclear superiority which the United States held for several years did not stop Soviet military and political aggression, Taylor noted.

CHILD CARE

There is availible, for widows, widowers and divorced persons who have not remarried, a child care deduction not to exceed $600, if deductions are itemized. If it is necessary for you to hire someone to take care of one or more of your dependents so that you can be gainfully employed, then a deduction can be taken for the amount paid.

A taxpayer is entitled to a child care deduction provided the care is for a dependent child (or stepchild) and the child is under 12 years of age, or a person physically or mentally incapable of caring for himself, regardless of age.

The child care deduction cannot be claimed if the amount of money as a deduction is paid to a dependent of the taxpayer.

Working wives may also claim child care deduction provided a joint return is filed with husband and combined adjusted gross income of husband and wife does not exceed $5100.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

You Can Give Others Sound Advice

Andrew is typical of thousands of other lawyers, clergymen, doctors and dentists who help vaccinate their clients by the medico-psychological booklets offered as a non-profit by-product of this column. Don't hesitate to stop divorce and delinquency whenever you get the chance. You don't need seven years of college psychology to apply "horse sense" to human relations.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case X-333: Andrew J., aged 37, is a very good example of the versatile modern State's Attorney.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I have followed your psychology column in our newspaper for years.

"And I have used hundreds of your booklets, especially those that deal with marriage problems.

"For we attorneys often have a good chance to offer some sound advice to feuding couples.

"It always helps bolster my interview to offer the clients an appropriate booklet on sex or marriage problems. And I frequently use your 'Tests for Successful Parents,' too.

"I don't want you to think I am trying to invade the province of the psychiatrist, but I have seen a great deal of happiness result from my frank advice.

"Don't you feel that we attorneys often can stop divorces by talking to litigants like a Dutch uncle?"

Yes, indeed. And since 1952 I have especially noted the large number of leading attorneys and judges who have begun to use these educational booklets as a supplement to their private counseling.

Andrew is quite right in saying that he often finds clients in the receptive mood for some sound advice.

So strike while the iron is hot! It is immaterial whether you lawyers or ministers or we psychiatrists happen to be the key adviser at this psychological moment.

In most cases what the feuding couples need is mature counsel from a professional man whose wide experience permits him to say the right thing at the right time.

Lawyers nowadays are thus doing yeoman service in vaccinating couples against divorce and in advising parents, as well as delinquent teenagers.

And the problem is so large that all professions should unite in trying to stabilize homes and safeguard happy family life.

NEWSPAPER AIDS

In counseling, it has long been found effective to offer the patients or clients something tangible to take home with them.

That's why I spent many months writing the various educational booklets offered via this clinical column.

Many other educators could have written similar booklets or even improved on mine. But if you don't have access to better Rating Scales, then have no hesitation in using these which your progressive newspaper offers.

These booklets are strictly a non-profit service made possible by this newspaper. I derive no royalty whatever from the booklets and donate all my time when I handle your letters.

Neither your newspaper nor the newspaper syndicate that handles my column, receives a cent of profit from this mail service. It is simply an educational aid for vaccinating people against unhappiness, insanity and delinquency.

Clergymen and physicians, as well as lawyers and dentists by the thousands are using these educational booklets in their dealing with people.

For they have found, as has Andrew in his legal office, that when the iron is hot, you should strike with some sound counsel.

And don't quibble over whether you are an attorney or psychiatrist, school teacher or Scout executive.

If you can help stabilize personality and salvage a happy home, by all means do so!

QUESTION: Why is a rabbit's foot considered lucky?

ANSWER: The belief that a rabit's foot is lucky is one of many superstitions handed down to us from centuries past. No one is certain just where it started, but it is believed to have its basis in the fact that a rabbit's strong hind feet enable him to leap swiftly out of danger when attacked by an enemy.

And something you may not know is that it's not just any rabbit's foot that is considered lucky—it's the left hind foot. The hind foot because it is strong and the left because many years ago left-handedness was considered very unusual and a person who was left-handed was believed to have a magic quality.

FOR YOU TO DO: Here is a rabbit caught in the act of trespassing on somebody's vegetable garden. Have you ever seen a rabbit's tracks in the snow? Why do the big tracks of the rear feet appear ahead of the small tracks of the front feet?

Hazard to School Children Protested in Waterford

Chairman of the Waterford Township Independent Safety Association Ralph Blair presented State Senator L. Harvey Lodge with some 800 letters from township residents at a meeting last night.

The letters contained protests of traffic hazards encountered by children walking to and from schools on highways termed narrow and crowded, and urged Lodge to intercede in the Legislature on behalf of parents concerned.

For some time, various organizations in Waterford Township have been making survey studies regarding the safety problem.

The Independent Association contends that there are enough busses in the school system to accommodate the children if school hours could be staggered, according to Blair.

Blair and his committee have been making personal checks of bus schedules, capacity loads and routes traveled in an effort to determine the possibility of bus transportation for all children in the township.

Sponsored by 19 Parent-Teacher Associations, another group known as the Waterford Township Safety Committee, are working with the Board of Education on a long-range plan for safe walking facilities.

The group has made surveys of their local areas, and are hoping to solve the problem by having each individual home-owner pay for the construction of sidewalks in front of his property.

Chairman of the group Frank Rudloff said that Safety Committee chairmen are now collecting data on construction costs and Oakland County Road Commission regulations as a short-cut for the home-owner.

"There is no way that home owners can be taxed for sidewalks, so it will be up to each individual to help solve this problem, Rudloff said.

All information now being collected will be channeled into one survey study, and will be presented at the next Safety Committee meeting March 3rd at the high school, Rudloff concluded.

CHAPTER 42

Lucy said, "Bryan likes Rutherford Hall so much because it reminds him of the big rambling Victorian house he lived in when he was a child."

"I see . . ." said Miss Marple thoughtfully. "Yes, I see . . ."

Then, with a quick sideways glance at Lucy, she said with a kind of verbal pounce, "But that isn't all of it, is it dear? There's something else."

"Oh yes, there's something else. Just something that I didn't realize until just a couple of days ago. Bryan was actually on that train.

"On the 4:54 from Paddington?"

"Yes. You see Emma thought she was required to account for her movements on December 20th and she went over it all very carefully—a committee meeting in the morning, and then shopping in the afternoon and tea at the Green Shamrock, and then, she said, she went to meet Bryan at the station. I worked out when she'd had tea and the times, and the train she met must have been the 4:33. So I asked Bryan, quite casually, and he said Yes, it was, and added that his car had had a biff and was being repaired and so he had to come down by train—an awful bore, he said, he hates trains. He seemed quite natural about it all . . . It may be quite all right—but I wish, somehow he hadn't been on that train . . ."

"Actually on the train," said Miss Marple thoughtfully.

"It doesn't really prove anything. The awful thing is all this suspicion. Not to know. And perhaps we never shall know!"

"Of course we shall know, dear," said Miss Marple briskly, "I mean—all this isn't going to stop just at this point. The one thing I do know about murderers is that they can never let well alone. Or perhaps one should say—ill alone. At any rate," said Miss Marple with finality, "they can't once they've done a second murder. Now don't get too upset, Lucy. The police are doing all they can, and looking after everybody — and the great thing is that Elspeth McGillicuddy will be here very soon now!"

"Now, Elspeth, you're quite clear as to what I want you to do?"

"I'm clear enough," said Mrs. McGillicuddy, "but what I say to you is, Jane, that it seems very odd."

"It's not odd at all," said Miss Marple.

"Well, I think so. To arrive at the house and to ask almost immediately whether I can - er - go upstairs."

"It's very cold weather," Miss Marple pointed out, "and after all, you might have eaten something that disagreed with you and - er - have to ask to go upstairs. I mean, these things happen. I remember poor Louisa Felby came to see me once and she had to ask to go upstairs five times during one little half hour. That," added Miss Marple parenthically, "was a bad Cornish pasty."

"If you'd just tell me what you're driving at, Jane," said Mrs. McGillicuddy.

"That's just what I don't want to do," said Miss Marple.

"How irritating you are, Jane. First you make me come all the way back to England before I need—"

"I'm sorry about that," said Miss Marple, "but I couldn't do anything else. Someone, you see, may be killed at any moment. Oh, I know they're all on their guard and the police are taking all the precautions they can, but there's always the outside chance that the murderer might be too clever for them. So you see, Elspeth, it was your duty to come back. After all, you and I were brought up to do our duty, weren't we?"

"We certainly were," said Mrs. McGillicuddy, "no laxness in our young days."

"So that's quite all right," said Miss Marple, "and that's the taxi now," she added, as a faint hoot was heard outside the house.

Mrs. McGillicuddy donned her heavy pepper and salt coat and Miss Marple wrapped herself up with a good many shawls and scarves. Then the two ladies got into the taxi and were driven to Rutherford Hall.

"Who can this be driving up?" Emma asked, looking out of the window, as the taxi swept past it. "I do believe it's Lucy's old aunt."

"What a bore," said Cedric. He was lying back in a long chair looking at Country Life with his feet reposing on the side of the mantelpiece.

"Tell her you're not at home."

"When you say tell her I'm not at home, do you mean that I should go out and say do? Or that I should tell Lucy to tell her aunt so?"

"Hadn't thought of that," said Cedric. "I suppose I was thinking of our butler and footman days, if we ever had them. I seem to remember a footman before the war. He had an affair with the kitchen maid and there was a terrific rumpus about it. Isn't there one of those old hags about the place cleaning?"

But at that moment the door was opened by Mrs. Hart whose afternoon it was for cleaning the brasses, and Miss Marple came in, very fluttery, in a whirl of shawls and scarves, with a tall uncompromising figure behind her.

"I do hope," said Miss Marple, taking Emma's hand, "that we are not intruding. But you see, I'm going home the day after tomorrow and I couldn't bear not to come over and see you and say goodbye and thank you again for your goodness to Lucy. Oh, I forgot. May I introduce my friend, Mrs. McGillicuddy, who is staying with me?"

"How d'you do," said Mrs. McGillicuddy, looking at Emma with complete attention and then shifting her gaze to Cedric, who had now risen to his feet. Lucy entered the room at this moment.

"Aunt Jane, I had no idea . . ."

"I had to come and say goodby to Miss Crackenthorpe," said Miss Marple, turning to her, "who has been so very very kind to you, Lucy."

"It's Lucy who's been very kind to us," said Emma.

"Yes, indeed," said Cedric. "We've worked her like a galley slave . . . Waiting on the sick room, running up and down the stairs, cooking little invalid messes . . ."

Miss Marple broke in. "I was so very, very sorry to hear of your illness. I do hope you're quite recovered now, Miss Crackenthorpe?"

"Oh, we're quite well again now," said Emma.

"Lucy told me you were all very ill. So dangerous, isn't it, food poisoning? Mushrooms, I understand?"

"The cause remains rather mysterious," said Emma.

"Don't you believe it," said Cedric. "I bet you've heard the rumors that are flying round, Miss-er-"

"Marple," said Miss Marple.

"Well, as I say, I bet you've heard the rumors that are flying round. Nothing like arsenic for raising a little flutter in the neighborhood."

"Cedric," said Emma, "I wish you wouldn't. You know Inspector Craddock said . . ."

"Bah," said Cedric, "everybody knows. Even you've heard something, haven't you?" He turned to Miss Marple and Mrs. McGillicuddy.

"I myself," said Mrs. McGillicuddy, "have only just returned from abroad, the day before yesterday," she added.

"Ah, well, you're not up in our local scandal then," said Cedric. "Arsenic in the curry, that's what it was. Lucy's aunt knows all about it, I bet."

"Well," said Miss Marple, "I did just hear—I mean it was just a hint, but of course I didn't want to embarrass you in any way, Miss Crackenthorpe."

"You must pay no attention to my brother," said Emma. "He just likes making people uncomfortable." She gave him an affectionate smile as she spoke.

The door opened and Mr. Crackenthorpe came in, tapping angrily with his stick.

"Where's tea?" he said, "why isn't tea ready? You! Girl!" he addressed Lucy, "Why haven't you brought tea in?"

"It's just ready, Mr. Crackenthorpe. I'm bringing it in now. I was just setting the table ready."

Sermon, 'Loud' Singing Produce No Sounds

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Seventy-five members of the congregation sang lustily at a revival service opening at the Hampton Place Baptist church but you couldn't hear a note.

The Rev. Leslie Gunn of Oklahoma City delivered a sermon. Again no sound.

DETROIT WOMEN HIGHLY PRAISE O-JIB-WA BITTERS

Everyday, hundreds of new users of O-Jib-Wa Bitters are getting amazing results. For rheumatism, arthritis and stomach trouble. The following endorsements are but three of many, and are offered with the sincere purpose of helping others.

Mrs. Robbins

Mrs. Carey

Mrs. Russell

MRS. VERA ROBBINS, 48 W. Ferry, Detroit, says: "I tried about everything for arthritis in my arm, legs and neck, so when I saw a testimonial in my newspaper for O-JIB-WA BITTERS, I decided to try it. I'm very happy I did, for results were quick in coming. Once again, I can comb my hair, put on my coat and walk again without terrible pain, thanks to O-JIB-WA."

MRS. CAREY, 515 Lathers St., Garden City, says: "I suffered 12 years with arthritis and rheumatism so bad I couldn't close my hands, raise my arms, turn my head or walk, as my ankles were swollen to three times their normal size. I even spent 11 weeks in Hot Springs, Ark., without much help. I finally learned about O-JIB-WA BITTERS and am on my 4th bottle. The terrible pains are gone, and I feel like a new person."

MRS. RUSSELL, 31600 8 Mile Rd., Livonia, says: "The first bottle of O-JIB-WA BITTERS stopped the suffering of arthritis pains in my arms and shoulders. It's a great stomach medicine too as I no longer have gas or indigestion. My husband's arthritis was helped also, so I recommended O-JIB-WA BITTERS to a friend barely able to walk, who is all better now and teaching school. I sure recommend O-JIB-WA BITTERS highly."

If Defendant Can't Afford Lawyer

Court Gets Attorneys to Represent Accused

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

"But Judge, I can't afford a mouthpiece," exclaimed the prisoner at the bar.

TRUMBULL

This accused person — or others who find themselves confronted with trial without benefit of legal advice — needn't fret. The scales of justice will still tilt slightly in their favor.

This is provided by a system of court-appointed attorneys in Oakland and other Michigan counties.

"We want everyone to be represented," said Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem, "because the whole theory of our laws is the protection of the rights of the accused."

This protection cost the county $3,280 last year and $3,845 the previous year. There were some 25 cases where defendants last year requested court-appointed counsel.

NAMED BY STATE

A sequel to this service is the role of the television-popularized public defender, a practice employed in several states. Here, the legal counsel is usually appointed by the state.

"I definitely prefer our System," Ziem said. "Here the allegiance of the attorney is only towards the client, while under the public defender system, because he's appointed, this might lean also in another direction beside the client's."

The court-appointed attorney—if the defendant requests one—is selected here by the presiding judge from among members of the Oakland County Bar.

RESTS WITH JUDGE

What this lawyer receives for defending his client rests with the judge who hears the case. "This is according to the number of trial days and the nature of the offense," explained Ziem.

It used to be, he explained further, that the accused wasn't afforded legal counsel at his or her request until trial began in Circuit Court.

Under a statutory amendment passed last year, the attorney begins his work with his client in the lower court examination.

Whether the prisoner at the bar can afford his own attorney or not is decided by the appointing judge.

Only those persons charged in misdemeanor or felony criminal cases can look forward to receiving this free legal aid, the prosecutor emphasized.

"When asking for this aid," he added, "often the defendant requests an attorney by name. This is permissible, but in most cases it isn't done."

What are the chances of the accused if he or she goes to trial without benefit of an attorney? "There are very few cases where this happens," Ziem pointed out.

But he recalled a case 10 years ago where a man charged with armed robbery interrupted his trial by announcing he was firing his court-appointed attorney, and would defend himself.

"By the way," Ziem added, "he was convicted."

State Still Sincere in Closing Letters

LANSING (AP) — Don't look anymore for a "sincerely yours" or "very truly yours" as the signoff on any letters from the department of state.

Secretary of state James M. Hare today ordered subordinates to steer clear of such "hackneyed stereotypes" and to conclude correspondence with "yours for highway safety" or a similar legend.

Hare is chairman of the State Traffic Safety Commission.

Boy Strangled as Head Entangled in Bicycle

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A bicycle became a death trap for David John Schlachter, 3½.

His mother Mrs. Edward Schlachter found him lying on his back with his head caught between one of the bike's fenders and the frame. He had strangled.

The bike belongs to a 6-year-old brother.

LITTLE MOUNTAIN OF SNOW — Few snowdrifts in Oakland County can compare with this one — a 14-footer next to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Begle, 2448 Locklin Lane, Union Lake. The drift has been attracting a lot of attention, especially from children in the neighborhood. Atop the little snow mountain are the Begles' children and their nurse, Irene Baufuess: (from left) Peggy, Danny, Kathy, Patrick and Richard.

Begin Special Lenten Services

Orion Churches Open Period With Observance of Ash Wednesday

ORION TOWNSHIP — Churches in Orion Township began their series of special Lenten services today, Ash Wednesday.

St. Joseph Catholic Church had the Blessing of the ashes previous to the 7 a.m. Mass, with distribution of the ashes following both this and an 11 a.m. Mass.

The Rev. Fr. Morris Geary from St. Benedicts Church in Highland Park will preach Lenten sermons at 7:45 this evening and on Thursday evening at the same time, thereafter.

The second series, The Stations of the Cross will be given on Saturday evening at 7:30 beginning Feb. 22 and continuing through Lent.

The First Baptist Church will hold a Sunday School rally. With an attendance of 515 a year ago, it is striving for 600.

A midweek prayer service, Bible study and devotionals will be held each Wednesday evevening at 7:30.

A series of youth rallies in cooperation with other churches will be held on Saturday nights, the next one at Utica March 1.

Lake Orion Methodist Church will begin its Lenten dinners next Wednesday. The potluck dinner will be furnished by the WSCS. It will be followed by special speakers emphasizing the Lenten theme.

St. Alfred's Episcopal Church will conduct Communion services at 6:30 a.m. and 9 a.m. Each Thursday beginning on Feb. 27, with a short address each morning on the meaning of Lent.

The Wednesday eve song at 8 p.m. for adults will be followed by a comprehensive study of the Christian faith, conducted by the Rev. W. O. Swan.

St. Mary's Episcopal Church will hold two services at 10 a.m. and the Penitential office and service of antecommunion at 8 p.m. on Ash Wednesday.

Special evening services at 8 p.m. will follow the fellowship dinners at 6 p.m. each Thursday beginning on Feb. 27 and continuing through Lent.

Goal of $300,000 Set

Hospital Fund Drive Chairman Appointed

ROMEO—Harold L. Prescott has been named general chairman of the Community Hospital Fund Drive scheduled to take place in March.

A goal of $300,000 has been set to finish the building, now nearing completion on Van Dyke between Romeo and Almont.

Additional funds also are needed to equip and furnish the hospital, as well as for maintenance.

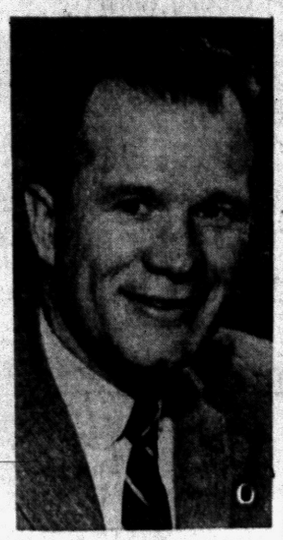

Prescott, 36, is supervisor of the Technical Section of the Ford Motor Company's Michigan Proving Grounds northwest of Romeo. He is married, has two children and lives at 2771 Mack Rd.

Prescott will appoint three vice chairmen to carry on the functions of the campaign. He will name a service chairman in charge of lists, publicity, audit and program; a large and advance gifts chairman and an operational committee chairman who will appoint and direct chairmen of the eight districts in the area.

The districts to be served by the new hospital are (1) Leonard-Oxford-Lakeville (2) Romeo (3) Washington (4) Almont-Dryden (5) Imlay City (6) Capac (7) Allenton-Berville and (8) Armada.

These communities all are within a 12-mile radius of the new hospital.

Churches Plan Joint Service

Five Congregations in Walled Lake Area Unite for World Prayer Day

WALLED LAKE — Members of five churches in the Walled Lake area will join together in observance of the World Day of Prayer at 1:30 p.m. Friday at Crossroad Presbyterian Church on Welch road.

The special services are sponsored by the General Department of United Church Women of the National Council of Churches in Christ.

Participating churches are: Walled Lake Methodist, Walled Lake First Baptist, Shepherd of the Lake Evangelical Lutheran, Commerce Methodist and Crossroad Presbyterian.

Mrs. Carl Grapentine will be a a soloist at the services, accompanied by Mrs. D. S. Patterson. Hymn singing will be led by Mrs. Perry A. Thomas.

Chairman and co-chairman of the observance event are Mrs. A. J. Koenig and Mrs. Noel Swindler, respectively.

A "get acquainted" tea will be held in the Fellowship Room of the Crossroad Presbyterian church immediately after the services.

Barbara Lester of Almont Wed on Saturday

IMLAY CITY—Barbara Lester, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Lester of Almont, and Robert Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Smith, were married Saturday. The Rev. David Evans performed the evening ceremony, held in the Smith home here in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride was dressed in a blue gown, with white and blue accessories. She wore a corsage of white rosebuds.

Her sister, Joyce, served as her maid of honor, and Jerry Smith was best man for his brother.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held for some 80 guests from Farmington, Rochester, Romeo, Attica, Almont and Imlay City.

The newlyweds will make their home at 282 Cedar St. here.

Novi Township Board Nixes Dumping Permit

NOVI TOWNSHIP — The Novi Township Board has turned down a request for a permit to allow the dumping of trash on a parcel land at the northwest corner of the Meadowbrook and 10-Mile road intersection.

The request was made by Chris Neilsen, owner of the property.

The site is adjacent to Willowbrook subdivision.

Scores Ordinance as 'Unconstitutional'

FARMINGTON—A new city ordinance in Farmington, requiring licensing of nearly every business from auctioneering to building wrecking, has been declared "unconstitutional" by a Farmington attorney.

Robert J. Kelly, of 32500 Grand River Ave., was granted a temporary injunction yesterday restraining the city from enforcing its general licensing ordinance which became effective Jan. 1.

In a suit filed in Oakland County Circuit Court, Kelly, who says he must pay a $3 registration fee to practice law in Farmington, charges the law with being "unconstitutional."

Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick set Monday for a hearing on why the city, City Manager Earl Scherffius, and City Attorney Paul A. Pare shouldn't be permanently enjoined from enforcing the law.

Kelly filed a second suit here on behalf of James B. Grimes, owner of a dry cleaning shop in Farmington, charging the same unconstitutionality of the law. Grimes must pay a $25 fee under it. Kelly said.

The ordinance regulates and licenses all persons, firms and corporations carrying on any trade, business or profession in the city.

Lawyers can only be regulated by the state, Kelly said in his suit. His client also won a temporary injunction from the judge.

It lists 77 such occupations for which a minimum license fee of $5 to a maximum of $100 a day is levied for circuses.

Your PTA Is Planning

Pontiac Women's Chorus to Vocalize at Walled Lake

WALLED LAKE — The Pontiac Women's Chorus will present a program at the regular meeting of Decker School PTA at 8 p.m. Monday.

The 60-voice chorus, sponsored by the City of Pontiac Department of Parks and Recreation, is directed by George Scott. Mrs. Paul McKibben is accompanist.

Feature attraction of the evening will be soprano soloist Mrs. Mary Leonard and a beauty shop quartet.

The public is invited.

Walled Lake Junior Senior High School PTA will meet at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Senior High cafeteria. "Religious Growth in Our Youth Today" will be the topic discussed during the evening.

Dr. Virgil Lougheed, director of student religious activities at Wayne State University, will moderate the panel.

Members of the panel will be the Rev. Perry Thomas, Commerce Methodist Church; the Rev. Edward D. Auchard, Orchard Lake Community Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Carl Grapentine, Walled Lake Baptist Church.

MR. AND MRS. ALVIN FRANK

Miss Marilyn Dotty Wed in Double Ring Ceremony

CLARKSTON — Davisburg Methodist Church was the scene of the Feb. 8 wedding of Marilyn Irene Doty and Alvin R. Frank. The Rev. Marshall Saunders officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Irene Doty of 162 Main, Clyde, and Ellsworth Doty of Milford. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Frank of Fish Lake Rd., Holly.

The bride wore a gown of white nylon chiffon and lace over satin fashioned with a fitted bodice featuring a scalloped neckline trimmed with sequins, pearls and rhinestones. The long fitted sleeves formed points over her wrists. The full skirt was foor length with an overskirt of lace forming a short train. Her nylon net illusion veil fell from a Juliet cap studded with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and ivy, centered with an orchid.

Mrs. Wayne Caswell of Milford was matron of honor with Mrs. Marvin Lab of Durand and Vivian Frank, sister of the bridegroom as bridesmaids.

Geral Noe of Davisburg was best man. Ushers were Robert Doty, brother of the bride, and Robert Frank, brother of the bridegroom.

A reception following the ceremony was held at the LOOF Hall, in Clyde.

After a trip to Chicago, the couple will live at Fish Lake near Holly.

Lathrup Rejects Bond Proposal

$696,000 Issue to Build Storm Sewers Loses by 50 Votes

LATHRUP VILLAGE—Voters in the City of Lathrup Village yesterday rejected a proposed $696,000 bond issue to build storm sewers. The margin of defeat was 50 votes, with 653 opposed and 503 in favor of it.

A proposal to repeal the downspout ordinance also was turned down, 811 to 359.

The ordinance, enacted last spring, calls for discontinuation of downspouts in critical areas where heavy rains flood basements.

Since the ordinance was put into effect, basement floodings have dropped from 200 to 20, City Administrator Leonard Watchkowski said.

With 1,184 of the city's 2,100 registered voters casting ballots, the turnout was considered good.

Hagadones of Imlay City Fete Golden Anniversary

IMLAY CITY — Mr. and Mrs. John Hagadone held open house Sunday at their home, 536 Blacks Corners Rd., in celebration of their golden wedding anniversary. Friends and relatives attended from Port Huron, Pontiac, Flint, Lansing, Ithaca, Beaverton, Armada and Imlay City.

Then two were married Feb. 19, 1908, in Caseville. They have two sons, Bert of Port Huron and Ray of Armada, two grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Woman Not Injured in Romeo Accident

ROMEO — A Romeo woman narrowly escaped injury yesterday afternoon when she turned her car sharply to avoid hitting a gasoline truck and ran into a house.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Dickinson and N. Bailey Sts.

Mrs. Lessiter Brownell, 58, of 245 Ewell St. told village police she though the truck was not going to stop at the corner.

She swerved her car, knocked over a street sign, sheered off some evergreens and damaged a portion of the porch on the house belonging to the Rev. and Mrs. Ellis A. Hart.

Approximately $300 damage was done to the car, police said.

Ironically, it had been traded in on a new model Saturday and was to be turned over to the dealer today.

Schedule Joint Service

TROY — The First Presbyterian Church of Troy will participate in a joint Lenten service at 7:30 p.m. today at Troy Methodist Church. The Rev. W. Donald Pendell, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, will speak on "The Meaning of Lent."

Walled Lake Methodist Plans Lenten Meetings

WALLED LAKE — During the Lenten season Walled Lake Methodist Church will present a series of meetings after the Thursday night pot luck dinners which begin at 6:30 p.m.

Called the School of Christian Living, the meetings will feature a different speaker each week. The Rev. John Ambler of Linden Methodist church will open the series Thursday.

While parents are hearing the Rev. Ambler, a nursery will be conducted for small children and the primary and junior departments will be engaging in a mission study program on Japan.

$40,000 Blaze Strikes Huntington Woods Home

HUNTINGTON WOODS — A spectacular fire yesterday caused an estimated $40,000 damage at the home of Elliot D. Cohen, 8710 Lincoln Rd.

Firemen from Huntington Woods and Berkley fought the blaze for four hours. It started in an upstairs bedroom.

The home, valued at $55,000, contained valuable antique furniture which was destroyed by the fire.

Cohen is president of the Detroit Theater Enterprises, Inc.

Ash Wednesday Service Different

COMMERCE — Something different in the way of Ash Wednesday worship service was introduced at the Commerce Methodist Church today.

Besides a half-hour service at 7 a.m., noon, and 7:30 p.m., "prayer-partners" formed a continual link with different parishioners attending church in pairs every half-hour of the day.

Special prayer lists to help the worshiper were available in the chapel, and pastor of the church Rev. Perry Thomas conducted guided meditation.

He explained that the purpose of the full day prayer-link was to emphasize the tremendous importance of prayer in the life of the church, as well as in the life of individual Christians.

Firemen Get Uniforms

LAKE ORION — The Fireman's Club has purchased coveralls for Lake Orion's volunteer firemen, with funds collected over a three-year period. The uniforms are dark blue, lettered in red with the volunteer's name and the words "Lake Orion Fire Department."

Railroad Engineers Fight Bad Driving

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's railroad engineers are organizing old-time vigilantes in an effort to cut down railroad crossing accidents.

The trainmen have pledged themselves to swear out complaints and go to court to testify against anyone spotted driving unsafely at a crossing.

Tank Helps Out Stork as Snow Baby Arrives

ERIE, Pa. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Orzepowski credited a 49-ton Sherman tank with an assist in delivering their sixth child.

Snowdrifts blocked all approaches to the Orzepowski home near Waterford, 18 miles south of here. The National Guard at Erie responded by dispatching a tank to pick up a doctor and take him to the home. A girl was born a short time later and is doing well.

Hal Boyle Says:

Tennessee Williams Now Visiting Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Playwright Tennessee Williams has joined the legion of those who seek on an analyst's couch an answer to their tensions.

"I had two kinds of tranquilizers this afternoon," he apologized as, shirt-sleeved and yawning, he opened the door of his apartment. "I'm still sleepy."

Five times a week, Tennessee, a small graceful man with a brown mustache, goes to a psychoanalyst who has helped iron out the ids and firm up the egos of a number of celebrated theater folk. At $50 an hour this is a mental comfort Williams couldn't afford during a poverty-ridden, second - class childhood. But now he thinks it's well worth the money.

"I find it immensely stimulating," he said as he sat down in a sofa across from a large bust of Lord Byron.

"My tensions had accumulated to a point where I felt I wanted to do something about ending them. It's an exciting adventure. You discover new things about yourself; gradual revelations, some of which you fight—and there is a mysterious change in your behavior.

"I have always suffered from claustrophobia and a fear of suffocation, of not being able to breathe. It was so bad that for a long time when I went for a walk I couldn't walk down a street unless I could see a bar—not because I wanted a drink, but because I wanted the security of knowing it was there."

That panic fear of being crowded or suffocated, he said, had been at least partly relieved.

"It also has made it much easier for me to be with people on a friendly basis, relieved me of social unease. I used to blush when I thought anybody even was looking at me. In school I could never recite," he said.

But psychoanalysis, so far as he can tell, hasn't affected his work. Two of his plays are currently on the boards at an off-Broadway theater. Tennessee also gets up as early as 5 a.m. to put in two or three hours on his latest play before going to see his analyst.

It deals with "the corruption of a young man, the corruption of an older woman, and the corruption of an entire community by a political boss," he said.

To some critics, Williams is one of the most gifted and forceful playwrights of the 20th century. To others, outraged by his use of dramatic themes ranging from cannibalism to homosexualism, he is a twisted writer whose idea of a holiday is to go rowboating in a sewer.

"Not all my plays, by any means, are violent," he said. "And they are more concerned with morality than most plays.

"All plays that explore evil and the roots of it in people, and the conditions that produce it, are moral. But some people will always regard them as immoral."

To Williams, the biggest problem in the world is fear.

"The fear of a threat to his personal security is at the root of every person's violence and hatreds," he said.

Farmers Figure Their Tax Differently

Farmers, like most other people who work for themselves, must pay Social Security tax every year at income tax time.

But, the way the two must figure their tax is the difference between night and day.

For farmers, the method of figuring can be complicated and varies depending on the net or gross income of each farmer. For other self-employed persons, it's simple.

Take a dentist, for example. He merely figures out his net income for the year. (That's the amount he made after deducting his office expenses, etc.)

Then, he multiplies his net income—up to a maximum of $4,200—by 3⅜ per cent. Three and three-eighths is the present Social Security tax for all self-employed, farmers included. (Most dentists will have at least $4,200 a year in net income and will pay the minimum tax of $141.75.)

After he arrives at his tax figure, he pays it along with his regular income tax to the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). IRS provides special forms on which he must report his Social Security earnings and tax.

And, it's just that simple for all other self-employed persons except farmers. The only exclusion is self-employed people who have less than $400 a year in net earnings. They aren't covered by the Social Security law and don't have to pay Social Security tax.

But, the Social Security law has three ways by which farmers may arrive at what is their net earnings and, thus, the amount on which they may pay Social Security tax:

If his gross farm income is more than $1,800 and his net income is less than $1,200, he may report $1,200 as his net earnings and pay tax on that amount.

For example: Suppose John Jones farms 40 acres of land and from this farming has a total cash income of $2,200, but after deducting expenses for the operation of the farm, he has net earnings of $1,000. Under this rule, he can report $1,200 as his net earnings and pay $40.50 in tax.

If a farmer's gross income is not more than $1,800, he may report two-thirds of his gross income as his net income and pay tax on this amount.

For example: Suppose Sam Brown farms 60 acres and has a total cash income of $1,780, but after deducting his farm expenses, he has only $800 in net earnings for the year. Under this rule, he may report and pay tax on $1,186.66 (two-thirds of his gross income of $1,780).

In most cases, farmers must use rule one in figuring their net earnings and Social Security tax. Their net earnings are too high to fit under the other two rules. But, some farmers have a choice as to the rules.

Here's a good guide for a farmer who has a choice: Always use the method which would give you the highest net earnings figure even though it means you have to pay a higher tax.

The reason is simple: Future Social Security payments will be based on what your Social Security record shows as net earnings. The higher the net earnings shown, the higher your future payments.

Science Develops New Tablet:
Relieves Painful Monthly Cramps For 3 out of 4 Women Tested! Gives Greater Relief Than Aspirin!

Boston, Mass.—New promise of relief for women who suffer tortures of monthly cramps and nervous tension is found in an amazing new tablet... developed especially to relieve this female discomfort. It offers greater relief than aspirin during that distressing period each month!

For 3 out of 4 women tested by doctors, pain and cramps were stopped or strikingly relieved. Even on the first day, many had no nagging headaches, no backaches or other functional distress... were also less jittery the trying week before their period!

The new tablet contains a unique combination of medicines. That's why it offers more relief than plain aspirin! Unlike such "general-purpose" remedies, it acts on the cause of distress. Has amazing power to calm uterine contractions, also works through a woman's sympathetic nervous system.

Called "Lydia Pinkham's Tablets," the formula was developed by the world's largest manufacturer devoted exclusively to relief of women's ailments! Easy-to-take new Pinkham's Tablets are now available at all drug stores without a prescription.

So don't suffer needlessly. Take Pinkham's Tablets yourself. See if you don't feel worlds better, this very month. See if you don't escape much irritability and discomfort—before and during those "difficult days."

IF YOU PREFER A LIQUID all druggists, today, also have the famous Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

School Issues to Be Studied

Waterford to Consider Voting on Continued Operating Millage

A resolution for a possible vote of the people to continue operating millage for the Waterford Township school system will be considered when the Board of Education meets tomorrow night.

This would not mean an increase in taxes, but would be a continuation of the present 5-mill tax rate which expires at the end of next year, according to superintendent William Shunck.

The board will also consider a request from the Association of Handicapped Children, Inc., for the use of the Newberry school building on Clintonville road.

President of the organization Betty Hansen has pointed out that there are 24 children using one room at the Emerson school in Pontiac, and due to lack of space, they are only on a two-day weekly schedule.

If the board grants the request pupils could be scheduled for a full week of schooling, she added.

A report from the building committee regarding the new high school and other sites, will be presented and discussed by board members.

Another consideration regarding a request for additional adult crossing guards for school children will also be examined by the board.

Superintendent Shunck is expected to present a report on current Michigan school legislation, with particular reference to the Waterford Township school district.

Senate Group Reports Government Time Used to Work for His Firm

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators are asking the Defense Department to determine whether a former defense official should repay any salary for using government time to work for his company.

The Senate Investigations subcommittee said yesterday Robert A. McDonald, who resigned Feb. 1 as a $16,000-a-year deputy assistant secretary of defense, spent twice as many office hours with his company as he did at the Pentagon, though much of it was unpaid leave time.

McDonald, contacted in New York, said: "I was never away without my boss' permission."

The Defense Department declined comment. A Pentagon spokesman said a communication from Subcommittee Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) was referred to the department's general counsel for study. A reply will be sent to McClellan, the spokesman said.

McClellan, in a subcommittee report, said McDonald quit his government job the day after the subcommittee staff questioned him about "unauthorized absences."

McDonald, the subcommittee report said, resigned as board chairman of the Asbestos Construction Co., New York City, in July 1956 to take the Pentagon job but "continued to maintain his position as majority stockholder in the company."

McClellan said after taking the job, McDonald averaged three trips a month, averaging a day and a half each, to New York in connection with the firm's business and without taking official leave from his position.

Between May 1957 and January 1958, the report continued, McDonald took 876 hours of leave without pay and took 104 hours of annual leave.

The report said Defense Department records indicated McDonald worked 484 hours during this period.

"In other words," it added, "the record shows that McDonald was absent from his government position approximately two-thirds of the time during the past eight months."

Eleven at Selfridge Stole

DETROIT (AP) — An airman and 10 civilians employed at Selfridge Air Force Base in Mount Clemens have been placed on probation for periods ranging from six months to two years for stealing materials and equipment from the base. They pleaded guilty in U.S. District Court.

Expelled Negro Girl Gets Offer of Scholarship

NEW YORK (AP) — Minnie Jean Brown, 16-year-old Negro girl expelled from the Little Rock Central High School, was reported here today to have accepted a $1,050 scholarship to the New Lincoln School in New York City.

The offer was made for the private school by Dr. John J. Brooks, its founding director. It is believed that the girl will move to New York next week.

Minnie Jean was expelled in Little Rock Monday. School officials declined to give reasons. She had been involved in racial incidents.

"Our kind of school just can't sit by and not make some sort of gesture in a case like this," Brooks said.

"We are known as an interracial, intereconomic and experimental school," he said. "We're trying to do something for equal opportunity and to relieve the interracial situation."

Minnie Jean was one of nine Negroes attending integrated classes at the Little Rock school under federal troop protection since last Sept. 25.

Advice of Clergymen Sought by Reuther

DETROIT (AP) — Walter Reuther wants a panel of 10 clergymen to advise the United Auto Workers union and the auto industry on "ethical aspects" of their 1958 collective bargaining.

Reuther, UAW president, in a private letter to the heads of the auto companies yesterday, suggested that the union and industry use the services of the 10 clergymen appointed by American Motors Corp. last December to advise AMC on 1958 collective bargaining.

The UAW leader said he was not making details of the letters public because the union had not had time to consult the clergymen to see if they would serve. Reuther also said he first wanted to get the reaction of the auto companies.

There was no immediate comment from the auto firms.

Carrier Pigeons' Role Vital in Austrian Army

VIENNA (AP)—In a world talking about an "ultimate weapon" the Austrian army thinks highly of carrier pigeons.

The Cabinet has approved a "carrier pigeon bill 1958." It legalizes the army's use of the birds as a means of communication, hitherto the province of the security police.

"Carrier pigeons are preferred in situations when radio communication can be intercepted and telephone lines tapped," a Cabinet spokesman said.

Ike Chooses Lawyer Gordon M. Tiffany of New Hampshire

WASHINGTON (AP) — One more stumbling block to the functioning of the new Civil Rights Commission was cleared away today with President Eisenhower's nomination of a staff director.

The President announced in Thomasville, Ga., where he is vacationing, that he was naming Gordon M. Tiffany, a former New Hampshire attorney general, for the $22,500-a-year post.

Tiffany said he was accepting the job with "an open mind" and had no preconceived notions about bitterly contested civil rights issues.

As a lawyer, Tiffany has appeared before federal agencies and courts in Washington, but he is not known to most members of Congress.

The six-member commission, provided for in the Civil Rights Act passed by Congress last year, has been marking time while waiting for a staff director to be named. Not even a clerk has yet been hird.

The commission's assignment is to investigate sworn charges of the denial of votin g rights because of race, creed or color and to study federal laws and practices relating to civil rights generally.

The full-time staff director will be responsible for supervising the group's day-to-day activities. His appointment is subject to Senate confirmation.

The commission members themselves have not yet been confirmed by the Senate.

Tiffany, 46, is a practicing attorney in Concord, N.H., and now a member of that state's Legislature.

In 1950, he was named an aide to Sherman Adams, now Eisenhower's top assistant, when Adams was governor of New Hampshire. James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, said however that Adams had nothing to do with the recommendation of Tiffany for his new post.

In 1951, Tiffany was named state attorney general and left that post two years later to become Concord's city solicitor. He resumed his general law practice in 1954.

Army Sells Buildings

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — Thirty-one buildings at Fort Custer now are on the block. Bidding will close March 27. Mess Halls, day rooms and miscellaneous structures are included. E. A. Burke of the Army's Corps of Engineers at Detroit is supervising the sale.

13 Boys Ousted Until They Visit Barber, Clothier

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (AP)—Trips to a barber, a clothing store — or both — were ordered for 13 teen-age boys suspended from a high school for failure to comply with a "good grooming" code.

Suspensions were ordered yesterday by Glenn Anderberg, dean of boys at Waukegan Township High School.

Anderberg said the boys will be readmitted when they trim their "ducktail" haircuts and wear pants that are not too tight or too droopy.

"We set up the rule when we learned that boys that dress like cowboys tend to act like cowboys," Anderberg said. "Those that dress like students, act like students."

Anderberg said it was encouraging to note that only 1 per cent of the school's 1,300 boys failed to comply with the new code, drawn up by the faculty.

"Generally, we're very proud of our students," he said.

The rule applies only to boys. "We have no trouble with our 1,100 girls," Anderberg said. "They're all proud of being young ladies and they look very sweet and charming."

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — A bill introduced in the State Legislature by Sen. J. E. Johnson, Williamson Democrat, would ban parking meters in Kentucky.

Status as Taxpayer Affects Your Rate; Take All Advantages You Have Due

EDITOR'S NOTE: Advantages of the various classes of returns are listed in this third article in an eight-part series on your income tax. Exemptions, non-taxable income, deductions and other topics will be dealt with later. clip out all the articles for use when you file your return.

By G. K. HODENFIELD
Associated Press Writer

We've seen how you can save money by picking the right form on which to file your income tax return. In the same way, you can save money by correctly choosing the taxpayer class into which you fall.

Basically there are four classes of returns:

1. The separate return.
2. The joint return.
3. The special joint return for certain recent widows and widowers.
4. The special "head of household" return for certain single persons or those legally separated from their husband or wife.

Your Income Tax-No. 3

JOINT RETURN ADVANTAGEOUS

The separate return is for single taxpayers or those married taxpayers who prefer to file individual returns.

In practically all cases married couples do better by filing a joint return. However, they must file separate returns if:

1. Either the husband or wife was a nonresident alien at any time of the year.

2. Husband and wife use different tax years. The husband, for instance, may report on a fiscal year basis such as from July 1 to June 30, while the wife pays taxes on a calendar year basis.

3. The husband and wife became divorced or legally separated at any time of the year, up to and including Dec. 31.

If the separate return is used, each individual must report his own income and list his own exemptions and deductions.

In all cases where husband and wife file separate returns, if one itemizes the deductions, the other must also itemize.

If you file separately you may use either the form 1040 or the 1040A, depending on how you qualify as outlined in the previous article.

There are normally just two situations in which married couples can benefit by filing separately instead of jointly. Both are comparatively rare.

If both husband and wife are working, and both had capital losses of $1,000 or more, it might pay them to file separately.

The law provides that no more that $1,000 in capital losses may be deducted on any one return. By filing separately, they could get a total deduction of $2,000.

The second situation involves medical expenses. Suppose that the husband had an adjusted gross income of $10,000 and no medical bills, and that the wife had an adjusted gross income of $5,000, with medical bills of $500.

The law provides that you can deduct only those medical and dental costs which exceed 3 per cent of your adjusted gross income. If this couple filed jointly they would be able to deduct only everything over $450 (3 per cent of their combined $15,000), or a deduction of $50. However, if the wife filed separately, she could deduct everything over $150 (3 per cent of her $5,000), or a deduction of $350.

Even so, in practically every case the advantages of splitting income with a joint return outweighs any savings made by separate reporting of medical and dental deductions.

A husband and wife may file a joint return and get the advantage of the lower tax rates even if one of them had no income during the year. Both husband and wife must sign the point return, and it must include all the income earned by both of them.

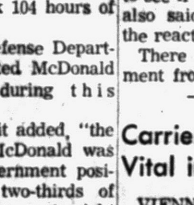

The joint return is a financial boon to most married couples because of the way the tax rate goes up as income increases — not because you pay on any less income.

If your husband or wife died anytime during 1957 — even on the first day of the year — you can still file a joint return and claim an exemption for your deceased spouse.

Participating in the event were Waterford Groups 1 and II, Parent Guidance Club, Child Culture Club, Junior Club and Group III with guests from the newly formed Clarkston club.

FAMILY UNITY

James Costar of East Lansing spoke on "Do New Horizons Make Happy Homes?" He stressed that a strong family unity on new horizons can make happy homes. He used an historical example.

Today's integrated approach to raising children presents the newest horizon, the speaker stated, with the family as a unit and all members having an active part.

This is attained through mutual understanding, community activities, promoting home school and child relationships and having a philosophy that all understand.

Dear Abby....

Don't Put Husband on the Open Market

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I sure wish I were in your place. I would advise every woman who was courted by a real estate man to turn him down. My troubles started when I became a widow and put my house on the market.

ABBY

This real estate man never did sell my house, but instead he married me and moved into it. We've been married for four years and I am about ready to give up. He is always telling me about the good-looking women he has to drive around as part of his business.

I can never put my hands on him day or night because he is usually out on "business." He is 53 and a handsome man, a sharp dresser and wonderful company. Do you blame me for being jealous? Should I give up?

REAL ESTATE MAN'S WIFE

DEAR REM's WIFE: I can understand you're being jealous—but don't let him know it. Don't put your husband on the market. Somebody might buy him and remodel him.

DEAR ABBY: There are three of us girls who call ourselves the Three Musketeers. We go around together at school but there is a fourth girl who insists on tagging along, uninvited.

We hate to hurt her feelings, but none of us cares for her and she is trying so hard to go with us. She sits with us at lunch and looks for us at every assembly. We have nothing in common with her and want to get rid of her. How can we do it

THREE MUSKETEERS

DEAR THREE: She is lonely. Try to be more understanding. In everyday living we all have to "put up" with people who like us more than we like them. The experience will be good for you.

DEAR ABBY: Is it proper for the sister of the bride to give her a shower? She needs it. SISTER

DEAR SIS: Bridal showers should be given by "friends" . . . not relatives. And the motive should not be "necessity"—it should be friendship.

DEAR ABBY: In my lifetime I have seen children from broken homes thrown to the winds to grow like weeds. With no supervision, no upbringing and none of the advantages, still they managed to turn out all right and make something of themselves.

My husband was a man like that. Our son was given all the advantages his father never had. Given all the love and attention and material things a child could ask for, yet he turned out so bad that I am ashamed to claim him as our son. Why, Abby? Why?

BROKEN-HEARTED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Your son was denied the very things that make a man out of a boy. Hard work, discipline and the satisfaction of "making it on his own." The biggest favor parents can do for their children is letting them struggle a little. Sorry.

DEAR ABBY: Sometime ago you advised a young lady named Marcia to have plastic surgery on her nose. I feel you misguided her.

More important than a girl's "looks" is what's inside of her. Beautiful women have more problems than plain ones. Let a man love you for what you are . . . not for what you look like.

Beauty of the face fades, but inner beauty blooms forever. Why not advise young women to forget their noses and concentrate on developing the qualities within them that build fine character?

Why Men Leave Home

40 to 50 Is 'Dangerous Disappearing Age'

(This is the third of six articles telling through case histories why thousands of American men each year leave their wives and children to seek new lives under new identities. The articles are based on the files of the Tracers Company of America. Only the names have been changed.)

By JOSEPH R. MARSHALL
INS Staff Writer

Joseph L. had made good as a big dairy farmer before his first wife died. He had put his rapidly accumulating fortune into real estate and then sold out and invested in bonds and securities.

His eldest son had gone to work in Los Angeles. His daughter was married. At 45, he had enough money to do what he wanted.

He disappeared.

With him went his 14-year-old son, Gary. Behind he left his second wife, Gary's mother, Elizabeth, who had tried for years to persuade her husband to spend less time hunting, fishing and drinking and more time with her.

They had argued the night before he disappeared about his refusal to attend a formal dinner party. Joseph had ended the discussion by saying:

"Gary and I are going to the cabin. I don't know how long we'll be. Don't come up there and mess it up. Gary and I don't want you."

He had owned the cabin in the mountains for many years, and he often spent weekends with his friends fishing or hunting. Elizabeth waited three weeks. Then she called the man who watched over the cottage. He said it had been unoccupied all summer.

NO INFORMATION

She called her husband's lawyer. He had been instructed to give her no information. The savings account had been wiped clean; there were a few thousand dollars in the checking account.

Elizabeth called her stepson and then her stepdaughter. But as she explained when she later wrote to an agency specializing in locating missing persons, both her husband's children by his first wife had always been "antagonistic."

Both insisted they did not know their father's whereabouts.

Joseph was in the "dangerous disappearing age" charted by Tracers Company of America, New York City. But more than that, he exemplified basic reasons for many desertions as outlined by Dan Eisenberg, head of Tracers.

"When a man is in the disappearing age, 40 to 50," said Eisenberg, "he may be asking himself about the future, whether the life he leads is the one he wants.

"Ten years before, he was thinking of entirely different things. He was absorbed in his family, strong, and perhaps hard put to finance his home.

TOO MUCH FOR HIM

"But in the 40s and the best financial, and the worst frustration, years, they may get too much for him. And he disappears."

An agent talked with Elizabeth. Her husband, she said, was not too difficult to identify. He was a high-strung, gray-haired, thin man who wore steel-rimmed glasses. He was fond of taking young Gary fishing, hunting, skiing and skating.

Agents searched first in Wyoming, where Joseph had owned a large farm. He had gone there, sold it, and left. Over the next two years agents traced him and his son to cities in Idaho, Montana, Utah and Washington, but they never stayed put long enough to be contacted.

Finally, three years after they disappeared, the agency located them in a little village in northern Idaho. Joseph was serving as night marshal of the town. Gary was going to school.

Elizabeth traveled to the village with a friend. She went to confront her husband. It was early evening. She rang the bell, and the door swung open.

STARED SILENTLY

He stared at her silently for a moment. "How'd you get here?" he said.

"I followed you." She glanced behind him.

"Boy's gone to bed," he said. "It's almost time for me to get to work. I'm night marshal. I suppose you want a cup of coffee or a drink."

Elizabeth walked into the parlor. "I don't need anything," she said. She sat down on the sofa. "No one would tell me where you were. I've had an agency looking everywhere.

"I've been sick," she said. "And I wanted to find you. It was lonely, Joe, so lonely it almost wasn't worth living."

"I haven't been too well myself. Been better since we moved here. This is great country. It'll be good for the boy. We're staying here, the boy and I are, Elizabeth."

Elizabeth, when she paid her fee for having her husband traced, explained that she had dropped the non-support case filed two years before. The family was going to live where her husband wanted, and she added:

"It's a small village, not the kind of place I would pick. But my husband believes it will be good for the boy. They can live the way he apparently has always wanted, and that means a lot of camping and hunting. He shot an antelope the other day."

Sharon A. Malane and Richard A. Fitzgerald exchanged wedding vows Saturday. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Manford J. Malane, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. William Dimas and William Fitzgerald.

Sharon Malane Becomes Bride in St. Vincent Rite

St. Vincent de Paul Church was the setting for the Saturday morning wedding of Sharon A. Malane and Richard A. Fitzgerald of Whittemore street. The Rev. Fabian Weber performed the ceremony before 75 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Manford J. Malane of Allen street are parents of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. William Dimas of Auburn avenue and William Fitzgerald of Holly.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace featuring a Sabrina neckline and chapel-length train.

Her crown of sequined hearts held a fingertip veil in place. The bridal bouquet was an arrangement of white roses, stephanotis and orchids.

Barbara Moore as maid of honor wore an emerald green ballerina - length taffeta gown with an emerald green headpiece, and she carried an arragnement of pink carnations.

Bridesmaids Ampara Rubio and Joan Deter wore rose gowns similar to that of the honor attendant and carried rose carnations.

Bruce Hodgkins was best man. Richard Malane, brother of the bride, and James Malane, cousin of the bride, seated the guests.

For a luncheon at Rotunda Inn the bride's mother chose a blue lace dress with gray accessories and a corsage of cymbidium orchids. Mrs. Dimas' choice was a beige dress with brown accessories and a cymbidium orchid corsage.

Eat Foods That Are Essential to Health

Trim 'Empty' Calories From Diet

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

A Marathon entrant writes, "I am losing weight successfully. This is the end of my fourth week of diet and exercise, and the difference is already thrilling to me — and also to my husband.

"However, I want to be sure that I am planning my meals properly and not leaving out any essential foods. Which foods should I leave off? Which must I have?"

You've heard the song, "I Can't Give You Anything but Love, Baby?" Well, there are some foods which can't give you anything but calories, lady. That is not literally true, but the foods I am thinking of give you what nutritionists call "empty" calories. By this they mean the foods which are not essential to health.

Naturally, when on a reducing diet, you should try to obtain your calories from foods which are the best sources in the food classification to which they belong. You cannot afford the "trimmings" or "empty" calories if you seriously wish to lose weight attractively and safely.

The modern reducing diet is high in protein and minerals and vitamins. Lean meat or fish or fowl should be on the menu every day. Eggs are important items on the slimming diet because of their protein and mineral and vitamin content — and only for 75 calories an egg. Take yours boiled, baked or poached, not fried.

Two glasses of milk a day should be included, preferably skim or powdered fat-free milk. You must have some carbohydrates: Cereals, potatoes and bread. You can bake your potato and use skim milk on your cereal and avoid loading the butter on all items.

Of course you also need the citrus fruit juices and a variety of fruits and vegetables. You can have sugar in your coffee unless you drink many cups a day, and even a couple of small pieces of hard candy after your dinner. You CAN leave off cake, pies and pastry, cream sauces, fat meat, fried foods and tidbits.

Take average servings and no seconds. Eat a varied diet but smaller amounts!

If you failed to join my Eight-Week Self-Improvement Marathon and would like to do so for a loss of 15 to 20 pounds in eight weeks' time, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for the Marathon booklet. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

EDITH STENSON, Owner

MR. and MRS. C. A. OPDENHOFF

Married Saturday were Carol A. Collins and Charles A. Opdenhoff. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Collins, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Lucille Opdenhoff.

Carol A. Collins Wears Lace and Net Over Satin

Candelabra, gladioli and carnations banked the altar of Sashabaw Presbyterian Church for the Saturday evening wedding of Carol A. Collins and Charles A. Opdenhoff.

She is the daughter of the Elmer Collinses of Clarkston, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Lucille Opdenhoff of South Jessie street.

The bride was gowned in a floor-length dress of lace and net over satin, featuring a lace bodice with long sleeves, a fitted basque waistline and a cowl neckline.

She wore a small hat with scattered seed pearls and lace flowers, and a fingertip veil. Her bridal bouquet was composed of orchids and stephanotis on a lace-covered Bible.

Mrs. Richard Kern of Drayton Plains was the honor attendant and Marilyn Opdenhoff, sister of the bridegroom, was the bridesmaid. Both wore gowns of red nylon chiffon over net in ballerina-length with red carnations.

GOWNED IN WHITE

Flower maid Susan Long wore a white lace dress and carried a basket of pink and white sweetpeas.

J. W. Wright served as best man and James Collins, brother of the bride, and Henry Opdenhoff, brother of the bridegroom, seated the guests.

To receive guests at a church reception Mrs. Collins wore an ice blue silk sheath dress with pink accessories and a white and pink corsage.

The bridegroom's mother chose a medium blue wool dress with three-quarter-length sleeves, pink accessories and a corsage of pink and white flowers.

Before leaving for Chicago the new Mrs. Opdenhoff changed to a black wool jersey dress with a turquoise and black plaid silk skirt. The couple will live on Glendale avenue.

MR. and MRS. EVERETT STONER

Married Saturday evening were Lenora Lutz and Everett Stoner. She is the daughter of Mrs. Ida Lutz of Rochester, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. David Stoner of Judson street.

Lenora Lutz Says Vows in Rochester Church Rite

St. John Lutheran Church in Rochester was the setting for the Saturday evening wedding of Lenora Lutz and Everett Stoner.

Mrs. Ida Lutz of Rochester is the bride's mother, and the bridegroom is the son of the David Stoners of Judson street.

Given in marriage by her brother, Edmund Lutz, the bride chose a ballerina-length gown of slipper satin featuring a sweetheart neckline, long, pointed sleeves and princess lines.

Her headpiece was a fitted cap which held an illusion veil, and she carried an orchid surrounded by shattered carnations.

Cousins of the bride, Mrs. Eric Hefel of East Detroit and Mrs. Delano Gunnarson, wore pale pink dresses like the honor attendant's for their duties as bridesmaids.

Richard Meadows was best man. Seating the guests were Thomas Kimmel and Carl Anderson of Mount Clemens, a cousin of the bride.

Catherine Hefel, in a dress similar to that of the honor attendant, served as flower girl and Verne Alan Ayers, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer.

To receive 125 guests at a church reception Mrs. Lutz chose a navy dress with navy and white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Lynn S. Colwell Married to Charles D. McMahon

Saturday at noon Lynn S. Colwell and Charles D. McMahon exchanged wedding vows in St. Michael Church. The Rev. Norman P. Thomas performed the ceremony.

The Harry A. Colwells of Second avenue are parents of the bride, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Orval McMahon of Mechanic street.

The bride was gowned in a white nylon tulle ballerina-length gown. Her short veil was held in place by a seed pearl crown, and she carried a crescent-shaped bouquet of pink carnations.

Genie Thompson, maid of honor, wore pink nylon tulle in ballerina-length and a pink nylon tulle picture hat. Her bouquet was a crescent-shaped arrangement of pink carnations.

Brother of the bridegroom, Richard McMahon, was best man, with Avery Findlay and Ray Oates as ushers.

The mother of the bride chose a gray silk shantung suit with a pink tulle hat and an orchid. Mrs. McMahon's choice was a blue wool dress with a black hat and an orchid.

Luncheon was served for the bridal party in Hotel Waldron. An evening reception also was held at the Hotel.

CAGE RHUMBA — The Press photographer's camera caught five pairs of legs doing what looks more like a rhumba on the basketball court. The music was sweet for Pontiac Central in the white trunks as the Chiefs routed Royal Oak Dondero, 74-46, with a display of hot shooting. It was Pontiac's 9th victory of the season and the 7th straight loss for Dondero.

Chiefs Get 9th Win of Season With 'Hot' Night

Williams Collects 22 Points Against Inept RO Dondero

Pontiac Central put together some hot shooting on a frigid night to defeat Oakland County rival Royal Oak Dondero, 74-46, before the smallest crowd in several years on the PCH court last night.

The Chiefs hit 32 field goals of 71 attempts for a 44 per cent shooting mark in a game which took only one hour and five minutes to complete.

Dondero however had some icy shooting by hitting only 25 per cent on 15 field goals in 64 tries.

Jerry Williams, a 6-2 senior, had the best night of his prep career in collecting 22 points. Williams bagged five of his first six shots and hit a total of 10 field goals in 16 attempts.

Three other Chiefs finished in the double figures. Harrison Munson scored 14 points and picked off 17 rebounds, while Charley Barge added 15 points and John Bandy 11.

Eleven players played for PCH while 10 saw action for Dondero. The Acorns were punchless for most of the game as Pontiac went out in front 17-7 and kept at least a 10 point spread through three periods.

It was Pontiac's 9th victory against five losses. Friday night the Chiefs travel to Bay City Central for a Saginaw Valley Conference game and next week Flint Northern visits the PCH court for the season finale prior to tourney competition.

The loss was the 7th straight for Dondero which now is 4-8 for the year, and in the series between the two schools, it was Pontiac's 20th win against nine losses.

The crowd was the smallest gathering in at least three years, and the game provided very little in the way of excitement.

Coach Art Van Ryzin however did get the opportunity to play the entire bench and give the reserves some experience in preparation for tournament competition.

One player missing was Dick Whitmer who did not dress because of illness.

Lane Undaunted by Irate Fans

Angry Phone Calls Received Following Deal

Trade Sending Popular Jim Hegan to Detroit Defended by Indian GM

CLEVELAND (AP)—General Manager Frank Lane of the Cleveland Indians was undaunted today by the reaction of irate fans to his trade of catcher Jim Hegan to the Detroit Tigers.

Hegan, a member of the Tribe since 1941 and one of the most popular players ever to wear an Indian uniform, was sent to the Tigers yesterday in a four-player, no-money trade which Lane said was designed to bring more youth into the Wigwam.

Detroit gave the Indians J. W. Porter, 25, a catcher of considerable promise, and Harold Woodeshick, a 25-year-old southpaw, in exchange for Hegan and southpaw Hank Aguirre.

Soon after the deal was announced by Lane a few irate fans called the ball club office and vowed not to attend a baseball game here this season.

Lane's comment to the fan reaction was that he woud be more popular in Cleveland if the Indians win ball games than he woud by running "an old folks club."

"Anytime I have the opportunity to trade a 38-year-old catcher for a 25-year-old catcher with great potential, I have to make the deal despite what people say," Lane said.

Hegan, who will be 38 in August, was upset by the deal.

"I hate to leave after all these years," said the soft spoken Irishman. "It has been such a long time. My home is here and everything.

'If it's any consolation, I'm glad I'm going to Detroit. It's a nice place to play and it's a promising club. But I'm still going to miss the Indians."

Yardley Hits 48 Points as Pistons Defeat Nats

DETROIT (AP) — George Yardley, held to 14 points in the first half, picked up 34 in the second to come within four points of his career mark and lead the Detroit Pistons to a 120-98 National Basketball Assn. victory over Syracuse last night.

Yardley, the NBA's leading scorer, got only three points in the first quarter and 11 in the second quarter but picked up 23 in the third and another 11 in the fourth for a 48-point total.

His career-high of 52 points was set against Syracuse earlier this year.

The Pistons, who won their 26th game against 36 losses, trailed Syracuse through the first period. They fought back to a 35-35 tie with five minutes gone in the second quarter and never fell behind again.

The Nationals, led by Al Bianch's 22 points, played the entire second half without player-coach Paul Seymour who was ejected by referee Norm Drucker.

It was the fourth time this season that Seymour has been tossed out of a game for arguing with officials. Three times were at Olympia Stadium.

The Boston Celtics were at Madison Square Garden to play the New York Knickerbockers last night and Big Bill Russell, Boston's 6-foot-10 center, led the Celts to a 113-111 victory.

Russell was all over the floor, picking off rebounds at a record pace, blocking numerous shots with unbelievable reflexes and timing and all the while maintaining a 17-point scoring average.

In yesterday's other NBA game, the St. Louis Hawks reduced their magic number for clinching the Western Division title to three with a 118-98 whipping of the Minneapolis Lakers as Bob Pettit scored 33 points.

Lane, McHale Keep Line Busy

Phones Get Workout Before Trade Agreement

DETROIT (AP) — Telephone company stock might take a tumble now that Frank Lane of the Cleveland Indians and John McHale of the Detroit Tigers have completed their long-awaited player trade.

These two men, who have done at least as much for the telephone as Don Ameche, wound up countless hours of conversation yesterday with the announcement that catcher J. W. Porter and pitcher Hal Woodeshick are going to the Indians for pitcher Hank Aguirre and catcher Jim Hegan.

"I'd estimate — conservatively — that Frank and I have had about 50 phone conversations in the last two or three months," said McHale after the deal was completed. "Sometimes he'd call two and three times a day."

The busy Lane, who knows no schedule, would call at all hours.

"He'd call at 6 or 7 in the morning, at noon or at midnight," said McHale. "It didn't make any difference to him. Sometimes I'd be feeding our 9-month-old baby a bottle with one hand and holding the phone with the other."

After completing the trade, McHale boarded a plane and went back to the Tigers' spring training base in Lakeland, Fla.

Today he was set to tackle the salary differences with Harvey Kuenn, who figures to be the club's toughest problem. McHale offered Kuenn a sizable cut from his $30,000 salary, then boosted it slightly in subsequent negotiations. Still, Kuenn is not satisfied.

"I don't think we'll have any real trouble," McHale guessed.

After announcing the trade, McHale talked with Hegan by telephone and said Hegan agreed to sign. McHale quoted Hegan as saying he was "glad to be with the Tiger organization."

McHale said he doubts if the Tigers will make any more player deals "for a while now."

But the youthful general manager still is eager to trade.

Sox Count Wins to Pennant

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox, pleasantly satisfied over their reinforced pitching staff, might be counting their blessings a bit too soon.

Predicting another first division finish and possibly the pennant, White Sox brass yesterday pointed at 107 Major League victories compiled last year by what will be their 1958 pitching staff.

However, the Sox failed to mention that these same pitchers were charged with 83 Major League losses.

That's a total of 190 games and only 154 are scheduled in the big leagues.

Vice president Chuck Comiskey said at the Sox "get-way" luncheon that pitching is "60 per cent" of a ball club.

Taking the conservative 60 per cent figure, Comiskey said "that percentages can be considerably higher as we can back up our pitchers with the best keystone combination in the league (Nelson Fox and Luis Aparaicio) and the fact that we play 77 games in spacious Comiskey Park is a definite aid to a pitching staff."

The added pitching strength was acquired in trades which gave the Sox the veteran Early Wynn from Cleveland and Ray Moore from Baltimore. In the process the Sox dealt off Minnie Minoso to Cleveland and Larry Doby to Baltimore.

Wynn will be an addition to the starting corps which already boasts Billy Pierce (20-12), Dick Donovan (16-6), Jim Wilson (15-8), Bob Keegan (10-8) and Bill Fischer (7-8). Wynn, a big righthander, had a 14-7 record with sixth-place Cleveland last season.

Moore, a righthanded relief specialist who was 11-13 with the Orioles will be used in the late innings to protect any lead the Sox might have piled up.

"We lost 27 games in the late innings last year," pointed out Comiskey, "eight in the eighth inning. Nine in the ninth inning and ten in extra innings."

The Sox finished in second place, eight games behind the Yankees but were only four in back when the New Yorkers clinched the flag.

The Sox appear to have the necessary pitching but those 107 victories and 83 losses still make up 190 games and their schedule is made up of only 154 games.

Utica Bows to Lakeview

Utica bowed to Lakeview, 65-54, in a Bi-County League basketball game last night at Lakeview. All five Lakeview regulars hit double figures, led by Cliff Kistner's 20 points, as Lakeview remained in a 1st place tie with Warren, which scored a 52-37 victory over Center Line yesterday.

Clawson Tops Oak Park

Clawson came from behind with a 23-point uprising in the 4th quarter for a 57-49 victory over Oak Park last night in a high school basketball game at Clawson. It was Clawson's 5th win in 12 starts and evened Oak Park's record at 7-7.

14th Straight Win for Maple Tankers

One pool record and a new pool and school mark were set Tuesday night as Birmingham High swimmers chalked up their 14th straight dual victory for the season, 66-30 over Hazel Park. Meet was in the Maples' pool, and also marked the 21st dual victory for coach Jay Myers' team without defeat.

Dave Rider's 1:13.8 for the 100-yard breaststroke is a pool record. Pete Sintz, Tom Bechtel, Dave Smith, Bill Buick swam a record 1:35.8 200-yard freestyle relay, which also bettered by a half second the last year's state time for the event.

Other Maple winners: Sintz, 50-yard freestyle; Jim Peters, 100-yard butterfly; Bechtel, 200-yard freestyle; Jim Walls, 100-yard backstroke; Fred Wickham, diving; Walls, Rider, Peters and Les Harber, 200-yard medley relay. Only Hazel Park first—Dyker, 440-yard ind. med.

PCH Wrestlers Pin Waterford

Pontiac and Walled Lake turned in impressive showings to post wrestling victories yesterday.

The Chiefs lost only in the 145-pound class in walloping Waterford for the 2nd time in a week 45-5 for their 4th straight win. Walled Lake trimmed Wayne 42-10.

Little Bobby Kiser's 1st triumph of the season in the 97-pound class got Pontiac off to an easy victory. Four Chiefs had pins.

The only Waterford victor was Mel Farrar. He scored a pin over Jerry Fields to avoid a shutout for the Skippers.

Walled Lake turned in its best performance with Pat Gizzi, Bob Brown, Gary Eskelinen and big Jim Petty all taking pins.

PONTIAC-WATERFORD RESULTS

103—Pontiac won by forfeit.
97—Kiser won over Dave Serman, 3-1
112—Ernie Slade (P) pinned Gary Casey, 2nd round.

Eaglets Trample Mikes

By H. GUY MOATS

St. Michael and Orchard Lake St. Mary's cagers tangled for the second time this season last night on the Eaglets' floor, and the Shamrocks were trampled again, 53-42. Eaglets crushed Bob Mineweaser's club 47-39 in the first meeting.

Gene Wright's St. Frederick Rams also caught a Tartar in St. Francis de Sales in the Detroit club's gymnasium. The Pontiac quintet never got in front, trailing 22-12 at halftime. Loss was the Rams' fourth against eight wins.

It was one of those bad nights a club runs into once in a while, Rams suffering from poor foul shooting for one thing. They missed 18 in 31 tries. Jack Phendt with 15, John Seip with 10 led the winners. Dick Nichols had 9 for Rams.

But it wasn't an easy victory for Rev. John Rakóczy's quintet despite the final count.

Shamrocks led throughout the first half, and up to the last minute of the 3rd period, when Stan Goisdzinski's layup in the last 30 seconds broke a 37-37 tie. From there on, however, Shamrocks never caught up and the Eaglets kept on boosting their margin.

Eaglets had been in front only briefly, just before the 3rd period tie, which Don Mountain engineered after Stan Moniuszko's jump shot made it 31-30 for St. Mary's.

Goisdinski and Moniuszko paced the winners with 18 and 14 points, respectively, while Shamrocks' best was Mountain with 13.

I-L Mat Meet on Thursday

The first conference wrestling meet of the Inter - Lakes league will be held Thursday afternoon and evening at Anderson Junior High School in Berkley.

Walled Lake, Waterford, Southfield, Farmington, Van Dyke and host Berkley will be the schools battling for the team championship. Team and individual awards will be made following the event.

Meet director Lloyd Houden has announced plans to begin the action at 4 p.m. and continue until all weight classes have concluded.

Competition will be in 12 weight divisions ranging from 97 pounds to the heavyweights.

Berkley is rated the slight favorite with a strong Farmington aggregation figured a strong threat followed by Southfield. The other entries are 1st year mat teams but could cause some surprises.

Lakeside Maintains Lead in 'C' League

Lakeside retained its two-game lead in the Class C division of the City Basketball League with an easy 53-34 victory over Town & Country Lounge last night at Madison Junior High.

The Pontiac Police, Lakeside's nearest rival, made Bud & Lou's Bar a 44-36 victim in yesterday's other "C" game.

In Class D American division action at Lincoln, unbeaten Auburn Heights Boys Club raced to a 47-22 conquest of Central Christian for its 9th win and Jack's Bar & Grill trounced Perry Park, 53-33.

Crisler Offers Athletic Plant for 1964 Games

Michigan Boss Suggests Big Stadium if Detroit Can Land Olympics

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Fritz Crisler, University of Michigan's athletic director says he is willing to offer Michigan's athletic facilities if Detroit is successful in its bid for the 1964 Olympic games.

Crisler adds that there are many more "fs."

No one officially has approached him about the possibility. Crisler says he is not giving it any serious thought. He says:

"The whole thing is too iffy.

Huge Michigan Stadium with its 101,001 seating capacity, does not have a running track. A small one could be constructed. Whether it would be suitable for Olympic track events is another "if."

Michigan's pool, scene of next month's NCAA swimming meet, would be ideal for Olympic competition.

University dormitories would prvide a tailor-made Olympic Village. The games are held in the summer when most students are vacationing. But Crisler says he has not spoken to dorm authorities.

The complex pattern of "ifs" arose when the Michigan Daily, a campus publication, asked Crisler if he would be willing to offer facilities. Crisler answered yes.

State Rep. John B. Swainson (D-Detroit) recently proposed that a 100,000-seat stadium be constructed at the Michigan State Fairgrounds in Detroit to beef up the Motor Citys Olympic bid. Swainson placed a bill before the legislature asking a 15 million dollar bond issue for the stadium.

Jones Will Run in AAU

YPSILANTI, Mich. (AP) — Hayes Jones, brilliant Eastern Michigan College track star, from Pontiac will fly to New York Friday to participate in the national AAU track and field meet on Saturday.

Jones, a multi-event star, will compete only in the 60-yard high hurdles.

Prize Awards Listed for Saturday Finale

The mens champion of the 1958 Bowlerama will earn himself a total of $475.50 in prize money Saturday at the Huron Bowl championships.

This is more than $25 than the guaranteed $450 as result of a share of the percentage of entries.

A total of 60 men, which is all of the qualifiers, will share the prize fund for at least $10.

Sixteen women will share the fund in their division with $250 going to the champion.

In event of a tie for the championship in either division, there will be a three-game roll-off between the tied bowlers.

The winner will then be considered the champion and the loser considered the runnerup based on total handicap score.

There will be no roll-offs for ties in other places. Handsome desk sets will go to the winners and runnerups, plus bowling shoes to the high actual series in each division.

One roll-off is already slated to take place between Frank Roosen of Birmingham and Harold Hintz of Rochester for the actual series prize of the qualifying round. They will roll one-game for the bowling ball.

Following the championship rounds, all bowlers are requested to be present for the presentation of prizes and awards at 4:00 p.m. in the "300" Lounge of Huron Bowl.

Three men qualifiers were missed in yesterdays printed list of finalists. Bill Bull, Elton Losey and Lou Koprince will please report for the championships Saturday to their respective squads which will be printed Thursday.

He's a Rare Bird!

The 'Looker' Gains Winter Sports Place

An unusual bird is the winter sports enthusiast. His plumage is colorful, his tastes vigorous and his normal habitat is a snow covered slope or warming shelter. He often may be identified by his shrill cry of "T-r-a-a-a-a-c-k!" He may also be found from time to time beside a hole in the ice, wee fish-pole in hand, noncommital about his luck.

At the first sign of snow the species begins kneading the hearth rug with his toes, eager to test his mettle at a zillion miles an hour (at least) down the hills of Michigan's 64 winter sports centers.

But, according to the Michigan Tourist Council, there is a mutation of the species which now is growing in population. He is known only as "The Looker," and he takes his pleasure from the sheer beauty of nature—even at 20 degrees below zero.

Most prominent recognition feature is camera slung for quick use and his whispered call, "Wonderful view! Wonderful view! He invariably repeats himself.

He is at once less flamboyant and more aesthetic in his tastes than his more vigorous relative, but no less courageous. He will ignore the coldest weather, wear the biggest snowshoes this side of the continental divide and slog through the deepest forests in the state just to look at a quiet hill, brooding in its white shawl of new snow, a lonely lake, a waterfall sculptured into fantastic crystalline beauty by the deft hands of winter.

"The Looker" is a quiet one, but still waters (or snow) run deep, and his numbers have become legion.

While the Michigan Tourist Council is busy computing proof that the state's 375,000 skiers will spend $12 million this winter, that 77,000 fishing trips to Houghton Lake last winter amassed 344,000 hours of angling on this one lake, The Looker is quietly looking over the Council's shoulder at a cardinal perched in the crown of a snow-laden spruce.

GOOD PALS — Duke, a German pointer with webbed feet, who first "adopted" a horse at the home of Leon Roach, Lake Orion, has himself become "adopted" by the Roachs' cat, Blackie, with whom he is shown above. Duke was owned by John Bouck of Orion, who gave him to the Roachs when the dog kept returning there after his first visit.

Covers 10 County Area

State Trapper-Instructor Busy Officer

Michigan's eight Conservation Department trapper-instructors, one of whom is located in the Pontiac area, cover a lot of territory in handling the varied and spread-out duties in each man's district. The job is an unusual, and interesting one.

These specialized-career officers handle all complaints regarding wild animals, such as predator damage, invasion by beavers of drains, raccoons getting into homes, and similar matters involving squirrels and other animals.

Working in an area of some 10 counties in the eastern and southeastern parts of the state, from the Thumb to the Ohio line, keeps Tom Brooke, genial officer, mighty busy, especially during the spring and summer. Brooke, who lives in Clarkston, says his "cases" average between 250 and 300 each year. He has been with the Conservation Department as a trapper-instructor for 13 years, last five in this area.

"Just now complaints are few," Brooke says. "They're mostly about beavers getting into and clogging drains in the Thumb area, killing timber and damaging farm lands. Usual treatment is to move the offending animals to other areas by live trapping."

Muskrats provide many calls in the early spring, from lake residents whose lawns are damaged by the 'rats. But it's the nocturnal raccoon, who gives the biggest trouble.

"Like the one that got into a chimney, bore a litter and then tore out bricks to get inside the home, where considerable damage was done," Brooke explained. Or, in another instance, where on one compaint he found a fox squirrel, flying squirrel, and a swarm of bees! all plaguing one family. "The complaint in this case," said Brooke, "first was about a coon tearing shingles off the roof."

Pontiac Press Photo

TRAPPER — Thomas (Tom) Brooke, Clarkston resident, and a Michigan Conservation Department field officer for many years, is one of 8 current state trappers, an unusual job on which he covers a big part of southeastern Michigan. His work is seldom publicized.

'58 Boat Show Set to Start This Weekend

Exhibits, Features to Be Far Better Than Last Year's Event

Detroit's second major boat show, an annual exhibit in the Detroit Artillery Armory on Eight Mile Road, near Northland, Feb. 22-March 2, is filling more than 200,000 square feet of floor space with boats, engines, accessories, educational and historical displays and features; far exceeding the first exposition in 1957.

Everything from small prams to high priced cruisers, not to mention the finest in model sail and power boats, will be shown.

Some of America's most famous boat trophies will be displayed, including the Gold Cup (from Seattle) and the Harmsworth.

Feature displays include the world's fastest outboard race boat, a boat that flies, a boat that has gone 50,000 miles non-stop day and night, an air-sea rescue helicopter—even an iceboat.

Between the small and large boats is to be an eye-filling welter of shining craft interestingly designed and manufactured of wood, steel, fiberglass, aluminum and plywood. The entire exposition will well reflect Michigan's more than 400,000 pleasure boats, 151,000 of which are in the Detroit area; figures that place Michigan second to New York state in the nation.

The "fastest outboard" will be exhibited only February 22-23 because it first was pledged to San Francisco's show. Danny Foster, who obtained it for two days for Detroit, will be in charge of the display. Foster has been timed at 95 mph in the craft and expects to do 105 mph, for a new world record, in trials to be held later, from Raleigh, N. C., for the show.

The "boat that flies," a helicopter adaptation, is being flown here

The organizational meetings, held at the armory during the show, will be productive of news and features of interest to everybody in boating. Two organizations are to start halls of fame.

3 Big Events for Riflemen

Three top rifle-shooting events have been scheduled for Oakland County Sportsmen's Club marksmen and markswomen, starting May 17-18 with the 300 meter free rifle tryouts for the international rifle team. Team when selected, will be composed of the five best marksmen in the U. S. It will tour the U. S., Europe and elsewhere.

On May 25, the outdoor National Rifle Association regional rifle match will take place also at OCSC, a preliminary to the national championships.

OCSC will be host June 15, to the Great Lakes district outdoor small-bore rifle matches, which are open to shooters from the Great Lakes area.

Little Stories About Outdoors

Former OCSC editor and photographer, Howard Shelley shows his engaging wildlife color film "Magpie Trails" at tonight's Multi-Lakes membership meeting. M-L also holds its annual president's banquet Saturday night in the clubhouse at Reed's lake.

Annual fish derby on Moran bay at St. Ignace, and at Brevort lake, in the Upper Peninsula city takes place Friday and Saturday.

Conservation Department at Lansing will accept sealed bids until 3 p.m. Feb. 28 for deer and elk hides on sale at Gaylord and Marquette. Bids are on a per hide basis. For further information contact Field Administration Div. Conser. Dept. Lansing.

OCSC will hold an ice-fishing derby on Saginaw Bay, at Sebewaing, Sunday March 2. Sons, and friends of members are invited and the fishing party will leave the Waterford clubhouse at 7 a.m. day of the event, go by motorcade to the scene. Those planning to go should register at clubhouse, OR 3-7441.

Conservation department's next meeting is set for March 13-14 at the Lansing offices. All meetings are open to the public.

Pontiac Dogs Place High in Obedience

Three Pontiac dogs placed among the top four in the recent all-breed obedience trial at the Doberman Specialty show in Berkley. A two-year-old, Volano von Frankenruth, owned by Livonia residents, went best-of-breed.

John Eicher's golden retriever, Mickey, scored 198½ points out of 200 in the utility class; Gene Connelly's boxer was second and Karen Lavery's cocker spaniel was fourth in obedience.

Artificial Light Illegal for Ice Spear Fishing

LANSING—Fishermen are reminded that artificial light may not be used when spearing through the ice during the January-February season on inland waters open to spearing.

General fishing regulations are listed in the 1958 Guide to Michigan Fish Laws, available free at license dealers and Conservation Department offices.

Changes Made in Skeet Dates

Chief Pontiac Event June 14-15, MSA for Aug. 30-31 at OCSC

Two important changes have been effected in dates for skeet shooting tournaments at Oakland County Sportsmen's club, during the summer and early fall.

Bob Thiefels announces that the big annual Chief Pontiac shotgun event has now been set for June 14-15. This OCSC scatter-gun feature always attracts many of the state's best at the sport.

Dates for the top skeet event of the state, the Michigan Skeet Association championships, also at the OCSC fields, will take place on Aug. 30-31. OCSC was recently awarded this important event, along with the International Skeet Championships, earlier in the fall.

Sportsmen's Dilemma

What to Do in Winter

By JACK PATTERSON

Brisk, isn't it? Brisk enough, anyway, to cut down the weekend swarm of ice-fishermen to the irreducible minimum of die-hards.

PATTERSON

Because we neglected to look at the thermometer Sunday we let the kids "con" us into walking over to Apple Island in Orchard Lake. If we didn't know better then, we do now. It was pleasant enough on the island but mighty frizzly to and fro. There was nary an exposed ice-fisherman on the lake and most shanties had that strangely untenanted look that settles around unoccupied shelters of any sort.

Heading south isn't apt to cure the fisherman's problems right now, either. Generally chilly temperatures, and what is more important to the fisherman, wind, have put flats fishing from the Bahamas west across the Florida keys on a be-there-at-the-right-time-or-else basis, with the Isle of Pines being a little safer bet, weatherwise, at the moment. Offshore fishermen are apt to find seas a bit sloppier than they might be for maximum comfort.

It is doubtful if foxes will be moving around enough to provide much hunting until things warm up a little. Frequent light dustings of snow such as we've been getting are ideal for this sport but foxes didn't get a reputation for smartness by roaming about in sub-zero weather. A sudden warm-up should bring action.

Heavy northern snows and continued cold will undoubtedly contribute to a heavy winter kill of deer this year. There is no known cure for this situation so long as numbers of deer exceed the winter carrying capacity of the range. Whether you shoot 'em off or starve 'em off, the result is the same. The range will support X number of deer through the winter, more in mild winters, less in tough ones. Nature will wipe out any excess above this X number if hunters don't.

Since there isn't much to do outdoors we can devote some inside time to constructive philosophising. Many subjects pop into mind and one of them is bird dogs. Somewhere in this broad land there must be a good grouse dog. The fact that we've never seen one shouldn't govern our thinking in the matter.

We've seen excellent quail dogs, dogs that could handle pheasants satisfactorily, and sharptail holders par excellence. We've never seen a partridge dog that, sooner or later, and mostly sooner, we wouldn't rather shot than a partridge!

Perhaps we should take a leaf from the book of an English gentleman of the last century whose custom it was to ride afield on a bullock behind a pack of pointing pigs. Pigs are smarter than dogs, generally, although not so stylish on point. A good pig, stanch on grouse, would be worth its considerable weight in gold. Anybody know of one that might be available in October?

Ontario Trains Hunters in New Safety Program

ALL OUTDOORS, USA (INS)—"Between life and death there is only a squeeze of the finger!"

This was a dramatic way to emphasize the importance of Ontario's new hunter safety training program. The supervisor of the program, A. B. (Al) Young, well-known marksman and range officer, said recently:

"The plan is to cut down this toll (of hunting accidents) by giving to each new applicant for a hunting license a working knowledge of how to handle firearms properly and hunt safely."

New York state was one of the prime movers for a hunter training rule. The program in the U. S. was taken over in the fall of 1949 by the National Rifle Association and is now being used in 18 states.

Young told a meeting of the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters, "95 per cent of the hunting accidents never should have happened. They stem from ignorance, carelessness and stupidity . . ."

The program is simple. Nimrods buying a hunting license are asked for their certificate to indicate they passed the training course. It is similar to giving motorists a test before issuing a driving license.

Lands and forests minister, the Hon. Clare E. Mapledoram, said the safety training will not make expert marksmen out of the participants, nor will it make them great hunters. It will, he explained, give each a working knowledge of safe gun handling, basic hunting rules and game law explanations.

Smart people KNOW
What is what

Good times or bad times, smart motorists know what is good for them.

In January, the first month of this publicized "recession" year, more people joined the Automobile Club of Michigan than in any January in Club history. More people paid their dues than in any January in history. More people insured their cars with the Exchange here at the Club than in any January in history. Both the Club and the Exchange had the largest increase in January history and the Club remains the fastest growing automobile club in the world, with over a half-million members.

Why? It Pays To Belong.

Walled Lake Dumps Cranbrook, 56-53

Orion, Rochester Win Easily

Walled Lake had to work hard to down Cranbrook 56-53 while Rochester and Lake Orion had no trouble continuing their winning ways in the features games on a prep hoop slate made up mostly of independent clashes around this area yesterday.

The extension of unbeaten Ferndale's streak to 11 straight, surprising Farmington's victory over Wayne and the clinching of the Southern Thumb championship by Almont were other highlights.

The Vikings of Walled Lake had romped over Cranbrook early in the season but Crane transfers Jim Williams and Tom Bray kept the home club in the tussle all the way this time by totaling 34 points, 21 for Williams.

Walled Lake led thoughout the last half after a nip-and-tuck opening session. Dennis McClelland paced the winners with 19.

The Jim Drake-Nick Neira duo carried Lake Orion to an 80-45 conquest of Oxford. Nick had 31 and Jim 29 far offsetting some good shooting by the losers. Clayton Woodward caged 14 and Jeff Brady 13 for Oxford.

Rochester handed Milford a 62-45 beating after leading all the way. A 30-point night for Carl Montross stole the show. Terry Anderson and Pat Kelly meshed 10 apiece for the losers.

Ferndale just breezed along in its 58-30 romp as, Earl McNeal garnered 15, John Rodwan 13 and Top Palmer 12. Jack Pace's eight points topped Royal Oak Kimball.

Surprising Farmington, now having four successive victories with a shot at Berkley coming up Friday, battled from behind with a 16-4 3rd quarter edge to trip Wayne 56-44. Sophomore Harvey Chapman split the nets for 23 for Farmington.

Almont had the situation well in hand drubbing New Haven 62-40 for its 11th straight in the loop. Frank Hartway paced the scorers with 17 while Don Eschenberg hit 12. Keith Griffin's eight was high for New Haven. Dryden got only its 2nd win of the season walloping Brown City 65-54 as Herb Sawgle, Curt Flater and Norm Soroka accounted for 57 of the points. Sawgle was high with 23.

Ortonville dropped a 62-58 decision to Mt. Morris and Romeo stayed in its losing rut bowing to Fraser 72-54 in some of the other area games.

Earl Richardson rung up 28 points in defeat as Ortonville blew a six-point last quarter edge. Romeo lost No. 5 in succession after trailing all the way. Jim Black tallied 12 and Dave Proper 10 for the Bulldogs.

East Detroit had a good warmup for its crucial Friday tilt against Ferndale in whipping Roseville 66-47 behind 20-point nights for big Ron Emerick and Gary Ballman.

L'Anse Creuse led from the start in defeating Country Day 57-47. Dave Derleth led Country Day with 14. A field goal in the last 40 seconds gave Maple Grove St. Michael a 47-46 win over Millington in a close one all the way. George Kish of the vanquished topped all the point-getters with 22.

South Lyon had to go into overtime to nip Fowlerville 33-29. Baskets by Jim Hammon and Milan Obrenovich, the latter's only one of the night, clinched the issue in the extra period.

Neira Threatening Drake

Lake Orion's terrific one - two punch of Jim Drake and Nick Neira apparently has the top two places sewed up in the Oakland County individual scoring race with only two weeks of play remaining but the question now is who will finish 1st.

Drake has been setting the pace since early December and still is with a 24.9 average for 12 contests but Neira has outscored him 78-54 in the last two starts to move from 3rd to a close 2nd with 24.5.

Neira had been battling with Rick Moos for the runnerup slot but the Madison sharpshooter got only two points against Orion Friday to slip to 5th with 19.4.

His drop enabled Waterford's John Herrington and Leroy Parks of Clarkston to move into 3rd and 4th, respectively, with marks of 19.6 and 19.5 in that order.

Drake and Neira also pace the county in total points with 299 and 295 with four games left.

One-Time Opera Star Discusses Aging

In Growing Old, One Must Learn to Accept Living With Himself

By GERALDINE FARRAR

RIDGEFIELD, Conn. (AP) — The transition from strenuous public routine to relative retirement to private life was dictated by an early experience which made a sad and unhappy impression on me.

As a teen-age opera enthusiast at the Metropolitan in those blissful days when half a dollar would admit one to the Olympian delights near the stage, among the standees, I saw coming through the Broadway entrance the haggard remains of a once handsome woman.

Something in her carriage was vaguely familiar; an usher, replying to my inquiry as to whom she might be, mentioned a name well known in an earlier opera decade; her current sporadic appearances on stage portrayed a person sadly clinging to a onetime acclaim.

As this picture of faded grandeur swept down the aisle, I was seized with compassion and distaste, at the same time.

An aging figure trying to recapture former glory is never a pleasing spectacle; but as a human being, indeed a pathetic silhouette.

Life at any age is as one makes it; but to be successful, must be a ready acceptance of the changes that unroll before one, like a rich tapestry always at the service of the guiding needle that useful article being one's intelligent understanding.

Those qualities that were fused with pride, and directed toward attainments, must be brought into another focus, which is living with one's self.

The domain will be a private one, without headlines. Perhaps a bit strange at first, but richly rewarding with intimate acquaintance.

One of the nicest attributes will be the friends we have known how to cherish. These loyal ones will enjoy something of yourself, afar from the fairyland adulation.

For a career dedicated to high purpose must be self-centered and not infrequently ruthless in the pursuance of it.

There is no time for boredom or laziness; but there is as well, too little time for self-examination.

Self-reliance is more than an Emersonian essay, though it could and did point the way and value. The courage to look at things the way they ARE and make the best of what IS grows from an accumulation of small acceptances and variations.

A healthy body and mind in the sunset years are to be desired; but sometimes the mind wears better than other frailties, so that over all can reign the content of the spirit.

As in music (when current dissonances and unrestrained cacophony prevail, alas), harmony must be the ultimate achievement.

Personally, I cannot imagine anyone in possession of his normal senses being so cowardly as to invite the negative enemies of a happy spirit.

Tomorrow: A churchman looks at old age.

When Geraldine Farrar, now 75, was at the height of her operatic career, she made two personal vows: She would quit opera at 40 and the concert stage at 50. She kept both.

From 1906 until her retirement from opera in 1922, Miss Farrar sang in 493 Metropolitan performances in 23 roles. Her most popular roles were Cio-Cio-San in "Madame Buterfly" and the title role in "Carmen."

Hollywood Headlines

Clint Walker Very Model of Modern Film Cowpoke

By BOB THOMAS
Third in Series

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Clint Walker is the very model of a modern movie cowpoke.

Clint is handsome, rangy (6 feet 6) and serious. Making Western movies is no adventure to him, as it was to pioneers like Broncho Billy Anderson and journeymen like Bob Steele. To Clint, it is work.

He belongs to the new crop of Western heroes who take their acting seriously, save what money they can and try to take a long-range view on their careers. They work long hours, grinding out products for the insatiable appetite on TV, and have little time or inclination to raise hell.

Two years ago, Clint Walker was just another big actor trying to get work in Hollywood. You can see him as one of the paraoh's guards in "The Ten Commandments." Then a smart agent took him to Warner Brothers to try out for the lead in a TV Western, Cheyenne.

He got the role and the series was a success. So much so that it launched more Westerns at Warners, and this year the studio will pull in 15 million dollars from its TV enterprises.

Cheyenne has made Clint a star —but not necessarily happy.

"I'm tired," he said as he lumbered through his 52nd hourlong Western. "There used to be fun making these pictures when we started out and had plenty of time and budget to work on them. But now we have to grind them out on a schedule, and there's no kick in it for me.

"I want to get out. I got into the acting business with the idea that I wanted to excel in it and make it my life's work. To do that, you've got to continue growing as a performer. I don't think you can continue growing when you have to work so fast. I want to get into feature pictures, which is the Cadillac section of this business."

The studio has already given him his first starring feature, "Fort Dobbs," and is preparing another. But whether he will be allowed to abdicate as Cheyenne is a moot question. He is under exclusive contract, and studios have a way of continuing what appears to be a going enterprise.

Clint is cut from the classical pattern of the Western hero, though he comes in a larger size than his predecessors. Like William S. Hart, Gary Cooper, Randolph Scott and others, he is slim-hipped, laconic and calculating. A native of Hartford, Ill., he worked as night club bouncer, oil rigger and private detective before landing in Las Vegas as a deputy sheriff. His physical assets naturally brought him to the attention of Hollywood visitors.

He lives in a $21,000 tract house in the San Fernando Valley with his wife and 6-year-old daughter. During his brief vacations from filming, he takes his family prospecting in the desert. What has he found?

"Fresh air, sunshine and peace of mind," he replied. Also some uranium, but never enough for mining. His other pastime: motorcycling.

"On the weekends when I'm mad at the studio and the world," he said, "I take my motorcycle up to the hills. I see a hill just sittin' there saying it can't be climbed, so I take out after it. Yeah, I take a few spills, but it takes my mind off everything, and I can come back ready to face making more Westerns."

Anti-Antimissile Missile Offers Army Mobility

CHICAGO (AP)—A new highly mobile surface-to-surface ballistic guided missile with a range of 100 miles and the ability to resist enemy countermeasures has been developed by the Army.

Dr. William H. Martin, civilian director of Army research and development, said the new missile, the Sergeant, is not yet in use, but has been "successfully" tested a number of times.

Martin said the new missile uses a solid fuel, instead of the liquid fuel used by the missile it eventually will replace, the Corporal.

"It has demonstrated a very high degree of reliability," Martin said in an address to the Headline Club, Chicago professional chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity.

"It can deliver a nuclear punch deep into enemy lines, and its extremely accurate guidance system is invulnerable to any known enemy countermeasures," he added.

Martin said the 30-foot-long Sergeant has far greater mobility than many other weapons of its type and can be more easily stored and readied for action.

Look Out Both Sides, Crash Into Phone Pole

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo (AP) — Patrolman Charles Mancuso, at the wheel of a new police car, drove slowly through a parking area of Lincoln Park. He checked the left side of the area and officer Robert Brown looked out the other window to the right.

That's when the car crashed into a telephone pole in the center of the paved parking area. Damage wasn't extensive.

Young Officer Holds Key to Oil

Devout Moslem Named Barlian Controls Fate of Supply on Sumatra

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — A quietly devout young Moslem army officer named Barlian holds the key to the vast oil resources on the rebellious island of Sumatra.

He has warned both sides in the so-far bloodless dispute he will not allow Southern Sumatra, site of European oil installations, to become a battleground.

The new anti-Communist rebel government in Central Sumatra has ordered the companies to cease paying royalties to the central Indonesian government and to sto pall deliveries to the oil-dependent island of Java. If Barlian—who commands the south—bars the way, the rebel gesture will be an empty one.

Whatever decisions are taken by the giant oil companies will be reached in the board rooms of London, Amsterdam and the United States. But Barlian, whose name translates into "Diamond," can upset all plans being hatched here, in Padang or in the faraway board rooms.

Tugboats Push Through Ice on Mississippi

CAIRO, Ill. (AP) — Powerful towboats crunched their way slowly through ice gorges on the Mississippi River today and traffic on some tributaries was blocked.

At places the mighty Mississippi was 90 per cent choked by the slowly but steadily building ice.

The Ohio River was reported entirely blocked.

The St. Louis Weather Bureau forecast temperatures well below freezing through the weekend.

Three towboats were trapped in an ice gorge near Cairo. They were in no apoarent danger.

Towboats still moving down the Mississippi were guided by radio instructions through sections where channel markers were torn loose. Nearly half the marker buoys are out of position.

"Just a few days of good weather would clear things up," said an official of Federal Barge Lines.

Road Sign Rustlers Hunted by Posses

TULARE, Calif. (INS)—Citizen-posses are riding the roads again in California—searching for vandals who steal or mutilate traffic signs.

Tulare County Highway Commissioner Joseph Garcia Jr., organized the 200 volunteers a year ago. Each time a volunteer spots a missing or damaged sign, he mails a postcard to Garcia, noting the exact location. Repair crews are sent out within hours.

Garcia says the citizen-volunteer plan is an outgrowth of a survey of 12,000 traffic signs along the county's 3,100 miles of roads. Many were found damaged or outdated.

Although the county uses modern reflective signs, the road commission felt they had to insure constant repair for maximum highway safety. The citizen's posse was the economical answer.

Runaway Boy Found Searching for Old West

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—A Virginia youngster who left home with a bag filled with buckwheat cakes to keep him going until he could find a job as a cowboy says he's had enough of the Old West.

James Clyde Cordle, 15, Abington, Va., said he had hoped to find cowboys and Indians walking the streets. Instead, he found a bunk at the Tarrant County jail.

Police found him stranded and penniless in a bus station. County officials plan to send him back home.

Blue Cross Rents 'Brain'

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan Blue Cross-Blue Shield has installed a so-called electronic brain in its Detroit headquarters. It will pay $37,000 a month rental for the machine which it says eventually will replace 250 employes. It was built by Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Co. and is capable of handling 25,000 bookkeeping transactions in two hours.

CONSTIPATED?
New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloat or gripe

Most constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that loses so much moisture that its contents become so dry they block the bowel; so shrunken they fail to stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be remoistened. Second, bulk must be brought to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE colon to action; to a normal urge to purge. And, of all laxatives, only new COLONAID, possesses its great moisturizing capacity plus its stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, yet is so gentle it has been hospital proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions.

It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONAID, in easy-to-take tablets, today! Introductory size, only 98c, at all druggists.

92, She Walks Half-Mile in Zero Weather to Vote

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—A 92-year-old woman who has not missed voting in a Grand Rapids election since before 1936, walked about a half-mile yesterday—in zero weather—to keep her record intact.

Grand Rapids held primary elections Monday.

Mrs. Jennie I. Taylor, a widow, was reported nearly exhausted when she appeared at the fire station voting place for her precinct. Officials said she cast her vote, however, before accepting a cup of coffee from station firemen. She was returned to her home by a police car.

Gas Pistols Stop Dogs

DURBAN, South Africa — Long plagued by biting dogs, electricmeter readers in South Africa have taken to carrying pistols. The guns, to be used only in emergences, are loaded with a harmless but effective gas.

Mayan Indians achieved a high stage of civilization in Central America before the birth of Christ. Their temples were built mostly of limestone and mortar.

Largest Truck Treads Desert Same as Camel

LYONS, France — The "world's largest truck," designed for desert use, has been built by a Lyons firm.

With its 10 pneumatic tires, each taller than a man, it exerts the same pressure on sand per cubic inch as a camel's foot.

Called the "Sahara Giant," the truck is 44.3 feet long, 15 feet wide, and weighs 100 tons. It has a 600-horsepower diesel motor, air conditioning, power steering, disc brakes, radio transmitter with a 187-mile range, and cost about $119,000.

It has been operated successfully in 143-degree heat in the Sahara Desert, where, its maker hopes, it will play a big role in the development of recently discovered oil fields.

Aid Program Broken Down

Ike's Request for Funds Outlined in Message to Congress

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (INS) — Here is a breakdown of the $3,942,100,000 foreign aid program outlined today by President Eisenhower in a special message to Congress:

Defense support — 835 millions to bolster the economies of 12 countries "that are supporting substantial military forces."

Special assistance — 212 millions to help "maintain political and economic stability" in various nations and support such activities as "the world-wide malaria eradication program."

Development loan fund—625 millions to supplement 300 millions of initial capital appropriated last year "to help friendly nations strengthen themselves by encouraging the development of their economies on the basis of self-help and mutual cooperation."

Technical cooperation—142 million dollars plus 20 millions for the United Nations technical assistance program and one and a half millions for the Organization of American States.

Contingency fund—A minimum of 200 million dollars to meet unforeseen developments "considering the turbulent state of the world today."

Other programs—106 millions as "our contribution to the U.N. Children's Fund, certain refugee programs, the atoms-for-peace program and for the cost of administering the economic programs."

Obeys Orders Over TV but Gets Weary of 'Em

MACON, Ga. (AP)—Radio station WBML yesterday as a public service asked listeners to turn down thermostats on their gas heaters five degrees to conserve natural gas.

Toward the end of the day a listener called.

"I've been turning down the thermostat five degrees every time you asked," he said. "It's now 40 degrees in the living room and I'm getting tired of it."

Disputes at Chrysler Send 7,100 Home

DETROIT (AP) — Continuing disputes over production standards resulted today in Chrysler Corp. sending 7,100 workers home from two Detroit plants. It was the 17th straight day of interruption.

Chrysler sent 2,100 home at 10:30 a.m. from its Detroit Plymouth assembly plant. It blamed scheduling difficulties caused by disruptions elsewhere.

At Dodge Main 5,000 were sent home because of what the company said was failure of trim department employes to perform assigned work.

Chrysler said it was scheduling normal operations at both plants tomorrow.

The United Auto Workers Union has accused Chrysler of a speedup and has authorized but not called a strike at Dodge Main. A strike there eventually would shut down all Detroit Chrysler operations and idle around 80,000. It is a key supplier of parts and headquarters for the company's inter-plant trucking fleet.

Reynolds Plant Blast Kills Five, Injures 12

CHICAGO (AP) — Five men were killed and another was reported missing after an explosion and fire early today in the Reynolds Metals Co. big plant in suburban McCook.

About a dozen workers were reported injured, but none seriously. Three were hospitalized.

Firemen who fought the blaze which broke out after the explosion in the plant's casting department found the bodies of four men in a furnace room.

About 85 men were at work when the blast occurred.

Fire spread to several parts of the plant, which covers 63½ acres. The fire was brought under control after about two hours.

The cause of the explosion had not been determined.

Former Elections Head Frey Dies in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Edward W. Frey, 65, Michigan director of elections from 1952 to 1954, died last night after a long illness.

Frey, president of the Detroit Municipal Employes Assn. for 22 years, served in the State Legistature in 1947 and 1948.

Market Jerks, Yawns Again

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market resumed its irregular and quiet course early today.

Leading stocks fluctuated slightly wih changes within a one-point range.

Steels, base metals, utilities and most leading rails showed small gains. Motors were unchanged to a bit higher. Aircrafts, chemicals and rubber were irregular.

The business news remained mixed and there was little to inspire a definite market change. the cold spell and heavy snow conditions remained a temporary depressant. On the positive side came reports of lower rates on mortgage loans in various parts of the country.

Lorillard was still actively traded, showing a loss of about a point.

An early block of 20,000 shares of Twentieth Century - Fox was traded at 25, up ⅜ from yesterday's close. In later dealings the stock showed a rise of around a point.

Youngstown Sheet was about a one-point gainer. U. S. Steel rose a fraction. Bethlehem was about unchanged, as was General Motors.

FEPC Chairman Plans to Step Out

LANSING (AP) — Sidney M. Shevitz, Detroit attorney, is stepping out soon as chairman of the Fair Employment Practices Commission, Gov. Williams said today.

The governor said Shevitz had asked not to be considered for reappointment, and that his wishes will be respected.

Shevitz continued to serve although his term expired Dec. 31.

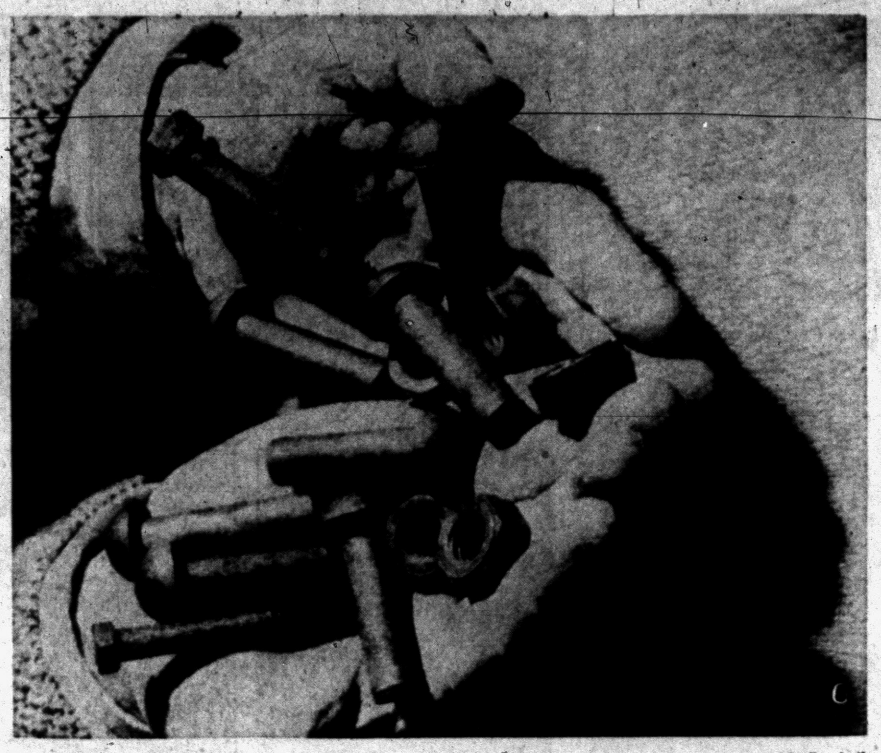

Williams said it was with "greatest regret and reluctance" that he decided to accede to Shevitz' request and started looking for a replacement.

Shevitz said that while the prospect of leaving "saddens me," personal obligations and commitments require him to give up the post. He said he was "proud" of his part in the commission's work since its organization in 1955.

Kefauver's Dad Dies

SOLID FOOD — These are the rivets, bolts and nuts that Jack Soble, 55, confessed spy for Russia, swallowed in an apparent suicide attempt while working as a warehouse clerk at the Lewisburg, Pa., Federal Penitentiary. The hardware was removed in a 2-hour and 20-minute operation at Bellevue hospital in New York. Soble was given a 7-year sentence last Oct. 8 after he helped authorities unravel the workings of a Soviet spy ring, in which he played a leading role for years.

Auto Display Set in Pontiac

Special Cars and Trucks Shipped to City From National Show

Shiny new specially-trimmed cars and trucks are being readied today for a display at the Pontiac Retail Store, 63 Mt. Clemens St.

The cars are from the Pontiac and Vauxhall exhibits at the National Auto Show, according to Hank Gotham, store manager.

Included will be the specially styled Pontiac Bonneville convertible with genuine African leopard skin upholstery of the seats and side panels, he said.

Other outstanding vehicles will be a Vauxhall panel truck specially trimmed for the show and a Vuaxhall Bedford station wagon. Pontiac dealers retail the Britsh-made Vauxhall line in the United States.

The cars were shipped to Pontiac from Milwaukee where the auto show was last exhibited. They will be on display here until Feb. 29, Gotham stated.

Included in the show will be special displays, such as power steering, which explain how they work and give the public an opportunity to try them out, he said.

New Field Position Filled by GM Here

Appointment of Cortez W. Edmonston Jr., to the new post of dealer survey manager for Pontiac Motor Division has been announced by Frank V. Bridge, general sales manager.

EDMONSTON

Formerly assistant sales promotion manager, Edmonston, in his new capacity, is in charge of field surveys in all metropolitan areas of the nation, according to Bridge.

Edmonston joined General Motors with Pontiac's Kansas City Zone in 1945 and was named district manager in 1946. He was transferred to the Milwaukee zone in 1949 where he held various positions of responsibility, assuming the duties of assistant zone manager in 1953.

Returning to the Central Office at Pontiac in 1955, Edmonston was appointed assistant sales promotion manager the following year—the position he held prior to his new appointment.

A native of Mexico, Mo., he graduated from the University of Missouri's School of Business and Public Administration with a Bachelor of Science degree. Edmonston is married, has one son, and lives at 824 Colonial Ct., Birmingham.

GENEVA (AP)—The International Red Cross committee announced today it has offered its good offices for arranging the repatriation of the 34 persons on the South Korean airliner which landed in North Korea Sunday.

The committee said it wired the North Korean Red Cross asking for news of the passengers, and offering to help them leave North Korea.

Would Cut Up Firms

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) said today that giant corporations should be broken up to promote competition or else ways should be found to get new companies started in major industries.

City Auto Dealers Advise Trading for '58 Car Now

The financial advantage of trading on a 1958 car now, rather than later in the model year, was pointed out today by a group of Pontiac automobile dealers.

They said that figures compiled by a trade publication last year showed that late model cars depreciated $227 from January to June, and an additional $228 from July to December, for a total of $455 for the year.

The dealers point out that substantial savings on the cost of a new car can be made by taking advantage of the higher trade-in value of 1955, '56 and '57 cars today.

The dealers also urged Pontiac residents to do business with local dealers who employ 358 salespeople, mechanics, clerks and maintenance workers.

They said that these local employes received more than $1.5 million in wages last year, which was a substantial contribution to local business and government through their purchases and taxes.

Kidnap-Rapist Declared Insane

Judge Orders Youth Committed to State Institution

CASSOPOLIS (AP) — A Dowagiac youth who has admitted the Oct. 15 kidnap-rape of two young school teachers today was declared a criminal sexual psychopath by a Cass County circuit court jury.

Judge Carl D. Mosier ordered Robert Leroy Ball, 18, committed to the Michigan State Hospital Commission for confinement in an appropriate institution "as long as needed to correct the mental condition."

Ball was returned to jail under $25,000 bail pending commitment.

Three Kalamazoo psychiatrists and Sheriff Kenneth McLeod testified yesterday before the jury of four women and eight men in a hearing requested by Ball's court-appointed defense attorney.

The psychiatrists described Ball a "criminal sexual psychopath" after examining the youth last month.

Ball was arrested at his home hours after the teachers had been abducted in their car at knifepoint, disrobed, beaten, raped and abandoned in two rural Dowagiac areas.

The jury deliberated 20 minutes on determining whether Ball was sane or suffering a mental condition with criminal propensities for not less than four months.

Freed by Court, Haunted by Twin, Man Hospitalized

LLANRWST, Wales — Emrys Hughes, a hounded and haunted man, recently was ordered to a hospital in the Welsh town of Llanrwst, where he lives.

He was hounded by the people of the town and haunted by the ghost of a nine-year-old girl. In a criminal court Hughes, 20, was acquitted of killing Brenda Pierce, aged nine.

Brenda was killed by a shot from his gun while he was pigeon hunting. The gun went off by accident when his arm was nudged by another youth, he said.

But many Llanwrst people did not agree and since the trial they have tried to hound him out of town. His local "pub" won't serve him, he is jeered at in the streets and girls won't date him.

The "ghost" that haunts him is Brenda's identical twin, Sandra, who lives nearby. But Hughes is determined not to leave.

Cars in Repair Shop

LOS ANGELES (AP) — American automobiles average 30 hours a year in the repair shop, President J. T. Davis, Corpus Christi, Tex., told the Motor and Equipment Wholesalers Assn. The nation is short 60,000 automobile mechanics and 25,000 auto repair shops, he said.

Ancient Tablets Partly Deciphered by Red Scholars

LONDON (AP) — Soviet scholars have deciphered part of the writing on Easter Island's prehistoric stone tablets, Moscow radio said today.

A broadcast said scholars at the Leningrad Museum of Ethnography and Anthropology soon will compete the first full version of the picture writing.

Solving the mystery of the tablets' inscriptions could unravel one of the world's great archeological riddles and explain what kind of culture existed on the island, 2,500 miles west of Chile.

The tablets were unearthed during the past century by American, British and other students. Thor Heyerdahl, Norwegian scientist, believes the stones are related to prehistoric migrations which put South American Indians into contact with South Sea islanders.

Detroit Sailor Found Strangled

Navy Man, 18, Killed Aboard Carrier Berthed at Puget Sound Yard

BREMERTON, Wash. (AP)—An 18-year-old Detroit sailor was found strangled aboard the aircraft carrier Bon Homme Richard, it was learned Tuesday.

The body of Apprentice Seaman John E. Ruttan, 18, was found Sunday afternoon in a paint storage room of the carrier berthed at the Puget Sound Navy Yard here.

Coroner Al Segerquist said Ruttan, who joined the Navy in January 1957, had been murdered.

Naval authorities said Ruttan's body was found propped in a sitting position against a bulkhead. A large, loosely knotted rope was around his neck, they said.

However, Segerquist said an autopsy showed the young sailor had been strangled with a smaller rope. The rope was found Monday aboard the carrier, naval authorities said.

The carrier's executive officer, Commander W. H. House, said Ruttan's shoes were scuffed, as if his body had been dragged to the storage room.

House said Ruttan "was getting along fine" aboard shop and had no reason to take his own life.

Naval authorities are handling the investigation.

Ruttan's mother, Mrs. Edna Ernst, said he had been very happy in the Navy and had planned to make it his career.

Nuclear Arms Ban Offered by Soviets

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government offered today to bar nuclear and rocket weapons from Central Europe if the United States, Britain and France agreed to do the same.

The Foreign Ministry spokesman, Leonid F. Ilyichev read a government declaration at a news conference which said a Soviet-British - U.S. - French agreement could be a preliminary step pending full international agreement on the outlawing of nuclear weapons.

The offer contained no mention of inspection or control. It contained no other inducement to make the plan of Polish Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki for a nuclear-free zone more acceptable to the West. The Rapacki plan would include East and West Germany, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

City Boys' Club Director Named to National Post

Michael L. Fiorillo, executive director of the Pontiac Boys' Club, has been named to the national committee on health and physical education of the Boys' Clubs of America.

He will serve on the committee which advises the 500 U. S. clubs on research and study projects and reports on new ideas and trends, according to John M. Gleason, national director, who made the announcement.

Snowstorm Toll in Washington Lists 18 Dead

WASHINGTON (AP)—Eighteen accidental deaths and fatal heart attacks have been attributed to the snowstorm which has gripped the Washington area since Saturday.

One of the latest reported was that of Richard B. McEntire, 46, a member of the Securities and Exchange Commission from 1946 to 1953. He died of a heart attack after his car stalled and he walked home through the snow.

"He weighed 350 pounds and he walked in the snow. That did it," said Dr. Frank Broschart, Montgomery County, Md., medical examiner.

Another victim was Joseph Kumbar, 73. He was found dead on the roof of his porch where he had been shoveling snow. He previously had been treated for a heart ailment.

Nixon Focusing on the Present

Feels Record as Veep Sufficient Talking Point if He Runs in 1960

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Vice President Nixon tackled a news conference presumption that he will be a presidential candidate in 1960 by staking whatever aspirations he may have on his record.

His questioners at the conference, a feature of a dinner in his honor, given by the Greater Los Angeles Press Club, asked when he would start speaking for himself as a possible candidate for the Republican nomination, rather than speaking for Presiden Eisenhower's administration.

"The one assumption you are making is to presume I will run in 1960," Nixon replied.

"I feel the most effective way to run for office is to do a good job at what you're doing and let the future take care of itself. I am going to do the best job I can of defending and articulating administration policy," he said.

Nixon said he favors tax cuts ahead of a program of public works if administration efforts are needed to end the current business slump.

He described Sen. John Kennedy of Massachusetts as one of the more attractive men in the Democratic party, who would be a strong candidate for the presidency in 1960.

County's Units to Check Past

Study Group Hoping Departments May Find Ways to Streamline

County departments will be asked to look back into their past performances and see how they could better streamline their operations, a special county government study committee decided yesterday.

The committee, headed by John L. Carey of Springfield Township, also agreed to call in the Citizens Research Council of Michigan for advice.

"This doesn't mean," Carey said, "that we're going to hand the supervisors any survey. We will have a definite plan of recommendations when we are done."

The committee was created last October to examine possible legislative and constitutional changes which would remodel county government. Carey was the leader for such a group.

One such change members discussed Tuesday is a proposal by Montmorency County Sen. Frank Andrews that counties be enabled to establish home rule.

Another mentioned was hiring a controller, like Kent County, as chief acocunting officer in Oakland County.

"We don't want anybody to feel we are after their jobs," Carey said, "Basically they're doing a fine job."

But Carey added that "we're going to step on some people's toes and there's no question about it."

Area Workers Join Teamsters Union

ROYAL OAK — Hourly employes of Sherman Products Inc., a tractor implement firm at 3200 W. 14 Mile Rd., voted to join Pontiac Teamsters Local 614 in an election conducted yesterday by the Michigan Labor Relations Board.

The vote climaxed an eight-day strike this month in which most of the companys 115 employes sought union recognition.

For Founder's Day Celebration

Lake Orion PTAs Unite

ORION TOWNSHIP — A milestone in the history of the PTAs of the Lake Orion School District will be their first combined meeting, a Founder's Day celebration at 8 p.m. Saturday in the new Lake Orion Community High School.

Planned jointly by the six local associations, the program will pay tribute not only to the founders of the PTA movement but especially to the founders and workers of each of the Orion associations. There are now nearly 500 members.

Special recognition will be given the first four presidents: Mrs. Mabel Griggs of the Lake Orion School PTA, 1930; Mrs. Thure Wickman, Proper PTA, 1947; Mrs. Laurence Rentschler, Webber PTA, 1949; and Mrs. Chester Gravelle, the Carpenter Mother's Club, 1946.

The Rev. Albert Johns will give the invocation, followed by the salute to the flag led by Carl Baber, president of the Senior High School Student Council.

Supt. of Schools Arlie Reed, will present greetings.

A script, "Through the Years with Your PTA," by Mrs. John Lessiter, will be narrated by Mrs. Eugene Matheys and John Bixby Lantern slides of cartoons prepared in the high school art class also will illustrate early events.

Second portion of the program will be a panel of representatives from Community Youth Clubs with Roy Vanette, Lake Orion Community High School counselor, as moderator.

Representing 4-H will be Kathleen Abbey; Youth Center Board, John Taylor; Hi-Y, Walter Cudnohfsky; Y-Teens, Diane Trienan; Boy Scouts, Edward Eckler; Girl Scouts, Christine Schaeffer; Cub Scouts, Richard Hurd; and Brownies, Carol Drahner

Cookies baked by mothers from all the PTAs will be served by 10 girls of the high school home economics class.

Special music will be provided by the Lake Orion Junior High School band under the direction of Donald Parrish; and by the Lake Orion Community High School A Cappella Choir, under the direction of Evelyn Micheletti.

Mrs. Martin Parker, is general chairman for the event.

DIXIE LEE PARKS

New Witness in FCC Probe

Rejected Applicant for TV Channel 10 Testifies for House Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — House subcommittee probers dig deeper into Miami's famed fight for TV Channel 10 today after a new round of name dropping.

A. Frank Katzentine, whose examiner-approved application to operate a television station was overruled by the Federal Communications Commission, was called as the day's chief witness.

The House Commerce subcommittee began checking into the controversial case after its ousted counsel Bernard Schwartz testified that $2,650 in checks had been paid to FCC Commissioner Richard A. Mack while the case was pending.

Schwartz said the money came from Thurman A. Whiteside, a Miami lawyer who he said was interested in the case in behalf of National Airlines. Mack was one of four commissioners who voted 4-2 to give the TV grant to Public Service Television, Inc., a subsidiary of National Airlines.

Mack, who is scheduled to testify tomorrow, has denounced the charges as "distortions." Whiteside, who also has denied Schwartz's allegations, has said he made numerous loans to Mack but took no part as a lawyer in the FCC case. He said he and Mack have been friends for many years.

"Die Meistersinger" was Wagner's only comic opera. It satirizes critics.

Couple Honeymoons in Florida

Adele Galler Exchanges Vows With Ralph J. Blust

LAKE ORION—Following a two-week Florida honeymoon, newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Ralph J. Blust will reside on North Shore drive, Lake Orion. The bride is the former Adele Galler of Lake Orion.

The couple was married Saturday morning in St. Joseph Catholic Church by the Rev. Father George E. Ging.

MR. and MRS. RALPH J. BLUST

Before speaking her nuptial vows, the bride placed a bouquet of white roses on the altar of the Blessed Virgin.

The bride's taffeta gown was accented by seed pearls and paillettes encircling the neckline in four rose clusters repeated around the skirt which swept into a chapel train.

Her fingertip veil of illusion net was secured by a modified crown headpiece encrusted with pearls and sequins.

She carried a white orchid, arranged with stephanotis, on her prayer book.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Galler of 2030 Buell Rd., Orion township. Her husband is the son of Mrs. Clarence Blust of 77 Hillside Dr., and the late Mr. blust.

The bride's sister, Marguerite, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were the bride's sisters-in-law, Mrs. Robert Galler of Pontiac and Mrs. Albert Galler Jr. of Rochester.

Adam Kravetz of Pontiac, a friend of the bridegroom, was best man. Raymond and Glen Blust, brothers of the bridegroom, acted as ushers.

The reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Galler on Adams road.

Ray Milland Yearns to Do 'No Holds Barred' Series

RAY MILLAND

Would Violate All TV Taboos

But Actor Insists That He'd Keep His Show in Good Taste

By CHARLES DENTON

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — When Ray Milland was a youngster in Wales, he used to run away from home every week, but never twice in the same direction.

Figuratively speaking, he's still doing it.

Departures are something Milland dearly loves, whether to some distant land between pictures, out to sea in one of the 14 yachts he has owned or into an uncharted area in the realm of drama.

Movie watchers, at home or in theaters, will recall that he played the first realistic drunk in pictures in "The Lost Weekend" — which brought a small army of inebriates wandering onto the screen — and the first speechless role since talkies in "The Thief."

Lately he has branched out into producing and directing — most recently "Death Watch" for NBC-TV's "Suspicion" series — and he's pondering a "departure" for television that should make even the hardiest sponsors gulp.

"I want to do a show called 'No Holds Barred' and do all the things that are taboo in TV," Ray explains with a straight face. "It would all be in good taste, of course, but I want to be able to say a woman is pregnant — not that specifically, but things like that.

SHOW FOR GROWNUPS

"What I'm thinking of is a series that's just slightly off-beat, a show for grownups. I'm so sick of being treated like a 14-year-old, and I'll bet the audience must be too."

To give you an idea, the drama Milland has in mind for his opener would show crime paying off in six figures — and pounds sterling, no less — which tops the "verboten" list in both movies and television.

Milland's eagerness to get another television series going for him is understandable. A few years ago he starred in and partially owned 78 "Professor McNulty" video films, a job he says "made an old man of me."

"I outsmarted myself on them," Ray says ruefully now. "Everyone started making pilot films for new series and I thought TV was going to have more film than it would know what to do with. So two years ago I sold my interest to Music Corporation of America.

Catholics Agree With Psychiatry

Long Conflict Between Church and Couch Seen Lessening Today

NEW YORK — What do Catholics think about psychiatry? Has today's age of mounting mental illnesses lessened the conflict between the church and "the couch?"

An articlee in a recent issue of a national magazine states that both the Catholic church and psychiatry aspire to bring man a measure of happiness. Because this is being viewed with clear insight by papal leaders, psychiatry and Catholicism are learning to live together. There is today, much less opposition between the confessional box and the analyst's couch than is popularly assumed.

An important Catholic leader reveals in the article that many American bishops have privately stated their willingness to support programs of psychiatry in Catholic seminaries. This development and sentiment among the Catholic body is a far cry from the suspicion and antagonism voiced by Catholics at the advent of Freud's revolutionary views on psychoanalysis more than half a century ago.

Why the conflict originally? The psychiatrist is by training a scientist, not a moralist. He views a problem in a different light than a priest would. What is guilt or an emotional problem to an analyst may be sin to a priest.

It was this basic misunderstanding that led to general disrespect for the field of psychiatry among the Catholic people, the article claims. The idea of using the confessioner's box to absolve subconscius problem misled many who might have otherwise turned to psychoanalysis in searching for the causes of emotional disturbances.

However, today definite signs of bridging the gap between psychiatry and Catholicism are very apparent. Having been accepted as a qualified arm of the medical profession, psychoanalysis, working hand in hand with man's religious faith, is becoming an unbeatable combination able to relieve millions of people the world over of mental and emotional ills and conflicts.

1876 Election Facts Win $128,000 on TV

NEW YORK (AP) — An Abbeville, La., veterinarian who came to this country nine years ago won $128,000 on a TV quiz program last night for his knowledge of obscure details of the 1876 presidential election.

Ukrainian-born Dr. Alexander Sas-Jaworsky identified pictures of the candidates, Samuel J. Tilden and Rutherford B. Hayes, and also recalled that:

It was Hayes who became the 19th president; the four states in which votes were disputed were Oregon, Florida, South Carolina and Louisiana; the independent on the electoral commission was David Davis and he was replaced because he was elected to the Senate; Davis' replacement was Supreme Court Justice Joseph Bradley.

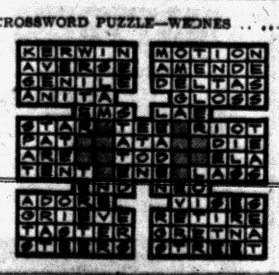

Next week Sas-Jaworsky can return to the program, "The $64,000 Question," and begin a series of questions leading to $192,000.

Victor Moore Dislikes 'Mother-in-Law Title

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—That wonderful old actor and comedian Victor Moore, at 81, is launching a national crusade to abolish the term "mother-in-law" and substitute "my wife's mother."

WILSON

His own mother-in-. . . oops, excuse, please . . . his wife's mother, Miriam Page, is about 50, and he calls her "Ma."

"I only got mad at her once and I told her, 'Now you're acting like a mother-in-law,'" he confessed at a Lambs Club luncheon. "To me, 'mother-in-law' is kind of a dirty word."

His wife, Shirley, who's in her early 30s, and "Ma" are getting Victor ready for a birthday spot on Ed Sullivan's TV show Feb. 24.

"You should see them fuss over me," Victor said—anyway, a young wife and young mother-in-law (sorry, Victor) have kept him young.

"Four hours is all I can sleep," said Victor, adding that he goes to bed at 3 a.m. after the Late, Late Show and gets up to watch Dave Garroway.

"I feel more like 50 than 80," beamed Victor.

"That's funny," replied this columnist. "I feel more like 80 than 50."

Sir Cedric Hardwicke still suffers severe pain in his left shoulder from that rough ride on an elephant at Mike Todd's party—but declines to sue Mike (or the elephant). Man Tells Story of Stabbing Saint 55 Years Before

ROME, Italy—A man who killed a saint has told his story after 55 years of silence. He is Alessandro Serenelli, gardener at a monastery at Ascoli, Piceni, Central Italy.

When he was 20, Serenelli stabbed to death Maria Goretti, a peasant girl of 14, near Anzio. After 25 years he was released and recently told his story at the monastery. He said he fell in love with Maria, but she would not accept him. "When she tried to run away from me I lost my head, grabbed a spike and stabbed her," he said. "As she became unconscious she said, 'Alessandro, I forgive you."

Before she died in a hospital she again forgave her murderer and her saintly death started a legend that she was performing miracles. People prayed to her. The church recognized four cases of healing and she was made a saint 48 years after her death.

Price of 'Cycle Ride Nearly Fatal to Tot

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Elizabeth Jeanne Newell, 2½, may not remember her first motorcycle ride, but her parents will.

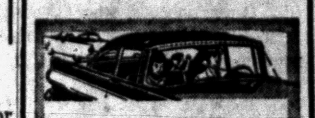

Elizabeth arranged the ride by swallowing about 30 aspirin tablets. Patrolman Frank A. Peterly of the Columbus Police Department rushed her to Children's Hospital on his 'cycle.

Safely pumped out, Elizabeth was released to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Newell of Columbus.

Pontiac City Affairs

8 Paving Estimates Accepted

Cost estimates totaling more than $50,000 for eight paving projects were accepted last night by City Commissioners, who breezed through a 24-item agenda, mostly covering public improvements, in a record 25 minutes.

Public hearings were scheduled for 8 p.m. next Tuesday on the city's intention to go ahead with these eight paving projects:

Pike Street, Astor to East Boulevard: assessed cost, $3,202; city cost, $304; cost for a 50-foot lot, $115. Pingree Street, Cadillac to LeGrande: assessed cost $7,875; city cost, $1,315; cost for a 40-foot lot, $92. Putnam Street: Cadillac to LeGrande; assessed cost, $6,613; city cost, $1,352; cost for a 40-foot lot, $92. Roselawn Drive, Fiddis to Maines: assessed cost, $875; city cost, $90; cost for a 40-foot lot $92. Rundell Street Baldwin to Pingree: assessed cost, $3,912; city cost, $1,782; cost for a 50-foot lot, $115. Tennyson Avenue, Joslyn to Highwood: assessed cost, $10,674; city cost, $1,320; cost for a 40-foot lot, $92. Tregent Street, Baldwin to Saginaw: assessed cost, $4,554; city cost, $1,233; cost for a 40-foot lot, $92. Yale Street, Carlisle to Stanley: assessed cost $4,271; city cost, $241; cost for a 40-foot lot, $92.

Public hearings on assessment rolls prepared for eight other paving projects also were scheduled for next Tuesday. The projects are:

Burt Street, LeGrande to Hillside; E. Chicago Avenue, Baldwin to the Pontiac, Oxford & Northern Railroad; E. Colgate Avenue, Baldwin to University; Carlisle Avenue, Cornell to Columbia; Colorado Avenue, Bagley to Franklin Road; Fairmount Avenue Baldwin to Carlisle; Hudson Avenue, Pingree to Summit; Jefferson Avenue Cadillac to Kimball; and Kimball Street, Jefferson to its southern end.

The city assessor was ordered to prepare assessment rolls on eight other paving projects for presentation next week. If accepted, public hearings will be scheduled for the week afterwards.

Another public hearing set for next week was on the Commission's determination last night to put in curbing, gutters and blacktopping on Stanley Avenue, Kinney to Kennett, and on Kinney road, Oakland to Stanley.

Planning for these two projects began in 1955, but stalled last year until the position of the new Grand Trunk switchyard in that area was settled.

Commissioners last night canceled former cost estimates for the jobs and ordered new ones prepared.

'Capitalists' Active in Communist China

HONG KONG (INS) — Communist China has launched a serious campaign against a resurgence of capitalism during the past few years.

Peasants have been holding back their surplus grain to unload it in the "free market" for higher prices, rather than sell to the state.

Market Control Committees have been set up in towns and villages to curb the operations of "speculators" and force the people to sell state-controlled commodities to the government purchasing agencies.

"Speculators," saida n official Communist report, "outbid government buying agencies in their efforts to obtain stocks for manipulation. They defied market regulations and in some serious cases they gathered together to assault the market adminitrative officials with violence."

90 Japanese Movies Sent to Art Theaters

HOLLYWOOD— Ninety Japanese films were exported to the United States in the first half of 1957.

Art theaters and movie houses catering to Nisei audiences are expected to show them.

The Japanese film industry is co-operating with Hollywood in an effort to find a larger export market for Japanese films.

Pontiac Moves on Airport Aid

City to Spend $15,000 to Receive $165,000 in State, Federal Grants

To gain $156,000 in state and federal aid for Pontiac Municipal Airport expansion, Pontiac will have to spend only $15,000 out of 1958 revenues.

This is because Pontiac already has about $45,000 from last year's revenues on deposit at the airport to make up the bulk of the city's $60,750 matching - share for new construction this year, explained City Manager Walter K. Willman.

City Commissioners last night took final formal steps to secure the federal grant of $105,000 allotted the city last month. The grant had been sought for construction last year, but was delayed.

City planners hope to gain another grant later this year to finance construction of a new administration building-control tower to attract commercial air service.

Boy, 9, Kills Himself After Pet Horse Is Sold

LODI, Calif. (AP)—Carlton Speare, 9, was found in the living room of his home yesterday, a bullet through his head.

The father, Walter Speare, found this note: "Goodby Cindy. You are my love."

Cindy was a horse, sold recently.

Another son, Richard, 5, said he and Carlton were watching television when Carlton announced, "I'm going to shoot myself." Richard said his brother got a rifle and put the barrel against his head, using his toe on the trigger.

Claims Product Is Muscle Builder

CHICAGO — A Chicago pharmaceutical firm has developed a new hormone called Nievar which it says is an "anabolic," or tissute - dissolving drug.

The company says that among its tests was one conducted with a young man who was over 6 feet tall and weighed 140 pounds; after the drug was administered, he gained 40 pounds, all of it firm muscle tissue, the firm says.

Mischievous Twins, 2, Nibble Sleeping Pills

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—A set of 2-year-old twins with a taste for mischief and sleeping pills are back home apparenty none the worse for their latest escapade.

A month ago, Eddie ate 15 aspirin tablets he found on a high shelf. No one noticed him at first because they were busy putting out a fire which the twins' brother Johnny, 3, had set.

More than half the nation's clergymen have signed up for Social Security coverage.

Inspection Load Heavy

WASHINGTON — The Federal Meat Inspection Service reports that in fiscal 1957 it inspected more than 104,000,000 meat animals and almost 18 billion pounds of meat and meat-food products. More than 3,000 labels and sketches of labels were also reviewed to make certain that meat products were truthfully labeled.
