Gilliland Gets Prison Term

Given Sentence Up to 5 Years in Lapeer Case

Convicted of Conspiring to Obstruct '52 Eviction;
3 Others Innocent

LAPER (AP) — Clayton C. Gilliland, 57, self-styled Detroit "investigator," today was sentenced to 4½ to 5 years imprisonment for conspiring to obstruct the 1952 eviction of a widow.

Circuit Judge Timothy C. Quinn continued bond of $5,000 until next Monday. The defendant said he would make a statement at that time.

"I am absolutely innocent of the charges in this matter," Gilliland said.

Gilliland was convicted Dec. 23 of conspiring to obstruct an attempt by Sheriff Clark Gregory to evict the late Mrs. Elizabeth Stevens from her Clifford farm home. The widow lost her home through failure to pay a bankruptcy assessment of a mutual insurance association.

Three Lapeer County farmers, accused with Gilliland in the conspiracy, were found innocent by a jury of eight men and four women.

Those cleared by the jury were Howard Abbott, 45, Columbiaville; Harold Jarvis, 56, Lapeer; and Floyd Schreiber, 60, Almont.

Gilliland asked the court that his statement might be delayed until next Monday so that his attorney, Clem Block of Grand Rapids, could be present. Block did not appear in court today.

Quinn, who presided at the conspiracy trial, said a petition by Gilliland requesting a new trial would have "no recognition." He said the defendant's petition was on grounds that if the three co-defendants were found innocent, it would be improper to convict one.

The judge said this point was covered in his denial of a mistrial motion by Gilliland last week.

Charges against Gilliland grew out of the roughing up and running off of Sheriff Gregory and a deputy June 2, 1952, when they attempted to serve an eviction writ on Mrs. Stevens.

While 10 were arrested only Gilliland and the three freed men were charged with conspiracy. The rest, including those acquitted of conspiracy, were accused of obstructing justice.

Two have been convicted of obstructing justice. They are Erwin C. Russell, 60, now serving 18 months in Southern Michigan Prison, and Schreiber, who was sentenced to 1 to 2 years imprisonment. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

Conlin Plan on School Aid Delayed for More Study

By HAZEL A. TRUMBLE

Michigan school superintendents failed to endorse the Conlin Plan on state aid to schools Saturday at the final session of the mid-winter convention of Michigan Association of School Administrators at Detroit.

Seven of nine state regions reporting asked for more time to study the plan, while two expressed approval.

The plan, which was expected to pass, calls for repeal of the present state sales tax diversion amendment to be replaced by a measure giving schools two out of three cents of sales tax collections.

Cost of sales tax collections (prorated) and the teacher retirement fund would be deducted from the school allotment, according to the plan.

Conlin (R-Tipton) needs support of state school officials to enact his plan although it has been presented to this year's legislature and is receiving favor from this body.

Mrs. Harry King, Pontiac, president of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers, said that the PTA is not ready to endorse the plan.

Williams Recommends 29 Proposals to Legislature

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams sent a package of 29 more recommendations to the Legislature today, ranging all the way from the 18-year-old vote to minimum salaries for school teachers and the creation of public telephone authorities.

It was the governor's third "message" to the 1954 Legislature in two weeks.

Williams asked the Legislature to put on the November ballot the issue of allowing 18-year-olds to vote.

He recommended a minimum teacher salary schedule of at least $3,600 a year and proposed that teachers' pensions be raised to a maximum of $2,400.

He called for extending the state's World War II veterans bonus to those men who served in the Korean War. The cost is estimated at $80,000,000.

He recommended that the Legislature permit citizens to form authorities to buy or build telephone companies in areas where small independent companies now are unable to finance needed expansion or provide adequate service.

The governor asked also for legislation to encourage financial institutions to invest in independent telephone companies or telephone authorities.

Williams said the courts have "thwarted" attempts of the State Public Service Commission to (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

President Asks Billion Dollars to Fight Slums

Also Gives 8-Point Plan for Housing; Proposes Building 140,000 Units

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower asked Congress today to authorize a billion dollar slum-fighting program as part of an eight-point housing plan to "insure that opportunities are provided every American family to acquire a good home."

The Chief Executive's housing message included a surprise proposal for construction of 140,000 public housing units over the next four years. He also urged a sharp increase in production of low-cost homes to be bought by families now living in public housing projects.

Eisenhower declared that "our housing deficiencies continue to be serious." He said that "millions of our people still live in slums" and "millions more live in run-down, declining neighborhoods."

The President promised federal aid to "communities which face up to the problem of neighborhood decay and undertake long-range programs directed to its prevention."

He emphasized the need for "prevention of the spread of blight into good areas of the community through strict enforcement of housing and neighborhood standards and strict occupancy controls."

The President listed his eight points as "neighborhood rehabilitation and elimination and prevention of slums," "conservation and improvement of existing housing," "housing for low-income families," "the housing problems of minority group families," "modernization of the National Housing Act," "adjustment of permissible forms of government insured or guaranteed mortgages," the "secondary mortgage market," and "reorganization of federal housing activities."

Eisenhower pointed out that more than half of the nation's 37 million non-farm homes are more than 30 years old.

He said that "the national interest demands the elimination of slum conditions and the rehabilitation of housing."

Trucking Strike Threat Is Ended

Employers Alter Stand,
Agree to Pay Ohio Axle
Tax on Vehicles

DETROIT (AP) — The threat of a multi-state trucking industry strike disappeared today when industry employers said they would pay an axle tax on vehicles using Ohio roads according to James R. Hoffa, Michigan director of the AFL teamsters union.

Hoffa said the employers decided the Ohio tax law held them responsible for the tax payment.

"This means there will be no strike," Hoffa said.

The axle tax ranges from half a cent to 2½ cents a mile, depending on the number of axles a truck has.

Trucking industry employers refused, at first, to pay the tax charging that Ohio was the only state to refuse to grant a reciprocal agreement on the tax.

AFL truck drivers in 13 states authorized strike action if firms which leased trucks from driver-owners declined to pay the tax and attempted to pass it on to the drivers.

The tax was the subject of intense discussion at the national governors' conference at Atlanta, Ga., last week.

Several states indicated at the meeting they would cancel reciprocity.

Southern states, in particular, voiced strong opposition to the tax.

Pontiac Sports Car Hit of Show

STRATO STREAK LOOKS TO FUTURE—Pontiac's show car, the Strato Streak, has won top interest at the GM Motorama now in progress in New York. The car is only 54½ inches high (lower than current production models), 214 inches long and uses a 124-inch wheelbase. Body is of fiberglass, finished in metallic green. Doors swing from front and rear on each side with no center pillar. Seats are bucket type and the front seats turn 90 degrees. Some of the controls are on a tunnel between the front seats. "Many features of this car may influence future design and styling," according to R. M. Critchfield, Pontiac division general manager.

Big 3 Allies Hand Molotov Their Blueprint for Peace

BERLIN (UP) — The West laid down its blueprint for peace at the opening session of the Big Four foreign ministers conference today, including a European army for defense and adoption of President Eisenhower's atom-for-peace plan.

The Western foreign ministers told Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov in their opening statements:

1—The cornerstone of any European peace settlement must be the conclusion of German and Austrian treaties.

2—The Western Allies will go through with their plan to include an armed Western Germany in their defense plans.

3—The Allies will consider giving Russia new security guarantees against attack if she thinks she needs them.

4—President Eisenhower's plan for an atomic energy pool offers the first real hope of sweeping away the danger of all-out atomic warfare.

It was French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, the first speaker at the conference, who gave the backing to Eisenhower's historic plan.

Bidault linked his plea for peace with a firm declaration that Russia will not be able to separate France from the United States and Britain on the issue of Western European defense.

It was the first meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers since the summer of 1949.

The building in which the foreign ministers met had been the site of many four-power conferences until the Russians walked out of the last control authority meeting in 1948.

Shortly before the formal session started at 3 p. m. Dulles and Molotov met privately to agree on final technical details for the conference.

The meeting also gave Dulles an opportunity, if he wished to do so, to suggest to Molotov another private meeting later in the week to talk about President Eisenhower's atomic pool plan.

The main issue that brought the four top diplomats together was unification of Germany, but there was little optimism over the chances of the war-ravaged country being reunited.

GOP Still Seeking Bricker Compromise

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican leaders told President Eisenhower today they still are hopeful a compromise can be worked out on the Bricker amendment to limit treaty-making powers.

The note of optimism—despite failure of compromise efforts over the weekend—was voiced by the leaders at their weekly conference with the President.

The group met with Eisenhower for two hours to review the legislative program generally.

Afterward, Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate GOP leader, told newsmen that "as of this moment there is no agreement on the Bricker amendment" but that he might have some development in the situation to announce later in the day.

Bombs Falling? No, Just a Car Landing on Roof

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — An auto crashed onto the roof of John Dewey's house early Sunday and Dewey said he "didn't know what to think."

"All I know is that I was terribly frightened. It seems to me I did think something about a bomb when I rushed into the living room and plaster was falling all around me," he said.

The only injury was a broken jaw for the driver of the car, John W. Frens, 37, who had to be cut out of the wreckage.

Frens told officers he lost control of the car on U. S. 131 south of the city and that it started across lots. He knocked over a mail box and shot up the 25-foot embankment in front of Dewey's house.

From the top of the embankment the car was airborne. Without touching the ground, it sailed 15 feet across Dewey's driveway and sank its front wheels into the roof above the doorway. It clung there.

Dewey estimated damage to the house at $5,000. His home is a shambles. It is off its foundation slightly, the doors won't shut, plaster is broken, a front wheel of the car went completely through the wall over the door, there are cracks in the basement wall.

But Dewey is thankful for one thing. Two of his four sons were away visiting. The bedroom they usually occupy is the room that suffered the most damage.

Predict Little Change in Pontiac Weather

Cloudy with little change in temperature tonight and Tuesday is the forecast for the Pontiac area by the U. S. Weather Bureau.

A low of from 28 to 32 tonight is expected to reach a high of from 34 to 36 on Tuesday.

Sunday the mercury rose from a low of 27 to a high of 38 degrees in the city.

At 8 a. m. today the reading was 33, but by 2 p. m. in downtown Pontiac the temperature stood at 36 degrees.

Pontiac High Senior Class Told Discontent Is Good

By GOLDIE STAMAS

Discontent is perhaps the greatest spur to accomplishment, the Rev. Paul R. Havens, pastor of the First Methodist Church, told Pontiac High School's graduating seniors last evening. Baccalaureate services were held at Central Methodist Church.

The ceremony was attended by approximately 225 graduates, their families and friends.

Speaking on the theme "I Will Lift Up Mine Eyes," Rev. Havens told students that "good" acts as the greatest enemy to "best."

He warned them they must pay the "price of attention" in order to overcome mediocrity.

Proposed Fire Stations to Provide Major Topic for Commission Meeting

From Our Birmingham Bureau
BIRMINGHAM — Additional fire protection facilities will be the major subject of tonight's city commission meeting.

A hearing will be held to discuss a proposed $130,000 fire station for the east side of the city. Sited for location at the northwest corner of Adams and Bowers, the two story brick contemporary structure would be the city's main station. Three weeks ago a hearing was held on a proposed $95,000 fire station for the west side of the city, at Maple and Chesterfield. The commission will take up the question of the station's set-back from the street tonight.

Along the same line, the hiring of a firm to prepare resolutions and handle legal matters in connection with the $225,000 general obligation bonds for the two stations is also on the agenda.

The question is expected to be placed on the April 5 ballot.

Charges for rubbish and garbage collection in the business district will also be discussed.

Friendship Circle of Embury Methodist Church will meet at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Fred McCullough, on Lancaster in Pontiac. The Mary Ogden Circle will meet for dessert at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Taunton road home of Mrs. Robert White.

E. A. Tomlinson, president of the board of trustees, and Owen Pirkerman, director of the Oakland County Hospital under construction at 13 Mile and Woodward, will be the guest speakers at tonight's 6:30 dinner meeting of the High Twelve Club at the Community House.

Mrs. Beth Duffy, director of religious education at the First Methodist Church, will be the speaker when the Ellen Davey Group of that church meets at 8 o'clock. The meeting will be held at the Sheridan drive home of Mrs. Edward Crona.

Guest speaker at tonight's 7:15 Y Men's Club meeting will be William Pletcher, international director of the Y Men's Movement. He will outline work of the standing committees of the club and give first-hand information on the international convention to be held at the Kellogg Center in July.

Board of directors will meet with Bud James, president, at 6:45 p.m. Installation of officers will be held at tonight's 8 o'clock meeting of the Altar Society of Our Lady Queen of Martyrs parish. Mrs. Adrian Cotter will show movies on her recent European trip. The group's first meeting of the year will be in the social hall.

First performed in 1951 in England, "Let's Make an Opera" has been selected by the junior and senior glee clubs of Kingswood School for public presentation Feb. 19 and 20 in the school auditorium.

An unusual feature of the presentation is that the choral group will be seated among the spectators, with the audience taking part in singing some of the numbers.

The accompaniment consists of percussion and two pianists playing a single instrument.

Howard Shelly, of the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club, will speak at tomorrow's noon luncheon meeting of the Exchange Club at the Community House. He will speak on conservation, the deer herd, fishing and new trout laws.

Altrusa Club members will be entertained by their president, Mrs. Velma Isley, at her home on Fairway drive at 7 tonight. Mrs. Edythe Peck will also show slides of her European trip.

Mrs. Joel Warren will report on Theodore White's book, "Fire in the Ashes," at tomorrow's 10 a.m. meeting of the Ruth Shain Class in International Affairs, at the Community House.

This will be followed by further discussion on the Bricker amendment, which would limit the president's treaty powers.

Mason Case will conduct a program on Kiwanis education at tomorrow night's 6:30 dinner meeting of the club, held at the Community House. Case is lieutenant governor of Kiwanis. A board meeting will also be held.

Election of officers will be held at 12:30 p.m. tomorrow when the Past Mothers Club has a potluck luncheon at the home of Mrs. Marguerite Burtraw, Oakland avenue.

Some of this week's events at the Community House are:
Monday, Jan. 25: 6:30 p. m. High Twelve Club dinner; 8 p. m. Stamp Club; Cub Scout Pack 2-5.
Tuesday, Jan. 26: 10 a. m. International Relations Class; 10 a. m.-noon Planned Parenthood; 12 noon Exchange Club luncheon; 1:30-4 p. m. Girl Scout Troop 263; 6:30 p. m. Kiwanis Club Birmingham Forum; Little League Baseball meeting.

make telephone rate increases contingent upon improved service. He recommended the commission be given power to consider the quality of telephone service when fixing rates.

Devoting much of his 12-page message to public education, the governor advocated:

Granting school boards the right to appeal from equalized valuations set by county boards of supervisors. Other local units now have this appeal right.

Requiring county valuations fixed by the State Tax Commission to remain in effect for several years. He said counties now often drop back to their old, inequitable valuations a year after the state has boosted them.

The governor asked for legislation to simplify and speed the reorganization of local school districts. He suggested the state superintendent of public instruction be allowed to force the merger of districts no longer operating schools after local officials have been given time to make the move voluntarily.

In addition, to increase teacher pensions, the governor recommended granting reciprocity between the three educational retirement systems now operating and asked for a study of the possibility of giving teachers federal social security, too.

He called for changes in the state school aid allocation formula to encourage a reduction in the teacher-pupil ratio.

Williams, noting the rising enrollments in state colleges, recommended a statutory commission to develop a long-range program for developing the state's higher educational system, including community colleges.

He asked for election law reform. One proposal would create bipartisan local election boards and the other would substitute a state bipartisan board in place of the present state board of canvassers.

The governor asked that the maximum old age assistance grant be fixed at $70 a month, regardless of what the federal government contributes. He urged legislation to remove the $15 limit on the amount an old age assistance recipient may earn.

He again called for repeal of the old age assistance "lien law" which permits recovery of grants from the states of deceased recipients.

The governor, appealing for further reorganization of state government, proposed that he be authorized to make agency reorganizations subject to legislative veto.

Ike Wants Billion for Slum Fighting

bliteration of declining neighborhoods.

Eisenhower declared that his housing plans offer "the means whereby our nation may provide more and better homes for our families."

To make home buying easier for all Americans, Eisenhower requested authority to change mortgage interest rates and the down payments on new housing required by the Federal Housing Administration.

The present public housing program, which has been under sharp Congressional attack in recent years, expires in 1956 and originally provided for the construction of 135,000 units annually.

Eisenhower said that until new programs are successful in stimulating the output of low-cost housing and stepping up the repair of older dwellings, Congress should continue public housing until 1958 with production set at 35,000 units a year.

Eisenhower did not detail his plan for increasing production of low-cost housing for the millions of Americans who he said "still live in slums" and millions more who "live in run-down declining neighborhoods."

Eisenhower said his program for slum clearance and redevelopment of decayed housing areas would involve a billion dollar program including 700 million dollars in loans and 250 million in grants to states and cities.

He also requested five million dollars to help states and cities to make advance plans "to arrest the spread of slum conditions." This would be matched by funds from the states and the cities.

The President also outlined a plan to remove the government gradually from the buying and selling of federal home mortgages. In past years, builders have been able to convert their FHA and GI loans into cash by selling them to the Federal National Mortgage Association.

Man Hit With Hatchet and Stabbed at Home
Benjamin Wright, 29, of 342 Branch St. was reported in fair condition today in Pontiac General Hospital after being hit with a hatchet and stabbed last night at his home, according to Pontiac Police.

Arrest of POW Brings Threats

Phone Calls to Army Colonel Criticize Action on Dickenson

WASHINGTON (UP) — An Army colonel said today he has received threatening telephone calls since he announced the arrest of Cpl. Edward S. Dickenson, the Korean War prisoner who chose and then rejected communism.

Col. Norman E. Sprowl reported that three callers sharply criticized the Army's handling of the case and made what he described as threats.

"One man thought he had promised to free these men and said he didn't like what we were doing," Sprowl reported. "The general idea was 'we'll get you for this.'"

Sprowl, public information officer for the military district here, announced Friday that Dickenson was being held for court-martial on charges of dealing with the enemy and seeking "favorable treatment" as a Red POW.

The colonel said he considered his callers cranks and did not ask for police protection. But he said he may start carrying his service revolver.

3 Injured in Crash in Orion Township
Three persons were injured, one critically, in a head-on crash early today on M24 south of Scripps road in Orion Township.

In critical condition at Pontiac General Hospital is Mrs. Colleen Y. Jones, 23, of 1540 Lapeer Rd., Lake Orion, one of the drivers, who suffered a fractured knee and ankle and face cut.

'House' Is Used by 393 Groups

Birmingham Community Center Counts 175,538 Visitors in 1953

BIRMINGHAM — Community houses don't flourish in all towns, but in Birmingham some 393 organizations would find themselves "homeless" if anything happened to the white brick structure at 380 S. Bates.

For those groups held 3,381 meetings at the Birmingham Community House this past year, and represented a nose count of 175,538 people, who benefited from meetings of every conceivable nature, including cultural, educational, civic, social, social welfare and service groups.

Groups from all over Oakland County also used the house, including Red Cross, Girl Scouts, school administrators and many others.

The house came to the aid of St. James Episcopal Church when the building expansion program there necessitated a temporary move. Along with all this, the house buzzes with its own daily activities, chief among them the craft and hobby classes.

An employment office there placed 5,157 persons in jobs, and the sickroom supply service saw crutches, beds and wheelchairs loaned out hundreds of times.

"The House is a service organization," Director Mrs. Carlton Isley stated. "It's only reason for existence is to serve the people who own it—the citizens of this community."

"It has been kept alive and expanding over all these years by the fact that almost everyone shares in its life."

Film Will Show H-Bomb Power

Bares Hydrogen Blast Set Off by U.S. in 1952 on a Pacific Isle

WASHINGTON (INS) — The chairman of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy disclosed today that a motion picture showing the full enormity of the hydrogen bomb's destructive power will be released "in a matter of weeks."

Rep. Sterling Cole (R-NY), who heads the important House-Senate group, declared it is time to bring home to the average citizen the potential menace of hell-bomb warfare.

Cole believes the super-weapon will become the principal tool for total war in the arsenals of both the U. S. and Soviet Russia.

The Congressman told International News Service: "I'm working to obtain the release of the motion picture as soon as possible, and it now looks as though we will get results in two or three weeks."

The film, shown privately to Cole's Joint Atomic Committee last week, is of the hydrogen explosion never officially announced, but known to have been set off by the U. S. on a Pacific island at 7:14 a. m. Nov. 1, 1952.

It also is known that the explosion had a force equalling five million tons of TNT, 250 times that power of the first atomic bomb, and that the island, smashed down into the depths of the Pacific when the blast went off from a 300-foot tower, completely disappeared.

The motion picture will be published.

YOU'D BE HAPPY, TOO—Sidney Estow, glass dealer of Hicksville, N. Y., is $5,000 richer for having suggested a name for a new, ultra-distortion-free glass. Said to be ideal for military use, the new glass will also be used in manufacture of home mirrors. His prize of $1,000 in cash, and 100 shares of stock, was given by the delighted manufacturer, Libby-Owens-Ford.

lly shown is about a half hour long, and is a "sanitized" version. It shows the preparations for the test, the blast itself and the after-effects, but portions that might reveal technical information have been deleted.

20 Private Experts Scan Ike's Budget

WASHINGTON (INS)—The House Appropriations Committee has enlisted the help of about 20 private experts to make what Chairman Taber (R-NY) calls "a systematic and intelligent examination" of the new federal budget.

Taber said in a statement last night the action was taken "with the full knowledge and cooperation of the Eisenhower administration." He said the private experts will work with 16 from the government's general accounting office.

Taber said they would seek "to find significant items that may be decreased or cancelled without damage either to our national defense or to the essentials of the daily living of our American people."

Mountain Railroad Man Carried in Snowslide

WEST GLACIER, Mont. (INS)—Glen Stewart, signal maintainer for the Great Northern Railway, was swept 60 feet yesterday by a snowslide which thundered down on the road's main tracks.

Stewart, about 25, from Sand Point, Idaho, lost several teeth but apparently escaped serious injury.

It was the sixth major snowslide in three days. This one was 1,000 feet long and 4 to 10 feet deep. Railroad traffic was restored late in the day.

Canadian Top Aide Hume Wrong Dies

OTTAWA (INS)—Hume Wrong, 59, Canada's under secretary of state and until two months ago the nation's ambassador to the United States, died yesterday of a heart ailment.

The veteran diplomat was appointed to the second highest post in the Canadian foreign service in November, after serving since 1946 as envoy to Washington. Two weeks after the new appointment he entered a hospital for treatment. He recovered partially but re-entered the hospital Saturday.

The tall, slim former university professor served more than half of his nearly 27 years in the foreign service in Washington and was a friend of the last four presidents.

In recent years, the earliest proved date at which man is known to have existed in America has been moved back from 10,000 years ago to about 20,000 years ago.

Should you be taking vitamins?

Are you "too tired" too often? Nervous? Lack normal pep? Then for your own sake, read about this no-risk offer from Rybutol!

Maybe you're like so many people who feel that vitamins are great things—for the other guy—without realizing that the symptoms listed above can indicate a serious shortage of two very important vitamins: thiamin and riboflavin. Without realizing that simply by correcting a vitamin deficiency, you may be able to go back to healthy, buoyant living once again.

You see, when you lack enough thiamin and riboflavin, your blood cells may wear out faster than your body can replace them, which accounts for the miseries you suffer with this ailment. If this is your trouble, Rybutol will help you.

Amazing money-back offer. Yes, Rybutol may be your new chance for happy, healthy living. But frankly, your symptoms may be due to other causes that require the attention of a physician. How can you tell? The Vitamin Corporation of America, makers of Rybutol, has always made it easy for you to find out if you can gain new strength through Rybutol, or whether you should see a doctor. And you find out without risking a penny.

Simply take the $1.98 size. Take 3 Rybutol Gelucaps daily for 7 days. If after this one short week, you do not feel stronger, peppier, more alive and alert in every way, bring back the bottle, and get back every cent you spent! Fair enough? Then start the 7-day Rybutol test today! Until you do, you may never know how really good you can feel!

State Shows Population Rise

Michigan Is Only Area in Midwest to Reflect
Big Gain in 3 Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—Michigan was the only Midwestern state to show an appreciable gain in population over the past three years, a Census Bureau study showed today.

States recording the largest gains in population were in the West and Southwest. Leader percentage-wise over the last census in 1950 was Nevada with a gain of 24.5 per cent.

Other gainers among the leaders were Arizona, 20.7 per cent, California 14.2, New Mexico 11.1, Colorado 9.9, Wyoming 9.2, Utah 8.9 and Texas 8.8.

Michigan's gain of 7.5 per cent led all Midwestern states, but five other states, besides the West, were also above Michigan.

They were Florida 17.9 per cent, Connecticut 9.6, Delaware 11.1, Maryland 9.7 and Virginia 7.5.

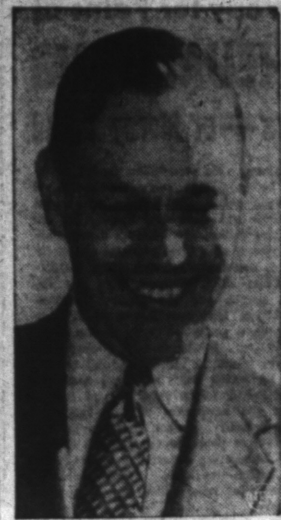

The Census Bureau study was based on gains from the 1950 census to last July 1.

Other gains above five per cent were recorded by Washington 5.9, Oregon 7.1, Kansas 5.3, Indiana 6.4, Ohio 6.7, New Jersey 7.3, District of Columbia 6.4, and Louisiana 5.0.

The Census Bureau pointed out that the figures only support a previous indication from the 1940-50 period of a general shift to the West.

California showed the most gain for the 13 year period from 1940 with a 53.3 per cent, Arizona and Nevada followed with 50.1 and 45.2 respectively.

Michigan's population figure as of July 1, 1953 was estimated at 6,851,000 against 6,371,766 in the 1950 census.

FOLLOWS DAD—Robert A. Taft Jr., above, of Cincinnati, Ohio, has announced that his first political campaign will be for a seat in the Ohio House of Representatives. Taft, son of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, Senate Republican leader, will be trying to emulate his father. The late Senator began his political career in 1921 the same way. He was elected to the Ohio chamber three times.

Woman Weds Man Who Got Her Free

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Mrs. Emma Jo Johnson has married the man who helped her win freedom from a prison term for a murder never committed.

She and Jack Wengert, 40, Las Vegas chef, were married yesterday in the home of a private detective, Glenn Bodell, who uncovered much of the evidence which freed her. She was divorced Saturday from Russell Johnson.

Mrs. Wengert, 35, was convicted in 1951 of second degree murder in the death here of her former landlady, Mrs. Jane Jones, 72. She was sentenced to 10 to 12 years but medical evidence was turned up showing that Mrs. Jones was suffering from an incurable brain tumor and would have died of it even if she and Mrs. Wengert had not gotten into a fight.

Mrs. Wengert was freed by the Nevada Board of Pardons and Paroles last Wednesday, after serving two years and nine months.

Monica Lewis Different— Doesn't Yearn for Stage

By RICHARD KLEINER
NEW YORK (NEA)—Monica Lewis is the exception. Talk to any other singer and you'll get a starry-eyed story about how she wants to go on the Broadway stage and do a big musical comedy. Not our gal Monica.

"I guess I'm unusual," she admits. "But a Broadway show, in itself, doesn't excite me. It would have to be a smash show with a smash part to do my career any good."

Further, she feels that musical comedy has drawbacks for a singer.

"You have to yell your head off," she says, "and the orchestra's playing right with you. The composer wants to hear every note and the lyricist wants to hear every syllable."

"The songs are made hits off the stage by pop singers. They give them a little interpretation. On stage you have to sing note for note, word for word, just as it's written."

"On records you inject a little personality and that's what makes a song a hit."

As an example, she cites Perry Como's "No Other Love," the song from "Me and Juliet." It is Monica's theory that Como's reading made it a hit.

Her aversion to the stage isn't due to stage fright. The beautiful Capitol star says that recording makes her more nervous than anything else. This, despite the fact that at any time she can stop and do it over.

"But, with records," she says, "when it's finished it's permanent. And you never really know the song you record—you've only seen it a few days before the session, sometimes less."

Her secret weapon for relaxing during recording sessions?

She laughed. "Will power," she said.

THE POPULAR SIDE: Here's the first '54 trend—calypso songs. Eartha Kitt and Georgia Gibbs have made "Somebody Bad Stole de Wedding Bell." Dinah Washington does "Since My Man Has Gone and Went" and there's a beauty coming from Harry Belafonte.

Martha Raye has a strange, unusual number in "Wolf Boy" on Mercury.

Why does Columbia give Rosemary Clooney such turkeys to record? The gal hasn't been handed a decent number in six months. Or is she doing her own picking? ON THE CLASSICS. On Feb.

25, 1953, Vladimir Horowitz walked to the piano at Carnegie Hall and commenced the Schubert Sonata in B-Flat. It was the beginning of an historical recital, marking the 25th anniversary of his America debut.

Fortunately this concert was preserved on tape and is now presented by RCA-Victor in two magnificent records.

From Schubert it goes on to Chopin and Scriabin and ends with the pianist's own arrangement of the Liszt Hungarian Rhapsody No. 2.

You'll want to join in the applause which lends concert hall atmosphere to these recordings.

SURE FIRE: "Lovin' Spree" (Eartha Kitt, RCA).

SLEEPER: "Solleggio" (Robert Maxwell, MGM).

GOOD ONES: "Cuddle Me" and "Oh, Am I Lonely" (Ronnie Gaylord, Mercury); "Won'tcha Love Me" (Shirley Harmer, MGM); "Take a Chance" (Frank Sinatra, Capitol); "All the Livelong Day" (Merv Griffin, Columbia); "Comp-Chuck" (Jerry Gray, Decca); "Our Heartbreaking Waltz" (Teresa Brewer, Coral); "Silhouette" (Art Mooney, MGM); "Flirtation Waltz" (Les Baxter, Capitol).

POP ALBUMS. It's a good week for jazz. Norman Granz' Clef label has issued two more "Jazz Sessions."

These, numbers three and four, feature such as Count Basie, Stan Getz, Buddy de Franco and Harry Edison. Especially recommended is "Blues for the Count" on No. 4. Clef also has issued "An Evening With Billie Holiday," and it's an evening well spent.

Ken Clarke tears off a good piano on the latest in MGM's "Key-board of Kings" series.

CLASSICAL: Smetana's "The Moldau," Dvorak's Rhapsody No. 2 and Ravel's "Pictures at an Exhibition" are out on one Epic disc.

Wagner's "Siegfried" Funeral Music and Immolation Scene, and "Tristan und Isolde" Prelude, Liebestnacht and Liebestod are done by soprano Margaret Harshaw and Ormandy and the Philadelphia Orchestra on Columbia.

Ypsilanti Press Still Publishing

Burned-Out Newspaper
Uses Former Garage,
Borrowed Equipment

YPSILANTI, Mich. (AP)—Using a one-time garage for quarters and a borrowed press, the burned-out Ypsilanti Daily Press went ahead with publication on schedule today. The paper's $250,000 plant was virtually a complete ruin from a fire Saturday.

But even as its home was burning the Press came out. The Press arranged with a printing firm to put out a one-page paper devoted exclusively to the fire.

Yesterday the Press set up editorial facilities and business office in a former auto sales agency a few blocks from the burned building and got its Associated Press wire news from the Michigan Daily, University of Michigan student publication in nearby Ann Arbor.

Frank Handy, assistant publisher and son of Publisher George Handy, vowed at the time of the fire that the Press would "do everything humanly possible" to avoid missing a single edition.

The blaze started in a quantity of baled waste paper in the basement.

AMERICA'S MOST POPULAR LADIES' GLASSES

The tremendous popularity of the Goldentone is due to its eye appeal to all women regardless of age or the occasion. Styled in the up-to-date manner, with its exquisitely hammered 12 carat gold filled trim, it is truly America's leading lady. You may choose the Goldentone from a wide assortment of colors, and best of all, the price is only $8.98. YOU JUST CAN'T PAY MORE!

ALL GLASSES AT ONE PRICE... $8.98!

Elsewhere the price of glasses depends on the variance and strength of your lenses and upon the frame of your choice. At King you know IN ADVANCE what your glasses will cost. One single $8.98 price regardless of your lens requirement, or the frame of your choosing (bifocals, if desired, $4.98 additional).

100 STYLES, SHAPES AND COLORS

You may choose the GOLDENTONE or select a frame to suit your personality and facial contour from our tremendous assortment of frames and gold filled mountings in various shapes, sizes and colors—all at one price, $8.98!

NO GLASSES NEED COST MORE THAN $8.98!

Why can King sell for only $8.98? Because when you buy from King, you buy from the largest optical laboratory-to-you firm in the world. Our huge VOLUME purchases and our know-how for making glasses, plus our direct-to-you policy, saves middleman's profit and many dollars, which saving is passed on to you—the customer.

WHY PAY MORE?

Though the price is low, the quality of our glasses is beyond compare. If we wanted to make glasses to sell for $35.00, we couldn't use finer materials or better workmanship than that which goes into these glasses.

NO SWITCHING! NO EXTRAS!

No Appointment Needed!

Who Has to File an Income Tax Return?
Everyone Receiving $600 or More in '53By RICHARD A. MULLEN
Article 1

There's good news brewing for taxpayers. The first tax cut since 1948 became effective Jan. 1. And Congress will soon take up the administration's proposals for changes in the tax laws.

Proposals such as a tax break for working mothers, and increased medical deductions have a good chance of being adopted in 1954.

But you can't forget the high taxes in 1953 until after you settle up with Uncle Sam. That means filing a 1953 tax return.

The deadline is midnight, March 15, but there's no better time to start than right now, with this first article of the Income Tax Primer.

This Primer will help both the taxpayer who wants more information than is shown in the official instructions and the taxpayer who has difficulty understanding the official instructions.

It will also help you file a correct return, yet take advantage of all dollar saving deductions that you are entitled to.

So, if you have to file a return, begin now by saving each article as it appears in this paper.

Then sit down with the articles, your Form W-2, and other records of income and deductions, a copy of the 12-page pamphlet of official instructions, and copies of blank tax returns. If you haven't already received blank tax returns in the mail, you can get a copy from most banks and post offices or from your District Director of Internal Revenue.

The first question everyone must answer is—do I have to file a return? The answer is

"yes" for everyone, regardless of age or citizenship, who is residing in the United States and who has gross income of $600 or more.

"Gross income" means all income which must be reported on your return. If you look at the middle of page 5 of the official instructions, you will see examples of income which must be reported.

If you have income of $600 or more from any of these items, then you must file. Notice that page 5 also has a list of income items which should not be reported. These items are not included in "gross income."

Even though your gross income is less than $600, it will pay you to file a return if any tax was withheld from the earnings you did get. Many students who work during the summer, and others who work part time earn less than $600 yet have some tax withheld from their pay.

They will have the withheld tax refunded if they file a return. And you can still claim your dependents even though they file a return to get back the tax withheld on earnings of less than $600. Next—Which form to use.

The 94,000 accidental deaths in the United States in 1953 were about 2,000 fewer than those of 1952.

Without Naging Backache

Naging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slowing down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer naging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages. Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Britain's recovery since World War II is indicated by the carrying 42,000 passenger coaches over 52,000 miles of track employing over 600,000 operatives and keeping 7,000 freight cars busy on British passenger stations and 1,000 railways.

Ike's 1954-55 Budget

President EISENHOWER's $65.5 billion budget reveals a noteworthy shift in our defense emphasis.

The clear implication of this bulky document is that henceforth our Air Force, equipped with atomic weapons, will be our chief defense arm, with our Navy and Army playing secondary roles.

This new policy is outlined in figures which show Air Force appropriations increased by $609,000,000 to $16,209 billion. Navy and Army appropriations, however, are reduced, with the result that the direct defense budget total is $3.775 billion below this year's.

While the Administration has been unable to promise a balanced budget by June 30, 1955, the figures show that much progress has been made in that direction.

For example, the estimated 1955 deficit of $3 billion is $6.5 billion less than the TRUMAN estimate. The debt forecast for next June 30 is $4 billion under the TRUMAN forecast. Also the total budget is $4.5 billion less than EISENHOWER's revised total of the 1954 TRUMAN budget and $15.5 billion less than the original total of that budget.

In short, the first Republican budget in 21 years shows the results of genuine effort to ease the taxpayer's burden. It reflects, too, a carefully thought out revision of defense planning to keep our armed forces well prepared to meet the changing international situation.

As could be expected, the budget met criticism. Some lawmakers questioned whether cuts in defense funds went too deep and foreign aid not deep enough. Rep. TABER, New York, saying he never saw a budget that couldn't be cut, thinks this one can be slashed enough to balance it before the end of the fiscal year.

Seaway Gets Senate OK

There is grim irony in Canada's reaction to our Senate's belated but decisive approval of U.S. participation in construction of the St. Lawrence waterway.

For 20 years our upper House refused to have anything to do with this project. But with the EISENHOWER Administration exerting strong pressure, Senators KNOWLAND and FERGUSON had little trouble in winning approval for the $105,000,000 revenue bond bill by a vote of 51-33.

There should be no surprise in this country because Canadians have failed to cheer the Senate vote. The fact is, according to Ottawa dispatches, they want to complete the St. Lawrence project alone and hint broadly they'd just as soon we'd stay out of it.

Their feeling is that our $105,000,000 ante would buy us at a bargain price, a voice in the control of navigation and tolls. Canada already has spent that much on locks and is prepared to spend $300,000,000 more.

This reaction is wholly understandable in view of the fact that the proposal for joint construction of the seaway has become moss covered with age. But it may be a blessing in disguise by becoming the help Rep. Dondero needs, as chairman of the Public Works Committee, to get this bill onto the House floor.

To do this he not only has to get it through his own committee, but past the Rules Committee. In the long history of the project no seaway bill ever has gotten past these committees to floor debate.

Chairman DONDERO is confident things will be different this time. Already there is evidence of a considerable shift of House sentiment in favor of the bill. The Senate lost no time in deciding this issue with our national defense and economic interests in mind. The House should follow that example.

It won't have another chance.

Straits Bridge Assured

Unanimous decision by Michigan's Supreme Court that a $96,000,000 revenue bond issue is legal has cleared away the last obstacle to a bridge across the Straits of Mackinac.

As a result actual work on the five mile span between Mackinaw City and St. Ignace can start as soon as the ice in the straits breaks up. Completion of the link between the two peninsulas is scheduled for November, 1957.

The court's ruling came on a suit by State Senator NICHOLS of Jackson. The justices rejected his contention that the recently sold bridge bonds violated the Constitution.

The immediate effect is creation of jobs for the 1,000 men needed to build the bridge. An accompanying effect will be the problem of housing these workers. The most urgent need will be felt in St. Ignace, Mackinaw City, Petoskey and Cheboygan.

The bridge with the world's second longest suspension span will meet a long felt transportation need. We believe it not only will prove a boon to the tourist industry, already the State's second largest, but will stimulate the industrial development and prosperity of the Upper Peninsula.

The Man About Town

Makes Fast Growth Oakland County Committees Have Task on Their Hands

Evolution: What seems to be in reverse on TV wrestling.

Oakland County is growing so fast that it is having difficulty in keeping up with itself. The special health and welfare committee from the Board of Supervisors, appointed a few months ago, has a real problem on its hands. When its huge task became evident, it was reinforced by representatives of county institutions in the same work. They have held several meetings, and the supplemental committee now will ask to be discharged, after referring its findings to the parent committee, and passing a resolution commending

Dr. John S. Lambie for the findings he has made for them. These are turned over to the original committee.

In spite of all that we read and hear about the matter, at least one local restaurant has put up a new sign:

"Coffee, Five Cents."

Having lived in Pontiac all of his 75 years, Fred T. Dowling of 241 East Wilson Ave., remembers when the only pavement was a strip of cobblestone. There were no automobiles or even bicycles and mighty few sidewalks.

With a keen eye to the beautiful, right at the time when the new models are coming out, Harry Fleeson phones me about a '54 convertible that he says knocks 'em all a whole block, and his girl friend just bought one for four dollars. It's a spun rayon blouse with complete zipper front.

Phoning me from over at Milford, George Hepplewhite says, "I saw your item about ice fishing, and nominate Kent Lake as Oakland County's top spot. From my own window, I can see hundreds of these fishermen—and they're pulling them out in large numbers."

Evidently having heard about some of this southern cold stuff, six robins are sticking around the home of Mrs. Walter Shafer of Commerce, apparently quite content with what we have in Michigan.

I have it direct from Les Hutchinson himself, that the longest house trailer on the road will soon go into production at his new plant on Williams Lake Road. It will be 50 feet in length, and a real palace on wheels.

Word from Florida is that Frank J. DuFrain, superintendent of Pontiac's public schools, is out of the Melbourne hospital and getting around in a wheel chair. He is recuperating from a heart attack which occurred while he and Mrs. DuFrain were spending the Christmas holidays with their daughter in Melbourne.

R. L. Metz Suggests Use of Substitutes for Coffee Might Bring Its Price Down

I see that the coffee roasters have added another five cents per pound on the already too high price of coffee.

The President, if asked, may suggest using more milk and less coffee, or he may advise the growing of chickory to replace some of the coffee.

While we are waiting for the chickory to grow, let's do something about it now.

If we coffee drinkers substitute one cup of coffee per day with milk, tea, or postum, or even hot water, it would make the consumption of coffee decrease 25 per cent. Think it over.

Says Parking Lot With Reasonable Rate Needed

The large advertisement in your paper the other day about the private parking companies providing adequate downtown parking made me laugh.

Except for a minor price war between two rival operators on West Pike Street, what the ad neglected to mention was that average parking lot prices have risen to three times the post war figure.

There may be adequate parking spaces available, but what is really needed is space at a price that the average person can afford to pay.

As long as parking prices continue to rise, municipal parking remains the only solution in sight.

Ike's Foreign Trade Study Commission Still in Disagreement After Six Months

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—The idea looked good. He was new in office. He faced more problems than any man just taking on such a job, particularly one who had spent his life soldiering, could be expected to master in a few months.

So President Eisenhower in 1953 appointed one commission after another to examine the problems on which he would have to make recommendations to Congress in 1954.

The ideal result for Eisenhower would be something like this:

Each commission would be composed of men who started out with a full range of different views but, after uncovering the realities in months of investigation, would turn in a unanimous report.

It would be truly ideal if such a commission contained, beside private citizens, Democratic and Republican members of Congress who would find in harmony and unanimity. This would practically smother opposition in Congress when Eisenhower finally sent it his recommendations.

Unfortunately for Eisenhower, commissions don't always produce that ideal result. That was demonstrated when the 17-man commission on foreign economic policy gave him a report shot through with deep disagreement.

Aunt Het

Men are single track listeners. I never saw one that could play a bridge hand and still hear what the other three players are saying.

This commission had two main fields of study: foreign aid and trade.

In 1930, over the protest of more than 1,000 economists, former President Hoover signed into law the Hawley-Smoot bill passed by a Republican-controlled Congress and setting record high tariffs against foreign imports.

Within two years 25 countries had established retaliatory tariffs. By that time the depression, which had started in 1929, was in full swing.

When the Democrats came in Secretary of State Cordell Hull was able to persuade the Democratic Congress, in the hope of reviving world trade, to pass the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act of 1934.

This allowed the President to cut tariffs on a country's goods provided such a country returned the favor by lowering tariffs on American goods.

The problem then—still a problem, since the Reciprocal Trade Act still stands—was to encourage trade by tariff cutting without letting in goods that would do damage, or much damage, to American industry.

But before this country was well out of the depression, the war came, and with it American lend-lease, which put trade on the shelf. When trade resumed after the war, this country moved to help foreign countries with loans or outright grants to get their economies going and at the same time provide them with dollars to buy American goods.

Since 1949 American economic aid, steadily overshadowed by military aid, has been decreasing. Some members of Congress want it ended altogether. And last year Eisenhower faced the question: should the Reciprocal Trade Act, scheduled to die in 1953 unless Congress renewed it, be kept alive to stimulate international business? Some of the Republicans wanted it ended.

Eisenhower induced Congress to renew it for one more year at work every day are actors. Don't you suppose they would like some of that easy money? For one night's pay they could pay their bills for the home that otherwise take a lifetime.

I've seen better looking people on the streets who can sing or talk who could put on a show to make a person laugh and what happens? They just get the home they love paid for and they are too old to enjoy it.

Other people don't care how much trouble the other person has, that's the way of life.

The same with artists. All my life I have been drawing pictures. I never got any place and maybe never will but let some well known person draw a picture and it is in an art gallery because this person had money behind him. I guess that's the way the world goes.

least, while he got the study commission started. Two commission tariff questions, and both Republicans: Sen. Millikin of Colorado and Rep. Daniel A. Reed of New York.

Millikin is chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, Reed is chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee. Both Reed and Millikin were in strong dissent on much of the commission's report, which, among other things, suggested keeping the Reciprocal Trade Act three more years and lowering many tariffs.

So now, after six months of work by the commission, the whole problem of aid and trade will be examined again in Congress, no matter what Eisenhower recommends, with Millikin and Reed leading the examining.

Some May Be Frightened Needlessly but That's Better Than Being Too Late

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.
 From time to time I get a reaction which worries me a good deal.

For instance, talking about a common ailment we don't talk about. I intimated it is stupid to assume, from the symptoms, that the trouble is "piles;" that even a doctor can't be sure without visual examination (through speculum) that it isn't fissure, fistula, ischio-rectal abscess, prolapse, or even—well, never mind now, but I did mention one other possible condition that masquerades in not a few instances as "piles."

Well, sir, by chance an eastern reader noticed the item, got frightened and hid away to a physician for a proper examination.

Fortunately for the blighter, the physician was able to assure the man that the trouble was only

Newspaper Boys Act as Independent Merchants

Ponder Mr. Hall's advice to newspaper boys, for it is sound. And try to handle a newspaper route for at least one year before you finish high school. Newspaper boys get the best training in America today in our "free enterprise" system. They rank above average in health and school marks, too!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE.
 Case K-307: Arthur E. Hall, aged about 50, is now Business Manager of the Chicago Daily News.

Recently he addressed a group of 27 newspaper boys who had each won a $500 college scholarship, awarded by the Newspaper Distributors Association.

Prior to the awards to these 27 boys, there had been 108 previous scholarships given to earlier newspaper carriers.

And of those 108, 107 are still in college or have graduated therefrom, which is a fine record.

"Please don't spoil that record," Mr. Hall told the present group of 27 prize winners.

"The day is past when you can get anywhere without a college education."

"Competition for jobs is getting tougher all the time. So go on to college. But don't forget those high principles and ideals which you have been taught at home."

 Each time I say I love you, dear

... I mean it more and more ... Yet never once does that imply ... I loved you less before ... It simply illustrates that as ... Capacity may grow ... My heart expands in size and warmth ... With which to love you so ... I have adored you from the start ... By every clock and date ... But always there is more to learn ... And to appreciate ... I guess it is because you are ... More wonderful each day ... And my affection keeps in stride ... Along your charming way ... Whatever is the answer, dear ... You may be ever sure ... As much as my capacity ... The feeling will endure.

Remember the story of the peace conference in the jungle. The lion was to neck with the lamb and the wolf was to referee.

The fox left for home after the contracts had been signed. On the way he spotted a hen in a tree. He invited the egghead down for a romp.

To his amazement miss cluck of 1642 refused. There was one dance she was going to sit out on a limb.

"Why, Henrietta," said the fox, "haven't you heard about the armistice? All the animals are palsy-walsy now."

Just then the baying of the hounds was heard in the distance. "So long," said the fox, "I'm on the way."

"Why, foxy, old boy," said the well-treed hen, "why the rush? Didn't you just tell me that all the animals had signed a treaty? Why go?"

"Well," said the fox over his shoulder, "there's always some sucker who hasn't heard about it."

And away he went. Which proves when the shoe is on the other foot it's the squeaky axle that gets the grease. Maybe Aesop didn't tell it just that way. But we figure it fits the atom peace plan like wall-to-wall carpeting.

We understand the bombastics are no longer secret. Neither is rolling snowballs. It's the throwing that counts.

If Russia has stolen all the formulas why ratify it with a vote of confidence? And what good does signing papers do after the stable door is on the bonfire?

VAN NUYS, Cal. (U-P)—Brig. Gen. Herbert C. Holdridge, retired commandant of the adjutant general school, Ft. Washington, Md., has offered to defend Edward S. Dickenson, former Korean War prisoner.

Dickenson, 23, refused repatriation in Korea but later decided to return. The Army accused him of seeking favor with the enemy to the detriment of his fellow prisoners.

Gen. Holdridge said he had sent a telegram to Dickenson's parents that he believes the former corporal could not receive a fair trial "in the present climate of emotionalism and vindictiveness."

Heard in a Pontiac Church Sunday

'What Think Ye of Christ?'
Bible Says He Offers Rest

Preaching Sunday at the First General Baptist Church, 249 Baldwin Ave., the Rev. Robert Garner, pastor, spoke from the subject, "What Think Ye of Christ?" Matt. 22:42.

The church was organized in 1940 and the Rev. Mr. Garner became its pastor in 1950.

Among other things he said the following:

After making an investigation of the Scriptures, this question has arisen in my mind and I wish to pass it along.

Genesis 3:15 reads: "And I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed; it shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel."

God was talking through Moses to the serpent of a planting and producing time when someone would take charge of the universe.

In Isaiah 53 we find a man despised and rejected, a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief. He carried our sorrows, healed the broken hearts, was afflicted and wounded for our iniquities, "the chastisement of our peace was upon him and by his stripes we are healed."

"He was brought as a lamb to the slaughter, and as a sheep before her shearers is dumb, so he opened not his mouth."

This prophecy was fulfilled when Christ died upon the cross, was buried and rose from the grave.

At the age of 30 he entered into his ministerial work for the redemption of a lost world.

The first chapter of St. Luke states that the Lord sent an angel from heaven and spoke to a virgin telling her that she would conceive and bring forth a son and that his name should be called Jesus, to rule and reign in the hearts of men and his kingdom would be without end.

The Son of God, conceived of the Holy Ghost, was born in a stable and laid in a manger because there was no room for him in the inn.

There is still no room in many hearts for Him today.

Being led by the star the wise men found the star and worshipped Him. Later God instructed Joseph, her husband, to take Mary and the child into another country away from King Herod who was planning to kill Him.

At the age of 12, Christ was found in the temple asking and answering questions which astonished those who heard Him. When his mother asked for him, his answer was, "Wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business?"

What do you think of Him? Christ was baptized in the river Jordan by John the Baptist who came as the forerunner of Christ. He did not feel worthy but Christ said, "It becometh us to fulfill all righteousness."

As He came up out of the water, a voice from heaven said "This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased."

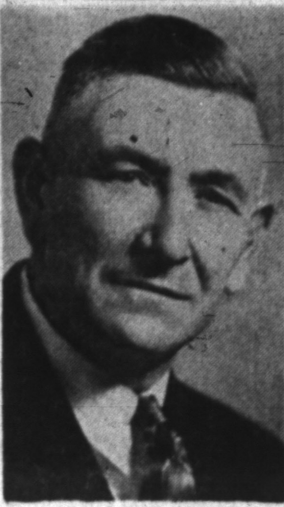

Our Saviour was next taken into the wilderness to be tempted of the devil forty days and forty nights. He came forth victoriously fulfilling the Scripture of Genesis 3:15 when he said "Get thee behind me Satan, for thou shalt worship the Lord thy God and him only shalt thou serve." Matt. 4:10.

The devil left Christ and angels ministered unto Him. He began to preach saying, "Repent, for the Kingdom of God is at hand."

Thus the public ministry of Christ began and he called apostles to follow him and do many miracles in His name. He had power both in heaven and in earth. The dead were raised, blinded eyes were opened, crippled people made whole and best of all, sins were forgiven.

It was this Christ who said, "Ask and ye shall receive, seek and ye shall find, knock and it shall be opened unto you." He came to call sinners to repentance.

May these thoughts find a place in your hearts and if you are burdened down with the cares of this world listen to Christ's own words.

REV. ROBERT GARNER

"Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart, and ye shall find rest unto your souls. For my yoke is easy and my burden is light."

Virginia Dems
Starting Early

Will Pick 1954's First Candidate for Congress on Saturday

WASHINGTON (U-P)—Democrats of Virginia's 9th District will pick the first congressional candidate of the 1954 election year in a convention at Bristol next Saturday.

The opposition party thus will get the jump on the party in power in the candidate-picking business in what promises to be a long and hard-fought campaign for control of Congress, now almost evenly divided.

Outside the 9th District in Virginia, and state and congressional office nominees from Connecticut and Delaware—and possibly a few Republican selections scattered over the Southern states—all nominations this year will be by primary.

Primaries start as early as April 13 in Illinois and wind up Sept. 29 in Rhode Island.

In the Nov. 2 election there will be at stake 35 U. S. Senate seats in 34 states (New Hampshire elects two); 435 U. S. House memberships, and 34 governorships.

The present Senate lineup is: Republicans 47, Democrats 48, independent (Morse) 1. The House: Republicans 219, Democrats 215, independent (Reams) 1. Governors: Republicans 29, Democrats 19.

Of the 35 Senate races coming up, 22 will be for seats now held by Democrats, including 10 in the South, and 13 for Republican places. The contests are for the constitutional one third of the Senate held every two years, plus three for the remaining two years of terms of the late Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), the late Sen. Tobey (R-NH), and the seat Richard Nixon vacated in California to become vice president.

Virginia Democratic leaders say the early convention in Bristol next Saturday indicates—9th District Democrats are anxious to get this seat back in their control. It was lost to the Republicans in the Eisenhower sweep in 1952, along with two other districts in the Old Dominion and one in North Carolina.

The 9th is normally a close district. Republican William C. Wampler won over Democrat M. M. Long 35,047 to 32,735 in 1952 when the then incumbent representative, Democrat Thomas B. Fugate, declined to seek another term.

Glass Eye Saves Looks, Career for Hereford Bull

HALEYVILLE, Ala. (AP)—A one-eyed Hereford bull is headed for the show ring with a movable glass eye that matches his good one. The successful operation may be the first of its kind on a bull in the United States.

It saved Handsome Larry Domino 50th from a life sentence to pasture, with never a chance of winning a fair blue ribbon.

And it saved a $20,000 loss for Dr. R. F. Blake, who saw his investment in a future champion vanishing when Larry's eye was damaged by a barbed wire fence.

Dr. Blake, a surgeon, enlisted the aid of a widely known ophthalmologist in preparing an artificial eye for Larry.

GM, Ford Deny Overproduction

But Make No Immediate Comment on Charges by Atlanta Dealers

DETROIT (AP)—Reports that an over-supply of new autos is threatening the economy of Atlanta, Ga., brought no immediate comment today from representatives of General Motors or Ford Motor Co.

The Augusta Chronicle reporting on the situation quoted dealers as blaming it on a General Motors-Ford production war and the bootlegging of 1954 models into the Augusta area.

The paper said new car dealers faced possible ruin.

At a recent New York press conference Harlow H. Curtice, General Motors president, denied GM had overproduced last year.

"We underproduced in relation to the market available to our dealers," he said. At the same time he added: "Our output schedules were established in relation to our appraisal of the market. That will continue to be our policy."

Ernest R. Breech, executive vice president of Ford Motor Co., commenting recently on production planning, said:

"Our production in 1954 will be determined not by what we sold in 1950 or 1953 but by schedules set on the basis of facts contained in current field reports from our dealers."

"In our facilities planning we have estimated the market as far ahead as the next five years, with allowances for expectations of an increase in our share."

Rockefeller Grants Subsidize Science

NEW YORK (AP)—The Rockefeller Foundation has announced grants of $5,367,964 during the fourth quarter of 1953, largely for scientific research in the United States and abroad.

A program, comprising a magic show, community singing, stunts, and other activities, also was presented.

Geal said that the camp will open June 23 and that enrollments are expected to be about 38 per cent higher this year. Twenty riding horses for the camp were purchased recently, Geal said.

Society Watches Rubber Heiress Wed Ike's Aide

NEW YORK (INS) — Miss Elizabeth Firestone, daughter of the Harvey S. Firestones of the rubber empire, and Charles F. Willis Jr. of President Eisenhower's personal staff were married Saturday in a lavish New York ceremony.

The bride descended a center aisle lined with bearers of the most respected names in New York, Akron, Ohio, Washington, D. C., and Detroit society.

Miss Firestone was gown in ivory satin, trailing an 18th Century lace veil that belonged to Queen Mother Elizabeth of England, and carried orchids clinging by satin ribbons to a Rose Pointe fan.

The service, pink and white and subdued with banks of flickering candles, was held at 4:30 p. m. at Christ Church on upper Park avenue. The Rev. Ralph W. Sockman officiated.

A glittering reception was held at the Grand Ballroom of the Hotel Pierre on nearby Fifth avenue. Following the reception the couple left for a Caribbean trip, after which they will reside in Washington.

MRS. JAMES WADDELL MANNING

Harriet E. Moore Speaks Vows at Kirk in the Hills

BIRMINGHAM — Harriet Elizabeth Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Allen Moore of Suffield road, and Lt. James Waddell Manning, son of Mrs. William Hewson Manning of Fairway drive and the late Mr. Manning, were married Saturday afternoon at Kirk in the Hills.

The bride wore an Empress Eugenie gown of antique ivory satin and net. Panniers were edged with Alencon lace, and jeweled lace outlined the round neckline. A lace cap held her fingertip veil and she carried white orchids with stephanotis and ivy.

Mrs. Dallas Tillotson Towner of North Muskegon, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor and Barbara Anderson of Muskegon was maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Margaret W. Manning, sister of the bridegroom; Priscilla Hall of Jamestown, N.Y.,

Mary Hough of Boston and Mrs. Charles Ammerman of Dearborn. They all wore waltz-length frocks of iridescent aqua shantung with sashes of peacock blue. Their headbands and small veils were of peacock blue velvet and they carried bouquets of rapture roses and white hyacinth fleurettes.

William W. Manning was his brother's best man and ushers were Charles S. Moore and James E. Moore, brothers of the bride; Charles Hugh Whitelaw Jr., Peter J. Van Boven of Detroit and Harry E. Miles Jr. of Saginaw.

Mrs. Moore wore a beaded cocktail dress of dawn blue with a small sequin hat and a white orchid on her purse.

Mrs. Manning's gown was of blue embroidered satin. Her hat was navy and she wore Eucharist lilies.

Frolics Held by 'Bums' and 'Hoboes' 'Poverty' Is Jolly For Allemanders, Hoedowners

Saturday evening was chosen by two square dance clubs for hard times parties. The "bums" and the "hoboes" danced in Donelson School where Allemanders met.

For decorations, members placed candles in empty mustard jars and used old newspapers for tablecloths. An assortment of last year's holiday napkins added to the atmosphere.

Hosts for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Moran, the Norm Sutherlands and the Charles Sikes.

New members welcomed were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hughes, and guests included Mr. and Mrs. Chris Gates, Mr. and Mrs. Galen A. Blaylock, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Prince, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Featherstone.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Elsholz were in charge of decorations for the Hoedowners dance held in Owen School. The Jack Flocks provided the refreshments.

Guests included the Norman Quicks, the Morris Van Horns, the Ted Hoyts, the Leonard Cotters, the William Featherstones and Richard Seymour and Alice Hild.

Walter Pontasch, Dolores Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Leland Clemence completed the list.

Welcomed into the club as new members were Mr. and Mrs. Dick Curran, Ben D'Arcy was master of ceremonies and the calling for the evening was done by Les Mahlborg, Harvey Gilchrist, Mel Shetter, Charles York, Chuck Cullen, Walt Ashley and Art Thomas.

The next dance, to be held Feb. 13, will feature a Valentine box social.

Crofoot PTA Hears Naturalist Speak

Special Education Explained at Malkim

Special educational services offered to pupils in Pontiac schools were discussed Thursday afternoon at the Malkim School PTA meeting.

Cecil J. Cox, assistant superintendent of schools, led the panel discussion and Mrs. H. Erwin Gottschalk spoke on hearing inadequacies and how the child is taught to let his sight compensate for partial loss of hearing.

Mrs. Ira Mac Roback, speech consultant, explaining speech correction, said confidence and a desire for better speech is the basic foundation for correction. Hearing, seeing and feeling are also important in the program.

Physical therapist Eleanor Trout described orthopedic treatments to make the handicapped child more independent.

Sight-saving consultant Mrs. Abram Campbell told of the modern methods and special equipment to enable the partially blind child to keep pace with the average child of his own age.

Allan Copley explained the services of visiting teachers, saying understanding will help the emotionally unadjusted child adjust, and Mrs. Elizabeth Pepple of the opportunity room said open-minded acceptance of the handicapped helps the children work at the speed consistent with their ability.

Supervising the placement of children in special education was described by Josephine Seelye, school nurse, and school attendance and the annual school census were discussed by child accounting and attendance director Paul C. Allison.

Mr. Cox closed the discussion, noting the well-defined educational program presented by the special services.

The fourth grade tonette class and the Malkim School Band presented a musical program under the direction of Donald Schultz. John O'Dea sang "Santa Lucia."

On the refreshment committee were Mrs. Robert Green, Mrs. Francis Myre, Mrs. Waldo Wieshuhn and Mrs. Robert Morgan.

Dr. Walter Nickel, naturalist from the Cranbrook Institute of Science, was guest speaker when Crofoot School held its annual Fathers Night dinner Thursday at the school.

"Creatures of the Wild in Oakland County" was the title of the talk which was supplemented with the showing of colored slides. In his explanation of the Detroit Audubon Survey, Dr. Nickel pointed out that Oakland County holds first place in the bird life survey in five counties near the Great Lakes.

Dr. Milton Bank of Central Methodist Church gave the invocation and Mrs. Ralph Dawe was hospitality chairman. Decoration carried out the wildlife theme.

Mrs. Theodore Wiersma led group singing accompanied by Dorothy Schwartzbeck of Lincoln Junior High School.

Mrs. Walter Miller was refreshment chairman assisted by Mrs. Norman Brown and homeroom mothers, Mrs. Charles King, Mrs. Floyd Smith, Mrs. Pierce Boutin, Mrs. Edward Mann, Mrs. Roland Stephenson, Mrs. Eugene Williams, Mrs. Harry Peckheiser, Mrs. Donald Clark and Mrs. Rex Boomer.

What If Wall Were Mirror?

What if the wall around the kitchen sink were solid mirror? Wouldn't you take time out, no matter what, to wash your face with soap and water, to shampoo your hair more often, and to wear more attractive, fresh-from-the-laundry dresses? Wouldn't your children find you better to look at after school? And wouldn't even a husband soon begin to notice? You bet they would. You'll have to admit it's the most inexpensive beauty course you could take, and involves the least possible time and effort. Think it over.

Much Heat Vanishes Up the Chimney

By HUBBARD COBB

Few things depress a heating engineer quite as much as sitting before a fire blazing away merrily in a fireplace, because he knows that most of the heat produced by the fuel is going right up the chimney and out into the wide open spaces.

Most of us ordinary people will put up with this sort of inefficiency with a fireplace because the fire looks so pretty, but we don't want the same sort of waste occurring with the central heating plant.

If the house furnace is not properly adjusted, or was not properly installed, there is a good chance that a lot of the heat that should be warming the house is flowing right up the chimney.

Along with this heat may be a good many gases which should have been converted into heat but never quite made it. Sometimes you can get a fair idea of how much heat is being wasted by feeling the sides of the chimney. If it's good and hot you've got a pretty fair problem.

The best way to deal with this situation is to have a serviceman come in and make tests on the smoke pipe and chimney to determine how much heat is being wasted and how much fuel is going up as a gas.

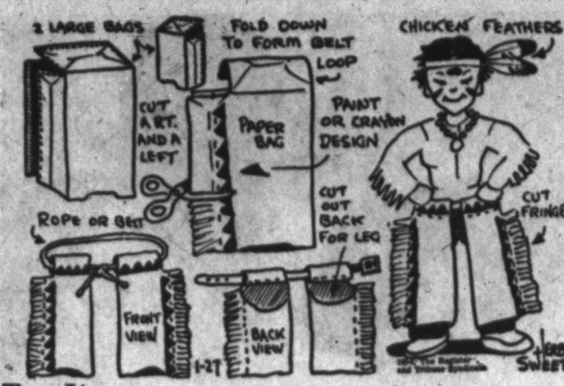

Once he knows how things stand it's usually a simple matter to adjust the furnace to operate more efficiently.

If you have a chimney on the outside of your home it is most important that your system be properly adjusted, for while some of the heat absorbed by an inside chimney will reach the house proper, the heat absorbed by an outside chimney will be lost completely.

'Doll' Up Child's Broom

Here is an idea which can be used in two ways. This little "dolly" up broom will make a nice present for a little girl, or you can make one for your fireplace. I just wonder if mother wouldn't ask any child who received one of these if she wouldn't like to store it by the fireplace?

You will need a regular child's broom which can be purchased at any toy counter. While you are there see if there is an inexpensive rag or sock doll for sale. Most stores carry these and they are most inexpensive.

If your doll does not have hair, perhaps you would like to give her some by tacking a scrap of fringe to the top of her head.

Fasten the doll to the broom, just where the wooden handle meets the sweeping part. Do this with a rubber band.

You can make a little skirt from some leftover material. The skirt should be about 16 inches around and 6 inches long. You can put a hem in the top and bottom, then sew up the side. A little rick-rack around the bottom of the skirt adds color.

Pull this up over the broom, and ruffle it out under a piece of grosgrain ribbon tied into a bow. Cute?

Strain of First Date Apt to Nip Friendship in Bud

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

How easy it is to take someone's foibles in stride when you've known them for some time. And how easy it is to have those same foibles throw you on your very first date together.

Each of you is trying to make just the right impression. You don't know each other well enough to say exactly what you think. You pussy-foot around, pulling your overworked imaginations.

The first date is just the beginning. It doesn't pay to rush things, because you don't know how it's going to take. The first date can set the pace for all succeeding ones. Or it can nip strictly in the bud all chances of any more.

Look what happened on these first dates. Here's a girl who writes:

"Dear Miss Woodward: He was the first boy I had ever been out with—it was the first date I'd ever had—and he asked me for a kiss. I'd never been kissed before and I was afraid, so I said no."

"Since then he hasn't been around—he won't even look at me. I like him so much. What shall I do to get him just to talk to, if I can't get him to go out with?"

Advice to the him on his first date with a girl who's having her first date: Wait 'til she knows you better.

Advice to the her: Don't bite him, just postpone him.

Be Ready to Drop Clean Handkerchief

Maybe other accessory items can stand a second "wearing," but never a handkerchief.

A lady's handkerchief has always been a sort of symbol of her daintiness — so fresh and clean she can afford to drop it at any given moment!

We All Face Failure With Somebody

Wise Thing to Do Is Find New Love For Those Left

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

"Where have I failed?" is the cry of the woman whose GI son in Korea renounced loyalty to our country for loyalty to the Communists.

"I have believed," she told the press, "that a mother should start from birth to train a child for life. Perhaps I overdid it." Then opening her Bible, she read to reporters. "Train a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it."

There is time, then. Her son is not old, but only 17. When a few more years have passed for him, return to us may become the deep purpose of his life.

"I must find out where I have failed," cries his mother, "because I have three other children and must not make the same mistake."

The failure will be over-rigidity or over-laxity. It will be anxiety and self-distrust. It will be guilty and fearful reactions from this experience. It will be self-condemnation.

And that is all it will be.

Once I knew a gentle and learned man. He was a child psychiatrist of distinguished reputation. One bright summer morning when he was in consultation with two troubled parents, his beautiful 17-year-old daughter took a gun, shot and killed herself.

I said that he was of distinguished reputation. Can we feel the shock among the people of his community? Can we hear the condemning gossip? Can we see the pleased malice in the eyes of those who spoke false, consoling words to the Authority who had turned out to be as humanly vulnerable as themselves?

No, he did none of these things. He remained in his community. He went on with his work among the people who knew him as a vulnerable human being like themselves.

Was he a failure? I simply wouldn't know about that. For when I think of him, as I always do when I fail, all I see in him is valor and steadfastness.

Jesus lost Judas; and failure with someone is the human experience of us all. When it comes to us in the shape of a child's rejection of what we've tried to give him, we can do two things.

We can give up in fear and self-hate; or like my brave and successful friend, use what has happened to us to find new compassion and new love for those that remain to us.

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

Armless Boy Aids Others Through Mother's Book

This is a story that starts tragically and ends triumphantly. It's Leona Bruckner's story. Leona is in her early 30s and pretty. Up to a point her history is like that of many another charming young woman.

She went to high school, she fell in love, she got married, she had a lively baby girl. It was the advent of that little girl's brother that made Leona's story different. Her second child was born without arms.

The doctor blurted out what he mistakenly believed to be the terrible truth to the parents: "Your baby is a monstrosity."

"There was a silence," Leona told me, "and then I heard my husband crying. I'd never heard him cry before. I called his name and he stared at me as if he didn't know me. Suddenly I was pounding my fists against the covers of my bed and shrieking wildly. 'What are we going to do? What are we going to do?'"

Leona doesn't like to think of the period that came after that — the fright, the shame, the agonized search for an answer to the problem.

"When I'd see other women wheeled out of the ward on the way to have their babies, I'd actually pray that mine would die and their normal ones would live," she confesses.

Finally the pair agreed to turn over the child they had not seen to a city hospital. They told friends and relatives that Billy had died. Their intention was to let him be cared for all his life in an institution.

Perhaps the plan so hesitatingly and sorrowfully arrived at might have been carried out, too, if Billy hadn't had a sudden attack of a serious infantile disease. When the nurse telephoned that their child probably wouldn't live through the day the Bruckners were turned into average anxious parents who loved their baby.

Little Billy passed the crisis, came home and now at almost 4, with the help of family and agencies, has learned stubbornly and cheerfully, if at a cost of many bruises, to do the physical things that all children his age do. He can even swim and roller skate.

"He is a happy, handsome, friendly person," boasted his mother. "True, he has a special problem but all children have problems of some kind. His

Mrs. Root Gives Tuna Pie Recipe

Hearty Main Dish Includes Potatoes, Carrots, Peas

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

When Mrs. Frederick Root wrote in requesting a certain recipe, we asked her for one in return. Tuna-fish pie is the recipe she sent us.

Mrs. Root says keeping house and sewing for her daughter and attending two PTA meetings each month just about fill her time.

But she does find extra hours in which to teach Sunday School and to be the leader of the Kingdom Builder Circle of her church. Gardening is a favorite hobby.

TUNAFISH PIE

By Mrs. Frederick Root

Line small square cake pan with pie dough. Cook in boiling salted water until tender:

- 1 cup diced potatoes
- 1 cup diced carrots

Drain vegetables and add to them:

- 1 cup peas
- 1 cup white sauce
- 1 can solid-pack tuna

Mix and season, place in dough-lined pan and cover with a top crust. Bake in 425-degree oven for 15 minutes. Reduce heat to 350 degrees and continue baking 35 or 40 minutes longer. Makes four generous servings.

2 Types Bleach for Cotton, Silk

There is no all-purpose bleach. Heavy duty bleaches are chlorine bleaches. These are "set suited" for the family laundry use but must never be used on wool or silk.

Sodium Perborate bleaches, often called "powdered bleaches," are suitable for wool, silk and fine fabrics, but have little effect on heavy soil common on children's clothes and family linen.

A responsible manufacturer provides a label that explains explicitly what the product is and how to use it. It is advisable to read labels carefully to find the exact amounts indicated for each household use and follow the methods recommended in laundering every type of fabric including the so-called miracle fibers and fabrics with new finishes.

Once you launder your clothes and linens with meticulous attention to instructions for use, with a quality bleach, you may expect pride and satisfaction in work well done.

Program in New York State Proves That Women Will Help One Another

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Scarcely a day goes by that I don't hear some variation of the comment, "Women are natural born enemies; they cannot cooperate with each other and help each other, the way men do."

But every day I see vivid proof that this comment is simply not true.

For example, take Jane Todd, who is deputy commissioner of the New York State Department of Commerce, in charge of the woman's program.

She and the women who work with her devote all their time to helping women develop and market products and services.

Their activities are legion, but let's consider just one phase—the booklets they have prepared, which they will send to any woman, in or out of New York state, who requests them.

First, there is a booklet called "102 Ideas for a Business of Her Own."

It discusses all the questions that arise when one considers starting his own business.

Here are typical chapter headings: "Where to Get Ideas," "Personal Qualifications," "If You Can Cook," "If You Can Sew, or Knit or Crochet," "Advice from the Experts."

Another booklet is called "Sales

Appeal in Needlework," which I know, from my own readers' questions, is of great interest to many women.

It discusses all the do's and don'ts of marketing the things one sews or knits, and goes into the quality necessary, the styling, the market, the costs of materials and labor, and how to make it profitable.

"Selling by Mail," another pamphlet, analyzes the kinds of products that sell; who buys by mail—that is, what kind of customers one will have; how to begin; case histories of women who are successfully selling by mail; promotion that pulls; packaging; and tricks of the trade.

Many of the readers who write me, after they have lost their little nest egg in a badly planned direct mail business, could have made a success of it if they had only consulted this little booklet first.

There are pamphlets on "Catering," "Marketing a Home Product," "Tips on Roadside Marketing," "Farmwives' Market," "Naming and Publicizing a Food Product," "Buyer Approach," and many others.

These are not vague, inspirational treatises. They are practical and tested rules for successful operations.

Hundreds of women have been helped by the Jane Todd office—helped to help themselves, and to make money and achieve real success and happiness.

And these women are proof enough that the man who says, "All women are natural born enemies," is living in the remote and cobwebby past.

One of the Relatives Offended by Action of Widow's Sister

By EMILY POST

A reader tells me: "My sister's husband passed away last week, and after the funeral some 15 relatives came back to the house instead of going home. My sister was very tired from the long strain and I felt she was in need of rest and quiet, which was impossible with a house full of people."

"After a half hour had passed and they made no attempt to leave, I took it upon myself to ask them to please go as Mary was very tired."

"I understand that one of the relatives was very much put out over this and said she was never so insulted in her life. Will you please tell me if she has grounds for feeling hurt and if an apology is in order?"

Answer: Although it is my definite opinion that an apology is not in order, family peace is important and to say that you did not intend to hurt anyone's feelings (and very certainly not hers) is merely telling the truth.

Remember, however, that what you did was exactly what you (as your sister's nearest relative) should have done and, therefore, do not agree that you were in the wrong!

Dear Mrs. Post: I am planning to give a dinner party for my niece who has just announced her engagement.

I would like to have a toast proposed during the dinner but do not care to serve an alcoholic beverage. Is it permissible to use a substitute or better to omit the toast entirely?

Answer: Although unusual, a toast can be drunk in anything that is colorful and can be poured into wine glasses—such as gingerale, unfermented grape juice, orange juice, etc.

See No Action to Cut Tariffs

Group Urges President Get Power to Cut Rates Over Next 3 Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—Several key Republican congressmen were reported today to have advised President Eisenhower to expect little or no action by Congress this year to lower tariff barriers against foreign goods.

This was the reported stand of Republicans who have fought traditionally for tariffs high enough to protect American industry from competition at home from cheaper foreign goods.

Tariffs are taxes imposed on foreign products as they enter the United States, in effect raising their prices here.

Eisenhower received over the weekend a 102-page report from his 17-man Foreign Economic Policy Commission, headed by Clarence B. Randall of Chicago, Inland Steel Co. board chairman.

The report, sprinkled liberally with dissents from various members, especially Republican congressional members, urged that the President be given power to lower tariffs by 5 per cent a year over the next three years.

In addition, the report said, the President should be empowered to reduce any tariff to 50 per cent of the value of the goods imported.

But Chairman Daniel A. Reed House Ways and Means Committee, in a blistering dissent, said such a program "admittedly will create unemployment and adversely affect business in this country." He said the only remedies offered by the commission were sympathy or government subsidies but they "are no substitute for jobs."

The commission recommended a three-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Act, which allows the President to lower tariffs in return for trade concessions from other countries. But under the present law tariffs cannot be lowered below 50 per cent of the rate in 1945. The commission proposal was to lift this restriction.

TV Station at Saginaw Signs With American

SAGINAW (UP)—Station WKNX-TV announced Sunday it has signed a long-term contract with a second major television network, the American Broadcasting Co.

William J. Edwards, station president and general manager, said WKNX-TV planned to carry "live" programs from both ABC and the Columbia Broadcasting System, with which the station signed an earlier contract.

Loves to Warble Mountain Music

Has Been Singing for Public Since Age of 12, Is Wed to Paul Weston

NEW YORK—When Jo sings, she's only "doing what comes naturally."

Jo, of course, is Jo Stafford, who makes her television debut Feb. 2, in the "Jo Stafford Show."

The current best-selling recording artist was nursed on music. When Jo was a tot her mother used to play the five-string banjo and her father would sing to her.

"Dad can still sing some neat harmony," notes the popular singer, who was named "Favorite Female Vocalist of the Year" in the 1953 Billboard disk jockey poll.

Jo was born in Coalinga, Calif., where the Stafford family paused after quitting Tennessee, and was brought up in Long Beach. Early in life she learned to love music, especially the Tennessee folk songs on which the Stafford clan was wont to harmonize in the evenings.

At the age of 12 she made her first public appearance, singing "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms" at a Job's Daughters banquet. A few years later, she formed the Stafford Sisters Trio with Christine and Pauline.

In 1935, the Stafford Sisters landed a singing job with "The Crockett Family of Kentucky," a local radio show in Hollywood. Other engagements followed, until one of the sisters married, and the trio broke up.

Jo entered another phase of her career at this time, joining Tommy Dorsey's orchestra as both a soloist and member of the Pied Pipers, a singing group. The recordings Jo made in this period are now regarded as popular "classics"—"Dream," "I'll Never Smile Again," and "Embraceable You."

It was during her four years on the radio "Supper Club" that the vocalist discovered the wide appeal of the folk music she had learned as a child, and in 1948 she established the Jo Stafford Fellowship, awarded each year to the college student submitting the best collection of folklore to the American Folklore Society. She has also authored a book on folk music.

In private life, Jo Stafford is the wife of composer-conductor Paul Weston, whom she married Feb. 26, 1952. They live in Bel-Air, Calif. and have a son Timothy, born Nov. 19, 1952.

Seminar Eyes Traffic Reforms

Authorities Convene in East Lansing to Study Recommendations

EAST LANSING (INS)—The second Michigan Highway Safety Seminar convened in East Lansing today and was considering recommending:

1. Raising the minimum driving age from 16 to 17.
2. Addition of 100 more state policemen.

Recommendations of the seminar, attended by 300 delegates from all traffic safety fields, are expected to largely influence future legislative action.

More than half the members of the State Legislature have made reservations for the seminar's legislative dinner tonight.

Reforms for youthful drivers to be advanced by the seminar: Mandatory driver education courses; probationary licenses for young drivers; a "darkness curfew," and waiver by probate judges over moving traffic violations committed by juveniles.

An important factor in the discussions was expected to be the recent wave of rowdism, both in Detroit and outstate, and the fear that automobiles are becoming an instrument of hoodlumism.

A second issue of controversy is the proposal for speed limits on Michigan highways. A bill with wide support from traffic enforcement groups has been introduced in the Legislature for a daytime 65 and a nighttime 55-mile-an-hour limit.

Countering this will be traffic authorities who hold that only "excessive speed," based upon road and weather conditions, together with other factors, is the reason for traffic hazards.

JO JOINS UP—After many intriguing offers, refusals and contracts, popular Jo Stafford, who was named "top female vocalist of the year," makes her television debut on the "Jo Stafford Show."

The weekly 15-minute series beginning Feb. 2 will delight all Stafford enthusiasts.

Coal Company's Wharf Hit by 3-Alarm Fire

PORTLAND, Maine. (UP)—A belching three-alarm fire swept the Pocahontas Fuel Co.'s 300-foot coal wharf early today, lighting up the waterfront with flames, sparks and explosions.

Portland, South Portland and Coast Guard firefighters battled to stem the flames' steady advance through 25,000 tons of steam coal valued at $250,000. The fire was brought under control in about four hours.

Total damage was estimated unofficially at half a million dollars.

2 Bandits Sought by Windsor Police

WINDSOR, Ont. (INS)—Windsor Police today sought two masked bandits who robbed a supermarket of $11,800, Saturday night.

Store Manager Ralph Polsky said the thieves, one of them armed, held him up just as he left at closing time. He said the two men forced him to open the safe, took $11,000 in receipts, another $800 from Polsky's wallet. Then they trussed the manager up and fled. Police said they had but few clues in the case.

Probers Urging Dems to Return

Republican Members of McCarthy Group Agree to Meet Conditions

WASHINGTON (INS) — Republicans on Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's Senate Investigations subcommittee make a showdown bid today for the return of Democrats who quit the group last summer.

At the same time, the Wisconsin lawmaker urged Congress to widen, rather than narrow, investigations and cited the busy schedule of his subcommittee as proof of the need for further exposure of "corruption and subversion."

The four GOP members of the McCarthy unit, scheduled to meet with the three Democrats this morning, reportedly have agreed to accept any demands the latter may make as conditions for returning.

Republicans on the subcommittee, besides McCarthy, are Sens. Karl E. Mundt (SD), Everett M. Dirksen (Ill) and Charles E. Potter (Mich). The Democrats who "took a walk" last year are Sens. John L. McClellan (Ark), Stuart Symington (Mo) and Henry M. Jackson (Wash.).

The GOP strategy, it was learned, will be to put the three minority senators "on the spot" by removing their expressed reasons for boycotting the subcommittee.

The trio — charging "one-man rule" — resigned last July after the Republicans out-voted them to give McCarthy, as chairman, sole power to hire and fire subcommittee employees.

'What Are You Lifting Up?' Subject for Fellowship

"What Are You Lifting Up?" was the title of the sermon preached Sunday evening by Dr. John Vander Muelen in First Congregational Church.

He was preaching in the third Inter-church Fellowship meeting planned by All Saints Episcopal, Acension Lutheran, Central Methodist, First Congregational and First Presbyterian churches.

Dr. Vander Muelen is pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Dearborn. He spoke following the fellowship hour which was preceded by a Bible talk given by Dr. William F. Lemon of Ann Arbor.

Popularity of these get-togethers, the seventh annual one for these churches, is evidenced by the capacity crowds that have attended each of the services thus far.

Dr. Vander Muelen used the words of Jesus, spoken shortly after the triumphant entry into Jerusalem, as his text: "And I, if I be lifted up from the earth will draw all men unto me."

He prefaced his talk by discussing the power of physical magnetism. He then turned his thoughts to spiritual magnetism and the magnetism of personality.

"Everyone is drawn by two magnets, each of which makes a bid for his life," he said, "and often ones high ideals are sidetracked by magnetic forces that are hard to recognize."

In referring to the text, Dr. Vander Muelen asked, "What are you lifting up?" And he stated further, "It is the job of the Christian to lift Christ up in this generation."

He suggested that the fact there was such an appalling number of evils and crimes today is because we are popularizing these, instead of lifting up Christ.

"We need not be surprised at the number of alcoholics, which runs into the millions," he said, "for the drinking of liquor has been popularized until the rank and file make it look as though there is something wrong with the person who doesn't drink."

"People over the world are turning to the church to help solve their problems and fill their hungry souls," Dr. Vander Muelen said. "They are wanting bread and getting only a stone."

In closing, he asked, "How big a place does Christ hold in your life? Are you giving Him to your children? For—I, if I be lifted up, will draw all men unto me."

The meeting next week will be in the First Presbyterian Church. The host ministers are the Rev. C. George Widdfield, the Rev. George L. Garver, Dr. Milton H. Bank, the Rev. Malcolm K. Burton and Dr. William H. Marbach.

Leader of Local Changes Stand

Briggs Man Agrees to Work With Rep. Clardy and Red Probers

DETROIT (UP) — James W. Cichocki, president of Briggs local 742, CIO United Auto Workers, said today he has "no intention" of refusing to cooperate with a congressional committee investigating communism in labor.

Cichocki said he became irritated Saturday when Rep. Kit Clardy (R-Mich) reported in Washington that local 742 defied the House Un-American Activities Committee by stating it will "not in any way cooperate with this committee."

"It isn't true," the local president said when informed of Clardy's charge. "We will cooperate with any government committee."

Clardy is chairman of a subcommittee scheduled to begin hearings in Detroit Feb. 22. Two "advance agents" of the subcommittee were due in Detroit today to make arrangements for the session.

Cichocki said local 742 forwarded a resolution to Clardy which contended the subcommittee should investigate growing unemployment rather than subversive elements in labor.

"The membership of local 742 has dwindled from 7,200 to 3,200 during the past few months because of unemployment," he said. "And we've had only three 40-hour weeks since August."

But Clardy read excerpts from the resolution stating:

"We will call on our membership and the international union's executive board to oppose the Un-American Activities Committee coming into Detroit, Flint and Lansing."

Also: "We will give every aid possible, including financial aid, for the legal defense of any member who is dragged before this committee."

Re-insurance Plan Questioned by AMA

CHICAGO (U)—The "general objectives" of President Eisenhower's health program have American Medical Assn. endorsement, but the AMA's Board of Trustees questions whether the program's re-insurance plan is "another government subsidy."

A statement given out yesterday after a meeting of the trustees called by Dr. Edward J. McCormick, AMA president, said it was "pleased to find in this (the President's Jan. 18 message to Congress) message so many of the ideas and principles for which the American Medical Assn. has striven for so many years."

But concerning the Eisenhower proposal for a 25-million-dollar fund to reinsure private health insurance programs—the stated objective of which would be to give increased benefits to subscribers without increasing the cost to them—the AMA trustees said:

"It is not clear whether this is true re-insurance or another form of government subsidy. The whole subject needs careful study and until the plan is spelled out in detail, the AMA can make no further comment."

Seeks Law to Put More Jurors on Call

County Wants 800 Stand-bys

Legislation Now Sets 400 Limit on Number Available

Oakland County will try to get Michigan laws changed soon so circuit courts can have as many as 800 men and women "standing by" for jury duty.

The County Board of Supervisors' has asked its legislative-committee headed by William H. Nern and County Corporation Counsel Harry J. Merritt to "work together on a change."

The law now limits the county to 400 jurors on call at a time. A special order from circuit judges can push it to 600 a year—no further.

This leaves Lynn D. Allen, county clerk, biting his nails for fear the county will run out of jurors sometime with a "hot" case awaiting trial.

Allen commented that in the "Mike Selik" case some time ago, prosecuting and defense attorneys ran through almost 400 jurors before settling on 12 who they agreed hadn't formed opinions about the case.

"If we had two things like that happen in a row," he said, "we wouldn't have a chance of having enough jurors to last out the year."

Formosa Gives Korean POWs Loud Welcome

TAIPEH, Formosa (U) — Five shiploads of onetime soldiers in Red China's Korean armies arrived today to a tumultuous welcome from their chosen new homeland, Nationalist China.

Flag-waving, shouting crowds lined Taipei's streets as creeping trucks bore the 4,625 former war prisoners from the nearby port of Keelung, where they landed from Korea.

Five more shiploads are expected tomorrow and five Wednesday, bringing the last of the 14,000 anti-Red Chinese who were released as civilians Saturday by the U. N. Command.

Many had spent years in captivity. All had spent half a year under Indian control in the Korean neutral zone, where they were given their choice between mortal enemies—Red China and Nationalist China.

Newsman who talked with some of the prisoners said every one told them of plans to join the Nationalist army.

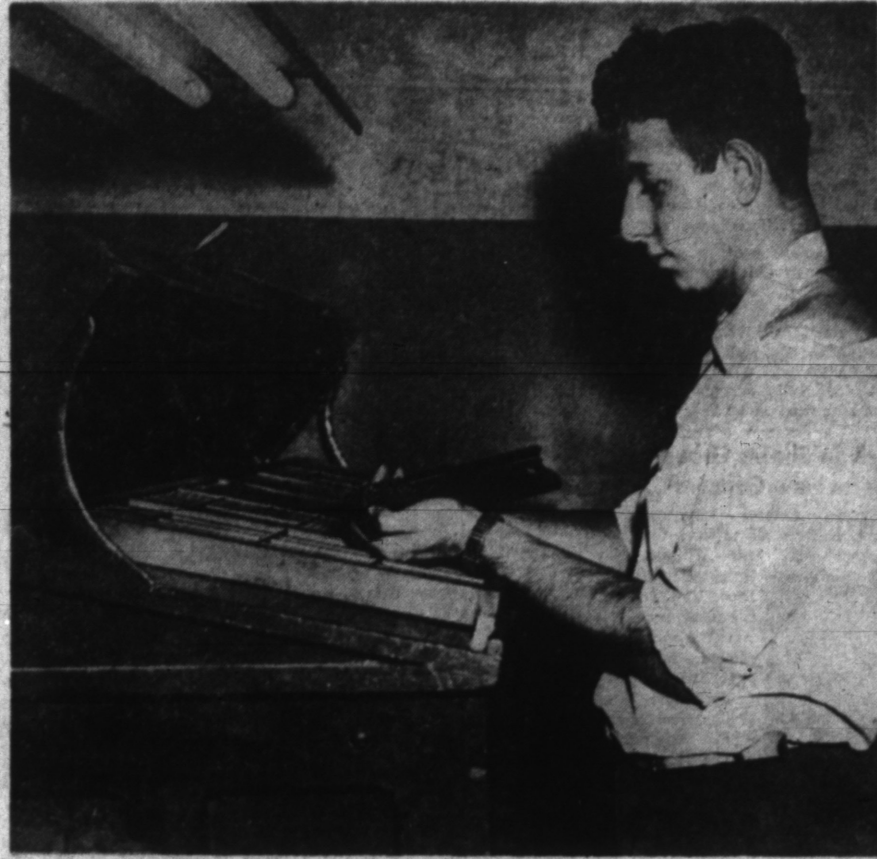

President Chiang Kai-shek's son, Chiang Ching-kuo, met the first ship and was presented with seven Nationalist flags made in the prison camps.

He told the prisoners: "We must carry these very flags back with us to Nanking and Peiping (on the mainland)." "Are you happy?" he asked. "Yes," thundered the reply.

"The Peace Pipe"

Local Boys' Club Group Produces Monthly Paper

By JOSEPH K. SFAIR

A serious-minded group of boys serving a two-fold function at Pontiac Boys' Club are busy this week turning out the third issue of the club's newspaper, The Peace Pipe.

With a mailed circulation of 1,200, the four-page, half-size tabloid also will sell about 300 copies in the club's corridors, according to Editor Tom Loignon, 18, Pontiac High senior.

The staff of six boys has definite purposes in putting out the newspaper for the club's large membership.

"I've always liked printing and someday hope to work as a compositor for the Pontiac Press," 14-year-old Delbert Zimmer of 219 Willard St. said, Assistant Editor, Del attends Eastern Jr. High and delivers the Press after school.

But Eddie Broadway, 13, of 283 S. East Blvd., says that he is using the opportunity to prepare himself for a future in reporting. He, too, is eyeing the Press.

"Just tell the editors of the Press that they will be well supplied for editorial and printing help in years to come," Tom said.

Three years ago Pontiac Boys' Club was given some $1,500 in equipment by the Pontiac Press.

However, the equipment was not put to use until three months ago. Although they have 10 cases of assorted sizes of type, a paper cutter, a small proofing press, a camera, an enlarger and a Chandler 10x15 inch press, the boys are putting away the money which the sales bring in for more equipment.

Each month the paper records the club's activities and usually a highly written editorial on "how boys should act like boys."

William V. Coullacos, executive director who supervises the publication, said that the paper has

Ives Seen as Dewey Choice for Successor

ALBANY, N. Y. (INS) — U. S. Sen. Irving M. Ives was seen today as Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's possible choice as his successor if the New York governor decides against running for a fourth term.

That Dewey might be favorable to the Republican senator was seen from his inclusion at all eight luncheon receptions scheduled by the governor for GOP county chairmen and vice-chairmen at the executive mansion.

Political observers noted that the chief executive's announcement said the unprecedented series of luncheons, starting Monday, would be held while Congress is in session and that Ives would attend.

Also slated to be present are GOP State Chairman Dean P. Taylor and Mrs. Taylor.

drawn the club members closer together.

"But more important," Coullacos said, "is the opportunity provided for the boys to achieve skill in their preferred fields."

This goes hand in hand with the program philosophy of the club. The boys also are afforded opportunities in several other fields.

The boys are not allowed to duplicate school study with functions of the club.

"In this way," Coullacos explained, "the boy's enthusiasm is sustained with optimum interest. They are able to give vent to their natural talents."

Other members of the Peace Pipe staff are Don Brown, 16, Joe Courier, 13, Richard Loignon, 16, and Charles Jennings, 14.

POW Release Disapproved 3-2

India Joins With Red Poland, Czechoslovakia in Censuring U. N.

PANMUNJOM (U) — India joined Communist Poland and Czechoslovakia today in a 3-2 vote of the Korean repatriation commission disapproving the release of nearly 22,000 anti-Red Korean and Chinese prisoners by the U. N. Command.

Swiss and Swedish delegates backed the Allied action.

Commission Chairman Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya of India said the vote was taken to get the five delegations' views on the record. The outcome had been expected.

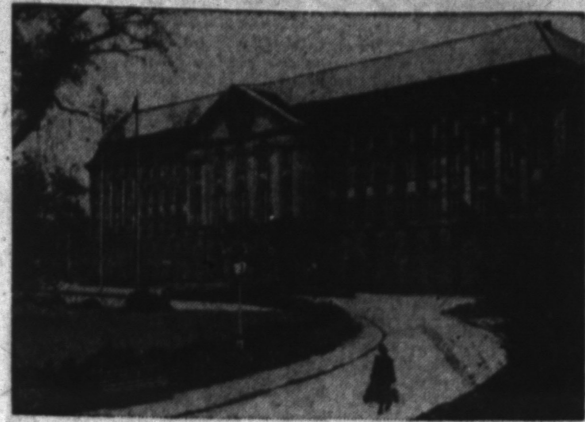

On three previous occasions, India had sided with the Red stand that the prisoners must be kept in captive status until their fate is decided by a Korean peace conference.

The U. N. Command released the prisoners as civilians Saturday, asserting that was required by the armistice.

It freed all the 7,500 anti-Red North Koreans and 14,000 Chinese turned over to the Allies by the Indian custodian command last week.

The first five ships, carrying 4,063 Chinese ex-POWs, arrived at Formosa today. The Chinese Nationalists received the men warmly. The Koreans were undergoing processing in deep South Korea. There was no word on 21 Americans and 336 other pro-Red prisoners abandoned in the neutral zone by Indian guards at midnight Friday.

The Communist command had refused to accept custody of the 347. The Red propaganda position was that India should hold the prisoners indefinitely until a Korean

Uncle Charlie Goes Devious in Angling for Chess Game

By BILLY ROSE

Yesterday afternoon my Aunt Frieda phoned.

"Come to supper tonight," she said. "I want you should talk to your Uncle Charlie."

"What's he up to now?"

"Is not fit conversation for a telephone," said Frieda.

When I arrived at their Rivington Street flat that BILLY ROSE evening, my aunt was sulking in the parlor and Charlie was at the kitchen table, a collection of travel folders in front of him.

"What's this all about?" I asked. "Me and Frieda is going to Paris," said my uncle. "A city from enchantment! Horse chestnuts in blossom!"

Frieda walked in.

"Tell me, Mr. Globetrotter," she said, "what we will use for money?" "For money, we will use the money in the bank," said Charlie.

"The bank money is for old age," said my aunt.

"Old age is what we already got," said my uncle. "Paree is making us young again. All night the horses is going clip-clop on the gobblesones."

"Are you serious?" I asked Charlie as Frieda went back to the parlor.

My uncle winked.

"I am wishing to spend April," he confided, "where any sensible man is wishing to spend April—in Budnick's Chess Parlor."

"Then why all the travel folders?"

"I am fighting a backfire," said Charlie. "Like when a forest is burning, they are making a fire in front so the fire in the back shouldn't jump over."

"What's a backfire got to do with Paris?" I asked.

"Is elemental," said my uncle. "Today Bernstein, the insurance man on the second floor, is telling me he is taking his wife for two weeks to Florida. By tomorrow, every woman on Rivington street will be knowing about the Bernsteins and demanding likewise."

"Well, this can be big trouble to a man who is figuring to spend April in Budnick's Chess Parlor. So I am reasoning with logic and deciding to make a backfire."

"In other words," I said, "by proposing an expensive trip which you know Frieda will turn down, you're beating her to the punch."

"Exact," said Charlie. "A ounce of prevention is worth a pound of bandages."

My aunt walked back into the room.

"You talking to your uncle?" she said.

"I've been telling Charlie that Paris isn't all it's cracked up to be," I said.

"Maybe our nephew is right," said my uncle. "Maybe it's better we should stay home this year."

"For this," she said, "I been saving a extra special appetizer—marinated carp with red onions."

As Charlie and I sat down at the table, he picked one of the travel folders off the floor.

"Tell me something," he said. "Is it true what they say about the ladies in the Folies Berger?"

For the Record

Spare Moment of Pity for Hutton-Rubirosa Marriage

Maurice Zolotov has written extensively on the Broadway scene and on the foibles of its characters. Among his books, "No People Like Show People," "Never Whistle in a Dressing Room," and "It Takes All Kinds."

It is very difficult to arouse any sympathy on behalf of a lady with $150,000,000, and yet I should like to ask you to bestow a few moments of silent pity on Barbara Hutton. It isn't only for her—but for a situation she has come to symbolize rather vividly for me. It may be that her latest marriage to the Dominican lover-boy, Porfirio Rubirosa, may work out for the best, but after her previous marital fiascos one may well be inclined to be pessimistic.

What is significant to me is that the dilemma in which a Barbara Hutton finds herself trapped is one that more and more women are going to find themselves in as the years go on.

Until 1920, about the only way a woman could attain great wealth we find a new sub-variety of the male animal springing up to satisfy the loneliness of these women. He is generally slim and handsome, with a hard look in the eyes and a closely shaven face.

He is a smooth dancer and a virtuoso at such sports as tennis, swimming, yachting. His nails are always manicured, his shoes and suits are custom-made, his shirts are monogrammed. He is adept at contract bridge, canasta, scrabble. He is a gourmet. He is master of gay repartee and amusing badinage, and he can whistle all the songs from every important musical comedy of the past ten years. He knows all the tricks of love-making—although he is drained of emotion.

But, above all, he has one quality that gives him a fatal attraction for these lonely women. He is not afraid.

PRESS TIME AT BOYS' CLUB — Tom Loignon, editor of Peace Pipe, looks over the first copy of the unit's paper as it comes off the press for last minute correction. 70-Year-Old Battle for Mackinac Span Finally Won as Construction Date Nears

(Editor's note: The following account of the 70-year fight for the Straits of Mackinac Bridge was written for the Associated Press by John Matheson, staff writer for the Sault Ste. Marie Evening News.)

SAULT STE. MARIE (U) — The start of construction, this spring, on the Straits of Mackinac Bridge connecting Michigan's two peninsulas will climax a 70-year-old uphill battle by upper Michigan residents and far-seeing state industrial and civic leaders.

The bridge, termed the longest suspension bridge in the world—26,444 feet or slightly more than five miles—is scheduled to receive its first traffic on Nov. 1, 1957.

Only the Golden Gate suspension bridge in San Francisco, boasts a longer suspension span. The Straits of Mackinac Bridge's suspension span is 3,800 feet long.

The suspension cables will be anchored to two concrete piers that will break all records. Resting on the bed rock, each pier will contain 85,000 cubic yards of concrete, enough to make two highways 26 miles long, 22 feet wide and nine inches thick.

The span, despite its length, offered fewer engineering problems than such structures as the Golden Gate or the new Tacoma Narrows bridge, the designing engineers reported. They have designed the Michigan structure to withstand nearly twice the strongest wind ever recorded at the straits and the pressure of far more ice than the worst recorded winter ever produced.

The long fight for the bridge actually started in 1884 when the Grand Traverse Herald called for a permanent crossing of the straits. Serious consideration started in 1920 when Horatio S. Earle, state highway commissioner, suggested a floating tunnel to connect the peninsulas.

At that time, the state ferry

Committee, sought improved ferry service as a short-range aim, and the bridge as the final solution.

The Legislature approved the re-establishment of the bridge authority at its extra session of 1950, and the bill was approved by the governor in June 6, 1950.

The authority first sought a Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC) loan, but decision was held in abeyance pending outcome of negotiations with private investors for money to build the structure. In October 1952, B. J. Vaningen & Co., New York investment bankers, agreed to underwrite the bond issue.

Contracts were contingent upon the sale of bonds to finance the work, and the bond prospects were not favorable at first.

A bill pledging $417,000 annually was signed by the governor May 29, 1953.

Late in 1953 the authority received a bid from a syndicate composed of Allen & Co., New York investment house, Union Securities Corp. of New York, A. C. Allen & Co., Chicago brokerage concern and Stifel Nicalus Inc., Chicago investment house.

A State Supreme Court ruling Friday was handed down and the legality of the $39,800,000 bond issue was upheld.

Detroit Charged in Fatal Shooting

A warrant charging Robert Reed, 27, of 47 Smith St., Detroit, with first degree murder was approved today by Oakland County
Prosecutor's office.

Reed who is accused of fatally shooting Helen Jackson, 28, of 3
Grant St., Saturday morning, told Assistant Prosecutor Donald Brown that he shot the woman after a quarrel during a party at the home.

Meanwhile, Capt. Clark M.
Wheaton, chief of Pontiac detectives, said that the .32 revolver was recovered in a Pontiac home where Reed said he disposed of the weapon after the shooting.

One witness said in a formal statement to the prosecutor that Reed shot the woman after she refused to leave the house with him. Reed said he fired at the woman in self defense, claiming the victim had a knife. Reed is scheduled to be arraigned in Pontiac Municipal Court today.

Shirley King, John Riley Wed in Rochester Church

ROCHESTER—The marriage of Shirley Elizabeth King to John Charles Riley of Oscoda was solemnized Saturday at a noon ceremony in St. Philip's Episcopal Church here.

Shirley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis C. King of William Rd. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Riley of Hamlin Rd.

Shirley chose for her wedding a ballerina length gown of white bengaline with a gold cross at the neckline.

For something old, she wore her grandmother's wedding crown of Rose Pointe lace, which held her fingertip veil. The bridal flowers were a cascade bouquet of bride's roses and stephanotis.

Ruth King, sister-in-law of the bride, served as her only attendant, wearing a pale yellow net and shantung gown in ballerina length. She carried gladioli and Japanese iris.

Serving as the best man was Louis King. Seating the guests were Burton Juengel and Robert Trott.

Violinist Richard Margitza of Detroit played music for the ceremony.

A reception was held in the church after which a luncheon was served at the King home on William Rd. for 60 guests.

After a short wedding trip Shirley and John will make their home in Oscoda.

Water, Hygiene Topics for Meet

State, County Officials to Explain Problems of West Bloomfield

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—Two Oakland County health officials and a state representative will participate in a public meeting on water supply and sanitation set for 8 p.m. tomorrow at the West Bloomfield Town Hall, 4460 Orchard Lake Rd.

Dr. John Monroe, director of public health; Russel Colton, director of sanitation, and William S. Bloomfield, fourth district representative, will express their views on existing problems and future solutions to them at the meeting. Sponsoring the open meeting is the local League of Women Voters. "Because of the rapidly increasing population of the area, the topics should be of interest to all residents," said a league spokesman.

Jan Sterling (Mrs. Paul Douglas) says "I smoke KING-SIZE Chesterfield"

CHESTERFIELD GIVES YOU...

THE QUALITY YOU WANT

No matter which size Chesterfield you buy you get the same premium quality cigarette, and all the flavor and mildness that goes with it!

You get the world's best tobaccos, selected by Chesterfield buyers with the help of our research chemists...and proven, by actual tobacco tests, to be highest in quality.

THE LOW NICOTINE YOU WANT

Before we buy tobaccos for Chesterfields, our laboratories take samples from all over the tobacco country and analyze them for low nicotine content. The extra care pays off! In recent "tobacco tests," the six leading brands of cigarettes were chemically analyzed. The findings: of them all, Chesterfield is highest in quality — low in nicotine.

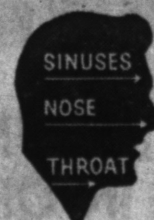

THE PROOF YOU OUGHT TO HAVE

A group of Chesterfield smokers have been examined by a doctor every two months for almost two years. 45% of them have been smoking Chesterfield, on the average, for well over 10 years. The doctor's examinations show...

no adverse effects to the nose, throat and sinuses from smoking Chesterfield.

Consider Chesterfield's record with these smokers—with millions of other smokers throughout America. Change to Chesterfield and enjoy the taste and mildness you want—highest in quality—low in nicotine—best for you!

Science Shrinks Piles

New Way Without Surgery
Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to stop bleeding — without surgery.

In case after case, pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all — results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — discovery of a world-famous research institute.

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form under the name of Preparation H. Ask for it at all drug stores — money back guarantee.

Reds Sign New '54 Trade Pact

Sees Soviets Reducing Tool, Machinery Export to Red China

LONDON (AP) — The Russians have disclosed signing a new 1954 trade pact with the Chinese Communists. Official announcements of the agreement envisage a big step-up in trade, but Western diplomats here believe the Soviet Union actually is having to cut down on vital tool and machinery shipments to her Red ally.

The protocol was signed in Moscow Saturday by Sergei A. Borisov, Soviet deputy minister of foreign trade and Yeh Tse-chaun, China's foreign trade minister, after two months of negotiations.

It was agreed that Russia would trade metallurgical, mining and power equipment, automobiles, tractors, building machinery, metals, petroleum and chemical products. In exchange, China would export nonferrous metals, soy beans, rice, nuts, vegetable oils, tobacco, fruits, raw silk, leather and other goods.

Russia also will extend China credit but the amount was not disclosed.

Russia's reluctance to share more of her industrial output with her big Asian neighbor is not expected, however, to cause any serious rift in their relations.

Ike's Economists Seem Optimistic

President's Aides Say Fears for Recession Are Groundless

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower's top economic advisers see no serious grounds today for recession fears and are generally optimistic about the business outlook for 1954.

Statements from administration sources indicate that the President's annual economic message to Congress, due Thursday, will strike back at current "recession talk."

One spokesman, Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey, declared on NBC's televised "Meet The Press" that he sees "no economic danger signs this year." Humphrey admitted that 1954 may not equal last year in overall business volume but said the nation is continuing in an "expanding economy."

Congressional GOP leaders expected to get some preview of the President's economic report at their regular White House legislative conference this morning.

At the same time the Senate Banking Committee scheduled the first in a series of open hearings on expansion of foreign investment and trade. Gen. Glen E. Edgerton, director of the export-import bank was among the first witnesses.

The hearing followed publication of the Randall Commission Report on Foreign Economic Policy, which recommended extension of the Reciprocal Trade Act for another three years and urged encouragement of West Europe-Soviet trade in "peaceful goods."

Speeder Offers Unique Alibi: 'Rushing to Jail'

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (INS) — Doyle Springs, 30, of Milwaukee, offered a new alibi for speeding and won a suspended sentence. Springs said he was traveling 40 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone because he wanted to get back to jail.

He explained that he has been serving a one-year jail sentence under a law which permits a prisoner a daily furlough to keep his job.

Springs said he had worked late and was hurrying back to his cell. The judge suspended sentence.

Announcing a New Contact Lens
Radically Different from All Known Contact Lenses
The New Hornstein Corneal Contact Lens
We are pleased to announce that at long last, after many years of research the new HORNSTEIN lens, invented and perfected by Hornstein of Budapest, Hungary, is now being manufactured by us under an exclusive World License in our own precision Laboratories.

A European scientist, who spent years in painstaking research in laboratories in Hungary, England and Germany, has invented (patent pending) an amazing new contact lens, safer and better than glasses. He calls his invention the "No-Touch" lens, because it is so constructed that no part of the lens can touch any part of the eye. Millions who could not wear the old type contact lenses because they rubbed on the central part of the eye, resulting in limited wearing time and annoying discomfort, will now be able to wear contact lenses with comfort and satisfaction. They won't even know they are wearing them.

Clinical tests on numerous persons in all walks of life, over long periods of time, give convincing proof that they can be worn all day long with complete comfort and that there is no feeling in the eye from them.

Special Introductory Offer!
Come in and see these wonderful new lenses. If we wanted to make these lenses to sell for much more we could! Use finer materials or workmanship.

Free Booklet Tells How Deaf Hear Again With Startling Clarity, Ease

CHICAGO (Special) — New hope for the 15 million persons in the United States who are hard of hearing was voiced by a noted Chicago acoustical scientist.

He reported that through the miracle of modern electronics it is now possible to overcome deafness even if the loss is severe.

He demonstrated how the deaf can hear again with a clarity and ease they never dreamed possible.

According to this electronic engineer, Mr. Sam Posen of Beltsone, the longer a hearing loss is neglected, the harder it is to re-learn certain speech sounds and understand them.

To acquaint the hard of hearing readers of this paper with what may be done to help the deaf hear again with startling clarity, full authoritative details about deafness and how to overcome it are described in an informative, new, illustrated booklet, which will be sent in a plain wrapper without any cost or obligation.

To obtain your free copy, simply send your request to: Electronic Research Director, Dept. 533A, Beltsone Hearing Aid Co., 2900 W. 86th St., Chicago 32, Ill. A post-card will do.

Japanese Newspaper Plays 'Share the Wealth'

TOKYO (U)—The newspaper Asahi, Japan's largest with a claimed circulation of six million daily, marked its 75th anniversary today with cash bonuses and gifts of stock to 7,000 employees.

Cash bonuses averaged 2,000 yen (about $2.50). The shares have a face value of 100 yen (about 25 cents) each, but they are not on the market.

Employees with 1 to 4 years service got three shares apiece. Those with more service got roughly one share for each year on the paper.

First commercial sugar cane production in the New World was in San Domingo where Negro slaves were imported to cultivate the fields.

Airliner Hops Pole on LA-Sweden Trip

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (U)—Scandinavian Airlines' Gorm Viking Super-Cloudmaster landed 40 minutes ahead of schedule here early today, completing a 6,000-mile test polar flight across the top of the world from Los Angeles.

The company hopes to inaugurate regular Scandinavia-to-Los Angeles passenger service on the route by May 1 if necessary agreements can be concluded with Canada and the United States. The airline's first trans-polar test flight was made in November, 1952.

The four-engine DC6B left Los Angeles Friday and flew by way of Edmonton, Alta.; Churchill, Man.; Frobisher Bay, in Canada's Northwest Territories; and Greenland.

Beria Friend Recalled as Ambassador to Italy

ROME (U)—Russia announced officially last night that Mikhail Kostilev, reportedly a former friend of Joseph Stalin and executed Soviet police boss Lavrenty P. Beria, has been recalled as ambassador to Italy.

A Russian Embassy spokesman confirmed as "official" reports by diplomatic sources that Kostilev would be replaced by Alexander Bogomolov, former envoy to Czechoslovakia.

Will Lucille Again Snare 2 'Emmies'?

HOLLYWOOD (U)—Can Lucy do it again?

That was the issue discussed in TV circles today as the nominations for the TV Academy's 1953 awards became known. Last year Lucille Ball walked away from the banquet with two "Emmies," for best actress and best comedy show. The question is whether she can repeat.

I Love Lucy placed high in the new nominations, being named for the same two spots as last year, plus the new category of supporting players. Her neighbors, the Mertzes—in real life Vivian Vance and William Frawley—are nominees.

But Lucy faces strong competition from other shows. Mr. Peepers also won four nominations, as did the Jackie Gleason Show. Although TV audiences still love Lucy, it's probably that the academy will honor her competitors. The Academy of Television Arts and Sciences, which is obviously patterned after its movie counterpart, will name the winners at a Hollywood Palladium banquet Feb. 11. Around 550 industry leaders, most of them on the West Coast, vote the awards after nominations by TV columnists.

I'll take a flyer and try to out-guess the voters. Here are the nominations for bests and my choices for the winners:

Dramatic program: Kraft TV Theatre, Philco-Goodyear Playhouse, Robert Montgomery Presents, Studio One and U. S. Steel Hour. Choice: U. S. Steel Hour.

Situation comedy: Burns and Allen, I Love Lucy, Mr. Peepers, Our Miss Brooks and Topper. Choice: Burns and Allen.

Variety: Colgate Comedy Hour, the Jackie Gleason Show, Omnibus, Show of Shows and Toast of the Town. Choice: Toast of the Town. (And what is Omnibus doing in that bunch?)

News or sports: Camel News Caravan, Gillette Cavalcade of Sports, NCAA football games, Pabst fights, professional football and See It Now. Choice: See It Now.

Public affairs: Adventure, Bishop Fulton Sheen, Meet the Press, Person to Person and Victory at Sea. Choice: Victory at Sea.

Mystery, action or adventure: Dragnet, Foreign Intrigue, I Led Three Lives, Suspense and The Web. Choice: Dragnet, natch.

Audience participation, quiz or panel: I've Got a Secret, This Is Your Life, Two for the Money, What's My Line and You Bet Your Life. Choice: This Is Your Life.

Children's program: Big Top, Ding Dong School, Kukla, Fran and Ollie, Super Circus and Zoo Parade. Choice: Ding Dong School.

New program: Adventure, Ding Dong School, Letter to Loretta, Make Room for Daddy, Person to Person and U. S. Steel Hour. Choice: Make Room for Daddy.

Male star of a regular series: Sid Caesar, Wally Cox, Jackie Gleason, Donald O'Connor and Jack Webb. Choice: Jack Webb.

Female star of a regular series: Eve Arden, Lucille Ball, Imogene Coca, Dinah Shore and Loretta Young. Choice: Dinah Shore.

Series supporting actor: Ben Alexander, Art Carney, William Frawley, Tony Randall and Carl Reiner. Choice: Art Carney.

Series supporting actress: Bea Benaderet, Ruth Gilbert, Marion Lorne, Audrey Meadows and Vivian Vance. Choice: Marion Lorne.

Outstanding personality: Arthur Godfrey, Edward R. Morrow, Martha Raye, Bishop Fulton Sheen and Jack Webb.

This last one is a toughie. Bishop Sheen won it last year, so the chances are he won't score again. Godfrey isn't as popular here as he is in the East. Martha Raye is about TV's best comedienne, but she hardly rates in this class. It could be Morrow, but I'll string along with Joe Friday. I think it's going to be a Dragnet year.

Pakistan to Discuss U. S. Military Aid

LAHORE, Pakistan (U)—Nasir Ahmed Khan, a member of the Pakistani Parliament, asked Premier Mohammed Ali today to call a special Parliament session next month to discuss proposed American military aid to Pakistan.

Ahmed, former industries minister and member of the Premier's Muslim League party, said the "vital and delicate" matter should be considered at a "high and dispassionate" level.

The crucial question, he said, "is why America is interested in giving military aid and what next after military aid."

Colorado Lawmaker Takes Thrift to Heart

DENVER (U)—A state legislator in Colorado has gone all out to help economize on state expenses. State Controller James A. Noonan said one lawmaker who filed an expense account for the trip to the State Capitol asked for mileage, but included nothing for meals. Instead he added a note on the voucher. It said: "Carried my lunch."

"For a factory worker, my daddy sure knows his coal. When Mr. Jones said Daddy was lucky that he spent so little for a Winter's fuel bill and kept our home so comfortable Daddy just laughed and said that there was more than just the initial price of a ton of coal to be considered.

"A coal that is clean, burns cleanly, has very little ash content and is properly sized will outlast ordinary stoker coal, Daddy said, comparison had proved that 'Little Joe' Stoker Coal burned longer, cleaner and responded more readily to furnace controls. "It's not luck that gives you a more economical fuel, it's the better quality that counts in the long run."

Rawls Winner of Tampa Test

Betsy Beats Old Jinx Long Enough to Wind Up on Top

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Betsy Rawls won the Tampa Women's Open golf championship, but the jinx which had always pursued her on the tricky Palma Ceia course almost caught her again.

Never better than 6th in this tournament before, Miss Rawls started off in front with an even par 75 for the 1st 18, and stayed ahead all the way. Her 73-hole total of 311 gave her $1,200 of the $5,000 prize money.

On yesterday's final round the jinx really hit her. The little Spartanburg, S. C., shotmaker took 83, eight over par.

But her closest rivals, such as Erans as the 1953 champion, Louise Suggs of Cincinnati, and the two Tampanas, Babe Zaharias and Betty Dodd, were having their own troubles and couldn't take advantage of her lapse.

Patty Berg, another veteran pro now playing out of West Chicago, Ill., had a fine 74, but had had her bad days earlier, and could do no better than 4th with a total of 314.

Two amateurs Polly Riley of Fort Worth, Tex., and Marlene Stewart of Ontario, Can., slipped in between Miss Rawls and Miss Berg, tied at 313 for 2nd.

Brusha Winner of Sport Rifle Shooting Trial

Frank Brusha won the sporting rifle gallery trial match at the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club last week with a score of 191 out of 200.

Robert Griffin, vice president of the Michigan Rifle Association, is attempting to create interest in sporting rifle matches in the county. More than 20 shooters fired in last week's trial.

Three positions were used—sitting, kneeling and off-hand.

F. Hermans and Griffin were only one shot back of Brusha, with Jack Alcock at 189. Cash Bond had 188, Emmet Teeley, 185; H. Collins, 183; and M. LaPorte, 181.

Multi-Lakes team shot a match with Roseville Sportsmen last week, losing the actual score, but winning handicap. Actual score—Roseville, 926, Multi-Lakes 907, with M-L holding a 1,023-1,000 edge in handicap.

L. Bush was high for the Multi-Lakers with 189.

MSC Backfield Tutor 7th to Move to Head Coaching Post

By ROBERT E. VOGES
EAST LANDING (AP)—Clarence (Biggie) Munn's school of coaching had another graduate today.

Michigan State college backfield coach Steve Sebo is the 7th and latest Munn assistant to move up to a head coaching job.

Sebo has been signed by the University of Pennsylvania on a three-year contract.

It was the second shakeup in the MSC coaching setup within several weeks. Just a short while ago, Munn took the post of MSC athletic director and Hugh (Duffy) Daugherty was moved up to be head coach of the Spartans.

Other Munn assistants who have moved up to head coaching jobs include:

La Verne (Kip) Taylor, at Oregon State; Forrest Evashevski, at Iowa; Al Kircher, at Washington State; Lowell (Red) Dawson, at Pittsburgh, and Lou Zarza, at Wayne.

Other changes can be expected.

Sebo will be given a free hand at picking his assistants at Penn. "I'd like to take along some assistants from the Michigan State staff," Sebo said. "But I don't know what the situation is."

Rumors persist that end coach Earl Edwards also will be striking out on his own as a head coach. That would mean Daugherty would have to find a complete new set of assistants.

There is also a possibility that Freshman coach Danny Devine or assistant coaches Don Mason and Bob Devaney might be moved up to fill the varsity gaps.

Some of the three also could be hired away as assistants to Sebo or Edwards.

Everett (Sonny) Grandelius, former MSC halfback from Muskegon Heights, was a visitor to Michigan State over the weekend. Grandelius, who has been playing with the professional New York Giants, is a good bet for an assistant job under Daugherty.

Daugherty wished Sebo all kinds of luck in his new appointment but admitted: "This changes things considerably. Just when we will make the appointments I can't say now."

Challengers, Slickers Win Homeroom Tests

Challengers and City Slickers each won their 4th straight game in Homeroom basketball play at Washington Junior High School Saturday. Challengers, leaders in the 9th grade, routed the Five Wildmen, 55-8, while the Slickers, 8th grade leaders, edged the Floortrotters, 19-15.

Lakers and Mighty Mites share the 7th grade lead with 3-1 records.

Three Cage Leaders Face Tough Tasks This Week

By BEN OLAN
NEW YORK (AP)—Kentucky, Oklahoma A&M and Holy Cross face the stiffest tests among the nation's leaders this week as some of the other college basketball powers swing back into action after mid-year examinations.

Unbeaten Kentucky, ranked No. 1 in the latest Associated Press poll, takes on an improved Vanderbilt quintet Saturday night. Vandy is 10-3 and with the added advantage of home court conceivably could give the Wildcats trouble. The fifth-ranked Aggies meet Houston tonight in a return go. The Aggies won their earlier get-together by 15 points.

Holy Cross, No. 8, clashes with stubborn Niagara Friday night. Duquesne takes its 15-0 record into Wednesday night's game with Georgetown. Fourth-ranked Western Kentucky clashes with little Regis of Denver Friday night; Oklahoma City, No. 7, tackles Seattle tonight and tomorrow night; and Minnesota, No. 9, faces Purdue tonight.

Only eight of the 20 teams ranked in the last poll of sportswriters and sportscasters were in action Saturday night and three—Oklahoma City, Wichita, No. 11, and Niagara, No. 18, went down to defeats.

Oklahoma City's loss came at the hands of Wyoming and its tight defense, 57-38. Wichita (now 16-2) fell before a hot-and-cold St. Louis club 74-58, and Niagara dropped a 53-46 decision to Canisius.

Michigan Among 4 Big 10 Clubs in 7 Loop Tilts

CHICAGO (INS)—Big Ten Conference has released its completed 1954 football schedule showing that four teams will face seven conference opponents.

Iowa, Michigan, Ohio State and Wisconsin all meet seven teams which will give them a percentage over the others. Since conference teams rarely survive their schedules unscathed, the extra game could decide the Big Ten title as far as percentage is concerned.

Defending champions Michigan State and Illinois open the season Sept. 25 against Iowa and Penn State, respectively. MSC-Iowa battle may give an indication "of things to come" as both schools have a wealth of material available for the coming season.

Illini, which tied MSC with an identical 5-1 record last season, plays Stanford on the West coast, Oct. 2, and does not get into conference play until Oct. 9, against Ohio State at Champaign.

between 18 and 55, to prepare now for U.S. Civil Service jobs in and around Pontiac. During 1954 there will be 140 appointments to U.S. Government jobs in this area.

These will be jobs paying as high as $316 a month to start. They are better paid than the same kinds of jobs in private employment. Many of these jobs require little or no experience or specialized education.

BUT in order to get one of these jobs, you must pass a Civil Service test. The competition in these tests is intense. In some cases as few as one out of five applicants pass! Anything you can do to increase your chances of passing is well worth your while.

Franklin Institute is a privately owned firm which helps thousands pass these tests each year. The Institute is the largest and oldest organization of its kind and it is not connected with the Government.

To get full information free of charge on these Government jobs fill out and mail the coupon at once, today. The Institute will also show you how you can qualify yourself to pass these tests. Don't delay—act now!

WE SPENT APPROXIMATELY 3 years and a quarter of a million dollars developing our 100 per cent magnetic electronic product for business use. We started our national distribution program August 1, 1953. Since then our volume of sales was such as to cause us to double our manufacturing facilities. We own our own new and modern building. Our national advertising program is very effective. We are now ready to open in your area. THIS MEANS YOU CAN BE THE FIRST IN THE FOLLOWING CATEGORIES:

Men now in a successful business seeking other profitable ventures.

Men who have recently sold a successful business.

Fathers desiring to put their sons in a successful business of their own.

Men who are tired of working for the other fellow, and who have the courage to do something about it.

Retired business men who are tired of being retired.

Young men who desire to establish a business with future and security assured.

Middle aged men who are sick of being interviewed by men of lesser abilities.

Men of courage, foresight, diligence and intelligence.

If you are in any of these categories and have $5,000.00 working capital, an affiliation with our company may be possible. Tell us your response and we will give you the courtesy of a reply giving you full details.

Sketch of Berlin, Site for Parley:

War - Devastated City Will Show New Face to Big 4 Ministers

WASHINGTON — When the Big Four Foreign Ministers Council convenes in Berlin today, diplomats will find a city that is still only a sprawling skeleton of its former mighty self. They also will find surprising recovery from war's devastation.

In West Berlin industrial production has reached almost 70 per cent of the 1936 level. Over 11,000 homes have been built and 16,000 repaired. Another 11,000 dwellings are going up.

From the more than 70 million tons of rubble that clogged the streets, Berliners have constructed new office buildings, apartments, hotels, playgrounds and swimming pools.

Most heavily bombed of all German cities, Berlin was 40 per cent destroyed during World War II. Heaps of shattered masonry, steel and glass were piled 30 feet high. Thousands of buildings were left burned-out shells.

Berlin today is deep in the Soviet zone of Germany. The eastern half of the city is occupied by the Russians, the western half by American, British and French authorities. There have been frequent conflicts over the city's economic and political administration.

In 1948-49, a 322-day Russian blockade isolated West Berlin. The Western powers were forced to operate a gigantic airlift to supply food and fuel to the two million residents in the western sector.

Last summer disgruntled workmen rioted in East Berlin. Soviet tanks, troops and armored cars were called in to quell the uprisings. Martial law was declared. Some 1,500,000 people live in East Berlin.

In pre-war days the former German capital was the largest city on the European continent. Its 1940 population of 4,355,000 was surpassed only in London, New York and Tokyo. During the war almost two million residents abandoned their homes in this constantly attacked city.

At its wartime peak, nearly 200 of the leading factories of Germany, employing one-tenth of the nation's industrial workers, operated in Berlin. Huge plants turned out airplane engines, cables, ammunition, armaments and machine tools.

Electrical goods, clothing, optics and chemicals are today the leading products of West Berlin factories. Unemployment is at its lowest level in eight years.

Modern Berlin spreads over 341 square miles of a flat, open plain on the Spree River, a hundred miles from the Baltic Sea. Its site has been a natural crossroads for both trade and conquest since medieval times.

In early days it was an outpost of the militant religious order of the Teutonic Knights in campaigns to subjugate and convert the Slavs.

Later, as the capital of Brandenburg, Berlin was the nucleus of the expanding power of the Hohenzollern family.

Still later, Berlin became the capital of Prussia, and in 1871 it joined the front ranks of international cities as the government seat of the newly-formed German Empire. It soon grew into the nation's industrial and commercial center, as well as the hub of transport lines by air, highway, rail, river and canal.

Greenville Aids Koreans

GREENVILLE — An open letter to the people of Greenville asking for clothes for Korea has brought response from the First Methodist Church. Rev. Verner Kilgren is collecting the clothes. Lt. Alvin Howes, Greenville, of the U. S. Army, made the plea for the clothes.

Canada Chrysler Strike Settled by 9 Cent Raise

WINDSOR, Ont. (UP)—Production and office workers idled by a strike of 27 power house employees began returning in "progressive fashion" today to their jobs at Chrysler Corp. of Canada.

The one-week strike by power house employees was settled Saturday with a contract awarding them a 9-cent hourly pay increase and time and a half for Sunday work. Chrysler President E. C. Row said the contract will run 18 months.

The people of Greenland became citizens of Denmark during 1953.

Urges Drive to Bar Seating Red China

NEW YORK — Former President Herbert Hoover urges every American to join a petition campaign against seating Red China in the United Nations.

The campaign is being conducted by the Committee of One Million, which is headed by Warren R. Austin, formerly U. S. ambassador to the U. N. Hoover said in a statement yesterday that he has opposed recognition of Communist China by the United States and its seating in the U. N. "from the day the Communists conquered China four years ago."

"Any and every effort that we as Americans can make to prove to our friends overseas just where we, as a nation, stand, is of enormous value," he said.

The far-north Mackenzie District of Canada has 40 to 50 inches of snow a year, only about half that of the Canadian Great Lakes area.
