Bandit Pair Taken in Cape Cod Woods

MIDDLEBORO, Mass. (AP)— The Coyle brothers, object of Massachusetts' biggest manhunt, were captured today in woods about a half-mile from where they held up a liquor store Monday.

The brothers had fled Philadelphia after allegedly killing a policeman. They had kidnaped a hostage, William Sedgwick, 49, and drove to Massachusetts in his car.

Sedgwick escaped when the gunmen fled into the woods as they were surprised by police after the liquor store job.

Troopers gunned down William Coyle. He was taken to St. Luke's Hospital in serious condition.

Both brothers were heavily armed.

A posse of up to 400 men — state troopers, conservation officers, FBI agents and area police — had beaten through the woods since Monday morning.

Shortly before 9 a.m. today State Police received a call from Walter Schmidt of Union City, N.J., who was visiting his mother-in-law, Mrs. Victoria Canova, just off Route 28. The liquor store is just up the road.

In seconds a State Police car with two troopers in it stopped suddenly in the Canova yard.

State Trooper John Lacasse of New Bedford, one of the policemen who shot down young Coyle said:

"We walked in the woods there and I saw them crouched down in a thicket about 25 feet away. Trooper Paul Keatig, who was right beside me, yelled. They fired a shot or two at us then we fired back.

"The younger one was shot in the head. It was the older one who walked."

Lacasse took two revolvers from the wounded brother—one a .32 caliber nickel plated gun; the other a .32 caliber snub-nosed blue steel weapon.

Lacasse said a number of the troopers fired at the Coyle brothers with their service pistols — as he did — and some shots were fired from carbines.

"I was standing on Route 28 when the troopers carrying carbines at the ready went up to the Canova back door. They talked to Schmidt for a moment. Schmidt pointed to woods in back of the house — 50 yards away. The two

Pontiac Pushing Plymouth in '59 Production

Spring Sales Boom Continues Into June, Statistics Show

A spring spurt in sales of new American cars apparently is running into June, with production of Pontiacs continuing to boom.

As of June 13, 222,253 Pontiacs have rolled off the assembly lines, as against 227,780 Plymouths, with Pontiac holding fourth place in production. Plymouth is third.

For the week ending June 13, 10,805 Pontiacs were manufactured as compared to 10,477 the previous week.

Ward's Automotive Reports said yesterday 182,100 cars were sold in the first 10 days of June. The statistical service said this was the best start for any June since 1955 and the highest first 10-day figure since April 1-10, 1956.

★ ★ ★

The auto industry divides its months for sales purposes into 10-day sections.

2ND HIGHEST

Automotive News reported new car registrations for April—the latest official figures—as 573,777, second highest for the month in history.

Automotive News also estimated that dealers had almost 910,000 new American cars in stock on June 1, all-time record for the industry.

Much of this inventory has been built up as a hedge against a possible steel strike later this summer.

The same trade publication also said that used cars held by new car dealers have dropped to slightly more than a 28-day supply, lowest point for the year.

2 Guns Dismantled; Plane Unable to Fire

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two of the gun units in the Navy plane attacked by Communist jets had been dismantled and confusion in phone conversation among the crew resulted in failure to fire back with the third weapon, the Defense Department said today.

A statement was issued after President Eisenhower, top-ranking Congress members and other high government officials called for explanation of an initial report on the lack of return fire. That report quoted a crew member as saying missing parts were the cause.

LT. CMDR. MAYER

The plane was set upon over international waters of the Sea of Japan. One crewman was wounded.

The Pentagon said the new information was based on a preliminary report of an investigation order by Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, chief of naval operations.

The P4M Mercator plane originally was intended for anti-submarine warfare work, the statement said.

"Its normal armament, as an antisubmarine warfare plane, includes three pairs of guns — one pair of 20 millimeter guns mounted in the forward turret; the second pair in the tail turret, and a pair of 50-caliber guns mounted in a turret, atop the fuselage," the statement said.

PATROL MISSION

And because of this the forward turret, used only against surface targets, was deliberately rendered inoperable by utilizing the space for reconnaissance-type equipment.

For a similar reason, and to compensate for the weight of the additional equipment, the top turret had been removed.

"When the attack occurred, the pilot swung the plane away from the attacking migs in order to bring the tail turret to bear for defensive purposes.

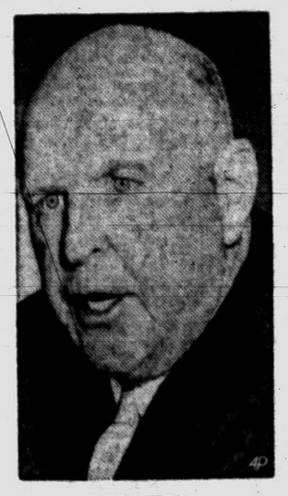

When the pilot and tail gunner attempted simultaneously to talk with each other over the plane's intercommunication system, they momentarily blocked each other out.

By the time that situation had cleared, the fire from the attacking planes had disabled the tail gunner's position and wounded the gunner."

The reference in the statement to installing "reconnaissance-type equipment" in two of the gun positions presumably ment to installing "reconnais- radar was mounted in those positions for the patrol operations of the plane.

Eisenhower said at his news conference he was greatly concerned over the reported inability to shoot back. He said he had asked the Navy for a complete report on the incident.

DAVE BECK

ROY FRUEHAUF

Area Trucking Magnate Cited in Union 'Loan'

Second Company Head Is Also Charged With Taft-Hartley Violation

Former Teamsters Union President Dave Beck and an Oakland County trucking magnate were among three persons indicted today by a federal grand jury in New York City.

Beck was charged with accepting $200,000 from the presidents of two trucking firms.

The other was Burg Seymour, president of the Associated Transport, Inc., New York. Seymour is a resident of Connecticut.

The trucking executives were alleged to have passed the money on to Beck on June 21, 1954. There was no immediate explanation as to the purpose of the alleged action.

The indictment itself did not specify the reason or the charge and U. S. Atty. S. Hazard Gillespie declined to elaborate.

The companies also were named as defendants, along with the Brown Equipment and Manufacturing Co., a subsidiary of Associated Transport.

If convicted, the individuals could receive a maximum sentence of a year in prison and a $10,000 fine each. Each of the companies could be fined $10,000.

Beck and the others were charged specifically with violations of Taft-Hartley Act provisions forbidding a union officer from accepting payments from Temperatures in the Pontiac area will average near normal for the next few days with the high in the upper 70's and the low near 60, the weatherman says.

The mercury will drop to 45-50 tonight but will climb to a high of 72-78 Thursday. Friday is expected to be fair with moderate temperatures.

Forty-eight was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The reading at 2 p.m. was 72.

Officials Sound Polio Warning

Present National Total of 532 Cases Tops '58 Toll by 151

A rising number of polio cases in Michigan has prompted local health authorities to urge immediate vaccinations as a precautionary measure against the disease.

"Polio is still with us, and will be for a long time," says E. J. Rollings, executive vice president of the Michigan Sister Kenny Foundation. "There were 381 cases of polio in the country at this time last year. Now there are 532."

Michigan had more than its share of the national total. At the end of 1958, 5,995 persons were struck by the crippling disease. Of these, 1,222 of them were Michigan victims.

This more than doubled the number of cases the previous year (1957) of 501 in Michigan.

Dr. John D. Monroe, Oakland County health director, urged those who do not have their shots to get them immediately.

"If you start now, you can get two of the three shots in to be effective by the most critical time of the year, the latter part of August and September. You will have at least some protection by these heaviest months."

The county health director said that through the schools a good percentage of children up to the age of 14 already have protection.

"But," he said, "50 per cent of the population from 14 to 40 probably doesn't have vaccine. These are the ones we're worried about."

Monroe said those wanting polio shots will have to get them from their private physicians.

"We don't have any vaccine now or any money to buy it with," he said. "The state ran out of appropriations for polio vaccine.

"We had requested $400,000 for this protection but the legislature hasn't done anything about it. It doesn't look like they will.

"We received aid from the state and federal government from 1954 to 1958. But there is no mass program here now."

Rollings also reprimanded the "overly optimistic wishful thinkers who began advocating the closing of polio facilities after

Grant Gromyko Delay on Berlin

Given Another 24 Hours to Answer Western Stopgap Proposal

GENEVA (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko today asked and got a 24-hour delay in giving his answer to a new Western plan for a Berlin stopgap settlement. This averted a breakdown in the foreign ministers meeting.

★ ★ ★

Western ministers agreed to the delay in the hope that Gromyko will negotiate on their proposal. It offered him a compromise, face-saving deal, which would open the way to a summit conference.

Under the Western Plan, it was disclosed, the Western powers declared their readiness to have German personnel operate checkpoints on the Berlin supply lines.

This is an offer to accept dealings with Communist East German authorities more or less as agents of the Soviet Union.

SURPRISE PROVISION

This appears to be one major surprise provision in the Western proposal. The plan was not released in textual form, but was summerized by Western spokesmen.

The West refused to recognize the East German regime. A major point in the current crisis is the Soviet threat to turn over to the East Germans control of the lines supplying the British, French and U.S. garrisons in West Berlin, 110 miles inside East Germany.

Legislature Set for New Battle

Conflict Looms on Aid to Schools and Size of Next Year's Budget

LANSING (AP)— New storm signals flew in the Legislature today warning of conflict ahead on the 1959-60 school aid issue, and accordingly over the size of next year's state budget.

They took the form of separate bills to continue the existing 4 per cent excise on liquor after June 30, and to renew a 1957 increase from three to five cents a package in the state cigarette tax.

The measures were introduced in the House late yesterday by the Ways and Means Committee. They evidenced waning hope that Senate and House can get together on a school aid formula by June 30.

GOP House leaders hoped the separate tax measures could be run through the Legislature without delay.

ANGRY, FRUSTRATED

Angry and frustrated, tax expert Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton) rolled up his sleeves today for another round in a so-far losing effort to help write a long-range tax program for Michigan.

The 55-year-old chairman of the House Taxation Committee is aiming for a flat rate income tax as the answer to Michigan's financial troubles. But he has few allies, even among his own party.

At Conlin's urging, the Republican use (sales) tax bill emerged from his committee yesterday and was ready for floor debate. Similar measures met defeat in the lower chamber twice before after clearing the Republican-run Senate.

Conlin, an outspoken foe of the tax increase, supported the bill solely in the expectation of sending it to an early death via the State Supreme Court. He contends the proposal is unconstitutional.

Gale Heads for Mexican Coastline

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—A big tropical storm with winds just short of hurricane force began moving toward the Mexican coast today south of the border city of Brownsville, Tex.

★ ★ ★

The New Orleans Weather Bureau warned that tropical storm Beulah could easily reach full hurricane force in its trip across the Gulf of Mexico.

It remained in one spot through the night and then began to drift northwestward at five to eight miles an hour today.

The Weather Bureau said its present speed and course would bring it slamming ashore on the upper Mexican coast late today.

A 9 a.m. (EDT) advisory said highest winds were about 65 miles an hour near the center of the storm which was located at that time about 200 miles south of Brownsville.

Scattered squalls with winds of about 35 miles per hour extended east and northeast into the middle Gulf of Mexico.

A Job for Johnson

GREENSBORO, N. C. (UPI)—Harold Edgar Johnson became manager of the local store of a shoe chain this week, replacing Ray Johnson who was transferred to the Washington store. Harold Edward Johnson had been transferred a few days earlier from Greensboro to Philadelphia.

Rep. Rabout Taken to Bethesda Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Louis C. Rabaut (D-Mich) became ill in his office today and was removed to the Capitol physician's office on a stretcher. Aides of the congressman said he had complained "I just don't feel good."

Rabaut was taken to Bethesda Naval Hospital today after becoming ill. Aides later reported hospital authorities found nothing wrong with him.

Rabaut's aides said he would remain in the hospital for a couple of days as a precautionary measure and for further tests.

Rabaut, 64, suffered a heart attack about six years ago. An aide said today's illness and had nothing to do with the previous illness.

Rabaut complained that "I just don't feel good," but did not lose consciousness, an assistant said.

Detroit Teenager Admits Knife Slaying of Woman

DETROIT (AP)—A husky teenager who boasted to police that he "has a way with women" was held today in the fatal knifing of an attractive mother of two who he said resisted his advances.

Louis Roberts, 15, admitted to officers yesterday that he stabbed Mrs. Patricia Jean Cioffi, 27, after accosting her May 21 on a dark street less than two blocks from her home on Detroit's near North Side.

Police said the youth, a six-footer, also told of 20 criminal assaults on other women in the neighborhood over the past two years. The once-fashionable district is made up of white and Negro residents.

"It doesn't bother me very much," the boy told detectives as he calmly sipped coffee after admitted the slaying.

RELEASED EARLIER

Roberts was picked up two weeks ago in the Cioffi killing. He was released, but in sifting suspects and their reactions yesterday, police decided to question Roberts again. A lie detector test had proved inconclusive on his first visit.

★ ★ ★

After his shoes were compared with impressions found in a flower bed near the slaying scene, police detectives John Rozek and Oliver Rowell said the youth confessed he killed the woman.

Roberts was held at Juvenile Detention Home to await a decision by authorities on whether they'll ask waivers to permit his trial as an adult. He currently is held without charge for investigation.

Roberts said he stalked out of his nearby home (near Second and Taylor) the night of May 21, after an argument over supper dishwashing.

Detectives quoted him as saying he saw Mrs. Cioffi, employe of a Detroit record shop, and asked her for a cigarette, advancing then and backing her against a tree.

Police quoted Roberts as saying he then kissed Mrs. Cioffi.

'BEGAN TO SCREAM'

Said Roberts:

"A lady leaned out a window of a house and called, 'Do you need any help down there,' and she (Mrs. Cioffi) began to scream.

"I pulled a pocket knife out of my pants and cut her. Then I ran between houses and through an alley and got home."

Mrs. Cioffi stumbled onto a lawn and fell dead of a three-inch deep wound in her left chest. It was her habit to take nightly walks.

He was expelled from junior high school two days after the slaying for threatening to strike a teacher. Police said he had a record of consistent misconduct in school.

Estimate U.S. Population Now Over 177 Million

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Commerce Department estimates that the U.S. population has passed the 177 million mark.

The clock in the lobby of the Commerce Department building posted that figure at 3:11 p.m. EDT yesterday. The clock shows an increase of one person every 11 seconds and, although naturally not perfectly accurate, it keeps close tabs on the population increase on a scale based on statistics.

The department expects the 1960 census to show 180 million population.

Legality Doubted, Fast OK Opposed

City Adopts Dust Controls

Despite doubts about its legality, an ambitious dust control program was adopted on an emergency basis by the City Commission last night.

Under the ordinance, the city has powers to enforce dust control on private parking lots.

At the same time, commissioners approved a $2,500 program to treat city alleys with dust control applications this summer.

The joint effort will be aimed at minimizing the amount of dust stirred up by cars and wind during the dry summer months.

PASSES 5 TO 2

The ordinance passed by a 5 to 2 vote, with Commissioners Milton R. Henry and Robert A. Landry dissenting.

Henry questioned the legality of the ordinance and Landry objected to its being pushed through on an emergency basis.

The law allows the city to order property owners to spread dust control applications, such as chloride solutions, on parking lots whenever the amount of flying dust becomes a public nuisance.

It lets the city step in and treat the lots, if necessary, billing property owners for the cost, with the added power of collecting the bills through special assessments.

At issue was the manner in which the city will determine when a dust situation becomes a public nuisance.

'NEED STANDARDS'

Henry, an attorney, said that specific standards about what constitutes a dust nuisance should also be included.

"If the standards exist only in the city manager's mind, how will the people know when they are in violation or not?" queried Henry, who predicted the law would be challenged in court as illegal.

Mayor Philip E. Rowston, the other attorney on the Commission, tentatively agreed that "perhaps" the law should be more definite. But he voted to adopt it anyway.

"Somebody has to decide when the nuisance exists," he said.

"Why couldn't we include a provision about measuring the dust, to determine if it is harmful or not?" asked Henry.

"I know of no way to measure dust flying around in the air," retorted Ewart.

"Maybe there is a way. That's why we shouldn't push these ordinances through on a moment's notice," complained Landry. Normally, it takes the Commission one or two weeks to pass a new law.

Commissioner John A. Dugan proposed the law last night as a means to settle complaints about flying dust from a commercial parking lot in his district.

On Commissioner William W. Donaldson's suggestion, the law was extended to cover not only commercial lots, but all parking lots operated in Pontiac, except those covered by a separate ordinance governing licensed parking lots.

Dugan doubted anyone would fight the law in court.

"I'm sure 98 per cent of the people will cooperate with us. Anyway, a court fight would be too costly considering the low cost of putting a dust application down."

Landry said passing a new law the same night it is first proposed was "a dangerous precedent."

WANTS DISCUSSION

"I object to passing a law without first having a chance to take it back to the people in my district for discussion," said Landry.

Both Landry and Henry said they approved, in principle, a dust control program.

Today's two-count indictment here was extremely rare in one respect. It was one of the shortest ever seen. It was scarcely more than a page long and consisted merely of the formal charge against the trio without elaboration of any kind.

The indictment is unusual as it names the payer as well as the receiver.

The indictment said that on or about June 21, 1954 in New York, the individuals and their companies engaged in an industry affecting commerce and did unlawfully pay Dave Beck, then head of the Teamsters, $200,000.

On the same day, Beck was accused of taking the money.

All are scheduled to plead to the indictment on June 24. Conviction carries a fine of $10,000 and one year in prison for the individuals.

The indictment apparently followed the appearance of these individuals before the McClellan Committee in May 1957 on improper activities in labor or management field. In his appearance before the committee, Beck invoked the Fifth Amendment even when asked to identify Dave Beck Jr., his son.

In a similar appearance Fruehauf and Seymour admitted jointly making a $200,000 payment to Beck on the day named in the indictment. However, both men claimed then, that at no time had they asked or were they told why Beck wanted the money.

Beck, 64, a millionaire who is receiving a $50,000 pension from the Teamsters Union, already is under sentence in two other cases.

Earlier this year he was given a five-year prison term and a $60,000 fine in a Federal Court at Tacoma, Wash., for evasion of $240,000 in federal income taxes.

He was convicted in Washington in 1958 of embezzling $1,900 from the sale of a union-owned automobile. He was sentenced to a maximum of 15 years in prison.

Both sentences are under appeal.

Seymour, named as one of the trucking firm heads who paid the money to Beck, said "I don't know a thing about this. I just heard about it five minutes ago."

He said that he had testified before the Senate Labor-Investigating Committee, headed by Sen. John McClelland (D-Ark), and added:

"But it didn't involve any payoffs to Beck."

Asked specifically about the $200,000 mentioned in the indictment, he said, "Oh, that was a loan which Fruehauf made to Beck and which Beck repaid with interest, with more than interest. It's all on the record."

He said that the loan was "all negotiated through Fruehauf," but that he helped put up the money "as an accommodation."

Asked why such a loan would be made to Beck, he said it was because "Fruehauf had borrowed some money from Beck when he (Fruehauf) was in a proxy fight and needed it."

So Fruehauf was willing to return the favor when Beck needed a loan, Seymour added.

In Detroit Fruehauf's office said he was out of the city and would not say where.

The company once operated a 90-acre plant in Drayton Plains on Williams Lake road, southwest of Dixie highway.

Liberace Awarded $22,400 in Suit

LONDON (AP)—A high court jury awarded American entertainer Liberace 8,000 pounds—$22,400—damages today in a libel suit against the London Daily Mirror.

The jurors—10 men and 2 women—decided after 3½ hours of deliberation that a story in 1956 by Mirror columnist William N. Connor implied that the pianist was a homosexual.

The implication was untrue, the jury held, and the phraseology used by Connor in the column was not fair comment, as claimed by the Mirror.

Liberace insisted the column said plainly that he was something less than a man.

Missing Woman Said in Chicago

Phone Tip Received by Redford Policeman Will Be Checked

The latest lead in the search for a missing Redford Township mother who disappeared from her home Sunday came via a telephone call received early this morning by an off-duty township patrolman.

The anonymous tipster said Mrs. William Ross of 27223 W. Seven Mile Rd. was in Chicago with her husband. The call was received by Officer Jerry Wertman at his home.

Mrs. Ross, who is 33 and the mother of seven children, left Sunday morning, saying she was going to mail a letter. When she failed to return that night, her husband returned to Chicago where he works as a butcher.

Police said they doubt the story about Mrs. Ross being with her husband but are planning to check it out today. Meanwhile, the search for the missing woman continues.

Mrs. Ross was wearing a white blouse, green shorts and sandals when she left. Her mother, Mrs. Edith Kocia, of 44244 W. 12 Mile Rd., Walled Lake, orginally reported her daughter missing. She is taking care of the Ross' children who range in age from 15 months to 17 years.

Detective Edwin Gleza said Mrs. Ross' husband left his wife and children six months ago to work in Chicago. He returned home last weekend and asked his wife to go back with him. She refused, her mother told police.

NEW FLUORIDATION EQUIPMENT—Because of the success of last year's topical fluoride treatment program in Waterford Township, Parent-Teacher Associations which sponsored the project, were able to purchase one complete set of portable dental equipment for $1,000. Mrs. John Hoke, co-ordinator of the program, is shown presenting the new equipment to Supt. of Schools William A. Shunck. This year's program is now under way at the Schoolcraft School, with more than 1,400 pupils registered for it.

'He Lifted Gun' and Pilot Turned Toward Miami

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—"I was in the front, near the pilot's station, when I heard someone talking rough in Spanish," said Gabriel Hajian.

Hajian was describing the flight of 30 terrified passengers, including several Americans, on a hijacked Cubana Airlines plane Tuesday night.

"He talked like a crazy man—fast, fast. He kept mentioning Miami to the pilot. At first the pilot shook his head, but the man put the gun close to the pilot's head. Then the pilot turned and banked the plane and the man with the gun smiled."

Women sat terrified, their hands over their eyes, during most of the 75-minute flight from Havana with the six soldiers from former Cuban President Fulgencio Batista's army in command, Hajian said.

Hajian, 26, an engineer from New Haven, Conn., said the leader, identified as Lt. Maurillo Francisco Marques-Lopez, 20, from Camaguey, kept waving the gun and looking around as if he expected someone to shoot him.

"But the closer we got to Miami—or I guess it was the farther away we got from Cuba—the calmer he got," Hajian added.

Names of other Americans aboard were unavailable.

When the plane landed at Miami International Airport, Marquez-Lopez and five others asked political asylum.

They were the third group of Cubans to hijack a plane and flee Cuba since the Batista government fell on Jan. 1.

Pea Picker Gets Bored

JOLIET, Ill. (UPI)—Prisoner Joseph Alexander, 28, climbed to the top of an 80-foot water tower in Stateville Penitentiary yesterday and sat down. He came down several hours later and said he'd just got tired of picking peas on his work detail.

Says He'll Leave Today

Long Tells of Departure

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)— Gov. Earl K. Long of Louisiana yelled to newsmen today he would leave Galveston for New Orleans at 11 a.m. accompanied by his wife and two other persons.

The governor shouted to newsmen from his second floor hospital room: "My wife, my secretary and my sister will be here at 11 o'clock. They're going to take me to Ochsner Clinic in New Orleans."

But Long's attending physician, who asked not to be identified, denied any report of Long's having a heart attack while in Galveston.

"He has had no heart attack here at all," the doctor said. "His illness has been somewhat of a strain on his heart. But his heart is not in any serious condition."

The doctor said Long should continue rest and treatment for the buildup of his general health. The doctor said, "we expect him to recover."

FAMILY PETITION

To win release, his family has to withdraw its commitment petition from Judge Hugh Gibson's Probate Court.

The light in Long's second-story room was the only one on during most of the night. The governor slept from midnight to 4 a.m.

At 6 a.m. he waved to newsmen who kept an all-night vigil outside the hospital because of reports he might leave during the night.

Long, resisting treatment in John Sealy Hospital in Galveston, said he would consent to treatment in Louisiana if released. His agreement apparently started the move to have him released.

STATUS UNCERTAIN

Louisiana Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion said Long could return to Louisiana without actually taking over as governor.

Gremillion said the law says Lt. Gov. Lether Frazar may act as governor "in the case of inability of the governor to act for any cause."

But Gremillion wouldn't answer what would happen if Long suddenly decided to use his office authority on returning.

Sen. Russell Long (D-La), the governor's nephew, told The Associated Press Gov. Long had agreed to accept treatment in Louisiana.

Gives Polio Warning as Case Count Rises

The criticism came in the wake of the discontinuation of government aid for vaccine and the closing of the Sister Kenny organization's in-patient hospital facilities.

According to Rollings, four factors spell the threat of possible polio outbreaks for many years to come.

"The duration of immunity afforded by Salk vaccine has not yet been determined," he says. "Unless booster shots are made available, many who think they are protected may not be.

"Unless this booster program is carried out in free clinics, we will build up another epidemic potential among those unable to pay.

"Dr. Salk only claimed 80 to 90 per cent effectiveness for the vaccine. This differential applied to an area as large as Oakland County represents a grave danger.

"True, pediatricians are advocating polio shots along with whooping cough, tetanus and diphtheria, but this does not solve the problem of large families in the very low income bracket.

"Lastly, we have shifting populations in large industrial cities. Thousands of these families will move away and other unprotected thousands will replace them."

Brothers Are Captured in Massachusetts Woods

troopers headed into the brush leading into the woods.

"I went over to the Canova house and asked Schmidt what was up. Schmidt said he was eating breakfast when he saw a young fellow with a blue plaid jacket crawling on his hands and knees along a path in the bushes. First Schmidt thought it was the kid next door. Then he realized it wasn't and called the police.

"While I was talking to Schmidt a half-dozen State Police cruiser cars came at high speed, swirled into the yard and unloaded about 25 troopers armed with carbines and pistols.

"They spread out and advanced into the woods. I stayed on the porch and watched.

"Then I heard a voice yelling and a fusillade of shots. There were more shouts and a trooper in the woods yelled: 'Toward the road, toward the road.'

"A couple of the troopers who were nearest to the road ran out onto it. Their pistols were in their hands and they crouched down as they moved back into the woods. Other troopers with carbines spread out along the road.

"Then a trooper came running back out of the woods, opened the cruiser car radio and told headquarters 'We got them. Get a doctor.'"

The brothers originally were wanted for holding up a supermarket on Cape Cod last December.

On June 5 while he was patrolling his beat in North Philadelphia, officer James Kane was shot down by five bullets.

Police learned the Coyles had an apartment nearby. In it they found many milk bottles which had been stolen from steps in the neighborhood.

The next day the brothers met Sedgwick, pointed a gun at him and forced him to enter his own car.

They drove to Middleboro and spent most of the time in the woods with which they were familiar. William Coyle had once served in the Air Force on Cape Cod. His brother has lived here for several weeks to be near him.

The brothers have been indicted for Kane's murder. They also were charged with kidnaping. A conviction on either count could bring a death sentence.

The boys were born in Philadelphia. They are orphans. Today is the first time they ever were arrested.

The Day in Birmingham

Area Police Nab Suspect, Hunt Another in Holdup

BIRMINGHAM — One suspect was in custody and another was being sought as Bloomfield Township police investigated an armed robbery this morning.

In Oakland County Jail is Richard Eastham, 19, of 474 Oakland Ave., Pontiac. He is being held in connection with the 2:30 a.m. holdup of John R. McAlvey, 29, who lives at the Roosevelt Hotel in Pontiac.

Police are seeking Eastham's brother, David, 24, of the Oakland address. Richard Eastham was taken into custody at 5 a.m. when he appeared as police were investigating an automobile left at the scene of the robbery.

The abandoned car, a 1957 Oldsmobile traced to a Pontiac woman, had been loaned to David Eastham. In the back seat police found a shotgun, a blackjack, mask and a small hand gun.

McAlevy told police he was accosted at 2:20 a.m. as he left the Jet Bar on Woodward avenue at South boulevard in Pontiac, by a lone bandit with a sawed-off shotgun.

★ ★ ★

The victim was forced to drive his own car to the corner of Bloomfield boulevard and Traymore road, where the first bandit was joined by an accomplice driving the later-abandoned car. McAlvey was forced to surrender his wallet and about $70 in cash.

At that point the trio was surprised by Bloomfield Township police officer Norman Stites, driving on routine patrol.

Forcing the victim to drive, the two bandits fled in McAlevy's car. Officer Stites took up the chase and was joined by cars from the Oakland County Sheriff's and the Bloomfield Hills Police Departments.

Police then returned to the scene of the robbery to investigate the abandoned car, where they nabbed Richard Eastham two hours later.

Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills high school seniors will don caps and gowns tomorrow and participate in commencement exercises at the two schools.

The Birmingham ceremonies are scheduled for 10 a.m. at the high school. Diplomas will go to 492 Birmingham graduates.

Boater Draws Jail, $100 Fine

West Bloomfield Justice Announces Crackdown on Reckless Operators

West Bloomfield Township Justice Elmer C. Dieterle yesterday let it be known that there'll be no reckless boating permitted on Oakland County lakes, as he sentenced a Detroit man to five days in jail, took away his boat driving privileges for two years, and fined him $100.

"We're going to crack down on these reckless drivers in cooperation with the sheriff's office," said Justice Dieterle.

Richardson, along with a companion, Donald D. Strane, 26, of 15660 Glastonbury St., also of Detroit, nearly swamped the boat of a fisherman on Cass Lake June 4 after already having been ticketed for operating their 17½-foot inboard motorboat in a restricted area.

The fisherman, Otto Mehrkamper, of 2168 Willow Beach Ave., Keego Harbor, told sheriff deputies Richardson drove the boat so close to his that it sprayed water into his boat.

Mehrkamper said he became so angry he tossed a hammer at Strane's boat, which Richardson was driving, striking the rear of it. After an exchange of angry words, Mehrkamper said their boat twice again nearly hit his as he rowed to safety.

Area Businessman Is Buried Today

C. Stanley Johnson, a West Bloomfield Township sales executive, was buried this afternoon in Webberville following service at Kirk In the Hills.

Johnson, 41, died Sunday in Wayne County Hospital of injuries suffered in an auto accident Thursday.

Another Flying Object Sighted Over Nevada

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—An unidentified flying object—visible to the naked eye but not to radar—streaked across Nevada skies Tuesday night.

It was the third mysterious sighting in three weeks.

The Air Force said none of the objects sighted could have been planes.

Papers' Publishers Defend Low Rates

WASHINGTON (AP) — Low teletypewriter rates for the press are justified because of the small profit margins of most newspapers, the American Newspaper Publishers Assn. contends.

★ ★ ★

In testimony before the Federal Communications Commission, that argument was made yesterday by Cranston Williams, general manager of the ANPA.

He opposed an increase in rates requested by the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. and Western Union for private line teletypewriter service.

The FCC granted a temporary increase of 15 to 20 per cent last December and is now deciding whether to make it permanent.

Williams said private line communications are essential to the newspaper's job of keeping the public informed.

He said newspapers should get a special rate even if the cost of providing service was no different than it is for other customers.

He said a survey by the magazine Editor and Publisher showed the average profit margin for newspapers in 1957 was 4.44 per cent, the smallest margin since 1945.

Somoza Fears New Invasions

Reports Two Groups Poised for Attack in Honduras, Costa Rica

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP)—New invasion threats from two directions were reported Tuesday night by President Luis Somoza, whose government has just finished off a group of rebels that invaded Nicaragua two weeks ago.

The 37-year-old president, whose family has ruled this Central American republic for 23 years, said one new set of invaders is based in Honduras and consists of about 50 men.

He was not certain whether it had actually crossed Nicaragua's northern border and sent units of his well trained army to check.

The other group is getting ready to strike with about 200 men from neighboring Costa Rica, probably in about two weeks, Somoza said.

He said the Honduras-based Rafael Somarriba, a Nicaraguan group is under the command of National Guard lieutenant 10 years ago. Somoza charged it was formed and trained in Cuba of mercenaries from several Caribbean countries.

He claimed both groups contain members of the Caribbean Legion, an outfit purportedly dedicated to the overthrow of dictatorships. The contingent in Honduras, he charged, is financed by Communists and armed by Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government.

Somoza said the Costa Rican group is at Santa Elena Bay, near the border of Nicaragua. He charged that force is backed by Marcial Aguiluz, a Costa Rican congressman.

Costa Rica was the base for the rebels who invaded Nicaragua earlier this month. The president said one member of that force had been killed and 105 captured. Four are unaccounted for.

The first invasion, backed by a Liberal-Conservative coalition of Nicaraguan exiles, is being investigated by a commission from the Organization of American States.

Demonstrators hurled garbage at the mission's hotel headquarters in Tegucigalpa, Honduras, Tuesday and accused it of intervening in Nicaragua's internal affairs.

Benson Ford Predicts 6 Million Cars in '59

NEW YORK (AP)—Prospects for the motor car industry this year are very good, Benson Ford, vice president of the Ford Motor Co., said yesterday.

He said business was running well ahead of last year and predicted this would be a six-million-car-year for the industry.

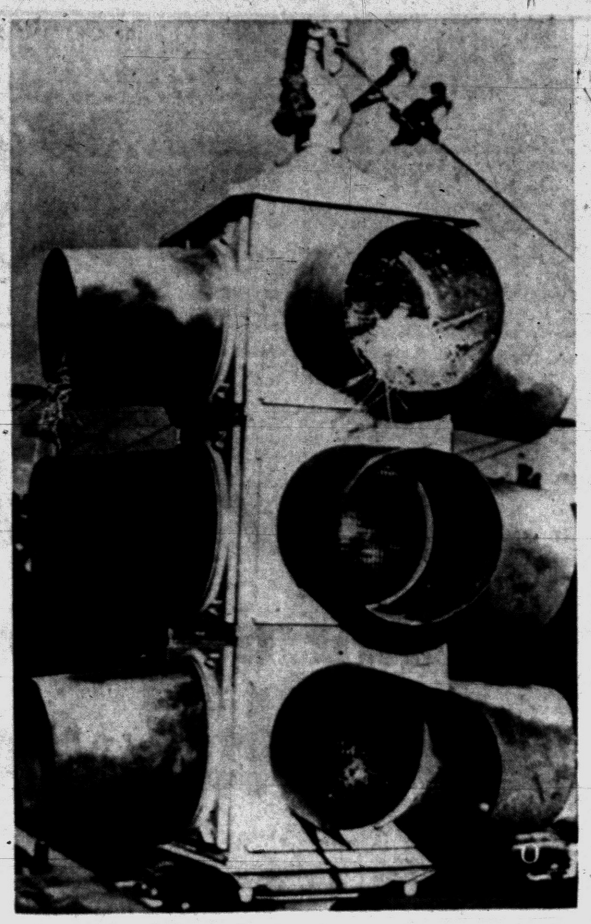

He said the price and appearance of the small car his company plans to bring out this fall were secret.

He and his wife were among the 1,309 passengers arriving on the liner Queen Mary.

May Not Live to Keep West Point Appointment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert Childress, 7, of Durham, N.C. has an appointment to West Point. His mother is afraid he may not live long enough to accept it.

The boy's congressman, Rep. Carl T. Durham (D-NC), reserved the appointment after he was advised Robert has a kidney ailment the doctors fear they can't cure.

"This thing will cheer him up," said Durham.

Seven presidents of the United States were born in Ohio.

Norstad in Bavaria

MUNICH, Germany (UPI)—Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme NATO commander, arrived here yesterday for a two-day visit as guest of the Bavarian state government.

Hawaii has just completed its greatest four-year period of population growth—from 481,000 July 1, 1954, to 582,000 last July 1. Virtually the entire increase wes registered by Oahu Island. Military personnel were not included in the count; if they had been, Oahu's population would total more than 500,000.

Estimate 10 Million to Tour State This Year

LANSING (AP)—For the first time, Michigan may play host to more than 10 million tourists this year, the State Tourist Council said.

If so, they'll probably set cash registers whirring to the tune of 675 million dollars, also a record.

Predictions for a good tourist season were based on an 8 per cent increase in queries and requests for travel literature sent to the council, said Robert J. Furlong, the council's executive secretary.

A growing population, a steadily improving highway system, rising employment and more leisure time all contribute to rosy prospects, Furlong said.

"But, of course, much hinges on what kind of weather we have this summer," he said.

Closing of most public school systems for the summer last week started the 1959 summer tourist season in earnest. About half the travelers will come from Michigan and about half from other states.

The tourist industry, which ranks with agriculture as the second largest in the state, is ready for the surge of customers. Dr. Robert McIntosh, tourist and resort specialist at Michigan State University, reported the tourist-serving businesses have spent about three million dollars this year on improvements and new construction.

In 1958 France shipped to the United States 2,525,000 bottles of champagne.

Ugly Duckling Myth, Except Maybe as Teens

ST. LOUIS (AP)—That old story about the ugly duckling is a slander, believes bird curator Henry Sanders of the St. Louis Zoo.

Looking over three week-old black swans at the zoo, Sanders said they have bright eyes, pearl-gray down, and beaks as shiny as patent leather.

"Swans go through a teenage period, when they do not look like much," he said, "but who doesn't?"

Next German President May Be Farmer-Politico

By United Press International

Heinrich Luebke, 64, will run for the office as the candidate of Gemany's majority Christian Democratic party. If he replaces Dr. Theodore Heuss as president, he will have climed a long way from Hitler's jails.

He has risen far already, and now holds the post of West German minister of agriculture. But the presidency would throw him into the limelight as never before.

Luebke holds a deep love of the land. Born in Enckhausen, Westphalia, on Oct. 14, 1894, he studied agriculture until World War I put him in uniform. The war also made a politician of him.

Luebke turned to political economy, and specialized in agrarian policies. He believed that the abundance of independent farmers' organizations was harmful to agricultural planning, and therefore took the initiative in setting up the combined German Farmers Federation.

Luebke's interest in politics as well as agriculture took him into the Center Party, a Catholic party important at that time.

In 1931, he was elected that party's delegate to the Prussian Parliament. But then came Hitler.

Luebke was dismissed from office and several times was imprisoned during the Hitler regime. Freed in 1937, he settled down in a job with a Berlin construction firm.

After World War II, Luebke joined the Christian Democratic Party and became a member of the North Rhine-Westphalian Parliament.

Politics again entered the picture in 1953, however, and he was elected and MP again.

HEINRICH LUEBKE

On Oct. 20, 1953, he was appointed federal minister for food agriculture and forests, a post he has held since.

In his position as minister, Luebke has fought to keep Germany's agriculture competitive with industry.

Despite this, Luebke remained unpopular with farmers, and in 1957 the Farmers Federation asked Chancellor Konrad Adenauer not to keep Luebke on as agriculture minister. Adenauer ignored this intervention.

Gov. Long's Case Poses a Question on Presidency

WASHINGTON (AP)—The mental problems of Gov. Earl K. Long of Louisiana—and his insistence he doesn't belong in an asylum—turn a chilling spotlight on a far bigger but still unanswered question affecting the whole country.

How could a vice president of the United States take over from a president who became too physically or mentally disabled to carry out his duties but could not or would not admit it?

The Constitution isn't clear. The question has never been answered. In fact, Congress throughout American history has begged the question. President Eisenhower has asked Congress to provide an answer. So far it has ducked.

Long's family had him flown out of Louisiana by plane to a mental hospital in Galveston, Tex.—he says he was drugged and kidnaped—and the lieutenant governor took over, signing bills and otherwise acting as governor.

Now Long is fighting to get back inside Louisiana. If he does—even to enter a hospital—and then asserts himself as governor, who is governor: Long or the lieutenant governor? Under Louisiana law, the lieutenant governor can act only when the governor is outside the state.

But suppose a president became deranged—perhaps only slightly—but could not or would not admit it. How then could the vice president take over? Even when the president is out of the country he still is the president, and no one is authorized to step into his place.

No legal, fool-proof way has been produced yet to shove a president aside, no matter what the circumstances.

This is all the Constitution says: "In case of the removal of the president from office, or of his death, resignation, or inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office, the same shall devolve on the vice president (but the Constitution doesn't say how or who decides on presidential disability) and the Congress may by law provide for the removal, death, resignation or inability, both of the president and vice president, declaring what officer shall then act as president, and such officer shall act accordingly, until the disability be removed (the Constitution doesn't say who decides this), or a president shall be elected."

So, although the Constitution clearly says Congress can lay down the method for getting a disabled president out of the White House, Congress has never done so.

The idea that Congress by a simple law could give the answer has been challenged, and on pretty good grounds: that if a vice president succeeded the president by simple act of Congress, it could be protested as unconstitutional and taken to the courts where it might face a long fight.

One way out of the dilemma would be for Congress to propose a constitutional amendment — requiring approval of two-thirds of House and Senate and three-fourths of the states — which would be far more binding than a law passed by Congress.

A Senate subcommittee has unanimously approved such an amendment — which has backing from both Eisenhower and some Democrats and Republicans. Whether it will get action in Congress this year is very uncertain.

Meanwhile, Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon made an agreement between themselves on what to do in case of Eisenhower disability. But it was based on mutual trust between these two men and has no binding effect on any future president or vice president.

For just that reason it is only a stop-gap device. Its legality has been questioned and would probably be challenged in court if it ever went into effect.

Under the agreement Nixon will decide whether Eisenhower — if unable to speak for himself — is too disabled to act as president. Then Nixon will act for him. The word act in this is important.

Nixon won't take the oath of office as president. He will not become president. He will turn the job back to Eisenhower if the latter recovers. Eisenhower, not Nixon, will decide whether the president's disability has ended.

But suppose, when Eisenhower thought his disability was over, Nixon didn't. What then? No answer.

When this agreement was announced March 3, 1958, Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, leader of the House Democrats, became critical at once. He argued that a vice president who attempted to carry out the president's duties must take the oath of office as president and, once he has done so, the elected but ailing president is out of office.

The then Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell insisted the Eisenhower-Nixon agreement was constitutional. But the immediate dispute over its legality was a clear warning of trouble ahead if Nixon ever did take over under this agreement.

The Senate subcommittee's proposed constitutional amendment would bring the president's cabinet into the act in deciding whether he was too disabled to carry out his duties — if he couldn't or wouldn't do it himself — and then Congress would have a hand in deciding whether his disability was over, if he thought it was but the vice president disagreed.

New Court Lineup May Renew Public Respect

A new lineup seems to have emerged on the Supreme Court. It's about time our high court formed a new team. Many of their decisions in recent years have been weak and lacking in strength.

The voting record before this switch had been charged many times with its trend to help Communists and criminals. There were strong doubts concerning the validity of some of the decisions avoiding convictions.

The dignity of the black robes was suffering. Public respect for the judiciary was lacking. Indications are that the new lineup of conservatives will change all this.

As recent as June 8, the five man majority upheld convictions for refusing to answer questions by the House Un-American Activities Committee and a State Communist-hunting group in New Hampshire.

★ ★ ★

Two years ago this probably would not have been true and as a result a public furor would have been created. This high court is justified in expecting respect, but it will only get it if it upholds convictions of questionable Communist characters.

Insurance Experiment Rewards Safe Drivers

A noble experiment by an insurance company will start rewarding careful drivers by putting a premium on traffic safety. The safe drivers will pay lower rates than drivers with poor records who will get higher rates.

★ ★ ★

This seems to make sense since the careless and negligent motorists would be paying for their mistakes. This is as it should be. Why penalize all drivers for the few hotrods that fail to use common sense in their driving habits?

★ ★ ★

Nebraska is the first of four Midwest states to put this into practice. Should it be a success, it is entirely possible that it might be applied to the whole country.

★ ★ ★

It would serve two practical purposes: one, helping all traffic safety campaigns; two, easing our own insurance premiums.

Over the long haul the motoring public would benefit.

We Must Not Let Latin America Drift Away

Latin America, including the Caribbean, is one boiling mass of discontents just 13 months after Vice President NIXON's riot-filled tour. Hardly a country is exempted.

★ ★ ★

From this distance democracy and dictatorship alike are on the knife's edge. Wild mobs, many times composed of college students, roam the streets, lashing angrily and blindly at the status quo.

Responsible observers report a marked stepping up of Communist efforts to capture some of these malcontents. The economic troubles are made to order for the Commies.

Meanwhile in nearly a dozen countries, recently installed leaders are fighting for time to achieve social and economic reforms essential to stability. It does not seem sensible to sit idly by and let the Communists make inroad after inroad in these nearby countries.

★ ★ ★

How it will turn out no one can say. However, A. A. Berle Jr., former assistant secretary of state, warns, "Latin America will be setting its direction in the next couple of years — with Washington if it can, without Washington, if it must."

★ ★ ★

If we let Latin America drift away, it will be to the detriment of the peoples of the hemisphere as a whole.

"MILADY'S waistline will be back in normal position this year," says a dress designer. Maybe so—if, after all these years of shifting the waistline up, down and catercornered, anybody knows where normal position is.

"T' Put It Another Way — Muscle"

David Lawrence Says:

West Must Press the Cold War

WASHINGTON — If the Soviets will not make any international agreements to ease tension in the world, and since nobody wants a war over West Berlin or anything else, what is the alternative policy that can be pursued by the West?

LAWRENCE

This question is often asked, but barely answered. One reason is that the Western governments have never agreed among themselves as to what they can do when the Soviets become intransigent and domineering.

The only alternative policy really available to the Allies today is to press the "cold war" on every front. This is the kind of pressure that the Soviets would understand, because it could throw a monkey wrench into their own domestic situation. Due to the indifference of the Western Allies toward what has been going on inside Russia, the Kremlin has had relatively little to worry about from the outside.

But there are some serious weaknesses in the position of the Soviet government with respect to its own people. For one thing, an enormous amount of money is being spent outside the Soviet Union for political purposes. This is not benefiting the Soviet people.

The funds are being taken from the Soviet people, whose lot would be immeasurably improved if some of the money expended in Latin America, the Middle East and Asia to stir up trouble in those areas could be used instead to help improve the standard of living inside the Soviet Union.

There are, moreover, some underdeveloped areas within the Soviet domain where poverty is extensive. When will the Allies begin talking to the Soviet people about the huge expense of the "cold war" that is being incurred by the rulers in the Kremlin in their quest for power and world domination?

Also, the Western Allies have been timid about expressing themselves concerning the dangers of a nuclear war brought on by Soviet miscalculation. The Soviets have managed by their propaganda to make it appear that they themselves are pacifically inclined, while the West is eager for war. The Soviet people need to be told that the Khrushchev policies have increased tension and that the Geneva conference is a conspicuous example of how futile it is to try to reason with a dictatorship. The Soviet people could be given to understand that peace will come in the world when they, too, have a free government.

For some strange reason, the utterances of the West that need to be broadcast widely behind the iron curtain are seldom made. When statements are made on broad policy, they unwittingly give an impression of timidity and fear. There are many vital issues to be discussed, but most of the broadcasting by the West is confined to routine news.

There is no steady outpouring of statements from the Western governments addressed to the Soviet people. Yet the main alternative to war is to arouse the millions of persons behind the iron curtain to the fact that their own government is a disturber of world peace and is blocking their own progress through wasteful expenditures throughout the world.

America has the capacity to express itself in world affairs, but up to now the policy of restraint and super-caution has been self-defeating. The Soviets have their own way in the propaganda field. Certainly, the all-important objective—to reach the Soviet people and urge them to choose leaders who will cooperate with other nations—is relatively simple to explain, day in and day out.

This approach often has been described as using "moral force." But the phrase has come to be associated too much with the mere preachment of ideals. It is, in fact, the use of the force of public opinion. It means the constant communication of ideas across boundaries. Too often this formula is dismissed as useless because it is assumed that a revolution inside the Soviet Union is impossible, just because no outward signs of any such trend have been apparent. But such signs are seldom visible to the naked eye.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Smoke-Filled Classrooms Spell Trouble for Student

The injurious effects of smoking, in my opinion, are characteristic of anoxia and not of nicotine poisoning.

DR. BRADY

If nicotine were responsible, how can a ball player, with cheek bulging with the deadly poison, manage to reach third standing up? Chemists tell us in textbooks that a drop or two of nicotine on the tongue of a dog will kill the dog in a minute or so. Yet a huge chew of tobacco containing from 1.4 per cent up to 6.17 per cent of nicotine, according to the chemists, is evidently innocuous.

Here's a complaint from a reader:

"I am a student at University of ——, where even the professors smoke in class. By the end of my first week here I was sick. My head ached constantly, I became hoarse, my ears stopped up somewhat, I couldn't eat my meals (in the smoke-filled dining room) and I was exhausted.

"School doctors prescribed . . . tablets and tobacco antigen injections. The tablets helped to the degree that I could eat again. After two months I see no improvement from the injections.

"If you can suggest no remedy which might make college life less hectic for me, perhaps you know of a good graduate school where smoking is not permitted in class. (G. J. B.)"

It is quite likely that carbon monoxide anoxia causes the symptoms you describe.

Every puff of tobacco smoke, especially cigarette smoke, contains some carbon monoxide. A person breathing air containing only one part of carbon monoxide in 1,000 parts of air may develop in an hour or so the characteristic symptoms G. J. B. describes.

Carbon monoxide is not "poisonous." It is dangerous only because it has a stronger affinity for hemoglobin in the red blood corpuscles than has oxygen: thus it crowds out oxygen, reducing the supply of oxygen to the body's cells — a state called anoxia.

If the room where occupants are smoking is properly ventilated there is little likelihood a nonsmoking occupant will inhale enough carbon monoxide to make him ill. But tobacco hogs — smokers who have no concern about the sensitivity, comfort or health of non-smokers — usually have equally selfish notions about fresh air and ventilation — hence the "smoke-filled room."

Tobacco antigen injections are futile, I believe. It isn't tobacco that causes the student's trouble. It is carbon monoxide anoxia.

The Country Parson

Case Records of a Psychologist:

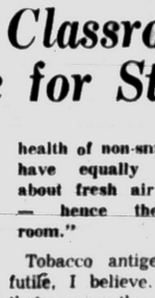

Finding Cause Cures Nervous Tic

Melvin has been a slave to a childish habit that has even forced him into an introvertive career. And it has compelled him to shun social events and even refuse luncheon invitations to Rotary, Optimists, Kiwanis, etc. So scrapbook this case and use it in dealing with your own family.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, I must have what you call a 'tic'," he began.

DR. CRANE

"For whenever I get among people, I begin to blink my eyes in rapid succession.

"If I am at home or with familiar friends and relatives, it doesn't bother me much.

"But whenever I am asked to speak in public or even am introduced as a guest of some friend who invites me to Rotary or any other service men's luncheon crowd, I start blinking in rapid succession.

"Try as I will, I seem to be powerless to stop my eyelids. They just feel independent of my will.

"It is so embarrassing that I have quit going out in public. And that's one reason why I became an accountant, for I figured I'd not be forced to meet as many people in this profession.

"How can I get rid of this 'tic'?"

PRACTICAL PSYCHOLOGY

They are to help you analyze and solve your own problems, for we are never going to have enough psychiatrists to handle abnormal behavior if we wait till people reach the sanitarium stage.

This column serves as prophylactic psychiatry. It helps vaccinate your family against psychological problems before you reach a critical state.

A "tic" is best understood as being a carry-over of what was once a purposive set of movement that now has outlived its original need.

It is not a random movement of one part of the body, then another, as is typical of chorea (St. Vitus' dance).

Chorea will be present when the victim is asleep, whereas the "tic" tends to vanish in slumber.

Melvin's eye-blinking once served a good purpose. When he was 9 years old, he had a gruff, fearsome teacher.

Melvin was a shy, timid little boy. The teacher asked him to stand and read aloud.

Her barking voice scared him so he dropped his book and lost his place. She irritably reprimanded him and the children laughed.

Tears welled up into his eyes and he almost burst into sobs. But he didn't dare show he was a sissy, so he rapidly blinked his eyes to keep the tears so well distributed they would not drip down his cheeks.

That humiliating experience thus "set" the habit. Now, 25 years later, when he gets into a group of people and attention is called to him, his eyes involuntarily start blinking.

The secret of freeing yourself from a "tic" or any other complex that has enslaved you for years, is to anlyze its origin.

Try to date its exact onset. For then you know exactly what you are dealing with. In Melvin's case, it was a classroom reaction to check his tears at the age of 9.

Then grow angry at yourself for continuing as an adult slave to a childish reaction, for anger

Next, socialize yourself so you grow calm and assured in the former frightening situation. Enroll in a public speaking class. Take a Dale Carnegie course or join the Toastmaster's Club.

And enroll in the "Compliment Club." Send for that booklet, enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

If you pay your three compliments daily, within 30 days you'll notice a dramatic change in yourself.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Readers Back Sales Tax Hike

Jenny Lifestorer

I agree with the editorial about state taxes. The reasoning "Let those with more money pay more," we hear so often is really a sad reflection on American initiative and free enterprise. If we followed that thinking, the man who makes $3,000 could buy toothpaste for ten cents, but the man who makes $15,000 would have to pay 50 cents. The family whose income is only $6,000 could get a car for $2,000 but if you make $18,000, the same car would be $6,000 to you.

★ ★ ★

Pretty soon everyone would have the same amount of everything and we'd just be another Socialist or Communist state. Why bother trying to get ahead if it just means everything will cost you that much more? What incentive would there be to use the old American drive that made this country great?

★ ★ ★

If the State needs $3 million to keep going, then everyone should pay his share and that's all, regardless of his income. Why should I have to pay for someone else who's content to live on welfare when he could get a job or for someone who's happy to scrape by on the least work he can manage? Especially when the lower the income group, the more likely that person is to be dipping into the State till for various benefits.

★ ★ ★

Many people want to do as little as possible, grab as much as possible and pay as little as possible for it. And I'm tired of supporting that sort of person.

Is This What My Ancestors Worked So Hard for?

'Supreme Court's in Sorry Plight'

Congress is listing and studying legislation to make the Supreme Court more representative of the United States. What a blow it would have been to all our great jurists in the past to learn that some day the legislative branch of the government would have to pass laws to safeguard this nation and protect it against the Judicial! Chief Justice Warren should hang his head in shame as long as he continues to serve.

Matterly Sunnock

'Stay at Home Out of Trouble'

U.S. planes should keep away from dangerous locations and mind their own business at home. You never heard of a U.S. plane getting shot at when it was flying over Nebraska or Atlanta so they should keep out of the danger zones and not let the Russians have these chances. Always there can be a dispute about exactly where they were and if they are flying over Atlanta, no one can get into some argument.

'Give the Work to City Men'

If the local contractor doesn't get the courthouse job, it will be a shame, for we need the jobs in the Pontiac area and what difference does $2,000 make when the wages will all go to men that live here?

Just Back to Work

'Fundamental Rule Governs Us All'

Regardless of race, religion or political belief, every group needs to be equally solicitous for the preservation of rights of other groups. When each group begins to feel more entitled to certain rights than other groups, everyone's rights become less secure. We're all on the same ship, and you can't sink one end and keep the other end afloat.

★ ★ ★

The mob lynch incident in Mississippi displayed the same dangerous disregard for human rights which permitted the Nazi persecution of Jews in World War II. The fanatic's belief that an end can justify the means is the belief that permits him to sacrifice you or me for his cause.

★ ★ ★

"If it's good for me, it's good for you." This attitude continually creeps into the thinking of men. We're all prone to this. But keep logic to the front and learn from the cruel lessons of history. No society can endure for long which refuses to recognize the individual rights of human beings.

The fundamental rule is: "Do Unto Others as You Would Have Others Do Unto You."

Strike in Steel Called Inevitable

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Secretary-Treasurer William Schnitzler of the AFL-CIO says a costly steel strike is inevitable next month.

He told newsmen Tuesday night: "The manner in which the steel companies have organized themselves against the welfare of their own workers makes a strike inevitable."

Schnitzler said President Eisenhower contributed to the deadlock in steel contract negotiations by warning that the United States cannot stand by and do nothing if wages and prices are pushed up in an inflationary spiral.

"The President said nothing about freezing profits," Schnitzler said, "only wages. Wages, prices and profits — everybody seems to have forgotten about the third word in this spiral talk."

Finds Great Moral Purity There

Russia's Spiritual Hunger Impresses Billy Graham

PARIS (UPI)—American evangelist Billy Graham said yesterday on his arrival from Russia he found a great "moral purity" among the people of Moscow as well as a "great spiritual hunger" for God despite the official atheism of the country.

The Montreat, N.C., preacher, who spent five days in the Soviet capital, compared what he saw there with the downtown parks in London which he charged last week were used for necking and worse.

"In the Moscow parks, I saw thousands of young people but I did not see a single couple locked in an embrace," he said.

"I hate Communism," Graham said. "But I love the Russian people and the moral purity I found among the Muscovites."

Graham said he became aware of a great spiritual need among the Russians.

"I was told by local religious leaders that there is a real religious revival and a marked decline of atheism in the Soviet Union," he said.

"I was not surprised to hear that, since I could read on the faces of the people a great spiritual hunger and some sort of insecurity that only God can solve."

Graham saw the crosses and religious paintings of the cathedral museums in the Kremlin and he attended a Sunday service in Moscow's only Baptist church.

"Yesterday," he said, "I knelt in the Lenin Stadium, where 100,000 people can be comfortably accommodated. I asked God that one day it will be filled with people listening to the gospel."

Graham has indicated he would like to hold a "Crusade for Christ" in the Soviet Union provided he could have translators and good advance publicity to attract audiences.

It was obvious that the Soviet capital had made a deep impression on the 40-year-old evangelist.

He said that when he visited the Lenin-Stalin mausoleum, he could not help remarking to the Russians who accompanied him:

"No matter how powerful a man may become there comes a time when that man must die."

The Russians offered no reply, he said.

De Valera Odds on Favorite

Irish Premier, Ending Long Career, Shoo-In for Presidency

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — The Irish voted for a new president today, and nearly blind old Eamon de Valera appeared a shoo-in choice for the ceremonial job by a majority of at least 200,000.

Retiring from active politics, the 77-year-old statesman ran against Gen. Sean Maceoin, like De Valera a veteran of the fight for independence from Britain.

Only about three fourths of Ireland's 1,700,000 voters were expected to turn out to choose between the candidates and also decide whether Ireland should keep the election system of proportional representation. Counting of votes will not begin until Thursday.

Maceoin, 67, ran for president five years ago against Sean T. O'Kelly, who by law cannot run again after serving two five-year terms. Maceoin got 335,000 votes to O'Kelly's 537,000. A third candidate got 212,000.

It was considered certain De Valera would poll a higher percentage than O'Kelly. There is no third candidate in the field this time. The most conservative predictions gave De Valera 700,000 votes to 500,000 for Maceoin.

De Valera was born in New York of a Spanish father and Irish mother. He went to Ireland as a child and joined the Irish fighters against British rule in 1913. He served as commandant of the Dublin Brigade in the 1916 uprising.

He served as first president of the Irish Republic from 1919-22. He has been prime minister three times for a total of 15 years, the last time since 1957. Sean Lemass is expected to succeed him as prime minister and head of the Fianna Fail party, which holds 78 of the 147 seats in the Dail.

Both De Valera and Maceoin were once under British death sentences. De Valera's American birth helped get his sentence commuted. Then De Valera and several other Irish liberation leaders served notice on British Prime Minister David Lloyd George that if he did not release Maceoin, the patriots would end a truce and resume fighting.

With De Valera generally expected to win the presidency, most interest in the campaign was generated by the constitutional amendment to remove the proportional representation system. De Valera and Fianna Fail sponsored the amendment. Maceoin and the Fine Gael, Ireland's No. 2 party, opposed it along with the smaller parties.

Migrant Labor Crash Settled for $60,000

DETROIT (AP)—Survivors and the families of two Mexican migrant workers killed in a Michigan truck collision in 1954 were awarded a $60,000 settlement in U.S. District Court yesterday.

Besides those killed, 23 workers were injured in the collision between two trucks on U.S. 27 near St. Johns. The men were employed in area sugar beet fields.

The settlement was made with Lake Shore Sugar Co., Michigan Field Crops Inc., and the Great Lakes Growers Employment Committee, Inc.

Half the sum will go to the families of the men killed: Francisco Amador Hernandez and Bernardino Nevarez Amaya. The rest will go to 16 of those injured, the amount depending on degree of injury.

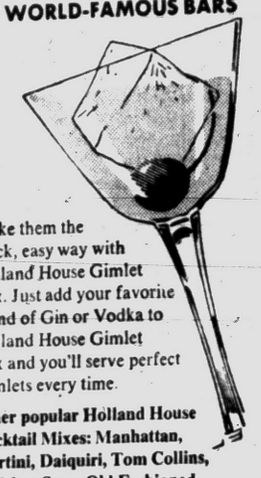

Settlement was made before Judge Frank A. Picard.

Favor Humphrey, Smith

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some elderly people in Los Angeles want to see Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) as the next president and Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) as vice president. The bi-partisan ticket was proposed by the Roosevelt Park Senior Citizens organization. Mrs. Smith herself made public the group's resolution.

Combats Depression

Drug Aids Mental Patients

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—A new drug has scored a major break-through in the treatment of depressed mental patients, says a psychiatrist.

Dr. Nathal Thal, senior psychiatrist at Western State Hospital, Stellacoom, Wash., said Tuesday 144 of 180 patients treated with the drug recovered so rapidly they were discharged within six weeks. None has suffered a relapse.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Thal said the remaining 36 patients improved so much that electric shock—conventional treatment for depression—was not needed.

★ ★ ★

The drug—beta phenylethylhydrazine sulphate—is described as a psychic energizer with effects opposite to those of tranquilizers.

"I'm excited about the possibilities of the drug," Dr. Thal said. "Prior to this we haven't had any safe, effective drug for the depressed patient."

College to Ban Cars With Scholarships

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) — Baldwin-Wallace College will ban the use of autos next fall by all students receiving scholarships or academic loans.

"The policy resulted from the feeling that some of the scholarship students were living pretty high to be in financial need," said Admissions Director Clancey Bieg-ler. "We're not interested in subsidizing students who are burning up college money tob uy gas for dates in their autos."

Fallout Threat to U.S. Children

Could Affect Thyroid Glands and Make Them Cancer Susceptible

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A scientist said today that atomic fallout has exposed the sensitive thyroid glands of U. S. children to annual radiation doses one to two times the yearly dose from natural radiation.

This estimate, covering "the last few years," was made in a report to the National Academy of Sciences by Dr. E. B. Lewis of the California Institute of Technology.

The fallout dose to the thyroid comes from short-lived radioactive iodine. Lewis said it poses "a special hazard to infants and children." He said there is evidence that their thyroid glands are much more susceptible to radiation-induced cancer than the same glands in adults.

Scientists differ as to whether low radiation doses like those from fallout can cause cancer. But some of the world's leading authorities feel that the general population should not get man-made radiation in amounts greater than those from natural sources.

In his report, Lewis did not contend that fallout has actually caused any cancer of the thyroid among American children. And he noted that if atmospheric weapons testing is not resumed, radio-iodine contamination from fallout, because of its short life, will practically cease to exist by the end of this year.

Lewis said it has been assumed that fallout doses on the average are "well below the corresponding doses from natural background sources." This may be true for most body organs, he said, but not for the thyroid glands of the average U. S. infant and child.

Radio-iodine concentrates in fresh cow's milk, a major item in the diet of young people, and in humanthyroid gland. Lewis said research indicates that from the same amount of radio-iodine the average infant will get about 18 times the thyroid dose that the average adult will receive.

New State Xway to End in a Field

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan's portion of a planned two-state expressway may end in an open field because the Ohio portion won't be finished on time, the Highway Department said Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

U.S. 23 from Dundee to the Ohio border—a 17-mile stretch—will be finished sometime this fall, the department said.

But the Ohio section which was to have joined the Ohio Turnpike at Maumee may not be completed until next summer, leaving Michigan's road with nowhere to go.

A department spokesman said 10-12 miles of the Michigan part of U.S. 23 would probably be opened this fall, while the rest of the route would have to wait for Ohio to finish.

★ ★ ★

U.S. 23 will eventually be four lanes as far north as Ann Arbor and provide a southbound route from the southeastern part of the state, the Michigan department said.

Senate OKs Annexation Bill for 'Dogpatch' Near Troy

Passed by the Senate yesterday and sent back to the House of Representatives today was a bill to enable Oakland County's "Dogpatch, U.S.A." to annex to a governmental unit.

With this measure approved 31-to-0 by the Senate and back to the House for concurrence in Senate amendments, two other Oakland County proposals ran into trouble.

Senators passed Rep. Farrell E. Roberts' (R-West Bloomfield Township) House-approved bill which would allow the owner of 9.6 acres near Troy to petition either of three adjoining municipalities for annexation. It was overlooked when Troy Township incorporated in 1955.

Sen. L. Harvey Lodge (R-Oakland County) calls it "Dogpatch, U.S.A." because it pays no taxes, has no inhabitants, or governmental services.

Further debate was postponed until today, on a House-approved bill to allow Royal Oak to issue special assessment bonds to retire $220,000 in outstanding bonds to finance off-street parking.

Sen. Lodge urged passage to save the city from the "ravages of a downtown ghost town."

Further debate was postponed until tomorrow on a House-approved bill by Rep. Lloyd L. Anderson (R-Waterford township) to remove the limitation on the number of days compensation can be paid to board of supervisor members for committee work.

Lodge said the supervisors bill was needed in Oakland County. Sen. Charles L. Blondy (D-Detroit) claimed it was "pork barrel legislation."

★ ★ ★

Lodge was able to get preliminary approval for another one of Anderson's bills, one to authorize townships with salaried treasurers to waive the penalty for late payment of property taxes.

Strauss Vote Time Uncertain in Senate

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate's prolonged debate over the nomination of Commerce Secretary Lewis L. Strauss was complicated today by uncertainty over the time for a final vote.

Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) last night blocked efforts by Senate Democratic and Republican leaders to speed the showdown vote. Morse, a Strauss critic, objected when Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson sought unanimous Senate approval for a debate limitation.

Johnson quickly served notice to expect only a short notice before the balloting begins. He told his colleagues that "all you can count upon is a quorum call" by way of notification.

Johnson also said he intended to hold the Senate unusually late today, with night sessions probable tomorrow and Friday. If there still is no vote, he said, he likely will schedule a Saturday session.

Process for Champagne

LONDON (UPI) — A plant developed in Moscow has introduced a method of producing champagne continuously instead of by steps, Radio Moscow reported yesterday.

The broadcast said the method has won worldwide recognition and many foreign firms are clamoring for the patent.

Queen Named 'Caddies'

EDINBURGH, Scotland (UPI) — Mary, Queen of Scots, is believed to have been the first woman golfer and is credited with naming the "caddy." Legend has it that she called them "cadets," with the French pronounciatio being "cad-day."

Flying Saucer for Space Ship?

Propulsion Specialist Says Design Is Best to Dispose of Heat

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Tomorrow's space ship probably will look like a flying saucer, a propulsion specialist says, for the simple reason that this is the best design for getting rid of the heat from its engine.

The saucer part of the ship, says Dr. P. M. Diamond, will be its radiator, performing the same function as the radiator in your car.

Sitting atop this space radiator, like a pat of butter on a saucer, will be the cabin or crew and instruments.

A workable design for an interplanetary ship, Dr. Diamond said in an interview at the summer session of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences, calls for a radiator 900 feet in diameter. The crew cabin would be only a small fraction of this size.

★ ★ ★

"There is no atmosphere to conduct heat away from the power source in a space ship," Dr. Daimond said, "so the radiator must be much larger than the one in an automobile. Without an adequate way of disposing of excess heat, the ocupants must either roast or turn off the engines, leaving themselves drifting powerless in space."

Bomber Crew Hunt Fruitless Thus Far

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP) — Search for the remains of a nine-man American crew of a World War II bomber in the Libyan Desert has produced no results, the U. S. Air Force said.

★ ★ ★

The Americans are believed to have bailed out 16 years ago from a crippled Liberator 824 after a bombing raid on Naples, Italy. They were reported killed in action.

The wrecked bomber was found earlier this year by geologists of a British oil company some 440 miles south of Benghazi, Libya.

Investigating teams were flown to the scene, but searchers reported they have found no traces of the crew who may have perished in the desert heat within 60 miles of the wreck.

A ground party, including two mortuary specialists and eight mine clearing experts, combed an area eight miles wide and 17 miles long. The crash site lies 775 miles southeast of Wheelus Air Force Base.

A combined air-ground search team is to continue the investigation in a larger area.

Penny for Groceries Turns Out to Be Gold

PORT WASHINGTON, Wis. (AP) — When supermarket clerk Mrs. Ken Fetzer dropped what she thought was a penny, it made a strange sound.

On one side, the coin carried this inscription: "U. S. 2½ D. 1851." Sratching the surface revealed it to be a gold piece.

Trap Might Go Boom

BRIDLINGTON, England (UPI) —Golfers were advised to day to leave the ball lie if it lands in the fifth hole sandtray at the Bridlington Golf Course. A live mortar bomb has been found in the trap.

TV Aids Recent Career

Gable Slips Gracefully Into Older Roles

(This is the second of three dispatches in which Clark Gable discusses his 40-year movie career and discloses how he is adapting himself to the changes the years have brought.)

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Clark Gable, who began as a $3-a-day extra and became one of the highest paid stars in film history, recently completed his first picture after a "trial retirement" that lasted only a year.

"After 40 years as an actor you can't quit all of a sudden," he said. "So I tried a 'rehearsal' after I finished "Run Silent, Run Deep."

"I was curious about whether I'd be bored. I wasn't, but I think if I'd stayed away from pictures much longer I might have been. Right now there's only one more picture lined up for me, and after that I plan to take it easy for a while."

Gable laughed and said, "I'm making less money now than I did in my first movie. They paid me $3 a day and a box lunch for the silent version of 'Phantom of the Opera' with Lon Chaney.

"Now I work for nothing.

"Guess I ought to explain I'm not paid a salary. Instead I have a percentage of every film I make. A salary doesn't mean anything tax-wise, but a percentage of the profits can be strung out over the years."

"It's just an observation of mine," he explained, "but there was a time in 1953 when I wasn't doing too well. My pictures weren't very good and they proved it at the boxoffice.

"Then television brought out several of the good pictures I'd made years ago — 'Test Pilot,' 'Boom Town,' 'San Francisco,' and 'It Happened One Night.' The kids saw them and thought they had discovered a new actor. Their reaction was terrific. My fan mail suddenly was filled with letters from youngsters in the 17 to 30 bracket."

5,000 PROPOSALS

It is a different set of fans from the swooning movie-goers of 25 years ago who flooded Gable with 5,000 marriage proposals by mail.

"So maybe I'm indebted to TV, but I never watch my old pictures on television," he went on.

"It really burns me up, competing with myself on the two media. As long as I'm in the movie business I'll stick with it.

"Why should people go out to a theater to pay money to see a Gable picture when they can see one in their living rooms for free?

"I will steer clear of television just as I have in the past."

Gable also salutes "Gone With the Wind" for sustaining his momentum on the screen.

"Each time it is re-released I find it helps the boxoffice on my new pictures. And again it is the youngsters who are most interested," he said, flashing a grin.

Under contract to MGM studios for almost his entire career, Gable tried his hand at being an executive producer with his own company, Gabco Productions, with unfortunate results.

"The company still is in existence, but I doubt if I'll produce more pictures unless I give up acting. It would have to be one or the other. You can't do justice to both jobs at the same time.

"The future of the organization is up to me. It depends on whether I want to continue or take it easy."

Aware that he will be 59 next year, Gable is picking his roles carefully. He realizes he could become a caricature of the dashing lover he once was. Character-comedy roles appeal to him the most.

"My next picture is 'Bay of Naples' with Sophia Loren," he said.

"We start work the first week in August in Rome. This will be my second non-romantic role. Sure, Sophia is a lot younger than I am, but she looks like a full-grown, sophisticated woman — not the youthful Audrey Hepburn type. So it should come off all right.

"It's possible sometimes in the future I may play a romantic guy again, but it would have to be opposite a woman nearer my own age."

U. S. Debt Astronomical

NEW YORK (UPI) — Manned outer space flights may be common by the end of this century, but if the federal government decided to pay off its astronomical $285 billion public debt at the rate of $8.7 billion a year, it would take until 2100 to do it, figures of the Tax Foundation show.

Coffee Extortion Backfires

'Rich' Brazil Struggles for Economic Existence

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

It was on Aug. 24, 1954, that President Getulio Vargas, for 25 years Brazil's "strong man," retired to his room and fired a bullet into his heart after first writing a bitter last will and testament. In it he said:

"I can give nothing else but my blood. . . I bequeath my death to the hatred of my enemies. I regret that I was unable to do all I wanted for the humble . . ."

What Vargas had done for "the humble" was to bequeath them today's financial ills.

Since World War II, Brazil has passed through a succession of economic crises, each one more grave than the last.

In the first 10 years after the war, she received some $600 million in American loans. In the last 10 years, prices have risen 1,000 per cent. The Cruzeiro, Brazil's unit of currency, has slipped to a value of only about three-quarters of a U. S. cent.

BLAME 1 ACT

Despite her other riches, Brazil's has been a coffee economy. And as coffee prices slipped so did Brazil's economy.

The single act of the Vargas administration which today is blamed for touching off Brazil's vicious inflationary spiral occurred on May 1, 1954. It was a decree doubling minimum wages. Prices, already high, shot skyward.

At almost the same time, Brazil set a minimum price on coffee of 87 cents a pound. Vargas' attempt to extort from world coffee drinkers the price of industrial expansion at home boomeranged.

The coffee market broke and Vargas was dead, leaving behind his bitter legacy.

From the start he courted the working classes, regardless of the effect of the country's economy. He found a willing audience. For in the cities, many lived in misery within sight of riches, and in the rural areas others lacked even the necessities.

They also provided a fertile field for Communism.

STATE OIL

There was another set of circumstances which contributed to today's ills, created by leaders who found it politically profitable to promote a questionable sort of nationalism.

It was this that led to Petrobras, Brazil's state-owned oil monopoly in which no foreigners are permitted to hold shares.

Brazil is estimated to have enormous oil reserves, yet while petroleum imports soar, her oil lies idle in the ground because Brazil has neither the know-how nor the money to get it out.

Now President Juscelino Kubitschek once more is looking for money.

It is probable that once more the U. S. will bail him out.

Meanwhile, the basic ills remain uncured. The government has shown no disposition to undertake any such drastic "austerity" campaign as has aroused the ire of labor in Argentina and France. It probably could not remain in office.

Death Toppling on State Xways

Accidents Sharply Cut by New Super Roads in Comparison to Old

LANSING (UP)— Michigan's new expressways are recording a sharply reduced accident, death and injury toll compared with the old routes they replaced, the State Highway Department reports.

The department made "before and after" studies of 146 miles of new expressways and found accidents dropped from 1,340 to 303, injuries from 643 to 168 and deaths from 23 to 3.

"These statistics are a striking illustration of what our growing expressway network means in terms of motoring safety," said John C. Mackie, state highway commissioner.

The study covered a one-year period on most of the roads and includes 64 miles of U.S. 16, 33 miles of U.S. 23 and sections of M20, U.S. 127, U.S. 131 and U.S. 31.

On the Brighton-Farmington Expressway, accidents dropped from 275 to 105, injuries from 137 to 62 and deaths from 10 to one.

In its first six months of operation, the Bay City-Midland Expressway listed four accidents and three injuries. This compared with 30 accidents and nine injuries on old M20 in the six-month period before the expressway opened.

Two Out of 3 Have Oil

NEW YORK (UPI) — For every three oil wells drilled, one is dry, according to the American Petroleum Institute. Oilmen spent an estimated $1,700,000,000 during 1955 and 1956—the latest years for which figures are available—in a fruitless search for new oil reserves.

Stethoscopy and the stethoscope were invented in 1819 by a Brittany-born physician, Rene-Theophile-Hyacinthe Laennec. The science and its tool are still used today by physicians everywhere.

Judge Balks at Perry Mason as Bar Speaker

BLOWING ROCK, N.C. (AP)—Actor Raymond Burr — who plays Perry Mason, the lawyer who never loses a case—is going to address the convention of the North Carolina Bar Assn. which opens today. The invitation has set off some legal fireworks.

Superior Court Judge Frank Armstrong won't be in the audience. The judge protested the bid to Burr to speak Friday.

"I see about as much of Perry Mason on television as I care to because my children watch it at home," Armstrong said.

"Perry Mason's program bears no semblance of the correct and proper means of administering justice, or the proper conduct of the lawyer in trial of a criminal case."

Armstrong said the fact that Burr will speak at the convention is indicative of what he calls the irresponsibility and lack of knowledge of the administration of justice shown by some bar leaders.

The bar association president, Beverly C. Moore of Greensboro, said in rebuttal that Burr had been invited to the convention in the role of a guest entertainer not as a lawyer.

Burr, who will speak on "Lawyers In the Public View," was not available for comment.

Sets Gasoline Standard in Effort to Cut Smog

LOS ANGELES (AP) — In an attempt to reduce smog, Los Angeles County is cracking down on gasoline sold to its motorists.

The Board of Supervisors ordered Tuesday that after June 30, 1960, all gasoline sold must contain less than 18 per cent olefins.

Some scientists contend the eye-irritating hydrocarbons are a major contributor to smog. The air pollution control district asked the restriction.

Develop Rocket for Weather

5-Foot 'Snoopy' Could Be Used in Collection of Meterological Data

DENVER (UPI)—A skinny five-foot rocket named "Snoopy" could become as familiar to the weatherman as overshoes in the corner of his office. At least, two Denver businessmen hope so.

Incorporation papers have been filed for a $1.5 million firm to manufacture a small rocket the twob usinessmen claim can help predict the weather.

The firm — Micro Dynamics Corp. — is the brainchild of G. Harry Stine, president of Model Missiles Inc., and a former scientist with the Martin Co., and Bill Meller, head of Sonic Research Corp., which makes noise suppressors for airplanes.

Stine and Meller plan to begin production this summer on a five-foot-long, 15-pound, two-inch in diameter rocket to collect meterological data. They claim the little rocket can carry a half-pound of instruments to 100,000 feet in one minute.

The Air Force is investigating the rocket, which is powered by a solid propellant and launched from a simple portable rail-type launcher. One man can assemble and launche the rocket in 30 minutes.

Stine and Meller hope the rocket will replace the weather balloon, which U.S. weather bureaus across the country send aloft by the hundreds each day.

They claim "Snoopy" can provide instantaneous readings more accurate than balloons in the midst of severe storms, if necessary.

There are 4,654,000 broken or disrupted homes in the U. S. headed by women, the census showed, and 1,321,000 headed by men, mostly the results of deaths and divorces.

Ike Veto Sure, Says Source

Would Mark Pension Cost of Self-Employed Tax Free

WASHINGTON (AP) — Should doctors, lawyers and other self-employed persons be granted tax deductions for the cost of setting up their own old-age pensions?

★ ★ ★

Twice in the last two years the House has said yes, heeding their argument that salaried persons often benefit from company pension systems on which the company pays no taxes. The taxes are paid only when the pensions come due.

★ ★ ★

But a negative response from the Senate appeared more likely today as its Finance Committee opened hearings for the first time on the question. Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson has opposed the measure as a tax break for the well-to-do.

A bill the House passed last year died without hearings in the Senate Committee. The House passed the bill again last March 16.

Senators have received a flood of messages from doctors, lawyers and others in behalf of the bill.

However, a committee member who asked that his name not be used said he understood President Eisenhower would veto the bill if Congress passes it.

The Treasury estimates the annual revenue loss at 365 million dollars. Some sponsors insist it would not be this high at the outset. Administration officials have expressed the fear it would open the way for many other similar requests.

Under the bill, sponsored in the House by Rep. Eugene J. Keogh (D-NY), a self-employed person could set aside up to $2,500 a year in a voluntary retirement trust fund without paying income tax on it. He would be limited to $50,000 in the fund over his lifetime.

He would be taxed on the pension as he received it, but by then his other income would normally be much less and his tax cut accordingly.

Anderson estimated that about 80 per cent of the tax relief would go mostly to professional men with incomes of more than $10,000 a year.

If all taxpayers were allowed deductions for their retirement savings in accordance with the terms of the bill, the revenue loss would be three billion dollars a year, Anderson said.

Greek King to Return

ZURICH, Switzerland (UPI) — King Paul of Greece, who has been recuperating here from an operation for the removal of a cataract, will return to Athens next Saturday, it was reported yesterday.

Kentucky Coal Men Again Appeal to Ike

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Coal operators again have asked President Eisenhower to send troops into the Eastern Kentucky coal fields, and the United Mine Workers Union has pledged cooperation with law officials to quell violence.

The operators' plea was in the form of a telegram to the White House from attorney Joseph C. Lewis, who said he represents operators in Perry, Letcher and Knott counties.

The union pledge was in the form of letters to the sheriffs of Letcher, Perry, Knott and Pike counties.

Both moves were made Tuesday during a lull in strike violence which has caused three deaths in three months.

Political Loser Asks Wife for Second Chance

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Walt Hefner, who has been active in local politics and was an unsuccessful candidate for Democratic nomination to Congress last year, placed an advertisement in Tuesday's Chronicle.

It read: "Naomi, I'm truly sorry I forced you to make so many sacrifices. Please give me a chance to make amends. I'll forget politics and do anything I can to keep our family together. Anyone could get a divorce — not anyone can save a marriage. I plead for another chance. Walt."

They have been married eight years and have two children.

Radium's activity lasts for centuries and even after 2,000 or more years is only one-half dissipated.

Senate Group Wants Score on Ouster of Convicts

To Call Hoffa for Cleanup Accounting

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Rackets Committee wants to know what Teamster President James R. Hoffa has done to carry out a promise it says he gave to clean up scandals in his union.

And to find out, it says it is going to call him back again. The committee set no specific date for the new inquiry, but spokesmen said they hoped to get started within a few weeks.

The committee repeatedly has accused Hoffa of corrupt alliances with underworld figures and of specific misdeeds.

A hundred or more witnesses have been reported under subpoena for the new hearing. They include some Teamster officials convicted of various crimes.

The committee wants to know whether these convicts have been ousted from union payrolls, and whether the union paid for their defense in their trials.

A committee official who declined to be quoted by name said two Tennessee Teamster officials are tentatively scheduled as witnesses. He said the committee wants to find out who paid their lawyers in their trials, and whether either man still is on the union's payroll.

The informant said the committee is reluctant to name in advance any witnesses other than Hoffa, but that a variety of Teamsters who invoked the fifth amendment when asked about alleged misappropriation of union funds, strong-arm tactics or other wrong-doings, may be called back for more quizzing.

Committee officials said Hoffa will be asked whether he has recovered or tried to recover union money allegedly used for improper purposes.

Cadillac

Tempted by Pride...Persuaded by Economy!

He'd be the first to tell you why his thoughts turned to Cadillac. He was tempted by its beauty and elegance . . . and by its great acceptance.

And well he might! For certainly Cadillac—considered from these standpoints—has never been more inspiring.

But yet, how pleasant it was to find that he could make his final decision on the basis of purely practical considerations!

Not only are several Cadillac models priced competitively with other makes—but are within easy reach of many medium-priced cars.

Its great soundness of construction has reduced maintenance expense to the practical minimum—and its gasoline economy actually approximates that of cars built and sold largely on the basis of economy.

And it is a fact that Cadillac, year after year, returns a higher percentage of its cost on the resale market than any other motor car.

So there he is—wooed by its wonders and won over by its wisdom—ready to take the wheel for his first journey in his first Cadillac.

If you've been wondering how far off this happy day should be for you, we suggest you visit your dealer soon and learn why this is such a propitious moment to make the move.

Whether you finally decide on Cadillac for pride or pleasure—or for thrift and practicality—you'll get all four.

Members of the American Arts String Quartet include Gordon Staples, violin; Nathan Gordon, viola; Kenneth Goldsmith, violin, and Paul Olefsky, all first stand members of the Detroit Symphony.

The group was formed last year and made its concert debut with the Detroit Friends of Music. Mr. Staples, Mr. Gordon and Mr. Olefsky are recording artists for the local Recital Records. Mr. Goldsmith is a student of Mischa Mischakoff and a member of the Chautauqua Symphony Orchestra during the summer.

The program will include the Mozart Quartet in B Flat Major, the Beethoven Quartet No. 3, Opus 59 and the first Detroit performance of a string quartet by Constant Vauclain, professor of music at the Curtis Institute and the University of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Suczek will accompany his program of songs on a classic guitar made for him by Robert Bouchet of Paris. His career as a troubadour began in his student days at Harvard. His appearances at the Cranbrook and Grosse Pointe Summer Festivals last year were enthusiastically received.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ruelle of Farm road. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hawke of Barker street, Drayton Plains.

Features of the bridal gown were an ankle length bouffant hoop skirt and Chantilly lace jacket which buttoned at the back and featured three-quarter length sleeves.

A nylon tulle fingertip veil held the bride's seed pearl tiara, and she wore a pearl choker and earrings. Her flowers were pink rosebuds and white carnations in a colonial bouquet.

Mrs. David Blanton of Waterford was matron of honor, gowned in a nylon green taffeta dress accented by a hoop skirt and green chiffon cummerbund. She held a pink lace fan with white carnations and pink rosebuds.

The bride's gown and those of the attendants were fashioned by the bride's mother.

Queen Courts Magic and Her Horse Wins

By EDDIE GILMORE

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II flouted the snooty rules of high fashion Tuesday in the interests of superstition.

The dress is a lemon-colored lace. When she wore it at Ascot last year, her horse, Snow Cat, won. So again she donned the lemon lace, and again with white hat, gloves, handbag and shoes.

Royal hopes were not too high for the Queen's only other runner of the day, Above Suspicion, in the last race. Above Suspicion made monkeys out of the experts, coming in first by two lengths and paying 9-4 in a five-horse race.

The Queen was exuberant. She stood on tip-toe, grinned and rubbed her royal hands in enjoyment. She even photograped the horse and jockey herself.

Prince Philip wasn't there to share the excitement. He had quietly ducked out of the royal box an hour earlier to play polo at nearby Windsor Park.

Retiring Teacher's List Is Like 'Who's Who'

By LYDIA ROTHMAN

When Ruth Elliott of Birmingham sees the name of a local attorney or civic leader in the news, chances are she recalls the day when she had him—or her—in class.

Friday she will retire after 42 years as mathematics teacher from Detroit's Northern High School and her list of students (she thinks she must have at least 8,000) reads like a veritable "Who's Who."

Tomorrow she will be honored at a faculty luncheon at Devon Gables and presented with a gift. Although she has no definite plans for the future except "to take it easy," she doesn't find it easy to leave Northern.

She began teaching—she doesn't really know why and often wonders—just after her graduation with honors from the University of Michigan when Northern was brand new in 1917.

BEST OPPORTUNITIES

At the time, the school offered the best teaching opportunities and drew much of its student body from many old and prominent Detroit families.

Among her list of former students are such names as Elmer C. Dieterle, West Bloomfield Township justice; Charles Oakman, councilman and former representative to Congress; Arthur C. Laidlaw, director of the United Fund.

She has had innumerable Detroit and Oakland County lawyers, such as Max Fruhauf and Donald Wade.

Her experiences have been gratifying and sometimes amusing. She recalls David White, the youngest retired naval commander, who as a youngster at Northern was too full of good spirits.

Because of his behavior, his parents sent him away to school, but David returned for his senior year at Northern. His first day back, he asked Miss Elliott for his water pistol.

Northern also had special Braille courses for blind students. Judge Ned Smith and Robert Joyce, prosecuting attorney, were some of her blind students. They all worked especially hard, she says.

BASKETBALL ROOTER

And Miss Elliott worked with foreign students, many of whom could not speak English when they first came to the school.

A loyal Northern rooter, she attended every one of 94 consecutive basketball games during a stretch when Northern was undefeated on the courts.

Miss Elliott always thought of her pupils first. Her sister Hilda says, "She never kept a paper over even if it meant staying up into the small hours of the morning to correct them; and she's so neat about it, too."

Socialite Is Housekeeper for Museum

By MARY PRIME

NEW YORK (UPI) — As housekeeper for an art museum, socialite Gertrud Mellon does everything from hiring window washers to planning food for 50 on a three burner stove.

Mrs. Mellon is in charge of the guest house of the Museum of Modern Art, and also helps with the museum proper. She goes between the staff and the production manager and helps with the museum's restaurants ("I get the complaints!").

She also helps personnel solve problems in furnishing their offices—finding curtains for one office, venetian blinds for another, and signing up someone on the waiting list for paintings to hang in offices.

"It's my job to ask how much we can afford to give them. If we can't, I scrounge around a bit," Mrs. Mellon said in an interview in her upper Fifth Avenue apartment.

The museum's guest house is the former house of John D. Rockefeller III, and now is used to entertain visiting firemen, hold all-day meetings, dinners and cocktail parties at the opening of exhibitions.

Often Mrs. Mellon must plan formal four-course dinners for 50 to 80 persons or buffets for 100 on short notice and an old stove. (Soon the guest house will have a new hotel-sized stove, however.)

Mrs. Mellon plans menus and budgets, orders food, hires temporary help to prepare meals, and supervises general cleaning, gardening and maintenance. To help her are a butler and handy man.

Her biggest problem is "giving a large party in the cheapest way." Some all-day meetings mean serving coffee and doughnuts in the morning, lunch, afternoon tea, cocktails and dinner.

"I go with the butler to the supermarket and pack the food into taxis and cart it back," she said. "Sometimes we have several taxis full of food!"

German-born Mrs. Mellon is a slim, fashionable, young-looking divorcee with two sons —James, 17, and Karl, 21— and a grandson. She spends weekends in her home in Greenwich, Conn., collects primitive and contemporary art, and has just been elected a trustee of the Museum of Primitive Art (which is independent of the museum of Modern Art).

She became interested in art when she lived in Palm Beach, Fla.

She helped organize a local exhibition for two winters when she was asked to join the junior council of the Museum of Modern Art. Later she became a member of the international council and a voting member of the selections (acquisitions) committee. In 1956, she traveled through Europe, assisting in the selection of paintings and sculpture for an exhibition of German masterworks of the 20th century.

★ ★ ★

"That's what I call a plum. It doesn't happen every year," Mrs. Mellon said.

Did she take special training to become housekeeper?

"Germans are reared to be good housekeepers," she said with a smile. "My mother and father took me out of school for one year and said, 'now, little girl, you must learn housekeeping.' And I did."

Dorothy Parker Is Wrong

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Women used to dread wearing eyeglasses. They felt that these made them less attractive looking and also made them seem older. For this reason many an otherwise intelligent woman fumbled about, squinting or failed to recognize her best friends on the street.

Sun glasses should be a part of your summer wardrobe.

Nothing makes a woman seem more old-fashioned or out of date as such conduct. The most glamorous women of the stage and screen frankly wear glasses when they need them.

However, it is wise to take time in selecting the ones you wear just as you do when buying a hat, or a suit or a dress. There is such great variety in shape and color available. I have seen some women who actually look prettier with their glasses than without them. This is true because they have used line and color to minimize defects and play up their best points.

There are a few things to remember when choosing your glasses and, by the way, if you can afford it have several pairs, one for sports, one for everyday and one for dress.

If you have a long face, wear glasses which emphasize the horizontal line If you have a round face, do not wear round lenses. A wide face should have glasses with an upward and outward swing. If your features are very dainty, beware of heavy frames and large lenses. These will "snow you under." On the other hand if your features are large, such glasses will make them appear smaller.

We all know what color can do for us. Why not take advantage of this in the selection of your glasses? For instance, a brunette will be flattered by amber, gold, certain yellows, and can wear red, green and crystal.

A redhead looks lovely in very light blue, green, honey color or white.

The blonde can wear many colors well. She will be flattered by frames which are raspberry, red, orchid or amber.

Profanity Is Never in Good Taste

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please print something in your column regarding the ever increasing practice of men and women who continually use profanity in their every day conversation? I have always been taught that people of good taste never use profanity, certainly not women. I can understand a light expletive, but it does something to you to continually hear the name of God taken in vain."

Answer: I thoroughly agree with you. People of good taste never use profanity—certainly not women. A light expletive on occasion is understandable, but downright profanity is unthinkable.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My brother is to be married in two months. As yet my mother has not met the parents of his fiancee. A few months ago my brother told my mother that his fiancee's parents were in the midst of fixing up their house and wanted to wait until it was in order before meeting my mother.

"Now as time is drawing close, his fiancee says that it is my mother's duty to call first on her parents. This sister-in-law-to-be swears by you and seems to think that my mother is ignorant of the art of knowing "what's what." Who should take the first step?"

Answer: Your mother should have called on the parents of the girl. The fact that she was asked to wait until their house was in order excuses her for not having done so, but she should ask if the house is now ready so that she can make her long delayed visit.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I have noticed quite a few people who, after they are seated at table, pick up the napkin and shake it open before placing it on their laps. Is this proper?"

Answer: You should not shake your napkin open; you partially unfold it and lay it across your lap.

SPEAKING of BEAUTY
donnell says:

DO GENTLEMEN really prefer blondes? We believe any man looks twice at a lady with "bright" hair. It needn't be blonde or auburn, but it should gleam with lovely lights!

MUST YOU submit to bleaching in order to change your hair shade? No, indeed! Of course, it stands to reason that a brunette can't become a silver blonde till we've removed her dark natural color. But she might lead up to the Big Step easily (and dramatically!) by first asking us to give her blonde streaks, or bright "suntips". (They're so youthful and smart!)

Remember, if you decide on bleaching, today's beauty salon methods have been scientifically perfected for better hair condition. When we bleach your hair, it won't turn to straw. We'll keep each hair strand at its gleaming best. We'll watch it carefully, and give your hair special revitalizing treatments if they're needed. And we'll curl it with a professional permanent waving lotion formulated just for your extra-absorbent tinted hair.

Remove Marriage Obstacle—Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have been keeping company with a gentleman farmer who has plenty of money and a good reputation. He's a snappy dresser and the life of the party. I am still considering his proposal of marriage. I am almost ashamed to tell you what is standing in the way because this shouldn't make any difference. But it does.

ABBY

He slips his false teeth forward and then sucks them back into his mouth. He makes a clucking sound that just about drives me crazy.

When I think of having to look at that and listen to him click and cluck the rest of my life, I get cold feet. Should I try to overlook it, or should I hint around?

COLD FEET

DEAR COLD: Your friend should revisit the dentist who made the "castanets" for him. There is something wrong with the fit. If he likes you well enough to propose marriage, he'll accept your suggestion in the proper spirit.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who is constantly trying to outdo the radio. She thinks whenever a song comes on, it just isn't complete without her bleating in and you just can't shut her up. I wouldn't mind so much if she could sing, but she can't stay on tune. This burns me up. What could I say to her that won't hurt her feelings?

GOING BATTY

DEAR GOING: Gently clap your hand over her mouth and say, "Shhh—Honey, I want to hear this!" (P. S. — for added protection wear a thick leather glove.)

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: After 24 years of marriage I found out my husband had an affair with another woman. She has a wonderful husband and through his friends (SHE hasn't any) I have learned that she has one affair after another and they mean nothing to her. She gets to the men through their wives as she is very clever and vivacious. As soon as she conquers the husband, she drops the wife.

My husband admitted the affair but said it was over long ago. I feel the only way I can hold my head up and keep my self-respect is to leave him. Am I right? TROUBLED

DEAR TROUBLED: You know you are wrong. Forgiving and forgetting pay far greater dividends than "leaving" to preserve your "self-respect." Help your husband bury his mistake by never mentioning it again. You'll both be much happier.

DEAR ABBY: Aunt Jennie raised me because my parents separated when I was a baby, so I think of her as my mother. I have been married 16 years and Aunt Jen has always made her home with me. I can't tell you how dear she is to me.

Lately she has been acting very peculiar. First she started putting salt in her coffee and emptying the ash trays in my percolator. She likes to light matches and will light one after another till there isn't a match left in the house.

This worries me terribly. She refuses to go to a doctor. Have you any suggestions? We haven't much money.

NIECE

DEAR NIECE: If Aunt Jen refuses to go to a doctor, ask a doctor to come to see her. She definitely needs professional help, and your family doctor is a good start.

★ ★ ★

"Why don't my parents trust me?" For What Every Teenager Wants to Know, send 25c and a large, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Abby, care of this paper.

Most Men Bored With Woman Talk

By RUTH MILLETT

Someday maybe women will get smart enough to ask themselves why when a group of married couples get together the men always seem to ease away and get together in a huddle.

All women do now is shrug their shoulders helplessly. But if they ever ask "Why?" they'll have the problem licked. And it is a problem for women, because women don't like to be left sitting together like so many wallflowers.

It won't be hard to find the answer. All women have to do is start listening to the mixed conversation before the men start oozing away.

Invariably they'll find that the talk is children, houses, clothes or local gossip. And on every one of those topics the women not only have the last word, they have most of the words. The men just sit quietly by, watching for a chance to get away.

But if the women would only start the conversation, not by admiring each other's clothes or asking about each other's children but by talking politics, sports, the stock market, books, music or art, the conversation would become general and the men would stick around to put in their two cents' worth.

The truth is women exclude men from the conversation and then wonder why they always seem to get off by themselves to talk man talk.

Men don't dislike to talk to women. They just dislike having to listen to the same old topics.

Danger to Swimmers Grows Off California

Warming Waters Ups Shark Menace

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Marine scientists warned today that the warming waters off California beaches carry an ever-increasing menace of man-eating sharks.

Two men have been killed by the vicious fish in the last six weeks. Only two previous deaths by shark had been recorded—in 1952 and 1957.

But all authorities agreed that the great white sharks which struck 400 miles apart can no longer be considered isolated stragglers in these coastal waters.

One expressed fear that it might become necessary to protect swimmers with under-water shark nets, which have long been rigged off the shark-infested beaches of Australia.

Coastal waters, which for generations were too cold for the killer fish, have grown six degrees warmer in the last two years, scientists said.

"Just how this has taken place is what we're all trying to find out," said J. F. T. Sauer, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service oceanographer at Stanford University. Some scientists believe it has been caused by a shift in Pacific wind patterns which have brought less upswelling of cold water from the ocean floor.

"We have no idea how long the water will continue to become warmer," said J. B. Phillips, a marine biologist for the Fish and Game Department at Pacific Grove.

All experts agreed, however that the warming waters have brought not only shark but a number of other tropical and subtropical game fish into waters where they have seldom if ever appeared before.

"These great white sharks, even when only 10 and 11 feet long are very unpredictable and extremely vicious," Phillips said. "They will attack a victim by sense, not by sight until maybe the last moment.

"We've had sharks up here before, but they were probably just stragglers. Now, with more people using the beaches than ever before, and with the waters continuing to warm, things could get serious."

The longest such shark seen in California waters was 20 feet, but man-eaters up to 36 feet long have been caught off the Australian coast.

Albert Kogler, a 19-year-old college student, was attacked by a shark off Bakers Beach in San Francisco bay on May 7. His swimming companion, Shirley O'Neil, also 19, yesterday received a silver Carnegie Medal for heroically ignoring her own danger, swimming to Kogler and bringing him in to the beach, where he died of his wounds.

Old Puritan Bundling Beds Coming Back

CHICAGO (AP)—An Oshkosh, Wis., bed manufacturer says he has the answer to the old single bed vs. double bed controversy.

★ ★ ★

What is needed, he says, is a revival of the bundling bed of New England Puritan days with its center board separating bedmates.

★ ★ ★

History has it that early American courting couples seeking warmth slipped into the bed fully dressed on opposites sides of the center board.

The manufacturer, showing a pilot model at the Chicago furniture show, says: "The bundling bed may very well add up to a happy medium in the battle between twin and double beds."

Appendectomies Cut

NEW YORK (UPI) — Appendectomies declined 50 per cent between 1941 and 1956, according to the Archives of Surgery. Though there is no scientific explanation for the decline, some medical authorities attribute the drop partly to improved eating habits and the increased use of antibiotics.

Findings Will Aid Mankind

Mountain Winds Tracked

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A weather researcher who has released scores of small balloons in Western mountain valleys says he has found something which may be of great significance in forecasting.

★ ★ ★

The finding is that each valley has its own system of air currents. No matter which direction the valley runs, it harbors a wind which blows uphill near the surface during the day and downhill a few hundred feet above the land at night.

★ ★ ★

There are hundreds of such valleys in the Western American mountain systems, which run from Alaska to the central part of Chile. When prevailing general winds blow across these valleys, they convert the smaller local winds into spirals which move in the valley like the screw in a meat grinder.

This eddying effect is likely to play an important part in meteorology, Dr. Konrad Buettner, of the University of Washington, told the American Meteorological Society.

He said the finding already means something to forest fire fighters. It tells them that a daytime fire starting at the mouth of a mountain valley or canyon is likely to spread upward as if driven by a draft in a fireplace. A fire at night is more liable to head downhill.

These mountain valley winds also play a part in the spreading of seeds, fungus organisms and other microscopic life, Dr. Buettner said.

Since mountains play a dominant part in the weather mechanisms of Western America, these little winds probably constitute an important meteorological factor, Dr. Buettner reported.

Texans Can't Get Reserved Seats for Callas Opera

LONDON (AP) — Maria Meneghini Callas sings in the opera "Medea" tonight—and 15 Texans who flew the 10,000 miles to London specially for the performance found the tickets they thought were reserved weren't.

The production of the opera is a made-in-Dallas affair. Box office officials of the Royal Opera House said they knew nothing about the Texas party.

★ ★ ★

The Texans, led by Henry A. Miller Jr., appealed to Covent Garden authorities and even to U.S. Ambassador John Hay Whitney in vain.

River Excursion Fatal to Boy Scout

KANAB, Utah (AP)—A 15-year-old Boy Scout apparently fell from a dirt bluff into the Colorado River and drowned, officials said today.

★ ★ ★

Sheriff Le Nard Johnson called off the land search for Jesse M. Drury III of Holladay, Utah, a Salt Lake City suburb. Drury failed to return Monday from an excursion down the Colorado River.

★ ★ ★

Johnson planned dredging operations in the river below a point where search parties found a dirt trail caved in. He said the youth apparently fell from the trail, hit two ledges and then tumbled into the river.

Rail Conductor Uncaged; Will Warble Again

NEW HAVEN (AP) — "I feel free as a bird," Ed McCarthy, the warbling railroad conductor said today. He started to whistle like one.

McCarthy planned to mark the lifting of the injunction by entertaining passengers along the aisles of the Bankers' Special, which runs between New Haven and New York.

The conductor's whistling repertory—warbles, trills, chirps and other bird-like noises—kept many a New York commuter happy in the past 15 years. It pacified babies, wakened sleepers, gave even the card players something to smile about.

Then came the injunction. Too many complaints, said McCarthy's supervisor.

★ ★ ★

But the railroad did not reckon on the letter-writers. They wrote Alpert that McCarthy's cheery warbling was needed in the drab world of commuting. One suggested a promotion for the conductor.

The clearance came from Alpert, who earlier had noted that "a little whistling does no harm."

"The word was passed on down to me through the ranks," said McCarthy. "I plan to start whistling again."

MISS A MRS. — Joy Blaine, 22, who was crowned "Miss Nevada" last Saturday, is a "Mrs." not a "Miss." Miss Blaine, currently a show-girl at the Tropicana Hotel in Las Vegas, married in 1958, and said she filed for a divorce three days before the contest.

Blame Agreement Break in Detroit River Crashes

DETROIT (AP)—Failure to observe a passing agreement has been blamed for two collisions last weekend involving four freighters in the Detroit River.

Capt. Robert L. Dermot of the freighter Arcturus said yesterday the ocean freighter Wang Cavalier did not observe the agreement the two ships made Saturday when they were 1,000 feet apart.

"We each gave one blast (a signal that the ships would pass one another on the right)," he said. "Then when the Wang was about 1,000 feet away she started veering to the left and kept veering."

Dermot told a Coast Guard investigating board the southbound Wang Cavalier passed the southbound C. S. Robinson at about 10 m.p.h. and just missed colliding with the northbound Roonagh Head. He said the Wang Cavalier then veered into the port bow of the northbound Arcturus.

The Roonagh Head, out of Belfast, Ireland, and the Robinson, owned by Kinsman Transit Co. of Cleveland, then sideswiped each other. Both vessels suffered minor damage.

The Arcturus, owned by Interlake Steamship Co. of Cleveland, is undergoing repairs in suburban Ecorse. The Wang Cavalier, captained by Daniel W. Thomas, is en route to Hamburg, Germany.

Note-Passing Bandit Given $1,200 Extra

NEW YORK (UPI) — A note-passing bandit asked for $2,500 from a Queens bank yesterday and was handed $3,700 by the flustered teller. He got away.

The six-foot, 200-pound bank robber handed Mrs. Amy Taylor a holdup demand written on a regular bank check, with the sum written in the proper place. On the check he had written: "Stamp like a regular check. This is a holdup . . . Thank you."

Journey To Love

By Virginia Nielsen

© 1959 by Virginia Nielsen. Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Kathie has met Ebenezer Ward, owner of the property to which Kathie had a deed left to her by her uncle Job Hammer. Ward is the grandfather of Sam Ward, a young man Kathie met on the trip from San Francisco.

Chapter XVIII

Somewhat to Kathie's surprise, Sam did not accompany her into his grandfather's office. When she had passed the old man, who stood holding the door for her, he closed it.

"Sit down, please," he said. His manner was courtly but faintly arrogant. He wore a tropical business suit, but on his feet were odd, Oriental-style sandals. Kathie watched him as he shuffled across the carpet to seat himself behind his desk.

He was older than Uncle Job had been, she guessed. He reminded her of a dry leaf, wizened and wrinkled.

"You are aware that I am interested in an unrecorded deed you claim to have," he began at once, faintly emphasizing "unrecorded" and "claim." He continued, and now Kathie was sure of the contempt in his dry old voice:

"Your deed has no value whatever."

"If it is worthless, Mr. Ward," Kathie asked, "why did you send Sam to the mainland to find me? And when he had found me, why did he pretend he knew nothing at all about me or the deed?"

* * *

"My dear Miss Ebberts, I will be frank with you," Mr. Ward said. "An instrument such as you claim to have represents a mild threat to my interests.

"Unfortunately, there are certain lawyers who would be willing to make a lawsuit out of it. They might even be able to get an injunction that would tie up my business while the suit was in progress.

"And while I would not doubt the outcome of any such suit, I would deplore the interference with my business. Now do you understand why I sent Sam to investigate?

'SAM IS YOUNG'

"As for what you call his secretiveness," he suddenly added, "Sam is young and in some ways still rather irresponsible. When he reported that you had engaged passage for a trip to Honolulu, I cabled him to return home—that I preferred to deal with you personally."

"But if the deed is worthless, Mr. Ward," Kathie said innocently, "I don't understand why Uncle Job had it at all."

"My dear girl," the man answered, impatience obvious in his voice, "I bought this property from Phineas Redd for $5,000 some 40 years ago, and the deed has been on record almost that long.

"Where your uncle got his deed, or why, I have no idea. But both your deed and mine can't be genuine, or Phineas Redd sold this property twice. And if your deed is the genuine one, why didn't Job Hammer have it recorded? Why did he never claim the property or challenge my deed?"

Kathie sighed and shook her head. "You needn't worry, Mr. Ward," she said, and rose to her feet. "I'll be frank with you, too. I haven't money enough to take the deed into court even if I wanted to."

* * *

"I appreciate your honesty," the old man said drily, and his tone made Kathie realize that he probably knew all about her financial situation.

"In return, I am going to make you a generous offer. Just as a matter of insurance for the hotel, I am going to buy your deed for $5,000.

"The amount I paid Phineas Redd for the property, and so it would represent the value of your uncle's deed at the time it was executed—if it were valid."

KEEN OLD EYES

He was smiling at her now, his keen old eyes somewhat warmer. He did know how little money she had, Kathie realized, and began to wonder if he were just being kind.

But she hesitated.

He pulled open a drawer and took out a large ledger-style checkbook. "Do you have the deed with you?"

"No. It's in a safe deposit box."

For a moment his eyes held hers. Then he put away the checkbook. "Bring it, and I will give you $5,000," he repeated.

"I'll think it over."

"Very well." His manner dismissed the subject. "You are comfortable? Your room is satisfactory?"

"Oh, yes, sir."

"Good. I'll let you go back to Sam now. I'm sure he's getting impatient. You are very pretty, my dear."

Kathie flushed. "Thank you."

* * *

He opened the door of his office and followed her into the living room, where Sam stood before the long windows, smoking.

"She's a nice girl," his grandfather said. "Are you going to marry her?"

Sam's look as he turned around was startled. He laughed, "Now, wait a minute, Grandfather. You're rushing us! But it isn't a bad idea."

"I'm tied up with Grandfather until late this afternoon," he said apologetically. "He wants to go over some business with me. I'll call you when I can."

A few minutes later, after the elevator doors had separated them, she realized that his kiss had not had any effect upon her. She could remember no reaction but the odd tension of that brief moment when she had awaited it. Too much has been happening to me, she thought. Too much and too fast. Her emotions were confused, and she was afraid to trust them.

Mobile Classroom to Teach Driving

EAST LANSING (AP)—A classroom on wheels designed for driver education purposes is making its debut this week at Michigan State University.

The mobile driving school will be inspected by delegates to the annual conference of the American Driver and Safety Education Assn.

2 Dem Leaders Discover Selves in a Cross Fire

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Those powerful Texas twins—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn, leaders of the House and Senate Democrats — are in a strange spot for them. They're in the middle.

This is an odd turn of events for this shrewd pair of politicians. They started this year with a Congress where the Democrats, because of their 1958 election victory, had an almost overwhelming majority.

It was thought then — because of the big Democratic majority and the fact President Eisenhower was in the last two years of his second and last term — that Johnson and Rayburn, not Eisenhower, would call the tune and the shots.

The Democrats talked of programs far broader than Eisenhower had in mind. But this was at a time when the country still didn't know whether it was truly pulling out of the 1958 recession.

Big programs — and big-spending programs — might have been a necessity if the recession continued. But it didn't. The country was moving out of recession into another potential boom.

And Eisenhower, probably with the help of some smart political advice, found a way to put the Democratic majority on the defensive. This was in his campaign — sounded over and over — against the danger of inflation and big spending.

He put the label "big spenders" on the Democrats. It made them self-conscious.

But he had a weapon to use against them, too. This was the threat he'd veto any programs which the Democratic-run Congress passed but which he considered excessive. It has been a potent weapon, augmented by a constant needling from Republican leaders in Congress against Democratic "budget busters."

Monday the Senate, where Democrats far outnumber Republicans, backtracked on a bill for federal airport grants, voting to continue for two years the present rate of 63 million dollars a year instead of the 465 million the Democrats originally wanted over a four-year period.

Some Senate Democrats shook their heads over the retreat and said they had been forced to surrender "with a loaded veto pen at our heads." But if this wasn't bad enough for Johnson and Rayburn to have to endure, they got something just as bad from inside their own party.

Over the weekend the Democratic Advisory Council, made up of prominent Democrats, denounced Eisenhower's threat of vetoes on legislation he didn't like.

At the same time it complained of "watering down proposed legislation to the limits of what the President might accept." This was interpreted as a sharp crack at the Johnson-Rayburn leadership. Both men have consistently ignored the council.

Then the council threw in this: it advised the congressional Democrats to pass legislation they think the country needs even if it is vetoed, since it would make a good campaign issue in the 1960 elections.

That's free advice but begs the question. If Johnson and Rayburn push legislation they think the country needs, but only to get it vetoed and end up with no legislation at all, the country is worse off than if Johnson and Rayburn had pushed less far-reaching legislation which Eisenhower did not veto.

In other words, while the Democrats got a talking point in 1960, the country would suffer. Since Johnson and Rayburn ignore the council, they'll probably ignore this and go along on compromises.

Judge to Step Down

DETROIT (AP)—Arthur F. Lederle plans to step down as chief of the U. S. District Court Aug. 6. Lederle, 71, said he was making the move because of advanced age. He added that he planned to continue on the bench, however. Lederle was named a federal judge in 1936 by the late President Roosevelt.

Pike Surplus Asked for Rails

Jersey Governor Urges Diversion of Funds to Treat Transit as Whole

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — Gov. Robert B. Meyner has proposed tapping New Jersey Turnpike surpluses for 660 million dollars to provide a painless solution to the state's transit headaches.

Meyner announced the plan at a news conference Tuesday. He said the turnpike reserves could provide the money over the next 28 years without costing the taxpayers a penny and without harming the interests of the turnpike's bondholders.

The key to his proposal would be a pledge of state credit behind the 430 million dollars in turnpike bonds. The state's voters would have to approve that proposal at a referendum in November.

Then, Meyner said, owners of two-thirds of the turnpike bonds would have to agree to letting the state use the 118-mile toll road's surplus. Finally, he said, the Legislature would have to pass bills providing use for the money.

Meyner said the money could be used to give railroads tax relief, change railroad practices, consolidate rail service, make loans for new equipment and to make greater use of present facilities.

The idea, he said, is to treat the whole transportation problem — rail, bus and car—as parts of a whole.

At present, all surpluses of the turnpike are pledged to paying off its bonds. The bonds are scheduled to be paid off in 1988, but the turnpike is making 45 per cent more than it needs to pay its expenses and debts.

Home-Made Cars Pose Big Problem

LA JUNTA, Colo. (UPI)—Youngsters in La Junta have a new fad — building their own cars — which caused some consternation among officials of the Colorado State Patrol.

The law required that the home-made autos be classified as motor vehicles. This, the patrol decided, made them subject to all the titling, licensing and inspection requirements. It als meant that the drivers had to be 16 and carry insurance.

As a compromise, the young motorists are being allowed to operate their cars on private property—and not on city streets or highways.

Quincy Youth Drowns

QUINCY (AP)—Ronald Hall, 15, of Quincy drowned Tuesday while swimming in Marble Lake near here. Police said the youth was swimming with two teenage companions who tried to pull Hall to shore but failed.

Tells Detroit Steel Plans

DETROIT (AP) — The Iron Age, national metalworking weekly, reported Tuesday Detroit area steel mills are scheduled to operate at 96.3 per cent of capacity this week compared with 98.4 per cent last week. A year ago the mills at this time ran at 66.5 per cent of capacity.

Flint Doctor Dies

N-Power Combine May Make New Bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Wolverine Electric Cooperative, Big Rapids, Mich., may make a new bid to build a nuclear reactor in Michigan, Sen. Philip A. Hart (D-Mich) said yesterday.

Hart said he had conferred with Chairman John A. McCone of the Atomic Energy Commission about the possibility and was informed there are no obstacles to filing a new application.

A combine headed by Wolverine was turned down by the AEC in 1958 after it advanced proposals to build a reactor at Hersey, Mich. The AEC said the project, as planned, would be too costly.

Hart said the new proposal, if submitted by Wolverine, would be based on one of two small reactors authorized Monday when the Senate completed congressional action on a 23-million-dollar atomic energy authorization bill.

★ ★ ★

He emphasized that Wolverine has made no formal proposals, but has expressed interest in the possibility.

Susan Is Placed in Child Institute

DETROIT (AP) — Tiny Susan Lawrence, who was sought by hundreds of police and volunteers for four days last week, has been placed in an institution for emotionally disturbed children.

The girl was found sitting in a field on Detroit's northwest side last Friday by a passing motorist and taken to the hospital. She had disappeared from home Monday.

Earliest known record of a theatrical production performed in English in the American colonies was "Baare and Ye Cub, Ye" in Virginia in 1665.

Solon Admits Bill Won't Save

Goes Back on Earlier Vets' Claims to Concede $10 Billion Cost

WASHINGTON (AP)—The chief author of the House-passed veterans pension bill conceded today that it will cost the government an extra 10 billion dollars in the next 40 years rather than save 12 billion as was claimed.

Rep. Olin E. Teague (D-Tex) made the concession after Reps. Clare E. Hoffman (R-Mich) and H. R. Gross (R-Iowa) said the cost of the measure had been camouflaged in Monday's debate. It passed the House 226-54 and was sent to the Senate after limited debate.

Strongly denying any deception, Teague, who is chairman of the House Veterans Affairs Committee, said that all House members were supplied last weekend with "full information as to the effects and costs of the bill."

He said that the cost of a provision adding many more widows to pension rolls was not mentioned in debate "because of lack of time." That provision is expected to cost 22 billion dollars through the year 2000.

But, Teague added, "Congress was bound to pass such a provision anyway so this shouldn't be counted in the over-all cost of the bill."

Hoffman told a reporter that when the bill was brought up for House passage Monday the sponsors "assured us there would be a saving of 12 billion dollars by the year 2000."

"It wasn't until afterward that I learned that rather than saving 12 billion it would cost an extra 10 billion," Hoffman said.

Gross said that if he had known the bill would have boosted pension costs "I wouldn't have voted for it."

The bill was brought up for House action under suspension of rules limiting debate to 40 minutes and barring any amendments.

Missile Goes Astray in Practice Launching

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE Base, Calif. (AP)—A Thor missile went astray and had to be exploded in flight Tuesday.

The single-stage intermediate range ballistic missile was launched by a British Royal Air Force crew learning to operate Thor bases in England.

An Air Force spokesman said only five of 48 Thor shots have failed since the program began. The British crew recently launched the Thor successfully.

Drivers Sued by Dad of Injured Patrol Boy

Damages totaling $70,000 are being sought in Oakland County Circuit Court by a Ferndale father whose safety patrol boy son had to have his right leg amputated after being struck by a car in January 1958.

Listed as defendants are Elizabeth S. and Thomas J. Quinn of 745 W. Hazelhurst Ave., Ferndale, and Leroy Counts, 21104 Parkside St., Royal Oak Township.

The suits contend that Ricky was on duty Jan. 8, 1958 at 8:30 a.m. standing on the sidewalk on the northeast corner of Farmdale and Leroy streets in Ferndale.

Andrews claims both Quinn's car and that of Counts were being driven in a reckless and careless manner under existing weather conditions. Both cars collided, with Counts' car ricocheting off the other and striking Ricky.

Detroit House Blaze Claims a Third Child

DETROIT (AP) — A house fire which took the lives of two little sisters has claimed its third young victim.

Gregory Crowell, 5, died yesterday.

A fire at a two story frame house in midtown Detroit Sunday claimed the lives of his sisters, Mary, 3, and Regina, 4.

Four other Crowell children, Reginald, 12, Nathan, 9, Beverly, 8, and Lawrence, 6, still are hospitalized with burns. An eighth Crowell child, Pamela, 11, suffered minor burns.

The parents of the children, Reginald Crowell, 34, and his wife, Mary, 37, were away when the fire broke out. Both are held for investigation of manslaughter.

You'd Best Get Divorce From Romantic Tan

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — The sun, which has been highly touted as the thing to find a place in, turns out to be overrated.

Not only overrated, but dangerous, damaging, aging, wrinkling, and the bearer of a false sense of warm security.

Helena Rubinstein told me all about this a few years ago, but I didn't quite believe her. She said, "You want to get a suntan? Tsk, tsk, tsk. You will be old before you are 30!"

She said the sun was for sundials.

Now, no less a publication than "Today's Health," the magazine of the American Medical Association, comes out with a story saying that the health benefits of the sun are negligible—and the dangers are immense.

"The only proved physiological benefit of sunlight on normal skin is the formation of vitamin D," it states. "And ordinary daylight and dietary sources insure adequate vitamin D to virtually all normal adults, so the contribution of sunbathing in this respect is of little significance . . ."

"Continued overexposure to baking sunlight may produce permanent changes in the skin after a number of years. It's a long-term hazard of chronic exposure. . .

"But anyone who keeps sunbaking his or her skin to a deep coffee-brown tan during two or three hot summer months may, after a few seasons, have skin as truly aged, physiologically, as that of a much older person."

★ ★ ★

Since the effects of harsh sunlight are cumulative, the skin of a sun-worshipper may reach the point where changes are irreversible. "Then nothing," warn the experts, "can make the skin young again. Such skin looks weather-beaten, wrinkled, leathery and coarse in texture; the V of the neck area may become permanently reddened; the lips scaly, thickened or fissured."

★ ★ ★

This is such a dramatic picture of decay that my blood curdled under the leathery cheeks, and my heart was in my fissuring mouth. But forcing my eyes (which have possibly suffered lowered sensitivity to dim light, from too much sun) to move on — I discovered that one serious burn, alone, can damage the complexion for life.

★ ★ ★

"A single bad sunburn," which injures the living skin cells, can give the skin a "mottled, blotched, piebald appearance. Ability to tan may be lost for the rest of the season, or even more or less permanently. Also, the injured skin is more sensitive and can't stand so much sun as it did before."

★ ★ ★

Hair also can be sunburned, says "Today's Health," so that curl — even a permanent wave — no longer holds. It becomes dry. The color uneven.

★ ★ ★

The final warning, frivolities aside, is that "skin cancer is somewhat more frequent in persons who have had continued exposure to sun and weather for many years."

Of course, there is scarcely a red-blooded, tan-skinned American who will take these pessimisms seriously because it is a national tradition in this country to try to out-bronze the neighbors.

Any man who returns from a vacation with a pale face is accused of spending his two weeks in a saloon. And any woman who consistently hides under a sunbonnet is ridiculed as a weakling or a show-off.

Besides, a tan is a symbol of athletic prowess, vigor and, especially in the winter, a certain opulence.

Better to look old and rich, than young and underprivileged—eh what, you in the bikini?

Has No Rancor for Father's Death

Tojo's Daughter Goes to U. of M.

SEATTLE (AP)—The daughter of Japan's wartime premier, whose father was hanged as a war criminal in 1948, has no dislike for America.

"I've met many Americans in Japan and they are nice people. I know I will make friends here," said Kimie Tojo, 27.

The smiling and attracitve daughter of the late Hideki Tojo, is visiting a former college classmate here. She will leave for the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor Wednesday to study international politics on a scholarship.

On her arrival by plane from Tokyo, Miss Tojo said of her father that he was a "very sweet, very kind person" and that she did not blame America for his death. His career did "not necessarily" influence her choice of study.

"I'm just interested in politics," she explained.

She is staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Albin. Mrs. Albin and Miss Tojo were roommates at Ibaraki Christian College near Tokyo in 1951-53. Mrs. Albin said Miss Tojo was a "diligent student; the straight A type."

Brazil Likes Castor Oil, It Makes Money

It isn't because people are taking the stuff more than ever before. It's because industry has found many uses for castor oil.

It is used to make transparent soap, orinpaintt o make it dry faster. It is used in dyeing cotton fabrics, or for making resins and synthetic fibers. It is a dandy brake fluid and lubricant, especially for jet planes, because of its low freezing point.

And the castor bean itself — grown in most of Brazil—is good for fertilizer after the oil has been squeezed out.

In 1957, Brazil raked in almost 17½ million dollars pedding castor oil around the world—about 10 million dollars worth to the United States. There aren't any figures yet on how much Brazil made last year.

Farmers can't keep up with the demand. They still farm with 18th and 19th century methods in many parts of Brazil. Sixty-three new castor oil plants with modern equipment keep clamoring for more beans. But, because of the farmers, they operate below capacity.

U. S. Air Force Builds Atomic-Proof Structure in Germany

By VERN HAUGLAND
Associated Press Aviation Writer

KAISERSLAUTERN, Germany (AP)—An air war control center, as nearly immune from atomic attack as a structure can be, is nearing completion deep inside a mountain not far from this West German town.

Col. Edward S. F. Newbury of Bakersfield, Calif., director of the center, said the German contractor will turn over the completed project to the U.S. command in about three weeks. The underground headquarters is already in operation.

The center maintains an air defense screen over the central part of Europe day and night to protect the Atlantic Alliance from sneak attack.

Manned by a staff of 125, the center constantly plots by radar all air movements within its area of responsibility on both sides of the Iron Curtain. It can dispatch tactical air weapons at a moment's notice.

As newsmen watched, more than 30 unidentified aircraft were being tracked on the far side of the Iron Curtain in Czechoslovakia and East Germany.

"It is a beautiful, clear day and the Communists are doing a lot more flying around than usual," Newbury said.

The center is housed in three parallel corridors, 450 feet long, tunneled horizontally into the mountain. Sixty-seven long, narrow rooms are air conditioned with equipment designed to filter out radioactive material.

German engineers drilled three tunnels at the site from 1937 to 1939 for ammunition storage. The German west front command occupied the tunnels from 1944 until the end of World War II, after which the French used them as an ammunition depot.

The American Air Force started using the tunnels as a combat operations center in 1954.

Cat-Sized Rats Forage Through New York Town

DANNEMORA, N.Y. (AP)—This northern New York community is fighting an invasion of rats, some of them described as being big as cats.

Mayor William Donahue said the rats were coming from a dump used by Clinton State Prison.

The top of the dump is covered with so many rats it appears like it's moving, he said. It looked like there were millions of them, he said.

The mayor said the rats apparently had become hungry since the prison stopped putting raw garbage on the dump. The rats now are ranging through the village in search of food.

Donahue said a boy who lives on the same street he does killed nine with a baseball bat.

"Some people are shooting them, and I'm sure not going to prohibit it as long as these rats are running around," he said.

Sweden Interested in Idle Straits Ferry

LANSING (UPI) — Officials of the Swedish Ministry of Transportation have taken "a keen interest" in the possibility of purchasing the Vacationland, pride of the Mackinac Straits ferry fleet.

★ ★ ★

A Highway Department spokesman said Swedish transportation engineers expressed the interest during a visit to the department.

The spokesman emphasized no commitments were made.

The department announced earlier Canadian officials expressed an interest in buying the vessel for the Borden-Cape Tormentinue run in Nova Scotia.

Of the five ferry boats put out of operation by opening of the Mackinac Bridge Nov. 1, 1957, only the Diesel-powered Vacationland remains unsold. It has an appraised value of about three million dollars.

U.S. Must Develop Top Brainpower to Solve Complex Future Problems

(America's greatest need, perhaps, is for brilliant human minds able to solve the critical problems crowding in upon us. But the sad truth, says a top U. S. educator, is that we are lagging behind in developing great intellects.)

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Writer

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — China and Russia outstrip us in that most precious resource—human brainpower, says the scientist-president of the Pennsylvania State University.

They have more people, hence a larger potential supply of brain power resources.

Most vitally, continues Dr. Eric A. Walker, since they have more people they have more of the "five per cent" brains capable of big ideas, discoveries and solutions to problems in science and other fields.

"Very few of us have the imagination, intelligence and training needed for truly big steps and discoveries," Dr. Walker says in an interview.

"All through human history, only a very small percentage of people, perhaps as small as five per cent, had this kind of intelligence, from the time of cavemen who first used fire, or set traps, or developed the wheel or sail.

"Because there are more Russians than Americans, Russia has more people capable of real innovation. Potentially, China has even more than Russia.

"Our problem is to find our brilliant minds, then learn to use them to best advantage. Right now, we are using perhaps only half of them at anywhere near their maximum potential. We may never have enough to solve the new problems that inevitably will come along."

As an example, population is exploding, Dr. Walker says. There are nearly 180 million Americans and 2.7 billion people in the world today.

Within 40 years, some estimates make it 250 million Americans, and a world population of 4 billions. All will need food, clothing, substitutes for oil, coal, iron, electric power and other resources which run short. This will call for new synthetic foods, and new sources of power from the sun or the atom.

NEED BIG MINDS

"We need minds which can synthesize, tie knowledge together, jump to the big concepts. All the rest of us are technicians compared with this kind of thinking."

Dr. Walker, who succeeded Dr. Milton Eisenhower as head of the nation's ninth largest university, has some suggestions to make better use of gifted human minds.

One step is greater support of education.

"We Americans do a great job of 'talking' good education, but apparently we don't really want it," says Christian K. Arnold, Dr. Walker's assistant.

"The United States actually spends less on higher education per capita from government revnue than any other civilized country. We trail far behind the Russians.

"We spend about three billion dollars a year on higher education, but 10½ billions on alcohol, one billion for baby-sitting, 1½ on Christmas cards.

"Some estimates show we spend $15.31 per capita on higher education—a bit less than we spend on betting—and $85 per capita for alcohol and tobacco, and $87 on automobiles."

TRAIN 'ASSOCIATES'

Dr. Walker suggests training "associates in science" through two-year college technical courses to do many routine tasks in science.

"Many students interested in science can't make the full four-year college training because it is beyond their capability," he says. "They drop out, and are lost to science.

"But we need them, as data collectors, as designers, in many jobs where they would be highly useful, and personally happy. By doing this work, they free our most brilliant minds for really productive work, for their flights of thinking and fancy that result in truly big discoveries."

With colleges facing a tremendous wave of students in the next few years, the two-year associates-in-science courses would meet part of the need, Dr. Walker says. This also would leave the four-year college training open for more intensive, demanding training of the best minds.

"We should make it very clear that it is no disgrace to train to become an associate in science," Dr. Walker adds.

LACK MONEY

"We should also be learning how to recognize our finest minds very early, and to provide scholarships as needed.

"Universities should be doing more educational research on problems of this nature, but they lack money for it."

Russia is working in her own ways to train and use her best minds, says the pipe-smoking Walker.

★ ★ ★

"But I'm convinced our educational system is best, because we offer opportunities rather than forcing students to go in some decreed direction. It's a question of humanitarianism versus slavery. Our freedom of choice for students gives us especial strength."

Cat Sympathy Costly

MIAMI (UPI) — Philip Robert Anderson, 30, a stockbroker, was fined $30 yesterday for raising a ruckus in a fancy Polynesian restaurant. Police said he was annoyed because the waiter wouldn't let him take home some shrimp for a neighbor's cat.

New York City Board Acts to Lessen Danger of Accidental Deaths

The board deferred any idea of banning the bags outright because the plastics industry was trying to produce a safer product and because the bags were so useful. The new requirement calls for a warning label on the bags.

In Washington, U.S. Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney has warned parents that use of plastic dry cleaning bags for children's bedding is an invitation to tragedy.

Burney said yesterday that most of the suffocations caused by the bags resulted from use of the thin plastic film to cover mattresses, pillows or bankets. He said the Public Health Service has received reports of 49 accidental plastic bag suffocations since January, the bulk of which involved children younger than one year.

Burney urged parents to keep all forms of the thin plastic material away from children.

Will Not Carried Out, Inflation Takes Over

LOCKPORT, N.Y. (UPI) — The will of former Youngstown mayor Guy H. Wall was very specific on one point. Regarding burial, he instructed: "Get Dayton Hardison (local funeral director) and don't spend over $700 for the job."

However, when a state tax appraisal was filed in Surrogate's Court it listed funeral expenses for Wall at $1,379. "Inflation caught up with us," an executor explained to the court.

The U. S. has six per cent of the world's population living on seven per cent of the world's land area.

Plan Would Benefit All, Says Texas Writer

Budget Balancer: Let Bank Pay Bills

DALLAS (AP) — Let the bank pay the family's monthly bills and everybody will benefit, a Dallas advertising executive, E. B. Andrews, said.

★ ★ ★

Writing in The American Banker, a trade publication, Andrews proposed having the customer send all his charge account bills to the bank. The bank would handle the accounts in one of two ways:

Under the first plan, the customer would authorize the bank to pay bills as they come in, up to a pre-set limit.

Under the second plan, the bank would send the customer a list of all bills at the end of the month. The customer would return the list with a notation of how much he wanted paid on each account.

Andrews said the plans would cut the number of checks written by the average family from 25 to 5 or 6 per month. Businesses, he said, would benefit through elimination of thousands of bills, envelopes, payment notations and individual deposits.

He termed the plan the first fundamental change in banking "in about 100 years."

World Awaiting Views of Reds

Nikita, East German Visitors Expected to Present Berlin Ideas

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khruschev and a visiting delegation of East German leaders kept the world waiting today for their views on Berlin and Germany while they toured a Soviet industrial exhibition.

Khrushchev and the visiting East Germans have consulted off and on for more than a week on the German situation and a communique had been expected today.

Western sources said it was not expected now until tomorrow and possibly not until Saturday.

The East Germans, headed by President Otto Grotewohl and party leader Walter Ulbricht, returned to Moscow today from a visit to Gorky with First Deputy Soviet Premier Anastas Mikoyan and it was generally believed the communique would follow.

The Soviet news agency Tass, reporting on a speech by Ulbricht at Gorky, quoted him as saying of a German peace treaty draft:

"This draft would mean that there would be no atomic weapons or rocket bases in Germany, that key positions of militarism would be destroyed in West Germany and peace-loving forces of the people would be ensured unhampered development."

Ulbricht said West Germany planned to have an atomic army by 1961, but East Germany wanted to outstrip its neighbor's living standard by then.

Britain's Flying Saucer Designated No Aircraft

LONDON (UPI) — The government ruled yesterday that Britain's new flying saucer is not an aircraft.

John Rodgers, parliamentary secretary to the Board of Trade, told the House of Commons that the experimental SRN-1 Hovercraft "is a vehicle for sea or land transport rather than an aircraft."

The Hovercraft, which has been undergoing trials near Cowes in the Isle of Wight, is capable of traveling over land or water on a cushion of air.

Bill for Closed Primary Breezes to Senate Floor

Its prompt committee endorsement yesterday was disquieting to inattentive House members who let it slip through the lower chamber last Thursday without debate, and then unsuccessfully sought to recall it.

Under the bill, a voter in a primary would have to identify his political party preference in order to receive a ballot. His preference would be entered in elections records.

Primary ballots would be printed on separate sheets of paper. At present candidates listings are printed on opposite sides of the same sheet and a voter may make his choice of tickets in the privacy of the poll booth.

Said Sen. L. Harvey Lodge (R-Oakland County), Elections Committee chairman:

"I'm for the bill. This idea that you can be non-partisan in everything isn't sound. Why shouldn't a voter be willing to declare his party allegiance?"

Lodge said the measure, which would restore Michigan primary procedures to those of years ago, would prevent voters from secretly invading the primary of the opposite party to nominate a weak candidate.

He said his committee's decision was not unanimous.

The bill caught House opponents napping last Thursday, a day when 45 bills were rushed through. Only a scattering of votes was recorded against it.

Later, after failure of the move to recall the bill from the Senate, Rep. Raymond J. Apley Jr. (D-Mt. Clemens) said he would ask Gov. Williams to veto the bill if it reached his desk.

No Hands, Feet; 2 Pushbuttons Run the Tractor

But it was controlled — by an engineer walking about 15 feet behind it with a small blue radio set in his hands.

The driverless tractor, developed by Jim Pichon of the University of Nebraska, is seen as a step toward eventual pushbutton farming.

But even Pichon is quick to point out that today's farmer isn't likely to see the day when he can sit back in his easy chair and farm by remote control while watching the operation on closed-circuit television.

Pichon's radio-operated tractor is a standard production model Oliver tractor with a radio receiver under the seat. The box is hooked up to the all-hydraulic control system on the tractor and the operator has only to push two little red buttons.

By flicking a button one way, the operator can start the tractor. He can shift gears, engage or disengage the clutch and control the speed with other button controls.

Ray Nash, an engineer who is working with Pichon in an effort to perfect the automatic farmer, explained the radio set to newsmen and salesmen at a convention.

The set has an 11-meter band that trasmits high frequency signals on eight control channels and actually is very similar to a remote-control garage door opening system.

Sleepy Zellis Snores Free From Prison

Zellis had been given a 90-day sentence May 1 for stealing an amplifier from a night club.

But soon after Zellis was jailed, Judge Simon L. Leis and probation officials began receiving calls from Charles Junker, the jail warden; Joseph Hesselbrock, his assistant, and Sheriff Dan Tehan.

It seemed that Zellis snored day and night. He couldn't stay awake on any job. He snored so much during the day that other prisoners couldn't work and made so much noise at night they couldn't sleep.

★ ★ ★

Judge Leis and the Hamilton County Probation Department decided he had to be released—on three months' probation.

Japanese Fishermen Win Rhee Pardon

SEOUL (UPI) — President Syngman Rhee today granted amnesty to 10 Japanese fishermen who were seized last month for violating South Korea's 60-mile territorial limit.

★ ★ ★

It was the first time such an amnesty has been granted. The announcement said the action was taken because the 10 Japanese had rescued a Korean patrol boat last year.

★ ★ ★

The foreign ministry said the crewmen and their vessel would be released by tomorrow.

HOW DO YOU COOK THESE TURKEYS?

There are two schools of thought. Some prefer the covered roaster. Others say that the open roasting method, the same as that used for tender turkeys, is satisfactory.

In either case you have to allow extra time for the less tender birds—30 minutes to 1½ hours, depending upon the size.

The estimated time for a 12-pound stuffed turkey, for example, is five hours, in an uncovered pan at 325 degrees. Often a young turkey will cook in less than that. A yearling of this size, however, will take a minimum of 5½ hours and possibility six.

To cook the turkey in moist heat, start by greasing the skin generously. Then brown it in an uncovered pan in a moderately hot oven, 400 degrees. This takes about 45 minutes.

Then cover the pan, either with a lid that fits tightly or aluminum foil, pinching it to the pan on all sides to get a tight seal. Finish the cooking at 325 degrees.

Antarctic as Dry as the Mojave?

Condition Would Exist if Polar Region Weren't So Cold

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—If the Antarctic weren't so cold, it would be as dry as the Mojave desert, a scientist says.

Robert P. Sharp, of the California Institute of Technology, says the amount of moisture deposited on the Antarctic as snow and on the Mojave as rain is comparable. It's just that it doesn't evaporate so fast at the Antarctic.

The scientist spoke at a symposium on the International Geophysical year. Attended by members of the American Assn. for the advancement of science at San Diego State College.

Sharp said IGY studies indicate that the average snowfall in the ice-covered Antarctic was roughly only five inches a year but that the average thickness of ice in the Antarctic is about 8,000 feet, Sharp said.

Another member of the symposium, Dr. Clarence Palmer, a meteorologist of the University of California, estimatesd exports had collected 70 million bits of information about surface weather conditions during their studies.

That was about one quarter of the information collected in research below 100,000 feet, he said.

Bob Considine Says:

You Can 'Read' Letter While It's in Envelope

NEW YORK—We make a practice of avoiding opening letters. Ridiculous, of course, and unkind.

It will be hard for you to believe, but after a time there is no great need for opening mail, if it is only curiosity you are seeking to appease. You can tell generally what the letter says by means of other clues.

For example, any very thick envelope, hand-addressed and sent from Southern California contains the ravings of a religious crank.

DISLIKE 'BUTTIN' IN'

Letters from below the Mason-Dixon Line, at the time of the Little Rock school crisis (which continues) were critical of northerners "buttin' in." Letters from banks generally start, "Your account appears to be overdrawn . . ."

But it's not wise or polite to fail to get around to the mail every week or so even though you don't read past the first line or two. Some pretty unnervingly unexpected things catch the eye. To wit:

"The Maine sardine has had its feelings hurt, and by no less an august body than the United Nations," begins a letter from Nancy Webb of the Maine Sardine Council. We didn't dare venture into the nature of the slight.

"I believe you will be interested in the establishment of a new organization, the National Patent Development Corp.," another starts. Somehow, I just don't think I will.

"Summertime," begins a report from J. Edgar Hoover, "the customary period for leisure and relaxation, is certainly not the season for a vacation from crime prevention."

The vice president of the Chase Manhattan Bank, J. Stewart Baker Jr., asks, "Do you know 'what's new' for teenagers?"

Well, you don't drop a letter like that, so I plunged on and discovered that what's new is "Explorer Scouting." It "emphasizes in a modern unique program, physical fitness, social grace, vocational exploration, self-reliance, and service to others."

And I'm for it, pending learning what it's all about.

"I'm getting tired of people saying to me, 'Why don't you write a book?' And so I've started writing it in self-defense," writes Milton Reynolds from Mexico.

INVENTED WATER

"My 9 Trips Around the World" . . . "My Record Flight Around the World" . . . "My Various Tiger Hunts (Shot Two Only Last Month in India)" . . . "Making My First Million by Age 26 (I Was Broke at 30)." A book like that will have less chance of missing than his pen did.

"Dear Friend," writes Zahidallah Agish, president of Jami'at al Islam, Inc., cable address Mosjamiat, San Francisco. "Security and happiness, like race, religion, and the nation to which we are born, are happenstance."

You can say that again, Zahidallah.

Sidney Phillips, president of Criterion Books, Inc., writes, "June 28 marks the 45th anniversary of the assassination of Archduke Franz Ferdinand and his consort Countess Sophie Chotek at Sarajevo in 1914." He's bringing out a book on an event that led to 30,000,000 casualties and a new world order.

★ ★ ★

A fellow in my business gets invited to a lot of fine functions, and doesn't have time to take them all in. But one such invite can't very well be rejected.

The telegram begins, "You are invited to attend small informal dinner honoring delegation of British glass bottle blowers . . ."

I've never met a British glass bottle blower. There is also a note that would have alarmed and surprised us a few years ago.

It begins, "One million pounds of display material for the Soviet Exhibition have now arrived at the New York Coliseum, Alexander Shelnov, deputy director of the exhibition, announced today."

And, finally, another letter from Giuseppe Montauta Papale, a lady who lives in Sicily, saying, "I would appreciate very much your answering my letters in which I asked for a 20,000,000 lire loan . . ."

It's a wonderful world, isn't it?

Toledo Receives Overseas Cargo at Record Pace

TOLEDO (AP) — Overseas cargo has been moving through the Port of Toledo at a record pace since the St. Lawrence Seaway opened, Toledo Marine Terminals reports.

Overseas imports have showed the most spectacular increase, with most of this gain due to a flow of foreign-made steel to midwestern consumers.

The manager of the terminals, Adm. Robert W. Cary, (USN-ret), said TMT handled 9,371 gross tons of imports from overseas in the first 40 days of the 1959 shipping season, compared with 1,789 tons in the same period last year.

Exports loaded on ocean ships rose from 1,430 tons in the 1958 period to 1,958 tons.

Dems Support Less Housing

Will Back Pruned Bill to Avert Spending Tag, Veto by Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic leaders backed today a compromise $1,310,000,000 housing bill pruned sharply to avoid a budget-busting tag and a possible presidential veto.

Although a Senate-House conference committee has yet to work out final details, House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) and Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas passed the word they want a measure limited to a two-year program and tailored to stay within Eisenhower's new budget.

This would follow the pattern of an airport aid program cut below Eisenhower's monetary requests and cropped to two years. It is in line with the Rayburn-Johnson argument that more ambitious programs can await what they profess to regard as the certain election of a Democratic president in 1960.

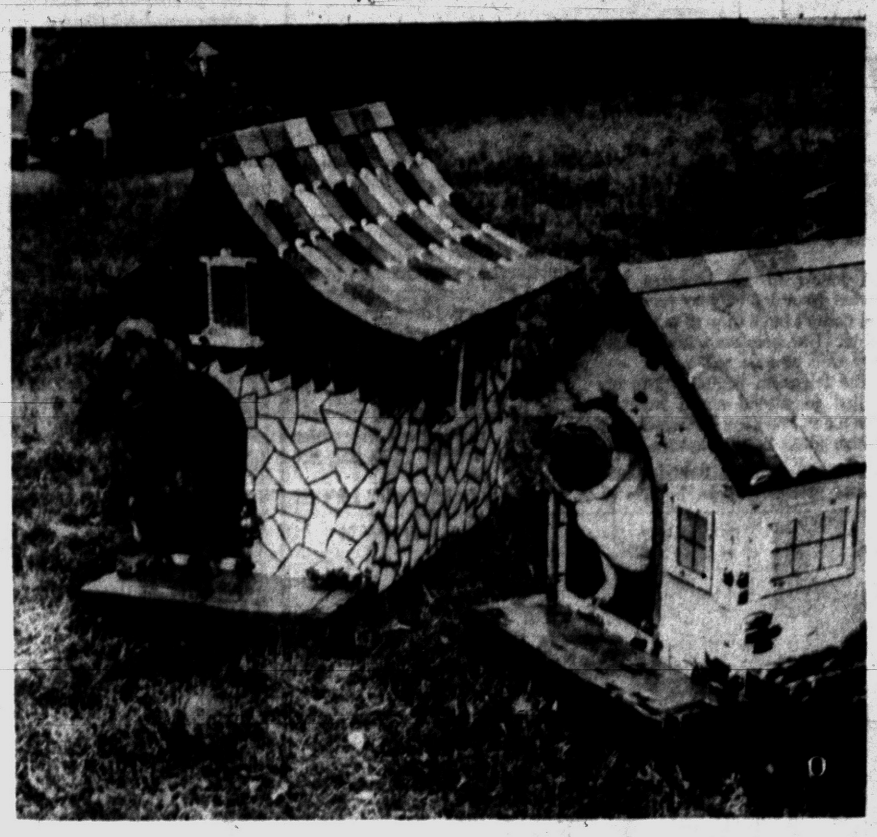

Rayburn and Johnson apparently are determined to shoot out from under the Republicans the main stays of the GOP campaign to label the Democrats as spenders. The housing and airport aid bills have been frequently cited in GOP attacks on the "budget-busters."

★ ★ ★

With this in mind, Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala) predicted that when the housing measure is compromised in final form it will be nearly veto-proof.

"We're going to make it very difficult for the President to veto it, if he believes in a housing program at all," Sparkman said.

10-Year-Old Tells Judge Stepmother Scalded Tot

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The manslaughter trial of Mrs. Rita Roubidoux went into its second day today after her 10-year-old stepson testified he had seen her fatally scald his little sister for bedwetting.

The boy said he was awakened early on the morning of April 11 by the screams of his sister, Vonita. He said he ran to the bathroom to see Vonita seated in a tub of hot water, pleading to get out.

Later, said Richard, his stepmother removed Vonita from the tub, peeled skin from her leg and sent him to the kitchen for vegetable shortening which she applied to the burns.

Earlier yesterday, Judge Straub heard tape recordings made of Mrs. Roubidoux's testimony before the grand jury that indicted her.

In the recordings, Mrs. Roubidoux contended she didn't mean to have scalding water in the tub. She said it ran hot from the faucet while she was attending Richard's needs in the bathroom.

Starkweather Must Make Appeal Today

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mass killer Charles Starkweather must file appeal papers in the Supreme Court today if his stay of execution is to remain in effect.

The 20-year-old murderer, who is scheduled to die in Nebraska's electric chair, won a stay from Justice Charles E. Whittaker last Wednesday.

Whittaker said the stay would be good until the Supreme Court disposed of Starkweather's appeal, provided it was filed by today.

Starkweather's lawyers claim he was denied a fair trial because of inflammatory newspaper articles.

The youth was convicted of murdering Robert Jensen, 17, on Jan. 27, 1958. Jensen was the sixth of 11 persons slain by Starkweather.

During 1957 there were about 5,000 reported cases of rabies in animals in this country. This represents a drop of about 50 per cent within 10 years. In dogs the decline amounted to 68 per cent.

Crofoot Cubs Hold Family Fun Night

The following awards were presented: Tommy Thompson, bobcat pin; Joe Grant, wolf badge; Dennis Lalone, bear badge; David Wallace, one gold and two silver arrow points under his bear badge and Jerry Buckley, lion badge.

Dennis Danielson received a perfect one-year attendance award and handbooks were presented to Steven Rhodes, Dennis Walker, Michael Seibert, David Wallace and Gregory Erickson as birthday gifts.

The cubs also watched a film on the YMCA summer camp Mahn-Go-Tah-See near Hale.

Torch Burns Rope, Steeplejack Killed

PATERSON, N. J. (UPI) — An acetylene torch burned through a heavy rope and sent a steeplejack plunging 90 feet to his death yesterday.

Police said Phillip Youakim, 51, of Lincoln Park, N. J., was using the torch to dismantle a smokestack at the Okonite Co. plant when it apparently slipped from his grasp and burned through the line supporting his perch.

Common Criminals Wanted Amnesty

Havana Prison Rebellion Quelled

HAVANA (AP) — Inmates in crowded old Principe Prison rioted for four hours Tuesday demanding an amnesty they said Prime Minister Fidel Castro had promised common criminals.

Police reinforcements ringed the prison walls and held the prisoners at bay with gunfire. Police and guards inside finally got the rioters under control.

Interior Minister Jose Navarro promised to consider an amnesty as well as demands that prisoners be removed from old dungeons.

He also ordered the arrest of a police lieutenant who the prisoners claimed had fired at them.

Several hundred prisoners, many armed with rocks, took part in the riot. It began when prison officials started a roll call of convicted inmates scheduled for transfer to the Isle of Pines.

Police estimated there were nearly 2,000 prisoners inside the old hilltop prison, but said only a portion took part in the riots.

A group of prisoners shouting demands for amnesty—not for political detainees but for the common convicts in Principe—attacked the officials conducting the roll call. They then climbed the prison walls into the towers and began a barrage of rocks against the guards outside.

Twice the riot subsided under the warning shots from hundreds of police outside the walls but each time it flared up again. AP correspondent Robert Berrellez and a dozen Cuban newsmen were trapped in the prison library midway between the rock-throwing prisoners in the tower and rifle-wielding police outside.

One prisoner suffered a knife wound inside the prison. Most of the police shots appeared to be aimed into the air above the rioters.

Havana Police Chief Efigenio Almejeiras and Rolando Cubela, first secretary of interior ministry, went into the prison and returned 15 minutes later shaking their heads. They refused to tell newsmen of the situation inside.

The rock-throwing again subsided after a group of non-rioting prisoners inside, led by several members of the prison band, sang the Cuban national anthem.

Women and children who had visited the prison to see relatives detained there became hysterical as the rioting began. They were herded out of the danger area.

At 3:45 p.m. EST police officials said they believed the riot was coming under control. It could not be learned how many inside were participating and how many were only spectators.

Tax Records Changes Shelved in Lansing

LANSING (AP) — A Senate-approved bill to make extensive changes in the property tax assessment procedure has been shelved in the House Taxation Committe .

Backed by the Detroit Board of Commerce, the bill would have required the State Tax Commission to separate real and personal property in its records, and open th way for appeals from state equalized assessments to individual taxpayers.

What's a Suburb* if It's Without Big Parent City?

NEW YORK (UPI)—You can't run away from the urgent problems of our cities by moving to the suburbs any more than you can avoid radioactive fallout by wearing a hat, says James H. Scheuer, president of the Citizens' Housing & Planning Council of New York, Inc.

The authority on housing, urban renewal and municipal problems said in an interview:

"An economically healthy suburb cannot exist independently of the core city. It is able to carry on only because of the nearby city. If it tries to be an island unto itself, it will surely become a sunken island.

"The suburb depends on the city for employment; the best jobs at every level are in the cities, and the bulk of employment opportunities are in the cities. The suburb looks to the city for entertainment, for its cultural life.

"Department stores can open branches in the suburbs, but the opera, the symphony, the museums the universities must stay where they are — in the heart of the city. They can't move out to the suburbs."

Hal Boyle Says:

Revived France Again the Belle of Europe

PARIS (AP) — Leaves from a touring notebook:

Those who have been weeping for La Belle France can dry their tears and throw away the crying towel.

She is again the belle of Europe.

Those who remember a France prostrate from World War II would hardly recognize her now.

The air of suspicion has disappeared. A fresh air of self-confidence is evident everywhere. The sound of the builders hammer echoes from one end of the country to the other. Industry is rapidly being modernized. Tall apartment dwellings are rising to house the new generation of a more hopeful France.

"The standard of living here has been rising faster for the last six years than it has in America,' said a veteran U.S. business leader.

"The French standard of living is now higher than that of Britain or West Germany," said a spokesman for the U.S. Embassy. "It is the highest in Europe."

Most observers seem to feel that a developing financial stability under the leadership of President Charles de Gaulle has accelerated France's economic betterment. This view also seems shared by most Frenchmen, even by those who disagree with De Gaulle politically.

If there is any strong anti-Americanism among the French today, it isn't visible to the average U.S. tourist. His welcome may not be effusive—the French rarely throw their hats in the air at the sight of strangers—but it will be cordial and polite.

"Recent polls show Germans now are the most popular foreign visitors among the French," said U.S. Minister Cecil Lyon. "Americans are second, British third, Italians fourth. Russians are the least popular.'

Why should the French so willingly extend the glad hand to the Germans less than 15 years after the close of the last great war?

★ ★ ★

Lyon feels it is a result of two things: Closer economic ties, and De Gaulle's open admiration for Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of Germany.

"The French basically like the United States, and are rather worried about how Americans at home feel about them. But the one thing that worries Frenchmen most is what will happen next in Algeria."

For a time many Frenchmen felt the United States wanted France to get out of Algeria so it could seize the Sahara desert oil fields for itself. Lyon said this feeling has largely died out.

The tourist gets about 17 per cent more for his money now than he did before the devaluation of the franc. But France is still no Mecca for the retired man seeking a place to live cheaply.

"The necessities of life here are still relatively high," said one resident. "A meal that costs a dollar in Washington or New York would cost $2 to $3 in Paris.

"But luxury is relatively cheap. An evening in a Parisian night club costs about a fourth as much as an evening in a Manhattan night spot."

Would Require Registration at Employe-Voters

LANSING (AP)—State and local government employes of voting age would have to be registered voters to keep their jobs under a resolution filed by Rep. Frank D. Williams (D-Detroit).

Williams' resolution said lawmakers have received numerous complaints that some such employes are not registered and added:

"The tenets of good government inherently demand that all qualified citizens be registered electors."

Another resolution filed in the House by Rep. Robert E. Waldron (R-Grosse Pointe) would set up a 12-member joint legislative committee to study the finance and taxation article of the state constitution.

The committee would report to the next legislature its recommendations for revisions of the article "to remove impediments to sound fiscal practices."

Waldron said the state's cash crisis points up the need for a close scrutiny of the restrictive provisions of the article.

Cuba Girds for Reported Invasion by Castro's Foes

HAVANA (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro has appointed three "opposition" rebel leaders to key police jobs, apparently in a move to broaden his government in the face of a reported invasion threat.

There was no official explanation of the appointments but they coincided with an order to the air force to patrol the north coast of Camaguey Province where an anti-Castro expedition was reported preparing to land.

The new appointees are:

—Maj. Rolando Cubelas of the student-supported "Revolutionary Directorate," as undersecretary of interior, the department which controls the national police.

—Maj. William Morgan, an Ohio expatriate belonging to the "National Escambray Front," as chief of Cuba's new mounted police—a force which Castro hopes will rival the famous Canadian organization.

The groups to which all three men belong collaborated with Castro in ousting ex-President Fulgencio Batista, but until now all important jobs had been reserved for the Premier's own "July 26" rebels.

At the same time, it was reported that Maj. Manuel Pinelro, former military commander in perennially rebellious Oriente Province, has been transferred to Havana. Maj. Calixto Garcia, chief of the Matanzas garrison, succeeds Pinelro in the provincial command.

Maj. Hubert Matos, military commander in Camaguey, reported the arrest of 40 members of a "conspiracy" led by Dominican Consular inspector Manuel A. Perez Sosa. The arrests increased the number of alleged anti-government plotters jailed in the past week to at least 111.

Over the weekend, Castro forces were reported commandeering and fortifying U. S.-owned beach properties on the Isle of Pines, off Cuba's south coast, in apparent preparation for attack.

The Havana Times reported that J. J. Brown, a representative of Isle of Pines landowner Arthur Vining Davis, was turned back when he attempted to fly to the island to inspect commandeered Davis properties.

It was announced that Cuba has formally rejected a U.S. protest against the apparent inadequacy of arrangements to pay U. S. investors for property likely to be taken over by land reformers.

Castro shrugged off the protests over the weekend, but left the formal rejection to Raul Roa, his new foreign minister.

"The revolutionary government of Cuba objects to . . . the pretended validity (the United States) seeks to attach to mere assumptions, and to its implicit denunciation of the system of payment the government of Cuba was forced to adopt," said a note published after Roa paid a brief visit here.

The note expressed hope that the U. S. government will try to persuade American companies whose property is threatened to support Castro's land reform program.

Roa flew to Havana Monday to be sworn in as foreign minister, then returned at once to Washington to wind up his affairs as Cuban ambassador to the Organization of American States.

Packed Executive Suite

PRINCETON, N. J. (UPI) — The time may be approaching when there will be more chiefs than Indians in industry. Between 1947 and 1955 managerial and executive personnel increased on the average of 32 per cent, according to Princeton University researchers. During the same period the number of production workers rose by only an estimated 1 per cent.

Cardinal Is Leader Among Birds of State

NEW YORK (AP)—The cardinal is the most popular official bird among the 27 birds proclaimed by the governments of 49 states.

The cardinal is honored by seven states. The western meadowlark, adopted by six states is the second most popular bird and five states chose the mocking bird.

Steel Requires Water

NEW YORK (UPI) — A large steel mill could use as much as 500 million gallons of water a day in its operation—enough to supply all the normal daily requirements of a city of several million people, a 20th Century Fund survey found.

The Rajasthan Canal, 425 miles long, will irrigate 1,684,000 acres in India when completed. Total cost of the canal and its 2,000 miles of distributaries will be 315 million dollars.

Over West Berlin Election Site

New German Crisis Looms

BONN, Germany (UPI) — The West German Parliament was reported inclined to hold its presidential election in West Berlin July 1 in defiance of Communist threats to blockade the isolated city if the voting is held there.

Two parliamentary committees have recommended Berlin as the site despite Allied objections, but the final decision will come Thursday when the full body of parliament puts the matter to a vote.

At the same time, the Christian Democratic Party named Agriculture Minister Heinrich Luebke as its presidential candidate thus sealing Konrad Adenauer's decision to remain chancellor until his term runs out in 1961.

Since the party will control 517 of the 1,038 votes in the presidential assembly election, Luebke was considered an almost certain winner.

There will be two other candidates, socialist Carl Schmid and Free Democratic Party member Max Becker.

When Theodore Heuss was elected president for the second time five years ago, the balloting took place in West Berlin.

But then the beleagured city was not under the intense Communist pressure being applied to it today.

The East Germans have declared that holding the West German presidential elections there now would be a "provocation" against the Communists.

Gerhard Eisler, East German propaganda boss, warned 11 days ago that the Communists would blockade the city as long as the presidential assembly was in session.

Germany's western allies have been reported urging the election be held in some other city so as not to disrupt the delicate Geneva negotiations.

Most members of the West German Cabinet are believed sympathetic with this view, but Berliners themselves have urged that their city be the convention site. They say that to back down now would be an indication of weakness.

Luebke's selection calmed a storm that had been raging in the Christian Democratic Party for a month or more. Adenauer at first accepted the nomination and then turned around and decided to remain chancellor.

Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard, who had been expected to succeed to the chancellorship, battled openly with Adenauer. They stopped short of splitting the party, but Erhard hoisted himself into top contention for the chancellorship in 1961.

Walled Lake to Continue Paid Fire Department

Council Bows to Protests, Cancels Reshuffle Decision

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

WALLED LAKE — After vigorous protests of some 200 indignant residents the City Council last night rescinded its action of last week to abolish the paid fire department.

In an effort to save the city money, Council members had voted to do away with the paid departments and have the three patrolmen and police chief operate the fire trucks and equipment.

Also included in the plans was the establishment of a base station, with a receiver and transmitter to the police car. Five elderly men would have been hired to answer telephone and radio calls.

Residents began to gather at the township hall at 7 p.m. By the time the 8 p.m. meeting was called to order, the hall was filled to capacity and overflowing to the sidewalk outside.

So that all people could have a voice on the controversial issue, Mayor Waldo Proctor moved the meeting to the junior high school, two blocks east on Pontiac Trail.

For more than two hours, volunteer firemen, home owners and interested residents from surrounding communities expressed reasons why the two-year-old paid fire department should be maintained.

NO MUD SLINGING

There was no mud slinging at the meeting. Delegates from four different subdivisions calmly but firmly presented their opposition to the Council's action.

Spearheading the protests were Clyde A. Mottor and Richard Watkins, who emphasized the fact that "you can replace a burned-down building, but you cannot replace a life," and that "policemen are trained to prevent crime, and firemen to fight fires." One department cannot handle both, they said.

The plan had been to hire one of the two paid firemen as a replacement policeman and to fire the other. Police then would be trained to handle fire calls as well as control traffic and operate their department. Residents pointed out that this was an impossibility.

Volunteer fireman Robert Triplette asked, "What would happen in the event there was a serious accident at the same time someone's house caught fire?" and added that, even at a large fire, the police are needed to control traffic.

Many volunteers from the nearby Commerce Fire Department were present to voice their protests on behalf of their Walled Lake colleagues.

When all protests had been heard, the council immediately voted to rescind all motions of the previous special meeting and discard any idea of doing away with the paid fire department.

$3,000-$5,000 Blaze Strikes in Rochester

ROCHESTER — Local firemen battled a $3,000 to $5,000 blaze at Nowels Lumber Co., 412 Water St., yesterday afternoon about an hour and a half before bringing it under control.

The fire was confined mainly to the second floor of the storage barn. The building itself was slightly damaged as well as insulating materials, cement and other building products, according to Fire Chief George Ross.

Ross said he believed the fire started from sparks from the exhaust of a truck delivering cement which was parked with the motor running by the building a couple of hours before.

Survey Park Use Desires

More park facilities, swimming areas and children's play sections were a few of the desires expressed by Southeastern Michigan park goers in a survey conducted last year by four regional park agencies.

These results were made available today.

The Park Users Survey was a cooperative effort by the four agencies to discover what provisions could be made in regional recreational facilities.

The survey teams included the Michigan Dept. of Conservation, Parks and Recreational Division; Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority; Wayne County Road Commission, Parks and Forestry Division; the City of Detroit, Parks and Recreation Dept.

Prior to conducting the survey, the Recreation Planning Commission took inventory and analyzed existing public recreation land in the Detroit region.

The study indicated a deficiency of recreational facilities in many communities, thereby requiring many of the regional parks to be developed intensively to fill the gap.

4 SELECTED DAYS

The survey was conducted on four selected days in the summer of 1958, in eight predetermined regional parks. Three of these eight were in Oakland County. They were Kensington Metropolitan Park, Dodge No. 4 State Park and Ortonville Recreation Area. Final results of the survey were:

1. Out of 7,206 questionnaires tabulated, 4 per cent were from persons outside Michigan with half this number from Ohio. Thirty other states also showed up on the questionnaire.

2. Picnicking, rest, relaxation and swimming are the dominant attractions in regional parks in the Detroit area which includes the 2,600-square-mile area of Macomb, Monroe, Oakland, Wayne Counties and the eastern township of Washtenaw County.

3. Boating, fishing, hiking and nature study do not attract many persons to the parks. This was explained by the availability of the Detroit River, Lake St. Clair and Lake Erie.

4. Improvement most desired in parks providing swimming was cleaning the water and beaches.

5. The park goers represent only 4 per cent of the population on weekdays and 13 per cent on Sunday. These figures vary in densely populated areas.

6. Much of the desired facilities are of a nature that could best be provided in local or municipal parks. As the agencies providing regional parks are called on to supply more equipment common to the local type of work, they have fewer funds to spend for meeting future needs.

7. It is the combination of driving accessibility and the caliber of the park which determine the number of users who will be attracted to the public recreational facility.

SHARKS MENACE SWIMMERS—A skin diver surfaces with a 12-foot shard, believed to be either a white shark or a bonito, which was taken several years ago off San Clemente Island near the southern California coast. It had apparently been wounded by someone aboard a fishing ship, and the skin diver administered the final thrust with a knife. The death recently of the second swimmer in five weeks as a result of shark attacks has resulted in demands by skin divers for protection against sharks.

Bardot's Beau Can't Decide if They Are Wed

ST. TROPEZ, France (UPI) — Did Brigitte Bardot marry French Actor Jacques Charrier?

To hear Charrier tell it, the answer is yes. To hear him tell it again, the answer is no. He keeps answering yes and no, apparently as the mood strikes him, and Brigitte has been no more helpful.

Both she and Charrier, who have been dating steadily since Brigitte broke her engagement to French jazz guitarist Sacha Distel early this year, were vacationing at her villa here.

Newsmen yesterday hit Charrier in the affirmative mood. He told them: "Yes, we are married." But he was treated like the little boy who cried wolf.

One French newspaper commented gravely today: "It is fitting to greet Charrier's declaration with circumspection because during the past 48 hours he has sometimes replied in the affirmative and sometimes in the negative when journalists asked him the same question."

★ ★ ★

The matter is further complicated by a pair of wedding rings. Friends said that in the last few days the sex kitten and her beau have been wearing them.

Reds OK Nixon for Siberia Tour

Can See Some Cities During Good Will Visit to Russia in July

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet government has agreed to allow Vice President Richard M. Nixon to tour some Siberian cities during his good will visit to the Soviet Union next month.

★ ★ ★

Such a trip would make Nixon the highest-ranking U.S. official ever to visit this highly restricted region in peacetime. Vice President Henry A. Wallace toured Siberia briefly during World War II.

The State Department and the Soviet Embassy are now working out final arrangements for Nixon's Siberian travels as well as half a dozen other stops he wants to make in the Soviet Union.

Nixon's trip, mainly to open the American national exhibit in Moscow July 25, is being set up as a virtual tit-for-tat exchange for a visit by Deputy Soviet Premier Frol Kozlov.

A protege of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, Kozlov is tentatively due to arrive in New York June 29, ostensibly to open the Soviet trade and cultural exhibit in New York's Coliseum beinning June 30.

But he has asked to meet with President Eisehhower, and to tour industries and other sites in New Jersey, and Pittsburgh, Detroit, San Francisco, Los Angeles and a Texas city yet to be selected.

The State Department already has given permission for the Soviet jet airliner, which will fly Kozlov, to land at New York's Idlewild Airport. Previously, such Soviet jet planes were diverted to McGuire Air Force Base in New Jersey.

Permission to land at Idlewild was given with the aim of making sure that Nixon can land at Moscow's airport, probably aboard a new American jet airliner.

Atlanta Schools to Desegregate

Judge Orders Board to Submit Plan Within Reasonable Time

ATLANTA (AP) — A federal judge has ordered the Atlanta Board of Education to submit a desegregation plan for the city's public schools within a reasonable time.

The ruling did not set any deadline. U.S. Dist. Judge Frank A. Hooper said he would allow sufficient time for the Georgia Legislature to act upon the plan if necessary.

The next regular session of the Legislature will be in January 1960.

Mayor William B. Hartsfield of Atlanta said the ruling "allows time for both the city and the state to save the public schools."

In Washington, however, Sen. Richard Russell (D-Ga) said he hoped the Atlantic school board would "use every means at their command to resist this effort. . . to enforce an abhorrent alien doctrine on a people who are proud of their belief in the right of the several states to control their local affairs."

In a written decision Tuesday, Hooper confirmed a ruling he made on June 5 and said he was compelled to enjoin racial discrimination in the Atlanta public schools.

Red Tape Snarls Soldier's Bonus for 41 Years

LANSING — A World War I infantry private is still trying to unravel the red tape that has prevented collection of a $108 service bonus.

"You talk about red tape," said Larry Lalone, director of the Veterans' Trust Fund, "I've never seen anything like it."

Sen. Haskell L. Nichols (R-Jackson) filed a bill yesterday to ran appropriation to reimburse Rose M. Hall, Brooklyn, for the bonus he could not collect because the Army waited 38 years to give him his discharge papers.

Hall, who weighed 108 pounds at the time, joined the service June 12, 1917. He was separated June 26, 1918, after it was discovered he was under age.

Hall, after years of pleading with the Pentagon and Congress, got his discharge papers May 23, 1956.

"He couldn't get the World War I bonus without showing discharge papers," Lalone said. "Now we want to do what we can for him."

The discharge paper showed Hall was born in Cumberland, Md. It did not show his date of birth.

Peggy Lee Divorces 3rd Husband at 39

The blonde 39-year-old singer said her husband, actor Dewey Martin, 35, was jealous, used vile language and tried to upset her before singing engagements. She didn't ask for alimony. She and her husband were permitted to keep their personal property. Miss Lee will retain title to her Coldwater Canyon home.

The couple married in 1956 and separated two years later. She previously was married to composer Dave Barbour.

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD—For a lady believed to be awaiting the stork, Ingrid Bergman is the busiest one! Paramount has signed her for the Panama and Frank movie, "A Child Is Waiting." And from France comes word that Ingrid will appear in "The Complacent Lover," the new Graham Greene comedy, on the Paris stage.

★ ★ ★

"A Child Is Waiting" (quite the appropriate title) is an original by TV writer Abby Mann, and is scheduled for shooting in London late this year. It's the story of a woman who devotes her life to retarded children.

As for the stage play, "Complacent Lover," I'm not sure that Ingrid's husband, Lars Schmidt, is the producer but I assume he is as he has brought many Broadway and London hits to the continent.

Although Gene Barry's lawyer has advised him not to report for "Bat Masterson" until a new contract is negotiated, you can make a pretty safe bet this won't be one of those long TV hassles such as involved his fellow "Westerners," Clint Walker and Jim Arness. Gene and the AIV people should be coming to terms in the not too distant future. In fact, despite Barry's absence - without - leave from "Bat," the trouble hasn't reached the suspension stage.

As I get it, money is not the sole bone of contention. Script approval, merchandising, and a few other side issues are involved.

Visited Eva Gabor in her very attractive New York apartment and the vivacious Hungarian tells me that "It Started With a Kiss" is her last movie for some time. She's opening for two weeks in Chicago in "Blithe Spirit" and after this Eva returns to New York for summer rehearsals in San Spewack's "Once There Was a Russian," scheduled for Broadway in September.

No less a discriminating expert than Noel Coward told me he though the youngest Gabor had a brilliant future on the stage. This was when they were appearing in Hollywood in his "Blithe Spirit"—so Noel should know.

So glad to see that happy face from home — Dinah Shore at Luchow's where Millie and Bob Considine hosted a small dinner. Dinah said that she and daughter Missy were flying to Europe the next day and that George (Montgomery) had to meet them in Rome. Business came up for him at the last minute.

★ ★ ★

Dinah says nothing has been settled about his TV show, but he likes making movies so much he'll probably sign for a picture before leaving for Rome. When I asked her the title, she laughed and said, "I don't know." Some reporter! We forget in Hollywood how popular our Dinah is until we see her in another setting. Everyone in Luchow's was whispering, "That's Dinah."

Clifton Webb Ordered to Quit Film and Rest

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Doctor's orders have forced Clifton Webb to step out of a movie role.

The 62-year-old actor was ordered to take an extended rest at home after he was hospitalized over the weekend. Th nature of his ailment was not announced.

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — China and the Soviet Union outstrips us in the most precious resource of human brainpower, says the scientist-president of the Pennsylvania State University.

They have more people, hence a larger potential supply of brainpower resources.

Most vitally, continues Dr. Eric A. Walker, since they have more people they have more of the "five per cent" brains capable of big ideas, discoveries and solutions to problems in science and other fields.

"Very few of us have the imagination, intelligence and training needed for truly big steps and discoveries," Dr. Walker says in an interview.

"All through human history, only a very small percentage of people, perhaps as small as five per cent, had this kind of intelligence, from the time of cavemen who first used fire, or set traps, or developed the wheel or sail.

"Because there are more Russians than Americans, Russia has more people capable of real innovation. Potentially, China has even more than Russia.

"Our problem is to find our brilliant minds, then learn to use them to best advantage. Right now, we are using perhaps only half of them at anywhere near their maximum potential. We may never have enough to solve the new problems that inevitably will come along."

As an example, population is exploding, Dr. Walker says. There are nearly 180 million Americans and 2.7 billion people in the world today.

Within 40 years, some estimates make it 250 million Americans, and a world population of 4 billions. All will need food, clothing, substitutes for oil, coal, iron, electric power, and other resources which run short. This will call for new synthetic foods, and new sources of power from the sun or

"We need minds which can synthesize, tie knowledge together, jump to the big concepts. All the rest of us are technicians compared with this kind of thinking."

Dr. Walker, who succeeded Dr. Milton Eisenhower as head of the nation's ninth largest university, has some suggestions to make better use of gifted human minds.

One step is greater support of education.

"We Americans do a great job of 'talking' good education, but apparently we don't really want it," says Christian K. Arnold, Dr. Walker's assistant.

"The United States actually spends less on higher education per capita from government revenue than any other civilized country. We trail far behind the Russians.

"We spend about three billion dollars a year on higher education, but 10½ billions on alcohol, one billion for baby-sitting, 1½ on Christmas cards.

"Some estimates show we spend $15.31 per capita on higher education — a bit less than we spend on betting — and $85 per capita for alcohol and tobacco, and $87 on automobiles."

Dr. Walker suggests training "associates in science" through two-year college technical courses to do many routine tasks in science.

"Many students interested in science can't make the full four-year college training because it is beyond their capability," he says. "They drop out, and are lost to science.

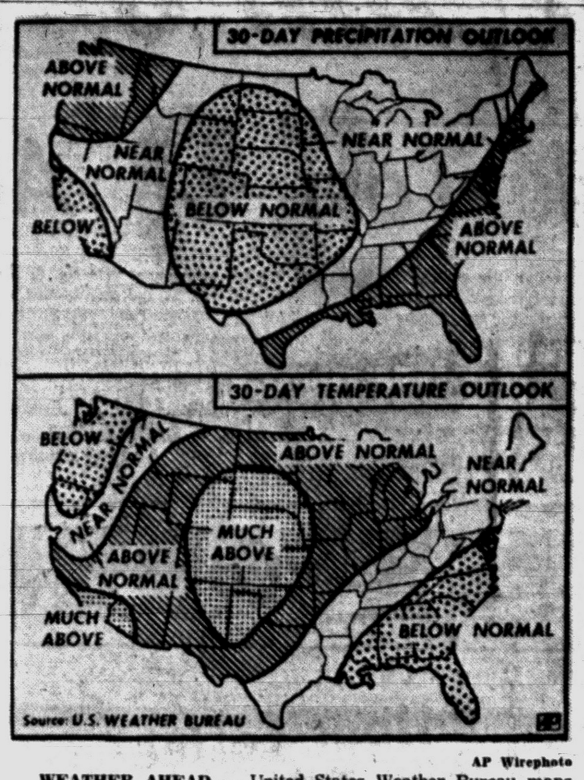

"But we need them, as data collectors, as designers, in many jobs where they would be highly useful, and personally happy. By doing this work, they free our most brilliant minds for really productive work, for their flights of thinking and fancy that result in truly big discoveries."

With colleges facing a tremendous wave of students in the next few years, the two-year associates - in - science courses would meet part of the need, Dr. Walker says. This also would leave the four-year college training open for more intensive, demanding training of the best minds.

"We should also be learning how to recognize our finest minds very early, and to provide scholarships as needed."

The Soviet Union is working in its own way to train and use its best minds, says the pipe-smoking Walker.

"But I'm convinced our education system is best, because we offer opportunities rather than forcing students to go in some decreed direction. It's a question of humanitarianism versus slavery. Our freedom of choice for students gives us especial strength."

Instant Onion Flakes Find Way Into Many Foods

Did you know that our word "flavor" comes from a Latin word meaning to "emit odor?" That the English "savor," on the other hand, was once the Latin "sapor" meaning taste? Take onion as an illustration. It's both flavor-y and savory, second only to pepper as a seasoner. Good cooks have been giving foods zing with onions since earliest times.

Now onions — the finest white ones, grown in California — appear in instant minced form, their aroma captured in a container which can be kept right at hand on your spice and seasonings shelf. Instant minced is the newest of the onion-seasonings family, having been preceded by onion powder and instant sliced onions. It's winning a reputation for convenience, as well as a uniformly excellent flavor, never too strong or mild.

Every good dish — except possibly dessert — ought to start with enough onion to make it taste good. Use a member of the instant onion family in sauces, gravies, stews, sandwich fillings, cocktail spreads, soups, salads, barbecue marinades, etc. Where there is liquid in the recipe, use instant onion dry; where none, measure one part instant minced onion into one part water, let stand briefly before using. Instant onion should always be re-hydrated if it is to be sauteed.

Use instant onion in your favorite recipes — just use a tablespoon of instant in place of ¼ cup raw onion, or ½ teaspoon onion powder for each tablespoon raw onion.

Onion Cream Dip

1 cup sour cream
¼ teaspoon fresh lemon juice
2 teaspoons instant minced onion
⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper
½ teaspoon salt

Blend all ingredients together. Serve in a bowl on a tray surrounded with crisp crackers or fresh vegetable sticks. Yield: 1 cup.

Onion Rolls

14¼-ounce package hot roll mix
⅓ cup instant minced onion
1 cup water
3 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted

Prepare a package of hot roll mix according to directions on the package. Soak onion in water 5 minutes and drain. Roll dough ½-inch thick on a lightly floured board. Brush with melted butter or margarine and sprinkle uniformly with instant minced onion.

Roll up dough in jelly roll fashion. Cut into slices ½-inch thick. Place on a baking sheet. Let rise and bake according to directions on package. Yield: 20 rolls.

★ ★ ★

Onion Corn Bread

⅓ cup instant minced onion
⅓ cup water
1½ pound package corn bread mix

Combine onion and water. Let stand 5 minutes. Mix corn bread according to directions on the package. Drain onion and stir into the mixture. Bake according to directions on the package. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Onion Dill Hamburgers

1 pound ground lean beef
1 teaspoon salt
Ground black pepper to taste
2 teaspoons instant minced onion
4 slices dill pickle
4 hamburger rolls

Shape ground beef into 8 thin patties, 3-inches in diameter. Sprinkle each of 4 of the patties with ¼ teaspoon salt and ground black pepper to taste. Then sprinkle each with ½ teaspoon instant minced onion. Cut 4 slices dill pickle ⅛-inch thick and place one on each of the 4 hamburgers. Top with the 4 remaining patties, being sure to press the edges together.

Pan broil 15 minutes or until brown, turning to brown each side. Remove and serve on split hamburger rolls. Yield: 4 hamburgers.

★ ★ ★

Onion-Cheese-Bacon Sandwich Spread

8-ounce package cream cheese
4 teaspoons instant minced onion
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper
¼ teaspoon fresh lemon juice
2 strips crisp bacon, crumbled

Soften cream cheese. Add onion to mayonnaise and add to cream cheese along with salt, black pepper, lemon juice and crumbled bacon. Yield: 1 cup.

Spicy Cole Slaw

2½ cups finely shredded cabbage
½ cup shredded carrots
½ cup diced tomatoes
2 tablespoons sweet pepper flakes
2 tablespoons instant minced onion
¼ cup water

⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper

Toss first 3 ingredients together and set aside. Rehydrate sweet pepper flakes and onion in the water and add to cabbage. Mix with mayonnaise, sour cream, salt and black pepper. Pour over cabbage mixture. Toss lightly. Yield: 6 servings.

CALCIUM STARVATION
can shorten your prime of life

milk is the only practical source of calcium

Recent nutrition research studies reveal that millions of Americans, regardless of income, are getting less than the minimum daily amount of calcium recommended by the National Research Council.

How calcium starvation affects you.

Lack of calcium in the diet has a slow degenerating affect which may remain hidden for years. It can result in: Premature wrinkles and "leathery" skin that add years to your appearance. Excessive irritability, tense frayed nerves. Shorter "prime of life" that reduces your span of active, vigorous years. Lack of calcium can also cause improper functioning of heart muscles. And when your diet does not supply sufficient calcium for daily needs, the body withdraws calcium from the bones for use in the blood and soft tissues. This causes bones to become brittle—easily broken—especially among older people.

How much calcium do you need?

National Research Council recommends 800 milligrams of calcium daily for adults, 1000 to 1400 milligrams of calcium daily for children, depending upon their age. This is the amount of calcium supplied by three to five glasses of milk.

In order to get the calcium provided by 1 quart of milk you would have to eat: 7½ lbs. of carrots, 39 eggs, 27 lbs. of potatoes, 28 oranges or 6¾ lbs. of cabbage. Milk is the only practical source of calcium.

Children (up to age 12) . . . . . 3 glasses daily
Teen-agers (age 13 to 19) . . . . . 4 glasses daily
Adults (age 20 and over) . . . . . 3 glasses daily
Expectant mothers . . . . . 4 glasses daily
Nursing mothers . . . . . 6 glasses daily

Why milk is nature's most nearly perfect food.

In addition to calcium, milk contains more of the essential nutrients—including proteins, vitamins and minerals—than any other food. Far from being fattening, milk is recommended for reducing diets because it supplies more nourishment per calorie than other foods. Whole, fresh milk also supplies more nourishment per dollar than other foods. From the standpoint of nutritional value, nutritional balance and simple economy, milk is nature's most nearly perfect food.

Advantage Not Only for Long Hitters

Warwick Test of Accuracy

Although Warwick Hills Golf and Country Club is one of the longest layouts the Professional Golfers endure on the tournament trail, the long hitters like George Bayer and Paul Harney will have little advantage in the upcoming Buick Open.

The course can play at a maximum yardage of 7,280 but the length for the 72-hole tournament scheduled for July 2-5 will be closer to 7,000 yards.

A glittering field of the top talent in the business will be shooting for the top prize of $9,000 in the $52,000 event. Bill Casper Jr., the National Open champion, will return to defend the title he won at Warwick Hills at Grand Blanc.

Gene Bone, professional at Warwick, believes the length of the course has been over-emphasized.

"Certainly it's long, and it's tough," he said, "but Warwick Hills puts more of a premium on accuracy than it does on distance from the tee. Anyway, most of the pros hit the ball about the same anyway."

There was some doubt a year ago if the Warwick course, a new layout, would be ready for tournament play.

This year the players will find the course in much better condition with plenty of grass and a great putting surface all the way around. There will be a two-inch stand of rough for the tourney.

Eleven new trees have been placed to the left of the ninth green and to the right of No. 18.

Although the course has generous fairways, there is plenty of trouble waiting for the player who strays with his tee shots.

Bone believes the key to scoring well on the course lies in the manner in which the player scores on the par-3 holes.

"We have three great par-3 holes," said Bone. "On No. 8, No. 11 and No. 17 the greens are set in the woods. They call for extreme accuracy off the tee. If you're not accurate, it's mighty easy to end up with a double-bogey."

★ ★ ★

Winds have a great deal to do with scoring. A strong Southwest wind makes the course two or three strokes tougher.

And there are plenty of traps that force great accuracy on second shots.

No one, not even Casper, made the Warwick Hills course look easy last summer. Chances are things will be just as difficult this time.

So Orioles Call Off Tiger Game Two Hours Early

Bunning and Walker Square Off Tonight in 2nd Contest

BALTIMORE (AP) — It was cold and drizzly in Baltimore and besides, you really couldn't blame the Baltimore Orioles for not wanting to play baseball.

After all, it was only a week ago that Paul Richards' crew was tied for the top spot in the American League. Since then, things have not been going well.

So the Orioles were not at all hesitant about postponing last night's scheduled game with the Detroit Tigers. The announcement came two hours before game-time.

Losing five of six since then, including one to the Tigers, dropped the Birds to fourth place with a 30-29 record. They were three and one-half games out of the lead when the postponement came.

In addition, the fleet Willie Tasby and hard-hitting Gus Triandos are out with injuries. And ex-Tiger Bob Nieman, one of the league's top hitters a year ago, is battling a prolonged slump that has cost him 50 points in his batting average.

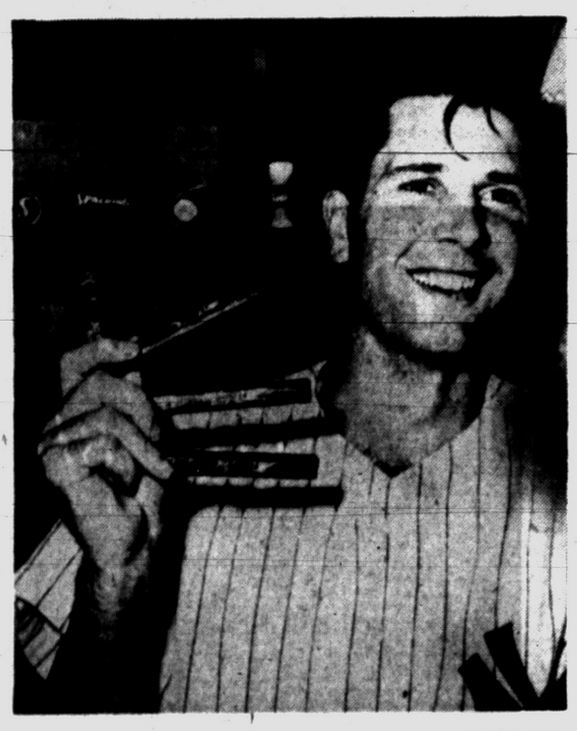

Too, perhaps, the Orioles were still a little shaky after Monday night's 6-4 defeat. In that one, the Orioles kicked in an unearned run and knuckleballer Hoyt Wilhelm suffered his first setback after nine straight successes.

Wilhelm himself was so upset after the defeat that he wouldn't talk with newsmen in the clubhouse.

The two managers likely will stick with the same pitchers who were scheduled to go last night, Jimmie Dykes having named Jim Bunning as the Tiger starter and Richards sending rookie Jerry Walker out to oppose the high-flying Tigers.

WIN FOR PAPA—Art Ditmar became a winner two ways yesterday. The Yank pitcher defeated the White Sox, 5-1, giving up just four hits in winning his 4th straight. At the same time in Springfield, Mass., Mrs. Ditmar gave birth to a boy and Art passed out cigars in the locker room.

Mrs. Samuel (Susie) Gawne, runnerup to Sally Sharp last year in the Women's District Golf Association match play championship at Knollwood, won the weekly WDGA medal play event yesterday on the same course.

Mrs. Gawne, a Bloomfield Hills member, birdied the 18th hole at Knollwood — her only "bird" of the round — to win the tournament by one stroke over four others.

Mrs. Gawne's scorecard read 41-42—83, six above women's par. Tied for 2nd place with 84's were Mrs. H. G. Marquardt, Mrs. William Hellstein, Mrs. Robert Gamble and Mrs. John Hume.

Mrs. J. G. Israel finished 3rd at 85. A total of 132 golfers competed in the tourney, 30 in the championship flight.

Hazel Park Season Ends as Northville Opens Monday

Northville Downs' 16th season will begin Monday, (June 22) immediately following the meet at Hazel Park which closes Saturday (June 20).

The 36-night meeting will go through August 1.

Northville will get off to a sizzling start with the $10,000 added HTA Pace to be held on June 27, the first Saturday.

Seldom does a track open the campaign with such a rich stake but that is the story at Northville Downs and to add a bit of icing to the cake, it will have the same horses back a week later on Friday, July 3 for the $5,000 Invitational HTA Pace.

Executive Manager John J. Carlo is looking forward to a season that will be equal to or better than that of a year ago when Northville showed a 7.3 per cent hike in attendance, with an average of 5,079.

Jets Stay on Heels of K.C.

Defending City Kings Whip Jewelers, 10-4, in 'A' Baseball

The Jets stayed on the heels of front-running Knights of Columbus in the Class A City Baseball League yesterday with a 10-4 rout of Shaw's Jewelers at Wisner Field. It was the 6th loss without a victory for Shaw's.

In Class B action at Jaycee Park, Talbott Lumber almost wasted a 10 lead but still pulled out a [illegible] in the bottom of the 6th inning.

Felix Brooks and Chet Woodmore each made two hits to spark the defending champion Jets, who scored at least once in each of the first five innings.

It was a sloppy contest with each club committing six errors. There were a dozen hits, seven by the winners. Dick Goldsworthy hurled the route for the Jets to gain the win while Ted Wharry lost for Shaw's with Terry Anderson relieving him in the 2nd when three runs were scored.

Two walks and Don Roehl's single tallied the decisive run for Talbott after the Nicholls team had rallied to cut the winner's lead to 4-3.

Giardello Flattens Flanagan in 1 Round

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Joey Giardello's spectacular, first round knockout of Del Flanagan gave powerful support today to the Philadelphia vet's clamor for a look-in on the middleweight title scene.

Joey bombed the St. Paul Irishman last night with a right smash to the head that Flanagan never saw. He was counted out at 2:50 as he tried to wobble to his feet.

It was Flanagan's first knockout in 10 years of fighting and only the third time he failed to go the distance. He suffered technical knockouts at the hands of Lester Felton and Jimmy Carter.

Brave Farm Hand Pitches No-Hitter

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Juan Pizarro, a fire-balling southpaw sent down from Milwaukee just 10 days ago pitched a no-hitter for Louisville in the American Assn. Tuesday night.

Yanks Handle White Sox, 5-1

McLish in Stride With Tribe

By The Associated Press

Cleveland's Indians are riding their hottest streak of the season and Cal McLish is back in stride —a winner for the first time in more than a month, but still trying to shake a shutout jinx.

The big right-hander, whose lone whitewash job in the majors came eight years ago, pitched the Injuns to their seventh straight success and a full-game lead in the American League race with a 4-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox last night.

It was the fifth time this season McLish has come close to nailing that long-pursued second shutout. This time he missed by inches—when Marty Keough's seventh-inning drive ticked outfielder Rocky Colavito's glove and got away for a home run.

The New York Yankees helped Cleveland along by defeating Chicago's second place White Sox 5-1. The other AL games, Detroit at Baltimore and Kansas City at Washington, were rained out.

McLish, now 6-3 after winning his first five, then losing three straight since May 12, picked on his favorite pigeons to become a winner again. He beat the Red Sox for the fifth time in a row since last June 26, giving up six hits, walking but two and striking out six for his first complete game since May 8. He's 7-1 life against Boston.

★ ★ ★

The Indians plunked the Red Sox back into a last-place tie with Washington on a two-run homer by Dick Brown in the fifth inning against loser Ted Wills (2-2). It was Brown's first of the year, but Cleveland's 18th in the streak—one shy of the AL record for seven games held by the 1936 Yankees and 1940 Red Sox.

★ ★ ★

The Yankees moved within a single game of fourth place Baltimore behind the four-hit pitching of Art Ditmar (5-4), who won his fourth in a row. The Sox scored in the first inning on a double by Nellie Fox and Sherm Lollar's single, then managed only a pair of singles by Norm Cash, in the fourth and sixth, the rest of the way. Ditmar walked but one, struck out four.

★ ★ ★

Billy Pierce (7-7) was the loser, checking the Yanks on three hits until they broke a 1-1 tie with two runs in the sixth on Mickey Mantle's triple, a hit batter, Hec Lopez' double and Bobby Richardson's sacrifice fly. That nipped a young jinx for the champs, who were 0-2 against Pierce for the year and had lost five of their last six decisions against the southpaw.

19-Putt Round for Miss Quast

Hot Putter Gives Her Share of Lead in U.S. Collegiate Event

CHAPEL HILL, S.C. (AP) — After she took 35 putts in qualifying for the Women's National Collegiate golf tournament with a 77, Anne Quast said she had trouble getting to sleep Monday night. Instead of counting sheep, she counted putts.

★ ★ ★

She must have slept better last night. At least, she didn't have many putts to count in replaying her first round match with Sherry Wheeler.

Anne, reigning National women's champion, used only 19 putts in a 5 and 4 victory over the Glasgow, Ky., girl who attends Arizona State at Tempe.

Miss Quast had to share the spotlight with Mrs. Kitty McKenzie of the University of North Carolina and Vero Beach, Fla. She ousted Joanne Gunderson, Curtis Cupper and 1957 National women's champion from Kirkland Wash., and Arizona State, 2 and 1.

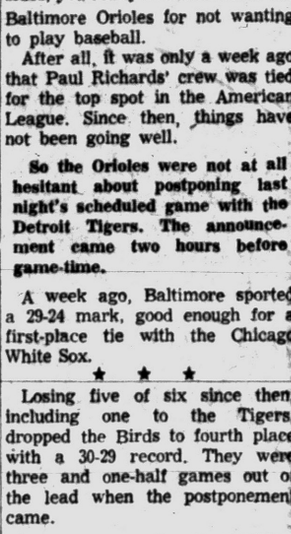

Medalist Mary Mills of Millsaps (Miss.) College, was two under par and lost only one hole in a 6 and 5 victory over Kathy Fawcett of the University of Miami.

Jerry Laycock, one of the most successful coaches in Class C ranks, resigned his football and track job at Almont to accept a similar position in West Branch.

During his three years at Almont the football team won 22, lost one and tied one and were among the top ranked Class C teams in the state.

He was Lapeer County Coach-of-the-Year in 1956 and 1957. A graduate of Central Michigan, he also taught English at Almont and will receive his Masters Degree from the University of Michigan this summer.

Tosses Weight 63-Feet, 8-Inches

O'Brien Tops World Mark

POMONA, Calif. (AP) — With only 65 persons watching, Olympic Games champion Parry O'Brien shattered his own world record in the shot put last night with a heave of 63 feet, 8 inches.

O'Brien's listed record, 63 feet, 2 inches, was made in Los Angeles in 1956.

The big ex-University of Southern California star was competing at Mt. San Antonio College in a special competition designed to give him a chance at the record. He had made several good puts in the Southern Pacific AAU meet here last Saturday and said he liked the ring here and would like a few more tries.

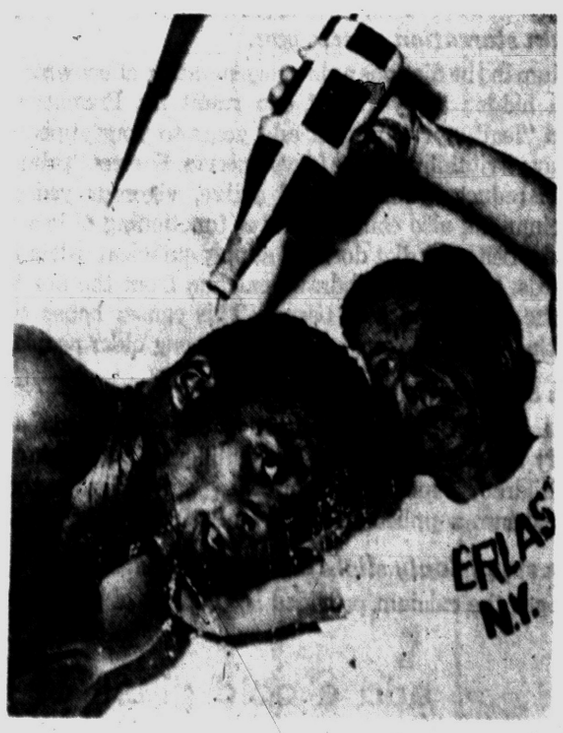

He fouled on the first try, broke the record on the second, then had, in order, 61-7¼, 60-11½, 62-1½, 61-4. His competitors were Bob Humphries of the Southern California Striders, 57-4, and Bob Wade, unattached, 54-9½.

★ ★ ★

Southern California freshman Dallas Long had tied O'Brien's existing mark earlier this season. The two will compete Friday and Saturday in Boulder, Colo., at the National AAU meet.

★ ★ ★

O'Brien's record of last night undoubtedly will be recognized, says Alex Petric, an AAU official. He said four officials witnessed the performance, that the field had been surveyed and the shot weighed.

Arizona Gets Tourney Break

OMAHA (AP) — Fresno State and Oklahoma State will meet in a win-or-go-home NCAA college baseball world series game tonight with the winner to battle with Arizona Thursday for the championship.

★ ★ ★

The three teams are 3-1 following the surprise win of Fresno State over Arizona, 2-0, last night and Oklahoma State's 4-3 elimination of Penn State.

When Fresno State tied up the trio a drawing was held to see who got today's bye. Arizona won and remains the favorite because of the day of rest.

Lopes' Low Blow Ends Coast Bout Without Decision

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—A low blow as the bell sounded to end the ninth round resulted in a "no decision" contest between lightweights Lauro Salas and Joey Lopes last night.

A left hand by Lopes caught Salas in the left side. Salas yelled "foul" and Referee Vern Bybee agreed. When Salas was unable to continue after a five-minute rest, Bybee called it no decision under the state ruling that no fighter can win or lose on a foul.

Bybee said the purses would be held up pending the state athletic commission's investigation of the medical examiner's report.

Lopes was slightly ahead in a dull fight that was scheduled for 10 rounds.

Newk Beats Giants for 7th Win

By The Associated Press

There were snickers last spring when Manager Mayo Smith figured the big guy on his Cincinnati pitching staff might be Don Newcombe, Newk? Sure he won 27 in 1956, but he was washed up, hadn't even been able to win 20 over two seasons since.

So who's the ace of the Reds staff? Big Newk, winner of six straight, all complete games, with a 3.00 earned run average and 4-0 against the slugging San Francisco Giants after he chopped them down again last night 2-1.

It was Newcombe's seventh victory, matching his 1958 total when he lost 13. This one slipped the Giants two games behind the National League-leading Milwaukee Braves, who won 5-4 at Los Angeles.

Pittsburgh tightened its hold on third, just a game behind the Giants, by beating the Chicago Cubs 5-2. St. Louis swept a twi-night pair from Philadelphia, 8-1 and 5-2.

Newk, who hasn't lost since May 10, stretched the Giants slump to three games with a six-hitter, walking none and striking out three. The sixth-place Reds didn't give him a lead until they roughed up Mike McCormick for both runs in the eighth inning on Vada Pinson's 11th homer, a single by Frank Robinson and a double by Frank Thomas. That gave McCormick, credited with a five-inning no-hitter in his last start because of rain, a 4-6 record.

The Giants scored in the third on Hobie Landrith's double, a sacrifice and Jim Davenport's sacrifice fly. It's the only run Newk's allowed in 18 innings.

Lew Burdette won his 10th for the Braves, but failed to go the distance for the fifth time in a row when the Dodgers, shutout for seven frames, scored twice in the ninth. John Roseboro's double and a walk brought on reliever Don McMahon, who gave up a two-run single by Charlie Neal before getting Wally Moon. Moon, who was 4-for-5, had tripled home a run and scored himself in a two-run eighth.

The Braves, shut out for 22 innings before a bases-loaded walk gave them a two-out run in the first, wrapped it up with four runs in the seventh after two were out, ending Johnny Podres' winning string at five. Singles by Casey Wise, Hank Aaron (who slipped below .400 for the first time) and Frank Torre, and Del Crandall's two-run double did it. Podres (7-3), 1-2 at home and 6-1 on the road, had a string of 17 scoreless innings before that first inning run and hadn't lost since April 29.

Bob Friend (3-8) won for the Pirates, who broke a 1-1 tie with four runs after two were out in the ninth. Don Hoak's two-run double and Friend's two-run single beat Dave Hillman (3-5) as the Bucs won their fifth decision in the last six. Reliever Roy Face figured in his 37th victory since he last lost (May 30, 1958) by getting the last two outs. Ernie Banks hit his 18th homer for the Cubs.

The Cards made it eight out of 10 as Wilmer Mizell (8-3) beat the Phils in the opener and Ernie Broglio, who had lost five, won his first in the majors with Lindy McDaniel's two-inning mopup. Hal Smith homered in the opener for the Cards and Gino Cimoli hit a two-run homer in the first inning of the nightcap, clinched on Stan Musial's triple in the fourth.

Dave Philley homered and singled for both second game runs by the Phils, who managed only three runs despite 21 hits in the doubleheader. Ruben Gomez (1-4) and Jim Owens (4-4) were the losers.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

TREATMENT: Distance and direction both suffer when you come into the ball with your clubface slanted open. This is a prevalent fault, and it generally stems from failure to line up the clubface properly at address.

My theory here is that, because of the angle from which you look at the clubface at address, you often think the clubface is square to the line of flight when it is not. That is to say, the clubface looks like it is square when actually it is slightly open.

The way to be sure is to look closely at the grooves in the clubface. See that they are at right angles to the intended line of flight. Don't blindly trust the overall picture, but use the excellent guide.

This advice is particularly meant for those golfers who tend to be short on iron shots. This tendency to fall short may be traced to not taking enough club for the shot—which is still another problem. But in many cases the trouble lies in leaving the clubface open.

Women's Tourney in Semis

2 Golf Champs Advance

SPRING LAKE (AP)—A pair of champions and two teenage daughters of golf course operators clash today in semi-final matches of the 38th annual Spring Lake Women's Open golf tournament.

Miss Shook's father operates Saugatuck Golf Course. She was a championship flight competitor last year but lost out in the first round. Miss Way, whose father operates Lincoln Golf Course in Grand Rapids, was in the tourney's first flight last year and reached its consolation final.

Miss Shook outlasted Carolee Evertse of Grand Rapids for a 2 and 1 victory. She had an 81 for the round, one under her medal qualifying score.

Lefthanded Mrs. Reynolds scored an 82 for the round in her 2 and 1 victory over Sharon Miller of Marshall.

Mrs. Scripsema coasted for a 7 and 5 victory over Mrs. Nels Michelson of Lansing in a match which ended at the 12th hole after the defending champion had gone 5-up on the last nine.

The two survivors of the semi-finals matches meet tomorrow in championship finals. The event, played over the 6,049-yard Spring Lake Country Club course, is the oldest tournament for women in Michigan.

Slugfest Deluxe in Softball Loop

Boat Livery Is 17-16 8-Inning Winner Over Police at Northside

The heaviest slugfest and run-scoring spree of the season in the City Softball League took place last night at Northside when Langdon's Boat Livery nosed out the Pontiac Police, 17-16, in eight innings.

Langdon's broke an 11-11 deadlock with six runs in the top half of the 8th inning, then hung on for dear life to win as the Police rallied with five runs in their half of the stanza. No homers were hit but Langdon's rapped out 20 hits compared to a dozen for the Police.

In the nightcap at Beaudette, Al Webster pitched a two-hit shutout as the Sport Shop defeated Drive-In Cleaners, 8-0.

Beaudette's double bill saw Big Bear Construction jump up with three runs in the 7th for a 9-7 decision over Buttercup Drive-In and Arro Realty conquered Huron Bowl, 6-3.

The Arro-Huron game was halted after six innings because of a late start caused when Arro did not have nine men available at the 7 o'clock starting time.

Drayton Softball Victors Do Their Damage Early

The Eagles scored six runs in the 2nd inning and coasted to a 9-4 victory over Hubert Walls Service. Six errors by Walls aided the big uprising and the Eagles won easily despite being outhit, 9 to 4.

Lakeland Pharmacy tallied four times in the 1st inning and went on to whip the Arrows, 4-2, behind the steady pitching of Roland Jaekel. Dick Nelson's two-run double featured Lakeland's opening barrage.

Dodgers Buy Pitcher

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers have purchased the contract of right-handed pitcher Roger Craig from their Spokane farm club in the Pacific Coast League.

Craig will replace veteran pitcher Carl Erskine, who announced Tuesday night that he was retiring.

Alex Olmedo Seeded 1st for Wimbledon

Queen's Club, scene this week of the London Championships, — the last big tune-up tournament before next week's All-England Tournament at Wimbledon — is a free and easy place.

Players are called on to umpire matches. They can swap doubles partners at the last minute and use the office phone to make a date. The only thing that is serious is tennis, which has been played at Queen's Club, since 1890.

There are a dozen courts but only one around which the spectators can sit and watch tennis in comfort. The current tournament is attracting bigger crowds than usual despite the lack of a big name. Everyone is anxious to size up and try to pick a possible Wimbledon winner.

This year most seem to be backing Alex Olmedo, likeable Peruvian star of the U.S. Davis Cup champions. He has been seeded No. 1 for Wimbledon.

Olmedo, already in the quarterfinals, is spending every available moment this week on the courts trying to find the form he produced last winter when the United States lifted the Davis Cup from the Australians.

His sharpening stone in practice matches is Davis Cup teammate Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, who yesterday moved into the quarterfinals with a 6-3, 6-1 victory over the up-and-coming young Russian, Andrei Potanin. MacKay is seeded No. 5 for Wimbledon.

Olmedo went into action again today against Pierre Darmoun and MacKay matched his booming service against Lew Gerrard, New Zealand Davis Cupper. So far, MacKay has failed to impress Queen's Club fans. But Barry says he is slowly rounding into shape after seeing very little action since the first of the year because of his duties as an airman.

★ ★ ★

Australia's Neale Fraser, Wimbledon's No. 2 seed, made his first appearance of the year in Britain today. He received a first round bye and got a forfeit through the second.

Olmedo and Fraser are expected to meet in the finals Saturday in what could be a preview of the Wimbledon finals July 3.

Golfers Will Get a Break

NEW YORK (AP) — Next year golfers will get a better break under the rules on balls hit out of bounds, unplayable and lost.

The U.S. Golf Assn., which governs the sport, announced Wednesday relaxation of these penalties on a one-year trial basis, starting Jan. 1, 1960.

1. Out of bounds. At present, the penalty is stroke and distance. Next year, loss of distance only.

2. Lost ball. At present, stroke and distance. Next year, loss of distance only.

3. Unplayable lie. At present, an option of stroke and distance or a redrop behind the unplayable position for a two-stroke penalty. Next year, the option will be stroke and distance or a drop behind the unplayable position for a one-stroke penalty. However, if the ball is unplayable in a bunker it must be dropped in the bunker.

The penalty for a ball hit into a water hazard — one stroke penalty without loss of distance remains unchanged.

The USGA and the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews, which rules British golf, agreed on a trial for the reduced penalties next year — but in the United States alone. British golfers will continue to play the present rules.

Pitch Is Wide, Still in Reach

HAVANA (AP) — With men on second and third in the sixth inning Tuesday night reliever Emilio Cueche of the Havana Sugar Kings was ordered to walk Mike Goliat of the Montreal Royals intentionally.

His first pitch was wide of the plate, but Goliat reached out and hit it over the right field fence for a 3-run homer. Montreal went on to win the International League game 7-5.

Sellout Announced

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirate front office took one look at the morning mail Tuesday —and promptly announced what everyone expected. The All-Star Game at Forbes Field July 7 is a sellout.

With much more mail from out of town to be received, the ball club estimated it had received 150,000 applications.

It's Horse Show Time Again

Favorites Back at Pointe

By the Press Outdoor Writer

Southeastern Michigan will be the focal point this weekend and next for two of the country's most important horse shows. The big one, from this area's viewpoint, is, of course, the 42nd annual show at Bloomfield Open Hunt club, by the Detroit Horse Show Assn. opening June 23, running through June 28.

The Grosse Pte. Show, most of whose entries also show at BOH, opens Thursday, closes on Sunday, with 102 classes listed. Among the equine stars expected are Windsor Castle, ridden by veteran favorite Max Bonham, a top prospect in the jumper stakes, and Duke of Paeonian, hunter champion for the last two years. Both will move over to BOH for the six-day Open Hunt exhibition.

Both shows will have night programs, along with morning and afternoon sessions.

FOOD MORE IMPORTANT THAN SHELTER

It has long been noted that deer, in Michigan's north country instinctively sought dense cover during the winters. But the conservation department has concluded, through a two-year experiment, that deep shelter isn't really essential for survival. If food is lacking, even the best cover is not likely to sustain deer.

Tests were made of a number of young bucks, in several types of pens at the Cusino experiment station. The pens afforded different levels of shelter from elements.

Recently approved measures in Utah and Oergon, to permit licensing of hunting preserves in these states have boosted the total of states where such shooting is allowed, to 40.

One of their most gruelling canoe tests is ahead of the Widing brothers (Albert and LeRoy) of Holly, rated among the top paddling teams of the nation. But before they set out for the Prince George 139-mile race in British Columbia, July 17, they will flex their muscles in several Michigan tests of shorter length. The boys are again under the sponsorship of Pontiac's Frank Slaybaugh.

MULTI-LAKES OUTING IN JULY

Multi-Lakes Conservation Assn., has set the date for July 19, and will hold its annual picnic at the club grounds on Reed's at that time . . . 11-year-old Billy Gotshall, 3081 Walma Dr., is still talking about the 28-pound, 34½-inch long carp he speared on Orchard Lake, recently. The fish battled for a half hour before giving up.

★ ★ ★

A new volume that will interest area hunters is Luther A. Anderson's "How to Hunt Deer and Small Game," just off the press this week. The book, published by The Ronald Press, covers the sport from choosing a gun to dressing the kill . . . an Oak Park firm has a slick device for transporting outboard motors on the outside of a car's trunk. Device clamps to the bumper, is hinged so that there is easy access to trunk, keeps motor upright . . . it's called the Toter.

TECHNIQUE MORE IMPORTANT THAN LURE

$150 for '59 Fish Derby Champs

By H. GUY. MOATS

Michigan's top game fish become legal prey for thousands of anglers Saturday when the 1959 season opens for black bass.

Beginning of the bass season also marks the opening of The Pontiac Press annual "big fish derby," the winners of which will share $150 in United States bonds.

Bass division is one of three divisions, with a $50 bond as top reward. Similar bonds will go to winners of the pike (northern) and bluegill divisions.

The rules:

1—Open to any FULL-TIME resident of Oakland County. Summer residents with permanent addresses outside the county are not eligible.

5—Entries must be brought to The Press Sports Department for weighing, measurement and photographing between the hours of 7 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. each day, except Saturdays when the deadline is 12 o'clock noon, no entries being taken Sundays or on holidays. In such cases a certified weight slip from a market using standard state-inspected scales, signed by fisherman, weigher and an observer to weighing may be presented with the entry.

6—Contest opens June 20 with the start of regular state black bass season; concludes Labor Day, Sept. 7. (Final date for entries is noon (12 o'clock) Sept. 8.)

The bass division has always been the most active of the three, with leaders particularly during early stages of the "derby" changing every day or so. Some eventual winners have been early entries, and went all the way. Some have got in just under the deadline.

★ ★ ★

Several bass champs have been smallmouths, which also abound in oversizes in area lakes. The smallmouth is slimmer, more streamlined than his relative. He is usually brownish or brown-greenish in color, has no deep notch between the parts of its dorsal fin, such as characterizes the largemouth.

New Archers Shoot Well in 1st Match

The newly organized Giles White Buck Archers performed very well in their first match tourney, during the last weekend, at Saginaw. They returned with three first places and a number of others. There were 22 shooters and members of their families making the trip.

The arrangement consists of a partial bulkhead from rail to rail just enough forward of the motor to allow reasonable turning clearance for the power plant, connected to the transom by means of a shallow, watertight well, slanting downward aft and drained by one or two scuppers through the transom.

In a hull of good freeboard, the well can be kept high enough not only to allow plenty of space for cleaning and ventilation underneath, but also to provide a hideaway for the storage battery.

This position allows short, efficient electrical cables to the engine, and at the same time the well protects the battery from being accidentally short-circuited by falling tools or other metallic objects.

The isolation well is primarily a safety feature. Even with the transom cut low to accept short-shaft motors, the well will prevent a following sea from swamping the boat.

Oily gasoline drippings from the carburetor are kept out of the boat and carried away through the scuppers, assisted by an occasional flushing with water. This makes for a cleaner, safer craft.

An isolation well is molded as a unit into a new plastic hull. Older boats can be modified to make use of a home-made well constructed of wood and covered with fiberglas.

In designing your own well, remember to keep all holes for steering and battery cables as high as possible so that the watertight safety feature of the well will not be impaired.

Scuppers may consist merely of half-inch holes drilled through the transom just above the after surface of the well, or the holes can be fitted with brass or bronze tubing and flanged for a more dressy appearance.

Questions and Answers

★ ★ ★

Yes. The bracket allows you to maintain full transom height regardless of the motor shaft length, it allows the carburetor to drip harmlessly outside the boat, and the transom itself will baffle some of the sound. By using one of the newer adjustable brackets, you can raise or lower the engine to match various loads affecting hull trim.

OCSC Riflemen on Top in 30-Caliber Matches

Most of the civilian awards in the recent Michigan 30-caliber rifle championships at Grayling, were brought back to Pontiac by Oakland County Sportsmen's club experts.

Honors included the state championship for George Forstrom and junior title for James Bennett. The OCSC 4-man team, from the D. R. Wilson Rifle & Revolver club, won three of four civilian team tests, was 2nd in the fourth match.

Forstrom, L. P. Anderson, Bob Waggoner, Charles Schmidt (Schmidt was 1959 OCSC pistol champ) comprised the team that won the Chalmers, Queen City and Stearns trophies. Schmidt won a first-place medal in the 200-yard standing mach, a 2nd in the 200-yard sitting rapid-fire, first marksman for long range aggregate, first in 1,000-yard iron sights. Ken Farnum won first place marksman in 200-yard rapid-fire.

Besides his state title, Forstrom took a first place medal in expert class in 300-yard rapid-fire, a trophy for first place in 600-yard slow-fire iron sights (100 x 16vo) and 3rd place medals in short and long range aggregate matches.

Study of 'Bugs' Fascinating Topic

The study of insects fills many large volumes, because there are so many species, and this is the time of year when thousands of them get busy, A. B. Madden, Pontiac schoolman reminded this page. It's a fascinating study, about bugs, he says.

★ ★ ★

"The insect is man's chief opponent for survival. Because he is so adaptable, he can attain immunity to poison sprays, and his alarming ability to multiply make him really a dread creature. If it were not for the fact that most insects devour other insects man would have no chance at all against him.

★ ★ ★

"The word 'bug' is badly overworked. A bug is only one species of insect. He belongs to the group called hemiptera, which means half-wing. Some examples of bugs are: bed-bugs, squash bugs, and water bugs. The lightning bug is not a bug at all but one of the beetles.'

★ ★ ★

"The body of an insect is divided into three parts — head, thorax and the abdomen. All insects have six legs—no more, no less. Spiders are not insects as they have eight legs. The skeleton of an insect is on his outside.

★ ★ ★

"Some insects change so completely in form, from egg to adult, that we can hardly recognize them. The sphinx-moth-pupating-larvae found by Mr. Jones recently is a good example. All butterflies and moths have a complete change. From egg to caterpillar to larvae to adult is this change. Other insects have only three stages, egg, young, and adult. Grasshoppers have three stages.

"Moth and butterfly adults do very little feeding. And that food consists almost wholly of plant nectar. They have no mouthparts —only a tube tongue for drinking and many do not have even that. Main purpose in life of the adult is egg-laying. It is a very particular job however, as most caterpillars are extremely fussy about what they eat. In fact they will die if the proper foliage cannot be found.

"Some butterflies migrate like the birds. The best example is the monarch butterfly. Others hibernate all winter such as the mourning cloak. Most butterflies have a naked chrysalis and most moths wrap theirs in silk.

"Generally speaking the caterpillars of moths do the most damage to man, such as the clothes moths, the hawk moths and the codling moth.

"Man has learned a great deal from insects. Ants' jaws are still used as sutures of wounds in some places. Insects are carpenters and masons. They make paper; they build jugs, and they keep 'cows.'

"Insects also make food and other valuable products for man's use."

So Says Democratic Party Committee

U.S. Defenses in Disastrous Shape

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Democratic Party committee, charging that the nation's defenses are in "disastrous" shape, called Tuesday for spending an extra 30 billion dollars over the next four years to put U. S. military might on a par with Russia's.

The party's advisory committee on foreign policy, headed by former Secretary of State Dean Acheson, said this country no longer is Russia's equal in strategic nuclear striking power and is "dangerously" behind in intercontinental missiles.

Yet, it said, the Eisenhower administration by some strange madness," has set about reducing U.S. land forces to pre-Korean War levels.

The result, it said, is that the "stage is being set for a major tragedy."

It also called for increasing Army manpower by 225,000 to 1,100,000 and army divisions from three to eight.

It said these and other major steps it recommended would mean a net addition in military spending of $7,500,000,000 over each of the next four years.

It said "there can be no question of the capacity of our economy to support" this additional expenditure.

It said defense, the atomic energy program and the foreign aid program combined now represent less than 10 per cent of the nation's output of goods and services.

Yet during World War II, when that output was substantially smaller, it said, almost 45 per cent was diverted to defense purposes.

The committee reviewed the military situation in an 11,000-word pamphlet that denounced Eisenhower's defense policies with such words as "folly," "neglect," "blindness" and putting economy above national security.

In a direct slap at Eisenhower, it said most of the blame for the shortcomings it pictured could be laid to lack of "executive leadership."

This lack, it said, was more responsible for "the confusion, bickering and red tape" in the Pentagon than interservice rivalry.

The committee made these recommendations:

—Double production currently planned and the actual rate of production of the Atlas and Titan intercontinental missiles.

—Continue development of the subsonic, airborne cruise missiles, such as Snark and Regulus II, on a stop-gap basis to increase the enemy's anti-aircraft problems.

—Speed up the capacity of the Strategic Air Command to maintain a 24-hour airborne alert, which would mean a retaliatory force in the air at all times.

—Restore the Marine Corps to its full strength and "futurize" its arms, tactics and transport.

The committee said some savings to offset the increased expenditures it recommended could be made by eliminating continued spending on naval aircraft carriers and shaving about one billion dollars off the six billion now spent annually on defenses against manned bombers.

It said anti-aircraft defenses — the interceptor plane, anti-aircraft missiles, early warning radar, and the SAGE warning network — should be trimmed now that Russia is putting more emphasis on missiles than bombers.

Yankus Will Settle in Town of 35,000

He flew last Saturday to this South Australian city of 35,000 to investigate prospects.

Yankus said that as soon as he can find a house or an apartment he will bring his wife and three children here from Sydney.

★ ★ ★

"I feel Adelaide has a freer and more leisurely atmosphere than Sydney" he said. I don't like living in a rat race."

Steels Lead Mild Recovery

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market staged a mild recovery early this afternoon under the leadership of steels and assorted issues.

Gains of pivotal stocks ran from fractions to about a point. Selected stocks were up 2 points or better. A variety of issues kept small losses.

The rise came after three straight sessions of decline on very small volume. Steels were quite active as money from trading and investing sources came into the group. There was no specific news to spur the recovery.

Some utilities, motors, rails, and electronics joined in the upturn. Aluminums were mixed. Tobaccos performed well.

Lukens Steel rose a couple of points and Youngstown Sheet did slightly better. U. S. Steel advanced about a point. Bethlehem and Jones & Laughlin made smaller gains.

While General Motors showed scant change, Chrysler, Ford and American Motors went ahead about a point each.

Electronic issues were led by Zenith and Raytheon, both up beyond a point. Motorola, Radio Corp. and Sperry Rand were fractional gainers.

Corn, Oats Miss Selling for Profit

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat, rye and soybean futures bumped into a flurry of selling, probably for profits, during the opening few minutes on the board of trade today. Corn and oats prices were mixed.

★ ★ ★

Brokers said the wheat pressure included some hedge selling but that offers appeared mainly to stem from interests on the long side of the market and represented liquidation for the broad margin of profits that had accrued in the strong prices of the two previous days.

★ ★ ★

At the same time, the 1960 wheat crop months advanced as much as a cent on reports of the House-Senate compromise bill to cut back acreage for next year's harvest.

★ ★ ★

Wheat was 1/8 to 1/2 cent a bushel lower near the end of the first hour, July $1.87 3/8, the 1960 contracts 1/2 to 1 1/4 higher; corn unchanged to 3/8 higher, July $1.27; oats 1/4 higher to 3/8 lower, July new type contract 66 1/8; rye 1/4 to 5/8 lower, July $1.25 3/4; soybeans 3/8 to 7/8 lower, July $2.23 3/4.

Geneva Block Is Cited by Ike

Summit Hopes Dim, but He'd Still Attend if Progress Made

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today the Geneva foreign ministers talks seem to have reached an impasse, and prospects for a summit conference are no brighter.

★ ★ ★

The President told a news conference, however, that he still would be willing to go to a heads-of-government meeting if any kind of reasonable progress can be made at Geneva.

He rejected proposals that he call representatives of the steel companies and their employes to a White House conference aimed to avoid a possible strike.

The President also asked the Navy for a quick report on why some of the guns of an American aircraft were not functioning when it was attacked by Communist planes off Korea yesterday.

Eisenhower took a swat at a wheat bill on which Congress is close to completing action. It would increase price support payments for wheat in certain circumstances.

The administration, Eisenhower said, does not believe in raising price support levels.

★ ★ ★

And he said he has no specific plans at this time for carrying the fight for his legislative pro-is legislative pro-ectlygramgedirot gram directly to the people.

Community Center Proposed in South Pontiac

A plan to develop Pontiac's first community center will be disclosd tonight to the City Commission.

Commissioner Milton R. Henry said the idea would be discussed at a meeting of interested citizens at 7:30 in the Sylvan Lake Elks Temple on Franklin road.

In April, the City Commission set up a special committee to study plans for more teenage recreational facilities in Henry's district.

The committee was comprised of Mayor Philip E. Rowston, Henry, City Manager Walter K. Willman, Parks & Recreation Department Director David R. Ewalt and Clarence Simuel, an Oakland County probation officer.

Henry said Simuel and James E. Roberts, an assistant Oakland County Prosecutor, would be at the meeting to talk about the counter-effects a community center could have on juvenile delinquency in Pontiac.

Hose Concern Plans New Jackson Factory

JACKSON (AP) — Plans to construct a new plant and laboratory here were announced last night by Kent R. Manning, general manager of Aeroquip Corp.'s Jackson Division.

Lifetime Grants Urged

SUN VALLEY, Idaho (AP)—The president of the American Medical Assn. says dedicated scientists should get lifetime grants for basic medical research.

"Unless we do this," said Dr. Louis M. Orr of Orlando, Fla., "we will fall further and further behind Russia, because it is impossible to do research and make a living at the same time."

Marks Gain in Purchasing Power

Total Income Hits Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government announced today that the personal income of all Americans rose in May to a record annual rate of $376,200,000,000. The increase for the month was three billion on an annual basis.

Secretary of Commerce Lewis L. Strauss issued a special statement which said:

"This high level of purchasing power is a basis for the business confidence so generally evident, and for the strong hope for further increases in employment."

The Commerce Department report was the second this week to point up the transition of the economy from recovery to a new boom. The Federal Reserve Board announced Monday that industrial production advanced to a high last month.

Personal income in May was up 7 per cent or 25 billion dollars on a yearly basis from May 1957.

"Each month this year," Strauss said, "has shown a higher rate of personal income than the one before—in a period of virtually no alteration in the consumer price level."

The report said the surge in incomes from a year ago represents for the most part real gains in the buying power of the average American, inasmuch as retail prices advanced only fractionally during the interim.

Most of the May increase in income was in wages and salaries which were up 2 1/2 billion dollars to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $255,800,000,000.

★ ★ ★

The report said payroll advances centered in manufacturing, with durable goods industries scoring particularly sharp gains. Metals and machinery manufacturing showed the biggest increases.

Pontiac City Affairs

Joslyn Paving Clears Final Hurdle

The second and final hurdle on the $145,000 Joslyn avenue paving project was cleared last night by the City Commission with almost no opposition.

The paved road will lead eventually to an interchange with the Oakland County Expressway, scheduled for north of Pontiac in 1962.

Only Commissioner Milton R. Henry objected. He said the area should be serviced with sewers and water first.

No objections were raised at hearings covering assessment rolls for six other projects, including grading and graveling of E. Huron street, from Douglas through Richardson Park to Paddock; curbs and gutters on Harriett street, Adlaide to Baldwin, and on Arlene street, Madison to Second; a sanitary sewer on Brooklyn avenue between Madison and Baltimore; and a sidewalk on the north side of Columbia avenue, Carlisle to Walton boulevard Park subdivision.

Plans to install curbs and gutters on Carlisle avenue Columbia to Sheffield were dropped on motion of Commissioner Floyd P. Miles. Instead, the Commission declared curbs and gutters in the block between Columbia and Ann Arbor a public necessity. Miles lives in that block.

Hearings were scheduled for next week on intention to proceed ceed with five sidewalk projects this summer, including both sides of Highland avenue, California to Ditmar; west side of Sanford street, Irwin to Central; west side of Drexel avenue, South Boulevard to Paddock; and both sides of California avenue, Howland to Franklin.

Another hearing will be on intention to grade and gravel the alley north of Walton boulevard, University to the alley east of Baldwin.

Also scheduled next Tuesday are hearings on assessment rolls covering six other projects, including veloping curbs, gutters, grading and graveling on Howard street, Johnson to Adelaide; grading and graveling on Arlene street, Perry to Madison; and sidewalks on the west side of Going street, Ferry to Central; the west side of Going street, South boulevard to Irwin; the east side of Stanley avenue, Kennett to Beverly; and in front of five homes on Bartlett street.

Hearings were scheduled for July 16 on two rezoning proposals. One would rezone six lots on the north side of W. Huron street, between Thorpe and Mark, from residential to personal service. The other would rezone seven lots on the west side of N. Perry street, north of Clarence, from partly residential to wholly commercial.

Henry asked the administration to repair chuckholes on Bartlett street, where he resides.

Approved was a request from Donald F. Schroeder to drop the names of Jordan and John Tenjeras Jr. as partners on the SDD and SDM liquor licenses at 920-922 Joslyn Ave. and add the name of Jess Toles Jr.

★ ★ ★

The Dixie Home Builders Co. was given permission to lay gravel on Livingston avenue, Stanley to Blaine, in a subdivision it is developing.

Osteopathic Wants Contagious Facility

Bids Again for Hospital Lease

Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital was trying again this afternoon to lease the former Oakland County Contagious Hospital, which has stood unused for the past 10 months.

Rejected on his first offer to lease the 80-bed facility for $25,000 a year, Harry W. Whitlow, POH director, said he would boost this to $30,000.

Besides, Whitlow told a special committee studying the future use of the Contagious Hospital, provisions of his new offer would include emergency treatment for mental patients.

Fred W. Smith of Royal Oak, chairman of the committee, indicated today the county was looking for an offer whereby the county would have to spend little to operate the old hospital.

Reminded that on Aug. 15 the hospital, located at 1075 N. Telegraph Rd., will have been empty for one year, Smith said: "It's a great deal better to have it vacant than to do something we couldn't handle."

MANY OFFERS

Since Pontiac General Hospital relinquished its lease on the hospital as an annex a year ago, there have been many offers to use the hospital.

The Board of Supervisors has been flooded with 43 resolutions from municipalities, townships, civic organiaztions, PTAs, and other groups urging its use as a short-term diagnostic psychiatric clinic for the mentally ill.

Although neither Smith's committee nor the full Board have officially rejected this suggestion, Smith is cool to the idea. "It costs more money than we've got anyway, he said. "Besides, it's not our problem. It's the state's."

Going into today's meeting to listen to Whitlow's latest offer, Smith said he considered this and all other proposals out of the question.

The Oakland Chapter of the Michigan Society for Mental Health, which sparked the flood of resolutions, is still holding out for having the hospital turned into a center for the emergency care of the mentally ill while patients await commitment to permanent institutions.

NEW OFFER

A new use has been born by a group of 10 doctors, headed by Drs. Anthony F. Cefai and John F. Naz, who urged that some of the beds be set aside for patients with contagious diseases, such as measles, mumps, chickenpox, diphtheria, and others. Smith said he hadn't heard of this offer.

Smith says, too, that an offer from the Elizabeth Kenny Foundation to establish a rehabilitation center for polio and other cases is out, as officials of the group say they have not enough money to operate it this year.

Another suggestion, made at the time Smith's committee was created, came from Dr. John D. Monroe, county health director. He suggested turning the vacant hospital into one to rehabilitate elderly persons now in nursing homes.

City Threatens Property Owner

Commission Requests Front Portion of Land or Condemnation

The City Commission last night threatened condemnation proceedings against a property owner who wants two of his lots rezoned from residential to commercial.

The commission has offered to rezone the land if Thompson will sell 30 feet of frontage to the city for future widening of Walton.

But City Manager Walter K. Willman said the city and Thompson have not been able to agree on a purchase price.

WOULD HIDE OTHERS

On motion of Commissioner William W. Donaldson, it was agreed that condemnation proceedings should be instituted before rezoning.

Commissioner Floyd P. Miles said that if a commercial structure is built at the front of Thompson's property, nearby commercial enterprises set back from the road would be partially hidden from view.

"We might better buy right of way now instead of later when it will cost more," said Donaldson.

★ ★ ★

Thompson has threatened court action if the commission continues to stall over his six-month-old request for rezoning. The Planning Commission has approved the proposal.

Youth Flees Police, Races Through Sewers

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — A handcuffed youth broke away from police Tuesday and ducked into a culvert. For three hours there was a chase through a maze of storm sewers.

Buick Unveils Its New Chief

General Manager for 6 Weeks Has Avoided Public Appearances

DETROIT (AP)—Buick Division of General Motors is going to lift the curtain slightly today on Edward Rollert who has been its general manager for six weeks.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

He was whisked through a national tour of dealers and has busied himself in getting to know the people working for him.

Rollert, a stocky six-footer with salt and pepper hair, a firm handshake and earnest eyes behind clear, plastic-framed glasses, moved to Buick from GM's Harrison Radiator Division.

He took over a company which slipped in production from a record 781,000 cars in 1955 to a 12-year low of 257,000 last year. In the first four months of 1959 registration figures show Buick sales down some 8,000 units.

★ ★ ★

Rollert obviously has been trying to find some answers to the questions the entire industry has asked about what has caused the Buick slump. And he has not wanted to be asked the questions personally before he found some replies.

In Flint, Buick's home town, he has appeared briefly at a farewell party for Ragsdale and at an industry executive's luncheon for GM President John Gordon.

There is an informal reception for industry executives and newsmen here in Detroit today and Rollert will offer the guests a hearty handshake and a friendly smile.

★ ★ ★

Exam Racket Broken at MSU

Students Stole Finals, Sold Them for Up to $40 a Copy

EAST LANSING (AP) — Campus police said today they have cracked a ring of Michigan State University students trafficking in stolen final examinations for up to $40 a copy.

★ ★ ★

Names of the students were withheld pending a decision whether they will be prosecuted or disciplined by the university.

Police said three students had admitted complicity in the scheme but it was doubtful whether evidence now in hand would support criminal charges. Accomplices were being sought.

Investigation disclosed, police said, that exams were stolen by two students employed as part-time janitors who had after-hours access to faculty offices.

★ ★ ★

One of them also handled the reproduction end of the business. The third accused student was described as a peddler.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

A search of the rooms of the three students uncovered about 40 stolen books, including volumes from the MSU library, the State Law Library in the capitol and texts taken from MSU's ROTC Department.

Bear Takes Over Crane Operator's Job for a While

Robson is employed by Desrocher Dan Antwerp and Beatty Corp., which has a government contract to deepen Whitefish Bay Harbor in Lake Superior.

★ ★ ★

OK Taking of Bids on Hollister Parcel

★ ★ ★

Belaire Home Builders, Inc. of Detroit offered $750 for the 57-foot deep parcel, saying it and another piece of land were wanted as a site for nine new homes.

The other offer was from Harold F. Finn, 480 Fourth street. It was $300.

★ ★ ★

State Explores Wixom Appeal

City Claims Its Tax Valuation Was Arrived at Without Full Facts

Wixom Mayor Joseph T. Stadnik pleaded with state tax officials in Pontiac today to "replace conjecture and hearsay with facts" in his appeal of the city's 1959 tax equalized valuation.

★ ★ ★

At a preliminary hearing on whether Wixom's appeal will be considered, Louis M. Nims, member of the State Tax Commission, said, "This certainly is a confused thing to me."

He said a decision on the appeal might be made in two or three days.

Stadnik read a long summary of the city's tax picture to Nims and other tax officials, claiming Oakland County's Equalization Department had erred in not making a physical appraisal of the Lincoln-Mercury plant in the city before settling on the city's equalized valuation.

"They apparently were interested in keeping the 1958 figures," Stadnik said. He said since original appraisals were made of the Ford plant an adjoining office building had not been used, thus lowering valuation of the plant.

Wixom, a tiny city of 1,500 which was incorporated in May of last year, is the only Oakland community appealing its tax equalized valuation, on which 1959 taxes will be based.

The mayor contends by an increase in the city's equalization factor from 1.58-plus of last year to 1.94-plus this year, the city's absorbing "unfairly" $4,000,000, or 28.6 per cent of the county's total valuation increase of $14 million.

Europe Reports Record Number of U.S. Tourists

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A record 637,000 Americans visited Europe last year and spent 560 million dollars — more than in any previous year.

These travelers spent an average of $1,530 each for their trip to Europe, about the same rate as in 1957.

A report released today by the Commerce Department also showed that France was the most popular of the European countries, with visits from some 381,000 Americans. The United Kingdom as second with 338,000 visitors from the United States.

Italy was third with 314,000 American visitors, but first in the amount of money they spent — about 100 million dollars. The average visitor spent $315 in Italy compared with $266 in the United Kingdom and $242 in France.

Of the $1,530 the average traveler spent on his trip, $655 went for Trans-Atlantic fare and $875 was spent abroad. People going by ship spent an average of 68 days in Europe compared to 41 days for air travelers.

No London Strip for Tennis Beauties

LONDON (UPI) — Two of international tennis's brightest beauties won't strip in England as they did in Monte Carlo. Englishmen "don't have the time."

Daily Mirror columnist John Rolls said Karol Fageros of Miami, Fla., and Italy's Lea Pericoli brightened a tennis party in Monte Carlo in April with a dual strip-tease dance.

"They came on in evening gowns, dripping with mink and pearls," Rolls said. "As they sang, they peeled off their clothes down to their . . . er, camiknicks," which is another way of saying . . . er, undies.

"This week in London, Karol and Lea were asked by some of the sportier members of the International Lawn Tennis Club if they would repeat the act at the clubs big Eve-of-Wimbledon ball," Rolls said.

"I . . . er . . . don't think we have the time," Rolls quoted him as saying. "It will be a very full evening."

Foil Revolts, Kisses Out Act of Sexy Singer

PERTH, Australia (UPI) — Sabrina, the English television star who is as famous for her 42 inch bust as her singing, often invites a young man from the audience to stand by her while she croons love songs.

Usually the man stands there in agonies of embarrassment while she sings "Persuade Me" and the audience smirks at his shyness.

She stood there in a tight-fitting red dress and was just going into the first strains of "Persuade Me" when he embraced her and began kissing her.

* * *

Parking Meter Pleas Cost Police Chief Job

BOYNE CITY (UPI) — Joe Wolff did not think a chief of police should be required to check parking meters. He told the City Council as much.

* * *

Wolff, who had been chief since 1955, said he couldn't carry out the functions of his office and check parking meters too.

Says Little Radiation May Lengthen Life

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — A medical researcher said yesterday small amounts of radiation may lengthen human life rather than shorten it.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Crawford F. Sams, of the University of California, presented the theory to a session of the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science.

"I'm ashamed that some scientists have assumed that all radiation is bad," he said. "We have become so concerned with the effects of high radiation that we have overlooked the facts."

He cited experiments in which rats exposed to low-level radiation lived 30 per cent longer than most rats.

★ ★ ★

"You cannot say that firing two more nuclear bombs will decrease the human life span," he said. "It might increase it."

★ ★ ★

He emphasized that he was talking about small amounts of radiation and not massive exposure.

Doctor Held in Jail Awaiting Drugs Charge

IONIA (AP)—Dr. Robert C. Rood, 34, of Belding, was held at Ionia County Jail today to await circuit court arraignment in August on a charge of violating state narcotics laws.

★ ★ ★

Rood was arrested May 8. He was accused of keeping improper records of narcotics dispensed by his office.

Groucho's Daughter Runs True to Form

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Hearing that Groucho Marx was staying at a midtown hotel whose name must not be mentioned but begins with A, we phoned to extend our greetings. He said he was going to be dining at Dinty Moore's. "Could we drop in and say hello?" we inquired humbly. "Providing you say goodbye in the same sentence!" he snapped.

WILSON

Dolores, the beautiful headwaitress, bowed us to his table a little later. Groucho was dining with his wife, Eden, and Serge Obolensky, the distinguished hotelier, who by coincidence is associated with a hotel whose name begins with A. Groucho confessed being worried because his daughter just got her report card—and she got a C in sewing. "What if your husband came home with a hole in his pants?" he asked her. "I'd buy him a new pair!" she said.

Singer Andy Williams had a big, successful opening. Comedian Joey Bishop was just great, too. Joey said with all the white coats of the prom kids seeing the shows now, "I always feel like I'm just coming out of the ether." Joey claims when shopping for his wife he can't remember measurements, but tries to find somebody shaped like she it. Discovering a real singer for his wife the other day, Joey went up and said, "Excuse me, sir . . ."

Liquor Laws of Ontario Hit

Touring U. S. Editors Also Assail Failure to Promote Attractions

TORONTO (AP)—A group of United States editors who have been touring Ontario criticized the province's "ridiculous" liquor laws and its failure to promote tourist attractions.

"Your Sunday laws against liquor would make any tourist feel awfully blue," Wheeler Mayo of Sallisaw, Okla., told an interviewer.

Jack Sinclair of Hartford, Mich., said he was surprised that beverage rooms could not serve liquor or wine.

One editor said he was "astonished" that the province did not advertise the birthplace of the Dionne quintuplets near North Bay. Clyde M. Reed of Parsons, Kan., said he did not see a single highway marker in that area telling visitors how to find the Dionne home.

Reed contrasted this to the U.S. where "they advertise every bed George Washington ever slept in and make money doing it."

The editors, guests of the Ontario Dept. of Travel and Publicity, have visited Sault Ste. Marie, Sudbury, North Bay, Ottawa, the Thousand Islands area of the St. Lawrence River and the Bay of Quinte. They went from here to the Georgian Bay area, Sarnia, Leamington and Windsor.

Canada to Get Pay TV Before End of Year

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The president of International Telemeter Co. says his firm will be operating pay TV in Canada before the end of the year.

★ ★ ★

Louis A. Novins said the paying viewer will be able to choose from a sports program, a motion picture or a local show at the same time. Coin boxes will be attached to the home sets.

★ ★ ★

The Canadian operation is under the name of Famous Players Canadian Corp. Ltd., headed by J. J. Fitzgibbons of Toronto. Novins said the system will be operated via the Canadian Bell Telephone Co.'s wire facilities.

Nigerian Premier Sails for Tour of U.S., Britain

Dr. Nnamdi, who also is president of the National Council of Nigeria and the Cameroons, said he would seek funds to establish a university during his trip and would try to hire some university and secondary school teachers for work in Nigeria.

Navy to Award Crew of Plane Shot at by Reds

YOKOSUKA (UPI) — Lt. Comdr. Donald R. Mayer, pilot of the Navy plane attacked by Communist jets, will be awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for bringing the plane to safety, the Navy said today.

It said Secretary of the Navy William Franke has authorized Rear Adm. Frederic S. Withington, commander of the naval forces in Japan, to award the medal to Mayer. Mayer is from Litchfield, Conn., and Nyack, N.Y.

The secretary also authorized Withington to award the Purple Heart medal to Donald E. Corder, aviation electrician's mate second class, of Jacksonville and Farmer City, Ill., who was the only crew member injured in the attack.

Awards have been authorized for the other crew members and will be announced at a later date following recommendations by Withington, the Navy announcement said.

To Rush Queen's Film

NEW YORK (AP)—A film of Queen Elizabeth II departing from London to join President Eisenhower in Canada in dedicating the St. Lawrence Seaway will be seen on television in the United States Thursday, only 2½ hours after it is taken. It will be on NBC-TV from 9:15 to 9:30 a.m. EST.

Presley Beats Retreat Before Fans in Paris

PARIS (UPI) — French rock n' roll fans prowled the streets today trying to track down an elusive American soldier by name of Elvis Presley.

SP. 4 Presley, on 15 days' leave from his armored unit in Germany, showed up here yesterday. At first nobody recognized the singing star as he sat down at a Champs Elysees sidewalk cafe. But then he was mobbed by autograph seekers.

He left Frankfurt last Thursday for a tour of Germany, France and England, but kept the details for his travel plans to himself.

Present Programs Dull, So Let's Go Back to Start

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI) — We're now nibbling on the stub of the TV season, an appropriate time for assaying the fare tossed up from September to June.

★ ★ ★

There's no doubt that the starting point should be CBS-TV's Playhouse 90. Like Abou Ben Adhem, its name led all the rest this season. It unloaded a few bombs, but on the whole, its quality was amazingly high.

It was a show which laced excitement into the week and in "The Old Man," "Days of Wine and Roses" and "Project Immortality," three of the semester's finest dramas.

Aside from Playhouse 90, there was only one other stickout event of the season — NBC-TV's "An Evening With Fred Astaire." It was a stunner.

BEST ACTING

The best acting job of the season was pitched by John Gielgud in CBS-TV's "The Browning Version" with Lee Cobb a wisp behind for "Project Immortality."

I'd also like to ring in Tammy Grimes for her delightful capering in NBC-TV's Omnibus "Forty-Five Minutes From Broadway."

The worst acting jobs of the season were turned in by Jane Russell in "Ballad for a Badman" on CBS-TV's Desilu Playhouse and on another and more torturous level, Helen Hayes in anything.

As long as I'm on worsts, I should take note of NBC-TV's Oldsmobile Music Theater as the most dreadful new nighttime series.

Also among the worsts I should nominate Claudette Colbert for her emceeing of CBS-TV's "Woman!", Esther Williams for her hostessing of the NBC-TV Omnibus show on submarines, the singing of Lana Turner and Anita Ekberg.

Biggest disappointment was the new CBS-TV Jackie Gleason series.

STRONGEST PERSONALITY

The personality who emerged strongest over the past season was the veteran announcer and sometime emcee of the NBC-TV Jack Paar show, Hugh Downs—he came over as a rare TV bird, a performer with charm, warmth and intelligence.

Allegra Kent, who danced on the CBS-TV Nutcracker Special, was the most noteworthy of the new performers -- she has an enormous talent that will continue to grow.

Among the male newcomers, I was struck by Richard Beymer, an actor on Playhouse 90's "Dark December."

John Frankenheimer wins all the marbles as director of the season. Ed Murrow's CBS-TV Small World was the most interesting new show, despite its occasional dull patches.

And one final bow to the best commercial. It was a cigarette pitch delivered by Garry Moore's teleprompter man on CBS-TV's I've Got a Secret, a sequence far more entertaining than most of TV's regular menu.
