

Kennedy Raps Administration

Nixon Aligns Stance With Ike

Candidates Widen Split on U.S. Economic Future

HOUSING AROUND — Politics has its ups and downs, as is graphically illustrated at this multi-party headquarters in Limestone, Maine. First the Democrats opened their offices on the top floor. Then the Republicans rented the space below and put up the slogan "Stay on the Ground Floor, Vote Republican." Finally the Dems, not to be outdone, unfurled the sign reading "Be on Top, Vote Democratic."

WITH KENNEDY IN PENNSYLVANIA (U-P) — Democratic presidential candidate John F. Kennedy said today this country can achieve peace and security only if it builds a strong and vital economy.

Sounding somewhat hoarse as he carried his campaign into Pennsylvania for the fourth time, he said the nation's economy has been hampered during the Eisenhower administration by two recessions and now by "a serious slowdown."

In an indirect swipe at Vice President Richard M. Nixon, his Republican opponent, Kennedy said that "if we drift here at home, all the bold words and finger-pointing won't make up for the lack of strength of the United States."

He said that Soviet Premier Khrushchev's power comes from the Soviet Union's productive power and declared this country can't afford not to make full use of its steel mills and other facilities.

U.S. leadership of the free world, Kennedy said, "requires a powerful, dedicated, moving America, and that is what we are going to get."

A plan by Kennedy to return briefly to Detroit has been canceled to give him time for some campaigning in Virginia. The aide said Kennedy does not plan to campaign in Michigan again before the election.

He started a 15-hour motorcade tour of eastern Pennsylvania in Bethlehem, a steel center and a Democratic stronghold where he was cheered by friendly crowds.

He spoke first at a $25-a-plate Democratic breakfast attended by some 350, and then before about 4,000 mostly students in the Moravian College gymnasium.

NIXON LAND NEXT

Kennedy's next stop was Allentown, considered to be Republican territory, where Nixon spoke last Saturday night. The police estimated the crowds that listened to Kennedy in the city square at 30,000.

Kennedy said he would move on before the end of the day to Patuxent, Md., to see Wilkes-Barre and Scranton, before an air hop to the outskirts of Philadelphia late tonight.

Earlier, in a speech he prepared for use along way, he accused Nixon of selling America short.

"It is Mr. Nixon—not I—who is endangering America," Kennedy asserted.

Pope Marks 2nd Year Consecrating 8 Bishops

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope John XXIII today celebrated the second anniversary of his election as supreme pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church by consecrating eight bishops.

His manner of observing the occasion was typical of the way he has reigned—principally as a pastor.

WITH NIXON IN ILLINOIS (U-P) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon said today that he and President Eisenhower stand shoulder to shoulder in the fight against communism and for the preservation of peace.

Nixon brought his campaign to Illinois after a hectic day in Michigan.

Nixon got a rousing reception from a crowd of police estimated at more than 5,000 in his first Illinois stop at Danville.

Nixon laid emphasis on his long association with Eisenhower as he campaigned through areas of Illinois regarded as primarily Republican.

The vice president also said "The American people have more sense than Sen. Kennedy" and are not betting there will be an economic recession.

Citing record automobile production for this time of year, he added "They have faith in America and I wish Sen. Kennedy had more."

CALLS SABOTAGE

A metal box found in the path of Vice President Richard M. Nixon's campaign train near Fort Wayne was described today as attempted sabotage, not a prank.

Sheriff Chester A. Dunifon said a transformer box 14 inches long tied tightly to the track "positively could have derailed Nixon's or any other train."

In his talk at Danville, Nixon referred to the rocks thrown at him during his Venezuelan tour in 1958 and noted that some tomatoes and eggs were tossed at him Thursday in Michigan.

"I've been through some real hecking and it's not going to stop me," he said. "If there is anyone here who doesn't believe it, just try it and see."

INJECTS HUMOR

Nixon said that his Democratic rival, Sen. John F. Kennedy, has contended that the economy is going sour.

"If that is true, how could they afford those tomatoes and eggs?" he asked. "They were pretty good ones."

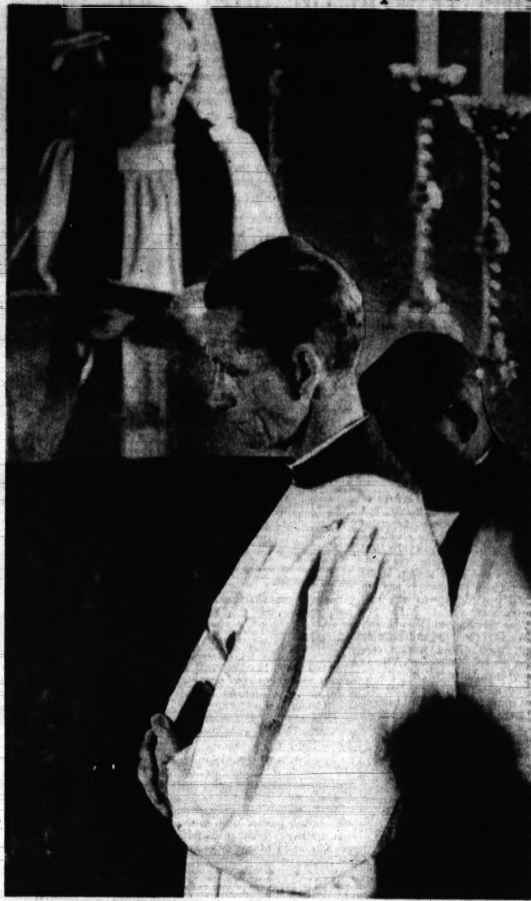

He pointed his special train toward primarily Republican sections of Illinois before a night speech across the Iowa line in Davenport.

Nixon told an applauding crowd at the dedication of a field house in Muskegon that if he is elected president he intends to visit all of the satellite nations of Eastern Europe.

He specifically named Poland, which he has visited previously, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria and Romania.

He said he hopes that if Sen. Kennedy wins he will make such visits.

'Be to the Flock a Shepherd'

MR. DEWITT CONSECRATED — The Rev. Mr. Robert L. DeWitt, rector of Christ Church Cranbrook for 12 years, yesterday was consecrated Episcopal Suffragan Bishop at the Cathedral Church of St. Paul in Detroit. Here he kneels in the chancel before the laying-on-of-hands rite.

Cranbrook Rector Elevated to Bishop

The Rev. Robert L. DeWitt was consecrated bishop suffragan in the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan yesterday in a service rich with the tradition of the church.

Elevation of the former rector of Christ Church Cranbrook in Bloomfield Hills to the high church post took place in the Cathedral of St. Paul in Detroit.

Many members of the Rev. Mr. DeWitt's Bloomfield Hills parish were among the 1,500 persons who filled the pews several hours early in order to witness the historic ceremony.

ADMINISTRATORS COMMUNION

One of Bishop DeWitt's first duties was to assist the presiding bishop in administering Holy Communion to his family and fellow bishops. He offered the Cup to his wife, his daughter Rebecca, 19, and Laurence, 17, and other members of his family.

Bishop DeWitt now takes his place beside the Rt. Rev. Richard S. Emrich, bishop of the diocese of Michigan, and the Rt. Rev. Archie H. Crowley, the other suffragan bishop of the diocese.

With the Rev. Mr. DeWitt in his white and purple vestments, standing beside his family, the Rt. Rev. James A. Pike, bishop of the diocese of California, exhorted the suffragan bishop-elect in his sermon that he must maintain his ministry of Christ along with the added duties imposed upon him with his new office.

Consecrator was the Rt. Rev. Arthur C. Liebenberg, bishop of the Episcopal church of the United States.

The Rt. Rev. Angus Dun, bishop of Washington, D.C., and the Rt. Rev. Norman B. Nash, retired bishop of Massachusetts, were the coconsecrators.

After the choir, including members of the Christ Church choir, had taken its place in the chancel, the clergy procession entered from the side of the cathedral. Then came the presiding bishop's procession up the aisle.

Walls of Theater Being Torn Down

Demolition crews were to begin tearing down the shaky walls of the fire-devastated Oakland Theater in downtown Pontiac this afternoon.

Representatives of Butterfield Theaters, Inc., elected to send in wrecking crews and equipment after conferring with city and fire department officials at City Hall.

Carl Alt, city building inspector, stated that three of the four-story walls might fall at any moment. He ordered the representatives of the theater firm to take safety measures or raze the walls.

The theater was consumed by flames of unknown origin Wednesday night, with damage estimated by Fire Chief James R. White at $415,000, making it one of the worst in Pontiac history.

Plans were being made to place planks over the roof of Yankee's Clothing Store on the south so that bricks from the falling walls would not go through the roof.

Assistant City Manager Robert A. Bierer said the demolition work should be completed on Saturday. "The north, south, and rear walls are definitely a hazard," he said.

Fire Marshal Charles E. Metz said the fire started in the rear

Bishop Lashes Out at Bias in Detroit

DETROIT (U-P) — The Rt. Rev. James A. Pike, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of California, says condemnation of racial segregation is necessary to preserve the prestige of the nation as well as for spiritual reasons.

Bishop Pike spoke Thursday at the consecration of the Rev. Robert L. DeWitt as suffragan bishop of Michigan in the Episcopal Cathedral of St. Paul here.

Urging that clergymen speak out against segregation, Bishop Pike referred to threats of white parents in northwest Detroit to keep children from school in protest against Negroes being transferred to white schools.

Bishop Pike said the new suffragan bishop here will have to become a prophet.

"This is what prophecy means," he said, "to condemn such action as this in Detroit."

'Back to Life' Four Times, Doctor Dies

A Saginaw physician, revived four times after his heart stopped beating, lost his fight for life this morning after being declared dead. Dr. Joseph Radai, 37, was rushed to St. Mary's Hospital, Livonia last night after the crash by Redford State Police. Doctors there opened his chest and massaged his heart four times when it stopped beating. He died at 6 a.m. today.

Radai was head physician at the General Motors Corp. Steering Plant in Saginaw.

Laskowski died half an hour after the accident in the same hospital.

State Police said Laskowski's car was headed west in the eastbound lane of the divided highway.

A third car smashed into the rear of Laskowski's car after the accident, but the driver was not injured.

OSLO, Norway (AP) — The Nobel Committee, of the Norwegian Parliament decided today not to award the Nobel Peace prize this year.

Make Dec. 1 Target Date for Regular Air Service

December 1 is the target date for inauguration of the new facilities and air service at Pontiac Municipal Airport.

Homer D. Hoskins, airport manager, said the runways and terminal facilities should be ready by then to handle the first Convair transport set down by North Central Airlines pilots to begin regularly scheduled airline service in Pontiac.

Frank N. Buttimer, North Central vice president in charge of sales and traffic, told the Michigan Department of Aeronautics in Lansing yesterday that Dec. 1 is the date and Convair—the airplane scheduled for most of the nine Michigan cities that are getting new, short-haul service.

Buttimer said two of the cities might have a "tough time" generating enough customers to warrant continuation of the service after an 18-month trial period set by the Civil Aeronautics Board.

He didn't identify the cities, but Hoskins gave assurances that it wasn't Pontiac Buttimer had in mind.

"In my conversations with North Central officials I have been told that Pontiac is one of the cities they are most enthusiastic about," said Hoskins.

NEED FIVE A DAY

During the last 12 months of the 18-month trial period, Pontiac will have to produce an average of at least five passengers a day in order to keep the service.

John W. Hurlinger, manager of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, describing the chamber as "active steps" to promote use of the fledgling air service.

Hoskins welcomed the airline's use of the twin-engine, 48-passenger Convairs, describing them as "highly reliable, efficient aircraft, well-suited to our 5,500-foot long runway."

Hoskins said the big paving program at the airport can be completed in two days of good weather.

Bids for furnishings in the virtually complete terminal-tower building are to be delivered to the airport today.

Says Jack Has NY

MODESTO, Calif. (UPI) — W. Averell Harriman, former governor of New York, Thursday predicted that Sen. John Kennedy would carry New York by "one of the largest votes ever given a Democratic candidate."

Beware of Halloweeners

Beware of spooks 'n' goblins, especially little, hard-to-see ones, Sheriff Frank Irons warned today.

His message was aimed at motorists who will be on the road Monday night—Halloween, a time when youngsters in the guise of witches' kin roam the streets "trick or treating" in piping voices meant to be scary.

"And I'm scared, too," Sheriff Irons said, "Scared that some child will be killed or maimed by an unwary driver."

"We will have every available man on patrol that night," he added, pleading at the same time for motorists to be extra cautious.

He also warned parents of the spooks 'n' goblins to be certain that their children's vision is not hindered by their masks, and to see that the younger ones are accompanied by a "responsible" older person in making the door-to-door rounds for goodies.

OBSTACLES IN STREET

"I hope the spooks will have enough sense this year not to endanger anyone's life by mischievously placing obstacles in the streets . . . such hazards could easily cause a tragic automobile accident," the sheriff added.

Other tips on how to avoid a witches brew of trouble this Halloween have been offered by pediatricians at the University of Michigan as follows:

Luminous tape is in vogue for all sprites, ghouls and wizards. It can be seen easily, enhances the spookiness of the costume and helps ward off such dangers as automobiles.

It's also a good idea to carry a "flashlight, but no open flame such as candles or oil lanterns. Each Halloween, hospitals report burned goblins who became careless with fire.

The doctors urge homeowners to keep porch lights on for the guidance of amateur and inexperienced spooks.

One of the most common diseases at Halloween, say the doctors, is "Potters' Diarrhea," a sudden stomach-ache caused by too many and too varied trick-or-treat goodies.

Science knows of no sure cure for this eerie indigestion, except moderation. However, if it comes and if it persists it would be best to hop on your broom and go see your family doctor.

Meet in TV Debate

Bagwell, Swainson Spar Over How to Up Taxes

DETROIT (AP)—Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson and his Republican opponent for the governor's chair, Paul D. Bagwell, are agreed that Michigan needs more revenue but they disagree on how to raise it.

The two candidates met in a half-hour television debate in Detroit, Thursday night with East-West plumping for an increase in the state sales tax and Swainson demanding "total tax revision."

Despite repeated efforts by Bagwell, Swainson declined to spell out a specific tax program and he also declined to be pinned down on whether or not he favored a state income tax.

Bagwell, bringing in Halloween, said, "My opponent has been playing trick or treat with you. He wants the treat—which is your vote—but if he gets the treat you're going to get tricked."

My opponent and his party are trying to trick you upon voting for an income tax, Swainson won't tell where he stands. But he can't be tricked—he is for an income tax."

Bagwell also charged that Swainson "has no tax program and, if he has he refuses to tell the people about it."

Swainson denied that he had no program. He said his program was one of "total tax revision to take into account the tax needs of city, county school district units and the state."

My position is clear," Swainson said. "I propose a total tax revision. We must eliminate the massive tax imposed by the Republicans. We must lighten the unfair burden of taxes on certain individuals."

He said he did not favor a sales tax increase because "it is inequitable and it would solve none of the state's fiscal problems."

He also said he did not favor an income tax on top of the present tax structure.

Bagwell countered that Swainson's answer was "no answer at all."

He said "I oppose an income tax for a sales tax increase."

Bagwell said, however, that if he were elected governor and the voters defeat a proposal on the Nov. 8 ballot to increase the sales tax he would "be forced to recommend an income tax to avert financial chaos in the state."

He said such an income tax would be "low and flat rate" and not graduated.

"The Democrats," Bagwell said, "are playing politics with taxes, their previous actions show they pass bills which benefit those who vote Democratic."

Swainson retorted that the Democratic party was "the party that cares. It is responsible for the needs of all the people."

Area Scouts Plan Knob-to-Knob Drive for Votes

On the door knobs of 80,000 homes in Clinton Valley Council, the local Boy Scouts will place "Get Out and Vote" hangers on Saturday. This council comprises most of the area of Oakland and Macomb counties, including the cities of Pontiac and Mount Clemens.

While the work is in charge of Joe Haas, member of the National Council of Boy Scouts, he states that full force for the placing of the hangers should go to the local council office in Pontiac, the scoutmasters and other leaders in the 24 units in the council, and the 10,000 boy scouts who will visit the homes.

The message on the hanger, which is in the shape of the Liberty Bell, says: "Hear, youth, call Ring the bell for freedom. Vote as you please, but vote."

"Throughout the nation, five million scouts will place these hangers on forty million homes. The project is a major feature of the golden jubilee of scouting in America."

County Teachers Attending Institute

It's a "free Friday" for pupils in Oakland County as teachers attend county-wide institute today — but not for the teachers.

There are no classes today because of the 1960 State Teachers Institute being held at Masonic Temple in Detroit.

The annual regional conference is sponsored by the Michigan Education Association and is being attended by an estimated 5,500 teachers in Oakland County.

Featured speakers at this afternoon session were: William W. Wines, president Walter Rutter and Dr. Lynn Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction.

Chairman of this year's conference is Donald V. Crowl, principal of Avondale High School and president of Region No. 7 of the MEA.

Mac Warned About Bugging

State Department Told British K May Carry Listening Device

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Department security agents cautioned the British in advance that the facts show Michigan last year ranked third among all states in industrial bugging.

Republicans say industry has led the state due to Gov. Williams' administration.

Speaking at a luncheon in Waterford Township this noon, Swainson said the "Construction News" publication shows the dollar value of 1959 industrial building contracts in Michigan was at an all-time high of $193.8 million.

Only Texas and Ohio attracted more building capital, Swainson said the publication showed.

Rector of Cranbrook Elevated to Bishop

Then came the most impressive section of the rites with the bishop laying his hands upon the head of Mr. DeWitt. The presiding bishop said, "Receive the Holy Ghost for the office and work of a bishop in the Church of God, now constituted unto thee by the imposition of our hands."

"And remember that thou stir up the grace of God, which is given thee by this imposition of our hands."

Bishop Lichtenberger then presented Bishop DeWitt with a Bible saying, "Give heed unto reading, exhortation, and doctrine. Think upon the things contained in this Book. Be diligent in them, that the increase coming thereby may be manifest unto all men, for by so doing thou shalt both save thyself and them that hear thee."

What is asked of a bishop was the next part of the message, "Be to the flock of Christ a shepherd, not a wolf; feed them, devour them not. Hold up the weak, heal the sick, bind up the broken, bring again the outcasts, seek the lost."

The laying-on-of-the-hands is the transfer of spiritual power, which the Protestant Episcopal Church traces back to the 12 Apostles of Christ.

Litanies were the Rt. Rev. Nelson M. Burroughs, Ohio bishop, and the epistolar was the Rt. Rev. Charles E. Bemison, bishop of Western Michigan. Gospeler was the Rt. Rev. Herman R. Page, bishop of Northern Michigan.

Attending presbyters were the Rev. Canon Henry Lewis, rector of St. Andrew's, and the Rev. Malcolm G. Dade, rector of St. Cyprian's, Detroit.

After the ceremony the new bishop was received at a reception held in the new Cathedral Center.

Bishop DeWitt, 44, is expected to be assigned to the Detroit area of the diocese.

Finch Jury Still Out; Another Deadlock?

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Marathon deliberations by jurors at the second murder trial of Dr. R. Bernard Finch and Carole Tregea indicated today they may be deadlocked.

But neither the prosecutors nor the defense attorneys would speculate that the case would end as a mistrial again.

At day's end and Saturday, the taleman had deliberated 39 hours and 15 minutes on murder charges against the couple, surpassing by 2 hours and 40 minutes discussions of the first jury which ended in a 12-hour deadlock.

Finch, 43, and Miss Tregeff, 29, are accused of slaying the surgeon's wife Barbara, 33, on July 13, 1959.

Teamster Objections Will Be Heard Nov. 4

Objections of Pontiac Teamster officials to the Landrum-Griffin Labor-Management Relations Act will be heard in a Detroit Federal Court Nov. 4, it was announced today.

U. S. District Judge Fred W. Kees set the date for a hearing on the Teamsters Union challenge to the constitutionality of the act.

Pontiac Local 614 and James R. Hoffa's home local 299 in Detroit charged the law is unconstitutional on grounds that it attempts to regulate the internal affairs of a union.

The test case grew out of the refusal of the Teamster locals to permit government inspectors to look at their records for 1959.

U. S. District Judge Fred W. Kees set the date for a hearing on the Teamsters Union challenge to the constitutionality of the act.

Pontiac Local 614 and James R. Hoffa's home local 299 in Detroit charged the law is unconstitutional on grounds that it attempts to regulate the internal affairs of a union.

The test case grew out of the refusal of the Teamster locals to permit government inspectors to look at their records for 1959.

Man Arrested in Raid Gave Wrong Address

Clayton Kieffer, a man arrested by Pontiac police in a raid Sunday on an illegal gambling establishment, lived at 2070 Pompey St., Waterford Township.

That is the address he gave police as his home. Arthur Zettel lives at address 1500 N. Kieffer's true address is unknown, according to police.

Finch Jury Still Out; Another Deadlock?

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Marathon deliberations by jurors at the second murder trial of Dr. R. Bernard Finch and Carole Tregea indicated today they may be deadlocked.

But neither the prosecutors nor the defense attorneys would speculate that the case would end as a mistrial again.

At day's end and Saturday, the taleman had deliberated 39 hours and 15 minutes on murder charges against the couple, surpassing by 2 hours and 40 minutes discussions of the first jury which ended in a 12-hour deadlock.

Finch, 43, and Miss Tregeff, 29, are accused of slaying the surgeon's wife Barbara, 33, on July 13, 1959.

Oct. 10 Report Tells of Decline

Herald Tribune Says Paper Compares U.S. With Russia

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Herald Tribune said today it has been told that a report completed Oct. 10 for the U. S. Intelligence Agency shows a "congruous decline" in American prestige in Western Europe relative to the Soviet Union.

A Washington dispatch to the newspaper reported that a House subcommittee investigator, during the entire question of U.S. prestige polls, said:

"The Oct. 10 report is a Western European view of the continuing decline of United States prestige, vis-a-vis Russia."

"Most significant is the fact that the breakdown given in the report shows that while lower economic groups in these countries are maintaining about the same attitude toward the United States, the intelligentsia and related groups show a sharp drop in confidence in the United States."

The investigator was quoted as saying that the Oct. 10 prestige report was based on questions put to Western Europeans dealing with the world balance of power between the United States and the Soviet Union, and related "technical competence" of the two nations in the field of outer space and missile development.

The Herald Tribune said another source, who said he had access to the Oct. 10 report, said that while the reported drop in United States prestige was more marked among European intellectuals and groups than among lower economic groups, United States standing had slipped among both groups.

The source, who was identified as a U. S. spokesman, said that the report was based on a survey of the House subcommittee on Government Operations was quoted as saying in Sacramento: "It is now known that as recent as Oct. 10, the poll conducted by the White House indicated a continuing slump of American prestige."

The story said the USA declined to confirm or deny the existence of an Oct. 10 report. A USA spokesman was quoted as saying against discussion of our polls is classified and therefore we have no comment on them."

It's No Bike Tyke — That Fellow's a Policeman

MONTGOMERY, Ala (AP)—Some police are patrolling their beats on bicycles because the machines are less conspicuous than cars and easier on the feet than walking.

Police Chief F. J. Ruppenthal says the two-wheel duty is patrolled in the downtown business and warehouse districts. "The idea of this kind of patrol work is to stay in the dark and they can do just that on bicycles," the chief said.

Malice in Blunderland, Harry?

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman suggested today that the Lincoln-Mercury plant in Wixom, Mich., is a "malicious" place.

Truman's tongue-in-cheek address, prepared for a fund-raising dinner tonight, was released in advance.

"I do not feel bitter tonight toward Richard Nixon," Truman told the crowd. "I feel concern and a touch of pity. I have been wondering what he could do after the election returns are in. He is too young to retire, and he will have to have some kind of a job."

"I think I have discovered what Nixon can do. He has considerable gifts of showmanship, and the ability to create all kinds of illusions. He should go into this amusement park business and open one of his own, which we could call Truman's."

"One of the rules in Nixonland would be 'no cuss words'—because of the children there, of course. In Nixonland there would be no-

Revive Work Camp Plan

LANSING (AP)—The possibility of a youth work-training camp in Michigan shot down by the 1960 legislature, mainly for financial reasons — has been revived here by the Michigan National Guard.

A special legislative committee on juvenile problems is studying a plan that would set up a Michigan Civilian Conservation Corps (MCCC) for young men from 17 to 21 years of age at Camp Grayling, the national guard reservation.

Rep. HARRY A. De Munn B. Battle Creek, said in hearings at the state Capitol Wednesday that youth camps could play a vital role in delinquency prevention.

The MCCC, using national guard facilities, was the brainchild of Brig. Gen. Noble O. Moore, Calhoun County prosecutor.

The program would be administered by the state adjutant general. The camp would be staffed by national guard cadre, according to Moore's plan.

The blueprint calls for starting with a company of 175 boys, 17 and 18 years old. They would be allowed to reenlist in the program yearly until they reached 21, he added.

The program would cost the state $25,000 to administer the first year.

Committee members are studying the plan for possible recommendation to the legislature.

We Could Gain by Their Wisdom

Cats Are Wonderful Teachers

By MAE BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—If you want to learn how to live, get yourself a cat.
When you first get a new pet of any kind, you usually have a complacent feeling that you can teach it a thing or two.
Sometime later, you find to your surprise, you are the one being taught. Your pet teaches you more than you teach it.
Our household tabby, known as Lady Dottie, appears to our visitors no more than an ordinary black and white alley cat of large size.
Certainly she doesn't bear any startling resemblance to Horace Mann or John Dewey. But in her way she has turned out to be quite as much of an educator.
Everyone in our family—my wife, Frances, my 7-year-old daughter, Tracy Ann, and myself—has learned something from her.
What can a mere cat teach a human being? Why, many things.

Ask Oil Import Cut for Nation

Areas East of Rockies
Would Be Affected, Ike Proclamation Needed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Interior Department said Thursday it had proposed that foreign oil imports, except residual fuel oil, be cut by 60,000 barrels a day, effective Jan. 1, in the area east of the Rocky Mountains.
Covered would be both crude oil and finished and unfinished products.
Undersecretary Elmer Bennett said the cut would require a presidential proclamation before it could become effective. This is expected in the near future.
Independent oil producers in Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and other big producing states have been pleading for the cut on grounds cheaper foreign oil has continued to undermine the domestic market.
The proposal was sent to the White House and Budget Bureau several days ago. White House Press Secretary James C. Hargety said he knew nothing about it.
Crude oil production in Texas, the bellwether producing state, is on an eight-day-a-month basis. Other producing states also are under restricted operations.
An Interior Department spokesman said the reduced flow of foreign oil would bring imports more in line with domestic output and probably would lead to an increase in domestic production.
The plain song is the ancient chant melody of the church service.

First of all, perhaps, she can teach the value of a life of dignity without self-pity.
Lady Dottie, like all cats, is a four-footed island of self-respect. She may compromise, but she never surrenders. She allows no outsider to violate her dignity, and she never violates it herself by feeling sorry for herself.
Lady Dottie teaches the value of getting joy in life from small delights.
She years for no expensive toys. A box from the department store will keep her happy for two full days. She loves to lie in the crinkly tissue paper and pull the lid over her head. This is her castle in Spain on the living room floor.
Watching her play in this manner one day, I observed aloud: "You know, I really envy Lady Dottie."
"Oh, don't feel that way about it, Rover," said my wife. "If you want a paper box, I can get you one, too."
KIND OF PRISONER.
By nature, Lady Dottie was probably meant to roam the woodland as a wild thing. She is now a kind of a prisoner in a four-room, eighth-floor city apartment where she spends all her nights and most of her days.
For about 15 minutes each morning she likes to go out in the hallway. Then she comes back and paws at the door to be let back in.

She has seen enough of the strange outside world. She is happy to return to the security of the apartment.
She has adapted herself completely to this restricted universe, and she is content with it. She doesn't complain her empire is too small. She is happy to be its queen—and has no doubt that she is the queen.
Her only worry is the servant problem. But with a human family of three people to wait on her, Lady Dottie really doesn't do too bad. Some cats have only one servant.
Besides demonstrating the art of making the best out of what life presents, Lady Dottie also teaches another important thing—the virtue of living in the present.
She never pines over the sorrows of the past, or broods over the terrors of the future. She lives intensely in each moment as the Lord sends it, and gets the most out of it. She is tremendously, vitally aware—keyed when awake to the majesty inherent in every instant. And when she sleeps she sleeps as if she had eternity at her disposal.
These are a few of the lessons in living Lady Dottie has taught us.
If you want to lead a richer, happier, more carefree life, get yourself a cat—and let it teach you a few tricks.

SHE'S FOR NIXON — Mrs. Addie Lothrop, 96-year-old Hartford, Conn., voter, winks at newsmen Thursday while she tells them why she will vote for Richard Nixon, Nov. 8. She says she will vote the straight Republican ticket "as usual" but this year it will be by absentee ballot.

It'll Be a Marrow Escape

Bones May Protect Astronauts

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Astronauts may use marrow from their own bones to fight the lethal effects of radiation encountered in their travels through space, two government scientists believe.

Other speakers at a space medicine symposium at Brooks Air Force Base agreed Wednesday that radiation poses the greatest threat to space exploration.

"Possibly the most practical solution for post-irradiation treatment of man would be the use of (bone) marrow," said Dr. John F. Thompson and Dr. Harvey M. Pratt of Argonne (Ill.) National Laboratory in a paper read to the conference.

"By far the most successful approach to the problem of recovery of irradiated animals (those exposed to radiation) has been the use of bone marrow injections," the pair reported.

"Before exposure, bone marrow could be removed from an individual, stored until after the subject was exposed, and then re-injected into him," the report said.

The doctors noted the process "would be impractical for large populations (but) it might be feasible for a limited number of subjects."

Bone marrow, they said, is valuable in treating radiation because of its cell-building functions. One of the major dangers of radiation is its destructive effect on cells, especially those concerned with reproduction.

Three Air Force scientists, said experiments indicate it may be more harmful in some ways to shield spacemen against radiation than to leave them unprotected.

Col. John E. Pickering, Maj. Ralph G. Allen and Dr. Oskar L. Ritter said shielding materials stop some high-energy cosmic ray particles, but turn others into deadly secondary particles which would penetrate the cabin of a space craft.

"No one shield material will find engineering acceptance devoid of some penalty," their report said.

The paper said a compartment 10 feet high and 10 feet in diameter would require 6,800 pounds of sheathing inside this, they said, should be a "flare shelter," designed to provide protection against increased radiation after solar flares or explosions.

A flare shelter big enough to protect one man would weigh 13,000 pounds.

2 City Teens Hurt in Detour Traffic

Two teen-age Pontiac girls were seriously injured in a traffic accident connected with last night's Oakland Theater fire.

Judy Burling, 16, of 736 First St., and her sister Maxine, 14, were both hospitalized at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in fair condition. Judy with a broken right shoulder, Maxine with a cervical fracture.

Sightseers at the fire, the girls were heading home with their mother, Mrs. Zelma J. Burling, 47, in her car on South Parke Street.

Mrs. Burling told police she had halted in front of City Hall in a long line of traffic, detoured from Saginaw street because of the fire, when her car was bumped sharply in the rear by another car.

The other driver was Earl E. Bower, 44, of 201 E. Huron St.

New Mexico claims it has the oldest highway in the United States. It is El Camino Real, which, according to historical tradition, was established and used in about 1581.

NIXON AND 'BUMP' — Vice President Richard M. Nixon warmly greets University of Michigan head football coach Chalmers (Bump) Elliott after speaking at the Ann Arbor railroad station Thursday. Nixon, on a 14-city campaign tour of the state, spoke to an estimated 15,000, many of whom were U. of M. students. He alluded to Michigan's defeat of Duke University, his alma mater, in his speech.

The state of Maine appropriated $50,000 in 1959 to restore eight of its ten ancient covered bridges.

Negro Leader's Jailing Concerns Sen. Kennedy

ATLANTA (U)—Sen. John F. Kennedy expressed concern over the jailing of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., Negro integrationist, in a telephone call from the Middle West, King's wife said.

King was sent to prison for four months Tuesday by a judge in nearby DeKalb County. The sentence was based on a probation 12-month term given King in September for driving without a license. The revocation of four months followed King's participation in lunch room sit-in demonstrations in Atlanta.

The clergymen was ordered freed on $2,000 bond Thursday, pending an appeal.

"Sen. Kennedy said he was very much concerned about both of us," Mrs. King said of the phone call which came Wednesday. "He said this must be hard on me."

"He wanted me to know he was thinking about us and he would do all he could to help. I told him I appreciated it and hoped he would help."

"It certainly made me feel good that he called me personally and let me know how he felt. I had the feeling that if he was that much concerned he would do what he could to see that Mr. King is let out of jail."

Disarms Sentry, Threatens to Slay Swede Princess

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—A man added insult to a sentry outside Stockholm's Royal Palace, took his loaded submachine gun and made off through the dark and winding streets of the Swedish capital.

An hour later the thief walked into the office of the "Stockholms-Tidningen" newspaper, waved the gun and said calmly, "I want to kill Princess Sibylla."

The princess is the crown prince of Sweden's 14-year-old mother, prince Carl Gustaf.

The newspaper's crime reporter Bo Sigeheden, disarmed the 47-year-old man and called the police.

Police said he had escaped from an insane asylum.

Things could be worse—just suppose that had a presidential election every 2 years . . . The kids of yesterday were harder-working, better-behaved and more obedient than the kids of today. At least, that's what the kids of yesterday are always saying. —Earl Leon

Dem Claims Nixon Opposes 5th Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Democratic official asserted today the presidential candidates have been unable to agree on having a fifth television debate. He accused Vice President Nixon of "apparently not acting in good faith."

J. Leonard Reinisch, the Kennedy official, said the Kennedy official has been negotiating on the debate, adding that apparently Nixon "is not willing to meet Sen. Kennedy again face to face in the final stages of this crucial campaign."

Reinisch made the statements in a telegram to all of the networks. He said Kennedy still stands willing to debate with Nixon, despite the deadlock that has developed.

Reinisch has been meeting periodically since Monday with Fred Scribner, undersecretary of the Treasury and Nixon's spokesman in the debate negotiations.

Derailment Scare Gets Action

Scan Tracks Before Nixon

ABOARD NIXON TRAIN (UPI) — Police patrolled the tracks in advance of Vice President Richard M. Nixon's campaign train today following discovery of a piece of metal lashed to a trestle near Fort Wayne, Ind.

Thursday night's derailment scare followed a day of heckling and egg-and-tomato throwing in Michigan.

Authorities blamed pranksters for placing the piece of metal, a 14-inch can-shaped fluorescent light transformer filled with sand on the tracks. But they said it was of sufficient size to derail the train.

Federal agents said the Nixon train would use the tracks despite the discovery of the object. More than 25 policemen were assigned to patrol the tracks until Nixon's train passed through Fort Wayne on its way to Illinois, where similar precautions were expected to be taken.

Herbert Klein, Nixon's press secretary, called the heckling and egg-throwing in Michigan Thursday the work of a "goon squad."

Thursday night in downtown Muskegon, two eggs were thrown at Nixon's car. One hit the top of the convertible, according to Klein, and splattered on two Nixon aides.

The other egg struck the vice president's coat. Two officers were hit by eggs earlier in the day.

Klein called the Michigan crowd "most friendly and among the most friendly of the campaign."

"I can only conclude that organized goon-squad tactics are involved in such an occurrence," he said.

He said "harsh profanity" was shouted at Mrs. Nixon at one stop.

Hecklers shouted "Yea Kennedy over and over when Nixon appeared outside the Muskegon Arena after his scheduled speech inside. Numerous Kennedy banners were waved across the crowd.

Nixon said he hoped the hecklers would be as courteous with him as his supporters were with Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic nominee.

The heckling continued and Nixon, almost angrily, said, "Look, I've been heckled by experts so don't try anything on me." He was finally able to continue his speech after he reprimanded the hecklers a second time and told them to "go away."

Demand End to Algeria War

Bloody Riots Hit Paris, Other French Cities as Crisis Grows

PARIS (AP) — Demonstrations demanding an end to the six-year Algerian war swept France Thursday night with bloody rioting in Paris and a half dozen cities.

Thousands more demonstrated peacefully in scores of cities and towns. It was the biggest public expression on Algeria since the spring riots of 1958 that led to Gen. Charles de Gaulle's return to power.

The Elysee Palace announced that President de Gaulle would make a radio and television address to the nation Nov. 4.

About 100 demonstrators were injured in the street clashes that raged through the capital, Caen, Lyon, Toulouse, Nevers, Toulon and Brest.

The fighting was heaviest along Paris' Left Bank, where 60 demonstrators and 15 policemen were hurt and 527 students arrested. Most of the students were released later.

Nine newsmen and photographers were injured, covering the Paris riots. The French national accused police of singling out newsmen for rough handling.

The French National Students Union, many of whose members face induction to bear arms in North Africa, had called for a day of national agitation for peace in Algeria. The government banned outdoor public demonstrations but permitted indoor meetings. The Communist party sponsored stoppages in plants lasting from a few minutes to several hours.

Profit in Third Quarter Chrysler's 1st Since '57

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. said Thursday it made money in the July-September quarter for the first time since 1957.

Even though the profit was relatively small—$1.4 million—it put Chrysler ahead of last year's pace financially while Ford, General Motors and Studebaker-Packard all have fallen behind 1959.

American Motors has not yet reported earnings for the quarter.

Chrysler's third quarter net, equal to 15 cents a share, contrasted with a loss of $34.2 million in the third quarter last year and a loss of $20 million in the third quarter of 1958.

Earnings for the first nine months total $25.1 million or $2.84 a share, compared with $23.8 million, or $2.73 a share, last year.

The big difference was increased sales of cars and trucks. Chrysler sold about 250,000 vehicles in the world market during the recent third quarter compared with only 182,511 a year ago.

And for the first nine months Chrysler vehicle sales are up more than 260,000 units despite a drop in Sigma business. Sigma is a French line of cars and trucks' merchandising in various countries by Chrysler. Sigma sales dropped from 6,126 units in 1959 to 27,083 units in 1960.

Dollar volume of sales was up 21 per cent over last year — from $1.96 billion to $2.39 billion.

President L. E. Culbert reported Chrysler's share of the domestic market rose from 12.3 per cent a year ago to 13.7 per cent this year.

Wednesday General Motors, the nation's largest manufacturing company, reported a nine month profit of $701 million, or $2.45 a share, against $725 million or $2.35 a share for the first nine months of 1959.

Ford dropped from $39.1 million last year ($6.19 a share) to $316.2 million ($5.76). And Studebaker-Packard fell sharply, from $15.5 million ($2.39) to $104,786 (2 cents).

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Joan Lora was awarded a $6,250 damage judgment against actress Audrey Hepburn Thursday in a suit resulting from a 1958 auto accident.

Miss Lora said she lost important acting roles because of back and neck injuries suffered in the collision. She said she specialized in dancing and in horseback riding roles in westerns.

Miss Hepburn said she was making a left turn in Beverly Hills when a car approached rapidly. She said she stepped on the gas to get out of the way of this car and hit Miss Lora's auto.

Jack Endorsed by NY Times

Paper Had Backed Ike;
Cites Foreign Policy, Democratic Congress

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times Thursday editorially endorsed Sen. John F. Kennedy for president.

The newspaper, which is politically independent, endorsed President Eisenhower in 1952 and 1956.

The Times said two considerations carried special weight in determining its judgment in endorsing the Democratic nominee—"a matter of foreign policy" and "a question of assuring a unified direction of the nation's affairs at a difficult moment in history."

The editorial said: "Sen. Kennedy made it clear he would not go to war with Communist China solely for the 'principle' of defending two islands immediately adjacent to the Chinese mainland, for to do so would be 'unsound militarily, unnecessary to our security and unsupported by our allies.'"

"But the vice president, who in a sense had to be rescued from his original position by the President, made statements—such as the one that he would not surrender 'one inch of free territory' to the Communists—that carry implications reaching far beyond Quemoy and Matsu and, in fact, extending to the whole range of American foreign policy."

The editorial said in part: "There is every reason to believe that the next Senate will be strongly Democratic. There is almost equally good reason to believe that the House also will be Democratic. With international tensions running high and great decisions to be made, we cannot view with satisfaction the prospect of a continuation of the division of authority between executive and Congress which has prevailed in the last six years."

Ben Hecht Says Murder Story Based on Rumor

TORONTO (AP)—Hollywood writer Ben Hecht says his magazine article about the 1952 death of Paul Bern, husband of the late screen actress Jean Harlow, was based on gossip and rumor.

The case of the writer-producer's death was ordered reopened by the Los Angeles district attorney after Hecht, in a magazine article, called Bern's death murder and not suicide.

Hecht said in an interview: "I have no evidence whatsoever. My report was based on a story that has been circulating in Hollywood for a long time." He said the rumor is that a woman with whom Bern lived shot him, then committed suicide three days later by jumping from a ferry boat.

Says U.S. Sought Island Withdrawal

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. J. William Fulbright said Wednesday secret testimony by administration officials proves that this country has sought withdrawal of some Nationalist Chinese troops from Quemoy and Matsu.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, told a news conference that if Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican presidential nominee, persisted in making a campaign issue out of the Nationalist-held offshore islands, he would seek to have the testimony—given in secret to the committee—made public.

The Arkansas Democrat charged Nixon was engaging in an effort to make Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic candidate, appear "soft on communism."

State Sales Tax Hike Lacks Support in Poll

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit News said Thursday its voter poll shows a proposed sales tax increase still trails badly although there has been a slight rise in support.

The poll said 59 per cent of the voters oppose the proposal as against 36.7 per cent in favor of it.

The proposal, which will be Proposal No. 2 on the Nov. 5 state election ballot, calls for a one per cent increase in the sales tax. The tax is now 3 per cent.

WINDSOR, Ont. — Investigators today hoped to probe a "concrete firecracker" which blew fire and death through a busy Metropolitan Department Store Tuesday.

The body of Joseph Bohdal, 31, manager of the store lunch counter, was recovered Thursday night bringing the death toll to 10 with more than 80 injured. Officials did not comment on the possibility of finding further victims.

"We know it was gas but we don't know how," said A. R. Crozier, chairman of the Ontario Emergency Board. "We think gas in the furnace room blew up. It was just like a concrete firecracker."

A new gas heating unit was being installed in the 30-foot by 20-foot basement room when the thunderous explosion collapsed the rear of the two-story structure.

No Dry Rot; Snail's Pace Is 'Fast'

Cherished Illusions Blow Up

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Another one of my cherished illusions has just been shattered and now lies in a quivering, whimpering heap at my feet.

This one was shot down by the Smithsonian Institution, which cold-bloodedly reports that rings are not necessarily reliable indicators of a tree's age.

God, sir! In there nothing left we can depend on!

According to the Smithsonian, a new arboreal study shows that trees tend to grow by "flushes," that is, in spurts. A tree may suddenly start growing almost any time of the year and one part may grow while another part does not.

If that reminds any of you parents of someone you know, it possibly is because trees seem to have something in common with adolescent children.

At any rate, the report comes as a shock to those of us who grow to manhood thinking that all trees uniformly develop one new ring each year. It is, moreover, only one of a series of reports I have seen recently indicating that an agonizing reappraisal of Mother Nature may be in order.

The Agriculture Department, for instance, tells us that the age-old belief in the existing of "dry rot" is just a lot of rot. There is no such thing as "dry rot."

All wood decay, the department avers, is caused by a fungus which cannot exist in dry wood.

There also is a question of whether we know where we speak when we refer to a "snail's pace." Have you any idea how fast a snail travels? Would you be surprised if I told you that snails can sprint at speeds up to four inches a minute?

Some snails, incidentally, have an interesting love life. When they want to get cozy with another snail, they bombard the object of their affection with little limestone darts, sort of like Cupid's arrows.

This will give us something to cling to until some government agency comes along and tells us there is no such thing as Cupid.

LOVE LIFE OF MOTHS

Speaking of romance, I recently learned that Agriculture Department scientists have discovered how to produce synthetically the natural perfume which the female gypsy moth uses to attract her lovers.

The breakthrough was made by a chemist named Martin Jacobson, who found that lady gypsy moths get their men with a substance he identified as "dextroretroary 18-acetoxy-1-hydroxy-cis-7-hexadecene."

When a male gypsy moth gets a whiff of dextroretroary 18-acetoxy-1-hydroxy-cis-7-hexadecene, he never knows what hits him. And small wonder. No red-blooded, 100 per cent male gypsy moth would be thinking of chemistry at a time like that.

Jacobson has managed to duplicate this mothly aphrodisiac in a compound known as "gylure." Pest control officials plan to use it to lure male gypsy moths to their destruction.

From a male moth's standpoint, there may not be a better way to die.

YMCA Camper Likes Vivid Bedtime Stories

ELKIN, U.C. (AP) — The lights were turned off and fire crackled in the fireplace. The YMCA camp counselor, who had just finished reading the evening scriptures, asked: "Shall we pray?"

"No," came a small voice. "Let's tell ghost stories."

Urges a Fuller Use of Influenza Shots

LANSING (AP) — State Health Commissioner Dr. Albert E. Heustis today urged fuller use of inoculations against influenza by the aged, the chronically ill and the pregnant. He termed these "high risk groups."

"Thousands of flu-associated deaths in the United States might be prevented each year through vaccination," he said.

Heustis said the occurrence of epidemic influenza in fall and winter of 1957-58 and in the first three months of 1960, pointed out the need for vaccination against the disease.

Civil Defense Director Resigns Monroe Post

MONROE (AP) — S. M. Broadus resigned Wednesday as director of Monroe County Civil Defense.

Broadus, in a letter to the county board of supervisors, said he was resigning because "the majority of the board of supervisors does not believe in the need for civil defense in Monroe County." The resignation is effective Oct. 31.

Federation President Has Spunk

Mrs. Lee Ozburn Talks, Practices Conservation

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Mrs. E. Lee Ozburn is preaching conservation to clubwomen and practicing it on her rolling acreage in the Southwest.

The new president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, "Katie" Ozburn is mobilizing her members — 5.5 million strong in the United States — for a crusade to save the soil and clean up the waters.

Her first big date in this arena will be the National Conference on Water Pollution held by President Eisenhower, Dec. 12-14, in Washington.

She, along with the representatives of 30 other national organizations, is currently working on arrangements.

"The national water problem is rapidly approaching the crisis stage," Mrs. Ozburn warns. "Soil is another basic resource that must be protected and improved. I have chosen as the purpose of my administration 'Responsible, Responsive Citizenship for Survival,' and full and wise use of our natural resources is a must for survival."

LIKES BOOK

The GFWC, which pioneered for conservation before the turn of the century, now takes new leadership under the guiding glove of Mrs. Ozburn. As a starter, she is presenting to each of 30 state conservation chairmen an autographed copy of Sen. Robert S. Kerr's new book on "Land, Wood & Water." The pioneer flavor of the senator's writing especially appealed to her.

"The book is written in a fascinating, absorbing style," Mrs. Ozburn recently wrote to clubwomen. "It is the kind of reading you do not put down until the end. The shrinking of the world has brought the word 'survival' into our thinking."

"Too many of us think only in terms of physical survival. We need to see to it that the resources essential for economic strength survive. Sen. Kerr's book brings home the neglect of this fundamental doctrine, and I hope that all clubwomen will use the book in their programs."

Mrs. Ozburn is a spunky, versatile grandmother, a little woman with big ideas. Fashionable and outspoken, she effectively promotes conservation on the rostrum and in private conversation.

The daughter of a Texas pioneer doctor, she appears equally at home in gingham housewren and bonnet, inspecting her treasured farm land which is a laboratory for conservation.

"It was from my pioneer father that I first learned to love the soil," she appears to be saying. "I gradually brought all the acreage he could afford. He would often say, 'Daughter, don't ever sell your land.' Now, I keep it for my children and grandchildren, and tell them the same thing."

Better Than Constant Reminders

Moving May Help to Forget

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Seven years ago my little girl of 9 died suddenly. She was my only daughter and I haven't been the same since. Abby, am I wrong to ask my husband to move? Her playmates live all around us and need I tell you how I feel watching them grow, year after year? I can't hold back the tears when I meet them, so I avoid them (poor darlings). My husband says he's put so much money into this house and feels that I'll get over it: I've been trying to forget, but how does a mother forget?

He says he wants to teach me to be strong like a million other mothers who have lost a child. I know I'll be happier if we move—then I won't see her bedroom and the chair she curled up in to watch TV, and her empty place at the dining room table. Please, please, Dear Abby, am I asking too much to move?

A DESPERATE MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: You are not asking too much. New surroundings, no matter how plain, would be better than the old reminders. I hope your husband will see it your way and consent to move.

DEAR ABBY: I am not stacked and everyone teases me about it. Mom says, "No substitutes!" It's a very embarrassing situation. I am 15. Have you any suggestions?

FROM FLATSVILLE

DEAR FROM FLATSVILLE: If Mom says no substitutes—then it's no substitutes. If you don't "fill out" in a year or two, write again and I'll fill you in with another angle.

10,000 See Religious Art Show

More than 10,000 persons have seen the National Religious Art Exhibition in Birmingham which closes Sunday.

"We have been highly gratified by the response of the thousands in Detroit and surrounding areas who have visited the show. Also, it has been acclaimed by critics and the press across the country," said General Chairman Irving A. Duffy.

The exhibition, in a gothic dome structure on the grounds of St. Regis Church is open daily from 2 to 9 p.m.

Entitled "Christ—The King—The Church," under sponsorship of Holy Name Parish in Birmingham, the exhibition is expected to be renewed every two years.

Honorary sponsor and chairman this year have been respectively the Most Rev. John F. Dearden, D.D., archbishop of Detroit, and the Rev. Eugene E. Paddock, pastor of Holy Name. The Rev. William B. Davidson, assistant pastor of Holy Name, has been director of the program with a committee of laymen.

Purpose of the exhibition of contemporary religious and ecclesiastical art has been to encourage public interest in and private ownership of such works. More than $3,000 in cash prizes were awarded this year. A group of 60 patrons underwrote the costs.

Women's Section To Mull Cheaper Than to Decorate

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK — Most of us women consider ourselves fairly apt at interior decorating. Amateurs yes, but experts nonetheless.

I listed myself proudly among the amateur pros — until a real professional crossed my threshold this week. The results left me shaken.

Gone is the confidence with which for years I have argued color mixing with painters. Gone is my faith in knowing how to arrange furniture—this is indeed a blow, for I move furniture around as regularly as I get my hair shampooed.

Gone too is the illusion that I always have managed to create a home setting with a "lived-in" look.

It all started from my staying at the interior of a four-room apartment my husband and I have occupied for one year now. Somehow, the more I analyzed, the less it "hung together" as all good decorating schemes are supposed to hang.

LIVING ROOM YAWNED

The living room yawned with the emptiness of Grand Central Terminal on a Sunday morning no matter how I shuffled furniture in those "conversation groupings" the decorators always talked about.

The foyer, which decorators tell you creates the first impression of the whole house, was about as inviting as a doctor's waiting room. Something should be done. Was a decorator the answer?

Husband thought there was no harm in talking with one. After all, most decorators make no charge for the initial consultation.

"We soon found out they make up for this later, either with a flat fee for each hour of advice, or the profits they make from buying at decorator discount and charging you the retail price."

"GO WHERE?"

So she came calling one evening — a brisk, pleasant woman who wasted no time getting down to business.

"Go where?" I asked, thinking she had another corner of the room in mind.

"To the Salvation Army," she replied.

"That mirror over the couch ... no one hangs them there anymore." It cheapens the room.

Next came the analysis of window treatments. The living room windows are what decorators call "problems" — unusually high and wide. I'd disguised them with draw curtains of a white sheer fabric which still let the air and light in.

"While calls attention to them," she said, "we'll have to use a material blended with the wall tones to make the windows recede."

"You need taller lamps on those end tables by the couch," she said.

"How much would you invest in new ones?" I asked her.

"Good ones'll cost you $300 to $400," she said and didn't bat an eyelash. My husband choked on an olive.

She moved around the entire apartment making suggestions for new accessories, and firm orders that a bookcase in one niche had to be torn out.

"It looks homemade," she said. "It was. Four weekends of my husband's sawing and painting home-made it."

This hurt him like his mashed finger until she said, "I don't see a really good easy chair here for the man of the house. He needs one, with a hassock."

MULL IT OVER!

He brightened, and then paled again when I asked her approximately how much all the changes would cost. "I'd say $2,500 to $3,000 for the living room alone," said the decorator.

Might we mull it over? We might. "After all," she said, "you don't have to do everything at once."

Husband and I still are mulling, forced to by the present state of finances. And somehow, now as I stare around the apartment and think of the cost of replacing the lamps and adding a more impressive table and chairs to the dining area and new draperies and slipcovers, I don't worry half as much about conversation groupings and a lived-in look.

Holiday Fashions Spark Show

Holiday Fashions was the theme for the Oakland County Federation of Democratic Women's style show at Waterford Community Activities Building Thursday evening. Fashions were by the RB Shop, Birmingham.

Mrs. Clyde Nelsey was mistress of ceremonies, and Mrs. William R. Shaw commented on fashions.

Mrs. Ernest Felice, general chairman, was assisted by Mrs. Donald Lee, Committee heads were Mrs. John Hitchcock and Mrs. Robert Chapin, refreshments! Mrs. Nelsey and Mrs. Edward Cheyz, hostesses; Mrs. Edward Mathis and Mrs. Robert P. Scott, ticket-takers; Mrs. Guy Selden and Mrs. Frank Halsema, gifts.

Mrs. Edwin Adler and Mrs. Alvin Rappaport were co-chairmen of decorations. Mrs. Scott handled publicity.

President Mrs. Robert P. Scott of Monroe Street, Drayton Plains, adjusts the flowers of Mrs. Patrick Daly of Lynsue Lane at the Holiday Fashion Show of the Oakland County Federation of Democratic Women. Trustee Mrs. Clyde Nelsey of Davisburg looks on with approval.

The excitement of modeling beautiful clothes for their friends brings a glow to the faces of Mrs. Donald Johnson (at left) of Lakeview Street and Mrs. W. A. Pollock of Salmer Street.

2 First Ladies Were Younger Than Jackie

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Any one who feels uneasy that Jackie Kennedy might become first lady at the age of 31 would have really been shocked if he had been around during the administrations of John Tyler and Grover Cleveland.

Julia Gardiner Tyler was 21 and Frances Folsom Cleveland only 21 when their husbands served their terms in the White House in the 19th Century. Historical reports both were excellent hostesses.

A further look through the history books shows even Pat Nixon, at 48, is comparatively young for a first lady. Most were in their 50s when their husbands took office. The oldest was Mrs. Zachary Taylor, who was 61.

The youngest, Mrs. Cleveland, held open house at the executive mansion three times a week and was always there to meet all visitors. At these two-hour functions, she often shook as many as 3,000 hands without appearing tired.

The Cleverlands were married in 1886 after the President had taken office. The wedding was the first held in the White House.

The bride was the daughter of Cleveland's former law partner and had known the president most of her life. When her father died, she became Cleveland's ward. He helped supervise her upbringing. They were married soon after she finished college.

IT WAS A BLAST

The courtship of President John Tyler and 24-year-old Julia Gardiner literally started with a blast. She and her father, a prominent Long Island socialite, were among dignitaries whom the president had invited on a cruise aboard the flagship Princeton.

As they were sailing down the Potomac River, one of the ship's guns exploded killing several guests and crew members. Julia fainted into the president's arms. Four months later they were married.

Known as the "Rose of Long Island," the beautiful brunette had traveled extensively before her marriage and according to one historian "had left a string of broken hearts in Saratoga, London, Paris, Rome and New York."

Like Jackie Kennedy, Julia was criticized for her clothes. Tyler always bought her the latest fashions, spending so much money that he was accused of living too high for a president. Julia, was Tyler's second wife. The first Mrs. Tyler died soon after he took office.

Contrary to popular opinion, Kennedy's election would not make Jackie the first newspaper woman to become First Lady. Jackie was an inquiring photographer for a Washington daily before marrying the senator.

President Warren Harding's wife Florence worked on the Ohio paper of which her husband was part owner. She has been quoted as saying, "I went to the office one day to help out and ended up staying 14 years."

During this time she was a reporter, editorial writer, advertising saleswoman and circulation manager — and host's wife.

Pat Nixon, a former school teacher, would also have several predecessors in that occupation. They include the wives of President William Garfield, Coolidge and Franklin Roosevelt.

Whether Pat or Jackie would advise their husbands on political matters is something they are keeping strictly to themselves. If they do, though, their best example is Edith Bolling Galt Wilson, the second wife of the World War I president.

She knew so much about her husband's job that she virtually took complete control when he collapsed with a critical illness in 1913.

Business Ordinance Gets Little Backing

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP—A proposed ordinance which calls for licensing and regulation of businesses in the township is drawing little support from the businessmen it is supposedly designed to protect.

The ordinance was developed by a committee of the Pontiac Township Businessmen's Association and drawn up by Township Attorney Herbert E. Gordon.

Gordon said he is neither for nor against the ordinance. Committee members favor it enthusiastically.

Local businessmen are confused about it.

A joint meeting was held between the township board, the association's committee, the attorney and the businessmen at which the proposed ordinance was to be explained.

Many of those attending the meeting said the ordinance is not enforceable. Others said a licensing board which is provided for in the ordinance would have too much power.

According to the ordinance, a business is the operation of any trade for profit whether casual or permanent in nature.

A township trustee asked if this would apply to his son who has a newspaper route in the township. The committee said all the details have not been worked out, regarding what businesses would be affected by the ordinance.

Gerrett Roerick, a grocer and a member of the committee, said that the ordinance would keep the "chiefs" out of the township. The other members of the committee are Cecil Ritz and association president Karl Schultz.

By adopting the ordinance, Schultz said, the township would have a registry of all businesses operating here. He said the ordinance would protect businesses in the township for a nominal fee to be set by the proposed licensing board.

Opponents to the ordinance said the cost for inspecting businesses would be too high. They maintained that any trade affecting the health and welfare of the citizens already is licensed.

An informal vote at the end of the meeting showed only four businessmen among the approximately 40 in attendance favored the ordinance as proposed.

Some 25 others voted against passage of the ordinance. The rest were undecided.

Township Supervisor Leroy Davis said the study of the proposed ordinance would be continued.

Shopping Center Store to Debut

A&P First in Proposed $3-Million Sales Project at Dixie and M15

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP—The first store in the proposed $3-million shopping center at the corner of Dixie Highway and M15 has been completed and will begin its grand opening at 9 a.m. Wednesday.

Costing close to $200,000, the huge A&P supermarket on the corner of the North Pointe Plaza shopping center will be the seventh Early American Big Store to be constructed by the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company this year, according to officials.

The charm of early American architecture extends from the white cupola atop the building, right on down inside and through the spacious aisles.

Replicas of old lamplighters' lamps will illustrate the open displays of canned goods on the shelves. Brightly colored lamps will indicate specific counters for the latest amount of customer confusion.

The pale green and yellow walls in the front of the store and the maroon and coral shades on the back wall over the meat counter blend perfectly with the off-white ceiling.

The automatic checkout counters gleam with chrome, and shoppers' feet will be warmed by the radiant heat rising from the tiled floors.

Blacktop parking space for some 2,000 cars is available in the front, to the sides and in back of the store units, and the area is illuminated with new type area lights.

The new store manager, Henry Klopman, 37, of 1599 Eason St. is the former manager of the A&P store at 132 W. Brown St. and has lived in Waterford Township with his wife and two children for the past three years.

A grocery item will be given away to each customer every day during the grand opening week, and carry-out boys are ready to serve all residents of the Clarkston area, Klopman concluded.

Drain Hearing Set for Today

Participants in the South Oak Drain Project Air Their Objections

OAK PARK—Participants in the $1.6 million South Oak Storm Drain were to air their cost objections at a special hearing to be held at the Oak Park Community Center.

Called by the Oakland County Drain Commission, the hearing will be attended by representatives of Oak Park, Southfield, Detroit, Oakland County and the State Highway Department.

This will be the third attempt to get construction under way on the 19,100-foot drain designed to Park and Southfield from flooding Northwest Detroit.

Two previous cost assessments were objected to by Southfield no share of the construction costs.

Detroit now has agreed to pay $33,513 of the bill.

Oak Park's portion of the drain will cost the city $126,392, and will be paid for by city-at-large taxes. Estimates of other cost shares are as follows: Southfield, $317,239; Oakland County, $93,132; and the State Highway Department, $871,413.

Exchange Student Applicants Narrowed

KEEKO HARBOR—Four applicants for the exchange student scholarship at West Bloomfield High School for 1961-62 year have been selected by the school's American Field Service members.

Named were Cheryl Broome, Judith Eby, Mary Ann Stanker and Christine Thomson.

Final selection of one student will be made at the New York office of AFS, according to Mrs. W. H. Bretzloff Jr., chairman of the student interviews.

Each student furnished information that would be helpful in their placement in foreign homes.

Twelve students applied for the scholarship.

OPENS WEDNESDAY—The new supermarket in North Pointe Plaza shopping center at the Dixie Highway at M15 in Independence Township will have its grand opening beginning at 9 a.m. Wednesday. This $200,000 store is the first in the proposed $3-million project.

County All Set for Halloween

Keego, Orion, Addison, Walled Lake, Clarkston Invite Kids Monday

In an effort to keep "goblins" and "spooks" from being hit by cars, merchants, civic organizations and firemen in several Oakland County communities are staging special parties for youngsters on Halloween.

AT KEEGO HARBOR—More than 700 children are expected to turn out at the Halloween party Monday night in Keego Harbor, sponsored by the West Bloomfield Township Fire Department and auxiliary.

The party will be staged in the parking lot of the Community Center.

Prizes will be awarded to the best costumes, the best siren, announcing the start of the door-to-door beggars. The siren will sound again at 7:30 p.m. signaling the trick and treaters to return to the party area.

A hundred dozen doughnuts and 50 gallons of cider have been ordered for the occasion, according to West Bloomfield Township Fire Chief Herbert Morgan.

AT WALLED LAKE—The Walled Lake Halloween party Monday night, sponsored by local merchants and firemen, will begin at 7 in the Community National Bank parking lot.

Silver dollars will be awarded for the funniest, most original, prettiest and ugliest costumes. Judging will begin at 7:30 p.m., preceded with a concert by the Walled Lake Junior High School Band.

A dance contest for teen-agers and adults, with prizes awarded, will begin at 8:30 p.m. Free cider, doughnuts, apples, potato chips and ice cream will be passed out to everyone.

IN ADDISON TOWNSHIP—In Addison Township the blare of the fire siren at 7 p.m. will signal the end of an hour-long begging period for township youngsters and the beginning of the annual Halloween Party Monday at the Fire Hall in Leonard.

Prizes this year will be presented for the prettiest, homeliest and most original costumes.

First place winners in each division will get five silver dollars; second place, two silver dollars; and three third-place winners, a silver dollar apiece.

In addition to the judging, refreshments, including hot dogs, cider and doughnuts, will be served by the Township firemen who are sponsoring the festivities.

AT LAKE ORION—"Trick or Treat" hours set by the village council for Halloween in Lake Orion are from 6 to 8 p.m. Monday.

The Rotary Club's annual children's parade will start at 7:30 p.m.

It will end at the Junior High football field where the club will stage its annual holiday party.

Prizes will be awarded for the best costumes, and refreshments will be served.

AT CLARKSTON—Three separate parties are scheduled on Halloween in Clarkston by the Rotary Club, according to Chairman Dominic Maudsl, high school teacher.

Breaking tradition, no main street parade or bon fire will be held, he said.

After a trick or treat period from 7 to 8 p.m., Monday, youngsters will congregate at Clarkston Elementary School for refreshments, games and judging of costumes for prizes.

Junior High students will attend a dance at their school from 8 to 11:30 p.m. A similar event is slated during the same hours for the older students at the new high school.

West Suburban Boys to Greet Guests Sunday

KEEKO HARBOR—The West Suburban Boys Club will hold open house Sunday at its new home in the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 2706 from 5 to 8 p.m.

The new quarters of the organization, formerly known as the West Bloomfield Boys Club, is at 3325 Orchard Lake Road. The facilities offer boys woodworking classes, hobby crafts, and a game room.

Some 800 boys from West Bloomfield, Commerce, Waterford and Bloomfield Townships and Pontiac are members of the club.

White Lake Township—Water rates for a subdivision here were cut in half last night by the Township Board after residents complained they were out of line with those of neighboring towns.

A study of 10 other county townships showed the water rates in the Twin Lakes Village Subdivision were nearly double those charged by nearby communities, according to Supervisor Edward Chezy.

Property owners in the subdivision last week petitioned the board to look into what they termed "ridiculously high" water fees.

At that time the board agreed that the rates seemed too steep and promised the investigation.

Subdivision Was Overcharged

Cut Water Rates in Half

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP—Water rates for a subdivision here were cut in half last night by the Township Board after residents complained they were out of line with those of neighboring towns.

A study of 10 other county townships showed the water rates in the Twin Lakes Village Subdivision were nearly double those charged by nearby communities, according to Supervisor Edward Chezy.

Property owners in the subdivision last week petitioned the board to look into what they termed "ridiculously high" water fees.

At that time the board agreed that the rates seemed too steep and promised the investigation.

The new rates set last night call for a billing of $4.50 for the first 1,500 cubic feet and 10 cents for each additional 100 cubic feet.

"If in the future the rates get out of line with other townships, we'll see that they are adjusted again," Chezy said.

Several residents living in the subdivision claimed they had received water bills covering a six-month-period totaling $56 and $90.

The rates were set in 1958 and a cushion allowed to permit the township to absorb any maintenance costs when it took over the system from the developers after 10 homes were constructed.

However, at this date only 17 homes are in the subdivision and some $3,500 is already in escrow.

The board learned last night that the funds, however, may not be long to the township until 30 homes are built in the subdivision.

If this is so, current water bills, which were to be paid last week, will not be made retroactive with the new rates and the full amount will have to be paid.

Those living in the subdivision were told to hold up paying their water bills until the board could seek the advice of the township attorney.

The program will consist of masterpieces for the organ as well as favorite encores and will conclude with Malotte's setting of the "Lord's Prayer" sung by VanderVen.

Pre-Halloween Treat Set for 150 Children

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP—More than 150 children in the Carroll Lake Heights subdivision will be treated to a pre-Halloween party at 4 p.m. Sunday.

Entertainment will be provided for the youngsters by Frank Khus, a clown from Farmington. He will lead the children in a parade around the subdivision prior to the party.

The party is planned for children 11 years old and under. The subdivision improvement association will provide doughnuts, cider and ice cream.

Tried to Get Chicago Air Photos

FBI Nabs 2 Spies in NY

NEW YORK (AP)—FBI Agents struck with lightning swiftness Thursday night to round up a Soviet agent and a German-born medical illustrator. Both men are accused of spying for the Soviet Union. A third man, a Soviet national now out of the country, was named a conspirator but not a defendant.

Seized at their Manhattan homes were Igor Yagovlevich Melekh, 41, head of the Russian language section in the Office of Conference Services of the U.N. Secretariat, and Willie Hirsch, 35, who came to this country as a youth but never became a citizen.

The pair had been indicted Thursday by a federal grand jury in Chicago. One charge accuses the men of trying to obtain aerial photographs of Chicago, including military installations.

The Justice Department in Washington announced their arrests at almost the same time the FBI men closed in.

Melekh was seized at his apartment on West 68th Street while a birthday party was going on for his 6-year-old son. Hirsch was alone in his four-room apartment at Fifth Avenue and Tenth Street, a fashionable section of Greenwich Village.

Melekh, who came to the United States in 1935, lived with his wife, Irena, and their two children—the boy, Mikhail, and a daughter, Marina, 7.

A stubby man with gray hair and horn-rimmed glasses, Melekh—handcuffed as he was taken into FBI headquarters—muttered: "We were well prepared. We were well prepared."

At another point he said, "I just shows everybody is ready." In his job at the United Nations, Melekh earned $11,000 a year. The indictment against him said he also was known as Peter Stephens and as "Gypsy."

Hirsch, said also to have used the name John Gilmore, was picked up while his wife and daughter were out walking.

Hirsch and his family had lived in the apartment for 10 years. Tenant, told of his arrest said incredulously: "He was the nicest guy in the building."

Both men also are charged with failure to register with the State Department as agents of a foreign government.

Bagwell Boosters Claim Their Man 2 Pct. Behind

HOWELL (UPI)—The Bagwell Boosters organization said today that a telephone poll of 54,000 persons in 18 Michigan communities showed Republican gubernatorial candidate Paul D. Bagwell now trails his Democratic rival, John B. Swainson, by "less than 2 per cent" of the prospective Nov. 8 vote.

Name 3 More to Hall of Fame

Edison, Thoreau and MacDowell Chosen as Great Americans

NEW YORK (UPI)—Thomas Alva Edison, Henry David Thoreau, and Edward Alexander MacDowell were named Thursday to the Hall of Fame of Great Americans.

Busts of Edison, inventor of the first incandescent electric lamp; Thoreau, poet, essayist and philosopher; and MacDowell, composer and music educator, will join 86 other busts of Great Americans in the national shrine on the New York University campus here.

They were selected from 343 candidates by receiving a majority of 73 votes or more from the 142 electors in the Hall of Fame's 13th election. Edison received 148 votes, Thoreau, 73, and MacDowell, 73.

Eligible candidates for the election held every five years must be American citizens who have been dead at least 25 years.

An exception was made this year in the case of aviation pioneer Orville Wright, whose brother, Wilbur, has already been enshrined in the hall. Orville failed to be elected but was one of 10 candidates who received more than 50 votes, the number needed for automatic renomination for the next election in 1965.

The others were Sylvanus Thayer, known as "Father of the United States Military Academy; industrialist and philanthropist; founder Jane Addams, who won the Nobel Peace Prize in 1931; Associate U. S. Supreme Court Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes Jr.; Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederacy; philosopher and author William James; naturalist Luther Burbank; painter Winslow Homer; and Harvard University President Charles W. Eliot, who modernized the higher education curriculum.

Independent Enters District 1 Campaign

In what it says is a protest against the Republican incumbent and Democratic candidate seeking the position, a committee has been organized boosting "Independent" William G. Aebersold, 34, of 4730 Ross Dr., Waterford Township, for state representative from District 1.

A citizens committee is encouraging write-in votes for him Nov. 8.

Aebersold is a life-long resident of Michigan, an Army veteran of World War II and the Korean conflict, married and the father of two children, and has been with Waterford schools for eight years.

He is assistant principal of Pierce Junior High School.

Sight Rare Albino Antelope in the Alps

TRENTO, Italy (AP)—A white chamois has been sighted roaming the Italian Alps—the first of the rare mountain antelopes reported in the region for more than 100 years.

The last white chamois reported in the area was shot in 1856. Its hide is preserved in the Trento Museum of Natural History.

1,122 Engineers for 135,000 Miles

Inspection of U.S. Highways Is Big Worry

BY BEN PRICE

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. Bureau of Public Roads has an annual budget of $29.5 million and employs 1,122 engineers, including 150 bridge engineers.

With this engineer force, the bureau is supposed to exercise supervision over the greatest state-federal road building program in history.

Over the past four years the states and the federal government have spent $10 million on highways and authorized the expenditure of another $10 billion.

Since mid-1956 over 40,000 road contracts have been executed and 30,000 are currently in force.

When the bureau was charged only with the supervision of the regular primary, secondary and urban road programs, its 1,122-man engineer force seemed adequate. This is the program to which the states and the federal government contribute on a 50-50 basis.

But in 1956 Congress set up a huge new program to build 41,000 miles of superhighways over a 30-year period and told the bureau to supervise this program, too, without any increase in engineers. Under this program the federal government pays 90 per cent of the cost.

MUST INSPECT, ALSO

Bureau engineers have to approve the design, plans and specifications for roads in both programs. Further, they are expected to conduct on-the-spot inspections to see that all is going according to contract.

DEPEND ON HONESTY

The federal engineers have to rely heavily on the state's project supervisors and hope the contractor is living up to his agreement.

Breakup of a million-dollar highway at Lortsburg, N. M., indicates that federal engineers can't always tell whether a highway is well built just by looking.

While the federal government is withholding payment of $200,000 on the Lortsburg project, the fact remains that federal engineers gave preliminary approval to the work.

The Bureau of Public Roads did spot the developing land scandals in Massachusetts where selected rights-of-way properties, so the report goes, were overpriced. When the need developed for an investigation, the bureau gave the job to a consulting firm. Critics complained that the federal government shouldn't farm out its investigative chores.

The bureau takes the position that the states have their own inspectors and engineers, and for the federal government to set up a more extensive supervisory system would be a duplication of effort.

ASSUMES ACCURACY

The bureau says it does not feel obligated to question state records as a rule, that it assumes these records are accurate and submitted in good faith.

From the time the General Accounting Office actually audits a state's highway program until reports to Congress, about two years elapse.

The Department of Justice usually acts only when requested to do so by the bureau or upon formal complaint.

Congress began scanning the highway programs last year through the House Roads subcommittee headed by Rep. John Blanton, D-Miss. It has held two major hearings.

BUREAU IN MUDDLE

While there is a tendency in Congress to blame the bureau for the ills besetting the highway program, it must be noted that Congress set up the ground rules, established the state-federal relationships, and gave to the states the responsibility for actual road building.

If any charge can be leveled against bureau operations, it would be the exhibition of certain bureaucratic tendencies.

Though the bureau disclaims responsibility, it was a participant in one of Washington prize muddles.

After the superhighway program began, the question arose whether certain defense items, such as missiles, could pass beneath route interchanges and ridges.

For years the bureau had adhered to a 14-foot vertical clearance standard, with Department of Defense approval.

When the bureau wrote the Defense Department for a later opinion, the Pentagon kicked the question around for two years and then said it needed 17 feet.

After consideration by the Department of Commerce, the bureau's boss, this defense requirement was arbitrarily reduced to 16 feet.

Meanwhile, the bureau had approved construction of 800 bridges at the 14-foot clearance figure. To raise these 800 bridges to meet the 16-foot standard, the bureau estimates would cost $176 million. As missile technology advances, missiles are becoming smaller and it is now hoped that 14 feet will be adequate.

When the bureau was asked why it hadn't taken action unilaterally to raise vertical clearances, it replied that such a decision would not have been appropriate, that this was Defense Department business and not its own.

Urges Attention to Con-Con Vote

Romney Considers the Issue Vital to Future Progress of Michigan

DEARBORN (UPI) — Concentration of candidates and personal attacks in the current political campaign must not be allowed to distract voter attention from the equally vital constitutional convention proposal on the Nov. 8 ballot, the coordinating committee on Constitutional Convention declared.

The committee met at the University of Michigan Dearborn Center for a final review of plans to win a favorable vote for ballot proposal 3, the Con-Con proposal.

George Romney, committee chairman, said that increasing interest in the political campaign by national and state candidates could produce the largest voter turnout in Michigan history.

"However," he said, "the excitement and undoubted importance of the national and state election should not be allowed to divert Michigan voter attention on issues of equal importance to the state."

"A yes vote on Con-Con Proposal No. 3 is VITAL to the FUTURE progress of the state," Romney added.

"Voters in Michigan cannot afford to vote only for candidates and ignore the Con-Con proposal, passage of which can significantly enhance the future ability of the candidates they elect Nov. 8 to govern effectively."

His Balloon in Connecticut

Birmingham Lad Soars to Scientific Prominence

A 12-year-old Bloomfield Township boy is on his way to a scientific career with the recovery Wednesday in Connecticut of a balloon he released from his backyard Tuesday.

It all began Tuesday afternoon when David Pistor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack C. Pistor, 978 Westview Drive, filled two balloons with a gas substance as a "scientific experiment."

To each of the balloons he tied a note with his phone number, asking the finder to call collect.

At 4 p.m. he released the balloons with a prayer that his experiment would be a success.

Wednesday at 5 p.m. and a 1,000 miles later, Richard Langdon, 15, of Glastonbury, Conn., noted a bright yellow balloon in a corn field.

Richard put in his call to David two hours later. David was somewhat startled that his experiment had worked out so well.

The two boys chatted a few minutes, but knowing that long-distance calls can be expensive, hurriedly exchanged addresses and promised to write.

David has already extended an invitation to Richard to visit him next summer.

PCH Celebrates First Homecoming in Three Years

GET THEIR MEN—Today's Sadie Hawkins Day as far as students at St. Frederick High School are concerned and these girls are a few who have "caught" their men for the big dance tonight. Sue Polmer (left) lays claim to Mike Brady while Sandy Rochon has a good hold on Bill Carpenter. All four are juniors at St. Fred's. The Sadie Hawkins dance is an annual event at the school and is expected to draw a large crowd. It begins at 8 p.m.

Parade Sparks Harvest Festival

Tonight's Celebration Will Become Annual Fall Event at Central

By BARBARA GRIVIN

Tonight is homecoming at Pontiac Central. The big event, called the "Harvest Festival," is the first such celebration held in three years, but from now on will be an annual affair.

The "Harvest Festival" will include many events. Most exciting will be the coronation of the chief and princess at half time of the football game between the Chiefs and Flint Southwestern.

Donna Douglass and Jim Baker have been chosen the princess and chief.

Each senior homecoming nominated one candidate for chief and one for princess. The student council then narrowed it down to three each, and the final selection was made by student council officers and five faculty members.

The other four finalists were Jane Charles, Fran Austin, Jim Colando and Ben Donaldson.

Donna has been a Central cheerleader for three years and is captain of the squad this year. She is active in the American Field Service and is co-editor of the Quiver and the Tomahawk.

Jim is a yell leader and is in the cheer and senior boys ensemble. He is a member of Thespian troupe 489 and presently is portraying the Swineherd in Central's Children's Theatre production of "The Princess and the Swineherd."

INDIANS BEFORE CHIEFS—These two Pontiac Central students are working like Indians here, but tonight will be another story. James Baker and Donna Douglass have been chosen "Chief" and "Princess" of the 1960 PCH Homecoming. The big homecoming game is tonight at Wiener Stadium and Jim and Donna will be in command. They are shown here decorating a car for the big parade. Students have been working hard all week to get cars and floats in shape for the event. The game gets under way at 8.

Homecoming Tonight

Gala Weekend at Troy

By DIANNE KEMP

This week has been a short and busy one for students at Troy High School.

Today they were given the day off due to the Michigan Educational Institute in Detroit.

But tonight will be their 1960 Homecoming football game.

The game will be highlighted during halftime by the annual homecoming parade and coronation of the queen for 1960.

"With a strong team and unflinching spirit of the student body, there are high hopes as Troy faces the kick-off with Lake Orion at 5.

The team has been working extra hard all week under the fine coaching of Robert McElreath and his two capable assistants, Donald Hill and George Kuli.

Both old and new faces have found a place in the queen's court this year.

Candidates for queen from the senior class are Nancy Roebuck making her first appearance; Sharon Williams, making her second appearance; and Mary Jessome, making her third appearance.

Members of the court from the junior class are Nancy Rouse and Jackie Bradley, both of whom appeared last year. From the sophomore class are Connie Martin and Carol Jessome.

All will be wearing cocktail dresses during the coronation. Final balloting will be left in the hands of the football team.

The parade will consist of various floats entered by many different student organizations.

All will be centered around the theme of "Autumn Fantasy."

The Troy band, under the direction of Victor Bordo, will make its appearance following the court. It should be one of the most colorful programs in Troy High School's homecoming history.

Climax to the homecoming weekend will come tomorrow night when the annual dance will take place.

The queen and her court will appear in formal, adding extra sparkle to the gaiety of the evening.

Yet when the last note falls on this 1960 Troy homecoming weekend, whether the game turns out in victory or defeat, these two nights will leave students with many pleasant memories.

Spooks Shuffle Into St. Mike's

Admission is 75 cents stag and 1.25 drag. The dance lasts from 8:30 to 11:30.

Chairmen heading the committees are John Clark, refreshments; Judy McInnis, decorations; Dan Shadrack, entertainment; Sharon Bender, publicity; Larry Sonnenberg, tickets; Gary Kraft, cleanup; Sue Hunt, chaperons; and Theresa Jenzel, door prizes.

Big Parade Slated at Farmington

By MARY JANE MCCARTHY

Farmington Senior High's 10th annual homecoming festivities, starting tomorrow afternoon, will begin with a parade of the queen and her court through the city of Farmington.

Floats, entered by different school clubs and organizations, and decorated student cars, will be in the parade which will begin and terminate in the school parking lot. Prizes will be given to the best decorated car and float.

Walled Lake will be Farmington's opponent in the afternoon game. During halftime, royalty will ride around the football field in four white convertibles. The Farmington High Band will furnish the background music.

Queen Gail Taylor will be presented with a bouquet of white mums. Her court, Nancy Myers, Jeanne Boudreau, Toni Chatska, and Barbara Brogren will receive corsages, also of white mums.

Highlight of the day's festivities will be the annual homecoming dance sponsored by the senior class in the Farmington High gymnasium. The dance will begin at 8 p.m., but the coronation will not be held until about 9.

Clarkston Plans Double Dances

By JANET TISCH

Clarkston High School will be the scene of two dances to be held tonight and Monday.

The freshman class is sponsoring its first dance of the 1960-61 school year after the football game tonight, lasting until 11:30 in the cafeteria.

In charge of committees are Kathy Golembeske, publicity; Mary Madison, chaperones; Cheryl Canader, entertainment; Ken Miskin, tickets; and Corinne Blackett, decorations.

The seniors will sponsor a Halloween dance Monday from 8 to 11 p.m. in the high school cafeteria. Black cats, witches, and other traditional ghoulish figures will decorate the cafeteria.

A special feature of the dance will be giving away prizes after the bewitching hour of 12 to those students who are home from the dance. There will be approximately twenty prizes given away.

Chairman for the dance is senior class president, Dave Gresham.

Pupils' Pennies Support W. Bloomfield AFS Club

By CAROLYN MAVIS

The newly formed American Field Service Club at West Bloomfield High School is on its way to becoming a big success.

The American Field Service makes it possible for a student from another country to visit our school for the school year and for one of our students to travel to another country during the summer.

Jack Newton, from our school, traveled to Denmark for the summer and Amagret Grosse from Germany is now visiting West Bloomfield.

A few weeks ago the AFS sponsored a fund drive in the community. Many high school students helped and $212 was collected.

The AFS Club has also been sponsoring a "Penny Wednesday." Every Wednesday during homecoming a member of the AFS Club goes around collecting pennies.

During the three weeks this has been in effect, a total of $56 has been collected from the students.

Because of the club's hard work, most of the money needed for this year's exchange program has been raised already.

Mrs. Claudia Baker, Latin and English teacher at West Bloomfield, is the club sponsor and Barb Blackmore is acting chairman.

Rochester Scholars to Attend MSU Confab

By JIM WAGNER

Rochester Senior High students qualified for Michigan State Scholarship have been invited to attend the Annual Scholarship Student Day, Nov. 5, at Michigan State University.

Events will start at 8:45 a.m. and conclude at 3 p.m.

The program will include discussions entitled "College is Like This," and "The Business of School." The program is designed primarily for seniors.

Juniors in the upper five percent of their class may also attend.

Dance Board Proposed at Walled Lake

By SHARON MURDY

The student council of Walled Lake High School is offering a new plan by which clubs earn money with a minimum of effort.

The council proposes a Dance Board be formed consisting of nine members, one representing the academic club, athletic groups, classes, social interest and hobby groups, plus four student council members and a faculty member.

All dances throughout the year will be open to bidding by any club, class, or other legitimate school organization.

Permission from the council will be granted for a dance if the group applying shows sufficient need for funds. Groups that don't need the total receipts from a dance may share the date with another club.

This year's J-Hop will be held Nov. 11. The theme will be "Orionville." Committees have been formed and each homecoming will participate in the planning.

Oxford Students Take Advantage of Free Friday

By LINDA JACOB

Although there will be no school at Oxford High on Friday, a home game with Millington will be staged at 8 p.m.

Following the game a dance will be held in the student center at the high school.

The dance will be sponsored by five clubs with profits being divided among them.

Four members of the Oxford student council attended the Senior High School Council Conference held in the Rackham Building at the University of Michigan Tuesday.

Subjects under discussion included student leadership, research in student councils, the proposed state student council association and a report on the national student council conference.

Students attending were Don Hickmott, Judy Shouts, Carol Roberts and Tom Hardgrove.

On Closed Circuit Show Milford Musicians On TV

By LEE MORGAN

Last Friday the Milford High School Dance Band, under the direction of Paul Miller, appeared on closed circuit television program in Ann Arbor.

The program was produced by Richard Lutz as a project to help earn his degree in television production at the University of Michigan.

The show opened with each person playing a solo as his name was shown on the screen while the announcer related a few facts about the player's high school activities and future plans.

After playing "Tuxedo Junction," the band played its arrangement of "Salutade."

Following this LaTune Heard was featured singing "Birth of the Blues," as the band accompanied her. The final number was a modern composition, "Beatnik Bounce."

In closing the show, the theme song of the band, "Moonlight in Vermont," was played as credits were shown.

This was an interesting and exciting experience for band members and everyone thought the show was worth the time and extra practice put into it.

Pirates' Science Move Into Spotlight at PNH

By DIANE M. WALTER

Although homecoming at Pontiac Northern is over, the student body still has a lot to concentrate on.

Returning to textbooks after a big weekend is easy when students have something "new" to study like a new physics course being offered.

For others there was expectation of the Northern Choir's performance of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Pirates of Penzance."

Saturday's homecoming was a big success. The parade and coronation ceremonies were impressive.

Sandy Barrie was chosen as this year's queen, Mike Plourde was king.

From royalty and the cheering voices of football fans, interest turned to pirates and singing voices of the choir.

The choir and orchestra were showered with praise last night as they presented their operetta, "Pirates of Penzance."

A large crowd turned out to see the big stage show in Pontiac Northern's auditorium.

It is one of the biggest musicals ever attempted at Northern. The final performance will take place at 8 tomorrow night.

The new physics course at Northern should keep those weekdays mighty interesting for seniors.

It was developed by the Physical Science Study Committee of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and is taught by Edwin Houlihan.

Mr. Houlihan took a special summer course for eight weeks at the University of Minnesota, studying and preparing to teach this subject.

Included in the extras that go along with this course are new text books and equipment that were purchased by the Board of Education.

The study features new concepts and approaches to physics. Its emphasis is on understanding physical happenings. Students are studying vectors at present.

The study is designed and intended especially for all science students seriously planning science as a career. There are 65 enrolled in the course.

Much study by local administrators and educators went into the course. It calls for a specially written-text, lab manuals, outlines and movies.

The entire course has been designed to fit the needs of Northern students.

Farm and Garden News

WHOA, THERE!—This is the last gardening section for 1960. The garden page will be back next spring. Garden enthusiasts will have to confine their chores to indoor plants for a while. Mrs. Henry Prall of 400 East Columbia Street is wondering if the dieffenbachia plant in her house will try going through the ceiling this winter. Looks flourishing, doesn't it?

Indoor Gardens Grow in Favor

The growing of flowers and foliage is fast becoming almost as much of a hobby for indoors as it has been out in the garden.

One reason for this is the improvement of year-round indoor climate control. Humidity control is of great importance to many of the more delicate plants and flowers.

This trend toward interior planting has brought with it a problem in decoration and home care. Pots and boxes for plants are usually made of rough clay or metal and tend to scratch or scuff surfaces. Also dirt and moisture can damage surfaces permanently; at best they require considerable care.

A surfacing material that is becoming increasingly popular in the home as a result of this situation is ceramic tile—for window sills, tabletops, mantelpieces and other surfaces used to bear plantings.

Ceramic tile is a tough, long-lasting, moistureproof and scratch-proof surface and is easy to clean. Furthermore, tile's natural colors blend well with plantings; either as background or for accents.

Other natural materials that are adding new excitement to interiors as this trend to design homes around the indoor garden picks up are stone, brick and wood paneling.

Save Your Plants
 You can save your plants from injury while laying out garden hose by placing sturdy redwood stakes at the corners of gardens, along flower beds or where ever needed, advises the October issue of Better Homes & Gardens magazine. Simply cut 3-foot lengths of 2x4-inch boards, notch the top to prevent the hose from slipping over, and point the base of the stakes for easier driving.

Fall Housecleaning Applies to Gardens

It is often necessary to remove a plant from its clay pot, either to transplant it to a garden, or to place it in a larger pot. Since the root systems of almost every plant are easily shocked or damaged it is best to try and remove the plant alone from the pot.

To remove both the plant and the soil in which it is planted from a pot, place one hand across the mouth of the pot. The plant stem should lie between the forefinger and middle finger.

Turn the pot upside-down and rap the edge of a table or bench. Both plant and soil will drop from the pot with the root system intact.

Eagles, which mate for life and return annually to their huge nests—sometimes as heavy as two tons—live 25 to 30 years.

What many people don't know about crabgrass

1. Crabgrass grows only from seed. The dead crabgrass plants you see now will disintegrate and disappear—leaving ugly bare patches in your lawn. Crabgrass is an annual. It re-seeds itself at the end of each summer.

2. Last year's seed is in the ground. Crabgrass is one of nature's most prolific weeds. Right now, literally billions of crabgrass seeds are waiting in most lawns for spring warmth to germinate. Between the vicious cycle starts all over again.

3. You can keep it from coming up. A single winter application of HALTS with the accurate Scotts Spreader creates an invisible barrier against crabgrass. HALTS lies in wait, kills crabgrass as it sprouts. (HALTS will not harm good grass—doesn't interfere with seeding.)

'Not Much to Look At'

Folks Beg for Heather

CHICAGO (AP)—A sentimental Scotswoman got two pounds of dried white and purple heather from her native Scotland recently and offered to share it with the public. The heather, she said, is just a pain now.

The offer brought a flood of mail to Mrs. James Thomson, 74, of suburban Wauconda.

She said she received 661 letters since she made her offer in a story in the Tribune last Sunday. "I wrote my friend in Scotland by air mail begging her to send more immediately," Mrs. Thomson said.

Lots of the letters, she said, aren't even from folks of Scottish descent. Names indicate German, Italian, Irish, Polish and English ancestry.

"They say they've never seen heather," moaned Mrs. Thomson. "I'm afraid they're in for a terrible disappointment. It's not much to look at dried—except to a Scotswoman."

Officers on Java Duty

OKLAHOMA, Okla. (AP)—Thoughtful thieves slashed the tires of the town's only police car just before they carted off a safe from the Farmers Union Co-op Gin. Officers were inside a nearby cafe drinking coffee.

Laos' Neutral Prince Accepts Soviet Aid

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Neutralist Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma today accepted Soviet aid in principle for faction-ridden Laos.

He told newsmen the amount, type and conditions of the Communist aid will be settled later. "We will be very happy to accept Soviet aid," he said.

The offer was made formally today by Alexander Abramov, first Soviet ambassador to Laos, who came here two weeks ago from Cambodia, where he also is the ambassador.

The United States has poured nearly $300 million into Laos since 1955.

This Is No Time for On-the-Job Training: Lodge

EASTON, Pa. (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge, Republican vice presidential candidate, told a gathering Wednesday that "this is no time for on-the-job training in the White House."

That assertion by the campaigning candidate brought the loudest cheering from a crowd of police estimated at between 800 and 1,000 which turned out for a look at the first of the top four contenders to visit Easton. In general, the crowd was quiet.

Speaking for six minutes in Center Square, Lodge said "We need an experienced captain on the bridge—we need Richard Nixon." He added that should the country choose Nixon "We not only would be electing a president, but a world leader."

Chickens Too Quiet

FREDERICKSBURG, Va. (AP)—Nobody ever heard a chicken in the innocent-looking chicken house. That's why it didn't look innocent to Stafford county officers. When they pried off the lock they found 50-gallon still—and 20 50-gallon meat barrels. Four persons in a nearby house were arrested.

Make laundering as easy

ELECTRIC CLOTHES DRYER

WHY A FLAMELESS ELECTRIC DRYER IS BETTER FOR YOUR WASHABLES. Whites stay white, colors stay bright. There's never any sun fading or fume yellowing. Since it's electric, there are no products of combustion. Freshly washed clothes stay clean all the way. There are models which have a temperature for every fabric, from delicate synthetics and woolsens to the heaviest work clothes. Dewatering cycles make ironing unnecessary for lots of things.

TRULY A WORK-SAVING TEAM—AN ELECTRIC DRYER AND AN AUTOMATIC WASHER. Pre-selected, accurately controlled washing cycles and drying temperatures take the guesswork out of laundering. Gentle agitating and tumbling help fabrics last longer, look better and stay fluffier. Drying the electric way is fast, too, because gentle, radiant heat begins right away.

TAKE THE WORK OUT OF LAUNDERING AND THE LAUNDRY OUT OF HIDING. Electric laundry appliances are so good looking, clean, and easy to operate that you don't need to hide them any more. Many homemakers want them handy in the kitchen. It's easy when they're electric because flameless electric dryers and water heaters can be put where you want them.

Winless St. Mike, St. Fred Clash on Sunday

City Gridders Set to Battle

Sunday at 2:30

Eaglets to Play Away;
Our Lady Lakes vs.
Emmanuel Saturday

By CHUCK ABRAH

One of the annual features of the local prep football season comes up Sunday afternoon when St. Michael and St. Frederick clash at 2:30.

They will be matching winless records but that should mean little to area fans because all indications point to an interesting battle.

Both should be ready for good action. St. Mike's impressive defense has been a week ago. The Rams gave Orchard Lake St. Mary a busy evening before bowing 20-18 after the Shamrocks blew a 6-0 lead late in the game to 13-14 to St. Benedict.

St. Mike has dropped six straight counting an opening loss to West Bloomfield. The others have been in Suburban Catholic play. All five St. Fred setbacks have been in the SCL.

They have played four comparative foes. The Rams bowed 14-0 to St. Ben, 40-19 to St. Rita, 46-10 to St. Clement and 27-7 to St. James. Before St. Ben, the Shamrocks went down 19-0 to St. Clement, 26-7 to Royal Oak St. Mary, 20-7 to St. James and 23-6 to St. Rita.

Coach Tom Kennedy's Red and Black gridders hold the slight edge in scoring with 44 points to 35 led by his son, Jim. The talented quarterback has scored two touchdowns and passed for one. Halfback Norm Hoffman and John Bierline also have two TDs each. End Rudy Yapo has the other. Bill Atkins has made two extra points. SM back Jerry Martin tops both teams with 18. Dave Baumgartner has 8, injured Charlie Dug and Al Tunney, out for the season, 6.

Defensively, the Lewis St. Shamrocks have held the edge allowing 121 points compared to 145.

It there is any advantage, it appears to be with St. Fred because of its stronger backfield. The Eagles will likely wind up last in league play.

Orchard Lake St. Mary will be away from home again Sunday. The Eagles will be seeking their third successive triumph at St. James.

St. Clement visits St. Rita in a battle of underdogs. The game will probably decide the title. St. Rita has been severely weakened with the loss of top runner Ed Sloan with a broken leg. Royal Oak St. Mary vs. St. Benedict in the other game.

Royal Oak Shrine is favored to keep rolling against Holy Redeemer and Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows meets St. Agatha in other division contests Sunday.

A local battle is also set for Saturday afternoon at 3 at the Orchard Lake St. Mary field when Waterford Our Lady of Lakes plays its first varsity opponent in Emmanuel Christian.

Despite an 0-6 record, Emmanuel rates as the slight favorite because of the rugged competition it has played in its initial varsity year. Coach Frank Thompson has seen seniors Jim Dennis and Wayne Young, sophomore Larry Goldsworth and freshman Kerry Rogers in his starting backfield. Rogers will replace ailing quarterback Bruce Yulle.

Our Lady Skipper Bob Minewaver is well known after an outstanding career at St. Mike. His team has won one of three games against junior varsity foes and whipped a freshman eleven. Ron Prout, George Sharpe, Dave Ottman, Tom Davis and Mike Ebergan lead the offense.

Erskine Will Coach

ANDERSON, Ind. (AP) — Carl Erskine, former Brooklyn and Los Angeles Dodgers pitcher, was at Anderson College.

Brown Makes 9th Defense

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The world lightweight crown, one of the brighter baubles of boxing, was at stake tonight when champion Joe Brown of Houston and California's Bobby (Cisco) Andrade tangled at the Olympic Auditorium.

Brown, a remarkable athlete for his 34 years, is a 2-1 betting favorite in the non-televized bout, billed for 15 rounds.

It will be the ninth defense of the title by Old Bones, establishing a record of title defenses for the 15-round division. The late Benny Leonard successfully defended the title eight times in his career.

The co-promoters, Ed Eaton and George Young, hope for a turnout of 8,000 and a $70,000 gate, which will be about a break-even sum.

Brown was guaranteed $40,000 and his 30-year-old foe, from near-by Compton, gets 20 per cent of the gate.

A rematch was guaranteed if Brown loses. Few will be surprised if the match ends before the scheduled 15 rounds but the longer it goes the more the younger Andrade may be favored.

Brown is noted as a one-punch artist and has knocked out 38 opponents in his 90 fights. Andrade, however, also boasts a punch. Of his 44 wins, 24 were by knockouts. The Cisco Kid, who twice retired in the past two years, stopped all four of his 1960 opponents.

Pontiac Central After 4th Victory

Old Grads Gather at Wisner Tonight

By BILL CORNWELL

The Chiefs of Pontiac Central hope to make Homecoming a completely happy occasion tonight by turning back an improving Flint Southwestern team in a non-conference football game at Wisner Stadium.

Paul Dellerba's PCH gridders will be tuning for their 4th victory of the 1960 season against one defeat and one tie. The contest begins at 8 p.m.

Central lost its first decision of the year a week ago tonight on the Wisner turf, an exciting 25-21 reversal at the hands of unbeaten Flint Northern.

The Chiefs are anxious to atone for that setback and they'll be favored to do so against the visiting Colts, who carry a 2-3-1 record into the contest.

Southwestern, a Class A high school playing its 2nd year of varsity football, is coached by Jack Hinkle, former grid mentor at Flint Tech and Clio.

Scheduled to officiate are the Saginaw Valley Conference football race next autumn, the Colts posted a 6-3 record last fall in their first season on the gridiron.

The 1959 Colt squad was riddled by graduation and the 1960 edition lacks both size and speed.

Southwestern's hopes for an upset triumph hinge on the passing arm of quarterback George Shuff and the running of fullback Harry Campbell, the workhorses of the Colt offense.

Shuff has completed 33 passes in 74 attempts for 423 yards, only 25 short of the Colts' entire aerial output. Campbell has gained 360 of Southwestern's 861 rushing yards on 80 carries.

Completing the backfield are halfbacks Roger Alford and Jim Bracy with Alford boasting the most speed. Alford is also Skiff's favorite aerial target and ends Dennis Lumsden and Dick Shupe are additional pass-catching threats.

Lumsden does the club's punting and Shupe is a standout linebacker. Other defensive stalwarts include guard Ken Walker, who is rated the Colts' best, and tackle Mike Holmes.

The Colts were plagued by a leaky defense until last week at 25 short of the Colts' entire aerial output. When they gave their top performance in a 0-0 draw. They yielded 128 points in their first five starts.

Dick McCauley, Central's greatest back in at least a decade, has the Colts worried just like he worries every other PCH foe. The elusive senior is the kingpin of the attack with 685 yards in 90 tries for a 7.6 average.

If the Colts gang up on McCauley, speedsters Roy Couser and Andy Roach will be waiting in the wings, just raring to cut loose. Couser and Roach also have made sizeable contributions to the PCH ground offense, which has totaled 1,364 yards in five games.

The Chiefs are in their finest physical condition since the season opener at Waterford. Central's defense, which limited Flint Northern to only 40 running yards in the 2nd half, is ready to go with 235 interior line.

SHAMROCK QB — Bill Harding, a 135-pound sophomore, will see action at quarterback for St. Mike in the annual clash with St. Frederick Sunday afternoon at Wisner Stadium.

French Cabinet Discusses More Olympic Medals

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle's cabinet spent most of its session Thursday hiving plans for a better French showing in the next Olympic Games.

Education Minister Louis Joxe told the cabinet of a series of reforms he will put into effect in the hope that French athletes will bring home their share of gold medals from the 1964 Games in Tokyo.

The Joxe plan envisages a scholarship fund for promising athletes, a greater amount of time for physical education in primary and secondary schools and more credits for athletic work.

In the Rome Games this summer, France failed to win a single event.

BASEBALL TALK — A couple of home town boys, Bill Virdon (left) and Preacher Roe get together for some baseball talk. Virdon, one of the stars of the Pittsburgh Pirates in the recent World Series, is home in West Plains, Missouri.

Roe, former pitcher with the Pirates and Brooklyn Dodgers, owns a grocery store in town. Both got together also for an exhibition game appearance in their home town.

Top Game at East Lansing Saturday

Can Grads Inspire Spartans?

EAST LANSING (AP)—Does the homecoming mean much? Will that yell from the balding old grads and the shrill screams from their wives, now slightly over-coed age, inspire Michigan State to beat Ohio State in their football battle here Saturday?

The Bucks already have won two homecoming games, one their own at Columbus, the other at Illinois.

Michigan State went down to a homecoming and dedication of a flossy new stadium at Indiana last week. The Spartans all but ran the Hoosiers out of the stadium—35-0.

The Spartans want to look good before their home fans in a sell-out game, attendance 75,000-plus, and on regional television.

Does the team hear the roar of the crowd?

"Most of the time you don't," admitted co-captain Freddie Boylen. "We are just concentrating on our assignments. But sometimes in a big game—you get that wave of sound and it helps you go."

There's going to be a lot of noise tomorrow. Ohio State is bringing along its brass band; plus a special train of rosters.

Carl Charon, Michigan State's leading scorer, remained a question mark today.

Team physician Dr. James Fieg said a decision probably would be withheld until shortly before the game on whether the junior fullback would play.

Two other front rank players appeared to have been ruled out of starting against the Buckeyes after Duffy Daugherty had yesterday through a workout yesterday.

Charon sprained a knee in last week's contest with Indiana, but Fieg said he was a "fast healer" and might be able to play tomorrow.

Dave Manders, a center, ran yesterday with the alternate team in practice, but there were indications he would be replaced by Jim Bridges in the starting line-up because of a sprained ankle.

Defensive guard Oscar Hahn apparently was out of the starting lineup because of a sprained ankle. Daugherty switched tackle Bob Swast into Hahn's spot.

The Ohio State game is flying in early, in time for a pre-game workout before noon in the Spartan Stadium.

The Bucks are No. 8, and the Spartans No. 10 in the Associated Press poll. The winner will be the only conference team left with a mathematical chance of overhauling league-leaders Iowa and Minnesota.

Ohio State coach Woody Hayes was giving his team a "take it easy" routine before bringing them up for the big test. Only minor injuries were reported.

Daugherty has some new stuff to throw against the Bucks.

"Why don't you let Ohio State guess too?" he responded when asked just what was going on in that secret practice field.

The cash customers in the stands and the TV viewers will find out Saturday, just after the 1:30 kick-off.

Muncy Is Favored in Reno Boat Race

RENO, Nev. (AP) — About 15 unlimited hydroplanes will compete for the Mages Cup on Pyramid Lake Saturday and Sunday in the second annual Reno Regatta.

Bill Muncy, driving Willard Rhodes' Miss Thriftway, is the favorite. The Seattle boat had accumulated an unbeatable 2,775 points after winning a race at Merced, Ind., earlier this month and already has clinched the national championship.

Nutrilite in 1st Place

Nutrilite moved into first place of the Pontiac Table Tennis Association league by scoring a 6-0 shutout over A&W Thursday night.

In other matches last night, Dorris and Son and Kuhn Auto Wash played to a 3-3 tie as did Seaman and Jim-Jim and Aluminum and Frost Top.

Detroit Ice defeated Superior Ambulance 4-2 and Capital won over Pontiac Recreation, 5-1.

Several 'If' Games Can Decide Titles

By DON VOGEL

Several "if" games this afternoon and tonight will play big roles in determining football championships in area leagues.

The situation looks like this:

If Farmington can pull the upset of the year by downing visiting Walled Lake, then Pontiac Northern and Waterford can tie for the Inter-Lakes title by winning.

If Lake Orion can get past Troy the Dragons will be assured of a tie for the Oakland B crown.

If West Bloomfield defeats Bloomfield Hills this afternoon, the Lakers can claim a tie for the Wayne Oakland championship.

If Milford can upset Holly, then West Bloomfield will have the championship outright.

If Troy can top Millington, then Imlay City will gain the South Central championship by besting last place North Branch.

If Anchor Bay makes Dredge its 16th straight victim and Memphis upsets Capac, the Tars will have a second straight Southern Thumb title.

If Romeo can upset Roseville, Lapeer will have at least a tie for the Tri-County championship.

Pontiac Northern has the toughest task tonight. The Huskies travel to Southfield which is tied with Walled Lake for first place. Fans at this game will have their ears glued to what's happening at Farmington.

The best Waterford can do is tie for the title. But the Skippers must get past Berkley tonight at Berkley. Waterford is expected to win.

This being the final day of league action, Walled Lake can put a halt to any championship hopes by all except Southfield by rolling over winless Farmington. The Vikings aren't expected to have much trouble.

Tonight's game at Troy can make or break Lake Orion. A loss will knock the Dragons out of the title picture because they have one tie, with co-leader Fitzgerald. Troy can move into position to win everything by winning. But the Colts would need an Avondale win over Fitzgerald next week.

Fitzgerald has a non-league game at Oak Park which doesn't become a football playing member of the conference until next year. In the other League game, Avondale will be looking to move up in the standings with a victory at Clio. Madison entertains Garden City in a non-league contest.

Jack Newton may play quarterback for West Bloomfield this afternoon at Bloomfield Hills. Regular QB Jeff Pries is still bothered by injury and hasn't played since last week.

Holly should have little trouble with visiting Milford which has only one victory. A win for the Broncos will set the stage for their big game at West Bloomfield next Friday.

Clarkston and Northville square off in a battle for third place in the Oakland B at Clarkston. Northville can also tie Holly for second place by winning at Clarkston.

Avondale will be looking to move up in the standings with a victory at Clio. Madison entertains Garden City in a non-league contest.

Jack Newton may play quarterback for West Bloomfield this afternoon at Bloomfield Hills. Regular QB Jeff Pries is still bothered by injury and hasn't played since last week.

ship, as the Spartans are expected to whip North Branch with ease. Should Millington stay in contention, then Oxford has a chance to average the earlier one point loss to Imlay City in the last game of the season on the Spartans' field.

Ortonville is idle. Dryden is given little chance of stopping rampaging Anchor Bay. But Memphis can knock Capac out of contention and take over second place in the Southern Thumb with a win at Capac. New Haven is at winless Brown City and Armada plays at Almont, also looking for a victory, in the other league games.

Romeo is not expected to do much against Roseville. This will mean the championship will be decided Nov. 11 when Roseville and Lapeer meet. Lapeer is playing non-league Grand Blanc. L'Anse Creuse will be at Rochester with the winner holding the place.

Birmingham Seesholm has a good chance for its second Eastern Michigan League win tonight at winless East Detroit. Hazel Park can pull into a first place tie with Ferndale by downing Mt. Clemens. Royal Oak Kimball's hold on third is threatened by Port Huron.

Ferndale plays outside the league.

In other games, RO Dondoro is at Wyandotte, Fraser at Utica, Birmingham Groves at Grosse Pointe, US and Clio at Day.

Lamphers, Cranbrook travels to Western Reserve Saturday.

FACE'S LANCERS — Our Lady of the Lakes plays its first varsity opponent in Pontiac Emmanuel tomorrow afternoon at the Orchard Lake St. Mary field. Handling the fullback duties for the Dixie Highway school will be Ron Prout.

REPORTS FLY, BUT TIGERS JUST DENY ALL OF THEM

DETROIT (AP) — A report by a Detroit paper that the Detroit Tigers were trying to sign Paul Richards as manager of the club is incorrect.

Richards is manager of the Baltimore Orioles and has a 1961 contract.

Richards reported last night that Rick Ferrell, acting Tiger general manager, and James Campbell, a club vice president, had gone to Phoenix, Ariz., to "try to woo Richards into stepping out of his contract to manage Baltimore next season in exchange for a lush five-year pact at Detroit."

Richards, contacted in Scottsdale, Ariz., said the report was erroneous.

"I have not talked with them (Ferrell and Campbell) and I have no plans," he said. "I've got a job and Detroit is just another club in the league as far as I'm concerned."

Campbell, also contacted in the Phoenix suburb, said neither he nor Ferrell planned to talk to Richards about the Detroit opening.

The sole purpose of our trip is to survey prospects in the Arizona Winter League. From here we'll go to Florida and Cuba to look over players in their winter camps."

Another Detroit paper said yesterday that it had learned that Bill Rigney, former manager of the San Francisco Giants, would be named to manage the Tigers.

The paper said confirmation of Rigney's selection at $30,000 a year would come shortly from John E. Fetzer, who owns controlling interest in the Detroit Baseball Co.

MA'YBE, MA'YBE NOT — Strongest contender for the Tiger managerial job is reported to be Bill Rigney, former manager of the San Francisco Giants.

Paul Richards has also been mentioned, but the Tiger officials have denied all reports.

Doctors at Ford Hospital are trying to save the eye of Fitzgerald High School quarterback Bill Vanderhoff who went hunting Monday and was struck by a stray pellet. He was team's top scorer and leading passer.

Farmington High School is dedicating its athletic field in honor of the late Clarence Bell, school custodian since 1931, who died several months ago.

Fordson High School won the Border City League title yesterday by routing Highland Park, 32-6. Royal Oak Dondoro is in second place in the league.

Pontiac YMCA is organizing its intramural league seeking four teams in the Speed League for men 18 years and older and four teams in the Rockin' Chair League for those 35 years and older.

Badgers Fear Jinx Against U. of M. Birmingham Is Favored to Keep Harrier Crown

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Wisconsin's football squad, unable to break an away game jinx at Ohio State last week, faces another bugaboo at home Saturday against Michigan. After the 34-7 whipping absorbed at Ohio State, the record book notes that a Wisconsin team hasn't returned from Columbus with a victory since 1918. The same record book shows the Badgers and the Wolverines have been meeting it up in football since 1892 and that Wisconsin has yet to win a game at home.

Coech Milt Bruhn isn't disturbed by the statistics, however. He's just glad to have his charges back in the friendlier confines of Camp Randall Stadium after consecutive road trip losses that pierced the Wisconsin football bubble and left the Badgers with a 3-2 season record.

In an attempt to shake the mid-season slump, Bruhn has ordered his sophomore-studded squad back to fundamentals.

"We're doing the same kind of work we did in the first week of drilling this fall," he said. "We have to eliminate all those mistakes we've been making."

Bruhn is especially wary of the Michigan defense which he calls "solid." The Wolverines have the same 3-2 season record as Wisconsin, but only Michigan State has scored more than one touchdown against them.

Injuries have forced Michigan coach Bump Elliott to reshuffle his end corps in preparation for tomorrow's clash.

Elliott said he expects regular pass-catchers Bob Johnson and George Mans to see only limited action at Madison because of lingering effects from injuries.

Johnson, still favoring a leg injury which slowed him in the Minnesota game and Mans hasn't completely recovered from a foot injury in the Northwestern game.

Elliott said Bill Freehan, who plays behind Johnson, will see more duty on offense and Jeff Smith, a junior from Kohler, Wis., was added to the traveling squad to bolster the lower end ranks.

Perry Named Soph of Year

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Lanky drawing Jim Perry hoped to head tonight for his Jamesville, N.C., home for a double celebration. The 6-foot-4 harrier, one of the Cleveland Indian round staff, was named Thursday as the American League's Sophomore of the Year by baseball writers in the annual Associated Press poll.

Sunday is his 24th birthday, so he has the two-day celebration planned.

Tall Jim is in the Army at Fort Hayes, finishing up a two-week training period due to end Monday. He served six months a year ago.

Jim had a 12-10 record with the Indians in his freshman year, after signing with the Cleveland organization in 1956 for an estimated $4,000 bonus. He hit the record this year to 19-10, with a 3.62 earned run average as a sophomore to pick up 97 of 188 votes cast in the poll. Jack Fisher of Baltimore, also a right-hand pitcher, was second with 57.

Others drawing votes were outfielder Bob Allison of Washington and pitcher Jim Coates of New York, 13 each; first baseman Norm Cash, Detroit, 6, and pitcher Don Lee, Washington, and outfielder Carroll Hardy, Cleveland, Boston, 1 each.

American Assn. May Ask About $500,000

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Something near half a million dollars apparently is the price American Association directors are thinking of asking for giving up the Minneapolis and St. Paul franchises to major league baseball.

Directors are inclined to feel the $500,000 which the National League paid for the Los Angeles and San Francisco areas set a precedent. Ed Doherty, president of the American Association, said tournament Thursday with a 130 Thursday night.

Birmingham Seaholm will be regional for Class C-D teams. The state finals will be Nov. 4 at Michigan State University.

Other Class A schools entered at Farmington are Detroit Redford Union, Farmington, Livonia Bentley, Mt. Clemens, Oak Park, Plymouth, Waterford, Port Huron, Rochester, Southfield and Walled Lake.

Additional Class B schools are Auburn Heights, Clarkson, Crosswell, Davison, Dearborn St. Alphonsus, Detroit Lutheran West, Detroit St. Joseph, Fenton, Clarencville, Marysville, Milford, Northville, West Bloomfield, Schaefer, Riverview, Flint Bentley and Lake Shore.

Nineteen Class B schools will be after the regional crown at Farmington: River Rouge and Ecorse are given the edge. Bloomfield Hills, defending Class B champion, has moved into Class A this year and will challenge Birmingham.

The class B run will start at 10 a.m. and the Class A competition about 20 minutes later. Regional runs will be held at three centers — Grand Rapids, Lansing and Trenton. There is no

Japanese-American World Series Urged

TOKYO (AP)—Frank "Lefty" O'Doul, veteran U.S. sports ambassador, today proposed an annual Japan-American world baseball championship series starting in 1964, year of the Tokyo Olympics.

"Japanese baseball is really coming of age," said O'Doul, veteran outfielder and manager who is accompanying the barnstorming San Francisco Giants.

"I wouldn't say the Japanese could win, but by 1964 they should be able to make it competitive for the U.S. champions," said the 63-year-old San Franciscan.

O'Doul said Japanese baseball is already Triple A caliber and by 1964 should be even closer to U.S. major league standard.

"They already have lots of pitchers who can pitch to our major leaguers," he said.

Maureen Orcutt Wins

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP)—Despite a three over par 75 for the final round, Maureen Orcutt of Englewood, N.J., won the North and South senior women's golf tournament Thursday with a 130 total.

Baseball Boss Claims AL Expanding Too Fast

NEW YORK (AP) — Commissioner Ford Frick, National League President Warren Giles and Los Angeles Dodger owner Walter O'Malley notwithstanding, the American League definitely will operate as a 10-team league in 1961, one year before the rival older circuit follows suit with as many clubs.

"I respect the commissioner's wishes and I don't wish to sound like we are opposing him," said George Mendinger, vice president of the Cleveland Indians and a member of the AL Expansion Committee, "but we're going ahead with 10 teams next year. There were people in our league who thought we were moving too fast, but the majority agreed it was the proper move."

Frick met with Joe Cronin Thursday and told the American League president he would have preferred expansion in 1962.

"I told Joe that trying to get started in 1961 constituted quite a problem," said Frick. "That was doing things awfully fast and I wished they might have waited until 1962."

Giles, upon learning the Americans had granted franchises to Los Angeles and Minneapolis-St. Paul (shifting the Washington Senators to the Twin Cities and placing another team in the nation's capitol), contended the NL's granting of franchises to New York and Houston for 1962 was a "more practical" plan.

O'Malley, who pioneered major league ball in Los Angeles, deplored the American's "hasty action," and added: "Another full baseball schedule would wreak havoc in Los Angeles."

"We are aware there'll be problems," said Mendinger, "but we feel we can surmount them." Although no prospective buyers for the Los Angeles and Washington franchises have been identified, it was learned the Hank Greenberg and Bill Veeck will land the Los Angeles full Veeck, as president, and Greenberg, as vice-president, are principal stockholders in the Chicago White Sox, but they are expected to sell their stock in the near future.

"Greenberg and Veeck had several irons in the fire," an American League baseball man said.

"If Los Angeles had not opened up, they would have gone into Washington. If that had failed to open up, they were prepared to buy the Kansas City club."

There are at least four would-be purchasers for the Washington franchise. They include Adam John J. Bergen, board chairman of the corporation which owns Madison Square Garden; Elwood Quesada, administrator of the Federal Aviation Agency; John Joachim, Chicago broker who formerly held stock in the Senators; and H. Gabriel Murphy, chief minority stockholder in the Senators.

Owners of the present clubs and Frick will have to approve the parties who apply to operate the new franchises. This may come at the next scheduled meeting of the American League; Nov. 17, in New York.

The American League's surprising action brought censure from still another quarter, Bill Shea, founder of the defunct Continental League, leveled a blast at its owners, charging them with "reroging" on an agreement, "double crossing" the Continental group, and "committing a disservice" to baseball.

"The whole thing was done to get even with O'Malley," he shouted, "but it was done at the expense of the Continental League."

"They (the AL owners) not only went back on their promise to accept only CL franchise, but they (holders) didn't even have the decency or the courtesy to call in our people and tell them what they were doing."

Frick, in effect, denied this by saying he had been assured the Continental group was consulted in advance.

With the spring training season little more than three months off, the American League busied itself with the problem of stocking the two "empty" franchises. A plan to supply players was devised Thursday by the eight general managers and will be presented to the owners at next month's meeting. It is as follows:

Each major league team would freeze 15 players on its 40-player roster. Of the remaining 25, 10 would be placed in Class A and 15 in Class B.

Los Angeles and Washington would be permitted to purchase up to three Class A players from each of the clubs for a set price of $75,000 each, and no more than one player from each club in Class B for $50,000 each.

In addition, the two new clubs will be given priority in the major league draft in Louisville, Nov. 28.

The new National League entries—New York and Houston also will be allowed to take part in the minor league draft. Their selections will remain in the minors in 1961, but will receive major league salaries and be given pension plan privileges.

Prep Front

By BILL CORNWELL

We always thought we knew what kind of a football attraction was required to fill a stadium, but after last Friday's Pontiac Central-Film Northern thriller at Wisner Stadium, we're not so sure.

If ever a gridiron battle looked made to order for a real big audience, this was it. So what happened? An estimated 4,600 fans turned out to see one of the most exciting high school grid games we've ever watched.

This might sound like a fairly impressive figure if it weren't for the fact that Wisner Stadium contains approximately 8,500 seats. About 1,000 or more of the cash customers came from Flint, which cuts the Pontiac attendance figure to around 3,500.

For whatever it's worth, we'd like to cite a comparison of this local crowd. We believe the comparison, a sharply contrasting one, offers a sad commentary on this city's support of its prep football teams.

On the same night that PCH was battling Northern, Mansfield and Massillon were squaring off in a bitter rivalry at Mansfield, Ohio.

Mansfield has a 12,500-seat stadium. Bill Doolittle, former Flint Central grid mentor who now is head football coach and athletic director at Mansfield, reports that the Mansfield-Massillon game was a sellout on the Monday preceding the contest.

This is not the exception in Ohio prep football—it's the rule. Yet the combined records of these two schools were not as impressive as those of PCH and Northern.

Apparently impressive win-loss records don't mean anything to Pontiac fans. If they did, the place would have been packed—or close to it—last week.

Both teams entered the contest undefeated. Northern has an excellent team this fall and is currently ranked No. 2 in Michigan. The Chiefs are a much better team this season than most people suspect.

The two squads played prep football at its very best. It was bruising, hard-hitting, rock-'em, sock-'em Saginaw Valley football from start to finish.

Everyone who was there must have thoroughly enjoyed it because nobody left the premises until the final gun. The outcome was in doubt until the end and the people got their money's worth. Furthermore, the weather was good.

There is no better prep football played anywhere in this state than in the Valley circuit. Despite this fact, plus the color and importance attached to last week's game, Wisner was only a little more than half filled.

For several years now the woe in the city have been howling for a winner at PCH. "Give us a winner and we'll support them," has often been heard.

Well, folks, whether you realize it or not, you now have a winner from West Huron Street. We sense a new spirit at PCH—a desire to play football and, what's more, a desire to win.

This new spirit began under Jesse MacLeay and has grown to new heights this season under new head coach Paul Dellera. Last year the Chiefs posted a 6-3 record, their finest win-loss mark in a decade.

The 1960 squad is perhaps a stronger one than the 1959 club, even though their record may not wind up any better. Prospects for the future are bright, the brightest they've been in many years.

Support from the student body has been terrific. It's the adults, by and large, who have failed to give their wholehearted support to these teen-age gridgers.

We've heard it said that Central's Valley foes do not provide enough local interest. In this case, we're anxiously awaiting the first annual all-city duel between PCH and PNH Nov. 18 at Wisner.

Lake Center Holds Lead at West Side

Lake Center Drugs maintained their two point lead in the West Side Classic by virtue of their three game win over Triple X Lunch while West Side Mobil was shutting out Pizutti's to stay in second place. Blue Cleaners had the other shutout of the evening when they won three from Tony's Rental. Judah Lake kept Pasqual's from a perfect night when they tied the second game. This is the second week in a row that the Pasqual's boys had to settle for a tie game.

Two game winners included West Side Lanes over Slater's Hazelton Lettering over Coca Cola, Bicmar Inn over Sparks Griffin and Oakland County over Cabl Music.

Ron Rothbarth was high man of the night at 657 on games of 239-223-195. Despite this big rolling he was unable to help his team to more than one game. Closely behind Ron was Ozzie Jewett at 654 on games of 210-223-221. Other high scorers included Chico/Sky at 643, Mike Dauris at 642, M. Bowers had 629 and Irv Simpson at 622.

High individual games were rolled by Rothbarth 239-223; Chico/Sky 233; Dauris 236; Morse 247; Augello 234 and Richards 231, and Frank Spadafora 226.

There was a total of eleven series over 600 while 50 games over 200 were recorded.

Roberts Takes Pole Position in '60 Pontiac

ATLANTA (AP) — Auto racing fans attending the Atlanta 500 mile race Sunday at the Atlanta International Raceway will see a familiar sight — Glenn (Fireball) Roberts at the pole position.

The Daytona Beach, Fla., driver won the position Thursday when his 1960 Pontiac roared to a four-lap average of 134.975 m.p.h. to qualify for Sunday's race. He set a track record of 135.304 m.p.h. on his fastest lap.

Second fastest time was set by Jack Smith of Spartanburg, S.C. also in a 1960 Pontiac, with 134.012.

Richest Race Might Be Won at 1st Turn

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — Burley Parke, trainer for the 31 favored Harbor View entry of Roving Minstrel and Garval, says Saturday's Garden State "may be won or lost" on the first turn because of the big field.

The world's richest race, which will bring a gross of $287,570, has 15 starters thus far for the mile-and-a-sixteenth run for 3-year-olds. Better than $175,000 will go to the winner. There is a possibility of a 16th entry — Jacob Sher's Sherluck. A decision will be made later today.

Brothers to Tangle Two AFL Games Tonight

By United Press International
Pro football stages an unusual brother act Friday night when the Powells, Art and Charley, square off on opposite sides in the American Football League game between the New York Titans and Oakland Raiders.

The AFL's two-game Friday night program also pits the Los Angeles Chargers against the Patriots at Boston. On Sunday, the Buffalo Bills are at home against the Houston Oilers and the Denver Broncos entertain the Dallas Texans.

The National League has a full six-game Sunday schedule. Baltimore is at Dallas, Chicago at San Francisco, Cleveland at Washington, Detroit at Los Angeles, Green Bay at Pittsburgh and St. Louis at New York.

In Friday night's games, the Titans were favored by 4 points over Oakland while Los Angeles was picked by 3 over Boston.

Art Powell is six-foot-three, 212-pound offensive left end for the Titans. Older brother Charley, six-foot-three and 230 pounds, plays defensive right end for the Raiders. Chances are they'll collide a few times during the game.

Although they played on different teams in the National Football League last season, they did not get a chance to oppose each other. Charley, who is a former professional boxer, was injured when his team, the San Francisco Forty-Niners, played Art's Philadelphia Eagles.

The Titans, whose hopes of winning the Eastern Division championship were dimmed when they lost to Houston last Sunday, may have to rely on Bob Scrabbs, a starting quarterback activated from their reserve list.

New York's first two quarterbacks, Al Dorow and Dick Jambore, were injured in the Houston game. Dorow, who shares the league lead in touchdown passes with 11, planned to play as long as he could with a set of bruised ribs.

Scrabbs, whom Titans coach Sammy Baugh says has "a great arm," was a second-string quarterback at Penn State last year behind All-America Richie Lucas.

Next were Al Geiberger, Studio City, Calif., and Dave Marr, Houston, Tex., with 210s, good for $450 apiece. Bob Goest, Tulsa; Marty Furgol, Lemont, Ill., and Dave Hill, Denver, were in a three-way tie with 215. Each received $250.

Candidate Wins Fight for His Life

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UPI) — The most important battle in his campaign for U. S. Senator from Alaska was won Wednesday by Dr. Lee McKinley—the one for his life.

With about two minutes of fuel left in his plane's tanks, McKinley, 53, was lost in a heavy fog north of Fairbanks after he had mistakenly flown past the city.

"I decided I'd better get down and get down fast," the Republican candidate said. "Luckily, (stressing the luck part), there was a highway right below me as I broke through the crust."

McKinley, who is opposing Sen. Bob Bartlett (D-Alaska) in the Nov. 5 general election, was feared to have crashed when he didn't land at Fairbanks as scheduled.

"After I landed on the highway, I took my shoes off and went to sleep inside the airplane," the Anchorage dentist said.

"I drank some hot coffee, ate several sandwiches and expected someone to find me sooner or later."

The undamaged plane was discovered about 35 miles northwest of Fairbanks, but McKinley wasn't inside.

The Air Force in Fairbanks had held constant radio contact with McKinley and knew his whereabouts throughout the incident. However, no word was given that the downed politician was safe and unhurt.

McKinley was finally located near the plane, given some fuel and took off again on the campaign circuit, eventually reaching Fairbanks hours behind schedule.

She Fights Back—and Outsmiles the Government

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — When Uncle Sam slapped a suit-against her, an angry Gloria Mosby sued right back and emerged the winner by $2,200.

Miss Mosby visited a friend being treated at a veterans' hospital last February. They got into an argument and he shot her, for which he subsequently was sent to jail for 15 years.

The three bullet wounds put her back for $10,000, charging the in the same hospital for 10 days and the government handed her a $20 medical bill.

When Miss Mosby wouldn't pay, the government sued. She sued government was negligent in letting her assailant sneak a gun into the hospital.

A federal judge Thursday granted her $20,000 damages, minus the $210 hospital bill.

Pretty Phrases Don't Always Score

Stevenson Sentenced to Political Limbo

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson, who entranced millions with his eloquence in the presidential campaigns of 1952 and 1956, is not the completely forgotten man of 1960.

But although he is still diligent with his sentences, he is hardly more than a minor voice on the outer fringes of the campaign. The Democrats, after twice making him their presidential choice, this year swept him into the backwater of history along with all the other also-rans when they brushed him aside none too gently for Sen. John F. Kennedy.

'Now he is doing what he said he would do although, when he said it, what he thought he might be doing was running for president.'

Last June, still thinking he might get a third nomination without asking for it, he said: "I will serve my country and my party whenever called upon."

He has been called upon—to stump for Kennedy. He has been pursuing that task gracefully with many fine and pleasant things to say about the man who beat him and many unpleasant things to say about Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

IN CALIFORNIA Stevenson's services have been in the particularly in California where he has had a devoted following whose enthusiasm for him temporarily got in the way of the Kennedy steamroller at the 1960 convention.

Self-conscious Stevenson used to exasperate newsmen with his fidgety fusing over sentences and phrases and his endless writing of his speeches on plane hops between stops.

The result used to be that newsmen often got his speeches late—which meant newspapers and the public got them late—and even then had to watch every word he spoke to check any last-minute changes.

Kennedy, like Nixon, talks off the cuff. Stevenson was a literary dancing master. Kennedy gives the impression of a young man who hardly has time to say hello.

Kennedy, like Nixon, harps on the same theme day after day.

Sees Big Rise in State Labor

Addition of 800,000 Workers by 1970 Is Forecast by Official

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan's exploding population by 1970 will have increased the state's labor force by 800,000, or about 23 per cent, Max M. Horton, director of the State Employment Security Commission, predicted.

Horton, in a talk to the 46th annual conference of the Michigan Welfare League Thursday, also said shifts in the nature of the labor force by 1970 will bring "complicated problems."

The labor force age group under 25 years will be much larger and the group from 25 to 41 will be much smaller, Horton said. He said the 45 to 64 years group also will be larger.

He said that as a result of "indulge their preferences" on employee age as they do now, He said the "choice group" of 25 to 41 will not be available to the same extent.

Horton also predicted an increase of about 4 per cent in the female labor force by 1970—from the present 26 to 30 per cent. He said probably half the state's women in the 45 to 54 age group will be in the labor force.

Britain to Spend Million on N-Detection Research

Wednesday Show Hour Back at 8:40

NEW YORK (AP)—An experiment intended to get more commuters to the theater Wednesday night—7:30 p. m. opening—has been abandoned.

The League of New York Theaters voted to abandon the experiment begun on Sept. 7. Beginning next Wednesday, shows will open at the traditional 8:30 or 8:40 p. m.

Two weeks ago, producer David Merrick withdrew from the plan and switched his six shows back to the usual time.

The Restaurant League of New York was much opposed to the experiment.

Nixon on Time, Kennedy Late

Both Candidates Hustle, Bustle

By ARTHUR EDSON
WASHINGTON (AP)—An hour before Sen. John F. Kennedy was to arrive in Chicago recently, reporters were handed a minute-by-minute schedule of his four-hour stay there.

Across the top of this detailed, two-page, timetable were the words: "We are behind schedule—all movements must be expedited."

This illustrates as well as anything a major difference in the way Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon run their campaigns.

Nixon tries to be meticulously on time and usually is. Kennedy tries to be approximately on time, but he nearly always is off to a late start, and so he's rarely on schedule—so rarely he can be written off as running late even before he hits town.

This attitude affects their campaigns.

PLANS CAREFULLY
An air of careful premeditation, of anticipating each crisis and trying to prepare for it, permeates the Nixon camp.

An air of improvisation, as if someone forgot the script but it doesn't matter much anyway, seems at least at times, to control Kennedy and his employees.

But these differences can be stressed too much.

Anyone who travels with both candidates is more impressed at how frequently the techniques differ than at how much they differ.

Both firmly believe in the hustle-bustle theory of politics. This holds that elections are won by keeping the candidate as near to perpetual motion as is humanly possible.

Each has tried to flush out votes by train and by motorcycle. The favorite transportation has been the three-airplane caravan.

The candidate rides in one plane, with the rear end partitioned off so that he can have privacy. With him are his top advisers, plus three newsmen, one from each of the two press associations and one a pool man representing the others.

Don't think the newsmen get on the inside track by being physically closer to the great man, Nixon and Kennedy have about as much time for chit-chat as a surgeon would have as he hears the end of the delicate operation.

Other newspaper men are riding the second plane, and photographers, left-over staff people and baggage are toted in the third one.

It would be hard to prove, but considering the unflagging industry of both men and the way the airplane enables them to reach several major cities in a day, it's probable that no other two candidates have been seen and heard by so many.

Some acquaintance with Michigan's first Miss America in 21 years.

They knew her as a lifeguard at White Lake, she waited on them as a clerk in a Montague pharmacy, she attended classes before graduation last June with their children at Montague High School.

The celebration which continues through Saturday night was a mutual embrace between Nancy and the corner of Muskegon County.

Asked on her travels as Miss America to name one event as a highlight of her reign, she answered:

"Homecoming—that is when I'll see not only those who have made this year as Miss America possible, but also the people who would gladly welcome Miss Michigan, Miss White Lake or just me—Nancy Fleming."

The area was at her feet: Near by Muskegon, where Nancy was crowned Miss Michigan, joined the celebration earlier as she passed through in a motorcade.

Montague Police Chief Henry Roessler had the most coveted job of the day. He said: "I'm Nancy's chauffeur. I've got to get her where she is supposed to be at the proper time."

Last minute preparations had street department crews of both Montague and Whitehall busy fastening flowers and flags in place early today. Both departments volunteered their services.

It was typical of most residents of the communities whose combined populations fall shy of 5,000 persons.

"School kids, the fire department—just everybody pitched in to help put up the decorations," said Roessler.

Nearly everyone here claims to have seen the candidates

at least once.

Carver Ruling Due by Nov. 10

No-Vote Election Now Forces County Board to Take Action

The Oakland County Board of Education should reach a decision on what to do with Royal Oak Township's distressed Carver School District by Nov. 10, according to Dr. William J. Emerson, county superintendent of schools.

The county board met Thursday in "cavass" the results of an election in which there were no votes cast.

The outcome was exactly what board members expected.

Voters in the Carver School district were not expected to elect a new school board.

The aim of the stay-away-from-the-polls campaign was to force dissolution of the Carver District and annexation to an adjoining district, probably either Ferndale or Oak Park School District.

Emerson said the county board would meet with Ferndale and Oak Park school boards Nov. 2 and hoped to reach a decision on the Carver problem at its regular meeting Nov. 10.

Barren unfavourable legal entanglements, the county board intends to complete disposition of the district according to state law at the Nov. 10 meeting, Emerson said.

He emphasized that the county board "wants to hear all sides and consider the results of any action to be taken."

The end of the Carver District was signalled in September when Oak Park and Ferndale refused to accept 21 high school freshmen from Royal Oak Township.

The township high school students had been going to neighboring schools with the township paying tuition.

The township, already in debt for tuition and elementary school needs, couldn't build its own high school and a makeshift classroom was set up to take care of the ninth graders this year.

Loot Was Heavy

NEW YORK (UPI)—Burglars who broke into a Brooklyn supermarket escaped with $13,000 worth of loot, the police said.

The capital structures of 2,700 American corporations were which it was bolted and the two changed last year.

Union Officials Are Acquitted

St. Louis Teamsters Are Freed of Illegal Political Contribution Charge

ST. LOUIS (UP)—A top lieutenant of Teamster President James Hoffa and three other officials of the Union were given a directed verdict of acquittal Thursday on charges of making illegal political contributions. The Union called it a "landmark case."

Harold J. Gibbons, international executive vice president of the Teamsters, expressed belief other unions will adopt a similar system of making contributions to congressional and other federal candidates as a result of the ruling.

Freed of charges of violating the federal corrupt practices act were Gibbons, John Naber, William Latal and Sidney Zagari. Latal is president, Gibbons secretary-treasurer and Naber recording secretary of St. Louis Teamsters Local 888.

Zagari, now an international official of the Union as is Gibbons, formerly was the local's political activity director.

The acquittal was by direction of U. S. District Judge George H. Moore, who ruled the government failed to prove its charges in a lengthy trial.

"I view the court's decision as complete vindication of the correctness and legality of this system of making political contributions," Gibbons said.

Chicago Newspaper for Nixon and Lodge

CHICAGO (UPI)—Chicago's American newspaper has endorsed the presidential ticket of Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge. "Having assessed the qualifications of the four candidates, it seems clear to us that the country will best be served by electing Nixon and Lodge," the American said in an editorial.

"In foreign affairs, they are far better equipped by experience to deal with the dangerous struggle against communism in the years ahead," the editorial said. The American endorsed the Eisenhower ticket in both 1952 and 1956.

SET FOR FLARE NIGHT—Members of the Waterford-Drayton Kiwanis Club are getting set to again sell flares Friday so children may see where they are going Halloween night. The Kiwanians will make a house-to-house canvass in the Lake Oakland Heights and Loon Lake subdivisions. Other civic clubs will cover other areas. From left are chairman Ralph Newton, Loren Aris, Jack Burdell and Elmer O. Johnson.

Fine-Arts Director to Give Music Talk

What's music all about?

That's the question which Karl Haas, fine arts director for Detroit radio station WJR, will try to answer for an audience at Michigan State University Oakland next Wednesday.

Haas will give a graphically illustrated talk when he appears at 8 p.m. in the Oakland Student Center as the second attraction of this year's MSUO lecture-recital series.

Haas, also known as a recitalist and piano teacher, has entitled his program "A Musical Adventure With Karl Haas."

Haas will use a piano to illustrate various types of music, the similarities of symphonic and folk music themes, and the arrangement of musical compositions.

He is a close friend of New York Philharmonic conductor Leonard Bernstein, who has presented similar music appreciation programs before nationwide TV audiences.

Haas is founder and president of the Chamber Music Society of Detroit, and has given concerts with his own chamber music ensemble composed of Detroit Symphony musicians.

He has appeared as soloist with orchestras both in Europe and the United States under such conductors as Paul Paray and Leonard Bernstein.

Dr. Gerald Straka, chairman of the faculty committee which arranged the series, said the audience "will be so thoroughly entertained that they won't know or care that the program is an intellectual affair as well."

Admission price for the public will be $1, with MSUO students, faculty and staff admitted free.

It requires an investment of at least $2,000 to create a job for an average worker in an industrial plant.

Lightweight Steel Will Make Future Cars Stronger

DETROIT (UPI)—Lightweight, high-strength steels, used hitherto mainly in building and railway cars, will make automobiles of the future stronger and lighter, Vice President M. W. Lightner of the U.S. Steel Corp. said Thursday.

Lightner told the American Society of Body Engineers that 30 strong, low-alloy steels with yield strengths of 45,000 to 50,000 pounds per square inch are now available to auto builders compared with the carbon steels of 20,000 to 30,000 per square inch strength the industry is now using.

Some of these steels have been used in bumpers for years with great success, Lightner said. In the future, they will be used in auto frames and bodies with savings not only in weight but in cost, and the resulting cars will be safer, he said.

Predicts High Taxes if Kennedy's Elected

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—The election of Sen. John F. Kennedy as president would destroy business confidence and would lead the nation into higher taxes or inflation, Secretary of Commerce Frederick H. Mueller said Wednesday night.

Mueller told newsmen in an interview that the platform on which Kennedy is running "has as its philosophy increased spending by the government." He said the spending could be achieved only by raising taxes or going further into debt.

Professor Emeritus Dies in Ann Arbor Hospital

ANN ARBOR (UPI)—Prof. Emeritus Alfred H. Lovell of the University of Michigan died Thursday at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital at the age of 76.

Lovell, former chairman of the department of electrical engineering, joined the Michigan faculty in 1931 and served continuously until his retirement in 1954.

Despite the fact that the paint industry has developed literally thousands of colors for its products, white remains the favorite for home exteriors, accounting for 58.1 per cent of the house paint sold last year. PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.

Q. Can small puppies become sick from too much handling by children—Joe Johnson, Fayetteville, N.C.

A. It's a rare child who isn't instinctively kind and protective toward his very own puppy or kitten, but young children have to be taught that the new pet isn't a toy.

Nature has endowed these little animals with resilient bodies and they can take a lot of good-natured abuse. The treatment they get from their mothers isn't always the gentlest.

But children should be cautioned against dropping the puppy, or pulling it by the legs or tail. Squeezing and hugging should be stopped when the animal protests, and the temptation to toss him about should be resisted.

Puppies enjoy being cuddled, and the right kind of handling won't make them sick.

There's Still a Chance for Rock 'n' Roll Music

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — You remember the big funeral for rock 'n' roll about a year ago? Nobody cried at the services. When the mourners said, "Gbye Rock," they also muttered, "Good riddance."

I've just been interviewing the new boy in charge of producing hit songs at Columbia Records, and he confessed he's launching a worldwide hunt for rock 'n' roll.

"I don't foresee the end of it," said the well-known Hollywood and Broadway Frank De Vol, composer, arranger, actor and one-man band, out of good old Canton, Ohio. "We want these young people," unblushingly and unhesitatingly declared Frank De Vol.

"That's part of my new assignment . . . and I don't apologize, because rock 'n' roll, or rhythm-and-blues, is a native American thing . . ."

I gather that when bearded Mitch Miller ran the Pop Department at Columbia, they were long on "quality records." But "Rock" impolitely lived on, and Columbia, anxious to have its rightful slice, said to Frank Vol:

"Get in there and grab those kid record-buyers for Columbia — you can do it, boy!"

A great song producer himself, he got an Oscar nomination for scoring "Pillow Talk." He's a saxophonist, violinist, clarinetist, flutist, trumpeter and singer.

"We'd been giving them the great masters . . . and they wanted the comic pages," he says.

"We can't take Doris Day and Tony Bennett and give them rock 'n' roll because it's degrading to them."

Frank understands singing. When he left Canton, to go with Emerson Gull's orchestra in Cleveland, he notified his mother he was going to be heard on radio one night.

"Mother told me she loved it, so when I sang my number she leaned her head on the radio and she could feel the vibrations of her son singing."

"Which I really loved, because it was Pinky Hunter not, me, who sang that song."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Pat Nixon's lost eleven pounds on the campaign trail . . . Lawrence Welk Jr.'s dating an Indian beauty, Delphi Conflower . . .

Diahann Carroll flew to Paris to do "Paris Blues" with Paul Newman; her baby and her mother follow next month.

EARL'S PEARLS: Jack Waldron describes a second-rate hotel he once visited. "Everything was cold but the ice water."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Steve Lawrence has the next reply to Eydie Gorme at the Copa: "Darling, for the very first time in your life, you're wrong again."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: There's one thing to be said for politicians on TV—they can't promise you any more than the average sponsor does.

Probe of U. S. Economy Points Out Party Stands

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI) — Talk about sensational, eye-popping TV programming: they ruffled stacks and stacks of money past our eyes on CBS-TV last night.

Those beloved, all-American, all-time stars, Ben Franklin ($100 bill), George Washington ($1 bill) and Abe Lincoln ($5 bill) stopped by for guest spots on the "CBS Reports" special called, "Money and the New President."

With Howard K. Smith as head baker in this bread shop, the hour roamed over the field of the American economy and struck hard at the core of difference between the Republican and Democratic parties.

A series of interviews, notably with Robert Anderson, secretary of the Treasury, economist J. Kenneth Galbraith, an advisor to Sen. Kennedy, pointed up the differences.

Anderson believes that the essence of economic freedom is freedom of choice for consumers. Galbraith believes the function of government is to direct the economy.

The special also touched on gross national product, inflation, trade balances and the gold stock of 1960, and the manufacture of money. Like Wednesday night's show about another difficult subject, computers, this one tied its material together graphically and sometimes dramatically.

That's two fine public affairs shows in two nights at old CBS TV. They're putting in a busy week upgrading the national IQ and I hope they find a way to keep it up right through the season—in prime weekday night viewing hours. Both shows, I noticed, were sponsored.

DEBBIE'S A DOLL, BUT . . .

I remember Debbie Reynolds doing a wonderful, wacky, free-form dance to "Dunagun Doll" a few years ago on, pardon the expression, Eddie Fisher's old TV show. I also remember Maureen, (Debbie), rolling around Jack Paar's nighttime agglomeration.

In each of these brief TV encounters, she was a doll.

But last night, Debbie stayed around for a whole hour. Indeed, it was her own show. "A Date with Debbie" on ABC-TV, and I discovered that a little Debbie goes a long way.

Her talents are as numerous as her hardships, it seems, but they aren't so fully developed as to unduly prolonged exposure—I also detected a more sophisticated lady on the stage and frankly, I thought the campfire girl Debbie Moore was more effective.

Debbie's takeoffs on Zsa Zsa Gabor, Anna Magnani and Brigitte Bardot were well done, with more than average bite, but the sketch lasted a few beats too long. Her dance with Walter Brennan and Charlie Ruggles was a charming, happy affair.

While I'll never understand how Julian "Cannonball" Adair's quartet got into the act, I'm glad it made the scene, if only for a rather brief spot.

Kennedy Hits Economic Note

Stand With Ike: Nixon

'Administration Putting Damper on Progress'

Dem Says Leadership Requires a Dedicated National Drive

WITH KENNEDY IN PENNSYLVANIA — Democratic presidential candidate John F. Kennedy said today this country can achieve peace and security only if it builds a strong and vital economy.

Sounding somewhat hoarse as he carried his campaign into Pennsylvania for the fourth time, he said the nation's economy has been hampered during the Eisenhower administration by two recessions and now by "a serious slowdown."

In an indirect swipe at Vice President Richard M. Nixon, his Republican opponent, Kennedy said that "If we drift here at home, all the bold words and finger-pointing won't make up for the lack of strength of the United States."

He said that Soviet Premier Khrushchev's power comes from the Soviet Union's productive power, and declared his country can't afford not to make full use of its steel mills and other facilities.

U.S. leadership of the free world, Kennedy said, "requires a powerful, dedicated, moving America, and that is what we are going to get."

A plan by Kennedy to return briefly to Detroit has been canceled to give him time for some campaigning in Virginia. The aide said Kennedy does not plan to campaign in Michigan again before the election.

He started a 15-hour motorcade tour of eastern Pennsylvania in Bethlehem, a steel center and a Democratic stronghold where he was cheered by friendly crowds.

He spoke first at a $25-a-plate Democratic breakfast attended by about 300, and then before about 4,000 mostly students in the Moravian College gymnasium.

NIXON LAND NEXT

Kennedy's next stop was Allentown, considered to be Republican territory, where Nixon spoke last Saturday night. The police estimated the crowds that listened to Kennedy in the city square at 30,000.

Kennedy said he would move on before the end of the day to Pottsville, Hazleton, Wilkes-Barre and Scranton, before an air stop to the outskirts of Philadelphia late tonight.

Earlier, in a speech he prepared to use along way, he accused Nixon of selling American short.

"It is Mr. Nixon—not I—who is downgrading America," Kennedy asserted.

Says Jack Has NY

MODESTO, Calif. (UPI) — W. Averell Harriman, former governor of New York, Thursday night predicted that Sen. John Kennedy would carry New York by "one of the largest votes ever given a Democratic candidate."

Knowland for Nixon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former Senate Republican leader William F. Knowland will make a four-state southern speaking tour beginning Saturday on behalf of GOP presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon.

BE ON TOP VOTE DEMOCRATIC

HOUSING AROUND — Politics has its ups and downs, as is graphically illustrated at this multi-party headquarters in Limestone, Maine. First the Democrats opened their offices on the top floor. Then the Republicans rented the space below and put up the slogan "Stay on the Ground Floor, Vote Republican." Finally the Dems, not to be outdone, unfurled the sign reading "Be on Top, Vote Democratic."

Tried to Get Chicago Air Photos

FBI Nabs 2 Spies in NY

NEW YORK (AP) — FBI Agents struck with lightning swiftness Thursday night to round up a Soviet spy network in New York City, according to a report from the city's police.

A third man, a Soviet national now out of the country, was named a conspirator but not a defendant.

Seized at their Manhattan homes were Igor Yagovlevich Melekh, 47, head of the Russian language section in the Office of Conference Services of the U.N. Secretariat, and Willie Hirsch, 47, who came to this country as a youth but never became a citizen.

The pair had been indicted Thursday by a federal grand jury in Chicago. One charge accused the men of trying to obtain aerial photographs of Chicago, including military installations.

The Justice Department in Washington announced their arrests at almost the same time the FBI men closed in.

Melekh was seized at his apartment on West 88th Street while a birthday party was going on for his 6-year-old son. Hirsch was alone in his four-room apartment at Fifth Avenue and Tenth Street, a fashionable section of Greenwich Village.

Melekh, who came to the United States in 1955, lived with his wife, Irma, and their two children—the boy, Mikhail, and a daughter, Marina, 2.

A stubby man with gray hair and horn-rimmed glasses, Melekh—handcuffed as he was taken into FBI headquarters—muttered: "We were well prepared. We were well prepared."

At another point he said, "It just shows everybody is ready."

In his job at the United Nations, Melekh earned $11,000 a year. The indictment against him said he also was known as Peter Stephens and as "Gypsy."

Hirsch, said also to have used the name John Gilmour, was picked up while his wife and daughter were out walking.

Hirsch and his family had lived in the apartment for 10 years. One tenant, told of his arrest said incredulously: "He was the nicest guy in the building."

Both men also are charged with failure to register with the State Department as agents of a foreign government.

GOP Candidate Eyes Illinois' Big 27 Votes

Unruffled by Michigan Hecklers; Says He'll Visit Satellite

WITH NIXON IN ILLINOIS — Vice President Richard M. Nixon said today that he and President Eisenhower stand shoulder to shoulder in the fight against communism and for the preservation of peace.

Nixon brought his campaign to Illinois after a hectic day in Michigan.

Nixon got a rousing reception from a crowd police estimated at more than 5,000 in his first Illinois stop at Danville.

Nixon laid emphasis on his long association with Eisenhower as he campaigned through areas of Illinois regarded as primarily Republican.

He obviously hoped to stir enough Republicans into action to furnish him with the winning margin in the battle for Illinois' 27 electoral votes.

Gov. William G. Stratton, who boarded the train at Danville, predicted that Nixon will carry the state.

In his talk at Danville, Nixon referred to the rocks thrown at him during his Venezuela tour in 1958 and noted that some tomatoes and eggs were tossed at him Thursday in Michigan.

"I've been through some real heckling and it's not going to stop me," he said. "If there is anyone here who doesn't believe it, just try it and see."

INJECTS HUMOR

Nixon said that his Democratic rival, Sen. John F. Kennedy, has contended that the economy is going sour.

"If that is true, how could they afford those tomatoes, and eggs?" he asked. "They were pretty good ones."

Although he twice was made target by egg throwers and was subjected to what his press secretary called "goon squad" heckling, Nixon pronounced a whistle-stopping tour through Michigan the best day of his Republican presidential campaign.

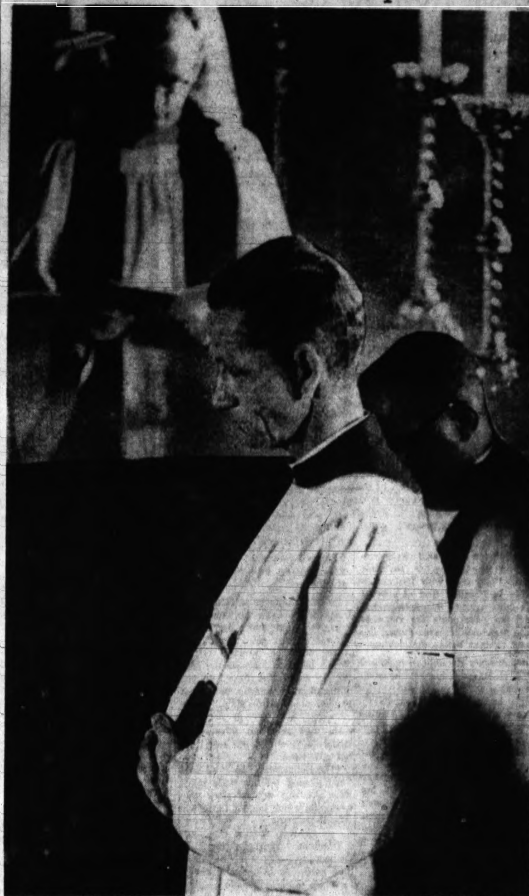

He pointed his special train to travel primarily Republican sections of Illinois before a night speech across the Iowa line in Davenport.

Nixon told an applauding crowd at the dedication of a field house in Muskegon that if he is elected president he intends to visit all of the satellite nations of Eastern Europe.

He specifically named Poland, which he has visited previously, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria and Romania.

He said he hopes that if Sen. DeWitt's Bloomfield Hills parish were among the 1,500 persons

'Be to the Flock a Shepherd'

MR. DEWITT CONSECRATED — The Rev. Mr. Robert L. DeWitt, rector of Christ Church Cranbrook for 12 years, yesterday was consecrated Episcopal Suffragan Bishop at the Cathedral Church of St. Paul in Detroit. Here he kneels in the chancel before the laying-on-of-hands rite.

Cranbrook Rector Elevated to Bishop

The Rev. Robert L. DeWitt was consecrated bishop suffragan in the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan yesterday in a service rich with the tradition of the church.

Elevation of the former rector of Christ Church Cranbrook, in Bloomfield Hills to the high church post took place in the Cathedral of St. Paul in Detroit.

Many members of the Rev. Mr. DeWitt's Bloomfield Hills parish were among the 1,500 persons who filled the pews several hours early in order to witness the historic ceremony.

ADMINISTRATOR COMMUNION

One of Bishop DeWitt's first duties was to assist the presiding bishop in administering Holy Communion to his family and fellow bishops. He offered the Cup to his wife, his daughter Rebecca, 19, and Laurence, 17, and other members of his family.

Bishop DeWitt now takes his place beside the Rt. Rev. Elihu C. Zorich, bishop of the diocese of Michigan, and the Rt. Rev. Archie B. Crowley, the other suffragan bishop of the diocese.

With the Rev. Mr. DeWitt in his white and purple vestments, standing beside his family, the Rt. Rev. James A. Pike, bishop of the diocese of California, exhorted the suffragan bishop-elect in his sermon that he must maintain his ministry of Christ along with the added duties imposed upon him with his new office.

Consecrator was the Rt. Rev. Arthur C. Lichtenberger, bishop of the Episcopal church of the United States.

The Rt. Rev. Angus Dun, bishop of Washington, D.C., and the Rt. Rev. Norman B. Nash, retired bishop of Massachusetts, were the coconsecrators.

After the choir, including members of the Christ Church choir, had taken its place in the chancel, the clergy procession entered from the side of the cathedral. Then came the presiding bishop's procession up the center aisle.

Walls of Theater Being Torn Down

Demolition crews were to begin tearing down the shaky walls of the fire-devastated Oakland Theater in downtown Pontiac this afternoon.

Representatives of Butterfield Theaters, Inc., elected to send in wrecking crews and equipment after conferring with city and fire department officials at City Hall.

Carl Alt, city building inspector, stated that three of the four-story walls might fall at any moment. He ordered the representatives of the theater firm to take safety measures or raze the walls.

The theater was consumed by flames of a new fire on Wednesday night, with damage estimated by Fire Chief James R. White at $415,000, making it one of the worst in Pontiac history.

Plans were being made to place planks over the roof of Yankee's Clothing Store on the south so that bricks from the falling walls would not go through the roof.

Assistant City Manager Robert A. Stierer said the demolition work should be completed on Saturday. "The north, south, and rear walls are definitely a hazard," he said.

Fire Marshal Charles E. Meis said the fire started in the rear of the building. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Drivers Are Warned by Sheriff

Beware of spooks 'n' goblins, especially little, hard-to-see ones, Sheriff Frank Irons warned today.

His message was aimed at motorists who will be on the road Monday night—Halloween, a time when youngsters in the guise of witches' kin roam the street "trick or treating" in piping voices meant to be scary.

"And I'm scared, too," Sheriff Irons said, "Scared that some child will be killed or maimed by an unwary driver."

"We will have every available man on patrol that night," he added, pleading at the same time for motorists to be extra cautious.

He also warned parents of the spooks 'n' goblins to be certain that their children's vision is not hindered by their masks, and to see that the younger ones are accompanied by a "responsible" older person in making the door-to-door rounds for goodies.

OBSTACLES IN STREET

"I hope the spooks will have enough sense this year not to endanger anyone's life by mischievously placing obstacles in the streets."

Such hazards could easily cause a tragic automobile accident, the sheriff added.

Other tips on how to avoid a witches brew of trouble this Halloween have been offered by pediatricians at the University of Michigan as follows:

Luminous tape is in vogue for all spirits, ghouls and wizards. It can be seen easily, enhances the spookiness of the costume and helps ward off such dangers as automobiles.

It's also a good idea to carry a flashlight, but no open flame such as candles or oil lanterns. Each Halloween, hospitals repair burned goblins who became careless with fire.

The doctors urge homeowners to keep porch lights on for the guidance of amateur and inexperienced spooks.

One of the most common diseases at Halloween, say the doctors, is "Poltergeist Dyspepsia," a sudden stomach-ache caused by too many and too varied trick-or-treat goodies.

Pleasant Weather Coming Saturday

The weatherman promises clear skies tonight and a mild low of 26 degrees.

Although expected to be partly cloudy, Saturday will be pleasant, with the high temperature rising to near 62.

Meet in TV Debate

Bagwell, Swainson Spar Over How to Up Taxes

DETROIT (U-P) Gov. John B. Swainson and his Republican opponent for the governor's chair, Paul D. Bagwell, are agreed that Michigan needs more revenue but they disagree on how to raise it. The two candidates met in a half-hour television debate in Detroit, Thursday night with Bagwell plumping for an increase in the state sales tax and Swainson demanding "total tax revision."

Despite repeated efforts by Swainson, Bagwell declined to put out a specific tax program and he also declined to be pinned down on whether or not he favored a state income tax.

Swainson in Pontiac Area Today

12. Gov. John B. Swainson launched a day's campaigning in Pontiac today when he toured the $20,000 Fisher Body UAW Local 506 hall on Baldwin avenue in Pontiac.

He then joined Gerald W. Kehoe, local president, and his wife at the factory to welcome workers. With Swainson was James G. Kellie, Democratic congressional candidate.

Swainson also said the Democratic candidate for governor is "pleased" with the reception in Pontiac, first of several in the county as Swainson pointed out the payments for votes in the metropolitan area during the past 12 days before the election.

"Swainson's Republican opponent, Paul D. Bagwell, has said he would probably spend the balance of the time before the election in the same area. He comes to Pontiac next Friday."

Both clashed on television last night.

After his visit to the Fisher Body plant, Swainson and his party were guests at a noon luncheon in Waterford Township. The afternoon will be spent visiting the Lincoln - Mercury plant in Wilmett. He'll visit the UAW local in Wilmett.

"Swainson is expected to speak at an 8 p.m. rally at the Berkley High School. He'll later be guests at a testimonial dinner given in honor of Rep. S. James Clarkson, D-Southfield."

A visit to the Tel-Huron Shopping Center at 10:30 tonight and a party for Democratic proctor candidate George J. Fulkerson in Royal Oak will round out the day in the county.

County Teachers Attending Institute

It's a "free Friday" for pupils in Pontiac and Oakland County public schools today - but not for the teachers.

"There are no classes today because of the 1960 State Teachers Institute being held at Masonic Temple in Detroit."

The annual regional conference is sponsored by the Michigan Education Association and is being attended by an estimated 1,000 teachers in Oakland County.

Featured speakers at this afternoon's session were United Auto Workers president Walter Reuther and Dr. Lynn Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction.

Chairman of this year's conference is Roscoe V. Crowell, principal of Avondale High School and president of Region No. 7 of the MEA.

Mac Warned About Bugging

State Department Told British K May Carry Listening Device

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department security agents cautioned the British in advance that Soviet Premier Khrushchev might carry a secret listening device to a New York meeting with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

This was disclosed today by informants in the wake of reports that Khrushchev has boasted about having complete tape recordings of his two talks with Macmillan in New York a month ago.

Security authorities who guarded Khrushchev during his 25-day New York visit said they would not be at all surprised if Khrushchev is telling the truth about this.

Miniature recording devices have been developed which could be hidden successfully on Khrushchev's ruy-poly physique or secured in a briefcase of one of his aides. Several amazingly sensitive versions are already on the commercial market, they said.

But the advance tip was a precautionary move, with no proof Khrushchev planned to use such a device.

Macmillan's aides apparently either ignored the advice or felt there was no need to guard against any such devices.

A British diplomat who was with Macmillan in New York said his chief said nothing during either talk which would embarrass him if the Soviet leader chose to make it public in verbatim form.

Khrushchev reportedly has threatened to make public the tape recordings he says he has taken back up his claim that Macmillan promised flatly to favor a summit meeting early next year.

Derailment Scare Gets Action Scan Tracks Before Nixon

ABOARD NIXON TRAIN (UPI) — Police patrolled the tracks in advance of Vice President Richard M. Nixon's campaign train today following discovery of a piece of metal lashed to a trestle near Fort Wayne, Ind.

Thursday night's derailment scare followed a day of heckling and egg and tomato throwing in Michigan.

Authorities blamed pranksters for placing the piece of metal, a 14-inch can-shaped fluorescent light transformer filled with sand on the tracks. But they said it was of sufficient size to derail the train.

Federal agents said the Nixon train would use the tracks despite the discovery of the object. More than 25 policemen were assigned to patrol the tracks until Nixon's train passed through Fort Wayne on its way to Illinois, where similar precautions were expected to be taken.

Herbert Klein, Nixon's press secretary, called the heckling and egg-throwing in Michigan Thursday the work of a "goon squad."

Thursday night in downtown Muskegon, two eggs were thrown at Nixon's car. One hit the top of the convertible, according to Klein and splattered on two Nixon aides.

The other egg struck the vice president's coat. Two officers were hit by eggs earlier in the day.

Klein called the Michigan crowd "most friendly and among the most friendly of the campaign."

"I can only conclude that organized goon-squad tactics are involved in such an occurrence," he said.

He said "harsh profanity" was shouted at Mrs. Nixon at one stop.

Hecklers shouted "Yes Kennedy over and over when Nixon appeared outside the Muskegon Arena after his scheduled speech inside. Kennedy-Kennedy banners were waved above the crowd.

Nixon said he hoped the hecklers would be as courteous with him as his supporters were with Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic nominee.

The heckling continued and Nixon, almost angrily, said, "Look, I've been heckled by experts so I don't try anything on me." He was finally able to continue his speech after he reminded the hecklers a second time and told them to "go away."

What is asked of a bishop was asked in the rest of the nation. "Be to the flock of Christ a shepherd, not a wolf; feed them, devour them not. Hold up the weak, heal the sick, bind up the broken, bring again the outcasts, seek the lost."

The laying-on-of-the-hands is the transfer of spiritual power which the Protestant Episcopal Church traces back to the 12 Apostles of Christ.

Litanist was the Rt. Rev. Nelson M. Burroughs, Ohio bishop, and the epistolar was the Rt. Rev. Charles E. Bromberg, bishop of the Western Michigan. Gosseler was the Rt. Rev. Herman R. Page, bishop of Northern Michigan.

Attending presbyters were the Rev. Canon Henry Lewis, rector of Ann Arbor St. Andrew's, and the Rev. Malcolm G. Dade, rector of St. Cypryan's, Detroit.

After the ceremony the new bishop was received at a reception held in the new Cathedral Center. Bishop DeWitt, 44, is expected to be assigned to the Detroit area of the diocese.

rest of the black and red Episcopal habit was put on the suffragan bishop-elect, Bishop Enrich assistant.

The Christ Church rector then knelt. Standing over him were Bishops Lichtenberger and Enrich and Nash. Bishops Enrich and Crowley were nearby.

Then came the most impressive section of the rites with the bishops laying their hands upon the head of Mr. DeWitt. The presiding bishop said, "Receive the Holy Ghost for the office and work of a bishop in the Church of God, now committed unto thee by the imposition of our hands."

"And remember that thou stir up the grace of God, which is bestowed on thee by this imposition of our hands."

Bishop Lichtenberger then presiding Bishop DeWitt with a Bible saying, "Give heed unto reading, exhortation, and doctrine. Think upon the things contained in this Book. Be diligent in them, that the increase coming thereby may be manifest unto all men, for by so doing thou shalt both save thyself and them that hear thee."

Finch Jury Still Out; Another Deadlock?

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Marathon deliberations by jurors at the second murder trial of Dr. R. Bernard Finch and Carole Trogoff indicated today they may be deadlocked.

But neither the prosecutors nor the defense attorneys would speculate that the case would end as a mistrial again.

At day's end Thursday, the television had deliberated 39 hours and 15 minutes on murder charges against the couple, surpassing by far the 40 hours and 40 minutes of the first jury which ended March 12 in hopeless discussion.

Finch, 43, and Miss Trogoff, 23, are accused of slaying the popular wife Barbara, 33, on July 25, 1958.

Ruins of Oakland Coming Down Today

The cause has not been determined as yet, he stated.

Mary who watched the Oakland Theater go up in smoke stood recalling other spectacular blazes in Pontiac, but none could go back as far as Dec. 28, 1961.

On that day a blazing inferno threatened to completely destroy the Eastern Michigan Asylum (now Pontiac State Hospital).

Several large sections were destroyed and the administration building burned to the ground. Other destructive fires occurred at the hospital in 1960 and 1961.

On the morning of Nov. 4, 1917, possibly the most disastrous blaze in Pontiac's history broke out at the old Pontiac Knitting Mill Co. on Mill and East Huron Streets.

Before it was contained, the fire leveled everything from Huron to East Pike Street.

On April 28, 1924, the Whitefield, Walter & Dawson Grocery Co. at Huron and W. Pike burned to the ground.

MOST COSTLY

In 1938 a modernized Chase's Department Store opened at 54 N. Saginaw St. On Nov. 16, 1942, that store was the scene of Pontiac's most costly fire.

The five-story structure was gutted by a spectacular "million-dollar blaze" which damaged two other nearby buildings.

In June, 1951, an early-morning fire destroyed a four-story brick lumber at the A. Benson Lumber Co., 549 N. Saginaw St., and another fire gutted the main building in February, 1954.

In November 1957, a tremendous blast rocked the city. The explosion and fire at the Pontiac Varish Co. took two lives and kept firemen working all night.

The fire gutted the last major fire, before last night, was the W. N. McCandless Floor Covering Store, 11 N. Perry St., on Aug. 15, 1958.

Damage in that blaze reached nearly $150,000.

Area Scouts Plan Knob-to-Knob Drive for Votes

On the door knobs of 80,000 homes in Clinton Valley Council area the local Boy Scouts will place "Get Out and Vote" hangers on Saturday. This council comprises most of the area of Oakland and Macomb counties, including the cities of Pontiac and Mount Clemens.

While the work is in charge of Joe Haas, member of the National Council of Boy Scouts, he states that full credit for the placing of "Get Out and Vote" hangers on the council office in Pontiac, the scoutmasters and other leaders in the 254 units in the council, and the 10,000 boy scouts who will visit the message on the hanger, which is in the shape of the Liberty Bell, says: "Heed youth's call. Ring the bell for freedom. Vote as you please, but vote."

Throughout the nation, five million scouts will place these hangers on forty million homes. The project is a major feature of the golden jubilee of scouting in America.

HST Suggests Nixonland Fun

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — For a man whose name has become a prestige word, always be there all-time high—and we would all be morally, spiritually, economically and militarily stronger than anybody else anywhere.

"Nixonland would also be very neat. In fact, it would be as clean as a house's tooth."

"The first thing to do in Nixonland would be to take a ride on the Nixon train. This would be rather quickly—a through fifty-odd countries. The end of this ride would be quite exciting, with howling Communist mobs and all the passengers would have to be rescued by the United States Marines."

"There would be the Nixon trip up the Congo River, through Communistland. And you would see stuffed Communists popping out from behind every bush. And Nixon would stand in the bow of the boat, and shoot them dead—

"One of the rules in Nixonland would be 'no curs words'—because of the children there. Of course, in Nixonland there would be no marine ride to the offshore islands. This submarine would go to Quemoy and Matsu, but not to Cuba. In fact, there would be a major festival of anti-communism. Anybody who mentioned Cuba would have to get off the submarine and swim home."

"I don't feel bitterness tonight toward Richard Nixon," Truman's text said. "I feel concern and a touch of pity. I have been thinking what he could do after the election returns are in. He is too young to retire, and he will have to have some kind of a job."

"I think I have discovered what Nixon can do. He has considerable gifts of showmanship, and the ability to create all kinds of illusions. He should go into this amusement park, 'where he has to keep children from school in protest against Negroes being transferred to white schools."

Bishop Pike said the new suffragan bishop here will have to become a prophet.

"This is what prophesy means," he said, "to condemn such action as this in Detroit."

"Another popular attraction would be the great Nixon submarine ride to the offshore islands. This submarine would go to Quemoy and Matsu, but not to Cuba. In fact, there would be a major festival of anti-communism. Anybody who mentioned Cuba would have to get off the submarine and swim home."

Bishop Pike said the new suffragan bishop here will have to become a prophet.

"This is what prophesy means," he said, "to condemn such action as this in Detroit."

"Another popular attraction would be the great Nixon submarine ride to the offshore islands. This submarine would go to Quemoy and Matsu, but not to Cuba. In fact, there would be a major festival of anti-communism. Anybody who mentioned Cuba would have to get off the submarine and swim home."

"I don't feel bitterness tonight toward Richard Nixon," Truman's text said. "I feel concern and a touch of pity. I have been thinking what he could do after the election returns are in. He is too young to retire, and he will have to have some kind of a job."

"I think I have discovered what Nixon can do. He has considerable gifts of showmanship, and the ability to create all kinds of illusions. He should go into this amusement park, 'where he has to keep children from school in protest against Negroes being transferred to white schools."

Cats Are Wonderful Teachers

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—If you want to learn how to live, get yourself a cat.

When you first get a new pet of any kind, you usually have a complacent feeling that you can teach it a thing or two.

Sometime later, you find to your surprise, you are the one being taught. Your pet teaches you more than you teach it.

Our household tabby, known as Lady Dottie, appears to our visitors no more than an ordinary black and white alley cat of large size.

Certainly she doesn't bear any startling resemblance to Horace Mann or John Dewey. But in her way she has turned out to be quite as much of an educator.

Everyone in our family—my wife, Frances, my 12-year-old daughter, Tracy Ann, and myself—has learned something from her. What can a mere cat teach a human being? Why, many things.

Ask Oil Import Cut for Nation

Areas East of Rockies Would Be Affected, Ike Proclamation Needed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Interior Department said Thursday it had proposed that foreign oil imports, except residual fuel oil, be cut by 60,000 barrels a day, effective Jan. 1, in the area east of the Rocky Mountains.

Covered would be both crude oil and finished, and unfinished products.

Undersecretary Elmer Bennett said the cut would require a presidential proclamation before it could become effective. This is expected in the near future.

Independent oil producers in Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and other big producing states have been pleading for the cut on grounds cheaper foreign oil has continued to undermine the domestic market.

The proposal was sent to the White House and Budget Bureau several days ago. White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said he knew nothing about it.

Crude oil production in Texas, the bellwether producing state, is on an eight-day-a-month basis. Other producing states also are under restricted operations.

An Interior Department spokesman said the reduced flow of foreign oil would bring imports more in line with domestic output and probably would lead to an increase in domestic production.

The plain song is the ancient chant melody of the church service.

First of all, perhaps, she can teach the value of a life of dignity without self-pity.

Lady Dottie, like all cats, is a four-footed island of self-respect. She may compromise, but she never surrenders. She allows no outsider to violate her dignity, and she never violates it herself by feeling sorry for herself.

Lady Dottie teaches the value of getting joy in life from small delights.

She yearns for no expensive toys. A box from the department store will keep her happy for two full days. She loves to lie in the crinkly tissue paper and pull the lid over her head. This is her castle in Spain on the living room floor.

Watching her play in this manner one day, I observed aloud: "You know, I really envy Lady Dottie."

"Oh, don't feel that way about it, Rover," said my wife. "If you want a paper box, I can get you one, too."

KIND OF PRISONER

By nature, Lady Dottie was probably meant to roam the woodland as a wild thing. She is now a kind of a prisoner in a four-room eighth-floor city apartment where she spends all her nights and most of her days.

For about 15 minutes each morning she likes to go out in the hallway. Then she comes back and paws at the door to be let back in.

She has seen enough of the strange outside world. She is happy to return to the security of the apartment.

She has adapted herself completely to this restricted universe, and she is content with it. She doesn't complain her empire is too small. She is happy to be its queen—and has no doubt that she is the queen.

Her only worry is the servant problem. But with a human family of three people to wait on her, Lady Dottie really doesn't do too bad. Some cats have only one servant.

Besides demonstrating the art of making the best out of what life presents, Lady Dottie also teaches another important thing—the virtue of living in the present.

She never pines over the sorrows of the past, or broods over the terrors of the future. She lives intensely in each moment as the Lord sends it, and gets the most out of it. She is tremendously, vitally aware—beyond what awakes to the majesty inherent in every instant. And when she sleeps she sleeps as if she had eternity at her disposal.

These are a few of the lessons in living Lady Dottie has taught us.

If you want to lead a richer, happier, more carefree life, get yourself a cat—and let it teach you a few tricks.

SHE'S FOR NIXON — Mrs. Addie Lothrop, 86-year-old Hartford, Conn., voter, winks at newsmen Thursday while she tells them why she will vote for Richard Nixon, Nov. 8. She says she will vote the straight Republican ticket "as usual" but this year it will be by absentee ballot.

Peter Townsend Starts Career as Wine Merchant

NEW YORK (UPI)—Peter Townsend, the former British Royal Air Force group captain, flew home to Paris with his bride of 10 months today to a new career as a businessman—with an American firm.

Townsend, 45, decorated hero of the 1940 Battle of Britain, whose years have been filled with adventure, personal service to his king, and a highly publicized broken romance with Princess Margaret, plans to settle down to a steady office job as a wine merchant.

He will head the new European subsidiary of Gold Seal Vineyards, Inc., with the title of president and director general.

The French company, with main offices in Paris, will be known as Gold Seal Vineyards—France.

North-Central Crime Rate Up

Michigan Has Highest Ratio and Growth in the 12-State Region

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Crime in the 12 North-Central states edged upward last year compared with 1958, according to the Federal Bureau of Investigation's latest report.

The Agency counted 295,106 crimes in the eastern tier of states—Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio and Wisconsin—last year, up 1.6 per cent from 1958.

The seven Western states— Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska and the Dakotas—showed a larger increase. According to the FBI report, the 102,685 crimes recorded in that area was up 5.1 per cent from the 1958 figure.

The report showed 830 crimes for every 100,000 persons in the five Eastern states, compared to 813.3 in 1958, and 671.4 again 632 for the Western section of the area.

South Dakota showed the largest gain in this comparison. The state's population dropped 22,000 under the 600,000 count of 1958, according to the report, but the crime rate per 100,000 population rose from 456 to 597.

Only three states showed less crime in comparison with their populations.

Ohio experienced a 22.000 increase in population, but crimes per 100,000 persons dropped from 704 to 656, according to the report. Indiana counted 56,000 more citizens, but the rate dropped from 800 to 735, and Wisconsin, with a population loss of 12,000, was given a rate of 428 against 459 in 1958.

Michigan recorded 1,077 crimes for each 100,000 persons, the largest such ratio among the 12 states, and up 28 from the 1958 report.

The ratio per 100,000 for other states included Illinois 851, up 70 from 1958; Iowa 467, up 26; Minnesota 383, up 3; Missouri 1,018, up 9; Nebraska 448, up 14; North Dakota 336, up 9; and Kansas 630, up 15.

Japan, North Korea Extend Repatriation

NIIGATA, Japan (AP)—Japan and North Korea have agreed to extend for a year the repatriation program under which 44,800 Koreans in Japan have voluntarily migrated to the Communist part of their homeland.

The scheme was instituted last December under the supervision of the International Red Cross when North Korea promised homes and jobs to the 600,000 impoverished Koreans living in Japan.

The South Korean government charged they were being lured into Communist slavery and bitterly opposed the program.

Bituminous coal exists in many varieties but in general it is 45 to 80 per cent fixed carbon and 15 to 40 per cent of volatile matter.

Britain Cuts Interest to Perk Up Industry

LONDON (AP)—Britain Thursday cut the government's bank interest rate from 6 per cent to 5½ per cent in an effort to stimulate faltering industry.

The bank rate had been raised from 5 to 6 per cent on June 23, the second increase of the year. It had been hiked from 4 to 5 per cent on Jan. 21, to stem a spurge of installment buying. Sales of consumer goods dropped drastically, especially of cars.

The new rate, which fixes the interest for all commercial transactions, will make installment buying slightly easier and so give a fillip to sales.

All of a Sudden Business Gets Just Lively

SPARTANBURG, S. C. (AP)—It was quiet at a small drive-in restaurant near here Wednesday night. Then suddenly the place was jammed with customers.

It's about an hour, Mr. and Mrs. James Green served 64 cheeseburgers, 13 ham sandwiches, 22 hot dogs, six barbecue sandwiches, five fish plates, 8 triple decker hamburgers, a chicken plate and 73 orders of french fried potatoes to Limestone College girl students.

"They served lively in the college dining room tonight," one of the students explained.

2 First Ladies Were Younger Than Jackie

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Any one who feels uneasy that Jackie Kennedy might become first lady at the age of 31 would have really been shocked if he had been around during the administrations of John Tyler and Grover Cleveland.

Julia Gardiner Tyler was 24 and Frances Folsom Cleveland only 31 when their husbands served their terms in the White House in the 19th Century. Historians report both were excellent hostesses.

A further look through the history books shows even Pat Nixon, at 48, is comparatively young for a first lady. Most were in their 50s when their husbands took office. The oldest was Mrs. Zachary Taylor, who was 61.

The youngest, Mrs. Cleveland, held open house at the executive mansion three times a week and was always there to meet all visitors. At these two-hour functions, she often shook as many as 3,000 hands without appearing tired.

The Clevelands were married in 1886 after the President had taken office. The wedding was the first held in the White House.

The bride was the daughter of Cleveland's former law partner and had known the president most of her life. When her father died, she became Cleveland's ward. He helped supervise her upbringing. They were married soon after she finished college.

IT WAS A BLAST

The courtship of President John Tyler and 24-year-old Julia Gardiner literally started with a blast. She and her father, a prominent Long Island socialite, were among dignitaries whom the president had invited on a cruise aboard the flagship Princeton.

As they were sailing down the Potomac River, one of the ship's guns "exploded" killing several guests and crew members. Julia fainted into the president's arms. Four months later they were married.

Known as the "Rose of Long Island," the beautiful brunette had traveled extensively before her marriage and according to one historian "had left a string of broken hearts in Saratoga, London, Paris, Rome and New York."

Like Jackie Kennedy, Julia was criticized for her clothes. Tyler always bought her the latest fashions, spending so much money that he was accused of living too high for a president. Julia was Tyler's second wife. The first Mrs. Tyler died soon after he took office.

Contrary to popular opinion, Kennedy's election would not make Jackie the first newspaper woman to become First Lady. Jackie was an inquiring photographer for a Washington daily before marrying the senator.

President Warren Harding's wife Florence worked on the Ohio paper of which her husband was part owner. She has been quoted as saying, "I went to the office one day to help out and ended up staying 14 years."

During this time she was a reporter, editorial writer, advertising saleswoman and circulation manager — and host's wife.

Pat Nixon, a former school teacher, would also have several predecessors in that occupation. They include the wives of Presidents Fillmore, Garfield, Coolidge and Franklin Roosevelt.

Whether Pat or Jackie would advise their husbands on political matters is something they are keeping strictly to themselves. If they do, though, their best example is Edith Bolling Galt Wilson, the second wife of the World War I president.

She knew so much about her husband's job that she virtually took complete control when he collapsed with a critical illness in 1919.

Rude Question Gets Laugh for Answer

By RUTH MILLETT
How should an unmarried woman answer the question, "How does it happen that you've never married?"
I asked that question in a recent column and gave a few suggested answers.
The column brought in so many letters from unmarried women that I have concluded the question—rude as it is—must be one that most unmarried women are frequently called on to answer.
Says one unmarried woman, "No matter how many times you have been asked that question, it is always unexpected and rather like a dash of cold water in the face."
"I, for one, know why I never married. But, of course, no one really wants to hear the dreary answer. I was a painfully shy, not very attractive girl. So I had only a few dates in high school and those were with the most unattractive boys in school."
"I gained a little plump after I went to work and learned how to dress and make the most of what looks I have. But about the time I began to have a little self-confidence, my father became an invalid and I was caught by the responsibility of having to support myself and my parents. So the years went by. And though I honestly think that at 45 I am more attractive than many women with husbands, I never managed to get one for myself."
"I don't think my story is too unusual. I think that with a few variations it would fit many of the unmarried women who have to answer the question, 'Why haven't you ever married?'"
"So why don't people quit asking the question? No woman is likely to answer it honestly—for it is too painful. And nobody really expects as honest answers, anyhow."

Women Find That Mind Can Distort

"Fact of Fiction," a rumor clinic, was conducted by Dr. Maurice Thome when the Child Study Club, Group III, met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. E. E. Elder on Waterford Road.
Dr. Thome, a member of the Antidemonstration League and 3rd. Brith, by audience participation and discussion, showed the frequent inaccuracy of the average person's memory, even when trying to reproduce facts correctly.
He added that memory of an incident is even less accurate when distorted by emotion.

Apartment OK if Others There Also

By EMILY POST
Dear Mrs. Post: I am a 23-year-old college student—and am in love with a young man who goes to the same college. He shares an apartment with two other friends. I have been going to his apartment to parties and on occasion, to dinner. Even though I never go there alone, my aunt and uncle, with whom I live, object to this as they do not think it proper for young people to be left alone in an apartment, unchaperoned.
I cannot see any harm in it as long as there are others present. Will you please give me your opinion?
Answer: Assuming that you are all properly behaved, I see no reason why you together with the other young people may not go to the apartment of these young men unchaperoned. To go alone would be another matter.

Dear Mrs. Post: I bought gold cuff links for my fiancé for his birthday, and had them marked with the initials of his first name. The salesman assured me that this was entirely correct.
When I brought them home I showed them to my family. They told me they were incorrectly marked and that they should have been marked with the initials of his last name. Will you please tell me what is correct?
Answer: The cuff links should have been marked with the initials of his last name rather than of his first. Most correctly, the initials of his first, middle and last name should all appear.

Dear Mrs. Post: I am 16 years old and will have my first real date next Saturday night. My parents haven't met this boy yet but have heard me speak of him. When he comes to call for me should I be ready and go out immediately, or should I ask him to come into the house to meet my parents?
Answer: You should be ready to go, but suggest to him that he come and meet your parents before you leave.

County All Set for Halloween

Keego, Orion, Addison, Walled Lake, Clarkston Invite Kids Monday

In an effort to keep "goblins" and "spooks" from being hit by cars, merchants, civic organizations and firemen in several Oakland County communities are staging special parties for youngsters on Halloween.

AT KEEGO HARBOR—More than 700 children are expected to turn out at the Halloween party Monday night in Keego Harbor, sponsored by the West Bloomfield Township Fire Department and auxiliary.

The party will be staged in the parking lot of the Community National Bank.

Festivities will get under way at 8:30 p.m. with a wail of a fire siren, announcing the start of the door-to-door begging. The siren will sound again at 7:30 p.m., signaling the trick and treaters to return to the party area.

A hundred doughnuts and 50 gallons of cider have been ordered for the occasion, according to West Bloomfield Township Fire Chief Herbert Morgan.

Prizes for the best costumes in four age groups will be awarded by local merchants.

AT WALLED LAKE

The Walled Lake Halloween party Monday night, sponsored by local merchants and firemen, will begin at 7 in the Community National Bank parking lot.

Silver dollars will be awarded for the funniest, most original, prettiest and ugliest costumes. Judging will begin at 7:30 p.m., preceded by a concert by the Walled Lake Junior High School Band.

A dance contest for teenagers and adults, with prizes awarded, will begin at 8:30 p.m. Free cider, doughnuts, apples, potato chips and noisemakers will be passed out to everyone.

IN ADDITION TOWNSHIP

In Addison Township the blare of the fire siren at 7 p.m. will signal the start of a door-to-door begging period for township youngsters and the beginning of the annual Halloween Party Monday at the Fire Hall in Leonard.

Prizes this year will be presented for the prettiest, homeliest and most original costumes. First place winners in each division will get five silver dollars; second place, two silver dollars; and third place winners, a silver dollar apiece.

In addition to the judging, refreshments, including hot dogs, cider and doughnuts, will be served by the Township firemen who are sponsoring the festivities.

AT LAKE ORION

"Trick or Treat" hours set by the village council for Halloween in Lake Orion are from 6 to 8 p.m. Monday.

The Rotary Club's annual children's parade will start at 7:30 p.m.

It will end at the Junior High football field where the club will stage its annual holiday party.

Prizes will be awarded for the best costumes, and refreshments will be served.

AT CLARKSTON

Three separate parties are scheduled on Halloween in Clarkston by the local Rotary Club, according to Chairman Dominic Maudi, high school teacher.

RECEIVE UP REPORT—A successful United Fund drive in Brandon Township was climaxed last night with a dance sponsored by the Brandon High School Student Council. Presenting a tabulation of the dance proceeds to Charles Sherman, area United Fund chairman, and Mrs. Charles Pangus, Women's Division chairman, are Judy Solley, front, and Jo Sutton, president and vice president of the student council, respectively. The township fund drive went over the $1,500 mark this year, a new high for the local campaign.

Business Ordinance Gets Little Backing

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP—A proposed ordinance which calls for licensing and regulation of businesses in the township is drawing little support from the businessmen it is supposedly designed to protect.

The ordinance was developed by a committee of the Pontiac Township Businessmen's Association and drawn up by Township Attorney Herbert E. Gordon.

Gordon said he is neither for nor against the ordinance. Committee members favor it enthusiastically.

Local businessmen are confused about it.

A joint meeting was held between the township board, the association's committee, the attorney and the businessmen at which the proposed ordinance was to be explained.

Many of those attending the meeting said the ordinance is

Participants in the South Oak Drain Project Air Their Objections

OAK PARK—Participants in the $1.6 million South Oak Storm Drain were to air their cost objections at a special hearing today at the Oak Park Community Center.

Called by the Oakland County Drain Commission, the hearing will be attended by representatives of Oak Park, Southfield, Detroit, Oakland County and the State Highway Department.

This will be the third attempt to get construction under way on the 19,100-foot drain designed to Park and Southfield from flooding Northwest Detroit.

Two previous cost assessments were objected to by Southfield to share of the construction costs.

Detroit now has agreed to pay $55,515 of the bill. Oak Park's portion of the drain will cost the city $126,392, and will be paid for by city-at-large taxes. Estimates of other cost shares are as follows:

Southfield, $3,175,239; Oakland County, $80,132; and the State Highway Department, $871,413.

Exchange Student Applicants Narrowed

KEEGO HARBOR—Four applicants for the exchange student scholarship at West Bloomfield High School for 1961-62 year have been selected by the school's American Field Service members.

Named were Cheryl Brome, Jr., 16, Ely, Mary Ann Stankar and Christine Thompson.

Final selection of one student will be made at the New York office of AFPS, according to Mrs. W. H. Bretzlaiff, Jr., chairman of the student interviews.

Each student's furnished information that would be helpful in their placement in foreign homes of a Sunday school member, Edith J. Adams, 6, in a traffic mishap.

Shopping Center Store to Debut

A&P First in Proposed $3-Million Sales Project at Dixie and M15

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP—The first store in the proposed $3-million shopping center at the corner of Dixie Highway and M15 has been completed and will be its grand opening at 9 a.m. Wednesday.

Costing close to $200,000, the huge A&P supermarket on the corner of the North-Pontiac Plaza shopping center will be the seventeenth Early American type store to be constructed by the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company this year, according to officials.

The charm of early American architecture extends from the white cupola atop the building, right on down inside and through the spacious aisles.

Replicas of old lamplighter's lamps will illustrate the open displays of canned goods on the easy-to-reach shelves. Numbers on the lamps will indicate specific counters for the least amount of customer confusion.

The pale green and yellow walls in the front of the store and the maroon and coral shades on the back wall over the meat counter blend perfectly with the off-white ceiling.

The automatic checkout counters gleam with chrome, and shoppers' feet will be warmed by the radiant heat rising from the tiled floors.

Blacktop parking space for some 2,000 cars is available in the front, to the sides and in back of the store units, and the area is illuminated with new type area lights.

The new store manager, Henry Klopman, 37, of 1509 Eason St. is the former manager of the A&P store at 132 W. Huron St. and has lived in Waterford Township with his wife and two children for the past three years.

A grocery item will be given away to each customer every day during the grand opening week, and carry-out boys are ready to serve all residents of the Clarkston area, Klopman concluded.

OPENS WEDNESDAY—The new supermarket in North Pontiac Plaza shopping center on the Dixie Highway at M15 in Independence Township will have its grand opening beginning at 9 a.m. Wednesday. This $200,000 store is the first in the proposed $3-million lion center designed to serve residents of Clarkston and its environs. Parking for 2,000 cars is provided at the front, back and sides of the buildings.

Subdivision Was Overcharged

Cut Water Rates in Half

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP—Water rates for a subdivision here were cut in half last night by the Township Board after residents complained they were out of line with those of neighboring townships.

A study of 10 other county townships showed the water rates in the Twin Lakes Village Subdivision were nearly double those charged by nearby communities, according to Supervisor Edward Chezy.

Property owners in the subdivision last week petitioned the board to look into what they termed "ridiculously high" water fees.

At that time the board agreed that the rates seemed too steep and promised the investigation.

The new rates set last night call for a billing of $4.50 for the first 1,500 cubic feet and 10 cents for each additional 100 cubic feet.

"In the future the rates get out of line with other townships, we'll see that they are adjusted again," Chezy said.

Several residents living in the subdivision claimed they had received water bills covering a six-month period totaling $56 and $90.

The rates were set in 1958 and a cushion allowed to permit the township to absorb any maintenance costs when it took over the system from the developers after 70 homes were constructed.

However, at this date only 17 homes are in the subdivision and some $3,300 is already in escrow.

The board learned last night that the funds, however, may not be long to the township until 30 homes are built in the subdivision.

If this is so, current water bills, which were to be paid last week, will not be made retroactive with the new rates and the full amount will have to be paid.

Those living in the subdivision were told to hold up paying their water bills until the board could seek the advice of the township attorney.

The victim was David Watson of 337 E. Stratford St., a student at Ferndale High School. Three other occupants of the car in which he was riding escaped serious injury.

Thomas Sales, 16, of 517 E. Saratoga St., Ferndale, told Royal Oak police his northbound car was struck on the right side as he approached the intersection.

Driver of the other auto was John Stefanski, 17, of 515 E. Edison Road. He was not hurt.

Sales and two of his passengers were thrown out of the car with the impact. Watson, the only one who was not thrown out, was sitting on the right side of Sales' car where it was struck by Stefanski's auto.

Highway Shoulders to Get Thick Paving

ALMA 96—The soft shoulders on Michigan freeways will be hardened up, State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie told an asphalt institute meeting here.

Mackie said shoulders on all new freeways, as well as some already opened to traffic, will be paved with asphalt to a thickness of one and three-quarters inches.

The shoulders formerly were given a double coating of liquid asphalt mixed with stone chips to a thickness of about three-quarters of an inch.

Mackie said the new specifications will be costlier originally but will save money in the long run through lower maintenance costs. Shoulders on the Detroit-Toledo and Brighton-Farmington Expressways already are being paved to the new specifications.

They were wearing these swastika arm bands and claiming unofficial membership in the American Nazi party which has headquarters at Arlington, Va.

Says Electing Dem Would Be War Risk

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP)—Secretary of the Air Force Dudley C. Sharp told a Republican rally Wednesday night the United States cannot afford to stumble into World War III by risking its future to the Democrats.

He said Democrats do not have a very good record of averting war and said America must elect Richard M. Nixon president.

Shelf for Highbrows

A good way of providing needed space for seldom-used books is to place a shelf high on the wall, just under the ceiling. Valuable books placed here are out of the children's reach. You can even put such a shelf above a sofa, without worrying about banging your head. Shelves can be adjusted to any height by using metal strip shelf supports available at any hardware dealer, says the magazine.

Promote Good, Not Censure Bad

Former Chief of Chaplains Takes New Attack on Smut

NEW YORK (AP)—An energetic man well acquainted with the good magazines rather than the bad ones—but it has what was popularly known as "barracks literature" is heading a program with a new approach toward what he calls "decency in America's reading habits."

This is the civilian role for Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Ryan who retired recently as chief of Army chaplains.

In 30 years of counseling troops, he said, "I found the morale of the men had a direct relationship with their morals. There's no reason why it shouldn't be the same for the entire country. If America's morals are good," he said, "its morale will be good too."

Now the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Ryan is executive vice president of Catholic Digest magazine and in charge of its Decency in Reading program.

Editors working under the monsignor comb through 163 national magazines each month. If a magazine's moral tone is acceptable it goes on an approved list.

Catholic school children across the country solicit their neighbors for subscriptions to the magazines on the list—which, at present number about 125.

"This approach is positive," Msgr. Ryan said. "We promote visitors" and "free world press."

1,122 Engineers for 135,000 Miles

Inspection of U.S. Highways Is Big Worry

Last in a four-part series on the nation's superhighway building program.

By BEN PRICE

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. Bureau of Public Roads has an annual budget of $29.5 million and employs 1,122 engineers, including 130 bridge engineers.

With this engineer force, the bureau is supposed to exercise supervision over the greatest state-federal road building program in history.

Over the past four years the states and the federal government have spent $10 million on highways and authorized the expenditure of another $10 billion.

Since mid-1956 over 40,000 road contracts have been executed and 10,000 are currently in force.

When the bureau was charged only with the supervision of the regular primary, secondary and urban road programs, its 1,122-man engineer force seemed adequate. This is the program to which the states and the federal government contribute on a 50-50 basis.

But in 1956 Congress set up a huge new program to build 41,000 miles of superhighways over a 20-year period and told the bureau to supervise this program, too, without any increase in engineers.

Under this program the federal government pays 90 per cent of the cost.

MUST INSPECT, ALSO

Bureau engineers have to approve the design, plans and specifications for roads in both programs. Further, they are expected to conduct on-the-spot inspections to see that all is going according to contract.

In the past four years, the engineers have inspected over 135,

000 miles of highways and 2,900 bridges.

This is a back-breaking chore for such a limited force of engineers.

At best, a federal engineer can inspect each job in his district once a month. The inspection may last a day, and in that day he is supposed to check grades, take samples of materials, consult the state's project engineer on special problems, and generally see that the federal government is getting its money's worth.

DEPEND ON HONESTY

The federal engineers have to rely heavily on the state's project supervisors and hope the contractor is living up to his agreement.

Breakup of a million-dollar highway at Lardburg, N. M., indicates that federal engineers can't always tell whether a highway is well built just by looking.

While the federal government is withholding payment of $200,000 of the Lardburg project, the fact remains that federal engineers gave preliminary approval to the work.

BUREAU IN MIDDLE

While there is a tendency in Congress to blame the bureau for the ills besetting the highway program, it must be noted that Congress set up the ground rules, established the state-federal relationships, and gave to the states the responsibility for actual road building.

If any charge can be leveled against bureau operations, it would be the exhibition of certain bureaucratic tendencies.

Though the bureau disclaims responsibility, it was a participant in one of Washington prize muddles.

After the superhighway program began, the question arose whether certain defense items, such as missiles, could pass beneath route interchanges and roads.

For years the bureau had adhered to a 14-foot vertical clearance standard, with Department of Defense approval.

When the bureau wrote the Defense Department for a later opinion, the Pentagon kicked the question around for two years and then said it needed 17 feet.

After consideration by the Department of Commerce, the bureau's boss, this defense requirement was arbitrarily reduced to 16 feet.

Meanwhile, the bureau had approved construction of 800 bridges at the 14-foot clearance figure. To raise these 800 bridges to meet the 16-foot standard, the bureau estimates would cost $175 million. As missile technology advances, missiles are becoming smaller and it is now hoped that 14 feet will be adequate.

When the bureau was asked why it hadn't taken action unilaterally to raise vertical clearances, it replied that such a decision would not have been appropriate, that this was Defense Department business and not its own.

ASSUMES ACCURACY

The bureau says it does not feel obligated to question state records as a rule, that it assumes these records are accurate and submitted in good faith.

From the time the General Accounting Office actually audits a state's highway program until reports to Congress, about two years elapse.

The Department of Justice usually acts only when requested to do so by the bureau or upon formal complaint.

Congress began scanning the highway programs last year through the House Roads subcommittee.

well, candidate for governor; Mrs. Nixon, Mrs. Bagwell and Mrs. Sidney Walker, vice chairman of the Jackson County GOP committee.

THE BUREAU TAKES THE POSITION that the states have their own inspectors and engineers, and for the federal government to set up a more extensive supervisory system would be a duplication of effort.

DETOIT (AP)—Automotive News estimates passenger car production in the United States this week at 148,858 units, a 1.6 per cent rise from a week ago.

Last week 146,371 cars were built and in the comparable week of 1959 the total was 101,786.

The trade paper said total assemblies for October will run about 615,000 cars compared with 485,399 in September and 505,396 in October of last year.

Compact cars will again set a weekly production record of 47,233 units. The previous high was 45,989 last week.

Truck production this week was estimated at 19,068 units compared with 16,502 last week and 16,282 in the similar week of 1959.

Canadian factories are building 6,805 cars and trucks this week compared with 6,861 last week and 6,332 a year ago.

Urges Attention to Con-Con Vote

Romney Considers the Issue Vital to Future Progress of Michigan

DEARBORN (UPI) — Concentration of candidates and personalities in the current political campaign must not be allowed to distract voter attention from the equally vital constitutional convention proposal on the Nov. 8 ballot, the coordinating committee on Constitutional Convention declared.

The committee met at the University of Michigan Dearborn Center for a final review of plans to win a favorable vote for ballot proposal 3, the Con-Con proposal.

George Romney, committee chairman, said that increasing interest in the political campaign by national and state candidates could produce the largest voter turnout in Michigan history.

"However," he said, "the excitement and unbridled importance of the national and state election should not be allowed to divert Michigan voter attention on issues of equal importance to the state."

"A yes vote on Con-Con Proposal No. 3 is VITAL to the FUTURE progress of the state," Romney added.

"Voters in Michigan cannot afford to vote only for candidates and ignore the Con-Con proposal, passage of which can signal a new era in the future ability of the candidates they elect Nov. 8 to govern effectively."

His Balloon in Connecticut

Birmingham Lad Soars to Scientific Prominence

A 12-year-old Bloomfield Township boy is on his way to a scientific career with the recovery Wednesday in Connecticut of a balloon he released from his back yard Tuesday.

It all began Tuesday afternoon when David Pistor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack C. Pistor, 578 Westview Drive, filled two balloons with a gas substance as a "scientific experiment."

To each of the balloons he tied a note with his phone number, asking the finder to call collect.

At 4 p.m. he released the balloons with a prayer that his experiment would be a success.

Wednesday at 5 p.m. and a 1,000 miles later, Richard Langdon, 15 of Glastonbury, Conn., noted a bright yellow balloon in a corn field.

Richard put in his call to David two hours later. David was somewhat startled that his experiment had worked out so well.

The two boys chatted a few minutes, but knowing that long-distance calls can be expensive, hurriedly exchanged addresses and promised to write.

David has already extended an invitation to Richard to visit him next summer.

Treasury Discloses Refinancing Plans

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Treasury Department said Thursday it will refinance $10,822,000,000 in bonds and notes due to mature on Nov. 15.

The new shorter term notes will be 15-month treasury notes at 3½ per cent interest, which will expire Feb. 16, 1962. The long term bonds will be 2½ year treasury bonds at 3½ per cent interest which will expire on May 15, 1966.

The issues maturing on Nov. 15 include $7,027,000,000 worth of 4½ per cent treasury certificates dated Nov. 15, 1959 and $3,806,000,000 of 2½ per cent treasury bonds dated Aug. 15, 1954.

Alpena Picked as State's Outstanding Community

DETROIT (UPI) — Raymond O. Hatcher, vice president of the Michigan Welfare League, Wednesday night gave the league's first outstanding Community Award to Alpena, chosen over 10 other communities.

Mary E. McLean, Alpena County probate judge, accepted the award.

Other communities nominated for the "outstanding" award in Alpena included Baldwin, Battle Creek, Flint, Grand Rapids, Huron County, Lansing, Muskegon, Niles, Oakland County and Saginaw County.

Leukemia Head Will Help Form Pontiac Chapter

HARRY BROWN, president of the Children's Leukemia Foundation of Michigan, has been invited to Pontiac next week to help form a foundation chapter here.

Brown, a Detroit businessman, will speak to a discussion group at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the American Legion Cook-Nelson Post 20, at 206 Auburn Ave.

Interested persons are invited to attend, said a member of the group, Mrs. J. C. Pickering of Pontiac Township.

Main job of a leukemia foundation chapter, she said, would be the raising of funds to support medical treatment and research.

The nonprofit foundation judges more than half its funds for research into the fatal blood disease and allied conditions, she said.

ters voted to abandon the experiment begun on Sept. 7. Beginning next Wednesday, shows will open at the traditional 8:30 or 8:40 p. m.

Union Officials Are Acquitted

St. Louis Teamsters Are Freed of Illegal Political Contribution Charge

ST. LOUIS UP—A top lieutenant of Teamster President James Hoffa and three other officials of the Union were given a directed verdict of acquittal Thursday on charges of making illegal political contributions. The Union called it a "landmark case."

Harold J. Gibbons, international executive vice president of the Teamsters, expressed belief other unions will adopt a similar system of making contributions to congressional and other federal candidates as a result of the ruling.

Freed of charges of violating the federal corrupt practices act were Gibbons, John Naber, William Latal and Sidney Zagri. Latal is president, Gibbons secretary-treasurer and Naber recording secretary of St. Louis Teamsters Local 688.

Zagri, now an international official of the Union as is Gibbons, formerly was the local's political activity director.

The acquittal was by direction of U. S. District Judge George H. Moore, who ruled the government failed to prove its charges in a lengthy trial.

"I view the court's decision as complete vindication of the correctness and legality of this system of making political contributions," Gibbons said.

Chicago Newspaper for Nixon and Lodge

CHICAGO (UPI) — Chicago's American newspaper has endorsed the presidential ticket of Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

"Having assessed the qualifications of the four candidates, it seems clear to us that the country will best be served by electing Nixon and Lodge," the American said in an editorial.

"In foreign affairs, they are far better equipped by experience to deal with the dangerous struggle against communism in the years ahead," the editorial said.

The American endorsed the Eisenhower ticket in both 1952 and 1956.

Fine-Arts Director to Give Music Talk

What's music all about? That's the question which Karl Haas, fine arts director for Detroit radio station WJL, will try to answer for an audience at Michigan State University Oakland next Wednesday.

Haas will give a graphically illustrated talk when he appears at 2 p.m. in the Oakland Student Center as the second attraction of this year's MSUO lecture-recital series.

Haas, also known as a recitalist and piano teacher, has entitled his program "A Musical Adventure With Karl Haas."

Haas will use a piano to illustrate various types of music, the similarities of symphonic and folk music themes, and the arrangement of musical compositions.

He is a close friend of New York Philharmonic conductor Leonard Bernstein, who has presented similar music appreciation programs before nationwide TV audiences.

Haas is founder and president of the Chamber Music Society of Detroit, and has given concerts with his own chamber-music ensemble composed of Detroit Symphony musicians.

He has appeared as soloist with orchestras both in Europe and the United States under such conductors as Paul Paray and Leonard Bernstein.

Dr. Gerald Straka, chairman of the faculty committee which arranged the series, said the audience "will be so thoroughly entertained that they won't know or care that the program is an intellectual affair as well."

Admission price for the public will be $1, with MSUO students, faculty and staff admitted free.

It requires an investment of at least $8,000 to create a job for an average worker in an industrial plant.

Lightweight Steel Will Make Future Cars Stronger

DETROIT (UPI) — Lightweight, high-strength steels, used hitherto mainly in building and railway cars, will make automobiles of the future stronger and lighter, Vice President M. W. Lightner of U.S. Steel Corp. said Thursday.

Lightner told the American Society of Body Engineers that 30 strong, low-alloy steels with yield strengths of 45,000 to 50,000 pounds per square inch are now available to auto builders compared with the carbon steels of 20,000 to 30,000 pounds per square inch strength the industry is now using.

Some of these steels have been used in bumpers for years with great success, Lightner said. In the future, they will be used in auto frames and bodies with savings not only in weight but in cost, and the resulting cars will be safer, he said.

Predicts High Taxes if Kennedy's Elected

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—The election of Sen. John F. Kennedy as president would destroy business confidence and would lead the nation into higher taxes or inflation, Secretary of Commerce Frederick H. Mueller said Wednesday night.

Mueller told newsmen in an interview that the platform on which Kennedy is running "has as its philosophy increased spending by the government." He said the spending could be achieved only by raising taxes or going further into debt.

Professor Emeritus Dies in Ann Arbor Hospital

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Prof. Emeritus Alfred H. Love of the University of Michigan died Thursday at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital at the age of 76.

Love, former chairman of the department of electrical engineering, joined the Michigan faculty in 1911 and served continuously until his retirement in 1954.

Despite the fact that the paint industry has developed literally thousands of colors for its products, white remains the favorite for home exteriors, accounting for 50.11 per cent of the house paint sold last year. There's Still a Chance for Rock 'n' Roll Music

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — You remember the big funeral for rock 'n' roll about a year ago? Nobody cried at the services. When the mourners said, "O'ye Rock," they also muttered, "Good riddance."

WILSON

I've just been interviewing the new boy in charge of producing his songs at Columbia Records, and he confessed he's launching a worldwide hunt for rock 'n' roll.

"I don't foresee the end of it," said the well-known Hollywoodian and Broadwayite Frank De Vol, composer, arranger, actor and one-man band, out of good old Canton, Ohio. "We want these young people," unblushingly and unhesitatingly declared Frank De Vol.

"That's part of my new assignment . . . and I don't apologize, because rock 'n' roll, or rhythm-and-blues, is a native American thing . . ."

I gather that when bearded Mitch Miller ran the Pop Department at Columbia, they were long on "quality records." But "Rock" impolitely lived on, and Columbia, anxious to have its rightful slice, said to Frank Vol:

"Get in there and grab those kid record-buyers for Columbia — you can do it, boy!"

A great song producer himself, he got an Oscar nomination for scoring "Pillow Talk." He's a saxophonist, violinist, clarinetist, flutist, trumpeter and singer.

"We'd be giving them the great masters . . . and they wanted the comic pages," he says.

"We can't take Doris Day and Tony Bennett and give them rock 'n' roll because it's degrading to them."

Frank understands singing. When he left Canton, to go with Emerson Gili's orchestra in Cleveland, he notified his mother he was going to be heard on radio one night.

"Mother told me she loved it, so when I sang my number she leaned her head on the radio and she could feel the vibrations of her son singing."

"Which I really loved, because it was Pinky Hunter not, me, who sang that song."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Pat Nixon's lost eleven pounds on the campaign trail . . . Lawrence Welk Jr.'s dating an Indian beauty, Delphi Cornflower . . .

Diahann Carroll went to Paris to do "Paris Blues" with Paul Newman; her baby and her mother follow next month.

EARL'S PEARLS: Jack Waldron describes a second-rate hotel he once visited: "Everything was cold but the ice water."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Steve Lawrence has this neat re-jumper to Eydie Gorme at the Copa: "Darling, for the very first time in life, you're wrong again."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: There's one thing to be said for politicians on TV—they can't promise you any more than the average sponsor does.
