New State Traffic Slaughter?

Cold Means Fun for These Kids

SLIPPERY BUSINESS — It's not hard to tie the strings of your skates on the ice—as long as someone else is holding you up. Janet Jackson, 44 Seminole Ave., ties the knot while Pat Gentry, 127 Mark Ave., makes sure that her friend doesn't take a spill. Scenes like this are taking place at rinks of the Parks & Recreation Dept. throughout the city.

WEIGHING THE QUESTION — Jerry Kenney of 239 State St. doesn't know what he'll do next. On one hand, there's schoolwork to be done. But, then again, the ice is fine for skating and a fellow doesn't know if he'll get another chance like this one.

Failers Get 2nd Chance at MSUO

Michigan State University Oakland freshmen who failed fall term courses are getting a second chance to make the grade.

Dr. Robert G. Hoopes, dean of the faculty, has told the student body that students will have a chance to "wipe out" all failing grades given during the term.

* * *

Whatever a student's grade average, no student was "washed out" of the university at the end of the term, he said.

Students who received failing marks can erase them by repeating and passing the courses during the winter term. The passing grade will go on the books.

The policy is a one-time-only decision of the faculty, Dr. Hoopes said.

The decision, Dr. Hoopes explained, was made because of MSUO's "abnormal situation." He said the factors leading to the decision were the lack of "equipoise" between academic and residential life, the lack of upperclassmen, and the fact that the faculty is new.

Broomfield Strong on Ford's Chances

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Oakland County) said today he believes his Michigan colleague, Rep. Gerald R. Ford Jr., will be a contender for the Republican vice presidential nomination.

Broomfield said Michigan Republicans are "doing their utmost" to line up supporters for Ford and they are getting results.

"Meetings and conferences are being held and the movement is gaining momentum," Broomfield said. "We are mighty pleased with the progress . . .

"I am reasonably sure he will get considerable support when they tally up the votes at the convention."

Ford made no mention of the movement in his first newsletter issued during the session of Congress which began Wednesday.

FAA Brings Out Four New Rules for Safe Flying

From Our News Wires

The Federal Aviation Agency, on the heels of an airliner crash which killed 34, today spread a net of edicts it hopes will make air travel safer in America.

Apparently alarmed by one of the nation's worst air traffic safety records in history and the fatal crash of a National Airlines plane Wednesday, only the sixth day of 1960, the FAA:

1. Warned that jet airliners are being flown too fast for safety "with a frequency which is alarming."

2. Tightened rules on controlling in-flight drinking.

3. Ordered installation of storm-warning radar on nearly all airliners by Jan. 1, 1962.

4. Denied that strict pilot proficiency tests are harmful and "may eventually lead to failure" of an airliner.

The FAA said in its warning on jets that high speeds tend to weaken the plane's structure.

The agency, in a notice to regional administrators Friday, said a jet plane nosing over into a descent can easily exceed the load limits of the plane's design, unless the pilot reduces power and watches his speed indicator closely.

The FAA said some pilots don't understand fully the differences between jets and the old piston-engine craft.

The FAA said improved pilot training and education may provide an answer to the problem.

The agency is prohibiting airlines from serving liquor to passengers who are "high" in the sky.

NO NIPPING

Under the new rules, passengers are not allowed to nip from their own bottles and the airline stewardesses are barred from serving

Nixon 'Willing' Candidate Now

OKs Primary Election Calls in Oregon, Ohio, New Hampshire

Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's press secretary, told a news conference that the vice president had been asked for permission to enter his name in the Oregon, Ohio and New Hampshire primaries.

"He answered willingly that he would approve these actions," Klein said.

CONCORD, N.H. (AP)—New Hampshire Republicans — who four years ago gave Vice President Richard M. Nixon a stunning write-in tribute — celebrated his 47th birthday today by entering his name in the nation's first presidential primary of 1960.

Led by Gov. Wesley Powell, leaders of the Nixon-for-President Committee filed nomination petitions to place the vice president's name in the preference poll section of the March 8 New Hampshire ballot.

Whether Nixon would let it stay was the big question. He has 10 days in which to withdraw. Otherwise his name will go on the ballot.

HOPES IT'S ACCEPTABLE

Powell told Nixon in a letter he hopes New Hampshire's birthday gift will be "acceptable to you."

Acceptance of his entry in the New Hampshire popularity poll would amount to a public declaration Nixon is seeking the nomination.

In Washington, Nixon took to-

Motorists Note: Snow and Rain Forecast Sunday

A forecast of snow mixed with rain should serve as warning to Pontiac area residents who plan to be driving on Sunday.

* * *

With skies mostly cloudy tonight and tomorrow, snow and rain are predicted for the next couple of days. Temperatures will range from 22 to 26 tonight, with a high of 30 to 35 degrees on Sunday.

Temperatures yesterday hit a low of 16 degrees and rose to a high of 33.

Winds this morning were east-southeast at 8 miles per hour.

Charged With Beating 2 in Kohler Strike, Gives Statement Here

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP)—William P. Vinson, a former organizer for the United Auto Workers Union, says he will resist attempts to extradite him to Wisconsin for prosecution on a charge of beating up two Kohler Co. employes at Sheboygan Falls in 1954.

* * *

Vinson, 32, who is now a painter in the Chrysler Corp. Vernor plant in Detroit, was arraigned yesterday on a fugitive warrant in Justice of the Peace Court. He was freed on $500 bond pending a formal request from Wisconsin's Gov. Gaylord Nelson for extradition.

Vinson made a formal statement yesterday to Oakland County Prosecutor, George F. Taylor, but through his attorney objected to being arraigned in Oakland. He then was taken to Macomb.

Although Vinson said he will fight extradition, UAW Attorney Nicholas J. Rothe said, "We may waive. I don't know that there is anything to be gained by stringing this out."

* * *

The UAW struck the Kohler plumbingware plant five and one-half years ago. The strike is still going on, but the plant is operating. The UAW has spent more than 10 million dollars financing the strike.

* * *

Vinson served a 13-month term in a Wisconsin prison for beating a Kohler employe in a bar during the early days of the strike.

* * *

Wisconsin authorities said they had evidence to support a new warrant against Vinson charging him with beating William Bersch Sr. and his son William Jr. at Sheboygan Falls July 4, 1954.

The elder Bersch died a year later and his son charged the beating was largely responsible. The death certificate attributed it to a heart ailment.

Two other men are serving prison terms after having been convicted in the Bersch beating. They are John Gunaca of Detroit and Nick Vrckovic of Sheboygan.

Was Death Gun Torn From Barbara Finch?

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Was the pistol that killed Barbara Jean Finch snatched from her own hand?

The autopsy surgeon who described how a pistol shot killed Mrs. Finch acknowledged Friday—under cross-examination—that a small wound on her right hand could have been caused when a pistol was wrenched from her grasp.

Dr. R. Bernard Finch's attorney borrowed an unloaded revolver from a sheriff's deputy to show the court how he thought one of a score of wounds on her body could have been caused.

* * *

The handsome physician hasn't yet told his version of what happened the night his wife was killed.

Does his attorney's contention about the pistol mean Dr. Finch will say he grabbed the pistol from his wife—and that her death was accidental?

'LOT MORE QUESTIONS'

* * *

"We have a lot more questions for Dr. Ridge."

It was Dr. Gerald K. Ridge who testified what his autopsy on Mrs. Finch showed.

He said she suffered more

Custodian Gets Insurance Firm

Surety Co. Is Broke, Says Blackford, but Ex-Head Fights Back

LANSING (UPI)—The fate of a multimillion dollar insurance company, once licensed to operate in 43 states, was in the hands of Michigan Insurance Commissioner Frank Blackford today.

* * *

Blackford said the Michigan Surety Co., Lansing, was broke as shown by audits of his company and an independent firm.

* * *

But Mark H. Kroll, 35, Cincinnati, Ohio, former president of the firm and executive of several other insurance companies, accused Blackford of "trying to kill" the company.

"There's a story so big behind all this all you are seeing is the window dressing," Kroll told newsmen he called to a session in a Lansing hotel last night.

"I don't know what it is," he said, "You find yourself all of a sudden condemned and convicted."

Wilson Meatpackers Tense Over Bombing

ALBERTA LEA, Minn. (UPI)—A nonunion meatpacking worker's home was bombed last night and the victim said the violent Wilson & Co. strike "is getting to be as bad as Hungary."

* * *

Two other non-strikers reported that 13 windows were broken in their home during the night. Both said the windows were smashed simultaneously, apparently by large sticks, indicating several persons participated in the vandalism.

* * *

The crude, homemade gasoline bomb caused minor damage to the colonial-style home of Frank Seidl, who said he has worked 10 years at the Wilson plant here without joining a union.

Seidl and his family were away when the bomb was thrown against the side of the house. No one was injured.

"This is the work of a bunch of goons," Seidl said, "but they can't scare me. I'm going back to work Monday."

Apparently the bombings, beatings and death threats which have punctuated the bitter 70-day strike had other Albert Lea residents scared, though.

One homeowner in Seidl's neighborhood reported that "tonight everybody was carrying guns and they looked like they might use them."

"The atmosphere is tense," Don Franz, news director at radio station KATE said. "Nobody knows exactly what's going to happen next.

"Some people have expressed a fear that somebody is going to be killed before this is over," Franz said.

Overworked, undermanned squads of policemen and sheriff's deputies have been fighting to quell the violence which has struck Albert Lea and surrounding Freeborn County since National Guard troops left town.

* * *

The guardsmen were ordered to close the plant Dec. 11 after two days of rioting on picket lines which were set up Oct. 29 when the United Packinghouse Workers of America (UPWA) struck Wilson plants across the nation.

The plant reopened under federal court order and the Guardsmen left town last week. Since then, the wave of violence has mounted daily.

Tuscola County Two-Car Crash Takes 3 Lives

Priest Is Crushed When His Auto Misses Curve Near Kalamazoo

The state, still under the onus of a nation-pacing 32 deaths during the New Year holiday last weekend, fearfully counted five traffic victims in the early hours of the new weekend.

In the Tuscola County crash, sheriff's deputies said the victims were all killed at the scene on the Bay City-Forestville road three miles west of Unionville.

* * *

Victims were the Rev. Otto Koenig, 48, his wife, Betty Jane, 32, and young Karl Mark Borodycuk, all of Unionville. Police said the boy was returning from a high school basketball game when his car swerved into the path of the Koenig vehicle.

The Kalamazoo fatality was the sixth in eight days.

In that accident, the Rev. John D. Hamilton, 41, Catholic priest of Battle Creek, was crushed to death when his car missed a curve on U.S. 12 near the expressway, and overturned.

William Clement Feld, 44, of Battle Creek, was tossed from Father Hamilton's car and seriously injured. He is in Borgess Hospital in Kalamazoo. That accident occurred just before midnight.

Duane B. Ownings, 29, Flint, died when his car rolled over after missing a curve in Flint Township at 2:45 this morning.

Bus Troubles to Be Studied

Williams Promises to Appoint Group to Work on Relief Measures

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams has promised to name a committee to study ways of easing the financial distress of local bus companies, the manager of the Michigan Motor Bus Assn. reported.

Carl S. Buchanan said the governor expressed sympathy for bus firms which are caught in a squeeze between declining patronage and rising costs of operation.

National City Lines, Inc., which operates buses in Pontiac, Saginaw and Kalamazoo, has been locked in a strike for a month.

The 38 members of Pontiac Local 1097 of the Amalgamated Assn. of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes Union, AFL, are asking for 22-cent-an-hour package increase.

The bus company so far has offered a 7-cent-an-hour package, saying it can't afford more.

Buchanan, in an interview with Williams yesterday, had urged that immediate tax relief be granted the companies for a specific period of time.

Recent legislatures have voted for such relief from state motor fuel and weight taxes. The bills were vetoed by the governor.

The plight of two bus firms, Buchanan said, was typical of the difficulties facing the entire industry in Michigan.

He noted that Intertown Suburban Bus Lines, serving 14 cities and villages, is up for sale with no takers.

And he reported that Great Lakes Transit Bus Lines has taken 46 buses out of service in the past year in its Wyandotte, Birmingham and Mount Clemens divisions. This, he added, cost the state $61,000 in weight and fuel taxes and left 67 drivers and maintenance men jobless.

2nd Royal Oak Twp. Goodfellow Guilty

A second Royal Oak Township police officer was found guilty yesterday of stealing Goodfellow funds while the same charge against an ousted township fireman was dismissed for lack of evidence.

Both cases were heard by visiting Justice of the Peace James Lawson of Farmington yesterday.

He found ex-patrolman Ernest Wilson, 29, guilty of keeping some of the funds he collected to provide Christmas gifts to needy children and fined him $50 or 10 days in jail.

Charges were dismissed against ex-fireman Annia Ruffin, 40.

According to Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor Donald A. Brown, evidence was insufficient to convict Ruffin inasmuch as he had allegedly received only one dollar bill, which did not show up among money turned into the fund at the end of the day.

* * *

The bills had been marked with powder by state police who arrested 12 men following collections and charged them with keeping the bills.

Wilson was convicted of stealing five of the marked one dollar bills. He is the second of eight firemen and policemen charged with the Goodfellow thefts Dec. 14 to be found guilty.

Ex-Police Chief William Ware was convicted earlier. All but two of the eight men have been tried.

All were fired by the Township Board following their arrests, and are seeking return to their posts through the township's Civil Service Board.

Among the other four men arrested were a township constable and three citizens, one of whom pleaded guilty at the time of his arraignment.

Ousted fireman Edward Tonnant and patrolman William Boyd are scheduled for trial Wednesday. Their attorney, Milton Menry of Pontiac, has demanded jury trials for the two men.

Detroit Blaze Kills 2, Injures 2

95 Firemen Hampered by High Winds, Ice at Apartment

DETROIT (AP) — Two men perished and two other persons were hurt in a fire that swept an apartment building on the lower west side about 2 a.m. today.

* * *

TRUMBULL AND LAFAYETTE

The dead men, burned beyond recognition, were identified tentatively as Alex Paquette, 65, and Arthur Edwards, 75. Both lived on the third floor.

than 20 wounds—ranging from the fatal pistol shot to two skull fractures and an assortment of lacerations, bruises and abrasions.

The state contends Dr. Finch and Miss Tregoff came to the $65,000-Finch home in suburban West Covina last summer to carry out a plot to slay Mrs. Finch so the doctor and Miss Tregoff wouldn't have to share an estimated $750,000 in community property with her.

* * *

Dr. Ridge said he believed Mrs. Finch suffered a skull fracture in the family garage—where blood was found on her car and the garage floor.

He said she apparently was shot after she fled from the garage—possibly she ran down a flight of steps to a neighbor's lawn.

Says Bender Quit His Teamster Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former Ohio Sen. George H. Bender was reported today to have resigned quietly his job as chairman of the Teamsters Union's Anti-Rackets Commission.

* * *

Bender has declined to confirm or deny publicly that he has resigned, but he is known to have disclosed it privately to friends.

He apparently is leaving the Teamsters preliminary to his plan to run in the Ohio May primary for delegate-at-large to the National Republican Convention.

* * *

Bender's resignation from the highly-paid post with the 1½ million-member union was reported earlier in a Washington dispatch of the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Drinking Curb, Radar Two of 4 FAA Rules

alcoholic beverages to persons who "appear to be intoxicated."

Violators will be subject to a fine of up to $1,000. The new airborne drinking regulations take effect March 10.

The FAA said its new drinking rule does not require the airlines to determine whether a passenger actually is drunk.

"Crew members may rely on the appearance of the passenger in determining whether or not to serve alcoholic beverages," it said.

The agency noted it already has a rule forbidding airlines to carry passengers who are "obviously under the influence of alcohol."

Several pilots and stewardesses have urged during various government hearings that cocktails aloft be barred or restricted. They complained that drunken passengers have endangered flights.

* * *

The radar edict that airlines equip their pure jet and turboprop planes with storm-warning radar by next July 1 and most others by Jan. 1, 1962.

The agency said most of the commercial airliners must be equipped with radar "which enables pilots to detect and avoid severe weather conditions."

It ordered that Douglas DC6s and DC7s and Lockheed Constellations have their radar by next Jan. 1. All other affected planes must be equipped by Jan. 1, 1962.

The FAA exempted Douglas DC3s, Curtiss C46s, Lockheed L18s, planes operating only in Hawaii and Alaska, cargo and training planes.

DENIES CHARGES

FAA Administrator Elwood R. Quesada has denied charges that FAA proficiency tests have damaged commercial aircraft.

In a statement, he said there was no evidence to support charges by National Airlines pilots that strict FAA proficiency tests are harmful "and may eventually lead to failure."

The pilots' protest was prompted by the Wednesday crash of a National airliner at Bolivia, N.C., where 34 persons were killed.

At Bolivia, National Guardsmen and Marines began tramping through woods and fields near here today in search of the two bodies still missing.

Thirty-two bodies were found and identified by late yesterday but earlier searches of the muddy field and farmlands where the airliner crashed failed to yield the bodies of Julian A. Frank, Westport, Conn., and Carlos Ramos Valdes, Havana, Cuba.

While the troops combed the area, Civil Aeronautics Board investigators methodically studied the wreckage of the plane which they said Friday definitely fell apart before striking the ground.

CAPTAIN IN CHARGE

A spokesman said last night, "We held meetings to discuss the FAA harassment program as long as three weeks ago.

"Plans are being formulated to lock FAA inspectors out of cockpits while we are flying passengers.

"We are within our rights, for the captain is in full command of the ship and anyone entering the cockpit must have his permission.

A mass of cool Canadian air spilled into the Upper Mississippi Valley and Great Lakes region dropping readings from 10 to 20 degrees lower than 24 hours before.

In the colder north, Duluth, Minn., has a temperature of four below zero at midnight compared to 12 above the midnight before. The greatest cooling came at Galdwin in lower Michigan where the mercury dropped to 12 from the 37 recorded Friday morning.

Cooler weather also was in store for the Pacific Northwest, the central Rockies and New England.

Precipitation was scarce. There were a few snow flurries in the Northeast and the northern Rockies. Northern California had rain.

State Police Rack Up 443,755 Miles

Pontiac area residents got 443,755 miles worth of protection and enforcement from Pontiac state police in 1959.

That's how many miles the local troopers drove last year policing the county.

Most of the mileage was in traffic patrol, which kept police cars busy for 14,456 hours on county highways.

According to Sgt. Lorenz Ahlgrim, commander of the Pontiac post, police cars drove 253,272 miles patrolling traffic and 45,248 miles answering traffic complaints.

There were 25 men stationed at the Pontiac Post as of Dec. 31, including 20 troopers, three corporals, one detective and the commander.

This is two less than it started 1959 with. The two were transferred to other posts.

The men worked a total of 7,226½ days. The staff worked a total of 66,188½ hours.

Troopers answered 4,338 complaints. Of the 6,949 arrests made by troopers during the past year, 6,477 were for traffic violations and 472 for criminal complaints.

On the area highways the troopers stopped 6,044 cars, issued 9,015 verbal warnings to traffic violators and assisted 2,815 motorists who had developed motor trouble, had blowouts, ran out of gas, or had some other problem.

Troopers handled 25,758 property inspections which included mostly checking of business places at night and the homes of persons who were on vacation, said Ahlgrim.

There also was a total of 1,970 liquor inspections made in 1959.

The post replaced six patrol cars with new models, keeping the 13-car road patrol in top running order. Troopers, who must get to their destination at top speeds frequently under poor road conditions, compiled an outstanding driving record.

Only two accidents were recorded for the year—one involving only minor property damage and the other occurring when a patrol car struck a deer that ran into its path.

A welcome addition to the post were 11 M-1 .30 caliber rifles, which bolstered the post's arsenal.

Birmingham Commissioner Being Sued

Carl F. Ingraham, Birmingham city commissioner and former mayor, is being sued in Circuit Court for $10,000 by a former client of his who claims the Birmingham attorney didn't file a suit fast enough.

Charles Mercer, 73, now of Florida, said while he was serving as a guard at a school crossing in Birmingham on Jan. 25, 1955, he was struck down by a car driven by Walter B. Archer. Mercer said he engaged Ingraham to initiate a damage suit which, he contends in his new suit, would have collected $10,000 in damages from Archer.

Because, he said, Ingraham was negligent in not filing the suit before the statute of limitations ran out, Mercer is now seeking the $10,000 from Ingraham.

Delegate candidates favorable to Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn), an announced seeker of the nomination, and Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo), who is available but not an avowed candidate, entered their names in the Democratic contest.

The truck sheared off the utility pole and pulled the wires snapping another nearby pole in half. Stasinski stayed in the cab until attendants could reach him. He was taken to Pontiac General Hospital for a checkup and released.

West Berlin Teachers Get Edict After 10,000 Anti-Nazis March

BERLIN (AP) — West Berlin school officials threatened today to crack down on teachers who refuse to tell their pupils the truth about Hitler and the Nazi era.

School Supt. Carl-Heinz Evers said his move was inspired by the recent wave of anti-Jewish acts, most of them carried out by youths who have had their schooling since World War II.

The move was a result of a demonstration by 10,000 Germans against hate-mongers and Nazism.

Evers told newsmen he intends to bring disciplinary action against any teacher who fails to give a correct picture of what the Nazis did. He also promised to prevent former Nazis from getting teaching jobs.

* * *

Half the teachers in West Berlin are over 45 and Evers said most of them were members of the Nazi party. Under a West German law, party members who had no serious charge against them are entitled to get back jobs they lost right after World War II.

"This," Evers said, "has brought us teachers we could have done without."

* * *

* * *

The anti-Nazi demonstration was the first staged in Germany since 1933, when Adolf Hitler rose to power.

Threat Flops; Store Manager Calls Police

An anonymous caller threatened to shoot the family of a Pontiac supermarket manager last night unless the manager paid him $3,000.

Sidney J. Winstanley, 81 Henry Clay St., was working at the Wrigley Store, 536 N. Perry St., when he received the phone call at 6:10 p.m.

The caller ordered Winstanley to leave a bag containing $3,000 on the fender of his car. He said that a confederate had a rifle trained on Winstanley's wife and children.

The Day in Birmingham

Auto Injuries Claim Life of 20-Year-Old Youth

BIRMINGHAM — A 20-year-old Birmingham youth injured in an automobile accident Nov. 28 died this morning at Wayne County General Hospital in Detroit.

* * *

John Bonds, son of Mrs. Katherine Bonds of 732 Pierce St., and Richard Bonds of Detroit, succumbed to brain injuries received as a passenger in a car which rammed into a tree along Ecorse road near Wayne road, southwest of Detroit.

The car was being driven by John Archer, 20, son of Mrs. Margaret Archer of 612 Gracefield Ct., Birmingham. The boys were on their way home from Detroit when they became lost, according to Mrs. Archer.

Archer was uninjured in the accident, Bonds was rushed to the hospital by Wayne County sheriff's deputies.

Approval to sell six city-owned lots will be asked of voters in the Spring election, City Clerk Irene Hanley announced today.

The lots are in the East Maple Garden Subdivision, just west of Coolidge road. Three of the lots are on Maple road, the others on Yorkshire road.

Six years ago approval to sell the lots was given by voters, but building restrictions were placed on the purchaser and the lots remained undeveloped.

The City Commission has now lifted the restrictions following a recommendation of the Planning Board.

Eliot Robinson, vice chairman of the Planning Board, said that now the restrictions have been rescinded "it would be very poor public relations to attempt to dispose of the lots without first going to the voters."

Mrs. Theodore Kelly, of 2885 N. Adams, has been installed as most excellent chief of Birmingham Temple No. 94 of the Pythian Sisters.

Mrs. John S. Lambie

Service for Mrs. John S. Lambie, 75, of 280 Aspen St., will be held at 10 a.m. Monday from St. James Episcopal Church. Burial will be in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery, Troy.

Mrs. Lambie died suddenly yesterday at her home following a short illness.

* * *

She was a past president of the Baldwin Library Board and a member of the Birmingham League of Women Voters, Friends of the Baldwin Public Library and the Nardin Park Methodist Church, Detroit.

Surviving besides her husband are four daughters, Mrs. John J. May, Mrs. Samuel T. Henderson, and Miss Roxan Lambie, all of Birmingham, and Mrs. U. M. Tsao of Ann Arbor; a son, John S. Lambie Jr. of Miami, Fla.; 14 grandchildren, three sisters, Mrs. J. J. Roura of Birmingham, Mrs. William H. Jackson of Birmingham and Mrs. James Milholland of Pittsburgh, and a brother, also of Pittsburgh.

Russia to Start Rocket Testing

Ships Patrolling Pacific Near Marshall Islands; Nations Warned

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Russian ships bristling with electronic gear cruised today near the Central Pacific region which Moscow has staked out as a rocket target area.

Russia asked other nations Thursday to keep their planes and ships out of a 45,000-square-mile area east of the Marshall Islands from Jan. 15 to Feb. 15 because they will fire powerful new rockets, designed for heavy satellite and planetary space missions, into the region to test their accuracy.

Some official sources here speculated that the tests mean Russia is preparing to put a man in space this year. One key U. S. space authority said, "I would be extremely alert, starting right now, for news that the Russians had put a man in a rocket."

The United States does not expect to put an astronaut into orbit until at least late 1961.

In Moscow, a Soviet government spokesman said today that the Pacific rocket test planned for later this month will have a target area 250 miles from American-owned Palmyra Atoll.

"It lies away from shipping lanes and islands," the spokesman said.

Police Seeking Body 'North of Detroit'

DETROIT (AP) — Police didn't have much to go on today in their efforts to find the body of a man who was supposed to have been shot to death and buried "somewhere north of Detroit."

A search was started yesterday after Gerald R. McKay, 23, told police that Carlo Vitale, 22, was killed accidentally on a ride to a hideout.

Police said Vitale has been missing three months. He is wanted on a robbery charge.

Two other children — 4 month-old twins — were critically burned. The mother of the eight youngsters, Mrs. Lionel Scott, also was hospitalized with burns.

Mrs. Scott was reported to have three other children.

Rep. DeMaso Says:

Juvenile Delinquency Bills Eyed for State

EAST LANSING (UP) — Nearly a score of bills designed to reverse a rising tide of juvenile delinquency will be filed with the 1960 Legislature, a Battle Creek Republican has predicted.

* * *

"There's been too much study and not enough action on the juvenile problem," Rep. Harry DeMaso said yesterday. "We've even got committees studying committees."

DeMaso, chairman of a legislative committee on juvenile delinquency, spoke at the opening session of a two-day meeting of the Michigan Probate and Juvenile Court Judges Assn.

He said many of the bills will attempt to clear up confusion in the juvenile code.

* * *

"Law enforcement authorities have appeared before our committee and admitted they don't know what to do with juveniles," he said.

"There's disagreement even over whether they can hold a juvenile overnight."

CALLS FOR AGENCY

DeMaso said the most important bill his committee will back calls for creation of an agency to deal exclusively with juvenile problems. He said the lack of such a master agency has been a handicap and resulted in overlapping studies.

(Earlier this week, a special committee named by Gov. Williams recommended creation of a state advisory board on delinquency.)

Other new bills DeMaso said will be introduced would:

* * *

1. Set up a state conservation camp for youthful offenders. A similar measure proposed last year got lost in the tax fight. If this happens to the new bill, DeMaso recommended that the judges try to promote such camps in local communities or counties.

2. Take 16-year-old traffic offenders out of the Probate Court, putting them in Traffic Court where they would be treated as adults and be subject to penalty points for conviction on moving violations.

DeMaso scored local county organizations, law enforcement agencies and probate judges for "not facing up to the juvenile problem." He compared the problem to a disease, with officials saying: "We've got it but we don't like to go to the doctor."

Must Pay $500 for Destroying Dog Too Quickly

BEULAH (UP) — A Circuit Court jury yesterday ordered Benzie County to pay William Forrester $500 damages for destroying his hunting dog.

Forrester, who valued the mixed breed basset-beagle hound at $1,500, sued for $1,500. He charged that dog warden William Slaughter seized the dog and had it killed before the end of the three-day wait fixed by law.

Slaughter testified he picked up the hound last August at Benzie State Park on complaints that it was a stray and creating a nuisance. He said it was killed the day after he picked it up.

* * *

Forrester said the hound got loose from his cottage near the park while the family was away.

About 90 per cent of all household goods moving is by motor trucks.

Manville Meets Marital Mess

9th Wife Claims She May Not Be Divorced; He's Ready for No. 11

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Tommy Manville's ninth wife says their divorce may not have been legal. And Tommy's about to marry No. 11.

Anita Roddy-Eden says she has paid $27,000 to an unknown blackmailer in the last two years because of an irregularity in her Reno, Nev., divorce from Manville.

Now married to actor John Sutton, she told the Los Angles Herald-Express she had not fulfilled residence requirements before getting her divorce on Sept. 13, 1955.

Manville, in New York, said his lawyers tell him he is "in the clear" and free to marry Christina Erdlen, a White Plains, N.Y. waitress, as planned next Monday.

TOLD TO BE MUM

Mrs. Sutton said she went to Reno last Tuesday intending to clarify the situation by establishing residence but was advised not to reopen the case.

"I was told that if I reopend the case I might be prosecuted for perjury," she said. "Everyone has advised me to be quiet but John says that we must straighten the thing out."

"I will not have her living any longer under the threat of blackmail," Sutton said.

Arson Suspected

New Fire at Murder Site

WESTUHALIA (UP)—Investigators said today arson is suspected in the second fire in less than a year to hit the Vincent Hengesbach farm —site of an unsolved murder in 1958.

In both cases Hengesbach was reported to have received threatening notes before the fires broke out.

Hengesbach's 63-year-old stepmother Anna was found beaten to death in a cornfield behind the farm home Sept. 8, 1958. He was charged with her murder but freed after a mistrial was declared when the jury reportedly split down the middle.

The home near this Clinton County community was destroyed by fire last March. An investigation failed to fix the cause.

Yesterday a combination barn and toolshed on the farm burned to the ground, destroying equipment, grain, hay, five cows and some chickens.

"We suspect arson at this time—the fire was of a very suspicious nature," said State Trooper Ralph Warnstrom of the Fire Marshall Division.

Deputy Sheriff Hillary Hasner agreed, saying, "The circumstances were suspicious, but we haven't uncovered anything yet."

Hengesbach's attorney, Tim Green, said his client found a threatening note in the toolshed Thursday. He said a similar note had been found before the farm home was destroyed by fire.

Warnstrom said the contents of the latest note would not be released until it has been analyzed by police experts.

Police Raid Ring in N. Y. Terminal

NEW YORK (AP)—Police have raided a bookie ring operating in Grand Central Terminal and handling an estimated $10,000 a day in bets.

Arrested Friday were eight persons, seven of them Grand Central employes working as porters clerks, sweepers, stock men or car men. Authorities confiscated 20,000 betting slips.

They said the ring operated out of the lower-level employes' locker room. The men allegedly took bets from commuters and railroad workers.

Epiphany of Lights Slated at St. Mary-in-the-Hills

A Epiphany of Lights service will be held in St. Mary's in-the-Hills Episcopal Church, 2512 Joslyn Rd., at 7:30 Sunday evening. The Rev. F. Plummer Whipple, vicar of St. Alfred Episcopal Church at Lake Orion, will preach.

* * *

At 7:30 the church will be darkened and the gospel candle lighted on the altar. The prophecy from the 60th chapter of the Book of Isaiah in the Old Testament will be read from the back of the church.

The lights will then go on and a service of evening prayer and sermon will be conducted.

Members and friends will receive candles as they enter the building. At the close of the service, lights will again be extinguished and other candles lighted from the gospel candle.

The final hymn of the service will be sung as the choir, clergy and congregation proceed down the aisle and through the narthex of the church.

* * *

The congregation will go out into the night with candles lighted, symbolizing the fact that all Christians are charged with taking the light of the gospel of Jesus Christ into a dark world.

The congregation will hold the annual dinner meeting at 6:30 p.m. Friday in the church undercroft. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Harley Davidson or the church office.

Five new members will be elected to the vestry, replacing outgoing vestrymen, Clayton Leach, Harley Davidson, C. Fred Hancock, Ursal Meeker and William Wilmot.

Besides the business session, a movie, "In Such a Time," depicting life in a seminary and the decision of a young man to go into the ministry, will be shown.

* * *

The first week beginning tomorrow is arranged for women with a solemn opening. The women's week will close Saturday.

Starting Jan. 17, Masses are slated for men of the congregation. Weekday Mass will be at 6:30, 7:15, and 8 a.m. and noon.

WHY REVEREND DOES NOT APPEAR IN THIS ARTICLE

In the following articles I shall give attention to many questions which are constantly asked regarding spiritual things. The question with which I shall deal at this time is "WHY REVEREND DOES NOT APPEAR IN THIS ARTICLE." Today many people accept existing traditional practices as though they were Bible commandments or Scripturally Authorized without taking time to actually search the pages of the Bible to see, "whether those things were so" Acts 17:11. I am convinced this is true in this capacity. Most people seem to think if an individual is considered a preacher he should be referred to as REVEREND. SUCH IS NOT BASED UPON SCRIPTURAL AUTHORITY AND IS WHOLLY WITHOUT THE APPROVAL OF OUR LORD. Hear the Lord as he speaks regarding religious titles, "And love the uppermost rooms at feasts and the chief seats in the synagogues and greeting in the markets and to be called of men, Rabbi, Rabbi. But be not ye called Rabbi; for one is your Master, even Christ; and all YE ARE BRETHREN (caps are mine). And call no man your father upon the earth: for one is your Father which is in heaven. Neither be ye called masters: for one is your Master, even Christ. But he that is greatest among you SHALL BE YOUR SERVANT. (caps are mine). Matt. 23:6-11. In view of these verses it should be perfectly clear to all who are seekers of truth that our Lord is condemning pride, love of preeminence, the wearing of ecclesiastical titles and clerical names. How a true follower of the Christ can deliberately disobey Christ in this area and still claim to be justified is foreign to me. Is it not strange to you that the apostles of our Lord never wore such religious titles as: Master, Father, Reverend, Most Holy Bishop, His Eminence, His Excellence and your Highest. Reverend DOES NOT APPEAR IN THIS ARTICLE BECAUSE, 1. The writer IS ENDEAVORING TO SPEAK WHERE THE BIBLE SPEAKS, and he cannot do so and call himself REVEREND. 2 There is not a Bible example to be found approving such. 3. There is not a single passage which commands such. 4. It would be SINFUL, for "whatsoever is not of faith is sin" Rom. 14:23. A few questions are in order for your serious consideration. 1. If such titles are to be worn, WHY DID NOT THE APOSTLES WEAR THEM? 2. IF SUCH TITLES ARE TO BE WORN, WHY DID NOT THE PREACHERS OF THE FIRST CENTURY WEAR THEM? 3. IF SUCH TITLES ARE TO BE WORN, ARE ALL WHO PREACH TO WEAR THEM? 4. IF SUCH TITLES ARE TO BE WORN, ARE WOMEN PREACHERS?? TO WEAR THEM, OR JUST THE MEN? 5. IF SUCH TITLES ARE TO BE WORN, WHY DO NOT SUCH TITLES APPEAR IN OUR BIBLES. Friends, these questions cannot be answered by the Word of God. Why will men do that which they know is questionable, could it be because they do not respect the Lord who said, "AND ALL YE ARE BRETHREN" Matt. 23:8. Our Lord says, "And whoso ever shall exalt himself shall be abased; and he that shall humble himself shall be exalted Matt. 23:12. BELIEVETH THOU THIS?

Happily, Dwight D. Eisenhower is more restrained in his enthusiasm than some of the minor prophets, and yet he foresees a plenteous economic period ahead.

Also, the President lays great stress on our military might. At no time does he use the word "invincible," but he makes it clear that any nation which attacks the United States can wreak terrible damage; but the consequence to the attacking power would be annihilation in part. The President's own words are: "a terrible destruction." However, he predicates our position upon the conviction that we keep our military forces at top levels.

We are particularly strong in armed bombers and "nuclear submarines with deadly Polaris missiles," and these are a terrible and potent force for devastation. Our Atlas activities at 5,000 miles have found us hitting within two miles of our target, or as the President puts it, "less than the length of a jet runway, which places everything within the range of total destruction."

These are terrible words and they paint a ghastly picture, but the belligerence of a single country on this globe makes it an absolute necessity.

★ ★ ★

At the same time, the President expressed an honest hope that the intercontinental visits of late 1959 had actually paved the way for better understanding and a better feeling between the great nations. We have become more acquainted and you don't dislike the people you know well. Eisenhower seeks to "break the calamitous cycle, which if unchecked, could spiral into nuclear disaster—the ultimate insanity."

★ ★ ★

He foresees a "record prosperity" for the United States in 1960—a year of peace and plenty. In fact, this theme will probably become the Republican battle cry in the 1960 presidential campaign and the concomitant races. It will be a tough one to buck as contented people are willing to string along with the governmental heads that are in power.

★ ★ ★

He expressed one hope that should have universal consideration. The President wants both sides in labor negotiations to become better acquainted away from the bargaining table. He believes a more friendly understanding will prevail and normal questions will be resolved more easily.

★ ★ ★

Generally, his legislative program follows along lines already indicated and there are no new startling commitments. The President asserted that his state of the union message merely outlined general policies and that the details would be forthcoming in the message accompanying his annual budget. This promises a four billion surplus and that fact is greeted with skepticism or applause depending upon your personal viewpoint.

It was a forthright talk.

Voted 3, Spent 5 . . . .

On Thursday, The Press printed a letter in the Voice of The People protesting against the expenditure of five million dollars in City funds for enlarging and equipping the hospital when the voters only approved three million in a bond issue.

This means two million dollars has been spent beyond the amount voted.

The balance has been arbitrarily taken from current funds over a period of several years. In effect it amounts to confiscation of available money which was for "general purposes" and not "General Hospital purposes."

★ ★ ★

The letter writer suggested several other civic improvements in which he was more interested. They were primary essentials and he believed the sum total of them outweighs the immediacy of the hospital requirements. One small pressure group shouldn't demand a disproportionate amount of the available money just for its own purpose.

★ ★ ★

The Press feels the Commissioners and the Manager erred in this practical seizure of available funds over a period of several years. I certainly favor as good a hospital as we can afford — but it must come with justice toward all the City's needs. The City fathers seem to flaunt the wishes of the people who originally turned the deal down and then approved it after a second campaign and a second vote. Most of us thought then — and do now — that this was a clear-cut mandate.

★ ★ ★

To keep the record clear, The Press just gave $1,500 to help purchase a piece of equipment that Dr. John Marra felt important. This in itself shows we believe in hospitals completely. But everything — even a hospital—has its proper niche in the scheme of affairs.

And in Conclusion . . . .

TWA has scheduled regular jet flights from New York to Los Angeles in five hours and 55 minutes . . . . The Queen has turned another cold shoulder on the Duke of Windsor's request that she recognize Wally . . . . Look for Stuart Symington's headgear to land in the ring at the Democratic dinner in Boston, January 23 . . . . Leonard Hall, former GOP national chairman, will mastermind Nixon's campaign . . . . Experts advise me (and submit photographic proof) that Mary Beth Wyss deserves mention as one of the area's most attractive girls. Nomination accepted and proof hereby submitted . . . . To refresh your memory, here's the climactic paragraph of William Jennings Bryan's famous speech at the 1896 Democratic convention. It was greeted with tumultuous applause and a thundering ovation which resulted in his nomination:

> "Having behind us the producing masses of this nation and the world, supported by the commercial interests, the laboring interests, and the toilers everywhere, we will answer their (Bryan's opponents') demand for a gold standard by saying to them, 'You shall not press down upon the brow of labor this crown of thorns; you shall not crucify mankind upon this cross of gold'."

Al Girard and I badgered each other into a weight reducing program. Each must lose 15 pounds or pay a hundred smackers. (Personly, I'd practically die of starvation before I'd hand banker Alfred that kind of sugar) . . . . Add to the vice presidential possibilities on the GOP ticket: Arthur S. Flemming . . . . Overheard at the supermarket: "TV is certainly educational. My kid has learned to count up to channel nine." . . . . Floyd Miles again is sending out his really individual New Year cards . . . . Bookies say Baltimore dragged a million dollars out of Gotham on the pro football playoff — an all-time record.

The following want ad appeared in the N. Y. Herald Tribune: "Notice is hereby given that my dear wife has purchased another driver's permit. The guided missile is a gray '56 Chevrolet. Everybody please exercise extreme caution." . . . . TV is having many musical commercials done abroad, it's so much cheaper. Local 802 of the Musicians Union bought a quarter of a page ad in the New York Times and protested, as many U.S. musicians are losing the work . . . . CBS promises its January 31st "Fabulous Fifties" will be a doozy.

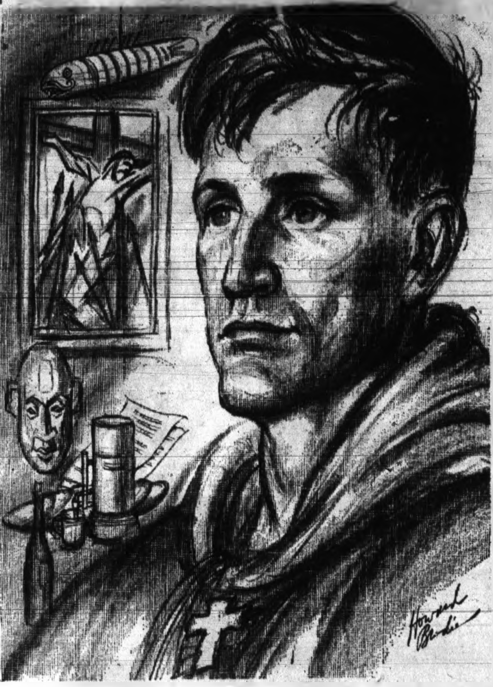
The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie



Just recently I visited a young Congregational minister, Pierre Delattre, who lives with his wife and children in Beatnikland, on San Francisco's North Beach. Of course, Beatniks are no strangers to San Francisco; the very term originated here.

"Beats are composed of three groups," he told me. "These are the social rebels, the mentally ill and creative persons."

Pierre, whose clerical "robes" are a sweatshirt and a cross, believes that creativity should be an act of love, and that the responsible artist or writer who faces existence with courage and love conveys them to others.

Soon after he moved into the district he invited six Beats to dinner. More came the following week. Today as many as 200 attend activities in his Bread and Wine mission. Activities there range from group therapy meetings conducted by a psychiatrist to poetry readings. Pierre gives himself exhaustively, spending time with those who need him, whether the man be an artist, an addict or a would-be suicide.

"Sometimes when tired I get discouraged," he said. "It is then I realize how much faith can strengthen me."

Plowers Really Milked Christmas

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Still harping on the subject of the Twelve Days of Christmas, here is another evidence of how important those days were in olden times. The 12 days were a complete holiday—hardly any work was done. Monday we are at Plow Monday five days after the Christmas season has ended, and the day the farmers finally stopped stalling and got back to work.

★ ★ ★

They should have resumed plowing Jan. 7, but that could always be put off by waiting until the following Sunday to get the plows blessed before using them. Then on Monday, maybe you could string it out a little longer by making a celebration of the day you went back to work.

If the calendar fell just right, with the Christmas season ending on a Sunday, you could squeeze another eight days and make it the 20, instead of the 12 days of Christmas.

So, the Sunday after January 6 (Epiphany) was Plow Sunday, with all the beribboned plows lined up in front of the church for the priest's blessing. And the next day was Plow Monday, with the plows all blessed and ready to go but the operators still lingering over a final bowl of punch.

★ ★ ★

WHY A SAINT?

Something seems to be missing in the story of St. Felix of Nola. You read some fairly interesting material about how he was a great help and comfort to his bishop in the third century, and then 100 years later you find people making a shrine of his tomb and flocking to it for all sorts of cures. The effect seems so much greater than the cause that we are bound to feel there is a lot we don't know.

Felix lived near Naples. While he was still a young man his father died, leaving a considerable estate to him and his younger brother. Felix, however, did not care about such matters. He gave away his share and went to the bishop, a man named Maximus, seeking ordination.

Maximus ordained Felix and also took a great liking to him. In fact, the bishop became unusually dependent on his young priest. When in 250, Maximus had to hide from the persecutions of the Emperor Decius, he turned the diocese over to Felix.

The story of this saint is just one of being in and out of prison. There are some miracles associated with him, but they are not very imaginative. They are not the sort of thing that captures people's minds and hearts, or makes him sound any more saintly than the average run-of-the-mine Christian in those days.

When Maximus died Felix was elected bishop, but he talked the people into accepting a man named Quintus instead.

It was not until Paulinus became bishop in the middle of the fourth century that Felix began to be known. It was Paulinus who dug up all the stories about him and who made his shrine so popular.

All this is so local and so long ago that one cannot help wondering why Felix today gets so much space in the books of the saints—two whole pages in Butler's "lives." One reason, of course, would be the tremendous number of cures that have happened at his tomb.

'This Kind of Help Results in More and More Trouble'

Why should the State have to pay so much A.D.C.? If parents would quit coddling their daughters and raising their illegitimate babies while they run around, maybe there would be less A.D.C. for the State to pay.

★ ★ ★

Not only that, but it's sad when they let the boy that didn't have the backbone to marry the girl to give the baby its rightful name stay under the same roof. Parents, why don't you wise up? It's fine to help children when they're in trouble, but I don't think that's the solution. Parents are asking for trouble when they keep the baby while the girl runs around with other fellows.

★ ★ ★

Then adults wonder why we have delinquency. In this case, I blame the parents. Most of our children are decent kids and I love them all, but help them in the right way.

More Comment on High School

The school's name shouldn't be changed. Those who graduated from there should have the privilege and honor of saying they graduated from Waterford Township High School. It isn't that Thomas Edison isn't respected, but the present name is respected, too, by those who attended, who attend and those who expect to attend.

Ann Joseph
Junior at Waterford

I'm sick of reading letters in Voice of the People about the name of Waterford school. Can't you call off both sides until the thing's settled? I don't have any children in school, but I'm a taxpayer and I don't care whether you call it Thomas Edison High or High Edison Thomas.

Parking Ticket Rankles Shopper

A week before Christmas I received a $2 parking ticket on a City lot, saying I was over the line. I had taken the only remaining space and left enough space on each side so there was room to walk. The other cars must have been out of line before I parked.

There's no use wasting time explaining. They say you can have a court date and waste more time so I paid it. But no more Pontiac shopping for me. I'll go to shopping centers in outlying districts where you can park. First ticket I ever received and it will be the last.

Praises Hospital's Equipment Purchase

Pontiac General Hospital's acquisition of the new baby resuscitators will certainly be welcomed by young parents. Those responsible for the purchase deserve great praise.

The small instruments sound almost unbelievable, and, realizing the irreparable damage lack of oxygen can cause newborn babies, mothers going into delivery will be greatly relieved to know such equipment is available.

Today is Saturday, Jan. 9, the ninth day of the year, with 357 more days in 1960.

The moon is approaching its full phase.

The morning stars are Mars, Jupiter and Venus.

On this day in history: In 1788, Connecticut ratified the Constitution and was admitted into the union.

In 1945, American troops landed in Luzon in the Philippines.

A thought for today: In 1940, Charles de Gaulle broadcast to the French people from London telling them: "France has lost a battle. But France has not lost the war."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Most Psychologists Aren't Atheists

Joseph asks a question that used to be more common among psychology students. But the leaders in psychology and psychiatry are religious men who recognize that God is the integrative force within every well adjusted personality.

By GEORGE W. CRANE

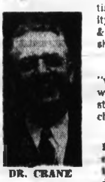
★ ★ ★

"Dr. Crane," he began, "we used your Psychology Applied as the textbook in one of my courses at Marquette University.



DR. CRANE

"And the professor said he adopted it because of your stress on moral values.

"I had sort of felt that psychologists were inclined to be atheistic but your book gave us the opposite view.

"Are you the exception or are most psychologists active church workers?"

FALSE NOTIONS

Most of our psychologists and psychiatrists are active church workers and laud the moral values in life.

Alas, we do have occasional psychologists who boast of their atheism and take sadistic delight in belittling religious values.

★ ★ ★

But the foremost leaders realize that God is at the center of this universe and the chief integrating factor in every wholesome personality.

Dr. L. W. Hess, then head of the psychology department in a college in Michigan, injected a clever classroom assignment in his course on Applied Psychology, where my textbook was employed.

The last week of the semester, he told the students to pick out the one chapter they liked best and write a theme explaining why.

★ ★ ★

Since my text is for an introductory course, to show the many attractive fields where a person can earn a salary by using psychology, I devote an entire chapter to each of 21 major fields, such as Advertising, Public Speaking, Personality Development, Politics, Writing & Art, Music, Religion, Salesmanship, Education, etc.

★ ★ ★

"Dr. Crane," I was asked, "which chapter in your textbook would you guess the majority of students picked as their first choice?"

Well, knowing they were about 19 years old, with a great interest in dating problems and how to improve their personalities, I decided Chapter VI on "How to Improve Your Personality" would rate tops.

But I was wrong. It was Chapter XVIII, headed "Psychology Goes to Church." Therein I had explained why Jesus was the world's greatest Applied Psychologist of all time.

★ ★ ★

CHRISTIAN EDUCATORS

Dr. Roy E. Hoke, of King's College, is a leading Applied Psychologist but also serves as a clergyman in his spare time.

Dr. Karl Menninger, of the famous Menninger Clinic at Topeka, is an active churchman and, like myself, teaches a Bible Class each Sabbath.

Dr. Thomas O. Burgess, of Concordia College at Moorhead, Minnesota, is the pioneer in hypnotherapy and has long taught dentists and medics this adjunct to their practice. He is a stalwart churchman, too.

Dr. George T. Harding, eminent psychiatrist at Columbus, Ohio, and teacher in the medical school, is also one of the outstanding Christian psychiatrists in America.

Space limitations preclude my citing the scores of other leaders in psychology and psychiatry who are foremost churchmen, but it is unusual to find atheists among either medical or psychological faculty members.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Town Hall Speaker to Talk on MEDICO

DR. PETER COMANDURAS

Dr. Peter Comanduras, administrator of MEDICO, a non-sectarian private agency which has been aiding refugees from tyranny for a quarter of a century, will be the speaker at Wednesday morning's session of Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall at the Oakland Theater.

MEDICO stands for Medical International Cooperation, a new division of the International Rescue Commission. Its objective is to send teams of physicians and medically trained assistants into the underdeveloped areas of the world to build, equip and staff medical clinics and small hospitals.

* * *

A real "people-to-people" concept carried on at the grass roots level through a physician-to-patient program, MEDICO is based on the fundamental desire of America to share its knowledge and skills with the needy sick.

* * *

In late 1957, Dr. Comanduras gave up a private practice in Washington D.C. where he was head of the department of gastro-intestinal medicine at George Washington University and associate professor of clinical medicine at the university's medical school to work with MEDICO.

He immediately embarked on a 20-nation tour of Africa and Asia to investigate sites for new projects for the organization and to make a survey of all American overseas projects, whether sponsored by government, religious or non-sectarian agencies or by independent doctors.

Dr. Comanduras will tell of his visits with Dr. Albert Schweitzer in French Equatorial Africa. He will also give highlights of his conversations with Dr. Gordon Seagrave, the famed "Burma Surgeon" and Dr. Thomas A. Dooley, one of MEDICO's guiding lights in Laos.

* * *

Following his 10:30 a.m. lecture, a celebrity luncheon will be held at the Elks Temple. Mrs. Clyde Dearing of Ottawa drive and Mrs. D. B. Eames of Cherokee road are handling luncheon reservations.

The Rev. and Mrs. Harold F. Douglas of Ottawa drive announce the engagement of their daughter Floride Louise to the Rev. Douglas Edward Allen of Greensboro, N.C., son of Mrs. W. C. Allen of Greensboro and the late Mr. Allen. A summer wedding is planned.

Abby's Suspicious

Now Just a Minute---Who's at Fault?

ABBY

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl of 19 and am going steady with a married man. He and his wife have not been living together for two years.

They have three kids who live with him. The oldest is a daughter of 14. He hired a woman to stay at his house to take care of the kids. He treats this woman like a wife.

She drives his car and uses his charge account, but he keeps telling me that she is his hired woman.

She's been there for two years.

I think he is lying to me about this woman. A 14-year-old girl can take care of herself and the two younger ones, so why doesn't he fire this woman? How can I find out what she really is to him?

DEAR JEALOUS: In a motherless home, where there are three children, the oldest of whom is 14, it is necessary to have a woman look after them. This woman's role is far more above suspicion than yours. If she doesn't wonder what YOU are to him, don't you wonder what SHE is to him.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: When my husband and I were married, I paid for our wedding bands as he was very much in debt at the time. All I could afford was a set of matched gold bands. One for him and one for me.

* * *

I have been wanting a small diamond solitaire engagement ring for sime time. Now that we can afford it my husband says it isn't proper to give me a solitaire at this late date I treasure my wedding band and do not want to another one. Just a solitaire. Please help me get what I want.

WANTS A DIAMOND

DEAR WANTS: Your engagement has passed, but you have many anniversaries and birthdays coming up. Quit sulking and nagging and put a sparkle in your eye. And maybe you'll get one for your finger.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I have two sons, 12 and 14, and they still wet the bed at night. I just can't stand it any more. I have tried everything. I've gone from doctor to doctor and nobody can help me.

My 14-year-old has been in the hospital for observation twice because the doctor said he couldn't understand it. But it didn't help him. We even tried hypnosis and that didn't work.

My boys can't stay overnight with friends for this reason. My 12-year-old quit Boy Scouts because he couldn't go camping. Is there anyone who can offer a solution? I'll try anything.

EXHAUSTED MOTHER

DEAR EXHAUSTED: Bed wetting is caused by either physical or emotional disturbances. If you have investigated the possibilities of both (and apparently you have) you have done all you can do. Don't talk about it any more.

Don't punish, scold or shame the boys. Simply wash the sheets and forget it. Worrying about it is more exhausting than washing the sheets.

* * *

CONFIDENTIAL TO LILY: In NO state can a man be forced to marry a woman. Your friend had better think up another angle.

* * *

What's your problem? For a personal reply, write to ABBY, care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

No Girl Should Run After Boy

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter, aged 17, is going steady with a very nice college freshman. As he has a very busy schedule he has no time, except on weekends, to come here to see my daughter. My daughter would like to take the family car one or two evenings a week and drive over to his house (a short distance away) to visit him.

I do not think it is proper for her to do this and have put my foot down on it. She thinks I am being very unfair and narrow-minded, and has asked me to write to you for your opinion.

Answer: I agree with you. No girl should run after a boy, and going to visit him would very definitely give this impression.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Post: My son is going to be married shortly and it seems that the bride's family have taken over the complete project, which I imagine is partly proper, but should the groom's family be excluded entirely? Not once has the bride's parents called to tell us any of the aggrangements.

We don't want to push our way into things but still we would like to know what is going on. He is our only child and we are deeply hurt at being left out of the wedding plans. Shouldn't we be told what is going on and asked if we have any suggestions?

Answer: The wedding plans are solely the concern of the bride's family. They are the hosts at the wedding and pay for everything. The groom's parents are the principal guests.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Post: When a woman has a baby, does she call her friends and invite them to come in to see the baby, or do they (after having received an announcement) go to see the baby without being asked?

Answer: Friends should go to see the baby only when they are expected, but they may very properly show their interest by telephoning to ask when they may come.

Philip J. Wargelin, principal of Pontiac Northern High School, was congratulated by Jack Horton, PTSA president, Wednesday, upon receiving a Fulbright Award.

Mr. Wargelin will leave Feb. 1 on an eight-week fellowship to attend administrative workshops in Finland and France.

* * *

It'll Make You Glow

Get a Big Vitamin Supply

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

This is the time of year when fresh vegetables are less plentiful. During recent months we have become accustomed to the luxury of a wide choice and must now take care that we still obtain an optimum intake of vitamins since we are no longer so tempted by the vegetable stands.

Cabbage and carrots are always with us and are vitamin packed. Most large markets have greens and then of course the frozen foods provide us with a large choice.

The fruit habit is also a healthful as well as a pleasant one. The citrus fruits are our most potent source of vitamin C. This vitamin is widely scattered through our foods but in small quatities with the exception of the citrus world.

The daily recommended allowance of vitamin C for men is 70 milligrams and for women 75 milligrams. During pregnancy the vatamin C requirement is greatly increased, the recommended daily allowance being 100 milligrams. During the nursing period it is 150, and for teen-agers from 75 to 100.

A DIFFEDENCE

Think how many folks let day after day pass without an adequate vitamin C intake! Many have orange juice for breakfast but this is often a very small glass. There is as much difference between really fine nutrition and that which just barely avoids the deficiency diseases as there is between vibrant health and a mere lack of disease.

If you do not have the fruit habit why not start it now?

There's something new afoot in a new two-part shoe displayed this week in Chicago. The shoe, which has absolutely no top, yet stays securely on the foot is molded to the wearer's foot, and held in place with a gold colored stocking. Attaching to a high-heeled platform, the sole may easily be detached for comfort.

To put the shoe on, slip the inner sole into hosiery, then snap it onto the outer sole through the stocking.

Frowns Hasten Wrinkled Face

You Couldn't Term This Piano 'Grand'

MANHASSET, N.Y. (AP)—If concert pianist Rudolph Firkusny has an artistic headache today, he can certainly blame it on what happened Friday night in the high school auditorium here.

About 700 persons gathered to hear Firkusny in a program sponsored by the Community Concert Assn.

★ ★ ★

The pianist started playing Beethoven's "Variation on a Theme" and everbody was enjoying it. Then Firkusny fingered an E-flat. It rattled.

The pianist stopped playing, gesturing helplessly. A member of the concert committee rushed onstage and inspected the piano's innards. She triumphantly came up with a match book cover.

★ ★ ★

Firkusny continued, this time with a Schubert number. All went well until the piano began buzzing when certain keys were struck.

Another piano inspection followed. On the strings, under the metal plate of the instrument, was found a metal New York State auto license tab.

How the "foreign objects" got in the piano was a mystery to the concert committee.

Firkusny, Czech-born American citizen, went on to complete his program and added several encores to make up for the interruption.

Says Stiff Rules Could Ruin TV

FCC Director Doerfer Claims the Future of Broadcasting's at Stake

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission should avoid being stampeded into taking drastic moves against abuses in the broadcasting industry, its chairman says.

Doerfer spoke to a group of lawyers who argue cases before the FCC. His speech appeared to be an answer to a report last week in which Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers said the FCC had failed to use all its existing powers to control deception, rigging and payola in radio and television.

"The future of the American system of broadcasting hangs in the balance," Doerfer said. "and by the American system of broadcasting, I mean the original congressional intent, as yet unamended, that it shall be developed within the framework of the competitive system, and that the commission shall have no power of censorship or impose any regulation or condition which shall interfere with freedom of expression."

Doerfer made these points:

MAKES POINTS

1. The Supreme Court, in the past 28 years, has ruled on both sides of the fence—once that the FCC has "the burden of determining the composition of traffic" on the airways, and another time that "the commission is given no supervisory control over programs."

2. It has been more than 25 years since a court has upheld an FCC revocation of a broadcasting license. This is virtually the FCC's sole weapon against broadcasters who fail to perform in the public interest.

★ ★ ★

Doerfer said the FCC has never been able to resolve conclusively the license renewal problem.

He said this "indicates to me not laxness, nor an abandonment of duty, not lack of courage, but reasonable doubts and practical difficulties of reconciling some of the fundamental conflicting views."

State Council of Churches Opposes Sales on Sunday

LANSING — The Michigan Council of Churches will participate in 1960 in a year-long effort to free Sunday from commercial activities other than the meeting of emergency needs.

Bishop Marshall R. Reed, president of the Michigan Council of Churches, today, released a statement of the Council's Board of Directors, pledging a strong effort by the council's member denominations, local council of churches, and ministerial associations throughout the state, to support business establishments remaining closed on Sunday, and to seek to persuade those now operating on Sunday to close.

The statement said, "Supermarket food stores are operating on Sunday in the Detroit area and around the state in rapidly increasing numbers in the past few weeks. Variety, department, furniture, and other retail establishments also threaten to operate on Sunday in large numbers."

The Board of Directors of the Michigan Council of Churches expresses its deep concern over this manifestation of the continuing breakdown of the moral traditions in our society.

Disregard for Sunday as a generally recognized day for worship, rest, relaxation, and family activity is a part of the cultural crisis that has been evidenced in the TV quiz show shcandals, "payola" to disc "jockeys" in the broadcasting field, and the deterioration of standards in the film and publication fields on sex, marriage, and the family."

"The churches do not seek to impose "blue law" moral standards, but point out that what is at stake here is the very character of our society. Commercialism and materialism are eroding the very foundation of our way of life.

"If America is to escape the fate of other societies that have perished in their decadence, immorality, and injustice, it must recover the stern moral codes and disciplines of our forefathers.

"We call upon our churches, clergy and city to recognize the insidious violation of the traditional pattern of Sunday and to rally to a disciplined refusal to patronize business establishments that operate on Sunday for other than the meeting of emergency needs.

"We commend those stores that remain closed on Sunday and recognize the contribution they are making to good community policy."

England's Fighting Socialist in Hospital

Bevan, Sick, Counts His Friends

By TOM OCHILTREE

LONDON (AP)—Aneurin Bevan, the Peck's bad boy of British politics, has learned in illness that most everyone loves him after all.

The 62-year-old fighting Socialist, with his keen sense of irony, must find some humor in the situation in his room at London's Royal Free Hospital. He underwent a major stomach operation Dec. 29.

* * *

* * *

Get-well notes keep pouring in on him from Conservatives as well as Laborites. Men who have clashed with Bevan for years in the House of Commons openly express relief as the medical bulletins indicate he is recovering.

Queen Elizabeth II and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan sent messages of encouragement and asked to be kept informed of his progress.

The firy Welshman's absence from the public arena — even temporarily—brought word from political friends and foes alike how much color and drama he lent to the scene all these years. Only Sir Winston Churchill can be compared with Bevan in that respect, and Churchill at 85 now takes no part in debates in the House of Commons.

Bevan is still a full blown Socialist. His beliefs still stir up controversy even within the ranks of his own Labor party. But he is not regarded as a party rebel any more.

Bevan has not committed himself to this movement. On the contrary, as deputy leader of the party he protected Gaitskell at the Laborites' convention last November by making a crafty speech which headed off a split on doctrine.

Bevan has been the bogey man of British Conservatives and many American officials for so long it is hard to visualize him as a sort of senior statesman.

* * *

The U.S. State Department professed complete neutrality in the British national election last autumn. And yet, even 3,000 miles away, it was almost possible to hear the sighs of relief in Washington when Macmillan's Conservatives won.

* * *

A Labor victory would have put Bevan in as foreign secretary, brought about a complete reappraisal of the intimate relationship between London and Washington and possibly added new strains to the NATO alliance.

Bevan is a patient under the nationalized health service which he fathered as a member of the old postwar Labor government. His doctors have not defined the exact nature of his operation. But Gaitskell, on a lecture tour in the United States, emphasized that Bevan is not suffering from a cancer.

BETTER DAYS ARRIVE — Aneurin Bevan, known for many years as England's fighting Socialist, assumes an attitude of prayer during a party conference. The Labor contingent is at low ebb after a crushing defeat by the Conservatives in the country's recent general elections. Presently, Bevan is in London's Royal Free Hospital. The nature of his illness has not been disclosed. But get-well notes pour in to him from Conservatives as well as from Laborites. He is finding that, after all, he has many friends in all walks of life.

Columbia River Diver Drowns

EPHRATA, Wash. (AP) — A "giant of a man and one of the best known and most respected" commercial divers on the Columbia River died in its swirling waters Friday at the Priest Rapids Dam site, some 50 miles south of here.

Just how Clarence Shaw, 52, Pasco, Wash., met his death may be "a mystery the river will hold forever," Grant County Coroner Ralph Osborn said today.

* * *

Osborn said the 30-year veteran of diving was pulled from the water on the downstream face of the dam under construction, has diving helmet dangling from a strap which held it to a deep sea diving suit he was wearing.

* * *

"He drowned," said Osborn, "but just how that helmet came off is a mystery to me as well as a number of professional divers and people in the business who have seen it. It wasn't damaged. They say there was nothing wrong with it. It shouldn't have come off."

* * *

"He may have run into a swift eddy which spun him around and slammed him into the face of the dam," said Osborn, "the hit coming in just the right place to knock off his helmet."

* * *

A second-half scoring spree by PCH here Friday evening and some timely assistance from Arthur Hill have vaulted the Chiefs to the top of the heap.

After trailing for nearly 12 of the first 16 minutes, the Chiefs finally got organized and defeated Bay City Central, 69-50, in Saginaw Valley action at the PCH gymnasium.

Meanwhile, in another SVC duel at Arthur Hill, the Hillites upset city rival Saginaw High, 61-59, to tumble the Trojans to second place.

* * *

Last night's contest in the PCH gym was not as one-sided as the final score might indicate.

A scrappy, hustling pack of Wolves from Bay City who hadn't tasted victory in three tries made things mighty uncomfortable for the Chiefs before bowing to superior shooting and manpower.

Central was behind the Wolfpack at the end of the 1st quarter, 12-9, and couldn't gain a permanent advantage until the final minute of the 2nd period when two baskets forged a 31-27 halftime edge.

* * *

Bay City refused to fold after intermission. The Wolves kept on Central's heels through most of the 3rd stanza and the Chiefs could do no better than a 47-40 lead entering the 4th session.

Pontiac's greater firepower finally broke things wide open midway through the last quarter.

With Booker Hurner's deadly aim providing the spark, the Chiefs flurried for 10 straight points in a two-minute span to put what had been an unsafe 10-point margin completely out of reach of the upset-minded Wolves.

* * *

Hurner accounted for half of Pontiac's 22 points in the 4th period and he wound up the game with 24 to take individual scoring honors. Bill Hayward added a dozen points to the PCH cause and Phil Rabaja made 10.

* * *

Bob Crampton was high for Bay City with 13 points. Ladd Irvine had 12, all in the 1st half, and Ken Warren contributed 11.

The Chiefs had to overcome a multitude of court violations to win their 5th decision in a row and preserve their perfect record. Seldom have the Chiefs been as guilty of sloppy floor play as they were Friday.

It was defeat No. 4 for the Wolves, whose aggressive play netted them 21 personal fouls. The Chiefs committed 17 personals and George Fed fouled out late in the 3rd stanza of the raggedly-played tilt.

* * *

Central had its usual slow start and it was almost three minutes before the Chiefs bagged their 1st field goal, a jumper by Rabaja.

Their sluggish nine-point 1st quarter was followed by a 22-point surge in the 2nd session and the momentum enabled them to hold the lead the rest of the way.

Junior guard Dick McCauley saw his heaviest duty in a PCH uniform and he may be of great value in the stretch run for the Valley crown. Big Bill Pritchett flashed occasional brilliance on the backboards.

* * *

In non-conference activity yesterday, Flint Central lost a 61-59 overtime verdict to visiting Midland. Flint Northern was idle.

EASY DOES IT — Mike Fedynik of Northern leaves Walled Lake's Bill Allen (21) behind as he goes in for a shot in last night's Inter-Lakes contest at PNH. Huskies won, 63-50. Huskie Bruce Norton (24) is partially obscured by Fedynik.

Rochester Drops Overtime Game to Roseville, 47-44

Rochester led for 31 minuts of the game against Roseville last night but it took only 30 seconds to lose. The Falcons dropped a 47-44 overtime decision to Roseville, which is a member-to-be in the Tri-County league.

Rochester had the lead from the opening whistle and held a 24-19 halftime advantage.

With only one minute showing on the clock Tom May hit from the floor to push Roseville into a 41-40 lead.

The Falcons still had a chance to win it in regulation time when Bob Evans dropped in a free throw to tie it 41-41. His second shot would have been the clincher but it spun out and the game went into overtime.

* * *

May again was the culprit against Rochester. He had only three points in the first and two points in the third quarter.

In the 4th quarter however May got 8 of the 10 points and his opening bucket in the overtime moved Roseville on the way to victory.

Rochester had Jim Thompson, Bill Mason and Reggie Dixon in double figures with 14, 12 and 10 points but it wasn't enough. Duane Soine had 16 for Roseville with May adding 15.

Rochester now stands 1-4 for the season, one of the poorest starts for coach Gene Konley and the Falcons in many season.

'Lonesome Center' Hits 26, So. Lyon Wins

New South Lyon basketball coach Bob Meeth has come up with a basketball version of the lonesome end. He is Jack Wren—a center.

The experiment tried first during a holiday tournament proved successful again last night in a 68-45 walloping of Dexter. Wren tallied 26 making eight of his 10 baskets by taking long passes while he waited under the basket. The "ticket-taker" now has 89 in four games after getting only 11 in three outings playing the normal way.

OCSC Racing Event Sunday

An ice run on the lake at the club is also planned. If the ice is not thick enough, a closed circuit regularity trial will be run on the 1.5 mile paved course. One car at a time will take the trial and no special safety equipment is required.

Post entry registrations will be permitted at the clubhouse. Starting time is 1:00 p.m. and the fee is $1.50 per driver.

All sports car drivers are welcome to participate.

Thumb Wins for Dryden, Armada and Anchor Bay

Anchor Bay was never in trouble beating Capac 56-49, but Armada had to stall out the last three minutes to win 48-46.

In other league contests Brown City whipped New Haven 66-41, and Dryden bounced Almont 54-45.

Amada had a 44-38 when it started the stall and Memphis was forced to foul trying to get possession. Terry Wills poured in 21 points and 17 rebounds and Ken Montgomery added 15 for Armada

* * *

Dick Rivard with 16 and Reg Brown with 15 were Anchor Bay's big guns with John Stanilou getting 15 for Capac.

Almont shot only 14 per cent in the first half and 23 per cent for the game in losing to Dryden. Jerry Conn, Carl Grondin and Bob Burnett led Dryden with 16, 15 and 14 points, while Jeff Bagocious and Bob Wallace collected 13 for Almont.

Jim Miller's 12 points led Brown City while Chopp had 12 for New Haven.

PNH, Farmington Await Battle; Waterford Falls

Northern Stays Tied for I-L Lead on Victory

Walled Lake 63-50 Huskie Victim; Big Battle Here Jan. 15

By CHUCK ABAIR

There were plenty of empty seats at the Pontiac Northern gym last night as the Huskies trampled Walled Lake 63-50 but that shoud all change come next Friday.

A showdown battle for first place in the Inter-Lakes League is the scheduled event that evening with Farmington providing the opposition.

The Falcons, pre-season loop favorites, handed Waterford its initial I-L setback last night to remain in a deadlock with PNH at 3-0.

Each team has a full week to get ready for the crucial contest with no games in between.

Northern was good enough to handle a ragged Walled Lake quintet with ease but the Huskies will likely have to play much better ball if they hope to get past Farmington.

Control of the backboards, featuring the work of Steve Thompson and Dennis Vincent, and some outstanding foul shooting were the key factors for the charges of coach Dick Hall against the Vikings.

A 25-for-37 free throw record helped offset a 25 per cent floor shooting mark. Walled Lake hit 31.4 per cent from outside and was also strong on the foul line but PNH had 22 more field goal attempts as an indication of its dominance of the boards.

Northern was in front right from the opening whistle using a tight press effectively. The 1st quarter ended 18-12. It was up to 35-23 at halftime. Although the Huskies kept missing shots they would rebound and continue firing until successful.

The scoreboard showed a 20-point difference with only 2:44 gone in the 3rd period when Walled Lake displayed its best ball of the evening. The visitors hit nine straight digits before faltering again.

It was 49-32 starting the closing session and all over but the shouting with the Vikings missing chances to score on bad passes and poor ballhandling. The difference reached 21 at one point.

Northern bettered by one its previous team total highlighted by Thompson's 21. Bruce Norton followed with 16 and Mike Fedynik added 10. Gary Wilkoff swished 15 and Bill Allen 13 for WLHS which is now 1-5 overall and 0-3 leaguewise.

The second straight victory put the Huskies at the .500 mark overall with 3-3. Walled Lake has a four-game defeat streak going including two successive dismal showings.

UGH! — Bob Crampton (55) of Bay City Central has his eye on the loose ball as Pontiac Central's Booker Hurner unceremoniously bounces off the deck in last night's Saginaw Valley Conference game at PCH. This wasn't a common position for Hurner, however, since he bagged 24 points to highlight the Chiefs' 69-50 victory.

LOOKING FOR HELP — Holding the ball for dear life, Bay City's Mitchell Simmons looks for first aid after finding himself surrounded by Pontiac Central players. That's Booker Hurner on the left and Bill Hayward on the other side. The Chiefs whipped Bay City last night, 69-50, to take 1st place in the Valley.

Eric Monti Tops L. A. Open Field

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Eric Monti, who felt so bad he almost skipped play, shot a brilliant 5-under par 66 Friday to lead the parade in the first round of the $37,500 Los Angeles Open.

The scholarly-looking, bespected golf instructor, who has won numerous California sectional titles, toured the 7,000 yard Rancho golf course, with its par of 35-36—71, in 32-34—66.

First Defeat for Utica

Utica's basketball team couldn't stop South Lake's Gary Vitoo last night and went down to its first defeat of the season in a Bi-County League game at Utica. Vitoo tallied 28 points to feature South Lake's 62-52 triumph. Utica's record now stands 2-1.

Lapeer Smeared, 81-50

Flint Southwestern, a member-to-be in the Saginaw Valley Conference, ran away with Lapeer, 81-50 last night with Bob Franklin and Bob Lucas each getting 19 for the winners.

Lamphere Wins 3rd

Lamphere High of Madison Heights led all the way in handing Country Day a 44-35 setback last night in the Central Suburban League.

It was Lamphere's third win in as many starts and was Country Day's first loss in four games.

Skippers Take 65-44 Beating From Falcons

Big 4th Period Spells Doom for WTHS in Key League Game

Waterford temporarily moved out of the showdown battle for the Inter-Lakes title last night by dropping a 65-44 decision to Farington.

The victory pushes Farmington into a tie with Pontiac Northern for the league lead and brings up the big game next Friday night at PNH.

The Skippers were behind 30-22 at halftime and got only within four points, 40-36 in the third quarter, but after that Farmington pulled away without trouble.

A 25-point fourth quarter for Farmington was too much for Waterford which managed only eight points during this period.

Despite the 21-point margin in the score, Waterford had only two less field goals than Farmington. The Skippers however, managed only two of eight free throws while the Falcons were dumping 19 of 24 charity tosses.

Bob Newman led the Waterford attack with 13 points while Chapman hit 20 and Allen 15 for Farmington.

In the other Inter-Lakes game of the night, Southfield gained its first loop win by whipping defending champion Berkley, 58-45, with Ed Schlaff getting 25 points and Gordy Dye and John Van Brunt each adding 10.

Berkley took the lead once in the third quarter, going ahead by two points, but Southfield regained the advantage and then piled up its lead.

Waterford will have to win next week at Berkley to stay in contention for the I-L crown.

Mikemen, Rams Meet Tonight in City Series

Hot 1st Half Brings Win for OLSM: St. Ben Has Close Call

By H. GUY MOATS

While Pontiac St. Frederick and St. Michael marked time for tonight's cross-town battle, Orchard Lake St. Mary last night rolled along to its 4th straight Suburban Catholic League victory. Eaglets defeated Royal Oak St. Mary 52-43, mainly on the strength of a big first half.

Both city parochials concluded their drills for tonight's argument in PCH's big gymnasium, with light workouts Friday. Each club was reported at full strength, and primed for an all-out scrap. Rams will be shooting for their 23rd victory in the long series, and their 2nd win of the current season. Shamrocks seek their 16th win of the series, and their 3rd, against one loss for this campaign. Varsity game starts at 8:15 p.m.

Eaglets led all the way at Royal Oak, slashing out to a 33-16 halftime margin. It was a good thing the Orchard Lakers provided such a big cushion, for they were outscored 27-19 in the second half. However, the ROSM club was hurt by poor conversions from the free throw line, missing nine straight and collecting but a single free shot in 11 tries during the last half.

When Eaglets fell off in the last period to score only nine points, seven were chalked up by Glen Hass, whose 19 total was tops for the night. Two other Eaglets hit in double figures, Don Duszynski (11), Stan Krogulecki (12). Bob Dorr and Jim Bliss had 10 each and Ron Koteles had 11 for the RO club.

Other SCL games resulted in an upset win for St. Rita over Ferndale St. James, 53-48, and the 4th straight win for St. Benedict, 42-38, over St. Clement. Ravens had a battle on their hands to stave off the improved Crusaders, and continue as co-leaders of the loop, with Eaglets.

St. James led midway the 3rd period by 5, but fell behind early in the finale. Paul Kaminski led the winners with 20, while Neil Kiernan has 23 for St. James.

Crusaders were in front at St. Bens, up to the last three minutes, when Ed Everhardt tied the score at 36-36, on two free throws. Art Massucci, Kelly and Longo then hit three straight baskets to go in front and win. Everhardt, and Crusaders' Van Hule each had 14 to pace scoring.

NCAA 'Oklahoma' Version Ends One Week Run Today

NEW YORK (AP)—The 54th annual NCAA convention, subtitled "Oklahoma," today ended a week-long run on Broadway.

But the final session promised to be only a curtain call for the 18-man Council, the powerful ruling body that earlier slapped the University of Oklahoma with indefinite probation.

* * *

The Council, which also hit Tulsa with a light one-year probation, still had 11 other investigations into NCAA-member schools hanging but it was doubtful any disciplinary action would be taken.

Oklahoma, barred from post-season football games and all NCAA - controlled TV programs, theoretically could get off the hook today with a last-minute disclosure of the records of an athletic recruiting fund.

But the university, which has cooperated fully with the NCAA, does not have the records. The NCAA says they are in the possession of Arthur L. Wood of Oklahoma City, an athletic booster who has no official connection with the Sooners.

He says the NCAA isn't going to see them. Hence, the impasse until at least the next meeting of the Council sometime in April.

Miami Beach, Fla., now takes over the collegiate spotlight. The NCAA Football Rules Committee meets there next week to weigh two contradictary recommendations:

* * *

1. That it adopt unlimited substitution for the 1960 season as proposed by the American Football Coaches Assn.

2. That it makes no substantial change in the football substitution rules, as proposed by the NCAA itself.

The NCAA recommendation came in a surprise move on the convention floor yesterday after the football coaches had backed unlimited substitution on Tuesday.

Shrine Tumbles, 82-56

Detroit Holy Redeemer blasted Royal Oak Shrine, 82-56 with three players going over 20 points for the winner.

Big Bill Chmielewski, 6-foot-9 center, had 20, but teammates Joe Klein and Dick Ventura also equalled that with 20 and 22.

Stan Gracki had 20 for Shrine.

Lake Orion Blasts Romeo 75-58 Tuning up for 'B' Race

Troy was sitting pretty in the Oakland B driver's seat with Avondale and Lake Orion a close second today as the result of last night's games.

The Colts had a surprisingly easy time manhandling a Fitzgerald team which had won seven straight including the championship of a tourney. Friday's final count was 61-38.

Avondale, the only previous conqueror of Fitzgerald, won out at Oak Park, 67-57. Orion went outside the league and turned in a strong performance drubbing Romeo, 75-58.

Something will have to give on the 2nd place situation Tuesday when Orion visits the Avon gym.

Fitzgerald actually kept Troy busy for one half. The Spartans were behind 14-11 at the opening session and 29-25 following 16 minutes. The Colts really took over following the rest session featuring a 22-point 4th quarter.

Rick McKinnon topped seven Troy scorers with 17. Bud Acton fired in 13, was a standout on defense and grabbed 16 rebounds. Jerry Glidewell chipped in with 12. Phil Morgan was the big noise for the losers with 18.

Darryl Thorpe led a well-balanced Yellowjacket attack with 22. Harold Sweet and Dave Stewart combined for 26 as the Parker stars.

Clawson was trailing by 12 late in the third period but fought back for a 16-3 last period advantage. Gary Boss' 12 was high for CHS. Gene Shooltz hit 11 for Madison which is now 0-6 over-all.

* * *

Steady Tom Reed had another good night for Orion canning 26 points. Three others were in double figures including Gary Hunter with 16. Bob Galan tallied 19 and Jim Black 15 in defeat.

City Kegler Nears All-Star Semifinals

Moore's Bowling OK

(Special to The Pontiac Press)

OMAHA, Neb. — Monroe Moore, of Pontiac, Michigan, came within a pin of duplicating his earlier performance when he posted a 1,249 Friday in his second six-game block at the 19th annual National All-Star bowling tournament.

Moore, who rolled 1,248 Thursday, this time around had scores of 194-214-225-194-206-216. With a 12-game aggregate of 2,487, he ranked 28th.

Fred List, of San Antonio, Tex., leads the All-Star meet with 2,623.

If he continues his present pace, Moore should have no difficulty advancing to Monday's hectic semifinals when two six-game blocks are rolled.

Only the highest scoring 96 contestants will be eligible to return after Sunday's activity.

Three woman record-breakers who provided a rousing climax to yesterday's action held key positions today as the qualifying rounds moved near complition.

Tiny Sylvia Wene, 30, Philadelphia, who stands only four feet, 11½ inches, fired the first 300 game by a woman in the history of the tournament.

That classic line, which also made her the only woman ever to bowl three sanctioned perfect games, helped catapult her into 10th place in the women's standings. She was 54th at the end of Thursday's bowling.

The top spot in the women's standings was held by Mona Degymas, 37, a Chicago secretary, who totaled 869 in four gams yesterday for a tourney total of 1,666 — a new eight-game high in the women's division. She averaged 210 over eight games.

The record - breaking by the women took the play away from th men's division where List, a 34-year-old sharpshooter, held the lead with a 12-game total of 2,623.

List, who averaged 224 as he chopped down 1,345 pins yesterday, was 32 pins ahead of his nearest challenger, little Dick Weber of St. Louis, a three-time All-Star finalist, who had 2,591.

'Jones to Rome' Fund Now Over $400 Total

The "Jones to Rome Fund", a voluntary fund from Hayes Jones' friends, to help send Hayes' parents to the 1960 Olympics in Rome, Italy, has now gone beyond the $400 mark. However, there is still need for additional contributions to assure the cost of transportaion, during the August track events in which the former PCH star hurdler (now at EMU) will take part, if he qualifies this spring. There is little doubt about his qualification.

Total, as of the first of the year, was $435.25, including $50 from West Pontiac Kiwanis club, several $10 checks, and one check, from Bessie Wright, ($) from Berkeley, California.

Boys Can Register

Gloves Tourney Jan. 30th

The second annual Junior Chamber of Commerce Golden Gloves tournament has been set for Saturday nights January 30th and February 6th.

Any boy interested in taking part in the tournament or working out at the gym should contact Strange.

Twelve Pontiac fighters are registered for the tournament along with boxers from Port Huron and Fenton. Bob McCulla, trainer of the Port Huron team, says 20 fighters will be entered in the Pontiac tournament.

Winners from Pontiac will go to Grand Rapids for the state Golden Glove finals Feb. 12-13. Last year 13 fighters out of 16 divisions represented the Pontiac tournament at Grand Rapids.

A bright prospect on the Pontiac team this year is Glen Uhl of Auburn Heights, a 21-year-old welterweight, who fought for the Pigeon Boys Club and also for a U.S. Marine team.

Uhl has had 22 fights as an amateur winning 17, losing four and drawing another. He is currently employed at GMTC.

* * *

* * *

Strange, who has been training Golden Glove boxers since 1934, says the training quarters are open to any boy interested in boxing. He does not have to participate in the tournament.

* * *

Maples Rip E. Detroit; EML in Three-Way Tie

The Eastern Michigan League took a surprising turn last night with pre-season favorite Ferndale still winless after two starts and three other teams tied for the lead with 2-0 records.

Port Huron blasted Ferndale, 61-54, to move into a three way tie for the lead with Birmingham, which spanked East Detroit, 58-48, and Mt. Clemens a 57-53 winner over Hazel Park.

Birmingham won its third game in four starts with a 20 point scoring output for Merv Gallup and 15 points from Bill Massey along with the board work of Phil Isbell who hauled in 17 rebounds.

Port Huron did it the easy way against Ferndale, pushing to a 26 point lead early in the third quarter and coasting in with ease.

Jack Moores with 14 along with Fred Laughlin and Bill Barr with 13 each led the Huron while Dennis Stinson had 14 and Mike Brown 13 for the Dales.

Larry Vann's 18 led the Mt. Clemens attack. The Bathers are now unbeaten in four games.

Kimball Scores Lifeless Triumph Over Cranbrook

Cranbrook and Royal Oak Kimball played a lifeless basketball game last night with the Royal Oak quint coming out on top of a 33-25 contest.

The Cranes, who got only one field goal in 27 attempts in first half, went on a spree in the third quarter with 13 points. In the other three quarters the Cranes got five in the first, five in the second, and two in the 4th.

Kimball led 15-10 at halftime. Larry Stewart of Kimball and John Hayden of Cranbrook each had 7 points for the high outputs.

Capitol Table Netters Have Three Game Lead

In Thursday's matches Sid Dickstein knocked Harold Heckman from the unbeaten ranks by the scores of 18-21, 21-17 and 21-12. This leaves only Pere Secord of the barber team as the lone unbeaten player in the league.

Clarenceville Retains Lead, Brighton Rolls, Fouls Beat Keego

* * *

Clarkston put up a gallant battle before going down to its third defeat in four loop outings.

After being down by seven at halftime, the Wolves sliced the difference to four at the end of two starting the final before Clarenceville moved away to stay.

* * *

Milford never was in front but threatened all the way before losing 61-54 at Holly. The Broncos opened strong with a 21-14 first quarter advantage but it was narrowed to three at the intermission. It was 48-46 starting the final eight minutes.

Ron Morlan paced both teams 24 sparking the Holly cause. Dick Whitman garnered 16 and Gene Schuett 12 for the Redskins, who made three more field goals.

* * *

Except for being busy trying to stop Tom Maron, Brighton had little trouble gaining its eighth season triumph in nine games, 55-39. It was 17-9 and 33-19 following the 1st two quarters.

Maron wound up with 22 to top both schools. Brighton ace Don Appleton totaled 19 with Doug Verellen contributing 12.

Free throws doomed West Bloomfield both in overall scoring and the game wrapup.

* * *

The Lakers were in the van 42-41 with 1:30 to play when Northville converted three successive fouls for what proved to be the clinching points. Keego's John Long was fouled with 25 seconds left. He made the first but missed the second with a chance for a tie on a 1-and-1. A final shot from the floor by the losers was also futile.

West Bloomfield finished with five more field goals yet was beaten by an 18-for-30 charity record while missing 13 of 20.

Rog Atchinson of NHS and Denis Alix each hit 13 topping the teams.

Holly and Brighton remained deadlocked for second at 3-1 as Bloomfield Hills slipped into a 3rd place deadlock with Northville.

Man could have flown ten thousand years ago—if he had known the fact Orville Wright discovered, that air is a mass just as the sea is a mass. Facts send rockets thousands of miles into space. Cyrus W. Field "thought" he could string a wire cable to Europe; he did. It broke before the first message was sent; sound engineering facts made his venture successful. Planets in the Universe follow a precise course, their tolerance to error is nil; astronomers tell us the minute when a star will appear, based on facts. They're sure.

Storekeeper Suffers Mentally, Materially

MIDLAND (AP) — Prospective thieves are advised to stay away from the Gray Hardware Store in Midland. Owner William Wall's eyes have been sharpened by the loss of two steak dinners, a rifle and an outboard motor.

Wall's troubles began last November. A rifle was stolen from his store and he complained to his friend, A. S. Arbury Jr., an insurance man, that he didn't know it was missing until he wanted to show it to a prospective customer.

Arbury chaffed Wall about his loss and then offered to bet two steak dinners he could steal an outboard motor from the store. Wall accepted.

* * *

The woman asked for a ladder and the clerk had to leave the store and go to a rear ware house to get it.

Wall didn't notice his loss, so Arbury invited him over to the insurance office the next evening. Wall failed to notice the motor on display. Arbury asked him if he would like to buy an outboard motor.

Wall realized then that he'd lost the bet.

* * *

Wall has his motor back now, and, according to Arbury, he has refused to accept a bet that Arbury can take a boat from the hardware store.

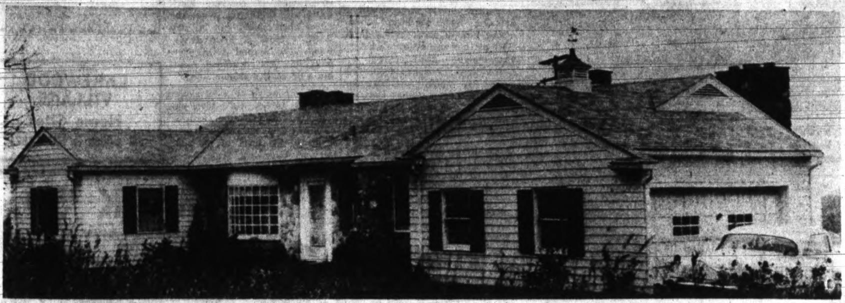
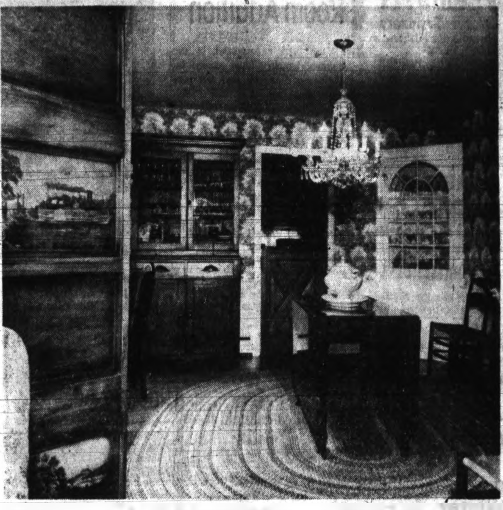
background for LIVING



FIELDSTONE TRIM — The exterior of the Eugene H. Campbell home north of Milford gives little indication of the large amount of space on the inside. The center portion is fieldstone with the end sections white clapboard. The house is set on a two acre plot that commands a sweeping view of the rolling hills to the west. Raymond R. Nelson, formerly of Walled Lake, was the builder.



CHARM OF THE OLD — In the dining room both antique furniture and antique glassware and china abound. Above the white paneled dado the wallpaper is pink and green. The braided rug repeats these colors. That tureen on the cherry drop leaf table is an ironstone one. In the background you can see the Dutch door into the kitchen. Next to it is the cupboard brought from England by Dr. Campbell's parents. In the left foreground is the paneled Currier and Ives screen.

Your Neighbor's House

Campbell Home in Milford Is House With a View

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

From the living and dining room windows in the Eugene Campbell home you can see for a distance of seven and a half miles. Their home in a hilly area just north of the Milford village limits is built on a two-acre plot. The sign on the driveway notifies callers that this is "Campbell's Grandview."

Mrs. Campbell has made the house her chief duty for about four years. She worked closely with the architect, Walter Uhl of Minneapolis to get just the plan she wanted. Since the house has been completed, she has spent many hours on the interior decorating details.

Inside the front door there is an old fashioned hallway. This is partially shut off from the living room by white wooden poles. In between these poles there are plants set in basket-covered pots.

There are windows, both front and back, in the living room. The one on the front is a bow window with small panes of glass. The one at the rear is picture style to frame the view. Blue valances are used above both windows with natural shutters added on each side of the front window.

Three walls are papered in a satiny white-on-white design. The fourth wall is paneling, painted white. In this wall is set the pink brick fireplace with its white frame and mantel. The carpeting is Oriental in the traditional colors.

A pair of pink satin arm chairs is used near the fireplace. Across the room is a green velvet sofa. In the front bay is a gold chair and a low coffee table which is round when all the hinged sides are up; rectangular when they are down.

Against the paneled wall Mrs. Campbell put a drop leaf table and two rush seated chairs. Above is an interesting group of pictures.

All tables were made by students at Berea College in Kentucky. On either side of the fireplace is a tilt top table, while the lamp tables are traditional in design.

There is a wide opening between dining room and living room. At one side stands a screen with Currier and Ives prints on alternate panels.

In this room there is also a picture window, taking advantage of the view. There is an unusually wide window seat here. On the sills Mrs. Campbell has placed her collection of colored water glasses. Cranberry, blue and topaz, they glowed even though the day was cloudy.

There is a white paneled dado with a pair of white corner cupboards. The wallpaper has a tolle-like design in greens and rose. On the bare oak floor the braided rug repeats the pinks and greens of the paper.

Over the cherry drop leaf table is an exquisite crystal chandelier. The chairs are painted black except for the rush seats. Against the wall next to the kitchen door is a very old cupboard. Dr. Campbell's family brought it from England. It has just been refinished.

Pine, cherry and walnut were all used in its construction. The Campbells have his family's set of Haviland china, also brought across the ocean. It is an unbroken service for twelve.

There's a beamed ceiling in the kitchen. Wainscoting and cupboards are knotty pine. The floor is blue tile. Paper is blue and yellow in a provincial pattern.

Mrs. Campbell designed the multitude of cabinets that house all her supplies and equipment. At her baking center the mixer is fastened to a shelf that disappears into the lower cabinet.

Counters are yellow ceramic tile. Curtains are crisp cafe style, very short with a ruffle. Blue and white checks trim white organdy. There is a Dutch door to the dining room.

Beyond a pass-through counter is the family room behind the garage. A multicolored braided rug and white ruffled curtains set the theme of informality.

Under the windows a narrow drop leaf table with a bench (both family pieces) provides eating space. Above is a Victorian chandelier. Two black captains chairs with plastic cushions and an upholstered Colonial wing chair give adequate seating space.

Karen and Debbie have a room that is apt to cause envy in the heart of any little girl who sees it. We have to wait to "do" the Campbell home until Mrs. Campbell finished this room.

On the floor is kitten-soft gray carpeting. One wall is pink; the other three have cocoa wallpaper, sprinkled with pink and blue flowers. Cafe curtains are pink with the top window ruffle pink eyelet.

The beautiful walnut canopy beds were made in the southern mountains. Both have pink reversible quilted spreads over pink eyelet embroidered skirts. Canopies and pillow covers are also this pink eyelet.

There are hundreds of yards of hemming in these outfits as Mrs. Campbell will testify. She did an excellent job.

In addition to their double dresser the girls have a little kidney-shaped vanity table. This, like the beds, is covered with pink cotton and pink eyelet. A piano stool is used with it.

The girls have their own attached bath. In here the pink cafe curtains have trim of self tucks. The double vanity has a canopy over it. Tile and fixtures are pink. Paper is black and white. Mrs. Campbell has her washer and dryer in here.

Across from the girls' room is the library. The third fireplace in the house is in here. This one is made of fieldstone. Walls are paneled, bookcases built-in. The curtains have hunting scenes on them.

White ruffled curtains are hung in the master bedroom. Here the wallpaper is blue with baskets of pink flowers. One wall is plain blue. There are hooked rugs on the polished oak floor. These also are pink and blue, as well as white and cocoa.

In here the furniture is made of cherry. Interestingly enough, it was custom made in Campbellsville, Kentucky. There's a four-poster bed, a dresser and a desk; other pieces will come in the future. On the bedside table there is an antique Circle and Star pressed glass lamp in yellow and blue.

The attached bath is blue and white with sandalwood tile. The blue fixtures include an oval corner tub. Wallpaper is blue and white. There are tiny shutters on the windows.

The exterior of the Campbell home is white clapboard with fieldstone trim. There is a double attached garage at one end. Raymond R. Nelson, formerly of Walled Lake, was the builder.

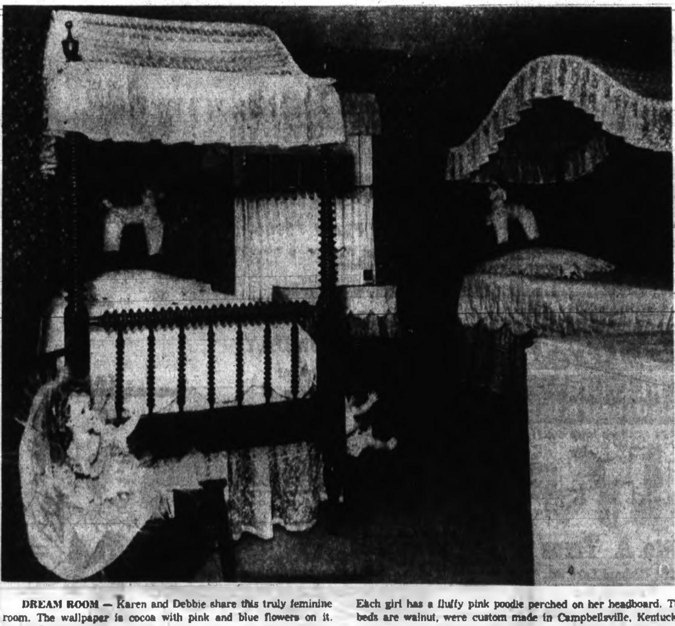
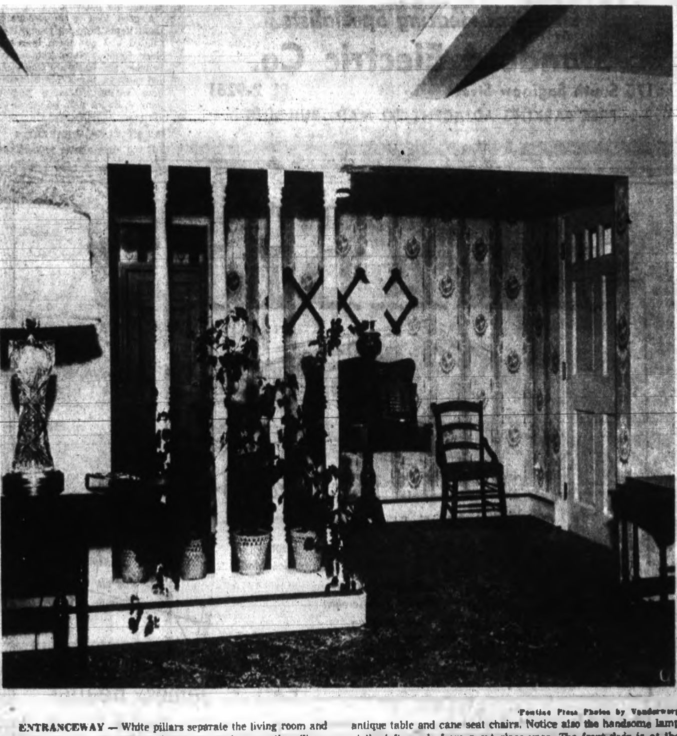
AT EASE — Dr. and Mrs. Campbell relax for a moment in front of the living room fireplace. The chairs they're using are pink satin. In this room one wall is paneled, then painted white. The exposed beams are also white. The floor is carpeted in Oriental carpeting. The tilt top tables behind the Campbells, as well as the one in the left foreground, were made by students at Berea College, Berea, Kentucky.



DREAM ROOM — Karen and Debbie share this truly feminine room. The wallpaper is cocoa with pink and blue flowers on it. Mrs. Campbell made all the curtains, bedspreads and canopies. All are pink, either plain soft cotton or sheer embroidered eyelet. Each girl has a fluffy pink poodle perched on her headboard. The beds are walnut, were custom made in Campbellsville, Kentucky. Just a coincidence, say the Campbells.



Pontiac Press Photos by Vanderworp

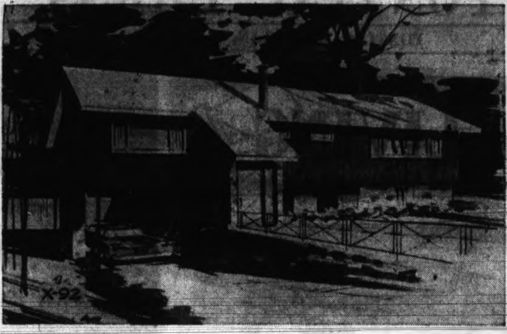
Factory Prefabs Room Addition

Four men experienced in the building industry have banded together to construct and sell prefabricated room additions Chuck Fines, Tom Blakemore and William and Larry Benderoff are offering a new kind of prefab.

Pre-assembled wall and roof sections will be sold, enabling the homeowner to complete the job in his own way and time. The major job of roughing in is done for him, and all he needs supply are hammer, nails and elbow grease, according to Benderoff.

It is expected that material and labor costs can be cut with volume production. The prefab rooms satisfy all building code requirements. Made of fir and pine, they are precision cut in the factory.

Forest products manufacture is now a $7 billion-per-year business in the South.



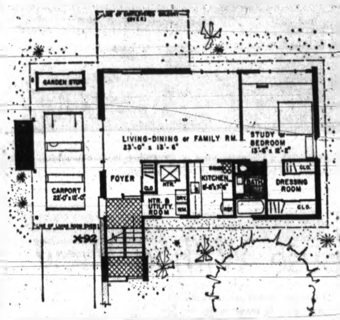
RAISED RANCH — Basically, this is a ranch home that has been "raised" one-half level to make what ordinarily would be basement completely liveable. There are three bedrooms and big living-dining room and kitchen upstairs.

Hardboard Tops Drawers for Desk

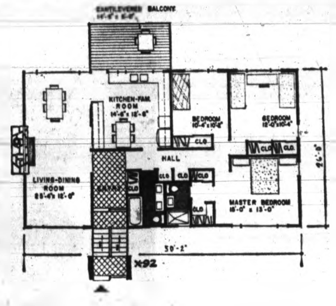
An excellent desk for office or home use can be made by fitting a piece of smooth ¼-inch Masonite, framed with 1 x 2-inch lumber, over a pair of two-drawer files.

The top should be about 5 feet wide and the depth enough to fit over the files. Glue the hardboard to the frame instead of nailing it to avoid marring the smooth top, which is ideal for writing.

A free plan for building such a desk top can be obtained by writing a postal to the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 W. Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., and requesting drawing No. AE-332.



LOWER FLOOR — This plan shows the ground level equipped as rental apartment. If desired, the space could be used for other purposes.



MAIN FLOOR — The front door is placed halfway between upper and lower levels, with a foyer on each level. All necessary ingredients of modern living are present on upper level.

House Raised Half a Level Produces Bonus Space

By DAVID L. BOWEN

This plan yields two houses for the cost of one.

In most modern ranch homes, the basement is sunk as far as possible to keep the roof lines low. This leaves little space above ground level for windows and condemns the basement to use for storage and utilities.

Instead of being buried, the basement of X-92 in the House of the Week series has been "raised" above ground about half a level. This permits use of large windows down below and removes the usual dingy atmosphere from what ordinarily would be basement area. Except for a small compartment set aside for furnace and laundry, the lower level of this home is completely habitable.

Architect Samuel Paul, the designer, has laid out this bonus area on the lower level as an income-producing apartment with living room, large bedroom, kitchen and bath. It could be rented to help pay the mortgage.

However, this is only one possible use of the ground floor. A doctor or other professional man could easily have it partitioned into office space. It could be used as a grandparents' apartment. Or a large family might use it for additional bedroom, study or relaxation area.

BETWEEN LEVELS

The front entry is placed exactly halfway between the two levels. From the front door, there are seven steps up to the main floor foyer and seven down to the lower floor foyer. Glass panels flanking the stairway on both sides provide an abundance of light. A separate side door off the carport is available to give the lower floor a private secondary entrance.

The upper level contains all the ingredients of comfortable family living. It has three bedrooms, two baths, long living-dining room, large kitchen, and convenient cantilevered balcony.

ADDITIONAL DETAILS

The main floor is basically a simple rectangle, with entrance foyer and hallway leading to all rooms. The 25-foot plus combination living and dining room features an unusual fireplace. A massive column of stone rises from the ground on the outside edge of the carport.

This column ends in the living room wall just above the fireplace itself and a wide section of glass continues from this point to the ceiling. The combination of bold stone and light glass creates a modern effect. The fireplace chimney is a round flue which runs outside the glass up through the roof.

The kitchen is large enough to accommodate a dinette table and is equipped with built-in oven, counter-top range, built-in refrigerator, double sink, dishwasher and an abundance of wall and floor cabinets. The balcony behind the kitchen is convenient for outdoor dining as well as lounging.

The three bedrooms are serviced by two baths and ample closets. The hall bath is equipped with double basins built into a counter top. In addition to private bath with a stall shower, the master bedroom has a dressing room with two closets, one walk-in and the other standard.

The exterior is a combination of vertical siding, stone and glass. The lower floor can be constructed of concrete block faced with decorative stone. The upper floor siding can be redwood, cypress or grooved plywood. The second floor overhangs the first all around, creating a decorative shadow line.

Best site would be a lot sloping from side to side. On a level plot, the area around the entrance should be built up to within seven inches of the level of the main entry.

Redecorating Can Be Easy if You Plan Well

If you are expecting the painters, plan your campaign now. The strategy you choose will determine whether you will maintain your equilibrium in the face of the minor disaster to come or succumb to the invasion of the home decorators in rebellious fashion.

It's your attitude and preparation that counts when you are expecting the painters.

A good idea is to remove all small items from all rooms to be painted and put them in a safe place. Remove plates from electric switches and hardware from doors and cabinets, if you'd protect them from spatter. Remove pictures from walls so nail holes can be filled.

CLEAN RUGS, DRAPERIES

If you are planning to have your furniture recovered, this is a good time to send it out. That goes for rugs and draperies, too. It's an ideal time to have them cleaned. You may have everything brought back when the paint job is complete.

Furniture that cannot be removed from a room could be stacked in the center, leaving at least four feet space around the walls for the painter. Cover all the furniture with those old sheets you've been saving for just such a purpose. If you don't have coverings, painters usually are equipped with drop cloths.

If there is a screened-in-porch some of the furniture could be moved to that area. If you live in an apartment, furniture can be moved to the last room to be painted, and moved back into its proper spot before the painter gets to that room.

* * *

Russian Bath Always White

Hydronic heating is used exclusively in new construction in Russia. Most of the heating is done with oil, except in coal areas.

This information comes from Mrs. Olga Bayar, Russian supervisor of the model apartment which is part of the Soviet Exhibition in New York City. The exhibit includes a bathroom and kitchen.

The bathroom fixtures—an enamel-coated cast-iron bathtub, shower, small china lavatory, and water closet—are simple in design and appear to be less modern than new American fixtures.

The bathroom, according to the Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Information Bureau, is small, as are the other rooms in the typical apartment. A New York Times reporter recently returned from Moscow said that few Russians have such bathrooms or apartments yet.

Russian bathroom fixtures are manufactured in white only. Mrs. Bayar, after viewing American-made plumbing fixtures in New York, praised their aesthetic and labor-saving designs as well as the attractive colors of American fixtures.

Bird Smorgasbord

Our fine feathered friends have a food problem during the winter months. They would appreciate finding some crumbs or seed in your backyard birdfeeder. A wooden box makes an ideal feeder, and you can make it attractive and colorful with a coat of bright enamel.

Paneled Wall Substitutes for Bulky Headboard

How to make a pint-sized master bedroom appear both spacious and lovely is a problem besetting many a homemaker.

* * *

The key to decorating, many have discovered, lies in using interesting materials and textures for the walls and floors of the tiny bedroom, and in choosing furnishings of clean, simple line.

* * *

To gain maximum space mileage, smart homeowners find that substituting built-in chiffoniers and specially designed closets for conventional furniture gives added square footage. Even the bed can be made less visually overwhelming in size with a little know-how.

Here, the trick is to do away with both footboard and headboard. To replace the headboard, clever decorators use a striking accent wall. This not only relieves space within the room, but also gives opportunity for individual design expression.

In this manner, dramatic "headboards" have been created with wall paneling of rough-sawn western red cedar. The rough cedar introduces strong texture into the room, an element very much needed when dealing with small, cubical spaces. Finished naturally, the cedar's rich, ruddy coloring emanates warmth and candid beauty.

SPREAD CONTRASTS

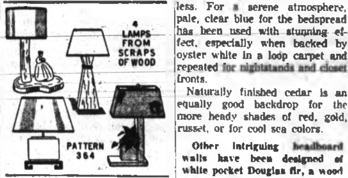
As a complement to the drama of the rough cedar wall, a silky surfaced bedspread should be used. Color possibilities are limitless. For a serene atmosphere, pale, clear blue for the bedspread has been used with stunning effect, especially when backed by oyster white in a loop carpet and repeated for nightstands and closet fronts.

Naturally finished cedar is an equally good backdrop for the more heady shades of red, gold, russet, or for cool sea colors.

Other intriguing headboard walls have been designed of white pocket Douglas fir, a wood in which tiny, open pores are scattered across the face of the panel board. An elegant white-and-gold boudoir can be created using the white pocket accent wall as the starter.

Panel boards are brushed with white paint which is rubbed off before it is completely dry so that the wood's light tracing of grain is still distinguishable. Metallic gold paint is then brushed into the open pores, leaving a hint of glitter across the wall.

There are any number of possibilities for striking headboard walls when using distinctive woods.



4 LAMPS FROM SCRAPS OF WOOD
PATTERN 364

THE RIGHT LAMP is yours with these designs made from odds and ends of wood. Place a favorite figurine on a well-light base. Make a lamp with contrasting footed base, a tall lamp with brass-banded neck, or a planter lamp that encourages bloom with extra light — all with Pattern 364 which is 35c. This pattern also is in the Small Household Furnishings Packet No. 10 for $1. The Pontiac Press Pattern Dept., Bedford Hills, New York.

Two-Faced Shades Give Uniform Outside Look

People who care about the outside appearance of their home as well as the inside, are delighted with the new-type two-faced window shades now available. These decorative window shades can have different colors and patterns to suit the roomside decor and still maintain a uniform color on the streetside.

* * *

This gives free scope for unusual decorative effects in each room of the home, but preserves a neat, uniform appearance outside. These two-faced shades are growing in popularity at a very rapid pace.

New Dormers Gain Space

Dormers for low ranch homes are a news item in the building world, according to officials of the Dara Building Company of Pontiac. This company has been granted franchise rights to build this new type of dormer which eliminates rebuilding the upper part of the house to get more living space.

After a hole is cut in the roof in the center of the house, a complete addition (floor, walls and roof) is built within the hole. Walls of the addition are tied into the original structure and the exterior is finished to conform with the rest of the house.

It is expected that this type of building upwards will appeal to homeowners who cannot or do not wish to add the same amount of space on the ground level.

No Bumpa Da' Head

Those garage doors that slide forward and upward can often be the cause of head bumps. Protect yourself from these headaches by painting the bottom edge of the door in a bright color that blends with the other exterior colors of your home. Your color warning will be a constant reminder of this hazard.

Turn Off Radiators Cover With Flat Paint

Don't use a metallic paint on your radiators; it keeps the heat in. Best idea is to paint them with the same flat paint you use for your walls. This makes the unsightly devices fade into the background and become less noticeable and also permits a maximum of heat radiation.

Turn the radiators off before painting. With the quick drying latex paints, you won't mind having the heat off for an hour or so.

Panels First

Long-Term Investment

It's wise to pay a little more and get a heating system that will last as long as the house and will burn fuel economically. This advice is offered in a booklet "Choosing a Heating Plant Wisely" published by the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau, 35 East Wacker Drive, Chicago 1, Ill. The booklet contains many helpful suggestions on the factors to be considered in the seleciton of a heating system for a home, either new or old.

OPEN PLAN — The model home in Riviera Shores has an open plan in the living area. This picture was taken from the living room. Directly behind the gray brick fireplace is the dining room. Flush birch cabinets in a fruitwood finish separate this room from the kitchen and the kitchen from the breakfast room. There are pebbled glass panels that slide shut to conceal the kitchen. Corner posts are wrought iron. Winglemires of Holly furnished this model. It will be open from 1 p. m. daily, starting Sunday, January 10.

Third of Nation's Lumber Comes from the South

The South is now providing one-third of the nation's total lumber supply, principally Southern Pine, and has the potential to provide a lot more.

Success of reforestation and the spread of forest management and organized fire protection are the chief reasons. Whereas the Southern Pine producing states had only 846 tree farms in 1946, they now have 9,272—or 11 times as many. Moreover, the South has 33 million—or 66 per cent—of the nation's 50 million tree farm acres.

Put Kids in 'Barracks' for More Orderly Living

Families with several small children can take a hint from the Army in setting up a sleeping plan for their pre-teens. A military "barracks" plan, with each child having his own bed, chest and foot locker, is an efficient way to preserve order in the children's sleeping area.

The plan can be put into effect in a large bedroom or a new "children's wing" added on the rear of the house. Since each child only has a limited area, an extremely large room is not necessary.

As soon as the child is old enough to help around the house, he can be put in charge of his own area. Such things as making the bed, keeping clothes in order and putting toys away will become part of a daily routine under the "first sergeant" — Mom.

To keep the room as practical as possible, the walls should be made "child-proof" by installing a washable paneling, such as plastic-surfaced hardboard. This paneling is highly-resistant to hard wear, abrasions and other causes of deterioration.

* * *

Even crayon marks and mussy hand prints can be removed with a sudsy cloth. It never requires refinishing, an important consideration for the budget-minded family.

To increase the room's storage potential, plastic-surfaced hardboard in Peg-Board form can be installed over each bed. Pictures, school work and other paraphernalia can be attached to the panel, which also has a washable plastic surface.

Framed planking placed across two small cabinets will provide a study area for school age children.

Throw 'Em Away

Paint dealers stock numerous painting aids such as rollers, paint buckets and painting gloves that can be discarded after use. These inexpensive items are a great help for the do-it-yourselfer and, because they are disposable, there is no storage problem.

Woman Diplomat Thinks Fireplaces Are Essential

WASHINGTON — Miss Frances Willis, the U.S. Ambassador to Norway, currently has two homes half a world apart but with a common feature she doubts she'd ever want to be without — fireplaces.

* * *

One of the homes is, naturally, the U.S. Embassy in Oslo. The other, which she rarely sees these days, is her family home in Redlands, Calif.

Speaking of the Embassy during a routine trip to Washington, Miss Willis said, "It is one of the friendliest homes I've ever known. I sometimes try to analyze it — but it's always difficult to analyze the atmosphere of a house. I think one of the things I like about it so much is that it is not too formal."

Embassy living can be a taxing matter for U.S. envoys assigned to capitals around the world — as it can for ambassadors from other countries stationed in Washington. They need big residences for formal entertaining yet they want the embassies to have a hospitable atmosphere and, when possible, suggest something of the flavor of their own country.

* * *

Miss Willis, this country's only woman ambassador, said the embassy in Oslo is a "Beautiful house that the U.S. Government bought in 1924 — it is big as it has to be for purposes of entertainment and representation."

She told the National Association of Home Builders that "one of the things I like about it so well is that it has fireplaces — you can draw up chairs around the fire and feel quite at home."

She also enjoys the garden of the embassy. "The flowers in Norway are fantastically beautiful," she said. "They grow to tremendous size and I think this is at least partly due to the fact that in summer we have sunlight nearly 20 hours a day — for six weeks it is not dark enough to see the stars."

FAVORITE ROOMS

Asked if she had a favorite room in the embassy, Miss Willis said she liked different rooms for different things. But she said that she and her mother, who lives with her, have a delightful upstairs sitting room they particularly enjoy and "a cozy library downstairs" where she can entertain a small number of guests and be completely informal.

These two rooms, she said, "probably bear the greatest imprint of me because they contain my books, pictures and other personal things."

For big dinners, the Ambassador can seat 32 at the table. Friends have told her she could get more at the table "but I say I can't do it and still entertain informally," she said.

Her home in Redlands, Calif., is a simple, two-story, brown shingle house set in what was once the corner of an orange grove. It still has many orange trees around it, Miss Willis said happily.

* * *

She likes its fireplaces and the fact that the house is "very expandable." When she and her mother are there, the family gather and, with the porches becoming sleeping places for some of them, the house "just seems to stretch and take care of all of us."

While she enjoys the embassy in Oslo and is proud to represent the United States there, her favorite house is, understandably, her California home.

Prescription Given for House Ailments

Your architect or builder can be almost as important, the Southern Pine Association says. Home design, construction, floor plan and appearance — all affect the mental and physical well being of the occupants.

Housing "ills" are contagious, can be quickly communicated to humans in various forms. Here is the Association's diagnosis, along with a few "home remedies" for healthier living:

AILMENT: An overdose of "togetherness." Insufficient privacy and excessive noise can be so irritating that normally congenial family members scream at each other.

ANTIDOTE: In open plan homes, close the busy sections to prying eyes. Screen dividers are fine in their proper place, but solid, ceiling length partitions should seal off bedrooms and kitchen. To increase the living area, your builder should practice design economy.

Entrance and room arrangements that eliminate hallways, storage walls and a central patio view for small rooms, are good mediums. Proper zone planning will draw definite lines between living and sleeping quarters, with sufficient sound buffers. The children should have direct access from yard to their rooms.

* * *

AILMENT: Drafty rooms, too hot in summer, too cold in winter, are an obvious menace to health. Even if your family doesn't catch cold, dispositions take a beating.

ANTIDOTE: The best insulation and air conditioning are often futile unless the home is tightly constructed to begin with. And since a flimsy house can be unsafe as well as uncomfortbale, the strength and rigidity of the structural framework are matters of utmost importance to family health.

The structure is built of lumber and the wise "house doctor" pens the words "proper seasoning" at the top of his prescription. Properly seasoned lumber is pre-shrunk, and hence immune to shrinkage that can cause nail popping, loosened joints, distortion of walls and general lack of weathertightness.

AILMENT: Since most of her energy is consumed commuting between kitchen and the children's play area, the best solution is to kill two birds with one stone. A large, centrally located family room-kitchen will let her keep an eye on the kids at the same time that she attends to her cooking and washing. Walking distance can be further reduced by concentration of kitchen appliances in strategic "islands."

* * *

AILMENT: Tired feet and strained brains caused by floors that are too hard or uneven.

ANTIDOTE: A raised-platform floor structure that takes full advantage of the natural resiliency of wood. Use of good quality, "dry" lumber for floor joists and subflooring assures finish floors that will stay even and smooth; also provides ideal balance of stiffness and resiliency.

* * *

ANTIDOTE: Warm materials and cool colors are the best combination for small bedrooms and bath. Wood paneling, stained pale gray or blue, produces an impression of greater room size — plus cherriness. Since warm colors create a sense of intimacy, they are most effective in the larger rooms.

Build Your Own

Instructions on how to build cabinets, drawers and shelves with Masonite hardboards can be obtained by writing a postal to the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 W. Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., and requesting plan No. AE-259. The plan also shows typical corner and edge treatments.

Gas Wall Furnace

If you have areas in your home where a large amount of concentrated heat is needed, a new gas wall furnace may be the answer. A porch or garage for instance, converted into extra living space can be made comfortable for year-round living with a gas wall furnance. These new gas models are countersunk in the wall and perform efficiently without robbing you of floor space.

Gas Light Is Mellow

Does your home feel and look warm and friendly when guests arrive on a cold winter night? The soft glow of gas outdoor lighting radiates warmth and hospitality on a frosty eve as well as in the middle of summer. This holiday season thousands of homes will be using gas for outdoor lighting. Gas lighting is like candlelight, mellow and gracious. It is the perfect illumination for holiday decorating.

Mother Out Visiting, 4 Children Suffocate

* * *

"I don't believe it," Mrs. Lenora White, 25, said when she returned home and learned her children, aged 1 to 6, had choked to death on smoke which filled their west side apartment. Firemen said she showed no emotion.

* * *

Mrs. White identified the children as Tyrone, 6, Milton, 4, Linda, 3, and Tynia, 1.

Mrs. White, who had been receiving $183 a month Aid to Dependent Children (ADC) relief, said she left the third-floor apartment early last night to visit a friend. She said the children were supposed to be in bed.

About 17 million persons cross the English channel in a year.

U.S. to Seek Still Another Diving Mark

GUAM (AP)—Scientists said today the U.S. Navy's bathyscaph Trieste—which dived to a record depth of 24,000 feet Friday—soon will try for 30,000, more than 5½ miles under the sea.

* * *

The cigar-shaped craft with its underslung, gondola-like ball, sank to the record depth in the Marianas Trench 50 miles southeast of this western Pacific island.

It eclipsed the 18,600 feet reached by the Trieste in the same area Nov. 16, by Dr. Andreas B. Rechnitzer, head of the underwater research team, and Dr. Jacques Piccard.

* * *

Dr. Piccard and Navy Lt. Donald Walsh, San Diego, Calif., were in the thick-walled gondola in Friday's six-hour descent. The scientists gathered data on water temperatures, marine life, salinity, light and sound. The Navy considers the findings important to antisubmarine warfare.

Good Cheer Overflows as 8 Steel Firms Sign

WASHINGTON (AP)—Eight of the big eleven steel companies signed formal contracts Friday night with the United Steelworkers Union. The other three are expected to follow suit.

* * *

"We have had our fights," said Steelworkers President David J. McDonald. "They have been bitter, but now they are all over. Now let us show the Soviet Union, which is aspiring to become the leading steel producer of the world, how the American steel industry can really produce."

R. Conrad Cooper, chief negotiator for the steel companies, added, "We have been through a long tussle in which we each expressed our views, which we thought right. But we arrived at the inevitable and happy point of settlement."

* * *

The agreements were all but completed last weekend. The eight companies signing formally were U.S. Steel, Allegheny Ludlum, Inland, Bethlehem, Jones & Laughlin, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Colorado Fuel & Iron, and Republic. The three still to sign are Great Lakes, Wheeling and Armco.

* * *

The pacts call for an estimated 40 cents an hour increase in wages and benefits over 30 months. Under the old contract wages averaged $3.11 an hour.

Industry Leaders to Face Many Problems in 1960s

ROBERT P. BRIGGS

By ROBERT P. BRIGGS
Executive Vice President
Consumers Power Company

JACKSON (AP) — The outlook for Michigan is good. The state is big and diversified; the population is growing. Farming and the tourist-resort businesses complement the industrial aspects of the economy.

Michigan has its economic problems and they are not peculiar to Michigan—other states have them too. The greatest asset of Michigan is the people living within its borders. They will solve the problems of the sixties courageously.

* * *

Michigan's economic future depends, to a large extent, on the willingness of all citizens to work for a healthy economy. All over Michigan governmental, citizen, business and labor groups are actively seeking solutions to our problems as well as new industries. Much benefit will accure to the state as these groups succeed.

Michigan's principal industry is the automotive industry, and the state has every right to be proud of it. I know of no other industry that can compare with it either in current importance or potentialities for growth.

With 66 million automobiles and trucks on the road today, the replacement market alone insures good business in the years ahead; but the market is growing daily as more chickens reach maturity and more families become multi-car owners.

HAS GOOD DIVERSITY

We must not lose sight of the fact that Michigan has a good diversity of other industries, such as primary metals, chemicals, food, paper, furniture, steel and numerous others. Michigan's location and its natural resources help her attract and hold industry.

The state lies in the heart of the St. Lawrence Seaway. It has an abundance of skilled manpower and exceptionally good living conditions as well as cultural advantages, all reasons for the fact that so many well-known manufacturing companies have developed and prospered in Michigan.

Michigan's economic future depends to a large extent on the soundness of the national economic policy, particularly curbs against inflation.

MORE JOBS NEEDED

Michigan is more heavily industrialized than most states and has grown more rapidly than most because of this. Now she faces, along with other states, the task of creating numerous additional jobs in order to provide increasing employment.

The need for semi-skilled and unskilled workers in industry, relatively if not absolutely, is on the decline, but it is largely offset by a growing need for more clerical, technical and professional people who are required by our advancing technology.

Michigan is facing this new era with tremendous assets, not the least of which are her great state supported higher educational universities and colleges with their research facilities. Research findings will enhance the continued growth of the Michigan economy.

One of the great resources of the state is the willingness of her people to work. It is no secret that Michigan people are not afraid of work, and accept challenge. They accepted the challenge of World War II and produced weapons at a rate which surpassed the highest hopes of the people charged with defense.

Now that the science of waging war is changing and the need for the weapons of war is diminishing, particularly the need for the kinds of weapons our plants are equipped to produce, our people are turning to the more advanced skills, and they are willing to learn them and to use them.

The growth of our electronics, pharmaceutical and chemical industries in the past 10 years exemplifies this. Indications are that these industries will continue to grow rapidly in the space age ahead.

Michigan's economic problems must not be confused with her political and social problems which are equally complex. One thing is certain about Michigan that has been certain even throughout the recent months of bad publicity rising out of the state's tax problems and that is this: Michigan has vigor and Michigan is prosperous.

* * *

We at Consumers Power Co. have devoted considerable time and study to the questions of how Michigan can be helped by her own citizens in achieving even more greatness. One reason the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce was formed was to place all business in an active and central role as a positive and united force for Michigan's continued development and growth.

Census bureau projections indicate that Michigan will have a population of about 10,500,000 by 1970. Obviously a state that ranks fourth in manufacturing, fourth or fifth in the tourist and resort business, 7th in population and 15th in the value of farm products is not a state to be pitied. Neither is it a state that has any excuse for self-doubt.

I do not foresee an age of miracles in Michigan's economy within the next 10 years. I do not believe that Michigan or any other state will be able to pay people more money for producing less for the simple reason that this is a sure way to promote runaway inflation.

More prosperity for everyone is a legitimate and laudable goal. The only way to achieve it is through greater productivity and further expansion of our economy as a whole. Michigan has everything in its favor with its people facing the future with courage and confidence, remembering always that America's greatness rests not on the theory that the government will do it for you, but on the realization that the individual must be free and willing to work to rise to the heights of his God-given powers.

Basement Has Advantages

Whether to have a basement or utility room is a question which every home builder has to decide.

Each has certain advantages. There is a saving in excavation cost and in the foundation in basementless construction.

On the other hand, a house with a basement has more usable space — space for storage, for the laundry, the heating plant, and for recreation and hobbies that can be enjoyed by all members of the family.

Another advantage of a basement that has come to the front in this nuclear age is its value as a shelter and the protection it affords against fall-out. Even if no special shelter is built in the basement, the basement itself affords some protection and is the safest place in the house.

Furthermore, with hydronic heating, there is no problem about warm floors in a basementless house built on a slab. Either pipe coils in the slab or baseboards around the outer perimeter of the house will provide an abundance of warmth. Children can play on the floor in perfect comfort.

Don't Use Blowtorch to Thaw Frozen Pipes

A warning against the use of a blowtorch to thaw frozen plumbing or heating pipes is sounded by the Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Information Bureau. The danger in using a blowtorch is that it might set fire to woodwork or other combustible material near the pipe.

There is also danger of causing the pipe to burst if the water flashes into steam while the ends are closed by ice or by valves. It is best to call a plumbing and heating contractor who has special electrical equipment for thawing pipes quickly and with complete safety.

No Deterioration

Many people have the mistaken idea that wood deteriorates with age. Actually, age does not change the cell structure of wood, and it is impossible to determine the age of a tree or timber by the condition of its cells.

Buyers Like Bigger Baths

"You can stop singing in the bathroom, Mother — the lock is fixed!" once quipped the late Fred Allen, one of America's great humorists.

Fifteen years ago, when even the largest families shared a single bath, Fred's gag struck a responsive chord with practically every listener. Today, with multiple baths and powder rooms becoming more prevalent, the line has lost much of its punch. And, if the present trend continues, we're headed toward an era when everybody will have his own private bathroom—and only a social historian will have any idea what once made Fred's joke funny.

Of course, as a practical matter, talk about a private bath for every member of the family is obviously premature. Besides, modern bath planning and design are allowing one bath to do the work of several. This is done quite simply and naturally by compartmenting the bath's several functions, permitting its use by more than one person at a time.

As a matter of fact, modern ideas in bath design are making such an impression on the public that tract home builders are featuring modern bathrooms in their homes in the same way that they used to spotlight kitchens.

Materials and fixtures are keeping pace with modern bath planning and design. A quality-conscious public wants walls and floors with natural beauty and pleasing design, as well as durability. Ceramic tile manufacturers are meeting this demand with the largest selection of colors, shapes and sizes in the history of the industry.

Plumbing fixture manufacturers too are recognizing new trends toward convenience and multiple bathroom use. It's pretty apparent that Americans will get what they are asking for, and Fred Allen's gag will have to surrender gracefully to progress.

Panel Doors Traditional for Colonial

Authenticity in designing and building today's popular Colonial-style homes demands the use of materials that add to the atmosphere of warmth and dignity of the traditional home.

One way conscientious architects and builders achieve this authenticity is with panel doors. Made of ponderosa pine, these doors are true copies of Colonial-style panel doors hand-made by early American craftsmen.

Ideally, an architect first selects a panel door and front entranceway from one of many traditional styles available in ponderosa pine. From this design he selects a similar style of panel door to be used on rooms and closets throughout the house and for all other entrances.

This provides not only an important continuity all through the house, but gives it true Colonial styling.

Use Finishing Trowel

When taping joints in drywall construction, the finish coats of the cement will come out smoother if the job is done with a plasterer's steel finishing trowel instead of a wide putty knife. The trowel covers a wider area and permits easier "feathering" of the joints.

U.S. Seeks to Test Russ on Cooperation in Space

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States is reported pressing for an early meeting of the new U.N. space committee in an apparent move to test Soviet intentions on international cooperation in outer space.

The United States has consulted the Soviets and other U.N. delegations about the chance of convening the 24-nation space committee before the end of January.

* * *

The General Assembly unanimously approved formation of the permanent space committee last month after the United States and the Soviet Union broke a long-standing deadlock over how many Communists and non-Communists should serve on the body.

Agreement was reached after the United States consented to have seven Communist and five neutral nations appointed to the 24-nation committee along with 12 Western nations. This came nearer the Soviet demand for parity.

When the original 18-nation interim space committee was formed in 1958 the United States insisted that only three Communist and two neutral nations be named. The Soviets boycotted all the committee meetings.

The United States is understood to be anxious to get the new committee to work while the spirit of Soviet-American cooperation exists.

The U.S. move to get the new committee operating was made before the Soviets announced their intention to hold rocket tests over the central Pacific within a few weeks.

The Soviet tests, however, are expected to lend new urgency to American demands for an early meeting.

The Soviet government distributed notes to foreign embassies in Moscow Friday confirming the Kremlins plan to test a powerful new rocket. Planes and ships were warned to stay out of a broad area about 1,100 miles southwest of the Hawaiian Islands during the firings scheduled to begin between Jan. 15 and Feb. 15.

READYING SPACE FLIGHTS

Moscow radio said the projected tests are part of a program preparing for "man's flight into interplanetary space."

Prof. V. Dobronravov, a Soviet scientist, told Moscow listeners that the tests are "the logical and quite normal consequence of all preceding achievements of the Soviet Union in space explorations."

* * *

He said "The creation is demanded of more and more heavy artificial celestial bodies, earth satellites and cosmic rockets, to enhance the effectiveness of such research and to obtain increasingly interesting data both about the moon and about other planets of the solar system, and also to prepare for man's flight into interplanetary space."

The official Hungarian news agency MTI said Soviet scientists hope to land an automatic laboratory on the moon during the Pacific rocket tests.

Phil Wants to Switch His Camera Position

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—"I belong behind the camera, not in front of it," Phil Silvers said quite gravely one day recently.

"I should be directing," Phil explained. "But I'm too young to quit acting—I'm too fruitful . . ."

WILSON

Nevertheless, at the end of 35 years in show business, he's going to take a try at going behind the camera when he produces, and possibly directs, an Alan King TV pilot.

"It was Alan's idea," Phil said. "This guy doesn't need me. He makes about $500,000 a year on his own. He said, 'You've been thinking about directing. Come in and get your feet wet.'"

Maybe Phil will get in some kind of a fight with somebody and find his career more colorful. "There's a certain dullness about my 35 years in the business," he confessed.

"I don't have any feuds. I seem to have met nobody in the business but lots of nice guys. What was wrong with me?"

SILVERS

He clicked off the names of friends who'd helped him along from burlesque to TV's top banana as Sgt. Bilko" — Orson Welles, Goodman Ace, Hy Gardner, Bing Crosby, Nat Hiken, Garson Kanin . . . and three people now dead, Bill Robinson, L. B. Mayer and "Rags" Raglund.

"My father, who had escaped from Russia during the pogroms, was a sheet-metal worker and one of the few Jews who worked on the skyscrapers. Because of his associates, he would speak with a Jewish accent and an Irish brogue.

"He Would say 'Vell, I tell you, bejabers.'"

* * *

When Phil came home in Brownsville one day while a teen-ager and said Gus Edwards had tossed him his card after seeing him clowning on the beach, Phil's father said, "Vell, I tell you, bejabers, you're not going to be an actor."

Phil's found that he's funniest when he dominates any situation.

"When I plan anything, the first consideration is, I've got to be good. And I've got to be the glib guy.

"When I get very nervous, I employ an arrogance to get over the nervousness. I remember an important tribute to Rodgers and Hammerstein. When I came on, the piano had been moved away, and I needed it. I said, 'I need the piano. Dick! Oscar! Get the piano for me! Quickly!" It was an unthinkable thing to say to these famous men.

"I was on top again."

EARL'S PEARLS: Psychiatry is so wonderful because you and the doctor can get together and talk about you.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "House for sale—wall to wall furniture—wall to wall carpeting—back to wall payments" (reported by Sterling Sherwin).

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Some best-seller novels you just can't put down—especially when the children are around the house . . . That's earl, brother.

Dean Spooner to Give Report

Members to See Film, 'New Faces of Africa,' at Sashabaw Church

A two-part program has been set up for Wednesday night for members and guests of the Sashabaw United Presbyterian Church at 5331 Maybee Rd., Waterford Township.

The monthly family night cooperative supper will begin at 6:30 p.m., and Dean Spooner, a member of the church, will report on his recent trip to the Presbyterian Institute of Industry Relations held in Chicago.

* * *

The conference dealt with management-employe relations and what the church is doing in this area. Several trips to various industries and contacts with top management and labor leaders were scheduled.

During the second part of the Wednesday night program, a colored film titled "New Faces of Africa" will be shown.

The movie is being presented in anticipation of the February family night program when Alex Brooks, Presbyterian missionary in West Africa, will be guest speaker.

The public is invited to attend both events, according to pastor of the church, the Rev. Clifford Haskins.

Wright said Ford increased its sales over the previous year by 46 per cent for a 27.3 per cent share of the domestic market. He said more than 300,000 Ford trucks were sold in 1959. This was an increase of 39 per cent over 1958.

N. Y. Derelict Kills Policeman

Dying Officer Riddles Assailant With Bullets; Both Die Quickly

NEW YORK (AP) — A man plunged a butcher knife into a police sergeant Friday night in a Bowery mission cellar jammed with shouting, surging derelicts. The dying officer riddled his assailant with bullets.

Both were dead within seconds. Police said Sgt. Edward Johnson, 35, and three patrolmen were called to the mission after an unidentified Negro began brandishing a knife.

The mission's cellar had been opened for the night to more than 75 derelicts who had no place to sleep during sub freezing weather.

Police said Johnson ordered the man to drop the knife. He pointed his revolver and said: "Drop it or I'll shoot."

"Lets see you take it." the man reportedly replied, and then buried the knife near Johnson's heart.

* * *

Johnson emptied his revolver, firing six times. The policeman and the man fell dead.

Johnson, a veteran of 11 years on the force, was married and had one son.

In Memoriam 2

IN MEMORY OF MY DEAR mother, Mrs. Catherine B. Lare, who passed away 14 years ago today, Jan. 9, 1946. Gone but not forgotten. Sadly missed by her son, Wallace R. Smith.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY dear husband, Harry W. Haynes, who passed away 7 years ago Jan. 9, 1953.
The years may wipe out many things,
But this they wipe out never,
The memory of those happy days,
When we were all together.
Sadly missed by wife and daughter.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF FLORence J. Graham who passed away 1 year ago today.
You bid us not farewell,
You said Goodby to none,
Your loving heart had ceased to beat,
Before we knew you were gone.
God saw that you were suffering,
And the hills were hard to climb,
So he closed your weary eyes,
And whispered peace be thine.

Reds Claim They Have Determined a Route to Mars

LONDON (AP) — Soviet scientists have worked out the cosmic route for a flight to Mars and back, Moscow radio reported today.

* * *

Prof. Dmitiy Martynov was quoted as saying that such a trip would take about 1,000 days.

He said the flight to the planet would take 275 days, the spacemen would have to spend about a year there awaiting a favorable opportunity to take off again, and the return journey to earth would take another 275 days.

* * *

Man With Baby Found, Arrested

Florida Father Set to Take Off for Nassau With 'Kidnaped' Child

NEW ORLEANS La. (AP)—Williams James Stevens and his 5-month-old daughter, Jan Clair Stevens, were found in a New Orleans suburb Friday night, climaxing a widespread search.

* * *

Mrs. Stevens is a daughter of R. Crosby Kemper, prominent Kansas City banker, who offered a $5,000 reward for return of the child.

* * *

Stevens was arrested at a motel while reportedly preparing to leave New Orleans on an airliner for Nassau, in the Bahamas.

With him was Milton Thomson, a private detective who helped take the child from Mrs. Stevens' apartment.

A New Orleans woman had seen the two men and the baby in a drug store and recognized them from newspaper pictures. She notified the Kemper family by telephone and the tip was relayed to police.

* * *

Stevens told Louisiana officers the child was legally his and he had a right to do as he pleased with her.

A Circuit Court order was issued in Kansas City Thursday directing him to return the baby to the mother's custody immediately.

Art Carney Very Good but 'Dog Suit' Ragged

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Art Carney tried his hand Friday night with "The Man in the Dog Suit," which Hume Cronyn played on Broadway last season.

The stage play was a failure, and the TV version must be tallied a miss, too. It's hard to resist a line that might have appeared in the dialogue: it was all bark and no bite.

The plot concerned a meek bank clerk who kicks over the traces. Film and TV legend would have us believe the world is full of meek, trace-kicking bank clerks. This one finds his virility by impersonating a German shepherd at a costume party. His antics appall his bank-owning in-laws, a tiresome group.

* * *

The trouble was that the treatment wasn't broad enough to be farce. The comedy consisted of a female drunk and lines like "Every dog has his day," "I have a bone to pick with you," and "You should have married a doberman."

Nor did "The Man in the Dog Suit" contribute much to mid century social commentary. The situation of the frustrated forester-turned-bank clerk is from the same vein mined and remined by John P. Marquand and his followers.

Art Carney did his usual fine job in a role that had plenty of Guinness but wasn't stout enough. Assisting in one-dimensional roles were Celeste Holm, Orson Bean, Jessie Royce Landis and Hiram Sherman.

UP Democrats Buck Party on Redistricting Issue

LANSING (UPI) — There's no place like home when it comes to deciding priorities on loyalty.

The split among Democrats over reapportionment of the Senate indicates there are Democrats to whom home district boundaries are more important than party lines.

Outstate Democrats generally are cool toward the Supreme Court bid by August Scholle, president of the Michigan AFL-CIO, to force reapportionment of the State Senate.

"I'm against it 100 per cent," said Sen. William A. Miron (D-Escanaba).

Miron and other Upper Peninsula senators fear Scholle's suit to reaportion on a population basis would result in a single district for the entire Peninsula.

Another Upper Peninsula Democrat, Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams, Sault Ste. Marie, is leading the fight against Scholle's suit. He said it would "radically alter" some systems of representation with counties and cities.

Democrats were expected to try to work out a compromise for reorganizing Senate seats when county delegates gather at a Central Committee meeting tomorrow in Lansing.

Although many agree with Scholle that there should be a change in the 1952 reaportionment formula, they want to take into account feelings of outstate Democrats.

One plan would call for addition of eight Wayne County Senate seats. Other districts would be unchanged.

Democrats had planned to start a petition campaign for a constitutional amendment change in the 1952 formula. The Scholle case may alter this strategy.

"This is a civil rights case," said Scholle, who contends "freezing of unrepresentative senatorial districts is a denial of equal protection of the laws as guaranteed in the U.S. Constitution.

"I am a resident of Oakland County which in 1957 had a population of aproximately 637,000," Scholle said. "Yet the people in my county elect only one senator, just as does the small district with 53,000 people."

* * *

But Adams said "the people, not the courts," should decide reapportionment questions.

"The right of the people of the state to enact their own state constitutional provisions would be greatly curtailed if Scholle wins," said Adams.

Adams has been mentioned — not too seriously — as a possible candidate for governor when Williams steps down.

He will have less than solid labor backing if he tries.

Churchwomen to Hear Lecture

Rev. William C. Norvell to Deal With Ideas of Teacher Martin Buber

"Introduction to Martin Buber" is the title for a series of three lectures the Rev. William C. Norvell will give at regular meetings of the Episcopal Churchwomen of Christ Church Cranbrook.

The first lecture will be given at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday.

At the age of 80, Martin Buber continues to teach "Social Philosophy' at the Hebrew University in Jerusalem.

The Rev. Mr. Norvell will deal with the ideas of Buber, their background and effects on modern thought forms.

Mrs. Arthur R. Forster, chairman of the Clothes Closet, will report on the project. The organization, a part of Episcopal Churchwomen, contributes to many Oakland County agencies and families in need.

William Matus, director of Camp Oakland, will show recent pictures of the camp and speak at the meeting Jan. 19.

The Rev. Francis Ayres, director of Parishfield, will be the speaker on Jan. 26. His topic will be "The Church's Mission."

Ceylon Clings to Language of Former Masters

COLOMBO (UPI) — Ceylon is finding "it none too easy to shed a foreign language entrenched by decades of colonialism.

The government is trying to replace English with Sinhalese, the language of three-quarters of the 10 million people on this Indian Ocean island. But the effort has run up against stubborn preferences for English in government and business circles.

Government departments are scheduled to be conducting all correspondence in the beautifully curly script of Sinhalese by the end of 1960. But the special commissioner of official language, L. J. de S. Seneviratne, has warned that too few departments have given up English so far.

ILA After Master Great Lakes Pact

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—The International Longshoremen's Assn. will seek to negotiate a master agreement this year covering 10,000 dock workers in 30 Great Lakes ports.

Plans for the ambitious move were announced by Capt. William V. Bradley, president of the 100,000-member AFL-CIO union. He was here to officiate at the election of officers of the Buffalo Joint Council of Longshoremen.

Noting the long battle between the ILA and the International Brotherhood of Longshoremen had ended with their merger last October, Bradley said the combined organization was "now looking forward to a great future."

"We must see that the men who work on the Great Lakes docks get a just wage and fair working conditions," he said.

Dems to Unite on Veto, Sen. Mansfield Predicts

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Assistant Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield (Mont) predicts his party will work better together this year to override presidential vetoes than they did in 1959.

* * *

Mansfield said "I think that the President is going to find it is more difficult to veto measures this coming session and get away with it."

San Francisco Unsure of Its Population

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — How many people live in San Francisco?

The California Taxpayers Assn. says 790,000 and the city planning department last August set the figure at 807,000 San Franciscans.

The biggest figure comes from the local Chamber of Commerce which places the city's population as 821,000.

Common beeswax is used in the manufacture of 400 or more articles.

SLIPPERY BUSINESS — It's not hard to tie the strings of your skates on the ice—as long as someone else is holding you up. Janet Jackson, 44 Seminole Ave., ties the knot while Pat Gentry, 127 Mark Ave., makes sure that her friend doesn't take a spill. Scenes like this are taking place at rinks of the Parks & Recreation dept. throughout the city.

WEIGHING THE QUESTION — Jerry Kenney of 239 State St. doesn't know what he'll do next. On one hand, there's schoolwork to be done. But, then again, the ice is fine for skating and a fellow doesn't know if he'll get another chance like this one.

Failers Get 2nd Chance at MSUO

Michigan State University Oakland freshmen who failed fall term courses are getting a second chance to make the grade.

* * *

Dr. Robert G. Hoopes, dean of the faculty, has told the student body that students will have a chance to "wipe out" all failing grades given during the term.

* * *

Whatever a student's grade average, no student was "washed out" of the university at the end of the term, he said.

Students who received failing marks can erase them by repeating and passing the courses during the winter term. The passing grade will go on the books.

The policy is a one-time-only decision of the faculty, Dr. Hoopes said.

* * *

The decision, Dr. Hoopes explained, was made because of MSUO's "abnormal situation." He said the factors leading to the decision were the lack of "equipoise" between academic and residential life, the lack of upperclassmen, and the fact that the faculty is new.

New State Traffic Slaughter?

5 Dead as Weekend Begins

FAA Brings Out Four New Rules for Safe Flying

From Our News Wires

The Federal Aviation Agency, on the heels of an airliner crash which killed 34, today spread a net of edicts it hopes will make air travel safer in America.

Apparently alarmed by one of the nation's worst air traffic safety records in history and the fatal crash of a National Airlines plane Wednesday, only the sixth day of 1960, the FAA:

1. Warned that jet airliners are being flown too fast for safety "with a frequency which is alarming."

2. Tightened rules on controlling in-flight drinking.

3. Ordered installation of storm-warning radar on nearly all airliners by Jan. 1, 1962.

4. Denied that strict pilot proficiency tests are harmful and "may eventually lead to failure" of an airliner.

The FAA said in its warning on jets that high speeds tend to weaken the plane's structure.

The agency, in a notice to regional administrators Friday, said a jet plane nosing over into a descent can easily exceed the load limits of the plane's design, unless the pilot reduces power and watches his speed indicator closely.

The FAA said some pilots don't understand fully the differences between jets and the old piston-engine craft.

The FAA said improved pilot training and education may provide an answer to the problem.

* * *

The agency is prohibiting airlines from serving liquor to passengers who are "high" in the sky.

NO NIPPING

Under the new rules, passengers are not allowed to nip from their own bottles and the airline stewardesses are barred from serving

Primary Entry a Gift to Nixon

New Hampshire Pals Hope He'll Retain His 47th Birthday Present

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon's press representative, Herbert G. Klein, called a conference for 1 p.m. today to answer questions about Nixon's plans for presidential primaries.

CONCORD, N.H. (AP)—New Hampshire Republicans — who four years ago gave Vice President Richard M. Nixon a stunning write-in tribute — celebrated his 47th birthday today by entering his name in the nation's first presidential primary of 1960.

Led by Gov. Wesley Powell, leaders of the Nixon-for-President Committee filed nomination petitions to place the vice president's name in the preference poll section of the March 8 New Hampshire ballot.

Whether Nixon would let it stay was the big question. He has 10 days in which to withdraw. Otherwise his name will go on the ballot.

HOPES IT'S ACCEPTABLE

Powell told Nixon in a letter he hopes New Hampshire's birthday gift will be "acceptable to you."

Acceptance of his entry in the New Hampshire popularity poll would amount to a public declaration Nixon is seeking the nomination.

* * *

Powell told Nixon he and other leaders of the New Hampshire campaign organization "hope you will see fit to allow your name" to remain upon the ballot.

In Washington, Nixon took to-

Charged With Beating 2 in Kohler Strike, Gives Statement Here

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP)—William P. Vinson, a former organizer for the United Auto Workers Union, says he will resist attempts to extradite him to Wisconsin for prosecution on a charge of beating up two Kohler Co. employes at Sheboygan Falls in 1954.

* * *

Vinson, 32, who is now a painter in the Chrysler Corp. Vernor plant in Detroit, was arraigned yesterday on a fugitive warrant in Justice of the Peace Court. He was freed on $500 bond pending a formal request from Wisconsin's Gov. Gaylord Nelson for extradition.

Vinson made a formal statement yesterday to Oakland County Prosecutor, George F. Taylor, but through his attorney objected to being arraigned in Oakland. He then was taken to Macomb.

Although Vinson said he will fight extradition, UAW Attorney Nicholas J. Rothe said, "We may waive. I don't know that there is anything to be gained by stringing this out."

* * *

The UAW struck the Kohler plumbingware plant five and one-half years ago. The strike is still going on, but the plant is operating. The UAW has spent more than 10 million dollars financing the strike.

* * *

Vinson served a 13-month term in a Wisconsin prison for beating a Kohler employe in a bar during the early days of the strike.

* * *

Wisconsin authorities said they had evidence to support a new warrant against Vinson charging him with beating William Bersch Sr. and his son William Jr. at Sheboygan Falls July 4, 1954.

The elder Bersch died a year later and his son charged the beating was largely responsible. The death certificate attributed it to a heart ailment.

Two other men are serving prison terms after having been convicted in the Bersch beatings. They are John Gunaca of Detroit and Nick Vrckovic of Sheboygan.

Was Death Gun Torn From Barbara Finch?

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Was the pistol that killed Barbara Jean Finch snatched from her own hand?

The autopsy surgeon who described how a pistol shot killed Mrs. Finch acknowledged Friday—under cross-examination—that a small would on her right hand could have been caused when a pistol was wrenched from her grasp.

Dr. R. Bernard Finch's attorney borrowed an unloaded revolver from a sheriff's deputy to show the court how he thought one of a score of wounds on her body could have been caused.

* * *

The handsome physician hasn't yet told his version of what happened the night his wife was killed.

Does his attorney's contention about the pistol mean Dr. Finch will say he grabbed the pistol from his wife—and that her death was accidental?

'LOT MORE QUESTIONS'

* * *

"We have a lot more questions for Dr. Ridge."

It was Dr. Gerald K. Ridge who testified what his autopsy on Mrs. Finch showed.

He said she suffered more

Custodian Gets Insurance Firm

Surety Co. Is Broke, Says Blackford, but Ex-Head Fights Back

LANSING (UPI)—The fate of a multimillion dollar insurance company, once licensed to operate in 43 states, was in the hands of Michigan Insurance Commissioner Frank Blackford today.

* * *

Blackford said the Michigan Surety Co., Lansing, was broke as shown by audits of his company and an independent firm.

* * *

But Mark H. Kroll, 35, Cincinnati, Ohio, former president of the firm and executive of several other insurance companies, accused Blackford of "trying to kill" the company.

"There's a story so big behind all this all you are seeing is the window dressing," Kroll told newsmen he called to a session in a Lansing hotel last night.

"I don't know what it is," he said. "You find yourself all of a sudden condemned and convicted."

Wilson Meatpackers Tense Over Bombing

ALBERTA LEA, Minn. (UPI)—A nonunion meatpacking worker's home was bombed last night and the victim said the violent Wilson & Co. strike "is getting to be as bad as Hungary."

* * *

Two other non-strikers reported that 13 windows were broken in their home during the night. Both said the windows were smashed simultaneously, apparently by large sticks, indicating several persons participated in the vandalism.

* * *

The crude, homemade gasoline bomb caused minor damage to the colonial-style home of Frank Seidl, who said he has worked 10 years at the Wilson plant here without joining a union.

Seidl and his family were away when the bomb was thrown against the side of the house. No one was injured.

"This is the work of a bunch of goons," Seidl said, "but they can't scare me. I'm going back to work Monday."

Apparently the bombings, beatings and death threats which have punctuated the bitter 70-day strike had other Albert Lea residents scared, though.

One homeowner in Seidl's neighborhood reported that "tonight everybody was carrying guns and they looked like they might use them."

"The atmosphere is tense," Don Franz, news director at radio station KATE said. "Nobody knows exactly what's going to happen next.

"Some people have expressed a fear that somebody is going to be killed before this is over," Franz said.

Overworked, undermanned squads of policemen and sheriff's deputies have been fighting to quell the violence which has struck Albert Lea and surrounding Freeborn County since National Guard troops left town.

* * *

The guardsmen were ordered to close the plant Dec. 11 after two days of rioting on picket lines which were set up Oct. 29 when the United Packinghouse Workers of America (UPWA) struck Wilson plants across the nation.

The plant reopened under federal court order and the Guardsmen left town last week. Since then, the wave of violence has mounted daily.

Tuscola County Two-Car Crash Takes 3 Lives

Priest Is Crushed When His Auto Misses Curve Near Kalamazoo

The state, still under the onus of a nation-pacing 32 deaths during the New Year holiday last weekend, fearfully counted five traffic victims in the early hours of the new weekend.

In the Tuscola County crash, sheriff's deputies said the victims were all killed at the scene on the Bay City-Forestville road three miles west of Unionville.

* * *

Victims were Rev. Otto Koenig, 48, his wife, Betty Jane, 32, and young Karl Mark Borodycuk, all of Unionville. Police said the boy was returning from a high school basketball game when his car swerved into the path of the Koenig vehicle.

The Kalamazoo fatality was the sixth in eight days.

In that accident, Father John D. Hamilton, 41, of Battle Creek, was crushed to death when his car missed a curve on U.S. 12 near the expressway, and overturned.

William Clement Feld, 44, of Battle Creek, was tossed from Father amilton's car and seriously injured. He is in Borgess Hospital in Kalamazoo. That accident occurred just before midnight.

* * *

Duane B. Ownings, 29, Flint, died when his car rolled over after missing a curve in Flint Township at 2:45 this morning.

Bus Troubles to Be Studied

Williams Promises to Appoint Group to Work on Relief Measures

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams has promised to name a committee to study ways of easing the financial distress of local bus companies, the manager of the Michigan Motor Bus Assn. reported.

Carl S. Buchanan said the governor expressed sympathy for bus firms which are caught in a squeeze between declining patronage and rising costs of operation.

National City Lines, Inc., which operates buses in Pontiac, Saginaw and Kalamazoo, has been locked in a strike for a month.

The 38 members of Pontiac Local 1097 of the Amalgamated Assn. of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes Union, AFL, are asking for 22-cent-an-hour package increase.

The bus company so far has offered a 7-cent-an-hour package, saying it can't afford more.

Buchanan, in an interview with Williams yesterday, had urged that immediate tax relief be granted the companies for a specific period of time.

Recent legislatures have voted for such relief from state motor fuel and weight taxes. The bills were vetoed by the governor.

The plight of two bus firms, Buchanan said, was typical of the difficulties facing the entire industry in Michigan.

He noted that Intertown Suburban Bus Lines, serving 14 cities and villages, is up for sale with no takers.

And he reported that Great Lakes Transit Bus Lines has taken 48 buses out of service in the past year in its Wyandotte, Birmingham and Mount Clemens divisions. This, he added, cost the state $61,000 in weight and fuel taxes and left 67 drivers and maintenance men jobless.

2nd Royal Oak Twp. Goodfellow Guilty

By The Associated Press

A second Royal Oak Township police officer was found guilty yesterday of stealing Goodfellow funds while the same charge against an ousted township fireman was dismissed for lack of evidence.

Both cases were heard by visiting Justice of the Peace James Lawson of Farmington yesterday.

He found ex-patrolman Ernest Wilson, [illegible], guilty of keeping some of the funds he collected to provide Christmas gifts to needy children and fined him $50 or 10 days in jail.

Charles were dismissed against ex-fireman Annia Ruffin, 40.

According to Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor Donald A. Brown, evidence was insufficient to convict Ruffin inasmuch as he had allegedly received only one dollar bill, which did not show up among money turned into the fund at the end of the day.

* * *

The bills had been marked with powder by state police who arrested 12 men following collections and charged them with keeping the bills.

Wilson was convicted of stealing five of the marked one dollar bills. He is the second of eight firemen and policemen charged with the Goodfellow thefts Dec. 14 to be found guilty.

Ex-Police Chief William Warr was convicted earlier. All but two of the eight men have been tried.

All were fired by the Township Board following their arrests, and are seeking return to their posts through the township's Civil Service Board.

Among the other four men arrested were a township constable and three citizens, one of whom pleaded guilty at the time of his arraignment.

Ousted fireman Edward Tennant and patrolman William Boyd are scheduled for trial Wednesday. Their attorney, Milton Hentry of Pontiac, has demanded jury trials for the two men.

Detroit Blaze Kills 2, Injures 2

95 Firemen Hampered by High Winds, Ice at Apartment

DETROIT (AP) — Two men perished and two other persons were hurt in a fire that swept an apartment building on the lower west side about 2 a.m. today.

An explosion accompanied the blaze.

* * *

TRUMBULL AND LAFAYETTE

The dead men, burned beyond recognition, were identified tentatively as Alex Pâquette, 65, and Arthur Edwards, 75. Both lived on the third floor.

than 20 wounds—ranging from the fatal pistol shot to two skull fractures and an assortment of lacerations, bruises and abrasions.

The state contends Dr. Finch and Miss Tregoff came to the $65,000-Finch home in suburban West Covina last summer to carry out a plot to slay Mrs. Finch so the doctor and Miss Tregoff wouldn't have to share an estimated $750,000 in community property with her.

* * *

Dr. Ridge said he believed Mrs. Finch suffered a skull fracture in the family garage—where blood was found on her car and the garage floor.

* * *

He said she apparently was shot after she fled from the garage—possibly she ran down a flight of steps to a neighbor's lawn.

Heiress Missing; May Have Eloped

NEW YORK (AP)—Debutante heiress Gamble Benedict, 18, has been missing since Dec. 27, it was disclosed today. It was believed she may have eloped with a man nearly twice her age.

Her disappearance was being investigated quietly by police without the usual issuance of a missing persons alarm.

The New York Daily News said in a copyrighted story that the girl had vanished from her East Side Manhattan home the day after a dinner dance given in her honor by her grandmother, Katherine Geddes Benedict.

Mrs. Benedict is the widow of Henry Harper Benedict, former president of the Remington Typewriter Co. It was she who notified police that the girl is missing.

Drinking Curb, Radar Two of 4 FAA Rules

Violators will be subject to a fine of up to $1,000. The new airborne drinking regulations take effect March 10.

The FAA said its new drinking rule does not require the airlines to determine whether a passenger actually is drunk.

"Crew members may rely on the appearance of the passenger in determining whether or not to serve alcoholic beverages," it said.

Several pilots and stewardesses have urged during various government hearings that cocktails aloft be barred or restricted. They complained that drunken passengers have endangered flights.

* * *

The radar edict that airlines equip their pure jet and turboprop planes with storm-warning radar by next July 1 and most others by Jan. 1, 1962.

The agency said most of the commercial airliners must be equipped with radar "which enables pilots to detect and avoid severe weather conditions."

It ordered that Douglas DC6s and DC7s and Lockheed Constellations have their radar by next Jan. 1. All other affected planes must be equipped by Jan. 1, 1962.

* * *

DENIES CHARGES

FAA Administrator Elwood R. Quesada has denied charges that FAA proficiency tests have damaged commercial aircraft.

In a statement, he said there was no evidence to support charges by National Airlines pilots that strict FAA proficiency tests are harmful "and may eventually lead to failure."

The pilots' protest was prompted by the Wednesday crash of a National airliner at Bolivia, N.C., where 34 persons were killed.

At Bolivia, National Guardsmen and Marines began tramping through woods and fields near here today in search of the two bodies still missing.

Thirty-two bodies were found and identified by late yesterday but earlier searches of the muddy field and farmlands where the airliner crashed failed to yield the bodies of Julian A. Frank, Westport, Conn., and Carlos Ramos Valdes, Havana, Cuba.

* * *

While the troops combed the area, Civil Aeronautics Board investigators methodically studied the wreckage of the plane which they said Friday definitely fell apart before striking the ground.

In Miami, National and its pilots continued at odds today over the pilots' statement that they will take no more government-required flight tests on the ground these might weaken aircraft.

NAL said the pilots would continue to take the tests. The dispute arose following NAL's loss of 76 passengers and crewmen in recent airline disasters in the Gulf of Mexico and North Carolina.

Both the air line and the pilots said they are trying to resolve their differences locally.

A mass of cool Canadian air spilled into the Upper Mississippi Valley and Great Lakes region dropping readings from 10 to 20 degrees lower than 24 hours before.

In contrast a warm air mass, shoved by southerly winds, moved in over Texas and the Lower Mississippi Valley, raising temperatures slightly.

In the colder north, Duluth, Minn., has a temperature of four below zero at midnight compared to 12 above the midnight before. The greatest cooling came at Galdwin in lower Michigan where the mercury dropped to 12 from the 37 recorded Friday morning.

Cooler weather also was in store for the Pacific Northwest, the central Rockies and New England.

Precipitation was scarce. There were a few snow flurries in the Northeast and the northern Rockies. Northern California had rain.

Snow flurries and light rain in the Great Lakes, Pennsylvania and New England diminished during the night. Cloudiness swept in instead over the Lakes region.

Plenty of Protection for Pontiac

State Police Rack Up 443,755 Miles

Pontiac area residents got 443,755 miles worth of protection and enforcement from Pontiac state police in 1959.

That's how many miles the local troopers drove last year policing the county.

Most of the mileage was in traffic patrol, which kept police cars busy for 14,456 hours on county highways.

According to Sgt. Lorenz Ahlgrim, commander of the Pontiac post, police cars drove 253,272 miles patrolling traffic and 45,248 miles answering traffic complaints.

There were 25 men stationed at the Pontiac Post as of Dec. 31, including 20 troopers, three corporals, one detective and the commander.

This is two less than it started 1959 with. The two were transferred to other posts.

The men worked a total of 7,226½ days. The staff worked a total of 66,188½ hours.

Troopers answered 4,338 complaints. Of the 6,949 arrests made by troopers during the past year, 6,477 were for traffic violations and 472 for criminal complaints.

On the area highways the troopers stopped 6,044 cars, issued 9,015 verbal warnings to traffic violators and assisted 2,815 motorists who had developed motor trouble, had blowouts, ran out of gas, or had some other problem.

Troopers handled 25,758 property inspections which included mostly checking of business places at night and the homes of persons who were on vacation, said Ahlgrim.

There also was a total of 1,970 liquor inspections made in 1959.

The post replaced six patrol cars with new models, keeping the 13-car road patrol in top running order. Troopers, who must get to quently under poor road conditions, compiled an outstanding driving record.

Only two accidents were recorded for the year—one involving only minor property damage and the other occurring when a patrol car struck a deer that ran into its path.

* * *

Birmingham Commissioner Being Sued

Carl F. Ingraham, Birmingham city commissioner and former mayor, is being sued in Circuit Court for $10,000 by a former client of his who claims the Birmingham attorney didn't file a suit fast enough.

* * *

Charles Mercer, 73, now of Florida, said while he was serving as a guard at a school crossing in Birmingham on Jan. 25, 1955, he was struck down by a car driven by Walter B. Archer. Mercer said he engaged Ingraham to initiate a damage suit which, he contends in his new suit, would have collected $10,000 in damages from Archer.

* * *

Because, he said, Ingraham was negligent in not filing the suit before the statute of limitations ran out, Mercer is now seeking the $10,000 from Ingraham.

Warned: Tell Truth on Hitler

West Berlin Teachers Get Edict After 10,000 Anti-Nazis March

BERLIN (AP) — West Berlin school officials threatened today to crack down on teachers who refuse to tell their pupils the truth about Hitler and the Nazi era.

* * *

School Supt. Carl-Heinz Evers said his move was inspired by the recent wave of anti-Jewish acts, most of them carried out by youths who have had their schooling since World War II.

The move was a result of a demonstration by 10,000 Germans against hate-mongers and Nazism.

Evers told newsmen he intends to bring disciplinary action against any teacher who fails to give a correct picture of what the Nazis did. He also promised to prevent former Nazis from getting teaching jobs.

* * *

Half the teachers in West Berlin are over 45 and Evers said most of them were members of the Nazi party. Under a West German law, party members who had no serious charge against them are entitled to get back jobs they lost right after World War II.

"This," Evers said, "has brought us teachers we could have done without."

* * *

* * *

The anti-Nazi demonstration was the first staged in Germany since 1933, when Adolf Hitler rose to power.

The paraders, ignoring freezing weather, poured into Steinplatz Square, site of twin monuments to the victims of Nazism and Stalinism.

TRUCK IN A TANGLE — An ambulance crew had a few touchy moments yesterday as they worked their way through these live wires to the driver of this truck, Anthony Stasinski, 42, of Hamtramck. He later told Waterford Township Police Sgt. Frank Randolph and Patrolman David Putnam that he "blacked out" at the wheel while turning into an alley from Seeden street near U.S. 10. The truck sheared off the utility pole and pulled the wires snapping another nearby pole in half. Stasinski stayed in the cab until attendants could reach him. He was taken to Pontiac General Hospital for a checkup and released.

Threat Flops; Store Manager Calls Police

An anonymous caller threatened to shoot the family of a Pontiac supermarket manager last night unless the manager paid him $3,000.

Sidney J. Winstanley, 81, Henry Clay St., was working at the Wrigley Store, 536 N. Perry St., when he received the phone call at 6:10 p.m.

The caller ordered Winstanley to leave a bag containing $3,000 on the fender of his car. He said that a confederate had a rifle trained on Winstanley's wife and children.

A search of the neighborhood failed to produce any clues as to the caller.

Approval to sell six city-owned lots will be asked of voters in the Spring election, City Clerk Irene Hanley announced today.

The lots are in the East Maple Garden Subdivision, just west of Coolidge road. Three of the lots are on Maple road, the others on Yorkshire road.

Six years ago approval to sell the lots was given by voters, but building restrictions were placed on the purchaser and the lots remained undeveloped.

The City Commission has now lifted the restrictions following a recommendation of the Planning Board.

Eliot Robinson, vice chairman of the Planning Board, said that now the restrictions have been rescinded "it would be very poor public relations to attempt to dispose of the lots without first going to the voters."

Russia to Start Rocket Testing

Ships Patrolling Pacific Near Marshall Islands; Nations Warned

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Russian ships bristling with electronic gear cruised today near the Central Pacific region which Moscow has staked out as a rocket target area.

Russia asked other nations Thursday to keep their planes and ships out of a 45,000-square-mile area east of the Marshall Islands from Jan. 15 to Feb. 15 because they will fire powerful new rockets, designed for heavy satellite and planetary space missions, into the region to test their accuracy.

Some official sources here speculated that the tests mean Russia is preparing to put a man in space this year. One key U. S. space authority said, "I would be extremely alert, starting right now, for news that the Russians had put a man in a rocket."

The United States does not expect to put an astronaut into orbit until at least late 1961.

In Moscow, a Soviet government spokesman said today that the Pacific rocket test planned for later this month will have a target area 250 miles from American-owned Palmyra Atoll.

"It lies away from shipping lanes and islands," the spokesman said.

Says Bender Quit His Teamster Post

James H. Hoffa, union president, was said to be out of town, but it was reported Bender's resignation was on Hoffa's desk awaiting his return.

* * *

A second-half scoring spree by PCH here Friday evening and some timely assistance from Arthur Hill have vaulted the Chiefs to the top of the heap.

After trailing for nearly 12 of the first 16 minutes, the Chiefs finally got organized and defeated Bay City Central, 69-50, in Saginaw Valley action at the PCH gymnasium.

Meanwhile, in another SVC duel at Arthur Hill, the Hillites upset city rival Saginaw High, 61-59, to tumble the Trojans into second place.

* * *

Last night's contest in the PCH gym was not as one-sided as the final score might indicate.

Central was behind the Wolfpack at the end of the 1st quarter, 12-9, and couldn't gain a permanent advantage until the final minute of the 2nd period when two baskets forged a 31-27 halftime edge.

* * *

Bay City refused to fold after intermission. The Wolves kept on Central's heels through most of the 3rd stanza and the Chiefs could do no better than a 47-40 lead entering the 4th session.

With Booker Hurner's deadly aim providing the spark, the Chiefs flurried for 10 straight points in a two-minute span to put what had been an unsafe 10-point margin completely out of reach of the upset-minded Wolves.

* * *

Hurner accounted for half of Pontiac's 22 points in the 4th period and he wound up the game with 24 to take individual scoring honors. Bill Hayward added a dozen points to the PCH cause and Phil Rabaja made 10.

* * *

The Chiefs had to overcome a multitude of court violations to win their 5th decision in a row and preserve their perfect record. Seldom have the Chiefs been as guilty of sloppy floor play as they were Friday.

It was defeat No. 4 for the Wolves, whose aggressive play netted them 21 personal fouls. The Chiefs committed 17 personals and George Fed fouled out late in the 3rd stanza of the raggedly-played tilt.

* * *

Their sluggish nine-point 1st quarter was followed by a 22-point surge in the 2nd session and the momentum enabled them to hold the lead the rest of the way.

Junior guard Dick McCauley saw his heaviest duty in a PCH uniform and he may be of great value in the stretch run for the Valley crown. Big Bill Pritchett flashed occasional brilliance on the backboards.

* * *

Rochester Drops Overtime Game to Roseville, 47-44

Rochester led for 31 minuts of the game against Roseville last night but it took only 30 seconds to lose. The Falcons dropped a 47-44 overtime decision to Roseville which is a member-to-be in the Tri-County league.

Rochester had the lead from the opening whistle and held a 24-19 halftime advantage.

The Falcons still had a chance to win it in regulation time when Bob Evans dropped in a free throw to tie it 41-41. His second shot would have been the clincher but it spun out and the game went into overtime.

* * *

May again was the culprit against Rochester. He had only three points in the first and two points in the third quarter.

In the 4th quarter however May got 8 of the 16 points and his opening bucket in the overtime moved Roseville on the way to victory.

Rochester had Jim Thompson, Bill Mason and Reggie Dixon in double figures with 14, 12 and 10 points, but it wasn't enough. Duane Soine had 16 for Roseville with May adding 15.

Rochester now stands 1-4 for the season, one of the poorest starts for coach Gene Konley and the Falcons in many season.

An ice run on the lake at the club is also planned. If the ice is not thick enough, a closed circuit regularity trial will be run on the 1.5 mile paved course. One car at a time will take the trial and no special safety equipment is required.

Post entry registrations will be permitted at the clubhouse. Starting time is 1:00 p.m. and the fee is $1.50 per driver.

All sports car drivers are welcome to participate.

'Lonesome Center' Hits 26, So. Lyon Wins

New South Lyon basketball coach Bob Meeth has come up with a basketball version of the lonesome end. He is Jack Wren—a center.

The experiment tried first during a holiday tournament proved successful again last night in a 68-45 walloping of Dexter. Wren tallied 26 making eight of his 10 baskets by taking long passes while he waited under the basket. The "ticket-taker" now has 89 in four games after getting only 11 in three outings playing the normal way.

Thumb Wins for Dryden, Armada and Anchor Bay

Anchor Bay was never in trouble beating Capac 56-49, but Armada had to stall out the last three minutes to win 48-46.

In other league contests Brown City whipped New Haven 55-41, and Dryden bounced Almont 54-45.

Amada had a 44-38 when it started the stall and Memphis was forced to foul trying to get possession. Terry Wills poured in 21 points and 17 rebounds and Ken Montgomery added 15 for Armada.

* * *

Dick Rivard with 16 and Reg Brown with 15 were Anchor Bay's big guns with John Stanlon getting 15 for Capac.

Almont shot only 14 per cent in the first half and 23 per cent for the game in losing to Dryden. Jerry Conn, Carl Grondin and Bob Burnett led Dryden with 16, 15 and 14 points, while Jeff Bagdonas and Bob Wallace collected 13 for Almont.

Jim Miller's 12 points led Brown City while Chopp had 12 for New Haven.

PNH, Farmington Await Battle; Waterford Falls

Northern Stays Tied for I-L Lead on Victory

Walled Lake 63-50 Huskie Victim; Big Battle Here Jan. 15

By CHUCK ABAIR

There were plenty of empty seats at the Pontiac Northern gym last night as the Huskies trampled Walled Lake 63-50 but that shoud all change come next Friday.

A showdown battle for first place in the Inter-Lakes League is the scheduled event that evening with Farmington providing the opposition.

The Falcons, pre-season loop favorites, handed Waterford its initial I-L setback last night to remain in a deadlock with PNH at 3-0.

Each team has a full week to get ready for the crucial contest with no games in between.

Northern was good enough to handle a ragged Walled Lake quintet with ease but the Huskies will likely have to play much better ball if they hope to get past Farmington.

Control of the backboards, featuring the work of Steve Thompson and Dennis Vincent, and some outstanding foul shooting were the key factors for the charges of coach Dick Hall against the Vikings.

A 25-for-37 free throw record helped offset a 28 per cent floor shooting mark. Walled Lake hit 31.4 per cent from outside and was also strong on the foul line but PNH had 22 more field goal attempts as an indication of its dominance of the boards.

Northern was in front right from the opening whistle using a tight press effectively. The 1st quarter ended 18-12. It was up to 35-23 at halftime. Although the Huskies kept missing shots they would rebound and continue firing until successful.

The scoreboard showed a 20-point difference with only 2:44 gone in the 3rd period when Walled Lake displayed its best ball of the evening. The visitors hit nine straight digits before faltering again.

It was 49-32 starting the closing session and all over but the shouting with the Vikings missing chances to score on bad passes and poor ballhandling. The difference reached 21 at one point.

Northern bettered by one its previous team total highlighted by Thompson's 21. Bruce Norton followed with 16 and Mike Fedynik added 10. Gary Wilkoff swished 15 and Bill Allen 13 for WLHS which is now 1-5 overall and 0-3 league-wise.

The second straight victory put the Huskies at the .500 mark overall with 3-3. Walled Lake has a four-game defeat streak going including two successive dismal showings.

UGH! — Bob Crampton (35) of Bay City Central has his eye on the loose ball as Pontiac Central's Booker Hurner unceremoniously bounces off the deck in last night's Saginaw Valley Conference game at PCH. This wasn't a common position for Hurner, however, since he bagged 24 points to highlight the Chiefs' 69-50 victory.

Eric Monti Tops L. A. Open Field

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Eric Monti, who felt so bad he almost skipped play, shot a brilliant 5-under par 66 Friday to lead the parade in the first round of the $37,500 Los Angeles Open.

The scholarly-looking, bespected golf instructor, who has won numerous California sectional titles, toured the 7,000 yard Rancho golf course, with its par of 35-36—71, in 32-34—66.

First Defeat for Utica

Utica's basketball team couldn't stop South Lake's Gary Vitoo last night and went down to its first defeat of the season in a Bi-County League game at Utica. Vitoo tallied 28 points to feature South Lake's 62-52 triumph. Utica's record now stands 2-1.

Lapeer Smeared, 81-50

Flint Southwestern, a member-to-be in the Saginaw Valley Conference, ran away with Lapeer, 81-50 last night with Bob Franklin and Bob Lucas each getting 19 for the winners.

Lamphere Wins 3rd

Lamphere High of Madison Heights led all the way in handing Country Day a 44-35 setback last night in the Central Suburban League.

It was Lamphere's third win in as many starts and was Country Day's first loss in four games.

Skippers Take 65-44 Beating From Falcons

Big 4th Period Spells Doom for WTHS in Key League Game

Waterford temporarily moved out of the showdown battle for the Inter-Lakes title last night by dropping a 65-44 decision to Farington.

The victory pushes Farmington into a tie with Pontiac Northern for the league lead and brings up the big game next Friday night at PNH.

The Skippers were behind 30-22 at halftime and got only within four points, 40-36 in the third quarter, but after that Farmington pulled away without trouble.

A 25-point fourth quarter for Farmington was too much for Waterford which managed only eight points during this period.

Despite the 21-point margin in the score, Waterford had only two less field goals than Farmington. The Skippers however, managed only two of eight free throws while the Falcons were dumping 19 of 24 charity tosses.

Bob Newman led the Waterford attack with 13 points while Chapman hit 20 and Allen 15 for Farmington.

* * *

In the other Inter-Lakes game of the night, Southfield gained its first loop win by whipping defending champion Berkley, 58-45, with Ed Schlaff getting 25 points and Gordy Dye and John Van Brunt each adding 10.

Berkley took the lead once in the third quarter, going ahead by two points, but Southfield regained the advantage and then piled up its lead.

Waterford will have to win next week at Berkley to stay in contention for the I-L crown.

Ex-Detroit Pro Cager Hits 30 Points for Syracuse

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — George Yardley drilled in 30 points Friday night as the Syracuse Nats defeated Detroit 118-107 in a National Basketball Assn. battle.

Mikemen, Rams Meet Tonight in City Series

Hot 1st Half Brings Win for OLSM; St. Ben Has Close Call

By H. GUY MOATS

While Pontiac St. Frederick and St. Michael marked time for tonight's cross-town battle, Orchard Lake St. Mary last night rolled along to its 4th straight Suburban Catholic League victory. Eaglets defeated Royal Oak St. Mary 52-43, mainly on the strength of a big first half.

Both city parochials concluded their drills for tonight's argument in PCH's big gymnasium, with light workouts Friday. Each club was reported at full strength, and primed for an all-out scrap. Rams will be shooting for their 23rd victory in the long series, and their 2nd win of the current season. Shamrocks seek their 16th win of the series, and their 3rd, against one loss for this campaign. Varsity game starts at 8:15 p.m.

Eaglets led all the way at Royal Oak, slashing out to a 33-16 halftime margin. It was a good thing the Orchard Lakers provided such a big cushion, for they were outscored 27-19 in the second half. However, the ROSM club was hurt by poor conversions from the free throw line, missing nine straight and collecting but a single free shot in 11 tries during the last half.

When Eaglets fell off in the last period to score only nine points, seven were chalked up by Glen Hass, whose 19 total was tops for the night. Two other Eaglets hit in double figures, Don Duszynski (11), Stan Krogulecki (12). Bob Dorr and Jim Bliss had 10 each and Ron Koteles had 11 for the RO club.

Other SCL games resulted in an upset win for St. Rita over Ferndale St. James, 53-48, and the 4th straight win for St. Benedict, 42-38, over St. Clement. Ravens had a battle on their hands to stave off the improved Crusaders, and continue as co-leaders of the loop, with Eaglets.

St. James led midway the 3rd period by 5, but fell behind early in the finale. Paul Kaminski led the winners with 20, while Neil Kiernan has 22 for St. James.

Crusaders were in front at St. Bens, up to the last three minutes, when Ed Everhardt tied the score at 36-36, on two free throws. Art Massucci, Kelly and Longo then hit three straight baskets to go in front and win. Everhardt, and Crusaders' Van Hule each had 14 to pace scoring.

NCAA 'Oklahoma' Version Ends One Week Run Today

NEW YORK (AP)—The 54th annual NCAA convention, subtitled "Oklahoma," today ended a week long run on Broadway.

But the final session promised to be only a curtain call for the 18-man Council, the powerful ruling body that earlier slapped the University of Oklahoma with indefinite probation.

* * *

The Council, which also hit Tulsa with a light one-year probation, still had 11 other investigations into NCAA member schools hanging but it was doubtful any disciplinary action would be taken.

Oklahoma, barred from post-season football games, and all NCAA - controlled TV programs, theoretically could get off the hook today with a last-minute disclosure of the records of an athletic recruiting fund.

But the university, which has cooperated fully with the NCAA, does not have the records. The NCAA says they are in the possession of Arthur L. Wood of Oklahoma City, an athletic booster who has no official connection with the Sooners.

He says the NCAA isn't going to see them. Hence, the impasse until at least the next meeting of the Council sometime in April.

Miami Beach, Fla., now takes over the collegiate spotlight. The NCAA Football Rules Committee meets there next week to weigh two contradictory recommendations:

* * *

1. That it adopt unlimited substitution for the 1960 season as proposed by the American Football Coaches Assn.

2. That it makes no substantial change in the football substitution rules, as proposed by the NCAA itself.

The NCAA recommendation came in a surprise move on the convention floor yesterday after the football coaches had backed unlimited substitution on Tuesday.

Stan Gracki had 20 for Shrine.

Lake Orion Blasts Romeo 75-58 Tuning up for 'B' Race

Troy was sitting pretty in the Oakland B driver's seat with Avondale and Lake Orion a close second today as the result of last night's games.

The Colts had a surprisingly easy time manhandling a Fitzgerald team which had won seven straight including the championship of a tourney. Friday's final count was 61-38.

Avondale, the only previous conqueror of Fitzgerald, won out at Oak Park, 67-57. Orion went outside the league and turned in a strong performance drubbing Romeo, 75-58.

Something will have to give on the 2nd place situation Tuesday when Orion visits the Avon gym.

Fitzgerald actually kept Troy busy for one half. The Spartans were behind 14-11 at the opening session and 29-25 following 16 minutes. The Colts really took over following the rest session featuring a 22-point 4th quarter.

Rick McKinnon topped seven Troy scorers with 17. Bud Acton fired in 13, was a standout on defense and grabbed 16 rebounds. Jerry Glidewell chipped in with 12. Phil Morgan was the big noise for the losers with 18.

Darryl Thorpe led a well-balanced Yellowjacket attack with 22. Harold Sweet and Dave Stewart combined for 26 as the Parker stars.

Clawson was trailing by 12 late in the third period but fought back for a 16-3 last period advantage. Gary Boss' 12 was high for CHS. Gene Shooltz hit 11 for Madison which is now 0-6 over-all.

* * *

City Kegler Nears All-Star Semifinals

Moore's Bowling OK

(Special to The Pontiac Press)

OMAHA, Neb. — Monroe Moore, of Pontiac, Michigan, came within a pin of duplicating his earlier performance when he posted a 1,249 Friday in his second six-game block at the 19th annual National All-Star bowling tournament.

Moore, who rolled 1,248 Thursday, this time around had scores of 194-214-225-194-206-216. With a 12-game aggregate of 2,487, he ranked 28th.

Fred List, of San Antonio, Tex., leads the All-Star meet with 2,623.

If he continues his present pace, Moore should have no difficulty advancing to Monday's hectic semifinals when two six-game blocks are rolled.

Only the highest scoring 96 contestants will be eligible to return after Sunday's activity.

Three woman record-breakers who provided a rousing climax to yesterday's action held key positions today as the qualifying rounds moved near complition.

Tiny Sylvia Wene, 30, Philadelphia, who stands only four feet, 11½ inches, fired the first 300 game by a woman in the history of the tournament.

That classic line, which also made her the only woman ever to bowl three sanctioned perfect games, helped catapult her into 10th place in the women's standings. She was 54th at the end of Thursday's bowling.

The top spot in the women's standings was held by Mena Degymas, 37, a Chicago secretary, who totaled 869 in four gams yesterday for a tourney total of 1,686 — a new eight-game high in the women's division. She averaged 210 over eight games.

The record - breaking by the women took the play away from th men's division where List, a 34-year-old sharpshooter, held the lead with a 12-game total of 2,623.

List, who averaged 224 as he chopped down 1,345 pins yesterday, was 32 pins ahead of his nearest challenger, little Dick Weber of St. Louis, a three-time All-Star finalist, who had 2,591.

'Jones to Rome' Fund Now Over $400 Total

The "Jones to Rome Fund", a voluntary fund from Hayes Jones' friends, to help send Hayes' parents to the 1960 Olympics in Rome, Italy, has now gone beyond the $400 mark. However, there is still need for additional contributions to assure the cost of transportaion, during the August track events in which the former PCH star hurdler (now at EMU) will take part, if he qualifies this spring. There is little doubt about his qualification.

Total, as of the first of the year, was $435.25, including $50 from West Pontiac Kiwanis club, several $10 checks, and one check, from Bessie Wright, ($) from Berkeley, California.

Maples Rip E. Detroit; EML in Three-Way Tie

The Eastern Michigan League took a surprising turn last night with pre-season favorite Ferndale still winless after two starts and three other teams tied for the lead with 2-0 records.

Port Huron blasted Ferndale, 61-54, to move into a three way tie for the lead with Birmingham, which spanked East Detroit, 58-48, and Mt. Clemens a 57-53 winner over Hazel Park.

Birmingham won its third game in four starts with a 20 point scoring output for Merv Gallup and 15 points from Bill Massey along with the board work of Phil Isbell who hauled in 17 rebounds.

Port Huron did it the easy way against Ferndale, pushing to a 26 point lead early in the third quarter and coasting in with ease.

Jack Moores with 14 along with Fred Laughlin and Bill Barr with 13 each led the Hurons while Dennis Stinson had 14 and Mike Brown 12 for the Dales.

Larry Vann's 18 led the Mt. Clemens attack. The Bathers are now unbeaten in four games.

Boys Can Register

Gloves Tourney Jan. 30th

The second annual Junior Chamber of Commerce Golden Gloves tournament has been set for Saturday nights January 30th and February 6th.

Any boy interested in taking part in the tournament or working out at the gym should contact Strange.

Twelve Pontiac fighters are registered for the tournament along with boxers from Port Huron and Fenton. Bob McCulla, trainer of the Port Huron team, says 20 fighters will be entered in the Pontiac tournament.

Winners from Pontiac will go to Grand Rapids for the state Golden Glove finals Feb. 12-13. Last year 13 fighters out of 16 divisions represented the Pontiac tournament at Grand Rapids.

A bright prospect on the Pontiac team this year is Glen Uhl of Auburn Heights, a 21 year-old welterweight, who fought for the Pigeon Boys Club and also for a U.S. Marine team.

Uhl has had 22 fights as an amateur winning 17, losing four and drawing another. He is currently employed at GMTC.

* * *

* * *

Strange, who has been training Golden Glove boxers since 1934, says the training quarters are open to any boy interested in boxing. He does not have to participate in the tournament.

* * *

Kimball Scores Lifeless Triumph Over Cranbrook

Cranbrook and Royal Oak Kimball played a lifeless basketball game last night with the Royal Oak quint coming out on top of a 33-25 contest.

The Cranes, who got only one field goal in 27 attempts in first half, went on a spree in the third quarter with 13 points. In the other three quarters the Cranes got five in the first, five in the second, and two in the 4th.

Kimball led 15-10 at halftime. Larry Stewart of Kimball and John Hayden of Cranbrook each had 7 points for the high outputs.

Capitol Table Netters Have Three Game Lead

In Thursday's matches Sid Dickstein knocked Harold Heckman from the unbeaten ranks by the scores of 18-21, 21-17 and 21-12. This leaves only Perc Secord of the barber team as the lone unbeaten player in the league.

Broncos Lone County Winner in W-O, 61-54

* * *

Clarkston put up a gallant battle before going down to its third defeat in four loop outings.

After being down by seven at halftime, the Wolves sliced the difference to four at the end of two starting the final before Clarenceville moved away to stay.

* * *

Milford never was in front but threatened all the way before losing 61-54 at Holly. The Broncos opened strong with a 21-14 first quarter advantage but it was narrowed to three at the intermission. It was 48-40 starting the final eight minutes.

Ron Morlan paced both teams 24 sparking the Holly cause. Dick Whitman garnered 16 and Gene Schuett 12 for the Redskins, who made three more field goals.

* * *

Except for being busy trying to stop Tom Maron, Brighton had little trouble gaining its eighth season triumph in nine games, 55-39. It was 17-9 and 33-19 following the 1st two quarters.

Maron wound up with 22 to top both schools. Brighton ace Don Appleton totaled 19 with Doug Verellen contributing 12.

Free throws doomed West Bloomfield both in overall scoring and the game wrapup.

* * *

The Lakers were in the van 42-41 with 1:30 to play when Northville converted three successive fouls for what proved to be the clinching points. Keego's John Long was fouled with 25 seconds left. He made the first but missed the second with a chance for a tie on a 1-and-1. A final shot from the floor by the losers was also futile.

West Bloomfield finished with five more field goals yet was beaten by an 18-for-30 charity record while missing 13 of 20.

Rog Atchinson of NHS and Denis Alix each hit 13 topping the teams.

* * *

Meadows Scores 40 but Dondero Loses

The Oaks were ahead from the start but when Meadows fouled out with five minutes and two others followed the roof fell in. He also captured 20 rebounds in his 27 minutes on the court. Ken Hornyak tallied 22 and Dan Wrobie 23 for the Dottes.

Reflections

BE SURE

Man could have flown ten thousand years ago—if he had known the fact Orville Wright discovered, that air is a mass just as the sea is a mass. Facts send rockets thousands of miles into space. Cyrus W. Field "thought" he could string a wire cable to Europe; he did. It broke before the first message was sent; sound engineering facts made his venture successful. Planets in the Universe follow a precise course, their tolerance to error is nil; astronomers tell us the minute when a star will appear, based on facts. They're sure.

The following are facts: Marriage is a lifetime partnership, equally sharing commonweal; giving brings lasting happiness, not acquisition of material things; friendship is sublime trust; neighborliness is a free exchange of affection; civilization is self-imposed restrictions to bring harmony out of chaos.

Before you parrot criticism, BE SURE YOU KNOW THE FACTS.

Flex Rocket Biceps for Asia's Benefit

MOSCOW (UPI) — Russia's announcement of Pacific rocket firing plans is aimed at impressing Asian nations on the eve of Premier Nikita Khrushchev's visit to Indonesia and India, diplomatic circles said today.

* * *

Observers here also believe the main significance of the Soviet Union's announcement that a powerful missile will be fired into the Pacific between Jan. 15 and Feb. 15 was the progress it indicates.

It shows the Russians now have the ability to shoot rockets so heavy that there is not enough room in the vast Soviet territory to test them.

But the diplomats pointed out that the testing also had political effects.

The Soviets have campaigned against the new United States-Japanese security treaty, which is scheduled to be signed Jan. 19. Diplomats said that Soviet rockets landing in the Pacific during this period could not help but impress the nations of that area with Soviet scientific and military might.

The same edition of Pravda that carried the testing announcement today also ran an editorial criticizing the American treaty with Japan and pointing out that the Japanese delegation leaves for Washington Jan. 16—one day after the rocket testing may begin.

* * *

Previous trips by the Soviet Premier have been accompanied by spectacular scientific achievements. The Russians hit the moon with a rocket before he left for the United States last September.

Commerce Man Arraignment Set

Charged With Beating Oldster in Squabble Over Mud-Splashing

Arraignment has been scheduled for Jan. 18 in Circuit Court for a Commerce Township man who allegedly beat up a 63-year-old man who objected to his splashing mud on him with his automobile.

* * *

Cummings is accused of attacking George Haus of 298 Havana St., Commerce Township, last November while Haus was walking home after his car stalled on Carrol Lake road near Vinona street.

Haus said he pursued Cummings' car, which had pulled into a driveway, and asked why he didn't slow down when passing a pedestrian. Cummings jumped out of his car and began hitting and kicking him, he said.

* * *

Cummings is free on a $1,000 bond pending arraignment in two weeks before Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland.

Travels 200 Miles and Riddles Farmer

NEW LONDON, Wis. (AP)—A Chicago man drove 200 miles and riddled a Waupaca County farmer with bullets Friday night, a sheriff said. The gunman shot the farmer's housekeeper and then was critically wounded himself in a wild gunbattle with officers.

* * *

The dead farmer was identified by Sheriff Ray Abrahamson as Frank Heidemann, 40, who operated a farm about four miles from New London.

The gunman was identified as Garvin Lee Gillham, 33. He was reported in critical condition in a hospital here with a bullet in the chest and one in each arm.

Heidemann's housekeeper, Gloria Gillham, 22, who had divorced Gillham three months ago, was in the same hospital with two bullet wounds in the abdomen.

Storekeeper Suffers Mentally, Materially

MIDLAND (AP) — Prospective thieves are advised to stay away from the Gray Hardware Store in Midland. Owner William Wall's eyes have been sharpened by the loss of two steak dinners, a rifle and an outboard motor.

Wall's troubles began last November. A rifle was stolen from his store and he complained to his friend, A. S. Arbury Jr., an insurance man, that he didn't know it was missing until he wanted to show it to a prospective customer.

Arbury chaffed Wall about his loss and then offered to bet two steak dinners he could steal an outboard motor from the store. Wall accepted.

* * *

The woman asked for a ladder and the clerk had to leave the store and go to a rear warehouse to get it.

When he went out, Arbury and a friend rushed in. They picked up a 40-horsepower outboard motor and the rack it was mounted on and lugged it down the street to Arbury's insurance office.

Wall didn't notice his loss, so Arbury invited him over to the insurance office the next evening. Wall failed to notice the motor on display. Arbury asked him if he would like to buy an outboard motor.

Wall realized then that he'd lost the bet.

* * *

Wall has his motor back now, and, according to Arbury, he has refused to accept a bet that Arbury can take a boat from the hardware store.

Cuba Releases 72 Prisoners

Gives No Explanation; Other Political Arrests Being Made

HAVANA (UPI)—The government last night announced the release of 72 persons, including 69 former members of the military, who had been imprisoned in Pinar Del Rio Province on charges of "counter-revolutionary terrorism and sabotage."

The report from Pinar Del Rio said the government gave no explanation of the mass release of prisoners from jails in Consolacion Del Sur and Los Palacios.

Castro Takes Control of Big Auto Agency

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's government has taken over control of Cuba's biggest automobile agency.

The order said the firm was beset by labor problems, but company informants said the only problem was its refusal to give Christmas bonuses because of increased costs and decreased sales owing to new import restrictions.

The company is owned by Amadeo Barletta. His son, Amadeo Jr, is president. Friends said the father holds Italian citizenship while the son is a U.S. citizen by birth.

Russian Bath Always White

Hydronic heating is used exclusively in new construction in Russia. Most of the heating is done with oil, except in coal areas.

This information comes from Mrs. Olga Bayar, Russian supervisor of the model apartment which is part of the Soviet Exhibition in New York City. The exhibit includes a bathroom and kitchen.

The bathroom fixtures—an enamel-coated cast-iron bathtub, shower, small china lavatory, and water closet—are simple in design and appear to be less modern than new American fixtures.

The bathroom, according to the Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Information Bureau, is small, as are the other rooms in the typical apartment. A New York Times reporter recently returned from Moscow said that few Russians have such bathrooms or apartments yet.

Russian bathroom fixtures are manufactured in white only. Mrs. Bayar, after viewing American-made plumbing fixtures in New York, praised their aesthetic and labor-saving designs as well as the attractive colors of American fixtures.

Bird Smorgasbord

Our fine feathered friends have a food problem during the winter months. They would appreciate finding some crumbs or seed in your backyard birdfeeder. A wooden box makes an ideal feeder, and you can make it attractive and colorful with a coat of bright enamel.

Better Check Essentials Before Moving in House

How to make a pint-sized master bedroom appear both spacious and lovely is a problem besetting many a homemaker.

* * *

The key to decorating, many have discovered, lies in using interesting materials and textures for the walls and floors of the tiny bedroom, and in choosing furnishings of clean, simple line.

* * *

To gain maximum space mileage, smart homeowners find that substituting built-in chiffoniers and specially designed closets for conventional furniture gives added square footage. Even the bed can be made less visually overwhelming in size with a little know-how.

Here, the trick is to do away with both footboard and headboard. To replace the headboard, clever decorators use a striking accent wall. This not only relieves space within the room, but also gives opportunity for individual design expression.

In this manner, dramatic "headboards" have been created with wall paneling of rough-sawn western red cedar. The rough cedar introduces strong texture into the room, an element very much needed when dealing with small, cubical spaces. Finished naturally, the cedar's rich, ruddy coloring emanates warmth and candid beauty.

SPREAD CONTRASTS

As a complement to the drama of the rough cedar wall, a silky surfaced bedspread should be used. Color possibilities are limitless. For a serene atmosphere, pale, clear blue for the bedspread has been used with stunning effect, especially when backed by oyster white in a loop carpet and repeated for nightstands and closet fronts.

Naturally finished cedar is an equally good backdrop for the more heady shades of red, gold, russet, or for cool sea colors.

Other intriguing headboard walls have been designed of white pocket Douglas fir, a wood in which tiny open pores are scattered across the face of the panel board. An elegant white-and-gold boudoir can be created using the white pocket accent wall as the starter.

Panel boards are brushed with white paint which is rubbed off before it is completely dry so that the wood's light tracing of grain is still distinguishable. Metallic gold paint is then brushed into the open pores, leaving a hint of glitter across the wall.

There are any number of possibilities for striking headboard walls when using distinctive woods.

* * *

This gives free scope for unusual decorative effects in each room of the home, but preserves a neat, uniform appearance outside. These two-faced shades are growing in popularity at a very rapid pace.

New Dormers Gain Space

Dormers for low ranch homes are a news item in the building world, according to officials of the Dara Building Company of Pontiac. This company has been granted franchise rights to build this new type of dormer which eliminates rebuilding the upper part of the house to get more living space.

After a hole is cut in the roof in the center of the house, a complete addition (floor, walls and roof) is built within the hole. Walls of the addition are tied into the original structure and the exterior is finished to conform with the rest of the house.

It is expected that this type of building upwards will appeal to homeowners who cannot or do not wish to add the same amount of space on the ground level.

No Bumpa Da Head

Those garage doors that slide forward and upward can often be the cause of head bumps. Protect yourself from these headaches by painting the bottom edge of the door in a bright color that blends with the other exterior colors of your home. Your color warning will be a constant reminder of this hazard.

Turn Off Radiators Cover With Flat Paint

Don't use a metallic paint on your radiators; it keeps the heat in. Best idea is to paint them with the same flat paint you use for your walls. This makes the unsightly devices fade into the background and become less noticeable and also permits a maximum of heat radiation.

Turn the radiators off before painting. With the quick drying latex paints, you won't mind having the heat off for an hour or so.

Panels First

Long-Term Investment

It's wise to pay a little more and get a heating system that will last as long as the house and will burn fuel economically. This advice is offered in a booklet "Choosing a Heating Plant Wisely" published by the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau, 35 East Wacker Drive, Chicago 1, Ill. The booklet contains many helpful suggestions on the factors to be considered in the seleciton of a heating system for a home, either new or old.

OPEN PLAN — The model home in Riviera Shores has an open plan in the living area. This picture was taken from the living room. Directly behind the gray brick fireplace is the dining room. Flush birch cabinets in a fruitwood finish separate this room from the kitchen and the kitchen from the breakfast room. There are pebbled glass panels that slide shut to conceal the kitchen. Corner posts are wrought iron. Winglemires of Holly furnished this model. It will be open from 1 p. m. daily, starting Sunday, January 10.

Third of Nation's Lumber Comes from the South

The South is now providing one-third of the nation's total lumber supply, principally Southern Pine, and has the potential to provide a lot more.

Success of reforestation and the spread of forest management and organized fire protection are the chief reasons. Whereas the Southern Pine producing states had only 846 tree farms in 1946, they now have 9,272—or 11 times as many. Moreover, the South has 33 million —or 66 per cent—of the nation's 50 million tree farm acres.

Put Kids in 'Barracks' for More Orderly Living

Families with several small children can take a hint from the Army in setting up a sleeping plan for their pre-teens. A military "barracks" plan, with each child having his own bed, chest and foot locker, is an efficient way to preserve order in the children's sleeping area.

The plan can be put into effect in a large bedroom or a new "children's wing" added on the rear of the house. Since each child only has a limited area, an extremely large room is not necessary.

As soon as the child is old enough to help around the house, he can be put in charge of his own area. Such things as making the bed, keeping clothes in order and putting toys away will become part of a daily routine under the "first sergeant" — Mom.

To keep the room as practical as possible, the walls should be made "child-proof" by installing a washable paneling, such as plastic-surfaced hardboard. This paneling is highly-resistant to hard wear, abrasions and other causes of deterioration.

* * *

Even crayon marks and mussy hand prints can be removed with a sudsy cloth. It never requires refinishing, an important consideration for the budget-minded family.

To increase the room's storage potential, plastic-surfaced hardboard in Peg-Board form can be installed over each bed. Pictures, school work and other paraphernalia can be attached to the panel, which also has a washable plastic surface.

Framed planking placed across two small cabinets will provide a study area for school age children.

Throw 'Em Away

Paint dealers stock numerous painting aids such as rollers, paint buckets and painting gloves that can be discarded after use. These inexpensive items are a great help for the do-it-yourselfer and, because they are disposable, there is no storage problem.

Woman Diplomat Thinks Fireplaces Are Essential

WASHINGTON — Miss Frances Willis, the U.S. Ambassador to Norway, currently has two homes half a world apart but with a common feature she doubts she'd ever want to be without — fireplaces.

* * *

One of the homes is, naturally, the U.S. Embassy in Oslo. The other, which she rarely sees these days, is her family home in Redlands, Calif.

Speaking of the Embassy during a routine trip to Washington, Miss Willis said, "It is one of the friendliest homes I've ever known. I sometimes try to analyze it — but it's always difficult to analyze the atmosphere of a house. I think one of the things I like about it so much is that it is not too formal."

Embassy living can be a taxing matter for U.S. envoys assigned to capitals around the world — as it can for ambassadors from other countries stationed in Washington. They need big residences for formal entertaining yet they want the embassies to have a hospitable atmosphere and, when possible, suggest something of the flavor of their own country.

* * *

Miss Willis, this country's only woman ambassador, said the embassy in Oslo is a "Beautiful house that the U.S. Government bought in 1924 — it is big as it has to be for purposes of entertainment and representation."

She told the National Association of Home Builders that "one of the things I like about it so well is that it has fireplaces — you can draw up chairs around the fire and feel quite at home."

She also enjoys the garden of the embassy. "The flowers in Norway are fantastically beautiful," she said. "They grow to tremendous size and I think this is at least partly due to the fact that in summer we have sunlight nearly 20 hours a day — for six weeks it is not dark enough to see the stars."

FAVORITE ROOMS

Asked if she had a favorite room in the embassy, Miss Willis said she liked different rooms for different things. But she said that she and her mother, who lives with her, have a delightful upstairs sitting room they particularly enjoy and "a cozy library downstairs" where she can entertain a small number of guests and be completely informal.

These two rooms, she said, "probably bear the greatest imprint of me because they contain my books, pictures and other personal things."

For big dinners, the Ambassador can seat 32 at the table. Friends have told her she could get more at the table "but I say I can't do it and still entertain informally," she said.

Her home in Redlands, Calif., is a simple, two-story, brown shingle house set in what was once the corner of an orange grove. It still has many orange trees around it, Miss Willis said happily.

* * *

She likes its fireplaces and the fact that the house is "very expandable." When she and her mother are there, the family gather and, with the porches becoming sleeping places for some of them, the house "just seems to stretch and take care of all of us."

While she enjoys the embassy in Oslo and is proud to represent the United States there, her favorite house is, understandably, her California home.

Conventional type shower heads deliver on the average about eight gallons of water per minute. The average bather showers about five minutes. Total water consumed is 40 gallons.

UP Democrats Buck Party on Redistricting Issue

LANSING (UPI) — There's no place like home when it comes to deciding priorities on loyalty.

The split among Democrats over reapportionment of the Senate indicates there are Democrats to whom home district boundaries are more important than party lines.

Outstate Democrats generally are cool toward the Supreme Court bid by August Scholle, president of the Michigan AFL-CIO, to force reapportionment of the State Senate.

"I'm against it 100 per cent," said Sen. William A. Miron (D-Escanaba).

Miron and other Upper Peninsula senators fear Scholle's suit to reaportion on a population basis would result in a single district for the entire Peninsula.

Another Upper Peninsula Democrat, Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams, Sault Ste. Marie, is leading the fight against Scholle's suit. He said it would "radically alter" some systems of representation with counties and cities.

Democrats were expected to try to work out a compromise for reorganizing Senate seats when county delegates gather at a Central Committee meeting tomorrow in Lansing.

Although many agree with Scholle that there should be a change in the 1952 reapportionment formula, they want to take into account feelings of outstate Democrats.

One plan would call for addition of eight Wayne County Senate seats. Other districts would be unchanged.

Democrats had planned to start a petition campaign for a constitutional amendment change in the 1952 formula. The Scholle case may alter this strategy.

"This is a civil rights case," said Scholle, who contends "freezing of unrepresentative senatorial districts is a denial of equal protection of the laws as guaranteed in the U.S. Constitution."

"I am a resident of Oakland County which in 1957 had a population of approximately 637,000," Scholle said. "Yet the people in my county elect only one senator, just as does the small district with 53,000 people."

* * *

But Adams said "the people, not the courts," should decide reapportionment questions.

"The right of the people of the state to enact their own state constitutional provisions would be greatly curtailed (if Scholle wins)," said Adams.

Adams has been mentioned — not too seriously — as a possible candidate for governor when Williams steps down.

He will have less than solid labor backing if he tries.

Churchwomen to Hear Lecture

Rev. William C. Norvell to Deal With Ideas of Teacher Martin Buber

"Introduction to Martin Buber" is the title for a series of three lectures the Rev. William C. Norvell will give at regular meetings of the Episcopal Churchwomen of Christ Church Cranbrook.

The first lecture will be given at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday.

At the age of 80, Martin Buber continues to teach "Social Philosophy" at the Hebrew University in Jerusalem.

The Rev. Mr. Norvell will deal with the ideas of Buber, their background and effects on modern thought forms.

Mrs. Arthur R. Forster, chairman of the Clothes Closet, will report on the project. The organization, a part of Episcopal Churchwomen, contributes to many Oakland County agencies and families in need.

William Matus, director of Camp Oakland, will show recent pictures of the camp and speak at the meeting Jan. 19.

The Rev. Francis Ayres, director of Parishfield, will be the speaker on Jan. 26. His topic will be "The Church's Mission."

Ceylon Clings to Language of Former Masters

COLOMBO (UPI) — Ceylon is finding it none too easy to shed a foreign language entrenched by decades of colonialism.

The government is trying to replace English with Sinhalese, the language of three-quarters of the 10 million people on this Indian Ocean island. But the effort has run up against stubborn preferences for English in government and business circles.

Government departments are scheduled to be conducting all correspondence in the beautifully curly script of Sinhalese by the end of 1960. But the special commissioner of official language, L. J. de S. Seneviratne, has warned that too few departments have given up English so far.

ILA After Master Great Lakes Pact

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—The International Longshoremen's Assn. will seek to negotiate a master agreement this year covering 10,000 dock workers in 30 Great Lakes ports.

Plans for the ambitious move were announced by Capt. William V. Bradley, president of the 100,000-member AFL-CIO union. He was here to officiate at the election of officers of the Buffalo Joint Council of Longshoremen.

Noting the long battle between the ILA and the International Brotherhood of Longshoremen had ended with their merger last October, Bradley said the combined organization was "now looking forward to a great future."

"We must see that the men who work on the Great Lakes docks get a just wage and fair working conditions," he said.

Dems to Unite on Veto, Sen. Mansfield Predicts

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Assistant Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield (Mont) predicts his party will work better together this year to override presidential vetoes than they did in 1959.

* * *

San Francisco Unsure of Its Population

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — How may people live in San Francisco?

The California Taxpayers Assn. says 790,000 and the city planning department last August set the figure at 807,000 San Franciscans.

The biggest figure comes from the local Chamber of Commerce which places the city's population as 821,000.

Common beeswax is used in the manufacture of 400 or more articles.
