HUD Official Hails Pontiac's Urban Renewal Plan

ONE COLOR

By ED BLUNDEN

A high U.S. urban renewal official came to Pontiac yesterday and liked what he saw.

★ ★ ★

He came to evaluate the Pontiac Plan for development of the 27 vacant acres of urban renewal land in the downtown area. The plan, officially adopted by the City Commission and the Pontiac Area Planning Council, calls for a multifaceted development in which some $100 million in private captial is expected to be spent.

The official was Thomas Kilbride, director of the 10-state regional office in Chicago of the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

MEETING WITH LEADERS

Kilbride spent the entire day with city officials and attended luncheon and dinner meetings with community leaders.

In the evening he said, "You have something to be proud of . . . If I were a Pontiac citizen, I would be fighting for it (the plan)."

★ ★ ★

Kilbride heard details of the Pontiac Plan and other community past, present and future development at a luncheon. He heard James Bates, city urban renewal director, and C. Don Davidson of Bruno Leon Associates explain its scope.

He heard from auto and commercial representatives of their separate developments. He heard Charles Tucker, president of Harambee, a Negro housing development organization, and William Hawkins, director of community relations for the Metropolitan Detroit Citizens Development Authority, tell of plans for development of the nearby southwest portions of the city.

EXTENSIVE TOURS

Kilbride was taken on extensive tours of the area.

At the evening dinner, summarizing his experiences, he said, "It seems you have the environment here to do something."

★ ★ ★

He indicated he felt the Pontiac Plan had the support of business, labor and ethnic groups.

He had praise for the Bruno Leon plan itself, which Davison, a Pontiac native, is credited with conceiving. Kilbride called it practical, sound and feasible.

He added a note of caution, however. "Sure you have a plan, but now it must be carried out." He warned that total community involvement and support was needed.

VARIED DEVELOPMENT

The Pontiac Plan calls for a varied development of the urban renewal area as opposed to other plans calling for a single, commercial-type establishment.

Some $14 million (one-third of it city money) has been spent on buying and clearing the land. Much of this can be recovered by resale, it has been estimated.

Proposed in the plan is a complex of such facilities as a hotel, convention center, convalescent hospital, small sports areas, office buildings, stores, and apartments, all above an underground garage.

In the plan, development will be piecemeal, a relatively new idea for urban renewal, it was pointed out.

STUDIES ARE NEXT

A major step was its adoption by the City Commission two weeks ago. Kilbride explained the plan now must undergo land disposition and urban design studies in the Chicago office.

He said, "You're near the nuts and bolts stage."

Senate Dems Vow Nixon Peace Help

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democrats are promising President Nixon time and elbow room in the search for peace in Vietnam, but they indicate any honeymoon on domestic issues may be short.

Democrats and Republicans enthusiastically approved Nixon's selection of the search for peace as the principal theme of yesterday's inaugural address.

★ ★ ★

J. W. Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, was favorably impressed by Nixon's assertion that "after a period of confrontation, we are entering a period of negotiation."

"It was a very superior speech," the Arkansas Democrat said. "I particularly like his emphasis on his determination to pursue a policy of peace. Congress is certainly going to give him a reasonable time to pursue that objective."

DOMESTIC ISSUES

However, Washington Democratic Sen. Henry Jackson said, "I think there will be a very limited honeymoon on some domestic issues which change from day to day. But there is general agreement that he needs time and latitude to deal with the biggest problem of all—peace."

★ ★ ★

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, the 1968 Democratic vice presidential nominee, said "I think Democrats will await the specifics before taking positions on domestic issues," Muskie said. "Even then opposition should be based on the merits of his proposals and not on partisanship."

Republicans, as expected, all were complimentary about a low key and somber address most felt reflected realities of the times.

'ALL OUR THINKING'

Sen. George D. Aiken of Vermont, top GOP member of the Foreign Relations Committee, said that Nixon "reflected the thinking of all of us."

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said Nixon had chosen the key issue before the country in promising "patient and prolonged diplomacy" to attain an honorable peace.

★ ★ ★

"In the domestic field he has demonstrated that he will be a problem solver," Javits said.

Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., president pro-tempere of the Senate, applauded Nixon's statement that "we will be as strong as we need to be for as long as we need to be," to negotiate from strength.

4-Way Meeting on Viet Peace Due This Week

PARIS (AP) — Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, emerging from a working session with South Vietnamese allies, announced today there will be a four-way meeting on substantive matters on iVetnam peace this week.

"I wish to announce" he said, "there will be a meeting this week, but the precise time and date will be announced later."

★ ★ ★

Lodge was asked whether this would depend upon the arrival in Paris of South Vietnames Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky. He replied that he did not know.

He said, however, "I am full of zeal and full of a desire to get ahead and so I am glad that we have had this progress up to now."

NOT ON AGENDA

Lodge was asked whether the agenda would be discussed at the meeting and he replied negatively, adding that the meeting will be on matters of substance.

Lodge met with South Vietnamese Ambassador Phang Dam Lam for less than an hour.

Lodge was accompanied by the outgoing deputy U.S. negotiator Cyrus R. Vance and by Lodge's own chief aides, Lawrence Walsh and Marshall Green.

On the South Vietnamese side, Lam was accompanied by his deputy, Nguyen Xuan Phong.

2 LEADERS

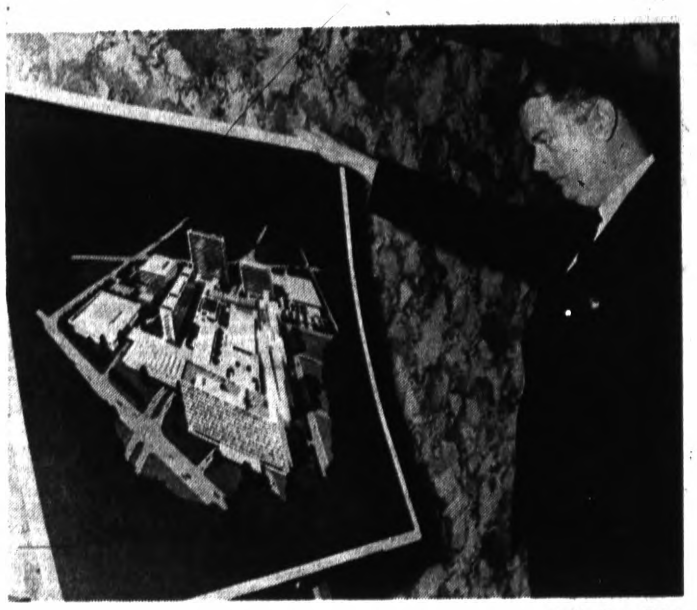

It was Vance and Phong who led the allied delegations at the four-sides procedural meeting Saturday at which the negotiators cut through the obstacles which had held up the opening of the four-way talks for more than two months.

Some Saigon officials were left with the impression after that Saturday meeting that North Vietnam is more eager to make peace than its Vietcong allies.

★ ★ ★

This assessment emerged today from authoritative accounts of last Saturday's first meeting of representatives from Saigon, the United States, North Vietnam and the National Liberation Front.

The meeting produced a surprisingly quick agreement on procedures for substantive peace negotiations. In sharp contrast with their earlier negotiating stances, Col. Ha Van Lau and his Hanoi contingent demonstrated a businesslike flexibility on the organizational questions.

IT LOOKS GOOD TO HIM—Thomas Kilbride, director of the 10-state Chicago office of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, looks at a drawing of the proposed Pontiac Plan for development of downtown urban renewal land. He told about 50 community leaders at a dinner meeting last night at Kingsley Inn, Bloomfield Hills, that he liked what he saw in Pontiac.

Gunfire Kills Three, Wounds 4 in Illinois

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP) — Three magazine salesmen were shot to death and four others were wounded by gunfire last night as they stepped from their buslike vehicle on orders from another group of men.

Police said witnesses told them that the attackers, carrying various types of weapons, had surrounded the vehicle and, just before opening fire, shouted, "Mighty War Lords!"

The buslike vehicle was riddled with bullet holes, and all the windows were shot out or shattered.

Robbery was not a motive, the police said, because money from the salesmen's day's sales was still in the vehicle and the victims still had money on them.

RACIAL OVERTONES DOUBTED

The attackers and those attacked were Negroes, police said. They said there is a black militant group in the area known as the War Lords but they did not believe the shooting had racial overtones.

A spokesman for a Kansas City publishers service said the victims had been under its employ for about a week. He said he knew of no reason for the shooting.

★ ★ ★

Police said Gerald Collins, 21, of St. Louis and Lorenzo Lewis Jr., 19, of Brooklyn, N.Y., were dead when officers arrived.

William Singleton, 18, of Philadelphia, Pa., died about four hours later at a hospital.

IN CRITICAL CONDITION

Michael John Harris, 20, of St. Louis and Max A. Robinson, 19, of New York, were both reported in critical condition.

The other wounded were identified as Melvin Richardson, 24, of St. Louis and Dan Roberts, 20, Washington, D.C.

Spokesmen at St. Mary's Hospital said Robinson had been shot at least six times.

New President Turns to Work

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon, inaugural pomp and pageantry behind him, rose early today to begin the somber tasks of guiding the nation through turmoil at home and war abroad.

Although the new chief executive did not retire until 2:20 a.m. after appearances at six inaugural balls, he was up 7 and in his oval office 30 minutes later. He beat all of his staff aides to their offices.

★ ★ ★

The President went through official papers and documents prepared in advance of an afternoon National Security Council meeting and then dictated into a recording machine.

He later met with Dr. Henry Kissinger, his national security aide, as part of preparation for the NSC meeting.

★ ★ ★

Nixon wrapped up his morning of activity by receiving 1,300 campaign workers and their families in the East Room.

The East Room will be the scene tomorrow for swearing-in of the Nixon Cabinet.

Pontiac Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. will present his annual State of the City report at tonight's City Commission meeting.

TAYLOR

The commission will also be presented with a resolution which could result in an end to parking on Huron in downtown Pontiac.

If the resolution is approved, parking would be barred from Huron between East and West Wide Track except for the north side of Huron between Mill and Perry.

The State Highway Department has demanded an end to the parking.

Also on the agenda is a report on the first six months of the augmented enforcement of the housing code.

The meeting starts at 8 p.m. at City Hall, East Wide Track at East Pike.

Nixon Aide Views Viet

SAIGON (AP) — U. Alexis Johnson, the Nixon administration's first high-level representative to visit South Vietnam, said today that "U.S. policy is paying dividends here" and that he will not recommend any change in the American commitment to the country.

Johnson, however, declined to discuss possible early withdrawal of some U.S. troops.

It's Taxing on the Taxpayer

Hare Check Policy Protested

In reply to Pontiac Press queries about personal checks, Secretary of State James M. Hare delegated a deputy, Walter Elliott, to reply. The Press protests against the refusal of Michigan's secretary of state to take personal checks in payment for auto licenses.

His boss—the State of Michigan— accepts checks gladly. The United States government does in all branches. Millions of businesses do from coast to coast. Individuals accept checks for everything.

★ ★ ★

But Elliott says the manual issued by the secretary's office forbids it. His office apparently considers itself above the federal government, the state government and businesses and individuals everywhere.

This newspaper pointed out that a branch office under the direction of Willis Brewer accepted checks. But the secretary of state's deputy says, "He had to make restitution when checks bounced." Well, doesn't the Internal Revenue Service? Doesn't the City of Pontiac? Doesn't General Motors? Doesn't every taxpayer?

★ ★ ★

The secretary of state should collect his bills like everyone else unless there's something sacred about this one office.

Voters all over Michigan look upon the secretary of state as a state official who is elected by the taxpayers to serve them graciously, easily and in accordance with accepted business practices worldwide.

What about it?

Pueblo Skipper Raps Navy at Inquiry Opening

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — The skipper of the USS Pueblo says the Navy didn't provide retaliatory help or adequate guns, communications or explosives to destroy secret equipment when North Koreans captured his intelligence ship.

★ ★ ★

Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher testified yesterday at the opening of a court of inquiry into the loss of the ship last Jan. 23, the death of one crewman and the imprisonment of the 82 others for 11 months.

★ ★ ★

Bucher, apparently still tense from his prison experience, was expected to testify for two or three days. The court of five admirals could recommend anything from medals to courts-martial.

But Navy lawyers told Bucher that, so far, he was not suspected of violating any military laws.

ADVISED ON PROCEDURE

The Navy said Bucher will be followed on the stand by his superior, Rear Adm. Frank L. Johnson, former commander of naval forces at Japan, and Cmdr. Charles R. Clark, skipper of a sister intelligence ship.

When he sailed the Pueblo on its mission to scout North Korean radar and North Korean and Soviet ships in the Sea of Japan, Bucher testified, he wanted twin 20mm or 40mm guns.

★ ★ ★

He said he talked at length about the request to Rear Adm. Roy Isaman.

But instead, Bucher said, he got two 50-caliber machine guns, 3,000 to 5,000 rounds of ammunition, a spare barrel and a mount for a third 50-caliber machine-gun he never received.

'LIGHT WEAPONRY'

The weapons were much smaller and lighter than those he said he had requested.

They were installed in Japan, Bucher said, a few weeks before the Pueblo was to begin her mission off North Korea.

They had no safety stops, Bucher said. Moreover, he said, nobody on board was trained in using them.

★ ★ ★

"I sent my gunner's mate together with as many people from the crew and research intelligence detachment to a Marine training range to fire the guns," he said.

He said the guns were "temperamental, difficult to keep adjusted and hard to prepare for firing.

SLOW TIME

"In practice, our best time getting them ready for fire was 10 minutes and our worst time over an hour," he said. "I did not have much confidence in those guns."

Bucher said he also asked for explosives to destroy secret equipment and codes in the event of capture.

★ ★ ★

The request was "deferred," Bucher said, because his commander told him "In order for the destruct system to be effective . . . it must be integral to secret equipment."

Before he left on his mission, Bucher, said, an operations officer at the headquarters of Pacific Fleet told him it was doubtful that help would be available in time to save the Pueblo in the event of a seizure.

Area Man Held in Terrorizing of Two Sisters

A Waterford Township man is in Oakland County jail today following an incident in which two Pontiac Township girls were terrorized and sheriff's deputies were threatened with a shotgun.

★ ★ ★

Benny Crowe, 21, of 5450 Tubbs is charged with felonious assault and with assaulting an officer as a result of the incident yesterday at the home of his ex-fiancee, Carolyn Sinsabaugh, 19, of 3415 Giddings, Pontiac Township. Arraignment for Crowe tentatively is set for today.

★ ★ ★

He was apprehended by Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy Gerald Reeves, who reported he talked Crowe into giving up a 16-gauge pump shotgun after Miss Sinsabaugh had fled into Reeves' arms. Her sister, Vicki, had alerted deputies after fleeing the house earlier.

Reeves said he entered the Sinsabaugh home and called for Carolyn who appeared at the top of the stairs crying and bolted to safety.

SHOTGUN AIMED

Reeves said he pushed her aside to another deputy as a man came to the top of the stairs and pointed a shotgun at him.

Reeves told him to put his gun down. The gunman said he would if Reeves took his gun off, according to Reeves.

★ ★ ★

Reeves refused, and the man asked for a cigarette. When Reeves started to give him one, the suspect swung the shotgun butt toward the deputy and surprised the officer by handing over the weapon.

The suspect later took a swing at Reeves and had to be restrained by three deputies and handcuffs, deputies said.

★ ★ ★

Reeves entered the Sinsabaugh home after Vicki told him Crowe had called on Carolyn, who would not see him. Vicki said Crowe shot at her as she ran across a field to a neighbor's house to call police. Deputies said they found a freshly fired shotgun shell at the scene.

City OKs Plan to Join 16 in Buying Goods

BIRMINGHAM—The City Commission approved a resolution last night calling for this city's participation in a joint-purchasing plan by city managers of 16 South Oakland communities.

The plan would provide for the joint purchase of supplies and equipment. It will be implemented providing favorable endorsement is given by all governmental bodies concerned.

★ ★ ★

In other business, a hearing was held on necessity of a relief drain for a section of Elm between Maple and Bowers. Several residents of the concerned area favored the proposed improvement at the hearing.

The city engineer was authorized to make a cost estimate for the project. Extensive flooding in the Elm Street area in recent years prompted the drain proposal.

CHARTER CHANGES

The commission also agreed to seek voter approval in the April 8 election for a series of charter amendments made necessary by a revision in state statutes. The amendments were described as "housecleaning" measures such as abolishing the practice of appointing representatives to the County Board of Supervisors. The supervisors now are elected.

★ ★ ★

The commission again deferred action on the City Retirement Board's recommendation for an increase in retirement pay computation for city employes from two-tenths to three-tenths per cent of their base pay when they retire. The commission is still studying the request.

Action is expected to be taken at the Jan. 27 commission meeting.

The Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a presentation of Birmingham's new urban design plan and objectives at a noon luncheon Jan. 30 at the Community House. Tickets are $3 and can be obtained through the Chamber. The public is invited.

Black Unrest Felt at Eastern

Classes resumed normally this morning at Eastern Junior High School, following a student demonstration and early dismissal of school yesterday afternoon.

Classes were curtailed after a general meeting of students with Eastern Principal R. William Nunez, Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer and John F. Perdue, director of school-community and human relations.

★ ★ ★

The meeting was held as a result of a sit-in yesterday morning at which 40 students demanded that the administration hold a meeting with the 700 black students in the 1,000-student school to air their grievances.

★ ★ ★

Some of the grievances aired by students at the meeting included complaints about the cafeteria and school lunches; the lack of more black history and cultural courses; and the small number of black students in advanced classes.

NO WRITTEN LIST

No written list of grievances had been prepared.

Also at the meeting were several members of the Pontiac Organization of Black Youth (POOBY), who claimed that the black children were not getting the proper black education.

"We are tired of oppression on all levels. Students are the sole hope of the black people. They are the leaders of tomorrow and we will sponsor them," one POOBY member said.

"We didn't want to sit in, but they (the administration) forced us to do it. We have been asking to meet with them for weeks to hear our complaints and they kept putting us off," one black youth said.

'FINALLY GOT ACTION'

"We finally got some action after we got POOBY to sponsor us," he said.

There were no parents at the meeting.

★ ★ ★

More than three-quarters of the students in the school attended the meeting. The rest sat in classes, roamed the hallways or left the building. The students were dismissed at 2:30, 45 minutes before the regular closing time.

Shaw Trial Opens With Jury Selecting

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Flanked by his four lawyers, 55-year-old Clay Shaw chain-smoked impressively through the preliminaries of his trial today on a charge of conspiring to murder President John F. Kennedy.

The long-delayed trial is the court room showdown on Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's claim that the president was killed by a band of conspirators and not by a lone sniper.

★ ★ ★

Garrison was not present in the court room.

Judge Edward A. Haggerty Jr. checked through the list of state and defense witnesses before settling down to the process of presiding over the selection of the jury.

PROSPECTIVE JURORS

Ironically, the first prospective juror called was named John Kennedy.

The judge had summoned 169 citizens for examination as prospective jurors with still others readily available. There was no indication how long it would take.

The Criminal District Courtroom was under extraordinary security guard. Deputies were under orders to search all spectators.

PRE-TRIAL HISTORY

The trial has been preceded by an unusual legal flip-flop by the prosecution.

Asst. Dist. Atty. James L. Alcock, named by Garrison to handle the case, Friday asked that the trial be delayed indefinitely. Then he withdrew the motion when it came before Judge Haggerty in a hearing yesterday.

All of Cabinet but Hickel OK'd

WASHINGTON (UPI) — With 11 of the 12 Nixon Cabinet appointees confirmed, the Senate intended to debate today on the remaining one, Interior Secretary-designate Walter J. Hickel.

Confirmation was seen as a certainty, but not before considerable talk on the floor. Three Democratic senators voted against Hickel's nomination in committee because of his views on conservation.

One of President Nixon's first official acts was to sign the documents of appointment for his Cabinet, and in a special postinauguration session the Senate confirmed 11 of them unanimously in less than 15 minutes.

But when the clerk called the name of Hickel, governor of Alaska and a wealthy businessman, Assistant Democratic leader Edward M. Kennedy asked that it be referred to the executive calendar and said the leadership intended to call it up today.

3 VOTES OPPOSITION

The three senators who voted in committee against reporting the nomination favorably were Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin, Frank E. Moss of Utah and George McGovern of South Dakota.

Chairman Henry Jackson, D-Wash., voted to approve Hickel because "I think the President is entitled to have his Cabinet." But as to the nominee himself, Jackson would go no further than to say: "He's met the minimum standards for secretary."

$2,121 Is Stolen From Restaurant

A burglar took $2,121 from Nick's Restaurant, 2630 Highland, Highland Township, it was reported to Oakland County sheriff's deputies yesterday.

Deputies said the restaurant's rear door was kicked open Sunday night and a 200-pound safe containing $2,000 in bills, change and checks and a cash drawer holding $121 was reported taken.

★ ★ ★

The safe was pushed across the floor from the office of the owner, Nick Nicholas, and carted away in an unknown vehicle, according to deputies.

Viet Reds Vary Attacks on GIs

SAIGON (AP) — Vietcong and North Vietnamese troops attacked U.S. land, river and air forces with rockets, mortars and grenades yesterday and today, coinciding with the inauguration of President Nixon.

At least six American servicemen were killed and 35 Americans were wounded, including a civilian.

★ ★ ★

A high-ranking South Vietnamese police official said captured Communist orders directed a new wave of terrorism at U.S. troops in an attempt to increase antiwar sentiment among the American public.

Several other attacks apparently were thwarted by American forces who uncovered two enemy munitions caches and broke up a convoy of enemy sampans moving troops south of Saigon.

★ ★ ★

In the past 24 hours, military spokesmen said, Vietcong and North Vietnamese troops attacked U.S. Navy patrol boats, landing craft and cargo ships, American officers' quarters, a military advisers' compound, a small observation plane over the demilitarized zone and U.S. troops near Saigon.

HUD Official Hails City Plan

About 50 community leaders attended the dinner, representing almost all factions of the city — business, industry, finance, race, religion, etc.

★ ★ ★

Discussed was the question, "Who's going first?" — what will be the first construction at the site. City officials indicated some near commitments and had been made and letters of intent filed.

'TOP PRIORITY'

Kilbride promised "top priority" would be given all future considerations on implementation of the plan. He also offered to return to Pontiac for the first ground-breaking ceremony.

11 Sirhan Jurors Near?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Eleven jurors could be automatically seated today in the Sirhan Bishara Sirhan murder trial if the defense goes along with the prosecution and surrenders its peremptory challenges.

A 12th juror and six alternates still would have to be chosen.

★ ★ ★

Attorneys for the 24-year-old Jordanian accused of killing Sen. Robert F. Kennedy spent the weekend considering whether they would waive further challenges to the present provisional panel of jurors.

How to Choose a College—1

'Right Match' Is Important

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the first in a series of 12 articles on the dos and don'ts to observe in choosing the right college for you. The series will run daily in The Pontiac Press.)

By ELLA MAZEL

Your college years can be among the most important, the most exciting, and the happiest years of your life — if you make the right match.

And the right match is not necessarily the college whose sticker your parents will be proudest to display on the rear window of the car.

If they give you any trouble on this score, try this little game on them. It's called "Who Went Where." Listed below are the names, in alphabetical order, of a dozen rather prominent individuals. Following them, also in alphabetical order, are the colleges from which they received their undergraduate degrees (as listed in "Who's Who in America").

Don't look now, but the answers are at the end of this article.

So — what's in a name? Nothing much, really.

The right match for you is the college where you will be stimulated, but no overwhelmed; challenged to do your best, but not pressured to the point of nervous collapse; surrounded by fellow-students with whom you have some things in common, but from whom you can learn about other viewpoints and values.

The word "match" is used advisedly, because going away to college is a lot like getting married.

No one (we hope) walks down the aisle thinking, "Oh, well, if things don't work out, we can always get a divorce."

Yet, because so many marriages

Milliken Swearing-In Delayed Until Tomorrow

LANSING (AP) — Lt. Gov. William Milliken apparently will have to wait until Wednesday to become the 44th governor of Michigan.

Although Gov. George Romney was confirmed by the U.S. Senate Monday as secretary of housing and urban development, Romney and the other new Cabinet members still have not taken their oaths of office.

★ ★ ★

And, according to Mrs. Margaret Little, Romney's personal secretary, the governor has been ordered by President Richard Nixon not to resign until he has been sworn into office.

Mrs. Little said she understood the oath-taking, once scheduled for this morning, had been delayed a day by failure of the Senate to act on the nomination of Alaska Gov. Walter Hickel as secretary of the interior.

TRANSFER PREPARATIONS

Meanwhile, however, preparations have been made in advance for transferring power from the six-year governor to the 46-year-old lieutenant governor.

Resignation statements reportedly have already been drafted and signed and are ready for presentation to the State House and Senate, Milliken and the secretary of state within minutes after Romney assumes his new federal post.

All that would then remain would be for Milliken to take the oath of office as governor, which is to be administered in Lansing by Chief Justice John Dethmers of the State Supreme Court.

A Milliken aide said Monday, meanwhile, that whenever the official transfer of power occurs, the Romney-Milliken state budget for the fiscal year beginning next July 1 will be released as scheduled Wednesday morning.

'Matching' College Is Important

are entered into for what turn out to be the wrong reasons, a depressing number of them do end in divorce.

Similarly, the starry-eyed freshman surely arrives for orientation expecting to "love, honor, etc., till graduation do us part."

★ ★ ★

But a tremendous number of students — even among those who have made it into what they thought were their first-choice colleges — become disaffected and transfer or drop out entirely.

Just as you probably have some vision in your mind of the ideal mate, you are likely to have a mental picture of the college of your dreams.

FACTORS TO ANALYZE

On the rational, or objective, level of college selection you need to analyze such factors as:

- The curricular offerings of the college as they relate to your intellectual, vocational, or professional goals.
- The quality of the faculty.
- The adequacy of the library.
- Opportunities for honors programs and independent study.
- Faculty-student ratio;
- Class size.
- Other such measurable or tangible criteria.

★ ★ ★

On the emotional, or subjective, level you will be trying to find the college that embodies your "image." Your feelings will determine whether you would be happier in:

- A large or small college.
- A coed or just men's or women's environment (though these are fast disappearing).
- One with or without fraternities or sororities.

IMPORTANT DIFFERENCE

There is one important way in which college choice differs from marriage.

★ ★ ★

Can you imagine proposing to three girls at the same time and then taking your pick after they all say, "Yes"?

★ ★ ★

How lucky you are to be able to do this with colleges!

★ ★ ★

Of course, you also have the possibility of three "Nos," and that is why it is so tremendously important that you distribute your "proposals" in such a way that you can have reasonable assurance of at least one acceptance.

OCCEO to Get Report

A report on federally funded educational programs in Oakland County will be received by the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity (CCCEO) at its 7:30 p.m. meeting tomorrow at the commission's central office, 1 W. Lafayette.

The report will be given by Kathleen Barry, educational program coordinator.

★ ★ ★

About 26 county school districts have remedial and special educational programs funded under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

The OCCEO coordinates the programs.

★ ★ ★

Also on the agenda is a discussion of the selection of commissioners to represent target areas this year.

Clean-Water Push Planned

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — Governor-to-be William Milliken plans to move as quickly as possible to implement programs countering water pollution in Michigan.

Lt. Gov. Milliken's plans were discussed today by James C. Kellogg, executive assistant for policy and programs, before the International Joint Commission's public hearing concerning pollution of the St. Mary's River.

★ ★ ★

Milliken, in Washington for the Nixon inauguration, was to be sworn in this week as Michigan governor, succeeding Gov. George Romney who was confirmed Monday as a member of the Nixon cabinet.

The Milliken statement cited the "tremendous vote" by which the people of Michigan approved the $435-million clean water and quality recreation bonding proposals in the November election.

CITES PLANS

"Michigan is now in a position to move ahead rapidly in providing financial and to local communities to solve their water pollution problems," said Milliken's statement.

India's population is likely to reach 723 million by 1981, if present growth rates continue. At this time there are 525 million people there.

Starting From Scratch at Age 47

Brandon Man Leaving Farm for College

BRANDON TOWNSHIP — Life has taken a new turn for Leslie Wright Jr., a former farmer and board of education member. But it is of his own choosing.

Many a middleaged man has regretted not finishing college or, in some cases, never even starting.

★ ★ ★

Wright of 2600 Seymour had realized the disadvantages of his education gap for many years.

And at 47, after 10 years of toying with the idea, he has decided to enroll full-time at Central Michigan University in Mount Pleasant as a freshman.

MILK ROUTE

In addition to farming in the township for 19 years, Wright handled a wholesale milk route for Sealtest for 26 years. He had plenty of time to think about the future on those predawn milk runs to Dearborn in a cold truck.

"It was at times like that I began to wonder what I was going to do with myself once my endurance and muscles gave out, and I had only a brain left," Wright recalls.

★ ★ ★

He credits his years on the school board for providing plenty of insight on the values of education. "I have always felt at home around young people, and somehow I feel what I am doing is really only natural."

Wright actually started studies at Michigan State University nearly 30 years ago, but lasted only a year. "I was forcing myself, I really didn't want to go to school and when the war broke out, that was all I needed."

SERVED IN COAST GUARD

Wright enlisted and served in the Coast Guard for five years before turning to the combination of truck driving and farming in 1947.

In 1966 he retired from Sealtest and devoted full time to farming about 500 acres.

★ ★ ★

Though he has been successful at farming, Wright has quickly realized that farming doesn't really pay unless it can be done in a big manner.

"Farming today takes a tremendous amount of capital. The days of farmers helping each other are gone. Now you need all of your own equipment and storage facilities plus at least 500 good acres," he maintains.

Wright has some hard-headed theories on the plight of agriculture today.

"Agriculture would correct itself if the government would only stay out of it.

★ ★ ★

"Adherence to the law of supply and demand would enable the farmer to take care of himself, but the government hasn't let him," Wright believes.

Looking out over an empty barnyard (he auctioned off all of his equipment a few days ago), Wright is far from sentimental.

★ ★ ★

IN RENTED HOUSE

Wright will be living in a rented house with his wife and four daughters in Mount Pleasant. The oldest daughter, Carol, is already a freshman at Central Michigan, which just might make for the only father-daughter full-time student combination in the country.

Financially, Wright is well enough off to make it through the necessary four to five years to pick up his bachelor's and master's degrees in education without having to work on the side. But he quickly points out that his wife, Edith was a good secretary before their marriage, so reserve finances will be there if needed.

Wright hasn't yet programmed his course of study, but he is thinking of emphasizing political science and psychology studies, and hopes eventually to land a college teaching job.

Troy Land Bought by Top U.S. Firm

TROY — Levitt and Sons Inc. has entered the Detroit area housing market with a purchase of 100 acres in this city.

Announcement of the purchase was made by Irwin Adler, Levitt's Detroit regional general manager. The property is located southwest of Long Lake Road and Dequindre.

According to city officials, the property was sold to Levitt by Graham Orley, Warren developer.

Adler said Levitt, the nation's largest home-building firm, plans over 200 homes on the property. "We will be offering four or five models in the $27,000-to-$35,000 price range and are pushing for a summer opening," he added.

Three- and four-bedroom ranch-style and three- and four-bedroom two-story colonial-style houses will be offered, said Adler.

Commerce Hearing Set for Wednesday on Closing Hunting Areas

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — A hearing to decide if several areas in this township should be closed to hunting is set for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Township Hall.

The township received petitions from concerned citizens to close the areas surrounding Sherwood, Bass, and Commerce lakes from hunting and the discharge of firearms.

The area hunting control committee will conduct the hearing.

School Board Hears Double-Day Plan

By LOIS FRIEDLAND

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A proposal for two daily full school sessions at the senior high school beginning next September was received by the West Blomfield Board of Education last night. No action was taken on the proposal.

High School principal Roger Garvelink, who presented the proposal, strongly emphasized his suggestion is for a double session, utilizing school facilities for more time daily during which students would still receive the same amount of training and actual class time as they have now.

Projections for the 1969-70 school year show an enrollment of 1,365 students which is 36 per cent or possibly more above capacity, acocrding to Garvelink.

Garvelink suggests that junior and senior students attend classes in the morning while freshmen and sophomores occupy classrooms during the afternoon.

SOME DUPLICATION

Two sessions would be give for several of the classes which are taken by both sophomores and juniors, while individual students might possibly attend portions of the morning and afternoon sessions if the elective desired is not being taught during their class time in the building.

Suggested are five 50-minute periods in the morning when upper classmen can take their electives. Either five 50-minute periods offering six electives meeting four times a week or else six 45-minute periods would be considered for the lower classmen.

Most staff members would teach either the morning or the afternoon session, although some would have overlapping hours.

★ ★ ★

Under this proposed scheduling, classes would be running from 7:30 a.m. to 4:36 or 5:30 p.m. Garvelink listed several advantages including how special offerings could be enlarged, how study halls and the cafeteria could be largely eliminated — although a short relaxation break could still be scheduled.

MORE LIBRARY USE

The library could be used to better advantage and teachers could privide more individual help to students. Special classes as labs, shop, arts and typing could easily be accomodated, according to Garvelink's plan.

Considerable financial savings in cafeteria operation, resource books, furniture and possibly buses might also be possible.

★ ★ ★

There are a few disadvantages the principal admitted. Clearing the building between sessions may be difficult, the scheduling of athletic coaches and and afterschool activities may provide a few problems.

What Will Halt Land-Valuation Climb? Taxpayer Revolt or Recession---Expert

By JEAN SAILE

It will take either a taxpayers' revolt of significant proportions or a recession to halt the upward spiral of increasing state-equalized valuations on property acording to Michigan State Tax Commission Chairman Robert Purnell.

Bound by law to assess at 50 per cent of market value, assessors on the state, county and local level are feeling the anger of people who believe they may pay too much in property taxes.

★ ★ ★

That inflation has hit the property market is agreed.

Purnell, in Oakland County to hear State Tax Commission appeals, stressed that equalized valuation does not necessarily control the amount of taxes property owners pay.

DETERMINED BY LEVY

"That amount is determined by levy, which is in turn determined by budgets," said the chairman.

"If local governments and schools did not need the extra money, it would be fairly simple to lower the levy and leave taxes at their present totals."

★ ★ ★

He agreed, however, that it is fairly easy for taxing units to leave levies at the current level and to reap the benefits of the increased valuations.

★ ★ ★

The state has ordered Oakland County to increase state-equalized valuation ranging from 2 per cent in the city of Pontiac to 50 per cent in Addison Township. Assessors pretty much agree that the raises will most significantly affect vacant and residential owners.

COULD BE HIGHER

They also note that even though a taxing district's valuation increase is 30 per cent, it is possible that private landowners could experience considerably higher increases.

Herman Stephens, director of the Oakland County Tax Equalization Department, said industrial and personal property is evaluated annually, to keep it more nearly in line with market prices. The difference will have to be made up in the other categories.

The equalization committee of the old County Board of Supervisors had recommended that a $2,000 exemption be granted homeowners on state equalized valuations.

★ ★ ★

Purnell said this exemption might be granted by the State Legislature.

'WOULD DO LITTLE'

While it would serve to give homeowners an exemption enjoyed in many other taxpaying categories, Purnell feels it would do little to relieve the over-all problem faced by taxpayers and schools.

"If it were granted across the state, the exemption would have little effect on the amount of state aid coming back to schools," he said.

Educators report that for every increase in valuation, they lose state aid according to the distribution formula followed by the State Department of Education.

★ ★ ★

While aware of taxpayer unhappiness, Purnell reported that so far Michigan taxpayers are getting off light in comparison with those in other parts of the country.

HIGH AS 8 PCT.

"We pay something like 3 per cent of the total value of the property in taxes," Purnell said. "In the east, rates are as high as 8 per cent."

He said he sees little hope at the present time for state fiscal reform.

School District's Name Shorter

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The board of education adopted the formal title of West Bloomfield School District at its meeting last night.

The title had been West Bloomfield School District No. 5, Fractional, of the Township of West Bloomfield and the Cities of Keego Harbor and Sylvan Lake, Oakland County, Michigan.

The board's legal adviser suggested that the present legal name had caused difficulty for lending institutions and other agencies not familiar with the proper name of the district.

Adoption of the new name for the 18-year-old district does not have any effect upon the existing obligations inccurred in its former name, nor does it effect the ownership of any real estate or personal property of the district.

In other business, the board endorsed the concept of creating an outdoor science education nature area in the memory of George Merring, a township science teacher who recently died. The endorsement was the outgrowth of a spontaneous reaction on the part of students, parents and faculty to honor Merring, who had taught in the system for seven years.

Board members also authorized the administration to proceed with the development of appropriate specifications, detailed plan and related costs for the nature area on a site yet to be chosen.

Implementation of the long-planned high school cooperative education program for the 1969-70 year was approved last night. Sales, secretarial and office skills will probably be emphasized at first.

★ ★ ★

Community National Bank was designated as the bank of deposit for current tax collections for the 1966 series II and the 1968 series I school bond retirement funds — in separate accounts — until such time as the bonds are sold. The board set Feb. 6 as the date of the sale of the bond issues. A special meeting will be called to review the bids.

★ ★ ★

Authorization was given to proceed with preliminary drawings and specifications for a six-room addition to Doherty Elementary School. The architects are Tarapata-MacMahon-Paulsen Associates. Approved estimated cost is $230,000, of which $100,000 will be reimbursed by the Oakland Intermediate School District.

PLANS STUDIED

Two separate plans for a six-classroom addition are being studied. Four of the classrooms will be used for special education programs; two for the mentally retarded, one for an adjusted study program for the emotionally retarded and one for perceptive development.

One plan allows for six classrooms around a large centrium while the second calls for six classrooms around a smaller central corridor.

The second plan appears to be preferred unofficially by the board.

★ ★ ★★

Also last night, the board sold an excess 24 acres of the Green School property to Binder and Lark Building Co. Employees Retirement and Profit Sharing Trust for $170,500.

The down payment is $34,100 with another $20,000 to be paid within seven days of closing. The purchasers have three years to pay, with semiannual seven per cent interest payments.

FOR HOME SITES

The land will be used for single family homes.

The board will still own 15 acres of land at Green School, members pointed out. Ten acres normally is required for an elementary school site.

Drug Use Is PTA Topic

ROCHESTER — Dr. Sonya Friedman, school diagnostician, will discuss drug use by youngsters and its effects upon school systems and communities at tonight's meeting of the McGregor Elementary School PTA.

The meeting, scheduled to start at 8, will take place in the multipurpose room of the school, 1101 First.

By State Commission

Clean-Water Action Set

One Oakland County communtiy was given a pollution-abatement deadline and another was ordered to schedule one in orders announced yesterday by the State Water Resources Commission.

Action was deferred against a third area community.

★ ★ ★

Walled Lake was given a deadline of June 1, 1970, to cease polluting nearby waters, notably Walled Lake itself.

★ ★ ★

Orion Township, meantime, was ordered to report on an antipollution abatement deadline, and Novi was asked to report on the status of its efforts to end pollution.

2-COMMUNITY SYSTEM

Novi and Walled Lake are engaged in setting up a joint $6-million sanitary sewer system. The timetable for construction depends greatly on when negotiations with Wayne County are successful.

Extension of a trunk line from Wayne County is sought as an outlet for the joint system. The trunk line now stops north of Nine Mile Road near Meadowbrook.

★ ★ ★

The State Water Resources Commission had cited Novi for polluting the Walled Lake Branch of the Rouge River via sewers connected to storm drains which, in turn, feed the river.

In other business before the water resources commission:

WAYNE DEADLINE

Wayne County was given until Oct. 1, 1970, to stop discharging what the State Water Resources Commission claims is inadequately treated sewage from its Rockwood treatment plant.

The county also told the commission it would report shortly on plans to upgrade its plant at Trenton and proposed temporary measures to bring its Wyandotte plant up to state-set standards by the November 1970 deadline.

The commission also:

- Cited Coldwater, Hartford, Paw Paw, Buchanan and New Buffalo for unlawful water pollution, scheduling February hearings for all five communities.
- Put off until February action in the case of Revere Copper and Brass, Inc. of Detroit and ordered a progress report by the Ecorse plant of Great Lakes Steel Corp. by November.
- Demanded a report in February by Carrollton Township, Saginaw County, and in March by Active Industries Inc. of Huron County, and Ridgeway Township and the village of Britton, both in Lenawee County.

Rochester Schools' Group Poses Congestion Solutions

ROCHESTER — The citizens' committee on secondary school housing in this school district, last night made its report to the board of education. The board did not take action on the report.

The committee, composed of 18 parents representing secondary school students of all age levels and geographical areas within the district, was formed in November to study plans for accommodating students at Rochester High School next year.

A variety of proposals were offered to the committee, all designed to alleviate overcrowding at the junior high schools and, at the same time, make provisions for the opening of Adams High School, scheduled for the latter part of next school year.

The alternative finally settled upon by the committee, if approved by the board would include a split-shift arrangement at the high school, with two separate student bodies attending classes during a single day.

SCHOOL DAY

The school day for both groups, those to attend Adams High and those to remain at Rochester High after the Adams opening, would be five 48-minute periods.

In addition, both high schools would include grades 9-12, instead of the present 10-12. A proposal including the present grade division was offered to the committee, but projected enrollment for the two junior highs for next year is 2,040 — better than 500 above capacity.

★ ★ ★

The schools would have separate identities beginning in September with separate faculties, administrators, athletic programs, colors and student body officers.

The committee also suggested that the board consider a combined graduation ceremony in 1970 for both schools.

STUDENTS' OPINIONS

Richard Huizenga, assistant superintendent, suggested that students might be contacted for opinions on the possibility.

The cause of the district's housing problems has been a swiftly increasing enrollment, which has brought about an $8-million bond issue, scheduled for a vote Feb. 8.

★ ★ ★

Six basic alternatives were presented to the committee, but those involving little change from the present housing arrangement were severely restricted because of the overcrowding problems they entailed.

For example, moving the entire ninth grade to Rochester High School to take pressure off the junior highs would result in 2,680 students attending classes in a school with a capacity of 1,500.

Lapeer Supervisors Aligned

The Lapeer County Board of Supervisors has decided on an apportionment of duties among its members.

Chaired by Paul Herpolsheimer of Dryden, the seven-man board will act as a "committee of the whole," rather than establishing standing committees on individual areas of county government.

★ ★ ★

However, each supervisor will be responsible for gathering information about and reporting on a specific group of activities.

Assignments are as follows:

- Herpolsheimer, Thumb District Health Department.
- Richard J. Bahls, District 4: resolutions, county zoning and planning, court activities and facilities and Lapeer County General Hospital.

★ ★ ★

- Ervin Haskill, District 3: legislative, existing county buildings, roads, drains and bridges.
- Edgar L. Miteen, District 5: Thumb Health Department (secretary), salaries, negotiations and the Holloway Reservoir.
- Hilton W. Tibbits, District 1: Thumb District Health Department, insurance, salaries and negotiations and the Holloway Reservoir.
- Donald Siegers, District 6: agriculture, supplies, Civil Defense, and the county library.
- Harold A. Wiliams, District 2: Suncrest medical care facility and salaries and negotiations (chairman).

RESPONSIBILITIES

The entire board will be responsible for auditing, appropriations, equalization and ways and means.

The board has also received a letter from Probate Judge George D. Lutz criticizing cuts made in the budget allotment for the probate court.

Lutz said the cuts, which were made by the old board of supervisors last year and which trimmed the prboate court budget from a request of $91,846 to $70,000, are "not realistic.

"There are several new items we will have in our budget for the very first time," commented the judge, who forecasted expenses of around $76,000 even if the court limits spending to areas already authorized.

ASKS BUDGET CUTS

After detailing court needs, Lutz requested that the supervisors add $6,000 to the budget "to cover what we are actually spending now," hike the probate judge's salary by $3,500 to $20,000, and budget an additional $7,100 to permit hiring of a fouth juvenile probation officer.

City YMCA Exec Named to New Post

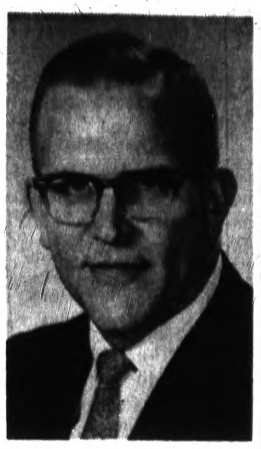

David L. Lawrence, YMCA youth director, has been appointed associate executive director for program services, Clarence G. Carlson, YMCA board of directors president, announced today.

Carlson said the primary responsibilities of the new position will be to coordinate all existing YMCA program services, to develop new programs relevant to community needs and interest, and to develop long-range plans for community extension work.

★ ★ ★

The continued growth of YMCA services in the greater Pontiac area necessitates a more comprehensive approach, Carlson added.

Lawrence of 2915 Voorheis, Waterford Township, joined the YMCA staff as youth director in 1965. Serving in this capacity, he developed several new programs including Day Camp Arrowhead, Youth Council, After School Bus Program and Saturday Fun Club.

Area Woman Fired On by I-75 Gunman

BAY CITY (UPI) — Police today held a suburban Detroit man on a chare of attempted murder after a woman complained two shots had been fired at her as she drove along a freeway.

Melvin L. Herman, 38, who gave his address as Madison Heights, was arrested last night when he drove his car into the gas station from which the woman had called police just as officers arrived.

★ ★ ★

The unidentified woman from Farmington told State Police from the Bay City post that a dirty station wagon pulled alongside her as she drove along I-75 south of here. One shot was fired from a side window, and another through the rear window of the station wagon, she said.

When police arrived to investigate her complaint, a dirty station wagon driven by Herman pulled into the gas station, said Sgt. Harlan Retz.

★ ★ ★

Three loaded revolvers were in the car, said Retz, and two had been recently fired. He said there were bullet holes in the passenger window and the rear window, and the shots apparently had been fired from inside the station wagon.

Based on Judges' Pay

Prosecutors Ask Raise

A resolution providing for a higher salary scale for prosecutors, based on the number of Circuit Court judges in a district, was approved yesterday by Michigan prosecutors meeting in Grand Rapids.

The prosecutors hope the resolution will be passed by the State Legislature this year.

★ ★ ★

The resolution states that in no case shall the minimum salary of a prosecutor be less than the probate court judge in districts with only one circuit judge.

In counties with two or more circuit judges, the resolution calls for prosecutor salaries of not less than the salary of a circuit judge.

This would be the casse in Oakland County, where the prosecutor's salary of $24,000 would be increased to meet the judicial salaries of $30,000.

The resolution also would prohibit prosecutors in counties with two or more circuit judges from engaging in private law practice.

★ ★ ★

Purse Snatchers' Elaborate Plot Gets $19 Loot

Three robbers who last night stole a woman's purse containing $19 had an unusual method of operation.

The men first stole a car, then told the victim, Sharran L. Perry, 29, their bumper locked with hers in a parking lot at 677 N. East Blvd. They grabbed her purse when she got out of her car to exchange accident information, she told police.

The victim of 390 Lochaven, Waterford Township, told police she was pushed to the ground after a man still in the car reached out and grabbed her purse while the two others outside knocked her to the ground.

The men then jumped back into the car and drove off, she said. The car was later recovered.

State Has Strong Successor to Romney

We view with mixed emotions the Statehouse change of command that sends Gov. GEORGE ROMNEY to a top-most post in the Federal government and elevates Lt. Gov. WILLIAM MILLIKEN to the gubernatorial office thus vacated.

MILLIKEN

On the one hand, there is regret over the departure of ROMNEY as Michigan's chief executive; on the other, gratification that his successor is so well qualified for the post.

Milliken's rise in Michigan's political establishment has been marked by step-by-step advancement. The executive head of a family-owned chain of department stores, he interested himself in public life in 1947 and was appointed to the State Waterways Commission. Thereafter he served for six years as Republican chairman for Grand Traverse County.

★ ★ ★

In 1960, he was elected State Senator, where his moderate political outlook established him as a leader against the rock-ribbed conservatism so long entrenched in the Republican party.

MILLIKEN was reelected in 1962 and subsequently elected the Republican Senate floor leader. Two years later, he took on a GOP stalwart in a contest for lieutenant governor and won that election.

★ ★ ★

Teamed with ROMNEY in 1966 election, the first under the new constitution that paired the State's top administrative officers and lengthened their terms from two to four years, MILLIKEN along with the governor was again reelected.

★ ★ ★

Needless to say, the lieutenant governor had ample opportunity to cut his gubernatorual teeth while pinch hitting for his chief during ROMNEY's absences from Lansing — particularly during the prolonged one during the greater part of last year while campaigning for the Republican presidential nomination.

★ ★ ★

We salute William Milliken on his succession to the governorship, with an expression of best wishes for a fruitful administration of the State's highest office.

Trial Seen Reviving Kennedy Tragedy

The trial of CLAY L. SHAW, who has been charged with conspiring to assassinate President KENNEDY, is at long last beginning in New Orleans. It is expected to last five or six weeks once a jury is selected from a venire of 250 persons. Criminal District Judge EDWARD A. HAGGERTY has said the trial will be held on Saturdays and Sundays as well as weekdays, even during the Mardi Gras period.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

It is understating the case to say that opinion is split on whether Garrison has any sort of evidence to back his charges. The district attorney announced on Feb. 24, 1967, that his staff had "solved" the assassination but that he would need months or years to "work on details of evidence" and to make arrests. He added: "We know what cities were involved, how it was done in the essential respects, and the individuals involved . . . It's my personal belief that Oswald did not kill anyone that day." Shaw was arrested March 1, 1967.

★ ★ ★

Subsequent developments have been confusing. GARRISON has hinted darkly at involvement in the alleged plot of powerful groups intent on thwarting his investigation. The FBI was withholding evidence, he said, and the C.I.A. knew "the name of every man involved and the name of the individuals who pulled the triggers" to kill the President. GARRISON's belief in a conspiracy is said to reflect his choice of Jan. 21 as the trial date because the JOHNSON administration will be out of power and powerless—as it was all along—to block the trial.

★ ★ ★

Although Garrison's bizarre allegations have been given scant credence in knowledgeable quarters, the trial may serve a useful purpose. It should dispel any lingering public uncertainty about the perpetration of the crime that rocked the Nation.

Philadelphia Registering Racial Gains

(First of two related columns)

By BRUCE BIOSSAT
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Cracks of hopeful daylight can be found here and there in a troubled urban racial situation which many observers of the nation's black community insist on painting in hopelessly gloomy tones.

BIOSSAT

Fortunately for the nation, through all the tumult and the shouting from black militants on the one hand and rightist whites who would repress blacks on the other, a hardy band of both whites and blacks keeps hacking away pragmatically at real problems and helping to produce at least partial answers.

★ ★ ★

Typical of this band is Andrew Freeman of Philadelphia's Urban League, a soft-spoken but highly determined man who for years has been fighting for practical gains for the black community and getting some of them.

Measured on the scale of practical advances, Freeman saw 1968 in Philadelphia as a year of more promise than a quick tour of the black ghetto might suggest. And he says he is "very optimistic" that 1969 will be a good deal better.

MOST SUCCESSFUL

In the employment field, it may shake some of those who believe that federally sponsored programs are inevitably doomed to failure to hear that on-the-job training efforts under U.S. Department of Labor guidance have been the most successful in Philadelphia.

Figures for 1968 are not yet complete, but may well exceed 1967. Nearly 3,000 blacks trained under this program were at work — and the so-called "job retention" rate ranged impressively between 85 and 93 per cent.

★ ★ ★

Most disappointing in 1968 was the failure to arouse a proper sense of urgency among the potential employers of black trainees.

Nevertheless, men like Freeman never give up fighting for the small victories on the job, school and housing fronts which, when pieced together over the years, mark real advances.

GET THE MESSAGE?

Notwithstanding earlier discouragements, he is confident more business employers are going to get the message in 1969 and hire black trainees or help train them as they work.

The National Alliance of Businessmen has made job pledges which may be fulfilled better this year than last. The Urban Coalition, not too productive in Philadelphia so far, is still eyed hopefully.

★ ★ ★

Even housing prospects look more promising. A 1968 U.S. law providing subsidies that will allow one per cent mortgage charges for low-income buyers opens up a market for blighted but basically sound dwellings which can be reconditioned. Poor blacks may be buying.

Nudity Goes To Washington!

David Lawrence Says:

Nixon Address Was Impressive

WASHINGTON — President Nixon's address to the nation immediately after he took the oath of office yesterday was impressive.

LAWRENCE

There were no innuendos of political partisanship, no criticisms of the preceding administration, no words of boastfulness or extravagant promise. It was just the message of a man who emphasized his own confidence that the American people could unite and go "forward together."

Naturally no specific courses of action relating to pending problems were outlined. The speech was rather an attempt to achieve a unity of thought behind the fundamental principles which must guide the new administration and the country.

★ ★ ★

"I ask you," Mr. Nixon said, "to share with me today the majesty of this moment. In the orderly transfer of power, we celebrate the unity that keeps us free."

The American people place authority in the hands of one man but only within the limits specified in a written constitution.

SYMBOL OF DEMOCRACY

So the inaugural is in truth a symbol of democratic government.

The new president's address did not, of course, ignore the realities of the age — the factional differences, the bitterness between groups, and the uprisings of dissent. He said:

"In these difficult years, America has suffered from a fever of words: from inflated rhetoric that promises more than it can deliver; from angry rhetoric that fans discontents into hatreds; from bombastic rhetoric that postures instead of persuading.

"We cannot learn from one another until we stop shouting at one another — until we speak quietly enough so that our words can be heard as well as our voices.

"For its part, government will listen. We will strive to listen in new ways — to the voices of quiet anguish, the voices that speak without words, the voices of the heart — to the injured voices, the anxious voices, the voices that have despaired of being heard."

This is an appeal to reason as against movements of protest by violence and disorder.

Mr. Nixon broadened his theme to cover world affairs, too. He declared that "the peace we seek to win is not victory over any other people, but the peace that comes 'with healing in its wings'; with compassion for those who have suffered; with understanding for those who have opposed us; with the opportunity for all the peoples of this earth to choose their own destiny."

Mr. Nixon's inaugural address will be appraised in history as a timely presentation of thoughts which lie deep in the hearts of the American people today.

On the whole, the inaugural of 1969 was a significant example of how well the spirit and will toward unity can be emphasized even in an event that marked the defeat of one party and the victory of another.

★ ★ ★

Inauguration days are full of hope, and time alone can tell whether the hopes and wishes of the people will be fulfilled.

Verbal Orchids

Mrs. Ona Lee Schwartz of 56 Bennett; 90th birthday.

Bob Considine Says:

Richard Nixon Becomes Nation's No. 1 Prisoner

WASHINGTON — The nation's new No. 1 prisoner is Richard M. Nixon, 37th president of the United States. Until he leaves the White House (some say four years hence, he says eight) he will be the most intensely guarded American.

CONSIDINE

The Secret Service is the turnkey in nominal charge of seeing that he doesn't get away. But his guards are deeper than that.

The FBI also is charged with keeping an eye on him. So is the CIA in the event he goes out of the country.

If he visits troops, military police and intelligence officers will surround him. If he tries to climb over the White House's iron fence, Washington's metropolitan police get in the act.

If he meets Kosygin in Moscow, the MVD (Ministerstvo Vnutrennvkh Del) will blanket him. If he manages to obtain an audience with Charles de Gaulle, his guards will be the Surete Nationale and the Gendarmerie Nationale.

ON A TOUR

If it's a tour he's on, he'll also be under the constant surveillance of the Bundespolizei in West Germany, the Guardia di Publica Sicurezza in Italy and Scotland Yard in Britain.

Agents of INTERPOL (International Criminal Police Organization) won't be far from his side, wherever he goes on this globe.

★ ★ ★

He may go to the bathroom alone, but that's about all.

If Washington is ever blitzed (except by its natives) he will be hustled to two maximum security areas, the bomb shelter deep underground between the White House and the Treasury Department, or the place outside of the capital where there are provisions to last until the radiation dissipates.

SOMETHING TO SAY

The prisoner is allowed to say, "Hey, Pat, let's go to the National Theater tonight," but his guards would have something to say about that.

★ ★ ★

First, there would be a thorough search of the theater. Secret Service men would be assigned to all seats that commanded a sniper's view of the seats intended for the prisoner and his wife. Seats to the side of the couple, and in front and back, would be blocked off and occupied by Secret Service men. Several more men would be stationed near the stage with instructions to stare at the audience, not look at the action behind the footlights.

★ ★ ★

Police would be on the roof of the theater and atop adjoining buildings.

And, of course, close to the prisioner would be the Satchel Man. Inside the satchel is the portable, high-powered transmitter and the proper codes which Mr. Nixon would use if forced to order a massive nuclear retaliation.

Everywhere President Nixon goes there will be a Secret Service man at his side assigned to serve as a human shield. The assignment rotates among half a dozen agents.

They don't like their "prisoner" to get too friendly and shake hands with strangers. But if he doesn't, the strangers tend to vote him out of office.

Smiles

Put away some money each week for your vacation, and you'll have just enough to fix the roof that will start to leak in April.

Voice of the People:

Road Commission Apathy Disturbs Area Motorist

The Road Commission says it can't do anything about M59 because it is under State jurisdiction. What about the roads the Commission does control? Orchard Lake Road is a good example. Between here and Farmington, that road is one long bottleneck. The speed limit is 45, but if you hit 30 you're lucky.

★ ★ ★

I'd like to know what the Road Commission plans to do about the general situation in this County. I can probably speak for the great majority of Oakland County motorists when I say we are fed up with the indifference and apathy on the part of the Road Commission. We want action now.

'Drivers Ignore Accidents in Parking Lots'

I would like to voice my opinion of people who hit parked cars and then leave without saying they did it. I have had my car cut along the side in one parking lot, and recently when parked in front of a store, someone hit me in the back end and really did a job that will cost me plenty to have fixed. I hope whoever did it will realize that I am a widow trying to live on a fixed income, and that Social Security doesn't raise with strikes. How many other people feel as I do?

Clarifies Aid Given by Salvation Army

A recent letter signed by Joan Francis commented on assistance given to another family. The Salvation Army was contacted by the welfare case worker of the family involved and asked to issue enough food for one day. This was on the second of the month and the woman had an ADC check coming on the third for her retarded son. Also, her husband was getting paid in a couple days. I issued food from our well-supplied pantry for their needs that night and the following morning, and issued a food order for $2, explaining that this was for milk and bread for the children. The recipients were grateful for our assistance. Our help is for emergencies like this.

Comments on Maintenance of Morgan Road

It seems all county roads get sanded except Morgan Road. School buses that stop to pick up children have to back up a long way before they can get started again. Our road never gets plowed or sanded like it should for this to be a school bus route. We pay taxes the same as everyone else, yet they won't do any work on our road. In the summer when we have our road oiled, they want to grade it, but when the oil is gone they won't grade it.

Submits Views on Aid to Parochial Schools

The parochial aid issue is before us again. Practically every American adheres to the principle of separation of church and state, whereas the late President Kennedy stated, "no church or church school is granted any public funds or political preferences." The question has been complicated by the so-called child-benefit theory which in reality isn't a new approach.

The real issue concerns taxation. This country fought a revolution where "taxation without representation" was one of the causes. As a citizen, I have the power to implement policy in the public schools through school board elections. Parents of parochial school children haven't this power over their schools, although they can still vote in the public school system elections.

I'm all in favor of aid to parochial schools if these schools agree to be run like the public schools where the school board dictates policy. If I am going to be taxed either to support a child or an institution, I want the inherent right to elect officials to look after this investment. Taxation without representation is just as tyrannical today as it was in 1776.

Corrects Recent Article on Interest Rates

A recent article quoted a F.H.A. spokesman as saying due to increased prime interest rates "buyers will have to pay more 'points' or a higher discount fee at time of purchase." The article should have read "sellers will pay a higher discount fee at time of closing." Many home owners feel they should not have to pay "points," and a misleading article can lead to endless hours of explanations by realtors and their salespeople.

Question and Answer

Does the minimum speed limit apply in all weather conditions? Particularly, may I slow down in what I consider to be bad driving conditions even though others are maintaining the minimum speed limit?

DAILY COMMUTER

REPLY

We checked with the State Police post and assuming you're referring to expressway travel with a posted minimum speed, you must travel within the conditions of the road. Should you feel it necessary to slow down below the flow of traffic, and a traffic officer feels road conditions warrant maintaining the minimum, he would probably advise you to speed up or take another route.

Question and Answer

My mother ordered a hair dryer (code number 52-14H) for me three weeks before Christmas from Century Housewares Inc. and she got a rain check. We've called dozens of times but have been unable to get it. Will we ever get it?

REPLY

Have you tried the last few days? The manager tells us this was an incredible sales year. Many items were sold out at all 27 branches and had to be reordered from the manufacturer, which sometimes takes quite a while. However, assuming the number you gave us is correct, that item is now available at the Pontiac store.

Romney Staff Is Busy Cleaning Out the Files

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney's office staff is keeping plenty busy these days—packing six years' worth of memories into cardboard boxes bound for Ann Arbor, Washington and the scrap heap.

"It's horrible," said secretary Isabelle Saxton, pointing to the fourth pushcart full of old press releases to be wheeled away on Monday alone.

The housecleaning chore was interrupted briefly Monday when word spread that Romney had been confirmed by the U. S. Senate as President Nixon's secretary of housing and urban development.

Then the girls went back to work, stuffing speech texts, magazine articles, proclamations, photographs, tapes and files — many dating from 1962, when Romney first campaigned for governor—into some of the more than 400 boxes ordered for the task so far.

FOR COLLECTIONS

The boxes marked "collections" are slated for the University of Michigan historical collections at Ann Arbor. Those tagged "personal" go with Romney to Washington or to his home in Bloomfield Hills.

Into the 180-plus boxes shipped to Ann Arbor already have gone, for instance, the 1,017 proclamations issued since Romney took office in 1963.

★ ★ ★

They range from run-of-the-mill declarations of St. Patrick's Day and Mental Health Week to the proclamations declaring states of emergency during times of labor or racial troubles.

Office manager George Trumbell's target date for clearing historical records from the office is Jan. 30. Donald Gordon, executive aide to Lt. Gov. William Milliken, Romney's successor, says he had no idea when the Milliken people will be able to move into the "front office."

ON THE WALL

Meanwhile, the larger-than-life portrait of Romney in the office's press section remains on the wall, but the full-length color portrait of the governor's wife, Lenore, is gone from the inner office-replaced by a night view of the Detroit skyline.

Still to be packed are hundreds of personal mementos which now cover the governor's spacious desk and the shelves of his big display case.

★ ★ ★

There are books: a dictionary, an encyclopedia, a thesaurus, a book of famous quotations. There's a friendly biography of Romney, a collection of position papers from the Nixon campaign, the report of the U.S. Crime Commission. There's an almanac, a Bible and the Book of Mormon.

The nonsmoking governor has collected a sizable number of ash trays. As the state's leading Republican, he has acquired a staggering collection of miniature elephants — including one made of seashells.

OTHER STUFF

There are coins embedded in glass, photographs, bookends, unnumbered trophies, plaques and citations. There are dozens of keys which don't open anything, and there is a pair of wooden shoes.

★ ★ ★

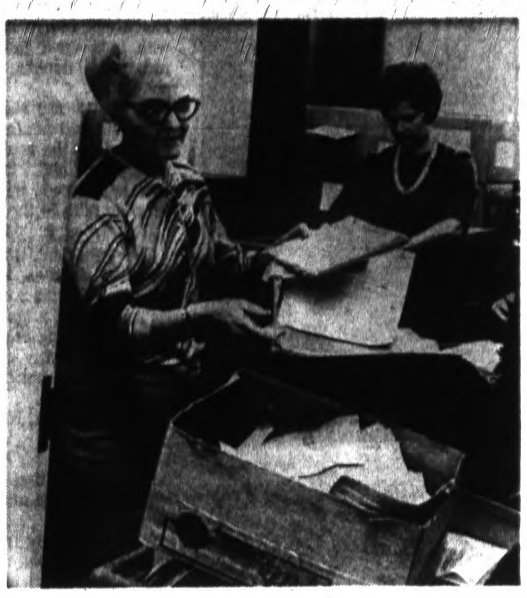

In the trophy case also are a football, an Indian headdress, a ceremonial sword, a bust of Abraham Lincoln, a piece of Petoskey stone and a powder horn. Leaned temporarily against the wall is a shovel from a ground breaking ceremony.

★ ★ ★

Albert Applegate, a Romney aide who is going to Washington with the governor, has 32 cardboard cartons stacked in his own little office to take along.

Mrs. Aileen Jenkins, who is in charge of the office files and is serving as general foreman of the parcel-packing operation, says the office probably won't be cleared of Romney memorabilia by the Jan. 30 deadline, but should be in the following week or two.

"As soon as it's done, I'm going to Florida," she says with a weary smile, "so I'm going to rush everybody."

PAPER WORK — Secretaries in the office of outgoing Gov. George W. Romney sort papers accumulated during Romney's six-year reign. While Isabelle Saxton (left) selects material for the scrap heap, Penny Ancel packs a box of Romney memorabilia for the University of Michigan historical collection. The staff hopes to have the office ready for the incoming William Milliken by Jan. 30.

Legislator Questions Size of State Surplus

LANSING (UPI) — A dollar donnybrook has developed in the Michigan Capitol over how much money is now and will be in the State Treasury.

Sen. Anthony Stamm, R-Kalamazoo, says outgoing Gov. George Romney told him two months ago the state should end the 1968-69 fiscal year $70 million in the black.

★ ★ ★

Chairman Charles O. Zollar of the Senate Appropriations Committee says built-in budget increases and tax rebate commitments show the treasury is now $3 million in the red.

State Budget Director Glenn Allen Jr. took a wait-and-see position. He said the state of the treasury — present and future — will be outlined by the incoming governor, William G. Milliken, in his first budget message Wednesday.

SURPLUS ESTIMATES

Last September, however, Allen estimated the surplus for the fiscal year ending June 30 would range between $45 million and $50 million.

Stamm's concern over the treasury surplus is linked to the proposed $40 million per year parochial school aid program his joint legislative committee unveiled last week. He claims there is enough money on hand to pay for the aid without a tax hike.

★ ★ ★

Confusion over the surplus, Stamm added, means that taxpayers and legislators either have deen lied to in the past year about the state's fiscal posture, "or we're being lied to right now."

He blamed the confusion on Allen.

'NO STRAIGHT ANSWER'

"Allen has never given anyone a straight answer about the budget," Stamm said. "Whenever you try to get anything out of him, he's either not available or he doesn't know. Maybe he just doesn't — I don't know."

Allen said he was "surprised" at Stamm's statement that a $70-million surplus would be available at the end of the current fiscal year.

★ ★ ★

"He has never talked with me about this matter and, to my knowledge, has not talked with anybody in the budget office," Allen added Monday.

"If he had asked, we could have given him some definitive decisions."

INCORRECT ESTIMATE

Stamm said he got his surplus estimate from Romney at a Republican Senate caucus in Cadillac last November. He said the caucus told him the surplus should grow to $100 million by the end of the 1969-70 fiscal year.

"Now Allen turns around and says there won't be a surplus this year anywhere near the $70-million figure," Stamm added. "If Allen is correct, I must assume Romney was given the wrong information."

★ ★ ★

Stamm said unless he gets "some straight answers out of Allen and the budget bureau" he may introduce a Senate resolution calling for an investigation.

Ticket Fixing Was Policy ---Ex-Deputy

DETROIT (AP) — Ticket-fixing was an official policy of the Wayne County sheriff's road patrol for at least 20 years, a former undersheriff testified Monday.

James Bommarito, now a sergeant in the sheriff's office, said "fixing" of parking tickets was done by road patrol heads under sheriffs Andrew C. Baird an Peter Buback.

★ ★ ★

The testimony came in the trial of former road patrol head Inspector Dan D. Martin and three ex-union officials on ticket-fixing charges.

Bommarito testified that when Buback took over as sheriff in 1963, it was decided to continue the policy followed by Baird, who died in 1962.

Designated Authority

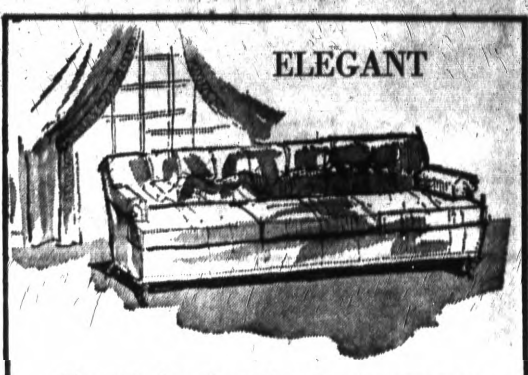

"At policy meetings between Buback, William Ryan (former undersheriff) and myself it was determined that the head of the road patrol would have the authority to void traffic tickets," Bommarito said.

He added that voiding of parking tickets was "quite common at Detroit Metropolitan Airport, where we used to get hundreds of complaints because parking meters were not in good repair.

★ ★ ★

"In those cases, Inspector Martin would void tickets without investigation."

Martin was head of the road patrol when a ticket-fixing scandal occurred in August 1965.

It's New 'Ball Game' for President Nixon

By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon ended his first day as President on a jubilant social note with a four-hour tour of six inaugural balls so jampacked with bejewelled ladies and tuxedo-clad men that dancing was a near impossibility.

At least 30,000 ballgoers gave the new President and his lady cheering ovations as he made the rounds Monday night in white tie and tails, making brief speeches laced with humor and expressing faith in the American people.

★ ★ ★

The President and his family spent about 30 minutes at each ball and he wound up at 1:30 a.m. on a serious note:

"America is a good country," he said, "and Americans are good people. I hope we can be worthy of the great goodness that is in America—these next four years."

Mainly, though, Nixon was in a joking mood.

LIGHTS ON

He reported that "President Johnson left the lights on at the White House for us."

When he finally headed home, he told a delighted crowd: "They gave me the key to the front door of the White House and I'm going home to see if it fits."

Nixon's enjoyment of his new role was obvious. Many of his joking remarks were directed at how long he had sought the presidency.

He noted "I never had better seats at a parade than I did today," adding, "I sent for my seats eight years ago."

★ ★ ★

The balls were the big windup social event of three days of inaugural activities and they were a sellout at $35 a head and $1000 for a box. Some 25 bands, including Lionel Hampton, Sammy Kaye, Lester Lanin, Meyer Davis, Guy Lombardo and Duke Ellington performed.

It was a crushing mob scene everywhere. Nixon, surveying the crowds, joked: "Now I know what they mean by 'Bring us together'," alluding to the slogan of his administration.

"The only advantage," he noted, "is that I was afraid I was going to have to dance tonight." He confided "I'm not a very good dancer."

He introduced his family including daughter Tricia, 22, and her escort, Doug Rogers, son of the secretary of state; daughter Julie, 20, and her husband, David Eisenhower.

He said Pat "has been first lady in my house 28½ years, now she's First Lady in the White House."

Mrs. Nixon wore a mimosa yellow silk satin ballgown, its jacket and cummerbund a-glitter with jewels that took 265 hours to embroider.

President Nixon made just about the same speech with a few ad libs at each ball at the Smithsonian Institution and the five hotels, expressing thanks to those who supported him in 20 years in politics and came to Washington to celebrate his inauguration.

★ ★ ★

In the years to come, Nixon said, they would forget that it was a cold day and rained at night. "You'll simply remember the glow of friendship."

And, he promised, to their cheers "We're not going to let you down."

Vice President and Mrs. Spiro T. Agnew were on the circuit, too, and finally wound up on the same platform with the Nixons around midnight.

Nixon got the warmest greetings, whistles, cheers, applause for every quip.

"A very great evening for us," he declared.

Spirit Counts When Parents Give Presents

By ELIZABETH L. POST
Of The Emily Post Institute

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I both agree that exchanging birthday presents among relatives is too expensive for us. We explained this to our relatives and agreed on sending cards only. However, each birthday our parents still insist on giving us a gift.

Naturally if we refuse the gift we will hurt their feelings, and accepting it makes us feel obligated. What do you suggest? — Nancy

Dear Nancy: Don't fight it. From time immemorial parents have enjoyed the privilege of giving their children whatever they could, and they do not expect or want anything in return. Enjoy their presents and appreciate the spirit in which they are given.

Dear Mrs. Post: I am to be a sponsor for a neighbor's daughter when she is confirmed. When I was confirmed my sponsor bought me my whole outfit. I would like to know if this is customary. —Margaret

Dear Margaret: While it was very generous of your sponsor, it was not necessary. Nor need you do so for your neighbor's daughter. You should give her a gift, however—a small piece of jewelry, possibly a religious charm, a nicely bound special book, or a prayer book or Bible if she does not have one.

Quiet Taste Is Projected for Pat's Fashions

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — The woman who designed Mrs. Richard M. Nixon's inaugural ballgown sees the new First Lady's fashion influence as a "quiet" rather than a flamboyant one.

"She will wear what she likes to wear," says designer Karen Stark. So far, what she likes does not include the pants fad, Mrs. Stark added.

★ ★ ★

And the man whose seamstresses made the historic ballgown sees Mrs. Nixon as "No. 1 in fashion," anyway you count it, because she's the nation's No. 1 woman. This is Harvey Berin speaking, Mrs. Stark's brother-in-law, as he counts off the 265 hours alone that the seamstresses put in on the gold bullion embroidery of the mimosa yellow silk satin that went into the slim, jacketed dress.

"AMERICAN"

Familiar designer names from New York and Los Angeles are the labels in the wardrobes of the leading ladies of the Nixon administration. Not a single French or Italian couturier is mentioned.

★ ★ ★

But Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson bought American too — from the likes of Molly Parnis, Adele Simpson and George Stavropoulos. The former Mrs. John F. Kennedy started out all-American too, with Oleg Cassini doing her inaugural wardrobe, but eventually the French and Italian labels crept in.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Spiro T. Agnew's inaugural gown of shell pink corded silk is the creation of Helen Rose, veteran Hollywood designer who created the bridal dress MGM gave Grace Kelly for her marriage to Prince Rainier of Monaco.

Parents Advised to Forgive Deception; Accept Early Birth of Grandchild

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Recently our daughter was married in an all-white church wedding which was one of the most beautiful ever held in this town. It was a dream come true. To say she looked like an "angel" is not just a mother's pride. I can't describe the joy that was in her father's heart and mine.

★ ★ ★

When the newlyweds returned from their honeymoon, they calmly told us to expect a grandchild in FIVE MONTHS! That means our daughter was a good three months pregnant when she donned her wedding gown and veil. Abby, she knew it all along. How could she have done this to us? We loved this child more than life itself.

HEARTSICK MOTHER

DEAR HEARTSICK: The real test of love is to love our children when they need our love the most. It's easy to love them when they do everything right, and make us "proud" of their accomplishments. But when they disappoint us (as children do, occasionally) we can prove the strength of our love by showing compassion, understanding, and forgiveness. Try it. You'll have fewer regrets.

DEAR ABBY: I am 21 and my husband is 22. We get along very well but here is the problem: He has very long hair, and I mean it is practically down to his shoulders.

During the daytime he keeps it nicely combed, but at night it is all over the place and it drives me crazy. When I mention a net he gets mad. What should I do?

RUNNING OUT OF PATIENCE

DEAR RUNNING: I agree, that man of yours needs a net — maybe both kinds. You'll probably run out of patience before he runs out of hair, so let him know he's no treat to sleep with, and let him make a choice.

DEAR ABBY: I'd like to put in my two cents' worth about the woman who didn't want her husband present when she gave birth because she didn't want him to see her "naked" in front of other people. Of all the reasons she could have thought up, that is the dumbest.

In the first place she is NOT naked, and besides, she is there to have a baby, not to make a stag film. And as for your advice in this case, Abby, boo and hiss. Having a baby is a joint effort. She is not doing HER thing, she is doing THEIR thing.

Only once in history did a woman have a child alone, and that was 2,000 years ago in a stable. Sincerely,

P. N. (HOLLYWOOD)

Second Cabaret Party Drips With French Bistro Atmosphere

By SHIRLEY GRAY

Red tablecloths, bowls of fruit for centerpieces, wine bottles stoppered with dripping color candles, French fare, lights down low — voila, instant bistro ambience.

That'll be the mood Saturday night at Bloomfield Hills Country Club when Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin H. Jaynes, aided and abetted by the Maynard R. Andreaes and the Howard T. Keatings, have their second cabaret party.

A REPEAT

Mrs. Jaynes started the whole thing last year, complete with red-checkered tablecloths and long loaves of French bread. Everyone had so much fun it seemed like a good idea to have another one.

Planning to be there, besides the Jayneses, the Keatings and the Andreaes, are Mr. and Mrs. R. A. (Mike) Maxwell, the Robert E. Fifes, the Rinehardt S. Brights, the Paul McKenneys and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gates, to name a few.

Mr. and Mrs. Jaynes spent last weekend skiing at Otsego. So did a lot of other people from this neck of the woods, reports Mrs. J.

Among them were the John Kerrs, the Dick Gawnes, Gail Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Clark (Bud) Matthews, the Brights and, from Fenton, Dr. and Mrs. Harry Phillips.

The Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra will meet for luncheon and a fashion show Thursday at Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, plus a reveiw of the last three projects — "Star," the filmed biography of Gertrude Lawrence; the Christmas Walk, for which Mrs. Garrett F. Scollard and Mrs. R. Lawrence Smith served as Birmingham-Bloomfield chairmen, and the Souvenir Concert.

Mrs. E. David Auer of Ardmoor Drive, Bloomfield Township, is in charge of the luncheon arrangements.

Military for Men

The military look lingers on into fall clothes. Designers copy the overcoats of the Army or Navy man, buttons double row up front and all. Favorite colors: bright navy with brass buttons or deep taupe-y browns with self-fabric covered buttons.

At a family dinner in their Converse Court, Orion Township home, the Leopoldo Sabatinis announced the engagement of their daughter, Sherry Lee, to James John Purdy. He is the son of the James C. Purdys of Kentmoor Road, Bloomfield Township. The couple, students at the University of Michigan, will wed June 28.

Linda Darling Wed to Danny Lee Gibbs

Carrying a bouquet of white roses with orchids, Linda Sue Darling was escorted to the altar of First General Baptist Church Friday where she became the bride of Danny Lee Gibbs.

For the evening vows, the daughter of the Owen Darlings of West Rutgers Street wore an A-line satin gown highlighted with lace.

★ ★ ★

Rebecca Hogg was maid of honor with Ronda Vick as bridesmaid. Best man was Gerald Young with Ronald Manor and Tony Mayo ushering.

★ ★ ★

The son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Gibbs of Kahler Street and his bride were feted at the CAI Building before they departed for a northern Michigan honeymoon.

Placement Tip for Button Sewing

When sewing buttons on a new garment, keep them evenly spaced by using a straight-edged piece of stiff paper which had been notched by a ruler at the required distance you want.

Place the straight edge of the paper along the button line and, with a pencil, make a small dot in each notch. Sew the buttons over the pencil dots.

Youngster Asks Basic Question

SPARTANBURG, S.C. (AP) — Five-year-old Vickie Ray, on a visit to a figure salon with neighbor Mrs. Dennis Goodwin, saw a whole row of women in the exercise room on belt machines.

"What are they doing?" asked Vickie. "They're shaking off their fat," replied Mrs. Goodwin.

The youngster thought about this for a moment and then asked: "Who's going to sweep it up?"

Rochester Council 'Adopts' Needy Hong Kong Child

By MOLLY PETERSON

With the end of the first semester Friday, students are cramming for exams held January 21 thru January 23. There will be no classes Friday.

The Student Council has announced that it will be sponsoring a needy child. Her name is Ng Lai Fung, and she comes from Hong Kong.

Her father is dead, and her mother tries to keep her family fed and clothed. Fung's mother works, but her salary is too meager to provide adequate income. Through the foster parents plan, Ng Lai Fung will be given both food and clothing so that she may attend school.

She is in the first grade, and has said that her favorite subject is reading. The school corresponds with her.

CLASS PLAY

This year, the Rochester senior class is presenting "Rally Round the Flag, Boys, by Max Schulman.

Tryouts will be held Monday and Tuesday.

The entire art department of Rochester is preparing projects for the coming Scholastic Art Awards in mid-February.

The Gymnastics Club, sponsored by Mrs. B. Possessky, is preparing a show for half-time during the basketball game Friday.

The program will consist of routines of acrobatics, modern dance and other routines to give members a chance to perform for the students of RHS.

PCH Debaters Try for a Win

By PURVIS HUNT JR.

Pontiac Central debaters have accepted another challenge. They will travel to Detroit Thurston High School Jan. 25 to compete in the District Debate Tournament.

Expectations are high, for the Central debate team, since it has won this event for the last five years. If it succeeds in capturing its sixth such victory in a row, it will advance to the Regional Tournament.

★ ★ ★

The debate topic for the tournament: Resolved: that the United States should establish a system of compulsory service for all citizens.

This is the topic which the debaters have been researching and debating on throughout the regular 1968-69 season. As a result, last month the Central debaters won their fourth Saginaw Valley tournament, and returned to Central with a banner proclaiming the Chiefs as the Saginaw Valley Debate Champions of the 68-69 season.

VARSITY ROSTER

The varsity team made up of Chris Brewer, Gary Durfee, Mike Lee, Maryanne Newman, and Carol Sempere, will compete against debate squads from other area high schools.

Schools in competition with the Central debate team are Waterford Kettering, University of Detroit High, Detroit Cass Tech, Redford Union, Detroit Thurston, Southfield, and Harper Woods Notre Dame.

The Chiefs' debate team will journey Jan. 28 to Oakland Community College, where it has been invited to put on demonstration debates for college classes.

Pontiac Central's Human Relation's Club, under the chairmanship of Peter Whittaker, will hold a teacher-student panel discussion Thursday before the entire faculty. This panel, through the discussion, hopes to find a means toward better intergroup communication.

The Relations Club has affiliated itself with the city-wide organization headed by John Perdue, in hopes of achieving a greater success.

FUTURE SOCIAL EVENTS

In the near future, the club will sponsor a series of social events.

Mixing pleasure with business, the PCH Student Council decided to hold a tobogganning party for members tomorrow at Braywood.

However, the council hasn't forgotten the student body. A roller skating party has been planned for the near future. One Student Council member, Pam Watkins, feels that, "fun and excitement are predicted for all!"

The school has forwarded their grade-point averages and ranks in class, to the Michigan Higher Education Assistance Authority.

All of these facts will be considered, and tuition awards will be made in April for those who qualify.

Rice Men Again Build Hockey Rink

By STEPHEN PALMS

For the second consecutive year, students at Brother Rice High School have constructed a hockey rink. The rink is full size, and is complete with spotlights for night games.

It was built under the direction of Brother Wielatz, with the help of many student volunteers.

The rink is presently used by the intramural committee for hockey games. There are two leagues, each composed of six teams.

One league is for underclassmen, the other is for the juniors and seniors.

CHAMPION PLAYOFFS

At the end of the regular season, playoffs will be held among the top four teams in each league to determine the over-all champion. The hockey intramural program is under the direction of Dave Taylor.

Another winter sport in which Rice students take an avid interest is skiing. Every Thursday a group of 50 to 80 ski enthusiasts trek to Alpine Valley.

★ ★ ★

Transportation is provided by the school bus, and the entire operation is supervised by moderator Brother Mackey. Weather permitting, Ski Club members leave as soon as possible after school Thursday afternoon, and spend until about 9:30 on the slopes.

Because of the size of the group, Alpine Valley offers a special discount to the club members.

AT PROJECTED PLANS

A weekend is being considered, but there have been no concrete plans made.

The Brother Rice Ski Club will participate in the Ski Festival at Mt. Holly for the benefit of the March of Dimes early in February.

Lahser Students Told Aim of Outward Bound Project

By GRETCHEN HAAS

"To serve, to strive, and not to yield" is the motto of Outward Bound, an outdoor program designed to build confidence and maturity in young people.

Joshua L. Miner, president of Outward Bound Inc., and William F. Unsoeld, executive vice president of the organization and onetime scaler of Mt. Everest, spoke to parents, students, and teachers at Bloomfield Hills Lahser High School last Tuesday evening.

★ ★ ★

The 26-day Outward Bound program consists of two weeks of training and physical fitness development in preparation for a final expedition which tests skills, limits and group organization.

★ ★ ★

Patrols of nine-to-12 young men work together, each contributing his personal talents to the group's success in meeting danger in the wilderness.

23 SCHOOLS

Twenty-three Outward Bound Schools have been established throughout the world including five in the United States: Colorado, Maine, Minnesota, North Carolina and Oregon.

In the Colorado course, students are expected to swing through a 200-foot aerial rope course 35 feet above the ground, scale rock cliffs and learn the skills of mountain rescue.

★ ★ ★

Seven Lahser senior boys completed Outward Bound courses at the Colorado and the Minnesota schools last summer. Bruce Barnhill, Chris Buzan, and Brian Kovach went through the training in Colorado; and Randy Chase, Bob Freidinger, John Hammond and Jim McLaren trained in Minnesota.

★ ★ ★

William Ullenbruch, physical education instructor at Lahser, also participated last year in the Minnesota program.

THEORY OF DELINQUENCY

Miner attributes delinquent behavior to the difficulty for an individual in today's urban life to determine his personal strengths and weaknesses.

Unsoeld, in agreement with Miner's theory, said that a person in today's society is not free to "run the risk" which is involved in testing his inner strengths.

★ ★ ★

Unsoeld also outlined four major objectives of the program. He explained that Outward Bound is designed to aid the individual in finding out just what he can and cannot do on the basis that self-knowledge builds self-confidence.

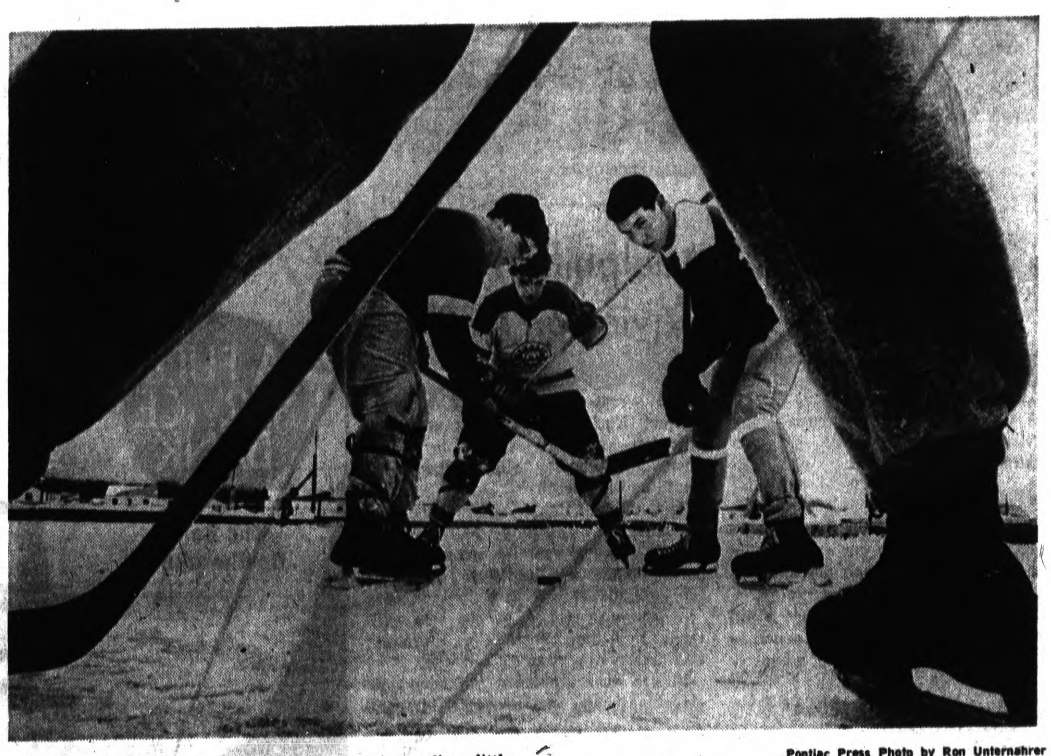

★ ★ ★

Compassion for fellow human beings is a second objective of the program. "Toughness for the sake of toughness is despicable, but you can't be passionate unless you are tough," Miner said.

★ ★ ★

"An individual is freed to extend the hand of fellowship," explained Unsoeld. He went on to say that the discoveries made during the course must be related to society as a whole — and on even broader terms, related to one's "total perspective with reality."

Unsoeld also presented a color slide review of his climb to the peak of Mt. Everest.

Cranbrook Boys Are Volunteers

By CHRIS WIGGINS

This year, under the direction of Karen Elshout at Kingswood and Chris Wiggins at Cranbrook, the inter-school Church Cabinets are sponsoring a group of volunteers who visit Pontiac State Hospital once a week to work with the adolescents and preadolescents there.

In the past, the volunteers only went to visit the adolescents once a month. This expansion, has allowed for the building of more meaningful and trusting relationships between the volunteers and the patients.

...If They're in Music Appreciation

Lapeer Students Know Score

By SUE DeARMOND

For the past two years, Lapeer Senior High School has offered a rather unusual academic course, music appreciation class, taught by Jack McCrachen, chorus teacher.

Enrollment in this class is limited; only 12 students are attending this year. These students are either interested in music or are planning to study music in college.

★ ★ ★

The class is almost as difficult as it is interesting. The students learn about such things as music theory, the study of the structure of music.

They listen to recordings of music from various periods — baroque, romantic, classic, impressionistic, expressionistic and contemporary — and this provides them with background on great works of music.

SINGING SELECTIONS

Often they will work on singing selections from famous operas to traditional Christmas carols.

At present, they are studying "The Magic Flute" by Wolfgang Mozart.

★ ★ ★

The newly formed Forensic Club is recruiting members. The new members will pick selections to read at the local competition March 3. The finalists will go on to district and regional competition.

The junior class play tryouts will be held the first week in February. The class is presenting "Mr. Barry's Etchings" by Walter Bullock and Daniel Archer March 20 and 21.

★ ★ ★

The play, sponsored by the junior class, is open to all high school students. It is about a man who has a hobby of etching $50 bills, bringing him a bit of trouble when the bills are circulated. Crooks, well-meaning friends, romance, jealousy and the U.S. Treasury Department all become involved as the plot thickens.

Youths Honored in VFW Contest

Voice of Democracy winners were honored Sunday at the David Belisle Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 1008. The project involved students in the 10th through 12th grades.

Each student entering writes and records a composition on the topic, "Freedom's Challenge." The competition is a national event with awards at local, district, state and national levels.

First, second and third place winners from the Pontiac area include George Marshall, Carla Dupree and David McNeir, Pontiac Central High School; Rebecca Spurck, Geraldine Blanzy and Patricia Hoffman, Pontiac Catholic High School; Cheryl Crandell, Edward Bertrand and John Mata, Waterford Township High School.

Others were Erika Schaefer, Donna Furlong and Vernon Yates, Waterford Kettering High School, and Denise LaForge, Dave Tait and Bryan Sauve, Our Lady of Lakes.

★ ★ ★

Ski Club Adviser Mrs. P. Crossmeyer pointed out that the members, unfortunately are restricted to surrounding ski lodges . . . during school sessions.

According to Theater Club Adviser Adele Howden, members are anticipating their next jaunt to see "Hamlet" at the Hillbury Theater.

They also hope to see performances to Shakespeare's "Richard II" and "Julius Caesar."

If arrangements can be made, an excursion to the Fisher Theater to see Mary Martin and Robert Preston in "I Do! I Do!" will be made sometime during this semester.

★ ★ ★

American Youth Hostels, recently found members skiing amid Boyne Highlands and Schuss Mountain. There they hosteled at the Alpine Chalet near Traverse City.

AYH members are now aticipating plans for the up coming spring vacation.

YEARBOOK

The NFH yearbook staff is currently rushing to fulfill its deadline schedules for the '69 Aurora.

This year the staff chose "Confrontation" as its theme.

Since it is traditional for only staff members to know yearbook details so students who order the annual will be surprised, editors would not elaborate on the theme.

★ ★ ★

Advised by Lynn Chamberlin, a staff of 15 seniors edit the Aurora.

Country Day

By JANET IVORY

If teachers assign a lot of homework and students complain. Perhaps there is a reason and a remedy.

The probable reason for student complaints on this subject is that homework takes too much time. The required reading limits the prospects of extracurricular activities. Girls at Bloomfield Country Day School have found truth in the old "all work and no play" adage.

★ ★ ★

The school is providing the remedy, not by cutting down on homework but by helping the student to cut down on the time it takes to complete the assigned work.

Last week, the school purchased several reading machines. You can race the machine down the pages of a book or the machines can test you.

INDIVIDUAL TREATMENT

A student can adjust the speed of the device and can keep accelerating until her comprehension results show that more practice at a certain speed is necessary.

Future events planned for Adelphian students include the annual "Ski trip" Jan. 27, sponsored by the school's newspaper (the Shiawassian) for those students who have turned in 13 or more subscriptions to the paper, and the annual Amateur Hour, Feb. 8, to which the public is invited.

New Speaker Boosts Dems in State House Panels

LANSING (AP) — Democratic House Speaker William Ryan wielded his new authority with a vengeance Monday, boosting the majority party's control of five key legislative committees.

Angry Republicans found themselves with only four members on the chamber's powerful appropriations committee, recently enlarged from 13 to 15 members, when Ryan announced his committee assignments.

★ ★ ★

Negro lawmakers and dissident Democrats fare better than the GOP. The 10 Negro House members, all Democrats, will provide chairman for six of the chamber's 31 committees and vice chairmen of six.

Ryan, elected speaker Jan. 8 and currently enjoying a 57-52 Democratic House edge, also increased the majority party's grip on the education, judiciary, labor and state affairs committees.

APPROPRIATIONS RATIO

The appropriations committee, which will soon start working on incoming Gov. William Milliken's expected $1.5-billion state budget, boasts 11 Democrats and only the four Republicans.

In 1967-68, with Republicans in narrow control of the House, the then-minority Democrats had five of 13 seats on the smaller committee. Ryan said in previous years the majority-minority split was 9-4.

★ ★ ★

He said that although the appropriations committee would be overwhelmingly Democratic, it would be well balanced between liberals and conservatives — something he said past speakers had refused to achieve.

★ ★ ★

Named appropriations chairman for the 1969-70 Legislature was Rep. Wiliam Copeland, D-Wyandotte, a lawmaker since 1952 and vice chairman during the 1967-68 Republican regime. Rep. Dominic Jacobetti, D-Negaunee, was appointed vice chairman.

OTHER CHAIRMEN

Chairmen of other major House committees included civil rights, Rosetta Ferguson, D-Detroit; colleges and universities, Vincent Petitpren, D-Westland; education, Lucille McCollough, D-Dearborn; elections, Alfred Sheridan, D-Taylor;

House policy, Albert Horrigan, D-Flint; insurance, Albert Kramer, D-Oak Park; judiciary, Robert Traxler, D-Bay City; labor, James Bradley, D-Detroit; mental health, Joyce Symons, D-Allen Park; state affairs, Josephine Hunsinger, D-Detroit; taxation, George Montgomery, D-Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Ryan Monday announced the Democratic members of all 31 committees and the majority-minority ratio of each, but named the Republican members to only four—apparently deciding to let GOP leaders choose their representatives on the others.

But the four he completely filled — appropriations, colleges and universities, education and house policy — were among the most important committees the chamber has.

HEALING EFFORTS

Ryan, meanwhile, made an obvious effort to heal splits within the Democratic caucus by refusing to deny choice spots to potential mavericks.

Mrs. Symons, who some members charged had threatened to try to prevent Ryan's election as speaker unless she was made chairman of the mental health committee, received the committee chairmanship anyway.

★ ★ ★

Rep. E. D. O'Brien, D-Detroit, who refused to vote for Ryan for speaker in 1967, allowing the GOP to take over the then evenly divided chamber, was awarded the chairmanship of the often-junketing economic development committee.

Horrigan, who challenged Ryan for the speakership this year, was given the house policy chairmanship he coveted. Horrigan was vice chairman of the committee in 1967-68.

DEL RIO UNASSIGNED

Rep. James Del Rio, D-Detroit, was the only Democrat given no committee assignments, reportedly at his own request. Del Rio was said to have told Ryan he plans to study law during the coming session.

Democratic chairmen of the 31 standing House committees, named Monday by Speaker William Ryan:

Agriculture, Frank Wierzbicki, Detroit; appropriations, William Copeland, Wyandotte; city corporations, Jackie Vaughn, Detroit; civil rights, Rosetta Ferguson, Detroit; colleges and universities, Vincent Petitpren, Westland; conservation and recreation, Thomas Anderson, Southgate, and Warren Goemaere, Roseville, cochairmen.

★ ★ ★

Drainage, John Kelsey, Warren; economic development, E. D. O'Brien, Detroit; education, Lucille McCollough, Dearborn; elections, Alfred Sheridan, Taylor; house policy, Albert Horigan, Flint; insurance, Albert Kramer, Oak Park; judiciary, J. Robert Traxler, Bay City; labor, James Bradley, Detroit.

Liquor control, Stephen Stopczynski, Detroit; marine affairs, Harold Clark, Warren; mental health, Joyce Symons, Allen Park; military and veterans' affairs, Edward Mahalak, Romulus; private corporations, George Edwards, Detroit; public health, William Fitzgerald, Detroit; public safety, James Tierney, Garden City.

★ ★ ★

Public utilities, Richard Young, Dearborn Heights; retirement, John Bennett, Redford; revision and amendment of the Constitution, Daisy Elliott, Detroit; roads and bridges, Michael Novak, Detroit; social services and corrections, Robert Mahoney, Detroit; state affairs, Josephine Hunsinger, Detroit; taxation, George Montgomery, Detroit; tourist industry relations, Leonard Walton, Detroit; towns and counties, James Callahan, Mount Morris; youth, David Holmes, Detroit.

Fire Fighters' Installation of Officers Near

Danny Delegato, president of the Michigan Fire Fighters Union and vice president of the International Association of Fire Fighters, will be the featured speaker Monday at the installation of officers of the Pontiac Fire Fighters Union.

Taking office at that time will be Edwin Manley, 5299 Pine Knob, Independence Township, president; Bobby Cone, first vice president; Raymond Grable, second vice president; Allen Watts, treasurer; and Anthony Sografos, secretary.

★ ★ ★

Cone and Grable will be serving their first terms as officers of Local 376. Manley and Watts held their respective offices last year, while Zografos has been secretary the past two years.

The installation will be held at 8 p.m. in the Metropolitan Club, Spirit 7, at 37 W. Yale.

Accord Reached in Dowagiac District

DOWAGIAC (UPI) — A strike threat dissolved when bus drivers and custodians of the Dowagiac Union School District yesterday reached a tentative agreement with the school board for the group's first contract.

The 29 bus drivers and 19 custodians, who service schools in most of Cass County and parts of Berrien and Van Buren counties, were included in the Service Employes International Union, AFL-CIO, over a year ago and since that time have been seeking a contract.

★ ★ ★

The group threatened to go on strike today unless an agreement was reached. An eight-hour bargaining session yesterday resulted in the tentative pact. A ratification vote was scheduled for Wednesday.

Opening lead—♠3

By OSWALD & JAMES JACOBY

We would be interested in a statistical count of how many East players actually passed today's hand in the continent-wide charity game. In theory there is no opening bid here but in practice we would open one club in view of the desire for a club lead if on defense, and the feeling of security engendered by possession of three quick tricks in case partner should get around to doubling some contract.

The club opening won't keep North and South out of the bidding and they will probably wind up at some number of no-trump.

If West makes his correct opening lead of the deuce of clubs and East returns a low club after taking his king, South will wind up with eight tricks for plus 120 if he stopped below game and minus 100 if he reached it.

★ ★ ★

If East passes there is a very good chance that North and South will reach game. South has only 15 points but many players will open one no-trump anyway and North can surely gamble on game in view of his five-card diamond suit.

Most of these bidders will be rewarded. If West opens the jack of hearts East will be in with the ace. He may return the suit whereupon South will take 10 tricks.

He may lead the king or ace of clubs and continue, whereupon clubs will lock and South make his game on the nose. East is most unlikely to lead a low club and beat the contract.

★ ★ ★

With the spade opening it is just as hard to find the right defense. South may rise with dummy's ace and lead a heart.

It would require almost clairvoyance for East to hop with the ace and lead a low club.

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
			1 ♣
Pass	1 ♦	Pass	2 N.T.
Pass	3 ♦	Pass	?

You, South, hold:
♠AQ6 ♥KJ7 ♦A104 ♣KQ102
What do you do now?

A—Bid three no-trump. You have no slam interest unless your partner can bid past three no-trump on his own.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Your partner continues to four hearts. What do you do now?

The scanning electron microscope (right) is a powerful new research tool. It makes enlarged surface photographs of solid samples such as rocks, synthetic polymers and fibers. It enables the scientist to discern physical details which provide him with new and valuable information. It is also convenient to operate, and its use is spreading to a variety of laboratories.

This type of microscope has a useful magnification ten times greater than the best optical microscopes, and a depth of focus about one hundred times greater. Because of this great depth of focus, a strikingly three dimensional effect is obtained in the pictures it produces. The accompanying photographs illustrate the microscope's powers, showing unusually detailed closeups of common objects.

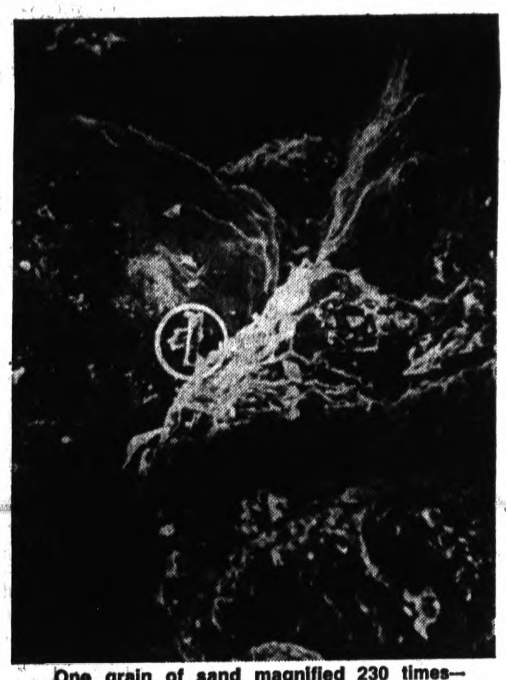

The scientist seated on the right at his electron microscope takes photographs of the samples placed in the column at the left. He selects and focuses his pictures in the cathode ray tube in front of him at eye level. When he has found his desired field of view, the signals are switched to a second cathode ray tube (barely visible behind his head) where it is photographed by a camera. The camera makes both a positive black and white print, and negative film.

Johnson and His Family Fly Home From History

By SAUL PETT
AP Special Correspondent

AUSTIN, Tex. — The trappings of power were still there — the big blue-and-white presidential jet, the historic seal of office, the Secret Service, the special communications machines, the special attentions of a solicitous crew.

But the burdens of power were gone. The man with the bag for Armageddon was gone. It made all the difference. The plane felt lighter.

★ ★ ★

Flying home from Washington history, Lyndon B. Johnson and his family reflected an admixture of weary exaltation, relief, liberation and nostalgia. They were returning to Texas in the same plane in which the 36th president of the United States took his oath of office five years and two months ago in Dallas, the same plane on which he flew to Washington with the body and the widow of the 35th president.

If that somber fact gave them a special feeling of coming full cycle, they did not express it. But they did talk of their last moments in the White House, the last special little things they did and their thoughts on leaving.

FELT DIFFERENT SOON

The former president said he felt "different within four seconds" after President Nixon took his oath. Running through his mind, he said, was his concern for the new chief executive and the problems he faced.

Also, Johnson said, he felt "great relief" that the problems were no longer his, that he could now roam his ranch without being followed by "the man with the bag." This referred to the ever-present companion of presidents who carries the secret code by which orders would be transmitted in event of nuclear attack.

★ ★ ★

Johnson exhibited fresh scratches on his hands. He exulted in the memory of the crowds who came to see him off in Washington, the people who said, "God bless you, Mr. President," the people who in grabbing for his hands scratched them. No man ever minded injury less. "People are so good," he said.

He exhibited little trace of the president who last March 31 renounced another term in the White House in the hope that his renunciation could help unite a bitterly divided nation.

'OUR DECISION'

"It was our decision, our choice," he said. "Our time had come.

"Things now are a lot better than we had expected. Substantive peace talks have begun in Paris. The astronauts are back safely from the moon. Cambodia has turned our men loose. Now we just hope that good things will happen for Mr. Nixon."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Johnson, holding her husband's hand, recalled that on her last morning in the White House she arose one hour earlier to wander alone through her favorite rooms, especially the yellow Oval Room, with its sweeping view of the Washington Monument, the Jefferson Memorial. Laughing, she also recalled that the last thing she packed was a book entitled "Everything to Live For."

Her smile faded as she recalled her last view of the White House, pulling away and seeing the windows "full of faces, the ushers, the butlers, all those people who were so nice to us. Some were in tears."

ALTERNATE MOODS

Her daughters, Luci Nugent and Lynda Bird Robb, alternated between serious memories and mutual needling. They slept together the last night in the White House in the Lincoln bedroom.

"We wanted to see if the ghost of Lincoln still existed," said Luci.

★ ★ ★

"We never found out," said Lynda Bird. "There was too much noise. Luci snores."

The former President went back to the main cabin of the plane and soon returned proudly with his 18-month-old grandson, Lyn Nugent. "Interview him," he told reporters. The boy soon dumped a glass into a reporter's lap. Lyn's mother and grandmother apologized profusely.

TALKED TO TRICIA

Luci said that on inaugural day she talked to Tricia Nixon, the new President's daughter, about "the pitfalls to avoid" in the White House fish bowl, the problems of a presidential daughter dating and the advantages of the White House solarium. It was in the solarium that each of the Johnson daughters received her marriage proposal.

The Johnson daughters also recalled that while the White House was new and still alien to them five years ago, they nicknamed it variously—"The Museum," "The Mausoleum" and "the Big White Zoo." But they made it clear they soon learned to love and revere the old mansion.

★ ★ ★

They spoke of their lives ahead.

"We're both in limbo," said Luci. "We're supposed to be starting a new life but we're not. We're just waiting for our husbands."

"I don't even have a house," said Lynda Bird.

The former president recalled that the last letters he signed as commander in chief Monday were to his sons-in-law—Marine Maj. Charles S. Robb and Airman 1.C. Patrick Nugent—expressing hope for their early return from Vietnam.

★ ★ ★

Flying home from Washington and history, it was clear that the unfinished chapter of Vietnam was still very much on the minds of Lyndon Johnson and his family.

REMINISCENCE — Former President Lyndon B. Johnson wipes a tear from an eye as he recalls his childhood days in the hill country of Texas at a welcome home ceremony in Stonewall, Tex., last night. About 400 friends and neighbors greeted him on his return from more than 30 years of public service in Washington.

'68 Road Toll of 16 in City 3 Above 1967

Sixteen people were killed in traffic accidents in Pontiac during 1968, an increase of three over the previous year, according to the National Safety Council.

The number of traffic accidents in Pontiac rose from 3,962 in 1967 to 4,872 last year, according to the statistics.

The annual figures show:

- Fourteen of the 16 people killed were male.
- Most fatal accidents occurred between 1 and 3 a.m.
- Most drivers involved in fatal accidents were 18 to 24 years old.
- Speeding is the largest cause of fatal and nonfatal injury accidents.

Hare Endorses Deputy for Party Chairman

LANSING (AP) — Secretary of State James Hare Monday endorsed the candidacy of his deputy, William Hettinger, for Democratic state chairman.

Hettinger is among those already in the running for the $22,500-a-year post, and two others are expected to leap into the fray before the party's new boss is chosen at the state convention Feb. 2 in Detroit's Cobo Hall.

★ ★ ★

Most insiders are giving the edge to Hettinger, 43, or Deputy Party Chairman James M. McNeely, 38. McNeely headed a highly successful voter-registration drive in 1968, and many were giving him the edge prior to today's statement by Hare.

But since delegates to the convention were chosen just Friday night, nose counts are still in the most preliminary stages.

2 OTHER CONTENDERS

It is apparent that if both early leaders fail, the convention could turn to such other contenders as Wayne State University Prof. Otto Feinstein, former Congressman Billie S. Farnum, Detroit Controller Bernard Klein or party Vice Chairman Kenneth Hylton.

★ ★ ★

Whoever wins will have proven he is offensive to almost no one: the new chairman will have to try to convince labor and the New Left, blacks and suburbanites, youth and the elderly that they all belong in the same bag.

★ ★ ★

No one faction is expected to be strong enough to elect a state chairman by itself. But each could be potent enough to block any candidate.

McNeely now has significant backing from the United Auto Workers leadership and should get the endorsement of outgoing chairman Sander Levin. Levin has refused to run for reelection.

★ ★ ★

Hettinger should have the patronage power of the secretary of state's office behind him and also is said to expect important aid from the AFL-CIO.

But neither can be sure this support will last through the convention or be added to once the convention is under way.

Crash Victims' Rites Set

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Service for a Michigan couple killed in a Los Angeles airplane crash Saturday night will be held Friday in suburban Whitefish Bay.

Dr. and Mrs. V. William Wallin Jr. were among the 38 persons who died when a United Airlines jet crashed into the Pacific Ocean. He was a surgeon at the University of Michigan Hospital in Ann Arbor and the son of Mr. and Mrs. V. William Willin of Whitefish Bay.

Wallin would have been chief resident in surgery at the hospital in the coming year, a spokesman said.

He and his wife had been combining a vacation with a tour of medical centers in California and Colorado and were returning to the Midwest.

CHILD SAFE

Their 20-month-old daughter, Sarah, was staying in Champaign, Ill., with Mrs. Wallin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl G. Dohme.

The memorial service will be at the Community Methodist Church in Whitefish Bay.

Blue Chips Somewhat Steadier

Stock Mart Moves Irregularly

NEW YORK (AP) — Marking time for some clue as to the first steps of the Nixon administration, the stock market moved irregularly in moderate trading early this afternoon.

Gains and losses were about equa lon the New York Stock Exchange, about 20 more issues showing plus signs.

★ ★ ★

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon took a minor loss of 2.11 at 929.14.

Stocks were mixed from the start, and sentiment appeared to be hanging in balance throughout the morning.

Blue chips put on a somewhat steadier performance after their Monday losses had brought declines to some of the prominent market indicators.

★ ★ ★

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .1 at 353.1, with industrials up .5, rails off .1, and utilities off .2.

Specially situated issues continued to focus the attention of traders and investors.

Goorich leaped 9¼ to 66 on a delayed opening block of 30,200 shares, then cut a couple of points off the gain in later dealings. The stock was untraded Monday because of a jam-up of orders due to the offer of Northing. Northwest sagged nearly 2 after gaining Monday.

★ ★ ★

National Dairy was pushed to the top of the most-active list by a block of 200,000 shares at 40, off ★, trimming the loss slightly in later dealings.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange. Arkansas Louisiana Gas, down a fraction, went far ahead on volume because of a big block.

Small Furor Erupts in Canada Over Influx of U.S. Professors

OTTAWA (AP) — One of Canada's current problems is a brain drain in reverse: a brain invasion.

Many Canadians were shaken a bit by recent disclosure that half of the country's university professors come from outside Canada, mostly from the United States.

* * *

It also became known that U.S. textbooks were being used to teach Canadian students political science, history, literature and social sciences.

One result has been a small furor in academic circles, including suggestions that Canadian students are being indoctrinated to look at problems from the U.S. point of view and that something must be done about it.

TEACHER RATIO?

At Carleton University in Ottawa, two faculty members presented a resolution calling for maintenance of a "two-thirds majority of Canadian citizens" on the teaching staff. Their proposal was overwhelmingly rejected.

Most educators acknowledge that the problem is serious, but most agree with an editorial in the Toronto Globe and Mail holding that the situation "is not the fault of the invaders."

* * *

The Globe and Mail touched off the controversy by disclosing that approximately 35 per cent of the university teaching force is from the United States. The figure is much higher in some of the new universities. For example, at Simon Fraser University, near Vancouver, 68 per cent of the faculty are Americans. At Waterloo University six of the seven departments in the humanities and social sciences are headed by Americans. The same university offers four courses in American literature and none in Canadian literature.

The explanation is the rapid expansion of Canada's higher education facilities. In 1961 three-fourths of the country's 9,000 professors were Canadian, but between then and 1967 the undergraduate enrollment more than doubled, the graduate enrollment almost quadrupled and faculties were expanded by 7,700 new professorships. Two-thirds of the new posts were filled by imported scholars.

'FANTASTIC'

Prof. H. G. Thornburn, head of political studies at Queen's University, said it was "fantastic" for a country to import foreigners to teach politics. A similar view was expressed by Prof. R. A. Crichton, head of the applied arts division at Durham College. He said persons who "have come under U.S. influence by birth or training are going to bend their subject material accordingly."

Students also have entered the controversy. Robert Brown of the University of Toronto and James MacKinnons of Glendon College wrote to the Globe and Mail that "Canadian students are being trained to regard political problems from an American point of view."

Two Canadian students at Cornell University disagreed. They wrote: "We, as Canadian students studying in the United States, are extremely disturbed by the recent furor over the national origins of university professors and find the attitudes of some of our fellow countrymen totally repugnant . . . Such misguided nationalism could doom Canada's universities to a second-class status for years to come."

Prof. James Steele, associate professor of English at Carleton University and a sponsor of the move to curb imported faculty members, had this to say: "Many departments now make it a practice of advertising abroad but not in Canada, and from 1965 to 1967 about seven out of 10 new appointments went to non-Canadians. There are, however, many scholars now being highly trained in this country; and there is good reason for believing that if the academic market in Canada were to operate freely, openly and efficiently, enough Canadians might be able to compete successfully with scholars from anywhere in the world to make possible the survival of a Canadian academic community."

Junior Editors Quiz on SUN AND MOON

QUESTION: Why do sun and moon look so large and orange or red when close to the horizon?

* * *

ANSWER: Sun and moon are not actually larger when close to the horizon. They look that way because of an effect often called the 'moon illusion.'

Of the two moons shown in lower right the inside-the-box effect makes one look close and the other farther away. Both moons are actually the same size.

But we say to ourselves, the moon farther away must be much bigger than the close up one, in order to look as big as it does. As we think of how big it must be, it actually does look big.

Outdoors, the landscape makes the moon look far away close to the horizon, because of perspective lines. When the sun's or moon's rays come from high up, the colors in them travel a short route through the atmosphere and give a whitish or bluish effect. But at sunset, the slanted rays must travel farther through the atmosphere.

Colors with short wave lengths, like the blues, are absorbed before they reach our eyes. But the longer red and orange rays (shown in black) reach through and give rich sunset colors.

For this reason, both sun and moon look orange when close to the horizon.

Chiefs, Northern Play Home Tilts

Ho-Hum Games Tonight Could Become Humdingers

A couple of ho-hummers could turn out to be a pair of humdingers when Pontiac Central and Pontiac Northern entertain basketball foes this evening.

Both are taking on teams that have been less than so-so thus far in the 1968-69 campaign.

Central's Chiefs, who are ranked No. 9 this week in the Associated Press poll, play host to the Trojans of Saginaw, while Pontiac Northern (5-1) entertains Flint Northwestern.

FOES CLASHED

The Flint squad comes into the game with a 2-6 record, its latest outing a 60-58 overtime win over Saginaw Friday. Saginaw owns a 2-4 mark.

It's the first time in recent yaars the Trojans aren't among the contenders in the Saginaw Valley Conference race. They're 2-3 in the SVC but Central coach Ralph Grubb figures they're better than that.

'THEY'RE BIG'

"They're big," says Grubb. "It's just that they haven't had a good shooting night. They've been shooting around 30 per cent."

★ ★ ★

Saginaw's two wins have come over Bay City squads — Central (72-47) and Handy (77-49). The Trojans are led by Ed Roberson who is scoring at a 19.4 clip.

FIRST TIME

The Chiefs cracked the AP poll for the first time this season and they could enhance their position with an impressive win over Saginaw.

★ ★ ★

PCH is one of three Oakland County teams making the Class A lineup in AP, while two others made the grade in classes 'B' and 'C'.

Birmingham Brother Rice (7-1) holds down the No. 7 spot in Class A, and Ferndale (7-1), upset by Berkley last week, occupies the No. 10 position. Rochester is 18th on the list.

TWO UNBEATENS

Orchard Lake's two unbeaten quintets continue to do well in the polls.

★ ★ ★

The Lakers (7-0) of West Bloomfield share the No. 5 spot in Class B with Detroit Holy Redeemer, while the Eaglets of St. Mary (10-0) hold the No. 5 spot in the 'C' lineup.

★ ★ ★

Setting the pace in Class A is Ypsilanti (9-0), Strong River Rouge (10-0) is first in Class B, Detroit St. Martin DePorres is first in Class C and Detroit All Saints (9-0) is leading the way among Class D squads.

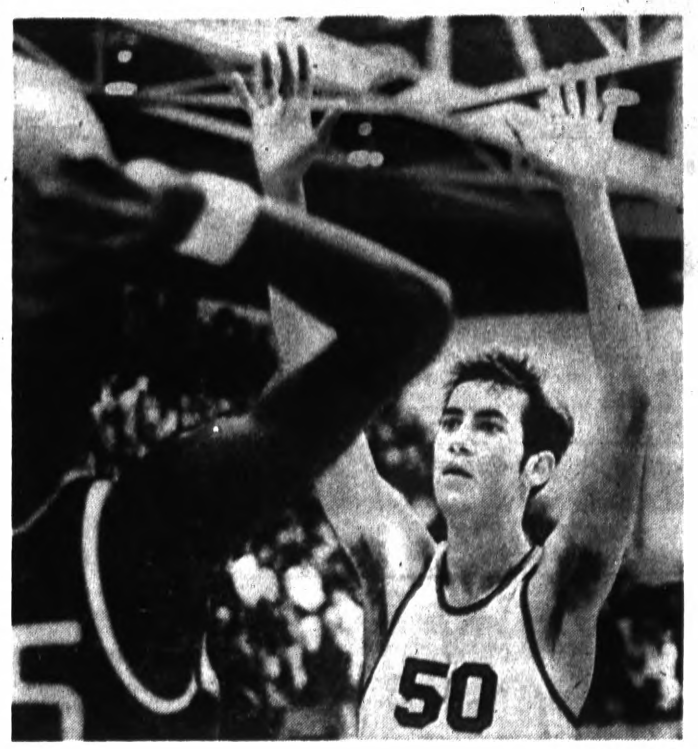

Like Central, Northern's Huskies should have a breather against invading Northwestern, but the ball has been known to take strange bounces.

Ice Officials Ponder Fate of NHL Seals

MONTREAL (AP) — The National Hockey League's board of governors spent the hours before tonight's 22nd annual All Star Game contemplating the future of the Oakland Seals.

★ ★ ★

The West Division Seals have flourished on the ice but not at the gate this season and apparently will be playing elsewhere next season. The question the governors may decide today is just where that somewhere will be.

★ ★ ★

A group of Buffalo businessmen headed by Seymour Knox III has conditionally purchased the Seals. The condition is that the governors approve transfer of the franchise from Oakland to Buffalo.

That question headed the agenda for today's meeting.

NINE YEAS

In order to transfer the franchise, there must be nine yes votes on the 12-man board of governors. There is hard-core objection to the shift from at least three teams—Los Angeles, Toronto and Montreal. And Jack Kent Cooke, owner of the LA club, is certain that he can muster at least two more votes against the shift and thereby kill it.

★ ★ ★

LA does not want to surrender the obvious California rivalry an Oakland club provides. Toronto—just across the border from Buffalo—and Montreal do not want more big-league competition in their territory.

★ ★ ★

If the board turns down the Buffalo move today, Vancouver could be the Seals' next target. The Labatt Brewery remains interested in securing the team and moving it there.

Vancouver is not on the board's agenda today but the city is sure to come up in discussion of the Seals.

GAME PLANS

While the league brass battled the administrative problems, Toe Blake, coach of the East Division All Stars, and Scotty Bowman, who'll coach the west stars, puzzled out strategy for tonight's game.

★ ★ ★

Blake will have the cream of the older division players at his disposal. The East line-up includes Detroit's great Gordie Howe, playing in his 20th All Star game and Boston's brilliant Bobby Orr. Howe, 41, and Orr 20, are the oldest and youngest players in the league.

Bowman has seven of his own St. Louis Blues on the West squad, including goalies Jacques Plante and Glenn Hall, who hold a 24-goal lead in the race for the Vezina Trophy. Hall and Plante have combined for a league-leading 10 shutouts between them.

This year's game marks the first time the All Stars have been split up by divisions. It also marks the first time that players will be paid extra for winning. The winners will get $500 each, the losers $250.

Bucks in Squeaker

Pistons Win String Ends

By The Associated Press

Despite strong run-and-shoot performances at the start and finish Monday night, the Detroit Pistons were stalled in the middle of their National Basketball Association game against Milwaukee at Madison, Wis., and that cost them a 102-101 loss as well as a four-game winning streak.

Detroit trailed 100-99 with 30 seconds left to play but lost possession to the Bucks who stalled for 24 seconds and then scored. Big Walt Bellamy scored again for Detroit as the final buzzer sounded.

At Baltimore, meanwhile, the Bullets put their newfound teamwork to good use, defeating the Boston Celtics 122-109. They did it just the way the Celtics of old did — by a big man rebounding in the middle, a fast break and a sudden shooting spree to open the game.

The victory put the Bullets 3½ games ahead of Boston and Philadelphia.

SLIM ADVANTAGE

Baltimore held only an 88-85 lead toward the end of the third quarter when Jack Marin scored six points and Gus Johnson four in a 12-2 fast break spurt that buried the visiting Celtics.

Kevin Loughery led the Bullets with 38 points, but their man in the middle, Wes Unseld, a major reason for their success this year, played an equally important role in the victory. He outscored Bill Russell 18-13 and outrebounded him 23-18.

Stan Musial Enters Hall of Fame

Roy Campanella Also Receives Baseball Honor

NEW YORK (AP) — Stan Musial and Roy Campanella, each a three-time most valuable player in the National League, have been elected to Baseball's Hall of Fame, it was announced today.

Musial, a seven-time NL batting champion with the St. Louis Cardinals, became the fourth player to be elected to the Hall on his first try. The others were Bob Feller of Cleveland, Ted Williams of Boston and Jackie Robinson of Brooklyn.

Campanella, whose career as a Brooklyn catcher ended on Jan. 28 1958 when he suffered paralyzing injuries in an automobile accident, missed by eight votes of being elected last year when Joe Medwick was named.

In the 1969 voting by members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America, Musial was named on 317 of 340 ballots and Campanella on 270. A vote of 75 per cent or 255 was necessary for election.

VICE PRESIDENT

Musial was named on 93 per cent of the ballots and Campy on 79 per cent.

Musial, now a senior vice president of the Cardinals, retired in 1963 after 21 seasons with St. Louis during which he compiled a career batting average of 331. He captured the batting title in 1943, 1946, 1948, 1950, 1951, 1952 and 1957. His highest season mark was .376 in 1948.

An outfielder, who occasionally played first base, Musial was named the circuit's MVP in 1943, 1946 and 1948. He compiled 3,630 lifetime hits and played in a record NL total of 3,026 games and drove in a league record of 1,951 runs. He also had 475 homers.

Campanella, also a fine defensive catcher, set big league records for catchers by hitting 41 home runs and driving in 142 runs in 1953. He played 10 years with the Dodgers and won the MVP Award in 1951, 1953 and 1955. His highest average was .325 in 143 games in 1951.

YEAR YOUNGER

At 47 years of age, Campanella is one year younger than Musial. He has been paralyzed from the wais down since the accident that ended his career.

Among those who failed to get the required 75 per cent were:

3, Lou Boudreau, former Cleveland shortstop and manager, 218; 4, Ralph Kiner, former Pittsburgh slugger, 137; 5, Enos "Country" Slaughter, former St. Louis Cardinal star, 128; Johnny Mize, the ex-Cardinal clouter, 116, and Marty Marian, former Cardinal shortstop star, 112.

Mr. Basketball Resigns as Boston College Coach

NEWTON, Mass. (AP) — Bob Cousy, who earned the title Mr. Basketball as an All-American at Holy Cross and during 13 fabulous years as a pro with the Boston Celtics, is abandoning the sport after six successful seasons as coach at Boston College.

Cousy, who shocked opponents with his clutch play as a 6-foot-2 sharp-shooter in college and the National Basketball Association, stunned observers Monday by announcing his resignation as Boston College coach, effective at the end of the season.

★ ★ ★

Only 40 and still capable of shooting baskets from all angles, Cousy said he is leaving BC to devote more time to his boys' camp in New Hampshire and to his various business enterprises, most in public relations work.

Cousy, a master of the behind-the-back dribble and other thrilling phases of ball-handling, was named BC coach in 1962. However, at the request of the late Walter Brown, owner of the Celtics, he put off taking over the Eagles to play one more season for the National Basketball Association champions.

OUT OF HAT

Ironically, the same Celtics passed up Cousy, electing to draft badly needed size, after his graduation from Holy Cross in 1950. Chosen by the St. Louis Hawks and traded to Chicago, Brown drew his name from a hat when the Stags folded in the Windy City.

In six years at BC, Cousy's teams have compiled a record of 101 victories and 37 defeats, including an 8-3 mark this season. His teams have gone to four postseason tournaments the last five years.

Cousy's career appeared in jeopardy only once. In September 1967, a national magazine linked him with an alleged gambler Cousy became friendly with after a meeting at the boys' camp.

At a tear-filled news conference, Cousy denied any wrong-doing, but admitted he "probably was guilty of indiscretion" in his friendship with the man.

The college quickly backed Cousy, along with thousands of fans and friends.

Weather Aids Golfer Barber

NAPA, Calif. (AP) — "It's a doggone shame," commented Miller Barber. "You hate to win this way."

The 38-year-old from Sherman, Tex., had just collected $13,500 for his victory in the rain-abbreviated Kaiser International Open Golf Tournament as storms continued to flood the fairways and greens.

★ ★ ★

Good weather prevailed Thursday and Friday as Barber posted scores of 68 and 67 at the Silverado Country Club. Then came the rains and by Monday morning all hope of continuing the tournament was gone.

PEBBLE BEACH

So the touring pros headed for Pebble Beach and Bing Crosby's national pro-amateur. They hoped to leave the bad weather behind, but that may not be. Fresh storms were reported heading for the Northern California area.

With the reduction to 36 holes, the purse was also halved as the stocky, balding Barber collected for his 135 score.

Aide at Ohio State Named Miami Mentor

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — William Mallory, 33, defensive coach at Ohio State University, was named today as head football coach at Miami University. He succeeds Bo Schembechler, who resigned recently to become head coach at the University of Michigan.

Walkout Fighter in Title Bid

NEW YORK (AP) — The night Bob Foster won the world light heavyweight title, Frankie De Paula fought the walkout bout on the same card.

★ ★ ★

Wednesday night in the Garden, Foster will make the first defense of that title. De Paula, beaten by Tiger in his last fight, Oct. 25, will be the challenger.

On the surface, this might seem to be an odd set of circumstances for a world championship fight. De Paula is not ranked by Ring Magazine and is No. 6 in the World Boxing Association ratings.

ROUSING STRUGGLE

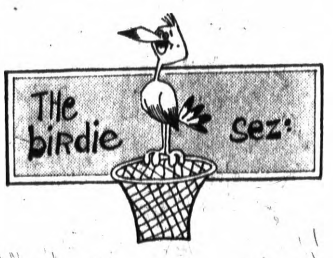

But the appeal of De Paula's rousing four-knockdown struggle with Tiger and the ticket-buying support of his army of fans from Jersey City have combined to make this first Garden fight of the year a boom at the box office.

★ ★ ★

Harry Markson, managing director of boxing at the Garden, cautiously predicts a crowd of between 14,000 and 15,000 fans and a gate of about $150,000.

★ ★ ★

De Paula, a crude slugger with a big right hand punch, is a 3-1 underdog against the champ, whose 6-foot-3½ inches and 79-inch reach give him a wide physical edge over the 5-8½ challenger with 70-inch reach.

The Birdie, sent a new supply of bird seed, is getting a few of his feathers back.

He did miss the expected upset of Pontiac Catholic and the surprising performance of Clarkston last Friday night, but with a record of 53-14 for the season he is planning on a hearty Blue Plate Special tonight, (after missing 3 on PCH this year).

Tonight's Birdie picks:

Pontiac Northern over Northwestern
Southfield over Berkley
Kimball over Warren Mott
BLUE PLATE SPECIAL,
PCH over Saginaw

After watching Foster flatten Tiger last May, De Paula went out and evened an old score with Fred Williams, who had beaten him in 10 rounds at Sunnyside Gardens. In their Garden match, a scheduled eight-rounder that went on after the Foster-Tiger bout, De Paula stopped Williams in the fifth round.

"Foster is a shuffler," said De Paula at his Grossinger, N.Y., camp. "I hope to upset his timing by bobbing and weaving. I'm training to go 15 rounds but I figure sometime I'll get him pretty good."

If the bout goes the 15-round distance, it will be a surprise. De Paula has never gone over 10 rounds and has fought only two 10-rounders. Foster has stopped 27 foes while piling up a 33-4 record.

The Trophy is awarded for outstanding service to hockey in the United States.

LaSalle Among Top 10 Teams of Cage Rating

UCLA's Stranglehold on First Continues; Duquesne Moves Up

By the Associated Press

LaSalle of Philadelphia and Duquesne of Pittsburgh replaced Villanova and Kansas on the list of Top Ten teams in The Associated Press' major-college basketball poll today while UCLA maintained its stranglehold on first place.

★ ★ ★

The unbeaten Bruins, whose 100-64 victory over Houston last Saturday night was their 12th this season, collected all 30 votes for the top spot in the balloting by a national panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

★ ★ ★

There were no changes either in the next seven positions as North Carolina held second place, followed in order by Santa Clara, Davidson, Kentucky, St. John's of New York, New Mexico State and Illinois.

LaSalle, 12-1 after last week's 88-81 triumph over Western Kentucky, advanced from 11th place to ninth and Duquesne, 11-1 including last week's 79-55 conquest of St. Francis, Pa., climbed from 12th to 10th.

VICTIM OF STALL

Villanova, victimized by Penn's stalling tactics in losing to the Quakers 32-30, slipped from ninth to 11th and Kansas, which lost to Iowa State in double overtime, fell from 10th to 13th.

North Carolina drew 22 votes for second place and accumulated 512 points in the voting. The Tar Heels, 13-1, downed Georgia Tech and Wake Forest in last week's action. Santa Clara is 16-0 after whipping the University of California at Santa Barbara and San Jose.

The Top 20, with first-place votes, season records through Saturday, Jan. 18 and total points onue basis for the first 15 picks of 20-18-16-14-12-10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1:

But Washington Faces Trouble

Bruins Only No. 2 in League

By The Associated Press

This may come as a surprise to those who have conceded UCLA its third straight National Collegiate basketball championship, but the Bruins, No. 1 in the nation, are only No. 2 in the Pacific Eight Conference.

★ ★ ★

Right now, it's simply a matter of who's played more games and no one seriously expects the standings to look the same come March. But the University of Washington, 9-4 over-all to UCLA's 12-0, held onto the league lead Monday night by defeating Oregon 60-54.

That gave the Huskies a 4-0 record in conference play to UCLA's 2-0, but they play each other Feb. 7 and 17 and Washington's still being on top is about as improbable as Lew Alcindor being cast as one of the Seven Dwarfs.

★ ★ ★

All five starters were in double figures for the Huskies, led by Pat Woolcock's 13 points. George Irvine had 12, Jay Bond and Rafael Stone 11 apiece and Dave Willenborg 10. Oregon's Stan Love took game honors with 17.

The Ducks led 17-15 midway through the first half, but Washington ran off eight straight points to take the lead for good. The Huskies led at halftime 32-25.

None of The Associated Press' Top Ten teams played Monday. The highest ranking teams to see action were 12th-rated Ohio State and No. 20 Dayton and the results didn't say much for the home court advantage.

Ohio State traveled to Atlanta and beat Georgia Tech 73-66 while Dayton stayed at home and succumbed to Western Kentucky 70-65.

★ ★ ★

Denny Meadors sank two late free throws and then nailed down Ohio State's victory with a key steal that boosted the Buckeyes' record to 10-2.

SMU HAMMERED

In Rec Basketball

Loop Leader Stays Unbeaten

One streak was extended and another ended last night in Waterford Township recreation basketball.

National league leader Struble Realy hiked its record to 6-0 with a 47-46 squeaker over Lakeland Hardware (2-4), while Booker Brothers Concrete (1-5) ended a five-game losing streak with a 60-54 decision over Don Murphy Inc. (2-4).

WINS SQUEAKER

In the third game, the L.L.B.'s (5-1) squeezed past Buick Warehousemen (2-4), 51-49.

★ ★ ★

A pair of free throws with 30 seconds left by Bob Pieznac upped Struble's lead over Lakeland to 47-44 and the realty crew made it stand up. Jim Bertrand pitched in 20 markers for Stuble while Jim Hunt managed 19 for Lakeland.

PACES WINNERS

Jeff Harnack sparked the Booker attack with 27 points and Ron Horton led Don Murphy with 14. The score was tied at halftime, 32-32.

★ ★ ★

In another tight one, Bob Sanders tossed in two free throws with 18 seconds to play to provide the winning points for L.L.B.'s. Tom Woods led the winners with 16 points, while Lee Saunders led all scorers with 23 for Buick.

CITY ACTION

In Pontiac Class A recreation basketball, Club One Spot raced past Perry Drugs, 79-44, and the Unbeatables held on for a 73-71 decision over Conn's Clothes.

★ ★ ★

Club One Spot cracked a 25-25 halftime deadlock by outscoring Perry Drug in the third period, 24-9, and then coasted the rest of the way.

LEADS ATTACK

Cy Green checked in with 25 points to pace the Club One attack. He and Robert Finley had seven apiece in that hot third stanza. Jerry Williams topped Perry with 11.

★ ★ ★

Ahead by only four after one quarter (16-12), the Unbeatables poured in 33 points in the second period to open up a 49-33 lead at intermission. Conn's rebounded in the second half with a 38-26 edge to make it close.

James Patterson tossed in 17 markers to pace the Unbeatables with help from Rudy Ransom (16) and Alvin Keel (12). Fred Davis (16) and John Rollins (15) paced Conn's.

By FLETCHER SPEARS

Scoring ace Tim Megge of Orchard Lake St. Mary is getting a lot of attention these days.

Megge is the team's scoring leader and he has sparked the Eaglets to a 10-0 record and high ranking among the state's Class C schools.

The slender guard, however, is now paying the price for the fame he's achieved. Nowadays when the Eaglets take the floor, Megge is always paired with the opposition's top defensive player.

Winner of last year's Oakland County scoring championship, Megge is now running second to Roeper's Greg Carter in the current race.

FINDS 'SHADOW'

While he's been watched well in all games, Megge discovered a 'shadow' only three games ago. Against Farmington Our Lady, Megge found Tim Doyle almost as close as his jersey and he tallied only seven points. However, OLSM won, 46-33.

★ ★ ★

On Friday, St. Rita didn't have the manpower and Megge managed 40 points. On Saturday, at St. James, he picked up another shadow — Carl Seidl — who was effective. Megge scored only two points, but again, OLSM won, 54-34.

NO BOTHER

"No, it doesn't affect him (Megge)," says OLSM coach Fr. John Rakoczy. "After the St. James game, I asked him, 'Tim, are you interested in scoring records? 'No, not really,' he told me."

★ ★ ★

While Megge is being slowed the Eaglets continue to drive toward the Northwest Catholic League championship and even when he isn't scoring, Megge's a big factor in the victories.

DON'T COUNT

"Yes, some think it's a moral victory to stop Megge," says Fr. Rakoczy. "But you won't find any moral victories in the record books.

★ ★ ★

"Sometimes the fans don't understand what's happening on the court," says Fr. Rakoczy. "Some said he had an off night against St. James. Well, from the middle of the second quarter on he didn't take a shot. He took only four for the evening.

"Oh, he could have forced the shots and may come up with 10 or 12 points, but he figured they way they were playing that he could pass off and we could beat them with our other four-on-four. It wasn't a bad night. I figure a bad night is when a guy takes 25 shots and makes four."

SEASON RECORD

From a record standpoint, Megge set the season mark at OLSM last year with 555. And he's come close to the single game mark which Fr. Rakoczy set (54 points) back in 1944. "In a way, I was hoping he'd break that one," said Fr. Rakoczy. "He'll go over 1,500 points here for a career high. That's quite a tribute for a high school player."

HOCKEY ON UPSWING

Ice hockey is picking up steam locally. Kettering High School has an organized club headed by math teacher Ray Clagg, a former University of Wisconsin player who also saw some pro action in the U.S. Hockey League.

The club is self-supporting, says Clagg, noting that ice time and opponents are hard to find. Most of the area teams with hockey are booked, says Clagg.

The club numbers 24 and only four of that number participated in some other sport. The club has rented ice in Jackson ($27.50 an hour) and in Flint ($40 an hour). Clag would like to see hockey become a varsity sport, but concedes it'll be awhile before that happens.

ON MAT TEAM

A member of the Western University wrestling team this year is Gerry Gebrowsky, ex-prep star at Waterford Township.

GEBROWSKY

Gebrowsky, who wrestles in the 191-pound class, had a 1-3 won-lost record last year as a junior.

Among the area's unsung prep 'heroes' are guard Tom Sudek, a 6-1 senior, of Orchard Lake St. Mary, and Waverly Jones, a 6-4 senior at Pontiac Central.

Sudek hasn't been overlooked exactly. It's just that he plays in the shadow of teammate Megge.

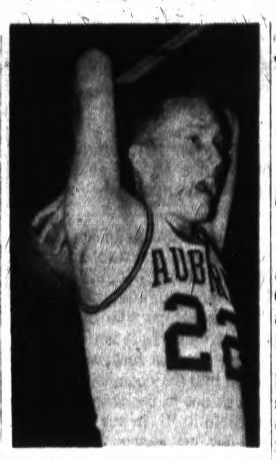

SUDEK

JONES

On the other hand, Jones has been relegated to a substitute role. "He's one of the best around," says coach Ralph Grubb.

Jones can spell either the forwards or the center in the Chiefs' lineup. He's a good shooter and excellent rebounder.

Lenhoff Leads OCC Scoring

Auburn Hills Ace Averaging 29.8

While the three quintets representing Oakland Community College haven't fared well record-wise, they're sporting some of the top individual talent in the state.

Setting the pace on the local squads is forward Glen Lenhoff, a co-captain on the Auburn Hills Nikes (8-8).

TOP GUNNER

Lenhoff (6-3), a product of Southfield, has scored 477 points in 16 games for an average of 29.8. Running second to Lenhoff on the Nikes' squad is Ron Kirkwood with a mark of 10.4.

★ ★ ★

Out in front on the Highland Lakes (5-10) squad is former Pontiac Central star Frank Russell.

A 6-2 guard, Russell owns a 22.6 average on 340 points in 15 games. Holding down the No. 2 spot on the Highlanders' team is another PCH product. Leonard Cole, at 13.4.

Fred Street, a first team all-West Catholic League selection last year, is the pacesetter for the Raiders (7-7) of Orchard Ridge.

Street (6-3) is averaging 26.6 through 11 games on 293 points.

Italian Team Quits Road Race Event

MODENA, Italy (AP) — The Italian Ferrari racin team announced today that it has decided to give up participation in the 24-hour Daytona Beach auto race, first event of the international prototypes championship.

The Italian team planned to have a 3,000-cc, 12-cylinder prototype in the Feb. 1 American race. The car was to be driven by American Mario Andretti and by New Zealander Chris Amon, official driver of the Ferrari factory.

A Ferrari spokesman said "bad weather prevented us from completing tests of the new prototype. In addition, Amon will be competing on Feb. 2 in a race counting for the Tasmanian Cup, which previously was scheduled at the end of February. Because of these difficulties, we decided to give up the Daytona race."

Penny Ann to Ride

TIJUANA, Mexico (AP) — Penny Ann Early, the leading figure in the drive for recognition of women jockeys, is to compete with Alvaro Pineda in a match race Sunday at Caliente Race Track.

Track Schedule Opens Saturday at U. of Michigan

ANN ARBOR (AP) — More than 600 athletes are entered in Saturday's Michigan Relays, the first big indoor track event in the state this winter.

Included in the field is U.S. Olympian Ron Kutschinski from the University of Michigan and National Collegiate Athletic Association 200 meter champion Emmett Taylor from Ohio University.

Teams from U-M, Ohio U., Bowling Green, Western Michigan, Eastern Michigan, Central Michigan and Michigan State will compete. The relays will be held in Yost Fieldhouse at U-M on a new $35,000 rubberized asphalt track.

Scoring Pace Increases in Keg Leagues

The scoring pace picked up considerably in the 300 Bowl Classic last week, Joe Foster and Chuck Messer leading the pinspilling parade.

Foster edged Messer for honors in both the games and series categories. The veteran classic leaguer posted 227-257—679 while Messer had 235-256—671.

Not far behind them were Bill Crawford (219-245—668) and Bill Willson (233-236—669). Larry Crake had a 244 (622) and Bill Green registered a 648 (227-232).

★ ★ ★

Other high games included a 230 by Bill Kirkland, a 232 by Orv Warren, a 234 by Ed Jackson and a 246 by Dick King. The Fontana Vending team (1,046-1,017) set a season high of 3,078, and league-leading Denis Market rolled a 3,037.

NORTH HILL

The men set a hot pace in the North Hill Lanes Classic, too. Harry Schemer dominated the spotlight by hitting 256-235-213—704 for Orchester Robo Wash. The team had a 1074 game.

Huron Bowl's Ralph Daigle shot 255-246—690 and teammate Walt Ruebelman had a 246-209—649. Hazelton Lettering listed a 1025 game thanks to the 255-209—667 drilling of Karl VanDeMoortell and the 235-215—642 work of Larry VanDeVelde.

★ ★ ★

Naz Malkasian bowled 252-218—652 for North Hill Texaco, Hal Marsh hit a 237-225—650 for the Brass Lamp, and Bank of Rochester's Frank Nash posted a 253-204—647.

WEST SIDE

Mike Minnich's 259 edged out Larry Pulanecki's 256 and Mike Flores' 645 nipped Bob Lawson's 643 for the top honors last week in the West Side Lanes Classic. Coca-Cola produced one of the league's better team games this season with its 1060.

Pulanecki did better Minnich's series total, beating him 638-636. Skeet Pennell was listed with a 243 game. The Pontiac Janitor Supply team now holds a 14-point lead in first place.

★ ★ ★

Judy Golloday became the latest addition to the Local High Scor- list with her 253 (593) actual last Tuesday in the Maid's Day League at Collier Lanes. Margerite Terrell of the same circuit will receive a WIBC triplicate award for her 130 trio.

★ ★ ★

Also joining the list in the team category in Bateman Realty after its 951 game last week in the Huron Bowl Ladies Classic. It is the third best local women's team actual.

Canadian Triumphs

Bruins' Flash Paces Scoring

Phil Esposito, Hull One-Two in Race

NEW YORK (AP) — Phil Esposito of the Boston Bruins has taken over the National Hockey League scoring lead from his former linemate, Bobby Hull of the Chicago Black Hawks, latest statistics disclosed Monday.

Esposito lifted his point total to 67 in last week's games while Hull managed only two assists and dropped to second with 62 points. The two played on the same line before Esposito was traded by the Hawks to the Bruins in June, 1967.

★ ★ ★

Hull continues to lead in goals with 30 and Esposito and Chicago's Stan Mikita are tied for the most assists with 38.

Gordie Howe of Detroit holds down third place in the points race with 58 followed by Mikita with 55 and Red Berenson of St. Louis, 50.

Alex Delvecchio is tied for seventh place.

★ ★ ★

Veterans Jacques Plante and Glenn Hall of St. Louis maintained their lead among the goalies with a combined average goals-against yield of 2.00.

Large Pack Still Racing

MONTE CARLO (AP) — Rauno Aaltonen of Finland headed a surprisingly large surviving pack Monday night as drivers in the Monte Carlo rally geared up for the final stages of the demanding road test.

Aaltonen, who won the rally in 1966, drove his Lancia through the Monte Carlo checkpoint early Monday, leading 159 survivors from a starting field of 183.

The drivers, who started from eight European points Sunday, rested overnight before tackling the mountain roads above Monaco in Tuesday night's 920-mile elimination runs. After that, the best placed 50 cars will compete over the same roads Wednesday night for the title.

Top Show Horse Dies at Age 26

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Wing Commander, who began a record of 176 consecutive victories in major horse show competition in 1948, is dead at the age of 26.

He was owned by Mr. and Mrs. Van Lennep of Detroit. Van Lennep heads a syndicate owning Detroit Race Course.

He won six world titles at the Kentucky State Fair between 1948 and 1953, and eight in the Chicago show from 1947 to 1954.

Last year, more than 50 of Wing Commander's offspring competed for major championships. For six years, the horse dominated the only sire listing saddlebred horses.

Nixon Answers 'Summons to Greatness'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The text of President Nixon's inaugural address:

Mr. Chief Justice, President Johnson, my fellow citizens of the world community:

I ask you to share with me today the majesty of this moment. In the orderly transfer of power, we celebrate the unity that keep us free.

★ ★ ★

Each moment in history is fleeting time, precious and unique. But some stand out as moments of beginning, in which courses are set that shape decades or centuries.

This can be such a moment. Forces now are converging that make possible, for the first time, the hope that many of man's deepest aspirations can at last be realized.

SPIRALING PACE

The spiraling pace of change allows us to contemplate, within our own lifetime, advances that once would have taken centuries.

In throwing wide the horizons of space, we have discovered new horizons on earth.

★ ★ ★

For the first time, because the people of the world want peace and the leaders are afraid of war, the times are on the side of peace.

Eight years from now America will celebrate its 200th anniversary as a nation. Within the lifetime of most people now living, mankind will celebrate that great new year which comes only once in a thousand years—the beginning of the Third Millenium.

OURS TO DETERMINE

What kind of a nation we will be, what kind of a world we live in, whether we shape the future in the image of our hopes, is ours to determine by our actions and our choices.

The greatest honor history can bestow is the title of peacemaker. This honor now beckons America—the chance to help lead the world out of the valley of turmoil, and onto that high ground of peace man has dreamed of since the dawn of civilization.

★ ★ ★

If we succeed, generations to come will say of us now living that we mastered our moment, that we helped make the world safe for mankind.

This is our summons to greatness.

READY TO ANSWER

I believe the American people are ready to answer this call.

The second third of this century has been a time of proud achievement. We have made enormous strides in science and industry and agriculture. We have shared our wealth more broadly than ever, and learned at last to manage a modern economy to assure its continued growth.

★ ★ ★

We have given freedom new reach, and we have begun to make its promise real for black as well as for white.

We see the hope of tomorrow in the youth of today. I know America's youth. I believe in them. We can be proud that they are better educated, more committed, more passionately driven by conscience than any generation that has gone before.

No people has ever been so close to the achievement of a just and abundant society, or so possessed of the will to achieve it.

Because our strengths are so great, we can afford to appraise our weaknesses with candor and to approach them with hope.

★ ★ ★

Standing in this same place a third of a century ago, Franklin Delano Roosevelt addressed a nation ravaged by depression and gripped in fear. He could say in surveying the nation's troubles: "They concern, thank God, only material things."

Our crisis today is the reverse.

We have found ourselves rich in goods, but ragged in spirit; reaching with magnificent precision for the moon, but falling into raucous discord here on earth.

We are caught in war, wanting peace. we are torn by division, wanting unity. We see around us empty lives, wanting fulfillment. We see tasks that need doing, waiting for hands to do them.

OF THE SPIRIT

To a crisis of the spirit, we need an answer of the spirit.

To find that answer, we need only look within ourselves.

★ ★ ★

When we listen to "the better angels of our nature," we find that they celebrate the simple things, and the basic things—such as goodness, decency, love, kindness.

Greatness comes in simple trappings.

SIMPLE THINGS

The simple things are the ones most needed today if we are to surmount what divides us, and cement what unites us.

To lower our voices would be a simple thing.

★ ★ ★

In these difficult years, America has suffered from a fever of words: from inflated rhetoric that promises more than it can possibly deliver; from angry rhetoric that fans discontents into hatreds; from bombastic rhetoric that postures instead of persuading.

SPEAK QUIETLY

We cannot learn from one another until we stop shouting at one another—until we speak quietly enough so that our words can be heard as well as our voices.

For its part, government will listen. We will strive to listen in new ways—to the voices of quiet anguish, the voices that speak without words, the voices of the heart—to the injured voices, the anxious voices, the voices that have despaired of being heard.

★ ★ ★

Those who have been left out, we will try to bring in.

Those left behind, we will help to catch up.

A DECENT ORDER

For all of our people, we will set as our goal the decent order that makes progress possible and our lives secure.

As we reach toward our hopes, our task is to build on what has gone before—not turning away from the old, but turning toward the new.

★ ★ ★

In this past third of a century, government has passed more laws, spent more money, initiated more programs, that in all our previous history.

In pursuing our goals of full employment, better housing, excellence in education; in rebuilding our cities and improving our rural areas; in protecting our environment and enhancing the quality of life; in all these and more, we will press urgently forward.

PLAN FOR THE DAY

We shall plan now for the day when our wealth can be transferred from the destruction of war abroad to the urgent needs of our people at home.

The American dream does not come to those who fall asleep.

★ ★ ★

But we are approaching the limits of what government alone can do.

Our greatest need now is to reach beyond government, to enlist the legions of the concerned and the committed.

GOVERNMENT AND PEOPLE

What has to be done, has to be done by government and people together or it will not be done at all. The lesson of past agony is that without the people we can do nothing; with the people we can do,

To match the magnitude of our tasks, we need the energies of our people—enlisted not only in grand enterprises, but more importantly in those small, splendid efforts that make headlines in the neighborhood newspaper instead of the national journal.

★ ★ ★

With these, we can build a great cathedral of the spirit—each of us raising it one stone at a time, as he reaches out to his neighbor, helping caring, doing.

I do not offer a life of uninspiring ease. I do not call for a life of grim sacrifice. I ask you to join in a high adventure—one as rich as humanity itself, and exciting as the times we live in.

SHARE IN SHAPING

The essence of freedom is that each of us shares in the shaping of his own destiny.

Until he has been part of a cause larger than himself, no man is truly whole.

★ ★ ★

The way to fulfillment is in the use of our talents; we achieve nobility in the spirit that inspires that use.

As we measure what can be done, we shall promise only what we know we can produce, but as we chart our goals we shall be lifted by our dreams.

FORWARD TOGETHER

No man can be fully free while his neighbor is not to go forward at all is to go forward together.

This means black and white together, as one nation, not two. The laws have caught up with our conscience. What remains is to give life to what is in the law: to ensure at last that as all are born equal in dignity before God, all are born equal in dignity before man.

★ ★ ★

As we learn to go forward together at home, let us also seek to go forward together with all mankind.

Let us take as our goal: where peace is unknown, make it welcome; where peace is fragile, make it strong; where peace is temporary, make it permanent.

ERA OF NEGOTIATION

After a period of confrontation, we are entering an era of negotiation.

Let all nations know that during this Administration our lines of communication will be open.

★ ★ ★

We seek an open world—open to ideas, open to the exchange of goods and people, a world in which no people, great or small, will live in angry isolation.

We cannot expect to make everyone our friend, but we can try to make no one our enemy.

PEACEFUL COMPETITION

Those who would be our adversaries, let us invite to a peaceful competition—not in conquering territory nor extending dominion, but in enriching the life of man.

As we explore the reaches of space, let us go to the new worlds together—not as new worlds to be conquered, but as a new adventure to be shared.

With those who are willing to join, let us cooperate to reduce the burden of arms, to strengthen the structure of peace, to lift up the poor and the hungry.

But to all who would be tempted by weakness, let us leave no doubt that we will be as strong as we need to be for as long as need to be.

WORLD TRAVELER

Over the past 20 years, I have visited most of the nations of the world.

I have come to know the leaders of the world, and the great forces and the ancient fears and hatreds that divide the world.

★ ★ ★

I know that peace does not come through wishing for it—that there is no substitute for days and even years of patient and prolonged diplomacy.

I also know the people of the world.

WITNESS TO GRIEF

I have seen the hunger of a homeless child, the pain of a man wounded in battle, the grief of a mother who has lost her son. I know these have no ideology or race.

I know America. I know the heart of America is good.

★ ★ ★

I speak from my own heart, and the heart of my country, the deep concern we have for those who suffer, and those who sorrow.

I have taken an oath today in the presence of God and my countrymen. To that oath, I add this sacred commitment: I shall consecrate my office, my energies and all the wisdom I can summon, to the peace among nations.

LET IT BE HEARD

Let this message be heard by strong and weak alike:

The peace we seek to win is not victory over any other people, but the peace that comes "with healing in its wings;" with compassion for those who have suffered; with understanding for those who have opposed us; with the opportunity for all the peoples of this Earth to choose their own destiny.

★ ★ ★

Only a few short weeks ago, we shared the glory of man's first sight of the world as God sees it, as a single sphere reflecting light in the darkness.

As the Apollo astronauts flew over the moon's gray surface on Christmas Eve, they spoke to us of the beauty of earth—and in that voice so clear across the lunar distance, we heard them invoke God's blessing on its goodness.

TRULY BROTHERS

In that moment, their view from the moon moved poet Archibald MacLeish to write: "To see the earth as it truly is, small and blue and beautiful in that eternal silence where it floats, is to see ourselves as riders on the Earth together, brothers on that bright loveliness in the eternal cold—brothers who know now they are truly brothers."

In that moment of surpassing technological triumph, men turned their thoughts toward home and humanity—seeing in that far perspective that man's density on earth is not divisible; telling us that however far we reach into the cosmos, our destiny lies not in the stars but here on earth itself, in our own hands and our own hearts.

We have endured a long night of the American spirit. But as our eyes catch the dimness of the first rays of dawn, let us not curse the remaining dark. Let us gather the light.

★ ★ ★

Our destiny offers, not the cup of despair, but the chalice of opportunity. So let us seize it, not in fear, but in gladness—and, "riders on the earth together, let us go forward, firm in our faith, steadfast in our purpose, cautious of the dangers: but sustained by our confidence in the will of God and the promise of man."

Highlights of Inaugural Address

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are highlights of President Nixon's inaugural address.

PEACE

For the first time, because the people of the world want peace and the leaders are afraid of war, the times are on the side of peace . . .

The greatest honor history can bestow is the title of peacemaker. This honor now beckons America — the chance to help lead the world at last out of the valley of turmoil, and onto that high ground of peace man has dreamed of since the dawn of civilization.

★ ★ ★

If we succeed, generations to come will say of us now living that we mastered our moment, that we helped make the world safe for mankind.

This is our summons to greatness.

★ ★ ★

I believe the American people are ready to answer this call . . .

Let us take as our goal: Where peace is unknown, make it welcome; where peace is fragile, make it strong; where peace is temporary, make it permanent . . .

★ ★ ★

I have taken an oath today in the presence of God and my countrymen. To that oath, I add this sacred commitment: I shall consecrate my office, my energies and all the wisdom I can summon, to the cause of peace among nations . . .

FOREIGN AFFAIRS

After a period of confrontation, we are entering an era of negotiation . . .

We seek an open world — open to ideas, open to exchange of goods and people, a world in which no people, great or small, will live in angry isolation.

★ ★ ★

We cannot expect to make everyone our friend, but we can try to make no one our enemy.

Those who would be our adversaries, let us invite to a peaceful competition — not in conquering territory or extending dominion, but in enriching the life of man . . .

With those who are willing to join, let us cooperate to reduce the burden of arms, to strengthen the structure of peace, to lift up the poor and the hungry.

But to all who would be tempted by weakness, let us leave no doubt that we will be as strong as we need to be for as long as we need to be . . .

EQUALITY

No man can be fully free while his neighbor is not. To go forward at all is to go forward together.

This means black and white together, as one nation, not two. The laws have caught up with our conscience. What remains is to give life to what is the law; to ensure at last that as all are born equal in dignity before God, all are born equal in dignity before man . . .

GOVERNMENT

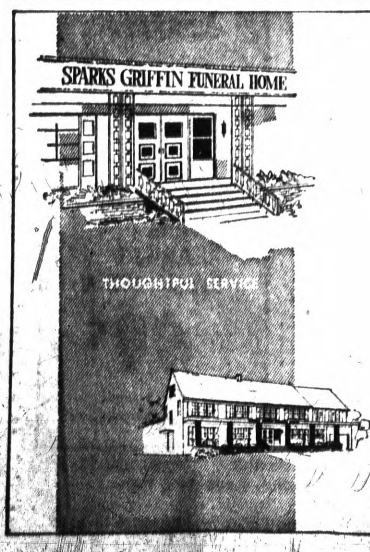

In this past third of a century, government has passed more laws, spent more money, initiated more programs, than in all our previous history.

In pursuing our goals of full employment, better housing, excellence in education; in rebuilding our cities and improving our rural areas; in protecting our environment and enhancing the quality of life; in all these and more we will press urgently forward . . .

★ ★ ★

But we are approaching the limits of what government alone can do.

Our greatest need now is to reach beyond government, to enlist the legions of the concerned and the committed . . .

We are centrally located in the city and easily accessible for the entire suburban area of our community. Outstanding for fine professional service, excellent facilities and a well-trained and dedicated staff.

Spiro's Guests 'Deflower' Ball

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $25,000 floral display for one of the six inaugural ball locations Monday night was destroyed by souvenir-taking guests of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, florists reported.

The prominent Republican and other guests at the reception for Agnew Sunday walked off with 90 per cent of the flowers and left the arrangement in shambles, said Everett Conklin of Montvale, N.J.

★ ★ ★

"Our work was totally wrecked," Conklin siad.

He is in charge of volunteers who had arranged flowers around the ballroom floor and elsewhere in the Smithsonian Institution's Museum of History and Technology.

Volunteer arrangers went back to work to assemble what was left of the original some 30,000 flowers into a token display for the ball, Conklin said.

He said the flowers were shipped in from throughout the country by Society of American Florists members.

Nixon Has Hopes of Court Harmony

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arriving at the Smithsonian Institution for one of the inaugural balls, Richard Nixon spotted Chief Justice Earl Warren.

Remarking that the other eight members of the court were expected at the same party, Nixon said:

"This is one way to get all nine justices to dance to the safe tune."

Barry Is Magnet for GOP Revelers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, losing Republican presidential nominee four years ago, became a beaming, popular magnet for inaugural autograph seekers as he joined the Republican revelry Monday night over Richard Nixon's inauguration as President.

Goldwater quipped to an inaugural ball crowd: "After 1964 I feel like the only Kamikaze pilot who ever made a round trip."

Outstate Deputies Hunt Beef-Lovers

DIMONDALE (AP) — Eaton County sheriff's men are hunting a trio of beef-loving thieves who broke into Reynold's Market at Dimondale today.

Officers say the trio broke in a back door and stole an undetermined amount of steaks, 14 pounds of hamburger and a side of beef, plus seven cartons of cigarettes.

★ ★ ★

A witness told deputies the men fled in a 1958 green Chevrolet.

Lombardo Gives Nixon Memories

WASHINGTON (AP) — When President Nixon discovered Guy Lombardo was playing at one of the inaugural balls he visited, Nixon recalled that he had danced to the band leader's music the night World War II ended.

"He's lasted this long. I just hope we're dancing to his music after the next war," said Nixon, alluding to the Vietnam conflict.

Pat's One Regret: Parents Absent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pat Nixon, the new first lady, had one regret about the ceremonies installing her husband as 37th president of the United States.

"I only wish his mother and father could have been here. How proud they would have been," said Mrs. Nixon.

Newsman Named

ALBION (AP)—Henry B. Passenger, 33, former assistant managing editor of the Monroe Evening News, has been named director of the Albion College News Bureau. He succeeds M. Frederic Volkmann, who has been named college editor.

Tricia Praises Daddy's Speech

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tricia Nixon, elder daughter of the President, had high praise for her father's inaugural speech.

"I thought it was the most eloquent speech I've ever heard," said the blonde Tricia who was escorted during the day by Doug Rogers, son of Nixon's secretary of state.

LBJ's Aspiration for Lyn Is High

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lyndon Johnson believes everybody in the country should want to be president—including his grandson Lyn Nugent.

"If he behaves himself and does the right thing and works hard," Johnson told a group of well-wishers Monday, "then he'll have the opportunity to become president."

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY of Earl V. Campbell who went to be with the Lord January 21, 1966 and his father Claud B. Campbell who went to be with the Lord January 24, 1963:
Nothing can every take away,
Love a heart holds dear,
Precious memories linger every day
Remembrance keeps them near.
Sadly missed by mom, wives, children and grandchildren.

IN LOVING MEMORY of Louis Spadafore who passed away January, 21, 1954.
You're not forgotten, father, dear,
Nor ever shall you be;
As long as life and memory last
I shall remember thee.
Sadly missed by sons, Guy, Paul and Sam.

IN LOVING MEMORY of Clearrissa Viola Swansey who passed away 11 years ago, January 20, 1958.
We miss you now,
Our hearts are sore,
As time goes by,
We miss you more,
Your loving smile,
Your gentle face,
No one can fill,
Your vacant place.
Sadly missed by Alford, Kenneth, Lorene, and Irene, Charlene and grandchildren.

IN LOVING MEMORY of Gilbert E. Luebke, who passed away January 21, 1968.
Gone is the face that we loved so dear,
Silent is the voice we loved to hear;
Too far away for sight or speech,
But not to far for thought to reach.
Sadly missed by wife, children and grandchildren.

IN LOVING MEMORY of Raymond C. Sneed, who passed away Jan. 22, 1967.
Gone is the face,
We loved so dear,
Silent is the voice,
We loved to hear,
Too far away for sight or speech,
But not too far for thought to reach.
Sadly missed by Clarence, Judy and children.

IN LOVING MEMORY of Frank A. Lang, who passed away January 21, 1968.
It broke our hearts to lose him,
But he did not go alone,
For a part of us went with him,
The day God called him home.
God gave us strength to bear,
The courage to take the blow,
But what it meant to lose him,
No one will ever know.
When the evening shadows are falling
And we sit here all alone,
To our hearts there comes a longing
If he could just come home.
Sadly missed by wife, Dollie and son, Ken.

A Look at TV

Inaugural View Splendid

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK — The major television networks, by pool coverage, by individual enterprise and by meticulous planning, gave Americans everywhere a splendid front row seat for the inauguration of their 37th president.

They had cameras everywhere that cameras were permitted, and from the moment President-elect Nixon emerged from his hotel quarters Monday morning until he walked into the White House as president in the late afternoon, the television screens of the nation recorded his progress.

★ ★ ★

The major events — the administration of the oath of office, the inaugural speech and the long parade — were handled in smooth fashion. The extra special dimension of the day was provided by the close-ups, and an occasional warm, human moment.

It was, of course, a great day for the incoming President and his family. But the omnipresence of the cameras made the role of the outgoing president difficult, even awkward.

JOHNSON DID WELL

Lyndon B. Johnson handled it well, but there were moments when every viewer must have identified with him and sympathized deeply. This viewer will remember particularly the moment when, seated in the limousine, he took a very long, thoughtful look at the White House for the last time as president.

Then came the moment when he and his smiling successor arrived for the inauguration ceremonies. Johnson and his vice president stood, almost like spectators, as reporters and broadcasters clustered around Nixon and Agnew.

There was, too, the departure of the Johnson family for Texas. The ex-president, obviously moved, shook hands warmly with a crowd of well-wishers before boarding the presidential plane. The networks cut back and forth between the new President as he watched the parade and the farewell drama going on at Andrews Air Force base.

Of special interest to television viewers, too, were evidences of the tight security precautions surrounding the presidential party. Even before the network announcers described an antiwar demonstration on the motorcade route to the Capitol ceremonies, we knew something was going on. The bodies of the Secret Service men around the limousine tensed and they moved in protectively around the car carrying the president and the president-elect. It was, somehow, reassuring.

INAUGURAL BALLS

The inaugural balls, covered late in the evening by CBS and NBC, were pretty much of a mess. There were so many people crowded so closely together that it was impossible even to see what many of the women were wearing. Mrs. Nixon looked very pretty but as far as her gown was concerned, all one could see were some white and some glitter. The President made a warm, funny little speech to the crowd.

★ ★ ★

It was a long day — for those who participated in the ceremonies. And the principals held up remarkably well. And it was a long day for those who watched. But the reward was drama, emotion and plenty of color.

And around 60 million of us —that was the estimate of the number of people who saw all or part of the day's proceedings — had a better view of a particularly American celebration from their living rooms than those who stood on the lines of march or even sat in the stands. It seemed obvious that the rather skimpy crowds in Washington were the result of people's decision to watch the big show from the TV vantage point.

Steer Runs Amok on Bridge to Detroit

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP)—A white-faced Hereford steer escaped from a Detroit packing plant Monday and tied up traffic on on the Ambassador Bridge between Detroit and Windsor, where it became the object of an international dispute.

Detroit police chased the steer for a mile but finally lost jurisdiction when it reached the Canadian side of the border. It finally was shot by Windsor police.

During the chase, three Detroit police cruisers were damaged and a number of heavy trucks were unable to head off the one-steer stampede.

State Road Group to Continue War on Traffic Deaths

LANSING (AP) — Citing the state's record highway death count for 1968, the Michigan Highway Commission promised Monday to continue its battle against traffic fatalities.

But, the commission added, motorists must help if the count is to drop.

★ ★ ★

"The accelerated highway program of the last decade, involving the expenditure of more than $2 billion for construction and improvement of state highways, has contributed significantly to traffic safety," said commission chairman Charles Hewitt.

A record 2,351 persons were killed on Michigan highways, roads, and streets in 1968, according to the latest State Police reports.

Tax Participation

LANSING (AP) — Michigan taxpayers will contribute 4.8 per cent of the proposed 1969 federal budget of $195.3 billion, according to the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce. The agency said the estimate of nearly $9.4 billion is over five times the amount of state taxes collected last year to finance state operations.

TWIGGY

Twiggy's latest fashions are all wet — or at least they seem to be.

The thin British model unveiled some new clothes at London's Ritz Hotel yesterday. Featured among the collection were tights that look wet.

The "wet look" tights are really a two-in-one garment with elastic panty-girdle top.

Sen. Pastore Heeds Inaugural Speech Advice

Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., says he is going to cool it in the shouting department on the indirect advice of President Nixon.

Pastore, a small man with a big voice, was asked to raise his voice yesterday while speaking in the Senate.

★ ★ ★

"I can raise it," Pastore responded. "But we heard a speech today in which we were told to keep it cool, to keep it in a whisper so that you can hear the words and not the noise.

"The senator from Rhode Island from now on is going to keep it very cool."

Nixon said in his inaugural address: "We cannot learn from one another until we stop shouting at one another — until we speak quietly enough so that our words can be heard as well as our voices."

Pope's Commitment Pleases King's Widow

The widow of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. flew to New Delhi yesterday after an audience in Vatican City with Pope Paul VI.

MRS. KING

"The Holy Father has been very kind to me and to the work of my late husband," said Mrs. King at a press conference prior to her flight.

★ ★ ★

"I have pledged my self to continue my husband's work. I am pleased that Pope Paul has such strong commitments in the same areas."

She will receive an award in New Delhi in honor of her husband.

★ ★ ★

Teen Who Inspired Nixon Likes U. S. Spirit

The teen-ager who inspired President Nixon's Forward Together inaugural theme spent part of her first trip to Washington riding down Pennsylvania Avenue on a float yesterday.

"The spirit of the country is terrific," said Vicky Cole, 13, of Deshler, Ohio, after watching Nixon's swearing-in ceremonies.

Miss Cole, whose placard at a Nixon campaign rally in Deshler caught the President's eye, rode on the theme float in the inaugural parade.

On the float she held a placard bearing the same message she gave Nixon in Deshler: "Bring Us Together."

X-Ray Movies Cited as Aid in Whiplash

NEW YORK (AP) — X-ray movies can help tell if someone is truthful in complaining of continuing pain from whiplash neck injuries, a surgeon says.

Frequently the person is found not to be malingering because of lawsuits or other reasons, Dr. J. Ted Hartman of Cook County Hospital, Chicago, told the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons today.

★ ★ ★

Whiplash injury comes from a sudden snapping back of the head. A common cause is when a halted automobile is struck from behind by another car.

A single X ray may not show abnormalities when the person says it still hurts to bend or extend his neck, Dr. Hartman said. But the X-ray movies can often detect a cause for continued pain even after long and adequate usual treatment, he said.

★ ★ ★

A slipped disc, diminished motion between two vertebrae or other trouble can show up in the movies. Fusion of vertebrae may be needed.

Official Honored

LANSING (AP) — George M. Harlow, Michigan's director of motor fuel taxes and a 41-year-veteran state employe, will be honored Wednesday at a retirement luncheon in Lansing. Harlow, whose retirement was effective Jan. 17, has been motor fuel tax director for 20 years. Under his direction, gasoline and diesel fuel taxes — which now exceed $250 million annually — were administered.

Defends Man-to-Man Kiss in 'The Brotherhood' Movie

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — The big new debate now is whether men should kiss men.

I remember seeing man kissing man at the airport in Beirut years ago on my first trip to the Middle East and being astonished . . . usually it was father and son, brother and brother . . . and I got used to it.

WILSON

Now along comes Kirk Douglas kissing Alex Cord on the mouth in "The Brotherhood," which is a Mafia picture, but this is "the kiss of death."

"You were the first to start this controversy," Kirk Douglas said. "You printed the first picture . . ."

★ ★ ★

True, we had. Now a couple of English papers had banned the photo, Radio City Musical Hall had decided not to use the photo in its ads, but Kirk Douglas said:

"My father and mother were from Russia, and my dad, a real tough guy, always kissed me, and I kissed my four sons on the mouth. The Pope kisses men, De Gaulle kisses men." Kirk's upset because some people seem to imply there's effeminacy implied. Anybody here want to step out into the alley about that?

We heard this on the Freeway: "Do you think civilization will ever replace California?" . . . It seems a bit ironic that the steadiest paying jobs today must either be playing football, or striking, or getting unemployment checks . . . A certain father asked his prospective son-in-law, according to Danny Klayman, "Are you sure, young man, that you can support a family? Remember, there are seven of us."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Bill Shatner of "Star Trek" made a reservation with Pan-Am to fly to the moon on the first passenger trip, but meanwhile he flew merely to Philadelphia to co-host the Mike Douglas show . . . M.C. Wally Bruner of "What's My Line?" is in the running for the Merv Griffin show when Merv moves to CBS . . . Jane Pickens Langley, one of the great women of our time, is women's division chairman of the Billy Graham 1969 NY Crusade starting June 13.

Shelley Berman told the Royal Box audience he'd just read in the papers that his bathroom jokes were "controversial," but repeated 'em anyway . . . Omar Sharif, ailing, took virus shots so he could attend the London premiere of "Funny Girl" . . . Julie Newmar got a call at the Cattle Baron — from Prince Faisal of Saudi Arabia, in Europe . . . While owner Carol Rosenbloom was watching is Baltimore Colts getting whipped Sunday, he had another loss — his Golden Beach, Fla., home was burgled.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: An off-Broadway show featuring nudes announced during a performance that a backstage mishap was causing them to stop. "What went wrong?" a patron shouted. "Did the costumes arrive?"

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "I have never in my life learned anything from a man who agreed with me." — Dudley Field Malone.

EARL'S PEARLS: Pat Cooper always listens to the 11 o'clock news in Las Vegas: "I like to hear the odds on the weather."

Sid Allen figured out the current Russian space try. They sent one man up by himself, and three others in another capsule to watch him . . . That's earl, brother.

Hare Assumes Role of No. 1 in State

LANSING (AP) — When Secretary of State James Hare returned to Michigan this weekend he became acting governor, taking that distinction away from Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley.

Kelley had been acting chief executive during the absence of Gov. George Romney, Lt. Gov. William Milliken and Hare. But Hare cut short a vacation in Spain because of bad weather.

★ ★ ★

Or, as Deputy Atty. Gen. Leon Cohan explained: "The rain in Spain has cut short Kelley's reign."

MSU Opens Urban Parley

LANSING (AP) — A three-day symposium on problems of American cities will begin today at Michigan State University.

"What America does or omits in her cities during the coming decade will determine the quality of our civilization for generations," said Conrad Donakowski, chairman of the symposium committee.

★ ★ ★

Speakers include Saul Alinsky, sociologist; Peter Blake, architect; Sydney Harris, journalist; Richard Rubenstein, theologian; and Floyd McKissick, lawyer and civil rights activist.

REGARDLESS OF YOUR AGE OR THE SIZE OF YOUR FAMILY, YOU CAN ENROLL FOR ONLY $1.00.

During this Limited Enrollment Period, you can enroll yourself and all eligible members of your family simply by mailing the Enrollment Form below with $1. There's nothing else to do—but you must mail your Enrollment no later than Midnight, February 23, 1969!

Think of it. Now, with a stroke of your pen, you can have tax-free, expense-free extra cash paid direct to you when a sudden accident or unexpected illness hospitalizes you or a covered member of your family! And you may enroll during this Limited Enrollment Period without having to see a company representative and without any red tape whatsoever. All you need do is mail the Enrollment Form below together with just $1 before the expiration date. It's that easy!

Why You Need Extra Cash In Addition To Ordinary Hospital Insurance

Anyone who has been in the hospital recently knows ordinary hospital insurance—even Medicare—simply will not cover everything. You have to pay many "extras" out of your own pocket—and it can add up to hundreds of dollars in a frighteningly short time.

But even if your ordinary hospital insurance covers most of your medical and hospital bills, what about the bills that keep piling up at home?

If you, as husband, father and breadwinner are suddenly hospitalized, your income stops, your expenses go up. Even if you have some kind of "salary insurance" it probably won't come close to replacing your full-time pay.

If your wife is suddenly hospitalized, who will look after the family, do the laundry, the marketing, the cleaning? You may have to take time off from your job—or hire full-time domestic help—to take care of things at home.

If one of your children is suddenly hospitalized you will certainly spare no expense. You wouldn't even think of the cost.

If you're over 65 and are suddenly hospitalized, Medicare, fine as it is, won't pay all of your hospital expenses or any household expenses. Most senior citizens won't want to use up savings it may have taken a lifetime to accumulate...they want to retain their independence and not become a "burden" to their children or community.

Without "extra cash" protection, a hospital emergency may leave you with savings gone, debts you can't pay, peace of mind shattered—even your recovery can be seriously delayed by money worries!

How The Plan Protects You And Your Family

Now, with the unique "extra cash" protection of The Doctors Hospital Plan you can avoid these worries because you can be assured of extra cash income when you or any covered member of your family goes to the hospital. No matter how large your family, no matter what your age or occupation and without any qualifications whatsoever, you can choose any of the four low-cost plans shown at right to meet your family's special needs.

In addition to the "extra cash" hospital benefits, you get all these valuable "extra" features:

Your "Health-Bank Account" Grows Each Month

Here's a wonderful benefit, no matter which plan you choose—almost like having an extra "Bank Account." When your policy is issued, your insurance provides up to $10,000, $7,500, or $5,000—depending upon the plan you choose. This is your "Health-Bank Account."

Then, every month your policy is in force, a sum equal to your regular monthly premium (including your first month) is actually added to your maximum! When you have claims, your benefits are subtracted from your "account." It's much like putting money in and taking it out of a bank account.

Enjoy Life-Long Security

For as long as you live and continue to pay your premiums, we will never cancel or refuse to renew your policy for health reasons—and we guarantee that we will never cancel, modify or terminate your policy unless we decline renewal on all policies of this type in your entire state or until the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of your policy has been paid.

You May Actually Come Out "Money Ahead"

Because The Doctors Hospital Plan pays you in addition to any other company's health insurance you carry—individual, group or even Medicare—and because all your extra cash benefits are tax-free, you may leave the hospital many dollars ahead...money you don't have to account for to anyone. Of course, you may have only one like policy with Physicians Mutual.

Enroll For Only $1

Regardless of your age, the size of your family, or the plan you select, you get your first month for only $1.00. If you choose the All-Family Plan—all your eligible children (including future additions) are included at no extra cost. (See box at right for low rates.)

Extra Cash Protection At Surprisingly Low Cost

How can a hospital plan offer so much for so little? The answer is simple: We have lower total sales costs. The Doctors Hospital Plan is a mass enrollment plan. All business is conducted between you and the company by mail. No salesmen or investigators are used. It all adds up to real savings we share with you by giving you high quality protection at low cost.

Offered By Physicians Mutual "The Doctors Company"!

Your policy is backed by the resources, integrity and reputation of the Physicians Mutual Insurance Company, "the doctors company," specializing in health and accident protection for physicians, surgeons and dentists for more than 65 years. Dunne's Insurance Reports, one of the leading insurance industry authorities in the nation, gives Physicians Mutual its highest policyholders' rating of "A Plus (Excellent)." Serving hundreds of thousands of policyholders throughout the United States direct by mail, Physicians Mutual has its headquarters in Omaha, Nebraska, and is licensed and incorporated in that state. Its Board of Directors is composed entirely of respected members of the medical, dental and insurance professions.

Easy To Enroll! No Salesman Will Call!

During this limited enrollment period there are no other qualifications other than to complete and mail the Enrollment Form below. We will issue your Doctors Hospital Policy (Form P308 Series) immediately—the same day we receive your form. This automatically puts your policy in force. Along with your policy you will receive a simple, easy-to-use Claim Form. When you need your benefits, you can be sure that your claim will be handled promptly.

Protect Your Family—Enroll Now. If Not Satisfied Your $1 Will Be Refunded

Take a moment right now to fill out your Enrollment Form and mail it with only $1.00 for your first month.

When you receive your policy, you'll see that it is honest and easy to understand. But if for any reason whatsoever you change your mind you may return your policy within 10 days and we will promptly refund your dollar.

IMPORTANT: We can only accept your enrollment if it is postmarked on or before the date shown below. But please don't wait until the last moment. The sooner we receive your form, the sooner The Doctors Hospital Plan will cover you. You risk nothing by acting promptly. You may lose hundreds of dollars in "extra cash" benefits through needless delays. Mail your enrollment form today!

CHOOSE THE PLAN THAT SUITS YOU BEST

ALL-FAMILY PLAN $10,000 MAXIMUM

PAYS YOU: $100 weekly ($14.28 daily) extra cash when you are hospitalized. $75 weekly ($10.71 daily) when your wife is hospitalized. $50 weekly ($7.14 daily) for each eligible child hospitalized.

If yours is a young, growing family, we recommend the All-Family Plan. You and your wife are covered at once for accidents, for new sicknesses after 30 days, and for maternity benefits after 10 months. And all your children (including future additions) between 3 months of age and under 21 are included at no extra cost as long as they are unmarried and live at home.

You pay only $7.95 a month and you get your first month for only $1.00!

ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN $7,500 MAXIMUM

PAYS YOU: $100 weekly ($14.28 daily) extra cash when you are hospitalized. $50 weekly ($7.14 daily) for each eligible child hospitalized.

If you are the only parent living with your children, we suggest the One-Parent Family Plan. This plan has been tailored to help meet your particular needs. It covers you and all unmarried children living at home between 3 months of age and under 21. Under this plan, of course, future additions are not included since no maternity benefit is provided in the One-Parent Family Plan.

You pay only $5.95 a month and you get your first month for only $1.00!

HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN $7,500 MAXIMUM

PAYS YOU: $100 weekly ($14.28 daily) extra cash when you are hospitalized. $75 weekly ($10.71 daily) when your wife is hospitalized.

If you have no children, or if your children are grown and no longer dependent on you, you will want the Husband-Wife Plan.

You pay only $5.95 a month and you get your first month for only $1.00!

INDIVIDUAL PLAN $5,000 MAXIMUM

PAYS YOU: $100 weekly ($14.28 daily) extra cash when you are hospitalized.

If you are living by yourself, or if you wish to cover only yourself or one family member, choose the Individual Plan.

You pay only $3.50 monthly and you get your first month for only $1.00!

On all plans, your "extra cash" benefits are paid from the very first day you enter the hospital, for as long—and for as many times—as you are hospitalized, right up to the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of the plan you select.

Naturally, The Doctors Hospital Plan will cover any new accident or sickness. Accidents are covered immediately. After your policy is 30 days old, you are covered for sicknesses which begin thereafter. There are only these minimum necessary exceptions: pregnancy or any consequence thereof (unless you have the All-Family Plan which covers maternity after the policy is in force for 10 months), war, military service, mental disorder, alcoholism or drug addiction, or conditions covered by Workmen's Compensation or Employers Liability Laws.

You are free to go to any hospital of your own choice that makes a charge for room and board, with these exceptions only: nursing homes, convalescent or self-care units of hospitals or Federal hospitals.

SPECIAL EXTRA BENEFITS!

Whichever plan you choose, you get:

50% INCREASE IN YOUR CASH BENEFITS...if you or any member of your family is hospitalized for cancer (including Leukemia and Hodgkin's Disease), heart attack (acute myocardial infarction, coronary thrombosis and coronary occlusion), or stroke (apoplexy).

If you choose the All-Family Plan or the Husband-Wife Plan, you get in addition:

DOUBLE CASH BENEFITS if both you and your wife are injured and hospitalized at the same time: You get twice the amount—$350 A WEEK!

Important: Here is another real "plus"—if you have been told that anyone in your family is "uninsurable"! Even if one of your covered family members has suffered from chronic ailments in the past—ailments that come back again and again, or are likely to recur—you will be covered for these pre-existing conditions after your policy has been in force for two years!

IF YOU ARE OVER 65

Even though Medicare will pay most of your hospital expenses it will not cover all of your needs. During this limited enrollment, you can get the extra cash protection needed during the high-risk senior years without any qualifications just by using the form below!

It's a fact that people over 65 go to hospitals more often and have larger hospital bills. That's exactly why they need extra cash protection! And that's why some hospital plans won't accept them or charge rates beyond their means. But The Doctors Hospital Plan not only accepts you regardless of age, it gives you easy-to-carry protection that is within your means. If you are over 65 now, or when you become 65, the following modest monthly increase applies. (This is the only increase that can ever be made as long as your policy is in force):

Female on All-Family or Husband-Wife Plan	$2.25
Female on One-Parent Family or Individual Plan	3.00
Male on any Plan	3.00

19 Important Questions Answered

ABOUT THE NEW DOCTORS HOSPITAL PLAN

1. What is The Doctors Hospital Plan?

The Doctors Hospital Plan is a brand-new, low-cost health protection plan—that pays extra cash direct to you when a covered accident or illness hospitalizes you or a covered member of your family.

2. Why do I need The Doctors Hospital Plan in addition to my regular insurance?

Probably your present hospital insurance won't cover all your hospital expenses, but even if it does, you will still need help to cover all your household expenses when you are hospitalized.

3. Can I collect even if I carry other health insurance?

Yes, The Doctors Hospital Plan pays you in addition to any health insurance you carry, whether individual or group—even in addition to Medicare! And all your benefits are tax-free! Of course, you may have only one like policy with Physicians Mutual.

4. Is there a lot of red tape to qualify?

None at all. Your only qualification is to complete and mail your Enrollment Form by the deadline date shown.

5. Which plan should I choose?

You may choose any of four low-cost plans—you can actually select the exact plan that suits you best!

If yours is a young, growing family, we recommend the ALL-FAMILY PLAN. You and your wife are covered at once for accidents, for new sicknesses after 30 days, and for maternity benefits after 10 months. All your children (and future additions) between 3 months and under 21 are included, at no extra cost, as long as they are unmarried and live at home.

If you are the only parent living with your children, we suggest the ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN. This covers you and all unmarried children living at home between 3 months of age and under 21. Under this plan, of course, future additions are not included since no maternity benefit is provided in the ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN.

If you have no children, or if your children are grown and no longer dependent on you, you will want the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN.

Or, if you are living by yourself, choose the INDIVIDUAL PLAN.

6. If I become hospitalized, when do my benefits begin?

On all plans, your cash benefits are paid from the very first day you enter the hospital, for as long—and for as many times—as you are hospitalized, up to the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of the plan you choose.

7. How much can I be paid?

Each plan has its own "Aggregate of Benefits," what we call the maximum.

For example, under the ALL-FAMILY PLAN, the maximum is $10,000—$100 a week ($14.28 a day) extra cash income for you; $75 weekly ($10.71 daily) for your wife; $50 weekly ($7.14 daily) for each of your eligible children.

Under the ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN, the maximum is $7,500—$100 weekly ($14.28 daily) for you; $50 weekly ($7.14 daily) for each of your eligible children.

Under the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN, the maximum is $7,500—$100 weekly ($14.28 daily) for you; $75 weekly ($10.71 daily) for your wife.

Under the INDIVIDUAL PLAN, the maximum is $5,000—$100 a week ($14.28 a day) for you.

8. Are any additional benefits included in The Doctors Hospital Plan?

Yes. You receive a 50% increase in cash benefits if you or any covered family member is hospitalized for cancer (including Leukemia and Hodgkin's Disease), heart attack (acute myocardial infarction, coronary thrombosis and coronary occlusion), or stroke (apoplexy).

9. What are the "double" cash benefits?

If you and your wife are both injured and hospitalized at the same time and are covered by the ALL-FAMILY PLAN or the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN, you get double cash benefits. You get twice the amount—$350 A WEEK!

10. Does this plan pay in any hospital?

You will be covered in any hospital that makes a charge for room and board, except nursing homes, convalescent or self-care units of hospitals or Federal hospitals.

11. When does my policy go into force?

It becomes effective the very same day we receive your Enrollment Form. Accidents are covered on that date. After your policy is 30 days old, sicknesses which begin thereafter are covered. Under the ALL-FAMILY PLAN, childbirth or pregnancy or any consequence thereof is covered after your policy is in force for 10 months.

12. What if someone in my family has had a health problem that may occur again?

Even if one of your covered family members has suffered from chronic ailments in the past, pre-existing conditions are covered after the policy has been in force for two years.

13. What conditions aren't covered?

Only these minimum necessary exceptions: pregnancy or any consequence thereof (unless you have the ALL-FAMILY PLAN), war, military service, mental disorder, alcoholism or drug addiction, or if something happens "on the job" and is covered by Workmen's Compensation or Employers Liability Laws.

14. Can I drop out any time? Can you drop me?

We will never cancel or refuse to renew your policy for health reasons—for as long as you live and continue to pay your premiums. We guarantee that we will never cancel, modify or terminate your policy unless we decline renewal on all policies of this type in your entire state or until the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of your policy has been paid. You, of course, can drop your policy on any renewal date.

15. Why is The Doctors Hospital Plan almost like having an extra "bank account"?

When your policy is issued, your insurance provides up to $10,000, $7,500, or $5,000—depending upon the plan you choose. This is your "Health-Bank Account." Then, every month your policy is in force, a sum equal to your regular monthly premium (including your first month) is actually added to your maximum. When you have claims, benefits are subtracted from your "account"!

16. Will my claims be handled promptly?

Yes. With your policy, you will receive a simple, easy-to-use Claim Form. Your claims will be processed quickly and your checks sent directly to you.

17. Why are the premiums so low?

With The Doctors Hospital Plan, you actually get all these benefits—at such a low cost—because this is a mass enrollment plan—and no salesmen are used. Our volume is higher and our total sales costs are lower.

18. How much does my first month cost?

Only $1.00, regardless of your age, the size of your family or the plan you select. After the first month, if you are under 65, you pay only these low monthly rates: only $7.95 a month for the ALL-FAMILY PLAN; only $5.95 a month for the ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN; only $5.95 a month for the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN; only $3.50 a month for THE INDIVIDUAL PLAN. (When you are over 65, premiums increase. See modest increase in box above.)

19. Why should I enroll right now?

Because an unexpected sickness or accident could strike without warning—and you will not be covered until your policy is in force. Remember, if for any reason you change your mind, you may return your policy within 10 days and your $1.00 will be refunded immediately.

HUD Official Hails Pontiac's Urban Renewal Plan

By ED BLUNDEN

A high U.S. urban renewal official came to Pontiac yesterday and liked what he saw.

★ ★ ★

He came to evaluate the Pontiac Plan for development of the 27 vacant acres of urban renewal land in the downtown area. The plan, officially adopted by the City Commission and the Pontiac Area Planning Council, call for a multifaceted development in which some $100 million in private captial is expected to be spent.

The official was Thomas Kilbride, director of the 10-state regional office in Chicago of the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

MEETING WITH LEADERS

Kilbride spent the entire day with city officials and attended luncheon and dinner meetings with community leaders.

In the evening he said, "You have something to be proud of . . .If I were a Pontiac citizen, I would be fighting for it (the plan)."

★ ★ ★

Kilbride heard details of the Pontiac Plan and other community past, present and future development at a luncheon. He heard James Bates, city urban renewal director, and C. Don Davison of Bruno Leon Associates explain its scope.

He heard from auto and commercial representatives of their separate developments. He heard Charles Tucker, president of Harambee, a Negro housing development organization, and William Hawkins, director of community relations for the Metropolitan Detroit Citizens Development Authority, tell of plans for development of the nearby southwest portions of the city.

EXTENSIVE TOURS

Kilbride was taken on extensive tours of the area.

At the evening dinner, summarizing his experiences, he said, "It seems you have the environment here to do something."

★ ★ ★

He indicated he felt the Pontiac Plan had the support of business, labor and ethnic groups.

He had praise for the Bruno Leon plan itself, which Davison, a Pontiac native, is credited with conceiving. Kilbride called it practical, sound and feasible.

He added a note of caution, however. "Sure you have a plan, but now it must be carried out." He warned that total community involvement and support was needed.

VARIED DEVELOPMENT

The Pontiac Plan calls for a varied development of the urban renewal area as opposed to other plans calling for a single, commercial-type establishment.

Some $14 million (one-third of it city money) has been spent on buying and clearing the land. Much of this can be recovered by resale, it has been estimated.

Proposed in the plan is a complex of such facilities as a hotel, convention center, convalescent hospital, small sports areas, office buildings, stores, and apartments, all above an underground garage.

In the plan, development will be piecemeal, a relatively new idea for urban renewal, it was pointed out.

STUDIES ARE NEXT

A major step was its adoption by the City Commission two weeks ago. Kilbride explained the plan now must undergo land disposition and urban design studies in the Chicago office.

He said, "You're near the nuts and bolts stage."

Senate Dems Vow Nixon Peace Help

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democrats are promising President Nixon time and elbow room in the search for peace in Vietnam, but they indicate any honeymoon on domestic issues may be short.

Democrats and Republicans enthusiastically approved Nixon's selection of the search for peace as the principal theme of yesterday's inaugural address.

★ ★ ★

J. W. Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, was favorably impressed by Nixon's assertion that "after a period of confrontation, we are entering a period of negotiation."

"It was a very superior speech," the Arkansas Democrat said. "I particularly likel his emphasis on his determination to pursue a policy of peace. Congress is certainly going to give him a reasonable time to pursue that objective."

DOMESTIC ISSUES

However, Washington Democratic Sen Henry Jackson said, "I think there will be a very limited honeymoon on some domestic issues which change from day to day. But there is general agreement that he needs time and latitude to deal with the biggest problem of all—peace."

★ ★ ★

Sen Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, the 1968 Democratic vice presidential nominee, said "I think Democrats will await the specifics before taking positions on domestic issues," Muskie said. "Even then opposition should be based on the merits of his proposals and not on partisanship."

Republicans, as expected, all were complimentary about a low key and somber address most felt reflected realities of the times.

'ALL OUR THINKING'

Sen. George D. Aiken of Vermont, top GOP member of the Foreign Relations Committee, said that Nixon "reflected the thinking of all of us."

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said Nixon had chosen the key issue before the country in promising "patient and prolonged diplomacy" to attain an honorable peace.

★ ★ ★

"In the domestic field he has demonstrated that he will be a problem solver," Javits said.

Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., president protempore of the Senate, applauded Nixon's statement that "we will be as strong as we need to be for as long as we need to be," to negotiate from strength.

Hanoi Is Seen Taking Softer Line Than NLF

PARIS (AP)— Their first diplomatic encounter with the North Vietnamese has left some Saigon officials with the impression that Hanoi is more eager to make peace than its Vietcong allies.

This assessment emerged today from authoritative accounts of last Saturday's first meeting of representatives from Saigon, the United States, North Vietnam and the National Liberation Front.

★ ★ ★

The meeting produced a surprisingly quick agreement on procedures for substantive peace negotiations. In sharp contrast with their earlier negotiating stances, Col. Ha Van Lau and his Hanoi contingent demonstrated a businesslike flexibility on the organizational questions.

U.S. delegation spokesman William Jorden remarked afterward there was more give and take at the session than at any he had attended here.

LODGE IN PARIS

The U.S. delegation's new leader, Henry Cabot Lodge, arrived from the United States yesterday and said he would soon propose a date for the talks to continue.

South Vietnamese officials in Saigon said they hoped the talks would resume Friday. Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky, the supervisory chief of the Saigon delegation, is due back in Paris Thursday.

★ ★ ★

Officials who attended Saturday's meeting stressed the different attitudes of Lau and Mrs. Nuguyen Thi Binh of the NLF.

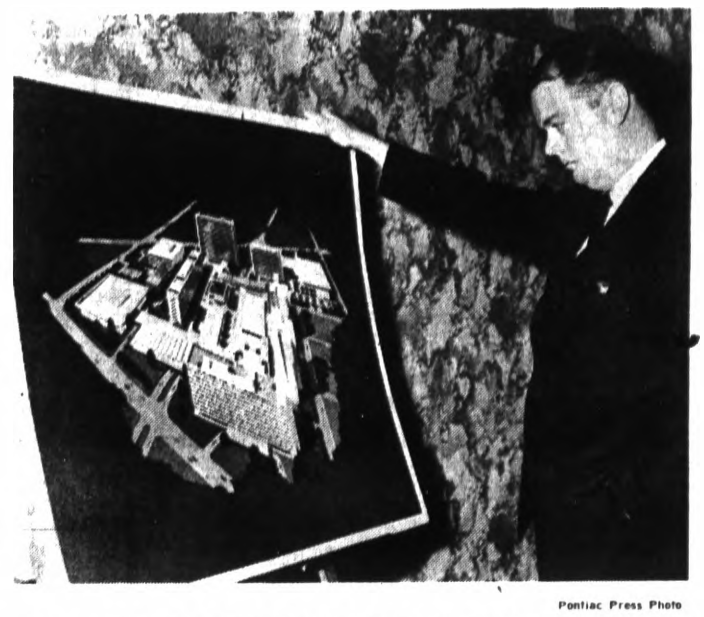

When Mrs. Binh took the floor, she attacked "U.S. imperialism" and the "puppet clique in Saigon."

IGNORED NLF

The sources said Lau and his colleagues carefully studied the South Vietnamese proposals while she spoke and paid no apparent attention to her remarks. When it was his turn to speak, Lau said in an almost inaudible monotone that North Vietnam subscribed to the NLF's views.

★ ★ ★

Officials said they saw further evidence of Hanoi's readiness to talk peace in Lau's acceptance of ground rules that both the Americans and the South Vietnamese feel bolster their view of the conference as "two-sided."

IT LOOKS GOOD TO HIM—Thomas Kilbride, director of the 10-state Chicago office of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, looks at a drawing of the proposed Pontiac Plan for development of downtown urban renewal land. He told about 50 community leaders at a dinner meeting last night at Kingsley Inn, Bloomfield Hills, that he liked what he saw in Pontiac.

Gunfire Kills Three, Wounds 4 in Illinois

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP) — Three magazine salesmen were shot to death and four others were wounded by gunfire last night as they stepped from their buslike vehicle on orders from another group of men.

Police said witnesses told them that the attackers, carrying various types of weapons, had surrounded the vehicle and, just before opening fire, shouted, "Mighty War Lords!"

The buslike vehicle was riddled with bullet holes, and all the windows were shot out or shattered.

Robbery was not a motive, the police said, because money from the salesmen's day's sales was still in the vehicle and the victims still had money on them.

RACIAL OVERTONES DOUBTED

The attackers and those attacked were Negroes, police said. They said there is a black militant group in the area known as the War Lords but they did not believe the shooting had racial overtones.

A spokesman for a Kansas City publishers service said the victims had been under its employ for about a week. He said he knew of no reason for the shooting.

Police said Gerald Collins, 21, of St. Louis and Lorenzo Lewis Jr., 19, of Brooklyn, N.Y., were dead when officers arrived.

William Singleton, 18, of Philadelphia, Pa., died about four hours later at a hospital.

IN CRITICAL CONDITION

Michael John Harris, 20, of St. Louis and Max A. Robinson, 19, of New York, were both reported in critical condition.

The other wounded were identified as Melvin Richardson, 24, of St. Louis and Dan Roberts, 20, Washington, D.C.

Spokesmen at St. Mary's Hospital said Robinson had been shot at least six times.

New President Turns to Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Richard Milhous Nixon, the pomp and pageantry of his inauguration day behind him, turned today to the somber tasks of guiding the nation through turmoil, at home and war abroad.

Even before he plunged into the whirl of last night's inaugural balls, the new President arranged for a meeting of the National Security Council today.

★ ★ ★

Nixon also planned to meet with Gen Earle Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and aides said he would confer soon with his Cabinet and Urban Affairs Council.

In the heady atmosphere of Inauguration Day, the former transfer of presidential power from Democrat Lyndon B. Johnson to Republican Nixon was carried out in peace and harmony.

★ ★ ★

The day was marred, however, by brief and scattered by sometimes bloddy confrontations between police and a small band of antiwar protesters who tried but failed to seriously disrupt the inauguration events.

SAIGON (AP) — U. Alexis Johnson, the Nixon administration's first high-level representative to visit South Vietnam, said today "U.S. policy is paying dividends here" and that he will not recommend any change in the American commitment to the country.

Johnson, however, declined to discuss possible early withdrawal of some U.S. troops.

It's Taxing on the Taxpayer

Hare Check Policy Protested

In reply to Pontiac Press queries about personal checks, Secretary of State James M. Hare delegated a deputy, Walter Elliott, to reply. The Press protests against the refusal of Michigan's secretary of state to take personal checks in payment for auto licenses.

His boss—the State of Michigan— accepts checks gladly. The United States government does in all branches. Millions of businesses do from coast to coast. Individuals accept checks for everything.

★ ★ ★

But Elliott says the manual issued by the secretary's office forbids it. His office apparently considers itself above the federal government, the state government and businesses and individuals everywhere.

This newspaper pointed out that a branch office under the direction of Willis Brewer accepted checks. But the secretary of state's deputy says, "He had to make restitution when checks bounced." Well, doesn't the Internal Revenue Service? Doesn't the City of Pontiac? Doesn't General Motors? Doesn't every Taxpayer?

★ ★ ★

The secretary of state should collect his bills like everyone else unless there's something sacred about this one office.

Voters all over Michigan look upon the secretary of state as a state official who is elected by the taxpayers to serve them graciously, easily and in accordance with accepted business practices worldwide.

Pueblo Skipper Raps Navy at Inquiry Opening

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — The skipper of the USS Pueblo says the Navy didn't provide retaliatory help or adequate guns, communications or explosives to destroy secret equipment when North Koreans captured his intelligence ship.

★ ★ ★

Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher testified yesterday at the opening of a court of inquiry into the loss of the ship last Jan. 23, the death of one crewman and the imprisonment of the 82 others for 11 months.

★ ★ ★

Bucher, apparently still tense from his prison experience, was expected to testify for two or three days. The court of five admirals could recommend anything from medals to courtsmartial.

But Navy lawyers told Bucher that, so far, he was not suspected of violating any military laws.

ADVISED ON PROCEDURE

The Navy said Bucher will be followed on the stand by his superior, Rear Adm. Frank L. Johnson, former commander of naval forces at Japan, and Cmdr. Charles R. Clark, skipper of a sister intelligence ship.

When he sailed the Pueblo on its mission to scout North Korean radar and North Korean and Soviet ships in the Sea of Japan, Bucher testified, he wanted twin 20mm or 40mm guns.

★ ★ ★

He said he talked at length about the request to Rear Adm. Roy Isaman.

But instead, Bucher said, he got two 50-caliber machine guns, 3,000 to 5,000 rounds of ammunition, a spare barrel and a mount for a third 50-caliber machine-gun he never received.

'LIGHT WEAPONRY'

The weapons were much smaller and lighter than those he said he had requested.

They were installed in Japan, Bucher said, a few weeks before the Pueblo was to begin her mission off North Korea.

They had no safety stops, Bucher said. Moreover, he said, nobody on board was trained in using them.

★ ★ ★

"I sent my gunner's mate together with as many people from the crew and research intelligence detachment to a Marine training range to fire the guns," he said.

He said the guns were "temperamental, difficult to keep adjusted and hard to prepare for firing.

SLOW TIME

"In practice, our best time getting them ready for fire was 10 minutes and our worst time over an hour," he said. "I did not have much confidence in those guns."

Bucher said he also asked for explosives to destroy secret equipment and codes in the event of capture.

★ ★ ★

The request was "deferred," Bucher said, because his commander told him "In order for the destruct system to be effective . . . it must be integral to secret equipment."

Before he left on his mission, Bucher, said, an operations officer at the headquarters of Pacific Fleet told him it was doubtful that help would be available in time to save the Pueblo in the event of a seizure.

Area Man Held in Terrorizing of Two Sisters

A Waterford Township man is in Oakland County jail today following an incident in which two Pontiac Township girls were terrorized and sheriff's deputies were threatened with a shotgun.

★ ★ ★

Benny Crowe, 21, of 5450 Tubbs is charged with felonious assault and with assaulting an officer as a result of the incident yesterday at the home of his ex-fiancee, Carolyn Sinsabaugh, 19, of 3415 Giddings, Pontiac Township. Arraignment for Crowe tentatively is set for today.

★ ★ ★

He was apprehended by Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy Gerald Reeves, who reported he talked Crowe into giving up a 16-gauge pump shotgun after Miss Sinsabaugh had fled into Reeves' arms. Her sister, Vicki, had alerted deputies after fleeing the house earlier.

Reeves said he entered the Sinsabaugh home and called for Carolyn who appeared at the top of the stairs crying and bolted to safety.

SHOTGUN AIMED

Reeves said he pushed her aside to another deputy as a man came to the top of the stairs and pointed a shotgun at him.

Reeves told him to put his gun down. The gunman said he would if Reeves took his gun off, according to Reeves.

★ ★ ★

Reeves refused, and the man asked for a cigarette. When Reeves started to give him one, the suspect swung the shotgun butt toward the deputy and surprised the officer by handing over the weapon.

The suspect later took a swing at Reeves and had to be restrained by three deputies and handcuffs, deputies said.

★ ★ ★

Reeves entered the Sinsabaugh home after Vicki told him Crowe had called on Carolyn, who would not see him. Vicki said Crowe shot at her as she ran across a field to a neighbor's house to call police. Deputies said they found a freshly fired shotgun shell at the scene.

Black Unrest Felt at Eastern

Classes resumed normally this morning at Eastern Junior High School, following a student demonstration and early dismissal of school yesterday afternoon.

Classes were curtailed after a general meeting of students with Eastern Principal R. William Nunez, Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer and John F. Perdue, director of school-community and human relations.

★ ★ ★

The meeting was held as a result of a sit-in yesterday morning at which 40 students demanded that the administration hold a meeting with the 700 black students in the 1,000-student school to air their grievances.

★ ★ ★

Some of the grievances aired by students at the meeting included complaints about the cafeteria and school lunches; the lack of more black history and cultural courses; and the small number of black students in advanced classes.

NO WRITTEN LIST

No written list of grievances had been prepared.

Also at the meeting were several members of the Pontiac Organization of Black Youth (POOBY), who claimed that the black children were not getting the proper black education.

★ ★ ★

"We are tired of oppression on all levels. Students are the sole hope of the black people. They are the leaders of tomorrow and we will sponsor them," one POOBY member said.

"We didn't want to sit in, but they (the administration) forced us to do it. We have been asking to meet with them for weeks to hear our complaints and they kept putting us off," one black youth said.

'FINALLY GOT ACTION'

"We finally got some action after we got POOBY to sponsor us," he said.

There were no parents at the meeting.

★ ★ ★

More than three-quarters of the students in the school attended the meeting. The rest sat in classes, roamed the hallways or left the building. The students were dismissed at 2:30, 45 minutes before the regular closing time.

Shaw Trial Opens With Jury Selecting

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Selection of the Clay Shaw trial jury starts today in a courtroom showdown on Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's claim that the assassination of President John F. Kennedy was the product of a conspiracy rather than the work of a lone sniper.

Judge Edward A. Haggerty Jr. summoned 169 citizens for examinations as prospective jurors with others readily available.

Shaw, 55, a tall, chain-smoking, retired business executive is charged with conspiring to murder the president.

The Criminal District Courtroom was under extraordinary security guard. Deputies were under orders to search all spectators.

PRE-TRIAL HISTORY

The tiral has been preceded by an unusual legal flip-flop by the prosecution.

Asst. Dist. Atty. James L. Alcock, named by Garrison to handle the case, Friday asked that the trial be delayed indefinitely. Then he withdrew the motion when it came before Judge Haggerty in a hearing yesterday.

★ ★ ★

At the hearing, Alcock accused U.S. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark of deliberately Kennedy autopsy "on the eve of the picking of the jury . . ."

Clark announced Thrusday that a panel of experts had examined the secret record and upheld the autopsy report that the fatal bullets were fired from above and behind.

Garrison says the autopsy material would back his contention that the President was hit by bullets fired from both front and rear.

All of Cabinet but Hickel OK'd

WASHINGTON (UPI) — With 11 of the 12 Nixon Cabinet appointees confirmed, the Senate intended to debate today on the remaining one, Interior Secretary-designate Walter J. Hickel.

Confirmation was seen as a certainty, but not before considerable talk on the floor. Three Democratic senators voted against Hickel's nomination in committee because of his views on conservation.

★ ★ ★

One of President Nixon's first official acts was to sign the documents of appointment for his Cabinet, and in a special postinauguration session the Senate confirmed 11 of them unanimously in less than 15 minutes.

But when the clerk called the name of Hickel, governor of Alaska and a wealthy businessman, Assistant Democratic leader Edward M. Kennedy asked that it be referred to the executive calendar and said the leadership intended to call it up today.

3 VOTES OPPOSITION

The three senators who voted in committee against reporting the nomination favorably were Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin, Frank E. Moss of Utah and George McGovern of South Dakota.

Chairman Henry Jackson, D-Wash., voted to approve Hickel because "I think the President is entitled to have his Cabinet." But as to the nominee himself, Jackson would go no further than to say: "He's met the minimum standards for secretary."

$2,121 Is Stolen From Restaurant

A burglar took $2,121 from Nick's Restaurant, 2630 Highland, Highland Township, it was reported to Oakland County sheriff's deputies yesterday.

Deputies said the restaurant's rear door was kicked open Sunday night and a 200-pound safe containing $2,000 in bills, change and checks and a cash drawer holding $121 was reported taken.

★ ★ ★

The safe was pushed across the floor from the office of the owner, Nick Nicholas, and carted away in an unknown vehicle, according to deputies.

How to Choose a College—1

'Right Match' Is Important

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the first in a series of 12 articles on the dos and don'ts to observe in choosing the right college for you. The series will run daily in The Pontiac Press.)

By ELLA MAZEL
NEA Publications

Your college years can be among the most important, the most exciting, and the happiest years of your life — if you make the right match.

And the right match is not necessarily the college whose sticker your parents will be proudest to display on the rear window of the car.

If they give you any trouble on this score, try this little game on them. It's called "Who Went Where." Listed below are the names, in alphabetical order, of a dozen rather prominent individuals. Following them, also in alphabetical order, are the colleges from which they received their undergraduate degrees (as listed in "Who's Who in America").

Don't look now, but the answers are at the end of this article.

(a) — Arthur Goldberg
(b) — Hubert Humphrey
(c) — Lyndon B. Johnson
(d) — Robert Kennedy
(e) — Martin Luther King
(f) — Thurgood Marshall
(g) — Eugene McCarthy
(h) — Paul Newman
(i) — Richard Nixon
(j) — Gerald Phillippe
(k) — Nelson Rockefeller
(l) — Benjamin Spock

Hint: He's chairman of the board of General Electric.

1. Dartmouth
2. Harvard
3. Kenyon
4. Lincoln University
5. University of Minnesota
6. Morehouse
7. Universiiy of Nebraska
8. Northwestern University
9. St. John's University (Minn.)
10. Southwest Texas State
11. Whittier
12. Yale

So — what's in a name? Nothing much, really.

The right match for you is the college where you will be stimulated, but no overwhelmed; challenged to do your best, but not pressured to the point of nervous collapse; surrounded by fellow-students with whom you have some things in common, but from whom you can learn about other viewpoints and values.

The word "match" is used advisedly, because going away to college is a lot like getting married.

No one (we hope) walks down the aisle thinking. "Oh, well, if things don't work out, we can always get a divorce."

Yet, because so many marriages

City OKs Plan to Join 16 in Buying Goods

BIRMINGHAM — The City Commission approved a resolution last night calling for this city's participation in a joint-purchasing plan by city managers of 16 South Oakland communities.

The plan would provide for the joint purchase of supplies and equipment. It will be implemented providing favorable endorsement is given by all governmental bodies concerned.

In other business, a hearing was held on necessity of a relief drain for a section of Elm between Maple and Bowers. Several residents of the concerned area favored the proposed improvement at the hearing.

The city engineer was authorized to make a cost estimate for the project. Extensive flooding in the Elm Street area in recent years prompted the drain proposal.

CHARTER CHANGES

The commission also agreed to seek voter approval in the April 8 election for a series of charter amendments made necessary by a revision in state statutes. The amendments were described as "housecleaning" measures such as abolishing the practice of appointing representatives to the County Board of Supervisors. The supervisors now are elected.

★ ★ ★

The commission again deferred action on the City Retirement Board's recommendation for an increase in retirement pay computation for city employes from two-tenths to three-tenths per cent of their base pay when they retire. The commission is still studying the request.

Action is expected to be taken at the Jan. 27 commission meeting.

The Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a presentation of Birmingham's new urban design plan and objectives at a noon luncheon Jan. 30 at the Community House. Tickets are $3 and can be obtained through the Chamber. The public is invited

Viet Reds Vary Attacks on GIs

SAIGON (AP) — Vietcong and North Vietnamese troops attacked U.S. land, river and air forces with rockets, mortars and grenades yesterday and today, coinciding with the inauguration of President Nixon.

At least six American servicemen were killed and 35 Americans were wounded, including a civilian.

★ ★ ★

A high-ranking South Vietnamese police official said captured Communist orders directed a new wave of terrorism at U.S. troops in an attempt to increase antiwar sentiment among the American public.

Several other attacks apparently were thwarted by American forces who uncovered two enemy munitions caches and broke up a convoy of enemy sampans moving troops south of Saigon.

★ ★ ★

In the past 24 hours, military spokesmen said, Vietcong and North Vietnamese troops attacked U.S. Navy patrol boats, landing craft and cargo ships, American officers' quarters, a military advisers' compound, a small observation plane over the demilitarized zone and U.S. troops near Saigon.

HUD Official Hails City Plan

About 50 community leaders attended the dinner, representing almost all factions of the city — business, industry, finance, race, religion, etc.

Discussed was the question, "Who's going first?" — what will be the first construction at the site. City officials indicated some near committments and had been made and letters of intent filed.

'TOP RPIORITY'

Kilbride promised "top priority" would be given all future considerations on implementation of the plan. He also offered to return to Pontiac for the first ground-breaking ceremony.

11 Sirhan Jurors Near?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Eleven jurors could be automatically seated today in the Sirhan Bishara Sirhan murder trial if the defense goes along with the prosecution and surrenders its peremptory challenges.

A 12th juror and six alternates still would have to be chosen.

Attorneys for the 24-year-old Jordanian accused of killing Sen. Robert F. Kennedy spent the weekend considering whether they would waive further challenges to the present provisional panel of jurors.

Milliken Swearing-In Delayed Until Tomorrow

LANSING (AP) — Lt. Gov. William Milliken apparently will have to wait until Wednesday to become the 44th governor of Michigan.

Although Gov. George Romney was confirmed by the U.S. Senate Monday as secretary of housing and urban development, Romney and the other new Cabinet members still have not taken their oaths of office

* * *

And, according to Mrs. Margaret Little, Romney's personal secretary, the governor has been ordered by President Richard Nixon not to resign until he has been sworn into office.

Mrs. Little said she understood the oath-taking, once scheduled for this morning, had been delayed a day by failure of the Senate to act on the nomination of Alaska Gov. Walter Hickel as secretary of the interior.

TRANSFER PREPARATIONS

Meanwhile, however, preparations have been made in advance for transferring power from the six-year governor to the 46-year-old lieutenant governor.

Resignation statements reportedly have already been drafted and signed and are ready for presentation to the State House and Senate, Milliken and the secretary of state within minutes after Romney assumes his new federal post.

All that would then remain would be for Milliken to take the oath of office as governor, which is to be administered in Lansing by Chief Justice John Dethmers of the State Supreme Court.

A Milliken aide said Monday, meanwhile, that whenever the official transfer of power occurs, the Romney-Milliken state budget for the fiscal year beginning next July 1 will be released as scheduled Wednesday morning.

'Matching' College Is Important

are entered into for what turn out to be the wrong reasons, a depressing number of them do end in divorce.

Similarly, the starry-eyed freshman surely arrives for orientation expecting to "love, honor, etc., till graduation do us part."

* * *

But a tremendous number of students — even among those who have made it into what they thought were their first-choice colleges — become disaffected and transfer or drop out entirely.

Just as you probably have some vision in your mind of the ideal mate, you are likely to have a mental picture of the college of your dreams.

FACTORS TO ANALYZE

On the rational, or objective, level of college selection you need to analyze such factors as:

- The curricular offerings of the college as they relate to your intellectual, vocational, or professional goals.
- The quality of the faculty.
- The adequacy of the library.
- Opportunities for honors programs and independent study.
- Faculty-student ratio;
- Class size.
- Other such measurable or tangible criteria.

* * *

On the emotional, or subjective, level you will be trying to find the college that embodies your "image." Your feelings will determine whether you would be happier in:

- A large or small college.
- A coed or just men's or women's environment (though these are fast disappearing).
- One with or without fraternities or sororities.

IMPORTANT DIFFERENCE

There is one important way in which college choice differs from marriage.

* * *

Can you imagine proposing to three girls at the same time and then taking your pick after they all say, "Yes"?

* * *

How lucky you are to be able to do this with colleges!

* * *

Of course, you also have the possibility of three "Nos," and that is why it is so tremendously important that you distribute your "proposals" in such a way that you can have reasonable assurance of at least one acceptance.

A report on federally funded educational programs in Oakland County will be received by the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity (CCCEO) at its 7:30 p.m. meeting tomorrow at the commission's central office, 1 W. Lafayette.

The report will be given by Kathleen Barry, educational program coordinator.

* * *

About 26 county school districts have remedial and special educational programs funded under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

The OCCEO coordinates the programs.

Also on the agenda is a discussion of the selection of commissioners to represent target areas this year.

Clean-Water Push Planned

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — Governor-to-be William Milliken plans to move as quickly as possible to implement programs countering water pollution in Michigan.

Lt. Gov. Milliken's plans were discussed today by James C. Kellogg, executive assistant for policy and programs, before the International Joint Commission's public hearing concerning pollution of the St. Mary's River.

* * *

Milliken, in Washington for the Nixon inauguration, was to be sworn in this week as Michigan governor, succeeding Gov. George Romney who was confirmed Monday as a member of the Nixon cabinet.

The Milliken statement cited the "tremendous vote" by which the people of Michigan approved the $435-million clean water and quality recreation bonding proposals in the November election.

CITES PLANS

"Michigan is now in a position to move ahead rapidly in providing financial and to local communities to solve their water pollution problems," said Milliken's statement.

Starting From Scratch at Age 47

Brandon Man Leaving Farm for College

BRANDON TOWNSHIP — Life has taken a new turn for Leslie Wright Jr., a former farmer and board of education member. But it is of his own choosing.

Many a middleaged man has regretted not finishing college or, in some cases, never even starting.

★ ★ ★

Wright of 2600 Seymour had realized the disadvantages of his education gap for many years.

And at 47, after 10 years of toying with the idea, he has decided to enroll full-time at Central Michigan University in Mount Pleasant as a freshman.

MILK ROUTE

In addition to farming in the township for 19 years, Wright handled a wholesale milk route for Sealtest for 26 years. He had plenty of time to think about the future on those predawn milk runs to Dearborn in a cold truck.

"It was at times like that I began to wonder what I was going to do with myself once my endurance and muscles gave out, and I had only a brain left," Wright recalls.

★ ★ ★

He credits his years on the school board for providing plenty of insight on the values of education. "I have always felt at home around young people, and somehow I feel what I am doing is really only natural."

Wright actually started studies at Michigan State University nearly 30 years ago, but lasted only a year. "I was forcing myself, I really didn't want to go to school and when the war broke out, that was all I needed."

SERVED IN COAST GUARD

Wright enlisted and served in the Coast Guard for five years before turning to the combination of truck driving and farming in 1947.

In 1966 he retired from Sealtest and devoted full time to farming about 500 acres.

★ ★ ★

Though he has been successful at farming, Wright has quickly realized that farming doesn't really pay unless it can be done in a big manner.

"Farming today takes a tremendous amount of capital. The days of farmers helping each other are gone. Now you need all of your own equipment and storage facilities plus at least 500 good acres," he maintains.

Wright has some hard-headed theories on the plight of agriculture today.

"Agriculture would correct itself if the government would only stay out of it.

★ ★ ★

"Adherence to the law of supply and demand would enable the farmer to take care of himself, but the government hasn't let him," Wright believes.

Looking out over an empty barnyard (he auctioned off all of his equipment a few days ago), Wright is far from sentimental.

★ ★ ★

Recalling those long nights in the barn taking care of his hogs after a long day on the road in the truck, he looks upon the upcoming years with conviction that he is doing the right thing by trading the tractor for the textbook.

IN RENTED TOUSE

Wright will be living in a rented house with his wife and four daughters in Mount Pleasant. The oldest daughter, Carol, is already a freshman at Central Michigan, which just might make for the only father-daughter full-time student combination in the country.

Fiancially, Wright is well enough off to make it through the necessary four to five years to pick up his bachelor's and master's degrees in education without having to work on the side. But he quickly points out that his wife, Edith was a good secretary before their marriage, so reserve finances will be there if needed.

Wright hasn't yet programmed his course of study, but he is thinking of emphasizing political science and psychology studies, and hopes eventually to land a college teaching job.

Troy Land Bought by Top U.S. Firm

TROY — Levitt and Sons Inc. has entered the Detroit area housing market with a purchase of 100 acres in this city.

Announcement of the purchase was made by Irwin Adler, Levitt's Detroit regional general manager. The property is located southwest of Long Lake Road and Dequindre.

According to city officials, the property was sold to Levitt by Graham Orley, Warren developer.

Adler said Levitt, the nation's largest home-building firm, plans over 200 homes on the property. "We will be offering four or five models in the $27,000-to-$35,000 price range and are pushing for a summer opening," he added.

Three- and four-bedroom ranch-style and three- and four-bedroom two-story colonial-style houses will be offered, said Adler.

Commerce Hearing Set for Wednesday on Closing Hunting Areas

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — A hearing to decide if several areas in this township should be closed to hunting is set for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Township Hall.

The township received petitions from concerned citizens to close the areas surrounding Sherwood, Bass, and Commerce lakes from hunting and the discharge of firearms.

The area hunting control committee will conduct the hearing.

School Board Hears Double-Day Plan

By LOIS FRIEDLAND

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A proposal for two daily full school sessions at the senior high school beginning next September was received by the West Blomfield Board of Education last night. No action was taken on the proposal.

High School principal Roger Garvelink, who presented the proposal, strongly emphasized his suggestion is for a double session, utilizing school facilities for more time daily during which students would still receive the same amount of training and actual class time as they have now.

Projections for the 1960-70 school year show an enrollment of 1,365 students which is 36 per cent or possibly more above capacity, acocrding to Garvelink.

Garvelink suggests that junior and senior students attend classes in the morning while freshmen and sophomores occupy classrooms during the afternoon.

SOME DUPLICATION

Two sessions would be give for several of the classes which are taken by both sophomores and juniors, while individual students might possibly attend portions of the morning and afternoon sessions if the elective desired is not being taught during their class time in the building.

Suggested are five 50-minute periods in the morning when upper classmen can take their electives. Either five 50-minute periods offering six electives meeting four times a week or else six 45-minute periods would be considered for the lower classmen.

Most staff members would teach either the morning or the afternoon session, although some would have overlapping hours.

★ ★ ★

Under this proposed scheduling, classes would be running from 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 or 5:30 p.m. Garnelink listed several advantages including how special offerings could be enlarged, how study halls and the cafeteria could be largely eliminated — although a short relaxation break could still be scheduled.

MORE LIBRARY USE

The library could be used to better advantage and teachers could privide more individual help to students. Special classes as labs, shop, arts and typing could easily be accomodated, according to Garvelink's plan.

Considerable financial savings in cafeteria operation, resource books, furniture and possibly buses might also be possible.

★ ★ ★

There are a few disadvantages the principal admitted. Clearing the building between sessions may be difficult, the scheduling of athletic coaches and and afterschool activities may provide a few problems.

What Will Halt Land-Valuation Climb? Taxpayer Revolt or Recession---Expert

By JEAN SAILE

It will take either a taxpayers' revolt of significant proportions or a recession to halt the upward spiral of increasing state-equalized valuations on property; acording to Michigan State Tax Commission Chairman Robert Purnell.

Bound by law to assess at 50 per cent of market value, assessors on the state, county and local level are feeling the anger of people who believe they may pay too much in property taxes.

★ ★ ★

That inflation has hit the property market is agreed.

Purnell, in Oakland County to hear State Tax Commission appeals, stressed that equalized valuation does not necessarily control the amount of taxes property owners pay.

DETERMINED BY LEVY

"That amount is determined by levy, which is in turn determined by budgets," said the chairman.

"If local governments and schools did not need the extra money, it would be fairly simple to lower the levy and leave taxes at their present totals."

★ ★ ★

He agreed, however, that it is fairly easy for taxing units to leave levies at the current level and to reap the benefits of the increased valuations.

★ ★ ★

The state has ordered Oakland County to increase state-equalized valuation ranging from 2 per cent in the city of Pontiac to 50 per cent in Addison Township. Assessors pretty much agree that the raises will most significantly affect vacant and residential owners.

COULD BE HIGHER

They also note that even though a taxing district's valuation increase is 30 per cent, it is possible that private landowners could experience considerably higher increases.

Herman Stephens, director of the Oakland County Tax Equalization Department, said industrial and personal property is evaluated annually, to keep it more nearly in line with market prices. The difference will have to be made up in the other categories.

The equalization committee of the old County Board of Supervisors had recommended that a $2,000 exemption be granted homeowners on state equalized valuations.

★ ★ ★

Purnell said this exemption might be granted by the State Legislature.

'WOULD DO LITTLE'

While it would serve to give homeowners an exemption enjoyed in many other taxpaying categories, Purnell feels it would do little to relieve the over-all problem faced by taxpayers and schools.

"If it were granted across the state, the exemption would have little effect on the amount of state aid coming back to schools," he said.

Educators report that for every increase in valuation, they lose state aid according to the distribution formula followed by the State Department of Education.

While aware of taxpayer unhappiness, Purnell reported that so far Michigan taxpayers are getting off light in comparison with those in other parts of the country.

HIGH AS 8 PCT.

"We pay something like 3 per cent of the total value of the property in taxes," Purnell said. "In the east, rates are as high as 8 per cent."

He said he sees little hope at the present time for state fiscal reform.

They also note that even though taxing

Clean-Water Action Set

One Oakland County communtiy was given a pollution-abatement deadline and another was ordered to schedule one in orders announced yesterday by the State Water Resources Commission.

Action was deferred against a third area community.

★ ★ ★

Walled Lake was given a deadline of June 1, 1970, to cease polluting nearby waters, notably Walled Lake itself.

★ ★ ★

Orion Township, meantime, was ordered to report on an antipollution abatement deadline, and Novi was asked to report on the status of its efforts to end pollution.

2-COMMUNITY SYSTEM

Novi and Walled Lake are engaged in setting up a joint $6-million sanitary sewer system. The timetable for construction depends greatly on when negotiations with Wayne County are successful.

Extension of a trunk line from Wayne County is sought as an outlet for the joint system. The trunk line now stops north of Nine Mile Road near Meadowbrook.

★ ★ ★

The State Water Resources Commission had cited Novi for polluting the Walled Lake Branch of the Rouge River via sewers connected to storm drains which, in turn, feed the river.

In other business before the water resources commission:

WAYNE DEADLINE

Wayne County was given until Oct. 1, 1970, to stop discharging what the State Water Resources Commission claims is inadequately treated sewage from its Rockwood treatment plant.

The county also told the commission it would report shortly on plans to upgrade its plant at Trenton and proposed temporary measures to bring its Wyandotte plant up to state-set standards by the November 1970 deadline.

The commission also:

- Cited Coldwater, Hartford, Paw Paw, Buchanan and New Buffalo for unlawful water pollution, scheduling February hearings for all five communities.
- Put off until February action in the case of Revere Copper and Brass, Inc. of Detroit and ordered a progress report by the Ecorse plant of Great Lakes Steel Corp. by November.
- Demanded a report in February by Carrollton Township, Saginaw County, and in March by Active Industries Inc. of Huron County, and Ridgeway Township and the village of Britton, both in Lenawee County.

School District's Name Shorter

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The board of education adopted the formal title of West Bloomfield School District at its meeting last night.

The title had been West Bloomfield School District No. 5, Fractional, of the Township of West Bloomfield and the Cities of Keego Harbor and Sylvan Lake, Oakland County, Michigan.

The board's legal adviser suggested that the present legal name had caused difficulty for lending institutions and other agencies not familiar with the proper name of the district.

Adoption of the new name for the 18-year-old district does not have any effect upon the existing obligations inccurred in its former name, nor does it effect the ownership of any real estate or personal property of the district.

In other business, the board endorsed the concept of creating an outdoor science education nature area in the memory of George Merring, a township science teacher who recently died. The endorsement was the outgrowth of a spontaneous reaction on the part of students, parents and faculty to honor Merring, who had taught in the system for seven years.

Board members also authorized the administration to proceed with the development of appropriate specifications, detailed plan and related costs for the nature area on a site yet to be chosen.

Implementation of the long-planned high school cooperative education program for the 1969-70 year was approved last night. Sales, secretarial and office skills will probably be emphasized at first.

★ ★ ★

Community National Bank was designated as the bank of deposit for current tax collections for the 1966 series II and the 1968 series L school bond retirement funds — in separate accounts — until such time as the bonds are sold. The board set Feb. 6 as the date of the sale of the bond issues. A special meeting will be called to review the bids.

★ ★ ★

Authorization was given to proceed with preliminary drawings and specifications for a six-room addition to Doherty Elementary School. The architects are Tarapata-MacMahon-Paulsen Associates. Approved estimated cost is $230,000, of which $100,000 will be reimbursed by the Oakland Intermediate School District.

PLANS STUDIED

Two separate plans for a six-classroom addition are being studied. Four of the classrooms will be used for special education programs; two for the mentally retarded, one for and adjusted study program for the emotionally retarded and one for perceptive development.

One plan allows for six classrooms around a large centrium while the second calls for six classrooms around a smaller central corridor.

The second plan appears to be preferred unofficially by the board.

★ ★ ★

Also last night, the board sold an excess 24 acres of the Green School property to Binder and Lark Building Co. Employees Retirement and Profit Sharing Trust for $170,500.

The down payment is $34,100 with another $20,000 to be paid within seven days of closing. The purchasers have three years to pay, with semiannual seven per cent interest payments.

FOR HOME SITES

The land will be used for single family homes.

The board will still own 15 acres of land at Green School, members pointed out. Ten acres normally is required for an elementary school site.

Drug Use Is PTA Topic

ROCHESTER — Dr. Sonya Friedman, school diagnostician, will discuss drug use by youngsters and its effects upon school systems and communities at tonight's meeting of the McGregor Elementary School PTA.

The meeting, scheduled to start at 8, will take place in the multipurpose room of the school, 1101 First.

Rochester Schools' Group Poses Congestion Solutions

ROCHESTER — The citizens' committee on secondary school housing in this school district, last night made its report to the board of education. The board did not take action on the report.

The committee, composed of 18 parents representing secondary school students of all age levels and geographical areas within the district, was formed in November to study plans for accommodating students at Rochester High School next year.

A variety of proposals were offered to the committee, all designed to allevaite overcrowding at the junior high schools and, at the same time, make provisions for the opening of Adams High School, scheduled for the latter part of next school year.

The alternative finally settled upon by the committee, if approved by the board would include a split-shift arrangement at the high school, with two separate student bodies attending classes during a single day.

SCHOOL DAY

The school day for both groups, those to attend Adams High and those to remain at Rochester High after the Adams opening, would be five 48-minute periods.

In addition, both high schools would include grades 9-12, instead of the present 10-12. A proposal including the present grade division was offered to the committee, but projected enrollment for the two junior highs for next year is 2,040 — better than 500 above capacity.

★ ★ ★

The schools would have separate identities beginning in September with separate faculties, administrators, athletic programs, colors and student body officers.

The committee also suggested that the board consider a combined graduation ceremony in 1970 for both schools.

STUDENTS' OPINIONS

Richard Huizenga, assistant superintendent, suggested that students might be contacted for opinions on the possibility.

The cause of the district's housing problems has been a swiftly increasing enrollment, which has brought about an $8-million bond issue, scheduled for a vote Feb. 8.

★ ★ ★

Six basic alternatives were presented to the committee, but those involving little change from the present housing arrangement were severely restricted because of the overcrowding problems they entailed.

For example, moving the entire ninth grade to Rochester High School to take pressure off the junior highs would result in 2,680 students attending classes in a school with a capacity of 1,500.

Lapeer Supervisors Aligned

The Lapeer County Board of Supervisors has decided on an apportionment of duties among its members.

Chaired by Paul Herpolsheimer of Dryden, the seven-man board will act as a "committee of the whole," rather than establishing standing committees on individual areas of county government.

★ ★ ★

However, each supervisor will be responsible for gathering information about and reporting on a specific group of activities.

Assignments are as follows:

- Herpolsheimer, Thumb District Health Department.
- Richard J. Bahls, District 4: resolutions, county zoning and planning, court activities and facilities and Lapeer County General Hospital.

★ ★ ★

- Ervin Haskill, District 3: legislative, existing county buildings, roads, drains and bridges.
- Edgar L. Miteen, District 5: Thumb Health Department (secretary), salaries, negotiations and the Holloway Reservoir.
- Hilton W. Tibbits, District 1: Thumb District Health Department, insurance, salaries and negotiations and the Holloway Reservoir.
- Donald Siegers, District 6: agriculture, supplies, Civil Defense, and the county library.
- Harold A. Wiliams, District 2: Suncrest medical care facility and salaries and negotiations (chairman).

RESPONSIBILITIES

The entire board will be responsible for auditing, appropriations, equalization and ways and means.

The board has also received a letter from Probate Judge George D. Lutz criticizing cuts made in the budget allotment for the probate court.

Lutz said the cuts, which were made by the old board of supervisors last year and which trimmed the prboate court budget from a request of $91,846 to $70,000, are "not realistic.

"There are several new items we will have in our budget for the very first time," commented the judge, who forecasted expenses of around $76,000 even if the court limits spending to areas already authorized.

ASKS BUDGET CUTS

After detailing court needs, Lutz requested that the supervisors add $6,000 to the budget "to cover what we are actually spending now," hike the probate judge's salary by $3,500 to $20,000, and budget an additional $7,100 to permit hiring of a fouth juvenile probation officer.

City YMCA Exec Named to New Post

David L. Lawrence, YMCA youth director, has been appointed associate executive director for program services, Clarence G. Carlson, YMCA board of directors president, announced today.

Carlson said the primary responsibilities of the new position will be to coordinate all existing YMCA program services, to develop new programs relevant to community needs and interest, and to develop long-range plans for community extension work.

* * *

The continued growth of YMCA services in the greater Pontiac area necessitates a more comprehensive approach, Carlson added.

Lawrence of 2915 Voorheis, Waterford Township, joined the YMCA staff as youth director in 1965. Serving in this capacity, he developed several new programs including Day Camp Arrowhead, Youth Council, After School Bus Program and Saturday Fun Club.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE

Boy, 14, in Custody for Carrying Arms

A 14-year-old Pontiac boy who is a card-carrying member of Citizens Helping Eliminate Crime (CHEC) was apprehended yesterday for carrying a concealed 22-caliber pistol, homemade nine-inch blackjack and pen knife, Pontiac police report.

* * *

Police said they were searching the boy because he was a stolen car suspect when they found the weapons.

He is in custody at the Oakland County Children's Home and was scheduled for a preliminary examination this afternoon.

Mishap Kills Waterford GI in Vietnam

A Waterford Township resident, Army Pfc. David V. Adams, was killed in Vietnam last Tuesday. He reportedly was killed when a mortar round in a military vehicle he was riding in exploded prematurely.

Adams, 20, graduated from Waterford Township High School in 1966 and entered the service in June 1968. He arrived in Vietnam on Nov. 4, 1968.

His wife, Pamela, lives at 4950 Elizabeth Lake, Waterford Township.

Adams is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Adams of 64 Goldner, Pontiac.

Services are pending at the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home.

Area Woman Fired On by I-75 Gunman

BAY CITY (UPI) — Police today held a suburban Detroit man on a chare of attempted murder after a woman complained two shots had been fired at her as she drove along a freeway.

Melvin L. Herman, 38, who gave his address as Madison Heights, was arrested last night when he drove his car into the gas station from which the woman had called police just as officers arrived.

* * *

The unidentified woman from Farmington told State Police from the Bay City post that a dirty station wagon pulled alongside her as she drove along I-75 south of here. One shot was fired from a side window, and another through the rear window of the station wagon, she said.

When police arrived to investigate her complaint, a dirty station wagon driven by Herman pulled into the gas station, said Sgt. Harlan Retz.

* * *

Three loaded revolvers were in the car, said Retz, and two had been recently fired. He said there were bullet holes in the passenger window and the rear window, and the shots apparently had been fired from inside the station wagon.

Herman was held in the Bay City jail pending arraignment.

Sylvan Lake to Vote on Edison Contract

Voters in Sylvan Lake next month will be asked to renew a 30-year contract that will permit the Detroit Edison Co. to continue operating within the city.

The franchise with the electrical firm was approved Jan. 8, by the city commission, and now has to be confirmed by voters in the Feb. 25 special election.

City Clerk Rosalind Wildgen said that her office will be open until 8 p.m. Friday to accept voter registration. Friday is the deadline for registering.

The victim of 390 Lochaven, Waterford Township, told police she was pushed to the ground after a man still in the car reached out and grabbed her purse while the two others outside knocked her to the ground.

The men then jumped back into the car and drove off, she said. The car was later recovered.

Based on Judges' Pay

Prosecutors Ask Raise

A resolution providing for a higher salary scale for prosecutors, based on the number of Circuit Court judges in a district, was approved yesterday by Michigan prosecutors meeting in Grand Rapids.

The prosecutors hope the resolution will be passed by the State Legislature this year.

* * *

The resolution states that in no case shall the minimum salary of a prosecutor be less than the probate court judge in districts with only one circuit judge.

In counties with two or more circuit judges, the resolution calls for prosecutor salaries of not less than the salary of a circuit judge.

This would be the casse in Oakland County, where the prosecutor's salary of $24,000 would be increased to meet the judicial salaries of $30,000.

The resolution also would prohibit prosecutors in counties with two or more circuit judges from engaging in private law practice.

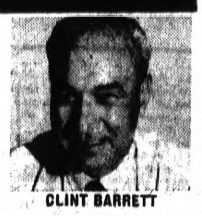

* * *

The resolution differs from a recommendation by State Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley, who had proposed a minimum salary based on a population formula.

State Has Strong Successor to Romney

MILLIKEN

On the one hand, there is regret over the departure of ROMNEY as Michigan's chief executive; on the other, gratification that his successor is so well qualified for the post.

Milliken's rise in Michigan's political establishment has been marked by step-by-step advancement. The executive head of a family-owned chain of department stores, he interested himself in public life in 1947 and was appointed to the State Waterways Commission. Thereafter he served for six years as Republican chairman for Grand Traverse County.

★ ★ ★

In 1960, he was elected State Senator, where his moderate political outlook established him as a leader against the rock-ribbed conservatism so long entrenched in the Republican party.

MILLIKEN was reelected in 1962 and subsequently elected the Republican Senate floor leader. Two years later, he took on a GOP stalwart in a contest for lieutenant governor and won that election.

★ ★ ★

Teamed with ROMNEY in 1966 election, the first under the new constitution that paired the State's top administrative officers and lengthened their terms from two to four years, MILLIKEN along with the governor was again reelected.

★ ★ ★

Needless to say, the lieutenant governor had ample opportunity to cut his gubernatorual teeth while pinch hitting for his chief during ROMNEY's absences from Lansing — particularly during the prolonged one during the greater part of last year while campaigning for the Republican presidential nomination.

★ ★ ★

We salute William Milliken on his succession to the governship, with an expression of best wishes for a fruitful administration of the State's highest office.

Trial Seen Reviving Kennedy Tragedy

The trial of CLAY L. SHAW, who has been charged with conspiring to assassinate President KENNEDY, is at long last beginning in New Orleans. It is expected to last five or six weeks once a jury is selected from a venire of 250 persons. Criminal District Judge EDWARD A. HAGGERTY has said the trial will be held on Saturdays and Sundays as well as weekdays, even during the Mardi Gras period.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

It is understating the case to say that opinion is split on whether Garrison has any sort of evidence to back his charges. The district attorney announced on Feb. 24, 1967, that his staff had "solved" the assassination but that he would need months or years to "work on details of evidence" and to make arrests. He added: "We know what cities were involved, how it was done in the essential respects, and the individuals involved . . . It's my personal belief that Oswald did not kill anyone that day." Shaw was arrested March 1, 1967.

★ ★ ★

Subsequent developments have been confusing. GARRISON has hinted darkly at involvement in the alleged plot of powerful groups intent on thwarting his investigation. The FBI was withholding evidence, he said, and the C.I.A. knew "the name of every man involved and the name of the individuals who pulled the triggers" to kill the President. GARRISON's belief in a conspiracy is said to reflect his choice of Jan. 21 as the trial date because the JOHNSON administration will be out of power and powerless—as it was all along—to block the trial.

★ ★ ★

Although Garrison's bizarre allegations have been given scant credence in knowledgeable quarters, the trial may serve a useful purpose. It should dispel any lingering public uncertainty about the perpetration of the crime that rocked the Nation.

Philadelphia Registering Racial Gains

(First of two related columns)

By BRUCE BIOSSAT
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Cracks of hopeful daylight can be found here and there in a troubled urban racial situation which many observers of the nation's black community insist on painting in hopelessly gloomy tones.

BIOSSAT

Fortunately for the nation, through all the tumult and the shouting from black militants on the one hand and rightist whites who would repress blacks on the other, a hardy band of both whites and blacks keeps hacking away pragmatically at real problems and helping to produce at least partial answers.

★ ★ ★

Typical of this band is Andrew Freeman of Philadelphia's Urban League, a soft-spoken but highly determined man who for years has been fighting for practical gains for the black community and getting some of them.

Measured on the scale of practical advances, Freeman saw 1968 in Philadelphia as a year of more promise than a quick tour of the black ghetto might suggest. And he says he is "very optimistic" that 1969 will be a good deal better.

MOST SUCCESSFUL

In the employment field, it may shake some of those who believe that federally sponsored programs are inevitably doomed to failure to hear that on-the-job training efforts under U.S. Department of Labor guidance have been the most successful in Philadelphia.

Figures for 1968 are not yet complete, but may well exceed 1967. Nearly 3,000 blacks trained under this program were at work — and the so-called "job retention" rate ranged impressively between 85 and 93 per cent.

★ ★ ★

Most disappointing in 1968 was the failure to arouse a proper sense of urgency among the potential employers of black trainees.

Nevertheless, men like Freeman never give up fighting for the small victories on the job, school and housing fronts which, when pieced together over the years, mark real advances.

GET THE MESSAGE?

Notwithstanding earlier discouragements, he is confident more business employers are going to get the message in 1969 and hire black trainees or help train them as they work.

The National Alliance of Businessmen has made job pledges which may be fulfilled better this year than last. The Urban Coalition, not too productive in Philadelphia so far, is still eyed hopefully.

★ ★ ★

Even housing prospects look more promising. A 1968 U.S. law providing subsidies that will allow one per cent mortgage charges for low-income buyers opens up a market for blighted but basically sound dwellings which can be reconditioned. Poor blacks may be buying.

Nudity Goes To Washington!

David Lawrence Says:

Nixon Address Was Impressive

WASHINGTON — President Nixon's address to the nation immediately after he took the oath of office yesterday was impressive.

LAWRENCE

There were no innuendos of political partisanship, no criticisms of the preceding administration, no words of boastfulness or extravagant promise. It was just the message of a man who emphasized his own confidence that the American people could unite and go "forward together."

Naturally no specific courses of action relating to pending problems were outlined. The speech was rather an attempt to achieve a unity of thought behind the fundamental principles which must guide the new administration and the country.

★ ★ ★

"I ask you," Mr. Nixon said, "to share with me today the majesty of this moment. In the orderly transfer of power, we celebrate the unity that keeps us free."

The American people place authority in the hands of one man but only within the limits specified in a written constitution.

SYMBOL OF DEMOCRACY

So the inaugural is in truth a symbol of democratic government.

The new president's address did not, of course, ignore the realities of the age — the factional differences, the bitterness between groups, and the uprisings of dissent. He said:

"In these difficult years, America has suffered from a fever of words: from inflated rhetoric that promises more than it can deliver; from angry rhetoric that fans discontents into hatreds; from bombastic rhetoric that postures instead of persuading.

★ ★ ★

"We cannot learn from one another until we stop shouting at one another — until we speak quietly enough so that our words can be heard as well as our voices.

"For its part, government will listen. We will strive to listen in new ways — to the voices of quiet anguish, the voices that speak without words, the voices of the heart — to the injured voices, the anxious voices, the voices that have despaired of being heard."

This is an appeal to reason as against movements of protest by violence and disorder.

Mr. Nixon broadened his theme to cover world affairs, too. He declared that "the peace we seek to win is not victory over any other people, but the peace that comes 'with healing in its wings'; with compassion for those who have suffered; with understanding for those who have opposed us; with the opportunity for all the peoples of this earth to choose their own destiny."

Mr. Nixon's inaugural address will be appraised in history as a timely presentation of thoughts which lie deep in the hearts of the American people today.

On the whole, the inaugural of 1969 was a significant example of how well the spirit and will toward unity can be emphasized even in an event that marked the defeat of one party and the victory of another.

★ ★ ★

Inauguration days are full of hope, and time alone can tell whether the hopes and wishes of the people will be fulfilled.

Bob Considine Says:

Richard Nixon Becomes Nation's No. 1 Prisoner

WASHINGTON — The nation's new No. 1 prisoner is Richard M. Nixon, 37th president of the United States. Until he leaves the White House (some say four years hence, he says eight) he will be the most intensely guarded American.

CONSIDINE

The Secret Service is the turnkey in nominal charge of seeing that he doesn't get away. But his guards are deeper than that.

The FBI also is charged with keeping an eye on him. So is the CIA in the event he goes out of the country.

If he visits troops, military police and intelligence officers will surround him. If he tries to climb over the White House's iron fence, Washington's metropolitan police get in the act.

If he meets Kosygin in Moscow, the MVD (Ministerstvo Vnutrennvkh Del) will blanket him. If he manages to obtain an audience with Charles de Gaulle, his guards will be the Surete Nationale and the Gendarmerie Nationale.

ON A TOUR

If it's a tour he's on, he'll also be under the constant surveillance of the Bundespolizei in West Germany, the Guardia di Publica Sicurezza in Italy and Scotland Yard in Britain.

Agents of INTERPOL (International Criminal Police Organization) won't be far from his side, wherever he goes on this globe.

★ ★ ★

He may go to the bathroom alone, but that's about all.

If Washington is ever blitzed (except by its natives) he will be hustled to two maximum security areas, the bomb shelter deep underground between the White House and the Treasury Department, or the place outside of the capital where there are provisions to last until the radiation dissipates.

SOMETHING TO SAY

The prisoner is allowed to say, "Hey, Pat, let's go to the National Theater tonight," but his guards would have something to say about that.

★ ★ ★

First, there would be a thorough search of the theater. Secret Service men would be assigned to all seats that commanded a sniper's view of the seats intended for the prisoner and his wife. Seats to the side of the couple, and in front and back, would be blocked off and occupied by Secret Service men. Several more men would be stationed near the stage with instructions to stare at the audience, not look at the action behind the footlights.

★ ★ ★

Police would be on the roof of the theater and atop adjoining buildings.

And, of course, close to the prisioner would be the Satchel Man. Inside the satchel is the portable, high-powered transmitter and the proper codes which Mr. Nixon would use if forced to order a massive nuclear retaliation.

Everywhere President Nixon goes there will be a Secret Service man at his side assigned to serve as a human shield. The assignment rotates among half a dozen agents.

They don't like their "prisoner" to get too friendly and shake hands with strangers. But if he doesn't, the strangers tend to vote him out of office.

Road Commission Apathy Disturbs Area Motorist

The Road Commission says it can't do anything about M59 because it is under State jurisdiction. What about the roads the Commission does control? Orchard Lake Road is a good example. Between here and Farmington, that road is one long bottleneck. The speed limit is 45, but if you hit 30 you're lucky.

★ ★ ★

I'd like to know what the Road Commission plans to do about the general situation in this County. I can probably speak for the great majority of Oakland County motorists when I say we are fed up with the indifference and apathy on the part of the Road Commission. We want action now.

'Drivers Ignore Accidents in Parking Lots'

I would like to voice my opinion of people who hit parked cars and then leave without saying they did it. I have had my car cut along the side in one parking lot, and recently when parked in front of a store, someone hit me in the back end and really did a job that will cost me plenty to have fixed. I hope whoever did it will realize that I am a widow trying to live on a fixed income, and that Social Security doesn't raise with strikes. How many other people feel as I do?

Clarifies Aid Given by Salvation Army

A recent letter signed by Joan Francis commented on assistance given to another family. The Salvation Army was contacted by the welfare case worker of the family involved and asked to issue enough food for one day. This was on the second of the month and the woman had an ADC check coming on the third for her retarded son. Also, her husband was getting paid in a couple days. I issued food from our well-supplied pantry for their needs that night and the following morning, and issued a food order for $2, explaining that this was for milk and bread for the children. The recipients were grateful for our assistance. Our help is for emergencies like this.

Comments on Maintenance of Morgan Road

It seems all county roads get sanded except Morgan Road. School buses that stop to pick up children have to back up a long way before they can get started again. Our road never gets plowed or sanded like it should for this to be a school bus route. We pay taxes the same as everyone else, yet they won't do any work on our road. In the summer when we have our road oiled, they want to grade it, but when the oil is gone they won't grade it.

Submits Views on Aid to Parochial Schools

The parochial aid issue is before us again. Practically every American adheres to the principle of separation of church and state, whereas the late President Kennedy stated, "no church or church school is granted any public funds or political preferences." The question has been complicated by the so-called child-benefit theory which in reality isn't a new approach.

★ ★ ★

The real issue concerns taxation. This country fought a revolution where "taxation without representation" was one of the causes. As a citizen, I have the power to implement policy in the public schools through school board elections. Parents of parochial school children haven't this power over their schools, although they can still vote in the public school system elections.

I'm all in favor of aid to parochial schools if these schools agree to be run like the public schools where the school board dictates policy. If I am going to be taxed either to support a child or an institution, I want the inherent right to elect officials to look after this investment. Taxation without representation is just as tyrannical today as it was in 1776.

Corrects Recent Article on Interest Rates

A recent article quoted a F.H.A. spokesman as saying due to increased prime interest rates "buyers will have to pay more 'points' or a higher discount fee at time of purchase." The article should have read "sellers will pay a higher discount fee at time of closing." Many home owners feel they should not have to pay "points," and a misleading article can lead to endless hours of explanations by realtors and their salespeople.

Question and Answer

Does the minimum speed limit apply in all weather conditions? Particularly, may I slow down in what I consider to be bad driving conditions even though others are maintaining the minimum speed limit?

DAILY COMMUTER

REPLY

We checked with the State Police post and assuming you're referring to expressway travel with a posted minimum speed, you must travel within the conditions of the road. Should you feel it necessary to slow down below the flow of traffic, and a traffic officer feels road conditions warrant maintaining the minimum, he would probably advise you to speed up or take another route.

It's New 'Ball Game' for President Nixon

By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon ended his first day as President on a jubilant social note with a four-hour tour of six inaugural balls so jampacked with bejewelled ladies and tuxedo-clad men that dancing was a near impossibility.

At least 30,000 ballgoers gave the new President and his lady cheering ovations as he made the rounds Monday night in white tie and tails, making brief speeches laced with humor and expressing faith in the American people.

* * *

The President and his family spent about 30 minutes at each ball and he wound up at 1:30 a.m. on a serious note.

"America is a good country," he said, "and Americans are good people. I hope we can be worthy of the great goodness that is in America—these next four years."

Mainly, though, Nixon was in a joking mood.

LIGHTS ON

He reported that "President Johnson left the lights on at the White House for us."

When he finally headed home, he told a delighted crowd: "They gave me the key to the front door of the White House and I'm going home to see if it fits."

Nixon's enjoyment of his new role was obvious. Many of his joking remarks were directed at how long he had sought the presidency.

He noted "I never had better seats at a parade than I did today," adding, "I sent for my seats eight years ago."

* * *

The balls were the big windup social event of three days of inaugural activities and they were a sellout at $35 a head and $1000 for a box. Some 25 bands, including Lionel Hampton, Sammy Kaye, Lester Lanin, Meyer Davis, Guy Lombardo and Duke Ellington performed.

It was a crushing mob scene everywhere. Nixon, surveying the crowds, joked: "Now I know what they mean by 'Bring us together'," alluding to the slogan of his administration.

"The only advantage," he noted, "is that I was afraid I was going to have to dance tonight." He confided "I'm not a very good dancer."

He introduced his family including daughter Tricia, 22, and her escort, Doug Rogers, son of the secretary of state; daughter Julie, 20, and her husband, David Eisenhower.

He said Pat "has been first lady in my house 28½ years, now she's First Lady in the White House."

Mrs. Nixon wore a mimosa yellow silk satin ballgown, its jacket and cummerbund a-glitter with jewels that took 265 hours to embroider.

President Nixon made just about the same speech with a few ad libs at each ball at the Smithsonian Institution and the five hotels, expressing thanks to those who supported him in 20 years in politics and came to Washington to celebrate his inauguration.

* * *

In the years to come, Nixon said, they would forget that it was a cold day and rained at night. "You'll simply remember the glow of friendship."

And, he promised, to their cheers "We're not going to let you down."

Vice President and Mrs. Spiro T. Agnew were on the circuit, too, and finally wound up on the same platform with the Nixons around midnight.

Nixon got the warmest greetings, whistles, cheers, applause for every quip.

"A very great evening for us," he declared.

Spirit Counts When Parents Give Presents

By ELIZABETH L. POST
Of The Emily Post Institute

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I both agree that exchanging birthday presents among relatives is too expensive for us. We explained this to our relatives and agreed on sending cards only. However, each birthday our parents still insist on giving us a gift.

Naturally if we refuse the gift we will hurt their feelings, and accepting it makes us feel obligated. What do you suggest? — Nancy

* * *

Dear Nancy: Don't fight it. From time immemorial parents have enjoyed the privilege of giving their children whatever they could, and they do not expect or want anything in return. Enjoy their presents and appreciate the spirit in which they are given.

Dear Mrs. Post: I am to be a sponsor for a neighbor's daughter when she is confirmed. When I was confirmed my sponsor bought me my whole outfit. I would like to know if this is customary. —Margaret

* * *

Dear Margaret: While it was very generous of your sponsor, it was not necessary. Nor need you do so for your neighbor's daughter. You should give her a gift, however—a small piece of jewelry, possibly a religious charm, a nicely bound special book, or a prayer book or Bible if she does not have one.

Quiet Taste Is Projected for Pat's Fashions

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — The woman who designed Mrs. Richard M. Nixon's inaugural ballgown sees the new First Lady's fashion influence as a "quiet" rather than a flamboyant one.

"She will wear what she likes to wear," says designer Karen Stark. So far, what she likes does not include the pants fad, Mrs. Stark added.

* * *

And the man whose seamstresses made the historic ballgown sees Mrs. Nixon as "No. 1 in fashion," anyway you count it, because she's the nation's No. 1 woman. This is Harvey Berin speaking, Mrs. Stark's brother-in-law, as he counts off the 265 hours alone that the seamstresses put in on the gold bullion embroidery of the mimosa yellow silk satin that went into the slim, jacketed dress.

"AMERICAN"

Familiar designer names from New York and Los Angeles are the labels in the wardrobes of the leading ladies of the Nixon administration. Not a single French or Italian couturier is mentioned.

* * *

But Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson bought American too — from the likes of Molly Parnis, Adele Simpson and George Stavropoulos. The former Mrs. John F. Kennedy started out all-American too, with Oleg Cassini doing her inaugural wardrobe, but eventually the French and Italian labels crept in.

* * *

Mrs. Spiro T. Agnew's inaugural gown of shell pink corded silk is the creation of Helen Rose, veteran Hollywood designer who created the bridal dress MGM gave Grace Kelly for her marriage to Prince Rainier of Monaco.

Parents Advised to Forgive Deception; Accept Early Birth of Grandchild

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Recently our daughter was married in an all-white church wedding which was one of the most beautiful ever held in this town. It was a dream come true. To say she looked like an "angel" is not just a mother's pride. I can't describe the joy that was in her father's heart and mine.

* * *

When the newlyweds returned from their honeymoon, they calmly told us to expect a grandchild in FIVE MONTHS! That means our daughter was a good three months pregnant when she donned her wedding gown and veil. Abby, she knew it all along. How could she have done this to us? We loved this child more than life itself.

HEARTSICK MOTHER

DEAR HEARTSICK: The real test of love is to love our children when they need our love the most. It's easy to love them when they do everything right, and make us "proud" of their accomplishments. But when they disappoint us (as children do, occasionally) we can prove the strength of our love by showing compassion, understanding, and forgiveness. Try it. You'll have fewer regrets.

DEAR ABBY: I am 21 and my husband is 22. We get along very well but here is the problem: He has very long hair, and I mean it is practically down to his shoulders.

During the daytime he keeps it nicely combed, but at night it is all over the place and it drives me crazy. When I mention a net he gets mad. What should I do?

RUNNING OUT OF PATIENCE

DEAR RUNNING: I agree, that man of yours needs a net — maybe both kinds. You'll probably run out of patience before he runs out of hair, so let him know he's no treat to sleep with, and let him make a choice.

DEAR ABBY: I'd like to put in my two cents' worth about the woman who didn't want her husband present when she gave birth because she didn't want him to see her "naked" in front of other people. Of all the reasons she could have thought up, that is the dumbest.

In the first place she is NOT naked, and besides, she is there to have a baby, not to make a stag film. And as for your advice in this case, Abby, boo and hiss. Having a baby is a joint effort. She is not doing HER thing, she is doing THEIR thing.

Only once in history did a woman have a child alone, and that was 2,000 years ago in a stable. Sincerely,

P. N. (HOLLYWOOD)

Second Cabaret Party Drips With French Bistro Atmosphere

By SHIRLEY GRAY

Red tablecloths, bowls of fruit for centerpieces, wine bottles stoppered with dripping color candles, French fare, lights down low — voila, instant bistro ambience.

That'll be the mood Saturday night at Bloomfield Hills Country Club when Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin H. Jaynes, aided and abetted by the Maynard R. Andreaes and the Howard T. Keatings, have their second cabaret party.

A REPEAT

Mrs. Jaynes started the whole thing last year, complete with red-checkered tablecloths and long loaves of French bread. Everyone had so much fun it seemed like a good idea to have another one.

Planning to be there, besides the Jayneses, the Keatings and the Andreaes, are Mr. and Mrs. R. A. (Mike) Maxwell, the Robert E. Fifes, the Rinehardt S. Brights, the Paul McKenneys and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gates, to name a few.

Mr. and Mrs. Jaynes spent last weekend skiing at Otsego. So did a lot of other people from this neck of the woods, reports Mrs. J.

Among them were the John Kerrs, the Dick Gawnes, Gail Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Clark (Bud) Matthews, the Brights and, from Fenton, Dr. and Mrs. Harry Phillips.

The Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra will meet for luncheon and a fashion show Thursday at Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, plus a reveiw of the last three projects — "Star," the filmed biography of Gertrude Lawrence; the Christmas Walk, for which Mrs. Garrett F. Scollard and Mrs. R. Lawrence Smith served as Birmingham-Bloomfield chairmen, and the Souvenir Concert.

Mrs. E. David Auer of Ardmoor Drive, Bloomfield Township, is in charge of the luncheon arrangements.

Good weather brought Pontiac area homemakers out in full force Monday evening for the first session of the 1969 Pontiac Press Cooking School. This is the scene at Pontiac Central High School shortly before the program began.

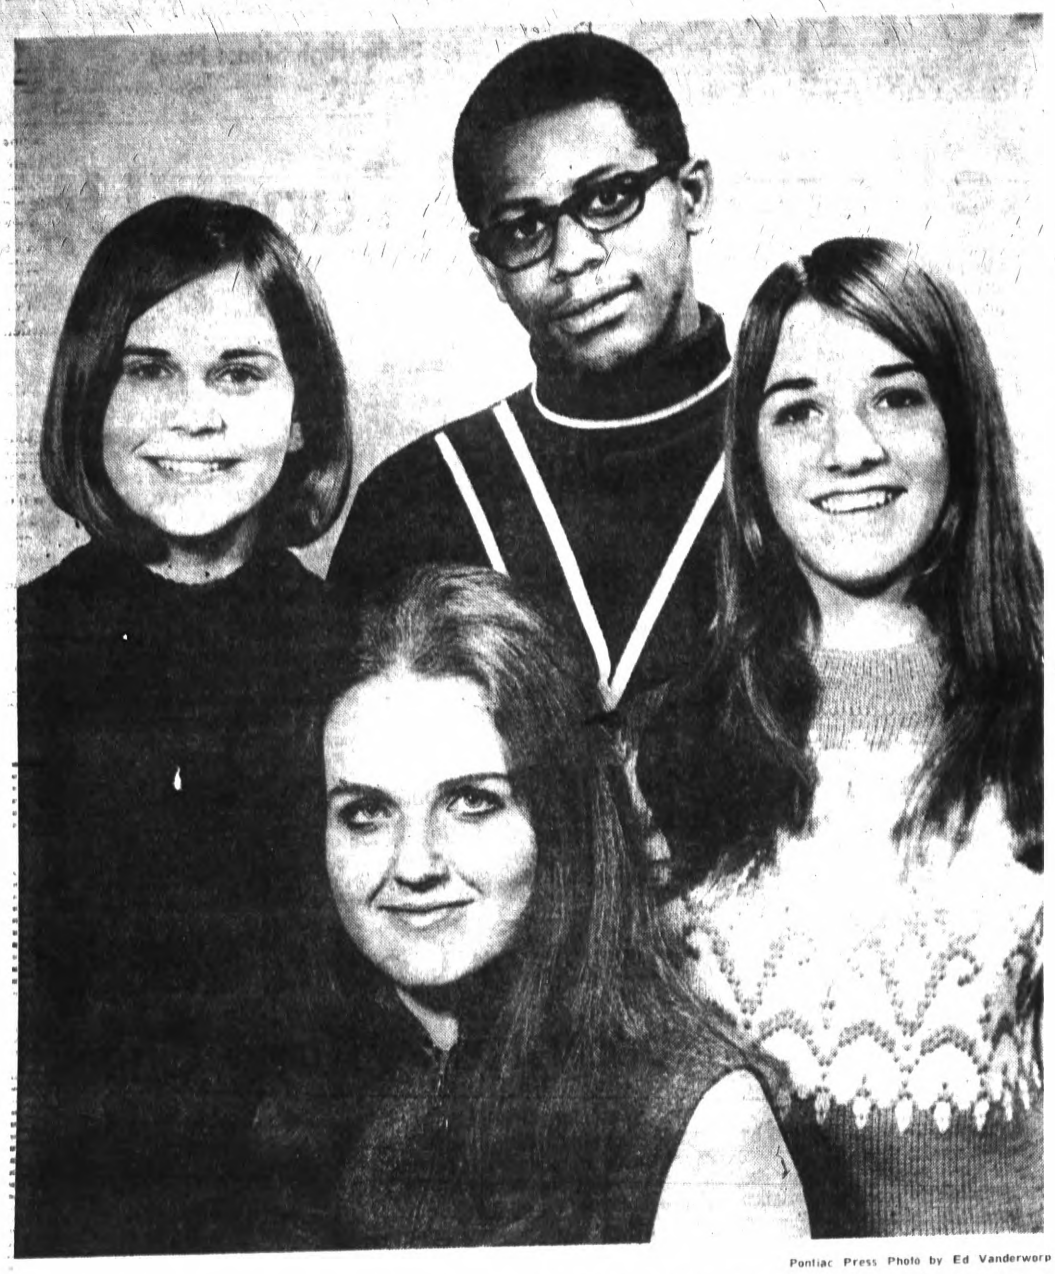

High school girls are interested in cooking. Artie Betters, Pontiac Lake Road, a sophomore at Waterford Township High School, is handed her program by Mrs. Raymond Bell of Monrovia Street. Mrs. Bell is a member of an area MSU extension study group.

...If They're in Music Appreciation

Lapeer Students Know Score

By SUE DeARMOND

For the past two years, Lapeer Senior High School has offered a rather unusual academic course, music appreciation class, taught by Jack McCrachen, chorus teacher.

Enrollment in this class is limited; only 12 students are attending this year. These students are either interested in music or are planning to study music in college.

★ ★ ★

The class is almost as difficult as it is interesting. The students learn about such things as music theory, the study of the structure of music.

They listen to recordings of music from various periods — baroque, romantic, classic, impressionistic, expressionistic and contemporary — and this provides them with background on great works of music.

SINGING SELECTIONS

Often they will work on singing selections from famous operas to traditional Christmas carols.

At present, they are studying "The Magic Flute" by Wolfgang Mozart.

★ ★ ★

The newly formed Forensic Club is recruiting members. The new members will pick selections to read at the local competition March 3. The finalists will go on to district and regional competition.

The junior class play tryouts will be held the first week in February. The class is presenting "Mr. Barry's Etchings" by Walter Bullock and Daniel Archer March 20 and 21.

★ ★ ★

The play, sponsored by the junior class, is open to all high school students. It is about a man who has a hobby of etching $50 bills, bringing him a bit of trouble when the bills are circulated. Crooks, well-meaning friends, romance, jealousy and the U.S. Treasury Department all become involved as the plot thickens.

Youths Honored in VFW Contest

Voice of Democracy winners were honored Sunday at the David Belisle Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 1008. The project involved students in the 10th through 12th grades.

Each student entering writes and records a composition on the topic, "Freedom's Challenge." The competition is a national event with awards at local, district, state and national levels.

First, second and third place winners from the Pontiac area include George Marshall, Carla Dupree and David McNeir, Pontiac Central High School; Rebecca Spurck, Geraldine Blanzy and Patricia Hoffman, Pontiac Catholic High School; Cheryl Crandell, Edward Bertrand and John Mata, Waterford Township High School.

Others were Erika Schaefer, Donna Furlong and Vernon Yates, Waterford Kettering High School, and Denise LaForge, Dave Tait and Bryan Sauve, Our Lady of Lakes.

NFH Clubs Reorganizing Activities for New Year

By KATHI CAMPBELL

Many of North Farmington High's clubs are busily reorganizing their activities for the new year.

The Ski Club, now the largest club in the school with over 230 members, has definite plans for an extensive series of several ski trips. The schedule, is as follows: Friday, Mt. Brighton, Jan. 27; Alpine Valley; Feb. 7, Mt. Brighton; Feb. 10, Alpine Valley; Feb. 14, and 21, Mt. Brighton; Feb. 24 and March 10, Alpine Valley.

★ ★ ★

Ski Club Adviser Mrs. P. Crossmeyer pointed out that the members, unfortunately are restricted to surrounding ski lodges . . . during school sessions.

According to Theater Club Adviser Adele Howden, members are anticipating their next jaunt to see "Hamlet" at the Hillbury Theater.

They also hope to see performances to Shakespeare's "Richard II" and "Julius Caesar."

If arrangements can be made, an excursion to the Fisher Theater to see Mary Martin and Robert Preston in "I Do! I Do!" will be made sometime during this semester.

★ ★ ★

American Youth Hostels, recently found members skiing amid Boyne Highlands and Schuss Mountain. There they hosteled at the Alpine Chalet near Traverse City.

AYH members are now aticipating plans for the up coming spring vacation.

YEARBOOK

The NFH yearbook staff is currently rushing to fulfill its deadline schedules for the '69 Aurora.

This year the staff chose "Confrontation" as its theme.

Since it is traditional for only staff members to know yearbook details so students who order the annual will be surprised, editors would not elaborate on the theme.

★ ★ ★

Advised by Lynn Chamberlin, a staff of 15 seniors edit the Aurora.

Others include Kathy Beno, Phyllis Clements, Wendy Cohn, Diane Lubin and Laurie Shoemaker.

Country Day

By JANET IVORY

If teachers assign a lot of homework and students complain. Perhaps there is a reason and a remedy.

The probable reason for student complaints on this subject is that homework takes too much time. The required reading limits the prospects of extracurricular activities. Girls at Bloomfield Country Day School have found truth in the old "all work and no play" adage.

★ ★ ★

The school is providing the remedy, not by cutting down on homework but by helping the student to cut down on the time it takes to complete the assigned work.

Last week, the school purchased several reading machines. You can race the machine down the pages of a book or the machines can test you.

INDIVIDUAL TREATMENT

A student can adjust the speed of the device and can keep accelerating until her comprehension results show that more practice at a certain speed is necessary.

Adelphian Hears Advice on Health

By PAT EDWARDS

Last week, at an evening worship service, Euel Atchley, a Seventh-day Adventist minister spoke to the Adelphian Academy student body on health and temperance.

Pastor A. A. Atchley stressed the importance of "retaining your youth" through physical exercise and nonuse of liquor, tobacco and narcotics.

★ ★ ★

A group of young people who call themselves the "Youth For Eternity" also presented a program last week.

Future events planned for Adelphian students include the annual "Ski trip" Jan. 27, sponsored by the school's newspaper (the Shiawassian) for those students who have turned in 13 or more subscriptions to the paper, and the annual Amateur Hour, Feb. 8, to which the public is invited.

Trading Fairly Active

Mart Charts Cautious Course

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued to chart a cautious course early Tuesday, with trading fairly active.

Gains and losses were about even. Blue chips firmed enough to post a small initial gain for the Dow Jones industrial average.

Wall Street was waiting for some indications from the Nixon administration on the economic program to be adopted and, meanwhile, had adopted a wait-and-see attitude.

National Dairy was pushed to the top of the most-active list by an opening block of 200,000 shares at 40, off ⅞.

IBM steadied, gaining a small fraction after its recent losses on news of monopoly charges, while one of its chief rivals in the computer field, Control Data, rose 2 more points or so.

American Smelting, up more than a point, continued strong. Xerox added a point.

In a mixed auto group, General Motors lost about a point.

★ ★ ★

Among other big blue chips, fractional gains were posted by Du Pont, Procter & Gamble, Phelps Dodge, Goodyear and Boeing.

Benguet, a 3-point gainer Monday on bullish reports, remained in the spotlight, rising ⅛ to 18½ on 18,000 shares

INA Corp., which spurted 2¼ Monday amid rumors of a possible take-over, advanced another ⅝ to 47½ on 19,700 shares.

Monday the Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed unchanged at 353.0.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange. Associated Oil & Gas opened on 16,800 shares, unchanged at 9½, and then eased. Merrill Island Mining and Kalvex were active fractional gainers. Papert, Koening, Lois "A" spurted a couple of points and Loew's Theatres warrants gained more than a point. Eckmar and North Canadian Oils were fractional losers.

Chiefs, Northern Play Home Tilts

Ho-Hum Games Tonight Could Become Humdingers

A couple of ho-hummers could turn out to be a pair of humdingers when Pontiac Central and Pontiac Northern entertain basketball foes this evening.

Both are taking on teams that have been less than so-so thus far in the 1968-69 campaign.

Central's Chiefs, who are ranked No. 9 this week in the Associated Press poll, play host to the Trojans of Saginaw, while Pontiac Northern (5-1) entertains Flint Northwestern.

FOES CLASHED

The Flint squad comes into the game with a 2-6 record, its latest outing a 60-58 overtime win over Saginaw Friday. Saginaw owns a 2-4 mark.

It's the first time in recent yaars the Trojans aren't among the contenders in the Saginaw Valley Conference race. They're 2-3 in the SVC but Central coach Ralph Grubb figures they're better than that.

'THEY'RE BIG'

"They're big," says Grubb. "It's just that they haven't had a good shooting night. They've been shooting around 30 per cent."

* * *

Saginaw's two wins have come over Bay City squads — Central (72-47) and Handy (77-49). The Trojans are led by Ed Roberson who is scoring at a 19.4 clip.

FIRST TIME

The Chiefs cracked the AP poll for the first time this season and they could enhance their position with an impressive win over Saginaw.

* * *

PCH is one of three Oakland County teams making the Class A lineup in AP, while two others made the grade in classes 'B' and 'C'.

Birmingham Brother Rice (7-1) holds down the No. 7 spot in Class A, and Ferndale (7-1), upset by Berkley last week, occupies the No. 10 position. Rochester is 18th on the list.

TWO UNBEATENS

Orchard Lake's two unbeaten quintets continue to do well in the polls.

* * *

The Lakers (7-0) of West Bloomfield share the No. 5 spot in Class B with Detroit Holy Redeemer, while the Eaglets of St. Mary (10-0) hold the No. 5 spot in the 'C' lineup.

* * *

Setting the pace in Class A is Ypsilanti (9-0). Strong River Rouge (10-0) is first in Class B, Detroit St. Martin DePorres is first in Class C and Detroit All Saints (9-0) is leading the way among Class D squads.

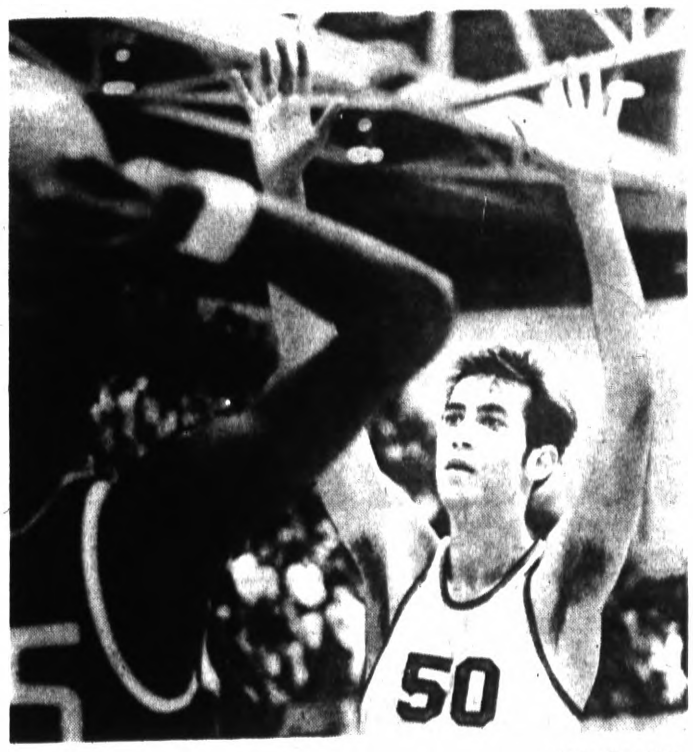

Like Central, Northern's Huskies should have a breather against invading Northwestern, but the ball has been known to take strange bounces.

TAKES CONTROL — Len Chappell (50) of the Milwaukee Bucks snatches a rebound from Detroit Pistons Happy Hairston during their game at Madison, Wis., last night. Bucks won, 102-101.

HELPS HUSKIES — Junior center Mike Chapman (6-4), brought up four games back from the junior varsity, has given Pontiac Northern a boost in the scoring column. In four varsity outings Chapman is averaging 14.2 points a game. He and his PNH teammates entertain Flint Northwestern tonight.

Ice Officials Ponder Fate of NHL Seals

MONTREAL (AP) — The National Hockey League's board of governors spent the hours before tonight's 22nd annual All Star Game contemplating the future of the Oakland Seals.

* * *

The West Division Seals have flourished on the ice but not at the gate this season and apparently will be playing elsewhere next season. The question the governors may decide today is just where that somewhere will be.

* * *

A group of Buffalo businessmen headed by Seymour Knox III has conditionally purchased the Seals. The condition is that the governors approve transfer of the franchise from Oakland to Buffalo.

That question headed the agenda for today's meeting.

NINE YEAS

In order to transfer the franchise, there must be nine yes votes on the 12-man board of governors. There is hard-core objection to the shift from at least three teams—Los Angeles, Toronto and Montreal. And Jack Kent Cooke, owner of the LA club, is certain that he can muster at least two more votes against the shift and thereby kill it.

* * *

LA does not want to surrender the obvious California rivalry an Oakland club provides. Toronto—just across the border from Buffalo—and Montreal do not want more big-league competition in their territory.

* * *

If the board turns down the Buffalo move today, Vancouver could be the Seals' next target. The Labatt Brewery remains interested in securing the team and moving it there.

Vancouver is not on the board's agenda today but the city is sure to come up in discussion of the Seals.

GAME PLANS

While the league brass battled the administrative problems, Toe Blake, coach of the East Division All Stars, and Scotty Bowman, who'll coach the west stars, puzzled out strategy for tonight's game.

* * *

Blake will have the cream of the older division players at his disposal. The East line-up includes Detroit's great Gordie Howe, playing in his 20th All Star game and Boston's brilliant Bobby Orr. Howe, 41, and Orr 20, are the oldest and youngest players in the league.

Bowman has seven of his own St. Louis Blues on the West squad, including goalies Jacques Plante and Glenn Hall, who hold a 24-goal lead in the race for the Vezina Trophy. Hall and Plante have combined for a league-leading 10 shutouts between them.

This year's game marks the first time the All Stars have been split up by divisions. It also marks the first time that players will be paid extra for winning. The winners will get $500 each, the losers $250.

Bucks in Squeaker

Pistons Win String Ends

By The Associated Press

Despite strong run-and-shoot performances at the start and finish Monday night, the Detroit Pistons were stalled in the middle of their National Basketball Association game against Milwaukee at Madison, Wis., and that cost them a 102-101 loss as well as a four-game winning streak.

Detroit trailed 100-99 with 30 seconds left to play but lost possession to the Bucks who stalled for 24 seconds and then scored Big Walt Bellamy scored again for Detroit as the final buzzer sounded.

* * *

At Baltimore, meanwhile, the Bullets put their newfound teamwork to good use, defeating the Boston Celtics 122-109. They did it just the way the Celtics of old did — by a big man rebounding in the middle, a fast break and a sudden shooting spree to open the game.

The victory put the Bullets 3½ games ahead of Boston and Philadelphia.

SLIM ADVANTAGE

Baltimore held only an 88-85 lead toward the end of the third quarter when Jack Marin scored six points and Gus Johnson four in a 12-2 fast break spurt that buried the visiting Celtics.

Kevin Loughery led the Bullets with 38 points, but their man in the middle, Wes Unseld, a major reason for their success this year, played an equally important role in the victory. He outscored Bill Russell 18-13 and outrebounded him 23-18.

Weather Aids Golfer Barber

NAPA, Calif. (AP) — "It's a doggone shame," commented Miller Barber. "You hate to win this way."

The 38-year-old from Sherman, Tex., had just collected $13,500 for his victory in the rain-abbreviated Kaiser International Open Golf Tournament as storms continued to flood the fairways and greens.

* * *

Good weather prevailed Thursday and Friday as Barber posted scores of 68 and 67 at the Silverado Country Club. Then came the rains and by Monday morning all hope of continuing the tournament was gone.

"You can't even get to the tees," commented Jack Tuthill, tournament director for the Professional Golfers' Association. "This course won't be playable Tuesday either."

PEBBLE BEACH

So the touring pros headed for Pebble Beach and Bing Crosby's national pro-amateur. They hoped to leave the bad weather behind, but that may not be. Fresh storms were reported heading for the Northern California area.

With the reduction to 36 holes, the purse was also halved as the stocky, balding Barber collected for his 135 score.

* * *

Australia's Bruce Devlin wound up second at 136 and Arnold Palmer took third at 137. They drew checks of $7,700 and $4,784 for their two days of play and three days of waiting.

Tied for fourth were Charles Coody and Bob Lunn at 138 for $2,971 each.

Walkout Fighter in Title Bid

NEW YORK (AP) — The night Bob Foster won the world light heavyweight title, Frankie De Paula fought the walkout bout on the same card.

De Paula, wearing his ring togs, watched from a Madison Square Garden runway while Foster destroyed Dick Tiger with one solid left hook in the fourth round, last May 24.

* * *

Wednesday night in the Garden, Foster will make the first defense of that title. De Paula, beaten by Tiger in his last fight, Oct. 25, will be the challenger.

On the surface, this might seem to be an odd set of circumstances for a world championship fight. De Paula is not ranked by Ring Magazine and is No. 6 in the World Boxing Association ratings.

ROUSING STRUGGLE

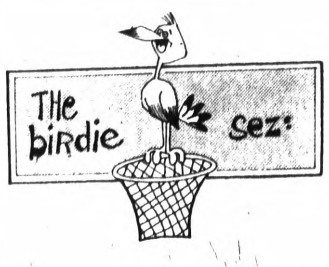

But the appeal of De Paula's rousing four-knockdown struggle with Tiger and the ticket-buying support of his army of fans from Jersey City have combined to make this first Garden fight of the year a boom at the box office.

* * *

Harry Markson, managing director of boxing at the Garden, cautiously predicts a crowd of between 14,000 and 15,000 fans and a gate of about $150,000.

* * *

De Paula, a crude slugger with a big right hand punch, is a 3-1 underdog against the champ, whose 6-foot-3½ inches and 79-inch reach give him a wide physical edge over the 5-8½ challenger with 70-inch reach.

The Birdie, sent a new supply of bird seed, is getting a few of his feathers back.

He did miss the expected upset of Pontiac Catholic and the surprising performance of Clarkston last Friday night, but with a record of 53-14 for the season he is planning on a hearty Blue Plate Special tonight, (after missing 3 on PCH this year).

Tonight's Birdie picks:

Pontiac Northern over Northwestern
Southfield over Berkley
Kimball over Warren Mott
BLUE PLATE SPECIAL
PCH over Saginaw

After watching Foster flatten Tiger last May, De Paula went out and evened an old score with Fred Williams, who had beaten him in 10 rounds at Sunnyside Gardens. In their Garden match, a scheduled eight-rounder that went on after the Foster-Tiger bout, De Paula stopped Williams in the fifth round.

PLANNING FOR 15

"Foster is a shuffler," said De Paula at his Grossinger, N.Y., camp. "I hope to upset his timing by bobbing and weaving. I'm training to go 15 rounds but I figure sometime I'll get him pretty good."

If the bout goes the 15-round distance, it will be a surprise. De Paula has never gone over 10 rounds and has fought only two 10-rounders. Foster has stopped 27 foes while piling up a 33-4 record.

* * *

When they signed their contracts for this fight, Teddy Brenner, the Garden matchmaker, said, "My biggest problem is which fight to put on after the main event. I'm pretty certain it won't go 15."

Brenner solved the problem by deciding to put on Irish Pat Murphy of West New York, N.J., against Juan Ramos of New York in the six-rounder after the title fight. Murphy, unbeaten in 18 pro starts, has a budding Jersey fan club to compare with De Paula's gang.

Hall of Fame Awaits Stan Musial

Mr. Basketball Resigns as Boston College Coach

NEWTON, Mass. (AP) — Bob Cousy, who earned the title Mr. Basketball as an All-American at Holy Cross and during 13 fabulous years as a pro with the Boston Celtics, is abandoning the sport after six successful seasons as coach at Boston College.

Cousy, who shocked opponents with his clutch play as a 6-foot-2 sharp-shooter in college and the National Basketball Association, stunned observers Monday by announcing his resignation as Boston College coach, effective at the end of the season.

* * *

Only 40 and still capable of shooting baskets from all angles, Cousy said he is leaving BC to devote more time to his boys' camp in New Hampshire and to his various business enterprises, most in public relations work.

Cousy, a master of the behind-the-back dribble and other thrilling phases of ballhandling, was named BC coach in 1962. However, at the request of the late Walter Brown, owner of the Celtics, he put off taking over the Eagles to play one more season for the National Basketball Association champions.

OUT OF HAT

Ironically, the same Celtics passed up Cousy, electing to draft badly needed size, after his graduation from Holy Cross in 1950. Chosen by the St. Louis Hawks and traded to Chicago, Brown drew his name from a hat when the Stags folded in the Windy City.

In six years at BC, Cousy's teams have compiled a record of 101 victories and 37 defeats, including an 8-3 mark this season. His teams have gone to four postseason tournaments the last five years.

Cousy's career appeared in jeopardy only once. In September 1965, a national magazine linked him with an alleged gambler Cousy, became friendly with after a meeting at the boys' camp.

At a tear-filled news conference, Cousy denied any wrong-doing, but admitted he "probably was guilty of indiscretion" in his friendship with the man.

The college quickly backed Cousy, along with thousands of fans and friends.

Balloting Result Expected Today; Wertz Eligible

NEW YORK (AP) — The doors of Baseball's Hall of Fame swung open today for Stan Musial, who stood ready to enter amidst a welcome afforded only a handful of other baseball greats who preceded him.

Stan the Man left little doubt of his selection on this first year of his eligibility for the Hall after rewriting the record books during 22 brilliant years in the major leagues with the St. Louis Cardinals.

* * *

The results of the balloting by veteran members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America were to be announced today. A player must be named on 75 per cent of the ballots to be elected.

Since the first election in 1936, when former greats Ty Cobb, Babe Ruth, Honus Wagner, Christy Mathewson and Walter Johnson made it, only Ted Williams in 1966 and Bob Feller and Jackie Robinson in 1962 were chosen on their first try.

NOT UNANIMOUS

However, despite his amazing hitting feats, it was doubtful that Musial would become a unanimous selection among the more than 450 writers voting. No player has ever been given that honor.

Joining Musial among those eligible for the first time—a player must be retired for five years to be eligible—were Red Schoendienst, Musial's close friend and former teammate who now manages the Cardinals, and Early Wynn, Gil Hodges and former Tiger Vic Wertz.

* * *

Actually, 24 former players became eligible this year, but the BBWAA screening committee deemed only those five worthy of being included in this year's vote.

The five joined 45 other former stars who were on last year's ballot. Of those, Roy Campanella, who missed by eight votes last year, was given the best chance for election.

MISSED BY FOUR

Cobb came the closest to being a unanimous choice, getting 222 of 226 possible votes in that first election when there was no five-year rule. That same year, 11 writers failed to vote for Ruth. Wagner also missed by 11, Mathewson by 21 and Johnson by 37.

* * *

Musial, who retired at the age of 42, set or shared 64 National League or major league records while compiling a career batting average of .331. He won seven batting titles, was named the league's Most Valuable Player three times and set the league mark for most hits during his career.

Aothough he called himself a singles hitter, he managed to slam more than 450 home runs and was considered a good outfielder before moving to first base late in his career. He also set the league endurance mark by playing in 895 consecutive games.

Hull Among Nominees for Ice Hockey Honor

NEW YORK (AP) — Eddie Shore, a Hall of Fame defenseman; Bobby Hull, superstar forward of the Chicago Black Hawks, and Al Leader, longtime president of the Western Hockey League, have been nominated for the 1969 Lester Patrick Trophy, it was announced Monday. The Trophy is awarded for outstanding service to hockey in the United States.

Previous winners include Jack Adams, long-time general manager and coach of the Detroit Red Wings; Gordie Howe of Detroit, the league's career goal-scoring leader, and Tom Lockhart, president of both the Amateur Hockey Association of the United States and the Eastern Hockey League.
