

President Proposes Many-Sided Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson has told Congress and the nation he wants a big new education program, a substantial cut in excise taxes, increased attacks on poverty and disease and another round of civil rights legislation.

But even as Johnson called last night in his State of the Union message for increased attention to problems at home, he opened the door to face-to-face talks with the new leaders of the Soviet Union by suggesting they visit the United States.

He said he wants to make visits of his own this year to Europe and Latin America.

Johnson's 4,000-word message, read personally at an unusual evening session of Congress, was broadcast by radio and television networks.

ber, at least, it was well-received. The President was interrupted 57 times by applause.

much of it from the Democratic side of the aisle. There was one burst of approving laughter and one shout of "Atta boy!"

Few problems, foreign or domestic, were omitted from the chief executive's 47-minute address, which prompted Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen to call it "a glowing blueprint for paradise."

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield termed Johnson's goals attainable. House Speaker John W. McCormack labeled it "truly a great message" and the new House Republican leader, Rep. Gerald

R. Ford, said there could be little argument over the goals—just over how to achieve them.

On the home front, Johnson mixed new proposals with re-treads. For example, he wants:

• $1.5 billion this year for a new aid-to-education program that would help low income school districts, provide books for students at both public and (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Rusk to Hear Viet Questions From Senators

Foreign Relations Committee to Quiz Secretary of State

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk faces sharp Senate questioning today on U.S. policy in South Viet Nam.

In his first briefing of the new congressional session, Rusk goes before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The closed meeting was arranged primarily for a report on problems of the Congo and the Soviet Union's refusal to pay its U.N. peace-keeping assessments.

Committee members said in advance, however, they would explore the situation in South Viet Nam on the basis of President Johnson's assertion in his State of the Union message the United States will not break its 10-year-old pledge to help that country "against Communist aggression."

Johnson declared that U.S. security is tied to peace in Asia and peace will come to South Viet Nam "only when aggressors leave their neighbors in peace."

CRITIC SPEAKS
Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., a member of the committee and a leading critic of Southeast Asia policy, said Johnson's statements did not "camouflage successfully the illegality under international law of unjustified American unilateral military action in South Viet Nam."

"The country must now look to an aroused public opinion to stop the killing of American boys," he said in an interview.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, another member, said the United States must overcome "the tendency of overintervention in the internal affairs of both South Viet Nam and the Congo."

In Saigon, the U.S. Embassy declared today that plans to extend the war against the Viet Cong have been interrupted by the military purge Dec. 20 of the high National Council.

UP AND OVER — Frank V. Bridge, Pontiac's general sales manager, has ample reason to smile. His division, selling in third place for the fifth consecutive year, has just topped the 690,000 sales mark for a calendar year, thus breaking the previous record high for a 12-month period of 617,506 set in 1963.

Baby Contest Winner Listed

It's official! Sherry Ann Mitchell, born 19 minutes after the stroke of midnight New Year's morning has won Pontiac's First Baby Contest hands down.

Sherry and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert A. Mitchell of 78 S. Merrimac, will receive the numerous prizes offered by Pontiac area businessmen.

Arrangements are already under way for delivery of these prizes, according to Max Adams, manager of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

There were no other entries submitted to the chamber before the deadline yesterday at 5 p.m. Apparently no one came close to beating Sherry Ann, who was born at Pontiac General Hospital.

Dr. Raymond L. Mayor, attending physician, filed the necessary papers with the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce well ahead of the closing date of the contest to make it official.

Pontiac Sales Set New Record in '64

Sale of Pontiacs in the 1964 calendar year set an all-time record, it was announced today by E. M. Estes, general manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

A total of 693,673 cars were sold during the 12-month period, an increase of 12 per cent over the 1963 total of 617,506.

December sales also set a new record for the month. Estes said 75,425 Pontiacs and Tempests were sold in December, an increase of 32 per cent over the previous record set in the same month a year ago.

Sales in the last 10 days totaled 26,084, also a new record and an increase of 57 per cent over the same period in 1963, Estes said.

"Our dealers did an outstanding selling job during the year," Estes said.

"Even more surprising is the fact that they set this sales record in an 11-month year." (Pontiac plants were shut for 32 days during a nationwide strike against General Motors). Estes also pointed out that Pontiac's market penetration rose from 8 per cent to a record high of 8.6 per cent.

In addition, he listed the following sales and production achievements:

• In December, 78,179 cars were assembled. This is an all-time high for any month in Pontiac's history. The previous monthly production record was 77,273 set in April, 1964.

• Tempest sales last year showed a 71 per cent gain, the biggest increase of any car in the industry. A total of 243,908 Tempests were sold.

• During 1964 Pontiac set nine monthly all-time records and 25 of the 10-day reporting periods were records.

"In order to supply our dealers and our customers, we currently are producing cars at a record rate," Estes said. "The first quarter should be our best ever."

ONE YARDSTICK

He added that one yardstick for measuring strength in the market place is by the number of unfilled customer orders. "Orders for Pontiacs and Tempests are currently more than double those of the corresponding period a year ago," Estes said.

Clouds will keep the sun well-covered through Thursday, says the weatherman.

Temperatures will drop late this afternoon and evening. A low of 18 to 25 is forecast for tonight. Tomorrow also will be on the cool side with a high of 25 to 35 expected. Slightly warmer weather will be here Thursday.

This morning's low mercury reading was 27. At 2 p.m. the thermometer recorded 37 in downtown Pontiac.

5 Top AMC Execs Receive Pay Cuts

DETROIT (AP)—While the pay for most hourly rated workers at American Motors Corp. went up last year, the pay of the firm's top officers was cut.

A proxy statement sent to AMC stockholders also indicated that six of the company's 16 directors sold some of their AMC stock during the year ended last Sept. 30.

AMC was the only major U.S. automaker whose sales and profits declined during 1964.

Roy Abernethy, president, received salary and bonuses totaling $155,703 during the fiscal year, compared with the $215,405 he got in the previous year.

Executive vice presidents Roy D. Chapin Jr. and Bernard A. Chapman received $95,010 each, representing a cut of $38,147 apiece.

Vice president Edward L. Cushman's compensation dropped $33,639, down to $83,323. And the pay of chairman Richard E. Cross fell to $66,842 last year, a loss of $32,576.

NET LOSS
In addition, a comparison of the number of shares each director owned on Dec. 1, 1964, with the number owned a year earlier showed a net loss of 12,137 shares among six of the directors.

Abernethy apparently sold 3,515 shares, retaining 26,420. Other totals were: Chapin 3,515 and 26,420; Cushman 1,500 and 13,912.

AMC sales for the fiscal year dropped to $1,009 billion from the $1,132 reported in the earlier year, and net profits were reported at $26.2 million, down from $37.8 in fiscal 1963.

Firm to Build at City Airport

Plans to construct a $100,000 headquarters building at Pontiac Municipal Airport were announced today by Detroit Aircraft Supply, Inc., a wholesale distributor of aviation products and instrument overhaul firm.

Gino L. Cantele, president of the company, said that construction of the one-story, 6,400-square-foot building will begin in about six weeks with completion slated for May 1.

Discussing plans for the new facility in the office of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, Cantele said that his firm acquired the building site at Airport and Dwight after a survey indicated that the Pontiac area offered the greatest growth potential of several communities studied.

Detroit Aircraft Supply, Inc., presently located in Detroit, is owned by Steve Stranahan of Toledo, a member of the family which owns the Champion Spark Plug Company.

Cantele said that the proposed building will house the most modern instrument overhaul facility in the country. Presently it has 15 employees but 25 are anticipated following the move to the Pontiac area.

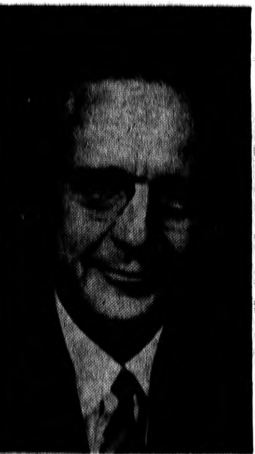

The firm, which does business in a 40-state area, is wholesale distributor for various aviation products ranging from nuts and bolts to $3,000 radios, Cantele said.

4 Pct. Savings Now at Community Bank

A. C. Girard, president and chairman of the board of Community National Bank, announced today on behalf of the Board of Directors, that the bank will pay 4 per cent on all savings accounts effective Jan. 1.

"This will mean an additional $650,000 in income to the depositors of Community," said Girard.

The bank also reported 1964 earnings of $1,248,000 or $3.44 a share. Resources at yearend were in excess of $150 million.

ROBERT M. CRITCHFIELD

Suggests Wide Track Traffic Changes

In a statement to The Press, Robert M. Critchfield raises some important points in connection with traffic on Wide Track Drive. The former general manager of Pontiac Motor

Division grants the truth of the confusion at the southerly section and then calls attention to other problems:

"I read with considerable interest the story regarding the confusing situations at the Wide Track and Orchard Lake Avenue and Auburn intersections. I can't think of any good reason why southbound traffic on Saginaw can't be permitted beyond Orchard Lake Avenue.

"Also an island or center strip could be provided in Auburn east of Wide Track so that east-bound traffic on Auburn wishing to go north on Wide Track could make a U turn around the center strip and then turn north on Wide Track.

"I have a couple of suggestions concerning the intersection of Wide Track with Oakland. Why wasn't a converging lane provided off Oakland into Wide Track so that southbound traffic wishing to turn west onto Wide Track could do so without waiting for the traffic light there? Presently in addition to this unnecessary delay, traffic is further slowed by the requirement of making about a 120 degree turn. With the present arrangement there is a traffic slow-up there almost any time of the day. Converging lanes of the type I am suggesting are already provided for Wide Track traffic flow into north-bound Oakland and into west-bound Huron.

"Another suggestion: Rather than provide 4 lane southbound in the short stretch from Wide Track to Saginaw on Oakland (the traffic has to reduce to two lanes again at Saginaw) why not provide for angle parking on the east side of Oakland for this distance? This would provide free parking for the merchants in this area and increase the parking available for the church there."

Dates Unknown for LBJ Trips

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson is going to Europe and Latin America later in the year and is hoping for a visit from Russia's leaders—but the White House had nothing to say today on where and when.

Press Secretary George Reedy declined to offer any guidance on whether the President might go to Europe or Latin America in the spring, summer or fall, or which visit would come first.

And he said there has been no response from Moscow to Johnson's State of the Union speech last night which rolled out a welcome mat to Soviet leaders if they would like to see America at first hand.

As for channels through which any formal invitation would be extended to the Russians—or whether there actually would be a formal invitation, Reedy had no clarification for the time being.

He was asked about reports that the U.S. ambassador to Russia might carry an invitation back to Moscow or that an invitation might be extended through the Soviet ambassador here.

For the time being, Reedy said, "I think I will let the method take care of itself. I think the method of delivery is not important."

REMAINS SILENT

Reedy was silent, too, on what extent if any, the President had been in touch with the Soviet ambassador or other Russians in advance of last night's speech.

The Soviet Embassy was informed of Johnson's statement to the Congress and by radio and television to the country a few hours in advance of its delivery.

Drop Plan for Reserve Site Here

Plans for construction of a $500,000 Army Reserve training facility at the Oakland County Service Center have been scrapped as a result of federal defense cutbacks.

Daniel T. Murphy, chairman of the County Board of Auditors, was notified yesterday by Sixth Corps Headquarters in Battle Creek that negotiations for a construction site would be discontinued.

Ralph Manning, civilian engineering representative of Sixth Corps, told Murphy that he was acting on orders from Fifth Army Headquarters in Chicago.

Sixth Corps is the administrative headquarters of Pontiac's two reserve units.

A long-term lease on 3.75 acres at the northwest corner of Telegraph and Pontiac Lake roads had been given formal approval by the county buildings and grounds committee.

Cancellation of the Pontiac project and several others planned in Michigan is the result of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's plan to disband the nation's Army Reserve units.

'Great Society' Hopes High

Heavily Democratic Congress Optimistic

WASHINGTON (AP)—The lopsidedly Democratic Congress embarked with high optimism today on the legislative journey that President Johnson called "the beginning of the road to the Great Society."

Shortly before a joint session received Johnson's State of the Union message, the House eased the path of the President by changing a rule which has prevented many a Democratic measure from getting to a vote.

Henceforth, the rules committee hold a bill only 21 days; then the Speaker may decide whether it is to be brought to a vote.

Rich in prose but barren of details, the presidential message presented a series of preambles, not detailed programs.

The President's specific new proposals for a nation that is "free, restless, growing and full of hope," Johnson said, will be spelled out in special messages over the next six weeks.

The House and Senate Democratic leaders, who bear responsibility for seeing the program through, liked it.

CAN UNDERSTAND

"Attainable goals... which all Americans can understand and appreciate," said Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana. "I predict the achievements... will be monumental," said Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma, the House Democratic leader.

Key committee chairmen were brimming with optimism. "I think we're of a mind to give him anything he wants," said Rep. William L. ment operations committee will handle housing and urban problems.

Most Republicans took the line, however, that the message was a series of something-for-everybody promises which cannot be financed without deficits.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., condemned it as a "frightening package of generalities and omissions" and an attempt to achieve "a mythological Socialist Utopia."

Canadian Leader, LBJ Will Confer Jan. 15

WASHINGTON (AP)—Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson of Canada will visit President Johnson Jan. 15, the White House announced today.

Press Secretary George E. Reedy described it as an informal visit and discussion. Pearson has been vacationing in Florida and will stop off on his way home, Reedy said.

More Paratroops to Malaysia

SINGAPORE (AP) — Fifty more paratroopers arrived from England today as part of a British buildup to help Malaysia meet Indonesia's threat to smash the federation.

Britain has flown in 100 paratroopers, and the remaining 400 men from the crack 2nd Parachute Battalion are due by Thursday. Another 500 men of a Gurkha battalion are coming by ship from Hong Kong, raising the total of British and other Commonwealth troops in Malaysia to more than 7,000.

Reports said Malaysia also has asked for more helicopters from Britain to speed the movement of troops in jungle warfare against Indonesian guerrillas. The request is expected to be discussed when Britain's new chief of the general staff, Gen. Sir James Cassels, arrives Jan. 14 to survey the situation.

HOT PURSUIT

The Malaysian government announced Monday it would retaliate "under the rule of hot pursuit" should Indonesia attack in force. Indonesia's announcement that it was withdrawing from the United Nations came after intelligence reports that Indonesia is massing forces at bases surrounding Malaysia.

At the United Nations, Indonesia's chief U.N. delegate, L. N. Palar, said he would close the Indonesian mission this week and go home "to talk things out."

Some sources expressed belief that Palar hoped to persuade President Sukarno not to make the withdrawal final.

In an interview Monday with a New York Times reporter, Palar said Malaysia was a "manifestation of British neo-colonialism" and that its election to the U.N. Security Council, the "highest security body in the world, an organization to guarantee the security of the new countries," was intolerable. Palar said Malaysia was dominated by Britain and that Indonesia's declared intention of "crushing" Malaysia was aimed not at Malaysia "whose people are our kin," but at destroying what he termed British colonial power center in Southeast Asia.

In Jakarta, the Indonesian Herald said the withdrawal decision "is irrevocable." The newspaper usually reflects the viewpoint of the Foreign Ministry.

An Indonesian Foreign Office spokesman shrugged off reports of the British military buildup and said: "This is not the first time that they are doing it."

Predict Indonesia
Would Fail in Attack

WASHINGTON (AP) — Any massive "confrontation" by Indonesia against the Malaysian federation probably would fail badly, experts here believe.

This, they say, is because the Indonesians — although they have large forces — lack the resources and know-how to support such a major attack.

The estimate is that the present guerrilla-type infiltration by Indonesians will continue, with perhaps an increase in the tempo and number of harassing penetrations.

Malaysia has scant military strength herself, but her shield is Britain, aided by Australia and New Zealand.

BRITISH ALARMED

The British, alarmed by the menacing actions and attitudes of Indonesian President Sukarno, have moved to strengthen their land, sea and possibly air forces in the Malaysian area.

The 16-month-old Malaysian federation — which Sukarno has promised to crush — has about 18,000-20,000 men in its regular forces.

For the most part, these Malaysian troops are infantry. They are rated well-trained in jungle warfare.

Bolstering the regulars are about twice as many men in the paramilitary forces. These chiefly are police whose mission is preserving internal security.

MALAYSIA FLEET

The Malaysian Navy is a collection of patrol craft, motor gunboats, minesweepers and other small vessels. The federation has virtually no combat air force.

The British and other Commonwealth forces available for Malaysia's defense number about 40,000 men. With reinforcements coming from Britain, the total is rising.

A British carrier is in the area and another is reported due to join the British Far East fleet, which uses Singapore for a main base.

All told, Britain maintains some 80 naval ships in Southeast Asian waters. These include fast destroyer types which would be death to any invading amphibious fleet of the sort Indonesia could mount.

AIR POWER

British air power in the Malaysian area includes at least four squadrons of medium and light bombers and jet fighters capable of dealing with Indonesia's Russian-built MIGs and aging bombers.

The United States has preferred to leave to the British the responsibility for guarding Malaysia. However, if the need should arise, the mighty U.S. 7th Fleet is within calling distance.

With Soviet help, Indonesia's armed forces have been built up to an extent far outdistancing any other Southeast Asian power.

By conservative estimate, Indonesia has about 250,000 men under arms. For the most part, her army is organized at battalion level. It is deployed throughout the main Indonesian islands.

INDONESIA FORCE

Her air force has an assortment of 100 or so MIGs, including a small number of the more modern MIG21s. Her bombers are mainly jet-powered IL28s, obsolescent medium bombers of the kind the Soviet Union sent into Cuba in 1962 and was forced to remove.

The Indonesian Navy is the pride of the nation. It is led by a heavy cruiser given by the Soviet Union and features some 20 or more submarines.

Significantly, the Indonesians are reported to have only a half dozen landing craft — the kind they would have to have to put ashore any reasonable force on the Malay Peninsula.

The average salary of teachers this year is $5,963 compared with $3,605 ten years ago, according to a National Education Association report.

Avondale School Chief's Contract Disputed

By ALLAN S. COLES

Avondale Schools Supt. George E. Shackelford was given notice last night that the one-year contract extension given him just one month ago may be challenged.

Board Secretary Thomas Galloway, the only dissenter in an official 6-1 vote favoring the extension, through June 1965 told the board last night he would move to rescind the extension.

Galloway said he would make the motion at the board's next meeting, Jan. 18, but first wants to obtain an opinion from the attorney general on the legality of such an action.

The lengthy, two-part discussion of the contract arose when the board reached an item on the agenda calling for the "formalizing" of the board's Dec. 7 action on the contract.

A series of questions from former Board Trustee David W. Hackett, now on the board of trustees of the Oakland County Community College, brought out that Galloway recently said he would not sign Shackelford's contract.

WOULD NOT SIGN

Shackelford told Hackett he asked Galloway to read the contract over, and that Galloway said he would do so, but would not sign it.

Galloway later zeroed in on the 6-1 vote that gave Shackelford the extension with a raise, saying that executive session discussion prior to the vote had indicated there would be four votes against the extension and only three for it.

He pointed out that some board members changed their voting intentions between the executive session and the official vote.

Board President George G. Granger was asked by Galloway to explain the switch, but declined to answer for other board members.

SILENT AGREEMENT

Galloway said this morning that he was trying to bring out the fact that some board members had entered into a "gentlemen's agreement" that gave Shackelford the extension only on the basis that he was expected to resign within a year.

He said that Ray A. Isanhart, Herbert J. Miller and Edward Turner agreed that "the community would suffer by not giving the superintendent his contract."

Galloway said that Granger was to advise Shackelford after the Dec. 7 meeting that the extension granted was the last he could expect.

According to Galloway, a letter to this effect was also to be furnished Shackelford.

NOT ASKED

After last night's meeting, the superintendent said he was not asked to move for rescinding the extension action, other board members agreed by consensus that an opinion from the attorney general should be sought before the Jan. 18 meeting.

Galloway said he was planning the action because "the superintendent does not have the proper qualifications for leadership."

GET BEST

"We need a man who can get the best qualities out of teachers," he said. "He (Shackelford) doesn't do that."

Galloway himself came under fire from another former board member, Floyd L. Cobb Jr.

Cobb and Mrs. Genevieve Porter are presently suing the board for taking their names off the June school election ballot because of a nominating petition discrepancy.

Both lost their seats, to Turner and Miller, as write-in candidates.

QUOTED LAWS

Cobb quoted state school laws at length concerning the duties of board members in general and the board secretary specifically.

He asked the board to determine if a conflict of interest was involved in the fact that Galloway's wife is a teacher under contract and is president of the Avondale Education Association.

Galloway pointed out that in a conversation with Granger, he had indicated a willingness to abstain from any action which concerned his wife in any way.

No action was taken as a result of Cobb's request.

jected in the final phase of his training. Alan's dog, Bobby, will go into his crucial training program this month and Sue's dog, Smoky, is slated for intensive training in April.

Raising Dogs for the Blind Happy Experience for Family

By JOE MULLEN

INDEPENDENCE TOWN-SHIP — Raising Labrador retrievers as prospective leader dogs for the blind has been a satisfying experience for the Alvin Caverly family, 5800 Waldon.

The Caverlys are one of several Oakland County families, who through their association with 4-H, became interested in housing pups for a year and then turning them over to Leader Dogs for the Blind Inc. near Rochester.

"We take the pups and raise them because we know people need these dogs," Mrs. Caverly said.

The family received its first Labrador pup three years ago when daughter Kerry Lynn, then 11, was active in 4-H activities. Since then the family has raised three other dogs.

During the all-important first year of the prospective leader dog's life, he is carefully fed and given obedience training.

DOG RETURNED

Then the dog is returned to the leader dog school for an intensive final training program.

Fewer than half of the pups make the grade as leader dogs. Any one of many factors, such as meanness or shyness, can result in a wash-out.

Persons who raised a dog, later rejected as a leader dog, have the option of taking him back as a pet.

The Caverlys presently have a rejected dog in the house. One of their animals was accepted and another goes into his leader dog training next month.

STOLEN DOG

Caly, the family's fourth dog, was stolen in mid-November, Mrs. Caverly said. The dog was found dead three days later near I-75, north of the Caverly house.

He would have been eligible for training at the school this month also.

Caring for the leader dog pups can be costly but the satisfaction derived makes it all worthwhile, Mrs. Caverly said.

All puppies have a tendency to chew anything within reach from a shoe to a piece of furniture. "Damage can be costly," she explained.

The Caverlys love for animals extends beyond their leader dog boarders. The family also has two smaller dogs, two cats, five kittens, rabbits and chickens.

The assorted animals get along remarkably well with one another, according to Mrs. Caverly.

The Ann Arbor Dramatic Arts Center ONCE ensemble, young composers and performers, will present two shows during the festival beginning at 8 p.m. Jan. 14 and 15.

Panama Perils Cited in Book

Authority on Latins Tells of Red Inroads

By CORENNA ALDRICH

The "Danger Over Panama" of which Jules Dubois writes is one which should alarm and alert every American, because it portends even greater threats to our way of life in years to come.

Coming as a surprise to many that U.S.-Panama rela-

Danger Over Panama

by Jules Dubois

tions were shaky, the "flag war" of January 1964 pinpointed far more serious implications — that of extensive Communist inroads in Latin America.

It is Dubois' opinion that, though partially fired and certainly exploited by Communist subversives, the flag incidents cannot be dismissed from United States conscience. Built on poor foundations and often perpetuated in error, relations with Panama will require concessions on both sides to correct misunderstandings and inequities which feed Communist anti-American propaganda.

While outlining concessions we must make, Dubois states clearly there are others we must not make. He warns that we face national and international suicide unless our paramount objective is to insure military security of the Panama Canal.

As in all Dubois' books, he gives a definitive history of his subject. Readers with no prior knowledge of the Panamanian situation can grasp its significance and see the vital importance of responsible resolution of the problem.

For those of us who sometimes dismiss such things as "just another mob demonstration," he startles us with frightening evidence that this is another of the straws which, if ignored, could break the free world's back.

Coming from a man who for years has been considered a major authority on Latin America, "Danger Over Panama" is a book that warrants attentive consideration.

Chairman Henry Outlines Plans

FCC Seems Due for More Controversy

WASHINGTON (AP) — If the Federal Communications Commission tackles all the problems foreseen by its chairman in 1965, another year of controversy is in store for the usually embattled agency.

At the top of the agenda, Chairman E. William Henry said in an interview, are such delicate problems as these:

— Should the government exercise some control over the broadcasting networks?

— "EQUAL TIME"

— Should the FCC push for congressional repeal of Section 315 — the "equal time" legislation that so often spices up political campaigns?

— Should the FCC move to curb what Henry feels is the excessive noise of radio and television commercials?

— Should the FCC regulate the booming community antenna television business, already a formidable competitor for many old-line, on-the-air stations?

Henry said he is preparing a major policy statement on the equal-time law.

NOT SURE

"Frankly, I'm not too sure what I'm going to say yet," he said when asked if he favors repeal of the law. "But you can be sure the industry is going to urge repeal of it, and I want to take a good hard look at it."

The law requires radio and television stations providing air time to political candidates to provide an equal opportunity for all other candidates for the same office.

Henry said he expects the FCC to propose rules later this month to govern the noise levels of broadcast commercials. This has been a pet peeve of Henry's for some time.

The commission also will explore the possibility of extending its control to the networks, which are not licensees of the commission as their member stations must be.

PRIME TIME

"One way we might get at this is to limit the amount of prime evening time controlled by the networks," Henry said. "We could do this by saying that no licensee shall affiliate with a network that controls more than a certain percentage of prime time broadcasting."

The purpose of the regulation, he explained, would be to open up competition for such time to independent programming sources and assure them part of the prime time market. The

FCC, Henry said, might take a similar approach to bar the networks from taking part in program syndication in the United States.

One of the toughest problems to face the commission in years, Henry feels, is the question of

BIG-CITY STATIONS

CATV systems pick up the programs of big-city stations, relay them via microwave signals to a single community antenna near an isolated community, then feed the programs into the homes of fee-paying subscribers by cable.

Under an interim policy that has been in effect while the FCC studies possible legislative proposals to fit CATV into the national television picture, CATV operators are required to protect local television stations by holding back for 15 days, on request, programs used by the local stations.

Elusive State Teen Gets Jail Sentence

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — A Michigan teen-ager who hid in a church organ loft for a week after escaping from a Fort Wayne Courtroom was sentenced Monday to two consecutive one-year penal terms.

James Lee Greene, 19, Allen Park, Mich., was handed 1-year sentences for both the escape and first degree burglary. Greene darted out of the courtroom last Jan. 13 while being arraigned on the burglary charge and eluded police by hiding in the church. He was captured about one month later in Chicago.

Vaudevillian Expires

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Julius Tannen, 84, a stand-up comedian in the days of vaudeville, died Sunday. Tannen was in show business 35 years and had appeared in Earl Carroll's Vanities and George White's Scandals.

The number of lawyers and judges in the nation increased from 176,063 to 205,515 between the 1950-60 censuses.

Doctors quit smoking

CHICAGO—According to a University of Chicago National Opinion Research Center survey, 52% of American doctors do not smoke. Many quit recently due, according to the Anti-Tobacco Center of America, to the conclusive evidence linking cigarettes and lung cancer.

Many doctors gave up smoking without use of will power thanks to a new tablet which helps to progressively eliminate the need for nicotine and, as a result, the desire to smoke. Thanks to this tablet, 88,648 heavy smokers have already stopped smoking.

Smokers interested in receiving information (free) about this new tablet are invited to contact directly the Anti-Tobacco Center of America, Dept. 740-C-1, 366 Fifth Avenue, New York 1, New York. It is sufficient to send your name and address. Just a postcard will do.

Painting Fortune Found on Ceiling of Arab Embassy

LONDON (AP) — The United Arab Republic's embassy in London has discovered a fortune in paintings by the 18th century Venetian artist Giovanni Tiepolo on its drawing room ceiling.

British experts value the paintings at $400,000 to $700,000. "The paintings have long been admired," said an embassy spokesman, "but it was not until recently that an expert was called in to look at them."

"It was then discovered that the paintings were by Tiepolo, and not directly on the ceiling, as we had always thought, but on canvas and framed."

The embassy, built about 1750, once was owned by the Marquesses of Bute.

'M' Scented Victory in Rose Bowl Contest

We hail the Victors of the West and the superb exhibition the University of Michigan football team gave in vanquishing its opponent, New Year's Day

A Wolverine squad that looked better with each game during the regular 1964 season came on with a rush to clobber Oregon State 34-7, after the West Coasters had taken an early one-touchdown lead.

Marking the 51st playing of the Rose Bowl classic — the original and pre-eminent spectacle among all the annual saucer events—it was the fourth appearance of a U. of M. team in it.

That, and the fact that the migrations of the Ann Arbor entry had all resulted in victories are a Rose Bowl record. And along with it, another record went into the book when Full-back MEL ANTHONY exploded for an 84-yard touchdown run — exceeding by three yards the previous longest. Incidentally, ANTHONY, awarded the game's Outstanding Player trophy, tied another Rose Bowl record with his three touchdowns.

The triumph of Coach Bump Elliott and his sterling band of athletes and the brilliant series of performances by the Maize and Blue marching band are something of which the university, its alumni and the citizenry of our state may well be proud.

Man Still Responsive to Natural Phenomena

Some significant scientific finds came to the surface during a week-long conclave in Montreal of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

One of the items of interest for laymen, of which there were many, is man's susceptibility to the external forces of nature. It was shown that his hopes are highest at noon, and that he is loneliest and most fearful at four o'clock in the morning.

"Modern man in his sheltered environment continues to be under the influence of cosmic forces as he was when he lived naked in direct contact with nature," was the summation of one authority.

Which gives scientific support, if it were needed, to what many intelligent people have long suspected—that an appreciable part of our daily activity is motivated more by emotion than pure reason.

One Natural Element Both Friend and Foe

One of man's oldest enemies — flood—has left at least 14 counties in Northern California, plus parts of Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Nevada, strewn with wreckage.

The Red Cross has estimated that more than 16,000 families in these five states suffered major property losses. There are dozens of known dead.

Extent of the disaster, by both human and financial measure cannot be minimized. Great as it was, however, it would have been far worse had it not been for that oldest of man's weapons against this enemy—the dam.

In Oregon, for example, an Army Corps of Engineers spokesman credited the Willamette Flood Control Project with saving Portland from a catastrophe that would have cost more than the price of all the dams in the State.

In California, the flooding that punished the Central Valley in 1955 was not repeated thanks to the Oroville Dam which, though only half completed, absorbed the force of the temperamental Feather and Yuba Rivers.

The survivors of 1964's flood may take some comfort from the fact that eventually all of Northern California will be floodproofed by dams. Ironically, it will not be the needs of the north but of heavily-populated and thirsty Southern California that will be chiefly responsible for this.

Water is simply becoming too precious a resource — not only in the West but all over the Country—to be allowed to run off into the sea, let alone be periodically squandered in devastating and costly floods.

Russia, France New U.N. Allies?

By HUBERT J. ERB

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—A Paris-Moscow lineup against the United States is one possibility in the continuing payments crisis at the United Nations.

France so far has been content to let the Soviet Union run interference in the controversy that has the world organization on the verge of bankruptcy.

But as of Jan. 1, France joined Russia in being two years in arrears in peace keeping payments. For the first time France, too, is under direct pressure from the U.S. stand on Article 19 of the U.N. Charter.

The United States insists that debtor nations two years in arrears pay up or be stripped of their General Assembly votes as provided for in Article 19.

There is speculation that one of the reasons the Russians have been firm is that they are waiting to see what they can gain from French reaction to direct U.S. pressure.

The government of French President Charles de Gaulle has given no hint what it will do—or accept—to resolve the dispute.

SHOWDOWN LINES UP
If everyone stands pat, Paris would be in line with Moscow for a showdown with Washington.

Some diplomatic observers say the French do not care what happens. Other informed sources indicate the French likely will go along with whatever is acceptable to the Russians and Americans. These sources add, however, that the French themselves believe it is still premature to decide what to do.

The impasse seemed close to solution before Christmas but another Soviet hitch killed a compromise African-Asian plan. A U.S. source said then that everybody but the Soviet bloc had accepted the plan, presumably including France.

The French are known to blame the U.S. stand on Article 19 for the assembly's no-voting plight in the recently recessed December session. They went along with the no-vote truce that allowed the assembly to meet without an immediate U.S.-Russian showdown, but only with strong objections.

POSITION OF PRINCIPLE

For their part, U.S. diplomats, from Chief Delegate Adlai E. Stevenson on down, have made it clear they regard the U.S. position as one of principle. As they tell it, the United States has bent over backward to effect a solution in keeping with the charter.

The Soviets want the assembly to rule out any mention of Article 19 in calling for voluntary contributions, and to proceed immediately on a normal basis, which includes voting.

David Lawrence Says:

Truth Hidden in Budget Figures

WASHINGTON — The American people are told by the President each January what the budget is going to be for the fiscal year that begins on July 1 and ends on June 30 of the next year, but rarely does the final figure of what is taken in or spent match up with the estimates.

LAWRENCE

In fact, the so-called budget has become such a conglomeration of expenditures and receipts authorized for future months, and there are so many obligations left over from previous years, that the only figures worth watching are what the federal government actually takes in and what it actually spends each year.

So the important figure isn't what presidents have set forth in January — or what Johnson will give in forthcoming messages to Congress. It's the figure that can be totaled up at the end of every fiscal year on June 30.

The outlook now, for instance, on what is called the "cash budget" is for the government to spend around $126 billion in the next fiscal year. Cash income may be around $120 billion.

But not included are the increased expenses expected for Social Security, which might make the total figure of expenditures $127 billion.

ALL INCLUSIVE
The cash budget includes all the money spent for Social Security as well as regular budget outlays.

For, though the citizen, through payroll taxes, contributes certain sums in each year, this isn't kept in reserve but is expended every year on the theory that the government can always borrow to pay Social Security benefits hereafter if there's not enough cash on hand.

Even if only the regular budget figures are considered, the estimates of net results given by a president in January have turned out to be over optimistic in five out of the last seven years, and it looks as if the score will soon be six out of eight.

Either the expenditures have been beyond the presidential estimates submitted to Congress or the tax receipts were below the estimates.

WELFARE OUTLAY

Except for national defense, the largest outlays are for "welfare," and these are spread over so many different kinds of items that the impact of the spending is not readily appraised, particularly since there is so much borrowing against future receipts.

If all the cash deficits in —

curred since 1950 are added up, the total comes to $50 billion. When this is offset by surpluses totalling around $15 billion, the net deficit on a cash basis for 16 years comes to about $35 billion.

This stupendous sum isn't often mentioned, as the government likes to refer to the "administrative" rather than the cash budget because the former is much more easily manipulated and cannot be as readily understood by the people.

Each year is looked at separately as a unit, and nobody seems concerned about what the long-range future will bring.

The story given out is that deficits are healthful and stimulating. But the history of nations shows that this fallacy is ultimately disproved.

Bob Considine Says:

There's Money for Suites, but None for War Heroes

NEW YORK — By grueling coincidence, the same day's newspapers carried these separate items from Washington:

The $122 million Sam Rayburn House Office Building was opening; and no funds are available to have Congressional Medal of Honor winners as guests at President Johnson's inauguration.

The heroes were guests in 1953, 1957 and 1961.

Not enough housing to take care of those fellows who performed certain feats of valor over and beyond the call of duty, explains Col. Waldron Leonard, chairman of the inaugural committee's veterans participation subcommittee, not to be confused with the inaugural subcommittee on the standardization of nuts, screws and bolts in Afro-Asian nations.

The same day's newspapers noted that among the facilities of the new House Office Building is a wing of soundproof suites in which the lawmakers will take naps, presumably to restore the strength needed to vote for the new post office in their congressional district.

But, of course, we wouldn't want Medal of Honor people sleeping there for a couple of nights, would we?

Thirty thousand Americans will lose their sight during 1965.

One million are unable to read newspaper type even with the aid of glasses.

Three and a half million have some permanent noncorrectable defect.

More than 90 million have some ocular malfunction.

Care of the blind costs the nation about $1 billion a year.

But last year we spent only $14 million in the general field of blindness prevention.

Our Presidents Work for History

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Presidents, having no higher station to reach for, work for the history books.

Though history is the final arbiter of presidential success or failure, one historian — Samuel P. Hays of the University of Pittsburgh — argues that history's verdicts too often are founded on narrow and shallow ground.

In a paper presented here to a panel of the American Historical Association, Hays says our presidents need to be viewed in a far larger context of time and social depth than is now generally the case.

As have other historians, Hays finds something markedly artificial in cutting political history up into the four-year segments representing presidential terms.

Many attitudes, trends and developments overlap two or more such terms. The truth is not served when credit or blame is assigned to a particular president on the basis of events in his term which actually have a prior history.

For instance, some appraisers gave lavish acclaim to the late President Kennedy for the important achievements in manned space flight which occurred in his brief tenure. Yet the foundation for these

Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, says the struggle for Negro rights is one that "anyone who believes in humanity can join" and he "wouldn't doubt that some Communists had gotten into the civil rights movement."

But Wilkins told a news conference in New York yesterday that Communists years ago "tried every gimmick with Negroes in this country."

"They don't constitute a menace to us," he said.

Wilkins talked to newsmen during a lull at the NAACP's annual convention.

Sir Patrick Dean, once Britain's chief representative at the United Nations, has been appointed Ambassador to the United States.

Dean will succeed Lord Harlech in Washington, the Foreign Office announced yesterday.

President Chung Hee Park of South Korea is expected to visit the United States sometime in the spring, says a Korean government source.

Timing of the visit hasn't been set, the source said. Park last visited Washington in 1961.

Prince William, ninth in line of succession to the British throne, has gone to work for a bank in London.

The 23-year-old prince began a 9-to-5 job yesterday as a trainee at Lazard's, an investment bank. The bank didn't say how much it is paying him.

He had hoped to enter Britain's Commonwealth Relations Office, but he failed the civil service examination.

Actress Tuesday Weld is in Hollywood's Cedars of Lebanon Hospital for treatment of an upper respiratory infection and a minor eye infection.

The 21-year-old actress entered the hospital Friday. Her physician, Dr. Edward Abloh, said Miss Weld was accidentally hit in an eye by a cigarette last week.

—London Daily Mirror, October 26, 1964

...and now
let's talk about some other Ford surprises...

Test-drive a Ford—and you're in for some surprises. Leading acoustical consultants conducted tests in which 1965 Fords (Galaxie 500 Sedan, XL and LTD Hardtops) with 289-cu. in. V-8 engines rode quieter than a Rolls-Royce. These tests were certified by the U. S. Auto Club.

When you feel a 1965 Ford in action—with the strongest Ford body ever . . . a revolutionary new frame that "tunes out" vibration . . . new ultra-soft coil spring suspension—you're bound to be impressed. But the ride is only one of Ford's surprises . . .

■ New swept-back instrument panel adds five inches extra knee room. ■ Transmission tunnel is lower for extra foot room. ■ Trunk has more usable space than ever—holds four 2-suiters standing upright.

■ Handy new "reversible" ignition key—works either side up. ■ Hot, but hushed, 289-cu. in. V-8 is standard equipment in XL and LTD models. ■ Smooth, thrifty all-new Big Six in other models—the most powerful standard Six offered by any car in Ford's class. ■ V-8 options to 425 hp.

■ All Ford automatic transmissions have three speeds, not two as in some competing cars. Result: you pass faster, shift smoother, save on gas. ■ Fully synchronized manual transmissions—you can even shift down to first without clashing gears. ■ New Ford LTD 4-door hardtops have 10 courtesy lights, 5 ash trays. Upholstery treated to keep its beauty with Scotchgard® stain repellent. ■ Luxuries you'd expect only in the highest priced cars.

Text of Johnson's State of Union Message

WASHINGTON (AP) — Following is the text of President Johnson's State of the Union message:

We are entering the third century of the pursuit of American union.

Two hundred years ago, in 1765, nine assembled colonies first joined together to demand freedom from arbitrary power.

For the first century we struggled to hold together the first continental union of democracy in the history of man. One hundred years ago, in 1865, following a terrible test of blood and fire, the compact of union was finally sealed.

SECOND CENTURY

For a second century we labored to establish a unity of purpose and interest among the many groups which make up the American community.

That struggle has often brought pain and violence. It is not yet over. But we have achieved a unity of interest among our people unmatched in the history of freedom.

And now, in 1965, we begin a new quest for union. We seek the unity of man with the world he has built — with the knowledge that can save or destroy him — with the cities which can stimulate or stifle him — with the wealth and machines which can enrich or menace his spirit.

SEEK HARMONY

We seek to establish a harmony between man and society which will allow each of us to enlarge the meaning of his life and all of us to elevate the quality of our civilization.

This is the search we begin tonight.

State of the World

But the unity we seek cannot realize its full promise in isolation. For today the state of the union depends, in large measure, upon the state of the world.

Our concern and interest, compassion and vigilance, extend to every corner of a dwindling planet.

Yet, it is not merely our concern but the concern of all free men. We will not, and should not, assume it is the task of Americans alone to settle all the conflicts of a torn and troubled world.

Let the foes of freedom take no comfort from this. For in concert with other nations, we shall help men defend their freedom.

FIRST AIM

Our first aim remains the safety and well-being of our own country.

We are prepared to live as good neighbors with all, but we cannot be indifferent to acts designed to injure our interests, our citizens, or our establishments abroad. The community of nations requires mutual respect. We shall extend it — and we shall expect it.

In our relations with the world we shall follow the example of Andrew Jackson who said: "I intend to ask for nothing that is not clearly right and to submit to nothing that is wrong." And he promised, "The honor of my country shall never be stained by an apology from me for the statement of truth or the performance of duty." That was our policy in the 1830s and that is our policy today.

Our own freedom and growth have never been the final goal of the American dream.

We were never meant to be an oasis of liberty and abundance in a worldwide desert of disappointed dreams. Our nation was created to help strike away the chains of ignorance and misery and tyranny wherever they keep man less than God means him to be.

MOVING RAPIDLY

We are moving toward that destiny, never more rapidly than in the last four years.

In this period we have built a military power strong enough to meet any threat and destroy any adversary. And that superiority will continue to grow so long as this office is mine — and you sit on Capitol Hill.

In this period new nation has become Communist, and the unit of the Communist empire has begun to crumble.

In this period we have resolved in friendship our disputes with our neighbors of the hemisphere, and joined in an Alliance for Progress toward economic growth and political democracy.

lessly pursued our advances toward the conquest of space.

Most important of all, in this period, the United States has re-emerged into the fullness of its self-confidence and purpose. No longer are we called upon to get America moving. We are moving. No longer do we doubt our strength or resolution. We are strong and we have proven our resolve.

No longer can anyone wonder whether we are in the grip of historical decay. We know that history is ours to make. And if there is great danger, there is now also the excitement of great expectations.

The Red Nations

Yet we still live in a troubled and perilous world. There is no longer a single threat. There are many. They differ in intensity and danger. They require different attitudes and different answers.

With the Soviet Union we seek peaceful understandings that can lessen the danger to freedom.

Last fall I asked the American people to choose that course.

I will carry forward their command.

LIVE IN PEACE

If we are to live together in peace, we must come to know each other better.

I am sure the American people would welcome a chance to listen to the Soviet leaders on our television — as I would like the Soviet people to hear our leaders.

I hope the new Soviet leaders can visit America so they can learn about this country at first hand.

In Eastern Europe restless nations are slowly beginning to assert their identity. Your government, assisted by leaders in labor and business, is exploring ways to increase peaceful trade with these countries and the Soviet Union. I will report our conclusions to the Congress.

MORE AGGRESSIVE

In Asia, communism wears a more aggressive face.

We see that in Viet Nam.

Why are we there?

We are there, first, because a friendly nation has asked us for help against Communist aggression. Ten years ago we pledged our help. Three presidents have supported that pledge. We will not break it.

Second, our own security is tied to the peace of Asia. Twice in one generation we have had to fight against aggression in the Far East. To ignore aggression would only increase the danger of a larger war.

GOAL IS PEACE

Our goal is peace in Southeast Asia. That will come only when aggressors leave their neighbors in peace.

What is at stake is the cause of freedom. In that cause we shall never be found wanting.

Non-Communists

But communism is not the only source of trouble and unrest. There are older and deeper sources — in the misery of nations and in man's irrepressible ambition for liberty and a better life.

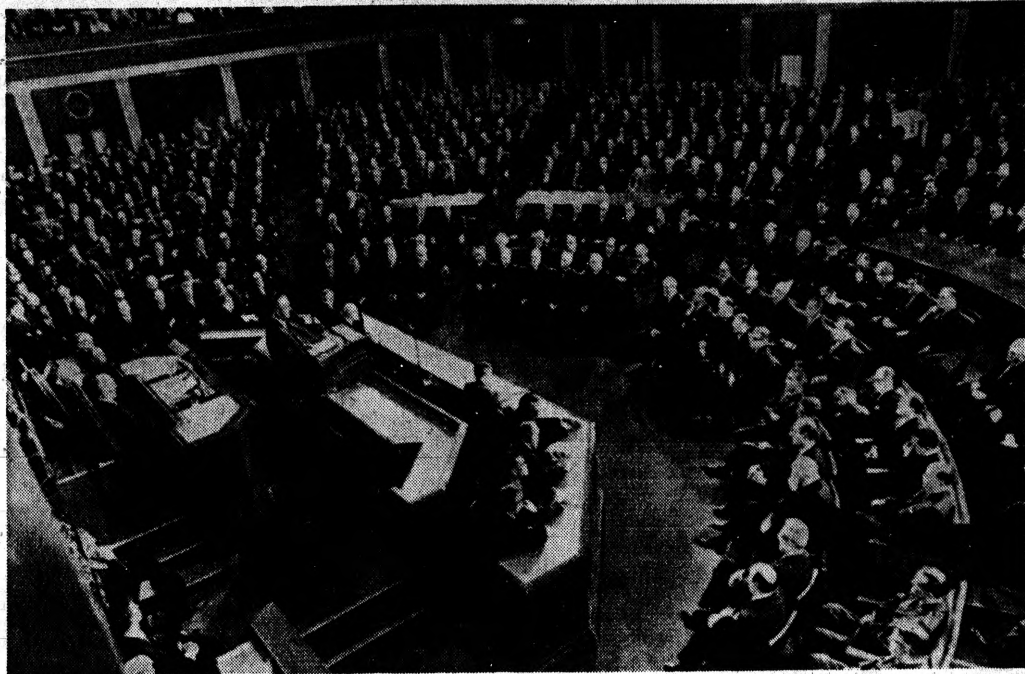

With the free republics of Latin America I have always felt — and my country has always felt — special ties of interest and affection. It will be the purpose of this administration to strengthen these ties. Together we share and shape the destiny of the New World. In the coming year I hope to pay a visit to Latin America. And I will steadily enlarge our commitment to the Alliance for Progress as the instrument of our war against poverty and injustice in the Hemisphere.

In the Atlantic community we continue to pursue our goal of 20 years — a Europe growing in strength, unity, and cooperation with America. A great unfinished task is the reunification of Germany through self-determination.

This European policy is not based on any abstract design. It is based on the realities of common interests and common values, common dangers and common expectations. These realities will continue to have their way — especially in our expanding trade and our common defense.

SHAPE POLICIES

Free Americans have shaped the policies of the United States. And because we know these realities, those policies have been, and will be, in the interest of Europe.

Free Europeans must shape the course of Europe. And, for the same reasons, that course has been, and will be, in our interest and the interest of freedom.

I found this truth confirmed in my talks with European leaders in the last year. I hope to repay these visits to some of our friends in Europe this year.

In Africa and Asia we are witnessing the turbulent unfolding of new nations and continents.

U. S. COMMITTED

We welcome them to the society of nations.

We are committed to help those seeking to strengthen their own independence, and to work most closely with those governments dedicated to the welfare of all their people.

We seek not fidelity to an iron faith, but a diversity of belief as varied as man himself. We seek not to extend the power of America but the progress of humanity. We seek not to dominate others but to strengthen the freedom of all.

I will seek new ways to use our knowledge to help deal with the explosion in world population and the growing scarcity in world resources.

Finally, we renew our commitment to the continued growth and effectiveness of the United Nations. The frustrations of the U.N. are a product of the world we live in, not of the institution which gives them voice. It is far better to throw these differences open to the assembly of nations than permit them to fester in silent danger.

SOME GOALS

These are some of the goals of the American nation in the world.

For ourselves we seek neither praise nor blame, gratitude nor obedience.

We seek peace.

We seek freedom.

We seek to enrich the life of man.

For that is the world in which we will flourish.

That is the world we mean for all men to have.

'Great Society'

World affairs will continue to call upon our energy and courage.

But today we can turn increased attention to the character of American life.

We are in the midst of the greatest upward surge of economic well-being in the history of any nation.

Our flourishing progress has been marked by price stability unequalled in the world. Our balance of payments deficit has declined and the soundness of our dollar is unquestioned. I pledge to keep it that way. I urge business and labor to cooperate to that end.

PROSPERITY PEAK

We worked for two centuries to climb this peak of prosperity. But we are only at the beginning of the road to the Great Society. Ahead now is a summit where freedom from the wants of the body can help fulfill the needs of the spirit.

We built this nation to serve its people.

We want to grow and build and create, but we want progress to be the servant and not the master of man.

We do not intend to live — in the midst of abundance — isolated from neighbors and nature, confined by blighted cities and bleak suburbs, stunted by a poverty of learning and an emptiness of leisure.

HOW GOOD

The Great Society asks not only how much, but how good; not only how to create wealth but how to use it; not only how fast we are going, but where we are headed.

It proposes as the first test for a nation: The quality of its people.

This kind of society will not flower spontaneously from swelling riches and surging power.

It will not be the gift of government or the creation of presidents.

ALL AMERICANS

It will require of every American, for many generations, both faith in the destination and the fortitude to make the journey.

Like freedom itself, it will always be challenge and not fulfillment.

Tonight we accept that challenge.

National Agenda

I propose we begin a program in education to ensure every American child the fullest development of his mind and skills.

I propose we begin a massive attack on crippling and killing diseases.

I propose we launch a national effort to make the American city a better and more stimulating place to live.

I propose we increase the beauty of America and end the poisoning of our rivers and the air we breathe.

NEW PROGRAM

I propose we carry out a new program to develop regions of our country now suffering from distress and depression.

I propose we make new efforts to control and prevent crime and delinquency.

I propose we eliminate every remaining obstacle to the right and opportunity to vote.

I propose we honor and support the achievements of thought and the creations of art.

I propose we make an all-out campaign against waste and inefficiency.

The Task

Our basic task is three-fold:

—To keep our economy growing.

—To open for all Americans the opportunities now enjoyed by most Americans.

—To improve the quality of life for all.

In the next six weeks I will submit special messages with detailed proposals for national action in each of these areas.

Tonight I would like briefly to explain some of my major recommendations in the three main areas of national need.

I. A GROWING ECONOMY

Basic policies

First, we must keep our nation prosperous. We seek full employment opportunity for every American. I will present a budget designed to move the economy forward. More money will be left in the hands of the consumer by a substantial cut in excise taxes. We will continue along the path toward a balanced budget and a balanced economy.

I confidently predict — what every economy sign now tell us — the continued flourishing of the American economy.

But we must remember that fear of a recession can contribute to the fact of a recession. The knowledge that our government will, and can, move swiftly will strengthen the confidence of investors and business.

RAPID ACTION

Congress can reinforce this confidence by insuring that its procedures permit rapid action on temporary income tax cuts. And special funds for job-creating public programs should be made available for immediate use if recession threatens.

Our continued prosperity demands continued price stability. Business, labor and the consumer all have a high stake in keeping wages and prices within the framework of the guideposts that have already served the nation so well.

Finding new markets abroad for our goods depends on the initiative of American business. But we stand ready — with credit and other help — to assist the flow of trade which will benefit the entire nation.

On the Farms

Our economy owes much to the efficiency of our farmers. We must continue to assure them the opportunity to earn a fair reward. I have instructed the secretary of agriculture to lead a major effort to find new approaches to reduce the heavy cost of our farm programs and to direct more of our effort to the small farmer who needs help most.

Prosperity

We can help insure continued prosperity through:

—A regional recovery program to assist development of stricken areas left behind by our national progress.

—Further efforts to provide our workers with the skills demanded by modern technology, for the laboring man is an indispensable force in the American system.

—Extension of the minimum wage to more than two million unprotected workers.

—Improvement and modernization of the unemployment compensation system.

DEM PLATFORMS

As pledged in our 1960 and 1964 Democratic platforms, I will propose to Congress changes in the Taft-Hartley Act including Section 14-B. I will do so hoping to reduce conflicts that for several years have divided Americans in various states.

In a country that spans a continent modern transportation is vital to continued growth.

Transportation

I will recommend heavier reliance on competition in transportation and a new policy for our Merchant Marine.

I will ask for funds to study high speed rail transportation between urban centers. We will begin with test projects between Boston and Washington. On high-speed trains, passengers could travel this distance in less than four hours.

II. OPPORTUNITY FOR ALL

Second, we must open opportunity to all our people.

Most Americans tonight enjoy a good life. But far too many are still trapped in poverty, idleness and fear.

THROW OPEN

Let a just nation throw open to them the city or promise:

—To the elderly, by providing hospital care under Social Security and by raising benefit payments to those struggling to maintain the dignity of their later years.

—To the poor, through doubling the war against poverty this year.

—To Negro Americans, through enforcement of the Civil Rights Law and elimination of barriers to the right to vote.

OTHER LANDS

—To those in other lands seeking the promise of America, through an immigration law based on the work a man can do and not where he was born or how he spells his name.

III. TO ENRICH THE LIFE OF ALL

Our third goal is to improve the quality of American life.

Through education: We begin with learning.

BEST EDUCATION

Every child must have the best education our nation can provide.

Thomas Jefferson said no nation can be both ignorant and free. Today no nation can be both ignorant and great.

In addition to our existing programs, I will recommend a new program for schools and students with a first year authorization of one billion, 500 million dollars.

It will help at every stage along the road to learning.

PRESCHOOL YEARS

For the preschool years we will help needy children become aware of the excitement of learning.

For the primary and secondary school years we will aid public schools serving low income families and assist students in both public and private schools.

For the college years we will provide scholarships to high school students of the greatest promise and greatest need and guaranteed low interest loans to students continuing their college studies.

New laboratories and centers will help our schools lift their standards of excellence and explore new methods of teaching. These centers will provide special training for those who need and deserve special treatment.

Better Health

Greatness requires not only an educated people but a healthy people.

Our goal is to match the achievements of our medicine to the afflictions of our people.

We already carry on a large program for research and health.

In addition, regional medical centers can provide the most advanced diagnosis and treatment for heart disease, cancer, stroke and other major diseases.

NEW SUPPORT

New support for medical and dental education will provide the trained men to apply our knowledge.

Community centers can help the mentally ill and improve health care for school-age children from poor families, including services for the mentally retarded.

Improving the World

The city: An educated and healthy people require surroundings in harmony with their hopes.

In our urban areas the central problem today is to protect and restore man's satisfaction in belonging to a community where he can find security and significance.

The first step is to break old patterns — to begin to think, work and plan for the development of entire metropolitan areas. We will take this step with new programs of help for basic community facilities and neighborhood centers of health and recreation.

New and existing programs will be open to those cities which work together to develop unified long-range policies for metropolitan areas.

We must also make important changes in our housing programs if we are to pursue these same basic goals.

SPEARHEAD EFFORT

A Department of Housing and Urban Development will be needed to spearhead this effort in our cities.

Every citizen has the right to feel secure in his home and on the streets of his community.

To help control crime, we will recommend programs:

—To train local law enforcement officers.

—To put the best techniques of modern science at their disposal.

—To discover the causes of crime and better ways to prevent it.

I will soon assemble a panel of outstanding experts to search out answers to the national problem of crime and delinquency.

Beauty of America

For over three centuries the beauty of America has sustained our spirit and enlarged our vision. We must act now to protect this heritage. In a fruitful new partnership with the states and cities the next decade should be a conservation milestone. We must make a massive effort to save the countryside and establish — as a green legacy for tomorrow — more large and small parks, more seashores and open spaces than have been created during any period in our history.

A new and substantial effort must be made to landscape highways and provide places of relaxation and recreation wherever our roads run.

Within our cities imaginative programs are needed to landscape streets and transform open areas into places of beauty and recreation.

LEGAL POWER

We will seek legal power to prevent pollution of our air and water before it happens. We will step up our effort to control harmful wastes, giving first priority to the cleanup of our most contaminated rivers. We will increase research to learn more about control of pollution.

We hope to make the Potomac a model of beauty and recreation for the entire country — and preserve unspoiled stretches of some of our waterways with a wild rivers bill.

More ideas for a beautiful America will emerge from a White House conference on natural beauty which I will soon call.

Art and Science

We must also recognize and encourage those who can be pathfinders for the nation's imagination and understanding.

To help promote and honor creative achievements, I will propose a national foundation on the arts.

To develop knowledge which will enrich our lives and ensure our progress, I will recommend programs to encourage basic science, particularly in the universities — and to bring closer the day when the oceans will supply our growing need for fresh water.

IV. THE GOVERNMENT

For government to serve these goals it must be modern in structure, efficient in action, and ready for any emergency.

EXECUTIVE BRANCH

I am currently reviewing the structure of the executive branch. I hope to reshape and reorganize it to meet more effectively the tasks of today.

Wherever waste is found, I will eliminate it.

Last year we saved almost 3½ billion dollars by eliminating waste.

I intend to do better this year. And I will soon report to you on our progress and on new economies we plan to make.

HAZARDS

Even the best of government is subject to the worst of hazards.

I will propose laws to ensure the necessary continuity of leadership should the president become disabled or die.

In addition, I will propose reforms in the Electoral College — leaving undisturbed the vote by states — but making sure no elector can substitute his will for that of the people.

Last year I spoke to you after 33 years of public service, most of them on this hill.

ONE YEAR

This year I speak after one year as President of the United States.

Many of you in this chamber are among my oldest friends. We have shared many happy moments and many hours of work, and we have watched many presidents together. Yet, only in the White

Scholarships Offered

Tuesday Musicale of Pontiac will conduct preliminary auditions for the Dora Dawson scholarships at 3:00 p.m. Feb. 14, in the Central Methodist Church.

Applications are available from Mrs. George H. Putnam, West Iroquois Road, and must be completed and mailed to her not later than Feb. 6.

Final auditions will be held March 7 at the same location.

REQUIREMENTS

Requirements include: resident of the greater Pontiac area; serious interest in music, leading to advanced education in the field; presently a student in junior high, high school, or college.

Applicants must present three compositions of standard repertoire material, memorized and ready to play or sing in recital from classical, romantic, and modern periods.

Instrumentalists and vocalists must supply their own accompanist.

Judges comments will be available to all contestants upon request.

AWARDS

Recipients of the Dora Dawson scholarships will receive up to $300 to be used the following summer or term of school.

The fund is made available each year through the "Dollars for Scholars" program, sponsored by Tuesday Musicale in an evening concert in April.

Class Reunion for Jan. Grads PCHS 1955

The January 1955 graduating class of Pontiac Central High School will celebrate its first reunion at 6:00 p.m., Feb. 27, at the Sportmans club in Waterford.

Following cocktails and dinner, there will be dancing until 1:00 a.m.

Others include: Mrs. Charles Gavette, Wayne Pyke, Charles Alle, and Mrs. Milton Porter.

Those interested in attending, may contact Mrs. Grover or Caswell before Jan. 15.

Planning late August vows are Helen Ruth Bush, daughter of the Victor Wilsons of Alsdorph Street, Avon Township, and Airman 3.C. Gary Lee Baum, son of the Donald Baums of Eastwood Drive, Avon Township. Her fiancé is stationed at Ent AFB, Colorado Springs, Colo.

WOMEN'S SECTION

West Coast to Be Home for Couple

Motoring to their future home in Los Angeles this week are Thomas Kennerley Bushfield of Murphy Street and his bride, the former Gayle Joy Hobson.

They exchanged recent vows before Rev. Robert Shelton in Barnett Chapel of the First Baptist Church.

Her parents, the Wilford Hobsons of West Auburn Road, Avon Township, were hosts at a home reception for the immediate families following the ceremony.

CARNATION CORSAGE

A shoulder corsage of red and white carnations complemented the bride's white sheer wool suit with white satin trim. Her veiled pillbox was of lace and satin.

Beverly Holiday was the bride's only attendant.

William Sadler was best man for the bridegroom, son of Carl W. Bushfield of East Ruth Avenue and the late Mrs. Pearl Bushfield. Peter Wollaefer and Robert Moyer were ushers.

Rochester Pair Goes to Nassau After Vows

Off for a Nassau honeymoon after their wedding and reception Saturday in St. Paul's Methodist Church, Rochester, are the Charles Lewis Crissmans (Penny Mae Gray).

They exchanged vows and rings before Rev. Douglas Parker and some 300 guests. Daughter of the Charles W. Grays of Rochester, the bride chose a gown of white slipper satin with Empire bodice of chantilly lace.

A lace pillbox held her short French illusion veil and the bridal bouquet was white roses.

Mrs. L. Michael Bradley attended her sister as honor matron along with bridesmaids Judith Basch, Royal Oak; Mrs. George Dimoff, Rochester, and Mrs. Arvid Lesemann of Charleston, S.C.

Their floor-length Empire gowns of mortar-white crepe were styled with bodices of moss green velvet.

ASSISTS BROTHER

Assisting his brother as best man was Phillip Crissman. They are the sons of the Charles L. Crissmans of Apple Hill Lane, Avon Township.

William R. Potere Jr. of Rochester; Richard Perkins of Warren, and David Cooper, of East Lansing, were the ushers.

The couple has reserved an apartment in the Rochester Arms.

Decorator Will Speak

Birmingham Town Hall series will present Michael Greer, noted interior decorator Thursday and Friday at 11:00 a.m. in the Birmingham Theater.

Greer is well known for his work in helping to redecorate the White House.

Luncheon at the Birmingham Country Club will follow at 1:00 p.m.

Ski Design Wins Award for Cranbrook's Berger

Robert Berger, currently attending the Cranbrook Academy of Art, was the third award winner in the 26th annual American Institute of Interior Design student competition.

Announcement was made at the annual A. I. D. awards dinner Sunday in the Pick-Congress Hotel, Chicago.

Students from 23 schools and colleges located in 15 states submitted over 200 entries.

SKI BARN

The subject was the remodeling of "A Ski Barn" to convert a spacious upper floor of a Vermont barn into an attractive hall where skiers may warm themselves and gather for refreshments and indoor recreation.

Seating facilities for 60 persons had to be incorporated into the structure.

Berger's award was based on his imaginative approach and the pleasing development of a modern atmosphere which retained, at the same time, the flavor of a barn structure.

Unfaithful Fiancee's Heart Might Be Reached by Cash

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I became engaged to a girl in June.

The engagement ring I gave her belonged to my deceased mother. It was a small, but gem quality diamond.

I won't go into detail here, but because I learned that she had been unfaithful to me several times during our engagement, I broke off with her.

My lawyer tells me that because it was I who broke the engagement, she is entitled to keep the ring.

I want that ring for sentimental reasons, Abby. How can I get it back?

SENTIMENTAL: Ask her for it and tell her why you think she owes you its return.

If that doesn't work, offer to buy it back, and if THAT doesn't work, thank God for saving you from a wretched marriage.

DEAR ABBY: My aunt asked me, "What do you want for a wedding present?" I said, "How much do you want to spend?" My mother heard me and she almost killed me.

I don't see anything wrong with my question, do you? I know my aunt is going to buy me something, and I could use anything from a dish towel to a television set.

My mother said I should have said, "Oh, nothing, really. All I want are your good wishes."

Now isn't that ridiculous? (My aunt happens to be the richest one in our family!)

TOO HONEST: DEAR TOO: No one can be "too honest" — but you could have been more tactful.

You might have replied, "I will leave the choice of a gift up to you," or you could have TOLD her what you wanted.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow, getting on in years, and I am not physically able to get around in the crowds any more.

I am also on a limited budget, and all this Christmas shopping is too much trouble and expense to me.

I wrote to several of my friends and relatives and asked them please to discontinue giving me Christmas gifts for the above reasons.

I am now receiving unpleasant answers to my letters such as, "I don't give to get."

Abby, I don't want to accept and not give in return. Was what I did so terrible?

KITTY: DEAR KITTY: I think you were more considerate than most people to announce beforehand that you do not intend to give gifts.

Ignore the replies. They were unctuous and uncalled for.

Sue Ann Maguire Weds Daniel Robert Taylor

Candlelight vows in the Community United Presbyterian Church marked the recent marriage of Sue Ann Maguire to Daniel Robert Taylor.

A church reception followed the ceremony performed by Rev. Walter J. Teeuwissen Jr. Parents of the couple are the James W. Maguires of Meigs Street and the Daniel W. Taylors of Pensacola Avenue.

CRYSTAL TIARA

A crystal tiara and silk illusion veil complemented the bride's gown of candlelight satin worn with long-sleeved brocade jacket. She carried white roses and lilies of the valley.

Kitty Jo Bethune of Holly and Geraldine Jurey attended their former roommate at Eastern Michigan University, as bridesmaids along with Linda Gerst of Detroit.

Lora Maguire was her sister's maid of honor.

Their gowns of wine velvet were styled with bodices of pink crepe.

On the esquire side, were Jon Blocher, best man, with the ushers James Berger, Bruce Linebaugh of Muskegon; and Wayne Smith.

Keri and Kevin Macadaeg were flower-girl and ringbearer.

The couple will be attending Michigan State University.

Bliss-Obert Vows Taken Saturday

St. Benedict's Catholic Church was the setting for the Saturday nuptials of Marilyn Jean Obert and Charles Bob Bliss.

Their parents are the Frederick E. Oberts of Pelham Street and Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Bliss of Pontiac Lake Road.

For the ceremony performed by Rev. Richard W. Thomas, the bride wore a gown of white and gold brocade with matching street-length coat.

Completing her ensemble were a small veiled hat and cascade of white carnations and roses.

Barbara J. Weaver and Richard Poorman attended the couple who will reside in Pontiac.

MRS. CHARLES B. BLISS

Why Grow Old?

Legs are becoming more and more eye-catching. Not only are skirts shorter than a flapper of the Twenties, but legs may look as old-fashioned as dodo birds by spring if they are not covered with patterned stockings.

The patterned and lace stockings which are so popular are fun and are attractive if they are carefully chosen. The shape of your legs should influence your selection.

On first thought one might believe that these make the legs appear larger. However, most of them are slimming since the patterns usually run vertically.

Naturally, if you have fat legs you will not want to wear stockings with bright red flowers on them or any of a vivid color. Black is always slimming. Select those which have well-defined vertical patterns.

If you have thin legs, avoid black or dark colors. Choose pale shades and very small patterns. If you can find some hosiery which has designs running horizontally or in a zigzag pattern, they would be best for you.

If your legs are too large or too thin, better get busy, because these stockings DO call attention to them. If your legs are too thin do the following exercise regularly.

Stand with your right side toward a chair. Place your right hand on the top of the chair, swing your right leg ward as you rise high on your right toe. Return right heel and left leg to place. Continue.

After a while turn your left side toward the chair, place your left hand on top of the chair, swing your tight leg and rise high on your left toe.

It is interesting to know that at times in history men wore the fancier leg gear. The stocking is one article of clothing which has never changed its shape through many centuries of fads and customs. It has been worn by men and women and children.

Through its long history it has been alternately adored or ignored, expensive or cheap, flaunted or hidden. If so, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet number 13 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Needlework Kit

Make a Bed Valet

Make staying in bed a sheer pleasure with the help of this useful bed valet. It will place right at hand your latest reading matter, book, newspaper, glasses and tissues.

Making it is child's play. Sew pockets in place as directed. Then cut out and glue appliques in place and glue baby ricrac braid around pockets.

For a special amusing fillip there are rhinestones to glue on the rims of the glasses included in the kit.

The valet is light, bright red with blue book and glasses, and lime green lettering. All are no-hem felt, saving time and work. The ricrac is the same blue as the book.

IDEAL GIFT
This would make an ideal teen-age gift. Anyone confined to bed would welcome one too.

Effective Punishment Depends on Past

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: What punishment can I give my boy, 9, to stop him running off with other children? I can't keep an eye on him all the time.

I have tried to explain the trouble he causes me by running off with other boys without telling me where he is going but he goes right on doing it. I have to telephone the neighbors to find out where he is or go and look for him.

ANSWER: I cannot tell you how to punish your child. I can't tell you because I know nothing about your child's past experience of you.

It is that past experience of us which makes our punishments effective or ineffective.

A parent in your situation might decide to punish his child by depriving him of his friends for two days.

If the child has been given cause to trust our respect for his possessions, depriving him of his friends for two days would be effective punishment.

It would be effective because this deprivation would so contrast with our customary respect for his possessions that he would be shocked into thinking, "So oddly is this parent treating me that she must take my running-off very seriously. It must really worry her as much as she says it does to make her behave so extraordinarily."

And we could expect some regretful awareness of our worry.

DAILY OCCURRENCE But if depriving the child of his rights to his possessions is something we do every day, then depriving him of his friends for two days will be ineffective punishment.

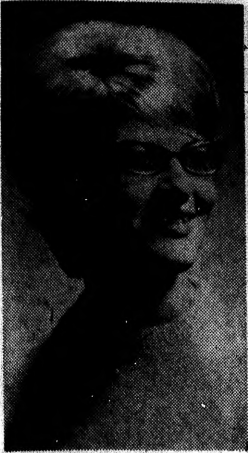

If we allow our younger children to use his toys, throw out his broken ones without his permission and incinerate his collection of comics behind his back, he will experience no shock when we deprive him of his friends for two days.

He can't feel it because losing control of his possessions is ordinary, not extraordinary experience for him.

His response will be, "Oh well, what matters another deprivation? I don't own anything so far as this parent is concerned — toys, comics, friends. I'll take this punishment — and run off with the kids again the first time I think I can get away with it."

Because nobody knows what ordinary treatment of our child has been, nobody can tell us what extraordinary treatment will represent punishment to him.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerhardt Feole of Jeffwood Drive, announce the engagement of their daughter, Priscilla Rose to Dennis John Bayma, son of Benjamin A. Bayma of Fremont Street and Mrs. Clara Bayma of West Ann Arbor Avenue. A summer wedding is being planned.

DEAR POLLY — I have no small children but I always send for any little free gift or toy offered for box tops or labels. When it comes, it is stored in a special box until there are enough to take to handicapped children or a hospital ward.

All it takes is a little time and a stamp to make some child's hours more entertaining—MRS. V. H.

DEAR POLLY—I send a copy of the newspaper printed on the day of their marriage to any of my young friends who are celebrating a first anniversary. Newspaper offices usually have back copies for sale.

It is fun for the newlyweds to look back over the other events that occurred on "their day." Paper is also the traditional gift for a first anniversary.—JAN.

DEAR POLLY—When I left home for college, my mother filled one section of my shoe bag with clean, soft rags.

They were such a help as we are always needing a rag for something. They certainly saved many a towel and shirt-tale from being ruined.

ELIZABETH RODGERS

Honored Queen Installed by Girls Lodge

Elizabeth Rodgers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Rodgers, Williams Drive, was installed Saturday as honored queen of Bethel No. 40, International Order of Jobs' Daughters.

Assuming their elective offices were Judy Williams, senior princess; Kathy Graham, junior princess; Karen Kirchmeyer, guide; and Carolyn Holmes, marshal.

Other officers are Onita Little, Erika Dean, Jane Norgan, Karen Alexander, Sandra Rodgers, Karen Howard, Christine Brown, Nancy Clay, Mary Jo Driller.

Concluding the list are the five messengers: Paula Rampart; Sharon Maxwell, Sue Moses, Connie Carter and Georgia Burglow.

Quick Job on Mildew

It is important that mildew stains be removed at once from clothing or household linens else the growth will rot or weaken the fabric.

One of several ways to remove such stains from cotton is first to brush off any surface growth. Next, mix a small amount of lemon juice and salt.

Sponge the stains with the solution; hang in the sun to bleach. Wash and rinse well and dry again.

Discarded Glove Is Strong Pocket

Leather used for lining jacket jackets to make them stronger should be thin but tough.

Often there is enough leather left in a worn glove for just this purpose.

Dangers Abroad in '65
LBJ Faces World Filled With Troubles

By SPENCER DAVIS
 WASHINGTON (AP) — Although a nuclear war is not on the horizon in 1965, a world filled with trouble spots and problem areas confronts President Johnson at the start of his first elected term.

Dangers abroad affecting U.S. national interests and demanding White House attention fall into two categories — the pressing immediate crises labeled extremely dangerous and secondly, the slower-fused but potentially explosive questions which could erupt at any time.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk in a year-end appraisal called South Viet Nam and the Congo the two most immediate and most dangerous situations "which need and will get our continuing attention." There were at least 10 more of varying magnitude and urgency.

Among the more pressing problems before Johnson were these:

SOUTH VIET NAM: The bloody jungle guerrilla war with the Communist Viet Cong could expand into a much larger conflict involving North Viet Nam and Communist China in direct confrontation with U.S. power. Or it could bring a collapse of the fragile South Viet Nam government that could lead to a U.S. defeat and withdrawal with disastrous consequences in Southeast Asia, the Far East and around the world.

SEEKING UNITY

At the year end, the United States was seeking unity of leadership that would make possible a Saigon government which could function without the threat of a military veto. There were some signs the civilian-military political crisis was easing. But experts felt the war was slowly being lost.

CONGO: The situation was threatening due to outside intervention. A direct East-West clash could result plunging much of Africa into the cold war. The United States did not consider its assistance to the Congo government over a five-year period as intervention, but took quite another view of the furnishing of arms illegally to the rebels by Communist China, the United Arab Republic and Algeria.

This brought new strains in relations with the U.A.R. and Algeria and heightened tension with Peking. The United States sought to persuade Premier Moise Tshombe to accept a cease-fire with the rebels. But it was rejected by Leopoldville. The United States also advised the Congo government to broaden its base by admitting non-rebel opposition elements including former Premier Cyrille Adoula. The image of Tshombe was bad among many other African leaders. The chances for a solution appeared bleak.

CYPRUS: Although there was a lull in fighting, the unresolved issue of the Turkish minority produced grave concern because it had sharply divided Greece and Turkey and thus weakened the NATO alliance. There were hopes a form of peaceful coexistence could be worked out among the rival island factions. But there were no guarantees that the shooting would not erupt again. The U.N. peace-keeping force on the Mediterranean island was due to be withdrawn in March.

PSYCHOLOGICAL BOOST

COMMUNIST CHINA: Peking received a psychological boost from its first nuclear explosion last Oct. 17. A reasonably rapid test program in 1965 could give the Chinese Communists a sustained lift. No big changes were foreseen in Peking's contacts with the Soviet Union over the next year or two. They were expected to remain strained.

Peking was encouraged by the success of its diplomatic campaign in Africa but this could bring difficulties when Africans ask what the Red Chinese are going to do for them in the form of aid.

ATLANTIC ALLIANCE: The machinery of NATO was in need of close attention over organizational problems. In recognition of new British proposals, the multilateral force received a new name, Atlantic Nuclear Force ANF. The ANF would include the V bombers and Polaris submarines as well as the American-favored surface fleet of about 25 vessels manned by American, British and German and other personnel. Some form of mixed-man surface fleet was expected to emerge during the year, despite controversy within NATO over the proposal.

Rights Group Hits Dearborn

DETROIT (AP) — A hearing board of the Michigan Civil Rights Commission agreed Monday with charges that city officials in suburban Dearborn ordered clippings humiliating to Negroes placed on municipal bulletin boards.

Commission cochairman John Fikens said the board, which was made up of three commissions members, would recommend to the full group an order to desist from future posting of such materials.

The Dearborn Community Council, a civil rights organization, filed the original complaint. It had said that Mayor Orville Hubbard and James Dick, department of public works director, ordered display of degrading and humiliating newspaper and magazine clippings.

NONE PRESENT

None of the accused officials of this predominantly white suburb were present at the hearing but City Attorney Ralph B. Guy Jr. said he doubted that the newly created commission has jurisdiction over a municipality.

Taxpayer Lobbyists to Eye Texas Officials

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Texas Taxpayers, Inc., a 600-member private organization, posted $1,000 Monday for rewards to any citizen who catches a public official mishandling tax money. "This is the first time there have been lobbyists for the taxpayers in a corporation," said W. B. Hallmark, secretary-treasurer. "Citizens will be able to collect anywhere from $100 to $1,000 if they see public officials misappropriating public funds."

GERMAN REUNIFICATION: Rusk listed the need as most urgent to find a permanent, peaceful and satisfactory settlement of the German question. It could open the door to far-reaching disarmament measures and relieve burdens now placed on both East and West Europe and the United States. But progress in this direction would be slow. There were no indications or Soviet readiness to consider a reunified Germany, nor were the French warm to the idea.

DOMESTIC ISSUES

SOVIET UNION: The most powerful U.S. foe appeared to be speaking the same language of peaceful coexistence that it had under Soviet Premier Khrushchev. But the new Kremlin leaders seemed to be increasingly preoccupied with domestic issues. The United States did not anticipate Soviet initiatives which would either relax the cold war or heat it up.

LATIN AMERICA: Cuba tended to lessen as a hemisphere problem as it felt an economic pinch. The potential trouble spots remained, however, with Colombia and Venezuela both facing internal political problems. There were still dictatorships in Ecuador and Bolivia. While Panama was presently quiet, canal negotiations and the Jan. 9 anniversary of last year's riot could bring renewed tension. Haiti and the Dominican Republic were other areas of potential difficulty.

INDONESIA-MALAYSIA: President Sukarno's year-end decision to pull Indonesia out of the United Nations coupled with renewed threats to crush Malaysia produced a new round of tension in war-jittery Southeast Asia. It brought a stiffening of British, Australian and New Zealand determination to help defend the federation and a warning of hot pursuit if retaliatory action becomes necessary.

U.S. officials viewed the long-range implications of Sukarno's decision as both complex and serious. The United States is not directly involved but under the ANZUS defense alliance, the United States is pledged to aid both Australian and New Zealand troops if they come under attack of sufficient substance to invoke the treaty provisions.

The United States has made clear that its sympathies are with Malaysia but regard it as a primary British defense commitment. Sentiment was likely to mount in Congress for military and economic aid to Malaysia if Sukarno steps up the tempo of his attacks on the Malaysian mainland, but so long as possible, the U.S. government hoped to avoid a final break in relations with Jakarta.

 These are statistics. And rather spectacular ones. Number of employees, payroll, employment generated and purchases made in communities served, total taxes paid—these, too, are statistics. And, in their way, equally impressive.
 Grand Trunk Western—your friendly, courteous railroad—employs more than 5,000 persons, pays out better than $36,000,000 in wages, annually makes purchases of over $10,000,000—half of this in cities located along its 1200 miles of main-line track. And, last year, GTW's total tax bill came to something in excess of $4,500,000.
 By providing efficient, economical passenger and freight services within the states of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin—with fast, convenient inter-line connections to the west, south, east... to Canada, and to New England, and by contributing to the economy of the communities it serves, GTW works hard at being a "good citizen".

NEW HOUSE GOP LEADER — Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan talks to reporters yesterday after he was elected House Republican leader for the 89th Congress. Ford, 51, defeated Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana, 73-67.

Ford to Stress GOP Initiative

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan hung an "under new management" sign on the House Republican leadership today and said the emphasis now is on initiative, not reaction.

Ford said in an interview he wants the minority party to press its own solutions to national problems.

This is the "policy of alternatives" long advocated by the group of younger Republicans who pushed Ford to the leadership in two steps — the chairmanship of the Republican Conference two years ago and the top minority post Monday.

"We're going to do some housekeeping first," Ford said. "We've got some good people working for us and well-paid. We should be getting more benefit from them."

MOVE FORWARD

"Then, we hope to move forward by better use of task forces and by stimulating minority members of committees."

The task forces were an innovation of the past few years. Groups of Republican congressmen backed up by outside specialists prepared studies and recommendations seeking party positions on major issues.

NOT INTERESTED

However, this activity, while not discouraged by Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, whom Ford deposed as leader, did not seem particularly to interest him, Ford, in his comparatively minor post of conference chairman, could not effectively push it.

By stimulating Republican members of key committees, Ford said, he means "encouraging them to step out and take the initiative, not wait for the majority to act and then react."

His emphasis on party backing for the minority committee members indicated an even stronger drive than Republicans have been making for more committee staff personnel specifically assigned to the minority.

Ford is regarded as no less conservative than Halleck.

That was the day militant younger Republicans staged a sudden coup and put Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan in as chairman of the Republican Conference.

Ford deposed an old-line Halleck lieutenant, Rep. Charles B. Hoeven of Iowa, in the job of presiding over partywide caucuses.

"This is just the first step," said Hoeven at the time. "The next to go will be Halleck."

What Hoeven foresaw was that the discontent that brought Ford, 51, to the fore was actually aimed at a clean sweep of the old House GOP leadership. Halleck, 64, saw it, too. He tried to head off the expected blow.

Ironically, Halleck's efforts to placate the younger members cost him support among the old-liners and the first direct move against his leadership actually came from the latter source.

A group of 50 to 70 conservatives, angered at Halleck's commitment to President John F. Kennedy to help put the civil rights bill through the House, held two meetings last spring that resulted in an ultimatum to the harried leader: quit playing around with the moderates or face a leadership challenge.

Halleck finished the year with both wings of the party unhappy with him and it took only the election debacle that cost the Republicans 38 House seats to touch off his downfall.

Says Officer Prejudged by Romney

LANSING (AP) — Saying that Gov. George Romney prejudged Maj. Gen. Ronald McDonald when he fired him as state adjutant general, an attorney told Romney Monday he should not act as judge at McDonald's hearing.

Thomas R. McAllister of Bad Axe, representing McDonald, suggested in a letter to the governor that he "acknowledge your errors and order the matter dismissed."

"How can you be a judge when you have predetermined that Gen. McDonald is guilty of charges, you intend to prefer against him, whatever they may be?" McAllister asked.

Romney, out of town for the day, did not see the letter immediately. His office had no comment.

The governor fired McDonald; Brig. Gen. Carson Neifert, the state quartermaster general, and Neifert's executive officer, Lt. Col. Versel Case Jr., Oct. 8 after an auditor general's report disclosed irregularities in the National Guard.

On advice of Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley, Romney reinstated the two generals Nov. 6 and they immediately were suspended pending a hearing before the governor early this year.

At the time of the suspension, Romney said he would prepare formal charges against McDonald and Neifert on the basis of the report by then Aud. Gen. Billie Farnum.

The charges have not yet been made public, nor has a hearing date been set.

REPORT CHARGED

The report charged unauthorized transfers of state-owned property near Camp Grayling, irregularities in the state armory construction program, illegal sale of liquor in armories and violations of pay and travel voucher regulations.

New charges in the National Guard scandal broke Dec. 31, but Farnum said they would not figure in the planned hearing for the two generals.

Case was not granted a hearing and has appealed to the Michigan Supreme Court.

BACK FROM MISSION — A U.S. Navy jet fighter is grabbed by an arresting line as it lands on the aircraft carrier Ranger in the South China Sea. The Ranger patrols the coast of Viet Nam and its planes have been performing photography missions over the area.

A major source of information in the joint Navy-Air Force program is the Navy's RASC heavy reconnaissance jet. A detachment of the Sanford, Fla. based squadron operates an intensive flying schedule from the attack carrier Ranger in the South China Sea off South Viet Nam.

Russia Call for Laos Confab Rebuffed

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

REBUFF: Russia's proposal that a 14-nation conference be held on Laos was dismissed yesterday by State Department Press Officer Robert J. McCloskey as not likely to contribute to peace or security.

Besides, McCloskey said, the United States does not believe the conference would halt what he called North Viet Nam's interference in Laos.

"As the Soviet government is well aware," he said, "if North Viet Nam would cease its aggressive actions in Laos, there would be no need for American military assistance to the royal Lao government."

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko suggested the conference in a letter to the North Viet Nam government Dec. 30 and made public yesterday by Tass, the Soviet news agency.

BILLED: The United States is asking the United Arab Republic for about $400,000 to compensate for the burning of the John F. Kennedy library in Cairo by demonstrators Nov. 26, State Department Press Officer Robert J. McCloskey said yesterday.

The demonstrators set fire to the 27,000 - volume library to protest the United States' landing of Belgian paratroopers in the Congo to rescue white hostages being held by antigovernment rebels. They also burned a residence for U.S. Marine guards.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk had expressed concern about what he called the "negligence" of some governments to protect American embassies and other installations.

QUITS: Paul B. Fay Jr., a friend of the late President John F. Kennedy since they were both PT-boat commanders in World War II, has resigned as under-secretary of the Navy.

The announcement by the service yesterday confirmed a long - standing rumor. The Navy said Fay intends to return to the construction firm in San Francisco owned by his family.

In the Kennedy years, the red-haired Fay was a frequent companion of the president.

ABOARD USS RANGER (AP) — A startled woman caught in a backyard bath looked up as the sleek Navy jet swept low over the Laotian countryside, photographing Communist installations along the Ho Chi Minh Trail.

The photograph and tens of thousands of others taken by Navy reconnaissance jets in Laos and Communist-controlled portions of South Viet Nam are part of a massive intelligence program that could be a prelude to expanding the Vietnamese war.

If such expansion comes, Communist supply bases and key routes in Laos are likely to be the first targets for aerial bombardment.

DETAILED SNOOPING

The Vigilantes' photo gear is capable of detailed snooping from just above the tree tops to above 40,000 feet.

Cmdr. Paul F. Werner, 40, skipper of the special reconnaissance detachment, and his crews are accompanied by jet fighter escorts when they fly over the remote mountains and jungle, some of the most rugged country in Southeast Asia.

The twin-engine Vigilantes, capable of twice the speed of sound, cross the coast over South Viet Nam, turn into Laos through the Laotian panhandle between Thailand and South Viet Nam, then head north and northwest to their target areas.

"For us it's a strange side of the war," Werner said. "So far none of us have been shot at, but we may look up tomorrow and see the MIGs coming in on us.

WAR FAR AWAY

"It's hard to believe there is a war on the Plaine des Jarres, or in Viet Nam for that matter. The Plaine and the countryside in Laos and Viet Nam look so peaceful from the air."

Since the loss of several U.S. aircraft in the Plaine des Jarres region, the reconnaissance jets fly above the effective range of ground fire from small weapons.

The Vigilantes have powerful strobe lights mounted on their wings and also carry out night missions, trying to catch the movement of Communist troops and supplies toward battle areas in Laos and Viet Nam.

Lt. Cmdr. David R. Fall Jr., another Vigilante pilot, said night photography can be the most productive — and the most dangerous.

MANY TRIES

Fall and his photo-navigator, Lt. (jg) Stephen G. Ryan of Grand Rapids, Mich., have made repeated trips over the central Laos town of Tchepone, a Communist supply base.

"During the daytime it looks like a quiet town in Kansas," Fall said. "It certainly doesn't look like a fortress."

Night is the usual Communist time for moving men and materials to the Viet Cong guerrillas in South Viet Nam.

Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The big one got away from the Detroit Lions. Fred Biletnikoff, the all purpose athlete, who was one of the shining stars in Florida State's 36-19 rout of Oklahoma in the Gator Bowl, cast his lot with Oakland of the AFL.

The Lions' admit he would have been their No. 1 draft choice but they found their first and second needs in a back and a lineman.

Biletnikoff was chosen third. He's a 6-1 and 195 pounder and is an end, a spot among pass receivers where the Lions have their best strength.

Biletnikoff's decision to go to Oakland may have saved one of the Detroit pass receivers their job, because according to Southern observers he, along with Auburn's Tucker Fredrickson, are the best choices for the pros to come out of Dixieland this season.

This is a pretty strong statement in view of the $400,000 contract quarterback Joe Namath of Alabama signed with the New York Jets.

The Jets, who haven't been able to accumulate that much profit in all their years since joining the AFL, have to be out of their minds to give such a contract to a lame-legged quarterback.

There isn't a player, let alone a rookie, in pro football worth that much money, especially in view of the problems it can cause within the organization.

STARTS TROUBLES

Tested veterans who play 19 and 20 games in exhibition and regular season, and who have been screaming at pro clubs for salaries during the exhibition season, won't let players like Namath sit around comfortably as bench warming prima donnas.

Here's where player troubles start on a ball club and the pros are asking for it.

What did it take for Oakland to get Biletnikoff away from Lions?

Russ Thomas, who put up with the Miami sunshine last week to try to talk Biletnikoff into the merits of the Motor City, was non-committal about the Detroit offer, but Oakland speculation was that the Raiders made a five-year contract arrangement close to $150,000 with a few plus dollars here and there.

The Lions weren't ready to go that high but the offer to a rookie is supposedly the best they've ever made.

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

NFL commissioner Pete Rozelle is on the hot seat with the league's Player Association over control of player's commercial endorsements and with the NCAA over premature signing of players by NFL clubs.

Last year when Rozelle sent each player a form giving him the right to represent the players in getting endorsement contracts, he received a majority NO from the Lions.

Everybody's All-America Dick Butkus must be the biggest goat of all the New Year's bowl games. His two bad snaps from center resulted in a 11-7 defeat for the East at the hands of the West.

The Green Bay Packers, probably still the best team in pro football, looked like a bunch of comic strip characters in losing to the St. Louis Cardinals in the playoff bowl in Miami Sunday.

This game has got to be the most worthless game on the football schedule, and the players act just as discerning when they play in it.

Match Heavyweights

CHICAGO (AP) — The World Boxing Association, an organization which stripped Cassius Clay of his title and ignores Sonny Liston, has approved a heavyweight championship bout between Ernie Terrell of Chicago and Eddie Machen of Portland, Ore.

The two fighters signed Monday to meet for the crown in Chicago's International Amphitheatre March 5.

The World Boxing Association is recognized in every state except New York and Massachusetts. Under WBA ratings the 6-foot-5 Terrell, with a 36-4 record, is ranked No. 1 contender. Former champion Floyd Patterson is No. 2, George Chuvalo of Toronto is No. 3 and Machen is No. 4.

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings annual Old Timers game Jan. 25 will revive the old championship-era Production Line of Gordie Howe, Ted Lindsay and Sid Abel.

Manager-coach Abel of the present Red Wings. The Old Timers' roster also will include defensemen Bob Goldham and Leo Reise and goalie Harry Lumley.

DETROIT (AP) — Wayne State University's new president, Dr. William R. Keast, apparently is taking a wait and see attitude about varsity athletics.

Dr. Keast, former Cornell University president, said he was not familiar enough with Wayne's athletics to make comments on the future at this time.

Chiefs, Southfield Open Ski Season

The high school skiing season began yesterday on an icy-sloped course at Mount Holly with Southfield taking team honors and Pontiac Central's Rich Gorman individual honors.

Gorman made his two runs in a combined time of 32.1. Gary Sayers of Southfield finished second in 53.8 seconds.

The treacherous conditions forced three schools to withdraw from the meet. Other PCH skiers completing the course were Ted Fisher, fifth, and Dick Issgrigg, eighth.

Two Wings Chosen as First Half NHL All Stars

Goalie Crozier Selected With Center Ullman

Detroit Netminder Is Lone Rookie to Gain 1st Team Berth

NEW YORK (AP) — Two players each from the Detroit Red Wings and Montreal Canadiens top The Associated Press National Hockey League All-Star team for the first half of the season.

Center Norm Ullman and rookie goaltender Roger Crozier were selected from Detroit. Montreal's representatives were defenseman Jacques Laperriere and right winger Claude Provost. The other two berths went to New York Ranger defenseman Harry Howell and the Chicago Black Hawks' high-scoring left wing, Bobby Hull.

Crozier, the only first year man to make the starting team, leads NHL goalies with three shutouts. Ullman, who scored 200th career goal earlier this season, has been the Red Wings' "hutch man" this season and is third in the scoring race with 18 goals and 17 assists.

Hull, with 32 goals at mid-year, seems a cinch to break the one-season goal scoring record of 50 that he shares with Bernie Geoffrion and Maurice Richard. His All-Star wingmate, Provost, is one of the league's top defensive forwards and has 12 goals and 21 assists for Montreal this season.

STINGY DEFENSE

Howell, playing in his 13th NHL season, has been the Rangers' steady defenseman on a backline that has been breaking in two rookies. Laperriere, the NHL's Rookie of the Year last season, anchors a stingy Canadian defense.

Named to the second team were Montreal goalie Charlie Hodge, defenseman Bill Gadsby of Detroit and Pierre Pilote of Chicago, center Stan Mikita of Chicago and left wing Camille Henry and right wing Rod Gilbert, both of New York.

Hodge won the Vezina Trophy last year, his first full season in the league. Gadsby, an 18-year NHL veteran, is often called Detroit's second goalie because of the many stops he makes in front of the Red Wing nets. Pilote, Norris Trophy winner as the league's top defenseman last season, plays the point on the potent Chicago power play.

Mikita, runner-up to his teammate Hull in the scoring race, won the point title last season and has 12 goals and 28 assists for 40 points so far this season.

Gilbert and Henry are the wingmen on New York's high-scoring French Line. Gilbert, on the right side, has 15 goals and Henry, the smallest player in the league who patrols the left side, has scored 14 times.

Fast Start for Champs

Lake Orion Baptist, the defending champion, walloped Avondale Baptist, 90-53, last night to establish itself once again as the team to beat in the YMCA Men's Church Basketball League.

Jerry Olsen's 34 tallies paced Lake Orion while Gerland Spangler accounted for 21 in a losing effort.

Other results saw St. Luke Methodist and Pontiac Business Institute tie for third place with wins. PBI handled Elizabeth Lake Church of Christ, 58-33, despite Jim Joseph's 21 points.

Marshall Bishop dumped in 27 as St. Luke trimmed First Church of the Brethren, 64-36.

Wings' Lindsay in Controversy

Refusal to Pay Fines May Rate Suspension

MONTREAL (UPI) — Terrible Ted Lindsay, who was a frequent visitor to the National Hockey League doghouse during his prime years with the Detroit Red Wings, today was embroiled in his first controversy since coming out of retirement this season after a four-year layoff.

The storm center revolves around Lindsay's reported refusal to pay $75 in fines to the league office, which ordinarily is grounds for suspension.

The matter is expected to come to a head Wednesday when Lindsay meets with the NHL President Clarence Campbell before Detroit's game with the Canadiens in Montreal.

Lindsay, who gained a reputation as a terror of the NHL before retiring after the 1959-1960 season, was handed misconduct penalties in the Red Wings' Maple Leafs game in Toronto last Saturday night.

The penalties carry fines of $25 and $50, respectively, but Lindsay was quoted as saying after the game that he would tell Detroit coach and general manager Sid Abel not to pay the fines.

The procedure in most cases of fines is for the involved club to deduct the money from a player after being notified by league headquarters.

Campbell, who is planning to announce his decision Wednesday said Monday, "If he doesn't pay, he doesn't play."

Benton Harbor Five Step Ahead of PCH

Pontiac Central and Benton Harbor have resumed the basketball duel that started in last year's state tournament semifinals.

And PCH again is running second best to the Tigers — this time in the Associated Press' first weekly prep poll.

Benton Harbor ousted the Chiefs 83-77 in the tourney and the next night won the state Class A championship. A rematch in polls will have to suffice until the tournament rolls around again in March.

Three Teams Win in Waterford Loop

Waterford Township's Recreation Department opened its men's basketball program's regular season last night with O'Neil Realty, Frushour-Struble Realty and Gancia-Coate taking wins.

O'Neil opened American League competition by nipping Bill's Service, 55-53. The loser's Jim Chamberlain had 23 points while Dave Sturbie tallied 18 for O'Neil.

Frushour - Struble coasted against outmanned Dunstan's Floral, 74-23, behind Charley Robison's 28 markers.

Gancia-Coate downed Buckner Finance after leading, 32-25, at half. The final score was not reported.

The city's recreation adult cage program continued its practice slate with Lloyd Motors surprising Roy White's Unbeatable, 62-56, and The Students tripping the All-Stars, 69-26.

Illinois Rocks Indiana, 86-81

Hoosiers' First Loss Leaves 1 Unbeaten

The Hoosiers took a trip ... and then there was one.

Illinois, near invincible on its home floor, whipped next-door neighbor Indiana 86-81 Monday night, taking command in the Big Ten Conference race, ending the Hoosiers' nine-game winning streak and leaving Providence with the lone perfect record among major college basketball teams.

Providence ran its string to 9-0 with a 72-65 decision over little Fairfield, Conn., in a game that wasn't decided until the final minutes.

ROAD SHOWDOWN Illinois, which faces a road showdown at Michigan Saturday, squandered a 10-point halftime lead before pulling away. Skip Thoren broke a 73-73 tie in the closing minutes, triggering an eight-point run that wrapped up the victory.

Tal Brody led the winners with 23 points; Thoren scored 21 and Bogie Redmon, 20. Ron Peyser and Jon McGlocklin split 38 points for Indiana.

Kaline Signs for '65 With Cut in Pay

DETROIT (UPI) — Slugging outfielder Al Kaline took a $2,000 pay cut when he signed his 1965 contract with the Detroit Tigers, but bonus baby Bill Freehan today signed for a hefty raise.

Kaline, admittedly on the heels of his worst season in baseball, Monday signed for an estimated $60,000 for the next campaign, compared with his $62,000 salary last year.

Neither the terms of Kaline's nor Freehan's contracts were made public, but it was believed the 23-year-old catcher moved into the comfortable $30,000 neighborhood when he signed his 1965 agreement.

Freehan, who was signed from the University of Michigan campus to a $100,000 bonus contract in 1961, finished his second complete season with the Tigers in 1964 with a .300 batting average — the first Tiger Catcher to bat .300 since Mickey Cochrane.

He also slammed 18 home runs and posted a .994 fielding average, just one point below the Tiger club record and second for regular catchers in the American League.

Kaline, 30, injured his foot in spring training and it troubled him all season. He played in 136 games and made pinch-hitting appearances in 10 others. He batted .293, the third time since he won the league batting title in 1955 that he finished below the .300 mark.

The rightfielder also led the team in doubles with 31 and ended with a .469 slugging percentage. His injury did little to affect his fielding ability and he made only three errors all year and won his seventh "golden glove" award for fielding excellence.

The 1965 pact, although it includes a salary cut, still will leave Kaline the highest paid Tiger as he starts his 13th season with the club.

Despite the pay cut, Kaline said he had no complaints.

Boxing Boss Quits Post in State

LANSING (UPI) — Former boxer Frank A. Cavanaugh quit as commissioner of the State Athletic Board of Control today because of a political hassle over the firing of the man who had been secretary of the board.

Cavanaugh, 67, threw in the towel as boss of boxing and wrestling in Michigan just hours before he was to meet today with Gov. George Romney to discuss the situation.

The storm centered around the Oct. 30 dismissal of Negro James Burnett from a $6,000-a-year job as board secretary.

Burnett complained to the governor he was fired from his political appointment because he had refused to hang up posters booming the presidential candidacy of Republican Sen. Barry Goldwater.

But Cavanaugh told Romney at a meeting several weeks ago it was the quality of Burnett's work and not politics which caused the dismissal.

In a bitter letter of resignation Cavanaugh, a wealthy businessman who received $7,500-a-year as boxing commissioner, said, "I cannot in good conscience be a party to payment of $6,000 per annum of taxpayers' money to an employee whom I consider unreliable and incompetent."

The tart letter caught the executive office completely by surprise. One aide said, "The governor had made no decision at all. That was why he asked Cavanaugh to come in. He wanted to try and get it settled."

Some Are in Color

Many of Our Nights Filled With Dreams

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Many people who say they rarely dream actually do so quite often. The average person has from three to five dreams a night. Customarily, dreams are in black and white. But artists and others who deal with colors have a tendency to dream in color.

Speaking of sleep, it has been found that coffee before bedtime won't necessarily keep you awake. The biggest cause of insomnia: the nervous fear you won't be able to go to sleep.

You don't save much money going around your house turning off lights. Only one-third of home electricity bills are for lighting. The other two-thirds represent the cost of operating electrical appliances.

GOOD OLD DAYS

The good old days: 20 U.S. Army trucks required 56 days to make the first convoy crossing of the continent from Washington, D.C., to San Francisco in 1919. One of the officers in the historic journey was a young tank captain named Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Quotable notables: "The size of a man can be measured by the size of the thing that makes him angry." — J. K. Morley.

Machines are used to crush wine grapes in America, but in some parts of Europe they still are crushed by bare feet. The theory is that this adds oxygen to the pulp and the body heat helps quicken fermentation.

The effects of automation on the number of human jobs may be debatable, but there's no doubt what machinery has done to animal jobs. The 25-million horses and mules once used on U.S. farms largely have been replaced by 4.7-million tractors and 2.8-million trucks.

3 INSTRUMENTS

Can you name three musical instruments that change shape during a performance? Well, how about the accordion, trombone and bagpipe?

History lesson: Who was known as "Lemonade Lucy"? She was Lucy Ware Hayes, wife of President Rutherford B. Hayes. Both she and her husband were total abstainers, and Mrs. Hayes got her nickname because of her refusal to serve anything but soft drinks at White House functions.

Only 59 per cent of America is privately owned. The federal government administers 34 per cent of the land area, 5 per cent is owned by state and local governments, and about 2 per cent is in Indian reservations.

It was Helen Keller who observed, "Life is an exciting business and most exciting when it is lived for others."

Today's hand describes a very unusual play by the late Dorothy Sims that enabled her to defeat a six spade contract.

The bidding was that of the early 30s when the hand was played. South played a low diamond from dummy and noted that East played the nine. JACOBY He ruffed with the ace of trumps, led the eight of trumps to dummy's jack, ruffed a second diamond, drew trumps and led the seven of clubs. His plan was to finesse the ten spot, clear the diamonds, get back to dummy with the ace of clubs and claim a grand slam, but Dorothy stuck in the jack of clubs and South was short one entry and contract against any defense had to go down two tricks at his six contract.

Mart Up After BJ's Speech

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market advanced today, apparently inspired by President Johnson's State of the Union message.

Some brokers and investors appeared to see implications of bullishness in his outline of the Great Society program.

Trading was light.

DuPont, which will sell 23 million shares of General Motors stock Feb. 8 under a court order, bounced up more than 2 points, helping the averages.

General Motors sold off about half a point on a block of 10,000 shares.

ADVANCE

Steels, rubbers, electronics, chemicals and airlines advanced.

U.S. Steel and Jones & Laughlin added about half a point with Bethlehem and Republic tacking on lesser fractions.

Chrysler and Studebaker picked up minor fractions while Ford was off slightly.

AMERICAN EXCHANGE

Prices on the American Stock

Exchange advanced in quiet trading. American Book, Ohio Power preferred and Philips Electronics gained more than a point. Capital City Broadcasting lost about a point.

Corporate bonds were mixed and Treasuries advanced.

Prototype Set for Rigid Tests

DETROIT (AP)—The first prototype of an experimental cargo carrier termed "the most versatile wheeled vehicle the Army has ever developed" was on its way toward some rigorous testing today.

In offering that description of the 2,500-pound vehicle known as the XM561, its project manager, Maj. Robert L. Bergquist said it could be adapted to different missions with 10 modifications.

"For instance," he said, "it can be converted into a weapons carrier, firing platform for missiles and recoilless weapons, ambulance, command post, fire direction center and mobile communications center."

The six-wheeled prototype was developed by the Michigan Division of Ling Temco Vought under a $4 million contract from the Army Tank Automotive Center in Warren. It was built at the Michigan Army Missile Plant in suburban Sterling Township.

TOP SPEED

The Army said the vehicle has a top road speed of 55 m.p.h., and is about five feet high, 18 feet long and seven feet wide. "Its size and weight make it well suited for transport by aircraft or helicopter and air delivery by parachute," the Army said.

Watch Steel Firms for Clue to Economy

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—Steel is near the top of the list of problems the economy faces as the year starts.

The administration is worrying about the trends in steel prices, wages and stockpiling. Many businessmen are watching closely for a clue as to what could happen to their companies as a result of the moves in the steel industry. And most consumers could be affected directly or indirectly in time.

Price rises in some steel products led President Johnson to ask the chairman of his Council of Economic Advisers to make a study of the trend and see what, if anything, should or could be done about them.

Wage demands of the Steelworkers Union are watched to see if they will lead either to a strike that would unsettle the economy or to a spreading movement among other unions for much higher wages, and hence larger production costs, that could lay the groundwork for further inflation.

STOCK BUILDING

Stock building by steel consumers, already under way as a hedge against a possible strike or more price rises, seems sure to give the economy an artificial boost in the first months of 1965. Then, barring a strike, there would be a letdown later when steel users lived off their built-up inventories and stopped ordering more steel from the mills.

Profits play a dual role.

Union leaders cite rising profits of steel companies as proof they can afford to pay higher wages and confer more fringe benefits.

Management says profits are still too low. Steel executives contend their industry ranks near the bottom of the list of all industries in percentage of profits from sales or in return on investments.

This argument is used to justify the recent price increases.

LANSING (AP)—Industrial expansion announced in 1964 for Michigan totaled $1.56 billion, the state's Economic Expansion Department said Monday in a year-end report.

Manufacturers announced $1 billion in planned expansion, utilities $380 million and non-manufacturing concerns $180 million, said the report.

It predicted this would create 50,000 new manufacturing jobs and stimulate 75,000 nonmanufacturing jobs.

General Motors unveiled a $700 million, three-year plan including new plants at Tecumseh and Kalamazoo.

AT WOODHAVEN

Ford Motor Co. said it will build a 2.5-million-square-foot stamping plant at Woodhaven. Chrysler Corp. announced a stamping plant for Sterling Township.

THE OAKLAND COUNTY Court-house, long a Republican stronghold for elected officials, apparently was shaken to its foundation when a couple Democrats moved in yesterday.

A large portrait of the late President John F. Kennedy which the new Democratic Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson proudly displayed behind his desk, slipped off its hook and crashed to the floor.

The portrait was a gift of the Oakland County Democratic party and was given to Bronson when he was sworn in as the first Democrat to hold the post in 29 years.

In the chambers of Circuit Judge William J. Beer, a nautical scene given to him by his staff for Christmas several years ago, was also found shattered on the floor when he arrived to work.

The county's first Democratic Clerk-Register of Deeds John D. Murphy was a bit uneasy.

He was able to complete his first day on the job without a picture incident, but had ordered his portrait of JFK to be centered on the wall of his office.

LANSING (AP)—Sharply increased rates for companies doing about 40 per cent of Michigan's automobile insurance business were announced today by the State Insurance Commission.

An increase of 18.7 per cent in liability and property damage rates was approved for companies represented by the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters.

A 14.5 per cent increase was granted in physical damage rates for companies represented by the National Underwriters Association.

SOUGHT EARLIER

Insurance Commissioner Allen L. Mayerson announced the increases. He said the bureau asked the increases several months ago.

Companies belonging to the Underwriters Association handle 26 per cent of Michigan motorist insurance and companies in the National Bureau about 16 per cent, Mayerson said.

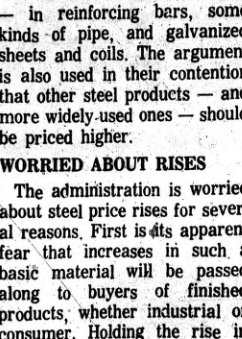

NOT AUTO CLUB

Prior to the announcement here, the Automobile Club of Michigan said it is not asking a rate increase despite what it called an "increasing accident and cost trend."

Paul R. Erickson, general manager of the club's insurance exchange, said no increase was being asked "at this time" though the situation was under study.

A request for an increase "might be inevitable" because of a rising accident frequency, Erickson said.

Erickson said that automobile traffic deaths increased from 1,473 in 1959 to 2,086 last year and injuries doubled while car repair costs also doubled. He said property damage costs rose 117 per cent and medical costs 500 per cent.

DAWSON

Price rises in some steel products led President Johnson to ask the chairman of his Council of Economic Advisers to make a study of the trend and see what, if anything, should or could be done about them.

Q "Recently, I inherited $2,000 in American Telephone stock. I also hold Beneficial Finance ($2,000) and National Biscuit ($500). I am able to invest $1,000 a year in additional stock with good growth potential. I have purchased $500 worth of Bell & Howell and would like to purchase Communications Satellite. Then I should like to stop diversifying and build up these last two holdings. Is this a wise plan?" B. A.

A) It is always dangerous to ignore the principle of diversification. Your holdings of American Telephone are disproportionate and I advise you to sell one-half of this stock and reinvest in Consolidated Foods, General Telephone and Merck and Co.

Bell & Howell's earnings have been down somewhat in recent years, and I would not build this holding to above 200 shares. Comsat is the big glamour stock of this era, but the price is high, erratic and vulnerable to decline. Buy only during periods of weakness.

Q "My husband will retire on a city pension in 10 years. At present we are investing $25 a week in E bonds and have already acquired $7,000. Should we continue buying E bonds or would we benefit more by switching to F.M. bonds?" F. M.

A) In your position, I would continue to buy E bonds. These accrue interest until maturity or redemption, but the Federal income tax on accruals may be deferred until either of those occurrences.

On H bonds, you pay Federal income tax each year, covering the annual interest payments. Both bonds offer the same yield and current issues have been guaranteed a 10-year extension, when due.

At age 65, you will have built up a tidy accrual on your E bonds and you can redeem these gradually during your period of lowest income and highest exemption.

$1 1/2 Billion Expansion in Industry

LANSING (AP)—Industrial expansion announced in 1964 for Michigan totaled $1.56 billion, the state's Economic Expansion Department said Monday in a year-end report.

Manufacturers announced $1 billion in planned expansion, utilities $380 million and non-manufacturing concerns $180 million, said the report.

It predicted this would create 50,000 new manufacturing jobs and stimulate 75,000 nonmanufacturing jobs.

General Motors unveiled a $700 million, three-year plan including new plants at Tecumseh and Kalamazoo.

AT WOODHAVEN

Ford Motor Co. said it will build a 2.5-million-square-foot stamping plant at Woodhaven. Chrysler Corp. announced a stamping plant for Sterling Township.

THE OAKLAND COUNTY Court-house, long a Republican stronghold for elected officials, apparently was shaken to its foundation when a couple Democrats moved in yesterday.

A large portrait of the late President John F. Kennedy which the new Democratic Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson proudly displayed behind his desk, slipped off its hook and crashed to the floor.

The portrait was a gift of the Oakland County Democratic party and was given to Bronson when he was sworn in as the first Democrat to hold the post in 29 years.

In the chambers of Circuit Judge William J. Beer, a nautical scene given to him by his staff for Christmas several years ago, was also found shattered on the floor when he arrived to work.

The county's first Democratic Clerk-Register of Deeds John D. Murphy was a bit uneasy.

He was able to complete his first day on the job without a picture incident, but had ordered his portrait of JFK to be centered on the wall of his office.

LANSING (AP)—Sharply increased rates for companies doing about 40 per cent of Michigan's automobile insurance business were announced today by the State Insurance Commission.

An increase of 18.7 per cent in liability and property damage rates was approved for companies represented by the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters.

A 14.5 per cent increase was granted in physical damage rates for companies represented by the National Underwriters Association.

SOUGHT EARLIER

Insurance Commissioner Allen L. Mayerson announced the increases. He said the bureau asked the increases several months ago.

Companies belonging to the Underwriters Association handle 26 per cent of Michigan motorist insurance and companies in the National Bureau about 16 per cent, Mayerson said.

NOT AUTO CLUB

Prior to the announcement here, the Automobile Club of Michigan said it is not asking a rate increase despite what it called an "increasing accident and cost trend."

Paul R. Erickson, general manager of the club's insurance exchange, said no increase was being asked "at this time" though the situation was under study.

A request for an increase "might be inevitable" because of a rising accident frequency, Erickson said.

Erickson said that automobile traffic deaths increased from 1,473 in 1959 to 2,086 last year and injuries doubled while car repair costs also doubled. He said property damage costs rose 117 per cent and medical costs 500 per cent.

Mississippi Goods Cut by Store Chain

FLINT (UPI)—A Michigan department store chain says it will no longer carry products manufactured or originating in the state of Mississippi.

Joseph Megdell, president of Yankee Distributors, Inc., which operates 18 mass merchandising stores in eight Michigan cities, said he has instructed his buyers to make certain that the items they purchase are not made in Mississippi.

He said he acted because of the "terrorism that is so prevalent in Mississippi" in regards to the racial situation.

Megdell, who also is president of the Urban League in Flint, said his stores do more than $250,000 annual business with Mississippi firms.

"When the day comes that terrorism that is so prevalent in Mississippi no longer exists, and when justice will be dispensed equally in all its citizens, we will again be in the market for merchandise that originates from Mississippi," Megdell said.

Deny New Attorney for Gravlin

Dissatisfied with his present court-appointed attorney, William G. Gravlin, accused slayer of all seven members of his family, yesterday was denied a request to have another defense lawyer named.

Circuit Judge James S. Thornburn said he would not name another attorney and if Gravlin wanted other counsel he would have to pay for it.

In his petition to have Robert Rann of Royal Oak dismissed as his attorney, Gravlin, 30, asked Judge Thornburn to contact three choices as a replacement, two are nationally prominent criminal attorneys and the third is a Pennsylvania Supreme Court judge.

Gravlin who filed the motion for dismissal himself told Judge Thornburn that he could not receive a fair trial because Rann was "prejudiced."

Rann said Gravlin was interpreting what he had said and felt that the interpretation had nothing to do with preparing the case.

Gravlin said that he would conduct his own defense until another attorney was appointed but Judge Thornburn advised him against it.

The trial is scheduled to begin Jan. 19 with the start of the new jury term.

Gravlin is charged with first-degree murder in connection with the Sept. 27 ax, hammer and shotgun deaths of his wife, daughter, and five stepchildren.

The killings took place in the Gravlin home at 2121 Garson, Troy. The vacant home was destroyed by fire recently.

Teen Gets 60 Days
for Burglary Role

A Garden City teen-ager was sentenced yesterday to 60 days in the Oakland County Jail and placed on three years probation for his part in the burglary of an Avon Township gas station.

The sentence was imposed on David E. Kahn, 18, by Circuit Judge Arthur E. Moore. Moore sentenced Kahn's accomplice, Ronald S. Edmonds, 18, also of Garden City, to 1-10 years in the state prison at Jackson on Dec. 22.

The pair had pleaded guilty on Dec. 11 to breaking and entering.

They were arrested Oct. 30 by sheriff's deputies who apprehended them inside the Auburn-John R. Sunoco service station at 102 Auburn.

Hurt in Crash

A Pontiac girl is in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital after an auto accident on N. Perry at 10:10 last night.

Judy Nelson, 18, of 853 Woodland was injured when the car in which she was riding went out of control and struck a fire hydrant and a telephone pole.

The driver of the car, Rebecca Vreones, 17, of 713 Livingstone was treated at the hospital and released.

The 240 million pounds of shrimp caught by United States fishermen last year was valued at $70 million.

Tentative Approval Given to Pensions in Waterford

Waterford Township Board members last night gave preliminary approval to a pension program for township employees at a cost of $27,525 to the township the first year.

The board directed that a trust agreement be prepared and presented for consideration at a future board meeting. Approval of this agreement by the board would activate the pension program.

Funds for the pension plan which would cover employees other than police and firemen were earmarked in the 1965 budget when it was approved last fall.

A similar appropriation was set up in the preliminary 1964 budget but later deleted when board members decided to use the money to hire more police and firemen.

Early in 1964 a committee of employees was formed to study various pension programs. Its goal was to recommend to the board the plan it found would offer adequate provisions for employees at the least cost to the township.

'GOOD PLAN'
Calvin Patterson, an attorney who volunteered his services to the committee as a consultant, termed the program recommended to the board an excellent one.

One of its outstanding features is that no direct administrative cost is involved Patterson said.

He acknowledged that all pension plans have some hidden administrative cost and that many charge as much as five per cent of the total package as a direct administrative fee.

Other features of the plan pointed out by Patterson are an immediate death benefit of two times the normal annual salary and a guaranteed monthly pension payment for ten years after retirement even if the pensioner dies.

USED TWO YEARS
Employees with two years service who are at least 25 years old are eligible to participate in the pension program. The plan would pay from 28 to 56 per cent of salary in pension benefits.

Answering an inquiry from Township Supervisor James E. Seeterlin, Patterson said that

at Plan Board

Waterford Township's planning consultants will present an amended draft of the zoning ordinance tonight to the Planning Commission.

The ordinance is expected to be referred to the planning staff for review and a recommendation for commission action at its Feb. 2 meeting.

Also slated for tonight's meeting is a progress report by the consultants on the comprehensive plan for the township.

In other action, the commission will review applications for the position of planning director.

Vern Wiggins has been serving as acting director since the resignation of director Robert Dieball last November.

Setting a date for the annual Planning Commission meeting is also on tonight's agenda.

the program could include elected full-time officials as well as other township employees.

All participants in the program will contribute three per cent of their earnings.

Optional details of the pension program will be worked out by the employee committee and the trust agreement then will be drafted by Confederation Life Insurance Agency for presentation to the board.

A pension plan, similar to the one proposed last night for general township employees, already is in effect for police and fire personnel.

In other business at last night's meeting, Township Board members approved the low bid of $3,871 submitted by Bill Spence Inc. for two cars for the building department.

Bids were opened a week ago and referred to the clerk and building department superintendent for study.

The board also called for written reports from the police and fire departments on the status of all Class C liquor licenses in the township.

Each year the board reviews the license holders and recommends to the Liquor Control Commission either renewal or denial of renewal.

THE LIVING
THE LIVING

in a Blue Star Gas Home!

Every member of the family shares and enjoys the comfort and convenience of a Blue Star Gas Home. Clean, compact Gas furnaces allow basements to become recreation rooms and clean-burning Gas heat saves on fuel and cleaning costs... it offers the advantages of greater efficiency, more convenience and trouble-free operation.

For cooking, refrigeration, clothes drying, water heating, incineration and house heating, economical Natural Gas is the natural choice for thrifty, busy families.

Check the many outstanding features of the Blue Star Gas Home and you'll discover that you can live better for less... when you choose GAS.

Nerve Deafness
Can Be Helped!

Nerve deafness is the principal cause of hearing impairment. There is no treatment or surgical operation that will cure Nerve Deafness. People that say "I can hear but can't understand" usually suffer from nerve deafness. We have available a brochure telling the inside story of nerve deafness. Write to The Pontiac Press, Box No. 33.

Prepared to serve any creed—equipped to serve you anywhere in our nation.

Card of Thanks

WE WISH TO THANK OUR friends and relatives for their acts of kindness and floral offerings during our recent bereavement in the loss of our beloved husband, Russell McCullum, Special Thanks to Rev. W. L. Venable, Funeral Home, Mrs. H. McCullum and family.

WE WISH TO THANK ALL OUR many friends, neighbors and relatives for their many kindnesses shown us in our recent loss of our darling little granddaughter, Lynn Lynn McCullum. Also our special thanks to the policemen and gas station attendants for their help and aid. Also the hospital, doctors and nurses for their kindness. These will never be forgotten. May God bless all of you. Grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Venable.

Hollywood Kissing Rates More Than Mere Lip Service

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—This is an anniversary of sorts, marking the 20th year the above byline has appeared atop a Hollywood column.

Does such an occasion call for a sweeping survey of two turbulent decades in the movie world? Possibly. But I prefer to present a thesis on a subject that is, I believe, untouched in the literature of Hollywood: the kissing of actresses.

I discovered early that kissing is a normal form of greeting among entertainment folk. Actresses have been known to kiss telegram boys. Comedians kiss each other at testimonial banquets. Cowboys kiss their horses, but that is an entirely different matter.

While I recognize that it is considered bad form to kiss and tell, I believe the full facts, including real names, should be included in this paper. And I hope this does not appear to be bragging on my part.

CUSTOM COUNTS

The recipient of the kiss is of small concern; it is the custom that counts. It has been reported, and I see no reason to doubt it, that Judy Garland has kissed the entire backstage crew upon exiting from a singing performance.

My introduction to the local custom was traumatic. Newly married, I was standing with my wife in the lobby of the Biltmore Theater between acts of a play. Betty Hutton, who was between husbands at the time, walked up with a noisy greeting and planted a kiss on my lips.

"Meet Betty Grable," I said nervously to my wife, wiping the plentiful lipstick from my face.

Miss Hutton is an on-the-mouth kisser, a rarity in Hollywood where actresses must be ever mindful of their makeup.

COMMON FORMS

The most common forms are:

1. The cheek-to-cheek double pucker. The two parties rub cheeks and emit simultaneous smacking sounds. This is one of the more affectionate greetings and among its able practitioners are Lana Turner and Ann Southern. Hazard: the male can end up with a hard-to-explain lipstick smudge on his ear.

2. The cheek-to-cheek single pucker. A more formal procedure, the actress tilts her chin to receive the kiss on her cheek but does not respond. This is the method employed by Bette Davis, although I frankly have been too scared of her to try it.

3. The across-a-crowded-room kiss. The long-distance greeting, most frequently used in studio commissaries, is a simple pucker directed from one table to another. A noncontact kiss is never thrown, except by Dinah Shore on television.

4. The European decoration. "You may kiss me Continental-style," said Olivia de Havilland when I saw her recently. She offered both cheeks for a double kiss, like that of a soldier and a French general, only better. This method is employed by many who come from or live in Europe, especially the Latin countries.

ADEPT STYLE

The accomplished kisser must learn to adapt his style to the individual actress and, most importantly, to fathom her mood. Elizabeth Taylor in a sentimental moment can provide a warm embrace. But, when peeved at Richard Burton, she can present a chilly cheek.

Some closing maxims for the beginner: Never kiss a method actress; be wary of starlets, who may be unfamiliar with the custom; always wipe your cheek before going home.

Police Hunt for Motive in Killing of Detroit

DETROIT (UPI) — Police today searched for a motive in the slaying of a widower who was found shot and beaten to death yesterday in his home on the city's east side.

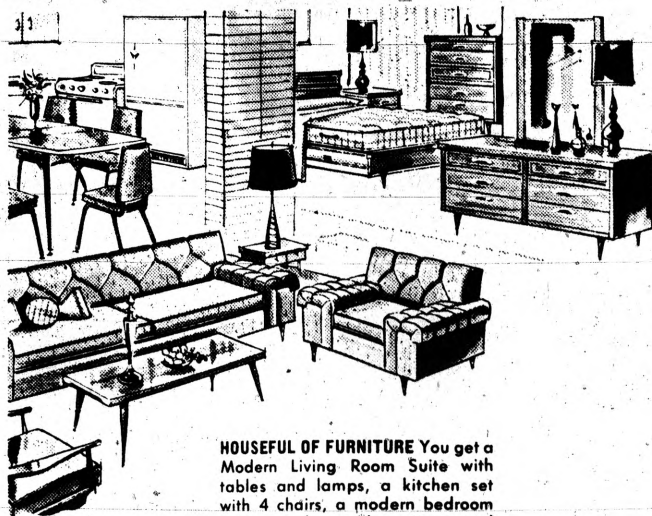

Frank Mielke, 69, had been shot in the chest and severely beaten about the head according to a medical examiner's report which said he apparently had been killed late Sunday evening.

Trial Today for Collegians After Sit-In

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The first groups of protesting University of California students — temporarily placated in their controversy over student political freedom — faced trial today on charges stemming from a sit-in staged to gain more on-campus freedom.

Campus leaders said Monday they were "cautiously optimistic" about settlement of the battle which has spanned four restless months, resulted in arrests of 784 demonstrators and now is highlighted by the naming of a new chancellor for the Berkeley campus.

Most of those arrested Dec. 3 in a Free Speech Movement sit-in at Sproul Hall were due in Berkeley Municipal Court today to enter pleas on charges of resisting arrest, refusing to disperse and disturbing the peace. Of those charged, 590 were Berkeley campus students, 50 teaching assistants and 130 non-students. The remaining were juveniles, not charged as adults.

GROUPS OF 50
The court was to process the defendants in groups of 50. It is expected to take two or three days for the pleas to be entered. Students say the basic issue is over their demand for a "free University of California" run by a faculty-student government.

Council Session Will Start Sept. 14

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The fourth and final session of the Vatican Ecumenical Council will start next Sept. 14, the Vatican press office announced today.

The date was set by Pope Paul VI.
The council, first to be held by the Roman Catholic Church in 92 years, was convened by Pope John XXIII on Oct. 11, 1962. It has met annually each fall for two months since then.

"We were all ham enough to think we were getting a big reception. Then I realized there were no cameras — no one looking at us."
Jill said the trip took off from Saigon Airport about five minutes ahead of some more bombs.
Hope's comment: "I don't mind those 21-gun salutes but not when they aim the cannons at the plane."

The actress said there is an unseen enemy.
"You don't know if your waiter is Viet Cong. It's an enemy which doesn't wear uniforms."

On Christmas Day, most of the troupe wanted to go to Mass at the cathedral. Security said no. Mass was said in the hotel.

DRASTIC CHANGE
The Viet Nam part of the trip was a drastic change from the previous stop in Thailand.
"We were entertained at the palace by the king and queen. The king, of course, is a noted jazz buff. Les Brown's band played and so did the king's own personal band."

"I was asked to demonstrate the new American dances. I can now say that I introduced the Frug, the Monkey, the Jerk and the Swim to this fairytale land. I don't know whether I contributed to culture or not."

Ex-M.I.T. Prof Dies
NORWICH, Vt. (AP) — Erwin Haskell Scheil, 75, professor emeritus of industrial management at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, died Sunday after a long illness. Scheil, who had taught at M.I.T. for 38 years, was born in Kalamazoo, Mich.

The 474 fatalities during the New Year weekend compared to the previous high of 375 for a similar three-day holiday in 1959-60 and topped the record of 409 set in a four-day weekend in 1955-56.
There were 578 persons killed in traffic accidents during the three-day Christmas period, the second largest total for that type of holiday.

Under Sonic Booms

Chicago Is 'Rocking'

CHICAGO (AP) — Burglar alarms went off, dishes shattered and at least one dog went berserk.

Aside from that, Chicago escaped unscathed Monday from its first exposure to intentionally inflicted sonic booms.

The sound of a flight of Strategic Air Command B58 Hustlers on a simulated bombing run was "about equal to a lively cocktail party," said Joseph F.

Fitzgerald Jr., assistant city building commissioner.

Fitzgerald rigged a noise meter in the window of a downtown building. He said it recorded a noise level of 101 decibels, slightly below the measurement that causes the human ear to start hurting.

Area residents reported that two booms which shook the South Side were dull rumbles in the Loop — the city's center — and were not heard at all in many suburbs.

A South Side resident, Emma Wogan, said her Manchester terrier, Susie, "went nuts" but calmed down "after running around barking and howling for about five minutes."

One blast set off the centralized burglar alarm system at the Cook County sheriff's police station in Homewood, a southern suburb.

The booms were the first of about 200 which Chicagoans can expect during the next three months as B58 crews practice bombing targets in the area, which an Air Force spokesman says closely resembles an unnamed potential enemy target.

He said another reason for choosing Chicago bombing runs was that the city is protected by the Army's Nike anti-aircraft missiles. The missilemen plot the incoming jets and get practice in zeroing in on supersonic targets.

Change Jails for Dixie White

ORANGEBURG, S.C. (UPI)—A young white man, being held in connection with the fatal stabbing of a Negro youth during a sidewalk brawl, was transferred to the state penitentiary yesterday "for his own safety."

The prisoner, Ronald Cherry, 21, was guarded by city policemen and agents of the State Law Enforcement Division on the 40-mile trip to the prison in Columbia.

Many Negro prisoners in the past have been taken to out-of-town jails for their own safety but it was the first time veteran local citizens could recall that a white prisoner was transferred for that reason.

Police officials insisted the move was only "general precautionary measure."

Cherry was being held on an open charge in the Sunday night killing of Leroy Pauling growing out of a sidewalk scuffle on Broughton Street, a main thoroughfare two blocks from main street and in the downtown business section, police said.

Negroes and whites questioned in the city said they could not understand why the young white was moved to the state penitentiary.

Police said they received no telephone calls or messages threatening Cherry's life. Neither were crowds of whites or Negroes reported forming in the town.

Nigerian Crisis Cools

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Nigeria's president and prime minister said last night they have settled the crisis over last week's controversial election that threatened to break up the Nigerian federation.

President Nnamdi Azikiwe asked Prime Minister Sir Abubakar Tafawa Balewa to form a "broadly-based national government" on the basis of last Wednesday's balloting, which opposition parties boycotted after Balewa refused to postpone the election.

Azikiwe, an easterner and former leader of the largest party in the opposition United Progressive Grand Alliance (UPGA), said elections would be held "as soon as possible" in areas where no balloting took place because of the boycott.

This includes all of Eastern and parts of Midwestern Nigeria.

The balloting also will be re-examined in districts where such a small number voted as to make "a mockery" of the election, the president said.

In constituencies where the opposition charged that nomination irregularities took place, the matter will be taken to court, Azikiwe said.

Cold Aids West's Flood Areas

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Cold weather that has descended on northern California is proving to be a blessing, although it isn't making the task of cleaning up after the Christmas week floods any easier for victims.

Despite continuing rain and snow in the flood-stricken area, new floods are not expected. Flood forecaster Ivan Anderson of Eureka says residents can thank the cold weather.

"As long as the cold air conditions continue, we're all right," Anderson said Monday.

He is assigned by the Weather Bureau to watch the water levels of the Eel, Mad, Redwood, Klamath and Smith rivers.

NO NEW DANGER

"At the present time we're not expecting any new danger," Anderson said. "Only an unforeseen recurrence of warm rain, hour after hour after hour, would trigger new floods in the area."

The Christmas week floods that did an estimated $500 million worth of damage in Northern California alone, were largely blamed on warm rains that melted mountain snow packs into already swollen rivers.

Anderson said, "Most areas are now under a half inch of daily rain."

This is routine for the season and contrasts with December, he said, when one location on the Eel River had 29 inches of rain in five days.

SNOW BLANKET

Anderson said that the snow blanket, which totals four to five feet in the coastal range, will hold rain like a sponge.

Civil Defense officials have announced that Humboldt County's food shortage has been solved for the present.

LBJ Proposes Many-Sided Program

Hopes High for 'Great Society'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The lopsidedly Democratic Congress embarked with high optimism today on the legislative journey that President Johnson called "the beginning of the road to the Great Society."

Shortly before a cheering joint session received Johnson's State of the Union message, Congress broke down some of its own historic legislative barriers that might have blocked the way.

Rich in prose but barren of details, the presidential message presented a series of preambles, not detailed programs.

His specific new proposals for a nation that is "free, restless, growing and full of hope," Johnson said, will be spelled out in special messages over the next six weeks.

The House and Senate Democratic leaders, who bear responsibility for seeing the program through, liked it.

CAN UNDERSTAND

"Attainable goals . . . which all Americans can understand and appreciate," said Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana. "I predict the achievements . . . will be monumental," said Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma, the House Democratic leader.

Key committee chairmen were brimming with optimism. "I think we're of a mind to give him anything he wants," said Rep. William L. Dawson, D-Ill., whose government operations committee will handle housing and urban problems.

Most Republicans took the line, however, that the message was a series of something-for-everybody promises which cannot be financed without deficits.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., condemned it as a "frightening package of generalities and omissions" and an attempt to achieve "a mythological Socialist Utopia."

HAND STRENGTHENED

Johnson's hand was strengthened, only a few hours after the new Congress convened yesterday, by a 224-201 House vote changing a rule which has prevented many a Democratic measure from getting to a vote.

The decision was a blow at the House Rules Committee and its chairman, conservative Rep. Howard W. Smith, D-Va., who sometimes sits on measures favored by liberals.

Henceforth the rules committee may hold a bill only 21 days; then the speaker may decide whether it is to be brought to the floor for a vote.

Another rules change empowers a majority of the House to send bills to a Senate-House conference for adjustment of differences between the two chambers.

Rusk to Hear Viet Questions From Senators

Foreign Relations Committee to Quiz Secretary of State

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk faces sharp Senate questioning today on U.S. policy in South Viet Nam.

In his first briefing of the new congressional session, Rusk goes before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The closed meeting was arranged primarily for a report on problems of the Congo and the Soviet Union's refusal to pay its U.N. peace-keeping assessments.

Committee members said in advance, however, they would explore the situation in South Viet Nam on the basis of President Johnson's assertion in his State of the Union message the United States will not break its 10-year-old pledge to help that country "against Communist aggression."

Johnson declared that U.S. security is tied to peace in Asia and peace will come to South Viet Nam "only when aggressors leave their neighbors in peace."

CRITIC SPEAKS

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., a member of the committee and a leading critic of Southeast Asia policy, said Johnson's statements did not "camouflage successfully the illegality under international law of unjustified American unilateral military action in South Viet Nam."

"The country must now look to an aroused public opinion to stop the killing of American boys," he said in an interview.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, another member, said the United States must overcome "the tendency of overintervention in the internal affairs of both South Viet Nam and the Congo."

PLANS INTERRUPTED

In Saigon, the U.S. Embassy declared today that plans to extend the war against the Viet Cong have been interrupted by the military purge Dec. 20 of the high National Council.

However, the statement said that U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor was not demanding that the Vietnamese accept any particular formula for resolving the political crisis caused by the military move.

At Binh Gia, scene of heavy fighting in the last week, the South Vietnamese deployed more soldiers around the town and a counter offensive against the Viet Cong appeared to be under way.

New Soviet Leaders Are Invited to U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a dramatic move to open a new era of friendly relations with the Soviet Union, President Johnson has issued an informal invitation to the new Soviet leaders to visit the United States.

He is prepared to consider favorably an invitation to make a trip to the Soviet Union.

Dems Are In, GOP Is Out; It's Shattering

The Oakland County Court-house, long a Republican stronghold for elected officials, apparently was shaken to its foundation when a couple Democrats moved in yesterday.

A large portrait of the late President John F. Kennedy which the new Democratic Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson proudly displayed behind his desk, slipped off its hook and crashed to the floor.

The portrait was a gift of the Oakland County Democratic party and was given to Bronson when he was sworn in as the first Democrat to hold the post in 29 years.

In the chambers of Circuit Judge William J. Beer, a natural scene given to him by his staff for Christmas several years ago, was also found shattered on the floor when he arrived to work.

The county's first Democratic Clerk-Register of Deeds John D. Murphy was a bit uneasy. He was able to complete his first day on the job without a picture incident, but had ordered his portrait of JFK to be centered on the wall of his office.

4 Pct. Savings Now at Community Bank

A. C. Girard, president and chairman of the board of Community National Bank, announced today on behalf of the Board of Directors, that the bank will pay 4 per cent on all savings accounts effective Jan. 1.

"This will mean an additional $650,000 in income to the depositors of community," said Girard.

The bank also reported 1964 earnings of $1,248,000 or $3.44 a share. Resources at yearend were in excess of $150 million.

Asks Congress for Education Funds, Tax Cut

Wants to Increase Poverty War, Add to Civil Rights Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has told Congress and the nation he wants a big new education program, a substantial cut in excise taxes, increased attacks on poverty and disease and another round of civil rights legislation.

But even as Johnson called last night in his State of the Union message for increased attention to problems at home, he opened the door to face-to-face talks with the new leaders of the Soviet Union by suggesting they visit the United States.

He said he wants to make visits of his own this year to Europe and Latin America.

Johnson's 4,000-word message, read personally at an unusual evening session of Congress, was broadcast by radio and television networks.

In the crowded House chamber, at least, it was well-re-

Few problems, foreign or domestic, were omitted from the chief executive's 47-minute address, which prompted Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen to call it "a glowing blueprint for paradise."

Firm to Build at City Airport

Plans to construct a $100,000 headquarters building at Pontiac Municipal Airport were announced today by Detroit Aircraft Supply, Inc., a wholesale distributor of aviation products and instrument overhaul firm.

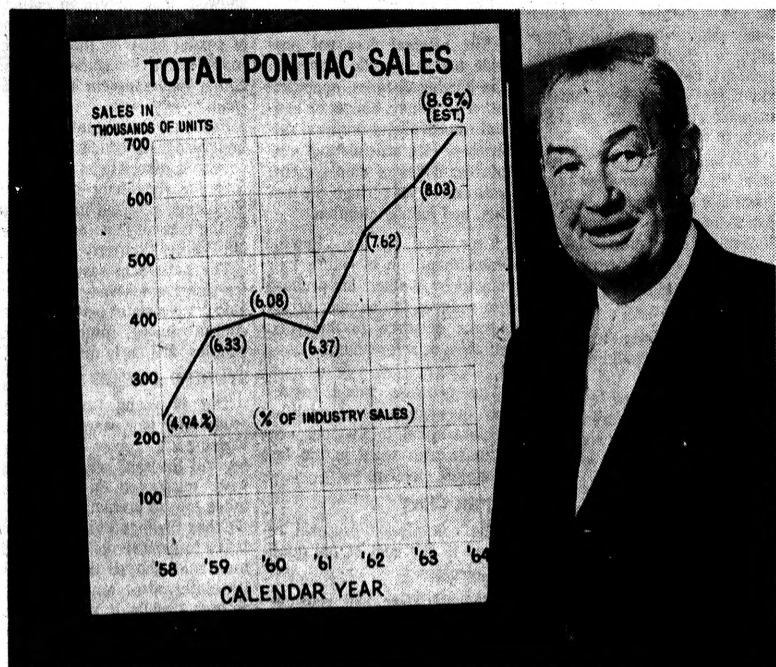

Gino L. Cantele, president of the company, said that construction of the one-story, 6,400-square-foot building will begin in about six weeks with completion slated for May 1.

Discussing plans for the new facility in the office of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, Cantele said that his firm acquired the building site at Airport and Dwight after a survey indicated that the Pontiac area offered the greatest growth potential of several communities studied.

Detroit Aircraft Supply, Inc., presently located in Detroit, is owned by Steve Stranahan of Toledo, a member of the family which owns the Champion Spark Plug Company.

Cantele said that the proposed building will house the most modern instrument overhaul facility in the country. Presently it has 15 employees but 25 are anticipated following the move to the Pontiac area.

The firm, which does business in a 40-state area, is wholesale distributor for various aviation products ranging from nuts and bolts to $3,000 radios, Cantele said.

UP AND OVER — Frank V. Bridge, Pontiac's general sales manager, has ample reason to smile. His division, selling in third place for the fifth consecutive year, has just topped the 690,000 sales mark for a calendar year, thus breaking the previous record high for a 12-month period of 617,506 set in 1963.

Pontiac Sales Set New Record in '64

Sale of Pontiacs in the 1964 calendar year set an all-time record, it was announced today by E. M. Estes, general manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

A total of 693,673 cars were sold during the 12-month period, an increase of 12 per cent over the 1963 total of 617,506.

December sales also set a new record for the month. Estes said 75,425 Pontiacs and Tempests were sold in December, an increase of 32 per cent over the previous record set in the same month a year ago.

Sales in the last 10 days totaled 26,084, also a new record and an increase of 57 per cent over the same period in 1963, Estes said.

"Our dealers did an outstanding selling job during the year," Estes said.

City Employees List Requests

9-Point Wage, Benefit Program Presented

A nine-point program of wage and fringe benefits for 1965 was unveiled yesterday by the Joint Council of Municipal Employees.

In spelling out the city employee wage requests, Joint Council Chairman Jack Douglas said that "for too long city employees have felt they are second class citizens."

Douglas added that city improvements have been put before the welfare of city workers.

Requesting a meeting with City Manager Joseph A. Warren, the Joint Council asked for:

- Cost of living allowance — or — 10 cents an hour across the board wage increase;
 - Longevity, (added pay for job tenure);
 - Night shift premium pay;
 - Fully paid hospitalization insurance for retirees;
 - Birthdays off with pay;
 - Full day holiday pay before Christmas and New Year's Day;
 - Pay day every week. (city)

Cloud Cover Hovers Over Pontiac Area

Clouds will keep the sun well-covered through Thursday, says the weatherman.

Temperatures will drop late this afternoon and evening. A low of 24 to 30 is forecast for tonight. Tomorrow also will be on the cool side with a high of 30 to 36 expected. Slightly warmer weather will be here Thursday.

This morning's low mercury reading was 27. At 1 p.m. the thermometer recorded 39 in downtown Pontiac.

Drop Plan for Reserve Site Here

Plans for construction of a $500,000 Army Reserve training facility at the Oakland County Service Center have been scrapped as a result of federal defense cutbacks.

Daniel T. Murphy, chairman of the County Board of Auditors, was notified yesterday by Sixth Corps Headquarters in Battle Creek that negotiations for a construction site would be discontinued.

Ralph Manning, civilian engineering representative of Sixth Corps, told Murphy that he was acting on orders from Fifth Army Headquarters in Chicago.

Sixth Corps is the administrative headquarters of Pontiac's two reserve units.

A long-term lease on 3.75 acres at the northwest corner of Telegraph and Pontiac Lake roads had been given formal approval by the county buildings and grounds committee.

Cancellation of the Pontiac project and several others planned in Michigan is the result of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's plan to disband the nation's Army Reserve units.

However, the statement said that U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor was not demanding that the Vietnamese accept any particular formula for resolving the political crisis caused by the military move.

At Binh Gia, scene of heavy fighting in the last week, the South Vietnamese deployed more soldiers around the town and a counter offensive against the Viet Cong appeared to be under way.

T. S. ELIOT

Private Service for Noted Poet

LONDON (AP) — A private funeral service is planned for T. S. Eliot, one of the 20th century's greatest poets.

Eliot, 76, a native of the United States and a British subject since 1927, died at his home in London Monday night. The cause of death was not announced.

A voice of the "Lost Generation" between the world wars, Eliot revolutionized poetry and also was a noted critic and successful playwright. He won the Nobel Prize for literature in 1948.

The same year he was awarded the Order of Merit, one of Britain's highest honors. Last year he received the U.S. Medal of Freedom, highest civil honor the president can bestow.

BEST KNOWN

Eliot's best known poem was "The Waste Land," published in 1922. Other major poems included "The Love Song of J. Alfred Prufrock" (1917), "The Hollow Men" (1925), "Ash Wednesday" (1930) and "The Cocktail Party," in 1950.

"The Waste Land" depicted an age of uncertainty, despair, squalor and decay through which a wanderer struggled in the hope of finding an abiding faith but met only disillusionment.

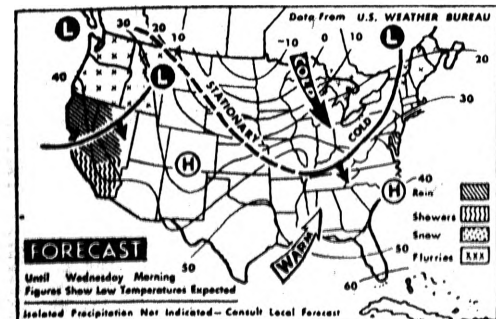

Eliot later was converted to Anglo-Catholicism and came to believe there was a way out of the waste land. In "Murder in the Cathedral" and "The Cocktail Party" he developed the thesis that Western man must choose between a pagan society and a way of life guided by Christian principles.

The son of a St. Louis brick manufacturer, Eliot was educated at Harvard and the Sorbonne in Paris. After 1914 he made his home in London. He taught for a time at a boys' school, worked for seven years in a bank, and then settled down at Faber & Faber, one of Britain's leading publishing houses, as a full-time director. He did his writing after hours.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Snow flurries are predicted tonight in the Pacific Northwest, the northern Plateau, the western Lakes area and northern New England, with rain in the central and south Pacific Coast. It will be colder from the north and central Plains to the Lakes area and warmer in the Northwest and from the southern Plains to the East Coast.

Commission Drops Study on Taverns

An intensive study to help settle the long-standing question of upgrading tavern licenses in Pontiac was rejected last night by a majority of the City Commission.

Meeting at an informal session, the commission reviewed a three-month study by a five-man citizens advisory committee.

After discussing the procedures outlined for upgrading taverns to Class C status, the commission split on whether to go ahead and end up dropping further consideration of the study.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr., said that he would announce the commission's decision at tonight's regular public meeting.

According to city hall records, Pontiac has 36 Class C licenses (liquor, beer and wine in the glass), 18 tavern licenses (beer and wine in the glass), and two Class B hotel licenses (liquor by the glass).

CITY HAS QUOTA

Under state regulations, each city is given a quota of liquor by the glass licenses on the basis of population. Pontiac is entitled to 55 licenses that permit liquor by the glass.

Thus, 11 of the city's 18 tavern licenses could be upgraded to the Class C status. This is what the citizens committee studied.

Appointed in June, the committee presented its recommendations last September. The committee said:

● Priority for upgrading should be given to applicants with the longest continuous operation.

● In addition to a record of sound operation, the applicant must have held the tavern license for three years prior to application for upgrading.

● Any record of arrest and conviction, except traffic violations, should render the applicant ineligible for one year.

● Only one Class C should be issued per block, excluding establishments across the street.

● Consideration should be given to the proximity of manufacturing plants at the time of upgrading.

● Only three tavern licenses should be upgraded each year.

U. of M. Eyes 28,000

ANN ARBOR (AP) — University of Michigan Registrar Edward G. Groesbeck said Monday he expected an enrollment of more than 28,000 for the second semester of this year. This would be about 1,000 less than the first semester figure.

until the state-regulated quota is met.

Other guidelines from the citizens committee set rules for the operation of the upgraded taverns.

The citizens committee was headed by Philip Sauer, a downtown restaurant owner.

Other members were John Cowe, prominent Pontiac businessman; Dr. Milton H. Bank, pastor of Central Methodist Church; Mitchell Bacow, a local attorney; and John A. Riley, Pontiac Press advertising director.

Mayor Taylor said the committee met on a weekly basis from June to September, seeking a solution to the question of upgrading tavern licenses.

Cut Speed Limit on Area Road

A speed limit reduction on North Cass Lake Road from 40 to 35 miles per hour will become effective as soon as new signs can be placed between Cass - Elizabeth and Pontiac Lake Road.

The announcement from the Oakland County Road Commission was read at last night's meeting of the Waterford Township Board by Clerk Elmer Fangbener.

Determination of the new limit, which is not as low as what a home owners group in the area had sought, was made after two traffic surveys, according to the letter.

The surveys indicated a limit under 35 miles per hour would be unrealistic, the letter said.

Led by Al Collins of 945 Elira, residents of the North Cass Lake Road area began pressing for a reduction to 25 miles per hour after a 9-year-old boy was struck by a car and killed election day.

REQUEST DENIED

When their request was denied by the road commission, the group appeared at the Nov. 9 Township Board meeting and asked the board to use its influence in effecting the reduction.

Collins said the group would lie in the street if the requested reduction was not granted.

Following the initial traffic survey, the survey team recommended a reduction to 35 miles per hour but it was indicated then that if the township provided adequate local enforcement, a reduction to 30 would be approved.

To Stand Trial in Knife Death

Coy Hopkins, 38, of 314 Wessen yesterday was ordered to stand trial in Oakland County Court for murder in the fatal stabbing of Robert Rush, 59, of 596 Nebraska.

Rush died at Pontiac General Hospital on Aug. 1, one week after suffering the knife wound.

Circuit Judge Arthur E. Moore entered an innocent plea for Hopkins, who stood mute to the charge. No trial date was set.

Open House at City YWCA

The Pontiac YWCA will hold an open house at its two buildings — present and future — on Thursday, from 3 to 5 p.m.

All former members of the board of directors and board of trustees of the Pontiac YWCA and other interested members and friends are invited.

The event will begin at 22 Franklin. After refreshments the group will go to see the house which the YWCA hopes to purchase for its future headquarters on the southeast corner of West Huron and Franklin Boulevard.

END OF ACT — This man, made up as a minstrel, was hauled off in a police patrol car yesterday after he dashed onto the floor of the House of Representatives and interrupted swearing-in ceremonies. The man was identified as Robert Lloyd, a member of the American Nazi party.

Capitol Police Red-Faced Over Invasion of House

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Red-faced Capitol police officials promised "improvements" today in the security system which permitted a black-costumed intruder to invade the House chamber only hours before President Johnson appeared there.

The interloper, identified as Robert Lloyd, a member of the American Nazi Party, dashed into the well of the House yesterday during the roll call vote for election of the speaker.

Clad in black from head to foot and wearing blackface minstrel makeup, he pranced and grimaced before the stunned House members, shouting, "I se de Mississippi delegation."

He waved a large, unlit cigar and wore a jaunty, slightly crushed top hat. A fur lincol cloth hung from his waist.

Capitol policemen, caught unawares by the bizarre invasion, surged onto the floor and dragged Lloyd away. He later was charged with two counts of disorderly conduct and released after forfeiting a $20 bond.

APPARENT REASON

Lloyd apparently staged his exhibition to demonstrate against the efforts of the Mississippi Freedom Democratic party to unseat the all-white House delegation and seat, instead three Negro women elected in an unofficial ballot among the state's Negroes.

Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., of the House Judiciary Committee said he was irked at the relative lightness of Lloyd's fine. He said he would have "thrown the book" at the intruder. He said Lloyd should have been held "on far more serious charges."

Lloyd's invasion had its comic aspects but coming as it did only a few hours prior to the President's appearance before a joint session of Congress it gave White House security officials some anxious moments.

Capitol and District of Columbia police, augmented by Secret Service agents, sealed off all entrances to the House chamber before, during and after the President's speech last night.

CAPITOL FORCE

D. C. Police Capt. Carl Schamp, who heads the Capitol police force, said Lloyd entered the Capitol Sunday when it was open to the public and laid out a route into the House chamber.

He counted on speed and surprise to bring off his stunt yesterday.

Witnesses said Lloyd raced up a staircase reserved for House members and sped around a corner into the speaker's lobby. Then, running in a crouch to conceal himself, he dashed down an aisle into the well of the House.

It seemed incredible that a man so dressed could have obtained entrance into the Capitol at all, but police speculated he changed from street clothing in an employees' locker room or a rest room.

3 Will Judge Junior Miss Competition

Three judges have been named for the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce Junior Miss Pageant.

Charles F. Brown, Pontiac Division manager for Consumers Power, Milford Mason, principal of Clarkston High School and Mrs. Margaret Demetrak, assistant editor of the Interlakes News — Lakeland Tribune, will make up the panel.

The group will serve during pageant competition Sunday at Pontiac Northern High School.

Judges will view the girls first at an informal party early in the day.

FORMAL JUDGING

The formal phase of the judging will take place Sunday night as the contestants will appear in both sportswear and an evening dress and will present a three-minute talent presentation.

The winner will be crowned Pontiac's Junior Miss by Rose Marie Tripp, last year's local winner.

Entry blanks, available at Haskill Studio, Fitzpatrick's Pharmacy or Phillips Silhouette Hair Designs, must be returned before Friday.

Tickets still are available for Sunday night's pageant.

LBJ Delivers Yearly Report

R. Ford, said there could be little argument over the goals — just over how to achieve them.

On the home front, Johnson mixed new proposals with re-reads. For example, he wants:

● $1.5 billion this year for a new aid-to-education program that would help low income school districts, provide books for students at both public and parochial schools, and extend scholarships and guaranteed loans to needy college students.

EXCISE TAX CUTS

● A substantial excise tax cut which House officials said could approach $2 billion.

● Either a new law or a constitutional amendment, a point yet to be decided, to "eliminate every remaining obstacle to the right and opportunity to vote." Johnson said the aim here would be to help Negro Americans.

● Medical insurance for the aged under Social Security and higher Social Security benefits.

● Changes in the Taft-Hartley Labor Relations Act, which aides said would include a proposal to repeal the controversial section 14-B that authorizes states to enact laws barring compulsory unionism, so-called right to work laws.

● A change in congressional rules to permit speedy enactment of a temporary income tax cut to help fight any recession that might develop. But Johnson said he confidently predicted continued prosperity.

FEDERAL POWER

● Federal power to combat air and water pollution, new moves to beautify the countryside and the cities, expanded conservation measures, new moves to fight crime and foster culture.

● A study of ways to cut the cost of farm aid programs and to "direct more of our effort to the small farmer who needs help most."

● An immigration law "based on the work a man can do and not where he was born or how he spells his name."

● A doubling this year of the $784-million fund to finance anti-poverty programs and the start of "a massive attack on crippling and killing diseases."

BIRTH CONTROL

Johnson even made what White House officials acknowledged was an indirect reference to birth control, saying he would "seek new ways to use our knowledge to help deal with the explosion in world population and the growing scarcity in world resources."

Proposals on Initiative, Referendum on Ballot

BIRMINGHAM — Two proposals on initiative and referendum will face voters in the April 5 city election.

Petitions for the second proposition were submitted to the city clerk yesterday by James H. Walker, 1555 Villa.

The two differing propositions will be side by side on the ballot.

Initiative enables the electorate to propose and enact or reject ordinances while referendum allows ordinances or resolutions adopted by the city commission to be approved or appealed by voters.

Walker's proposal contains several major differences over the one first approved by the city commission on Sept. 14, and then revised Sept. 21.

NEWEST PROPOSAL

The newest proposal does not exclude anything from initiative and referendum procedures whereas the first one does.

The original does not provide for any public action on the levying of taxes, appropriation of money, budget or capital improvement matters, salaries of city officials and employees, hours of employment, retirement and fringe benefits, and zoning initiative.

Termed as the "Popular Amendment" in literature circulated by Walker, his proposal also reduces the number of signatures required to undertake initiative or referendum.

The petitions would require only the signatures of qualified electors equal to five per cent of those who voted in the last municipal election.

15 PER CENT

The commission proposal requires 15 per cent of the qualified electors.

The initiative and referendum proposal would be an amendment to the city charter since Birmingham has no provisions for either procedure.

According to Walker, about half the cities in Michigan have provisions in their charters for initiative and referendum.

The League of Women Voters of Birmingham-Bloomfield first brought to the attention of the commission the lack of power the general public had in legislative affairs of the city.

1,172 SIGNATURES

The petitions of Walker contained 1,172 signatures, about 400 more than required to place the proposal on the ballot.

Little Change in U.S. Coed

Researcher Sees Sex Behavior Stabilized

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — Sexual permissiveness among America's college women hasn't changed much since 1930, a Stanford University researcher claimed today.

But, the four year study of 49 students at an unidentified Eastern women's college also showed "that American college students have evolved patterns of sexual behavior that will remain stable for some time to come," said Mervin B. Freedman.

Freedman, assistant dean of undergraduate education and a research associate at the Institute for the Study of Human Problems, reported his findings in the current issue of the Merrill-Palmer Quarterly.

The pattern of sexual behavior that has evolved, Freedman said, "consists of petting, intercourse among some engaged couples, and early marriage."

STUDIED 4 YEARS

The 49 young women were studied for four years, in depth, Freedman's report said, and several thousand other students were questioned on their attitudes toward premarital love.

Other findings which ran contrary to popular opinion, Freedman said, showed that premarital intercourse among college women usually is restricted to their future husbands; and promiscuity is probably confined to a small percentage of college women — probably a lower proportion than among high school girls.

Attitudes toward sex are often liberalized in college, Freedman said, "but the Puritan heritage has by no means passed from the American scene."

Nonvirginity among college women "probably doubled or trebled in the years following World War I," Freedman said. "It is likely that this increase was stabilized by 1930 or thereabouts," he said. "It may be, however, that the incidence of premarital intercourse has risen slowly since 1930, particularly among engaged couples."

Most college girls behave conventionally, he said, "even though they may not adhere to any specific moral code."

Only three of the 49 women studied were "uninhibited" in their sexual behavior, Freedman said, and 11 reported premarital intercourse.

Douglas asked the city manager and the City Commission to meet with the employee group, which is made up of representatives of the Pontiac Police Officers Association, Local 100, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO, Pontiac Firefighters Association and the Pontiac Municipal Employees Association.

"In the past it has been their (the Commission) policy to stall, stall, and stall again any discussion of improvements in wage structures of city employees," charged Douglas.

"We want to let them know that we're in town," he concluded.

Panama Perils Cited in Book

Authority on Latins Tells of Red Inroads

By CORENNA ALDRICH
The "Danger Over Panama" of which Jules Dubois writes is one which should alarm and alert every American, because it portends even greater threats to our way of life in years to come.

Coming as a surprise to many that U.S.-Panama relations were shaky, the "flag war" of January 1964 pinpointed far more serious implications — that of extensive Communist inroads in Latin America.

It is Dubois' opinion that, though partially fired and certainly exploited by Communist subversives, the flag incidents cannot be dismissed from United States conscience. Built on poor foundations and often perpetuated in error, relations with Panama will require concessions on both sides to correct misunderstandings and inequities which feed Communist anti-American propaganda.

While outlining concessions we must make, Dubois states clearly there are others we must not make. He warns that we face national and international suicide unless our paramount objective is to insure military security of the Panama Canal.

As in all Dubois' books, he gives a definitive history of his subject. Readers with no prior knowledge of the Panamanian situation can grasp its significance and see the vital importance of responsible resolution of the problem.

For those of us who sometimes dismiss such things as "just another mob demonstration," he startles us with frightening evidence that this is another of the straws which, if ignored, could break the free world's back.

Coming from a man who for years has been considered a major authority on Latin America, "Danger Over Panama" is a book that warrants attentive consideration.

Chairman Henry Outlines Plans

FCC Seems Due for More Controversy

WASHINGTON (AP) — If the Federal Communications Commission tackles all the problems foreseen by its chairman in 1965, another year of controversy is in store for the usually embattled agency.

At the top of the agenda, Chairman E. William Henry said in an interview, are such delicate problems as these:

— Should the government exercise some control over the broadcasting networks?

'EQUAL TIME'
— Should the FCC push for congressional repeal of Section 315 — the "equal time" legislation that so often spurs up political campaigns?

— Should the FCC move to

Painting Fortune Found on Ceiling of Arab Embassy

LONDON (AP) — The United Arab Republic's embassy in London has discovered a fortune in paintings by the 18th century Venetian artist Giovanni Tiepolo on its drawing room ceiling.

British experts value the paintings at $400,000 to $700,000.

"The paintings have long been admired," said an embassy spokesman, "but it was not until recently that an expert was called in to look at them."

"It was then discovered that the paintings were by Tiepolo, and not directly on the ceiling, as we had always thought, but on canvas and framed."

The embassy, built about 1750, once was owned by the Marquesses of Bute.

curb what Henry feels is the excessive noise of radio and television commercials?

— Should the FCC regulate the booming community antenna television business, already a formidable competitor for many old-line, on-the-air stations?

Henry said he is preparing a major policy statement on the equal-time law.

NOT SURE

"Frankly, I'm not too sure what I'm going to say yet," he said when asked if he favors repeal of the law. "But you can be sure the industry is going to urge repeal of it, and I want to take a good hard look at it."

The law requires radio and television stations providing air time to political candidates to provide an equal opportunity for all other candidates for the same office.

Henry said he expects the FCC to propose rules later this month to govern the noise levels of broadcast commercials. This has been a pet peeve of Henry's for some time.

The commission also will explore the possibility of extending its control to the networks, which are not licensees of the commission as their member stations must be.

PRIME TIME

"One way we might get at this is to limit the amount of prime evening time controlled by the networks," Henry said. "We could do this by saying that no licensee shall affiliate with a network that controls more than a certain percentage of prime time broadcasting."

The purpose of the regulation, he explained, would be to open up competition for such time to independent programming sources and assure them part of the prime time market. The

FCC, Henry said, might take a similar approach to bar the networks from taking part in program syndication in the United States.

One of the toughest problems to face the commission in years, Henry feels, is the question of

BIG-CITY STATIONS

CATV systems pick up the programs of big-city stations, relay them via microwave signals to a single community antenna near an isolated community, then feed the programs into the homes of fee-paying subscribers by cable.

Under an interim policy that has been in effect while the FCC studies possible legislative proposals to fit CATV into the national television picture, CATV operators are required to protect local television stations by holding back for 15 days, on request, programs used by the local stations.

Elusive State Teen Gets Jail Sentence

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — A Michigan teen-ager who hid in a church organ loft for a week after escaping from a Fort Wayne Courtroom was sentenced Monday to two consecutive one-year penal terms.

James Lee Greene, 19, Allen Park, Mich., was handed 1-year sentences for both the escape and first degree burglary. Greene darted out of the courtroom last Jan. 13 while being arraigned on the burglary charge and eluded police by hiding in the church. He was captured about one month later in Chicago.

Vaudeville Expires

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Julius Tannen, 84, a stand-up comedian in the days of vaudeville, died Sunday. Tannen was in show business 35 years and had appeared in Earl Carroll's Vanities and George White's Scandals.

The number of lawyers and judges in the nation increased from 176,063 to 205,515 between the 1950-60 censuses.

Doctors quit smoking

CHICAGO—According to a University of Chicago National Opinion Research Center survey, 52% of American doctors do not smoke. Many quit recently due, according to the Anti-Tobacco Center of America, to the conclusive evidence linking cigarettes and lung cancer.

Many doctors gave up smoking without use of will power thanks to a new tablet which helps to progressively eliminate the need for nicotine and, as a result, the desire to smoke. Thanks to this tablet, 88,648 heavy smokers have already stopped smoking.

Smokers interested in receiving information (free) about this new tablet are invited to contact directly the Anti-Tobacco Center of America, Dept. 740-C-1, 366 Fifth Avenue, New York 1, New York.

It is sufficient to send your name and address. Just a postcard will do.
