Probers' Target -- Gangster Influence in State

GM First Half Profits Drop by 30 Per Cent

Earns $333 Million Despite Decrease in Sale of Products

NEW YORK (AP)—General Motors today reported a profit for the six months ended June 30 of $333,514,249 or $1.17 a share. This compared with $481,236,708 or $1.71 a share in the first half of 1957.

Sales of GM cars, trucks, appliances, locomotives and other products came to $5,121,261,436, down 13 per cent from the year-ago total of $5,914,464,073.

GM came through the auto industry's 1958 slump in much better shape than its two big competitors, Chrysler Corp. and Ford, even with a 30 per cent slide from last year in its profits for January through June.

Ford's earnings for the first half of 1958, announced last week, were off 96 per cent from a year ago. Chrysler finished the six months $25,200,000 in the red. American Motors converted a 1957 loss into a modest profit, with a sharp upturn in Rambler sales setting the pace.

Noting that sales of GM cars and trucks showed much less of a decline than for the industry as a whole, Harlow H. Curtice, president, and Albert Bradley, chairman, told stockholders: "The preference for GM's 1958 automobiles over other American makes was at an all-time high."

Chevrolet is GM's biggest seller. Other domestic GM makes are Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Buick and Cadillac. Foreign makes include the Opel and the Vauxhall.

The two top GM officials predicted better times for U.S. business and the auto industry in the months ahead.

"There are indications that the country has passed the bottom of the recession and that a modest upward trend has begun," they said. "By the fourth quarter a further improvement in the over-all economy may be anticipated.

"In the automotive industry, barring labor difficulties and assuming a resurgence of consumer and business confidence, the introduction of new passenger car models should result in a marked increase in the level of automobile produc-

Lebanon Chief Strives to Halt Election Now

U. S. Forces Tightening Security in Middle East as Tension Mounts

By LARRY COLLINS

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Premier Sami Solh pledged today to use all his influence to prevent holding of presidential elections tomorrow. He promised especially to oppose the election of leading candidate Maj. Gen. Fuad Shehab army chief of staff.

Solh spoke out less than 24 hours before the balloting was scheduled to start. Shaken by yesterday's assassination attempt on the premier, Lebanon was sharply split and observers rated chances of the election being held on time as barely 50-50.

In the suddenly tense atmosphere, U.S. forces tightened security precautions. Helicopters reconnoitered the port area for possible snipers. Mobile patrols shuttled through the city, Marines at the ready in battle dress.

Solh said he would use "all his influence" to block the election because "Beirut is still subject to violence."

He charged that Shehab, the single likely candidate behind whom the various opposing factions seemed likely to unite, had "failed in his duty to clean up the rebellion and should not be president."

Solh also said American forces should remain in Lebanon until "independence and integrity" are assured. Rebel elements want the Americans out immediately.

THANKS U.S.

Solh also asked newsmen to relay "to the American people and government our thanks for a whole-hearted support in the crisis."

Solh said last night that he would try to prevent a quorum from attending tomorrow's electoral session of parliament unless Shehab ordered his troops to clean out the rebel forces still dominating large areas of the capital.

Today, the insurgents still were in control of the Basta Quarter which faces directly on the parliament building.

On the other side of the government building para-military forces loyal to the government were out in force.

An occasional shot rang out,

Weighing Bond for Sewer Plant

City Officials May Put Issue Before Voters on Nov. 4 Ballot

City officials are considering having a bond proposition to finance a new sewage treatment plant in Pontiac placed on the Nov. 4 ballot.

City Manager Walter K. Willman mentioned the possibility at last night's City Commission meeting, "in the light of several improvements necessary at the present plant."

A hoped-for increase from $250,000 to $500,000 in federal aid in the project might make this an opportune time to re-submit the plant proposal.

Voters in May of 1957 rejected a $2,700,000 general obligation bond proposal to build the plant.

Officials have expressed belief that its defeat was due partially to combining the proposition with a hotly-contested $1,850,000 hospital issue.

Willman asked commissioners for an answer on his suggestion by the middle of August. City Attorney William A. Ewart said drafting of the proposal must come 60 days preceding the election.

"The plans are all made and paid for," said the city manager.

The city for several years has sought relief from the inadequacy of the present treatment plant at Featherstone avenue and East boulevard, caused by a rapid climb in population.

The new bond proposal would probably finance construction of a second plant, revamp the present one in spots, and tie both together.

House Group to Quiz Hoffa on Racketeers

40 Detroit Witnesses Asked to Take Stand by Investigators

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — The long-awaited probe of hoodlum influence in legitimate businesses in the Detroit-area by the Senate Rackets Committee will begin tomorrow.

The hearings are expected to last several weeks and a parade of some 40 Detroit witnesses — including Teamsters President James R. Hoffa—have been asked to take the stand.

The hearings were delayed for a week by the death in an airplane crash of the son of Committee Chairman Sen. John McClellan (D-Ark).

Chief Counsel Robert Kennedy said Hoffa will be queried about his alleged association with racketeers and the Florida real estate dealings of his Teamsters Union.

Hoffa, in Dallas, Tex., for a conference of Teamsters leaders, told newsmen the only purpose of the hearings was to "issue false propaganda" in an effort to destroy the labor movement.

The committee planned to start fresh rounds of hearings tomorrow, with Hoffa under summons to appear early next week — possibly Tuesday — for questioning on many scores.

McClellan sent word he would be back in Washington in time to launch the fresh inquiry.

He said the hearings will explore mobsters' alleged dealings with a variety of labor union officials and businessmen in Chicago and Detroit, then switch to similar scrutiny of underworld affairs in many of the other big cities.

Kennedy said Hoffa will be offered a chance to speak out on whether he worked with President Maurice A. Hutcheson of the Carpenters Union, in an effort to fix a grand jury investigation of the Indiana highway scandals. Hutcheson, as a witness before the committee, refused to say whether there was such a deal.

The hearings are to start off with further scrutiny of Chicago's rackets-plagued restaurant industry, and of charges by McClellan and Kennedy that Detroit gang-

Ike to Challenge Khrushchev on Showdown Summit Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower is challenging Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to a showdown summit meeting in mid-August and the United States plans to charge the Russians with fomenting rebellion and unrest throughout the Middle East.

A presidential note to Khrushchev, to be dispatched shortly, will call for the top-level meeting to be held within the United Nations Security Council — although not necessarily in New York — between Aug. 10 and 15, high officials said.

They added that if Khrushchev accepts the challenge, the United States does not intend to appear as a "defendant" accused of "aggression" in Lebanon but will take the offensive and expose a pattern of Russian and united Arab subversion throughout the oil-rich area.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said it was "unlikely" that the White House would have any announcement today on summit conference developments.

He said the President has not had any trans-Atlantic telephone conversations with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan on the West's replies to the latest Khrushchev note, but that the two governments have "been in constant touch" since the start of the Mideast crisis.

Meanwhile, Secretary of State Dulles scheduled a news conference for tomorrow afternoon. This suggested the possibility that the U.S. reply to Moscow might go out before then.

The President was reported willing to hold the U.N. summit meeting in any city decided upon by the Security Council except Moscow. This was interpreted as a conciliatory gesture to French Premier Charles de Gaulle who has said he prefers a European site to New York.

The British were reported preparing a similar note to Khrushchev as the Western powers moved to nail the Russian leader down on whether he really wants a top-

He Gave Names in MESC Files

Traverse City Branch Head Revealed Data to AFL Representatives

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The manager of the Traverse City office of the Michigan Employment Security Commission testified before a State House investigating committee here yesterday that he released names and addresses of unemployed job seekers to AFL representatives.

Joseph A. Tuell said he released the names after a request by a man who identified himself as Clyde Williams, an AFL representative from Muskegon.

Disclosure of information in MESC files is prohibited by state law.

Tuell admitted he would have questioned the request if Williams had not mentioned it was sanctioned by Tom Downs of Detroit, a labor representative on the four-member MESC commission.

"Williams told me the list was to be used to notify people of a mass meeting with Downs at which they would be given information on social aid, loans, surplus foods and other facts," Tuell testified.

He said he did not verify the statement with Downs.

Downs told newsmen anyone who said he authorized release of the names "is a damned liar" and challenged "any witness or committee member to repeat this libelous charge as a statement of fact."

The MESC member threatened court action.

Committee Counsel Harold A. Sawyer, a Grand Rapids attorney, asked Tuell if he knew the list was to be used for a mass march of unemployed workers on the Legislature last April 8.

Tuell said he did not. Later he said Williams had made the request last October or November.

14 Die in Plot to Overthrow Haiti President Duvalier

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP)—The army claimed everything was quiet again in Haiti today.

At least 14 dead were counted after a pocket-sized coup attempt that wilted under gunfire from troops and civilian partisans loyal to President Francois Duvalier.

Some of the Duvalier partisans paraded jubilantly through the streets after the battle yesterday, wearing blood-stained shirts and firing their guns in the air. But most people kept off the streets to avoid trouble.

The U. S. Embassy warned Americans to stay indoors and the army ordered a 6 p.m.-to-6 a.m. curfew. The Port au Prince airport was closed throughout yesterday, stranding nearly 400 U.S. tourists.

All news dispatches leaving Haiti were censored.

The army said that a party of men landed from a Miami, Fla., launch and tried to overthrow Duvalier. Seven attackers were killed.

The dead plotters, according to the army, included one known American, former Deputy Sheriff Arthur Payne of Miami; another man, possibly an American; two Spanish - speaking "foreigners"; and three exiled Haitian army captains who supported former President Paul Magloire.

Magloire, in New York, denied any connection with the plot.

Armco Steel Co. to Raise Prices

Breaking Line Against Inflation; Others May Follow Crucial Move

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Armco Steel Corp. has announced the first 1958 steel price boost for tomorrow — a move Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) says "will do our economic recovery a great deal of harm if sustained."

The Armco price hike, the company said last night, averages 2.75 per cent on 12 products, including hot and cold rolled sheets, and adds up to about $4.50 a ton.

Kefauver, head of the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee, said in Washington the Armco action was "not justified" and would be a topic at a meeting of his committee today.

"In the interest of holding the line against inflation, I hope Armco will call off the increase and that other companies will not follow it," the senator added.

Other major producers of steel made no immediate commitment to follow Armco's lead. But many repeated what they have been saying for months — that they must pass on to consumers at least part of cost increases they attribute to a wage boost for United Steelworkers unionists July 1.

Little Change Seen in Weather Outlook

Not much change in temperature is the prediction by the weatherman for tonight and tomorrow. Tonight's low will be around 60-64 with westerly winds at 5-10 miles an hour.

Tomorrow's high will be in the 80s. Partly cloudy with a chance of showers and a low of 60 is the forecast for tomorrow night.

For the next five days temperatures will average near or below the normal high of 83 and normal low of 63. Saturday will be rather warm and humid with a cooler trend Sunday and Monday. Precipitation will average three-fourths to one inch as scattered showers or thunderstorms tomorrow and again Saturday.

The lowest recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 63 degrees. The mercury rose to 77 at 2 p.m.

Faubus Credits Victory to Sending of Paratroops

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus today credited the sending of federal troops to Little Rock in the integration crisis for a vote that gave him a third term by the biggest majority in Arkansas history.

Almost complete returns from yesterday's Democratic primary gave him 69.5 per cent of the vote. The rest was almost evenly divided between his opponents, Little Rock meat packer Chris Finkbeiner, 37, and Judge Lee Ward, 52, of Paragould.

Unofficial returns from 2,274 out of 2,330 precincts in the state gave: Faubus 261,101 votes; Finkbinder 60,017 and Ward 58,438.

"The voting was a condemnation by the people of illegal federal intervention in the affairs of the state and the horrifying use of federal bayonets in the streets of an American city and in the halls of a public school," Faubus, 48, said in his victory statement.

He meant President Eisenhower's sending of 1,000 troops of the 101st Airborne Division to Little Rock last September to protect nine Negroes who enrolled in Central High School.

Faubus had previously used two companies of the National Guard to keep Negroes out, on the ground that integration of Central would provoke bloody violence.

Mrs. L. C. Bates, president of the Arkansas chapter of the NAACP, declined to comment on Faubus' victory. She led the fight to get the Negroes into the school.

Integration itself was not an election issue. The issue was what to do if a school were faced with integration.

Faubus said he'd call out the National Guard again if he thought it necessary. Ward and Finkbeiner said they would never use the state militia to defy the government.

Rejects Deeds on 'Free' Lots

Registrar at Cheboygan Claims Cloud on Title in Detroit 'Giveaway'

CHEBOYGAN (UPI) — The Cheboygan County registrar of deeds, Mrs. Anne Fisher, today said she will return all deeds mailed to her by winners of a Detroit promotional contest because they are invalid.

Mrs. Fisher said Michigan law requires that the marital status of the person making out a warranty deed be included in the deed and the man who promoted the scheme and signed the deeds did not include his own.

Joseph R. Kitson, Detroit, of Midwest Development Associates, was the signer and promoter of the giveaway scheme, known as "Northland free lots." Persons who registered at his booths at the Detroit and Columbus, Ohio, builders shows this spring were given deeds to 100 by 60 foot lots in the Mackinaw Township area, Cheboygan County.

The FBI and the Wayne County prosecutors office are investigating the deal because Kitson referred the recipients of his deeds to William D. Turner here to have them registered. A $45 registration fee was asked by Turner and Kitson although the standard legal fee is only $2.

Mrs. Fisher said she has so far refused to register 135 of the deeds submitted by Turner. She has turned away other hundreds of persons who have driven in from as far away as 500 miles to look at their land and file their deeds.

Mrs. Fisher said she recorded over 100 deeds before she realized they were invalid under the law. Some of the land covered by the deeds, she said, was not owned originally by Kitson.

Vandals Cost Grand Rapids Thousands

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI)—Vandals are causing thousands of dollars of damages in Grand Rapids parks and cemeteries, Park Supt. Frederick C. See told the city commission yesterday.

"Irresponsible motorists regularly hold drag races at night on the Indian Trails Municipal Golf Course and the damage they do to the fairways adds considerably to the upkeep of the course," See said.

See suggested adding three more officers to the current two-man park police force.

Thundershowers Forecast Across Wet U. S. Today

By The Associated Press

Widespread rain occurred over much of the nation early today and thundershowers again were forecast across the map.

Thundershowers predominated in the corn belt as moist 70-degree air pushed northward and mixed with cooler drier air. Showers and thunderstorms occurred along a wide band from eastern Wyoming to central Illinois.

Most of the violent storm activity late yesterday was centered along the Nebraska-Iowa border.

Omaha was hit by gusty winds clocked at up to 52 m.p.h. The city also was hit by a hailstorm and a 20-minute rainfall measured at 1.20 inches. Norfolk, Neb., got nearly an inch in an hour, while Logan, Iowa, recorded 1.65 inches in a 90-minute period.

Another storm system covered the area from south of the Great Lakes up into the Northeast interior. South Bend, Ind., collected more than half an inch rain and Cleveland just under half an inch.

NAVY BLIMP'S ARCTIC TOUR — Black line traces the scheduled route of the 343-foot U. S. Navy blimp which took off from Lakehurst naval air station in New Jersey today on a historic lighter-than-air flight to the north polar regions. The blimp, scheduled to stop at Churchill, Canada, tomorrow night will carry 14 crewmen and a group of International Geophysical Year scientists to Ice Island T-3, a floating weather station in the Arctic Ocean.

Labor Reform Dying in House Committee

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Labor Committee has virtually slammed the door on any broad labor reform bill this year despite overwhelming Senate approval.

The committee finally received the Senate-approved reform bill, designed to crack down on labor racketeering and promote democratic union practices, but Chairman Graham A. Barden (D-NC) said no House hearings were in prospect.

"We have to be practical," he told United Press International. "The sun is going down on this session (of Congress)."

Other committee members agreed the reform bill stood no chance of getting through the committee this year.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), co-sponsor of the bill, charged that a lobby headed by the National Assn. of Manufacturers (NAM) had killed it in the House. Kennedy said the NAM had flooded congressmen with "intemperate, exaggerated and misleading" attacks upon the bill.

The NAM quickly replied to Kennedy, branding his charges as "completely false." NAM President Milton C. Lightner said the organization opposed the legislation because it was "woefully inadequate to meet the corrective measures so clearly and dramatically indicated by the sordid disclosures of the McClellan hearings."

Lightner said the bill would weaken safeguards of the Taft-Hartley Act and "open the door to greater abuses by unions and their leadership," and "bring a false sense of security to the general public, as well as to the rank-and-file union member, since the safeguards are illusory rather than real."

Speaker Sam Rayburn delayed sending the reform bill to the divided labor committee for more than a month, and explained he had wanted to wait until the labor group disposed of a Senate-passed welfare fund bill.

This explanation drew the fire of Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz), who accused Rayburn of killing the reform legislation by holding the bill on his desk for 41 days.

Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) blamed Rayburn's "mistaken leadership" for bottling up the labor reform measure, which passed the Senate 88 to 1.

level discussion of the turbulence in the Middle East.

The brief Eisenhower note, in reply to a long propaganda-laden blast Monday from Khrushchev, will emphatically reject the Soviet leader's renewed suggestion for a summit meeting outside the U.N.

American officials characterized Khrushchev's reversion to this proposal, after he had agreed last week to a meeting within the U.N. framework, as an effort to return to big-power diplomacy and bypass the world organization.

Officials said Eisenhower will insist that the Security Council make final decisions on time, place and participants for the mid-August summit meeting but will suggest that permanent representatives at the U.N. headquarters probably could arrange to set it up not later than Aug. 15.

(The Communist Party newspaper Pravda today charged that Eisenhower's proposals for a meeting within the U.N. framework "is just a naive attempt to hoodwink the people by pretending to be ready for talks and actually to try to block the whole matter.")

The American decision to send Khrushchev a brief and to-the-point challenge was based upon strategy evolved by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to give the Russian leader his choice of two courses:

1. Accept a summit meeting under strict Security Council procedure. This would make it impossible for Khrushchev to bring charges against the West without also having a full airing of what U.S. officials consider a planned Russian and united Arab campaign of terror, subversion and indirect aggression through the Middle East.

2. Reject the specific challenge and be put in the position of sabotaging the top-level meeting for which he has been clamoring so long.

Officials said Eisenhower has no particular objection to India's presence at the summit meeting, demanded by Khrushchev, but will insist that any participants who are not members of the Security Council be invited by vote of the Council itself and not dragged in by one or more of the big powers.

7 Die as Car Falls Off Ferry Wharf

LITTLE NARROWS, N.S. (UPI) —A mother and six of her 10 children drowned last night when their car plunged off a ferry wharf into 40 feet of water.

The victims were Mrs. Anthony MacNeil, 38, and four sons and two daughters, ranging in age from four to 22.

Witnesses said the car, driven by Allan MacNeil, 22, entered the 500-foot wharf to wait for the Little Narrows ferry. As the car went down the ramp, the brakes appeared to fail and it plunged through a barrier at the end of the wharf.

Labor Practices Called Unfair

UAW Accuses Chrysler

By JACK VANDENBERG
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT (UPI) — The United Auto Workers Union today charged Chrysler Corp. with five counts of unfair labor practices in documents filed with the National Labor Relations Board.

It was the union's first attempt to use NLRB machinery in the long-stalled negotiations with the auto industry "big three."

UAW General Counsel Harold Cranfield accused Chrysler of considering the "legal command to bargain in good faith . . . (as) meaningless scraps of paper" and asked the NLRB for "the speediest possible investigation."

The union's charges revolved around changes in union representation in Chrysler plants since the company's contract with the UAW expired June 1.

The UAW complaints grew out of numerous work stoppages in the past several months at the Plymouth body plant in Detroit.

The union urged the workers to remain on the job and let it handle the complaints. Although the workers at first ignored the union's request to stay on the job there have been no work stoppages in the past several weeks, apparently because employes were assured the union would take action similar to that started today.

Meanwhile, negotiations at the big three continued in an effort to reach new contracts with the union.

Union negotiators at all three of the companies, General Motors, Ford and Chrysler, announced yesterday they were seeking authorization from the UAW's executive board to set strike dates.

The authority, which was expected to be given without question, would be a powerful weapon in the hands of the bargaining committees.

In all three cases the negotiators asked for permission to set the strike dates at their own discretion. None of them named a specific date but said a date would be set when they felt the circumstances were "most favorable to the union."

The requests will be considered at the executive board's meeting Aug. 8 and will be acted upon after the national councils of the union have had a chance to pass on them the following day.

The authority would permit the bargaining teams to call a strike at any time they felt insufficient progress was being made in the talks.

But union spokesmen indicated the timing of the strike deadline would depend more upon the introduction of new models than on the progress of the talks.

House Hits Snag on Goldfine Vote

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Commerce Committee hit a paperwork snag today and put off until tomorrow a vote on a contempt of Congress citation recommended against Bernard Goldfine.

The House influence-investigating subcommittee which looked into Goldfine's relations with Chief Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams has recommended that Goldfine be cited for contempt for refusing to answer certain questions about his firms' finances.

The full committee planned to vote this morning—only a day after the subcommittee approved the citation 8 to 0. If the committee had approved it as expected, the House could have voted on the matter this afternoon.

However, subcommittee staff members failed to complete the extensive necessary paperwork in time, preventing the required written notices to committee members that a vote on the citation was scheduled.

Members of the subcommittee predicted the full committee would agree to cite Goldfine when the matter does reach a vote. The House usually goes along with committee recommendations on contempt cases.

The influence-investigating subcommittee recommended citing Goldfine for refusing to answer 23 questions about his financial dealings. He said they were not relevant to the subcommittee's favors-for-influence investigation.

If the House votes to cite him, the Justice Department could prosecute him on 23 counts of contempt—each carrying a maximum of one year in prison and a $1,000 fine. Normally any sentences in such case are lumped into one so the maximum actually would be a year in jail, $1,000 fine or both.

Lebanon Voting Doubtful

but otherwise a nervous calm prevailed throughout the city.

Solh joined President Camille Chamoun at a marathon cabinet session in the Presidential Palace today.

Simultaneously, at least six other would-be opposition presidential candidates were meeting in private to select one of their number to run against Shehab.

ELECTION DOUBTFUL

There was no advance assurance that they could settle on one man. The election remained in doubt.

Shortly before 9 a.m. two Marine helicopters made several sweeps over the port area occupied by Marine forces, obviously taking a close look at the rooftops stretching from the port to the rebel-held Basta area a few blocks away.

A bodyguard of armed airborne troops and Lebanese gendarmes were assigned to escort Maj. Gen. Paul Adams, American ground forces commander, on his rounds. A jeep with a 50-caliber machine gun rides "shotgun" on the general's car.

MARINES VIGILANT

A number of Marine vehicles were seen moving through the streets this morning with Marines in battlegear riding guard.

A Marine spokesman revealed yesterday that a motorized patrol of Marines which penetrated 10 miles into the interior north of Beirut was accompanied not only by a helicopter but also by a fighter plane. The spokesman said such aircover was "normal" for a patrol in the current situation.

Solh summoned his cabinet into session to decide whether to go through with the threatened boycott of the presidential elections.

In Jerusalem, Israel has asked Russian Premier Nikita Khrushchev to arrange a meeting between Israeli Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion and United Arab Republic President Gamal Abdel Nasser in a bid to settle Arab-Israeli differences, highly-placed sources revealed today.

The appeal was sent to Khrushchev by Ben-Gurion himself, the sources said.

The proposal was sent to Moscow within a few days of the Iraqi revolt of July 14, the sources added.

But, they said, no reply has yet been received from Moscow and it is assumed here that Moscow is, for the time being at least, ignoring the Israeli approach.

In Amman, Jordan, a time bomb wrecked the British library and information center, and a second exploded outside the garage of a banker last night.

TROOPS CLASH

The bombings seemed to be in retaliation for the dispatch of 2,000 British paratroops to back up King Hussein's regime. They came as the army reported a new clash with alleged infiltrators from President Nasser's United Arab Republic province of Syria.

The bomb in the British library wrecked the interior and scattered books. A small fire started. The bomb had been planted on a book shelf.

The second bomb went off outside the garage of the assistant manager of a British-owned bank.

Commission Defers Action on Hospital

The red-tape and difficulty the city would encounter if it were to turn over the operation of city-owned Pontiac General Hospital to a private firm or individual, were made known last night.

Letters from the hospital Board of Trustees and City Attorney William A. Ewart regarding such a shift were read to the City Commission.

Commissioners decided to defer answering a suggested plan from Paul A. Kern Jr., Pontiac real estate manager, until they could study further the opinion of the trustees and Ewart. They agreed to an Aug. 7 meeting to discuss the matter.

Kern asked back in March that he be afforded an opportunity to conduct a survey at Pontiac General, towards his major proposition that he lease and operate the institution for 49 years.

In a lengthy opinion, Ewart said a change in management would require a two-thirds vote on a city charter amendment, and, even if it were to pass, "this could be challenged in the courts by any taxpayer."

The trustees' answer said, "This is not the time to consider his request to be allowed to enter the hospital for the purpose of making a thorough management and financial analysis."

This would interfere with "drastic changes" being undertaken at the hospital due to management changes, trustees said.

They cited six reasons, including possible loss of accreditation, why they were not in favor of the Kern proposal.

NANCY MORRIS

Wedding bells are in the offing for Nancy Morris, 21, of Lincoln, Mass., and Las Vegas, Nev., who will become the bride of Samuel Sherman Adams, 21, at Lincoln on Aug. 21. He is the son of presidential assistant Sherman Adams.

City Woman, 100, Casts Absentee Primary Ballot

A 100-year-old Pontiac woman, believed to be one of the city's oldest voters, today cast her absentee ballot for next Tuesday's primary election.

Miss Ella M. Green, of 217 N. Saginaw St., walked into the city clerk's office with a companion and applied for and received her absentee ballot, said Mrs. Olga Barkeley, clerk in the office.

"She stated her party preference like the old custom," Mrs. Barkeley said. "This is not necessary as the one ballot contains both parties."

She then stepped into a voting booth available in the office and placed her "X's" with the aid of a magnifying glass.

Saturday at 2 p.m. is the deadline for absentee ballot voting throughout the county.

The Day in Birmingham

Start Action to Acquire Land for Proposed Alley

BIRMINGHAM — Condemnation proceedings are being started by the city of Birmingham against two property owners to acquire land for the proposed Maple-Bates streets alley.

Proceedings will be filed this week against Eugene Moore, owner of the lot at the northeast corner of Bates street, and Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Baumgarth whose property fronts on Martin street to the east.

The proposed alley, 26 feet wide, will run 120 feet east from Bates street to provide rear access for several Maple avenue stores. The Martin property is undeveloped commercially.

The alley has been a controversial issue since it was proposed last year by city planners. City officials consider the alley necessary to remove delivery trucks from the busy Maple avenue.

Property owners have chided the city because of its proposal to construct what they consider an even greater traffic hazard, a deadend alley. Trucks will have to back on to Bates street after unloading.

City officials admit this but point out that since the S. S. Kresge Company, on the eastern half of the block, has its own loading docks and parking area, there is no way the alley can be cut through to Henrietta street, the next street to the east.

City Clerk Irene Hanley has reminded residents who will be out of town for the state primary elections Tuesday that applications for absentee ballots must be made prior to 2 p.m. Saturday. They must be made at the Municipal Building in person, she said.

The chemise dress will get a boost from the Senior High Group in the Summer Recreation Program at a dance tomorrow night. The "Chemise Shake" will be held at the Eton Park Teen Center from 8 to 10:30 p.m., and the "chemise" is a must for all girls.

The high point of the affair will be a dance contest.

With the sudden upswing in door-to-door salesmen throughout the area, Charles Mortensen, manager of the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce, this morning had tips for homeowners.

He stressed that they should not make payment on any item until it has been delivered and inspected. He also said not to sign any contracts that have not been thoroughly read and understood.

"The service type of sale," Mortensen said, "is particularly dangerous. This applies to roofing, landscaping, and other beautification and repair programs suggested by a salesman."

"The safest way is for the homeowner to ask for lists of customers with whom he can check to find if the service was satisfactory," he explained.

Mortensen also suggested that homeowners ask to see the city-issued license of the salesmen and call the police if one is not available.

When the Red Barn Theater at Saugatuck stages "The Reluctant Debutante" Aug. 4-9, Sue Tabor, a Birmingham girl, will be in the cast.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Lawton Tabor, 18280 Devonshire Rd., Miss Tabor is on the Red Barn lighting and property staff. A Skidmore College sophomore, she is planning a theatrical career.

Crisis Supports Foreign Aid Bill

Might Also Result in Hiking Defense Funds Another Billion Dollars

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Middle East crisis appeared likely today to give President Eisenhower at least part of the increase in foreign aid funds he wants, as well as make for a boost in defense spending he opposes.

The Senate starts debate today on a 40-million-dollar defense appropriation bill, more than a billion above Eisenhower's requests. A foreign aid money bill is still before its Appropriations Committee.

Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark), a senior member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, predicted most Senate Democrats will vote to raise emergency foreign funds.

But he said in an interview Senate action is likely to fall substantially short of the half-billion-dollar increase Eisenhower asked over the amount voted by the House.

Sen. George Aiken (R-Vt) said that unless the Senate Appropriations Committee restores at least three fourths of the 597 millions cut by the House, there will be a floor fight for further increases.

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, chairman of the Conference of All Republican Senators, said he thinks the Senate will accept a $1,623,000,000 increase in defense funds recommended by its Appropriations Committee over House totals.

Gangster Influence Target of Hearings

sters are preying on industry in that city, too.

The first witnesses to be called tomorrow will be four officials of the Detroit linen supply industry, Kennedy said.

Kennedy says he has arranged federal police protection of a Detroit woman witness who reported receiving threatening telephone calls designed to discourage her from giving testimony. Kennedy said a Detroit businessman also reported being threatened.

Kennedy claims to possess evidence that hoodlums, in deals with some Teamster officials, have been victimizing Detroit's linen supply business and Detroit firms which supply overalls to auto factories, garages and other plants.

Art Show Slated at Miracle Mile

An "Arts in Action" show featuring noted artists of Oakland and Wayne Counties will be featured at the Miracle Mile Shopping Center, Telegraph and Square Lake Roads, beginning Friday.

According to Ralph Eastridge and Phil Broadax, co-chairmen for the Miracle Mile's August promotion committee, the show will continue through August 16.

Eight artists will participate in the show, which will be held in room 44 of the shopping center. They are Carl Owens, Steve Davis, Ben Glicker, Leroy Foster, Artis Lane, George Provard, Sam Field and Vertus Gale.

The Kay Harrison studios will demonstrate mosaic work, pottery wheel work, jewelry making and leather work.

'How Can We Choose?'

GM Profits Decrease for First 6 Months

tion during the fall and early winter months."

While General Motors plants in the United States cut back their production in the first six months this year, turning out 1,416,319 cars and trucks as compared to 1,763,836 in the first half of 1957, output of GM's foreign plants reached a record high.

GM's profit for the second quarter of 1958, down 32 per cent from a year ago, also fell behind the first 1958 quarter.

At $148,912,983 or 52 cents a share, net income for the three months ended June 30 compared with $219,878,966 or 78 cents a share in the same period last year. Net for the preceding quarter—the three months ended March 31, 1958—had totaled $184,601,266 or 65 cents a share.

Due to Population Shift

Michigan May Gain 2 Seats in Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Census Bureau said today California may gain seven seats in Congress after the 1960 census—more than twice as many as any other state.

Projecting expected shifts in population, the bureau said nine states are likely to get bigger delegations and 14 probably will lose seats as a result of the reapportionment which will be made after the 1960 head count. In most cases that will involve redrawing district lines. Sometimes, however, an extra congressman is elected at large.

All the changes will be in the House of Representatives which has a permanent legal membership of 435. Each state by law has two senators, regardless of population.

The projection indicated California's House delegation will increase to 37 members from the present 30.

Other states which are expected to make major gains are Florida, Michigan and Texas.

Major losers probably will be New York and Pennsylvania. The bureau said they are likely to lose three seats each.

Arkansas and Massachusetts would each lose two seats under the new projection.

The census figures indicated a gain of three seats for Florida and two each for Michigan and Texas. They showed probable gains of single seats for Arizona, Indiana, Maryland, Ohio and Oregon.

In addition, Alaska will have one House member when it formally becomes a state. This was taken into account in the projection. However, the census statisticians made no allowance for the possibility that Hawaii also may become a state by the time House seats are reapportioned.

The bureau said losses of one seat are in prospect for each of the following states on the basis of present calculation: Alabama, Georgia, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Minnesota, Mississippi, North Carolina and West Virginia.

Cloaked in Nature's Beauty

Paradise Lost? It's in Michigan

By JOE HAAS

PARADISE—This community is located in the most primeval spot in Michigan. Within a few rods you're in the heart of the greatest wilderness in our state—with everything that makes up a wilderness.

HAAS

On the far side of Whitefish Bay, an arm of Lake Superior which has more fresh water than any other lake in the entire world, it gets all of what Superior has to offer.

Its majestic rollers, choppy 20-foot waves, super-sudsy white caps and deluging spray seem to equal anything we've ever experienced in ocean travel. Yet no spot on earth is more deserving of the name—at this season of the year. But even in winter we'd take it in preference to a Texas or Arizona desert—at any season.

Reached by paved roads, which end here, with a good business section and strictly modern motels, Paradise has the bathing beaches and fishing that make it an ideal vacation spot. It borders nature in the roughest.

The deer are so chummy that you forget to classify them as wild life. They exchange tracks in the residents' gardens for fresh vegetables on a barter basis not to the liking of the home folks—and will not eat weeds.

The bears have been taught to come out of the forest at a concerted garbage disposal time just before dark, and entertain visitors with their antics at the village dump. This is done to the accompaniment of the whippoorwill, screech owl and other night birds, with an occasional wolf note in the symphony, while the porcupines gambol under your car.

To add variety to your stay, the world famous fogs of Whitefish Bay blow inland to the tune of that melodious fog horn up at Whitefish Point, and often reach a density so you can cut them with a knife—if you have a sharp knife. The natives like them and say they're as good as a heavy rain.

Paradise is a good jumping off place for any vacationist. It is the nearest point to Michigan's greatest natural scenic attraction, the Tahquamenon Falls, on the river and in the state park with the same name.

The upper falls, largest in our nation between Niagara and the Rockies, are a must on any visit to the Upper Peninsula, which has a dozen or more other waterfalls, some even higher than its 42-foot drop, but none of even a small fraction of its volume.

The lower Tahquamenon Falls are more of a series of cascades. Either can be reached by paved road to within a few rods of their brink, from Paradise. Another method of reaching the upper falls is from Newberry via the Toonerville trolley to a power boat which plies the river.

Should you prefer an even more intimate touch with these falls, there are plenty of new motels, some within their sound.

Paradise and the entire Tahquamenon area are fortunate in being in the same state as Southeastern Michigan, for it is that part of the state which supplies the major part of the gas tax to build these magnificent roads here in the wilderness. All of such tax paid locally wouldn't keep up the white and yellow marking on it. But they're worth all we pay, and if you don't use them you're not collecting your dividends.

Paradise makes a big asset of its name. The post card sale is bigger than in a good sized city, because they want that postmark on the cards. That's a boon for the local office, and Postmaster Mildred Monk sends a big consignment when the daily mail goes out each morning.

Local business houses have standard gags, punning on the name, which they can work on every new visitor. Learning that I was employed in Pontiac, they told me that the man who named Paradise later went to Pontiac and never returned.

At the next place I changed my place of residence, and learned that it was Detroit from which he didn't return. Then I was truthful and told them Holly—and they cooperated with the truth.

Replace Kidney of Stricken Boy

Doctors Give Youngster Slim Chance to Live After Operation

CLEVELAND (AP)—An 11-year-old boy lay critically ill at Children's Hospital today. His life is dependent on a transplanted kidney from a dead woman.

Doctors say his chances of survival are slim. None but identical twins ever have recovered from an operation such as Ronald Rusche of Canton, Ohio, underwent eight days ago.

He was reported last night still on the danger list, but a hospital spokesman said "So far, so good." good."

A kidney taken from a woman who died of a heart attack was implanted in his groin. His own kidneys, blocked by a congenital defect, were functioning improperly, but doctors left them intact.

Without the operation, doctors said, the boy would have died.

The major problem for doctors is to keep waste from accumulating in the boy's blood — a task performed in a healthy person's body by the kidneys.

Average Wages Up

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Labor Department reports that average hourly wages of union building trades craftsmen rose in the second quarter to a record $3.34 an hour. The increases ranged from 5.3 cents an hour for painters to 10.7 cents for plumbers.

7 Persons Die During Storm

300 Grass and Timber Fires Blaze in Central, Southern California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—More than 300 grass and timber fires blazed in central and northern California today as the death toll from a lightning storm reached seven.

About 2,000 firemen fought the blazes along the High Sierra foothills from Tulare County, 175 southeast of San Francisco, to Modoc County, the most northeastern in the state.

The death count from the Monday storm increased by two yesterday as a fireman was trapped in a grass and brush fire and searchers found the body of a man who had been killed by a bolt.

Vernon Boyle, 37, of Martinez died of burns two hours after he was caught by flames while unreeling hose on a steep hillside.

The body of Troy M. Mijares, 60, who was struck by lightning, was found beside a tomato patch he had been irrigating in Yolo County 70 miles northeast of San Francisco.

Newsmen Get Trial by Fire in Mideast Fray

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Rebels roaming the wild mountain country along the Syrian-Lebanese border attacked a car carrying two Associated Press correspondents.

The correspondents, Relman Morin and Tom Ochiltree, were traveling yesterday from Beirut to Damascus. The rebels fired on their car as it sped through a steep valley, but missed.

As they picked themselves up from the floor of the car Morin, a two-time Pulitzer Prize winner and veteran war correspondent, observed with a grin:

"There must be easier ways to travel than this. This is real cowboy and Indian stuff with us taking the part of the people in the stagecoach."

Contesting Ban on Sound Truck

Candidate Says Straley Won't Let Him Use Vehicle to Advantage

Pontiac's law declaring use of sound trucks in the city a nuisance, came in for some verbal brickbats last evening.

This all developed when a candidate for the city's seat in the Michigan House of Representatives said he was being prohibited by Chief Herbert W. Straley from using political signs on a sound truck and from mentioning his party affiliation and what he was running for.

Linwood L. Flack Jr., of 392 Ditmar Ave., said the chief granted a permit to operate the truck only to urge voters to get out to vote in Tuesday's primary.

Several city commissioners criticized loopholes in the city ordinance dating back to 1929. It allows the chief, with the approval of the city manager, to grant permits for use of sound trucks in special cases.

"It doesn't say you can't follow the sound truck with a car plastered with your stickers," Commissioner Philip E. Rowston, once a political candidate himself, quipped.

The commission voted 5 to 2 not to concern itself with the debated law until a pending Circuit Court case testing its constitutionality comes to trial.

It Doesn't Pay to Go to Work Some Mornings

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Les Thadden went to work at his auto sales lot and found he had a leaky roof over his office. Water dripped on his desk, making a soggy mess of contracts and other papers.

He tried to start the air conditioner. It wouldn't work.

He walked to the door to stare at the rain — and noticed a car had been stolen off the lot during the night.

He tried to call the sheriff's office. The phone wouldn't work.

A few minutes later, he learned a car he rented the night before was in trouble.

He found the car on its side in the storm-swollen Santa Cruz River.

He summoned a wrecker. He was giving instructions on how to recover the car from the river when another auto zoomed by on the wet highway, splashing him from head to toe.

Dripping wet, he retreated to his leaky office.

Experts Say Job Picture to Improve

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Labor Department experts today forecast a slight improvement within 60 days in the gloomy jobless picture.

But they said in commenting on the latest survey of unemployment in 149 major industrial centers that the pickup in manufacturing would lag behind other parts of the economy.

The department yesterday designated 89 of the 149 areas as centers of "substantial" labor surplus. Three large cities—Los Angeles, Long Beach, Calif., Birmingham, Ala., and Milwaukee—were placed in this category for the first time.

Seven other cities moved down the ladder to classifications reflecting lower employment. They were Fort Wayne, Ind., Grand Rapids and Muskegon, Mich., Buffalo, N. Y., and Bridgeport, New Britain and Waterbury, Conn.

The department said, however, that it expected a relatively small but widespread increase in the number of workers on nonfarm payrolls by September.

Most of this increase will come in the construction, food processing and apparel industries. A pick-up in trade jobs — banks, insurance companies and the like—also was predicted.

The big layoffs may be over except in a few scattered locations, the report said.

Polish Government Attacks Church

WARSAW (AP) — The Polish Communist party today accused the Roman Catholic Church of blatant law violation and warned:

"The state authority cannot allow places of religious ownership and the cloisters of monasteries to be used as screens for illegal activities."

The editorial in the party organ Trybuna Ludu followed a government charge that the Jasna Gora (Golden Hill) monastery, a church shrine, was used as cover for an illegal printing house.

Truck Runs Over Legs of Boy, 7; He's Not Hurt

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Mrs. James Kepler was backing a pickup truck out of the driveway with her 7-year-old son Jimmy and daughters Julie, 11, and Vickie, 8, in the back when she heard the girls yelling.

Jimmy had fallen out. The truck had backed over his legs—and he was pinned beneath the wheels.

Mrs. Kepler jumped back in the truck and backed a little farther to free Jimmy.

She took him to a hospital where doctors found only bruises.

Promises to Buy Dishwasher if Girl, 12, Returns

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—Here's a note for Bette Ann Summerford:

Come home, your mother will buy a dishwasher.

Mrs. Sally Summerford, Bette Ann's mother, asked help locating her missing 12-year-old daughter yesterday. She said the girl left home Friday in an argument over washing dishes.

If Bette Ann returns, her mother said, she can have a new dishwasher.

House Group OKs Raising Debt Ceiling

WASHINGTON (AP)—A rise in the government's debt ceiling to 285 billion dollars — with temporary permission to go to 288 billion—was approved today by the House Ways and Means Committee.

The committee acted after Secretary of the Treasury Anderson told it a 12-billion-dollar deficit is in prospect for the current fiscal year. The only dissent on the vote came from Rep. Noah Mason (R-Ill).

The bill probably will come up in the House Monday.

Government fiscal officers have been talking heretofore of a deficit of 8 to 10 billion dollars for the fiscal year ending next June 30.

Anderson not only boosted the forecast to 12 billions, he hinted it might be even greater, depending on the course of federal revenues.

The secretary said the $2,800,000,000 deficit for the fiscal year just ended was incurred because of a $3,300,000,000 drop in tax revenues.

Civilian Space Unit Bill Signed by Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has signed legislation putting the nation's space research projects under control of a civilian agency.

The new unit will be a reorganized and expanded version of the 47-year-old National Advisory Committee on Aeronautics. Hugh L. Dryden, NACA direetor, is expected to be named to the $22,500-a-year job of administrator of the space agency.

Eisenhower, acting through the administrator, will be in charge of the agency, but will have the services of an eight-man advisory council.

The Defense Department will continue to handle military space projects. Any conflicts over jurisdiction will be decided by the President.

Temperature at 110, 13-Year-Old Dies

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Donald Knee, 13, whose temperature reached at least 110 degrees last week from a blood clot on the brain, died today in Good Samaritan Hospital.

The cause of death was not immediately given, but earlier the doctors said Donald showed signs of having uremic poisoning, that his heart was weak, and that he had fluid in his lungs.

Donald, of nearby Phillipsburg, was brought to the hospital last Wednesday. His face was swollen and his temperature registered as high as the thermomometer recorded—110 degrees—and possibly was higher than that.

Pair of 98 Totals Lead 20-Gauge Test

Gordon Teets of Palm Beach, Fla., and Bob Biekirch of Rochester, N. Y., today held the early lead for the National Skeet Assn. 20-gauge championship under way at Oakland County Sportsmen's Club. Both turned in 98x100 scores.

Biekirch won the National Champion of Champions crown on Monday afternoon after a three-way shootoff.

The 20-gauge championship firing at noon was about half completed. Ben Dilorio of Los Angeles, Calif., is the defending titlist. He had not been on the fields at noon. He won in 1957 at Reno with 100 straight.

2 Political Opponents Have Twin Records

HONOLULU (AP) — Robert Cates, Oahu County Democratic chairman, and Edward Johnston, Oahu County Republican chairman are opposites politically — but lookalikes in other ways.

Both are 40 years old, live in the same neighborhood, originally came from Illinois and arrived in Hawaii as servicemen. Both sell insurance and at one time worked for the same concern at adjoining desks. They served together on the board of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and each became active in local politics in 1954.

As an added "resemblance," each feels a little sorry for the other. Each thinks the other is in the wrong political party.

Men are supposed to be braver than women, but can you imagine a man with 50 cents in his pocket making a clerk take down $500 worth of dry goods from the shelf? . . . Taffy Tuttle admits that she once accepted a gift from a Washington Senator. He was an infielder.—Earl Wilson.

Cheyenne Wondering If Mayor Ducks Issue

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — On page 10 of a Cheyenne newspaper appeared a letter to the editor wondering what happened to the flock of 27 ducks which stayed in a lake at the city park all summer.

On page 12, under the heading "Today's Recipe," was the selection "Danish Wild Duck with Sour Cream, the Mayor's Favorite," contributed by Mrs. Val S. Christensen, the mayor's wife.

The mayor was quick to explain. He said the ducks had been moved to warmer quarters for the winter—not to the Christensen dinner table.

Police Fines Third of Budget

A recent letter in the Voice of the People column from ROBERT H. CLIFT complains of an alleged speed trap in Orchard Lake Village, and charges that police are enforcing traffic laws in such a manner as to penalize responsible drivers and enrich the village coffers.

Some interesting light is shed on the situation by the budget for Orchard Lake Village for the next 12 months.

The budget calls for spending $99,538 for all village purposes. Some $57,000, or more than half, is for police department expenses.

Where the money comes from is of some interest. Four major sources are expected to supply these amounts:

Motor vehicle tax return	$10,000
Sales tax return	5,500
Current taxes	44,000
POLICE FINES	34,818

When the police of a village the size and character of Orchard Lake (population 696) put the bite on enough culprits to collect fines equal to almost 78 per cent of the entire village property tax, one of two conclusions are obvious:

1. The residents of said village are an awfully ornery bunch of people; or
2. Outsiders who pass through the village are paying the fines.

We know many of Orchard Lake's fine residents and can rule out the first proposition; hence the second must be true, to some extent. And when total fines are equal to $50 for each person living in the area, there is perhaps just reason to wonder.

The problem is not one confined to Orchard Lake Village. It turns up in many communities of varying size throughout the land.

Every community, large or small, is entitled to as much police protection as it wants . . . if it is willing to pay for it. But the policing power of municipalities is designed to protect citizens — all citizens, resident and visiting — and there the power should end.

If this power is misused, a wide area suffers by reason of the boycott motorists will eventually build up in self-protection.

When income from police departments, or from justice courts and other courts, appears to be out of proportion with other municipal revenues, perhaps it is time to take stock of things such as Mr. CLIFT mentions in his recent letter.

"THE nation's club women are urging the adoption of the rose as the U.S. national flower."—Press report. If a rose is chosen, in view of the prevalence of itching foot among Americans, it should be the rambling rose.

Is Something to Be Done to Aid Railroads?

In the current issue of Fortune magazine, a plan is suggested to save the 634 railroads in the United States.

As pointed out several times in these columns, the country's basic means of transportation is hamstrung to the point it may cease to exist, piece by piece. The handwriting is on the wall and unless the Government comes to the relief of the railroads, the Gov. ernment will find itself selling tickets, firing locomotives and replacing defective rails and ties. At least it will superintend these operations, whether it relishes the idea or not.

Fortune suggests a great amalgamation program with four national railroad divisions, thus eliminating duplication in operation, maintenance costs etc.

"Massive consolidation" says the magazine, "is the only way the industry can make enough money to survive as a private enterprise." Too many rails are losing too much money too rapidly. Tossing in the sponge will be upon us unless something is worked out rather quickly. The transportation system has ceased calling "wolf." The pesky critter's licking his chops on the front porch right now.

The Man About Town

May Be 5 Million

Recreational Area Crowds Are Breaking All Records

Recreation area: What we have so many of that they appear too commonplace to the home folks.

It now appears that the 1958 crowds at Oakland County's recreational spots will exceed five million. With hardly an exception they all report the biggest attendance in their history.

Topping the list is Kent Lake Park, where Superintendent says the number will exceed two million.

Next in line is Cass Lake, drawing the most people of any inland recreational spot among Michigan's 60 state parks, and which Manager asserts is badly overcrowded on many days.

At Pontiac Lake, Manager

says the crowds are immensely above last year.

Larger numbers, especially on weekends, is the case of Manager

Al. Messini

at Proud Lake Park.

Highland Park, according to Manager

John Reagan,

is running away above any previous year.

At Bald Mountain Park, Manager

says his biggest year already is assured.

Manager of the Holly Recreational Area,

Murray Titsworth

expects to double last year's numbers.

At the Rochester Park, Manager

John Butterfield

says its capacity often is taxed to a greater extent than ever before.

This year already has reached the total attendance of most any former year is the report from

Robert Bos,

Manager of the Ortonville Park.

WE KNOW Who Goes There—Halt!

David Lawrence Says:

Khrushchev's Letter Hypocritical

WASHINGTON — If anything were needed to convince the world that Khrushchev never had any serious idea of agreeing to anything important at a "summit" conference, the letter he sent to President Eisenhower on Monday should remove all doubts.

LAWRENCE

Yet many people who have been ardent in their advocacy of "summit" conferences seem to feel that this is the process that will prevent a war. Possibly this naive attitude arises because the general public isn't aware of the many diplomatic channels in existence through which agreement could readily be consummated if there were the slightest desire to do so.

Possibly also it's because the general public hasn't been sufficiently familiarized with the tricks of the unscrupulous men in the Kremlin.

Thus the Khrushchev letter is on its face a piece of hypocrisy, especially as it sarcastically argues that perhaps the United States Government could not guarantee the safety of heads of foreign governments if the "summit" meeting were held in New York. The Soviet chief boasted that there would, of course, be no difficulty protecting foreign visitors in Moscow.

But he was evidently relying, when he made that statement, on the short memories of many Americans. For not quite two weeks ago — on July 18 — a mob of 100,000 Russians gathered in front of the American Embassy in Moscow and threw ink bottles and stones, shattering most of the windows on the first five floors. Likewise, a mob appeared in front of the British Embassy and manifested its hostility.

The Soviet government certainly knew about all this in advance because loudspeakers had been set up. Television apparatus and cameramen were present to photograph the affair. All such equipment and personnel are controlled by the government in the Soviet Union.

The obvious purpose of every letter Khrushchev has written in the recent series is to carry on a propaganda hostile to the west. Not a single comunication has been couched in phrases that showed the slightest basis for an accord on vital issues.

As a consequence, the replies have been sternly worded. For the President of the United States cannot allow the argument in such letters to go unanswered during the propaganda battle going on over the air waves of the world.

Khrushchev takes advantage of every weakness on the allied side. He plays De Gaulle off against Eisenhower and Macmillan, and he quotes out of context what Macmillan says in order to drive a wedge between Britain and America.

The whole plot is so palpable that one wonders why politicians or "left wing" editorial writers lend themselves to anything that strengthens the Khrushchev hand at the expense of their own government.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Too Much Sweets, Pop Rob Americans of Health

Most Americans consume too much refined carbohydrate (sugar and starch). These staples or things made of them are cheap, available everywhere, easy to eat whether one is hungry or not. They are quickly converted into energy which suffices for a brief spurt of activity followed by a letdown, fatigue or disinclination to any further work or play until the next drink of pop or indulgence in candy, ice cream or other pabulum (composed mainly of refined carbohydrate) which can be hastily gulped without mastication.

DR. BRADY

By reasonable amount of sweets, I mean the child may be allowed to indulge in such "cheat-foods" on special occasions. The athlete may use sugar in whatever form he prefers to sustain him in a Marathon contest. The mountain climber or the soldier on a long march should carry sugar or candy or chocolate bar to take at intervals.

For the namby-pamby who just sits before the TV, at the movies, in the car, in the bleachers, in the cheering section, at school or in the office, any such indulgence is excessive and harmful. It cloys his natural or normal appetite, hunger or taste for foods which supply his nutritional requirements — vitamins, minerals, biologically complete proteins, material for building and repair and growth—such foods as meat, milk, eggs, cheese, fruits, vegetables, nuts, fish, greens, and undenaturized cereals such as plain wheat, brown (unpolished) rice, whole grain oats.

"Son has recurring wart on sole of foot. X-ray treatment has not proved successful . . ." (L. B. J.)

Answer — In his place I'd (1) go barefoot whenever possible, (2) apply castor oil to the wart every night on a pad retained in contact by a bit of bandage or adhesive straps, and if this proved ineffective in two or three weeks I'd have the wart excised surgically.

Answer — No such period follows childbirth normally. It would be necessary to determine whether the depression is due to emotional, economic or physical difficulty.

Man Agrees It's Unwise to Stop for Unmarked Car

Speaks in Defense of PCHS Program

After reading the editorial on Russia's educational program, I feel it's only fair to defend Pontiac High School's curriculum. I can only speak for the college preparatory course, but when I took it, there was no room for all the "easy electives" people seem so concerned with.

We were told what to take and we took it. It included four years of English, two years or more of history, two years or more of foreign language, two years or more of mathematics, two years or more of science and chemistry was mandatory, plus a few electives which had to be applied to our majors. If I remember correctly, we could major in math, history, English or science, hardly what you'd call "soft."

The only two "easy" courses I was allowed to elect were speech and typing, which were invaluable later. Maybe other cities operate on a different system, but we ought to give our high school credit for maintaining relatively high standards and turning out students that rank with the best.

Says Bible Predicts Middle East Fracas

Middle East unrest and turmoil are no accident. Read chapters 37-39 of Ezekiel to find things happening as predicted would take place before the second coming of Christ, when he takes over the world at the battle of Armageddon. That may not be too far in the future.

Many are fearful that Russia is going to come out on top. The Bible says no. One of these days, with God's help, little Israel is going to bloody Russia's nose. Rather than fearing Russia, people would be smarter fearing God. It pays to be a saved Christian. We have no fear of this world or the next.

Some people question the truth of the Bible. It is more up-to-date than tomorrow's newspaper. Newspapers say what has happened. The Bible says what will happen.

Red Boss Accomplished as Both Hooligan, Clown

By J. M. Roberts
AP News Analyst

Nikita Khrushchev sees no humor in his claim of complete control of security in Moscow for a summit meeting and Russia's recent attempt to make the mobs around Western embassies appear to be spontaneous.

There was no doubt in the West that the mobs were officially arranged. His statement now convicts his own government of hooliganism.

In Russia, hooliganism covers a lot of ground. One form of it is smuggling in jazz records. It also includes wearing American clothes, making passes at the ladies or getting drunk in public. Boorishness in public vehicles, disorderly conduct of any sort, is decried as non-Communist.

Unless a rock-throwing, window-breaking, ink-slinging crowd happens to be expressing the government line. Then the police are powerless, and the newspapers hurl no charges of hooliganism.

It may not be good taste in a sorely troubled world to comment on the more comical poses into which the Communists fall through their very intensity and solemnity. If they see no humor in portraying a tipsy youth who whistles at a girl as an enemy of the state, then they'll never laugh with the West, anyway.

It is natural for Westerners to chuckle over how the mobs got so out of hand at the embassies in a spot where Khrushchev has such perfect control.

Then a feeling of despondency descends. Minor manifestations of the Russian posture, instead of being laughable, become corollaries of a kind of thinking to which Western minds cannot become accustomed.

Hooliganism and clowning are not synonymous. Nikita is accomplished at both.

One of the great treasures of Western culture is the ability to laugh under almost any circumstances. Singing in the rain, whistling through the graveyard, that kind of stuff.

Somehow, today, the lips won't pucker.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Warns Wives Against Disinterest

Gene Worrell wanted to let the wives have a chance to ask me questions, so he graciously held a little party at his home following my Chamber of Commerce banquet address in Bristol, Tenn. Notice the spunky arguments of one of the wives, for she voices the attitude of many women. But you better follow my advice, for divorces usually start in the bedroom!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE Y-375: Gene Worrell, aged about 38, is the publisher of the newspapers at Bristol, Tennessee.

Like many another newspaperman, he also served as president of his Chamber of Commerce, and invited me to deliver the annual banquet address.

DR. CRANE

Then he graciously took me out to his home for a visit with a score of friends and neighbors. Since it was a discriminating group, he asked me to answer questions about marriage problems, and we had a lively evening.

For one young woman with spunk and ideas of her own, took me to task because I had said many wives rebuff their husbands and thus are unwittingly reponsible for driving the entering wedge that splits their home asunder.

"Dr. Crane, why must the wife make all the concessions?" she demanded. "Why doesn't the husband show more self-control and do what his wife wants?"

To which I replied that God Almighty created men to have a much greater appetite than women, both in the gastric realm as well as the erotic.

"You realize that your husband may crave 3,500 calories of food at the table each day," I said by way of analogy, "although you demand only 2,500.

"Suppose you tell him that his greater food hunger is just in his mind and that he should be content with 2,500 calories simply because that amount fully satisfies your own hunger. What will he do?"

Then I went on to explain that a docile new bridegroom might try to let his wife prescribe his food intake, but the first day she short rationed him to the tune of 1,000 calories, he'd have a gnawing stomach while on the job at his store or factory post.

So the odor of food from the company cafeteria or a corner lunchroom would soon become almost irresistible in his nostrils.

Out of loyalty to his new bride, he might still refrain from sneaking a hamburger on the first day or two, but the cumulative effect of a steadily mounting hunger would ultimately make him surrender.

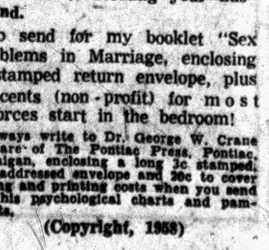

"Wouldn't it then be foolish for his young wife to berate him for supplementing her limited food rations by his lunch room hamburgers?' I asked.

"Well, it is no more illogical than for her to become so surprised and upset if she finds that he succumbs to some unscrupulous siren who offers him the erotic calories his wife has refused him."

Patriarchal Jacob in Biblical days had two wives — Leah and Rachel. And he also had two common-law wives, making a total of four.

Nowadays, we veto such polygamy on many grounds—moral, legal and economic. And we find that children thrive better in a unified home atmosphere where there is just one father and one mother.

But the modern wife must realize that the human male is naturally a polygamous creature. Like the bull and the stallion, he was created to be interested in a harem.

How can just one wife meet this crisis? Well, she must function as a one-woman harem! She must feign ardor on many occasions when she isn't very hungry for such erotic indulgence.

Besides, that's a very cheap price to pay for holding the lifelong devotion of your husband throughout your Golden Wedding Day.

Remember, women far outnumber men in America, so there are plenty of designing sirens who will have no aversion whatever to stealing your husband.

So send for my booklet "Sex Problems in Marriage, enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit) for most divorces start in the bedroom!

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

AF Postpones Atlas Launching

New Snag Develops in Latest Attempt to Launch Missile

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Air Force has postponed its latest attempt to launch the first fully powered Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile successfully.

The three-engine missile, which blew apart with a thunderous roar on its first launching July 19, was scrubbed yesterday when technical difficulties developed during the long countdown.

The Air Force announced the shoot would be rescheduled at an early date.

The triple power package — two booster rockets and a main sustainer engine — provide enough power to blast the Atlas over the 6,000-mile intercontinental range.

In the previous eight tests only the boosters were used at limited range.

No surgeon's knife. No unpleasant suppositories nor messy salves. No injections. Amazing PILE-AIDS, largely an imported herbal compound, speeds to work internally where many doctors believe most pile troubles start. To date, few physicians have had the opportunity to evaluate PILE AIDS in this country, but many doctors who have tested the formula now recommend it.

PILE-AIDS soothes and give palliative relief even in harsh, stubborn conditions of from ten to twenty years duration that have resisted other local treatments.

Relieve piles symptoms with an oral tablet? Does this sound too good to be true? Here's our no-risk offer. Buy inexpensive NUTRITION SQUARE'S PILE-AIDS Tablets at any good health food store. Take as directed and you be the judge. Money back if you are not satisfied. Call in person or order by mail

Navy Blimp Takes Off for Arctic

LAKEHURST, N.J. (AP) — A Navy blimp took off from here today on a historic, lighter-than-air flight to the North Pole.

The 343-foot blimp rose at 6:20 a.m., about as gracefully as a blimp can rise, and pointed its prow northward.

It will follow the Hudson River Valley and is scheduled to land in Churchill, Man., late tomorrow night.

The craft will carry 14 crewmen and a group of International Geophysical Year scientists to ice island T-3, a floating weather station in the Arctic Ocean.

The flight will enable the scientists to study the feasibility of using nonrigid airships for arctic research.

If the expedition is a success, the ZPG-2 type blimp will be the first Navy airship to fly over the North Pole.

So far, however, the huge craft has been dogged by lighter-than-air gremlins.

Foul weather delayed its departure from South Weymouth, Mass., until Sunday night. The following day, rough weather and a temperature inversion — warm air at a high altitude—forced the blimp to set down at the air station here.

Thunderstorms and fog kept it here until this morning.

Indian Signs Remain in Bent Trail Trees

KENT, O. (UPI)—The Old Indian sign still is on the face of America.

The sign is the bent tree that marks the early Indian trail, according to Davey tree experts. Indian custom was to bend saplings and fasten them in position, the bend indicating the route to be followed.

Such trees may be seen throughout much of America, including especially the Mississippi Valley, the Great Smokies, the Poconos, and in Ohio, southern Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Indiana, Kentucky and Texas.

Surviving trees indicate the care the Indians took to merely bend the trees and not break them, assuring growth in the deformed position.

Italy Eradicates Malaria

ROME — Malaria has been virtually eradicated in Italy. There were 412,000 cases reported in 1945 and approximately 1,000 deaths from the disease. Regular DDT residual spraying led to control of the disease.

Official of Newspaper Journel Dies in East

NEW YORK (AP) — Charles T. Stuart, 74, publisher and treasurer of Editor & Publisher, newspaper professional journal, died Tuesday in a Huntington, N. Y. hospital.

Stuart had been away from his office here since February because of illness. He lived at 44 Gramercy Park.

Stuart joined Editor & Publisher in 1931 as field advertising representative. He later was advertising director and advanced to general manager in 1941. He became publisher and treasurer in 1948.

Death was attributed to cancer of the spine.

Dynamite First Carried by Train to Break Ice Jam

CHICAGO—In 1875 a dynamite manufacturer persuaded a Middle Western railroad to transport dynamite—the first recorded instance of its transportation by rail—by threatening to withhold the explosives necessary to blast loose an ice jam imperiling one of the railroad's bridges.

Not a pound of cement was made in America until dynamite became available to quarry rock. Almost overnight it multiplied the production of mines. Its manufacture and safe transportation literally changed the face of the earth, for it made possible the easier building of railroads, canals, dams, skyscrapers and subways.

After Confessing in Lapeer

Youth Not Guilty of Arson

LeROY L. ROBERTS

LAPEER—A 20-year-old Lapeer youth who police said confessed to setting fire to four houses and two barns was freed yesterday in Lapeer Circuit Court when Judge Timothy C. Quinn issued a directed verdict of not guilty because of insufficient evidence.

LeRoy L. Roberts, of 1432 N. Saginaw St., was tried on a charge of arson in the burning of a vacant house near his home. It belonged to Arthur Lynch, a Lapeer auto dealer.

Following his arrest in March, Roberts confessed to starting the fire and five others over the past two years, according to Lapeer Police Chief Matthew Dougherty and State Police Arson Detective Donald Hinds of the Flint Post.

The confession could not be introduced as evidence, however, because Judge Quinn ruled it must first pre proved that arson was committed.
that arson was committed.

Prosecutor George D. Lutz called eight employes of the Detroit Edison Co. in an attempt to show that the fire in the vacant house could not have been started by defective wiring.

The trial, heard by a jury of three women and nine men, lasted about six hours. Roberts was defended by Attorney Kenneth Smith of Lapeer.

Sally Anny Werth Repeats Vows of Orchard Lake

ORCHARD LAKE—Our Lady of Refuge Church in Orchard Lake was the scene Saturday morning of the marriage of Sally Anny Werth to Chauncey F. Smith Jr. Performing the riet was the Rev. Giles Bartol.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Werth of 6607 Buckland St., Orchard Lake. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey F. Smith of 2207 Greer St., Keego Harbor.

For her wedding, the new Mrs. Smith chose a floor length gown trimmed with embroidered organdy. It featured a Sabrina neckline, fitted bodice and tiered scalloped skirt. Her veil was attached to pearl tiara and she carried a white prayer book covered with satin and carnations.

Miss Karen Olsen of Detroit, the bride's cousin, was maid of honor. The bride's sister, Ann Marie, was flower girl.

Her brother, James, was best man and ushers were Jack Smith, the bridegroom's brother, and Tom Werth, brother of the bride.

The receiption was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Olsen, 2131 Helmsford St., Walled Lake.

Ward's Orchard Unit Elects First Officers

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—Edward Lauckner of 2099 S. Telegraph Rd., was elected president of the newly-organized Ward's Orchard Civic Assn. at a meeting Monday night at Daniel Whitfield School.

Other officers named were Raymond H. Mumby, 1952 Ward Rd., vice president, and Floyd E.Rouse, 1263 Edison, secretary-treasurer.

The association will represent the northern section of Bloomfield Township in the Federated Assn. of Bloomfield Township.

Scheduled to make reports at the next meeting at 8 p.m. Aug. 18 are Engel Groenberg, of 1650 Ward Rd., and Marshall O. O'Shaughnessy, of 1270 Dorchester Rd.

Groenberg will seek information regarding the installation of street lights in Ward's Orchard subdivision and O'Shaughnessy will study sewage and drainage matters.

LATEST IN TEEN TRANSPORTATION — Joseph Wessinger, 13, of Milford is checking slack on drive belt of motor scooter he built from discards on his father's farm. Living four miles from town and unable to buy a new scooter, he did the next best thing — made one. Although it's not fast, it beats walking, Joe says.

Milford Farm Boy, 13, Builds Own Unique Motor Scooter

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

MILFORD — One of the most unique transportation devices in the Huron Valley area is owned by 13-year-old Joseph Wessinger of 2561 Wixom Rd.

It's a home-made motor scooter constructed from water pipes, two-by-fours, baling wire, an old lawnmower. And it "goes faster than I can run," says Joe.

Young Wessinger lives on a farm four miles out of town, and the only way he could get there was ride old "Bonnie" horseback or walk. With no funds available, necessity became the mother of invention and Joe started to build the scooter.

First, he tore an old wagon apart, using its parts as a base for a power-driven wagon. However, it hardly moved, so he disassembled the wagon and went to work on the "streamlined" scooter.

He formed the frame out of pipe, put together with lead elbows and plumber's T's he found on his father's 150-acre farm.

The wheels and axles came from the original wagon, the steering apparatus was the handlebars from his childhood tricycle, the seat-foundation came off an old two-wheel bike.

When the Wessingers' power lawnmower finally gave out, Joe tore it down, overhauled it and mounted it on the back of his "Josephscooter," as he calls it.

To have the 4-cycle engine set perfectly level, Joe found an 8-inch piece of 2 by 4 board, drilled holes through each end and wired it to the pipe frame.

A belt connects a pulley on the back wheel to the motor driveshaft, and when started "away she goes."

There is no clutch. Joe starts the motor with a pulley rope, gets a good running start and jumps up on the seat while the scooter is in motion.

A department store catalogue helped supply the gas control lever, self-contained light and horn, which are the only new items on his invention.

The tiny one-and-a-half horsepower motor gets 10 miles to its four-cup capacity gas tank. That's 40 miles to a gallon. "It sure is a lot better'n walkin'," says Joe.

'Nasty Way to Sell a Book'

General Blasts Wilson . . . Charlie Blasts Right Back

From Our News Wires

BOYNE CITY — Former Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson said today Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin (ret.) was trying to sell his book "in a rather nasty way" in blaming him for the U.S. lag in missile development.

Wilson refused to comment directly on Gavin's charge, which appears in a forthcoming book, "War and Peace in the Space Age."

But Wilson, vacationing at his summer home here, had a lot to say about Gavin himself.

"He's setting himself up an an expert in a field which he has no experience," said Wilson. "I wouldn't say he was competent enough to be considered a military authority. It's a case of a little knowledge being a dangerous thing."

Gavin claimed in his book that the U.S. was placed in "mortal danger" by Wilson's decisions, which put the country three years behind Russia in the missile race. Wilson practiced "deception and duplicity," Gavin said.

Wilson said he had not read the book and "doubt if I will. He's trying to sell his book in a rather nasty way. He couldn't get along down at the Pentagon. He resigned. He has too big an opinion of himself and his own ideas."

Commenting on Gavin's report that he once heard a military chief of staff say Wilson was the most uninformed man ever to be defense secretary, Wilson snapped, "that's just his opinion. I have my opinion of Gavin too."

"I hate to help him sell his book with these remarks," Wilson said. He said Gavin's type of military man was the type the writers of the U.S. Constitution had in mind when they made certain civilians always would control the country's military establishment.

Gavin also voiced criticism of retired Adm. Arthur W. Radford, who for four years was chairman of the Joint Chiefs. Coincidentally, he praised Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, former Army chief of staff.

"Somehow, despite Secretary Wilson and the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff," Gavin wrote, "Gen. Ridgway managed to hold together an army and continue to ready that army for the nuclear-missile-space age. And he did so despite a constantly shrinking budget."

Radford was unavailable for comment.

Gavin's retirement at 51 last March stirred up a storm in Congress among legislators who felt the Pentagon had been lax in developing a missiles and satellites program. Gavin said he had been hampered by procedures and lack of funds.

Auto Hits 3-Year-Old in Front of Her Home

A three-year-old girl was injured yesterday, when she was struck by an automobile in front of her house at 252 W. Wilson Ave.

Beatrice Thomas suffered lacerations of the face when she was struck by the car of Joshua Glenn, 29, of 6 Grant St., which was being pushed down the street by another car.

Police said the girl ran out from behind a truck illegally parked across the street. They ticketed the truck driver. Beatrice was treated at Pontiac General Hospital and released.

Fired Policeman Awaits Sentence

Pleads Guilty to Theft at Farmington; Seek 2nd Man in Robbery

FARMINGTON — A Farmington policeman, fired six weeks ago, is in the Oakland County Jail today awaiting sentencing for theft of farm equipment, while a Farmington moving company operator is being sought on a grand larceny warrant, charging him with taking a new $2,000 farm tractor, five power mowers and a riding lawn mower from two farm implement firms in Farmington.

Willard Vignoe, 28, of 20817 Sunnydale St., Farmington Township, discharged from the police department for sleeping on the job, pleaded guilty yesterday to a charge of simple larceny. Municipal Judge John J. Schulte Jr. postponed sentencing until tomorrow.

Police Chief Joseph G. DeVriendt said Vignoe was arrested after two patrolmen saw him take a farm disk Saturday night from the Everett Implement Co., 31200 Grand River.

Being sought is George Beard, 39, of 32340 Grand River. A tractor stolen from the Blackett, Inc., Tractors and Implements, 29030 Grand River, and six power mowers belonging to the Everett firm, were found in a barn on his property, DeVriendt said.

Bette Kempf of Lake Orion Speaks Vows

ORION TOWNSHIP — Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kempf of 144 Hiram St. have announced the recent marriage of their daughter, Bette, to Pfc. Gerald Drake, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernal Drake of 940 Merritt St., Lake Orion.

The wedding took place July 11 at St. Paul's Church near Washington, D.C.

The bride was employed as a Civil Service worker in the Pentagon in Washington where her husband was stationed with the Marine Corps.

He has since been transferred to Spain and his wife plans to join him there early next year.

DIANA DAHL

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Dahl of 4824 Elizabeth Lake Rd., Waterford Township, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Diana, to Donald DeLater, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard DeLater of 1480 Hamlin Rd., Rochester. The marriage will take place Oct. 18 at the St. Lawrence Catholic Church at Utica.

MARY ROSE LAWRENCE

An Oct. 4 wedding is being planned by Mary Rose Lawrence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman R. Lawrence of Grand Rapids, and William C. Kaphengst of Devondale street, Avon Townhip. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and. William A. Kaphengst of Lapeer. He attended GM Tech in Flint and his fiance was a student at Davenport Institute, a Grand Rapids business college.

More Plates Reflective

HARTFORD, Conn. — The nation's first reflective auto-license plates were issued in Connecticut in 1948. Since then Maine, Delaware, Minnesota, Louisiana, and South Dakota have issued the safety plates and a number of other states are considering doing so.

School Borrowing in Rochester OK'd

ROCHESTER — The Rochester Community School District was among 55 Michigan school systems to have borrowings against 1958-59 state aid payments approved Monday by the State Municipal Finance Commission.

The district received permission to borrow $400,000.

Hundreds of districts have submitted applications in recent weeks after it was announced the state could not afford interest-free advances against state aid as a solution to their immediate financial problems.

State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown said he expects a delay of 10 days to two weeks in payment of the first 1958-59 state aid installment, due by statute on Aug. 15.

Hal Boyle Says:

Top Tunesmith Shuns Rock 'n' Roll Songs

NEW YORK (AP) — The top young tunesmith of Tin Pan Alley has an unusual distinction — he's never written a rock 'n' roll number.

"I don't have anything against them," said Robert Allen, 31. "But I wouldn't know how to begin to write one.

"Most of my songs have been ballads."

You may never have heard of Bob Allen, a slender, dark-eyed sensitive composer who doesn't care much for the limelight and would prefer to let his music speak for him. But in the last three years he has become the new wonder boy of the popular tune field.

More than 15 million recordings of his songs have been sold since he first hit the jackpot with "Home for the Holidays," "You Alone," and "Moment to Remember."

Currently three of his songs are among the top 10 best-selling platters — Doris Day's "Everybody Loves a Lover," Pat Boone's "If Dreams Came True," and the Four Lads' "Enchanted Island."

Despite his boyish look, Bob is no Johnny-come-lately to the music world. Born in Troy, N.Y., he started playing at the piano at the age of 4. He helped work his way through high school performing at weddings, driving a taxi and painting—the outside of houses.

He hit Manhattan when he was 18 and pounded piano in a number of jazz joints before becoming an accompanist for Julie Wilson, Billy Daniels and other singers.

"I lived on hamburgers and spaghetti for a couple of years," he recalled. "But it seemed like fun."

In 1952 he decided the piano had been only a bread-and-butter sideline with him and that his real wish was to compose music. Since then he has published more than 75 songs, thrown away at least as many more. Usually he writes only the music, and a collaborator turns out the lyrics.

"I do it all in my head," he said. "I don't need to play it on a piano or write it down to tell how it will sound. I hear it in my head.

"I think in terms of notes, just as a painter thinks in terms of color and a writer thinks in terms of words.

"I find it easiest to compose while I'm walking. It's easier that way for me to get out what's inside me. When I talk I can disconnect my mind from everything except the music inside my head."

How long does it take him to compose a song?

"It comes, if it is going to come at all, in half an hour," he said. "But you may spend six months thinking about the idea."

A hit song rarely makes a tunesmith wealthy.

"This is no way to get rich in a hurry," Allen said. "The composer gets only half a cent a recording, and if a tune sells a million records that comes to only $5,000."

But if a songwriter builds up a backlog of successes, the performance fees add up to a big income over the years.

Bob is still young enough—or maybe mature enough — to feel that the money he earns is never a real artist's biggest reward.

"The real thrill," he said, "is to walk down the street and hear someone humming your song.

"Though you don't know him, you are not total strangers. He knows at least a part of you."

Checks on Stolen Car, His Own Driven Away

SPRINGERVILLE, Ariz. (AP)—Highway Patrolman William Gregory, alerted to look for a stolen car, stopped a motorist and ordered him into his patrol car while he searched the motorist's auto.

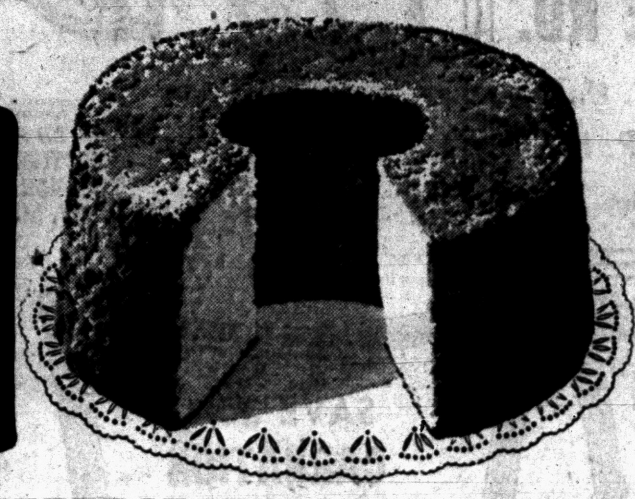

The man stepped into Gregory's car — and drove off. The speedy patrol car was more than a match for the one left behind.

Gregory's car was found abandoned 35 miles away.

Polish Monastery Invaded by Police

WARSAW, Poland, (AP) — Roman Catholic officials have protested a police invasion of a monastery housing vows of church allegiance by a million Poles.

The raid came after a demand by the state prosecutor for information on the Institute of National Vows founded by Stefan Cardinal Wyszinski, Roman Catholic primate of Poland.

The church charged that police broke down the gates of the Jasna Gora (Golden Hill) monastery, a national shrine, and stripped the institute offices there of books, records, and tape recordings.

Psychologist Claims UFOs Really Exist

ALAMOGORDO, N.M. (AP) — Dr. Carl Jung, Swiss psychologist, says in a report that Unidentified Flying Objects are real and "show signs of intelligent guidance by quasihuman pilots."

"I can only say for certain these things are not a mere rumor, something has been seen," Jung said in the report. "A purely psychological explanation is ruled out."

Jung, who started his research on UFOs in 1944, released his report through the UFO filter center of the Aerial Phenomena Research Organization here. It was released by L. J. Lorenzen of Holloman Air Force Base.

"I have gathered a mass of observations of Unidentified Flying Objects since 1944," Jung said.

"The discs do not behave in accordance with physical laws, but as though without weight. . .

"If the extraterrestrial origin of this phenomena should be confirmed, this would prove the existence of an intelligent interplanetary relationship. What such a fact might mean for humanity cannot be predicted.

"But it would put us without doubt in the extremely precarious position of primitive communities in conflict with the superior culture of the whites.

"That the construction of these machines proves a scientific technique immensely superior to ours cannot be argued."

The Air Force has said investigation of flying saucers reported over the past 10 years has produced no evidence that such things exist.

It has contended that not a shred of evidence has turned up to show the existence of a flying saucer or interplanetary space ship or that the objects sighted indicate developments beyond the range of current scientific knowledge or pose a threat to the nation's security.

The Air Force said last November investigations of 5,700 reported sightings showed the mysterious objects were balloons, aircraft, astronomical phenomena, birds, fireworks or hoaxes among other things.

Absent-Minded Thief Caught With Pants On

TRENTON, N. J. (UPI) — Absent-minded Frederico Maggio, 27, stole a pair of pants from the apartment of Herbert Rappaport and then made the mistake of going back to inquire about a rooming vacancy.

Rappaport's wife Wanda recognized her husband's trousers on Maggio and called police who arrested him. He confessed.

Confesses Beating Accoster to Death

ALLEGAN (AP) — A 33-year-old rural Pullman man was expected to be arraigned today on first degree murder charges in the fatal beating of Ervin Schoemaker, 45, of Pullman.

Allegan Prosecutor Chester A. Ray said Lynford Neal confessed the beating yesterday but insisted he did it after Schoemaker made indecent advances.

Ray said Neal told him he struck Schoemaker with a bottle and a three-foot section of 2-by-4 board and then dragged the body to the rear of a small shed.

The body was found there Sunday. The shed is 15 miles west of Allegan and one-half mile from Neal's home.

Squirrels Dislike Nutts

FORT SMITH, Ark. (UPI) — Squirrels are usually crazy about nuts but Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Nutt of Fort Smith, don't quite agree. Squirrels are tearing up the Nutts' roof.

She's Getting Prepared

COLBY, Kan. (AP) — When a customer ordered three large books of 3-cent stamps from Colby Postal Clerk John Harris, he reminded her that first class letters would require four cents postage after Aug. 1. "What," said the customer, "do you think I'm stocking up for?"

About 71 per cent of all U. S. hospital beds are in institutions controlled by the government at federal, state or local levels.

Let's Settle Now, Judge

ARDMORE, Okla. (AP) — "Guilty, and I'll waive a hearing," the defendant told Peace Justice G. W. Puny about a drunkeness charge. "What do you mean you'll waive a hearing?" the judge asked. "I'll plead guilty, but I don't want to hear any more about it," the defendant answered. Puny obliged—and fined him $20.

Mars was 40 million miles from the earth in 1954, the closest in 13 years.

True Texan to the End

KANAB, Utah (AP)—Construction worker Bill Hart, of Kanab, a Texan by birth, tried a somersault off the driving board of Kanab's new swimming pool. He landed on the concrete below the board, missing the water. He said, as they carried him way with a broken wrist and ankle sprains: "They sure don't build swimming pools here like they do in Texas."

Secret Service Vet Succumbs at 107

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Harry Jackson, who once said "If there's anything I can think of that would shorten a man's life, I've done it," died yesterday. He was 107.

A 50-year veteran of the U. S. Secret Service, he settled in Oklahoma after helping police the 1889 land run which led to the opening of Oklahoma.

He died a week after he suffered a stroke and fell.

Jackson was born Nov. 27, 1850, in Tarrant County, Tex.

He said he had no idea why he lived so long but on another occasion declared it was because he had always stayed interested in things.

"When you lose interest, you lose everything."

She Shuns Blood of Another, Dies

HAVERHILL, Mass. (AP)—Mrs. Elizabeth Denno, 43, who had refused blood transfusions because of her religious beliefs, died yesterday from what doctors described as complications from the chronic loss of blood.

Doctors said the loss of blood was caused by an ulcerated intestine.

Doctors had tried for nearly a year to get Mrs. Denno to submit to blood transfusions, but she refused in her stated belief as a member of Jehovah's Witnesses that one human should not feed on the blood of another.

Nike-Hercules Tests Called Successful

EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP)—Two slender Nike-Hercules missiles roared out over the Gulf range on successful flights yesterday.

Fired in salvo, the ground-to-air missiles sped toward three drone F80 fighters flying in formation about 47 miles from shore.

The first missile destroyed the lead drone with its explosive warhead.

The second missile scored a near-miss on the next drone as planned and fell into the Gulf. It's nose cone, bearing instruments, was recovered within 45 minutes.

Diana Barrymore Wants Fame, Husband

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—After three wrong marriages and 37 uncertain years, Diana Barrymore claims to be searching for two elements that thus far have eluded her: a solid acclaim as an actress, and a husband with intelligence and integrity.

"Getting pretty choosy, eh?" she grinned.

"Well, thank the Lord, I have something to work with now. What you see before you today is a different Diana — one with strength. I think maybe I'll make it."

The "new" Miss Barrymore, who gave up drinking eight months ago and has received glowing reviews with a touring company, talks glibly. She accents words and phrases in comic melodramatic style, as if afraid to be serious—You might laugh at her. She swears as unconsciously as southerners drawl. Your grandmother wouldn't like her, but you very well might. She's vigorously frank.

"I always get bored quickly. Drinking seemed to help ease the boredom. Now that I'm never going to drink again, I bore even more quickly." She shrugged. "But I just tell people I'm bored with, 'Dahling, I've got a terrible migraine. Will you forgive me?'

"Oh, you're writing that down. Oh, damn. Well, the migraine bit has been killed. I'll think of something else."

"Now that she has discovered that so many people who were tolerable with a martini are deadly when one is sober, Diana says she is pinning most of her hopes, and thoughts, on her career.

"I had talent when I started. I didn't know anything, not anything, when I made my Broadway debut in my teens and the critics still were kind. Now I've been in hundreds of plays—some of them a little hazy in my mind, I admit—and I'm very good at my craft.

"Now, when they see me act, by —, they're going to say 'yes!' "

Diana hopes for a Broadway play next fall. Says it's virtually a certainty. And she thinks her two decades of parties, liquor and tragedy have helped, rather than hindered, her talent.

"Oh, 100 per cent—100 per cent benefit. Bad times benefit everyone. I used to tell mother (novelist Michael Strange), 'Don't try to protect me against things; let them happen.'

"I'm glad I went through every lousy thing I did. I wouldn't live through it again, but now I'm glad I had it."

Now, however, it "bores" her to look back at that other life. "When I was drinking I was half-asleep. Now when I wake up, I'm up, and I'm awake. I have a different kind of fun. The other was an abandoned kind of fun, that belongs to youth. Now it's a quiet, intelligent kind. Lord knows you enjoy a thoing more when you're fully aware it's happening to you."

Diana credits her manager, Violla Rubber, for pulling her together. "She is the first human soul who ever really cared what happened to me. My father (John Barrymore) was too sick to care, and my mother was too busy."

As to the reason she wants to marry again, Diana tosses it off, apparently afraid again that sobriety will only get her a laugh in the face:

"I'm a fantastic cook, really I am, and I want someone to cook for. I want to baste the ham with the honey and all that sort of thing, but I don't want to do it just for myself."

Iraq to Receive Recognition Soon

LONDON (AP) — The United States and the four non-Arab Baghdad Pact members are expected to recognize the new republican government of Iraq after waiting a while.

An informal agreement to extend recognition eventually was reported at the close yesterday of a meeting here of the Baghdad alliance's Council of Ministers. Iraq, only Arab member of the alliance, did not attend, and the rebel government which overthrew King Faisal has indicated it will withdraw from the pro-Western group.

The prime ministers of the other Baghdad countries — Britain, Turkey, Iran and Pakistan — plus a U. S. observer agreed that the future of the anti-Communist Middle East alliance in its present form depends on Iraq, informants said.

As a gesture toward keeping Iraq in the pact, the five nations will recognize the republican regime as the actual (de facto) government.

Recognition will be delayed, however, to underline disapproval of the killing of Faisal and other pro-Western Iraqi leaders who died in the July 14 revolt.

A number of other nations, with President Nasser's United Arab Republic and the Soviet Union in the vanguard, already have recognized the Iraqi government of Premier Abdel Karim Kassem. Kassem's regime has signed a mutual defense agreement with Nasser, who violently opposes the Baghdad Pact.

Southern pine growers have topped their own reforestration records with almost 66 million seedlings planted. Louisiana was first with Alabama second and Arkansas third.

Bob Considine Says:

Reporter Fights to Save Polish Seaman

NEW YORK — Jack Lotto, the Edward Bennett Williams of publicity men, will not be present today when the Polish freighter "Fryderyk Szopen" docks at Mobile. But the hand of the crack reporter who recently figured in the Bernard Goldfine case will be apparent nonetheless.

As soon as the Communist controlled ship drops a ladder, it will be boarded by a U. S. Immigration official in search of a 24-year-old seaman named Richard Eibel. An important test case concerning asylum is concerned. So far, the U. S. has been the "heavy" in the story.

Eibel has had his doubts about communism for a long time. His father was a commander in the Polish navy before World War II. When his ship was in New York last week he made the hard decision to cut his ties with his homeland and strike out for freedom. He presented himself at the Polish National Home and made known his great hope.

Minutes later, two U. S. Immigration officials descended from the blue, placed him under custody and returned him to his ship, which was tied up at a Brooklyn pier. He was treated as a ship-jumper not as a refugee from communism.

That's where Lotto came in. He was called by the Polish American Immigration and Relief Committee, which secured his services on a $1 a year basis.

When his calls to Attorney General William Rogers and several Congressmen came to nothing, he staged a well-attended press conference and laid the injustice before fellow reporters. Their stories caused the Immigration brass to decide that a second look was warranted.

But by that time the ship had sailed, carrying the would-be American to heaven only knows what fate. Lotto kept the steam on the officials with the result that Eibel will get a hearing at Mobile—and away from the ship and its Communist Captain Janus.

The question of when is an escapee eligible for our mercy is at stake in this case. If Lotto brings this one off he will have fanned a fresh flame of hope in the hearts of countless peoples in the slave states. If we send Eibel back to Poland we will, in effect, have served as agents of a Communist regime.

The aircraft industry is as hotly competitive as any other, but it has united in one breath-taking project. The project is Dyna-Soar. It is too big a dream for a single company to tackle. It proposes to produce for the Ar Force—at some date which is not now known — a manned, rocket-powered vehicle powerful enough to be put in orbit around the earth at 18,000 miles an hour and sophisticated enough to sustain the crew in comfort and return it safely to earth.

The vehicle must be able to fly not only at 18,000 m.p.h. but slow enough to land at a conventional airbase. Its hide must be able to deflect or neutralize the cosmic rays whose harmful effects are now being intricately reported by Explorer IV. The skin of the vessel must be of a metal or material that will not cinderize as the machine comes back into the thick atmosphere of the earth.

A new system of controlling the awe-inspiring power which the vehicle will need must be devised and, according to the prospectus, there must be "a provision for its crew to operate the weapon system while being subjected to very high 'G' (gravity) forces, and later to function in weightless, airless medium."

Simple.

Father Fred Foley S. J. writes of life on the little Chinese island we call Quemoy, 2,500 yards off the coast of Red China. He visited there recently. The Reds lob as many as 10,000 shells on to the island each year, but the 47,000 residents go about their lives of farming, shop-keeping and the like.

A French Franciscan, Father Druetto, pastor of the Catholic Chapel on the island, waits until the wind is right, rings his churchbell, and its sweet tone and significance waft across the water to the slaves of Mao Tse-tung.

Measles Decreases in City and County

City and county health departments both report that measles was down in their areas last week, compared to the previous one, according to Dr. John D. Monroe, health director.

37 County Democrats on August 5 Ballot

* * * * * * * * * * * * * * *

Five Legislative District Fights Scheduled

Oakland County's six seats in the Michigan House of Representatives are the targets of 21 Democratic candidates hoping for nomination to them in next Tuesday's primary election.

In the past, Democrats have been occupying just two of the six positions. And only one of the incumbent seeks re-election. This is Rep. Walter T. McMahon, of Hazel Park, from District 6.

The second representative post held by the Democratic party was Pontiac's District 2. Incumbent Leslie H. Hudson chose to seek his party's nomination to Congress.

Democrats in the different districts Aug. 5 must select their pick of a party nominee to face a Republican nominee in the fall election. Voters will be voting for only the prospective nominees for the district in which they live.

Those Democrats in District 4 need not be concerned who their candidate on the November ballot will be. Being that he is unopposed for the nomination, James Clarkson, Detroit attorney and Southfield resident, is the automatic choice. Clarkston was the party's nominee among three candidates in 1956.

(Includes Holly, Groveland, Brandon, Oxford, Addison, Rose, Springfield, Independence, Orion, Oakland, Highland, White Lake, Waterford and Pontiac Townships, and Sylvan Lake City).

Robert H. Chapin

Chapin is a Drayton Plains father of six children seeking the District 1 nomination to Lansing. This is the 37-year-old life insurance salesman's first try for a political office.

A 1940 graduate of Pontiac High School, Chapin was in the fields of real estate, plumbing and heating, and construction, before he entered the insurance business in January, of this year.

He lives with his wife and five boys and one girl at 4701 Dixie Highway. He still maintains ownership in a real estate and construction company.

Chapin, a Marine Corps veteran, is a past member of the Pontiac Real Estate Board, and presently a member of the National Association of Life Underwriters.

Odin H. Johnson

A loser two years ago in the race for county clerk, Johnson, 53, of 5912 Longpoint Beach Dr., Davisburg, is vying this year for nomination to the House of Representatives.

Johnson maintains the law practice in Pontiac that he opened up back in 1932.

Prior to that time, he was a factory worker, and then safety director for four years at the General Motors Truck & Coach plant.

Johnson has had his political hat in the ring several times. He was nominated to Congress in 1942 and ran for the State Senate in 1940 and 1946.

For four months of 1954 he served on the bench of Pontiac Municipal Court as judge filling the unexpired term of the late Charles P. Webster.

Steven J. Kolar

Hoping to defeat Chapin and Johnson, and a fourth District 1 candidate, is Waterford Township factory worker with Chrysler Corp., Steven J. Kolar.

Kolar, like Johnson, was unsuccessful two years in his bid for office. Kolar was Democratic nominee for District 1, but lost to Rep. Lloyd L. Anderson by some 7,000 votes.

He lives at 6820 Hatchery Rd., Waterford Township, with his wife.

Kolar has held the offices of secretary, chief steward, and education committee member with UAW Local 7 at Chrysler. He is an Army veteran.

Wallace D. McLay

The fourth Democratic candidate for the District 1 nomination is a 36-year-old Pontiac attorney.

Married, and the father of three children, McLay for five years practiced law in Detroit before forming a local partnership here last year. He lives at 7900 Dixie Highway, Clarkston.

Politically, he has been a precinct delegate representing Birmingham at county conventions. He is formerly from that city and has been a life-long resident of Oakland County.

The Michigan State University and Wayne State graduate is a member of a Michigan State Bar committee on probation and parole.

He also served on a similar committee on public relations.

(Includes Milford, Commerce, West Bloomfield, Bloomfield, and Avon Townships, Milford, part of Wixom, Wolverine Lake, Walled Lake, Orchard Lake, Keego Harbor, Bloomfield Hills, Birmingham, Troy and Rochester).

To all his many Boy Scout laurels Cobb would like to add the Democratic nomination to Oakland's Third District.

Cobb, 35, of 3875 Livernois Rd., Rochester, has been everything in the Boy Scouts of America from scout to a member on the executive board of the Clinton Valley Council of Boy Scouts. All told he has recorded 18 years with the organization.

His profession is that of an expeditor for the Excello Corp. in Detroit. He has been with the firm since 1953.

Cobb is a trustee for the Avondale Board of Education, a member of the Avon Township Planning Advisory Board, and a delegate to the Oakland County Industrial Union Council. Married, he is the father of a son and daughter.

George H. Heideman

Contesting Cobb Tuesday for the District 3 nomination will be the former assistant attorney general for Michigan (1938-39) and creator and first chairman of the State Board of Tax Appeals.

Heideman, 59, of 445 Henley St., Birmingham, is now and has been since 1923 a Detroit lawyer. He once served as the legal advisor for the Michigan State Liquor Control Commission.

As an attorney, Heideman also spent a year in 1924 as an assistant prosecutor for Macomb County.

The Navy veteran of World War I has a law degree from the University of Michigan. He is married and the father of two children.

DISTRICT 4

(Includes Lyon, Novi, Farmington Townships, South Lyon, parts of Wixom and Northville, Farmington City, Woodcreek Farms, Franklin, Bingham Farms, Westwood, Lathrup Village, Southfield, Berkley and Oak Park).

James Clarkson

(Clarkson, 33, of 23525 Valley View Rd., Southfield, is unopposed for the District 4 Democratic nomination).

(Includes Royal Oak City, Clawson, Huntington Woods and Pleasant Ridge).

John Boghosian

Thirty-year-old Boghosian began his law practice in Pleasant Ridge shortly after being awarded his degree from Wayne State University in 1955. His practice is now in Detroit.

For two years up until last, Boghosian, of 206 N. Lafayette St., Royal Oak, was the attorney for a title company. Previous to this time, he was an investigator from 1951 through 1955 for the Detroit Welfare Dept.

The Democratic candidate for the District 5 nomination is a member of the Detroit, Michigan and American Bar Associations.

The Detroit-born attorney is married and a member of the Royal Oak Democratic Club.

Seymour V. Devereaux

Devereaux is the second of three candidates for the Fifth District Democratic nomination. He is a barber in Royal Oak resides in the same city at 1225 Mohawk St.

He has been secretary treasurer for 24 years of Local 55 of the Barber Assn. He is director with the State Barbers Association Credit Union.

The 50-year-old candidate is the father of five children. He is a 1931 graduate of Royal Oak High School. For a year and a half he attended a medical college.

Born in Novi, Devereaux has served as president of the State Barbers Association Inc.

Balfour D. Peisner

The third District 5 candidate is a member of the bar like his primary foe, Boghosian. Peisner, who is 35, was admitted to the bar in Detroit in 1950.

He lives with his wife and three sons at 25406 Parkwood Dr., Huntington Woods.

Peisner is a graduate of Detroit Central High School and the University of Detroit, where he received his legal schooling. He was born in Detroit also.

Because he was wounded in the Huertgen Forest in Germany as an infantry rifleman, Peisner was awarded the Bronze Star and Purple Heart.

DISTRICT 6

(Includes Royal Oak Township, Ferndale, Hazel Park, and Madison Heights). (EDITOR'S NOTE: A review of all the Democratic candidates for the District 6 nomination is not complete as candidates Walter T. McMahon, Harold W. Kingsley, and Stanley F. Weiss did not submit candidate's forms).

John C. Hitchcock

Hitchcock is one of the five Democrats hoping to come out on top of the Aug. 5 primary nomination for the last of Oakland's seats in the House of Representatives.

Hitchcock, 55, of 438 E. Jarvis St., Hazel Park, is in the general insurance and real estate business in that city.

He trailed incumbent Rep. Walter T. McMahon by 167 votes for the nomination two years ago.

The candidate, the father of three children, has been a member of the Hazel Park School Board for seven years. He is also on the Hazel Park Personnel Advisory Board.

He founded the Youth Aid Foundation and has been active in the Boy Scouts organization.

Richard A. Luotonen

Luotonen is a switching foreman for the Grand Trunk Western Railroad in Detroit. He has been employed by the railroad since December of 1950.

He is 26 years old and lives at 411 Marshall St., Ferndale, with his wife and five children. He attended Cass Tech High School and Wayne State University in Detroit.

Before he entered the railroad business eight years ago, Luotonen worked in several auto plants in Detroit. He moved to Ferndale last year.

This is his first attempt in seeking a political office.

Walter T. McMahon

McMahon, 61, of 151 E. Shevlin St., Hazel Park, was first elected to the District 6 post in 1948. This year's bid for re-election marks his bid for a sixth consecutive two-year term in the House.

LESLIE H. HUDSON

ZIGMUND J. NIPARKO

Hudson, Niparko Seeking Congressional Nomination

The battle for the Democratic nomination to Congress looms somewhat like a Civil War. There's Leslie H. Hudson, of Pontiac, on the "north," and Zigmund J. Niparko, of Hazel Park, on the "south."

Hudson, of 361 Gallogly Rd., served four years as his city's representative in the Michigan House of Representatives. Over a year ago he announced he would shoot for bigger game this year: Oakland County's 18th Congressional seat.

The Democratic candidate was clerk of Waterford Township from 1947 through 1951. One year later, Hudson served as a Pontiac supervisor on the Board of Supervisors.

He operates a hardware dealership and drug store in the city.

The 36-year-old Hudson is a 1941 graduate of Pontiac High School and attended the University of Michigan for two years after graduation. He is the father of three girls and a boy.

During his sophomore year in the Michigan House, he served as a member of the House Ways and Means Committee on state fiscal matters.

He is past president of the Lions Club and a director of the Wever-Owen-Hawthorne Community Club in Pontiac.

Hudson's opposition, Niparko, 38, of 72 Chestnut St., Hazel Park, was mayor of that city for more than four years and is presently on the City Council.

The father of a boy and girl, he earns a living as a teacher in Ferndale schools. He served two years on the school board of Ferndale.

Born on a farm north of Utica, Niparko spent three years and three months on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors representing Hazel Park.

Niparko has also served as chairman of the South Oakland County March of Dimes campaign, and is a member of the South Oakland County YMCA Board of Management.

In 1943 Niparko received his officer's commission in the Navy at Columbia University. He has received degrees in education from Eastern Michigan College and Wayne State University.

He is a member of the National and Michigan Education Associations, and the American Federation of Teachers.

District 2 Covered

Candidates in the District 2 (Pontiac) race, six Democrats and one Republican, were outlined in a front page story in Monday's Pontiac Press.

12 Seek Six County Nominations

Democrats in Oakland County are firm believers in the old saying "that if you don't succeed the first time, try and try again."

That's the way they feel especially about this year's attempt to infiltrate the stranglehold the Republicans held on six elected county offices.

With this in mind, the Democrats have four campaigners from the 1956 election back to try again to win a county position. One of the four—Wallace E. Rice, of Troy, candidate for drain commissioner — is unopposed.

There is a total of 12 Democratic candidates seeking nomination on their party ticket to the six county positions of clerk-register, prosecutor, treasurer, sheriff, drain commissioner, and surveyor.

Rice, along with Robert J. Lowney, unopposed bidder for surveyor, has clinched spots on the fall ballot.

The nomination for prosecutor is between two attorneys, one of whom serves as Justice of the Peace in Farmington Township.

James P. Lawson, 33, of 28136 Sybil Ct., Farmington, is pitted against 1956 repeater David E. Utley. Lawson was elected township justice in April of last year.

He is matched against a fellow Democrat who was in November of 1956 by Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem, 141,289 to 106,221.

Lawson is married and the father of two young boys. He is a member of Detroit, Oakland, Michigan and American Bar Associations. He received both his undergraduate and law degrees from the University of Detroit.

The candidate of prosecutor serves on the Michigan Bar Association Committee on Public Relations and the American Bar Association Section on Criminal Law.

He is an Army veteran of the second World War and served overseas between 1943 and 1945.

Utley, 51, of 51 Henry Clay Ave., Pontiac has practiced law in Pontiac since 1943. Before that time, from 1930 through 1943, he hung his law shingle in Detroit.

Born in the Ukraine, Utley came to this country in 1908. He later attended Northern High School in Detroit, Wayne State University for one semester, and received his law degree from the Detroit College of Law.

He holds a record of being top Goodfellow newspaper salesman for 20 years. Utley serves also on the Board of Directors of the Greater Pontiac Community Advisory Council.

Returning to seek their party nomination for county sheriff are George D. Hicks, of Pontiac, and William S. Dahlerup, of Ferndale. Out after the same nomination are Herbert Koester, of Northville, and Francis J. Stephenson, Farmington Township supervisor.

Hicks, 52, of 16 N. Johnson Ave., is making his fourth bid for the sheriff's job. The former Pontiac police officer lost by 37,000 to Sheriff Frank W. Irons two years ago in the general election.

Dahlerup, of 2372 Brickly St., Ferndale, did not submit a candidate's form to The Pontiac Press. He was an unsuccessful primary candidate for sheriff in 1956.

Fifty-threeyear-old Koester is a retired Detroit policeman with 25 years on that force. He now makes his home at 42780 Eight Mile Rd., Northville.

He joined the Detroit department on July 1, 1929. During his tenure, Koester served as vice president of the Police Officers' Assn. and treasurer of a Detroit Committee of Public Employes.

Born in Erie, Pa., Koester moved to Detroit in 1917. Married, he is the father of two children.

His record with the Detroit police shows 10 precinct citations and one departmental citation. He is active in the Eagles, Boy Scouts, and Civil Defense work in Novi.

The fourth Democratic candidate for sheriff, Stephenson, 51, of 24041 Haynes St., Farmington, was born in Nova Scotia. He served several years as mayor of the town of Domunion in his native land.

Stephenson was elected supervisor of Farmington Township in April of last year.

The former owner of a construction company in Farmington before he became supervisor, Stephenson was provincial state commander of the Canadian Legion in 1947-48.

He is a member of the Farmington Exchange Club, Farmington Elks, and the Boysville of Michigan, Inc.

The Democratic nomination to the newly-created county job of clerk-register is being sought by John E. Kronenberg, branch manager of the Royal Oak-Berkley Secretary of State's office, and Emil F. Jaworski, aircraft supervisor from Pontiac.

Kronenberg has been in his present position since he was appointed to it in February, 1955.

Prior to this time, the candidate worked as a tool and die employe for Burroughs Adding Machine in Detroit, Fisher Body Division in Pontiac, and Sherman Products in Royal Oak.

Kronenberg is 34. He lives with his wife and three children at their home, 711 N. Altadena Ave., Royal Oak. He failed in a bid last year for the Royal Oak City Commission.

Active in democratic circles since 1948, he once served as treasurer and vice chairman of the Royal Oak Democratic Club.

Kronenberg's primary opposition has been employed since 1951 in the Aircraft Division of Chrysler Corp.

Jaworski, 41, of 691 Stanley Ave., is associated with the Oakland County Big Brothers Assn. and the National Sheriff's Assn. He is married and the father of a boy and girl.

The Democrat has been appointed state delegate to Democratic conventions for 10 years.

He is an officer in the Pontiac Democratic Club and the Polish National Alliance here. Besides, he is a delegate to the Oakland County CIO Council and a member in the Fraternal order of Eagles 2887.

An accountant in hotel management in Pontiac, and a factory millwright from Rochester, round out the Democratic slate of 12 candidates hoping for nomination to the six county offices. Both are candidates for county treasurer.

William K. Benson, 49, of 2569 John R Rd., Rochester, has been with the Ford Motor Co. plant in Highland Park since 1932.

Benson is a former member of president of the Brooklands School Board of which he was a member five years.

For five years he acted as chairman of the Avon Township Democratic Club. He also directs the group of ushers at his church in Rochester.

A daughter 14 and a son two years older reside with the candidate and his wife at their home in Rochester.

Born in Detroit, Benson received his education there.

Beside Benson's name on the Aug. 5 primary will be that of 51-year-old John W. Copple, of 2151 Kircher Ct., Pontiac Township. This is Copple's as well as Benson's, first try for political office.

Copple was with the Waldron Hotel in Pontiac in the accounting department for 10 years, 1947-57. He left there then and went into similar work the the Roosevelt Hotel in Pontiac. After a five-year lapse from 1953, he returned to the Roosevelt in March of this year.

He was raised and educated in Illinois and came here in 1927. Married, Copple is the father of a son and married daughter.

Sure of Ballot Position

3 Democrats Unopposed

Three Democratic candidates for county positions have automatically cleared one hurdle. The three were without opposition when the deadline for nominating positions came around June 17. They are:

James Clarkson, 33-year-old Detroit attorney and resident of Southfield, who was defeated two years ago by 7,000 votes by Rep. Theodore F. Hughes. He is running again this year for the District 4 seat in the Michigan House of Representatives. He lives at 23525 Valley View Rd.

Wallace E. Rice too was a loser in the 1956 November election. The 49-year-old drainage contractor in Troy is trying again for the post of Drain Commissioner. Rice lives at 6440 Anslow Lane, Troy.

Robert J. Lowney, of 2417 N. Main St., Royal Oak. Lowney, an unopposed Democratic candidate for county surveyor, did not submit a candidate 's form to The Pontiac Press.

Absentee Ballots Available

Deadline for applying for absentee ballots for the Tuesday primary election is 2 p. m. Saturday.

Ballots are available in township, city and village offices, but not at the county clerk's office, according to County Clerk Florence J. Allen.

Absentee ballots are issued to those voters who will be unable to go to the polls August 5 due to absence from the city or physical handicaps.

County Dems Eye '58 as Year to Oust GOP

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL Jr.

Oakland County Democrats have pegged 1958 as the year to do something about the Republican stronghold on county political offices.

The party has come up with a large slate of 37 candidates who will appear on next Tuesday's primary ballots throughout the county. They are vying for nomination to 14 county positions—one in Washington, seven in Lansing and six in Pontiac.

Besides selecting their party nominee for these 14 offices, voters Tuesday will nominate candidates for governor, lieutenant governor and United States Senator from Michigan.

In addition, voters from each precinct in the county will choose delegates they wish to represent them at August county political conventions.

On the morning of Aug. 6 the votes will be in, so will 14 Democratic candidates, leaving 23 who will not get past the primary balloting.

Overshadowing the entire Democratic nomination contest, is the Hudson versus Niparko fight for the Congressional nomination. Not far behind is the match between Leo P. Meagher and Fred Elias for the nomination to the State Senate (12th District).

Hudson, 36-year-old Pontiac hardware dealer, relinquished his District 2 seat in the State House of Representatives to bid for a two-year trip to Washington.

Two years Hudson's senior in age, Niparko is determined that the game of playing political bridesmaid is over for him. The Ferndale teacher trailed 1956 Congressional nominee Paul Sutton by 5,400 votes.

Niparko joins with Elias, and nine other candidates, returning from the primary Democratic slate of two years ago.

Elias, who with his brothers own a chain of drive-in restaurants, won the State Senate nomination then by a scant 213 votes. In the November general election however, he lost out to L. Harvey Lodge, 138,559 to 108,975.

Elias was also his party's nominee to the Senate in 1954.

His opposition in the primary this year comes from a 50-year-old Farmington Township real estate broker and pharmacist. Meagher has jumped into the political race this year for the first time.

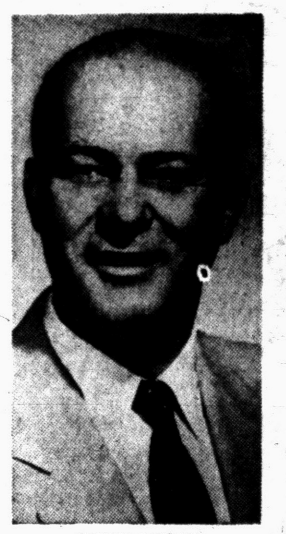

Only one Democratic incumbent — Rep. Walter T. McMahon, of Hazel Park — is seeking re-election to his present post. Hudson was the only other officeholder the Democrats had in office during the last two years.

Repeaters from the 1956 primary, besides Niparko and Elias, are: David B. Utley, prosecutor; George D. Hicks and William S. Dahlerup, sherriff; Odin H. Johnson, in 1956 for clerk, this year for District 1; Wallace E. Rice, drain commissioner; Steven J. Kolar, District 1; Harold A. Grant, District 2; James Clarkson, District 4; and John C. Hitchcock, District 6.

Clarkson and Rice, along with Robert J. Lowney, Democratic candidate for surveyor, have the distinction of being unopposed and sure of a place on the November ballot.

In the Democratic nomination race for District 2 (Pontiac), there are six candidates. There is one less in the District 6 contest. There are four bidding for District 1 honors, three in District 5, and two in District 3.

FRED ELIAS

LEE P. MEAGHER

Elias, Meagher Strive for Place on Ballot

For the third straight political year, Fred Elias has put the State Senate Democratic nomination on his political menu. Vying for the first time against Elias is Lee P. Meagher, real estate broker who handles the sale of drug stores.

Elias, known principally as president of a chain of drive-in restaurants, is engaged in many other businesses. He is 45 and makes his home at 1561 E. Muir St., Hazel Park.

He was the Democratic nominee for Oakland County's 12th District seat in the Michigan Senate in 1954 and 1956. He lost to Republican L. Harvey Lodge by some 30,000 votes two years ago.

Between political campaigns the Democratic hopeful has served on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors in 1955 and 1957.

Elias entered the restaurant business in Detroit in 1939. He took courses in restaurant management several years later from Wayne State University and in 1954 from Michigan State University.

Married, he is the father of three children.

Meagher, 50, lives at 29097 Utley St., Farmington Township. He attended Wayne State University, when it was known as Detroit City College, while working on the assembly lines in auto plants.

At the age of 20, Meagher received his license as a pharmacist. He operated his own retail drug store before World War II. During the war years the candidate worked with the Fisher Body Research Division of General Motors Corp.

Meagher established his own real estate business following the war. He specializes in the sale of drug stores now.

The father of three daughters is a member of State and National Real Estate Boards and the Detroit Retail Druggists' Assn.

MRS. JAMES W. GELL

Married this morning in St. Anthony Shrine of Duns Scotus College, Southfield, were Sallie Patricia Pechauer and Dr. James Walter Gell. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John J. Pechauer of Lathrup Village and the Walter C. Gells of Long Island, N. Y.

Dr. James W. Gell Claims Sallie Pechauer as Bride

White gladioli banked the altar of St. Anthony Shrine at Duns Scotus College, Southfield, for the wedding this morning of Sallie Patricia Pechauer and Dr. James Walter Gell.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Pechauer of Lathrup Village, and Dr. Gell, of Dwight avenue, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Gell of Long Island, N. Y.

IN PEAU DE SOIE GOWN

The bride wore an Italian peau de soie gown featuring long sleeves in a fitted bodice with an oval neckline of illusion accented with pearl-trimmed Alencon lace. The bouffant skirt formed a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of imported Belgian lace, was worn madonna style and she carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis centered with white orchids.

Lucille Catherine Balint of Detroit was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Barbara June Buyan of Detroit, the bride's cousin, and the bridegroom's sister, Elsie Patricia Gell of Long Island, N. Y.

They wore white silk chiffon dresses with bouffant skirts and crowns of velvet leaves and carried arm bouquets of red roses.

ASSIST BRIDEGROOM

Dr. Arnold L. Brown of Wards Point was best man. Ushers were the bride's brother, John J. Pechauer Jr., of Chicago, Ill., Dr. Robert T. Lyons, Dr. Anthony F. Cefai and Dr. Edward M. Gates of Ortonville.

To receive guests at a breakfast reception held at Forest Lake Country Club, the bride's mother wore a dress of sea foam organza over matching taffeta with matching accessories and an orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of blue organza over blue taffeta with matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

Fashionettes Plan Dinner at Avon Park

Bowling was the activity for the evening when members of the Fashionette Club met at Adah Shelly Library Tuesday evening.

TIPS for SUN-DRENCHED SKIN

Avoid a "beachcomber's" complexion by using moisturizing creams and soothing lotions.

A golden tan is attractive but keep it smooth and pretty . . . not too tan and leathery.

Especially watch those squint-lines around your eyes. Apply eye cream generously and often.

Tanned legs will look like parchment if you do not apply lotion frequently.

Go ahead . . . enjoy the summer sun but use discretion . . . and look your summer best.

Opener on Wall Needs Washing

Somehow the can opener that stays put on the wall, out of the way, is forgotten at dishwashing time.

Yet it's important to keep it scrubbed and clean—because it's impossible to open a can without having the cutting blade dip into the contents.

Think how many foods have accumulated on that opener—wow! Go wash it now, with hot, hot soap or detergent suds and a brush.

Elastic Stocking Is Super-Sheer

Women who need more leg support than is provided by ordinary stockings no longer have to advertise the fact by wearing bulk hosiery.

A new type of supporting stocking, made of sheer elastic nylon, is indistinguishable from "regular" nylon hose — except for a closer knit. Like other hosiery, these also should be washed in warm soap or detergent suds after every wearing.

Quit 'Mothering' Husband . . . Abby

Boost His Self-Respect

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been together for almost 30 years, but I am afraid our marriage is breaking up. He has been out of work since 1936. He just lays around and says there is a depression on and it don't pay to go looking for a job. We don't have much, but we don't need much as there are just the two of us and I work half-days.

ABBY

"I really don't encourage him to get a job because I like to know he is at home waiting for me when I get there. My problem is that lately he has been treating me like a pal and not a wife. How can I get him to treat me like a wife?"

NEEDING LOVE

DEAR NEEDING: You have been treating HIM like a son, not a husband. Let him get a job and build a little self-respect, and maybe he will start treating you like a wife.

"DEAR ABBY: I graduated from business college with honors. I applied for a job I wanted very much, but I didn't get it. I was told later that the reason I didn't get it was because I came to apply for it without a hat. This doesn't make sense to me. Do you think this could have been the real reason, or was it just an excuse?" NOT HIRED

DEAR NOT: This could have been the real reason. "Girls" apply for jobs hatless—"young ladies" wear hats. Perhaps they wanted a "young lady." Next time, use your head and put something on it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO BUM STEER: She didn't have her brand on you. Give her plenty of rope and tell her to skip it.

LIONS' COACH LAUGHS AT COLLEGE COACHES' TESTIMONIES

Wilson Lashes Back at Pro Critics

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Coach George Wilson of the Detroit Lions lashed back at the three college coaches, Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State, Bowden Wyatt of Tennessee and Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma, for their critical testimony before the Senate anti-trust committee Monday.

The three coaches lambasted the pro draft procedures because they declared it "prevents young men from marketing their talent for the best price."

"This is something the colleges should know about quite well," said Wilson, "they plead innocent yet they compete for players from one campus to another. They bargain with players to outbid the other colleges," he added.

Wilkinson was the sharpest critic of pro football. He told the committee the owners of pro athletics are in business philanthropically, and my experience has been that they are almost ruthless in their attitudes."

"What experience?" retorted Wilson at Cranbrook yesterday, "not one of the three coaches ever played professional football, so why were they called on to give testimony."

In regard to Wilkinson's advice to Oklahomans "to find out how much they are worth by talking to Canadian teams," Wilson commented, "the colleges are also experienced here.. They put price tags on players even higher than some pros get."

Wyatt, who told Tennessee players they would be better off doing their life's work than playing pro football, brought a scoff from Wilson. "I can give you a volume of names of players who have received wonderful business opportunities after leaving pro football, far more than the football player who just gets out of college."

"Some college coaches are far from being the best judges of professional material," said another Lions' official, "and Duffy Daugherty's judgment on pro talent has been the worst."

"Almost every player Duffy has touted as top pro calibre, has failed to make the grade," said the speaker.

"I don't know why college football should be so critical of pro football said Wilson, "we admit we need the colleges, but the colleges should also realize that the pros offer players an incentive to do well so that they can be picked in the pro drafts," said Wilson.

It was pointed out that pro football has not infringed on the eligibility rights of college players like other sports such as baseball which signs boys before they graduate or even out of high school. The greatest number of pro football players have college degrees, it was noted.

Another rebuttal on the college coaches' testimony came from George Preston Marshall, the outspoken owner of the Washington Redskins.

"Wilkinson knows about professionals. He's one himself. He earns much more than his university president with his coaching and other sidelines."

"Wilkinson is opposed in having pro ball exempt from anti-trust laws, yet he apparently doesn't object to lending his stadium at Norman to professionals," said Marshall.

The Detroit Lions and Philadelphia Eagles play there September 13th.

Wilson then turned his attention to the Lions' training camp and the forthcoming game with the college All-Stars.

"We will continue twice-daily workouts until a week before the game," said Wilson, "and every morning we will put on the pads and have a good head bumping session."

The Lions have made some changes in their offense. "We are now using a full squad shift on a signal. It gives us better mobility and it forces the defense to change accordingly," said Wilson.

Veteran quarterbacks Bobby Layne and Tobin Rote have been hitting their targets well during workouts. Ends Jim Doran, Steve Junker, Jerry Reichow along with Hopalong Cassady have been the top receivers. Rookie Tom Rychlec who received a tryout before going into the service has been doing an outstanding job at end and is certain to see plenty of action in the game with the collegiates.

"He is a good blocker like Junker and is developing a good pair of hands," said Wilson about Rychlec.

Both John Henry Johnson and Tom Tracy have been running well and if they continue it could give the Lions a double one-two punch at two positions in the backfield.

NFL NOTES: The Lions released rookie defensive backs Claude Chaney of Dayton and Carl Johnson of South Dakota yesterday . . . . . Don Gillis, rookie tackle from Rice, was on the sidelines after being injured in the Browns' training camp . . . . . Rookie end Jon Evans turned in the outstanding performance in the Steelers' first scrimmage yesterday.

'Old Man' Williams Beats Tigers Again

Hits 2 Homers, Bats in 7 Runs in 11-8 Game

Three-Run Poke Ends Play in 11th; Belted Grand Slam Earlier

DETROIT (AP) — When the Boston Red Sox came to town a couple of days ago, Ted Williams was asked — as he often is — if he had given any recent thought to retirement.

The ageless slugger, who will celebrate his 40th birthday on Aug. 30, came out with his answer last night.

Williams, always a favorite in the park where he says he does his best hitting, belted two tremendous home runs as the Sox defeated Detroit 11-8 in 11 innings.

Williams hit a grand-slammer in the third inning and tied one of the immortal Babe Ruth's marks, then ended the near-four hour contest with a three-run poke in the 11th.

"I just don't know about retirement," Williams had said Monday when the four-game series opened. "Right now I feel great but it's a day-to-day situation with me. I had a terrible start this year. I hurt my wrist a couple of times and I wasn't hitting at all. Now I'm starting to pick up."

Williams broke a 0-for-11 slump with his bases-loaded clout off Jim (No-Hit) Bunning in the fourth inning and contributed a single before unloading against Bill Fischer for the game-winning blow.

The three hits hiked his batting average to .309, the home runs were his 16th and 17th and the grand slam job was the 17th of his career that twice has been interrupted by service stints.

His 17 bases-loaded home runs ties him with Babe Ruth. Only Lou Gehrig, with 23, has hit more. Williams' career home run total stands at 473, leaving him only 20 behind Gehrig in that department and 38 behind Mel Ott. Williams has no chance to match Ruth's record 714 home runs but a season or two more might enable him to catch Jimmy Foxx, in second place with 534.

The Red Sox equipment manager, Johnny Orlando, is a pretty good friend of the slugger. He thinks it might be quite a while before the old man hangs 'em up.

Bill Norman used 21 players last night — everybody on the roster except Milt Bolling and three pitchers — but in the end it was his ragged pitching staff that failed him. Bunning lasted only 3-one-third innings and yielded five runs.

Dodgers Dump Braves Out of 1st

Giants Back in NL Lead

By the Associated Press

If last place Los Angeles were to play defending champion Milwaukee more often there would be no need for a gas station owners —or anybody else—to hang Dodger Manager Walter Alston in effigy.

And if Dodger right-hander Don Drysdale were to pitch as well against the rest of the National League as he does against the Braves, he'd be boasting an unbeaten record instead of one of the worst in the circuit.

Last night the Dodgers defeated the Braves 4-2 to dump them out of first place, a full game behind the San Francisco Giants, who again came from behind for a ninth inning 4-3 victory in Cincinnati.

The Dodgers' victory was their ninth in 13 meetings with the Braves. Drysdale, who now has whipped Milwaukee three times without a defeat, had a shutout until the ninth when Wes Covington slammed his 18th home run. Drysdale, who has lost 10 decisions, won only two games against the rest of the league.

Pittsburgh climbed into third place, six and a half games off the paced, downing Chicago 6-4. Philadelphia gained a split with St. Louis, winning the scheduled game 3-2 in 11 innings after losing 4-3, a game that had been suspended by the Sunday curfew law a month ago.

The defeat, the fourth in the last six games, was a costly one for the Braves, whose brilliant young pitcher, Joey Jay, had to be taken out of the game because of a strained right elbow. The 22-year-old right-hander, who had won five in succession, was charged with his fourth defeat. He left after the Dodgers had scored twice in the sixth on a double by Peewee Reese.

Ray Jablonski's two-run homer with two out in the ninth off Red-leg right-hander Willard Schmidt gave the Giants another come-from-behind victory. Schmidt, asked to protect a 3-2 lead furnished by Frank Robinson's 18th home run, retired the first two batters in the ninth. Willie Mays singled to set the stage for Jabbo's 12th homer.

Forty-year-old Marv Grissom, in relief, gained his seventh victory. It marked the 18th time the Giants have won in their last turn a bat. It was also their 22nd one-run triumph.

Roockie first baseman Dick Stuart clouted a bases-loaded three-bagger to spark a four-run rally in the fifth that enabled the Pirates to overcome a 4-1 Chicago lead. Bob Friend won his 13th although he needed help from R. G. Smith and Elroy Face. Ernie Banks hammered his 28th homer for the Cubs.

BIG WINNERS — Stocky Bob Shuley, 12-year-old Roselle, Ill. schoolboy and his dad (right, above), Al Shuley, plastics manufacturer, yesterday grabbed four National Skeet championships at the NSSA meet at OCSC's layout. Both are confirmed hunters, too, and Bob got his first deer last fall, his father says. "He's a real hunter, too, with ducks and all other game" the proud parent adds. Both are shooting "all the way" in the big meet.

SMALL-GAUGE KING — Rugged Lew Gordon (the Arkansaw Traveler) of Texarkana, Ark., yesterday added another championship to his long list of NSSA wins, when he fired the only 100-straight in the small-gauge (28) championship to win all alone. Lew is one of the many colorful shooters in the world event now under way at OCSC's skeet fields at Waterford. Gordon is very much in the running for the all-around title in which competition hits the mid-point today with the 20-gauge championship.

Martin Moves to 3rd

Veal New Tiger Shortstop

DETROIT (AP)—Billy Martin is being switched to third base in the Detroit Tigers' latest move to untrack themselves from the dismal showing that threatens to make the 1958 season a total flop.

A shortstop all season long after spending most of his previous big league seasons at second and third bases, Martin is moving over and Inman (Coot) Veal will succeed him at shortstop.

After last night's 11-8 defeat by the Boston Red Sox, the Tigers announced that the 26-year-old Veal is being summoned from their Birmingham (Ala.) farm club in the AA Southern Association.

This is a desperation move and the only certain thing about it is that Veal will not hit big league pitching. In six previous minor league campaigns, the best the slender infielder ever has done at the plate over the long haul is .242. He was hitting .277 at Birmingham.

Veal is regarded as an outstanding glove man but manager Bill Norman said the move has nothing to do with Martin's showing in the field. The manager said "this doesn't mean we feel Martin can't play shortstop—the move merely gives the team more leway."

Norman said he and General manager John McHale discussed the club's situation and decided to bring up Veal and release Milt Bolling outright to the Charleston farm club in the American Association. Bolling, brother of second baseman Frank Bolling, has been almost totally useless.

He was hitting only .194 and had appeared in only 24 games with 31 at-bats.

This is the latest in a long series of maneuvers involving second-line players, most of whom have meant nothing but failure for the Detroit club.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: Poor Iron Play.

DIAGNOSIS: Indecisive Hitting.

TREATMENT: Playing with one of professional golf's very best players in a recent tournament, I saw him hit a miserable four-iron shot on the ninth hole. There was a large gallery banked around the green, and he was visibly embarrassed. It was that bad a shot.

Walking up toward the green, he told me that he had started to use a three-iron but had finally decided to hit a strong four-iron — only he hadn't really decided. "I swung a four-iron but I still had a three in my mind," he told me.

He was pointing up one of golf's frequent mistakes. To hit a decent iron shot, you must sell yourself completely on the idea that you're hitting the right club. Take your time deciding if you want to, but once you take the club out, forget about the other one you were considering.

A wishy-washy attitude about a shot will nearly always mean a wishy-washy shot. So make you choice of a club a FIRM one.

Royals Win in 10 Innings

Shaw's AL Softball King

Pontiac's first softball champion for the 1958 season was crowned last night when Shaw's Jewelers clinched the American League title with a convincing 7-0 trouncing of Birmingham in the feature of a four-game schedule.

The Pontiac Merchants whipped O'Neil Realty 10-2 and the Post Office blanked Moose 6-0 in National League action while the Lakeside Royals were defeating Autos of Europe 7-3.

Len Mazur spun a neat three-hitter for Shaw's. He pitched masterful ball after allowing two singles in the first frame and retired the last 13 batters to face him, including eight on strikeouts.

He finished with a total of 15 whiffs, fanning the side in three different innings and getting five successive batters on strikes on two occasions. Mazur gave up no walks.

Shaw's put the game on ice with four in the 6th with Mazur contributing a big single. Jim Sparling batted in two of the runs with a double. Hesse of the Jewelers was the only player in the game to get two hits. Both figured in the scoring.

The Merchants did their scoring on only four hits. They tallied nine times in the final two frames on two of the bingles to break a 1-1 tie. Art Weiss flipped a three-hitter for Post Office as four of his teammates garnered two hits apiece.

Lakeside put together singles by reserves Jones and Simmons and another by Don McConner plus an error, a wild pitch and some stolen bases to win in the 10th to break up a hot mound duel and give Alex Spears the nod over Ed Rondo.

The Auto nine got one back in the same inning but Rondo was thrown out after reaching on an error to end the game. Rondo allowed just one hit over the 1st nine innings while Spears gave up five. The latter had to survive successive 1st inning homers by Charles Davis and Leroy Parks.

Meet Overshadows Communism

Poland Billboards Hail Coming of U.S. Athletes

WARSAW (AP) — There were more signs and billboards in Warsaw today advertising the visit of 65 American athletes than there are signs on Communism.

Practically every billboard in this war-ripped city carries a poster saying the Americans are coming and will race against Poland in track and field on Friday and Saturday.

The U.S. team was due on special airliners this afternoon from Moscow, where the American men defeated Soviet men, Soviet women defeated American women and Russian athletes, as a whole, won the meet 172-170.

Polish sports officials say they don't expect their men and women to beat the United States, but that the meeting should be a great occasion.

In European track and field, Poland probably ranks second to the Soviet Union. In several events Poland is better than Russia, although the country is only a fraction of Russia's size and has a fraction of the money to spend.

In short and middle distance running events, the Poles are considerably behind the Americans but ahead of the Russians. Russian women are stronger than the Polish girls, and the USA - Polish women's scoring should be very close.

Before leaving Moscow, where American athletes and officials received gifts from their Soviet rivals in a ceremony at the U.S. team's headquarters, Coach George Eastment of the American men's team expressed an optimistic viewpoint about American prospects in the distance events.

The USA-Poland meet here will be in the "Tenth Anniversary Stadium"—a 100,000 seat sports emporium built to commemorate the 10th anniversary of Poland's liberation from the germans after World War II.

A brisk black market in good seats already is reported and the bidding is expected to go up as the occasion nears. About 50,000 and practically a full house on Saturday.

The Poles, who delight in showing up the Russians, are preparing special American menus so the visitors won't have anything to complain about—as they did in a mild fashion in Moscow.

Special equipment for the meet has been brought in from Britain and the United States, not the Soviet Union.

Jewelers Rip Jet Nine, 10-1

The two-hit pitching of Don Picman and a six-run 6th inning provided Shaw's Jewelers with an easy 10-1 victory over the Jets in a Class A baseball game at Wisner Field yesterday.

Picman, who struck out nine, lost a shutout in the 4th, when Joe Soto got the first Jet hit to chase home Ben Robinson who had reached on an error and moved around on a sacrifice and wild pitch.

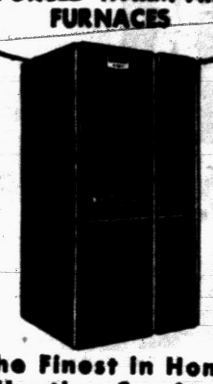

Shaws led 4-1 before exploding in the 6th. Hal Trott tripled for his 2nd hit, John Flesher and Jerry Taylor laced singles in the big inning with the losers contributing two errors.

Starter John Bonser was the loser. Prior to the 6th, the big blow of the game had been a two-run homer by Ernie Zubalik in the 4th.

Business Institute Wallops Talbott

There was little question about the final outcome after the 1st two innings as Pontiac Business Institute romped to an 11-4 triumph over Talbott Lumber yesterday.

The PBI gang scored seven times in its 1st two chances and coasted along the rest of the way.

A single, double and triple by pitcher Greg Meadows paced the victors. Charlie Wilson and Bub Orr contributed two singles apiece to the 11-hit attack. Bob Crandall and Frank Johnson combined for five of the seven Talbott safeties.

(Special to The Pontiac Press)

Sylvia Ritchie was the lone Pontiac first place winner in yesterday's events at the American Roller Skating Championships in Cleveland. She won the junior girls figures.

Second place honors went to Lynn Stitz and Jill Maneck in the intermediate dance and also in the senior fours with Charles Parker, Sylvia Ritchie, Sue Welch and Ricky Martins.

David Marchewka and Regina Studer placed 5th in juvenile pairs and Viria Landon was 4th in junior girls figures.

Golf Groups Have Dispute Going

PGA, Sponsors Waging Battle Over Tourneys

Hosts Want to Have More Say Concerning Operation of Events

CHICAGO (AP)—The International Golf Sponsors' Assn. and the Professional Golf Assn. were at odds today in a dispute that may threaten the structure of tournament golf.

The sponsors, insisting a demanding voice in running the tournaments, have given the PGA until Thursday to decide on a policy board whose actions must be binding.

This means that PGA contracts must be presented and approved by the IGSA. In other words, the PGA will no longer be able to contract with individual sponsors of the IGSA but will have to have its contracts presented before and approved by the IGSA as a group.

As one IGSA spokesman put it:

"United we stand, divided we fall."

The PGA, meanwhile, has proposed that a board be set up to include three PGA tourney players, three non - IGSA sponsors, three IGSA members and three members of the PGA advisory committee.

The PGA, however, insists that actions of the board will not be binding, IGSA President Roger Hagel of Phoenix, Ariz., said "we will meet on this proposal, but I certainly do not think the PGA's insistence that the actions of the board will not be binding will be acceptable."

The meetings were held yesterday at the Gleneagles Country Club, site of the Chicago Open this weekend.

T.A. Williams Jr., of Greensboro, N.C., who is secretary of the IGSA, said his group is demanding a word in running the tournaments it sponsors, but the PGA so far stands firm in conducting the meets.

23 Horseshoe Players in Waterford Tourney

Twenty-three men began tournament play in the Waterford Township men's singles Horseshoe League last week. The tournament, following the regular league schedule, will run to mid-August.

The two divisions of the regular league ended July 14th with Tom Pearsall leading the National Division and Jake Powell leading the American Division. The tournament is divided into three divisions A, B and C.

Pitching Mondays beginning at 7:00 p.m. under lights at the Drayton Ball Park.

Tournament divisions are:

Class A: Tom Pearsall, Jake Powell, George Bishop, John Stenquist, Rex Oakley, Keith Hewes and Milton Swigert.
Class B: Julius Varga, Charles Garvin, Jack Gorham, Clayton Whitman, Dick Schwab, Joe Winter, George Gleason, Floyd Fullerton and Otto Diek.
Class C: Fred Boss, Ronald Coombs, Paul Beckwith, Bill Pfahlert and Earl Adams.

Manager Harry Craft Ejected

A's Drub Yanks, 7-3

From Our Wire Services

One would think the Yanks and the Kansas City Athletics were playing for the pennant as players of both sides plus manager Harry Craft were ejected from the game won by the A's, 7-3, last night.

Almost all of the action came in the 8th inning when the Athletics exploded against reliever Art Ditmar with the score tied, 2-2.

In the other American League games, Cleveland trimmed Baltimore, 9-4 and Chicago nipped Washington, 2-1.

Players ejected were Harry Chiti of the A's and Hank Bauer of the Yanks.

Held to three hits by Ralph Terry and trailing 2-0, the Yanks tied the score in the top of the eighth only to see the A's score five times in their half.

Hector Lopez' double with the bases loaded was the big blow. Murray Dickson, who replaced Terry in the eighth was the winner. Ditmar, who succeeded Whitey Ford, was the loser. Ford failed in his try for a fourth straight shutout.

Sherman Lollar's two-run homer with two out in the ninth ruined an excellent pitching performance by Washington right-hander Russ Kemmerer and carried the White Sox to their 2-1 triumph. Lollar's three-run homer was instrumental in Chicago's 6-5 victory over the Senators Monday night.

Bob Shaw, who replaced Dick Donovan in the ninth, was the winner.

Gary Bell scattered eight hits and catcher Russ Nixon drove in three runs with a home run and single to feature the Indians' triumph over Baltimore.

It was Cleveland's third straight victory and Bell's fifth success in nine decisions.

98 Entries in Ski Meet

Entries were closed last night for the Michigan Water Ski Championships at Lake Sherwood, near Milford, and tournament officials said this morning there were 98 contestants on the list. Championships get under way Saturday at 7 a.m. following qualifying trials Friday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Sunday's competition also starts at 7 a.m., concludes at 6 o'clock.

Tourney officials today announced that world champion trick water skier, Ken Tibado of Tampa, Fla., had arrived to appear in exhibitions of spectacular tricks, both Saturday and Sunday (Saturday at 1 and Sunday at 12:30). He amazed those who saw him in a practice period yesterday.

One of Tibado's most spectacular tricks is a double forward somersault off the jump ramp, landing on his skis.

One state champion will not return to defend the title he won at Lake Sherwood last fall. Dave Thompson of Kalamazoo, men's champion, will be here, however, to serve as a judge. Joe Grimaldi of Detroit is chief judge for the two-day event. All other state titlists are expected to defend their crowns.

Chairman of the American Water Ski Assn. board, Charles Sligh of Holland, will be here Saturday to make the welcoming address.

The weekend tourney has attracted top water skiers from every section of Michigan, including many from the Pontiac and Metropolitan area.

Area Drivers in Top 10

Four Pontiac and area hardtop drivers are among the top ten in point standings at the Detroit Metropolitan Speedway in Mt. Clemens.

1. Jimmy McCune, Toledo, 295; 2. George Rogers, Saginaw, 270; 3. Joe Doyle, Pontiac, 259; 4. Chuck Partello, Rochester, 230; 5. Leon Blanchura, Warran, 226; 6. Dick Carter, Breckenridge, 220; 7. Johnny Wallace, Madison Hts., 215; 8. Mickey Katlin, Howell, 145; 9. Jimmy Nelson, Flint, 105 and Joy Fair, Pontiac, 100.

Other Pontiac drivers, Jack Harvey, Don Irish and Norm Rust rank 15th, 16th and 17th.

Illinois Dad, Son Win 4 NSSA Titles

Shuleys Set Sizzling Pace for Nationals

Lew Gordon Captures Small Gauge Title on 100 Straight Targets

By H. GUY MOATS

A 12-year-old Roselle, Ill., boy and his dad made a shambles of the small-gauge championships at the National (world) skeet shooting tourney, Tuesday, at Oakland County Sportsmen's Club. They took four titles between them, including collaboration in the two-man team event.

Stocky Bob Shuley and his father, Al, accounted for the sub-senior title, the junior small-gauge (.28 gauge), the two-man, and the sub-junior crown.

Young Bob won two outright, his father the sub-senior. That wasn't all for the Shuleys. Bob was 3rd in Class AA, with 98x100. He missed a 5th in the Monday champion of champions event when he dropped a shoot-off yesterday to C. A. McDowell, Shreveport, La.

The .28-gauge championship was won by big, rugged Lew Gordon of Texarkana, Ark., whose early 100 straight held up all the way. Lew is a well known NSSA competitor, having held many titles over a long period. He was the 1952 open all-around champion, won the .20-gauge crown in 1956 and the sub-small (.410) gauge championship in 1954 (at Waterford). He was also champion of champions in 1955 (at Waterford). Runnerup was Ed Scherer of Waukesha, Wis., who outlasted several others in a shootoff. All had 99s.

The big field today engages in action for the 20-gauge championships. Divisions of the event include women, seniors, sub-seniors, juniors, industry and two-man events. All will be shot concurrently.

Beginning Thursday the all-gauge (big gun) championships get under way, and continue through Saturday, with what are regarded as the tourney's most important titles at stake. Shooters will fire 250 targets and the winners will be acclaimed world champions.

Championships to be shot include the women's, veterans (70 years and older), seniors (60 and over), sub-seniors (50 and over), juniors (under 17), collegiate, Western open (first 100 targets), Eastern Open (second 100 targets), two-man team, parent and child, husband and wife, and open five-man team, which includes military shooters.

Other important titles in this first NSSA "world" event included the women's small gauge which personable Mrs. Betty Myers of Westover, Mass., won after a shootoff with defending champion Judy Allen of Oakland, Calif., and 1957 national 410 champion, Lynn Rader of Trumbull, Conn., who finished in that order after all had fired 92s over the regular route.

Ed Docherty of Holyoke, Mass., took the senior small gauge championship with a 96. George DeVoe of Washington, D.C., was runnerup with 93 and Dr. C. E. Metcalff of Maryland's Chesapeake Bay region was third.

Al and Bob Shuley's 97-90 for 195 took the two-man event. Ken Sedlecky and Ains Borsum were runnersup with 99-95 for 194 after beating John Dalton of Chevy Chase, Md., 1957 all-gauge champion and Harry W. Wright of Baltimore who had 98-96, and Titus Harris Jr. and Ed Harris of Galveston, Texas, with 99-95 for 194. Alex Kerr and Ben DiIorio of California were 4th with 96-96—192.

Sub-seniors—Al Shuley 97; 2. Harry Wright 96; 3. Jay Dee Williams, Arlington, Va., 95.

Juniors—Bob Shuley, 98; 2. Eddie Brown 96; 3. Bill Brown 96.

Sub-juniors—Bob Shuley 98; 2. Bob Webster, Birmingham, Mich., 88.

Women's junior—Lynn Rader 95; 2. Jo Ann Wallis, Piedmont, Calif., 94; 3. Kathy McGinn, Houston, Texas, 93.

Class AA—1. Titus Harris Jr. 99; 2 Ken Sedlecky Baldwin Mich. 99 (lost in shootoff); 3. Bob Shuley 98; 4. C. A. McDowell, 98.

Class A—1. Fred Hummel, Cranford, N. J., 98; 2. J. D. Williams, Arlington, Va., 95; 3. Dr. A. Marchand, Santurfe, Puerto Rico, 95.

Class B—1. Fred Farah, Flint, 97; 2. Roy Strickland, Birmingham, Ala., 96; 3. Bill Ellis, Mt. Clemens, 94; 4. H. M. Kirk, Syracuse, N. Y., 92.

PKC Show Entries Close Next Tuesday

Deadline for entries in the Aug. 17 annual fall all-breed show and obedience trial for Pontiac Kennel Club is Tuesday noon, Aug. 5. All entries should be filed at the Bow Dog Show Organization, 4461 West Jefferson Ave., Detroit.

Show will be held at the Waterford High School athletic field at M59 and Crescent Lake roads.

The PKC show follows the Saginaw Valley Kennel Club's all-breed show, on Aug. 16, at Saginaw.

Union Laker's Campaign Pays Off

By JACK PATTERSON

Although he won't take credit for it, Bob Gregg of Union Lake is held largely responsible for the growing custom of policing our county lakes. Fed up with the antics of some marine morons on Union Lake, Bob spark-plugged a campaign to get a waterborne deputy to help keep things under control. Largely due to operation of the plan at Union, there now are many area lakes regularly patrolled by seagoing officers.

PATTERSON

Opponents of lake patrols doubted that "ticketing" violaters would do much good, inasmuch as existing laws are somewhat vague on what exactly constitutes reckless operation on the water. Be pretty hard to make a ticket stick, they said.

Well, here's news for the doubting Thomases. These tickets do stick. Recently a Union Lake resident was cited for reckless operation of the motorboat, took exception to the idea, demanded a jury trial. He was found guilty and was assessed a $50 fine, $100 costs and placed on six months probation.

This should serve as fair warning to the careless, thoughtless and foolish that the deputies afloat not only mean business but have the means and backing to carry that business out.

Conflicting uses of county waters is a hot item these days. It is going to get hotter as more and more people take to the water to avoid crowded weekend highways.

Tail-end Charlie in the mad rush is the weekend fisherman. Charlie resents his license money being used to furnish "fishing sites" which more often than not are primarily launching spots for outboards and water skiers. Representatives of the Censervation Department seem unwilling to take any action to resolve the hassle. Maybe the're too badly outnumbered.

The whole question of water use needs a searching re-examination. It is a complex question with many divergent and apparently unreconcilable interests. Lakeside residents would like to see horsepower limitations on outboard motors. A potent manufacturer's lobby makes this highly unlikely. A speed limit on inland waters? Perfectly possible to put into effect, extremely diffucult to enforce. Education? Boat manufacturers are required to detail motor size limits and capacities of their products. But they can't keep a buyer from sticking a 50-horse motor on a 12 foot boat, loading it up with seven kids and heading for a fast run down the lake to the undertakers's.

There appear no present answers to these questions. But somebody better come up with answers. And soon.

200 State Teachers Study Conservation

LANSING — More than 200 Michigan teachers are going to school this summer to learn about conservation and management of natural resources.

The teachers, divided into four groups, attend a week-long "scholarship school" at the Conservation Department's Higgins Lake training school.

The first group of 52 teachers attended the school July 13-19 for basic education in principles and practices of conservation. This training program, which includes field trips, lectures and group discussions, equips teachers to relate conservation knowledge to courses they teach in science, social studies, or the "three R's."

LANSING (UPI) — More than 200,000 boats have been licensed in Michigan, Secretary of State James M. Hare said today.

Registrations have been coming in at a rate of about 5,000 a week, Hare said.

CHAMPS' CHAMP — Monday's top event, the champion of champions test was won by a newcomer to top NSSA ranks, when genial Bob Biekirch of Rochester N. Y. outlasted Ains Borsum of Michigan and Lew Gordon of Arkansas at Waterford. The trio broke 100 straight in regular firing, then the easterner had to go three extra 25s to win.

Cause Most Boating Accidents 'Empty Heads' Blamed

An empty-headed skipper in an overloaded boat is the number one cause of boating accidents.

This fact was brought out in a recently completed study of boating accidents just published by the Outboard Boating club of America. According to the study, 31.7 per cent of the accidents analyzed were caused by "operator negligence," a category which includes such acts of foolishness as overloading a boat, making too sharp turns, standing up in a small boat, etc.

Capsizing or overturning (including boats found overturned after the fact and accidents with too brief or generalized description of cause for other classification) caused 28.84 per cent of the accidents. Collisions with other boats, rocks, reefs, or submerged objects caused 8.82 per cent of the accidents.

Kids and high speeds are shown to be only incidental factors in boating accidents, according to OBC's report.

Confirming information and conclusions published in a similar survey last year, the study underlines the fact that the rapid growth of boating's popularity has not resulted in a proportionate increase in boating accidents.

QUEEN OF 28s — Mrs. Betty Myers, wife of USAF sergeant Harold Myers of Westover (Mass.) Air Base, yesterday won the National Skeet Assn. women's 28-gauge title after a shootoff with two others. All had 92x100 to require the shootoff.

New Lightning Wins

Jack Berlien's new lightning got away to a fine start at Watkins Lake Yachting Assn. last weekend, winning his division, with Dave Green 2nd and John Nobel 3rd.

Don Zannoth won the thistle race, with Karl Kreitz 2nd and Brown Williams 3rd. Frank Fleck's snipe led that field, with Guy Duffield's boat 2nd and Bob Newman 3rd.

TODAY'S 2-MINUTE MYSTERY

By DONALD J. SOBOL

"You asked me to drop in on your junior partner, Everette Montigue, and find out how he feels," said Dr. Haledjian. "You broke his jaw, among other things, but he isn't going to charge you with assault. Now, kindly tell me what this is all about!"

"I've suspected that Montigue was interested in my wife," said John Wilmot. "I couldn't prove any misconduct, though. Then three days ago Anne went to Calred City to visit an aunt for the day, and yesterday I received an anonymous telephone call.

"The caller swore Anne had been seen Montigue at his hunting lodge, which is less than five miles from Calred City.

"An hour after the call, I had lunch with Montigue and innocently asked him to have me up to the lodge for a weekend of hunting. He was reluctant, said the lodge hadn't been used for months, but finally consented.

"Upon reaching the lodge, we immediately went out to hunt. We shot two rabbits, and while Montigue prepared the game, I looked around.

"It's hard to tell whether a place has been occupied recently, especially if care is taken to cover up. Montigue observed my guarded snooping with a supercilious air.

"The lodge was well provisioned with food and drink. We ate the rabbits and canned peas and potatoes in strained silence. I was just taking a swallow of sweet cider from a half-filled jug — Montigue drank Irish whisky — when he said:

"I know what you're really hunting for up here, John."

"That's when I hit him. He scrambled out the door and I chased him. I guess I'd have killed him with my bare hands if those two hunters hadn't separated us."

Haledjian knocked the ashes from his pipe into the fireplace. "I don't condone violence," he said. "Still, I can readily understand why Montigue isn't charging you with assault."

WHY NOT?

Montigue lied when he said "the lodge hadn't been used for months," since John Wilmot drank "sweet cider from a half-filled jug." Had the cider been standing in the jug for months, it would have fermented and tasted sour.

Her Husband Lives Up to What He Promised

Homer is fulfilling his part of the agreement the easy way. He bought a dishwasher.

Three Teens Construct Phone Unit

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Juvenile authorities today pondered what charges to place against three teenagers who set up their own private telephone system with stolen equipment and had placed long distance calls to points as far away as Fort Worth, Tex.

Police termed the three boys "electronic wizards" who would "make first class electronic engineers."

David Hamley, 17, led police to the boys' "underground telephone center" yesterday. He said he and two 15-year-old companions had set up the center with stolen equipment and devices they made themselves.

Bell Telephone Co. investigators admitted that the boys had them stumped for several months. They said they had been baffled in trying to trace the source of long-distance calls made to Fort Worth, Johnstown and Altoona, Pa.

Police described Hamley as the "top genius" who led his companions on forays of Bell equipment, which included a dozen phones, condensers, a "line toner" for testing lines and a special phone built to withstand atomic radiation.

Whittling Down Costs

TWIN FALLS, Idaho (AP) — Max Hanson, a Democratic gubernatorial candidate, asked City Council permission to use the local band shell for a rally. One commissioner suggested a $25 charge, another moved a $15 charge, another suggested a $10 charge. The upshot: The council decided to make the shell available free to political rallies. Hanson's will be the first.

Blame Girl's Injuries on Jet's Sonic Boom

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—A jet plane's sonic boom apparently was responsible for injuries to a 3-year-old girl yesterday.

Jo Lynn Palmerton was watching television in her home when a 7-by-3-foot section of plaster fell from the ceiling. She suffered bruises on the head and cuts on one hand.

Police said several jet planes passed over Springfield at the time of the accident and they think the plaster collapsed when one of the planes broke the sound barrier.

Pontiac Mother, Son Hurt in Auto Crackup

A Pontiac mother and son were slightly injured Tuesday when their car was involved in a three vehicle collision on U. S. 10 a half mile north of M-87, in Springfield Township.

Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies reported Mrs. Betty A. Stilley Morgan, 27, of 52 9De Sota Place, and her son, William, 6, were both treated at Pontiac General Hospital and released.

The driver of the other car, Roger I. Rains, 25, of Akron, Ohio, and the driver of a truck involved, Herbert D. Patterson, 47, of Fenton, were both reportedly uninjured.

20th Century to Produce Oursler's Inspired Story

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD — Last March I printed that $10,000,000 would be spent on the inspired story of Fulton Oursler's "The Greatest Story Ever Told" by 20th Century-Fox. That figure still goes, but with this difference.

Philip Dunne is definitely signed to produce and to write the adaptation. Buddy Adler said this picture will cost more than "The Robe" or any other picture ever made by 20th Century.

If conditions become less tense and dangerous in the Middle East the religious spectacle will be filmed partly in the Holy Land. It has always been the intention to make the Oursler story in that part of Jerusalem which is unchanged since Christ carried the Cross up the long road to Calvary.

The stage is a siren Jose Ferrer can't resist and once again Broadway is beckoning him to star in and direct "Edwin Booth," the biography of the actor many consider the greatest of his day.

You might say Ferrer gets his cake and eats it, too, with this venture as the Miller Geiger play is intended for a motion picture after the New York run.

It's Jose's idea to open on the West Coast, as California is his legal residence and Beverly Hills is the place where he, his pretty songbird wife, Rosemary Clooney, and their three (soon to be four) children call home.

There is a big surprise for many of Mike Todd's cronies when his biography is released.

Someone who had a look at the early chapters of Art Cohen's book and the finish written by Cohen's widow, Marta, say that Mike gave some extremely frank appraisals of various people—to put it mildly! Of course, he expected to be around to see the reaction when the bombshell burst.

The book will be published in September under the title of "The Nine Lives of Mike Todd."

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Elizabeth Taylor and Arthur Loew, Jr., back from La Jolla, are giving a dinner at his home Saturday night. There's a rumor that there will be an announcement made, but this I very much doubt.

Anna Marie Alberghetti, who opens at the Desert Inn in Las Vegas tomorrow night, says she was misquoted on the "just friendship" thing with Buddy Bregman. "I still care for him very much and I see him every night for dinner."

The letter Sarah Churchill sends sounds happy. Her father, Sir Winston Churchill, has bought her a house and she is living in London.

Louis Prima consented to remain at Cal-Neva for an additional week, but his bride, Keely Smith, was so tired she came home to take a vacation with the children.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Burglar Crashes Through Glass to Meet Police

A man who police say went on a window breaking spree during a burglary was arrested at 1:30 a.m. today.

Frank J. Gonzalez, 25, of 383 Central St., was seized on the roof of a building next door to Pontiac Motor Parts, 29½ Auburn Ave.

Police said Gonzolez kicked out a door window at the parts place to gain entrance then went upstairs and knocked out two inner doors to get into an office which he ransacked.

He then broke the front window, climbed out onto a sign and crossed over to an adjoining apartment building where he kicked in a window and entered a vacant apartment.

Gonzalez, according to officers, smashed a rear window in the apartment and climbed out on the roof where he was arrested.

Jackson Youth, 15, Dies of Motc ycle Injuries

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Thomas D. Waid, 15, of Jackson, died at University Hospital last night of injuries suffered several hours earlier when his motorcylce skidded on loose gravel. He was thrown 66 feet when it overturned.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Waid.

Australia's growing tobacco crop is now estimated to yield more than $5 million a year to the growers.

Declaring Open War on Highway Slaughter

Iowa Aims to Save 100 Lives

DES MOINES (UPI) — "Save 100 Lives."

That's the command, goal and watchword of Iowa safety officials for the rest of 1958 as they buck head-on into the nationwide problem of highway slaughter.

Iowa is out to prove to the nation that the safety people are right, that countless lives can be saved on the highways through caution, courtesy—and a crackdown.

State Safety Commissioner Russell Brown has trotted out all of the safety campaigns, slogans and gimmicks in the book, and some that aren't, to stop Iowa motorists from killing themselves.

So far, 77 of those lives have been "saved." Iowa's 1958 traffic death count has dropped from 348 in mid-July a year ago to 271 this summer.

That success spurred Brown's latest campaign to "Save 100 Lives." The state's traffic death rate hit a peak of 700 in 1956. It dropped to 690 last year. Brown wants to hold it to 590 this year.

How's he going to do it?

The key feature of the safety program is a system for suspending the driver's licenses of motorists who are guilty of infractions. Each driving offense is assigned a certain number of points. A violator who gets 10 points automatically loses his driving permit.

It's possible to lose your license on one serious violation carrying a full 10-point penalty, such as drunken driving, manslaughter or speeding 20 miles over the limit.

The traffic death rate dropped sharply after the "point system" started April 1.

The "Save 100 Lives" campaign is the latest feature of the drive. It's largely a slogan campaign but it will be backed up with action.

The State Safety Department has asked city officials throughout the state to support the slogan campaign. The employes of Brown's department answer the 'phone with these words:

"Good morning. Let's save 100 lives. Can I help you please?"

The state police radio network broadcasts the appeal into every State Highway Patrol office and car, sheriff's office and police department once an hour 24 hours a day.

The Iowa Highway Patrol backed up the announcement of the program July 11 with a mass license and safety inspection the following weekend, the biggest in the state's history.

The entire force of the patrol, aided by local officers, set up 54 inspection sites that Saturday and Sunday. They checked 58,346 cars and trucks for safety and their drivers for license violations.

No advance notice of the inspections was given. The drivers received 2,822 faulty equipment tickets and 572 summonses to appear in court for license violations or extremely dangerous equipment.

Eight motorists were given warning tickets and one motorist was arrested for drunken driving.

Brown's idea is to "get people excited about setting a traffic safety record" in hopes they'll actually do it.

Reports He Has No Treatment

Salk Working on Cancer

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Dr. Jonas Salk, University of Pittsburgh scientist who developed the successful Salk antipolio vaccine, is conducting exploratory cancer experiments in human beings.

"It is true that we have been conducting experiments in many persons with a variety of cancer and cancerlike conditions," Salk said. "But we have no treatment for cancer."

"Our studies," he said, "are of a strictly exploratory nature, intended to tell us something about the nature of cells that grow in tissue culture. When the time comes that we have something of consequence to report we will do so."

Salk's statement was issued after the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph reported he had been carrying on cancer experiments with adults for a year and now is injecting an undisclosed substance into four children suffering from cancer.

The newspaper said one of the children, Mary Anna Paul, 5, Cecil, Pa., is suffering from "Ewing's sarcoma," a tumor affecting the shaft of the long bones.

The child's mother said Mary Ann at first received an injection every other week but now gets a shot once a week.

"The first time we went Dr. Salk explained the treatment to us," Mary Ann's mother told the Sun-Telegraph. "He said that the important thing to him is to learn the amount and intervals to give shots, just as he did with the polio vaccine."

Cemetery Hut Satisfies Hermit

Coal Miner, 79, Left Wife; Took Dog, Piano to Live on Burial Plot

SHAMOKIN, Pa. (UPI) — Maximilian Yoncoski, a 79-year-old former coal miner, has gotten things down to essentials by setting up housekeeping on his own burial plot.

Ten years ago Max had a little trouble with his wife, so he sold his house and moved to the cemetery, bringing only an old upright piano and a dog. Here the Polish immigrant's way of life seems to prove that a home is what you make it.

Using materials scavenged from the surrounding woods, he built a tarpaper and rag shack around his piano. He brought in a couch to sleep on and a wood-burning stove to cook on, and retired for life.

In his regular interviews with curiosity-seeking reporters and photographers, Max says he likes his hermit's life fine. People, he says, are nothing but trouble.

In this neighborhood he can sing and play the piana all night and get no complaints. He can sit around the house all day and stay out all night without becoming the subject of gossip.

And when he wants to sleep, there are no disturbances to keep him awake. The only noise in the area is made by his six dogs—the one he brought with him turned out to be female.

Yoncoski seems to derive a maximum of contentment amid a minimum of comforts in his ramshackle home. His self-imposed exile is solitary, and, except for a few visits to town for provisions, he has little contact with other persons.

He spends his days tending the graveyard, planting trees and flowers gathered from the surrounding woods, raking leaves and mending the fence.

It would be a nice touch to report that the old coal miner relaxes with the soulful playing of Chopin's music, but the fact is, that Max just bangs at the keys until he is exhausted, then goes to his couch, spiritually renewed.

To Loan India $55 Million

NEW DELHI, India (UPI) — American funds totalling 55 million dollars were made available for loans to medium-sized private Indian industries today under a new U. S. - Indian agreement. The money is part of the proceeds from the sale of U. S. agricultural commodities.

TV Repair Charges Lead Cost Increases

NEW YORK — Industry estimates show that television-repair costs have been rising faster than almost any other item in the nation's economy. They climbed 10 per cent from 1955 to June, 1957, compared with an overall rise in living costs of 5 per cent during the same period. From 1952 to 1957 TV-repair costs soared 25 per cent compared with a 15 per cent rise in auto-repair charges.

Men Wed, Become Dads at Earlier Age

KANSAS CITY (UP) — Fathers are getting younger, it seems.

A greeting card company checked national statistics and found that the average age for becoming a father in the United States has dropped from 27 to 25 in the last 48 years. Early marriages are responsible, according to the records.

In 1955 the average American male was just under 23 when he married, but in 1910 he was 25. Today slightly more than 60 per cent of married men under 25 have children.

6,000 Set for Baptism on Beach

NEW YORK (AP)—Thousands of Jehovah's Witnesses today head for a Bronx beach for a mass baptism.

With an estimated 5,000 to 6,000 candidates for baptism, the Witnesses expect to break their own record for a mass immersion set at their international assembly here in 1953.

That year 4,640 Witnesses were baptized in a Manhattan pool.

Ninety baptizers have been assigned positions along 30 immersion lines extending 75 feet into Long Island Sound off Orchard Beach. Immersions at the rate of 100 a minute were the object.

The men, women and children, dressed in bathing suits, move into the water quietly, two abreast, until they are about waist-high. Witnesses believe that baptism must be accomplished by complete immersion. Infants are not baptized.

Yesterday, 147,000 Witnesses were at Yankee Stadium and the Polo Grounds. It was Expanding Our Ministry Day at the organization's Divine Will International Assembly.

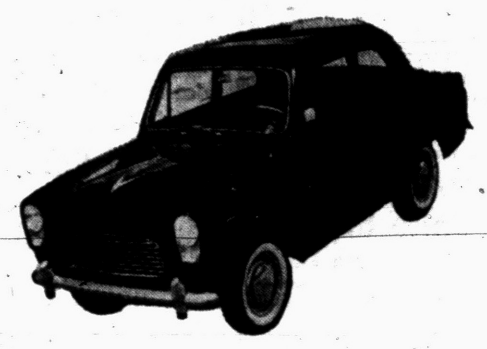

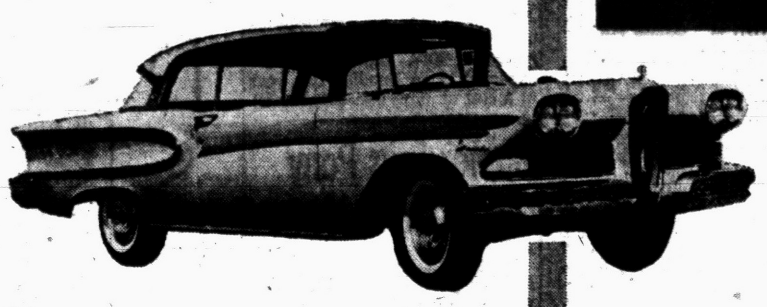

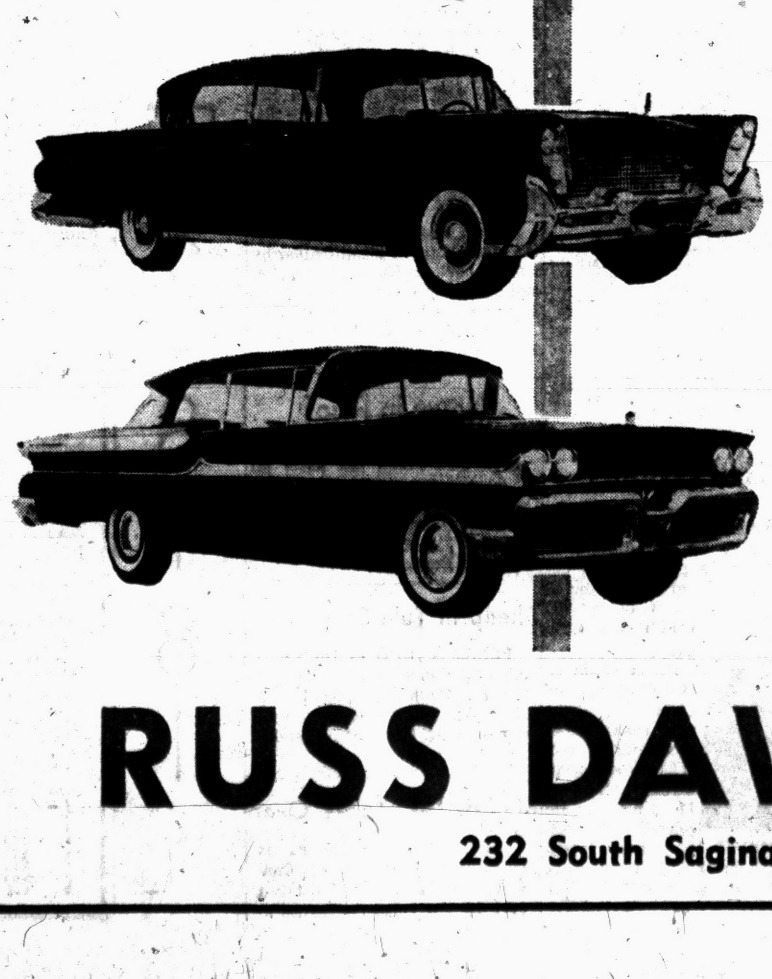

The world's tallest building, the Empire State in New York, has a television transmitter and antenna on top of its lofty 102-story tower.

Auto Official Says 'Joneses' Caused Slump

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Who caused America's recession?

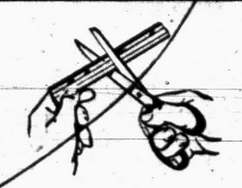

"The Joneses," says a Michigan auto official.

"Keeping up with the Joneses still is important to a great many Americans," said George W. Walker, a Ford Motor Co. vice president. "But perhaps the Joneses aren't going anywhere at the moment. They're saving their money and biding their time."

Walker told a luncheon: "Before long we'll get out from under these dark clouds and into the sunlight again."

Stock Market Prices Uneven

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices continued uneven in fairly active early trading today.

Key stocks showed gains or losses of frmom fractions to about a point.

A burst of heavy trading at the start put the ticker tape behind floor transactions for six minutes. Then turnover slowed with some fractional wobbling by pivotal issues.

Announcement of a steel price boost of Armco Steel, the seventh the biggest producer, brought a gain to this stock but it was pared. Other steels moved slightly forward, then fluctuated within a narrow range.

The market seemed waiting for a possible confirmation of the steel price hike by top producers. U. S. Steel and Bethlehem were up slightly at the opening, then traded about unchanged. Republic Steel held a small gain. Youngstown Sheet gyrated between small gains and losses. Crucible Steel was firm.

General Motors was about unchanged following its second quarter earnings report. Chrysler dipped a fraction.

Republic Aviation, with attention focused on its new space age program, rose about a point. General Dynamics was fairly active and easy. Boeing rose a bit.

'58 Business Booms in Swimming Pools

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Southern California's swimming pool industry is booming. The area has more than 50,000 of the 133,000 pools in the United States.

Industry spokesmen said more than 13,000 private and commercial pools will be completed this year in the area compared with 10,000 similar installations in 1957.

The cost will be about $40,500,000 compared with $30,000,000 last year, they added.

According to the spokesman, about 44,000 pools were built in the nation in 1957. About 56,000 are expected to be installed this year at a cost of more than $600,000,000.

Farmer Says Pony Oldest Living Horse

DePUE, Ill. (AP)—Farmer Forrest McKenney has the most likely contender for the title of the "oldest living horse in the country."

His Shetland pony, "Dolly," now toothless and crippled, is 60 years of age, well past the usual life span for horses which is in the 20s. "Gip" Pierson identified Dolly as the same pony his father purchased as a 2-year-old when Pierson started school at age 6.

Pierson now is in his late 60s. He made positive identification by a scar above the Shetland's eye, resulting from a cut he sewed together when he was a youngster.

Dolly now eats mostly grass, McKenney said.

News in Brief

A burglar broke the locks off the door of the receiving vaults at Oak Hill Cemetery, Oak Hill and Paddock streets, and stole tools valued at $15, it was reported yesterday to Pontiac police.

LONDON (UPI) — The offices recently vacated by the Conservative Party will be taken over by Activated Sludge Ltd.

Grain Futures Trades Even

CHICAGO (AP) — Buying and selling were almost in balance in early grain futures transactions today on the Board of Trade.

A moderate volume of hedging in wheat was well absorbed by flour mill demand. Otherwise the market generally appeared to be marking time. Trade was light with major commission houses on both sides.

Dealers said that with export business almost at a standstill there appeared to be no major influences either way.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was unchanged to ¼ cent a bushel higher, September $1.86½; corn unchanged to ⅜ higher, September $1.28¾; oats ¼ to ½ higher, September 64; rye unchanged to ⅜ lower, September $1.27¾; soybeans ½ to 1 cent lower, September $2.27¾; lard 5 to 10 cents a hundred lbs. lower, September $12.50.

The government loans to producers on the 1957 crop corn become due tomorrow and some traders believe that as soon as the Commodity Credit Corp. compleges taking over unredeemed stocks it may start selling the grain to make room for the new crop.

Destination Charges Slashed by GM, Ford

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors and Ford both announced today that they will cut destination charges on cars and trucks tomorrow.

The auto firms said the lower charges stem from congressional repeal of a three per cent federal excise tax on transportation, effective tomorrow.

Head for Early Volume Production

Aluminum Car Engines Planned

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT (AP) — An all-aluminum car engine may be headed for early volume production.

One industry report, unconfirmed has it Chevrolet is considering its use in a planned smaller car, possibly for 1960.

Of the various major engineering projects the industry has under way, the aluminum engine appears to be the best bet for early use. The industry's engineers know how to make it. They also know how to build a free piston and a gas turbine engine.

But engineering sources talk more seriously about the aluminum unit than any other engines currently under test. A major reason is that it will effect a big weight reduction — probably 30 per cent. Such a reduction has numerous advantages, including improved brake efficiency.

Among problems still to be solved are such things as tougher lining for cylinder walls and the present high cost of materials needed for this purpose. But aluminum proponents say the lighter metal is more easily machined and that cutting tools last much longer in processing aluminum than they do with cast iron.

Industry experts are beginning to talk about aluminum engines providing the next major advance in internal combustion engines.

The industry has tried out several types of engines; it probably will test numerous others. But most authorities are convinced cars of 1965 and 1970 will continue to use internal combustion engines.

It may be a matter of timing but the industry has not had much luck during the last three years with engineering innovations. Power steering and power brakes are widely accepted. So is air conditioning.

But fuel injection and air suspension have not been in great demand. It took years of engineering research to adapt these two innovations to the conventional passenger car. Both are relatively costly options.

One industry report has it that several General Motors divisions will use the new lucite car finishes exclusively on 1959 models. This has been an optional extra cost item in 1958 for most makes.

A couple of makers plan to install aluminized-steel mufflers and tailpipes as standard equipment on their 1959 models, particularly those with dual exhaust systems. This type is said to have much longer life than the steel type more widely used at present.

Industry sources have been speculating that Chrysler will not depart broadly from its current styling. But Ward's Automotive Reports said recently that Plymouth Division has been working on a model to compete with Chevrolet's Impala two-door hardtop. Plymouth has not confirmed this.

The Impala line has been credited with much of Chevrolet's success in running far ahead of Ford this year.

Long Gas Pipe Being Proposed

Consumers Wants to Fuel Clarkston From Indiana Border

A 141-mile pipeline to carry natural gas from the Indiana border to Clarkston has been proposed by Consumers Power Co.

The firm today asked the Michigan Public Service Administration for permission to construct the line to carry gas purchased by the fall of 1959 from the Trunkline Gas Co. Texas.

Consumers also asked permission to build gas compressor stations in Northville Township, Wayne County, and Overisel Township, Allegan County.

The pipeline would start at the Indiana line in St. Joseph County and travel northeasterly across Branch, Hillsdale, Calhoun, Jackson and Washtenaw Counties to Northville.

At Northville it would narrow from 26 inches to 24 inches and extend to Clarkston.

The line would cost about $13,200,000 and the compressor stations about $4,400,000, the utility said.

He's Not Retiring at 90

ATLANTA (UPI) — Painting contractor Hugh Shannon said yesterday he will not renew his license this year. Shannon, 90, who took out his first license in 1896, emphasized that he was not retiring, however.

Card of Thanks 1

IN GRATEFUL APPRECIATION for the kindness and sympathy shown us during our recent bereavement, the family of the late Russell Skrine wishes to publicly thank all whose messages, cards, flowers and offers of assistance helped lighten our sorrow. Mrs. Russell Skrine and family.

WE WISH TO THANK ALL THE relatives, friends and neighbors of Charles J. Rutterbush for their sympathy and floral offerings extended to us during our recent bereavement. With special thanks to the Rev. Parker; the honorary pallbearers of Pontiac Mtr. Club Retirees. The pallbearers and the Pursley Funeral Home. Loving daughter, Mrs. Marvin Barnard and family.

I WISH TO EXTEND MY THANKS and appreciation to the nurse, nurses aid and orderly of the third floor of St. Joseph Hospital. Also thanks to the many friends for their visits, cards and beautiful flowers during the illness of my husband. Mrs. Sam Xenos.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR dear mother Christine Gay, who passed away 6 years ago, July 30th.
Gracious, gentle mother,
Always sweet and kind,
You only saw the good in folks,
And to their faults were blind.
God's taken you to haven
Where all is joy and mirth,
But the place you left so empty,
No one can fill on earth.
Sadly missed by her daughter,
Christine Blower, and son Douglas Gay.

Jerry Lewis to Fill In HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Jerry Lewis will go on tonight at the Moulin Rouge for the ailing Sammy Davis Jr. Davis, suffering a virus throat infection, was unable to perform his night club act last night and was confined to his home. The Step Brothers stepped in for him last night.

Grand Jury Investigates Gambling Syndicate in Indiana Next Month

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Some 170 persons from 40 states will be coming here next month to testify in a federal grand jury investigation of an Indiana-based gambling syndicate said to have grossed millions of dollars.

Subpoenas were served on the witnesses, said to range from postal clerks to bigshot gamblers, in a smoothly coordinated simultaneous move yesterday by federal marshals from coast to coast.

U.S. Atty. Don A. Tabbert refused to identify any of the witnesses until he was sure everyone had been served, but he admitted the list includes a well-known movie comedian and several respected businessmen as well as members of the underworld fringe.

Targets of the investigation are the backers of a gambling syndicate that operated for about 10 weeks above a Terre Haute (Ind.) restaurant until federal agents raided the place last Nov. 29.

At that time Tabbert announced the syndicate was taking in a million dollars a month in telephoned bets on sporting events from all over the country, including many from wellheeled plungers who didn't quible about risking $25,000 on the outcome of a football game. Now the U. S. attorney thinks the operation was even substantially larger than previously estimated.

"This was a very large operation," he said. "You wouldn't walk in this place and put down any $10 bets."

'Kind Sir' Opens at Northland

3-Act Comedy Stars Ann Sheridan, Scott McKay in Lead Roles

Ann Sheridan and company opened "Kind Sir" at Northland Playhouse last night for a week's run.

The three-act comedy by Norman Krasna concerns the wooing of a woman by a bachelor who hides his unmarried status behind a shield of feigned ineligibility by marriage.

Ann Sheridan is the fiery redhead who finds out she has been deceived, and her carefully-plotted revenge is a colorful ending to the romp.

Also featured are Scott McKay as the determined bachelor, Louise Larabee and Jack Davis as Miss Sheridan's matchmaking sister and and brother-in-law, and Hildegarde Halliday and Sorrell Booke.

The play's run will conclude Sunday.

Feels He Owes Taxes to U. S., Mails in Ring

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A conscience-stricken taxpayer's diamond ring will be auctioned off by the federal government.

The ring was mailed from Coquille, Ore., three weeks ago to the Internal Revenue Service office in Portland. With the ring was a note explaining: "I feel I owe more taxes to the government than I have paid. This ring may satisfy the deficit. (signed) Careless."

Japanese Suspects U. S. Intervention

TOKYO (AP)—Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi said today either he or Foreign Minister Aaichiro Fujiyama would attend a summit conference at the U. N. Security Council, if necessary. Japan is a member of the Council.

Kishi also told the lower House's Foreign Affairs Committee that he thought there had been indirect intervention by the United States. He did not name the other intervening power but said: "We consider intervention, direct or indirect, by great powers undesirable."

The Prime Minister said Japan would recognize the new regime in Iraq if time shows it has popular backing and full order is restored.

HE'LL STAY SINGLE — Neither his assistant Schultzy nor any of the other beautiful girls on the Bob Cummings Show is going to corral the program's star in matrimony. The inside tip comes from Paul Hennings, who writes and produces the program. He says that the public is pulling for Schultzy to catch Cummings.

Mothers-to-Be Nearly Steal Judy's Opening

By EARL WILSON

LONG BEACH, Cal.—It would seem that motherhood is very popular here in California. Fatherhood is catching on, also.

Flitting back and forth between the Miss Universe contest and Hollywood every day, "Old Judge Wilson" wasn't able to catch Judy Garland's opening—but evidently three expectant mothers were almost as big a hit as Judy.

WILSON

They were Carmel Quinn, Janet Leigh and Shirley Jones, each in a sack dress. Carmel, who's the guest of the Pat Boones in their rented mansion in Bel-Air, was around with Pat, naturally, and several people said to her:

"Of course you're Mrs. Boone?"

"No," she said in her Irish brogue. "Why did you think so?"

"Because you're pregnant," they said, referring to the fact that Pat's wife Shirley is already the mother of four. She has nothing on her production schedule at present, however.

Judy—who tripped and fell at one point in the show, slightly marring an otherwise extremely glamorous event — brought out all the biggest names. Everyone was happy; Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis even had their arms around each other.

They tell me that Judy was on the floor for well over an hour and sang "Swanee" twice (by popular demand).

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN N.Y. . . .

The Russian embassy in N.Y. did a fast redecorating job, put in new carpeting—in case Krush comes by . . . Myron Cohen, rushed in to sub for ailing Joe E. Lewis, said, "I didn't even have time to get loaded!" . . . Sometimes a Wilson Girl nominee doesn't have to show anything but her face. One of these is Debby Ann Cohon of Fall River, Somerset and Boston, Mass., and Providence, and now here crashing the Broadway stage . . . Ex-King Farouk wants to buy into the Monte Carlo casino . . . Once-Famous Ciro's Auctioned in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ciro's is no more.

The night club, a favorite of Hollywood movie personalities for 16 years, was auctioned off for $296,000 yesterday because of debts.

The purchaser, Mannie Feigenbaum, an auctioneer, said the Sunset Boulevard night spot would be ideal for apartments or business.

Owner Herman Hover closed the place last Dec. 31.

Beauties Chase Hero in Vain

Show's Star to Remain Photog With Carefree Bachelor Existence

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — Followers of the Bob Cummings Show should be informed that there are no immediate prospects of his helpful assistant Schultzy corraling our hero in matrimony.

On the other hand, neither is there much likelihood that one of those beautiful girls who drift through the show will be corraled by Cummings.

The authority for saying this is one who certainly should know; Paul Henning, writer and producer of the program.

Henning, a highly successful writer of comedy who began his apprenticeship with the old Fibber McGee and Molly radio program, gave an interesting insight the other day into how the series was conceived.

"I've long been an admirer of Bob Cummings' acting," he said, "and in a comedy role I especially visualized him as an ineffectual single man.

"At first I thought Cummings might be a commercial artist, but not many people know exactly what a commercial artist does. Then it occurred to me that everybody knows what a photographer is. So why not make him a professional photographer who makes pictures of beautiful grils?

"But I wanted to balance his carefree bachelor existence with family responsibilities — though not to the extent of marriage. The wise course seemed to be to fence him in with a widowed sister to whom he had obligations, and with a woman assistant who would make sure there wasn't any hanky-panky with the beautiful girls around his studio. So the idea of Schultzy was conceived a nice girl who's in love with him and wants to protect him."

Henning says that the viewing public is constantly pulling for Schultzy, played by Ann B. Davis, who this year won an Emmy Award for her handling of the role.

While Henning won't say that Schultzy never will get her man, one can see that this just can't happen too soon without the series losing its perpetual motion. By perpetual motion we mean:

(A) Cummings chasing pretty girls, and (B) Schultzy chasing Cummings. If anybody ever catches anybody, the perpetual motion machine will break down. It would be a different show.

And Henning likes to quote a wise line uttered by Lucille Ball when somebody wanted to change the "I Love Lucy" show:

"Don't fool around with success."

Castor oil is an essential ingredient of many industrial products, among which are paint, lipstick, hair dressing, nylon and typewriter ribbons.

College Athlete Killed in Scuffle

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — A University of Arizona baseball player was shot to death and two other university athletes were wounded last night in a fight with three other youths.

Killed was James L. McConnell, 20, second baseman on the Arizona team that played recently in the College World Series at Omaha, Neb. Wounded were Lionel Romero, a pitcher, and Michael Longo, a member of the university's 1957 freshman baseball team.

Held for investigation were Roger Mobray, 17, a track star at Catalina High School in Tucson; his brother Ray, 25, a Tucson bakery employe; and Reginald Smith, 20, a cousin of the Mobray brothers. No charges have been filed.

Police Sgt. George Robles said the Mobray brothers gave this account:

They were riding with Smith when another car forced them to the curb. The three university athletes jumped out and challenged them to a fight.

The Mobrays and their cousin refused. They brandished a rifle and a pistol to scare their assailants off.

But the other youths opened the car door and attacked them. The shots were fired during the ensuing scuffle. McConnell was killed by a shot through the heart.

Romero was shot in the mouth and Longo in the chin. Both were reported in fair condition at Tucson Medical Center. Smith was treated at the center for head injuries.

None of the trio held admitted firing the fatal shot. Police were checking to learn why they had the weapons in the car and why they were attacked.

Affair Proves Worse Than Mad Hatters Tea

ANADARKO, Okla. (AP)—It was worse than the Mad Hatters tea.

Things got mixed up at Mrs. Gilbert Haslam's party and the guests found they had to get the sugar from the spouted cream pitcher, and the cream was in the sugar bowl with only a spoon to use.

One of every five Frenchmen is a farmer.

Coffee Break 'Rush' Makes Elevator Stall

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP)—An elevator jammed with employes stalled between the first and second floors of the State Office Building recently.

"Just a case of overloading. Coffee break rush, you know."

The only known constituents of the atmosphere on the planet Jupiter are menthane and ammonia.

Air Mileage Gains

NEW YORK — The nation's domestic trunk airlines flew more than 25 billion passenger-miles during 1957, a gain of 14 per cent from 1956 and more than 26 per cent above 1955.

Li'l Lady, 82, Knocks Thief for a Loop

NEW YORK (AP)—It wasn't the money but the principle of the thing that caused Mrs. Fleurette Greber, an 82-year-old fighting lady, to throw her Sunday punch yesterday.

The arena was the second-floor hallway outside Mrs. Greber's Manhattan apartment.

Mrs. Greber stands 5 feet and weighs in at 103. Her opponent was a 170-pound six-footer in his 20s. Further tipping the balance in his favor was one razor—sharp.

"Give me your pocketbook," he snapped, waving the razor at her.

The bag contained only $3.50, but Mrs. Greber didn't like his manners.

"I will not, young man," she said.

He grabbed for the pocketbook. Mrs. Greber uncorked her right. She hit the hand that held the razor and it flew up, cutting her assailant's nose.

He screamed and ran, taking the pocketbook. Mrs. Greber called police.

A patrolman found David Johnson on an operating table at a nearby hospital. He was having five stitches taken in his nose. The bag, with the $3.50 intact, was recovered in a subway station in the neighborhood.

Boys' Club Director Will Resign His Post

Michael L. Fiorillo, executive director of the Boys' Club of Pontiac, has announced his resignation from that post.

He held the position for a year, following the resignation of director William Coulacos. Previously, Fiorillo was director of physical education of Pontiac Central High School.
