Officials Predict Fight by Administration for More Space Money

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy's pledge that America will beat Russia to the moon before 1970 appeared today to signal an administration proposal for increased space funds next year.

One high-ranking official predicted a "substantial increase" in Kennedy's next space budget, well beyond this fiscal year's record-breaking $5.4-billion level which includes $3.7 billion in actual expenditures.

Kennedy returned last night from a two-day tour of four major space facilities in Alabama, Florida, Texas and Missouri. The trip was expected to play a large part in his decisions on next year's space outlays.

According to the best authority, exact money levels for next year's space program are still to be decided although there is a liklihood of sizable boosts.

Kennedy tried on his tour to find out what use could be made of more funds. One answer he obtained was that an increase could step up production of booster rockets and thus accelerate the space program.

In his speech before some 45,000 persons at the Rice University Stadium in Houston, Tex., yesterday, Kennedy said the nation "must pay what needs to be paid."

"I don't think we ought to waste any money, but I think we ought to do the job," Kennedy said. "And this will be done in the decade of the 1960s."

By forceful implication, Kennedy endeavored to meet the challenge of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's question of "why the great hurry" in America's "fantastically expensive space program."

Space officials hoped that Kennedy would have answers for any similarly doubtful congressmen on the basis of his whirlwind but jam-packed inspection of space projects at Huntsville, Ala., Cape Canaveral, Fla., Houston and St. Louis.

The President noted that this year's space budget "is three times

AMC Also Planning to Boost Kelvinator Sales Next Year

DETROIT (UPI) — American Motors Corp. is aiming at a 20 to 25 per cent increase of its car and appliance sales next year, Richard E. Cross, chairman, said today.

Cross, in remarks prepared for a press preview of AMC's 1963 Rambler car models, said the company expects to sell nearly a million products for the first time in its history this fiscal year.

He said the sales volume would exceed one billion dollars for the fiscal year. AMC's fiscal year closes Sept. 30. The company makes the Rambler car and the Kelvinator refrigerator.

"With our increased strength and new products, we expect the coming year to be our best from a sales volume standpoint and, although general business could be slightly off, we are gearing our own planning to a 20 to 25 per cent increase in combined Rambler and Kelvinator unit sales at home and abroad," Cross said.

Cross said that at the end of this month AMC will have paid off the last of its more than $80 million indebtedness. He said this will make AMC the "only U.S. automobile company without bank or funded debt of any kind."

The AMC chairman said his company in the last five years has invested entirely out of earnings more than $160 million in expansion and modernization. He said AMC has paid out nearly $65 million to stockholders in cash dividends, plus two stock dividends.

HAIL THE VICTOR — Carl Sanders laughs heartily as friends congratulate him in Atlanta, Ga., last night after he scored an overwhelming victory over former Gov. Marvin Griffin for the Democratic nomination for governor which means election in Georgia.

'Governor' Promises Order

Moderate Wins in Georgia

From Our News Wires

ATLANTA, Ga.—State Sen. Carl E. Sanders, a moderate on the race issue by Deep South standards, was nominated governor last night in a bitter battle against former Gov. Marvin Griffin, a staunch segregationist.

Sanders, a bold young man who entered the race last April while veteran politicians scoffed, thus derailed a comeback drive by Griffin. Sanders, 37, campaigned vigorously, charging that Griffin's previous administration was rife with corruption.

The ex-governor, roaring up and down the state in a fist-shaking fight for political survival, had said that Sanders' election would lead to wholesale integration throughout Georgia.

State Sen. Sanders, making his first bid on a statewide basis, called it a great victory not for himself but for the people of Georgia.

Griffin formally conceded his defeat in a statement at 10 a.m. as Sanders' Democratic primary victory widened with every new tabulation.

Returns tabulated by midmorning, with 1,311 of the state's 1,825 precincts repoting, gave Sanders 391,068 votes to 233,184 for Griffin.

Three other candidates drew a smattering of votes.

This was the first popular vote primary in Georgia in 54 years. Federal courts earlier this year knocked down the state's county unit system, which concentrated political power in rural areas.

Griffin, 55, campaigned on the racial issue with promises to stem the tide of integration.

Nomination means election as the Republicans have no candidate.

A. Edward Smith, nominated by the Republicans, was killed in an automobile accident in June and the GOP said no successor would be named.

Sanders too is a segregationist, but throughout the campaign he said he would never permit turmoil and disorders — taking a stand similar to that of Gov. Ernest Vandiver.

Meets Reporters at 5; in Meantime, Warning Sounds From Castro

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy was reported today to be planning a forthright statement at his news conference tonight on the Communist military build-up in Cuba.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., gave newsmen this report after a morning White House meeting of Democratic congressional leaders with the President.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Senate Democratic floor leader, said he was sure Kennedy would have a great deal more to say about the Cuban situation at at 5 p.m. (Pontiac time) televised news conference.

Meanwhile, Havana radio today quoted Armed Forces Minister Maj. Raul Castro as warning President Kennedy he had better convince "Pentagon generals" that an attack on Cuba "can mark the end of imperialism."

The Cuban transmitter said Castro told a graduating class of army cadets in Matanzas that if the U.S. attacks Cuba, "the Cuban peoples will be the last target of imperialist aggression . . . the first shot will end imperialism."

The audience rose and sang the Communist "Internationale" marching song at the conclusion of Castro's speech, the radio said.

★ ★ ★

The congressional leaders said they had a lengthy discussion with the President on his request for stand-by authority to call 150,000 Reserves to active duty.

★

A resolution to grant this authority has run into Republican demands in the Senate for tougher and more specific action.

But Senate Republican leaders changed signals today and agreed to separate handling of a proposed declaration warning that the United States is willing to fight over Cuba if necessary.

The Republicans originally had planned to try to attach the declaration to Kennedy's reserve mobilization bill.

They altered their strategy after Democratic leaders indicated they would go along with such a declaration if handled separately.

Humphrey asserted that Republicans were trying to make Cuba an issue in the current congressional elections campaigns and termed this "mischievous and reckless."

POINTS TO 1958

"Let's not forget that Cuba slipped into the hands of Fidel Castro and the Communists in 1958," Humphrey said.

That was during the Republican administration of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Humphrey said he would prefer that any Senate resolution dealing with Cuba and its Communist buildup be handled separately.

★ ★ ★

He hinted that Democrats may offer a substitute for varied earlier GOP proposals.

In any event, Humphrey said the Senate plans to call up and

Cubans Holding Four Western Correspondents

LONDON (AP)—Four Western correspondents in Havana were reported held today by Cuban security authorities.

The Foreign Office said two missing British reporters—John Bland of Reuters and John Barnes, who works for the American magazine Newsweek — had been taken into custody.

A Cuban deputy foreign minister told the British ambassador in Havana that Bland and Barnes were being held. A Foreign Office spokesman said he did not know what charge—if any—had been placed against them.

County Set to Apply for Works Millions

By DICK HANSON

Just as soon as Washington produces the necessary forms, the Oakland County Department of Public Works will apply for $4.8 million of President Kennedy's $900-million public works fund to create jobs, DPW Director R. J. Alexander declared today.

The intent to apply already has been filed with the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency pending availability of the forms, he said.

The Senate bill which would authorize the administration to make grants from the fund for public works projects in economically distressed areas, was sent to President Kennedy Monday for his signature.

Once signed, appropriations can be made and the application forms made available.

The version of the legislation sent to the White House is quite different from Kennedy's original proposal but has been deemed acceptable to the administration by congressional leaders.

In seeking authority to relieve the economically distressed areas, including Oakland County, the President asked for $600 million for immediate projects plus $2 billion on standby for use in a recession.

Alexander agreed that Kennedy's plan, even in its altered form, is going to create jobs, although he questioned their permanency toward solving unemployment.

"Nothing permanent will result unless the public works projects thus achieved will attract new industrial development," he said.

★ ★ ★

One of the generally accepted prerequisites for locating new industry is the availability of public utilities such as water and sewers.

The $4.8 million to be sought by the county would enable the DPW to take bids on 10 badly needed sewage projects worth $9.6 million within six months after

Regains Post in Estes Case

Restore Farm Official Demoted in Hassle Over Bonds Approval

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman announced today that a department official demoted in connection with the Billie Sol Estes grain storage operations has been restored to his post.

The official is Carl J. Miller, a career employe of 25 years. He was reinstated as chief of the U.S. Warehouse Act branch of the department's marketing service.

Miller had approved bonds posted by Estes, Pecos, Tex., financier to protect the department against possible loss on surplus grains stored in his warehouses. The size of the bond—$700,000—had been criticized by some members of Congress as being insufficient and indicating favored treatment for Estes.

Freeman made his announcement in testimony prepared for hearing of the Intergovernmental Relations subcommittee of the House, headed by Rep. L. H. Fountain, D-N.C., which is investigating the Estes grain storage operations.

Issue Storm Warning; Pontiac Not Included

KANSAS CITY (UPI) — The U.S. Weather Bureau issued a severe thunderstorm forecast today for parts of southeastern Wisconsin, extreme northeastern Illinois and Central portions of lower Michigan. (The Pontiac area is not included.)

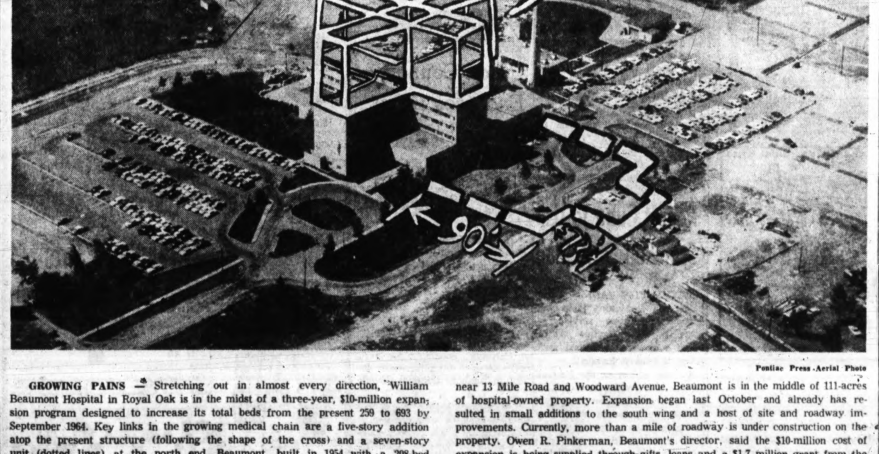

Winds up to 70 miles an hour rocked Grand Rapids, Mich., in a violent thunderstorm that struck shortly before noon today.

Rain falling in solid sheets cut visibility to about one block for a brief period upon the storm's entrance into the city.

GROWING PAINS — Stretching out in almost every direction, William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak is in the midst of a three-year, $10-million expansion program designed to increase its total beds from the present 259 to 693 by September 1964. Key links in the growing medical chain are a five-story addition atop the present structure (following the shape of the cross) and a seven-story unit (dotted lines) at the north end. Beaumont, built in 1954 with a 208-bed capacity, is picture in the aerial view by pilot-photographer Homer Tinney, one in his series of shots illustrating the changing face of Oakland County. Located near 13 Mile Road and Woodward Avenue, Beaumont is in the middle of 111-acres of hospital-owned property. Expansion began last October and already has resulted in small additions to the south wing and a host of site and roadway improvements. Currently, more than a mile of roadway is under construction on the property. Owen R. Pinkerman, Beaumont's director, said the $10-million cost of expansion is being supplied through gifts, loans and a $1.7 million grant from the Metropolitan Detroit Building Fund. Work is continuing to develop additional capital gifts, he said.

Loses Faith in Congo Plan

Believe Tshombe Is Using U. N.-Katangese Clash as Pretext

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP)— President Moise Tshombe says a new clash between United Nations troops and gendarmes of his breakaway Katanga Province has destroyed his faith in the U.N. plan to unify the Congo.

The suspicion arose that Tshombe was using the incident as a pretext to prolong his secession.

Claiming U.N. Indian troops triggered the clash Wednesday and killed two of his gendarmes, Tshombe told newsmen the incident was an imbecility "coming at the moment when I and my ministers were examining the U.N. plan."

U.N. officials said the Katangans fired first and denied there were any casualties.

A delegate at U.N. headquarters in New York expressed belief Tshombe faked the casualty claim as a pretext for rejecting the U.N. plan to bring his province and its mineral wealth under the authority of the central Congo government. U.S. officials in Washington expressed similar views privately.

Tshombe showed newsmen the bodies of a gendarme corporal and a private at an Elisabethville morgue, claiming they were killed in the clash. He charged U.N. troops opened up with machine guns after ordering his men away from a roadblock near the U.N. controlled Elisabethville airport.

"If the United Nations want war they can have it," Tshombe said. "It won't be child's play like (the U.N.-Katanga flareups) last September and December."

"I do not believe in (U.N. Acting Secretary-General) U Thant's good faith any longer," said Tshombe, "nor in the Western nations—the United States, Belgium and Britain—who guaranteed the implementation of Thant's plan.

"These imbeciles of the United Nations . . . they would be better returning to India and the other nations they come from."

Needs More Testing

Iodine May Kill Smog

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—A possible lead toward achieving victory over "smog" by introducing a cleansing chemical into the atmosphere of smog-plagued cities was reported today.

A team of Lockheed researchers said they had achieved abatement and even prevention of smog—in laboratory experiments—through use of iodine as a "chain-breaker" of the molecular chain producing the irritant air mixture that bedevils certain cities such as Los Angeles.

They stressed in a report for the 142nd national meeting of the American Chemical Society that the findings—resulting from a three year study—represent only the results of relatively small-scale laboratory tests.

They added that a number of questions still remain to be answered before determination can be made whether the iodine method can be employed in solving air pollution problems on a practical scale.

Lockheed's Dr. William F. Hamilton, who presented the report for the team, said the big question to be answered is whether there would be poisonous effects to human and other life from the reaction products resulting from introducing the iodine into a smoggy atmosphere.

County Set to Apply for $4.8 Million

the applications were approved, Alexander said.

NOW OR LATER

Some of these projects could be placed under construction within 90 days of approval, he added. "Otherwise they are still up to five years away from construction."

* * *

All of the projects are intended to replace septic tanks with a modern sewage system for treatment by Detroit, and will open new areas of the county for further development, both industrial and residential, he stated.

Septic tanks in the areas concerned already have reached numbers where no more can be added safely, Alexander explained.

Projects which could be carried out almost immediately in the $9.6-million program and the cost of each, are:

Southfield-Rouge Arms, $1.7 million; Farmington Industrial Arms, $720,000; Huron-Rouge, Novi Sewer, $1.4 million; 14-Mile-Maple Arm, $450,000; 15-Mile Road Arm, $500,000.

And, Walnut Lake Arm, $1.2 million; Troy Sewers, $2.4 million; Sylvan Manor Arm, $240,000; Walton Heights Manor Sewer, $180,00; and Walled Lake Sewers and plant, approximately $1 million.

* * *

Alexander said plans on all but the Walled Lake project are either already prepared or can be completed within the next couple of weeks.

The $4.8 million in federal funds would be matching funds in the form of a grant. In other words, he said, the money wouldn't be repaid.

He pointed out that this is a chance to get back some of the federal taxes of local origin, which, if not reclaimed by Oakland County, will go to counties elsewhere in the nation.

* * *

"You may not agree with the philosophy, but there is no point in booting the money away for someone else to use," he observed.

BACKED BY FAITH

Local matching funds would be derived through the sale of county bonds by the faith and credit of the benefiting communities, Alexander explained.

The municipalities will collect the money to repurchase the bonds through special assessments or connection charges to users of the new sewers.

According to Alexander each million dollars spent on public works will produce 100 man years of direct labor and 150 indirect man years of labor.

He defined direct man years as job length on the project and indirect man years as job length in supporting industries, such as in the production of materials to be used in the project.

In the case of Oakland County, spending $9.6 million at this time will produce 2,400 additional man years of labor in the area, he said.

Statement on Cuba Planned by JFK

pass the Reserves measure before it quits for the day.

Mansfield, in a separate interview, said he hoped Congress would come up finally with a bipartisan approach.

The senator was reminded that he had said a couple of weeks ago that he didn't think the Republicans would light on Cuba as a partisan issue.

Asked whether he still thought that, Mansfield replied: "We always live in hopes. The leadership has been responsible in its utterances. We hoped the rank and file would follow leadership."

Mansfield said that before the Senate acted on the resolution there were "a number of factors" to be canvassed with both Democrats and the Republican sponsors of various amendments.

He said he hoped the question of whether the call-up resolution could be passed unencumbered "can be resolved" in these conferences.

He pointed out that the original legislation made no specific reference to Cuba. And he said if there has to be an amendment, "We've got to be careful in our language."

GOLDWATER COMMENTS

In Richmond, Va., Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., called for a blockade against ships carrying arms and men from Communist nations to Cuba.

Goldwater, in Richmond to lend support to the candidacy of a fellow Republican running for Congress, said such a blockade should be set up in conjunction with the Organization of American States (OAS).

If it failed, he said, "The next step is a combined invasion (of Cuba) with the OAS under the principles of the Monroe Doctrine."

Report Cuba to Use Scorched Earth Plan

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Cuban exiles said Wednesday their clandestine intelligence service reports the Castro regime has ordered a sweeping scorched earth policy if Cuba is invaded.

A group known as the National College of Newsmen in Exile said 30 Czech and Russian demolition squads are prepared to destroy public buildings if the Castro regime is threatened.

The exile group also said Cuban ports have been mined by foreign experts.

Winds Slash West Michigan

Fires, Power Failures Are Left by 70-M.P.H. Blast, Storm

By The Associated Press

A sneak late-season wind and thunderstorm carved a path of fires, power failures, felled trees and washouts across parts of West Michigan shortly before noon today.

The U.S. Weather Bureau at Grand Rapids reported winds of 70 miles an hour at the Kent County Airport (about 11:45 a.m.)

Emergency calls flooded area police and fire department switchboards. Callers reported lightning-set fires, utility lines snapped and fallen trees blocking some roads.

The weather bureau reported .55 inches of rain in 10 minutes as the storm slashed into Grand Rapids.

1.3 INCHES OF RAIN

Allegan County sheriff's men said the Allegan power station recorded 1.3 inches of rain in 40 minutes as the storm struck the city while marching units formed for the annual parade which is a feature of the Allegan County Fair.

"One street has water bumper deep for autos, there have been some power failures and we've got traffic jams at nearly every corner," said Allegan Undersheriff Basil (Jack) Frost.

He described the parade units as "a soaked bunch."

Several limbs and trees were reported downed by high winds in Holland and one large plate glass window was blown out of a down town store.

Saugatuck reported power lines down along the Lake Michigan shore and in Douglas as a result of the same storm.

Arrest Area Pair in Gambling Raid

Pontiac state police arrested two men for violation of state gambling laws in a raid yesterday afternoon at an alleged bookmaking establishment in Waterford Township.

Police said they confiscated bet slips, adding machines and radios at the residence of Jackie Robinson, 28, 2405 Jones Road.

Robinson and Clarence Robinson, 49, of 6434 Lanman St., Waterford Township, demanded examination in their arraignment before Justice of the Peace John McGrath.

Union Council Endorses Dems for Fall Vote

Oakland County AFL-CIO Council delegates last night voted to endorse the Democratic ticket for state and county offices in the Nov. 6 election.

The action was taken following a report by the AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education (COPE), which interviewed 10 Democratic and 8 Republican candidates Aug. 28.

Among the Republicans who unsuccessfully sought endorsement was union member Kenneth Waller of Ferndale, candidate for state representative from the sixth district in southern Oakland County.

Republican county chairman Charles L. Lyle, who charged in July that the union group decides on endorsements without consideration of GOP candidates, was not available this morning for comment.

British Cabinet Mulls Market

Macmillan Is Absent to Continue Talks With Other Nations

LONDON (AP) — The British Cabinet met today to discuss the general Commonwealth assault on Britain's proposed entry into the European Common Market. Prime Minister Harold Macmillan conspicuously stayed away from the meeting.

* * *

Macmillan apparently absented himself from the Cabinet session because he was anxious to continue a round of informal talks with Commonwealth premiers and anxious to avoid creating an impression of emergency in the midst of the summit conference of 16 Commonwealth countries.

Deputy Prime Minister R. A. Butler presided over the Cabinet meeting and gave the ministers an assessment of the Commonwealth's opposition to Britain's linkup with the European community.

* * *

Though the Commonwealth objections gave new ammunition to British opponents of the proposed linkup with the Continent, Macmillan was reported confident that the members of his Conservative government would support his policy.

STUDY IMPLICATIONS

The commonwealth conference, meeting here since Monday, divided into subcommittees for detailed study of the implications of British membership in the Common Market.

Macmillan's aides put out word of his resolve to go ahead with his plans after almost every Commonwealth leader had criticized aspects of the historic project.

"Our policy has taken a hammering," a senior British minister observed privately, "but the worst is over and the government will survive."

Pontiac Water Complaints Due to Lack of Rain

In a report to City commissioners and administrators this week, Herbert G. Parker, Pontiac water superintendent, said the poor quality of city water in some areas is a result of the lack of spring and summer rainfall this year.

Parker explained that iron compounds, which affect the color of water, and hydrogen sulphide, accounting for the "rotten egg" odors, accumulate in dead-end mains or mains where water circulation is slow.

These are normally eliminated by flushing dead-end mains and hydrants in areas where consumers complain.

"Due to a very dry spring, the underground water table dropped to a very low level," Parker noted.

"In order to conserve what ground water we have, the water department has had to discontinue its flushing program, for almost three months."

what it was in January 1961, and it is greater than the space budget of the previous eight years combined."

"That budget now stands at . . . a staggering sum," Kennedy said, "though somewhat less than we pay for cigarettes and cigars every year."

And he said "Space expenditures will soon rise some more, from 40 cents per person per week to more than 50 cents a week for every man, woman and child in the United States, for we have given this program a high national priority."

The President's per capita figures represented a 20 per cent increase. It was difficult to get an immediate pinpointing from administration officials, who would say only that Kennedy referred to sums already budgeted.

Celia Whips Out Over Atlanta at 70-Mile Pace

MIAMI (UPI) — Tropical storm Celia wound up 70 mile-an-hour winds out over the Atlantic today and a hurricane watch was ordered for a group of leeward islands.

Forecasters said the third tropical storm of the season should reach hurricane force later today. Winds of 75 miles-an-hour or over are considered of hurricane intensity.

In an 11 a.m. (Pontiac time) advisory, the San Juan, P. R., Weather Bureau located the storm's center in the Atlantic about 850 miles east of San Juan, near latitude 17.3 north and longitude 53.2 west. This was about 1,850 miles east-southeast of Miami.

The Day in Birmingham

Plan 18 New Adult Education Classes

BIRMINGHAM — A greatly expanded continuing education program will begin in the Birmingham Public School System the week of Sept. 24, it was announced today.

Eighteen new courses will be offered in the adult education series this term according to Howard L. Malwitz, program director.

Courses being taught here for the first time include beginning Russian, advanced shorthand, china painting, creative writing workshop, modern science, constitutional government, medical emergency training, portrait painting and photography.

Other new courses are English refresher, advanced typing, psychology of adolescents, goals for Americans, experimental weaving, beginning Italian, reading improvement, office machines and furniture refinishing.

Most of the 60 courses being offered will meet for 10 weeks from 8 to 10 p.m. Classes will be conducted on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Registrations are being accepted now at the continuing education office in the board of education building, Chester and Martin streets. Registration will close Sept. 21.

Malwitz said that any group of 12 or more who wish to have a course not offered are requested to contact his office to learn if an instructor is available.

* * *

Three college courses also are being offered by the department in cooperation with Wayne State University and the University of Michigan, Malwitz said.

They are: cultures of the new world, introduction to the arts of music and current developments in U.S. foreign policy.

Friends and Relatives of Refarded Children of Oakland County (FAR) will conduct a school for youngsters this fall at the First Presbyterian Church of Birmingham.

Registration will be held between 12:30 and 2:30 p.m. Monday in Room 101 at the church office, 1669 W. Maple Road.

Youngsters 3½ to eight years of age, too retarded even for special education classes, can be enrolled in the daily school, said FAR director and Royal Oak City Commissioner Robert Patnales.

The organization, with headquarters in Ferndale, has about 60 children in its program.

Ben Stone

Service for Ben Stone, 55, of 19 Merrimac Court, Bloomfield Hills, will be 3 p.m. tomorrow at the First Presbyterian Church, Birmingham, with burial in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery, Troy.

An area industrialist, Mr. Stone died yesterday at his home after a long illness. His body will be at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co., Birmingham, until 1 p.m. tomorrow.

Mr. Stone belonged to Pine Lake Country Club.

Surviving are his wife Ruth and two daughters, Linda Ann and Nancy E., both at home.

The family suggests memorial tributes be made to the Michigan Cancer Society.

Look Who's Calling the Kettle Black . . .

Were the present Berlin situation not so alarming with potential hostilities between the East and West with possibility of global involvement, it would be a bit ludicrous. It is analogous to a dog chasing its tail, with little likelihood of immediate solution.

The background of the impasse is, of course, the Berlin Wall. In dividing the city, it virtually makes prisoners of East Berliners seeking entry into West Berlin. This fact was clearly established as the East Berlin soldiery began shooting down those it considered refugees from the tyranny of the Moscow deputies.

★ ★ ★

Now, however, the Kremlin is charging U. S. officialdom in West Berlin with responsibility for outbreaks of violence there. The eruptions stem from the inhuman treatment given those of the Eastern sector attempting escape. The Russians ironically warn that "these dangerous provocations must cease."

★ ★ ★

To add to the general imbroglio, the West Berliners besides demonstrating against the Russian regime responsible for the growing brutality are also making disorderly protest against the American government's position of neutrality and hands-off policy that has been followed.

In this tense situation, the Soviet government has risen to new heights of irrationality, maintaining that with the withdrawal of the Soviet commandant in East Berlin it is no longer responsible for events or atrocities taking place in that area. Moreover, it has steadfastly refused Allied bids for a four-power consultation looking to a solution of the Berlin problem.

There is something about all this akin to spinning the wheel of fortune. Around and around it goes—where it will stop nobody knows.

Enrollment in Schools Sets Another Record

A new school year is now under way. A healthy 46.7 million American children will be attending elementary and secondary public and private schools this autumn, according to the U.S. Office of Education.

★ ★ ★

This will be the eighteenth straight year that a new enrollment high has been recorded. Pontiac is no exception and falls in this category. Pontiac School Superintendent DANA P. WHITMER predicts that the Pontiac School System enrollment will increase by approximately 500 students.

These additional students will make a grand total of nearly 21,500 according to Whitmer. It is interesting to note that most of the increase is in the senior high schools.

Breaking down the over-all U. S. school population, it goes something like this: 39.7 million will be in public schools; 6.7 million in private and parochial schools; and 300,000 in Federal schools such as those for Indians and children of armed forces personnel.

A big question across the U.S. these days is where will we put all the students? Even with school building having become a major construction activity in recent years, many areas are still crowded.

Some school systems have had to go to the double shift program to accommodate all the youngsters. Pontiac is fortunate in this regard. We do not face any overcrowded conditions. It might be said that we are in a leveling off period.

★ ★ ★

To the new students we would like to say welcome and to those returning, along with the teachers, we wish you a successful year.

Talking Robot? Who Needs It!

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Science is excited about the future of machines that talk.

★ ★ ★

Cooler heads are more concerned with what the machines will have to say. They also raise the question of whether the potential market for mechanical talking machines isn't rather small.

BOYLE

To many of us, a verbal robot falls pretty much in the same category as a talking horse, bird, dog or wife. When you've heard one, you've heard 'em all. The first feeling of astonishment quickly gives way to ennui as you discover their vocabulary and observations, on the whole, limited and repetitive.

For example, the world-record feathered conversationalist was probably "Sandy Pauls," a yellow, brown-beaked budgerigar which died in Middlesex, England, in 1959 at the age of 7.

This talkative bird—it will surprise few to learn that "Sandy" was a female — could speak more than 300 different words and recite 12 nursery rhymes.

★ ★ ★

A cursory glance at the latest edition of "Bartlett's Quotations," however, fails to find that "Sandy" ever said anything truly memorable. And how many days in a row would you like to be awakened by a brown-beaked budgerigar squawking "Mary had a little lamb," or "London Bridge is falling down?"

HOPELESS CAUSE

It is quite likely, of course, that science can come up with a metallic talking machine with a really large vocabulary, one capable of making original remarks and perhaps even able to give us sound advice.

But, again, who really needs it or wants it?

People have a built-in resistance against taking sound advice, and they resent cleverness and wit in others. Any electronic wisecracking robot that tried to be the life of a cocktail party would quickly be silenced by having sand flung in its gears, or gin poured down its vocal hinges.

★ ★ ★

There might be some value in a talking machine that would listen to what we had to say, but restricted its own conversation to phrases of agreement and encouragement.

★ ★ ★

Sample sentences:

"I feel exactly the same as you do about the whole matter, but I could never hope to say it as well."

"Why do you put up with it? Why don't you just walk away from it all—and let them stew in their own juices?"

"I couldn't agree with you more."

"No, I insist. You bought the last round. This one's on me."

"You're absolutely right. They are all crooks."

"Your trouble is—you're too good to them. But do they appreciate you? Not them!"

David Lawrence Says:

Senate Election System's Unfair

WASHINGTON—It's an ill wind that blows no good, and maybe the nationwide attention which the oddities of the senatorial campaign in Massachusetts have attracted will cause the American people to begin thinking about some system other than direct election for choosing United States senators.

LAWRENCE

For, while Edward M. Kennedy, who is 30 years old, and Edward J. McCormack Jr., who is 39 years old, are both promising young men, it seems strange that the citizens of Massachusetts who happen to belong to the Democratic party are not able to select for their nominee someone who has the maturity and experience and judgment needed for service in the United States Senate.

★ ★ ★

The authors of the Constitution felt that the United States Senate should have a high caliber of public servant, with two senators to represent each sovereign state. It was specified, therefore, that senators should be chosen by the majority vote of state legislatures.

For many decades in American history this system provided some of the ablest men in the country — men like Henry Clay, Daniel Webster, John C. Calhoun, Charles Sumner and Elihu Root.

But the state legislatures fell into disrepute because political bosses managed to manipulate the vote for their own purposes. So the Constitution was changed in 1913 to provide for the election of senators by popular vote.

DON'T BLAME SYSTEM

Public opinion inevitably would have corrected the abuses that arose. Laws could have been enacted to prevent the buying of votes in state legislatures by means of patronage and other devices. For the system of selecting by vote of the state legislatures was not itself at fault.

Direct election today means a costly and difficult kind of campaign for a would-be candidate —usually a primary and a general election. Unless someone can gain popularity by athletic prominence or by crooning or by a family relationship to someone in the public eye, the chances of winning a nomination or an election are not very good nowadays.

Some of the states have by law provided a state-convention system for nominating purposes, as against a primary-election system. But the fact remains that, when a candidate for the Senate has to go before all the voters of a state, he tends to move toward demagoguery and the kind of political maneuvering that will get votes for him from one populous section as against another with fewer voters.

An able lawyer, a devoted servant of the public in city or county or state affairs who has a good mind, but does not happen to possess a magnetic voice or television personality, is not likely to seek office by means of two statewide contests against opponents who might merely be better showmen or more clever debaters on television.

The founding fathers felt that senators should be elected by legislatures for six years so as to give them less cause for concern about the transient moods of the electorate.

But nowadays the necessities of a primary campaign and a final election contest induce many a senator to spend a good deal of time every year in his home state filling speaking engagements and putting in appearances at various functions. All this takes him away from important duties in Washington.

The method of electing senators by popular vote is, of course, the basic reason for the constant campaigning which so many senators are obliged to do, for back home there is always the threat of two or three potential opponents who have plenty of time to make the rounds and drum up political support for the next election.

Under the previous system, politics played a part, but members of a state legislature who picked a man not really qualified for the office were likely to find themselves in difficulties in their own election districts.

Selecting a senator used to be a major responsibility of the party in power at the state house, and men of unquestioned ability generally were chosen.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Nursing Moms Happy, So Are Their Babies

"Dear Dr. Brady: I have been reading your column for only a few months, but already have gained some insight into everyday health problems.

"I wish you would write another article urging more mothers to nurse their babies. I am 22, nursing my first baby, and hoping to nurse all I may have.

BRADY

"So many women just do not realize that nursing is a time and strength saver, contrary to popular belief. You save time by not having to make up formula, wash bottles, etc. It is so convenient to jump out of bed and feed my hungry boy as soon as he wakes, instead of having him howl while I stumble to the kitchen to heat a bottle and wake my poor tired husband.

"It saves your strength because it forces you to sit or lie down a number of times during the day and relax, when you would otherwise be busy with household work.

"Some mothers say they tried but were just not able and had an unhappy experience with nursing. I blame a good deal of that on the doctors. Some doctors think you have to start giving a milk supplement right away if the mother's milk has not come in.

★ ★ ★

"I know this is what my doctor advised, but I decided Mother Nature intended that my baby have only my milk, so when I came home from hospital I would only let him nurse, but no bottle, and soon I had more than enough milk, and now he weighs 15 pounds at three and a half months. He has always been healthy and happy.

★ ★ ★

"Some new mothers just don't want to bother to learn how to nurse. They miss one of life's finest experiences."

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. ——

Expectant mothers who want to be 100 per cent mothers should study "The Womanly Art of Breast Feeding," a booklet written by mothers for mothers, issued by La Leche League, 3332 Rose Street, Franklin Park, Illinois. Price $2.

At best, artificial feeding is an inadequate substitute for natural feeding. No matter what the formula, the bottle can never supply what the baby instinctively wants — warmth in the arms of its mother, food from her breast and security in the knowledge of her presence.

The correspondent who tells about nursing her baby says the baby at 3 months of age is happy. Apparently the baby's mother is happy too. Nursing mothers usually are.

Instead of complaining you should offer to organize a clean-up campaign. It would keep you and the boys busy. And if you are looking for more members, stop in at the gas station on the corner of Columbia and Baldwin, about 2 a.m. and you will find about ten recruits. Perhaps if they worked at their neighborhood club in the daytime they would go to bed at night. Youths look to adults for leadership and it is gladly received when offered. 'Tiger Management Should Wake Up'

With ten teams in the league the Tigers are ninth in fielding and tenth in hitting. That spells the very bottom. They only have 6 good players on the squad of 25 and only about 12 are even borderline major league caliber.

Management does nothing to improve their position. They get an outfielder like Farley who bats a puny .185 and that's a fair sample.

The Lions get new men and good ones and they have a fine, strong squad anyway.

'Secret' Reds Won't Dare Tell

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Another team of six so-called Russian farm experts, accompanied by a woman interpreter, are now in the United States for a month's tour of spying on American agriculture.

They don't call it spying, of course. Neither does the team of United States farm experts headed by Federal Extension Service Administrator E. T. York Jr., who will guide the Russians around.

EDSON

When an American U2 plane goes up to observe the Far East weather and gets lost in a storm over Sakhalin Island, the Russians call that spying and write nasty notes about it.

But when a Russian agricultural mission comes here to fathom the secrets of American farming, it becomes a cultural exchange. There is no doubt, however, that the Russians can take back far more valuable information than the U2 pilot got.

Every report that the Department of Agriculture has been able to get hold of on farm production in Russia, Red China, Czechoslovakia — and all the other satellites — including Cuba — reveals that the Communists have failed as farmers.

★ ★ ★

The situation is worst in Red China, where near-famine conditions prevail. No food production figures have been given out by the Red Chinese for four years. But the five-year chaos created by collectivation of farms in 1955 was multiplied by two years of drought and a population increase of 30 to 40 million. In the last three years Red China has had to contract for a half-billion dollars' worth of capitalist grain to survive.

Soviet farm production as reported by USDA's "Foreign Agriculture" is only somewhat better. Three years after launching its latest seven-year plan to increase farm production 70 per cent by 1965, Russia's increase last year was only 1 per cent.

Czechoslavakian agriculture under the Communist system has never regained its prewar level. The same story is told for the other satellites. The United States has made surplus foods available to Poland and Yugoslavia although they export some foodstuffs of their own.

★ ★ ★

One of the few amusing aspects of the recent Russian invasion of Cuba is that some of the Soviet "technicians" are farm experts who will show the Cubans how to raise sugar cane.

In the five-year pre-Castro period when Cuba sold most of its sugar to the United States and American companies owned and operated many of the mills, Cuba produced up to 6.4 million tons annually. This year, production was down 30 per cent to 4.5 million tons.

The main reason, according to "Foreign Agriculture" was the indifference of both skilled and common labor. The pay offered wasn't worth the workers' efforts. Those who did work could buy nothing with their meager wages. So there was a "crop failure." Next year it may be worse because replanting has been cut by a third.

There is much that the Russian farm mission under Minister of Agriculture Konstantin Georgiyevich Pysin and his predecessor Mikhail Aleksandrovick Ohlanskiy can learn in the United States if they keep their eyes and ears open.

They will not necessarily pick it up at the Beltsville, Md., experiment station or Roswell Garst's Iowa farm or the land grant colleges they will visit in Wisconsin, Iowa, Nebraska, Montana, California or the Seattle world's fair.

The secret weapon which the Russian farm spies can take back with them — if they dare report it to Khrushchev — is the capitalistic, free enterprise system of farming, bolstered by a completely cockeyed system of government support prices and subsidies which offer farmers an incentive to produce too much.

Ornithologist's 'Speed Trap' Times Birds on Wing

HUNTINGTON, N.Y. (AP)— In case you were wondering, the black-capped chickadee has a top speed of 17 miles per hour.

An ornithologist has learned this for certain by borrowing a trick from the police. He's been using radar.

Dr. Wesley E. Lanyon, resident director of Kalbeisch Station of the American Museum of Natural History in nearby Dix Hills, has been testing the same kind of radar used by police in clocking the speed of your car.

Lanyon aims his radar set at various birds on the reservation and times them over 2.4-second segments of flight while taking such factors as wind speed into consideration.

The birds don't know they're being clocked any more than unsuspecting motorists do, so they fly merrily along.

★ ★ ★

Lanyon also has taken his equipment to Florida, to the shore of Long Island Sound and to private hunting clubs, where he observed the speed of birds under fire, certain that they were doing their best.

STUDIES POPULATION

Lanyon is primarily concerned with long-term studies of animal populations. He was testing the radar to learn how feasible it would be to use such equipment for clocking bird speeds on a wide-scale basis.

"It's terrific," he said today, adding:

"Previously, people would time the flight of birds by pacing them with a car or using a stopwatch to see how long it would take them to fly a known distance. This certainly wasn't very scientific.

★ ★ ★

"The radar system can show a bird's top speed and how he slows down when he's about to perch.

"I'm hopeful this equipment will be placed in research programs throughout the nation."

The fastest bird clocked thus far is the ring-necked duck, a hot-rodder capable of up to 66 m.p.h.

SHIFTIER

Less speedy but more shifty is the black duck, which can do 55 m.p.h. and can dodge a hunter's aim by decelerating from this top speed to 44 m.p.h. in 1¼ seconds.

The wild turkey is pretty wild for a bird of its cumbersome appearance and can do 31 m.p.h. when it's really trying.

★ ★ ★

The herring gull can do 29 m.p.h., the blue jay 26 and the house finch 21, while the white-throated sparrow is tied with the black-capped chickadee for last place at a slowpoke 17.

The coot, by the way, belies his name. It travels at a safe and sane 37 m.p.h.

Senate Votes to Sell German Property

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate voted 47-24 yesterday to authorize the government to sell the General Aniline & Film Corp., seized in World War II as German-owned property.

The measure, identical with a bill passed by the House last month, was approved as an amendment to another House-passed bill providing for partial payment of war damage claims of American citizens.

General Aniline, with assets of $180 million or more, was the largest of the properties taken over by the Justice Department's Alien Property Office during World War II under the Trading with the Enemy Act.

Under present law, the government is barred from disposing of the company, a major producer of photo supplies, dyes and chemicals, because of a suit brought by a Swiss holding company, Interhandel, claiming it owns 93 per cent of the stock.

Leave Classes in Protest of Ban on Sports

FLINT (AP) — Some 200 students at rural Lakeville High School yesterday staged a two-hour demonstration in protest over the dropping of interscholastic sports and the curtailment of music and art programs.

The demonstrators walked out of their classes at 10 a.m., marched to the football field and sat in the bleachers.

Lakeville school board officials voted this year to abandon varsity sports and curtail other programs following the third straight defeat of a tax increase proposal.

★ ★ ★

School Supt. John E. Schindler and principal Lawrence P. Meeker addressed the students. Schindler said the board of education will hold a public meeting next Monday night to discuss the sports dropping.

Romney Can See Records; Swainson Repeats His Offer

LANSING (AP)—An offer to let George Romney have access to state records during the campaign has been reopened by Gov. Swainson, but it doesn't include anyone except the Republican gubernatorial candidate himself.

And especially, the governor says, it doesn't include members of a seven-man "investigating team" designated by Romney last week to review state financial records and question state employes.

Swainson announced the appointment of Zolton A. Ferency, his executive secretary, to represent him in handling requests from Romney for state records but added:

"I will not permit political fishing expeditions in state offices, and I will not permit harassment or political pressure on state employes by any political organization."

★ ★ ★

And in a reference to the fact that the seven-man Romney investigating team includes two GOP candidates, Swainson said he "did not offer to assist in the training of various administrative board candidates for the offices they seek."

L. William Seidman and Glenn Allen Jr., Republican candidates for auditor general and state treasurer respectively, were among those named by Romney to conduct a review of records and procedures in those two offices plus that of the state controller.

Swainson said his agreement amounts to "reinstatement" of a June 14 offer to open all state records to the Republican candidate for governor, an offer which he says was made in the interests of a high-level campaign but which he also says was "scorned" by Romney.

BLAST AT REPORT

The governor coupled his announcement with a blast at the first GOP "progress report" concerning a highway bridge on I-94 near St. Joseph as being "highly inaccurate and incomplete."

The day before Romney named his seven-man team, he appointed Harold Sawyer, a Grand Rapids attorney, and George Snyder, a Jackson engineer, to delve into highway department records on the bridge, the safety of which had been questioned by two GOP candidates for the legislature.

Sawyer and Snyder reported yesterday that their investigation thus far disclosed that faulty construction in the bridge may have been ignored so that it could be open to traffic shortly before the November 1960 gubernatorial election.

★ ★ ★

They charged that concrete box beams for the bridge were inspected at the manufacturing plant and found to be faulty but that planned action to replace them was forgotten in favor of simple repairs which would assure the highway's opening on schedule.

Rep. Powell's Travels Stirring Up Questions

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP) — If Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., spent any appropriated funds on his recent tour of Europe, he may run into difficulty trying to get reimbursement.

★ ★ ★

Powell, chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee, returned recently from a trip to Europe with two women members of the committee staff. His trip ostensibly was made to study the European Common Market and equal job opportunities for women.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for the House Administration Committee, through which vouchers dealing with expenditure of appropriated funds by traveling congressmen must pass, said Powell's committee has no authority to travel abroad at the taxpayers' expense.

Early in the present Congress, the House Rules Committee and the House itself approved the customary resolution authorizing Powell's committee to make studies and investigations of matters within its jurisdiction.

While equal pay for women is within the committee's area, matters stemming from the European Common Market lie in the jurisdiction of the House Ways and Means Committee.

'NO FOREIGN TRAVEL'

The resolution that gave Powell's committee investigatory authority confined its activities to the United States and any of its commonwealths or possessions. It did not authorize travel to foreign countries.

The Administration Committee spokesman said the committee cannot approve for payment any vouchers that Powell may submit covering expenses not paid for out of counterpart funds. Counterpart funds are foreign currencies owned by the United States and made available to traveling congressmen by the State Department.

★ ★ ★

The Administration Committee has no control over the spending of counterpart funds.

★ ★ ★

The Administration Committee has sent to all committee chairmen a notice that in the future more justification will be required before employment of special consultants on a contract or per diem basis is approved.

The action reportedly stemmed from complaints by some congressmen against employment by Powell's committee of Herbert Hill, labor secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The Washington NAACP office said Hill still was employed by the organization's New York office. Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, said Hill is being paid at the rate of $10,000 per year on a contract basis by Powell's committee.

To Deliver 1st Major Campaign Speech in 'Charlie's Home Town'

RENSSELAER, Ind. (AP) — Thousands of Republicans from Indiana and neighboring states began gathering in the home town of House Minority Leader Charles A. Halleck today to hear former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's first major 1962 campaign speech.

The ex-president was expected to call for election of a Republican-controlled House in the next Congress in his address at a rally climaxing "Charlie Halleck Day" festivities.

Halleck, Eisenhower's right-hand man in Congress in the last administration, would be in line for speaker of the House if the GOP should take over House control in the Nov. 6 elections.

Eisenhower's first scheduled public appearance here was a welcoming ceremony at the courthouse square. The former president was expected to make brief extemporaneous remarks.

Eisenhower was to help dedicate St. Joseph College's new Halleck Student Center and deliver another brief off-the-cuff talk.

OUTDOOR STAGE

His evening address was to be delivered from an outdoor stage unless rain forced moving the program into the college fieldhouse.

Eisenhower's schedule included an overnight stay at St. Joseph's College, a motorcade Friday morning to Kankakee, Ill., for a GOP breakfast and a return to Purdue University to board his plane for a flight to Scranton, Pa., and another campaign appearance.

Phony Driving Applicants Probed

LANSING (UPI) — The state says it is investigating evidence that illiterate and semi-literate persons paid for the privilege of obtaining falsified drivers' licenses in Port Huron after being turned down in Detroit.

Some 23 persons were named yesterday in warrants issued by Municipal Judge Walter W. Turton of Port Huron, charged with falsifying addresses to obtain the licenses, a misdemeanor.

★ ★ ★

Secretary of State James M. Hare said he had reason to believe an organized ring was responsible and estimated the number of persons involved might run as high as 200 or 300.

★ ★ ★

"It's certain that there are more than 23 persons involved in this," said Hare. "We're interested in finding out just who is behind it."

★ ★ ★

Hare said investigators are proceeding on the theory that the organized ring charged a fee to take the license applicants to Port Huron, where they gave phony Port Huron addresses to police.

He said he did not know how many falsified licenses actually have been issued since the operation began last April.

★ ★ ★

The investigation was launched after Port Huron police noticed increasing numbers of applicants who seemed to lack a familiarity with the city.

★ ★ ★

The secretary of state's office, double checking the names, discovered a number of Detroit residents who had applied for licenses in Port Huron after being rejected in Detroit for inability to pass tests concerning highway rules and regulations and sign recognition.

NOT THE FIRST

Hare said the operation was not the first of its kind. "These things turn up every couple of years," he said. "We have found in the past that organizations are sometimes behind them."

He said the only pattern among the license applicants is that they are persons of little or no education, or foreign-born persons who have little understanding of English and highway regulations.

Questioning of the persons named in the warrants thus far has turned up little evidence of a ring, Hare said. "Most of them just say they were told by somebody that they could get licenses in Port Huron."

★ ★ ★

He said a really unfortunate aspect was the fact that the secretary of state's office and the Detroit Board of Education have jointly conducted a special course aimed at teaching foreign-born and semi-literate persons enough to qualify them for drivers licenses.

★ ★ ★

"I would rather such people would take this course instead of paying an exhorbitant fee to some organized ring to obtain the license illegally," he said.

State College Asks for Scholarships

ALLENDALE (UPI)— A Grand Valley State College appeal for organizations to contribute scholarships is being circulated with a brochure outlining the school's program.

Vice President Philip W. Buchen said the appeal is being made so the many organizations in the eight counties to be served by GVSC can consider it in plans for their activities next year.

The college hopes to open next fall.

Annual tuition fees have been set at $90 per student per quarter, or $270 for three quarterly periods comprising the usual student year.

The college hopes each group seeking to participate in the scholarship program will contribute at least $270, said Buchen.

Swainson Raps the GOP on Public Welfare Payments

By The Associated Press

Gov. Swainson, speaking to a Detroit housing project audience, said yesterday public welfare payments should be sufficient to permit recipients to "live with decency and dignity."

The Democratic governor said in a campaign speech that Republicans in the legislature wanted benefits paid on a "sustenance and necessities" basis in defeating his efforts to increase state aid to municipal welfare funds.

Swainson made the speech to a civic group meeting at the Brewster housing project, situated in a Detroit area where many residents draw welfare payments.

Today Swainson pitched his vote-getting efforts in industrial Flint, scheduling auto factory gate appearances and a neighborhood rally tonight.

In Detroit, meanwhile, United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther, a Swainson supporter, apparently ruled himself out of campaign speaking.

★ ★ ★

Asked by a newsman if he planned to campaign for Swainson, Reuther said "my schedule won't permit campaign speeches."

The question was put to Reuther after his talk to a labor group in which he urged election of Democrats to Congress in order that working people's needs might be met.

PROMISES LEADERSHIP

Republican George Romney, rival of Swainson for the governorship in the Nov. 6 election, promised a leadership to Michigan which would prepare the state for an "explosive demand immediately ahead."

Romney told the Wyandotte Chamber of Commerce that Michigan will require more than a billion dollars in investments annually to create a required 80,000 to 100,000 new jobs every year.

He said "employers don't feel welcome in Michigan . . . they don't like our tax structure . . . they don't like the attitude of government." He promised a leadership to get rid of "this type of reputation' and attract new investment.

By 1970, Romney said, Michigan's labor force will have increased from its present 3 million to a total of 4 million.

He reiterated a program including streamlined government, tax reform, emphasis on scientific research, and more investment in colleges and universities.

★ ★ ★

He attacked the present executive setup in state government.

"The present organization chart of state agencies," Romney said, "looks like a 20-mule team harnessed at midnight by a drunken one-armed idiot."

He said he would reorganize the present 120 separate agencies and bureaus into not more than 20 principal departments.

Romney also said he would establish a state department of commerce and labor to correlate economic growth efforts and a space science institute both to give Michigan "full part" in world science and to attract new industry.

RAPS LEGISLATURE

Swainson, in his Detroit talk, rapped what he called the "GOP-dominated legislature." Most of his audience were mothers.

★ ★ ★

"The legislature," he said, "provides you with aid sufficient only to sustain life and provide necessaries. But I have fought for a different yardstick for all types of state welfare assistance—one that would allow people to live with decency and dignity."

Alvin Bentley, Republican candidate for congressman-at-large, told a Detroit Press Club audience that Michigan "can and will provide hundreds of thousands" of new jobs "under a sane Republican administration."

Bentley, Owosso industrialist, described himself as "conservative where economic and government money matters are concerned—with all matters affecting human rights, I am a liberal."

★ ★ ★

Neil Staebler, Bentley's Democratic opponent, discussed farm problems in a tour of Albion, Marshall, Battle Creek and Kalamazoo.

He said the solution to farmers' problems lies neither in strike action such as that of the National Farmers Organization in the Middle West or in the committee for economic development's proposal to reduce the number of farms.

★ ★ ★

He said the solution lies in support for President Kennedy's program which he said tries to get "more money into the hands of the farmers without increasing the cost to the consumers."

Bentley, answering questions of his Detroit Press Club audience, declared himself "100 per cent" in support of the repudiation of the John Birch Society by Romney and the Republican State Central Committee.

Profit Sharing Near in Mexico

Amendment to Allow Enforcement Expected to Get Quick OK

MEXICO CITY (AP) — President Adolfo Lopez Mateos is expected to give quick approval to a constitutional amendment empowering the government to force Mexican and foreign firms to share profits with Mexican workers.

Congress sent the amendment to the president last night following its ratification by a majority of the 29 state legislatures. Congress first unanimously approved it last winter.

The amendment authorizes a special government committee to decide whether a firm must share profits with employes, and if so how much.

Lopez Mateos, who pushed for the legislation in the last session of Congress, will name the special committee. It was uncertain how soon it would start to operate.

Business leaders have urged the government to let them take part in plans to set the legislation in motion.

"I can't get particularly alarmed about it," said McNeil Stringer Jr., president of the American Chamber of Commerce. "It all depends on how it's carried out."

The U.S. Commerce Department estimates U.S. business investment in Mexico at $822 million. Other foreign investments are estimated at $300 million.

★ ★ ★

The Central Employers Association of Mexico City has charged the measure "casts the shadow of a totalitarian state over Mexico." The Mexican Confederation of Workers said "a long-awaited dream is about to be realized."

Congressmen have been seeking enactment of the measure for more than 10 years.

2 Plunge 11 Stories as Scaffold Breaks

NEW YORK (AP)—Two brothers fell 11 stories to their deaths when a scaffold broke as they painted window frames of a new apartment house Wednesday.

The victims were Ludwig Sigus and his brother, Alfred, both in their 50s.

They were at work on a 16-story building at Sixth Avenue and West 55th Street, four blocks north of where four window washers were killed May 29 in a 21-story fall.

Editorial Cartoonist, Prize Winner, Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Edmund Duffy, 63, who won three Pulitzer Prizes while editorial cartoonist with the Baltimore Sun, died Wednesday night at his Manhattan home after a long illness.

Duffy joined the Sun in 1924 and remained with the newspaper until 1948. He won the Pulitzer Prize in 1930, 1933 and 1940.

★ ★ ★

After leaving the Sun, Duffy went to the Saturday Evening Post as editorial cartoonist. He joined the daily newspaper Newsday in Garden City, N.Y., in 1956, but his eyesight began to fail. In the past few years he did free lance work.

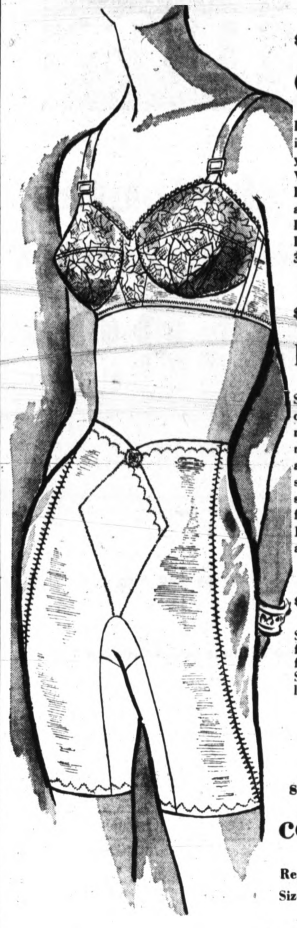

Duffy contributed drawings to the New York Herald Tribune Sunday Magazine sports section and New York Evening Post and illustrated stories for publishing houses.

Russ Schools Have Problems, Too

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

In Moscow, an angry parents leaps to his feet and demands to know why his son is being taught German instead of English.

★ ★ ★

The teacher replied that assignments to language studies were made by alphabet instead of by pupils' choice and she will try to find out why.

The incident was reported in a recent dispatch from Moscow and the author noted that, as an American and a parent, he saw certain similarities to parent-teacher meetings he had attended in Connecticut.

Just as in the United States, this is the start of a new school season for millions of children behind the Iron Curtain.

Radio Free Europe, which beams news of the free world to Communist satellite nations and also conducts a continuing study of events behind the curtain, has just released a survey of Communist educational methods and some of the headaches encountered by the planners.

Strong points seem to be seven to nine years of free, compulsory education, not only in the Soivet Union but in all the East European satellite states, with heavy emphasis on language as well as technical studies.

The survey notes: "Communist leaders learned a long while ago that to maintain a position of authority in a subjugated society it is necessary to pay special attention to education of the young.

"That is why today in the Soviet Union and the captive countries of Eastern Europe the role of education occupies a position of importance second only to party ideology.

"The importance of education is two-fold: The rising generation must be indoctrinated to fulfill its role in a Community society and it must provide the necessary number of technically skilled workers to try to match the progress of a free society."

PROPAGANDA

That also means that at every opportunity the Marxist-Leninist theme of supposed superiority over the free societies is hammered home in the classroom.

It has been quite a number of years since this writer sat as a student. It was just after World War I had made the world safe for democracy.

The threat of world communism was less than the size of a man's hand against the horizon. The freedoms were assured.

★ ★ ★

Well, times have changed. Lenin was willing to sacrifice a generation in order to fit the youth of Russia to the iron mold of his concept of the dictatorship of the proletariat—certainly a concept far less dramatic than man's attainment and stubborn hold upon his freedoms.

But the Communists, too, have their difficulties.

The more time spent on Marx and Lenin, the less time there is for science and languages. Parents complain of the work load on students who must spend one day a week in "practical work" in factory or field.

There are chronic teacher shortages. There also are deviations.

Poland quietly has dropped compulsory Marxism-Leninism from secondary schools. Religion still may be taught in Czechoslovakian and Hungarian schools.

Senate OKs Medal in Honor of Rayburn

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate passed and sent to the House yesterday a resolution authorizing the award of a gold medal honoring the late Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn "for services rendered to the people of the United States."

The joint resolution calls for the presentation of the medal to the Rayburn estate, which plans to display it in the Sam Rayburn Library at Bonham, Tex.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, Senate Democratic leader, called up the measure and obtained voice vote approval, explaining he wanted it passed in advance of a ceremony scheduled for Sunday at the Rayburn library.

Plan to Show Berlin Wall on Stamps Nixed

BERLIN (AP) — West German postal authorities and West Berlin's city government have turned down proposals to issue German stamps showing the Communist wall dividing this city.

Sen. Klaus Schuetz, who heads the city government's postal department, said letters or parcels sent to East Germany with such stamps would not be forwarded to East Germany.

Schuetz said Western stamp collectors had suggested stamps showing the wall to counter Communist injection of political issues into stamp designs.

Claimed to Be 115, Dies in Little Rock Hospital

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Robert Nicholls, who claimed to be a 115-year-old former slave, died Wednesday in a county hospital where he had been a patient since 1956.

Hospital authorities said Nicholls told them he was born in 1847.

Spring Lake Workers Vote to Stay on Strike

SPRING LAKE (AP) —Local 239 of Allied Industrial Workers (AFL-CIO) voted Wednesday to continue a strike which began Monday against Anderson-Bolling Manufacturing Co.

Three of seven grievances having to do with seniority remained unsettled at the time of the 125-19 vote Wednesday to continue the strike. Negotiations are under way.

Seeking Doctor After Abortion

Questioned by Police When Woman Dies, He Disappears

NEW YORK (AP)— Police today sought a Queens physician in whose office an abortion victim died Wednesday. The doctor was awaiting trial in an earlier abortion death.

Dr. Mandel Friedman, 53, a gynecologist, vanished Wednesday after he had been released from custody following extensive questioning. He failed to surrender to the Queens district attorney's office as scheduled.

★ ★ ★

A 13-state alarm sought his arrest for homicide.

Police said Charles Beck, 31, a Madison Avenue advertising executive, told authorities he accompanied Barbara Clark Covington, a Florida divorcee, to Friedman's office where she was to undergo an abortion for $1,000.

Police quoted him as saying:

"I loved her. I wanted to marry her. I did not want her to go through with this thing."

He said he waited in the anteroom for an hour, until Friedman came out and said she was dead, police reported.

★ ★ ★

Miss Covington, 35, was a daughter of a deceased Florida fruit packer and a sister of D. D. Covington Jr. of Dade City, Fla., a Democratic nominee for the Florida Senate.

Beck, according to police, said he agreed at first with the gynecologist's plan to attribute the death to a heart attack.

★ ★ ★

A funeral director who was called to remove the body made a routine report to the medical examiner's office. Detectives subsequently recognized Friedman's name as the defendant in the abortion death in January, 1961, of Vivian Grant. Miss Grant, 23, a book editor, died in Friedman's office.

An autopsy revealed Miss Covington also had died during an abortion, police said.

Quake Victim Gives Birth to 'Miss America'

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—"Miss America" was named yesterday amid the earthquake ruins of Iran.

A mother rescued from the debris gave that name to her healthy 6-pound 6-ounce baby born at the U.S. Army 8th Evacuation Field Hospital set up at Kazvin to care for quake victims.

★ ★ ★

The child's mother, who suffered a broken back, says her rescue and the safe delivery of her baby were miracles.

Governor to Be Advised of Blue Cross Dispute

LANSING (AP) — State Insurance Commissioner Sherwood Colburn says he plans to consult with Gov. Swainson before meeting again with Blue Cross-Blue Shield, which is asking approval of a revised plan to provide prepaid medical care for senior citizens.

★ ★ ★

Colburn said he plans to meet again Monday with Blue Cross to discuss details of the revised plan, originally submitted Aug. 16.

Colburn said he was concerned because the new plan proposes a charge of $359.40 a year per couple. He said Blue Cross estimated it would sell the plan to between 2,000 and 5,000 senior citizens.

Meanwhile, Colburn said, Blue Cross does not plan to accept any more enrollments in a former plan that cost $203 a couple.

★ ★ ★

"New entries have no choice but the new plan," he said. "I thought the governor should be advised on this. It would affect some 600,000 senior citizens in the state."

★ ★ ★

Asked if he would be influenced by the governor, Colburn said the final decision would be his, as insurance commissioner.

Swainson has said the proposed Blue Cross plan for oldsters indicated the need for a different kind of coverage. Swainson has been in favor of a medical care plan for the aged based on social security, as proposed by President Kennedy.

William S. McNary, Blue Cross executive vice president, met with Colburn yesterday. He said he felt the revised plan would meet objections previously raised by Colburn.

★ ★ ★

The revised contract provides up to 70 days of hospital care, up to 138 days of skilled nursing home benefits and home nursing benefits.

★ ★ ★

McNary said the program also includes the Blue Shield M75 medical-surgical benefits and coverage for 13 weekly doctor visits for nursing home patients.

Under the plan, participating doctors would take Blue Shield benefits as full payment for families with annual incomes up to $4,000.

Annual Military Parade Canceled in Formosa

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The cabinet decided today not to hold this year the big military parade which Chinese Nationalist forces usually stage on Oct. 10, the republic's National Day.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman said the decision was made because of the Chinese Communist military build-up on the mainland coast opposite Formosa which, he said, could be the prelude to action.

H-H-S BUDGET BUYS

THIS IS WHAT AN H-H-S BUDGET BUY MEANS TO YOU . . .

When we introduced our Budget Buys, we knew they'd enjoy an enthusiastic reception — but we never dreamed the response would be so tremendous! We set out to prove that the test of a value is more than just price—it's what you get for your dollar that proves a value. The reception to this idea was immediate. Here is exactly what a H-H-S Budget Buy means:

- it means low prices; lower than we normally carry.
- it means good quality; better than you expect at the price.
- it means top value—value that just can't be surpassed.
- it means satisfaction in fit, in wear, in every respect.
- it means fresh, new, up-to-date apparel in full selections.
- it means excellent tailoring, with no charge for alterations.

And it means you'll find it at a store you know and trust—where you can be sure of quality, of origin, of satisfaction after your purchase. It means full selections; proper fit by trained clothing experts; courteous attention. LOOK AT THE BUDGET BUYS BELOW. SHOP THEM, COMPARE THEM, SEE IF YOU CAN MATCH THEM—AND REMEMBER: YOU CAN CHARGE THEM, TOO!

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY ONLY!

PURE-WOOL WORSTED 2-TROUSER SUITS

BUDGET BUY PRICED . . . 2 DAYS ONLY

Match this for value! We specified exactly how these suits were to be made—and we bought them in extraordinarily large quantities, enabling us to sell them at much less than you'd expect to pay for suits of this quality. You'll see the value reflected in the fabrics: fine worsteds and long-wearing reverse twists, in medium and deep shades, in muted stripes and neat herringbones, in subdued new patterns. You'll see it in the workmanship: the cutting, stitching, finishing. And you'll continue to see it in the added wear and lasting appearance built into these suits. See them in 3-button models with two-pair of pleated trousers, some permanently-creased and in a wide size range.

If You Have $5,000 for New Car, Walk In and Choose

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT—The man who has an extra $4,000 or $5,000 for a car all his own is being given a wider choice for 1963 by American auto manufacturers than at any time in recent years.

The Stutz Bearcat, the Cord and the Auburn—these were personal cars. But the trend faded.

The young men of the 1920s and the 1930s grew older, gained family responsibilities and had to settle for family cars, or even station wagons.

Now, young or old, if you've got the money the choice is here.

The leader in this particular resurgence has been Ford's Thunderbird, introduced in the fall of 1954. Ford sold 2,534 T-birds that year; $1,033 of them last year.

But the 'bird isn't flying alone. General Motors, Chrysler and now Studebaker all will offer personal cars in the luxury bracket for 1963.

BUYER HAS CHOICE

And the buyer will have a choice of performance or luxury—or both.

★ ★ ★

Chevrolet has redesigned its Corvette for the first time since 1953 and will offer a sport coupe along with the convertible.

★ ★ ★

While the Thunderbird moved into the volume class, Corvette stayed with limited production and sought to establish a sports car image.

By now the Corvette is a recognized competition sports car, with a 360-horsepower engine and fuel injection. But the new sports coupe also offers power steering, power brakes and an automatic transmission.

Studebaker will be aiming directly at the Corvette market with its new Avanti, which has been timed in excess of 170 miles per hour with its optional, supercharged engine.

LIKE FEEL OF SPEED

"Not everybody wants to drive that fast," admits Studebaker President Sherwood Egbert, "but everyone likes the feel of a winner."

The Avanti was designed for road use, as well as speed, and has all of the luxury touches.

More direct Thunderbird competition is expected to come from the General Motors triple Threat — Buick Riviera, Oldsmobile Starfire and Pontiac Grand Prix. And later this year Chrysler will introduce its 300J.

The Riviera is all new for 1963 and is alone with separate wheelbase size and exterior styling. The Starfire and Grand Prix, both new models in 1962, are variations of the standard Olds and Pontiac.

LUXURIOUS!

The Riviera will push luxury at the start, later will add a hot big engine and four speed manual transmission.

★ ★ ★

The Thunderbird has made an all-out bid for luxury and has never tried to pass itself off as a hot car. In some circles it is known as the "old man's sports car." It is the only Ford division car without a stick shift.

Oldsmobile sold 42,000 Starfires in the 1962 model year and general manager Jack Wolfram, asked about what he was doing to meet the competition of the T-Bird and Riviera, replied, "I think the question should be, 'What are they doing to answer us?'"

Prices have not been announced. Last year the Starfire sold for $4,131 in the hardtop model and $4,744 as a convertible.

The Thunderbird ranged from $4,321 to $5,439 for the fancy two-passenger model. There is no reason to expect the figures to be less for 1963.

Waldron Gets Dressed Up

A familiar downtown Pontiac landmark for 35 years, The Waldron Hotel is becoming a little less "familiar" every day — at least on the inside.

Nearly $200,000 has been put into modernizing physical as well as operational facets of the hotel at 36 E. Pike St., by its new owners, Simone Management Co. of Detroit.

"The Waldron is now an establishment with motel rules and hotel advantages," said Arman Simone, president of the firm.

"Naturally, one of our basic jobs is to remodel the hotel to make it an attractive place to stay," he noted, "but our ultimate aim is to eliminate all the extra charges common to hotel accommodations.

"We want to make the customer's total bill the one he pays when he registers."

The two goals are interrelated.

Ample free parking has been provided in a lot adjacent to the hotel, eliminating the need to pay a doorman for customers' cars.

A soft drink vending machine has been placed in the third floor lobby along with a free ice machine, thus doing away with the usual cost of room service.

"Room service will be available, but only on request," according to Donald H. Paffenroth, manager. "Actually, there isn't much need for it anymore with the new self-serve items."

Even the elevator operator has been replaced by an automatic, electric-eye elevator.

$1,500 PER ROOM

Twenty rooms — one wing — have been completely renovated, redecorated and furnished at an average cost of about $1,500 per room.

The job is complete with attractive contemporary furniture, carpeting and decorating all blended into a compatible interior scheme. Each room has air conditioning and television.

"We're taking a wing at a time," Paffenroth explained, "trying to carry one color scheme through each wing, giving it an identity of its own."

Some 20 rooms, formerly single units adjoining a common bath, are being remodeled as 10 apartment units with living room, bath, bedroom and kitchen facilities.

One is already completed and is being used as a model for viewing by prospective tenants.

The interior design here, too, indicates much thought has been placed in aesthetics as well as practical needs.

A VIP SUITE

A VIP suite, larger and a little more plush than the apartment units, has also been completed. It is designed for honeymooners and for the executive who needs space for business meetings in tasteful surroundings.

On the main floor, vast changes are readily apparent in the lobby, Coach Room and Tap Room. All three have been completely refurnished and redecorated in a black walnut theme.

A paneled fireplace highlights the lobby, with plush carpeting in the lounging area and vinyl tile in the registration area.

The Tap Room was formerly the Waldron Bar. Aside from new furnishings, work is now under way to add to it a piano bar in the office space next door, formerly occupied by Pontiac Federal Coop Credit Union.

A portion of the wall separating the two areas will be removed, Leonard Silver, building engineer, is now working on "an unusual interior design" for the piano bar.

The Coach Room, formerly the Waldron Coffee Shop, is similarly designed featuring black walnut ceiling beams, new draperies, furniture and carpeting.

The management is planning a family style dinner with free gifts for children and entertainment Sept. 16.

★ ★ ★

Looking to the future, Simone is both cautious and confident.

"What we need now," he said, "is public acceptance. I think if people take the time to come in and see what we've done, they'll like it and recommend us.

"With public support, we're prepared to go ahead with any further improvements the people of Pontiac desire."

Simone added that the management had even gone so far as to consider the possibility in the future of renovating the basement portion of the big building for athletic rooms, a swimming pool and steam baths.

BIG DIFFEDENCE — This is a portion of one of the newly renovated rooms at the Waldron Hotel. Completely furnished with new, contemporary furniture, it is neat and uncluttered. From the new carpeting to the ceiling, the color design is a subtle mixture of blues. New owners are spending an average of $1,500 per room in a major renovation program.

NEW LOBBY — The new lobby of the Waldron Hotel is a far cry from its former self. Interior designers have remodeled the lobby, blending new contemporary furnishings with the Victorian-style ceiling. The ceiling has been accentuated with a new color scheme. A striking, modern paneled fireplace has been added and the lobby has been carpeted, as part of a $200,000 renovation program.

A PASSING ART? — The real art of fine stone-cutting is slowly fading, due to lower-cost commercial stone, according to Clare Moshier, of Auburn Heights. He is helping keep his family heritage alive by teaching his three sons and nephew how to crack, shape and set beautifully-colored cut stones. From left is son James, 21, a nephew Roger Mead, 19, sons Robert and Moshier. Another son, Donald, 26 could not be present for the photograph.

Sons Follow Tradition

Rock Yields Beauty

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

Rugged, soft-spoken Clare Moshier of 2101 Auburn Road and his three muscular sons are only a stone's throw away from each other from morning until night.

Moshier is handing down to his boys the family tradition of fine stonecutting.

He is eaching them form, color and ingenuity in placing cut stones artistically.

For more than 50 years, Moshier's father, and his father before him, collected rocks in fields and along roadways for good, solid house foundations. In those days, most of the deep wells with a surface hand pump were lined with cut stone, and business was good.

From the time Moshier's sons, Donald, 26, Robert 22 and James 21, were big enough to hold a hammer, they have been chipping away at hard rocks that were swept down from Canada by a glacier millions of years ago.

★ ★ ★

Like their ancestors, the three men and their father cruise around on back country roads and through fields in search of huge stones.

If a particularly large boulder is sighted for a certain job, the senior Moshier finds the flattest side and whacks it open on the spot for easier transporting. Small stones are rarely used.

Rather old-fashioned, crude tools are still used by the men as in the days of yore.

★ ★ ★

After Moshier cracks open a stone with a 12-pound breaking hammer, his sons take the pieces and start chipping away — working on what looks like a 50-gallon oil drum cut in half and filled with sand.

FROM BOTTOM UP

They can form half moons, perfect squares, stars, triangles or scallops if necessary. They work from the bottom up, shaping the contour of the next stone to fit around the one before it.

A well-kept secret process for making the joints between the stones hair-line thin is known only to the family, according to Moshier.

"Most stone cutters just measure between the stones with a ruler, then fill the openings with cement," he said.

★ ★ ★

He explained that there is always somewhat of a thrill when a rock is first burst open because "you never know what you'll find inside."

They often come across perfect agates, crosses, seashells or various other familiar forms.

The Moshiers have just finished the 35-foot-lond front wall of the new L. W. Criger home at 5500 Waldon Road, Independence Township. Pastel-colored stones of every shade plus satiny-black glisten in the sunlight.

To lend drama to the work, a new type of coating was sprayed on, making the wall look as if fresh rain had just fallen over the stone.

At night, concealed lights will reflect on the wall, adding even more sparkle.

The stone-cutting father and his sons will continue to "make the chips fly," as long as they live, and the art probably will be passed on to the next generation.

Bus Patronage Rises a Little

August Figure Climbs Over Year Ago but Down From July

Bus patronage in Pontiac in August showed a slight improvement over the same month a year ago, but dropped 2,085 below the July figure.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Transit Corp. buses carried 60,349 passengers last month, compared to 59,848 for August 1961, according to Glen Crawford, manager.

The July total this year was 62,434 passengers.

While patronage this year has consistently remained above last year's monthly totals, summer patronage is still below the 1960 rate. More than 64,000 patrons rode buses in August two years ago.

Corp. officials expect a big jump in patronage in September as schools are back in session. Student bus riders should result in a total passenger increase of 10,000.

★ ★ ★

Buses drove 41,321 miles and used 6,760 gallons of gasoline in August.

WASHINGTON (AP)— The Senate has confirmed these Michigan postmaster nominations by President Kennedy; Alvin R. Wiler, Bronson; Mary E. Kurrle, Corunna; Gerald E. Nopola, Covington.

Space Legalities Stymie U.N. Body

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)— Hope faded today for agreement on touchy legal questions confronting the 28-nation U.N. committee on peaceful uses of outer space.

The committee convened here Monday to prepare a report to the U.N. General Assembly on the work accomplished by experts in Geneva during the summer. The assembly opens Tuesday.

Agreement was reached on reports of the scientific and technical subcomittees in Geneva which recommended among other things the establishment of an international sounding (test) rocket base on the geomagnetic equator under U.N. sponsorship.

But harsh east-west debate flared in the committee over the legal aspects of outer space.

Platon D. Morozov, the Soviet delegate, accused the United States of creating a menace to astronauts by causing a new radiation belt with its July 9 high altitude tests in the Pacific.

U.S. delegate Francis T. P. Plimpton said the Soviet Union conducted a high altitude test within the last year and kept it secret from the rest of the world. Morozov denied it.

The Soviet Union and the United States submitted rival resolutions to the committee setting forth their positions on the legal questions.

★ ★ ★

The Soviet Union wants the General Assembly to adopt a declaration of basic principles governing activities of states in the exploration and use of outer space, and to convene an international conference to adopt a treaty on rescue of astronauts and spaceships making emergency landings.

Wagner Names His Choice

Backs Morganthau as Democratic Governor Candidate in N. Y.

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor Robert F. Wagner, confirming what has been common political gossip for a month, has named Robert M. Morgenthau as his choice for the Democratic nomination for governor.

"I am for him," Wagner said Wednesday, "but I hasten to emphasize that this is an open convention."

★ ★ ★

Within two hours of the announcement by the leader of New York Democrats, former U.S. Sen. Herbert H. Lehman also endorsed Morgenthau, his great-nephew.

Both Wagner and Lehman declared that they spoke only as individual delegates to the state convention in Syracuse at which the candidate will be picked next week to oppose Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Opposing Morgenthau for the nomination are Queens Dist. Atty. Frank D. O'Connor, Rep. Samuel S. Stratton of Schenectady, and industrialist Howard J. Samuels of Canandaigua. All three promised Morgenthau a floor fight.

★ ★ ★

Wagner termed Morgenthau, son of Franklin D. Roosevelt's secretary of the Treasury, Henry Morgenthau Jr., a "refreshing contrast" to Rockefeller.

"Although my mind has been made up for some days," Wagner said, "I have not exerted the pressure of my position in his behalf."

Busy Gal Ends Year at MSU

EAST LANSING (AP) — After one complete year at Michigan State University, Miss America of 1961:

—Successfully completed two years of college work,

—Compiled an "A-minus" average while taking the extraordinary amount of classwork,

—Is "not quite engaged." (She's wearing a fraternity pin).

Nancy Anne Fleming, 20, of Montague, has 92 credit hours after four quarters at MSU, exactly the correct amount to admit her to the junior class.

The average student takes 15 to 16 hours each quarter. But Nancy Anne took 25 in the fall, 25 in the winter, 19 in the spring and 23 in the summer — and she racked up a 3.75 grade average doing it. (Four points for an "A," three for a "B," etc.)

She achieved the distinction of having an official all-A record in the spring term.

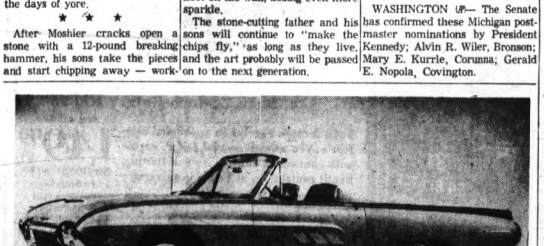

After toying with the idea of carrying a dual major, Nancy Anne decided to major in general communication arts, with three specialty fields; television, social sciences and home economics.

The fraternity pin she's wearing belongs to Phil Johnson, 21, of East Lansing. He's a senior majoring in Divisional Sociology.

Summer Library Plan Promises to Be Annual

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — The success of a first year summer library program at the Dublin School will probably make it an annual event, a school official said today.

The Library Committee of the Parent-Teacher Association has reported to the school board that during the six-week program 1,650 books were circulated and that 260 students participated.

TWO IN ONE — A tonneau cover over the entire rear portion of the passenger compartment transforms the four-seat Thunderbird sports roadster into a two-seater. The roadster features head rests, wire spoke wheels and an assist bar for passenger convenience.

Models on Display Sept. 28

2,500 Changes for '63 Thunderbird

With 2,500 engineering and design changes, Thunderbird for 1963 is being hailed this year as the most changed car in the new Ford Division stable.

Most of the changes are inside the car.

Under the hood, 1963 owners will have the option of a new engine with six-Venturi carburetion introduced in the middle of the last model year, but not available at new-model introduction time in 1962.

Thunderbird underwent its major changes in looks last year when it introduced two new models which again will be featured this year. They are a roadster and a vinyl-covered hardtop Landau.

The regular hardtop and convertible again will be offered.

The four Thunderbird models will be shown in Ford dealerships beginning Sept. 28, according to Lee Iacocca, Ford Motor Co. vice president and division general manager.

AREA DEALERS

Area dealers include John McAuliffe Ford, 630 Oakland Ave.; Jerome Ferguson, Inc., of 215 Main St., Rochester, and Beattie Ford Motor Sales, Inc., of 5806 Dixie Highway, Waterford Township.

★ ★ ★

Styling retains its "traditional, classic" look — with a sculptured line added at the tip of the front fender and flowing into the door surface.

Last year's square-block design grille gives place to a new vertical-bar grille, intended to add to the flow of cars lines.

The same 390-cubic-inch, four-Venturi engine again is standard. However, the optional engine this year will be the 390-six-Venturi engine.

Last year's optional power plant was a Four-Venturi, 390-cubic-inch with a torque of 427 at 3,600 r.p.m. The new option records a torque of 430 at 3,200 r.p.m.

Its horsepower is rated at 340 at 5,000 r.p.m. comparing with the standard engine's 300 horsepower at 4,600 r.p.m.

Features for comfort and convenience include 100,000-mile chassis lubrication; a new, quieter, long-life exhaust system; new hydraulically powered windshield wiper motor; new alternator instead of a generator; new windshield molding to reduce wind noise, and a new circuit breaker built into power windows to cut out during stalled overload conditions.

Red Armor Rumbles in West as Berlin Deadline Nears

BERLIN (AP) — Soviet armored cars drove into West Berlin again today to change the guard at the Russian War Memorial despite pressure from the Western Allies for a switch to buses.

The British halted them long enough for an interpreter to give a message to the Russian commander.

Informed sources said the British, in concert with the United States and France, had earlier given the Russians a Saturday deadline to stop driving armored cars to the memorial, which lies in the British sector close to the Brandenburg Gate border of the divided city.

The British are believed to hope that the Soviets will comply with the request before the deadline expires.

★ ★ ★

The three armored personnel carriers were stopped today as they left the memorial area which is tightly closed to the public.

Reporters and spectators were kept some 150 yards away from the entrance by British military police.

British headquarters in Berlin refused comment and would not say what the Russians were told.

But the message was believed to be connected with the request of the Western Allies that the Soviets stop bringing their armored cars into West Berlin.

The Soviet guard commander, standing upright in the leading car with the steel roof open, shook his head several times and pounded his hand on the armor. He bent down at times and appeared arguing with the British interpreter.

★ ★ ★

After about five minutes, the Russian withdrew inside his nine-ton, six-wheel armored car. Two minutes later, the cars were on their way to Sandkrug Bridge.

This is the crossing through which the Soviets have entered West Berlin since the Western Allies told them they should not come through U.S. Checkpoint Charlie any longer.

ALL WEATHER SPORT — Something new has been added to the classic Austin Healey 3000 sports car for 1963. The British Motor Corp. product now comes equipped with a convertible top of vinyl-treated fabric that folds back behind the occasional rear seats. The new model, now on display in Automobile Import Co. showrooms at 211 S. Saginaw St., also features a new wrap-around windshield, improved suspension system for smoother cornering, and a quick-change four-speed gear box.

6 Million Young Trees Offered to Landowners

LANSING (AP) — More than six million young trees now are on sale to landowners under a new system under which stock may be ordered for shipment this fall or next spring, reports the State Conservation Department.

In the past, orders have been accepted only for the immediate planting season. The seedlings and transplants available include red pine, white pine, jack pine, white spruce, Austrian pine and Norway spruce.

High Court Justice Has Personal Convictions, Too

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON—Can a Supreme Court justice be unprejudiced? That's a nice ideal but it's hardly human.

The ideal was expressed again this week by Arthur J .Goldberg, former secretary of labor who was named to the court by President Kennedy and awaits Senate approval.

He told a Senate committee: "I would regard it as my first task as a justice to be on guard lest my prejudices and predilections are erected into legal principles."

Goldberg had been a labor lawyer most of his life but severed all connections with unions even to the point of declining a pension when he became secretary.

A justice faces "no more serious task" than to put aside personal views, even those felt deeply or expressed strongly in the past, he said.

HE'S STILL HUMAN

But a justice, being a human being, must have toward life and living a number of definite views which are the product of his parental background, environment, education, association and experience.

Charles G. Haines, professor of political science at the University of California, wrote 40 years ago in the Illinois Law Review:

"Free as the court has generally been from sectional influence and partisanship, like all judicial tribunals it has been subject at times to human interests and personal considerations from which it is not possible for judges, however it might be desired, to be entirely removed."

★ ★ ★

Presidents, for instance, don't pick justices without knowing something of their views. To do otherwise might mean picking a man who, once on the bench, would wreck their programs.

★ ★ ★

Presidents Washington and Adams picked none but fellow-Federalists as justices. Presidents Taft and Theodore Roosevelt looked to appoint men whose views were "right," meaning the same as their own.

Roosevelt is a classic example of presidential frustration in this field. He was greatly miffed when after appointing Oliver Wendell Holmes, the justice disappointed Roosevelt with his vote on an antitrust case.

THREE PATHS

Heines sketched out three directions for a justice to take:

The mechanical way—Haines called it a "judicial slot machine"—under which a justice is not supposed to be affected by a particular circumstance but decides entirely on legal principles.

★ ★ ★

The free legal decision way—in which a justice humanizes himself by using some discretion in applying the law. To put it another way: he is not entirely bound by legalisms.

The psychological or human way—which means no justice can entirely divest himself of views and attitudes accumulated over a lifetime.

★ ★ ★

The mechanical theory was propounded by Justice David J. Brewer, who died in 1910, and Chief Justice Roger Brooke Taney who died in 1864.

★ ★ ★

Brewer thought the "meaning" of the Constitution "does not alter." The only trouble with that is that each justice, after all, must decide for himself what the Constitution means.

DRED SCOTT

Taney said the Constitution had the same meaning in his day as it had from the beginning. Because he tried to argue that way he turned out the most infamous decision in American history.

This was the case of Dred Scott, a Negro slave, in 1857. His freedom was at stake. The court ruled against him with this reasoning:

★ ★ ★

That neither a slave nor his descendants are citizens under the Constitution and therefore are not entitled to the protections and benefits of citizens. This decision enlarged slavery and helped bring on the Civil War.

★ ★ ★

The verdict, 7-2 against Scott, had interesting overtones. Five of the seven—including Taney—who voted against Scott were Southerners and slave holders.

★ ★ ★

It's stretching the imagination to think they were not influenced by their background or way of life.

★ ★ ★

In 1937 the court, under President Franklin Roosevelt's prodding, began to agree the government has a responsibility for the general welfare. This has become accepted as a way of American life.

Can you imagine a justice being chosen today who thought otherwise?

'U.S. Directed Nationalist U2'

Red Chinese Claim Captured Pilot Told of Arrangement

TOKYO (UPI) — A Nationalist Chinese pilot has told his Communist captors that American military personnel did everything but fly Nationalist China's U2s and other reconnaissance planes over the mainland, according to the New China News Agency.

"All the harassing missions over the mainland conducted by all types of U.S-made reconnaissance planes . . . were organized and directed by personnel of the U.S. 13th Task Air Force stationed in Taiwan," the Communist news agency quoted the Nationalist officer as saying.

American officials in Washington have denied these charges.

NCNA identified the officer as commander and acting operations chief of the fourth squadron of the sixth group of the fifth wing" of the Nationalist Air Force.

Wu, New China said in a broadcast monitored here, "was shot down by the Chinese people's liberation Army on Aug. 2, last year, while on a reconnaissance mission over coastal Fukien Province in a RF 101 plane."

He was quoted as saying that the U2 planes Nationalist China purchased from the United States (Lockheed Aircraft Corp.) in 1960 were based at Formosa's Taoyuan Air Base, a few miles southwest of Taipei.

Bank Minus $9,000 Used for Education

DETROIT (UPI) — Mrs. Marie Robertson, 42, pleaded guilty Wednesday to misapplication of more than $9,000 from the Bank of the Commonwealth.

She said she used the money to put one of her children through college.

Mrs. Robertson, a teller at a bank branch for five years was released on bond pending an investigation by probation officers.

Jones Busy Plugging His Latest Book on War

By BOB CONSIDINE

People . . . Places . . . Things . . .

James Jones, who has another towering best-seller in "The Thin Red Line," was around New York lately plugging the book on TV, radio and in Macy's window.

We asked our friend, author of "From Here to Eternity," what the new one had that made it different.

"Written better, for one thing," he said, as detached as if he were speaking of a contemporary novelist. "And something else, we've found.

"There isn't a dame in the book, but the mail we've been getting so far has come from dolls, young ones, too. They write such things as 'I don't like war stories but after reading this one I understand for the first time in my life how it must feel to be a man, and in battle.'"

"Now that Hemingway is gone who is the best writer in the country today?" we asked Jim.

He thought for a good 10 seconds, his brow furrowed with the intensity of the search.

"Me," he then said, and there wasn't a trace of vanity in his word.

From Vision, a weekly analysis of Latin American affairs:

"President Kennedy's announced policy of 'close surveillance' of the worsening Cuban situation will not for long appease critics, either in government ranks or the public at large. There are increasing signs that the Castro problem will become a major political issue in the fall election campaign unless the administration can blunt the issue with some form of action.

"Much of the current dissatisfaction stems from apparent fint picking over peripheral issues—whether the massive Soviet arms build-up is defensive or offensive, and whether the arriving Russians are technicians or soldiers.

"To most Americans, a cannon is a cannon and a Russian is a Russian — and neither belongs in the Caribbean.

"It is completely unrealistic to think that Fidel Castro plans any military adventure beyond his own borders. The arms build-up can only be to protect the Havana regime from the wrath of its people and from the threat of U.S. action.

". . . Cuban uniformed troops now number well over 300,000 men, backed by about 75 MIG jet fighters, 200 heavy and medium tanks, 2,000 artillery and antiaircraft guns, and an undisclosed number of rockets."

Mel Durslag reports that the promoters of the Patterson-Liston fight have requested an Internal Revenue Service ruling on their plan to put $1.7 million in the deepfreeze as the champion's, a share of what will be a colossal closed-circuit TV gate. He would pay taxes (less varied deductions) on a mythical $100,000 a year income over the next 17 years, but not touch the nest egg or draw against it.

It would balloon with interest over the years and, at age 44, the one-time juvenile delinquent would receive the whole bundle.

If Patterson is forced to accept the TV money immediately (he gets 55 per cent of the gross sale of an estimated 1.35 million seats) the man with the whiskers will clobber him for about 90 cents out of every buck.

A dilemma, to be sure, but one which almost any other man in the land would be happy to shoulder.

Sombre scene on tap at U.N. next Monday, first anniversary of the death of Dag Hammarskjold. U Thant will officiate as a plaque is unveiled. Upon it are these words:

★ ★ ★

"In memory of Dag Hammarskjold, secretary general of the United Nations, 1953-1962, and to those who with him lost their lives at Ndola in September of 1961, in quest of peace in the Congo."

Relatives of the victims will attend.

Later in the day the U.N. Correspondents Association, headed by Pierre J. Huss of Hearst Headline Service, will bestow on Patrick Uriesi, a Nigerian newsman, the first Hammarskjold scholarship. The $2,800 grant, provided in this case by the Toronto Globe and Mail, gives the African a year's study in the Columbia University School of Journalism.

There is a bonus, too. Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt has provided $1,500 to enable Uriesi to tour the United States.

Believes in Being Early for Speech by Kennedy

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Russell L. John, 51, of New Waverly, Tex., wanted to make sure he found a good seat for President Kennedy's speech yesterday.

He arrived at Rice Stadium at 2:15 a.m. — almost eight hours before the talk.

Foreign workers employed in Switzerland totaled 550,000 in 1961.

Newspaper Ad Push Slated by Admiral

CHICAGO — A heavy fall newspaper advertising campaign to promote color television in 166 markets was announced today by Charles S. Grill, advertising manager, Admiral Sales Corp.

Beginning with a full-page ad during the week of Sept. 24, Admiral will continue with a series of 10 half-page dealer signature ads throughout the important fall sales period.

Grill said that the newspaper campaign was planned to emphasize the company's new line of color television receivers, but added that black and white TV sets also would be featured by the local distributors.

State Parties Reduced to Three on Ballot

LANSING (AP) — Only three political parties—the smallest number since 1956—will appear on the ballot in the Nov. 6 election, Secretary of State James M. Hare reported yesterday.

The Socialist Labor Party, a fixture on the Michigan ballot since the early 1900's, was the only third party to nominate candidates for statewide office this year.

LAUNCHES HIS DRIVE—Richard M. Nixon shakes hands with some of the people who watch him launch his fall campaign for governor of California yesterday at the Los Angeles County Fairgrounds in Pomona. Nixon chose Pomona as the starting point for the campaign because it was there he began his political career in 1946 with a successful race for Congress. AP Photofax

Nixon Fighting Hard but 'Clean,' He Says

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Richard Nixon came out slugging in launching his fall campaign for governor.

"In order to win," he said, "you have to fight hard and I'm going to fight hard."

He added, "I'm going to fight clean."

★ ★ ★

Nixon sounded a militant note in kickoff speeches Wednesday at Pomona, San Diego, Sacramento and Oakland that brought the anti-communism issue to the forefront of the torrid gubernatorial race.

Under Democratic Edmund G. Brown, he said California ranks first in crime, first in spending and first in taxes. He said, Brown has failed to push through a single anticommunism measure.

"When I get to Sacramento, you'll see the biggest housecleaning since the days of Hiram Johnson," the state's Republican reform governor who served from 1911 to 1915," Nixon said.

The Republican candidate kept up the attack in a speech with a regional slant prepared for a rally today at Eureka. He charged major industries throughout California, including lumber, are being allowed to "wither on the vine" because of the state administration's "indifference and indecision."

In his opening swing, Nixon took on all of his leading critics.

He called Brown weak and ineffective and said "It's time the first state has a governor who is not an ignoramus on international affairs."

He offered an advance welcome to any Kennedys, from the President on down, who might come out to campaign for Brown, asserting "We'll lick them all."

He shrugged off criticism by former President Harry S. Truman, saying "Every time Truman gets into a race with me I win."

He said "There is a worldwide communist conspiracy" that endangers the state and nation, and further steps must be taken to guard against it.

Picket President at St. Louis Field

ST. LOUI S(AP) — Nine members of the Congress of Racial Equality picketed in front of Lambert Field Wednesday as President Kennedy's plane landed.

The pickets protested because Kennedy has not issued an executive order prohibiting racial discrimination in public housing.

It was considered doubtful that the President saw the pickets as his plane taxied from Lambert Field to the McDonnell Aircraft Corp. plant where he inspected the space age facility.

The pickets, Negro and white persons, were not allowed at the McDonnell plant.

Smooth Cutting Board

A good-looking and functional sewing board can be made by cutting a piece of colorful plastic-surfaced Marlite paneling left over from a remodeling project to the desired size. It has a plastic surface. Because it's so smooth and durable, the cutting board will be easy to keep clean. It won't snag fabrics.

But Why the Need for This Exercise?

Touch Your Toes, America, or Nation Will Topple

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — Is America really a country of people with larded waistlines and gelatine muscles and flabby fitness?

Apparently. A great many top people, from the President on down, are daily exercising their vocal chords by talking about how unfit we are, and the fingers of writers are becoming firm and slim by pounding out pages of criticism of our flaccid condition.

Whip yourself out of bed, America! Touch your toes! Touch your football! Straighten up and fly right. And if YOU don't feel like exercising, at least put your kids to work!

Why all the need for more exercise?

Well now, that question is as tough as Americans, obviously, are not. The various physical fitness committees give statistics which show that our boys are incapable of throwing a javelin as far as Japanese boys could, and that our girls would most certainly lose out in a wrestling match with British girls.

Is IT NECESSARY?

But no one has stated exactly why, in our highly industrialized land, where machines do most of the hard physical labor, it is necessary for us to be in condition to defeat European competitors with ease in a weight lifting contest.

The warnings of our weakness carry only the implication that in national strength there is power, and if we don't tend to our knee-bends, democracy may topple.

In spite of all our smart and sedentary) scientific and technological expertise, there is a hint that we could be overrun by those countries whose children can chin the bar better than ours.

The fact that more sports equipment is being sold in America, and that more people here are participating in sports than ever before in history does not, apparently, lessen the problem — which has been called, by the National Education Association, a "real cause for national alarm."

A SAD CYCLE

We are physically unfit, that's all there is to it. And every time we hear and read about how unfit we are, we have a bigger guilt complex which, in a big complex way, makes us even unfitter. It's a sad cycle.

And as a result, who are currently the most successful newcomers in the fields of letters, television and merchantry?

★ ★ ★

The hundreds of writers, performers and salesmen of exercise courses, devices, drugs and other propaganda designed to get America back on its toes and digging into its wallet — the medicine men of the exercise era.

★ ★ ★

Under the circumstances it is gratifying to read the report (in "Science Digest") of Dr. George A. Silver, chief of the division of social medicine, Montefiore Hospital, New York.

Dr. Silver believes that the "fits over fitness" should be taken, by the American public, with more moderation. He points out:

COMPETITIVE SPORTS

"The power package that is supposed to put us back in the running as healthy muscular models for the world includes daily exercise and lots of competitive sports."

Yet, "the emphasis on active sports has no real relevance. Men with seriously impaired health have been known to be excellent athletes.

"A study of Air Force Cadets revealed that those who had recently been discharged from a hospital for various upper-respiratory diseases did better in physical-fitness tests than enlisted men in good health."

★ ★ ★

Further, he states, "a well-developed body does not mean health . . . the case of a champion sprinter who developed tuberculosis two months after winning the championship — and died less than a year later — is evidence that ability to perform outstandingly in athletics is no indication of health . . . physical fitness does not provide immunity to disease. In epidemic times, the physically fit are stricken as often as those who aren't."

★ ★ ★

Yet, hot with the national fever for exercise, people of all ages are suddenly taking up tennis, touch football, snow-shoveling. (To the point where health departments now issue warnings to citizens NOT to shovel snow!)

Dr. Silver concludes, "Sports should be engaged in for the pleasure they give — not as strenuous competitive efforts to 'keep fit'— and with a judicious eye toward reducing their strenuousness as we grow older. Moderation, please!"

Foreclosures Dropping

The rise in foreclosures on single family homes during 1961 has begun to level off. This is attributed to a tightening of credit checks, a firmer market for new homes and a continuing high level of business activity.

Prince Philip, Duke of York, was elected commodore of Britain's historic Royal Yacht Squadron for a six year term in 1961.

Ambitious, Young Attorney Lands 'Nomination'

Georgia Governor-to-Be a Real Winner

By DON MCKEE

ATLANTA (AP)—Youthful, ambitious Carl E. Sanders took eight years to vault from raw campaigner to Georgia's governor-to-be and maintain a perfect victory record in politics.

CARL E. SANDERS

The 37-year-old attorney keynoted his vigorous campaign on honesty and decency in government; he promised to lead Georgia up a road of progress and prosperity.

★ ★ ★

"Segregation isn't an issue—it's a problem," Sanders said in reply to the main theme of his chief opponent, former Gov. Marvin Griffin.

Sanders, pledging to maintain segregation, said little about racial problems but urged law and order as the best course for Georgia.

'GREAT VICTORY'

When his nomination — tantamount to election in this state— became a reality Wednesday night Sanders said, "This is a great victory for the people of Georgia."

"It shows that the people of Georgia want to keep their affairs within the framework of law and order," he said in a victory statement.

★ ★ ★

Sanders has no Republican opposition in the November general election.

He stumped the state to appeal for votes and denounce Griffin's 1955-58 tenure as years of graft and corruption in government.

"The most shameful four years in Georgia's history," he said.

COOL APPROACH

Usually reserved and quiet-spoken, Sanders tore into the campaign with a fervent, emotional opening speech in early July. But from there, he gradually developed a cool, though forceful approach.

Sanders, broad-shouldered and erect, campaigned with the energy that made him a star high school football player and won him a football scholarship at the University of Georgia. He served as a bomber pilot-instructor during World War II, but saw no action.

★ ★ ★

He smiles easily—even in the thick of political debate. He takes defeat with good grace—although aside from legislative setbacks, Sanders doesn't know much about losing.

★ ★ ★

The Augusta senator got into politics after his wartime service and completion of college work. He married Georgia's first Maid of Cotton—the former Betty Bird Foy—and opened a law practice in Augusta.

In 1954, Sanders was elected to the House in the state legislature and two years later captured a senate seat. His popularity gave him three consecutive terms in the upper house.

Sanders began laying groundwork for his biggest political venture while serving as resident pro tem of the Senate last year.

A man of deep religious convictions, Sanders has taught Sunday school for 14 years at the Baptist church where his family attends.

The Sanders' have two children, 10-year-old Betty Foy and 8-year-old Carl Jr.

Elephants Eat Too Much Food in Kenya Park

NAIROBI, Kenya (UPI) — Elephants are eating other forest animals out of house and home in Kenya, the Royal Park Commission reported yesterday.

The commission said it planned to call a meeting of experts to study the question of what to do about the eating habits of the 10,000 elephants in Kenya's royal parks.

★ ★ ★

The lumbering rhinoceros, which faces extinction from natural dangers and poachers even in the best of circumstances, has been seriously affected by a vegetation shortage, the commission said.

Between 1775 and 1880 an estimated 300,000 people made their way through the Cumberland Gap near Middlesboro, Ky., as the U.S. population moved to the western domains.

Crooked Well Drilling Enables Theft of Millions in Oil

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Whipstock Bill James sat in the sweatbox of a courtroom. He looked worried but somehow he didn't seem to share the gloom of the others there.

There was a somberly intent expression in Whipstock Bill's face, weathered by 45 years in the blistering sun, the rain and the cold of the oil fields.

BACKGROUND — SPECIAL REPORT — OF THE NEWS

His main concern appeared to be telling — in terms a layman could understand — how to sink a particular kind of oil well.

Bill is — or was — a driller hired to thrust holes in the ground at slant.

★ ★ ★

The frequent application of his skilled hands and others who know his trade set off one of the new, great scandals in Texas.

It involves more people than the Billie Sol Estes affair did.

SLANT-HOLE DRILLING

It is called slant-hole drilling, or crooked well drilling, or deviated drilling.

A crooked well is drilled so it will bottom under another oilman's lease. Thus the slant well owner can steal his neighbor's oil.

Authorities claim oil worth $10 million a year is stolen this way.

The state says it has found more than 125 illegally drilled wells. Sixty four were junked by the operators before crews could test them.

Whipstock Bill testified there may be as many as 300 to 350 crooked wells in the east Texas field alone.

Asked how many he had drilled, he first said: "Whew. God only knows." Later he estimated 100.

★ ★ ★

Whipstock Bill said a driller with the proper skills can drill to beneath a point three-quarters of a mile away and not miss his mark a degree.

The driller gained his name from a device called a whipstock.

As Bill described the whipstock, it is a piece of pipe placed in the well. Its top is slanted at a pre-determined angle.

★ ★ ★

Thus when a drilling bit is rotated in the well, the whipstock nudges the bit a little to one side, slating the hole.

Whipstock testified in Dallas before a Texas House investigating committee.

★ ★ ★

Committee counsel David Witts explained that Whipstock Bill merely did the jobs laid out for him by others.

Gloom clouded numerous faces in the hearing room because the state accuses many of pumping oil from slated wells.

★ ★ ★

The Texas Railroad Commission which regulates oil production, has ordered all wells on leases containing even one illegally slanted well cut off from pipelines. This means the oilmen have no way to market even legally pumped oil. Nearly 600 wells were cut off at one time for this reason, although a few connections have since been restored.

Whipstock Bill also described the plastic pipe trick.

Why, asked a questioner, use plastic pipe?

"It was so you could carry oil and you couldn't find it with a magnetic," he said. He referred to mine detector-type devices.

★ ★ ★

The trick works this way: An oil operator orders a slanted well drilled on a lease that has no oil under it, as a number of dry holes testify.

He tells the Railroad Commission he has found oil with his new well. The commission allots him a daily production allowable (quota) under the rigid control laws.

The operator then has plastic pipe laid to the dry holes and pumps oil from the slanted well into them. He claims he has restored production in these old wells. He obtains more allowables.

Witnesses at the hearing said leases with zero production zoomed to an output of 1,000 barrels or more per month after crooked holes were drilled. At $3 a barrel, a man could get back his investment in a year.

Railroad commissioners say the slant wells could not have been possible without connivance of Railroad Commission employes, two of whom were fired.

In the glare of the public eye, what of the slant-well business? "It came to a squeaking halt," testified Whipstock Bill.

HOW OIL IS STOLEN — The diagram shows the slanted direction of a deviated oil well, a practice that has set off a new scandal in Texas. A deviated well is drilled so it will bottom under another oilman's lease enabling the slant well owner to steal his neighbor's oil.

Sew Severed Leg Back to Boy's Body

WEST ISLIP, N.Y. (UPI) — Officials at Good Samaritan Hospital said it was too early today to judge the success of an operation in which the nearly severed left leg of a 10-year-old boy was sewed back on.

★ ★ ★

Little Mark Turco of Babylon was reported in satisfactory condition but still on the hospital's critical list following surgery.

Mark was run down and crushed against a brick wall Tuesday when his 12-year-old brother Arthur accidentally started the family car while Mark was standing in front of it.

His left leg was crushed at the thigh and his right arm fractured. The boy was rushed to Good Samaritan Hospital, where doctors discovered that only small bits of skin still held the leg to the hip.

A surgical team of three doctors rejoined the thigh bone with a metal pin, reconnected severed arteries and veins and sewed the torn muscles back together. Mark received five pints of whole blood during the operation.

★ ★ ★

Mark's mother, Mrs. Anthony Turco, was visiting a relative at the hospital and learned of the accident when she saw the boy being wheeled into the emergency ward.

Missing Jar Jolts Man —It Contained $4,000

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An industrious thief struck it rich when he dug up William Barnwell's back yard.

★ ★ ★

Barnwell, 84, told officers he returned home from his vacation Wednesday to find a glass jar containing $4,000 missing from the spot where he had buried it.

Child Antique Fan

MRS. JOHN PFLUG, MELISSA AND OLD CANDY MOLD

While most mothers would shudder at the thought of taking children to an antique fair, they would agree there there are exceptions to this.

Take Melissa Pflug, a 7-year-old miss who lives in Birmingham. Her mother took her to Cranbrook Auditorium Wednesday where the Michigan Animal Rescue League, Inc., was setting up its annual Antique Fair, being held today through Saturday. Melissa wandered among the booths, stopping now and then to admire some item.

Mrs. John Pflug, Melissa's mother, says her pig-tailed daughter seems to enjoy looking for antiques to "fill up the old house we bought."

★ ★ ★

She has a few small items like a china slipper and salt cellars in her room. Mrs. Pflug hopes that this early interest will grow with Melissa and be an adult hobby too.

Mrs. Pflug does NOT take her sons to antique fairs. They bounce.

Flower Show Blossoms Out

Area Unit Grows Idea

Cosponsors of the Miracle of Flowers show being held Friday and Saturday at Miracle Mile Shopping Center are the Lorraine Manor Woman's National Farm and Garden Association (WNFGA) and the Michigan Division Flower Show School Judges. Sixty of the 150 exhibits will be made by students who are training to become judges of flower shows.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Warren C. Cleven, Tilmor Drive, president of the local group, is general chairman of the show. Twenty-eight business firms are providing display space for the floral arrangements.

★ ★ ★

This is the first flower show put on by the 18-member Lorraine Manor branch. It is also the first flower show where all members of the national organization may compete in a common show to be judged by the merit system.

★ ★ ★

Other local WNFGA branches that are cooperating in the weekend show are those in the Pontiac area, Birmingham and Bloomfield Township.

★ ★ ★

The arrangements will be on display from 10:30 a.m. Friday to 9 p.m. Saturday.

'Gardeners' Welcome Officers

Dirt Gardeners Club selected officers during their annual fall meeting Tuesday at Rotunda Inn.

Mrs. Chester Dlugaszewski will serve as president. Mrs. Percy Rose will assist as vice president.

Other officers are Mrs. Robert Playter, recording secretary; Mrs. Vivian Tubbs, treasurer; Mrs. Robert O'Neil, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. E. R. LaBadie, historian.

Hostesses Mrs. Percy Rose and Mrs. Tubbs welcomed Mrs. Orville Proksch as guest of the group. Mrs. Kenneth Gidley led devotions.

★ ★ ★

Special tribute was given Mrs. Charles Furler, who will be leaving for her new home in Florida shortly.

★ ★ ★

An October trip was planned to Mrs. Rose's summer home on Walpole Island, St. Clair River.

Q: A friend has invited another friend and me to stay with her and her family for a few days, and as this is our first visit neither of us is quite sure of what we ought to do to show our appreciation. Is she or her mother our hostess?

★ ★ ★

A: The daughter is your immediate hostess but the mother is your more important hostess. Show your appreciation to the daughter by being adaptable and agreeable and show your appreciation to the mother by trying to make as little "extra" trouble as possible—especially if they have no servants.

Be sure to write at least a short note of thinks to the mother as soon as you get home, and perhaps a longer one to your friend. Later on, if you can, invite your friend to stay with you in return.

Q: Is it the obligation of the parents of the bridegroom-to-be or of the bride-to-be to give the rehearsal dinner or party? Our son is being married out of town. It is to be a big wedding.

The bride's parents are well-to-do; we are in moderate circumstances. We wish to do the correct thing. Please advise us.

A: There is not the slightest obligation on your part to give a dinner or party after the rehearsal. If they choose to, the bride-to-be's parents may give such a dinner or party but to do so is not at all necessary.

★ ★ ★

Q: Is it ever proper to use the fork with the prongs pointing downward?

A: Whenever the knife and fork are held in cutting position (fork in left hand, knife in right) naturally the prongs are pointed downward and food is correctly lifted to the mouth in this position by the left hand. It is only when the fork is held in the right hand that the tines must turn upward.

Diet, Skin Care Discussed by Fashionettes

Mrs. Jesse Villereal, program chairman, led the discussion on dieting and skin care at the regular meeting of the Fashionette Club Tuesday evening in Adah Shelly Library.

Next week's meeting will feature games.

★ ★ ★

Sponsored by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department, the Fashionette Club is open to any woman interested in losing weight. Meetings are held from 7 to 9 p.m. every Tuesday at Adah Shelly Library.

St. Michael Group Meets Again

The Altar Society of St. Michael's Church resumed its monthly meetings Tuesday evening in the parish hall.

★ ★ ★

Presiding officer Mrs. Henry Simpson welcomed Mrs. Margaret Therrian, Mrs. Robert LaForge and Mrs. Flora Ardelan into the society as new members.

★ ★ ★

The women announced plans for the welcome home dinner for the Sisters of St. Joseph Sunday.

★ ★ ★

The following events also were announced: Sept. 27 — the Northwestern Deanery meeting of the National Council of Catholic Women at St. Mary's Retreat House in Oxford. Dinner begins at 6 p.m. with the meeting afterward.

★ ★ ★

Oct. 16 will be a day of recollection at St. Mary's Reparatrix, sponsored by the Daughters of Isabella. Buses will leave St. Michael's parking lot at 8:30 a.m.

★ ★ ★

Annual 40-hour devotion will be held at the church Oct. 1-3. The adult inquiry classes will be resumed Oct. 10 for all who are interested. Rev. James Hayes announced three new programs in this fall's course of instruction. They are Catholic worship, child psychology and English literature.

The fish frys were resumed last Friday and will be held every other Friday throughout the year. The public is invited to attend.

OES Gets Together

Pontiac Chapter No. 228, Order of the Eastern Star, held its first fall meeting Monday evening at the Masonic Temple.

A life certificate was presented to Mrs. Lois Kinney, and Mrs. Earl Watson was given her proficiency test.

Announcement was made of "West" nights at Joseph C. Byrd and the Ferndale Chapters Monday.

The advanced officers' night and initiatory work will be held Sept. 24 at 8 p.m.

Guests during the meeting were Margaret Duffield of Omaha, Neb.; Mrs. Grace Redman of Beacon Chapter of New Jersey; and Shirley Emmons of Clawson.

Hostesses were Mrs. Sylvan Clark, Mrs. Watson and Mrs. Joseph Minton.

Northside Club Plans Dinner

Plans for the first anniversary dinner and theater-party in November were discussed by the Northside Neighbors Club who met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. John Morey on North Perry Street.

★ ★ ★

Guest of the group was Mrs. Stewart-Heard of Grand Blanc, formerly of Perry Street.

★ ★ ★

Chief Pontiac Auxiliary Makes Plans for Year

Plans for the coming year were presented at the recent meeting of Chief Pontiac Auxiliary No. 377, The American Legion, at the post home on Oakland Lake.

Newly elected president, Mrs. Joseph Charter, announced the annual fall conference of the Department of Michigan will be held in Kalamazoo Sept. 14-16. Mrs. Lewis Tate and Mrs. Lawrence Curtis will represent the group.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Charter introduced her officers for 1962-63. They include Mrs. Arnold Getzan and Mrs. Frank Huebner, vice presidents; Mrs. Tate, secretary, and Mrs. Curtis, treasurer.

Other women assuming office are Mrs. Howard Bliss, Mrs. Robert Coin, Mrs. Donald Richmond, Mrs. Verner Macom, Mrs. Mitchell Rampart, Mrs. Ernest Walker and Mrs. L. D. McLauchlin.

★ ★ ★

Two events are scheduled to be held at the post home. Miss Janice Antona's new citizens class will have its annual picnic on Sept. 23. On Sept. 29 a banquet will be held to honor the birthday of Chief Pontiac Post. Mrs. Roy Parden, Mrs. Charter and Alfred Gulda head arrangements.

Abby Tells Traveler's Wife

Mate Must Help Rear Children

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

ABBY

DEAR ABBY: Can you tell me what to do with a husband who travels? He comes home on weekends, lays down all kind of laws and rules for me to enforce on the children, and then leaves town for a whole week.

I am about to lose my mind. The children are 7, 9, 13, 14, and 16. I tell my husband if he is going to make laws he will have to stay home and see that they are carried out. Am I unreasonable?

UNNERVED

DEAR UNNERVED: Really, now, men who travel for a living cannot very well stay home to discipline the children.

If your husband insists on laying down "laws and rules" for the children, he should do it with them personally, explaining meanwhile that their mother must have cooperation in his absence.

The enforcement task must be yours. But you are entitled to participation and support from your husband.

★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am in love with a girl and want to marry her, but my family objects to her. My parents are rarely wrong and they are very much upset about my plans.

They say she is "wrong" for me, but I just don't feel that way. I am 21. Could I be wrong? I have the kindest mother and father in the world. And my sisters, who are also very good to me and want me to be happy, don't like her either.

I hate to hurt them by marrying a girl they don't like. Please tell me what to do.

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: Why does your family object to this girl? They could be wrong—and so could you. But unless they tell you why they think she is "wrong" for you, do your own thinking.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a young woman who, within 30 minutes after being introduced to a young man, asks him his religion, whether he believes in a "double standard" and if he thinks a wife should work?

WILLIAM

DEAR WILLIAM: The young man should reply, "I'm an atheist, the double standard is standard operating procedure for me, and what else are wives good for?"

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO DOUG: There IS safety in numbers, but be sure you don't get your numbers mixed up.

Laughter Lightens Marital Burdens

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

"A sense of humor is one of the most dependable qualities a husband and wife can bring to a marriage" says a marriage counselor.

★ ★ ★

He's right, of course. Daily living can become pretty grim unless a couple can find something to laugh about. It is being able to see the funny side of things that keeps most happily married couples happily married.

★ ★ ★

They can joke about their own and each other's little faults and peculiarities, instead of self-righteously defending their own shortcomings and nagging about the other's annoying behavior.

One or the other can often ward off a serious quarrel just by making a funny remark at the right moment that put the situation in a ridiculous rather that tragic light.

A sense of humor will keep a couple from boring each other to death, for it will make them lighthearted and gay instead of glum and plodding.

★

Even the job of bringing up children is lightened if the parents can see the funny side of children's behavior instead of regarding each small-fry crisis as a major catastrophe.

★ ★ ★

But the best bonus of all is that in a house where a husband and wife have a sense of humor there is the sound of frequent laughter.

And easy, good-natured laughter does as much as anything to ease the tensions of daily life and family friction.

★ ★ ★

Jackie's Opinions 'Terribly Influential'

BY GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy's revamping of the White House has set off a hardy revival of traditional decor around the nation.

★ ★ ★

A group of leaders in the design and furnishings field agreed in an informal poll that the First Lady's influence on what women want in their homes today is a strong one.

But some thought it had been less forceful on decoration than in fashions.

★ ★ ★

"Terribly influential," said Rene Carillo, director of merchandising for a fabrics manufacturer, of Mrs. Kennedy's impact on home furnishings.

"Her use of fine antiques and her predilection for the 18th century have made traditional decorating very chic."

J. Mason Read, of a company which makes Williamsburg reproductions, agreed that Mrs. Kennedy's influence had been "far reaching" in interior design.

But he added, "her impact on the world of fashion has been much greater. Fashion appeals to a far larger audience than does interior design . . . the exposure of Mrs. Kennedy's 'style' has been more frequent, widespread, expert. . ."

Miss Carrillo and Read are officials of the annual decoration and design show, to be held in New York Oct. 12-23. The show, a forecast of decorating trends for the home, is sponsored by the New York chapter of the American Institute of Interior Designers and the Resources Council, an organization of 118 manufacturers of home furnishings.

RETURN TO TRADITIONAL

Miss Carrillo, chairman of the show committee, said that with Mrs. Kennedy in the White House, the decorating industry notices a strong return to the traditional.

"Many people who are decorating for the first time have decided to go with the old instead of trying the sterile modern," she said.

★ ★ ★

"Just as she has created a new look in fashion, she has given a fresh approach to interior furnishings," said Ellen McCluskey, president, New York chapter, AID.

"The restoration of the White House has brought about a renaissance of 18th century French, English and American design . . . evident . . . not only in furniture, but in fabrics, wall coverings, floor coverings and accessories."

One interior designer thought the revival of traditional on the home front already was on the way even before Mrs. Kennedy spotlighted it at the White House.

★ ★ ★

"There has been a growing use of antiques and fine reproductions for the past few years by people who have the background and money," said Ruth L. Strauss, designer and color stylist.

John C. McGuire, representing a company which makes contemporary furniture, thought Mrs. Kennedy had "underscored our English-French heritage. It seems to me this has come at a time when the public felt . . . in need of comforting reminders of the peaceful past (or, anyway, a more pleasant one) in the face of a rather grim present and future.

"So if Mrs. Kennedy has influenced the interior design market in this way, she entered it when a strong vacuum existed."

Dorothy Paul, a Los Angeles exhibitor in the forthcoming show, said "there has been more traditional furniture sold on the West Coast in the past six months than was sold in the past six years."

Gilbert L. Thurston, the vice president of a furniture company whose customers include many members of the Kennedy family, thought the First Lady could go even further in the interests of good taste if she created a room of "Today's designs."

After Summer Sun, Salt

It's Time for Hair Care

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Dr. Irwin L. Lubowe, author of the interesting book, "New Hope For Your Hair" (E. P. Dutton and Co.) cautions that summertime exposure to sun, salt and wind, can damage hair structure. He feels that when vacation time is over a woman should give her hair some special attention.

★ ★ ★

I was interested to note that Dr. Lubowe says that cool weather is most favorable to the health of the scalp and tresses. The following are some of his suggestions for reconditioning your hair if you have abused it during the summer. In fact this is a good all year-'round routine.

★ ★ ★

If your hair is dry, do not shampoo it more than once a week. If it is oily twice a week is essential.

Massage your scalp every day and be sure to massage the back of your neck and your shoulder muscles. This latter is usually bypassed and yet every expert I have ever interviewed feels that this is not only restful but important.

Brush your hair 100 strokes a day. Dr. Lubowe feels that you should use a brush with natural bristles. Do not scratch your scalp when you brush.

He reminds us that the best possible blood circulation is essential for the best hair health. He says that since excessive smoking constricts the blood vessels it may have some effect on hair growth.

We all know that diet is important in the health of the body and the hair. Dr. Lubowe says that excessive oiliness or dandruff can result from poor nutrition. If the hair is extremely oily, sugars, starches, foods with lots of salt and fats must be cut very low in the diet. The basic protein in the diet should be adequate.

After all, our hair is a growing part of our body and is therefore affected by our habits.

Summer vacations are behind us and we are entering the season most healthful for the hair. Now is the time!

If you would like to have my hair leaflet, "Your Crowning Glory," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 52. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Now's the time to recondition hair which has been abused through the summer. Vigorous brushing is part of the treatment.

All Women Have a Bit of Beauty

Just because you may not have the natural beauty of certain personalities you admire, don't let this stop you from capitalizing upon your own most attractive feature.

According to beauty authority Max Factor, every woman has at least one feature that is her most glamorous and should play it up so that it becomes the focal point of her appearance.

For instance, if your eyes are exceptionally brilliant and colorful, or are set in an unusually lovely way, emphasize them with bold, new high fashion applications of eyeshadow, fluid eyeliner, and mascara.

If your mouth is your best feature, draw attention to it by using a wide array of lipstick colors and glamorous lip patterns. Even your complexion, hair, or the shape of your nose can be dramatized.

Whatever it is, if you play it up for all its worth, and minimize your least attractive features, you, too, can be a beauty in your own right.

Aw, It's Insured

PO Boys Fast and Loose

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE N-422: Tom Poulos of Wisconsin Rapids is a very successful and patriotic American.

He came over here as a poor Greek immigrant and lived on a 5-cent bag of peanuts per day as he struggled to get started in this wonderful land of opportunity.

DR. CRANE

Now he is one of the leading merchants of his city and the efficient type of American who really ought to be in Washington, D.C., to install some much-needed efficiency engineering among the wastrels there.

Last Valentine's Day, Tom sent us some of his famous chocolates. They were encased in a cardboard box, and then wrapped in heavy paper.

INSURED BOX

Tom had insured the box. But it was all torn open and the candy crushed when it reached Chicago, a mere 200 miles due south of Wisconsin Rapids. Why?

Well, perhaps because it was marked "insured."

For I have been informed on numerous occasions that when packages are marked "insured" or "fragile," the young squirts in our post office department often see how rough they can be on them.

"Aw, they're insured!" is the flippant answer when anybody protests.

I have personally been in our downtown Chicago post office when a friend of mine delivered 300 packages to the parcel post division. They contained metal and plastic games. They were individually packed in heavy, stiff cardboard.

The shipper carried them over to the loading platform and stacked them neatly in tiers.

Then a young fellow, probably an "extra," who had been hired for the Christmas post office rush period, picked up each game, one at a time, and tossed them backwards, high over his head and some 25 feet away.

These boxes came down with a "bang," and even though they were encased in stiff cardboard, the contents were not intended to be thrown 12 feet in the air and a distance of 25 feet!

When I protested at this callous treatment of Uncle Sam's mail, the boy said, "So what! They're insured, ain't they?"

★ ★ ★

Now I am not criticizing ALL postal employes, for many of them are ethical workers and pillars of our churches. I have many personal friends in the group.

But a lot of gross inefficiency goes on. And we could get along with much fewer employes, with a benefit both to our postal service and us taxpayers, too.

For example, in a medium-sized city in my state of Illinois, there were four postal workers handling the mail a few years ago.

"Now there are 12 workers," an editor friend informed me, "and our mail volume hasn't even doubled. This featherbedding in the government is one reason why we voters are having our backs strained to the breaking point with excessive taxes."

If anybody merits rocking chairs for a sprained back, it is the American taxpayer, not President Kennedy.

President Kennedy gets $500,000 income from the trust fund his father gave him, plus another $190,000 we citizens pay him every year, so maybe he can stand the profligate tax load, but it makes a big difference to the average citizen.

A former U.S. Senator told me in confidence that the post office could operate within its income, without any raise in postal rates, if it would simply use the efficient method of private business firms and farm out rural delivery to the milk truckers or bakery route men who must cover the same territory every day.

★ ★ ★

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

(Copyright, 1962)

Parcel post was established on an international basis in 1878. In the United States domestic parcel post service was organized in 1913. Rural parcel-post routes were established in 1919.

Hear Songs by Chorus at Meeting

The Woman's Missionary Society of the First Church of God met Monday in the Fellowship Room with a chorus singing "Let It Breathe on Me."

A baked goods sale is set for Sept. 29 at the Federal Department Store and a benefit sale in the church basement Oct. 12-13.

Most Are a Little Apprehensive

Students Vow to Do Better This Term

By EUGENE GILBERT
President, Gilbert Youth Research, Inc.

There is a widely held theory that our school-age youngsters are dragged kicking and screaming back to the classroom after a summer of leisure on the beach or work at a paying job.

The theory is not precisely true.

Most American teen-agers are either glad to get back to school or are indifferent to the prospect of another year of teachers, books, tests and homework.

And most are returning to school a trifle apprehensive about what the new grade holds for them and full of shiny new resolutions they are fairly certain they won't keep.

At least that's what comes out in our latest poll of youngsters from Lisbon Falls, Maine, to Kaneohe, Hawaii.

What sort of resolutions do they have in mind?

Mostly things like getting better grades, doing homework regularly, studying harder and getting along with people. But one Wisconsin girl set down the modest ambition of not swearing at teachers or cheating at tests.

Nearly half of the young people said they will be glad to get back to the classroom. About one in three said it made little difference in their young lives. Only one in five was sad about it.

Many of the youngsters like to get back to school "to see my old friends," as Sharon Prior, 14, of San Francisco and Ellen Matich, 15, of Island Park, N. Y., put it identically.

'DULL IN AUGUST'

Others, like Harold Covitt, 18, of Cleveland Heights, Ohio, find that long vacations get a little boring. "It's dull around the late August," said Harold.

And leave it to Dave White, a 15-year-old from Ramsey, N. J., to totally demolish the previously mentioned theory:

"I love learning almost as much as I love my teachers."

For those who are indifferent to school it's a case of being torn between the good and the bad.

"I want to go back to see everybody — but I can't face all that work," said 16-year-old Arthur McBain of La Crosse, Wis.

★ ★ ★

"No more fun," moaned Bruce Brann, 14, of Lisbon Falls, Maine.

Generally, the kids look forward the most to the social aspects of school; look forward the least to the actual studying.

★ ★ ★

Carol Soskin, 17, of North Bellmore, N. Y., anticipates "the activities after school;" with Joan Aldrich, 16, of La Crosse, Wis., it's "the assemblies, football and basketball games, dances."

And what do they anticipate the least? "The studying," said Gail Kuwana, 16, of Honolulu. "The late studying and rising at 6:30 a. m.," said 14-year-old Anne Beatrice Simon of the Bronx, N. Y.

Most of the youngsters in our poll (57 per cent) told us they are apprehensive about moving up into a new grade but most of them said they are a bit worried at the start of every school year.

FEAR UNKNOWN

With most, it's fear of something new and unknown—or, as David Bahme, 17, of San Francisco put it, "I don't know what's going to come off."

"I usually am apprehensive," said John Feroe, 15, of La Crosse, Wis., "but I always find out that my apprehensions are false so the year I decided I wouldn't be worried."

Like John Feroe, most of the youngsters (58 per cent) told us they have made resolutions for going back to school.

★ ★ ★

Many of the young people (41 per cent) told us they make resolutions every year and most of them (52 per cent) admitted that they break them somewhere along the line.

★ ★ ★

If the resolutions are broken, why bother to make them?

"It's something to try to work for," said Donna Griffin, 16, of Flushing, N. Y., hopefully.

★ ★ ★

"There is always the chance I might," sighed Ivy Gibian, 16, of Ramsey, N. J.

European Dancers Slated at U. of M.

ANN ARBOR (UPI)—Dancers from three European and Asian countries will perform at the University of Michigan's first Chamber Dance Festival Oct. 14-16 in Rackham Auditorium.

★ ★ ★

On Oct. 14 Hungarian dancers Nora Kovach and Istvan Rabovsky will perform classics from Russian ballet. The Phakavali troupe of Bangkok will present a program Oct. 15, and the Jose Molina Bailes Espanoles Company from Madrid will appear the third day of the festival.

Will Talk of Women

EAST LANSING (UPI) — The woes of the working woman will bring top speakers to the Michigan State University campus Sept. 29 for a conference.

★ ★ ★

Among those to address the conference will be Rep. Marie Hager, R-Lansing; State Sen. Basil Brown, D-Detroit; and Mrs. Esther Peterson, assistant secretary of labor and director of the women's bureau, U.S. Department of Labor.

★ ★ ★

Subjects to be discussed will be low wage earners not covered by the federal minimum wage law, equal pay for women, day care services for working mothers, migrant workers and training and retraining activities.

An unmanned remote-controlled helicopter can fly from a destroyer to a point where sonar has detected a submarine, drop a homing torpedo and return for rearming.

Personals

A son, Adam Lee, was born Aug. 30 in St. Mary's Hosiptal, Livonia, to Mr. and Mrs. Lee Williams (Martha Burris) formerly of Pontiac.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William E. Burris of East Strathmore Avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Lexie Williams of Baldwin Avenue.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. R. Lee Harding (Joanne Gaul) of Sarvis Street, announce the birth of a second son, Paul Guy, Aug. 18 in Pontiac General Hospital.

The baby's grandparents are the Paul F. Gauls of Earling, Iowa and Mr. and Mrs. Pat Nimphie of Holly.

★ ★ ★

The Thomas M. Drakes (Barbara Collingwood) of Third Avenue, announce the birth of a third son, Michael Alan, July 31, in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

The Manley Drakes of Pinegrove avenue and the George Collingwoods of Lake Orion are the baby's grandparents.

★ ★ ★

Three area women are now serving as officers of the Detroit chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, professional women journalists' sorority.

They are Bettelou Peterson Middlemas, Bloomfield Township, president; Barbara M. Marx, Birmingham; first vice president; and Julie J. Candler, Birmingham, second vice president.

★ ★ ★

Some 73 descendants attended the 12th annual Hubbard and Wade reunion Sunday at Marshbanks Park. Lilian Jones of London, England, was a guest of the group.

Stolen Ocelot Back, Taken by Youngster

DETROIT (AP) — The mystery of the missing ocelot named Camelot has been solved.

Police said a 14-year-old boy admitted Wednesday he broke into the Nicholl Hard Chrome service plant and stole Camelot, a pet kept there.

The boy was playing with the ocelot the next day when a neighbor called police. The animal was claimed by its owner, Kerry Nicholl, 28, of Grosse Pointe Park.

Ishpeming Man Dies

ISHPEMING (AP) — Pentti Herranen, 21, of Ishpeming, died last night in a two-car smashup on U.S. 41 in Negaunee Township, Marquette County. Police said the auto in which Herrane was riding struck another car, then rolled down an embankment, pinning Herrane.

School Rooms Need Climbs

20,000 in Five Years Seen as Requirement by State Official

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP) — Michigan needs to build 20,000 new classrooms in the next five years —at a cost of some $750 million— to meet the enrollment growth in its public schools, says Superintendent of Public Instruction Lynn Bartlett.

In a speech at the Michigan Association of School Administrators meeting on Mackinac Island today, Bartlett said public school enrollment since 1957 has increased by more than 280,000.

"This fall we estimate a total of 1,790,000 youngsters will be in our classrooms," he said.

"If our enrollment increases continue at the same pace, we can expect to have over two million children in public schools by the fall of 1967."

Bartlett said that even this year, if both public and non-public schools are included, there are more than 2.1 million students.

"This means better than 25 per cent of the state's total population can be found in our classrooms," Bartlett pointed out.

Michigan has added more than 15,000 new classrooms to its schools since 1957, he said with 2,489 of them built last year.

Dog Bites Calf; Millionaire Pays Farmer

LONDON (AP)—American oil millionaire Paul Getty paid a fine of 5 pounds ($14) because his dog attacked a calf.

Witnesses said Getty was out walking with one of his pack of seven dogs near his palatial home, Sutton Place, in nearby County Surrey.

The dog jumped a fence and went after a farmer's calf grazing in a nearby field.

The dog was pulled from the calf before any serious damage was done.

Getty expressed regret and offered to pay compensation to the farmer.

A magistrate's court was told that the oilman had found a new home for the dog.

Jury to Deliberate on 'Mercy Killing'

DETROIT (AP) — A circuit court jury scheduled deliberation today of the guilt or innocence of Stephen Kent, accused of the so-called mercy slaying of his asthmatic common-law wife.

Kent is charged with strangling Mrs. Mable Bramblett, 60, in their Highland Park home March 3.

Kent, 59, pleaded temporary insanity. He sobbed while explaining on the stand that he couldn't stand to watch Mrs. Bramblett suffer any longer.

A new cement, put up in tubes for home use, is said to adhere to all plastics in common use.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed proposals will be received by the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Oakland at their offices, 2420 Pontiac Lake Road, Pontiac, Michigan, until 2:30 o'clock p.m., Eastern Standard Time, Thursday, September 27, 1962, and will be publicly opened and read at 10:00 o'clock a.m., of the same day for furnishing the following:

Awkward Looking Hovercraft May Change Transport

AP SPECIAL REPORT:

RHYL, Wales (AP)—From the inside it looked like a distorted airliner, much too wide for its length.

Twenty-four passengers sat in four rows of six. All plainly suffered from take-off nerves.

The steward's voice came from the speaker system: "Welcome aboard the world's first Hovercoach service. In a few moments we shall be leaving for Wallasey. Your driver is Capt. Colquhoun—"

The engines revved up and the kids on the beach scattered. It wasn't raining but Les Colquhoun, 42, test pilot and wartime Royal Air Force hero, switched on his windshield wipers.

PILOT EASES BACK

He eased back the yellow throttle handle. The Hovercraft, an ugly roaring beetle contending for a transport revolution, lifted its 10 tons off the sand and slithered gently over the dunes toward the sea.

★ ★ ★

The Hovercraft was the VA3, one of a dozen under development here. It rides eight inches above land or sea on a cushion of air produced by two gas turbine engines. Two more engines drive rear-mounted propellers to move it forward.

★ ★ ★

A shower of spray whipped past the windows as the VA3 moved onto the surf and swished up to 50 miles per hour.

★ ★ ★

The noise was exactly that of a four-engine airliner. The motion was different.

★ ★ ★

Over the sand the ride was ice smooth.

NO SEAT BELT

Over the sea it developed a pitch, something like a plane in slight turbulence, punctuated by heavy jolts as big waves slapped up against the bow.

★ ★ ★

Even then no seat belts were needed. The passengers faced backwards. The jolts just shoved them deeper in their seats.

Colquhoun headed his craft along the coast and into open water. Wales slipped away and the English shore came through the spray.

★ ★ ★

Twenty-five minutes after leaving, the VA3 edged onto a concrete slipway at Wallasey, 17 miles across the Dee Estuary from Rhyl. By road it is 50 miles and 90 minutes.

CROWDS WATCH

The passengers trooped off, all feeling one-up on the watching crowds.

★ ★ ★

Five years ago none of them had heard of a Hovercraft, then little more than an idea in the brain of inventor Christopher Cockerell.

★ ★ ★

Cockerell built his first model from two food cans. He showed it to the government's military advisers who put it on the secret list and did nothing more. It took Cockerell a year to get the idea declassified and under government-financed development. Now four major companies are pushing it hard.

★ ★ ★

Two years ago a small Hovercraft called the SRN1 went from France to England. Last July the VA3 started the Rhyl-Wallasey run, making eight return trips daily and always working at more than 90 per cent capacity.

★ ★ ★

The experiment — it is nothing more, not a serious transportation service — ends next week when Rhyl's holiday clients have returned to the factories of Manchester and the English Midlands.

LOSING MONEY

Even at $5.60 a passenger the service has lost money. This was expected, Vickers Armstrong, the builders, and British United Airways, the operators, hope to reap their dividend later.

They have shown the Hovercraft can operate over soft sand and shallows which no vehicle or boat can negotiate. The 17 miles from Rhyl to Wallasey are not far different from the 20-odd miles of the English Channel and its rich tourist and commercial traffic.

★ ★ ★

The VA3 is about the size of three buses side by side, though it weighs less than one of them.

★ ★ ★

The channel craft will have to be bigger. Vickers is designing a prototype to carry 200 passengers and 14 vehicles at 100 m.p.h.

Will it work?

"I'm convinced it will," said Colquhoun.

"The craft we're using here was on the drawing board less than two years ago. Now it's in operation with a Ministry of Transport license as safe to carry passengers."

Ron Harfitt, British United's commercial manager, forecasts a channel Hovercraft service within five years.

Some questions have to be answered.

One is this: How do you protect the craft from a viciously corrosive spray of salt water and sand?

★ ★ ★

Another, and more difficult, is how to increase operating height and make it variable.

★ ★ ★

To tackle the channel in even moderate weather the Hovercraft would have to float three feet or more above the waves. In calm weather and over land this height would waste power — it need be only three inches above the surface.

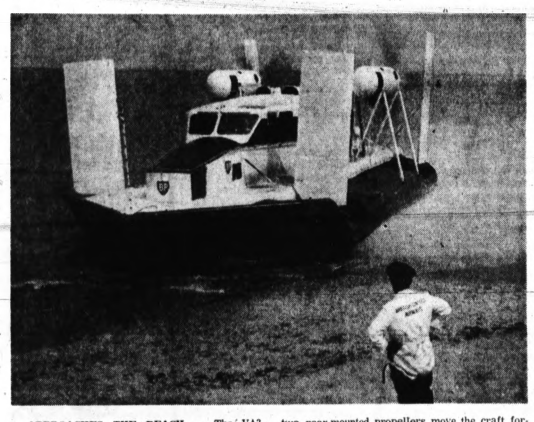

Is the Hovercraft a ship, an aircraft or what?

The Ministry of Transport just calls it a vehicle.

When the passenger at the end of the row grabbed for the little brown bag was she airsick or seasick?

Or both?

APPROACHES THE BEACH — The VA3 Hovercraft, which supports itself on a cushion of air, approaches the beach after a run from Rhyl, Wales, across the River Dee Estuary to Wallasey, England — a 17-mile trip. While two gas turbine engines produce the air cushion, two rear-mounted propellers move the craft forward. The VA3, which weighs 12½ tons, will carry 24 passengers and a crew of two. It is designed to cruise up to speeds of 60 knots, with a range of 100 miles.

Girl Kills Man Entering House

INDIANAPOLIS (UP) — A 14-year-old girl killed a man last night who had torn off her mother's blouse and was trying to break into her home, and investigators said the shooting appeared justified.

Sheriff's investigators questioned the girl, Patty Ann Guy, but filed no charge in the killing of Russell E. Overby, 34. Chief Investigator John G. Linehan said statements and evidence indicated the shooting was justified.

Deputies said the mother, Mrs. Shirley Irene Guy, 40, said Overby had been "bothering" her for about two years. She said he approached her outside her home last night, asked for a cup of coffee and ripped her blouse when she refused.

Mrs. Guy said she broke away, ran into the house and loaded a rifle. She said she handed the rifle to her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Harris, 70, as Overby tried to force his way in a side door.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Guy said she went into a bedroom, then heard a shot. She said Patty Ann, who had taken the gun from Mrs. Harris, screamed, "Mother, I shot him."

The girl then ran to a neighbor's home and called the sheriff's office.

Nixon Panned in HST Speech

Ex-President Stumps for Pat Brown at $50-a-Plate Dinner

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman came to town to help a fellow Democrat, Gov. Edmund G. Brown, and ripped into Brown's Republican gubernatorial opponent, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Speaking at a $50-a-plate dinner Wednesday night, Truman said Nixon:

★ ★ ★

"... is afflicted with a chronic condition of political sickness."

"... made his way up the political ladder by stepping over the bodies of his political victims..."

"... has adopted a style of the mean approach in politics—the use of the venomous assault, and the trick of innuendo upon the good character of his opponents."

At one point, Truman departed from his text to advise Brown: "Don't talk about him (Nixon). Let him go to hell on his own hook."

Seek to Strike at Chrysler

Walkout OK Sought by Local President in Row on Grievances

DETROIT (UPI) — Authority to call a strike will be sought by the president of Local 212 of the United Auto Workers union unless Chrysler Corp. acts on local grievances, Local President Tony Czerwinski said last night.

Czerwinski's local represents 7,500 workers employed at five Chrysler plants and a citywide garage. A company spokesman said a strike at this time "would throw a moneywrench into all plant operations."

The local president said he would ask for the strike vote unless action was taken on several grievances. Chief among these was continuance of overtime with some 7,000 union members laid off. Czerwinski said he had recommend a cessation of the overtime until the out-of-work men were called back.

OTHER OBJECTIONS

Other objections included improper crossing of departments, "harrassment and coercion" of employes to meet work standards, violation of seniority rights, and unsatisfactory health and safety conditions.

A Chrysler spokesman said, "we know of no grievance that cannot be disposed of in the regular procedure as provided in our contract with the international UAW."

The international pact calls for an umpire to hear labor-management disputes but a local is allowed to call for a strike vote over some local grievances, including production standards and health and safety conditions.

Czerwinski planned, if Chrysler should reject the local's demand, to call a membership meeting and seek authority for a strike. If successful the would then call for a strike vote.

PAINT PLANT EXPLODES — One person was known dead and at least 15 injured when an explosion and fire leveled the Inter-Costal Paint Corp. plant and storage area in San Leandro, Calif., yesterday. The fire caused power and phone failure throughout the California city. This aerial view shows smoke pouring from the plant as well as two homes in the area.

Detroit Police Head Hits Private Clubs

DETROIT (UP) — Police Commissioner George Edwards charged Wednesday that about 20 of the estimated 200 private state charter social clubs in Detroit are really being operated as gambling dens and blind pigs.

★ ★ ★

He said, however, the state charter does not permit police inspection. He asked the city council to either close the clubs at 2 a.m. or allow the police to inspect them.

Arab Council Meeting Today

Only 10 Nations Left to Decide Critical Unity Problems

CAIRO (UPI)—The Arab League Council was summoned today into a critical session that could decide whether the organization survives.

Both the United Arab Republic and Iraq notified the league in advance that they would not attend, leaving the remaining 10 nations to try to solve the problems besetting Arab unity.

U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser ordered his delegation to withdraw from the league's council meeting in Shtoura, Lebanon, two weeks ago following charges that he was interfering in Syria's internal affairs.

He threatened to pull the U.A.R. out of the league entirely unless the whole issue of Syria's charges were expunged from the league's minutes.

★ ★ ★

Iraq has boycotted the league ever since Kuwait was admitted to the organization a year ago. Iraq claims Kuwait.

Should Nasser carry out his threat of withdrawal to promote an idea of his own—an organization composed of Arab peoples instead of governments — the Arab League could collapse.

The U.A.R. has provided the most economic and moral support for the league.

On the other hand, if the league bowed to Nasser's demands and scratched the Syrian charges, it was possible Syria would withdraw.

Other Arab nations have been trying to mediate the dispute during the past two weeks but there have been no indications they have succeeded.

★ ★ ★

Attending today's meetings were representatives from Morocco, Algeria, Tunisia, Libya, the Sudan, Lebanon, Syria, Jordan, Saudi Arabia and Yemen.

Membership in U. N. for 2 More Nations

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The two new West Indies nations, Jamaica and Trinidad-Tobago, were approved by the Security Council Wednesday for United Nations membership.

They will be seated at the General Assembly opening next Tuesday along with the new African nations of Burundi and Rwanda, which recently were approved by the council. This will increase the membership from 104 to 108 nations. The U.N. started with 51 in 1945.

Doesn't Fit Stereotype

Rusk: Different Sort of Diplomat

By HARRY FERGUSON

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An American secretary of state sitting down at a meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers has two strikes on him from the start. Andrei Gromyko of Russia knows exactly what he is going to say and do because he has his orders in his pocket and doesn't have to check with anybody.

★ ★ ★

The American representative is a member of a coalition. He cannot seize the opportunity to make a bold advance or a quick tactical retreat without getting the agreement of his allies. In June 1961, Premier Khrushchev handed President Kennedy a memo about Berlin during their meeting in Vienna.

Khrushchev waited six weeks for his reply because Kennedy had to consult Britain, France and the members of NATO.

The disadvantage of being a member of a committee instead of a free agent is unlikely to ruffle Secretary of State Dean Rusk. He doesn't fit the public conception of what a secretary of state should look like. He has freckles, a round and honest face, a quick smile and a trace of his native Georgia in his accent.

REPORTER AMAZED

When he walked out to have his first news conference here, a reporter with years of service at the State Department said in amazement: "Why, he looks just like a bartender."

★ ★ ★

He meant it as a compliment. Rusk has the old-shoe look of a man who would discuss your favorite subject sympathetically while serving drinks, inform you firmly when he thought you had taken about enough and then help concoct a plausible story to explain to your wife why you stayed out so late.

Rusk not only fails to fit the public conception of an international diplomat with striped trousers, Homburg and a tendency to use a thousand words to expound a simple fact, it must never have crossed his mind that he would be secretary of state.

Otherwise he wouldn't have written a magazine article that still comes back to haunt him. He joined the State Department in 1946 and left it in 1951 to become president of the Rockefeller Foundation.

Thinking he never again would work for the government (he said so), he unburdened himself in an article in Foreign Affairs Quarterly about what was wrong with American foreign policy. He was opposed to summit meetings and his article appeared just before Khrushchev landed in Paris, insulted Dwight D. Eisenhower and torpedoed the meeting of the big four heads of state.

Without mentioning Eisenhower or Khrushchev by name, Rusk wrote that it was a gamble to bring together a leader "impulsive in manner . . . possibly subject to high blood pressure" and another leader "with a quick temper and a weak heart."

DOESN'T LIKE SUMMITS

Rusk thought summit meetings should be held only to ratify agreements made at lower levels. He thought the President of the United States should stay at home. He thought the secretary of state should not spend his time running around the world but should work through "normal channels," meaning assign the work to our ambassadors abroad.

All that went out the window a few months after Rusk was sworn in. Kennedy was off to Vienna to see Khrushchev, and Rusk himself began continent hopping in a style that matched the travels of the late John Foster Dulles. When a man becomes secretary of state, everything he has written or said is examined and put under the magnifying glass. Rusk has eaten his own words silently and gracefully.

Rusk believes it is the function and duty of the President to make foreign policy. The duty of the secretary of state is to advise the President to the best of his ability and then go all out in implementing the policy of the Chief Executive. One of his principal contributions has been to reorganize the State Department so that expert advice is available to Kennedy around the clock.

Any cabinet officer and especially a secretary of state has to be judged on what he did and thought during the crisis and debacle of the invasion of Cuba in April of last year. This is a sore subject in the administration and all the facts will not come out for years.

The following account may be incorrect in some details, but it represents the best opinion of many persons who had access to some of the facts:

Rusk did not originate the idea of backing an invasion at the Bay of Pigs. The Central Intelligence Agency was the prime mover. But Rusk was at a meeting where Kennedy was briefed on the final arrangements, and the President went around the room asking everybody to speak his mind.

SUPPORTED INVASION

Rusk supported the invasion. The only dissenter, apparently, was chairman J. William Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

It fell to Rusk to announce the invasion at a news conference and this probably magnified his role in the mind of the public. He told reporters that there "is not now and will not be any United States intervention" in the military operations.

When it was apparent that the project was on the verge of disaster, Kennedy called another meeting. There was a strong demand that the President try to salvage the operation by throwing U.S. Air Force into action. Rusk argued strongly against that and Kennedy accepted his judgment.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy and Rusk are not close personal friends and when they meet it is "Mr. Secretary" and, of course, "Mr. President." They had never met before Kennedy invited Rusk to Palm Beach to size him up as a possible secretary of state.

Kennedy, backed by some reports from persons he respected, was impressed immediately by Rusk's grasp of international affairs. He announced Rusk's appointment on the front steps of his Pam Beach residence.

Rusk's name had not figured in the guessing games as prominently as had those of Adlai Stevenson, Chester Bowles and Fulbright.

Reporters said they needed some biographical material on the new secretary of state and Kennedy agreed to furnish it. Rusk had become obscure, so far as the national scene was concerned, in his job as president of the Rockefeller Foundation. He likes to operate that way.

Patrol Bomber Crashes, 9 Navy Reservists Die

SEAL BEACH, Calif. (AP)— A Navy P2V Neptune patrol bomber skimmed over rooftops of a heavily populated residential area Wednesday night, then crashed in flames at the naval ammunition and net depot here. The Navy said all nine aboard were killed.

★ ★ ★

The dead were reservists from Georgia, the Navy said. Identification was withheld pending notification of relatives.

★ ★ ★

A Navy spokesman said it has not been determined whether the pilot made a deliberate attempt to avoid residential areas but several witnesses and police theorized that this was the case.

★ ★ ★

The plane took off from Los Alamitos Naval Air Station, about three miles north of the depot, and crashed a short time later in a vacant field used for storing empty ammunition crates some distance from ammunition depositis.

★ ★ ★

Several witnesses said they saw the plane, trailing a long ribbon of flame, veer to the northeast in what appeared to be an attempt by the pilot to keep aloft until the bomber cleared the residential area.

★ ★ ★

The depot at Seal Beach, 28 miles southeast of Los Angeles, replenishes the fleet stationed at the Southern California bases of San Diego and Long Beach. The ammunition is kept underground. During wartime, the depot also supplies nets which are strung across harbors to prevent infiltration of enemy submarines.

Arrest 4 Suspects for War Crimes

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)— The Frankfurt chief prosecutor announced today the arrest of four German war crimes suspects. He said one confessed personally shooting at least 6,000 Russian Jews.

Two of the suspects were police officers on active duty in Frankfurt and Hamburg at the time of their arrest, prosecutor Heinz Wolff said. One was an official in the Frankfurt city administration.

The prosecutor said the four are suspected of having a part in the shooting of more than 20,000 Jews in White Russia and the Ukraine.

Youth Movement Sets GOP on the March in Deep South

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

ATLANTA (NEA) — The changing South stirs with the greatest two-party political ferment in this century as it heads into the fall election campaigns.

The Republican party, piloted mainly by a busy crop of young men, is building solidly in place after improbable place in an 11-state region long displayed on GOP maps as a vast "Democratic desert."

★ ★ ★

But these shifting tides should not be misjudged. Up to now they have produced occasionally striking but generally very modest gains at the polls.

Only the party's professional optimists shrug off caution in forecasting the results this Nov. 6 of the GOP's unprecedented 1962 effort.

This reporter's 3,200-mile swing through the Old South nevertheless found politicians, practiced observers and political scholars in wide agreement that the Republican upsurge is real.

★ ★ ★

Says Prof. Alexander Heard of the University of North Carolina: "There is a steady erosion of the one-party system in the South. The Republicans are showing increased and sustained virility at the grass roots."

Well publicized are such major 1962 bids as that of Republican Jack Cox for the Texas governorship and GOP nominee Williams D. Workman for the seat of Democratic U. S. Sen. Olin D. Johnston in South Carolina.

Yet the GOP also has mustered candidates for 57 of the Old South's 106 congressional seats, has named some 200 state legislative candidates in just Texas and North Carolina, not to mention 37 in Florida and 22 in Alabama, and is fielding dozens of county and local office bidders.

The already spotlighted young leaders, like State Chairman John Grenier (31) of Alabama, Wirt Yerger (32) of Mississippi, Tad Smith (34) of Texas, and Robert Chapman (37) of South Carolina, supply the driving energy that produced this greatly expanded Republican ticket in the South.

★ ★ ★

They are backed up by countless eager young horses who find well-populated, carefully guarded Democratic pastures largely closed to them.

MORE STABLE

All sources concur that the chief mark of change is the continuity of organization. In states like Mississippi and Alabama, party outfits which once operated from briefcases and transient filing cabinets now have permanent headquarters, full-time staffs, badly needed office equipment.

The day of the patronage-minded "post office Republican" seems ended.

The hard-working newcomers, who often came to power by thrusting Old Guarders aside, want to put up candidates, want to win, insist that defeat won't stop them. They take heart from signs of mounting Democratic concern.

Says Grenier of Alabama: "The Democrats in my state are setting up a fall campaign committee for the first time in a hundred years.

"Sen. Lister Hill (who has a GOP opponent, James D. Martin) says he's coming home this year to 'campaign for the ticket'."

Though Grenier, Yerger and others are building party machinery at the precinct level in many spots, they quickly concede that bad gaps continue.

Many counties, and occasionally a whole section, cannot boast any organization at all.

Louisiana is a particularly dark patch in the picture.

In New Orleans, the GOP parish (county) headquarters reeks from the many actions now recently had to move from a visible ground floor location to a $37 a month upstairs office off the beaten track.

Party leadership is said to be faltering in Louisiana at a moment when opportunity seems to be beckoning.

Democratic Gov. Jimmie Davis is batting off charges of fiscal irresponsibility. The dominant Democrats are faction-ridden.

Comments one veteran observer: "Louisiana is ripe for reform, but no reformers are in sight."

Where Republicans are busier and more effective, they are drawing both their vineyard workers and many of their candidates from the ranks of conservative Democrats disgruntled over the Kennedy administration's "liberal tone" in economic, social and racial matters.

Atlanta is the one major exception to this. There the GOP itself presents a more moderate face, and has long worked with Negroes in party affairs.

More typical is the attitude found in this appeal, planted in an issue of the Mississippi Republican News:

"WANTED: Conservatives by Conviction and Action — Not Conversation. Long hours, no pay. Opportunity unlimited, for male or female, to make his mark for Americanism."

RESIGNATION RALLIES

In Texas, thousands of conservative Democrats, feeling psychologically displaced, publicly broke old ties in mass "resignation rallies" and moved toward Republican ranks.

Insofar as these shifts tend to identify new Republican growth with maintenance of racial segregation in Deep South strongholds, some controversy is being aroused.

At the national party level, some Republicans suggest that such an identity for the GOP in the South may "give us some short-run triumphs but be bad for the long-pull."

★ ★ ★

Chairman Yerger of Mississippi sees it just the other way around. He views the coming to power of the young "new breed" as a clean-out, not just of Old Guard elements indifferent to victory but of some who may be moderate or liberal on the desegregation issue.

"As a matter of fact," he says, "the Republican National Committee in Washington ought to be cleaned out from top to bottom."

GOLDWATER A HERO

Except among some Atlanta Republicans, Sens. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and John Tower of Texas are the GOP heroes in the South.

Republican strength in Southern states, aside from its long established enclaves in the Appalachian Mountains, is centered heavily in cities and suburbs.

In 1960, the GOP presidential ticket won out in 42 of 53 big southern cities. Richard Nixon took Birmingham, Ala., Memphis, Tenn., and Dallas, Houston and Fort Worth in Texas — to single out the five biggest he captured.

Southern political scholars and others think this trend, with emphasis on the suburbs, will continue in the years ahead.

They find Republican urban gains rooted in the steady rise of a white-collar middle class linked closely with the South's rapidly developing industrial economy.

★ ★ ★

So far this city strength has been mostly felt in presidential elections, when Republican nominees three times running have polled roughly half the South's total vote. But here and there the bite is reaching into lesser races.

Dallas has had a Republican congressman since 1954. Says an aide to a top Texas Democrat: "Dallas is gone."

REAPPORTIONMENT

Should effective legislative reapportionment result in southern taken or under way, Republicans in the cities are expected to be the chief gainers in this region. The exact opposite is looked for elsewhere in the nation.

With the striking down of Georgia's county unit system, which heavily weighted the rural vote against the cities, Republicans in Atlanta may ultimately gain additional new strength.

Except in Florida, and to some extent Texas, southern political experts do not confirm that a "steady influx of northerners" drawn by industry is a measurable contributing factor in GOP growth. They doubt such an influx.

The specialists find the seeds of that development within the South itself.

They find its proofs in seven GOP congressmen, 53 state legislators, including 17 in North Carolina and two in South Carolina, 100 local GOP officials in Florida, even a Republican county attorney in Mississippi.

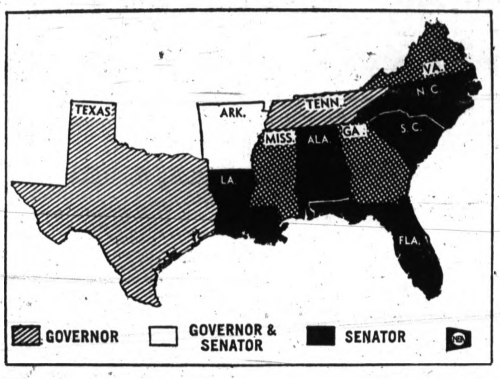

Only Louisiana now shows a total Republican blank.

GOP leaders in the South and in Washington talk of enlarging these gains mightily in 1962.

They are sobered by polls which show Democratic strength in the region little changed from 1960. Still they insist their vastly stepped-up effort has to pay off in some degree.

The impartial viewers look cautiously at 1962. But they believe the two-party system is now a reality in the South in form — and one day soon will begin yielding regular, important Republican victories.

BATTLEGROUND — Extent of Republican drive throughout 11 states of the Deep South is indicated. Chances of GOP success, however, range from possible to nonexistent. There are neither gubernatorial nor senatorial races in Mississippi and Virginia. GOP is not contesting the Democratic nominees for the Senate and governor's office in Georgia and the governor's office in South Carolina and Alabama.

Register Gals at UCLA but It's Phony

LOS ANGELES (AP)—It's registration week at the University of California at Los Angeles. So it wasn't surprising when 400 coeds checked in at a campus table where a sign proclaimed, "Frosh Women Register Here."

The table was manned by two 19-year-old students, Steven Chodos and Fred Fryden.

Each of the coeds was asked to sign her name, address an telephone number.

The table and the young men had nothing to do with registration. It was just their way of getting some female phone numbers.

Collins' Traffic Ticket Brings Police Into Case

LANSING (UPI) — State police today investigated a case in which a sergeant assigned to the staff of Gov. John B. Swainson interceded in behalf of state Democratic Chairman John J. (Joe) Collins after Collins had been issued a speeding ticket.

The man was identified as Sgt. John R. Plants. Identification was made by a state police spokesman and Justice of the Peace Leonard C. Rouse of Leslie.

Rouse was asked by Plants to dismiss charges or not forward the record of the case to the secretary of state's office, the justice said. Rouse said he refused because he "could be removed from office" for complying with Plants' request.

Plants made his request to the justice in January, Rouse said. State police spokesmen say Trooper Thomas G. Meehleder, the man who issued the ticket, approached Rouse Feb. 1 and asked the charge be dropped. Rouse then dismissed the case.

★ ★ ★

State police were investigating the case, a spokesman said.

When Meehleder approached Rouse on the matter, he was stationed at the East Lansing post. He was transferred to the East Tawas post in March. He refused to comment on the matter.

Collins was given the ticket last Dec. 22 on U.S. 127 between Leslie and Mason. The charge was going 75 miles an hour in a 65 m.p.h. zone.

★ ★ ★

When the ticket was given, Collins had nine points against him in a two-year period for traffic offenses. Conviction on the speeding charge would have resulted in a hearing on license revocation or suspension.

Merger Probe Scored Again

Ingram Prosecutor Renews Battle; Kelley Refuses to Fight

LANSING (AP) — Ingham County Prosecutor Leo A. Farhat yesterday rekindled his running battle with Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley over the state probe of an insurance company merger, but Kelley refused to join the battle.

Farhat demanded anew that Kelley explain why the investigation of the merger of two insurance companies and alleged misuse of funds "has taken four and a half months."

He said Kelley was obligated to explain this in view of the fact that other cases, including the Senate apportionment issue and the investigation of lobbying were completed in several weeks.

Kelley replied curtly that Farhat's statement "is so obviously motivated by politics that I will not comment on it."

★ ★ ★

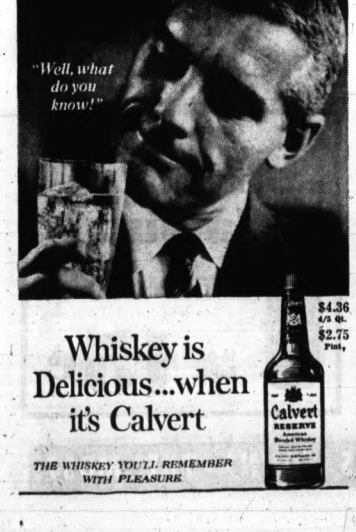

He said the insurance company merger probe is still under way and "upon its conclusion any indicated appropriate action will be taken."

The merger of the Detroit Metropolitan Assurance Co., operated by the family of U.S. Rep. Charles Diggs, D-Mich., and the mammoth Life and Accident Company of Kentucky, is the subject of the investigation.

Farhat contends the probe is being delayed for political reasons.

No roof for an extra bath? Consider utilizing two "back to back" closets with the partition removed, Anaconda plumbing specialists advise. Recent development of lightweight copper tube for drainage, they point out, makes possible construction of second bathrooms in areas as small as 3x5 feet.

Jam Making Is Worth While

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

How do your shelves that hold jam and jelly and pickles look right now? Mine are empty except for some pear jam I've been neglecting for about three years. Let's hope you have some time to fill up those shelves in the next few weeks.

Grapes make such good jam and jelly that I like to give you recipes every year. You can easily find the recipe for plain jelly, but here are two others you'll like.

Grape Conserve

4 cups prepared grapes
1 medium sized orange
4 cups sugar
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup seedless raisins
½ cup chopped nuts

Wash, drain, stem and measure grapes. Press grapes to remove skins. Save skins. Cook grapes in own juice until soft. Gently press through sieve to remove seeds.

Peel and discard thin yellow part from half of the orange. Put rest of orange, except seeds, through food chopper or blender. Should be finely chopped. Chop grape skins the same way.

Put orange, grape skins and ½ cup water into preserving kettle. Cover and let boil slowly until the peel is tender. Then add all other ingredients except nuts. Boil rapidly almost to jellying point or to about 9 degrees above the boiling point of water in your locality. Add nuts 2 or 3 minutes before removing conserve from heat.

Pour boiling hot conserve to within about ⅛ inch of the top of half pint or pint fruit jars. Put dome lid on jar; screw band tight.

Grape Velvet

Note: This is a jam with velvety appearance when spread.

6½ cups prepared fully ripe grapes (takes 4 or 5 pounds Concords)
1 box fruit pectin
7½ cups sugar
¼ teaspoon salt

Wash, drain and stem grapes. Press to separate grapes from skin and simmer in covered pan until soft. Press through sieve to remove seeds. Liquidize skins in food blender or grind as fine as possible.

Add skins to sieved pulp, measure into 4 to 6 quart kettle and add pectin. Stir over high heat until mixture reaches a full boil. Add sugar and salt. Bring to fast rolling boil. Boil exactly one minute.

Remove from heat, quickly skim off foam and pour boiling hot jam to within ⅛ inch of top of half pint jars. Put dome lid on jar; screw band tight. Makes 8 or 9 half pints.

★ ★ ★

Pears and maraschino cherries, along with crushed pineapple, make a pretty and tasty jam.

Paradise Pear Jam

4½ cups prepared fruit (about 20 red maraschino cherries, ½ cup finely chopped citron, 1 orange, 1 lemon, about 2 lbs. ripe pears, 1 can (9 ounces) crushed pineapple)
5 cups (2¼ lbs.) granulated sugar
1 box (1¾ ounces) powdered fruit pectin

First, prepare the fruit. Chop about 20 maraschino cherries, or enough to make ¼ cup. Chop citrin to make ½ cup. Remove skins in quarters from orange and lemon. Lay quarters flat; shave off and discard about half of white part. With sharp knife or scissors, slice remaining rind fine. Section and chop peeled orange and lemon, discarding seeds. Peel and core about 2 pounds fully ripe pears; then grind. Combine all fruits, including pineapple. Measure 4½ cups into a large saucepan.

★ ★ ★

Then make the jam. Measure sugar and set aside. Add fruit pectin to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once stir in sugar. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and skim off foam with metal spoon. Then stir and skim by turns for about 5 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into glasses. Cover jam at once with ⅛ inch hot paraffin.

A reader asked recently for a recipe for Watermelon Pickles. They're so good it's worth the trouble they are to make. And your youngsters will help by eating the watermelon out of the rind for you.

Watermelon Pickles

Rind from 1 medium-sized watermelon
1 cup salt
2 tablespoons powdered alum
2 tablespoons whole cloves
2 tablespoons stick cinnamon
2 tablespoons whole allspice
9 cups sugar
7 cups vinegar

Trim green skin and pink meat from rind. Cut rind into cubes or any other desired shape. Place in large bowl, sprinkle with salt, and add enough cold water to cover. Let stand overnight. Next day wash rind and drain well. Sprinkle alum into enough boiling water to cover rind. Add rind and cook until tender. Drain and wash thoroughly.

Tie whole cloves, stick cinnamon, and whole allspice into cloth bag or place inside tea ball. Boil spices, sugar, and vinegar together until syrup is thick. Add rind and cook until clear.

Remove from heat and let rind stand in syrup overnight. Next day pour off syrup, bring to boil, and pour over rind which has been arranged in sterilized jars. Seal jars. Yield: 6 pints.

GRAPE JAM — You'll feel so proud of yourself when you finish a batch of grape jelly, grape conserve or grape "Velvet." And next winter the family will applaud you for giving them such a delicious spread for their breakfast toast. Take time out to put a few jars of jam or jelly — or some pickles on your storage shelves.

Oil-Fried Tomatoes Rate High in Flavor

For 6 large ripe tomatoes, shake together 1 cup flour, ¾ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon black pepper, 1 teaspoon minced or frozen dill (optional). Cut tomatoes into thick slices, shake two or three slices at a time in the flour mixture. Heat ½ cup Spanish olive oil in heavy skillet, add the tomato slices, cook until golden on one side.

Those slices that become very soft during the frying should be used for the sauce; drain off excess olive oil, replace soft tomatoes in the pan, add remaining flour mixture and slowly stir in 1 cup broth (beef or chicken may be used if made with onion bouillon cube (or preferred).

Try Pears Tempura With Barbecues

What to serve at your barbecue? Fruit tempura, dusted in flour and then in egg white. The world's most fool-proof batter.

★ ★ ★

Frech California Bartletts will be in the markets until well into October. Use this luscious fruit as it comes from the grocers, icy cold, or wrap it in foil with cubes of sugar and toss it on the coals with ears of corn and chunks of potato.

Fruit Tempura

4 fresh Bartlett pears
Flour
2 egg whites
1 tablespoon sugar
Dash of salt
Other fruit optional
Fat for deep frying

Wash pears, halve and core them and slice thickly. Dip slices in flour, then in mixture of egg white, sugar and salt. Fry in deep fat at a moderately hot temperature (375) degrees) until fruit slices are golden. Serve hot with vinegar and soy sauce as an accompaniment to entrees or dust in confectioner's sugar for dessert. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

In 1917 the United States produced a million bushels of soybeans. This year the output approaches 600 million bushels. The largest soy-growing states are Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Missouri and Minnesota.

Navy or Kidney Beans Make Different Salads

Some prefer it first, some like it last, while others enjoy salad best right with the meal. No matter how you serve it the success of a salad is in a happy marriage of flavors, textures and color. Different and delicious are these salads that combine beans with crisp fresh vegetables and tangy dressings. They're at their best when made a bit ahead and allowed to meld and chill in the refrigerator.

Queen Frederika Salad

4 cups cooked Michigan Navy beans (boiled til just tender)
½ cup sliced green onion
1 cup sliced radishes
½ cup diced cucumber
2 tomatoes, cut in wedges
¼ cup diced black olives
1 teaspoon chopped parsley
1 teaspoon chopped dill
3 tablespoons salad oil
6 tablespoons vinegar
Lettuce leaves
Salt and pepper to taste

Mix all ingredients thoroughly except tomatoes which will top the salad. Serve on lettuce leaves. Serves 10.

★ ★ ★

Summer Medley Salad

2 cans (1-lb. each) kidney beans drained
½ cup diced celery
1 cup shredded cabbage
½ cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ teaspoon Tabasco
½ teaspoon MSG
¼ teaspoon onion salt
Salt, pepper, seasoning salt
¼ cup chopped sweet pickle
1 cup diced yellow cheese
Salad greens

Mix all ingredients except salad greens. Serve on a bed of salad greens. Makes 6 servings.

Certain Signs Say Melons Are Ripe

When picking out cantaloupes, inspect the stem end. It should be slightly sunken, smooth and well calloused. Softness at the stem end is often considered a sign of ripeness.

Be sure the netting or webbing of the cantaloupe is well raised, coarse, dry and greyish in color. It should stand out sharply over the entire surface of the melon.

The color beneath the netting should be light or yellow tinged. If it is too deep a color, the melon may be over-ripe.

Ripe melons should be wrapped in wax paper, or put in a plastic bag or sealed container before being put in the refrigerator to prevent the mingling of the melon aroma with other foods.

Chocolate Flavored Syrup Makes Yummy Cookies for School Set

Have you ever seen a hungrier child than one just home from school? This is the time of year when you will want to keep the cooky jar filled to the brim, not only for after-school snacks but also adding a homemade touch to the daily lunchbox.

Our excuse for going on a cooky binge the day after school starts is that the youngsters aren't around to gobble the cookies the minute they come from the oven.

Spice Snaps

- 1¾ cups sifted flour
- ½ teaspoon soda
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon cinnamon
- ⅛ teaspoon cloves
- ⅛ teaspoon ginger
- ½ cup corn oil margarine
- ¾ cup sugar
- 1 egg white
- Fortified chocolate flavored syrup

Sift together flour, soda, salt and spices. Cream margarine and sugar. Add egg white and beat until light and fluffy. Add sifted dry ingredients and mix well. Shape into two 1¼-inch rolls.

Wrap rolls in waxed paper and chill several hours or overnight. Slice ⅛-inch thick and place on greased cooky sheet.

★ ★ ★

Dip tines of a fork in chocolate syrup and draw lightly across top of each cookie, making a waffle effect. Bake in a 350 degree (moderate) oven 8 to 10 minutes. Makes about 3 dozen cookies.

Chocolate Date - Nut Squares

- 2-3 cup sifted flour
- ½ teaspoon baking powder
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1-3 cup corn oil margarine
- ¾ cup sugar
- 1-3 cup fortified chocolate flavored syrup
- 2 eggs
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- ½ cup chopped walnuts
- ½ cup chopped dates

Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Cream margarine in mixing bowl. Gradually add sugar; cream until light. Blend in chocolate flavored syrup, then add eggs and beat until light and fluffy. Fold in dry ingredients. Stir in vanilla, nuts and dates.

Turn into greased 8x8x2-inch baking pan. Bake in 350 degree (moderate) oven, 35 to 40 minutes. Cool. Cut into squares. Makes 9 large or 16 small squares.

Chocolate Twosomes

- 2 cups sifted flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- ½ teaspoon baking soda
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1-3 cup corn oil margarine
- ¾ cup sugar
- ½ cup dairy sour cream
- 1-3 cup light corn syrup
- 2 eggs, beaten
- ¼ teaspoon lemon extract
- ½ cup creamy peanut butter
- ½ cup fortified chocolate flavored syrup
- 1 tablespoon milk

Sift flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt together. Cream margarine and sugar in mixing bowl until light and fluffy. Beat in sour cream, syrup, eggs and lemon extract, blending well. Stir in sifted dry ingredients. Chill 1 hour.

Drop by teaspoonfuls onto well greased cooky sheet, about 1½ inches apart. Bake in 400 degree oven until edges brown lightly and centers are still white, 5 to 6 minutes. Cool on wire rack.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, blend peanut butter, with chocolate flavored syrup and milk. Spread bottom of cool cookies with chocolate peanut butter filling and stick together. Makes about 3 dozen.

Broccoli and Celery Cheese Sauce Fine

An unusual combination of a fresh and frozen vegetable that has excellent flavor.

Broccoli and Celery Frances

- 1 package (10 ounces) frozen chopped broccoli
- 1½ cups thin celery crescents
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup milk
- ½ cup grated sharp cheddar cheese

Cook the broccoli according to package directions using the amount of water and salt called for. Drain; to broccoli cooking liquid add enough boiling water to make 1 cup; add celery to liquid and cook rapidly, covered, just until tender-crisp; drain.

★ ★ ★

Melt the butter over low heat; stir in the flour; add milk; cook and stir constantly until thickened; stir in cheese. Mix cooked drained broccoli and celery with cheese sauce adding salt and pepper to taste. Reheat but do not boil. Makes 4 servings.

MOLDED MASHED POTATO SALAD — A new look in potato salads is this pretty one molded in a ring mold. Made with instant mashed poatoes the salad is briskly seasoned with onion, mustard and pickle relish and has chopped egg and celery for additional interest. Carry it out to the porch or patio for the main dish of a pleasant summertime supper.

PCH Meets Oldest Rival, Waterford Resumes Series at Keego

Chiefs to Play Host to Flint Central 11

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Even during the good years, Pontiac Central found its longest rival Flint Central to be its toughest.

The two teams started competition agianst each other in 1910 and in 46 games played through the years, Flint Central's advantage stands at 34 wins, 10 losses and two ties.

Pontiac has never been able to win two straight games in successive season, although the Chiefs won in 1919, had a year lapse in 1920 and then won again in 1921.

Since then the Indians have had their way with the Chiefs, having lost only to Pontiac five times in 37 years of consecutive meetings.

★ ★ ★

Last victory for Pontiac Central was in 1952 and ironically it was the only Saginaw Valley League victory of the season for the Chiefs who finished 4-3-1 overall and 1-4 in the VC under coach Herc Renda. The score that year was 21-18.

"I understand it was in the stone age when Pontiac last beat Flint Central," said coach Paul Dellerba to the Chiefs as he tried to point out that the Indians were not invincible.

At least he feels if he is going to beat Flint Central this could be the year.

FC SURPRISE

Coach Bob Leach of Flint Central has only two regulars back from last year's team which finished a surprising third in the SVC behind Bay City Handy and Midland and one step ahead of Bay City Central.

"We should have a good ball club as the season goes along," said Leach and we may be able to surprise a few teams."

Last year at halftime the game stood 6-6 in Flint's Atwood Stadium, when a couple fumbles and breaks in the second half brought the Indians through 26-6.

The game will feature junior sized quarterbacks. Flint Central will have 133 pound senior, Ira Edwards while PCH will go along with 145 pounder Randy Stiles, also a senior.

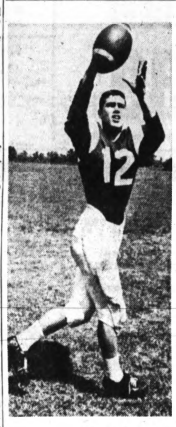

Newcomers will add beef to Flint Central line with 225 pound Joe Eufinger and 200 pound Joe Peacock at tackles. The Indian ends Bob Langenau and Mel Summers are hefty 195 pound veterans.

The Chiefs may have the speed advantage with backs Chuck Humphrey and Jessie Hodges as starters.

Game time Friday night is 8:00 p.m. It will be the first game under the new Wisner Stadium lights and it would seem appropriate that the longest rival on the schedule, Flint Central, should be the opponent.

Vikings and Milford Score X-Country Wins

Opening the area cross-country season with victories last night were Walled Lake and Milford winning 15-45 and 26-33 consecutively over Pontiac Northern and Fenton. The visiting Vikings took the first four places and guest Fenton three of the first six.

Finishing order in the PN-Walled Lake meet: Rich Speck (WL) 11:52, Charles Gross (WL), Don Balkwell (WL), Richard Straight (WL), Gary Cobb (PN), Frank Darlington (WL), Allen Wadley (PN).

Milford-Fenton top finishers were Jerry Stiles, (F), John Heurtebise (M), Bill Neson (M), Jim Mann (F), Mike Lee (F), and Harold Faught (M).

Colonial Net Meet Starts

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—With a sprinkling of international flavor, the Colonial National Invitation Tennis Tournament makes its debut Thursday at the Colonial Country Club.

Headed by top-ranked Australian Roy Emerson and U.S. Davis Cupper Chuck McKinley there will be a 16-player field.

★ ★ ★

Also included in the field are Mexico's Davis Cup captain, Pancho Contreras, and his two top players, Rafael Osuna and Antonio Palafox.

Another top-notch Aussie, Fred Stolle, and Ham Richardson of Dallas, formerly the top-ranked player in the United States, also will compete.

Jon Douglas of Santa Monica, Calif., America's fourth-ranked netter last year, and eight lesser knowns round out the field.

The only two seeds are Emerson and McKinley.

Skippers Play Former Rival W. Bloomfield

Walled Lake Is Host to Kettering; Clarkston Home to Oxford

By CHUCK ABAIR

Some old memories are expected to be stirred up tomorrow night when a popular former prep football series is renewed as one of the highlights of the opening round of another new season.

★ ★ ★

Waterford and Keego Harbor gridders will tangle for the 1st time since 1956 and the game will be at the West Bloomfield High field.

Looking over the two clubs, the schools figure to pick up where they left off staging interesting battles.

The Skippers had taken command in the final years. They won the last three meetings under the direction of departed coach Dave Freeman 12-6, 58-0 and 35-18. West Bloomfield wes known as Keego Harbor High then, Present assistant Charley Guinnip was head man two of those seasons and Dale Nelson was boss for the final meeting.

KEEGO HAD SPREE

Waterford's strong closing finish helped make up for a similar loss string of 7-6, 6-0 and 13-6 from 1950 through 1952 with Guinnip besting teams bossed by Waldo Ashley. The 1953 game was a scoreless deadlock under the same pair.

Guinnip will be right in the thick of things again helping Art Paddy direct the Lakers. Ashley and Freeman are almost certain to be on hand as spectators. The group can do plenty of reminiscing when its over.

There will be several other rivalry duels and some Saginaw Valley battles to make up a big 1st day schedule, Saturday and Sunday will also be busy as King Football moves in strong.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Central has been impressive in drills but the Chiefs face tough Flint Central right off the bat at Wisner. Hi Becker moved to Saginaw Arthur Hill after directing Bay City Handy to the Valley and state crowns. So who to his 1st opponent? Handy, of course, and at Bay City. Midland will invade Flint Northern rounding out the SVC Friday slate.

Kettering will meet Walled Lake for the 1st time in football at the Viking field. Predicted powers Berkley and Ferndale meet Groves and Seaholm clash at Birmingham. Rochester takes the familiar road to Utica as do Milford to Avondale and Oxford to Clarkston.

ROMEO HOME

Some of the others will have Romeo host to Richmond, Northville at Plymouth, Southfield vs Royal Oak Kimball, Brighton against South Lyon, Fitzgerald meeting Hazel Park, Lakeview at Mt. Clemens, Lamphere traveling to Clawson, Lapeer against Flushing, Troy is at Warren and Ortonville plays Almont.

Also, North Branch — Marlette, Deckerville-Brown City, Clintondale-Armada, Algonac-Anchor Bay, Flint Southwestern-Port Huron, Dryden-Peck, Imlay City-Marine City, Roseville-Warren Lincoln, Royal Oak Dondero-East Detroit, Mt. Clemens St. Louis-New Haven.

Actually opening the grid year will be afternoon games which will have Bloomfield Hills at Oak Park and Edsel Ford at Farmington.

★ ★ ★

The 4th annual Lake Orion-Pontiac Northern lidlifter will headline the Saturday card. They will play at Wisner. Bay City Central will go to Saginaw Saturday and Emmanuel Christian vs Cherry Hill at Avondale.

Aetion in the new Northwest Catholic League opens Sunday afternoon with St. Fred vs St. Mike the big one at Wisner. Orchard Lake and Waterford Our Lady will be away, the latter for a non-loop affair.

Heavyweights in America's Race

This is the month for heavyweights in the water, as well as in the ring.

In the water, defending the America's cup against Australia's $560,000 challenger Gretel, will be the four-year-old Weatherly and its skipper, 40-year-old Emil (Bus) Mosbacher.

★ ★ ★

The best four-out-of-seven races are being held in the Atlantic ocean, about 11 miles south of Newport, R. I., and about 17 miles east of Block island.

To be more specific, each race starts nine miles SS E of the Brenton Reef lightship.

Courses are alternately windward-leeward and triangular, of 24 miles each. The first race Saturday is six miles to windward and return, twice around.

The second race of the series will be over a triangular course, three legs of eight miles each.

The last America's Cup races were held in 1958 when Columbia beat Great Britain's Sceptre in four straight tests. It was the 18th victory for America in this great series started in 1851.

Never has America been beaten in these matches. The score is 50 to 5 in individual races, and not since 1934 has America lost so much as a heat.

★ ★ ★

That year Rainbow beat Britain's Endeavour, 4 races to 2, to retain the $100 trophy.

Races are held on succeeding weekdays, unless one contestant requests a one-day layoff.

The rules say the match could last until late October but only stormy weather would create this possibility.

BIG BREEZE

The races often are held in winds up to 20 knots and in ocean racing this is considered a breeze.

The Weatherly, built for the 1958 tests, is not the same sluggish 12-meter sloop that beat only the hapless Easterner in 1958 trials against Columbia and Vim.

Weatherly's stern is 22 inches shorter than before. She has a new flatter keel, is about a half-ton lighter in the hull and on deck and her wooden boom has been replaced with an aluminum one.

Hand rails, a third coffee-grinder winch, heavy bronze framing, cabin fittings and seats have been discarded. Also a beer cooler and a wooden pipe rack.

Weatherly is now a superior racing yacht and in Mosbacher she has just about the best skipper around. He is best noted for his job with the 20-year-old Vim in 1958.

Vim gave Columbia a real battle in the trials. Last year, Bus skippered Easterner on almost even terms with Weatherly and Columbia.

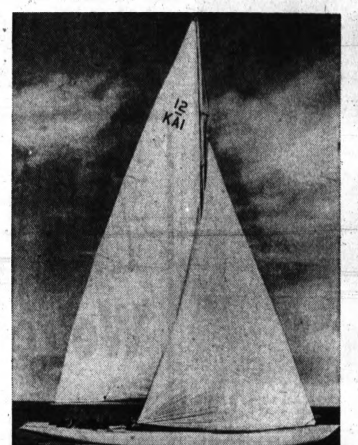

★ ★ ★

A weak crew can foul up the best boat but a strong crew can lead the second best yacht across the finish line first. Mosbacher has picked his crew for seamanship and compatability.

The America's Cup really is the heavyweight of racing for it receives more fanfare than all other sailing put together.

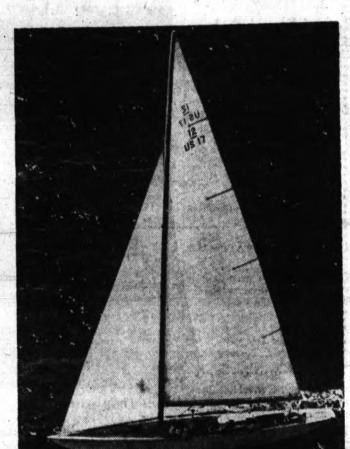

"You know who is fighting for Or as Mosbacher says:

the heavyweight boxing title but who can name the flyweight champion?"

Cards Drop No. 1 Pick

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Football Cardinals brought their roster down to the 36-player limit Wednesday by releasing their No. 1 draft choice, tackle Fate Echols from Northwestern.

Errors Help Bosox Win Two

Heat at Tiger 'Hot Corner'

DETROIT (AP) — Third base is known as the hot corner — and the heat is on the Tigers to find somebody who can play there.

What's happened at third base the last two days has sent manager Bob Scheffing's temperature to the boiling point. Scheffing has stationed four players at third base in three games. He hasn't found anyone who can play it with professional adequacy.

The net result has been four errors, assorted other mistakes and three lost games.

Three of the errors were committed yesterday as the Tigers' losing streak climbed to four with an 8-6, 6-1 doubleheader loss to the Boston Red Sox.

"I wonder how many errors we've made at third base this year," sighed Scheffing, scanning the Tigers' statistics sheet which didn't have the figures broken down. "It's been an awful lot — and the scorers have been very liberal, too."

★ ★ ★

Scheffing used rookie Frank Kostro at third Tuesday against the Yankees. He let a bunt roll through his legs, helping the Yanks to a three-run inning in their 8-7 victory. Larry Osborne was the third baseman in the Red Sox opener. His boot of a routine grounder enabled Boston to score two unearned runs in the third. He was unable to catch a foul pop most third baseмen would have handled in the eighth although there was no error.

But it gave Carl Yastrzemski an extra chance and he singled. The hit kept the Red Sox going as they scored two runs for a 5-4 lead.

Rocky Colavito sent the Tigers right back ahead with a two-run homer. But more bad third base play started Boston's winning three-run outburst in the ninth.

Steve Boros replaced Osborne and threw low on Pumpsie Green's routine hopper. Green was credited with a scratch hit. And after a walk, Eddie Bressoud won the game with a three-run homer.

Dick McAuliffe moved over from second base for the nightcap. And he made two errors, both on throws from third base.

"I guess the less that's said right now about third base the better," said Scheffing, when asked if a new third baseman would be the Tigers' No. 1 objective in the off-season market. "We need infield help, that's for sure. Our infield play has been poor. I'll bet we haven't played 40 games without an error this year."

Lately Chico Fernandez' play at shortstop has been the only reliable work done in the infield.

The double loss brought the Tigers back to the .500 mark — 73-73. And the magic number to eliminate them officially from the pennant race was reduced to two.

Colavito and Norm Cash both strengthened their bids to win the home run title. The Rock cracked two homers in the first game, his 34th and 35th. Cash belted his 35th off the right field roof following Colavito's first one.

American Imports to Bolster Argos

TORONTO (AP) — The Toronto Argonauts signed five American imports Wednesday in a move to get the Eastern Football Conference club rolling after five defeats in as many outings.

To make room for the newcomers, the Argos have requested waivers on tackle Tom Jones and will chop four others from the roster.

The newcomers are Jerry Wilson, 235-pound end and linebacker; Zeke Smith, 250-pound guard; Tom Mauldin, defense halfback; Lebron Shields, 250-pound offensive tackle and defenseive end; and Aubrey Linne, 230-pound two-day tackle.

All have had professional experience with either the National or American Football League.

Cheney Whiffs 21 for Record

By The Associated Press

With that American League pennant scramble reaching its climax, the least likely team you'd expect to hear from would be Washington, but a 21-strikeout salute by Senators' pitcher Tom Cheney has grabbed the spotlight from the battling contenders.

Cheney, a 27-year-old right-hander who has labored sporadically and unspectacularly in five previous major league campaigns, sent up his salute Wednesday night by striking out 21 batters in 16 innings for an all-time major league one-game record en route to a 2-1 victory over Baltimore.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, it began to look like taps-blowing time for New York's pursuers in the pennant race. The Yankees ballooned their bulge as Mickey Mantle hit a three-run homer and powered the defending world champions to a 5-2 decision over Cleveland.

BIG LOSSES

The second-place Los Angeles Angels lost to Kansas City 4-1 and fell five games back while third-place Minnesota bowed to the Chicago White Sox 2-1 in 12 innings and dropped 5 lengths off the pace.

That left the Yanks' magic pennant-clinching number at 10. Any combination of 10 New York victories and-or Los Angeles defeats will give the Yankees their 12th pennant in the last 14 years.

In the other AL games, Boston swept a doubleheader from Detroit 8-6 and 6-2.

Cheney, a slender 6-foot-2 hurler who started out in the St. Louis system, struck out the side in the third and fifth innings, wound up nine innings with 13 strikeouts, then continued his streak in extra-innings as the Orioles reached the height—and length—of futility.

Cheney's performance topped the all-time mark of 19, set back in 1884 by Charles Sweeney of Providence in the National League and Hugh Dailey of Chicago in the Union Association. It also betters the modern standard of 18 accomplished six times by four different pitchers.

★ ★ ★

Cheney brought his record to 6-8 when Bud Zipfel homered off Dick Hall (6-6) for the game-winner in the 16th. The Georgia-born pitcher, who came to the Senators from Pittsburgh in a trade for Tom Sturdivant, had a 3-7 record in a major league career that began in 1957 before getting his chance at Washington.

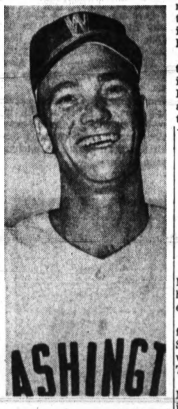

TAKE LEAD

Mantle's homer off Pedro Ramos put the Yankees ahead 4-2 in the fifth inning after the Indians had moved out front on Chuck Essegian's two-run homer in the fourth. That wrapped it up for the Yankees as Whitey Ford (16-7) checked the Indians on six hits. Ramos (4-12), a right-hander, pitched with a broken finger on his left hand.

★ ★ ★

The A's rode a four-hitter by Orlando Pena (4-3) to their victory over the Angels. Los Angeles' lone run came when Lee Thomas homered in the ninth inning. Kansas City tagged Bo Belinsky (almost a teammate) (9-10) with the loss, scoring all the runs Pena needed in the fifth on run-producing hits by the pitcher and batterymate Haywood Sullivan. Belinsky was making his first start against the A's since Commissioner Ford Frick ruled he could not be traded to Kansas City.

Sherm Lollar stroked a two-out single in the 12th scoring Al Smith with the winning run for the White Sox as they handed the Twins their fourth consecutive setback.

STRIKEOUT KING — Washington pitcher Tom Cheney carries wide grin after fanning 21 Orioles to set new American League record last night. The game went 16 innings.

Moore Is Back on Colt Team but Injured

BALTIMORE (AP) — Lenny Moore, the Baltimore Colts' star halfback, didn't stay on the waiver list very long.

Moore, whose left kneecap was fractured in the exhibition loss Sunday to the Pittsburgh Steelers, was placed on the waiver list Tuesday.

At the time, the Colts said Moore would be taken off the list if another club claimed him.

Lenny's name was scratched suddenly Wednesday when four other National Football League clubs put in bids for him.

It means that Moore will have to be carried on the Colts' active roster until he returns to action.

Willie Mays Collapses

Redlegs Stop Giants' Surge

By The Associated Press

The Los Angeles Dodgers won their game.

The San Francisco Giants lost their game—and Willie Mays.

The Cincinnati Reds won their game—but lost Joey Jay.

And that combination of events may provide the Dodgers the opening for a break through in the tension-filled National League race.

A home run by Frank Howard and the tight relief pitching of unbeaten Ed Roebuck and Ron Perranoski lifted the Dodgers to a 1-0 victory over Houston Wednesday night and into a 1½ game lead over runner-up San Francisco. The Giants were 4-1 losers to the third-place Reds, still 3½ behind, as Frank Robinson powered the way for the winners with two homers.

★ ★ ★ ★

Mays and Jay were casualties in the key struggle at Cincinnati, and any extended layoff by either of these star performers could doom the title chances of his club.

MAYS COLLAPSES

Mays, the majors' top home run hitter with 43 and the Giants' leader in their pennant drive, collapsed of what was described as an attack of indigestion in the third inning. The brilliant center fielder was unconscious when he was carried off the field but came to before being taken to the hospital.

★ ★ ★ ★

Jay, a 21-game winning right-hander, was sent to the hospital a short time later after a batted ball struck the index finger of his pitching hand.

In the only other NL game, Denny LeMaster threw a six-hitter as Milwaukee trounced Philadelphia 9-0.

The Dodgers managed just three hits off Ken Johnson and Don McMahon, but the big one by Howard was enough for the Pete Richert-Roebuck-Perranoski trio. Richert held off the Colts through three innings, but in the fourth he gave up a single to Roman Mejias and a bunt hit to Carl Warwick with none out. Roebuck then made his 53rd trip to the mound this season, and after a sacrifice and an intentional walk, Hal Smith hit into a double play.

Another double play smoothed things for Roebuck in the seventh and the right-handed relief star had to get through another jam in the eighth. Then in the ninth, after a one-out walk to Smith, Perranoski entered the act and rang down the curtain, saving Roebucks' 10th straight victory.

Johnson put down the first 13 Dodgers in order before Howard's 27th homer in the fifth. Maury Wills, who had stolen 14 bases in the last six games and was on a 19-game hitting streak, was stopped cold in his four appearances at the plate. The Dodger whizzer has 90 steals, still six shy of Ty Cobb's 1915 record.

★ ★ ★ ★

San Francisco left-hander Billy Pierce got roughed up in the first inning at Cincinnati. Eddie Kasko opened up with a single and two outs later, Robinson and Wally Post homered in succession. Robinson socked No. 38 in the sixth, also off Pierce. The two hits, in four tries, boosted Robinson into the league batting lead at .340. Tommy Davis of the Dodgers fell two points to .339 after three hitless trips at Houston.

HAS TROUBLE

Jay held the Giants without a hit until the fourth inning, but ran into misfortune in the fifth. Jose Pagan singled and Chuck Hiller's sharp hit to the mound rapped Jay on the hand, forcing him out of the game and into the hospital. The lone Giant run then came in on a wild pitch by Jim Maloney, but the Cincinnati reliever was virtually untouchable thereafter. He gave up one hit, a single to Matty Alou after a walk in the eighth, and killed off that final Giant threat by striking out a trio of .300-plus hitters—Felipe Alou, Willie McCovey and Orlando Cepeda.

San Francisco Manager Alvin Dark announced in the fifth inning that he was playing the game under protest after charging Jay with using an improper pitching motion.

Chalks Up 4 Straight

NEW YORK (AP)—Riding four winners in one day doesn't come under heading of unusual. But riding four straight does.

That is what Braulio Baeza did at Aqueduct Wednesday. The Panamanian started his string with Tirata in the fifth for an $8.30 payoff, took the sixth aboard Jewel's Pride ($8.80), the $25,000 Gazelle Handicap, No. 7 on the card, with Bramalea ($11.50) and called it a day by winning the eighth with Grownup Time ($8.20).

ENTERS HOSPITAL — San Francisco outfielder Willie Mays, holding his jacket, was able to walk from Cincinnati's Crosley Field to a waiting car last night for a trip to a hospital after collapsing unconscious during game against Reds. Indigestion was said to have caused the attack.

Golfers Begin Coast Tourney

SEATTLE (AP) — A field of more than 136 pros and 10 amateurs swing into the first of four days of play today as the $35,000 Seattle Open Invitational Golf Tournament gets underway.

★ ★ ★

Gary Player, Don Massengale and Dow Finsterwald turned in 4-under-par 66s Wednesday to set the pace in pre-tourney pro-amateur play.

Art Wall Jr. and Jim Feree tied at 65, and four others—Gay Brewer Jr., Ken Venturi, Dave Hill and Tony Lema—deadlocked at 66.

★ ★ ★

Arnold Palmer played in a foursome with comedian Bob Hope, Anne Quast Decker, two-time women's national amateur champion, and Mark McCormack, Palmer's agent. Palmer posted a 67.

★ ★ ★

Another member of golf's elite, Jack Nicklaus, had troubles. Playing with James Garner, Nicklaus slipped to a 4-over-par 74.

Indiana 9 Duels for 'Lakes' Crown

BATTLE CREEK (UPI) —East Chicago, Ind., and Louisville, Ky., battle tonight for the title of the Great Lakes Regional in the American Baseball Congress tournament.

★ ★ ★

East Chicago qualified for the championship game last night by whitewashing Melrose Park, Ill., 11-0, behind one hit pitching of Larry Kendig. Kendig struck out eight and walked three en route to victory.

★ ★ ★

Both East Chicago and Louisville, regardless of the outcome of tonight's game, qualified for the national ABC finals which open here tomorrow night.

Eleven in U.N. Handicap

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Tumulto, the Argentine multi-stake winner, Wednesday accepted an invitation to run in the $100,000 United Nations Handicap at Atlantic City Race Track Saturday, setting up a probable field of 11 for the mile and three-sixteenth event.

Red Wings Set Nine Exhibitions Before Opener

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Red Wings have scheduled nine pre-season games before the opening of the National Hockey League season, it was announced today.

★ ★ ★

The final exhibition will be in Stratford, Ont., Oct. 8.

The Red Wings open the official season Oct. 11 at New York.

The Pittsburgh Hornets of the American Hockey League will meet the Red Wings three times in exhibition play, the last contest in Stratford. The two teams also were scheduled to see action at Windsor, Ont., Sept. 30, and Toledo, Ohio, Oct. 2.

The other six games on the exhibition schedule will be played during the week-long tour of Western Canada before the three-game series with the Hornets opens.

Pistons Plan Special Camp

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Pistons have announced they will hold a special pretraining camp for two veterans and a select group of rookie candidates for a berth on the National Basketball Association club.

Pistons' head coach Dick McGuire and assistant coach Earl Lloyd said the drills would be held nightly at a local boys' club for three nights next week.

McGuire said the purpose of the early sessions is to acquaint Darrall Imhoff, 6-foot-10, with the plays of the club. Imhoff was acquired recently in a trade with the New York Knicks for guard Gene Shue. Forward Jackie Moreland will also take part in the drills.

McGuire said the Pistons will open their regular training camp Sept. 20 at the team's annual headquarters at Marysville High School near Port Huron.

Vikings Acquire Brown

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) —The Minnesota Vikings acquired fullback Bill Brown Wednesday from the Chicago Bears in exchange for a 1964 draft choice.

Brown will replace Gordon Smith who was placed on waivers to keep the roster within legal limits. Smith suffered a knee injury last Saturday when the Vikings won over the Dallas Cowboys and will be out of action for up to a month.

Wolverines Work Hard on Defense as Ramey Stars Offensively

EAST LANSING (UPI) — The sophomores aren't giving the juniors and seniors much of a run for their jobs so far in the Michigan State football workouts.

This is the case even though coach Duffy Daugherty has complained of lack of depth and is taking a long look at the new talent.

The only exceptions are tackle Jerry Rush and quarterback Charlie Migyanka.

Rush, a 235-pound, 6-4 bruiser from Pontiac Central, has about sewed up a tackle position on the second team.

★ ★ ★

The only other sophomore likely to be given much permanent work in the first few games is Migyanka.

After showing well in spring drills, he has been working at quarterback behind Pete Smith while Dick Proebstle is recovering from rib bruises.

EXTRA YEAR

Migyanka, 182-pounder from East Conemaugh, Pa., is only technically a sophomore. He was awarded another year of eligibility after a back injury put him out of competition early last fall.

Drills yesterday concentrated on the kicking game with live scrimmage in punt returns and kicking returns. Ron Rubich broke away three times.

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Recalling their performance in last Saturday's scrimmage, Michigan coach Bump Elliott worked on sharpening his Wolverines' defenses yesterday.

He pitted the first string against an alternate passing and running attack in live scrimmage, with an eye to improving tactics in areas in which strength or depth are lacking.

Earlier, Elliott termed the defensive play disappointing in the all-out scrimmage Saturday.

Dave Raimey starred on offense Wednesday.

Greetings Grid Fans From the Dope(ster)

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Football's Peerless Prognosticator

Egad! A robust greeting to millions of football fans from their loyal correspondent on the gridiron front!

You've no idea how happy I am to be freed temporarily from my arduous scientific duties in the nuclear physics laboratory in order to greet you once more in the sports pages.

I've been poring over the records of last year and studing the collegiate lineups for the upcoming season. Having subjected my studies to the rigid tests of the Hoople System, as it has come to be known, I am ready to give you my authoritative predictions.

This promises to be an exciting season from the very first kickoff.

Of course they say the same thing every year, but why should I rock the boat, to use an expression coined by my old tiger hunting companion, the Rajah of Cawnpore? Good old Joe (as I nicknamed him)! He had no equal at shooting from a howdah!

My trusted assistant for the 1962 season, Hannibal Wottaburp, the pride of Missouri, is currently on a scouting assignment.

Thus it is your good fortune to be treated to an exclusive Hoople forecast for this weekend—harrumph!

Without further ado I give you my first selections. The prime upset of the day will find undermanned Drake besting Iowa State, 16-9, at Ames. The Pittsburgh Panthers, opening at home, will blot the escutcheon of the Miami Hurricanes with a 19-10 victory.

Go on with the forecast:

Pacific 29, Brigham Young 15.
Florida State 33, The Citadel 6.
Dayton 22, Kent 17.
Drake 16, Iowa State 9.
Virginia Mil. 21, Geo. Wash. 12.
Tulsa 35, Hardin-Simmons 12.
Wichita 21, Louisville 13.
Miami (Ohio) 26, Xavier 14.

Youngstown 16, No. Dakota 15.
Utah State 31, San Jose State 13.
Villanova 35, West Chester 5.
Va. Tech 29, Wm. and Mary 9.
Wyoming 30, Montana 8.
Pittsburgh 19, Miami (Fla.) 10.
Pitt Steelers 23, Lions 21.
Chicago Bears 24, 49ers 21.
N. Y. Giants 31, Browns 28.
Cowboys 17, Redskins 17.
Colts 30, LA Rams 17.
Packers 39, Vikings 14.
Eagles 35, Cardinals 7.

X-Rays Show Drysdale's Rib Is Not Cracked

LOS ANGELES (AP) — X rays showed Wednesday that Los Angeles pitcher Don Dryadale is not suffering from a cracked rib as originally feared after a collision Monday night with the Chicago Cubs' Ken Hubbs.

The plates, which were made here Wednesday after the rest of the National League leaders had left for Houston, showed only a bruise.

Dryadale will rejoin the team Thursday in Chicago.

BIG HEAD IS HEADACHE — Barbara Testen, ticket agent for Northwest Orient Airlines, poses in Chicago with a 56-pound head of cabbage which was flown from Anchorage, Alaska. The huge cabbage was grown by John Bush of Palmer, in Alaska's Mantanuska Valley. It was being shipped for display at the Sauerkraut Festival at Forreston, Ill. However, the airline is stuck with the problem of what to do with the vegetable.

Named to Protect MM's Mother in Will

Arthur N. Field, New York lawyer, has been named a special guardian for Marilyn Monroe's mother, to protect her interests as a beneficiary of the late actress' will.

The mother, Mrs. Gladys Baker Eley, has been in a California nursing home for many years. Miss Monroe's will set up a $100,000 trust fund for her.

Field will have the right to inquire into the validity of the will, which disposed of an estate listed in the probate file at $1 million. New York state law holds that if the will is found invalid for any reason, the entire estate would go to the mother, since Miss Monroe died childless.

"Albecaro", for Albert and Caroline, will be the name of the yacht to be built in the Netherlands for Prince Rainier and Princess Grace of Monaco. The name of the 120-foot yacht will be an abbreviation of the names of the couple's two children.

President De Gaulle told his cabinet in Paris he favors a referendum to let the French people decide if they want to elect their president by universal suffrage or continue with the electoral college system. Worry about succession has increased since De Gaulle's recent narrow escapes from assassination.

Nikolai Kamov, chief designer of Soviet vehicles, was decorated with the Order of Lenin in Moscow on his 60th birthday. Kamov designed his first helicopter in 1929, according to Tass, and has made several novel inventions. One of his latest is known as "the flying motorcycle," which can land safely on top of a truck, Tass said.

Justice William O. Douglas of the U.S. Supreme Court has been elected director and cochairman of the board of the Fund for the Republic, which is based in New York. The board chairman is Elmo Roper.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson will attend a Sam Rayburn commemorative stamp ceremony Saturday in Bonham, Tex.

Don't Set Furnace by the Temperature

Don't make the comfort mistake of setting your home's thermostat according to the temperature reading.

This is the advice of the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau, which emphasizes that a thermostat setting should be flexible. The only 'right' setting, says the bureau, is the one at which you are comfortable.

Varying outside temperature, humidity, air motion, the clothing you wear, your activities in the house—these factors alone determine what temperature is most comfortable.

But It's Needed—Ulbricht

'E. Reich Dislikes Wall'

BERLIN (AP) — East German Communist leader Walter Ulbricht says his regime is not "in love" with The Wall it has built dividing Berlin.

★ ★ ★

In a speech to a weekend labor conference in Leipzig, published today by the party organ Neues Deutschland, Ulbricht told delegates attending from West Germany:

"The wall will stand until you have reined in the militarists. So it depends on you. No one should think we are in love with the wall. That is not the case."

Making no reference to the thousands of East Germans who fled to the West before the wall was erected last summer to fence them in, the Communist chief said the barricade was built as a defense against "militarist provocations."

Some refugees are still escaping. Police said two young men swam safely to West Berlin last night. No details were given.

The Spree River and its canals, and the Havel River and its lakes account for about 20 miles of West Berlin's border with the Red zone.

N. Borneo Backs Plan to Join Asia Federation

JESSELTON, North Borneo (AP) — The legislative council last night unanimously endorsed the plan to join Malaya, Singapore and Britain's Borneo territories into a federation of Malaysia.

The council asked that the federation's constitution safeguard the special interests of North Borneo.

House Absolves Charlie Halleck in Hunting Case

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House yesterday found Charlie Halleck not guilty of shooting doves over a baited field, and members suggested that a United States commissioner in North Carolina go along with that decision.

The House Republican leader was supposed to have appeared before the commissioner at Jacksonville, N. C., yesterday along with six others. They were charged Saturday during a hunt at a private club in the area.

But Halleck was in Indiana, and his office said an attorney was looking out for his interests in the dove hunting matter.

★ ★ ★

Halleck has said he was a guest at the club and that if the field had been baited, he had no hint of it.

Processor Plot Blamed for NFO Losing Ground

CHICAGO (UPI)—The National Farmers Organization (NFO), battling to revolutionize grain and livestock markets, today blamed a food processor conspiracy for signs its "all-out holding action" was failing.

NFO President Oren Lee Staley, discounting the hard facts of heavier livestock shipments and lower prices, predicted the showdown struggle in the farm rebellion was still "about a week away."

The NFO campaign to keep cattle, hogs, sheep, corn and soybeans off the market is aimed at forcing food processors and buyers to bargain for contracts that guarantee higher, stable prices for those commodities.

Staley, at NFO headquarters in Corning, Iowa, said yesterday's higher cattle and hog receipts at 18 major Midwest markets, which dropped prices, were part of a "psychological battle" being waged by processors.

Claiming that NFO leaders "are all more optimistic than ever before," he said processors "have just about thrown their big punch, although they might get big receipts again this weekend.

★ ★ ★

"We knew at the beginning that we had to get rid of the cattle in the commercial feed lots owned by processors and chain stores, plus those already contracted for sales," Staley said.

"We feel by the middle of next week the hold will really tighten and we'll then have the strongest part of the all-out holding action."

UP THREE DAYS

The NFO hold began in earnest last week, when livestock prices rose under lower market shipments, but for the past three days the story has been different.

For the third consecutive day, cattle sales rose sharply yesterday and grain-fed steers and heifers ranged from steady to 75 cents lower on the 12 markets.

Heavier hog shipments for the second consecutive day forced prices down 15 to 75 cents per hundredweight, with the biggest declines at western corn belt markets.

Staley, 39, who has led the NFO since its formation in Corning seven years ago, attributed the market behavior in part to the fact that "farmers normally sell more when a market is going down than when it is going up."

Zoning Talks Get Nowhere

Southfield Crowd of Over 300 Discusses Proposed Changes

SOUTHFIELD — A four-hour public hearing on proposed zoning ordinance revisions ended in a stalemate last night. No decision was reached nor any date set for further meeting.

★ ★ ★

More than 300 persons attended the hearing at No. 10 School to hear discussion on the amendments, the most important of which would allow the construction of high rise apartments in the city.

GET BOTH SIDES

Some 20 representatives of homeowner and builder associations were heard as well as spokesman for utility companies.

★ ★ ★

Representatives of homeowners were split on the proposed revisions while those from the utilities believed that more time should be given to reviewing the proposed changes.

★ ★ ★

The chief objection from homeowners was the provision in the ordinance for multiple dwellings. The ordinace now in effect has no such provision.

★ ★ ★

The public hearing had been adjourned from Aug. 20.

Style Show Set by Club in Rochester

ROCHESTER—Getting the new club year off to a stylish start, Rochester Junior Women's Club will hold a luncheon-style show at 11:30 a.m. Sept. 28, in Kingsley Inn.

★ ★ ★

Proceeds from the event will go toward the $10,000 which the club has pledged to give over a three-year period to the building fund for the Rochester Unit, Crittenton General Hospital.

Mrs. James Reynolds and Mrs. Conrad Singsaas are chairmen of the event.

★ ★ ★

Working with them are Mrs. Edward Sturner, ticket chairman; Mrs. Vernita Shepard and Mrs. Jerry Booth, models chairmen; and Mrs. Clifford VanAuken and Mrs. Robert Allen, program chairmen.

★ ★ ★

Committee members are Mrs. William Morgan, Mrs. John Galloway, Mrs. Robert Haugh, Mrs. David Milne, Mrs. James Reeves, Mrs. J. W. Eastman, Mrs. William Mitzelfeld and Mrs. Lawrence Shepard.

Teacher Pulls 2 Tots From Burning Car

DETROIT (UPI) — A woman teacher yesterday saved the lives of two small girls seated in a burning car at Eastland Shopping Center in Harper Woods.

★ ★ ★

Firemen credited Mrs. Laurena Daenzer of St. Clair Shores for pulling Lynn Marke Cady, 5 months, and her sister, Denise, 4, from the blazing front seat of the family car.

The origin of the fire was not determined but they said it apparently began on the floor of the vehicle.

★ ★ ★

The girls had been left alone in the car by their mother, Mrs. Carol Cady, who was shopping at the center.

Hospital Women Seek Members

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Community Hospital will launch its annual membership drive tomorrow in area towns served by the hospital, located on Van Dyke, just south of Almont.

Proceeds from the drive this year will be used to set up two revolving scholarship funds, Mrs. Robert Patten of Armada, auxiliary president, announced today.

The funds will be established to send one area high school graduate to an acceptable diploma school of professional nursing in Michign and another to an equally acceptable school of practical nursing in the state.

The funds will be available for those students beginning their training next year.

★ ★ ★

Inasmuch as membership funds are raised in the school districts of Romeo, Almont, Imlay City, Armada, Oxford, Capac and others, graduates from these high schools or residents of these areas are eligible to apply.

The funds will be used to pay 80 per cent of the cost of tuition and books while the students are in school.

After graduation, the students will be expected to repay the money advanced so that other students will be able to use it in succeeding years.

★ ★ ★

In addition, following graduation these students will be required to work at least two years at Community Hospital, barring unforseen circumstances.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Patten will appoint a committee in the near future who work out all the administrative details, to interview and investigate applicants and to distribute the funds.

TO GET DIPLOMA — Mrs. Brian Jolly of Royal Oak, the former Carol A. Stock of Davisburg, will be graduated tonight from Harper Hospital School of Nursing. The exercises will be held in Rackham Memorial Building, Detroit. Mrs. Jolly is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Stock, 10019 King Road, Davisburg.

Police Association to Hear Ex-Sheriff

Ferris Lucas, former St. Clair County sheriff and now director of the Michigan Sheriff's Association, will be the guest speaker at the Sept. 19 meeting of the Oakland County Law Enforcement Association.

★ ★ ★

The topic of Lucas' talk at the 6:45 p.m. dinner meeting will be "The Sheriff's Role in Law Enforcement."

★ ★ ★

The meeting will be the first of the season for the law enforcement group. It will be held at the Kingsley Inn, 1495 Woodward Ave. at Long Lake Road, Bloomfield Hills.

In Milford After Vows

Priestleys at Home

HIGHLAND TOWNSHIP — Residing in Milford following their recent exchange of wedding vows at the White Lake Presbyterian Church are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Priestley. Officiating at the candlelight service was Rev. James T. Whitehead.

★ ★ ★

The bride, the former Patsy Ann Miller, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin C. Miller of 3141 Lake Drive.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Priestley of 5341 N. Milford Road.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor-length gown of Rochelle lace over tafeta which flowed into a chapel train edged with tulle lace. The gown featured a modified Sabrina neckline trimmed with sequins.

★ ★ ★

A double crown of Alencon lace with pearls and crystals secured the bride's bouffant veil of pure silk illusion. She carried a colonial-style corsage of white roses and pom-pon chrysanthemums.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Charles Redman of Highland was the matron of honor and bridesmaids were Susan Johnston and Marilyn Collins, both of Milford.

John Priestley served his brother as best man, while another brother Clifford Priestley, and the brother of the bride, James Miller, seated the 175 guests.

Pamela and Penny Redman, nieces of the bride, were flower girls.

★ ★ ★

A reception was held in the church parlor immediately following the ceremony.

The couple honeymooned in northern Michigan.

Set Installation of New Pastor

Rev. D. M. Sinclair Serving Congregation of Sashabaw Church

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP—Rev. Donald M. Sinclair will be installed as pastor of the Sashabaw United Presbyterian Church in a service conducted by the Presbytery Sunday at 7:30 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Conducting the installation service and leading the congregation in prayers and scripture will be Rev. Robert Hermanson of the University Presbyterian Church, Rochester.

Rev. Walter Teeuwissen, pastor of Drayton Plains United Presbyterian Church, will preach the gospel and Rev. William Bos of Ann Arbor will give the charge to the congregation.

Giving the charge to the newly installed pastor will be Rev. Elmer I. Braden of the Community Presbyterian Church, Flint.

★ ★ ★

A reception in the church basement will follow the service.

★ ★ ★

Rev. Sinclair, who graduated from the San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Anselmo, California, in June, has served at the church since July 1. He received his B.A. Degree from Alma College in 1959.

★ ★ ★

A native of Flint, Rev. Sinclair succeeds Rev. Clifford H. Haskins. The new pastor and his wife, Betty, make their home at 5380 Waldon Rd.

Quartets Begin Fall Singing

Barbershoppers Slate Guest Night Friday at Rochester Club

The Rochester-Utica chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America will open its fall season with a guest night tomorrow evening.

★ ★ ★

The program, to be presented at 8:30 at the Rochester Golf and Country Club, will feature the Auto - Towners, current Michigan District barbershop quartet champions.

The Auto-Towners competed in the recent SPEBSQSA International Competition at Kansas City and finished as one of the top 10 barbershop quartets in the country.

Other quartets to sing tomorrow night will include the Wonderlads, Chord Winds and the Bari-Tones.

★ ★ ★

The chorus and octet from the local SPEBSQSA chapter also will offer several selections.

★ ★ ★

All local area men interested in learning more about barbershop-type singing have been invited to attend.

Church Group Planning Hat Sale on Thursday

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — The Women's Society of Christian Service at Commerce Methodist Church will sponsor a fall hat sale Thursday, Sept. 20, at the church from 2 to 4 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m.

★ ★ ★

A nursery will be provided during the afternoon hours so that mothers can make their selection without interruption. Refreshments will be served.

Churchwomen Planning Slides, Music Program

AVON TOWNSHIP — The Women's Society of Christian Service at Elmwood Methodist Church, corner of Grant and Auburn, is planning a special program for 8 tonight.

★ ★ ★

Ruth Hoffmaster will show slides of Norway, with music to be played by Diane Owen. The event is open to all women of the community.

Art Workshops in Rochester

Schools Offer Plan to Teachers, Principals Beginning Monday

ROCHESTER — The Rochester Community Schools are offering all elementary teachers and principals a series of art participation workshops beginning Monday and continuing up to Nov. 28.

The after-school meetings will be held in all elementary schools as a part of in-service training offered by the elementary art department.

Five meetings have been planned for every school staff and include a study and review of the following areas: Design and Bulletin-Boards; Drawing; Painting; Working with Paper; and Introducing Crafts.

Teachers not able to attend meetings assigned to their own schools have been invited to attend at their own convenience similar workshops in the other schools.

The Rochester elementary art program is a cooperative one, according to Dorothy Whipple, head of the elementary art department, and is dependent on the close association of administrators, teachers, and consultants.

★ ★ ★

In the present series of twenty-five workshops, Mrs. Whipple will be assisted by elementary art consultants, Sue Preston and Julius Kusey.

Avon and Brooklands will meet at Brooklands. Baldwin and Woodward will meet together alternately at both schools as will McGregor and Hamlin.

Meadow Brook and North Hill will meet in their separate schools for the series.

Finds Bones in Yard of New House

MILFORD — While anyone else may have a skeleton in his closet, Neil R. Braun found one in his own back yard.

Braun, 26, uncovered a complete specimen late yesterday while digging in the back yard of his new home at 525 Mill St.

The bones, apparently all intact, were sent immediately to Lansing by Brighton State Police for analysis. They said it will be five days before they learn the history of the skeleton.

A month ago a skeleton was unearthed near South Lyon and the State Health Department Laboratory determined it was the more than 100-year-old remains of a female Indian.

★ ★ ★

Braun, who is still living at 240 Hill St. until his new house is completed, found the bones while moving dirt to level for the apron of his garage.

One village old timer said he thought it might have been the site of a family burial plot.

Unitarian Society to Hold 1st Service

The New Unitarian Society will hold its first Sunday morning service at the Emerson School in Royal Oak, 13½-Mile and Crooks roads, at 10:30 a.m. Sunday.

Rev. Ellsworth Smith, executive secretary of the Midwest Unitarian-Universalist Conference, will speak on "A New Kind of Church."

A "talk-back" session will follow the sermon.

Regular Sunday school classes for all grades will be held at the same time and place.

GRADUATES — Recent recipients of diplomas from McAuley School of Practical Nursing, Pontiac, are Mrs. Dorothy Mapley (left) and Kathy Kinchla. Mrs. Mapley lives at 94 Minnetonka Drive, Oxford, and Kathy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Kinchla, 115 Truwood Drive, Avon Township.

Kimmel-Peterson Rites

Say Vows in Saginaw

OXFORD — Richard K. Kimmel claimed Mary Jane Peterson as his bride in a recent ceremony at SS. Peter and Paul's rectory in Saginaw.

★ ★ ★

Rev. James F. Gavit performed the double-ring ceremony in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride is the daughter of John Peterson of Saginaw and the late Mrs. Peterson. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kimmel, 44 Hovey St.

Attending the couple were Mrs. Patrick Holland of Lansing and Richard Fortin of Center Line.

★ ★ ★

After greeting 100 guests at the High Life Inn, Saginaw, the newlyweds left on a Canadian trip. They will reside in Midland.

Rev. Harmon to Show Slides of Europe Trip

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Rev. Lyle Harmon, pastor of Pleasant Ridge Bible Church at Oxbow Lake, will show slides at the church Sunday of his recent trip to Europe where he attended American Council Meetings in Amsterdam.

There will be no admission charge to the 7:30 p.m. program and the public is invited to attend. Rev. Harmon said he will be available to church or civic groups who wish to have him show his pictures.

Red Aid to Cuba Includes 3 Transatlantic Flights

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Recent Soviet aid to Cuba has included at least three transatlantic cargo flights which passed through Gander, Nfld., a Canadian spokesman said today.

He said that, in accordance with safety regulations, a Canadian pilot-observer had been put aboard each plane for the flight to Cuba. The planes reached Gander after stopping at Prestwick, Scotland.

Previously, only MIG jet fighters, bringing the Cuban air fleet to a reported total of about 60 planes, had been listed among recent Soviet aircraft deliveries to the Castro government. These were believed to have been brought in by ship.

★ ★ ★

Questions were prompted by unofficial reports that U.S. radar at McGuire Air Force Base in New Jersey had spotted planes flying from Canada to Cuba.

FEAR BOMBERS

The Air Force was said to have been concerned that these might be light bombers, such as the obsolescent Soviet IL27, being added to the Cuban air fleet.

The Canadian spokesman, however, said he had checked through Canadian government channels and that the planes definitely were cargo varieties. He said he did not know whether the planes were to remain in Cuba.

Civilian planes flying between Cuba and Communist bloc countries frequently have used Gander as a stop-over.

The Newfoundland base maintains international airport standards and normally would receive any plane filing an appropriate flight plan, the spokesman said.

He was asked about reports that the Soviets were attempting to hire Canadian civilian crews to deliver planes to Cuba over the last leg of the Atlantic crossing. He said he had heard nothing of that kind.

Runaway Gal Advises: Don't Do as I Did

LONDON (UPI)—Runaway heiress Gamble Benedict Porumbeanu said today she would not advise other girls to take the same path to marriage that she did.

The heiress to the Remington typewriter fortune ran away from her New York home two years ago to marry Romanian-born Andrei Porumbeanu.

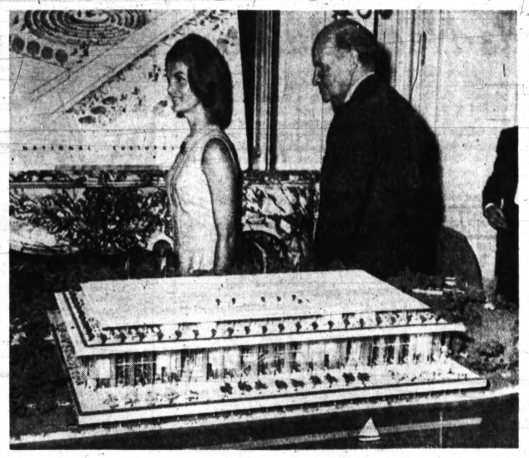

The couple, now living in Switzerland, have a 15-month-old son and are expecting their second child in two weeks.

★ ★ ★

"I probably lead quite a dull life," said Mrs. Porumbeanu, 21, here on a visit. "The important thing when you have a runaway marriage like ours is to stop and ask, 'Is it all worth it?' before and not afterward."

Accuses Briton as Navy Spy

Government Clerk, 37, Charged With Stealing Secret Information

LONDON (AP) — William J. Vassall, a 37-year-old government clerk, was charged today with spying out Navy secrets from the British admiralty.

★ ★ ★

No details were made public at the three-minute court hearing.

The official charge said only that between Aug. 18 and the time of his arrest two days ago Vassall "recorded secret official information calculated to be or which might be directly or indirectly useful to an enemy."

The nature of the information and the identity of the enemy were not disclosed. Vassall was sent back to jail to await another hearing next Thursday.

★ ★ ★

It was the Royal Navy which was involved in the last big spy case in Britain.

Five persons were convicted in March 1961 of filching secrets from the underwater weapons research station at Portland and radioing them to Moscow from a secret transmitter in a suburban home.

★ ★ ★

The five were sentenced to prison terms ranging from 15 to 25 years.

Ships to Cuba Use Greek Port, Is Claim

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Soviet and Greek ships carrying Communist supplies to Fidel Castro's Cuba stop to refuel in the southern Greek port of Pylos, the Athens newspaper Ethnos reported today.

The newspaper, quoting highly reliable sources, said some of the Greek-owned ships sail under the Lebanese flag. Among these which called at Pylos during the past month were the President Hoffman, Triton, Lilyc Michalos, and Tarseus.

The same report said the Soviet cargo ship Antuger called at Pylos three weeks ago and unloaded an undisclosed quantity of fuel.

A quantity of fuel also was reported to have been unloaded there from the Soviet vessel Lisihnir.

Movie Stars Make Great Sports Fans

By DORIS KLEIN
(For Bob Thomas)

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—You don't have to spend $3.50 for a Hollywood bus tour ticket to find a motion picture star.

★ ★ ★

With so many of the studios making movies overseas, it's difficult to see stars at work. And if you look around the famed landmarks of Hollywood and Vine and the Sunset Strip, you'll have to look hard and long to find a familiar face.

So next time you're in town, throw away that map of movie stars' homes and try this for a guide: go out for sports.

Chavez Ravins — the baseball park—has become the biggest gathering place for celebrities since the heyday of the big fights at Hollywood Legion Stadium. On a good night, watching the Los Angeles Dodgers or the Angels, you'll find Doris Day, Milton Berle, Dinah Shore or Danny Thomas.

★ ★ ★

During football season, try Memorial Coliseum. Jane Russell frequently roots from the sidelines for the Los Angeles Rams. Her husband is Ram coach Bob Waterfield.

If there's a pro-celebrity golf tournament around town, you're likely to find Bob Hope, George Gobel, Fred MacMurray, Gordon MacRae, Robert Sterling, Jerry Lewis, or James Garner.

★ ★ ★

When there's a good boxing match, Hugh O'Brian, Jose Ferrer or Jack Lemmon may be at ringside.

STRIP STRIPPED

With Ciro's now a twist club and the old Macombo leveled to make way for a new Playboy club, it's not often you'll spot a big-name actor along the Sunset Strip—except for Jerry Lewis and Dean Martin. Each owns a restaurant on the strip.

If you're a member of the fashion-conscious female sex and desire to have George Masters do your hair at Saks Fifth Avenue, you're likely to run into Polly Bergen Dinah Shore or Jennifer Jones.

★ ★ ★

If you want to get out of the city, there's always Palm Springs. Mexico is becoming increasingly popular. Dana Wynter and Greg Bautzer winter at the Hotel Pierre Marquez in Acapulco. Brett Halsey sometimes has Debbie Power Loew as his guest in Puerto Vallarta. Bing Crosby has a hideaway in Baja California. And there's always the beach at Santa Peter Lawford now a grass widower the other day when his brother-in-law dropped by.

State GOP Returns Fire on Gag Issue

LANSING (AP) — A political feud dates' inability to be granted audidates inability to be granted audiences by opposing organizations was renewed yesterday in the state capital.

★ ★ ★

George Van Peursem, Republican state chairman, and Harry R. Hall, executive vice president of the Michigan Chamber of Commerce, issued statements criticizing Michigan AFL-CIO President August Scholle.

Scholle said Tuesday that "Republicans and their big business organizations that control the party have kept their doors locked to viewpoints of our organization for at least 20 years."

The labor leader's statements were prompted by Van Peursem's charge that labor, by refusing to give George Romney an audience, had "locked out democracy."

Van Peursem contended yesterday that Scholle "is scared stiff about the Romney popularity surge among union members, and he won't take down the un-Democratic curtain he and his lieutenants have erected around George Romney."

★ ★ ★

Van Peursem said Scholle clouded the issue by attacking him personally with "irrevelant and false accusations."

★ ★ ★

Scholle had accused Van Peursem of shutting the door on unemployed persons when the Republican was speaker of the House.

But Van Peursem said the legislative body, rather than the speaker, called the House recess, and the Democrats had a near-majority in the House at the time.

Hall said Scholle forgot to check Gov. Swainson's past speaking engagements when he intimated the chamber of commerce never invited his people to its functions.

★ ★ ★

"If he would stop sputtering like a model 'T' long enough to review the facts" Hall said, "he would realize that his boy, John Swainson, spoke at the annual meeting of the state chamber in both 1960 and 1961."

★ ★ ★

He said the business organization had invited candidates from both sides to speak at the chamber's meeting on Oct. 2 in Detroit.

"We'll even be glad to have Mr. Scholle attend as our guest to hear [illegible] candidates [illegible] the other candidates, have to say," Hall concluded.

Order Stiffer Tests for New Recruits

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army is ordering its reserve and National Guard to apply stiffer mental requirements for new recruits.

This will bring reserve-guard standards in line with higher qualifications maintained by the Army. Planning for this move has been under way for about two years.

★ ★ ★

Army officials said it has no direct connection with plans to streamline the guard and reserve for a more effective response to crises such as Berlin.

★ ★ ★

However, one effect of the upgrading will be to make it harder for the guard and reserve to maintain the 700,000 total that Congress has decreed.

★

Reserve units have been told to install the higher mental standards Oct. 1, with the guard due to fall in line about a month later.

The new requirements will not affect men already in the guard and reserve, only recruits and youths volunteering for six months of active duty training to be followed by service in the guard and reserve.

★ ★ ★

The Army is reported refining once again its controversial plan to lop off some 750 reserve and guard units considered obsolete or unneeded in the modern organization.

★ ★ ★

There were indications the number of units to be disbanded might be trimmed to perhaps 700 —a drop of about 124 from the originally announced plan that drew heavy fire from governors, congressmen and reserve organizations.

Among other things, the Army is trying to take account of special state needs for units to handle flood emergencies and other recurring problems.

Nab 12 in Germany for Red Activity

MUNICH (AP) — Twelve persons, most of them employes of the Munich Transit System, have been arrested during the last six weeks for Communist activity, officials reported today.

They are accused of being members of a Communist ring who tried to distribute Red propaganda. Officials refused to give details.

India Reports Reds Near Outpost

NEW DELHI (AP)—The Indian government said today Red Chinese troops have "appeared in the vicinity" of an Indian outpost on the disputed northeast frontier but said "there has been no clash."

★ ★ ★

Unofficial but reliable sources said an estimated 300 Chinese soldiers invaded Indian territory Tuesday and surrounded a post a mile inside the Himalayan border manned by 30 men of the Assam Rifles.

★ ★ ★

There was no indication of any fighting. One unconfirmed report from the northeast said the Chinese disarmed the Indian troops and advanced nine miles farther into India.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for the foreign ministry announced:

★ ★ ★

"Some Chinese forces have appeared in the vicinity of one of our posts in the area of the tri-junction of Bhutan, the Northeast Frontier Agency and Tibet. There has been no clash."

HEAD TO TOWANG

Conflicting unofficial reports indicated the Chinese might be pressing toward Towang, an important Buddhist monastery town 15 miles inside the border. Three years ago the Dalai Lama, fleeing from the Red Chinese across the 14,210-mile-high pass from Tibet, made a stopover at Towang.

★ ★ ★

The Chinese Communists claim the Northeast Frontier Agency's 36,000 square miles—a mountainous, largely unsettled area—belong to Tibet. India maintains the border is the McMahon line, drawn by the British along the peaks of the Himalayas.

★ ★ ★

The Chinese also claim 12,000 square miles of Ladakh, a bleak and barren plateau near the western end of the Chinese-Indian border. There have been at least four skirmishes there this summer. Ladakh on Indian maps is part of the state of Kashmir.

Chinese troops have entered the Northeast Frontier Agency seven times in the past six years but withdrawn each time. Three incursions were in the same area just east of the mountain state of Bhutan where the Chinese entered Tuesday.

Three India border guards were killed in a Chinese attack on an Indian post at Longju, 125 miles to the northeast, in 1959. This was the only reported instance of fighting between Indian and Chinese forces in the northeast sector thus far.

The only other casualties reported in a Chinese-Indian clash were in Ladakh. In 1959, Chinese ambushed an Indian patrol, killed nine Indians and captured 10 others. The prisoners were released later.

Sugar, Salt, Hay?

Dobbin Changes Diet

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A horse ate the convertible top of Clayton A. Walter's automobile.

★ ★ ★

Police said Walter, an insurance collector, was parked in front of William T. Rosewell's home on business when Rosewell's horse sauntered past.

★ ★ ★

The horse punched its nose through the soft top, liked the taste and ripped off the canvas strip by strip.

★ ★ ★

Livestock experts theorized the top had been treated with a dressing that tasted like salt or sugar or maybe hay.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

The bidding in the box took place when Forquet and Garozzo of Italy held the North-South cards against America on deal 56 of the World Championship match.

JACOBY

North's diamond opening was normal. East's double was a psychological bid designed to do something or other — usually the man who makes this kind of bid isn't sure what.

South's redouble seemed normal, but in the Neapolitan system as played by Forquet and Garozzo it also guarantees some diamond support. West's one heart was correct and North's two diamond rebid showed a minimum opening with at least four diamonds.

East's pass was correct. He had already bid his full strength. South's pass was rather extreme. Even with a minimum diamond opening in the North hand, three or four diamonds would have to be safe and with any additional values there should be a good play for some game. However, Garozzo thought East and West would compete and if he passed and bid later he might get doubled at a part score contract.

However, there were no further bids and North had to play two diamonds. With the king of hearts in the right place he made five.

The American North-South had no such inhibitions. They reached five diamonds easily. Since the proof of the pudding is in the eating, East's psychological double paid off.

Instead of bidding three no-trump your partner bids four clubs. What do you do?

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Friday

"The wise man controls his destiny . . . Astrology points the way."

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Full moon today emphasizes care in relation to business associates . . . overexertion. Seek ways of constructive relaxation, no need to try overpowering tactics. Be natural, charming. Use moderation.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Good day for cementing friendships. But avoid those who constantly burden you with their problems. Tonight fine for entertainment, theater, dining out. Be skeptical about gossip, rumors.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Emphasis on security, both emotional and material. Check investment program, budget. Avoid one who attempts to present you with "bargains." Stress quality and lasting values.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21): Seek new avenues of expression. Reject the hackneyed forms. Full moon emphasizes your ability to perceive true meanings. Look below the surface. You could come up with surprising answers.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): You gain by expressing original thoughts. New contacts now prove stimulating. Don't be afraid to say what you think. Those in position to appreciate your qualities will be listening.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Indecision causes needless worry. Make up your mind to do something which brings personal pleasure. You have earned the right to relax. Tonight, be with sympathetic friends.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Sparkling day indicated. Much depends on your willingness to LISTEN. Show one close to you that you care; you will be rewarded by appreciation and love. Avoid petty quarrels.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Favorable lunar aspect promises activity in departments of creative pursuits. Check details early. Give yourself time to improve personal appearance. Good for moving ahead.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Be conscious of lack of balance between social and professional activity. Take steps to keep up with reading, theater, friends. Other members of family should be REMEMBERED.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Sporadic activity, gestures mean much less than well-planned program. Temptation is to scatter forces. This proves enervating. Take time to PLAN, especially in connection with travel.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): View of certain opportunities apt to be less than clear. Thus, be willing to delay final decision. Full-moon position creates doubt. But it is a HEALTHY doubt. Seek advice of authority.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Stress on living up to promises. Face situation with courage. Your credo is high. You can achieve much if you adhere to principles. Refuse to be "talked out" of beliefs.

★ ★ ★

IF FRIDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY . . . this has been year featuring change, travel, important associations. DECEMBER could bring great person fulfillment.

★ ★ ★

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Full moon stresses news of institutions, hospitals, health measures. Persons born in MARCH and SEPTEMBER make headlines.

Volume Still Light

Stocks at Virtual Standstill

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market prices were at a virtual standstill early this afternoon with small gains equaling small declines. Volume was a bit higher than yesterday but still light.

Comparatively few changes amounted to as much as a full point among key issues. Even most of the usually volatile growth issues showed nothing more than fractional changes.

The list was irregular at the opening and was stalled just about dead center all morning, temporarily halting a two day advance that carried the popular market averages to their highest level of the month.

The budget of prime economic and business news remained slim and investor interest in the market showed no improvement.

The Commerce Department reported cash dividends paid last month by corporations which issue public reports were 6 per cent above August a year ago. This lifted eight-month payments 7 per cent ahead of the corresponding 1961 period.

★ ★ ★

Another likely cause for investor hesitancy was the scheduled news conference of President Kennedy after the close of the market. There were indications he would make a "forthright" statement on the Communist military buildup in Cuba.

In the motors group American Motors and Studebaker were off about ⅜, Ford down about ½ and Chrysler about ⅞. GM gained about ¼.

Bond Prices Stagnant

NEW YORK (AP)— Trading was slow and price changes minor at the opening of bond market trading today.

An over-the-counter dealer in U.S. Treasury issues termed trading very quiet and prices unchanged from yesterday's close.

The corporate market showed an irregular pattern. Fractional losses matched gains. No sector showed a marked tendency in either direction.

★ ★ ★

Gainers included Deere 4⅛s of 1983 by ¼ at 99¼, Missouri Pacific 4¾s of 2020 by 6 at 63 and Cities Service 3s of 1977 by ⅝ at 86⅛.

Delay Return of Physician

U. S.-French Ruling on Extradition Holding Up Abortion Death Case

PARIS (AP)—Dr. Harvey Lothringer, New York physician wanted in the abortion death of a college girl, cannot be returned to the United States for at least 10 days because of legal formalities.

Philip Chetta, Queens County district attorney, said Wednesday the paper work must be done under the U.S.-France extradition treaty even if Lothringer waives extradition.

DOCTOR WANTED

The doctor, 41, is wanted for the death of Barbara Lofrumento, 19, a college sophomore from New Rochelle, N.Y. Chetta said Lothringer faces charges of abortion and manslaughter.

The girl's parents brought her to his $75,000 office-home in Queens last June for an abortion. Soon afterward the doctor and his receptionist, Theresa Carillo, 24, vanished. Miss Lofrumento's dismembered body was found in the sewer line of Lothringer's home.

Lothringer and Miss Carillo were located Monday in the little country of Andorra on the mountainous French-Spanish border, where they lived as Mr. and Mrs. Victor Rey. The couple was banished from Andorra and arrested by French police at Perpignan when they crossed the border.

Chetta said he wants to talk with Miss Carillo, who is not charged, to determine whether they were married before fleeing New York.

The Paris newspaper France Soir quoted Miss Carillo as saying they were married a year ago. She said Lothringer is innocent of the abortion death.

Returns to Pontiac as Guard Leader

A veteran infantryman who enlisted with the Michigan National Guard 15 years ago in Pontiac has returned here as commander of the local National Guard unit.

The new commanding officer of Company E, 2nd Battle Group, 125th Infantry, is Capt. Robert C. Carland of Mount Clemens, a Michigan Bell Telephone Co. employe in civilian life.

Capt. Carland, holder of the combat infantryman badge for his service in World War II, was commander of a Port Huron National Guard unit for the past three years after serving in Pontiac for 12 years.

He replaces 1st Lt. Donald L. Russ, who is now executive officer for Company A in Port Huron.

Two Reds Injured in Blast at Border

HONG KONG (AP) — At least two Communist officials were wounded in an explosion Wednesday night across the Chinese border, reliable border sources reported today.

The explosion was believed to have been the work of Chinese Nationalist saboteurs.

Eight or more other bombs have exploded on the Red Chinese side of the border in the past six weeks.

"WALLABIES"—Unlike the Australian variety that would probably leap the barrier and get shot, these West Germans prefer to depend on stepladders to communicate with friends in the walled-off eastern section of the city. This part of the wall cuts through a cemetery and the East Germans are allowed two hours on Sunday to visit graves.

Perez Has 'Too Busy a Day'

Segregationist Misses Rally Talk

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Political leader Leander H. Perez failed to appear for a scheduled speaking engagement at a segregationist rally last night because he had "too busy a day."

Three white children had been dismissed earlier in the day from a desegregated parochial school because no other pupils showed up.

The Roman Catholic Archdiocese of New Orleans announced the doors at The Lady of Good Harbor School No. 2 in Buras will remain open.

A white boycott has been in effect since opening day when five Negroes were admitted.

Last night the segregationist rally in Kenner seven miles north of New Orleans, attracted 500 persons. But the principle speaker the 71-year-old Perez, failed to appear.

Contacted at his home, Perez said, "I just had too busy a day. I didn't get through until 'Way after 8 o'clock.' " He explained he had two other meetings to attend and they lasted longer than he expected.

★ ★ ★

"We couldn't find the number of that meeting hall to let the people know he couldn't get there," explained George Singelmann, originator of the reverse freedom ride program and an associate of Perez.

CROWD UPSET

The fact that Perez failed to appear left the crowd disgruntled. He has been chief spokesman for the segregationists since the archdiocese order to integrate last April. He was excommunicated by the church for his segregationist activities.

About 30 persons sat in the hot M. A. Green Civic Hall to hear addresses by excommunicated Jackson Ricau and others, while 200 milled around outside and listened to the speeches over a public address system.

Placards of "Perez for governor" and "Judge Perez, protector of the people" were noticeable. Other signs read: "Don't give any more money: Put your children in public schools free," and "Where are the parish officials. Are they afraid to help the people who put them in office?"

Ricau, who was excommunicated by the Roman Catholic Church after circulating an open letter against the desegregation order, made one of his rare speaking appearances.

★ ★ ★

"Take your children out of integrated schools and when you go to church on Sunday, keep your hands in your pockets," Ricau urged.

"Everybody knows that 99 per cent of the white people don't want integration, but the church hierarchy is trying to make us take it," he said.

"We're in reconstruction II. We know now that race mixing is part of the Communist conspiracy," Ricau said. He named two priests at Loyala University of the South, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the Urban League, and Archbishop Joseph F. Rummel as having connections with leftists.

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI) —Gen Abdul Hossein Hejazi, chief of the joint staff, announced yesterday that so far more than 10,000 victims of the recent earthquake disaster have been buried. Many more bodies remain under debris, he said.

City Building High in August

Over $1 Million With 131 Permits Recorded; 14 Are New Homes

New construction in Pontiac remained above the $1-million mark in August and was some $73,800 above the July figure.

There were 131 building permits issued last month for construction estimated to cost $1,174,526, said Carl F. Alt, city building inspector.

The major reason construction broke the $1-million mark was a permit issued for the new $883,333 addition to Pontiac Northern High School, accounting for more than half the total.

Included in the total were 14 new family dwellings valued at $106,290, eight permits for commercial alterations and repairs worth $150,315, and five new commercial buildings valued at $88,250.

While August construction topped the July total of $1,100,679, it fell a little short of the $1,267,178 reported in August 1961. Housing construction also dipped.

There were 20 permits issued for new family dwellings valued at $165,490 the month before, and 57 permits for $381,000 in new homes issued during August last year.

Safe Burglary at Theater Yields $1,000

Oakland County Sheriff's detectives today were investigating a safe burglary which netted thieves more than $1,000 yesterday from the Blue Sky Drive-In Theater, 2150 Opdyke Road, Pontiac Township.

The burglars, according to detectives, apparently entered an office building at the theater by forcing open a window in the women's restroom.

The 22- by 26-inch safe was found looted yesterday afternoon by a maintenance man, Bruce Wagner of 2990 Simmons Court, Pontiac Township. The safe door had been pried open.

Officers said the break-in apparently occurred early yesterday morning, sometime after the drive-in was closed at 1 a.m.

Hospital Trustees Will Meet Tonight

The Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees will hold its September meeting tonight at 7:30 at the hospital.

The board is meeting a week earlier than usual due to the American Hospital Assn. annual convention in Chicago next week, said Harold B. Euler, administrator.

Planning to attend next week's convention are board members Robert T. Flynn and Dr. Lynn Allen Jr.; Euler; and Donald C. Carros, assistant administrator.

FAA's Halaby to Speak, Meet Pilots of Area

Pontiac area general aviation pilots get a chance to "tell it to the head man" Saturday when Federal Aviation Administrator N. E. Halaby conducts a "hangar flying" session at Willow Run Airport.

The local aviators will be joining pilots from the 11-state Midwest area of the FAA's Central Region for the three-hour session which begins at 1 p.m. in the General Motors Air Transport Service hangar.

Halaby conducts the non-agenda type "hangar flying" meetings to "not only meet these people, hear their problems and suggestions, but to get their advice." General aviation is the largest single segment of the flying public.

Willow Run was chosen for this session because it can handle a large number of pilots, whether they arrive by plane or auto.

Hangar flying meetings have been held in various parts of the country since May 1961. They have been well attended and, according to the FAA, have been valuable in creating better understanding of the flying public.

Students to Receive Bentley Awards

Scholarship certificates from the Alvin M. Bentley Foundation will be presented to 72 first-year students at 47 Michigan universities and colleges at a 12:30 p.m. luncheon Saturday in the Kellogg Center at Michigan State University in East Lansing.

Presentation of the scholarship awards will be made by Alvin M. Bentley of Owosso, in whose honor the foundation was named.

Bentley is the Republican candidate for the state's congressman-at-large seat in the November election.

Prentiss M. Brown of St. Ignace, president of the Bentley Foundation and former board chairman of Detroit Edison Co., will preside at the luncheon.

Ten Vietnamese Girls Have Died in Fighting

SAIGON, Viet Nam (UPI) — Ten girls of South Viet Nam's feminine paramilitary force have died in action against Communist guerrillas.

Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu, sister-in-law of president Ngo Dinh Diem, named them today in opening the second class of female volunteers.

She said their deaths "prove the indomitable energy and unswerving spirit of solidarity of Vietnamese girls."

Escapee in School

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — For two weeks police looked for George Wayman Roberts, 17, who escaped from the county jail. They found him Wednesday at a Nashville high school where he had enrolled. His return to jail ended his plans to try out for the football team.

Pedestrian Hit on Holly Road

Mrs. Joseph Ranger Suffers Fractures of Pelvis and Leg

A 64-year-old woman pedestrian was seriously injured yesterday evening when she was struck by a car while crossing the road in front of her Holly Township home.

★ ★ ★

In fair condition today at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital is Mrs. Joseph Ranger of 5399 Holly Road. She suffered fractures of the leg and pelvis when hit by a car driven by Jerry D. Kitchen, 21, of 211 First St., Holly.

Kitchen told Oakland County Sheriff's deputies he was driving east on Holly Road about 65 miles per hour when he saw a woman running across the road.

The driver said he pulled onto the right shoulder of the road and applied his brakes but was unable to avoid the accident.

★ ★ ★

Kitchen, whose car hit a large rock after it struck Mrs. Ranger, was uninjured. Mrs. Ranger was unable to make a statement because of her condition.

Youths Put on Trial for Landmark Fire

MUSKEGON (UPI) — Five youths charged with destroying a state landmark last Halloween face trial Monday for arson.

A sixth youth, also charged with arson, stood mute yesterday when the six were arraigned. The sixth boy, Harold Martin Jr., 19, will undergo a preliminary examination Sept. 25.

★ ★ ★

The five who waived preliminary hearings are James Bauer, 17; Thomas Zue, 17; David Sietsema, 18; Kenneth Anderson, 17; and Dwight Reames, 18. All six are from Muskegon.

Police say the six have signed statements that they burned the 30-year-old blockhouse in Muskegon State Park.

Treasury Men Nab Gamblers

Nationwide Series of Raids Nets Arrest of 105 on Stamp Charge

WASHINGTON (AP)—Treasury men barged in on gambling spots across the nation in a series of raids Wednesday that brought 105 arrests.

The 18-state drive against gamblers charged with failing to buy $50-a-year federal tax stamps was the eighth in two years by federal tax agents.

★ ★ ★

They raided 96 gambling spots in 50 cities, seizing automobiles, slot machines, pinball devices and $18,500 in cash.

Conviction on the charge of failure to buy the gambler's tax stamp could mean fines up to DETROIT (AP) — Federal agents and Detroit policemen raided nine places and arrested 11 persons Wednesday in a move against what the Internal Revenue Service called a $250,000-a-year numbers operation. All of those arrested were charged with failure to have a federal gambling tax stamp. The Detroit raids were timed with the series of raids by tax agents on alleged gambling activities around the country.

$10,000 and prison sentences up to five years.

The government agents hit hardest in Pittsburgh; Newport News, Va.; Los Angeles; San Francisco; New Orleans, La.; Austin, Tex., and Baltimore, Md.

In the Pittsburgh area they swooped down on nine gaming establishments and arrested 12 persons.

★ ★ ★

The Internal Revenue Service said 67 slot and pinball machines and 19 automobiles were seized by the raiders.

Urges County Take Advantage of ARA Aid

More jobs could be brought to Oakland County through better use of the federal government's Area Redevelopment Administration, George J. Fulkerson said last night at a meeting of the Avon Democratic Club in Avon Township.

Fulkerson, the Democratic nominee for Congress from Oakland County, also urged expansion of the federal program to develop industry in depressed areas.

He also called for job retraining for workers displaced by automation and for maximum educational opportunities to give the young the necessary skills for employment.

Find Ten Bodies in Ruins of Villa

LAKE YAMANAKA, Japan (AP)—Firemen found the bodies of 10 persons with crushed skulls today in the smoking ruins of a partly burned mountain villa at this famed vacation spot 100 miles from Tokyo.

One police official said the dead, all adults, appeared to have been victims of a mass slaying.

Many foreigners vacation at Lake Yamanaka, but first reports said there was no indication that any foreigners were among the victims.

Products Do Talking in New Commercials

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK—Along with the new shows, the new crop of commercials is beginning to come into view on the home screens. Some trends are already apparent.

★ ★ ★

Inanimate objects will be doing a lot of talking. There's the petulant, snippy voice of recalcitrant hair refusing to lie flat in a hair spray commercial. There's the gay, merry gurgling of a shampoo lotion as it bubbles through milady's locks.

Charlie, that whistling wolf who spends all his time ogling the girls—and picks them up with such ease because his hair is so beautifully greased—is moving on to fresh conquests.

YE WASHER REPAIRMAN

Whimsy has overcome the creators of detergent ads starring the polysyllabic washer - repairman. Now they've got him all togged out in an Elizabethan costume, conferring with a housewife who somewhat resembles Queen Elizabeth I—and they're admiring clean towels with Olde English monograms.

★ ★ ★

Calvin the janitor is back contending with irascible ladies with incredibly dirty sinks who are on the verge of nervous breakdowns about what "the girls" will think.

There's a newcomer among the cleaner commercials that starts with a comedy sequence ending in disaster—husband dropping mother-in-law's breakfast tray — and then along comes the product to clean up the mess.

★ ★ ★

There seem to be a lot of new films of the same old baseball stars shaving and drooling over dry cereals and bread. There's apparently not much new except changes of scene in the cigarette commercials — the smokers are still lighting up and demonstrating sheer delight. Floors and walls continue to be filthy before the miracle cleaners and polishers go to work.

Blame Placed in Fatal Crash

Insurance Firm Files to Nullify Policy on One of 44 Victims

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (UPI) — An insurance company attorney, filing suit to nullify a policy on the life of Thomas G. Doty, said yesterday that "intensive investigations through numerous channels indicate Doty was responsible" for the crash of a Continental Airlines jet which killed Doty and 44 other persons last July.

Federal investigators determined the plane was destroyed in the air by dynamite left in a used towel receptacle in a washroom.

Doty's name was linked to the investigation in its early phases, but he was not formally named in the case until last week, when Continental Casualty Co. of Chicago filed a suit to nullify its policy on Doty's life.

A similar suit was filed in U.S. District Court yesterday by Mutual Benefit Health and Accident Association, commonly known as Mutual of Omaha.

★ ★ ★

It sought a declaratory judgment relieving it of responsibility under a $150,000 policy taken out by Doty shortly before the flight. The widow, Mrs. Naomi G. Doty, was named as the defendant.

Henry Eager, attorney for Mutual, said investigation showed Doty took out, on the day or the day before he left Kansas City, a total of $350,000 in flight insurance policies.

He said insurance on all other passengers and all crewmembers on the fatal return flight from Chicago have been paid in full or are being paid immediately. The total involved "more than $1 million," he said.

Kovacs' Wife Sought Help of Psychiatrist

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Comedian Ernie Kovacs' widow, actress-singer Edie Adams, says she visited a psychiatrist 20 or 30 times after her husband's death because:

★ ★ ★

"Before my husband died, I was very dependent upon him for every move I made. Suddenly I had to become mother and father and run a six-figure business. I didn't know how to cope with things. I had to talk to someone. I felt I needed professional help."

★ ★ ★

Miss Adams testified at a court hearing Wednesday as she pressed her claim for guardianship of Kovacs' two daughters, who have lived with her since 1955. The late comedian's first wife, Mrs. Bette Kovacs, also seeks their custody.

THEY'RE ENGAGED—Comedian Bob Newhart poses with his future wife, Virginia Quinn, daughter of character actor William Quinn, in Hollywood yesterday after announcing they'll wed next January. It will be the first marriage for Newhart, 33, and Miss Quinn, 23. Theatrical engagements are holding up the wedding until that date.

Earl Watched 'Wanda' Batter Hong Kong

By EARL WILSON

HONG KONG—I just had a ringside seat at a typhoon.

It was "Wanda," which killed about 140 and left 40,000 poor coolies without any huts to live in—and believe me, there wasn't anything funny about it.

WILSON

Oh, it seemed like a lark at first when I saw the headlines: "WATER RATIONED TO 3 HOURS A DAY—TYPHOON ON WAY MAY HELP SHORTAGE."

"Waterleggers" were selling tins of water. In my room at the hotel in Kowloon, my taps were open only from 6 to 9 a.m. — but we hoarded a little water in the bathtub, like everybody else.

Suddenly the typhoon roared toward us . . . I was back in Kowloon marooned in my corner room, looking out on the famous harbor.

The howling wind snapped off trees and ripped roofs across the street. Water swirled around the corner in sheets and rose about the curbs.

★ ★ ★

"The typhoon may score a direct hit on Hong Kong," blared the radio.

"It is advisable to keep away from doors and windows . . . The tide is expected to be 6 feet above normal tide . . . Gusts of 160 knots have been recorded."

Still, it wasn't too bad. "We will now play an appropriate song, 'The Breeze and I,' " said Radio Hong Kong. "After that, 'Wild Is the Wind.' "

The next day I viewed the terrible damage. And I lunched with Harry Odell, the white-maned impressario, friend of everybody. Hong Kong needs three typhoons this year to get enough water, he said. Hong Kong, he added, has kept its sense of humor.

"The water shortage is still on," he smiled, "I have switched from whisky-water to whisky-soda."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN N. Y. . . .

Bobby Kennedy brought two of his children to the Voisin, famed for its French cuisine—where his son, seven, demanded corn flakes . . . Bill Jose Jiminez Dana, whose Astronaut routine is famous, was hired by an airline to tour South America . . . David Niven's wife cracked an ankle water-skiing in the Mediterranean.

★ ★ ★

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: The really rare disease today is one that hasn't been seen on a TV show yet.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: When a secretary marries the boss, she gives up being a secretary, and he gives up being the boss.

EARL'S PEARLS: Some women dress on the theory that men can't think while they're looking.

There's a Hollywood starlet who has finished Christmas shopping with her boy friend. She took him to the furrier's, the jeweler's and the cleaners . . . That's earl, brother.

Officials Predict Fight by Administration for More Space Money

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy's pledge that America will beat Russia to the moon before 1970 appeared today to signal an administration proposal for increased space funds next year.

One high-ranking official predicted a "substantial increase" in Kennedy's next space budget, well beyond this fiscal year's record-breaking $5.4-billion level which includes $3.7 billion in actual expenditures.

Kennedy returned last night from a two-day tour of four major space facilities in Alabama, Florida, Texas and Missouri. The trip was expected to play a large part in his decisions on next year's space outlays.

According to the best authority, exact money levels for next year's space program are still to be decided although there is a liklihood of sizable boosts.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy tried on his tour to find out what use could be made of more funds. One answer he obtained was that an increase could step up production of booster rockets and thus accelerate the space program.

In his speech before some 35,000 persons at the Rice University Stadium in Houston, Tex., yesterday, Kennedy said the na-

Iodine May Do It

Eye Smog Killer

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — A possible lead toward achieving victory over "smog" by introducing a cleansing chemical into the atmosphere of smog-plagued cities was reported today.

A team of Lockheed researchers said they had achieved abatement and even prevention of smog—in laboratory experiments—through use of iodine as a "chain-breaker" of the molecular chain producing the irritant air mixture that bedevils certain cities such as Los Angeles.

They stressed in a report for the 142nd national meeting of the American Chemical Society that the findings—resulting from a three year study—represent only the results of relatively small-scale laboratory tests.

They added that a number of questions still remain to be answered before determination can be made whether the iodine method can be employed in solving air pollution problems on a practical scale.

Lockheed's Dr. William F. Hamilton, who presented the report for the team, said the big question to be answered is whether there would be poisonous effects to human and other life from the reaction products resulting from introducing the iodine into a smoggy atmosphere.

Says Kennedy Will Be Frank on Build-Up

Raul Castro Warns Attack by U.S. Would End Imperialism

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy was reported today to be planning a forthright statement at his news conference tonight on the Communist military build-up in Cuba.

Sen. Herbert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., gave newsmen this report after a morning White House meeting of Democratic congressional leaders with the President.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Senate Democratic floor leader, said he was sure Kennedy would have a great deal more to say about the Cuban situation at the news conference.

Meanwhile, Havana radio today quoted Armed Forces Minister Maj. Raul Castro as warning President Kennedy he had better convince "Pentagon generals" that an attack on Cuba "can mark the end of imperialism."

The Cuban transmitter said Castro told a graduating class of army cadets in Matanzas that if the U.S. attacks Cuba, "the Cuban peoples will be the last target of imperialist aggression . . . the first shot will end imperialism."

The audience rose and sang the Communist "internationale" marching song at the conclusion of Castro's speech, the radio said.

★ ★ ★

The congressional leaders said they had a lengthy discussion with the President on his request for stand-by authority to call 150,000 Reserves to active duty.

★ ★ ★

A resolution to grant this authority has run into Republican demands in the Senate for tougher and more specific action.

Some of the GOP members want to put in amendments calling for strong action against Cuba or any other Communist moves.

Humphrey, assistant Democratic floor leader, said he hoped that the Senate would reject these Republic moves.

He asserted that Republicans were trying to make Cuba an issue in the current congressional election campaigns and termed this "mischievous and reckless."

POINTS TO 1958

"Let's not forget that Cuba slipped into the hands of Fidel Castro and the Communists in 1958," Humphrey said.

That was during the Republican administration of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Humphrey said he would prefer that any Senate resolution dealing with Cuba and its Communist buildup be handled separately.

★ ★ ★

He hinted that Democrats may offer a substitute for varied earlier GOP proposals.

In any event, Humphrey said the Senate plans to call up and

Racial Moderate Georgia Governor

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

ATLANTA, Ga. — State Sen. Carl E. Sanders, a moderate on the race issue by Deep South standards, was nominated governor last night in a bitter battle against former Gov. Marvin Griffin, a staunch segregationist.

Sanders, a bold young man who entered the race last April while veteran politicians scoffed, thus derailed a comeback drive by Griffin. Sanders, 37, campaigned vigorously, charging that Griffin's previous administration was rife with corruption.

The ex-governor, roaring up and down the state in a fist-shaking fight for political survival, had said that Sanders' election would lead to wholesale integration throughout Georgia.

State Sen. Sanders, making his first bid on a statewide basis, called it a great victory not for himself but for the people of Georgia.

Griffin formally conceded his defeat in a statement at 10 a.m. as Sanders' Democratic primary victory widened with every new tabulation.

Returns tabulated by 10 a.m., with 1,290 of the state's 1,825 precincts reporting, gave Sanders 381,460 votes to 232,784 for Griffin.

Three other candidates drew a smattering of votes.

NO UNIT SYSTEM

This was the first popular vote primary in Georgia in 54 years. Federal courts earlier this year knocked down the state's county unit system, which concentrated political power in rural areas.

Grifiln, 55, campaigned on the racial issue with promises to stem the tide of integration.

Nomination means election as the Republicans have no candidate.

A. Edward Smith, nominated by the Republicans, was killed in an automobile accident in June and the GOP said no successor would be named.

Sanders too is a segregationist, but throughout the campaign he said he would never permit turmoil and disorders — taking a stand similar to that of Gov. Ernest Vandiver.

The governor, ineligible to succeed himself, has charged that inflammatory statements made by some during the campaign were the cause of Negro church burnings and other recent racial incidents.

AMC Also Planning to Boost Kelvinator Sales Next Year

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors Corp. is aiming at a 20 to 25 per cent increase of its car and appliance sales next year, Richard E. Cross, chairman, said today.

Cross, in remarks prepared for a press preview of AMC's 1963 Rambler car models, said the company expects to sell nearly a million products for the first time in its history this fiscal year.

He said the sales volume would exceed one billion dollars for the fiscal year. AMC's fiscal year closes Sept. 30. The company makes the Rambler car and the Kelvinator refrigerator.

"With our increased strength and new products, we expect the coming year to be our best from a sales volume standpoint and, although general business could be slightly off, we are gearing our own planning to a 20 to 25 per

County Set to Apply for $4.8 Millions

By DICK HANSON

Just as soon as Washington produces the necessary forms, the Oakland County Department of Public Works will apply for $4.8 million of President Kennedy's $900-million public works fund to create jobs, DPW Director R. J. Alexander declared today.

The intent to apply already has been filed with the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency pending availability of the forms, he said.

The Senate bill which would authorize the administration to make grants from the fund for public works projects in economically distressed areas was sent to President Kennedy Monday for his signature.

Once signed, appropriations can be made and the application forms made available.

The version of the legislation sent to the White House is quite different from Kennedy's original proposal but has been deemed acceptable to the administration by congressional leaders.

In seeking authority to relieve the economically distressed areas, including Oakland County, the President asked for $900 million for immediate projects plus $2 billion on standby for use in a recession.

Alexander agreed that Kennedy's plan, even in its altered form, is going to create jobs, although he questioned their permanancy foward solving unemployment.

"Nothing permanent will result

Regains Post in Estes Case

Restore Farm Official Demoted in Hassle Over Bonds Approval

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman announced today that a department official demoted in connection with the Billie Sol Estes grain storage operations has been restored to his post.

The official is Carl J. Miller, a career employe of 25 years. He was reinstated as chief of the U.S. Warehouse Act branch of the department's marketing service.

The post pays $13,250 a year.

Miller had approved bonds posted by Estes, Pecos, Tex., financier to protect the department against possible loss on surplus grains stored in his warehouses. The size of the bond—$700,000—had been criticized by some members of Congress as being insufficient and indicating favored treatment for Estes.

Freeman made his announcement in testimony prepared for hearing of the Intergovernmental Relations subcommittee of the House, headed by Rep. L. H. Fountain, D-N.C., which is investigating the Estes grain storage operations.

Pontiac Water Complaints Due to Lack of Rain

In a report to City commissioners and administrators this week, Herbert G. Parker, Pontiac water superintendent, said the poor quality of city water in some areas is a result of the lack of spring and summer rainfall this year.

Parker explained that iron compounds, which affect the color of water, and hydrogen sulphide, accounting for the "rotten egg" odors, accumulate in dead-end mains or mains where water circulation is slow.

These are normally eliminated by flushing dead-end mains and hydrants in areas where consumers complain.

"Due to a very dry spring, the underground water table dropped to a very low level," Parker noted.

"In order to conserve what ground water we have, the water department has had to discontinue its flushing program, for almost three months.

The low recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 65. The thermometer reading at 1 p.m. was 83.

Predict Storm to Reach Pitch of Hurricane

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — Weathermen predicted tropical storm Celia would reach hurricane pitch of 74 miles an hour today.

The season's third tropical storm was reported spinning over the Atlantic 900 miles east of Puerto Rico.

Celia was heading west-northwest at about 15 miles an hour. If it continued that course it would move toward the North Atlantic without approaching land.

Two Navy reconnaisance planes are scheduled to probe the storm.

GROWING PAINS — Stretching out in almost every direction, William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak is in the midst of a three-year, $10-million expansion program designed to increase its total beds from the present 259 to 693 by September 1964. Key links in the growing medical chain are a five-story addition atop the present structure (following the shape of the cross) and a seven-story unit (dotted lines) at the north end. Beaumont, built in 1954 with a 208-bed capacity, is picture in the aerial view by pilot-photographer Homer Tinney, one in his series of shots illustrating the changing face of Oakland County. Located near 13 Mile Road and Woodward Avenue, Beaumont is in the middle of 111-acres of hospital-owned property. Expansion began last October and already has resulted in small additions to the south wing and a host of site and roadway improvements. Currently, more than a mile of roadway is under construction on the property. Owen R. Pinkerman, Beaumont's director, said the $10-million cost of expansion is being supplied through gifts, loans and a $1.7 million grant from the Metropolitan Detroit Building Fund. Work is continuing to develop additional capital gifts, he said.

Loses Faith in Congo Plan

Believe Tshombe Is Using U. N.-Katangese Clash as Pretext

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP)— President Moise Tshombe says a new clash between United Nations troops and gendarmes of his breakaway Katanga Province has destroyed his faith in the U.N. plan to unify the Congo.

The suspicion arose that Tshombe was using the incident as a pretext to prolong his secession.

★ ★ ★

Claiming U.N. Indian troops triggered the clash Wednesday and killed two of his gendarmes, Tshombe told newsmen the incident was an imbecility "coming at the moment when I and my ministers were examining the U.N. plan."

U.N. officials said the Katangans fired first and denied there were any casualties.

SAYS CLAIMS FAKED

A delegate at U.N. headquarters in New York expressed belief Tshombe faked the casualty claim as a pretext for rejecting the U.N. plan to bring his province and its mineral wealth under the authority of the central Congo government. U.S. officials in Washington expressed similar views privately.

★ ★ ★

Tshombe showed newsmen the bodies of a gendarme corporal and a private at an Elisabethville morgue, claiming they were killed in the clash. He charged U.N. troops opened up with machine guns after ordering his men away from a roadblock near the U.N. controlled Elisabethville airport.

"If the United Nations want war they can have it," Tshombe said. "It won't be child's play like (the U.N.-Katanga flareups) last September and December."

"I do not believe in (U.N. Acting Secretary-General) U Thant's good faith any longer," said Tshombe, "nor in the Western nations—the United States, Belgium and Britain—who guaranteed the implementation of Thant's plan.

"These imbeciles of the United Nations . . . they would be better returning to India and the other nations they come from."

County Set to Apply for Works Millions

unless the public works projects thus achieved will attract new industrial development," he said.

One of the generally accepted prerequisites for locating new industry is the availability of public utilities such as water and sewers.

The $4.8 million to be sought by the county would enable the DPW to take bids on 10 badly needed sewage projects worth $9.6 million within six months after the applications were approved, Alexander said.

NOW OR LATER

Some of these projects could be placed under construction within 90 days of approval, he added. "Otherwise they are still up to five years away from construction."

★ ★ ★

All of the projects are intended to replace septic tanks with a modern sewage system for treatment by Detroit, and will open new areas of the county for further development, both industrial and residential, he stated.

Septic tanks in the areas concerned already have reached numbers where no more can be added safely, Alexander explained.

Projects which could be carried out almost immediately in the $9.6-million program and the cost of each, are:

Southfield-Rouge Arms, $1.7 million; Farmington Industrial Arms, $730,000; Huron-Rouge, Novi Sewer, $1.4 million; 14-Mile-Maple Arm, $450,000; 13-Mile Road Arm, $500,000.

And, Walnut Lake Arm, $1.2 million; Troy Sewers, $2.4 million; Sylvan Manor Arm, $240,000; Walton Heights Manor Sewer, $180,00; and Walled Lake Sewers and plant, approximately $1 million.

★ ★ ★

Alexander said plans on all but the Walled Lake project are either already prepared or can be completed within the next couple of weeks.

The $4.8 million in federal funds would be matching funds in the form of a grant. In other words, he said, the money wouldn't be repaid.

He pointed out that this is a chance to get back some of the federal taxes of local origin, which, if not reclaimed by Oakland County, will go to counties elsewhere in the nation.

"You may not agree with the philosophy, but there is no point in booting the money away for someone else to use," he observed.

BACKED BY FAITH

Local matching funds would be derived through the sale of county bonds by the faith and credit of the benefiting communities, Alexander explained.

The municipalities will collect the money to repurchase the bonds through special assessments or connection charges to users of the new sewers.

According to Alexander each million dollars spent on public works will produce 100 man years of direct labor and 150 indirect man years of labor.

He defined direct man years as job length on the project and indirect man years as job length in supporting industries, such as in the production of materials to be used in the project.

In the case of Oakland County, spending $9.6 million at this time will produce 2,400 additional man years of labor in the area, he said.

AF 'Skybolt' Fails 3rd Time

Missile Destroyed as It Veers Off Course; Dropped by B52

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The Air Force Skybolt air-launched ballistic missile failed today—the third time in as many launchings. It was destroyed by the range safety officer after being dropped from beneath the wing of a B52 bomber.

Officials announced the Skybolt ignited successfully but then veered off course and had to be destroyed. The B52 was at an altitude of more than five miles and several miles off the Florida coast when it unleashed the missile.

The weapon is being developed to increase the nuclear striking range of American and British bombers.

The first launching of the Skybolt, last April 19, made the best showing. The first stage ignited after the projectile dropped from the plane, but the second stage did not fire.

The first stage failed to ignite on the second test on June 29 and the 5½-ton Skybolt fell into the Atlantic.

Skybolt is intended to become the most mobile nuclear rocket in the free world arsenal. When operational, hopefully in about two years, the United States plans to mount four Skybolts on each of 300 B52 bombers, and Britain will employ two missiles on each of several Vulcan Mark II bombers. The missile will have a range of more than 1,000 miles.

pass the Reserves measure before it quits for the day.

★ ★ ★

Mansfield, in a separate interview, said he hoped Congress would come up finally with a bipartisan approach.

The senator was reminded that he had said a couple of weeks ago that he didn't think the Republicans would light on Cuba as a partisan issue.

Asked whether he still thought that, Mansfield replied: "We always live in hopes. The leadership has been responsible in its utterances. We hoped the rank and file would follow leadership."

Mansfield said that before the Senate acted on the resolution there were "a number of factors" to be canvassed with both Democrats and the Republican sponsors of various amendments.

★ ★ ★

He said he hoped the question of whether the call-up resolution could be passed unencumbered "can be resolved" in these conferences.

He pointed out that the original legislation made no specific reference to Cuba. And he said if there has to be an amendment, "We've got to be careful in our language."

GOLDWATER COMMENTS

In Richmond, Va., Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., called for a blockade against ships carrying arms and men from Communist nations to Cuba.

Goldwater, in Richmond to lend support to the candidacy of a fellow Republican running for Congress, said such a blockade should be set up in conjunction with the Organization of American States (OAS).

If it failed, he said, "The next step is a combined invasion (of Cuba) with the OAS under the principles of the Monroe Doctrine."

Union Council Endorses Dems for Fall Vote

Oakland County AFL-CIO Council delegates last night voted to endorse the Democratic ticket for state and county offices in the Nov. 6 election.

The action was taken following a report by the AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education (COPE), which interviewed 10 Democratic and 8 Republican candidates Aug. 28.

Among the Republicans who unsuccessfully sought endorsement was union member Kenneth Waller of Ferndale, candidate for state representative from the sixth district in southern Oakland County.

Republican county chairman Charles L. Lyle, who charged in July that the union group decides on endorsements without consideration of GOP candidates, was not available this morning for comment.

Expect Congress to Adjourn Oct. 5

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., said today Democratic leaders now expect Congress to adjourn Friday, Oct. 5.

"This is the consensus of Congressional leaders," Humphrey, assistant Senate Democratic leader, told newsmen after a White House conference of congressional leaders.

Humphrey said the House expects to begin work on the foreign aid money bill Sept. 10 or 20 and this plus a number of other priority measures will keep legislators here for more than three weeks from today.

He said prospects look good for House approval Friday of the administration request for U. S. participation in the $200-million United Nations bond issue.

British Cabinet Mulls Market

Macmillan Is Absent to Continue Talks With Other Nations

LONDON (AP) — The British Cabinet met today to discuss the general Commonwealth assault on Britain's proposed entry into the European Common Market. Prime Minister Harold Macmillan conspicuously stayed away from the meeting.

Macmillan apparently absented himself from the Cabinet session because he was anxious to continue a round of informal talks with Commonwealth premiers and anxious to avoid creating an impression of emergency in the midst of the summit conference of 16 Commonwealth countries.

Deputy Prime Minister R. A. Butler presided over the Cabinet meeting and gave the ministers an assessment of the Commonwealth's opposition to Britain's linkup with the European community.

Though the Commonwealth objections gave new ammunition to British opponents of the proposed linkup with the Continent, Macmillan was reported confident that the members of his Conservative government would support his policy.

STUDY IMPLICATIONS

The commonwealth conference, meeting here since Monday, divided into subcommittees for detailed study of the implications of British membership in the Common Market.

Macmillan's aides put out word of his resolve to go ahead with his plans after almost every Commonwealth leader had criticized aspects of the historic project.

"Our policy has taken a hammering," a senior British minister observed privately, "but the worst is over and the government will survive."

Plan 18 New Adult Education Classes

BIRMINGHAM — A greatly expanded continuing education program will begin in the Birmingham Public School System the week of Sept. 24, it was announced today.

Eighteen new courses will be offered in the adult education series this term according to Howard L. Malwitz, program director.

Courses being taught here for the first time include beginning Russian, advanced shorthand, china painting, creative writing workshop, modern science, constitutional government, medical emergency training, portrait painting and photography.

Other new courses are English refresher, advanced typing, psychology of adolescents, goals for Americans, experimental weaving, beginning Italian, reading improvement, office machines and furniture refinishing.

★ ★ ★

Most of the 60 courses being offered will meet for 10 weeks from 8 to 10 p.m. Classes will be conducted on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Registrations are being accepted now at the continuing education office in the board of education building, Chester and Martin streets. Registration will close Sept. 21.

Malwitz said that any group of 12 or more who wish to have a course not offered are requested to contact his office to learn if an instructor is available.

★ ★ ★

Three college courses also are being offered by the department in cooperation with Wayne State University and the University of Michigan, Malwitz said.

They are: cultures of the new world, introduction to the arts of music and current developments in U.S. foreign policy.

Friends and Relatives of Retarded Children of Oakland County (FAR) will conduct a school for youngsters this fall at the First Presbyterian Church of Birmingham.

Registration will be held between 12:30 and 2:30 p.m. Monday in Room 101 at the church office, 1669 W. Maple Road.

Youngsters 3½ to eight years of age, too retarded even for special education classes, can be enrolled in the daily school, said FAR director and Royal Oak City Commissioner Robert Patnales.

The organization, with headquarters in Ferndale, has about 60 children in its program.

Ben Stone

Service for Ben Stone, 55, of 19 Merrimac Court, Bloomfield Hills, will be 3 p.m. tomorrow at the First Presbyterian Church, Birmingham, with burial in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery, Troy.

An area industrialist, Mr. Stone died yesterday at his home after a long illness. His body will be at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co., Birmingham, until 1 p.m. tomorrow.

Mr. Stone belonged to Pine Lake Country Club.

Surviving are his wife Ruth and two daughters, Linda Ann and Nancy E., both at home.

The family suggests memorial tributes be made to the Michigan Cancer Society.

tion "must pay what needs to be paid."

"I don't think we ought to waste any money, but I think we ought to do the job," Kennedy said. "And this will be done in the decade of the 1960s."

By forceful implication, Kennedy endeavored to meet the challenge of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's question of "why the great hurry" in America's "fantastically expensive space program."

Space officials hoped that Kennedy would have answers for any similarly doubtful congressmen on the basis of his whirlwind but jam-packed inspection of space projects at Huntsville, Ala., Cape Canaveral, Fla., Houston and St. Louis.

The president noted that this year's space budget "is three times what it was in January 1961, and it is greater than the space budget of the previous eight years combined."

★ ★ ★

"That budget now stands at . . . a staggering sum," Kennedy said, "though somewhat less than we pay for cigarettes and cigars every year."

And he said "Space expenditures will soon rise some more, from 46 cents per person per week to more than 50 cents a week for every man, woman and child in the United States, for we have given this program a high national priority."

The President's per capita figures represented a 20 per cent increase. It was difficult to get an immediate pinpointing from administration officials, who would say only that Kennedy referred to sums already budgeted.

Child Antique Fan

While most mothers would shudder at the thought of taking children to an antique fair, they would agree there there are exceptions to this.

Take Melissa Pflug, a 7-year-old miss who lives in Birmingham. Her mother took her to Cranbrook Auditorium Wednesday where the Michigan Animal Rescue League, Inc., was setting up its annual Antique Fair, being held today through Saturday. Melissa wandered among the booths, stopping now and then to admire some item.

Mrs. John Pflug, Melissa's mother, says her pig-tailed daughter seems to enjoy looking for antiques to "fill up the old house we bought."

★ ★ ★

She has a few small items like a china slipper and salt cellars in her room. Mrs. Pflug hopes that this early interest will grow with Melissa and be an adult hobby too.

Mrs. Pflug does NOT take her sons to antique fairs. They bounce.

Flower Show Blossoms Out

Area Unit Grows Idea

Cosponsors of the Miracle of Flowers show being held Friday and Saturday at Miracle Mile Shopping Center are the Lorraine Manor Woman's National Farm and Garden Association (WNFGA) and the Michigan Division Flower Show School Judges. Sixty of the 150 exhibits will be made by students who are training to become judges of flower shows.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Warren C. Cleven, Tilmor Drive, president of the local group, is general chairman of the show. Twenty-eight business firms are providing display space for the floral arrangements.

★ ★ ★

This is the first flower show put on by the 18-member Lorraine Manor branch. It is also the first flower show where all members of the national organization may compete in a common show to be judged by the merit system.

★ ★ ★

Other local WNFGA branches that are cooperating in the weekend show are those in the Pontiac area, Birmingham and Bloomfield Township.

★ ★ ★

The arrangements will be on display from 10:30 a.m. Friday to 9 p.m. Saturday.

'Gardeners' Welcome Officers

Dirt Gardeners Club selected officers during their annual fall meeting Tuesday at Rotunda Inn.

Mrs. Chester Dlugaszewski will serve as president. Mrs. Percy Rose will assist as vice president.

Other officers are Mrs. Robert Playter, recording secretary; Mrs. Vivian Tubbs, treasurer; Mrs. Robert O'Neil, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. E. R. LaBadie, historian.

Hostesses Mrs. Percy Rose and Mrs. Tubbs welcomed Mrs. Orville Proksch as guest of the group. Mrs. Kenneth Gidley led devotions.

★ ★ ★

Special tribute was given Mrs. Charles Furler, who will be leaving for her new home in Florida shortly.

★ ★ ★

An October trip was planned to Mrs. Rose's summer home on Walpole Island, St. Clair River.

Diet, Skin Care Discussed by Fashionettes

Mrs. Jesse Villereal, program chairman, led the discussion on dieting and skin care at the regular meeting of the Fashionette Club Tuesday evening in Adah Shelly Library.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Harold Hopper was trophy winner for losing the most weight during the week. Mrs. Charles Meier received an award for the greatest weight loss in August. Mrs. Chester Meger, Mrs. Charles Spence and Mrs. William Woodruff all earned awards.

★ ★ ★

The annual banquet is being planned for Nov. 6 on the ninth anniversary of the club. Mrs. Hopper and Mrs. Wava Forker are handling arrangements.

Next week's meeting will feature games.

★ ★ ★

Sponsored by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department, the Fashionette Club is open to any woman interested in losing weight. Meetings are held from 7 to 9 p.m. every Tuesday at Adah Shelly Library.

By EMILY POST INSTITUTE

Q: A friend has invited another friend and me to stay with her and her family for a few days, and as this is our first visit neither of us is quite sure of what we ought to do to show our appreciation. Is she or her mother our hostess?

★ ★ ★

A: The daughter is your immediate hostess but the mother is your more important hostess. Show your appreciation to the daughter by being adaptable and agreeable and show your appreciation to the mother by trying to make as little "extra" trouble as possible—especially if they have no servants.

Be sure to write at least a short note of thinks to the mother as soon as you get home, and perhaps a longer one to your friend. Later on, if you can, invite your friend to stay with you in return.

★ ★ ★

Q: Is it the obligation of the parents of the bridegroom-to-be or of the bride-to-be to give the rehearsal dinner or party? Our son is being married out of town. It is to be a big wedding.

The bride's parents are well-to-do; we are in moderate circumstances. We wish to do the correct thing. Please advise us.

A: There is not the slightest obligation on your part to give a dinner or party after the rehearsal. If they choose to, the bride-to-be's parents may give such a dinner or party but to do so is not at all necessary.

★ ★ ★

Q: Is it ever proper to use the fork with the prongs pointing downward?

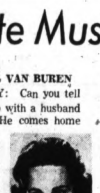

A: Whenever the knife and fork are held in cutting position (fork in left hand, knife in right) naturally the prongs are pointed downward and food is correctly lifted to the mouth in this position by the left hand. It is only when the fork is held in the right hand that the tines must turn upward.

Abby Tells Traveler's Wife

Mate Must Help Rear Children

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Can you tell me what to do with a husband who travels? He comes home on weekends, lays down all kind of laws and rules for me to enforce on the children, and then leaves town for a whole week.

ABBY

I am about to lose my mind. The children are 7, 9, 13, 14, and 16. I tell my husband if he is going to make laws he will have to stay home and see that they are carried out. Am I unreasonable?

UNNERVED

DEAR UNNERVED: Really, now, men who travel for a living cannot very well stay home to discipline the children.

If your husband insists on laying down "laws and rules" for the children, he should do it with them personally, explaining meanwhile that their mother must have cooperation, in his absence.

The enforcement task must be yours. But you are entitled to participation and support from your husband.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am in love with a girl and want to marry her, but my family objects to her. My parents are rarely wrong and they are very much upset about my plans.

They say she is "wrong" for me, but I just don't feel that way. I am 21. Could I be wrong? I have the kindest mother and father in the world. And my sisters, who are also very good to me and want me to be happy, don't like her either.

I hate to hurt them by marrying a girl they don't like. Please tell me what to do.

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: Why does your family object to this girl? They could be wrong—and so could you. But unless they tell you why they think she is "wrong" for you, do your own thinking.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a young woman who, within 30 minutes after being introduced to a young man, asks him his religion, whether he believes in a "double standard" and if he thinks a wife should work?

WILLIAM

DEAR WILLIAM: The young man should reply, "I'm an atheist, the double standard is standard operating procedure for me, and what else are wives good for?"

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO DOUG: There IS safety in numbers, but be sure you don't get your numbers mixed up.

★ ★ ★

Unload your problem on Abby. For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of The Pontiac Press.

★ ★ ★

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to ABBY, care of The Pontiac Press, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

St. Michael Group Meets Again

The Altar Society of St. Michael's Church resumed its monthly meetings Tuesday evening in the parish hall.

★ ★ ★

Presiding officer Mrs. Henry Simpson welcomed Mrs. Margaret Therrian, Mrs. Robert LaForge and Mrs. Flora Ardelan into the society as new members.

★ ★ ★

The women announced plans for the welcome home dinner for the Sisters of St. Joseph Sunday.

★ ★ ★

The following events also were announced: Sept. 27 — the Northwestern Deanery meeting of the National Council of Catholic Women at St. Mary's Retreat House in Oxford. Dinner begins at 6 p.m. with the meeting afterward.

★ ★ ★

Oct. 16 will be a day of recollection at St. Mary's Reparatrix, sponsored by the Daughters of Isabella. Buses will leave St. Michael's parking lot at 8:30 a.m.

★ ★ ★

Annual 40-hour devotion will be held at the church Oct. 1-3. The adult inquiry classes will be resumed Oct. 10 for all who are interested. Rev. James Hayes announced three new programs in this fall's course of instruction. They are Catholic worship, child psychology and English literature.

The fish frys were resumed last Friday and will be held every other Friday throughout the year. The public is invited to attend.

OES Gets Together

Pontiac Chapter No. 228, Order of the Eastern Star, held its first fall meeting Monday evening at the Masonic Temple.

A life certificate was presented to Mrs. Lois Kinney, and Mrs. Earl Watson was given her proficiency test.

Announcement was made of "West" nights at Joseph C. Byrd and the Ferndale Chapters Monday.

The advanced officers' night and initiatory work will be held Sept. 24 at 8 p.m.

Guests during the meeting were Margaret Duffield of Omaha, Neb.; Mrs. Grace Redman of Beacon Chapter of New Jersey; and Shirley Emmons of Clawson.

Hostesses were Mrs. Sylvan Clark, Mrs. Watson and Mrs. Joseph Minton.

Northside Club Plans Dinner

Plans for the first anniversary dinner and theater-party in November were discussed by the Northside Neighbors Club who met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. John Morey on North Perry Street.

★ ★ ★

Guest of the group was Mrs. Stewart Heard of Grand Blanc, formerly of Perry Street.

★ ★ ★

The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Maft Keller, with refreshments following.

Pontiac Audubon Club Gathers for Program

Sime 30 members of the Pontiac Audubon Club gathered Wednesday evening in Stevens Hall of All Saints Episcopal Church.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Kenneth Sanderson presented a program on bird banding which she and her husband have been doing since 1946. They have banded some 778 birds and 45 different species so far this year.

★ ★ ★

Donald Nagel and James Card will represent the club at the Michigan Audubon Chapter meeting Saturday in East Lansing.

Migration of hawks and the Monarch butterfly will be observed on a field trip to Point Pelee on Sept. 22. Interested persons may meet trip leaders and members at 10 a.m. at the Point nature trail.

★ ★ ★

The fall agenda includes viewing a collection of mounted birds at the Mark Road home of William Huffman Sept. 29 at 7:30 p.m., also a cooperative picnic dinner at the Lake Orion home of Mrs. John C. Plassey.

Hosts for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Alton Madden. Madeline Zidrak was a guest.

Alpha Omega Plans Year

Members of Alpha Omega Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority planned the year's course of events at the first fall meeting Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. Donald E. DeVoe. Vice president Mrs. Russell Perkins, conducted the meeting.

★ ★ ★

Instead of the usual social evening Sept. 26, the group will attend the annual "Kard Kapers" benefit party sponsored by the Soroptimist Club of Pontiac in the First Federal Savings and Loan of Pontiac.

Ferndale Unit Guests at Joint CWF Event

The Christian Women's Fellowship of the First Christian Church had as its guests the Ferndale CWF in a joint celebration of the anniversary of World Christian Women's Fellowship Tuesday evening with 56 present.

Mrs. Raymond Heyse directed the program on "Discipleship." Assisting her as a resource panel were Lorna MacKellar, Mrs. Brady Adams, Mrs. Franklin Webster, Mrs. Jack H. C. Clark, Mrs. Eugene Thompson and Mrs. William Tompkins.

★ ★ ★

The theme, "The Kingrom Without and The Kingrom Within," was chosen for the worship program by Mrs. Lowell Mount.

Refreshments were served by Elizabeth Circle.

Chief Pontiac Auxiliary Makes Plans for Year

Plans for the coming year were presented at the recent meeting of Chief Pontiac Auxiliary No. 377, The American Legion, at the post home on Oakland Lake.

Newly elected president, Mrs. Joseph Charter, announced the annual fall conference of the Department of Michigan will be held in Kalamazoo Sept. 14-16. Mrs. Lewis Tate and Mrs. Lawrence Curtis will represent the group.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Charter introduced her officers for 1962-63. They include Mrs. Arnold Getzan and Mrs. Frank Huebner, vice presidents; Mrs. Tate, secretary, and Mrs. Curtis, treasurer.

Other women assuming office are Mrs. Howard Bliss, Mrs. Robert Cain, Mrs. Donald Richmond, Mrs. Verner Macom, Mrs. Mitchell Rampart, Mrs. Ernest Walker and Mrs. L. D. McLauchlin.

★ ★ ★

Two events are scheduled to be held at the post home. Miss Janice Antona's new citizens class will have its annual picnic on Sept. 23. On Sept. 29 a banquet will be held to honor the birthday of Chief Pontiac Post. Mrs. Roy Parden, Mrs. Charter and Alfred Gulda head arrangements.

Tell Betrothal of Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Popps, West Cornell Street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Judith Ann, PO 3.C. U.S. Naval Base, Norfolk, Va., to Jerry F. Jones, Boatswains Mate 3.C., Portsmouth, Va.

He is the son of Mrs. Runette Jones and Floyd B. Jones of Atlanta, Ga. An early fall wedding is planned.

Marbach Group Holds Gathering

Members of the Marbach Group, Woman's Association of First Presbyterian Church, met Monday evening at the Thorpe Street home of Mrs. Donald McCandless.

Cohostess for the gathering was Mrs. Jerry White. Mrs. E. L. Good presented the devotions, while Mrs. Elmer Barker continued her lesson study on the book of Romans.

Pontiac Press Photo

Mrs. N. E. Durocher poured at the annual membership tea of the Women's Auxiliary to Oakland County Medical Society. Waiting for her cup of tea is Mrs. Kenneth VandenBerg in whose home at Orchard Lake the Wednesday meeting was held. Mrs. Durocher lives in Bloomfield Township.

Indictments Have Little Effect

Mart Prices Are Irregular

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices were irregular in fairly quiet early trading today.

Most changes of key issues were limited to under a point.

There was little overnight business or economic news to stir up investor interest.

The federal grand jury indictment of 11 companies on charges of fixing prices of brass mill tube and tire had little effect on the prices of several companies involved.

Kennecott and Phelps Dodge started out fractionally lower in light trading and Kennecott improved a bit. Both have fabricating subsidiaries named in the indictment.

CONTINUES IMPROVEMENT

The chemical section continued yesterday's improvement, led by DuPont which picked up more than a point. Other gains were fractional. Some analysts credited the upturn in this group to the prediction of the retiring president of Dow Chemical that the decline in chemical prices is subsiding.

The market advanced yesterday, lifting the popular averages to their highest point since Aug. 31.

IBM picked up almost 2 points.

Ford, Chrysler and Studebaker declined fractionally while General Motors gained a bit. Bethlehem was up a minimum fraction and U. S. Steel and Jones & Laughlin off minor fractions.

American stock exchange prices opened irregularly higher. Fractional gainers included Syntex, Creole Petroleum, Venture, Capital and Anken Chemical.

Off fractions were Occidental Petroleum, Technicolor and Reliance Insurance. Mead Johnson and New Jersey Zinc were unchanged.

Bond Prices Stagnant

NEW YORK (AP)— Trading was slow and price changes minor at the opening of bond market trading today.

An over-the-counter dealer in U.S. Treasury issues termed trading very quiet and prices unchanged from yesterday's close.

The corporate market showed an irregular pattern. Fractional losses matched gains. No sector showed a marked tendency in either direction.
