Perils of Getting Votes

APPLE A DAY — Apparently unconcerned by the camera pointed in their direction, Adlai Stevenson and his sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Ives, bite determinedly into a couple of apples before departing from Chicago for a campaign tour of Michigan.

WATCH THAT PIN! — The usual Eisenhower smile is replaced by a look of alarm over the possibility of a pin jab as Scout Weaver Reed, 8, of Minneapolis, attaches a carnation to the President's lapel just before a campaign speech yesterday. Weaver obviously wasn't flustered by the honor.

Jackson Escapee in Baltimore

Crime Fan Traps Convict Wanted in State Killings

BALTIMORE (AP)—An escaped convict awaits return to Michigan today to face a possible double-murder charge because of the sharp eyes and memory of a crime magazine fan.

The convict is Nealy Buchanan, a 32-year-old, who had been using the name of the man he is accused of killing.

Michigan police and the FBI had been looking for Buchanan for more than a year in the hammer-slayings of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Herrick at their farm near Stockbridge, Sept. 3, 1955.

Sheriff Willard Barnes of Ingham County, said immediately after the slayings "several good fingerprints" found at the scene matched those of Buchanan.

Patrolmen Henry Zukowski and William Kidd arrested Buchanan without a struggle yesterday in a downtown Baltimore store. They had been tipped by an informant, whose name they kept secret, that he had recognized Buchanan as a wanted man in a crime magazine's "Wanted" section.

The informant was accompanying the patrolmen to the neighborhood where he said he frequently had seen Buchanan when he spotted him on a street corner. The patrolmen followed him into a store and asked Buchanan his name.

"Howard Herrick," he quickly replied.

Zukowski said, however, that as they waited for a patrol wagon he admitted his name was Buchanan.

Buchanan said he took the prison dump truck he was assigned to drive, ran out of gas near Stockbridge, 30 miles away, and spent the night in a barn.

Tighe Named Tiger Manager for '57 Season

Inks One-Year Contract, Then Picks Willis Hudlin, Lund, Hitchcock Aides

By BRUNO KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

DETROIT—In their first official act since assuming ownership Oct. 1, the new Detroit Tiger brass today named Jack Tighe as Tiger field manager for 1957.

The appointment came following speculation for the past three weeks that Tighe was the leading candidate for the job.

He received a one-year contract and becomes the 16th manager of the Tigers. General Manager Spike Briggs, who made the announcement today, said the choice of Tighe had the full approval of the 11-man board of directors of the Tiger Baseball Co.

Tighe immediately named as his coaches Billy Hitchcock, third base coach for the past two seasons, Don Lund, former Tiger player and current field director-scout, and Willis Hudlin, Detroit's minor league pitching coach.

All three have accepted. Tighe is 43, Hitchcock 38, Lund 33, and Hudlin 50.

"It is the consensus of our management that Jack has earned the job through his faithful service in the Tiger organization. His record is excellent as a manager and coach, bearing out his leadership qualities," Briggs said.

Tighe began his professional baseball career as a player in the Tiger organization 20 years ago.

He managed a total of 19 full seasons in the minors, eight for the Tigers and four for the Cleveland Indians. He came to Detroit two years ago as coach under Bucky Harris, who resigned as manager in September.

In selecting Lund and Hudlin to work with Hitchcock, Tighe surrounded himself with both youth and experience.

Lund played outfield for the Tigers in 1933 and '34. He has been working as field director-scout in the Tigers minor league trout camps. Lund is a native Detroit and was an all-sports star at the University of Michigan.

Hudlin, a former Cleveland Indian pitcher in the 1930's, managed several minor league teams since 1941 when he left the majors. In 1954, he became a scout and minor league pitching coach for Detroit.

Briggs said Tighe would have full control of the club on the field. "He will get no interference from the third floor offices at Briggs Stadium."

Vice President Richard M. Nixon will be in Pontiac Monday for a 30-minute whistlestop in a campaign tour of the lower part of Michigan, Republican state headquarters said today.

Nixon, who is scheduled to give a major speech in Flint Monday night, probably will not leave his special train during the Pontiac visit.

County Republicans said today they have just heard of the vice president's visit, and have made no definite arrangements for it.

Besides Pontiac and Flint, Nixon will stop at Saginaw, Lapeer, Imlay City, Lansing, Battle Creek, Kalamazoo and Niles during the two-day trip.

Urged to "knock at every door," some 350 women Torchlighters of the Pontiac Area Fund kicked off their Geographic Division campaign this morning.

They were told by fund chairman Walter K. Willman that this year's nine per cent goal increase means "extra hard work on the part of everyone."

The women, under their chairman Mrs. Ralph G. Bump, will engage in a door-to-door drive to raise $19,007 in Pontiac, Pontiac Township and Waterford Township.

They are the fourth and final division of this year's $612,202 drive to get a pre-campaign start.

Coast Guard Saves All Aboard Pan Am Liner Ditched in Pacific

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — The Coast Guard weather ship Pontchartrain steamed toward San Francisco today with the 31 survivors of a four-engine Pan American Airways Stratocruiser which split in half yesterday during an emergency landing in the Pacific Ocean.

Hero of the tense drama at sea was Capt. Richard Ogg, of Saratoga, Calif., 47-year-old pilot who skillfully guided the 14-million-dollar airliner to a landing in the water alongside the Pontchartrain saving the lives of his 24 passengers and six crew members.

The crew of the Pontchartrain had everyone aboard the ship within 21 minutes — the time it took the plane to sink.

Five of the 31 victims suffered minor cuts and bruises which did not require medical treatment when the airliner went down 1,050 miles from San Francisco.

The plane, on a flight that began in Japan, traveled 1,200 miles from Honolulu and reached the "point of no return" when two of its four engines failed.

Ogg reported his decision to ditch the plane, and circled the Pontchartrain for nearly five hours, waiting for dawn so he could see to land.

Just before Ogg set the plane down at 8:16 a.m. on the gently rolling sea, the Pontchartrain laid down a long white track of foam fire extinguisher to mark the "landing field."

The double-decked sky giant broke in two upon striking the water but passengers and crew, well-drilled in emergency procedures, piled into life rafts and clung to the plane's wings and fuselage until help arrived.

The Pontchartrain is scheduled to dock in San Francisco at 10:30 a.m. Pontiac time Friday.

Ike, Adlai Pitch for Votes

Eisenhower Out to Capture State of Washington

SEATTLE (AP) — President Eisenhower turned his campaign today to the battle for Washington state's nine electoral votes with an aide picturing him as optimistic about his chances for carrying Minnesota.

The President's big pitch for the Washington vote comes tonight in an address at a rally at Civic Auditorium here.

He will be plugging too for election of Republican Gov. Arthur B. Langlie to the U.S. Senate, who is running against Sen. Warren Magnuson.

Eisenhower arrived in Seattle late yesterday after being greeted by huge, enthusiastic crowds in downtown Minneapolis and St. Paul.

Asst. Police Chief Frank Schmidt estimated 250,000 to 300,000 saw the President in St. Paul and along the way.

CAMPAIGNED HARD

Eisenhower campaigned hard yesterday and went to bed early last night, "tired but happy."

In the Minneapolis and St. Paul areas, Eisenhower rode about 30 miles in an open car and he stood, waving to the crowds, just about all the way. He did the same on the ride from the airport here.

At the airport at dusk he was met by his brother Edgar and Langlie. After tonight's speech the President will drive to nearby Tacoma, Wash., to spend the night at Edgar's home there.

In Tacoma tomorrow, the chief executive will make a midday talk at a rally at the College of Puget Sound, then fly on to Portland, Ore., for a major nationwide television address there in the evening at the Hollywood Bowl. Scheduled Saturday, on the way back to Washington, is an airport talk in Denver.

TWO ISSUES

In Minnesota, Eisenhower dealt with two main themes — world peace and the farm situation.

Without mentioning Stevenson by name, the President took an

Woman Pleads Guilt to Clear 20-Yr. Case

A 62-year-old grandmother whom sheepish Pontiac police described as "sweet as can be," yesterday found herself in court facing a charge of felonious assault of 20 years ago.

Mrs. Dolores Larahmore, of 200 Hughes St., pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of assault and battery and received a suspended sentence from Pontiac Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

Police admitted they brought the case to court "to clear up old records." Mrs. Larahmore had not been accused by the alleged victim, a Bessie Love, but by an officer who had heard of the incident July 31, 1937.

Mrs. Larahmore had pleaded innocent and was released on personal bond. Trial was postponed over a dozen times during 1937 and 1938 because the victim did not show up in court. Mrs. Larahmore was accused of cutting her with a beer bottle.

The case dropped out of sight until yesterday. Then Mrs. Larahmore, who police say "wouldn't hurt a fly," pleaded guilty to clear up the record.

Accused Killer's Confession Read After Hassle

Statement Tells of Tiff With Wife Just Before 3-Year-Old's Murder

In opening testimony yesterday in the first-degree murder trial of Howard Wayne Moore, accused sex-killer of a three-year-old girl in July, Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem read the jury a statement in which Moore allegedly said, "I hit her in the head several times" with a jackhandle.

Admitted as evidence despite efforts by Defense Attorney Carl Ingraham to block it, the statement reportedly was made by Moore to Assistant Prosecutor Robert D. Long two days after Martha Little, Moore's Lake Orion neighbor, was found beaten to death and assaulted in an Independence Township field.

In the statement, Moore reportedly said he left his home after an argument with his recent bride over a grocery list. He said he didn't discover Martha was in the car with him until he had driven 10 miles to Maybee road, near where the body was found next day.

The statement said Moore turned into a lovers' lane off Maybee road and began molesting Martha. "She started screaming," Ziem quoted Moore. "I got out of the car and got the jackhandle. I hit her in the head several times." "Do you think she was dead when you left?" Long asked.

"Yes, sir," Moore reportedly replied.

In other testimony, Joseph Little, Martha's father, took the stand to tell how he called to his daughter about 8 p.m. the night she disappeared. Martha, playing in an outside sandbox, answered him but didn't come into the house, he said.

"And that was the last time you ever saw her or heard her?" Ziem asked.

"I saw her at the hospital. She was dead," Little said.

The informal "off the record" session was attended by Thomas J. Crawford, Fisher Body, J. B. Meidlein, Pontiac Motor, and J. Earl Lind, of GMC Truck and Coach.

A spokesman for the commission said no decision was reached on the site of the proposed yard. "The matter is still being discussed," he said.

The yard is planned to provide increased freight services for the Pontiac and Fisher Body Divisions.

"Can these politicians," he asked, "believe that Americans are blind to the strength and persistence of our efforts to dedicate the atom—not to the destruction—but to the constructive service of our civilization?"

As for the farm situation, the President called Minnesota "the heartland of American agriculture" and blamed the Democratic administration which preceded his for a decline in farm prices which, he said, now has been halted.

"I believe that, by any objective yardstick, the future today in agriculture looks better—more promising and more dependable—than at any time in this generation," he said.

MAKES DEBUT FRIDAY — Longer by 2 1/4 inches and lower by an inch and a half, the new Chevrolet for 1957 will feature the Turboglide transmission which engineers claim produces uninterrupted driving force at all speeds. The sports sedan above makes use of twin, lance-shaped wind-splits which replace the conventional hood ornament. Front bumper, grille and rear bumper assemblies blend into the bodies on all 1957 models. The cars will be displayed locally for the first time Friday, Oct. 19, at Matthews-Hargreaves, Inc., 34 Mill St.

460 Model-Color Combinations to Choose From '57 Chevy Offers Fuel Injection, New Transmission

Optional fuel injection and a new automatic transmission are among the main engineering and styling changes in the 1957 Chevrolet, scheduled to go on display in showrooms Friday.

The Chevrolet also is 2 1/4 inches longer and 1 1/4 inches lower.

Chevrolet reports it will have 26 body models and 460 model-color combinations.

The 1957 line will be produced in the Bel Air, the Two-Ten, the One-Fifty and the Corvette Series. There will be six- and nine-passenger station wagons.

There will be one six-cylinder and four eight-cylinder engines, ranging in power output from 140 to 283 horsepower.

HOOD ORNAMENTS

A lowered hood emphasizes the horizontal sweep of body lines to flared rear fender fins. The conventional hood ornament is replaced by twin lance-shaped wind-splits. Headlamps are somewhat farther apart than in 1956.

Throughout the 1957 model line-up glass area has been increased by as much as 75 square inches.

Instruments are concentrated under a deep, flat hood superimposed on the dash panel crown.

Full-face gauges with red indicators are easier to read. Generator and oil pressure lights are at the top of the panel crown.

A new ventilation system operates by air passing through intake screens over each headlamp. The air reaches the passenger compartment through louvered outlets at either edge of the dash.

Chevrolet is the first American car maker to offer fuel injection to replace the conventional carburetor system. The system injects fuel through nozzles with .001-inch orifices at each cylinder.

The system is said to increase economy, give readier firing at low speeds, faster warmup and eliminate carburetor icing.

Chevrolet calls its new automatic transmission "Turboglide." It consists of three turbines and two planetary gear sets. These are combined with a variable pitch stator and the conventional torque converter pump. As the turning force of one turbine lessens, another takes over to maintain constant drive.

The feel of shifting gears is completely eliminated. A so-called "hill retarder" is part of the new

Potter Prods GOP Voters

Launches 'Minute Men for Ike' at Barn Dance in Waterford

Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich.) last night launched what he said he hopes will be a nationwide movement to get out the GOP vote Nov. 6.

"Minute Men for Eisenhower" started sounding their warning the Democrats are coming at a Waterford Township barn dance thrown by realtor Donald E. White.

Potter, speaker for the evening, said the "minute man" idea is "an effort to generate enthusiasm to get more people to work for the election of President Eisenhower."

Each minute man, he said, pledges his own vote to the President and obtains four additional pledges from friends in a variation of the "pyramid club" idea.

"It has a snowballing effect," Potter said.

Waives Examination on Shooting Charge

A boyfriend who Pontiac police say shot and killed a 29-year-old divorcee and wounded her two daughters waived examination on a first-degree murder charge yesterday.

Zacharias Smoot, 39, of 206 Wesen St. was returned to jail without benefit of bond pending arraignment in Oakland County Circuit Court Monday.

The preliminary arraignment was before Pontiac Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum.

Smoot is charged with shooting Mrs. Bessie McKinney last Saturday at her home, 18 Clovis St. The girls, Tanya, 6, and Joan, 14, were not seriously wounded.

Police said Moore's face and hands were "freshly washed," but he had blood on his neck and behind one ear. They said he was not wearing a shirt.

Two waitresses at a drive-in had testified Moore appeared there shortly before he was arrested. He was wearing a T-shirt with "what seemed to be" blood on the chest, they said, and his face and hands were bloody.

He told them he had been in a fight, they said, and took off the shirt before he left the restaurant.

Testimony continued today.

About $30 in change was stolen from the cash register of a grocery store at 750 S. Saginaw St. Monday night, Pontiac Police said today.

Walton Subdivision Plat OK'd

After being tabled one week, Pontiac city commissioners last night approved the Walton Subdivision plat and a bond for construction of a sidewalk in the subdivision.

Commissioner Floyd Miles last week requested the postponement to study a proposed 30-foot private street construction in the subdivision.

"I still dislike the 30-foot street but have to concede that this is about all that can be done," Miles said last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Little had asked approval of the plat and bond. The $1,361.25 bond was for construction of a sidewalk on the south side of Walton boulevard.

LAW EXPLAINED

(City Engineer Lewis Wrenn explained the plat was required under the "plat law" which states that if more than five lots are developed, they must be platted with the city.)

Commissioners expressed fear last week that residents of the subdivision might request city improvements on the private street, on which the city has no control, over, Wrenn pointed out.

In other action last night, commissioners concurred with a City Health Dept. recommendation denying a food license to James H. Doan, 184 Auburn Ave.

Waives Examination on Breakin Charge

An alleged getaway driver charged in the minor breakin of a grocery store, 78 Lull St. last Friday, yesterday waived examination on a charge of breaking and entering.

Arthur Henry, 34, of 355 Howard McNeil St. was held in jail under $300 bond set by Pontiac Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum pending arraignment in Oakland County Circuit Court Monday.

A partner, James H. Chambers, 29, of 446 Branch St., who police say admitted cutting his wrist climbing through a broken store window, also is held under the same bond pending circuit court appearance Monday.

Thieves stole merchandise worth $93 from a drug store at 377 S. Saginaw St. Monday night, according to Pontiac Police.

Cuff links, tie clasps, wallets, two wrist watches and two cigarette lighters were missing, according to the owner, Fred Beedle, of 689 E. Pike St.

Entry was made through a rear window, broken after bars were removed, police said.

4 Communities to Double Populations in 40 Years

BIRMINGHAM — Population for Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills and Township and Troy will jump from 32,230 in 1960 to 84,000 in 2,000, according to figures released this week by the north Evergreen Authority.

The authority, planning for sewers and interceptors for the four municipalities, noted the progression of costs and installations in the coming years by five and ten year periods.

Birmingham's population of 11,000 now served by a sewer already installed in the area, will increase only to 15,000, the figures predict.

But Bloomfield Hills, which has only 130 served by sewers now, will have about 3,200 served by 1960 under the North Evergreen plan. The population will have risen to 7,700 by the year 2,000, they predict.

Bloomfield Township with 3,120 served now, will have its population of 11,400 in 1960, and will reach 40,000 in 2,000, the authority estimates.

Troy, presently with no sewer lines, will have 4,630 people served by 1960. Population will have risen to 21,300 by 2,000, the figures say.

Those being served will not be all by authority sewers, and a network of costs and estimates has led the authority members through a maze to its cost allocations for the Evergreen sewers.

The authority is using the figures of one million dollars each for the sewer system and the sewage treatment plant, and has arrived at a split of costs.

Percentages are Birmingham to pay 21.56, Bloomfield Hills, 10.78, Bloomfield Township, 36.65, and Troy, 30.61 for sewers, and respectively, 42.67, 8.16, 35.73 and 13.44 for the treatment plant.

The Day in Birmingham

Marquis Childs Arriving for 2 Town Hall Talks

BIRMINGHAM—Marquis Childs, Mile Road two blocks east of Woodward, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The planning board last night reaffirmed its recommendation of business C zoning for the Lambert property on 14 Mile road, although the property owners had offered 25-foot right of way for highway.

Their attorney had stated that if a satisfactory agreement (business A zoning) could not be reached the ruling would be tested in courts.

The attorney has questioned whether a business C zoning between two business A zones would be upheld in court.

The block bounded by Hunter, Oakland, Lawndale and Madison should be rezoned business C as asked by Mrs. Harry Barton and James Cumiskey in a new petition, the plan group recommended. Both recommendations will go to city commissioners for final decision.

Mrs. Allison Greenfield Kay

Mrs. Allison Greenfield Kay, 76, who came to Birmingham in 1936, died last night at her home, 671 Wallace St., after a long illness.

She was the widow of David Kay, and leaves a daughter, Mary, at home; a son, Robert in Royal Oak, and three granddaughters. She belonged to the Presbyterian Church of Edinburgh, Scotland, where she was born.

Service will be at 2 p.m. Friday at Manley-Bailey Funeral Home with burial in Roseland Park.

Asks City to Aid Civil Defense

Heaton Says Pontiac in 'Bad Shape' in Event of Emergency

Arthur Heaton, supervisor of the Pontiac Ground Observer Corps, pleaded for increased civil defense preparedness in the city, which he said is "in pretty bad shape."

Appearing before the City Commission last night, Heaton requested financial assistance from the city to get "the civil defense job done in Pontiac."

His criticism followed adoption by the commission of the city's first civil defense ordinance which will coordinate city departments to act in case of enemy or natural disaster.

City Manager W. K. Willman, civil defense director, told Heaton that the city was matching federal funds for civil defense sufficiently. He added that this money was being used for purchase of defense equipment.

FEW ORGANIZATION

"We have very few civil defense organizations in Pontiac," Heaton said. He mentioned the Ground Observer Corps, and auxiliaries of the police and fire departments.

He suggested formation of a citizens' civil defense committee.

"I am not criticizing your ordinance," he told the commissioners, "but I don't think Mr. Willman, Mayor Donaldson or most of the commissioners have enough time to run this program."

"Someone must be designated to push this civil defense into shape," he urged.

Those being served will not be all by authority sewers, and a network of costs and estimates has led the authority members through a maze to its cost allocations for the Evergreen sewers.

The authority is using the figures of one million dollars each for the sewer system and the sewage treatment plant, and has arrived at a split of costs.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Little had asked approval of the plat and bond. The $1,361.25 bond was for construction of a sidewalk on the south side of Walton boulevard.

LAW EXPLAINED

(City Engineer Lewis Wrenn explained the plat was required under the "plat law" which states that if more than five lots are developed, they must be platted with the city.)

Commissioners expressed fear last week that residents of the subdivision might request city improvements on the private street, on which the city has no control, over, Wrenn pointed out.

In other action last night, commissioners concurred with a City Health Dept. recommendation denying a food license to James H. Doan, 184 Auburn Ave.

YOUR CHILD MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS 1 OUT OF 3 DOES!

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often tell-tale signs of Pin-Worms... only medicine that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it. To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pills must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do... and here's how they do it!

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge... small, easy-to-take tablets... special dose for children and adults. Perfected by Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for 100 years.

Dewey Says That Adlai Exaggerates Dangers From Radioactive H-Fallout

FLINT (N)—Former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey says Adlai Stevenson is unduly alarmed about the dangers of radioactive fall-out from hydrogen bomb tests. "He (Stevenson) had the unmitigated gall to say we are in grave danger from testing the hydrogen bomb. That simply is not so and even Stevenson knows it's not so if he'd only do his homework," Dewey declared in a national radio and television address here last night.

Dewey, the GOP standard bearer in 1944 and 1948, devoted about five minutes of his 28-minute speech to giving the Republican answer to Stevenson's proposal that the United States take the lead in seeking to end hydrogen bomb tests. Dewey said the proposal "is still an invitation to national suicide."

Dewey said the National Academy of Science shares his view. Stevenson too cited scientific support in a Monday night address when he discussed his concern over the "huge quantities of radioactive materials pumped into the air current" with every bomb explosion. Stevenson said that the United States could resume testing the bomb within eight weeks if it was learned that some other nation had violated an agreement to suspend tests. To this Dewey replied: "Our Pacific fleet was destroyed at Pearl Harbor with ordinary weapons in 80 minutes. Our great est cities could be wiped out by the hydrogen bomb in 80 seconds. If the Soviet Union should take advantage of the eight weeks of head start they are so generously offered, the whole free world could be crushed." Dewey, a native of Owosso, spoke at a fried chicken box lunch supper sponsored by the Genesee County Republican Committee.

Jewels by Synthesis

CHICAGO—For many years, bits of precious stones, real "jewels," were used for watch bearings, but now mass-produced synthetic sapphires are used. They have no cracks or flaws, are cheaper, and give longer and better service.

The state of Vera Cruz in Mexico supplies an estimated one-third of the entire world supply of vanilla extract and some associated products.

Too Much Unselfishness Isn't Good for Marriage

Self-Effacing Wife Helps Neither Her Husband Nor Her Children

By RUTH MILLETT
Being unselfish doesn't necessarily make a woman a good wife. In fact, a woman can be too unselfish for her own good and for the good of her marriage.

There are times for a woman to put her husband and children first. There are other times for her to put her own needs ahead.

Here are some examples:
The woman who is so unselfish and understanding that she encourages her husband to think only in terms of what he wants is building a shaky foundation for a marriage. It's not a sturdy one which will withstand stress and strain.

The woman who makes a slave of herself for her children isn't encouraging them to love and respect her. She is encouraging her own children to believe that what they want is all-important.

She's leading them to believe that Mama exists just to make them happy and help them get what they demand.

A DEAD WEIGHT

The woman who meekly and unselfishly says, "Whatever you want, dear" or "Whatever you think is best is all right with me," may be unselfish, but she is also a dead weight. She doesn't add any spice to a marriage, initiate any new projects, or ever take the reins into her own hands.

The woman who lets her family impose on her is certain, in time, to resent their lack of thoughtfulness and cooperation. Also, she is making it more difficult for them to get along with others outside the home who aren't going to be as selflessly acquiescent as she is.

The woman who expects too little of her husband and demands nothing of him certainly doesn't encourage him to do his best.

Happy homes and happy marriages aren't built on one person's complete unselfishness.

Each member of a family needs to have enough self-interest to get some of the things he wants as well as enough unselfishness to help others get what they want.

Women Constantly Try to Keep Young, Attractive

How many glamorous women in America? Start with a figure of 20,500,000. They're the paid working girls.

Add to that those dedicated in politics, volunteers in social work, blood bank solicitors and hospital Gray Ladies, among thousands of others who work out of the home.

Women of achievement in the home and out of it have reached an age of beauty maturity. The housewife is no longer frumpy, and the working girl is not the wild-eyed harried enthusiast that harassed employers a generation ago. Both types bring charm to their endeavors.

How does it happen that women maintain good looks and good grooming without visibly aging in proportion to their years?

A small cross-section of women of various ages gave me the answer recently, and it was all in the bag—the handbag that is. It boiled down to this: American women began to protect their looks in their teens, and spend more and more time on the project as they grow older, especially when they must maintain a youthful appearance in a job. Those queried were of these ages: 16, 24, 27, 36, 44, 51.

The 16-year-old girl's purse held of my handbag. It used to be a little one, but it's grown king-size through the years.

LARGE PURSE HOLDS ALL

It's just as easy to carry a large bag as a small one, she says, if you are a working girl. Cut down the weight of it by putting fragrance in one of the small spray atomizers, and by utilizing small plastic refillable containers that may hold hand lotion, creams and other treatments. The roll-on type deodorant is popular these days because it is easy to use in emergency and this too, may be carried compactly.

The average older working woman requires professional beauty service once a week, she believes, although she cannot always afford the time or money.

She is more likely to get to a salon every other week. The over 40's either dye their hair or keep their gray hair chic with special treatments.

Between times, like your younger working companions, she sets and shampoos her own hair. She is well-heeled below the ankles, even-bemmed in dress, straight seamed in stockings, and avoids the dipping bosom-line for business like the plague.

Only the same size dishes should be stacked together in a pile and only like objects should be placed in front of each other on a shelf.

Longfellow PTA Hears Dr. Haun

Dr. Harry Haun of the Oakland County Board of Education spoke to members of Longfellow PTA. His topic was "How Children Learn to Read."

Four numbers were presented by the school choir and refreshments were served.

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Friday and Saturday nights WTHS Dramatics Club will present their first play of the year, "The Divine Flora." Curtain time is 8 o'clock and admission is free to students of Waterford High who have activity cards.

Etta Dean, played by Diana Craig, is the plain, young daughter of a prominent advertising man with the firm of Dean, Dugan and Druggett. Etta is not asked out on too many dates and she feels she is a great disappointment to her father, portrayed by Dusty Smith, who is the only person she has in the world since her mother died.

Randy Fryer and Buzz Rafferty, played by Ted Colom and Chuck Boldin, are two energetic teenagers who decide they would like to go into the advertising business when they get out of high school. They want to open a firm of their own eventually, but they know they can get some valuable experience if they work for Dean, Dugan and Druggett.

When Randy finds out that Mr. Dean will be in town the night of his daughter's Senior Prom, he immediately calls "little prunepuss" for a date so he can get in good with her father.

The two boys give Mr. Dean the sales talk as to why they should be accepted into the firm and Mr. Dean finally makes a deal with them. He says if the boys can "repurchase" Etta and make her a popular young lady during the summer, they will find a position with the firm when they return.

All's well that ends well and this amusing comedy finishes with everyone in perfect harmony.

Cast in the remaining roles are: Hal, Gail Winter; Winnie, Barbara Martin; Boops, Marcelle Tode; Stu Moran; John Patton; Kit Olmstead; Barbara Hutchings; Mr. Fryer, Jack Nelson; Mrs. Fryer, Virginia Valentine; Sharon Fryer, Grace Williamson; Bob, Glenn Jolly; Wayne, Tom Davies; Polly, Marcia Cameron; Helena, Marty Haveland; and Marvella, Ruth Ann DeGroot.

Completing the cast are: Mr. Dugan, Jim Hertz; Susie, Jane DeValetian; Bella, Cyd Williams; and the girls, Norma Sandoval, Carol Shephard, Sally Williams, Nancy Richards, Shirley Brondige, and Carolyn Farnum.

FIRST OF YEAR—Waterford High students will open their first play of the year tomorrow with "The Divine Flora." Here, an enthused

Barbara Hutchins (right) shows her "press card" to Dunstan Smith and Diane Craig in a scene from the comedy.

A social hour will follow the meeting and all teachers will be in their rooms to greet the parents.

The district plans to build the new school on a 24-acre tract which it now owns, adjoining the athletic field.

ORTONVILLE—Rosemary Hutchinson, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Allen B. Hutchinson, 3924 Davison Lake Rd., became the bride of Henry S. Watson, 5350 Sunnyside Dr., Clarkston, in evening rites Saturday at Oakwood Community Church.

The Rev. Frank Racine of the Rochester Assembly of God performed the service.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Jane Watson of Jackson Blvd., Davisburg.

For the wedding, the bride wore a waltz-length gown with lace bodice and Peter-Pan collar and lace, wrist-pointed sleeves. Her skirt was formed by three layers of lace net. A lace calotte held her shoulder-length veil and white roses, white mums and a white orchid formed her bouquet.

Ruth Hutchinson of Flint was her matron of honor and William Watson of Clarkston was best man. Ushers were Manfred Kirklin of Drayton Plains and Alfred Watson of Clarkston.

Following the wedding and a reception in the Eastern Star Hall, the couple left for a Northern Michigan trip.

They will reside in Ortonville.

The bridegroom is attending Laurence Institute of Technology, studying mechanical engineering.

Three companions, also students at Olivet, were injured. Richard Nelson, 18, of Detroit, was treated at a hospital for a shoulder dislocation and cuts. Frank Edward Brooks of Armada and Andrew Kool of Grand Rapids were treated at a hospital and released.

Walled Lake Board OKs Sale of Bonds

WALLED LAKE—At a recent meeting of the Board of Education members discussed with Walter Anicka, architect, the plans for a six classroom and kindergarten addition at Commerce School and a seven classroom and kindergarten at Decker. As a result the board authorized the sale of the final $400,000 in bonds remaining from the December 1955 issue, which was voted for these additions. Construction will proceed as soon as bids can be secured after final plans are approved.

Supt. Clifford H. Smart and Joseph Long, president, were instructed to negotiate for additional land at Commerce for building purposes.

Because of overcrowding in the kindergarten at Union, Commerce and Gengway, two new sections have been established which meet in the old Commerce school.

Ask County Aid for Hill Bridge

Farmington Manager Meets Leon Belknap to Plan Construction

FARMINGTON—Earl Scherffus, city manager, reports that discussions are continuing between the city and county regarding the construction of a new bridge at the foot of McGee Hill on Farmington road.

Scherffus met with Leon Belknap, chief engineer of Oakland County Road Commission, yesterday afternoon in an effort to persuade the county to take over the road, or to assist in financing a new bridge. It is estimated that cost of the proposed bridge will be $75,000.

Scherffus was told that if the city will buy the materials, they can then contract with the county to construct the bridge. This would be less expensive than contracting with a private concern.

"Farmington road is an important link," Scherffus said, "and I feel that it should be part of the county system."

A recent survey indicated that traffic on the road is so heavy that parking meters should be removed and all parking along Farmington road prohibited near the center of the city.

"We haven't arrived at anything definite with the county yet," Scherffus said, "but we will meet again after I get some prices and Belknap meets with his engineers."

In the meantime, Scherffus has purchased several warning signs to be erected along the hill and reflective lights to line the curve and bridge.

Community Chest Seeks $12,000 in Oakland

OAKLAND TOWNSHIP—With a goal of $2,000, fund collectors for this township's Community Chest drive will be starting out this week.

Collections last year amounted to $1,791 for the Community Chest, an independent, incorporated, non-profit group.

Chest officials expressed hopes that families give the larger share of their contributions to their own township drive, although they give where they work as well.

Wendell F. Kelly is chairman for the fund drive and 20 fund collectors are under his leadership. A board of directors composed of nine members operate the fund, with three new members replacing three old members each year.

Milford Awaits First GOP Rally in 30 Years

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
Milford Correspondent

MILFORD—About the biggest political rally ever to be held in Milford will get under way at the Book Building Thursday night at 8, according to Mrs. Roger Hubbell, delegate from Precinct 2.

"This is the first Republican Rally to be held here in more than 30 years," she said.

Harvey Lodge, a native son of Milford, will introduce William Broomfield and Farrell Roberts as the main speakers of the evening. County candidates also will give short talks.

Milford's Barbershoppers will open the meeting with the singing of the Star Spangled Banner and young John Smith will lead the audience in the Pledge of Allegiance.

This year's 4-H beauty queen, Judy Crawford, along with Junior girls, Jane Hodgins, Valerie Gerrard and Linda Beatty, will present campaign information at the door.

Following the rally there will be a "cider hour." All Huron Valley residents are urged to attend, whether they are Republican or Democrat.

Plan Hearing for Watchowski

Lathrup Council Sets Nov. 5 Closed Meeting to Hear Background

LATHRUP—Leonard A. Watchowski's status as administrator to this city will be decided at a closed hearing Nov. 5 said Mayor John G. Campbell this morning.

Watchowski faced another storm of criticism Monday night from two councilmen, who again asked for his resignation.

Campbell and Councilwoman Kathryn V. Feyereisen demanded an immediate hearing of alleged charges against Watchowski.

Miss Feyereisen told council members "I no longer wish to assume responsibility for the kind of administration we are getting."

All five council members agreed to the closed hearing to hear background on the charges.

A motion to fire Watchowski at a recent meeting has never been acted upon.

Lingerie Rates No One Choice of Shoplifters

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Women's nightgowns, slips, panties and hose are more frequently stolen than any other items in a store, a private detective reports.

The odds are almost 5 to 1 that the thief is working in the shop, says Bill Keith, head of a Miami detective agency. He told a convention of the Council of International Investigators that "lingerie accounts for 41.5 per cent of all thefts."

Keith said men's furnishings, especially hose, ties, handkerchiefs and shorts, are next most popular with shoplifters and thieves. Then come cosmetics, notions, candy and ladies ready to wear. He said some 76 per cent of such thefts are committed by shop employees.

Pontiac Sets Up Its Own Civil Defense Group

A Pontiac Civil Defense Department was established last night when the City Commission adopted a Michigan Municipal League uniform ordinance for Civil Defense and disaster control.

The ordinance establishes the department under a Civil Defense director, likely to be City Manager W. K. Willman, who was instrumental in drafting the ordinance.

It provides for coordination in case of enemy or natural disaster by using city employees and facilities.

The ordinance calls for appointment of five deputy directors who will have responsibility for financial services, law enforcement, fire control, engineering services and health and medical services.

DISASTER PLAN LATER

A supplementary "disaster or organization plan" outlining these jobs and duties is expected to be adopted later.

The law enables the mayor to declare a state of emergency which would place the Civil Defense plan in effect.

The City Commission, which would convene immediately after the emergency declaration, would have the power to end the state of emergency.

Previously, no organized department was established in Pontiac. Preparations for Civil Defense were delegated to individual departments.

Willman was appointed director of Civil Defense by Gov. Willman three years ago.

The law gives the city power to ask state aid "if the situation goes beyond the control of regular and emergency city forces."

It becomes effective Oct. 26.

One provision states responsibility of the Red Cross under state and federal law will not be interfered with in case of disaster.
