U.S. to Launch 'Moon' Tomorrow

Preparations Rushed for Firing Our First Satellite

AP Facsimile

NOSE CONE FITTED — The base of this cone, being fitted to the nose of the 72-foot Vanguard rocket, contains a six-inch earth satellite which is scheduled to be fired into an orbit around the earth tomorrow from Cape Canaveral, Fla. Satellite and cone rest atop the third stage of the rocket. Vanguard is a Navy project.

VANGUARD TESTED — Engineers at the Cape Canaveral, Fla. rocket base prepare the Vanguard earth satellite launching test rocket. The rocket, carrying a six-inch sphere, is scheduled for a journey into space tomorrow. The tiny satellite is to be placed into an orbit around the earth.

3-Stage Rocket to Send Satellite 300 Miles High

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. —Preparations for America's first satellite launching were reported going "very well" today and officials said it will go off on schedule tomorrow morning.

The Defense Department confirmed yesterday that the attempt to propel the 6.4-inch, three and three-quarter-pound "moon" into an orbit averaging 300 miles high will be made "within a few days" at the Cape Canaveral missile test center.

Reports that technical difficulties may delay the blast-off were officially denied by the Naval Research Laboratory in Washington, which is in charge of the "Vanguard" project.

Engineers apparently remedied one last-minute problem, the malfunctioning of ground support equipment designed to cool some of the fuel before it was pumped into the rocket. A valve was replaced.

They also labored to eliminate noise interference in the crucial second stage of the three-stage vehicle which will attempt to place a 6½-inch ball into an orbit 300 to 1,200 miles above the earth.

If it is not eliminated, this difficulty could make the 72-foot-tall rocket wobble in flight and cause it to break up.

The experts were optimistic that they would have this trouble worked out.

WEATHER WATCHED

However, weather conditions could delay the firing, which has been tentatively set for 8 a.m. Wednesday.

The Defense Department announcement said that only the first stage of the three-stage rocket being used has been tested and the launching primarily is to determine whether the other two stages will work.

However, everyone connected with the project appeared confident of success in actually getting a satellite orbiting around the earth.

Rocket scientists pointed out that the satellite is much smaller than the 21½-pound sphere for which the 72-foot, 22,000-pound rocket is designed, and said this greatly im-

4 in Area Report Brilliant Object Racing in Skies

At least four Oakland County residents were among the hundreds of persons who reported they saw a brilliant light racing through the skies over southwestern Michigan and southeastern Wisconsin last night.

Scientists have indicated the descriptions of the object fitted those of a meteorite.

Waterford Township Patrolman Frank Randolph, 5820 Eldridge St., reports he saw a "bright glow which looked like a falling star coming from the northwest" about 10:45 p.m. while on patrol on Cass-Elizabeth Lake near Cooley Lake roads.

Randolph said he and Kenneth Hillenbeck, 680 Forest Dr., Waterford Township, a volunteer fireman riding with him, watched the object until "it disappeared below the horizon."

"We were both confused as to the color. It was a pretty color of green. Otherwise, we would have thought it was a falling star and not paid any attention to it," Randolph explained.

SPOTS OBJECT

"A light greenish object which looked like it was on fire" was seen about the same time by Elmer Claycomb, 23, of 909 Vernita St., Lake Orion, as he drove home from a National Guard meeting.

Claycomb said he phoned the Oakland County Sheriff's Department when he arrived home to report the object.

"They told me other people had reported seeing a similar object and not to worry that I was just seeing things," Claycomb said.

Claycomb was driving on M-24 near Bald Mountain when he first sighted the object behind the hills. He thought it looked about two miles away.

Carl Guenther, 1034 Premont St., Waterford Township, also reportedly told members of the sheriff's department he had sighted the alleged meteorite at Square Lake and Telegraph roads.

Mrs. Verl Kutt, an employe at the Kellogg Co., Battle Creek reported she saw the object as she left the plant to go home. Several guards also reported seeing it.

A pilot from Grand Rapids said

Ike Asks Stevenson to Go to NATO Meeting in Paris

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower today invited Adlai Stevenson, his election opponent in 1952 and 1956, to attend the NATO "summit" conference in Paris as a member of the U.S. delegation.

Stevenson, who has been acting as a Democratic foreign policy consultant to the administration, said he had not yet decided whether to accept the invitation.

The invitation was extended to Stevenson at the White House where he attend a briefing for bipartisan Congressional leaders on plans for the NATO conference which starts Dec. 16.

He said he would make his decision on whether to go to Paris in a week or 10 days. Eisenhower is expected to attend the conference of NATO leaders if he gets the approval of his doctors.

The President did not discuss his own plans this morning at the meeting attended by 31 congressional leaders of both parties.

Before the congressional meeting got under way, Eisenhower also conferred privately with Stevenson and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles for 10 minutes.

It was the first time that Eisenhower and the man he defeated in 1952 and in 1956 presidential elections had met face-to-face in four years.

Stevenson said he found the President "looking very well."

He avoided saying in so many words that he had been formally invited to go to Paris, but declared:

"The President indicated he would be happy to have me go to the NATO meeting, if I could."

The White House session today is one of an annual series, called to fill in the leaders of both parties on the administration program for the coming year in the foreign policy and national defense fields.

A special item on the schedule this year is a preview of proposals for the NATO meeting, which comes only about two weeks before Congress goes back into business.

Thirty-five leaders from Congress were invited and all but two — Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass) and Rep. McCormack (D-Mass)— were on hand when Eisenhower walked into the room. McCormack and Saltonstall arrived late.

Anne Wheaton, associate White House press secretary, reported that when Eisenhower entered he was greeted with a round of applause by the bipartisan group. The President smiled in acknowledgement, she said.

Those present included Secretary of Defense McElroy and Secretary of Commerce Weeks.

Gn. Nathan Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, also was on hand. So was Lewis Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Ex-Trooper 'Told' Hoffa Tapped Wires; Rank, Filers Fight Teamsters Elections

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Teamster Union members from Tennessee were called to testify today in a rank-and-file court challenge of the election of James R. Hoffa as president of the big union.

Charles Stewart and Brownie M. Moore are expected to tell of the method of selecting delegates from their Nashville Local 327 to the Miami Beach convention that elected Hoffa to succeed Dave Beck last October.

The rank-and-file group of 13 Teamsters from the New York City area has obtained a temporary court order to prevent Hoffa from taking office until the Federal District Court rules on their challenge of the election.

Godfrey P. Schmidt, New York, counsel for the group, contended as the trial opened that the convention was "rigged."

Records of conventions since 1947, Schmidt contended, would show "complete domination and dictatorship by the top brass of the union."

The case is being heard without a jury by 82-year-old U.S. District Judge F. Dickinson Letts who previously issued a temporary injunction restraining Hoffa from taking office until the legality of the election is decided.

NEW YORK (AP)—A state trooper turned Hollywood stage actor says he was told James R. Hoffa had the telephones of Teamsters Union subordinates tapped to "find out whether they were selling him out" to racket investigators. The ex-trooper, Rudolph L. Doelicke, 31, testified yesterday in the federal trial of Hoffa, president-elect of the Teamsters.

Doelicke said he helped install wiretapping equipment in the Detroit headquarters of the Teamsters for Hoffa. The job took three days in July 1953, he testified.

Bernard Spindel, a professional wiretapper, of Holmes, N.Y., hired him, Doelicke testified, and told him "some employes of the union were being called as witnesses before an official investigatiig body and Hoffa was interested in finding out what kind of testimony they were giving."

The witness added: "Spindel said Hoffa wanted to monitor their phone talks to find out whether they were selling him out."

Previous testimony showed that at the time of the alleged wiretapping, official investigations of Detroit labor rackets had been started by a Michigan grand jury and congressional committees.

Hoffa is co-defendant with electronics expert Bernard Spindel, of Holmes, N.Y.; and Bernard Brennan, of Plymouth, Mich., president of Detroit Teamsters Local 337, in the charges.

They are being tried before Federal Judge Frederick VanPelt Bryan and a jury on charges of illegal wiretapping conspiracy.

The witness said Spindel told him that only Hoffa and Brennan among union officials knew about the wiretapping.

Leaves Building Trades Office

Beck Quits AFL-CIO Job

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Outgoing Teamsters President Dave Beck is stepping down as a vice president of the AFL-CIO Building and Construction Trades Department.

Beck's resignation was contained in a letter dated Nov. 27 and read yesterday by the department president, Richard J. Gray, at the group's 49th regular convention.

Beck said he was resigning because of his decision not to run for re-election as Teamsters president. There are 10 vice presidents of the 19-union department.

The Teamsters Union is currently under AFL-CIO suspension because of corruption charges leveled against its leader. Beck's successor in the top spot is James R. Hoffa.

Frank Gannett, Publisher, Dies

Ran Against Willkie in 1940 for Republican Presidential Nomination

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

Gannett, who began newspapering in his youth as a cub reporter, had been in ill health since suffering a back injury in a fall in 1955.

He was president emeritus of the Gannett Company, Inc., which publishes 22 newspapers and has radio and television outlets in four cities.

He relinquished his post as president of the newspaper group on April 11, 1957, and was succeeded by Executive Vice President Paul Miller.

The publisher, who once sought the Republican presidential nomination (1940 against Willkie), was a leader in newspaper progress, including introduction of the airplane into daily newspaper work.

Gannett started from scratch. He was born Sept. 15, 1876, on a farm about 50 miles southeast of Rochester. The farm yielded a sparse living and his father Charles gave it up. Subsequent farming ventures also failed.

Gannett sold newspapers, collected and sold carloads of bones, wrote letters for and sold rubber-stamp signatures to Italian track workers and hustled every way he could to make an honest dollar.

He won a scholarship to attend Cornell University. He entered with $80. He had saved $1,000 by the time he was graduated in 1892.

Surviving are his widow, Caroline; a daughter, Mrs. Sarah (Sally) MacAdam of Greenwich, Conn., and an adopted son, Dixon, of Dearborn, Mich.

3-Inch Snowfall Due Pontiac Area Today

A special noon forecast by the U.S. Weather Bureau in Detroit today predicted up to three inches of snow in the Detroit-Pontiac area this afternoon, and up to six inches in other parts of southern Michigan.

The mercury was expected to drop to 26, following a gray day in Pontiac.

Tomorrow, the prediction is for snow flurries and continued cold. Thursday will be cold and cloudy.

The mercury skidded to a low of 21 degrees in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. At 2 p.m. the reading was 28.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The state's remaining charges against Confidential and Whisper magazines are scheduled to be argued tomorrow before Superior Court Judge H. Burton Noble.

Aged Mother, Daughters Go Hungry Amid Wealth

CHICAGO (AP)—A story of how a 90-year-old mother and her two daughters starved amid relative wealth was disclosed in Probate Court yesterday.

The court proceedings disclosed, too, that the mother, Mrs. Hattie Rice, had been held captive by one of her daughters, Dorothy, 60, in suburban Oak Park eight-family apartment building which the Rices owned.

It was disclosed at proceedings to name a conservator for the estate of Mrs. Rice that on Nov. 18 police went to the Rice apartment after a passerby reported that Dorothy was yelling incoherently from a balcony.

Inside the litter-strewn apartment they found Mrs. Rice, weighing only 60 pounds, in a bed with her other daughter, Marian, 53, lying dead beside her.

Police Capt. Fremont Nester said Mrs. Rice told him: "Thank heavens you came. I'm hungry and I prayed for a year that somebody would rescue me."

Heat, gas and electricity had been turned off in the apartment two years before because of unpaid bills. The only food was a large box of breakfast cereal.

Nester said that police found five cashier's checks totaling $5,300 in the apartment, and $14.03 in cash.

The court was told that the apartment building is owned by Mrs. Rice and is valued at about $100,000. The other apartment house tenants were evicted in an eight-room residence owned by the Rices. Both buildings have been idle since except for the Rices' apartment.

Mrs. Rice was taken to a nursing home. Since then she has gained 30 pounds.

Police said that Mrs. Rice's husband, a grain broker, died in 1940.

'We Could Run the Place to Suit Ourselves'

Mimi, Rover Dream of Dogging the Moon

By ED CREAGH
Writing for Hal Boyle

WASHINGTON (AP)—"No, Rover, I can never marry you," sobbed Mimi, the beautiful French poodle. "Go, and never darken my kennel door again."

"Hah!" declaimed the spurned suitor. "I'm not good enough for you, eh? You think I can't buy you the chopped sirloin you're accustomed to!"

"It's not that, Rover," Mimi wept. "I'd share my last bone with you. I'd rob trash cans with you. But—"

"I see it all now," said the male dog darkly. "It's because I'm a beagle, isn't it? You think of me as an inferior, just because you won that silly best-of-show ribbon!"

"No, no!" Mimi's protests rose to an hysterical yelp. "I have nothing against you at all, Rover. If I were to marry anyone—but I can't, you see. Not ever. Not while—" a delicate blush undercoated her powder-gray muzzle.

Then she confessed:

"It's the puppies I'm thinking of, Rover. Do you think dogs have any right to bring puppies into a world like this? When they might be packed in a Sputnik and shot out into space at any moment?"

Rover—half-way out the door at the mention of puppies—whirled on his heel, which is no mean trick for a beagle.

"Why, you silly goose," he laughed. "What a thing to be afraid of. One dog in all this world has been Sputniked. The chances that one of ours might be — it's simply fantastic."

"These are fantastic times," Mimi reminded him. "Who knows how many Sputniks there may be? Who knows how many dogs can be put in a Sputnik? I—I'm sorry, Rover, I just can't take the chance."

Rover licked his lips meditatively.

"All right, suppose it happened," he said. "Suppose one of our pups was the first dog to reach the moon. Wouldn't you be proud?"

"I'd be scared to death," said Mimi, weeping again.

"Dogs on the moon," Rover mused. "We could run the place to suit ourselves. We'd have it all organized by the time people got there. We'd make them our slaves. I can hear us now. 'Here, Human. Roll over, Human. Jump through this hoop, Human.'"

"We'd feed them our table scraps!"

"We'd hire people-catchers to put them in concentration camps if they didn't have people-tags on their collars!"

"They've led us a dog's life—we'd make them lead a person's life!"

Raptly, Mimi and Rover gazed upon each other.

"Name the day," growled Rover softly. "You and I may not see this bright tomorrow. But our puppies, and our puppies' puppies. . . ."

"Come here, you rascals! Heel, you villains! Out of there, you fleabags! Time for your walk!"

"Yes—oh, yes, Rover," whispered Mimi before they scampered to obedience. "I'll marry you. The future belongs to us!"

City Woman, 63, Takes On Bandit

'Hairbrush' Gunman Thwarted in Drag-Out Robbery Attempt

Brave defiance on the part of Mrs. Lula Carboneau, 63-year-old owner and proprietor of the McKenna Hardware Store, thwarted a would-be bandit late yesterday afternoon.

The story of her boldness was told to Pontiac Police after the bandit fled the store, 900 Joslyn Ave., following a tussle in which Mrs. Carboneau was dragged on her back the full length of the 80-foot-long building.

Mrs. Carboneau said she thought the bandit "was only kidding" when he entered the empty store at 5:45 p.m., 15 minutes before closing time, and demanded money from the cash register.

"He had his hand in his coat pocket, as if he had a gun there, but I had a feeling that he was only faking," the woman said.

While the bandit, a middle-aged man whom Mrs. Carboneau had seen in the store a couple of times in the past week, attempted unsuccessfully with one hand to open the cash register, Mrs. Carboneau jostled the other hand, which he was keeping in his coat pocket.

GUN WAS HAIRBRUSH

"I knocked his hand from the pocket and out fell a hairbrush onto the floor," she said.

Knowing the man was not really armed, Mrs. Carboneau ran towards the front door in an attempt to escape, but the bandit pursued and caught her.

"We tussled right in front of the store windows. I was hoping someone outside would see us, but no one did."

Mrs. Carboneau said she fell to the floor and the bandit dragged her back towards the rear door.

"That's when I began getting scared," she said. "But then a customer came in the front door —a man—and I screamed as loud as a could."

The bandit then fled out the rear door. He was wearing a gray topcoat, brown leather cap and horn-rimmed glasses, Mrs. Carboneau said.

"There is nothing I can say now," she said in a statement through a spokesman. "When everything is taken out, we will make a statement as we did before, containing all the facts."

She refused to deny the reports absolutely.

In Rome, Rossellini also refused to comment on the report published abroad that he and the Swedish actress agreed by telephone to get a quick divorce.

Ex-Convict Held in Beating of 2

DETROIT (AP) — A 21-year-old ex-convict was held today for investigation in the beating Oct. 19 of a church elder and his school teacher wife in their home on Detroit's near northwest side.

Sgt. Harold Cooper and Detective Olier Rowell of the Detroit Police Homicide Bureau said Willie Harris of Detroit was picked up at his home after being traced through a pawn ticket on a watch belonging to Mrs. Margaret Murray.

Mrs. Murray, 62, and her husband Robert, 60, had been beaten so badly they could not remember the attack when they were found in the bedroom of their home. Mrs. Murray suffered a depressed skull fracture and Murray suffered numerous head and face wounds. They were found the next day after failing to keep appointments.

Harris, unemployed and the father of a 3-week-old baby, has served a prison term on a charge of breaking and entering, Cooper and Rowell said.

The two detectives said Harris described the attack to them in an oral statement. He was taken to the Wayne County prosecutor's office for further questioning.

Murray, a salesman and an elder in the First Presbyterian Church in Detroit, said about $15 in cash was missing from the house after the attack.

Mrs. Murray is an elementary school teacher.

City Surgeon Asks $250,000

Dr. Sullenberger Files Suit Against Hospital to Prevent Suspension

A Pontiac surgeon, suspended last month from Pontiac General Hospital, is seeking $250,000 in damages resulting from what he charged is "tyrannical control" by certain doctors at the city hospital.

In a suit filed Monday in Oakland County Circuit Court, Dr. Neil H. Sullenberger, 42, of 203 E. Iroquois Rd.; also seeks a permanent injunction against the hospital upholding his Nov. 13 suspension.

The heart specialist was removed from all privileges at Pontiac General by the Board of Trustees for what hospital director Carl I. Flath said was an "infringement of certain rules and regulations of the medical staff by-laws."

The suit further charges that this suspension was and is in violation of the provisions of the Michigan State Board of Registration in Medicine under which Dr. Sullenberger received his license in April of 1946.

Judge Frank L. Doty set a Dec. 9 hearing date when the seven defendants in the suit must show cause why the injunction should not be granted.

The Board of Trustees, one of the seven defendants, were enjoined from holding a hearing last night at which time the suspension was to be formalized.

Former chief of staff at Pontiac General in 1955 Dr. Harold A. Furlong, today denied any "tyrannical control" at the hospital.

"The executive and credentials committees are set up in accordance with the medical staff by-laws and are for the overall protection of the public."

These two committees, along with the City of Pontiac, the hospital, the board, Flath, and medical staff, are defendants in the case.

Finding New Stars Part of His Duties

NORMAN, Okla. (INS) — Most star gazers just wish on their favorite bright lights, but a University of Oklahoma astronomer discovers them.

Belfour S. Whitney, associate professor of mathematics and director of the university observatory at Norman, claims indifference to his latest feat—discovery of twin stars called V698-Cygni. He has found so many stars he has not bothered to total them.

The National Science Foundation has awarded Whitney $9,900 to study the periods of eclipsing variable stars and with two assistants, the astronomer will compile data on more than 100 of the 5-point lights. His work is a continuation of a 50-year study by other scientists.

Whitney, who has photographed stars since he came to the university in 1940, said stars are found every night and there is no foreseeable shortage.

Production Totals Show Increase Over 11-Month 1956 Period

Pontiac Motor Division and the other four auto divisions of General Motors showed production increases in November, 1957, as compared to November, 1956 production, in a report released today.

Some 34,843 units were credited to Pontiac Division during the past month, with 32,417 marked up for the same month last year.

However, only Pontiac and Cadillac have 11-month production totals higher in 1957 than in 1956. Pontiac rolled out 308,267 through November, compared to 304,675 in the same period of 1956.

Cadillac was up from 124,865 in 11 months of '56 to 140,445 for '57.

GM Truck & Coach recorded 7,046 units in November, and 7,748 for the same month of 1956. For the 11-month total in 1957, Truck & Coach produced 66,409, compared to 87,675 for the same period in 1956.

Total GM car and truck production in the United States and Canada during November was 356,949. The same month in 1956 showed 340,801 units.

Total GM production for the 11 months of 1957 was 3,081,183, compared to 3,364,007 during 1956.

Production figures for the other divisions through November, compared to a similar period in 1956, are:

	1957	1956
Chevrolet	1,360,689	1,481,548
Oldsmobile	350,029	390,854
Buick	365,689	479,569

The Day in Birmingham

Delay Action on Vacating Easement Back of YMCA

BIRMINGHAM — Something of a record was set last night when Birmingham city commissioners cleared a 17-item agenda and adjourned their meeting at 8:15.

No action was taken on the proposed vacation of an easement across the rear of the YMCA property on Lincoln avenue. The hearing will be held Dec. 16 after final details of the dedication or relocation of the utility, easement has been made.

Commissioners approved engaging the firm of Hogan Juengel and Harding, CPA, for the annual audit. The cost will be in the area of $7,000.

The easement across two additional pieces of city-owned property for the North Evergreen Sanitary Interceptor Sewer was approved. City Manager L. R. Gare said that an incorrect description for the work already done across Springdale Park was being redrafted. As soon as this is turned over to sewer authorities, the old description will be returned to the city.

Thanksgiving was a busy time for the eight boys in Pack B7, Pierce School Cub Scouts. The boys made turkey favors of apples which they presented to William Beaumont Hospital.

The youngsters were taken on a tour of the hospital and were told by hospital authorities that they were the first group of boys to perform such a deed.

With the members of Den 4, the boys also prepared a box of canned goods for a needy family.

Car Strikes Woman as Driver Dodges Dog

Motorist Mary L. Patton, 53, of 40 Portage St., tried to avoid hitting a dog at the corner of N. Perry and Howard Sts. yesterday afternoon and instead hit a 58-year-old woman.

The victim, Mrs. May Ellis, of 365 N. Perry, was knocked down, striking her face on the pavement, police said. She was treated for facial cuts and released from Pontiac General Hospital.

Four in Area Report Object in Sky

he saw the phenomenon and described it as the largest meteor he had ever seen.

Harry Mason, a deputy sheriff in Wisconsin's Kenosha County said the object appeared to be the size of a basketball and travelled from the southwest to the northeast.

"It lit up the sky like an arc light," Mason said, after spotting the dazzling ball from a patrol car about halfway between Kenosha and Racine. "The edges were fuzzy and it was only visible for a short while. I looked at my watch and it was 9:33 p.m."

NO SIGHTINGS MADE

Sources at Yerkes Observatory at Williams Bay, Wis., said that although no sightings were made, the descriptions coincided with what is normally referred to as a "fireball."

Walter Williams, of Pewaukee Lake, said the object seemed to decrease rapidly in speed before disappearing above the horizon. And he added that he could hear other persons around the lake shouting to their friends to "come see the meteor."

Waukesha County authorities said one patrol car reported sighting the object and that a resident telephoned with similar information.

Residents of Green Bay also spotted the light.

At Madison, three persons said they saw the object. One man described it as yellow-green in color and also said it was about the size of a basketball.

Lloyds Insures Home From 'Moon' Damages

AMESBURY, Mass. (INS) — J. Richard Feeley, Amesbury insurance agent, wrote to Lloyds of London asking for insurance on his Amesbury dwellings to protect him against damages caused by a satellite or other objects from outer space.

Lloyds informed Feeley its agent, Laurence Philips & Co. of London, would write him. Today via air mail Feeley received a letter from the agency stating Feeley's dwellings have been insured. Feeley believed that it is the first such policy issued covering property in the United States.

AFL-CIO Chief Meany to Disagree With Bid Asking No Increase

ATLANTIC CITY (INS) — A proposal for a delay on wage increases in the building trades unions in 1958 ran afoul of strong opposition from top leaders of the AFL-CIO today.

AFL-CIO President George Meany reportedly will take sharp issue with the moratorium idea in an address today before the AFL-CIO union Label and Service Trades Department convention.

Meany was expected to contend that wage increases are necessary to maintain the purchasing power of the nation's workers and to assure sufficient distribution of the products of industry to promote economic growth.

President Richard Gray of the AFL-CIO building trades department proposed a moratorium on wage increases in 1958 in an address Monday before the annual convention of the department.

He declared that the 19 building trades unions, whose membership totals 3,500,000 persons, had done very well in wage increases. He questioned whether further wage boosts would not be self-defeating by stimulating another spiral of price hikes.

It became clear, after Gray had made his proposal, that many union leaders in his own department did not agree with him.

The building trades department convention is one of a series of meetings that precede the opening Thursday of the AFL-CIO convention, the first since the merger of the AFL and CIO two years ago.

Meanwhile, another proposal by Gray appeared doomed to defeat — his effort to prevent expulsion by the AFL-CIO convention of the big 1,500,000-member Teamsters' Union on corruption charges.

First U.S. 'Moon' Goes Up Tomorrow

The satellite launching is one of a series of dazzling demonstrations of U. S. rocketry planned for this week at the Florida test center.

ATLAS FIRING DUE

Also expected to be fired are the Atlas, America's 5,000-mile intercontinental ballistics missile which has been unsuccessful in two previous tests; the Air Force's already proven Thor intermediate range (1,500-mile) ballistic missile; and a long-range Snark guided missile.

The aluminum satellite contains two radio transmitters—one powered by mercury batteries and the other by six solar cells capable of providing power indefinitely—and has six antennas to send signals back to tracking stations.

Information obtained will be used in development of other "baby" moons expected to be fired this month in preparation for launching of a larger, fully instrumented device scheduled for early next year.

The Defense Department said moonwatchers will not be able to view the satellite itself, even with binoculars. But the 5-foot, third-stage rocket will also orbit and may be visible.

Rocket scientists estimate the satellite will circle the earth once every 100 minutes at an altitude averaging 300 miles, and could stay aloft for a year.

Heals Pitted Marks on Face

Hail New Scar Treatment

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Development of a new method for treating pitted scars resulting from smallpox, pimples and certain other conditions was reported today by a Harvard skin specialist.

Dr. Arthur S. Spangler described the technique in a scientific exhibit prepared for the opening of the 11th clinical meeting of the American Medical Assn.

Spangler, of Massachusetts General and Peter Bent Brigham hospitals, said his treatment involves anesthetizing the area and then cutting the fibrous strands beneath each scar with a small, two-edged knife. The knife is inserted through the hole made by the needle used to inject the painkiller.

Finally, into the space so created beneath the scar, he injects a substance called "fibrin foam" — an extract of human blood.

The fibrin foam raises the bottom of the scar to the level of the rest of the skin, he said, adding that within several months the fibrin foam is absorbed by the body tissue and replaced by normal tissue.

Declaring the new technique is equally effective for large and small scars and for shallow and deep ones, Spangler said that although the scar area may be black and blue for two or three days, the skin soon resumes its normal color.

The physician said that at times the skin covering the scar is so thin that even after treatment the scar remains visible. But he added that it is much less conspicuous than before, and can easily be covered with makeup.

Roars In From Labrador

Storm Whips Northeast

CHICAGO (AP) — A storm off Labrador hurled frigid weather across Eastern Canada and into United States yesterday from Maine through Pennsylvania to the Great Lakes.

Wet and fairly cold weather prevailed across the Northern tier of states today while it was mostly dry with temperatures near normal in the Southern half of the country.

Snow or snow flurries fell in areas from the eastern Dakotas to New England. One of the heaviest falls during the night, about 3 inches, was reported at Aberdeen, S. D.

Snow flurries extended across the northern Great Lakes region, in eastern New York state and in New England.

Hazardous driving conditions were indicated in parts of New York state adjacent to Lakes Erie and Ontario, where heavy squalls were reported last night.

19 KILLED

Winter storms lashing the Northeast Mediterranean killed an estimated 19 persons, stalled road and rail traffic in deep snowdrifts and sent ships scurrying for shelter.

The Simplon Orient Express was snowbound near the Greek-Turkish border, and road and rail traffic was stalled in western Thrace.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Do the winds of a hurricane in the southern hemisphere rotate around the eye clockwise or counter-clockwise?

In the southern hemisphere winds around such storms rotate clockwise—just the opposite from their movement in the northern hemisphere. This is believed to be caused by the motion of the turning earth.

All the signs and warning omens of hurricanes, then, would be read differently in the southern hemisphere. Many other phenomena are different below the equator.

Nature's deflection of bullets and shells, growing characteristics of certain trees, the way rivers cut into one bank, are all different in the southern hemisphere. There the prevailing veer of these things to the left, not the right.

'People Don't Dance Any More'

Graystone Ballroom Quits

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's once famed and ornate dancehall, the Graystone Ballroom on Woodward avenue, is closing down because, its operators say, "People don't dance any more"—and haven't since about the time television first appeared.

Fred W. Haynes and Francis M. Steltenkamp filed a petition in Wayne County Circuit Court yesterday asking dissolution of the Graystone Ballroom Corp.

Since 1950, they said they have run up debts of $75,000, including $10,000 in rent owed the building owner, the University of Michigan.

Opened in 1924, the Graystone's big dance floor could accommodate 1,000 couples without crowding. In the early days it played to capacity crowds weekdays and turnaway throngs on weekends. Famous orchestras which played there included Russ Morgan, Glen Gray, Guy Lombardo, Tommy Dorsey, and Jean Goldkette.

In a revival bid, Haynes and Steltenkamp brought in Stan Kenton's orchestra cost $2,000 and the hall lost $1,500 on the deal.

Names Winners in Ship Contest

Navy Recruiting Office Awards 1st to Cooper, McLean, Fisher

The Pontiac U. S. Navy Recruiting office today announced the local winners in a model ship building contest, open to all boys and girls of eight years or over.

In the 8 to 11 age group Glen A. Cooper, 1231 Crescent Lake Road, Waterford Township, was winner, second place going to Michael P. Fisher, 529 Central Drive, Lake Orion.

Edward McLean, 165 Elizabeth Lake Road, took first honors in the 11 to 15 age group, with Tom Schellenberg, 1595 Maplewood, in second place, and Donald E. Rawlins, 85 Lincoln St., in third.

William F. Fisher, 529 Central Drive, Lake Orion, took all honors in the group above 16 years, having made three entries.

The winning models will be entered in the two-state contest between Michigan and Ohio, at Detroit Dec. 12. Over a score of models were entered in the local contest.

They will be on display at Room 206 in the Riker Building for the next few days.

Chief Lloyd T. Harris, recruiter in charge, and others connected with the contest, consider the Pontiac offerings to be among the best entered from the two states.

The local judges were Commander Bernard Woessner of the local U. S. Naval Reserve Training Center, Don Zee and Joe Haas.

Kiwanis Club to Screen Color Films of Seaway

Color movies of the St. Lawrence seaway will be shown at the noon Thursday meeting of the West Side Kiwanis Club, meeting at 130 S. Telegraph Rd.

A discussion of the seaway project is also slated, and members of other Kiwanis clubs in the area have been invited to attend.

Evaporation from the surface of the Great Lakes is said to vary from about 20 to as much as 30 inches a year.

Satellite Launching Impossible to Hide; Must Warn Ships of Jettisoned Rockets

WASHINGTON (INS) — A scheduled U.S. effort to launch an earth satellite this week seemed destined today to become well known in advance despite a decision to withhold official announcement until after the firing.

For one thing, shipping must be warned that the empty first and second stages of the 72-foot high "Project Vanguard" rocket will come tumbling into the sea at distances about 250 and more than 1,500 miles, respectively, from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

For another, observers outside the restricted area at the missile test center on Cape Canaveral are able to determine which rocket is being prepared for launching, and will relay this information to the world.

Wednesday has been set as the target date for the vanguard firing, it was learned in Washington. "Elastics" allowances for postponement could delay the satellite attempt as much as a week.

If fully successful, the first full-scale test of the Vanguard will establish a radio-equipped, 6.4-inch moon in an orbit varying from less than 300 to nearly 1,500 miles above the earth.

The specifications call for the powerful 27,000 horsepower first stage, which is 45 inches in diameter and nearly 50 feet high, to carry the rocket assembly to an altitude of 33 miles and to a distance 24 miles southeast of the Cape.

At that point, the first stage will be jettisoned. Since the empty fuel container will be moving in thin atmosphere at a speed of close to 4,000 miles an hour, it will coast about 225 miles farther east before plunging into the seas.

2ND STAGE TAKES OVER

After reaching a height of 261 miles, this stage will tilt the satellite onto a course parallel to the surface of the earth, and carry the sphere to a distance 762 miles at sea if everything goes exactly as planned.

Then the second stage, 32 inches in diameter and about 20 feet long, will be jettisoned. The container will be moving at better than 10,000 miles an hour, and will coast at least another 750 miles before striking the sea.

Another falling object to be cast off by the satellite rocket will be the "nose cone" that protects the aluminum sphere from friction during its trip through the atmosphere.

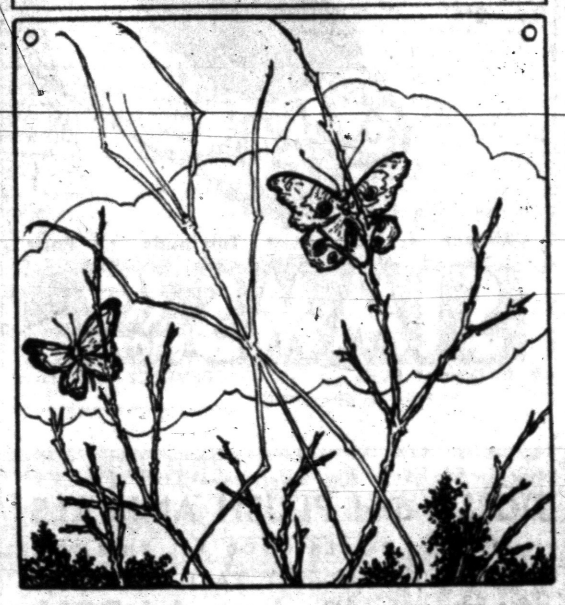

The plans call for jettisoning the nose cones "during the later stages of the second stage powered flight," which might be about 500 miles at sea — or better than 1,000 miles by the time the object reaches sea level.

The five-foot long third stage rocket, which is carried partly within the second stage, will not fall but will continue — like the Sputnik rockets — to orbit around the earth for some time if the satellite is successful.

Although the sphere will be separated from the third stage, the force of the separation imparts an additional speed of only three feet per second — added to an existing speed of more than 25,000 feet per second.

The difference between the speed of the third stage rocket shell and the satellite will therefore be infinitesimal at first. Both will be moving at about 18,000 miles an hour.

Junior Editors Quiz on INSECTS

QUESTION: What is the largest insect in the world?

ANSWER: There is more than one answer to that question, since you may mean the longest, or the heaviest, or the widest. There are about a million known kinds of insects in the world, some so small that they can walk through the eye of a needle and some more than a foot long. There are South American moths that have a tremendous wing expanse. The elephant beetle is almost as big as one's fist. But perhaps no insect is as impressive as the Chinese walking stick, which looks very much like the twigs of a tree. With long, thin body and long, thin legs it extends as far as 14 inches. There are stick bugs in this country, too, and you may find them in the shrubbery when warm weather comes.

FOR YOU TO DO: See if you can spot the stick bug in my drawing. Then color the picture, using bright crayons on the butterflies.

2 From Area Hurt in Head-On Collision

A West Bloomfield Township couple were injured Saturday night when their car collided headon with another in Farmington Township and then was hit by a third car.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin LeMond, of 1775 Petrolia, were taken to William Beaumont Hospital. LeMond, 60, suffered a broken leg, hip bruise and nose lacerations. His wife, Catherine, also had a broken leg, broken ribs and face lacerations.

The driver of the second car, Joel Frazier, 34, of Farmington Township, suffered a bruised chest and leg.

The third car, which struck the LeMond auto after the first collision, was driven by William O'Leary, 28, of 7128 Merrybrook, Birmingham. He was uninjured.

ALBANY (INS)—New York State drivers involved in accidents next year after falling asleep at the wheel may have their licenses suspended or revoked.

Gov. Averell Harriman disclosed plans to introduce legislation for a new highway safety program when the 1958 Legislature meets at Albany.

The program is the fruit of recommendations made to him by his safety policy co-ordination committee, whose report included the following:

"In a number of accident cases where there was a suspicion that a driver involved had been under the influence of alcohol, no conviction or license revocation was possible because the driver contended that he had merely 'fallen asleep' and there was no legal proof of the contrary."

Shredder Takes Hand

MUSKEGON (AP)—Ravenna farmer George M. Lutz, 52, was reported in good condition Monday at Muskegon Osteopathic Hospital after a corn shredder mishap resulted in virtual loss of both hands. Physicians said Lutz, injured in the machine accident on his farm last Saturday, lost his entire left hand and all but the base of the thumb and heel of his right hand.

British shipyards are said to be busier now than in the past 30 years.

Coast Guardsman Quits

LUDINGTON (AP) — Chief Boatswain Coney Schrader, officer in charge of the Ludington Coast Guard Station since 1954, retires Dec. 31 after 20 years of Coast Guard service. He will be succeeded by Chief Boatswain Joseph Greisbacker from Milwaukee.

Extend Hospital Drive

ALLEGAN (AP) —Campaign officials said the Allegan Health Center building fund drive, seeking $440,000 to match government funds for a proposed new hospital addition, has been extended for seven days to meets its goal after $400,977 was reported on hand last Friday night.

Nation Lags in Schools; Pontiac Ahead of Most

This nation faces a pressing and vital school problem.

We are lagging—and lagging badly—in constructing new schools and class rooms.

The Architectural Forum says: "Despite prospects for the biggest school construction year since the war, only a 4,000 dent in the nation's cumulated shortage of 159,000 class rooms can be expected next year."

It points out that although 69,000 class rooms are scheduled for 1957-1958, 45,000 will be required to meet this year's enrollment increases, while 20,000 will replace rooms destroyed by fire and obsolescence.

This is one of the results of our tremendous national population upsurge. Also, some of it is precipitated by dislocations of urban populations.

It's a huge question.

Just at this moment, we have broad criticisms aimed at us for allowing the Russians to creep ahead in education. Especially are they supposed to be outstripping us in science.

The City of Pontiac is in an especially fortunate spot so far as this general problem is concerned. True, we need more schools and more class rooms, but the problem has been carefully mapped out by a far sighted school board. Furthermore, we have always kept abreast in previous years. This means we face no unfilled accumulation from the past.

Pontiac taxpayers are very fortunate compared to most of those in rapidly growing areas. For many decades, our school system has been in strong hands. Past school boards planned shrewdly, wisely and always looked ahead.

Princess Margaret in Huff With Royal Family

Stories from England disclose that Princess MARGARET is still completely ga-ga about PETER TOWNSEND. Furthermore, MARGARET is supposed to have gone to bat once more for her PETER with Sister ELIZABETH.

But the results were nil, for this little Queen of the British Isles can be very hard and adamant. If you don't believe it, ask a certain Mrs. Simpson or the Duke of Windsor. You might also ask Philip.

ELIZABETH is the Queen and the Queen in fact.

She's the Head Gal.

MARGARET took the second refusal even harder than she did the first. She has asserted her independence by obviously ignoring her sister on a few state occasions just to prove to the world—and herself—that she can be as hard a loser as her sister can winner.

No one has driven up with a team of horses and asked our opinion, but we're on MARGARET's side. If she loves her captain that much, does it really make so tremendous a difference to Queen ELIZABETH? MARGARET'S PETER has two sad defects. First, he's a commoner like you and me. And secondly, he's a divorced man. Royalty and the Church of England look with firm disfavor on both counts.

MARGARET'S counter actions have put her in the Royal dog house and her sister, brother-in-law and her mother are all wagging admonishing fingers. Up to now, MEG has let 'em wag. She's on the war path herself. The course of true love really doesn't run as smoothly as it might, whether you're a princess or a pauper.

THE need for money to rebuild war-torn countries, to convert industry from war to peace, and to build up the economies of under-developed countries, made necessary the creation of a "World Bank" (International Bank for Reconstruction and Development). The Bank has lent more than two billion dollars to member countries for the construction of steel mills, railroads, dams and other needed large-scale projects. Not a single loan has ever been defaulted.

The Man About Town

'Buck' That Is Doe

Contradiction in Biology Shot by Pontiac Area Man

Season: A part of the year that often is out of season.

Most unusual incident of a deer season filled with unusual incidents comes from my own home town of Holly. The hunter was who on Thanksgiving Day shot a beautiful three-pointer a few miles west of that village. The horns were as perfectly formed as any that had ever graced a buck—but it was a doe.

The beaver is generally considered to be extinct in the Pontiac area, where in early times it was one of our principal fur bearing animals. In fact, the Big Beaver community got its name for that reason. However, a pair are diligently working in true beaver fashion on the west shore of Orchard Lake, in plain view of the home of being among the numerous other wild life which they enjoy watching.

at 63 Mt. Clemens St., and one will be given you free of charge.

A letter from my old Metamora friend, says that Lapeer County hunters will hunt at home after this—if they really go hunting for the hunting. In the first week none of the hundred or more from that county who went to the northwoods got a buck, but at least a score were shot in their home county.

A sand hill crane that became mired in a bog near the home of

of Walled Lake was attacked by the family dog. The bird got away, but the dog came home minus one eye.

That ever frugal, budget-watching top-notch assembler of mouth-watering viands,

Mrs. Burnaby Alchin

of Waterford, tells me that turkey now is cheaper than hamburger or hot dogs.

Our annual big turkey marathon opens with the 30-pound bird of

of Metamora. It is a gobbler that now tips the scales at that weight. However, it is being stuffed with excess-vitamin food every day to such an extent that it will crowd 40 pounds when killed, preliminary to that other kind of stuffing on Christmas Day.

Special Delivery

David Lawrence Says:

U.N. Won't Appease Red China

WASHINGTON — Any evidence that the free world is maintaining its ideals and would, if necessary, fight for them is welcome nowadays, when appeasement is in the air.

LAWRENCE

Thus, Aneurin Bevan, who may be the next foreign secretary of Great Britain, is, in effect, urging withdrawal of American forces from Europe and is advocating "neutralism" as between America and Soviet Russia.

DELIVERS LECTURES

George Kennan, one of the men who influences a considerable section of the so-called "liberal" group in America, has been delivering lectures in England in which he questions the necessity of keeping United States troops in Germany and sees a serious danger in stockpiling nuclear missiles in Western Europe.

These utterances are not surprising. There are many people who have been impressed by Soviet intransigence and who consequently advocate compromise, though such moves could be the first steps toward surrender.

What the United Nations did last week, however, stands out as a conspicuous rejection of doctrines of appeasement. Thus, during the last three years, for instance, the propaganda in favor of admitting Red China into the United Nations has been persistent.

REDS IN CONTROL

The old cliche that, after all, the Communist Chinese are in supreme control of the mainland is offered as the reason for forgetting basic principles and for rewarding the aggressor in the Korean War.

There is disregard, too, of the fact that Red China's foreign minister—Chow En-lai—went to Geneva in 1954 and denounced the United Nations, saying he wouldn't have anything to do with that organization in any plan for unifying Korea. If Korea was to be reunited, he said, it must be under Communist terms.

Fortunately, the United Nations itself hasn't overlooked the fact that, since the Geneva Conference in 1954, the Red Chinese haven't given an inch on the subject and still talk as if they had won the war in Korea.

STANDS FIRM

By adopting a resolution calling for the peaceful reunification of Korea under United Nations auspices and by doing so with an overwhelming vote, the United Nations told the world last week it was standing firm for the ideals of collective security for which so many American and other soldiers in the free world gave their lives.

Perhaps the best expression of true American sentiment came from a source which has not always supported the foreign policy of the present administration. In an editorial that minced no words and stated the blunt truth, the "New York Times" said on Monday:

"Actually, the United Nations, itself the sponsor of the Free Republic of Korea, has again put itself on record as opposed to the continued outrage of partition. It has again called for a righteous solution of the problem, in accordance with its own lofty principles. From that moral ground there can be no retreat."

This is adherence to American idealism and rightly emphasizes a reliance on moral force. What is said of the Korean stalemate, of course, applies equally to the stalemate over the reunification of Germany. There can be no compromise of principle without opening up wide the roads to appeasement which in the end, as the 1930s demonstrated, can only lead to war.

The Country Parson

"A fellow who has lost his ambition doesn't notice it so much until he also runs out of alibis."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Reader Says Riboflavin Cured Eye Cataract

Dear Dr. Brady: Eighteen years ago I was told by an eye specialist that I had cataracts. I suppose that in time I'd have to be operated upon and I put aside money for that purpose.

DR. BRADY

"Then I read in your column that Dr. Paul Day, University of Arkansas, had found that a diet entirely free from riboflavin caused all but two of 27 white rats to develop sticky eyelids and, in two or three months, cataracts. When riboflavin was restored to the diet, the cataracts were prevented or cured.

"I told this to every eye man that fitted me with glasses but none seemed to take much stock in the idea.

"You said the best food source of riboflavin was milk and milk products. Unfortunately I was allergic to milk and milk products. So I began supplementing my diet with four 5-grain riboflavin tablets daily, plus large amounts of calcium and vitamin D.

"I have never had any special trouble seeing, except near-sightedness, and this is greatly improved. The last time I had glasses fitted, my doctor said one of my cataracts was perfectly clear.

"I am now 80 years old, read all I want to, enjoy movies and television, play a mean game of croquet, cards, etc. Mrs.—"

Other investigators found that a diet free from riboflavin induced cataract in only a fifth of the rats in the test, and one (Gyorgy) observed no cataract in 500 rats so treated.

The lady says she has "never had any special trouble with seeing"—which seems odd, though perhaps she meant never before she developed cataract.

Five grains of riboflavin, which the lady says she took four times a day to supplement her diet, is a tremendous amount. The ordinary daily requirement is less than 1-30th of a grain.

I think the lady meant that the four tablets she takes daily are 5-milligram tablets. One 5-mg. tablet of riboflavin daily would provide all the riboflavin a person would need, even if he got none from his everyday diet.

Sixed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Tells Causes of Homosexuality

Terry's case is not unusual, although most people affected horror a generation ago at even mentioning this type of sexual deviation. But we must face facts if we are to prevent such problems, for sexual perversion is NOT due to heredity but to faulty training. Send for the booklet below and read the follow-up case tomorrow.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, we don't know what has happened to Terry," his parents began our interview.

DR. CRANE

"For last week we were informed by the principal of the school that Terry is a homosexual.

"Is there anything that we can do to cure him? We'll follow any advice you offer."

SEX DEVIATIONS

Sex hunger is much like gastric or stomach hunger. We are born with a potential craving for love as well as for food.

But even in the gastric realm, we are not born with a specific desire for corn flakes vs. shredded wheat.

No, we must be trained to like those special types of food, and that education comes via modern advertising, plus the tactful behavior of our parents who first introduce us to corn flakes or shredded wheat.

Well, much the same situation prevails in the erotic realm. Although we have an inborn potnetial hunger for love, whether we shall love the opposite sex or our own sex, depends on our training.

That "training" may involve formal lectures by teachers, as well as special sex counsel from the physician and one's parents, or just accidental experiences with playmates or older persons.

Don't get the deluded idea that homosexuals are predestined to love their own sex. That is not true.

EMOTIONAL STAGES

At birth, we are in the egocentric emotional stage. Everything revolves around our selfish desire for food and comfort.

The baby thus cries in the middle of the night with no concern for its mother's need for sleep. Babies are selfishness, personified, even if this idea may shock some of you devoted mothers.

At kindergarten age, however, the child learns to admit two other important planets (mother and father) into the orbit of its own ego.

That's when the child leans upon its parents for fun and frolic. And it begins to realize it must abide by certain rules which those adults prescribe.

At about the age of 10 to 12, the child turns to its own sex for games and social life. This is the true phychological stage of homosexuality.

Boys then prefer boys and detest girls as sissy. Their greatest mark of disfavor is to call another boy a "sissy."

Meanwhile, girls are fond of girls and band together in girls clubs. They regard boys as chiefly a nuisance.

But in the middle teens, perhaps 85 per cent to 90 per cent of young people switch over to the heterosexual stage of emotional development.

That's when they begin to start dating. Boys will now carry the girl classmates, and girls try to win the favor of boys.

SEX FIXATION

But many children become "fixated." They remain in the 10-year homosexual stage clear through the teens, perhaps because they are isolated in a one-sex school or are otherwise debarred from normal coeducational social life.

And if an older person of the same sex seduces them, then they may remain permanently a slave to adult homosexuality.

The psychological affinity for their own sex which is typical of the age of 10 years, now is linked with the erotic thrills normally restricted to the adult heterosexual age.

For further advice, send for my booklet, "Sex Problems of Young People," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents (nonprofit). And scrapbook this Case Record with the follow-up tomorrow.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Doctor Commends Press for Mental Health Articles

I've been instructed by the Mental Health Committee of the Oakland County Medical Society to inform you of our feelings of appreciation for the intelligent position that the Pontiac Press has taken in regard to the need for emergency psychiatric beds in Oakland County.

It is the feeling of the Committee that through the medium of the newspaper the problem has been expertly expressed, and that this has done much to enlighten the people in Oakland County of a serious problem.

The members of the Committee wish to commend the Pontiac Press and its staff for their service to the community in this regard.

Driver Agrees With Another

I agree with Harried Driver about signalling for a turn while driving. Failure to do this should not only be made illegal, but it should be made illegal to drive block after block, mile after mile, with the signal still blinking, as I have seen cars ahead of me do. The car following such a signal doesn't know what the driver intends to do, and it is almost as bad, if not worse, as failing to signal at all.

'Principles Fade on Liquor Issue'

Why do American principles of right thinking bog down when we get to the liquor problem? It's the sin that is causing a more rapid deterioration of our country than anything else.

Figures show that in our own City of Pontiac, while the city was collecting $17,000 a year in liquor taxes, it was costing $250,000 a year in crime, traffic accidents, dependent families, hospital cases and relief resulting from liquor drinking.

This is typical of every town and city in our wonderful America where the junk is sold. Why don't we declare our real principle in the matter, even in our voting duty? Let's not worry about what might happen if we do the right thing.

Teenager Wants 18-Year Vote

I'm writing on behalf of most of the teenagers 18 years of age or older. Michigan should put a bill before the Legislature for 18 to become the legal voting age. It would prepare them for adulthood, and the decisions they have to make at that time. It would be a good idea if the city became more interested in teenagers by letting them be in an office with officials supervising them. That would help teenagers learn more about the growing city of Pontiac.

'Buddy Parker Hits Bottom of Barrel'

Buddy Parker hit the bottom of the barrel in his most recent tirade against the Lions and Coach Wilson. It seems a shame that the National Football League must put up with this type of a crumb. Sports fans in Detroit are lucky to be rid of him. Let's show Parker by winning the league championship.

Tells Way to Buy Right Skate Size

Many parents will be buying ice skates for their children for Christmas. If more people knew how skate sizes run, more children could enjoy skating this year. Children who skate on their ankles do so because the skates are too large.

Skate sizes run smaller than shoe sizes, so when they are bought a size larger than shoe size, they are two sizes too big. When buying skates, see that they fit tightly in the heel and there's room to wiggle the toes. This gives them plenty of room for a pair of warm stockings.

When you buy them large for the child to grow into, the skate is worn out from skating on the side of the boot long before it fits the foot.

'Blame Isn't Ours for Falling Behind'

An article in a recent national news magazine said that when World War II ended, the Russians stripped the rocket manufacturing factories in East Germany and took every German scientist. They secretly ordered them to keep developing the rockets and extending their range.

We assumed that Russia, being our ally, would work with us for peaceful coexistence and discontinue war preparations.

Now the Russians claim full credit for all these rockets and nuclear devices. We as a peaceful nation cannot be blamed so much for falling behind a nation in rocket missiles when they spend all the time of the German scientists and make every effort to develop these things.

Lawmaker Hits MSU Spending

Cites Fund Misuse and Asks Investigation of University's Bills

MT. PLEASANT (AP) — Michigan's youngest legislator Monday called for a "sweeping investigation" into finances and operations of Michigan State University.

Rep. Russell H. Strange (R-Clare), who is 23 and a 1955 graduate of Central Michigan College, said he had learned that some of the money appropriated to MSU's Agricultural Extension Service and agricultural experiment station was spent for purposes "entirely unrelated to agriculture."

The 1957 Legislature provided a total of $3,700,000 for the extension service and experiment station programs.

Strange, in remarks prepared for a Mt. Pleasant civic club, cited pamphlets published by the experiment station carrying such titles as "Entertaining at the Buffets, Teas and Parties," "Children's Games and Play Equipment" and "You Learn to Knit."

Strange criticized lobbying techniques used by university officials in an attempt to win legislative approval of its budget request earlier this year.

He did not say specifically how the proposed investigation should be carried out or who should undertake it.

He said university lobbyists rallied their county agents and alumni through the state to pressure lawmakers on its money demands.

"I don't like to see people, Republicans and Democrats alike, being used," he said.

"And when individuals in my district telephone or write me in good faith to request more money for agricultural programs when part of the money actually is being used for projects which are totally unrelated, then something is wrong someplace."

Strange said some of the MSU lobbying activities appeared to be "on the border of fraud."

"I am convinced that the taxpayers in my district would blow the whistle on Michigan State University if they had the facts," he said.

"And I am going to do everything in my power to see that they get them."

BIG DIPPER — This huge dredge, which was built for use in the Panama Canal, is scooping out a deeper channel in the Detroit River near Detroit, in preparation for the St. Lawrence Seaway. Crew members of the dredge link hands to demonstrate the size of its 22-ton bucket, which can gobble up 15 cubic yards of river bottom in one bite.

Bob Considine Says:

Austria Expresses Gratitude for U.S. Aid

NEW YORK (INS) — This is from notes taken as Bill Hearst called on ailing Chancellor Raab and frisky two-fisted Foreign Minister Figl in Vienna last week.

The pull-out of the Red army from Austria, which must be noted historically as one of the few backoffs the Russians have made since they began to feel their oats, took on its first substance in the talks the Pulitzer-prize-winning team of Hearst-Smith-Conniff had with the Kremlin brass in February, 1955.

Visiting Vienna with any member of that group is something like walking into Yankee Stadium with Babe Ruth in the old days. Raab and Figl abound with something we saw nowhere during our 15,000-mile trip, an open and frank gratitude for what America, its people and these reporters did for it when it was flat on its back.

"Since the Americans primed the pump, after arranging for us to be free again, we have never had it so good," Figl told Hearst in an office not far from the room where the Vienna Congress was held in the wake of Napoleon's downfall.

"We had a hard time for so many years," the vigorous and valorous little man with the red toothbrush mustache said. "In 1918 our Empire was broken up. All we got was a few mountains and vales and the big city of Vienna. All the proconsuls we had sent out through the generations came home, and there were no jobs for them. But we were determined to live. We were just coming up for air when Hitler took us and everything we had built, at the end of the war.

MARK CLARK IS HERO

"I don't know what we would have done without Gen. Mark Clark. A great American, great military man and great political figure. Without Clark, my friend, we couldn't have existed in 1945 and 1946. He had incredible confidence in me, a young chancellor then. Under his wing, he led us out of the shadows.

He used his great influence to get me admitted to the daily meetings with the other allied commissioners, shared his trust in me with them, maintained our sovereignty over the land, hammered away and got free elections, found a way around what would have been Russia's veto power over whatever we and the friendly commissioners might want. What a tactician!"

Figl is justly proud of the fact that a U. S. Senate committee went on record as saying, in effect, "Of all the countries which received Marshall Plan aid, Austria accomplished the most."

He recalled, too, a nervous moment with former President Herbert Hoover, who visited Austria in 1946 for two reasons: to pick up a degree which had been given him just before Hitler took over the country, and to report on whether Austria needed American aid.

"At lunch I served him wiener schnitzel, a good wine and sweets," Figl told Bill. "Then to my alarm Hoover said, 'this was a wonderful meal. It doesn't look as if you need much help over here.' I told him the truth. I told him 'Mark Clark gave me this so I could feed you, Mr. Hoover.' Well, we got the help, for which we will always bless your name.

I once thought that the greatest day of my life was the day I signed the Marshall Plan papers that would provide that help for my country. But I knew an even greater day, the day I was able to tell Washington that we needed no more."

The efficient and hospitable Austrian press aide, Fritz Reznik, took us then into the high paneled office of Austria's ailing Chancellor Raab.

"The Russians retreated from Austria as a result of your talks with Khrushchev and the others," he told Hearst. "Argue as you will, that's the fact. Their policy changed from your talks."

The chancellor said that his administration has just about finished the reconstruction of bombed-out Vienna. "The American bombs had their use," the distinguished looking man said. "They eliminated a lot of our drabbest buildings.

There was not too much incentive to rebuild before the Russians left. While they were here you could be certain of only one thing: They would let us restore a building or erect a new one from the ground up—and then they would take it."

Food Staple Prices Go Up All Over France

PARIS (AP) — The prices of milk butter, beef and gasoline went up throughout France today, aggravating the ever mounting cost of living.

This latest in a series of price increases quickly drew a round of protests from trade unions and family associations. Trade unions have estimated the cost of living has risen about 12 per cent since last year.

Americans Abroad Find Little Acts Win Friends

(The primary job of American servicemen overseas is the defense of the free world. But of only slightly less importance are the tasks of winning friends for the U. S., and helping the people of foreign nations to understand why Americans must be stationed in their countries. The following article tells how this task is being accomplished.)

By ROSE MCKEE

MADRID (INS) — An American Air Force captain from Arkansas took the day off recently to drive his family's Spanish maid to her wedding.

This was Capt. Jack Olsen's way of showing Valentina that he, his wife and their two children liked her and were sorry to be losing her. She is now the full-time wife of a Madrid bartender.

Counting families, there are 5,000 American military personnel in Spain, half what the colony will be when the string of U. S. airbases reach peak operation in 1958. The families are mindful of the stress President Eisenhower has put on people-to-people contacts by Americans living abroad.

It is through their daily relations with people like Valentina that Americans get their best chance to put meaning into the President's pet project.

The Olsens knew several months ago that Valentina accepted them as her friends. She invited them to spend a Sunday at her family home in a small pueblo 60 miles outside Madrid.

The former Jonesboro, Ark., man said, 'It was not an easy thing to do—to invite Americans who the Spanish think are used to every luxury, to a tiny pueblo." He made three attempts to get his car into the little village before finding a street wide enough.

But it was a very successful day. Valentina's family had wine and beer to welcome the Olsens, the pueblo and "everyone looked us over." Valentina was a nervous hostess at dinner later, wiping off this dish and that to be sure everything was clean and just right.

The Olsens brought three boxes of chocolate chip cookies with them and Valentina's family thought the cookies "just wonderful."

AID AT WEDDING

When Valentina got married, the Olsens bought champagne and turned their house over to her for the bridal dinner. Mrs. Olsen helped Valentina into her wedding dress the next day. The captain drove the groom to church and then chauffeured the bride.

He said: "I'm sure Valentina has told 100 other Spaniards about it . . . we did it because we liked her."

Some of the things the Americans do baffle the Spanish. A major said he enjoys working in his garden but his Spanish neighbor looking over the fence can't understand "why I trim the rose bushes myself — he thinks that if I can afford a house, I can also afford a servant to do this work or me."

Families of airmen on duty at the big Torrejon Strategic Command Base 14 miles from Madrid now live scattered about the city. But 866 housing units are being constructed five miles out of Madrid. This will be a "Little America" with its own shopping district, school and community center.

AVOID RESENTMENT

The site is a beautiful valley, overlooked by four or five bluff-perched mansions. One is the home of Hollywood actress Ava Gardner. The rural area was chosen partly because it was felt that there would be less resentment over a "Little America" if it were not built in the heart of Madrid.

Top officials reported that relations with the Spanish have been excellent. To keep them that way, Americans have certain taboos. They are not supposed to talk politics or religion with their Spanish friends.

A Spaniard is understandably pleased when an American speaks—or tries to speak—his language. The study of Spanish is now mandatory for Air Force officers in Madrid.

But a desire to get to know each other on both sides frequently dissolves the language barrier. Some 30 Americans several months ago started a square dancing club. They called themseves the "Madrid Squares" and got together for hill-billy music and fun.

They were surprised and delighted when some Spanish couples indicated they would like to join the club. The couples do not speak English—but they know what it means to "sashay your lady." They are now among the most enthusiastic members of the "Madrid Squares."

See Reshuffling of Diplomats

Five Changes Already Decided On; More to Come in Few Weeks

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States in a reshuffle of its career diplomatic corps soon will name new ambassadors to Nationalist China, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, Greece and Libya.

Responsible officials who reported this today also said further diplomatic shifts could be expected within the next few weeks.

Changes already decided upon, they said, include these:

1. Karl L. Rankin, ambassador and charge d'affaires to Nationalist China for the past seven years, is to be named new American envoy to Yugoslavia.

2. James W. Riddleberger, 53, ambassador to Yugoslavia since July 31, 1953, is to be shifted to Athens as ambassador to Greece, to succeed George Allen who has been named director of the U. S. Information Agency.

3. Howard P. Jones to be appointed ambassador to Nationalist China. He formerly served at Taipei as chief of the foreign aid mission and counselor of embassy.

4. U. Alexis Johnson, ambassador to Communist Czechoslovakia for the past four years, is to be given a new State Department post. The assignment means another diplomat will be given his task of meeting with Chinese Communist representatives at Geneva to arrange for return of Americans held by the Peiping regime. These talks have dragged on since Aug. 1, 1955.

5. John W. Jones to be named ambassador to Libya, replacing John L. Tappin, who has been ambassador there for three years.

All these impending diplomatic shifts, informants said, have been passed on to the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relation Committee and the ranking Republican member. The Eisenhower administration is reported waiting until Congress convenes in January before formally submitting their names for Senate confirmation.

Vermont Sends Tree to Rockefeller Center

The 65-foot white spruce will be decorated with 1,100 red, yellow, white and blue lanterns, plus 3,000 firefly lights.

Gov. Joseph B. Johnson of the State of Vermont, which selected the tree in a statewide competition, will preside at the official lighting ceremony Dec. 12.

GLITTERING ANGELS — These dolls will wink at holiday guests as table centerpieces or from mantel. Shape bodies from cones of metallic paper, heads of tree ornaments and wings of household wrap. Tinsel and glitter add glow.

Wink at Holiday Guests

Decorative Yule Angels Gay, Easily Assembled

Christmas angels — colorful twinkling and, best of all, easy to make — are a charming approach to holiday decoration. They're assembled quickly from metallic paper, three sizes of tree ornaments, a few feet of tinsel, metallic glitter and a roll of sparkling Saran Wrap.

The whole idea is based on cones of varying sizes — from 3 inches high (small enough to hang on the tree or use as place cards at your Christmas table) to 12-inch cones, large enough to become the center of attraction as table or mantelpiece decor.

Make cones by cutting metallic paper into a circle; slit to center point. Lap over edges and paste. Remove wire hanger from Christmas tree ball and fit ball over point of cone.

Secure with a dab of florist's clay or cellophane tape. Select balls of proportionate size to cones. Sparkling wings are made by doubling a rectangular piece of wrapping paper and folding it into fine pleats. Attach at back of cone with tape.

To make demure, smiling faces, use nail polish for the mouth, black or brown eyebrow pencil for brows and curling lashes. A wreath of tinsel forms the little crowns and neck ruffs. Sprinkle gold glitter inside the crown for hair and along the edges of wings and skirt.

For your table centerpiece try a group composed of a large angel surrounded by smaller ones. On your mantelpiece center a large figure with three angels of graduated size on either side. Hang a large angel attached to a pine or balsam spray to your door to say "happy holidays" to one and all. Top your gift packages with small angels for another sparkling surprise.

Russia to Outstrip U.S. in Production?

HONG KONG (AP) — Liu Shao-chi predicted today the Soviet Union would surpass the United States in per capita production by 1972 and said Red China's task was to surpass Britain.

Liu, deputy chairman of the Chinese Communist Central Committee, spoke to the 1,000 delegates of the All-China Trade Union Congress which opened in Peiping. An all-star lineup of Red leaders, including Chairman Mao Tze-tung and Premier Chou En-lai, were on the platform.

Liu, whose speech was broadcast by Peiping radio, presumably based his prediction on Soviet production on the statement of Soviet party chief Nikita Khrushchev who said in Moscow Nov. 6 that the Soviet Union would exceed the present volume of U.S. production within 15 years.

Colorful Tape-Stars Decorate Packages

Stars make effective and simple package decorations. Red and green gift wrap tape may be used, or other bright colors.

Crisscross narrow strips of the tape and you have a star. This design is very effective against a wrapping of silver foil gift paper. Youngsters, especially, will find this an easy way to do their own gift-wrapping.

Arab-Israeli Skirmishes for Propaganda

Dag May Soothe Hostilities

By JOHN H. MARTIN

U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold's trip to the Middle East is to soothe once again inflamed Arab-Israeli hostility.

He has more chance this time of easing relations because there is a lot of propaganda involved.

Jordan is having trouble with Israel, but this is nothing new. Israel has been accused of kidnaping a Jordanian farmer and of shooting across the frontier.

Israel in turn has accused Jordan of trying to kidnap Israelis and of causing trouble in general. Jordan also stopped a shipment of gasoline to Mt. Scopus, behind the Jordanian lines, in the Jerusalem sector.

The Jordanian-Israeli skirmishes came at a time when Jordan was being accused by some Arab nations of trying to make a separate deal with Israel. No propaganda is more effective in the Arab world than such a charge.

No shred of evidence has been advanced by either Syria or Egypt —main antagonists against Jordan —to support such charges.

SYRIAN-EGYPTIAN POLICY

Last April the pro-Communist and anti-Hussein elements tried to overthrow the king. Cairo and Damascus radios now are trying by broadcasts to inspire the assassination of the king.

Under these circumstances a slight show of skirmishing along the Jordanian-Israeli frontier would be intended to show that Hussein is a stalwart foe of Israel. This is for the benefit of the Arab masses.

Again, under such known circumstances, it is predicted that Dag Hammarskjold will not have too many difficulties this time.

He is expected to regulate the Jordanian-Israeli frontier quarrels. He is expected to get the Israeli shipments to Mt. Scopus flowing again. He is expected to get Jordan to agree to work with U.S. Marine Col. Byron V. Leary on the Israeli-Jordanian Mixed Armistice Commission.

There is one possible snag: He may not get the Syrians to agree to a quiet period on their frontier with Israel.

This is because it is not to the propaganda advantage of Damascus, or Moscow, to let a quiet period ensue.

U.S. May Get Look at Red Jet Liner

MOSCOW (AP)—Aviation experts said today the Soviet Union may seek to give the United States a preview of its new TU114 Jet airliner by seeking permission to return its U.N. delegation in the 220-passenger plane.

Aeroflot, the Soviet airline, used its TU104 jet airliner to fly the delegates to New York this fall. So far no application has been received at the U.S. Embassy for a TU114 flight.

★ ★ ★ ★

The Soviet Union is extending its jet service into Western Europe Friday with an inaugural flight of TU104 nonstop service between Moscow and Copenhagen. Scandinavian Airlines is joining Aeroflot in the service, sending its first four-engined DC6 to Moscow tomorrow.

The service will permit air travelers to leave Moscow one day and arrive in New York the next, through connections in Copenhagen.

PARTY PRESSURE — Felix Gaillard (left), young French premier, and Edouard Daladier, president of the French Radical-Socialist Party, confer during the party congress in Strasbourg, France, late last week. Although the French government has already rejected an offer by Tunisia's President Bourguiba and King Mohammed V of Morocco to mediate the French-Algerian rebellion, Gaillard is being urged by his party to accept the offer. The mediation proposal had been rejected on grounds that France does not consider Tunisia or Morocco neutrals in the three-year-old Moslem revolt in Algeria.

Kalamazoo Show Draws 14,671 in British City

The exhibit was based on Kalamazoo, Mich., but it was supposed to reflect American life in a typical town.

Pictures, charts, graphs, movies and products making up the exhibit were mounted in a grubby building on a side street last Monday. After another week in Manchester the exhibit will visit London, Cardiff, Hull, Birmingham, Sheffield, Edinburgh and Coventry.

"Attendance in Manchester during the first week was more than I expected," said Don Taylor, of the United States Information Service.

Clayton Willis, U. S. information attendant with the exhibit, said English visitors have been "especially interested in American housing and cost of living figures. Exhibition copies of the Kalamazoo Gazette continued to be the top attraction and the big file is now in tatters."

Attendance figures day by day last week were: Monday 1,845, Tuesday 2,727, Wednesday 2,317, Thursday 2,204, Friday 1,971, Saturday 2,387 and Sunday 1,220.

The tallest structure in the U. S. outside of New York City is the Terminal tower in Cleveland, Ohio. It has 52 stories and rises to 708 feet, a landmark for the surrounding vicinity.

Convertible Vehicle Sets Mail Run Mark

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Chesapeake & Ohio officials hailed a record of 3 hours, 18 minutes in mail carrying between Detroit and Grand Rapids by a new combination rail and highway freight vehicle.

The "railvan," a freight car which converts into a highway truck trailer, was tested on the run last Tuesday. Its time was compared with the normal freight schedule of four hours.

Officials said part of the time saving was accomplished in the elimination of three manual handlings of mail as known with conventional rail cars. The "railvan" carries a double wheel arrangement—rubber tires for highway use and flanged wheels for rail travel.

Pontiac Man Suffers Head Injuries in Crash

Warren Newsum, 41, of 243 Russell St., was admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital early Sunday morning following an auto accident.

His car hit that of Walter E. McIntyre, 43, of 2509 Dixie Highway, Waterford Township.

McIntyre told Pontiac police he was driving on N. East Blvd., near the Pontiac sewer plant, when he felt a bump in the rear and saw Newsum's car go off the road.

City Chiefs Get Spending Advice

Psychiatrist Tells Men Aids to Mental Health Must Be Provided

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The men who run the nation's cities got more advice today on now money should be spent to meet the challenge of mushrooming growth.

But in the background of the American Municipal Assn. convention, concern was voiced lest projects already under way may have to be cut back because of the critical time.

In the way of new advice:

1. A noted psychiatrist said cities must provide facilities to deal with mental health problems.

2. A New York authority urged expansion of recreation to meet the needs of leisure.

New York Mayor Robert F. Wagner, sounding a note of caution heard frequently in the convention, said in an interview that increased military spending could foreshadow a curtailment of such federally aided programs as public housing and slum clearance.

The psychiatrist, Dr. Leonard Duhl, told the convention, "We have no positive proof that slum clearance lowers crime and delinquency rates."

"I am not against slum clearance," he explained. "I am against slum clearance that proceeds without attention to the social and emotional needs of the community, just as I am against any community planning project which disregards human needs."

Dr. Duhl, of the National Institute of Mental Health, said some people with incipient mental illnesses or emotion disturbance can be helped by minor treatments that get to them in time, the work of guidance and other personnel minimally trained in psychology or psychiatry.

"Others require more highly skilled help. For these people at home, school, work or pay, a psychiatric emergency service, with skilled people available at a moment's notice, might be most helpful."

Schedule Dedication of New Expressway

Dedication ceremonies for the completed Farmington - Brighton expressway will be Dec. 13, the State Highway Department announced today.

Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie and Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart are to be principal speakers at a 12:15 p.m. luncheon in Farmington after the ribbon cuttings.

The new expressway parallels U.S. 16 and is the first leg of a Detroit - Muskegon expressway planned by Mackie in the next five to six years.

Dry Oklahoma Votes on Question of Beer

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Constitutionally dry Oklahoma votes today whether to permit county option on 3.2 per cent beer, the state's strongest legal beverage.

The proposed constitutional amendment, sponsored by the United Drys, is designed to let each of the 77 counties decide whether beer can be sold. Since 1933 beer has been legal throughout the state, and this is the first attempt to change that part of the law.

Eight Bison Bagged

FORT DAVIS, Tex. (AP)—Sportsmen bagged eight Bison yesterday at the Reynolds Co. ranch in the Davis Mountains area. A herd of about 200 roams the huge ranch. Special permits were issued to 20 persons to take some of the old bulls driven off by young animals.

Ex-Air Force Secretary to Address Dem Dinner

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Thomas K. Finletter, secretary of the Air Force when Harry Truman was president, will be the main speaker here Wednesday at the annual Democratic 2nd Congressional District dinner.

He is expected to speak about U.S. defenses and the rocket and guided missile programs, a party spokesman said.

Also on the program are Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart and Democratic State Central Committee chairman Neil Staebler.

Rep. Ford Says U.S. Keeps Up

In Intermediate Range Missile Program Good With Jupiter, Thor

DETROIT (AP) — Rep. Ford (R-Mich) says he feels the United States' missile program is keeping pace with Soviet Russia.

While he conceded that the U.S.S.R. may be ahead "in certain areas" he added that with the development of the intermediate range Jupiter and Thor ballistics missiles "our position is at least as good if not slightly ahead."

The 44-year-old member of the House defense appropriations sub-committee said at a news conference yesterday following a tour of Chrysler Corp.'s missile plant in suburban Detroit that "it doesn't appear Russia is any farther ahead in research and development of the IRBM nor in any better shape production-wise."

Ford said that while Russia apparently has passed the United States in the development of power plants to launch missiles, "we are ahead in the technical problems of guidance and getting the warhead back intact through the atmosphere."

"From what I have seen and heard," Ford said, "our missile program overall is in good shape and in the IRBM area we're in real good shape."

Ford's tour of the Chrysler plant followed announcement last week that Chrysler, currently producing the 300-mile Redstone missile for the Army, had been ordered to gear for production of the Jupiter. The Thor has been ordered into production at the Douglas Aircraft Corp. plant in California.

Waterford Voters Sen. Notices on Registration

Suspension of registration notices have been sent to all Waterford Township voters who have failed to vote in the past four years, according to Clerk James Seeterlin.

Sending signed cards back to the township clerk's office within 30 days will reinstate the voter for a period of one year, Seeterlin said.

"Persons who fail to return the cards will automatically have their registration cards removed from the file, making them ineligible to vote until they re-register," Seeterlin concluded.

He Fiddled Too Much

WARNS OF ICBM—NATO's air science chief, Dr. Theodore Von Karman, is pictured issuing a warning that Russia could have an intercontinental ballistic missile capable of great damage, even if it isn't perfected as yet. Interviewed in Washington, the scientist also said he is optimistic the United States will solve its remaining problems by perfecting its own ICBM.

Dash of Snow in Fog and Sunshine

November Was Fall Cocktail

Unusually heavy fog ushered in the month of November. Blanketing all of southern Michigan, the fog slowed motorists and halted all air and water traffic.

A short-lived Indian Summer with mild temperatures in the 60's prevailed for the first six days of the month. Skies remained mostly cloudy, however. Sixty-two, the highest temperature of the month, was the reading on the first day.

The season's first real snow fall hit the Pontiac area on the 9th. Snow, amounting to one-half inch along with cold and blustery winds caused slippery roads and traffic jams throughout the county.

Unseasonably high temperatures ranging in the 50's drifted in during the week of the 10th. But along with the mild weather came rain. More than an inch of it fell on the 13th and 14th.

Beginning at 1 a.m., Nov. 19, high, gusty winds up to 60 miles an hour swept the area while the mercury dropped 25 degrees within six hours.

Light snow flurries, driven in on the cold winds, continued through the 22nd and the mercury remained low.

Thanksgiving Day was a very wet one. Heavy rains, lasting all day, drenched the area, but the mercury remained in the 40's to make it a mild day.

The month ended prognosticating a cold winter. Saturday, Nov. 30, was the coldest day of the year. The mercury skidded to a bone-chilling low of 18 degrees and winds blustered and blew most of the day. The early morning reading and high for the day was 30 degrees.

The month's average high was 47.1 degrees and the average low was 32.9 The average mean temperature for November was 40. The total precipitation for the month was 3.82 inches.

Scott Defense Seeks to Prove Wife Alive

LOS ANGELES (AP) — After nine weeks of listening to the prosecution present its case, the defense is finally having its say in the L. Ewing Scott murder trial.

In his opening statement to the jury yesterday, Defense Attorney P. Basil Lambros said he intends to prove that Scott's missing socialite wife, whom he is accused of killing, is still alive.

One of the first witnesses called by Lambros was an attorney who was retained by Scott at the time of his arrest last year. The attorney, Seth Hufstedler, told of receiving two reports from persons claiming they had seen Mrs. Scott. He said the reports did not stand up when checked out.

Another witness, Perry Pasmezoglu, said he knew Scott in St. Louis in 1934. He said at the time he was an investment broker of considerable means.

The prosecution contends Scott killed his wife and disposed of her body in order to gain her $600,000 estate.

Beats Stubborn Deer

FREDERICK, Md. (AP) — Dennis Royston of Silver Spring shot a deer three times but it wouldn't die. So he chased it into a thicket and beat it to death with his gun.

Army Reaches Area of Rocket (?) Plunge

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — A task force of skiers and mountain warfare experts from Ft. Greely, 100 miles southeast of here, has reached the area in which a flaming object was seen plunging to the ground Saturday afternoon.

The Army said the party was sent out early yesterday by Col. Richard B. Middlebrooks, commanding officer at the fort. The announcement again said, "It is believed the object may have been the rocket from Sputnik 1."

The Army's first announcement of the flaming object said it was the rocket from Sputnik 1 but officials of the Geophysical Institute of the University of Alaska, several of whom saw the object, said it was a meteor.

Parking Meters Closed

SUFFERN, N.Y. (AP)—The parking meters in this New York suburban community have been shut off as a boon to Christmas shoppers. Mayor James A. Keenan Sr. ordered free parking until Christmas Eve to persuade shoppers to patronize local merchants instead of parkway shopping centers nearby.

Anteaters have no teeth, but they have a long tongue to gather up the ants which form the bulk of their meals.

Escaped Chimps Make Chumps of Tourists

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Two chimpanzees escaped from a commercial exhibit while their cage was being cleaned. Tourists scattered before them and two employes who tried to catch them were bitten.

Before they were cornered, a 50-pound 5-year-old named Bongo invaded a snack bar and began tossing glasses around.

Maggie, a 15-year-old 75-pounder, was trapped in a tool shed where a spiked soft drink was passed in to her. Bongo was subdued with the help of a woman employe who soothed him with a candy bar.

Announce New Way to Drain Sinus Cavities Without Discomfort

New tablet invention for sinus sufferers acts both to drain clogged sinus cavities and relieve distressing head pains

New York, N. Y. (Special) Announcement has been made of a new tablet invention which has the remarkable ability to help drain clogged sinus cavities and thus relieve congestion and pressure. The headaches, pressure pains, stuffed-up head, nasal drip, clogged breathing—all the unrelenting symptoms the sinus sufferer knows so well—are attacked directly by improving drainage of the sinus areas.

Most remarkable of all is the fact that this is accomplished with extraordinary speed and without discomfort of any kind. This new tablet does its remarkable work internally, through the blood stream. It deposits into every drop of blood plasma a new medication which is carried to the sinus area, where it shrinks the swollen doors to the sinus cavities and helps drain away the pain-causing pressure and congestion.

The shrinking substance in this new tablet has been so successful topically in promoting drainage of the sinus cavities that it is now prescribed more widely by doctors than any material for this purpose. This new medication is now available at drug counters without the need for a prescription under the name, Dristan® Tablets. Dristan Tablets cost only 98¢ for a bottle of 24 tablets. Buy and use Dristan Tablets with the absolute guarantee that they will drain away pain-causing pressure and congestion of the sinus cavities, relieve the pain and distress, or your full purchase price will be refunded.

Weary Elopers Eye America

British Pair's Attempt to Marry Blocked by Dad's Court Order

EDINBURGH, Scotland (AP) — Britain's latest pair of young elopers say they may flee to America to escape the consequences of parental opposition to their marriage.

"We are so much in love," honey-blonde Tessa Kennedy, 19-year-old socialite heiress, told a news conference. "We have thought this over for a long time."

"If we marry, I certainly cannot go back to England," said 26-year-old Dominic Elwes, Tessa's father obtained a high court order in London last Thursday prohibiting their marriage in England.

"I think we will go to America, where my father is," said Elwes. His father, Simon Elwes is a portrait painter who recently opened a studio in New York City. He said he too opposes the marriage.

The couple met newsmen after hiding out for six days. They said they planned to stay in Edinburgh for the additional 15 days necessary to establish residence, then marry in a civil ceremony. Dominic is Roman Catholic, Tessa Protestant.

Scottish law permits marriage of anyone over 16, with or without the parental nod. Tessa's father Geoffrey Kennedy got the English injunction because the law there gives parents a veto until the child is 21.

Kennedy's lawyer said in London the disapproving father plans to seek a second injunction in a Scottish court restraining them from marrying here either.

"We are going to fight this all the way," said Tessa. "If our parents bring an action against us in a Scottish court, we will fight it. We will speak to them only through our lawyers."

Tessa was still wearing the black Dior gown in which she fled her home last week.

Jordan Stands Fast; Dag Moves to Israel

JERUSALEM (AP) — U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold brings his latest Middle East peace mission to Israel today after talks in which Jordan officials apparently stood fast in their demand for U.N. inspection of Israeli-held Mt. Scopus and their refusal to let Israeli convoys take gasoline to the hill.

Hammarskjold will fly to the demilitarized zone between Jordan and Israel for a conference with U.S. Marine Col. Byron Leary, chief U.N. truce observer, and then come on to Jerusalem.

A joint U.N.-Jordan communique issued after two days of meetings between Hammarskjold and leaders in Amman indicated that the talks had fallen short of U.N. expectations. The secretary general looked grim as he left the final conference.

Three issues are central in the latest Israel-Jordan tension: (1) Jordan's refusal to allow an Israeli convoy bearing 490 gallons of gasoline to pass through its territory to Mt. Scopus, in old Jerusalem; (2) Jordan's rejection of Col. Leary as a U.N. mediator; and (3) charges from Jordan and Israel that each is building fortifications in the demilitarized zone in violation of the 1949 armistice.

Might Say Sputnik Leads to Robbery

DENVER (INS) — You could almost say Russia's sputnick brought not only awe and disappointment to the U. S., but also crime and a setback to the educational system.

The recorder had a tape of the satellite's beep. Blalack had planned to use it in his class.

With his uncle, scientist John Osborne discussed the radiation drifting toward Melbourne. "We're going to be the last major city," said Osborne. "The last to die will be the Indians in Tierra del Fuego."

Asks Congress to Take Action

Should Make Provision for Delegation of Duties in President's Illness

OMAHA (INS) — Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) has urged Congressional action to delegate the President's duties and responsibilities.

Senator Smith arrived in Omaha Sunday for an investigation of the Strategic Air Command's manpower problems. A reserve officer, she wore the uniform of a WAF lieutenant colonel.

In the light of President Eisenhower's illness, the Senator said, "I feel we should have more direct provisions for delegating the President's duties and responsibilities. I hope that the Congress will get something clearer in the near future."

She also urged Congress to assign the responsibility for Civil Defense to the Armed Forces reserve units. "Who is better equipped," she asked, "to take over the leadership of the civilian population in a bombed community than the reserve officers of that community?"

Concerning armed forces manpower problems, Senator Smith suggested a dual role for technicians, who would work part time for private firms and part time in the armed services.

She pointed out that in any race to provide more incentives industry must win over the services but the end result would be further inflation and rising defense costs.

Her dual plan, she said, "will give the technicians those things which attract them away from the armed services to private industry without the armed services losing them."

Senator Smith spoke at a banquet last night sponsored by the reserve officers association.

Overshadowed by Ike, 9-Year-Old Son

John Rates No Spotlight

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

It is questionable whether Maj. John Eisenhower is best known to Americans as the son of the President or the father of nine-year-old David Eisenhower.

The public came to know Margaret through her singing career, three of the Roosevelt boys through their widely publicized exploits in and out of the divorce courts, and the fourth because he is a Republican.

John Eisenhower has drawn public attention chiefly as the father of the four presidential grandchildren headed by David, the apple of the President's eye.

The 35-year-old major bears a certain facial resemblance to his father, but not as much so as David. In temperament, he is quite different.

GRADUATED ON D-DAY

The decision to follow his famous father into the Army was his own, made after serious teen-age deliberation. One the June day in 1944 that he was graduated from West Point, his five-star father was directing the D-Day invasion of Normandy.

John later got into the global conflict with the First Infantry Division.

The major served as an infantry officer in Korea, where he saw front-line action.

John's army career has sometimes been complicated by the fact that his father is his commander-in-chief, but the relationship has not advanced his rank beyond that of his West Point classmates.

He has served on several occasions as an aide to his father, both at the White House and on overseas trips. He accompanied the President to the 1955 Big Four meeting in Geneva and sat by his father's side in the discussions with the leaders of the Kremlin.

If the convalescing President gets his doctors' approval to attend the allied "summit" meeting in Paris, it is likely that John will go along.

Seek U.S. Help on Algeria Issue

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Asian-Arab pressure increased today to get U.S. support for negotiations aimed at ending Algeria's three-year-old rebellion against French rule.

Behind-scenes maneuvers by both sides in the dispute were stepped up as the General Assembly's top Political Committee prepared to continue the Algerian debate today.

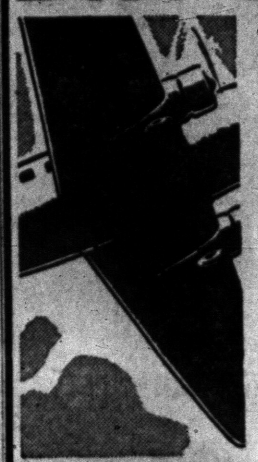

Uncertainty about the stand the United States would take was reported holding up an Arab-Asian move to call on France and the Algerian nationalists to negotiate their differences.

A high Eastern diplomat indicated that the 22 Arab-Asian nations who brought the Algerian issue before the Assembly again this year were hesitant about spelling out their demands in a resolution until they are sure what support they would get.

Ceylonese Delegate R. S. S Gunewardene pointed up the move for Western intervention during yesterday's committee debate. He called on the United States and Britain to use their good offices to bring about a solution of the dispute.

Gunewardene also urged France to reverse herself by accepting the Tunisian-Moroccan offer to mediate the conflict on the basis of sovereignty for Algeria and safeguards for French rights. France turned down the offer, contending that negotiations could only come after a cease-fire and election of Arab spokesmen in her North African territory.

NOW'S THE TIME TO COMPARE DESIGN!

Now that all the new cars are out . . . compare the look! From the Total Design of the new cars of The Forward Look for '58 comes the uncluttered and functional, the strikingly low shape of motion that America has taken to its heart!

Our eye-catching dart shape, for example, with its uncluttered, clean-flowing design, adds to riding stability—reducing steering correction in cross winds as much as 20%.

You'll find new thinking in the shape and function of our enormous glass areas, too: new rear windows—up to 13 glistening square feet . . . swept-back front windshields let you look up as well as out, contributing to your all-around visibility—and so dramatically an integral part of the shape-of-motion profile of the whole car.

A visit to your dealer will reveal all of the new differences in the new Forward Look cars for '58. New whisper-quiet engines with new Fuel-Saver Choke . . . new full-time Constant-Control power steering . . . new Sure-Grip differential that gives extra traction in snow and mud.

What's more, in Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto, Chrysler and Imperial you pay nothing extra for the famous Torsion-Aire system of suspension—only new way of putting solid comfort between you and the road that's been proven by billions of driver miles.

FOR '58, MORE THAN EVER, THE FORWARD LOOK IS THE ADVANCE DESIGN

'Lute Song' Scheduled Thursday and Friday

Pontiac Press Photos

Judi Johnson (or Princess Nieou-Chi), Sam Karaguleff (Tsa) and Terri Fortino (Madame Tsai), left to right, rehearse a poignant scene from "Lute Song" which Pontiac High School is staging Thursday and Friday.

Cookbook Represents 15 Nations

Wives Contribute NATO Volume of Exotic Recipes

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Exotic dishes from Danish abelkage to Dutch zuurkool, including King Paul of Greece's fish rice and President Eisenhower's beef stew, are among recipes from the 15 North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) nations featured in a new cookbook "The Best of Taste."

Compiled by wives of officers on the staff of NATO's Supreme Allied Commander, Atlantic, Adm. Gerauld Wright, USN, the handsomely illustrated, 256 - page cookbook was launched with the fanfare of a Hollywood premiere at a reception given by the SACLANT staff wives and the American Newspaper Women's Club.

FOR SCHOLARSHIP

Royalties from the book—already selling like hotackes—go for international scholarships for students to do research about NATO and allied subjects.

Also from Canada is a dinner menu which provides that everything including dessert can be oven-baked in a 350-degree temperature for one hour.

ICELANDIC FAVORITE

From Iceland comes a favorite of President Asgeir Asgeirsson, fish pudding with filling, a recipe for ptarmigans (birds) and a cheese dish made of roquefort, sharp and camembert cheeses, gelatin, onion, paprika and green coloring.

Belgium offers "wild boar chops." Norway "Yellow herring salad." There's a "tuna eye canape" from Denmark, "soused herring" from England, "shrimp turnover," from Portugal, "wedding soup" from Turkey and "seafood gumbo a la New Orleans," from the United States.

Adm. Wright, whose wife headed the committee producing the book, says in a foreword that NATO wives are working like their husbands "for defense of the seas, for unity of NATO, for preservation of our friendships, for mutual understanding and tolerance of each for all."

They believe, he says, that "the appeal to the mind and heart via the palate—a NATO cookbook—will contribute one small iota to the unity, understanding and friendship among the peoples and nations of our great alliance."

Dear Abby:

Frequent Rubdowns Are the Rub

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband used to be a professional wrestler but he gave it up and now he gives massages. There is one woman who will not leave my husband alone. I don't know how she can take so many massages.

ABBY

She claims she has a bad back and he is always hauling his table over to her house to give her a treatment. She says he does more for her than any doctor.

It is a good steady living, but I am getting pretty sick of him seeing so much of her. Should I ask him to stick to men only?

TONY'S WIFE

DEAR TONY'S WIFE: If you suspect that your husband is giving that lady a treat instead of a treatment — ask him to stick to men only.

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl, 21, who is engaged to marry a fellow who went in the service. His family (he has two sisters and a mother) spy on me constantly. One of them is always checking up on me.

They call on the phone to see if I am home and if I am not, they want to know where I went and when I will be back. I am a decent girl and am true to the man I am engaged to.

HE never doubts me and I resent their doing so. Should I write my fiance and ask him to call them off?

FAITHFUL

DEAR FAITHFUL: If you are faithful and have nothing to hide, you need not resent their checking up on you. Don't upset your fiance by writing him about it. Ignore them.

DEAR ABBY: I am 11 years old and my mother won't let me wear lipstick. All of my friends do and I feel like a baby. When I have gray hair what good will lipstick do me?

JOANNE

DEAR JOANNE: Come now — you know your mother does not intend to make you wait until you are old and gray before she lets you use lipstick. Fourteen is soon enough.

DEAR ABBY: I go with a fellow who works on airplanes. He is a mechanic. I like him a lot but he always has very dirty fingernails. If you think he can't help it I won't mention it to him, but it seems to me he could do something about it. Can you help me?

ANITA

DEAR ANITA: He CAN help it! There are many soaps on the market for people who work with grease, leads and grime. Suggest that he ask his druggist about them. When he knows you care — maybe he will.

CONFIDENTIAL TO RUTH: This guy from FARGO won't go far if he's trying to drink CANADA dry! Let him stay in Canada.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of The Pontiac Press. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

What Do Men Want for Christmas? None of the Usual Presents, Please

By DOROTHY ROE
Women's Editor

What do men want for Christmas?

Well, the things they don't want are neckties, cuff links, gag presents meant to be funny and anything that has to be exchanged.

REVEALING REPLIES

She hired a group of college boys to buttonhole men at railroad stations and other public places and question them about their gift preference. The replies are revealing:

"My wife has the world's worst taste in neckties."

"Why does she buy me shirts without finding out the right size?"

"If I get another bottle opener that sings 'How Dry I Am' I may forget I'm a gentleman."

"I like to pick my own ties, shirts and whatever jewelry I wear, which is not much."

CARS AND CASH

Top of the list is an automobile. The boys also wouldn't mind a gift of cash — any amount.

If the little woman feels she really must give him a gift of clothing, then he wants it in the form of a gift certificate, so he can do his own choosing.

High on the list of male preferences are such things as new TV sets, hi-fi sets and sports equipment.

Most all men would like a camera, if it's an imported, expensive kind.

Junior Unit of Musicale Holds Sing

An old - fashioned sing of Christmas carols highlighted the meeting of the Junior League of Tuesday Musicale Sunday afternoon for the yearly Christmas program at the James K boulevard home of Nancy Walker. Mrs. William Furlong, club sponsor, accompanied members in singing.

Karine Klinkhamer Feted at Shower

Karine Klinkhamer, whose marriage to Eugene Russell will be an event of Dec. 28, was honored at a personal shower given Sunday by Joan Blizman and Winnie Haley in the latter's Ithaca home. Decorations for the event were in a Christmas motif.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Klinkhamer of Thorpe street, and her fiance is the son of Mrs. Dora Mae Russell of Lansing.

For visiting Chinatown — or just any town — you'll find this slim sheath and beaver-trimmed loose-fitting jacket by Mervin Ross perfect for a town ensemble.

Personal News of Interest

Mrs. Isaac P. Decker returned to her home in Lapeer today after spending several days with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Decker of Birmingham, and her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Woodruff of West New York avenue.

Spending the Thanksgiving holiday in Milwaukee was Mrs. Millie LaFortune of Cherrylawn drive, who visited her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Max Heins, and her nephew and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Heins. Mrs. LaFortune returned home Saturday.

Joel Thome and his houseguest, Bernal Flores of San Jose, Costa Rica, have returned to the Eastman School of Music, Rochester, N. Y., where they are students. Joel is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Maurice Thome of James K boulevard.

On Monday Mr. and Mrs. Norman Roth returned to their Dow Ridge home after a stay at "The Carolina," Pinehurst, N. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bertram and family of Island Park drive spent the Thanksgiving holiday in northern Michigan.

Short Skirts Spotlight Legs, Hips

Now's the Time for Women to Pamper Their Kneecaps

By OLGA CURTIS

NEW YORK (INS) — Now is the time for all good women to come to the aid of their kneecaps.

Hemlines are up to 16 inches from the floor — 17 inches predicted — and kneecaps will have to be smoothed, bleached and dimpled for public appearance.

Miss Lambert, a well-curved size 12, fears the chemise dress will do drastic things to the familiar uplift bustline. She predicted:

"Young girls will probably look good in this 'all-one-line' silhouette — it demands a slender figure. But large bosoms will have to be concealed or controlled for less point and more flatness."

The blonde winner of this year's New York Fashion Designers' Award explained that the chemise reveals bulges instead of concealing them.

"This kind of dress is cleverly designed to touch the body only at two points — over the bosom, where nothing must stick out, and at the pelvic girdle, where it touches and then tapers in for a closer fit.

TO FLOOD STORES

Chemise dresses are due to flood stores this month for the resort season, and Miss Lambert says holiday sales will be "the big audition" for this style. So far, she noted, women have been timid about trying the chemise except in the big cities.

Miss Lambert, director of the Couture Group of the New York Dress Institute, thought hemlines would be shorter no matter how much women take to the sack silhouette.

"We're up to 16 now. I think 17 is about as high as the hemline will go — nobody really knows just how far fashion will go in any direction."

Miss Lambert, a native of Crawfordsville, Ind., has seen just about every dress stitched on Seventh avenue in preparation for the 30th National Press Week next month, when fashion editors will come to New York to see new styles.

She reports that women who hate sacks will have plenty of other dresses to choose from — coat-dresses, veiled sheaths and almond-shape frocks.

Bloomfield Garden Club Entertains for Husbands

The program consisted of a lecture, "America the Beautiful," by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hadley, nationally recognized wildlife photographers. The couple showed film strips, with natural sound, of America from the Great Lakes to the Pacific Ocean and the Gulf of Mexico. Mrs. L. R. Twyman was the program chairman.

Dinner arrangements were the responsibility of Mrs. Charles Chubbuck and her hospitality committee. Carving the ham and turkeys were Edgar B. Flint, J. Hawley Otis, Leroy G. Vandeveer, William J. Scripps and Howard H. Robinson.

Areme Chapter of OES Plans Yuletide Party

Plans were made for a Christmas party which will follow a special Dec. 16 meeting. Life membership is to be given Mrs. Winifred Saxton Daniel.

Christmas gifts will be presented to all life members and to the adopted member at the Alma Masonic Home, and to the three children at the Eastern Star Villa, Adrian, who are being sponsored by Areme Chapter.

Following the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Earl Foster and her committee consisting of Mrs. Royal Clark, Mrs. Charles Wheeler and Thelma Foster.

County Patients Feted at Party

Group singing of Christmas carols was led by Margaret Snyder, accompanied by Olive Lord. Frieda Huggett showed slides of her trip to the Holy Land, following which refreshments were served.

Committee in charge of the party included Mrs. Stanley Olczak, Mrs. P. J. Kinsella, Mrs. Albert Kohn, and Olive Lord.

10 Musicians Join Orchestra

Six members of the Pontiac High School Band, and four members of the faculty of the instrumental music department at the high school will play with the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra tonight.

The all-orchestral concert will begin at 8:30 at Lincoln Junior High School.

Community Yule Concert to Be Presented Dec. 15

Music by the Pontiac High School Vocal Department, Pontiac Women's Chorus and MacDowell Male Chorus will be featured on the program of the annual Community Christmas Concert to be presented the afternoon of Dec. 15 in Pontiac High School boys' gymnasium.

This Christmas concert will highlight all types of Nativity music including folk songs, children's songs and a wide variety of music appropriate for all churches. Ed Banghart and Mrs. Doreen Voitman will direct the PHS glee clubs and ensembles.

The Women's Chorus, which will be directed by George Scott, is preparing the following numbers: "Poor Mary" by Katherine Davis; "All Were There" by George Lynn; "Jesus, Jesus, Rest Your Head" arranged by Watson, and "The Dark Stole Up on Bethlehem" by Ellen Jane Lorenz. The group will be accompanied by Mrs. Dorothy McKibben.

The MacDowell Male Chorus will sing "Three Songs for Christmas" by Grundman; "Carol of the Russian Children" by Gaul; "Cradle Song of the Shepherds," Glatz folk song arranged by Davison, and "Legend of the Bells" by Roy Rhodes. George Putnam directs this group and Jerry Smith is its accompanist.

Always Willing to Try Something New

Marlene Welcomes Makeup Ideas

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Today I am bringing you some makeup tricks which Marlene Dietrich uses. When I asked Max Factor, Hollywood expert, to give me some of these he said, "This wonderful woman is alert every moment for new ideas that will help her improve herself in every way.

"She grasps suggestions gratefully where many women in her position would feel that they know it all. For instance, not long ago she came into the salon for some makeup, and knowing that there are always new ideas buzzing, she asked if there were anything she could do to improve her everyday appearance."

Because eye lining has become so popular, Max Factor advised her to carry the line which is marked along the upper eyelash roots down along the rim as it leaves the lashes to go down into the corners of the eyes.

When the line is continued on top of the lid to the inside corners, it is entirely too visible and artificial looking, for the lashes are missing or so sparse in this location that only the line shows.

Even though Miss Dietrich has been given an honorary membership in the Makup Artists' Association because she is so clever with makeup, she accepted this suggestion enthusiastically.

All of us are conscious of the way we look front view and most of us consider the back view. Max Factor said that few women realize a face should be made up from the profile view as well.

Mr. Factor called another thing to my attention. All of us are conscius of the way we look front view and most of us consider the back view. Mr. Factor said that few women realize that a face should be made up from the profile view as well.

If you study Marlene's profile you will see that she has taken this tip to heart. Her eyebrows end at the correct place so that they will be seen to taper gracefully from the side.

Eyes are lined and mascara applied so that those who are looking at her profile will be intrigued. Lips are arched enough to enhance the profile as well as the front view. Of course we should also look at our coiffure from the side.

Miss Dietrich feels that the eyes are the focal point in every face and is never seen without eye makeup. However, this is applied so artfully that the effect is natural but enchanting. All women can profit by learning more about the art of makup.

Husband Should Realize Wife Is Still Girl at Heart

She Loves Compliments, Tenderness as Much as She Did Years Ago

By RUTH MILLETT

Memo to men:

Don't forget that your wife, however long you have been married, is at heart pretty much the same girl you proposed to.

She may have traded a size 10 for a size 14, and her hair may show no gray only by the grace of the modern beauty shop. But she still loves compliments as much as ever. And if she still sees admiration in your eyes, what the mirror tells her won't e too disheartening.

She may be as practical as all get out when it comes to managing the family budget, but she likes to know that you, at least, still wish you could lavish a few of the luxuries on her.

Even the most sensible woman gets a lift from the knowledge that her husband would make her life easier for her if he could.

She may seem completely absorbed in PTA meetings and Cub Scouting, and finding just the right material for the living room draperies. But try telephoning her from the office and inviting her to dinner, with the enthusiasm you used to show when you asked her for a date, and see how gay and excited her voice suddenly sounds.

She may not complain, but next time you notice that she looks tired, shoo her off to the living room while you clean up the kitchen, and see if you don't get as grateful a response as though you had bought her an expensinve present.

She may be the most devoted and conscientious of mothers, but insist occasionally on the two of you getting away by yourselves. You'll see what a gay, carefree companion she can become.

Never forget that underneath the matron, the mother, the wife, there is still the girl you married. If you can just remember that, you'll have a happy wife, and that will make it much easier for you to be a happy husband.

Carrots May Cure Poor Night Vision

The carrot is considered an excellent foodstuff — and perhaps it has seen service above and beyond the call of vegetable duty. In World War II, a rumor started circulating that our night flyers were improving their vision by eating lots of carrots—and drinking huge amounts of carrot juice. Carrots, like many other foods, will only help cure night blindness in people who already have poor diets.

Be a weight-watcher when placing clothes in your automatic clothes dryer. Remember that a good-size washer load is generally also a good dryer load. Clothes dry best when care is taken never to overcrowd the dryer.

New Variety in Cotton Materials

Once again the sheath appears, often bloused and sporting the added attraction of a bus-boy bolero, a hip-length jacket a cape stole or a coat to complete a harmonious ensemble.

Teammates in cotton knit are effortless to wear and care for, and they are practical for the coed and career girl who like to mix, match and interchange.

Included in this casual group are sleek pants worn with bulky knitted jackets; skirts and vests that come in textured jacquard patterns; printed separates packaged prettily in cardigan tops, middy shirts, shorts, slacks and skirts.

Corduroy had its face lifted this season to reveal a new personality that promises fun and activity. It reflects the 30's, in two - piece middy and skirt separates.

It has grace and warmth as the shirtwaister and it even takes a new turn in a perky school outfit that has a reversible cotton plaid lining.

Velveteen is luxuriously ensembled for day, date and at home day - dreaming.

It is sparkling as a sheath which molds the figure ensembled with an evening coat. It is printed lavishly for sheath and bolero and for skirt and demi-middy.

For leisure togs that romp and relax velveteen is used for tapered trousers colorfully topped with a rug printed bolero or shirt. A contrasting wide cummerbund accents a small waistline.

Give Compliments

If you notice that an acquaintance looks especially pretty or is wearing a becoming dress, don't hesitate to say so. Such compliments add immeasurably to the pleasure of others.

Store Executive Discovers Three Parts of Retirement

By BEULAH STOWE

There are three parts to retirement, says Mr. H. L. Harris, a department store executive who retired three years ago.

There is anticipation — when you can't wait to walk out of the office for the last time and leave your problems to some younger man. There is realization — when you have been retired for about two weeks and you begin to wonder what to do next. There is readjustment — when you have been retired for a year or more and have found happiness.

FOUND BOREDOM

"During the first year I was retired I discovered boredom." Mr. Harris admits. "For the first time in my life there were too many hours a day. Relaxing doesn't come easy to a man who never had time for it before, and I had to learn how."

Mr. Harris gives a speech for a men's club now and then and he likes to paint watercolors. These are the only two things he does in retirement that he planned ahead.

"The worst part of retirement," says Mr. Harris, "is that you lose all your playmates. My friends were mostly business friends, and they had no time for me when I became a man without a job and a title.

"And the best part of retirement is getting rid of the worries and pressures of a job. Personnel problems, competition and pleasing the boss made my job a tough one. Freedom is a wonderful experience."

MORE PLANNING

The third phase of retirement, achieving happiness, would be easier with more pre-retirement planing, Mr. Harris believes.

Any man past 50 should devote vacations and leisure time to planning what he will do when he receives full-time freedom for a 65th birthday gift.

He should make friends who will still be friends when the business tie is broken. And he should develop himself and his talents so that when he retires he will still be a complete individual, not an over-age cog discarded from the machinery of business.

Q—"My husband died two months ago, and I am alone in a house which is too big and lonely for me. My two daughters, both married, have both asked me to come and live with them. Would you advise me to sell the house and live with my children?" — Mrs. L.C.B.

A—No. Two months is too soon to decide, and living with one's children is often not satisfactory for either generation. If there are grandchildren they may annoy you, no matter how much you love them.

Close your house and visit your daughters. Be glad your children want you, but keep your independence if you can.

Keep Clothes Clean

When you give school wardrobes the cleanliness care they need, you're giving your child the kind of confidence which is instilled by an attractive personal appearance. Suds-and water freshness from the skin out will help to send him off to school in an assured, confident frame of mind.

Santa Claus Becomes Space-Minded

You Can Give Kids the Moon This Yule

By JOAN HANAUER

NEW YORK (INS) — Santa Claus will arrive this year with a bag full of space satellites, intercontinental ballistic missiles and streamlined space ships.

Toy manufacturers are rushing into production every science - fiction - turned - fact toy they can dream up to launch youngsters' imaginations into space.

On display at the Toy Guidance Council, an organization which checks on the safety of American - made playthings, were items like a magnetic satellite.

In this toy there are actually two satellites—a wheel-shaped space station and a miniature Sputnik with dog—which are magnetized to a pair of steel bands. The bands are built in an orbit around a half globe.

The hollowed-out globe contains a handle and the youngster can grasp this and with proper wrist action get the satellites to orbit at increasing speeds around the globe.

Other "out of this world" toys include an ICBM and launcher, assemble-them-yourself moon ships and outer space ships. Even the model railroaders can get into the new transportation act by purchasing a flat car that contains a launchable missile.

SPIRIT REMAINS

In spite of weapons and space apparatus, the spirit of Christmas is not lost. You can buy a do-it-yourself stained glass window set for the budding artist in the family. The set contains six transparent plastic windows and paints for six possible scenes.

Storybook lovers can be given a new type of book that works on a dial-a-story basis. There are 20 pages but 600 possible stories. You dial a number, turn to the corresponding page to start the tale, then dial a second number to get the next installment, and so on.

Today's dolls are probably better dressed than their owner's mother. Not only do they spot a succession of dresses, blue jeans, high heels, bathing suits and sunglasses, but they also wear filmy black net negligees and dainty lingerie.

'PITIFUL PEARL'

"Eloise," Kay Thompson's charming, little imp of novel stuffed toy, along with "Pitiful Pearl." "Pitiful" is just that when bought, with long, straggly hair, a raggedy kerchief and patched dress. A book of instructions tells how to "prettify" the doll.

In case your daughter's doll doesn't have the right wardrobe, you can buy a box of eight doll hats for every occasion. To insure a well-dressed doll, you can become a member of the "Doll Dress of the Month Club." You get a "Ginger" doll plus five outfits, each month.

The future builders of America construct a whole main street out of soft plastic "bricks," with store fronts included for authenticity.

And never underestimate the power of a woman of any age. A major model railroad company has decided that little girls should have model train sets of their own, and has come out with a pastel set to appeal to the very little woman of the household.

The set includes robin's egg blue and buttercup yellow boxcars, a lilac hopper car, a pink gondola car, a ruby illuminated caboose. The locomotive and tender are painted "pink frosting" and a white and gold transformer completes the set.

Pretty Eyes Are Clear and Rested

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Having beautiful eyes is not all a matter of eye makeup. It's also possessing rested, clear, sparkling eyes.

This means reading in a good light. It means glancing up from the printed page now and then to rest your eyes. It means rolling your eyes first to the left and then to the right without turning your head.

This is to exercise them. Another form of exercise you can do anytime, anywhere, is to close your eyes tight, then open them wide.

Be careful about your TV habits. Don't watch the screen for hours and don't watch it at all in a room that's too light or too dark.

The result will be eyestrain and eyestrain, in turn, can produce eyes that are not in the least pretty.

If you need glasses, don't go without them. Squint lines and a look of strain will be your only rewards if you do.

AGE OF TENSION

It's quite possible to feel fatigued even though you get enough sleep at night. That's because we live in an age of tension and high pressure.

To counteract this feeling of weariness, streamline your day to allow time for rest. A nap of 15 minutes, twice a day, will do you much good whether you think you feel tired at the moment or not.

The important thing is to stretch out and relax. Shut your eyes and prop your feet up.

You may not actually sleep but you will feel refreshed. Never go through a day so active that it allows no time for a break.

When you find yourself telling a member of the family: "I didn't have a chance to sit down all day," it's time to put the nap plan into practice.

COMPLEXION HELP

Few of us are endowed by nature with a complexion of roses and lilies. We need a little help to achieve the desired look.

Most of us are better looking for a touch of rouge. Teenagers, true, can get by without it. But after that, rouge is necessary to lend a pretty pinkness to the cheeks.

It should be applied with a light hand, blended carefully with cleansing tissue and powdered over with a swansdown puff if it's to look perfectly natural.

Women who adhere to the pattern set by some high fashion models for just lipstick and powder should be absolutely certain first that their skins are perfectly flawless.

Double as Jackets

Lightweight woven Orlon toppers can double as suit jackets this autumn — then worn under topcoats when the weather grows chilly. They are very easy to care for, as they can be washed by machine — using short cycles for both suds and rinses. Allow the topper to drip-dry on a hanger — no pressing needed.

Men Can Often Help Women to Improve Their Appearance

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeature Beauty Editor

Most women dress, make up, use perfume, and cultivate a winning way to attract and please men. But sometimes they object when a man offers suggestions as to how they can improve themselves. Once in a while a man may come up with some very useful pointers for women, however, if they'd but listen, as a letter to this column from a retired Army colonel indicates. His advice seems to be worth passing on to readers for their amusement or amazement. . .

"A woman should buy the clothes she wants and do her own color matching, but should have an impartial man (not a husband, because he will not look, and not a wolf because he'd like her in anything) look her over. Women stress sex but they are not subtle enough, like a couple of women I noticed just this morning. One was perfect down to the hemline. It was four inches too long to really set off her legs. The other was perfect up to the hemline.

"If the first woman had her hemline up to the level of the other, even her husband would whistle. The second needed to start all over, although she was pretty enough. As it was, I yawned.

"What women need to shoot for is to set their figures off so that their father or brother would be proud of them, and so that another man realizes he is not their father or brother and looks again and again.

"Women should practice patting children, too, until they develop an automatic smile. A lot of women have pretty figures and nice clothes, but we meet them in the store and they have that little hard look of being preoccupied in their faces.

"My wife is lovely, but when she is occupied with household chores and has that faraway look, I never pay any attention to her.

"The other day I saw a beautiful blonde in a clothing store in Daytona, Fla. She was dressed perfectly with a figure that was out of this world, but she never changed her expression for a half-hour. Her face seemed to be frozen. I would have given her some advice as a big brother only my wife was just a few counters down the aisle. If I was sure she wouldn't have slapped my face (the blonde) I'd have given her a few bad minutes so she could improve her personality in the future.

"French girls have developed a look that seems to say they are going to fall right in your arms. But they do not really do that or anything more forward than American girls, except they manage to avoid that hard look. A man can buy a statue anywhere. He doesn't want to marry one.

"Why doesn't a woman take off into a grocery chain store some day just as if she were breezing into a cocktail party to test my theory. She would smile at all the males she knows in the store, and she'll be amazed how they respond. Then she can keep up that same attitude all day, until her husband comes home from work. She'll be surprised at the pleasant reaction.

"In short, it isn't that you girls aren't pretty and do not have good figures. You just murder what you have."

There's more than one way to skin a cat, as proved by this symbol of the twenties, brought back with a modern twist — a raccoon coat made of synthetic materials.

Avoid Creasing

Taffeta is a fabric which lives longer if you're careful not to crease it when laundered. To prevent crease marks, avoid squeezing or wringing while sudsing and rinsing. Pat off excess moisture with a towel, and press at once to restore crispness.

Never Say You'll Diet Next Week

Start Immediately if You Must Shed Some Pounds

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

The women who say, "I'm going on a diet next week," are the ones who somehow never get around to dieting.

The reason for this is simple: Things you put off cease to have importance.

Therefore, if you know you need to lose weight (your mirror and your scale tell you so), don't make any resolutions about starting to diet next week or next month. Start with the next meal.

Nobody says it will be easy at the outset. Breaking a bad habit never is easy and that's exactly what overeating is.

It's overeating, not glandular trouble, that's responsible for the fact that some women tote about with them extra pondage of from 5 pounds way on up.

REDUCING SENSIBLE

Since this is about as comfortable as carrying a bag of groceries of the same weight, taking off the excess makes sense. And delaying the day doesn't.

Besides, they like to develop skill in handling their own hair and this, too, is a good idea. But there is one spot where salon help comes in handy. And that's for expert haircutting.

No girl can cut her hair as well, even with the help of a friend, as an expert can. And, if she has hair problems, she'd do well to cut down on her clothes budget a bit and spend money on treatments at a salon.

CATCH IT EARLY

Best time to catch any hair problem — dandruff, dry scalp, oily hair, thin hair or bushy hair —is at the very beginning.

Girls who wear glasses tend to shy away from eye makeup. Actually, there's no reason why they shouldn't wear it in the evening hours, same as anyone else.

But, there are a few tricks to remember in using it. The color of your frames is a factor to be considered along with the color of your eyes.

Don't let the two clash. They should harmonize. And the makeup should not be so heavy as to be startling.

Make sure that it doesn't interfere with the sweep of the frame in any way. Color of eye-shadow and mascara, the line of the brow, all should fit in perfectly with your glasses.

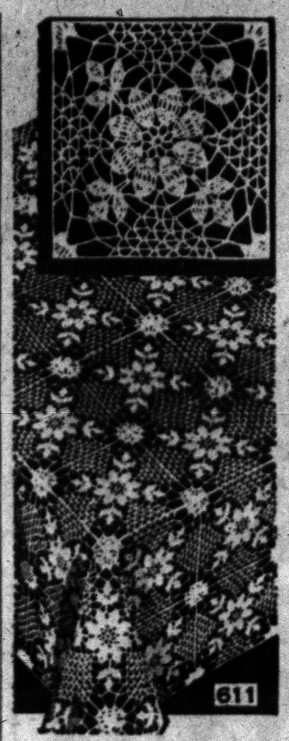

If it's done properly, the result should be pretty, slightly shadowy and very mysterious.

Check Your Teeth for Lipstick Smears

Lipstick-smeared teeth have a way of distracting anyone talking to you. For this reason it is wise to check your teeth after each application.

Also there is less opportunity of lipstick shifting to your teeth if it has been properly blotted and not applied excessively.

Will Locks on Drawers Irk Guests?

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Could any offense be taken by a guest if I locked some of the drawers and the filing cabinet in our sitting room, which also converts into our only spare room? We dont want to run the risk of having even our friends know our personal affairs and these are all kept in this room."

Answer: Certainly no offense should be taken as long as you set apart several convenient drawers for your guest's exclusive use and show her where these are.

Even if she tries to open a locked drawer by mistake, it is unlikely that she would consider this a personal affront, because it is not at all unusual to keep certain drawers and files locked at all times.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I have a great many 'afternoon' friends with whom I play bridge and whom I see at the women's club but whose husbands I have never met.

"Very soon I am going to be sending out baby announcements and I don't know whether I should address them to Mr. and Mrs., or to Mrs. alone. Will you please tell me the polite and proper thing to do?"

Answer: According to your description, the answer is definitely "Mrs." alone.

"Dear Mrs. Post: What is the proper thing to say, if anything, when seeing a person for the first time after that person has lost a loved one?

"One of the girls in my office who has just recently lost her mother will be coming back to work soon and I would like to know what to say to her. She is a very emotional person and I'm afraid any mention of it might cause her to weep. Will you help me?"

Answer: The only thing you can do is to give her a warm handclasp. The less you say the better.

Dry Air in Well-Heated Home Makes Us Receptive to Colds

By DR. DOROTHY WHIPPLE

Why do our children have so many more colds in winter than in summer?

One reason is the very dry air in most of our well-heated homes. We keep our houses warm, all right. There is scarcely an American home without central heating, but until comparatively recently little attention has been given to the humidity of our warm winter houses.

QUITE IRRITATING

Warm dry air is quite irritating to the mucous membranes of the nose and throat. The dry air parches these sensitive areas and as a result much of the protective secretions which normally ward off germs are unable to function.

As a result, a few germs reaching such dried-out tissues get a chance to grow and produce illness. If the nose and throat were in better condition these few germs might easily be killed off by the body's natural defenses.

To understand what happens to our houses in winter we must understand this question of humidity. The amount of water that air can absorb depends upon the temperature of the air.

The warmer the air the more water it can "hold." When air has absorbed all the water it possibly can at any given temperature we say the humidity is 100 per cent.

Suppose we bring cold winter air into our houses. The temperature of the outside air is, let us say, at freezing temperature and it is full of water—100 per cent humidity.

We warm up that air to 70 degrees in the house without adding any water to it. Warm air at 70 degrees could hold a great deal more water than it could at freezing temperature, but since there is no water for it to absorb it is no longer full of water but at about 20 per cent humidity.

Air at 20 per cent humidity is dry air and it absorbs every bit of water it comes in contact with. One place the air finds water is in our noses and throats.

So each time we breathe in this dry air, the air hangs onto a little of our water. Before long our noses and throats are parched and are good places for those cold germs to grow.

ABOUT 70 PCT.

A healthy humidity for human beings is about 70 per cent. To maintain healthful conditions within our homes we should add water to the cold outside air when we bring it into our homes.

Many modern heating systems have a device for doing just this. However most older heating systems ignore the need for adding water when air is heated and even quite a few new ones do not do the job adequately.

If there is any question about the adequacy of the humidifying system in your house, a worthwhile investment for your family's health this winter would be an instrument for measuring the humidity.

If you find that your house is about as dry as the Sahara desert, you'd better take steps to remedy the situation. You do not need to buy a new heating system—but you can buy some humidifying device to put in various rooms—especially the baby's room.

HELPFUL MEASURES

Throwing a wet bath towel over the radiator helps, or running a vaporizer for a few hours. A few green plants which you water frequently also help.

If you keep the humidity in your house around 70 per cent you may well find that the whole family has few colds this winter.

Remember the colder it is outside the drier it will be indoors unless you do something about it.

Herbert Sondheim

Design by Sondheim Fills Need for Versatile Dress

"I want a dress I can wear anywhere, anytime"—a plaintive plea too oft unheeded except by someone like Herbert Sondheim, who feels this model of his fills that need.

Cut on long straight lines minus a waistline so it can be worn with or without a belt, it has deep side tucks in front to give a pegged effect to the skirt. The bodice with its wide open, banded neckline has a top-stitched plastron detail with a single button and buttonhole marking the end of the rib cage.

The sleeve treatment is noteworthy too, cut straight and easy and coming from a slightly dropped shoulder line.

Perfect right now in sheer wool with satin binding, it also works up wonderfully in faille, shantung, surah, novelty rayon, and in linen, pique or cotton for resort and summer.

Sizes	Bust	Waist	Hips Inches	Length From Nape of Neck to Waist
8	33	23	34	16½
10	34	24	35	16½
12	35	25	36	16¾
14	36½	26½	37½	17
16	38	28	39	17½
18	40	30	41	17½

Size 12 requires 2¼ yards of 54-inch material for dress. To order Pattern 1328, state size, send $1.

For new jumbo 96-page Pattern Booklet 14, send 50 cents—for HERBERT SONDHEIM label, send 25 cents. For airmail service in U. S., add 25 cents per pattern, 50 cents per booklet. Sales tax extra.

Cog feathers in this bonnet shape are not for the mature face which needs up-lines to lift facial contours and show the hair for flattery.

A feather hat, cupped becomingly around the face, sets off the new wide decollete but if the lines are predominantly downward, it's not for the mature face. Side-swept hats (one side up, one down) in felt or draped satin, are easy to wear.

Bar-Type Cookies Are Fat Free

Mrs. Minks Rolls Strips in Sugar or Frosts Lightly

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Sometimes readers are surprised when we ask them for a recipe and wonder how we knew about them. Your friends and neighbors are your best boosters. They are anxious to tell us when they have tasted some delicious food. Please keep it up.

Mrs. Edwin Minks of Birmingham took some yummy bar cookies to a pot luck luncheon recently. We asked her for the recipe.

Mrs. Minks who is an employed woman belongs to the Eastern Star and to a Past Matrons group. She also does some church work.

MARGUERITES
By Mrs. Edwin Minks

2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup brown sugar
½ cup sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup pecans, chopped
¼ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon vanilla

Combine ingredients in order given. Mix well. Pour into greased 8x8x2 pan. Bake 12-15 minutes in a 350-degree oven, or until a delicate brown.

Frost at once with a simple powdered sugar icing. Let cool before cutting into bars. If desired, omit frosting and roll bars in powdered sugar.

Easy-Care Slippers

Terrycloth slippers are wonderful for padding around the house, and easy to keep clean, too. Just toss them into your washer and automatic clothes dryer when they become soiled, and allow to dry completely. They'll emerge from the dryer soft, absorbent and fluffier than new!

Line Your Closets

To give closets a finished look, line them with sudsable wallpaper, and trim shelf edges with washable gold paint. Hat boxes and other accessories can be harmonized by covering with the same wallpaper.

Dairy Banquet at Commerce

Press Trophy to Be Awarded

Ford Motor Consultant Tillman Bubenzer Will Be Featured Speaker

Oakland County dairymen will gather tomorrow evening at the Commerce Masonic Hall, Commerce, for their annual Dairy Banquet. The dinner-meeting will feature an awards program and an address by a national authority in farm management.

The awards to be presented include the trophy given each year by The Pontiac Press to the outstanding dairy herd in Oakland

TILLMAN BUBENZER

County. Joel Rippa, county editor, will make the presentation on behalf of The Press.

Other awards will be made by Steward Hutchins of Rochester, president of the Oakland County Holstein Breeders Assn., to Holstein winners—for animals which won top honors at the annual Holstein Show at the Pontiac Fair Grounds this year.

The main speaker of the evening will be Tillman Bubenzer, agricultural consultant to the Tractor and Implement Division, Ford Motor Co. He'll fly in directly from the National 4-H Congress in Chicago where he is speaking this week.

AUTHORITY ON FARMS

Bubenzer is a recognized authority on farm management. Since 1942, he has been manager of the Conner Prairie Farms, Noblesville, Ind., one of the nation's leading livestock farms.

Born in Germany, he was graduated from the Agricultural College Hohenheim near Stuttgart. He was manager of a 600-acre farm near Braunschweig when he decided that the United States offered greater opportunities for trained agriculturists.

Coming to the United States in 1928 without money, job or friends, he served in a variety of capacities ranging from gardener to the manager of a stable of show horses.

In 1942, he became manager of the 1,255-acre Conner Prairie Farms and started the program of producing seed stock in livestock based solely on performance records. This is the basis of the three breeds of inbred swine — which has been adopted widely by commercial farmers throughout the Midwest.

At the present time, the farms also have a total of 400 head of beef cattle and dairy herd of 225 head. Thirty persons are employed on the Farms.

In 1955, Bubenzer was president of the American Society of Farm Managers and Rural Appraisers as well as president of the Inbred Livestock Registry Association.

Sponsored each year by the Oakland County Dairy Herd Improvement Assn., the banquet is open to all county dairymen, says banquet chairman Sam Smith of Walled Lake. It begins at 7:30 p.m.

An election of dairy associations officers will conclude the meeting.

2 From State Win National 4-H Awards

LANSING (AP) — Two Michigan youths have won national 4-H Club awards, Russell Mawby, state 4-H Club leader, announced Monday.

Dale Cubitt, 18, of Sandusky has received the national 4-H achievement award, a $400 scholarship.

A member of the Sandusky club for nine years, his main project interests have been gardening, field crops, health and safety and gun safety.

Sandra Lang, 18, of Caledonia was winner of the national 4-H home improvement award, also a $400 scholarship. Her main interest has been decorating and remodeling.

'Long Row to Hoe' Before Action

Milford Council Studies Hiring of Paid Manager

MILFORD—The advantages and disadvantages of a village manager type government were discussed at the Milford Village Council meet last night.

Guest speaker Mrs. Lydia Stark, representing the Michigan Municipal League of Ann Arbor, explained the legal procedure for home rule type government. She also gave specific instances and experiences of villages that have paid managers.

Milford now operates under the general charter form of government which was established in about 1890. Due to the sharp increase in population, council members agree 100 per cent that a paid manager heading government operations would save the residents money. Milford's population is more than 3,000 at the present time.

Mrs. Stark explained that the first step would be for voters to okay a charter change along with the election of a commission.

This group would then draw up a new charter and electors again would vote for or against the issue.

A city type government was discussed and Township Supervisor Mayon Hoard told the group that if this plan was adopted, it would be wise to extend Milford's boundary line to include more land before legal action was taken.

According to Joseph Gerrard, village president, and council members there is still "a long row to hoe" before final plans are completed for the change to village manager type government. They plan to continue research on the issue.

County AFL Names 5 Men

To Go as 'Observers' to Annual Convention; Local CIO Sends None

The Pontiac Oakland County Federation of Labor will send five "observers" to the second annual convention of the AFL-CIO commencing Thursday in Atlantic City.

But the Oakland County CIO Council—which failed to see eye-to-eye with the local AFL toward a compulsory merger here—will send no representatives, Fred V. Haggard, council president said.

The five observers will go South with no vote or say in convention matters under rules of the parent organization that unmerged local bodies would not be seated as delegates.

Officials of the AFL-CIO sent out letters recently to unmerged locals, both state and county, inviting observers to the convention to be recognized as "guests of the convention without voice or vote."

Both local AFL and CIO officials had earlier decided to stay home from the convention because of the no-vote stipulation.

The five delegates elected at a Nov. 26 meeting by delegates to the POCFOL are Grady B. Pinner, federation president, Leaun Harrelson, president of the AFL Teamsters Local 614, Stanley Gill, Painters Local 1401, Don LaMarbe, Bricklayers Local 29, and Floyd Harmon, Local 614 business agent and office manager.

The two Oakland County unions failed to meet a Dec. 5 deadline set up by their parent body two years ago, where all state and county bodies would merge. Officials here blamed the stalemate on voting powers of the proposed new union.

Fire, Police Groups Conduct Fund Drive

ROMEO — Local volunteer firemen and policemen — 32 strong — will visit Romeo area homes from 7 to 9 p.m. tonight in a two-hour "March for Muscular Dystrophy."

March leader is fireman Edard Battani. He has secured the services of all other members of the Fire Department, plus five auxiliary policemen.

The local volunteers will be joining nearly 20,000 marchers in the metropolitan area in the drive to raise funds for research into muscular dystrophy and related disorders.

Yule Means Accidents

DETROIT (INS) — Christmas means heavy traffic on the highways and a heavy toll of accidents. W. H. Boutell, president of the Michigan Trucking Assn., said "most of these accidents can be avoided if we allow plenty of time for heavy traffic, bad weather, breakdowns, and time to stop for relaxation over a cup of coffee."

Benson Won't Quit

WASHINGTON (INS) — Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson emphasized today that he has no intention of resigning and said President Eisenhower asked him only last September to remain in the cabinet post.

City Commission to Hold Shortest Meeting Tonight

City Clerk Ada R. Evans will take her usual seat at 8 p.m. and call the roll of the seven-man commission. She's likely to get only one "here" from District 7 Commissioner Gilbert W. Long.

Long's fellow commissioners are attending the Dec. 1-4 convention at the American Municipal Assn. in San Francisco.

Hearing that no quorum will be present Mrs. Evans will declare one of the shortest meetings in city history adjourned.

Long and City Manager Walter K. Willman said they intend to attend the meeting which is required under the City Charter to be called each week.

"What meeting?" Willman declared when asked if he would attend the session. Later he said he would be in attendance "just in case any taxpayer has any questions he wants to ask — of me personally."

Funeral Held Today for Clarkston Youth

Service was held at 2 p.m. today at Christ Lutheran Church, Waterford Township, for a Clarkston High School senior who was shot fatally Saturday by an unknown hunter in Gladwin County while hunting with his father.

West Branch State Police said Daniel's father left the boy in a clearing near Alger while he went into the woods to try to flush out a deer. The father said he heard gunshots and an hour later found his son dead.

Burial was in the Lakeview Cemetery.

Goodfellows to Sell Papers in Ortonville

ORTONVILLE — The third annual Rotary Club Goodfellow newspaper sale will take place Saturday. Goodfellows will be on the streets at 8 a.m. and will sell papers until 6 p.m.

Chairman Arlo Davis announced that the proceeds will be used to help crippled children, for scholarships and to provide food and clothing for the needy in the Ortonville area.

Spoelman Appointed

LANSING (AP) — Appointment of John Spoelman of Central Lake, president of the Michigan Farmers' Union, as a Democratic member of the State Agriculture Commission was announced by Gov. Williams Monday. Spoelman replaces Ray T. Anderson of Mesick for a term ending Sept. 6, 1963. Senate confirmation is required. Williams said Anderson had asked not to be reappointed to the five-member commission, saying he had been ill and also giving other reasons.

Probers Find Violence

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Senate Rackets Committee said today it has uncovered about 150 acts of violence in Tennessee and four nearby states carried out by Teamster-controlled "goon squads."

Queen Repeals Baby Bounty

Will Discontinue Pay for Having Triplets, Quadruplets

LONDON (INS) — British royal recognition that money isn't what it used to be came with an announcement that Queen Elizabeth no longer will pay a bounty of three pounds sterling to parents of triplets and four pounds for quadruplets.

Buckingham Palace's announcement said that the bounty was introduced more than a century ago by Queen Victoria "to enable parents to meet sudden expenses thrown upon them," but has been abolished "in view of the changes" since then.

Three pounds, or $8.40 would vanish like a snowdrop in a furnace before the onslaught of sudden expenses in the wake of modern-day triplets.

In addition the three "quid" is chicken feed compared to the loot that the proud mother of triplets may collect from the British welfare state in the form of a maternity grant of ten pounds, or $28, for each child, free hospitalization, free doctors, and special cheap baby foods.

The announcement said that instead of money from the monarch's privy purse the future parents of triplets and quads will receive a personal congratulatory message from Elizabeth, provided they are British subjects and the babies are legitimate.

In the reigns of George VI and the present queen, bounties have been paid to parents of 19 sets of quadruplets and 1,451 sets of triplets.

Hearing Seeks to Speed Drain

Attorneys Conferring in Court Today on Suit Over 12-Town Project

Legal aides conferred in Oakland County Circuit Court today, hoping to speed trial of a suit holding up the $41 million Twelve Town Drain project for flood relief in southeastern Oakland County.

Attorneys for the county and Southfield Township were to appear before Circuit Judge H. Russell Holland at 1:30 p.m.

Corporation Counsel Harry J. Merritt, who represents the drain commission in the suit, said he hoped opening statements could be made at that time.

Harry N. Dell, attorney for Southfield, said the main contention of the suit is that the law under which the project is set up is unconstitutional.

A similar suit, filed by Troy, is not being heard at this time. "We hope that trial of the Southfield case may also provide a solution to the Troy case," Merritt said.

Judge Holland was expected to schedule first testimony in the dispute for 9:30 a.m. tomorrow.

The communities are among 13 in the giant project, which has been in the planning stage five years and was set up under special legislation that allowed the county to plan an inter-community drain and apportion the cost over the participating units of government.

Troy and Southfield filed suit against the project in October 1956, claiming that their apportioned shares of the cost were too large.

Armed Youth Holds Up Parking Lot Attendant

An armed youth, wearing blue jeans, a gray jacket and a yellow handkerchief over his face, last night held up the attendant of a parking lot south of the Riker Building and escaped with $40, Pontiac Police said.

The attendant, Charles Evans, 1481 Vinewood Ave., said the youth was about 17 or 18.

He appeared at the parking lot office about 9:50, brandishing a pistol, Evans said. After taking the money, the bandit fled on foot west on Larwence street, Evans added.

PTA Plans Program

NORTH BRANCH — The monthly program of the PTA meeting, to be held in the school gym at 8 p.m. Thursday, will feature choruses from the 7th and 8th grade groups, directed by Jack Pritchard.

'Melody Jones' to Be Staged by Avondale Seniors

AVONDALE — "Melody Jones," a three-act comedy, will be presented by the senior class of Avondale High School Thursday in the school auditorium.

The play's scene is set in the living room of the Jones family in midwestern United States.

Nancy Riggle leads the cast as Melody Jones, a 16-year-old daughter in love with spring and all the things that infatuate 16-year-olds. Melody's adoption is revealed to her by her jealous cousin, Elaine Walkins, portrayed by Joan Isaacs.

A romantic triangle is formed when Kenneth Carpenter, played by Gerry Poynter, and Cary Boyd, by Fred Spencer, each try to win the affection of Melody.

The three other members of the Jones family are Mother and Father Jones, and Leon Jones, Melody's brother. They are portrayed by Doris Peel, Frank Harris and Jack Poet, respectively.

Wrigley's Store to Open Dec. 10

Bloomfield Plaza Site's Supermarket Is 100th in Food Chain

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Wrigley's will open its 100th supermarket Dec. 10, at Telegraph and Maple Rds. in Bloomfield Township. The new supermarket, which will feature a unique interior design, will be the first store to open at the site of the Bloomfield Plaza Shopping Center.

The store will have seven checkout stands, and an adjoining parking lot to accommodate 175 cars. A parcel pickup station will be located at the front of the market.

Managing the new store will be John Postoian, assisted by William LeLacheur, meat manager, and Carl Borders, produce manager.

Postoian joined Wrigley's in 1951 as a student manager, after being employed by a national food chain for 15 years.

Before taking over the Bloomfield Township store, he managed the Wrigley supermarket at Fenkel and Birwood. He and his wife live in Detroit.

LeLacheur worked in the meat department of an independent grocery store before joining Wrigleys in 1954 as a meat cutter. He lives at 1510 Mohawk, Royal Oak, with his wife and two children.

Borders was employed by Packers Supermarkets for 12 years before that company merged with Wrigley's. He has been produce manager at the Wrigley supermarket at Telegraph and Huron, in Pontiac. Borders lives at 473 E. Beverly, Pontiac, with his wife and four children.

Waterford Teacher Hurt in Accident

Waterford Township High School speech teacher Robert Alexander, of 3994 Oak Knoll Rd., is in St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor, recovering from injuries received Saturday in an auto collision.

Alexander was on his way to Ann Arbor when his car collided with another on U.S. 12, near Parker Road, according to Washtenaw County Sheriff's deputies.

SOUTHFIELD — Bids for $339,000 worth of special assessment improvement bonds were opened last night at a special meeting held by the Township Board.

The bonds are for paving, water lines and sewer mains throughout the township. The lowest bidder was the First of Michigan Co., Detroit, with an interest rate of less than four per cent, said Supervisor Eugene Swen, this morning.

Handicapped Youth Group to Meet Here

Michael Kreider, executive director of the Michigan Association of Retarded Children, will be the guest speaker tomorrow night at an open meeting of the Association for Handicapped Children.

Kreider is expected to discuss the functions of the association and how the needs of such children are met through the association.

The meeting, held at the American Legion Cook-Nelson Post No. 20, 206 Auburn Ave., will begin at 8 p.m.

William Graham, social worker for the Catholic Center of Pontiac and Oakland County, 53 Franklin Blvd., will also address the group.

Climax of Chicago Livestock Exhibition

To Pick Grand Champion

CHICAGO (INS) — The grand champion steer of the 58th International Live Stock Exposition will be picked today at Chicago's International Amphitheater.

The climactic moment of the entire show will come when Judge A. D. (Dad) Weber slaps the rump of a steer — indicating the grand champion.

Purdue Sir, a 1,130-pound Shorthorn junior yearling, owned by Purdue University and shown by Dean E. Hodge, 30, head of the school's beef cattle division; Gladiator Successor 617, a 1,075-pound Shorthorn summer yearling, owned by Oklahoma State University and shown by the school's beef cattle herdsman, Albert Rutledge, 33; and Rody, a 950-pound Shorthorn senior calf, owned by Patricia Meade, 18, of Camden, Ind.

Judge Weber will reduce the field to three breed champions shortly before he selects the grand champion steer.

Pittsburgh writers and fans seemed to have taken a "let's wait and see" attitude in regard to ex-Lions' coach Buddy Parker.

No one in the Steel City has actually jumped on Parker's bandwagon although the veteran coach himself started the mouth to mouth slogan which goes, "a championship in three years."

Most Steeler fans want to believe this, but some are wondering how it will be accomplished since Parker traded off many of his top draft choices when he went on his house cleaning tantrum for 24 straight days before the season got started.

LIONS-PARKER FEUD

The feud between Parker and members of the Lions' organization keeps rising faster than a thermometer from December to July, and yesterday at the first round draft meetings in Philadelphia it almost resulted in more than just verbal blows.

Parker, who seems to find solace but always the wrong words following a defeat (such as the 7-6 loss Sunday), admitted that he and George Wilson have not been on friendly terms for a long time.

WILSON NOT RECOMMENDED

We might point back to that bombshell banquet when Parker said "I quit" in Detroit.

After his famous two words he later pointed to Buster Ramsey and said to reporters, "There's the guy who will do a good job for the Lions; I'm through, let them give the job to Buster."

Subsequently, it was Wilson who succeeded Parker, but even now among people close to the Steelers, there are thoughts that Ramsey will be with Pittsburgh next season.

Ramsey is hailed as one of the best defensive coaches in the pro league, and his record with the Lions for the past six years bears out some truth in the feeling.

One of the players on the Steeler team told us not too long ago that Parker would like to have Ramsey on his staff more than any other assistant in the league.

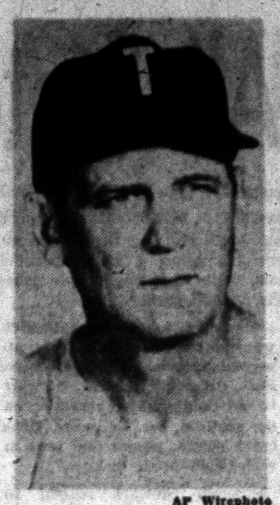

The player said, "Parker told us when he first came, that if we are to win it will be with a strong defense, and he commented that a coach like Ramsey could teach us a few things."

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

The word heard from around Hillsdale is that Muddy Waters would definitely make a move to bigger things in coaching after the Dales play the bowl game in St. Petersburg in three weeks.

NFL Owners Make Peace With Players

Approval Given for Exhibition Game Payments

Gridders Get Minimum Salary Plus Injury Protection Clause

PHILADELPHIA (INS) — The National Football League made peace with its players and moved to bring its constitution and by-laws within the anti-trust act at a day-long meeting here yesterday.

Owners went into executive session and in probably the most harmonious NFL meeting in history quickly approved recommendations by commissioner Bert Bell that they give the Players Assn. all it wanted.

Their action in approving $50 per game exhibition pay, a $5,000 minimum salary, an injury protection clause and recognition of the association as formal representative of the players confirmed an exclusive Associated Press report of a week ago.

Bell said his recommendations were made long before a threatened $4,200,000 treble damage suit by Creighton Miller, attorney for the Players Assn.

He said all his recommendations will be written into the league book making them an official contract. In connection with the much sought after "recognition," Bell said that although it wasn't necessary under the league constitution the owners approved his act of recognizing the association last fall during an appearance before a congressional committee.

The committee was investigating the possibility that some professional sports violated anti-trust laws.

As a result of his appearance before the committee Bell said language in the constitution and bylaws regarding ticket prices, limitation of fees allowed college all-stars for games against pro teams, and several other items was rephrased to comply with the law. Bell said that coaches, players and employes of the league could take any dispute with the league or his office to court.

He disclosed that congressional influence probably would result in a change in the method of selecting the bonus player. Instead of the customary out-of-hat draw, Bell will recommend at the January meeting that the last place team get the bonus choice. If the last place team in any year already has won the prize, the next lowest team in line would get it until all 12 clubs were successful. This would remove the lottery element objected to in the out-of-hat system.

2 Navy Players on All-East 11

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two Navy players who were important factors in giving the Midshipmen a 14-0 victory over Army last Saturday—a victory which earned Navy the Lambert Trophy and an invitation to the Cotton Bowl—head up the 1957 Associated Press All-East football team.

Bob Reifsnyder, the agile 235-pound tackle who was tabbed by Army Coach Earl Blaik as the man who made the difference between victory and defeat, and Tom Forrestal, an imaginative able quarterback, were selected for the first team.

Only Navy, voted the Eastern champion by the Lambert Trophy committee, and Army, the runner-up, placed two men on the first All-East team. The others came from Penn State, Pittsburgh, Boston College and Rutgers among the independent institutions and from Yale, Dartmouth and Princeton of the Ivy League.

Army's representatives were sophomore halfback Bob Anderson, who was stopped for the first time by the fine Navy defense after shattering the Cadet ground-gaining record set by Glenn Davis, and Capt. Jim Kernan at center.

Creighton Rebounds Beat Detroit Tech

OMAHA (AP) — Creighton University's Bluejays, alert under the baskets, defeated Detroit Tech, 71-53, last night by getting twice as many rebounds.

The Bluejays collected a total of 54 rebounds to only 24 for the visitors. Dick McMahon paced both teams with 11 rebounds to his credit.

Jim Berry led the Creighton scorers with 15 points, followed by McMahon with 13. Howard Cohen was the top point getter for Detroit Tech, with 12 points. George Mullen got 11.

Daugherty Still Thinks Spartans Tops in Nation

But he was gracious about it last night when he was informed that two teams finished ahead of the Spartans in the final national football poll.

Daugherty extended amiable congratulations to No. 1 Auburn No. 2 Ohio State. The Spartans were ranked third.

"Each one proved its right to great recognition," Daugherty said. "If we couldn't be higher there certainly are two great teams up there, I naturally leaned toward Ohio State."

But Daugherty acknowledged that he would vote for his own squad against any team in the country.

Packers Get MSU's Currie

Pace, Kowalczyk on Pro Lists

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

PHILADELPHIA (INS) — Three star gridders from Michigan colleges were among the draftees taken by National Football League clubs in the first draft selections for 1957.

They included Michigan State's great lineman, Dan Currie, rated the Spartans' all-time best, Currie's teammate halfback Walt Kowalczyk, and University of Michigan's flashy halfback, Jim Pace.

Currie went to the Green Bay Packers. Pace was drafted by the San Francisco 49ers, and Kowalczyk was taken as the sixth player for the Philadelphia Eagles. Currie was the third choice of the Packers and Pace was selected by the coast club just ahead of Detroit.

STILT SCORES — Big Wilt Chamberlain is back in the collegiate basketball picture. He scored 30 points last night to lead Kansas to a 63-56 victory over Oklahoma State at Stillwater, Okla. Oklahoma State players trying to stop "The Stilt" are Arlen Clark (10) and Joe Crutchfield (32).

Henri's Injury Hits Title Hope

MONTREAL (AP) — Henri Richard's bid to win his first individual scoring championship in the National Hockey League may have been dealt a damaging blow by an injury the Pocket Rocket received in an exhibition game last night.

Richard crashed into the boards and suffered a knee hemorrhage. The Montreal Canadians' star joins brother Maurice on the injured list of the NHL leaders. Maurice was sidelined Nov. 14 with a cut Achilles tendon.

The younger Richard was taken to a hospital in Ottawa after the Canucks played the Hull-Ottawa Junior Canadiens. It was not immediately determined how long he would be out of action.

Latest statistics released today showed Henri at the top of the scoring competition with 30 points, one more than teammate Jean Believeau. Dickie Moore, another Montreal forward, is third with 25 points.

Gordie Howe of Detroit picked up two points last week to move into a fourth place deadlock with Maurice Richard. Each has 23 points.

Auburn Title Winner

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Unbeaten, untied Auburn, a late comer among college football powers, ruled as the national champion today with a fat bulge over Ohio State and Michigan State in the final Associated Press poll of the season.

Auburn will be the first national champion to receive the Associated Press trophy, put into competition this season as a successor to the Father Hugh O'Donnell memorial trophy that was retired by Oklahoma last fall.

The Tigers, only once before ranked among the final top 10 since the poll was initiated in 1936, pulled in 210 first place votes and an overpowering total of 3,123 points in the balloting by 360 sportswriters and broadcasters.

Auburn drew the highest number of first place votes since Oklahoma garnered a record 218 in the final 1955 poll. The Sooners, who polled 104 first place votes in repeating last season, finished fourth this season.

Auburn, the Southeastern Conference champion but barred from bowl play by NCAA action, had appeared among the top 10 in only one other final poll, finishing eighth in '55.

This year, the Tigers (10-0) didn't make the top until the next to last weekly poll of the season, taking over from Ohio State—which in turn had replaced Michigan State.

Ohio State and Michigan State, both with 8-1 records, finished some 500 points behind Auburn in the balloting, which awards points on a basis of 10 for first, nine for second, eight for third, etc. The Buckeyes, the Big Ten champions and Rose Bowl representatives who were beaten only by Texas Christian in the season opener, collected 71 first place votes and 2,646 points.

Michigan State, which did not meet Ohio State in season play, had 30 first place votes and 2,550 points, Oklahoma (9-1) picked up 22 first place votes and 2,182 points.

The rest of the top 10 were Navy, Iowa, Mississippi, Rice, Texas A&M and Notre Dame.

Arizona State (10-0), the only other major unbeaten, untied team at season's close, finished 12th.

The top teams with points on 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis. First place votes and records in parentheses:

1.	Auburn 210 (10-0)	3,123
2.	Ohio State 71 (8-1)	2,646
3.	Mich. State 30 (8-1)	2,550
4.	Oklahoma 22 (9-1)	2,182

Pistons, Celts Meet in Twin Bill 'Cap

DETROIT (INS) — The Detroit Pistons and the Boston Celtics collide tonight in the nightcap of the season's fourth double-header at Olympia Stadium.

Detroit, with a 7-10 record, is third in the Western Division of the National Basketball Association while Boston tops the eastern Division with a 15-2 mark.

The St. Louis Hawks, Western Division leaders at 11-6, meet the Minneapolis Lakers (3-15) in the opening game.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (INS) — Mrs. Edward G. Burke's veteran Dedicate was named champion handicap horse of 1957 Monday by the Thoroughbred Racing Association.

Graham to Coach Stars

CHICAGO (AP)—Otto Graham, former Cleveland Brown star and one of the greatest football players in Northwestern University history, will direct the College All Stars against the professional champions Aug. 15 at Soldier Field.

Graham succeeds Curly Lambeau who has been at the All Star helm the past three seasons. Lambeau coached the stars to a 30-27 triumph over Cleveland in 1955, lost to the Browns, 26-0 in 1956 and saw his collegians drop a 22-12 decision to the New York Giants last August.

Lambeau will serve with Graham in an advisory capacity.

Graham will select his assistants at a later date. Next June's graduating football players selected for the All Star squad will report for training at Northwestern July 25.

Gonzaga Giant Gets 13 Points in Hoop Debut

SPOKANE (AP)—Jean Claude Lefebvre, the 7-foot 3¼-inch French basketball player, passed his first American test last night with high grades on offense, barely passing marks on defense and rebounds.

The 20-year-old freshman scored 13 points in a 71-37 Gonzaga University rout of the College of Idaho and showed great promise with a deft touch on a little hook shot near the basket.

But on defense and rebounds, Lefebvre was slow, seldom used his tremendous size to good advantage, appeared tired and loped down the floor as if his feet hurt.

Catholic Central Rough Opening Foe for Chiefs

A lot of questions need answering as potentially potent Pontiac High opens its 1957-58 basketball season against perennially powerful Detroit Catholic Central Friday night on the Shamrock court in Detroit.

Can Pontiac equal or better the 15-2 record of last season? Is this team as good as rival coaches figure it to be? Will the Chiefs succumb to ever-dangerous "senioritis?"

Catholic Central should provide enough competition to answer these and many other questions about Pontiac's cage fortunes.

The Shamrocks have always been tough for Pontiac even though the Chiefs have managed to come out on top after several hair-raising games.

Last year Pontiac won both games in the final seconds. In the opener on the PHS court, the Shamrocks surged to a six point lead late in the game before a pair of free throws in the last second clinched it 45-42.

In the rematch at Detroit, the Chiefs eked out a 63-62 decision in a nip and tuck encounter from the starting whistle.

Two years ago, Pontiac defeated Catholic Central twice and then the Shamrocks whipped the Chiefs in the quarter-finals of the state tourney.

Coach Bill Foley will have good height this year and as usual the strongest point for Catholic Central will again be its outside shooting headed by Paul Bibeau and Jerry Belian, a couple of 5-8 guards.

Junior Ed. Skryzcki, a 6-4 center, along with Bill Stienmetz, 6-4, and Bob Morris, 6-0, will make up the front line and pivot posts for Central. Capable replacements are Tony Moha, 6-5 along with Joe Olshove and Tom Handloser, a pair of 5-11 forwards from the grid team.

Bill Schwartz, 6-2 senior forward, also saw action against Pontiac last year and he may take over a regular job.

Van Ryzin has not set his starting lineup as yet, but with big Hudson Ray at center, it appears now that seniors Jim Skinner and Jerry Williams may start at forwards and Charley Barge and Dick Whitmer at guards.

Harrison Munson and Larry Douglas will see plenty of action in primary substitute roles.

Layne Draws Time Out, Rote Misses Penalty

Results: Layne — a time out; Rote — no penalty.

Layne appeared on a drunk driving charge. The case was postponed by Judge John D. Watts because Layne's attorney was busy with another case and unable to be present.

The blond quarterback was arrested on the charge Sept. 17 and has been free on bond. He has denied the accusation.

Rote was in court on a charge of ramming the rear of a car with his auto. The case was dismissed when the driver of the second car failed to appear before traffic referee Oscar Riopelle.

Debate Athletic Policies

Tug-of-War Continues in Pacific Coast Loop

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The first news conference of the Pacific Coast Conference winter meeting proved a flop as the tug-of-war over athletic policies continued today in secrecy.

Dr. Glenn Seaborg, faculty representative for athletics at the University of California and conference spokesman, told newsmen after a six-hour PCC session yesterday:

"We are still in the process of discussng the University of California's five-point program and haven't finished. So there is nothing definite to report at this time. We will report it all when final decisions are made."

This indicated more silence may prevail today as the PCC struggled such problems as scholarship, aid to athletes, rule enforcement, and football scheduling. A bid to regain eligibility for 11 junior football players at UCLA and 5 at USC was expected later.

Seaborg said there was no final decision on any of the points.

The program under discussion, which has as its key point freedom of football scheduling, was adopted by the Board of Regents of the University of California, acting for both the Berkeley and UCLA campuses.

Seaborg said these points were being taken up in order:

1. Eligibility shall be limited to students with not less than 2.0 (C) average in college, 2.3 in junior college and 2.5 in high school.

2. Tuition grants in aid on basis of need.

3. Wage rates no higher for athletes than non-athletes, no campus representative jobs, but subsistence grants-in-aid on basis of need not to exceed reduction in income due to loss of work opportunity during practice and playing seasons.

4. Each institution responsible for enforcement of its published policies.

5. Scheduling of games subject to free choice of each institution.

Armstrong Extends Win Streak to 13

NEW YORK (AP) — Undefeated Gene Armstrong, the winner, and classy Reybon Stubbs the loser, both were lined up today for January fights at St. Nicholas Arena as a reward for their rousing scrap last night.

Armstrong of Elizabeth, N.J., will be matched against a "name" middleweight on Jan. 20 while Stubbs, a fine prospect from Pittsburgh, will meet Sugar Hart of Philadelphia Jan. 7. That was the program outlined for the two by matchmaker Teddy Brenner.

In making his record 13-0, the Ace had to uncork a strong rally to edge the fast-punching, 23-year-old Stubbs, Reybon the Rapid made his television debut in this one and it was impressive despite the defeat—his third against 19 victories.

AP Announces Class A All-State Football Team

By DAVE DILES
State AP Sports Editor

Eleven talented high school football players, two of them from Midland's state championship team, today were named to the Associated Press 1957 All-State Class A team.

Every section of Michigan was covered in this, the 17th annual All-State squad selected by the state's coaches, sports writers and broadcasters.

Midland's all-conquering Chemics placed tackle Roger Weaver and halfback Leroy Milner on the first team. No other team was able to place more than one man on the squad.

All-State balots were sent to every high school coach in the state and to the more than 100 AP members scattered through Michigan. The return was record-shattering.

The 1957 team has everything—size and speed in the line and a variety of strength in the backfield. It is an all-senior team that averages 185 pounds from end to end and 175 pounds in the backfield.

Proving once again that the little man still has a big place in football, two of the state's tiniest stars received All-State acclaim. One of the guards is Gene McFadden of Flint Northern, a lithe senior sparkplug who weighs only 155. Ken Folkerstma of Grand Rapids Union drew a spot in the first-team backfield and he's just a 146-pounder.

Teamed up with him in the backfield are quarterback Don Stewart of Muskegon, Milner of Midland and Don Bigler of Grand Haven at fullback.

All in all, it's a backfield that averaged better than eight yards each time it carried the ball. Its overall passing mark approaches the 60 per cent completion figure. Milner and Folkerstma each eclipsed the 1,000-yard mark during the 1957 season. Both are game-breaking runners with tremendous speed.

Bigler, a three-year regular at Grand Haven, is the power runner of the group. The bulldozing type who goes over, not around his opponents, Bigler is a well-built youngster with great desire. He had his finest year this season after undergoing a knee operation last winter that might have ended his football career.

Stewart is a heady signal-caller who played on Muskegon's always-dangerous but thrice-beaten club. An honor student, Stewart is outstanding and versatile on the gridiron, too. He punts, kicks extra points, passes and runs in real triple-threat fashion.

Although Stewart rushed for more than 600 yards and completed 58 per cent of his passes, he had a red-hot battle on his hands for the first string quarterback job.

He barely nosed out Jerry Gross, the fine junior passer from Bay City Central who got the second team nod, and Mike Westley of Midland, who had to settle for honorable mention.

Folkerstma carried an 11.2 rushing average with the Union club and forms an explosive halfback duo with Milner. The Midland star averaged 9.4 yards in 111 carries, completed 7 of 13 passes for 186 yards and 4 touchdowns and scored 10 touchdowns himself. He also averaged 44 yards on his punts.

The first-team ends are Jim Schultz of Bay City Central and Tom Smith of the powerful Detroit Denby team. Schultz is a tremendous player on both offense and defense and is headed for Michigan to join his former teammates, John Halstead and Dick Syring, who received All-State honors last season.

Schultz, in addition to catching seven TD passes, intercepted a pair and is regarded as one of the finest defensive ends in the long history of the rugged Saginaw Valley Conference.

With Weaver at tackle is Jon Schopf of Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills. An aggressive 210-pounder who stands 6 feet 1, Schopf was praised as the best all-around lineman in west Michigan.

The guards are McFadden and Larry Brooks of Lansing Eastern. Brooks was the co-captain of the Eastern team that copped seven of eight decisions, the best record in 22 years af the school. Voted the team's most valuable player by his teammates, Brooks played guard or center—wherever he was needed most—and did all his team's punting.

McFadden is a rugged little guy who was the most dependable of Flint Northern's linemen, playing offensive guard and defensive linebacker.

The overwhelming choice for the first-team berth was Steve Stieler of Wyandotte, whose coach, Dick Hoffheins, called him "the greatest high school lineman I have ever seen." The balloting for the center berth wasn't even close as every coach who saw Stieler, a dynamic player both ways, named him on the All-State ballot.

Bryant Beckons to 'Bama's Call

Texas A&M Grid Coach Granted Release From Contract

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (INS) — Paul (Bear) Bryant, who coached the Texas Aggies from the Southwest Conference cellar to national prominence in four seasons, today requested and was granted a release from his contract with Texas A. & M.

Bryant's request stated he wanted to be free after January 1 to consider a return to his alma mater, Alabama, as head football coach.

The former all-southeastern end who played opposite famed Don Hutson as a collegian at Alabama, said "it was my sincere intention to complete my coaching career at Texas A. & M.," then added:

"The call I have had from my alma mater was unforeseen and it will be with humble pride that I consider answering that call."

A. & M. president M. T. Harrington who made the official announcement concerning Bryant's future said "I want you to know how very much we appreciate the wonderful job you (Bryant) have done as athletic director and head football coach at A. & M."

The announcement came as little surprise to either Alabama or Texas A. & M. grid followers. Speculation that Bryant would resign his Aggie post had mounted over the past two weeks.

Pontiac Bowler 14th in Detroit Tourney

Capt. Ruby Keeler compiled a 2857 total to finish 14th in an open handicap tournament for area bowlers in Detroit last weekend.

600 Attend Grid Bust

'M' Alumni Hear Oosterbaan

DETROIT — "Fate was against us. This has been a disappointing year, but under all the circumstances, everything considered, they have done as well as any championship team we've had, I'm proud of them."

The speaker was Bennie Oosterbaan, who just concluded his 10th season as head coach at Michigan. In the audience were 600 alumni attending the 37th annual Michigan Club of Detroit football bust.

It was a gloomy occasion at times as Oosterbaan reconstructed the 1957 season. Michigan finished sixth in the Big Ten race this year — the lowest in 21 years.

Oosterbaan said "Michigan always aspires to strive for championships.

"My backfield coach, Bump Elliott, told me there are very few schools in the country where a 5-3-1 season would make disappointments an issue. It was the most unfortunate year with injuries since I've been at Michigan.

"I've seen some of these boys cry after defeats. All I can ask is that they give their level best. That they have done."

The alumni gave Oosterbaan what might be considered a vote of confidence when they applauded loudly and arose when he was introduced.

"I enjoy your rising," Oosterbaan said, "particularly after this year."

He introduced his staff, Elliott, line coach Jack Blott, defensive line coach Bob Holloway, end coach Matt Patanelli, and assistant backfield coach Don Dufek.

"I'm introducing these men so that you may know what ever the results I'm not the only culprit," Oosterbaan quipped.

Vic Heyliger, for 13 years Michigan hockey coach until he stepped aside last spring to enter business, returned to act as toastmaster.

The unbeaten team of 1932 was honored along with its coach, Harry Kipke.

Among them were Ivy Williamson, now Wisconsin athletic director, Harry Newman, Whitey Wistert, first of three brothers to play for the Wolverines, congressman Gerald Ford and Willis Ward.

Michigan's 1958 captain John Hernnstein also was introduced along with the 40 letter winners from the 1957 squad.

Titan Coach to Return

Grid Staff Gets Support

DETROIT (AP)—Head coach Wally Fromhart and his entire staff of assistants will be back at the University of Detroit next season, says the president of the university.

The Very Rev. Celestin J. Steiner, S. J., expressing great satisfaction in the first products of the expanded recruiting program and confidence in the future, said "all our plans are made—and we're planning on having Wally and his entre staff back with us—there's never been any other thought about it."

Speaking at the Titans' annual football banquet, Rev. Steiner said the 1957 season, which saw the Detroit school win six of nine games, is "the first really tangible fruit of our patient, courageous and persistent efforts."

A couple of years ago the Titans began an elaborate recruiting program under the Gus Dorais Memorial Foundation.

"We have good reason to be confident," said the president, "that in the years immediately ahead our football teams will match in talent, skill, spirit and effectiveness those of other universities in this and neighboring states."

While he left the door open for a possible return to night football, it was opened only long enough for him to say that "we will welcome any evidence" that shows the school would reap richer football benefits from night football.

The light standards were removed from Titan stadium and Steiner himself favors daytime football. "There is implicit, in night playing, an admission of mediocrity and inferiority," he said.

The team loyalty award was presented to senior quarterback Bob Giardina. The Varsity News, campus newspaper, gave the most valuable back award to senior halfback Al Korpak.

Fromhart, whose team came back from a 2-7 record last year to a winning record that almost included a bowl invitation, called his 1957 club "the finest bunch of young men I have ever worked with."

Navy Star Honored

NEW YORK (INS)—Navy halfback Ned Oldham won college football's last Player of the Week award today for sinking Army in the rain and the mud Saturday at Philadelphia.

STILL IN PICTURE — "Peanuts" Montross, who quarterbacked Rochester to a fine year in football, is still in the athletic picture with the Falcons. He will lead Rochester in tonight's game at Milford. Coach Gene Konley goes over a few things with him.

Major League Teams Choose 11

Lowly Senators Get 1st Choice, Pick Infielder

Tigers Among 6 Clubs Electing Not to Draft at Winter Meetings

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (INS) — Bargain-hunting major league clubs paid a total of $135,000 yesterday when they drafted 11 minor league players at the annual winter baseball meetings.

The big league clubs officially launched the realignment-conscious convention by selecting five Pacific Coast League and six American Association players — while the Washington Senators named second baseman Bob Malkmus of the Wichita Braves as the No. 1 draft choice.

The draft was just a small part of the hectic big doings at Colorado Springs as the Pacific Coast League huddled to work out its realignment problems, and a protest against additional major league television into minor league territory was made and the American Association.

The majors chose two more players this year than they did in 1956, when they paid out a total of $100,000.

Pittsburgh led the draft parade with two selections: Righthander Roger Osenbaugh from Sacramento in the PCL and outfielder Bob Thorpe from Portland in the PCL.

The Senators, who batted first in the selection order, picked the 26-year-old Malkmus, who hit .291 last season. Malkmus was formerly the property of the world champion Milwaukee Braves.

The Baltimore Orioles came up with outfielder Bert Hamrich who batted .291 last season at Los Angeles and in Frank Lane's first move as new general manager of the Cleveland Indians the Tribe drafted Gary Geiger, 20, a right-handed pitcher-outfielder from Omaha in the American Association.

Johnny Gray, a righthander who worked for Cleveland and San Diego last year, was drafted by the Philadelphia Phillies. The lanky hurler had a 4-3 record at San Diego.

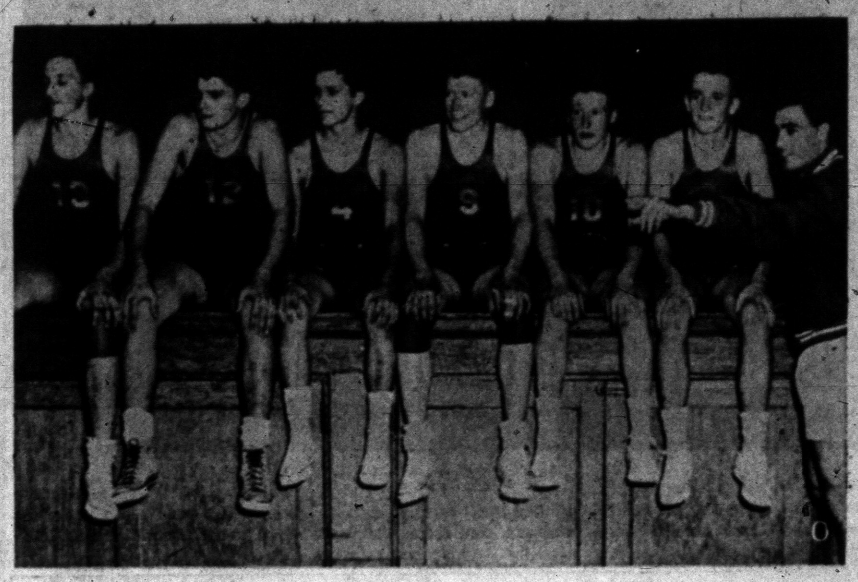

The Cincinnati Redlegs sought to bolster their pitching corps from the St. Paul roster. Cade pitched for St. Paul (1-1), and Macon (11-11) last season.

The St. Louis Cardinals also went for a pitcher, selecting lefty Tom Flanigan from Indianapolis.

The Cubs picked third baseman Antonio Taylor from Minneapolis. The 21-year-old Taylor batted .217 last season at Dallas.

BIG LINEUP — Clarkston has its eyes set on the Wayne-Oakland league title this year even though the experts say Northville will walk away with it. The Wolves get into action tonight in a non-league game at Ortonville. Coach Dom Mauti gives the team a few words of advice. The six mainstays of the team are Dick Lippert (13), Bill Noles (12), Leroy Parks (4), Jim Jenson (9), Jay Campbell (10) and Russ Sofferdine.

First Full Prep Hoop Slate Tonight

By CHUCK ABAIR

They ring up the curtain for the first full schedule of basketball action today as 15 games involving 24 area teams get the 1957-58 prep season under way.

A scattering of games were played last week and many more will get into the act Friday as basketball takes over the sports scene once again.

Today's busy slate actually began with an afternoon game which could be intesesting. That tilt had Cranbrook playing host to a big Southfield quintet in a game maiching two teams which lost their openers.

Features on tonight's card are Rochester at Milford, Clarkston at Ortonville, West Bloomfield at Clawson, Orchard Lake St. Mary at home against St. Stanislaus and Holly's game with Fenton. None of the group has played yet this season.

That game at Milford could become the top tussle of the night. Rochester lost four starters from last year but the return of "Peanuts" Montross and many capable reserves may make the Falcons strong again. Milford is a Wayne-Oakland title contender with such veterans as Pat Kelley, George Johnstone and Frank Redman.

Clarkston hopes to pick up where it left off as a local power with dependables LeRoy Parks, Dick Lippert and Bill Noles leading the way. Ortonville hopes to rebound from a 3-13 record under a new coach.

West Bloomfield is another school trying to bounce back after a disastrous year and the Lakers should do it on the scoring of John Lucadam and rugged Rolf Gordhammer. Clawson has six lettermen from a team that won six and lost 10.

Orchard Lake is a strong threat to unseat St. Benedict in the Suburban Catholic led by veterans Stan Moniuszko and Art Goisdzinski and hopes to use tonight's game as a warmup for the loop wars which start Friday.

Hopeful Holly skipper Herb Quade gets a look at his charges at Fenton. The Broncos have the scoring power to go a long way with the likes of George McDaniel, Amos Bradsher and Hal Haddon back.

A trio of Southern Thumb League battles are among the other area contests on the first big cage calendar. New Haven goes to Dryden, Armada will be at Capac and Almont hosts Brown City in the games.

Rounding out the slate will be South Lake at Romeo, Berkley at home against Dearborn Fordson, Farmington at Wayne, Vassar at Millington, Royal Oak Shrine at Detroit Benedictine and South Lyon at Fowlerville.

Boston Negro Wounded Escaping

Prep Grid Star Turns Thief for Sports Coat

BOSTON (INS) — A high school football hero's yen for a colored sports jacket he did not need has put him in City Hospital with a police bullet wound in his left arm.

With 17,000 fans cheering in Harvard Stadium on Thanksgiving day — only five days ago — Randolph "Randy" Mullins, 18, star halfback on the championship Boston English High School football team, was carried triumphantly on the shoulders of his cheering teammates. With three touchdowns, "Randy" had led English to a 26 to 20 victory over Boston Latin.

Today, as he lay on a hospital cot, he feared he had punctured his dream of going to South Carolina State College next year and then on to the ranks of professional football players.

Police quoted "Randy" as admitting he kicked in the door of a clothing store to get a $75 sport coat that caught his eye.

Patrolman Thomas Lennon fired six shots at the fleeing suspect, who escaped. "Randy" was taken into custody on a charge of breaking and entering after he went to the hospital with his loyal mother to seek treatment for an arm wound.

He's got eight sports jackets hanging in our closet this very minute," said he sobbing mother.

The Negro football hero was given a suspended sentence two years ago and placed on probation for his alleged part in a teenage neighborhood gang attack on a 42-year-old woman.

His father lives in Georgia with his sister.

His mother, Mrs. Georgian Whiggham, 39, a diabetic, has been working 12 hours a day as a practical nurse and laundry worker at Children's Hospital to support herself and only son.

She said the boy had hoped to go to college next year and later become a professional football player. He has watched the pro games on TV every Sunday. His mother said.

"He's a good boy," she said, "I hope this doesn't hurt his chances to go to college."

He was under police guard in the hospital today.

'Ace' Wins Another

NEW YORK (INS)—Uncefeated middleweight Gene (Ace) Armstrong (158) of Elizzbeth, N. J., scored his 13th straight victory Monday night when he outpointed Reybon Stubbs (156) of Pittsburgh in a nationally televised fight at St. Nicholas Arena.

Two Motor City Tourney Cage Teams Optimistic

DETROIT (AP) — Two teams on the way back and two teams that hope this is their year to ride high —that's the lineup for the Motor City basketball tournament in Detroit Dec. 27-28.

Detroit and Columbia hope that somewhere on the roster is the strength to make up for the deep cut taken by graduation. Detroit lost Bill Ebben, who holds nine Titan scoring records, and Columbia saw All-American Chet Forte take his diploma.

For Marquette and Georgia Tech, the other two teams in the four-team Christmas week tournament, the pre-season outlook is brighter. Marquette has a group of sophomores that coach Jack Nagle considers the finest in many years.

The Warriors expect some sophomore mistakes but they are hopeful of improving on their 10-15 record of 1956-57. Georgia Tech, counting on sophomore sensation Dave Denton to make his grades, is optimistic about matching or bettering last season's 18-8 mark.

Coach Bob Calihan told a pre-tournament gathering in Detroit yesterday that forward Ralph Uchison, center Don Haase and guard Mike Walsh improved enough in Ebben's shadow last season to make up the difference this year.

The Titans will have some rough going before they swing into the tournament. They meet Assumption tonight, then move against Michigan State, Canisius, Wichita, Louisville, St. Francis of Pennsylvania and Fordham.

Marquette's inexperienced but talented team will face an imposing list of opponents—Illinois, St. Norbert, Missouri, Kansas, Notre Dame, Louisville and Nebraska—before the Motor City tournament.

Georgia Tech's John (Whack) Hyder is openly optimistic about his team's chances—with one big "if." The question mark is Denton, a 6-foot-3 sophomore from Bowling Green, Ky.

In an unusually lavish display of praise, Hyder describes Denton as the finest basketball player ever to wear a Yellowjacket uniform.

Green's Scoring Paces MSU Win

Jumping John Hits 30 Points in 74-55 Defeat for Butler

EAST LANSING (AP)—The Michigan State 74-55 basketball victory over Butler University last night proved jumping John Green is not only a great defensive operator but also a great scorer.

MSU coach Forddy Anderson used to bore people by claiming that Green could jump higher from a standing start than even a kangaroo.

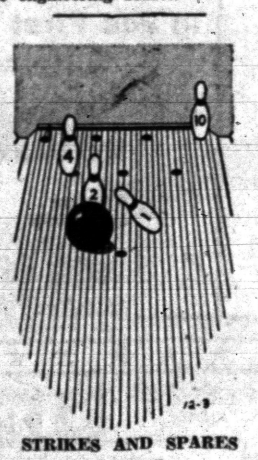

Green, a junior from Dayton, Ohio, made 20 points in the first half last night when the rest of his teammates were as cold as yesterday's mashed potatoes.

His total for the game was 30 points, far above his high for last year—23 points against Iowa.

STRIKES AND SPARES
By Joe Wilman

Here's a very tough spare—the 1-2-4-10. It's called the "washout" because it resembles a shell with all the inside pins knocked down, leaving pins down the left side and on the extreme right corner. It's not a split because the head pin is still standing, but it's as tough or tougher than many splits.

Shoot this one from the right, angling your ball into the 1-2 pocket and sending the 1-pin across and into the 10-pin as we illustrate. The 1-pin must be hit just right. If you hit it too fully, you'll send it straight back and it'll miss the 10. If you shave it too lightly on the left, you'll send it into the right gutter.

Don't forget that the 2-pin must be knocked back into the 4-pin also. If you put your ball into the 1-2 pocket, the 2 should take care of the 4 nicely. But the tough part comes in shading the 1-pin just enough to move it across and back into the 10.

8-Player Deal Eyed by Tigers

Seek Berberet; May Swap Porter, Finigan and Greengrass

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (INS) — Talks between the Detroit Tigers and Washington involving a possible eight-player deal were to be continued today at the winter baseball conference in Colorado Springs.

Tiger General Manager John McHale said last night tentative talks called for a trade that would involve mainly the switch of catcher Lou Berberet to Detroit for J. W. Porter, Jim Finigan and Jim Greengrass. The Tigers reported would also receive an infielder and a young pitcher while giving Washington two minor league players.

McHale sought Berberet, a left-handed hitter formerly in the New York Yankee chain, after he apparently decided he could not get Sherman Lollar from the Chicago White Sox.

The trade talks continued for three hours late last night. Around midnight McHale emerged from the conference with Calvin Griffith, president, and "Cookie" Lavagetto, manager of the Senators.

"We are recessing until tomorrow," McHale announced last night. He gave no further deails.

Win Over Army Brings Lambert Award to Navy

NEW YORK (INS) — Navy will go to the Cotton Bowl as football champions of the East.

The squad which blanked Army, 14 to 0, Saturday has won the 22nd annual Lambert Trophy, emblematic of the Eastern major college football championship.

The Middies, who won the trophy in 1943 and '54, received a unanimous vote of the 12-man selection board of coaches, newsmen and broadcasters.

Army finished second in the final weekly ratings, with Penn State third, Pittsburgh fourth, Holy Cross fifth and Princeton sixth.

Ministers Discuss 'Man of the Year'

When the Waterford Township Ministerial Fellowship meets at 9 a.m. Thursday in the Drayton Plains United Presbyterian Church members will discuss possible candiddates for the area's "Man of the Yea"

Sponsored by the Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce, the "Man of the Year" contest is now under way throughout the township, and the minister's group has been asked to assist the Jaycees.

Organized last spring by pastors of eight local Protestant congregations, the group is united for two specific reasons: To discuss community needs and problems, and to provide closer fellowship among the ministers of Waterford Township.

The president of the organization is the Rev. Walter J. Teeuwissen, pastor of the United Presbyterian Church.

"THAT'S THE ONE" — This remark is bound to be heard more than once in this show-up room off the detective bureau in the new Public Safety building. There are provisions for five suspects like the three shown here. Witnesses can view the suspects from a small room directly in front of the screen which prohibits suspects from seeing the spectators. Through a one-way glass behind the seats spectators may also view suspects.

House Leaders See No Hope for Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—House leaders agreed today their hope for tax cuts next year is virtually dead.

Not one of a group interviewed on the subject saw any chance for lowering of the tax burden which many of them thought earlier this year might be eased in 1958.

"I don't think it looks very favorable for a significant reduction," said House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex).

'I don't think there's much chance to cut taxes," said Rep. Martin of Massachusetts, House Republican leader.

Chairman Cooper (D-Tenn) of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee wouldn't comment on the prospects pending the start of hearings by his committee next month on general tax revision.

But Rep. Mills (D-Ark), second-ranking committee member, told the American Tax Foundation at a New York meeting that prospects for tax cuts were dim, although some adjustments might be in order.

Soviet Sputniks Seen as Benefit to U.S.

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Russia, in launching the first satellites, actually did the United States a favor by dramatically drawing attention to the importance of the missile program, said Donald W. Douglas Jr., president of Douglas Aircraft Co., in a speech.

The two Sputniks shifted America's defense emphasis from manned to unmanned weapons, he said.

Wants Sex in Elections

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP)—There was one write-in vote noted in the annual election of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce. It was for actress Marilyn Monroe. The voter added this postscript: "Let's get some sex into this."

Tavern Keeper's Kindness Comes Back to Daughter

"Would any relative of the late Patrick Finnegan who ran a bar room on Dorchester Avenue near Fields Corner years ago please write x x x."

Mrs. Moore is Finnegan's daughter. She wrote to the box number given and received a $10 money order and an unsigned note that said:

"I've owed your father this for many years."

Finnegan died 44 years ago.

His grandson, Louis F. Moore of Rockland, Maine, said Finnegan often paid the fines of patrons who overindulged and fell afoul of the law.

All Citizens Take Shots

PROTECTION, Kan. (AP)—First town in the country where everyone under 40 has had a full series of polio shots. That's Protection! Basil O'Connor, president of the National Polio Foundation, gave the town a bronze plaque denoting its distinction after watching 312 persons line up at the high school gym for their third shots.

Labor Secretary Takes Dim View on Short Week

DETROIT (AP) — Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell was asked about a shorter week in a question and answer period following his speech by telephone to the Economic Club yesterday.

Mitchell said:

"I don't believe a reduced week or schedules calling for fewer hours of work a day should or can be effective if they slow up or interfere with ability to produce goods the country is capable of consuming."

A Cabinet meeting in Washington prevented Mitchell from appearing in person to address the club.

Commenting on Mitchell's statement, Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, said:

"The question of a shorter work week is not a matter that either labor or management can dictate. It must flow from our progress in technology."

Reuther has made a shorter work week with increased take-home pay the UAW's main goal in negotiations on new contracts in the auto industry next year.

Blame Gas in Death of State GI, 2 Pals

NORTH AUGUSTA, S. C. (AP)—Army doctors have blamed carbon monoxide gas for the death of a Michigan soldier and two buddies whose bodies were found in a North Augusta hotel room Sunday morning.

The three soldiers were on a weekend pass from Ft. Gordon near Augusta, Ga., at the time. Their bodies were discovered by a maid.

Ft. Gordon authorities listed the victims as Edward W. Lloyd, 23, son of Selmon R. Lloyd of Detroit; Norman A. Roberts, 18, of San Diego, Calif., and Rodney W. Davidson, 18, of Corpus Christi, Tex.

Aiken County Coroner J. L. Gregory said he will call an inquest in the case after receiving a report on the Army investigation. North Augusta Police said no foul play is suspected.

U.S. Invites Philippines to Get In on Loan Fund

MANILA (AP)—The United States today invited the Philippines to participate in a new 300-million-dollar loan fund set up by the last Congress primarily for the economic development of 19 new nations created since World War II.

Paul D. Summers, new director of the International Cooperation for the Philippine participation in the long-term loan project at a news conference.

Producer to Glamorize U.S. Scientist

Plans 2 Films on Science to Give Dash, Importance

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A producer of science fiction sagas offers this as Hollywood's mission in the national emergency: glamorizing the American scientist.

"I think it could be very important," says William Alland. "We've done it before with other professions and with the services. The thing to do now is give the U.S. scientist some glamor. Make him appear dashing and important, so kids will want to be like him.

"After all, President Eisenhower pointed out in his recent speech the need to interest young people in science. I believe films can help show how important and exciting science can be."

Alland, a dark, active man with a vivid imagination, is one of the more astute creators in his field. He made such winners as "It Came From Outer Space," "This Island Earth" and "Tartantula" for U-I. Now he's producing independently for Paramount.

PLANS 2 PICTURES

"My first two pictures will bear out my ideas about interesting young people in science," he explained. They are:

"The Space Children," which concerns a supersecret missile base which plans to scatter satellites in outer space. These contain bombs which can later be dropped at will. A superintelligence from another planet directs children at the base to sabotage the missile and thus save the world. For what, Alland didn't say.

This bears out Alland's theory that the human mind, divorced from the sense of pain and mortality, would lose all decency and compassion.

"I think both subjects have the potential to intrigue young people with science," he said. "The situations may become weird, but all the premises start with scientific fact.

"That I think is what makes the difference between a good science fiction picture and a bad one: whether or not the premise is based in fact."

Meany to Scotch Idea

Unions Chiefs Scornful of Giving Up Wage Hikes

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Labor union chiefs looked with general disfavor today on a proposal from one of their colleagues that unions help combat inflation by foregoing 1958 wage boosts.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, sent word through aides that he will personally scotch the idea in a speech to one of the several union groups meeting in advance of the AFL-CIO convention.

Other federation leaders generally disagreed with the plan put forward by President Richard J. Gray of the AFL-CIO Building and Construction Trades Department, claiming some 3½ million of the 15 million AFL-CIO members.

Gray, in a speech to his building trades group yesterday, called for loosened government credit policies to aid financing of all types of construction and suggested the wage moratorium to counter inflation. He said his plan would create more construction jobs.

But other AFL - CIO leaders were quick to hark back to the AFL-CIO's economic thesis that a high wage policy is good for the country by creating mass purchasing power to buy up production. Meany was expected to stress this.

In Detroit, Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, and AFL-CIO vice president, said he would not comment on the suggestion until he saw the text of Gray's remarks.

Reuther has announced that his union in 1958 contract negotiations will give top priority to demands for a shorter work week and a substantial increase in take-home pay.

Reuther also proposed that the big auto companies cut prices on 1958 models by an average of $100 and in return he said the UAW would take the companies' financial position into consideration in framing its wage demands. This proposal was turned down by the auto companies.

Monroe Mayor Wins Second 2-Year Term

MONROE (AP) — Mayor Milton J. H. Knabusch of Monroe was re-elected to his second two-year term yesterday in a muncipal election.

He defeated city commissioner Lawrence A. Frost, 2,209 to 1,811.

Give Personal Gifts

Women love presents, which makes Christmas a dear time for them. But often their gifts actually are earmarked for family use — dishwashers, electric fry pans, coffee makers, new lamps, card tables.

For the athletic type there are carcoats, Bermuda shorts or skinny pants. Jeweled or satin-trimmed evening sweaters, high-styled sweaters in lamb's wool, cashmere or orlon, bulky knit crew sweaters or turtle-neck pullovers are good Christmas bets.

As a real surprise full of flattery, how about polished cotton toreador pants with jacket to match, or a contrasting jacket for separate wear?

2 Michigan Fugitives Nabbed in Connecticut

GREENWICH, Conn. (AP) — Capt. J. William Burke of Greenwich Police said two fugitives from Southern Michigan Prison Farm were arrested on the Boston Post road here yesterday after a motorcycle policeman halted them on a routine check.

Burke identified them as Robert Lee Gogo, 32, of Grand Rapids, Mich., serving 1 to 14 years for forgery, and John C. Satterfield Jr., 29, of Bowling Green, Ky., serving 3 to 15 years for breaking and entering.

At police headquarters, Capt. Burke said the men told him they were trusties and had fled the prison farm Saturday night.

He quoted Satterfield as saying the pair was headed for Bridgeport where they were going to look for jobs.

16,000 Car Workers Laid Off in Canada

TORONTO (AP)—Plant shutdowns by Canada's three leading automobile manufacturers today idled about 16,000 workers in Ontario. The manufacturers said buyers were holding off because of rumors that the government is going to cut the excise tax on cars.

General Motors shut down its Oshawa plant yesterday and today, affecting some 10,000 employes. Chrysler suspended operations at Windsor, sending home about 4,000 employes until Friday. Ford was in the process of laying off 2,000 at Oakville and Windsor.

The House of Commons opened an emergency debate on unemployment in the automobile industry.

Prince Charles Wins $104 With 2 Prize Steers

The two steers from the royal Cornwall estate won best in their class in the annual Smithfield Stock Show in London, while a third was highly commended.

A show spokesman said cautiously that cash prizes usually were posted for the winners, but it was not known whether this meant that Charles would be setting up soft drinks for his pals at Cheam School, or whether the awards will be sent to the estate.

His father, the Duke of Edinburgh, is president of the show in which his mother, Queen Elizabeth, also is exhibiting cattle.

Indianapolis has both Bulgarian and Syrian language newspapers.

Stock Market Prices Steady

NEW YORK (AP) — The Stock Market see-sawed back and forth without posting much in the way of gains and losses early today.

With only a few exceptions price changes were limited to less than a point and the advances and declines were about evenly divided. After an active opening, trading slowed down.

There was no trend discernible throughout the list. One of the strongest stocks was Grumman Aircraft, which opened up 1 at 18¾ on 3,500 shares. It held most of this gain in subsequent trading.

At the opposite extreme was Du Pont, one of the weakest issues. It opened at 180, down 2⅝, and held around that level.

Gulf Oil fell nearly a point in the oils but Socony was strong. It opened 1 point higher at 49¾ on 1,400 shares.

Steeles were slightly lower and motors mixed. Rails were mixed.

Ex-Cell-O Turns Out 3,000th Carton Unit

DETROIT (INS) — George D. Scott, vice president of Ex-Cell-O Corporation of Detroit has announced that the Pure-Pak Division has manufactured its 3,000th pure-pak milk packaging machine, "one of the great American success stories."

Scott said the machines produce 25 million paper milk cartons every day — nine billion cartons annually, making it the world's most popular food container.

Asker Meieri Dairy of Oslo, Norway, purchased the 3,000th Pure-Pak machine today.

The machine is called the marvel of automation. In one operation, the flat carton blanks are fed into one end of the machine, formed, sterilized in paraffin wax, chilled, filled and sealed.

Studebaker-Packard Introduces Hardtops

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Studebaker-Packard Corp. brought out two new hardtop models yesterday combining big car roominess with the low profile and fin treatment of the Studebaker Hawk.

One model, in the Commander series, has a 180-horsepower engine. The other, in the President line, has a 225-horsepower engine. Both are mounted on a 116.5 inch wheelbase and have an overall length of 202.4 inches.

Cement Firm Okays 3-Way Merger

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Stockholders of Hercules Cement Corp. at a special meeting yesterday approved merger of the firm with Peerless Cement Corp., Detroit, and Riverside Cement Co., Los Angeles. Stockholders of the other two firms also met yesterday.

If merger is approved by all three firms, the new company—with Riverside absorbing the other two—will be known as the American Cement Corp. Headquarters will be in Philadelphia, with the legal staff remaining in Los Angeles.

The percentage of federal-owned land in the states ranges from 82 per cent in Nevada to a low of one-tenth of one per cent in Iowa.

Grain Futures Mostly Steady

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain futures were mostly steady in light dealings on the Board of Trade today.

Early demand for wheat reflected trade reaction to heavy liquidation yesterday. Yesterday's lower market stemmed from large deliveries against the expiring December contract. There were no other developments to affect the market.

Corn showed greatest strength, moving up as much as a cent a bushel in early dealings. Light receipts at Chicago and heavy snow over a large portion of the producing belt were factors in the trade.

Soybeans firmed, reflecting higher prices for soybean oils and meals. Rye advanced fractionally.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was ¼ to ¾ higher, Dec. $2.18½; corn ¾ to 1¼ higher, Dec. $1.17¾; oats ⅛ to ⅜ higher, Dec. 66⅛; rye ⅛ to ½ higher, Dec. $1.36½; soybeans unchanged to 1⅛ higher, Jan. $2.32¾ and lard was 7 to 20 cents a hundred pounds higher, Dec. $12.17.

Ohio Sen. Bricker May Not Run Again

WASHINGTON (INS)— One-time presidential aspirant John W. Bricker of Ohio may be the next Republican to bow out of the 1958 senatorial race.

Should the white-thatched Senator decide against seeking re-election—and he has frankly not yet made up his mind—he will be following in the footsteps of fellow GOP Senators William Jenner of Indiana, Ed Martin of Pennsylvania, H. Alexander Smith of New Jersey and William F. Knowland of California.

Of this "class of '52" group that swept to power in the Senate in the first Eisenhower landslide, only Knowland is actively seeking another elective office—the governorship of California.

Socony Manager Plans to Retire

After 45 years of service with Socony Mobil Oil Company, Henry J. Muller or 1440 Old Salem Court, Birmingham, will retire January 1.

MULLER

As manager of the company's Central region, he will be succeeded by Quentin W. Regestein of Wilmette, Illinois.

Joining Socony Mobil in 1912, Muller was general sales manager of White Star division from 1946 to 1955 when he was named assistant manager of the Central region. He also served as assistant secretary and assistant to the president of the company in New Jersey.

Regestein joined Socony in 1930 served as district sales manager for the Bronx, N. Y., in 1941, and held the post of New York City division manager for 12 years. In Dec. 1956, he became administrative assistant to the general manager of domestic marketing in New York.

Cyclist Fatally Injured

LANSING (AP) — Gilbert Buysse, 15, of Lansing was injured fatally Monday when he lost control of his bicycle and slid underneath a school bus in Lansing. It was the eighth traffic death in Lansing so far this year.

Dog Eats Up Dogtag

YORK, England (AP)—Railway officials appealed today for clues to the ownership of a sheepdog which ate its address tag while in transit from Edinburgh to somewhere in England.

Driver Convicted

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A Washtenaw County Circuit Court jury Monday convicted Walter E. Farmer, 26, of Ypsilanti of involuntary manslaughter in the traffic death of Walter J. Breman, 23, of Detroit last Jan 26. Circuit Court Judge James R. Breakey Jr. said he will sentence Farmer Dec. 17.

General Thomas Jonathan "Stonewall" Jackson has just been placed in the Hall of Fame of Great Americans at New York University. He has been nominated in every election since 1900, but only now received enough votes.

Jets Fly From Tokyo to Hawaii Nonstop

HONOLULU (AP) — Four Air Force Voodoo fighters streaked across the Pacific from Tokyo to Honolulu in 6 hours and 35 minutes yesterday for the first nonstop jet flight over the route.

The Air Force said the 3,850-mile flight never had been made faster. It didn't announce the number of times the jets were refueled en route.

Piloting the fighters were Capt. Martin J. Barnard, 31, Little Rock, Ark.; Lt. Raymond C. Ramsey, 26, Uniontown, Kan.; Lt. Harold J. Severtson, 25, Montrose, S.D.; and Lt. James G. Waugh, 28, Shreveport, La.

Youth Admits Strangling Girl

Her Frozen Body Is Found in North Side Chicago Pond

CHICAGO (AP) — The frozen, beaten body of a 14-year-old girl was found last night in the ice and mud of a shallow pond and police said a 17-year-old youth admitted he strangled and beat her after she resisted his advances.

Police said Robert Max Feig, employed at his father's bakery, who had been questioned twice previously about the girl's disappearance, admitted the slaying as he was about to take a lie detector test.

Police Capt. James Hackett said Feig led him and other policemen to the girl's body at the pond near Glenview Naval Air Station, about 10 miles from the girl's home in the Rogers Park district. Police said the girl's body was fully clothed.

Police said Feig, who was held for further questioning, had served two sentences in state training schools for auto theft since he had quit high school two years ago.

Feig, police said, described the area where the body was found as a lover's lane, and told them he had known Mary Lou about two months. They said he told them he took the girl to the lover's lane after promising to drive her home from a sandwich shop. He beat and choked her, he said, when she resisted his advances and enraged him by saying, "I'll tell your mother and I'll tell my mother."

Then he threw her body into the pond.

The dead girl's mother, Mrs. Mildred Wagner, 53, a widow, sobbing and supported by two policemen, early today identified the frozen body.

Police said Feig was first picked up when they learned from other youths at the sandwich shop that he had left the restaurant with Mary Lou.

Board Rejects Lighting Project

Veto Follows Protests Against Special Levies in Waterford

The proposed district was located on M59 near Forest avenue in the Highland and Watkins-Lakeland Subdivisions.

A hearing had been held last week and only three objectors appeared. However, many more people were present last night and the board complied with public opinion to deny the installation.

Members also voted to purchase three new automatic voting machines for a total of $4,551 to be acquired on a time basis. The township now has 34 machines for the 18 precincts. There will be two machines at each precinct, with one to spare.

LICENSE PLATES

As a service to Waterford Township residents, 1958 automobile license plates will be issued at the township hall beginning next week.

In a monthly report submitted by Capt. Millard J. Pender, Waterford Township Police, there were 9 summons issued, 24 arrests and 451 calls answered. There we 51 accidents in the township and police drove 9,652 miles in November.

Several residents of Sylvan Shores Subdivision attended the meeting to learn the outcome of pumping station placed in the subdivision's lot by a mistake.

Shown plans for screening the tank, which protrudes from the ground, residents present agreed to allow it to remain, and construction was scheduled to resume today.

AF Plane Lands After Engines Fail

HONOLULU (AP)—An Air Force C97 Stratocruiser carrying 62 persons landed safely tonight at Hickam Air Force Base after turning back from a flight to California with one starboard engine feathered and another running raggedly.

The Stratocruiser turned back about 300 miles out on its flight to Travis Air Force Base with 54 passengers and a crew of eight.

It was escorted back to Hawaii by an Air Force C54 plane carrying rescue equipment.

Accidental Deaths Climb to 21 in State Deer Season

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Accidental deaths during Michigan's deer hunting season climbed to 21 Sunday when a Muskegon man was shot in the neck while he and his wife were driving in rural Cheboygan County.

His death took place on the first day of the special three-day doe season observed in many parts of the state.

Eight hunters died by gunfire in the regular 16-day season which ended Saturday. Nine others died of heart attacks and three dropped dead with seizures prompted by the exertions of hunting.

This year's toll compared with 11 killed by gunfire, nine heart attacks and one archery death last year. Two hunters also died of exposure after getting lost in the woods in northern Michigan last year.

State Police reported 33 wounded by gunfire this year compared with 31 last year.

A Muskegon man was wounded fatally and his wife grazed by a rifle bullet which passed through their car as they were riding in rural Cheboygan County Sunday. Clinton Grant, 46, was struck in the neck by the shot which passed on and grazed his wife Dora, 36, who was driving.

Police held Louis Porta, 43, of Detroit for investigation in connection with the shooting. Police quoted Porta as saying he thought he saw a doe while hunting and fired.

Two men lost their lives as the regular deer season approached a close Saturday.

Aaron Daniel, 17, of Clarkston was fatally shot by an unknown hunter in Burrett Township of Gladwin County and Adolphus Cadeau, 40, of rural Baraga was accidentally killed by gunfire in a remote area of Baraga County.

Teamster Charged With Grand Larceny

Continue Selecting Jury for Beck Trial

SEATTLE (AP) — A second panel of 30 jurors was called today in an effort to select a jury in the grand larceny trial of Dave Beck, 63-year-old lame duck president of the Teamsters Union.

Selection of the jury started yesterday.

Twelve jurors were selected tentatively from the first 30-member panel, but it is expected final selection will not be completed until late today or tomorrow.

Beck, a millionaire in his own right, is charged with embezzling $1,900 from the sale of a 1952 union-owned Cadillac. He is being tried in King County Superior Court.

Judge George H. Revelle denied defense motions asking postponement of the trial and challenging the jury panel.

Beck's son Dave Jr. was convicted on two counts of grand larceny Nov. 23. He was found guilty of keeping $4,650 from the sale of two Cadillacs belonging to the union. He plans an appeal.

Conviction on a grand larceny charge is punishable by a sentence up to 15 years in prison.

Security for You

SS Mailbag Brings Interesting Requests

By RAY HENRY

Wallpapering the world with letters about Social Security wouldn't be a very useful project. But, it no doubt could be done with the millions of letters the Social Security Administration has received since 1936.

Useful or not, it might be interesting.

There would be the one from the woman who'd been collecting Social Security, but had gone back to work. Now, she said, she was quitting for good and asked:

"Will you kindly re-instate me on your list to receive Social Security, as of this month, and keep my name there until the undertaker advises?"

You might also see the one received several years ago from a fellow who wanted a Social Security card. He said he'd just finished ten years in the Navy:

"I didn't need a card then, but I would like to have one now as I may get up the courage to go to work soon."

Of course, the Social Security people are on both the receiving and writing end of this letter business. A good deal of the Social Security correspondence comes from the need to establish for the record — such things as a person's birth, marriage or death.

In response to a letter about the age of a prospective Social Security recipient, this answer was received: "I remember when Elka was born because my brother and I sat out on the woodpile in the yard watching for the Stork to come to our house."

This reply came in answer to another letter:

"I wrote the field officer, told him to write me and tell me what he wanted me to do. He said he could not write me what I wanted to know; he'd have to talk to me. I thought if it was too bad to write, I didn't want to hear it."

To try to find out whether the elderly Social Security recipient had earned any money during the previous year, a special form was sent for him to fill out. This was the entire text of the answer:

"Dear Social Security: My husband took sick Jan. 20, and died Feb. 27. He hasn't earned anything since. (Signature)".

Not all the letters are particularly related to Social Security problems. To some people, the Social Security Administration is the government and the first place they write to when they need help.

This one came from a California "resident":

"You are advised there that I am here — in State Prison. I am stuck here about eight years, for almost nothing. So, I want out as quickly as possible. I am too old and life is too short to spend my time here, so, see what you can do for me there."

Or, how about this one:

"Gentlemen: I am writing hoping you may be able to help me trace back my father's and mother's families in England. The money great, great grandfather had coming from the battle of Waterloo was never collected from the English government and I am heir to it."

Despite the variety of letters, the Social Security people aren't often stumped. But this letter shook them up:

"Dear Sir: I have a cousin of mine who is missing for three years. He went away to pay his income taxes and never showed up anymore."

(Questions on Social Security problems may be addressed to "Social Security," in care of The Pontiac Press. Questions will be answered by mail from the Pontiac office of the Social Security Administration. There is no charge for this service.)

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF JOHN H. Jennings, who passed away Dec. 3, 1954.
Do not ask me how I miss him,
For there is such a vacant place.
Often I think I hear his footsteps
Or I see his smiling face.
For he left me broken hearted.
Friends may think the wound is healed,
But they as little know the sorrow
That is in my heart concealed.
Sadly missed by wife, Grace and family.

Says Actresses Are Bad Marriage Risks

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Actresses are very high up on the list of "worst possible wives" and marriage to them should be avoided even if it's necessary to kick one of them out of a rowboat in the moonlight.

WILSON

Actress Anne Baxter didn't get quite that violent. "We are very poor risks for happiness in marriage — I'm full of admiration for any woman who can do it," is what the Hollywood and Broadway star said.

Beautiful, young, shapely, well-heeled (and working!) Anne'd be a nice catch for a bachelor (also working) but her advice would seem to be stay clear of her.

"TV and movie cameras can now go anywhere in the world. When a woman's dedicated to an interest other than her husband, it's a bitter pill for him. A marriage is happier when a man is more or less the sun and the woman's in the shadow. And what actress wants to be in the shadows?"

Anne—who'd divorced John Hodiak before his death — they were both originally from the Chicago-Detroit area and nice folksy-type people—is starring in "The Square Root of Wonderful" anod isn't ready for any marriage gambles.

"People say marriage is a gamble as though they were talking about betting on horses. But all it hurts when you gamble on horses is your pocketbook."

Anne, who was in a hot-pink Italian blouse and tight-fitting olive green corduroy pants, rather quietly said, "I wish Johnny could have been here for our opening—the audience was so nice."

"The only thing I can say in our defense is that a man married to an actress never finds it dull. Neither is a volcano dull, but who would want to marry a volcano?"

Anne didn't mind clearing up one point, though, for possible suitors: she doesn't smoke cigars. That was a publicity stunt thought up by a male friend years ago and though she puffed less than a minute, people still remembered it.

Mountain Climber Search Delayed

MT. RAINER NATIONAL PARK, Wash. (AP)—Search for the body of Lowell Linn, 23, inexperienced mountain climber missing since Saturday on storm-swept, snow-covered Mt. Rainier, was suspended today until the weather clears.

All hope of finding Linn alive was given up yesterday as six mountain specialist rangers plodded throogh heavy fog and mist seeking a trace of the young Seattle engineer.

Polio Handicap Surmounted by Bright Youth

Boy, 10, Types Homework With Toes

DALLAS (AP) — If you went over 10-year-old Joe Rowe's school records you'd notice he got a straight A average last semester and was going so well he skipped the fifth grade and went into the sixth this year.

About the only thing unusual you'd notice is that he types his homework with his toes.

He has to. His arms are paralyzed by polio and although he can also write and paint with his toes, he prefers to use a typewriter.

Joe, who hasn't walked in five years, spends his nights in an iron lung. By day he attends school by telephone, watches television, paints and runs his electric train.

After polio hit, a tutor and his mother helped him through the early grades. At the time, he lived in San Antonio and a telephone hookup to school was arranged for some classes.

When he moved here, it became a regular thing for him to attend Dan D. Rogers school by telephone.

A small sound box is set up in the schoolroom and another in Joe's room. Teachers, standing near the box, conduct classes as usual. At times they fire questions into the box and they are relayed by a special telephone wire to Joe. Joe answers back on the wire.

"I got one hooked and couldn't bring him in," Joe reports, "so I turned the rod over to dad. He left the fish get away."

Mrs. Childress summed up her experience with Joe. Speaking for herself and the class, she said, "Joe has made us very, very happy."

Japan Won't Appeal Decision

Girard Set to Go Home

CAMP DREW, Japan (AP) — William S. Girard and his Japanese wife Candy began final preparations today for their trip to the United States after Japan decided not to appeal the three-year suspended sentence a Japanese court gave the Illinois soldier.

Maebashi Prosecutor Kaname Watanabe announced the state would not seek a stiffer penalty for the fatal shooting on a firing range last Jan. 30 of Mrs. Naka Sakai, a Japanese scrap scavenger.

Watanabe and the supreme procurator's office in Tokyo said they did not think they could obtain a more severe penalty in a higher court. U.S.-Japanese relations, strained during parts of the celebrated case, were also considered in deciding against an appeal, Supreme Procurator Tadashi Hanai indicated.

Inejiro Asanuma, secretary general of the opposition Socialist party, said the decision was "absolutely deplorable" and "because of outside pressure . . . we will take it up at the next Diet (Parliament) session."

Socialist pressure played the biggest part in forcing the government to demand Girard's trial in a Japanese court rather than by Army court-martial.

Girard, a 22-year-old specialist third class from Ottawa, Ill., told newsmen with a smile the decision made him "feel good." It leaves him free to return home for discharge soon. A four-year probationary period set by the court when he was sentenced Nov. 19 will not apply outside Japan.

Hary (Candy) Girard, whom the GI married last summer, said she had been notified they would sail from Yokohama Friday. She planned to get an immigrant visa for the United States stamped in her Japanese passport tomorrow. The U.S. Embassy in Tokyo said her papers are in order for immigration to America.

Award Isle Royale Ferryboat Contract

WASHINGTON (AP) — Award of a $1,159,680 contract for a new 100-passenger ferryboat to be used at Isle Royale National Park, Mich., was announced yesterday by the National Park Service.

The contract with Christy Corp., Sturgeon Bay, Wis., calls for completion of all work by August 1958.

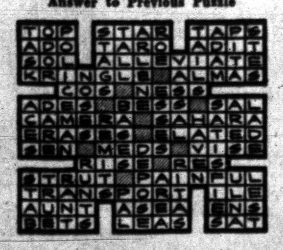

The new ferry will ply between the park, the largest island in Lake Superior, and Houghton, Mich., 75 miles away. It will make the trip in about five hours. Currently, a 16-passenger ferry which requires seven hours for the trip is used.

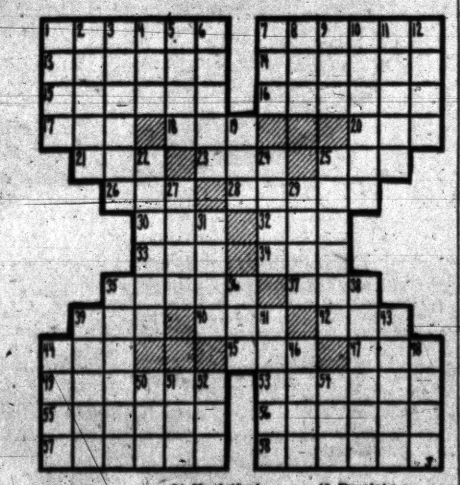

In past seasons three privately operated vessels also have provided transportation to the park. They operated out of Grand Portage, Minn., 22 miles away, and Copper Harbor, Mich., 56 miles away.

The service said that as a part of its long range mission 66 program, new overnight accommodations for visitors have been constructed at the park this year and two new boat docks will be built.

In golf, Bobby Jones is the only man to hold both the American amateur and open titles and the British amateur and open titles simultaneously.

New Vertiplane Rivals 'Copters

Craft Just Unveiled Will Rise Straight, Hover; Yet Has Speed

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A VTOL (vertical takeoff and landing) airplane looking like a bird with a turned-up nose and its wing tips broken was unveiled yesterday by Ryan Aeronautical Co.

Ryan said the vertiplane rivals the helicopter in rising, landing and hovering yet "will far exceed rotary-wing aircraft in speed and range capability."

The bent wing tips provide structural support for the large flaps on the wings that can be extended far below the wing tips.

When extended for takeoff or landing, the wing flaps bend the propeller slipstream downward to provide vertical lift. Air streaming back from the two large propellers, powered by a Lycoming T53 gas turbine engine, is deflected against the flaps and the bent wing tips confined the slipstream for more efficiency.

When the plane gets off the ground the pilot retracts the flaps for level flight. When it is hovering he extends them.

The experimental plane is 27 feet 8 inches long; 10 feet 8 inches high and has a wing span of 23 feet 5 inches.

Built for the Army under technical direction of the Office of Naval Research, the plane is expected to be given initial test flights from the factory here within a month.

Swan Escapees Elude 'Seagoing' Park Police

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (AP)—Two groups of "seagoing" Fairmont Park police guards have been going around in circles on the Schuylkill River since Saturday trying to round up 10 imported swans which escaped from their riverside pen.

Police in outboard motorboats tried casting bread on the waters, but still the swans paddled swiftly out of reach. The swans, worth about $75 each, meanwhile are missing their vitamins from a special food formula prepared by the zoo.

Only 3 Letters Register Gripes

Actress Finds Part as Liza Hammond More Relaxing, Stimulating

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — The FCC can relax about Eve Arden playing a zippy novelist and "writing" a best seller, "Summer's End," based on the people of her home town. The new "Eve Arden Show" on TV is for the family trade and, she whispered it to me:

"I'm not telling anyone, but my 'book' is a CLEAN 'Peyton Place.'"

After seven years on radio and three on TV as "Our Miss Brooks," a school teacher in a soap opera spiked with laughs, Eve has flipped her flippant handling of comedy lines to the role of Liza Hammond, novelist, lecturer and widowed mother of 12-year-old twin girls.

True-blue Connie Brooks fans —and there must be millions after 10 years—apparently are happy with Eve's change. At least she told me she's had only three letters of complaints.

One woman was definite about Eve trading in Connie for Liza. She wrote: "I'll never watch you on TV again. Goodby."

The second letter chided Eve for sipping a cocktail and lighting a cigarette—"This country can only be as great as its women."

LIVE LAUGHERS

The third brickbat was about the show's "laugh track." But she doesn't use what has come to be known as "canned laugher." A live audience on the set provides the laughs as the show is filmed by three cameras a la "I Love Lucy."

So changing characters after 10 years hasn't bothered Eve's fans. Except for those three pan notes, all of Eve's fan mail praises her new show.

Personally, she finds the role of Liza "more relaxing and stimulating because it's much closer to me. I'm a career mother playing a career mother. And because I combine lecture tours with writing at home, we can have frequent changes of scenery."

Eve's "Have Lecture—Will Travel" idea takes her to Montana on the Dec. 10 show, for instance, to keep a lecture date, and a young and wealthy rancher falls in love with her. As the rancher presses his affections, Eve's right there with a topical line:

There will be other romantic interludes for Eve as the series progresses but there are no blueprints, at least immediate, for a big love affair that leads to marriage.

PURPOSE IS COMEDY

"The show's main purpose," says Eve, "is comedy—this may be a good season for it, after all—and warm mother-daughters relationships."

The character of Liza Hammond was inspired by Emily Kimbrough, who combined writing, lecturing and raising twins and who wrote about it in her book, "It Gives Me Great Pleasure."

Four children:: Liza, 12, Connie, 10, Duncan, 4½, and Doug, 3. There are also four head of cattle, eight sheep, four horses, a colt and 37 assorted ducks and chickens.

IT'S LIZA'S TURN

As Miss Brooks, Eve gave daughter Connie social distinction with her character name of Connie Brooks. So now it's Liza's turn as Eve plays Liza Hammond.

After the first show, Eve naturally was anxious to hear daughter Liza's reaction to TV's Liza. Eve rushed home and Liza met her at the door.

"Well?" said Eve.

Detroit Hunter Quizzed in Death of Motorist

CHEBOYGAN (AP) — Louis Porta, 49, of Detroit was released by police yesterday after being questioned in the death of Clinton Grant, 46, of Muskegon.

Grant was killed and his wife, Dora, 36, wounded when a bullet struck them as they were driving in rural Cheboygan County Sunday.

Police quoted Porta as saying he was hunting in the area, thought he saw a deer and fired.

Air-Way Firm Asking $5 Million in Libel Suit

DETROIT (AP) — Suits totaling $6,500,000 have been filed in Federal District Court here against McGraw-Hill Publishing Co. Inc., by Air-Way Industries, Inc., of Toledo, and its president, Edward Lamb.

The suits contend Air-Way Industries was libeled by a story appearing Sept. 21, 1957 in Business Week, one of several McGraw-Hill publications.

The firm seeks five million dollars. Lamb, a radio-television owner, lawyer and publisher, asks $1,500,000.

U.S. Won't Retry Nine Red Leaders

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The government has "reluctantly" decided not to retry nine California Communist party leaders on Smith Act charges that they conspired to overthrow the government by means of force and violence.

Similar charges were also dismissed yesterday in the case of a 10th party leader, who had been indicted originally with the other nine but never brought to trial because of illness.

Fourteen defendants were convicted after a six-month trial here in 1952. But last June 17 the Supreme Court set five of them free and ruled that the other nine were entitled to new trials.

U.S. Judge Ben Harrison granted the dismissals after Asst. U.S. Atty. Norman Neukom presented a Department of Justice letter which said: "After a careful examination of all the available evidence, it has been concluded that we cannot successfully retry . . . the case.

The Supreme Court's majority opinion contended the Smith Act "was aimed at the advocacy and teaching of concrete action for the forcible overthrow of the government, and not of principles divorced from that action."

Only One Eye Needed to Fly

Antarctica Is Tricky for Landings; Surface Lacks Known Features

By RENNIE TAYLOR
A. P. Science Reporter

MCMURDO SOUND, Antarctica (AP)—One eye is all you need to fly an airplane, says a U.S. Air Force authority on depth perception.

You can't make a good landing if you don't know whether you are 2 feet or 20 feet or 200 feet above the surface.

One eye, plus a knowledge of the actual size and height of visible objects, sometimes can tell you pretty accurately where you are when the depth perception you supposedly get from two eyes will not, the expert asserts.

This knowledge is especially important in antarctic flying because the surface of the icy continent is singularly lacking in features whose size is known from ordinary experience. That is why the expert, Dr. Heinrich W. Rose, of the Air Force School of Aviation Medicine at Randolph Field, Tex., is here.

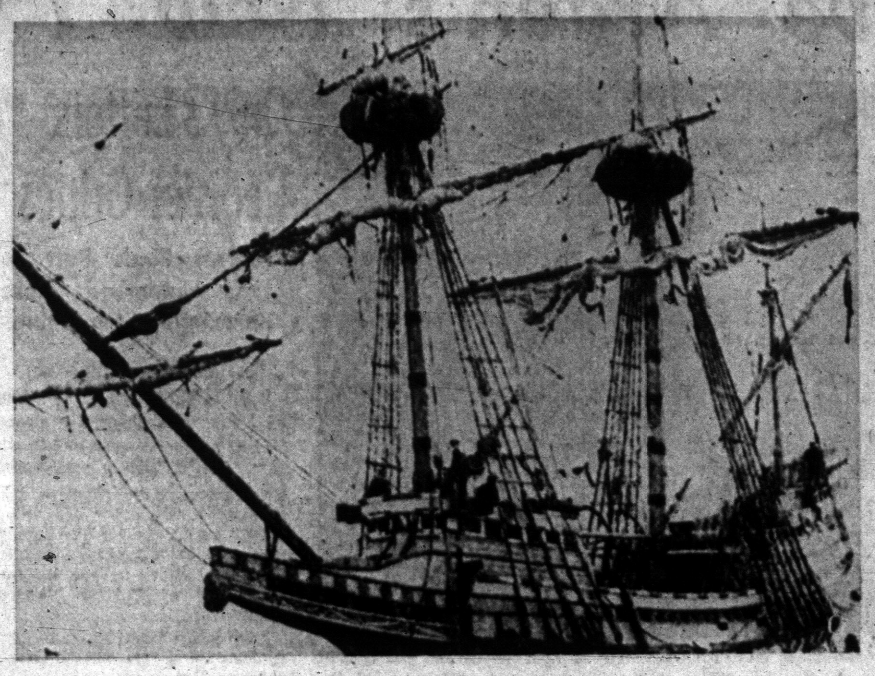

Your two eyes give you depth perception or third dimension only to a limited extent.

Your binocular vision also will fool you when you look down from a plane at high altitude. A high hill will look flat. A stream may be 50 feet or a mile wide. Something of known size for comparison is needed, and one eye can do this about as well as two.

Rose, flight surgeon in the German Luftwaffe during World War II, has two good eyes but says he sometimes uses only one of them in making landings because it keeps him in practice.

One of his aids is what he calls motion parallax — a means of judging distance from your motion. Relatively nearby objects appear to move in the opposite direction of your movement, while distant ones may seem to be moving with your plane. The extent of which one or the other appears to move is a measure of its distance. Experienced observers can make use of this.

MAYFLOWER II RETURNS — Moored for a short stay at her home port of Plymouth, Mass., is the Mayflower II, fresh from a general face-lifting at Brooklyn. A crowd of about 3,000 greeted the tiny bark on her arrival Sunday, but unlike her initial visit to the port last summer, there were no special ceremonies for the 17th Century Pilgrim ship. The Mayflower will remain in Plymouth through Sunday night. From there, she will set sail for southern waters and an exhibition tour.

(This is the second of three dispatches in which the Washington bureau chief of NEA Service examines the record and policies of Vice President Nixon in the light of his new role in the national government after President Eisenhower's third illness in office.)

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Richard M. Nixon reveals himself as something of a dreamer in his outlook for America's future.

Perhaps the best summary of his views on domestic policy was given in his opening campaign speech of 1956, at Whittier, Calif., his home town. He listed these as his goals:

"The best possible education for every American boy or girl.

Since U. S. gross national product stood at 433 billion dollars at the end of the fiscal year 1957 and has been increasing at an average rate of 20 to 30 billion dollars a year, this last goal of Nixon's would seem to be achievable by 1960.

Nixon in 1956 campaigning revealed himself as definitely not the type of Republican who would be satisfied to get American prosperity on a high level and let things alone.

He is an expansionist. He spelled out his ideas on this in a Colorado Springs speech: "We look forward to a future in which poverty will be a forgotten word inn the U. S."

"Our goas are more than statistics. We could say that our goal is to double everyone's living standards in 10 years. We could promise two automobiles, three television sets, a better house and a dozen other comforts that could mean so much to every American. But I prefer to dwell on the human side of the story and say what this means to the average American," he said.

"Our first aim is to wipe out the remaining pockets of distress and economic discrimination in the United States," he continued. "Our second aim is to wipe out bitterness and class struggle . . . Our third goal is to promote a better way of life . . . Back breaking oil and mind-wearying tension will be left to machines . . . We see the time not too far distant when we can have a four-day week and family life will be even more firmly enjoyed.

"These are not dreams or idle boasts. They are simply projections of the gains we have made in the last four years."

Recalling these passages may come as a surprise and a shock to many people at this particular time, when Walter Reuther is beginning his campaign for a four-day week in the auto industry.

Nixon's speech did not specify any time for its achievement. In a later 1956 campaign speech at Flint, Mich., in the heart of the auto world, Nixon just predicted "a shorter work week."

Nixon is unquestionably in the ranks of those Republicans who believe in greater social security benefits. He has boasted frequently of the Eisenhower record in adding 10 million Americans to old age insurance roles, four million to unemployment insurance roles and increasing minimum wage payments.

In his Al Smith Memorial dinner speech in New York, Nixon revealed himself as a strong advocate of civil rights, with equality under law as its fundamental principle. Nixon also defended the Supreme Court decision which outlawed segregation in American public schools as "One more step in a continuing process of giving substance and vitality to our democracy."

Nixon has no name for his philosophy. "It has been called the new capitalism, peoples' capitalism, or consumer capitalism," he said at Colorado Springs.

"It has been described as the philosophy of moderation or partnership," Nixon continued. "Call it what you will, we have something that is new and good . . . Ours is the real progressive approach. Ours is the really forward look.

"If you believe in America's greatness and trust her future, stay on the liberal and truly progressive side."

Next: Nixon's ideas on foreign policy.

Indonesians Boycott Dutch Businesses

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Trade union workers occupied the Royal Netherlands Shipping Line (KPM) offices here today as a government-sponsored boycott of Dutch businesses continued beyond its scheduled length.

A trade union delegation entered the KPM building with a letter from the union leadership saying the line's establishments would be taken over by the workers.

A union spokesman said the Indonesian government ordered the seizure. The Foreign Office said in answer to a Dutch Embassy complaint that the action was not according to plan.

The takeover began at 7:30 a.m. There was no disorder as troops and police stood guard. Dutch employes who had entered the building were searched before they could leave and were not allowed to take private cars or buses from the KPM compound.

There was no immediate indication whether other Dutch firms would be seized.

The 24-hour boycott of Dutch enterprises in Indonesia was called for yesterday as part of the nation's campaign against the Netherlands. The campaign is protesting Dutch possession of West New Guinea, which Indonesia claims.

Thailand's Ousted Chief En Route to Japan

HONG KONG (AP) — Field Marshal P. Pibulsonggram, ousted by a bloodless coup in September after nearly 10 years as Thailand's premier, arrived by plane today from Cambodia en route to Japan.

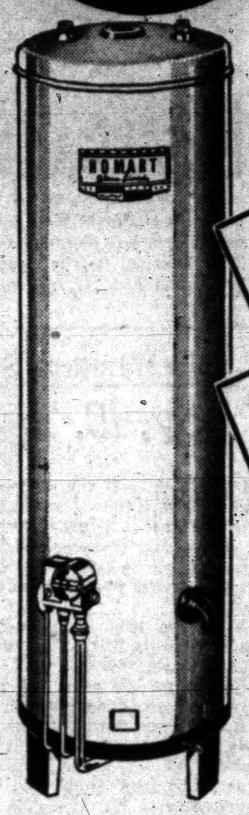

Pibul told newsmen he planned to stay in Japan for a year, then go to the United States. He said he would return to Thailand—"It's my country"—but he did not know when.
