Cuba Problem Smolders

U.S. Ships on Guard Again

Air surveillance also was ordered renewed after Fidel Castro evidently refused to agree to U.N. inspection of Soviet missile withdrawals.

Washington officials probably will want to verify with aerial photos a report by U Thant, acting secretary general, that all Soviet missiles would be taken down by Friday and removed from Cuba soon afterward.

Thant said he was reliably informed of this yesterday in Havana.

The blockade, suspended during two days of evidently fruitless negotiations between Thant and Fidel Castro, was due to go back into force at dawn.

Its assignment as before, is to keep additional offensive weapons out of Cuba.

The White House made this announcement last night after President Kennedy had reviewed the situation with his top level National Security Council.

Salinger left vague just when surveillance will start again after the two-day break. Apparently this was intended to avoid tipping off Cuban antiaircraft batteries which fired on unarmed U.S. reconnaissance planes at the height of the crisis last weekend.

★ ★ ★ ★

Salinger was still vague on the point today. All he would say at his news conference was:

"What I said last night has been carried out."

The press secretary would not make it specific whether that meant the planes were actually back in the air.

At the Pentagon all such inquiries were referred to the White House.

The United States has acknowledged losing one plane over Cuba and Thant said after arriving in New York last night that the Cuban government, at his request, had agreed to return the body of its pilot, Air Force Maj. Rudolf Anderson Jr., 35, of Greenville, S.C.

Rundown on State Legislature Election

By JIM DYGERT

Current line-up of the six state representatives from Oakland County is four Republicans and two Democrats, and indications are it will be the same after Tuesday's election.

Of the five incumbents seeking election, four are Republicans campaigning in districts that normally vote Republican. Only one of the four districts produced a close vote two years ago.

Only one of two Democratic incumbents is up for re-election — Arthur J. Law of the 2nd district. The Democratic incumbent in the 6th District, John C. Hitchcock, was defeated in the primary by Bill S. Huffman.

Law's and Huffman's districts usually go heavily on the Democratic side of the ballot, although Republicans are hopeful this year of upsetting Law with Robert C. Smith.

Huffman and his Republican opponent, Kenneth Waller, along with challengers in the other five districts, were not candidates for the legislature two years ago.

1ST DISTRICT: Incumbent Lloyd L. Anderson, Republican, and John S. Coleman, Democrat. Coleman has accused Anderson of "exhibiting a woeful lack of knowledge regarding educational matters" because Anderson supported a bill to allow school superintendents to hire qualified noncertified teachers.

Anderson replied he had "complete faith in the ability" of superintendents and school boards to select qualified teachers, certified or not.

"It would give us additional teachers in our system," he said, saying there is a former university professor in Oxford who cannot teach because she has no certificate.

County Democrats are hopeful of taking this legislative seat away from the Republicans, although Anderson won 26,000 votes to 19,000 two years ago.

2ND DISTRICT: Incumbent Arthur J. Law, Democrat, and Robert C. Smith, Republican. This campaign has been relatively quiet so far as charges and countercharges are concerned, but Smith is campaigning hard in an attempt to unseat Law.

Local Republicans, hoping to take this one away from the Democrats, are as willing to rate the contest a toss-up as Democrats are to consider the first district race close. Law won by 17,000 votes to 12,000 in 1960.

N-Blast Show Is Surprise

HONOLULU (UPI) — The United States detonated a nuclear device over Johnson Island early today which put on such a fantastic display in Hawaii that even members of Joint Task Force 8 were taken by surprise.

The shot created a weird Halloween effect over the 50th state, 800 miles to the northeast. Witnesses said it was brighter than the 250-mile-high megaton blast of July 8.

JTF8, which usually provides a prompt official announcement on the tests, took 40 minutes to prepare an explanation. It said the fireball was not visible in Hawaii at detonation, but boiled upward over Johnston after the blast.

A spokesman for JTF8 said it was a "text book" development similar to a test which startled the citizens of Hawaii on Aug. 1, 1958. At that time, the fireball rose to a height of 90 miles.

★ ★ ★

Witnesses to today's test said the rising fireball created a pumpkin-colored sunset, which faded into a white, filmy, ghost-like cloud.

Indians Expect 1st U.S. Arms by Saturday

Reinforcements Are Hurried to Front by Nehru Government

NEW DELHI (AP) — India hurried more reinforcements to the front today and informants predicted the first airlift of American arms would arrive Saturday to help Prime Minister Nehru's government fight off Chinese Communist invaders.

The American equipment — mostly mountain artillery — is being flown from Turkey.

Turkey agreed to release the arms provided by the United States after Nehru appealed to President Kennedy for military aid.

Three days after Nehru asked for American weapons, the Indian government issued its first direct acknowledgment of the coming arms assistance.

A spokesman said "We are grateful for the U.S. government's sympathy and support and their offer to help us in the procurement of supplies required for our defense efforts."

The spokesman said that in addition to orders already being filled in Washington further orders will be placed as the need arises.

$102.5 Million in Missile Work Set for Sterling

Texas Firm Contracts for Projects at Former Area Chrysler Plant

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. Swainson announced today that U.S. defense contracts worth $102.5 million have been awarded to a Texas firm for work to be done at the former Chrysler missile plant in Sterling Township, Macomb County.

Terming the contracts "perhaps the most important industrial development for Michigan in years," the governor said Chance-Vought division of Ling-Temco-Vought Corp. of Dallas won a $100-million contract to develop and produce the Army's new Missile B, and a $2.5-million contract to develop a prototype of a new cross-country vehicle.

Chance-Vought and Chrysler Corp. were the last two of six original bidders for the contracts and Gov. Swainson said he won assurances of the Texas firm that, if they won, the work would be done in Michigan.

The governor said the contracts will mean employment for 1,000 persons in 1963 with an increase up to 5,000 by 1968.

He said state officials will exert "all possible effort" to see that former Chrysler missile workers, many of whom were laid off in 1960, will get preferential consideration for the new jobs.

Swainson said he had obtained the word of G. K. Johnson, president of the Texas firm, that it would do the work in Michigan even before the Department of Defense's decision on the contract.

Swainson termed this "a tribute to the management and labor skills which we have available in Michigan."

Swainson's announcement of the missile contracts was made in a press conference in Detroit attended also by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., Rep. James G. O'Hara, D-Mich., and Neil Staebler.

She Sees Red as Brown Hair Turns Orange

A Milford woman walked into a beauty shop yesterday and demanded to have her hair untinted, insisting, "Send the bill to the Village Council."

Mrs. LaVerne Lee of 124 Canal St., had been in the midst of washing her hair at home, when suddenly the water pressure slowed to a trickle. Then orange rust came pouring from the faucet, turning her hair orange.

Workmen had shut off the water outside to make necessary repairs and flush the system.

Mrs. Lee called Village Manager Donald Weidner, who authorized the salon appointment. Beauty operators had to snip off several strands before Mrs. Lee's natural brown hair was restored.

'Castro Nixed Inspectors Because of Anger at K'

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Fidel Castro's annoyance over being bypassed by Soviet Premier Khrushchev caused the Cuban leader to reject U.N. inspection of Soviet missile removal, a high U.N. source said today.

This source said Castro was aggrieved because Khrushchev had not consulted him before agreeing with President Kennedy that U.N. inspectors could be sent to Cuba to verify the dismantling of Soviet missiles.

These disclosures came as Acting Secretary General U Thant plunged into a new series of diplomatic talks in an effort to get the Cuban peace effort back on the track.

Informed sources said Castro had given him an outright rejection at their first meeting in Havana on Tuesday, but had been much more agreeable on Wednesday.

The belief was expressed in high U.N. circles that Castro might accept the U.N. inspection plan after his present mood passes.

Diplomatic informants in Washington said Castro had delivered a bitter tirade in his talks with Thant and accused Khrushchev of having sold him down the river.

REPORT 'UNFOUNDED'

A spokesman for Thant said this was "completely unfounded." The spokesman also denied Washington reports saying Thant had had a most unpleasant trip to Cuba.

Thant said on his return from Havana last night he had been reliably informed the bases would be dismantled by Friday and the Soviet equipment shipped out of Cuba soon afterward.

This omission, plus the return with him of the military aides he had taken as a nucleus of the inspection group, was taken as evidence Castro would not agree to the foreign inspection.

. . . And Cuba Crisis Was Unleashed

Phone Call Marked Start of Crisis

(Editor's Note — Here is the behind-the-scenes story of the Cuban crisis. Relman Morin, twice a Pulitzer Prize winner, provides a fascinating look at what took place backstage in Washington during "the days that shook the world" in this first of a five-part series.)

By RELMAN MORIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Shortly after 7 o'clock on the night of Monday, Oct. 15, a general of intelligence picked up the "hot line," a security telephone in the Pentagon, and put through an urgent call.

He said he had "seen something." His voice was taut.

This call, although nobody realized it then, was to unleash a swift and fearful train of events, and raise the specter of nuclear war. The climax would come in another telephone call, to President Kennedy, early last Sunday.

In between were the days that shook the world.

It was Gen. Joseph Carroll, director of the Defense Intelligence Agency, who made that telephone call Oct. 15. He told Deputy Secretary of Defense Roswell L. Gilpatric he had seen something disquieting in a new set of photographs of Cuba. A reconnaissance mission had flown over the island on the previous day, Sunday.

Minutes after Carroll's terse report, a military staff car raced down the curving ramp of the Pentagon and headed across Washington to Gilpatric's home. It carried two experts in photo analysis.

They did not take the pictures with them. But they described the scars and other details of the Cuban terrain, not previously seen.

"Work on them some more and be ready to brief the boss (Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara) and the rest of us at 7:30 in the morning," Gilpatric told them.

The experts worked all night.

★ ★ ★

By coincidence, Taylor's guests included most of the men who later participated in the decision-making conferences leading to the "quarantine" of Cuba—members of the executive committee of the National Security Council, and authorities from the Defense and State departments.

Gilpatric told them about the photographs.

At 7:30 Tuesday morning, these same men met at the Pentagon with McNamara. The photo analysts reported their findings. The evidence of the construction of actual Soviet missile-launching sites still was not regarded as conclusive.

McNamara did consider it sufficiently "hard," and disquieting, to call the White House. About an hour later, around 9 a.m., the information was in the President's hands.

Later that day, Kennedy examined the photographs himself.

His first step was to order a re-

UF Chief Eyes Tally Cautiously

But Haggard Hopeful With 10 Days to Go

Cautious optimism.

These were the words used today by Fred V. Haggard, general chairman of the 1962 Pontiac Area United Fund Drive, as he looked toward the 10 days remaining to reach the $706,125 goal.

"With the women's campaign over the top and excellent returns being reported by the industrial division, we seem to have only our usual problem," he said. "That's the commercial division."

Bruce Annett, commercial chairman, reported to Haggard that the division has now reached only half of its goal.

A total of $96,411 has been pledged against the goal of $190,410, he said.

Jack Brannack, division vice chairman in charge of small teams is leading all groups with over 66 per cent of its quota reported. Pledged to date is $7,263 toward a $10,955 goal.

Team 5 covering East Pontiac and Auburn Heights, headed by Harold Davis, was the first team to go over its goal, collecting $1,375 with more still to be reported.

Chapter plan groups reported 60 per cent of their goal with $60,230 of their $115,919.50 goal, according to C. F. Brown, division vice chairman for chapter plans.

"We still have a long way to go in this last week," stated Brown, noting that the advanced gifts has collected a major portion reported by the chapter plans.

GOVERNMENT GROUP

Dave Ewalt, division vice chairman for the government group, indicates that the large governmental units are just beginning to report their pledges. Reported today is $3,112.60 or 18 per cent of the $17,804.79 goal.

The professional group under the direction of Dr. Michael Kozonis has turned in $7,133.73 or 24.4 per cent of its goal. "The money is coming in much too slowly," said Dr. Kozonis, as he urged all his men to complete their calls.

William Lacy, division vice chairman for the educational group, reports a total of $9,670.66 or 58.5 per cent of its goal. This represents only Pontiac schools.

Lacy said he was pleased with results being turned in by the individual schools. These, in almost every instance, are greater than a year ago, he said.

Reporting on industrial division results, chairman Ted Bloom, praised the Fisher Body Division employes for giving the campaign a big boost with pledges totaling $54,136.

BACK TO BLOCKADE DUTY — The USS Lawrence, a Navy guided missile destroyer, provides a study in contrasts as one of the latest types of naval warfare leaves the harbor of San Juan under the ancient guns of the Spanish fortress, Morro Castle. The Lawrence was in for a brief respite during the two-day suspension of the Cuban blockade.

In the next few days, "reccy" pilots shot more than 32,000 feet of film over the suspicious sites. They recorded swift and baleful changes.

Soon, the evidence became incontrovertible. Soviet missile bases were rapidly rising near the cities of Guanajay, Remedios, San Cristóbal and Sagua La Grande. There were some eight or 10 bases with about four launchers at each base.

Soviet light bombers, the Ilyushin 28, also were marshalling on the island.

In his report to the nation of Oct. 22, Kennedy called this "the Soviet military buildup" on Cuba. He described two distinct types of installation, one for a medium rocket with a range of more than 1,000 miles, the second, "not yet completed," for intermediate missiles with double this range—and both capable of carrying nuclear warheads.

He also mentioned the bombers.

Kennedy spoke of "this urgent transformation of Cuba into an important strategic base by the presence of these large, long-range and clearly offensive weapons." He then announced the "quarantine" on further shipments of offensive weapons to Cuba and warned:

"And these actions may be only the beginning."

The week that preceded this decision is pretty much of a blur to men who participated in it. One describes it as a "nightmare." They cannot now remember clearly where they were or what they did on a given day.

SKETCHY PICTURE

They can provide only a sketchy picture of Kennedy during this high-energy, high-tension week—end. It is his typical reaction when he is under pressure.

As additional evidence of the threat from Cuba rapidly mounted, they were briefed at least once a day, sometimes twice. Between briefings, they gathered in the State Department, examining the terrible potentialities, matching ideas on actions to recommend to the President.

The meetings often went on until late at night. Through the week of Oct. 21-27, McNamara slept in his office. Kennedy did not leave the White House until last Sunday morning when he went to church.

Two things, they say, surprised them most in this period—the speed of the Soviet work on the bases, and the fact that Soviet Premier Khrushchev "would do anything so dangerous."

One said it appeared that "only four or five days" elapsed between the detection of the first scars in the earth and the rise of the medium-range missile sites.

NONE OPERATIONAL YET

None, he said, was yet operational. They calculated the 200-mile-range missile, distinguished by different markings from the mediums, would become operational by Dec. 1.

As for Khrushchev's motive in attempting to supplement the armed might of the Soviet Union with a base in the Western Hemisphere, they are only theories.

The prevailing one is, "if we didn't do anything about Cuba, we wouldn't do anything about Berlin or any other point."

Or, as another put it, "If you're not going to react when he (Khrushchev) has something like this pointed right at your guts, when are you going to react?"

The question may remain long unanswered.

* * *

But on the morning of Tuesday, Oct. 16, when Kennedy first was advised of the new evidence, the Soviet threat existed and was rapidly increasing in magnitude.

The question was: What to do about it?

Next: "Samsites" and the day of decision.

Hopefuls Listed for Six Districts

Foley has criticized Hogan for the latter's support for a resolution in the legislature calling for a national vote on a constitutional amendment that would include abolishment of the income tax.

Hogan says the resolution was not a state issue and not relevant to the campaign.

He claims the main effect of the amendment would be to get the federal government out of private business and thereby eliminate the need for an income tax.

The district voted Republican by more than two to one in 1960.

4TH DISTRICT: Incumbent Raymond L. Baker, Republican, and Albert A. Kramer, Democrat. Campaigning has been uneventful in this race. Although the contest was close two years ago, Republicans are confident of keeping the post.

* * *

5TH DISTRICT: Incumbent William Hayward, Republican, and Harold J. Robinson, Democrat. A newcomer to politics, Robinson is running hard, but faces an uphill battle in a district that Republicans won by 28,000 votes to 21,000 in 1960.

* * *

6TH DISTRICT: Bill S. Huffman, Democrat, and Kenneth Waller, Republican. Although Waller is a UAW-CIO member and the county AFL-CIO Council did not endorse Huffman in the Democratic primary, Huffman has been endorsed by the union council along with all other Democrats on the Nov. 6 ballot.

Waller requested but did not receive union backing.

* * *

This race is complicated further by the presence of a write-in candidate, Hugh L. Philips of Ferndale, who says he's an independent and is running for the post because he feels neither Waller nor Huffman is qualified.

A 33-year-old Cadillac Motor Co. plant protection man who lives two houses from Waller and who supports GOP gubernatorial candidate George W. Romney with reservations, Philips has not sought political office in the past.

Traffic Into Berlin Is Slowed by Reds

HELMSTEDT, Germany (AP) — A Communist slowdown hit Berlin-bound traffic over the autobahn for several hours early today, West German police reported. By noon the pace was back to normal.

* * *

Traffic was delayed up to 150 minutes, police said. A two-mile-long queue formed at the East German checkpoint of Marienborn waiting to be checked through.

West German police said that for 30 minutes Communist guards processed no cars and then resumed their checking at a slow pace for several hours.

* * *

As usual, there was no explanation of what caused the slowdown.

Russian Wins Nobel Prize for Physics

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—The 1962 Nobel Prize for physics was awarded today to Soviet scientist Lev Davidovic Landau, whose probes into the mysteries of the universe helped pave the way for the launching of the Soviet sputniks.

* * *

The 1962 prize for chemistry went to two scientists at Cambridge, England, whose work unfolded secrets in the human blood. Dr. John Cowdery Kendrew and Dr. Max Ferdinand Perutz share the $49,656 prize for their studies of globular proteins.

Landau, 54, is one of the few Jews to attain a high place in Soviet science. He was awarded the $49,656 physics prize for "his pioneering theories for condensed matter, especially liquid helium."

WORK HALTED

Landau's research was halted Jan. 7 by an automobile accident. His car skidded on ice and crashed in Dubno, 75 miles from Moscow. He lapsed into a coma and was still unconscious in March when a Canadian neurosurgeon, Dr. Wilder Penfield, flew to Moscow to join French, Czech and Soviet specialists working to bring him around. Landau is reported making progress but there are doubts in Moscow he ever will recover fully.

A spokesman for the Soviet Academy of Sciences said Landau received the news of his prize at Moscow hospital. He was described as "very excited" about it.

The spokesman said congratulatory messages flowing in for Landau from around the world were being sent to the Presidium of the Soviet Academy of Science rather than directly to Landau.

"We want to spare him too much excitement," the spokesman said.

Put Blockade Back in Force

veillance plane 70,000 feet above the Escambray mountain area of Cuba Saturday.

Reimposition of the blockade may serve to prod Castro. His foot-dragging on U.N. inspection has injected a note of uncertainty in proceedings which had seemed to be moving smoothly since Sunday when Soviet Premier Khrushchev agreed to dismantle his missile bases in Cuba and bring home his missiles.

The turn of events in Havana may have prompted Kennedy to call off a news conference, originally set for today, until the situation is clarified. Cancellation of the session was announced late last night.

The blockade and aerial surveillance of Cuba had been suspended at Thant's request.

While Salinger declined to discuss the scope of the renewed quarantine, reporters got the impression that the same zones and rules would apply as during the first six days of the blockade.

The Navy had drawn its blockading fleet into a more limited patrol area during the two-day pause.

The quarantine area, as blocked out when the fleet first took position, started perhaps 650 miles from Cuba. It extended toward Bermuda and east of the Virgin Islands.

Find Arsenal at Ole Miss

Surprise Search of Dorm Made by Troops

OXFORD, Miss (AP) — A surprise Halloween night search by combat-ready soldiers unearthed a small arsenal in a men's dormitory at the University of Mississippi. University officials vowed swift disciplinary action against students involved.

* * *

The sudden action followed the wounding of a military policeman by a firecracker, apparently tossed from a window of Lester Hall—adjoining Baxter Hall where James H. Meredith is housed.

* * *

After a quick breakfast this morning, the 29-year-old Meredith began his second month of classes as the first Negro ever knowingly admitted to the 114-year-old university.

OFFICIALS COOPERATE

University officials cooperated in the dormitory search. Student Affairs Dean L. L. Love commented: "We just can't have things like that going on here. That soldier could have been seriously hurt."

* * *

The search turned up at least one dismantled M1 rifle, a dismantled pistol, several tear gas grenades, a full five-gallon can of gasoline and a large quantity of noisy firecrackers, known as cherry bombs.

* * *

The soldiers turned over to university officials the student identification cards of at least a half dozen persons. But no one would disclose the exact number or the specific charges.

* * *

Under university procedures, a student is considered under arrest when his ID card is confiscated and must face action of the Student Judicial Council.

Pontiac Motor Sets Record

Pontiac Motor Division today announced that last month's production set an all-time record for October.

* * *

Some 54,112 Pontiacs and Tempests were produced during the month, Dennis P. Duross, production manager, said.

"October's production was nearly 10,000 units ahead of the same month a year ago, and we were producing pretty heavily then," Duross said.

"There has been an enthusiastic demand for Pontiacs across the country," he noted, "and as a result our production schedules have been increased steadily since the introduction of the 1963 models."

* * *

On Oct. 17 there were 1,187 cars built in the home plant. It was the biggest single production day in Pontiac's 36-year history.

* * *

Chamber of Commerce Plans Airy Auto Display

BIRMINGHAM — Step aside, Detroit, because Birmingham will take a back seat to no one in staging automobile shows.

Since this city doesn't have facilities large enough to accommodate an indoor auto show, the enterprising Birmingham Chamber of Commerce plans to have its new car display outdoors.

The local auto show will be held as part of the chamber's annual Men's Night observance Dec. 5 in a three-square-block area bounded by West Maple Road, Woodward Avenue, Martin Avenue and Bates Street.

* * *

The City Commission here has agreed to close this area to vehicular traffic from 6 to 10 p.m. Dec. 5.

Meanwhile, Leonard L. Healy, chairman of the men's night committee for the chamber of commerce, said his group is asking heads of automobile companies to "set up electrical, turntable and other displays on these streets for the occasion."

The exhibition will continue daily except Mondays from 2 to 5 p.m. through Nov. 25.

Among the works by local women will be "Venetian Canal," by Mrs. Donald Parsons; "Pas De Trois," by Mrs. Paul Averill; "Victorian Lady," by Mrs. Louis Dean; "Study in Red and Black," by Mrs. George Cutter; "Nocturnal Image," by Mrs. Herb Gardner; "Sand Box," by Mrs. Stratton Brown; and "The Plant," by Mrs. F. Chalmers Smith.

Dr. W. Rodman Snelling, headmaster of the Detroit Country Day School in Beverly Hills, has been named chairman of the mathematics division of the Teachers' Council of Independent Schools of the Central States.

As chairman, Dr. Snelling will be responsible for the mathematics agenda at the council's 55th annual conference Nov. 9 and 10 in Davenport, Iowa.

Mikoyan Flies to Cuba Talks

MOSCOW (UPI) — Veteran Kremlin troubleshooter Anastas Mikoyan headed for Cuba today, apparently on an urgent mission to soothe Fidel Castro's feelings and bolster Soviet prestige on the Caribbean Island.

It was believed the Soviet first deputy premier would offer Castro increased economic support to compensate for the sudden withdrawal of Russian missiles from Cuba.

The increased aid was seen as an attempt to keep the volatile Cuban leader from upsetting delicate Soviet-American negotiations aimed at settling the Cuban crisis.

* * *

Mikoyan flew out of Moscow early today accompanied by an 18-member delegation. His plane stopped over at Prestwick, Scotland, and Gander, Newfoundland, to take on fuel before heading for New York.

Strong Federal Hand in Critical Times

What are and what should be the powers of the Federal Government to deal with strikes in time of national crisis? The subject becomes particularly pertinent at this time because of the dispute between the International Association of Machinists and Lockheed Aircraft.

The union, on Oct. 23, said that it had exhausted all avenues of settlement that lay within the confines of free collective bargaining and had twice canceled strike deadlines.

Machinists asserted that there lawfully remains only the strike weapon, but added that they were reluctant to strike in time of national emergency.

Plant seizure powers of the President were spelled out in World War II in the Smith-Connally Act, passed over President ROOSEVELT'S veto in June 1943.

That was almost two months after Roosevelt had taken over the coal mines because of a strike. Previously, on June 9, 1941, with the Nation girding for defense, he had ordered the Army to take over the strike-bound plant of the North American Aviation Corp.

This action was without specific legislative authority, but little criticism was voiced inasmuch as the North American strike appeared to have been fomented by the Communists.

Taft-Hartley, which superseded Smith-Connally, extends no seizure power to the President. Sen. Taft, did, however, include such authority in amendments he proposed in 1949.

President TRUMAN'S seizure of the steel plants in 1952 — on his "inherent" power—was struck down by the U.S. Supreme Court in a 6 to 3 decision. Justice BLACK'S opinion was that neither the constitutional provisions that grant executive powers to the President nor acts of Congress gave TRUMAN such authority.

However, under the "utilization of industry" provision of the Selective Service Act of 1949, the Government is empowered to seize and operate through any agency, any "plant, mine, or other facility" which fails to produce on government orders.

This would obviously be relevant to the aerospace industry today. And we agree that the Federal Government should have this power in time of national emergency.

High Court Candidates Shown Alone on Ballot

In Tuesday's election, voters will have the opportunity of filling two Michigan Supreme Court seats. Unless you are careful, it is possible to miss the nonpartisan part of the ballot.

★ ★ ★

By voting a straight ticket you are not registering your selection for the Supreme Court. Whether you are voting by machine or paper ballot, you must seek out that nonpartisan portion and mark it separately.

★ ★ ★

Our high court is one of the most important single units of our state government. The members comprising this body should be independent thinkers qualified in the legal profession.

Incumbent PAUL L. ADAMS, a Democratic attorney, faces MICHAEL D. O'HARA, a Republican from the Upper Peninsula.

It is our opinion that O'Hara is more of an independent and would serve the State with less party line pressure than his opponent.

Candidates for the other Supreme Court seat are Justice OTIS M. SMITH, a Democrat, and Judge LOUIS D. MCGREGOR, a Republican. Here again, we believe Justice SMITH is apt to follow a strict party line rather than vote independently. Judge MCGREGOR has judicial experience, and we feel that his performance in the high court would be good for the entire state.

LITTLE by little, the problem of what to do with, about, for and to teen-age daughters makes the last girl who returns home Saturday night prepare Sunday breakfast for all the family.

The Spotlight Shifts

David Lawrence Says:

Muzzled Press a Sin Against U.S.

WASHINGTON — Suppression of military news in time of war or international emergency is defensible. But any deliberate misrepresentation of the news by the government that causes the press to publish untrue or misleading news reports is indefensible in a democracy.

LAWRENCE

It now has been revealed that during the current Cuban crisis — and as a policy for the future — various officials of the Kennedy Administration believe they have a right to deceive the American people as to what is actually going on and to use the press to convey certain impressions to foreign governments. This is unprecedented in American history.

The argument is that "The end justifies the means." But this could lead a foreign government to distrust statements of resoluteness issued by the government here and to construe them as sheer bluff.

Two of the principal newspapers of the United States have already protested publicly against any policy of manipulation of the press. They are the New York "Times" and the "Evening Star" of Washington, D. C.

The "Star" in an editorial Wednesday said that only those portions of the news about the Cuban blockade were made available by the Defense Department which its "omniscient manipulators of public opinion decided, in their infinite wisdom, would best serve to create the 'image' of this country's activities they wished to manufacture and place before our people and the world."

QUOTE DEFENSE AIDE

The "Star" in its news columns the previous day had quoted the assistant secretary of defense in charge of press relations as having said:

"I can't think of a comparable situation, but in the kind of world we live in, the generation of news by the government becomes one weapon in a strained situation. The results, in my opinion, justify the methods we used."

In its editorial comment, the "Star" said:

"Weigh those words. Their meaning is truly sinister. In an administration that is becoming quite notable in its efforts toward achieving managed control of the news, Mr. Sylvester may have overlooked one likely result of 'the methods we used.'

"This result is that Mr. Sylvester and his superiors, from this time on, are suspect. They have, in our opinion, recklessly and thoughtlessly forfeited a confidence that in this country has been the rule, rather than the exception."

The New York "Times" in its editorial — also on Wednesday — said that censorship in time of crisis is understandable and necessary and that the press should exercise self-restraint. The "Times," however, then added this warning:

"But to attempt to manage the news so that a free press should speak — in Sylvester's words — in 'one voice to your adversary' could be far more dangerous to the cause of freedom than the free play of dissent, than the fullest possible publication of the facts."

Interest now centers in what really did happen between Monday, Oct. 15, when 400 editors from all parts of the country were briefed and told that no invasion or blockade was contemplated, and Saturday, Oct. 20, when President Kennedy made his decision to blockade and, if necessary, to invade Cuba to get rid of the Soviet missile bases.

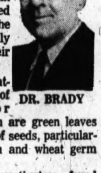
Dr. William Brady Says:

Evidence Exists Linking Vitamin E Lack, Sterility

Some 40 years ago, research workers reported that they had proved that animals — rats — deprived of vitamin E are quite likely to become sterile or to abort. If vitamin E was restored to their feed, the animals usually recovered their fertility.



DR. BRADY

The best natural sources of vitamin E for animal or man are green leaves and the germ of seeds, particularly wheat germ and wheat germ oil.

Research investigators found that a deficiency of vitamin E in their feed leads to sterility in the male and abortion, though not failure to conceive, in the female.

Whether vitamin E has proven worthwhile in animal husbandry, either to promote fertility or to prevent abortion, is debatable, but I have seen no medical reports that would warrant the belief that vitamin E promotes fertility or prevents abortion in man.

There has been considerable speculation on the value of wheat germ oil or vitamin E in the treatment of muscular dystrophy. In my judgment, this question remains unsettled. At the same time, I'm sure it can do no harm to give the treatment a thorough trial in any case.

Fresh wheat germ is the best form of vitamin E for any one. All the desirable tocopherols are present in fresh wheat germ (it is no longer fresh a week after the wheat is ground), besides the vitamin B-complex and other valuable nutritional substances.

The only reason why wheat germ oil should be given in preference to fresh wheat germ is that oil is magic — such as rattlesnake oil, Haarlem oil (Dutch drops), eagleworm oil — and credulous people are very fond of magic.

It is certain that wheat germ oil cannot contain anything not present in wheat germ, and without extra charge I'll say it is equally certain the choicest or most expensive wheat germ cannot contain anything not present in plain wheat.

Butter from cows on pasture, eggs from poultry fed plenty of green leaves, green peas, kale, celery, carrots, parsley and spinach are good sources of the vitamin, especially for poor souls who haven't the gumption to grind or crack their own wheat fresh every morning.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

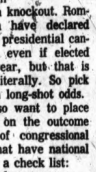
Governorship Races Hold Interest

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Most of the national interest in this year's elections centers naturally on the governorship races in key states like New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan and California.



EDSON

Here, respectively, Nelson Rockefeller, William W. Scranton, George Romney and Richard Nixon get a boost or a knockout. Romney and Nixon have declared they will not be presidential candidates in 1964, even if elected governor this year, but that is not taken too literally. So pick your favorite on long-shot odds.

You might also want to place some side bets on the outcome of a number of congressional election races that have national interest. Here is a check list:

In Massachusetts, watch what happens to H. Stuart Hughes, running as an independent against the two glamour boy candidates for the U. S. Senate, Democratic brother Teddy Kennedy and Republican son George Lodge.

Candidate Hughes is the grandson of the late Charles Evans Hughes, which makes him just as famous as the other two. He isn't given much of a chance, however, because he is running on a platform of opposition to nuclear tests and U. S. withdrawal from advanced missile bases. But check the size of his vote, for an indication of how much sentiment there is in the country for these pacifist causes.

Watch also what happens to some other sons of famous men running for Congress this year: Lowell Thomas Jr., in Alaska and Robert A. Taft Jr., in Ohio.

The only former member of President Kennedy's cabinet seeking office is ex-Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Abraham A. Ribicoff, running for the Senate in Connecticut against Republican Congressman Horace Seely-Brown.

In Arizona, watch to see if Democratic Senate president pro tem Carl Hayden, 84, is elected to a seventh term, to give him the longest consecutive Senate service of 42 years and 58 years in Congress. His opponent is a 27-year-old automobile dealer, Evan Mecham, a state senator who has been ticketed as a "Goldwater Republican."

One of the hottest and perhaps one of the closest U. S. Senate races this year is former GOP National Committee Chairman Thruston B. Morton's bid for re-election in Kentucky. He is opposed by Wilson W. Wyatt, Adlai Stevenson's campaign manager in 1956.

In Alabama, where all candidates for Congress must run "at large" because redistricting has not been completed, watch what happens to the three Republicans running against the eight incumbent Democrats who seek re-election.

In Florida, check on whether ex-New Deal Congressman and Senator Claude Pepper succeeds in his second comeback attempt, running for Congress from a new district in the Miami area.

In the south as a whole, check how many Republicans get elected to Congress. In the last session the GOP had one southern senator and eight representatives. This year there are 62 southern GOP candidates for the House and seven for the Senate. The test here is on what effect the Mississippi trouble may have.

In Maryland, check to see if Democratic Rep. Thomas F. Johnson can win re-election in the face of Department of Justice charges that he tried to influence dropping of an indictment against a savings and loan company official.

In New Hampshire, check to see if GOP Gov. J. Wesley Powell's party bolt to urge the election of Democrat John W. King as his successor had any effect.

In Idaho, check to see if Democratic Rep. Gracie Pfost is re-elected to the House.

New Drug to Fight Malaria Appears to Be Successful

ATLANTA (AP) — What may be a major breakthrough in eradication of malaria, one of the world's widespread and deadly killers, was announced today.

A government medical research expert, Dr. G. Robert Coatney, reported spectacularly successful preliminary tests of a new, long-lasting antimalarial drug, CI501.

He said a single injection given volunteers nearly a year ago continues to protect them from malaria despite monthly bites from heavily infected mosquitoes.

* * *

The new antimalarial appears to protect against the debilitating and killing disease nearly 10 times longer than conventional suppressives.

It also shows promise as a curative of malaria and tests are continuing in this direction.

The experimental drug was developed by scientists at Parke, Davis & Company at Ann Arbor, Mich. It is not yet available for general use.

* * *

Coatney read a report before the American Society of Tropical Medicine and Hygiene for himself and three associates.

"If the promise of initial trials in volunteers is borne out under actual field conditions," said the report, "the CI501 compound should greatly increase the chances of success in worldwide malaria eradication efforts."

The researchers noted that the disease afflicts 200 million people and kills 2 million each year.

Coatney is chief of the Laboratory of Parasite Chemotherapy, National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases, National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, Md.

His associates in the study of the new drug are Drs. Peter G. Contacos, Harvey A. Elder and John W. Kilpatrick.

Also reporting at the meeting on the new antimalarial were Parke, Davis & Company investigators and scientists at Christ Hospital Institute of Medical Research, Cincinnati, Ohio. They told of laboratory and animal work with CI-501.

The new drug is described scientifically as a panamoic acid salt. Its base was reported 11 years ago to be formed in the body from the antimalarial drug chlorguanide.

The report observed that the preliminary test results are termed spectacular by some of the investigators. At the same time it cautioned that it remains to be determined whether these results will be borne out under actual field conditions in the malarious areas of the world.

Romney Backers Fear Dems to Use Rally

Negro Leader Urged Not to Take Sides

By The Associated Press

Three Negro ministers supporting Republican George Romney for governor told Dr. Martin Luther King that his scheduled Friday night appearance in Detroit was being used as a Democratic rally.

The ministers urged the Negro integration leader not to take sides in the Michigan election but rather devote his efforts to getting out a large vote.

The ministers are the Rev. Dr. A. A. Banks, pastor of the Second Baptist Church; the Rev. T. S. Boone, pastor of King Solomon Baptist Church, and the Rev. Charles Hicks of People's Baptist Church, all in Detroit.

They said Dr. King is coming to Michigan to report on the progress of the southern Negro, to ask for continued support of the civil rights movement in the South and to encourage Negroes in Michigan to make maximum use of their vote.

CONTROVERSY SUBSIDES

Controversy over Detroit's committee for honest elections subsided yesterday following an outburst of Democratic indignation the day before over the committee's activities.

The committee, describing itself as nonpartisan, was formed by prominent citizens to check on voter registrations in the metropolis with the objective of preventing fraud.

Democrats claim it is a Republican-backed effort to intimidate voters in Democratic areas.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has attacked the committee.

Ed Carey, president of the Detroit Common Council and chairman of the Detroit Election Commission, said "no qualified voter needs to fear that he will not be given a chance to vote in Tuesday's election."

He said he had the highest regard for the honesty and integrity of the members, personnel and operation of both the city and state elections commissions.

A Vote for Confusion

Chest an Innocent Mistake

CHICAGO (AP) — Striding briskly into the City Hall Election Board office, an unidentified woman stopped in front of a demonstration voting machine Wednesday and took off her coat.

★ ★ ★

"Are you," a helpful employe asked, "a judge of election?"

"No," said the woman.

"Well," the employe said, "this machine is for the instruction of election judges."

★ ★ ★

"Oho," the woman said, putting her coat back on, "I just wanted by chest Xrayed."

Court Okays Birth Control Literature

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The Arizona Supreme Court has approved distribution of birth control literature by the planned parenthood committee of Phoenix.

Its decision Wednesday also granted permission to the committee to operate birth control clinics.

The court, however, upheld the state's 1901 law prohibiting advertising of contraceptive devices.

Sheldon Mitchell, attorney for the committee, said the decision was the first in the United States approving dissemination of birth control information on such a wide scale.

OPERATES CLINIC

For several years, the committee had operated clinics in Phoenix, Scottsdale and Glendale.

★ ★ ★

In June 1959, the Maricopa County health director, Dr. S. F. Farnsworth, stopped the committee's activities. Citing the 1901 law, he said doctors must stop referring patients to the planned parenthood clinics and all literature must be removed from display racks.

★ ★ ★

In appealing, the committee sought to have the law declared unconstitutional. Instead the Arizona Supreme Court limited its scope to public advertising.

Romney Strains as Drive Goes On

EN ROUTE WITH ROMNEY (AP) — George Romney, his voice cracking under the strain, continues today to shake as many hands and speak to as many voters as he can find before Election Day.

The Republican candidate for governor moved into the heavily populated Detroit area yesterday after covering some 1,700 miles in four days of outstate campaigning in mainly Republican-dominated rural counties.

Romney began his day with an argument at a Jackson plant gate, where United Auto Workers hecklers taunted him in a battle of sound trucks.

Romney spent most of the day trudging through shopping centers, shaking hands and distributing campaign literature. He wound up at a Negro rally where he discussed his position on civil rights and unemployment.

From time to time, Romney ran into shoppers who refused to shake hands or who asked him a pointed question. On such occasions, Romney usually would stop short and discuss campaign issues.

Romney drew large crowds at some stops and small turnouts at others. The smallest showings came in Monroe County, which usually votes overwhelmingly Republican.

When the day ended, Romney's voice was hoarse. He told newsmen that the hoarseness was not the result of any ailment and that his throat was not sore.

Freedom Order Backfires

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — "This is Judge Gene Williams," said the voice on the telephone. "I want you to release a prisoner, Kenneth James Lamond."

* * *

"Yes, sir, judge," said the jailer, and forthwith freed Lamond, 41, a parole violator.

Then someone at the Dade County Jail decided to check with the judge.

"What telephone call?" the judge asked. "What prisoner?"

Lamond was picked up at his home and returned to jail. Police arrested Michael J. Peters, 41, and charged him with impersonating the judge. Peters said he knew nothing about Lamond's release.

At several stops along the way, Romney received gifts from admirers. These included a box of cookies in Dundee, and a 69-cent campaign contribution from a 7-year-old boy in Ypsilanti. A note from the boy read:

"Dear Romney — I had a Cool Aid sale at Lakes. Am sending 69c to you, so you can win. — Tommy Jackson, 707 Oxford, Ypsilanti."

As his five-car caravan rolled from city to village to shopping center, Romney hit mainly on the campaign issues of leadership, unemployment and the state's fiscal problems. He also touched on other matters:

* * *

Supreme Court — "We need objective justice without reference to partisanship . . . in recent years partisan influence and economic influence have begun to affect the court's decisions."

Civil Rights — "We must make our practice equal our principles . . . politicians try to play politics with Negroes — and the fact is that neither party has treated the Negro well. Certainly the Democratic party hasn't, or it wouldn't have a (Gov. Ross) Barnett in Mississippi."

13 Grand Rapids Homes Raided by Vice Squad

Szimski said the raid netted several large sacks of betting slips, rate cards and other gambling equipment but only about $300 cash. He expected the raid might lead to 15 arrests.

AF Gives In to Cupid and Airman to Wed

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The Air Force has bowed to the urgent call of young love.

Arrangements were made to release temporarily from active duty Airman 3.C. Jerry L. New, 22, of Trumann, Ark., so he could be married Friday as planned.

★ ★ ★

New was called to active duty with the 445th Troop Carrier Wing last weekend, only hours before he and his fiancee, Linda McLean, 19, of Jonesboro, Ark., were to have taken blood tests for their wedding.

★ ★ ★

The Air Force gave New his blood test and said his commanding officer had arranged for him to take Friday off and report back Monday.

An automatic slide projector has a timer that may be set for various intervals and allows a speaker to join the audience.

Rail Conductor Admits Fraud

DETROIT (AP) — James H. McMinn, 67, of Peru, Ind., a veteran conductor for the Wabash Railroad, pleaded guilty in U.S. District Court yesterday to conspiring to defraud the railroad through a ticket-refund fraud.

Three men described as accomplices also pleaded guilty to the charge. They are Oscar Brooks, 62, of St. Louis, a Wabash chef, who also was selling tickets; Robert Traylor, 18, of Detroit and Eric Hillsman, 19, of St. Louis.

McMinn admitted that for the last year he did not punch or otherwise cancel some of the tickets presented by passengers on his Detroit to St. Louis run.

McMinn said he gave some of these uncanceled tickets to Brooks, who had charge of the dining car. He said he sold other tickets at $10 each to Hillsman and Taylor, who presented them at Wabash stations in Detroit or St. Louis and obtained the full fare of $20.44 as refund.

Idaho Hopeful Bids on Gambling Platform

★ ★ ★

A candidate who wants to open Idaho to Nevada-style gambling and another dead-set against it are battling for the governorship.

The progambling candidate is Democrat Vernon K. Smith, 50, a Boise attorney.

He seeks to unseat Republican Gov. Robert E. Smylie, 47, who is bidding for a third term after holding the governor's chair for eight years—longer than any other man. Smylie has tagged Smith "the man with the green eyeshade."

BACKGROUND — AP SPECIAL REPORT — OF THE NEWS

The gambling issue might seem strange for a state far from any large population center, but it has been about the only one in the campaign. Efforts to drum up interest in issues other than gambling generally have been unavailing.

Smith won the Democratic nomination in a six-man primary election field, basing his campaign on support of a program calling for legalized casino-type gambling on a local option basis.

'MORE TOURISTS'

He said his plan would bring more tourists to Idaho and result in expansion of resort areas. He pointed to the growth of the Las Vegas area in southern Nevada, where gambling is legal.

Smylie says Smith's program "could only create an economic and moral cancer in the body politic."

"Gambling breeds crime," he says. "Idaho has the lowest crime rate of all the 11 Western states. Nevada has the highest — nearly three times as great as Idaho's.

"We are a vigorous, young, growing state. There are many changes and challenges ahead. But the way to meet these challenges is with a sound and sensible state government dedicated to all of the people of Idaho."

INDEPENDENT DEM

Smith is carrying on his campaign independently of other Democratic candidates for state and congressional offices. Democratic party leaders generally opposed him prior to the primary.

Former President Harry S. Truman spoke in behalf of Democratic candidates during an appearance in eastern Idaho in September. But he spoke out against gambling, terming it "the worst thing in the world."

Smith accused Truman of "disloyalty to the Democratic cause" and declined to attend a breakfast honoring the former president.

"The Idaho AFL-CIO has endorsed Smylie, the only Republican to win such backing. The endorsement was based on the candidates' stand on labor rather than the gambling issue.

'NO COMMITMENT'

The AFL-CIO said Smith did not express opposition to so-called "right-to-work" legislation. Smith said he would make no commitment.

Idaho this year is choosing two U.S. senators instead of one. The death last summer of Republican Sen. Henry C. Dworshak brought the second contest.

Bidding for the remaining four years of Dworshak's term are Sen. Len B. Jordan, Republican nominee now serving by appointment, and Democratic Rep. Gracie Pfost, who has been in Congress 10 years.

Trying for re-election to the other Senate seat is Sen. Frank Church of Boise, a Democrat. He is opposed by a young Boise attorney, Republican John T. Hawley.

To Close Site of Nike Zeus Tests Jan. 1

POINT MUGU, Calif. (AP) — Test launchings of the Army's Nike Zeus antimissile rocket at this Pacific missile range headquarters will end about Jan. 1, a spokesman said.

Further testing will be conducted at the White Sands, N. M., missile range and at Kwajalein Island in mid-Pacific, where the Nike Zeus is fired at Atlas-boosted warheads from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.

The Army has fired 15 of the three-stage, solid-fuel antimissile rockets from here in the past year and one or two more tests may be held before the program here ends.

★ ★ ★

No reason for ending the tests was given, but spokesmen earlier said the launchings here were preliminary to the full-scale firings at Kwajalein.

Omaha Daily Sold to Building Firm

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—The Omaha World-Herald was sold today to Peter Kiewit Sons' Co. of Omaha, worldwide construction firm founded here in 1884—a year before the World-Herald itself was founded.

★ ★ ★

The purchase price was not announced but at the time the Kiewit offer was made, directors of the World Publishing Co., owner of the World-Herald, were considering an offer from Samuel I. Newhouse of New York which reportedly totaled about $40 million.

The World-Herald has a combined daily circulation of 252,000, about evenly divided between morning and afternoon editions; and a Sunday circulation of 265,000.

Gentle Crusade On to Free Uganda's Women

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS — SPECIAL REPORT

By LYNN HEINZERLING

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP) — Africa is still a man's world. All the shouting about freedom leaves most women grubbing for food, carrying water and firewood on their heads and being sold to their husbands like cattle.

But a gentle revolution is under way in Uganda, the latest colony to become independent. A small group of women is leading a campaign to bring women into the new world of freedom.

* * *

British colonial officers, the churches and a few progressive Ugandans have made some progress in emancipating women in the cities. In the rural areas, where 90 per cent of the population live, tribal customs condemn women to a life of toil and bearing children.

Uganda fathers still extract a bride price for their daughters from prospective husbands. In some places this may amount only to a goat and a few small presents. In northern Uganda it may run to 10 or more head of cattle.

ALMOST A CHATTEL

The bride, once paid for, becomes little more than a chattel. The husband's responsibility in the family runs to growing whatever cash crop he may choose, handling whatever money there is and sitting in the sun.

He may occasionally mash up green bananas, add water and sugar and wait for it to ferment into "African gin" or waragi. On ceremonial occasions he will dress up in leopard skins and monkey hides and get out his spear.

* * *

The bride is expected to take care of the sweet potatoes, beans, turnips and bananas outside the family's hut and to bring the water from whatever spring or stream is available. She must also raise the family and provide daughters who will, in their turn, bring a fancy bride price. Sons are welcome too because they enlarge the clan.

If the marriage breaks up for any reason, the husband can send the woman back to her parents and claim the bride price he paid. Some men marry one woman in Christian rites and take others in tribal rites.

The only women smashing these ancient tribal practices are those who get an education or marry more advanced African political leaders or businessmen.

From this group of women comes the move to improve the lot of rural women. One of the leaders is Mrs. Pumla Kisosonkole, a South African from the Transkei African Reserve who graduated from Fort Hare University and married a visiting Uganda chief.

She is a former president of the Uganda Council of Women and a vice president of the International Council of Women.

"One of our problems," she said "is simply recognition of women by men."

Since women have so little in common with African men, Mrs. Kisosonkole said, the council is sponsoring courses in citizenship, civic duties, home improvement and English.

The ability to speak English, official language of the new nation, has become a status symbol. The Uganda Council of Women has asked United Nations aid in teaching English.

The council also is pushing to get more women in government positions. With few women college graduates in Uganda, the number of qualified women is limited. Only two women work in government ministries.

For the rural women, the uplifting will be slow and painful. Most of them are illiterate as are their husbands. The husbands do not take kindly to wives working outside the vegetable patch and the hut.

Faces Examination in Fatal Shooting

YPSILANTI (AP) — Walter E. Buchanan, 37, will be examined in Municipal Court Nov. 8 on a charge of murder in the shooting of Hubert Osborne, 54, of Crab Orchard, W.Va.

Buchanan stood mute at his arraignment yesterday, and Municipal Judge Edward D. Deake entered a plea of innocent for him. Buchanan was returned without bail to the Washtenaw County jail in Ann Arbor.

Osborne's body was found in a field four miles south of Ypsilanti Saturday. He had been shot in the head. State police said robbery appeared to have been the motive for the killing. Buchanan was reported to have carried a large sum of money, and his wallet was missing.

Mothers Cling to Instinct in Feeding Their Babies

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — A few weeks ago a report was issued to American motherhood which stated that infants thrive on cold milk.

No need to heat the formula anymore, was the judgment of researchers.

Now a doctor at the University of Washington Medical School adds even another thought to ease, and please, the harassed new mother: There's no reason to sterilize baby bottles. Just wash them in your usual dishwater.

The theory here is that water purification is better these days than when the sterilization rule was put into effect.

As a mother, I like these theories — theoretically. They'd save me hours of work (if a woman ever spent as long a time over a hot stove as she spends over the sterilizing equipment, she'd be a real Cordon Bleu chef). But I wouldn't DREAM of following them; not until every university, child psychiatrist and Dr. Spock in America told me I was a masochist of the milk bottle set for working hard to keep my baby's innards warm and germless.

Most mothers, I imagine, feel that way. They'll listen to every stray researcher's advices on how to spank, or not spank, their older babies.

But with an infant's feeding problems, we do not gamble, we become old-fashioned and stick to the time tested techniques.

We go along with a sign in a pediatrician's office which sums up a mother's aggressive protectiveness toward her newborn:

DON'T CONFUSE ME

"I've made up my mind. Don't confuse me with facts."

It is not that we resist change. A mother has a guardian instinct that carries with it a certain common sense on the mother-infant level that technicians and researchers can't be bothered with. For instance, mothers can see that it does not make sense to nip a baby's scarcely-formed digestive tract with milk from the refrigerator.

The natural, God-intended way to feed a baby is from the mother's breast, and mother's milk is warm.

In later years, suffering stomachs of adults are eased with heating pads, not ice packs; nervous or tense people are lulled to sleep with warm liquids, not jolted with frosty drinks.

So common sense tells us to go along with nature, not NYU.

As for nonsterilization of bottles — it's an enticing thought at the end of a day among diapers and burps, but we'd need 500 doctors recommending it, rather than one.

The thought of bacilli, and possibly a soupcon of detergent, getting into baby is enough to make us quiver.

And I have a feeling that, to make sure the unsterilized bottle was perfectly safe, we'd swish and scrub, rinse and rinse the bottles for every bit as long a time as we'd spend scalding them and ourselves in the sterilizing process.

And even then, if the infant cried after the feeding, we'd feel guiltily positive we'd poisoned him.

MOTHERS FUNNY

They read everything they can find on the preservation of their infants. They listen to everybody who'll talk on the care and feeding of their babies. And then they'll go ahead and do what their instincts have told them for generations they have to do.

It's not progress, maybe. But it's protection.

Dr. Leo Kanner, the dean of American child psychiatrists, once told me that there are all sorts of people eager to foist their advices on mothers.

"These things start out by well-meaning people," he said, "who get their own ideas on child-rearing and then freeze them into a system which they press upon other people.

"They're not charlatans or villains — they're merely people who develop what I call 'tubular vision', or 'exclusive salvationism'.

Wind Up Case in Beck Trial

Judge Plans Charge to Jury in NY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Federal Judge Wilfred Fineberg planned to give his charge to the jury today in the trial of former Teamsters Union President Dave Beck and three companies charged with violating the Taft-Hartley Act.

The government concluded its case yesterday against Beck, Roy Fruehauf, former president of Fruehauf Trailer Co., Burge M. Seymour, president of Associated Transport, Inc., and the Brown Equipment and Manufacturing Co., a subsidiary of Associated.

Beck is charged with receiving a $200,000 loan as a favor from the trucking companies. Under the Taft-Hartley Act it is unlawful for management to give a thing of value to the head of a union.

Beck and his codefendants claim the deal was a business loan which the 68-year-old former union chief repaid at 4 per cent interest.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Thomas Edwards said the loan originally was made in June 1954, on a six-month basis and was not repaid until eleven months later. He said not all of the 4 per cent interest was paid.

JFK Honored, Praises FBI at Exercises

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy received a gold FBI badge yesterday and told a blue ribbon gathering of peace officers that Americans owe their law enforcement officials an unlimited obligation.

Kennedy spoke at graduation exercises of the FBI National Academy where selected police and other law officers are given a course each year in up-to-the-minute scientific crime solution and prevention methods.

The 88-man class included officers from most of the states and five foreign countries.

"As President of the United States, I want to say we all have a great debt to all of you," Kennedy told the graduates.

* * *

He said the art of crime detection now is a very sophisticated one and the duties of peace officers also "require a great knowledge of civil liberties."

Law enforcement officers, he went on, "make our society what it is."

"I know that you are frequently ill-paid," the President said. "You travel with hazard and danger. You make it possible for us to live our private lives.

"The obligation of 180 million Americans to you is unlimited."

It is especially important at this time of crisis for the country to be served by officers vigilant to detect "the enemy within and to know what to do to meet them and to overcome them," Kennedy concluded.

Births in U. S. Down in '62; Drop 3.4 Pct.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service reported yesterday that a continuing decline in the number of babies born in this country indicates the 1962 birth total may be the smallest in six years.

The service said there were an estimated 373,000 live births in August, a drop of 3.4 per cent below the 386,000 in August 1961.

This made it seven out of eight months of this year in which the number of babies born fell below the total in the corresponding 1961 month.

Through August, the 1962 births were estimated at 2,753,000, down 3 per cent from 2,837,000 for the similar 1961 span.

Traffic Flows at Soo International Bridge

EN ROUTE WITH SWAINSON (AP) — Gov. Swainson helped cut a red, white and blue ribbon to open formally the international bridge at Sault Ste. Marie to traffic yesterday and suggested that it be known as the "Freedom Bridge."

Taking time off from his campaign assault on Wayne County, the governor made a 600-mile round trip by air to the Soo for the bridge-opening ceremonies, sharing the lead role with James H. Allan, provincial treasurer of Ontario.

Swainson said the bridge — the third such link between Michigan and Canadian neighbors — can stand as a symbol to the world as "a dramatic contrast" to the wall erected by the Communists in Berlin.

"This bridge of freedom is our answer to the walls of tyranny," said the governor. "It is an inspiring engineering achievement in its own right, made more so by its deep significance as a symbol of freedom and friendship."

VIP LIST

The opening ceremonies included a luncheon of dignitaries from both countries at the Ojibway Hotel in Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., followed by brief ceremonies on the U.S. Plaza, the center of the bridge, and on the Canadian Plaza.

An estimated 800 persons were on hand in 32-degree weather for the three outdoor ceremonies. Swainson and Allan shared the scissors as they cut the ribbon at the international boundary in the center of the bridge.

Nearly 100 cars were waiting on the U.S. side of the bridge for the ceremonies to end. Ferry service across the St. Mary's River ceased at 3 p.m. after 74 years of operation.

Both Swainson and Allan predicted the bridge will prove an economic boon to both Michigan's Upper Peninsula and Ontario. Officials estimate that a million vehicles a year will be crossing the bridge by 1970.

Swainson termed the bridge "a promise kept" by Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie, and got a laugh when he said:

"Quite naturally, I hope to be back here next May at your formal dedication — as governor."

The bridge, 2.74 miles long and built at a cost of $20 million shared by Michigan, Ontario and the two federal governments, will be formally dedicated in an international freedom festival next May.

Howard E. Hill, deputy highway commissioner, represented Mackie, who returned the previous night from a six-week trip to Europe.

Mackie is slated to get on the political trail today, according to aides to the governor.

Upon returning to Detroit, Swainson took part in a motorcade through the industrial-Democratic areas of the 14th Congressional District on the city's east side.

What was billed as a "mass rally" at United Auto Workers Local 212 drew about 70 persons. Swainson, joined there by Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski, state treasurer Sanford Brown, attorney general Frank Kelley, Supreme Court Justices Paul L. Adams and Otis Smith and other candidates, made a brief speech.

AFTER RIBBON CUTTING — Ontario's treasurer James Allan and Michigan's Gov. John Swainson lead a parade of cars across the American span of the International Bridge at Sault Ste. Marie. It was opened to traffic yesterday.

Red Chinese Vow Steps to Support Cuba

An editorial in Red Flag, Chinese Communist Party Central Committee biweekly, said:

"The 650 million Chinese people are the most loyal and most reliable comrades-in-arms of the Cuban people."

Red Flag did not mention the Soviet Union's decision to dismantle and withdraw its missile bases.

About 620 jet aircraft will be in operation by the world's airlines by the end of 1962. This is about four times the jet fleet of 1959.

2 Posts Open on Council

3 Eye Sylvan Lake Seats

Two appointed incumbents and one former candidate are vying for two seats on the Sylvan Lake City Council in the Nov. 6 election. The election is for three-year terms.

They are:

Clement F. Cleveland, 59, an experimental engineer for Ford Motor Co.'s Tractor Division, of 1835 Woodland Ave. He was appointed to the council last April after nomination by Mayor Richard Jarvis, when councilman Joseph E. Gilson resigned.

Frank J. Dickie, 31, a partner in the Dickie Lumber Co. of Sylvan Lake and resident of 1966 Beverly Ave. Dickie was appointed to the council two years ago, also to fill a vacancy.

★ ★ ★

John M. Hanson, 42, of 2440 Garland Ave., a financial counsellor with Michigan Credit Counsellors, Inc. of Pontiac.

Cleveland has resided in Sylvan Lake more than 23 years. He has been active on the planning commission and in the former Men's Club of Sylvan Lake. Outlining his stand, he said:

"We've got a very good council at the present time; the group is functioning very well, accomplishing a lot, progressing and always looking toward the future. The main thing is keeping it stabilized.

'FOR GOOD OF AREA'

"Nobody is trying to do anything other than what is good for Sylvan Lake as a whole within our present tax structure. We have to look out for economy and still give as much possible service as is required, and this is what this group is shooting for."

Dickie, a lifelong Sylvan resident, made the following statement on his political position:

"We must control and delegate our expenses to the essential needs of the taxpayers; and, above all, our expenditures will not exceed our income."

Hanson, who has resided in Sylvan Lake since 1953, said:

"Special assessments at times have not been fair to all the people of Sylvan Lake in the way they've been handled.

"I would try and see that every property owner was given a fair shake, and I certainly would be willing to listen to people voice their opinions.

"I would object to passing an ordinance or resolution before the feeling of the entire community was felt or received.

"Citizens also should be given all the facts at all times, even if this means putting out more newsletters."

Bonn Cabinet OKs Emergency Powers

BONN, Germany (AP) — The cabinet Wednesday approved the draft of a controversial law that would give the government extraordinary powers in a national emergency.

★ ★ ★

Interior Minister Hermann Hoecherl said he hoped Parliament would give the two-thirds majority required for passage.

★ ★ ★

Simultaneously, the cabinet brought out civil defense measures. These included a requirement that all new buildings be equipped with shelters against radioactivity, heat generated by atomic explosion and biological and chemical warfare.

Sands of Time Run for Phone

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The State Hotel and Restaurant Commission announced it has begun using old-fashioned egg timers as reminders to employes to keep telephone conversations short.

Commissioner Robert Reidel said Wednesday the psychological effect of the sand running from the top glass to the bottom glass of the timers "has a great impact on the telephone user."

All employes have been instructed to activate their timers before talking.

BLOCKADE ANNOUNCEMENT — White House press secretary Pierre Salinger announced last night that the arms quarantine and aerial surveillance of Cuba will be resumed at daybreak today. He told newsmen President Kennedy reached his decision after a conference with advisers and after U.N. Acting Secretary General U Thant left Cuba.

Cuban Details Too Vague

Seeds of Fresh Trouble Sprouting

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three pieces missing from the information made public so far on Cuba may contain the seeds of fresh trouble.

There's an unpublished letter, a question of understanding, and a problem of jet bombers.

1. Did President Kennedy take too much for granted when Premier Khrushchev agreed to let the United Nations supervise dismantling of Soviet missile bases in Cuba and the return of the missiles to Russia?

★ ★ ★

2. Has there been an understanding—or a great lack of understanding — between Khrushchev and Cuba's Fidel Castro on the dismantling of the missiles and the U.N. supervision of their removal?

★ ★ ★

3. Why has nothing been said publicly about the removal also of those Soviet jet bombers which, Kennedy said in his broadcast a week ago, are capable of carrying nuclear weapons?

THANT RETURNS

That there's a misunderstanding-standing some place showed up Wednesday night when U Thant, acting U.N. secretary-general, returned from Cuba apparently after failure to get Castro to agree on U.N. supervision on the missile removal.

The published exchange of letters last week between Kennedy and Khrushchev nowhere spelled out clearly what kind of supervision the U.N. should exercise. There is where one of the missing pieces comes in.

Over the weekend Khrushchev wrote Kennedy a letter which seems to have agreed not only to removing the missiles but permitting U.N. observers to check on the removal. But the White House never made this Russian letter public.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy's answering letter was released by the White Housem In it Kennedy, referring to Khrushchev's unpublished one, said he understood the Russian to say he agreed "to remove these weapons and weapons systems from Cuba under appropriate United Nations observation and supervision."

But what does "appropriate" mean? Does it mean letting the U.N. observers in to see the actual dismantling and the shipping of the missiles back home? Or does it mean something else which could make Americans deeply uneasy?

WHERE'S PROOF?

In short, does it mean letting a U.N. team in to look around—perhaps at dismantled missile bases—and then have to take the Russian and Cuban word that the missiles had been sent back to Russia?

Khrushchev answered Kennedy's letter with still another of his own. He explained he had instructed Soviet officers to dismantle the missile sites and return the weapons to Russia.

The White House made this Khrushchev letter public. In this letter Khrushchev, referring to the one Kennedy hasn't released, said:

"As I informed you, we are prepared to reach agreement to enable representatives of the United Nations to verify the dismantling of these means the missiles and missile sites."

ONLY TO VERIFY

Nowhere in all this has Khrushchev committed himself to letting U.N. observers into Cuba to watch the dismantling while it was happening.

Therefore, unless the unpublished letter says otherwise, Khrushchev can argue he had in mind only letting U.N. observers see the empty missile sites. But how then could the observers be sure the missiles were out of Cuba?

★ ★ ★

If Kennedy had insisted on having all this spelled out, future trouble and argument might have been avoided, unless the President feels that dismantling of the bases is enough proof the missiles are gone.

★ ★ ★

This fogginess may explain why Castro wouldn't agree with the U.N. secretary-general, preferring either to confuse the situation or refusing to let in the observers at all. As of Wednesday night U Thant did not make this clear.

All he did say was that he had been reliably informed the missile sites would be dismantled by Friday and out of Cuba soon afterward. That's a long way from being able to say for a fact that the United Nations will know the missiles have been taken out of Cuba, unless inspection is allowed.

★ ★ ★

It's possible Khrushchev's intentions were all right and that Castro crossed him up and refuses to cooperate. He has apparently done something to upset the Russians.

Wednesday night Khrushchev sent one of his right-hand men flying over to see Castro. This was First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan, who will spend a day in New York before continuing on to Havana.

PAMPHLET ON CUBA — The Defense Department last night announced that distribution of this pamphlet titled "Cuba Questions and Answers" is being made to U.S. Armed Forces personnel around the world. The 4- by 5-inch booklet contains 28 pages with an introduction and questions and answers designed to inform personnel of facts in the Cuban crisis. At right is the front of the publication, and left is a page containing three questions and answers.

News Media Propaganda Use Assailed by Editors Prexy

MIAMI (UPI) — The president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors said yesterday the Defense Department's present policy of using newspapers and major wire services for cold war propaganda "poses a dangerous threat to the American public."

★ ★ ★

Lee Hills, executive editor of the Miami Herald and other Knight newspapers, made the protest in a telegram to Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of Defense for public affairs.

The telegram was in reply to an official statement by Sylvester that "news flowing from actions taken by government is part of the weaponry" in the Cuban crisis.

Copies were sent to President Kennedy and the wire services.

The telegram said:

"Your statement that 'news flowing from actions taken by government is part of the weaponry' in the Cuban crisis comes as deep shock to responsible newspaper editors.

★ ★ ★

"Having only recently returned from the Soviet Union where controlled news is standard Kremlin policy, I feel strongly that any manipulation of the news in free societies imperils the right of the people to be fully informed under our democratic processes.

'DANGEROUS THREAT'

"Your view that the 'results justify methods' and that such a policy will continue as a propaganda weapon of government poses a dangerous threat to the American public which cannot make independent judgment without accurate information.

"The press has demonstrated its willingness and ability to cooperate and protect national security, but it must not be used as an implement to mislead the public."

The telegram did not draw comment from Sylvester, a reporter of 37 years experience himself, but brought words from newspaper editors around the nation.

★ ★ ★

Sylvester said in Washington he would withhold comment on the telegram for the present, but added he had no intention of trying to manage or stop the flow of news in a "normal situation."

★ ★ ★

He described the Cuban crisis, however, as "unique."

James G. Campaigne, editor of the Indianapolis Star, said:

"This is completely unheard of in the history of the United States even during wartime.

AGREES WITH HILLS

"I would associate myself entirely with Mr. Hills' views . . . If they're using news and saying its news and giving it to us and we're trusting them and we say this to the public, what we're doing is lying to the public."

★ ★ ★

Ben H. Sefrit, general manager of the Bellingham (Wash.) Herald and chairman of the Freedom of Information Committee of Allied Dailies in Washington, said.

"We are concerned. There have been moves on the part of the government to use the press for these purposes and that certainly is not the way it should be done."

U. S. to Pay Evacuees

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Navy announced yesterday it would continue through Nov. 10 the pay of civilian employes evacuated from Guantanamo in Cuba who have been unable to find other work.

★ ★ ★

Castro to Address Cubans on Removal of Missiles

HAVANA (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro goes before the Cuban people tonight in a radio-television address expected to outline his reaction to the announced removal of Soviet missile bases from Cuba.

Castro has not retracted his statement rejecting U. N. observers in Cuba despite a two-day Havana visit by acting United Nations Secretary General Thant which ended last night.

Neither the time nor topic of tonight's speech has been announced.

A government propagandist indicated last night that Castro is sticking to the five demands he made Sunday — including United States withdrawal from the Guantanamo Naval Base— as a minimum basis for starting talks on easing the Cuban crisis.

Lui Gomez Wanguemert, regular international commentator on the government television station, said Thant and his top aides carried away an "exact concept" of Cuban demands after two days of talks with Castro.

Wanguemert said:

"The secretary general and his immediate collaborators, Omar Loutfi and Hernane Tavares da Sa, carried away the clearest and most exact concept of our nation's position and the most precise idea of the support which our people give to the revolution and of the five points outlined Sunday by Fidel in order to give real substance to the guarantees against an invasion of Cuba formulated by (President) Kennedy in his letter to Premier Khrushchev."

He also said the talks between Thant and Castro were "in the opinion of the top U. N. officers who participated in them very useful because they established a link between the international organization and the Cuban problem."

Gls Digging In on Key West

String Barbed Wire Along Shore

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—American troops strung barbed wire barricades along a portion of the Key West shore facing Havana 90 miles away and appeared today to be digging in for an extended stay.

Military installations, rushed here during the Cuban crisis, were at the alert, while patrolling by armed planes continued around the clock.

Machine-gun emplacements on the beach, behind the barbed wire, were piled with sandbags.

However, a flight up the Florida keys—the chain of coral and sand islands stretching from the Florida mainland in the general direction of Havana—revealed no military preparations there.

PIPELINE UNGUARDED

There were no guards on the pipeline which carries water down the keys, or on the island-hopping highway.

No military installations were visible from the air north of the Key West area, where portable radar units and anti-aircraft missiles guarded by soldiers in sandbagged foxholes, have been dug in.

The airstrip at Marathon, about midway up the keys, appeared almost deserted, in contrast to the Boca Chica Naval Air Station near here, where the sun glints off rows of fighter jets rushed here for the emergency.

Satellites' Apathy Helped Convince K

Poland Sheds No Tears for Cuba

By GENE KRAMER

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Apathy among the Soviet satellite regimes in Eastern Europe apparently was a factor in Premier Khrushchev's agreement to ship his missiles home from Cuba.

Many diplomats think Poland's Communist government for example, straddled the fence as much as it dared during last week's crisis.

There wasn't even a "hands off Cuba" demonstration outside the American Embassy in Warsaw such as occurred before the embassies in Moscow, London, Copenhagen, Tokyo and Prague.

U.S. diplomatic notes about the arms quarantine were fired back by the Kremlin. Similar notes got only polite oral rebuttals here.

Many a Pole privately abhorred the idea that the Soviet Union might fight over Cuba. "If there is war over Cuba, I have two requests of America," a Polish writer told this reporter. "First, don't use nuclear weapons. Second, win it."

Despite the sustained propaganda buildup, Castro and his bearded cohorts are not regarded as comrades in arms by many East Europeans.

About one-third of Poland's trade is with the West, and the country exchanges mail with perhaps 8 million people of Polish stock in America and Western Europe. These are ties local Communist leaders cannot ignore when they consider a showdown over such a remote place as Cuba.

Polish Communist party chief Wladislaw Gomulka is thought to have considerable influence with Khrushchev. Presumably he counseled caution on Cuba.

DIDN'T KNOW

Many Polish officials have indicated they had no advance knowledge of Soviet missiles in Cuba. The secret build-up is now being interpreted in two ways.

Some are surprised and dismayed that the Soviets would risk peace with such a step. Those who think more in terms of strategy feel Khrushchev made a smart move that may pay off for him by prolonging the life of the Castro regime.

They reason that completing the Cuban installations must have been a maximum objective which Khrushchev had little hope of achieving. So by yielding at the brink of war, the Soviet Union, they say, has a good chance to save Castro from what looked to the Communists like a threatened U.S. invasion.

These Polish Communists consider President Kennedy's statement that Cuba will not be invaded a distinct gain. They want it backed up with a guarantee of Cuban sovereignty.

N.Y. Daily News Struck, Shut Down Despite Talks

NEW YORK (AP)—The Daily News—largest circulation newspaper in the country—was struck and shut down by the New York Newspaper Guild today.

Mediation efforts, including one by the mayor of New York, proved fruitless and the strike threatened to spread to the other six major dailies in this city of 8 million.

* * *

The Guild, finding itself in a deadlock over wages with all of the publishers, has vowed to strike each of the newspapers, one by one if no settlement is reached, and it picked the News as its first target. Contracts between the Guild, a unit of the AFL-CIO American Newspaper Guild, and all seven newspapers expired at midnight.

The publishers vowed to stand together and to make their facilities available to the News so it could keep publishing.

WALK OFF JOBS

Guild editorial and business employees walked off their jobs at the News at 12:01 a.m. and threw up picket lines at the newspaper's main building at 42nd Street and 2nd Avenue in Manhattan and at its Brooklyn plant.

Talks broke off at the other three morning newspapers shortly thereafter.

At the urgent request of Mayor Robert F. Wagner, key negotiators for both sides then went to Gracie Mansion, the mayor's official residence, and continued their efforts for four hours before recessing without evidence of progress toward a settlement.

* * *

The mayor announced that the negotiators would resume their meeting later today.

Morning editions of the Herald Tribune and the Mirror came out on schedule. The Times kept its presses running straight through until the midnight deadline — without stopping for replates—and therefore had only three editions instead of the normal five.

Spokesmen for the city's afternoon papers, the Journal-American, Post and World-Telegram & The Sun, said they expected to publish as usual.

Wants Return of Money in 'Hubby Sale'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An attractive widow accused another woman in court Wednesday of selling her husband to the widow for $10,000.

Dorothy Alzmann, 35, of Glendora, wants her money back. In a suit filed in Superior Court, Mrs. Alzmann said Norma Babcock of Arcadia promised to return the money if Quinton Babcock refused to stay with the widow.

He stayed less than 24 hours, Mrs. Alzmann charged, and Mrs. Babcock gave her back only $3,000, claiming she had a legal right to the remaining $7,000 for "alienation of affections."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Alzmann's attorney, W. J. Hyland, said his client started going out with Babcock after her space engineer husband Fredrick died in November 1961. Babcock said he planned to divorce his wife, Mrs. Alzmann claimed in the suit.

Mrs. Alzmann, charging conspiracy and breach of a quasi contract, is asking $7,000 plus $1,800 she claims she lent Babcock during their friendship.

Saleswoman Talks Coolly to Romney

EN ROUTE WITH ROMNEY (AP) — George Romney, Republican candidate for governor, frequently is asked to explain some part of his program by voters when he shakes hands.

One woman clerk in a department store had a question for Romney yesterday, but it was not about politics.

"I've got something wrong with my Kelvinator refrigerator," she complained.

Romney, former president of American Motors — of which Kelvinator is a subsidiary—gave the woman the name of a man to contact and added:

The woman replied:

"I will. But if it still doesn't work, I'll come to Lansing and throw rocks through your windows at the Capitol."

Income Tax Returns Pour Into Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — First-quarter payments of Detroit's 1 per cent income tax poured into the city treasurer's office yesterday — the deadline for filing returns for the period from the effective date of the new tax, July 1, through Sept. 30.

Deputy Treasurer Frank B. Woodford said thousands of checks were expected today. Firms will not be penalized on withholding tax returns postmarked before midnight Wednesday.

By late Wednesday, the first quarter returns had yielded $5 million.

Note Hike of Iodine in Milk

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Public Health Service reported today increases in radioactive iodine in pasteurized milk in a number of areas during August and September as a result of both U.S. and Soviet nuclear testing.

Palmer, Alaska, had an average of 730 micromicrocuries per liter of milk, the highest listed during September.

A spokesman said the service had not recommended countermeasures in any area, and regards the levels as not constituting a public health hazard.

The summary said the daily levels of radioactive iodine-131 from the July U.S. tests in Nevada declined in Salt Lake City milk from 730 to 100 micromicrocuries per liter in August, and the August Salt Lake City average was 330.

UP IN LARAMIE

The September averages for both Salt Lake City and Laramie were 40.

"Apparent effects of the U.S.S.R. nuclear tests appeared in September," the service added, with 62 stations showing an average daily iodine-131 content of 60 micromicrocuries per liter compared to an August average of 20.

During September the monthly averages of 40 stations exceeded 20, compared to six stations in August, and during September nine stations had averages of 100 micromicrocuries or more: Palmer 730; Chicago 100; Des Moines 130; Detroit 130; Buffalo, N.Y., 100; Minot, N.D., 170; Rapid City, S.D., 130; and Milwaukee 120.

Oil Firm Purchases Defunct Refinery

ESCANABA (AP) — Gustafson Oil Co. has announced purchase of the defunct Upper Peninsula Oil Refinery, Inc., at nearby Rapid River.

Gustafson said it did not plan to reactivate the refinery, but to use tankage on the 36-acre site for storage of heating oils and asphalts.

The company disclosed it plans to build a pipeline from Little Bay de Noc, a mile and a quarter away and use lake tankers to bring products in. Meanwhile, trucks will be utilized.

Gustafson operates terminals in Escanaba and Marquette, Mich.; Green Bay and Wausau, Wis.; St. Paul, Minn., and Chicago. It said it needed additional winter storage facilities in the Upper Peninsula.

EVEN IN A PERIOD OF WARLIKE CRISIS— and we've just experienced and are experiencing the first of a chain of them—honesty and common sense are appreciated by all.

You have seen the fall-out shelter distorted from a civil defense bit of farsight at what in some instances became a racket. You've heard a hundred opportunists move in with a wild-eyed urgency for stashing away everything from gasoline to diamonds.

WHAT DO WE MEAN BY THIS?

We have approximately X-thousand Y-items in the store. It is estimated that these will meet the normal consumer requirements of our area for Z-months.

We don't know that there actually will ever be a shortage in this merchandise which will make prices rise later. We hope not.

Meanwhile, right now, we do have good values available at the same prices that were on them before the full seriousness of the situation in Cuba was brought to the attention of the American public.

WE'VE ORDERED A STOCK

of additional merchandise and we expect to get delivery on it. It, too, will be offered at our customary fair value prices. We don't hold with the idea of trying to frighten customers into making purchases they can't afford at inflated prices because of the possibility of trouble looming on the horizon.

Governors to Be VIPs

Hannah at MSU Tells of Escort at Games

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Future Michigan governors will get VIP treatment at forthcoming Michigan-Michigan State football games as the result of a "misunderstanding" at this year's contest.

An aide to Gov. John B. Swainson yesterday disclosed a letter from MSU President John A. Hannah which indicated the two institutions favored a proposal made by the governor earlier this month.

Swainson suggested an escort ceremony similar to that involved when the president switches sides at the annual Army-Navy football game.

Hannah said officials of the two institutions agreed to work out some on-field halftime ceremony to escort the governor across the field to his second-half seat, starting at the 1963 game at Ann Arbor.

The "misunderstanding" this year came out in a discussion of the around-the-field campaign swing by Republican gubernatorial candidate George Romney.

★ ★ ★

While Romney was marching around the edge of the field, Swainson was being driven around the outside of the MSU stadium to the seat in which he was to sit during the second half of the game. Swainson aides said university officials declined to give the governor permission to walk around the field during the halftime ceremony.

★ ★ ★ ★

A volley of exchanges between Swainson's office and University spokesmen indicated there had been a "misunderstanding" about how Swainson intended to get around the field.

The governor finally suggested the ceremony to make public note of the chief executive's presence and his custom of sitting on the Michigan side during one half and the MSU side the other portion of the game.

Scoops Her News

Benefactor an Enemy

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A bee sting caused three hours of agony and a bit of irony in the life of a 19-year-old Birmingham girl.

★ ★ ★

Becky Chancey, record librarian for a radio-television station, was returning from lunch Wednesday when she slapped at a bee in her automobile. The bee retaliated with a sting. Her car ran off the road and plunged 75 feet down a slope.

★ ★ ★

Three hours later she had crawled almost to the roadside before a boy on a motorcycle heard her cries for help. She suffered a cracked back disc.

And her station's news department was scooped on her story. The boy who found her works for a rival television station.

Suthuhn Rebels Eat Beans

ATLANTA, Gam (AP) — Along with other changes in Georgia, there has been a change in the food tastes of a group of college students.

The Emory University cafeteria reports that Southern blackeyed peas are no longer the favorite vegetable of its student customers.

They have been replaced by green beans.

However, the beans are cooked Southern-style—with plenty of fatback bason.

Satellite 'Navigator' Almost Operational

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Vice Admiral W. F. Raborn Jr., deputy chief of naval operations for development, says the Navy has a satellite navigation system that is almost operational.

★ ★ ★

Raborn told the National Defense Transportation Association convention Wednesday night that five experimental navigational satellites have been orbited. The operational prototype will be put up in the near future, he said.

Navigators will use satellite radio signals to fix their ships' exact positions, Raborn said.

Recommend Pajamas as Welcoming Outfit

LONDON (UPI) — "Clothes and the Man," a paperback book published today by the Tailor and Cutter magazine, contains this sartorial advice for the well-dressed man:

When receiving friends at home — wear pajamas.

More farmers are said to own their own land in Wisconsin than in any other state or the Union.

ROBOT GOES TO SEA — Workmen stand by as Shell Oil Co.'s underwater robot is lowered into the ocean at Port Hueneme, Calif. It was the first public showing for the mechanical roustabout, a remote-controlled, quarter-million-dollar gadget that swims, sees, hears and has an arm to turn valves and wield tools. The robot is designed to help in drilling and maintenance of oil fields deep in the ocean.

Junior Highs 'Open' Nov. 7

A Nov. 7 open house program sponsored by the Waterford Education Association is expected to attract several thousand school district residents to John D. Pierce and Isaac Crary junior high schools.

★ ★ ★

Samples of students' classroom efforts, curriculum aids and materials and various projects in special areas of school services will be displayed. This will include counseling, visiting teacher, special education and the speech correction activities.

Teachers from throughout the school district will be present to explain classroom functions from kindergarten through high school.

William Green, Waterford Township High School teacher and general chairman of the open house, said the Waterford Township High School displays will be at Crary while Waterford Kettering materials will be set up at Pierce.

"Pierce will accommodate people associated with elementary schools feeding into it and Crary will host its circle of elementary schools," Green explained.

Bands from both Waterford Township and Waterford Kettering High schools will entertain during the 7 to 10 p.m. program.

'Royal Pair' Mismatched

On one foot she wore a heavy brown walking shoe, on the other a black patent court shoe with a slim heel.

The queen mother broke a small bone in her foot a few weeks ago. She was attending the opening of a new botanical gallery at London's Natural History Museum.

Paris Grows by 1 Million

Evangelical Group Acts on Divorce

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Moving into final sessions today, the 40th general conference of the Evangelical United Brethren Church was on record with a revised stance regarding marriage of divorced persons.

The first recommendation to oppose the practice lost by one vote last night in a session which lasted until about midnight. The EUB committee on Christian social action was asked to return a new recommendation, possibly for action today.

The committee's proposal on marriage of divorced persons was voted down on its first appearance last night but, after an hour's debate, was approved by vote of 293 to 117.

EUB ministers have been forbidden to officiate at such marriages except in cases of the innocent party in a divorce granted on grounds of adultery. The committee had recommended that each case henceforth be decided upon its merits.

Still not condoning divorce, the denomination stand now urges persons with marital problems "to seek counsel with their pastor in order to effect reconciliation so that the marriage might be preserved."

Further, it states:

★ ★ ★

"Ministers of the church shall not solemnize any marriage without first counseling earnestly with the couple. Whenever divorced persons ask marriage in the church, ministers may solemnize such marriages only after having ascertained the circumstances through counsel with those persons involved and after they are satisfied that the divorced persons have sought for and received forgiveness and are seeking a genuine Christian relationship not only in marriage but with God . . ."

Car Sales Help Boost in State Tax Collection

LANSING (AP) — Thanks mostly to a spurt in car sales, Michigan's sales and use tax collections in October on September business are significantly up from the same month last year.

Collections from the month totaled $42,060,750, the State Revenue Department reported, an insrease of $3,259,354 over last year.

The collections are generally regarded as a reliable barometer of Michigan's retail business.

The tax on car cales amounted to $7,295,573, an increase of $1,280,000. Another $2,800,000 came from the new tax on telephone services that was not in effect at this time last year.

The rest of the increase is due to an upward trend in other lines of business, the revenue department said.

AMC Receives U. S. Contract

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors Corp. signed a multimillion dollar contract yesterday for construction of the Mighty Mite (a Marine Corps vehicle) at its special products division here.

AMC announced the signing in reply to a letter from United Auto Workers Local 154 saying the union had heard the plant was to be closed next April. The local asked AMC to prevent any job loss by AMC workers.

The company said it got an approximate $3-million contract extension for construction of Mighty Mite engines and repair parts. It said the special division work force would be expanded from 137 to 220 employes.

AM has been building Mighty Mites since 1958 and has had seven extensions of the original contract. The company indicated it would try for additional work. The work allocated yesterday will be completed by next April.

Woman Driver Killed

FOWLERVILLE (AP) — Iva Lewis, 77, of Fowlerville was killed Wednesday when her car ran off M36 in Livingston County and struck a tree.

Vote Registrations Ruled Legal for 22

WEST BRANCH (AP) — Circuit Judge Dennis O'Keefe yesterday ruled in favor of 22 Ogemaw County residents who had insisted they were registered to vote.

O'Keefe ruled that Mrs. Cecelia Detzler was authorized to register prospective voters, and allowed a writ ordering Township Clerk Al Dunbar to sign the registrations.

Dunbar earlier had refused to sign on grounds Mrs. Detzler was never deputized by him to register voters.

Policemen 'Hooked' on Angling Excursion

While they angled traffic wardens ticketed some of their cars for parking violations and towed others away.

Even Unto Death

Apart . . . Yet Together

SARATOTA, Fla. (AP) — In Sarasota it was at 1:30 p.m., in West Berlin it was 7:30 p.m.

★ ★ ★

This was the hour that Albert W. Simon, 55, a refugee from Germany, died of a heart ailment in a Sarasota hospital Monday.

★ ★ ★

It also was the hour his wife, Ernan died in West Berlin of a similar ailment.

★ ★ ★

The coincidence came to light through cablegrams notifying each that the other had died.

Simon, a mechanic in the city garage and an ex-circus aerialist, came to Sarasota in 1958. His wife had to remain behind in Germany because of ill health.

Rifle Shots Damage Minuteman Sites

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP) — The Air Force said yesterday that persons firing high-powered rifles have caused thousands of dollars worth of damage to the Minuteman missile complex in Montana.

A spokesman said the Federal Bureau of Investigation is investigating each incident.

The statement especially warned hunters to be more careful of firing into areas where random shots might hit and damage Minutemen equipment, but a spokesman said some shots may have been deliberate.

Primary damage was reported on the cable system that connects each Minuteman launching hole, and the security antennae and vent tubing at the launch control centers.

13-Hour Flight With Fish Ends as Line's Cut

* * *

The fish refused to tire. George fought him through the night. Other fishermen brought him coffee. Daylight came, and still the fight continued. It went on through the morning.

A few minutes past noon, a pleasure boat came along, the operator oblivious to the fishing duel.

Spectators on the pier yelled and waved their arms, but the boatman ignored them. The boat cut young Wiesner's line, and the fish swam away.

He lost his fish after battling it for 13½ hours.

Cuban Refugees Angry at Kennedy's Compromise

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON—It is no secret that most of the Cuban refugees now living in the United States failed to share the general sense of relief that greeted the relaxation of the Cuban crisis.

This is understandable, since many of these unfortunate patriots had hoped within hours or days to see their homeland invaded, Fidel Castro and his Communist band deposed, and their homes restored to them.

Their frustration and anger is now directed against the U.S., and this can have a deep and lasting effect on our relations with the neighboring island when they at last return to leadership in Cuba.

For this reason, this correspondent has separately interviewed the three former ambassadors from Cuba who now live in Washington.

All three are sophisticated, outstanding diplomats who are better equipped than most of their compatriots to assess the situation from the broad view, and set it in proper perspective.

THREE DIPLOMATS

Guillermo Belt, a prominent Cuban attorney, served here from 1944 to 1949 under President Grau St. Martin. Dr. Luis Machado, now managing director of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, was ambassador in the early 1950s, resigning when dictator Batista seized control in a 1952 bloodless coup d'etat.

Nicolas Arroyo, a distinguished architect of international repute, was the last ambassador under Batista, serving until Fidel Castro came to power.

Of the three, Belt is the most bitter about President Kennedy's action in suspending the blockade, and pledging not to invade Cuba if the Russians dismantle their missile sites.

REDS STRIKE AGAIN

Telephoned repeatedly by refugees in Miami and New York during the past few days, Belt declared: "They consider this a second Bay of Pigs disaster. I worry about the outcome, because it seems to me that the U.S. is claiming too early a victory. Communists are ready to stop when the situation is not favorable to them, but they always strike again."

* * *

Belt refused to accept at face value JFK's statement that he did not know of the missiles build-up until a few days before ordering a quarantine of the island.

"Such bases cannot be built in 48 or 96 hours," Belt said.

"Some of our refugees who had held official positions before they slipped out of Cuba last June reported at that time that the Soviets, using tanker ships to disguise their intent, were unloading war materiel at the western port of Mariel, where there are no oil facilities. We now know that missile bases were established in nearby Guanay and San Cristobal."

* * *

Belt said he has been telling the refugees that "from now on we must rely on our own efforts to free Cuba."

He said the Cubans-in-exile must have "real group leaders—not ones paid by our Central Intelligence Agency."

Naturally the Cubans must not antagonize or undermine the U.S., he continued, but added: "If the CIA will stop interfering, and subsidizing certain Cuban exile groups, we can select our own leaders, and do the job ourselves."

Belt was particularly critical of Jose Miro Cardona, the self-proclaimed leader of the exile group, "who was hand-picked and imposed on us by the CIA."

He said Cardona lost the respect of Cuban refugees when he "consented to the Bay of Pigs invasion, knowing that the air support would not be forthcoming."

"Since April of 1961 Cardona has been telling Cubans that there would be an invasion next month, and the next month, when the real answer was that the Kennedy administration would not back another invasion," he shrugged.

* * *

Machado, speaking much less bluntly, said he would "withhold judgment until I know exactly what President Kennedy has agreed to."

Reminding that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's letter offering to dismantle the missile bases had hinted that JFK should pledge no invasion by anyone, Machado said: "Mr. Kennedy would have no authority to make such a commitment. It would not hold water for the refugees, or for other nations.

"Castro is certainly not going to stop making a nuisance of himself, as we can see by the Venezuelan oilfield sabotage."

Machado, whose son-in-law has been a prisoner in Cuba since the Bay of Pigs disaster, and whose aged mother still lives in Havana, said cautiously: "I am keeping my fingers crossed until we see the terms of settlement. It's all right to get rid of the guns, but let's not forget the gunman."

Arroyo, who was locked out of the Cuban embassy by Castro's henchman, said he is more optimistic than most of the exiles.

Convinced that the Kennedy administration is now alive to the recurrent danger as long as Castro is in power, he said:

THE MAD CASTRO

"You may not invade now, but you know that you cannot much longer continue peaceful coexistence with the mad Castro. Sooner or later he must be destroyed. The U. S. now knows that it has the backing of all other Latin American republics in removing this threat to peace.

"I think Kennedy took the only action that he could, in agreeing to let the United Nations negotiate terms for settlement, after Khrushchev apparently met his conditions."

Arroyo blamed the administration for "waiting too long to take action," but he also blamed Cuban exiles for too much feuding among themselves.

Expressing the hope that the disgruntled refugee groups will now "pull together," he said sagely:

* * *

"There is only one common enemy—Castro. There will be plenty of time for threshing out our political differences after Castro is deposed, and our country restored to us. Let us be patient a little longer."

Peugeot Kidnapers Get 20-Year Terms

VERSAILLES, France (AP)—Two men who kidnaped 4-year-old Eric Peugeot drew 20-year sentences yesterday. This penalty, fixed by a jury, is the maximum in France.

Raymond Rolland, 27, and Pierre Larcher, 40, seized the scion of a wealthy automobile manufacturing family in 1960. They released him unharmed for $100,000 ransom. They were arrested last year at a swank resort after spending all but $12,000 of high living.

3 Deaths Mar Halloween Festivities

By United Press International

Three Muskegon area youths, dressed in costumes and with bags of Halloween candy clutched in their fists, were killed in two separate traffic accidents last night.

* * *

Two of the boys were brothers, Judson York, 11, and Alden, 7, of Muskegon. They were killed when they ran into the path of a car in Muskegon Township, authorities said.

* * *

The driver of the car, Earl Roomsburg, 27, Muskegon, told police he was going about 35 miles an hour when the boys ran in front of his car.

The bags in which they carried their accumulated treasures of the night's forays were imbedded in the grillwork of the car after the accident and candy was strewn along the street.

Witnesses told officers the children had been dodging traffic on the street immediately before the accident. Roomsburg was not held.

The third victim was David Vaughan, 8, rural Muskegon. He lost his life on a Muskegon street when he was trick-or-treating with his sister Helen, 12, and his brother Tracy, 8. The children were visiting an aunt's house in Muskegon at the time of the accident.

All the news of Halloween activities was not of such a tragic nature in the state. In Detroit pint-sized witches and goblins, accompanied by their parents, conducted a door-to-door campaign, and instead of asking goodies for themselves, they sought help for underprivileged children throughout the world.

The children conducted their drive for funds for UNICEF on the city's Near East Side and some estimates said they might have gotten as much as $10,000.

Detroit also had its share of trouble due to Halloween pranks and on occasion, plain meanness. In the city's tougher sections, the night was ruined for the younger tots when gangs of older children strongarmed their cache of the night.

The Detroit Fire Department reported 69 false alarms were turned in. "But that wasn't as bad as we thought," a spokesman said. "The night before we had 73 false alarms."

He said firemen called the night before Halloween "Hell Night" because of the number of pranksters seeking an early start.

* * *

In Detroit, police said roving gangs of teen-agers overturned five Volkswagen compact cars. Jackson police said revelers in their area pushed all the cars from a used car lot into the middle of the street.

Soaped windows, overturned garbage cans and happy children in rumpled costumes prevailed over most of the state before the night was over.

Sign Says Keep Out; Who Wants to Go In!

* * *

The sign says:

"Iowa State Penitentiary. Keep out."

Weather Fouls Up Refrigeration Plans

SAN JOSE, Ill. (AP)— A group of boys wanted to preserve specimens of a July hailstorm the size of baseballs and put them in a refrigerator.

* * *

But they were unable to do so.

The storm tore down power lines and the refrigerator stopped.

Here Are Your Nov. 6 Legislative Candidates

LLOYD L. ANDERSON (R)
1st District

Republican incumbent Lloyd L. Anderson, 54, has served three 2-year terms in the State Legislature. Anderson is employed as a right-of-way purchaser for the Oakland County Road Commission.

He was formerly a stores supervisor for Consumers Power Co. for 20 years and was supervisor of Waterford Township for six years prior to his election to the legislature in 1954.

A graduate of the University of Michigan, Anderson has been active in the Boy Scout movement and the United Fund and Red Cross fund-raising drives. He lives at 3769 Lincolnshire St., Waterford Township.

His statement follows:

"It is difficult to select a specific bill that means more to people from your district than any others.

"But if I had to select one I have worked on that meant a great deal to the people of District 1, I would unhesitatingly choose "Enrolled House Bill No. 243, dealing with school aid funds. It was one on which I worked extremely hard, and helped pass.

"Gov. Swainson, who preached 'equal education,' wanted a straight 8 per cent increase in state school aid.

"This was anything but equal. Under the bill I helped to promote, an apportionment program was worked out that increased the aid to poorer districts more than to richer districts.

"The bill was passed, the following increases in state aid from 1962 to 1963 will be forthcoming:

Avon Township, $473,409.75 to $516,808.46; Pontiac, $2,837,408.32 to $2,693,365.00; Lake Orion, $569,799.18 to $619,475.86; Clarkston, $725,067.52 to $786,179.76.

Oxford, $296,949.55 to $321,328.23; Waterford Township, $2,159,839.10 to $2,352,187.04; Dublin, $119,397.65 to $130,348.85; Huron Valley, $688,105.88 to $741,866.66; Holly, $396,782.97 to $429,184.97.

"This is just one of the many programs I have worked on designed to benefit my district, my county and my state.

"My pledge is to continue to work for the best interests of the people who elect me."

JOHN S. COLEMAN (D)
1st District

The 33-year-old Coleman was elected township constable in 1957 and appointed to a township board vacancy the same year. He was the top vote getter in Township Board elections in 1959.

A graduate at Eastern Michigan University, who lives at 100 Crescent Road, Waterford Township, Coleman has served in the U.S. Army Counter Intelligence Corps, was once director of Oakland Citizens League and is president of the township Democratic Club.

His statement follows:

"I support a program of genuine fiscal reform for Michigan — one which will provide economic incentives for business and equitable taxation on individuals and corporations.

"Regardless of who the next governor might be, I pledge support for fiscal responsibility which will make municipal income taxes unnecessary and provide revenue for local governments to perform their needed functions. I challenge my opponent to make the same commitment in view of his strict party-line voting record.

"I consider the youth of our state to be our greatest resource. I will fight unstintingly for a more liberal state-aid formula based on local effort and assessed valuations which will provide increased funds for school districts located outside business and industrial areas.

"I believe sincerely that mental health facilities must be expanded and improved.

"Community college development must be accelerated. Appropriations for colleges and universities must keep pace with growing enrollments and the ever-increasing need for technological research.

"Should the legislature be called upon to reapportion in the next session, I will fight vigorously to give Oakland County a greater voice in the State House and Senate.

"Finally, I pledge to work with persons of good will of either party to give Michigan a responsible, responsive legislature."

ARTHUR J. LAW (D)
2nd District

Owner of a Pontiac supermarket who served six years as mayor of Pontiac and 12 years as a city commissioner, Arthur J. Law is seeking his third term in the State Legislature.

Law, who is 56 years old, has been a Pontiac resident for 37 years. He came here from his native Oklahoma at age 19 and exactly 19 years later became mayor. He lives at 27 Miami Road.

He was an employe of Fisher Body Division from 1925 to 1943, a labor representative to the War Production Board from 1943 to 1945, and returned to Fisher Body Division from 1945 to 1948 before turning his attention to his supermarket. He attended the University of Illinois.

His statement follows:

"This election and the April vote on the proposed constitution are the most vital elections we will experience in our lifetime!

"We must decide whether our state will be surrendered to the reactionary Republican forces that have long controlled the Legislature, and possibly to a weak, pliable and politically inexperienced governor obsessed with his own leadership ability.

"His weakness was shown throughout the constitutional convention. Now he is willing to sell out his own county on representation so that out-state Republican powers might accept him as governor.

"The other choice is to re-elect a Democratic governor and as many senators and representatives as possible to help him promote badly needed programs.

"When the U. S. Supreme Court gives its decision on reapportioning, we must have a legislature that will do a fair and equitable job or a governor who will veto an unfair one. Pontiac, Oakland County, and our state will then be on the way to progress.

"Our state highway commissioner has dramatically shown what Democrats can do for our state when we are not retarded by a reactionary Republican legislature.

"The next two years are of utmost importance to our state and I am extremely interested in doing my part to see that Pontiac gets the break we so richly deserve."

★ ★ ★

ROBERT C. SMITH (R)
2nd District

Robert C. Smith is a 45-year-old American history teacher at Waterford Township Kettering High School who is in his first campaign for political office other than his candidacy for constitutional convention delegate last year.

Smith, however, was active in Republican affairs while attending Central Michigan University in Mount Pleasant and was president of the Isabella County Republican Committee.

A World War II bomber pilot, Smith also has worked for Kaiser-Frazer Corp. and was sales manager for Air Seal Corp. He lives at 14 Williams St., Pontiac.

"We need a more vigorous personality representing the people of Pontiac. Residents are going elsewhere to shop. Pride in our business district has abated. We have not progressed with the times.

"My opponent has had 16 years to do something for this community. There is little evidence that he ever has.

★ ★ ★

My varied work experience (iron worker, auto plant assembly worker, test driver, sales manager, teacher, veteran) plus degrees from two Michigan universities enables me to understand the citizens of Pontiac and qualify me for an opportunity to get Pontiac on the map in a manner in which we can all be proud.

★ ★ ★

My opponent is to be admired for serving the interests of our people in the labor movement when doing so was not popular.

But, he seems to have forgotten that the other members of the community are supposedly served by him. When one group is served to the detriment of others, all suffer.

We must instill new vigor in our representation in Lansing. Pontiac must be given new confidence that those distant horizons of prosperity with jobs and dignity are really quite close and attainable.

★ ★ ★

This requires effort, work and interest by elected officials. Leading these officials should be the state representative."

★ ★ ★

HENRY M. HOGAN JR. (R)
3rd District

First elected to the State Legislature in 1960, Henry M. Hogan Jr., 29-year-old Birmingham attorney, is seeking re-election to a second term.

A graduate of the University of Michigan Law School, Hogan is an associate publisher of the Birmingham Eccentric, vice president of the Averill Press of Birmingham, and a partner in the law firm of Emery, Parsons and Bahr.

He also had two years of graduate work in business administration. A member of state, national, Detroit and Oakland County bar associations, he also is a director of the Wayne State University Press Club and the Brookside School Cranbrook. He lives at 4253 W. Orchard Hill Drive, Bloomfield Township.

★ ★ ★

His statement follows:

"Michigan is faced in the years ahead with two great problems, an old cliche called "business climate," and a misused phrase called "fiscal reform."

"These two problems can be merged into one problem. If the business climate of the state were to improve and more people employed, the need for spending in such areas as welfare and unemployment compensation would be lessened and the pressures on our fiscal system would subsequently be lessened.

"The real problem Michigan has faced over the last 14 years is that the chief executive officer has been of a different political party than the legislature. The result is that any program the chief executive offers is stymied in the legislature and any plan formulated by the legislature dies by veto on the governor's desk.

"The loser is not the governor or the legislature, but the State of Michigan, which gets deeper and deeper in debt.

"The people of Michigan have an opportunity this year to change these complex frustrations.

"If a change is not made, the only promise for Michigan in the next two years will be that of the past two years. We must make this change to give Michigan a chance to move forward again."

JOHN F. FOLEY (D)
3rd District

A Birmingham resident currently associated with the Detroit law firm of Schwartz, O'Hare and Levin, John F. Foley is a graduate of Birmingham High School, Georgetown University and the University of Michigan Law School.

Foley has practiced law in Birmingham and has been an attorney for the National Labor Relations Board in Detroit. The 34-year-old attorney, who lives at 185 Euclid Ave., served as a communications officer in the Navy during the Korean War.

He also has worked as a radio news writer in Clinton, Iowa, and is a member of the American Civil Liberties Union.

His statement follows:

The most important issue in Michigan for the next two years will be reapportionment of the State Senate. In all probability next spring the courts will order redistricting of the Senate.

It is essential during these two years that Gov. Swainson police the legislature to prevent continuation of its unrepresentative character by gerrymandering.

"We have waited over 50 years for redistricting and progress will be blocked for the rest of the century if another Senate veto block is built with the approval of a Republican governor.

"The environment for economic progress and job creation is best aided by better governmental services. Michigan's outstanding superhighway system is a boon to tourism and business in reducing time and costs of transportation.

"Western states with a recent high rate of economic growth are spending more on services per capita than Michigan.

"My opponent has proved himself detached from reality by cosponsoring a resolution calling for a prohibition upon the federal government's collection of income, gift or estate taxes.

"He says that if the federal government withdraws from its business activities, it wouldn't need the income tax.

"However, the fiscal facts are that two-thirds of federal income comes from the income tax and three-quarters of its budget is spent on national defense."

RAYMOND L. BAKER (R)
4th District

After making good in 1960 in his first political effort, Raymond L. Baker, 55, is seeking re-election to the State Legislature.

A retired pharmacist and drugstore owner who lives at 3944 Cumberland Road, Berkley, Baker is a former member of the Berkley City Council and a former president of the Berkley Exchange Club.

He is a graduate of Lake Orion High School and the Detroit Institute of Technology's college of pharmacy. Baker and his wife June are the parents of four children.

His statement follows:

"Always brought up at election time are the time-worn 'Aid to Education' promises.

"Two years ago we had an extremely sad situation in regard to the now defunct Carver School district.

"Although the opposition tried to make hay over the situation, they had nothing specific to offer to rectify the many problems.

"I made no blue-sky promises to solve the problems. I said, 'Nothing is to be gained by precipitous action. Any decision should not be rushed into but arrived at only after considerable planning and study.'

"The school aid bill of 1962 contains a section which represents my planning and study. It provided for Oak Park School district, which absorbed the Carver School District, to receive $740,000 over a five-year period. This more than adequately compensates Oak Park for the major influx of students from Carver.

"I spearheaded a drive to include this section in the bill and fought overtime to assure its inclusion.

"I also played a major role in increasing state aid by 7½ per cent. This increased aid to Oak Park schools by $62,628; Berkley, $128,734; Farmington, $121,000; Lyon, $22,121; Novi, $10,150; Southfield, $47,358; and Clarenceville, $43,143.

"The representation I give my area is based on sound planning and study and not meaningless 'before-election promises'."

WILLIAM HAYWARD (R)

Hayward, a graduate of Royal Oak High School, has spent 25 years as a banker and 13 years in the insurance business. He has been mayor for eight years and a city commissioner for 14 years.

He attended Wayne State University and Rutgers University. He lives at 1839 Sycamore St. and is the father of four children.

His statement follows:

"I see the issues as more economy and greater efficiency in administration of state government, putting an end to ever-increasing taxes, less dependency on government by the people and curbing the policy of tax and tax and spend and spend.

"Seniority, experience and familiarity with the office are of utmost importance and value in properly serving one's constituents.

"I urge support of George Romney for governor and assure that the 14-year slowdown in Michigan will be reversed with a Republican leading the state together with a legislature of the same party. The combination should be given at least a two-year opportunity to carry out a program of rehabilitation and reform.

★ ★ ★

"I have been a resident of the district for 42 years and have held the confidence of the people by being permitted to serve in local government for 21 years. I currently am mayor of Royal Oak. I favor adoption of the new constitution."

HAROLD J. ROBINSON (D)
5th District

An attorney with offices in Royal Oak, Harold J. Robinson, Democrat, is making his first bid for political office.

A graduate of Wayne State University Law School, Robinson was Royal Oak chairman for the March of Dimes and Law Day chairman for the city during 1962.

He served as cryptographer in the U.S. Air Force from 1949 to 1953 and worked for Michigan Bell Telephone Co., WXYZ radio station and Petersen Publishing Co. prior to opening his law office last year.

His statement follows:

"A change is needed in Lansing and it should take a firm and positive direction.

"The incumbency of my opponent has been characterized by a complete inability to act independently of the outstate leadership of his party, which has made him wholly unresponsive to the needs and wishes of his constituency.

"Recognizing that bipartisan effort and cooperation must take place before the interests of suburban communities are properly recognized in legislation, I plan to establish a "suburban caucus" with three main functions:

"1) To represent the interests of suburban citizens where these are distinct from those of big city and rural citizens.

"2) To act as a swinging balance of power between the two existing power groups in Lansing.

"3) To provide leadership capable of reconciling these opposing interests.

"I will support Governor Swainson's program for mental health.

"I intend to work for rules changes that will end pigeon-holing of desirable legislation. Several worthwhile labor bills have been bottld up for years through this tactic.

"Above all, I intend to give my constituency my full efforts and energy and the benefit of my legal experience. My opponent's attendance record — nearly 25 per cent absences — is one to be ashamed of. I intend to be a full-time legislator."

BILL S. HUFFMAN (D)
6th District

A winner in a three-man Democratic primary race for nomination to the 6th District legislative seat, Madison Heights mayor Bill S. Huffman defeated the incumbent John C. Hitchcock.

Prior to his current first term as mayor, the 37-year-old Huffman served two terms on the Madison Heights City Council. He is a self-employed manufacture's representative after eight years as a supervisor for Fisher Body Division.

Huffman has attended Lawrence Institute of Technology, is active in Kiwanis Club activities, and has had six years of experience on his city's planning, tax and zoning commissions.

His statement follows:

"Judging by the actions of the past legislature, it is evident that the most important item in the next session will be cooperation among the representatives.

"The new legislature, regardless of party, must start enacting legislation that is beneficial to the wants and needs of the people.

"Too often in the past a simple meeting of the minds could have settled many big issues that are being batted around today as political trickery. The reputation and future of this great State of Michigan is much more important than any selfish motivation of either party.

"All people must recognize business as friends and neighbors and not just necessarily taxpayers. The same fact applies to business in recognizing we must have a better labor-management relationship.

"There will in all probability be a suburban caucus of representatives in the coming Legislature due to the vast change in population.

"The problems are now twofold in the suburban areas with inadequate representation; thus these particular representatives must band together to study their needs, goals and decisions that will be necessary.

"All of this with common sense and understanding of our fellow man will certainly bring about a much better relationship in our legislature."

KENNETH WALLER (R)
6th District

Kenneth Waller, a 43-year-old resident of 643 Spencer St., Ferndale, is an automotive styling model maker at the General Motors Tech Center in Warren.

Waller is a member of UAW Local 160 at the Tech Center and has been a member of the UAW for 22 years. He has been a life-long Republican although the union has always been staunchly Democratic.

He was an unsuccessful candidate for the GOP nomination for constitutional convention delegate in 1961.

The father of seven children, Waller is a member of the Tri-City Republican Club and has served as a GOP precinct delegate and convention delegate.

He also has belonged to the AFL Carpenters and Joiners Union.

His statement follows:

"I support the present status of the so-called Ford-Canton decision. Whenever a workman is laid off due to a strike in another plant, he is entitled to unemployment compensation.

"I am opposed to all of the so-called 'Right to Work' laws. When a plant has been lawfully organized and a bargaining agent certified, the union has a right to bargain for a contract requiring all employes of that plant to support the union.

"The legislature must take another look at our labor laws and provide for protection of the public in those unusual situations where the employer attempts to operate a plant after an effective strike has been called.

"Such situations have occurred in areas where the local law enforcement agencies did not have sufficient manpower to maintain order and guarantee the safety of travelers and residents.

"A simple procedure should be established whereby courts could find that a strike did in fact exist and issue an order effectively closing the plant.

★ ★ ★

"Such an act by the legislature would relieve local citizens of the cost and danger inherent in such situations and protect the members of a lawfully established picket line from the danger of injury by persons attempting to crash through."

Solon Pleads Own Case ... Fined $35

LANSING (AP) — Sen. Basil W. Brown, D-Detroit, was found guilty of driving in an unsafe manner and fined $35 after he pleaded his own case in Lansing Municipal Court.

During the trial, patrolman Matthew Spitzley testified he saw Brown's foreign sports car skid 61 feet and jump a 4-foot snowbank last March 2. The patrolman said Brown admitted drinking "six or seven shots of liquor" at a night-club before the skid.

Spitzley said he allowed Brown to go home in a taxicab "because the captain told me we couldn't lock him up because he was a senator."

★ ★ ★

Brown admitted drinking "four or five drinks" in his testimony.

Avondale Recall Petitions In

Board Expects to Be Cleared

Avondale Board of Education President Floyd L. Cobb Jr. says facts to be revealed Monday night will clear him and three other board members of charges brought against them by a group seeking their recall.

Cobb made the statement yesterday after the Avondale School District Improvement Association presented its recall petitions to School Supt. George E. Shackelford.

Shackelford, who checked the petitions with Asst. Supt. Arnold Ojala and two ASDIA representatives, said the petitions contained enough signatures to start recall action against four board members.

The superintendent said the validity of each signature now must be checked. In orden to be valid, the signature must be that of a qualified voter who is assessed with school taxes.

The citizen's committee forwarded separate petitions with over 1,000 signatures each on school board officers David W. Hackett, vice president; Raymond N. Baker, secretary; Mrs. Genevieve Porter, treasurer; and Cobb.

The board has a maximum of 30 days in which to verify the authenticity of the signatures on the petitions.

A special election will be conducted within 35 days after their verification.

"We plan on continuing circulation of petitions in the event some of the signatures turned in may possibly be invalid," said ASDIA president Thomas B. Rocker.

Two of the board members concerned said that facts would be brought to light at Monday's regular board meeting which would exonerate the board of the charges made by the ASDIA.

The association was formed after the Aug. 7 resignation of School Supt. LeRoy R. Watt. At that time it charged the board with forcing Watt to resign.

★ ★ ★

The group also has charged that these officers are not sufficiently dedicated to the best administration of education without regard to political or personal ambitions.

Cobb expressed confidence that the board's previous action was justified.

"I am sure that from Monday night's board meeting there will be justification for previous action of the majority of the board of education," he said.

★ ★ ★

"The subsequent developments will vidicate us I'm sure," he said. "We're hoping for a good turnout at the meeting."

URGE CANDIDATES

Meanwhile, in addition to collecting more signatures members of the ASDIA will continue urging people to seek new candidates for the four positions on the board should the recall effort be successful, according to Rocker.

He said the ASDIA will continue its work as a "watchdog" after the recall decision is made.

Rocker has previously said the committee will study other school systems in an attempt to better Avondale's.

He said the committee is also investigating the possibility of a public library in the area and ways to realign "arbitrary" school district boundaries.

He was referring to the divisions made in townships and other municipalities when school districts are consolidated.

Pumpkin Home Prize Winner

Walled Lake Woman Gets Savings Bond

Mrs. Scott was awarded a $25 U. S. Savings Bond last night for her Halloween display — a pumpkin carved to look like the home of "Peter, Peter Pumpkin Eater."

Mrs. Scott said she spent more than six hours working on her pumpkin, which was painted white and silver outside.

The judges chose Mrs. Scott's pumpkin as the winner after looking at Halloween displays in the Walled Lake-Wixom area for more than three hours.

Joyce Miller Marries in Bloomfield Township

TROY — Beautiful Saviour Lutheran Church in Bloomfield Township was the setting recently for the wedding of Joyce Lynne Miller and Allen D. Swanson. Rev. Donald Zill performed the nuptials.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence A. Miller of Royal Oak. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Swanson of 6680 Coolidge Highway.

★ ★ ★

Attending as matron of honor was Mrs. Merritt Hougen of Ypsilanti. Bridesmaids were Judy Gross and Maureen Shearer, both of Royal Oak.

On the esquire side, Clare Caristein of Pontiac served as best man.

The guests were seated by Lynn Arft of Royal Oak, Gary Sundberg of Rochester and cousins of the bridegroom, Bill Deatrick of Royal Oak and Richard Swanson of Utica.

A reception in the church parlors immediately after the ceremony was followed by parties in the homes of bridal couple's parents. The newlyweds are living in Troy.

Slate Agriculture Workshop

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department will take a long, hard look at the economic health of the country during the 40th annual Agricultural Outlook Conference here Nov. 13-16.

★ ★ ★

Department economists will examine economic facts and interpret them from a standpoint of agriculture for the coming year. The conference is primarily a fact finding and fact interpreting workshop which is based on a continuous year-'round activity.

The conference will be attended by agricultural economists and home economists from state extension services and land grant colleges, along with representatives of farm organizations and businesses related to agriculture.

Invitations have been sent to foreign embassies in Washington and to the Canadian department of agriculture.

★ ★ ★

The extension service is the department's education arm which help spread agriculture economic information throughout the country.

DESIGNED TO HELP

Outlook is part of the department's economic intelligence service. Together with crop and livestock reports and market news, Outlook provides a continuing flow of information on the situation in agriculture and the most probable developments in the future.

Outlook is designed primarily to help farmers do a better job of planning their production and marketing. Business men who sell goods or services to farmers or handle agricultural products after they leave the farm rely increasingly on the Outlook service.

Consumers who buy the food and fiber that farmers produce find that they also need Outlook service. The department said Outlook is an aid which helps consumers to buy more effectively.

The Outlook service is carried on at both national and state levels. The national material is developed here by economists and statisticians.

This information is released throughout the year in a series of regularly published "situation" reports. Outlook programs in the state are carried on by the extension service in the land grant colleges and universities who use the national material for background.

She said he took a step back and then stepped forward into the path of her car. Wadasz had looked at her approaching car just before he was hit, according to Mrs. Springsteen.

She was not held by police.

Opposition Becoming Formidable

Charles de Gaulle's Popularity Margin Narrowing

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analys

Since May 1958 when President Charles de Gaulle took over French leadership with dictatorial powers to settle the Algerian conflict, the French people dutifully have been following his lead.

This week the president won another of the popularity contests to which he has resorted frequently over the last four years as he has gone about changing the political and physical structure of France.

But it was won by a narrower margin than hoped and accompanied by many a cry of foul by a united parliamentary opposition to his demand that future French presidents be elected by direct vote of the people.

Responding to de Gaulle's threat that he would quit "at once and without return" if he failed to receive a substantial vote of confidence, French voters gave hime a healthy 62 per cent of the votes cast.

* * *

But it was the slimmest margin of any since June 1958 and growing opposition was signified not only by those who voted against him but by the substantial number who stayed at home.

In 1958, French voters endorsed his constitutional changes by a margin of four to one. This week, his support came from actually less than half of France's registered voters.

Victory was won, however, over formidable opposition.

Returns from the April 8, 1962, referendum approving the Algerian peace settlement showed a growing number of Frenchmen opposed to increased powers for de Gaulle.

SOLID OPPOSITION

Sunday's referendum, taking the presidential election out of the hands of about 50,000 privileged politicians, found every political party aligned against him with the exception of his own Union for the New Republic.

With considerable reason, de Gaulle's opposition accused him of obscuring the real issue, the constitutional change, and making it one of his own prestige. There also were bitter complaints that the government was monopolizing radio and television air time.

In any event, it seemed apparent that the honeymoon was all but over.

A new National Assembly will be elected next month and there seems little reason to believe that de Gaulle can win anything like a majority.

* * *

The new assembly cannot topple de Gaulle but it can withhold approval of his budget or speedily overthrow any premier he might name.

If government processes are to be orderly, there must be a considerable change in de Gaulle tactics which heretofore have been to run roughshod over the assembly in matters both domestic and foreign.

* * *

Opposition to de Gaulle springs from sources which are both political and economic.

There are increasing demands for greater participation in NATO and the move toward an integrated Europe even at the loss of some French sovereignty which de Gaulle has rejected.

Socialist party leader Guy Mollet, a former premier, has accused de Gaulle of ignoring the "legitimate demands of the workers."

Strikes and threats of strikes reflect pressing demands for increased wages in nationalized industries and public services.

Police Take Lisa, Mike From Filled House

2 Abandoned Tots Leave Generous Pair

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Clutching bags of "tricks or treat" sweets, two abandoned youngsters were taken Wednesday night from the home of a laborer and his wife, whose pocketbook couldn't match the size of their hearts.

The children, known only as Mike and Lisa, were awakened at 9 o'clock by two police officers who took them to a county parental home.

"I wouldn't mind if we were financially fixed so we could take them on," said Mrs. Parisse.

ALREADY CROWDED

But their six-room house already is crowded to capacity—by their 12 children, ages 2 to 17, a dog and four pups.

Parisse, a construction worker, moonlights on two other jobs and still barely makes ends meet. His brood runs up a grocery bill averaging $65 a week.

"She had the sniffles since she got here," said Mrs. Parisse, "She can't go out in the cold without a coat."

The bags of candy were gifts from the Parisse children, who had just completed their Halloween foray.

POLICE TAKE OVER

Cpl. Joe Harris of the Juvenile Bureau said police decided to take Mike, about 4, and his sister so the Parisses wouldn't be bothered by curious callers.

Earlier, both county and city authorities had refused to take custody. The county said it could not until the children had been without parental care for at least a year. The city said the children, technically, had not been abandoned.

Mr. and Mrs. Parisse were attending a football game Sunday when a stranger brought the children to their home. He asked their eldest daughter, Helen, 15, to watch them while he hunted an apartment.

PULLED TO SAFETY — The feet of Vaughn Kincey go into the air as the 20-year-old Bridgeport, Conn., man is jerked to safety onto a seventh-floor balcony of the Beverly Hilton Hotel in Beverly Hills, Calif. Kincey bolted for the balcony after police were called to the hotel by the manager who became suspicious of a credit card offered by the Connecticut man and two companions. He was arrested on suspicion of forgery and disorderly conduct.

Two Area Persons to Lead Discussions

Two Pontiac area persons will be leading discussion groups at the institute on organizational leadership to be held at Michigan State University Oakland Saturday, Nov. 10 from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. sponsored by the division of continuing education.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Olin Thomas, 8900 Gale Road, White Lake Township, will have as her topic "Getting and Keeping Members." Her group will discuss why people join an organization, why they drop out and ways to keep attendance high.

Mrs. Thomas is president of the board of directors of the Oakland Child Guidance Clinics, Inc., and vice president of the Wayne State University Faculty Wives Club.

"The Role of the Professional in Working with Volunteers" will be the subject for Ted Panaretos, director of community relations, Pontiac State Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Thirty-seven Oakland County men's service clubs, women's clubs, civic, church and philanthropic groups are joining with the university as co-sponsors of the institute.

Junior Editors Quiz on BIRDS

QUESTION: When birds migrate, how do they find their way?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: For a great many years, students of birds have been asking themselves this question. Such feats as that of the Greater Shearwater, which flies straight to the tiny islands of Tristan da Cunha in the middle of the vast South Atlantic, seem impossible to explain.

Yet scientists have recently come up with certain answers. How do seamen find their way over the open ocean? By taking observations of the sun and the stars. Birds do the same thing, say these scientists.

They don't have sextants or mathematical formulas, but they do, for instance, know that the sun should be on a certain angle to their line of flight (1).

At night, it seems that they use the stars for the same purpose (2). You may ask, since the sun and stars appear to move and are at different parts of the sky at different times, doesn't this throw the birds out?

It's difficult to believe, but scientists say that birds have a kind of built in clock system which permits them to allow for different positions of sun and stars for different times of day or night. Birds also follow mountain ranges, rivers and (3) shorelines, say the authorities.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Study the birds around you and see if you can find bird habits which are connected with the daily movements of the sun. Birds start singing at sunrise, for example. What other bird-sun relationships can you find?

Unlimited Visiting Time Reaches Hospital's Limit

LONDON (UPI) — The Exeter and Mid-Devon Hospitals Group said today it was ending an experiment with unlimited visiting time.

It said patients were being worn out by too many "old friends" showing up and some families were picnicking on hospital staircases.

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Robert A. Gaertig, 18, told the judge yesterday he "just couldn't resist the urge" to bag a duck over a park where shooting is prohibited.

County court judge John E. Krueger sympathized by fining Gaertig $50 — and letting him keep the three-pound bird.

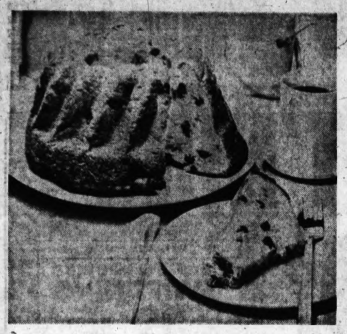
Add Unusual Cakes to Desserts



GUGELHUPF — The Gugelhupf featured here was baked by Herr Holger Hofmann, one of Germany's leading food writers and television cooks. His version of the famous cake is baked in the traditional Turk's-head mold and it calls for a generous amount of chopped almonds, dark and golden raisins and candied fruit.

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

When you invite guests just for dessert, you want to serve them something special. Though apple pie may be one of America's favorite desserts, a good piece of cake is preferred by many.

★ ★ ★

Today we are suggesting some unusual cakes for you to add to your repertoire of fine desserts. Two of them are in the best European tradition. One is purely American.

Gugelhupf or Kugelhupf speaks of leisurely afternoon coffee in the days prior to World War I. In Germany or Austria this yeast-raised cake, laden with fruit and nuts and baked in a fancy Turk's-head mold, was a familiar sight.

The name comes from the German "gugel-kugel" (ball), plus "hupf" (to jump); the ball of dough jumps in size.

Gugelhupf

½ cup warm water
2 packages or cakes yeast, active dry or compressed
3 cups unsifted flour
½ cup milk
⅓ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup (1 stick) margarine
4 egg yolks
1 egg
½ cup chopped almonds
½ cup dark seedless raisins
½ cup golden seedless raisins
¼ cup candied lemon peel, chopped
¼ cup candied orange peel, chopped

Measure warm water into large mixing bowl. Sprinkle or crumble in yeast. Stir until dissolved. Add ½ cup flour; blend. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until light and bubbly, about ½ hour.

Scald milk; stir in sugar, salt and margarine; cool to lukewarm. Stir lukewarm milk mixture, egg yolks and egg into sponge mixture. Add remaining 2½ cups flour; mix well. Stir in almonds and fruits.

Turn into greased 9-inch Turk's-head mold (a fluted, tube cake pan with 3-quart capacity) or a 9-inch tube cake pan. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) about 30 minutes. Unmold while cake is warm and sprinkle with confectioners' sugar. Makes 1 large cake.

The cookbook from which we received our first lessons as a young cook had and still has in later editions a recipe for Mohn Torte or Poppy Seed torte. Truly an unusual cake, it is not often served. It should be, because it is delicious.

Poppy Seed Cake

¾ cup poppy seeds
¾ cup water
¾ cup butter or margarine
1½ cups sugar
½ cup nonfat dry milk
2 cups sifted, all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
4 stiffly beaten egg whites

Set oven at 350 (moderate). Soak poppy seeds in water (for 2 hours). Cream butter and sugar together in a 2-quart bowl until light and fluffy. Sift nonfat dry milk, flour and baking powder together onto a piece of waxed paper.

Add one-fourth of dry ingredients to butter mixture and beat well. Then add one third poppy seed-water mixture and beat well. Continue to add dry ingredients and poppy seeds alternately, beating well after each addition. Fold in egg whites gently.

Pour into two greased and floured 8-inch round pans. Bake near center of oven 30 minutes, or until cake springs back when lightly touched with finger. Cool and fill with Almond Filling before serving. Keep filled cake refrigerated.

Almond Filling

½ cup nonfat dry milk
2 tablespoons cornstarch
¾ cup sugar
1½ cups water
4 egg yolks, slightly beaten
1 teaspoon almond flavoring

Mix nonfat dry milk, cornstarch and sugar together in a 2-quart saucepan. Stir in a mixture of water and egg yolks gradually, until smooth. Cook and stir over medium heat until thick and smooth. Continue to cook and stir over low heat one minute longer.

Remove from heat and stir in almond flavoring. Allow to cool before spreading between layers and on top of Poppy Seed Cake.

We suppose an enterprising cook ran out of shortening one day when she wanted to bake a cake. In place of it and eggs she used mayonnaise. Other cooks followed suit and experimented with different flavors.

This Raisin Chocolate Mayonnaise cake will stay moist for days.

Raisin Chocolate Mayonnaise Cake

1 cup dark or golden raisins
2 cups sifted flour
4 tablespoons cocoa
1 teaspoon baking soda
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup water
1 cup mayonnaise
1 cup sugar

Chop raisins. Resift flour with cocoa, soda and salt. Cream mayonnaise and sugar well. Add flour and water alternately in three additions. Stir in raisins. Pour into greased and floured 13x9x2-inch oblong pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 to 35 minutes. Cool and frost with penuche or chocolate icing. Makes 12 or more servings.

Men Usually Like Very Sharp Sauce

Cook the soup and the shrimp for the salad ahead and refrigerate.

Mimi's Sauce

1 bottle (4 ounces or ⅓ cup) horseradish
⅓ cup chili sauce
Lemon juice to taste

Mix together the horseradish, chili sauce and lemon juice; refrigerate in a covered jar for an hour or overnight to allow flavors to blend.

Serve with cooked cleaned shrimp and salad greens plus a few or more of the following: tomatoes, cucumber, radishes, celery, green pepper, canned pimiento, green or ripe olives. The horseradish sauce accompanies the shrimp; pass French dressing or mayonnaise for the vegetables.

Be a Copy Cat, Serve Seafood Appetizer

Why not follow the pattern of our finest restaurants and serve appetizing seafood cocktails as a prelude to dinner. It will be a pleasing change from the routine.

Prepare them individually ahead of time and have them on the table when you call your family or guests to dinner. Your reward will be their appreciative glances and comments.

Extra work? Not really, if you take advantage of our fine canned seafoods and convenient tomato sauce. The pleasantly seasoned tomato sauce blends well with fish flavors and is so handy in the 1 cup (8 ounce) cans.

Tuna Cocktail

1 can (8-ounce) tomato sauce
½ cup grated or finely shredded green pepper
2 tablespoons grated onion
1 teaspoon Worcestershire Sauce
½ teaspoon brown sugar
¼ teaspoon seasoned pepper
1 can (9¼ ounce) chunk style tuna
Lemon wedges
Lettuce leaves
Pitted olives and mayonnaise (optional)

Combine first six ingredients and mix well. Spoon over servings of tuna nested on lettuce leaves. Top with a pitted olive filled with mayonnaise for eye appeal. Chill before serving. Serve with lemon wedges.

Simple Elegance Found in Pear Mint Dessert

Pears Helene is an ice cream and fruit dessert that can boast of a long history of eating pleasure. Discriminate chefs throughout the world rely upon the qualities of this gourmet dessert in their menu planning. To enhance the eye and taste appeal of your dinner menus with elegant simplicity, plan to serve Minted Pears Helene.

★ ★ ★

As a modern version of Pears Helene, this recipe has the added spark of refreshing mint flavored and tinted pears. The color, flavor and texture combination of minted pears, creamy chocolate sauce and delicious vanilla ice cream produces a glamorous, easy-to-make dessert for all ages and occasions.

Minted Pears Helene

6 small fresh pears
1½ cups sugar
1½ cups water
¼ to ½ teaspoon green food coloring
1 teaspoon mint extract
1 quart vanilla or New York ice cream
Chocolate sauce (recipe follows)

Peel pears, cut in half lengthwise and core. Combine sugar, water and green color in a large saucepan or Dutch oven. Bring to a boil slowly, stirring until sugar is dissolved. Add pear halves and cook gently just until tender, 5 to 8 minutes. Transfer fruit to refrigerator dish.

Stir mint extract into sirup and pour over pears. Chill. To serve, drain pears and arrange 2 halves and ice cream in each large serving dish. Pour warm or chilled chocolate sauce, as desired, over ice cream and fruit. Makes 6 servings.

Note: 2 13½-oz. cans small pear halves may be substituted for fresh pears. To tint and flavor pears, drain off sirup and tint to desired shade with ¼ to ½ teaspoon green food coloring. Add mint extract to taste; pour over pear halves and chill.

Chocolate Sauce

½ cup light corn sirup
½ cup sugar
2 tablespoons water
Dash of salt
2 squares (2 ounces) semi-sweet chocolate
½ cup light cream
1 tablespoon butter
½ teaspoon vanilla

Heat corn sirup, sugar, water and salt until sugar is dissolved, stirring constantly. Bring to a full rolling boil; boil 3 minutes. Remove from heat. Add chocolate and stir until melted. Stir in cream, butter and vanilla. Beat with rotary beater until smooth. Makes 1½ cups sauce.

POPPY SEED CAKE — Poppy seed cake is a popular European favorite with a unique texture and nut-like flavor. Creamy smooth Almond Filling completes this deliciously different cake.

New Cheese Invented at Michigan State Makes Debut at Exhibition

Cheese came to America on the Mayflower, and this week its descendants," 150 choice cheeses from 34 states of the union, were brought together in a colorful and appetizing competition for gourmet acclaim at a Cheese Cupboard in Atlantic City, Oct. 29-Nov. 1.

Making its debut at the Cupboard was a new economy cheese, "invented" by Michigan State University scientists, named Dagano. Swiss-like and nutty in flavor, it takes only one month's curing and has been rated a "long-life" type, retaining its flavor and texture after storage for as long as two years in a home freezer.

The Greeks thought that cheese was created by the son of Apollo and included it in the diet of Olympic athletes and offerings to the Gods. The boy David, in Biblical story, was carrying ten cheeses — "the finest of delicacies" — to his captain when he had his encounter with Goliath. Medieval monks in Europe nurtured exotic cheeses in special caves, jealously guarding their secret formulas.

The most ancient and romantic of foods is no less revered today than in times past. The natural miracle of cheese making — discovered, according to legend, over 2,000 years B.C. by an Asian herdsman — is now a highly scientific industry. The United States produces most of the famous cheeses of Europe as well as many new cheeses, including processed and specially packaged varieties.

Once every two years during the big Dairy Industry Supply convention, a group of delegates is invited to taste the finest cheese creations from all parts of the country. Each savory cheese is decorated by a flag identifying the state where it was made.

Cheeses in this year's exhibition range in size from a 185-pound Swiss wheel to midget cheddars weighing only a few ounces, and covering the gamut from the softest, creamiest and mildest to the hardest, sharpest, and strongest.

On the cheese roster were these appetizing varieties: Edam, Swiss, Brick, Liederkranz, Gorgonzola, Brie, Trappist, Nu World, Stilton, Cream, Port du Salut, Bleu, Gouda, Noekkelost, garlic, smoked, sage, Longhorn, Frankenmuth, Herkimer County and a host of others.

Several interesting cheese recipes came out of the 1962 Cupboard. Here is one that should make tasty family eating and keep the cheese boom rolling.

Cheese Pineapple

1 cup crumbled Roquefort cheese (about 6 oz.)
6 oz. cream cheese (2 3 oz. packages)
⅛ to ¾ cup Chablis or other dry white wine
1 teaspoon A-1 Steak Sauce
Dash cayenne pepper
Bottle of olives stuffed with red pimiento center
Leaves, cut from top of pineapple

Soften the cheese and gradually blend with other ingredients until smooth. Take sheet of tin foil and shape into flat plate-like bottom, with cone-like center sticking up in middle. This is your base for molding the cheese.

Cheese should be medium hard before molding. Adjust for desired consistency by adding either more wine or more cheese. Shape cheese on cone shaped tin foil mold, to look like pineapple.

Slice olives and place in even rows of circles to cover cheese, starting at top. Cut out leaves from fresh pineapple, by digging knife into pineapple and leaving a cone shaped piece of pineapple on the end, with which to spear the top of the cheese. When complete, it should simulate a real pineapple.

Add Dried Fruit to Rice Pudding

The family home at noon? Give them soup and dessert!

Fruited Rice Pudding

1 package (11 ounces) mixed dried fruits
1 pint boiling water
⅓ cup sugar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
⅓ cup quick-cooking rice cereal

Cut fruit into thin strips with a kitchen scissors or a sharp knife; turn into a 1-quart saucepan with the water, sugar and lemon juice. Bring to a boil; simmer 20 minutes or until fruit is tender.

Drain liquid from fruit into a measure; add enough water to make 2 cups; pour over the cooked fruit. Sprinkle in the rice cereal; cook over low heat for about 5 minutes. Serve hot or cold with light cream or a custard sauce. Makes 6 servings.

More than 10,000 bird watchers across the United States participated in the National Audubon Society's Christmas bird count last year.

Chocolate and Coconut Blend in Macaroons

Combine two flavors from the tropics, chocolate and coconut, into an excellent new cookie. In this recipe a new kind of glazed chocolate chip is used. They have fresher flavor, better keeping and baking qualities, hold their shape well and taste dark and chocolatey. The glaze appears to prevent discoloring at high temperatures.

Fruit Flavor Macaroon Cookies

2 eggs
¾ cup granulated sugar
½ cup flour
¼ teaspoon double-acting baking powder
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon butter, melted and slightly cooled
2⅔ cups (about) flaked coconut
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 cup glazed chocolate chips

Beat eggs in mixing bowl until foamy and light in color. Add sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time, beating constantly until mixture is thickened and light in color, about 5 minutes.

Fold in flour, baking powder and salt; then fold in butter. Stir in coconut, vanilla and ½ teaspoon lemon rind. Then fold in 1 cup chocolate chips.

Drop by teaspoonful amounts onto greased and lightly floured baking sheets. Decorate each cookie with additional chocolate chips, if desired. Bake in slow oven (325 degrees F.) about 15 minutes or until cookies are golden brown around the edges.

Remove from oven and let stand a few seconds; then remove from baking sheets. Finish cooling on racks. Note: Cookies store well in tightly covered containers.

Eat Your Halloween Pumpkin

Traditional remnants of Oct. 31 will be a few soaped windows and pint-sized trick or treaters with enough edible bounty for a week of munching.

★ ★ ★

And the comic-carved pumpkins?

Thousands, their orange faces saddened with smoke and wax, will be given their annual heave into the garbage pail.

If the Jack O'Lantern, nee pumpkin, could speak, it would echo ancestral voices from our past — don't throw it away, it's still good for eating.

And so they are according to Marqueta C. Huyck, associate professor of home economics at Wayne State University.

"Pumpkin meat isn't spoiled by smoke or candle wax. And it only takes a few minutes to scrape it off with a spoon. Then it can be easily prepared and used in a favorite recipe," Mrs. Huyck said.

However, if a hollowed out pumpkin has perched too long on a front step or in the house when temperatures are warm, it can mold. "Then you may as well throw it away," she said.

Miss Huyck suggested this post-Halloween project as a joint endeavor for mothers and their children.

Then, the pumpkin wedges can be put into a pan shell side up and baked for an hour in a moderate oven 325 degrees, or until it is tender and begins to fall apart. Scoop the pulp from the shell and put through a ricer, strainer or use a potato masher.

Pumpkin Muffins

1 cup sifted all purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cinnamon
1 unbeaten egg
2 tablespoons milk
⅛ teaspoon cloves
⅛ teaspoon ginger or nutmeg
¼ cup shortening
2/3 cup sugar
½ cup cooked pumpkin or squash

Sift flour, measure, add baking powder, spices and salt. Set aside. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, beating until light. Add egg. Beat well. Add dry ingredients alternately with combined pumpkin and milk. Beat after each addition. Currants or raisins can be added. Turn into greased baking cups.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) about 15 to 20 minutes. Makes 1 dozen muffins. May be served warm with orange or lemon sauce.

Cream of Pumpkin Soup

1 cup cooked pumpkin (or squash)
2 cups chicken broth
1 tablespoon finely grated onion nutmeg
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon fresh-ground pepper
1 tablespoon finely chopped parsley
1 cup heavy cream
2 egg yolks
paprika

Puree pumpkin or squash. Add chicken broth, grated onion, a few grains nutmeg, salt, pepper and parsley. Heat in upper part of double boiler over hot water. When liquid has reached the boiling point, add heavy cream mixed with egg yolks. Stir till lightly thickened. Serve with paprika and chopped parsley.

Minced Onion Surprise Taste

Peanut butter receives three different treatments for "Triple-Choice Sandwiches." It's mixed with instant minced onion in three bowls. To one bowl is added honey, to another mayonnaise and to the third cream cheese. Spread on bread and heated, the various combinations should make friends fast with the youngsters.

★ ★ ★

Instant minced onion takes the labor out of making a vast array of sandwiches. Use it directly from the container to enjoy the fresh, pungent flavor of just-harvested onions.

Triple-Choice Sandwiches

¾ cup peanut butter
3 tablespoons instant minced onion
1 tablespoon honey
1 tablespoon mayonnaise
1 tablespoon light cream
6 slices bread

Measure ¼ cup peanut butter into each of 3 small bowls. Add 1 tablespoon instant minced onion to each. To one bowl add honey, to another mayonnaise and to the third cream cheese and cream. Mix each filling well.

★ ★ ★

Toast bread on one side and spread fillings on untoasted sides. Cut slices into halves. Broil until peanut butter bubbles. Serve at once. Makes 6 servings.

Creamed Sardines Put on Buttered Toast

Brisk weather hones appetites to a keen edge. Try this tasty and nutritious Norway sardine recipe to please such appetites. To regular cream sauce add one-fourth cup bread crumbs and two chopped hard cooked eggs.

★ ★ ★

On buttered slices of whole wheat toast arrange contents of a can of drained Norway sardines. Cover with cream sauce and serve piping hot.

Prince Philip Tired of Fancy Cooking

LONDON (AP)—"I never see any home cooking," complained Prince Philip. "All I get is fancy stuff."

Queen Elizabeth's husband made the comment when he saw a group of schoolgirls cooking up a batch of steak and kidney pudding at a youth exhibition. The girls heard him and when he boarded his London train he discovered to his delight the girls had sent a special dish of it to the train.

On his way to London Prince Philip ate it and an aide said he found it extremely good.

Apple Fritters Are Answer for Dessert

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Americans adore apple fritters, and this love affair has been going on for a long time.

★ ★ ★

Way back in the 1820's, Mrs. Randolph — famed author of "The Virginia Housewife" — commended the fritters to her readers. They're as delightful today as they were more than a century ago.

★ ★ ★

Apple fritters have always been made essentially the same way. But early cooks such as Mrs. Randolph were sometimes influenced by French cuisine: they marinated the apple slices in brandy and white wine before dipping them into batter and frying. The following recipe, designed for whole-family use, does not call for such annointment.

★ ★ ★

We suggest serving these apple fritters with confectioners sugar because that's the combination that was a "must" in our childhood. But your culinary nostalgia may lead you to serving them with maple syrup.

French chefs often offer their apple fritters, which they call Beignets de Pommes, with custard sauce. Both American and French cooks stress that the fritters must always be served piping hot.

Apple Ring Fritters

1 cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
¼ cup sugar.
½ cup milk
2 eggs (separated)
1 teaspoon salad oil
6 apples

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Beat egg yolks slightly; beat in milk; add sifted dry ingredients and oil; beat until blended. Beat egg whites until stiff; fold into flour mixture.

★ ★ ★

Core and pare apples; cut into crosswise slices ¼ inch thick. Dip apple rings in batter. Fry a few at a time in hot (375 degrees) shallow fat until brown, turning once.

★ ★ ★

Substantial Gains Foreseen

Negroes Winning Place in Elective Posts

BACKGROUND — SPECIAL REPORT — OF THE NEWS

By The Associated Press

Negroes are widening their quest for elective office in the United States. They stand to make gains in the Nov. 6 balloting.

Connecticut will elect a Negro to statewide office for the first time. Each major party nominated a Negro for state treasurer.

California will have its first Negro congressman in another all-Negro contest.

New York and Massachusetts have Negroes running for statewide office—New York for the first time.

Negroes, many of them incumbents, are running for local or district offices, such as assemblymen, in numerous states.

The Deep South state of Georgia is slated to have a Negro in its legislature for the first time in more than a half century.

NEW DISTRICT

Leroy Johnson, an Atlanta Negro attorney, defeated three white candidates for the Democratic nomination to the state Senate in a newly delineated district. He will run in the general election against T. M. Alexander, a Negro Republican primary.

★ ★ ★

In Albany, Ga., scene of intermittent racial demonstrations, a Negro is seeking a city commission post for the first time in many years. He is Thomas O. Chatmon, owner of a beauty and barber supply firm, who finished second in a race with two white men and now will be a candidate in a runoff.

IST IN CONNECTICUT

In Connecticut, Gerald a. Lamb a dental technician, is running for state treasurer on the Democratic ticket and William D. Graham, a lawyer, on the Republican. They were the first Negroes nominated for statewide office in Connecticut.

Also in Connecticut, Wilfred X. Johnson, first Negro ever elected to the state legislature, is seeking his third two-year term as a state representative. He is a native of Dawson, Ga.

In California's 21st Congressional District in Los Angeles County, the Negro opponents for the House of Representatives are Assemblyman Augustus F. Hawkins, Democrat, and Herman Smith, an attorney, Republican. The district is heavily Democratic.

3 ASSURED

Three Negroes are assured of election to the California Assembly in all-Negro contests. Three will be a new high, compared with two at present. California has had at least one Negro in the assembly most of this century. Hawkins has held his post for 28 years.

★ ★ ★

James L Flournoy, a Los Angeles Republican Negro, is running for one of four elective seats on the State Board of Equalization but is rated little chance of success.

New York's first candidate for statewide office is Edward R. Dudley, Manhattan borough president; nominated by the Democrats for attorney general.

Dudley, born in South Boston, Va., faces an uphill fight against the incumbent, Republican Louis J. Lefkowitz, who is running on Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's ticket.

OFTEN ELECTED

Negroes frequently are candidates for municipal, congressional and legislative posts in New York and often are elected.

In Massachusetts, Edward W. Brooke, a Negro, is the Republican candidate for attorney general. A poll of Bay State publishers, editors and political writers indicated he has a good chance to defeat Francis E. Kelly, his Democratic opponent.

Brooke, a lawyer, was Massachusetts' first statewide Negro candidate two years ago when he ran unsuccessfully for secretary of state.

Forest products account for about one-third of all the annual export volume for Paraguay industries.

Death Rate Holds Line

NEW YORK (UPI) — The death rate among America's nearly 100 million ordinary life insurance policyholders remained relatively unchanged last year at about six per 1,000, continuing the level held for the past decade, according to a life insurance institute.

Texas leads as the greatest oil refining state as well as the largest single producer of crude oil.

LAUNCH FIREBEE — A Q2C Firebee, a high-speed target drone, takes off from the ground at the Naval Missile Center at Point Mugu, Calif., under 11,000 pounds of thrust. The Firebee has previously been launched from larger aircraft. The ground-launch capability will allow the drone to be fired in weather to foul for manned craft.

A television system developed for school use is believed to be adaptable to transoceanic broadcasting without relay stations.

The world's greatest known depth is nearly seven miles. It is the Mariana Trench in the Pacific Ocean, south of Guam.

An air trailer has been designed to carry a 50-ton load. It would be closely connected with the tow plane by a semi-rigid bar.

The use of lignin from papermill waste in automobile tires can reduce the amount of crude rubber required by over 10 per cent.

Cake Icing Used as Finger Paint

RAYTOWN, Mo. (UPI) — Children can have a hand in the baking and be creative at the same time by doing finger icing, Mrs. Laura Burnett, of Raytown, reports.

A small bit of icing is placed in the center of a cookie and the child spreads it around with the same motions as in finger painting.

Mrs. Burnett recently introduced a kindergarten class to the finger icing with such good results that teachers plan to make it a regular thing.

Almonds Give Peas Oomph

Company Green Peas

1 package frozen green peas
1 tablespoon butter
1½ teaspoons lemon juice
¼ cup toasted slivered almonds

Cook the peas according to package directions using the amount of water and salt called for; drain. Stir in the butter and lemon juice; turn into serving dish. Sprinkle with almonds. (The almonds may be had in 5-ounce cans.) Makes 4 servings.

Marketing Agent Gives Food Picture for Nov.

The horn of plenty is an appropriate symbol for November, for this is a month of plenty in America's food stores says the Marketing Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. This is the season when greater supplies of pork, grass fed beef, and lamb are marketed. Turkey supplies are largest at this time.

There are generous fryer supplies which total about 10 per cent more than last fall. There will be keen competition as you select protein foods each week, and you will continue to see these meats offered as store specials frequently.

This is the season for vegetables in the cabbage family. Several Mid-western states and California are harvesting cabbage. Cauliflower quality is good and volume shipments will continue until after Thanksgiving. The freshest cauliflower will have compact flowerets of creamy white, and the leaves at the base will be crisp and green.

Look for broccoli shipments to increase. Growing conditions for Brussels sprouts have been good, quality of the crop is excellent, and volume will increase toward the peak supply time in December.

Michigan's Apple Council states that approximately 6.4 million bushels of this year's apple crop is going into controlled atmosphere storage. Of this, 2.1 million bushels are the Jonathan variety; 1.4 million bushels are the McIntosh variety; and 1.0 million bushels are Red Delicious.

These apples will be available next spring when apples from regular cold storage have been sold. Controlled atmosphere storage extends the time you can enjoy apples with orchard fresh flavor.

Grapefruit supplies are on the uptrend. Crops of seedless and those with seeds, are reported to be larger than last year. Texas grapefruit groves, hard hit by freeze in January 1962, will show increased production this season, but estimates are that it will be 4 or 5 years before frost-damaged trees are producing normally.

Supplies of oranges are on the increase. Heaviest of the California season is over. Florida is starting to ship oranges. Predictions are for a larger orange crop of better condition than a year ago.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture reminds us that the cranberry crop is record large, 13 per cent greater than last year and 30 per cent above average. Cranberries are one of the easiest fruits to freeze since they can be packaged without sweetening or liquid. Choose firm, deep-red cranberries with glossy skins.

November egg prices are expected to be several cents a dozen below those of October.

Have you ever asked, "What's the difference in Grade A and Grade B eggs?" Grade A eggs are fresher eggs and this is mainly determined by looking inside the egg. The air cell will be smaller in the Grade A egg, the yolk.' When the eggs are and there will be a larger amount of thick white around the yook. When the eggs are broken into a pan, the Grade A egg will stand taller and spread over a smaller area than the Grade B egg.

There is plenty of honey for waffles and pancakes all year long. Michigan honey production for 1962 is about 8.4 million pounds, 27 per cent more than last year. Seventy-five per cent is sold in liquid form.

Commission Will Meet Monday Night

The City Commission will hold its regular meeting next week on Monday rather than on Wednesday as previously announced.

At last week's meeting, the Nov. 6 meeting was moved to Wednesday, Nov. 7, so that it wouldn't conflict with the election Tuesday.

Tuesday night, Commissioner Charles H. Harmon pointed out that the City Planning Commission will hold its November meeting Wednesday night in the commission chambers, creating another conflict.

He moved that the City Commission hold its meeting at 8 p.m. Monday, Nov. 5. The motion was approved.

Farm Vote Impact Fading Away

(Editor's Note — This is the fourth in a series of dispatches on the Nov. 6 election by UPI political writers. It deals with the fading influence of the farm vote.)

By BERNARD BRENNER

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The farm vote, a fading force in American politics, will have less influence in the 1962 congressional elections than in past campaigns.

It remains a factor, however, in a comparatively small number of closely-contested House and Senate races.

Unless all domestic considerations are buried by the Cuban crisis, political strategists in both parties estimate that farm issues may play some part in deciding from 11 to about 24 close House races.

Agricultural policy also could be a factor in about 10 Senate campaigns.

RATIO CHANGES

In 1932, when the Franklin D. Roosevelt administration was elected to begin the era of active federal intervention in the farm economy, one American in every four lived on a farm. Today, only one American in every 12 is a member of a farm family.

The 1962 House reapportionment, recognizing the population changes of the 1950-60 decade, translated the shrinking number of farmers into a cut in House seats in farm areas.

The major farm states of Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri and Nebraska each lost one House seat.

Ohio and Michigan gained single seats but the net effect was a shift of voting power from rural midwest areas to largely urban districts in other parts of the country. A similar shift took place in the South.

House and Senate races where farm policy may be a live issue are largely in the belt of states running from Ohio on the east to the mountain area of the west.

* * *

Democrats hope their candidates in these areas will be helped by the fact that farm income rose in 1961 and stayed up this year. Also, Democratic strategists say, administration-backed programs granting payments to farmers who voluntarily cut corn production have been popular. Passage this fall of a new wheat control law, effective in 1964, may also be a plus factor for Democrats in major wheat states.

Republicans expect to pick up strength in midwest farm areas because their House and Senate members fought practically unanimously against the administration's narrowly-beaten attempt to adopt stiff, mandatory corn production controls.

MAY DROP CONTROLS

In recent weeks, agriculture secretary Orville L. Freeman has tossed out broad hints that he plans to drop the idea of mandatory controls when new long-range feed grain legislation is considered next year.

One key test of farm sentiment on administration farm policy could come in Western Kansas where Reps. J. Floyd Breeding, D, and Robert Dole, R, are fighting for the single seat left after their two districts were combined.

Wheat production is a major factor in the economy of the new district which covers about two-thirds of Kansas.

Breeding, a three-term congressman who is chairman of the House Agriculture Committee's wheat subcommittee, backed the new administration wheat law. Dole, a freshman member of the 87th Congress, fought the administration program.

Some of the other House races where political strategists believe farm issues could play at least a minor part in the outcome include:

— Republican attempts to unseat Reps. Ralph R. Harding, Idaho; Morris B. Peterson, Utah; W. R. Hull Jr., Mo.; J. Edward Roush, Ind.; and Victor Wickersham, Okla.

— Democratic attempts to replace GOP Reps. James F. Battin, Mont.; Don L. Short, N. D.; and Ralph F. Beerman, Neb.

— The hot Illinois race between Reps. Peter F. Mack Jr., D, and Paul Findley, R, who were thrown into a newly-combined district. Findley, a House freshman, took a prominent role in fighting Kennedy administration farm legislation this year.

Senate races where farm voting could be significant in a close contest include those in South Dakota, Kentucky, Idaho, Colorado, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Utah, Wisconsin and Missouri.

Whatever happens to relative Democratic and Republican strength in this election, the shift of House districts to urban areas will confront farm policymakers with a new fact of political life when the 88th Congress assembles next January.

The power to approve or beat future farm bills will be shifting more and more into the hands of legislators from city districts.

The government's policy on aid to agriculture thus will be shaped increasingly by the politically-divided farm bloc's ability to persuade an urban majority.

Gets Jail, Probation for Resisting Arrest

J. Allen Brown, 28, of 250 Briscoe St., was sentenced Tuesday to 90 days in the county jail and two years' probation for resisting arrest for investigation of felonious assault in a brawl at a Waterford Township bar July 1.

Sentence was handed down by Circuit Court Judge H. Russel Holland, who found Brown guilty on a charge of resisting an officer Oct. 16 after Brown waived a jury trial.

Moscow Radio Blasts Away at U.S. Resumption of Cuban Blockade

From Our News Wires

MOSCOW — Moscow radio attacked the U.S. naval blockade around Cuba today, claiming its resumption "aroused alarm among millions of people in America."

Even before the arms quarantine went into effect at dawn, the radio proclaimed:

"War hysteria brought about by the recent U.S. threat of aggression against Cuba has hardly died down when the ominous word "blockade' again appears on the pages of papers."

★ ★ ★

At the same time, the Soviet press and radio stepped up its campaign to get the United States to abandon its Guantanamo naval base in Cuba.

In an English language broadcast to North America, Moscow radio said Cuban Premier Fidel Castro had "suggested measures" to ensure his country against attack.

It said the measures "would provide a good basis for a lasting peace in the Caribbean."

★ ★ ★

The broadcast did not mention Guantanamo by name. But Castro's recent statements of conditions for a settlement of the Cuban crisis made a Guantanamo pull-out a prime requisite.

The Soviet government has indicated it would not press such a demand, but propaganda media have alluded to it several times in the past few days.

Today's edition of Red Flag, the Chinese Communist party's leading theoretical magazine, urged Castro to stick to his Guantanamo demands and other conditions.)

IGNORE CHINESE

Pravda, the party organ, in a report on Communist-bloc support for Soviet moves in the crisis, gave a bare one-sentence summary of Peiping's reaction: meetings of solidarity with the Cuban people.

Although words of praise for Khrushchev's decision to withdraw Soviet missiles from Cuba have come in from most Communist capitals, the Chinese have conspicuously refrained from sending their compliments on the Soviet leader's "statesmanlike" action.

The scarcely concealed anger over Khrushchev's tactics displayed in comments from Peiping is believed to have deepened the ideological split between Moscow and Peiping.

The Russians appeared to reply to the Chinese in typically roundabout Communist fashion today. Pravda published a long editorial attacking a recently purged Mongolian Communist party politburo member, who is reliably reported to have been a key figure in a pro-Chinese faction in Ulan Bator.

The Mongolian Communist, D. Tumur-Ochir, was accused of a series of crimes including nihilism, nationalism, anti-Marxism and attempting to disrupt Mongolian-Soviet friendship.

The prominent play given the reprint of the editorial from the Mongolian Communist party organ was interpreted here as a thinly veiled slap at the dissenting Chinese.

REPORT IN RUSSIA

The official news agency Tass reported the resumption of both the blockade and U.S. reconnaissance flights over Cuba.

It also played acting U.N. Secretary General U Thant's statement that he had been informed Soviet missile bases on the island would be dismantled by Friday.

As First Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan headed for Cuba, ostensibly to conclude another trade agreement, a random sampling among Muscovites showed most thought his trip a good chance to ease tension.

Muscovites tended to play down the possibility that Castro could cause difficulties between Washington, Moscow and the United Nations in their efforts to settle the crisis.

Pilot's Body to Be Sent From Cuba

NEW YORK (UPI) — The body of Air Force Maj. Rudolph Anderson Jr., whose reconnaissance plane was lost over Cuba Saturday, will be shipped home by the Cuban government for "humanitarian reasons."

This was announced yesterday by acting UN Secretary General Thant following his return from two days of talks with Cuban officials in Havana.

The Cuban regime announced Saturday that its antiaircraft guns had fired on an unidentified plane. Shortly thereafter, the Defense Department disclosed in Washington that Anderson's plane was missing after a flight over Cuba.

It was not revealed whether the craft had been shot down. The Air Force declined to identify the type of plane Anderson had been piloting.

★ ★ ★

Anderson's father, a retired nurseryman from Greenville, S.C., would not give any information about his son's most recent military assignment.

★ ★ ★

He said the pilot was a Clemson College graduate with 11 years service in the Air Force. The son, a 1948 graduate of Clemson College with a textile engineering degree, was married and the father of two young sons.

Before joining the Air Force in 1951, Anderson worked briefly in a Greenville textile mill. He served as a fighter pilot in Korea.

To Scrub Cathedral

LONDON (UPI) — Dr. W. R. Mathews, dean of St. Paul's Cathedral, says the cathedral will receive its first cleaning in 250 years. Only "water and elbow grease" will be used to remove grime one inch thick in some places.

Cuba Worries Republicans

Ask JFK to Explain Pact

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Republican leaders asked President Kennedy today to explain whether the proposed Cuban agreement means Russian jet bombers and military men will remain in Cuba.

And, said Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and Rep. Bob Wilson of California, the President also should "clarify for the American people" whether his agreement with Soviet Premier Khrushchev cancels "an invasion which already had been planned, as reported in some newspapers, and which could have eliminated communism completely from Cuba."

Goldwater, chairman of the Senate Republican Campaign Committee, and Wilson, chairman of the GOP congressional committee, raised eight points in connection with the proposed agreement.

"Since Mr. Kennedy canceled his Thursday news conference — eliminating the possibility of the press asking some of these troublesome questions—we believe it vital to the security of the country that they be asked and answered at once," Goldwater and Wilson said in a joint statement.

The eight points the two Republicans said Kennedy should clarify are these:

"(1) Does the no-invasion pledge constitute an abandonment of Cuba to the Communists and the perpetuation of a Red base for espionage, sabotage and propaganda incursions throughout the rest of Latin America?

"(2) Does the agreement supersede the Organization of American States accord reached at Punta del Este, Uruguay, last January, which urges member states to take whatever steps are necessary, including force, to repel subversion of their countries?

"(3) Does this assurance to Khrushchev mean that we have junked the Monroe Doctrine?

"(4) Are the Cubans who fled to this country from Castro's terrorism and who so long have lived in the hope of eventually liberating their homeland to be abandoned?

"(5) Did the agreement with Khrushchev force a cancellation of an invasion which already had been planned, as reported in some newspapers, and which could have eliminated communism completely from Cuba?

"(6) Does the agreement with Khrushchev mean that the 5,000 to 8,000 Soviet 'technicians' and other military personnel will be allowed to remain in Cuba and continue to direct that nation's affairs?

"(7) Does the agreement allow for completion of the so-called 'fishing port' which Moscow is building in Cuba and which many experts have said would, in fact, be a base for Soviet missile-carrying submarines?

"(8) Does the agreement call for the removal from Cuba of such offensive weapons as the 12 MIG supersonic fighter-bombers now on the island and the bases under construction for their use?"

Charges Cuban Notes Ordered Terror Reign

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—Sen. George Smathers, D-Fla., said yesterday intercepted messages disclosed Cuban Premier Fidel Castro ordered sabotage and terrorist incidents by his agents to divert attention from the Cuban missile build-up.

Smathers, speaking at a political rally, said U.S. agents broke a Communist code that enabled them to decipher the messages to Castro agents throughout the hemisphere.

PO Equipment Delayed

GROTON, Conn. (UPI) — The scheduled opening of a post office in the Noank Section was postponed today. Its stamp windows and mail boxes haven't arrived.

'Castro Fate Helping Alert Other Latins'

DETROIT (AP)— A former Cuban financier, president of two banks and two insurance firms which were seized by the Castro government, said last night the tragedy of Castro and communism "has served well to alert other Latin American countries to the dangers they face."

He said that what has happened to Cuba in four years under Castro helped alert the United States people to the dangers of communism.

He said many developments — including the current U.S. disclosure of the presence of offensive missiles in Cuba, had resulted in a widespread reaction against Russia through practically all Latin American countries.

'Never on Sunday' Star Succeeds Despite Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—Concerning Hollywood, Melina Mercouri has two feelings:

"I am like a bobbysoxer when it comes to the movie stars here. I would give anything to be able to meet Marlon Brando."

THOMAS

"I do not want to work here because the studios offer me the same part — the harlot with a heart of gold."

Ah, Hollywood, will it never learn? Because Mercouri flashed to stardom as the beneficent babe of "Never on Sunday," producers figure she is good for a string of such characters.

★ ★ ★

They figured without Mercouri, one of the new international stars who can get along without Hollywood very well. She was here this week not to discuss scripts, but as part of her journeys with her boon companion and mentor, Jules Dassin, to promote their new film "Phaedra."

'NOT RICH'

"How can I stay here?" the volatile Greek asked. "There is no work for me. I am not rich. It costs a lot of money to stay in this hotel."

★ ★ ★

When it was suggested she might find it less expensive to stay elsewhere, say a motel, she snapped, "I am not Lolita."

That's the way it is with Mercouri: she is fascinating but perilous to talk to.

FILMS LINED UP

Treading carefully, I asked about her future plans. She said she was returning to London to play a role in "The Victors," then would appear with Danny Kaye in "Five Pieces of Maria"—if they fix the script for me; it was written for Sophia Loren, and she and I are not the same."

How do they differ?

"She is Italian; I am Greek," said the actress. "She has an Oscar; I have not. I am thin—

★

"She has (producer Carlo) Ponti; I have Dassin. That is the only way in which I am better off than Loren—because Dassin is a writer and director, not just a producer."

PROUD OF ORIGIN

"I am getting to be like a Greek chamber of commerce," she said. "I cannot help it."

What are the qualities of the Greeks?

"We are terribly hospitable; that is why people like Greece when they visit us," she said.

"But we have our faults, too. We think Greece is the center of the world, and it isn't. We talk too much, especially about politics. We think we know everything and as a result we know nothing."

Jobless Total Hits Three-Year Low

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unemployment declined 218,000 in October to 3,294,000, a three-year low. The idle rate fell from 5.8 to 5.5 per cent.

The Labor Department, in its October job report yesterday listed 68,893,000 employed, up 225,000 and also a record for October.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz hailed the report in a statement as reflecting "a substantial improvement in the economy" since President Kennedy took office in January 1961. He said more than 4.5-million more Americans have jobs now than when Kennedy was inaugurated.

The 200,000 decline in unemployment was somewhat better than was seasonally expected, but the employment increase was about what had been anticipated. October is usually the best month of the year on both the employment and unemployment sides.

Nonfarm employment rose seasonally by about 300,000 to 63,418,000, an October record, as farm employment declined slightly. Farm employment is about 500,000 less than a year ago.

Compared with a year ago, employment is about 1¼ million higher, while unemployment is down by about 650,000.

Wirtz said that, summing up the job picture, it is "much brighter than it was a year ago, and considerably improved over January 1961; there can be no doubt that the recession we found then is ended, and the nation's economy is moving ahead once again."

Wirtz said the economy still can stand a good deal more improvement. He said there are still far too many unemployed, and "We cannot rest until the unemployment figure is reduced to the lowest rate possible in a highly mobile and ever-changing economy."

★ ★ ★

There was another modest decline in the ranks of the long-term unemployed. The number idle 15 weeks or longer is now 865,000, or about one-third less than the 1,240,000 in that category a year ago. The number idle six months or longer is now 447,000, compared with 723,000 a year ago.

U. S., Japan to Talk More Okinawa Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk announced today that the United States and Japan would resume talks Nov. 7 on joint efforts to give Okinawa more economic assistance.

★ ★ ★

Rusk said the meeting would be held in Tokyo. U.S. Ambassador Edwin O. Reischauer and Japanese Foreign Minister Masayoshi Ohira will try "to work out arrangements for cooperative relations between the United States and Japan in providing increased economic assistance to the Ryukyu Islands," he said.

Swainson Expected for 3 Rallies Saturday

As Michigan's campaign for governor builds to a climax, incumbent John B. Swainson will address three Democratic rallies in Oakland County Saturday.

Gov. Swainson is expected to be welcomed by some 500 party supporters in Farmington when he appears at 1:30 p.m. to dedicate the controversial new Democratic Club office on Grand River Avenue.

An even larger crowd is anticipated when Waterford Township Democrats greet the governor at Pontiac Mall shopping center at 3 p.m.

The third rally is scheduled for the Elks Hall in Royal Oak where Democrats of south Oakland County will gather to hear the governor at 9:30 p.m.

The Farmington Democratic Club office is the center of a controversy concerning distance from the city's municipal building, a polling place on Election Day.

City Clerk Trena M. Quinn and County Clerk-Register Daniel T. Murphy say the headquarters is within 100 feet of the entrance to the municipal building and will violate a state law if posters are on the windows or campaigning is carried on near the front door of the office on election day.

Democrats say they are measuring incorrectly, although they agreed to take down posters from the window.

★ ★ ★

They claim, however, that the law does not apply inside the building and threaten court action to prevent any interference there.

Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski, Mrs. Swainson and Democratic national committeewoman Margaret Price are expected to accompany the governor to the rallies.

Saturday's activities will climax what the county Democratic committee terms the most strenuous campaign it has ever waged.

Camp Oakland, Inc. to Elect Directors

Sixteen new directors of Camp Oakland, Inc., will be elected to three-year terms during a meeting Sunday at the juvenile home on Drahner Road near Oxford.

Members of the nonprofit organization, which assists the county in the operation of Camp Oakland through contributions of time and money, are invited to the meeting and brunch preceding it at 1 p.m., President Walter Gehrke said.

A tour of the facilities will be included.

Greece Joins Ranks of European Market

ATHENS (UPI) — Greece became an associate member of the European Common Market at midnight last night.

The prime ministers of the six Common Market nations and Walter Hallstein, president of the common market commission, sent Greek Prime Minister Constantine Karamanlis telegrams of congratulation on the event.

A message from the Treasury of a free people

How to preserve the freedom they found

Freedom doesn't just happen. If you don't have it, you have to struggle mighty hard to get it—as the early Pilgrims well knew.

Preserving the freedom our forefathers won for us is a continuing challenge for every new generation of Americans.

You can help in the job today by buying U.S. Savings Bonds. Each Bond you buy helps our government boost the cause of freedom everywhere.

Interest-earning U.S. Savings Bonds build your personal net worth too—undeniable evidence of the advantages of living in a free economy.

Help perpetuate the freedom those early immigrants found in America. Buy U.S. Savings Bonds from your bank, or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

Keep freedom in your future with

Happy to Retire

By MADELEINE DOEREN

Retirement has no misgivings for Mrs. Anthony Chircop who retires today as night chief toll operator at the Pontiac office of Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

"Its advantages are threefold," she told us yesterday in her charming home on Prospect Street. "No more deadlines to meet, time to travel and leisure for star-gazing, my favorite hobby."

She refers to the celestial kind, for she is on nodding acquaintance with Jupiter, Venus, Mars and the moon, a hobby she acquired some 14 years ago as a respite from 'trouble-shooting' with some 30 operators under her wing.

At a recent retirement tea in the traffic lounge for their "Dear Mabel," the Bell employes presented Mrs. Chircop with speakers for her stereo set.

Born in Williston, N. D., Mrs. Chircop was adopted by retired Montana ranchers. She attended Holy Cross convent near Monterey, Calif., and then worked for the telephone company in Kansas City. She married a Pontiac grocer who later sold out to a grocery chain. He managed the store until his health failed and his death came in August of 1941.

Mrs. Chircop was local chief operator at the Pontiac office when her son Joseph, of Pioneer Drive, was nine months old. Her other children are Helen, now Mrs. Wade Wolf of New Haven, Conn.; Howard, Lake Orion; Mrs. William H. Wise (Kathleen), of Las Vegas and Mrs. Lawrence D. Hagedorn (Bernadette), of Monterey, Calif. There are eight grandchildren.

"The only telephone crisis worth mentioning," Mrs. Chircop says, "was the night when Geney's Dry Cleaning plant on Pike Street exploded. The lights in the exchange went out, the switchboards were cut off and the girls went into a near-panic."

Having looked through a telescope in the home of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Bogrand who lived on Hughes Street, Mrs. Chircop enjoyed 'seeing stars.' Mr. Bogrand was the one who taught her and she made her own telescope with some 1,000 hours of tedious handgrinding of six-inch lens, using jeweler's rouge. The frame, too, was ground by hand.

In 1954, Mrs. Chircop was a delegate to the National Astronomical Convention in Seattle. She was secretary and later became president of the Pontiac Astronomical Society.

She spends many happy hours in her garden and raises her own vegetables and flowers. She attends St. Vincent de Paul Church and serves on the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Guild.

Returning next week from a brief visit with her daughter in New Haven, Conn., she will drive to Santa Cruz on Monterey Bay, Calif., for a two-month vacation.

Sharpen Up Razor Blades, Smooth Up Your Marriage

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I was born in Europe and have not been long in your country. In Italy the women do not shave the hair from their legs. I do not think hair on the legs looks bad but my husband asks me daily to remove it, please.

ABBY

I do not remove it because if I once begin I will of necessity be forced to continue to shave or I will carry needles like a porcupine. In June my husband told me if I did not shave my legs he would grow a beard.

I thought he was making a joke but he has not shaved his face and now he has a thick beard. I have not kissed him since he got the beard. He told me to write to Abby. How can you help?

FROM ROMA

DEAR FROM ROMA: Surely you recall, "When in Rome . . ."? Over here shaggy female limbs are conspicuous.

Your husband is trying to do you a favor — and he's growing a fur piece to do it. By the way, a kissless marriage is a shaky one. How are you two fixed for blades?

DEAR ABBY: My 55-year-old husband paws every young girl who comes near him. He gets worse every year. It's not just a "fatherly" pat on the shoulder, either.

I try to ignore it, but some of the girls have complained to me about it. Is there anything I can do? HIS WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Yes. You can speak to him about it. If he doesn't cut it out you can tell his doctor about it. Only sick old men behave this way.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: When a girl invites a boy to church, who puts the money in the collection plate — the boy, the girl, or both of them?

NEEDS TO KNOW

DEAR NEEDS: Both of them.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO STEVE: No matter how tall a boy's father is, the boy has to do his own growing.

★ ★ ★

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Nurses Ask Better State Act

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Proposed revision of the Michigan Nursing Practice Act and a drive toward better pay for nurses were approved yesterday by the Michigan State Nurses' Association.

Some 1,200 MSNA members were in Grand Rapids for the start of their three-day annual conference.

John Wick, director of nursing at Lafayette Clinic in Detroit and chairman of the MSNA legislative committee, said a draft of the revision will be presented to the 1963 State Legislature for action.

It provides that all persons employed as registered or practical nurses must be licensed by the state. The present act protects only the title of nurse, not the function, according to MSNA executive secretary Eleanor Tromp.

The revision is being promoted in cooperation with the Michigan Board of Nursing, the Practical Nurses Association and the Psychiatric Nurses Association.

The MSNA House of Delegates, governing body, approved an attempt to seek $400 a month as the minimum starting pay for nurses employed in hospitals.

Spokesmen for the nurses association said its code of ethics prohibits a strike for pay because such action would affect the care of patients.

The MSNA names its Student Nurse of the Year and Nurse of the Year as features of the convention scheduled today.

WCTU Conclave

The 11th annual convention of the 18th District Women's Christian Temperance Union will be held at the First Baptist Church of Royal Oak Nov. 7. After the 9:30 a.m. registration, election of officers for the coming year will follow.

Plan Bake Sale

John Monteith School Parent-Teacher-Association will sponsor a bake sale Tuesday from 8 a.m. to 8 o'clock that evening in the school. Coffee and doughnuts also will be available.

The utter elegance of the season's formal wear is typified by designer Bill Blass of Maurice Rentner. This eight-gored coat with princess lines and halter-backed bodice is in white twill satin of silk and trilobal nylon yarn. The long skirt with waist fullness is imperial yellow brocade of silk, metallic yarn and nylon.

Next Time, Ask Bride Herself

By The Emily Post Institute

Q. My husband's cousin was married about five weeks ago and as the wedding took place in a distant city, we could not go but sent a wedding present (a sterling silver tray).

We had no acknowledgement of the gift and inasmuch as it was quite expensive, I wanted to be sure she received it so I wrote to another relative, living in the same town as the bride, and asked her if she would find out whether or not it was received.

I understand that the bride and her mother are highly insulted because I wrote this note and think me very ignorant. I am terribly upset over this and would like to know if I was wrong.

A: The bride and her mother are probably put out because you called this other relative's attention to the negligence of the bride in not writing her thank-you notes.

It would have been more tactful to have written directly to the bride, explaining that you wanted to make sure that the tray, coming from your distant city, had not gone astray in transit.

Q: When handwriting a card to enclose with a wedding present to someone who is a stranger to us, how should we sign our names? You have said that Mr. and Mrs. should never be part of one's signature, but Mary and John Smith seems rather intimate to send to someone we don't know personally and who is younger than we are. What do you advise?

A: If you have no Mr. and Mrs. visiting cards write on a blank card, "With Mr. and Mrs. John Smith's best wishes."

★ ★ ★

Q: Quite often on my way to work in the morning I will meet a girl I know and we walk to the station together. I would like to know if I am expected to pay her carfare or would it be proper to let her pay her own?

A: As she is not your guest, you are not obliged to pay her fare and it will be quite proper to let her pay her own.

Q: Is is proper for a woman to keep her hat on while visiting friends? I was criticized recently for doing so and I would like to know if this criticism was justified?

A: It was not improper to keep your hat on, and the criticism was in no way justified.

Motor Hints Save Money

NEW YORK (UPI) — To get more mileage out of each tankful of gas, warm up the engine by idling it for a few seconds and then driving it gently for a few miles; adopt slow and easy acceleration and steady driving speeds; avoid starting the engine only to run the car a few minutes.

Play on Race Planned at Will-O-Way

"Study in Color," an original play by the Rev. Malcolm Boyd of Wayne State University, will be presented at Will-O-Way Apprentice Theater in Bloomfield Hills the first three weekends in November.

This is the second in a series of plays written by local playwrights to run at the West Long Lake Road theater. Performance dates are Nov. 2, 3, 4; Nov. 9, 10, 11; and Nov. 16 and 17.

According to Celia Merrill Turner, Will-O-Way director, the "object is to give special impetus to the writing of new works for the legitimate theater."

"Study in Color" will be performed as a tryout for an off-Broadway production. The play, featuring Cliff Frazier and Woodie King Jr. of Detroit, revolves around race relations. Rev. Boyd, who is the Episcopal chaplain at Wayne, also appears. Proceeds will be given to the Episcopal Society for Cultural and Racial Unity.

'Writers' Go Soft

The newest typewriter has curves — soft, rounded lines and a compact, sculptured appearance that does away with distracting details and guides the line of sight onto the keyboard.

The new design for portable typewriters resulted from a consumer study which revealed that 52 per cent of those using typewriters in the home leave them out of their cases and on view. The manufacturer reports ribbons can be changed in 10 seconds without fingering the ribbon.

Wash 'em Fast

Wooden salad bowls go with any style of flatware and china, and double nicely for serving salted nuts or pretzels at snack time.

It's easy to keep wooden-ware clean if you observe the "No Soaking" sign! Wash wooden bowls and serving pieces quickly in warm soap or detergent suds. Then rinse and dry them immediately to prevent swelling, cracking, or warping.

College Rules That Clinches Have to Go

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A ruling by the student governing board at a Long Beach State College girls' dorm evoked a storm of protest.

The rumor spread that this meant no more kissing at all.

★ ★ ★

Boy students at nearby Alamitos Hall threatened to invite the girls over there to say good night.

A school official quickly issued a clarification:

"Kissing will still be permitted. It's the 10- to 15-minute clinches that are out."

Newlyweds, Avoid Debt if Possible

Newlyweds would do well to think twice before leaping into debt, cautions George D. Nickel, a finance executive, recently addressing representatives of 1,000 finance companies gathered in Northern California.

★ ★ ★

Consumer credit has made it possible for people to be tided over the rough spots and to use what they purchase while paying for it, thus helping us to maintain the highest standard of living in the world. But, all too often, he states, inexperience and lack of knowledge of budgeting matters by young marrieds (the typical husband is 20, the bride 18, leads them to "spend themselves dangerously close to financial ruin."

★ ★ ★

It is a sad but true fact, Nickel said, "many young couples remain unprepared for financial responsibility and go overboard in the matter of a home, car, furnishings and appliances."

Older people know it is easy to create a bill, but hard to find money to pay it off as agreed. They also know that prompt repayments help build a solid credit rating—a record that stands for years to form a bulwark in time of need rather than a skeleton in the closet—as the case may be.

Admittedly, the young people without money experience find greatest need when they most lack ability to repay. The test comes in self-discipline — knowing without being told when enough is enough. The penalty for failure to realize this, he continued, leads to lack of a favorable credit rating, so that when the time comes when money is needed, a loan becomes expensive, restrictive, and leads to worry and emotional upset.

★ ★ ★

The solution, he states, is for finance companies to redouble their already strong counselling programs.

Degree Brings Family Reunion

Mom Honorary Georgia Tech Grad

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A mother has been named an honorary graduate at Georgia Tech without attending a single class at the engineering school.

Elizabeth B. Ziegler earned the distinction as the mother of seven Tech graduates, all good students and now successful in their chosen fields.

In addition, her first grandson received his degree last year. With 22 more grandchildren already around, she could be eligible in time for some kind of special grandmother prize.

Mrs. Ziegler, a native of Stuttgart, Germany, was honored during a special ceremony in the presence of her seven sons, Tech officials announced Tuesday. It was the first time the Zieglers had all been together in eight years.

Except for the years of World War II, she had a son at Tech every year from 1927 until 1950 when the youngest was graduated.

"At one time we had three sons in Tech during the depression," she recalled. "That was the hardest time."

Her husband died in 1947 while two of the boys were students.

A daughter was graduated from nearby Agnes Scott College and now is Mrs. Clyde Dunn, wife of a missionary in Formosa.

The sons:

Dr. Waldemar T. Ziegler, regents professor of chemical engineering, Georgia Tech; Carl W., owner of a laundry and cleaning business, Weatherford, Tex.; W. Fred, superintendent at Swift Manufacturing Co., Columbus, Ga.; Walter H., senior test engineer, Wright Aeronautical Corp., Woodbridge, N.J.; William R., owner and president, and Frank R., vice president, Cornwell Tool Co., Atlanta; and John M., sales engineer, Trane Co., Richmond, Va.

Rites in Clarkston

Cheryl Hipp Married

Cheryl Lynn Hipp exchanged wedding vows and rings with Michael David Corbin Saturday evening in the First Methodist Church, Clarkston.

A reception in the AMVETS Hall on Oakland Avenue followed the candlelight ceremony performed by Rev. William J. Richards.

Parents of the bridal couple are the H. B. Hipps of Clarkston and the Thomas R. Corbins of Andersonville Road.

Alencon lace touched with sequins and seed pearls accented the bridal gown of white bouquet taffeta styled with bouffant skirt. A tiara of seed pearls caught the veil of French illusion, and white gardenias rested on the bride's white prayer book.

They wore blue tissue taffeta with pouf overskirts and carried all pink bouquets of carnations and sweetheart roses.

Seating guests were Fred Hipp and Dean Corbin, brothers of the bridal couple, along with Dick Roy and James Wilman.

The newlyweds are presently motoring through the southern states.

Full Skirts Filling Collection

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK — You would have thought it was Paris the way a dressed-to-the-teeth audience battled for seats Wednesday to see the full-hipped, flat-chested silhouette created by Guy Douvier of the American Christian Dior House.

At last, when a sophisticated mob of socialites, buyers and reporters had hushed, wafer-thin, French-like mannequins in clothes with French titles flashed in and out of the showroom so fast it was hard to get the complete picture.

From the first suit to the last ball gown, however, the full skirt was the thing. But this was pared down to half its size of last season when antebellum dimensions swallowed up dance floor space.

Women wore T-shirt-type V-necked tops with Godet skirts and short, by today's standards, jackets. The fabrics were the same bold, heavy mesh tweeds and plaids from which many Dior suits in the audience were made. Hats, the beanie type and floppy brimmed ones matched the fabrics.

PEPLUM JACKETS

Jackets often had peplums, a French trend if there ever was one. And front panels of skirts on coats were sometimes gathered at hip yokes.

The hip got an even broader treatment for evening wear with not one but two or three gathered skirts arranged in tiers.

Cocktail dresses and ball gowns were less theatrical this season. There were slim columns of ruffles from top to toe, ostrich plumes made out of organdy, embroidered and reembroidered gowns, none of which could be whipped up at home.

From there, most of the audience shifted to another arena where girls in black leotards strutted in bushy sweaters by Lore Dibbern for the Italian design house Famelia.

The sweaters were dimensional in more than the figurative way—red cherries, popcorn balls, life-like roses, whose gardens in fact were stitched to the shaggy sweater girl.

Twist and Pizzas Still Sharp With Nation's Teen-Agers

By EUGENE GILBERT
President, Gilbert Youth Research Co.

Fads shift constantly and sometimes they get so far out it makes adults wonder how young folks can go for such goofy stuff.

Checking the current ones, as we do from time to time, we were pleased to find that the latest trend in clothes shows an especially youthful bounce along with good taste.

In dancing, the twist is still tops, and in party snacks the pizza.

Among girls, skirts or kilts, and medic-type blouses are the rage. The kilts were around a few years back, and short skirts fit in generally with women's fashions. The blouses come in with the popularity of TV's medical kick.

LEGS NARROW

The boys go for the Continental style, sometimes called the Italian style. The suit jacket is shorter than generally seen, with a two-button front and soft, unpadded shoulders. The trousers are stove-pipe, which means the legs are narrow from top to bottom.

Snap collar shirts are also a rage among the boys.

Both boys and girls also mentioned sneakers as dirigueur among the up-to-date.

These outfits were most frequently noted in long lists of fad clothes mentioned by 1,018 young people we interviewed in our nationwide survey.

Some of the other new items on the girl's list included hiphugger pants and ponchos.

The sophisticated guys don't necessarily go for everything that is new. Still very much in vogue are string ties and Italian shoes, which are long, narrow, low, black.

Do these fads make any difference? They sure do, according to our survey.

We found that 81 per cent said they go along with the fads. We also asked the teeners to tell us why they followed or ignored a fad.

Don Grams, 16, of Coalinga, Calif., said he goes along with fads — and in an explanation also made by numerous others — said: "It looks neat and sharp."

SEW SIMPLE
By Eunice Farmer

"Dear Eunice:

"If my dress is not long-waisted enough in the back and I have to add to the bodice back, how can I make the side seams come out even?" Mrs. A. B.

If you need extra length in back and not in front, the underarm darts in the bodice front should be changed. Make them about half the width (depending on the amount of length you are adding to the back). Change the dart so that the side seams will come out even.

HELP

The leaflet I referred to a few weeks ago about clever Christmas ideas was to have been made up from the suggestions YOU SENT TO ME. It's getting pretty late now, but if we hurry, we might still have time. We need any new ideas for unusual Christmas gifts, for little tots, teen-agers, and big folks, that we can make in time for this year. If you send them to me today, I'll make up a leaflet and let you know when you can send for it.

"Dear Eunice:

"The last dress I made for my daughter had large unpressed pleats in the skirt. After I had the pleats basted in place, I noticed that they were turning the opposite way from the picture on the pattern. I still don't know what I did wrong. Does it really matter which way they lie?" Mrs. B. P. T.

I think the clue to your error was in the method of marking the unpressed pleats. I imagine you marked them on the wrong side of the fabric with chalk or a tracing wheel.

Since unpressed pleats must be folded into position from the RIGHT side of the fabric, you must tailor-tack your pattern marks because you can't use colored chalk on the right side of the fabric.

After the pleat marks have been tailor-tacked, keep your pattern right above your garment and you can see the direction each pleat is to be folded.

It often makes a great difference in the appearance of a garment and should be made the way the pattern was designed.

"If you have a slide fastener that won't stay closed, sew a small hook on the waistband directly above the metal tab on the fastener. The slot in the tab may now be caught on the hook so it won't slip open."

For this suggestion which will so easily soothe many frayed nerves, Mrs. Betty Bacik of Detroit, is being sent the weekly Tailor Trix pressing board award.

UPDATES OLD COAT

Mrs. L. B. says: Alterations I made on an old, but expensive coat turned out beautifully. The pockets, cuffs and buttonholes were worn, so I covered those spots with a pretty black braid, also shortened the coat to the new length. Results: An up-to-date coat with very little effort and expense.

"Dear Eunice:

"If I can't get buttonhole-twist to match my skirts, can I use anything else for the hand-picking and putting the slide fastener in by hand. Mrs. H. E.

Yes, you can get a matching embroidery floss or use a double mercerized thread. If you are using two strands of thread, be sure you un-twist the thread with each stitch to avoid tangling and knotting. Running your thread through beeswax will strengthen the thread and keep it from fraying and knotting.

Interior Designer Measures Off Her Work

By ELLEN McCLUSKEY
President, New York Chapter, American Institute of Interior Designers
Written for United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—What may a client expect from an interior designer? What, besides a fee, does an interior designer expect from a client?

These are two questions interior designers are asked frequently. Unfortunately, there are misconceptions in the minds of many home owners and apartment dwellers as to the interior designer-client relationship.

TOO FAR OUT

The far too prevalent feeling seems to be that the interior designer is too expensive, too "far out," too arbitrary in imposing his—or her—taste on a client.

But mainly, too expensive. This column gives me the opportunity of exploding some of these myths.

When using an interior designer, the client receives the services of a professional—like a doctor or a lawyer. By his years of education and experience in the field, he is qualified to plan and supervise the design and execution of interiors and their furnishings.

The interior designer does not just take an order for so many yards of fabric, or so many pieces of furniture. He first studies the habits of his client's family. How they live. How they entertain. Their likes and dislikes.

Then he interprets these findings to create a background most suitable and functional for their particular kind of living.

The designer plans and supervises . . . eliminating doubt and uncertainty. Due to his "know-how," he saves the client both time and money. He knows what is available in the market and where to get it.

★ ★ ★

His services are paid for normally by the difference between the wholesale price of the furnishings purchased and the retail price the client would pay anyway for the same items.

★ ★ ★

The designer not only makes the purchases, but also creates a well-planned coordinated interior with them for the same price the client would have to spend for the furnishings alone.

The professional interior designer has a thorough knowledge of proportion and scale, a knowledge of color coordination, lighting and space planning, all technical aspects of interior design with which the ordinary layman is not familiar.

This is the area in which the glaring errors of "do-it-yourself decorating" are most apparent.

FROM CLIENT

The client must allot sufficient time for consultation and some shopping with the decorator. This should include at least two appointments a week. All day sessions are too tiring and confusing to the client.

If the client is a wife, the husband should be brought into consultation, since tastes of both are to be considered.

★ ★ ★

The husband also should be present when the budget is being discussed, since he foots the bill. The client must be honest about how much she wants to spend, since this will determine to some extent the procedure to be followed.

★ ★ ★

Such, for instance, as doing one room well on a limited budget and going on with a certain amount of additional work each year.

The client should have some idea of the effect she would like to achieve and be honest about her likes and dislikes. The client should not be overly influenced by popular trends but should use colors and furnishings becoming to her, and which her family likes, as a background.

★ ★ ★

The client should also understand that first things come first. The important basic furnishings are purchased first and the accessories which often make or break a room follow.

If the client has an architect, the interior designer should be called in early, so they may work together in creating a more unified whole.

Fruit Cocktail Cake Omits Shortening

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Ever so often a reader sends up a recipe that is not completely new, but is so good or so interesting that we like to run it again. Such a recipe is this one for Fruit Cocktail Cake. There must be many cooks who have never tried it.

By Mrs. O. E. Burden

2 cups sifted flour
1 cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
1 egg slightly beaten
1 can (14-oz.) fruit cocktail, drained
½ cup chopped nuts

Mix dry ingredients. Add egg and fruit, also 6 tablespoons of the drained juice. Mix in nuts. Pour into ungreased 8x8x2 pan.

Cover with topping and bake 1 hour at 300 degrees. Serve warm or cold, with or without whipped cream.

Topping
¾ cup brown sugar
½ cup chopped nuts

Diet Low in Protein?

Beat Fatigue With Food

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

If you are harassed by chronic fatigue so that you find it extremely difficult to take care of your responsibilities and have no energy left at all for other activities, why not try to improve the situation? Life is no fun like that!

If fatigue continues, a complete physical checkup is indicated but there are some simple steps you can try all by yourself. For instance, many women eat a completely inadequate breakfast.

* * *

They have a piece of toast and a cup of coffee and let it go at that — or just coffee and fruit juice. They do not suspect that their fatigue may stem from this habit.

MORE PROTEIN

Perhaps your diet is low in protein, which is a splendid way to raise blood sugar level and supply energy. Maybe the addition of some protein-food at breakfast would make a difference. Proteins are valuable for many reasons, one being that they build energy without inflating the figure.

Some persons find that the habit of eating something in between meals overcomes weariness.

A brief rest during the day can make all the difference between being tired and feeling peppy, many authorities feel that several short rest periods are more effective than one long one.

Fatigue may be caused by the habit of having only a cup of coffee, or not much more, for breakfast.

FEET UP

Even if you just sit down and put your feet up on a chair for 10 minutes once or twice a day, and then lie down for 15 minutes after lunch, you may find that this is the answer to your problem.

Try this approach for a week and see if you don't feel much more energetic.

If you would like to have my leaflet, "Pep," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 56 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Tomorrow: "New Test Predicts Future of Child's Dental Health."

Jeweled pill boxes and matching jeweled perfume bottles with funnels are boxed in reusable black plastic gift boxes with see-through covers. Box and bottle are finished in crushed gold and have stones in assorted colors of purple, aqua, topaz, red, pearl and jet.

Winter Rules for Furniture

Bundle up outdoor furniture warm and clean for the winter. How you store patio and lawn furniture will determine their usability next summer, says Mary Jane Forest, home economist.

Miss Forest offers four rules for storing:

* * *

(1) Clean furniture thoroughly before putting away. A good household cleanser, warm water and a sponge will quickly erase summer's dust and dirt and coke stains. A thin coat of wax (make sure the furniture is dry before applying) is good anti-rust insurance for metal pieces.

* * *

(2) Check all furniture for rust and rot. Scrape if necessary.

* * *

(3) Most outdoor furniture should be repainted each year, and now is the time to do this or better yet, set aside clean until a rainy winter's day and then paint them.

* * *

(4) Be sure to store outdoor furniture in a dry place. A cover of plastic, or even an old sheet will keep dust away. Remember that severe temperature changes may damage materials like plastic and canvas — don't store such pieces in the garage; bring them indoors.

Consumption of ice cream has risen in the last 10 years from 17.2 pounds per person per year to 18.4 pounds.

Plenty at Stake in Hills-West Bloomfield Contest

W-O Crown, Unbeaten Year Go to Winner

Game Rated Tossup; Kickoff Time Moved to 3 P.M. at BHHS

A league championship, an unbeaten season and a high rating in the state will go to the winner of Friday afternoon's collision between Bloomfield Hills and West Bloomfield.

★ ★ ★

There will be no room for a tie when the teams line up on the Bloomfield Hills gridiron for the 3 p.m. kickoff.

Both teams will carry 7-0 records into the contest. West Bloomfield is rated 6th in Class B by the Associated Press while the Barons are in the top 15 in Class A.

The winner will retain a high rating and gain the Wayne-Oakland championship. Second place in the standings will be the only consolation for the loser.

A tie would result in both schools sharing the title, but perfect seasons and high ratings would be things of the past.

Bloomfield has added incentive.

SEEK TWO FIRSTS

The Barons have never won a league championship and they have never defeated West Bloomfield in five tries. The Lakers last topped the crown in 1960.

The Art Paddy coached Lakers went undefeated and untied that year.

West Bloomfield rolled past all but Northville in convincing fashion. Paddy has mobilized a powerful offense headed by quarterback Dan Greig and end Dave Helmreich.

If the Lakers have a weakness, it is a defense that has been leaky at times. But the offense has more than taken care of this problem.

West Bloomfield has swept aside the challenges of Waterford 34-20, Holly 32-6, Clarenceville 39-6, Milford 27-0, Brighton 34-19, defending W-O champion Northville 27-19, and Clarkston 35-13.

★ ★ ★

Bloomfield Hills will be the fourth Class A school on the Lakers' schedule. The others are Clarkston, Milford and Waterford. The remaining teams are Class B.

The Barons, under the direction of Don Hoff, have taken the measure of Oak Park 13-6, Clarkston 35-0, Brigton 31-19, Northville 7-0, Clarenceville 41-6, Milford 27-7, and Holly 25-0.

Roger Stewart, converted to quarterback this season, leads the Barons offense which is slightly less potent than the Lakers'. But the Hills' defense is a little better.

Game time was moved up a half hour to compensate for the shorter daylight hours.

Holly will try to rebound at Milford, Clarkston can expect more trouble at Northville, and Brighton will be aiming to cement a first division finish at home against Clarenceville in the other final W-0 games of the season.

Only Holly and Northville have one nonleague each remaining to be played.

Sophs Get Chance to Play for U-M

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The Michigan coaching staff is thinking more and more about the 1963 season these days.

★ ★ ★

With a 1-4 win-loss record for the season and three consecutive shutouts, coach Bump Elliott and his lieutenants are focusing increasing attention on promising sophomores, hoping to turn them into seasoned veterans before the 1962 season is over.

Some of the younger players will be given more chance to play for the rest of the season, Elliott said.

★ ★ ★

"We're going to take the young kids who are fighters and work with them," said end coach Jack (Jocko) Nelson.

Thirteen of the 34 players who saw action against Minnesota last week were sophomores, and the lineup should be even younger against Wisconsin here Saturday.

Top performer of the younger set is rangy Bob Timberlake, who started out as a promising quarterback, was moved to No. 1 spot after three games, and now is an equally promising left halfback.

Another is quarterback Frosty Evashevski, who was listed as a junior but is playing his sophomore year because of a knee injury that kept him out all last season.

ADDED TIME

Evashevski has spent an increasing amount of time on the field and has completed 10 out of 30 passes for 74 yards — second only to Timberlake who completed 13 out of 29 for 132 yards.

Left ends Jim Conley and Ben Farabee have been seeing increasing action and may see more Saturday, with team captain Bob Brown a doubtful starter at that spot because of an ankle injury suffered against Minnesota last Saturday.

Turning to more immediate problems, Elliott expects the airlanes to be busy in the Wolverine-Badger contest.

★ ★ ★

"They pass about half the time," reported interior line coach Jack Fouts, who scouted the Wisconsin-Ohio State game last week. The Badgers will bring with them the awesome passing combination of quarterback Ron VanderKelen and end Pat Richter.

★ ★ ★

Richter might have reason to be gunning for the Wolverines. He suffered a broken collarbone against Michigan two years ago and was disabled the rest of the season. He had just caught a 50-yard pass to set up Wisconsin's first score when he was hit.

Maples Hoping Kimball Wins

Knights Must Top Ferndale in EML

The Maples have finished their league season with a 5-1 league record marred only by a 27-7 disaster at Ferndale. Ferndale, No. 7 in the AP Class A poll, remains unbeaten in the league and must burdle Kimball Friday at Royal Oak to clinch a tie.

Roseville which officially begins EML play with the advent of basketball season, rudely jolted the Dales from the regular season unbeaten ranks last Friday, 16-13. Kimball has only lost once in loop competition but has a tie game on its log which kills the Knights' title chances.

SPOILERS?

However, it would be a feather in the Knights' helmets should they spoil the dreams of the visiting Ferndale eleven.

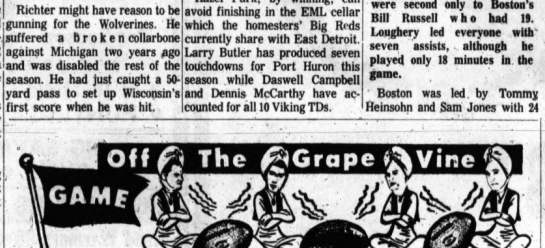
Seaholm will tackle invading Roseville in the Maples' final game. The Wildcats have met three EML teams this season, winning two and tying lowly Hazel Park.

★ ★ ★

Two other league contests see East Detroit visiting Mt. Clemens and Hazel Park at Port Huron.

The Shamrocks will seek their first win in eight starts this year, while Mt. Clemens needs a victory to finish with a winning record.

Hazel Park, by winning, can avoid finishing in the EML cellar which the homesters' Big Reds currently share with East Detroit. Larry Butler has produced seven touchdowns for Port Huron this season while Daswell Campbell and Dennis McCarthy have accounted for all 10 Viking TDs.



What now you lousy Grapevine Pickers?

Imagine four ties on last week's vines and PCH, Ferndale and Waterford getting whipped and Navy mauling Pitt and the Rams taking care of the 49ers.

This Swami Association is having a rough time of it. It seems these teams just don't follow the Grapevine.

Oh well, another bunch of upsets should take place this week and one to watch is Papa Halas who predicts his Bears will be "up" for those mighty Packers. The Lions hope so, but they be careful of those Rams.

'Team' Yet to Win

Pistons Drop Sixth

By JERE CRAIG

DETROIT — When Dick McGuire cavorted around the National Basketball Association courts with the New York Knickerbockers and later the Detroit Pistons, he was noted for his outstanding playmaking and ball handlings. He was a real team man.

McGuire presently coaches the Pistons and last night he unveiled his 1962-63 squad before the home folks. It was anything but a team effort. Boston's defending world champion Celtics whipped the Pistons, 115-100, before 8,388 fans at Convention Arena. It was the sixht straight loss for the unwinning Detroiters.

The home forces displayed a tall, hustling squad, but a distinct lack of togetherness. McGuire probably has as fast a quartet of backliners as any team in the league, but Don Ohl, Willie Jones, John Egan and Kevin Loughery are also among the shootingest.

Last night the Pistons outrebounded the tall Boston team 83-70 but the men of Red Auerbach outshot the Detroiters, 116-109. Repeatedly, the Piston guards would bring the ball down the court and throw it away or take bad shots. McGuire's high-scoring frontliners rarely had the ball.

POOR SHOOTING

Of the 109 shots taken by 11 Piston players, the four guards shot 54 times and hit only 31 per cent. Ohl, although scoring 15 points, hit only seven of 25 shots. As a team, Detroit hit 34 per cent and the Celtics 41 per cent.

Bailey Howell led the Pistons with 16 points, Bob Ferry matched Ohl's 15, John Egan had 12, U. of D.'s Dave Debusschere had 11 and Ray Scott 10. Howell's 16 rebounds were second only to Boston's Bill Russell who had 19. Loughery led everyone with seven assists, although he played only 18 minutes in the game.

Boston was led by Tommy Heinsohn and Sam Jones with 24 and 23, respectively. Bob Cousy tallied 16 and John Havlicek 13.

BRIGHT MOMENTS

There were a few bright moments for the hometown folks. DeBusschere's first local appearance in an NBA game saw him hit four of five shots in the second quarter and five of nine for the game. He also pulled down eight rebounds, fourth highest for both teams.

For Boston, the play of first year man Havlicek, one of those Ohio State basketball hotshots, was particularly impressive. Being groomed as a 6-5 backcourt man, Havlicek hit six of 11 shots and had a couple assists in playing less than a half. He continually broke away from his defensive man, whether playing forward or guard.

The two teams were tied 34-24 after one quarter and Boston had a six-point bulge at halftime, 58-52. The second half, however, was all Boston as the visitors built up a twelve point margin in the third stanza and never relinquished it in the final 12 minutes.

FROM THE SIDE — John Havlicek (17) of the Boston Celtics drives in from the side and lays up a two-pointer over the head of Detroit's Dave DeBusschere in last night's NBA game at Convention Arena. The Celtics won, 115-100.

All-America Prospects on Midwestern Elevens

CHICAGO (AP) — The midwest football stronghold, honed to a sharp late-season edge, is popping up with All-America candidates in close pairs from the same schools.

Top-ranked Northwestern's sensational Tom Myers-to-Paul Flately passing combination . . . Minnesota's superb tackle duo of Bob Bell and Carl Eller . . . revived Purdue's one-two fullback punch of Roy Walker and Gene Donaldson.

★ ★ ★

But a dozen new stars have moved into contention.

MSU FLANKER

ENDS —Matt Snorton of Michigan State, still a prime Big Ten title contender; and Northwestern's Flately, really a slot back, who has grabbed 35 Myers' losses for 494 yards and 5 touchdowns, including a pair last Saturday in the Wildcats' 35-6 romp over Notre Dame.

TACKLES—soph Joe Czczecko, 235-pounder, named the Associated Press lineman of the week for his work against Notre Dame; and Minnesota's Eller, who with Bell has helped make Minnesota the nation's strongest defender against rushing in 15 seasons.

GUARDS — Notre Dame's Bob Lehman, who leads the Irish defense with 38 tackles; and Wisconsin's Jim Schenk, a demon linebacker who shone in a losing effort against Ohio State.

HALFBACKS — Ohio State's Paul Warfield, brilliant pass defender who held Flately and Richter to only two catches each on successive Saturdays; and Iowa's cessive Saturdays) and Iowa's Larry Ferguson, averaging 5.6 yards and snagging four passes against Purdue.

FULLBACKS — Purdue's Walker and Donaldson, a pair of 220 pounders, whose 112 yards against Iowa topped the 99 made by the entire Hawkeye backfield as Purdue won 26-3 Saturday.

3-Game Tour Crucial for Hopes in NFL

Arnett in Action Again to Give Rams Potent Running Attack

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The Detroit Lions boarded a jet this morning for Los Angeles, the first leg of a three-game road series, with the hope that when they return to Detroit, it will be for a showdown game Thanksgiving Day with the Green Bay Packers.

In order for this to come about, the Lions know they cannot afford another loss and someone in the next three weeks has to beat the Packers.

After the Los Angeles game Sunday, the Lions move into San Francisco to meet the rugged 49ers and then to Minnesota to face the fast improving Vikings.

PACKERS TRAVEL

Green Bay, on other hand will be in Chicago Sunday facing Papa Halas and the angry Bears who remember the 49-0 pasting they took a few weeks ago when 11 of their key players were out with injuries.

After the Bears, the Packers travel to Philadelphia to meet the Eagles and then get back to Green Bay for a home encounter with the Colts before the Turkey Day clash in Detroit.

In view of the Rams' 28-14 victory over the 49ers last week, the Lions are expecting trouble. They certainly remember the 13-10 victory at Tiger Stadium three weeks ago when Dick Bass, the dynamic little fullback rushed for 146 yards.

RAMS READY

The Rams are preparing to give the Lions a double barrel offense this time with Jon Arnett back in action. He missed the first game between the two teams but last week got back into action and scored two touchdowns against the 49ers.

In worrying about the Rams' offensive power, Wilson is also concerned about the Lions' offense which has scored only four touchdowns in the last four games after scoring 15 TD's in the first three.

By the same token, the Lions' defense has been just as stingy, giving up only three touchdowns in the last four games although two losses have been inflicted by way of field goals.

"I just hope that if our offense gets back into high gear that our defense doesn't flop suddenly," said Wilson.

Still in doubt for Sunday's game is the return of Terry Barr a strong reason for the offensive slack. Barr's knee was still badly swollen this week, but he hopes that the warmer climate the next three days may help the condition.

The game will be televised back to Detroit at 4:30 p.m. Sunday.

Paul Hornung, the Green Bay Packers' halfback of many duties, says he won't know until Saturday whether he'll be able to play in the next day's National Football League game with the Bears in Chicago.

★ ★ ★

Minnesota continued its heavy preparations yesterday for Saturday's Michigan State game, including some hard hitting in the line during a controlled defensive scrimmage.

PNH vs. Falcons in Nonleague Game

The Walled Lake Vikings have their fifth Inter-Lakes crown in seven years safely tucked away but the six teams in the loop haven't put away the uniforms yet.

★ ★ ★

Two of the teams will conclude this year's gridiron efforts Friday, but the other four will go at it twice more. Berkley's Bears and the champion Vikings will both take to the road Friday for the season finales.

★ ★ ★

Farmington, also, will be on the road Friday travelling to Detroit Livonia Bentley. Three teams will be home. Southfield will play host to Royal Oak Dondero and Lapeer will visit Waterford.

The Falcons-Huskies contest should be a good one. Both teams are expected to be at full strength for the contest and have the impetus from a big victory last week.

Tom Mitzelfeld led Rochester to a 26-13 upset over arch-rival Romeo by scoring three touchdowns. The Falcons are only 2-5 for the season while Northern is 3-3-1.

★ ★ ★

The Huskies will be favored to push their record above the .500 mark in the Rochester game. The Red and White have met the Falcons three times and haven't lost to them. Last year's game was a 7-0 squeaker.

STRONG FOE

Champion Walled Lake will meet a good Plymouth team as the Vikings wrap up another successful season. Under Dave Smith, the Vikings have a 6-1 mark this year and an overall 47-8 record.

Plymouth handed a good Northville squad a 19-6 lacing in the season's opener, but could only muster a 6-6 tie with Farmington. Walled Lake, however, was beaten 20-19 by Farmington for its only loss.

Farmington's Falcons want a win against Bentley to add fuel to their claim as the best team in the I-L at the season's end. In addition to whipping the Champion Vikings, Falcons scored impressive victories against PNH and Southfield in the last four weeks.

Berkley's Bears were the only team to stop them during that period, 7-0. Bentley lost to Belleville 21-6 last Friday. Belleville will help Berkley close its season Friday, and the home team will have the support of the Farmington fans.

FIRST BLOOD — George Armstrong of Toronto (right) whoops in triumph as his shot whips past Montreal goalie Cesare Maniago in the first period last night. Leafs Ed Litzenberger waits for a rebound that didn't come. Montreal won, 4-3.

New NHL Trend Appears

Toronto Drops Another on Home Ice

By The Associated Press

Now, what's all this shouting about the home ice advantage?

★ ★ ★

Time was, like last season, when such National Hockey League teams as Montreal and Toronto simply did not lose at home. It just wasn't being done. And any team was supposed to have a considerable advantage when playing at home.

★ ★ ★

This season, however, it hasn't quite worked out that way. Of the 25 NHL games played so far, the home team has won only 10 times. Six have ended in ties.

ONE HOME WIN

And the team with the most trouble has been Toronto—which didn't lose a big handful of home games all last season. This year the Stanley Cup Champion Leafs have won only once in four home starts.

They suffered their second straight home loss 4-3 to Montreal in the only league game scheduled Wednesday night. The victory pulled the Canadiens to within one point of second place Chicago and within two of leading Detroit.

The Canadiens, behind 1-0 midway through the first period, jammed in four straight goals and appeared to be on their way to a rout before Toronto rallied enough to make a game of it.

Claude Provost and Gilles Tremblay got the first two Montreal goals, each on a power play, and Tom Johnson made it 3-1 just as Toronto's Bobby Baun charged from the penalty box after a holding infraction.

WINNING GOAL

Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion got the eventual winner 33 seconds into the final period. George Armstrong produced Toronto's first goal, and Billie Harris and Dave Keon added the others in the final period.

★ ★ ★

Bubba Sparks Tiger Victory Over Japanese

SAPPORO, Japan (AP) — The Detroit Tigers, sparked by Bubba Morton's hitting, defeated the Daimai Orions-Yomiuri Giants All-Star team 6-2 today.

Some 20,000 watched the Tigers score five runs on seven hits off three Japanese pitchers in the first two innings.

Morton pounded out three hits and drove in two runs. He has eight hits in 17 at bats in the four games the Tigers have played in Japan so far.

It was the Tigers' second victory against one defeat and one tie in their 17-game Japan goodwill tour.

NCAA Grounds Dayton Flyers for Two Years

NEW YORK (AP)—The University of Dayton Flyers, perennially among the top basketball squads in the land, are out of tournament competition for the next two years because of excessive transportation arrangements made for a freshman hotshot in 1960.

The Flyers, 1962 National Invitation Tournament Champions, were grounded Wednesday when the National Collegiate Athletic Association Council, winding up a three-day fall meeting here, ordered a two-year probationary period for the university.

The action, the result of illegal transportation provided on four instances to Roger Brown of New York two years ago when he was a freshman, knocks Dayton out of the post-season NCAA championships as well as the NIT and all other holiday tournaments except one in 1963 to which the Flyers already were committed.

HOLIDAY FESTIVAL

The exception will be the 1963 ECAC Holiday Festival a year from December in New York's Madison Square Garden. Prior to the probationary action, Dayton had accepted an advance invitation for the festival and had signed a formal contract to compete. Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, said the association would respect contracts already in force in keeping with the custom in such probationary cases.

In Dayton, the Rev. Raymond A. Roesch, university president, said "We accept the penalty, imposed by the NCAA committee on infractions and will continue to make every effort to abide by all the laws and by-laws of the NCAA."

Dayton's violations included transporting Brown from his home in Brooklyn to enroll at the university and during the 1960-61 season, when the 6-foot-5 former schoolboy ace was on the freshman team, paying his round trip transportation to New York three times for personal matters.

Father Roesch said Brown's trips were for appearances in traffic court in New York following an automobile accident in which he was involved and added: "The athletic department was motivated by what it judged to be a hardship case and felt that it was justified."

CONTACT MAN

Brown still is in Dayton, playing for an AAU team. He dropped out of the university after his involvement in last year's college basketball scandals. According to New York District Attorney Frank Hogan, Brown admitted accepting $250 to act as a contact man for confessed gambler Joseph Hacken, now awaiting sentencing on several counts of bribery and conspiracy.

★ ★ ★

Ironically, Brown's attorney for the traffic court was Jack Molinas, former college and pro basketball player now on trial here on charges of bribery in connection with the scandals.

★ ★ ★

It was a car lent to him by Molinas that Brown was driving when he was involved in the accident. He received a suspended sentence.

★ ★ ★

Brown's connection with the scandals had nothing to do with the NCAA action, which also was based on the fact that the Dayton freshman team of 1960-61 played 31 in-season games, five more than permitted under the NCAA rules. The extra games came, the council said, when the Dayton frosh appeared virtually intact—including Coach Herb Dintaman—in outside competition under the name of Paul's Tobacco team.

Fewer Deaths on Gridiron

Halfway Mark Shows 28 Per Cent Decline

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Football fatalities at the mid-season point this year are 28 per cent below the 1961 figure at the same halfway mark.

This was the score Thursday from Dr. Floyd R. Eastwood of Los Angeles State College, chairman of the surveying committee of the American Football Coaches Association.

* * *

Where 35 players died from either direct or indirect causes at this juncture a year ago, only 25 have succumbed thus far this fall, Dr. Eastwood reported.

Of the 25 this year, 16 were attributed to injuries suffered directly in football and nine from indirect causes.

ON SAND LOTS

The survey said that of the 16 direct deaths, 11 were in high school and five in sandlot competition.

Of the nine indirect deaths, three were in college, one in sandlot and five in high school competition. The college indirect deaths included two from apparent heat exhaustion in Texas.

Dr. Eastwood said that, as has been the case in all past reports, injuries to the brain have accounted for the greatest number of fatalities. Thirteen of the 16 direct football deaths were caused by such injuries, with two others being caused by neck and spine injuries and one from a ruptured spleen.

JUST CURIOUS — Tomboy, a jumper ridden by Mary Mairs, looks around to see what kind of trophy they are getting from Mrs. Frank Cavanaugh and International Horse Show president James Thomas in Madison Square Garden last night. Miss Mairs and two other riders gave the United States its third straight trophy.

Miss Mairs Sets Pace

U.S. Rookie Rider Faultless

NEW YORK (AP)—Mary Mairs, the 18-year-old rookie of the United States equestrian team, has come through beyond the wildest dreams of Coach Bert De Menethy.

* * *

Going into today's third session of the National Horse Show in Madison Square Garden, Mary—youngest rider ever to make the U.S. international riding squad—had gone into the ring four times and had not tripped a single obstacle—a fantastic record.

"Part of the explanation is that I usually am the first rider to appear on our team because I am the least experienced," she said. "My job is to try to go clean and let the boys go for time. "That's Mr. De Menethy's order and I try to follow it."

Mary, who was graduated from Polytechnic High in Pasadena, Calif., only last June, made the European trip with the team last summer and by now has clinched a spot for herself.

* * *

Jacks Or Better, off to a fast start, led the open jumpers with 12 points under owner Ben O'Meara of Montville, N.J., but he was shut out in Wednesday night's jump, which was won by former champion Windsor Castle, who now has eight points.

* * *

Cold Climate, the defending champion sent in by Mrs. J. Deane Rucker of Grosse Pointe, Mich., is making a runaway of the conformation hunter division. He has 12½ points.

The working hunter division has a three-way tie for first among Little Fiddle, owned by the Duffy and Steart stables of Guilderland, N.Y.; Navy Commander, belonging to the Laughin' Place stables of Niles, Mich., and Mysterious, owned by the Lauray Farms stable of Bath, Ohio.

War Party, Blastoff, Roar in Thumb Loop

The Chieftains are on the war-path; the Rockets are being fueled; the Tigers are roaring.

This all leads up to a major conflagration Friday night in the Southern Thumb Conference.

At New Haven the Rockets will blast off for Capac with hopes of carrying an outright league championship into orbit. The Chieftains can't gain all the spoils, but they could snare at least a third and possibly half the title.

Armada's Tigers will be out to claw hapless Memphis in their lair while roaring for a Capac victory. Should this happen, Armada, Capac and New Haven will share the championship.

Almont has already forfeited its last game to Anchor Bay because of a shortage of healthy varsity players.

Undefeated New Haven replaced Capac in 10th place in the Associated Press' Class C-D poll this week. The Chieftains, toppled only by Armada, are still cast in the role of favorites.

Armada's lone loss was to New Haven. The Tigers are expected to have little trouble with Memphis.

Thanksgiving Day Off

CHICAGO (AP)— The National AAU 10,000-meter cross country running meet originally scheduled for Thanksgiving Day now has been set for the following Saturday, Nov. 24.

This was announced today by Ted Haydon, coach of University of Chicago Track Club, sponsor of the meet.

One Win Means Clear Cut Title

Troy Not in Mood for Upsets in Oakland-A

Troy High School, the victim of a real Halloween scare last Friday, will not be in any mood for hi-jinks this weekend when it takes the field at Madison Heights.

A victory will give the Colts clear claim to first prize in the Oakland A League race. Under coach Bob McElreath, they shared the title with Avondale's Yellow Jackets last season. Clawson finished its league schedule last week with a 5-1 log and is the only team which can tie the Colts now.

Sporting a glossy 4-0 loop record, Troy confidently (perhaps too much so) played host to Oak Park last weekend and the Redskins almost unsaddled the unsuspecting Colts. Leading 6-0 in the final minute, Troy had to pounce on an Oak Park fumble at the one-yard-line to prevent what could have been an immense upset.

Madison has a 1-2-2 record good enough for third place in the loop, and a eight-touchdown runner named John Chiarotti. The Eagles romped past non-league foe Oxford, 33-7, last week.

Oak Park will travel to Avondale Friday and must win to avoid falling into the cellar.

Frank Crowell will have the Yellow Jackets primed for the Redskins in an effort to get off the bottom of the heap.

★ ★ ★

Fitzgerald will be reaching for the circuit's third place rung when it entertains Lake Orion Friday. The Spartans' victory over Avondale last weekend jumped them out of the basement and coach Al Drath could rescue what's left of the season with a victory over the Dragons.

★ ★ ★

Clawson will close its regular season Saturday afternoon at Clintondale. The Trojans will attempt to close their record with three consecutive wins after a tough 13-6 loss to Troy in the middle of the season. Bob Acton has moulded a 6-1 record overall this year.

Parker Fires 3 Steelers

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Angered by two successive crushing defeats handed his Pittsburgh Steelers, Coach Buddy Parker has fired three veterans in an attempt to get his team back into the thick of the National Football League race.

* * *

Parker, in a sudden move Wednesday, dismissed defensive halfback Johnny Sample, offensive end Harlon Hill and defensive tackle-end John Kapele. Sample and Hill were both starters.

"We just got rid of some guys that we couldn't use this year or any other year," Parker explained. "Sample hasn't been worth a damn all season and he's been a hard boy to handle. Hill hasn't done anything, either. And it took us three years to find out that Kapele isn't much of a prospect."

LIGHTS FIRE

"Maybe this will put some fire in the rest of the team," the Texan added. "Particularly the defense which hasn't been exactly a ball of fire in the last two games."

Parker has blamed the defense for the Steelers defeats to Dallas, 42-27, and Cleveland, 41-14, on the past two Sundays. Before those losses Pittsburgh had been a serious contender for the Eastern Division crown. Now, the Steelers are mired in fifth place with a 3-4 record.

* * *

"It may look tough for us," Parker acknowledged, "but we're not out of the race yet—not the way this division has been going. It all depends on whether we can regroup or not."

Sample, a five-year veteran, didn't play in the setback to Cleveland. He suffered a back injury against Dallas and was kept out of the Browns game. But it was no secret that Parker had been disappointed in Sample's performance this season.

The former Maryland Stafe star came to the Steelers last year in a trade with the Baltimore Colts where he had been a defensive standout. He continued his sensational play with the Steelers, leading the team in pass interceptions with eight.

But he hadn't made one interception this season and had been having an unusual amount of passes completed in his territory.

FROM BEARS

Hill was in his first season with the Steelers after eight years with the Chicago Bears. Although a graduate of little-known Florence State Teachers College in Alabama, Hill was an All-Pro several times with the Bears. He still holds several Bears' pass receiving records, catching 226 passes for 4,616 yards.

Kapele, a Hawaiian-born Mormon, played at Brigham Young. He was in his third year with the Steelers but had never been a starter.

Parker said he planned to add three more men to the Steelers roster, including veteran offensive halfback Tom Tracy. Tracy was released prior to the start of the season but has been working out with the Steelers.

The Steelers also claimed defensive end John Baker who had been released Tuesday by the Philadelphia Eagles.

He and his assistants will travel to Saginaw to view Flint Southwestern's game with Saginaw High. The Chiefs play the Flint school next week.

Midland can wrap up a share of the Saginaw Valley championship by beating Arthur Hill on the Chemics field. Flint Northern and Bay City battle for survival at Flint.

Grim Bears Working Hard to Avenge Packer Defeat

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Bears are preparing for the invasion of the undefeated Green Bay Packers Sunday with a grimness that belies an eagerness to avenge a 49-0 pasting by the National Football League champions earlier this season.

"They are the champions and we know what we have to do," said George Halas as he exhorted his Bears in Wednesday's drills to get down quickly on Bobby Joe Green's punts.

"Bobby can really punt, but the Packers have a great one, too—Boyd Dowler," Halas continued. "And Green Bay opponents have been giving Dowler too much time to get them away. Do that and he'll kick 'em right out of the park. We can't allow that Sunday."

NO CONCERN

Halas shows no concern with reports from Green Bay that Paul Hornung may return to the line-up after being sidelined three weeks with injury.

"Let him play," he said. "We have the utmost respect for Hornung, but we don't ever want to see a great competitor on the bench, even if he can beat us."

Quarterback Bill Wade chimed in: "I hope Hornung does play. I hate to play a team that has key men out. It gives them an excuse if they lose."

Hornung, the NFL scoring leader the last three seasons, has been sidelined with a twisted right knee since Oct. 14.

He said at Green Bay:

"I really won't know until Saturday if I'll be able to play. The knee might come round, it might not."

Lowther 5-Points Up in Grid Point Race

Chuck Lowther has a 5-point jump on Jeff Barth of Farmington Our Lady of Sorrow to command the lead for the second consecutive time in the Oakland County individual scoring race.

The Royal Oak Shrine quarterback's 15 touchdowns puts him into the No. 1 spot ahead of Barth, who has 12 TDs and 13 extra points.

This is Lowther's 4th time in the No. 1 spot. Shrine still has one game to go with Birmingham Groves Friday and Lowther's showing may well determine if he can hold his present position.

Barth has been attracting a lot of attention in Farmington. He has broken records to verify his prowess on the football field including his scoring record to date, a total offensive of 2,133 yards, and 37 completions on 67 attempted passes.

* * *

Behind the Sorrow back in the scoring column is Clawson's Brodie Burton with 74. He has been in the third berth four times and was leader in the second weeks composite.

HELMREICH LEADS RIVAL

Dave H. Elmreich of West Bloomfield has a five point lead on Roger Stewart of Bloomfield Hills with 70 to take 5th spot.

Both boys will compare TD talents Saturday when the two schools meet to determine the Wayne-Oakland league championship at the Hills field.

Rochester senior halfback Tom Mitzelfeld is making a bid to retain his last years position in the first place with 50 points that have vaulted him into the top 21 for the first time.

He tied Ferndale scoring ace Dorie Reed for honors in his junior year, but has been hampered by injuries the first half of this season.

He is back in action 100 per cent now, however, as Romeo found out Friday when he crossed their goal line three times.

* * *

Dale LaPrairie and Dave Ottman of St. James and Waterford OLL have both slid from their respective second and third spots last week to 4th and 7th.

Burton edged LaPrairie by one-point with 74 for third highest and the Farmington OLS team kept Ottman scoreless knocking him to 7th.

Madison and Orchard Lake St. Mary each have boys in the top 21 for the first time with John Chariotti and Frank Rompel.

AREA SCORING

John Mack, well in the area lead with 86, John Hanley of Romeo with 61, Armada's John Muren has 60 and with Capacs John Stanilou's 46 dominate the top seven places.

Kelley Dryer, Macks teammate, breaks the 'John' monopoly in 5th with 45.

Skippers Face 'Trouble'

The Waterford Skippers, who lost two games and the Inter-Lakes championship in the last two weeks, may have trouble rebounding against Lapeer Friday.

★ ★ ★

He's also trying to keep the players from looking past Lapeer to the long awaited match with Kettering.

Lapeer stumbled through all but its last Tri-County game. The Panthers knocked off some tough non-league foes — Flushing, Mt. Morris and Flint Beecher.

FLINT WIN

But they suffered a reversal of form against Rochester, Romeo and L'Anse Creuse. They picked up their first league win last week 13-0 over Kettering, but it couldn't keep Lapeer from last place.

★ ★ ★

Kettering is expected to get past Oxford.

Oxford, champion of the South Central Conference, has had trouble wining against the larger schools.

However, it should be pointed out that two of the three setbacks were by less than five yards. The Wildcats ran out of time against Romeo and fumbled away the winning TD against Lake Orion.

★ ★ ★

Only Madison of the Oakland A has handled the Wildcats with ease. This setback came last week and the poor showing could be partly attributed to the resounding victory over Imlay City the week before.

The Major Brags

Odd Conclusions Just Like Hoople

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Father of the Belly Series

Egad, my loyal followers, there will be big things stirring in the college football world Nov. 3.

Everywhere one looks — East, West, Midwest or South—a treat is in store. Having applied the Hoople formulae to some of the leading encounters I've arrived at these quaint conclusions.

In the East, Notre Dame will flash its brilliance of old to down a valiant Navy eleven, 20-10, in Philadelphia.

In a battle of West Coast titans I foresee a hard fought 16-13 triumph for Washington's Huskies over the Trojans of Southern California.

In the Midwest, resurgent Nebraska will reap a well-deserved 22-19 victory over mighty Missouri. In the deep South, scrappy Louisiana State will shock rugged Mississippi by a 30-6 margin.

For the scoffers among you, may I remind you that I was one of the few selectors to give you Northwestern to edge the powerful Buckeyes of Ohio State —har-rumph!

Some Improvement Shown

Stock Market Stays Lower

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market remained lower early this afternoon despite some improvement of opening losses. Activity was limited and price changes were mostly under a point among key issues.

Most brokers anticipated little major movement or any speedup in activity in the remaining sessions before Tuesday's elections.

Gains were scattered among the list and were small.

General Motors, which opened lower by almost a point, recovered to trade unchanged from yesterday's close. Du Pont showed a loss of about 1.

After the close yesterday Christiana Securities Co. and members of the du Pont family announced plans to sell more than $90 million worth of their GM holdings.

JOBLESS REPORT

Among the major overnight developments was the report on unemployment dropping to a three-year low at mid October. In addition, U.S. exports and imports to widen the nation's foreign trade surplus.

Construction outlays were reported off slightly in October.

Most major sections of the market had a lower tone although the aircrafts were mixed and oils showed a sprinkling of small gains.

IBM dropped about 3 in morning trading and then recovered about one-third of the loss.

American Stock Exchange prices were lower in quiet trading.

U.S. Bond Prices Slip a Bit

NEW YORK (AP) — U. S. Treasury bond prices were a shade lower at the start of trading today. Corporate bonds opened mixed.

In corporate trading on the New York Stock Exchange, the rail section of the list was notably weak. Utility prices were higher and gains and losses were about a standoff in the industrial group.

An over the counter dealer in governments quoted distant maturities down 1/32 and intermediates off 1/32 in spots. Short term paper was firm. The trading pace was described as very quiet.

Hoffa Charges Wires Tapped

Defense Asks Halt to Federal 'Interference'

NASHVILLE (UPI) — Defense attorneys in the $1-million conspiracy trial of Teamsters boss Jimmy Hoffa charged today that their telephone lines had been tapped.

They asked federal court to stop the government from "interfering" with the defense case.

Justice Department attorney James F. Neal said "To my knowledge there has been nothing of the sort" as that implied by the defense. Judge William Miller said there had been no showing that the government is attempting to interfere with the trial of the case but said he would question a former government agent in connection with the charge.

Z. T. Osborn Jr., defense attorney, said he had been told by the former government agent, whom Osborn had hired to do some investigative work, that the telephone lines in Osborn's office had been tapped.

Defense attorney Charles Maher said he received a telephone call in his hotel room here and when he picked up the telephone no one answered but the line was open. He said he asked who was calling and a voice answered "This is the special switchboard."

He asked Judge Miller to specifically order the special assistants to U.S. Attorney General Robert Kennedy to desist from "any interference or laying any impediments in our way in discharging our responsibility in this case.

The defense charge came shortly before two witnesses who admitted setting up a truck leasing business where to continue their testimony. The government charges the truck leasing business was set up to pay off Hoffa.

Farmer's Almanac Puts In Hard Year

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The old Farmer's Almanac has just published its 171st annual edition and I should like to pause long enough to wish it well.

I feel constrained to do so because the Almanac seems to have been through a rather trying year. Nothing catastrophic befell it. It was just one of those years when things seem to go wrong.

For one thing, the Almanac, which is chiefly noted for its long range weather forecasts, predicted last autumn that the winter of 1961-62 would be colder than the year before.

DOUBLECROSSED

Were it not for the fact that the weather turned out to be warmer, the almanac would have been 100 per cent correct.

This erroneous doublecross by Mother Nature, however, was nothing to compare with the frustrations experienced by Robb Sagendorph, the Almanac publisher, in his dealings with other elements of the communications media.

It all began with what Sagendorph has labeled "the most interesting television appearance" of the year.

He was invited to exhibit on a network program in New York some of the old pictures, barometers and other memorabilia connected with the almanac's 170th anniversary.

On the appointed day he set forth from his Dublin, N.H., office only to be intercepted by a state policeman who brought him word that his part on the program had been canceled.

He returned home and spent the evening, as he recalled, "answering calls from those who had tuned in at our suggestion."

Some months later, Sagendorph was visited by a reporter for a weekly news magazine, which led to what he has labeled "the most interesting article about us in 1962."

After spending two days being interviewed and photographed, and a week answering telephone queries, Sagendorph was told to watch for the next issue. He did, and found a fine article about the Wall Street Journal.

SUBSTITUTED

Still later, the scheduled speaker for the Manchester, N.H., Chamber of Commerce dinner was reported snowbound. Sagendorph was prevailed upon to substitute, which led to what he has labeled as "the most fascinating speech of 1962."

He showed up at the banquet room and sat nervously through the preliminaries. Just as the toastmaster was about to introduce him, in walked the snowbound orator.

* * *

After such a series of misadventures, I'm sure you'll agree that the Almanac is due for a change of luck. For its sake, I hope we are all in for a hard winter, as predicted in the new edition.

MESC Wants Eleven Santas

DETROIT (AP)—The Michigan Employment Security Commission already has received orders for 11 Santa Clauses. It expects more.

"There are no specifications on height, weight or age," a commission spokesman said. "However, we need men who don't drink, who can read and write and use good English. They should be jovial, like children and have strong knees."

JACOBY

Jerry hates to be shut out of the bidding and when West's four heart bid came around to him Jerry tried four spades. East doubled. It didn't look like a mistake at the time and things looked even better to East after his partner opened the five of diamonds and ruffed the diamond return.

But Jerry was optimistic. He was pretty sure that West had opened four hearts with 6-3-1-1 distribution. Assuming that West held the king of clubs as part of his bid Jerry set out to teach East when not to double.

West could have beaten the hand with a club shift, but he played ace and another heart, whereupon the defense was through.

Jerry ruffed in dummy and led a spade. He planned to play the eight if East played the seven, but East played the nine. Jerry won with the queen and led the jack of clubs. West ducked and Jerry played dummy's queen. He led another spade and won East's ten with the king. He led a club to the ace, ruffed a club, entered dummy with the jack of diamonds; led another club and showed East his hand.

East could ruff or discard his last diamond, but he couldn't get a trick.

'Treaters' Dash Home, Win Off-Street Prizes

Shouts of "Trick or Treat" rang through Pontiac streets last night as thousands of colorfully costumed youngsters filled their bags with Halloween treats.

* * *

The biggest treats, however, were the 102 "off-street prizes" awarded youngsters in the annual Mystery Treat Contest sponsored by the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce and the City Parks and Recreation Department.

Probably the happiest winner was 9-year-old Terry Maline, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Maline of 897 DeSota Place.

He won the first-place prize, a new bicycle, in the elementary school category. Terry, a Mark Twain School pupil, was home when his phone rang shortly after 9.

The Jaycees began calling elementary age pupils whose names were pulled from a basket of registrations at 9. All they had to do to win was be home.

* * *

First-place prizes of a wrist watch in the junior high and senior high divisions were Judy Slade, 12, of 961 Voorheis Road, a Washington Junior High School student, and Larry Willhite, 15, of 39 Tacoma Court, a student at Pontiac Central High.

* * *

Second place winner in the grade school division was Gary Moyer, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moyer of 71 Wenonah Drive. A pupil at Webster School, Gary won a radio.

Nine-year-old Katrina Schroeter of 1985 Lakeland St., Sylvan Lake, won five silver dollars. A Whitfield School pupil, she's the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Werner P. Schroeter.

In addition there were three winners of a single silver dollar at each of the city's elementary schools.

In the older age groups second place winners received pen and pencil sets, and third place, $5.

The other junior high winners were Bob Tucker, 13, of 634 First St., a Madison Junior High student, second place; and Harrington Fed, 13, of 478 Branch St., a Jefferson Junior High student, third.

In the senior division, second place was taken by Deanna Giles, 16, of 81 W. Princeton St., and third by Mark Vincent, 17, of 2598 Lapeer Road, both Pontiac Northern students.

It is the first time that a division has won the trophy twice.

The division has been commanded by Cmdr. Walter J. Piel, USNR-R, 2259 W. Lincoln Ave., Birmingham, since April 1960.

Plans are being made for the presentation of the trophy Dec. 5, according to Maynard Johnson, chairman of the VFW committee, who announced the winner among the 12 divisions competing.

Foreign Auto Gets 'Free Ride' to Campus Grill

Pranksters turned a cafeteria at Michigan State University Oakland into a drive-in restaurant early this morning.

The auto apparently had been lifted from its parking space about 50 yards away and carried the distance and down a flight of stairs into the patio.

Charges Irons Lets Vice Flourish

Sheriff Hopeful Hurls More Charges

The Democratic candidate for Oakland County sheriff today hurled more charges at his incumbent opponent following his accusation that prisoners of the county jail were used to build and paint political campaign signs.

Kenneth G. Hirt said Sheriff Frank Irons has allowed vice to flourish without making any attempt to flush it out, that the sheriff has not actively pursued murder investigations, and that his department is not respected by other law enforcement agencies.

Irons said today he would not dignify the charges by commenting on them.

He said, "I'm not going to lower myself to a level of controversy over such ridiculous charges."

"I will stand on my record of 40 years in law enforcement," Irons said.

* * *

He previously has said the charges concerning campaign signs were "absolutely" false.

RAPS RECORDS SETUP

Hirt also charged the sheriff has failed to initiate a central records system, that most jobs in the department "go out as political patronage," and that no juvenile division has been established despite the sheriff's campaign promises of six years ago.

Hirt claims he was in a position to know his charges are valid. He was employed by the sheriff's department from 1954 to 1961.

The 34-year-old Hirt, who lives in Ferndale, said he saw "with my own eyes" three prisoners taken to the jail's basement where they were ordered to make up campaign posters.

These men thus became trusties, Hirt said, and got better food than other inmates.

* * *

"It seems that all of the hoodlums regard Oakland County as a good place to dispose of a corpse," Hirt continued. He said state police and community departments solve most of the crimes in the county.

* * *

He said it was common knowledge to all, including the sheriff's department, that narcotics, prostitution and gambling were flourishing in Royal Oak Township.

"The state police have been the ones cracking down in that community without any help being offered by the sheriff," he asserted.

State Auditor Denies Report Politics Move

State Auditor General Billie S. Farnum has denied that his report charging Oakland County officials were overpaid $11,073 from Jan. 1, 1960 to July 1, 1962 was politically motivated.

"Last week my office issued the regular audit of Oakland County . . . under the regular schedule maintained by my County Audit Division," Farnum stated.

"The law requires the auditor general to make public the result of every audit it conducts," he added, "As long as I am entrusted with this responsibility I will obey the statute and fulfill my constitutional and legal obligations."

Several county officials named in the audit report have branded it a political effort to discredit the Republican-controlled county in the current election campaign.

Several of the Democratic candidates for county offices have used the report in their campaigns against the Republican incumbents.

CHARGES OVERPAYMENT

The major contentions of the audit report is that the county, authorized by its Board of Supervisors, has overpaid the board chairman some $5,000, and that several other county officials, including, mainly, Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry, have overcharged the county on expense accounts.

Barry has denied the allegation, maintaining that he submits the most complete account of his expenses of any county official.

He said that the auditors have not been strict enough in policing county expenditures and expense accounts of its officials.

* * *

The county auditors, working with the corporation counsel of the county, are currently analyzing the auditor general's report before replying to it in detail.

Their reply will be directed to the attorney general, who has 60 days from the time the report was issued to see that it is enforced, according to Farnum.

Voltage Drops on Venus Probe

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — After rolling up nearly 12 million trouble-free miles, the Venus-bound Mariner II space craft has suddenly developed a mysterious disorder in its power system.

But scientists say the 447-pound vehicle may still accomplish its scientific mission when it passes Venus in mid-December.

Project spokesmen reported last night that there had been a sudden drop in voltage supplied by solar panels aboard Mariner II.

This caused apprehension because Mariner II would start drawing power from its battery if the voltage drop continued. And the battery power, needed later, would be quickly exhausted.

So scientists at Caltech's Jet Propulsion Laboratory decided to turn off Mariner instruments conducting four interplanetary scientific experiments. They calculated this would reduce the power drain by more than 50 per cent.

Vandals Set Fire to Vacant House Halloween Eve

NOVI — Halloween pranksters set fire to a vacant house at Nine Mile and Beck roads shortly before midnight.

The fire was spotted by a patrolling Novi police car. The officer immediately notified the fire department and the blaze was extinguished before it could do serious damage.

The vandals escaped.

Police Chief Lee BeGole said it appeared that flammable liquid such as gasoline or kerosene was spread around the house before the blaze was set.

However, BeGole added that his department received only two calls involving Halloween vandalism last night. The other call was very minor, he added.

Blast and Fire Level House

Police on Patrol Spot Trouble; Probe Cause

The fire marshal today was investigating the cause of an explosion and fire that leveled a vacant Pontiac house and damaged two other nearby buildings.

* * *

Damage to the unoccupied house at 39 Elizabeth St. was estimated by fire officials at $7,000 — $5,000 to the building and $2,000 to contents.

The fire was reported at 8:40 p.m. by Pontiac police on patrol. The house is owned by David Simmons, 490 Fildew St.

Flaming debris landing on the roof of New Era Gear Corp., 35 Elizabeth St., caused an estimated $500 damage.

* * *

Paint on the side of a home next to the burning house was scorched causing an estimated $100 damage.

One nearby resident told police that she saw a car parked in front of the vacant house shortly before she heard the explosion and saw the fire.

Prison Chapel Funds Sought

LANSING (UPI) — The State Corrections Commission hopes to obtain $19,000 in private contributions for construction of an all-faiths chapel for the inmates of the Marquette Prison trusty division.

The 1962 legislature appropriated funds for a chapel inside the walls at the Marquette institution, but made no appropriation for the 300 inmates who live and work outside the walls.

* * *

(Those wishing to contribute may address their donations to Prison Chapels, State House of Correction and Branch Prison, Marquette.)

Says 2 School Posts May Cause Conflict

LANSING (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley advised yesterday a conflict of duties may arise when a person is a member of both a local school board and a board-member of a community college in the same county.

The conflict makes the two jobs incompatible, Kelley said in response to a request from the clerk of the city of Warren.

The clerk had asked Lynn Bartlett, superintendent of public instruction, whether a man might serve both on the Warren School Board and the board of Macomb County Community College.

Kelley's opinion was based on the possibility that a conflict might arise because both local schools and community colleges receive money from the same property tax sources.

Negro Gets Special Job in Interior Department

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Joseph J. Simmons III of Muskogee, Okla., has been named an oil and natural gas production specialists in the interior department.

Secretary Stewart L. Udall, who announced the appointment Wednesday, said that Simmons, a Negro, has been the department's oil and gas mobilization adviser at civil defense headquarters in Battle Creek, Mich., since April 1961.

Wins Vacation at Hot Spot... Will It Cool by '65?

LANSING (UPI) — Mrs. Dale W. Perry of Lansing was the lucky winner of the first prize jet plane vacation trip at a benefit for the Lansing St. Lawrence Hospital.

* * *

Dan Vreeland, head of the local travel agency donating the prize, said it wasn't intended as a joke. The ticket is good until Oct. 30, 1965.

"Cuba should be perfectly safe for travelers within three years," he predicted.

Widowers Popular With Script Writers

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK—Word has leaked from the Hollywood studios that, after only two months of widowerhood, Luke McCoy is going to have a new steady girl—a widow with a 6-year-old son.

Ultimately, there may be wedding bells ringing out on "The Real McCoys," but this is highly tentative because television script writers long ago discovered how very flexible is a television widower.

A spot check of network widowers reveals the presence of 10, all playing starring roles. By contrast, there are only three widows, one of them grass. This is in marked contrast to real life in the U.S.A., where widows outnumber widowers four to one.

There are two widowers in "The Real McCoys" (Luke lost his wife when Kathy Nolan, who played the part, resigned in a huff from the cast at the end of last season). There are also "The Rifleman," "The Andy Griffith Show," Jed Clampetts in "Beverly Hillbillies," Judge Garth in "The Virginian," Dr. Bassett in "The 11th Hour," Steve and Bub in "My Three Sons," and Lawrence Preston in "The Defenders."

TREND TO ROMANCE

Not all of them are permitted romantic interludes, particularly the older gentlemen. But this year there seems to be a trend to provide romantic attachments.

Andy Griffith currently is attracted to a nurse—and it probably won't get much farther because it might interfere with the comedy scripts. "The Rifleman," for the second time, has a steady girl (the first one two seasons back didn't work out too well). And there is talk of adding extended romance to "My Three Sons."

There isn't a chance there will be steady boy friends for widows Lucille Ball and Vivian Vance because they would only ruin the comedy scripts. Loretta Young is deeply involved with her boss, but it probably won't end up at the altar until the very last episode of the series.

Marilyn Monroe Cult Now; Fans of World Remember

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Is there now to be a Marilyn Monroe cult?

Marilyn made an impression on the world that would have surprised her and is surprising some of her friends. Unasked, her fans in several countries have been mailing omney (from small sums up to $1,000 in one instance) to Lee and Paula Strasberg wanting to "do something for Marilyn."

WILSON

"She was such a lovely person — I would like to do something for her or in her name," the letters usually say, in effect.

Surprisingly, many people got the idea simultaneously, for no money was ever requested or needed.

Unlike the rise of the Jimmy Dean cult, this tribute is by adults who are calm and non-hysterical. One contribution was from France, and was for a few francs. The $1,000 was from an American whose name wasn't known to the Strasbergs.

They're at a loss as to what to do with what could become a considerable fund. A Marilyn Monroe scholarship or scholarships at the Actors Studio, perhaps? The tragedy is that the day she died Marilyn never knew so many people loved her.

★ ★ ★

What do you think of Liz Taylor playing a lady embalmer, opposite Dickie Burton, in Evelyn Waugh's satire on graveyard-promoting, "The Loved Ones"? She's determined but some chums are urging her not to go for this casting.

★ ★ ★

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Steve Allen boasted while here promoting his first novel that Jayne Meadows looks 10 years younger: "she cut her hair shorter." . . . Marlon Brando sometimes registers at hotels as "Mr. Nehru." . . . Errol Garner turned down a 6G-a-week Australian tour.

★ ★ ★

EARL'S PEARLS: If the world seems to beat a path to your door, you probably have a teen-age daughter.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A visitor just back from Moscow told us what this country has that the Russians don't have—good Russian restaurants.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: It's Milton Merle's definition of a master of ceremonies: "A guy who tells you what's coming next—but not how to avoid it."

A Hollywood psychiatrist confided to Mike Connolly that when he gets a patient with a split personality, he charges $2,000 each. That's earl, brother.

Search 3,800 Vessels for Hong Kong Refugees

HONG KONG (AP) — More than 3,800 vessels were stopped and searched by marine police last week in the Hong Kong government's efforts to block the flow of refugees from Communist China to Hong Kong, government sources said yesterday.

Reliable sources said 27 refugees from Red China reached Hong Kong yesterday in eight fishing boats.

Rundown on State Legislature Election

By JIM DYGERT

Current line-up of the six state representatives from Oakland County is four Republicans and two Democrats, and indications are it will be the same after Tuesday's election.

Of the five incumbents seeking election, four are Republicans campaigning in districts that normally vote Republican. Only one of the four districts produced a close vote two years ago.

Only one of two Democratic incumbents is up for re-election — Arthur J. Law of the 2nd district. The Democratic incumbent in the 6th District, John C. Hitchcock, was defeated in the primary by Bill S. Huffman.

Law's and Huffman's districts usually go heavily on the Democratic side of the ballot, although Republicans are hopeful this year of upsetting Law with Robert C. Smith.

Huffman and his Republican opponent, Kenneth Waller, along with challengers in the other five districts, were not candidates for the legislature two years ago.

1ST DISTRICT: Incumbent Lloyd L. Anderson, Republican, and John S. Coleman, Democrat. Coleman has accused Anderson of "exhibiting a woeful lack of knowledge regarding educational matters" because Anderson supported a bill to allow school superintendents to hire qualified certified teachers.

Anderson replied he had "complete faith in the ability" of superintendents and school boards to select qualified teachers, certified or not.

"It would give us additional teachers in our system," he said, saying there is a former university professor in Oxford who cannot teach because she has no certificate.

County Democrats are hopeful of taking this legislative seat away from the Republicans, although Anderson won 26,000 votes to 19,000 two years ago.

2ND DISTRICT: Incumbent Arthur J. Law, Democrat, and Robert C. Smith, Republican. This campaign has been relatively quiet so far as charges and countercharges are concerned, but Smith is campaigning hard in an attempt to unseat Law.

Local Republicans, hoping to take this one away from the Democrats, are as willing to rate the contest a toss-up as Democrats are to consider the first district race close. Law won by 17,000 votes to 12,000 in 1960.

3RD DISTRICT: Incumbent Henry M. Hogan Jr., Republican, and John F. Foley, Democrat. Foley has criticized Hogan for the latter's support for a resolution in the legislature calling for a national vote on a constitutional amendment that would include abolishment of the income tax.

Hogan says the resolution was not a state issue and not relevant to the campaign.

He claims the main effect of the amendment would be to get the federal government out of private business and thereby

N-Blast Show Is Surprise

HONOLULU (UPI) — The United States detonated a nuclear device over Johston Island early today which put on such a fantastic display in Hawaii that even members of Joint Task Force 8 were taken by surprise.

The shot created a weird Halloween effect over the 50th state, 800 miles to the northeast. Witnesses said it was brighter than the 250-mile-high megaton blast of July 8.

JTF8, which usually provides a prompt official announcement on the tests, took 40 minutes to prepare an explanation. It said the fireball was not visible in Hawaii at detonation, but boiled upward over Johnston after the blast.

A spokesman for JTF8 said it was a "text book" development similar to a test which startled the citizens of Hawaii on Aug. 1, 1958. At that time, the fireball rose to a height of 90 miles.

★ ★ ★

Witnesses to today's test said the rising fireball created a pumpkin-colored sunset, which faded into a white, filmy, ghost-like cloud.

Blockade Back in Force

Castro, Thant Get Nowhere on Inspection

U. S. Resumes Plane, Ship Watch on Cuba Pending Action

Air surveillance also was ordered renewed after Fidel Castro evidently refused to agree to U.N. inspection of Soviet missile withdrawals.

Washington officials probably will want to verify with aerial photos a report by U Thant, acting secretary-general, that all Soviet missiles would be taken down by Friday and removed from Cuba soon afterward.

Thant said he was reliably informed of this yesterday in Havana.

The blockade, suspended during two days of evidently fruitless negotiations between Thant and Fidel Castro, was due to go back into force at dawn.

Its assignment as before, is to keep additional offensive weapons out of Cuba.

The White House made this announcement last night after President Kennedy had reviewed the situation with his top level National Security Council.

TO TAKE PICTURES

More Stories, Pictures, Pages A-2, B-1, C-8, D-8

★ ★ ★

Salinger left vague just when surveillance will start again after the two-day break. Apparently this was intended to avoid tipping off Cuban antiaircraft batteries which fired on unarmed U.S. reconnaissance planes at the height of the crisis last weekend.

★ ★ ★

The United States has acknowledged losing one plane over Cuba and Thant said after arriving in New York last night that the Cuban government, at his request, had agreed to return the body of its pilot, Air Force Maj. Rudolf Anderson Jr., 35, of Greenville, S.C.

Reimposition of the blockade may serve to prod Castro. His foot-dragging on U.N. inspection has injected a note of uncertainty

U.N. Leader Calling Three-Way Huddles

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Acting U.N. Secretary General U Thant planned to consult today with the United States and the Soviet Union on the next moves in the Cuban crisis after failing to win Fidel Castro's agreement to U.N. checks on the removal of Soviet missile bases.

Thant said on his return from Havana last night he had been reliably informed the bases would be dismantled by Friday and the Soviet equipment shipped out of Cuba soon afterward.

This omission, plus the return with him of the military aids he had taken as a nucleus of the inspection group, was taken as evidence Castro would not agree to the foreign inspection.

Without mentioning the missile bases, Havana Radio said Castro is standing firm on his demand that the United States give up its naval base at Guantanamo and call off all other measures to bring down the Castro regime.

CASTRO BRAGS

A broadcast said Castro told a rally of Havana University students his government will come out of the crisis stronger and with more prestige than before.

★ ★ ★

Thant after his return from Havana, drove to U.N. headquarters for brief separate talks last night with chief U.S. delegate Adlai E. Stevenson and Soviet Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov, sent here to negotiate the outcome of the Cuban crisis.

TO ASK MANDATE?

Informants said Thant would hold detailed consultations today with representatives of the United States, the Soviet Union and probably Cuba. Delegates predicted he would seek a Security Council session today or Friday to ask for a mandate that would give him a stronger hand in dealing with Castro.

$102.5 Million in Missile Work Set for Sterling

Texas Firm Contracts for Projects at Former Area Chrysler Plant

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. Swainson announced today that U.S. defense contracts worth $102.5 million have been awarded to a Texas firm for work to be done at the former Chrysler missile plant in Sterling Township, Macomb County.

Terming the contracts "perhaps the most important industrial development for Michigan in years," the governor said Chance-Vought division of Ling-Temco-Vought Corp. of Dallas won a $100-million contract to develop and produce the Army's new Missile B, and a $2.5-million contract to develop a prototype of a new cross-country vehicle.

Chance-Vought and Chrysler Corp. were the last two of six original bidders for the contracts and Gov. Swainson said he won assurances of the Texas firm that, if they won, the work would be done in Michigan.

The governor said the contracts will mean employment for 1,000 persons in 1963 with an increase up to 5,000 by 1968.

He said state officials will exert "all possible effort" to see that former Chrysler missile workers, many of whom were laid off in 1960, will get preferential consideration for the new jobs.

Swainson said he had obtained the word of G. K. Johnson, president of the Texas firm, that it would do the work in Michigan even before the Department of Defense's decision on the contract.

Swainson termed this "a tribute to the management and labor skills which we have available in Michigan."

Swainson's announcement of the missile contracts was made in a press conference in Detroit attended also by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., Rep. James G. O'Hara, D-Mich., and Neil Staebler, the Democratic candidate for congressman-at-large in the Nov. 6 election.

As Sun Drops, So Will Mercury

When the sun goes down today temperatures will drop to a cool 35, and skies will become overcast.

Little change in temperature is expected tomorrow, the high about 50, but there is a chance of afternoon showers, the weather bureau reports.

Morning-northwesterly winds at 1 mile an hour will continue gentle and variable.

Thirty-three was the low recording in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The mercury had climbed to 48 at 1 p.m.

She Sees Red as Brown Hair Turns Orange

A Milford woman walked into a beauty shop yesterday and demanded to have her hair untinted, insisting, "Send the bill to the Village Council."

Mrs. LaVerne Lee of 124 Canal St., had been in the midst of washing her hair at home, when suddenly the water pressure slowed to a trickle. Then orange rust came pouring from the faucet, turning her hair orange.

Workmen had shut off the water outside to make necessary repairs and flush the system.

India Awaits 1st U.S. Airlift

Hurries More Arms; Aid Due Saturday

NEW DELHI (AP) — India hurried more reinforcements to the front today and informants predicted the first airlift of American arms would arrive Saturday to help Prime Minister Nehru's government fight off Chinese Communist invaders.

The American equipment — mostly mountain artillery — is being flown from Turkey.

Turkey agreed to release the arms provided by the United States after Nehru appealed to President Kennedy for military aid.

Three days after Nehru asked for American weapons, the Indian government issued its first direct acknowledgment of the coming arms assistance.

A spokesman said "We are grateful for the U.S. government's sympathy and support and their offer to help us in the procurement of supplies required for our defense efforts."

The spokesman said that in addition to orders already being filled in Washington further orders will be placed as the need arises.

A lull has set in along the Himalayan frontier, but an official spokesman reported Chinese mortar fire at Indian patrols around Jang.

This village is five miles east of the monastery town of Towang captured last week by the Communists.

All New Delhi newspapers today hailed Prime Minister Nehru's demotion of Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon, and new demands were made that Menon be ousted from the cabinet entirely.

. . . And Cuba Crisis Was Unleashed

It Began With 'Hotline' Phone Call

(Editor's Note — Here is the behind-the-scenes story of the Cuban crisis. Relman Morin, twice a Pulitzer Prize winner, provides a fascinating look at what took place backstage in Washington during "the days that shook the world" in this first of a five-part series.)

By RELMAN MORIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Shortly after 7 o'clock on the night of Monday, Oct. 15, a general of intelligence picked up the "hot line," a security telephone in the Pentagon, and put through an urgent call.

He said he had "seen something." His voice was taut.

This call, although nobody realized it then, was to unleash a swift and fearful train of events, and raise the specter of nuclear war. The climax would come in another telephone call, to President Kennedy, early last Sunday.

In between were the days that shook the world.

It was Gen. Joseph Carroll, director of the Defense Intelligence Agency, who made that telephone call Oct. 15. He told Deputy Secretary of Defense Roswell L. Gilpatric he had seen something disquieting in a new set of photographs of Cuba. A reconnaissance mission had flown over the island on the previous day, Sunday.

Minutes after Carroll's terse report, a military staff car raced down the curving ramp of the Pentagon and headed across Washington to Gilpatric's home. It carried two experts in photo analysis.

They did not take the pictures with them. But they described the scars and other details of the Cuban terrain, not previously seen.

"Work on them some more and be ready to brief the boss (Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara) and the rest of us at 7:30 in the morning," Gilpatric told them.

The experts worked all night.

★ ★ ★

By coincidence, Taylor's guests included most of the men who later participated in the decision-making conferences leading to the "quarantine" of Cuba—members of the executive committee of the National Security Council, and authorities from the Defense and State departments.

Gilpatric told them about the photographs.

At 7:30 Tuesday morning, these same men met at the Pentagon with McNamara. The photo analysts reported their findings. The evidence of the construction of actual Soviet missile-launching sites still was not regarded as conclusive.

McNamara did consider it sufficiently "hard," and disquieting, to call the White House. About an hour later, around 9 a.m., the information was in the President's hands.

Later that day, Kennedy examined the photographs himself.

His first step was to order a re-

UF Chief Eyes Tally Cautiously

But Haggard Hopeful With 10 Days to Go

Cautious optimism.

These were the words used today by Fred V. Haggard, general chairman of the 1962 Pontiac Area United Fund Drive, as he looked toward the 10 days remaining to reach the $706,125 goal.

"With the women's campaign over the top and excellent returns being reported by the industrial division, we seem to have only our usual problem," he said.

"That's the commercial division."

Bruce Annett, commercial chairman, reported to Haggard that the division has now reached only half of its goal.

A total of $96,411 has been pledged against the goal of $190,410, he said.

Jack Brannack, division vice chairman in charge of small teams is leading all groups with over 66 per cent of its quota reported. Pledged to date is $7,263 toward a $10,955 goal.

Team 5 covering East Pontiac and Auburn Heights, headed by Harold Davis, was the first team to go over its goal, collecting $1,375 with more still to be reported.

Chapter plan groups reported 60 per cent of their goal with $69,230 of their $115,919.50 goal, according to C. F. Brown, division vice chairman for chapter plans.

"We still have a long way to go in this last week," stated Brown, noting that the advanced gifts has collected a major portion reported by the chapter plans.

GOVERNMENT GROUP

Dave Ewalt, division vice chairman for the government group, indicates that the large governmental units are just beginning to report their pledges. Reported today is $3,112.60 or 18 per cent of the $17,804.79 goal.

The professional group under the direction of Dr. Michael Kozonis has turned in $7,133.73 or 24.4 per cent of its goal. "The money is coming in much too slowly," said Dr. Kozonis, as he urged all his men to complete their calls.

William Lacy, division vice chairman for the educational group, reports a total of $9,670.66 or 58.5 per cent of its goal. This represents only Pontiac schools.

Lacy said he was pleased with results being turned in by the individual schools. These, in almost every instance, are greater than a year ago, he said.

Reporting on industrial division results, chairman Ted Bloom, praised the Fisher Body Division employes for giving the campaign a big boost with pledges totaling $54,136.

BACK TO BLOCKADE DUTY — The USS Lawrence, a Navy guided missile destroyer, provides a study in contrasts as one of the latest types of naval warfare leaves the harbor of San Juan under the ancient guns of the Spanish fortress, Morro Castle. The Lawrence was in for a brief respite during the two-day suspension of the Cuban blockade.

It Began With 'Hot Line' Phone Call

In the next few days, "reccy" pilots shot more than 32,000 feet of film over the suspicious sites. They recorded swift and baleful changes.

Soon, the evidence became incontrovertible. Soviet missile bases were rapidly rising near the cities of Guanajay, Remedios, San Cristobal and Saugua La Grande. There were some eight or 10 bases with about four launchers at each base.

Soviet light bombers, the Ilyushin 28, also were marshalling on the island.

In his report to the nation of Oct. 22, Kennedy called this "the Soviet military buildup" on Cuba. He described two distinct types of installation, one for a medium rocket with a range of more than 1,000 miles, the second, "not yet completed," for intermediate missiles with double this range—and both capable of carrying nuclear warheads.

He also mentioned the bombers.

Kennedy spoke of "this urgent transformation of Cuba into an important strategic base by the presence of these large, long-range and clearly offensive weapons." He then announced the "quarantine" on further shipments of offensive weapons to Cuba and warned:

"And these actions may be only the beginning."

The week that preceded this decision is pretty much of a blur to men who participated in it. One describes it as a "nightmare." They cannot now remember clearly where they were or what they did on a given day.

SKETCHY PICTURE

They can provide only a sketchy picture of Kennedy during this high-energy, high-tension week—end. It is his typical reaction when he is under pressure.

As additional evidence of the threat from Cuba rapidly mounted, they were briefed at least once a day, sometimes twice. Between briefings, they gathered in the State Department, examining the terrible potentialities, matching ideas on actions to recommend to the President.

The meetings often went on until late at night. Through the week of Oct. 21-27, McNamara slept in his office. Kennedy did not leave the White House until last Sunday morning when he went to church.

Two things, they say, surprised them most in this period—the speed of the Soviet work on the bases, and the fact that Soviet Premier Khrushchev "would do anything so dangerous."

One said it appeared that "only four or five days" elapsed between the detection of the first scars in the earth and the rise of the medium-range missile sites.

NONE OPERATIONAL YET

None, he said, was yet operational. They calculated the 200-mile-range missile, distinguished by different markings from the mediums, would become operational by Dec. 1.

As for Khrushchev's motive in attempting to supplement the armed might of the Soviet Union with a base in the Western Hemisphere, they are only theories.

The prevailing one is, "if we didn't do anything about Cuba, we wouldn't do anything about Berlin or any other point."

Or, as another put it, "If you're not going to react when he (Khrushchev) has something like this pointed right at your guts, when are you going to react?"

The question may remain long unanswered.

* * *

But on the morning of Tuesday, Oct. 16, when Kennedy first was advised of the new evidence, the Soviet threat existed and was rapidly increasing in magnitude.

The question was: What to do about it?

Next: "Samsites" and the day of decision.

4TH DISTRICT: Incumbent Raymond L. Baker, Republican, and Albert A. Kramer, Democrat. Campaigning has been uneventful in this race. Although the contest was close two years ago, Republicans are confident of keeping the post.

5TH DISTRICT: Incumbent William Hayward, Republican, and Harold J. Robinson, Democrat. A newcomer to politics, Robinson is running hard, but faces an uphill battle in a district that Republicans won by 28,000 votes to 21,000 in 1960.

6TH DISTRICT: Bill S. Huffman, Democrat, and Kenneth Waller, Republican. Although Waller is a UAW-CIO member and the county AFL-CIO Council did not endorse Huffman in the Democratic primary, Huffman has been endorsed by the union council along with all other Democrats on the Nov. 6 ballot.

Waller requested but did not receive union backing.

This race is complicated further by the presence of a write-in candidate, Hugh L. Philips of Ferndale, who says he's an independent and is running for the post because he feels neither Waller nor Huffman is qualified.

A 33-year-old Cadillac Motor Co. plant protection man who lives two houses from Waller and who supports GOP gubernatorial candidate George W. Romney with reservations, Philips has not sought political office in the past.

Traffic Into Berlin Is Slowed by Reds

HELMSTEDT, Germany (AP) — Communist slowdown hit Berlin-bound traffic over the autobahn for several hours early today, West German police reported. By noon the pace was back to normal.

Traffic was delayed up to 150 minutes, police said. A two-mile-long queue formed at the East German checkpoint of Marienborn waiting to be checked through.

West German police said that for 30 minutes Communist guards processed no cars and then resumed their checking at a slow pace for several hours.

As usual, there was no explanation of what caused the slowdown.

TWICKENHAM, England (UPI) — Lord Hampton, 79, a leader in campaigns for road safety, was killed last night in a two-car crash here.

Russian Wins Nobel Prize for Physics

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—The 1962 Nobel Prize for physics was awarded today to Soviet scientist Lev Davidovic Landau, whose probes into the mysteries of the universe helped pave the way for the launching of the Soviet sputniks.

* * *

The 1962 prize for chemistry went to two scientists at Cambridge, England, whose work unfolded secrets in the human blood. Dr. John Cowdery Kendrew and Dr. Max Ferdinand Perutz share the $49,656 prize for their studies of globular proteins.

* * *

Landau, 54, is one of the few Jews to attain a high place in Soviet science. He was awarded the $49,656 physics prize for "his pioneering theories for condensed matter, especially liquid helium."

WORK HALTED

Landau's research was halted Jan. 7 by an automobile accident. His car skidded on ice and crashed in Dubno, 75 miles from Moscow. He lapsed into a coma and was still unconscious in March when a Canadian neurosurgeon, Dr. Wilder Penfield, flew to Moscow to join French, Czech and Soviet specialists working to bring him around. Landau is reported making progress but there are doubts in Moscow he ever will recover fully.

* * *

A spokesman for the Soviet Academy of Sciences said Landau received the news of his prize at Moscow hospital. He was described as "very excited" about it.

The spokesman said congratulatory messages flowing in for Landau from around the world were being sent to the Presidium of the Soviet Academy of Science rather than directly to Landau.

"We want to spare him too much excitement," the spokesman said.

SAME RULES?

While Salinger declined to discuss the scope of the renewed quarantine, reporters got the impression that the same zones and rules would apply as during the first six days of the blockade.

The Navy had drawn its blockading fleet into a more limited patrol area during the two-day pause.

The quarantine area, as blocked out when the fleet first took position, started perhaps 650 miles from Cuba. It extended toward Bermuda and east of the Virgin Islands.

Find Arsenal at Ole Miss

Surprise Search of Dorm Made by Troops

By VAN SAVELL

OXFORD, Miss (AP) — A surprise Halloween night search by combat-ready soldiers unearthed a small arsenal in a men's dormitory at the University of Mississippi. University officials vowed swift disciplinary action against students involved.

The sudden action followed the wounding of a military policeman by a firecracker, apparently tossed from a window of Lester Hall—adjoining Baxter Hall where James H. Meredith is housed.

* * *

Meredith, 29, begins his second month of classes today as the first Negro ever knowingly admitted to the 114-year-old university. He studied in relative silence Wednesday night. There were no firecracker barrages like those which disrupted the campus the previous two nights.

OFFICIALS COOPERATE

University officials cooperated in the dormitory search. Student Affairs Dean L. L. Love commented: "We just can't have things like that going on here. That soldier could have been seriously hurt."

* * *

The search turned up at least one dismantled M1 rifle, a dismantled pistol, several tear gas grenades, a full five-gallon can of gasoline and a large quantity of noisy firecrackers known as cherry bombs.

* * *

The soldiers turned over to university officials the student identification cards of at least a half dozen persons. But no one would disclose the exact number or the specific charges.

Under university procedures, a student is considered under arrest when his ID card is confiscated and must face action of the Student Judicial Council.

Pontiac Motor Sets Record

Pontiac Motor Division today announced that last month's production set an all-time record for October.

* * *

Some 54,112 Pontiacs and Tempests were produced during the month, Dennis P. Duross, production manager, said.

"October's production was nearly 10,000 units ahead of the same month a year ago, and we were producing pretty heavily then," Duross said.

"There has been an enthusiastic demand for Pontiacs across the country," he noted, "and as a result our production schedules have been increased steadily since the introduction of the 1963 models."

On Oct. 17 there were 1,187 cars built in the home plant. It was the biggest single production day in Pontiac's 36-year history.

* * *

Chamber of Commerce Plans Airy Auto Display

BIRMINGHAM — Step aside, Detroit, because Birmingham will take a back seat to no one in staging automobile shows.

Since this city doesn't have facilities large enough to accommodate an indoor auto show, the enterprising Birmingham Chamber of Commerce plans to have its new car display outdoors.

The local auto show will be held as part of the chamber's annual Men's Night observance Dec. 5 in a three-square-block area bounded by West Maple Road, Woodward Avenue, Martin Avenue and Bates Street.

* * *

The City Commission here has agreed to close this area to vehicular traffic from 6 to 10 p.m. Dec. 5.

Meanwhile, Leonard L. Healy, chairman of the men's night committee for the chamber of commerce, said his group is asking heads of automobile companies to "set up electrical, turntable and other displays on these streets for the occasion."

The exhibition will continue daily except Mondays from 2 to 5 p.m. through Nov. 25.

Among the works by local women will be "Venetian Canal," by Mrs. Donald Parsons; "Pas De Trois," by Mrs. Paul Averill; "Victorian Lady," by Mrs. Louis Dean; "Study in Red and Black," by Mrs. George Cutter; "Nocturnal Image," by Mrs. Herb Gardner; "Sand Box," by Mrs. Stratton Brown; and "The Plant," by Mrs. F. Chalmers Smith.

Dr. W. Rodman Snelling, headmaster of the Detroit Country Day School in Beverly Hills, has been named chairman of the mathematics division of the Teachers' Council of Independent Schools of the Central States.

As chairman, Dr. Snelling will be responsible for the mathematics agenda at the council's 55th annual conference Nov. 9 and 10 in Davenport, Iowa.

Mikoyan Flies to Cuba Talks

MOSCOW (UPI) — Veteran Kremlin troubleshooter Anastas Mikoyan headed for Cuba today, apparently on an urgent mission to soothe Fidel Castro's feelings and bolster Soviet prestige on the Caribbean Island.

It was believed the Soviet first deputy premier would offer Castro increased economic support to compensate for the sudden withdrawal of Russian missiles from Cuba.

The increased aid was seen as an attempt to keep the volatile Cuban leader from upsetting delicate Soviet-American negotiations aimed at settling the Cuban crisis.

* * *

Mikoyan flew out of Moscow early today accompanied by an 18-member delegation. His plane stopped over at Prestwick, Scotland, and Gander, Newfoundland, to take on fuel before heading for New York.

Strong Federal Hand in Critical Times

What are and what should be the powers of the Federal Government to deal with strikes in time of national crisis? The subject becomes particularly pertinent at this time because of the dispute between the International Association of Machinists and Lockheed Aircraft.

★ ★ ★

The union, on Oct. 23, said that it had exhausted all avenues of settlement that lay within the confines of free collective bargaining and had twice canceled strike deadlines.

Machinists asserted that there lawfully remains only the strike weapon, but added that they were reluctant to strike in time of national emergency.

Plant seizure powers of the President were spelled out in World War II in the Smith-Connally Act, passed over President ROOSEVELT'S veto in June 1943.

That was almost two months after Roosevelt had taken over the coal mines because of a strike. Previously, on June 9, 1941, with the Nation girding for defense, he had ordered the Army to take over the strike-bound plant of the North American Aviation Corp.

★ ★ ★

This action was without specific legislative authority, but little criticism was voiced inasmuch as the North American strike appeared to have been fomented by the Communists.

Taft-Hartley, which superseded Smith-Connally, extends no seizure power to the President. Sen. Taft, did, however, include such authority in amendments he proposed in 1949.

★ ★ ★

President TRUMAN'S seizure of the steel plants in 1952 — on his "inherent" power—was struck down by the U.S. Supreme Court in a 6 to 3 decision. Justice BLACK'S opinion was that neither the constitutional provisions that grant executive powers to the President nor acts of Congress gave TRUMAN such authority.

★ ★ ★

However, under the "utilization of industry" provision of the Selective Service Act of 1949, the Government is empowered to seize and operate through any agency, any "plant, mine, or other facility" which fails to produce on government orders.

This would obviously be relevant to the aerospace industry today. And we agree that the Federal Government should have this power in time of national emergency.

High Court Candidates Shown Alone on Ballot

In Tuesday's election, voters will have the opportunity of filling two Michigan Supreme Court seats. Unless you are careful, it is possible to miss the nonpartisan part of the ballot.

★ ★ ★

By voting a straight ticket you are not registering your selection for the Supreme Court. Whether you are voting by machine or paper ballot, you must seek out that nonpartisan portion and mark it separately.

★ ★ ★

Our high court is one of the most important single units of our state government. The members comprising this body should be independent thinkers qualified in the legal profession.

Incumbent PAUL L. ADAMS, a Democratic attorney, faces MICHAEL D. O'HARA, a Republican from the Upper Peninsula.

It is our opinion that O'Hara is more of an independent and would serve the State with less party line pressure than his opponent.

★ ★ ★

Candidates for the other Supreme Court seat are Justice OTIS M. SMITH, a Democrat, and Judge LOUIS D. MCGREGOR, a Republican. Here again, we believe Justice SMITH is apt to follow a strict party line rather than vote independently. Judge MCGREGOR has judicial experience, and we feel that his performance in the high court would be good for the entire state.

LITTLE by little, the problem of what to do with, about, for and to teen-age daughters makes the last girl who returns home Saturday night prepare Sunday breakfast for all the family.

The nimrod thinks his batting average should be 1.000—but other fishermen may not agree . . . Incidentally, let's hear from more anglers about their real or questionable piscatorial exploits.

The Spotlight Shifts

David Lawrence Says:

Muzzled Press a Sin Against U.S.

WASHINGTON — Suppression of military news in time of war or international emergency is defensible. But any deliberate misrepresentation of the news by the government that causes the press to publish untrue or misleading news reports is indefensible in a democracy.

LAWRENCE

It now has been revealed that during the current Cuban crisis — and as a policy for the future — various officials of the Kennedy Administration believe they have a right to deceive the American people as to what is actually going on and to use the press to convey certain impressions to foreign governments. This is unprecedented in American history.

The argument is that "The end justifies the means." But this could lead a foreign government to distrust statements of resoluteness issued by the government here and to construe them as sheer bluff.

Two of the principal newspapers of the United States have already protested publicly against any policy of manipulation of the press. They are the New York "Times" and the "Evening Star" of Washington, D. C.

The "Star" in an editorial Wednesday said that only those portions of the news about the Cuban blockade were made available by the Defense Department which its "omniscient manipulators of public opinion decided, in their infinite wisdom, would best serve to create the 'image' of this country's activities they wished to manufacture and place before our people and the world."

QUOTE DEFENSE AIDE

The "Star" in its news columns the previous day had quoted the assistant secretary of defense in charge of press relations as having said:

"I can't think of a comparable situation, but in the kind of world we live in, the generation of news by the government becomes one weapon in a strained situation. The results, in my opinion, justify the methods we used."

In its editorial comment, the "Star" said:

"Weigh those words. Their meaning is truly sinister. In an administration that is becoming quite notable in its efforts toward achieving managed control of the news, Mr. Sylvester may have overlooked one likely result of 'the methods we used.'

"This result is that Mr. Sylvester and his superiors, from this time on, are suspect. They have, in our opinion, recklessly and thoughtlessly forfeited a confidence that in this country has been the rule, rather than the exception."

The New York "Times" in its editorial — also on Wednesday — said that censorship in time of crisis is understandable and necessary and that the press should exercise self-restraint. The "Times," however, then added this warning:

"But to attempt to manage the news so that a free press should speak — in Sylvester's words — in 'one voice to your adversary' could be far more dangerous to the cause of freedom than the free play of dissent, than the fullest possible publication of the facts."

Interest now centers in what really did happen between Monday, Oct. 15, when 400 editors from all parts of the country were briefed and told that no invasion or blockade was contemplated, and Saturday, Oct. 20, when President Kennedy made his decision to blockade and, if necessary, to invade Cuba to get rid of the Soviet missile bases.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Evidence Exists Linking Vitamin E Lack, Sterility

Some 40 years ago, research workers reported that they had proved that animals — rats — deprived of vitamin E are quite likely to become sterile or to abort. If vitamin E was restored to their feed, the animals usually recovered their fertility.

DR. BRADY

The best natural sources of vitamin E for animal or man are green leaves and the germ of seeds, particularly wheat germ and wheat germ oil.

Research investigators found that a deficiency of vitamin E in their feed leads to sterility in the male and abortion, though not failure to conceive, in the female.

Whether vitamin E has proven worthwhile in animal husbandry, either to promote fertility or to prevent abortion, is debatable, but I have seen no medical reports that would warrant the belief that vitamin E promotes fertility or prevents abortion in man.

There has been considerable speculation on the value of wheat germ oil or vitamin E in the treatment of muscular dystrophy. In my judgment, this question remains unsettled. At the same time, I'm sure it can do no harm to give the treatment a thorough trial in any case.

Fresh wheat germ is the best form of vitamin E for any one. All the desirable tocopherols are present in fresh wheat germ (it is no longer fresh a week after the wheat is ground), besides the vitamin B-complex and other valuable nutritional substances.

The only reason why wheat germ oil should be given in preference to fresh wheat germ is that oil is magic — such as rattlesnake oil, Haarlem oil (Dutch drops), angleworm oil — and credulous people are very fond of magic.

It is certain that wheat germ oil cannot contain anything not present in wheat germ, and without extra charge I'll say it is equally certain the choicest or most expensive wheat germ cannot contain anything not present in plain wheat.

Butter from cows on pasture, eggs from poultry fed plenty of green leaves, green peas, kale, celery, carrots, parsley and spinach are good sources of the vitamin, especially for poor souls who haven't the gumption to grind or crack their own wheat fresh every morning.

"Having failed to follow God's law of love, we look to the nuclear bomb to save us from the consequences."

Voice of the People:

'What's Purpose Behind Seven One-Way Streets?'

Driving east into Pontiac on Voorheis Road, James K Boulevard is marked "one way only" (westbound). As you proceed east you will find six consecutive streets marked "No Right Turn — 6 a.m. to 9 a.m." So you must go on to Telegraph Road (your first chance to turn right) and then double back up to seven blocks to a possible destination, should you wish to enter the area.

Can the chief of police or his superior tell us what unique traffic problem is solved by seven one-way streets in succession?

Teachers: Try These Suggestions'

I agree with the writers who say teachers' meetings could be held before school starts since teachers have a three-month vacation.

★ ★ ★

I just read that poor discipline is more the fault of the teacher than the student; teachers shouldn't wear dark, drab dress as it provokes gloom; it takes more endurance than patience to be a cracking good teacher; if you aren't sympathetic with children they'll know it sooner than you will; and you've got to have a little of the actor in you to get top results.

★ ★ ★

Now I suppose I'll be hated all over town but some of these ideas are worth studying.

'Dems Have Forced Business to Move'

Some have expressed the opinion that the governor was not to blame for the migration of business and industry from our state.

★ ★ ★

I have been a heating contractor for 37 years. Before Williams there were sixteen manufacturers of residential heating equipment in Michigan. Today there are two.

These companies were forced out of business because they could not meet out of state competition.

★ ★ ★

With less people employed today how can the Democrats ask for support on the pretext they are the party with the know-how to bring jobs to Michigan?

'Keep Spendthrifts Out of Government'

Clarence Cannon, a Missouri Democrat said: "Gentlemen, you can go home and state you have just come home from a $100 billion Congress." In the past they repealed the war tax when peace was declared but not this time.

They have added to the number of government employes when they fail over each other. If they had one-third the number in the Pentagon they could do better. That is true in every department. The American taxpayer works 17 weeks a year to pay taxes before he has anything for his family.

If voters keep on electing spendthrifts the government is going the same way Germany did.

'Candidate Using Misleading Sign'

What right has Ken Hirt, Democrat candidate for sheriff, to allow his supporters to put up signs which read: Elect Sheriff Ken Hirt? There might be people who are unaware of who the sheriff is and by having signs implying that he is the sheriff, he will benefit by getting votes.

Do you think that the voters are unaware of the outstanding job Sheriff Irons has done? I am a Democrat and have always voted for Frank Irons and shall continue.

Governorship Races Hold Interest

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Most of the national interest in this year's elections centers naturally on the governorship races in key states like New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan and California.

EDSON

Here, respectively, Nelson Rockefeller, William W. Scranton, George Romney and Richard Nixon get a boost or a knockout. Romney and Nixon have declared they will not be presidential candidates in 1964, even if elected governor this year, but that is not taken too literally. So pick your favorite on long-shot odds.

You might also want to place some side bets on the outcome of a number of congressional election races that have national interest. Here is a check list:

In Massachusetts, watch what happens to H. Stuart Hughes, running as an independent against the two glamour boy candidates for the U. S. Senate, Democratic brother Teddy Kennedy and Republican son George Lodge.

Candidate Hughes is the grandson of the late Charles Evans Hughes, which makes him just as famous as the other two. He isn't given much of a chance, however, because he is running on a platform of opposition to nuclear tests and U. S. withdrawal from advanced missile bases. But check the size of his vote, for an indication of how much sentiment there is in the country for these pacifist causes.

★ ★ ★

Watch also what happens to some other sons of famous men running for Congress this year: Lowell Thomas Jr., in Alaska and Robert A. Taft Jr., in Ohio.

The only former member of President Kennedy's cabinet seeking office is ex-Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Abraham A. Ribicoff, running for the Senate in Connecticut against Republican Congressman Horace Seely-Brown.

In Arizona, watch to see if Democratic Senate president pro tem Carl Hayden, 84, is elected to a seventh term, to give him the longest consecutive Senate service of 42 years and 58 years in Congress. His opponent is a 27-year-old automobile dealer, Evan Mecham, a state senator who has been ticketed as a "Goldwater Republican."

★ ★ ★

One of the hottest and perhaps one of the closest U. S. Senate races this year is former GOP National Committee Chairman Thruston B. Morton's bid for re-election in Kentucky. He is opposed by Wilson W. Wyatt, Adlai Stevenson's campaign manager in 1956.

In Alabama, where all candidates for Congress must run "at large" because redistricting has not been completed, watch what happens to the three Republicans running against the eight incumbent Democrats who seek re-election.

In Florida, check on whether ex-New Deal Congressman and Senator Claude Pepper succeeds in his second comeback attempt, running for Congress from a new district in the Miami area.

In the south as a whole, check how many Republicans get elected to Congress. In the last session the GOP had one southern senator and eight representatives. This year there are 62 southern GOP candidates for the House and seven for the Senate. The test here is on what effect the Mississippi trouble may have.

In Maryland, check to see if Democratic Rep. Thomas F. Johnson can win re-election in the face of Department of Justice charges that he tried to influence dropping of an indictment against a savings and loan company official.

In New Hampshire, check to see if GOP Gov. J. Wesley Powell's party bolt to urge the election of Democrat John W. King as his successor had any effect.

In Idaho, check to see if Democratic Rep. Gracie Pfost is re-elected to the House.

AF Given In to Cupid and Airman to Wed

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The Air Force has bowed to the urgent call of young love.

Arrangements were made to release temporarily from active duty Airman 3.C. Jerry L. New, 22, of Trumann, Ark., so he could be married Friday as planned.

★ ★ ★

New was called to active duty with the 445th Troop Carrier Wing last weekend, only hours before he and his fiancee, Linda McLean, 19, of Jonesboro, Ark., were to have taken blood tests for their wedding.

★ ★ ★

The Air Force gave New his blood test and said his commanding officer had arranged for him to take Friday off and report back Monday.

Rail Conductor Admits Fraud

DETROIT (AP) — James H. McMinn, 67, of Peru, Ind., a veteran conductor for the Wabash Railroad, pleaded guilty in U.S. District Court yesterday to conspiring to defraud the railroad through a ticket-refund fraud.

Three men described as accomplices also pleaded guilty to the charge. They are Oscar Brooks, 62, of St. Louis, a Wabash chef, who also was selling tickets; Robert Traylor, 18, of Detroit and Eric Hillsman, 19, of St. Louis.

McMinn admitted that for the last year he did not punch or otherwise cancel some of the tickets presented by passengers on his Detroit to St. Louis run.

McMinn said he gave some of these uncanceled tickets to Brooks, who had charge of the dining car. He said he sold other tickets at $10 each to Hillsman and Taylor, who presented them at Wabash stations in Detroit or St. Louis and obtained the full fare of $20.44 as refund.

Idaho Hopeful Bids on Gambling Platform

★ ★ ★

A candidate who wants to open Idaho to Nevada-style gambling and another dead-set against it are battling for the governorship.

He seeks to unseat Republican Gov. Robert E. Smylie, 47, who is bidding for a third term after holding the governor's chair for eight years — longer than any other man. Smylie has tagged Smith "the man with the green eyeshade."

BACKGROUND AP SPECIAL REPORT OF THE NEWS

The gambling issue might seem strange for a state far from any large population center, but it has been about the only one in the campaign. Efforts to drum up interest in issues other than gambling generally have been unavailing.

Smith won the Democratic nomination in a six-man primary election field, basing his campaign on support of a program calling for legalized casino-type gambling on a local option basis.

'MORE TOURISTS'

He said his plan would bring more tourists to Idaho and result in expansion of resort areas. He pointed to the growth of the Las Vegas area in southern Nevada, where gambling is legal.

Smylie says Smith's program "could only create an economic and moral cancer in the body politic."

"Gambling breeds crime," he says. "Idaho has the lowest crime rate of all the 11 Western states. Nevada has the highest — nearly three times as great as Idaho's.

"We are a vigorous, young, growing state. There are many changes and challenges ahead. But the way to meet these challenges is with a sound and sensible state government dedicated to all of the people of Idaho."

INDEPENDENT DEM

Smith is carrying on his campaign independently of other Democratic candidates for state and congressional offices. Democratic party leaders generally opposed him prior to the primary.

Former President Harry S. Truman spoke in behalf of Democratic candidates during an appearance in eastern Idaho in September. But he spoke out against gambling, terming it "the worst thing in the world."

Smith accused Truman of "disloyalty to the Democratic cause" and declined to attend a breakfast honoring the former president.

"The Idaho AFL-CIO has endorsed Smylie, the only Republican to win such backing. The endorsement was based on the candidates' stand on labor rather than the gambling issue.

'NO COMMITMENT'

The AFL-CIO said Smith did not express opposition to so-called "right-to-work" legislation. Smith said he would make no commitment.

Idaho this year is choosing two U.S. senators instead of one. The death last summer of Republican Sen. Henry C. Dworshak brought the second contest.

Bidding for the remaining four years of Dworshak's term are Sen. Len B. Jordan, Republican nominee now serving by appointment, and Democratic Rep. Gracie Pfost, who has been in Congress 10 years.

Trying for re-election to the other Senate seat is Sen. Frank Church of Boise, a Democrat. He is opposed by a young Boise attorney, Republican John T. Hawley.

To Close Site of Nike Zeus Tests Jan. 1

POINT MUGU, Calif. (AP) — Test launchings of the Army's Nike Zeus antimissile rocket at this Pacific missile range headquarters will end about Jan. 1, a spokesman said.

Further testing will be conducted at the White Sands, N. M., missile range and at Kwajalein Island in mid-Pacific, where the Nike Zeus is fired at Atlas-boosted warheads from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.

The Army has fired 15 of the three-stage, solid-fuel antimissile rockets from here in the past year and one or two more tests may be held before the program here ends.

★ ★ ★

No reason for ending the tests was given, but spokesmen earlier said the launchings here were preliminary to the full-scale firings at Kwajalein.

Omaha Daily Sold to Building Firm

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—The Omaha World-Herald was sold today to Peter Kiewit Sons' Co. of Omaha, worldwide construction firm founded here in 1884—a year before the World-Herald itself was founded.

★ ★ ★

The purchase price was not announced but at the time the Kiewit offer was made, directors of the World Publishing Co., owner of the World-Herald, were considering an offer from Samuel I. Newhouse of New York which reportedly totaled about $40 million.

The World-Herald has a combined daily circulation of 252,000, about evenly divided between morning and afternoon editions; and a Sunday circulation of 265,000.

Births in U. S. Down in '62; Drop 3.4 Pct.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service reported yesterday that a continuing decline in the number of babies born in this country indicates the 1962 birth total may be the smallest in six years.

The service said there were an estimated 373,000 live births in August, a drop of 3.4 per cent below the 386,000 in August 1961.

This made it seven out of eight months of this year in which the number of babies born fell below the total in the corresponding 1961 month.

Through August, the 1962 births were estimated at 2,753,000, down 3 per cent from 2,837,000 for the similar 1961 span.

Muskegon Man Killed Under Truck Wheels

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — John Kemp, about 25, of Muskegon, was killed yesterday, police said, when he fell under the wheels of a truck trailer hauling a two-car garage from Grand Rapids to a new site at Allendale.

Kemp was employed by a Grand Rapids wrecking firm. Officers said the accident took place at a northwest Grand Rapids intersection.

Solon Pleads Own Case . . . Fined $35

LANSING (AP) — Sen. Basil W. Brown, D-Detroit, was found guilty of driving in an unsafe manner and fined $35 after he pleaded his own case in Lansing Municipal Court.

During the trial, patrolman Matthew Spitzley testified he saw Brown's foreign sports car skid 61 feet and jump a 4-foot snowbank last March 2. The patrolman said Brown admitted drinking "six or seven shots of liquor" at a nightclub before the skid.

Spitzley said he allowed Brown to go home in a taxicab "because the captain told me we couldn't lock him up because he was a senator."

★ ★ ★

Brown admitted drinking "four or five drinks" in his testimony.

Police Take Lisa, Mike From Filled House

2 Abandoned Tots Leave Generous Pair

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Clutching bags of "tricks or treat" sweets, two abandoned youngsters were taken Wednesday night from the home of a laborer and his wife, whose pocketbook couldn't match the size of their hearts.

The children, known only as Mike and Lisa, were awakened at 9 o'clock by two police officers who took them to a county parental home.

"I wouldn't mind if we were financially fixed so we could take them on," said Mrs. Parisse.

ALREADY CROWDED

But their six-room house already is crowded to capacity—by their 12 children, ages 2 to 17, a dog and four pups.

Parisse, a construction worker, moonlights on two other jobs and still barely makes ends meet. His brood runs up a grocery bill averaging $65 a week.

"She had the sniffles since she got here," said Mrs. Parisse, "She can't go out in the cold without a coat."

The bags of candy were gifts from the Parisse children, who had just completed their Halloween foray.

POLICE TAKE OVER

Cpl. Joe Harris of the Juvenile Bureau said police decided to take Mike, about 4, and his sister so the Parisses wouldn't be bothered by curious callers.

Earlier, both county and city authorities had refused to take custody. The county said it could not until the children had been without parental care for at least a year. The city said the children, technically, had not been abandoned.

Mr. and Mrs. Parisse were attending a football game Sunday when a stranger brought the children to their home. He asked their eldest daughter, Helen, 15, to watch them while he hunted an apartment.

PULLED TO SAFETY — The feet of Vaughn Kincey go into the air as the 20-year-old Bridgeport, Conn., man is jerked to safety onto a seventh-floor balcony of the Beverly Hilton Hotel in Beverly Hills, Calif. Kincey bolted for the balcony after police were called to the hotel by the manager who became suspicious of a credit card offered by the Connecticut man and two companions. He was arrested on suspicion of forgery and disorderly conduct.

Two Area Persons to Lead Discussions

Two Pontiac area persons will be leading discussion groups at the institute on organizational leadership to be held at Michigan State University Oakland Saturday, Nov. 10 from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. sponsored by the division of continuing education.

★

Mrs. Olin Thomas, 8900 Gale Road, White Lake Township, will have as her topic "Getting and Keeping Members." Her group will discuss why people join an organization, why they drop out and ways to keep attendance high.

Mrs. Thomas is president of the board of directors of the Oakland Child Guidance Clinics, Inc., and vice president of the Wayne State University Faculty Wives Club.

"The Role of the Professional in Working with Volunteers" will be the subject for Ted Panaretos, director of community relations, Pontiac State Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Thirty-seven Oakland County men's service clubs, women's clubs, civic, church and philanthropic groups are joining with the university as co-sponsors of the institute.

New Cheese Invented at Michigan State Makes Debut at Exhibition

Cheese came to America on the Mayflower, and this week its descendants," 150 choice cheeses from 34 states of the union, were brought together in a colorful and appetizing competition for gourmet acclaim at a Cheese Cupboard in Atlantic City, Oct. 29-Nov. 1.

Making its debut at the Cupboard was a new economy cheese, "invented" by Michigan State University scientists, named Dagano. Swiss-like and nutty in flavor, it takes only one month's curing and has been rated a "long-life" type, retaining its flavor and texture after storage for as long as two years in a home freezer.

The Greeks thought that cheese was created by the son of Apollo and included it in the diet of Olympic athletes and offerings to the Gods. The boy David, in Biblical story, was carrying ten cheeses — "the finest of delicacies" — to his captain when he had his encounter with Goliath. Medieval monks in Europe nurtured exotic cheeses in special caves, jealously guarding their secret formulas.

The most ancient and romantic of foods is no less revered today than in times past. The natural miracle of cheese making — discovered, according to legend, over 2,000 years B.C. by an Asian herdsman — is now a highly scientific industry. The United States produces most of the famous cheeses of Europe as well as many new cheeses, including processed and specialty packaged varieties.

Once every two years during the big Dairy Industry Supply convention, a group of delegates is invited to taste the finest cheese creations from all parts of the country. Each savory cheese is decorated by a flag identifying the state where it was made.

Cheeses in this year's exhibition range in size from a 185-pound Swiss wheel to midget cheddars weighing only a few ounces, and covering the gamut from the softest, creamiest and mildest to the hardest, sharpest, and strongest.

On the cheese roster were these appetizing varieties: Edam, Swiss, Brick, Liederkranz, Gorgonzola, Brie, Trappist, Nu World, Stilton, Cream, Port du Salut, Bleu, Gouda, Noekkelost, garlic, smoked, sage, Longhorn, Frankenmuth, Herkimer County and a host of others.

Several interesting cheese recipes came out of the 1962 Cupboard. Here is one that should make tasty family eating and keep the cheese boom rolling.

Cheese Pineapple

1 cup crumbled Roquefort cheese (about 6 oz.)
6 oz. cream cheese (2 3 oz. packages)
½ to ¾ cup Chablis or other dry white wine
1 teaspoon A-1 Steak Sauce
Dash cayenne pepper
Bottle of olives stuffed with red pimiento center
Leaves, cut from top of pineapple

Soften the cheese and gradually blend with other ingredients until smooth. Take sheet of tin foil and shape into flat plate-like bottom, with cone-like center sticking up in middle. This is your base for molding the cheese.

Cheese should be medium hard before molding. Adjust for desired consistency by adding either more wine or more cheese. Shape cheese on cone shaped tin foil mold, to look like pineapple.

Slice olives and place in even rows of circles to cover cheese, starting at top. Cut out leaves from fresh pineapple, by digging knife into pineapple and leaving a cone shaped piece of pineapple on the end, with which to spear the top of the cheese. When complete, it should simulate a real pineapple.

Add Dried Fruit to Rice Pudding

The family home at noon? Give them soup and dessert!

Fruited Rice Pudding

1 package (11 ounces) mixed dried fruits
1 pint boiling water
⅓ cup sugar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ cup quick-cooking rice cereal

Cut fruit into thin strips with a kitchen scissors or a sharp knife; turn into a 1-quart saucepan with the water, sugar and lemon juice. Bring to a boil; simmer 20 minutes or until fruit is tender.

Drain liquid from fruit into a measure; add enough water to make 2 cups; pour over the cooked fruit. Sprinkle in the rice cereal; cook over low heat for about 5 minutes. Serve hot or cold with light cream or a custard sauce. Makes 6 servings.

More than 10,000 bird watchers across the United States participated in the National Audubon Society's Christmas bird count last year.

Chocolate and Coconut Blend in Macaroons

Combine two flavors from the tropics, chocolate and coconut, into an excellent new cookie. In this recipe a new kind of glazed chocolate chip is used. They have fresher flavor, better keeping and baking qualities, hold their shape well and taste dark and chocolatey. The glaze appears to prevent discoloring at high temperatures.

Fruit Flavor Macaroon Cookies

2 eggs
⅔ cup granulated sugar
½ cup flour
¾ teaspoon double-acting baking powder
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon butter, melted and slightly cooled
2½ cups (about) flaked coconut
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 cup glazed chocolate chips

Beat eggs in mixing bowl until foamy and light in color. Add sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time, beating constantly until mixture is thickened and light in color, about 5 minutes.

Fold in flour, baking powder and salt; then fold in butter. Stir in coconut, vanilla and ½ teaspoon lemon rind. Then fold in 1 cup chocolate chips.

Drop by teaspoonful amounts onto greased and lightly floured baking sheets. Decorate each cookie with additional chocolate chips, if desired. Bake in slow oven (325 degrees F.) about 15 minutes or until cookies are golden brown around the edges.

Remove from oven and let stand a few seconds; then remove from baking sheets. Finish cooling on racks. Note: Cookies store well in tightly covered containers.

The Swahili translation of the first five books of the Bible contains fewer words than the Hebrew version and a surprising lack of distortion.

A message from the Treasury of a free people

How to preserve the freedom they found

Freedom doesn't just happen. If you don't have it, you have to struggle mighty hard to get it—as the early Pilgrims well knew.

Preserving the freedom our forefathers won for us is a continuing challenge for every new generation of Americans.

You can help in the job today by buying U.S. Savings Bonds. Each Bond you buy helps our government boost the cause of freedom everywhere.

Interest-earning U.S. Savings Bonds build your personal net worth too—undeniable evidence of the advantages of living in a free economy.

Help perpetuate the freedom those early immigrants found in America. Buy U.S. Savings Bonds from your bank, or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

NEW YORK — You would have thought it was Paris the way a dressed-to-the-teeth audience battled for seats Wednesday to see the full-hipped, flat-chested silhouette created by Guy Douvier of the American Christian Dior House.

At last, when a sophisticated mob of socialites, buyers and reporters had hushed, wafer-thin, French-like mannequins in clothes with French titles flashed in and out of the showroom so fast it was hard to get the complete picture.

* * *

From the first suit to the last ball gown, however, the full skirt was the thing. But this was pared down to half its size of last season when antebellum dimensions swallowed up dance floor space.

Women wore T-shirt-type V-necked tops with Godet skirts and short, by today's standards, jackets. The fabrics were the same bold, heavy mesh tweeds and plaids from which many Dior suits in the audience were made. Hats, the beanie type and floppy brimmed ones matched the fabrics.

PEPLUM JACKETS

Jackets often had peplums, a French trend if there ever was one. And front panels of skirts on coats were sometimes gathered at hip yokes.

The hip got an even broader treatment for evening wear with not one but two or three gathered skirts arranged in tiers.

Cocktail dresses and ball gowns were less theatrical this season. There were slim columns of ruffles from top to toe, ostrich plumes made out of organdy, embroidered and reembroidered gowns, none of which could be whipped up at home.

* * *

From there, most of the audience shifted to another arena where girls in black leotards strutted in bushy sweaters by Lore Dibbern for the Italian design house Famelia.

The sweaters were dimensional in more than the figurative way—red cherries, popcorn balls, life-like roses, whose gardens in fact were stitched to the shaggy sweater girl.

Sisters Close to Nth Degree

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Three sisters in Dayton have this togetherness thing down pat.

All had babies within a 10-day period, all delivered by the same doctor at the same hospital. They all had rooms on the same floor in the hospital.

* * *

Mrs. Joseph V. Gacetta's 5-pound, 7-ounce girl was delivered Oct. 19. Then came a 7-pound, 11-ounce boy for Mrs. Edward Fuchs Oct. 25 and a 10-pound, 2-ounce boy for Mrs. Edward C. Woolf Jr. last Monday.

Plenty at Stake in Hills-West Bloomfield Contest

W-O Crown, Unbeaten Year Go to Winner

Game Rated Tossup; Kickoff Time Moved to 3 P.M. at BHHS

A league championship, an unbeaten season and a high rating in the state will go to the winner of Friday afternoon's collision between Bloomfield Hills and West Bloomfield.

★ ★ ★

There will be no room for a tie when the teams line up on the Bloomfield Hills gridiron for the 3 p.m. kickoff.

Both teams will carry 7-0 records into the contest. West Bloomfield is rated 6th in Class B by the Associated Press while the Barons are in the top 15 in Class A.

The winner will retain a high rating and gain the Wayne-Oakland championship. Second place in the standings will be the only consolation for the loser.

A tie would result in both schools sharing the title, but perfect seasons and high ratings would be things of the past.

Bloomfield has added incentive.

SEEK TWO FIRSTS

The Barons have never won a league championship and they have never defeated West Bloomfield in five tries. The Lakers last copped the crown in 1960.

The Art Paddy coached Lakers went undefeated and untied that year.

West Bloomfield rolled past all but Northville in convincing fashion. Paddy has mobilized a powerful offense headed by quarterback Dan Greig and end Dave Helmreich.

If the Lakers have a weakness, it is a defense that has been leaky at times. But the offense has more than taken care of this problem.

West Bloomfield has swept aside the challenges of Waterford 34-20, Holly 32-6, Clarenceville 39-6, Milford 27-0, Brighton 34-19, defending W-O champion Northville 27-19, and Clarkston 35-13.

★ ★ ★

Bloomfield Hills will be the fourth Class A school on the Lakers' schedule. The others are Clarkston, Milford and Waterford. The remaining teams are Class B.

The Barons, under the direction of Don Hoff, have taken the measure of Oak Park 13-6, Clarkston 35-0, Brigton 31-19, Northville 7-0, Clarenceville 41-6, Milford 27-7, and Holly 25-0.

Roger Stewart, converted to quarterback this season, leads the Barons offense which is slightly less potent than the Lakers'. But the Hills' defense is a little better.

Game time was moved up a half hour to compensate for the shorter daylight hours.

Holly will try to rebound at Milford, Clarkston can expect more trouble at Northville, and Brighton will be aiming to cement a first division finish at home against Clarenceville in the other final W-O games of the season.

Only Holly and Northville have one nonleague each remaining to be played.

Sophs Get Chance to Play for U-M

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The Michigan coaching staff is thinking more and more about the 1963 season these days.

★ ★ ★

With a 1-4 win-loss record for the season and three consecutive shutouts, coach Bump Elliott and his lieutenants are focusing increasing attention on promising sophomores, hoping to turn them into seasoned veterans before the 1962 season is over.

Some of the younger players will be given more chance to play for the rest of the season, Elliott said.

★ ★ ★

"We're going to take the young kids who are fighters and work with them," said end coach Jack (Jocko) Nelson.

Thirteen of the 34 players who saw action against Minnesota last week were sophomores, and the lineup should be even younger against Wisconsin here Saturday.

Top performer of the younger set is rangy Bob Timberlake, who started out as a promising quarterback, was moved to No. 1 spot after three games, and now is an equally promising left halfback.

Another is quarterback Frosty Evashevski, who was listed as a junior but is playing his sophomore year because of a knee injury that kept him out all last season.

ADDED TIME

Evashevski has spent an increasing amount of time on the field and has completed 10 out of 30 passes for 74 yards — second only to Timberlake who completed 13 out of 29 for 132 yards.

Left ends Jim Conley and Ben Farabee have been seeing increasing action and may see more Saturday, with team captain Bob Brown a doubtful starter at that spot because of an ankle injury suffered against Minnesota last Saturday.

Turning to more immediate problems, Elliott expects the airlanes to be busy in the Wolverine-Badger contest.

★ ★ ★

"They pass about half the time," reported interior line coach Jack Fouts, who scouted the Wisconsin-Ohio State game last week. The Badgers will bring with them the awesome passing combination of quarterback Ron VanderKelen and end Pat Richter.

★ ★ ★

Richter might have reason to be gunning for the Wolverines. He suffered a broken collarbone against Michigan two years ago and was disabled the rest of the season. He had just caught a 50-yard pass to set up Wisconsin's first score when he was hit.

Maples Hoping Kimball Wins

Knights Must Top Ferndale in EML

The Maples have finished their league season with a 5-1 league record marred only by a 27-7 disaster at Ferndale. Ferndale, No. 7 in the AP Class A poll, remains unbeaten in the league and must hurdle Kimball Friday at Royal Oak to clinch a tie.

Roseville which officially begins EML play with the advent of basketball season, rudely jolted the Dales from the regular season unbeaten ranks last Friday, 16-13. Kimball has only lost once in loop competition but has a tie game on its log which kills the Knights' title chances.

SPOILERS?

However, it would be a feather in the Knights' helmets should they spoil the dreams of the visiting Ferndale eleven.

Seaholm will tackle invading Roseville in the Maples' final game. The Wildcats have met three EML teams this season, winning two and tying lowly Hazel Park.

★ ★ ★

Two other league contests see East Detroit visiting Mt. Clemens and Hazel Park at Port Huron.

Hazel Park, by winning, can avoid finishing in the EML cellar which the homesters' Big Reds currently share with East Detroit. Larry Butler has produced seven touchdowns for Port Huron this season while Daswell Campbell and Dennis McCarthy have accounted for all 10 Viking TDs.

'Team' Yet to Win

Pistons Drop Sixth

By JERE CRAIG

DETROIT — When Dick McGuire cavorted around the National Basketball Association courts with the New York Knickerbockers and later the Detroit Pistons, he was noted for his outstanding playmaking and ball handlings. He was a real team man.

McGuire presently coaches the Pistons and last night he unveiled his 1962-63 squad before the home folks. It was anything but a team effort. Boston's defending world champion Celtics whipped the Pistons, 115-100, before 8,388 fans at Convention Arena. It was the sixht straight loss for the unwinning Detroiters.

The home forces displayed a tall, hustling squad, but a distinct lack of togetherness. McGuire probably has as fast a quartet of backliners as any team in the league, but Don Ohl, Willie Jones, John Egan and Kevin Loughery are also among the shootingest.

Last night the Pistons outrebounded the tall Boston team 83-70 but the men of Red Auerbach outshot the Detroiters, 116-109. Repeatedly, the Piston guards would bring the ball down the court and throw it away or take bad shots. McGuire's high-scoring frontliners rarely had the ball.

POOR SHOOTING

Of the 109 shots taken by 11 Piston players, the four guards shot 54 times and hit only 31 per cent. Ohl, although scoring 15 points, hit only seven of 25 shots. As a team, Detroit hit 34 per cent and the Celtics 41 per cent.

Bailey Howell led the Pistons with 16 points, Bob Ferry matched Ohl's 15, John Egan had 12, U. of D.'s Dave Debusschere had 11 and Ray Scott 10. Howell's 16 rebounds were second only to Boston's Bill Russell who had 19. Loughery led everyone with seven assists, although he played only 18 minutes in the game.

Boston was led by Tommy Heinsohn and Sam Jones with 24 and 23, respectively. Bob Cousy tallied 16 and John Havlicek 13.

BRIGHT MOMENTS

There were a few bright moments for the hometown folks. DeBusschere's first local appearance in an NBA game saw him hit four of five shots in the second quarter and five of nine for the game. He also pulled down eight rebounds, fourth highest for both teams.

For Boston, the play of first year man Havlicek, one of those Ohio State basketball hotshots, was particularly impressive. Being groomed as a 6-5 backcourt man, Havlicek hit six of 11 shots and had a couple assists in playing less than a half. He continually broke away from his defensive man, whether playing forward or guard.

The two teams were tied 24-24 after one quarter and Boston had a six-point bulge at halftime, 58-52. The second half, however, was all Boston as the visitors built up a twelve point margin in the third stanza and never relinquished it in the final 12 min-

3-Game Tour Crucial for Hopes in NFL

Arnett in Action Again to Give Rams Potent Running Attack

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The Detroit Lions boarded a jet this morning for Los Angeles, the first leg of a three-game road series, with the hope that when they return to Detroit, it will be for a showdown game Thanksgiving Day with the Green Bay Packers.

In order for this to come about, the Lions know they cannot afford another loss and someone in the next three weeks has to beat the Packers.

After the Los Angeles game Sunday, the Lions move into San Francisco to meet the rugged 49ers and then to Minnesota to face the fast improving Vikings.

PACKERS TRAVEL

Green Bay, on other hand will be in Chicago Suhday facing Papa Halas and the angry Bears who remember the 49-0 pasting they took a few weeks ago when 11 of their key players were out with injuries.

After the Bears, the Packers travel to Philadelphia to meet the Eagles and then get back to Green Bay for a home encounter with the Colts before the Turkey Day clash in Detroit.

In view of the Rams' 28-14 victory over the 49ers last week, the Lions are expecting trouble. They certainly remember the 13-10 victory at Tiger Stadium three weeks ago when Dick Bass, the dynamic little fullback rushed for 146 yards.

RAMS READY

The Rams are preparing to give the Lions a double barrel offense this time with Jon Arnett back in action. He missed the first game between the two teams but last week got back into action and scored two touchdowns against the 49ers.

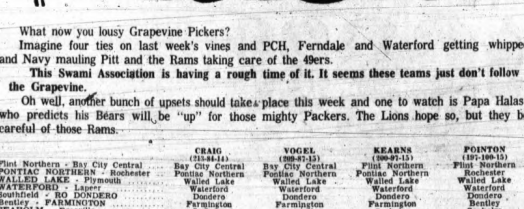
In worrying about the Rams' offensive power, Wilson is also concerned about the Lions' offense which has scored only four touchdowns in the last four games after scoring 15 TD's in the first three.

By the same token, the Lions' defense has been just as stingy, giving up only three touchdowns in the last four games although two losses have been inflicted by way of field goals.

"I just hope that if our offense gets back into high gear that our defense doesn't flop suddenly," said Wilson.

Still in doubt for Sunday's game is the return of Terry Barr a strong reason for the offensive slack. Barr's knee was still badly swollen this week, but he hopes that the warmer climate the next three days may help the condition.

The game will be televised back to Detroit at 4:30 p.m. Sunday.



What now you lousy Grapevine Pickers?

Imagine four ties on last week's vines and PCH, Ferndale and Waterford getting whipped and Navy mauling Pitt and the Rams taking care of the 49ers.

This Swami Association is having a rough time of it. It seems these teams just don't follow the Grapevine.

Oh well, another bunch of upsets should take place this week and one to watch is Papa Halas who predicts his Bears will be "up" for those mighty Packers. The Lions hope so, but they be careful of those Rams.

All-America Prospects on Midwestern Elevens

CHICAGO (AP) — The midwest football stronghold, honed to a sharp late-season edge, is popping up with All-America candidates in close pairs from the same schools.

Top-ranked Northwestern's sensational Tom Myers-to-Paul Flately passing combination . . . Minnesota's superb tackle duo of Bobby Bell and Carl Eller . . . revived Purdue's one-two fullback punch of Roy Walker and Gene Donaldson.

★ ★ ★

But a dozen new stars have moved into contention.

MSU FLANKER

ENDS —Matt Snorton of Michigan State, still a prime Big Ten title contender; and Northwestern's Flately, really a slot back, who has grabbed 35 Myers' tosses for 494 yards and 5 touchdowns, including a pair last Saturday in the Wildcats' 35-6 romp over Notre Dame.

TACKLES—soph Joe Czczecko, 235-pounder, named the Associated Press lineman of the week for his work against Notre Dame; and Minnesota's Eller, who with Bell has helped make Minnesota the nation's strongest defender against rushing in 15 seasons.

GUARDS — Notre Dame's Bob Lehman, who leads the Irish defense with 38 tackles; and Wisconsin's Jim Schenk, a demon linebacker who shone in a losing effort against Ohio State.

HALFBACKS — Ohio State's Paul Warfield, brilliant pass defender who held Flately and Richter to only two catches each on successive Saturdays; and Iowa's cessive Saturdays) and Iowa's Larry Ferguson, averaging 5.6 yards and snagging four passes against Purdue.

FULLBACKS — Purdue's Walker and Donaldson, a pair of 220 pounders, whose 112 yards against Iowa topped the 99 made by the entire Hawkeye backfield as Purdue won 26-3 Saturday.

Much Economic News to Mull Over

Stock Market Down Slightly

The market gained substantially Monday and Tuesday but fell into a mixed pattern yesterday.

There were a few small gainers at the start today while a number of key issues opened unchanged.

The market had a fairly large budget of overnight economic news to digest. The major items included mid-October unemployment falling to a three-year low, a slight dip in construction outlays last month and record U.S. exports and imports in September.

DuPont was off a little more than a point and General Motors nearly a point in the wake of news of a $90 million sale of GM common to be made by Christiana Securities Co. and members of the DuPont family. The sale follows a court decree over DuPont holdings of GM stock.

IBM opened lower by 2 and then fell another 1 or so. A tabulating card company filed an antitrust suit against IBM in Chicago yesterday and asked $33 million in damages.

U.S. Steel and Jones & Laughlin pushed ahead small fractions to give the steel section a mixed tone. Republic was off. Motors, rubbers, electronics, utilities, metals, chemicals, airlines and tobaccos were in the minus column.

Opening prices were mostly fractionally lower on the American Stock Exchange. There were a few small gainers.

Down ½ or less were Arkansas-Louisiana gas, Gulton Industries, Kirby Petroleum and Tri-Continental Warrants. Ogden Corp. and Paddington Corp. were up a bit.

Sparks Flying at Hoffa Trial

Lawyers Fight, Witness Balks, Judge Impatient

NASHVILLE (AP) — Charges of witness intimidation, bickering between attorneys and mention of an alleged recording of a dead union leader's voice are enlivening the James R. Hoffa trial.

But they are wearing thin the patience of U.S. District Judge William E. Miller as the government's $1-million conspiracy case against the Teamsters Union president dragged into the ninth day.

Judge Miller summoned a lawyer from Detroit to clarify the circumstances surrounding a key witness' refusal to answer a defense question concerning a tape recording. The lawyer, George Dixon, was told to appear in court today.

The balky witness, Bertram B. Beveridge, was asked yesterday—his third straight day on the stand—if he had stated in Dixon's office April 9 that a government attorney played a recording for him of Owen Brennan's voice. Brennan, a Teamster vice president, died in 1960.

Beveridge refused to answer, contending any such statement would have been privileged between him and his lawyer. The defense argued the client-attorney relationship was not applicable since a Hoffa lawyer was present when the statement was made.

Beveridge formerly was general manager of Commercial Carriers, Inc., a Detroit auto hauling firm accused by the government of conspiring with Hoffa to violate the Taft-Hartley Act. Specifically, Hoffa is accused of accepting a concealed payoff from the firm in return for insuring it labor peace.

Hoffa alone is being tried, since Commercial Carriers pleaded no contest. Judgment against the firm will be handed down at the conclusion of the trial.

Much Economic News to Mull Over

Stock Market Down Slightly

The market gained substantially Monday and Tuesday but fell into a mixed pattern yesterday.

There were a few small gainers at the start today while a number of key issues opened unchanged.

The market had a fairly large budget of overnight economic news to digest. The major items included mid-October unemployment falling to a three-year low, a slight dip in construction outlays last month and record U.S. exports and imports in September.

DuPont was off a little more than a point and General Motors nearly a point in the wake of news of a $90 million sale of GM common to be made by Christiana Securities Co. and members of the DuPont family. The sale follows a court decree ordering DuPont holdings of GM stock.

IBM opened lower by 2 and then fell another 1 or so. A tabulating card company filed an antitrust suit against IBM in Chicago yesterday and asked $33 million in damages.

U.S. Steel and Jones & Laughlin pushed ahead small fractions to give the steel section a mixed tone. Republic was off. Motors, rubbers, electronics, utilities, metals, chemicals, airlines and tobaccos were in the minus column.

Opening prices were mostly fractionally lower on the American Stock Exchange. There were a few small gainers.

Down ½ or less were Arkansas-Louisiana gas, Gulton Industries, Kirby Petroleum and Tri-Continental Warrants. Ogden Corp. and Paddington Corp. were up a bit.

Sparks Flying at Hoffa Trial

Lawyers Fight, Witness Balks, Judge Impatient

NASHVILLE (AP) — Charges of witness intimidation, bickering between attorneys and mention of an alleged recording of a dead union leader's voice are enlivening the James R. Hoffa trial.

But they are wearing thin the patience of U.S. District Judge William E. Miller as the government's $1-million conspiracy case against the Teamsters Union president dragged into the ninth day.

Judge Miller summoned a lawyer from Detroit to clarify the circumstances surrounding a key witness' refusal to answer a defense question concerning a tape recording. The lawyer, George Dixon, was told to appear in court today.

The balky witness, Bertram B. Beveridge, was asked yesterday—his third straight day on the stand—if he had stated in Dixon's office April 9 that a government attorney played a recording for him of Owen Brennan's voice. Brennan, a Teamster vice president, died in 1960.

Beveridge refused to answer, contending any such statement would have been privileged between him and his lawyer. The defense argued the client-attorney relationship was not applicable since a Hoffa lawyer was present when the statement was made.

Beveridge formerly was general manager of Commercial Carriers, Inc., a Detroit auto hauling firm accused by the government of conspiring with Hoffa to violate the Taft-Hartley Act. Specifically, Hoffa is accused of accepting a concealed payoff from the firm in return for insuring it labor peace.

Hoffa alone is being tried, since Commercial Carriers pleaded no contest. Judgment against the firm will be handed down at the conclusion of the trial.

Grain Market Mixed as Offerings Jump

CHICAGO (AP) — Trade in the grain futures market was somewhat more mixed today with increased offerings attracted by another price bulge in early transactions on the board of trade.

Brokers said the trend appeared to include a good volume of commercial accounts and probably some speculative support while the offerings apparently were hedges and a little profit cashing.

They added, though, that first reports of Premier Castro's attitude toward developments in Cuba were viewed by at least a few speculators as likely to discourage any heavy pressure in the market for the present.

Talks Unpleasant for Thant

Fidel Is Bitter at Nikita

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fidel Castro in a bitter tirade at his meeting with U Thant, accused Soviet Premier Khrushchev of having sold him down the river, diplomatic informants said today.

The high-level sources said Thant, acting secretary-general of the United Nations, reported he had a most unpleasant trip to Cuba on Tuesday and Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Castro, these sources said, volunteered his bitter remarks right at the outset of his first conference with the Burmese diplomat. He stated repeatedly that he was not consulted about Moscow's decision to dismantle the missile bases in Cuba.

HOLDS TO DEMANDS

Castro insisted that his five demands, including U.S. withdrawal from the Guantanamo naval base, must be carried out before he would even consider permitting U.N. inspection of the missile bases and thternational inspection of their dismantling.

★ ★ ★

U.S. authorities restated today that Washington continues to ignore Castro's proposals completely.

The feeling in Washington is that the arrival of Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan in Havana on Friday might change Castro's attitude.

There are strong indications, informants said, that Mikoyan, No. 1 Soviet trouble shooter, has instructions to tell Castro in unmistakable terms that attempts to upset the big power applecart would have grave consequences for future Soviet-Cuban relations.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "We have $40,000 invested in Pacific Gas & Electric, Bank of America, and American Telephone. We also have $60,000 in savings accounts. We have been disgusted with the stock market in the last few months. Could still sell at a big profit. Would you advise us to do so?" M.J.

A. I think you are very fortunate people, and I congratulate you. The stocks you hold are three of the best stocks you could possibly own.

I wouldn't consider selling them at present levels even though a further downside joggle is perfectly possible before the market stabilizes.

You say that even after one of the worst market breaks of many years you still have big profits in your stocks. I hope you won't think me impertinent if I ask you a serious question. How much profit do you have on your savings accounts?

I know your capital is safe there but this country is growing and I think you should own some stocks to grow with it.

Q. "Five years ago, I bought some stocks for future security and income. I am now worried about my holdings, which have not been reviewed by anyone since they were purchased. I own General Telephone, International Minerals, Beneficial Standard Life Insurance and Kratter. Have you any suggestions?" F. C.

A. My very first suggestion is that you have your holdings reviewed more often. Things change very rapidly in the financial business, and today's strong holding may be tomorrow's "dog."

I am glad to report, however, that your list is on the whole excellent and I have only one suggestion to make — switch out of Kratter. This company is perhaps the best managed of the real estate firms, but by the very nature of its business the shares must be considered rather speculative — too much so for someone like yourself who is not close to the financial scene.

You would be better off holding Maytag, one of the top appliance firms and a good dividend-payer.

Treaters Dash Home, Win Off-Street Prizes

Shouts of "Trick or Treat" rang through Pontiac streets last night as thousands of colorfully costumed youngsters filled their bags with Halloween treats.

★ ★ ★

The biggest treats, however, were the 102 "off-street prizes" awarded youngsters in the annual Mystery Treat Contest sponsored by the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce and the City Parks and Recreation Department.

Probably the happiest winner was 9-year-old Terry Maline, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Maline of 597 DeSota Place.

He won the first-place prize, a new bicycle, in the elementary school category. Terry, a Mark Twain School pupil, was home when his phone rang shortly after 9.

The Jaycees began calling elementary age pupils whose names were pulled from a basket of registrations at 9. All they had to do to win was be home.

★ ★ ★

First-place prizes of a wrist watch in the junior high and senior high divisions were Judy Slade, 12, of 961 Voorheis Road, a Washington Junior High School student, and Larry Willhite, 15, of 39 Tacoma Court, a student at Pontiac Central High.

★ ★ ★

Second place winner in the grade school division was Gary Moyer, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moyer of 71 Wenonah Drive. A pupil at Webster School, Gary won a radio.

Nine-year-old Katrina Schroeter of 1905 Lakeland St., Sylvan Lake, won five silver dollars. A Whitfield School pupil, she's the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Werner P. Schroeter.

In addition there were three winners of a single silver dollar at each of the city's elementary schools.

In the older age groups second place winners received pen and pencil sets, and third place, $5.

The other junior high winners were Bob Tucker, 13, of 634 First St., a Madison Junior High student, second place; and Harrington Fed, 13, of 478 Branch St., a Jefferson Junior High student, third.

In the senior division, second place was taken by Deanna Giles, 16, of 81 W. Princeton St., and third by Mark Vincent, 17, of 2598 Lapeer Road, both Pontiac Northern students.

City Reservists Win 2nd Trophy

The Pontiac Naval Reserve Division has been named the winner of the Broadhead Trophy for the second successive year, it was announced today by the Department of Michigan, Veterans of Foreign Wars Military Affairs Committee.

Presented annually to the top performing large division in Michigan, the trophy is awarded on the basis of points earned for attendance, recruiting, advancements in rating and percentage performing annual training duty.

It is the first time that a division has won the trophy twice.

The division has been commanded by Cmdr. Walter J. Piel, USNR-R, 2259 W. Lincoln Ave., Birmingham, since April 1960.

★ ★ ★

Plans are being made for the presentation of the trophy Dec. 5, according to Maynard Johnson, chairman of the VFW committee, who announced the winner among the 12 divisions competing.

Foreign Auto Gets 'Free Ride' to Campus Grill

Pranksters turned a cafeteria at Michigan State University Oakland into a drive-in restaurant early this morning.

The auto apparently had been lifted from its parking space about 50 yards away and carried the distance and down a flight of stairs into the patio.

Voltage Drops on Venus Probe

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — After rolling up nearly 12 million trouble-free miles, the Venus-bound Mariner II space craft has suddenly developed a mysterious disorder in its power system.

But scientists say the 447-pound vehicle may still accomplish its scientific mission when it passes Venus in mid-December.

Project spokesmen reported last night that there had been a sudden drop in voltage supplied by solar panels aboard Mariner II.

This caused apprehension because Mariner II would start drawing power from its battery if the voltage drop continued. And the battery power, needed later, would be quickly exhausted.

So scientists at Caltech's Jet Propulsion Laboratory decided to turn off Mariner instruments conducting four interplanetary scientific experiments. They calculated this would reduce the power drain by more than 50 per cent.

Vandals Set Fire to Vacant House Halloween Eve

NOVI — Halloween pranksters set fire to a vacant house at Nine Mile and Beck roads shortly before midnight.

The fire was spotted by a patrolling Novi police car. The officer immediately notified the fire department and the blaze was extinguished before it could do serious damage.

The vandals escaped.

Police Chief Lee BeGole said it appeared that flammable liquid such as gasoline or kerosene was spread around the house before the blaze was set.

However, BeGole added that his department received only two calls involving Halloween vandalism last night. The other call was very minor, he added.

Charges Irons Lets Vice Flourish

Sheriff Hopeful Hurls More Charges

The Democratic candidate for Oakland County sheriff today hurled more charges at his incumbent opponent following his accusation that prisoners of the county jail were used to build and paint political campaign signs.

Kenneth G. Hirt said Sheriff Frank Irons has allowed vice to flourish without making any attempt to flush it out, that the sheriff has not actively pursued murder investigations, and that his department is not respected by other law enforcement agencies.

Irons said today he would not dignify the charges by commenting on them.

He said, "I'm not going to lower myself to a level of controversy over such ridiculous charges."

"I will stand on my record of 40 years in law enforcement," Irons said.

★ ★ ★

He previously has said the charges concerning campaign signs were "absolutely" false.

RAPS RECORDS SETUP

Hirt also charged the sheriff has failed to initiate a central records system, that most jobs in the department "go out as political patronage," and that no juvenile division has been established despite the sheriff's campaign promises of six years ago.

Hirt claims he was in a position to know his charges are valid. He was employed by the sheriff's department from 1954 to 1961.

The 34-year-old Hirt, who lives in Ferndale, said he saw "with my own eyes" three prisoners taken to the jail's basement where they were ordered to make up campaign posters.

These men thus became trusties, Hirt said, and got better food than other inmates.

★ ★ ★

"It seems that all of the hoodlums regard Oakland County as a good place to dispose of a corpse," Hirt continued. He said state police and community departments solve most of the crimes in the county.

★ ★ ★

He said it was common knowledge to all, including the sheriff's department, that narcotics, prostitution and gambling were flourishing in Royal Oak Township.

"The state police have been the ones crackigg down in that community without any help being offered by the sheriff," he asserted.

State Auditor Denies Report Politics Move

State Auditor General Billie S. Farnum has denied that his report charging Oakland County officials were overpaid $11,073 from Jan. 1, 1960 to July 1, 1962 was politically motivated.

"Last week my office issued the regular audit of Oakland County under the regular schedule maintained by my County Audit Division," Farnum stated.

"The law requires the auditor general to make public the result of every audit it conducts," he added, "As long as I am entrusted with this responsibility I will obey the statute and fulfill my constitutional and legal obligations."

Several county officials named in the audit report have branded it a political effort to discredit the Republican-controlled county in the current election campaign.

Several of the Democratic candidates for county offices have used the report in their campaigns against the Republican incumbents.

CHARGES OVERPAYMENT

The major contentions of the audit report is that the county, authorized by its Board of Supervisors, has overpaid the board chairman some $5,000, and that several other county officials, including, mainly, Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry, have overcharged the county on expense accounts.

Barry has denied the allegation, maintaining that he submits the most complete account of his expenses of any county official.

He said that the auditors have not been strict enough in policing county expenditures and expense accounts of its officials.

The county auditors, working with the corporation counsel of the county, are currently analyzing the auditor general's report before replying to it in detail.

Their reply will be directed to the attorney general, who has 60 days from the time the report was issued to see that it is enforced, according to Farnum.

Says 2 School Posts May Cause Conflict

LANSING (AP)—Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley advised yesterday a conflict of duties may arise when a person is a member of both a local school board and a board-member of a community college in the same county.

The conflict makes the two jobs incompatible, Kelley said in response to a request from the clerk of the city of Warren.

The clerk had asked Lynn Bartlett, superintendent of public instruction, whether a man might serve both on the Warren School Board and the board of Macomb County Community College.

Kelley's opinion was based on the possibility that a conflict might arise because both local schools and community colleges receive money from the same property tax sources.
