Age Does Not Dim Her Beauty

Our Flag Is 181 Years Old Today

TODAY is Flag Day, anniversary of the June day in 1777 when the Continental Congress officially adopted our flag as it has remained over the years, except for addition of extra stars as more states joined the Union.

No matter what size it is, proportions of the flag are set by law. Taking the width of the flag as 1, the length is 1.9. The width of the union, or blue field, is 7/13 of the width of the flag and the length is .76. Each stripe is 1/13 wide. The diameter of each star is .0616.

The original U.S. flag, authorized by the Continental Congress, June 14, 1777, had 13 stars and 13 stripes to represent the 13 original states.

They were Delaware, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Georgia, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Maryland, South Carolina, New Hampshire, Virginia, New York, North Carolina and Rhode Island. That was the order in which they ratified the Constitution.

New stars were added as new states entered the union. The first added was Vermont; the last, Arizona in 1912. Between 1795 and 1818 the flag had 15 stars and 15 stripes. But in 1818 Congress authorized the return to 13 stripes with one star for each state.

Unchanged for 46 years, the stars in the blue field may soon grow to 49 or 50 if statehood is granted to Alaska and Hawaii.

Mystery Flight Over for Lonely Airman

DALLAS (AP) — Airman Donald Keeton, picked up here today after a mysterious flight from Mississippi in a light plane, said that "I just wanted to see my girl, it was kind of a crazy idea."

But his flight, which he said had included evasive tactics when pursued by fighter planes and a crash landing in a swampy field, was in vain.

"I'll still date him," his girl friend said, but she asserted she felt she was still too young to marry.

She rushed into his arms at the police station, and Keeton flushed and embraced her. They talked in low tones for a minute or two before she faced newsmen.

"He just walked into my room, woke me up and said, 'Hi, mom,'" his mother said. "My faith was never shaken. I'm so relieved."

The 19-year-old airman, who had left a suicide note before going aloft in a rented plane Thursday morning at Gulfport, Miss., was picked up at his mother's home here.

He said he had expected to make it to Dallas but had run out of gas because of low altitude flying and evasive action, adding:

"I didn't have any particular way to get up here. I was unable to get leave. I wanted to see my girl, it was kind of a crazy idea."

"I didn't think it would do any good to talk to her by phone, I needed to see her."

Before the girl came to the station he said that "the police tell me here I'll be able to see her, and if I do, it will be worth it for just an AWOL. I still haven't given up hope of winning her back."

The object of the flight, which set off a search over two states, is pretty Doris Bowling, 17, of (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Fierce Fighting Erupts in Beirut

Rebel Troops Attack Homes of Lebanon's President, Premier

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI)—Rebel troops attacked the residences of President Camille Chamoun and Premier Sami es Solh in downtown Beirut with machine guns and mortars today.

It was the fiercest fighting of the 36-day-old revolt. Government forces were hard-pressed to contain the sudden attacks.

Government sources charged that units of the Syrian army had infiltrated Beirut itself and had started organized operations to topple the shaky Chamoun regime. Today's fighting was no mere riot.

It was occurring practically under the noses of United Nations observers who arrived late in the week to investigate Lebanese charges of military intervention by the United Arab Republic.

Chamoun's palace came under heavy machine gun fire from the Moslem Quarter while he and the prime minister were meeting with the Cabinet.

Name's Official Now

The name of the state university being erected at Walton Blvd. and Squirrel Rd., near Pontiac's eastern limits is MSU-Oakland.

The State Board of Agriculture meeting in East Lansing Friday officially adopted the name which has already come into general use in this area.

A-Control Talks OK'd by Russia

Soviets to Send Science Experts to Geneva for Parley Starting July 1

(From Our News Wires) MOSCOW — Russia has agreed to send scientific experts to Geneva July 1 to begin negotiations for control of nuclear tests.

The Russian agreement came yesterday in answer to proposals made Tuesday by President Eisenhower. Eisenhower's message avoided a flat U. S. commitment to stop testing atomic and hydrogen bombs. The West has insisted that technical talks on inspection must come first.

The Russian note stipulated that Poland and Czechoslovakia should take part in the talks as well as the Western big three.

It expressed regret that no agreement has been reached on a proposal for Indian participation in the talks.

The Russians stressed their expectation that the scientists' talks would be completed in a short time, and that as soon as they are over all nations possessing nuclear weapons would at once suspend tests.

Russia announced in April that she was suspending nuclear tests and challenged the West to follow her lead.

The Russians have consistently rejected the idea of inspection and control and have claimed the tests could be stopped by a simple declaration from the atomic powers, currently Russia, the United States and Britain, with France believed coming up fast.

Red Chinese Free 2 Catholic Priests

HONG KONG (AP)—Peiping radio announced the release today of the last two American Catholic priests imprisoned in Communist China.

The Rev. Joseph P. McCormack of the Maryknoll Seminary, Ossining, N. Y., and the Rev. John P. Wagner of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Chicago, Ill., were released at Shanghai, the broadcast said.

They were freed "on the expiration of their prison terms," the broadcast said. The two priests were arrested June 15, 1953, and sentenced to five years in prison on Communist charges of espionage.

Two Candidates File for New County Office

Seek Position Created by Merger of Register of Deeds, Clerk Posts

Just hours after the Board of Supervisors had merged the county offices of clerk and register of deeds yesterday, two candidates had signaled their intention of vying for the new position.

John E. Kronenberg, 34, of 711 N. Altadena St., Royal Oak, became the first to officially submit a $100 filing fee Friday afternoon.

Kronenberg, along with three others, had filed fees either for the office of clerk or register of deeds before supervisors made Oakland the sixteenth and largest Michigan county to combine the two offices.

Shortly after Kronenberg had re-filed, Roy M. West, 37, of 2796 Griffith Ave., Berkley, was the second candidate to resubmit fees.

As of 5 p.m. Friday, Theodore F. Hughes, previous candidate for clerk from Berkley, and Mrs. Ruth Julian, candidate for register, from Berkley also, had not filed again. The deadline is Tuesday.

Present Register of Deeds Daniel T. Murphy Jr. has announced, but not filed, for the new office.

Mrs. Mable Child, election clerk for the county, has informed the four candidates that they can, if they wish, file a written withdrawal as a candidate for the clerk or register post and re-submit their fee for the new position if they still desire to run.

She also informed persons that might be circulating petitions for either of the two posts that these petitions are now void. She said this was because they did not specify at the top of the petition the correct title of the merged office.

This, Mrs. Child added, will read "office of county clerk and register" (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Industrial Production Takes Upward Swing

(From Our News Wires)

WASHINGTON — U. S. Industrial production took an upswing last month for the first time since June last year.

The Federal Reserve Board, reporting this yesterday, said the index of output for the nation's factories, mines and mills rose by one point from April to May.

This brought the index to 127 per cent of the 1947-49 average—still 18 points below the level of last August and 20 points under the record high of December 1956.

The board's report was another indication that May was the best business month since the recession began last fall.

Administration leaders expressed a growing conviction today that the recession hit bottom in April.

Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks said it flatly. Dr. Gabriel Hauge, President Eisenhower's staff economic adviser, had no reason to change his late winter forecast that the bottom would be reached during the second quarter of the year.

They were joined by directors of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce who met here yesterday for a twice-a-year symposium on business conditions.

The Labor Department reported yesterday that the nation's jobs, benefits rolls have fallen for the seventh straight week while initial claims by newly laid-off workers have hit a 1955 low.

The report came as President Eisenhower signed into law an emergency $665,700,000 money bill to provide loans to states to extend their unemployment compensation programs up to 50 per cent as an antirecession move.

FEWER WORKERS IDLE

The Labor Department report showed that the number of idle workers actually receiving jobless benefits fell to 2,827,600 in the week ended May 31, a decline of 65,300 from the previous week.

New jobless claims declined to 321,000 in the week ended June 7, a drop of 16,500 from the previous week. In the comparable week last year, however, new claims totaled only 218,100.

Dr. Emerson P. Schmidt, economic research director for the national chamber, was asked when he expected the country to "pull out" of the recession.

"Once the public is convinced that we are at the bottom and that there will be no more layoffs," Schmidt said, "then they will start to buy and the recession will begin to end. This will happen before the end of the year."

Harry A. Bullis, board chairman of General Mills and a chamber director, said "There is good reason to believe that we are near the low point of the current recession or that it is already behind us."

Weeks told a reporter before leaving for a weekend speaking engagement in New England that a number of economic indicators made him believe that the recession "hit bottom in April."

"The economy definitely held firm in May," Weeks said, pointing to a new Federal Reserve Board summary of national business conditions which supported the same point.

Meanwhile Secretary of Labor Mitchell confirmed that he and Vice President Nixon waged a losing fight within the administration for proposing a tax cut to Congress.

Asked at a news conference if he and Nixon had lost the argument to Secretary of the Treasury Anderson and the Federal Reserve Board, Mitchell said:

"I'll say this, Vice President Nixon and I said publicly on several occasions we favored a tax cut. The administration has not favored one."

Queried whether he still favors tax reduction, Mitchell said he

Furor Swells; White House Mum on Adams

Assistant to President Accused of Accepting Expensive Favors

(From OUR NEWS WIRE) WASHINGTON — Republican Sen. Charles Potter of Michigan said today Sherman Adams "has lost his usefulness to the administration" unless he can account more fully for expensive favors from Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine.

But despite a swelling political furor over President Eisenhower's top aide it seemed likely that no further explanation would be forthcoming for the time being.

Potter's suggestion drew a curt "no comment" from the White House today.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty also said he knew nothing of reports the Justice Department is investigating Adams' rich industrialist friend, Bernard Goldfine of Boston.

Adams has acknowledged he communicated with federal agencies in Goldfine's behalf but insists he asked no favors for the New England mill owner and financier. He admitted he accepted $2,000 in hotel hospitality from Goldfine.

Hagerty ducked a long series of questions at his morning news conference about Adams and Goldfine.

After refusing to comment on Potter's statement, he said he knew nothing about a report by the New York Herald-Tribune that the Justice Department is investigating the case.

Hagerty said anything on that would "have to come from the Department of Justice, not from me." Attorney General William P. Rogers' spokesman told reporters, however, that he had no information about any investigation.

The Herald-Tribune story said the U. S. district attorney in New York had subpoenaed some of Goldfine's records. But the U. S. Marshal's office in New York said it had received no subpoenas from the district attorney this week.

Bolt and Player Start 3rd Round

Tommy Hits Into Fan's Shirt; Cary Finishes 6th One Over Par

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A searing sun, tournament pressure and a huge gallery combined to make things hard for the leaders in the National Open Golf Championship today as the final 36-hole endurance test got under way at Southern Hills.

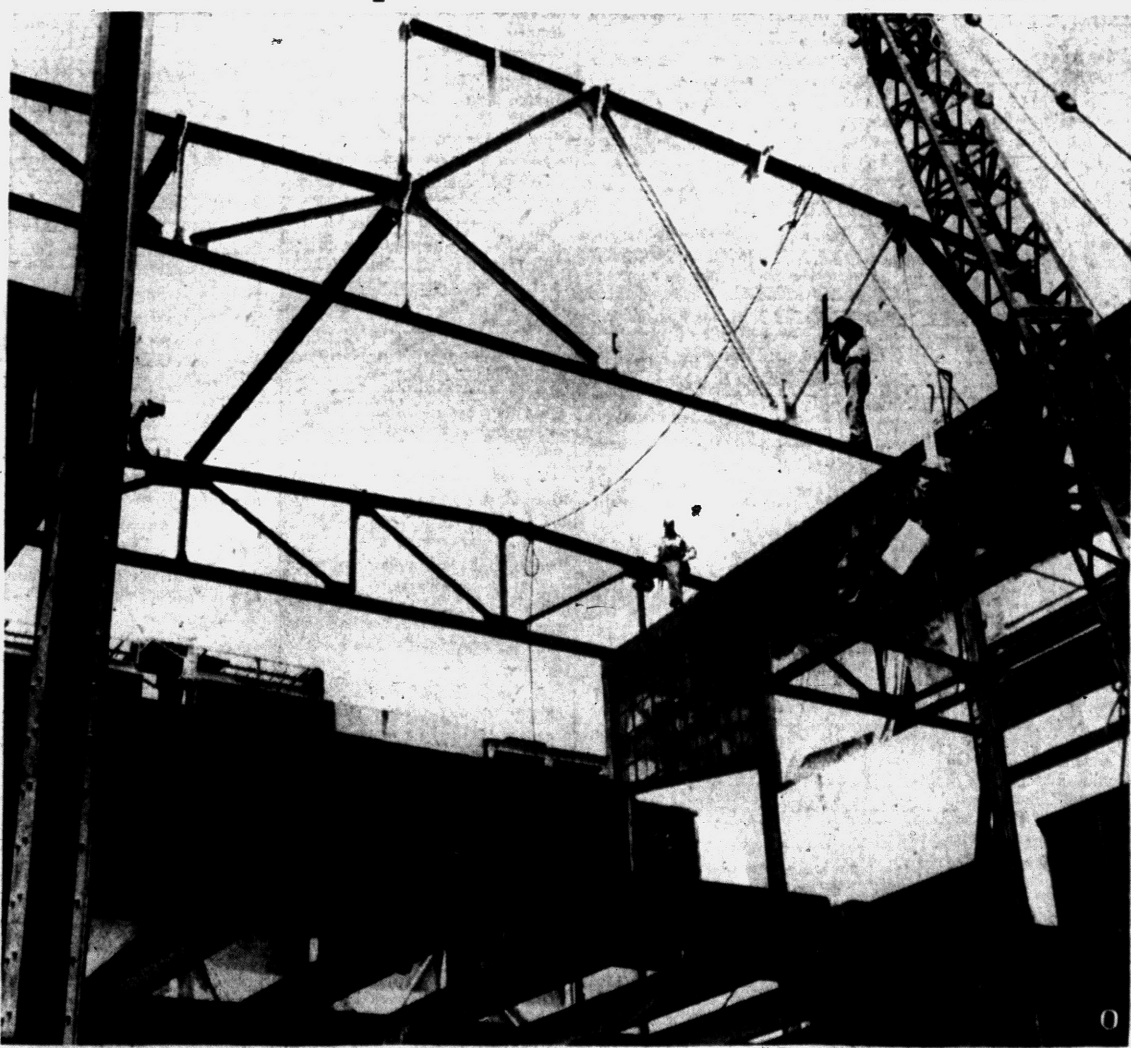

Tommy Bolt, the reformed club buster from Crystal River, Fla., led the way into the last two rounds with a score of 142 for the first 36 holes. He had a one-stroke margin over 22-year-old Gary Player of South Africa and two over Frank Stranahan, the Toledo strong man. Player was the only man in the field who had broke par 35-35-70 for the 6,907-yard course.

Tommy ran into gallery trouble on the second hole of the third round and it cost him a shot. He hooked his second shot and the ball landed inside a spectator's shirt. Bolt got to drop the ball where the spectator was standing, but he took a bogey five on the hole. He parred the first and third.

Player, meanwhile, took bogeys on the second and third holes but birdied the sixth to stand one over par at that stage. Stranahan was a later starter.

The sun again burned down from cloudless skies and the temperature was in the 80s and rising rapidly. The forecast was for a high in the upper 90s.

$495,000 Expansion Starts at Truck Plant

ADDING 80,400 SQUARE FEET — Construction has begun on a $495,000 expansion project at the Plant 2 facility of General Motors Truck & Coach Division on E. South Boulevard.

GMTC is adding 80,400 square feet to its Plant 2 manufacturing area, to provide new facilities for cab assembly, frames and material storage.

In picture above construction workers perch atop roof supports as they go into place on the Plant 2 addition.

The construction is in three separate extensions to Plant 2. Schurr Const. Co. and Dairén and Armstrong are contractors for two of the jobs. The third one is not yet set.

Truck & Coach Division already has more than 6,000,000 square feet of manufacturing facilities in Pontiac.

County Wants Loans Repaid

Serves Notice to Areas Which Borrowed for Incorporation Vote

Oakland County gave notice Friday that it wants to be paid back for loans to areas who receive financial assistance for incorporation election expenses.

Supervisors, over the protest of supervisors from Southfield and two others, adopted a resolution instructing the corporation counsel to file suit within 30 days if such loans are not repaid.

Feeling the effect of the new rule immediately will be Southfield, which, the county says, owes $28,888 for two past unsuccessful incorporation elections.

Voting against the resolution, put before the board by its Ways and Means Committee, were Southfield Supervisors C. Hugh Dohany, Emanuel Christensen, Donald L. Swanson, and Paul W. McGovern, of Oak Park, and Mrs. Harriett Phillips, Huntington Woods supervisor.

The vote on the resolution was 64 to 5.

Swanson, mayor of the new City of Southfield, protested the action. He said in the case of the $28,888, some areas not involved might be assuming the costs of others.

Corporation Counsel Harry J. Merritt had cited from a state law requiring that the money owed be "paid by the locality where the election was held." "It's my interpretation," Merritt told the supervisors, "that this means the township in this case."

The committee's resolution calls for an audit by the Board of Auditors to see what such money is owed the county, then requesting the payment, and finally, if payment is not made in a month, Merritt should file court action.

Supervisors Friday also approved a $5,000 appropriation for operating expenses for the new lake safety patrol being conducted by the sheriff's department.

An objection by Royal Oak Township Supervisor Elwood Dickens failed to stop the move. It passed 69 to 2. Objecting with Dickens was Roy L. Duncan, Troy supervisor.

Dickens said the $5,000 was not budgeted, and that his township was assuming some costs of driver license examinations which it believed should be borne by the sheriff's budget.

Final action on Friday saw supervisors changing the county's death benefit plan to permit payments to be paid to widows or designated beneficiaries of employees after 25 years of service. Previous payment came only after an employee reached 60 years of age and 10 years of service.

Pastors Support Extending Law

Officially on Record as Against Selling Beer, Wine Here on Sundays

Pontiac Pastors Assn. is officially on record opposing sale of beer and wine here on Sundays. The association voted yesterday in support of a resolution by City Commissioner Floyd P. Miles to extend Pontiac's limited blue law to all day Sunday. Miles' resolution is to be debated by the Commission Tuesday night. The Pastors Assn. recommended that the commission adopt the entire measure.

The Pastors Association represents about 35 Pontiac churches. Miles' resolution, first introduced at City Hall 10 days ago, called for an ordinance to prohibit all sale of beer and wine in Pontiac between 2 a.m. and midnight Sunday, in private clubs and package stores as well as taverns.

It was a counter move to a proposal by the Oakland County Table Toppers, which had asked the city to repeal its existing Sunday regulations. They forbid public taverns to serve beer and wine until 2 p.m. Sunday, although private clubs operating under state law can begin sale at noon.

The Table Toppers, who represent about 55 Pontiac tavern owners, claimed this was discriminatory, but in the face of the clerical drive to end Sunday sales altogether, they withdrew their proposal four days ago.

City Commissioners tabled Miles' resolution until this coming Tuesday.

Four Youths Arrested for Possessing Beer

Four youths were arrested last night charged with illegal possession of beer. They pleaded guilty in municipal court today.

Fined $5 or one day in jail by Judge Maurice E. Finnegan were William Truick, 20, of 621 Stirling Ave.; Leon Johnstone, 20, of 4960 Estes Dr.; Orion Township; Albert Hay, 17, of 575 Amberwood St., Pontiac Township; and James R. Menz, 19, of 17 E. Fairmont Ave.

Weekend Halts Contract Talks

DETROIT (UPI) — Auto contract negotiations today stand adjourned for the weekend, with negotiators matching the unhurried pace they have set for 12 weeks.

As the negotiations ended for the week yesterday there were a few signs of progress in the marathon talks.

The United Auto Workers will resume negotiations at 1 p.m. Monday at General Motors, 10 a.m. Monday at Ford and 1:30 p.m. Tuesday at Chrysler.

UAW vice president Leonard Woodcock yesterday said the union would "seriously consider" an industry offer to extend supplemental unemployment benefits (SUB) to 39 weeks.

The present maximum duration of SUB payments is 26 weeks, the union asked for 32 weeks.

Woodcock's statement came after the State of Michigan adopted the federal loan plan for extending unemployment compensation payments to a maximum of 39 weeks. The company-paid supplemental unemployment benefits amount to the difference between state compensation and 60 to 65 per cent of the worker's pay.

However, General Motors industrial relations chief Earl R. Bramblett declined comment on whether state extension of unemployment compensation payments lessened company opposition to extending SUB.

Woodcock had said previously that General Motors during the week made its first "minor concessions" since bargaining started March 25. The concessions concerned working conditions, not economic matters, however.

Another minor development came yesterday when Chrysler announced Local 547 of the International Union of Operating Engineers (AFL) agreed to accept a two-year extension of its present contract, which would have expired tomorrow.

The contract includes cost of living and "improvement factor" increases that will give the 40 power house workers at three Detroit area plants at least 16 cents an hour in pay hikes over the two year period.

Two Candidates File for New County Post

ter of deeds" on the August and November ballots.

Supervisors approved by a vote of 42 to 28 the unification recommended by the Special County Government Study Committee.

Oakland thus joins with Alger, Baraga, Clare, Delta, Eaton, Keweenaw, Lake, Luce, Menominee, Mecosta, Ontonagon, Oscoda, Otsego, Roscommon, and Schoolcraft Counties in joining the two offices.

The committee, directed by Springfield Township Supervisor John L. Carey, was successful, in what Carey says, is the first of many changes the committee will recommend.

Committee members are presently looking over reports from county department heads as to what they believe might be done to streamline the county government.

This was the purpose behind creation of the nine-member group last October by the supervisors.

"Many of the suggestions from department heads are out of our hands because they would have required judicial action," Carey said following yesterday's board meeting.

He said it was too early to enumerate any further changes.

Some county officials, after hearing the result of the vote, foresaw the day when Oakland County might have a county manager. This has been discussed briefly at previous meetings of the study committee.

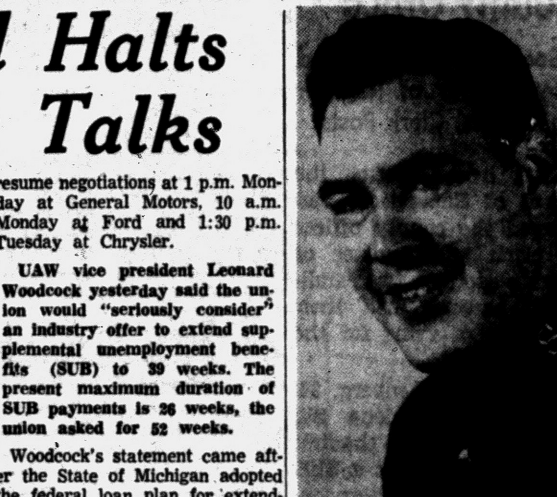

Voicing the loudest opposition yesterday to the merger was Harry W. Horton, Royal Oak supervisor. He depicted the move as regressive rather than progressive.

Other action following the vote was a huddle of the county's four Circuit Court judges in Judge H. Russell Holland's chamber for a brief time in the afternoon.

It was announced by Judge Frank L. Doty that another session to possibly name a successor to Lynn D. Allen's office of clerk will be held Monday morning. Allen died May 31.

To date no Republican has indicated interest in the post in the House of Representatives being vacated by Rep. Leslie H. Hudson. The other four candidates also are Democrats.

Bacow is 42 and lives at 34 Cherokee Rd.

Officers Commanding Local Corps Moving to Saginaw July 2

Sr. Capt. and Mrs. Magnus A. Michalsen, commanding officers of the local Salvation Army Corps, with their three sons, Paul, David and John will leave Pontiac July 2 for Saginaw where they will be in charge of the Corps.

A native of Chicago, he served in Hastings, Neb.; Council Bluffs, Iowa; Muskegon and the Youth for Christ movement in Kalamazoo before coming to Pontiac in 1955.

The Michalsens will replace Sr. Major and Mrs. Robert MacMahon who will be in charge of the Eventide home for elderly men and women in Detroit.

Billy Graham at Cow Palace:

Winds Up Crusade

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Billy Graham preaches the last evening sermon tonight in his seven-week crusade at the Cow Palace.

He winds up the series Sunday with an afternoon meeting, then rests until next Sunday when he'll hold a rally at Seals Stadium where he estimates 30,000 people will attend.

Graham preached last night to a capacity crowd of 16,500 on the excuses people give for not "making a decision for Christ."

There are no valid ones in the sight of God, he said.

God's forgiveness abounds even more than the sins of man, he declared, so there is no excuse for saying one has sinned too much.

"All Christ asks you to give up are your sins," he said of people who feel they have too much to give up.

To say "not now, but some other time is not to live each day of your life as though it's the last, as you should," Graham said. "Decisions for Christ" last night numbered 871.

Return to Vote on Labor Bill

Weary Senators Beat Back Two Amendments Urged by President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Weary senators return to the Capitol today to push ahead with votes on a labor control bill still lacking many features urged by President Eisenhower.

In a second successive 12-hour session yesterday, the senators beat back two major amendments urged by the administration, with the voting largely along party lines.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), chief author of the bill, predicted that far-reaching GOP amendments also would meet defeat today.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas called the Senate into session two hours ahead of the usual time in an effort to win final passage by tonight. But there seemed a reasonable chance the debate would run into next week.

Forty-four new amendments were on senators' desk yesterday, and only two of these were disposed of during the day. Most of the amendments were from the Republicans.

Rep. Hudson Seeks Congressional Seat

Oakland County's 18th Congressional seat is sought by Democrat Leslie H. Hudson, for four years Pontiac's representative in the State House of Representatives.

Hudson, 36-year-old, hardware dealer in the city, first announced his intention of seeking the post in Congress almost a year ago. Yesterday he officially filed nomination petitions bearing 2,148 signatures with Mrs. Mabel Child, Oakland County election clerk.

The candidate was first elected to the Legislature in 1954 and re-elected in 1956. He served as a member of the House Ways and Means Committee during his sophomore term.

Hudson, of 361 Gallogly Rd., held the post of Waterford Township clerk from 1947 to 1951. In 1952 he was a supervisor from Pontiac for two years on the Board of Supervisors.

ire by asking whether the White House would ask Adams not to intervene if the department should be investigating Goldfine's activities.

"That is an impertinent question," Hagerty said. He added that "of course" Adams "would not" intervene.

Sen. Potter said in a statement that he had "campaigning against the mink coats and deep freezes of the Truman administration, and that goes for Vicuna coats and Oriental rugs."

In a letter to subcommittee Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark.), Adams acknowledged he had been a hotel guest of Goldfine in Boston and Plymouth, Mass.

Describing Goldfine as an old friend, Adams said he had thought Goldfine kept the hotel rooms on a permanent basis.

Although saying he had contacted two federal regulatory agencies on cases involving Goldfine, Adams said insinuations that he had sought or obtained favored treatment for his friend were unwarranted and unfair.

Hagerty, who said Adams had knocked the favored treatment allegations "into a cocked hat," refused to say whether Adams, as reported, had accepted a $700 vicuna coat or a $2,400 Oriental rug from Goldfine. Adams' letter said nothing about a coat or a rug. He has been unavailable to newsmen.

The class has 24 cum laude graduates and 66 who have been named to the National Honor Society. Many other scholarships have been awarded including Jeffrey Berns, Peter Brink, Stephen Weiner and John Roberson who have qualified for full tuition scholarships to any Michigan college.

Bloomfield Hills commissioners and planners are concerned about the future of their city particularly concerning traffic, possible annexation and residential expansion.

Plan board members have pointed out that the Chrysler Plant in Troy and the Michigan State University-Oakland will bring additional thousands of cars through the Hills daily. They feel the plant, in particular, may bring more residents also.

Their third concern in the traffic picture is about the nearly completed Church of the Latter Day Saints at Woodward avenue and Chesterfield road. They are asking the State Highway Commission to study the installation of a stoplight at Lone Pine road and Woodward.

Also under consideration is the possible hiring of a professional city planner to help prepare ahead.

Your Day Has Arrived, Dad—We Thank You

Dear Dad,
Another year, another Father's Day. Once again Sunday, folks everywhere will pay tribute to you. And, oh, for a unique and refreshing way of expressing what you mean to us. Oh, to be able to say something about dads that each of us doesn't already know.
But perhaps it will suffice if, instead of seeing what we can offer you, we tell you what you have given us.

Just to be able to speak affectionately of "our dad" with friends and acquaintances has given us an unmatched feeling of security and belonging. And if you don't think this is true, just ask a child whose misfortune it has been to have matured without a father. For this, we thank you.

You've been the "rock" of our home, and please don't think we're handing you a string of histrionic phrases. We can recall, well, nights when thunder clapped violently and erie shadows played on darkened bedroom walls, yet we rested contentedly knowing that "Dad was around." For this, we thank you.

The code of living you have established for our family, the ideals of humility, unfaltering faith, and growth in the "nurture and admonition of the Lord" you have attempted to instill in us appear gradually, but surely, to be bearing the fruit you have desired. For this, we thank you.

We thank you for the respect and fidelity you have shown our mother, for the willing companionship and hours of teaching and explaining you have given us, and for the thoughtful preparations you have made for our future.

We haven't intended to ply you with bouquets, Dad, or to say that you never have erred along the way. But let us hasten to add that the few faults you may have only have endeared you to us.

For all this — thanks, Dad.

It's "man to man" at the home of Edward Barrett of Ottawa drive. Grouped around Dad, whom they'll specially honor on Father's Day, are (top row) Ted (left) and Bob. Helping Dad with the projector is David (right) who got all dressed up for the occasion, just like his brother, Fred. Movies of the family, a hobby of Mr. Barrett's, will be viewed as part of the day's observance.

"Hi Dad, I'm glad I made it just in time." And father Peter Hoffman of Birmingham looks pretty glad, too, as he gives 3-week-old Jenny an admiring Father's Day look. Also on hand to celebrate Father's Day and the arrival of his new sister is William, 3.

Neighbors Spy and Tell

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: We have a 20-year-old daughter who pays for her room and board so we can't tell her how to act. Almost every night she and her boy friend sit out in front of the house in his car and talk. He is 25 so I suppose he kisses her now and then, which is no crime.

"My problem is that the neighbors are talking. I've heard from the ones on both sides of me and also the one who sits in the window across the street. I don't worry about my daughter but I'm ashamed for the neighbors. What can I do?"

ASHAMED

DEAR ASHAMED: Your daughter prefers to entertain her boy friend in the car because she wants privacy. Tell her to invite him into the house, and when they find the privacy they seek, your neighbors will have less to talk about.

"DEAR ABBY: If photographs can haunt, I'm being haunted. I am engaged to a widower who keeps his deceased wife's picture in every room. If I marry this man would he expect me to keep looking at this woman's picture in our home?"

UNDECIDED

DEAR UNDECIDED: The best time to find out is BEFORE you marry him. Ask him!

"DEAR ABBY: My husband's sister is one of those easygoing kind. She has three kids, 4, 6 and 8 years old, and I have kids about the same ages. When she comes over here I have a terrible time getting mine to go to sleep because she lets hers run around until they fall down.

"Last Saturday night I almost blew my top. My kids fought going to bed until 11 o'clock (because hers were up) and then they screamed and hollered. Hers were still going strong past midnight. What can I do about this?"

EXHAUSTED

DEAR EXHAUSTED: Tell your sister-in-law you love her like a sister, but in the future if she is going to bring her kids to your house, they will have to abide by your "house rules."

Alternate Arms for Carrying Load

Everyone carries something at one time or another — school books, groceries, luggage.

Don't get in the habit of carrying heavy objects in the same arm every day. It is possible for one shoulder to become lower than the other this way. Alternate objects from side to side.

Breakfast Decision

If, when you are a house guest, your hostess offers to give you breakfast after she has served breakfast to the family and gotten them off to work and school — let her.

Chances are she knows it will be easier that way. So don't insist it is too much trouble for her to prepare two breakfasts.

Three youngsters who are eager to honor their father, H. Wayne Longair, on Father's Day are Karen (left) Jon and Kristine who are so proud to be photographed with Dad. The family resides in Clarkston.

A daddy, two little girls and three puppies make perfect subjects for a Father's Day portrait, don't you agree? Richard Hamilton of Oakway drive joins his two daughters, four-year-old Carol (left) and Linda, almost two; in frolicking with the tiny canines who only recently have opened their eyes.

Simple Hair Style Best for Teenager

One of the biggest criticisms of girls by teenage boys is messy hair. A simple hair style is most attractive. If clean and well brushed, hair can hardly be offensive.

A Growing Thing

Skin Care Starts With Good Health

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
Most complexion problems have their answer in modern skin care. There are so many defects our complexion can develop such as roughness or sallowness, blackheads, whiteheads, dryness, extreme oiliness or large pores. It's easy to forget that your skin is a living, growing part of you, and that the outer layer of dead cells is constantly sloughed off as the skin renews itself. Many factors enter into the beauty and youthfulness of a complexion. Food plays an important part. You must be well-nourished in order to have a beautiful complexion because the skin is fed by the bloodstream. Milk and fresh vegetables and fruits are wonderful for our outer coating. Carrots always have been considered beautifiers.

Of course, health habits, including outdoor life and exercise, sufficient sleep, well-disciplined thoughts and a happy outlook, all have their impact on our complexions. The food you eat and the life you lead and the things you think have an almost immediate effect, as well as a long term one. We should remember this and not think of our skin as a thing apart which can be improved only by treatment from the outside.

By all means take advantage of what the world of cosmetics has to offer you! Even the most charming complexion can wither without regular lubrication, especially as we grow older. The woman who wins her battle against aging, or delays it, uses both cosmetics and health measures.

Many skin problems could have been avoided and never would have occurred had the preventative measures of regular cleansing, lubrication, or the correction of extreme oiliness or dryness been employed.

If you would like to have my leaflet "Your Outer Coating" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 47 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Don't Overdo It

When you meet a person from a town or city in which you know someone, it is all right to ask, "Do you happen to know the Bill Brights?"

But if the person says "No," don't act as though you can't understand how he could possibly not know them. And don't then start desperately trying to recall if you know anyone else in the town.

Just Be Quiet About It

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Quite often of late I have noticed an increasing number of people blow their noses in a public dining room. Not too infrequently have I had someone at my own table do this. I find this habit quite nauseating and since these are people of seeming refinement I have often wondered if my resentment is in error, or is it permissible to do this.

"Eating alone, I would say it would be quite all right, but never when another person is seated at table. I know that in our house when either my husband, daughter or myself have to blow our nose, we leave the table. I would appreciate your comments on this not very pleasant subject."

Answer: One should, of course, avoid blowing one's nose at table if possible. But if this is unavoidable it should be done as briefly and silently as possible, and one does not draw further attention to it by apologizing. It is not necessary to leave the table.

"Question: My daughter is giving a tea for a friend who is soon to be a bride. Should the two mothers be invited, and if so, should they be given any special recognition, such as being asked to sit at the tea table and pour? Or perhaps, if not this, would you suggest that they be asked to receive with my daughter and the guest of honor?"

Answer: They are invited but not given any more recognition than is given any of the other guests.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When a woman who is retiring is given a dinner by a group of women with whom she has been working, is she obliged to entertain them at a later date? There seems to be a difference of opinion about this."

Answer: If the office she is leaving is a small one and only a handful of women gave the dinner, she should, if she can, invite them to a meal, or at least for tea, later on. She would not, however, be expected to even try to entertain a large number of women.

Meet for Luncheon

The Colonial Group of the First Congregational Church met Friday afternoon for a

Bath Both Cleans and Stimulates Skin

A bath not only scrubs away soil of the day, it also stimulates the skin and makes a person feel better.

Relax for five minutes in the tub, then scrub briskly with soap and water. Follow this with a brisk towel rubdown.

Give Away Clothes That Don't Flatter

When clothes start to look wrong to you, it's time to retire them. If they're no longer flattering and you don't feel pretty in them, give them to someone who can use them. Don't just let them gather useless in your closet. Your wardrobe should be a real working wardrobe at all times.

Mrs. Richard Graves was guest. The next meeting of the group will be held at the summer home of Mrs. Frank Kirby of Maceday Lake.

Italian-American Group Lists Plans

Summer plans of the Auxiliary of Italian-American Club include an open house, membership drive, and cooperative dinner under the chairmanship of Mrs. Robert J. Ranzilla. Date of the dinner will be announced later.

Mrs. Verne P. Sinkler has been named chairman for a money-making project to be held Sept. 19. She will be assisted by Mrs. Rudy Mazza. Club members also are planning a fall dance.

Shades Washable

New convenience and beauty are available in modern window shades made of textured cloth impregnated with vinyl plastic. These can be washed regularly — on both sides — using a sudsy sponge.

Zonta Club Hosts 16 at Hi-Land

Seventy members of the Zonta Club anti-friends gathered at Hi-Land Manor as hosts to 16 Milford women to encourage the organization of a Zonta Club there under the supervision of Marian Holden, member of the Pontiac club.

Milford women attending the Thursday affair included Mrs. W. S. Lovejoy, Mrs. Joseph Gerrard, Mrs. Robert Gharrity, Mrs. M. L. Beam, Mrs. Joseph Culham, Mrs. I. L. Gillies, and Mrs. LeRoy Helber.

Others from Milford present were Nettie Jackson, Mrs. George Joerin, Mrs. M. H. Moore, Mrs. B. L. Peters, Mrs. F. J. Pierson, Mrs. J. R. Te-williger, Mrs. Charles Tressler, Mrs. W. J. Tripp, and Mrs. J. E. Walker.

Harriet Ratliff, Sarah Van-Hoosen Jones, Mrs. Tom Hor-witz, Mrs. Neal Scott, and Mrs. Florence Doty commented on "What Zonta Means to Me." Guests attending the meeting were Mrs. Dick RoseKelly of Colorado Springs, Colo., Patricia Tanner of Rochester, and Judy Fournier and Mrs. A. F. Holden of Milford.

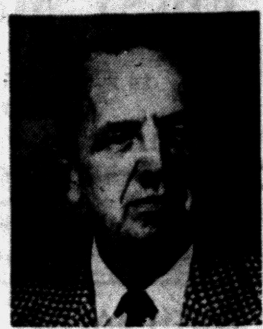

The 34th Zonta International Convention will be held June 23-26 at the Waldorf Astoria in New York City. Pontiac's club will be represented by Mrs. Chad Mellinger, president, with Dr. Pauline Spring as alternate.

On July 10 members will have a picnic at Kensington Park.

Creators of exotic table top surfaces made of aluminum, enamel, ceramic mosaic—or even stained glass—point out that all of them can be washed clean with a sudsy cloth.

It's only courtesy if you take your wife to a party in bad weather to drive up to the door and let her out instead of parking and letting her walk. Also when it is time to leave, bring the car around for her.

65— Lucky for You?

Lots of people are figuring that age 65 will be lucky for them. No more regular duties, time to relax, travel and do a hundred other things. And with enough money to do them. How? First, they have Social Security. Second, they have an easy, sensible plan of saving over the years. This way they need not forfeit their Social Security after 65 by having to work. Life of Virginia has a modern plan to make 65 lucky for you. The cost is less than you would guess. Let me tell you about it.

Two Millionth Car of Year Completed

DETROIT (AP)—The nation's auto industry assembled its two millionth car of the year last Tuesday, almost two months behind last year's comparable unit, Ward's Automotive Reports said today.

The statistical publication said 81,983 cars will be built this week compared with 73,696 last week and 125,372 in the same 1957 week. Modest gains by General Motors and Ford accounted for the indicated increase this week.

U. S. Truck output this week is placed at 17,870 units compared with 16,191 last week and 22,748 in the like 1957 week.

Ward's said passenger car output this month should total approximately 330,000 units. Previously monthly totals this year were: May 349,474; April, 316,503; March, 357,049; February, 333,112; January, 489,357.

3 Brothers Win Top Honors in 4-H Contest

Three Lake Orion brothers won three of the four top places in the 1958 Michigan 4-H Club Chicken of Tomorrow contest. Daris D. Moyer, extension poultryman at Michigan State University, announced today.

The five-county contest was based on the amount of feed needed per pound of gain, mortality, average weight, project story, finish of the dressed bird, uniformity and size, conformation and fleshing and absence of pin feathers.

Bill Middleton placed second with White Rocks. Bill's brothers, Tommy and Larry won third and fourth place respectively.

The boys won "A" awards and were presented with cash awards from the Michigan Allied Poultry Industries.

Margaret Braid and Allan Taylor, both of Lake Orion and Robert Hodges of Rochester each received red ribbons and cash prizes. Duane Baumgras of Clarkston also received a white award.

Paratroops Fly to Tense Cyprus

Britain Dispatches 500 Soldiers to Maintain Tight Curfew

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—British paratroops flew to this tense island colony today to reinforce troops maintaining a tight curfew after communal fighting took 15 lives.

An airlift of 500 paratroops began at dawn in England and was scheduled to be completed by tomorrow. The total number of new soldiers is now more than 1,000.

The additional troops are expected to be in position beside 10,000 British soldiers already here when the British government announces plans for Cyprus' future on Monday or Tuesday.

The announcement might touch off new fighting between Cypriots of Greek and of Turkish descent. The 400,000 Greeks have long campaigned for independence and a chance to join Greece. The 100,000 Turks oppose union with Greece and would rather have the island partitioned if the British leave.

After Thursday's clash near Nicosia, British Gov. Sir Hugh Foot clamped down a 100 per cent curfew, keeping indoors even such pass holders as doctors, civil servants and reporters.

The curfew will continue "until sense returns to the people," said Maj. Gen. Douglas Kendrew, director of British military operations.

Britain's new plan is understood to call for wide measures of local self government in hope of persuading both Greeks and Turks to postpone their conflicting demands, but would retain British control of this crown colony for at least seven to 10 years.

Blood Bank to Stop at All Saints Church

Red Cross Blood Bank for June will operate Monday at All Saints Episcopal Church, at W. Pike and Williams streets, instead of at the Elks Temple as usual. A carnival sponsored by the Elks eliminates the parking space there. Ample street parking and a large lot adjacent to the church will assure parking for all who attend. Red Cross officials report that donations are urgently needed as the Oakland County Branch is almost 1,000 pints short of its quota.

Blood donors may come to the church Monday between 2 and 8 p.m., without appointment.

Chemise Not Too New

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Mrs. Hettie Craddock showed up for work wearing a chemise dress. Her co-workers admired her choice of clothes. Then Mrs. Craddock disclosed she found the dress in an attic trunk. It was made in 1924.

'Clean-Cut' College Boy Tells of His Success

By EARL WILSON
NEW YORK — We were looking for a nice inspirational story about a clean-cut All-American boy and luckily bumped into Paul Newman.

WILSON

Star of TV, stage, screen, laundries, police courts and Hollywood commissaries, he's another jewel in the crown of the state of Ohio. He boasted to me at lunch that he comes from Cleveland and learned all he knows about acting, and marrying Oscar winners like Joanne Woodward, at Kenyon College, in Gambier, Ohio.

"I did go to Yale for one year," he blushed, guiltily. Paul — who'd been killing the people in "Long, Hot Summer" while filming "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" — stabbed some watermelon there at our table in the commissary.

"Tell me something inspiring about your college days," I said. "Certainly! Well, I wanted to take temptation out of my way so I entered a non-co-ed school. That attitude lasted 36 hours. 'While there were no co-eds handy, there was a saloon in Gambier named Jean Valdean's and I graduated magna cum laude.'"

"You probably had to work your way through?" I said encouragingly. "Another William McKinley-type success story, I'll bet.

"Exactly. We ran the student laundry and served free beer right in the place. We occasionally had to put the patrons in the laundry because they were so swacked."

"Very inspiring!" I exclaimed, deciding to change the subject. "Despite your heavy load, you were doubtless in athletics?"

"Till I got kicked off the football team for startin' a little brawl. Some of the boys got thrown in the clink."

"Perhaps," I suggested, hoping to steer the interview back toward loftier things, "the rigid training regime interfered with your studies which kept you up all night?"

"That wasn't what kept me up all night," he replied in his modest way. "Our team was notoriously non-training and non-scholarship."

After Yale, Paul came to New York, walked into a great show, "Picnic," met Joanne Woodward, who was an understudy, and married her after getting a divorce. He's been going onward and upward since.

"Anyway," I said, "all you are or ever hope to be you owe to Ohio, right?"

"A small correction," Paul said. "All I am or ever hope to be, I owe in Ohio."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Gen. De Gaulle must have a fine press agent, figures Fred Dodge. He's the first European in years to get more publicity than Gina, Brigitte or Sophia... That's earl, brother.

Explosion Rocks Home in Beirut

Residence of Lebanese Premier Damaged by Bomb Blast

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — A bomb damaged the home of Premier Sami Solh in the Moslem quarter of Beirut today but he escaped unhurt.

Police, assigned to an around-the-clock guard at the premier's home, said they did not see anyone nearby when the explosion shook the area.

They speculated that the bomb was fired from a grenade launcher posted some distance away.

Meanwhile, six more United Nations observers were due in Beirut to join the original five who arrived in Lebanon Thursday to carry out the Security Council's resolution against foreign interference in Lebanon's internal affairs.

Some confusion was apparent at the U.N. team's headquarters in the Biarritz Hotel here as to the exact nature of their mission.

Until they can pin down exactly what their job is, it has been made clear the observers will be sent on roving patrols to the countryside to "show the flag" in hopes of making the presence of the U.N. felt and exercise some form of moral persuasion.

The advance group is charged with determining the size of the final U.N. mission to be sent here but there are no signs it is even close to making that decision yet.

There is some talk of asking for aviation units to assist observers on the ground in their tasks.

The group has been emphasizing the point made by U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld that they are observers and not a police force and that they still do not know what powers they have.

Gondoliers of Venice Fighting to Save Jobs

VENICE, Italy (UPI) — The romantic gondoliers of Venice won a battle for their dying trade today by obtaining stricter controls on motorboats which ply the city's famous canals.

City officials and motorboat operators agreed to limit the speed of motor-driven craft effective June 21. The gondoliers, whose number has dwindled from 10,000 in the 16th Century to 437 today, had complained that the speedboats were stealing traffic from them and creating waves which make rowing a gondola painful and difficult. They had threatened a general strike during the tourist season unless something was done.

The land area of the West Indies is approximately 100,000 square miles. The total population is nearly four million.

Life imprisonment is the penalty for murder in Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, North Dakota, Rhode Island, Wisconsin and Puerto Rico.

Certain Tasks Precede Job of Painting

Many home owners are doing their own exterior house painting—having had much practice painting interior rooms. If you are not so bold, there are many things you can do to get your house ready before the painters arrive. These small repairs will save the painters' time and therefore your money.

Loose clapboards can be forced back by placing a small block of wood between your hammer and the siding. Hold the clapboard in place with nails set below the surface.

Replace cracked putty around windows before the window-frame-painting starts. Search out knots in the wood that appear as if they might "bleed" through—scrape away the old paint in these spots and apply a coat of shellac. Locate rusted metal and wirebrush the rust off—being sure to get rid of every bit—and apply the rust-inhibitor.

Sand where there are rough spots. Where the paint may have sealed, cracked or blistered, this should be scraped off. Nail holes and cracks should be filled with fresh putty and sanded when dry. Bare, and newly puttied spots should have an application of a priming coat.

If you're planning to do the painting yourself, these preparations still hold and a wife-brushing of the entire surface is a good preliminary step.

Clarence Smiths Build Bilevel Brick

The counter next to the dining room has a curved end. On the dining room side there are drawers in what would be waste space on the kitchen side, behind the refrigerator. Glass-fronted cupboards above hold dishes and glassware.

Of course, the living room is on the lake side of the house. In this room also Mrs. Smith can visualize the new furniture she would like to have. She leans heavily to Swedish modern. At present there is a gold sofa and matching chair; two brown lounge chairs and the usual lamp tables.

Carpeting is beige; this carpeting, in fact, runs throughout the living room and bedrooms. Draperies are white with a design in gold and aqua. A door at one end opens onto an enormous screened porch. This 12 x 24 foot porch will be the scene of summer living for the Smiths.

Mrs. Smith's mother, Mrs. Dora Wilson, spends long periods of time with her. Grandma's room on the lake side of the house has a wall of windows. It's decorated in shades of lavender and purple. Mrs. Wilson's favorite color. Walls are pale lavender as is the quilted spread on the bed. A butterfly patterned chintz is used for both the bed skirt and short curtains. Near the windows is a leather platform rocker and stool on which is folded a purple Victorian-type afghan.

Between Mrs. Wilson's room and the Smiths' bedroom is a bathroom. Under the high windows there's a long vanity. The floor and fixtures are peach. Above the sandalwood tile is wallpaper with a yellow and blue sea shell design. Curtains are yellow and white.

The Smiths' bedroom has windows on two sides, curtained in a semi-sheer material. This has subtle stripes of gold, yellow and white. This same material is used for the bed skirt.

Walls are pale yellow. The bedspread is sandalwood in a quilted design. The most surprising thing in the room is a baby's bed. But when you learn that the two little granddaughters spend a great deal of time in this house, the bed seems to belong right where it is.

The Smith's other daughter, Rosemary, lives at home. Her room is all pink. On one wall is wallpaper with an Oriental design. The other three walls are painted pink.

The furniture is mahogany. Bedspread and curtains are pink. In her bathroom next door pink is repeated in the paper. Here the curtains are white.

Whoever told us about the Smith house was right. It is an attractive home.

New Cushion Anchors Rugs Firmly to Floor

Now it is possible to anchor scatter rugs and lightweight carpets securely—and permanently without resorting to tacks, nails, or special adhesives.

The "Non-Skid" Cushion takes the slip and slide out of rugs—both large and small—even on a highly polished floor. This foam-like plastic material provides a soft, resilient cushion underfoot and grips both the rug and the floor securely.

Sure-footing is created by millions of tiny air cells which grip the entire surface of the rug and the floor. This material is only 1/8 of an inch thick and weighs only 4 ounces per square yard. It is featherlight and easy to handle.

Another advantage of this synthetic is that it can be washed repeatedly without losing either its resilient texture or its anchor qualities. It cannot shrink, buckle or shed.

This material is sold on a by-the-yard basis and can be cut with an ordinary pair of scissors to fit any rug. Both 24" width and 33" width are available in leading department stores throughout the country.

Don't overlook the possible use of contact cement for gluing together 2 pieces of wood even though its principal use is for

Replaceable Items Best If Standard

Builders consider "replaceable" items to be anything which during normal use deteriorate and need replacement. The list can include major items, such as components of the plumbing or heating system or smaller fixtures such as light switches, door knobs, window latches and faucets.

In building a home, the home owner is advised; think twice before using materials of foreign manufacture. While he may be able to save a few dollars in initial costs—since most of these items

Medicine Cabinet Shrinks

The average bathroom medicine cabinet has shrunk considerably in size in the past 15 years. One survey found medicine cabinets of the early 1940s averaging 14 to 19 inches, 5 inches deep. Today they average 13 to 17 by 4 inches deep. Many new home owners complain about the lack of space and frequently have two medicine cabinets installed in each bathroom.

Psychologists attribute wood's popularity among homemakers largely to the fact that it was once a living thing. Further, they explain that wood appeals to more of the senses—sight, touch and smell—than other building materials.
