Auto Price Boost 60 Pct. of Output Cost—Curtice

WASHINGTON (INS)—General Motors President Harlow Curtice said today that price increases on 1958 GM cars cover only 60 per cent of the increased cost of producing them.

He said it cost GM an average of $125 per car more to produce 1958 models but the company raised its wholesale prices only an average of $74.

Curtice reported that "increased payroll costs" have been "the largest single element" in the giant auto firm's rising costs and account for 42 per cent of the $125 cost increase this year.

Curtice thus answered United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther's charge that GM and other big auto producers have imposed "extortionate price increases" which threaten the nation's economy.

The union leader preceded Curtice as a witness before the Senate anti-monopoly subcommittee investigating auto pricing policies.

In his 20-page prepared statement, Curtice said Reuther's proposal last August that General Motors car prices be reduced $100 in 1958 was "completely unrealistic" in view of the cost figures cited today. He said "it is obvious that this Reuther maneuver was just another 'public relations job'."

Curtice said GM is "seriously concerned about inflation," adding: "It is a destroyer of values. It must be studied and its causes must be removed."

DENIES DIFFERING POLICIES

But he said "it is clear . . . that there can be no automatic 'wage and price formula' short of arbitrarily enforced wage and price controls—that can be applied to the problem of inflation."

Curtice denied that auto pricing policies differ from "most industries." He said the prices of most manufactured goods sold in the U.S. "are set ahead of time and do not change with each individual transaction."

He continued: "Another implication is that prices in the auto-

Union Haulaway Men Get Boost

Half-Cent on Mileage, 10 on Hourly Rates, Announced by Hoffa

DETROIT (AP)—Teamsters Union drivers received a 10-cent hourly wage increase and a half-cent mileage allowance boost in a new contract with Automobile Transporters Assn., Teamsters president James R. Hoffa said last night.

Hoffa, who handled the negotiations personally, said the Teamsters "got what we expected to get."

The contract affects 74 auto and truck transport firms in 32 states.

The new contract would affect drivers at Pontiac's five largest haulaway companies, all of which are members of the association. They are Fleetcarrier, Motorcar, Truckaway, Contract Cartage and Boutell.

Under the present contract, which expires March 1, truckers are paid 14.275 cents per loaded mile and receive $2.30 an hour for layovers or delays.

The new contract also provides for 7-cent hourly layoff pay increases next year and in 1960 and calls for a half-cent boost in mileage allowance next year and in 1960.

A Detroit haulaway firm, which described itself as typical, said the truckers average about $125 in a five-day work week.

Winter Sports Fans Get Weather Boost

The weatherman must be a winter sports fan. For the sixth day in a row he predicts cloudy with occasional light snow and little change in temperature for the Pontiac area tonight.

Snow is due to end tomorrow, but expected again on Saturday.

The low tonight will be around 25 degrees and the high tomorrow near 34.

The Oakland County Road Commission reports that most County roads are slippery, but are being salted.

Twenty-four was the lowest recorded temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The reading at 2 p.m. was 29.

Lansing Meeting Probes Local Bus Lines' Plight

Outstate City officials met in Lansing yesterday to discuss remedies for the growing plight of local bus lines.

The officials came to no agreement on how best to meet the crisis which has also affected the Pontiac City Bus Line.

Many of the city officials present at the meeting in the governor's office said that their cities did not want to take over their local bus lines as requested by the companies.

LEASE ASKED

In Pontiac, too, the bus line has asked the city commission to lease its equipment and contract with the company to operate the line.

This follows a plan first tried in Jackson and designed to exempt the bus lines from state taxes.

The officials agreed to two appeals to the state:

1. To the attorney general, asking him to drop a suit challenging the legality of bus company lease arrangements with cities.

2. To the Legislature asking a law to exempt the bus lines from state taxes for three years.

EXEMPT LINES

A bill is currently in the legislature which would exempt the bus lines from fuel taxes and reduce license fees to a flat $25 from the present $200 a vehicle average.

Operators of local lines support the bill, but object to applying the measure to inter-city lines.

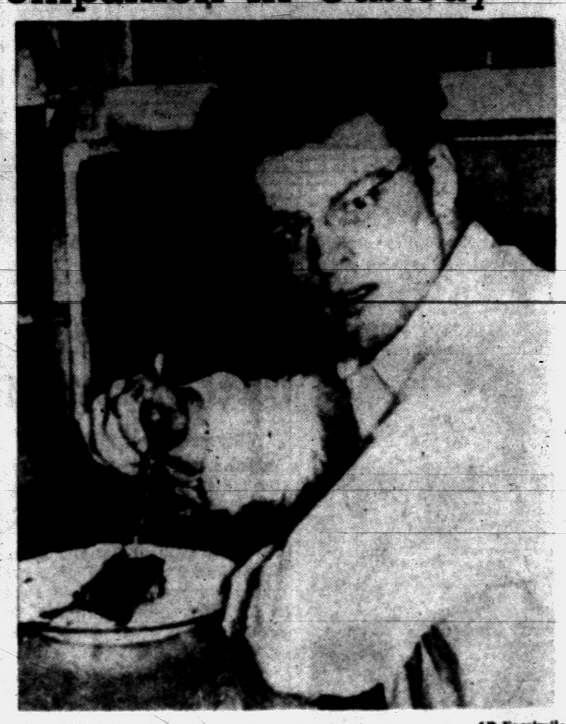

On the suggestion of Mayor Glenn S. Allen, of Kalamazoo, the officials agreed to draft their own bill for presentation to the legislature with the guidance of the Michigan Municipal League.

Report Hoffa Preparing to End Trusteeship Over Pontiac Local

James R. Hoffa is "taking steps" to end his controversial five-year trusteeship over Pontiac Teamsters Local 614, according to an unconfirmed report in Detroit today.

The report had the national Teamsters president considering a "clean up" action to end his trusteeship over 52 Teamsters locals.

Neither Hoffa nor Leaun Harrelson, Local 614 president, were available to comment on the report. Harrelson, however, had left his Pontiac office to confer with Hoffa in Detroit today.

The subject of the conference was not publicly known.

Hoffa's trusteeships over Local 614 and other locals had been severely criticized by the McClellan labor rackets committee and the AFL-CIO, which expelled the Teamsters Union on corruption charges last month.

It has long been a bone of contention for some of the Local 614 membership that Hoffa's trusteeship should end.

A group calling itself the Rank-and File Committee has fought to loosen Hoffa's grip on Local 614 since 1953, when he took over after two of the local's officers were convicted on conspiracy charges.

The local's officers, however, have remained loyal to Hoffa. They are his appointees.

The inner quarrel broke out into the open last spring, when insurgents picketed the union hall, 1410 Telegraph Rd., demanding Hoffa's ouster. After nine days, they gave up.

Harrelson said that most of the pickets were no longer dues-paying Teamsters members. The pickets retorted that they had preferred to quit the union rather than stay in under Hoffa.

Work 1½ Hours to Free Area Man

Pinned Under 4-Ton Slab

A Sylvan Lake man was pinned in agony under a 4-ton slab of cement at the bottom of a 15-foot hole this morning as a rescue team labored feverishly for 1½ hours to free him.

Billy J. Buck, 33, of 1436 Rosedale Rd., a co-owner of the B & B Ready Mix Concrete Co. in Waterford Township, was rushed in serious condition to Pontiac General Hospital where surgeons operated on his left leg to determine whether it must be amputated.

Buck and one of his employes, Jack See, had been working in the pit at the rear of the company's grounds at 6127 Highland Rd. about 10 a.m.

In the 20-foot square pit were four concrete walls, newly poured as the foundation to a sand and gravel elevator the company intends to build.

The largest of these walls —6 feet high, 4 feet long and 30 inches thick — had shifted since its wooden forms were removed yesterday, explained See, 34, of 27 Shotwell St.

"Buck and I were pushing at the top of the wall, trying to get it back into position," he said. "As we pushed, the wooden braces holding it up slipped, and the wall started to topple over on us.

ONE LEAPED FREE

"I jumped free and Buck leaped away also, but he slipped on the icy ground, fell down and the wall crashed down on his left leg, pinning him there, helplessly."

State and township police arrived soon afterwards with an ambulance and doctor. The doctor partially relieved Buck's pain by administering a sedative as officers set to with pick axes and shovels to dig the victim out from under the massive slab. Cramped quarters and icy ground hindered their efforts.

When Buck, married and the father of two, finally was freed, rescuers lifted him from the pit with the aid of a rope tied about his chest.

Would Extend Trade Act

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower asked Congress today to extend the Reciprocal Trade Act five years and authorize tariff reductions to meet a Soviet economic challenge which he said presents "the gravest risk to our way of life."

Caril's Granny Yearns to Cry

But Gives Thanks That Girl Is Alive and Safe After Murder Spree

By MRS. PANSY STREET
As Told To INS

LINCOLN, Neb. (INS)—All of a sudden everything seems to be gone.

I feel so sick, so short of breath. Maybe it's because I haven't been able to cry yet. But I'm so thankful my granddaughter, Caril, is still alive.

I never expected to see her again. When they found that other boy and girl (Robert Jensen and Carol King) dead down at Bennet, Neb., I thought they would find Caril, too. I was sure that Starkweather boy had killed her.

She's a wonderful girl.

Caril wouldn't have done anything to harm her mother or her baby sister. She adored them.

(Mrs. Street's daughter, Mrs. Marion Bartlett, was one of the first of 10 murders attributed to Starkweather. Mrs. Bartlett's 3-year-old daughter, Betty Jean, and her husband, Marion, were the first three victims.)

When I wanted Caril to come to live with me, so she wouldn't have so far to go to school, she became very upset.

She said, "Granny, I am not

Companion, 14, Claims She Was Held Captive

Fear of Future Blindness Cited as Possible Reason for Youth Going Berserk

DOUGLAS, Wyo. (AP)—A young gunman, sought in a wave of 10 savage killings, was captured yesterday in the badlands of eastern Wyoming.

Charles Starkweather, 19, and his brunette girl friend, Caril Fugate, 14, were caught after nine persons in Nebraska and one in Wyoming had been slain in a three-day period.

The girl told officers she feared Starkweather, red-haired and wearing rimless glasses, would kill her.

"They wouldn't have caught me if I hadn't stopped," Starkweather snarled as officers hailed him to a jail cell. "If I'd had a gun, I'd have shot them."

Automobile glass, shattered by bullets in the wild chase that led to Starkweather's capture, nicked the gunman's ear.

Sheriff Earl Heflin said "It was his own blood that got him. He thought he was shot deader'n hell when he saw that blood."

"He thought he was bleding to death," the sheriff added. "That's the kind of yellow s. o. b. is."

The girl, in a state of shock after fleeing Starkweather's car before the final chase leading to his capture, was sheltered in the living quarters of the sheriff and his wife.

POSSIBLE REASONS

Two possible reasons for the wave of slayings came to light today.

At Lincoln, Neb., his father, Guy Starkweather said: "He is to lose his sight within a year," because of being hit on the head by a piece of lumber. The father said he believed "everything just built up inside Charlie until he went berserk."

County Atty. William Dixon at Douglas said a letter to Starkweather from Caril's mother was found in his pockets. Dixon declined to say what the letter said, but said it "had to do with Caril's mother and her attitude toward Starkweather."

Caril's mother, Mrs. Velda Bartlett, 37, was one of the nine persons killed in Nebraska.

Sheriff Heflin served papers on Starkweather in his cell today charging him with the Wyoming slaying of a Montana shoe salesman. The sheriff said he had a hand-written statement from Starkweather, a statement "about as long as a rope." He wouldn't discuss it further.

GIRL'S STATEMENT

He said he planned to get a statement today from the girl.

Starkweather spent two hours in his cell last night working on his statement. Afterward Nixon said "We have everything we need now." He said the statement is evidence and declined to disclose it to reporters.

Troubled officials fear more bodies could be found as they have been found at intervals since Monday.

Striking by threes, the youth first killed Caril's family of three. Then in another foray discovered a day later, he killed a onetime hunting companion and two high school sweethearts.

Later, he shot down a prominent Lincoln businessman; stabbed his wife and their 51-year-old housekeeper.

BREAKS THE CHAIN

It was the 10th killing that broke the chain. A few minutes after he opened fire on a salesman napping in his car along a Wyoming highway he ran into Joe Sprinkle, tough Casper, Wyo., oil worker who wasn't afraid of the killer's rifle.

Sprinkle stopped to investigate the stalled car, appraised the situation and grappled for the rifle.

The killer got away, but by then law officers had arrived and he gave up after a short chase.

Apprehension spread in Lincoln as the bloody toll mounted, but it was the wanton killing of Ward, president of the Capitol Steel Works, Mrs. Ward and their housekeeper, raising the count of Nebraska victims to nine, which set the city in its final frenzy.

GUARD MOBILIZED

Gov. Victor Anderson ordered the National Guard mobilized. Guardsmen started patrolling the city and prepared for a house-to-house search to root out the killer.

Col. C. J. Sanders, head of the Nebraska Safety Patrol, threw a ring of troopers around the city and ordered additional mobile units to duty. As far away as North Platte, some 200 miles west, reserves were called.

So many volunteers reported to the sheriff's office for posse duty that some had to be turned away.

Gov. Anderson may have been one of the last to see Ward alive.

Birmingham Doctor W. P. Ward Learns Brother Is One of Starkweather's Victims

One of the 10 victims of the mad Nebraska killer was the brother of Birmingham doctor W. Paul Ward, it was learned today.

Bodies of C. Lauer Ward, 46, his wife Clara, 46, and their maid Lillian Fencel, 60, were found in the Wards' Lincoln, Neb. home yesterday.

All had been shot to death and brought to nine then the number of slayings attributed to 19-year-old Charles Starkweather.

Dr. Ward, of 6631 Castle Dr., Bloomfield Township, said he had last seen his brother and sister-in-law in the summer of 1956 when they visited here.

Word of his brother's death came yesterday when a relative called from Lincoln. Dr. Ward and his wife will leave tomorrow for the funeral.

C. Lauer Ward was a graduate of the Universities of Nebraska and Chicago.

He was president of the Capital Steel and Bridge Co. at Lincoln, and a member of the board of trustees of the Bankers Life Insurance Co. of Nebraska, and the board of directors of the National Bank of Commerce.

Baghdad Parley Closing Today

Pact Nations Receive U. S. Aid Promises at Ankara Meeting

ANKARA, Turkey (AP)—The Baghdad Pact conference winds up today after expanding the Middle East alliance's military planning staff and hearing U. S. promises of 10 million dollars more in aid and "mobile power in great force" to meet any aggression.

The four Moslem members of the pact—Iraq, Iran, Turkey and Pakistan—did not get what they wanted most: Promise of vast aid from Britain, the fifth member of the alliance, and the United States, and an American promise to take up full membership in the alliance.

It remained to be seen whether U. S. Secretary of State Dulles, attending as an "observer" since his government belongs only to the Baghdad group's three subordinate committees, had revitalized the alliance by his presence, personality and promises.

The two-year-old alliance has been shaken by the British-French invasion of the Suez in late 1956, the recent Soviet diplomatic offensive in the area and belief among Middle East members that they are not getting as much from Britain and the United States as the NATO nations or the "neutrals" of Asia and Africa which the West is trying to woo to its side.

Other Gasoline Firms Follow Standard Cut

Other major gasoline companies today were following Standard Oil Co. in cutting the price of gasoline to their dealers one cent.

Pure, Sunoco, Speedway, Gulf, Shell and Socony Mobil announced such a decrease today. The companies said most service stations in the Pontiac and Detroit areas had passed the cuts on to motorists.

Motorists were finding in most cases that regular gas was selling at 30.3 cents a gallon and 34.3 for premium, after the slice.

Hunting to Be Outlawed?

If voters approved, hunting with firearms would be outlawed in West Bloomfield, Commerce and Avon townships. Sponsor of all three measures is Rep. Farrell E. Roberts (R-Pontiac).

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Do we ever experience cold fronts in July and August? What is the maximum temperature of a cold front?

Cold fronts occur in every month in the year. We might have more of them to pass over us in July than in January. What misleads many about cold fronts is the very name itself.

But in summer a cold front might contain (behind the leading edge) air of 72 degrees, or even 80 degrees. A cold front is so-named because of its relative temperature considering the time of year, and prevailing weather conditions.

In July, as an example if the temperature has been reaching 90 degrees for several days and a mass of air moves in and over, with temperatures of 80 degrees, then weather men will call it a cold front.

Monkeys Aren't Tax Exemptions, Despite Wisdom

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Some monkeys may act like people but the Internal Revenue Service says they can't be claimed as dependents, especially if they can't even write their own names.

A vaudeville performer was told by the federal income tax people here yesterday that he could not claim the two monkeys in his act as dependents.

"But, you really should let me list them, they're smarter than lots of humans," the performer protested. "They can even sign their names."

"How?" asked the tax clerk.

"They make a cross," said the vaudevillian.

"That's not enough," replied the clerk.

RICHARD I. MOORE

Opening Drive to Be Governor

Former City Resident Richard Moore Seeks GOP Nomination

A former Pontiac resident and auto dealership manager here today announced his candidacy for governor of Michigan on the Republican ticket this fall.

Richard I. Moore, 45, of 2246 Ackey Ave., Wayne, has been active in the GOP for 10 years. He is a former precinct delegate from Waterford Township and served two years on the Oakland County Republican Committee.

He is presently a Lincoln-Mercury salesman in Wayne, where he lives with his wife, Ann, and three children. Moore, first state commander of the Amvets, had spent more than 20 years in the auto sales business in Pontiac.

He was an unsuccessful candidate in 1950 against Democrat Leaun Harrelson for the Pontiac seat in the Michigan House of Representatives.

Reuther testified that GM is the "price leader" and that other car makers stick close. He said Ford in 1957 increased its prices on several models to get close to GM.

Breaking down the $125 cost hike, Curtice gave these figures:

Materials plus freight—$35. He said this includes a total steel cost increase of $27, of which $18 is for higher steel prices and $9 is for increased size and weight in the new models.

Payroll and related employment costs—$52 (or 42 per cent of the $125). He said this includes about $45 in increased wage and salary rates, and fringe benefit costs.

Special tools to produce new models—$24. Curtice said this reflects "increased labor costs as well as increased complexity of the product."

Local taxes, depreciation, other costs—$14.

Queen Mother's Plane Refuels at Hawaii Airport

HONOLULU (AP)—A British Overseas Airways plane arrived here early today with Britain's Queen Mother en route to New Zealand and Australia.

The DC7 arrived at 4:30 a.m. in a drizzling rain, for a refueling stop.

The Queen Mother got off the plane and was taken for a brief drive by Gov. and Mrs. William Quinn.

On their return to the airport the Queen Mother met several other officials and her plane took off at 6 a.m.

Hurricane Winds Batter Northwest Pacific Coast

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rain continued in the Pacific Northwest today after a storm battered the Washington and Oregon coasts with winds up to 135 m.p.h.

Coastal winds yesterday were clocked at 70 to 80 m.p.h. but the Naselle Air Force station in Washington reported a gust with the force of 135 m.p.h. The Weather Bureau considers winds up to 75 m.p.h. as whole gale and those above as having hurricane force.

Trees were toppled and power lines downed.

Elsewhere in the nation, considerable amounts of new snow were dumped in northern New England as a snow storm continued its northeastward movement.

Ward's body was found just inside the door of his home about 18 hours later. His wife, her hands tied behind her, and the housekeeper lay dead in separate bedrooms upstairs, both stabbed to death.

AWAY AT SCHOOL

The Wards' 14-year-old son, Michael, was away at prep school in Connecticut.

In Lincoln the killer's father, Guy Starkweather, 47, a carpenter, said "I guess everybody can sleep tonight. I don't know whether I'll sleep though."

Mrs. Pansy Street, Caril's grandmother, was the one whose concern for her family prompted the investigation that disclosed the first of the chain of slayings.

Mrs. Street, who shares a one-room apartment with an invalid son, declared Caril "just couldn't have killed her own mother and done all those other things."

"All she wanted was just to go to school and be a nurse, and granny was ready to help her make it. But now that money will have to go into coffins for Marion, Barbara (Caril's mother) and Betty Jean."

Downtown in Lincoln anger did not subside quickly. Lancaster County Atty. Elmer Scheele said he would try to have young Starkweather returned here for trial though the Wyoming killing gives that state a priority.

The Day in Birmingham

Residents File Complaint Against Greyhound Corp.

BIRMINGHAM—Thirty-nine residents of the Hunter boulevard-Forest street area yesterday filed a complaint in Municipal Court against the Greyhound Corp.

Judge John C. Emery Jr. set Feb. 5 for a hearing on their complaint that the prolonged running of bus motors at night constitutes a nuisance.

Representing the 39 residents was Mrs. Jean Mistapoulas of 759 Forest St.

Residents had complained to the City Commission a week ago and were told that the Greyhound Corp. was within its rights in its use of the property. City Attorney James Howlett added, however, that the right to park buses at the site did not sanction maintaining a nuisance.

Howlett told the protesting group that civil court action was their only recourse.

The complainants will be given the opportunity to prove their charges that the bus firm's practice of running motors at night constitutes a nuisance and health hazard.

For the third consecutive year, the Birmingham Community House has set $50,000 as its Roll Call goal.

Drive Chairman Mrs. Robert Watt said letters are being mailed today throughout the area with return envelopes for contributions. She has asked that as many persons as possible mail their returns to help cut the need of volunteer collector services.

Birmingham Community House is one of the few in the nation supported entirely through voluntary contributions, Mrs. Watt said.

"In view of the part the house plays in our social and educational life in Birmingham, I hope we will have the complete cooperation of its many users," Mrs. Watt said.

Arrested as he picked up a planted package from a fence at the corner of Fairfax Rd. and Maple Ave., David Pew, 17, of 320 Suffield Ave. is charged with extortion by Birmingham Police.

The money had been placed there following Pew's demands in a second extortion note asking $20, police said.

Officer Charles Blashfield made the arrest when the youth stopped to pick up the money.

The first note demanded $15 from a neighbor with threat of property damage if it was not paid, police said.

The youth has confessed to five home burglaries in his neighborhood, including a New Year's Eve theft of a $1,500 stamp collection from the home of John Green, 202 Suffield Ave., police said.

Mrs. John Wilkinson, chairman of the Birmingham March of Dimes, said the Mothers' march last night brought in $8,601.24.

This is just within the city of Birmingham, she said, and the canisters, coin cards and mail contributions have not yet been totaled.

Texas Police Arrest Five Michigan Men

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Five Michigan men, who claimed they were en route to a Mexican vacation, have been arrested and booked on charges of possessing narcotics and guns.

Police said five pistols and a quantity of marijuana were discovered by Patrolman Ray King.

The men were identified as Al Reinhard, 21, Warren le Blois, 22, and Rene Buoncampagni, 20, all of Detroit; Anthony Czantske, 19, East Detroit, and Anthony Imbrunone, 21, Ste. Clair Shores. All denied owning the marijuana.

Imbrunone was booked for possession of narcotics. The others were booked for possession of narcotics and illegal possession of weapons.

King said that he prepared to issue tickets to the men for parking their two cars illegally. He spotted .25 caliber ammunition in one auto.

Fined $150 for Violation of Liquor Sale Law

Orval and Jessie Whitaker, owners of Whitaker's Market, 6465 Williams Lake Rd., Waterford Township, have been fined $150 and given a seven-day suspension of their SDM license by the Michigan Liquor Control Commission.

The charge was selling to a minor, on Aug. 13, 1957.

Peru has an area of 532,000 square miles.

U.S. Traffic Headaches Can't Match Iran's

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The switch from flying carpets to automobiles is causing a big traffic headache in Iran — formerly Persia.

That's the word from police Captains Habibollah Ardabili and Farhang Afshar-Gordji, who are attending a seminar at the Southern Police Institute here.

"Cars everywhere. French cars. German cars. American cars. Italian cars. Not enough places to park. No subway. Right now it is our biggest problem, bigger than your traffic problem."

Waiting in Line Since Tuesday

Flint Residents Stand in Cold for Cars Priced at 99 Cents, $99

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—A Flint used car dealer is selling four cars for 99 cents each and another four for $99 apiece tomorrow.

But the eight people who'll get them have been waiting in line since Tuesday.

Sweating out the line is the only catch.

The cars have been completely reconditioned and are in good shape. The 99-centers have a retail value of $250. The 99-dollar jobs are worth about $500.

It's first-come-first-served. You can't sell your spot in line, you can't have a relief, and you get only 15-minute breaks.

First to show at 11:30 a.m. Tuesday was James Stewart, an unemployed factory worker.

The only women in line is Mrs. Sandra Hollingshead, a mother of three, who was laid off from the General Motors A-C Sparkplug Division last week. "My husband thinks I'm nuts," she remarked.

Three students from the General Motors Institute, who have their school books with them to keep up with their classes, are utilizing fraternity pledges to bring them food.

They got their scrambled eggs, toast and coffee in their pup tents.

Stewart, who spent a year in Alaska, says the cold is the worst problem. Temperatures have been in the low 30s and despite hunting outfits and heavy bundling the nippy night wind is tough to buck.

Stewart, who says he'll take one of the 99-cent cars, stands to pick up $30 in bets from friends who say he won't stick it out.

All deals are strictly cash. Salesmen get a $15 commission on each sale.

Long before the Spanish conquerors arrived in the 16th Century, mining was flourishing in New Mexico. Prehistoric Pueblo Indians mined tourquoise for themselves, and later they mined gold and silver for the Spaniards.

REVERSE ENGLISH — A deliberate lure to prospective customers is this "Chish & Fips" sign outside a fish and chips shop in Leatherhead, England. The intentional misspelling causes many passersby to stop, and usually results in a sale of the favored British snack.

Discuss Death of School Head

Officials Say Principal Threatened by Grand Juror With Indictment

NEW YORK (AP)—Top school officials say a junior high school principal may have killed himself because a grand juror threatened him with indictment. The foreman of the jury denies the charge.

The accusation came yesterday at funeral services for George Goldfarb, 55, principal of Brooklyn's John Marshall Junior High School.

On Tuesday, Goldfarb leaped from the roof of his apartment house at the time he was to make his third appearance before the Brooklyn grand jury. The panel is probing crime and juvenile delinquency in the public schools.

Charles H. Silver, president of the City Board of Education, told newsmen at Goldfarb's last rites that the school principal had been threatened with indictment and "this probably caused him to tkae his life. He was very worried."

As School Supt. William Jansen listened and nodded approval Silver said: "Several hours before Mr. Goldfarb appeared before the grand jury last Thursday (for the second time) he came before the Board of Education.

"In discussing with us his grand jury interrogation, he said that a juror had warned him he might be, or could be, indicted."

No indication was given on what charge Goldfarb could have been indicted.

Grand jury foreman A. George Golden immediately issued a denial, terming Silver's statement "a deliberate lie," adding that Silver "made that up out of his own mind to befuddle the public."

Say Blood Transfusion Saved Tiny's Baby Life

CHICAGO (AP)—A half-pint blood transfusion was credited as a life saver for a tiny baby suffering from an Rh blood factor condition.

The 47-day-old girl, Yvone Fountain, weighed only 2 pounds 14 ounces when she was born prematurely in Presbyterian - St. Luke's Hospital. Now she weighs five pounds.

Hospital officials reported that her blood wss Rh positive and her mother's Rh negative, a condition which caused destruction of the baby's blood, threatening life.

In the transfusion, the baby's blood was alternately removed and replaced until the antibodies were carried away in sufficient amounts.

Flames Sweep Hangar; Six Planes Destroyed

CHICAGO (AP)—Flames 150 feet high swept through a Midway Airport hangar yesterday, destroying six small airplanes and causing damages estimated at $350,000.

Firemen said the blaze may have started after a gas tank in one of the airplanes exploded. Oil was also stored in the hangar. The destroyed building housed a mechanics training school.

Hit by Bowling Ball, Sues for $25,000

CHICAGO (AP)—A man struck by a bowling ball sued for $25,000 damages yesterday.

Thomas Kincaid, 43, alleged he suffered a permanent brain injury March 11, 1957, at the Lagens Recreation Parlor. He sued for damages from the owners, George Lagens and Leo thomas, and from a patron, William Lapp.

The Circuit Court suit said Lapp took a ball from a rack and began swinging it. The ball slipped from Lapp's hand, sailed 30 feet through the air and hit Kincaid. Kincaid did not regain consciousness for three days and spent two weeks in a hospital.

The suit said an alley employe had oiled the finger holes of the ball and that the proprietors were negligent.

Twins Born to Woman En Route to Hospital

A 6-pound 10-ounce son was born during the road trip.

The second twin, 5 pounds 15 ounces, was born unattended at the hospital entrance.

Attendants then hustled the mother and her babies inside and they were reported in excellent condition.

Government Bickering Causing Our Stalemate

A stimulus is needed—something to make the country rally around the flag. Fortunately, this country has the type of government where everyone can speak his or her piece.

Approximately four months have elapsed since the Russians thrust the first Sputnik into its orbit. This single event disturbed the Western allies and set off one of the hottest debates this country has ever had.

President EISENHOWER and his administration immediately took the following steps:

U. S. missile and anti-missile programs have taken on No. 1 priority. This includes more money for the entire program.

A reorganization of the defense department to provide clearer lines of decision is being discussed.

Scientific research in and out of the Government is getting much greater emphasis than before Sputnik. This includes the entire educational system.

These steps are all fine and have received general widespread approval. But it is at this point that the argument really gets heated. Like the space age, this also seems to be the "investigation age."

Washington has been gripped by the investigation fad and it appears that each and every single move must first stand a Senate investigation. The yakity-yak is terrific. Everything is challenged.

Maybe this is all called for in our democratic form of government. It's the type of rule we all want. This we will all agree on.

But to the little fellow out in left field, way back in Pontiac, it all seems a little confusing. This is all true because of the Congressional elections in the fall. The various debates have taken on political overtones.

In the long run, all most of us want is to lead the league.

Instead of everlastingly challenging each other, can't we all join the same squad and pull ahead?

We did exactly this in both world wars. Why not seize the same opportunity and unite today?

Politics have their place, but a strong America comes first.

Hitler 25 Years Ago

Today it will be 25 long and eventful years since ADOLF HITLER came to power as Chancellor of Germany.

Der Fuehrer first drew public attention in 1923 in the abortive attempt to overthrow the Bavarian Government in the Munich "Beer Hall Putsch." He was labeled an upstart, tried and sentenced to prison for five years but served only one during which he wrote Mein Kampf.

But the Nazi party did not play a major role in Reichstag elections until September, 1930, when it won 107 seats. Using depressed economic conditions, resentment at the terms of the Treaty of Versailles, resurgence of militant German nationalism and claims of racial superiority, HITLER roused a defeated Germany with his wild harangues.

In the 1932 election HITLER ran for president and polled 35 per cent of the vote. His party won 230 seats in the Reichstag but he refused President VON HINDENBURG's request that he act as VON PAPEN's vice chancellor. Then followed the "Communist Plot" and Reichstag fire on February 27 and rigged elections on March 5. On March 23 the Reichstag voted him full dictatorial powers.

"An Austrian of insignificant appearance, a consistent failure in early life, temperamental, emotional and irresolute, superficially educated and charged with no single new or original idea," wrote Historian GATHORNE HARDY in 1938.

In one sense that is true yet Hitler's rise to power in the first half of this century affected the course of world history more significantly than any other head of state.

MANY people need to learn that a person can belong to a different sex, class, race, church, or nation and still be a human being.

The Man About Town

Keep It That Way

State Wide Plea That Is Quite Pat in Local Area

Business: What every business man wishes his son to inherit—if taxes don't beat him to it.

In the current issue of that beautifully printed magazine,

Michigan Conservation, issued by that state body, with

Clifford Ketcham,

old time friend of Oakland County, as secretary, and

as editor, it is pointed out that

Four million acres are yours,

being the land now owned by that department. Many thousands of acres of this are in Oakland County, forming the basis of our great recreational areas, and I agree absolutely in their plea,

"In Heaven's name, keep it that way."

On the two previous Press tours to New York,

Mrs. Ethan B. Cudney

of 159 Marlborough Drive, was first to make reservation for this year's.

Newly elected president of the Oakland County Employe Credit Union is of 3 Ramona Terrace. Lois is secretary at our TB San., and my idea of efficiency bundled up in an eye easer.

Verbal Orchids are issued only for wedding anniversaries of 50 years or more, and 80th birthdays or more.

My nominee for the worst pain-in-the-neck in his class on TV is

if he's in any class.

My Milford correspondent sends word that of that village uses two alarm clocks, set 20 minutes apart, as he finds that "stolen" 20 minutes is the most luxurious sleep of the night.

When the children in the neighborhood of

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rhamerson

of Auburn Heights built a snow man, and decked it out in old clothing, Mrs. Rhamerson says so many dogs assembled to bark at it that she is sure some of them came out from Pontiac.

Bringing up a large live rabbit that it had caught, the dog of

of Lake Orion quite dumbfounded his master, but he discovered that an arrow was imbedded in its body, evidently a long time ago.

Verbal Orchids to—

Mrs. Dora Copeland

of 485 Lowell St.; eighty-eighth birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. John MacKichan of 79 Elm St.; fifty-first wedding anniversary.

Blaine Hazelton

of Rochester; eighty-first birthday.

Summit Talk

David Lawrence Advises Pentagon:

Ask Russia About the Next War

WASHINGTON — The American people have been hearing a lot lately about "a single chief of staff" for the armed forces and a "reorganization of the Pentagon" so as to eliminate what is called "inter-service" rivalries."

LAWRENCE

Yet few people know the background of the controversy and the hidden issues debated in the Pentagon — the five-sided building where thousands of officers of all the armed services perform their daily functions.

There is really nothing wrong with the "Pentagon" that a little information from Soviet Russia wouldn't cure, as, for instance, exactly when the next war will break out and where and what kind of war it will be—that is, "local" or "limited" or "global."

Fundamentally, the main discussions here during the last decade have been concerned with the question of what strategy would be predominant if any kind of war came.

Just after World War II ended, many of those who have argued that the concept of air power is above all else in importance urged a single chief of all the armed services. They felt that naturally he would have to be an air man and could blend the operations of the other services into a single-service idea.

But the Army, which for a long time had been theoretically in favor of a single chief and a general staff, balked at having its tactical air force, for example, taken away from ground troops and insisted also that the ground-warfare concept could not be shoved aside altogether especially since "local" wars could not be dismissed as unlikely.

There was talk of making a separate service out of the strategic air force as a solution, but this was abandoned.

The Navy felt that the command and operation of war at sea, not only on the surface but above and below, had to be retained under its own control without interference by some single chief who didn't understand sea techniques—submarines or floating aircraft carriers.

A whole science of naval warfare in support of ground and air combat, as happened in Korea, could not be discarded.

Congress compromised in 1947. A separate air force was created and, instead of two armed services, there now are three. Likewise, to the three military departments, a fourth—the Defense Department, with its immense superstructure of civilians—was added.

Predictions were made at the time that "unification" of this kind would not work, but it has taken a decade of actual experience to find that out. Now a healthy discussion of remedies is, of course, in order.

In peacetime the main task of the Defense Department is to buy "hardware." The question always is how much to buy and how fast to get it made. There is no lack of decision power.

Sometimes it takes a little longer to reach a decision than the defense chiefs like, but that's because it's customary to give everyone a chance to be heard, whether civilian or military.

Some of the responsibility for the delay in putting decisions into effect must be laid on the doorstep of Congress. Under our system, there is an avenue of appeal to Congress, and military men have their friends on Capitol Hill to whom they pour out their troubles and apprehensions.

The result is investigation after investigation, which often means delay in putting into effect decisions already made by the proper officials in the executive branch of the government.

The power of decision in planning war operations cannot be vested in Congress or in a single chief of the armed services themselves. It must remain in the Commander-in-Chief, the President of the United States, as it always has been under the American Constitution.

The Country Parson

"It's pretty hard to get a fellow to do better if we sneer at his attempts which fail."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Hardy Oldster Keeps Fit on One Meal a Day -- Raw

A North Carolinian reader outlines his way of living, which may be all right for him, although I wouldn't follow it myself. Here it is:

DR. BRADY

"Although I am 69, I run a mile a day, walk two miles a day, swim in a pond every day in the year . . ."

(Even when you have to break the ice to get in?)

". . . eat no cooked food, only raw, one meal per day. I am no faddist. A doctor told me forty years ago I must have my tonsils out; I still have them. Still another doctor told me when I was 19 that I had a bad heart; it's still going.

"My family eats only whole wheat bread; no white flour, no white sugar, no soft drinks, little meat. The last time I saw a doctor was after World War I when they discharged me.

"But I'm thankful we have doctors. When I get sick I'm heading for one. If people would take doctor's advice they wouldn't have to take one-tenth of their medicine. (Signed)—"

Except for swimming in the pond every day in the year, your routine seems excellent. If you don't mind, I'll take a sun bath instead, or if there's no sun then an air bath. But maybe you really enjoy cold baths and not just the pleasure of boasting about them. If so it is OK.

HOW MUCH RAW?

I'm not sure whether you mean you eat only raw food or just that you eat one meal a day instead of the usual two or three or perhaps that you make one meal a day exclusively raw food. Whole wheat bread isn't raw.

Whichever it may be, I can see no objection to it, provided the raw food is not polluted, infected or contaminated—cooking makes infected food safe, you know.

At the same time, cooking destroys essential vitamins and enzymes or ferments which make the difference between fair or ordinary and superior or optimal nutrition.

Indeed, some good authorities insist that cooking or even par-boiling milk to kill disease germs changes the chemical character of the protein so that its nutritional value is considerably impaired.

I do not mean to recommend raw milk for infant, growing child or adult, unless your local health officer or health department or your family physician approves of the raw milk.

Let's say your heart trouble was iatrogenic. That is the nature of a good deal of chronic heart trouble or "weak heart." Iatrogenic is a $10 word meaning doctor-produced.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Women Like Men to Be Articulate

Charley won a more talented girl than he had lost, all because of a few months sales experience with an encyclopedia firm. Women want words! And the talented salesman learns that fact and extroverts his attention so he praises his companions. Three months of sales experience is a MUST for topnotch clergymen, teachers and engineers.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case X-316: Charley B., aged 23, is the shy introvert who wanted to become a salesman, for he lost his college sweetheart by being too tongue-tied and timid.

Since he had been a studious young man and widely-read, I suggested that he get a job selling encyclopedias.

"In that way your own scholarly background may be a double help," I added.

"And every family with children should have a good encyclopedia. It is a MUST nowadays if you want your children to do well with their school work and go on to college.

"Next to the Bible and a good dictionary, EVERY literate family in America should have an encyclopedia. So you will be rendering a very valuable service to your fellowmen by selling encyclopedias."

CHARLEY'S RESULTS

Well, Charley thanked me and I helped him get a job. He took the regular sales training course, and was an apt pupil.

Then he started out upon the job of calling on prospects. He no longer was so tongue-tied, for he knew his sales talk.

And after a few days, he registered his first sale. After that his confidence zoomed rapidly. More sales occurred.

Charley began to glow with the exultant feeling of power based on his own ability to deal with people successfully.

Six months passed before I met Charley again. He was now a different man. You could sense the self-assurance and social poise.

He wasn't bombastic or unduly loquacious, but he smiled graciously and exuded the impression that he knew his stuff. Which he did.

WHAT SELLING DOES

"Dr. Crane," Charley began, "I never fully realized how my personality had changed the past few months until just last night.

"I had attended the opera. Being 15 minutes early, I casually engaged the man next to me in conversation. And within that 15 minutes, I had learned his name and where he lived, plus the names of his three children and even their ages.

"I also knew what school they attended and their teachers' names. In fact, I had a fairly accurate amount of relevant data, for my company has us work via the school approach.

"Yet I wasn't unduly forward and I am sure he never felt that I was cross-examining him at all.

"Six months ago, however, I would have sat beside him tongue-tied during those 15 minutes and never have uttered a word unless he had spoken first."

Well, that's the change that salesmanship will work in your personality.

And salesmen, said Dr. Glenn Frank, are the real spark plugs of civilization!

CONFIDENT MEN

A few weeks later I saw Charley escorting a Chicago model to the theater. He was assured and graceful.

He commanded her admiration because he knew his way around and subtly irradiated that assurance to all with whom he came in contact.

Women want words. Especially smiling, complimentary terms. And salesmen soon become expert in using words.

So a good salesman not only renders a distinct service to mankind but he meanwhile becomes a more confident person, radiating self-assurance.

Salesmen soon learn, too, the value of extroverting one's attention and giving the other person a bit of praise.

Next to sales work, membership in my "Compliment Club" will probably build up your assurance most quickly, so send for the "Compliment Club" booklet, enclosing a stamped, return envelope plus 20 cents (non-profit).

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

Readers Respond to Letter Against Reuther Demands

Auto Worker's Wife has been reading too much golden milestone propaganda. All those nice benefits weren't gifts by any means. The universal laws haven't changed and the law of compensation is still in effect. We must give in some way, shape or form to receive. Most people are like sheep. They need a leader. We have a great leader in Walter Reuther. Let's really get behind him, because he is strictly for the working man. He's a dynamic and remarkable individual.

W. G. J.

I wholeheartedly agree with Auto Worker's Wife. I was under the impression a union was composed of men that belong to it and they're the ones who say what they think is best for them. But it looks to me that Reuther says what's best for himself.

The men weren't asked one thing about this contract or any other. He sets the rules and tells auto heads what he wants and at the same time tells workers that union dues are going up for the impending strike. Well, where did all the money go that he raised dues for the last time he raised them for the strike fund?

I wonder when union members will get enough backbone and quit being pulled by strings like puppets by Reuther. Like Auto Worker's Wife, I agree he should just renew the old contract and get laid off workers back to work.

Another Auto Worker's Wife

Auto Worker's Wife says a strike would help the auto industry, and that renewal of the present contract would give continued earnings. If demand for new cars isn't there it's because wages haven't kept pace with prices. Based on $5,000, it takes half a year's salary to buy a car and about $400 a year for upkeep, almost 60 per cent of one's salary. As the car gets older it costs more, but owners can't afford to get a new one because of the wide gap between prices and wages. So whether it's a strike or layoff, there are going to be lots of unemployed auto workers.

So for Reuther's salary, it's peanuts compared with Curtice, Breech, Ford, Romney and others too numerous to mention. Yet he heads an organization of some 1,300,000. None of the above heads anything close to that size. There's really no difference between the above mentioned and Reuther. They have something to sell and are trying to get as much as they can for it.

As for being radical and ridiculous, ten years ago the H-bomb and Sputnik would have sounded very ridiculous but today they're a reality. And 25 years ago paid vacations, hospitalization, cost of living benefits, etc., would have seemed ridiculous. Now they're a reality, thanks to Reuther and others that went before him. Industry would pay Reuther five times what he gets now to work for them, and I'm very glad he's on our team. I also am a laid off worker with over nine years seniority due to cutbacks.

Walled Lake

A four-day week for the mechanical trades would be murder. A lot of the fellows would be bored with three days off. Some would go around and sell their services cheap, just to be occupied. That would tend to cut down the available work for union men.

State Well-Being Up to Individual

A state is built of something which each individual gives of himself. This giving is either by active participation in doing something or by individuals' condoning the demands made upon his time, ability and facilities for the advancement of the state.

As analogy, if we let another put faulty material into a house we are to live in, we are subsequently responsible for its condition. It is our responsibility if the roof leaks or the foundation cracks.

We must remember that likewise the state is our house, our political home, and individually and collectively we are responsible for it. A people cannot be happy, no matter the economic wealth or physical power of the state, if they are morally bankrupt.

Two Comment on Area Killing

What's wrong with Michigan? Why can't something be done about all these mentally sick people walking the streets? Do we have to wait until someone is murdered before they can be committed to a mental hospital? In other states they take care of these situations and get them treated before it's too late.

Treatment Involves Rest, Heat, Massage

Home Care for Arthritics Uses No Miracle Drugs

NEW YORK — A new home care treatment for those suffering the dreaded pain of arthritis was revealed today.

Based on an extended study and the pooled knowledge of more than a thousand arthritis specialists and research scientists, the new program, outlined in a recent issue of a national magazine offers a pain-free life to even the most serious arthritic cases.

It is simple and scientific type of home therapy that involves no miracle drugs, diets or quick cures. However, the author, William Kitay, a leading authority on arthritis, stresses that it does involve very careful self-application of rest, good posture, heat, massages and exercise.

Treatments can be administered with the help of a friend or a relative, and the results are amazing. Eighty per cent of severly crippled patients involved in the initial experiments for this effective plan were discharged from the hospital, the article states.

Half of them were totally self-sufficient and able to carry out all daily home and work functions normally. The remaining people were self-sufficient with the ability to perform normal activities increased 26 per cent.

Among the highlights of the program outlined are:

1 — PROPER REST. For active painful arthritis, minimum resting periods should total about twelve hours daily. The proper way to rest is to remain flat, keeping all joints straight and relaxed. Fingers, wrists, elbows and knees must remain comfortably straight. Upon arising, the patient will feel more relaxed, and be in less pain.

2 — GOOD POSTURE will help prevent fatigue and restore mental and physical endurance. The right posture will lessen the strains in inflamed joints and distressed muscles, ease pain and reduce chances of deformity.

3 — HEAT is considered one of the most useful weapons in the treatment of arthritis. It should be applied for about twenty or thirty minutes at a time, and not more than twice daily.

4 — MASSAGES increase the circulation within an arthritic joint, supplying a more constant supply of blood and reducing swelling by speeding the drainage of waste materials from the joint.

5 — EXERCISE that avoids physical exertion and over-activity on the affected joint increases a normal range of motion without inflicting any further harm.

Boasted of Income to Collector

Mark Twain Also Had Tax Woes

WASHINGTON (INS)—If you are having trouble, Mr. Taxpayer, with your income tax return at this time of year, you had nothing on Mark Twain. He really got into a jam.

Of course, your difficulty no doubt is that your 1957 income was too large—for tax purposes—and your deductions too small. But Twain got into difficulty because he bragged to a stranger about how much money he made in 1869. The stranger was a U. S. tax assessor.

INCOME DROPPED

He finally got out of the tangle because a rich friend showed him how to scale down his income for tax purposes by the liberal use of deductions. But, according to Mark, it was torment while it lasted.

A letter written by Twain in 1870, hidden in some musty records of the Internal Revenue Service, gives an insight into the haphazard and thoroughly irresponsible enforcement of the old Civil War income tax. At that time, collectors received a percentage of the tax they collected.

Twain, who says he had just settled down in Buffalo at the time, tells how he had a caller one day who said he was an assessor connected with the U. S. Internal Revenue Department.

He told the stranger he had never heard of his branch of business before, and asked whether he intended to open up shop in the neighborhood. The stranger said he would.

Still puzzled about the stranger's business, Mark said he would drop in, and if he liked the stranger's shop better than any other, he would do business with him. The caller said he never knew of a man who had done business with him running off to find a competitor.

As the conversation wore on, Mark said, "We talked and talked and talked, at least I did," and "we laughed and laughed and laughed, at least he did." But he only got obscure answers as he tried to find out about the stranger's business.

Finally, Mark said he hit upon a foxy scheme. He would tell the stranger all about his business, and this would trap the stranger into telling about his business.

He started by asking the caller how much money he thought he had made lecturing the previous winter and spring. The stranger guessed $1,700. But Mark proudly said he had made $11,750.

When the stranger appeared surprised, Mark was flattered into exaggerating his actual income considerably. He wound up by saying he made $214,000 in 1869, most of it from royalties on "Innocents Abroad."

At last, the caller said he was very glad to meet a rich man for once, and handed Mark an envelope with the explanation that Mark would find in it the nature of his business. Then he left.

Mark opened the envelope, saw a tax return inside, and discovered that his income tax, on the basis of the income he had bragged about, would amount to $10,650.

However, the "opulent" friend, who had never paid any income tax himself, came to Mark's rescue. The friend pointed to a long list of deductions on the tax return and whittled Mark's taxable income down to $1,250.

Mark said he went around to the stranger's shop, and "swore to lie after lie . . . til my mortal soul was coated inches and inches thick with perjury, and my self-respect was gone forever and ever."

But he said he didn't care because "it is nothing more than thousands of the highest, and richest, and proudest and most respected, honored and courted men in America do every year."

Cater to Needs of Fire Stations

100 Small Firms Doing Big Business Making Trucks for Tank Towns

NEW YORK — Next time you see a teardrop shed over the fate of small business, tell the weeper to check the trucks down at the village firehouse.

Steelways, official publication of American Iron and Steel Institute, says chances are they were built by one of more than 100 small outfits that do a thriving business by catering to the fire engine needs of tank towns.

The publication explains that the two major firms manufacturing fire trucks specialize in building standard lines ordered in quantity by big cities. What's more, the magazine adds, they usually find it economically unsound to interrupt smooth running production lines to satisfy special small town demands.

"But every tank town has its own pet ideas how a fire truck should be built—what pump, tank capacity, lockers, instruments and controls it should have," the publication adds. "No two trucks are exactly alike, and big companies can't build that way."

That, it continues, is where the small firms come in. They give the tank towns just what their firefighters order.

The publication points out that the small companies also manage to keep their prices competitive, even though they pay more for materials purchased in small quantities and adds:

"No middle men and no shipping charges to contend with."

Acused of Betraying Her Boss to Gestapo

BERLIN, Germany — Beautiful Ursula Sonntag reported on her boss and as a result he was hanged. That was 14 years ago.

Now, Ursula has been scheduled to be tried for betraying him to the Gestapo. The boss was Dr. Miethe, director of a bank in the Upper Silesian town of Hindenburg and Uursula was his secretary.

In 1943 she overheard him say: "What Hitler understands best is how to swindle our nation." She also heard him ask: 'When is it all going to end?" and declare: "Our Luftwaffe is not as good as the R.A.F." Off went Ursula to Nazi Party Leader Oswald Michel, now a chimney sweep.

Dr. Miethe was charged before the People's Court in Berlin. It was a capital charge. Ursula, who later disappeared, says she did not wish for the sentencing of Dr. Miethe. She thought he would just be rebuked.

Nuclear Sub Called Ultimate Future Weapon

LIVERPOOL, England—Britain's First Lord of the Admiralty, Lord Selkirk, says that he sees the nuclear-powered submarine as perhaps "the ultimate weapon."

He said at Liverpool that such a sub, capable of firing long-range guided missiles from under the surface of the sea, appears to approach nearer to the ultimate weapon than anything the world has seen.

"It is undoubtedly the most dramatic naval development we have seen since the dreadnought," he declared, "and I suspect that within the next 10 years it may produce a startling revolution in naval tactics and strategy."

Government Rents Big

WASHINGTON — More than 1,600,000 acres of land in the United States are rented by the Federal Government—nearly half the size of Connecticut. In addition, the Government owns 774,600,000 acres.

In Laboratories . . . at Rocket Sites

Science Light Amid Space Gloom

By FRED SPARKS

Gloom gray is the color of total crisis and gloom gray is the color of Washington in the third month of the era of outer space to reflect the nation's soul searching for an answer to this massive question:

"Why have we lagged behind the Russians in venturing into the above with missile, animal and man?"

Let us not, however, be blinded by the gray of despair or deafened by the chorus of "Almost all is lost" to this truth:

While the case against yesterday is being tried on Capitol Hill, the case for tomorrow is being made — with no attending hysteria — in a thousand laboratories, at a hundred rocket sites.

There are no Congressmen waiting today at the Air Force's space medicine clinic to wring a fact — and perhaps a headline — out of the young airman who has been sitting for 14 to 16 hours in a steel vault deliberately subjected to fatigue, oppressive humidity, carbon dioxide fumes. When released he will go limp with spasms of nausea.

Objective: to test man's reaction to the eerie conditions of space journey.

There are no photographers waiting to pop flash bulbs at the exhausted technician at Cape Canaveral's guided missile range. For 18 hours — in asbestos suit, gloves and plastic face mask — he has been fuling the Atlas for static, preblast tests.

Objective: To learn speed-up methods for rocket launchings.

There are no autograph hunters watching at Wright Field in Dayton Ohio, today as a doctor — wrapped like a cellophane - covered candy bar — rides a "gravity" chair that propels him along a rail at bullet speed, then stops on a dime.

IN ASBESTOS SUITS — Exhausted technicians fuel a missile at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

At the moment of braking, his flesh hangs loose from his cheeks and rib cage — and blood spills from his nose.

Objective: To perfect means of allowing a human to survive the impact of re-entry from the thin nothingness of 200 mile up to our own comparatively solid atmosphere.

There are no radio commentators waiting to question the volunteer who — wearing bathing tights, an oxygen tank and a blindfold — is submerged in a huge salt-water goldfish bowl until his skin wrinkles like that of a very old man.

Objective: To better understand space survival by stimulating the eerie, pressured sightlessness to be encountered en route to the moon or Mars.

There are no columnists waiting to interview the engineer who has been laboring 18 hours a day over rocket models in a workshop pungent with spirit gum and balsa wood shavings. He hasn't sat down to a proper meal with his wife for a year.

Objective: To blueprint a pair of retractable wings that will emerge from a rocket — like a plane's landing gear — as it returns toward earth.

There are others who labor, as they must, in secrecy, silence—and often pain.

The scientist who allows himself to be quick frozen, seeking stimulants to revive anyone exposed to the stratospheric cold, which in split seconds turns the saliva in a man's mouth to solid ice.

The engineer who hikes for hours wearing a 50-pound space suit with 50-pound weights on each shoe — like a horror movie robot.

The soul searching, the self-criticism — often the partisan abuse — are the normal ways of a worried republic.

But it is well to remember that a quiet struggle to solve the tedious, complex mysteries of rockets and space is going on — around the clock.

And that in this struggle our scientists, our researchers will find those new miracles that can renew our faith in ourselves and win us peace through strength.

MAIN STREET — Whitmore Lake, Mich. was once a busy little hamlet along U. S. 23, main route between Lansing and Ann Arbor. The steady parade of trucks has halted. A new super highway, U. S. 23, has siphoned off the heavy traffic, leaving the town in silence.

Progress Takes Its Toll

Whitmore Lake Stilled Because of New Highway

WHITMORE LAKE (AP)—Progress has turned this bustling lakeside hamlet into a quiet littel community.

The same thing is happening many places in Michigan, or it will happen in the next few years.

A few weeks ago Whitmore Lake, 10 miles north of Ann Arbor, bubbled with activity as traffic streamed through town.

Today the roar of an engine rarely punctuates the stillness.

"You can shoot a gun down Main street now and not hit a soul," said a Whitmore Lake oldtimer, who's ears have yet to become accustomed to the silence.

The change came with progress in highway building. Main street used to be the main route of U. S. 23, a heavily traveled trunk line highway. But now, a new, limited access U. S. 23 circles this village of 573 residents. No longer do auto haulaways clang through at midnight on their way from Detroit auto plants.

As Michigan's long range highway construction plans become reality, more and more such villages will find themselves returned to the peaceful, pastoral ways of the horse and buggy era.

"You can sleep at night, but we sort of got used to the noise," mused the oldtimer. "Imagine being able to find a parking space on Main street every afternoon."

Business establishments seem to be losing out. There appear to be fewer customers with no more travelers passing through.

But merchants are confident. Residents claim their future is bright.

"I've got steady customers," said the proprietor of a sports shop. "Sure, I'll lose some transient trade in the hunting season, if they can find another place up the line. But I've owned this store for 10 years and I'm established. Things will pick up in summer when people come out here to swim and boat in the lake."

So far about the only ones unhappy now that traffic no longer winds through the town are the service station operators.

Whitmore Lake has its lake. It's not worried. What will happen to some of the other bypassed towns remains to be seen.

Saginaw to Test Remedy of Annexation

Cities Squeezed In by Outlying Districts Grave Municipal Problem in Michigan

By ROGER LANE
AP Lansing Correspondent

(Third in a series of articles on municipal problems)

In a curious way, fate has touched 4,900 residents of a little blip on the map, a ripple in the line marking Saginaw's west boundary.

They live in the Hemmeter School District of Saginaw Township. The district occupies less than one square mile.

How they vote in two forthcoming elections promises to play a key role in deciding whether space-hungry Saginaw, with 105,000 residents, resumes orderly growth or stays hemmed in by boundaries virtually unchanged for 20 years.

The outcome will test anew whether the traditional remedy of annexation still works for Michigan cities grown to man's size but strapped around the middle with a boy-sized belt.

It has succeeded conspicuously in Ann Arbor and Kalamazoo, but failed in several other cities.

LANSING WATCHES

Lansing, with a situation similar to Saginaw's will be watching closely. If both cities push out their limits, it will point a solution for still others—but not all—with aggravated fringe problems.

In Saginaw and in Lansing, city school district officials have agreed not to take in any more territory unless it first is annexed politically to the city for all other purposes.

To give the pacts real meaning, they have served notice tuition students from touching outside school districts will be refused admittance to city schools after certain deadlines.

This is what Kalamazoo did.

The Saginaw ban will apply to seventh graders in 1959, seventh and eighth graders in 1960 and so on until by 1964 when tuition pupils from outside adjacent areas would be eliminated altogether.

The Hemmeter School District, lacking any junior or senior high school, now has 450 pupils enrolled in the Saginaw system.

Some Hemmeter residents, wishing to continue the existing arrangement, have filed a petition for annexation to the city.

However, a tug-o-war developed when four neighboring school districts in Saginaw Township moved to band together with Hemmeter to form a new consolidated school district.

The proposed new unit would put up junior and senior high buildings of its own and double elementary space at a cost of four to seven million dollars.

This would wipe out the main attraction of coming into the city, and tend to freeze Saginaw's west boundary solider than ever. It would be a costly venture.

In the prospective balloting, Hemmeter will carry the heavy weight. It has nearly half the entire township's population and about 40 per cent of its property tax base.

Some observers believe that if Hemmeter comes into the city, the other four school districts, with a weakened population and tax base for the proposed consolidated unit, would follow her in like a row of toppling dominoes.

Thus, Saginaw might be enlarged by the entire township, with its 12,000 population and approximately 20 square miles. A significant portion of Saginaw's fringe would be absorbed.

Should this happen, the city would get welcome space. In turn, the township residents could look to the city for sewer, water, police, fire and other services now below standard.

But there are complicating factors, including opposition within the city to taking on the extra load of extending services.

Some city residents believe their suburban neighbors should be required to have basic service facilities installed and paid for before being allowed to come in. They will cast votes, too.

Eight other school districts around Saginaw, including some of those considering consolidation, also have come under the city school system's no-more-tuition-students ultimatum.

(Next—"New city" plans as a solution.)

Van Horn's Counsel Appointed by Judge

A Pontiac attorney, Brakie T. Orr, has been appointed by Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty to act as defense counsel for Billy Ray Van Horn, accused of the drunken slaying of a woman whose husband tried to help curb his drinking.

Van Horn, a 24-year-old unemployed factory worker, told Judge Doty at a hearing yesterday that he was broke and could not afford to pay for an attorney himself.

"I have no money, lost my job, and have already spent what I got selling my old car," he said.

The confessed slayer is being held in Oakland County Jail until his examination on a first-degree murder charge Feb. 6. He is accused of murdering Mrs. Hazel Murdock, 33, in her Waterford Township home, 127 N. Josephine St., last Friday.

Man Bound Over on Burglary Charge

Dick Hendrix, alias Roy Hendricks, 23, of 653 Kenney Rd., was bound over to circuit court following examination yesterday in municipal court on a burglary charge.

Hendrix and a 15-year-old boy were found, police said, inside the City Beverage Co., 117 Turk St., Jan. 17.

Detectives said they had been implicated in several other local burglaries and some of the loot was recovered.

Arraignment in circuit court was set for Feb. 3.

'No One Need Worry About Payments'

Says Social Security Financially Sound

By RAY HENRY
(Second of Two Articles)

Secretary of Welfare Folsom says the Social Security system is in sound financial condition and no one need worry about getting the payments due him—now or in the future.

The statements appeared in my last column in a question and answer interview with Folsom, the chief Social Security officer.

But, Folsom also says the total of the payments has been running higher than expected and the system may pay out more than it collects in the next year or two. Today's column takes up this point in further questions and answers.

QUESTION: Mr. Secretary, why is the Social Security system paying out more in payments than it expected?

ANSWER: As you know, Congress extended Social Security in 1954 and 1956 to cover 10 million people in occupations that were not previously covered. We have received more claims from older workers in these occupations — particularly farmers — than had been expected. This can't happen again because almost all workers —nine out of ten—are already covered now. Although additional payments resulting from these claims affect our short term financial situation, they have little or no importance when compared to expenses over many years. They certainly have no effect on the long range financial soundness of the system.

Q. Just how much off base were your estimates on these claims?

A. About 3½ per cent. Shortly after Congress passed the 1956 amendments, we figured that payments would total $6,300,000,000 in the 12 months before June 30, 1957. Actually, the payments amounted to $6,515,000,000.

Q. How about the income from Social Security tax? Is it running according to schedule?

A. Very close. For the 12 months before June 30, 1957, we had estimated that the tax income would be $6,740,000,000. The actual income was $6,540,000,000. So, we overestimated our income for that period by about 3 per cent. Our estimate for the year ending next June is $7,315,000,000. We still think this is about right.

Q. In other words, during the 1957 fiscal year you underestimated the total payments you'd make by 3½ per cent and overestimated your tax income by 3 per cent. Isn't this cause for alarm?

A. No. At least not as far as the overall financial soundness of the system is concerned since these are relatively small differences. Both are temporary and will be more than compensated for when the next scheduled raise in Social Security tax goes into effect in 1960.

Q. In some of the articles I've read, it's been reported that during some recent months the total of the payments was far greater than the Social Security tax collected. Is this true?

A. Yes. But, it has no meaning. The income from month-to-month always fluctuates greatly because of the way the Social Security tax is collected. For example, self-employed people pay their tax only once a year. Naturally, during the time when this tax is being collected the income always exceeds outgo. Th only realistic way income and outgo can be figured is on a year-by-year basis, not month-by-month.

Q. How about these new disability payments for disabled persons between 50 and 65 years old? Aren't they going to be an additional drain on the Social Security trust fund?

A. No, they are not. Disability payments are paid out of a separate Disability Insurance Trust Fund, established by Congress in 1956 when the disabbility program was added to Social Security. With this change, Congress added a special disability tax to pay for the disability benefits. By July 1, 1957, the Disability Insurance Trust Fund had $337,000,000 in assets.

RARE DOG AND NEW MASTER — "Veda," a rare Scottish deerhound dog, is getting acquainted with her owner, Bob Hawkins of Milford. She measures more than 30 inches from her shoulders to the floor, and is larger than the American greyhound.

Rare Scottish Hound Now Raised in Milford

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

MILFORD — She can't be called "wee," but a bit of Scotland has been imported by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hawkins of Milford.

"Veda," a huge rare Scottish deerhound dog, threatens to become queen of the kennels at 324 Crystal St., since her dramatic arrival by plane this week.

Years ago, the Hawkins, Sadie and Bob, began raising cocker spaniel pups. When the market became saturated with this popular breed, they switched to raising the powerful boxer.

When that breed, too, became plentiful throughout the land Sadie and Bob began developing purebred poodles. Their kennels are still full of this breed, from the tiny to the big standard type.

Due to the flooded poodle market, the couple began looking for another unusual breed of dogs—and that's why the mighty Veda was shipped to America. She is the 15th known dog of her kind in the entire United States.

Veda has the same streamlined build as that of the greyhound. However, her longer gray hair resembles the airdale.

Grace, power and speed are the main attributes that make up the deerhound, considered one of the oldest breeds in the world.

MIGHTY HUNTER

During the 15th century when bow and arrows were the hunter's only weapons, deerhounds would track down a stag nearly twice its height and weight, and keep it at bay until the hunter arrived for the kill.

The Hawkins' house is filled with trophies and ribbons, won by their fine dogs.

At Eastertime the white poodles are tinted pale pink, blue and orchid for photographic assignments with national advertising companies.

Dog raising is strictly a hobby with the couple. Sadie is employed as a registered nurse in Pontiac and Bob is a prominent heating engineer.

ALSO MODELS

He also does professional modeling for a national advertising agency, but "just for kicks," he says. He recently appeared in a full page advertisement in Life magazine.

Hawkins has a likely partner in his sideline in Veda.

Until now, a gigantic poodle named "Stepper" has ruled the Hawkins "dog-house." His high and noble breeding, however, would never permit him to harm a lady, and big, lovable Veda is not only a lady — she is an expectant mother as well.

Wife of Victim 'Broken Up'

Nebraska Youth Killed Her Husband on Road in Wyoming

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (INS)—The wife of the 10th victim of a young Nebraska slayer was described as pretty much "broken up" today over the death of her husband.

Mrs. Merle Collison, wife of a 33-year-old shoe salesman killed on a Wyoming highway by Charles Starkweather, was notified of the death by a Great Falls sheriff.

The Collisons have a four-month-old baby.

Collison was a shoe salesman for the Browers Shoe Company. He was driving a company car.

Converse County (Wyo) District Attorney William P. Dickson said Collison apparently was shot as he slept in his car, 12 miles east of Douglas.

One shot was fired through the window of the car, and five more shots were fired as Collison came out of the car. He had two bullets in his head and one in his neck.

Moms Get $76,519 in March on Polio

Oakland County mothers who attempted to contact every home in the country last night for the March of Dimes collected at least $76,519, according to Ernest Goldsworthy, county campaign chairman.

The annual Mothers' March on Polio was conducted by more than 6,000 volunteer mothers.

Goldsworthy added that if certain areas were not reached during last night's campaign, contributions can be mailed to the county office, 75 W Huron St.

At least $1,807 was collected in Waterford Township. The march was sponsored by the township firemen and their wives.

Last year the county mothers collected $87,474 during the march.

The march will be conducted in South Lyon Friday night.

U. of M. Dean Going to Washington Post

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Charles E. Odegaard, dean of the University of Michigan's College of Literature, Sciences and Art, will become president of the University of Washington Aug. 1.

Odegaard succeeds Dr. Henry Schmitz who is retiring.

The 47-year-old educator became the youngest literary college dean in Michigan's history when he was appointed in 1952.

He studied at Dartmouth College and Harvard University. Prior to coming to Michigan, he taught history at Harvard, Radcliffe College and the University of Illinois.

Odegaard is a native of Chicago Heights, Ill.

Rep. Broomfield Hits Reserves

Backlog of U.S. Funds Totaling $70 Billion Deemed Unnecessary

A bill aimed at putting the Federal Government on "a business-like basis" was sponsored today by Congressman William S. Broomfield (R-Oakland County).

Incorporating a Hoover Commission recommendation, the proposal would place federal expenditures on a yearly basis and prevent the accumulation of "multi-billion dollar backlogs of unexpected funds."

"This backlog of funds appropriated by Congress for projects which have not been completed totals $70,000,000,000," Broomfield said. "This is almost equal to the federal budget proposed for the coming fiscal year."

Under the present method in which Congress appropriates all the money needed for a federal project, Congress and the administration sometimes "lose control" of spending once this money has been appropriated, Broomfield said.

Whitmer to Report on Expected Income

A report on anticipated income for the 1958-59 fiscal year will be given to the Pontiac Board of Education tonight by Superintendent Dana P. Whitmer.

The meeting will be held at Wisner School, 441 Oakland Ave., as part of the board's policy of taking its meetings to the public.

Dr. Whitmer will discuss with the board the effects of the anticipated income on the next budget.

Other items on the agenda will be progress reports on construction of Pontiac Northern High School, an addition to Owen School, and the Franklin Road Elementary School.

Windsor Duke, Duchess Shocked About Young

NEW YORK (AP)—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor arrived today from Europe expressing "great personal loss and great shock" over the suicide of financier Robert R. Young, an old friend they had often visited.

They will spend two weeks in New York at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel and then go to Florida for two months.

Firemen Rescue Dog as Furnace Starts Fire

An overheated furnace set fire to a home at 296 Fern St. yesterday and caused $1,000 damage to the building and $100 damage to contents.

The owner, Leona Simmons, was away when the fire occurred. Her pet dog was rescued by the Pontiac Fire Dept.

Via 'Ham' Radio

Local Family 'Visits' Kin Each Week in Scotland

By STAN BOK
Press Corerspondent

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Life is exciting these days for the Andrew Allison family of 2211 Kingston Rd., and it's all because of the marvels of amateur radio.

Allison, a Pontiac Motor Division employe, has been a licensed 'ham' operator since 1954, having learned the intricacies of the "trade" from Lewis A. Young of 221 Draper, Pontiac.

HITS JACKPOT

His contacts with other ham operators in this country and abroad during the past four years have been entertaining and educational. A few weeks ago, however, he hit the jackpot.

During a short break in a conversation between Allison and an operator in Norway, a ham station in Prestwick, Scotland interrupted to identify itself. That message was most welcome to Allison's ears, for it came from a spot only six miles from his former home in Kilmarnock, Scotland.

It seems that the party in Norway, having married an American girl, told Allison how he would like to make contact with Texas, his wife's home state. And, in turn, Andrew countered with a wish to contact his former home in Scotland, never dreaming that a Scottish operator was listening to the conversation.

An exchange of comments between Allison and the Prestwick operator proved so enjoyable that Andrew hailed his wife, Elizabeth, to the set. His wife quickly dug up the address of her brother in Prestwick, a location that was only a block away from the Scottish ham station.

It wasn't long before Mrs. Allison and her brother in Scotland got together by radio with other members of the Allison family taking turns at the "mike."

NOW CALLS REGULARLY

Since that day, Allison has been making scheduled Sunday radio visits to his relatives abroad.

He expects another thrill on Sunday when his mother intends to visit the Prestwick ham station for an extended chat.

Allison explained that the sun spot cycle is now favorable for long distance communication. Efforts to contact Scotland in previous years were hampered by interferences caused by sun spots.

The Allisons became grandparents recently for the first time, and the news was flashed across the ocean from the amateur radio set.

Allison was one of many Oakland County hams who listened to both Sputnik I and II.

His interest in amateur radio has benefited his community. Allison serves as communications director of the civil defense unit in White Lake Township.

He came to the Pontiac area from Scotland about 10 years ago, being joined by wife and children shortly afterward.

The Allisons like America immensely, but it's always nice to contact the old hometown, especially by amateur radio.

Europeans Favor Meeting

'Summit' Difficulties Mount

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States faces mounting difficulties in holding to its position that a summit conference should be held only if there is advance proof it will be successful.

State Department officials are worried over reports from Western Europe that public opinion increasingly favors a top-level conference with Russian leaders on Soviet terms if it cannot be arranged on Western terms.

Officials report that there is so far no basic difference of view among Allied governments on their demand for careful preparation in advance of a top-level session.

That preparation would have to afford proof that such a meeting can achieve agreements on important issues.

But public opinion in countries like Britain exerts a powerful pressure on government policies as it does here. This may make it difficult for the Allies to maintain a solid front on the matter.

EXPLOIT INTEREST

Furthermore, the Soviets are expected to exploit to the limit the European interest in a meeting.

The State Department has received a steady stream of reports this week from embassies abroad on European press reaction to comments made by White House news secretary James Hagerty in a Sunday TV interview.

Hagerty said in substance that the only thing necessary was to agree on an agenda. After the broadcast he specifically denied that he meant in any way to modify President Eisenhower's stated ambitions for a meeting.

ELAINE JONES

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Jones of 583 Purdy St., Birmingham, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Elaine, to James Markey, son of Mrs. Patrick Markey of Fielding avenue, Detroit, and the late Mr. Markey. The wedding date hasn't been set.

Aid for Schools Runs Into Snarl

Legal Issue Delaying Overdue State Checks; Future Help Threatened

LANSING (AP) — A $28,500,000 distribution of state aid to schools, already delayed two weeks for lack of funds, has run into a legal snarl that also threatens future aid payments.

Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction, said yesterday he hopes the legal difficulties can be cleared up quickly.

After a huddle of top state officials, there were indications that checks currently held by the state treasury may be unfrozen and put into the mails next week.

The legal snag arose from an attorney general's opinion issued to Bartlett Dec. 27 by former Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh, since promoted to the State Supreme Court.

Why its significance apparently went undetected for weeks posed a mystery that was not immediately cleared up.

As Bartlett explained before leaving on a trip to the Upper Peninsula, it long has been the practice of the state treasurer to borrow from other funds when a state school aid payment came due and the aid fund lacked the necessary monies.

However, he said, Kavanagh held that this was not in accordance with law.

Bartlett said he is asking the legislature for emergency action to remove the legal block.

Woman Hurt Avoiding Auto Crash on M59

A Bloomfield Hills woman was injured yesterday when her car ran off the road and hit a tree on M59 near E. Porter road, White Lake Township.

Mrs. Bertha E. Baker, 63, of 1341 Fieldway, suffered lacerations of the face and right leg and chest bruises. She was treated at Pontiac General Hospital.

Mrs. Baker told Oakland County Sheriff's deputies she saw an accident, thought the cars were headed toward her and drove off the road to avoid them.

Cole Porter, American writer of sophisticated songs which have been included in many Broadway stage musical hits, was born in 1893.

Court Approves $40,000 Payment on Bogart Policy

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An insurance company's compromise offer to pay $40,000 on a $90,000 policy issued on the life of the late Humphrey Bogart has been approved in Superior Court.

The Manufacturers Life Insurance Co. issued the policy, the court was informed, on Feb. 2, 1956, only 11 months before the actor died of cancer.

C. O. MacNeill, Security-First National Bank trust officer, testified yesterday that the compromise between the insurance carrier and the beneficiary, Bogart's Mapleton Productions, Inc., was reached after it was pointed out that the actor may have been unaware he had cancer and thus could not so inform the insurance company.

Bogart, 56, died Jan. 14, 1957.

3 Navy Cargo Planes Grounded After Crash

ALAMEDA, Calif. (AP)—The Navy said today its three Tradewind seaplanes would remain grounded until a five-man accident board can determine what caused the crash of a fourth.

One of the giant cargo planes crashed into a sea wall at Alameda Naval Air Station last Friday upon landing after losing a propeller over the Pacific.

Snow Clearing Costly

KANSAS CITY (AP)—City authorities reported it has cost about $122,000 to clear last week's 15-inch snowfall from the streets.

Dentists Getting Aching Backs While Working?

LOS ANGELES (AP)—While taking the pain out of your teeth, your dentist may get an aching back.

Noting this, a UCLA physical education professor, Dr. Laurence Morehouse, and a dentist, Dr. Sanford S. Golden, have set up a dental office to study the profession's stresses.

While working on a dummy patient, the dentist is tested for fatigue clues. His blood pressure, respiration and muscular efforts and tensions are recorded.

Dr. Morehouse said the research may lead to new dental equipment in which the dentist sits while the patient half reclines on a couchlike chair.

Prince Loewenstein Interviewed

Sees No Likelihood of New Nazism

BONN (INS) — A prominent German who watched in anger 25 years ago today when Adolf Hitler seized power says there is no liklihood of a new nazism and a new fuehrer in Germany.

Prince Hubedtus Zu Loewenstein said the remnants of the Nazi old guard pose no threat 12 years after the end of World War II.

"As for youth, they no longer care for nazi trimmings," Loewenstein declared. "They know like we do that no 'classic nazi' in his senses can possibly hope to come to power again.

"Who would be crazy enough to turn the clock back and scrap the structure, the splendid vista of a new Europe, with its common market and constructive future? The nazis have no ammunition left."

The prince, scholar, author and lecturer, was a member of the Catholic Center party and leader of the Anti-Nazi, Anti-Communist Republican Youth Front in pre-Hitler days.

He was one of the brave band who sought to buck the nazis after Jan. 30, 1933. But he soon was forced to flee Germany. After living in the United States from 1936 to 1946, the prince returned to postwar Germany and served in the Bonn parliament for eight years.

In an interview, Loewenstein recalled:

"Ironically, most people tend to forget that Hitler achieved the office of chancellor by democratic process. At the time, although many of us foresaw the future, it was a fact that neither Hitler nor his movement had acquired their subsequent form or perpetrated their bloody atrocities."

On the shelves of the Prince's library are books documenting the crimes of Nazism, from the first attacks on personal freedoms to the concentration camps in which millions perished.

"How incredible it all seems today," he said. "This one man by threats, fear and torture succeeded in eliminating opponents of his regime.

"Yet our people did not yield easily. Had they done so, Hitler would not have needed the Gestapo, the Brownshirts, the SS."

Asked what formula Hitler used in his amazing rise the prince said:

"It is difficult to pin down. But it is a fact that he had an unequalled genius for promises and platitudes.

"Just as the Russians today use such phrases as 'do you deny you are for peace?' so Hitler . . .

"To the unemployed he promised socialism; to the industrialists protection from socialism. To the tenant farmers he pledged land reform; to the landowners he pledged protection against land reform. How could he lose?"

Cochise Sheriff Freed as Campaign Succeeds

BISBEE, Ariz. (AP)—The sheriff of Cochise, sprung from his own pokey, was a free man today.

Sheriff Jack Howard consented Monday to stay in the county jail as a publicity stunt for the local March of Dimes. The stunt succeeded. The drive exceeded its local $3,000 goal by $1,500 but the group still is plugging for $50,000 in nationwide donations.

Drive chairman Orrin Crandall decided to release the sheriff. After all, he said, if they waited until they got $50,000, the sheriff might have to stay in jail until he got a pardon from the governor.

Australian Flies Again

MELBOURNE (AP) — Australian Herbert Elliott last night ran the mile in 3:58.7 — the second time in five days he has clocked under four minutes.

Elliott beat Merv Lincoln in the invitation mile race at Olympic Park here. Lincoln's time was 3:59.

Dem Leader Paul Butler Confident of '58 Success

(How do the two major parties shape up for this November's congressional elections? INS brings you their views and estimates in a two-part series for publication beginning today.)

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON (INS) — Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler has a bag of tricks up his sleeve which he believes will help sweep the Donkey Party to the greatest landslide control of Congress since the record year of 1934.

The Hoosier politician concedes that "there's many a slip between January and November," but he amiably predicts that Democrats will gain at least 60 seats in the House and five in the Senate this fall.

Indications are that Butler, himself, will be in the driver's seat throughout the campaign. He promises to make his definite intentions known by March 1, but hints he will probably bow out of the Indiana race for the soon-to-be-vacated seat of incumbent top Senator William Jenner.

"My controversial self might split the race wide open," he grinned, "and we need to win that seat."

The national committee is heading into the crucial congressional campaign with a $700,000 debt left over from the '56 presidential campaign. The party collected $825,000 last year, but could spare less than a hundred thousand for its creditors.

This year the goal, according to Butler, will be at least $1,500,000. To help raise the staggering fund needed for the campaign, the national committee will stage a mail drive for sustaining memberships—a 10 dollar yearly minimum—and a doorbell-ringing drive for Dollars-for-Democrats.

The big annual fund-raising dinner, at $100 a plate, is set for Washington's birthday here in the capital. Once upon a time, the Democrats labeled this the Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner, but now the party has apparently discovered a new patron saint.

This year, for the first time since leaving the White House, Harry S. Truman will be honored by having the expensive splurge named for him.

The ex-prexy is expected to kick off the drive with a rousing give-'em-hell speech and assume an active speaker's role throughout the campaign.

"He's promised to do everything you could expect of a 73-year old man," Butler said, "and that's good enough for us."

The national chairman is currently composing a letter to all Democratic candidates which will plaintively urge them to fight Republicans instead of each other. He concedes that the temptation before the primaries is to lambast the immediate rival in preference to the opposition.

He is already mailing out to the candidates background material on all the issues, and voting records of the Republican incumbents who are up for re-election.

Shortly after Congress adjourns this summer, Butler will supply each with a fact book giving the record of both parties on all major issues. Interim fact sheets are now going out, and as Butler puts it: "We hope this will divert them from attacking their party rivals. They can extoll their own virtues to their heart's content, without aggravating their Democratic bedfellows."

Butler is delighted with the issues of the upcoming campaign. He thinks Democrats are a shoo-in for election if they talk about defense, inflation, the economic slowdown, unemployment, a shorter work week, the farm program and foreign policy.

"We're not going to let President Eisenhower take the high road anymore," he quipped, "while a couple of political bandits take the low road in his behalf."

Butler made it plain that the "political bandits" he has in mind are Vice President Nixon and "assistant president" Sherman Adams.

Already, he claims, the campaign is off to a rough start.

GOP Leaders Begin Charting Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican party leaders today begin charting their campaign to regain control of Congress in elections next fall.

The 26-member Executive Committee of the GOP National Committee arranged to meet today preliminary to a full committee meeting tomorrow with President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon.

Both sessions are private.

The two-day GOP conference will precede closed meetings Saturday and Sunday by the Democratic Advisory Council. The council will issue statements dealing with the administration's foreign-defense and economic policies.

Winds Hazard Testing of U.S. Earth Satellite

CAPE CANAVERAL (AP) — The weather has become one of the major hazards in the United States' earth satellite program.

Yesterday, strong winds buffeted the Florida east coast, making uncertain the time when the Army might try to put up a man-made "moon" with its Jupiter-C missile.

Last week, heavy rains were an important factor in the Navy's postponement of a second effort to launch a Vanguard satellite rocket and in the Air Force's failure to make a scheduled firing of a Thor ballistic missile.

High winds can make launching of some missiles extremely difficult.

At ground level, gusts of 20 to 30 miles an hour, such as those of yesterday, could exert a strong effect on a rocket in the early stages of its flight.

In the upper atmosphere, winds sometimes reach velocities that could topple a rocket.

Rain can flood underground conduits, shorting out the power supply to the launching complexes. That is what prevented the Thor firing Friday.

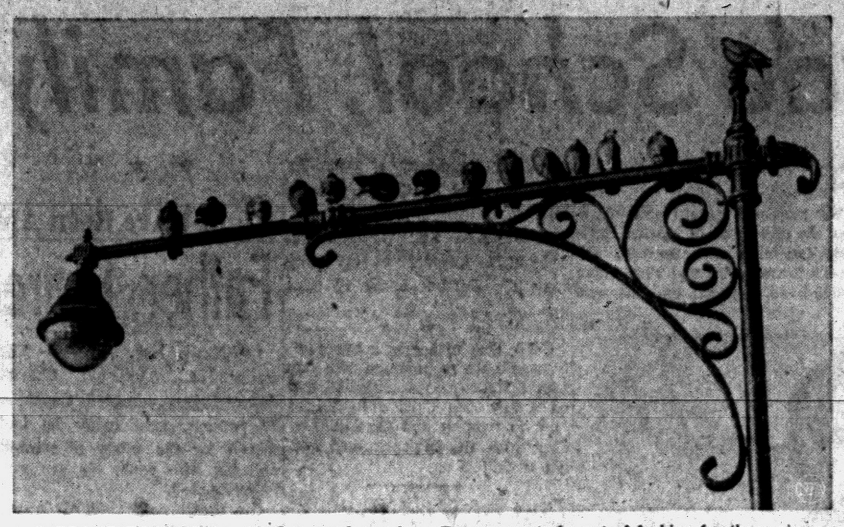

The Thor blasted off Tuesday. The Air Force announced immediately after the firing that it was a successful test.

Yesterday, after studying data gathered by recording stations on the missile test range, the Air Force said the missile deviated from its prescribed course. No further detail was given.

Port Becomes 'Pot'

SEATTLE (AP)—High winds blew out the "R" in the big "Port of Seattle" sign atop the port headquarters during a storm.

A PLACE TO LIGHT — And a good perch from which to get a bird's-eye view to spot any kind soul who may spread out bread crumbs. Trees seem to be out of fashion for these pigeons in New York City, who roost in a neat row atop a lamp post in Battery Park.

CD Schedules Hospital Course

Equipment to Be Used in Waterford Center for 13-Week Training

Various sections of the 200-bed state-owned portable hospital will be set up for a 13-week civil defense training course at the Community Activities Building in Waterford Township, according to Director Mrs. John Rise.

The course will begin Wednesday at 10 a.m. and 7 p.m. and will include instruction in casualty care, basic medical disaster plan, shock and burn treatment, contagion and isolation techniques.

General nursing, operating room technique, along with dressings, first aid and types of wounds, will be studied by the groups.

This is the first civil defense hospital to be set up in Oakland County, and it will serve as a medical training unit and also as an emergency hospital in times of disaster.

Mrs. Rise stressed the importance of men enrolling in the new course. "In case of a disaster, women just cannot lift the heavy equipment and carry loaded stretchers, therefore men are very vital to this program," she said.

Waterford Township and Clarkston residents are urgently needed to train in civil defense work, and the course is open to all who want to learn about disaster techniques, Mrs. Rise concluded.

Sash Lock Automatic

CHICAGO — A newly developed spring-actuated window-sash lock automatically locks when the window is closed, according to its Chicago manufacturer. The device is said to fit any standard wooden sash.

Urges Big Upswing in Bomber Output

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Jackson (D-Wash) today urged a big spurt in bomber production as one of the "things we need to do immediately to stay alive."

Jackson, a frequent critic of administration defense policies, also called for a quick stepup in production of long-range missiles and nuclear submarines capable of firing such missile. He said the Army should be built up.

In a speech prepared for the Senate, Jackson said the United States has lost "our two precious allies in past wars — time in which to mobilize, and distance to protect our homeland."

"Today whatever force is required, either to deter war or to win it if deterrence fails, must be on hand — ready at all times," he said.

Killer Kicked Out of Grade School, Family Says

Describe Youth as Gun-Crazy

Starkweathers Reveal Slayer of 10 as Defiant Good-for-Nothing

LINCOLN, Neb. (INS) — The family of 19-year-old Charles Starkweather, who has confessed killing 10 persons in a three-day crime spree, described him today as a swaggering good-for-nothing.

They said his favorite clothes included blue jeans and a black motorcycle jacket, that he was "mad at the world," devoted to comic books and that he was an expert marksman.

He stands only 5 feet 5 inches, weighs 140 pounds, has green eyes and dark-red hair cut short on top.

When he confessed the slayings in Douglas, Wyo., he had blackened his hair with shoe polish and donned glasses as a disguise.

Over his right eye there is a short scar.

Now, as he sits in a jail cell, there is a bandage on his ear and on his hand where he was nicked by flying glass from the rear window of the stolen car he was driving when he was shot at and caught by Wyoming authorities.

Starkweather is very bowlegged and a little pigeon - toed.

WALKS WITH SWAGGER

But his family said he walks with a swagger in black and white cowboy boots.

Mrs. Rodney Starkweather, his sister-in-law, recalls that Charles would lean from the cab of a garbage truck on which he worked and would shout at strangers: "Go to H---."

Friends and family alike agreed that he was tossed out of grade school because he had "too many fights." His father ordered him to leave the family home six months ago after a quarrel. His landlady locked him out of his room for nonpayment of rent.

Mrs. Starkweather said:

"Chuck would lounge in the cab of my husband's truck and read comic books while Rodney did all the work.

"He was so worthless on his job that his brother demanded he be fired.

"My husband, Rodney, once told his mother and me something that frightened us. He said that when he and Chuck went hunting and Chuck was using an automatic rifle, he could not quit shooting once he started to pull the trigger. He would shoot crazy-like and empty the gun at no target at all."

Rodney said that Chuck was "a crack shot — the game he shot always were shot in the head."

Nine of the 10 murder victims were shot in the head. The only exception was the three-year-old half-sister of Caril Fugate, his 14-year-old sweetheart who said she was his hostage during the three-day shooting spree. The three-year-old was beaten and died of a skull fracture.

Caril was described by friends as plump and although only 14, was well developed physically and easily was taken for 18.

Caril and Charles had been going steady for 18 months.

Caril's father, William Fugate, said: "I don't know whether they planned to get married or what."

But the couple went together despite the objections of Marion Bartlett, the man who married Fugate's former wife and with whom Caril lived. Bartlett and his wife and their three-year-old daughter were the first of the 10 persons killed.

Fugate said that Bartlett had ordered Starkweather to stay away from the Bartlett home 10 days ago.

Caril, despite her age, apparently was able to manage her boy friend. Rodney's wife recalled that on a hay ride Caril and Charles "got to fighting and Caril pushed Chuck off the hayrack and hurt his back."

Michael Gets News From Clergyman

WALLINGFORD, Conn. (INS)— It was the sad duty of an Episcopal clergyman and longtime family friend to break the news to 14-year-old Michael Ward that his parents had been slain by the mad killer of Lincoln, Nebr.

Michael was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Lauer Ward, who were killed by Charles Starkweather in their Lincoln home. Starkweather was captured yesterday in Douglas, Wyo.

The boy is attending Choate School in Wallingford.

The Rev. David Gracey of St. Michael's Episcopal Church in Waterbury received a telephone call from Michael's uncle telling him of the tragedy and asking him to break the news to the boy.

Dr. Gracey had served in Lincoln before coming to Waterbury in 1956 and had been a close friend of the Ward family. He broke the sad news to Michael in the headmaster's office.

List of Victims in 48-Hour Killing Spree:

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — The victims slain in a 48-hour period in a shooting rampage by 19-year-old Charles Starkweather:

Marion Bartlett, 57, Lincoln, Caril's stepfather; Velda Bartlett, 37, Lincoln, her mother; and Betty Jean Bartlett, not quite 3, their daughter.

August Meyer, 70, Bennet farmer; Robert Jensen, 17, Bennet high school student; and Carol King, 16, Bennet, Robert's girl friend.

C. Lauer Ward, 47, Lincoln business man; Clara Ward, 47, his wife; and Lillian Fencel, 51, the Wards' housekeeper.

Merle Collison, 37, Great Falls, Mont., salesman.

Might Have Been Among 10 Killed

Father Feared for Safety

LINCOLN, Neb. (INS) — The father of nine persons in Nebraska and one in Wyoming) has him wrapped around her little finger. He may still be sick from a recent severe cold and he is to lose his sight within a year."

Starkweather said Charles was hit on the forehead with a piece of lumber a few years ago and that he disclosed recently a doctor told him we would "be blind in a year unless he got special glasses."

Charles left home about six months ago, his father said, and took a room in downtown Lincoln when Starkweather objected to him letting Miss Fugate drive the car which was owned jointly by father and son.

The father added:

"I just don't know what caused all this. But it's sure too bad. So many people dead."

The elder Starkweather said that since his son's capture, irate citizens have called him on the telephone and have walked past his home. He added:

"They're beginning to get mean."

Murder Rampages Dot Pages of Criminal Records in U.S.

CHICAGO (INS)—Murder sprees dot the pages of crime annals in the United States.

Experts on crime agreed today that this week's shooting rampage of the Lincoln, Neb., youth, 19-year-old Charles Starkweather, who has admitted slaying 10 persons during a three-day trigger-happy binge through Nebraska and Wyoming, probably is one of the most cold-hearted on record.

13 MASSACRED

But they point to the September 1949 massacre of 13 persons by Howard Unruh, 28, a Bible-reading Army veteran, as one of the most senseless sprees.

Unruh walked down a Camden, N.J., business street, firing his German Luger at whomever he saw. He said: "People were talking about me and making derogatory remarks about my character." He was sent to an asylum.

Last month a bizarre career in killing and grave robbing came to light in Plainfield, Wis., at the farm home of Edward Gein. Skulls and other human remains from about 13 bodies were found around his home. Gein admitted killing two women but said he dug the other remnants from graves. He was adjudged insane.

BLOODY TRAIL

In January 1951, a hitchhiker killer, William E. Cook, 23, left a bloody trail across the Southwest, killing eight persons. Captured in Mexico, he died in the gas chamber in California.

In Chicago yesterday, Leslie Irvin, whose "Chinese style" executions of six persons earned him the title of "mad dog" killer, lost a plea in the U.S. Court of Appeals for a stay of execution and was sent back to prison at Michigan City, Ind., where he now awaits death in the electric chair.

Irvin, 33, left a trail of victims from his hometown of Evansville, Ind., to Kentucky and back into Indiana through 1954 and 1955. His trade-mark was a corpse found kneeling, hands bound behind the back, and a bullet hole in the back of the skull. The method was similar to field "executions" committed in Red China.

In April 1953, a crazed Lawrence, Mass., tinswith, Peter Akulonis, 39, killed eight members of his family with gun and axe and fatally shot himself as police closed in.

Frank Holt, an unemployed miner, killed four of his children by bludgeoning them with a crowbar and stamping on them in Steubenville, Ohio, in December 1953. He said, "God told me to kill them to save them from the tortures and torments of the devil."

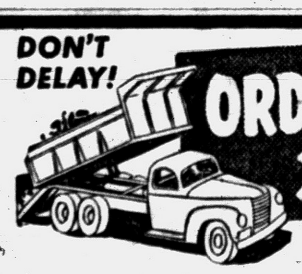

Near Vineland, N.J., another ex-GI gunned five of his relatives to death in November 1950.

ACCUSED MURDERER IN JAIL — Charles Starkweather, 19, whose capture in Douglas, Wyo. Wednesday afternoon ended one of Nebraska's most extensive manhunts, rests in a Converse County jail cell in Douglas. The youth is believed responsible for the death of possibly 10 persons in Nebraska and Wyoming.

Parke Davis to Build Branch in Bombay

DETROIT (INS) — Parke, Davis has announced a plan to construct a new manufacturing laboratory and branch office in Bombay, India.

Vice President and director of overseas operations, W. R. Jeeves, said construction of the new 100,000 foot facility is expected to begin by mid-year.

The new expansion will be built on a 12-acre site located at the northern limits of greater Bombay, near the Bombay airport.

Jeeves said the present branch presently employs 270 persons. "It is expected," he added, "that when the expansion program has been completed, additional personnel will be needed."

2 Energetic Admirers of Girl Let Her Know

CHICAGO (AP)—Energetic admirers of a girl office worker stamped a giant greeting in the snow in front of Chicago's tallest building, the 40-story Prudential Building. It was visible to hundreds of persons.

Written in the snow in a park in front of the building was: "Miss D. for Dietz." It honored Jean Dietz, 22. The job was done by two coworkers.

Her appraisal: "I nearly died."

Entertainers Married

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Film actor Paul Newman, 33, and actress Joanne Woodward, 37, were married last night. The wedding was held at the home of a Las Vegas hotel owner, Beldon Katleman.

J. Cloyd Miller of New Mexico Believes:

Science Needs Quality, Not Quantity

By CHARLES L. STAFFORD
AP Staff Writer

One educator put it this way: "We won't launch any satellites by turning out a lot of students in science fields.

"We may by turning out better ones."

He is J. Cloyd Miller, a member of the New Mexico State Board of Education. He was discussing a tough new rule that will send most of the science teachers in his state back to school.

Says Miller: "If they have been out a long while they need refreshing in their fields. Science is something which doesn't stand still."

Since the Russians successfully launched the first moon in October, Americans have been asking whether our educational system has failed, and if so where.

An Associated Press survey carried the question across the country to educators at both the state and local levels. At the state level, it found signs of positive action and a wealth of ideas. Several states have taken steps to improve science teaching, broaden the scope of science courses and give talented students new opportunities to learn. Others are studying what needs to be done.

New Mexico is seeking better teaching. This may be a natural thing. New Mexico first joined the atom age. The first A-bomb was tested there, and high priority installations dot the state.

The new rule that Miller mentions almost triples the amount of study a teacher needs to teach science.

By Sept. 1, 1960, he says a science teacher must have 24 hours in laboratory courses, including eight hours of physics and one course each in chemistry and biology. Two years later, the minimum requirement will be 36 hours of science.

"My idea is that if we'd had these strict requirements in the past—and could have gotten the teachers—we (the United States) would have been in a much better position today," says Miller, who also is president of New Mexico Western College.

The New York State Board of Regents has proposed a multi-million-dollar program.

The plan includes an increase in scholarships from 6,000 to 12,000, including 500 more for engineering and science students. It would add one hour to the 5½ hours of daily classroom work in junior and senior high schools.

An extra million dollars a year would be spent helping schools establish experimental courses in science. Special aid also would be provided for teachers wishing to return to college and for gifted students.

In Kansas, the State Board of Education is considering new requirements for high school graduation. They would include: four years of English, two of science, at least two of mathematics, three of social science and two of health and physical education. Present requirements are three years of English, one of science, one of mathematics, 1½ of social science and one of physical education.

New standards requiring high school students to complete at least one year of mathematics have been adopted in New Hampshire. Previously the only state requirements were three years of English and one of American history.

New Hampshire and Vermont high school physics students attend monthly lectures at Dartmouth by members of the college's physics faculty.

In Florida, youngsters have been getting an early baptism of science for almost two decades. In 1938, science text books were provided for the first six grades. A few years later, science and mathematics requirements were established for all students in the first nine grades.

Tomorrow—Education's reaction to Sputnik at the grass roots.

By American Cancer Society Unit

196 New Patients Serviced

The North Oakland County Unit of the American Cancer Society serviced 196 new patients during the past 15 months compared to 116 the previous year, according to Mrs. Philip Francis, unit volunteer activities chairman.

The unit services approximately 50 patients per month.

Since November 1956, the 800 volunteers have sewed 110,314 cancer pads in six different sizes. These dressings were also given to non-cancerous patients. Approximately every two out of three patients serviced had cancer.

The volunteers also presented 261 film programs to civic women, church and service groups as well as schools throughout the county during the past 15 months. At least 13,815 residents attended the program.

The local unit loans beds, wheelchairs, bedside tables, hospital gowns, sick room supplies and rubber sheets throughout the year to needy county residents who are ill, according to Mrs. Francis.

In 1957, two new branches were organized in the county. These were in Lake Orion and Clarkston and both have service centers for the convenience of patients and sewing groups. This brings the total number of branches to 12. Four more are expected to be organized soon.

During the fiscal year of 1956-57 which ended in October, the unit collected $31,118 compared to the $28,575 the previous year. This money was collected through memorials the crusade gifts and United Fund.

City Youngsters Form Companies to Learn Functioning of Industries

By SYLVIA de STEIGER

The second floor of an East Pike street building is occupied four evenings a week by some of the most enthusiastic, hardworking and yet, lowest paid employes in Pontiac.

These 265 persons work part-time at 20½ E. Pike St., the Pontiac Junior Achievement Business Center.

They are the stockholders, officers, production-line workers and salesmen for one of the 12 companies organized by themselves and sponsored by a local industry or business firm.

These people are mostly high school juniors and seniors, but they can be from 15 to 21 years old.

Their purpose in belonging to JA is five-fold: to better learn and understand the functions of the various branches of industry, the business world and free enterprise system procedures; to prepare themselves to aid their community; to create a spirit of loyalty to an organized activity by working for each other together; and to have a good time.

DRIVE BEGINS

This week is National Junior Achievement Week. It also marks the beginning of the annual fund-raising drive conducted by local businessmen in order to continue their support of the youth program. The goal this year is to raise $11,000 to operate the center, according to Noyce W. Strait, chairman.

A Junior Achievement company is actually a miniature adult business. It operates the same way, although some of the individual members double up on duties.

Each company is a corporation and is owned by stockholders who can purchase no more than five shares at 50 cents each. It's up to the members of the company to decide how much stock they need and then go out and convince their friends and relatives to invest in their company.

COMPANY BOARD

Each company has a board of directors composed of all of the achievers in the company. Each company meets one evening a week from 7 to 9 p.m.

The youngsters forming a company function part of the time as the company's board of directors. The rest of the time they are manufacturing, assembling, sawing, sanding, painting and eventually ringing doorbells to sell their product. They participate in every phase of the life of their product . . . the most important factor in the company's success.

To give them a good start and aid them in solving their business problems during the organization of the corporation are three advisors from the sponsoring adult company. Each company furnishes a sales, production and a business advisor. They meet weekly with the company voluntarily.

SETS UP PROCEDURES

Each company sets up its own procedures. Some pay stock dividends and employe wages at the end of the year when each company is liquidated. Others, who have kept production and sales up, do it monthly. The wages of a worker may range from six to 30 cents an hour depending on the financial status of the company. Officers are paid a little more.

The local sponsors of the 12 companies are: GMC Truck and Coach Division; Detroit Edison Company; Baldwin Rubber Company; Consumers Power Company; Michigan Bell Telephone Company; Pure Oil Company; Standard Oil Company and Fisher Body Division. The Pontiac Motor Division sponsors two companies.

The members of each company decide what they are going to produce and sell. The items vary from automobile mats, aprons, hot pads, memo pads, candles, and bread boards to planters. The average retail price for each product is two dollars, according to Robert Mehoke, JA company coordinator.

The local center has two sanders, two drill presses, a table saw, two band saws and a jig saw to aid the companies in production.

Each company pays three dollars rent per month for the use of the building.

BREAKS EVEN

Most of the time, the companies at least break even when they total up the books at the end of the fiscal year in May. If they do go in the red, the most a stockholder can lose is $2.50.

Carroll Osmun, member of the board of directors of the Junior Achievement of Southeastern Michigan, claims the main overall problem of JA in Pontiac is that there are more youngsters interested in becoming achievers than there are sponsors or building facilities. Junior Achievement has been operating in Pontiac for eight years.

ASSEMBLE PRODUCT — Jamco, the local Junior Achievement company sponsored by the Community National Bank, assembles a product called a Tru-Line, a device used to line up rows for a garden and lawn borders. Left to right are: Jan Thomas, of 2 Utica Rd., treasurer; Richard Benham, sales advisor representing the bank; Jim Harrington, of Waterford Township, president and Mary Long, of West Bloomfield Township.

FULL SPEED AHEAD — Employes and stockholders of the JA Reddy Company are also the producers of the aprons and yarn dogs they sell. The company, composed of girls mostly and sponsored by the Detroit Edison Co., rented these sewing machines to produce the aprons which vary in style and pattern to provide a complete line for all occasions. Left to right are: Ann Whiting, Mary Anne Reynolds, vice president; Gloria Cunningham and Bonnie Abbott.

2 State Men Elected by Shipmasters Assn.

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — Two Michigan men were appointed officers of the International Shipmasters Assn. at its annual meeting here.

Kiwanis Donates $500 for New City Playground

The North Pontiac Kiwanis Club presented a $500 check to the Pontiac Department of Parks and Recreation for the development of a new park, Wednesday, at a noontime luncheon meeting.

James Mann, chairman of the club's youth committee, handed the check over to John Streit, assistant department director, for use in developing a playground this year.

The new park area, located on Osmun Lake, will be gradually developed in the next few years. The playground, which is the first step in development, will be located at Stanley and Emiry avenues.

It will be financed through a co-operative arrangement between the club and department.

Wednesday's meeting was held at the Moose Lodge, 350 Mt. Clemens St.

THE STORY SO FAR: A blind in a train passing hers snaps up and respectable Mrs. McGillicuddy, on a prosaic trip to visit her friend, Miss Marple, a flattery old lady with a shrewd brain and a gift for solving crimes, sees a man strangling a woman. After several trips over Mrs. McGillicuddy's route, Miss Marple figures that the body must have been thrown out as the train passed the neglected park of Rutherford Hall, built by Mr. Crackenthorpe, rich manufacturer. She asks Lucy Eyelesbarrow, brilliant young woman, who has made for herself a unique profession—taking temporary charge of households and running them like magic—to get herself employed at Rutherford Hall. Emma, Crackenthorpe's daughter, engages her. In a barn, Lucy pries open a sarcophagus and finds the body of a murdered woman. Mrs. McGillicuddy identifies the picture of the murdered woman as that of the woman she saw in the train. Just before Christmas, Martine, the girl Lt. Edmund Crackenthorpe, who was killed in the war, was going to marry, wrote Emma asking if she might visit them but later canceled the visit. French police find Anna Stravinska, dancer, left her show and there's no further record. If Edmund had a son he'd inherit Rutherford Hall and share in the trust. Harold Crackenthorpe resents further questioning by Inspector Craddock.

Alfred Crackenthorpe had a flat in West Hampstead, in a big modern building of slightly jerry built type with a large courtyard in which the owners of flats parked their cars with a certain lack of consideration for others.

The flat was of the modern built-in type, evidently rented furnished. It had a long plywood table that let down from the wall, a divan bed, and various chairs of improbable proportions.

Alfred Crackenthorpe met them with engaging friendliness but was, the Inspector thought, nervous.

"I'm intrigued," he said. "Can I offer you a drink, Inspector Craddock?" He held up various bottles invitingly.

"No, thank you, Mr. Crackenthorpe."

"As bad as that?" he laughed at his own little joke, then asked what it was all about.

Inspector Craddock said his little piece.

"What was I doing on the afternoon and evening of December 20th. How should I know? Why, that's — what — over three weeks ago."

"Your brother Harold has been able to tell us very exactly."

"Brother Harold, perhaps. Not brother Alfred." He added with a touch of something — envious malice possibly: "Harold is the successful member of the family —busy, useful, fully employed— a time for everything — and everything at that time. Even if he were to commit a — murder, shall we say?—it would be carefully timed and exact."

"Any particular reason for using that example?"

"Oh no—it just came into my mind—as a supreme absurdity."

"Now about yourself."

Alfred spread out his hands.

"It's as I tell you — I've no memory for times or places. If you were to say Christmas Day now—then I should be able to answer you—there's a peg to hang it on. I know where I was Christmas Day. We spend that with my father at Brackhampton. I really don't know why. He grumbles at the expense of having us—and would grumble that we never came near him if we didn't come. We really do it to please my sister."

"And you did it this year?"

"Yes."

"But unfortunately your father was taken ill, was he not?"

Craddock was pursuing a sideline deliberately, led by the kind of instinct that often came to him in his profession.

"He was taken ill. Living like a sparrow in the glorious cause of economy, sudden full eating and drinking had its effect."

"That was all it was, was it?"

"Of course. What else?"

"I gathered that his doctor was —worried."

"Oh, that old fool Quimper," Alfred spoke quickly and scornfully. "It's no use listening to him, Inspector. He's an alarmist of the worst kind."

"Indeed? He seemed a rather sensible kind of man to me."

"He's a complete fool. Father's not really an invalid, there's nothing wrong with his heart, but he takes in Quimper completely. Naturally when father really felt ill, he made a terrific fuss, and had Quimper going and coming, everything he'd eaten and drunk. The whole thing was ridiculous!" Alfred spoke with unusual heat.

Craddock was silent for a moment or two, rather effectively. Alfred fidgeted, shot him a quick glance, and then said petulantly:

"Well, what is all this? Why do you want to know where I was on a particular Friday, three or four weeks ago?"

"So you do remember that it was a Friday?"

"I thought you said so."

"Perhaps I did," said Inspector Craddock. "At any rate, Friday 20th is the day I am asking about"

"Why"

"A routine inquiry."

"That's nonsense. Have you found out something more about this woman? About where she came from?"

"Our information is not yet complete."

Alfred gave him a sharp glance.

"I hope you're not being led aside by this wild theory of Emma's that she might have been my brother Edmund's widow. That's complete nonsense."

"This—Martine, did not at any time apply to you?"

"To me? Good Lord, no. That would have been a laugh."

"She would be more likely, you think, to go to your brother Harold?"

"Much more likely. His name's frequently in the papers. He's well off. Trying a touch there wouldn't surprise me. Not that she'd have got anything. Harold's as tight-fisted as the old man himself. Emma, of course, is the soft hearted one of the family, and she was Edmund's favorite sister. All the same, Emma isn't credulous. She was quite alive to the possibility of this woman being phoney. She had it all laid on for the entire family to be there—and a hard-headed solicitor as well."

"Very wise," said Craddock. "Was there a definite date fixed for this meeting?"

"It was to be soon after Christmas—the weekend of the 27th—" He stopped.

"Ah," said Craddock pleasantly. "So I see some dates have a meaning to you."

"I've told you—no definite date was fixed."

"But you talked about it — when?"

"I really can't remember."

"And you can't tell me what you yourself were doing on Friday, December 20th?"

"Sorry—my mind's an absolute blank."

"You don't keep an engagement book?"

"Can't stand the things."

"The Friday before Christmas—it shouldn't be too difficult."

"I played golf one day with a likely prospect." Alfred shook his head. "No, that was the week before I probably just mooched around. I spend a lot of my time doing that. I find one's business gets done in bars more than anywhere else."

"Perhaps the people here, or some of your friends, may be able to help?"

"Maybe. I'll ask them. Do what I can."

Alfred seemed more sure of himself now.

"I can't tell you what I was doing that day," he said, "but I can tell you what I wasn't doing. I wasn't murdering anyone in the Long Barn."

"Why should you say that, Mr. Crackenthorpe?"

"Come now, my dear Inspector. You're investigating this murder, aren't you? And when you begin to ask 'Where were you on such and such a day at such and such a time?' you're narrowing down things. I'd very much like to know why you've hit on Friday the 20th between— what? lunch time and midnight? It couldn't be medical evidence, not after all this time. Did somebody see the deceased sneaking into the barn that afternoon? She went in and she never came out etc.? Is that it?"

The sharp black eyes were watching him narrowly, but Inspector Craddock was far too old a hand to react to that sort of thing.

"I'm afraid we'll have to let you guess about that," he said pleasantly.

"The police are so secretive."

"Not only the police. I think, Mr. Crackenthorpe you could remember what you were doing on that Friday if you tried. Of course you may have reasons for not wishing to remember—"

"You won't catch me that way, Inspector. It's very suspicious, of course, very suspicious, indeed, that I can't remember—but there it is! Wait a minute now—I went to Leeds that week—stayed at a hotel close to the Town Hall—can't remember its name—but you'd find it easily enough. That might have been on the Friday."

"We'll check up," said the Inspector unemotionally.

Planning to Spend $3,000,000,000

BRUSSELS—Belgium has decided to go ahead with the vast three billion dollar Inga Rapids power project on the Congo River in the Belgian Congo.

When completed, Inga will have a capacity of more than 25,000,000 kilowatt hours, dwarfing all other power projects. It will provide the world's cheapest power for an industrial complex that is expected to rival West Germany's Ruhr in its potential.

American aluminum and plywood interests are discussing participation in the development which is too huge for Belgian firms alone to execute.

South Africa Bans Coward's Records

JOHANNESBURG, S. A.—Noel Coward, playwright, composer and cabaret star, has earned the disapproval of the South African Broadcasting Corp., Johannesburg learns.

A total ban has been placed on seven numbers from his long-playing record "Noel Coward in New York."

Numbers banned include "Half Caste Woman," a poetic song; "I Went to a Party," a satirical monologue, and "I Like America." Coward's other long-player, 'Noel Coward in Las Vegas," had already been banned.

In other surprise actions the censors banned the record "Happy Days Are Here Again" for Sunday playing only, and "Oh John," by red-headed Eartha Kitt of America.

Walter Slezak Remains Monument to Fine Eating

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Amid a nation of calorie counters, Walter Slezak stands out as a monument to good eating.

A porcine 270 pounds, the 61-year-old actor is fat and likes it.

"I simply like the good things in life too much," he explained, "and that means eating and drinking. Oddly enough, I am an erratic eater during the day. I may have just a bite for breakfast and catch a fast lunch. But dinner—ah! that is when I lose my head.

"I also like to drink, though I never get drunk. I always eat when I drink—perhaps that is the secret. I have a couple of highballs before dinner and a bottle of beer or two with it."

Slezak is here from his Eastern home to do a Playhouse 90 on CBS-TV tonight and he interrupted rehearsals to enjoy a hearty lunch: bloody Mary, chicken liver omelette, etc.

"Seven calories," he said, holding up a wholewheat cracker before popping it into his mouth. "You see, I know the calorie count of every item of food. But I don't let it bother me.

"Oh, I used to hold my weight down. When I was a leading man in Europe, I once went to a Swiss sanitorium because I felt I should be slimmer. They took the weight off scientifically and I dropped from 185 to 165 pounds.

"But when I came out, I was like a lion, snarling at everyone. Since reducing did that to me, I said to hell with it, let it spread. I got fat and I've been finding roles steadily for the past 15 years."

Don't his doctors urge him to reduce?

"Of course. Every one of them does. They say I will live longer if I take off weight. And I must pay about 7 per cent more in insurance premiums, which would be reduced if I became 50 pounds lighter for six months.

"But I think they are sticking blindly to statistics. I've known a lot of fat men who have lived to be 70 and 80 years old and a lot of skinny ones who have died young. Look at Ezio Pinza (his costar in 'Fanny'). He didn't have an ounce of fat on him.

"My theory is that tension and frustration can do more to shorten your life than overweight. I've seen too many people become miserable because they constantly watched their weight. That's not for me."

Junior Editors Quiz on ENGLAND

QUESTION: How did John Bull come to stand for England?

ANSWER: The character John Bull, a honest, amiable but hot tempered farmer, was created by John Arbuthnot, a Scotch historian, in 1727. He used it as a symbol for England in his "History of John Bull." His description was the basis for a drawing by Sir Francis Carruthers Gould. Just as Uncle Sam typifies the United States, sturdy John Bull became recognized everywhere as a symbol of England. He is usually shown wearing a swallow tail coat, with outlines of the British flag across his waistcoat, trousers tucked into his boots and a tall hat.

FOR YOU TO DO: Paste this picture down on cardboard and color it with your crayons. From a map of England and Scotland, trace in the location of the major cities on the outline map in the background. Can you think of any other legendary characters or figures that symbolize other countries? What countries do you associate with the shamrock, rising sun, Star of David and the maple leaf?

U.S. to Release Soviet 'Secrets'

Over 50,000 Scientific Documents Reportedly Set for Distribution

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The government has decided to let down all the bars and release for immediate public use more than 50,000 Soviet scientific documents a year, an authoritative source revealed today.

Every agency in the government which now translates such Soviet literature has agreed to take part in the plan, he said.

"No longer will the documents be stamped 'secret' and left to gather dust in the files," he said. "From now on, all this important scientific material is going to be distributed to the nation's scientists just as fast as it can be handled."

The sharp reversal in government policy was revealed by a source close to the government who is here as a delegate to the conference of American Abstracting and Indexing Services. He asked not to be further identified.

The bulk of the Soviet literature will be made available by the Central Intelligence Agency and the Air Force's Air Information Division. The Air Force set up its own intelligence agency to handle Soviet documents some years ago. It has been using the facilities of the Library of Congress.

The material to be released first is current literature which has been received and translated within the past year. A backlog estimated to contain hundreds of thousands of documents will be released in small batches so the flood of literature doesn't swamp the country's scientists.

Most of the material has been "secret" only insofar as this country is concerned. All has been published openly in the Soviet Union, or in such European countries as East and West Germany and France.

EDENVALE, South Africa — A man with a bullet which does not kill but only paralyzes will make another attempt in 1958 to attain wider use for it.

After the bullet has found its target, the animal will walk no more than 400 yards before collapsing, he claims.

It contains curare, which American Indians used as poison for their arrows. Dr. Marais will try it out in 1958 on a big-game capturing trip.

Actress Divorces Beverly Hills Oilman

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Actress Nancy Valentine, 30, once married to the Maharajah of Cooch Behar, India, has divorced Frederick Tillinghast III, Beverly Hills oilman and stockbroker.

She testified in Superior Court yesterday that he has been unfaithful to her and bragged openly about his conquests of other women.

"He would tell our friends that I was a peasant and that he was Frederick Tillinghast III," she told Judge Allen T. Lynch.

Tillinghast, 37, agreed to pay $100 monthly support for their daughter Darin Elizabeth, 9 months, and $1 a month token alimony.

They were married in 1956 in a Yoga ceremony at nearby Pacific Palisades. Miss Valentine's 1948 marriage to the Maharajah of Cooch Behar was annulled after the Indian government refused to recognize it.

MERCED, Calif. (AP) — If and when President Eisenhower decides to switch from the Columbine to a jet-propelled plane, his crew will be ready.

Col. William G. Draper, commander of the Columbine, and his navigator and flight engineer began an 11-week course at Castle Air Force Base yesterday to familiarize themselves with the KC135 jet tanker.

Described in Detail

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A thief snatched a large corduroy handbag from a woman. Police asked her to submit a description of the bag and its contents. She did. The list covered four hand-written pages.

Pacific Defense Talks Called Great Success

HONOLULU (AP)—Adm. Felix B. Stump, U.S. commander in chief in the Pacific, said three-day top-level secret talks on Pacific defenses that ended yesterday were "a great success."

The gathering of six Pacific commanders was the largest since the Korean conflict.

A statement said the conference covered military aid to Asian nations, effective administration of the mutual security program and relations between military personnel and civilians in Far Eastern countries.

Two Daredevils on Log Race on Angry River

EUREKA, Calif. (AP)—Two daring young men on big logs staged a 10-mile race on the rain-swollen south fork of the Eel River yesterday while hundreds of curious motorists watched from Highway 101.

The race had no winner.

Unsmiling deputy sheriffs ordered Eugene C. Smith, 18, and Clifford J. Bates, 26, ashore and charged them with disturbing the peace.

They said the river was not even safe for a good-sized boat.

Vast Acreage Used

MINNEAPOLIS — A Minnesota firm which calls itself the largest "creative processor" of vegetable oils consumed nearly 35,000,000 bushels of soybeans and flaxseed in 1957 — providing a market for about 2,500,000 acres of farm crops.

Stories on Love Called Great for Box Office

NEW YORK (INS) — Mervyn Le Roy is a Hollywood movie producer who wears silk monogrammed shirts, dark glasses and big black cigars.

His son, Warner Le Roy, is a New York theatrical producer who wears red and black sports shirts, loafers and a two-day growth of beard.

BELIEVE IN LOVE

But father and son see eye-to-eye professionally, if not sartorially. They both believe in love — as a box office draw.

"Love," says the elder Le Roy, "is going to be the next big cycle in movies. The kind of love that makes a great woman's picture."

"I agree that the only good story is a love story," says the younger Le Roy. "Just plain clean love, without undershirts." He was referring to the Marlon Brando—James Dean type of movie as the "undershirt" story.

STARTS CYCLE

Movie producer Le Roy, who's credited with starting such Hollywood cycles as gangster pictures and musicals, has recently been running a cycle of his own: buying successful Broadway plays and translating them intact onto film.

The plays his son is currently producing, two one-acters by Tennessee Williams, may not fit into a Hollywood translation. They're above love, but on what young Le Roy admits is "the negative angle." One play mixes love with cannibalism, which is definitely not what father Le Roy has in mind.

"The kind of love story I'd like to produce," said Mervyn, "would first of all be a great story on the topic of love. Then I would add beautiful clothes to please women, as many beautiful girls as fit the story, and as many good-looking real men as fit the story. Add conflict — something to root for — and it should be great."

SON AGREES

His son agreed with this formula, adding:

"A good love story is the hardest thing in the world to find. How many Romeo and Juliet's or Camille's are there? These undershirt love stories we've had just don't make you care; I think audiences are asking for stimulation of the heart again."

The younger Le Roy, who says the only reason he doesn't smoke cigars like his dad is because he tried them once and got sick, has no intention of giving his family any competition in Hollywood.

"I'm only 22," he grinned, "but with my family I was an actor at six and a film technician at 16. Never worked with my father, though. We're both rather independent and we never thought it was a good idea."

Though his son prefers Broadway, Le Roy inisists that neither theater nor TV is "about to make Hollywood drop dead."

"If you have great movies," he said, "you'll get people into the movie theaters."

And what makes a great picture, or a great play?

"Love is the number one topic," says the elder Le Roy.

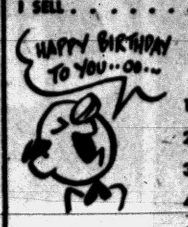

"It's the greatest and most moving emotion in life," says the younger Le Roy.

And, they both admit, at the box office, love is also profitable.

Won't 'Borrow' Bikes

COVINGTON, Ky. (UP)—An 11-year-old youngster had been cited several times for "borrowing" unattended bicycles. Police learned the boy's family couldn't afford to buy one, so officers chipped in and bought a used bike. The youngster promised he wouldn't "borrow" any more bikes.

FIGHTS POISON IVY — Even if spring is far away, thousands of poison ivy sufferers can look forward to its coming without any sense of dread. Dr. Charles R. Dawson, above, a chemistry professor at Columbia University, seems to have found an effective weapon against poison ivy. The weapon is a chemical compound "made" in Dawson's laboratory at the university. Tests of the compound, which is injected under the skin of the arm, gave summer-long immunity to persons who had been highly sensitive to poison ivy.

Delinquent Said Getting Younger

Crime Doctor Believes More Women Police Might Help

TOKYO (INS) — A leading woman criminologist has found that juvenile delinquents—"the number one problem of police departments all over the world" — are getting younger all the time.

And the lady, Dr. Lois L. Higgins of Chicago, adds that the trend is likely to continue for some time.

Dr. Higgins, a petite, 49-year-old blonde who's been a "lady cop" for 20 years, was interviewed in Tokyo during a world-wide fact-finding trip on delinquency and crime prevention.

"The age of delinquents keeps getting lower," she said. "I've seen it all over. I saw it in Europe in 1954; I'm seeing it now in Asia; and it's certainly true in the U. S."

Dr. Higgins, director of the Illinois Crime Prevention Bureau and president of the International Association of Women Police, urged that more women be recruited to combat delinquency.

HAVE INSTINCTIVE TOUCH

"Juvenile delinquency is a problem that's gotten out of hand around the world," she said. "Women police may be of some help—they have the right touch with children, an instinctive touch. Why not use more of them?"

3 MAJOR PROBLEMS

Dr. Higgins said criminologists agree that girls of 16 and boys of 15 are "at the most vulnerable ages where delinquency is concerned." She added that the three major problems were runaways, sex offenders and thieves, in that order.

"What explains it?" she asked. "Well, there's been a breakdown in social organizations all over the world. There's more mobility, less security and shallower roots.

"There once was a time when the neighbors could go up to an erring boy and tell him, 'look, Johnny, you'd better straighten out.' But today the neighbors don't even know who Johnny is."

Vet Trust Fund Offices to Close Wednesdays

The Michigan Veterans' Trust Fund has announced that its local offices, at 1 Lafayette St., and the Royal Oak Branch, at 111 S. Troy St., will no longer be open on Wednesdays for the purpose of accepting applications.

Because of a backlog of applications, Wednesdays will be devoted entirely to processing and presenting for payment the applications already taken, according to Fred S. Galloway, director of the Oakland County Department of Veterans Affairs.

Deodorant Sales Up

NEW YORK—Americans spent an estimated $54,000,000 in 1957 for deodorant-type hand bar soaps. In 1952 the deodorant soaps' share of the market was only 15 per cent.

Hal Boyle Says:

Our Millionaires Falling Upon Sad Times

NEW YORK (AP) — Sidewalk scrawls of a Pavement Plato:

Victorian England saw the rise of societies for the alleviation of the poor. What is needed in America today is a society for the amelioration of the millionaire.

For the millionaire, once the symbol of wealth, might and the wastrel life, has fallen upon sad times. Now he is more to be pitied than censured.

The reason is simple: Money being what it is today, a simple millionaire no longer can afford to make much of a splash. He is no longer really rich, merely well-to-do, living on the plush side of poverty, so to speak.

Many a prisoner of the pay-check sighs, "I don't want to be a millionaire—I just want to live like one."

Well, a millionaire feels exactly the same way. He'd like to live like a millionaire is supposed to, but he knows he hasn't enough money.

Many people who envy a millionaire do not realize his true plight. He is like a man who stands on the doorstep of Valhalla, hearing the music and singing, but who can't quite get inside. He is like a colonel in the Pentagon. He has considerable rank, but not enough, for there are many colonels in the Pentagon.

A man with only one million dollars is r e a l l y a pitiable figure, when you get right down to it. He has the reputation of being rich, but none of the pleasure that goes with really being rich.

Shouldn't a millionaire have a place in Palm Beach, a penthouse on Park Ave., and summer home at Newport or Bar Harbor?

Shouldn't a millionaire have a yacht?

Shouldn't a millionaire have a chauffeur, a butler, a gardener, a cook, a maid, a housekeeper and at least one secretary?

He should, indeed, be able to do all these things — if he could afford to live up to the public's idea of a millionaire.

But if he did his million bucks wouldn't last him long—not at today's prices. Four chorus girls and five years later our millionaire would be bankrupt, standing at the corner holding out his last sterling silver cup for a pittance from passers-by. He would be too poor even to hire a servant to beg for him.

And I, for one, wouldn't trade places with him—except for a million dollars.

Germans Favor English as Foreign Language

BONN — English is the best known of all foreign languages in Germany. It is estimated that 17 per cent of the population either speaks or at least understands English.

French runs second in popularity and Russian third. At least 35 per cent of the population of the larger German cities understands at least one foreign language.

Swedish Industry Rises

STOCKHOLM — Swedish industrial production in the first half of 1957 was 5 per cent higher than the year before, according to the Swedish Institute of Economic Research.

SANTA FE—New Mexico, fourth largest state, has only about 155 square miles of water surface.

Toasted Strips 'Make' the Soup

One of the nicest ideas on a nippy winter day is a brimming bowl of hot soup! And to make the idea twice as nice, try serving these toast strips as an accompaniment.

Unusual and delicious, they're made by dipping strips of toast in melted butter seasoned with onion salt, and then in a mixture of oven-toasted rice cereal crumbs and grated Parmesan cheese. Bake on a baking sheet in a hot oven for about five minutes or until crisp and serve at once. Also, keep these toast strips in mind for an interesting salad accompaniment as well.

Parmesan Toast Strips

1 cup oven-toasted rice cereal
¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese
4 slices bread, toasted
⅓ cup butter or margarine, melted
½ teaspoon onion salt

Crush rice cereal into fine crumbs; combine with Parmesan cheese. Remove crusts from toast slices; cut each slice in 5 narrow strips. Combine butter and onion salt; roll strips in butter mixture, then in rice cereal crumb mixture. Place on ungreased baking sheet. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees) about 5 minutes or until crisp. Serve at once as soup or salad accompaniment. Yield: 20 strips.

Carioca Tapioca Creme

Add the zest of grated fresh orange rind and ¼ teaspoon almond extract to packaged vanilla pudding. When cool, spoon into sherbet glasses alternating with layers of fresh orange sections. Top with toasted slivers of almonds.

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?

A. Standing Rump Roast of Veal.

Q. Where does it come from and how is it identified?

A. It comes from the leg section of the carcass. It contains the aitch bone and usually part of the leg bone. Muscles include top, bottom, knuckle and eye of round.

Q. How is it prepared?

A. It can be roasted in a 300° F. oven allowing 25 to 35 minutes per pound or it can be cooked slowly by braising, allowing 2½ to 3½ hours for cooking.

Ground Beef Used Most

What meat do you use most often at your house? Did you say ground beef? A recent U. S. Department of Agriculture survey showed that 53 per cent of the families bought ground beef during a week.

To keep the best flavor, loosely wrap ground beef in waxed paper and store it in the coldest part of the refrigerator. Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, MSU Marketing Information Agent suggests that ground beef be used within 48 hours after purchase.

Hearty Loaf Pleases Men

If the breadwinner of your family is a man who enjoys a meal planned around meat and potatoes, serve him a Meat and Macaroni Loaf. It's a meal entree which will satisfy even the heartiest appetite.

Featured in this meat and macaroni put-together are ground beef, ground pork and macaroni.

The seasonings found in this loaf, which will undoubtedly please the gentlemen, include onion, parsley, mustard and Worcestershire sauce.

Meat and Macaroni Loaf

1 pound ground beef
1 pound bulk pork sausage
½ cup uncooked elbow macaroni
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
2 tablespoons finely chopped parsley
1 teaspoon dry mustard
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
2 eggs, beaten

Cook macaroni in unsalted water. Combine ground beef, sausage, salt, onion and parsley. Blend the mustard and Worcestershire sauce; sprinkle over meat mixture; add eggs and mix well. Add cooked macaroni.

Mix lightly and turn into a greased 1½-quart loaf pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 1 to 1½ hours. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Spiced Pear Sauce

Peel, core and slice 6 fresh pears. Place in a saucepan with ½ cup sugar, ¼ cup fresh orange juice, ½ teaspoon ground cinnamon and a dash of salt. Cook 15 minutes or until pears are tender and sauce has thickened. Serve with vanilla ice cream and spoon syrup over all. Makes enough for 6.

Berry Cobbler Served Hot With Cream

Eat this quickly-made fruit-and-batter dessert hot.

Winter Blueberry Cobbler

1 can (14 ounces) blueberries in heavy syrup
1 cup sifted flour
2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ cup butter or margarine
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla
½ cup milk
¼ cup sugar

Drain blueberries; there should be about 1 cup less 2 tablespoons syrup. Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Cream butter, ½ cup sugar and vanilla. Add sifted dry ingredients, alternately with milk in 3 or 4 additions; begin and end with flour and beat until smooth after each addition.

Turn batter into baking dish (about 10 by 6 by 2 inches); spoon drained blueberries evenly over batter; sprinkle with ¼ cup sugar. Pour blueberry syrup over fruit and batter. Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven 45 minutes. There will be a cake layer on top with fruit at the bottom.

Meat Pie Has Rice 'Crust'

Wonderful eating in a pie plate—perfect for a quick meal! Rice with pimientos and cheese is packed into a pie plate. There's a layer of deviled ham through the center! Cheese sprinkled over the top becomes gloriously browned in the oven.

Deviled Ham Pie

1 cup uncooked white rice
2 cups water
1 teaspoon salt
Dash of black pepper
2 tablespoons finely chopped pimiento
1 cup grated American cheese
1 egg, beaten
¼ cup milk
A 4½ oz. can deviled ham

Put the rice, water and salt in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil over a high heat. Turn the heat down low. Cover with a lid and simmer 14 minutes. Remove the saucepan from the heat but leave the lid on 10 minutes.

After the rice cooks, stir in the pepper, pimiento, ½ cup of the cheese, egg and milk. Pack half of the rice into a greased 9" glass pie plate. Spread with the deviled ham. Spoon on the rest of the rice mixture. Press in with the spoon. Sprinkle the remaining ½ cup cheese evenly over the top.

At meal time bake in a 325 degree oven 35 minutes or until the cheese is browned. Allow to stand about 5 minutes before cutting into wedges. If desired, serve with a tomato sauce or a cream of celery soup sauce. This recipe makes 7 servings.

Young Married Homemakers Biggest Group

Recent research shows that thirty-nine per cent of our people are in the "young married" group. With increasing population it is expected that by 1975 fifty-four per cent of all families will be members of this group, reports the MSU Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer.

Today's young homemaker is different from her mother. Her income is approximately double what her mother started with. With technological developments she chooses from about 5000 items in the grocery store compared with 1500 items of a few years ago.

The young homemaker wants food preparation to be fun with much of the work eliminated. Her husband helps with food buying and sometimes helps with cooking.

With modern communications such as television, radio and publications, the young homemaker is trained differently, not just by mother. The young homemaker may be working part or full-time outside the home.

Changing times bring many new foods and preparation methods to fit the young homemaker's needs and desires.

For kitchen chemists: Baking powder is made of baking soda and cornstarch plus an acid ingredient.

Broiled Oranges Are New

Cut large oranges in half crosswise and section as you do for grapefruit. Dot with butter, sprinkle with brown sugar and broil until hot and lightly browned. Cover with a layer of finely grated coconut and pop under the broiler again until coconut toasts.

Ever add finely diced drained celery to scalloped oysters? The vegetable adds delightful flavor.

Food Bill Can Be Cut Without Nutrition Loss

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Do you look at your weekly food bill and decide it resembles the national debt? Are you a homemaker whose income has been cut because the man of the family is temporarily out of work? Are you any one of thousands of women who must get along on limited food budgets?

There ARE ways to economize. Meals can be interesting yet inexpensive.

Where do you start to cut costs? Right now you can begin in the fruit and vegetable department. Citrus fruit prices have skyrocketed since the freezing weather cut Florida's supplies. You can forget all about fresh oranges and grapefruit and substitute frozen or canned juices and canned grapefruit. They have as much vitamin C in them as the fresh product so you will not be harming your family.

Canned vegetables are usually a good buy. On the list of plentiful foods for February canned and frozen peas and canned and frozen corn are listed. Both lend themselves to hearty dishes.

One word about canned vegetables. Please save the juice. You can pour it into a saucepan and cook it down about half, then serve it with the vegetable. Or you can drain it off and use it in vegetable gelatin salads or add it to tomato juice. But use it for an added supply of vitamins and minerals.

Apples are plentiful. They make excellent between-meal snacks, wonderful desserts and delicious salads, garnishes and pies. Buy bananas when they are in your price range. Often winter grapes are reasonable. A few added to the fruit salad or put into the fruit bowl on the table make a welcome change.

At the risk of repeating myself to the point of boredom, I want to remind you again how you can save money by using nonfat dry milk. By buying the largest box you get milk for about eight cents a quart. All that is missing is the cream.

Mix it half and half with a quart of homogenized milk. Use it for all your cooking. Add extra amounts of it to cream soups, puddings, meat loaves and breads.

Potatoes and flour are both relatively cheap. If you use more of them with lesser amounts of meat, you will save money. You may have to have more stews (neck meat makes good stew with proper cooking); meat pies and casserole dishes. Watch for sales of favorite cuts and forget for a while that steaks and standing rib roasts are available.

If you worry about the youngsters getting enough protein in their diets, go heavy on eggs and nuts. Eggs are not prohibitively high and a pound of eggs gives just as much protein as a pound of meat. Nibbling on nuts will up the children's protein intake.

You should try to include some form of raw vegetable or fruit in every day's menu. Keep close watch on the produce counter and buy whatever salad green is cheapest. One week it may be lettuce, the next cabbage. Cucumbers and green peppers are out of sight right now. Try shredding the lettuce if the family balks at eating leaves of it.

And, as we have said in the past, forget the fact that most packaged mixes even exist. You'll save plenty by doing it yourself in the cake, cookie, pie and pudding line.

Here's an interesting recipe for inexpensive lamb riblets. You may have to ask your butcher for them, but they'll be worth it.

Lamb Riblets With Dill

3 pounds lamb riblets
3 tablespoons fat
1 medium onion, chopped
¼ cup water
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon whole dill seed
⅛ teaspoon pepper

Brown riblets on all sides in hot fat; remove from pan and cook onion in fat 3 minutes. Return meat to pan and add water, vinegar, salt, dill, and pepper. Cover and cook slowly 1 hour. 6 servings.

Tangy Butter Base Enhances Shrimp

Serve this appetizer when you're having company.

Shrimp Canapes

2 cans (4½ ounces each) tiny Pacific coast shrimp (wet pack)
½ pound butter or margarine
1 tablespoon chili sauce
¼ teaspoon curry powder
1 package (10 ounces) square-sliced pumpernickel bread

Turn shrimp into a strainer to drain; cover and refrigerate. Cream butter, chili sauce and curry powder; refrigerate until firm enough to spread evenly.

Cut bread slices in half. Spread butter mixture generously over bread; press shrimp, in even rows, over butter. Refrigerate until serving time. Makes 20 canapes.

Dips Rate High as Snack Food

Friends who drop in for a chat or to watch television with the family have to be fed; at least, that is the American custom. One of the easiest kinds of food to serve is a Dip with something to dunk into the Dip.

For this serve a tangy variation of the famous "California Dip" which has become so popular. This dip, you remember, is a taste tempting combination of onion soup mix and sour cream. Add some finely chopped mustard pickles to this basic formula and put it in the center of a platter containing fish sticks, cheese crackers and pieces of pumpernickel cut into star shapes for the occasion.

Another variation to satisfy the gourmet palate is the same dip made with bleu cheese and brandy flavoring.

Mustard Pickle Dip

¼ cup mustard pickle with sauce
1 cup California Dip

Chop pickles very fine. Mix together chopped pickle, sauce and "California Dip." California Dip: Combine 1 pint sour cream and 1 package onion soup mix just as it comes from the package. For one cup of mix use ⅛ pint sour cream and 3 tablespoons (⅛ package) well-blended onion soup mix.

Tiny pickled onions are good added to cream cheese for a cracker spread. Chop the onions before adding.

Judy Cudnohufsky Wins Contest

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Seventeen girls met last Saturday morning at Rochester High school to make cherry pies. Contestants in the annual contest sponsored by Michigan State Extension Service and the state Department of Public Instruction, they put their best efforts into making good pies.

When judging time came around, sixteen-year-old Judy Cudnohufsky of Lake Orion won first prize. This means Judy will travel to Grand Rapids soon to compete with other county winners. Mrs. Dan Abbey, her 4-H leader, will accompany her.

If she comes out first in this second contest, she goes on to Chicago to compete for the national title of Cherry Pie Champion. Oakland County had one girl who did get to the finals—Beth Rose, in 1955.

Winning prizes for homemaking skills is no new experience for Judy. We remember seeing her name on a number of winning entries at the 4-H Fair last August. Judy has been a 4-H Club member for three years, belongs to the East Orion club.

At home Judy has a number of cherry pie critics—namely her eight brothers and sisters. Four of these brothers and sisters are active in 4-H work with Judy.

A junior at Lake Orion Community High School, Judy is looking forward to college in 1959. Her major? Home Economics, of course.

Here is Judy's prize winning recipe:

PASTRY

1½ cups sifted flour
¾ teaspoon salt
½ cup shortening
1 tablespoon milk
2 tablespoons water

Sift flour and salt. Cut in shortening. Add milk and water to make pastry you can handle. Roll out and line 8½ inch pie pan. Reserve rest of pastry for lattice top.

FILLING

¾ cup sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
2 cups pie cherries
½ teaspoon almond extract
Few drops red food coloring

Cook together until thick. Cool and fill pastry-lined pie pan. Make a lattice top for the pie with the remaining pastry. Bake at 425 degrees for 30-35 minutes.

Pontiac Press Photo

THE WINNER! — Cherry pie winner, Judy Cudnohufsky of S. Lapeer road, Lake Orion, flashes a winning smile as she holds up her prize pie. This sixteen-year-old miss outbaked her sixteen competitors in the annual cherry pie contest held Saturday at Rochester High School. Judy will go to Grand Rapids to compete with other county winners for the state title.

Shop Around, Compare, for Best Food Values

How far do your food dollars go? If they are to buy the best in health, you will continue the pattern of buying milk, meat and eggs, fruits and vegetables and breads and cereals. But you may change your choices within these basic food groups. Continuing high prices on meat and fresh produce challenge one to make more comparisons before choosing.

MEATS — Some retailers report that due to short supplies wholesale beef prices are the highest they have been during the last six months. With the exception of featured cuts, retail prices differ little from those of last week.

For tasty stews, Swiss steak or pot roast, lean beef chuck and round are good choices. Lean cuts from young beef are available at 20 to 30 cents less per pound than higher grades of the same cuts.

In many stores retail pork prices on loin roasts, ham, picnics, Boston butt, bacon and sausage are reasonably priced when compared with other meat cuts.

If looking for variety and economy, consider shoulder roasts of veal or lamb. Lamb or veal breast becomes a dish of savory stew or barbecue for pennies per person, states Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, MSU Marketing Information Agent.

Whole fryers, stewers and turkeys are available for less than fifty cents per pound. To determine cost per serving fryers yield 1 1-3 servings per pound, stewers 1¾ and turkeys 2¾. It is easy to see that the thrifty poultry buy is turkey.

EGGS—Large size eggs are lower than they have been during the past six months. Since they contain protein of a quality comparable to red meat, it may seem practical to use generous amounts of eggs to help balance protein costs.

Current prices make it practical to bake the cake that calls for more eggs or feature eggs on the menu. Eggs for breakfast, lunch or supper need not mean just fried, boiled or scrambled. Waffles, French toast, omelets and souffles send eggs to the table in fancy dress yet with the same amount of food value.

PRODUCE — Everyone knows that weather influences the supply and price of fresh produce. Shoppers should go a step further and remember that weather also influences quality. Carefully check quality of lettuce, cauliflower, potatoes and citrus if you select these items this week.

Apple supplies are ample. As of January 1, stocks in cold storage, according to the U. S. D. A., were about 10 million bushels more than in January of 1957. About one-third of these are the Delicious variety so good for snacks and salads.

Reddest apples usually cost more, but are not necessarily any better than apples of the same variety with less color. Unless color is important for a special occasion or purpose, you may be able to save money by choosing fruit from lots which have less color and lower price tags. This is generally true whether you are buying at the grocery or at an orchard.

PROCESSED FOODS—About 72 million cans of food are opened and used every day. Corn, peas, tomatoes and green beans are the most popular canned vegetables. Peaches, pineapple, fruit cocktail and pears are top sellers in canned fruits.

Some of the better buys may be found in processed foods—not only canned, but also frozen and dried. Peas and corn are now getting special emphasis because of record amounts which were processed in 1957.

Wine in Fish Casserole Adds Unusual Flavor

Second helpings are automatic when this savory casserole appears on the table.

Arrange one pound fish fillets, single layer, in a baking dish. Combine one and one-half cups chili sauce, one-fourth cup burgundy wine and two tablespoons instant minced onion and arrange over fish.

Top with one cup shredded American cheese. Bake at 450 degrees 10 to 15 minutes.

Spice Oranges to Garnish Meat

The flavor of meat is greatly enhanced by a piquant relish. For a different relish with your next meat course, try spiced orange wedges.

This treat is easy to prepare. You can serve it hot or cold, now or later. These spiced orange wedges provide a delicious accompaniment for almost any meat dish, especially ham, pork and roast duck.

Spiced Orange Wedges

4 oranges
2 cups sugar
1¼ cups water
½ cup vinegar
12 whole cloves
3 pieces stick cinnamon

Place whole oranges in saucepan with 1 quart water. Bring to a boil, and boil 20 minutes. Drain and cut into eighths. Combine sugar, the 1¼ cups water, vinegar, cloves and cinnamon, stir over low heat until sugar is dissolved. Bring to a boil, add orange wedges, and simmer about 20 minutes.

Serve spiced orange wedges hot or cold as a meat accompaniment, or seal in hot, sterile jars for future use. Yield: About 8 servings.

Rice With Fruit Makes Quick Easy Dessert

Depend on that true convenience food, rice, for quick and easy desserts. Add sugar to taste to hot cooked rice. Stir in a small amount of vanilla. Serve warm or chilled with fruit cocktail, or other canned fruits such as apricots, pears or purple plums.

Sometime try a mixture of cooked dried fruits such as raisins, prunes and apricots. A few toasted pecans or almonds add extra flavor.

Nice for a change: a thinly sliced banana added to griddle cake batter.

Research on Freezing to Help Industry

WASHINGTON (INS)—Fruit and vegetable growers — as well as housewives—will soon have complete information on the best temperatures to keep frozen products from being damaged.

The Agriculture Department plans early release of a new research report that gives the freezing points for 600 different kinds of products.

The information can save thousands of dollars for handlers of frozen fruits and vegetables who can set their thermostatas to the highest temperature that will freeze their products. The freezing points vary greatly.

Certain types of avocados, for example, freeze at 31.5 degrees Fahrenheit. Seckel pears won't freeze until the thermometer falls to 25.5 degrees.

The report will also show the different freezing points of the skin and the interior of many items.

Different varieties of the same fruit will be listed. Some types of oranges do not freeze above 27.4 degrees. Others are frozen at 30.6 degrees.

The report follows long and careful research by horticulturist T. M. Whiteman of the Agriculture Department's Beltsville, Md., laboratories. Whiteman, curiously enough, measured freezing points of fruits and vegetables by measuring the heat they gave off.

Heat is released from a piece of fruit as it freezes—and this heat was measured by tiny thermometers inserted in the product. When the temperature rise stopped or leveled off, the fruit was considered frozen.

Oddly, a sample will sometimes drop below the freezing point without freezing—the ice crystals refuse to form. If this happens, it's best to warm the product gradually and without jarring to prevent formation of large ice crystals in the tissues.

Roasting Goose Comes Back With Less Fat

MADISON, Wis. (INS) — Plump, roast goose—practically kayoed from the family table in the United States because of the weight-watching trend—is ready to make a comeback.

Poultry researchers for the U.S. Department of Agriculture report they have found a way to make goose fit into American diets.

The researchers advise that small families soon may buy "junior-sized" geese which have less fat. These are younger versions of the bird—oven ready at 11 to 16 weeks instead of 26 weeks.

Studies of various breeds show that the junior geese when roasted give about half as much dripping less as the larger and older geese.

The junior geese, in other words, have more meat and less fat.

For use in casseroles or sauces, grate the end bits of cheese and refrigerate in tightly-covered jar.

Winter Vegetables Easy to Prepare

Winter vegetables go with winter meals. Turnips and parsnips will fit into this plan says the MSU Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. Both are packaged in one-pound plastic bags, enough to make four servings.

To prepare, just peel the turnips or parsnips, cut into pieces and cook in a little water until tender. Drain and season with salt, pepper, butter or bacon drippings.

You may serve turnips or parsnips in pieces or mash them. Or put the cooked pieces in a casserole, cover with white sauce, sprinkle with grated cheese and bake in a moderate oven.

When baking a roast or a dessert, bake your frozen vegetable at the same time. Place vegetable, butter or margarine and salt in a covered greased casserole; allow 45 to 60 minutes baking time in a slow to moderate oven.

Marinate Asparagus in Oil and Vinegar

Asparagus Salad

1 can (about 1 pound) green asparagus stalks
2 tablespoons cider or white wine vinegar
2 tablespoons olive oil
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon sugar
Romaine
Pimiento

Drain asparagus. Mix vinegar, olive oil, salt and sugar thoroughly. Pour over asparagus on a flat container. Refrigerate for several hours. Serve on romaine; garnish with strips of canned pimiento. Makes 4 servings.

Fried Onions Top Dish

Here's a favorite casserole to serve with charcoal-broiled steak. Dilute condensed cream-of-mushroom soup and mix with cooked drained green snap beans. Heat in the oven; then about five minutes before the beans are ready to come out, top the casserole with canned crisp French-fried onion rings.

Orange Flavored Rice Dish Good With Poultry

You can add the golden glow of sunshine to an ordinary dish if you serve Orange Rice Imperial. This is a completely new and different way to prepare a favorite cereal grain.

Each separate grain of rice in this delicious dish has the golden glow of the citrus juice with which it's made. Finely cut celery is added to enhance the flavor.

Serve Orange Rice Imperial with any kind of poultry.

Orange Rice Imperial

½ bar margarine
¾ cup celery, finely cut (with leaves)
2 tablespoons minced onion
1½ cups water
1½ tablespoons grated orange rind
1 cup orange juice
¾ teaspoon salt
1 cup raw rice

Melt margarine in saucepan, add celery and onion and cook until tender. Add water, orange rind and juice and salt and bring to boil. Add rice slowly and cook, covered, over low heat 25 minutes, or until tender. Makes 4 servings.

Stuffed Spuds Look Delicious, Taste as Good

Stuffed potatoes that look as attractive as they are good.

Stuffed Potatoes

4 medium-sized mealy baking potatoes (1¾ pounds)
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
⅓ cup heavy cream
Salt, white pepper
1 large egg
1 tablespoon heavy cream
¼ teaspoon paprika
2 tablespoons grated Parmesan or Romano cheese.

Wash and dry potatoes; place in very hot (450 degrees) oven for about 30 minutes; continue baking in moderate (350 degrees) oven until soft when pierced in center with fork — about 30 minutes. Halve lengthwise; scoop out pulp and put through ricer; reserve 6 potato shells.

Heat butter and one-third cup cream until quite hot; mix well with hot potato pulp and salt and pepper to taste. Beat egg until thick and pale colored, beat gently into potato pulp. Fill reserved shells with mixture. Mix 1 tablespoon cream with paprika and grated cheese; spread over potato; make lengthwise grooves with tines of a fork across tops.

Return to hot (450 degrees) oven and bake until hot through and tops are puffed up and browned—about 15 minutes.

Prune Souffle Better Today Than Ever

Remember the tender, light prune souffle that used to be a family dessert favorite? Well, in many American homes it still is. However, today's prunes are better cultivated, treated and packaged. Incidentally, dried prunes are abundant now.

Prune Souffle

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
4 eggs, separated
1 cup prune pulp (cooked prunes mashed through sieve)
½ cup sugar
2 teaspoons grated lemon rind
¼ cup lemon juice

Melt butter or margarine, blend in flour and salt. Gradually add milk; cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Beat egg yolks; add milk mixture, stirring constantly. Add prune pulp, sugar, lemon rind and juice; mix well.

Beat egg whites stiff; fold into prune mixture. Pour into buttered casserole; set in pan of hot water 1-inch deep. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 1½ hours. Serve immediately. If desired, serve with lemon sauce.

Alternate small mushroom caps, squares of bacon and chicken livers on skewers. Brush with melted butter and broil. Good served with chutney sauce.

HOT CHOCOLATE SUPREME — Just the right snack for an evening in front of the fireplace — a big bowl of buttery popcorn, some shiny red apples and mugs of wonderful hot chocolate supreme. For a spicy touch to the hot chocolate you may want to add a dash of cinnamon or cinnamon stick stirrers as shown here.

Chilly Evening Calls for Mugs of Hot Chocolate

There's something very cozy and comforting about a big mug of hot chocolate on an evening that's a bit chilly around the edges. And hot chocolate supreme is about the ultimate in good homemade hot chocolate. It can be prepared in a jiffy from chocolate syrup you make ahead and store in the refrigerator.

The syrup is made with unsweetened chocolate, sugar, water and a touch of salt. It cooks in about five minutes, then can be cooled and stored until you want it. The secret of making up the hot chocolate so it's delightfully rich and good is to be sure to use evaporated milk.

Popcorn and apples along with hot chocolate supreme will make an evening at home into a little party with no trouble at all.

Hot Chocolate Supreme

For each cup of Hot Chocolate Supreme add 3 tablespoons Chocolate Syrup to ½ cup evaporated milk and ½ cup water. Heat to serving temperature over low heat or over hot water, stirring to mix thoroughly. If desired, a dash of cinnamon or a cinnamon stick stirrer may be added to each cup.

Chocolate Syrup

2 squares unsweetened chocolate (2 oz.)
Few grains salt
½ cup sugar
1 cup boiling water

Chop chocolate coarsely. Mix with salt and sugar in small saucepan. Add boiling water. Bring to boil over low heat, stirring to dissolve sugar. Simmer 5 minutes, stirring once or twice. Cool, then pour into jar, cover and store in refrigerator until needed. Makes about 1¼ cups syrup.

Shrimp Soup Super on Cauliflower

Tired of serving the same old vegetables night after night with never a new twist to any of them? The family would welcome a change too. Why not start tonight with a smooth shrimp sauce baked over cauliflower? It's so good that it makes a "talked about" company dish, too! Use frozen condensed cream of shrimp soup as sauce in this recipe:

Cauliflowerettes A La Shrimp

2 packages (10 ounces each) frozen cauliflower or 1 medium head, cut into cauliflowerettes
1 can (10 ounces) frozen condensed cream of shrimp soup
½ cup milk
¼ cup shredded sharp cheese
1 tablespoon fine dry bread crumbs

Cook cauliflower in boiling salted water until tender. Drain and place in shallow baking dish (10"x 6"x2"). Combine soup and milk in saucepan. Heat, stirring occasionally until soup thaws; pour over cauliflower. Sprinkle with cheese and crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) 20 to 25 minutes, or until bubbly and brown. Makes 4 servings.

JENNINE D. BAILEY

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore R. Schroeder of Silverside drive announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Jennine Dianne Bailey, to Daniel Catau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Simion Catau of Detroit. Daniel is an Evans Scholar at Michigan State University. The wedding will take place Feb. 8

JOSEPH EGER

The Eger Players features French horn with piano, violin and cello in a variety of combinations, playing solos, duets, trios and quartets.

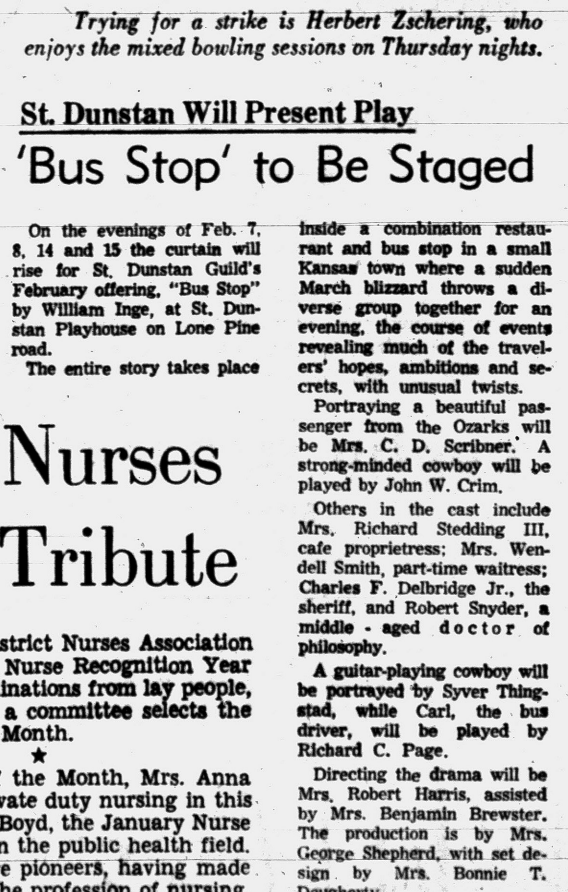

Mr. Eger, a noted French hornist, has appeared as soloist with major orchestras and ensembles throughout the world. He is one of the organizers of the Los Angeles Horn Club, and also is active in radio, television and motion pictures. His first solo LP album, "Around the Horn," will be released in the fall of 1958.

In addition to works by Beethoven and Brahms, the Eger Players gave the first American performance of Benjamin Britten's "Canticle III," the first New York performance of Haydn's trio for horn, violin and cello, and Peter Korn's "Phantasy," which was written especially for the players.

The musicians also have world-premiered several jazz selections composed especially for the ensemble. Often during a concert Mr. Eger will devote time to an informal question period, worked into an informative demonstration.

St. Dunstan Will Present Play

'Bus Stop' to Be Staged

On the evenings of Feb. 7, 8, 14 and 15 the curtain will rise for St. Dunstan Guild's February offering, "Bus Stop" by William Inge, at St. Dunstan Playhouse on Lone Pine road.

The entire story takes place inside a combination restaurant and bus stop in a small Kansas town where a sudden March blizzard throws a diverse group together for an evening, the course of events revealing much of the travelers' hopes, ambitions and secrets, with unusual twists.

Portraying a beautiful passenger from the Ozarks will be Mrs. C. D. Scribner. A strong-minded cowboy will be played by John W. Crim.

Others in the cast include Mrs. Richard Stedding III, cafe proprietress; Mrs. Wendell Smith, part-time waitress; Charles F. Delbridge Jr., the sheriff, and Robert Snyder, a middle-aged doctor of philosophy.

A guitar-playing cowboy will be portrayed by Syver Thingstad, while Carl, the bus driver, will be played by Richard C. Page.

Directing the drama will be Mrs. Robert Harris, assisted by Mrs. Benjamin Brewster. The production is by Mrs. George Shepherd, with set design by Mrs. Bonnie T. Dougherty.

Additional workers on the production are Mrs. John D. Kice, properties; John Kice, lights; Stanford S. Stoddard, set construction; William Holmes, sound effects; Mrs. Stephen F. Booth, makeup, and Mrs. Martin R. Swift, costumes.

County Nurses Paying Tribute

The Oakland County District Nurses Association is sponsoring Professional Nurse Recognition Year during 1958. Through nominations from lay people, doctors and other nurses, a committee selects the Professional Nurse of the Month.

The December Nurse of the Month, Mrs. Anna Wurm, has engaged in private duty nursing in this area for many years. Rose Boyd, the January Nurse of the Month, is working in the public health field.

Both of these women are pioneers, having made valuable contributions to the profession of nursing. Mrs. Wurm was among the first 1,000 graduate nurses to be registered in Michigan.

Miss Boyd began her career in Detroit as one of three nurses who assisted in home delivery of babies. "The Home Delivery Service" eventually became the Visiting Nurse Association, with greatly extended services.

Girl Fails to Return Costly Gift

May Donor Write to Ex-Bride-Elect About Present?

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of ours became engaged several months ago and we sent his fiancee a very lovely (and quite expensive) present. The engagement has since been broken and I have heard that she has returned all the presents. However, I haven't received mine and I am wondering if a note teling her so would be in order?"

Answer: Try to find someone who knows her well, who could explain to her that you have heard she has returned all her engagement presents but as you have not received yours, you are wondering if possibly it could have been sent by mistake to someone else.

"Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine and her sister are going to be married this spring at a double wedding. I would like to give a shower for my friend but do not feel that I am that friendly with her sister to give a shower for her, too.

"Could it possibly hurt the sister's feelings if I gave the shower for my friend alone or must I make it a double shower or none at all?"

Answer: If you know very few of her sister's friends you can explain to her this obvious reason why you cannot make the shower a double one.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Are all white flowers the only correct ones to use as decoration at a church wedding? The altar of our church (a very beautiful one) is all white marble and white flowers can hardly be seen against it. I thought of using colored flowers (such as a light pink or yellow) for decorating the altar. Would this be in good taste?"

Answer: Light colors instead of white are permissible but be careful not to have their effect one that will detract from the dresses and the flowers carried by the bidesmaids.

Switzerland, without an ocean port, has a growing fleet of merchant ships.

GAIL WINNINGHAM

Mrs. C. C. Winningham of Bloomfield Hills and Fort Lauderdale, Fla., announces the engagement of her daughter, Gail, to R. Michael FitzSimons, son of Mr. and Mrs. George FitzSimons of Detroit. The bride-elect attended University of Miami and is a member of Delta Gamma sorority. Her fiance attends University of Michigan

Sailing Days Described to 2 Golden Age Groups

The January meetings of the two Golden Age Groups of the Pontiac YWCA had as a special guest Capt. Sixten O. B. Netzler, who discussed early days on sailing ships and played Swedish folk songs on the harmonica and accordion.

Other entertainment included an informal travel talk by Mrs. Fred Stimpert, president of the Pontiac YWCA, and Reba Ross Netzler, executive director, who titled their joint discussion "Sidelights on the Light Side of Travel Abroad."

Oldest member present among the 77 who attended the two meetings was Mrs. Carrie Heath, 94. Youngest was a 3-year-old guest, Stephania Reardon.

Other guests were Mrs. George Atkinson of Wardville, Ont., Mrs. A. G. Strong, Mrs. Edna Scafe and Mrs. Olive Summers. New members are Mrs. John Wardell, Mrs. Ada Schreck and Mrs. Mabel Ayriss.

GIVE MEDITATIONS

Mrs. Anna Creager and Mrs. J. L. Slaybaugh gave meditations at the meetings, and Mrs. Bessie Royce and Mrs. Farin N. Hilton were pianists.

Birthdays celebrated included those of Mrs. L. B. Rubey, Daisybelle Benedict, Mrs. Gertrude Holdsworth, Mrs. Elizabeth Peck and Mrs. Ella Sheffield. Corsages were presented to Mrs. Peck and Mrs. Rubey.

The dessert luncheons were served by Mrs. Louis H. Schimmel, assisted by Mrs. Myron L. Buck, Mrs. W. H. Knudsen and Mrs. R. B. Tarr. Mrs. J. A. Rammes is chairman of the Golden Age Groups.

Now Spas Can Come to You

Years ago, people in search of relaxation and freedom from minor aches and pains used to make regular trips to the famous spas of the world.

Then and now, such trips are impossible for many of us. The spas still exist and their benefits are well known.

In order to bring these benefits to people who couldn't travel to the spas, an American chemist has perfected balm-scented bath salts that duplicate healthful waters.

These bath salts combine oils and concentrated minerals. They are used without soap for a period of 20 minutes or so. This means you get a relaxing, hot bath that helps to drain away fatigue and float out tension.

The salts can be used in hard or soft water.

The reason for not using soap with the salts is that the salts contain cleansing agents. Used with a vegetable fiber mitt for increased circulation, these bath salts induce a feeling of well-being.

Bicyclists and motorcyclists are subject to the same traffic safety rules that apply to automobiles.

Irish Linen Rates Tops for Resorts

For every occasion under the sun, go everywhere in a go-everywhere fabric—pure Irish linen—cool, crisp, crease-resistant and always tops in the fashion parade as evidenced by its appearance in every resort collection this year.

If you're heading South, taking a cruise or merely have the foresight to pick up some really special numbers for your summer wardrobe, you will find a superb collection of Irish linens to take you 'round the clock in band-box perfection.

New textures, weaves and weights make it an increasingly interesting fabric in the fashion world. News is a heavy "peasant" type of Irish linen in coats and suits and a collection of damask designs simply patterned for daytime wear and going into a rich, almost brocade effect for after-five wear.

The plain weaves in various weights are shown from the most casual sport wear to elegant formals with colors keyed to the fashions of the times.

Beautiful Irish linens will take you through the day and on through the evening as immaculately fresh as when you started—the very nature of the fabric itself lending an air of impeccable grooming.

Keep in mind, too, that Irish linen is a fine traveling companion—easy and light to pack and wear and always in faultless taste wherever you go.

Daily Life Affects Condition of Skin

Teenagers faced with skin problems will do well to check their daily living habits.

Perhaps they are not getting enough sleep, are rushing through meals or eating too many gooey foods instead of a balanced diet.

They say that top coverage is top fashion. This textured knit looks wonderful with a tweed skirt and a colorful scarf.

Dear Abby....

'Madman' Is Visiting Doctor About the Wrong Department

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: How do you cope with a man who has a temper like a madman? Once he couldn't find what he was looking for in a desk drawer, so he pulled out all the drawers and smashed them to bits. Another time he got mad because he couldn't get a clear picture on our TV set, after paying $36 to get it repaired, so he put his fist right through the TV set. He was off work two days and the doctor and X-ray bills ran him $35. He scares the kids and upsets me.

UPSET

DEAR UPSET: Your husband is emotionally still in knee breeches. His fist will heel — but he is seeing the doctor about the wrong department. Someone who deals with emotional problems could do more for him.

DEAR ABBY: I asked a girl in my class for her graduation picture and she gave me a picture of herself I am afraid to take home. It is one of her in a two-piece bathing suit that is all wet.

I don't know why she did this. I never took her out but I have been thinking about it. I am 17 and she is 18. Do you think I would be making a fool of myself if I asked her to go to a show with me?

A SHY GUY

DEAR SHY: If any guy ever got the "come-on" — you did. Go ahead and ask her, but you'd better have a talk with your Scoutmaster first.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widower with two little boys under five years old. I live with my mother and she cares for the boys. I am still a young man (26) and hold a good job. I would like to marry again but so far no luck.

My mother tells me when I meet a woman I should not tell her that I was married, lost my wife and have two children because the minute they hear that they run the other way.

She says if I get them to like me first they will not object to my past, but I should give them a chance to like me. It doesn't sound right to me. What's your opinion?

A FATHER OF TWO

DEAR FATHER: It doesn't "sound" right because it's wrong. Tell the girls what your status is immediately. If they run the other way, you've lost nothing.

DEAR ABBY: I raised a son practically single-handed. I sacrificed many things so he could have good clothes and a good education. He is married now and when I call his house to talk to him his wife answers the phone and she never asks me how I am — she just calls him to the phone.

This is like a knife through my heart. My son is happy with her but it hurts me so much I don't feel like calling him anymore. Please tell me what to do?

HURT MOTHER

DEAR HURT: You are too sensitive. Your daughter-in-law is probably just thoughtless. Her manners could be improved — but if she and your son are happy — let it go.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MYRON: Of course it's a man's world — but a lot of it's in his wife's name.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of The Pontiac Press. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

But Most of Them Place Their Studies First

Today's Teens Yearn for Midweek Dates

By EUGENE GILBERT
President of the Gilbert Youth Research Co.

Looks as if parents are going to have to man the barricades of their authority or run the risk of being overrun by teenagers bent on breaking down another traditional restraint.

The issue this time is mid-week dating. Time was when few youngsters, let alone parents, thought it permissible or wise for them to go out on dates during the school week.

Now 70 per cent of the boys to whom we put the question asserted that they should be allowed to have mid-week dates.

While the same went for only 44 per cent of the girls, the overall average was definitely affirmative.

Nearly all those saying yes did so with the reservation that dating shouldn't interfere with studies.

HOMEWORK FIRST

"If the homework is finished, I think it is all right to date," said a 17-year-old Missouri miss.

"Dating is fine, but shouldn't infringe on school work," added 16-year-old Mitchell Vogel of Chicago.

Carol Neutzman, 14, of Flushing, N. Y., put it this way: "This is the only time we have to be young, and if studying and dating can be combined successfully, they ought to be."

Some claimed that week night dating helped them study. Ted Doolittle of Sacramento, Calif., said: "Dating during the week gives me something to look forward to, a reason for studying harder."

Joe Greenberg, 17, of Philadelphia, commented: "When I know I am going out during the week, I study even harder the rest of the nights."

From those who disapprove of middle of the week dating came these views:

"Weekday dating takes up too much time" — Jerry Campbell, 15, of Seattle.

THEY DON'T MIX

"Dates and books don't mix" — Martha Corbett of Omaha, Neb.

"I'd prefer to keep my dating restricted to weekends" — Linda Ringle, 17, of Jersey City.

We also asked the teenagers how much they thought mid-week dating infringed on studying. Thirty-nine per cent replied "not at all," 37 per cent "just a little, and 24 per cent "a lot."

Once again boys and girls differed whidely in their answers. Fifty-two per cent of the boys said dating doesn't impose at all on studying, but this was an opinion held by only 26 per cent of the girls.

Thirty-one per cent of the boys said dating infringed "just a little" and 17 per cent answered "a lot." The respective figures for the girls were 44 per cent and 30 per cent.

DISTURBING THOUGHTS

Asked if thoughts about their boy or girl friend deterred them from studying, 11 per cent replied "yes," 27 per cent "no," and 62 per cent that they had no romantic interest to disturb them.

Boys rated slightly better in the concentration department — only 9 per cent saying their minds wandered from history or math to their current flame, compared with 13 per cent of the girls.

For the first exhibition of the year the art galleries at Kingswood School Cranbrook are presenting a one-man show of paintings and watercolors by Peter Kerr. Opening Sunday afternoon, the show will be on view Monday through Friday until Feb. 28.

U.S. Youth Finds Life Is Boring

But Teens Admit They Have More to Amuse Them

By INS

Eugene Gilbert, president of a youth research firm, says surveys show the modern youth of the nation is bored despite entertainment gedgets.

Gilbert says even though teenagers find their lives monotonous, most of them feel they are getting as much enjoyment out of life today as their parents did when they were children.

MANY ADVANTAGES

The Gilbert firm (Gilbert Youth Research Co.) notes young moderns agree they have advantages over children of a 100 years ago, what with things like television, radio, movies, airplanes, recordings and electrical appliances.

In fact some teenagers complain machines do all the work and there is none left for the youngsters to do.

Gilbert claims television is one of the biggest contributors to the ennui of youth. Children are better informed and tend to sophistication as a result, so that nothing is a surprise or thrill anymore.

Also, participation by children in sports is on the decline, which points to perhaps one reason for boredom inasmuch as it has been medically proven that strenuous physical activity is needed in the formative years.

OLD ONES, TOO

Gilbert says some young people think their boredom is a symptom of the growing-up process. He cites one 18-year-old girl who says it simply: ". . . Young people are bored. Well, then, so are old ones."

The silk shantung chemise is done here with a bateau neckline that reaches out to cap the shoulders. Tiny flap pockets set low in front and a self hip-band forming a bow in back are two of its features.

Dandruff a Problem of All Ages

Dandruff is an ancient problem, certainly as old as the pyramids, for it is mentioned in old Egyptian records.

Today, many people are troubled by it, and nobody likes it. It is unsightly and annoying. Few people do anything about it, because methods tried did not produce results.

Dandruff is an exaggerated form of a process that continually goes on all over the body — the sloughing of dead skin cells. Since the scalp is washed less often than the rest of the skin, the dead cells may be bound together by oil and moisture and form obvious scales. If the production of dead cells is abnormal or the hair is not well cared for, dandruff appears.

Normally, the shedding of dead cells is balanced by the production of new ones. No one knows exactly what upsets the ratio to produce dandruff. At one time it was thought certain bacteria caused it. Now it is believed that changes in the body hormones cause it, as well as improper diet, disturbances in health, lack of cleanleness, and the constant wearing of hats.

To get rid of dandruff, try one of the new shampoos containing antiseptics and colloidal sulphur. If you prefer, you can try a dandruff rinse or one of the new lotions.

Remember, as you use these products, dandruff is the result of the continuous scaling off of dead skin. Haphazard treatments will do little good. Regular and repeated use is the only way to get rid of the annoying problem.

'Sweet Little Old Lady' Cannot Be Found Today

Women of Advanced Years Now Are Vigorous, Active, Independent

By RUTH MILLETT

By the way, what ever became of the "little old lady?"

I know quite a few older women today—women in their 70s and 80s—living alone because they have outlived their husbands and are too independent to live with their grown children.

But there isn't a "sweet little old lady" in the whole lot.

They aren't living on memories, or sitting in corners, or talking wistfully about their children and grandchildren, or the "old days."

The ones I know are as up-and-coming as their daughters, as interested in politics and world events as their sons, as busy and as much on the go as anybody.

They are as concerned with their hairdos as their granddaughters are with their own. They take just as much pains in selecting their clothes as they ever did.

They have hobbies. They have good friends among those their own age and among those much younger.

They keep house with an ease born of long experience and a cunning for conserving their strength. They drive cars. They take trips. They have plans.

They don't refer to themselves as old, or feel that because they have lived a little longer than some they are in a special class.

When they do reveal their age, it is usually a rather startling disclosure. That outdated picture of the "little old lady" is still such a vivid mental image that when one of today's older women mentions her age quite casually, it doesn't seem possible she is within 20 years of the age she claims to be.

Of all the achievements that women have made in the last quarter of a century the greatest is changing the little old lady of the past into the vigorous, active, independent older woman of today.

Blue Star to Hold Anniversary Event

Plans for an anniversary dinner were made when members of the Blue Star Mothers Chapter Four met at the YMCA. The affair will be held Feb. 20 in the Elks Temple.

Plans also were made for a past presidents' meeting to be held in May. Donations to a veteran's family and the March of Dimes were made at the Tuesday evening meeting.

Ecuador has the two largest volcanoes in the world. They are Chimborazo, rising 20,700 feet, and Cotopaxi, 19,550 feet.

Broom, Brush and That's All

One of New York City's oldest banks has dug up some interesting facts and figures on their early business expenditures.

A broom and brush came to 38 cents, and scrubing—spelled with just one "b"—and cleaning charges were one dollar for a month.

Imagine cleaning an office or home today with just a brush and broom!

How wonderful to have not only efficient washing supplies like specialized soaps and detergents—unknown in 1829—but to also have efficient time-and energy-saving gadgets especially designed for practically every washing job.

Arrange Hands to Look Relaxed

Hands hanging at your sides while standing may seem awkward. But relax and let them hang naturally. It is much better than looking somewhat aggressive with your hands on your hips.

Cut Chatter Short

When you telephone a friend expecting to chat for a while and either sense by her manner or from something she says that you have called at a busy time, cut your conversation short.

Student Tour of Europe Described to City BPW

Dean LaRue, French instructor in the Bloomfield schools, was guest speaker when members of the Pontiac Business and Professional Women's Club met at Hotel Waldron.

"A Trip to Europe" was the subject of Mr. LaRue's talk and slides shown at the Tuesday gathering. He told of his trip abroad last summer as conductor of a group of 21 high school students, many of whom had worked and saved for two years to earn money for the trip which lasted 45 days.

VISIT TO ITALY

The group traveled first to Italy where they visited Naples, Pompeii, Rome, Florence and Venice. In Rome the young people saw a recently constructed stadium, much larger than the Michigan Stadium in Ann Arbor, where it is hoped the next Olympic games will be held.

From Italy the group traveled to Monaco (Princess Grace was in Paris at the time), Spain and France. The trip was not altogether for pleasure, as the students earned high school and college credits.

Mr. LaRue explained that none of the larger steamship companies would accept as passengers a group of teenagers. However, operators of a small Israeli ship were so pleased to take the students aboard that they urged the instructor to use their vessel for the 1958 tour.

Hostesses of BPW for the month of January were Harriet Gates, Grace Heitsch, Mrs. Carl Genske, Ann Gosner and Mrs. Rebecca Gould. Mrs. Hazel MacGirr also participated in Tuesday's program.

First Haircut Is Exciting, Yet Sad

Snip, Snip---It's All Gone

Firsts in the life of a child are exciting and a little awe-inspiring — the first birthday party, the first long trousers or the first party dress.

A 7-year-old girl sat on a stool clutching her doll and bravely blinking back the tears. The occasion? The little lady was having the first haircut of her life.

Anita Davidson, daughter of the Louis Davidsons of South Avery road, decided that she wanted short hair.

Our photographer stopped by the Davidsons' just as Anita's mother prepared to snip off the first of her daughter's long locks.

Not knowing what Anita's reaction would be when she viewed herself in the mirror for the first time with short hair, he left and brought this picture back to The Press for us.

Toastmistresses Hear Four

"Weather" was the theme of the program when members of the Pontiac Toastmistress Club met at the Hotel Waldron.

Mrs. George Gaches spoke on "How Weather Affects People" at the Tuesday meeting. Mrs. Wayne Reaves presented a speech entitled "My Favorite Season," while Evelyn Cole talked on "Snow Fun" and Helen Lapisch gave an impromptu speech on "Paradise."

Don Rote, president of the Pontiac Toastmasters Club, Charles Dugas, and John Rolles joined the group with Mr. Dugas inviting the Toastmistresses to collaborate in conducting an eight-week speechcraft class to be opened to those interested in this type of training. Feb. 18 is the tentative date for the classes to begin each Tuesday for eight weeks.

Critics for the evening were Mrs. Ivan Wilcox, Mrs. Robert Bunce, Mrs. Sidney Olson, and Mrs. Howard Wheatley. Mrs. Clayton Tibbals was grammarian; Gertrude Foley, timekeeper; Mrs. G. Charles Stafford, tailtwister; and Mrs. Clayton Rule, chief evaluator. Also participating in the program was Lauretta Paul who gave the invocation.

Exchange Student Talks to Teachers

Suse Marei Diestel, a Waterford High School exchange student from Hattingen, Germany, gave a comparison of life in German and American homes and explained her education from kindergarten through high school, when members of the Sarah McCarroll School staff held a professional meeting at the home of Mrs. Harold Brown on Marquette street.

Assisting the hostess at the Tuesday evening gathering were Mrs. Douglas Lane and Mrs. Ralph Grubb.

AIRMAN and MRS. PHILIP KIRWAN

Judy A. Mellick Speaks Vows in St. Michael Rite

St. Michael Church was the scene of a Saturday morning Nuptial High Mass uniting Judy Ann Mellick and Airman 2.C. Philip G. Kirwan. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Michael O'Reilly.

Judy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Mellick of Close street. Parents of the bridegroom are Mrs. Wyatt Dean of Lexington, Ky., and the late Philip John Kirwan.

The bride approached the altar wearing a floor - length gown of Coubello and chiffon accented by lace insets at the waist and a chapel train. Her fingertip veil fell from a crown of rhinestones and seed pearls, and she carried a white orchid on a lace-covered prayerbook.

Matron of honor Mrs. Robert Coad, a sister of the bride, and bridesmaid Mrs. John Waterbury wore ballerina-length dresses of chiffon with blue feathered headbands and carried white fur muffs decorated with blue carnations.

Flower girl Terry Lynn Coad, niece of the bride, was gowned in a pale pink frock with matching headpiece and carried a basket of flower petals.

Serving as his brother's best man was Jock Kirwan of Livonia. Robert Coad, brother-in-law of the bride, was the usher.

For a reception held in the parish hall Mrs. Mellick wore a jewel-toned blue dress with a corsage of white sweetheart roses and a white feather hat.

Following the reception the new Mrs. Kirwan changed to a pale blue sheath dress with white accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will live in Orlando, Fla., where the bridegroom is stationed.

Future Holds Easy Going for Secretaries

CHICAGO (INS) — The 1975 secretary will have only one routine in common with the 1957 secretary — the coffee break.

Or so predicts Michael R. Notaro, head of an electronic tabulating service in Chicago.

Notaro foresees the development of electronic computers the size of typewriters and desk calculators and tabulators operated by remote control.

He says electronic "scanners" will take over laborious filing tasks and there will be no manual typing — instead, automatic machines will take a dictated letter and simultaneously produce the finished typed letter and envelope, ready for the boss' signature and mailing.

Instead of teaching typing and shorthand for office workers, Notaro said business schools will teach women basic electronics, data processing and computer design to equip secretaries of the future.

Trend in Jewelry Back to the 'Real'

Trends in jewelry during 1957 leaned toward the modest side. Instead of featuring large, obviously phony costume jewelry, the style was for small, real-looking pieces with modest-sized "diamonds" and "pearls" the favorite gems.

Everything's Looking Up in Hats for Springtime

Everything's looking up in the spring hat lineup.

Millinery designers have decided that 1958 is the year for the "upswept look" and are showing towering creations of all shapes and sizes. There are many wide-brimmed picture hats — but these conform to the main theme by having the brims turned up.

With the straight chemise the big news in spring dresses, milliners point out, logically enough, that since there is going to be little to look at elsewhere, hats might as well be big, bold and dramatic.

Citrus colors also are favored for the newest toppers, ranging from grapefruit, lemon and lime to all tones of orange and tangerine .

Bowing to the widespread travel urge of Americans, milliners show a large number of packable travel hats, which can be folded flat or rolled in a suitcase. Some are of crocheted straw, some have collapsible crowns, some are cloth turbans, but all are handsome.

Flower hats also will have their annual airing in the Easter parade, and may be either tall flower-covered toques and turbans or upturned cartwheels with king-size flower trim.

Put Poetry Into Your Movements

Exercise Develops Graceful Body

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Charm is to the personality what animation is to facial expression and what light is to the eyes. It is that indefinable quality which draws us like a magnet.

Bodily grace has that same quality. It enhances a perfectly proportioned figure and makes movement a poem. Ideals of beauty are different in different eras and even today vary in different countries. Some like their women plump while others prefer them thin.

One thing we know! A figure molded by exercise is as superior to one emaciated by unsound dieting as the bloom of health is to anemia. Of course a controlled diet is necessary when losing weight or when just "holding that line," but diet alone will not produce a beautiful, lithesome, willowy, graceful figure.

It is important to distribute your weight attractively with exercise and give your figure grace with muscular control. Spontaneous love of motion that comes with muscle tone produces a grace which nothing else can.

Turn on the radio or put on some records and twist and bend and sway and dance to the music. Move through your housework with rhythm. Make exercise a part of your every day. Swimming is one of the best exercises, and you need no special equipment for walking.

BUT, when you walk, do so briskly and with a stride. Loitering or sauntering along will not bring you the same benefits. Gradually increase the length of your walks until you are doing four miles a day.

Tens of thousands of women now are following their routines for my Eight-Week Self-Improvement Marathon. I hope that all of them, as well as the rest of you, will include exercise in your program unless there is some reason for not doing so.

It is important to distribute your weight attractively with exercise and to give your figure grace with muscular control.

If you do, you will experience a sense of well-being you will not otherwise have, and your figure will become much better proportioned.

My Marathon booklet gives you exercises for the most usual figure defects. Whether or not you have joined Marathon, add walking and a few exercises to your daily routine.

If any of you failed to join in this eight weeks of self improvement, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for the Marathon booklet. You can start your Marathon when you receive your instructions. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Rural Mothers Looking for Jobs Outside Homes

A survey conducted by Michigan State University rural sociologists shows that rural homemakers are joining their city counterparts in seeking jobs outside the home.

According to Mary Hixon, Oakland County home demonstration agent, almost a third of the families interviewed approved of the working mother.

They felt the main advantage was the extra income although many also liked the idea of meeting new people and the particular job itself.

In these families, the homemaking tasks such as meal preparation became a family duty. Almost half of the husbands helped with meals and dishes. These homemakers claimed they keep up their housekeeping chores and have little trouble leading the double life.

The working mothers usually had children that were in school. When children were ill, many mothers stayed home or arranged for another member of the family to care for the child.

At least one-fourth of those interviewed disapproved of a mother working. They thought it was hard on the children, according to Mrs. Hixon. Another fourth thought the mother should not work until the children were older and were in school while the mothers were working.

Longer Runway Sought by Airport

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit-Wayne Major Airport is asking the Civil Aeronautics Administration to approve a $550,000 construction program to lengthen an existing 7,000-foot runway to 10,300 feet to handle jet airliners.

The runway, as proposed, would be Michigan's longest.

Joseph W. Green, airport manager, said the lengthened runway is described as a necessity by three airlines that intend to operate jets into Detroit, British overseas, Pan American and American.

Paul J. Glazer, airport superin- approve the extension, for which the federal agency would pay half the cost, plus $32,000 for lighting. He said work could be completed next fall.

Wurtsmith Air Force Base at Oscoda now has the state's longest runway, 8,300 feet. Willow Run Airport at Ypsilanti has one 7,300 feet long and Detroit-Wayne Major another that is 7,900 feet.

Strip-Tease for All

TOKYO—In Japan, strip-tease theaters are attended by the whole family, including babies.

Bob Considine Says:

U.S. Sends Doctors to Aid Poor Countries

NEW YORK (INS) — We have sent billions of dollars overseas in the shape of cash, food, arms, machinery and know-how. There has been no ostentatious show of gratitude, indeed there has been some resentment overseas of Americans who expected such a reaction.

Now we'll try another and humbler route to men's hearts. The International Rescue Committee will soon announce an exciting extension of its work of sending U.S. doctors and medically trained assistants into the underdeveloped areas of the world, to render service such as the two stations IRC's Dr. Thomas A. Dooley has operated in Laos for more than a year.

The new program, to be known as MEDICO, will take its pattern from the work of Dooley and of medical men of vision such as Dr. Gordon Seagraves, the legendary Burma surgeon, and Dr. Albert Schweitzer. It will be non-governmental, non-sectarian, avoiding two problems that have arisen in trying to send U. S. government or missionary aid to certain neutralist or religion-fearing countries.

American pharmaceutical firms have generously donated $600,000 in medical supplies before MEDICO is unveiled. The American teams will train local people to care for their own, then put out after 18 months and leave behind all equipment.

Frank Cowell, of Kearney, N.J., writes indignantly (as have others) on the question of Americans still being held as POWs by the Red Chinese:

"How can you and I and other Americans be called free people or a democracy when this great and supposedly powerful country of ours lets three Americans rot in a foreign country? Why can't the U.S. government demand their release just as the Kremlin and the Reds in China demand and get from us what they want? If the United States is such a strong arm of freedom, why can't Ambassador Lodge demand their release?"

The demands have been made, Frank, and repeated perhaps ten thousand times in the course of perennial meetings between U.S. Ambassador Alexis Johnson and a Chinese Red ambassador at Geneva. Nothing happens, and the administration is on record as saying it won't go to war to free them.

Have you put your Dutch tulip bulbs down yet? If so, it may interest you to know that they are Turkish by descent, and central Asiatic before that, not of the Netherlands.

The Associated Bulb Growers of Holland sold us $35,000,000 worth of bulbs last year, and the world was prettied up with 2,500,000,000 blooming plants, some of them grown in wooden shoes as if this were indigenous.

Roy Campanella's luck ran dry in even-numbered years, INS's Tony Galli notes. Campy was the National League's Most Valuable Player in 1951, 1953 and 1955. In 1952, 1954 and 1956 he slumped. A series of operations on his hands began in 1954. He is as classy a many as ever wore spikes. All baseball, which means all America is rooting for him.

Most Dead Drivers Got There Intoxicated

NEW YORK (AP) — Fifty-five per cent of an examined group of drivers who were killed at the wheel or who died within 24 hours of motor vehicle accidents in New York City in 1957 were under the influence of alcohol, the Police Department reports.

Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy said that medical analysis showed that 38 of the 69 victims had alcohol in their systems of from 0.10 to 0.40 per cent.

Under New York State law, 0.10 per cent is relevant evidence and 0.15 per cent is considered prima faci evidence of intoxication.

Besides causing their own deaths, the 38 drinking drivers caused the deaths of two pedestrians and five passengers in the cars they were operating. They also caused injuries to 29 persons.

The 69 drivers were among those on whom autopsies were performed. Drivers who died after 24 hours following accidents were excluded from the current study because any alcohol would have disappeared from their blood, the report said.

Unavoidably Detained; Gives Good Reason

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Attorney John Booth appeared before District Judge W. R. Wallace Jr. to report that his client was unavoidably detained at Tulsa and couldn't appear for his burglary trial.

Wallace said there had better be a good reason.

Booth explained his client was in the Tulsa jail on two other charges.

Basketball schedule for the new Pontiac Northern High School for next season is on its way to being completed.

Since the school will start with approximately 800 to 900 students, many of the bigger "B" and smaller "A" schools will be included on the athletic schedules.

Lake Orion, Rochester, Southfield, Waterford, Walled Lake and Clarkston are among some of the schools interested in arranging schedules in various sports.

Pontiac Central and Pontiac Northern will engage in a single basketball game to initiate the series next winter.

In the embryo stage is the possibility of a Pontiac Catholic Central High School of Class "A" status. It would encompass the two area parochial schools plus other territories of the Pontiac area.

Biggest objections are expected to come from within the two present parochial schools.

THE BIRDIE SEZ:

Who's the birdie someone asked? Really, the predictions from our little friend come in an anonymous envelope right to our desk every week.

We must say he does a fair job in picking the teams with a total of 41-11 to date.

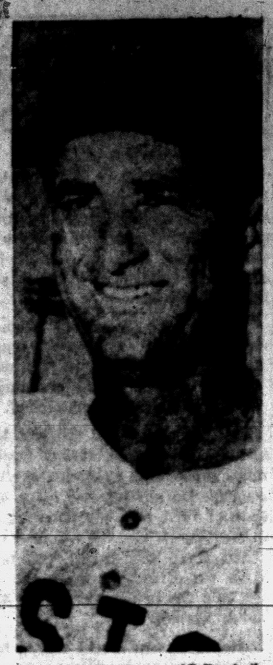

He called Saginaw's win over Pontiac last Friday, but since he does not correspond for Tuesday's games there was no prediction for Pontiac's win that day.

Nomination for the best kept secret of the new year goes to the Elks No. 810 on their father-son sports banquet.

THIS WEEK "THE BIRDIE" SEZ:

Pontiac over Detroit CC
Ferndale over B'ham.
Lake Orion over Troy
Avon over Clawson
Clarkston over Bloomfield
Holly over Milford
Waterford over F'gton
Van Dyke over W. Lake
Berkley over S'field
St. Fred over St. Clem.
St. Ben. over St. Mike

Handicap Tourney Good for High and Low Bowlers

Bowling Average Worry You?

Worried that your average may be too low to enter the 2nd annual Pontiac Press Bolerama?

Last year's list of winners shows that the men who walked off with the prizes had averages which ranged from 120 to 193.

In fact, four men with averages between 120 and 140 were among the top 10 winners, and 10 in the top 40.

Most popular range of averages on the men's prize list were those in the 150 bracket. There were 15 with averages between 148 and 158 in the top 40, and 11 of the winners had averages ranging between 160 and 175.

Among the higher bracket bowlers in the tournament last year, there were seven whose averages went past 180 in the final prize list.

This is indicative of singles handicap tournaments such as the Bowlerama which gives every handicap range a good opportunity to walk off with honors.

Figures show that among men the range between 135 and 165 are the biggest winners.

The men's champion last year, Joe Tinson, had a 152 average. Runnerup average was 151 and third place winner had a 126 average.

Thus far in the 1958 tournament, which has only four days left for men's deadline, the lowest male entry has an average of 107, the highest average belongs to a 206 bowler.

The Bowlerama is based on 70 per cent of 200 scratch.

For women the range is also wide. The lowest average among women entries is 101 and the tops to date is a 170 average.

Last year's Bowlerama prize list for women showed the popular range of winners to be between 132 and 145. Two of the women won a prize with 120 averages.

The odds for lady bowlers in the Bowlerama shows that basing it on the same number entries as last year, one of every eight will get a share of the purse.

Should the women's entries reach 150 and higher, the prize list will have one of every six a winner.

The Bowlerama rule this year in regard to averages requires the bowler to denote his average as of the week of November 1st, if he has 18 games bowled prior to this starting from September 1st.

If a bowler did not get his 18 games bowled until after November 1st, the average of the week of December 31st should be used.

Again this does not eliminate late starters who did not get 18 games bowled until after the first of the year. As soon as the required 18 games have been completed, the highest league average should be used.

Women have only 10 more days before their deadline February 10th. Men who must mail their entries, must have them postmarked by noon Monday February 3rd, or they can be delivered to The Press.

HEFTY SIGNATURE—That signature of Stan Musial's became worth $100,000 yesterday when he signed his 1958 contract with the St. Louis Cardinals. The 37-year-old National League slugger was signed personally by Cardinal president August A. Busch and his secretary Mary Murphy.

League Owners Reaffirm Policy for Televising

Pros Pass Rule Giving Further Protection of College Players

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The National Football League, acting on advice from Congressional investigators, eliminated one of their player selection show pieces last night — the bonus choice.

League owners at their annual winter meeting also reaffirmed their television policy for another year, passed a rule giving further protection to college players and joined with the players association in retaining former all-pro star Bill Dudley to formulate a player pension program.

Elimination of the bonus choice though reported a possiblity by Commissioner Bert Bell, came as somewhat of a surprise. Instituted in 1947 at the suggestion of expro Coach Curley Lambeau, this out-of-the-hat drawing had become a bright feature of the annual player draft.

The bonus choice preceded the start of the regular draft and gave the lucky team negotiating rights to any eligible college player in the country. The Chicago Cardinals were the last of the 12 pro clubs to get the bonus, choosing Rice quarterback King Hill last December.

Commissioner Bell was told during his appearance before a Congressional committee investigating pro sports that the out-of-hat system bordered on an illegal lottery. The owners, unable to come up with a satisfactory substitute, decided to please Congress and toss out the bonus altogether.

Bell announced that the NFL would continue to black out telecasts of its games within 75 miles of the scene of a game. He reiterated that under no conditions, including playoffs and championship games would the league deviate from this policy, approved by a Federal judge several years ago after long and costly litigation.

In order to forestall any charge of tampering from the colleges, the owners passed a rule forbidding any NFL team from signing a college or high school player or coach who starts fall training with a school team.

Green Bay end Billy Howton, who with Kyle Rote of the Giants, Bill Pellington of Baltimore and Atty. Creighton Miller negotiated with Bell and an owner committee on a pension pan, announced the retention of Dudley to help do the job.

The 47-year-old Dudley, a member of football's Hall of Fame, was assigned the task of gathering the necessary data, consulting with insurance and pension experts and reporting back to the owners and players with a workable plan within six to eight weeks.

Other actions taken by the owners during the second day of their four day meeting were:

1. Change one playing rule to make the backfield judge instead of the umpire the official time keeper.

2. Ruled that starting with the current meeting, exhibition game schedules pairings and dates — would be worked out each year at the annual meeting. The 1958 preseason card was completed with the exception of two dates yet to be confirmed.

3. In line with another Congressional suggestion, the league wrote into its constitution and by-laws a clause which would enable a player who in the opinion of the commissioner had a valid reason for being unable to play in the city designated for him, to be sold or traded to the city of his choice. Bell said the league had been operating on this theory since 1935, but now has made it a part of the "book."

Today, the owners are expected to take up such subjects as regular season schedules and possible expansion of the league. The latter subject probably will be referred to a committee for further investigation. Bell indicated that it was possible the meeting could end by nightfall.

Clarkston in 5th Place

County 'B' Teams Ranked

Surprising Troy and fast moving Clarkston took the honors among Oakland County schools in this week's rating of Class B teams.

The Colts jumped into third position with a 10-0 mark but Troy will face a stern test this week on the Lake Orion floor, which will be a crucial Oakland B game.

Clarkston handed Northville a stunning defeat to take a 2-game lead in the Wayne-Oakland Conference and hold on to 5th spot in the rankings.

In Class A ranks, Ferndale with only five games played figured in 7th spot and Pontiac Central was able to retain its 12th position only because of Tuesday's win over Saginaw.

'Sparrow Night' Plans Complete

Pontiac Bus Excursion to Olympia Will Honor Ex-PHS Cager

A few more tickets are still available for the bus excursion which travels to the Detroit Olympia Sunday night, February 9th, for "Guy Sparrow Night."

Halftime ceremonies of the Detroit Pistons-New York Knickerbockers will honor the former Pontiac High School cager who is now the top candidate for rookie of the year honors in the National Basketball Association.

A packaged price ticket, which includes roundtrip transportation and a choice at the game, can be reserved at either of Osmun's two stores for five dollars.

Irving Merkovitz of the Jaycees is chairman for the excursion. A proclamation by William W. Donaldson, mayor of Pontiac, has cited that evening as "Guy Sparrow Night."

Many Sports Names for St. Ben's Bust

The annual benefit sports banquet at St. Benedict's parish will feature a long list of names prominent in the athletic world.

Coach Wally Fromhart of U. of D. will be the guest speaker of the affair next Monday evening in the parish hall.

Included on the guest list are Tony Skover, prominent Big Ten official; Steve Gromek of the Detroit Tigers; Jerry Reichow and Tom Tracy of the Detroit Lions; Pat Burke and Dave Kaiser of Michigan State; Chuck Davey and Chuck Spieser of the boxing world, along with Bob Mineweaser of St. Mikes and Gene Wright of St. Fredericks, and Ed Graybiel of Pontiac Central.

Proceeds of the past two banquets have gone toward the purchase of athletic equipment for St. Benedict's CYO teams.

TV Keeps Cubs From Turning 'Red' in 1957

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Cubs made a profit of about $1 per day last year.

Owner P. K. Wrigley announced at an annual stockholders' meeting yesterday that the club operated $357 in the black last season despite a drop of $40,000 at the gate on a decline in attendance from 720,118 to 670,626

The Cubs avoided the red because of $100,000 in proceeds from game-of-the-week television. The club showed a loss of $145,712 in 1956.

Play of Kennedy Happy Surprise for Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Forbes Kennedy, a rugged youngster who is fast becoming one of the National Hockey League's most aggressive players, is the most pleasant surprise of an otherwise drab season for the Detroit Red Wings.

He is a muscular, 22-year-old forward who admits that hockey—or rather good hockey — comes as quite a chore. But already, with 23 games left to play, Kennedy has done more scoring than he did during the entire 1956-57 season with the Chicago Black Hawks

Sid Abel, the new Detroit coach, thought Kennedy would be a problem. And his spirit has been contagious."

Kennedy, who has scored nine goals in hs sophomore NHL season, shoots 20 extra pucks each day. "He didn't do much shooting in Chicago," said Abel, "and he's just now picking up a lot of important knowledge about the game."

"I never worried about scoring before," Kennedy explained. "I've always been so worried about making the grade I spent all my time just digging and trying to hang in there helping the other fellows.

"I know I'm not the smoothest player in the business so I have to work a lot harder than the average player. Things other players do naturally — without thinking — mean extra work for me."

Kennedy is built close to the ground, packing 185 pounds on a 5-foot-8 frame. He throws his weight around with almost reckless abandon, even in Red Wing workouts.

"Home ice means a great deal in hockey," said Abel. "Every club has a lot of players who are lions at home and lambs on the road. Not Forbes. He's the same everywhere. And he's coming along so well that I think he has a solid chance to be a real top hockey player."

SENT OUT—Art Schult, outfielder of the Washington Senators, was sold to Minneapolis of the American Association. He was acquired last season by Washington from Cincinnati.

Pontiac Area Mat Teams to See Action

Waterford and Walled Lake resume action tonight and Pontiac goes back at it tomorrow on another busy area wrestling schedule.

Waterford will have its work cut out at Farmington with the Falcons currently going strong. Walled Lake will be at home to meet Van Dyke.

Other matches tonight will have Hazel Park at Detroit Thurston, Berkley at Southfield, and Royal Oak Dondero at Trenton.

Pontiac Central will host Flint Tech Friday at 3:30 in hopes of snapping a losing streak at two. The Chiefs are 2-4 for the season.

Slugger Draws $100,000

Musial Hits Jackpot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

In almost each one of their 16 seasons in the major league Stan Musial and Ted Williams have bettered one baseball record or another.

Now Musial has added another one to his long list. Put it under "Highest annual salary, National League—$100,000. The St. Louis slugger signed for that figure yesterday.

Stan's is not a major league mark only because Williams is expected to hit $125,000 when he comes to terms with the Boston Red Sox.

Musial's contract represented a $20,000 boost over 1957. The 37-year-old veteran earned it with his league-leading .351 average coupled with 29 homers and 102 runs batted in.

"It's a wonderful contract," grinned Musial. "I would have settled for less. I expect to have one or two more seasons at top speed."

The 39-year-old Williams, who is more concerned with fishing than baseball at the moment, should have no trouble reaching a salary agreement with the Red Sox. After all, Ted's .388 batting performance of last season is a good "line" and $125,000 is excellent "bait."

Almost from the start of Musial's career in 1941 baseball fans have been arguing whether he or Williams was the better hitter.

At the moment, Williams leads in lifetime batting average—.350 to .340; home runs—456 to 381 and runs batted in—1,639 to 1,572. Musial shows the way, however, in batting titles with seven to Ted's five and in Most Valuable Player awards, three to two.

Richie Ashburn of the Philadelphia Phillies, the National League batting leader in 1955, came to terms for an estimated $27,500. The fleet outfielder batted .297 last year.

Cincinnati signed lefty pitcher Joe Nuxhall, the New York Yankees rounded up pitcher Art Ditmar and outfielder Bobby Del Greco and Washington hauled in the contracts of second basemen Herb Plews, and Bob Malkmus, outfielders Jerry Schoonmaker and Carlos Paula and pitcher Bob Wiesler. The Senators also sold outfielder-first baseman Art Schult to Minneapolis of the American Assn. for an undisclosed sum.

Los Angeles Vice-President Buzzie Bavasi had no signings to announce. But he did put in a good word for catcher Al Walker whom he said, "would be given every chance" to win the regular job left open when Roy Campanella suffered a broken neck earlier this week.

Detroit Fireman Tops Speed Skating Meet

DETROIT (AP) — Terry Browne, 38-year-old Detroit fireman, ignored an ailing hip, injured in a fall, and won the men's senior open city speed skating championship last night.

Browne collected 15 points with victories in the 220 and 880, a second in the 440 and a third place in the mile. Tom Augustitus, also of Detroit, took second place with victories in the mile and 440.

Other champions included:
Senior women — Jeanne Omelenchuk, Detroit.
Senior men (B)—Ralph Piasta, Royal Oak.
Intermediate girls — Nancy Renshaw, Saginaw.
Intermediate boys — Ken Patterson, Detroit.
Junior boys — Larry Martin, Saginaw.
Junior girls—Marlene Kurant, Detroit.
Juvenile boys—Jerry Martin, Saginaw.
Juvenile girls — Mary Anne Sheets, Midland.
Midget boys—Dick Greve, Midland.
Midget girls—Kathy Sullivan, Cheboygan.
Pony boys—Harry Handley, Detroit.
Pony girls—Pat Hoben, Detroit.

Bouts at Pontiac Central

50 Golden Glovers Vie

Approximately 50 Golden Glove fighters will move into Pontiac Central High School Saturday night for the eliminations of the 18th annual tournament.

Last week at the first elimination site in Monroe there were 23 bouts, the winners of which will now await the finals in Detroit February 18th.

Five Pontiac fighters will be on the card Saturday night.

A doubtful starter is Pontiac middleweight Dave Blower who was supposed to oppose Bobby Joe Keck of Detroit. A facial injury may force Blower to withdraw.

Other local fighters working out at the Boy's Club who are slated to see action are Dave Faust a 175 pounder against Richards Peters of Detroit.

In the welterweight class Richard Lamphere, 147, faces Jim Beasley of Detroit and Richard Compton, 147, meets John Mueller of Detroit.

The local fights are being sponsored by the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce. All seats are reserved and tickets are available at Griff's Grill.

Monday, eliminations will be held in Dearborn and later at Highland Park before the Detroit finals at the Light Guard Armory.

No Rule Against Students

Any high school student who wishes to enter the Press Bowlerama can do so without endangering his status under the Michigan High School Athletic Association rules.

There has been some thought among high school athletes that if they enter the Bowlerama and come out a trophy or money prize winner, they could be declared ineligible.

According to the MHSAA rule book a student will render himself ineligible if he violates amateur provisions only in following activities: Baseball, basketball, boxing, cross country, football, golf, ice hockey, skiing, soccer, softball, swimming, tennis, track or wrestling.

"The rule does not apply to non-school bowling."

State AAU Track Meet Friday

Pontiac's Jones Will Compete in Three Events

Hayes Is Present Champ in Both Hurdle Events and Broad Jump

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A trio of performers who have come within an eye lash of reaching some of tracks magic figures top the 385 entrants in the Michigan AAU meet tomorrow at Yost Fieldhouse.

In addition, Western Michigan's "speednik," squat Ira Murchison is expected to run in the 60-yard dash.

The internationally flavored meet launches Michigan's indoor track season.

The three who have come close to crossing the threshold to track immortality are Floyd Smith, Dave Owen and Eeles Landstrom.

Smith, of the Chicago Track Club, came within three quarters of an inch of topping seven feet in the high jump last year. He's a steady 6-6 jumper and should get most of his competition tomorrow from University of Michigan's Bredman O'Reilly of Ireland.

Owen still yearns to be the fourth man in history to put the shot 60 feet. His best was a 59-foot toss in the Michigan AAU meet last year. That mark isn't likely to be equalled this time. Owen has run out of college eligibility although still in school. He has been concentrating on studies and outside work this winter and is somewhat rusty.

Landstrom, a Finn with wavy blond hair, can do 14½ feet in the pole vault. He soared that high this winter in meets at Boston and Washington.

Murchison may forego the meet because of the Milrose Games Saturday at New York. He won the 60-yard dash in the Michigan AAU meet last year in 6.1 seconds to equal the world record.

Eastern Michigan's one-man track team, Hayes Jones, is entered in three events. They are the broad jump and the 65-yard high and low hurdles. Jones is defending champion in each.

Jones is a former Pontiac High School star and a strong candidate for the 1960 Olympics. He set several college records as a freshman last year and was outstanding in several big American and European events.

Also entered in the AAU is broad jumper Jorma Valkama of Finland, a 3rd place finisher in the 1956 Olympics. His countryman, Mauri Jormakka of Eastern, is in the 880-yard run.

Preliminary and novice events and the broad jump finals will be staged in the afternoon. Starting at 1 p.m. The rest of the major events are at night, beginning at 7 p.m.

Former Pontiac Track Stars in State AAU Meet

A pretty good track team in itself, a group of seven former Pontiac Central High stars will get together Friday afternoon and evening for a round of competition at the Michigan AAU indoor meet in Eastern Michigan's field house in Ypsilanti.

All are out of high school, and are attending (or will be attending soon) Michigan colleges. They will join another star, the Chiefs' most spectacular performer, Hayes Jones of Eastern Michigan.

Squad, with PCH track coach Dean Wilson going along, will include state champion Hud Ray and spectacular Little Alex Barge in the high jump; Charley Robinson and Jim Shorter in the 300 and 600 yard events; Norris Jackson in the 300; Sonny Taylor in the hurdles and Mike Hardiman in the shot.

The squad has been working out every Saturday for some time on conditioning. Wilson says the athletes are in good shape. All were members, with Jones, of what has been called PCH's all-time great championship track team of two years ago.

Bethea Decisions Young Jack Johnson

CHICAGO (INS) — Wayne Bethea of New York outboxed young Jack Johnson of Los Angeles to win a unanimous 10-round decision last night in a nationally televised heavyweight bout at the Chicago Stadium.

Bethea, a 7 to 5 pre-fight favorite, had too much cleverness and experience for the younger but heavier Johnson.

The New Yorker kept his west coast opponent off - balance for most of the fight with short inside punches to the head and body and frequently shook up Johnson with sneak rights to the jaw.

Leading Track Prospect Makes Debut in Relays

EAST LANSING (AP) — Willie Atterberry, considered one of the top young middle distance prospects in the country, will make his varsity track debut at the Michigan AAU relays at Ann Arbor Friday night.

Atterberry, 23-year-old Michigan State sophomore from Detroit, already has busted several records while running as a freshman and unattached.

Last season, he had the best 440 and 880 yard times of any freshman, sophomore or junior in the country. He already has hit a 440 time of :47.1 and has done 1:05.3 in the 880.

Atterberry was fourth, just one place out of making the team, in the 1956 Olympic trials of the 440 meter hurdles.

He set a new world record of 1:08.5 in the 600 yard run at Columbus last year, shaving seven tenths of a second off the previous mark.

Atterberry, a lean 6-1, started attracting attention as a service athlete. He's scheduled to run legs in the one mile and two mile relays races Friday night and also may compete in some individual events.

Coach Karl Schlademan plans to take a full 33-man MSU squad to the relays and 20 additional men will run unattached.

Vernon Sale to Indians Strictly 'Waiver Deal'

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Red Sox yesterday sold veteran first baseman Mickey Vernon to the Cleveland Indians on waivers.

Sox spokesmen said "it's strictly a waiver deal."

Vernon, who will be 40 April 22, has been with the Sox two seasons, coming here from Washington where he spent most of his Major League career.

The deft first sacker will be making his second trip to Cleveland. He played with the Indians a year and a half in 1949 and 1950.

Vernon broke in with the Senators in 1940, playing five games.

Woman Spears 9-Pounder

Ice-fishing's good at Lake Orion, take the word of Mrs. Harry Blouch. She should know, for she has been fishing every day conditions were right for the sport. "I fish all the time," Mrs. Blouch reports. "The pike are starting to move now, so I had a very good day, Monday."

What Mrs. Blouch meant was that she took her biggest pike of the season while spearing from a shanty near her home at 823 Fairview, Swiss Village, Lake Orion. The fish was 30 inches long, and weighed an estimated nine pounds. It was taken from the same hole where she had previously speared fish of 19½ and 23 inches in length.

Among other lucky spearsmen on Oakland County ice was Merle Laurain, 148 West Fairmount, Pontiac. Laurain landed a 9-pounder from Springfield township's Bridge Lake, near his brother Edward's home.

Catholic Central Next for PCH

Chiefs Engage Shamrock Quint in Home Scrap

Pontiac Central Lineup Different From One of First Meeting

Things have changed quite a bit since the season opener when Pontiac Central started the campaign with a 55-45 victory over Catholic Central, tomorrow night's foe at PCH gym.

Since that night early in December, the Chiefs have been relegated from the role of Saginaw Valley Conference favorite to just a hopeful in the SVC race.

Then there is also the absence of big Hudson Ray, a mid-year graduate, who had his best night against Catholic Central in the opener.

As has happened in the past, this game could give some indication of what to expect should the two teams meet when tournament play starts.

Both Pontiac and Catholic Central are listed to complete in the district tourney at Southfield, and they will without doubt be considered the favorites at that time.

If they fail because of the draw to meet at Southfield then they are almost certain to tangle in the regional providing of course if they win in district competition.

Pontiac, now 6-3 for the season, played one of its best "team" games against Saginaw Tuesday. In scoring the 81-59 rout, the Chiefs got good balanced scoring and rebounding from Harrison Munson, Jerry Williams, Charley Barge, John Bandy and Bill Hayward.

Hayward, who now becomes a first semester junior, started his second straight varsity game for Pontiac.

Art Van Ryzin, pleased with the play of the junior starting combination, may again go along with the unit.

Next Friday the Chiefs get back into Saginaw Valley action by traveling to Saginaw Arthur Hill.

Class A Leaders Rebound, 64-55

The Lakeside Royals, Class A City League basketball leaders, bounced back from Tuesday's defeat with a 64-55 triumph over Local 594 last night at Pontiac Central. It was the Royals' 7th win in eight games.

In yesterday's other "A" game, Shaw's Jewelers grabbed an exciting 66-65 decision from Southfield as Ernie Wagner led the way with 25 points.

Big Ten Scores Lower

CHICAGO (AP) — Big Ten basketball teams, probably due to the conference's "no-harm, no-foul" principle in officiating, are scoring 2.3 points per game less than their 1957 season averages.

Official statistics released today disclosed conference teams are averaging 71.5 points per game for the first 26 league contests played this season.

While scoring is down, so are personal fouls which have dropped from a 1957 average of 17.9 per game to 15.0 to date this season.

Semester examinations held competition to a minimum last week. The race swings back into high gear Saturday with a four-game conference program highlighted by first-place Michigan's tussle with invading Purdue in a regional TV matinee. Michigan has a 3-1 record and Purdue stands 2-3.

Saturday night games include Ohio State (4-2) at Iowa (3-3); Minnesota (1-4) at Michigan State (3-2); and Northwestern (3-3) at Illinois (3-3). Indiana (3-2) has a non-loop appearance at De Paul. Wisconsin (3-3) is idle.

The Big Ten's two scoring leaders, Archie Dees of Indiana and Don Ohl of Illinois, marked time in the individual race with averages of 26.6 and 24.3.

Chief scoring change saw Purdue's Willie Merriweather soar from 17th to 7th place with 29 points in a losing effort against Ohio State Monday night. Only other newcomer to the top 10 was Ron Johnson of Minnesota, who climbed from 14th to a 9th place tie with Governor Vaughn of Illinois and M. C. Burton of Michigan at 6.8.

Other leaders and their averages include: Pete Tillotson, Michigan, fourth 20.8; Dave Gunther, Iowa, 19.2; Frank Howard, Ohio State, sixth 18.5; and Jerry Thompson, Indiana, eighth, 17.01.

Michigan State's John Green, although 12th in scoring with a 16.0 average, leads the league in rebounds with a 5-game average of 18.

Howard is next with an average of 16 retrieves in 6 games.

Houghton Skier Leads Rankings

BADGASTEIN, Austria (AP) — Nonie Foley, ace skier from Houghton, Mich., led 1956-57 rankings for women giant slalom racers, according to the International Ski Federation.

Miss Foley and Bud Werner of Steamboat Springs, Col., were the only Americans included in the top 10 rankings for men and women. Werner was rated second to Olympic champion Toni Sailer of Austria in the men's downhill event.

Seedings for the World Alpine Championships Feb. 1-9 will be determined by the rankings and results of races held this season.

2 Titles May Be Decided Friday

By BILL CORNWELL

Two championships could be decided Friday night on the Oakland County high school basketball front.

An early end to title races in the Oakland B and Inter-Lakes circuits may be in store tomorrow if the league leaders withstood the challenges of their closest rivals in key games.

Troy, undefeated in 10 starts, can virtually wrap up the Oakland B crown by repulsing Lake Orion in their showdown at Orion.

Berkley can just about enter the throne room of the Inter-Lakes Conference with a victory over Southfield, which will carry a seven-game winning streak into the Bears' den.

The Troy-Orion and Berkley-Southfield clashes highlight a full schedule of league games in the county area. Only the rugged Saginaw Valley Conference refrains from loop action.

St. Frederick starts the weekend ball rolling one day early by meeting St. Clement tonight in a Suburban Catholic League contest at Center Line. The Rams will be heavily favored to down the winless St. Clement quintet.

The rest of the parochial cagers go at each other tomorrow with St. Michael facing front-running St. Benedict at Highland Park, St. Mary of Orchard Lake going to Ferndale St. James and Royal Oak St. Mary tackling St. Rita at Detroit.

A lull will settle on Wayne-Oakland play this week with league powers all strongly favored.

Unbeaten Clarkston seeks victory No. 10 against visiting Bloomfield Hills, host Northville wants revenge for a previous loss to Brighton, West Bloomfield goes to Clarenceville and slumping Holly entertains Milford.

Birmingham will try to stop Earl McNeal and his Ferndale teammates on the Maple court in the top Eastern Michigan League game. Other EML attractions are East Detroit at Mt. Clemens and Hazel Park at Port Huron.

Friday's battle on the Orion floor is a "must" for the Dragons. Troy owns a 5-0 record in the Oakland B while Orion is 3-2 and another setback will scuttle the Dragons' chances once and for all.

The Dragons were 53-47 victims of Troy in their 1st meeting at Troy. Avondale, still a contender, plays host to Clawson and Fitzgerald visits Madison to round out the Oakland B slate.

The Inter-Lakes race seems destined to go one of two directions—an outright crown for Berkley or another co-title for the Bears, this time with Southfield. Berkley stands 5-0 in the I-L, followed by the Jays' 4-1 record and it's unlikely that either team will lose a conference game beyond tomorrow.

Walled Lake invades Van Dyke and Waterford spreads out the welcome mat for Farmington to complete the Inter-Lakes program.

Winless Oxford journeys to Millington and pace-setting Imlay City is host to North Branch in South Central loop activity.

Campy Better, Paralysis Remains

GLEN COVE, N.Y. (AP)—Dodger catcher Roy Campanella continued to improve today, but still hasn't shaken off the paralysis which struck him from chest to toes in an auto accident Tuesday.

The burly, 36-year-old baseball veteran has regained some feeling in his hands, arms and upper chest.

The last hospital bulletin also said there had been an indication of strength and some movement in his hands. But his legs remained paralyzed.

He still is on the critical list.

Campanella, three times the National League's Most Valuable Player with the late Brooklyn Dodgers, was injured when his car skidded on a winding road near his home, hit a telephone pole and turned over. He was alone in the car.

Campy suffered a broken neck in the crash and has been in a form of traction since a 4½-hour operation to relieve pressure on a nerve. If the break had been an inch higher, it probably would have been fatal.

Campanella's wife, Ruthe, spent 2½ hours at his bedside yesterday, but he slept through the visit. The Campanellas have six children.

Doctors still consider the overall picture encouraging, but admit it may be months or years before he returns to normal. They are hopeful the paralysis eventually will disappear.

But there is little hope that Campy ever will be able to return to baseball as a player. Not only would there by physical danger because of the injury, but at 36, even Campy probably would not be able to come back.

He already had signed for 1958 with the Los Angeles Dodgers, although taking a cut to an estimated $36,500 after a poor year in 1957. In 1956, Campy became the highest paid Dodger in history, receiving $42,500 after gaining his last MVP award as the Dodgers won their only world championship in 1955.

Simmons Spark for Bruins

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Veteran goalie Harry Lumley, subbing for the injured Don Simmons, is one of the big reasons the Boston Bruins are improving their position in the National Hockey League.

But General Manager Lynn Patrick admitted today that Lumley was only a second choice.

"When Simmons got hurt four weeks ago we tried Al Millar who was brought up from the Quebec League," explained Patrick. "But he was only a fill-in until we could pick up someone with more experience.

"We really went after Johnny Bower but he did not want to leave Cleveland in the American League. When Bower turned us down we were glad to be able to pick up Lumley from Chicago. We're not sorry either."

The 31-year-old goalie, who won the Vezina Trophy while with Toronto in 1954, turned in a fine job last night as the Bruins and New York Rangers battled to a 1-1 tie. The last-place Chicago Black Hawks whipped Toronto 4-1 in the only other game.

Lumley turned back 28 New York shots while Gump Worsley saved 22 in the Rangers' goal. Larry Popein put New York in front early in the third period and Jerry Toppazzini evened matters with his 16th goal of the season six minutes later.

The result enabled the Rangers to move two points in front in the competition for second place. The Bruins also gained ground, tying idle Detroit for third place.

The Black Hawks scored three goals within two minutes in the second period and two of them came while they were a man short. Glen Skov, Eric Nesterenko, Elmer Vasko and Ed Kachur scored Chicago's goals while Brian Cullen netted the Leafs' only score.

MVP Award for Pace

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Tribune's silver football award presented to Michigan's All-America halfback, Jim Pace, last night for his selection as the Big Ten's most valuable player last fall.

The presentation was made at the University of Michigan Club of Chicago banquet attended by 500 alumni, Michigan officials and Chicago area prep coaches and athletes.

Thumb Tourney in Semifinals

Almont, Capac and Armada won their way into the semi-final round of the annual Southern Thumb mid-season basketball tournament last night.

Almont meets Capac and Memphis tangles with Brown City, which advanced on a bye, tomorrow night at Memphis. The championship and consolation games will be Saturday at Armada.

Football ace Frank Hartway and Don Eschenberg scored 11 points apiece to pace Almont to a 4-31 triumph over New Haven in 1st of three games at Armada last night.

Capac walloped Dryden 49-36 led by Bill Abraham's 13. Stan Flater had 16 for the losers. Memphis came from behind in the final period to down defending champ Armada 50-43 in a duel of scoring stars. Bob Burns and Don Johnston combined for 29 for the winners while Terry Wills hit 20 and Dorrance Dunham 12 for Armada.

Gridder Karras Wins 1st Start as Wrestler

DES MOINES (AP) — Alex Karras, Iowa's 250-pound All-America tackle during two football seasons, made a successful debut as a professional wrestler here last night.

Karras threw veteran wrestler Al Montana of New York with something resembling a flying tackle and pinned the old campaigner in 4 minutes, 20 seconds of a scheduled 30-minute match.

Karras has been signed by the Detroit Lions professional football team but has turned also to wrestling because he said he needs the money.

Montana said Karras was better than "50 or 60 per cent of the pros wresting right now."

MAKES OFFER — H. Gabriel Murphy, Washington insurance man, made an offer and was turned down in his bid to gain control of the Senators of the American League. He sought to buy 2,274 shares from the estate of the late Mrs. Clark Griffith.

St. Fred Cagers Meet Crusaders Tonight on Road

With almost all hope lost of capturing or sharing 2nd place, St. Frederick resumes its Suburban Catholic League basketball campaign tonight at Center Line against St. Clement.

Gene Wright's southsiders are expected to have little or no trouble with the tail-end Crusaders, who are without a victory in 10 games this season.

The Rams occupy 3rd place in the SCL with a 5-3 record, but runnerup Orchard Lake St. Mary would have to lose two of its three remaining games for the St. Fred Cagers to get a piece of 2nd spot.

Tonight's game, originally scheduled tomorrow, will get under way about 8:15, preceded by the reserve contest at 7 o'clock.

STRIKES AND SPARES

By Joe Wilman

Do you have a bowler on your team who constantly misses the 10-pin on the left, as we show today? Or perhaps he rolls the ball into the right gutter when trying for this tough pin? At any rate, if he makes the same mistake consistently without adjusting to correct the mistake, he's not playing it smart at all.

A smart bowler will know when to adjust and how to adjust. If he misses the 10-pin on the left, as we show, he'll make a mental note to adjust when he has to shoot at it again. He may put a little more speed on his ball to cut down on the hooking action. Or he may reduce the hooking action of his ball by cutting down on his wrist turn and or finger lift.

At any rate, he'll make some adjustment so that he won't make the same mistakee over and over. And the same thing applies to scoring strikes. If your ball is coming in consistently on the nose, some adjustments must be made.

Knowing when and how to adjust to meet a given situation calls for a smart bowler. If you're not a smart bowler now, there's no reason why you can't become one.

U. of M. Study to Take 2 Years

Hospital Survey Planned

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A two-year study of the state's hospital facilities and medical insurance plans will be launched in March by the University of Michigan.

The survey will be financed by a $324,760 grant from the Kellogg Foundation, and will be directed by Walter J. McNerney, head of the Bureau of Hospital Administration in the School of Business Administration.

The study will:

1. Survey existing hospital facilities to determine whether they are meeting needs.

2. Examine pre-paid medical and hospital plans with specific references to their operating costs, benefits and contract limitations.

3. Study the relationship between benefits provided and the availability of services and how well policy-holders take advantage of what is available.

4. Examine the effectiveness of proposals to control hospital and medical costs.

5. Study the relationship between charges to the patient and the extent of insurance coverage.

6. Survey a section of the population to determine the distribution of insurance in regard to family health expenses.

Mcnerney said the study will be conducted at the request of the governor's study commission on pre-paid hospital and medical care programs.

He said the Michigan State Medical Society, the Michigan Hospital Assn. and the Michigan Medical Service (Blue Cross-Blue Shield) have pledged their cooperation.

Sees Shelter by June

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Col. Peter Hyzer, Detroit district Army engineer, says a $561,997 "alert shelter" for interceptor planes will be completed at Selfridge Air Force Base in June. The structure is 400 feet long and 40 feet high and is divided into four bays. It will be used for maintaining and sheltering jets of the first fighter wing.

Study Atomic Energy

BRUSSELS—At the seaside resort of Knokke, Belgium, 250 businessmen from 21 European countries recently completed a two-week course on atomic energy and what it means to business.

Steel Demand Paces Market

NEW YORK (AP)— Steels were in demand as the stock market moved further ahead in fairly active trading early today.

Leading stocks posted gains of fractions to around a point.

Chrysler, whose satellite-bearing Jupiter-C missile awaits firing, was active and around a point ahead. Royal Dutch was briskly traded and rose fractionally.

U. S. Steel advanced another point following Tuesday's news of record yearly earnings. Bethlehem, which reports today on its 1957 performance, added a fraction.

Stock of the New Haven Railroad advanced as a new proxy fight appeared a possibility. The preferred stock, crucial in such a struggle, was ahead about two points in brisk dealings. The common rose a fraction in quiet transactions.

Polaroid continued its spurt with a rise of around a point. International Business Machines, still spurred by a higher dividend, rose more than two. U.S. Hoffman Machinery gained fractionally.

Fisher Body Plant Awards Extra Prizes

T. F. Wiethorn, manager of the local Fisher Body plant, has announced that numerous prizes are being awarded to employes in his unit in addition to the awards from General Motors in its "Golden Milestone" contest.

A supplemental award of up to $5,000,00 will be given to purchase a lot for the $35,000 Golden Milestone home if the winner is employed by Fisher Body — Pontiac Plant.

Ten prizes, ranging from a camera outfit to a hi-fi set, have been given away. Winners were drawn from among those employes who had entered the contest early and had deposited their acknowledgement cards in containers at the plant entrances.

Further drawings are scheduled for Feb. 4 and Feb. 18.

Soybean Prices Hit New Low

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybean futures prices hit a new low for the season again today in early dealings on the board of trade.

The March, May and July contracts which skidded to new depths yesterday were off still further under additional weakness in the soybean oil market.

Chrysler Shuts 3 Detroit Plants

5,000 Employes Sent Home After Walkout by 400 at Plymouth

DETROIT (AP) — A walkout by 400 United Auto Workers caused Chrysler Corp. to shut down three Detroit plants today and send 5,000 other employes home.

A company spokesman said 400 trim department employes refused to do assigned work at the Plymouth body plant. There was no immediate Union comment.

Chrysler sent 1,200 home from the plant where the walkout erupted, plus 2,100 from a Plymouth assembly plant and 2,000 from a stamping plant.

Chrysler and the UAW have been embroiled in recent weeks in disputes over production standards, with the Union charging a speedup and Chrysler saying workmen were being asked only to meet production standards of competitors.

Today's walkout came as company and Union negotiators resumed attempts to head off a strike at the Dodge main plant in suburban Hamtramck. The UAW International board has sanctioned a strike there unless grievances on production standards are settled.

The company reported "no progress" following a meeting yesterday.

UAW local 3 has been authorized by the union's executive board to strike, if necessary, to settle grievances involving what the union calls a "speed-up." The company has denied attempting to add to employes' work loads.

A strike at Dodge Main, which employs 17,500 workers, could idle 70,000 Chrysler employes in the Detroit area.

The plant resumed operations this morning. About 5,000 workers were sent home before the end of their shifts yesterday because the company said "trim department employes failed to perform their regular work assignments."

Chevrolet Division Pays $571,846 for Ideas

DETROIT (AP) — Chevrolet Motor Division reports workers in 30 of its manufacturing and assembly plants received a record total of $571,846 during 1957 for ideas they submitted to the company.

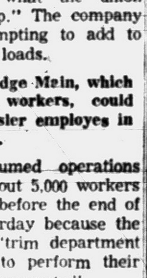

The company said more than 9,700 ideas that benefited the company were submitted. This was an increase of 2,000 over ideas accepted in the previous record year of 1956.

May Buy Base Housing

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House Armed Services subcommittee has recommended giving the armed services permission to negotiate for purchase of 511 rental housing units for personnel at Selfridge Air Force Base, Mich.

Business Notes

Directors of Bohn Aluminum and Brass Corp., Detroit, elected Guy manager of the fabrication division.

PITTS

Pitts joined Bohn in 1950 and served as chief engineer, plant manager and H. Pitts, of 587 Wing Croft, Bloomfield Township, as vice president of manufacturing. He will oversee all manufacturing operations.

He graduated from the University of Michigan in 1940 with an engineering degree.

Relief Cases Flood County's Welfare Unit

Never since 1937 has the Oakland County Social Welfare Department been hit with such a wave of relief cases as those now besieging that office.

"We're just swamped," is typical of the comments of an office worker as she tallies the 1,789 active cases (as of Jan. 24) receiving welfare aid from the county.

One has to go back to April of 1940 — the first year under the present social welfare board — to find a heavier case load. Then there were 1,968.

Before the board was established, and under the Emergency Relief Administration (ERA), there were 2,491 persons or families receiving aid from the county.

BURDEN INCREASING

This increasing burden of welfare costs upon the county is causing some concern with officials as they seek means to meet these costs.

Not lessening the burden is the fact that after September of last year the state cut its share to 30 per cent on a matching basis. It used to be 50-50 between the counties and the state.

To give some idea of the soaring case load, George H. Burt, vice chairman of the board, disclosed these daily highs in cases for the following years:

1947 — 863; 1953 — 776; 1954 — 1,059; 1955 — 1,347; 1956 — 1,424; and 1957 — 1,723 on Dec. 27.

RESIDE IN STATE

Before one is eligible for welfare aid he or she must have resided in Michigan (not necessarily in Oakland County) for 12 consecutive months. They must have been entirely self-supporting without public or private assistance.

Burt explained that the applicant must be a resident of the county when the application is made. Eighty per cent of the applicants here are unemployed factory workers.

Oakland County spent $1,137,000 for direct relief last year. This does not include the state's share on the matching basis, Burt pointed out.

The cost of living budget is established, Burt said, to determine how much financial aid the applicant needs to get by. He said this aid is paid directly, in most cases, to the agencies providing the services, such as light, heat and food.

"The applicants are screened very carefully," the official explained. "They must show they have exhausted their unemployment compensation and that they are making attempts to seek employment."

Reynolds Metals Makes New Type Bread Wrap

DETROIT (INS) — Reynolds Metals Company stated today its research laboratories have developed an aluminum foil bread wrap which would compete in price with many conventional wraps.

Paul Murphy, sales official, said the wrap "is a heat sealable lamination of paper foil and wax."

He predicted foil now used on less than one per cent of the bread produced in the U.S. will have a larger share of the market in the near future.

Store Chain Agrees to Buy Kline Stock

NEW YORK (AP) — City Specialty Stores Co. has agreed to buy the common stock of Kline's, Inc., St. Louis, Mo., Gordon Greenfield, president of City Specialty Stores said today.

Greenfield said his company will buy the stock subject to the delivery of 90 per cent of the shares by next Monday.

Greenfield declined to disclose terms of the offer to shareholders of Kline's a privately held firm.

He estimated that the seven Kline stores have annual sales of around 15 million dollars. The chain has three apparel stores in St. Louis, three in Detroit, and a department store in Kansas City.

City Specialty Stores Co. operates three divisions, Franklin-Simon Stores, Oppenheim Collins Stores, and Hearns Department Stores. The chain sells women's and children's apparel and men's clothing. It had sales of $46,296,479 in the year that ended Jan. 31, 1957.

NYC Detroit-Chicago Service Is Reduced

New York Central will discontinue two morning passenger trains between Detroit and Chicago as of Feb. 16. Decrease in volume of passenger traffic is given as the reason. Discontinued will be the westbound Wolverine (No. 17) and the eastbound New York Special (No. 44). The westbound Wolverine will continue to operate from New York to Detroit, transferring some cars at Detroit to the Mercury leaving Detroit at 8 a.m. for Chicago. Eastbound Mercury will leave Chicago at 9 a.m. and the eastbound Wolverine at 12:30 p.m. Seats will not be reserved on either Mercury.

Bow, Arrow Gun Study Proposes 3 Dart Weapons

WASHINGTON (AP)—That secret bow and arrow study locked deep in government mystery proposes three bow and arrow-type dart gun weapons.

They are nicknamed "Little Joe," "Big Joe" and "Joe Louis," and the biggest of them reportedly can throw a half-pound metal dart.

So reported a staff memorandum for the House Government Information subcommittee today as Chairman Moss (D-Calif) made public a letter about the matter to Secretary of Defense McElroy.

Dr. Wallace R. Brode, science adviser to Secretary of State Dulles, testified last week that official secrecy still shrouded results of some bow and arrow experiments directed as a sideline during World War II by a scientist who was an archery enthusiast. He gave no details.

Then, tongue in cheek, the staff memorandum said the House group has received comments that the bow and arrow study is being kept secret because such may be the only weapons left after an atomic attack. Or perhaps it was classified in connection with the recent Indian assault on a North Carolina Klan meeting, it said.

General Motors Names Dealer Relations Head

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors has announced appointment of Patrick J. Crowley as director of Dealer Relations Section of the GM Distribution Staff.

Crowley's section will facilitate communications between General Motors' 18,500 passenger car and truck dealers and GM top management. Crowley joined GM in 1938 as a member of its legal staff.

Bank Holdup Man Sentenced to Prison

For holding up the West Huron street branch of the Community National Bank last month, 28-year-old Walter E. Dudley today was sentenced to nine years in prison by Federal Judge Arthur E. Lederle in Detroit.

Dudley, originally from Campton, Ky., pleaded guilty Dec. 23 to a charge of armed robbery.

After having just arrived in the Pontiac area two days prior, Dudley made off with $7,725 as the bank at 994 W. Huron St. was about to close at 8 p.m.

He later was captured at a police roadblock after he became confused and doubled back past the scene of the crime.

Birmingham Man Heads GM Tax Unit

Appointment of Robert F. Magill of 1271 Lakeside Ave., Birmingham, as director of General Motors Tax Section was announced Thursday.

Magill served as assistant tax legislative counsel and assistant head of the legal advisory staff for the U.S. Treasury Dept. He joined General Motors in January 1955 as assistant director of the Tax Section.

He graduated from Indiana University and from Harvard Law School and is a member of the Tax Executives Institute and the American Bar Assn.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY husband, Wesley H. Rich who passed away two years ago today, January 30, 1956.
The world may change from year to year,
And friends from day to day;
But never will the one we love,
From memory fade away.
Sadly missed by wife, Ruth; Brother and Friends.

SHE WON'T QUIT — Joan Caufield (left) is battling to keep her NBC-TV show, "Sally," on the air despite low ratings. Joan (shown here with co-star Marion Lorne) and her husband, producer Frank Ross, are determined to remodel the comedy series and make it a hit. "Sally" is telecast locally at 10:30 p.m. Sunday.

Revises Format to Attract Fans

Comedy Series Suffers From Competition With Popular Western

By CHARLES DENTON

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — "Sally's" slip may be showing a little, but blonde Joan Caufield doesn't aim to be turned out of the cowtown TV has become without a fight.

Both Joan and her producer-husband, Frank Ross, freely admit that they are powerful put out at the way ABC's "Maverick" is gunning down their NBC show, not to mention Steve Allen and Ed Sullivan, in the ratings.

The explanatory factors that they are in good company on the wrong end of the polls and that they are forced to start their half-hour offering at the same time "Maverick" opens an hour-long artillery battle—always a bad arrangement for a 30-minute show—soothe their nerves very little.

"But we will not and cannot accept defeat," Ross says, his lips as tight as any Westerner's. "We will do anything we can to make good."

Which is quite a declaration from a man who admits he is losing money on the show and is striving manfully to produce a feature flicker, "Kings Go Forth," while rearming "Sally" for combat.

"I love the show so and I want it to continue so much," adds Joan with no less determination than her spouse. "I'd miss it so much if we couldn't continue.

JUST A SHAME!

"We've put in so much work, and we have such a good crew. It would be a shame if we couldn't go on."

As part of their strategy to spike "Maverick's" guns, Joan and Frank have added two more regulars to the "Sally" cast—Gale Gordon, formerly of "Our Miss Brooks" and "The Brothers," and Artie Johnson.

They are also in the market for some love interest, and right now crooner Johnny Desmond has the inside track to snag that role.

And "Sally," who has been junketing around the globe since the show went on the air, has settled down in one spot for a while.

All these things represent the fruits of lessons Ross has learned since he took on "Sally" as more or less of a sideline.

"We thought, in our innocence," he explains thoughtfully, "that because so many other comedy shows had the same families, the same sets, the same everything all the time, we could be a hit by being different.

Man Importing Domestic Help

Norwegian Bringing In Housemaids to U. S. From Scandinavia

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—A typical American shortage has made a good business for Tor Petterson. He imports housemaids.

The 41-year-old Norwegian opened the Scandia Placement Agency seven months ago. Since then he has brought 450 persons here from Scandinavian countries to work as domestics.

"In the United States no one seems to want to work as a domestic," Petterson said. "Living standards are too high; the work no longer appeals to Americans. But Scandinavians feel differently about it. It's good training for them. Good training for marriage, a good way to come to know the United States and its way of life."

Petterson says his imports get $125 a month, plus room and board. The hiring family pays Petterson's $65 fee and also the passage money, deducting the latter from the servant's pay over a period of six months or a year.

Petterson came here in 1945 with $7 and worked his way through California Institute of Technology. He will soon become an American citizen.

"If the American family is large, we try to find a strong, husky girl from a large family who'll fit in," Petterson said. "If the family is small—for example, in Beverly Hills—we try to find a girl who knows the social graces. We try to weed out the girl who is going only for the ride."

The average maid's age is 25 and the average working contract 18 months. Of the 450 imports so far, all but 20 were women. Ten of the men were husbands of maids. Petterson plans to extend his operations to Wales, Scotland, Switzerland and Holland to meet increasing demands.

Robbers Turn Tables, Identify Scared Victim

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Sheriff's officers today reported a new wrinkle in law enforcement: they had to get the robbers to identify the victim.

Two holdup men who robbed liquor store clerk James G. Karsatos of $110 Jan. 9 threatened to kill him if he gave their description to authorities.

Karsatos was so terrified that he went the obbers one better: he changed their physical description in reporting the crime.

But deputies arrested Oscar Lee Walker, 22, and Bobbie Lee Barnes, 20, on another robbery charge. The men said they couldn't have commited the stick-up because they had robbed Karsatos at the time.

Deputies Jack Watson and Bob Dorn confronted Karsatos with the two men, who promptly identified him as their victim. They are being held in the county jail.

'Free' TV Honeymoon Is 'All-Expense' Trip

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Be glad you don't win free trips or go on TV quiz shows.

Actress Shirl Conway and Composer Bernie Wayne have had lots of trouble since getting married on "Bride and Groom" last New Year's eve — the saddest incident occurring in Nassau when their honeymoon cruise ship sailed away and left them.

They taxied to a hotel where they were to be guests. It wasn't accepting guests. There was a strike. British troops were out with bayonets drawn.

Quickly they flew to Miami—paying their own way—and moved into a hotel there—paying their own way. Three-fourths of the "free cruise" was lost; the ship wasn't coming back their way. "Bride and Groom" meanwhile had gone off TV, and nobody's very interested in Shirl and Bernie.

"It's an all-expense honeymoon," says Shirl, formerly of the Sid Caesar TV program, very bitterly, down in Miami. "We're paying all the expenses."

Dennis Crosby, Bing's 23-year-old son, becomes a step-daddy when he marries beautiful Pat Sheehan, 26.

Pat, a real beauty, told me last April in Las Vegas—after she'd had several dates with Bing—that her little boy had returned to her family in San Francisco after breaking the manager's window where she was working.

"Did he throw a baseball through it?" I asked Pat, who replied, "No, a rock!"

Pat's being 26 will mix up everybody trying to figure out the Crosby family ages. But here it is: Bing's bride, Kathy, is 23. So Kathy's the same age as her step-son Dennis. But Pat Sheehan will be her step-daughter-in-law and the step-mother-in-law will be three years younger than her step-daughter-in-law. Got it now? Dennis; anyone?

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Dick Nixon's become Broadwayish. Left his dessert to make the curtain at "Long Day's Journey"; sat through all the show at the Baseball Writers explaining, "I used to be an actor myself." . . . Sugar Ray Robinson auditioned for the Sportin' Life role in "Porgy and Bess." . . . B'way producers formed a committee to cut down the opening night free ticket list.

Author James Jones will tour Europe for 18 months . . . Mike Todd tried to buy some movies in Czechoslovakia, learned a 20-year-old N. Y. student named Jay Frankel had beaten him to it. . . Erin O'Brien's sister Sheila, an airlines stewardess, was flown to LA to serve Erin when she came in to do the Steve Allen show. Erin helped Sheila serve passengers.

EARL'S PEARLS: There are two reasons we don't trust certain politicians. One is, because we don't know them; the other is, because we do . . That's earl, brother.

School Lunch Fund Cut by One Cent a Meal

LANSING (AP) — Michigan schools will get one cent less in federal funds for hot lunches starting Saturday.

Local school districts have been receiving six cents a meal. This will be cut to five cents.

Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction, said the reduction was forced by an 8 per cent increase in the number of lunches served in Michigan schools.

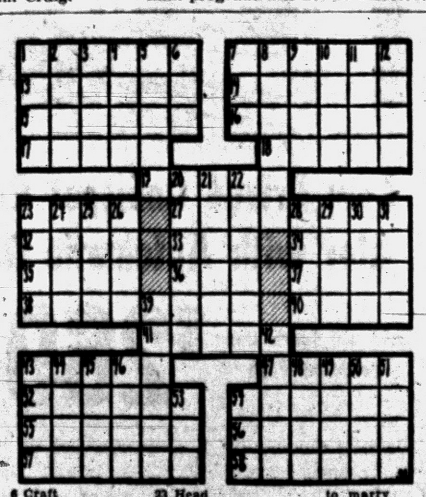

Bartlett said most schools are expected to absorb the loss without raising prices. The school milk program will not be affected.
