Ike Enters McCarthy Feud

Army Secretary Given Backing by White House

Senator May Appeal to President or Wilson in Reds-in-Service Probe

NEW YORK (INS)—The White House today was drawn into the heated controversy between Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy and Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens.

The Pentagon announced that Stevens obtained clearance from the White House for his statement accusing McCarthy of "humiliating" an Army general.

Earlier, it was learned McCarthy intends to go to "higher authority" — presumably Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson or President Eisenhower — in his fight to get the names of Army officials he accuses of shielding a "Fifth Amendment Communist."

An unimpeachable source said today the Wisconsin Republican plans such a move unless their identities are disclosed or Army Secretary Stevens rescinds his order barring high-ranking officers from appearing before his Senate permanent investigations subcommittee.

The source, who is close to the senator, said McCarthy is "outraged" over Stevens' order and "is not backing down in this fight" stemming from the Army's honorable discharge of Maj. Irving Peress of Elmhurst, N. Y.

Furthermore, the source continued, McCarthy is determined to attempt to cite Stevens for contempt if he does not answer questions at a subcommittee hearing to the satisfaction of the senator.

It was understood, in addition, that McCarthy is trying to arrange a meeting with Wilson to discuss what he terms the "cover-up, promotion, coddling and protection of a known Communist" by Army officials.

Peress, a reserve dentist on duty at Camp Kilmer, N. J., was discharged Feb. 3 despite McCarthy's demand he be court-martialed for allegedly recruiting (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

The storm left thousands homeless and in need of food and medical supplies.

Oppose More Liquor Places

13 in Commission Race State Stand on Licenses

Thirteen candidates for election to Pontiac City Commission have signed a statement indicating opposition to any increase in places selling liquor by the glass.

The statements were solicited by Dr. Milton Bank, chairman of the Citizens Referendum Committee.

The city primary election occurs March 1.

J. H. Patrick Glynn, District 6, and William W. Donaldson, District 3, said they would oppose issuance of more licenses "unless the present ordinance is changed," according to Dr. Henry Savage of the First Baptist Church.

The others, Savage said, stated they opposed "the action taken by a majority of the city commission to circumvent the city ordinance" limiting liquor-by-the-glass licenses to 24.

Savage said they included from District 2, Harcourt S. Patterson; District 3, Earl J. Smith and Don A. Zaffina; District 4, Floyd P. Miles, Raymond S. Morris and Albert J. Wilkinson.

Others named by Savage were District 5, Howard A. Frost, John H. Ridgway and J. Marvin Smith; District 6, Theodore Kentros; and District 7, Harry W. Lutz.

The statement, according to Dr. Milton Bank, said in part, "An Ordinance of the city of Pontiac establishes 24 as the number of places that can be licensed to sell hard liquor by the glass.

"The Michigan law provides that a city may not have more than one license for every 1,500 population, or fraction thereof (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Michigan traffic and fires, one of them at a convalescent home in Watervliet, claimed at least 23 victims since the damp and gloomy weekend began Friday.

The Friday night blaze claimed eight lives. Mrs. Jennie Shuster, 81, of Benton Harbor, was the most recent victim. She died Sunday at Watervliet Hospital.

An investigation into the fire was undertaken by Joseph Killian, Berrien County prosecutor. He planned to meet with state fire officials to determine whether an inquest was required.

At least 14 persons died in automobile accidents.

Harold N. Nelson, 81, of Ann Arbor, was killed when he apparently lost control of his car and crashed into another about five miles north of the city.

George Webb, 45, of Toledo, was killed near Erie, Mich. He stepped into the path of a car on U.S. 24.

Millard Widens Highway Probe

Pledges Speedy Action in Investigation of Road Department

LANSING (INS)—State Attorney General Frank Millard today promised "speedy action" in the investigation of highway department irregularities, following new disclosures over the weekend.

The latest claim is that Highway Department land buyer Maurice Manahan solicited payoffs from a Muskegon house mover.

The mover, Walter Deitz, told State Police:

"Manahan asked me for a $200 contribution to the 'kitty' last August, and later told me I would have to feed the kitty to get my moving jobs from the state."

Manahan's boss, G. Palmer Seeley, was fired last Friday by State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler on a charge of "gross irregularities" in the state purchase of right-of-way land in western Michigan.

In addition to naming Manahan, Deitz told State Police of a second State Highway Department employee who sought contributions to the "kitty," but this man has since left the state service.

Fires Strike Two Pontiac Homes

Firemen Fight Blazes for 2½ Hours Sunday Morning

Five adults and two children were driven from two Pontiac homes in their nightclothes Sunday at 6 a.m. when fire of undetermined origin gutted one home and damaged an adjoining one.

Joseph Barkiewicz and his wife, Mary, 29, of 1045 Durant St., were awakened by James Bowner, of 1049 Durant St., whose home was gutted by the fire.

They called firemen and rushed their two children, Mary Jo, 4, and Joseph Michael, 5, from the house. Mrs. Barkiewicz's father, Alfons Wielniak, 76, and her sister, Rose Marie, 24, also fled from the house.

Firemen, who fought the flames for 2½ hours, estimated damage to Bowner's home at about $10,000. The Barkiewicz home suffered damage estimated at $2,000. Bowner said he was awakened suddenly by the heat. He jumped out of a first floor window and aroused his neighbors.

Mrs. Barkiewicz said "if he hadn't awakened us I'm sure we would never have gotten out of the house. The children were too sleepy to be frightened."

Bowner's auto, parked between the two homes, had to be pushed to the street because heat from the fire had melted ignition wires. Bowner is living with relatives in the city and the Barkiewicz's moved back into their damaged home after makeshift repairs.

Armed GIs Scatter ROKs Trying to Halt Indian Train

SEOUL (AP)—American troops, jabbing with bayonets, chased off without apparent bloodshed 200 to 300 South Koreans who early today tried to halt a train carrying homebound Indian soldiers, the U. S. 8th Army said.

The Koreans were cleared from the tracks after some minor jabbing and shoving, and the train continued to Incheon port without incident, said an 8th Army spokesman.

However, Kim Chang Heung, vice chief of South Korea's national police, said American tanks were called to the scene. He denounced what he called the 8th Army's "heavy counter-measures" against "a righteous move by indignant men."

An American officer said the anti-Indian demonstrators were cleared in about 30 minutes, shortly after midnight. They had massed on the railroad embankment and had lit fires to keep warm.

The incident was the first show of interference which South Koreans had threatened against the Indians.

Lightning Bolt Possible Cause of Night Blaze

Firemen Fight Flames Over 2 Hours; One Man Cut and Bruised

Fire swept through the M. A. Benson Lumber Co., 549 N. Saginaw St., Saturday night, causing an estimated $125,000 damage to the main building, lumber and machinery.

One fireman was reportedly injured while fighting the fire which threatened over $1,000,000 worth of lumber stored outside the building, according to Chief John F. Schroeder and Capt. John J. Morrissey.

Morrissey said 28 firemen battled the flames about two and a half hours before the blaze was brought under control.

A crew of firemen was still at the scene today extinguishing small blazes breaking out in the charred lumber. The 150x100-foot building and lumber smoldered all day Sunday.

Over 30 persons reported the blaze to the fire department switchboard at 10:10 p.m.

Fireman Stanley Luxon was rushed to Pontiac General Hospital after he was knocked unconscious by fire equipment. Luxon was slapped backward, off a fire engine by a metal bar while releasing hose leading to a hydrant, fellow workmen said.

He was treated for bruises and cuts on the chest and face.

Schroeder said his department is investigating reports that lightning struck the building, and a rumor that several persons were inside the structure shortly before the fire broke out.

M. A. Benson, lumberyard owner, said several persons saw lightning hit the building.

Mrs. Oliver Hardenburgh, whose home at 22 Whitfield St. is only about a half block from the lumber yard, said she and her husband heard "a loud roar like thunder and saw a flash."

"I told my husband it looked like we were in for a bad storm. When he went to the window, he saw flames coming from the building."

Other persons living nearby said they saw a vivid flash of lightning just before the fire started.

Most of the lumber destroyed was finished lumber ready to be used as building material.

The company also was hit by a $92,000 blaze on June 26, 1951 when the main building also was destroyed.

Three engines and one ladder truck were used Saturday and Sunday in fighting the fire.

Gas Fumes Kill Man in Garage

2nd Person Overcome by Carbon Monoxide in Closed Building

One man died last night of carbon monoxide poisoning and a second is in critical condition today from the exhaust of motors of two cars idling in a closed service garage.

Clarence Daniels, 24, of 638 Arthur Ave., was pronounced dead this morning at Pontiac General Hospital, and a companion, Alexander Williams, 49, of 438 S. Saginaw St., is in critical condition at the hospital.

Both unemployed, they had been allowed to stay at the St. and W. Service Garage at 354 Franklin Rd., by the owner, Raymond V. Snell of 345 Elmwood St. and in return safe-guarded the garage from burglars.

George Penny, 28, of 16 Walnut St., garage mechanic, discovered the men in two separate cars this morning about 9:15 when he went to awaken them. He said the men apparently were running the cars so the heaters would stay on.

Families of the men are both somewhere in the south. Penny said, waiting for word that the men have been re-employed.

Detective John Williams is conducting an investigation of the poisoning. An autopsy of Daniels is scheduled today.

Girl, 9, in Box Escapes Death When Run Over

WICHITA, Kan. (UP)—Nine-year-old Phyllis M. Martin, running across the yard, tripped and fell into a cardboard box in the driveway yesterday just as her uncle was getting ready to drive his automobile out.

The little girl started to crawl out of the box but saw the car coming toward her and ducked back in.

The uncle, George E. Hull, 24, did not see the girl fall. Thinking the box was empty, he ran over it. Phyllis emerged from the box with only a sprained right ankle and cuts and bruises on the left ankle.

Bargain Hunters Riot at Store

Customers Start Fights in Efforts to Purchase 'Washington Specials'

NEW YORK (UP)—A surging, tight-packed ocean of people engulfed a Manhattan department store today, shoving, shouting and trampling toes in a stampede to grab up bargain merchandise.

Women lost hats and shoes in the crush. At least two of them fainted. Several fist fights broke out as a mass of more than 10,000 people jammed around Hearn's department store on 14th Street.

A policeman was shoved through a plate-glass door, but was not hurt.

Thousands converged on the store long before opening time, lured by advertisements of such "George Washington Birthday" specials as $19.95 watches for $2.92 and $39 pearl necklaces for $2.97.

Extra police detachments rushed to the scene, as the throng circled the block and spilled into the streets, blocking traffic. Some stood atop stalled cars, yelling.

A police loud-speaker truck droned uselessly in the din.

Police Inspector Joseph F. Weiden issued orders preventing the store from opening its doors at the scheduled time of 10 o'clock until "reinforcements arrive."

Finally, an attempt was made to admit people gradually, 10 at a time. But as one door opened, an avalanche of about 100 poured through before it could be closed.

Police took over at another entrance, set up big wooden barricades, and tried letting people in one at a time. At intervals, the tide of people burst over the barriers.

Women fell, and scrambled determinedly to their feet again.

Once inside, people found they couldn't get out.

In the Bronx, at another Hearn's store, more than 5,000 bargain-hungry shoppers gathered, but there, the situation seemed less riotous.

Meet Your Commissioners

Birmingham Man Serves in Tradition of His Father

(Editor's note: This is the last in a series of articles entitled "Meet Your Commissioners," concerning Birmingham lawmakers. The series is designed to make these men and their opinions better known.)

BIRMINGHAM — Serving as a city commissioner was in the cards for the city's newest lawmaker, James C. Allen, providing the local citizenry would elect him. They did that last April, when he was chosen to fill a one-year vacancy.

Allen's election was in the tradition of his family. He saw his father, Harry Allen, sworn in as president of the village of Birmingham in 1930.

His father headed the charter committee that turned the village into a city in 1933. He then became the city's first mayor, and was a city commissioner.

And Warren Clizbe, young Allen's grandfather, also served as president of the village from 1920 to 1924.

Allen is a partner in the Detroit law firm of Allen, Haass and Selander. He received his law degree from the University of Michigan in 1943.

He fills the title of "commissioner" in still another way. Allen was named head of the Michigan Corporation and Securities Commission last year. He had been a deputy commissioner since 1951.

Working in this capacity, Allen spends at least two days a week in Lansing. He thus is working from the level of local to state government much of the time.

An avid reader of 18th century English literature, Allen was editor of the now defunct "Perspectives," campus literary magazine at the University of Michigan.

A large record collection also shares space on the library shelves at his home at 1108 Maple. There isn't too much time for his golf game.

Until recently his family consisted of his wife, the former Rosemary Aldrich of Ann Arbor, and three children.

But James C. Allen Jr. made his entrance into the world last Christmas eve, to become the baby brother of Bill, S. Martha, S. and Molly, 3.

The Michigan Liquor Control Commission does not require that any city must license the maximum number authorized.

According to Dr. Bank, the statement said the city commission voted to grant 12 additional licenses "not because the law required it, but to favor a few individuals who wishes to make possible a greater sale of liquor."

"There are other important considerations in the selection of a commission, but the moral issue is pre-eminent in the minds of church leaders who have been contacted," Bank stated.

"All candidates, except those who voted for the increase in liquor sales, have been contacted, or repeated efforts have been made to contact them without success, and have been asked to sign this statement," Dr. Bank said.

Ike Drawn Into Feud of McCarthy, Army

Gis into a Red cell at the Army post.

Stevens loosed a bitter blast at McCarthy last night over what he termed the "unwarranted . . . humiliating treatment" to which he said Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, Camp Kilmer commandant, was subjected before the McCarthy group last Thursday.

Stevens charged Zwicker was "abused" and subjected to "unfair attacks" and said he was "sure" the other committee members "will be shocked . . . to read the transcript of the testimony."

The source close to McCarthy said the senator sent telegrams early today to all committee members notifying them he intended to release the transcript of Zwicker's secret testimony unless there was an objection and added:

"We will let the public be the judge if the general was mistreated or humiliated."

Meanwhile, McCarthy asserted that "the issue raised by Stevens is whether the Army is supreme over the Congress . . . and can enjoy special dictatorial immunity in covering up its wrong-doings."

He charged that Peress' discharge was "stupidity at its best and treason at its worst" and that "those who committed it are now being officially shielded by order of the secretary of the army."

It was understood McCarthy told Stevens he wants Zwicker to appear before his group again on March 10, the date on which Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.), a subcommittee member, is due back from a European tour.

Meanwhile, in Washington, tomorrow's hearing at which Stevens was scheduled to testify before McCarthy's subcommittee was postponed today until Thursday.

The postponement was announced by the office of Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich.), a member of the subcommittee.

Potter's office explained that the delay was due to the fact that several senators who want to attend the hearing cannot be present tomorrow.

Referring to Zwicker's appearance last Thursday, the Army secretary declared:

"I can not permit the loyal officers of our armed forces to be subjected to such unwarranted treatment."

"The prestige and morale of our armed forces are too important to the security of the nation to have them weakened by unfair attacks on the officer corps."

Stevens reiterated his determination to rid the army of subversives and Communists and stressed a "full-hearted desire to cooperate with Congress."

He said he "appreciates the constructive assistance" of congressional committees but asserted that "I am confident, at the same time, that the American people do not believe in unwarranted abuse of our loyal officers any more than I do."

Stevens added:

"At a closed hearing last week, Gen. Zwicker suffered humiliating treatment only because he carried out actions which were his official duty and executed an order he had received from higher headquarters and which he was required to execute."

Unofficial reports said that Zwicker, much decorated for bravery, complained that McCarthy told him, "You are a disgrace to the uniform, you're shielding Communist conspirators, you are going to be put on public display Tuesday for all the world to see, you're not fit to be an officer, you're ignorant."

The exchange reportedly occurred after Zwicker refused to identify officers who approved Peress' discharge.

Bar Looted by Burglars in White Lake Township

An undetermined amount of money from coin machines and $40 from a cash register were taken early Sunday from Kelley's Bar, at 9530 Elizabeth Lake Rd., White Lake Township, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

John J. Kelly, the owner, told Detectives Delos Anderson and Leo Hazen that burglars forced open a small window in a restroom to gain entry. Two shuffleboard machines and a juke box were broken into, the detectives said.

Collision on Southfield, 11-Mile Injures Detroit, Highland Park Youths

Five persons were injured Saturday night in a crash at Southfield and Eleven Mile Rds. in Southfield Township, according to Oakland County Sheriff's deputies.

Richard A. Rezek, 22, of 34 California St., Highland Park, told deputies he was traveling south on Southfield with three companions when another car ran a stop sign and rammed his auto.

Driver of the other car, Terrence W. O'Brien, 62, of 4834 Lakeview, Detroit, was admitted to Mt. Carmel Mercy Hospital with head injuries. His condition is satisfactory, according to hospital authorities.

Rezek and June Deloney, 16, of 215 California, Highland Park, Edward Rugg, 17, of 1876 Pierson, Detroit, and Keith Merten, 18, of 1890 Fielding, Detroit, were treated at the hospital for cuts and bruises.

Capital Observes Birthday of Namesake With Sales

WASHINGTON (UP)—An elderly automobile for 99 cents, typewriters and TV sets for pocket change, table wines for five cents a bottle, and other "fabulous bargains" drew thousands of shoppers into capital stores today.

Clearance sales of cut-rate merchandise are a traditional feature on this city's celebration of Washington's Birthday. Long lines formed outside of department stores, appliance shops, and clothing firms before dawn.

Although the jostling crowds of shoppers offered no visual evidence of a business slump, one early bird complained that he had tried in vain to sell his place—third in line at the C. Hecht Co. Department store—for the $6 price it had commanded in past years. More than 200 shoppers were in line behind him at 7:30 a. m. Apparently his price was too high.

The United Typewriter Co., which featured several vintage typewriters for 99 cents each, also had a long line at opening time. First in line was W. R. Raplee who said he had been waiting since 6:40 a.m. Sunday. Behind him were four youths who brought their own sleeping bags and slept on the wide sidewalk Sunday night. Camp stools and blankets were in evidence at dozens of stores.

The birthday of the president after whom this city was named was celebrated in other and more dignified ways. The House and Senate met to hear Washington's Farewell Address in the traditional reading. And civic and patriotic groups planned appropriate observances.

Agony TV Show Wrings Tears From Watcher (?)

By SAUL PETT

(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)—Out of a clinical curiosity, I went to an "agony" television program recently and everything went according to plan; I never felt worse.

The show was "Strike It Rich," which gives away about $250,000 a year to people who tell their troubles before the cameras. For that kind of dough, you can buy a lot of trouble.

The audience involved mostly women and some servicemen who seemed to have wandered in out of boredom. On the stage there were many boxes of a wash detergent and paste-board hearts since this is "the original show with a heart" and the soap pays for the heart.

A few minutes before air time, a cheerful, tall man came out and introduced "The man with the really big heart," who turned out to be Walter Frammer, the show's producer. Frammer, a short man with heavy glasses and a nervous, set smile, introduced the man who had introduced him.

Then Frammer made a little speech which I took to be an answer to recent criticism of the show on the grounds that it attracts needy people to New York who end up on relief and that it exhibits bad taste in parading human misery in public.

"We're not running a welfare department," Frammer said. "Just a little quiz game, which is basically for entertainment and also some inspiration."

Frammer concluded by telling us he wasn't asking us to applaud but he'd appreciate it if we did when he raised his hands thus and so and, besides, there would be prizes later for those who applauded the most.

As the show got under way, Frammer was very busy, running around checking camera angles, watching the clock, leading applause and several times darting backstage to announce "heartline calls," which presumably come from people watching at home.

After a singing commercial and a plug for a movie magazine, a gray-haired, nervous woman tried to win $125 for a sewing machine. She said she's alone in the world, she sews for a living and "they took away my old machine, I'm back in the rent and my lights have been turned off."

Having difficulty with several questions, the woman won only $60. But at the last second, Frammer's "heart-line" voice announced that "Strike It Rich" had just arranged with a certain company, which he named, for her to get a sewing machine free as well as the $60 in cash.

"Ah, boy!" Hull sighed. "That was to the rescue all right."

Works Hard for Liquor

1 of 10 Most Wanted Nabbed in Atlanta

Atlanta (AP)—A 32-year-old Tennessee who was one of the FBI's 10 most wanted men has been arrested on charges of burglarizing a grocery store.

Nelson R. Duncan of Memphis was picked up yesterday morning by city police after a routine check of a store aroused the suspicion of officers.

Nelson and a man listed as

Thomas L. Sirey, 21, of Springfield, Tenn., were tearing open a safe which contained about $2,000 when police found them, Detective H. J. Standridge reported.

The two men were unarmed and did not offer resistance, police said.

The FBI says Duncan is wanted on charges of interstate transportation of a stolen automobile, unlawful flight to avoid prosecution and violation of the federal fire arms act.

Avocados had their origin in South America.

Corruption Trial Starts in Egypt

Political Queen Bee III, but Court Orders Case to Continue

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—The corruption trial of the queen bee of Egypt's once all-powerful Wafdist party opened today but illness kept the defendant away from the packed courtroom.

A medical commission reported to the three-man military court that Mrs. Zeinab el Wakil Nahas, wife of former Premier Mustapha el Nahas, was in too poor health to appear in person.

The court ordered that she could be represented by her lawyers and began hearing the case against her.

Mrs. Nahas, who piled up a considerable fortune while her husband was premier during World War II and again in 1951, is being tried on three charges of corruption.

She faces two accusations that she used her position as the Premier's wife to profit from government dealings. She and her two brothers, Ahmad and Abdul el Wakil, also are charged with using government pressure to make a killing in the cotton market in 1950.

Her husband, the former Premier, also faces charges growing out of the revolutionary government's drive against officials under ex-King Farouk but officials say he is too ill to be tried. Both he and his wife are under house arrest.

Mrs. Nahas is the first woman to face the revolutionary court.

With her husband for a front man, she was a major power in the party and often was referred to as Egypt's "real queen." An anti-graft court last August ordered her to repay the government 1,143 pounds (about $3,200) for a road on one of her estates which the court found had been built with government money.

The people of the U. S. spent more than $57 billion during 1953 for all kinds of transportation services.

Clarification in Order

HAROLD W. DUDLEY, retiring city commissioner, was jokingly chided in the Man About Town column as having a platform of Dudleyism, but the reference needs some explanation.

Dudleyism as practiced by Commissioner Dudley was the forthright voicing of his opinions concerning city government affairs. We think it is a good ISM. A lifelong resident of Pontiac, Dudley always had the citizenry at heart when confronted with a civic problem.

After graduating from the University of Michigan in 1929 Mr. Dudley immediately opened practice in Pontiac. From that time until his decision to retire from public office he has consistently spent many hours working in behalf of humanity.

He has served the city for a number of years on the school board and for four years on the city commission. On top of that he found time for active participation in the Exchange Club and assisted several years on the city planning commission.

The Pontiac Press along with the citizens of Pontiac are grateful for the guiding hand of Mr. HAROLD W. DUDLEY during his tenure of office.

Our First President

Remote and austere though the figure of GEORGE WASHINGTON appears on this 222nd anniversary of his birth, time hasn't dimmed the greatness of our first President.

Our debt to the man who did so much to ease the birth pangs of this Nation, now grown to 160,000,000, is far greater than we realize.

History happily has recorded that as President, WASHINGTON was more statesman than politician. He put national above party interests and both above personal advantage. He turned deaf ears to those who wanted to make him an American king.

It was he who established the two term tradition for Presidents, now written into our Constitution. Almost 100 years ago WASHINGTON IRVING, who wrote a four volume Life of Washington, had this to say of him:

"Under all dissensions and amid all the storms of party, his precepts and example speak to us from the grave with paternal appeal; and his name — by all revered — forms a universal tie of brotherhood; a watchword for our Union."

An Inexcusable Smear

The Senate's Judiciary Subcommittee has made partial amends to Chief Justice Designate EARL WARREN by favorably reporting his nomination to the full committee.

But it has fallen far short of clearing its record of the ugly smudge left by the action of its chairman, Senator Langer. The North Dakota Republican was guilty of an in excusable smear when he made public unevaluated charges against the distinguished Californian.

The subcommittee's favorable report on the nomination was by majority vote and was a rebuke to Chairman LANGER who wanted to report the nomination without recommendation. Also it amounted to a rejection of the charges which have shocked Washington and the Nation.

These ranged all the way from corruption while Governor of California to following the Marxist line and drew sharp protests from leading Republicans. Senator WATKINS of Utah called the charges a lot of tommyrot and protested the subcommittee's action in airing them.

Senate Majority Leader KNOWLAND branded the television hearing at which the charges were aired "the most shocking event I have observed in my eight years in the Senate."

The PRESS believes Vice President NIXON spoke for all informed Americans when he called the charges against the acting head of our Supreme Court "completely and patently false."

What Senator Langer's motives were doesn't matter. By his display of gutter politics he has done a great American a serious injustice, demeaned his own high office and hurt the Senate and the Republican party.

The full Judiciary Committee and the Senate owe Mr. WARREN the vote of high confidence implicit in immediate favorable action on his nomination.

MANY a person who doesn't complain about paying 20 cents an ounce for a fifth of liquor is hollering his head off about having to pay 2 cents an ounce for a cup of coffee, with no extra charge for sugar and cream.

Why did nature constitute a human being so that he's as wide awake as a popinjay when it's time to go to bed and as sleepy as a dormouse when it's time to get up?

Pontiac's First Village President Issued Decree

Washington: A city that sometimes isn't a credit to his memory.

The first official recognition of the birthday of George Washington in Pontiac's history was on Feb. 22, 1838, when Village President Suel Wesson issued a proclamation that "the colors be displayed on the one hundred and sixth birthday of the father of his country." The settlement, then comprised of only a few hundred people, had been incorporated as a village only the year before, the same year that Michigan became a state.

R. C. Cummings long time booster of the Huron-Clinton parkway system feels 1954 will be a banner year in the public's use of the systems recreational facilities.

It is not generally known that Washington was born on Feb. 11, 1732, but on the adoption of the Gregorian calendar in 1753 the date was advanced to Feb. 22.

Pleased at the large advance summer camp reservations.

Oldest resident of Oakland County's furthest north community, Thomas, in Oxford Township, Mrs. Helena Ward, soon celebrates her eighty-second birthday, and is as active as many people half that age, and does all of her own housework.

Just over the line in Genesee County, Fenton's main street is named in honor of Pontiac's first attorney. He was Daniel LeRoy who came here before the county's organization in 1820, and moved to Fenton soon after the first settlement there a few years later. Fenton's main business thoroughfare is LeRoy Street.

Gay Herrington says that despite predictions or prophecies of doom, repossessions have not increased appreciably over the same period last year.

"If you hear a rumbling sound," writes "Opposed to Murder."

"It probably is none other than a certain William Shakespeare turning over in his grave at some of the television stuff in his name."

My encyclopedia says that buttons first became a feature on naval coat sleeves when Admiral Horatio Nelson ordered them sewed on uniforms to discourage the men from wiping their noses on their sleeves.

Chicken raisers in the Pontiac area tell me that the statement of Dr. Lloyd Chapman of the poultry department of Michigan State College, that artificial lights do not increase the annual production of eggs is correct. But a lighted coop has been found to spread out the yield, so more eggs are produced at the season when prices are higher.

Reader Claims Progress of Pontiac Has Suffered Due to Lack of Civic Donations

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the letter is critical in its nature.)

The civic and social progress of Pontiac has suffered over the years from the lack of citizens' means indicating by positive action a philanthropic interest in our city.

Many other municipalities, larger and smaller than Pontiac, have fine buildings, institutions and improvements as memorials to public-minded residents.

Our city, on the other hand, has had to contend with a passively negative attitude of some of its people. Presently, it seems faced with active and energetic steps from the same quarters to thwart the city's efforts to keep abreast with modern trends and developments.

I refer to the obstructive measures aimed at the development of the off-street parking project, public improvements and hospital expansion programs, by local citizens who, it would seem, should be the first to further and encourage projects that are essential to our city.

Pontiac has shown indications of rugged constitution in the past however, and it is hoped that the rank and file of average people will overcome the short-sightedness of some of its so-called leading citizens, concerned only with their individual selfish interest, and put these programs across.

Disgusted Taxpayer

At a recent session of the condemnation proceedings for the land for a city parking lot several downtown businessmen related their need for a parking lot and wholeheartedly supported the city's actions against a fellow businessman.

Why don't some of them build their own parking lot either singly or cooperative just as you find at Huron Gardens or the new Tele-Huron shopping center?

A businessman's duty is to sell service as well as goods. To me the traffic problem is the city's problem while the parking is the businessman's concern and should not be paid for by city taxpayers nor should Mr. Habel be penalized for doing just what the other businessmen should be doing. That is, taking care of his own facilities and not asking the city to do it for him.

Reader Hasn't Heard of Rabies in Human Beings

I am a regular reader of Dr. Brady. He persists that he has never known of a case of rabies in human beings. I wonder if any M.D. in Oakland County has? He states it is strictly an animal disease. I am over the three score and ten and have never heard of a case.

Lawrence Surprised at Ike's Evasion Over Real Reason for Firing Manion

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Hypocrisy and double-talk are the chief reasons why the American people have begun to distrust politicians and to discount the sincerity of their statements to the public.

When President Truman dismissed Gen. MacArthur ostensibly because of a disagreement on military policy in Korea but actually because of a letter the general wrote to Rep. Martin of Massachusetts in answer to a legitimate inquiry, there was quite a furor and an attempt by Truman officials to deny that this was the reason.

For, obviously, a supreme commander couldn't be discharged just for replying to a letter from a member of Congress on public matters. Then came the trumped-up charges on other grounds and the effort to justify the dismissal.

Many people have thought the administration of Dwight Eisenhower would be different, that there would be forthright action and candor and no effort to camouflage truth in the interest of politics.

In bungling, however, the case of Clarence Manion, dismissed in the first instance because of a dislike of his expressed views on the Bricker amendment, the administration now has resorted to the excuse that Manion didn't give enough time to his work and spent too much of it on outside activities.

Now, what are the facts? On the authority of Manion they can be stated because he has them first-hand. The former law school dean had a conference last summer with President Eisenhower at which Sherman Adams was present. Manion pointed out that he had outside work and couldn't give the commission the time it probably needed.

Eisenhower urged him nevertheless to accept, stating that Manion need not give more than a day or so a month to the meetings and three or four days a month to the work and that a full-time director and staff would be provided by Adams.

Manion gave to his duties on the commission many days a month and went around the country organizing the necessary subcommittees for the commission's work.

He succeeded in persuading Dudley White, a former member of Congress from Sandusky, Ohio, to become full-time director. White worked tirelessly and now, charged with the reports of alleged slowness of the work, has offered his resignation.

White, the executive director, knew nothing of any slowness in the work though it is reported that Sherman Adams began a few weeks ago to telephone individual members of the commission to ask them if the work wasn't going slowly.

This was subsequent to published reports that the White House didn't like the speeches made by Manion on the Bricker amendment and would be fired.

The timetable of the commission's work is available in a progress report submitted by Manion on Feb. 12 to Sherman Adams. The law which called on the President to appoint a commission of 25 to study the subject was passed last July, but it was November before the President had completed the task of selecting the appointees and getting them sworn in for service.

Then there was some difficulty in finding an executive director, so it was December before the commission could start functioning. As is customary with such commissions, whose members happen to be governors or senators and representatives or busy men from private life, the executive director is the man who is responsible for the administrative progress.

It is natural that White should be angered because his work is being challenged and alleged slowness is being given to cover up the real reason for the episode—dislike of Manion's views on the Bricker amendment.

Evasion was a characteristic of the Truman administration. It is surprising to see a similar lack of frankness exhibited by the Eisenhower administration whose "leadership" has been so widely hailed as immune from the virus of political double-talk.

I reckon all good citizens are like Pa. The laws he respects are the ones he would obey even if we didn't have laws.

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

I have received many letters in years past chiding me for saying there was no such ailment as "rheumatism." If there wasn't, they say, then what did they have? I had 'em there — I thought. For the answer to your question, I advised, consult a physician.

Then I leaned back and grained in that self-sufficient way of the insufferable egotist. But not for long.

They came right back at me with a snappy rejoinder: I have consulted three or four physicians, they informed me, and every one of them said I had chronic rheumatism.

So I went into conference with medical books, ancient and modern, and eventually asserted with great assurance that no medical authority has defined or can define "chronic rheumatism" so that any other doctor will know what he means.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Reassure Adopted Child That He's Part of Family

Alice can't have any more babies, but she does have a chance to adopt a little girl. Do you readers approve of her idea or vote against it? Save this Case Record or mail it to parents of foster children, for it shows the best possible method for informing such children of their adoption.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case K-331: Alice G., aged 29, has a son who is 4 years old. "But, Dr. Crane," she protested miserably. "My doctor tells me I can never bear another baby."

"However, I can adopt a little girl about one year of age, so do you think it would be fair to my son to do so?"

Yes, it would not only be fair, but it would be a wonderful asset to the boy to have a baby sister.

For two children stimulate each other. They whet one another's wits. And the younger child will cause the parents to "lean" upon the older in many ways which thus build responsibility in the firstborn.

"Now be sure you look after Sister," they will exclaim, when the two youngsters go forth to play. "Don't let her get out in the street (or into deep water, etc.)." The oldest child then becomes trained in accepting responsibility.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

International News Service Only 11 years collapsed between the publication of the Declaration of Indignation and the justly amended Constitution.

It made us curious to locate if George Washington had put his historic monicker on both documents. He did not.

George signed the Constitution but not the Declaration. Button Gwinnett sewed his hemstitched signature on the Declaration but not the Constitution.

Out of 99 signatures on the two catalogues only eight patriots signed both. Of the upper echelon of famous rebels only Ben Franklin made it. The other seven were Robert A. Morris, James Wilson, George Clymer, George Read, Edward Rutledge and Roger Sherman.

Is it true that George made two whacks of a cherry tree? We do not see eye-to-eye with the perfectionists who claim Parson Weems whipped that one up from an old family recipe. Did George heave a silver dollar across the Potomac? To be belated kibitzers we point out he was taking no chances. George trained for it with skimmers, his picture was on the dollar and he owned both sides of the river.

Did George ever tell a boo-boo? There was no income tax, no civil service and no communism. What did George have to lie about?

Among the great men of history George's memory was spared the fate of Bismarck who became a herring, Napoleon who was reincarnated French pastry and Jenny Lind who became a specked cantaloupe.

Martha didn't do so well. She is still served up in candy form.

You can put history on a reel but you cannot re-run time. But on the last day when eternity is up for grabs Washington and Abou Ben Adhem will be coupled in the betting.

Dr. Brady Questions Today's Remedies for Chronic Rheumatism or Arthritis bother to define chronic rheumatism. They imply, without unbecoming language, that any one knows what it is, and so it would be silly to define it.

But I'm one who believes there are 200,000 other physicians in the United States and Canada who don't know what chronic rheumatism is.

Dr. Osler certainly didn't know what it was, though he had a firm fishwife belief that it was what happens to "the poor, particularly washerwomen, day-laborers, and those whose occupation exposes them to cold and damp." (Quoted from Osler's Practice written over 50 years ago.)

Dr. Margolis, whose Arthritis and Allied Disorders, published in '41, says: "Chronic rheumatism, in Massachusetts, is 5 times more prevalent than tuberculosis, 13 times more prevalent than ... but does not tell how to distinguish chronic rheumatism from chronic arthritis."

In fact medical authors do not

That is one reason why there are such marked personality differences between the firstborn and the next child in the family.

And never make distinctions between adopted children and those which you call flesh-and-blood offspring.

For Alice "adopted" her husband who was not of any blood kinship to her at all.

And she has felt closer to him than to her own flesh-and-blood brothers and sister with whom she grew up as a child.

By the same token, she can "adopt" a youngster and likewise feel the true mother-child regard, since this is a spiritual thing and not based on blood relationship.

By comparing the selection of your foster child to your picking its Daddy or Mother on the basis of love, you stabilize the youngster.

Otherwise, even if you treat it like a flesh-and-blood child, it may still develop the feeling that it isn't quite entitled to be admitted to the inner sanctum of the home.

It will feel that Daddy and Mother and the flesh-and-blood youngsters have a closer bond.

But as soon as you point out the fact that Daddy and Mother simply "adopted" each other and are not of any blood kinship whatever, this suddenly shows the adopted son or daughter that he is on the same plane with his parents.

All three are thus "adopted," for neither the foster child nor his Daddy or Mother is of any flesh-and-blood kinship to the other two in that family corporation.

This thought reassures the youngster. Oh, you can also use the statement that you deliberately "picked" your adopted youngster, whereas other parents must take just what the doctor delivers.

That often helps to reassure the foster child, but it isn't half as good as to show that he is in the same boat with Daddy and Mother in that all three have "adopted" each other.

The greatest hazard to the proper personality development of children is a feeling of emotional insecurity. So be sure you reassure your youngsters that you love them and will stick by them.

Do this whether they are flesh-and-blood or adopted. And if you parents quarrel, as all married couples tend to do, always apologize so the youngsters know your angry words don't reflect your true self.

Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 3 cent stamped, addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

You said the fault was mine, and I ... Declared that it was yours ... And so it seems from day to day ... Your stubbornness endures ... I know that you were really wrong ... And if it had not been for you ... There would have been no fight ... But there should be an end to it ... And we should get together ... And do our best to harmonize ... Our feelings with the weather ... We always loved each other and ... We promised to be true ... And we agreed that not a doubt ... Could come between us two ... But if you will not come to me ... Or try to compromise ... I will admit I love you so ... That I apologize.

Maybe my mind is warped or maybe all the other doctors know what chronic rheumatism and/or chronic arthritis is and Johnny is out of step.

Still I'm from Missouri, and all I can get from intensive study of the authorities is confusion. I honestly believe they don't know what they are talking about.

Tell me, child, what remedy or treatment of proved value have the doctors found to date? One or another "wonder drug"? Bismarck? Cortisone? Don't make me laugh.

Now I hate to leave the question hanging in the air like this but please, please, keep this piece as Part 1 of the story of rheumatism, to appear tomorrow and Wednesday.

Send letters, not more than one page or 250 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed.

Sapling Springs Back, Kills Farm Worker

BROKEN ARROW, Okla. (U-P)—A stubborn willow sapling, crushed to the ground by a bulldozer, snapped back like an arrow yesterday after the machine had passed over it and speared a farm worker who was walking behind. The victim, Jess Lee Henry, 22, was struck in the chest and died before reaching a hospital. The bulldozer, operated by Henry's father, was clearing brush from the farmland. Rains may fall in midsummer at the North Pole.

Editor to Handle GOP Relations

Former Publicity Man to Succeed Humphreys as Campaign Nears

WASHINGTON (U-P)—James Bassett, 41-year-old political editor of the Los Angeles Mirror, today was named director of public relations for the Republican National Committee.

Bassett, who was Vice President Nixon's publicity director in the 1952 campaign, succeeds Robert Humphreys, who was promoted to campaign director, a new job.

The shifts were interpreted by party spokesmen as an effort to step up the 1954 congressional election campaign by relieving Humphreys of what was termed "double duties" in recent months.

Also, the appointment of Bassett by Chairman Leonard W. Hall was looked on as reflecting, in some measure at least, the rising prestige in the party of Nixon. Both Nixon and Bassett are Californians. In announcing the two appointments, Hall said:

"In line with our policy of leaving nothing undone to assure President Eisenhower of increased Republican majorities in both the Senate and the House next year, I am making these additional moves to intensify our 1954 effort."

Hall said the party organization will gear itself to tell the "complete, factual story" of the administration's "many accomplishments" to the country between now and election day Nov. 2.

Bassett was born in Glendale, Calif., Oct. 18, 1912. He graduated from Bowdoin College, Maine, and joined the Los Angeles Times in 1934, transferring to the Mirror as political editor in 1948. He was given a leave of absence to assist in the Nixon campaign in 1952.

During World War II he was public relations officer for Fleet Adm. William F. Halsey, commander of the South Pacific area.

Humphreys is 49 and a native of Greenville, Ohio. A former Washington political reporter and national affairs editor of Newsweek magazine, he was public relations director for the House Republican Campaign Committee before assuming the publicity post of the National Committee before the start of the Eisenhower campaign.

Cattle Rustling Hits Philippines

Irate Magsaysay Bans Slaughter of Carabao Needed on Farms

MANILA (AP)—Cattle rustling has come to the Philippines—and with a distinctly Oriental slant.

Instead of the cow and steer, it's the lowly carabao, or water buffalo, that's being rustled. It's a lucrative business because of the prices the animals bring at the slaughterhouses.

Furious over the slaughter of this country's main beast of burden, President Ramon Magsaysay has taken quick action. He also has touched off a controversy.

On one of his first provincial trips after he became president last fall, he found water buffaloes were being deliberately maimed so they could no longer be classed as work animals and could be slaughtered.

Some had nails driven into their hoofs to make them lame. Others were slashed above the hoofs so their legs gave out.

Magsaysay hit the ceiling. He said it not only was cruelty to animals but was sabotaging his agricultural development program. The carabao supply, badly depleted during the Japanese occupation, was needed to increase the rural economy.

Magsaysay ordered the navy to seize shipments of carabao en route to Manila for slaughter. Inspectors found a majority of the animals were healthy.

Magsaysay put investigators to work. They found the country's carabao supply was decreasing and rustling was a thriving, profitable business. One area reported more than 3,000 carabao stolen from farmers for butchering in Manila.

The President asked Manila Mayor Arsenio Lacson for permission to place an army veterinarian in the slaughterhouses. Lacson refused on the ground it would violate existing laws.

Magsaysay countered by signing an executive order banning the slaughter of carabao for one year. He said he was ready to approve the expenditure of five million dollars, if necessary, for frozen meat imports to insure the Philippines an adequate supply.

Meat prices jumped after the ban went into effect. Irate dealers went to the President's office to complain. Legislators argued over the issue. Letters both supporting and condemning the President's action appeared in the press.

Magsaysay is standing firm. The carabao are needed, he said, if the Philippines expect to increase its food production and make his agricultural program work.

Jap War Criminal, Freed by Mistake, Returns to Prison

TOKYO (AP)—A disappointed Japanese war criminal, released from captivity by mistake last June, returned to prison today.

He was former military police Sgt. Maj. Tetsuo Hayashi, 38, freed from Sugamo Prison, Tokyo, after six years confinement. Recently the Netherlands government, which had sentenced him, informed the Japanese Justice Ministry the record mistakenly listed his term as 10 years instead of life. Error was made during transfer from Dutch authorities to the Japanese government.

Informed of the error, Hayashi returned to jail.

Philadelphia Police to Guard McCarthy

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A special police guard was planned today for Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis) when he arrives here to accept the Philadelphia chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution's Good Citizenship Medal at a Washington Day luncheon.

Authorities revealed yesterday they had received an anonymous letter saying, "We think McCarthy ought to be bumped off and this is a good time to do it."

Chief Inspector Albert E. Du Bois said he thought the letter was the work of a "crackpot."

HORNSTEIN Corneal Contact Lens

We are pleased to announce that at long last, after many years of research, the new HORNSTEIN lens, invented and perfected by Hornstein of Budapest, Hungary, is now being manufactured by us under an exclusive World License, in our own precision Laboratories.

A European scientist who spent years in painstaking research in laboratories in Hungary, England and Germany, has invented (patent pending) an amazing tiny new pupil lens, safer and better than glasses. He calls his invention the "No-Touch" lens because it is so constructed that no part of the lens can touch any part of the eye. Millions who could not wear the old type contact lenses because they rested on the central part of the eye, resulting in limited wearing time and annoying discomfort will now be able to wear contact lenses with comfort and satisfaction. They won't even know they are wearing them!

LOST: 750,000* CONSUMERS

*There are more than 220,000 unemployed workers in Michigan, according to latest figures. They and their families add up to nearly three quarters of a million citizens who have had their buying power drastically reduced.

Unemployed workers are unemployed customers.

Unemployed customers mean goods left on the shelves... and unbought, piled-up surpluses in the barns and bins.

"UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE IS A VALUABLE FIRST LINE OF DEFENSE AGAINST RECESSION..."

It was the President of the United States who made the statement quoted in the line above. Thoughtful citizens must agree with him. The President called on the states to amend their unemployment compensation laws "so that the payments to the great majority of beneficiaries may equal at least half their regular earnings." The President also wants payments to continue for 26 weeks to all unemployed workers... not just a few! The Federal Advisory Council on Employment Security spelled out the President's proposal and recommended that maximum benefits in each state "be raised to an amount not less than 3/5 to 2/3 of average weekly earnings." Governor Williams has called for substantially increased benefits and duration. The Detroit Common Council has called on the State Legislature to carry out the President's recommendations.

Michigan needs an up-to-date, adequate, equitable unemployment compensation law. Here are some facts that every citizen should consider in determining what kind of law we must have:

• In 1939, the maximum benefit was 53% of the average worker's pay... in 1953, the maximum basic benefit was 31% of the average worker's pay.

• In 1939, an unemployed worker earning the average wage lost $14.30 a week... in 1953, an unemployed worker earning the average wage lost more than $53 a week.

• A "necessary minimum" income for a family of four, based on a Government study, is $76.39 a week in Detroit. The present maximum benefit for that family is $31.

• The gap between wages and benefits makes all business suffer... sales are down sharply already in many Michigan communities.

• Rising relief costs resulting from inadequate unemployment compensation inevitably mean higher local taxes on home owners, farmers and small business.

• $439,000,000 in Michigan's Unemployment Compensation Fund is our cushion—to maintain purchasing power and reduce the relief load.

NOW ALMOST EVERYBODY SEEMS TO AGREE... BUT...

The unemployment compensation bill which at this time appears to have the "inside track" in the Michigan legislature does not meet the President's recommendations. Its "improvements" are illusion—and its purpose is delusion. In substantial respects, it is worse than the present law. Instead of meeting the needs of Michigan's people, its commerce and agriculture, HERE'S WHAT THIS BILL WOULD DO:

1. Raid the Unemployment Compensation Fund for millions of dollars for the benefit of a few giant corporations.
2. Decrease benefits paid to thousands of workers totally and partially unemployed.
3. Set up so many eligibility hurdles that many unemployed will have to go on public relief or private charity.
4. Force skilled and other workers to apply for any kind of job... no matter how low paid... no matter how unsuitable.
5. Force injured workers to abandon claims for workmen's compensation.

6. Deprive low paid workers of any benefits by raising minimum earning requirements.
7. Deny benefits during vacation shutdowns, even if the worker gets no vacation pay.
8. Disqualify workers who get back pay, call-in pay or severance pay.

Don't be fooled by this bill's phoney promises. For full details and facts on this bill... and the whole unemployment compensation situation, write to:

MICHIGAN...AND YOU...MUST BUILD A REAL "DEFENSE" LINE!

President
Eisenhower Says:

"Unemployment insurance is a valuable first line of defense against economic recession. Benefit payments go to a worker as a matter of right and at the time he loses his income, instead of as a matter of need and after he has exhausted his savings or liquidated his house and car... When set at appropriate levels, they can sustain to some degree the earner's way of life as well as his demand for commodities. Thus, unemployment insurance payments can help to curb economic decline during an interval of time that allows other stabilizing measures to become effective."

And Here's How YOU CAN HELP....

Address a letter or card or wire to "HOUSE LABOR COMMITTEE," LANSING, MICHIGAN, or "SENATE LABOR COMMITTEE," LANSING, MICHIGAN. Get a message to your State Senator and Representative. The idea to get across is that YOU WANT A REAL UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION BILL PASSED! SAY THAT YOU WON'T BE SATISFIED WITH ANYTHING LESS THAN WHAT THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES HAS CALLED FOR! Try to get your local city government to appeal to the State Legislature for an adequate new law! If you belong to a business, professional or farm organization, get your organization to WRITE or WIRE! Don't delay. Do it now. Every workingman's family... every farmer, every business and professional man will BENEFIT with a good law. All will suffer with a weak law. You can see to it that the weak, watered-down bills are rejected and that a good bill is passed.

State, County and City CIO Councils and the

UAW-CIO

Governor
Williams Says:

"To protect Michigan's prosperity, unemployment insurance benefits must be increased. Under our existing law, the maximum benefits which an unemployed citizen can receive is $35 a week—and that is for a family with four or more children. For a family with four children that figures out to 83 cents a day per person—a sum scarcely enough in these times to keep body and soul together. To assume that Michigan families can be retained as paying customers during layoff periods on a maximum of 83 cents a day per person is utter folly."

160-Degree Water, Bluing Aid Washing

There won't be a blue streak in a washload of you make it a practice to use instantly dissolving bead-bluing in hot wash water. Besides, you'll reap an extra dividend as all your light-colored washables will keep their "new look" much longer.

For best results, set the temperature control of your water heater at 160 degrees, because it's the very hot water that gets your clothes white. That's why Grand-ma boiled her laundry. In the years before washing machines and an automatic supply of hot water changed all that.

Antiques Show Set Up for Opening

Is moving day a time of confusion and crisis at your house? Then imagine the scene at Stevens Hall, All Saints Episcopal Church, today when 18 antique collectors moved in for Pontiac's second antique show.

Since morning vans of furniture, china, glass, silver and other heirlooms, carefully packed against scratches or breakage, have been arriving. From heavy pine cupboards to precious gems, displays have been assembled.

Mrs. Stanley Warner and Mrs. Maxwell Shadley, directors of the show, have been busy testing special lighting and assisting dealers with unexpected problems.

Helping with details have been Mrs. Amy Harper, housekeeper of the church; Fred Barnfather, maintenance engineer, and Mrs. Elmer Quine, parish secretary, all experienced hands at antique shows since last year's affair.

Serving coffee to the dealers and being generally helpful today were Mrs. Edward Silk and Mrs. Clarence Smith, chairmen of the food committee.

Amid the confusion of stepladders and packing boxes, fabrics, braided rugs and quilts were hung for decoration. And a loom was assembled for a demonstration of hand weaving.

By 11 o'clock Tuesday morning, the bare gymnasium will be transformed to a market place and museum of the household treasures of another age.

When doors are opened for business for the three-day affair, Mrs. Dawson Baer and Mrs. Harold Cousins will be selling tickets. Taking turns at the door will be Mrs. R. R. Angermier, Mrs. Russell Thurston, Mrs. Horace Hall, Mrs. Corliss Armstrong, Mrs. Robert Evans, Mrs. Gil Every, Mrs. Frank Stull, Mrs. Marshall Smith, Mrs. Bryan Kinney and Mrs. Charles Kistner.

Staffing the kitchen to serve lunch and tea will be Mrs. Silk and Mrs. Smith and a large committee.

Taking turns as waitresses, cooks and dishwashers will be Mrs. J. A. MacDonald, Mrs. Charles Sant, Mrs. George Schroeder, Mrs. Gerald Kirkby, Mrs. W. H. Heller, Mrs. Felix Wolfila, Mrs. L. E. Manning, Mrs. Everett Harris, Mrs. Vernon Abbott, Mrs. Frank Bonner, Mrs. C. R. Gatley and Mrs. Lar-moe Smith.

All members of Guild 11, sponsors of the show, are donating home-baked pastries to be served at tables arranged on the balcony overlooking the show.

Say New Zipper Won't Jam Up

NEW YORK (INS)—Zippers — mechanical monsters made for gripping, groping and gripping — may at last be fool-proof this year.

The zipper people, who brought out the first slide fasteners in 1913, insist they've invented a "magic tab" model which gets itself out of jams.

Other companies have claimed they had jam-proof jobs before, but women keep getting into trouble.

Here's how the new model works, if the zipper becomes jammed or catches fabric and threads, the wearer need only push its pull-tab backward until it hits a tiny pushbutton. This pushbutton automatically opens the jaws of the zipper—wide enough to remove the caught cloth, but not wide enough to send the tab off its track.

To perfect the new zipper, one company says it spent 12 years and "well over $1,000,000" in research. So if the laws of energy and money mean anything, it may actually work!

Golfing, Boating, Horse Races, Shows Among Florida's Midwinter Pleasures

By ETHEL TOMBRINK
MIAMI—Midwinter days abound with golf tournaments, boat races, water shows and horse races—all beneath sunny skies. A huge full moon sparkles down on Biscayne Bay and the Atlantic, adding glamor to evening parties.

And this weekend, just in case the Northerners had a touch of nostalgia for ice and snow, there were several performances of Holiday on Ice in the Coral Gables Coliseum.

The South's largest nautical show got under way over the weekend in the Dinner Key Auditorium, the site of the 13th annual Miami International Boat Show.

A record fleet of 150 boats and yachts and millions of dollars worth of outboard motors, engines and marine accessories are being displayed on the six-day "cruise" in the same spot where just a couple of weeks ago sleek autos from the General Motors world were on exhibit for the Motorama.

For spectator golfers there's the Women's Invitational Tournament in Miami Beach.

Golf is a favorite pastime with women members of Indian Creek Country Club, and Mrs. Morgan Douglas of Bloomfield Hills often makes a trip down from her home in Fort Lauderdale for a round on the fairways.

Also coming down from Lauderdale frequently to join their Michigan friends at parties are Mr. and Mrs. George Cavanaugh of Bloomfield Hills.

Arriving the other evening to spend a week with his parents was George Cavanaugh Jr. of Franklin. While in Lauderdale, he's looking around for a spot for a later vacation in south Florida—and his wife will both be back around Easter time.

The Cavanaugh's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Guay of Birmingham, and daughter, Laura, will be down early next week for two weeks of mid-winter sun.

The Elliott Potters, formerly of Birmingham, who became Miami Beach residents a little more than a year ago, said farewell to her parents, the Doran Brothers, the other day.

Mr. and Mrs. Brothier, Detroiters who winter in Miami Beach, left for a month in California where they will attend the GM Motorama in Los Angeles and San Francisco. While in Los Angeles, they'll also attend movieland's Academy Award dinner.

Good old school days, back at the University of Michigan, dominate a lot of the conversation this weekend at the home of the Clinton Parrs.

Helen Parr's former Michigan classmate Mrs. Thomas K. Buchanan and Dr. Buchanan of Imlay City are spending a few days here with Clint and Helen (the former Helen Keller of Pontiac) and their young son, Johnny.

The Buchanans have been visiting relatives in central Florida. Racing fans Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Isgrigg have made frequent trips to Hialeah, the track beautiful, where bright flamingos lol in the infield lake. Mr. Isgrigg has been doing a lot of fishing and golfing, too.

Wintering in Coral Gables for their 25th season, the Isgriggs plan a trip to the Florida keys in the near future. They'll spend a few days on Islamorada for a try at tarpon.

On a recent evening, they exchanged news of Pontiacers with Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Jerome of Pontiac, who are staying in Fort Lauderdale.

The two Michigan couples dined out at the Jamaica Inn, a tiny bit of Jamaica right on Key Biscayne across the bay from Miami. At Jamaica Inn, tables are set up around a glass-enclosed jungle garden abounding with orchids, breadfruit trees, palms and other flora typical of the nearby West Indian island.

Sunlight comes directly from the sky above, peeping through a fiber glass roof. At one end of the garden, a waterfall plays constantly on the rocks below.

Murals on the walls of the cocktail lounge depict sugar cane fields in Jamaica, taken from pictures which Jamaica Inn's owner, Hugh Matheson Jr., brought back from Jamaica.

Hugh is the son of a prominent south Florida pioneer family. They have a home in Jamaica and he took many of the pictures himself.

Hospital Parley Attended by Five

Five members of Pontiac General Hospital Auxiliary attended the Detroit Area Council of Hospital Auxiliaries in Detroit recently.

Attending were Mrs. William Dean, president of the local auxiliary; Mrs. P. Eugene Miller, Mrs. Arthur Vernon, Mrs. August Hevel, Mrs. Ben Madison and Mrs. Ralph Babington.

A special meeting is planned for today at Pontiac General Hospital to further plans to serve patients daily with the notions cart, in order to supply them with items they need.

Jacob Quicks Are Entertained on Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Merchant of Elizabeth Lake road entertained Friday evening in honor of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Quick, on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Willard Merchant, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond LaRose and Michael, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moore and Ricky, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Vest, Mr. and Mrs. Danny McCusky and Don Merchant.

Others were the Frank Dieners, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Tatro and Leon Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kowaleski, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Zerba and Paulette and Krist, and Mrs. Lotte Tatro.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Arthur Tatro, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Healy and the Joseph Kowaleski of Rochester completed the list.

Slides Shown by Missionary

The David Livingstones opened their home on Oneida road Saturday evening to 37 members of the Wesley Class of First Methodist Church.

The Rev. Arthur Saunders, who spent 20 years as a missionary in China, showed colored slides and spoke about his work there.

The business meeting was conducted by Alfred Jackson, class president. The Russell Blacketts will be hosts for the next meeting in their home on Dixie highway.

Be Better Informed

Use Reading Short Cuts

CHICAGO (INS)—A Northwestern University professor believes that the homemaker can be better informed by using short cuts in reading just as she does in house-keeping.

Dr. Paul Witte, director of the University reading clinic, said: "You don't find many women today breaking their backs over washbasins. They are sold on washing machines."

"Yet most housewives are just old-fashioned girls when it comes to reading up on events in their communities or in the world. They read haphazardly, catch as catch can."

Dr. Witte urged housewives to apply the same efficiency to reading as they do to their housework by reading for a definite purpose.

Dr. Witte devotes a chapter in his new book, "How to Become a Better Reader," published by Science Research Associates of Chicago, to reading-with-a-purpose short cuts. They include:

1. To locate good buys, read advertisements in newspapers by scanning them quickly and jotting down the names of the stores and the best buys.
2. To see what is happening in your community, skim the local newspaper, read the headlines and stop to read the stories you are most interested in carefully.
3. To keep posted on what is go-

CAROL MAE MORRIS

Probably You Felt Inferior

Lost Your Billfold? Good!

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—Are you the type who loses things—umbrellas, library books, friends, old dentures?

You know what that means, fellow things-losers?

It means either that you subconsciously wanted to get rid of whatever you lost, or you felt inferior to it.

This is the opinion of a woman named Jeanne O. Wellenkamp who has devoted a great deal of her spare time going around to psychiatrists to discover why she is always mislaying doo-dads, and what to do about it.

What she learned, basically, is this: Anybody who works hard enough can avoid losing things, but what's the point? Because—Dr. A. A. Brill, leading interpreter of Freud told her this—"We never really lose what we value highly. And whatever we lose, we usually don't want."

Though it may seem preposterous at first glance, this makes sense. Take Tommy Manville. He loses wives; doesn't want 'em. Take people who drink and lose their heads; they don't want to think anymore. Take Little Bo Peep who lost her sheep; they were a heck of a lot of work.

The second reason for losing things, according to Mrs. Wellenkamp's psychiatric survey, is this: feeling inferior to the item-to-be-lost. Who wouldn't want to get rid of something superior whose very presence makes one feel smaller?

There are people, for instance, with so-called overly frank tongues, who regularly lose friends. They're people, obviously, with inferiority feelings.

And there are show-offs who persist in committing acts to lose their reputations. In their subconscious, their reputations are infinitely inferior to the big shots these persons really believe themselves to be.

Of course, the urge to lose something or the inferiority sensation may be too deeply rooted to analyze so easily. Mrs. W. points out in an article on her findings that a woman who lost a diamond wrist-watch was so frantic to find it she finally had to consult a psychiatrist.

He discovered she lost it because it was a gift from her husband. He had given it to her during a period when she suspected him of having an office affair. She really hated the twinkling thing—and hard as this is to believe at income tax time—was really glad afterwards that the costly reminder was gone.

Well, this explains just about everything satisfactorily (to me, at least) except my experiences with pigskin gloves. I never lose sueded or imported capeskins or double woven nylons, only pigskins. Obviously I hate pigs. Or feel inferior to them.

I intend to take the only realistic solution to the lost things problem by developing a true, subconscious liking for the thing I don't want to lose.

I shall start by memorizing E. B. White's "Death of a Pig," which is a sweet swine story, and if that doesn't work, they turn out an excellent pork en bleu plate at the Chabond.

Everybody set? Let's lick this losing game!

Unmixed Praise and Undiluted Criticism Both Produce Adverse Effect

Dislikes Gift Subscription to Magazine

Recipient Wonders How to Discourage Unwanted Present

By EMILY POST

A reader tells me: "For the past two years I have received a magazine subscription for my birthday. The magazine is widely read, but it is one devoted to subjects which I do not happen to like and could not waste my time reading."

"When the first year's subscription ran out I thought that would be the end, but I received it again last year and evidently it will be a yearly occurrence. Will you please tell me how I can tactfully discourage these unwanted subscriptions?"

Answer: If the person who sends it to you is editor or owner or otherwise connected with the magazine, there is nothing you can do but try to find something of interest in it for your friend's sake.

But if he has no personal interest in it and is only sending it because he thinks you like it, the best thing to do is to tell the giver frankly that if he is thinking of sending you a magazine subscription again this year, you would much prefer this or that magazine (and name a magazine at the same subscription price).

Dear Mrs. Post: My half sister, for whom I have been guardian since the death of our father, is going to be married soon. My half-brother, who is married and lives elsewhere, will give her away.

The question is: In whose name should the invitations go out mine, as guardian, or her own older brother's name? She will be married from my house.

Answer: As you are her guardian, and also will be hostess at the wedding, the invitations go out in your name.

Dear Mrs. Post: A thin stew was served one evening in a house where I happened to be visiting. The host and hostess ate their stew with a spoon; I ate mine with a fork. Which was correct?

Answer: If it was thick enough not to pour through the prongs of the fork, the fork was correct. After all, the meat course is not habitually eaten with a spoon.

She Adapts Career to Motherhood

Try It Collect Little Fur Scraps

We have not talked about collections for several weeks, but today we will show you how you can make a collection which is most unusual.

I wonder how many of you know the different fur-bearing animals of the world. I hope that you can identify the most common ones here in America.

In the past several years it seems that fur trim has been used on more clothing. Do you have a sport jacket with a fur collar? I'll bet that it is mouton. Mouton is dyed lamb and comes from the Americas, South Africa and Australia.

Last winter many stores had fur

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

Little Turning Points Alter Destiny of Human Lives

Fannie Hurst, with the novelist's feeling for felicitous phrase, calls them "moments of circumstances," those small turning points that alter the direction of human lives—yours, mine, even the famous Marie Curie's once upon a time.

A few moments among the test tubes of a laboratory and Marie, overworked Polish governess then, tossed sleepless, exulting that her destiny at last was fixed. "Her vocation for so long unsettled had flashed into life," Eve Curie wrote many years later of that decisive night and her mother, co-discoverer of radium.

Dr. Maxwell Maltz told me not long ago that he never dreamed of becoming a plastic surgeon until he saw that the first baby he delivered as an interne had a disfiguring hair lip.

In the same way, a small mosaic of circumstances—a tray of food set down on a table in a state institution—started Lillian Weser on a momentous crusade that was to effect thousands besides herself.

Her children grown, Lillian was beginning to wonder how to occupy spare time when an errand took her to the mental hospital in her home town, Huntington, W. Va. There in the ward was the tray.

"It was too late for breakfast and too early for the midday meal, so I asked what the food was for," Mrs. Weser told me. "They explained that there wasn't enough money for service and so it was necessary to cook the midday meal early in the morning even though the patients would not eat the almost unidentifiable, unappetizing mess until noon."

Lillian immediately went into action. She found that the hospital held 400 patients completely forgotten by the outside world. No body came to see them and they without incentive to improve, were getting gradually sicker.

The energetic Mrs. Weser organized neighbors, friends, the membership of 11 churches, firemen, policemen to visit the wards. A local bowling organization started bowling classes. The townspeople got up home talent shows with patients performing. General health in the institution improved so fast that pretty soon convalescents were helping to lobby for further benefits.

Nobody was in the least surprised when Mrs. Weser got $1,000,000 from the state for fireproofing the hospital, and when officials after an inspection trip decided to replace old walls with new.

So the tiny mosaic of circumstances, a tray of badly cooked

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Mothers of the how-virtuous-can-you-get type often tell me, bravely stifling their sobs, that "I adore my children, of course, but when I think of the sacrifices I've made..."

And then they tell me of their training and their wonderful careers in business, or medicine, or law, or advertising or what-not, and add, "But, of course, I had to give that all up."

"When you have children, you have no time to keep up with your interests, and your training just goes on the shelf."

I shudder to think of the burden those poor kids are going to carry with them through life. It's no fun to be reminded, year after year, of all you owe to dear old mom.

The natural reaction isn't toward pampering her with affection the rest of your life in order to repay her. The natural reaction is to run a mile!

"But when your training has been specialized, and you can't go out to a job, your hands are really tied," women tell me.

However, I frequently encounter women who have sufficient ingenuity and persistence to lick that one, too.

Mrs. Dorothy Clarke is such a woman. She is the wife of a lawyer and mother of two daughters, one 15 and one 7.

Before her marriage, Mrs. Clarke worked for a man who was a consultant in dental practice administration.

He taught dentists—and more particularly their secretaries—the most efficient manner to run their offices. Mrs. Clarke worked until two days before her first child was born.

But for the past 15 years, she has managed to keep her hand in, too.

Her old boss passed away and she was one of the few who knew his techniques. When dentists asked for her help, she didn't refuse, but neither could she leave the house and children to go out.

"I told them," Mrs. Clarke explained, "that I'd love to help them, but they would have to come to my house."

"Then, after that, I would hire and train their new secretaries in the approved methods—and the secretaries would come to my house, too. Slightly inconvenient, but they were happy to co-operate."

"The extra money I make is very useful," Mrs. Clarke concluded, "you can do anything if you honestly want to do it."

Brash Boy High-Handedly Interferes in Girl's Life, Scares Away Her Beau

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'd been going with Joe for some time when along came Mark who announced to me and everyone else that he was going to take me away from Joe. He called him up and good news knows what he said—but Joe came to me, asked for his school ring and his freedom."

I begged Joe not to break up with me—but it seems to be all off. Now, Mark is a wonderful boy and all that, but I'm crazy about Joe! Please help me get back the boy I really like and send Mark on his way without hurting him."

Nobody in this puzzle seems to care one bit how you feel! Mark seems pretty high-handed in straight-arming Joe out of your picture. And Joe seems pretty scaredy-cat in taking orders from Mark.

You haven't been asked your opinion by either of them. They both forget that you've a right to make a choice.

You don't have to go with Mark just because he wants you to. And if you aren't seen with him at all, Joe may realize that he jumped the gun. In any case, why not try to arrange a little talk-over with Joe?

Ask him what prompted him to take his ring back so suddenly. Ask him what Mark said to make him break off with you when you were getting along so beautifully and hadn't fought or anything. What caused his fruit basket upset—that's what you want to know.

If he doesn't love you any more, that's one thing. You can swallow the hurt and consider it finished. But if he doesn't like things as they are, admit frankly and honestly that you don't, either.

Tell him that though Mark is nice, you'd rather date him, Joe. It just might cut some ice with him. He'd have a real success story to toss in Mark's teeth! "Dear Miss Woodward: Bill has been dating me and only me for some time now. But a few days ago he took out two other girls and after each date he called me to tell me about it."

"This upset and annoyed me and I wasn't too nice over the phone. Should I be nice and listen to him or tell him not to call any more?"

You've been snippy to Bill because you were jealous of his flings at dating other girls. You felt it was bad enough to do it, without telling you about it. Yet, telling you is a good sign—it means he's not doing anything behind your back.

If you don't like him any more, tell him not to call. But if you want to go out with him, be nice and listen. Then laughingly tell him he makes you feel like a friend of the family.

Tell him you're glad he had a good time and all that—but you're more interested in the dates you have with him (Big joke). Then gaily change the subject.

City Visitor Tells Recipe for Shrimp

Girl Scout Adviser Prepares Dish in Gourmet Class

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor

When Miss Theresa Burleigh was in town last week working with the Girl Scouts, we persuaded her to part with a favorite recipe. It is a gourmet-type of dish that sounds like delicious eating.

Miss Burleigh is on the National Girl Scout staff, working as a community adviser in Michigan, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin. During the rare leisure hours she is able to spend at her home in Chicago she enjoys entertaining, card games and sewing.

SHRIMP DE JONGHE

By Miss Theresa Burleigh

2 pounds fresh shrimp
1 cup butter or margarine
1 cup bread crumbs
1 cup sherry wine
1 cup parmesan cheese
1 clove garlic

Cook shrimp 10-15 minutes, or until done, in boiling, salted water. Let stand in this water one hour. Drain and peel, vein and split. Sauté in one-fourth cup of the butter or margarine with the chopped garlic clove.

Beat until light one-half cup of butter or margarine; add bread crumbs, wine and cheese to make a paste. Place shrimp in shallow baking dish. Cover with paste, spreading evenly.

Bake in 350-degree oven 20-30 minutes or until brown. Serve hot. Serves four to six.

Refinishing of Stairway Is Problem

How Does One Get Up and Down While Paint Is Drying?

The most obvious problem connected with refinishing a flight of stairs is how to get up and down in the house while the paint on the stairs is drying.

The solution to this one is to paint the stairs at night and to use a fast-drying finish. If all goes well the paint should be dry in the morning.

Do not, however, make the mistake of starting at the top of the stairs and working down, for you may find yourself spending the night on the living room couch unless you have a downstairs bedroom.

Sometimes you can get by with painting alternate steps and when these are dry, doing the others. This doesn't work in households with children or where the people are absentminded.

The choice of the finish for the stairs is important. It should be as durable as a finish for a floor.

Before you start application, wipe or wash down the stairs to remove dirt and sand rough spots. If there are any spots where the wood has been torn, file or plane these spots down.

Many people prefer to paint the treads one color and the risers another. This is fine, but if you have children, don't paint the risers white or a very light color unless you don't mind cleaning and refinishing at frequent intervals.

Small and even not so small children can't seem to climb a flight of stairs without knocking the toe of their shoes against the risers.

If you are constantly bothered by scuffed and dirty risers, try covering them with a sheet of plastic. This stuff won't chip and dirt marks can easily be removed with a damp cloth.

Foam Rubber Mattress Comes in One Deep Piece

By ELIZABETH HULLYER

One deep piece for a bed, and seat circles for a chair that easily change their covers—these are two of the newest ideas that feature foam rubber.

Of course foam rubber is a well-established favorite for mattresses and for upholstered furniture. It's comfortable. It tailors perfectly to straight, trim lines, and there never was anything like it for keeping its shape.

Single slabs of foam rubber have been shown before on daybeds, but now a new full-size or twin bed has a 6-inch-deep mattress that takes no boxspring below. It has a cover of upholstery fabric that serves as a bedspread.

Shown in the same furniture grouping in the spring previews is a chair which sheds its cover in a flash for washing or replacement. The seat itself needn't be removed as shown in the sketch.

The seat cover is gathered on underneath with a drawstring and whips off when the string is released. Both designs are by California designer Greta Grossman.

Mrs. F. D.—"I have a large old house with very tall ceilings, and don't know what to do with the windows. I would like draperies, but don't know how to make them to keep the windows from looking so long. Can you help me?"

Draperies the same color as the walls fade back into the walls and do not emphasize the long lines of the windows. Deep valances cut down height somewhat, and to hang the draperies on the wall adds width to detract from a long, narrow look.

Any of these ideas may help you, but in these days of low ceilings, many wish they were lucky enough to have your problem.

Child Needs Balanced Treatment

This Will Give Him the Ability to Admit Mistakes

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Carol F., 11 years old, can't admit a mistake.

For example, cleaning the bathroom is her Saturday morning chore. She'll announce that it's finished—when it isn't. Pointing to the unwashed window sill and spattered cabinet mirror, her mother will say, "You haven't cleaned them, Carol."

Then Carol's face tightens into stubbornness. Insistently and untruthfully, she says, "I did so clean them."

Mrs. F. has two ways of dealing with this resistance to correction. Sometimes, losing her temper, she stands over Carol threateningly until she completes her work.

Sometimes, in another mood, she'll remember the child-training books' advice to praise children. So she'll say soothingly, "Never mind, dear. You've straightened the towels nicely, anyway"—and wash the sill and mirror herself.

Neither way changes Carol's resistance to correction. The angry first one just makes her angry, too. The second one, since it condones Carol's mistakes, justifies her continuing resentment toward any criticism of them.

Mrs. F. might begin to tell whole truths instead of half ones to Carol. For the whole truth is that she has done both good work and poor work in the bathroom.

To focus our entire attention on the neglected sill and mirror is as unrealistic as it is to concentrate it entirely on the tidy towels. We have a child who, like the rest of us, has done some things well and some things not so well.

So Mrs. F. might try saying: "The washbowl looks fine. And how neatly you've arranged the towels. It is such a shining bathroom that it seems a pity to forget the sill and the mirror..." And let it go at that.

Fear of correction develops from unbalanced praise or unbalanced criticism.

So let's watch unmixed praise and unmixed criticism. We can ignore a child's mistakes and inflate and flatter his success until he gets to expecting such grand things from himself that any failure is intolerable.

Or we can ignore Carol's good work and concentrate her attention on her failures until she comes to expect too little from herself. Then of course any suggestion that she can do better scares her into anger and resistance.

Nobody rates total praise or total condemnation. Like Carol, all of us need the praise to give balance to the criticism. It's this balance that gives us the realistic self-respect that can admit mistakes.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

When you call a woman on the telephone and her husband answers and yells for her at the top of his lungs, you aren't favorably impressed with his manners. How about it, men? Isn't it worth walking a few steps to tell your wife she is wanted on the telephone?

It will make her feel like a lady, and will make you appear to be a gentleman to the person on the other end of the line.

Psychologists Paid Same as Barbers

CLEVELAND (U)—Barbers, meter readers, psychologists, X-ray technicians—all are in the same pay bracket on the city's payroll, and Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze wants something done about it.

He has arranged for a job evaluation survey to determine if lump-sum occupations calling for different skills in one salary band isn't unfair.

Others in the same group are hospital nurses, physical and occupational therapists, horseshoers, probation officers and recreational directors. All make from $2,928 to $3,882.

Directors of various city departments complain that they are having a difficult time hiring employees for jobs requiring college training.

Pay for a head doorman runs from $5,142 to $5,968, the same as a district physician.

Heard in a Pontiac Church Sunday

For What Is Your Life? Only a Temporary House

Dr. Tom Malone, pastor of Emmanuel Baptist Church, spoke Sunday on "The Christian's View of Death." He organized the church in 1942.

Portions of his sermon follow:

For we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens. II Cor. 5:1

What does a child of God think of dying? Is he afraid? Does he approach death with uncertainty and confusion? These questions are clearly answered in the Scriptures.

Paul never spoke with more assurance and victory than when he spoke of death. He did not dread it, rather he invited it. To the Philippians believers, he wrote: For I am in a strait betwixt two, having a desire to depart and be with Christ, which is far better (Philippians 1:23). To Timothy he wrote: For I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my departure is at hand (II Timothy 4:6).

Now notice some very pertinent facts about death.

I. Death is to be expected. All men must face death. It is appointed unto men once to die, after that the judgment (Hebrews 9:27).

How foolish for one to hide his face in the sand like an ostrich and give no thought to death, make no preparation for it! The word of God teaches that man's life is like a vapor: Here today, gone tomorrow.

Go to now, ye that say, today or tomorrow we will go into such a city, and continue there a year, and buy and sell, and get gain: Whereas ye know not what shall be on the morrow. For what is your life? It is even a vapour, that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away. For that ye ought to say, If the Lord will, we shall live, and do this, or that. How absurd not to prepare for the inevitable!

II. Death for the believer is a moving out of the body. Paul speaks of two houses; one a "tabernacle," which is temporal, the other "a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens."

Death for one of God's children is merely the soul and spirit vacating the old worn-out body of clay to move into a new spiritual body which is subject to neither death nor sorrow.

Dwight L. Moody, the great evangelist, used to say, "If Jesus tarries, I shall die but when you stand at my casket please do not say, 'Here lies Dwight L. Moody,' for I will not be there."

"Instead, you merely say, 'Here is the old house where Dwight L. Moody used to live.'"

Death, for a believer, is merely a change of address, a change of residence, but it is never a cessation of existence.

Moses and Elijah were still very much alive centuries after they left this world and they appeared to Jesus and the three disciples on the mountain of transfiguration. They moved and talked! And behold, there appeared unto them Moses and Elijah talking with him (Matthew 17:3).

To die is to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord (II Corinthians 5:8). Mrs. Malone and I have just buried our little daughter and we know she is with the Saviour. What comfort this is!

III. Death need not be feared. If one believes in Jesus Christ, he need not fear death. If he is an unbeliever, well he might fear, for it is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of a living God.

The hope of the resurrection, the glories of heaven, the thoughts of seeing Jesus face to face take the fear and dread of death from the hearts of God's children.

Let not your heart be troubled: Ye believe in God, believe also in me. In my Father's house are many mansions: If it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am there ye may be also. And whither I go ye know, and the way ye know. Thomas said unto him, Lord we know not whither thou goest; and how can we know the way? Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me (John 14:1-6).

Seek Cause of $150,000 Royal Oak Blaze

Supply Firm Ruins Searched

Saturday Fire Fought for 6 Hours by Firemen of 5 Communities

ROYAL OAK—Fire department investigators and insurance appraisers today poked through the blackened wreckage of a plumbing supply store, seeking the cause of a $150,000 fire which swept the building Saturday.

First damage estimates of $350,000 were revised downward today by Allan F. Farquhar, Nelson Co. vice president. He said damage to the building would probably be $75,000 with another $75,000 damage to stock.

Farquhar credited a fire wall for preventing the flames from spreading to a newer section of the Nelson Co. store at 322 E. Lincoln. Another $75,000 worth of plumbing fixtures was in the undamaged portion.

More than 100 firemen fought the blaze for nearly six hours, with aid coming from Hazel Park, Huntington Woods, Pontiac, Birmingham, and Detroit, according to Fire Marshal George Cook.

An employee, Charles Inman, 30, who lives next door to the store, first spotted the flames shooting out a shipping room door.

"I ran to the corner and turned in the alarm," he said.

"By the time I returned from the corner, the whole place was ablaze."

Inman said 300 tanks of bottled gas were stored at the rear of the building. He attributed a series of 8 to 12 small explosions to the intense heat on the tanks.

Farquhar said the store's 20 employees would be put to work in the firm's other branches, Nelson SWEPT BY FIRE—A flash fire and explosions swept through this Royal Oak wholesale plumbing store Saturday morning, causing an estimated $150,000 damage. The Nelson Plumbing Co. store (right), at 332 E. Lincoln, was virtually destroyed.

Two houses on either side of the building, one of which is seen at left, were littered with bricks and other debris from the blasts. A car parked next to the building was also badly damaged. Firemen battled the blaze for nearly six hours.

Co. has two branches and its main office in Detroit and another branch in Ann Arbor.

Michigan Bell Telephone crews worked from 9:30 a. m. Saturday until 3 a. m. Sunday restoring service to 750 circuits which had been cut off by the blaze when heat melted through telephone cables.

Falling bricks and debris from the burning building caved in the roof of a house next door, badly damaged a parked car and another house on the other side of the store.

For a time, flames threatened a Detroit Edison Co. sub-station across the street. Electric lines bringing in power from Detroit running near the Nelson store were also threatened by the heat and flames.

Flint Police Keeping Order at 2 Picketed Buick Plants

FLINT (AP)—The AFL Building Trades Council deployed 300 pickets around the Buick plants in Flint today to keep AFL Teamsters from doing work the council said should be done by carpenters.

But the teamsters made no immediate attempt to crash the picket lines.

The area was barricaded by 100 Flint policemen who maintained order but did not interfere with the picketing. The police, wearing white steel helmets, stopped all through traffic in the area of the plants. City officials said they were prepared for any violence in the dispute between the two AFL unions. They said they understood State Police would come to their aid if the situation got out of hand.

The Building Trades Council had announced it would set up 5,000-man picket lines to keep out the Teamsters Union which the council said has violated its jurisdiction.

Apparently a showdown between the unions was put off by the legal holiday.

A spokesman for the teamsters said: "Our boys were told to take the day off because this is George Washington's birthday."

A Flint carpenters union set up its own picket lines last Wednesday, charging that the Commercial Contracting Co. of Detroit had used members of Teamsters Local 299 in Detroit to do carpentry work in moving government machinery from the two plants.

Carpenters Local 1373 asked for council help when the teamsters ignored their picket line.

A Building Trades Union spokesman said "we will picket the Buick plants until this thing is settled."

City Attorney Herbert Milliken said he would try to have the disputed work stopped at both plants.

Hydrogen Bomb's Power Compared With Atom Blast

The above map shows areas of destruction that a hydrogen bomb would affect if it were dropped in the center of the District of Columbia, shown by dotted line square. From ground zero, there would be "complete devastation" within a circle six miles in diameter.

How much more destructive the H-bomb is than the A-bomb was disclosed recently in a report by Rep. W. Sterling Cole of New York who revealed the first detailed public discussion of the world's initial full-scale hydrogen bomb test at Eniwetok in 1952.

The story is told graphically here in diagram and picture. The hydrogen bomb blasted a crater a mile across and 175 feet deep in the floor of the Pacific Ocean. The Eniwetok test island was blown off the face of the earth.

The bomb could do the same within a circle six miles across in a large city.

How terrific its force is can be gauged by the fact that the A-bombs that destroyed Hiroshima and Nagasaki in World War II achieved total destruction in an area only one mile in diameter.

Rep. Cole, chairman of the House Atomic Energy Commission, pointed out that the explosive power of the 1952 hydrogen device was just a forerunner of "an entire family of H-weapons" of presumably greater power.

This is Hiroshima after the A-bomb explosion, suffered this total destruction. But bad as it was, an area only one mile in diameter.

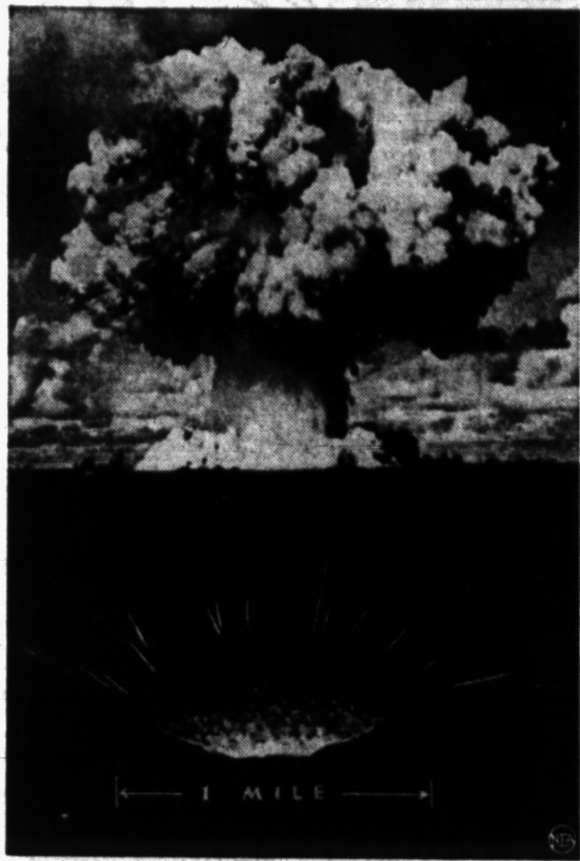

Photo-diagram illustrates terrific force of H-bomb that tore a cavity in the floor of the Pacific a mile wide and 175 feet deep.

Washington Angered Associates

By NEIL SWANSON

Historian, novelist lecturer, author of seven best sellers. A lot of Americans who celebrate Washington's birthday by sleeping late and staying home from work don't realize that, to many of his contemporaries, George Washington was not the father of his country.

They treated him like a stepfather — an especially obnoxious one. They didn't want him in the family at all. They told him so, in no uncertain terms. They thought he was enfeebling the country, ruining it, robbing it. They told him that, too.

An appreciable number of Americans who believed those things rejoiced when Washington ceased to be president. Their jubilation was as savage as their criticisms that preceded his retirement. To the present generations that honor him, those old diatribes and accusations make strange reading.

Probably no other man in the public life of the United States has been the target of such violent and uninhibited abuse. To his detractors, no private sin was outside the pale of his morality, no public crime beyond the elastic boundaries of his ethics.

Some of his detractors made excuses for him. The excuses were, intentionally, insults. They said that he had been "a very dull young man."

They said that he had not much education. But education, they implied, would have been wasted on him because "he has not much brains."

One fellow-Virginian even went so far as to assert that Washington could not count his money when he made change—a statement somehow at variance with other accusations that he was avaricious and that his expense accounts during the Revolution, when he declined a salary, were a swindle on the country.

Here are just a few of the other epithets and charges written, spoken and printed by his contemporaries about the man we now know as "first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen."

His own heart was "a stone." He was "a spoilt child."

"His character . . . can only command respect while it remains unknown."

He was "so contaminated by the vice of his associates as to lose all regard to the common forms of morality."

He was "a despot." But he was an "inefficient" one.

His "subtle selfishness" and "his want of elevation of mind and understanding . . . render him dangerous in public affairs."

"He has a passion for being noticed."

He had "a fatal indecision of mind."

"Scidom . . . has any man attempted greater mischiefs."

And of the man who came to worship faithfully in Old Christ Church in Philadelphia during six years of his presidency, it was said that "his religion has become an instrument in his politics."

The hatchet men of Washington's time did not stop chopping at his character even after he retired to private life.

To present-day Americans the chips they hewed are less familiar than those of the mythical cherry tree.

The cherry tree chips have been freely used to teach a moral lesson. There is a certain lesson in the others, also; but quite probably it never will be heeded.

Americans who turn the lives of public men into nightmares of abuse will hardly be deterred by knowing that the verdict of history has made Washington's detractors look a little meaner and more than just a little silly.

RECEIVE SCHOLARSHIPS—Francis W. Duncan (left), son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Duncan of Drayton Plains, has been awarded the Clay Doss Scholarship to Cranbrook School by Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Doss, of Detroit, in memory of their son Clay, who was graduated from the school in 1948. Francis received the honor for achievement in arts and crafts at Cranbrook. Recipient of the Dawson Beatty Brown scholarship was George E. Gary, son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Gary, of 17 Prall St., Pontiac. The award is given in memory of the Brown's son Dawson, who graduated from Cranbrook in 1943. This is the second year Gary has received the award, which has been presented for seven years.

George is in the 10th grade and is active on the Cranbrook School varsity football and basketball teams.

The memorial scholarship program at Cranbrook began as a dedication to the men from the school who gave their lives in service during World War II.

Would Favor Appointment

2 Representatives Ask for Williams to Choose, Avoid Election

State Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) said today he may let his bill to give Oakland County a fourth circuit judge be amended so Gov. G. Mennen Williams appoints the judge.

Broomfield's offer may win support for the bill from Democrat Reps. Leann Harrelson of Pontiac and Walter T. McMahon of Hazel Park.

Harrelson said last week that he and McMahon would fight the bill, which would have voters elect the judge this November, unless it is changed to let Gov. Williams appoint a judge right away.

An agreement between Broomfield, Harrelson, McMahon and Rep. Richard VanDusen (R-Birmingham) could still leave Rep. Fred G. Beardsley (R-Oxford) opposing the bill. Beardsley claims several township supervisors in his district tell him a fourth judge isn't needed now.

The bill is scheduled to come up for debate in the House of Representatives Tuesday, but Broomfield said today that unless the other four local representatives support it, he may ask that it be postponed again.

"It'll take complete harmony in the county delegation to get this thing through," he said.

The bill for a fourth judge has Oakland County Board of Supervisors' official approval. The house judiciary committee also urged that it be passed.

Police Play Safe, Examine 'Bomb' 50 Feet Away

LOS ANGELES — A trash collector found what looked like, and ticked like, a bomb in a downtown alley yesterday. He called police.

Police called their crime laboratory director, Ray Pinker, and Army demolition experts.

A policeman stuck a nail into the clock part of the contraption, to stop the ticking. The "bomb" was taken to a field. Police Chief William Parker and Deputy Chief Thad Brown arrived.

A Geiger counter was used—negative results. Then the device was tied to a stake. A 50-foot rope was tied to the clock and from a safe distance it was yanked out of the "bomb."

It turned out to be a $1.35 alarm clock, sponge rubber, rags, paraffin, paper and beeswax.

"I think we've been had," said Brown.

"I'd rather be had than sorry," said Parker.

Saleslady Visions Return of Monkey Fur

KALAMAZOO — Clara Riley is spending her 75th birthday today watching "monkey fur" come back. She's been a saleslady 62 years.

Miss Riley, whose tiny five-foot figure seems lost among the clothing his portion of the next presentation has been a saleslady in "dress goods" since she was 13 years old.

"Selling women's clothing was a bit simpler in those days," she says. "Women never tried on the dresses or had fittings at the store. You either took the dress home and fixed it yourself or you hired one of the local dress-makers."

"Women have such a variety of clothing now," Miss Riley marvels. "They need 'best dresses' for half a dozen activities."

"Fifty years ago we were selling

stoles," she says. "Now they are coming back again. So are petticoats, capes, hoop skirts, split skirts, and I see that designers

Flint Man Is Arrested After Car Strikes Buses

A Flint man was arrested on a drunk and disorderly charge after his car struck a Greyhound bus in Drayton Plains early today.

Charles Foster, 24, told Waterford Township Patrolman Millard Pender that another person was driving the car when the accident occurred on U. S. 10. He said he didn't know the person's name.

Foster was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for forehead cuts and bruises.

are trying to bring monkey fur back again."

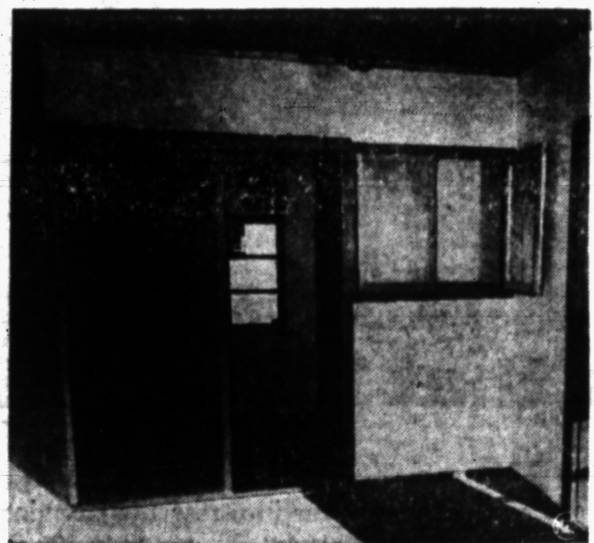

Miss Riley says she can remember when a monkey fur cape was "really high style."

Her biggest sale took place many years ago. A woman purchased a $1,500 moleskin coat and a matching $800 muff one afternoon.

"You don't see that anymore," she says. "Today's woman shopper knows what she wants, what she wants to pay and she also knows that any good store will be able to satisfy her."

Miss Riley thinks "liking people" is the key to sales success, but she adds:

"Those awful blue jeans so many girls wear. Those were overalls when I was a girl and they are still overalls. Things don't change that much."

Reconstruction Agency Assists

Koreans Start Rebuilding in War-Stricken Country

Although the shooting has barely ceased, Koreans are already engaged in a program of rebuilding their war-devastated country, as shown in the accompanying pictures.

Aiding in the huge undertaking is the United Nations Korea Reconstruction Agency (UNKRA).

Housing is urgently needed, as enemy bombs and fire made millions of Koreans homeless.

Because the country can't turn out all the cement needed by the program, UNKRA has imported 100 "Landcrete" machines from South Africa to produce pressed blocks of earth stabilized with cement. With this machine, blocks are turned out so rapidly and so cheaply that a small home can be built in about two weeks for about $750.

About 5,000 units are planned to replace homes destroyed by fire.

Several hundred already have been erected in Pusan and other large Korean cities. Although small, the houses in most cases provide better conditions than the Koreans are accustomed to.

Foreign Workers, using "Landcrete" machine, turn out earth and cement blocks at the building site.

what has television done for newspaper reading?

survey shows that TV INCREASES it!

For the fourth year in a row the Cunningham & Walsh independent "Videotown" survey shows that television set owners are spending more time with their newspapers than ever before!

And again it is clear that every medium of communication—including TV, the newcomer—simply whets people's appetites for the full story.

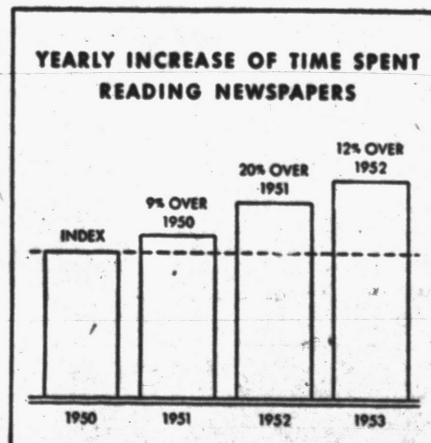

In their newspaper they'll find the whole story about the fight they saw on TV last night. They'll read about the entertainers they watched... the debate they saw... or the educational program that was so interesting.

No matter what the source of news may be — an angry dictator across the sea, an earthquake in Mexico, a tennis match in Australia, a fire downtown, or a TV program in the living room — it's the newspaper that tells it all.

No wonder people are reading their newspapers more! No wonder advertisers are finding newspapers more productive than ever before!

"Newspaper reading has been on an upward trend in the panel, and in the city as a whole, throughout the four years' check of social activity. Reading of newspapers among adults was up 9% in the first year of TV, another 20% in the second year, and an added 12% this year..."

Tiger Batterymen Open Training Today

Whitfield Cleared of Charges

NEW YORK (AP)—The man who helped clear track star Mal Whitfield of charges that he was on the "take" leveled a blast at foreign promoters today, charging they were interested only in exploiting American stars.

Jeremiah T. Mahoney, former president of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States and still one of the most powerful members of its inner circle, added that in Europe the men who run the meets were interested only in the gate.

"Whatever trouble we have is mostly the fault of the Europeans," Mahoney, a prominent jurist, said. "All they want is our top stars and they aren't interested in what happens to them.

"They have eyes only for the gate. We always have tried to help, but from now on our rules will prohibit that sort of goings-on."

The new set of regulations, adopted yesterday after the committee headed by Mahoney cleared Whitfield and barred Wes Santee, Sim Iness, J. W. Mashburn and Parry O'Brien from foreign competition for one year, provides:

1. No athlete be permitted to take more than one trip abroad during any calendar year.

2. No team going abroad be broken up for any reason whatsoever—that teams must remain intact from time of departure to time of return.

3. That only citizens of the United States be selected as members of touring teams.

4. That no teams be sent on foreign trips during the period preceding the United States outdoor championships.

"Most of our difficulties arise when we split the teams in an effort to be accommodating," said Mahoney, "so we'll simply bar breaking the team up. The manager will be on hand at all times."

Whitfield was accused by a Swedish newspaperman of demanding $300 to run the 1,000-yard race in a meet and another $200 if he broke a record, and for demanding excessive traveling expenses to the Washington Star meet last year.

None of the charges was substantiated but as a result of the shadow of suspicion, Whitfield's name was taken off the ballot for the coveted Sullivan Award which annually goes to the amateur athlete who has done the most for sports during the year.

Penalties to Santee, Iness, Mashburn and O'Brien were doled out because of "breaking training and curfew rules" in Europe. The AAU declined to elaborate.

Hutch Reports 5 Hurlers Face Holdout Status

Pitching, Not Holdouts Big Problem, Manager Points Out

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Detroit Tiger manager Fred Hutchinson, with one ear alert for a ringing telephone that may announce another last minute signing, opened spring practice today.

Actually only the battery men—pitchers and catchers—started training today. And the only players not signed—five of them—were battery men.

Ned Garver, Ted Gray, Ralph Branca and Steve Gromek from the pitching ranks and catcher Matt Batts were all apparently dissatisfied with money clauses in the contracts.

"But, said Hutchinson, they aren't my real problem."

He added that he would naturally like them all to be at training "but I don't want to get involved in their disputes over contracts."

Despite that, the five would officially be classified as holdouts if they missed the 1st day of training. Hutch pointed out that general manager Muddy Ruel would be in his Detroit office this morning for any last minute negotiating.

Hutch said that pitching was one of his problems for the coming year. He said that somehow out of 18 pitchers he would have to get an able staff of ten.

"I don't want to carry more than ten during the season, which means eight will have to be cut from the squad," he said.

Pitching was his biggest headache last year," Hutch added. "We simply must get a better brand if we're going to make any kind of showing this season."

Rest of the squad, which has until Monday to complete contract signings and to report to the Lakeland base, has a better signing record than the battery men, who may be paying for a poor showing last year.

Infielders, outfielders and utility men all have signed with three exceptions, Johnny Pesky, Fred Hatfield, and rookie Buddy Hickey. Pesky and Hatfield will probably hold down two jobs in the infield. It was Pesky's hitting that drove the Tigers from last to 6th place. He probably knows it.

YOUNG TIGER—Paul Foytack, rookie pitcher with Detroit, points out the sights to his young son, Paul Jr., 2, at the Tigers' training site at Lakeland, Fla., Sunday. Pop has little Paul decked out in a regulation Tigers' shirt and cap. Foytack won 12 games with Buffalo last season. Tigers open training today.

He'll Get No Results Trabert Wasting Time Blasting Aussie Tennis

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—Tony Trabert has cooled off very little, if any, since he returned from Australia, and he still intends to give that country's tennis officials and fans a powerful blasting in an official, written report to the head men of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Assn.

Here for the indoor championships, the nation's No. 1 player disclosed that during his long stay in Australia with our Davis Cup team this winter he carefully jotted down in a notebook all the things that irritated him, from foot fault calls to gallery bad manners. We gather that he nearly had to buy a second notebook before he was through.

So by the time Tony finishes pecking out his formal hymn of hate he will have gone to considerable trouble, and it is too bad that it won't do him or anybody else a bit of good. Our officials undoubtedly will read the indictment with some interest, and they will whisper of its contents to one another, but there isn't a chance in the world that it will go any further.

Tennis officials stick together. Our intrepid leaders are on first-name terms with those of Australia, and they correspond frequently and fervently. None of ours is going to write anything to one of theirs that might conceivably lead to raw feelings. Tony means well, but he could have saved the effort.

There really isn't much of anything the men who run the game in Australia can do toward correcting the situation which has grown to exist within the past few years. They have seen tennis become a sort of national madness, quite on a par with horse racing and cricket, and they can't suddenly return it to its original social background just because our players are sensitive.

Harper's Great Finish in Texas Ties Golf Mark

Takes Top Reward on 259 Total; Cavalcade Heads Into Mexico

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Golf's winter tour rattled on to Mexico City today but without Chandler Harper, the tournament old-timer who put on one of the greatest finishes in the game's history in winning the $12,500 Texas Open with three straight rounds of 8-under-par 63.

The 40-year-old star, playing better now than any time in his long career, tied the all-time PGA record for 72 holes as he wound up with 259 to take down $2,200 in the Texas Open yesterday and vault into fourth place among the year's leading money winners.

The Mexican National Open wanted Harper but he passed it up to go home to Portsmouth, Va., on business.

The tall man from Virginia, who boasts an amazing scoring average in the three tournaments he has played this year—67.33—shot a 39 on the first nine of the Texas Open. It put him close to last in the field at the time. But he negotiated the second nine over Brackenridge Park's 6,400-yard course in 31. And from then on he never had a nine over 32.

He came from 9 strokes behind in the first round to a 2-stroke lead at the finish and the Texas Open never before saw such golf as the veteran turned in on those last 54 holes. He putted from 12 feet for a birdie on the final green that would have beaten the PGA record for 72 holes held by Byron Nelson and Ben Hogan and barely missed. His 189 for the last three rounds bettered anything ever posted for 54 holes. And his 259 was one stroke under the Texas Open record set by Jack Burke of Klamath Lake, N.Y., in 1952.

Johnny Palmer of Charlotte, N.C., who started the final round with a 6-stroke lead over Harper and Lionel Hebert of Erie, Pa., took a 70 on the last 18 and finished second with 261. Hebert had 67 for 263 and third place while Shelley Mayfield of Chicopee, Mass., wound up fourth with 264.

'Y' League Leaders Extend Win Strings

Undefeated leaders in both classes of the Pontiac YMCA Intramural Basketball League came through with weekend victories.

Eastern Hi-Y won its 6th straight junior circuit victory, 2-0, the easy way when Lincoln forfeited. St. George tripped YMCA, 18-13, to remain in 2nd place.

In the senior division, Hi-Y trounced Phalanx, 35-23, for victory No. 6. Pontiac Vocal handed Wilson Avenue Methodist its 1st setback of the season, 38-24. Elmwood Methodist trounced Central Methodist, 44-24, and First Baptist forfeited to Waterford Hi-Y in other games.

Johnny Parsons Hurt in Speedway Accident

GARDENA, Calif. (AP)—Johnny Parsons is out of auto racing for at least six weeks as a result of serious injuries in a spectacular crash of his midjet car at Carvel Speedway yesterday.

He suffered dislocations of both shoulders, a concussion and tearing injuries to his left arm, requiring 50 stitches. His condition, however, was described as good.

The 34-year-old Van Nuys winner of the 1950 Indianapolis race thwarted death when his car flipped over and rolled five times in a six-lap heat race. There was no other car involved.

His wife, Lila, and daughter, Pattie, saw the accident.

Russians Take Most Honors in Nordic Skiing

FALUN, Sweden (AP)—Russian skiers prepared to return to Moscow today with the lion's share of world's Nordic skiing titles and no intention of testing their strength again in Alpine events of the world's championships at Are, Sweden. Starting Saturday.

Russians, who competed for the 1st time in a major international ski contest, ran off with four titles—30 kilometers, 50 kilometers, 10 kilometers for ladies, and 15 kilometer relay for ladies.

Tiny Finland, hitherto regarded as the world's strongest nation in Nordic skiing, wound up the 7-day festival with titles in the 15 kilometer, 40 kilometer men's relay and special jumping while the Norwegians captured 1st place in the combine.

Rumors Denied, Coast Officials Stay Suspended

LOS ANGELES (INS)—Commissioner Everett Sanders of the state boxing commission tonight denied an earlier report that referee Mushy Callahan and judge Joe Stone are not under suspension for giving Art Aragon a decision over Chuck Davey of Michigan last Thursday night.

Sanders said that the suspension order has not been sent to Sacramento yet and so technically is not in effect. Nevertheless, he declared, Callahan and Stone may not officiate at any more fights until the suspension is lifted.

Commission chairman A. P. Entenza gave a similar summary of the situation as Sanders.

36 Eligible Pucksters

MONTREAL (AP)—Female hockey fans should know that there are only 36 bachelors in the National Hockey League. The Detroit Red Wings lead the pack with eight single men. The New York Rangers and Chicago Black Hawks have seven each. The Boston Bruins claim six and the Toronto Maple Leafs five. The Montreal Canadiens list only three bachelors.

Inter-Loop Scraps Mark Prep Schedule

Several inter-league contests feature basketball action Tuesday as Oakland County preps near the conclusion of regular season play.

Lake goes to Cranbrook for an afternoon contest.
Tuesday is not entirely devoid of conference activity. Troy can clinch its 1st Oakland B athletic trophy with a win over Clawson. Brown City can wrap up its 3rd straight Southern Thumb crown by beating Almont.

A victory over Eastland would give Warren a share of the B-County title and coupled with a Lake Shore triumph over Utica it would end the race.

Tuesday's games for Waterford and Walled Lake are re-matches with opponents met in this season's openers. At that time, Waterford bowed to Milford, 66-58, and Walled Lake downed Cranbrook, 41-31.

Rochester and Clarkston will be protecting Oakland County's best winning streak. Each has taken eight straight victories. Dom Mauti's Clarkstonians have an 11-3 record. Game can be a preview of next week's district tournament action at Ortonville.

Both Clarkston and Ortonville are listed for action in the Ortonville district along with Imlay City and Goodrich.

Keego bumps into Rochester under much the same circumstances as two years ago. At that time, Gene Kopley's Falcons boasted a 14-1 record and a 13-game win streak. Keego (7-8) knocked them off, 36-32. Both teams went on to district tournament titles.

Tuesday, Sam Minard's Presidents take an 8-6 record to Rochester. The Kopleys have a 13-1 record and an 8-game winning streak. Both of these teams will appear in the district tournament at Pontiac High, but in different classes.

Rangers Rout Leafs' Six, Trail Bruins by One Point

By UNITED PRESS
The New York Rangers played their best game of the National Hockey League season Sunday night, but still remained one point back of the Boston Bruins in their battle for the 4th and final playoff berth.

Rangers scored three goals within five minutes in the 2nd period to whip Toronto, 6-1, at New York and it appeared they would take over possession of 4th place when word reached their dressing room that the Bruins were trailing 3-1 at Chicago.

Babe Calls Win at Miami Beach 'Biggest Thrill'

Mrs. Zaharias Edges Patty Berg by Stroke With Par Round
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (INS) — Babe Didrickson Zaharias served notice today that she has regained the championship form that won for her the title of "greatest woman athlete of the half century."

The incomparable Babe, who, in April of 1953, won a courageous battle over cancer, was on the winning end of another fight yesterday—a victory in the $5,000 Senior Women's Golf Invitational tournament at Miami Beach.

Mrs. Zaharias who plays out of Tampa, Fla., carded a women's par 4 on the final 18 holes over the 6,282-yard Bayshore course to win the tourney by one stroke over red haired Patty Berg of St. Andrews, Ill.

Indiana Near Title, May Rule as NCAA Favorite

By RIF WATSON
NEW YORK — Indiana's Hoosiers can wrap up the Big Ten basketball title tonight and qualify for the NCAA Tournament, which they won last year.

Hoosier Victory, Loss by Illini Will End Race

Iowa at Indiana, While Illinois Hosts Badgers in Tonight's Tilt

By TOM BRANAGAN
CHICAGO — A quick one-two punch tonight is all Indiana needs to place itself beyond reach in the 1954 Big Ten basketball campaign. First and foremost requirement is a victory by the Hoosiers over the 2nd place Iowa Hawkeyes in a game on the Indiana floor. Second part of the parlay would be a victory by Wisconsin in tonight's game with Illinois at Champaign.

This set of circumstances would leave Indiana with 11 victories and one loss and only two games left in the 14-game Big Ten season. Every other team would have at least four defeats and not even a mathematical chance of overtaking the Hoosiers.

If Illinois wins, as expected, a Hoosier victory would assure Indiana of a tie for the title. Illinois, which has won seven and lost three, could gain a tie if the Hoosiers lose their remaining games and the Illini win all theirs.

With Iowa staggering from two successive wallings, by Ohio State Monday and Illinois Saturday, an Indiana win tonight seems by no means an extravagant expectation.

However, the Hawks have dropped only three of 11 games and undoubtedly will pull out all stops for the victory that would keep them in the running.

Iowa, even though playing on its home floor, never was in the game against Illinois. With Johnny Kerr scoring 26 points, Illinois took a 38-27 halftime lead and then smothered any Hawk comeback hopes by assuming full control of the backboards. Final score was 74-51.

Indiana, meantime, was having its troubles with Michigan State, winning 63-61 in the last two seconds on Burke Scott's field goal. Spartans double-teamed Don Schlundt, Hoosier scoring ace, and held him to 15 points.

A victory over Iowa's fading Hawkeyes will give Coach Branch McCracken's boys at least a tie for their second straight Big Ten crown. And should Wisconsin whip Illinois, the Hoosiers will have the

More than 200 fishermen and hunters attended the Multi-Lakes Fish Derby and Fox Hunt recently. Prize for catching the largest perch went to Barney Poplawski. Serving committee for the fish dinner included Howard Perkins, chairman, and Harry Helvey, Carl Reuthers and Clayton Adams. Movies of duck wild life and a South American travelogue concluded the affair.

Records Fall to OSU Aces

EAST LANSING (UP) — Four pool and dual meet records went by the boards here Saturday as Hawaiian stars Ford Konno and Dick Cleveland led Ohio State to a 55-38 swimming victory over Michigan State. Konno won the 220-yard freestyle in 2:06.5 and posted a 4:30.3 in the 440-yard freestyle. Cleveland swam the 55-yard freestyle in :23.1 and the 100-yard freestyle in :49.3.

All four times eclipsed existing Jenison pool and meet records. Michigan State took firsts in the diving, medley relay, the individual medley and the 200-yard breaststroke.

Bums Clinch Title in Boys Club 1st Round

Five games were played Saturday in Boys' Club basketball leagues. Bums clinched the 1st-round title in the Intermediate loop by dumping St. Mary, 40-31. Short Shots edged Misfits, 42-39, in another Intermediate contest. Only Junior game played saw Doormats scrape past Warriors, 30-29. In Pee Wee action, Vikings downed Hot Shots, 28-16, and Hot Rods beat Chiefs, 23-17.

A three-way tie is theoretically possible but not likely. The Illini and the Hoosiers meet in the wind-up March 6. The Hoosiers could well go into the NCAA Tournament as the favorites since first-ranked Duquesne already is in the National Invitation Tournament in New York and the three stars of second-rated Kentucky—Cliff Hagan, Frank Ramsey and Lou Tsioropoulos—may not be welcome in the NCAA Tournament because of their post-graduate status.

Oklahoma A&M, which won the NCAA crown in 1945 and 1946 behind Bob Kurland, could clinch another Missouri Valley Conference title—No. 8 in 11 years—by beating Wichita again Wednesday. That would qualify the fifth-ranked Aggies automatically for the NCAA Tournament.

Three conference representatives already have been named to the NCAA tourney, and the next two weeks are the weeks of decision for the collegians, with both big postseason tournaments filling up like a pair of camels in an oasis. Besides Duquesne, the NIT already has fourth-ranked Western Kentucky, Dayton, Louisville, Wichita and Niagara in its 12-team field. The roster should be completed by the end of the week.

Name Rolladium Winners

Fourth elimination races of the 3rd racing period at Pontiac Rolladium were held Saturday with Champions in both divisions of the Pacific Coast probably will be determined by Saturday, but then there's the matter of a playoff. UCLA, leading the Southern Division with 7-3, needs only a split in two games at home against Southern California (6-4). Up north, Oregon State will settle for a split in the home-and-home series with Oregon.

La Salle of the Mid-Atlantic Conference joined Idaho State of the Rocky Mountain and Toledo of the Mid-American in the NCAA cast over the weekend and celebrated by thumping St. Joseph's of Philadelphia 78-67. Seventh-ranked Seattle, Oklahoma City and Bradley have been named as "at large" teams.

Colorado A&M, trying for its first Skyline Conference title, can join the NCAA club by beating Utah and Brigham Young this weekend.

Terry Ball and Patricia Meagher winning Class A titles. Winners in Class B were Jimmy Boyer and Sandy Smith. Henry Ball and Paul Burmeister won in Class C.

Another for Mihalo
DETROIT — Bill Mihalo, who has broken so many walking records that he inevitably had to break his own, set a new world professional walkers mile mark Sunday at 6:03.8. It bettered a record he set at Miami last year by one and 1-10 seconds. It was his 18th record since turning professional in 1952. Mihalo said he now has set his sights on Australian walkers who compete in Sunday at 6:03.8. It bettered a distances from 30 to 100 miles.

Bob Considine Says:

One-Half of Paris Visitors Think of French Women

NEW YORK (INS)—If you were going to Paris this year, and I hope you are for both you and Paris, what would you most like to see?

Louis de Rochemont, the documentary film man ("House on 92nd Street," etc.) wanted to find out what Americans yearn most to see in Paris—before he set about filming his portion of the next presentation of Cinerama. He took the inevitable poll.

Though darkly suspicious of alibi politicians, I present some of De Rochemont's findings.

Fifty per cent of the people asked said that whenever they thought about Paris, in the spring or otherwise, they thought about French women. Twenty per cent said they hankered for museums and landmarks.

Fifteen per cent were interested in Paris night life, a figure which must seem bewildering low to veterans of World Wars I and II.

Only 10 per cent voted for art and fashion. And only 5 per cent said that French cooking would be the reason they would go there. (The latter mathematics could conceivably constitute libel.)

Speaking of polls, one says that the surest test of President Eisenhower's continuing personal popularity with the voters is the scarcity of stories about him.

It reminds one that in England, where the royal family is beloved, there is never heard even a kindly ribbing story about its top members, and never even a ribald one.

In World War II the British came to know placed President and Mrs. Roosevelt in the same category, gravely resented even the Roosevelt family, and at and told, but told yams about Churchill which Americans—in turn—considered faintly sacrilegious.

Special Meeting Called to Vote on Merger Plan

DETROIT (UP)—A special meeting notice and proxy statements were mailed today to stockholders of the Hudson Motor Car Co. and Nash-Kelvinator Corp., which have proposed a merger.

Investors in both companies are scheduled to meet here March 24 to vote on the plan, which would bring the two independent auto firms together as "American Motors Corp." A two-thirds vote is needed to approve the merger.

Professor Dubious of Key to Success

COLUMBIA, Mo. (UP)—Dr. Irving G. Wylie, professor of history at the University of Missouri, says it isn't necessarily so that the practice of industry, frugality and sobriety will bring any American a fortune.

Dr. Wylie has a book on the subject, "The Self-made Man in America, the Myth of Rags to Riches," coming out this fall. It debunks the idea that "wealth is a reward for moral virtue."

Dr. Wylie also takes a critical look at the advice of such tycoons as John Jacob Astor, Commodore Vanderbilt, John D. Rockefeller, Sr., Andrew Carnegie and John Wanamaker. They talked too much about "the cultivation of good character and little about practical business methods," Wylie said.

The professor also tees off on such famous "success" authors as Horatio Alger, Freeman Hunt, Benjamin Franklin, William Holmes McGuffey and Lyman Abbott.

"Most of the men who wrote about financial success never achieved it," Wylie said, which is something of a commentary on the soundness of their advice.

City Uses Gull Crew to Help Maintain Streets

LONGPORT, N. J. (UP)—Seagulls are helping maintain streets in Longport.

The birds open claims by flying over streets and dropping the shells on the pavement. The claims crack open and the gulls get their dinner.

The shells, ground fine by passing cars, fill in cracks in the pavement.

Teachers Ask Raise

MINNEAPOLIS (UP)—Salary increases averaging $1,200 a year have been asked by Minneapolis members of the AFL Federation of Teachers. Under present pay schedules, teachers with bachelor's degrees receive from $3,300 for the first year to $5,500 in the 12th year.

There were 5,679 civil airports in the U. S. in 1953.

Prison Escapee to Be Extradited

California's Governor OKs Return of Felon to Michigan

LOS ANGELES (UP) — The extradition of Southern Michigan Prison escapee, Alex R. Bryant, 48, has been approved by Gov. Goodwin J. Knight.

Bryant, who escaped the prison two years ago, was arrested in Highland Park, Calif., where he had a wife, Gladys, 27, and an infant son and where he worked at a trucking company.

Gov. Knight brushed aside pleas to deny extradition by Bryant's wife and neighbors. In statement Saturday the governor said:

"Bryant has been convicted of three felonies . . . crimes of violence, including two convictions for rape, a conviction for armed robbery and the present charge of escape in which he held a knife at the throat of a guard while kidnapping him."

Bryant, described by his wife as a "model husband," was resigned to his return to Michigan. "Maybe I'll get another chance. I don't know," he said.

Chinese Nationalists Hit at Big 4 Decision

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—Nationalist China's press today continued its attack on the Big Four agreement for an Asian political conference at Geneva April 26.

"We doubt whether Mr. Dulles can provide a convincing explanation" of why he agreed to such a conference, at which Red China will sit, said the official Central Daily News.

The paper said this "symbolizes the lack of firmness in America's Asia policy. It affords evidence of American concessions to Britain and France and heralds the rise of Europe-first advocates and appeasers."

The National Evening News described the agreement on the Geneva meeting as "a big defeat for the democracies in the cold war."

"Isn't it a big farce," the newspaper asked, "for the criminal and the judge to pull their chairs together and try to talk reason?"

Lana Applauds Rival Glamor Girl, Marilyn

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Marilyn Monroe may be beleaguered by her studio and badgered by rival actresses but she has one firm fan—Lana Turner.

"Marilyn is one girl I'd like to meet," says the glamor beauty. "I've followed her career and I think she's got a lot of spunk. She must be a very interesting person."

"Now that she's on top, she'll be hit from all sides. I know just how it is. I've been taking it for 17 years in this business."

Lana made these remarks over cocktails in a quiet corner of a Sunset Strip restaurant. As we talked, several men came by and sat at nearby tables. They stared at the actress and I could sense they were thinking, "That doll looks familiar, but who is she?"

She seemed happy with this fragment of privacy. If her hair were its familiar blonde, the male admirers would have recognized and besieged her for autographs. Her present shade is a dark brown, and she is delighted with it.

"Some people like it, some hate it," she laughed. "Everyone seems to have an opinion. I think it's a great situation: it's a controversy without a scandal. What could be more ideal?"

Lana said that she reverted to her more natural shade for a good reason: her two pictures in Europe called for a dark-haired girl. In "The Flame and the Flesh" she plays a fiery Italian girl, a part very unlike the usual Lana Turner role. She wears one suit through the film. In "Betrayed" she plays a Dutch spy who dyes her hair dark.

Lana is changed in more ways than her hair. She returned from her 10 months in Europe with a new husband and a new attitude toward life. She seems happier and more at ease than I have ever seen her.

"The life of a movie star is great, except for all the bother that goes with it," she reflected. "I love the work; there's nothing more exciting than getting into a role that presents a challenge."

"It's the other stuff that can make you miserable. The things that have been said and printed about me—I'd have to be eight different people to do all the things I'm supposed to have done."

"I used to worry a great deal about such things. But now I have a different attitude. I figure this way: the only person you have to answer to is the one you face in the mirror every morning. If you yourself know that you have done what is right, that's all you have to worry about."

She added that she and her handsome husband, Lex Barker, are aiming to lead a quiet life. "We stay home a great deal," she said. "We pass up the parties that look as though they might turn into brawls. We're happy to let the others have the front pages."

The term "highball" in railroad work derives from early signaling devices which placed a large ball at the top of a pole when the track ahead was clear.

Four Teenagers Injured in Crash

Hazel Park Youngsters Hurt as Car Rams Into Rear of Another Auto

Four Hazel Park teenagers were injured last night when their car crashed into the rear of another auto on John R road one-half mile north of 14-Mile road in Troy Township.

Donald Van Landingham, 17, of 144 W. Shevlin, driver of the car in which the youths were hurt, was admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with a concussion. His condition today is satisfactory, according to the hospital.

Andrew Major, 16, of 413 W. Shevlin; his sister, Lorane, 18, and Dale Tippett, 16, of 23151 Crosby, passengers with Van Landingham, were treated for minor injuries.

According to Troy Township Patrolmen Gene Sackne and William Renshaw, Robert J. Clark, 37, of 1830 Austin, Royal Oak, stated that he had slowed to look at a ditched car when Van Landingham's auto struck his car from behind. Clark was not injured.

Legislators Seek Citizens' Views

Lawmakers Schedule 5 Public Hearings for This Week

LANSING (UP)—This is public hearing week in the Legislature. The lawmakers have invited citizens to speak their pieces on big and little bills.

The House scheduled five such events and the Senate two.

Wednesday, house committees open their doors to discussion of a bill legalizing automatic milk vending machines, to consider the type and size of a new prison for Michigan and to provide a metropolitan court system in Wayne County.

Thursday, the House will hear public discussion of the Conlin Plan and a bill permitting Detroit to acquire the Detroit-Windsor Tunnel.

The last event made some members' eyes sparkle because it will be the first appearance in the Legislature of former Gov. Murray D. VanWagoner since he was disclosed as a lobbyist for the tunnel project.

The ex-governor resigned from the Mackinac Bridge Authority to avoid any implication that he had an interest in floating a bond issue for the straits bridge. His employer, Stifel-Nicolaus & Co., Chicago, helped underwrite the bridge bonds and is backing the tunnel project.

Senate committees Tuesday and Wednesday will conduct hearings into a constitutional amendment to float a $500 million bond issue for highway construction and a Korean War veterans bonus proposal.

Returning at 8 tonight after a weekend recess, the Legislature will find a solid calendar of minor bills.

Senate votes are indicated on bills to forbid state employees to buy food from state institutions, to forbid damage suits against hospital employees who administer "shock treatments" to mental patients and to allow Detroit Edison Co. to buy submerged lands at Harbor Beach for a power plant development.

Business Briefs

More than half a million Jeeps—75 per cent of them for the civilian market—have rolled off the assembly lines at Willys Motors since World War II. It was announced in Toledo today by Raymond R. Rausch, executive vice president and general manager of the company.

Carlton M. Higbie Jr., president of Higbie Manufacturing Co., reported today sales of $2,397,574 for the six months ended Jan. 31. Earnings after federal income taxes were $139,702, or 54 cents per share on 242,500 shares of common stock. This compares with 46 cents per share on the same number of shares during a similar period in the previous year. The Rochester firm's assets at Jan. 31 were $2,221,995 and liabilities amounted to $774,837.

C. S. Young, president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, said today in a report to Midwest banks that 1953 economy ranked "at the top of a procession of four record years."

The bank president pointed out, however, that the upsurge in business activity came to a halt last year despite gains in output of goods and services and an increase in personal income.

The Baltimore, Md., office of McManus, John & Adams, Inc., national advertising agency with headquarters in Bloomfield Hills has been named to handle advertising of the Cumberland Brewing Co. G. W. Bibby, president of the Cumberland, Md., company said the office will take over the account March 1.

Smokers Need 2 X-Rays Yearly

Cancer Research Head Recommends Measure as Precaution

WASHINGTON (UP)—The American Cancer Society's statistical research director said today a heavy smoker "is very foolish if he does not have a chest X-ray taken twice a year"—although there is no proof smoking causes cancer.

Dr. E. Cuyler Hammond, the director, gave the advice in a copyrighted interview with the magazine U.S. News & World Report. And the magazine described him as smoking during the interview.

Dr. Hammond said a heavy smoker should take the recommended precaution "so long as there is even a strong suspicion that smoking causes lung cancer."

But he also said everyone, especially those over 45, should have an X-ray at least once a year, and he added:

"If you are a timid soul, then you should also give up smoking at least until the facts are known."

Dr. Hammond indicated the kind of facts he is after by saying, "If we should find that the death rate from lung cancer is much higher among heavy smokers and the death rate from other forms of cancer is not one bit higher among heavy smokers, then I'd say the evidence would be extremely strong that there is a cause-and-effect relation."

He said his "personal guess right now" is that there is such a relationship between smoking and lung cancer, but he does not know whether the smoking effect is "trivial" or so important that cigarette manufacture should be stopped "until we find what's in them that is bad and remove it."

He said there were some indications cigarette smokers were more susceptible to lung cancer, while cigar and pipe smokers were more likely to develop lip, tongue or mouth cancer.

As for his own smoking, he said, "I am not going to let it (the problem he is investigating) have any effect on my personal habits until all the facts are known."

Dr. Hammond is in charge of a research project under which 22,000 volunteers have been interviewing 204,000 men 50 to 69 years old about their smoking habits. Each year, the causes of any deaths among the group are medically investigated.

White of Railroad Fame Tells Horatio Alger Tale

EDITOR'S NOTE: One of the biggest business struggles of the day is between two men—William White, president of the New York Central Railroad and Robert R. Young for control of that great rail system. Unlike his antagonist, White has not been in the news much. Here is the White story, the story of a man who came up the hard way and who has promised Young a "bare-fisted" fight.

By ED MORSE

NEW YORK (UP)—The glint of steel rails has always marked life's path for William White, president of the New York Central Railroad.

The track has been straight and White has plowed along it like a locomotive under a full head of steam from a $240-a-month office job to his present $120,000-a-year salary.

Today White is engaged in an epic struggle with financial wizard Robert R. Young who has set his sights on nothing less than control of the Central, the nation's second greatest revenue-producing road.

And White has promised Young "a bare-fisted fight."

White succumbed to the haunting lure of the rails at an early age and was hopping rides on Erie freights when he was 14 near his home in Midland Park, N. J.

Now 57, White looks back on 41 years of railroading, except for 1917-18 when he was a World War I sergeant major in the United States Army.

He stands a shade under six feet, has black hair with a touch of gray at the temples and his dark brown eyes are narrowed in a steady gaze that doesn't miss a tick. You'll see eyes like White's in ace tennis players—or locomotive engineers.

White had to pitch in and help earn money for his family at 16 when he quit school to take a $20-a-month office job with the Erie. He was the eldest of seven children and his father, Garrett White, a master mechanic, had tough going.

"Mother always had a hard row to hoe," said White. "Father's pay check went to her and she ran the family finances, such as they were."

Through life, however, White says he has remembered his father's principles of "honesty, integrity and willingness to work."

Up the rungs of the ladder went White. He became general manager of the Erie's eastern district in 1938. That same year he switched to the Virginian Railway as vice president and general manager.

In 1941, at the age of 43, he became president of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western. In his 11½ years on that job he overhauled the road's fiscal structure and operating policy. White made big savings by consolidating 18 separate companies into one.

In August 1952 White was chosen to head the mighty Central. In his year-and-a-half as president, White has aimed at cutting needless expenses, improving the road's two - and - a - half - billion-dollar property, and keeping the 10,700-mile rail empire up-to-the-minute. Under White the Central's income has increased.

Ask him for advice to the new generation, White turns deadly serious. He drives home the words like rivets:

"Live a clean, simple life. Value your integrity and honesty. Work hard. Never cease to learn. Have plenty of courage. Study human relations so as to develop qualities of leadership."

Since Feb. 10, White said, he would add another precept: "Fear no man."

Feb. 10 was the day the Central's board of directors rejected Young's demand that he and his associate Allan P. Kirby be made directors and that Young be made board chairman.

Considerate Accordionist Merits Nation's Plaudits

By LAURA Z. HOBSON
An accordion-playing janitor in London just bought himself a surplus telephone booth to practice in, and it would be nice to hear he's been decorated and even knighted as Sir Thoughtful.

It would also be nice if the official ceremonies could be observed by about 11 million Americans who've never learned how to turn the volume knob on their radio or TV sets to the left--i.e., to the quiet zone.

Sir Thoughtful, it appears, is just learning how to play his squeeze-box, and admits he is not yet very good. That's news in itself.

His living quarters are in the basement of a large apartment building with 550 tenants, and he didn't want his hobby to disturb anybody. Which is more news.

Thus, when the British General Postoffice offered the phone booth for sale at 10 pounds, or $28, Sir Thoughtful leaped at the chance to acquire a soundproof studio and installed it in his basement.

I'm not sure whether surplus phone booths are available in the good old U.S.A., but it strikes me that a great many purely American ulcers would heal up as if by magic if some of the same thoughtfulness were floating around in America.

For though we're the most powerful nation in the world, we're nearly helpless when it comes to cutting down the roar of the decibels in our cities and on our main streets.

Laws do get themselves passed prohibiting motorists from sitting on their horns at a traffic knot, but once the public's cheers have rent the air, the motorists go right on sitting with impunity.

The companies that sell special ear-stop devices must hope we'll go right on being the noisiest little citizens on the face of the globe. But if anybody else goes along with them, he belongs in the biggest show on earth as a real national oddity.

Right this minute I'm doing my day's work to the tune of "Oh My Papa" below me and a Beethoven piano concerto above me.

I love swing and I love good music. Just the same, I'm thinking longingly of the corner drug store and its long row of nice phone booths.

The Lost and Found

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (UP) — Brown University dining room officials made a profitable tour of dormitory and fraternity lounges. Dining room possessions retrieved included: 63 water glasses, 15 water pitchers, six coffee pots, 33 trays, 13 soup ladles and a number of soup tureens, tablecloths and plates.

This Trip Proves to Be Cold Inspection Job

JACKSON, N. C. (UP) — Returning from a delivery, the driver saw someone in the rear of his meat truck. He slammed the door on the refrigerated compartment and started driving around in search of a policeman.

When he couldn't find one, the driver stopped at a service station and called several men to the truck.

They cautiously opened the door and found a chilled-to-the-bone meat sanitary inspector.

Prisoner Is Promoted Because He's So Lazy

WASHINGTON, N. C. (UP) — Most prisoners gain promotion to the unguarded rank of honor grade by good behavior. But an inmate of a prison camp here made the grade another route. The camp superintendent made this report on him: "He's just as sorry as he can be and isn't worth guarding. I don't think he'll run (away) because he's too lazy."

The U. S. had 28,300 miles of inland waterways in 1951.
